'The FBI Story' — Sixth in a Series

Bureau Comes to Grips With Klan

By DON WHITEHEAD

Bluff, handsome Warren G. Harding became the 29th President of the United States in 1921. Around him he drew his friends from Ohio, who had been his poker-playing pals and his political board of strategy.

It was hardly surprising that Harding named his old friend Harry Daugherty to the post of attorney general. Or that a boyhood friend of Daugherty, William J. Burns, was named director of the Bureau of Investigation.

Burns already was well known as president of the William J. Burns International Detective Agency.

* * *

But the next three years were packed with surprises. These surprises would almost wreck the Bureau of Investigation, and would leave the country disillusioned with men in high places who had betrayed the people's trust.

The country itself was sick, and running a high fever in the post-war adjustment.

Jobless men were walking the streets by the millions. Within a few months Harding's "Back to Normalcy" campaign slogan was being jeered at by the Democrats.

EVIDENCE OF SICKNESS

Evidence of the sickness of the times was reflected in the mushroom growth of the Ku Klux Klan —anti-Negro, anti-Catholic and anti-Jew. Fiery crosses were blazing in the night from New England to California.

Grown men, many of them leading citizens of their communities, gathered solemnly at night and peered from behind their bed sheets to watch initiation ceremonies.

The Klan for a time was said to hold the balance of political power in Indiana. At one time it reportedly dominated the Texas legislature. In a good many states, candidates for public office could not hope to win election without Klan support.

In the Daugherty shake-up of the Department of Justice, 26-year-old J. Edgar Hoover found himself transferred from his post as special assistant to the attorney general into the position of assistant director of the Bureau of Investigation on Aug. 22, 1921. Hoover went on the Bureau's payroll at an annual salary of $4,000.

* * *

For more than a year, the Bureau of Investigation checked on Klan activities without finding any federal law violations.

But one day in September, 1922, Hoover sat in his office and listened to a fantastic tale brought to him by Paul Wooton, Washington correspondent for the New Orleans Times-Picayune, who had been working on an expose of the Ku Klux Klan.

"Do you mean to say the governor of Louisiana can't even use the telephone, telegraph, or the United States mails because of the Klan?" Hoover exclaimed.

Wooton handed Hoover a letter from Gov. John M. Parker of Louisiana. "I brought you this

Father of Five Kills His Wife, Slashes Infant

Former Mental Patient Admits Acts in Illinois; Son Dies in Hospital

CHICAGO (INS)—Leonard Glenn, 35, a former mental patient, told police today that he killed his wife and cut his baby's abdomen open.

His infant son, six-months-old Alexander David, died 10 minutes after arrival at Westlake Hospital. His pregnant wife, Betty, 33, was found shot to death in her northside Chicago home.

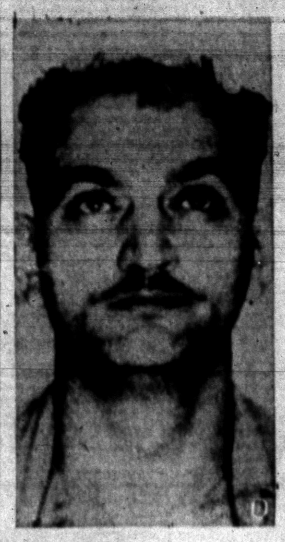

Police who questioned the four other Glenn children, Martha, 6, Christopher, 4, and Edward, 2, believe Mrs. Glenn was shot some time Wednesday night.

Neighbors said that yesterday afternoon their father took the five scantily clad children to his car and drove away.

Ten hours later his automobile was found stalled in a snowbank in suburban Melrose Park. The

Thousands See Barron's Body at Port Huron

Carpenter Being Held in Death of Crooner Who Was 'Ladies' Man'

PORT HURON (AP)—Thousands of women flocked to the funeral home where hillbilly ballad singer Lonnie Barron lay last night while a 36-year-old carpenter waited in the nearby St. Clair County Jail pending a formal murder charge.

Prosecutor Wilbur V. Hamm of St. Clair County said he would charge Roger Fetting of nearby Lexington Heights with first degree murder in the death of the boyish-looking Barron whose crooning stole the hearts of women.

The 24-year-old Barron strummed a guitar with his singing. He operated a dance hall and was a disc jockey on radio station WDOG at nearby Marine City.

Hamm said an oral statement Fetting made about the shooting to William Saunders, news director at radio station WHLS, Port Huron, is "very strong evidence of guilt."

Fetting has been held since Thursday for investigation. Saunders talked to him twice yesterday.

Fetting later denied orally in the presence of Hamm and State Police Detective Lynford B. Smith that he made any statement to Saunders.

Barron, who came from a farm in Richton, Miss., was shot to death Tuesday night in the tarpaper covered cottage he lived in, in the Thumb community of Muttonville. His body was found Wednesday night slumped over cartons of fan mail from women admirers. He had been shot twice with a .32 caliber pistol.

Fetting's wife, Betty, 35, was a member of a Barron fan club. His sister, Mrs. Joseph Kerr, was president of the club.

Prosecutor Hamm said a .32 caliber pistol was found by State Police at the Kerr home. Troopers planned a ballistics test on the weapon.

Robert F. Hartley, owner, estimated 700 persons an hour passed by the open casket. Barron was dressed in a white cowboy suit with red piping. He wore a western style red bandana around his throat.

He first began signing in area night clubs. Then he formed his own hillbilly band. He had made a number of records for small recording companies. Just before his death he told friends he was about to sign a contract with a major recording company.

Detective Smith said the youth had a reputation as a "ladies' man."

Prosecutor Gets Another Threat

Menaced by Telephone After Starting Inquiry in Genesee County

FLINT (AP)—Another threatening telephone call has been received at the office of Jerome F. O'Rourke, Genesee County prosecutor who initiated a police graft grand jury here.

The call was taken yesterday by O'Rourke's secretary. The anonymous caller warned O'Rourke to "check your steering wheel before you drive."

A half dozen similar telephone threats have been received by O'Rourke, his wife and his secretary since the prosecutor asked for the grand jury probe Monday.

A police detail is guarding O'Rourke's home.

Meanwhile, Circuit Judge Michael Carland of Owosso, who has been named to conduct the one-man grand jury investigation, will hold an organizational meeting Tuesday with O'Rourke and Sgt. Carl Robinson of the state police racket squad.

* * *

The first of 71 witnesses will be called Wednesday.

O'Rourke petitioned the grand jury following the arrest of two Flint men on gambling conspiracy charges. The grand jury will look into allegations of protection payoffs to police by gamblers.

This Marriage Lasted a Month in Starts and Fists

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Mrs. Annie E. Harris, 32, says that as she and salesman Louis C. Harris, 35, were driving away from their church wedding, "he started hitting me."

She said he threw the wedding bouquet in her face.

Later in the month, she told Superior Court in asking for an annulment, "he fractured my nose and a bone in my chest. He blacked both eyes and hit my foot with a chair so that I could hardly walk.

"I knew then," she testified, "the marriage was over." The annulment was granted.

Want something for nothing?

It's a universal urge, and it's at the roots of a gambling fever that has reached white-hot peaks at various times in the U.S. and countries around the world. And the urge raises a host of questions—should gambling be legalized? Should the U.S. conduct a national lottery?

Famed reporter-columnist Bob Considine provides a fascinating look at the gambling craze at home and abroad, describes attempts to promote a national lottery in the U.S., in the new series —"gambling—billion-dollar urge" —starting Monday in The Pontiac Press.

Courtroom Space Big Problem

County GOP Eyes Proposal to Add Three More Judges

The possibility of a fifth and sixth Oakland County circuit judge and a second probate judge will get growing consideration by county Republicans, State Rep. Farrell E. Roberts of West Bloomfield Township said yesterday.

He said meetings are being considered with the Board of Supervisors and the four present circuit judges to discuss the question. Courtroom space is an important consideration in asking the legislature for new judicial posts, he said.

"Right now, we haven't got any space in the present court house to provide new judges with courtrooms," Roberts pointed out.

He said the conferences would consider room available in the proposed new courthouse, if it opens in December, 1958 as scheduled, and the long-range judicial needs of the county.

"In the past we've worked too much on an emergency basis," he believed. "We should study carefully what the future needs will be. It seems pretty sure we'll need at least two more circuit judges and a second probate judge at least, if we have the room for them."

Roberts said State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge and Rep. Donald A. Brown of Royal Oak are favorable to the meetings.

Brown, along with Reps. Leslie H. Hudson of Pontiac and Walter T. McMahon of Pontiac, signed a bill presented Thursday, calling for a fifth circuit judge.

The need for new jurists is based primarily on the recent upsurge in population, county officials say.

Potter Urges Probe of Newsprint Prices

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Potter (R-Mich) today urged a congressional investigation of the newsprint industry, saying that "skyrocketing prices" are "working a hardship on the American press."

The Michigan senator asked for the inquiry after conferring with Chairman John Gwynne and other officials of the Federal Trade Commission.

Potter said FTC officials "are in agreement with me that a public hearing is in order to get to the bottom of a situation which has all the evidence of restrictive trade practices."

Potter asked Chairman Magnuson (D-Wash) of the Senate Commerce Committee to conduct the inquiry, citing recent increases by Canadian newsprint producers, who supply most of the newsprint used in this country.

Holly Resident Free on Bond

Terryah Stands Mute to Charge of Leaving Baby in Wastebasket

Glenn R. Terryah, 23, of Holly, was freed under $250 bond Friday pending examination Thursday in Ypsilanti on a charge of abandoning his newly-born son, according to Ypsilanti State Police.

Terryah stood mute and a plea of innocent was entered at his arraignment before Ypsilanti Municipal Judge Edward D. Deake.

Warrants charging Terryah and his 19-year-old wife with abandoning the baby at Willow Run Airport were issued Friday by the Washtenaw County Prosecutor's office, said Detective Roy Tanner of the Ypsilanti State Police Post.

Tanner, who signed the complaint against the couple, said Mrs. Terryah's arraignment on the same charge is scheduled for Monday morning.

She is recovering from the childbirth in Beyer Memorial Hospital and is expected to be released Monday.

The baby was found in a wastepaper basket in an airport rest room minutes after it was born. The parents claimed they thought the baby was dead at birth and left the scene.

UAW Recognize Skilled Trades

GM Council Sub-Groups Designed to Thwart New Rival Union

DETROIT (AP) — The United Auto Workers has reorganized union subgroups under its General Motors Council in an apparent attempt to thwart a rival group of skilled tradesmen.

The move gives representation to the skilled trades by creating two subcouncils for the 48,000 skilled workers of GM, represented by the union.

Each subcouncil will be allowed to elect a delegate to serve on the national bargaining committee when negotiations on a new contract begin in 1958.

The GM Council which represents 350,000 GM employes, made the reorganization yesterday and set up 11 subcouncils to group GM plants under the type of work done, rather than on a geographical basis.

A society of skilled trades is seeking national labor relations Board recognition as a union.

The Council action gives skilled workers two subcouncils and hence two delegates to the national bargaining committee. One subcouncil is organized among the tool-die and maintenance group. The other is from the design-engineering-model maker-pattern shops.

Mercury to Rise a Little Higher, Forecaster Says

The U. S. Weather Bureau offers some prospect for relief from the chill of yesterday's 7-degree low.

Tonight the mercury is expected to dip to only 14-18.

Tomorrow's high will be 24-28.

Pontiac State Police Post reports that main county roads "apparently don't seem too bad," but advises caution on the less frequently used roads that have not been cleared completely of ice and snow.

Slippery spots were reported on state trunklines in the Ann Arbor, Jackson and Monroe areas. Generally slippery conditions were reported in the Flint area.

Mostly cloudy, occasional snow flurries, and little temperature change is the forecast for tonight and tomorrow.

Preceding 8 a.m. the lowest temperature recorded in downtown Pontiac was 20 degrees.

At 2 p.m. the mercury read 26.

Murderer Walks Calmly to Death in Gas Chamber

CANON CITY, Colo. (AP)— Coolly accepting his fate, John Gilbert Graham was executed last night in Colorado's gas chamber for destroying an airliner that carried his mother and 43 other persons to death.

The 24-year-old father of two children gulped the cyanid fumes and passed into unconsciousness in seconds. He was pronounced dead in 12 minutes.

Graham was convicted of murdering his mother, Mrs. Daisie E. King, 53. She perished with 43 other men, women and children Nov. 1, 1955, when a United Air Lines DC6B was shattered by a dynamite bomb. It crashed in a sugar beet field near Longmont, Colo.

Although he never disclosed a motive for planting a dynamite device in his mother's luggage, Graham named himself beneficiary in a $37,500 flight insurance policy he took out on his mother's life.

The husky, dark-haired killer went to death "the calmest I've ever seen," said deputy warden William Kinney, who has witnessed all 26 executions in Colorado's gas chamber.

The Rev. Justin McKernan, Roman Catholic chaplain at the prison visited Graham for 40 minutes last night in the death row cell where the young Denver businessman spent his last days. Their exchange of barter was interrupted when Graham saw warden Harry Tinsley mount the ramp of his cell.

"Well, I guess it's time," Graham said with resignation.

"God bless you," Father McKernan said. "I hope God will forgive you your sins."

"Okay," Graham nodded.

Not once during his stay in the gray stonewalled prison did Graham allude to the crime.

With Tinsley leading the way, Graham walked erect and swiftly from his cell up a long ramp and into the penthouse death cell atop the prison's maximum security building.

He was led blindfolded to the waiting chair in the steel cocoon

Turkey Bosses the News

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkey today published a decree forbidding newspapers to put out extra editions. Turkey's Parliament last June approved a strict new law to curb the press. It includes prison sentences for newsmen and suspension of newspapers judged responsible for "false news" damaging public confidence in the government.

Rev. W. S. Carpenter Succumbs in Lansing

LANSING (AP)—The Rev. William S. Carpenter, 63, a former State Welfare Director and Michigan Presbyterian minister for 40 years, died here today after a week's illness.

A native of Fyler, N. Y., Carpenter attended Houghton (N.Y.) College and the McCormick Theological Seminary in Chicago. He was a semi-pro baseball player and a professional basketball player while working his way through college and theological school.

Smoke Damages Home of North Branch Woman

North Branch firemen are still battling a stubborn, smoky blaze which began in the old two-story frame home of Mrs. Amy Allen, 82, this morning at 8 o'clock.

The house with an estimated value of about $10,000 is reportedly completely ruined by smoke. Mrs. Allen, who says the loss is covered by insurance, said the fire started when her gloves caught on fire as she tended the furnace.

60 Day Sentence Given

Charles A. Tank, 33 Pingree St. was found guilty on two counts today by Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnigan and sentenced to serve 60 days in the Oakland County Jail. Tank was arrested Friday charged with drunk driving. He was sentenced for a former drunk driving charge in which he failed to appear in court.

DEARBORN (AP)—The Air Force announced today the awarding of 10 contracts totaling $157,779,008—including three totaling $137,158,416 to the Ford Motor Co. here for J57 turbo-jet engines and facilities.

Bureau Grapples With Klan Order

letter because Gov. Parker can't trust the mails. His mail is watched by the Klan and his telephone is tapped by Klansmen. He needs help."

Fantastic it might sound—but it was true. Gov. Parker was asking help to break the hold of the Klan over northern Louisana.

PRECEDENT SET

The decision that Bureau agents would be sent to aid Gov. Parker was regarded as a precedent that would affect future police relationships between the states and the federal government.

The agents began working undercover, themselves hunted by Klansmen at times. But slowly they pieced together the story.

The Klan controlled the whole of northern Louisiana by terror. The Klan's membership included law enforcement officers and leading townspeople.

Persons considered undesirable by the Klan were ordered out of their communities. Women and men were flogged or jailed on orders of the Klan leaders, who made their own rules for judging morality.

The power of the Klan was gradually broken by the FBI and local law enforcement officers with the aid and support aroused by crusading newspapers.

Ironically, while Bureau agents were being used to protect civil rights in Louisina and other places, Burns was sending men to spy on members of Congress who were then demanding investigations of reported corruption in the Harding administration.

TEAPOT DOME INQUIRY

Soon after taking office President Harding had turned over to the Interior Department the administration of naval oil reserves in California and Wyoming, the latter known as the Teapot Dome oil field.

Secretary of the Interior Albert B. Fall signed a contract with private interests headed by Harry F. Sinclair and Edward I. Doheny, permitting them to pump and store the oil from naval reserves on a royalty basis. The transaction was defended on the grounds that Teapot Dome oil reserves were being drained off by nearby private wells.

Soon after the agreement was announced, Fall's neighbors in New Mexico noted sudden signs of prosperity at the Fall ranch, where expensive improvements were being made. Later Sinclar and Doheny explained that they had "loaned" Fall more than $135,000.

These explanations didn't satisfy Congress. Questions were being asked, too, about the handling of the Veterans Administration and the Alien Property Custodian's Office, and the Department of Justice's failure to prosecute alleged frauds in World War I contracts.

Just as the storm was breaking, President Harding died on Aug. 2, 1923. Calvin Coolidge became President, inheriting a truly great mess.

Reports of corruption snowballed. An outcry was raised in Congress for Daugherty's resignation.

WHEELER INDICTED

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler of Montana was one of the outspoken leaders of the fight. Wheeler himself was indicted by a Great Falls, Mont., grand jury.

He was charged with taking money from a syndicate of oil prospectors with the understanding he would persuade the Department of the Interior to give the syndicate exclusive oil and gas prospecting leases.

Wheeler immediately charged he was the victim of a "frame-up" by the Department of Justce.

A Senate committee and then a Montana jury found Wheeler innocent. The Philadelphia Record said the trial was "one of the most contemptible and vindictive political persecutions ever known in this country."

As historian Samuel Hopkins Adams said later, the Department of Justice had "reached its lowest ebb in morale, morals, and efficiency, and this in spite of many able sub-executives."

On March 28, 1924, President Coolidge demanded, and received, Daugherty's resignation as attorney general. At last the time had arrived for the big housecleaning in government.

Negroes Appeal for Ike's Help

Southern Group Pleads to High U. S. Officials for Immediate Aid

ATLANTA (AP) — Southern Negro leaders are continuing their integration fight with appeals to President Eisenhower, Vice President Nixon and Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell for assistance.

About 60 Negro leaders representing nine Southern states yesterday telegraphed Eisenhower "to come South immediately to make a major speech in a major Southern city urging all Southerners to abide by the Supreme Court's decision as the law of the land."

* * *

The group, including a two-day meeting here, asked for a conference with Brownell "at the earliest possible date" and said "the confused state requires that we talk with you in order to secure a clarification from the highest legal authority of the land. . ."

The vice president has urged to tour the South and report to Eisenhower on "economic boycotts, and reprisals, and bombing and violence directed against persons and homes of Negroes who assert their rights under the constitution."

The Rev. Martin Luther King Jr. of Montgomery, Ala., who called the conference here, said it had no connection with the arrest Thursday of six Negro ministers on charges of riding city buses in seats normally reserved for white persons — a violation of state segregation laws.

Cases against the six, all free in $1,000 bonds, will be presented to the Fulton County (Atlanta) grand jury Tuesday. If the grand jury returns indictments the way is cleared for a court test of the segregation laws.

Pontiac Deaths

John F. Barnes Jr.

John F. Barnes Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Barnes Sr., of 1450 Vinewood St., was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital Friday.

He was born in Manistique on Oct. 14, 1913, and came here in 1937 from Manistique.

He attended St. Francis de Sales school, and was a member of St. Vincent de Paul Church.

He was last employed by the Smith-Morris Co. as a machinist.

Surviving besides his parents are six brothers, Frank Barnes, of Manistique; George Barnes, of Pontiac; Joseph Barnes, of Milwaukee, Wis.; Adolph and Robert Barnes, also of Milwaukee; and Carl Barnes, of Washington, and six sisters, Mrs. Edward Toyra, Mrs. Ellsworth Larson, Mrs. John Burley, Mrs. James Slining, all of Manistique; Mrs. Walter Smith, of Port Huron, and Mrs. Genevieve Barnes, of Milwaukee.

Funeral arrangements were by Dudley H. Moore Funeral Home.

This afternoon the body was taken to Messier-Bronlilre Funeral Home in Manistique.

Service will be held at 9 a.m. next Tuesday at St. Francis de Sales Church, with burial at Lakeview Cemetery, Manistique.

Harry G. Lawrence

Harry G. Lawrence, an inspector at Pontiac Motor Division, died suddenly at 8 p.m. Thursday in his home at 651 Lenox St. He was 67.

He was born in Germany on June 6, 1889, to Carl and Henrietta Quick Lorenz and married here to the former Viola Howell.

Mr. Lawrence came to Pontiac 32 years ago from Flint where he was a charter member of the Redeemer Lutheran Church.

An automobile pioneer with General Motors Corp. for more than 44 years, he started with Buick Motor Co. in Jackson in 1904, moving to Flint in 1905.

He had also served the corporation in Saginaw, Pontiac and Tonawanda, N. Y.

Besides his wife, he is survived by three sons, Herman J. and Alton Carl Lawrence of Pontiac, Harold Kenneth of Flint; five daughters, Mrs. Letty June Larkin of Mt. Morris, Mrs. Gladys Lamson and Mrs. Margaret Coe, both of Flint, and Mrs. Emma Louise Rouse and Mrs. Lucina Grace Elwell both of Pontiac, and 35 grandchildren.

A sister, Miss Louise Lorenz, is living in Grosse Pointe.

Mr. Lawrence's body is at the Pursley Funeral Home. Arrangements will be announced later.

Mack McFarland

Service for Mack McFarland of Chicago, Ill., a former resident of Pontiac, will be at 1:30 p.m. Monday in the Voorhees-Siple Chapel. The Rev. Robert Winnie of the Waterford Community Church will officiate with burial in Oakland Hills Memorial Gardens.

Born in Romeo on Jan. 15, 1908, he was the son of Josh and Grace McFarland.

A commercial truck driver, Mr. McFarland had spent most of his life in Chicago.

He leaves his mother, Mrs. Grace Passingham of Birmingham; a daughter, Mrs. Marce Schoff of Clarkston and four grandchildren.

Other survivors include two brothers, Harry Passingham of Clawson and Don Passingham of Royal Oak; and three sisters, Mrs. Marion Robinson of Bellaire, Mrs. Grace Cannon and Mrs. June McKinnon, both of Birmingham.

Mr. McFarland died suddenly on Dec. 17 in Cook Hospital, Chicago, Ill.

Mrs. Charles Sonnenberg

Mrs. Charles (Viola) Sonnenberg, of 2651 Elizabeth Lk. Rd., died Thursday in Pontiac General Hospital. She had been in ill health two years.

Born on January 10, 1900, she was the daughter of Robert and Alice (Nichols) Wright.

Surviving are five daughters, Mrs. Freda Coulter, Mrs. Grace Delhado, Mrs. Stella Maxon, Miss Esther Sonnenberg, all of Pontiac; Elouise Sonnenberg, all of Pontiac; and four sons, Herman Sonnenberg, Sidney Sonnenberg, and Raymond Sonnenberg, of Pontiac; and George Sonnenberg, of Chicago, Ill.

Also surviving are one brother, Arthur Wright, of Holly; and one sister, Mrs. Mildred Sheldon, of Lake Orion.

14 grandchildren and one great grandchild also survive.

Services will be held at 2 p.m., Mon., at the Pursley Funeral Home, with the Rev. John T. Bell, of Community Bible Church, Davisburg, officiating.

Burial will be at Mt. Avon Cemetery, Rochester.

Granville R. Whitfield

Word has been received of the death Tuesday of Granville R. Whitfield, 56, of 265 Branch St.

A Pontiac resident for 22 years, Whitfield worked at the Pontiac Motor Division before taken ill two months ago. He died in Henry Ford Hospital in Detroit, where he had been during the duration of his illness.

Surviving are his widow, Minnie; his mother, Jessie; one brother and two sisters. Services will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Trinity Baptist Church. Interment will be in Oak Hill Cemetery.

Death in the gas chamber is the penalty for murder in Arizona, California, Colorado, Missouri, Nevada, North Carolina, Oregon and Wyoming.

C. of C. Host to GM Lecturer

Annual Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce Dinner Slated Jan. 15

A man described as "a Ph. D. with horse sense" will be the main speaker at Tuesday's annual Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce dinner at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave.

* * *

Dr. Kenneth McFarland, well-known educator and lecturer, will appear before some 500 Chamber members and guests through the courtesy of General Motors Corp. where he is educational consultant and lecturer.

John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Chamber, said "a few tickets" still remain for the dinner meeting scheduled to begin at 6:30.

The 1957 Chamber president, Howard O. Powers, will be installed along with other new officers who include: John A. Riley, first vice president; B. Ralph Eastridge, second vice president; Robert W. Emerick, secretary; and Stuart E. Whitfield, treasurer.

The newly-elected members of the 15-man Board of Directors will be introduced also. They are: Whitfield, Rev. Edward D. Auchard, Edward P. Barrett, Frederick J. Poole, and Dana P. Whitmer.

* * *

Howard Heldenbrand, manager of the Waldron Hotel, will be master of ceremonies. H. Wayne Gabert is general chairman of the event.

Father of 5 Slays Wife, Son in Illinois

father and five children, all suffering from shock and exposure from sub-freezing cold, were taken to a hospital.

On the way, Martha told police their father had killed their mother. Glenn admitted the shooting and was taken to a police station.

* * *

He became incoherent, police said, and they held him for the killings. They took him in a straight jacket to the psychopathic branch of Cook County Hospital.

The infant had a deep four-inch-long slash in the abdomen when he was taken to the hospital where he died. Doctors said gangrene had started in the wound.

It was not determined if the baby had been struck by a bullet fired from the .22 caliber rifle used in the shooting of Mrs. Glenn. Glenn himself was unable to tell police if he cut the child in an effort to remove the bullet.

'I SHOT MY WIFE'

Glenn told police:.
"I shot my wife and I cut the baby open."

Martha told police she fixed breakfast Thursday while her mother's body lay in her cot in the living room. She added:

"Mommy was in the front room. She was dead. Daddy was home some times and we were playing."

* * *

While they were playing, she continued, the gun tipped over and went off.

The children could not elaborate on how the baby was hurt.

The four children said that they ran out of food yesterday morning and that their father told them in the afternoon: "We're going to Tennessee, to grandma's house."

Neighbors said the group departed about 2 p.m., presumably for Shelbyville, Tenn.

Hours later the ill-clad, filthy children were found by Melrose Park policemen. The father was incoherent.

Christopher told officers Sam Gibellina and Roy Ross:
"I was helping my daddy drive."
The baby also was in the front seat.

ALL DIRTY AND HUNGRY

The three youngest children had bare feet. All were dirty and hungry. Martha said she tried to dress the three youngest but the father carried them to the car barefoot. During the 10-hour drive, the children ate only candy bars.

Glenn's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Effie Glenn, said they had committed their son to the veterans section of Elgin (Ill.) State Hospital in September 1954, after he became violent. He was discharged in December of that year. His parents said he served in the army in Africa during World War II.

A newsman, seeking to question Glenn, observed while the suspect consulted his watch, apparently ticking off the seconds. Glenn then said:
"I went to the moon and got my kids. It was a long trip."

Press Members Attend Newspaper Conference

The Great Lakes Newspaper Mechanical Conference which runs today through Tuesday in Cleveland, Ohio, is being attended by four members of The Pontiac Press organization.

Participating are Howard H. Fitzgerald II, business manager; Don Newman, composing room superintendent; L. Z. Monroe, press room superintendent; and Lynn Saunders, stereotype superintendent.

The Day in Birmingham

'Russia Leading World in Scientists' – Dr. Lapp

BIRMINGHAM — "Russia," Dr. Ralph E. Lapp, scientist, told his Birmingham Town Hall audience yesterday morning, "leads this country in one phase of the race for atomic power, in an alarming and remarkable way. That is their program for the development of future scientists for their country."

Dr. Lapp explained how the Soviet Union begins the long cultivation of the scientific mind at grade school levels and continues to the point of paying talented young men and women to attend their institutions of higher learning. He added that the wages of government scientists is another spur, citing two as receiving an equivalent of $90,000 per year.

While he drew a picture of the international situation on atomic power and the development of hydrogen as a power unit, he urged that greater interest in the field of science be created among our children and young people. He suggested that parents not drive children to the field of science but rather provide them with books and visits to laboratories to create interest, and then give them full sway in exercising whatever talents they might have.

Dr. Lapp's entire talk hinged about this fact, stressed by his declaration that while we have atomic power for a destructive force, we are still a long way from solving its mysteries as a peacetime servant of mankind.

Again, his interest in greater education came forth when he spoke of the need of controlling this gigantic power and doing it with safety to all.

"One of the drawbacks is the fact that when atomic energy is produced," he said, "is that great quantities of radio active ash remain. Currently that must be 'buried,' not for a few years or decades, but centuries. Neither in the sea nor under the earth is the ideal solution. Science should search for a way to make it safe, or a safe way to dispose of it.

"Power from the atom must come as a peacetime force. Our fossil fuels, coal, oil and natural gas, do have their limits. There is no limit to the supply of atoms."

* * *

With classes scheduled to open next week for the winter craft and hobby groups sponsored by the Birmingham Community House, Myra Showman registrar said today several still have openings. She urged early registration for creative pottery, ballroom dancing (to start Feb. 4 for eight weeks), design, enameling, first aid, flower arranging (five weeks starting March 26), gardening (five weeks starting Feb. 21), homemaking for the modern woman, interior decoration, millinery, painting (Thursday groups, only) children's painting (Thursday afternoon group), photography, sculpture, sewing and silver.

All are 10-weeks series, unless otherwise noted.

The report of J. H. Purkiss Jr., director of finance for the city, shows refunds and deficits in several completed special assessment district projects.

On the Eton road widening $57.10 has been transferred to the capital improvement fund; $1,071.61 is to be returned to property owners in the Edgewood street paving district and $589.50 in the Bates street paving district.

Deficiency rolls are to be prepared in the amount of $1,886.47 for the Lincoln avenue district, east of Eton road; $173.30 on the Willits street paving, Bates to Chester streets, and $1,418.72 on the Bird-Edgewood paving district.

LEMUEL VanSYCKLE

County Resident Succumbs at 98

Lemuel Van Syckle Dies in Waterford, Lived All His Life in Oakland

Lemuel Van Syckle, one of the oldest residents of Oakland County, died Friday afternoon at the age of 98 at his home in Waterford.

He was born Aug. 9, 1858, in Independence Township. His parents were William and Julia Van Wagoner Van Syckle.

The township was named in honor of his grandfather, Capt. Joseph Van Syckle who came to this area from Independence, N. J. and became Independence Township's first supervisor.

Mr. Van Syckle spent his entire life in Oakland County and the last 50 years in the village of Waterford.

He became a stone mason at an early age and followed this trade until he was close to 70 years of age when he retired to build himself a two-story house of stone.

A member of Cedar Lodge No. 60 F&AM of Clarkston, Mr. Van Syckle leaves a daughter, Mrs. Percy Hunt of Pontiac; three grandchildren; 14 great grandchildren and two great-great-grandchildren.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Monday from the Sharpe Funeral Home, 115 Main St., Clarkston, with the Rev. William Richards officiating. Burial will follow in the Andersonville Cemetery.

Slayer of Girl Friend Starts 5-15 Sentence

DETROIT (AP) — Aaron Dimmett, 35, started a 5 to 15-year prison sentence today in the Nov. 1 slaying of his 18-year-old girl friend.

Dimmett had pleaded guilty to manslaughter in the death of Mary Jane Turner at her home in suburban Nankin Township.

Circuit Judge Frank Fitzgerald handed down the sentence yesterday. He told Dimmett that after he completed the Michigan sentence he will be returned to Indiana as a parole violator.

Dimmett told police he was playing "Russian roulette" when the shooting occurred. He said he first pointed a loaded pistol at his head, spun the cylinder and pulled the trigger. The hammer fell on an empty chamber. He then repeated the process, he said, pointing the gun at Miss Turner. The gun fired.

Missiles to Key Arms Debate

U. S. to Offer Proposal for Projectile Control to U. N. Committee

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The United States is expected to outline a broad proposal for international control over space missiles Monday when the U. N. political committee takes up the key arms question.

* * *

Informed sources indicated U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. would relay President Eisenhower's call for a "reliable agreement" on controlling military use of such projectiles.

Eisenhower set the stage for such a proposal in his State of the Union message Thursday. In effect, the President called for an air-tight agreement within the framework of the U. N. on the use of intercontinental ballistic missiles.

* * *

U. S. officials in Washington disclosed recently that the United States has revamped its disarmament plan to include long range missile control. The prospect that the next few years will see the development of intercontinental missiles capable of carrying nuclear warheads was said to have increased the pressure for controls.

Gives Up Showgirling for TV Free-Lancing

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Six-foot Siri the Swede has given up showgirling to pioneer a new profession—the TV free-lance.

She who once decorated the Diamond Horseshoe and the Follies now hustles from job to job . . . now an actress, now doing a walk-on, now enunciating a commercial in her Swedish accent.

"You must be loaded with all the work you do?" I said.

"I don't have to worry. I have some oil stocks. I bought them myself!" she added, tossing her head and her "dark platinum blond" bouffant hairdo which gives her a few inches more height.

"Who told you which stocks to buy?"

"Well, when I'm out with a date and he talks about stocks, I keep my little ears open!"

★ ★ ★

Somewhere around 29 now, Siri's a beloved character. She usually takes her shoes off when she dances at El Morocco. She trots around her apartment half naked and usually opens the door concealed behind it for that reason. She enjoys nude swimming.

"I was visiting some friends last summer in Long Island. At night they were being very social and I went into the pool in my suit. Then I took it off.

"It makes you feel as free as a bird. The cars are going by and there is nobody there but you and a few bushes. It's a crazy, wonderful feeling!"

Siri never boasts of her talents or her body.

"I've never posed nude because, frankly, I'm not that much in love with the way I look," she told me. She admits to being mediumly flat-chested.

"My best part is the part I'm sitting on," Siri elaborated. When she went to Greenland recently to do some GI shows, she got her greatest applause when she turned her back to them.

"Is there ever a night when you don't have a date?" I asked.

★ ★ ★

"Never!" I wish I was as big a success professionally as socially. I have one man I date all the time and I date a lot of others besides. I overdo some things."

"Maybe the man you date all the time has other dates, too?"

"If I love a man, I don't care. I want him to be happy and have all the other girls he wants as long as he's happy."

Siri Blomberg came here about 1946. "I took blood tests with five different men before I decided which one to marry," she remembers.

The divorced. The man wasn't anybody rich. "You'd have heard about the alimony," she assured me.

Siri's mother, Lillian Falkenstjerne, wife of a diplomat, has money, but Siri, with half a dozen fur coats, doesn't need family help.

"I just want to TV," she says. "I've just about covered the waterfront with chorus girls' beads and feathers, and when they asked me to do more showgirl parts, I say no. Maybe I'm getting too old to be a showgirl."

"I guess many of the girls you started out with are married now?" I said.

"Not many," Siri answered. "But a lot of them are divorced!"

THE WEEKEND WINDUP

Walter Slezak's TV series in the fall will be titled "Slezak and Son"; his son's auditioning, but may not be the type . . . Hecht-Lancaster built a 25 grand replica of "21" for "Sweet Smell of Success." Lancaster said, "For a couple of bucks more we could have had dinner at the real "21" . . . Jerry Lewis hired Charles Sanford as musical director for his TV spectacular.

Record 'Giant' Starts 3rd Week

Dean, Taylor, Hudson Starring in Smash Hit Playing Here

George Stevens' production, "Giant," will be held at the Oakland Theater for a third week. Announcement was made today by Arthur H. Sanford, city manager for the Butterfield Theaters. According to Sanford, this is the longest run on record for the Oakland Theater. "The Robe," shown in 1954 for two weeks is the longest previous run on record.

* * *

The film "Giant," is an adaptation of the Edna Ferber best-seller. Filmed on an epic scale commensurate with the novel's locale, the vast empire of Texas, "Giant" is more than a regional story of Texas and its people . . . it is reportedly essentially a stirring chronicle of three decades of American family life and the profound human emotions generated out of the problems of our changing times.

Elizabeth Taylor, often referred to as the most beautiful woman in the world, portrays Leslie Benedict, wife to Rock Hudson as Bick Benedict, wealthy ruler of a vast empire of land. The popular actor previously won acclaim for his dramatic performance in "The Magnificent Obsession."

James Dean who rose to stardom in his very first motion picture, "East of Eden," for which he also won an Academy Award nomination, stars as Jett Rink.

Solon Asks Support of Ike's Resolution

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) said today it would be "tragic" if Congress should so weaken the Eisenhower administration's Middle East resolution as to indicate "lack of confidence in the President."

* * *

Smith, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, said in an interview "it would be a tragic disaster to reject the President's recommendation, and almost as tragic a disaster to so weaken or change it as to indicate a lack of confidence in the President at this critical time."

* * *

Chairman Gordon (D-Ill) has called a meeting of Democratic members of the House Foreign Affairs Committee for Monday to discuss a substitute along lines proposed by Dean Acheson, who was Secretary of State under former President Truman.

However, Gordon said yesterday this meeting in no way involves a departure from "our nonpartisan approach" to the matter. And house Democratic leader McCormack of Massachusetts said he knows of no "Democratic resolution" as such.

Careless Driver Gets Run Over by Pedestrian

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Kenneth L. Lannom, a 41-year-old clerk, stopped for a red light and, he admits, the hood of his car extended a bit into the pedestrian crosswalk.

Across the street came a pedestrian described by Lannom as 6 feet 2 inches tall and ewighing 250 pounds.

* * *

"He stepped up on the fender of my car, walked across the hood, and stepped off on the other side," Lannom told police.

He estimated damage to his car — a 1956 model — at $25. "I asked him why he did it," said Lannom, "and he told me: 'Your car was in the way, and I wasn't about to walk around it.'"

When police arrived the big man was gone.

British Prestige at Low Ebb

Britain's new prime minister, Harold Macmillan, takes over the top post in London at a time when the Commonwealth sorely needs a leader who can repair her sagging prestige.

★ ★ ★

Egypt's seizure of the Suez Canal and its subsequent blocking has left England's economy gasping;

Her invasion, with France, of the Canal Zone and later withdrawal under world pressure, confirms that she is no longer a first-rate military power;

★ ★ ★

The sortie into Egypt strained relations with the United States and threatened solidarity of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

At home, Macmillan's own Conservative party has been divided over Eden's policies and needs to be welded again into a solid front.

These are some of the major problems facing the new prime minister. Consensus is that he will be equal to the task

★ ★ ★

His appointment has met with general approval in official Washington, where Eden's stock had sunk to an unfortunate low.

Macmillan has close ties with this country. He is the son of an American mother; he is a director in Macmillan & Co. book publishers; he is a close personal friend of President Eisenhower.

This friendship dates from the North African campaign of World War II when he represented Winston Churchill at Eisenhower's headquarters.

Reports from Washington indicate that Macmillan may come to the U. S. soon for a conference on international affairs.

Best guess around the Capital is that he will be warmly welcomed anytime he chooses to come.

Are Our Democrats Failing Their Party?

Oakland County Democrats are not going into its spring elections with the vim and vigor asked by their state organization.

Although Ike carried Michigan by a resounding majority last fall, the unprecedented run of the Democratic state ticket gave them the idea that it could be counted in their column.

Immediately that party's state headquarters sent out word that an aggressive campaign would follow in the spring election, and told local party leaders that home town, village and city tickets would be expected to be nominated "in every nook and corner."

In fact, their State Chairman, Neil Stabler, said he had begun planning the spring campaign several weeks before the fracas of Nov. 6.

★ ★ ★

But with a Republican in the White House, an even split on Michigan's men in the U. S. Senate, a Republican majority from this state in the National House of Representatives, and a Republican Legislature, perhaps the Dems have lost heart.

And in Oakland County the case is extra aggravated. We sent a Republican to Congress by the biggest majority we ever gave anybody for that post. Our State Senator is Republican, and a majority of our county's State Representatives belong to the same party.

★ ★ ★

But we need two strong political parties in Oakland County as much as they are needed anywhere else in the nation. Perhaps we need them more here than they are needed in many other areas.

★ ★ ★

Without doubt, the more evenly they are balanced, the better it would be for the general good. Then each would be a watchdog on the other.

But a quiet survey of the county shows that in less than five per cent of the February primaries or March and April local elections will the Democrats have a ticket in the field.

Are Oakland County Democrats failing their party?

Something serious is happening to our vaunted booming prosperity, as people can no longer manage to buy cars as fast as they can be manufactured.

"In Bushnell, Ill., there is an E. Main St. and a W. Main St.—and they both run north and south."—Newspaper filler. Perhaps after these streets were named, a tornado gave the town a 90-degree twist.

The People's Business:

Wanted: A Voice

GOP Needs Somebody to Express Unified Views

By ROGER LANE

LANSING—The problem faced by Republicans in the Legislature of holding up to the public a clear and consistent GOP position on major issues already is giving trouble.

★ ★ ★

It's nothing new. There is an inherent disadvantage where one party somehow must blend the voices of many while the other speaks only in the authoritative tones of one acknowledged leader — in this case, Democratic Gov. Williams.

The difficulty showed itself on the second day of the new session when Republicans reacted to Williams' opening message to the Legislature.

The two top GOP leaders in the Senate and the top two in the House banded together in order to comment in unison. Here is one of the things they said:

"The expressed desire of the governor to wait in respect to school aid reflects a recognition that the revenue picture is not yet clear and that a prediction of the huge deficit may have been premature on facts so far available."

Who predicted a "huge deficit?"

GOP PREDICTION

Putting aside quibbles as to whether there can be in any proper sense a deficit before there is a budget, the answer is the Republican chairmen of the Taxation and Ways and Means Committees, the party's No. 1 and 2 experts on such matters in the house.

They told a gathering of Republican legislators the week before Christmas that 40 to 80 million dollars in added revenues would have to be found to support indicated spending in 1957-58, assuming no new programs were instituted.

What was said in the closed meeting was passed along to newsmen afterwards by the Republican majority leader.

If the school aid aspect of the budgetary problem is pinpointed, the divergence between the idea the Republican statement of Thursday seems intended to convey and what has been said by Republicans in the past becomes even greater.

Detroit Mayor Cobo, as the Republican candidate for governor last fall; Clair L. Taylor, state school superintendent, and Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), House Taxation Committee chairman, all have warned specifically that as much as 20 million dollars in extra funds will have to be found to make the school aid formula pay out in full this fiscal year.

INFLATED ESTIMATE

Conlin stood on the House floor last April during the passage roll call on the school aid bill and cautioned that it was predicated on an inflated estimate of sales tax revenues, estimates rejected as much too high by experts in the Revenue Department and the Department of Administration.

★ ★ ★

As a matter of fact, the formal Republican reaction to the Democratic governor's message probably represented an effort to put on Williams as much as possible the responsibility for demanding new taxes.

Rep George M. Van Peursem (R-Zeeland), the new House speaker, vows he is going to try to draw Senate and House Republicans as closely together as he knows how to give the party a united legislative voice.

This is a tough assignment, and it'll be interesting to see how he makes out.

Though He Thinks He Is Getting Nowhere

Days of All Faiths

Ask 'Can We Stand Abundance?'

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

One of the old litanies says "in the time of our prosperity—Good Lord deliver us." It is this idea that concerns the National Council of Churches this week as they observe their eighth annual Church and Economic Life Week.

Humanity is accustomed to surviving adversity, but the race has had little or no experience weathering an age of prosperity America. We may well gain the whole world and in the process lose our souls.

* * *

Peak of the Council's year-round program of testing economic life by Christian principles, Church and Economic Life Week calls church members to a concentrated period of study and discussion. This year's theme is "Can we stand abundance?" Materials centered around this question will lead serious Christians to examine such matters as their own standards of success, their use of ever-increasing leisure time, and their responsibility for sharing the abundance our economy has brought them.

NEW YEAR FOR TREES

This is the Jewish month of Shebat, a month marked in Israel by the end of one of nature's phases and the beginning of another. In that ancient land now the rainy season will have ended and buds will be appearing on the trees. Thursday, the 15th of Shebat, has since early times been celebrated as the New Year for Trees, a festival of rejoicing at the beginning of spring.

In modern times, with the Zionist resettlement of Israel, this festival has regained a meaning and an importance lost during all the centuries when the Jews had no homeland. The country needs reforestation, and now after more than 1,800 years the old custom of planting new trees on the 15th of Shebat has been elaborately revived.

* * *

Outside Israel the observance is, of course, not the same. Jews in other parts of the world will meet at parties and entertainments where the land of Palestine will be featured in songs and legends about the vegetation of the Holy Land and the marvelous powers its soil will have in the Messianic times. Jewish National Fund tree certificates will be sold and the money used for planting trees in Israel. Fruits that grow in Israel, particularly the carob, are the special party food for this festival.

CHAIR OF PETER

Friday, called the Feast of St. Peter's Chair, goes to the very roots of the Roman Catholic tradition. It commemorates the time when the Apostle Peter took over his duties as first Bishop of Rome, thus according to Roman Catholic belief establishing the Papacy. Based on Matthew, Chapter 16, verse 18, in which Jesus called Peter the rock on which His Church would be built, the Roman church believes St. Peter was the earthly head of the Christian Church and his successors occupy the same position.

* * *

Although there is an actual chair preserved in the Vatican as one of the chairs the Apostle sat in, the term as used in this festival has a wider meaning. Chair means "office" or "position of authority." We see this in such expressions as "the chair has ruled" or "the chair decides" used by chairmen of meetings. Friday's festival is not about a piece of furniture but about the authority of the man who occupies it.

* * *

Since 1908 the Feast of the Chair of Peter has been the opening day of an eight-day period, called the Chair of Unity Octave, devoted to prayer in Roman Catholic churches that all Christendom may be united under one spiritual leader, the successor of Peter in Rome.

LI'L ONES

"You're right, Pop—this is better than a restaurant."

Dr. William Brady's Mailbag:

Facial Exercises Stop Head Noise

"Since I began doing the face-making exercises systematically some three months ago, the head noises which I have had for over thirty years have almost entirely ceased. The exercises have also helped several of my acquaintances who were hard of hearing . . . (Mrs. C. L. E.)"

Answer—Thank you. For the pamphlet on Deafness and Tinnitus (head noises) — pronounced tin-night-us—send stamped, self-addressed envelope.

"Maternal grandmother's sister died in an epileptic seizure. The disease did not occur in grandmother's children but showed it self again in three of her grandchildren and twice in great grandchildren. Of these the two first cousins had convulsions, but the two second cousins and my brother just fainted and skin and lips turned blue. Would I be taking a chance in marrying and having children? (A. J. M.)"

Answer—The heredity factor is comparable with that of diabetes. One may be a potential epileptic, a "carrier" of the tendency, yet never have epilepsy. If you marry a man with a clear family history (no epilepsy, insanity or feeble-mindedness in the last two generations) your children would have as good a chance as any other children.

"Thanks to your advice both my husband and I have had the ambulant (office injection) treatment for hemorrhoids and it was very successful. (Mr. O. E.)"

Answer — If more physicians really knew their business it would be the method of choice—for internal hemorrhoids (piles). I'm sorry I can't tell correspondents which doctors in their vicinity are skilled in the method.

"I read something about "non-surgical drainage of the gall-bladder"—two or three times a year a "spell" bad enough to require medical attention. They don't settle for a sack of potatoes or a chicken any more. Mrs. H. E.)"

Answer—Instructions in Volumette 3 of the Pocket Cyclopedia of Health, So You Have Indigestion? (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope). You can't lay in your winter's supply of potatoes at 25 cents a bushel any more.

"Many doctors have told me I have hypothyroidism, but only one, in New York I had plenty of had ever given me iodin. While was in New York I had plenty of seafoods and have never felt so well as I did then . . . (W. D.)"

Answer—Anyway, it can do no harm to make sure you get your daily ration of iodin. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for the pamphlet The Iodin Ration. Please remember a clipping is not a request.

"Years ago you sent me a prescription which quickly cured my athlete's foot. Now my son has it, and the doctors have been unable . . . (J. P. C.)"

Answer — Send stamped, self-addressed envelope for pamphlet on Dermatophytosis — also called ringworm, athlete's foot, foot itch, fungus, etc.

"Had my third baby the natural way What a thrill to know when my baby was born and to see and have him in my arms immediately —as God intended, I'm sure. My doctor was very pleased and complimented me—which is a boost for morale . . . (Mrs. C. I. P.)"

Answer — As women learn more about prenatal care, childbirth and care of the baby, natural childbirth is bound to become the method of choice. Of course, an anesthetic is always available if the woman wants it.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Expect God to Do Everything

Editors are usually astute practical psychologists, as Gardner Cowles' axiom will prove. Use this case record to set yourself on the road to success and happiness. Remember, God helps those who help themselves! And God answers prayers, but not unless you help Him produce the answers! God doesn't help you do nothing. He only aids those who are trying to do something constructive.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-372: Gardner Cowles, Jr., aged about 50, is one of America's famous editors.

And editors are usually very astute psychologists for they have had a unique vantage point for observing human behavior.

"Things do not happen," thus stated Gardner Cowles in a challenge that should wake up every thinking person.

"They are made to happen."

Yet millions of adults still act like gullible children and sit back waiting for success and happiness and other rewards to fall in their laps.

"Lord, I want an 'A' grade on my exam," students thus pray in wishfulfilling fashion.

"Oh, God, I want my marriage to remain permanently happy," most brides may whisper to the Almighty.

* * *

But if they don't meanwhile help God produce those results, they are not likely to get any aid from the Lord.

For God works in a partnership arrangement. He accomplishes miracles right now in modern America, but only as a result of team-work.

God doesn't help you if you are a do-nothing!

The Lord is not interested in ballooning a little zero into a great big zero.

For God believes in positive action and is always eager to help team-up with people who launch out upon worthy projects and try to do something.

GOD USES BLUEPRINTS

God is the Master Scientist and every human scientist realizes that there are precise formulae or blueprints for getting results in this world.

If your automobile is knocking, you know it is silly to ask God to take that knock out of the motor.

For God has plenty of allies in the efficient machinists in garages who can solve that mechanical dilemma.

They have learned long ago what causes the pinging knock and what will remove it.

In medicine, too, we have learned what causes many "knocks" in the human motor (heart attacks) and what can be done to alleviate or prevent them.

* * *

In the automobile realm, don't use low test gasoline which smokes and thus fouls up the valves of your motor.

In human physiology, don't use tobacco and thus foul up your heart and artery walls as a result of the evil effect of such smoke. Be logical.

GOD LIKES PARTNERS

God likes partners who are loyal and smart. He thus expects you to employ your brains if you wish to give you long life and health and happiness.

It is right and proper for you to ask God to help you avoid divorce and rear your children wisely so they become honest adults.

But prayer is not enough. You must put your shoulder to the wheel and start doing something before God can extend a helping hand.

Read this column faithfully and send for the non-profit booklets or charts which precisely offer you blueprints for keeping marriages happy.

Test yourselves on the Rating Scales for Sweethearts or Parents and employ scientific efficiency in helping attain answers to your prayers.

God answers prayers everyday, but you must help produce those answers!

"Things do not happen," said Mr. Cowles. "They are made to happen."

What are you doing to make your dreams come true and your marriage stay happy and your children become self-reliant moral individuals?

Prayer is an insult to God unless you meanwhile team-up with the Lord to make the good things happen which you desire.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Voice of the People

Parents Express Opinions About Slapping Children

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I read several letters stating teachers should slap a child in the face when punishment is due, while on another page I read that a parent is being sentenced for striking his child in the face as punishment. I would like to know why a teacher is privileged over a parent to do the same thing.

Personally, I believe each child is provided with a spanking area and this does not include the face. A hard enough slap on the head could cause serious damage.

Another Parent

What is wrong with parents who think their child should be slapped on the face? Are they hoodlums, as they feel all other children are? There is a place to punish a child and that isn't in the face. Three cheers for the person who signed "A Parent."

Mrs. B. P.

I grant that children must be taught who is boss at school, but I do not believe that slapping a child's face is the answer. There are other ways to teach them that they must obey their teachers.

Seating young children in a corner with their backs to the class will hurt a child more than a slap. In the case of junior high and high school students, give them a failure of that day's class. Enough failures and the parents will want to know why. When they are told, most parents will try to straighten out the student.

Maybe I am of the old school, but so far as I'm concerned, slapping a child is the parents' place, not a stranger's.

Angry

I disagree with all those who approved of slapping children in the face. Most adults sometimes forget they were young once. I don't think they would have liked a swat in the kisser by any teacher or otherwise.

I agree children should be punished, but on the back side, if you please. How would a teacher, or you, like a slap in the face? It takes a chance of hurting the ears and breaking teeth.

You can lead a child farther than you can punish him. It takes a person with a quick temper to slap someone's face, and if teachers can't curb their tempers, they should quit their jobs and apply for other work. If teachers get away with slapping faces now, what will it be like in five years?

Mother of Two Boys

Yes, slap a child's face if the action warranting punishment comes from his mouth. I slap the face or mouth of my own children if such things come up as spitting, chewing with mouth open, deliberate, smart-aleck sassing, screaming, sticking out the tongue in defiance, etc. There is no justification to hit the ears, eyes or head in such punishment.

For other actions that warrant stronger punishment, teachers and parents, including me, use the child's spanking place. It certainly hurts for a while, long enough for the child to realize and remember what he did to bring the punishment.

I have yet to object to a teacher having spanked or slapped any of my four school children. Maybe it is because a teacher is as human as a parent. I taught before mine were born.

Mrs. Iva May Caverly

I think the person signed "A Parent" is entirely correct. My husband always says, "Don't hit that child on the face, the Good Lord prepared a better place."

Church Support Alaska's Need

Personnel Insufficient; Financial Outlay Low While Churches Expand

The churches in Alaska, although expanding, need more personnel, closer supervision and larger financial outlay, Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, president of the National Council of Churches, declared at the conclusion of his 11-day Christmas mission to servicemen and chaplains of the Alaskan Command

* * *

"I have the feeling that neither the churches in the United States nor the Pentagon Building are giving as full and effective support in Alaska as is demanded by the problems and opportunities faced," he observed.

* * *

The church leader urged more adequate facilities be made available to the Protestant chaplains in Alaska.

"Good men are frustrated by lack of properly located chapels with adequate place for Sunday School classes for the children of military dependents," he pointed out. "It is even reported that the religious education wings of the approved new chapels have been eliminated from the request."

If these wings are not put back in the plans, he warned, or some other really adequate buildings located properly are not made available, "Protestant chaplains will be greatly handicapped."

* * *

"I might add, that location is important when the weather is 40 degrees below and it is dark at 9:30 in the morning," he said.

Dr. Blake returned to New York after a visit that carried him to a dozen widely scattered Army, Navy and Air Force installations in Alaska, as the representative of 144,000 churches at home. During this time he participated in more than 20 services and mass meetings and talked to and with 12,000 personnel.

* * *

This is the third successive year that Dr Blake has made Christmas tours of American bases outside the continental United States.

* * *

In his formal statement, Dr. Blake urged American churches to "give Alaska twice normal attention rather than half, since it is an in-between land, both home and foreign, both a missionary field and a normal expanding American community." The needs of the Alaskan population, both native and American, should be met, he stressed.

Lutherans Offer New Translation

Scholars Edit Lexicon of Greek Testament After 8-Year Study

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The Lutheran Church—Missouri Synod today presented to the world of English-speaking Christians a newly published Greek-English Lexicon of the New Testament and other Early Christian Literature. It is the product of eight and one-half years of Biblical scholarship and Lexicography.

* * *

The new unabridged lexicon of the Greek New Testament is the first work of its kind to appear in English since 1889. It was sponsored and financed completely by the Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod, which engaged the services of Dr. W. F. Gingrich of Albright College, Reading, Pa., and Dr. William Arndt of Concordia Theological Seminary, St. Louis, to prepare the manuscript for this particular volume.

Their work was done on the basis of the fourth edition of a German work done by Dr. Walter Bauer of Goettingen University. The editors worked with the fascicles of the fourth edition of Bauer's work.

The entire project was submitted to the church's committee on research in 1948 and approved by it and the Board of Directors of The Lutheran Church-Missouri Synod in the spring of 1949. The church body appropriated a total of $90,000 before the project was finished.

Drs. Arndt and Gingrich went to work in September of 1949 at the University of Chicago, where the full lexicographical equipment, personnel and facilities of the university were made available to them.

CONTAINS 6 NEW ITEMS

The manuscript, consisting of 22,000 different index cards, was completed in February of 1956. Through negotiations undertaken by the University of Chicago, Cambridge University Press was selected as the printer of the lexicon. Cambridge also serves as the distributing agent for the English-speaking nations outside the Western hemisphere, while the University of Chicago Press is the agent for this hemisphere.

The lexicon includes six special kinds of items which have not appeared before in an English lexicon. It incorporates all of the information presently available through the discovery and study of papyri since 1890.

It is the only lexicon to include the vocabulary of Papias, an early Christian author. It includes eight words which do not appear in any lexicon, but do occur in the critical apparatus of the Greek New Testament. It has added all the references to studies in American scholarly journals, which are not included in any present lexicon.

Finally, it is prefaced by an essay, written by Dr. Walter Bauer himself, on the nature of the Greek language which was used by the New Testament authors.

* * *

The editors of the lexicon consulted an advisory committee of scholars consisting of the following men: Henry J. Cadbury, Charles H. Dodd, Floyd V. Filson, Martin H. Franzmann, Edgar J. Goodspeed, Alexander Heidel, Frederick C. Grant, Carl H. Kraeling, Bruce M. Metzger, Walter Wente, and Allen P. Wikgren.

The appearance of the new lexicon was announced simultaneously by the syndychs of the University of Cambridge Press at a formal tea, and by Dr. Martin Scharlemann, chairman of the Missouri Synod's Committee on Scholarly Research at a meeting of the Society for Biblical Literature and Exegesis, at Union Theological Seminary.

Racial Research Project Slated by World Council

Churches around the world will soon have a body of knowledge on the practical experience of Christians working for better race relations everywhere.

A new racial research project to discover how such experiences gained in one country can help those in other parts of the world will be launched by the World Council of Churches, aided by a $3,500 grant-in-aid from the Fund for the Republic.

* * *

Dr. J. Oscar Lee, executive director of the National Council of Churches' Department of Racial and Cultural Relations, will leave January 14 for three months of conferences with leaders in the struggle for improved race relations in Northern and Southern Rhodesia, Kenya, Pakistan, India, Ceylon and Malaya.

His aim is to determine the applicability both of his American experiences to other lands and of the reverse. He will also seek to find out how churches everywhere can most effectively help one another, through the World Council of Churches, work for the abolition of segregation and discrimination within the churches and within society.

The report of Dr. Lee's findings will be laid before the 90-member Central Committee of the World Council at its next meeting in August at Yale Divinity School.

Observers to Pay Visit to Caribbean Missions

Methodist and other Protestant missionary work in three Caribbean lands will be observed by about 30 persons on a home missions tour Jan. 29 to Feb. 8, sponsored by two divisions of the Methodist Board of Missions.

The "Methodist National Mission Tour" will take its members by air to Haiti, the Dominican Republic and Puerto Rico. This is the fourth year for the tour under the auspices of the Division of National Missions and the Joint Section of Education and Cultivation.

1st United Missionary Has Series of Meetings

The Rev. William K. Burgess of Detroit will be guest speaker during the series of meetings to be held from Jan. 15 through 27 in the First United Missionary Church, 135 Prospect St.

Howard Brenneman of Kingston will be in charge of the music assisted by his wife and young son, Daniel. The public is invited.

Find Celtic Script on Eighth Century Old Parchment

An eighth century parchment with a Celtic script, dating from the epoch in which the Germanic peoples were first Christianized, has been found in the Collegiate library of Fritzlar, Germany, according to the German Tourist Information Office.

St. Boniface, "Apostle of the Germans," and other Anglo-Saxon missionaries built the Benedictine Abbey of Fritzlar early in the eighth century, and the town still abounds in things medieval. Fortifications of the Middle Ages are still evident in eighteen towers about the town, and one of the oldest town halls in Germany may be seen there.

A later but still interesting sight is the tomb of a Dr. Eisenbart, gifted seventeenth century physician, who believed in advertising himself until he seemed a quack.

Plan Slavic Institute for Munich, Germany

An exhibition of sacred Byzantine objects - ikons, wood carvings, embroidery, statuary, vessels of precious metals and liturgical books—will continue in the new town hall of Goeppingen, Wuerttemberg, Germany, until February 3, according to the German Tourist Information Office.

* * *

Dating from the 15th through the 19th centuries, the pieces are to be part of an ikon museum of a Slavic Institute planned for Munich.

* * *

On Palm Sunday, April 14, a temporary ikon museum housing these precious objects will open in Warthausen Castle, near Biberach-on-Riss, Wuerttemberg, and will remain there until suitable accommodation can be found in Munich.

Vicar at Church of Advent Ordained to Priesthood

The Rev. John Whitcombe Wigle was ordained to the Sacred Order of Priests at 11 o'clock this morning in the Episcopal Church of the Advent where he has been serving as vicar, since July.

* * *

The Right Rev. Richard S. M. Emrich, Bishop of Michigan, conducted the ceremony with the Rev. Robert L. DeWitt, rector of Christ Church Cranbrook, presenting the candidate for ordination.

Preaching the morning sermon was the Very Rev. John J. Weaver, dean of St. Paul's Cathedral, Detroit.

The Rev. Lester L. Dobyns, associate rector at Christ Church, read the Gospel Lesson and the Epistle was read by the Rev. Barton M. Lloyd, also of Christ Church.

* * *

Others taking part in the service were two laymen of the congregation, Frank Arnoldi who gave the preface to the ordinal and Rogers Marquis who presented the litany for ordination.

BECOMES VICAR

The Rev. Mr. Wigle, a native of Windsor, Ont., Canada, was graduated from the University of Western Ontario in London and from the Virginia Theological Seminary in Alexandria, Va. He was ordained deacon on June 20, 1956, at Christ Church Cranbrook and was instituted as vicar July 1 of the same year by Ven. Archdeacon Ralph Parks.

* * *

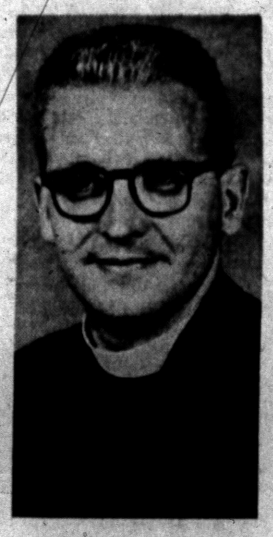

The Church of the Advent held its first service on Dec. 4, 1955 in the Pine Lake School on W. Long Lake road at Middlebelt.

Growing by leaps and bounds, the Rev. Mr. Wigle finds it now necessary to hold two morning services every Sunday to take care of his congregation and Sunday School.

Immediately following the ordination, an informal reception was given in the undercroft by the Women's Auxiliary with Mrs. John Black, president, in charge.

* * *

The Rev. Mr. Wigle makes his home with his wife and small daughter, Janis Lee, in the gatehouse at 1222 W. Long Lake Rd.

Michigan Pastors Confer in 18th Annual Meeting

ANN ARBOR — Approximately 250 pastors of all denominations are expected to attend the 18th annual Michigan Pastors Conference sponsored by The University of Michigan Extension Service and the Michigan Council of Churches here Monday through Wednesday, Jan. 21-23.

Howard Thurman, dean of Marsh Chapel at Boston University, will deliver the first in a series of three messages on "Jesus and the Disinherited" at the opening meeting in Rackham Lecture Hall at 1:30 p.m. Monday, Jan. 21.

Other messages in the series will be delivered at an assembly in the Lecture Hall at 11:10 Tuesday, Jan. 22, and at an ecumenical communion service at the Ann Arbor Congregational Church at 10:20 a.m. Wednesday, Jan 23.

Nels F. S. Ferre, professor of philosophical theology at Vanderbuilt University School of Religions, Nashville, Tenn., will deliver three lectures on the topic "Towards and Evangelical Christology."

The first of these will be given at 2:40 p.m. Monday, Jan. 21, following Dean Thurman. Others are scheduled for 10 a.m. Tuesday, Jan. 22, and 9 a.m. Wednesday, Jan. 23, in assemblies at Rackham Lecture Hall.

James W. Clarke, professor of homiletics at Princeton Theological Seminary, will deliver three messages on "What Lack I Yet?" These are scheduled for 9 a.m. and 2:15 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 22, at Rackham Lecture Hall, and for the conference's final luncheon at 12:20 p.m. Wednesday, Jan. 23, in the parish hall, First Baptist Church.

Also scheduled to speak at the conference is C. Leslie Glenn, research associate at the U. of M. Mental Health Research Institute, who will talk on "When to Call the Psychiatrist" at seminars in Rackham Lecture at 3:45 p.m. Monday, Jan. 21, and 4:15 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 22.

The Rev. Kenneth G. Neigh, president of the Michigan Council of Churches, will speak on "Reflections on Two Years of Challenge and Progress" at the annual meeting of the Council at 6 p.m. Monday, Jan. 21, in the dining hall of the First Methodist Church.

Charles B. Templeton, evangelist and former secretary of the Division of Evangelism in the Presbyterian Church, U.S.A., will be the featured speaker at ecumenical workshop hour at 8:15 p.m. Monday, Jan. 21, at the First Methodist Church sanctuary and at a fellowship Ballroom luncheon scheduled for 12:15 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 22, in the Michigan League.

Wilbert J. McKeachie, associate professor of psychology at the U. of M., advises on "Living with Yourself as a Pastor's Wife," at a special meeting for pastors' wives at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Rackham West Conference Room.

Howard Y. McClusky, U. of M. professor of educational psychology and Gale E. Jensen, program director in community adult education, will discuss "Developing Healthy Relations Between Church and Community" at a conference dinner scheduled for 6 p.m. Tuesday, Jan. 22, at the Congregational Church parish hall.

Bible Series to Begin

A series of 26 articles, The Mountain Revisited, by Dr. J. Carter Swaim, director of the National Council's department of the Englis Bible, begins in denominational magazines this month. Based on the Sermon on the Mount as translated in the Revised Standard Version, this is the second series sponsored by the Council's Committee on the Use and Understanding of the Bible.

Daughters of Isabella Sponsor Religious Film

The Daughters of Isabella of Our Lady of the Lakes Circle No. 479 will sponsor the showing of the film, "Padre Francis Pio of Italy," at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday in St. Joseph's church on West South boulevard.

Father Rudolph Hudik of Casco, Wis. will present the film and lecture. The public is invited.

Churches Cooperate on Heifer Project

Forty-four heifers flew last week to Turkey under the auspices of Heifer Project Inc., thanks to the cooperation of the Laymen's Fellowship of the Congregational Christian Churches and the Churchmen's Brotherhood of the Evangelical and Reformed Church.

Walter A. Graham, national director of the Laymen's Fellowship, said that theai r shipment was the first joint aid project of the two denominations which are planning to merge this year. Twenty per cent of the heifers, he said, will be given to refugees and needy villagers in Turkey.

The shipments, to underdeveloped areas and war-ruined countries, help people in those countries reestablish their farm economies and in many cases contributed to improving stock and introduce new strains.

Included in the 1956 shipments were 880 cattle, 507 goats, 72,600 chicks, 561 sheep, 399 pigs, 500 ducklings, 25 burros and 8,800 hatching eggs.

Other shipments went for the first time last year to Borneo, Gaza, Jordan, Liberia and Sierra Leone.

Let no corrupt communication proceed out of your mouth, but that which is good.

Methodist Women Have Largest Society

According to statistician Albert C. Hoover of the Methodist Church, Chicago, the (national) Woman's Society of Christian Service of that denomination now number 1,790,441 which is noted as a gain of about 23,000 members over the figures of a year ago.

This makes the Methodist WSCS the largest denominational group of church women in America, and probably the largest in the world. The Society is organized into 31,061 local societies in as many churches spread across the United States.

During the past year, the local societies paid a total of $17,225,263 for work and services within their own parishes (such as furnishings for the parsonage, help for community need), and in addition $10,152,759 for missionary and other services "outside the local parish."

Bible Society Sends Scripture to Red Countries

Theological students in countries behind the Iron Curtain are receiving gifts of scholarly editions of the Holy Scriptures from the American Bible Society.

Since 1948 the Society has been sending yearly shipments of Greek New Testaments, Hebrew Old Testaments and concordances. Students, faculties and pastors depend on the American Bible Society as their only source for the volumes so necessary to them in their studies of the Word of God.

Several months ago 180 volumes of these texts for scholars were sent to Bishop Jan, the Metropolitan of Prague and all Czechoslovakia. The United Bible Societies' office in London has just received a letter saying: "I consider, as my pleasant duty, to thank you for this beautiful present, which will make use by our Church for the purpose of Orthodox theological faculty."

A shipment of 2,000 volumes is now on its way to students and faculties in East Germany and 100 copies to Yugoslavia.

Because of these gifts of American Christians the leaders and future leaders of Churches behind the Iron Curtain are able to study for themselves the Holy Scriptures in the original languages.

Nazarene Sect Had Good Gains

Church Membership and Contributions Rise to Record Levels

The Church of the Nazarene, an international Protestant denomination, recorded substantial gains in every area of its work during 1956, it was reported here this week.

The annual statistical report by Dr. S. T. Ludwig, Kansas City, Mo., general church secretary, showed that new churches and Sunday schools were established at the rate of two a week in 1956. The denomination had a net gain to 109 churches for a year - end total of 4,435.

A net gain of 5,631 members, or a 2.8 per cent increase, brought the denomination total to 207,866. The vast majority joined on profession of faith.

Perhaps most notable was the record of $129.94 in per capita giving in 1956. This was an increase of $4.35 over the previous high of $125.59 in 1955.

Denominational giving for all purposes also increased by $2,260,063 in 1956, or a denominational total of $37,404,741.

Sunday school enrollment reached an all-time high of 611,319.

All three principal societies—missionary, junior and young people—recorded gains in members and income.

The denomination stands for the spread and conservation of the Wesleyan doctrine of entire sanctification. It marks its start at Pilot Point, Texas in 1908.

Religious Leader Cited for Campaign on Litter

The Rev. Warren W. Ost, director of Christian Ministry in the National Parks, a department of the National Council of Churches, was cited by Keep America Beautiful, Inc., for his "volunteer service" in the campaign against litter.

Mr. Ost represents the National Council on the advisory council of the agency in a consultant capacity.

Confident Living

Stress Can Be in Kitchen or in Big Executive Office

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A friend of mine is managing director of one of Chicago's largest and busiest hotels, the Sherman.

DR. PEALE

This friend, Gus Bering, is not only a great hotel man, but a real philosopher as well, a student of human nature. One afternoon, just after lunch, I happened to be in his office.

"Come on down to the lobby," he said, "and I'll show you the symbol of the deterioration of American civilization."

"Don't tell me you've got that right in your lobby!" I exclaimed.

He led me down to their revolving door. "This is it," he said. "Just stand here with me a few minutes and watch men approach that revolving door."

A luncheon meeting of business men was breaking up. They'd been singing, having a good time in sharing fellowship. They were happy and relaxed after letting their troubles go for an hour. But now their meeting was over, it was time to get back to work and they all came pouring out of the elevators.

"You watch them when they get to the revolving door," Gus Bering said.

What a change! They came along laughing and slapping each other on the back, but when they reached the door it seemed that their eyes protruded, their faces grew rigid, they swept aside all politeness, and each one rushed to see who could get through the revolving door first.

"If they miss just one section of that door," Gus remarked, "that spoils the rest of the afternoon for them."

These men thought they knew where they were rushing, but actually they didn't. Gus and I knew, though. Some were rushing straight into the arms of the undertaker. By such tense and stressful living, theirs was the pace that kills.

Are you caught in such a revolving door? Are you perpetually hurrying to what can only turn out to be the last appointment you'll ever keep. You may say: "I'm not that kind of individual. I'm a quiet person and I live a quiet life. I'm not always rushing from one appointment to another. I'm not a victim of tension."

But you can't be sure of that. The house wife in her kitchen can be caught in the revolving door of life just as easily as the busiest executive. It isn't how fast you move physically — it's the pandemonium which exists in your thoughts. That's why some people who never seem to hurry sometimes suddenly have a breakdown. A calm and quiet physical approach to living doesn't always mean that the mental approach is equally calm and peaceful.

PEACE OF MIND ESSENTIAL

More than four hundred years ago, Henry Howard, Earl of Surrey, wrote that the quiet mind is a prime essential of the happy life. And the poet, John Gay, one hundred and fifty years later, prayed, "Give me, kind heaven, a private station, a mind serene for contemplation." They were only repeating what had been said long before their time, in the Bible, "When He giveth quietness, who then can make trouble?"

Are you caught in a revolving door, rushing feverishly, living hectically? Stop — stop right now. Let your mind and body relax. Read the trate your mind. Do only that — and you've made a new beginning of a more effective and certainly a happier life.

New Members to Be Received

Rev. Edward Auchard Scheduled to Speak at Alma College

The first Communion Service of 1957 in the First Presbyterian Church will be held at both the 9:30 and 11 o'clock worship hour Sunday morning.

Dr. William H. Marbach, pastor, will deliver the Communion Meditation at both services. He will also welcome a class of new members at the later hour and offer the sacrament of baptism to adults.

The Pioneer Society for Junior High young people will meet at 5:30 p.m. with Mary Augenbaugh leading devotions.

"The Song of the Shining Mountains," a film concerned with the North American Indian will be presented. Mrs. Galen E. Hershey and Mrs. Earl Van Dyke will provide refreshments.

The Tuxis Society program will include pictures taken by Mr. and Mrs. Lyndon Salathiel while visiting in Great Britain last summer. Bill Riley will lead devotions and Alva Clark will be in charge of refreshments.

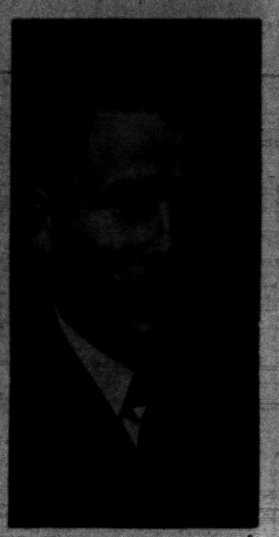

At the Men's Club dinner at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday, Howard Shelly, writer, conservationist and lecturer of the Oakland County Sportsman's Club, will present a color film, "Shoshone Valley."

The picture, depicting a Rocky Mountain adventure in Wyoming's Buffalo Bill country, was prepared by Howard and Ruth Shelly.

The Rev. Edward D. Auchard, associate pastor, will lecture Sunday evening in the Presbyterian Church at Alma. His subject will be "Distinctive Features of the Reformed Faith."

Political Translation

The translations department of the American Bible Society gets many requests for its linguistic services, some of them quite unusual. Recently a lady wrote to the Department, asking that a certain sentence be translated into twenty Asian languages. Her sentence was, "I like Ike."

Inter-Church Fellowship Starts at First Methodist

The 10th annual program of Inter-Church Fellowship will begin at 5:45 Sunday evening in First Methodist Church.

As in previous years, a Hymn Sing will open the evening service.

* * *

Dr. John L. Cheek, professor of Bible at Albion College, will present Bible Expository lectures from 6 to 6:45 on each of the five Sundays as follows: "The Church with Many Problems," "The Teaching Church," and "The Church of the Universal Spirit."

Other subjects will be "The Persecuted Church" and "The Organized Church."

A member of Albion College faculty since 1946, Dr. Cheek was graduated from Fresno State Teachers' College in 1932 "with highest honors."

He received his M.A. and B.D. degrees at the Pacific School of Religion and his PhD was conferred on him in 1938 by the University of Chicago.

He has served three pastorates in the Chicago area, as dean of several youth institutes and as teacher in 35 institutes and teacher training schools.

Dr. Cheek, an active Scout leader, is a member of the Society of Biblical Literature, of the National Assn. of Bible Instructors and of the Chicago Society for Biblical Research.

A social hour is scheduled from 6:45 to 7:30 with refreshments provided by the host church.

PRESBYTERIAN TO PREACH

Dr. Roger B. McShane, pastor of Calvin Presbyterian Church, Detroit, will preach on "Christian Empathy" at the 7:30 worship service.

A graduate of Wheaton College and Princeton Seminary, he was given a fellowship for advanced study in Old Testament languages at Princeton.

He took further graduate studies at McCormick Theological Seminary and the University of Illinois.

Dr. McShane has served as a visiting lecturer in ancient history at the University of Michigan. From 1942 to 1946, he was a Navy Chaplain attached to Marine units serving in Saipan, Okinawa and Japan.

Since 1948, he has been pastor of Calvin Presbyterian located at Southfield near Schoolcraft.

Serving as a steering committee for Inter-Church Fellowship are pastors of the six cooperating churches, Dr. William H. Marbach of First Presbyterian and the Rev. Malcolm K. Burton of First Congregational.

Others are the Rev. C. George Widdifield of All Saints Episcopal, Dr. Milton H. Bank of Central Methodist, the Rev. William LaFountain of Lutheran Church of the Ascension and the Rev. Paul T. Hart of First Methodist.

A special program has been planned for the children.

TO BE DEDICATED — Members of the Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church will dedicate the 40'x80' new addition at 3 p. m. Sunday. Constructed of cinder block painted white, the chancel and sanctuary area are paneled in fir. All woodwork is in natural finish. The nave will seat 300 in the pews and the two choir lofts will accommodate 50 choristers. The divided chancel reveals the altar backed by a dossal curtain and a 12 foot Latin Cross surrounded by a stained glass window. The church, organized as a Sunday School in July 1926, was guided in its early years by the late Dr. Andrew Creswell, former pastor of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Congregation Dedicates Addition

The Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church will dedicate the new 40'x80' addition to the church building at 3 p.m. Sunday.

* * *

Dr. C. L. Hussey, executive secretary of the board of Ministerial Pension and Relief of the United Presbyterian Church of North America, will speak on "The Glory of the Church" at the afternoon service. He will also preach at 10:45 a.m. on the subject "What the Church Offers."

* * *

A graduate of Muskingum College in 1922, he also attended Monmouth College and was graduated from the Pittsburgh Theological Seminary in 1925. He served for 20 years as pastor of the First United Presbyterian Church of Philadelphia.

At the dedication service, Gloria Brown will play the organ prelude, "In a Monastery Garden." The call to worship and prayer will be by the Rev. Wilson W. Moore and the Rev. H. F. MacAllister, a former pastor, will read the Scripture Lesson from I Kings, the 8th chapter.

During the service, greetings will be extended by Dr. J. I. Moore of the Ohio Synod, Dr. S. C. Weir of the Detroit Presbytery, the Rev. Kenneth Hutchinson of the Pontiac Pastors' Assn and the Rev. Mr. MacAllister. The Litany of Dedication will be given by the pastor, the Rev. Edmond I. Watkins.

The architect, builder and members of the building committee will be presented to the congregation.

Following the dedication, the Naomi and Ruth Missionary Circles will serve refreshments in the church parlor. Visitors are invited to the fellowship.

Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church was first organized as a Sunday School in July 1926 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert O. Peters. Services were held in various homes and in the Malkim School until the summer of 1927 when the first building was erected at the corner of Joslyn Avenue and Clara St. This was dedicated in 1927.

Under the leadership of the Rev. Mr. MacAllister, the rapid growth of the congregation made it necessary to construct a larger building at the corner of Joslyn and Third avenues.

The present pastor, the Rev. Mr. Watkins, was installed in 1954.

The housing developments in the north of Pontiac brought an increase in the Sunday School and congregation. So in 1955 the present new addition was begun.

Following the same general exterior pattern of the old building, it was constructed of cinder block painted white with provisions for eventual face bricking. The doors are auburn brown.

The interior is crowned with laminated wood arches and red cedar ceiling planking. The chancel is finished with fir paneling centered with a 12-foot redwood Latin cross outlined with amber glass.

The main auditorium which seats 300 in the pews is done in dawn pink with a pink tone asphalt tile floor. The altar, pews and organ console are in golden oak. The two choir lofts will seat 50 choristers. Light fixtures will be of colonial design.

The walls of the sanctuary and basement of the old building as well as of the new basement are painted sunbeam yellow. Plans call for the basement and old sanctuary to be divided into Sunday School rooms with folding doors. The banquet hall will seat 250.

All of the decorating was done by members of the congregation.

Serving on the building committee were Frank Cohoe, general chairman; Lyle Cox, survey chairman; Marvin Fauss, financial chairman; Loren Kelly, construction chairman and Harold Kline, Eugene Hoisington, the George Wilsons and Clinton Passage.

Decorating committee members included Mrs. Lyle Cox, Mrs. Robert Dunham, Robert Nelson, Ralph Harrison, Robert Dunham and Loren Kelly.

* * *

Others working with the pastor were Mrs. Ralph Harrison, Mrs. Walter Hubner, Samuel Madill, Arthur Berndt, Harold Kline, Mrs. Fred Bohlman, Mrs. Harry Lunsford, Mrs. Harry Smith, Leonard Cotter and Mrs. Myron Lockhart.

The congregation has a communicant membership of 284 and a Bible School enrollment of 450.

Churchmen to Decry Evils of Abundance

NEW YORK — Americans will be warned of the dangers growing out of their much-vaunted abundance when churchmen and women gather during the nation-wide observance of the eighth Church and Economic Life Week, January 20-26.

Throughout the country church and civic groups will seek to stir their neighbors out of their complacency by asking frankly, "Can we stand abundance?" the Rev. Cameron P. Hall of New York announced today.

Mr. Hall is executive director of the National Council of Churches' Department of Church and Economic Life, which sponsors the week as the pivotal event in a year-long program in the churches devoted to the consideration of economic affairs in the light of Christian teaching. Mayor Charles P. Taft, of Cincinnati, O., is chairman of the department.

Russia Orthodox Church Leaders Refuse Meeting

GENEVA (AP)—The heads of Russia's Orthodox Church today postponed indefinitely a conference with leaders of the World Council of Churches scheduled to be held in France late this month.

In a telegram to the World Council's headquarters in Geneva, Moscow patriarchate said its representatives "need more time to prepare" for the meeting.

Sources close to the council said the Russian action probably was connected with the deterioration of relations between the Soviet Union and the West since planning for the meeting started more than two years ago.

The conference had been planned to pave the way for a closer association between the Russian church and the 165 Orthodox and Protestant member churches of the World Council.

Elders Elected Wednesday Eve

Oakland Ave. Church Congregation Approves Expansion Program

The annual congregational meeting of the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church was held in Fellowship Hall Wednesday night. The pastor, the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach, presided over the election of Elders.

* * *

The following were elected to four year terms on the Session of the church: William Cox, Elmer Good, Tom Mackie and George Marien.

The chairman of the congregation, Stanton Levely, presided over the business meeting. Reports of progress for the year 1956 were read by the pastor and the Bible School superintendent, Miss Joyce Sweet.

It was noted in all the reports that 1956 was an outstanding year numerically and financially. The budget for 1957 was presented by the chairman of the Board of Trustee, Don Wilson.

* * *

A proposed expansion program was discussed and approved by the congregation. Total budget for the year 1957 including current expenses, missions, building fund and expansion program was $52,297.

* * *

Other officers elected were Stanton Levely, chairman; William Bray, vice chairman; Mrs. John Gemmell, secretary, and William Webb, treasurer. Two trustees were elected to three year terms: Lexie Williams and Howard Tanner. Noble Meredith was elected to a one year term.

The pastor reported that missionary giving to the denomination's board was nearly $9,100. Total missionary giving for the same period was about $12,500.

* * *

Sunday morning, the pastor will preach on the theme, "Busy Here and There." At the evening service, the message will be "Christ Cleanses the Lepers."

Methodists to Celebrate Golden Anniversary of Church's Founding

Central Methodist Church, one of Pontiac's outstanding churches, will observe her Golden Anniversary on Jan. 22.

Commemorating the event, another generation will begin the celebration with an All Church Dinner Meeting at 6:30 p.m. Thursday.

At that time, the members will vote on the proposal to build a new church on the present site beginning with the Educational Building.

The proposal for the ultimate construction of a new church building is the result of several years study and investigation by the planning committee.

* * *

Experts in this field from outside Pontiac have been consulted among whom are Dr. Murray Leiffer of the bureau of Social & Religious Research, Garrett Biblical Institute in Chicago; and Dr. F. O. Hunt of the Board of Missions, National Division of the Methodist Church in Philadelphia.

Also giving his opinion was A. H. Fink, architect of the Division of Church Extension, the Methodist Church in Philadelphia.

At the dinner, Mr. Fink will present slides showing his preliminary plans for a new church. These will indicate the construction of the new building in two units.

The first will house adequate educational facilities for children, young people and adults and a small chapel.

SANCTUARY TO SEAT 850

The second unit will contain the sanctuary, seating approximately 850, and a fellowship hall of sufficient size to allow serving 390 at banquet tables. Kitchen facilities and office space for the church staff will also be included.

On Jan. 20, Dr. Weldon Crossland, minister of Asbury First Methodist Church, Rochester, N. Y. and a former pastor, will preach the morning sermon.

The Golden Anniversary Dinner is scheduled for Wednesday evening at 6:30 on Jan. 23. Those who have entered full time Christian service from Central Church and those who have served the church as ministers and associate ministers will be invited to be guests.

* * *

Robert Field, chairman of the Golden Anniversary Committee will preside with Rev. John W. Mulder conducting the devotions. Lloyd Pardee will speak of Central's glorious past while Allen Palmer will tell of the present.

The Rev. Dudley Mosure will be heard speaking for those in Christian service and the Rev. Herbert Hausser, former soloist at Central will represent those who have served the church.

At the morning worship hour on Jan. 27, Dr. F. O. Hunt of the department of Finance and Field Service of the Methodist Church, will be guest preacher.

Church World Services Praised by Beneficents

Ten minutes by helicopter from the great luxury hotel that looks down on Port-au-Prince, Haiti, children with pipe-stem legs and pellagra-ridden bodies who were eating roots and grass because there was no food are being brought back to health through Church World Service distribution of U. S. surplus foods.

* * *

These are the areas where a strange plague descended upon the residents — where huge flocks of starving parrots battled the peasants, armed with torches and clubs, for the corn ripening in the fields. The parrots won the strange warfare.

This was the end of a time of horror for Haitians that began in October two years ago, said the Rev. Frank L. Hutchison, CWS official who visited Jamica, Puerto Rico and Haiti for conferences with church leaders and a study of conditions.

It all began when Hurricane Hazel cut her wide swath of destruction through the island. The storm blew down half of the cocoanut and other food-producing trees, killed livestock, and finally lifted up salt water from the Caribbean Sea and dropped it upon the land, killing vegetation and ruining the soil. Torrential rains followed, washing away the precious top soil.

Missionaries from the United States discovered the starving condition of the children by riding horseback hour-after-hour through storm-isolated sections.

Although it has been recognized by leaders of Church World Service global relief arm of the National council of Churches, that food must be sent to Haiti at least until the harvest of 1957, Mr. Hutchison reports, that a new emergency call has just come from the International Cooperation Administration following the recent political crisis in Haiti. As a result CWS will release new stores of food for distribution under direction of Bishop Alfred Vogeli, who heads the 55,000 to 60,000-member Episcopal Church in Haiti.

* * *

Here it was that 300 persons gathered during the Hutchinson visit. One of them, an aged Haitian peasant, walking eight hours over mountain trails to attend the meeting called to thank the American churches for the food that has saved them from starvation.

CWS shipments of food to Haiti during 1955 and 1956 totaled more than a million and a half pounds, valued at about $380,000, Mr. Hutchison reports. In addition, 17 tons of clothing were given to Haiti and all ocean freight charges, totaling $47,158 were paid by CWS.

At the moment, new clothings stocks are being sent, along with 15 portable sewing machines for the many church centers, plus thousands of yards of clothing material, scissors, needles and thread.

Germany Restores Nearly All Churches

After only eleven years of painstaking work, all but two of the war-damaged German cathedrals have been rebuilt and gradually restored to their original appearances, according to the German Tourist Information Office. Cologne Muenster, Munich, Trier and other venerable cathedrals are once more whole, and only those at Hildesheim and Wuerzburg, being reconstructed now, have yet to be completed.

Reconstruction has brought to light much evidence on the subject of medieval architecture and foundations, and thus, technical scholarship as well as aesthetics has benefited from the rebuilding of this medieval magnificence.

Plan Bible Distribution Expansion in Asia

BANDUNG, Indonesia (RNS)—A series of policy decisions aimed at increasing Bible distribution in Southeast Asia were adopted at a a meeting attended by Bible Society representatives in nearby Tjimbuleuit.

Present in addition to United Bible Societies officials and workers from India, Ceylon, Thailand, Malaya, Hongkong and Indonesia were staff members of the older Bible Societies of the Netherlands, Great Britain, Scotland, Australia and the United States. The group formed a Standing Committee for Southeast Asia.

They urged the construction of Bible Houses in various countries and the purchase of a central printing press as well as of a number of trucks to facilitate the distribution of Bibles in the great back-country reaches of the areas represented.

God is faithful, who will not suffer you to be tempted above that ye are able.

* * *

With the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.

* * *

Do that which is right and good in the sight of the Lord, that it may be well with thee.

* * *

What is a man profited, if he shall gain the whole world, and lose his own soul?

* * *

Of all that thou shalt give me I will surely give the tenth unto thee.

Eastern Governor Aids Bible Society Program

Gov. McKeldin of Maryland, an active churchman, has been a Sunday-school teacher since early manhood and is a member of the Board of Managers of the Maryland Bible Society, one of the American Bible Society's strongest and most generous auxiliaries.

This year he again came to the Biole House just before Christmas to lay in the supplies of Scripture materials for the visitors to the Executive Mansion at Christmas time, or to present to those he meets while traveling throughout the State.

Pontiac TV Has New Film Series

Local Methodists Aid Nationwide Program on Christian Life

Methodist churches of the Pontiac Area are helping launch a new nation-wide television program, "The Way," it was announced by the Rev. Kenneth Stephens, pastor of the Galloway Lake Methodist Church.

* * *

The second weekly program in a series of half-hour dramas is to be telecast by Station WJBK-TV on Sunday at 10:00 a.m. The central theme of this Sunday's show, "The Tourist," is that our love and concern, like God's, should extend to all people.

Released through the National Council of Churches, the new series is non-sectarian and will be carried by more than 100 television stations as a public service feature.

The programs are aimed at demonstrating the power and concern of Christian love in dramatic, real-life situations, and should appeal to all age groups.

* * *

"The Way" series was porduced by the Methodist Radio and Film Commission as a project of the denomination's "television ministry" authorized by the Methodist Council of Bishops.

Methodist Churches across the country are contributing to a special fund established to produce "The Way" and other television programs.

Missionary Total for Protestants at Record High

The Missionary Research Library, an agency operated jointly by the National Council of Churches and Union Theological Seminary, has conducted a survey which reveals that 23,432 Protestant missionaries (a record total) are serving abroad, representing 213 organizations in the United States and Canada.

The total of four years ago was 18,576; twenty years ago the number was 11,289.

* * *

In today's distribution India leads with 2,127. Next comes Japan with 1,562, and the Belgian Congo with 1,195. China, which once was the host to 4,492 American Protestant missionaries, now has one —a Lutheran in a communist prison in Shanghai.

* * *

Six out of every ten Protestant overseas missionaries are women despite the fact that fewer single women are serving than formerly.

In addition to ordained missionaries (28%), there are over 2,000 in medical and nursing services. Non-ordained foreign missionaries include farm technicians, teachers, literacy experts, film makers, broadcasters, engineers, architects, pilots, ground crews.

Church Workers Study Broadcasting

More than a score of pastors, Sunday School workers, choir masters and other church workers from a four-state area will convene in Phoenix, Ariz., Jan. 27 - Feb. 1, to learn the Do's and Don'ts of broadcasting.

* * *

Convinced that the Gospel can best reach most people where most people are found, the church men and women will spend an intensive week of study and performance before the microphones and cameras of Stations KHPO and KHPO-TV, Phoenix.

Local experts will join national workshop instructors in giving guidance under actual on-the-air performances.

The Phoenix workshop is one of a series of ten sponsored annually throughout the country by the National Council of Churches' Broadcasting and Film Commission. National workshop director Charles Schmitz, of Syracuse, N.Y., will conduct the Phoenix sessions.

Bible Distribution Soars in Guatemalan Republic

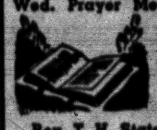

Guatemala is one of the brightest spots in the American Bible Society's work abroad; distribution in 1954 was greater than for all Central American republics together in any year prior to 1950. Circulation increased from 71,858 volumes in 1949 to 193,465 in 1954. The total will probably be even higher for 1956.

Because of this rapid expansion, the Society has established in Guatemala a new distribution and service depot, with Ralph Rice, an able and experienced distributor, in charge. Let us remember Guatemala and Mr. Rice in our daily prayers.

Club Told About Aviatrix

Pontiac Press Photos

Marion Emery (left) of Clarkston is shown talking with (center) Mrs. Chadd Mellinger of Blaine street and Mrs. T. W. Jackson of Mt. Clemens street. Zonta members, they attended the dinner-meeting devoted annually to Amelia Earhart, former Zontian, held Thursday evening at Kingsley Inn.

Zonta Speaker Describes Life of Miss Earhart

Marian Holden, program chairman, spoke on Amelia Earhart's life at the Thursday meeting of Pontiac Zonta Club held at Kingsley Inn.

Miss Earhart was a Zontian and in her memory the national organization awards a yearly scholarship in aviation to a young girl.

Members voted to support the practice of making annual donations toward the national scholarship fund. They also agreed to assist a local girl financially in completing her schooling.

Mrs. Harvey Lodge was appointed chairman of the nominating committee.

* * *

Assisting her will be Mrs. Florence Doty, Mrs. Cy Wattles, Mrs. Lloyd Burnes and Mrs. Adrian Ish. They will draw up a slate of officers for the election in March.

Checking the notebook for possible new business at the Zonta dinner meeting were (left) Mrs. Gordon Wyrick of Silver Lake road and Mrs. Lois Ellis of Tilden avenue. The affair was held at Kingsley Inn.

Philathea Class Listens to Talk by Rev. Lalone

The Rev. Lee Lalone was the speaker at the recent afternoon meeting of the First Philathea Class of First Baptist Church held in the Educational Building of the church.

Mrs. Florence Harcourt gave devotions and Mrs. Ethel Kennedy and Mrs. Howard Barnett led the opening prayers.

A tape recording from Henrietta Wilson, missionary in Hong Kong, was played by Agnes Sturman, and in turn members made a recording to send to Miss Wilson. Mrs. Albert Langdon sang two solo numbers accompanied by Mrs. Cecilia Merriss at the piano.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. Inger Schultz and members of her committee.

Summer Wedding Planned by Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Raynor C. Johnston of Ann Arbor announce the engagement of their daughter, Ethel Margaret, to Jack Ellwood Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack C. Mitchell of West Walton boulevard.

Both are students at the University of Michigan where Jack is in the Engineering School and is affiliated with Delta Kappa Epsilon and Ethel is a member of Alpha Lambda Delta honorary society. A summer wedding is planned by the couple.

Reservations were made to attend a dinner and theater party Jan. 26. The group will see "Cinerama."

Congratulations were extended Mabel Roat on her recent marriage to Thomas Mosley.

James Hunt Talks to Hawthorne PTA

James Hunt, director of children's services at Oakland County Children's Home, spoke before Hawthorne PTA Thursday afternoon at the school. His topic was "The Three R's and More." He told of the causes of delinquency and the methods used to combat it by trained workers.

Mrs. Martin Butler, Mrs. Clarence Christensen and Mrs. Neil McClellan were hostesses for the day.

Coffee Tables Grow to Giant Size

Fancy Fabrics Dress Up '57 Sofas

CHICAGO (INS)—The latest furniture is designed to keep shoes off sofas and ashes off the floor.

* * *

Designers are dressing up sofas in fancy silk and satin-like damasks to fit in with the trend of making home interiors more opulent than ever in 1957.

To forestall excuses for lack of a handy ashtray, the designers are making coffee tables bigger than ever. The latest ones are 5 feet across, so big that some split up, pie fashion, into wedges so women can move them around for cleaning.

Contemporary sofas, or sectionals, either angle around these giant coffee tables or round them in a curve. In traditional arrangements, the trend is toward using square tables along with crescent - shaped seating pieces.

* * *

At the current International Home Furnishings Market in Chicago, top decorators are adding a modern, casual touch in setting off directoire or empire seating styles.

They're putting pillows, usually covered in velvet or silk, on the floor around the coffee tables instead of using stools or small chairs.

PILLOW ON WHEELS

Floor sitters in general will have it easier this year. The latest pillow cushion comes on wheels, just like a child's scooter.

* * *

In replacing rougher weave fabrics with smooth silks, furniture stylemakers have switched colors from neutral browns, beiges and off-whites to rich blues, golds and greens.

Royal blues are popular in advanced modern lines. The same designers who threw orange and black together a few years ago now are putting the bright blues in the same company with lively greens —even stripes of chartreuse and darker green.

Softer blues, softer greens and golds are used in other stylish showrooms. As a rule, the more traditional the style, the less lively the colors.

* * *

The latest "third" color to be used in combination with others is purple, ranging from pale lavender to magenta and amethyst. It is being introduced in throw pillows for chairs and couches and in vases and ashtrays.

One of the prettiest applications of this springlike tone appears on a sky blue love seat. On it the decorator put small round pillows in royal blue and iris.

ORIENTAL INFLUENCE

New wood furniture styles included a revival of the Oriental influence and lower storage units, reversing a late 1956 trend toward tall cabinets.

* * *

As last year, walnut is the most favored wood and metal trims, more the exception than the rule, are silver-toned instead of brass.

Gold Star Meets at Legion Home

American Gold Star Mothers Chapter Nine met Tuesday evening at the American Legion Home, Mrs. Joe Doyle, social chairman, reported that members made 100 items for the American Cancer Society when they met at her home recently.

Notes from patients at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, expressing their thanks for the holiday table favors made by the group, were read.

* * *

Mrs. Henry Hight invited the group to a cooperative luncheon and sewing meeting at her home on Whittemore street Jan. 21.

Mrs. Hampton Heads Auxiliary

Mrs. James Hampton was installed as president of the Women's Auxiliary of All Saints Episcopal Church when the group met Thursday in the Rose Kneale Room of Stevens Hall.

Others serving with Mrs. Hampton are Mrs. Robert Neinstedt, vice president; Mrs. Elmer Quine, treasurer, and Mrs. Frederick J. Cockle, secretary.

Mrs. Bruce Hubbard presided at the annual meeting, at which reports from the 12 guilds of the parish were presented. A coffee hour followed the meeting.

Coming Events

Happy Hour Club will meet Tuesday at 1:30 p.m. with Mrs. Orion Hettinger, 532 Tex Ave. to sew cancer pads.

PTA Activities

Executive board of Baldwin School PTA will meet Thursday at 1:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. George Gaches, of Moreland Ave.

Wrapped Styles Enhance Figure

Karen Stark's 'Envelope' Accents Slimness, Grace

By OLGA CURTIS

NEW YORK (INS)—Miss Karen Stark of Harvey Berlin is a fashion designer who believes that the way to make a girl slimmer is to wrap her up.

She demonstrated this today with a new "envelope" silhoutte that looks slim, moves gracefully and yet is achieved by wrapping the torso in fabric. The wrapping goes from bust to hip and gives a willowy effect to the torso without the pasted effect of a sheath.

With the torso wrap, Miss Stark has new necklines, new skirts to offer.

She likes the side-to-side neckline: Bateau, cowl or shallow square. Sometimes she gives the front neckline a shoulder-to-shoulder height and drops the neckline in back to a low surplice V.

Skirts are deep-wrapped or double, with both full and narrow tunics offered. Hemlines, the new demi-length ones, waver gracefully from 8-inches in front to 10 inches in back.

As usual, this designer uses miles of chiffon, lace and filmy organza and dotted Swiss.

For daytime, however, she sticks to sheer wool, adding for 1957 natural waistline belts, trouser-pleated skirt fronts, and her inevitable lingerie collars.

Anthony Blotta is doing tricks with capes and chiffon for spring. He divides the capes and multiplies the chiffon for a collection that's outstanding in achieving soft figure outlines.

For instance, Blotta starts with a sheath dress to which he adds a triple chiffon blouse top. Then he adds a cape which masquerades as a jacket in front or splits itself down the middle both front and back to reveal the dress underneath.

* * *

The chiffon blouses go from day to dark in this collection. They get cowl draping or the tie kerchief-fashion at the neck.

Below the chiffon, skirts pretend to be tunics, thanks to deep folds above the hemline.

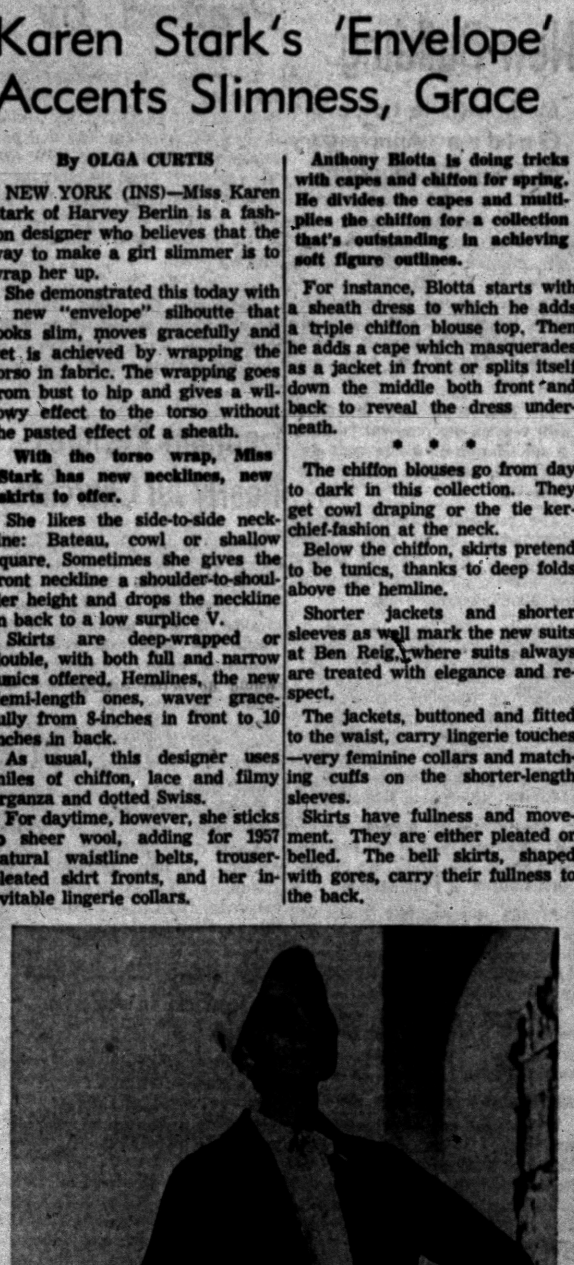

Shorter jackets and shorter sleeves as well mark the new suits at Ben Reig, where suits always are treated with elegance and respect.

The jackets, buttoned and fitted to the waist, carry lingerie touches —very feminine collars and matching cuffs on the shorter-length sleeves.

Skirts have fullness and movement. They are either pleated or belled. The bell skirts, shaped with gores, carry their fullness to the back.

This suit costume of beige-brown worsted combined with beige raw silk is from the Ben Reig collection. The separate gilet is tucked into the high-rise slim skirt and shows under the unbuttoned, waist-length jacket. The collar is brown silk velvet.

From the spring 1957 collection of Harvey Berin, designed by Karen Stark, comes this costume executed in charcoal gray linen-textured silk. It is accented with a white crepe bodice. Val lace shows on the ruffled bodice.

The first time you try out a new recipe, follow it exactly. This is no time to experiment. But once you've got the hang of it, change it as much as you like.

Don't Overdo on Your Exercising

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

We cannot live vibrantly and feel strongly and think and worry and simply be human without experiencing some wear and tear, without having the years take some toll of our youthful appearance. However, today it is possible for a woman to remain youthful much longer than it once was.

Today we know so much more about nutrition, about the value of exercises and the dangers of overweight and unhappy emotional attitudes that we can delay the age of deterioration surprisingly. Add to that modern tricks of makeup, hair-styling and figure-moulding and we are coming close to a fountain of youth.

* * *

Any woman can have good looks if she is willing to work for it. Any woman is attractive who has a well-proportioned figure, graceful posture, a clear skin, well cared for hair and aliveness and warmth.

A mistake many women make is to overdo exercising. Exercise should leave you feeling refreshed rather than tired, as this girl is.

With all the knowledge available today, it seems to bad not to take advantage of it. In order to help you do so I bring you my eight-week self-improvement Marathon once each year.

* * *

Here are a few last-minute directions for the thousands of you who are writing in. Please follow the directions about both exercise and diet. Plan your meals carefully, including the elements necessary for health each day.

Please do not become so enthusiastic about your exercise that you overdo. Exercise should leave you feeling refreshed rather than tired. This is a mistake many women make. This is not only bad for you but it leaves you with such sore muscles that you are almost sure to give up.

You are certain to experience some soreness even when you start in slowly and work up gradually, but this soon will pass. Even if your muscles are stiff, do a little exercise each day. Otherwise you will have to start all over and go through it again.

* * *

If you want to join my eight-week self-improvement Marathon send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Main Job: Be Pretty

With a little effort and some well-organized planning, you can set out for any gala celebration knowing that you do look your best.

First, sit down and plan your wardrobe—from the skin out. Many of the lovely new formal fashions call for a different type of bra and foundation garment. You'll want the sheerest of sandal-footed hose, too.

Remember to choose evening slippers that are comfortable as well as pretty. You won't be pretty at all if you have to hobble around the dance floor because your feet hurt.

You'll need an evening bag large enough to hold a small comb, compact, lipstick, perfume and a handkerchief. And when you plan your jewelry, don't overdo it. Simplicity is always more pleasing than gaudiness.

* * *

Start now on a diligent beauty routine. Even the prettiest dress won't look well if your skin is blotchy, your hair dull, and your fingernails broken.

No matter how tired you feel, each night from now on, brush your hair 100 strokes, give yourself a thorough soapsuds "facial," and apply your favorite night cream. In your evening bath, scrub your hands with a nail brush, then massage them with hand cream.

* * *

It's a good idea to try on everything you're going to wear ahead of time so that you can correct uneven hemlines or other glaring defects.

Be sure to pamper yourself the day of the big affair. Bathe leisurely, and allow yourself enough time to lie down and relax before dressing.

Lopsided Living Leaves Its Mark

By ANNE HEYWOOD

We do not live our lives in airtight compartments. What we do in our social life affects our vocationl life and our emotional life as well.

People so often say, "Things would be all right with me socially if I were just in the right job," or "If I had a happy social life, I could do better in my job."

For example, Mary is a career girl who is not advancing as much as she would like. She lives for her job, often works overtime, takes courses and does all kinds of things to get ahead.

She spends most of her salary for smart-looking clothes to wear to the office, but she probably hasn't a housecoat, a dinner dress or a pair of slacks to her name.

Yet Mary isn't really getting ahead as fast as she could and should.

LOPSIDED LIFE

The trouble is, Mary looks like a girl who lis living a lopsided life.

* * *

Obviously, you can't tell by looking at her that she lives in a cheap furnished room, eats in a cheap cafeteria and has no charm or beauty in her private life. But you do get an uneasy feeling of one-sidedness.

If Mary would just realize that life is all of a piece and have some sort of plan to make her free time more interesting, she would do better and get ahead faster.

The same is true, in reverse, of a girl who is living a lopsided life.

* * *

Helen puts all her emphasis on the social life and none on her work life.

Helen is a homemaker who has a big house and grown children who are now away from home.

She does a shiftless job of the housework and cooking, just lazing along waiting for the parties.

But at the parties, she is too frenzied and not nearly as attractive as she would like to be.

The lazy and unproductive way she spends her days does show, subtly, in her social behavior.

* * *

And yet if you were to tell Helen that she'd be a bigger hit at the dinner party if she would really clean the cupboards, she'd think you were crazy!

Five Area PTAs Gather For Programs This Week

Five schools held PTA meetings this past week to present panel discussions and to formulate plans for future events.

Whitfield PTA

"Home School Communications—What Do You Know About Your Child's Progress at Whitfield School?" was the theme for the meeting of Whitfield PTA this week.

* * *

Margaret Luther, principal, explained the work of the city-wide study group with representatives of parents, teachers and administrators from each Pontiac school and introduced Mrs. Glenn Wolford, the school representative.

Mrs. Wolford acted as chairman and conducted a workshop of 10 groups. Recorders reported to the general assembly after sectional meetings on the program theme.

Mrs. Dan Murphy, Mrs. Ray Howard, Mrs. Stewart Houghton, Mrs. Howard Seiss, Mrs. Lawrence Reuter, Mrs. Robert Barasch and Miss Luther were selected to act as a nominating committee.

Refreshments and a social hour were under the direction of Mrs. James Mitchell, Mrs. Phillip Trout, Mrs. Merlin Aspin and Mrs. Merle Smith.

James Madison Junior High PTSA

Music was presented by the Girls Glee Club under the direction of Jean McFarlane at the Thursday meeting of Madison Junior High School PTSA.

Plans for the Feb. 8 school fair were announced by Mrs. Robert Everett and Dan Abbott acted as chairman for the group on "Home School Communcations—Reporting to Parents."

LeBaron PTA

Members of LeBaron School PTA heard a discussion on future plans for housing of children attending LeBaron School when they met this week. Taking part in the discussion were Dr. Dana P. Whitmer, Dr. Otto Hufziger and J. Cecil Cox. A question and answer period followed.

* * *

Appointed to the nominating committee were Mrs. Golda Holacheck, Mrs. Leland Cotter, Mrs. J. Blaine McDermid, Mrs. Hugh Stinson and Barbara Bolgen.

Mrs. Betty Buchanan and Mrs. JoAnn Schwartz poured. Serving refreshments were Mrs. Charles York, Mrs. Leland Cotter, Mrs. John Friedly, Mrs. Robert Burns, Mrs. Melvin Raymer and Mrs. John Campbell.

Members of the Cub Scouts presented the colors and Camp Fire Girls assisted with the serving.

Emerson PTA

Mrs. Milton Johnson and Mrs. Clifford Christensen took part in a panel discussion entitled "Report to Parents" held at the Emerson School PTA meeting. Jack Schatzley served as moderator.

* * *

Reports were given on plans for a roast beef dinner Jan. 17 and also a square dance at Madison Junior High School Feb. 2, future events planned by the group.

Owen PTA

Announcements were made of the annual city-wide Founders' Day dinner at Lincoln Junior High School Feb. 6, and Owen School PTA Men's Night Feb. 13 at the Owen PTA meeting.

Marguerite Parrish of the Pontiac State Hospital and three other staff members presented several psycho-drama scenes used for treatment of patients at the hospital. Mrs. Robert Baldwin introduced the program.

* * *

Mrs. Hazel Gessinger led community singing and refreshments were served by mothers of kindergarten and third grade students with Mrs. Clyde White as chairman. Mrs. W. M. Twichel and Mrs. Ross Tenny presided at the tea table.

Wilson PTA Meets

Josephine Seeley, coordinator of school health, spoke at the Thursday meeting of Wilson PTA and musical selections were presented by pupils. Refreshments were served by fourth grade homeroom mothers

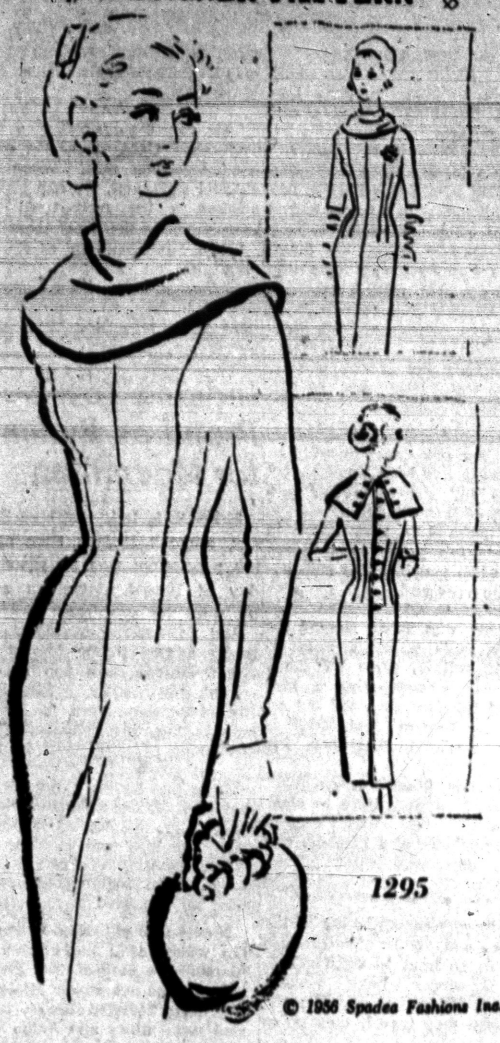

Household Hint

Best way to get silver polishing chores done is to do a few pieces a week rather than to attempt the whole lot at once. Rotate the job and you won't wind up spending half of a busy day at it.

Roll Crumbs in Bag

When the recipe calls for bread or cracker crumbs, roll them in a plastic bag. This keeps the crumbs from wandering all over your kitchen. Afterwards, dip the plastic bag into hot soap or detergent suds, rinse, and it will be sanitary enough to perform another labor-saving service for you.

SPADEA'S AMERICAN Anne Klein of JR. SOPHISTICATES DESIGNER PATTERN

Junior Sheath Fashioned With Sophisticated Touch

Anne Klein, knowing that junior figures are not always junior in age, gives her designs that touch of sophistication from which her firm, Junior Sophisticates, gets its name.

* * *

This sheath (the custom cut pattern has only six pieces so it is extremely easy to make) features a deep cowl collar that can button in back for a high stand-up collar effect, or be left open to relax the line.

The back opening is also buttoned with machine top stitching all the way down to the hem.

A marvelous dress in which to welcome spring, it works up beautifully in dress-weight wool, gabardine, worsteds or mixtures, also in linen, shantung, pique or novelty cotton. From this chart select the one size best for you:

Sizes	Bust	Waist	Hips Inches	Length From Nape of Neck to Waist
7	32½	22½	33½	15¾
9	33½	23½	34½	16
11	34½	24½	35½	16¼
13	36	26	37	16½
15	37½	27½	38½	16¾

Size 13 requires 3¼ yards of 54-inch material for dress with long sleeves.

To order Pattern 1295, state size, enclose $1. Address American Designer Patterns, Box 535, G.P.O. Dept. P-6, New York 1, N. Y.

Classic Pattern Booklet 12 and all-new Pattern Booklet 13-x are available for 50 cents each. Anne Klein label available for 25 cents extra with pattern order. If paid by check, add four cents.

Frances Langford Lured Back Into Show Business

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Her many fans will be happy to know that Frances Langford is back in the business again.

* * *

Many a former GI will remember sitting in a South Pacific jungle and listening to a tawny-haired charmer sing sentimetal ballads in her throaty voice. To them, Frances Langford was their tangible connection with home.

Now the wartime sweetheart of the GI's is coming back to show business after a year's absence. She dropped out after her marriage to Ralph Evinrude, the outboard motor king.

* * *

Why has she come back?

"Because I've been singing most of my life,' she explained. "I'd be sort of lost without it."

Her husband is very much in favor. "When you stop working, that's when you begin to stop living," he reasoned.

* * *

Frances, who began singing for a Tampa radio station at 15 for $5 a week, will do some TV guest shots and is negotiating a film show of her own. She will cut an album for Capitol. And MGM is talking about filming her life story.

"Only one thing worries me," she said. "Do they have to show everything?' She was assured that the subject of a filmbiog can usually determine what is depicted.

* * *

The more pleasure-loving in the audience will wonder that Frances wants to go back to work at all. The Evinrudes have elegant homes in Milwaukee and Florida. And when they travel, they go in style.

They fly about the country in a DC3 that has all the comforts of home—and then some. The cabin is designed like a living room, with couches, a bar and TV set complete with six speakers so the sound can be audible in any part of the cabin.

* * *

"We can usually follow a network show right across the country." Evinrude said. "When one channel fades out, we can turn to another in the next town and keep watching the same show."

"Once we were right at the climax of an exciting movie," Frances added. "The picture started to fade, so Ralph told the pilot to go back and circle until the movie was over."

Indiana Town Proud as Punch for Macmillan

SPENCER, Ind. (INS) — Spencer, a small Indiana town of 2,500 population, was as proud today of Harold Macmillan as if he were its own son.

And to Spencer residents, the newly named Prime Minister of Great Britain is a son once-removed. His mother, Nellie Belles Hill Macmillan, lived in the village during her childhood and girlhood.

* * *

There are no close relatives of the new Prime Minister living in Spencer. So far as oldtimers know, the only one is Mrs. Ella Belles, formerly of Spencer, now living in an Indianapolis church home for the aged.

Ninety-year-old Ella Belles is the widow of a half-brother of Macmillan's mother. The grandfather of the new Prime Minister, Dr. John Tarleton Belles, married three times and Nellie was the child by his first wife.

In Indianapolis, Mrs. Ella Belles had difficulty answering questions because she is deaf. But she exclaimed happily when shown a newspaper banner about Macmillan and later posed for photographs.

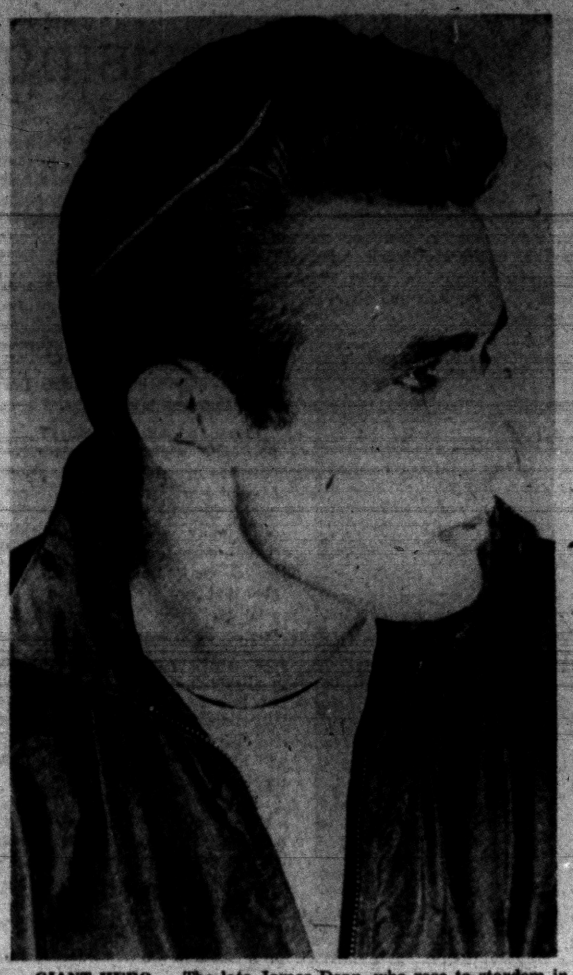

In Spencer, where Macmillan visited the scenes described by his mother, the committee which acted as his host immediately sent a congratulatory telegram.

Macmillan, then Chancellor of the Exchequer, told residents that his mother never had lost her pride in her American ancestry. She was born in Indianapolis in 1856, but lived most of her youth in Spencer. She died in 1937 in England at the age of 81.

GIANT HERO — The late James Dean, who rose to stardom in his very first motion picture, "East of Eden," is co-starred with Rock Hudson and Elizabeth Taylor in "Giant." The hit movie is in its third record-breaking week here at the Oakland.

FIRST LADY OF STAGE — Helen Hayes, first lady of the American stage, makes her first film appearance for several years as the Dowager Empress of Russia in Anastasia. Ingrid Bergman and Yul Brynner are starred also. The film, making one of its first Michigan appearances, is opening today at the Strand Theater.

She Got Attention, if Not Gas

British Lady Taxi Owner Protests Ration by Bricks

LONDON (INS)—Most people in Britain have accepted gasoline rationing with a sort of wry resignation, so when one English lady started throwing bricks through windows she caused a bit of a stir.

The lady in question is Mrs. Doris Hall, attractive, determined and aged 36. She runs a taxi and car-hire business in Portsmouth.

A few days ago she got so wrathful about gasoline restrictions that she pitched two bricks through the windows of the Conservative Party headquarters in her home town.

This maneuver didn't produce more gasoline for Mrs. Hall's automobiles. All it got her was a fine of $2.80 plus about $3.50 in court costs. But she did get one word of encouragement. She was told: "The magistrates sympathize with you."

Her next move was to make a trip to London. She stalked into the Ministry of Fuel. Her object was to see the minister, Aubrey Jones, and tell him what's what.

She didn't get to see him, but she did obtain assurance from slightly awed ministry officials that:

"Urgent consideration will be given to your case."

Mrs. Hall has been building up her taxi business for the past ten years. Things went well until rationing brought her to the verge of bankrputcy.

Then she called up the Conservative Party headquarters where, she said, "A man told me he had not the slightest interest."

That provoked Mrs. Hall to fire the bricks through the Tory Party windows.

Then she heard authorities in London were ready to take an interest in individual gasoline rationing cases.

While the Ministers of Fuel didn't see her, two private secretaries and another ministry official did. She told them her husband, mother and brother had put their life savings into the business.

"If nothing is done, the family will go bankrupt," she added.

Mrs. Hall has warned that if her London trip fails she is ready to try "something else."

Heart Study Financed

Indian Sign on Winter

LUDINGTON (AP)—Chippewa Indian Chief Big Tall's daughter, 93-year-old Mrs. Mary Wagagonic, predicts spring will move in Jan. 24. Her forecast is based on sighting a tailless squirrel near her cottage. A similar sighting, "only once before in my life," was followed in two weeks by melting snow and blossoming trees, she says. The first sighting was during the month of May when she was five years old, she recalls.

One-seventh of the total area of Ireland is peat bog.

Security for You

SS Tax Will Advance by 6 Stages 'til '75

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

From T. C. of New York City: "In a recent column, you mentioned that the Social Security tax would increase slightly this year and that it would be raised six more times by 1975. What will the eventual tax be?"

If you work for someone else, the eventual tax for you will be 4½ per cent of the first $4,200 of your earnings. Your employer will have to match this amount. If you're self-employed, the planned tax will be 6⅛ per cent of the $4,200 of your net earnings.

* * *

From Mrs. G. R. M. of International Falls, Minn.: "My husband served in the Army during World War I. He was discharged before he completed 90 days of service because the war had ended and the government demobilizing the Army. I've been told that he's not eligible to receive a veteran's pension because he didn't serve 90 days. Is this right?"

Your husband must have served at least 90 days to be eligible for a pension, unless he was discharged with less service because of a disability he received.

* * *

From Mrs. E. D. L. of Oakland, Calif.: "Recently I hired a maid to help me with the housework one day a week. Am I required to pay Social Security tax for her?"

If you pay her $50 or more in cash wages every three months, you'll be expected to make arrangements to get your maid Social Security coverage. The details of how this may be done can be found in a special booklet (OASI-21) which you can get from any Social Security or Internal Revenue Service office.

From A. D. of Fall River, Mass.: "I got my first Social Security check two months ago, but I don't believe I'm receiving the correct amount. The payment is only $87.50 a month and I think I should be getting about $100. Is there anything I can do about this?"

Yes. You should ask your Social Security office to review your case. There's always a chance that an error has been made. In case, I'm sure the Social Security people will be glad to give you a complete explanation of how your payments are figured.

From Mrs. M. U. of State College, Pa.: "I believe from the information in one of your recent columns that I'm eligible for a pension from the Veterans Administration because I'm the widow of a World War I veteran. If I am, how much will I receive?"

If you have no dependents, your pension will be $50.40 a month. If you're supporting a child, the monthly payment will be $63, plus an additional $7.56 a month for each additional child.

* * *

From N. M. of Knoxville, Ky.: "I've been getting monthly Social Security payments ever since I retired three years ago. A neighborhod grocer has offered me a part-time job. If I should take the job, what's the most I can make without having it affect my Social Security?"

You may make up to $1,200 a year if you're between 65 and 72. If you're 72 or older, you may make as much as you like without any affect on your Social Security.

Skilled Workers Get Voice in UAW Pacts

DETROIT (AP)—The United Auto Workers Union plans to give its skilled worker members a voice in new contract negotiations with the auto industry.

The union's General Motors Council, meeting in Detroit, said yesterday it will elect skilled worker representatives to the national bargaining committee.

The UAW also plans a supplemental contract to cover the tradesmen when talks on a new master pact get under way with the auto makers in 1958.

'Anastasia' Here for First Showing

The Strand Theater, chosen one of the first theaters in Michigan to show "Anastasia," is presenting that film on its screen for the first time today.

Gerald Miller, Strand manager, predicts that the much-talked-about picture will be nominated for—and take—three Academy awards, including those for best actress, best actor and best picture.

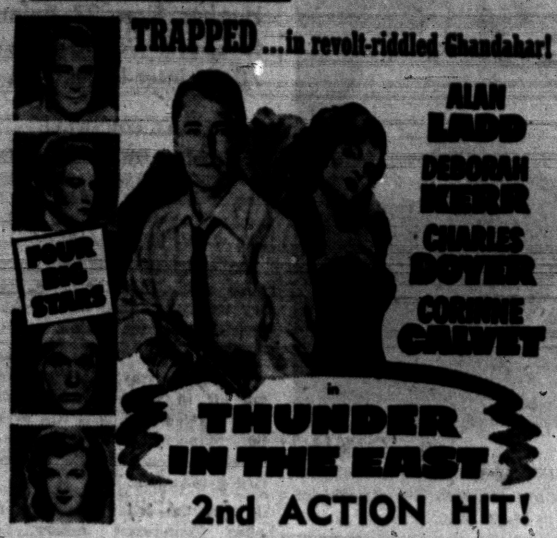

The CinemaScope film, in color, stars Ingrid Bergman, Yul Brynner and Helen Hayes.

MUST BE A KNEE SHOT — Big Hudson Ray, who dropped the round ball through the hoop with all kind of shots last night, seems to be trying to give the ball the knee in this shot. Ray had his best night of the season, pouring in 21 points and pulling down 29 rebounds as PHS won, 54-41.

PHS Has Best Effort as Unit Over Northern

Pontiac Still Unbeaten as Hudson Ray Leads Scoring Attack

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Another tribe of the Saginaw Valley, Flint Northern, fell victim to big Chief Pontiac, 54-41, on the PHS home grounds last night.

Playing their best game as a unit, before standing room crowd, the Chiefs made it six straight and four in a row against league foes. Only Saginaw remains in the first half of the schedule and that battle is set for next Friday night on the local court.

* * *

Saginaw warmed up for the big game by whipping Flint Central, 53-38, with Deb Blondin scoring 13 points. Bay City Central downed Arthur Hill 58-40 in the other game.

It was Hudson Ray, bitten earlier this week by the flu bug, who put on the finest individual performance of the game and his best of the season.

Ray hit for 21 points and pulled down 29 rebounds, five leading to tip-ins. Guard Dave Diehm helped with 14 points while Phil Gains was collecting 16 for Northern.

* * *

Despite the 13-point margin, Northern played one of its better games of the season and for three periods it looked like the Vikings were again going to put a hex on Pontiac, until the Chiefs came through with a 20 point outburst in the final stanaza.

For the first time this year, PHS never was behind, although the score was tied three times early in the game.

Neither team could find the range in the first period, as Pontiac tried 18 shots hitting on only four, and Northern trying 13 and scoring twice.

* * *

The momentum picked up in the second quarter with Diehm and Terry Zellhart connecting from the outside against Northern's zone defense. At halftime PHS led 23-18.

Pontiac pushed the margin to 32-24 early in the 3rd quarter, but then three straight baskets by Gaines closed the gap to 34-30 as the period ended.

Ray, Diehm and Dick Whitmer heated the cords to start the 4th quarter, and two fielders by Jim Skinner moved the game out of reach.

Skinner, playing his second game of the season, started and gave Ray a big assist on the boards.

One player however who grabbed much of the attention was guard Charley Barge 5-foot-9 sophomore who played the entire second half in place of regular Larry Peet.

From the field Pontiac made 24 of 75 attempts for 31 per cent with 18 of 63 for the Vikings for 28 per cent.

Vikings Breeze Past Waterford for 6th Victory

Hughes Fires 27 Points to Spark Walled Lake's 70-54 Inter-Lakes Win

By BILL CORNWELL

A fighting Waterford High School basketball team gave everything it had last night, but an upset victory over powerful Walled Lake wasn't in the cards.

The undefeated Vikings served notice right from the start that they were not to be denied their 6th triumph of the season.

With nimble Larry Hughes showing the way, Walled Lake got off to a flying start and then coasted to a 70-54 win over the Skippers before a jam-packed audience in the Waterford gymnasium.

It was the 3rd straight Inter-Lakes Conference victory for Walled Lake and Waterford's 2nd setback in three league starts.

Hughes, who wound up the evening with 27 points, was the ringleader of a 1st quarter assault which saw the Vikings move into a 26-18 lead. They never lost their commanding position.

Nineteen of Hughes' point total came in the opening period. The 6-foot-4 center meshed seven out of nine field goal attempts, six in a row, and added five foul shots to put his team in complete charge of the situation.

When Hughes tapered off, others took up the slack. John Walker bucketed 14 points and Tom Willwerth, whose rebounding was magnificent, contributed 11.

Lanky Chuck Gillis, who took less than his usual amount of shots, led the Skippers with 19 points. John Herrington chipped in with 14.

Berkley remained in contention for the Inter-Lakes crown by handing Farmington its 1st conference loss, 73-62, on the Berkley court. The two clubs are now tied for 2nd place with 2-1 records.

A field goal and free throw by Van Dyke's Dan Hatch with only three seconds remaining gave the Abes a 70-68 decision over Southfield in Friday night's other Inter-Lakes game at Southfield. It was the 7th consecutive defeat for the Jays.

Eaglets Whip Rams

By CHUCK ABAIR

A St. Frederick team that blew hot and cold all evening completely froze in the last quarter scoring just two points to drop a 47-37 decision to visiting Orchard Lake St. Mary in a battle for second place in the Suburban Catholic League last night.

* * *

The setback dropped the Rams into a 4th place tie with Ferndale St. James which walloped St. Clement, 53-33. Both have 2-2 records and trail St. Michael. St. Benedict strengthened its hold on the loop's top slot by handing St. Rita a 60-22 thumping for its 4th in a row.

Except for a red-hot third period, it was a case of an all around inability to hit the hoop with any degree of consistency for the usually reliable Bill Mountian & company.

* * *

The home club could compile only a 25.3 shooting percentage from the floor and had even more trouble on free throws hitting just 3-for-17. Mountain, who had averaged 23.6 in five outings, was held to 10 by a tight St. Mary zone defense. Tom Derocher topped St. Fred with 11.

* * *

Orchard Lake dominated the play in the first half with some excellent outside shooting by the entire starting unit against a Ram zone.

The first stanza ended 12-7 and the scoreboard read 29-19 at halftime.

* * *

St. Fred took complete command of things in the 3rd session. The losers kept hammering away at the big deficit and finally pulled in front 35-34 at 5:09 on a hoop by Derocher. A foul for St. Mary tied it at the end of the quarter and visitors took charge from then on.

* * *

Pet Madelans rung up 13, Moniuszko and Frankowiak 11 apiece to pace the victors. St. Fred gained a split for the night by copping the prelim 54-42 as Phil Beiri scored 26.

Romeo Defeats Cranes, 58-55

Last Half Rally Falls Short as Cranbrook Drops 6th Straight

A gallant bid for an upset fell short of the mark for Cranbrook as the Cranes bowed to Romeo for the second time this season 58-55 last night.

The losers battled back from eight-point halftime deficit to even the count at 49-49 with only four minutes left in the contest before bowing to a strong Romeo surge.

Bob Harris and John Andrews starred in the losing cause hooping 12 points each as the Cranes lost No. 6 in succession in their first outing of 1957.

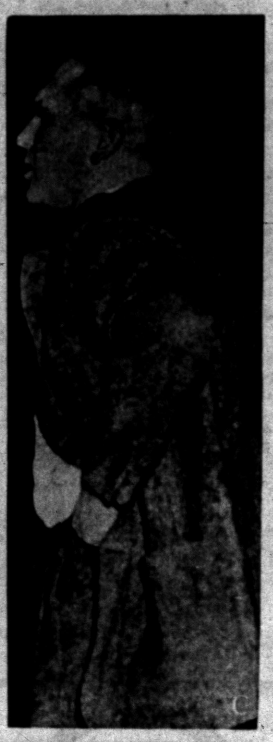

Bill Redman was the big gun for Romeo with 22. Three other Bulldogs scored in double numbers led by Don Fowler's 12. It was Romeo's second triumph in five starts.

WHAT? — Pontiac High coach Art Van Ryzin leaves his seat on the bench to give a mild protest of a call in last night's game against Flint Northern at PHS gym. The Chiefs won, 54-41.

75-21 Avalanche Falls on Barons

Bloomfield Hills ran into a lot more than it could handle last night and fell before a 75-21 onslaught by Harper Woods in the latter's gymnasium.

Harper Woods raced into a 14-4 1st quarter advantage and enjoyed an overwhelming 38-7 lead at halftime. Ron Scott and Frank Osojnicki tallied 17 points apiece and Chuck Pleus made 16 for the winners.

Bryant Ewing's seven points topped the Hills' noiseless offense. It was the 3rd loss in five games for the Barons.

Falcons Get 5th Beating Lapeer

A 43 per cent shooting performance and some well balanced scoring meant the difference as Rochester defeated Tom Wilson and his Lapeer mates 72-62 last night in a hectic duel of rival independents on the Falcon court.

Rochester led most of the way and went ahead to stay late in the third period in chalking up its 5th win in six outings paced by four boys who handled all the scoring.

Jim Van Nocker and Dave Peters tallied 20 points apiece, Dave Eldred contributed 19, and Gordon Montross added 13 to make up the RHS attack offsetting another fine showing by Wilson who hit 28.

Dennis Troy was another sparkplug in the losing cause with 16 before he fouled out late in the game. Lapeer made its best bid for victory in the third period going ahead by six at one stage but the Falcons' four-man spree would not be outdone.

Clarkston, Lakers Win W-O Tilts

Rallying after trailing 20-10 in the first period, the Clarkston Wolves last night piled up 40 points in 24 minutes to defeat Holly, 50-44, and hold second place in the Wayne-Oakland League as third place Brighton also won.

The Bulldogs downed Clarenceville by a 49-43 count to stay on Clarkston's heels. W. Bloomfield continued Milford's plight of misery by handing the Redskins their 5th straight W-O loss in a last place battle. Front-running Northville won easily in a non-loop tilt.

Fast - improving junior Dick Lippert was the scoring ace for the 2nd successive game as Clarkston gained its first victory on the road and 4th win in five league games.

The 6-2 cager tallied 16 points to match his total last time out. Leroy Parks added 12.

* * *

Good defensive play played a big part in the triumph as CHS kept close tabs on big center George McDaniel and pint-sized sharpshooter Amos Bradsher holding them to a combined total of eight digits, four on fouls. Both had been averaging better than 15 per game previously.

Holly, which dropped into a 4th place tie with Clarenceville with 2-3 in the loop, showed little offensively after the first period. Bill Taylor led the losers with 17 and Mike Haddon garnered 11.

Five field goals in a last period drive and 20 points for the night by sophomore Jim Paddock carried Brighton to its 4th success in six loop tries.

Brighton trailed throughout the first half before gaining a 20-20 tie at the intermission. The winners pulled ahead in the third canto and held the edge the rest of the contest. Herb Snyder and Brian Watson followed Paddock with 14 and 10, respectively. Dave Hanaford highlighted the Clarenceville offense with 15.

The West Bloomfield Lakers emerged from their see-saw tussle with Milford victorious for the 1st time in six outings, 45-41.

The Keego Harbor quintet pulled out the verdict in the final minute after taking a one-point lead into the last quarter.

Ralph Gordhammer paced the Lakers with 14 points. Pat Kelly was high for the 'Skins with 11.

Northville broke away from a deadlocked first period to romp over Thurston, 71-52 for its 6th triumph against one loss. All five starters were in double figures topped by Bud Bell with 17.

First SVC Swim Win

Chiefs Sink Viking Team

Limiting Flint Northern's green swimming team to a single first place, Coach Bob (Des) Boyce's Pontiac High School natators last night splashed to their first Saginaw Valley victory of the season.

Swimming in the fine new Viking pool, Chiefs turned in one of their best performances to take a 68-28 victory. "The kids had a lot of fun, and it's nice to win once in a while," Boyce remarked this morning.

Co-captain Dennis Simonson was good in the 100-yard breaststroke and the individual medley. His times were his season's best. He set a pool mark of 1:40.4 for the medley.

* * *

Summary:

50-yard freestyle — won by Doerr (P); 2nd Roberts (P); 3rd Mikseil (F); 4th Voskes (F). Time 24.6.
100-yard breaststroke — won by Simonson; 2nd Gravette (P); 3rd O'Hara (F); 4th Fitch (F). Time 1:05.

Maples Beaten by Port Huron

Port Huron's Big Reds, still smarting from last week's loss to Ferndale, took out their wrath on Birmingham last night and handed the Maples a 67-43 licking in an Eastern Michigan League basketball game at Birmingham.

* * *

The defending champion Reds were in complete command from start to finish. They outscored the Maples in every quarter and held a 31-23 halftime lead.

Three Port Huron cagers hit double figured scoring, headed by Rich Robins with 16 points. Bob Isbell again led the Maples, this time making 15. The defeat evened Birmingham's season record at three wins and three losses.

East Detroit's unbeaten powerhouse took over undisputed possession of 1st place in the EML with a thrilling 44-43 triumph over previously undefeated Ferndale. Ed Zormeier's foul shot in the last minute of play turned the trick for the Shamrocks and ruined a 20-point scoring effort by Ferndale's Earl McNeal.

In Friday night's remaining EML game, Mt. Clemens eked out a 52-51 decision over Hazel Park.

4 Teams Battling for PTTA Top Spot

There's a redhot battle going on for the top spot in the Pontiac Table Tennis league, with a 2-way knot for first and two clubs even, one point back.

* * *

Capitol Barbers beat L. H. Cole 4-2 to share the lead, while Newberry Market beat Bethany 6-0 to tie for 2nd. Pontiac Varnish lost a chance to tie the leaders when it split with Pankey's 3-3.

Other results in last night's play: Fleet Carriers beat Moote's Elect. 6-0; Frayer's won 4-2 from General Conveyor. Best match was the Jim Beal - John Stephens doubles win over Ralph Irish and Bruce Martin.

Standings:

	Pts.		Pts.
L. H. Cole	57	Pankey's	49
Capitol Barbers	57	Gen. Conveyor	32
Newberry Mkt.	56	Frayer's	20
Pont. Varnish	56	Bethany	19
Fleet Carriers	41	Moote's Elect.	18

Avon Wins, Troy Scared in Oakland B

Troy continued its march toward the Oakland B league basketball title last night, but the Colts didn't have a thing to brag about. They were forced to come from behind for a hard-earned 45-42 victory over lowly Fitzgerald.

Avondale conquered Roseville, 56-44, for its 2nd league triumph and surprisingly strong Madison stayed in the title contention with a 43-39 decision over hot-and-cold Clawson.

* * *

The Colts found themselves trailing Fitzgerald at halftime, 21-17, as the invading Spartans furnished them a thoroughly difficult evening. Only a 14-8 superiority in the 4th quarter saved Troy from suffering its 1st conference loss.

Avondale's 'Jackets led all the way against Roseville to post their 2nd league win, while administering the 4th straight loop defeat to their opponents. Steve Saunders (15), Tom Mulholland (12), Dick Granzow (12) led the winners who had a 29-20 halftime total. Hussell for Roseville had 13 points.

Utica, defending Bi-County League champion, extended its perfect record to 3-0 with a 48-33 decision over Mt. Clemens St. Mary in a non-conference game at Utica. Ken Thompson led the Chieftains with 12 points.

A well-balanced Highland Park quintet handed Royal Oak's Acorns a 68-43 pasting, despite a 28-point splurge by All-Oakland County ace Dave Richey, in a Border Cities League tilt at Highland Park.

* * *

In other area battles last night, Arnold Eckhouse tallied 10 points to lead Oak Park's easy 40-18 conquest of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrow and South Lyon defeated Dexter, 52-42, behind Dave Wren's 14 points. Shrine bowed to Redford St. Mary, 45-42, and Marlette whipped Sandusky, 62-47.

Ortonville Nipped

Oxford Drops Close One

Oxford and Ortonville turned in their best showings of the season but still went down to close defeats in South Central Conference League action last night.

The winless Wildcats threw a big scare into heavily favored North Branch before bowing out in the final 35 seconds of play, 68-66.

Ortonville came even closer leading all the way only to drop a 62-61 verdict with just two seconds left when Millington guard Dick Hoard drove in for the clincher.

Bob Brannon converted 13 of 14 foul shots and finished with 19 points to spark Oxford. John Ribner, who broke a 64 - all tie with two free throws, topped NB with 22.

At Ortonville, Millington had to make a dazzling comeback to post the triumph and gain a first place tie with idle Imlay City. The Cards hooped 27 digits in the last eight minutes, 10 by Dick Zink.

Two fouls had sliced the difference to one with only five seconds remaining before a wild Ortonville pass gave Hoard the chance to be the hero. Zink and Hoard finished with 17 and 16, respectively. Bob Hutchings' 17 was the best Blackhawk effort.

Dryden Is Beaten by Memphis, 45-36

Memphis raced to a 23-14 first half lead and held on the rest of the way to gain a 45-36 victory over Dryden in a Southern Thumb contest at Memphis last night.

The triumph kept the Yellow Jackets in sole possession of third place with a 4-2 slate. Dryden is 3-3 in the loop.

Memphis star Allen Huard led all the scorers with 20 points.

Viking Matmen Lose

Hazel Park went down to its first wrestling defeat of the season yesterday bowing 39-11 at Ann Arbor. Ruford Black, Tim Thompson, and Andy Sneddin were the only Viking point-getters.

2 U. S. Curling Rinks Still in Trophy Running

Three Canadian Teams Remain in 71st Annual Bonspiel

DETROIT (AP) — Three Canadian and two American rinks were left in the running today for the Michigan trophy, top prize of the 71st annual International Bonspiel.

Gord Brock skipped his Kitchener (Ont.) Granite rink of Arn Elmslie, Nels Bielstein and Bob Thompson to a 14-4 win over Fred Rubbra's Montreal St. George rink. Rubbra was not with the rink he led to the Michigan trophy title last year. He left earlier yesterday for Montreal to curl in that city's jubilee event.

Bill Hardie led his Hamilton (Ont.) Victoria quartet to a 9-7 win over Nate Cornwall of Windsor to gain a semi-final berth.

Toronto Granite club's Verne Matthewman downed Percy Powers of Detroit 10-7 in the second round while Mike Slyziuk's Detroit four stopped Howard Reid of Ayr 8-7. The Matthewman and Slyziuk rinks meet this afternoon in the other semi-final.

* * *

In the Detroit trophy play, for rinks eliminated in the Michigan trophy event, Canada again has three rinks in contention while the United States has two.

In today's semi-finals Jimmy Broomfield's Galt (Ont.) rink tangles with Hugh Sinclair's Milwaukee four. Broomfield ousted Dave Shabeau's Waupaca, Wis., rink 13-6 and Sinclair eliminated Maury Chilton of Sarnia 9-5 in quarter-final play.

Two Canadian rinks, one skipped by George Tate of Sudbury and the other under Roy Chisholm of Sault Ste. Marie, meet in a quarter-final today for the right to meet Ed Vaughan's Wauwatosa, Wis., rink in the other half of the semi-final.

Two State Cage Teams in Action

Two state college basketball teams get into their respective league play tonight on the home courts.

Michigan plays host to rangy Northwestern in Big Ten action and the University of Detroit meet highly rated St. Louis in Detroit. Michigan State is idle until Monday.

Northwestern is 1-0 and Michigan 1-1 in Big Ten action. The U. of D-St. Louis series always showed scoring games and the Billikens were rated pre-season favorites in the Missouri Valley.

FISHING OR GOLF?—Cardiner Dickinson Jr., of Panama City, Fla., gasps as the Pacific Ocean waters swirl around him during a search for a ball on the Cypress Point Golf course in Pebble Beach, Calif., where the Bing Crosby $15,000 National Pro-Am tourney is taking place. He finished with a 79, which is 10 over par.

Maxwell Leads Bing's 'Clambake'

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Stocky Texan Billy Maxwell carries a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the 54-hole Bing Crosby golf tournament, challenged by a bulky field and a picturesque but tricky course.

Showers began falling shortly before midnight. Gusty winds and intermittent rain were forecast for today.

Maxwell, former U.S. Amateur champion from Dallas, fired a six-under-par 66 yesterday over the relatively sheltered Monterey Peninsula country club links.

For this $15,000 national Pro-Amateur clambake, half the field of 276 played the opening round over Monterey and the rest tangled with the tougher Cypress Point layout. Each has par 72, but of yesterday's 30 par breakers, only two did it at Cypress where the wind and adjacent ocean stack the odds.

* * *

That's the course Billy and the other leaders play today. Others, including defending champion Cary Middlecoff, with a first round 76, shift to Monterey.

Five golfers deadlocked yesterday at 68. The group includes the leader's twin brother Bobby Maxwell, who held the lead for a while.

Also at 68 are the veteran Byron Nelson, making one of his infrequent tourney appearances, Stan Leonard of Vancouver, Canada, Bill Nary, Tucson, Ariz., and Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif.

Bunched at 69 were Joe Steiger, Spokane, Bill Martin, West Covina, Calif., Smiley Quick, Los Angenes, Tommy Hanson, Wichita, Kan., Jimmy Clark, Huntington Beach, Calif., Mario Lauret, Rye, N.Y., and Ellsworth Vines, Palm Springs, Calif.

* * *

The latter fired a hole-in-one on the 158-yard 7th at Monterey, the third ace of Vines' 15-year pro career.

Middlecoff took a three-over par 6 on the short 16th hole at Cypress when his tee shot over a stretch of ocean ended up in a patch of ice plant. PGA champion Jack Burke Jr., had better luck, a 74, the same as veteran Tommy Bolt. California Amateur titlist Ken Venturi, making his first quest of professional money, shot a 73 over the course.

In this event, $10,500 of the prize money goes to the leading individual pros and the rest is divided among those who wind up best in the Pro-Amateur best-ball competition.

* * *

NCAA Confab Concludes With Blast at Baseball

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A couple of new laws tightening reins on recruiting and financial aid to athletes and a loud blast at professional baseball by college coaches provided the only fireworks of the 51st NCAA convention.

* * *

The week-long meet ending today with a routine closed-door session of the policy-making council, was the most peaceful in more than 10 years.

The assembly at its final session yesterday amended its financial aid rule by putting a lid on the amount of money a student athlete can receive during a school term. Side jobs and athletic scholarships are to be handled on one basis. If an athlete has a job in addition to a scholarship he can't receive more than the limits of the scholarship, which includes, room, board, tuition fees and $15 a month laundry allowance.

* * *

There was considerable wrangling over a clause in the financial aid amendment which included governmental grants for educational purposes in its limitations. Minority spokesman contended inclusion of government grants would work a hardship on GI's and married athletes with children.

The other new rule permits colleges to pay the cost of transportation for a prospective athlete to make one visit to a school. It prohibits alumni and booster club groups from bringing in the prospects.

Professional baseball, criticized by the coaches through Ethan Allen of Yale earlier in the week, was charged again with raiding campuses and exploiting the college game.

Everett D. Barnes, Colgate athletic director, told the convention "there is no sentiment on the part of professional baseball to help college baseball."

"The colleges," Barnes said, "have struggled unsuccessfully for 11 years to work out a friendly pact with the majors and minors."

Boxers Leading Breed for PKC Midwinter Show

There will be a fine array of dogdom representatives at Waterford's Community Activities building, come Jan. 19. That's the date for Pontiac Kennel Club's first midwinter show and its first indoor show.

An unbenched affair, with many breeds listed among the 478 entries, the show is also a benefit for the Michigan Animal Rescue League's shelter in Pontiac. The shelter is under construction here. All gate receipts will go towards the building fund.

While the entries are below the figure expected, there are many interesting groups, led by the boxers with 38; collies, 36; cockers 31; shepherds 28; 16 dachshunds; 15 bassetts; 10 Kerry blues; 10 Pekingese toys, and a surprising list of poodles, (18 miniatures, 11 toys, 11 standards), 40 in all.

Spears 15-Pounder

Biggest pike reported for the Oakland County ice-fishing season was taken Thursday afternoon by Bob Kinney, 9191 Tambay, Lower Straits Lake. Fishing from a shanty, Kinney slammed a 15-pound 39-inch northern, that slid in to investigate a 10-inch sucker lure, with a four-tined spear and the big fellow bent the shaft before being knocked out by a crack from a heavy spud.

Pro Bowl Last for Tobin Rote

Green Bay Ace Ready to Call Quits Sunday

Annual Game From LA Pits Western Division Against East

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Tobin Rote of the Green Bay Packers, one of the most underrated players in the National Football League, bids goodbye to the sport tomorrow when he plays for the West against the East in the annual Pro-Bowl game in Memorial Coliseum.

"I've got a head coach down in Texas and she says she's not going to chase back and forth to Green Bay any more. So I'm going to stay with her."

So said the tall Texan who led Rice Institute to two Southwest Conference championships and for seven years has been one of the finest field generals in pro football.

The "head coach" is Mrs. Rote, mother of their three youngsters. The family lives in Bellaire, near Houston, where the 28-year-old Tobin has an executive position with the Herrin Transportation Co.

* * *

"Right now I don't have too many regrets about leaving football," Rote commented, "but maybe that's because this is the end of a long season and I'm a little tired. I love football, though."

Rote, Ed Brown of the Chicago Bears and Bobby Layne of Detroit will alternate at quarterback for the West, certainly an imposing combination.

Rote bows out with an impressive record. He passed for 2,203 yards in 1956—more than any other NFL quarterback—and he holds most of the all-time Packer records, which is something for a team forever famous for its aerial attack.

The handsome Texan admitted he and the West squad encounter a mighty challenge from the East in the Pro-Bowl. He said quarterback Charlie Conerly of the champion New York Giants, such running backs as Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cardinals and Frank Gifford of the Giants, plus a tremendous defensive team "really will be tough to beat."

The Giants' Andy Robustelli and Roosevelt Grier, Chuck Bednarik of Philadelphia, Gene Brito of the Washington Redskins and Walter Michaels of the Cleveland Browns are some of the unsung but skilled linemen for the East.

The game starting at 4 o'clock (EST), will not be televised regionally or nationally.

Night Clubbing Hurt Braves Says Robinson

CHICAGO (AP)—The Tribune said today that Jackie Robinson, the ex-Brooklyn Dodger baseball star, claims that night clubbing by "key" players cost the Milwaukee Braves the pennant in the National League last season.

Robinson, who earlier this week announced his retirement from baseball, was quoted by the Tribune that "two or three Milwaukee players were visiting night clubs and bars until the wee hours of the morning."

Robinson's remarks came in a question and answer session held at a men's club meeting at nearby Waukegan Thursday night.

Commenting on subjects ranging from racial problems to recent deals made by major league clubs, Robinson was asked to explain the Braves' failure to win the pennant.

* * *

"We came into Pittsburgh," said Robinson, "right after the Braves (this may have been early in August, when the Braves held a two-game lead). I was talking with people and they were telling me about two or three Milwaukee players who were visiting night clubs and bars until the wee hours of the morning.

"I think there was tremendous pressure on them and maybe they weren't sleeping too well. But to me that was the reason. I had honestly given up all hope of being in the 1956 World Series. But you can't mix athletics and drinking and smoking," said Robinson.

"I don't mean you can't take on occasional drink, if you're grown up, but these fellows—a couple of key men on the club, although I don't want to mention any names—did not take care of themselves down the stretch," added Jackie.

* * *

Robinson recently was traded by the Dodgers to the New York Giants but he later announced his retirement.

Rangers Slam Door on Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things are getting blacker and blacker for the Chicago Black Hawks of the colorful National Hockey League.

There was a chance to let a little light into the cellar spot last night, but the New York Rangers slammed down the trapdoor even tighter, 7-4 as Andy Hebenton, Dave Creighton and Danny Lewicki scored two goals each.

The floundering New Yorkers hit the Windy City in fifth place and mindful that Coach Phil Watson had said two of their number would be in the minors by Monday. But today they were in a fourth-place tie with the Toronto Maple Leafs and primed for a national TV, 2 p.m., EST, CBS, at Detroit with the Red Wings.

Chicago, with only 22 points in the standings, now is 11 behind the Leafs and the Rangers. The law of averages figured to swing things Chicago's way last night. The Black Hawks haven't beaten the Rangers in eight tries and in their last 11 games.

Berkley Wrestlers Trounce Cranbrook

Junior star Gary Grikscheit turned in another outstanding showing but the Cranbrook Cranes went down to their 3rd straight wrestling defeat by a 35-10 count at Berkley Friday afternoon.

Grikscheit copped a decision in the 175-pound match and heavyweight Ron Alley gained a draw as the only Crane scorers. Jack Santa, Bill Burney, and Jay Klauson sparked the Bears with pins. Six others gained decisions.

Evashevski Not After Cal Post

Iowa Coach Planning to Stay in Midwest, He Says

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa football coach Forest Evashevski yesterday denied reports he has been offered the University of California coaching job and said, "I like the Midwest and plan to remain here."

The former Michigan blocking star was in Chicago narrating films of Iowa's 35-19 Rose Bowl victory over Oregon State before the Executives Club.

* * *

Evashevski admitted conferring with California representatives Thursday at the NCAA convention at St. Louis.

"We talked about a lot of things," he said, "but no job offer was made."

A San Francisco report stated California's athletic director Gregg Engelhard and executive director Paul Hastings offered Evashevski the job vacated by Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf last fall.

"We talked about some problems connected with the California coaching job," said Evashevski, "but no specific offer was tendered."

Evashevski took over the Iowa job in 1952, shortly after resigning at Washington State.

Carter Rips Bob Baker

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold Carter's easy conquest of fading, aging Bob Baker today moved the young Linden, N.J., Sunday school teacher in line for a March fight with either Eddie Machen or Willie Pastrano.

* * *

And in case you haven't been keeping close tabs on the heavyweight situation, Carter, Machen and Pastrano are top ranking contenders along with 25-year old Hurricane Tommy Jackson for the crown held by 22-year old Floyd Patterson. Carter is 22, Machen 23 and Pastrano 21.

The young guard has taken over the heavyweight division. Ezzard Charles is gone. Baker is going and old Archie Moore has had his chance for the big one.

Matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club, after watching Carter outclass the 30-year old Baker in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden last night, said he would match the husky Jerseyite with Machen at the Garden in March if Machen beats Joey Maxim, another oldtimer, at Miami, Jan. 25.

The officials voted for Carter this way: Referee Harry Kessler and Judge Jack Gordon 8-1-1 each, and judge Bill Recht, 8-2. The AP card had Carter in front, 9-1.

Northern Matmen Win, Chief Pins Himself!

Flint Northern's balanced mat squad took a 38-5 win over Pontiac's new wrestling team here yesterday afternoon. Chiefs' only points were Mel Nosenchuck's pin of Howard Brown (133 pounds) in the 3rd period. One Chief was winning his match when he inadvertantly rolled too far on a cradle hold, and literally pinned himself. He was Dave Payne (120 pounds) one of the PHS squad's better performers.

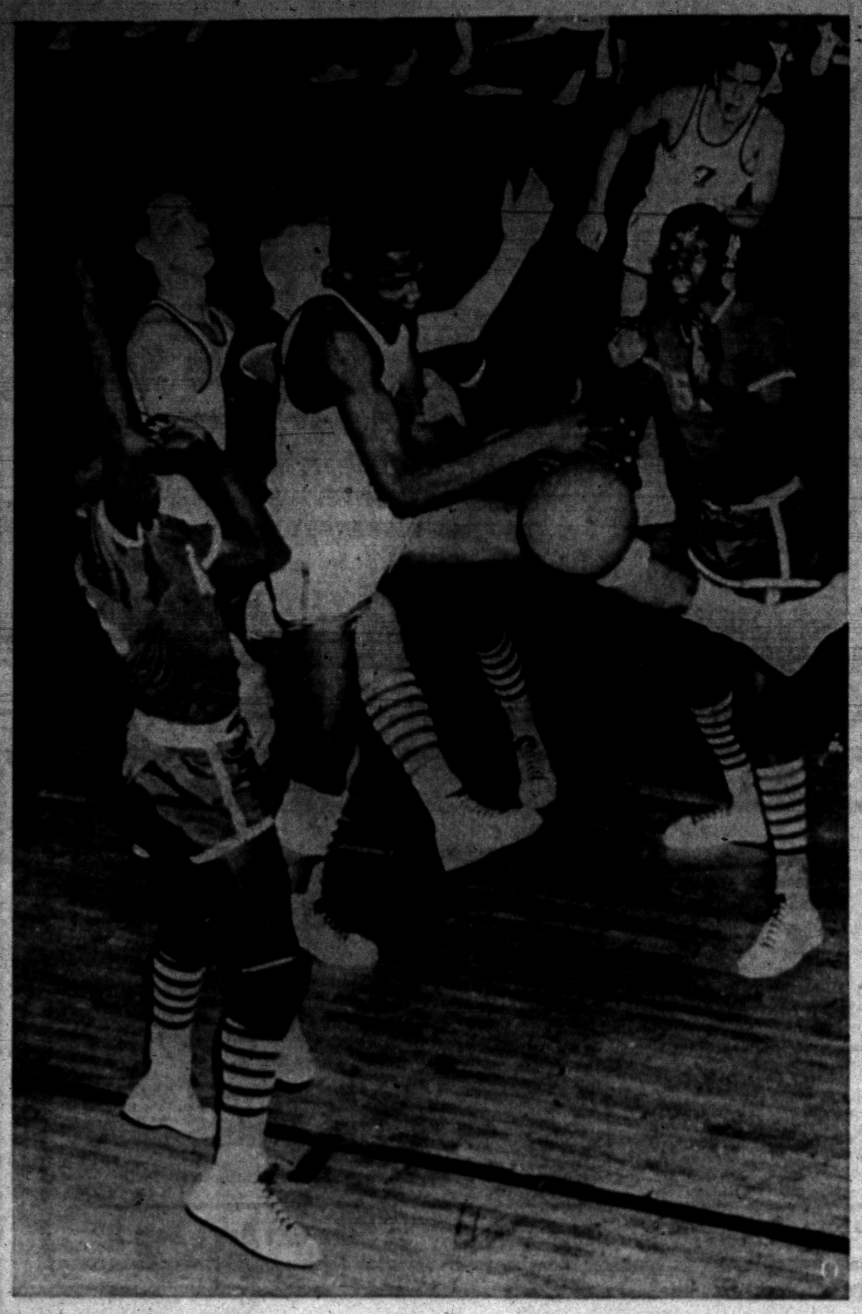

Feature was Willie Duncan's (185) big try to down 265 pound Aaron of Northern. Willie was pinned in the 3rd after wearing himself out against Aaron's terrific margin. It was Pontiac's 5th straight loss.

MUST BE A KNEE SHOT.— Big Hudson Ray, who dropped the round ball through the hoop with all kind of shots last night, seems to be trying to give the ball the knee in this shot. Ray had his best night of the season, pouring in 21 points and pulling down 29 rebounds as PHS won, 54-41.

PHS Has Best Effort as Unit Over Northern

Pontiac Still Unbeaten as Hudson Ray Leads Scoring Attack

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Another tribe of the Saginaw Valley, Flint Northern, fell victim to big Chief Pontiac, 54-41, on the PHS home grounds last night.

Playing their best game as a unit, before standing room crowd, the Chiefs made it six straight and four in a row against league foes. Only Saginaw remains in the first half of the schedule and that battle is set for next Friday night on the local court.

* * *

Saginaw warmed up for the big game by whipping Flint Central, 53-38, with Deb Blondin scoring 13 points. Bay City Central downed Arthur Hill 58-40 in the other game.

It was Hudson Ray, bitten earlier this week by the flu bug, who put on the finest individual performance of the game and his best of the season.

Ray hit for 21 points and pulled down 29 rebounds, five leading to tip-ins. Guard Dave Diehm helped with 14 points while Phil Gains was collecting 16 for Northern.

* * *

Despite the 13-point margin, Northern played one of its better games of the season and for three periods it looked like the Vikings were again going to put a hex on Pontiac, until the Chiefs came through with a 20 point outburst in the final stanaza.

For the first time this year, PHS never was behind, although the score was tied three times early in the game.

Neither team could find the range in the first period, as Pontiac tried 18 shots hitting on only four, and Northern trying 13 and scoring twice.

* * *

The momentum picked up in the second quarter with Diehm and Terry Zelihart connecting from the outside against Northern's zone defense. At halftime PHS led 23-18.

Pontiac pushed the margin to 32-24 early in the 3rd quarter, but then three straight baskets by Gaines closed the gap to 34-30 as the period ended.

Ray, Diehm and Dick Whitmer heated the cords to start the 4th quarter, and two fielders by Jim Skinner moved the game out of reach.

Skinner, playing his second game of the season, started and gave Ray a big assist on the boards.

One player however who grabbed much of the attention was guard Charley Barge 5-foot-9 sophomore who played the entire second half in place of regular Larry Peet.

From the field Pontiac made 24 of 75 attempts for 31 per cent with 18 of 63 for the Vikings for 28 per cent.

Vikings Breeze Past Waterford for 6th Victory

By BILL CORNWELL

A fighting Waterford High School basketball team gave everything it had last night, but an upset victory over powerful Walled Lake wasn't in the cards.

The undefeated Vikings served notice right from the start that they were not to be denied their 6th triumph of the season.

With nimble Larry Hughes showing the way, Walled Lake got off to a flying start and then coasted to a 70-54 win over the Skippers before a jam-packed audience in the Waterford gymnasium.

It was the 3rd straight Inter-Lakes Conference victory for Walled Lake and Waterford's 2nd setback in three league starts.

Hughes, who wound up the evening with 27 points, was the ringleader of a 1st quarter assault which saw the Vikings move into a 26-18 lead. They never lost their commanding position.

Nineteen of Hughes' point total came in the opening period. The 6-foot-4 center meshed seven out of nine field goal attempts, six in a row, and added five foul shots to put his team in complete charge of the situation.

When Hughes tapered off, others took up the slack. John Walker bucketed 14 points and Tom Willwerth, whose rebounding was magnificent, contributed 11.

Lanky Chuck Gillis, who took less than his usual amount of shots, led the Skippers with 19 points. John Herrington chipped in with 14.

Berkley remained in contention for the Inter-Lakes crown by handing Farmington its 1st conference loss, 73-62, on the Berkley court. The two clubs are now tied for 2nd place with 2-1 records.

A field goal and free throw by Van Dyke's Dan Hatch with only three seconds remaining gave the Abes a 70-68 decision over Southfield in Friday night's other Inter-Lakes game at Southfield. It was the 7th consecutive defeat for the Jays.

Eaglets Whip Rams

By CHUCK ABAIR

A St. Frederick team that blew hot and cold all evening completely froze in the last quarter scoring just two points to drop a 47-37 decision to visiting Orchard Lake St. Mary in a battle for second place in the Suburban Catholic League last night.

* * *

The setback dropped the Rams into a 4th place tie with Ferndale St. James which walloped St. Clement, 53-33. Both have 2-2 records and trail St. Michael. St. Benedict strengthened its hold on the loop's top slot by handing St. Rita a 60-22 thumping for its 4th in a row.

Except for a red-hot third period, it was a case of an all around inability to hit the hoop with any degree of consistency for the usually reliable Bill Mountian & company.

* * *

The home club could compile only a 25.3 shooting percentage from the floor and had even more trouble on free throws hitting just 3-for-17. Mountain, who had averaged 23.6 in five outings, was held to 10 by a tight St. Mary zone defense. Tom Derocher topped St. Fred with 11.

* * *

Orchard Lake dominated the play in the first half with some excellent outside shooting by the entire starting unit against a Ram zone.

The first stanza ended 12-7 and the scoreboard read 29-19 at halftime.

* * *

St. Fred took complete command of things in the 3rd session. The losers kept hammering away at the big deficit and finally pulled in front 35-34 at 5:09 on a hoop by Derocher. A foul for St. Mary tied it at the end of the quarter and visitors took charge from then on.

* * *

Pet Madelans rung up 13, Moniuszko and Frankowiak 11 apiece to pace the victors. St. Fred gained a split for the night by copping the prelim 54-42 as Phil Beiri scored 26.

Romeo Defeats Cranes, 58-55

Last Half Rally Falls Short as Cranbrook Drops 6th Straight

A gallant bid for an upset fell short of the mark for Cranbrook as the Cranes bowed to Romeo for the second time this season 58-55 last night.

The losers battled back from eight-point halftime deficit to even the count at 49-49 with only four minutes left in the contest before bowing to a strong Romeo surge.

Bob Harris and John Andrews starred in the losing cause hooping 12 points each as the Cranes lost No. 6 in succession in their first outing of 1957.

Bill Redman was the big gun for Romeo with 22. Three other Bulldogs scored in double numbers led by Don Fowler's 12. It was Romeo's second triumph in five starts.

WHAT? — Pontiac High coach Art Van Ryzin leaves his seat on the bench to give a mild protest of a call in last night's game against Flint Northern at PHS gym. The Chiefs won, 54-41.

75-21 Avalanche Falls on Barons

Bloomfield Hills ran into a lot more than it could handle last night and fell before a 75-21 onslaught by Harper Woods in the latter's gymnasium.

Harper Woods raced into a 14-4 1st quarter advantage and enjoyed an overwhelming 38-7 lead at halftime. Ron Scott and Frank Osojnicki tallied 17 points apiece and Chuck Pleus made 16 for the winners.

Bryant Ewing's seven points topped the Hills' noiseless offense. It was the 3rd loss in five games for the Barons.

Falcons Get 5th Beating Lapeer

A 43 per cent shooting performance and some well balanced scoring meant the difference as Rochester defeated Tom Wilson and his Lapeer mates 72-62 last night in a hectic duel of rival independents on the Falcon court.

Rochester led most of the way and went ahead to stay late in the third period in chalking up its 5th win in six outings paced by four boys who handled all the scoring.

Jim Van Nocker and Dave Peters tallied 20 points apiece, Dave Eldred contributed 19, and Gordon Montross added 13 to make up the RHS attack offsetting another fine showing by Wilson who hit 28.

Dennis Troy was another sparkplug in the losing cause with 16 before he fouled out late in the game. Lapeer made its best bid for victory in the third period going ahead by six at one stage but the Falcons' four-man spree would not be outdone.

Clarkston, Lakers Win W-O Tilts

Rallying after trailing 20-10 in the first period, the Clarkston Wolves last night piled up 40 points in 24 minutes to defeat Holly, 50-44, and hold second place in the Wayne-Oakland League as third place Brighton also won.

The Bulldogs downed Clarenceville by a 49-43 count to stay on Clarkston's heels. W. Bloomfield continued Milford's plight of misery by handing the Redskins their 5th straight W-O loss in a last place battle. Front-running Northville won easily in a non-loop tilt.

Fast - improving junior Dick Lippert was the scoring ace for the 2nd successive game as Clarkston gained its first victory on the road and 4th win in five league games.

The 6-2 cager tallied 16 points to match his total last time out. Leroy Parks added 12.

* * *

Good defensive play played a big part in the triumph as CHS kept close tabs on big center George McDaniel and pint-sized sharpshooter Amos Bradsher holding them to a combined total of eight digits, four on fouls. Both had been averaging better than 15 per game previously.

Holly, which dropped into a 4th place tie with Clarenceville with 2-3 in the loop, showed little offensively after the first period. Bill Taylor led the losers with 17 and Mike Haddon garnered 11.

Five field goals in a last period drive and 20 points for the night by sophomore Jim Paddock carried Brighton to its 4th success in six loop tries.

Brighton trailed throughout the first half before gaining a 20-20 tie at the intermission. The winners pulled ahead in the third canto and held the edge the rest of the contest. Herb Snyder and Brian Watson followed Paddock with 14 and 10, respectively. Dave Hanaford highlighted the Clarenceville offense with 15.

The West Bloomfield Lakers emerged from their see-saw tussle with Milford victorious for the 1st time in six outings, 45-41.

The Keego Harbor quintet pulled out the verdict in the final minute after taking a one-point lead into the last quarter.

Ralph Gordhammer paced the Lakers with 14 points. Pat Kelly was high for the 'Skins with 11.

Northville broke away from a deadlocked first period to romp over Thurston, 71-52 for its 6th triumph against one loss. All five starters were in double figures topped by Bud Bell with 17.

Maples Beaten by Port Huron

Port Huron's Big Reds, still smarting from last week's loss to Ferndale, took out their wrath on Birmingham last night and handed the Maples a 67-43 licking in an Eastern Michigan League basketball game at Birmingham.

* * *

The defending champion Reds were in complete command from start to finish. They outscored the Maples in every quarter and held a 31-23 halftime lead.

Three Port Huron cagers hit double figured scoring, headed by Rich Robins with 16 points. Bob Isbell again led the Maples, this time making 15. The defeat evened Birmingham's season record at three wins and three losses.

East Detroit's unbeaten powerhouse took over undisputed possession of 1st place in the EML with a thrilling 44-43 triumph over previously undefeated Ferndale. Ed Zormeier's foul shot in the last minute of play turned the trick for the Shamrocks and ruined a 20-point scoring effort by Ferndale's Earl McNeal.

In Friday night's remaining EML game, Mt. Clemens eked out a 52-51 decision over Hazel Park.

First SVC Swim Win

Chiefs Sink Viking Team

Limiting Flint Northern's green swimming team to a single first place, Coach Bob (Des) Boyce's Pontiac High School natators last night splashed to their first Saginaw Valley victory of the season.

Swimming in the fine new Viking pool, Chiefs turned in one of their best performances to take a 68-28 victory. "The kids had a lot of fun, and it's nice to win once in a while," Boyce remarked this morning.

Co-captain Dennis Simonson was good in the 100-yard breaststroke and the individual medley. His times were his season's best. He set a pool mark of 1:40.4 for the medley.

* * *

Summary:

50-yard freestyle — won by Doerr (P); 2nd Roberts (P); 3rd Miksell (P); 4th Voskes (P). Time 28.6.

100-yard breaststroke — won by Simonson; 2nd Oravetts (P); 3rd O'Hara (P); 4th Fitch (P). Time 1:05.

200-yard freestyle — won by Williams (P); 2nd Tollefson (P); 3rd Gorman (P); 4th Shields (P). Time 2:30.0.

100-yard backstroke — won by Gibbs (P); 2nd Purcell (P); 3rd Raby (P). Time 1:12.5.

100-yard freestyle — won by Cornforth (P); 2nd Voakes (P); 3rd Ruth (P); 4th Haines (P). Time 63.1.

150-yard indiv. medley — won by Simonson; 2nd Roberts; 3rd Fitch (P). Time 1:40.4 (pool record).

Diving — won by LaMotte (P); 2nd Callaway (P); 3rd Adams (P).

200-yard medley relay — won by PHS (Gibbs, Powers, Poponea, LaMotte). Time 2:15.5.

200-yard freestyle relay — won by PHS (Doerr, Stinson, Cornforth). Time 1:58.1.

100-yard orthodox breaststroke — won by Robarge (P); 2nd, Stinson (P); 3rd Convis (P); 4th Haines (P). Time 1.17.

4 Teams Battling for PTTA Top Spot

There's a redhot battle going on for the top spot in the Pontiac Table Tennis league, with a 2-way knot for first and two clubs even, one point back.

* * *

Capitol Barbers beat L. H. Cole 4-2 to share the lead, while Newberry Market beat Bethany 6-0 to tie for 2nd. Pontiac Varnish lost a chance to tie the leaders when it split with Pankey's 3-3.

Other results in last night's play: Fleet Carriers beat Moote's Elect. 6-0; Frayer's won 4-2 from General Conveyor. Best match was the Jim Beal - John Stephens doubles win over Ralph Irish and Bruce Martin.

Standings:

	Pts.		Pts.
L. H. Cole	57	Pankey's	40
Capitol Barbers	57	Gen. Conveyor	32

Avon Wins, Troy Scared in Oakland B

Troy continued its march toward the Oakland B league basketball title last night, but the Colts didn't have a thing to brag about. They were forced to come from behind for a hard-earned 45-42 victory over lowly Fitzgerald.

Avondale conquered Roseville, 56-44, for its 2nd league triumph and surprisingly strong Madison stayed in the title contention with a 43-39 decision over hot-and-cold Clawson.

* * *

The Colts found themselves trailing Fitzgerald at halftime, 21-17, as the invading Spartans furnished them a thoroughly difficult evening. Only a 14-8 superiority in the 4th quarter saved Troy from suffering its 1st conference loss.

Avondale's 'Jackets led all the way against Roseville to post their 2nd league win, while administering the 4th straight loop defeat to their opponents. Steve Saunders (15), Tom Mulholland (12), Dick Granzow (12) led the winners who had a 29-20 halftime total. Hussell for Roseville had 13 points.

Utica, defending Bi-County League champion, extended its perfect record to 3-0 with a 48-33 decision over Mt. Clemens St. Mary in a non-conference game at Utica. Ken Thompson led the Chieftains with 12 points.

A well-balanced Highland Park quintet handed Royal Oak's Acorns a 68-43 pasting, despite a 28-point splurge by All-Oakland County ace Dave Richey, in a Border Cities League tilt at Highland Park.

* * *

In other area battles last night, Arnold Eckhouse tallied 10 points to lead Oak Park's easy 40-18 conquest of Farmington Our Lady of Sorrow and South Lyon defeated Dexter, 52-42, behind Dave Wren's 14 points. Shrine bowed to Redford St. Mary, 45-42, and Marlette whipped Sandusky, 62-47.

Ortonville Nipped

Oxford Drops Close One

Oxford and Ortonville turned in their best showings of the season but still went down to close defeats in South Central Conference League action last night.

The winless Wildcats threw a big scare into heavily favored North Branch before bowing out in the final 35 seconds of play, 68-66.

Ortonville came even closer leading all the way only to drop a 62-61 verdict with just two seconds left when Millington guard Dick Hoard drove in for the clincher.

Bob Brannon converted 13 of 14 foul shots and finished with 19 points to spark Oxford. John Ribner, who broke a 64-all tie with two free throws, topped NB with 22.

At Ortonville, Millington had to make a dazzling comeback to post the triumph and gain a first place tie with idle Imlay City. The Cards hooped 27 digits in the last eight minutes, 10 by Dick Zink.

Two fouls had sliced the difference to one with only five seconds remaining before a wild Ortonville pass gave Hoard the chance to be the hero. Zink and Hoard finished with 17 and 16, respectively. Bob Hutchings' 17 was the best Blackhawk effort.

Dryden Is Beaten by Memphis, 45-36

Memphis raced to a 23-14 first half lead and held on the rest of the way to gain a 45-36 victory over Dryden in a Southern Thumb contest at Memphis last night.

The triumph kept the Yellow Jackets in sole possession of third place with a 4-2 slate. Dryden is 3-3 in the loop.

Memphis star Allen Huard led all the scorers with 20 points.

2 U. S. Curling Rinks Still in Trophy Running

Three Canadian Teams Remain in 71st Annual Bonspiel

DETROIT (AP) — Three Canadian and two American rinks were left in the running today for the Michigan trophy, top prize of the 71st annual International Bonspiel.

Gord Brock skipped his Kitchener (Ont.) Granite rink of Arn Elmslie, Nels Bielstein and Bob Thompson to a 14-4 win over Fred Rubbra's Montreal St. George rink. Rubbra was not with the rink he led to the Michigan trophy title last year. He left earlier yesterday for Montreal to curl in that city's jubilee event.

Bill Hardie led his Hamilton (Ont.) Victoria quartet to a 9-7 win over Nate Cornwall of Windsor to gain a semi-final berth.

Toronto Granite club's Verne Matthewman downed Percy Powers of Detroit 10-7 in the second round while Mike Slyziuk's Detroit four stopped Howard Reid of Ayr 8-7. The Matthewman and Slyziuk rinks meet this afternoon in the other semi-final.

* * *

In the Detroit trophy play, for rinks eliminated in the Michigan trophy event, Canada again has three rinks in contention while the United States has two.

In today's semi-finals Jimmy Broomfield's Galt (Ont.) rink tangles with Hugh Sinclair's Milwaukee four. Broomfield ousted Dave Shabeau's Waupaca, Wis., rink 13-6 and Sinclair eliminated Maury Chilton of Sarnia 9-5 in quarter-final play.

Two Canadian rinks, one skipped by George Tate of Sudbury and the other under Roy Chisholm of Sault Ste. Marie, meet in a quarter-final today for the right to meet Ed Vaughan's Wauwatosa, Wis., rink in the other half of the semi-final.

Two State Cage Teams in Action

Two state college basketball teams get into their respective league play tonight on the home courts.

Michigan plays host to rangy Northwestern in Big Ten action and the University of Detroit meet highly rated St. Louis in Detroit. Michigan State is idle until Monday.

Northwestern is 1-0 and Michigan 1-1 in Big Ten action. The U. of D-St. Louis series always showed scoring games and the Billikens were rated pre-season favorites in the Missouri Valley.

FISHING OR GOLF?—Cardiner Dickinson Jr., of Panama City, Fla., gasps as the Pacific Ocean waters swirl around him during a search for a ball on the Cypress Point Golf course in Pebble Beach, Calif., where the Bing Crosby $15,000 National Pro-Am tourney is taking place. Maxwell Leads Bing's 'Clambake'

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Stocky Texan Billy Maxwell carries a two-stroke lead into today's second round of the 54-hole Bing Crosby golf tournament, challenged by a bulky field and a picturesque but tricky course.

Showers began falling shortly before midnight. Gusty winds and intermittent rain were forecast for today.

Maxwell, former U.S. Amateur champion from Dallas, fired a six-under-par 66 yesterday over the relatively sheltered Monterey Peninsula country club links.

For this $15,000 national Pro-Amateur clambake, half the field of 276 played the opening round over Monterey and the rest tangled with the tougher Cypress Point layout. Each has par 72, but of yesterday's 30 par breakers, only two did it at Cypress where the wind and adjacent ocean stack the odds.

* * *

That's the course Billy and the other leaders play today. Others, including defending champion Cary Middlecoff, with a first round 76, shift to Monterey.

Five golfers deadlocked yesterday at 68. The group includes the leader's twin brother Bobby Maxwell, who held the lead for a while.

Also at 68 are the veteran Byron Nelson, making one of his infrequent tourney appearances, Stan Leonard of Vancouver, Canada, Bill Nary, Tucson, Ariz., and Bob Rosburg, Palo Alto, Calif.

Bunched at 69 were Joe Steiger, Spokane, Bill Martin, West Covina, Calif., Smiley Quick, Los Angenes, Tommy Hanson, Wichita, Kan., Jimmy Clark, Huntington Beach, Calif., Mario Lauret, Rye, N.Y., and Ellsworth Vines, Palm Springs, Calif.

* * *

The latter fired a hole-in-one on the 158-yard 7th at Monterey, the third ace of Vines' 15-year pro career.

Middlecoff took a three-over par 6 on the short 16th hole at Cypress when his tee shot over a stretch of ocean ended up in a patch of ice plant. PGA champion Jack Burke Jr., had better luck, a 74, the same as veteran Tommy Bolt, California Amateur titlist Ken Venturi, making his first quest of professional money, shot a 73 over the course.

In this event, $10,500 of the prize money goes to the leading individual pros and the rest is divided among those who wind up best in the Pro-Amateur best-ball competition.

* * *

NCAA Confab Concludes With Blast at Baseball

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A couple of new laws tightening reins on recruiting and financial aid to athletes and a loud blast at professional baseball by college coaches provided the only fireworks of the 51st NCAA convention.

* * *

The week-long meet ending today with a routine closed-door session of the policy-making council, was the most peaceful in more than 10 years.

The assembly at its final session yesterday amended its financial aid rule by putting a lid on the amount of money a student athlete can receive during a school term. Side jobs and athletic scholarships are to be handled on one basis. If an athlete has a job in addition to a scholarship he can't receive more than the limits of the scholarship, which includes, room, board, tuition fees and $15 a month laundry allowance.

* * *

There was considerable wrangling over a clause in the financial aid amendment which included governmental grants for educational purposes in its limitations. Minority spokesman contended inclusion of government grants would work a hardship on GI's and married athletes with children.

The other new rule permits colleges to pay the cost of transportation for a prospective athlete to make one visit to a school. It prohibits alumni and booster club groups from bringing in the prospects.

Professional baseball, criticized by the coaches through Ethan Allen of Yale earlier in the week, was charged again with raiding campuses and exploiting the college game.

Everett D. Barnes, Colgate athletic director, told the convention "there is no sentiment on the part of professional baseball to help college baseball."

"The colleges," Barnes said, "have struggled unsuccessfully for 11 years to work out a friendly pact with the majors and minors."

Boxers Leading Breed for PKC Midwinter Show

There will be a fine array of dogdom representatives at Waterford's Community Activities building, come Jan. 19. That's the date for Pontiac Kennel Club's first midwinter show and its first indoor show.

An unbenched affair, with many breeds listed among the 478 entries, the show is also a benefit for the Michigan Animal Rescue League's shelter in Pontiac. The shelter is under construction here. All gate receipts will go towards the building fund.

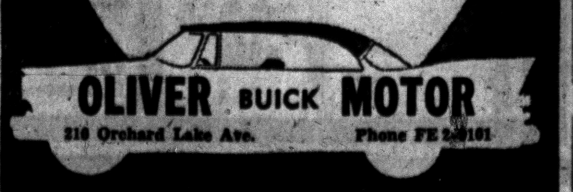

While the entries are below the figure expected, there are many interesting groups, led by the boxers with 38; collies, 36; cockers 31; shepherds 28; 16 dachshunds; 15 bassetts; 10 Kerry blues; 10 Pekingese toys, and a surprising list of poodles, (18 miniatures, 11 toys, 11 standards), 40 in all.

Spears 15-Pounder

Biggest pike reported for the Oakland County ice-fishing season was taken Thursday afternoon by Bob Kinney, 9191 Tambay, Lower Straits Lake. Fishing from a shanty, Kinney slammed a 15-pound 39-inch northern, that slid in to investigate a 10-inch sucker lure, with a four-tined spear and the big fellow bent the shaft before being knocked out by a crack from a heavy spud.

Pro Bowl Last for Tobin Rote

Annual Game From LA Pits Western Division Against East

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Quarterback Tobin Rote of the Green Bay Packers, one of the most underrated players in the National Football League, bids goodbye to the sport tomorrow when he plays for the West against the East in the annual Pro-Bowl game in Memorial Coliseum.

"I've got a head coach down in Texas and she says she's not going to chase back and forth to Green Bay any more. So I'm going to stay with her."

So said the tall Texan who led Rice Institute to two Southwest Conference championships and for seven years has been one of the finest field generals in pro football.

The "head coach" is Mrs. Rote, mother of their three youngsters. The family lives in Bellaire, near Houston, where the 28-year-old Tobin has an executive position with the Herrin Transportation Co.

* * *

"Right now I don't have too many regrets about leaving football," Rote commented, "but maybe that's because this is the end of a long season and I'm a little tired. I love football, though."

Rote, Ed Brown of the Chicago Bears and Bobby Layne of Detroit will alternate at quarterback for the West, certainly an imposing combination.

Rote bows out with an impressive record. He passed for 2,203 yards in 1956—more than any other NFL quarterback—and he holds most of the all-time Packer records, which is something for a team forever famous for its aerial attack.

The handsome Texan admitted he and the West squad encounter a mighty challenge from the East in the Pro-Bowl. He said quarterback Charlie Conerly of the champion New York Giants, such running backs as Ollie Matson of the Chicago Cardinals and Frank Gifford of the Giants, plus a tremendous defensive team "really will be tough to beat."

The Giants' Andy Robustelli and Roosevelt Grier, Chuck Bednarik of Philadelphia, Gene Brito of the Washington Redskins and Walter Michaels of the Cleveland Browns are some of the unsung but skilled linemen for the East.

The game starting at 4 o'clock (EST), will not be televised regionally or nationally.

Northern Matmen Win, Chief Pins Himself!

Flint Northern's balanced mat squad took a 38-5 win over Pontiac's new wrestling team here yesterday afternoon. Chiefs' only points were Mel Nosenchuck's pin of Howard Brown (133 pounds) in the 3rd period. One Chief was winning his match when he inadvertantly rolled too far on a cradle hold, and literally pinned himself. He was Dave Payne (120 pounds) one of the PHS squad's better performers.

Feature was Willie Duncan's (185) big try to down 265 pound Aaron of Northern. Willie was pinned in the 3rd after wearing himself out against Aaron's terrific margin. It was Pontiac's 5th straight loss.

Night Clubbing Hurt Braves Says Robinson

CHICAGO (AP)—The Tribune said today that Jackie Robinson, the ex-Brooklyn Dodger baseball star, claims that night clubbing by "key" players cost the Milwaukee Braves the pennant in the National League last season.

Robinson, who earlier this week announced his retirement from baseball, was quoted by the Tribune that "two or three Milwaukee players were visiting night clubs and bars until the wee hours of the morning."

Robinson's remarks came in a question and answer session held at a men's club meeting at nearby Waukegan Thursday night.

Commenting on subjects ranging from racial problems to recent deals made by major league clubs, Robinson was asked to explain the Braves' failure to win the pennant.

* * *

"We came into Pittsburgh," said Robinson, "right after the Braves (this may have been early in August, when the Braves held a two-game lead). I was talking with people and they were telling me about two or three Milwaukee players who were visiting night clubs and bars until the wee hours of the morning.

"I think there was tremendous pressure on them and maybe they weren't sleeping too well. But to me that was the reason. I had honestly given up all hope of being in the 1956 World Series. But you can't mix athletics and drinking and smoking," said Robinson.

"I don't mean you can't take on occasional drink, if you're grown up, but these fellows—a couple of key men on the club, although I don't want to mention any names—did not take care of themselves down the stretch," added Jackie.

* * *

Robinson recently was traded by the Dodgers to the New York Giants but he later announced his retirement.

Rangers Slam Door on Hawks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Things are getting blacker and blacker for the Chicago Black Hawks of the colorful National Hockey League.

There was a chance to let a little light into the cellar spot last night, but the New York Rangers slammed down the trapdoor even tighter, 7-4 as Andy Hebenton, Dave Creighton and Danny Lewicki scored two goals each.

The floundering New Yorkers hit the Windy City in fifth place and mindful that Coach Phil Watson had said two of their number would be in the minors by Monday. But today they were in a fourth-place tie with the Toronto Maple Leafs and primed for a national TV, 2 p.m., EST, CBS, at Detroit with the Red Wings.

Chicago, with only 22 points in the standings, now is 11 behind the Leafs and the Rangers. The law of averages figured to swing things Chicago's way last night. The Black Hawks haven't beaten the Rangers in eight tries and in their last 11 games.

Berkley Wrestlers Trounce Cranbrook

Junior star Gary Grikscheit turned in another outstanding showing but the Cranbrook Cranes went down to their 3rd straight wrestling defeat by a 35-10 count at Berkley Friday afternoon.

Grikscheit copped a decision in the 175-pound match and heavyweight Ron Alley gained a draw as the only Crane scorers. Jack Santa, Bill Burney, and Jay Klauson sparked the Bears with pins. Six others gained decisions.

Evashevski Not After Cal Post

Iowa Coach Planning to Stay in Midwest, He Says

CHICAGO (AP) — Iowa football coach Forest Evashevski yesterday denied reports he has been offered the University of California coaching job and said, "I like the Midwest and plan to remain here."

The former Michigan blocking star was in Chicago narrating films of Iowa's 35-19 Rose Bowl victory over Oregon State before the Executives Club.

* * *

Evashevski admitted conferring with California representatives Thursday at the NCAA convention at St. Louis.

"We talked about a lot of things," he said, "but no job offer was made."

A San Francisco report stated California's athletic director Gregg Engelhard and executive director Paul Hastings offered Evashevski the job vacated by Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf last fall.

"We talked about some problems connected with the California coaching job," said Evashevski, "but no specific offer was tendered."

Evashevski took over the Iowa job in 1952, shortly after resigning at Washington State.

Carter Rips Bob Baker

NEW YORK (AP)—Harold Carter's easy conquest of fading, aging Bob Baker today moved the young Linden, N.J., Sunday school teacher in line for a March fight with either Eddie Machen or Willie Pastrano.

* * *

And in case you haven't been keeping close tabs on the heavyweight situation, Carter, Machen and Pastrano are top ranking contenders along with 25-year old Hurricane Tommy Jackson for the crown held by 22-year old Floyd Patterson. Carter is 22, Machen 23 and Pastrano 21.

The young guard has taken over the heavyweight division, Ezzard Charles is gone, Baker is going and old Archie Moore has had his chance for the big one.

Matchmaker Billy Brown of the International Boxing Club, after watching Carter outclass the 30-year old Baker in a television 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden last night, said he would match the husky Jerseyite with Machen at the Garden in March if Machen beats Joey Maxim, another oldtimer, at Miami, Jan. 25.

The officials voted for Carter this way: Referee Harry Kessler and Judge Jack Gordon 8-1-1 each, and judge Bill Recht, 8-2. The AP card had Carter in front, 9-1.

Bats .994 on Correction of Difficulties

City Complaint Clerk Busy

Garbage collection, streets, sewers, and water all provided the city's complaint department — the Citizens' Service Bureau — with plenty of action during 1956.

The one-woman bureau was established several years back so residents could get complaints off their chests. It was also set up so these complaints were corrected or City Manager Walter K. Willman heard about them.

During last year, complaints of refuse collection were the greatest with 1,216 being received. Next in line were 1,100 on city streets, 557 on sewers, and 486 on the city's water.

Harold E. Marshall, city personnel director and supervisor of the bureau's operations, reported that of the total of 3,613 complaints received, 3,580 had been corrected.

When the complaint is received at the bureau's second-floor headquarters in the City Hall, the department involved is called immediately. This is followed up with a written protest.

After this, a card is sent to the complainant asking if the work has been satisfactorily corrected. If the answer is negative, the card lands on Willman's desk.

Other major complaints included inspection, health, recreation (trees, weeds, etc.), police, and sidewalks.

March was the month of greatest complaints when 460 were lodged, 178 of which pertained mostly to request for having streets cleared of snow.

One Crooked Finger an Inherited Trait

LITTLE FIELD, TEX. (UP) — Being born with a crooked little finger is an inherited trait in the Farr family.

As far back as any living member can remember, one Farr born in each generation has had a crooked little finger on each hand. The fingers are bent slightly from the first joint to the tip.

Fussy Felons Take Nicest Car in Stock

FREEPORT, Ill. (UP) — Thieves who broke into the McCullough Motor Co. garage apparently wanted only one car — the flashy, new hardtop in the company's main display room.

To get it, the thieves had to drive two other cars — both new — into the street. Then they took the car from the windowed display room. But before driving away they drove the other two cars back into the garage.

Owner E. G. McCullough didn't report the loss to police for a couple of hours after arriving at work. He had assumed the car had been sold.

Blinded Tot Critical, to Get Treatments

NEW YORK (UP) — Little Thomas Fuller of Norwood, N. Y., blinded by cancer, was described last night as "still in a very critical condition" at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center.

A hospital statement said:

"Doctors plan special treatment for the next four or five weeks. Nothing further will be given out until these treatments are completed."

Drives 23 Miles While Asleep Is Contention

BERKELEY, CALIF. (INS)—Mrs. Albert J. Wollner, a chronic sleepwalker, gave thanks prayerfully yesterday after surviving a 23-mile automobile ride while she apparently was sound asleep at the wheel.

The 32-year old woman told police she awakened about 3 a.m. to find herself at the wheel of her husband's car on highway 50 southeast of Berkeley.

"The car was stopped when I woke up and I was pounding on the dashboard," she related. "The lights wouldn't work and I must have been hitting the dashboard awfully hard. I think the pain is what awakened me."

Mrs. Wollner said she walked about a mile to a motel, with her 10 year old son's Weimaraner and Dachshund.

She telephoned home but was unable to awaken her husband, a crane operator.

Then she called the sheriff's office and Berkeley police were asked to arouse her husband.

Wollner had slept peacefully while his wife got out of bed, put on slacks, slippers, pulled a coat over her pajama top and left the house.

She evidently tried to start her own 1955 car for her keys were still in it when her husband brought her home in a car borrowed from a neighbor. Wollner couldn't start his wife's car either.

Mrs. Wollner said she has had all kinds of sleepwalking experiences, but doesn't usually drive a car in her sleep.

Canada to Drill Wells

EDMONTON, Alta. (UP) — Heavy oil well drilling equipment has been moving up the Alaska highway in one of Canada's most northerly searches for new oil fields.

The equipment is being stockpiled at Flat Creek Landing, 40 miles south of Dawson City, Yukon. Later it will be hauled 300 miles farther to the site of test operations well within the Arctic Circle.

There, in desolate country, three wells will be sunk by Peel Plateau and Exploration Ltd., a company which holds exploration rights on eight million acres in the Northwest Territories and the Yukon.

BOOKS

Thirty years ago the publisher who provided the most lurid jackets for his books sold more than one who didn't. In 1926 an organization was formed to help America choose delightful stories; it was called Book-of-the-Month Club.

J. L. VOORHEES

M. E. SIPLE

This organization performed a service to the reading public that has grown with the years; they recommend books—reading — that will be appreciated by generations yet unborn. It has given the layman reading that brought the world into focus, gave him an insight into the joys of literature, and now it is offering record music under the same plan. Through it the Metropolitan Operas are available.

January 10th, 1926 gave America an opportunity to read the best, for less than the lurid-jacketed books cost, filled our shelves with reading material that is timeless.

LARGE BEDROOM — The master bedroom is truly of master size, about sixteen feet square. The Kimbers covered the old walls with paper that resembles grass cloth in a soft shade of green. Draperies are green. The rug is red. Furniture in this room is blonde. The monogrammed bedspreads are chartreuse with dark green lettering. Reversing this color scheme, the chair is dark green with chartreuse trim.

DIVIDED KITCHEN — An island sink divides the Kimber kitchen into two areas, one for work and one for relaxing. The walls are covered with knotty pine plywood in a panel design. Cupboards are also knotty pine with wrought iron hardware. At the rear of the room, next to the small window, the wall refrigerator can be seen. In the foreground part of the hutch cabinet is visible. The floor is gray green linoleum. In the family area there is a braided rug. The comfortable Boston rocker waits for an occupant.

G. F. Kimbers Update Old Farmhouse

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Years ago, when the George Kimbers built their home in Grosse Pointe, they were one of the few families in the neighborhood. Once again they are living in splendid solitude, this time in a remodeled farmhouse on East Clarkston road in Lake Orion.

For the past two years they have been remodeling the old Lomason house, a place in which they saw unlimited possibilities. They are nearly through; only the back porch still needs any extensive amount of work.

As can be seen in the small picture on this page, the house when first seen in 1952, was an ordinary country home. At one time there had been a chimney on the front, but then only a stained place on the siding remained. A porch shut out the light in some of the front rooms.

In remodeling the Kimbers made extensive use of plywood. Almost all the walls are covered with it where they are not papered. Several kinds of plywood have been used, making interesting contrasts in texture.

Unlike the small entrance halls in modern homes, the one in the Kimber home is of gracious size. Its doors open to the living room and dining room. Directly in front of the front door is the stairway. To one side is an extension of the hall, leading to the downstairs bedroom and bathroom.

While the lower hallway (plywood, of course, striated variety) is painted a soft gray green, the stair wall is deep rose. Stair rails are white. But the hand rail and the newel post are made of solid mahogany, finished in a natural shade that resembles walnut.

The majority of the rails are also mahogany. But some had been replaced with "just any old wood," so the best thing seemed to be to paint them white. The mahogany that shows is beautiful. It took plenty of elbow grease to produce its present appearance.

The living room at the left was once three rooms. Partitions were removed, and the whole area is carpeted in gray. In the front half of the room the striated walls are gray green like the hall with darker green plywood woodwork. A red brick fireplace is framed in green. The most unusual part of this area is the hearth made of hammered copper.

Where a partition once divided the room there are now deep shelves on either side. These are painted to match the walls. In the rear of this room a cupboard and open shelves have been built. One of the lower sections contains the TV set. Behind this cupboard is a generous storage closet.

The back of the above shelves is papered in a gray farmhouse scene. This same paper is also used on the other two walls. Draperies are gray with a rose flowered design.

Little tables in convenient places, family portraits and lots of needlepoint covers on chairs and footstools made this a homey room. The sofa and one armchair are gray green, while another chair is peach color.

There is a hallway opening off the rear of the living room. Going around the stairwell, it passes the master bathroom and the guest room, then meets the front hall.

This downstairs bath is red, gray and white. The floor is red tile, while lower walls are white and upper ones gray. Gray taffeta curtains and scarlet towels on black rings complete the color scheme. On the door there is a tiny brass knocker.

Called the antique room because of its furnishings, the guest room occupies a quiet spot at the rear of the house. The walls are creamy yellow, the carpet green. Walnut furniture in the style of Victoria make it a quaint little room. At the window there are white ruffled curtains.

The living room carpeting continues through the hall into the dining room. Walls are green in a shade deeper than the green of the hallway. The ceiling is white. The Federal mirror on the inside wall repeats the colors of the red, gray, black and white draperies on the opposite walls. Furniture is Eighteenth Century mahogany. An exquisite antique crystal chandelier hangs over the table.

To close off the kitchen there is a pair of louvered half doors, painted deep rose. The present kitchen bears little resemblance, we are sure, to what it was in the olden days.

First of all, it is divided by an island sink into a working area and a relaxing area. This sink is set in a knotty pine cabinet that has storage cabinets on both sides. The top is red Formica. While Mrs. Kimber washes the dishes or peels the vegetables, she can watch the TV set in the family area. Above the sink are more cupboards.

The floor is gray green li-

NOW AND THEN — Compare these two pictures of the Kimber house. The little one was taken by Mrs. Kimber in 1952, before any remodeling had been done. Long-time county residents will remember this house as the Lomason farmhouse. Today the porch that darkened some of the living rooms has been replaced by a covered entry. A new chimney adds dignity to the front of the house, whereas in the smaller photo the stain on the siding was an eyesore. There were few changes made on the exterior of the house, but inside partitions were removed and rooms converted to different uses. The three windows to the right of the front door are in the dining room. The smaller shuttered window and the many-paned one at the end are kitchen windows.

We'd Like Suggestions!

Pontiac Press readers are invited to help make this weekly home section more interesting. We are looking for new homes, remodeled homes and do-it-yourself home projects. If you have, or know of any such project, call us at FE 2-8181, ask for the Home Editor, and tell us where we can take a picture. If you are planning a big remodeling job, let us know ahead of time so that we can take before-and-after pictures. We appreciate your cooperation.

DRESSING ROOM—What is now an adequate size dressing room and lavatory once was a bedroom. Cupboards and wardrobes are painted a soft green. Carpeting and the louvered door in the background are red. The seashore wallpaper has a black background. Tile in the lavatory is green.

THREE ROOMS ONCE — This thirty-foot living room was once three rooms in the old farmhouse. Now it is a homey, attractive room. Mrs. Kimber who planned the decorating scheme of the house — gray, green and red — poses for the photographer in front of the built-in TV set. At the left of the picture can be seen the shelves that take the place of one of the former partitions. This room has windows on three sides which make it especially light and cheerful. The carpeting and wallpaper are gray, the painted walls green.

REAR OF KIMBER HOME — This view of the George Kimber home on East Clarkston road was taken from the back yard. An outdoor barbecue fireplace is built into the massive stone chimney, the stones of which all came from the farm property. Note the exposed beams on the back porch. These were rescued from the original barn when it was razed and now form a decorative part of the porch ceiling. Gray shingles are used on the exterior of the house.

The early Romans, first to use stencils for the painting of borders on flat surfaces, were also the first to paint stone or plaster so that it resembled costly marble or granite.

Metals Need Protection

Next time you use your slide projector, notice the finishes on its various surfaces. These have been devised to protect the projector from wear, handling, moisture and heat. Projectors are constructed usually of zinc die castings, stamped steel and aluminum. The surfaces that need protective coatings are made attractive with such fine-patterned finishes as "wrinkle enamel" or the so-called "hammered finish."

Kimber Home Uses Variety of Plywood

noleum. The walls are knotty pine plywood in a paneled design. On the north wall is the wall oven in the corner, the stove unit and a hanging refrigerator.

This last is most interesting. It consists of a series of three doors hung at easy height and hiding a complete refrigerator. The motor is on top so that counter space below is free for working.

On the west a new window was cut. It is divided into twelve sections with deep dividers, most of which hold a plant. In front of this window is a maple drop leaf table and Windsor chairs.

Stones from the farm were used to build the immense fireplace in the family half of the kitchen. These stones extend across the entire wall. The hearth, raised several feet from the floor, is wide and can serve as a seat. Coal is burned in the grate so a regular old fashioned coal scuttle is in evidence.

At right angles to the fireplace there is a maple sofa—placed just right for sitting and gazing into the flames and day dreaming. A Boston rocker and a maple cobbler's bench stand near the sofa. On the wall opposite the fireplace, there's a maple hutch cabinet and more Windsor chairs. The rug is braided.

Upstairs there are two bedrooms and another bathroom. The stairs and upper hall are carpeted in gray. One low window at the front of the house makes the hallway light. For night time there is a star shaped ceiling fixture.

Up here the guest room is dainty with a pink carpet, flowered wallpaper and white woodwork. The maple bed has a white hobnail spread on it. With south and west windows, the room is usually sunny.

What was once a minute bedroom is now a dressing room and a lavatory, complete with stall shower. Mrs. Kimber had a number of storage units built in, including a big vanity with a huge mirror above it. Most of the walls are painted green, but the lavatory and one wall of the dressing room is covered in black paper with a seashell design. There are small red shutters at the window and red sliding door with louvers to close off the room from the master bedroom.

* * *

Under foot in the bedroom is the red cotton carpeting. Woodwork is green, and the walls have a green wallpaper resembling grass cloth. The ceiling is white. Draperies are green.

Up here the furniture is modern and blonde. There are chartreuse spreads with dark green monograms on the twin beds. The slipper chair is dark green with chartreuse trim. It's a large room and a charming one.

Some of the outbuildings were torn down to improve the looks of the property. Stones and beams from the barn have been incorporated in the house. The ceiling of the back porch has been made from these old barn beams.

* * *

The Kimbers bought the house in 1952, but it was two years before they started to work on it. Mr. Kimber did the design work, then hired his own workmen. Mrs. Kimber's job was helping with the planning and doing the decorating.

Laminate Wood Posts to Make Big Timbers

Man is no longer dependent upon nature to grow giant timbers. By gluing together small pieces of seasoned lumber, timber fabricators can produce "factory grown" timbers of virtually any size or shape. Only limiting factor is the size of timber that can be handled in transport from the fabricating plant to the building site.

* * *

Glued laminated timbers are used in practically every type of construction today. Two of the largest timbers ever laminated were produced recently for use as bridge girders in Manitoba, Canada. Each timber, weighing more than 11 tons, was about one foot thick, six feet deep and 103 feet long.

Latex Paints Great Boon; Easy, Durable, Washable

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Do-it-yourself painters have found popular latex paints to be remarkable in many ways. Available in an extensive range of colors, dull or semi-lustrous in finish, they can be used on any interior surface, except floors and furniture. There are even new varieties that can be used on exterior masonry.

One of the most attractive things about latex paints is that they are easy to prepare for use. A few turns of a paddle in the can and the solid and liquid substances are completely merged. The paint is then exceptionally easy to apply with brush, roller or spray gun.

Because these paints are water-based, the tools you use are as easy to clean as washing your hands. It's simply a matter of using a little soap and water after the job is finished. One caution, however. Be sure to do this clean-up operation immediately because latex dries and hardens rapidly—usually within an hour.

The final "cure" of latex paints, however, takes considerably longer than an hour—somewhere between 4 and 30 days. This curing process transforms the ingredients into a moisture-repellent shield which protects as it provides a smooth, easy-to-wash surface. So be sure to wait until this curing process has had time to reach completion before using any sort of cleaning abrasive on the paint.

LATEX COATINGS DURABLE

The durability and washability of latex coatings make them ideal for use on woodwork as well as on walls, where a perfect match is desirable. They can be used on metals, too, but first apply a special metal primer, after making sure the surface is free of rust. In almost all other cases, latex paints serve as their own primers. In other words, you just use an extra coat of latex paint. One exception to this, however, is new wood, which should always have an oil-base primer.

At first, if you've never used latex before, its appearance may puzzle you when you start to work with it. It will likely seem thin in consistency So don't try to spread it too thin or you may find that a second coat is necessary. In such case, allow twenty-four hours before applying the second coat.

Don't be alarmed if the paint in the can looks different from the color you selected when you bought it. In a few minutes after application, the color you want will appear. And if you find later that you missed a place or two, don't hesitate to go back and touch up. This is another advantage you enjoy with latex paints.

* * *

There's nothing like paint to bring glamour, warmth and cheerfulness into your home. Within one day you can change the entire appearance of a room — living room, bedroom, kitchen, or bath. And the parade of colors to choose from is a good antidote to winter doldrums. A visit to a paint store will convince you of this, and also of the fact that with inexpensive latex coatings it costs very little to accomplish so much.

Sanding and refinishing will restore an oak floor to its original beauty, even after years of severe wear and neglect.

IN WEST BLOOMFIELD PARK — The first of thirty homes to be built on twenty acres in the Village of Orchard Lake, this brick "Williamsburg" model home is located at 3384 Indiandale. West Bloomfield Park is off Commerce road, two streets west of Orchard Lake road. There are three bedrooms, 2½ baths and a big family room in this contemporary ranch home. The living room has a studio ceiling and a massive brick wall, ending in a corner fireplace. There is a separate dining room as well as a separate laundry room. Floors are Bruce parquet wood. Built-in features include a GE oven and range, dishwasher, disposal, attic fan and intercommunication system. The house was built by Highland Homes, Inc. of Birmingham and sells for $32,950.

Ranch House Expansion Told in New Brochure

A two-color brochure just published tells in detail how to expand the livability of a small ranch home by adding a wing—a new room and attached garage.

The publication shows the major construction steps from foundation to siding, but emphasizes the interior finishing in warm, beautiful woods.

The latter phase includes the application of wall paneling, making of built-in cabinets and a breakfast bar, application of parquet flooring and lighting valances.

The brochure is available for 15 cents handling costs from the Hardwood Plywood Institute, 600 South Michigan Avenue, Chicago 5, Illinois.

Have Basement Attractive Place

Discard That Rubbish, Hose Down the Walls —Then Enjoy a Party!

The basement is the perfect place for those informal winter parties, but no party is so informal that the guests should have to wade through piles of rubbish, boxes of worn-out toys and clothing and miscellaneous garden tools. The first requirement of a good party is an attractive location, free from clutter and debris, so before the party season sets in, make sure the basement recreation area will pass inspection.

All worn-out appliances, broken-down furniture and outgrown or out-moded clothing should be given to a welfare organization for repair and re-use, or discarded. In addition to making the basement look cluttered, such "junk" is a serious fire hazard. Any items worth saving should be stored out-of-sight in a fire-safe place.

* * *

When the floors of the recreation area are cleared of useless debris, start cleaning. If everyone in the family lends a hand, the job won't take so long, nor will it be a backbreaker for any one person.

Assemble the work crew and tools in one place. Have plenty of scrub pails and sturdy scrub brushes for everyone. A couple of brooms will whisk away the worst of the dirt. Then hose down the walls and floor and scrub everything. Be careful not to get water into electrical outlets, fuse boxes or switch boxes.

When everything is dry, begin setting up ping pong tables, snack bars and card tables. Even if the basement has not been converted into a lavish recreation room with panelled walls, tiled floors and elaborate decorations, it can still be the center of a lot of family fun and neighborhood parties.

Market All-Steel Doors

All-steel doors for both front and rear entrances of homes are now being introduced. They're rust-proofed, available in a choice of colors or graining and with glass upper panels optional. The doors are completely insulated, zinc coated and finished in a prime coat of baked-on enamel.

Cities, Suburbs Growing

According to the census bureau, metropolitan centers already are growing four times as fast as other areas — and the suburbs are expanding six times as rapidly as

If you own marble-topped chests or tables, the best way to keep them clean is to wash them at least once a week with hot, soapy water. Follow with clear water and wipe them dry with a cotton towel.

Cater to Housewife During Remodeling

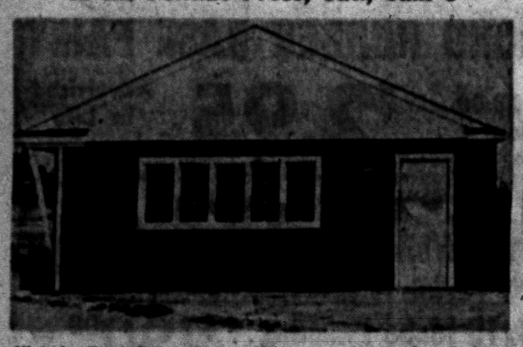

The Appliance Center in Salt Lake City knows what a nuisance it is for the housewife to get meals while her kitchen is being painted, remodeled or installed. So with every complete kitchen installation bought through them they deliver piping hot meals from a nearby restaurant while the work's going on.

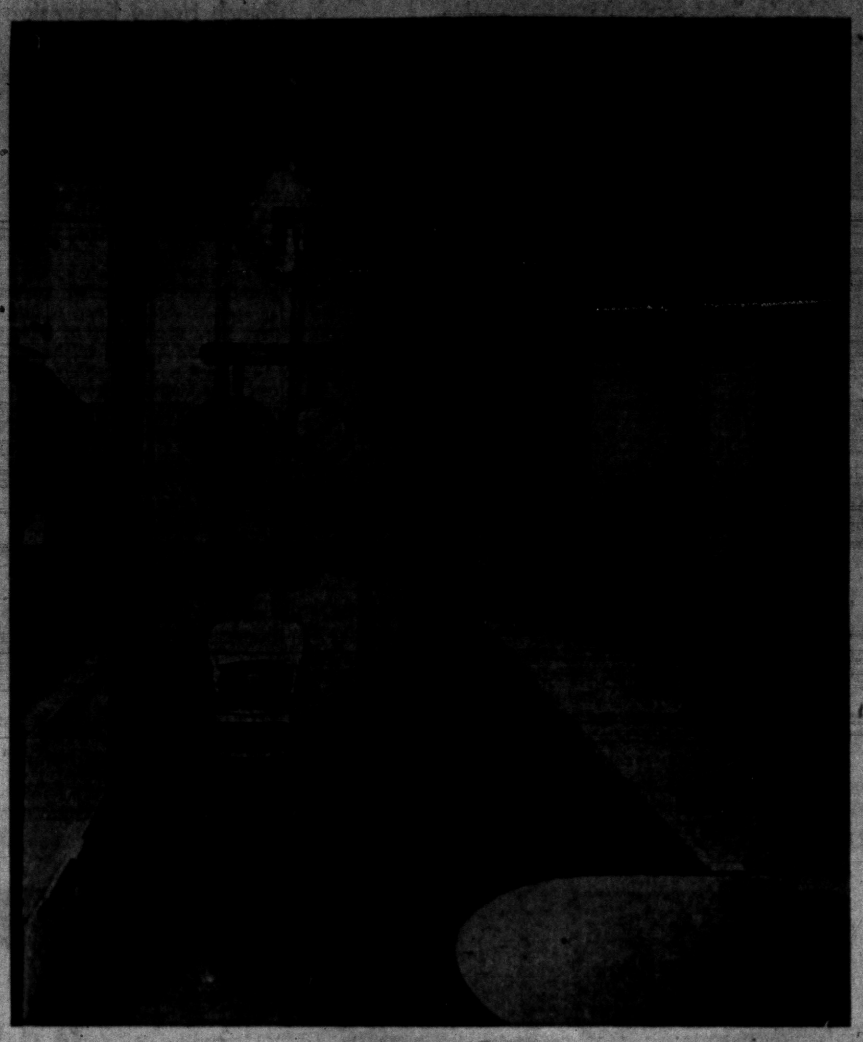

The Dead sea is the lowest spot on the earth.

Soil conservationists are giving serious study to the problem of flash floods which wash away tons of good soil yearly. Additional dams along small streams will be one way the experts will try to solve the problem. Another way farmers can help: Put more land in grass crops.

PINE CABINETS — Built-in cabinets and wall paneling of western pine make the kitchen a pleasant workshop for the modern homemaker. Metal racks on the far wall hold pots and pans of gleaming copper and add an old world touch. Added storage is provided by enclosing the area under the sink with wood that matches the paneling.

Housewife Likes to Work in Kitchen That's Pleasant

Since the average housewife spends a good percentage of her waking hours in the kitchen, and since this room is frequently a gathering place for the family, it is not surprising that considerable attention is being devoted to making it not only a convenient place in which to work, but also a pleasant one.

Whether you are building a new home or remodeling an old one, special attention to kitchen planning and decorating will pay big dividends in comfort. The first step is to sit down with your architect or contractor and draw a rough sketch of the area available.

Decide what functions will be included and then arrange the appliances in the most efficient manner possible. It might even be advisable to make paper cut-outs of stove, refrigerator, sink, dish washer, laundry area, and any other facilities that are to be included.

In making these plans it is wise to consider traffic patterns to be sure that the refrigerator door opens the right way and storage space for utensils is handy to the place where they are most often used. Light is important, also, and the sink or stove should usually be under a window, and adequate wiring and outlets must be provided, so that the many electric gadgets that make work easy can be plugged in without crawling under a cabinet or shelf.

Now, going from the practical to the esthetic considerations, you want a decorative scheme that will make the kitchen a pleasant place in which to work. Wood paneling fills the bill ideally, and has the added advantages of durability and easy maintenance. The ten species of wood from the western pine region are among the most popular materials available today, and justifiably so.

They are economical and easily available and readily accept any type of finish, so that they blend with any color scheme. They are easily waterproofed, so damage from spattering around the stove or sink is no problem.

Ponderosa pine, Idaho white pine, and sugar pine are all available in either knotty or clear grades and in varying widths and paneling patterns. This makes them wonderfully versatile, and is one of the principle reasons for their great popularity. The same is also true of the other seven species—Douglas Fir, Engelmann Spruce, incense cedar, inland red cedar, larch, lodgepole pine, and white fir. Each has its own distinctive coloration, grain effect, and texture.

• • •

Storage space, so essential to a practical kitchen, can be materially increased by enclosing the area under the sink. This provides a spot for waste basket and garbage receptacle and possibly shelves for cleaning equipment. A tall closet for brooms, ironing board and other large items is another convenience. In arranging built-ins it should be remembered that if there are some high cabinets that are out of reach without a step-stool, these should be reserved for seldom-used objects.

Colors Affect Moods

Some colors are stimulating, some are tranquilizing, and others are distinctly depressing. This has been so well recognized in some quarters that in England a bridge of a dark, depressing color from which there had been an unusual number of suicides, was repainted a bright, cheerful yellow in order to raise the spirits of those who might be so inclined.

These small shelves fit neatly between the studs of your garage, where they are out of the way yet handy for storage.

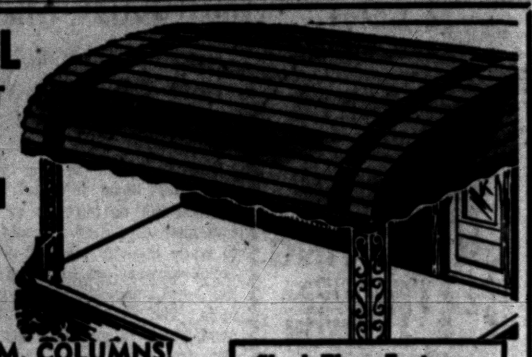

Historical Precedent for Pine Panel Doors

Wood panel doors were first used on the American continent by Spanish dons and Mexican landholders who brought them from Europe. This style was later adopted for ranch homes of the old west.

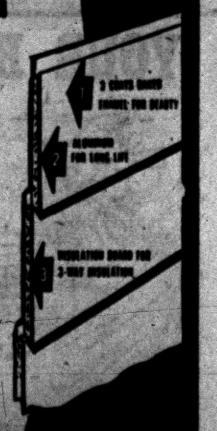

Because of this historical precedent, panel doors of ponderosa pine are correct for modern ranch homes. Many types of these panel doors fit well into the colorful decor of ranch-type homes. A popular style is the "rancho," which has three panels of equal size in symmetrical arrangement, designed especially to harmonize with modern, ranch-style furnishings.

$2,000 DESIGN — John C. Adams of Birmingham received first honors and $2,000 for this sofa and chair in a national upholstered furniture design contest. Mr. Adams is a student at Cranbrook Academy of Art, working on his Master's degree. The judges' comments stated, "Beautifully drawn and presented, these pieces leave no reasonable doubt as to their comfort in use, nor their feasible method of construction and manufacture, even though they will require up-to-date technology in the fabricating of the three laminated plywood trays making up the bodies of the pieces and in the forming of the understructure with its laminated legs and spines and braces of shaped aluminum."

Hardwood Panels Make Bathrooms Clean, Attractive

Telltale marks on the walls of many kitchens and bathrooms bear witness that these areas are the most used and the hardest used in the house.

Splash panels and such devices help, but many home owners find that the only satisfactory solution to keeping kitchen and bathroom walls looking attractive is to cover them completely with a material designed to withstand the abuses of grease, steam, water, food spatters and hard wear.

Widely used for this purpose is predecorated hardboard which has a smooth, hard surface resembling the finish of modern home appliances. A coating of baked melamine plastic protects the plain color or patterned decoration of this paneling, available at lumber yards.

Its finish, fused to a tempered hardboard base, guards the original beauty of kitchen and bathroom walls by denying grease, dust, stains and other matter a secure lodging place. With a damp or sudsy cloth, the paneling can be wiped clean as easily as appliances and fixtures.

The surface of the hardboard is impervious to moisture, and wherever necessary, joints can be sealed to keep out water.

Call Vat Dyes Best

Vat dyes are the best and fastest group of dyes known to modern science. They are so-named because they were first applied in wooden vats, and their discovery and perfection marks an outstanding development in the history of dye research.

The National Association of Real Estate Boards reports that for every new house put on the market in the U.S., two existing homes are sold.

Flush Doors Require Care

Do's and Don'ts Advise Homeowners on Method of Proper Care

Adherence to several basic rules regarding the handling of flush doors will assure satisfaction and long-lasting qualify for the important role of doors in almost any home improvement or expansion project.

Flush doors have been far and away the most popular style in the United States since World War Two accounting for approximately 80 per cent of all doors sold in recent years. They are available in either solid of hollow cores faced on both sides with beautiful hardwood plywood, giving the doors, as the name implies, a flush surface.

Here are some "do's and don'ts" for treatment of flush doors on the job site, as recommended by the National Woodwork Manufacturers Association:

DON'T stand doors on edge or drag them across floor.

DON'T store doors in damp or freshly plastered areas.

DON'T subject doors to abnormal heat, dryness or humidity for prolonged periods.

DON'T use caustic or abrasive materials when cleaning doors.

* * *

DO store doors flat on a level surface in a clean, dry place.

DO handle doors with clean canvas gloves to avoid finger marks and soil stains left on unfinished doors by hands.

DO apply finish as soon as door is fitted.

DO condition doors to prevailing humidity of the locality before hanging.

DO allow approximately 3-16 inch clearance for swelling of door or frame in extremely damp weather.

DO use three hinges for each door, set flush with edge surface, and in a straight line to prevent distortion.

* * *

DO make sure that jambs and stops form a perfectly square frame for doors.

The general rule-of-thumb, the NWMA says, is treat the flush door for what it is—a high-grade, precision-made item of cabinet work.

Psychologists who recently completed a study of male behavior offer this suggestion for keeping husbands at home more: panel at least one room of the house with the same type of rich wood paneling found in exclusive men's clubs.

Small Plastic Vents Prevent Peeling Paint

The problem of paint peeling from the siding on houses because of moisture in the walls is becoming so widespread that plastic vents have been developed to be inserted into each space between studs to allow walls to "breathe."

These vents are tapped with a wooden mallet into ¾-inch holes bored through the siding and sheeting. They have louvered openings and are comparatively inconspicuous when painted. Being plastic, they are rust-proof and non-corrosive.

Rate Hardwood Best

A hardwood floor is rated tops by interior decorators for lending beauty, warmth and color to a room. A new FHA-approved building technique permits strip flooring to be laid over concrete without use of subflooring. This system, featuring the use of 2 x 4-inch lumber screeds embedded in mastic, was designed originally for new homes erected on concrete slabs. But many home owners are adopting the principle to convert dreary basements into cheerful recreation rooms.

Factory-made wood kitchen cabinets are available finished or unfinished, preassembled or in knock-down kits for assembly at home.

Men Do Most Brushing

A recent survey showed that 40 per cent of all indoor painting jobs were done by the men of the family — either husband or son, or father-and-son teams.

Running a mighty close second, however, were the ladies — wives or daughters, or mother-and-daughter teams — who were responsible for 36 per cent of all interior painting projects. The remaining 24 per cent was done by professional painters.

Home furnishing circles are predicting new color schemes featuring near-white backgrounds with dark colors, deepening almost to black, for low key contrast.

Boiler Can Go Inside or Out

Where to put the boiler for a hot water heating system is never a problem.

* * *

With the advent of forced circulation of the heating medium, the boiler can be installed anywhere—in the house or outside of the house.

The boiler may be placed in the basement, in the utility room, in the kitchen, in the attic, or in the garage. In fact, it doesn't need to be in the house or any part of it. It can be located in a separate or detached building, if there is a good reason for doing so.

This flexibility in boiler location is an advantage especially in the case of the sprawling, ranch-type house. When equipped with a pump for the mechanical circulation of the water, the boiler will function efficiently if located at one end of the house.

* * *

Hot water heating has been constantly improved in recent years so that it is today the most flexible of and efficient of all heating systems. Heat may be distributed by baseboards, convectors, panels or radiators.

* * *

The same boiler which heats the house can also be used to heat the domestic faucet water and to melt the show. Furthermore, hot water heating may be teamed up with chilled water cooling for year-around comfort. The same piping which conveys the hot water in winter will carry the chilled water in the summer.

Hi-Fi Set Gives Forth With Alarming Chatter

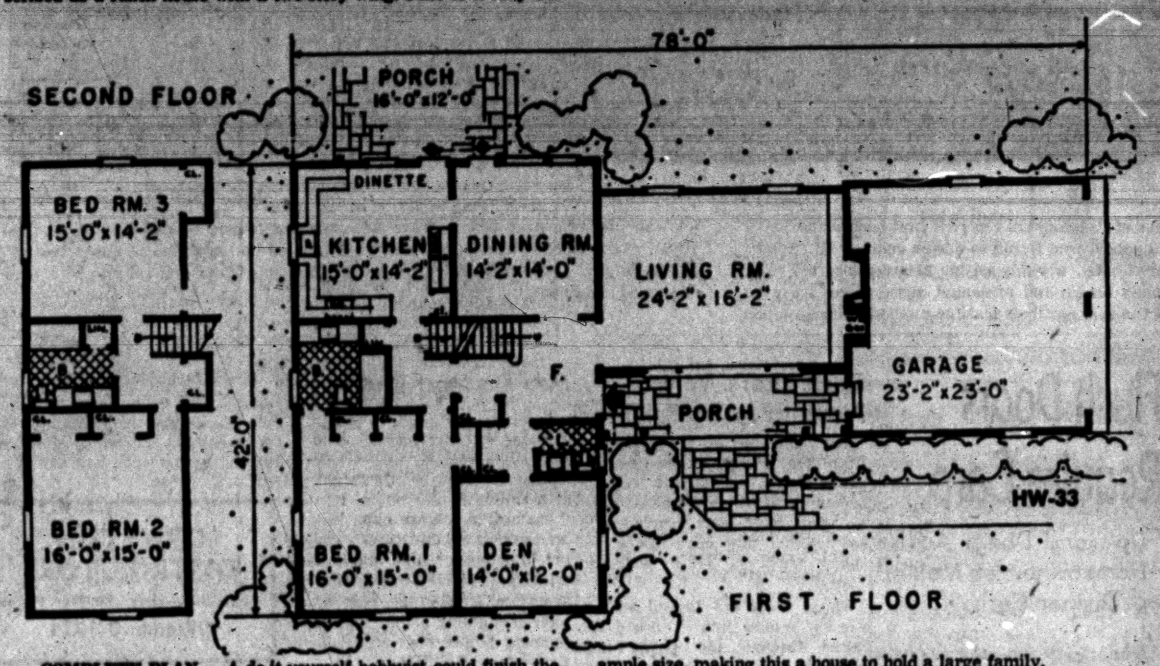

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Victor Barnes called police instead of an electronics specialist when his hi-fi set gave out with unusual noises early yesterday.

* * *

Patrolman Gerald Baker answered the summons. After conferring with Barnes, the officer swaddled the set in a blanket and took it out to the garage. He unveiled it there to free an accidentally imprisoned squirrel.

TWO STORY WING — Traditional stability blends with modern living requirements in this picturesque design. It might be described as a ranch house with a two-story wing. Part of it may be finished as needed by the home owner, or the entire house may be built at once.

COMPLETE PLAN — A do-it-yourself hobbyist could finish the den and upstairs bedrooms in his spare time. All the rooms are of ample size, making this a house to hold a large family.

The trays and troughs are made from Do-It-Yourself sheet aluminum, which can be cut with an ordinary scissors. First measure the distance between two studs for the tray length. Add 1" on either end to form the end tabs. Carefully lay out the patterns and cut them to shape. Bend them up along the dotted lines and fold the flaps to form the ends.

* * *

Now simply slip them between the studs and nail them in place. Allow about 8" between each shelf for clearance.

Sewers Serve 98 Millions

But Growing Demands Place Heavy Burdens on Present System

About 98,000,000 persons are served today by the nation's present sewer facilities. Ten years from now at least 115,000,000 people will be served by plants that will handle an average of 190 gallons for each person. All the country's sewer systems today are worth $19,370,000,000. By 1956 the value will need to be $29,000,000,000.

* * *

Sewerage and water works today are valued at more than $42,000,000,000. To meet requirements of 1956, the systems will have to be worth $61,000,000,000.

Where's the money coming from? That's the big question. Let's look at some of the suggested possibilities.

Water and sewerage plants are operating with the handicap of higher costs without much increase in income. The cost of building, and operating plants, for example, has gone up nearly three times since 1940. Water rates, however, have gone up only 20 per cent.

Water plant income for the past year probably is about $1,180,000,000. If the rates were to be increased about a third, the debt for expansion could probably be paid off in 30 years.

* * *

The solution for sewers is more difficult. Most are not now self-supporting and vast clay pipe systems are badly needed to serve the people. The cost of financing is often paid by tax collections. For the sewers to pay for themselves would first require establishing a user fee. Some localities have done this.

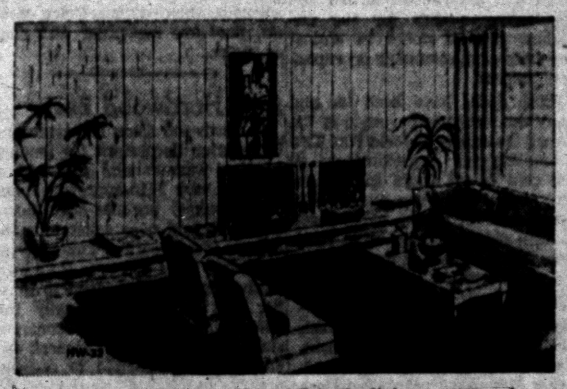

* * *

Perhaps overshadowing the urgency for long-range planning, in many communities, is the demand that something be done immediately. This often leads to installing inferior material which is merely a temporary solution to the problem, and proves costly later.

Expensive as sewage disposal is, there is no salvation other than the installation of adequate facilities to meet the growing demand.

Fine Cabinet Wood

The uniform grain and smooth surface of ponderosa pine makes this wood popular for kitchen cabinets. The wood is especially attractive when stained. Pine doors and windows of ponderosa pine also are often stained to take advantage of the natural beauty of wood in room decorations.

FIREPLACE WALL — This wall in the living room can be paneled in pine. As shown here, the fireplace is a modern one with a built-in wood storage unit next to it.

Use Harmonized Colors

Modern farmers know they make their farmstead appear larger and more attractive by using the same colors on all structures. These colors, of course, should be ones that harmonize. All buildings need not have the same-colored roofs, bodies and trim. The best idea is to select two or more colors and repeat them on various surfaces. This way you can bring barn, silo, milkhouse, chicken house, and all other farm structures into color harmony with the dwelling itself.

Fine Materials in Today's Home

Engineers who design improved building materials deserve much of the credit for the comfort, convenience and durability of today's homes.

Modern materials often are easier to handle, give better and longer service, and look better than the materials they have superseded. Yet frequently they are less costly and rquire less time and labor to install.

Good examples are modern floor tile, plastic counter surfacing products, interior paints and some types of wallpaper. All these are decorative, take all kinds of wear, are easy to apply and are easy to clean.

Many newer types of exterior siding have color built in and never need painting. Most of these are fire-resistant and come in sheets which can be applied quickly without special skill.

* * *

Prefabricated materials have made it possible to build homes with greater speed and at less labor cost. Some of these are prefinished wallboard and wood paneling, window and door units, and various plumbing and electrical assemblies.

Even swimming pools are available in complete prefabricated packages, ready for assembly.

Roofing ranks high as an engineered product. Research over the years has made asphalt shingles fire resistant, and colorful and has given them stouter weathering ability and longer life.

* * *

This research has led to a construction technique which makes it possible for asphalt shingles to be applied on roofs with slopes as low as 2 inches per foot. As a result, homes with nearly flat roofs now can be made more modern in appearance with colorful roofing.

Is your garage detached from your house? If so, you may notice that in rainy weather you are tracking up your entranceway with mud. This may be remedied by building a weatherproof quarry tile walk from the garage and a tiled entrance to the house. Mud, weather stains, even freezing and thawing will not harm quarry tile.

Flexible Home Plan Helps Cut Initial Building Costs

A house you can finish on a do-it-yourself basis—one you can be proud of in any neighborhood and that will have a good resale value at any state of completion — has been selected as Design HW-33 for The House of The Week.

This is a plan to combat high building costs and shortages in skilled labor by providing a variety of options for a homeowner who has the inclination and time to take over easy phases of finishing.

At the same time, this plan offers newlyweds or any small family space for exapnsion even if they have no liking for do-it-yourself projects.

The cost of having only one more room finished at a time, when and as you need it, is not a great burden.

Of course, you can contract for the construction of the mere shell of any house. But too often that results in a long period of waiting until you get all rooms finished. It is not easy to find a plan wholly attractive to families wanting a completed house and still find it adaptable to part-time finishing—with unfinished rooms kept concealed in the meantime.

That is one reason Design HW-33 is unusual.

AMERICAN IN SPIRIT

Strikingly attractive in appearance, this house is thoroughly American in spirit and style. It reflects the tradition of old colonial farmhouses that grew with wings and additions as succeeding generations brought more affluence to the family. It might be described as a ranch house with a two-story wing.

The two-story portion is a secret in its economy. The first floor provides 1,682 square feet of livable space. This is a medium size. The second floor adds 670 square feet. Combined, these would give you 2,352 square feet, which would be quite a large and were on one level.

In some ways this arrangement has advantages over split-level to climb except to reach two secondary bedrooms. These rooms meet preferences of those who want bedrooms removed from the ground level, and still you are not compelled to have half of your house upstairs . The main part of this house is on one floor—luxury apartment style.

* * *

Derick B. Kipp, architect of distinctive homes, has designed the interior as smartly as the facade. Rooms are large throughout. There would be no crowding in this dining room by a family needing all three or four bedrooms. Also, every room is a dead-end room. A central foyer guards this privacy by eliminating any need for passage through rooms. This is the key to options for part-time finishing.

ADVANTAGES MANY

Here are major advantages in this plan:

Option 1 — This house can be built fully finished with three bedrooms, a den suitable for a fourth bedroom, two bathrooms and a powder room lavatory.

Option 2—Yo could build the shell, have only the living room, dining room, kitchen and master bedroom finished, close off the den, and the upstairs and occupy the house as a oe-bedroom dwelling. Even the powder room lavatory could have plumbing lines roughed in, be used temporarily as a closet, and finished later.

* * *

Option 3—The entire first floor can be finished as a complete two-bedroom house with the second story left as an ace-in-the-hole expansion attic.

Option 4—One upstairs bedroom could be finished at a time with the other serving as attic storage space. The upstairs bathroom should have plumbing lines rough in when the house is built, since this bathroom is directly above the private bath for the master bedroom—a thoughtful economy in design.

FINISHING SIMPLIFIED

House finishing has been simplified for amateurs by all leading manufacturers. You can get complete instructions from dealers in plywoods, gypsum wallboard, insulation and insulation boards, floor coverings, pre-trimmed and prepasted wallpapers, quick-drying and odorless paints, plastic tile, aluminum or steel tile, even clay tile which can be pasted on the wall with new waterproof adhesives.

In fact, it would be fun to finish a new house, as well as economical if you have the will. A word to the wise, however, is: Don't start something you can't complete.

No Basement Is Necessary

DESIGN HW-33 can be built on a concrete slab, over a crawl space, or over a basement.

The decorative chimney housing on the roof of the two-story wing indicates a place for a prefabricated chimney which could serve a heating or air conditioning plant in a utility room taking the place of the cellar stairs. Closet in kitchen would accommodate flue.

An alternative would be to use a cupola on the high roof and place heating plant in garage storage space next to fireplace chimney, California style.

Prefab Houses Gain in Quality

Prefabricated housing is gaining wide acceptance in the United States.

This is due, real estate men report, to the vast improvement in design and construction of prefab homes—the major, bulk parts of which are manufactured and packaged in plants for shipment to building sites.

Leading prefab manufacturers are retaining reputable architects to design new models for them. This is resulting in a wide range of house styles and the increased use of quality materials such as ceramic tile, copper piping, seasoned wood, native brick and stone.

This development not only is improving the acceptability of prefabricated housing but also is influencing on-site builders to raise their sights. For example, the latter are using better plans, more precut materials.

In prefab design, manufacturers are striving to please varied tastes. As a result, there are many new contemporary models as well as colonial types.

In construction, the emphasis is on quality materials. Some prefab houses now include improved and pre-assembled plumbing equipment, ceramic tiled floors and walls in both kitchen and bath.

The big advantage of prefab housing, of course, is economy and speed of construction. Usually, the basic ingredients of a prefab house may be delivered overnight within a radius of 250 miles, for almost immediate construction.

Prefab manufacturers, while concentrating on the family housing market, nevertheless are seeking new outlets for production. These include military housing units, motels, schools and clinics.

New Cooling Coil

Worthington Corp. claims that its new V-type cooling coil makes it easier and up to 5 per cent less expensive to add central air conditioning to a home with a forced air heating system. The product is said to be easy to install atop a warm air furnace without major changes in ductwork required by previous coils.

New Water Repellent for Wood Windows

Chemistry and nature have been combined by millwork manufacturers to make modern wood windows and exterior doors tough to resist even the harshest weather.

This treatment, in accordance with standards of the National Woodwork Manufacturers Association, has no effect on the appearance of the window or door and does not affect the ability of the wood to take paint or varnish.

The preservative is used on all ponderosa pine double-hung windows qualifying for the American Wood Window Institute's Seal of Approval.

Dual Role for Door—Beauty With Utility

When a storm door does nothing but keep out cold it doesn't belong on the front entrance of a home, says Beatrice West, New York color stylist.

"A front entrance," says Miss West, "is one of the most conspicuous areas of the house. It offers the initial welcome and must be warm and friendly."

For this reason, the color stylist points out, a combination storm and screen door should have the dual role of beauty and utility. Wood doors of ponderosa pine meet this requirement because they can be stained or painted to harmonize with the front entrance. This makes the combination door enhance the appearance of the house, rather than detract from it.

Wood Paneling Popular

Most builders regard wood kitchen cabinets as a "secret weapon" for making their homes more saleable. The ability of wood kitchen cabinets to withstand heavy abuse is only one feature, they point out. Equally important is the tendency of wood cabinets to liven up a kitchen area, giving even the modestly-priced development home a custom touch.

Brighten Chair Backs

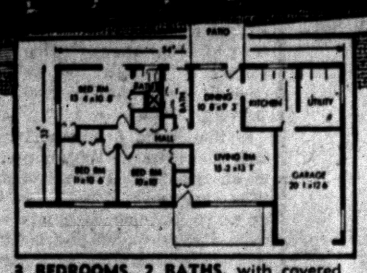

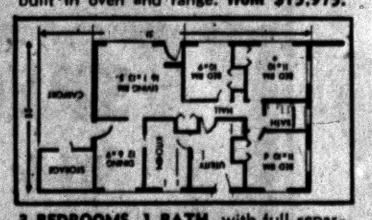

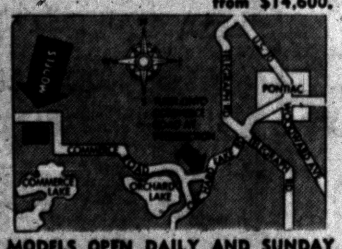

Dining room chair backs often face you as you enter the room and zippered closings can be monotonous. Sew two rows of buttons, one on each side of the zipper and lace with heavy Venetian blind cord. It is an interesting camouflage for the zipper closure and presents an elegant back to visitors.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

FOUR BEDROOMS and a built-in garage designed to fit on a 40-foot lot make this plan the answer to family needs in centrally located neighborhoods where land is an item. With a floor area of only 1,250 square feet, this should be an economical house to build. Width including garage is only 31½ feet; depth 58 feet. This is plan D-1641 by Yester Cohen, Architects' Home Plan Bureau, Box 141, Bethlehem, Conn.

Replace China Faucet Handles for Safer Metal

You should modernize for safety as well as for utility, beauty, and convenience.

Take china faucet handles, for instance. Many older homes, apartments, and hotels still have china handles on faucets and valves. They should be replaced by faucets with metal handles because porcelain or china handles are easily broken and are a hazard.

A case in point is the injury sustained by Ransom Jackson, third baseman for the Brooklyn Dodgers. "Randy" gashed his thumb on a porcelain handle in a shower at his hotel.

Many years ago the plumbing industry realized the hazards of porcelain faucet handles. New plumbing fixtures have not been equipped with china faucet handles for many years.

All new faucets and fittings are now equipped with handles made of chromium plated brass. They are sturdy and will not break.

The plumbing industry recommends the replacement of all existing china faucet and valve handles with metal handles. In most cases the entire unit is probably so old that it should be replaced.

Partitions Offer Built-In Storage

Homemakers with their backs to the wall over the storage problem may actually be very close to a solution.

This solution is built into the popular modern home with roof truss construction. Walls in such houses are not load-bearing. Why not then make use of the space in these partitions for built-in storage?

Besides defining areas of activity in the home, partitions may be used for open or enclosed space for shelves, drawers and walk-in closets. Storage units can be arranged side-by-side or back-to-back to face into one or two rooms. In planning partitions, therefore, consider these pointers on storage:

1. Accessibility of contents. Closets should be shallow enough to reach items without rearranging the contents. Full opening fronts give freer access than door-in-wall closets.

2. Location. Storage units ideally are near the place their contents are needed. For example, toilet articles such as shaving gear should rate space in a cabinet over the ceramic tile counter surrounding the bathroom lavatory.

* * *

3. Flexibility. Adjustable shelves and drawers make it possible to adapt storage space to a variety of articles and help in meeting the changing needs of growing families.

5. Simplicity. Storage units and their compartments should be sized to dimensions that are modular. (The basic unit of measurement, to which building materials and room dimensions are co-ordinated, is four inches. This is referred to as a module). Costs are reduced by using modular dimensions and building materials.

Zoned Heating System Urged

In view of rising fuel prices, the economy features of zoning the heating system have become more important. Zoning permits different temperatures in different parts of a house.

For example, the living room and dining room can be kept warmer than the bedrooms which are used principally for sleeping and do not require as much heat. Or, in a long ranch-type house, the wing exposed to cold north winds can be zoned to receive extra heat.

Thus there is a significant effect on fuel consumption, the Plumbing and Heating Industries Bureau points out. No fuel is wasted in supplying heat where it is not needed or in providing more heat than is required.

Zoning a hot water heating system requires little extra efuipment. The pipe mains are divided into as many zones as required and the flow of water through each zone is governed by a thermostatically controlled booster pump.

Thus there is an individual thermostat for each zone. This takes into consideration the fact that it is impossible for one thermostat, no matter how centrally located, to control the heating or cooling for an entire house.

Oak floors ordinarily last the life of the house in which they are installed.

ORPHAN FINDS A HOME — "Penny," tiny white Chihuahua owned by Mrs. E. Houston of Minneapolis, doesn't realize the big job she took on when she adopted "Skipper," four-day-old black Yorkshire terrier. But it won't be long before the youngster towers over his little foster mother. Skipper was orphaned when his own mother refused to pay any attention to him after the death of the other two offspring in the litter. United Press Photo

Center Site Gift

Site Gift for Center Okayed at Romeo

ROMEO—The gift of a five acre parcel of land offered by Mr and Mrs. W. F. Sheetz of West Gates street as the site for a civic center here was accepted last night by the Romeo Building Authority Commission.

The property is located on the west side of Morton street, across from Memorial Stadium.

Another action taken by the Commission last night was to appoint two members to act as a liason committee between local organizations and the commission in scheduling fund-raising activities for the proposed center.

Dr. Sherman M. Harding and George E. McKeough will work with the groups planning to stage benefits to add funds to the building coffers.

To date, the R. C. Mahon Foundation of which Sheetz is vice president, has contributed $3,000; the Community Chest, $1,500 and the Romeo Monday Club, $345 to the project.

Other groups have sponsored benefits but have not turned in receipts to the commission.

Local excavating contractors were to be contacted today to determine how much fill dirt will be needed on the new site had what portion of it will be donated.

Plumbing and heating contractors have already offered their services and the commission hopes to receive volunteer help from masons, carpenters and bricklayers, as soon as construction begins.

Materials for the building are already stored here in the village, the commission reported.

The commission will report its progress and plans to a general meeting of representatives of over 30 organizations at 8 p.m. next Friday, in the Village Hall. Next step will be to draft preliminary plans for the proposed building the group said.

Steel panels, to be used in the building's construction, were contributed by the R. C. Mahon Co. of Detriot, a building fabricating company also headed by Sheetz.

Officials Reach Agreement on Utica Track Crossing

UTICA — Final agreement has been reached between the New York Central Railroad, the City of Utica, and the State Highway Dept. in connection with the construction of a grade separation to carry the New York Central Railroad tracks over M-59 relocated in Utica.

The agreement was approved by the Attorney General and has been signed by all three interested parties and submitted to the Michigan Public Service Commission for approval and issuance of an order authorizing and ordering construction.

The relocation of M59 proceeds west from downtown Utica crosses the Clinton River on a new bridge which was completed in September, and proceeds on west to Mound Road which will provide a temporary connection north to existing M-59.

On the relocation between the Clinton River and the west city limits of Utica, a grade separation is also planned, which will carry Utica Road over M-59. It is also necessary to build a pump house between the two grade separations.

All three projects will be let under one contract in the early spring for completion in 1958.

When construction starts, a temporary connection will be provided between Utica Road and existing M-59, so that traffic will not be interrupted during the period of construction. M-59 relocated in Utica will also connect with the detour just east of the construction area.

The portion of M-59 relocated from downtown Utica westerly to the temporary connection between Utica Road and existing M-59 was placed under contract in August for grading and drainage structures and dual lane 44-foot concrete paving to be completed in 1957.

$27,000,000 Total for Novi Permits

Township Enjoys Great Year in Building With Big Boost From Plant

NOVI TOWNSHIP — Reflecting the population growth in Oakland County, Novi Township enjoyed its biggest building boom during 1956.

Figures released by Cameron Lodge, township building inspector, showed a total of 357 building permits being issued during the year for a record total estimated cost of construction of about $27,000,000.

The grand total was boosted considerably by the issuance of a permit for the new Lincoln plant being erected by the Ford Motor Company.

Residential construction proceeded at a fast pace throughout the year with about 250 new homes being built.

Fastest growing section was Willowbrook Village situated at 10-Mile Road and Meadowbrook. About 150 new homes have sprung up in the Willowbrook area which contains about 900 lots. About 600 of the lots are still vacant, providing ample room for more homes in the future.

In addition to Willowbrook Village, there were four subdivisions being developed. New homes were built in Northville Estates, Connemara Hills, Brookland Farms No. 1 and in Meadowbrook Manor.

Lakeville Man Heads Romeo Church Slate

ROMEO—New moderator of the First Congregational Church is Walter Parsons of Lakeville. He was elected during the annual business meeting Thursday.

Named as clerk was Mrs. Howard Ostrander; financial secretary, Mrs. Harold Wills; current expense treasurer, Dr. Ralph G. Renwick, and assistant current expense treasurer, Kathryn Rowley.

Mrs. Merton E. Rowley will serve as benevolence treasurer during the coming year, and Donald B. Chubb and Kenneth Mosher will be church auditors. Mrs. Lafayette Bates was re-elected necrologist.

Elected to the board of deacons for three-year terms were John White and John Truax. Deaconesses for like terms are Mrs. Albert West, Mrs. Neil Buzzell, Mrs. Kroll and Mrs. Truax.

Named to serve three years as trustees were Harold Wills, James Church and Howard Jelsch.

Avon Twp. Unit Chooses Slate

Jan. 16 Special Vote; Extend Tax Deadline to Feb. 28

ROCHESTER — The Avon Township Board here this week named chairmen of precincts for the forthcoming special election on Jan. 16 to determine whether or not a 30-year franchise will be granted The Consumers' Power Company in Avon Township.

Voting will be held in all six precincts with polls opening at 7 a.m. and closing at 8 p.m. Chairmen are: Pct. No. 1, Elmer Leblond; No. 2, L. L. Whims; No. 3, Henry Duff; No. 4, John Albertson; No. 5, Arthur Dear and No. 6, Irvin Sheldon.

Township Treasurer Helen V. Allen announced that the collection of taxes on real property in Avon Township will be extended to and including Feb. 28 without penalty.

Township Attorney L. R. Bebout was authorized by the board to prepare petitions prohibiting hunting in Avon Township.

The low bid of $505 for electrical installations on the new water tank was awarded to the Rogers Electric Co. of Pontiac.

Full Dem Slate Vies in Springfield Feb. 18

DAVISBURG—For the first time in approximately 15 years Springfield Township has a full Democratic slate of candidates for the coming primary election on Feb. 18.

Seventeen candidates vie for the 14 offices open in the township, as follows:

Supervisor ..... Roland G. Harmes
Clerk ..... Lucille Morgan and Eleanor Ward
Treasurer ..... Allen Whittingham
Trustee ..... Cynthia K. Nelsey and Harold Rieux
Justice of Peace ..... Odin Johnson
Board of Review ..... Carl Jubelt and Charles Swift
Constables ..... Lawrence Hartman, Earl Hoover, Don Turner and Albert Viney
Highway Commissioner ..... Gordon E. Black
Park Commission ... Edmund Jenks, Floyd Virgin and Norris Walls

For the three vacancies on the Democratic Township Committee are Roland Harmes, Harold Hutchinson and Cynthia K. Nelsey.

It is called to the attention of the voters that Jan. 21 is the last day to register for the primary election.

Oxford Board Approves Stoney Lake Park Plan

OXFORD — Oxford Township Board has approved the recommendations presented by the Oxford Township Park Planning committee in regard to the further development of Stoney Lake Park.

The park is composed of only 13 acres. The Planning Committee suggested the park be limited to Oxford residents and their guests.

Present plans call for approval by the voters at the April election.

Altar Society Installs

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — St. Patrick Altar Society installed new officers in a recent ceremony conducted by Mrs. Clarence Chapman of Berkley, past president of the Northwestern Deanery Council of Catholic Women. Appointments and committees were named by the new president, Mrs. C. Stanley Freville.

BISHOP REED

Bishop M. Reed to Be at St. Paul

To Talk at 2 Services; Dedicate New Manse; Dr. Smith Guest Too

ROCHESTER — The leader of Michigan Methodism, The Rt. Rev. Marshall Reed, will come to St. Paul Methodist Church here Sunday as guest preacher.

Bishop Reed, with a wealth of background through extensive world travel, will talk at both the 9 and 11 a.m. services. He will be assisted by the local pastor, J. Douglas Parker.

In the afternoon, the Bishop will conduct the dedication services for the new Methodist parsonage at 632 Romeo St., beginning at 2 p.m.

Open house will be held at the parsonage from 2 to 5:30 p.m. The pastor and his family have been living in the new home since Dec. 19.

Dr. Arthur Smith, Port Huron district superintendent of the Methodist church, will also be present and assist in the dedication services.

Troy Drops Option for Civic Center Site

TROY—Scheduled to expire on Jan. 1, an option for the purchase of a 50-acre tract for a Troy Civic Center has been dropped.

Commissioners felt the property, at the corner of Wattles and Livernois roads, was too costly a venture to attempt at this time. They also said they felt the tract was larger than needed.

Another 90-day option has been granted a realty firm, whose officials have indicated that it may be sold to a home-development concern. Following Troy's plan for half-acre sites, the area can provide for 100 new homes.

Named to Oxford Council

OXFORD—Edmund Unger of the Oxford Greenhouses was appointed to the village council at the last meeting. He will finish the unexpired term of Robert Brower, who recently resigned.

Future Meeting to Consider Library Addition

ROCHESTER — A joint meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Woodward Memorial Library and the Library Committee of the Rochester Woman's Club was held here this week to discuss a library expansion program.

As more stack room is definitely needed in the library, the question of using the present assembly room for an additional book room was discussed.

Inasmuch as the assembly room is constantly being used by clubs and other organizations and only seats about 80 persons, the thought was that it might be possible to build an addition to the present building which could be used for assemblies as well as Scout work and other youth meetings.

Another meeting will be held in the near future when representatives of the various organizations and civic groups will be invited to attend a discussion meeting.

4-H Parents to Join Youth on Thursday

GINGELLVILLE — Parents are invited to join their 4-H sons and daughters, if they desire, for the general meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. in Gingellville Community Center.

* * *

Projects of food preparation and sewing by the girls, and handicraft and electric by the boys are progressing under the guidance of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Geeck.

To Show Martin Luther

METAMORA—The film "Martin Luther" will be shown at the Hadley Federated Church on Sunday evening at 7:30. The public is invited.

Joslyn Ave. Group Host to Singspiration

Young people of Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church will be hosts at 9:15 p.m. Sunday to Oakland Youth Fellowship "Singspiration." The church is located at Joslyn and Third avenues.

Dave Simpson and Phyllis Coons will team up as song leader and pianist.

Douglas Brown, Eugene and Glyn Stone, trumpet trio of the Memorial Baptist Church, will present special music accompanied by Linda Langford at the piano.

State Agricultural Need to Be Discussion Topic

Pineau Expected to Push for U.S. Support on Suez

WASHINGTON (AP)—French Foreign Minister Christian Pineau is expected to seek American support today for a drive to speed agreement with Egypt on future use of the Suez Canal.

Pineau came here from United Nations headquarters in New York to confer with Secretary of State Dulles.

* * *

He and other French leaders are reported to fear that unless some agreements can be worked out with Egypt before the canal is cleared of obstructions, the user countries will lose much of their bargaining power.

With the clearance expenses being at least temporarily borne by Western nations, Pineau reportedly feels that the user countries are in a much stronger bargaining position now than they will be after the wreckage is removed. The job is expected to be completed in May.

* * *

Pineau's view is said to be that unless some kind of agreement can be reached before the canal is ready to operate, Nasser may bar British and French vessels from passage.

Army Probes Death of Ironwood Man

FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP) — An Army board investigated today the gunshot death of Sgt. 1.C. Richard D. Osborne, 33, a member of the 937th engineering group.

Osborne died at the post hospital Wednesday night after he was found in his barracks with a bullet wound in the head. A .22 caliber revolver containing one discharged shell was found nearby.

The Army listed the next of kin as his mother, Mrs. Kate Osborne of Ironwood, Mich.

Poet T. S. Eliot, 68, Weds Secretary, 30

LONDON (AP) — T. S. Eliot, 68-year-old Nobel Prize-winning poet was honeymooning somewhere in Europe today with his 30-year-old secretary.

American-born Eliot and Valerie Fletcher were married secretly yesterday at St. Barnabas Church. The 6:15 a.m. ceremony was performed by the vicar, the Rev. Charles Wright, and the only guests were Eliot's lawyer G. F. Higginson and the bride's parents.

Eliot's first wife was a ballet dancer, Vivienna Haigh, whom he married in 1915. She died in 1947.

Prime Minister Choosing Aides

Macmillan Predicts His New Government to Be Set Soon

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan continued his intense efforts today to line up his new government and predicted confidently his task will be completed this weekend.

Queen Elizabeth II is interrupting a holiday to be at Buckingham Palace tomorrow, presumably to receive and give formal approval to the list of new ministers.

The new Prime Minister was wished good luck last night by Sir Winston Churchill, whose advice is believed to have influenced the Queen to choose Macmillan as Sir Anthony Eden's successor.

After a three-hour dinner session with Churchill, Macmillan said he had "supped at the fount of all wisdom."

* * *

There were predictions Macmillan would make many changes in the cabinet inherited from Eden. All day yesterday, the Prime Minister interviewed key ministers of the old Eden administration in assemblyline fashion, telling some they are being promoted and others they are being demoted or dropped entirely.

The opposition Labor Party raised the possibility that the fact the Queen was forced to choose between Macmillan and Richard A. Butler might involve her innocently in a political controversy.

Macmillan, former Chancellor of the Exchequer, is regarded as a member of the Conservatives' right wing while Butler, Lord Privy Seal, is classed in the more liberal faction.

Party leaders today again came up with a polite demand for a new national election to let the people — not the Queen — decide who should run the government.

With painstaking effort to avoid any criticism of the young Queen herself, the party chiefs announced they were calling a new meeting of policy planners to discuss the method of selection.

Byrd Cancels Plans to Go to Antarctica

WASHINGTON (AP)— Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd, the veteran polar explorer, has canceled plans to join an American expedition in the Antarctic this month.

A Navy spokesman said last night Byrd will remain here, to supervise preparation of legislation which would set up a Presidential commission to coordinate all polar operations.

Capt. Charles V. Lanman, chief of staff of the Navy's Antarctic program, said the proposed commission would serve as a "central clearing house" for explorations.

CHECK FOR MEXICO AGENCY — Karl Bailey of Pontiac (above right), district horticultural agent for the local Cooperative Extension Service, hands a check to Licenciado Ricardo Rivera of Mexico City, president of the board of managers of the Camohmila branch of the YMCA. The gift represents subscriptions from many organizations in southeastern Michigan, toward the purchase of a jeep for the area to be used in agricultural demonstrations at a rural youth school conducted by the "Y" in the Valley of Tepoztian, near Cuernavaca, Mexico. Rivera, one of Mexico's leading attorneys, is working on the project with R. L. Lewis, former 4-H agent from Oakland County, who now works with rural Mexican youth.

Reds Trying to Pacify Satellites

Why Chou Visits Poland?

MOSCOW (AP) — The Kremlin seems to be throwing increasing weight into the effort to keep the Communist satellites in line.

Poland is the center of attention right now. One aim of Red Chinese Premier Cho en-Lai's current visit to Warsaw apparently is to try and convince the restless Poles the interests of world communism take precedence over the national interests of individual Communist countries.

* * *

This is the line the Kremlin laid down when it sent Soviet troops to quell the uprising in Hungary.

(Poland won a measure of independence from Moscow in a political upheaval in October that preceded the Hungarian revolution by a week. The "nationalist" power is openly bidding for economic aid from the United States and Western sources.

* * *

(Chou went to Warsaw yesterday direct from talks in the Kremlin. He immediately assailed the United States and urged that Poland line up solidly with the rest of the Soviet-led Communist bloc.

Diplomatic activity in Moscow has been intense in the two months since unrest exploded into violence in Hungary.

* * *

Chou spent three days conferring with Soviet leaders before going to Warsaw. Premier Janos Kadar of Hungary came here to join the talks Thursday—a rather surprising development since the Chinese premier is scheduled to visit Budapest in mid-January, before returning to Moscow.

January Car Output May Top December's

DETROIT (AP)— Ward's Automotive Reports said today 146,527 passenger cars are scheduled for completion this week and that January assemblies are running on a schedule that will top December by eight per cent.

This week's 146,527 output compares with 91,130 units last week, which was holiday shortened. In the same 1956 week 150,030 cars were made.

January output, the statistical agency said, is programmed for 647,000 units, against 597,083 in December.

There is less overtime emphasis in the auto industry this week, Ward's said, adding that this undoubtedly reflects "an expected softening in the industry's post-introduction buildup pace, plus an adjustment to sales trends."

This week's truck output was forecast at 19,574 units, compared to 11,087 last week and 24,712 in th same 1956 week.

Canadian passenger car production this week was estimated to be 9,820 and trucks, 1,297. The figures were 5,607 and 957 last week.

In the same week a year ago Canadian production was 6,009 and 1,026.

Tunnel of Death, Sealed 13 Years, Opened in Italy

ANCONA, Italy (AP) — Ancona's tunnel of death has been opened for the first time in 13 years. Authorities who looked inside said the bodies of 500 aid raid victims there probably never could be identified.

The victims died in an allied air raid Nov. 11, 1943, when a bomb exploded at the entrance of a city prison tunnel. It had been built as a shelter for prisoners and children of two nearby institutions. But residents of the whole area had crowded inside during the raid.

The entrance was bricked over and sealed after rescue crews dug into the shelter and found no survivors. Civil authorities authorized the opening of the tunnel yesterday for examination preliminary to transfer of the skeletons to cemeteries.

Trees Stand Like Skeletons

Winds Wearing Down Land and Men, Too, in Colorado

(This is the last of six articles describing the human drama and economic devastation President Eisenhower will see when he tours the Great Plains drought area starting Sunday.)

By CHARLES DENTON

PUEBLO, Colo. (INS) — The scythe of destruction wielded across Southeastern Colorado by seven years of drought has mercilessly slashed both the crops and those who toiled to grow them.

Across thousands of rolling acres south of Pueblo, once a prosperous dry land wheat farming area, almost nothing seems alive today.

The people, vegetation and even the earth itself has fled before the combined assault of season after season without moisture and winds that howl down from the mountains and brush the plains into an all but impenetrable dust bowl.

In the 15,000-acre Broadacres district, which President Eisenhower may tour when he visits this drought-stricken area next week, an estimated 90 per cent of the farmers have surrendered to nature.

Some of their homes have been taken over by families who desire only shelter and ask nothing of the land. But most of them stand staring vacantly at the ruins of a country so barren it appears that a great battle must have been fought across it.

LAST CROP IN 1948

Much of the land has not even been cultivated in years—the last paying crop raised in the area was in 1948—and even the plow furrows have been erased by the wind.

Erosion has blown walls as high as four feet along roads as the wind moves the topsoil like a mischievous child in a sandbox.

Here and there the skeleton of a tree rises from the earth like a forgotten sentinel guarding an area once so proud that its owners erected twin pillars at its entrance proclaiming that this was Broadacres farms.

Some, in the flush of pre-drought prosperity, even built barns with picturesque cupolas barns now empty and crumbling. What once were stout wire fences are now buried in dust, and equipment stands decaying and sand-covered in some fields.

Few of the farmers who have tenaciously refused to leave the sterile land to take jobs elsewhere are attempting to grow anything.

They have placed their land in the soil bank, which pays them only about $6 an acre, and hope to wait nature out.

One of these is Bud Davis, a handsome young farmer who lives with his wife and three sons in a picture-book, red-roofed farm house stained brown by the flying dust.

Davis has 4,900 acres of land, but he has not even tried to "make" a crop since 1954.

"The one I tried in 1954 failed completely," he said wearily. "A year ago I went out to disc some land with the idea that it just might rain and we could try again.

"It was as dry as ashes. I just gave up on it. I've put all but about 1,200 acres in the soil bank, and now we're just waiting. About all the payments will do is keep me from being forced to the wall, but that's something now."

Davis scratched a match on the sole of his cowboy boot and lit a cigarette reflectively.

"I used to have some cattle, too, but I had to get rid of them. Couldn't afford to feed them. One good thing, though; it hasn't blown much this year. Last year one time I was out doing some work and it got to blowing the dust around so bad we had to quit—couldn't see a thing."

Yet Davis, at least, has not felt the last of his optimism drain away into the arid earth.

"Give us about 30 days of good rainfall — just 30 days," he said earnestly, "and this land will come back."

* * * *

Down a dirt road that gave off clouds of fine gray dust under the tires of the car, Floyd Garcia stood in the backyard of his ramshackle, paintless home chopping wood.

"I don't farm here," he said, letting experienced eyes rove over the miles of powdery land across the valley to the mountains. "I could. I know farming, but what's the use.

"Fellow who farms that land right over there," he said, pointing with his ax, "he hasn't had a crop in I don't know how long. Fellow across the way planted some milo maize last year. Didn't harvest a single stalk."

He indicated his home with a nod. Most of its windows were broken. The shingles were rapidly being blown from the roof. The front yard was ankle deep in dust.

"This area used to be quite a place one time, so they tell me," he said. "This here house was a hotel. You see that old beat up barn over there? That was the postoffice once. They even had some building lots laid out over yonder, but I don't guess anybody ever tried to build on them."

WORSE THAN THE 30s

John E. Comstock, who suffered through the dust bowl of the 1930s in this same area, said without question that the current drought was worse.

"Why, when the winds start to move around here," he said, "it's all you can do to breathe. Even blows the rocks around."

Broadacres is only one chapter, if perhaps the most dismal one, in the story of Colorado's battle with the worst drought in 20 years.

Ike May Stay Neutral if Fight Develops in Choosing National GOP Chairman

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower was reported today to be inclined to stay on the sidelines if a fight develops within the Republican National Committee over the choice of a new chairman.

* * *

Leonard Hall resigned the chairmanship yesterday after consulting with Eisenhower. The resignation will be effective Feb. 1.

* * *

Hall notified the 146 members of the GOP national committee he expects them to select his successor at a Jan. 22 meeting here.

Hall also announced he will name a seven-member subcommittee Jan. 19 to consult with Eisenhower and recommend a new party chief. This signified that the President will retain a veto over the choice.

* * *

While Eisenhower could designate the man he wants for the job, influential Republicans said they believe the President would like to confine himself to approval of a list of men acceptable to him, leaving the final choice to the committee itself.

* * *

Some party figures whose names have figured prominently in speculation over Hall's successor have met with objections from some elements of the GOP.

* * *

Among these, L. Judson Morhouse, New York National Committeeman, picked up some immediate support. But Morhouse's connection with former Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York was being cited by some Republicans who don't like Dewey's continued influence in party affairs.

Midwestern and Rocky Mountain state Republicans are expected to get behind Ray Bliss, Ohio state chairman. But some party members question whether Bliss represents the "modern Republicanism" which Eisenhower has been preaching.

* * *

Also mentioned as a possibility for the chairmanship has been former Gov. Howard Pyle of Arizona, now a White House aide in charge of maintaining liaison with Republican members of Congress. But Pyle has had little direct connection with the national committee. He probably would have to have firm Eisenhower backing to get the job.

Eisenhower's announcement yesterday that he is nominating Fred C. Scribner Jr. of Maine, former national committeeman, as Assistant Secretary of the Treasury was interpreted as eliminating Scribner from consideration for the party chairmanship.

* * *

Hall stepped out of the non-paying chairmanship — a job he has held nearly four years — amid indications that he can have a Presidential appointment, if he wants it, after he takes a six-week vacation.

Hall has been considering whether to seek the GOP nomination for Governor of New York next year. This may play a part in his decision on taking a federal post or returning to law practice in New York in the meantime.

Friends said Hall would accept a cabinet appointment, if any opened up. They said he also would be willing to accept assignment by Eisenhower to any important mission. But they believed he would decline any lesser government post.

Hit on Huron Street, Girl Suffers Bruises

Nine - year - old Carolyn Sue Wright was released from Pontiac General Hospital after treatment of multiple bruises received Friday.

Police report that the child was involved in an accident on W. Huron Street in front of the Webster School about 3:15 p.m.

Driver of the auto was Barbara R. Chidester, 4900 Hatchery, Drayton Plains.

The woman told officers she saw the street light and the child at the same time and thought the light was a caution signal. The accident is still under investigation according to Sgt. Medford Pittman, traffic and safety bureau.

CAREFREE COMMUTERS — A pleasant way to get to the office in the morning is the aim of these Park Forest, Ill., commuters who are served coffee and cigarets by pretty hostesses on a specially rebuilt luxury bus. Other amenities are television and card tables. Shown being served on the first run by Jean Burnett, left, and Sandra Stewart are Ira Farthing and Richard Palmer, right.

Stoke Up Canadian Trains After Costly 9-Day Strike

OTTAWA (AP) — Pilot trains and snowplows nosed cautiously across Canadian Pacific Railway tracks today after the end of a costly 9-day, nationwide strike.

Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent, who took a major role in bringing the company and striking union together, announced the settlement late yesterday.

Tens of thousands of CPR employes began trekking back to their jobs last night. First passenger and freight trains were scheduled to roll today but it will take several days to get operations back to normal.

* * *

From coast to coast along the CPR's 17,000 miles of tracks pickets of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen ripped up placards and sped home. Yard and line crews inspected trackage and switches, and division heads sent out the pilot trains and snowplows to check the roadbed.

* * *

The Prime Minister anounced the settlement in the House of Commons. Its chief feature was submission of the main point in dispute — the railroad's plan to eliminate gradually firemen helpers from Diesel locomotives — to a three-member commission. This commission of three judges will report not later than next Oct. 1.

* * *

The union scored a point in the final decision not to make the commission's findings binding on both sides. CPR officials wanted this provision. St. Laurent told commons that whatever the ground rules, each side will find it difficult not to accept the commission report.

* * *

The Prime Minister said the union and management had reached temporary agreement on the wage issue, chief barrier until the company brought up the question of the firemen helpers. The tentative settlement provides for a general wage increase of 12 per cent instead of the 25 per cent originally sought by the union.

A CPR spokesman said the strike cost the company about 14 million dollars and that 70,000 rail workers lost about 7½ million dollars in wages. The cost to other industries and workers affected by shutdowns and layoffs in areas served exclusively by CPR could not be estimated.

* * *

The government - owned Canadian National Railway, largest in the country, was not affected.

2 Teenagers Hurt as Auto Hits Train

Two teenage boys were injured last night when their car collided with a stopped freight train at the C & O track crossing at Grange Hall Rd. in Holly Township.

Driver of the car, Richard Messel, 17, of 2521 Rose Center Rd., Milford, said he didn't see the train in time to avoid the accident. Messel suffered multiple lacerations and was taken to Pontiac General Hospital.

* * *

A passenger in the car, Kenneth Leece, 16, of 209 Grant, Holly, was taken to the hospital with a head injury.

Sheriff's deputies said the conductor told them the train was stopped to drop off box cars and that flare signals had not been set yet when the car struck. There are no electric signals at the crossing.

FAMOUS HORSES — 6

The Pony Express

You get your mail every day in a mail box. But did you know that less than 100 years ago mail was carried west of the Missouri River by pony express?

In 1860 the Pony Express began its service between St. Joseph, Mo., and San Francisco, Calif.

Bold young riders made the trip by horseback, changing their mounts at every relay station, set up 10 to 15 miles apart.

The first express trip, nearly 2,000 miles, took 10 days.

When telegraph connections were completed from the East to the West Coast, the Pony Express ended — 1½ years after it began.

Paste this picture on cardboard and color with crayons. Cut out the parts carefully. Paste the tab behind the horse at point X. Cut a slit in the left stirrup as marked. Attach the tab behind the base through the indicated holes with a brass fastener.

Fold the panels of the base forward to make it stand.

Cut the slit between the rider's legs along the dotted line. Slip his right leg behind the horse. Push the toe of the left foot into the stirrup's slit. Draw the right hand forward over the pony's mane. This will hold the rider firmly in place as he gallops on his way.

Test Procedure in Army Contract

Defense Official Takes Leave During Probe of Wife's Dealings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Asst. Secretary of Defense Robert Tripp Ross today began a self-imposed leave of absence pending completion of congressional investigations of an Army contract held by a firm headed by his wife.

* * *

Ross is the husband of Mrs. Claire Wynn Ross, president of Wynn Enterprises Inc., Knoxville, Tenn. Last Nov. 13, this firm was awarded an $834,150 Army contract for 249,000 pairs of cotton trousers.

* * *

The Senate and House government operations committees started inquiries when details of the contract were published.

Last night, Ross made public a letter to Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate committee. Ross' letter said "a complete documentation of the facts" would show the contract award "was made in accordance with normal procurement procedures."

* * *

Then he told McClellan he was taking a leave of absence until the congressional investigations of the contract had been completed "and the matter has been cleared up."

Ross — who has been handling Defense Department liaison with Congress and directing the department's public relations policy —formerly was vice president of Wynn Enterprises and an official of Southern Athletic Co., also of Knoxville.

* * *

Defense Department records show that since 1951 government contracts totaling more than $7,700,000 have been awarded to Wynn Enterprises, Southern Athletic and other affiliated firms.

* * *

In his letter to McClellan, Ross said that he "severed all connections with Wynn Enterprises Inc. and with Southern Athletic Co. and its affiliated companies in February 1952." That, as he has said before, was after his election to Congress, as a Republican, from a New York district.

Debating Crown to Be Decided at Waterford

Tension will run high at Waterford Township high school at 3 p.m. Monday, when Farfington's champion debating team meets the W.T H.S. group.

Both Farmington, last year's Inter-Lakes Debating League champion, and Waterford Township high have won five meets and lost one, according to Patty Looman, W.T.H.S. coach. The winner of Monday's meet will be this year's champion.

The league includes Walled Lake, Southfield, Van Dyke, Farmington and Waterford Township high schools.

Topic for debate will be: "That the Federal Government Should Sustain The Prices of Major Agricultural Produce at Not Less Than 90 per cent Parity."

Those on the Varsity squad are Don Tate, Dustan Smith, Jane Dovletian, Barbara Hutchings, Dick Rebata and Frank Manning.

Holds On to Infants for Babysitting Fee

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — The practice of holding something in lieu of payment has been going on for a long time, said Justice of the Peace C. B. Carroll, but he told a woman who came into his office that she was carrying it a bit too far.

The woman told Judge Carroll she had been a baby-sitter for a Denison couple and had not been fully paid for her services.

She said she had been holding a woman's two babies trying to get the other to come across with the money.

The judge told her to get the babies home to their mother before she had more to worry about than some money owed her.

To Build 18 New Homes in Herrington Hills

Building permits for 18 new homes in the east side Herrington Hills Subdivision were issued this week by the city building inspector.

The homes will be brick veneer single-family dwellings with full basements. The Northtown Construction Co. of Pontiac will build the homes estimated at $10,000 on each permit.

In an average cross section of American adults, about two of three men and women wear eye glasses.

Do Clues Point to Mad Bomber?

New York Investigators Study Suspicious Items in Dead Man's Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Police said today they were investigating "certain matters" in the death of a 67-year-old Bronx man, but refused to comment on their bringing into action a special unit assigned to track down the city's so-called "mad bomber."

* * *

Andrew Kleewen, a widower, died Thursday night of bronchial pneumonia in Fordham Hospital, five days after he was admitted.

Since Kleewen had no known relatives, police conducted a routine investigation of his three-room walkup apartment.

Found in the littered flat, authorities said, was a 25-year collection of bills from the Consolidated Edison Co.

Also found, they said, was a quantity of notes hand-printed in block letters. The contents of the notes were not disclosed. They were sent to the police laboratory for examination by handwriting experts.

Deputy Police Inspector John Halk said certain papers showed Kleewen to have been a machinist of Latvian origin and that he had a number of friends in Westchester County.

Jackie Robinson to Take No Payment From Perry

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Jackie Robinson will appear on Perry Como's show tonight without pay. Perry quietly appeared at a charity show for Jackie last year.

The basic comic notion for Dinah Shore's Chevy Show Sunday is a pliable lunacy—Art Carney takes Dinah and Perry Como through his sewers to birdland where Count Basie will play, to "Lil Abner" for Stubby Kaye's conniptions, etc.

Dinah says her "combination of Como, Carney, Kaye and the count is a most beautiful party of talented people." . . . and adds: "That Carney is a dancer!" . . .

Dinah will sing a new song by Irving Fields, "Chantez Chantez," on the show; she's recorded it, too.

Johnnie Ray was 30 this week—he cried over $700,000 in '56 . . . His first and biggest year wept a Ray of purest money—$850,000.

The Gloversville, N. Y., City Council banned radio coverage for an interesting reason — members were afraid they might make grammatical errors.

JOB FOR WEAVER?

We hear ex-NBC boss Pat Weaver will be an ABC programming consultant.

Warning to J. Fred Muggs: Down in Baton Rouge, La., a monkey member of a TV troupe dropped dead — during a commercial! . . .

It's no news to most of us that we automatically turn off our ears, and eyes, when we wish to reject a commercial . . . Now along comes the "Institute for Motivational Research" with a survey asserting what we've been stating in this space for years with regard to commercials that deserve such optical and aural resistance: "Selective inattention" is the fancy but factual terminology for what happens when hucksters are simply boring us to distraction.

Gisele MacKenzie celebrated her 30th birthday over lunch at the Pavillion with Mrs. Russell Arms, wife of her Hit Parade compatriot and then—back to rehearsal.

McDonald Secluded on Doctor's Advice

ENCINO, Calif. (AP) — The whereabouts of Marie McDonald was her secret today.

* * *

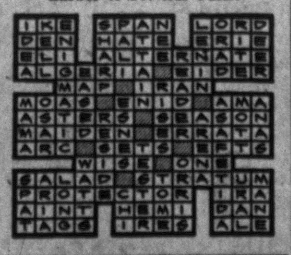

Her physician, Dr. Rexford Kennamer, said she had suffered a relapse and that he ordered her into strict seclusion. Mrs. Marie Tuboni, the actress' mother, declined to say where her daughter had gone.

* * *

Miss McDonald's story of being kidnaped in her home the night of Jan. 3 by two men and of being held captive 24 hours before being pushed out of their car is being investigated by police.

She was hysterical and slightly injured when a truck driver came upon her on the highway 120 miles from Los Angeles and took her to Cactus City. She was then taken to a hospital at Indio and returned the next evening to her home here.

MISSING SOMETHING
You may be missing real top-notch performance from your TV set if your antenna is not in good condition. There is no real substitute for a well engineered and properly balanced TV antenna system. Regardless of the many stories circulated about coat hangers, lamp cords, light bulbs, etc., serving as an antenna, the fact remains that a good antenna is necessary for any make or model TV set. Common annoyances from improper antennas are ghosts, double images, flickering pictures, flashes across the screen, and snow. Also, even if you have the proper type of antenna, it may need repair. Tests have proven that TV lead-in wire decreases in efficiency an average 25% in a normal two year period of use. Consult your neighborhood County Electronics Association Member for competent advice concerning your antenna problems.

FAMOUS HORSES — 6

The Pony Express

You get your mail every day in a mail box. But did you know that less than 100 years ago mail was carried west of the Missouri River by pony express?

In 1860 the Pony Express began its service between St. Joseph, Mo., and San Francisco, Calif.

Bold young riders made the trip by horseback, changing their mounts at every relay station, set up 10 to 15 miles apart.

The first express trip, nearly 2,000 miles, took 10 days.

When telegraph connections were completed from the East to the West Coast, the Pony Express ended — 1½ years after it began.

Paste this picture on cardboard and color with crayons. Cut out the parts carefully. Paste the tab behind the horse at point X. Cut a slit in the left stirrup as marked. Attach the tab behind the base through the indicated holes with a brass fastener.

Fold the panels of the base forward to make it stand.

Cut the slit between the rider's legs along the dotted line. Slip his right leg behind the horse. Push the toe of the left foot into the stirrup's slit. Draw the right hand forward over the pony's mane. This will hold the rider firmly in place as he gallops on his way.

Test Procedure in Army Contract

Defense Official Takes Leave During Probe of Wife's Dealings

WASHINGTON (AP)—Asst. Secretary of Defense Robert Tripp Ross today began a self-imposed leave of absence pending completion of congressional investigations of an Army contract held by a firm headed by his wife.

* * *

Ross is the husband of Mrs. Claire Wynn Ross, president of Wynn Enterprises Inc., Knoxville, Tenn. Last Nov. 13, this firm was awarded an $834,150 Army contract for 249,000 pairs of cotton trousers.

* * *

The Senate and House government operations committees started inquiries when details of the contract were published.

Last night, Ross made public a letter to Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Senate committee. Ross' letter said "a complete documentation of the facts" would show the contract award "was made in accordance with normal procurement procedures."

* * *

Then he told McClellan he was taking a leave of absence until the congressional investigations of the contract had been completed "and the matter has been cleared up."

Ross — who has been handling Defense Department liaison with Congress and directing the department's public relations policy — formerly was vice president of Wynn Enterprises and an official of Southern Athletic Co., also of Knoxville.

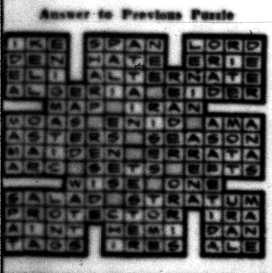

* * *

Defense Department records show that since 1951 government contracts totaling more than $7,700,000 have been awarded to Wynn Enterprises, Southern Athletic and other affiliated firms.

* * *

In his letter to McClellan, Ross said that he "severed all connections with Wynn Enterprises Inc. and with Southern Athletic Co. and its affiliated companies in February 1952." That, as he has said before, was after his election to Congress, as a Republican, from a New York district.

Debating Crown to Be Decided at Waterford

Tension will run high at Waterford Township high school at 3 p.m. Monday, when Farfington's champion debating team meets the W.T H.S. group.

Both Farmington, last year's Inter-Lakes Debating League champion, and Waterford Township high have won five meets and lost one, according to Patty Looman, W.T.H.S. coach. The winner of Monday's meet will be this year's champion.

The league includes Walled Lake, Southfield, Van Dyke, Farmington and Waterford Township high schools.

Topic for debate will be: "That the Federal Government Should Sustain The Prices of Major Agricultural Produce at Not Less Than 90 per cent Parity."

Those on the Varsity squad are Don Tate, Dustan Smith, Jane Dovletian, Barbara Hutchings, Dick Rebata and Frank Manning.

Holds On to Infants for Babysitting Fee

DENISON, Tex. (AP) — The practice of holding something in lieu of payment has been going on for a long time, said Justice of the Peace C. B. Carroll, but he told a woman who came into his office that she was carrying it a bit too far.

The woman told Judge Carroll she had been a baby-sitter for a Denison couple and had not been fully paid for her services.

She said she had been holding a woman's two babies trying to get the other to come across with the money.

To Build 18 New Homes in Herrington Hills

Building permits for 18 new homes in the east side Herrington Hills Subdivision were issued this week by the city building inspector.

The homes will be brick veneer single-family dwellings with full basements. The Northtown Construction Co. of Pontiac will build the homes estimated at $10,000 on each permit.

In an average cross section of American adults, about two of three men and women wear eye glasses.

New York Investigators Study Suspicious Items in Dead Man's Home

NEW YORK (AP) — Police said today they were investigating "certain matters" in the death of a 67-year-old Bronx man, but refused to comment on their bringing into action a special unit assigned to track down the city's so-called "mad bomber."

* * *

Andrew Kleewen, a widower, died Thursday night of bronchial pneumonia in Fordham Hospital, five days after he was admitted.

Since Kleewen had no known relatives, police conducted a routine investigation of his three-room walkup apartment.

Found in the littered flat, authorities said, was a 25-year collection of bills from the Consolidated Edison Co.

Also found, they said, was a quantity of notes hand-printed in block letters. The contents of the notes were not disclosed. They were sent to the police laboratory for examination by handwriting experts.

Deputy Police Inspector John Halk said certain papers showed Kleewen to have been a machinist of Latvian origin and that he had a number of friends in Westchester County.

* * *

The "mad bomber" who has been planting bombs in public buildings for the past 16 years was known to have an intense but unspecified hatred of the Consolidated Edison firm, which he expressed in printed letters to various authorities.
