Lad Abducted, Thrown From Car

CONSOLED BY DAD—Joe Giacalone, 28, and a nurse lean over his 6-year-old son, Randy, in Hurley Hospital, Flint, where the boy was taken with two severe head cuts after he was abducted by a man, struck on the head repeatedly and thrown from the car Tuesday afternoon.

Flint Boy to View Suspect Held in Beating, Abduction

FLINT (U) — Six-year-old Randy Giacalone today was to view a Flint man held by police in the alleged abduction and beating of the boy while he was walking home from kindergarten yesterday.

The youngster was found walking along a road six miles from home yesterday in a northern suburb of Flint. He was bleeding from a gash on the right side of the head.

Sheriff's officers quoted the boy as saying he had been thrown from a yellow car "by a red haired young man wearing gloves."

Officers declined to identify the man held, but said that his hair had "a reddish tinge." They said he would be questioned today, then taken to Hurley Hospital for viewing by Randy, who is being treated there for the head wound.

Scores of State Police and sheriff's officers combed the outskirts of Flint yesterday afternoon after the boy's mother, Mrs. Joseph Giacalone, became alarmed when he failed to come home for lunch.

Mrs. Henry Dreuth and Mrs. Leonard Birdwell, who live between Flint and Mt. Morris, saw the boy wandering along the road shortly before 4 p.m. and called State Police.

The youngster said his abductor had dragged him into a car "by my hair" when he was only two doors from his home. He said the man struck him on the head with a hammer before throwing him from the car.

Police said a club-like tree branch and school books, covered with blood, were found strewn over the road where the boy was thought to have been seized.

Randy told his mother he didn't remember anything after "that man started beating me with a club."

Hurley Hospital authorities said a "number of stitches" were taken in Randy's scalp. They said his body bore multiple bruises and scratches, but he had not been criminally molested.

Aches and Pains Not Blamed on Use of Fluorine

Grand Rapids Editor Says City Happy After 10 Years of Fluoridation

GRAND RAPIDS—Lee M. Woodruff, editor of the Grand Rapids Press, had a hearty laugh here today when questioned about a letter in the Voice of the People in the Pontiac Press signed "B.P.R." relative to health conditions in Grand Rapids.

In attacking fluoridation in the Pontiac Press letter box, "B.P.R." told of a gathering in Grand Rapids at which 700 people met "as to why they had so many aches and pains."

"They sure met," said Mr. Woodruff, "only fluoridation was never mentioned by a single one."

The Grand Rapids Press, the Kiwanis Club and the Medical Society of Kent County sponsor a series of five health meetings. The meeting in question was entitled "aches and pains."

"We expect 1,200 at the next one," said Mr. Woodruff. "The subject will be 'Mental Ills.' This is the third of five such gatherings. 'Last year we held five,' he continued, "and not once during a single meeting did anyone mention fluoridation as the cause of any troubles whatsoever. Grand Rapids has had fluoridation ten years and we have an excellent health record. One opponent of fluoridation falsified some records and facts once in an effort to discredit it, but it's working beautifully."

"Opponents will charge dangers from poison," he said, "but it's all bunk. We have a mechanical device that delivers one part fluoridation to a million parts of water and it's fool proof. There's no more danger of poison from that than there is from injecting any other poison in the water."

"It was installed here ten years ago on the recommendation of the Health Service. We have been very happy over the entire proceeding."

Britisher Loads Shotgun as Tax Impasse Looms

REDRUTH, England (U)—Archie Hill, 58, loaded up his shotgun yesterday and declared open season on income tax collectors.

The income tax people claim Hill owes them almost $10,000 and have obtained a court order to seize his house.

Hill, who denies owing the money, patrolled with his shotgun in front of a big sign saying "Income tax: Any persons employed by the above entering on this property do so at their own risk."

"They are not going to have my house," Hill told reporters.

The tax people didn't say what they will do now.

Japan Stocks Boom

TOKYO (U)—Prospects of a tougher Soviet world policy today sent heavy industry shares booming on Japan's stock market. Prices rose sharply and a near-record total of about 10 million shares was sold in the morning session alone.

Pinay Wooing French Parties

Confident of Lining Up Enough Support to Be 21st Postwar Premier

PARIS (U)—Antoine Pinay, a tannery owner from central France, tried today to build an American-style "bipartisan" policy which would win enough votes in the National Assembly to make him France's 21st postwar premier.

Evidently confident of eventual success, Pinay told newsmen before losing his consultations last night that he expected to present himself and a cabinet to the Assembly this week even if he lacks the advance approval of a majority of the members voting.

Pinay started with assurance of the support of about 135 conservative votes in his bid to succeed Pierre Mendes-France, who was ousted last week.

A narrow majority of the right-of-center Radical Socialist party also voted yesterday to back him but the poll indicated many of the 76 members and others who normally vote with this faction would refuse to go along.

Pinay will need the support of about 300 of the 627 deputies. Some Paris newspapers were suggesting that he already had enough votes, but there was much hedging.

The Socialists, who hold 105 seats, have refused to back him. The Catholic Popular Republican Movement (MRP) promised to give its answer today to Pinay's request for support. This group controls 88 votes.

McKay, Dondero to Speak at GOP Banquet Tonight

Two national political figures will hold the limelight at tonight's annual Oakland County Lincoln Republican Club dinner.

Main speaker will be U. S. Secretary of the Interior Douglas McKay.

A veteran of both World Wars, McKay is a former governor of Oregon and has played an active part in the planning and development of the Northwest's natural resources.

U. S. Rep. George A. Dondero (R-Royal Oak) will also address the gathering on the topic, "If Lincoln Were Living Now."

Dondero is credited with leading the fight which won American participation in the St. Lawrence Seaway project.

A majority of the county's Republican state legislators, judges and local office holders are expected to be in attendance. The event will start at 8:30 p. m. in the CAI Building, Waterford Township. General chairmen are Mrs. Floyd Andrews and Mrs. Paul Jans, both of Clarkston.

Three Stages in Career of Dictator

center, as he appeared as a young man making his way in the Communist Party; right, as he reported to the Supreme Soviet in 1938 on regulations governing elections to the Supreme Soviet.

Cold War Intensity Expected to Increase With New Sterner Leadership in Russia

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (U) — Diplomatic officials look for an intensification of the cold war as a result of the government shakeup in Moscow.

A major objective of Soviet foreign policy in the next few weeks is expected to be the blocking of West German rearmament under agreements nearing final approval stages.

The new combination of Premier Nikolai Bulganin, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and Communist party boss Nikita S. Khrushchev is believed likely to use threats of force and intimidation—a whole line of tough talk and perhaps tough action—to try to frighten the French and Germans away from final action.

Under ex-Premier Georgi Malenkov the Kremlin had followed a basically different strategy of trying to reduce international tensions, lull Western Europe into a sense of security and thereby persuade the French and German peoples, if not their governments, that the rearming of Germany was unnecessary.

The downfall of Malenkov yesterday and the emergence of Khrushchev as strong man started U. S. agencies on a reappraisal of Soviet aims and methods which probably will take weeks. Some consideration has been given to calling Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen home from Moscow to report.

Sensors Johnson (D-Wash.) and Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) said United States retains a strong lead over Russia in hydrogen and other types of atomic weapons.

They offered this assurance in separate interviews after Russian Foreign Minister Molotov claimed yesterday Soviet development of hydrogen bombs with "such success that the United States could appear backward."

Both Jackson and Hickenlooper are members of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee. The Washington senator is chairman of its Military Applications subcommittee.

Jackson called Molotov's Moscow speech "boasting" and he related it to the Red leadership turnover.

"There is no question about America's lead at this time," he asserted. "How long we can hold it depends on the effort we make and the effort they make."

"But obviously there comes a time in this field of total weapons—total in the sense of their destructive powers—where numbers are meaningless."

Hickenlooper said he could not discuss what he knew of Russia's atomic program.

But, he said, "I will say our progress in hydrogen and other atomic weapons has been very great. And I'm thoroughly convinced it is superior to that of any other country by far."

Crew of Three Rescued

Navy Bomber Shot Down Off Limits Near Tachens

ABOARD U.S.S. ESTES OFF TACHENS (INS)—A U. S. Navy attack bomber was shot down by Communist aircraft near the Red China mainland today and all three men aboard were rescued.

Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, U. S. 7th Fleet commander, announced that the plane, a Skyraider, was hit "over or off" the mainland's Sungmen Peninsula about 15 miles southwest of the Tachens after the pilot "misnavigated."

This was the first loss of an American plane protecting the Nationalist evacuation of the Tachens. A Navy patrol plane was hit by Communist ground fire yesterday but received only minor damage—three small holes in one wing—and returned safely to its base.

Admiral Pride said the Navy did not consider the shooting down of the Skyraider "a hostile act" since the plane was "off limits." No retaliation was planned.

Climbs on Wing to Repair Plane

Pals Hold Feet While Airman Fixes Landing Gear 4,000 Feet in Air

DAYTON, Ohio (U) — The Air Force has disclosed the story of an airman who dangled at 4,000 feet from the wing of a C124 cargo plane in freezing weather to save the ship from crash-landing with 31 persons aboard.

M. Sgt. Floyd A. James, of Cave City, Ark., worked in sub-freezing weather to repair the plane's landing gear before it could land Monday at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base here. He wore no parachute because wind pressure would drag on it.

The plane had just taken off from Alaska's Ladd Air Force Base when the landing gear trouble cropped up.

Maj. Louis W. Baker, of Allentown, Pa., the pilot, said a heavy jolt occurred when he ordered the tricycle landing gear raised.

"It felt like we hit another airplane," Baker said.

Baker and Sgt. James, senior crew chief aboard, edged out on a catwalk over the gear retraction well and saw that a lock pin was missing from the landing gear.

With the Alaska temperature 38 degrees below zero, they decided to continue to Wright-Patterson, as scheduled.

When they were 40 minutes from Dayton, Sgt. James lowered himself head down through the well and in about 15 minutes was able to replace the pin with a spare.

Two airmen—M. Sgt. Frank L. Scheer, of Marysville, Ind., and T. Sgt. Ralph W. Miller, of Madison W. Va., held his feet during the operation.

The plane was slowed to 135 m.p.h. during the repairs.

Maj. Baker said the sergeant received a small head cut during the gear repairs, but was not hurt otherwise.

The pilot, Lt. (JG) W. J. O'Heren, formerly of Decatur, Ill., whose wife lives at Coronado, Calif., managed to keep the plane aloft for a while but had to ditch it in the East China Sea about four miles west of the Tachens.

Holds Respect Among Masses of Soviet People

Politically Wise Soldier Is Only Russian Leader Who Knows Ike

MOSCOW (U) — Marshal Georgi K. Zhukov was today appointed Soviet minister of defense.

Zhukov succeeds Marshal Nikolai Bulganin, who resigned the post this afternoon, 24 hours after being named Prime Minister to succeed Georgi Malenkov.

Malenkov was appointed deputy premier of the Soviet Union and minister of the electro-station industry.

Zhukov, as the new Soviet minister of defense, has a unique position on the Soviet scene.

He's the only top-ranking citizen who inspires immense respect and also some measure of affection not only among Russians but also among peoples of non-Communist countries as well.

His name is one to conjure with both in internal and external Soviet politics. And this fact makes Zhukov a powerful political factor whether by himself wishes to be or not.

He is the only top-ranking Russian who has personal acquaintance with President Eisenhower. That dates from Eisenhower's days as supreme commander in Europe. Zhukov has displayed a flair for politics uncommon in most soldiers.

With one of the most brilliant records of any Soviet soldier in World War II, Zhukov, captor of Berlin and hero to the Russian masses, found after a time that he was able to throw that great weight around. He did.

Now 59 years old, Zhukov has a glitter which once threatened to overshadow that of Joseph Stalin, a possibility which brought about the eclipse of Zhukov for about four years.

That same glitter, plus a resistance to the interference of party bureaucrats in the purely military affairs of the army, caused Zhukov to clash with party leaders. Among these, it has been reported, was his predecessor as Soviet defense minister, N. A. Bulganin, a marshal who never commanded troops and an army bureaucrat with a flair for government finances. Bulganin is the new Soviet Premier.

House Votes White Pine Michigan's Official Tree

LANSING (U) — The House yesterday passed, without opposition, a bill to establish the white pine as Michigan's official tree.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Holly Hubbell (R-Saginaw). Hubbell, who said it is high time the state had an official tree, said he chose the white pine because it was the "backbone of the state's lumbering industry."

The bill now goes to the Senate for consideration.

She was born in Petaluma, Calif. in January 1872 and was married at her home there. After her marriage, Mrs. Waite came to Pontiac with her husband who was a partner in Waite Bros. & Co.

Leater Edwin Waite, Elwin Livingston Waite, and Milton G. Robertson founded the firm, Waite Bros. & Co., general merchandise, in February 1896, after buying out the business of J. S. Stockwell.

The original location was at 21 N. Saginaw St. and employed four clerks. Within two years it had grown those quarters and moved to the southeast corner of Saginaw and Huron streets, where the S. S. Kresge Store is now located.

L. Edwin and Elwin L. Waite then bought the Congregational Church property across Huron St. and built the present store, moving into it in March 1913.

At that time, Mr. Robertson sold his interest to the two Waite brothers and the business was known as Waite's. In 1939 Waite's joined the Allied Stores Group, the business was incorporated and began operating as Waite's Inc.

L. Edwin Waite retired some years ago and moved with his family to California.

When in Pontiac the family attended All Saints Episcopal Church. Mrs. Waite made her home in Berkeley, Calif., with her daughter, Esther Waite who is now traveling in Europe.

Surviving besides her two daughters, are three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

The body is to be cremated and the ashes will be buried at a private service Saturday, Feb. 12, in the family cemetery at Petaluma.

B36 Explodes, Killing 2 Men

Huge Bomber Goes Up in Flames as Wheels Touch Runway; 18 Hurt

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—A giant intercontinental B36 bomber exploded and burned last night, killing two men and injuring 18, four seriously.

The plane burst into flames soon after its landing gear touched soft earth at the end of a Carswell Air Force Base runway. Explosions followed.

The dead were identified by the Air Force as S. Sgt. Gerry Nichols, Malvern, Ark., and A. C. Dean Grandquist, Ogden, Utah.

Dagmar Taking LaRosa's Place; Producers to Sue
DES MOINES, Iowa (INS)—Dagmar, the buxom blonde television entertainer, will replace the ailing Julius La Rosa on the Des Moines Auto Show entertainment program beginning tomorrow.

The booking agent for the auto show stage production announced last night that Dagmar was reached at her upper New York State home and agreed to fill in.

Show producers said a $200,000 breach of contract suit would be filed against the crooner.

Ginny Scott, a rising young vocalist, was scheduled to take the star billing tonight.

The bad checks, greenish-blue in color, all have been for $100 made payable to "James Mathew."

New Mexico Officials Pick Up Last of Quartet Accused of Burglary

The last of four burglary suspects was captured by sheriff's deputies in Tucuman, N. M., on a warrant charging nighttime breaking and entering in Oakland County, according to Undersheriff Elmer McQuern today.

New Mexico authorities this morning notified McQuern that Clifford Moriam, 18, of Detroit was apprehended on information furnished by State Police of Pontiac Post.

Detective Jack Davis, of the sheriff's department, and Detective Charles Leaf, of the State Police post, will return Moriam here for arraignment next week. Moriam, it was reported, has waived extradition.

Police said they notified authorities in New Mexico last week that Moriam might return to Tucuman, where the suspect was picked up and questioned recently about the slaying of a Birmingham filling station attendant.

According to police, the other three suspects, Mrs. Rosemary Anderson, Robert Isaacs and David LaMaster, all 18, also were questioned in connection with the murder when the foursome were found in possession of newspaper clippings about the murder.

The trio is being held in the Oakland County Jail after demanding examinations on the burglary counts. The hearings are tomorrow.

They are accused of breaking into the Waterford Hardware Store, the Deer Lake Lumber Co. and a Berkeley grocery store two weeks ago. The trio was arrested after Detroit police found Mrs. Anderson sitting in an auto filled with five rifles, taken from the hardware store, and other articles.

Pontiac City Affairs

Rezoning Proposal Stalls Commission for an Hour

After being stalled for an hour by a single rezoning proposal, the City Commission last night zipped through the bulk of the agenda in record time.

The delay came after a report from the City Plan Commission recommending rezoning the portion of Glenwood Estates Subdivision east of Highwood boulevard.

Edward M. Stout and Joseph Laszby, owners of the approximately 40-acre tract, had petitioned to change the entire subdivision to a residential classification from its present manufacturing classification.

The plan board tabled for 60 days action on the acreage west of Highwood. Laszby owns that section.

Attorney Harold E. Howlett, representing Laszby, told the Commission the two owners had an opportunity to sell the entire section to a building concern which planned to erect about 170 houses.

He said no offer had ever been made to either man to purchase the property for industrial development. He requested that the entire section be rezoned.

Before a motion by Mayor William W. Donaldson to table the matter one week was voted on, Howlett interjected that if the Commission ordered the drawing up of a change in the zoning map, the action would not be final.

Donaldson withdrew his motion and, by passing the plan commission's report, the Commission voted unanimously to have the city attorney draw up the change, calling for a rezoning of the entire section. Further action will come next week.

During the discussion, Commissioner Harry W. Lutz said he supported the rezoning but he had not been able to find a "plywood, gyp-house."

"People buying those houses are getting gypped and I don't care who knows it," he declared.

A builder in private life, Lutz wanted a provision inserted in the rezoning proposal restricting the minimum quality of homes in the subdivision.

He was told that was impossible.

Recording Used as Evidence for First Time Here

A dictaphone recording was used as evidence in a criminal trial yesterday for the first time in the history of Oakland County Circuit Court, according to Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Modzelewski, 29, formerly of 20207 Spenser, Detroit, was found guilty by a jury. Judge George B. Hartwick set sentencing for Feb. 14.

An accomplice in the crime, Antonio G. Nicosia, 26, formerly of 3007 Maxwell Detroit, pleaded guilty last Jan. 31 and also will be sentenced Feb. 14.

They were accused of breaking into a store at 1265 S. Woodward, Birmingham, and taking $632 in cash and checks plus electrical appliances.

Marshal Zhukov Heads Red Defense

II. Zhukov apparently remained a party man and a party general. He is a Communist and probably will be swayed by Communist dialectics in his approach to world problems. He is just as apt to use the party as a tool for Russian expansion as any nonmilitary party leader.

On a white charger, traditional mount of the military ruler, Zhukov rode in triumph through Moscow's Red Square while the radio and the press blared his glories as the conqueror of Germany.

Stalin himself called upon Zhukov to make a speech on that memorable day in June, 1945. He reacted like a Great Russian. The Great Russian people and the spirit of Russia liberated the world, he told the cheering throng, and the invader of the "acred soil" perished.

Zhukov is thoroughly Russian in appearance, outlook and background. A son of peasants, he was born in 1896 in a village 60 miles from Moscow. As a boy in Moscow he worked as furrier's apprentice.

When the first world war came, he turned up in the Czar's army, where his love and knowledge of horses got him into the 10th regiment of the Novgorod Dragoons. He soon became a noncommissioned officer, and was decorated for his exploits.

After the Bolshevik Revolution, he joined the Red army to fight in the civil war. Thereafter, he studied at a military academy and a cavalry officer's school. At about the same time he married the woman who bore his two daughters, for whom he displayed great affection.

In 1939 Zhukov was at the head of tank divisions facing the Japanese in Mongolia, where his troops destroyed the Japanese 6th army, and probably engendered Japanese respect for Soviet armed power sufficiently to keep Tokyo from attacking at a time when the Soviet Union was engaged in the death struggle with Hitler.

In the preinvasion days of 1941 Zhukov was a vice commissar of defense and an alternate member of the Central Committee of the Communist party. When the Germans attacked, it fell to him to save Moscow. He did.

Zhukov, alternately commanding field armies and working in the Kremlin on grand strategy, finally came to command troops numbering many millions. When he lifted the siege of Leningrad in 1943, he was made a marshal. Zhukov, too, planned the victory at Stalingrad, drove the Germans from the Ukraine and the Crimea, and blasted into the Baltic countries, Poland and Germany itself. It was Zhukov who sent 4,000 tanks rolling into Berlin.

Zhukov expressed admiration of American tactics, strategy and general boldness in the war, and appeared to have had a warm feeling for Eisenhower.

For almost four years, little was heard of Zhukov. Suddenly he reappeared in Moscow at a Supreme Soviet session, and then at a Communist demonstration in Poland. He gained more and more prominence.

Thus, Zhukov's appointment today begins to look like a deal between the army and the Communist party, a sort of sharing of the rule, the party ruling with the tolerance of the army at the moment.

Home-Grown Mink Tie Goes Soapy One Better
LANSING (UP)—Rep. James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) has come up with what he claims is an answer to Gov. G. Mennen Williams' polka dot bow tie.

It's a mink bow tie.

Goulette, who wore a mink tie to the legislative session last night, said "the governor's tie is way out of date."

"This has real style," Goulette said stroking the soft fur. Goulette, who raises mink, said he is certain he has at least one thing over on the governor. "I grow my own," he said.

II. Zhukov apparently remained a party man and a party general. He is a Communist and probably will be swayed by Communist dialectics in his approach to world problems. He is just as apt to use the party as a tool for Russian expansion as any nonmilitary party leader.

On a white charger, traditional mount of the military ruler, Zhukov rode in triumph through Moscow's Red Square while the radio and the press blared his glories as the conqueror of Germany.

Stalin himself called upon Zhukov to make a speech on that memorable day in June, 1945. He reacted like a Great Russian. The Great Russian people and the spirit of Russia liberated the world, he told the cheering throng, and the invader of the "acred soil" perished.

Zhukov is thoroughly Russian in appearance, outlook and background. A son of peasants, he was born in 1896 in a village 60 miles from Moscow. As a boy in Moscow he worked as furrier's apprentice.

The Day in Birmingham

Limited Business Area Best Move, Officials Say

BIRMINGHAM — The City Commission and Planning Board saw eye to eye on one thing in particular at a joint closed meeting last night, City Manager Donald C. Egbert said today.

While the meeting was nothing more than an exchange of ideas, said Egbert, "They all agreed that the major objectives as far as our business section is concerned, is to confine business to areas so zoned at the present."

"Our object is not to build a big business but a good, strong one, utilizing property presently zoned for business purposes, thereby protecting residential property," he said.

"We would destroy, if we grew too big, what we have in Birmingham, and especially if we go into a poor type business section," Egbert said. "There should be at least enough business provided to make for competition, without going into poor quality merchandise."

Faster X-Rays Work Wonders

Bureau of Standards Opens Public Showing of New Developments

WASHINGTON (INS) — Broad new fields in the use of X-rays—from treating deep-seated cancers to seeing through 18 inches of steel—are being explored today by government scientists.

Results were placed on exhibit Monday night when the National Bureau of Standards opened its doors to the public for the first time in 17 years.

Highlight of the program is the X-ray televising of the internal parts of an operating engine in the new betatron laboratory.

The lab houses a 50-million volt betatron and an 180-million volt electron accelerators to produce X-rays which permit man to see for the first time through 18 inches of steel or 90 inches of concrete.

Moving parts of a one-cylinder circuit television by converting to visible light the invisible X-rays. The audience could clearly see the piston and rod in motion.

Several hospitals already have initiated treatments with high energy X-rays for cancer and related diseases.

In industry, detection of small flaws in large metallic castings or assembled mechanisms has always been a major problem.

Strong absorption of low energy X-rays by most materials has sharply limited the thickness that could be penetrated, but high energy X-rays reduce the diffusion and penetrate deeper.

The visual image may be photographed by an ordinary camera, televised on a closed circuit or observed by eye, if precautions are taken against radiation.

Scouts and Parents Attend Dinner Meet

Some 95 Boy Scouts and their parents attended a pot-luck dinner and Boy Scout Week celebration this week at Weaver School.

The affair, held in observance of the 45th anniversary of scouting in the U. S., was arranged by Troop 29, sponsored by the fathers of scouts attending Hawthorn School.

Lester Stanley, Hawthorne principal, spoke briefly and showed a film.

James Card, troop committee member, discussed the history of scouting and welcomed the guests.

Scoutmaster Roger Lawrence introduced neighborhood counselor commissioner Glenn Lackey, representing Clinton Valley Council.

Jailed for Paying Job Too Much Attention

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UP) — Joe S. Moore is a man who concentrates on his work.

Assistant District Attorney Jerry Murad told the judge that Moore, sentenced yesterday to two years in prison, was so intent on breaking into a hamburger stand that he didn't see two policemen who stood nearby for a while watching his effort.

Grant was the first to have a salary of more than $25,000 as President of the United States. He began getting $50,000 for his second term.

Pleads Insanity in Trial for Murder of Ex-Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A plea of innocent by reason of insanity was entered yesterday by James Merkouris, 40, on trial for the slaying of his former wife.

Merkouris, formerly of Grand Rapids, is charged with killing his ex-wife, Mrs. Despines Forbes, 34, and her husband, Robert, 49, in her ceramics shop last Sept. 20. He was arrested in Hot Springs, Ark., five days after the murders.

The U. S. Army in the Frankfurt, Germany, area employs 45 German dentists and 148 German dental assistants and X-ray technicians in its clinics.

Invalid, 81, Dies in Blaze Started by Wife's Iron

BRIGHTON (AP) — Elmer Blum, 81-year-old invalid, died yesterday in a fire that swept his home near the Livingston County community of Lakeland.

Blum was confined to his bed after suffering a stroke. Firemen said the blaze started after Blum's wife, Winfred, 67, left an iron unattended on an ironing board.

Bob Considine Says:

Civil Aeronautics Board Hampering U.S. Airlines

NEW YORK (INS)—The passing show:
American Airlines, Inc. developed the air highway between New York and Mexico City at the request of the government shortly after Pearl Harbor.

Without subsidy, the line financed, built and maintained intermediate stations, an airport and intermediate landing fields in Mexico, the first such facilities for night and instrument flying.

The company established one-stop flights between the two great cities, coach services, bought a lot of equipment, and spent a lot of money on public relations, promotion and advertising. (Its loss on this operation from 1942 to last November: $812,615.)

Eastern Air Lines, tying in with Pan-Am, followed with additional service, and, with American, controlled the air traffic between the two points.

Now American, and the other U.S. companies, have barely 15 per cent of the New York-Mexico City business. Air France, given authority just a year ago to pick up Mexico City-bound New York passengers and vice versa, has captured 85 per cent of the trade. Air France is a fine airline but the consensus in the industry is that it won the preferential rating because of two things (1) it can offer nonstop N.Y.-Mexico City service, and (2) it isn't hampered by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

American Airlines, for example, asked the CAB to approve non-stop service eight years ago. A temporary okay came through a year ago, provided the Mexican government approved. Mexico notified the line that it would grant the request only if a Mexican airline would be given similar authorization by the U.S. This involved more hearings, meetings, conferences. They continue.

Further delays in final approval of conditions which will enable U.S. flag carriers to operate on an even basis with foreign carriers (which are, of course, government-backed) have been caused by bids from New Orleans for non-stop service between that city and Mexico City.

In the meantime, U.S. flag carriers are gradually being driven out of business on the New York-Mexico City run, and American Airlines has been forced to drop its Los Angeles-Mexico City run because the CAB insists that it makes a stop at El Paso whereas the competing Mexican company can fly non-stop.

The attitude of the U.S. carrier is, "the more the merrier, but for Peter's sake let's all start even."

My friend Cappy Wells, whose contributions toward the understanding of West Point and its illustrious products will never be fully measured or appreciated, is beating a kettle for John Ford's magnificent new Columbia picture, "The Long Gray Line." Characteristically, Cappy, who sang the praises of Rosy O'Donnell, Blondie Saunders, Gene Vidall, Chris Cagle, Ed Carlsch, Elmer Oliphant, Tom Trappell, Moe Daly, Chick Harding and many another great, delayed accepting the present job until he had seen the picture.

"Now I have no regrets," he wrote in a recent note. "The picture is really outstanding."

"The Long Gray Line" is the story of Marty Maher, West Point's snow-capped old trainer and character builder who still thinks of the class of '15—Eisenhower, Bradley, Harmon, etc., etc., etc.—as kids. He was a tradition around West Point even by the time he helped the immortal Oliphant tack up on the gym wall a bit of verse knocked out by the academy's dashing young superintendent, Brig. Gen. Douglas MacArthur:

Upon the fields of friendly strife
Are sown the seeds
That upon other fields, on other days,
Will bear the fruits of victory.

"The Long Gray Line" is a wonderful picture. It makes you a bit prouder than ever to belong to this country, and to know it belongs to you.

Giesler's Success Secret Attorney Never Refuses Anonymous Phone Calls

Editor's Note: This is the last in a series on Jerry Giesler, the attorney who has handled so many headlined trials in Hollywood.

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—A rule that helped make Jerry Giesler the West's most famous criminal attorney is "never refuse an anonymous phone call."

"I never permit my switchboard to ask who's calling while I'm on a big case," Giesler revealed today while recalling his 47 years as movietown's famous "mouthpiece." "Sometimes you learn information that is extremely valuable."

"It's the breaks you get that have a lot to do with a lawsuit," he added.

The friendly attorney never refuses a call from the press, and his home phone is listed in the telephone book, spelled both "Giesler" and "Giesler." He interviews all prospective clients who call at his office.

"It takes up a lot of time but you never know from one minute to the next what person is coming through that door," he said.

"That's what makes my life so interesting. In that green chair," he said, pointing to my chair, "a lot of famous actresses have sat and cried."

"I take every collect call, and I get some in the middle of the night, some absurd. I have a file of odd letters wanting me to handle the strangest cases."

"Barbara Hutton called me at home when she separated from Cary Grant. She was at a party and said to come immediately.
 I went and got her and she stayed at my house three or four months."

Giesler's deceptively mild manner is another key to his success.
 He is soft-spoken and dignified, and in court often assumes the appearance of a friendly preacher. He apologizes to witnesses for asking questions but sometimes, when talking to the jury, he will pound on the railing.

The attorney's affability is a rule he has followed since he first broke onto the legal scene.

Giesler, a small town boy from Wilton Junction, Iowa (Pop. 300 then), studied law at the University of Southern California here.
 While a student he formed a collection agency and one day got a bill against the late famed lawyer, Earl Rogers.

"I used to watch him in court," said Giesler. "When I tried to collect from him, I asked for a job and got one as officeboy for $25 a month. No, I never collected that bill."

After Giesler took his bar examinations he became Rogers' associate for 17 years. One of their most interesting cases was helping defend the late attorney Clarence Darrow on a charge he took a bribe while defending James and John McNamara, accused saboteurs of a Los Angeles newspaper building.

"I was the attorney of record on the case and sat through the trial for three months," he said. "I was convinced Darrow was framed."

On his own for 30 years, Giesler now has offices in a small, white building on the edge of Beverly Hills. His staff includes three attorneys and five secretaries. In his office hang photographs of his idols, Rogers and Darrow.

Giesler lives with his second wife. He has a son in the Ma-

26 County Men Face Draft During March

LANSING (U. P.)—Local draft boards in Michigan were ordered yesterday to produce 602 men for military service during March, the second smallest monthly call in more than a year.

Col. Arthur A. Holmes, state selective service director, said all draftees taken will be at least 20 years old, except for younger men who volunteer.

He said the majority of the call will come from volunteers since local boards report a continuing volume of young men desiring to complete their military service at the most convenient time.

The call in Oakland County was for 26 men.

Advise Williams Against Lease

Cost of Flint Building to House Departments
 Said Too High

LANSING (U. P.)—State officials have advised the governor against leasing a downtown Lansing office building to house governmental agencies now scattered through the city.

State Controller James W. Miller said the two-story Sears building was a "reasonably good deal, but we can't afford it."

Gov. Williams had asked Miller to investigate the cost of leasing the building to see if such an arrangement would be economical.

Miller said a five year lease would cost the state an estimated $115,000 a year, including the cost for remodeling and heating.

"At that rate, we would be paying about $1.50 per square foot," Miller said. "Some of the agencies we would move in there are only paying 86 cents a square foot now."

The administrative board had approved the idea of leasing the building, but instructed Miller to look into the possibility of purchasing it.

"We have asked the owner if he was interested in selling the building and he said no," Miller said.

"We are still interested in negotiating for a building at a price we can afford," he added.

Top priority will be given to finding a building in which to process applications for the Korean war veterans bonus, he said. The military establishment says it needs about 12,000 square feet to process the claims.

State officials are studying the possibility of erecting a new office building to house agencies now scattered in the city and take the strain off some crowded departments.

Famous Trichologist Tells Truth About Saving and Improving Hair

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Pontiac, Michigan, Friday ONLY,
 February 11, 1955. These private demonstrations will be held at the Pontiac Hotel on Friday ONLY, February 11, 2 P. M. 'til 9 P. M.

CHICAGO (Special)—In an interview here today Mr. E. V. Safranski, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Millard Hair and Scalp Specialists said:
 "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED
 "The Millard firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads, offer a guarantee," Safranski said.

Once a person avails himself to the Millard treatment his skepticism immediately disappears. "To insure this, we offer this guarantee: "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair progress at the end of 30 days your money will be returned."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Millard specialists are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless" cases are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this lost category.

If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin, or colorless, the Millard people can perform wonders.

Every one is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp, and cause for his hair trouble.

JUST LIKE OLD TIMES

A FAMILY GET-TOGETHER WITH A LONG DISTANCE CONFERENCE CALL

Doesn't it seem ages since the last time your family was all together? If you're miles apart now, you may feel it's impossible to assemble as often as you'd like.

Have you tried a telephone conference call? It will bring your family together even though each member lives in a different city. Just tell the Long Distance operator that you want to make a conference call. Give her the telephone numbers of the people you want to speak with. She'll call each of them and let you know when your family is "together." Then all of you will be able to talk to and hear each of the others.
 It will seem just like old times.

Keep the family in close touch by Long Distance conference calls. They're easy to make—usually you can be connected in minutes. The cost? Surprisingly little, especially if you call after 6 P. M. during the week or any time on Sunday.

Scout Troop 66 Marks Birthday

Explorer Post Given Charter; 150 Present for 12th Anniversary

Boy Scout Troop 66, sponsored by Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church, marked its 12th birthday at a dinner at the church Monday night attended by over 150 persons.

Explorer Post 66, newest senior scout unit in the Pontiac District, received its charter at the affair. Van R. Braidwood, district executive, presented the charter to King Stedler, post adviser.

The occasion also marked the 45th anniversary of the Boy Scouts of America, incorporated in the U.S. in February 1910.

Braidwood also presented three ribbons won by Post 66 at the explorer winter sports event Jan. 29-30 at Kensington Park. These included first place in cross-country skiing, second in downhill skiing, and third in junior speed skating.

At a troop Court of Honor after the dinner, nine boys were invested as tenderfoot scouts by Scoutmaster Nelson Kirby. He also awarded nine merit badges.

Wayne Kline was presented with his first-class scout pin. Nine boys who received second-class pins were Norman Mallory, Larry Markell, Arnold Haynes, Michael Fauss, Billy Mihalek, Carl and Bill Sallee, and James O'Dea.

Kirk Overstreet, camping director, reviewed last year's outdoor program and outlined plans for 1955 activities. Robert Dunham, troop committee chairman, showed movies of a canoe trip taken by the scouts last summer.

Senate Seems Sure to Extend GI Credits

WASHINGTON (U)—The Senate appeared virtually certain to approve today a House-passed measure to allow persons who were in service before Feb. 1 to continue piling up GI education credits.

The bill — which won 366-0 approval in the House last month — was expected to whip through the Senate after little debate.

The President has let it be known he would go along with legislation to keep schooling benefits alive for those in uniform before Feb. 1.

Boys Dress Up; Shame Girls in Sloppy Outfits

DOVER, N.J. (U)—All the eighth-grade lads at McFarland Street Grammar School wore their "Sunday best" to class yesterday—and made a big impression on the girls.

That was their intention. The "dress-up" plan actually was a protest against the girls who come to school wearing blue jeans, saddle shoes and other too-informal garb.

So in marched the 70 boys—all in white shirts and ties and highly polished shoes. They made their point. A teacher said the girls decided to mend their ways.

900 Assemble at Romeo High

Milk Producers Group Ask Bylaw Changes, Call Future Meeting

ROMEO — Two resolutions were adopted by some 900 dairymen who assembled at the Romeo High School last night in an effort to take positive action in the present milk price situation.

The first resolution, which was passed by a large majority of those present, asked the removal of George Irvine, Federal milk marketing administrator in Detroit, by the secretary of agriculture.

Romeo MMPA members have led a fight for a grand jury investigation into price fixing and market manipulation in the Detroit milk market.

The resolution added that copies of the resolution, "together with other developments of record to date, be forwarded to president Eisenhower, secretary of agriculture Earl Benson, the United States Justice Department, and the Detroit branch of the U.S. anti-trust division.

As the first step in its "house-cleaning" plan, as instigated by the action committee of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn., the resolution requests the ouster of Irvine because of several incidents cited in the resolution, which stated that there was "serious doubt" as to whether Irvine is "now in a position to open-mindedly administer the controversial milk-marketing act in a quasi-judicial manner in this area."

They will begin serving as soon as the ordinance is published. Under consideration are several applicants for the police force, and a sanitation code. Councilman Charles Fisher was named chairman of the new city council.

The Pontiac firm of Lohs and Noble, were hired as auditors.

At a meeting of the board Monday night, at the Highland Town hall, at 8 p. m. the members hope to conclude any details that have been omitted.

Malenkov's Farm 'Guilty' Non-Existent, Say Experts

WASHINGTON (INS) — Agriculture Department specialists today viewed the replacement of Russian Premier Georgi Malenkov as "purely a matter of personalities" with no bearing on Soviet farm policy.

These experts said Malenkov's shouldering of the blame for shortcomings in Soviet agricultural programs "doesn't make sense" because these programs have long been personally supervised by Nikita Khrushchev, who engineered the latest Kremlin shake-up.

One informed U.S. source commented: "It's possible that Malenkov did not approve of what we consider some of the wild programs of Khrushchev. He may have been critical, and now he has to eat crow."

American experts said it is unlikely that Soviet leadership actually views Russia's farm programs—calling for a vast expansion of grain production—a failure at this stage.

They pointed out that Khrushchev is the man primarily responsible for planting grains for the first time on millions of acres of semi-arid lands in Siberia and other eastern areas.

This program is regarded in the department as an official gamble, although it appears likely to pay off in the current crop year since the weather has been favorable in the new producing areas.

An official Agriculture Department publication quotes Khrushchev as saying in the fall of 1953 that the Soviet grain situation reflects "more considerable achievements than in some other branches of agriculture."

It then pointed out that policy decisions following Khrushchev's statement gave only incidental attention to grain, apparently indicating that the Kremlin considered the problem solved.

At that time, the article said the emphasis was on livestock, potatoes and vegetables as the critical phases of Russian agriculture.

But in March, 1954, following several agricultural conferences in the Kremlin, a program was announced calling for no less than 32 million new acres in grain, an increase of 12 per cent in two years.

The goals subsequently have been substantially increased.

Among department experts, this policy of Khrushchev is viewed as extremely risky and some felt it may have been a point of sharp conflict within the Kremlin.

As for the results of Khrushchev's farm policies one American expert said: "The people have not been really hungry, but their diet has been too starchy."

Last month, the Agriculture Department's Foreign Agricultural Service issued a report discussing the Soviet's attempt to bring about huge production increases without altering the basic structure of collective farming.

This document declared that during 1954, government direction and control was increasingly tightened, and the compulsory minimum of labor by workers on collective farms was raised.

Russia's livestock situation was pinpointed as one of the major weaknesses on the Soviet agricultural front.

The report said: "Official data, released in September, 1953, re-

Farm 'Guilty' Non-Existent, Say Experts

vealed that most livestock numbers at the beginning of the year were below the pre-collectivization period, despite a very considerable increase in population . . .

"Despite reported increased government collections of meat and milk, shortages of animal products at the (government) controlled prices were experienced in 1954."

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Healthy kidneys, free of pain and congestion, are essential for the body to remove excess waste. Kidney function is very important to good health. When kidney function is impaired, waste builds up in the body, causing a variety of ailments. This is the reason why it is so important to keep the kidneys healthy. The kidneys are the body's waste disposal system. They filter out the waste from the blood and excrete it in the form of urine. If the kidneys are not working properly, the waste will build up in the body, causing a variety of ailments. This is the reason why it is so important to keep the kidneys healthy. Announce New Way to Relieve Pain of Arthritis and Rheumatism Without Pills!

Greaseless, odorless cream penetrates deep—speeds up flow of fresh, rich blood into sore areas—actually helps drive away pain-causing congestion and pressure.

New York, N. Y. (Special) — Science has now developed an odorless, greaseless cream that acts in a new way to bring a new kind of relief from pains of arthritis, rheumatism, and muscular aches and pains. This new cream relieves these pains without the need of taking pills and other internal medicines that may only upset the system.

Gently rubbed into painful areas, this cream penetrates so deep and completely that it actually vanishes. Quickly a comforting feeling of warmth develops and the whole painful area takes on a pleasing glow. This is striking evidence of the power of this cream to penetrate quickly and stimulate the circulation of the blood. This glow illustrates how it speeds up the flow of fresh, rich blood into the sore areas and actually helps drive away the pain-causing congestion and pressure.

Now for the first time this remarkable cream can be obtained without a prescription at drug stores throughout America—under the name InfraRUB. The price of InfraRUB is only 94¢ for a large tube. InfraRUB is backed by the amazing guarantee that sufferers from the pains of arthritis, rheumatism, lumbago, neuritis, neuralgia or muscle injuries or sprains will get hours and hours of comforting relief or their money will be refunded in full.

146 British and French doctors are so satisfied with this new help for patients suffering from arthritis and rheumatism that they have prepared written reports of success based on hundreds of cases. Further, one of the leading arthritis and rheumatism clinicians in the United States has now confirmed the findings of these doctors.

STOCK MARKET

Price Bulge

CHICAGO (AP)—An opening price bulge in grains could not be entirely held on the Board of Trade today. Some cereals, notably wheat, fell back after previous closing prices after the first few minutes of quiet active dealing.

Commission houses had buying orders on hand at the opening and that accounted for the early price rise. Apparently some of the buying came from people who felt the increasing world tensions would have an inflationary aspect on the domestic economy.

Professional traders, however, were not inclined to make very large commitments at the moment. They seemed to be following an old market maxim "When in doubt, do nothing."

Wheat near the end of the first hour was $\frac{1}{4}$ to $\frac{1}{2}$ lower, March 26 $\frac{1}{2}$; corn $\frac{1}{4}$ lower to $\frac{1}{2}$ higher, March 51 $\frac{1}{2}$; oats unchanged to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher, March 76 $\frac{1}{2}$; rye $\frac{1}{2}$ lower to $\frac{1}{4}$ higher, March 12 $\frac{1}{2}$; soybeans $\frac{1}{2}$ lower to 1 cent higher, March 32 $\frac{1}{2}$; and land 3 cents lower to 2 cents a hundred pounds higher, March 12 $\frac{1}{2}$.

Hal Boyle Says:

Young Welsh Girl Brings Own Lifeboat to America

NEW YORK (AP)—Few visitors arriving in New York by ship bother to bring along their own lifeboat anymore.

But Miss Janet Jones, a young lass from Wales, did. Stepping ashore clad in a red cloak, an 18th Century style Welsh dress and a high-topped black beaver hat, she took one look at busy Manhattan and exclaimed:

"Aeth a fy ngwnt i fwrdd yn synyd mor gylm!"

This, as any Welshman would grasp instantly, meant: "It takes my breath away—everything moves so fast!"

Miss Jones—a name as common as Kim in Korea or Smith in America—won over 1,100 other contestants to become the national hostess of Wales. She is here for a seven-week, coast-to-coast goodwill tour. With her she brought a corge, a coracle, a collection of wooden love spoons, a black Bible made from a block of coal, a 5½-foot harp, and a walking stick which once belonged to the Welsh statesman, David Lloyd-George.

The corge turned out to be an underslung, mystified, homesick lady dog named Ceri, and pronounced "Kerry."

"The word corge means cur or mongrel," explained Janet, who is 21, pretty, auburn-haired and blue eyed.

"The corge has been honored in Wales since Howell the Good passed a law in 916 exempting the breed from taxes because they kept the pastures free of lurking wild animals. The corge has been adopted by the British royal family. It is now the 'Falla' of Buckingham Palace."

The coracle turned out to be an ancient type Welsh boat made of wicker and cowhide, so light even a girl could pack it on her back.

This is believed to be the first coracle ever brought to the United States.

Now about those wooden love spoons?

"In the old time," said Janet, "instead of giving the girl of his choice an engagement ring, a Welsh boy would come to her with a spoon he had carved. The more beautiful the carving, the more he loved her."

"If she accepted the spoon, they were engaged. That is where the term 'spooning' came from. If she turned down the spoon, it was love's labor lost."

"Very occasionally the old custom is still followed. It is much easier today to buy an engagement ring. But I'd much rather have a love spoon myself."

However, Janet made it quite clear she expects no love spoon on this trip.

"I'll be much too busy to look for a husband," she said, "and it's him that should be doing the looking anyway."

Miss Jones, daughter of a Presbyterian minister, comes from a tiny Welsh village only 50 miles from the town with the longest name in the world. It is—here we five seconds from a standing start.

"In English," she said, "it means 'St. Mary's Church, in a hollow of white hazel, close to a rapid whirlpool and St. Tysilio's Church, and near a red cave.'"

"But the people who live there simply call it Llanfair, P. G."

Even so, after all these centuries, the town still has a population of only 1,200.

Old-Time Pastors Claim Churches Too 'Superficial'

DALLAS (AP)—There's just too much superficial Christianity in our churches," the Rev. M. V. Clark, 84, of Snyder, Tex., said yesterday.

"Why, I can remember when there were 40 or 50 people all standing at once and shouting their faith—and in a Methodist church, I mean."

This brought a chuckle from the Rev. C. E. Clark, of Houston, 82, a cousin of the Snyder preacher. "That's right," the Houston parson said. "But if that happened today—half of the congregation would jump up and run off."

The retired circuit riders met unexpectedly at a Methodist ministers' meeting.

Expect Red Riots During Sessions of Pact Ministers

BANGKOK (AP)—Pro-Communist rebels are expected to create disturbances in Laos during the conference of the eight Manila Pact foreign ministers, according to reports reaching Thai police last night.

Police said they had information that Prince Souphanouvong, the Laotian rebel leader, had been ordered by the Vietnamese in adjoining North Viet Nam not to cooperate with the Laotian government.

Earlier it had been reported Souphanouvong was negotiating with the new Laotian Cabinet of Thao Kratal to settle their differences.

Rebel forces—known as "Pathet Lao"—reputedly control four districts in northern Laos, one of the three associated states of Indochina.
