U.S. Fund Would Pay 90 Pct. of Cost of Artery Vital to City's Future

The proposed north-south central artery expressway through the city has been supported by the Pontiac Real Estate Board, the fourth group to endorse the proposal.

Edward A. Maier, president of the board, said board members concluded at their regular monthly meeting this week that the "roadway will be very advantageous to the Pontiac area."

"We believe that eventually a north-south highway is going to be built, and that it would best serve the city if it is close by instead of miles away," Maier commented.

The six-lane road, proposed by the Oakland County Planning Commission last December, has been endorsed by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Retail Merchants and Downtown Pontiac Associations of the Chamber.

The downtown association in its organizational meeting Wednesday placed the road at the top of the list of a six-point plan of attack aimed at the rejuvenation of the downtown area.

SEEN AS BUSINESS AID

Maier further stated that board members feel that the expressway would funnel business into this area.

"We also believe that acquiring rights to the property needed to build the route would not be as great as in other proposals," he explained.

He mentioned that much needed railroad grade separations, which the project is expected to provide, would be made available sooner than under present plans.

Wind Kills 4 in Georgia

ATLANTA (AP)—Gully - washing rain and vicious, erratic wind storms hit Georgia early today and last night, killed four persons, flattened homes and farm buildings and stalled a fast passenger train.

Hardest hit was the area around Ellaville, Oglethorpe and Montezuma, about 110 miles south of Atlanta. Two children were killed near Ellaville in Schley County, and two in adjoining Macon County. At least 34 homes or barns were reported destroyed or badly damaged.

From this area, the storm apparently tore on northeastward. It dipped down at Warner Robins to blow out windows and lift a number of roofs. It also struck again between Jeffersonville, in Twiggs County, and Macon.

Across the state eastward in the Thomson - Augusta district, another bad blow took away porches and roofs, leveled a few buildings and uprooted numerous trees. Thomson was left without electric power for a considerable period.

One or two houses also were reported blown down on a road leading to the Clark Hill power development on the Savannah River near Augusta.

Teamster Boss to Strike Back

Will Launch Campaign Against Foes of Labor —in Union or Outside

WASHINGTON (INS) — Teamsters' President Dave Beck struck back yesterday by asserting that powerful behind-the-scenes forces in and out of the labor movement are engaged in a "conspiracy" to take over his union.

The ruddy-faced Teamster boss issued a news release announcing the launching of a public relations campaign to "fight off anti-unionism" and to "meet head-on the opponents of labor who would build an alliance with self-serving forces within the labor movement."

Labor sources interpreted the statement as a veiled attack on Beck's detractors in the AFL-CIO and on the Senate rackets committee.

These sources said that Beck realizes he is in the fight of his life, and that he must persuade the 1,400,000 members of the Teamsters' Union that he is battling for them if he hopes to be re-elected as Teamster president at the union's convention next September.

He has announced that he will be a candidate for another five-year term.

The AFL-CIO is investigating the union to determine whether it is dominated by "corrupt influences." Also, it has suspended Beck as an AFL-CIO vice president and will try him May 20 on charges of malfeasance for invoking the Fifth Amendment in answer to charges made before the Senate committee.

Ike, Williams Address Educators

Back U. S., State School Aid Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower, stressing need for more classrooms, says America's schools are "more powerful even than the energy of the atom" and more important than guided missiles.

The President put it that way last night in a new appeal for congressional approval of the administration's school construction program.

In an address at the centennial dinner of the National Education Assn. and to a nationwide radio audience, Eisenhower linked school training of the nation's youth to the quest for enduring world peace.

"The hope of the world," he said, "is that wisdom can arrest conflict between brothers. I believe that war is the deadly harvest of arrogant and unreasoning minds."

PART OF DEFENSE

But the strength of America's arms, he said, always is related to the strength of the minds of its people.

★ ★ ★

The President's audience of about 1,200 educators listened in solemn silence during his 15-minute talk, but gave him a big ovation when he was introduced and at the conclusion.

Eisenhower sounded his new appeal for action a few hours after the first step in Congress toward easing the classroom shortage.

A House Education subcommittee yesterday approved 6-1 a bill to authorize a five-year, two-billion-dollar program of federal grants to help the states build schools.

BILL IS COMPROMISE

The bill, scheduled to go before the full committee next Thursday, is a compromise between the administration's plan for a four-year $1,300,000,000 program and a suggestion by Democrats for a six-year, $3,600,000,000 program.

★ ★ ★

However, with many members of Congress in a budget-cutting, economy-minded mood, the fate of any school aid program at this session remained in doubt. Ahead also lay an expected battle over whether federal funds should be barred from racially segregated school systems — an issue which helped kill a similar program last year.

EAST LANSING (AP) — As Gov. Williams reads the election results, they mean public support of increased spending for local schools and higher education.

He told a meeting of school administrators last night that people were wrong who pointed to defeat of a school tax proposal in Detroit and said it indicated an unwillingness of the people to spend more on education.

"Quite the opposite conclusion is the only one that meets the facts," he told a dinner of elementary school principals of the Michigan Education Assn.

"The people of Michigan had given an overwhelming mandate in favor of increased school aid, but they had indicated that they see no reason why the school district should increase its local property tax while the state is cutting back on its promised support," the governor said.

'LOGICAL EXPLANATION'

"It is the only conclusion which squares the state returns and the Detroit millage vote."

Williams said far more significant than the Detroit school money issue was the vote for Democratic statewide candidates who campaigned vigorously for more help for schools.

"And those same voters rejected, by heavy majorities, Republican candidates who had endorsed the view of the Republican legislative leaders that state aid to the primary and secondary schools should be reduced."

★ ★ ★

"Nor did we hedge on the issue of additional revenue," he said. "During the campaign, we said the Republican position was to cut back schools to avoid taxing corporation profits."

City Bond Vote to Be Increased by $200,000

Hospital-Sewage Plant Fund Proposal Hiked by Technicality

The scheduled city hospital - sewage treatment plant general obligation bond vote was shoved $200,000 higher last night when the city learned it was not capable of issuing $600,000 in revenue bonds.

But City Manager Walter K. Willman assured city commissioners that this wouldn't mean a change in the expected 1½ mill tax boost.

He further explained that the $200,000 would be subtracted from the original treatment plant issuance of revenue bonds and tacked onto the general obligation bond issue.

"This was upon the advice of our bond attorney Claude Stevens who said the city cannot safely carry $600,000 more in revenue bonds," Willman said.

He cited as a reason paying off the present treatment plant $650,000 revenue issue plus increased costs of operating the plant due to industrial wastes.

$4,550,000 TOTAL

As it stands now, the general obligation issue up for vote will total $4,550,000, while the revenue issue will amount to $391,000.

Broken down, the general obligation bonds would mean $2,700,000 for the plant, $1,500,000 for completing the new hospital wing, and $350,000 for a 300-unit hospital parking lot.

The remainder of the $3,091,000 auxiliary sewage plant would be financed by the revenue issue.

All voters will be eligible to ballot on the slated one-mill tax increase while property owners and spouses must approve by a 60 per cent majority the issuance of the general obligation bonds.

The other half mill of the tax boost will be pulled from a 1954 one - mill hospital vote, half of which was not levied.

Willman said the probable voting day of May 20 would be confirmed next Tuesday.

Summerfield Speaks Out

AP Wirephoto

WARNS OF SERVICE CUT — Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield tells newsmen in Washington that a cut in his department's request for funds may bring drastic cuts in postal service.

House OKs $17 Million for Postal Operation

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Appropriations Committee today informally approved a 17-million-dollar extra appropriation for the Post Office and agreed to consider next Friday a request for 30 millions more.

Implied in the committee's action was an understanding that the department would not put into effect tomorrow sharp service curtailments which Postmaster General Summerfield had said would be ordered if extra money was not provided at once.

The department has requested Congress to give it an extra 47 million dollars for the next three months. An appropriations subcommittee approved 17 millions of the request last Wednesday.

Summerfield said that was inadequate, and announced that starting tomorrow he would order such steps as to halt city and rural mail deliveries on Saturdays and stop selling money orders.

He has said unforeseen expenses stemmed from increased mail volume and the need to serve expanding residential areas.

When the Appropriations Committee met today to consider the annual money bill for the Commerce Department, most Republicans and some Democrats favored immediate action on the Post Office funds, but a motion to consider the matter was ruled out of order.

Finally, however, after a reportedly tempestuous session, the committee agreed to notify Summerfield he could count on at least 17 million dollars and that the committee would consider how much more, if any, to give him at a meeting next Friday.

Chairman Cannon (D-Mo) told newsmen it would be up to the full committee to decide how much money to appropriate. Indications were that a majority of members favored more than 17 millions although not the entire 47 millions Summerfield seeks.

Members favoring formal action today were unable to muster the two-thirds vote necessary to suspend the rules so the committee could consider other matters. However, they had a majority that prevented adjournment until a compromise was worked out.

Cannon said the decision finally made was taken by voice vote and had "a good majority." The decision was made on a motion by Rep. Rooney (D-NY), who said he favored the full amount of the request.

Rep. Canfield (R-NJ), senior minority member of the subcommittee that approved the 17-million allotment last Wednesday, predicted that the full committee eventually would approve the entire 47 millions.

Fog Hampering Rescue of Boat With 66 Aboard

Icebreaker 'Mackinaw' Helping 'Vacationland' Stranded at Straits

ST. IGNACE (AP) — The automobile ferry Vacationland, stranded in an ice jam in the Straits of Mackinac for 18 hours with 66 passengers aboard, is now stuck on a mud bank in a heavy fog.

The 360-foot vessel was 100 yards off her dock at Mackinaw City when she hung up on the mud bank, just outside a channel leading to her slip.

F. P. Case, assistant superintendent of state ferries, said the Coast Guard icebreaker Mackinaw, most powerful ship on the Great Lakes, was expected to free the Vacationland "pretty soon." But he did not fix the time in hours.

The Mackinaw had gone to the stranded ship's rescue several hours earlier.

Case reported the 66 passengers had been fed two hot meals and were "nice and warm."

★ ★ ★

Case said water level was abnormally low in the straits because of winds and strong currents.

FOG INTERFERES

High winds jammed the straits with ice yesterday, in places to depths of 25 feet. The ferry route measures six miles.

The Mackinaw began battering the ice at daybreak and reached the Vacationland shortly afterward. She began immediately the slow tedious task of breaking a path to Mackinaw City, a mile away then.

Vacationland has gross tonnage of 3,844 tons, top capacity of 150 cars.

When trapped, the Vacationland was making a four-mile run from St. Ignace, its terminal on the upper Michigan shore, to tie up ahead of the approaching storm at Mackinaw City.

In addition to passengers the vessel carried its own crew and the crew of two other carferries. The Coast Guard said it could not estimate how many crew members were on board. The ferry is equipped with lounges and a snack bar.

Ice conditions in the straits have halted all ship traffic and are holding up the start of the Great Lakes navigation season.

$87 Million in Federal Funds Is Start

Philadelphia to Rebuild 4-Mile Slum Area

PHILADELPHIA — A gigantic slum-clearance and redevelopment plan involving four square miles of lowland at the southwestern tip of Philadelphia has received the green light from the federal government.

The plan calls for conversion of the Eastwick lowlands into a $400,000,000 city-within-a-city.

The Federal Urban Renewal Administration has allocated $87 million to the project. Of this, $22 million is an outright grant; the remainder a loan.

★ ★ ★

The massive undertaking calls for transforming the marshy sector from a public liability into a residential, commercial and industrial area which is expected to add $275,000,000 to the city's real estate value within a decade.

LONG PLANNING

Years of planning have gone into the project.

The work will entail moving out some 2,400 families, whose homes are to be condemned along with more than 100 commercial and industrial establishments.

Many of the houses are of good quality, but quite a few are shacks occupied by squatters, and more than a score of the commercial places are automobile graveyards.

As presently visualized, the swamp and dump lands of Eastwick will be transformed into an attractive, ultra-modern, self-contained community for 45,000 or more persons.

The plans call for construction, mostly with private funds, of five communities on the 2,600 acres. Main highways will encircle each section, but will not pass through them.

COMPLETE TOWNS

There will be 626 acres for dwellings, 1,000 acres for industries and fifty-eight acres for commercial use. The balance will go into streets, playgrounds, parks, schools, fire houses and recreation areas.

The Eastwick section lies between the Philadelphia International Airport and City Hall. At present much of it keeps above water in the rainy season only by virtue of a system of dikes.

Part of the area has already been built up with 3,500,000 cubic yards of silt dredged from the Schuylkill in the process of cleaning up that stream.

An additional 7,725,000 cubic yards of fill will be required to bring the area up to grade.

One section of Eastwick, a 153-acre bird sanctuary at the southern tip, will not be filled in. It will continue to be wet and unattractive to all save its present inhabitants—muskrats, wild ducks and herons.

Bus Negotiators Note Progress

Pontiac City Lines and Drivers Try to Agree on New Contract

"Some progress was made" in an all-day bargaining session yesterday between drivers and the Pontiac City Bus Lines, Inc., in an attempt to draft a new contract.

★ ★ ★

Forty drivers, members of Local 1079 of the Amalgamated Assn. of Bus and Streetcar Operators, AFL, are asking for 20-cent hourly pay hike.

E. W. Dreasher, transportation superintendent of the company, said if the request was granted it would drive the firm "out of business."

He declined to elaborate if any agreement was reached on the request during yesterday's session.

Dreasher said both the company and the union have asked for a member of the State Labor Mediation Board to assist in the negotiations. Another session is scheduled for next week.

Drivers are presently operating under a day - by - day agreement, Dreasher said. They receive $1.65 an hour.

Bar Association to Cut Red Tape

Model Law Drafted for Administration of Securities in Estates

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A model law to reduce red tape in administering estates which include common stock and similar securities has been drafted by the American Bar Assn. with the help of a University of Michigan law professor.

The law is simple according to U. of M. Prof. Alfred F. Conard.

It takes away responsibility for seeing that estates are properly handled from corporations issuing stocks and bonds.

Instead, Conard explains, the responsibility falls on executors and administers of estates, their bonding companies and local probate courts.

Conard says corporations have handled these details for 110 years. It has created extra paperwork and unnecessary delays, he points out. Often the time gap has been accompanied by a devaluation of the securities.

Conard says the model law already has been introduced in the Illinois and New York legislatures. He say the state bar associations of Michigan, Delaware and Florida now have it under consideration. He hopes it wins support from the Michigan group and goes before the next legislative session at Lansing.

Among the members of the committee which drafted the law is Millard Vandervoot of Battle Creek.

Unlicensed Pharmacist Pays $50 Fine in City

A 55-year-old Flint man pleaded guilty yesterday before Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan when he was accused of practicing pharmacy without a license.

Russell Coggins, of 3300 Heatherly Rd., Flint, paid a $50 fine for the charge.

He was arrested by Pontiac Police after a complaint was made by James Early of the Michigan State Drug Inspection Division.

Coggins, manager of the Darrells Drug, 37 S. Saginaw St., was charged with filling a prescription with or for narcotics.

Urban League Cites Community National

The Community National Bank of Pontiac last night received the Urban League's annual award for doing the most during the past year to improve race relations in the city.

During the Seventh Annual urban League dinner meeting held last night in the civic room of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Association Building, Charles Harris, director of personnel at the Community National Bank accepted the award on behalf of the bank.

In accepting the award, Harris told the members how the bank decided to start a program of hiring qualified Negroes.

The speaker for the evening, John G. Feild, Executive Director Michigan State Fair Employment Practices Commission, spoke on "Employment Discrimination in Michigan."

Rev. Richard H. Dixon Jr., president of the Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship Assocation, presented a plaque to the Urban League on behalf of the association for its continued effort to improve conditions in the city for all people."

John Perdue, principal of Bagley School, and Rev. Richard H. Dixon Jr., pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church, were elected to the board of directors to replace Attorney Leon H. Hubbard, and Rev. Lenworth Miner, whose terms expired last night.

House Slashes Ike's Requests

Commerce Funds Cut 25 Per Cent; Maritime Construction Sliced

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today slashed 25 per cent from President Eisenhower's requests for new Commerce Department funds.

The committee recommended $653,685,060 in new appropriations for the department and related agencies for the fiscal year starting next July 1. This was $217,827,940 less than Eisenhower requested and $68,950,076 below appropriations for the current year.

The committee apparently was mindful of what happened on its last bill, financing the Labor and Welfare departments. It cut 118 million dollars from that measure only to have the house itself slash off an extra 15 millions. Still another 53 millions tentatively cut by the House was restored on roll call votes yesterday.

The commerce department measure was the sixth annual money bill sent to the house this year by the committee and shoved well over the billion-dollar mark the aggregate cuts in appropriations requested by the President.

Actually, the savings claimed by the committee in the Commerce Department measure are larger than the direct cut in new funds, for the committee canceled $65,251,000 of balances in the War Shipping Administration's workfund which otherwise could have been spent. The committee ordered the balances turned back into the Treasury.

The biggest single slice in funds was 91½ million dollars from the 94½ millions requested by the Maritime Administration for ship construction. Another 20 millions was cut from the amount asked for ship operating subsidies.

The only agencies for which significant program increases over 1957 were recommended here the Civil Aeronautics Administration, the Census Bureau, the Patent Office, the Public Roads Bureau, the Civil Aeronautics Board and the Weather Bureau.

Eisenhower's money requests contemplated an increase of 7,126 permanent positions for the Commerce Department and 373 new jobs in the smaller related agencies. The committee approved 4,038.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration's allotment of $328,325,660 included $177,747,800 for operation and regulation and would provide for employment of 3,350 technicians to handle the steadily increasing flow of airway traffic.

Dial Phones Eliminate That Personal Touch

BLOCK ISLAND, R. I. (AP) — This island's telephone service switched yesterday from the magneto system to dial telephoning, and some of the 357 subscribers are not happy about it.

The islanders used names instead of numbers and the telephone operators knew where to get practically everybody.

News Flashes

DETROIT (AP) — A 40-year-old mother and her 11-year-old daughter were cruelly beaten and sexually assaulted by three masked gunmen who forced their way into a Detroit home and robbed Floyd Orr of $1,100. The thugs also cruelly bound Mrs. Eva Eden, 65, a boarder at the Orr home, and Orr said they "shook me up" before prodding him into his home at pistolpoint at 12:50 a.m.

Orr's wife, Gazella, and his daughter, Shirley, both were beaten on the head and hospitalized for treatment of bruises and shock. The mother was raped; the daughter molested.

AMERICUS, Ga. (INS) — Two children, aged two and five, were killed today as tornadoes whirled through a 20-mile area between Ellaville and Oglethorpe, in west-central Georgia. Twenty homes were demolished.

April Storms Bring Rain, Snow, Winds

The Central of Georgia's City of Miami passenger train was stalled for several hours just south of Buena Vista, Ga., by a washout. It finally got moving again around 9:20 a.m.

Blizzards hit parts of the north central region. Ground blizzards halted and disrupted travel in east central Colorado and the southeast corner of Wyoming, hit earlier in the week by the worst spring snowstorms in many years.

Heavy snow fell in the Central Plains and the eastern Dakotas and the storm spread into Minnesota, Michigan, Wisconsin and Iowa. Falls ranged up to nearly 2 feet in parts of South Dakota and more than a foot was expected in sections of Minnesota, with lesser amounts in northern Wisconsin, Upper Michigan and Iowa.

A blanket of white covered upper New York state, with 4 to 8 inches reported since yesterday morning.

The snow storm was expected to extend into New England, with 3 to 5 inches of snow indicated in Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont. New York City's 2-inch fall of wet snow yesterday was a record for that date. Air travel was curtailed.

Area Seaman, 18, Dives In to Save Drowning Driver

An 18-year-old Lake Orion seaman today saved a Canadian motorist who had driven off a ferry dock into the St. Mary's River near Sault Ste. Marie.

Riley W. Polan, a Coast Guardsman assigned to the buoy tender Tamarack, saw George L. Johnson, 36, floundering in the water as his car sank below the surface.

Polan yelled to crewmates for help and jumped into the river, swam 25 yards to the struggling Johnson and collared him. The young seaman then swam back to his ship with Johnson, where the crew pulled them aboard.

Johnson, a resident of Sault Ste. Marie, Canada, had been visiting across the river and was on his way home when he accidentally drove off the International Dock. He escaped through a window.

Polan is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Polan, of 90 Elizabeth St., Lake Orion. He said his attention was attracted to the sinking motorist by danger toots from the International Ferry, en route to the U. S. side.

Egypt Agrees on Gaza Guards

To Ban Barbed Wire, Minefields on Border With Israelis

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—The newspaper Al Ahram said today U.N. Undersecretary General Ralph Bunche and Egyptian officials have agreed that no barbed wire barriers or minefields will be placed along the Gaza Strip's borders with Israel.

The paper said the agreement was reached in negotiations on the functions of the U.N. Emergency Force in the strip.

The paper said Bunche and the Egyptians agreed the Egyptian-Israeli armistice lines should be made to conform with the 1949 armistice ending the Palestine War, plus amendments to it in 1952 and 1954.

Al Ahram said Bunche's agreement with the Egyptians also called for:

1. Transfer of UNEF headquarters from Gaza to Rafah, on the Sinai-Gaza Strip border. This appeared another step in getting UNEF out of towns in the center of the strip.

2. Israeli forces to pull out of the El Auja demilitarized zone between Egypt and Israeli's Negeb Desert, in compliance with the 1949 armistice.

In Tel Aviv, Israeli army headquarters reported a long exchange of gunfire between Israelis and Syrians early today on the frontier east of Lake Hula. No Israeli casualties were reported.

'Mrs. Michigan' Wins Title, Prize With Fancy Ham

She is Mrs. Mary Weitzel, who was chosen today from among seven finalists who showed off cooking, ironing and other homemaking skills in the statewide contest.

Mrs. Weitzel will represent Michigan in the "Mrs. America" finals at Fort Lauderdale, Fla., May 11.

The attractive, brown-haired Detroiter, who said she spends $60 a week for food for her family, will receive a year's supply of groceries free as one of her prizes.

Mrs. Weitzel piled up her winning point margin, the judges said, with her cooking. She prepared a broiled ham decorated with lemons sculptured to represent Easter bunnies and vegetables shaped like Easter baskets.

Mrs. Weitzel's list of prizes includes a two-week vacation with her husband at Fort Lauderdale, a gas range and refrigerator, sewing machine, ironing table, electrical appliances, cooking utensils and dishes and one share of General Foods common stock.

Cairo Holds Funeral for Diplomat Norman

CAIRO (INS) — Funeral service for Canadian Ambassador E. Herbert Norman will be held tomorrow in Cairo's St. Andrews Church of Scotland.

After the service the body of the diplomat who committed suicide yesterday because of distress over accusations linking him to Communism will be flown to Canada for burial.

The body will be accompanied by Mrs. Norman, who suffered a nervous collapse when told her husband had thrown himself from the roof of a nine-story apartment building along the Nile after a night of brooding at his desk in the study of his Cairo home.

The U. S. Senate Internal Security Subcommittee that recently revived the old charges of Communism against Norman was a target for angry denunciation by Canadian officials and of derision by the Cairo press.

HENRY J. TAYLOR

NEW YORK (AP) — Banker, radio commentator and industrialist, Henry J. Taylor, is slated to become a new United States Ambassador to Switzerland in the near future. Swiss officials have advised Washington that his appointment is acceptable.

Anne Wheaton Tackles Task

First Woman to Hold High Post With Press at White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — When Mrs. Anne Wheaton moves into a small White House office May 1, a lot of people will be watching to see how she'll do a man's job as the President's associate press secretary.

Mrs. Wheaton, the first woman to get such a post, will have to work with a predominantly male press corps.

For the past 30 years her major concern has been with women's organizations, mostly as director of women's publicity for the Republican National Committee. But she's been dealing with the press for many years and is thoroughly experienced in public relations.

The word from newspapermen and women in Washington is practically unanimous in favor of "Annie," who will be the No. 2 press liaison with the President and the White House. Intelligent, capable, respected, trustworthy, even-tempered is what they had to say about her.

Press secretary James Hagerty, who will be Mrs. Wheaton's new boss, says, "She's a pro."

Mrs. Wheaton has plenty of know-how in politics. She's been to every GOP National Convention since 1940. She says she's watched women "build a niche for themselves" in politics to a point where they are a power sought by politicians.

If she does the job of her predecessor, she will be handling picture arrangements for the President and top visiting personalities at the White House, press releases, details on presidential trips. It will probably be the routine, rather than policy-level operations.

But, when Jim Hagerty is away, Mrs. Wheaton will be in charge of press queries. At times, she may be called on to handle a news conference where what she says or does could have international import.

This will be a new challenge for blue-eyed, silver-haired "Annie," who says she's "over 60."

7th Nuclear Test Held This Week by Russians

LONDON (AP)—The Russians carried out another nuclear test Wednesday, the British Defense Ministry announced.

It was the seventh Soviet test reported since last August, when the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission announced the start of a Russian test series.

The Day in Birmingham

Approve Annual Wage Increase for Teachers

BIRMINGHAM — Affecting over 450 teachers in the Birmingham School District the Board of Education has approved an annual wage increase of $300.

This represents an additional expenditure of about $138,000 from school funds and was made possible through the voter approval of the millage increase at a special election March 25.

Dwight B. Ireland, school superintendent, recommended the salary increase along with the citizens committee after an extensive study of district affairs.

Educators looking into the future predicted trouble if Birmingham did not keep pace with teachers' salaries of neighboring communities. The lower wages here they felt would reflect in the type of teachers Birmingham could employ. With lesser educational achievements in their own training teachers' shortcomings would in turn be reflected on the classroom work and accomplishments of children attending the public schools.

Birmingham fire department recorded a total of 64 runs for the month of March including 54 for fires and fire investigations. Although property damages amounted to only $580, Fire Chief Park Smith listed property endangered at $2,599,500.

★ ★ ★

Henry Johns, inspector for the Birmingham Sanitation Dept. and sealer of weights and measures, is reported as slightly improved at Henry Ford Hospital. A spokesman for the family this morning said they were quite encouraged with early hospital reports. Johns underwent surgery Monday.

Residents are reminded that at 1 p.m. the Civil Defense siren test will be held. Sirens are mounted at the Bowers and Chesterfield Fire Stations. The test will follow the pattern established last month.

Civil Defense Director Robert Kenning said no plan has yet been worked out to incorporate the regular fire sirens and so privide for greater coverage.

John LeRoy Covington

Service will be from the Manley Bailey Funeral Home at 1 p.m. Monday for Mr. Covington, 63, of 120 Brownell, who died early this morning at his residence.

A native of Missouri, Mr. Covington was foreman of custodian maintenance at the Pontiac Motor Division. He had been a resident of Birmingham for 13 years.

Survivors include his wife, the former Irene Hall, four daughters, Edna of Detroit, Mrs. Reino Perkio of Pontiac, Mrs. Harvey Adams of Lake Orion and Mrs. Harold Barnum of Midland, a sister, Mrs. James Yates of California, three brothers, Lee of Tennessee, Robert and Frank of Pontiac, 16 grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Burial will be in Perry Mt. Park Cemetery, Pontiac, with the Rev. Willis Bishop of the United Brethren Church officiating.

Statue of Liberty to Glow From Dusk to Dawn

★ ★ ★

Interior Secretary Fred Seaton announced that floodlights will illuminate the "Goddess of Liberty" from dusk-to-dawn starting Sunday instead of only from dusk-to-midnight.

★ ★ ★

Seaton said insufficient funds had previously permitted only dusk-to-midnight floodlighting. The additional cost of the after-midnight illumination was estimated at $3,700 a year.

MEMO TO CAESAR

Livia Gives Pilate Secret Orders

(Another in a Lenten Series)

Livia, Caesar's mother, replied to Pilate. . . .

You write that this man Jesus speaks and acts as though he were pre-destined to certain things. Is this so impossible? I have often, myself, had a sense of being pushed along — not by people and events but by some force I do not understand.

Mark you, Pilate. I cannot wholly believe this in my own case. I have seen both good and evil come of choices I have made deliberately in certain matters.

But if I feel a sense of destiny in a small way, could it not be that someone else — this Jesus, for example — feels it much more powerfully?

Why must we try to explain everyone else on the basis of our own selves?

For that matter, who can explain how things come to be at all! My son is now Caesar, ruler of the world. Who can say he would have been so, if Augustus had not adopted him in his youth, or if countless other things had not happened? Or, who can say he would not have been!

We simply do not know. Yet we must have some philosophy, something to accept and believe in. Perhaps this Jesus is giving a faith to the humble and the poor which could help them bear their humbleness and their poverty better. From what you have written me, I can imagine that he might conceive that as his destiny.

But I am merely guessing.

Assuredly, the man's preaching is going to have an impact on the world. For he has let loose ideas that will live on, even if his enemies succeed in doing away with him.

I hardly expect that his ideas will get far among the Romans. Humility is not one of our traits!

★ ★ ★

I have talked frequently with Caesar about this whole affair. I have wondered if it might not be interesting to bring the man to Rome, if only as a matter of curiosity. He tells me quite bluntly that you will handle the matter as you see fit and that so far as he is concerned that will be the proper way.

★ ★ ★

On the sly, however, I desire that you keep a protective eye on the man. I feel there is some good in him and there is too little good in the world to have any of it crushed needlessly.

(Signed) Livia.

Launch County Cancer Crusade

April Campaign to Point Need for Examinations; Some Fund Drives Set

American Cancer Society volunteers have launched the 1957 Cancer Crusade, April 1-30, to alert North Oakland County to the need for regular health examinations as protection against the disease, Judge Clark J. Adams, crusade chairman, announced today.

Judge Adams distinguished the two forms the crusade is taking. He said in towns participating in the Pontiac Area United Fund there will be no soliciting for funds.

Workers will limit their activities to a membership appeal, an educational drive and special events such as benefits, dances and sports.

However, in the non-United Fund areas independent crusades will be conducted for funds to support the Cancer Society's work.

Television's Dinah Shore Blazes the Trail

Gals' Garb Should Be Tax Deductible

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Last week Dinah Shore was nettled into putting on a free fashion show for an income tax investigator—a typical man, unfortunately—to prove that the clothes she wears on TV are too tight to wear for private soirees and therefore should be considered tax deductible.

"The nicest girl on television" donned, one by one, the luscious but uncomfortable creations from her professional wardrobe and paraded them before the government's guy from Missouri.

Occasionally she would attempt to sit down, illustrating that her seams were too splittable for dinner parties.

Frequently, she hobbled through a polite fandango, pictorializing for the grim gentleman how improbable it would be for her to be the life of the party—yeah, even to maintain life and limb—at a dance.

★ ★ ★

By the end of the afternoon, considering Dinah's professional rates, the government had been paid back with interest for her attempted deductions. Yet the revenuer departed unamazed and uncommitted.

DOESN'T UNDERSTAND

A man simply does not understand, whether he works for the government or for himself and family, how a woman can own a number of dresses and still need more.

★ ★ ★

Talk to the average man till he's blue, wheedle and kid him, show him the permanent blue ink stain on your pink pongee, and still he won't buy it . . . It is the male contention that a woman does not really need a new dress until she's down to the barrel.

I, of course, go along with Miss Shore the entire way. In fact, farther.

She claims only deductions for the gorgeous gowns which help her to make a rich living—thus fattening up the innards of the Internal Revenue Department.

I venture to suggest that all women, whether in show business or merely trying to show men how attractive they are, should be allowed a reasonable deduction for clothing.

The reason is complex. But any woman, even the wife of a government investigator, should understand.

In this world of high prices and high competitive spirit, such ladies as Miss Shore have dazzled into American living rooms and changed the entire pattern of modes and grooming.

If a woman is to keep a man interested, she must dress with supreme skill and variety. In the pre-TV days, a female could wear a seersucker trimmed with rickrack and scarcely anybody thought it amiss.

Today, with the invasion of beauty from the screen and fashion propaganda from all sides, it behooves a woman to garb herself far more exotically. (The result is often that the furniture looks shabby and has to be redone, which is another possible deduction.)

Since men demand beauty, but are not eager to pay for it, as previously pointed out, the smart woman must be careful to buy clothes that are deceptively simple, subtly seductive.

Simple clothes cost three times as much as extravagant-looking clothes, so it is a very expensive proposition and certainly deserves consideration from the tax people.

Commission OKs Civil Service Vote

The Pontiac City Commission, serving as the city's board of canvassers, last night certified Monday's vote on the civil service proposal as passing 3,357 to 1,318.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans will now turn over the official canvass to the county clerk.

The proposal will place city policemen under a civil service commission which firemen have been under for 16 years.

Turks Up Sugar Output

ANKARA — Turkey now has 15 sugar factories in operation, including four that were opened in recent months. Production is on the way to exceeding 400,000 tons, compared with 135,000 in 1950.

Thousands Stranded

NEW YORK (INS)—Thousands of subway passengers were stranded in 60 stalled trains at the height of New York's rush hour tonight when a smoy 4third-rail fire deep underground in an upper Manhattan station knocked out service over a wide area for over an hour.

There are nearly 2,000 varieties of bats.

School Additions Aid March Building Total

Four new school additions in Pontiac helped push building permits issued in the city last month to a total of 96, worth $1,952,966. This was the largest so far this year.

Two of the permits were issued by City Building Inspector Carl F. Alt for new schools on Bay street (Herrington Hills School) and for a Kennett Road School. The other two were for additions to Malkim and Bethune Schools.

Permits for five new commercial buildings in the city were approved. These included an addition at Michigan Bell Telephone Co., two gas stations, an automobile showroom, and a television sales and service shop. The five totaled $97,950.

Plans for new garages were evident as permits for 11 were issued.

Homeowners were granted 40 permits totaling $42,475 for residential alterations and repairs.

Other permits included: two commercial alterations and repairs ($11,300), two wrecking jobs ($125), one moving job ($2,000), construction of two fire escapes ($300), and installation of two tanks ($1,150).

During February, 66 permits were granted, totaling $293,345. These included 19 for new homes worth $186,000.

Teenagers Praised as Good Young Citizens

Recently some 28,000 screaming Elvis Presley fans demonstrated that, for the most part, they are ladies and gentlemen and act that way the majority of the time.

This writer was in attendance at the Olympia and can vouch for the sincerity of the teenagers. Other than downright noisy enthusiasm, the vast majority were far from juvenile delinquents.

At a recent meeting of the State Legislature a group of Republicans and Democrats reacted to the loose use of the term "juvenile delinquent." They expressed belief that it is harming the oncoming generation with the misadventures of a few of its number whose escapades hit the newspaper front pages.

Led by Rep. E. D. O'Brien (D-Detroit), the group brought in a resolution attempting to set the record straight.

The resolution said that the large and increasing numbers of young persons, realizing the handicaps put upon them by a minority who get into jams, have been organizing into respectable teenage clubs with worthy purposes.

It noted that such organizations are "rarely recognized, commended or complimented" for their activities, and called on the Legislature to give them a pat on the back for their useful and constructive services.

This newspaper is very much in accord with this thinking and feels sorry that so many must unjustly suffer because of the acts of a few.

O'Brien noted that figures will show that less than one per cent of the boys and girls in their teens ever get into trouble that could justify their classification as delinquents. Further study also shows that fewer than four per cent ever got into any sort of drinking or other difficulties that result in police action.

Undoubtedly the term "juvenile delinquent" has been overplayed without justification and we feel that steps should be taken to eliminate its loose use.

By and large teenagers are an asset to their community. Their enthusiasm and staunch loyalty should be appreciated and organized for community interests.

We Need These Post-Winter Snows

Although they make us slush around in a somewhat disagreeable manner, these springtime snowfalls are blessings in disguise—if they do not get too heavy and cause floods.

This is especially true in the Pontiac area where most of the soil has been under intensive cultivation for periods leading up to a century and a quarter.

That has rendered it porous, with much of the richness of the annual decay of the vegetation over countless centuries gone. In this condition it no longer stores up the needed moisture.

Melting snow is the best kind of irrigation. Then the moisture seeps into the ground as the snow disappears, and snuggles around the roots of all growing vegetation, revitalizing it and giving it renewed life. Old farmers call this the best fertilizer.

For several generations these spring snows have been called "sugar" snows. At first this was because they bring about a successive freezing and thawing condition that loosens the sap in the maple trees, and works to the advantage of manufacturing maple sugar and syrup, which until comparatively recent years was a sizeable industry in this area.

That now is greatly curtailed because our industrial development has done away with most of the maple trees. Winter crops in the Pontiac area need these light snows to a greater extent this spring that in most years.

Our wheat hasn't had the covering or moisture that it needed during the winter, and can be revitalized only by a satisfactory natural irrigation, which snow provides.

★ ★ ★

The snows which we get in April have a big bearing on the July harvest which still furnishes the flour for the staff of life that maintains its centuries old position as our most vital necessity.

The Man About Town

Picking a Winner

Baseball Contest Entries Favor the Older Players

April showers: What bring May flowers, also wet feet and sneezes.

Entries in our baseball contest are arriving on every mail. They largely favor last year's top batters, although in previous contests the leader usually has been a dark horse.

What player who has been at bat at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Friday, April 26, and what will be his batting average?

It costs nothing to compete, and every member of your family is eligible, but each entry must be on a separate piece of paper.

All entries must be received in The Pontiac Press office by noon on Saturday, April 13.

Who's your favorite player? He can be worth $250 to you if you'll only spend a minute's time and do your part. Give him a chance.

of 183 East Iroquois Ave. She points to their excellent life saving record in our city and otherwise, what a magnificent training for their own life it furnishes, and how those in charge of them should be given part of the credit.

Quite appropriate is the theme,

"Marketing with Dollars and Sense," of the spring term class conducted by

Mrs. Josephine H. Lawyer,

local representative for the MSU Extension Service.

Robert H. Dawson

Plan Today — Build for the Future

David Lawrence Says:

New Bill Permits True Economy

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — By a virtually unanimous vote, the Senate has just passed a bill which, if the House of Representatives approves, may do more to harmonize the views of the executive and legislative branches of the government in the making of the federal budget than anything which has been suggested before.

LAWRENCE

For the bill would create a joint committee of 14 members—seven from each house — who would have an adequate staff to study and evaluate all the items in the budget. It would save the time of everybody involved, because it would mean one set of hearings. It would furnish the viewpoint of all groups, including those which want to see economy practiced.

The same kind of bill has passed the Senate on different occasions in recent years only to be defeated in the House of Representatives, many of whose members traditionally feel that, since all the money bills must originate in the House, they must be given attention exclusively by its committees.

Senator John L. McClellan of Arkansas, who is chairman of the Senate Committee on Government Operations, has sponsored the new bill. In his report he gives many persuasive reasons for the adoption of the measure. He particularly takes cognizance of the action of the House on March 12 last in adopting a resolution requesting the President to indicate the places and the amounts in his budget where he thinks substantial reductions may best be made.

This, he says, is "a clear indication that the Congress does not have adequate information upon which to act in carrying out its constitutional responsibilities for maintaining adequate controls over government expenditures."

Taking a leaf out of the splendid record of the joint committee of internal revenue taxation, McClellan and the 71 co-sponsors of the new bill believe a great service can be rendered by the joint committee type of operation in the field of governmental economy.

The theory back of the joint committee idea is that a large staff of experts, who serve continuously from one session through the next and so on, will build up a knowledge of the budget operations that will be invaluable to Congress.

Detailed analysis of the budget by congressional committees is not possible under the present system, and only a superficial examination is given to what is recommended by the executive. Conversely, the budget bureau has to accept programs created out of previous legislation by Congress and has no means of passing judgment on whether existing laws should be repealed. The budget bureau in those instances merely estimates the cost of operation and assumes a continuance of the laws. A joint committee could look constantly into the question of whether the laws that require appropriations from year to year might be modified, if not repealed.

★ ★ ★

The move just made by the Senate is in the direction of efficiency and could be the basis of some real economizing. Will the House pass the new bill or insist on the same haphazard ways that have prevailed in the past? The American people will be deeply interested in what happens to this bill in the House of Representatives.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Cod Liver Oil Has Stood Time's Test as Health Aid

Back in horse-and-buggy days, a sovereign remedy for the rheumatism, as the old timers called chronic joint disability, was cod liver oil—a tablespoonful daily for a child, two tablespoonfuls daily for an adult, every day in the year except perhaps in the weeks of very hot weather in the summer.

DR. BRADY

It is interesting to note that of all the remedies physicians have used, experientially or empirically, for chronic joint disability the only one that has survived every vagrant fad or fancy is cod liver oil!

Cod liver oil is a standard source of at least three elements needed for good health and functional efficiency, in childhood, youth, and mature age.

These three elements are vitamin A, vitamin D and iodin. Two of these—vitamin D and iodin—are particularly important for persons with chronic joint disability, in my opinion.

Besides vitamin D and iodin, a good daily ration of calcium and vitamin B complex is also required by any one whose joints have given him increasing discomfort in the past year.

As I explain in my booklet, chronic joint disability, there are easier, cheaper ways to get an adequate daily ration of vitamin D and iodin than by taking cod liver oil. There is also no definite clinical evidence that vitamin A deficiency favors physical degeneration of joint tissues.

The 18,000 units of vitamin A in two tablespoonfuls of cod liver oil would be only enough to prevent or correct such manifestations of vitamin A deficiency as dry eyes, night blindness, dry rough skin.

Although the old timers didn't know just why cod liver oil was so good for the "rheumatism," they were on the right track, for they also prescribed another remedy for "rheumatism"—iodin or iodides. As already mentioned, cod liver oil is a good source of iodin.

If you believe you have rheumatiz, send me 35c and a stamped, self-addressed envelope for the booklet on Chronic Joint Disability.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Clarifies School Statement Following Former 'Voice'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The basic difference in Berkley Junior High School and Madison Junior High School is: Berkley is a compact two-story building and Madison is a one-story. Berkley has eight more classrooms and less corridor space. Berkley has 9,892 square feet of corridors and Madison has 13,812. Berkley has a large stage which Pontiac does not have. The cost of same will more than counteract the cost of the little theater in Madison. Taking the extra cost of Madison quoted in the Press at $196,000 and add the cost of eight more classrooms, which Madison does not have, at $20,000 per classroom is $160,000, making a total of $356,000.

The special rooms such as science, library, etc., are basically the same. The biggest difference is that Berkley can handle 240 more pupils on a basis of 30 pupils per classroom.

I am only giving these actual facts to defend myself as I am referred to in your paper on the article in February's issue, which I addressed to Mr. Harold Fitzgerald and marked personal on the envelope, and not on the letterhead. Unfortunately, it was printed, as I have no intention of hurting anyone. The trend has been in a great many places to this one-story type construction, and Pontiac school districts are not the only ones. But the cold fact remains, you can build two stories cheaper than one story and this proves it. The trend will be back to two-story because they can get more classrooms and the one-story has much more upkeep in roof area and more cost to heat.

May I also say in closing, Madison has a stair well leading from the ground floor to the cafeteria and the square feet area is 1,248, while Berkley stairs take up 1,250 square feet of area from the first floor to the second floor. The members of the school board were doing what they thought was right and they got more than their dollars worth from the contractor in this type of building.

'Farm Vet' Wants No Daylight Saving

I'm holding my breath, waiting for some hair-brained "city feller" to pop off with the annual suggestion about "daylight" savings." 'Pay Increases Are Contagious'

Well, well! Pay increases are contagious. That is, for city officials. Both Pontiac and now Rochester seem to think there is a money tree some place. Rochester feels a 50 per cent increase is justified for city officials, while factory workers are getting laid off or working four days a week or 20 per cent cut.

It is time to get out of debt. It is time to wake up. May I suggest Pontiac hire an economy expert to save money instead of more spending? Remember, next time vote against any and all spending projects until the city is out of debt.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Herman beat up his wife and got drunk, so she filed suit for divorce. Even his parents said he needed a good kick in the pants. But kicks don't teach anybody the specific rules for success. So scrapbook this case record and send for the "Marriage Tests" named below. They are a non-profit service by this newspaper to safeguard happy homes and prevent divorces.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-347: Herman D., aged 25, has been married only two years.

"My wife and I don't get along," he admitted, "so she is filing suit for divorce.

"We have a little boy just six months old, and she says I don't love my son or her, either.

CRANE

"But I do, Dr. Crane, and I don't want to get a divorce. But I admit I have come home drunk a few times and have even given her a black eye occasionally.

"She says it is too late now to make up, for we tried it a couple of times before.

"My parents say I need a good kick in the pants, and that may be true."

TRICKS, NOT KICKS

Kicks don't offer any specific help of a positive nature. You don't show a math student his error in an arithmetic problem by giving him a swift kick in the pants.

★ ★ ★

No, it requires specific training in the special tricks or rules of the game to become a good baseball player or pianist or husband.

We have excellent rule books for baseball and Canasta, football and bowling.

But most of our youth have never been schooled in the rule book for conducting a marriage according to Hoyle.

True enough, a lot of married folks are emotionally juvenile. Indeed, many a "big shot" in business or industry is still a boy in short pants as regards his emotional development.

And thousands of brilliant college graduates still act like kindergarten youngsters when it comes to handling money.

They may have grown up on an "allowance" from indulgent papa all through college.

Unaccustomed to earning and budgeting funds, they squander part of their pay checks on fishing tackle and shotguns, or liquor and cigarets when they can't afford such luxuries.

MARRIAGE TESTS

So analyze yourselves, regardless of your age, and see if you fulfill the rules of the game of marriage.

Do you bring home an adequate paycheck regularly? Do you let your wife serve as treasurer of your little family corporation?

Do you pay each other a sincere compliment every day? Do you go through the motions of true love by real thriller-diller kisses?

Do you shoulder your share of the household chores if your wife has a baby or two to care for, or if she also works all day in a factory or office?

The usual male sits down when he comes home from work, even though his wife has put in just as many hours at an office or factory job.

The husband thus selfishly expects her to hustle up a good dinner and even do the dishes afterwards while he lazily watches the fights on TV.

Marriage is a team-work proposition, so get hep to the rules. And only male bullies beat up their wives: Such guys haven't the guts to hit a man of their own size.

But many marriages also go on the rocks because of sins of omission by very virtuous wives. Herman was jealous of his baby son and irritated by his wife's lack of interest in him.

So send for my 200-point "Tests for Husbands & Wives," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

These non-profit Rating Scales are offered you by this newspaper as a means of giving you the rule book for happy marriage.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Full Work Force Tackles Mackinac Straits Bridge

ST. IGNACE (AP)—Things are stirring high out over the Straits of Mackinac — something like the awakening of a fairy tale giant.

Ant like, men clamber through and over spidery steel, fitting little pieces into place here and there. Work is under way once again on the gigantic Mackinac Straits Bridge, from which icy weather drove men last fall.

And on April 20 steel, big steel, is scheduled to move out by barge to be fitted into the last approach spans to the 552-foot towers. Then on May 22, the first of 87 sections of the suspension span is slated to go out.

When the 120-foot, 100-ton suspension sections begin to go in place, United States Steel Corp. expects to have 300 to 400 men swarming over the 100 million dollar structure, all with a single target; linking Michigan's two peninsulas by Nov. 1 for the first time in history.

WONDER BRIDGE

Work on this, one of the world's wonder bridges, began three years ago—May 7, 1954. At one time as many as 3,082 men have been employed at the site by 10 different contractors, and five of them have met death here.

U. S. Steel's American Bridge division sent the first 1957 crews to the bridge last week, readying machinery, placing guard rails along already laid roadway, and generally tidying up for the race against next winter.

Prentiss M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, said he "feels certain" contractors will meet their Nov. 1 deadline for automotive traffic.

But the bridge actually will not be finished until mid-1958. Such things as cable wrapping must await hanging of the suspension span, and painting cannot be done until the bridge is up and summer's warm weather is back.

Incidentally, 1,500 gallons of red lead paste will be needed for coating the cables before wrapping goes on, and 25,500 gallons of paint will be needed to paint the four-mile long bridge from end to end—St. Ignace to Mackinaw City.

While winter halted work on the structure itself, it didn't stop work on the bridge altogether. Around 100 were employed at nearby Moran Point prefabricating suspension spans and stockpiling other supplies.

The first major accomplishment of 1957 is expected to be completion of the approach spans, only two of which now are missing: One to each cable anchor pier. This is the work that is slated to begin April 20 and be completed 10 days hence.

When the spans reach the anchorage piers the Straits will have been bridged by steel, giant cables spun from 41,000 miles of tough wire having been strung across the tall towers from the anchorage piers last year.

Completion of the approach spans will be followed by the spectacular swinging of the suspension span, section by section. Barges will get the 68-feet wide, 40-feet thick sections to the site, then cranes will lift them to 2½-inch wire ropes dangling at 39-foot intervals from the cables. They'll be bolted fast to the ropes.

From anchorage to anchorage, the suspension span will be the longest of its kind in the world: 8,614 feet, compared with 6,450 for San Francisco's Golden Gate.

The Bridge Authority expects almost two million vehicles to use the bridge in its first full year of operation, 1958, compared with 890,671 which got from one Michigan peninsula to the other via state-owned ferries in 1956.

The Authority says it hopes to adopt a straight $3.50 or $3.25 toll fee for each car and its passengers. The ferries now get $2.75 per car and 25 cents for the driver and each passenger, which the Authority says averages out to about $3.44 per car. Buses and trucks, of course, pay more.

Skin Specialist Shows How To Rinse Away Blackheads

"Thrilled and delighted," says Miss Joanne Rains (left) after demonstration. "Could hardly believe my eyes!" said Miss Gilda D'Ambrosi (center). "It's true! I can't believe it! Where did the blackheads all go?" exclaimed Miss Shirley Stremus (right).

Reveals Valuable Complexion Secret

RICHARD ESTRIN of Queen Helene

"Now no woman need despair of getting rid of ugly blackheads that mar an otherwise clear and lovely complexion. For here is a wonderfully simple treatment that gives dramatic proof of what it will do the very first time you use it.

In thousands of beauty salons across the country, thousands of women have paid from $3 to $10 for single Queen Helene Treatments. However, I have arranged for this store to bring you the very same treatments at a cost of less than 13c each . . . to yourself at home."

We both guarantee you will be delighted with results. If you are not, your money will be cheerfully refunded.

Fast, Easy Treatment now available for home use

by CLAIRE HOFFMAN

NEW YORK, N. Y.—I was one of an audience of truly surprised men, women and teen-agers yesterday, when a leading New York skin specialist demonstrated a new rapid way of removing blackheads. Each demonstration took only 15 minutes — and the results were frankly amazing! Ugly blackheads actually rinsed away and many could be seen on the white cleansing tissues that finished each treatment.

But this wasn't all! The treatment also helped reduce enlarged pores and made rough, muddy complexions look cleaner, clearer and smoother.

Here's what I saw . . .

Five women and two men were each given three products and told how to use them. The specialist himself did nothing but direct them—it was so easy!

First, he had them cleanse their faces thoroughly. Not with any cream that takes off only surface dirt, but with a scientific laboratory-developed pore cleanser that softens and loosens even the grime that has been caked and cemented into the pores for weeks. It is called Queen Helene's Whipped Cleansing Cream. As it is applied, it liquefies and floats out much of the pore "filler" with its rapid emollient action.

I was amused at the look of amazement on one woman's face as she tissued off the cream. The tissue was literally gray with dirt — and she confided to me that she had washed her face before taking part in the demonstration!

I'm convinced that any woman who sees, with her own eyes, the dirt this cream floats out of her skin — will begin to understand why it is so important to use a cleanser that really works.

"Suction Action"

The second step in this skin specialist's treatment was an application of Queen Helene's Masque, a delightfully mint-medicated cream. He had them smooth it on with their finger tips, applying it very generously on "trouble spots" such as around the nose and mouth.

Any woman will really enjoy this part of the treatment! For within two or three minutes your skin begins to feel a marvelous stimulation, as though being "massaged" by the action of the medicated ingredients in the masque. Next your face feels alternately "hot" and "cold" — followed in a few minutes by a delightful sensation of utter relaxation. Then your skin feels tighter . . . and tighter . . . and tighter!

It was explained this way

A special absorbing agent called Argilla dries and turns the cream into a plastic-like masque. As this firms and hardens, its suction action draws on the waste matter in the pores . . . This, he informed us, was the most important part of the treatment.

TRY THIS TEST! Wash face thoroughly, then apply treatment; rinse off . . . Now you can see . . . tiny specks of black on your washcloth that were once ugly blackheads and imbedded pore dirt.

SEE BLACKHEADS GO IN 15 MINUTES—OR NO COST!

1. APPLY QUEEN HELENE WHIPPED CLEANSING CREAM. It liquefies instantly on skin and floats out dirt with emollient action. Wipe off with cleansing tissue.

2. APPLY QUEEN HELENE MEDICATED MASQUE. As masque tightens and hardens, feel drawing action of special absorbing agent start to draw out blackheads and other pore impurities.

3. RINSE OFF. In about 10 minutes, rinse off. The masque dissolves in seconds. You'll see blackheads and other impurities come off on the cleansing tissue.

Rinses away with water

After about 10 minutes, the masques were rinsed away with water. Hot or cold makes no difference — the hardened cream dissolves in seconds. You simply wipe your face and — to your amazement — you see blackheads and other pore "filler" actually come off on your washcloth or tissue! Your skin feels clean — really clean — and refreshed and smooth, like velvet!

Pore sponging and closing

The third and final step in the treatment was a quick dousing with Queen Helene's Penetrating Astringent. I found out that this was a very special astringent that sinks deep into your pores and performs the final necessary dissolving, soaking-up action — after which it helps tighten the pore openings and leaves an invisible film that helps protect your skin for hours against dirt and reinfection.

What will happen when you use this 3-step treatment?

You'll find the answer when you look in your mirror. Even after a single treatment, you are bound to see a marked improvement in your complexion. The chances are you'll find it hard to believe your eyes.

For example, some of the blackheads and whiteheads should be gone — either completely or partially — while others will be softened and made ready to be drawn out in another treatment or two. You will also see that many of your most prominent pores appear to be smaller — that your skin looks smoother — and feels fresher and more alive!

In short, after a single treatment taking less than fifteen minutes, you can expect to see results that normally you would not dare hope for even after many weeks of treatment . . . but don't expect everything to once, just the same! The damage done by years of neglect and improper care cannot be undone in a single day. But — with 3 or 4 treatments a week, taking less than 15 minutes each—you may confidently look forward to startling complexion improvements within the next 30 days. From then on, a single treatment a week—or every second week—will probably be all that your skin will need to be kept beautiful and healthy-looking.

Important Discovery for Normal Complexions too!

Even if you are not plagued by blackheads, whiteheads, or other tell-tale signs of skin blemishes, you will find this 3-Way Treatment a remarkable aid to a smooth, glowing young-looking complexion.

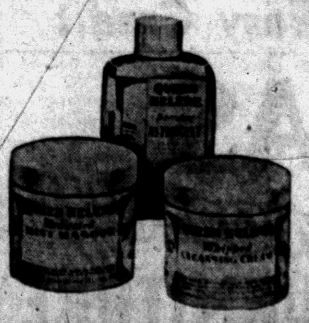

By proper cleansing and flexing your skin regularly — just as you flex your muscles — this 3-Way Treatment helps keep your complexion looking and feeling firm, youthful and alive!

If you should be over 35, and beginning to look it, you will see minor lines flatten out, feel tired facial muscles tighten, and enjoy the look and feel of youth for hours . . . Countless women use Queen Helene's 3-Way Skin and Beauty Treatment as a quick beauty "pick-me-up" just before a party — or important date!

Clinical demonstrations of this treatment have been so startling that we know the results you'll see in your mirror will delight you. This is why we invite you to try Queen Helene's 3-Way Skin and Beauty Treatment without risking a penny. This treatment, developed by a leading New York Skin Specialist for home use, will not only enable you to rinse away troublesome blackheads, but it will also help smooth and beautify your complexion so that you yourself will see the difference — or the treatment won't cost you a cent! All you need to do is return what you haven't used, and your purchase price will be refunded. It's as simple as that. You have complexion loveliness to gain — and nothing to lose!

No matter what your skin may be like now — if it is anything less than perfect — Queen Helene promises you results you can see in your first 15-minute home treatment and dramatic improvements within 14 days. After the first two weeks, you will discover whether you need to keep on using the treatment several times a week, or less often, depending on how fast your complexion clears. But act now! So right now, while you are determined to help yourself, send in the coupon or phone today!

LOOK IN MIRROR — SEE THE BIG DIFFERENCE!

But don't be satisfied with one treatment — repeat daily until complexion is firm, smooth, and pores are reduced.

Bob Considine Says:

Our Gals Don't Tempt Red Athletes

NEW YORK (INS) — If Allen Dulles of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency really was assigned to corrupt the Russian Olympic team at Melbourne, even to the point of dangling fast women before its stalwart heroes, he sure did a lousy job. The Russkies knocked our brains out.

As one who believes everything he reads in Moscow's "Literary Gazette," which made the charge, I say let's get rid of Dulles now while we're still building for the 1960 games at Rome.

There must be others around who can do a better job along those lines. If Dulles knows a single Broadway press agent, or nightclub loiterer, I'd be surprised. We plainly need somebody much more hep. Billy Rose? Eddie Jaffe?

If the temptresses Dulles is supposed to have tossed in front of those red-blooded Russian boys looked anything like our standard chorus girls, no wonder they were "contemptuously pushed aside," as the "Literary Gazette" says.

★ ★ ★

They probably were mistaken for boy basketball players, or some such. Ladies built along the lines of the girls on the Russian team certainly would not have been pushed aside.

NOBODY STRONG ENOUGH

In the first place, there wasn't anybody in Melbourne strong enough to move them. And, besides, there would have been the dread fear of being pushed back, and probably mangled.

Seems that our side also "tried to subvert the Russian sportsmen by attempting kidnapings, sneakthievery and frameups on espionage charges."

We can't fault Dulles for falling on those scores. What puzzles me is that the good gray "Literary Gazette" didn't explain with pride just how the Russians managed to avert such calamities.

The only member of the Russian expedition who got separated from the fold was a stewardess on the Russian ship which lay at a Melbourne wharf and served as a hotel for Russian Olympic officials and as a prospective floating Siberia for any athlete who dared step out of line.

The stewardess escaped in the confusion of a trip to the Melbourne Zoo a few days before the games began, and apparently is still running—probably in fear of what Dulles had up his scheming sleeve.

CONSTANTLY WATCHED

As for those who couldn't take it on the lam that day, they were watched night and day at Olympic Village, outside Melbourne, where the teams of the world lived in harmony and peace.

★ ★ ★

It was difficult for them to go to the washroom without a guard. On walks outside the wire of the village, a group of five or six would be stalked by two and sometimes three guards.

There was never any thought of their being driven to the stadium or other sports places except in chartered buses under the command of MVD men, all wearing Olympic badges.

There were a few nights when a little combo around the American canteen would strike up a tune and the happy athletes of all nations would drop in to watch the cats go to town. The faces of the Russians often pressed wanly against the windows, and our people would beckon to them to come in and join the fun.

One night the big Russian babe who stole the hats in London previously got out on the dance floor and did a fox trot with one of our basketball players. Brought down the house figuratively and nearly literally.

PATHETIC YOUTH

And there was the time a pathetic Russian boy, loose for a moment, seized the hand of young Frank McKinney, of our swimming team. "Friend," the Russian said, his blue eyes searching McKinney's face. "Friend . . . Friend." He kept saying it until an MVD man roughly pulled him away.

Anyway, congrats to the Russian team for resisting the Ziegfeld, Copacabana and Latin Quarter girls Dulles flung at it. But we'll get 'em yet! The Russian team, that is.

HILLSDALE (UP) — George E. Woods, of Hillsdale, has been named Michigan director of the International Rescue and First Aid Assn. The organization, with headquarters in Alexandria, Va., is made up of organized rescue squads, ambulance and first aid units. It aims to develop a code of ethical standards and promote safety education.

Service Impartiality!

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—The Madison Marine Corps Reserve training center said today that it was bogged down under a mountain of paper work. Reason: At its last training exercise, a Navy corpsman in an Army jeep bumped into an Air Force truck driven by a Marine.

The Atlantic and Pacific oceans are on the same level. But the Pacific has a tide variation of 20 feet, and the Atlantic varies only 2 feet.

Home Made Economy

TOKYO (UP)—The Japanese Cabinet agreed today that its members from now on will drive in Japanese-built cars instead of the big American automobiles now in use. Economy appears to be the object.

'Medicine Hurt by Red Tactics'

Refugee Surgeon Says Police States Destroy Doctor's Initiative

ANN ARBOR (INS)—A one-time prominent Hungarian surgeon, now a refugee in Michigan, says Communists are ruining medicine in Europe.

Dr. Laszlo Kovacsi, formerly of the Department of Urology at University Hospital in Budapest, says "a doctor does not know from one day to the next whether or not he will be on the rounds at the hospital or under the boot of the political police in jail."

Dr. Kovacsi reveals, "Doctors can be fired in one minute on the charge of being 'against the state.' This usually happens whenever a qualified, reliable communists party member is available to replace him."

The Hungarian refugee is now serving a rotating internship at University Hospital at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor. Following this period, he hopes to become associated with the Urology Service there.

★ ★ ★

Following the capture of secret police records, it was learned Dr. Kovacsi was listed as "unreliable" because he was physician to the British and American legations and because he bought a $750 car. He says that classified him as an "imperialist."

Now You Just Pick a Number for Pot-O-Gold

Here's another of the new, easier Pot-O-Gold puzzles for you to try. Just select the right words and write the numbers in the appropriate blanks. If your entry has all the right numbers you will win at least $100 and possibly $200. It's as simple as that. How about getting busy?

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the sentence. You then write the number of that word in the puzzle square marked A.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is elegible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answers in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 44 must bear a Tuesday, April 9 postmark (or before). No entries received after that time whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot Be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries becoming the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Athletic Scholarship for Elvis Debatable

★ ★ ★

Members of the Harvard University and Georgia Tech debating teams fought to a tie over that perplexing resolution last night.

Harvard took the negative approach to the athletic ability of the rock 'n' roll performer. Paying Presley would be a waste of money, Harvard said.

★ ★ ★

The Tech viewpoint seemed to be that Presley would be an asset because of his competitive spirit. Tech said this spirit was exemplified by Presley's remark that "I don't take nothin' from nobody," which was made during a recent tussle with a service station attendant.

SPRING IS HERE

5. April Showers Bring May Flowers

When April comes, quite a bit of rain often falls. We don't always like the wet weather, but we must realize that the rain is good because it softens the ground so that small green plants can poke through. Then we see how "April showers bring May flowers."

Cut out the pieces and color them. The design is an umbrella pattern. Paste it on thin construction paper. Fold it in half, then in quarters and then in eighths. Some of the folds will be up and some down when you open the circle. Crease them all sharply so they all will fold down like the sections of an umbrella as shown in the small drawing. Put a toothpick into the small hole in the center of the umbrella and place a small piece of cork on it as shown. Fasten the toothpick in place with gummed tape.

Fold back the tabs on either side of Sally and the panel will stand. Punch holes in the panel as indicated by the four black dots. Weave the umbrella handle through these holes as shown in the drawing at the left. Cut a slit in the handle of the basket and slip it over Sally's left hand.

(Helen Allen of Media, Pa., won $10 for this suggestion. Send your ideas in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins, AP Newsfeatures.)

The following are answers and explanations for Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 43 which appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (1) PRESENT. If his PRESENT job promises great advancement, the man who is really ambitious will want to keep it, even if, at this time, it is not a Pleasant job.

B. (4) FRETFUL. Mother would have no reason to worry if her small child had capricious dreams now and then—Fitful ones. But if they were FRETFUL, she would wonder what was disturbing his childish mind.

C. (6) IDEALIZE. A practical girl would be uneasy if her romantic fiance should IDEALIZE her too much, knowing that such exaggerated notions are impossible to live up to. She should be rather pleased if her future husband should Idolise her, no matter how much.

D. (7) DEPENDENT. Of course the public expects a man's DEPENDENT to be taken care of in his will. If there is a court battle, it is probable that the Defendant is being sued because there in a question as to his, or her, right to receive the money.

E. 10) BALM. A seashore place in summer is likely to be in a resort that is full of people and far from Calm. The BALM—figuratively speaking, anything that soothes and heals—is in the climate, the sea air itself.

F. (12) SLEDGE. A heavy SLEDGE, or blacksmith's type of hammer, must be handled adroitly, since the aim must be accurate to avoid damage or injury. A heavy Dredge, such as used to deepen shallow waters, is usually run by machinery along a given course where only routine maneuvering is usually necessary.

G. (13) EXPANSE. It's the EXpanse, or great size of the lawn, which a once-rich man may feel he can no longer keep up. With a smaller lawn, the Expense would not be so great, or the man could take care of it himself.

H. (16) SMART. A man who is excessively SMART — witty or shrewd—in his remarks, is likely to make the average person feel ill-at-ease and slow-witted. Tart remarks may well be the outward indication of a bad disposition, and dismissed as such.

I. (18) CHARM. The CHARM of a good-looking countryman may attract a jaded city girl because he is a novelty to her. That type of girl rarely has any desire to live on a Farm.

J. (19) STARK. An improverished family with many children is likely to have real, thoroughgoing trouble—illnesses, financial worries, etc. Whether it's caused by the Stork, or too many children, is only part of the over-all problem.

K. (22) CLAIM. Though there might be some question as to the Blame for lost baggage, the important dispute would be over the CLAIM, to collect damages.

L. (24) PLOT. A customer's "report of hearing one" suggests a PLOT overheard in the barroom. It would be a rather round-about way of telling police if a Shot were involved; presumably someone would just call police and say that a man here pulled a gun, etc.

M. (25) SLICK. A business man might hesitate to form a partnership with a man whose thinking was a little too SLICK. He'd be sly and not to be trusted. A partner whose thinking was too Thick might be a good mechanic, or perhaps have a job where patience rather than quick thinking was needed.

N. (27) ZEALOUS. Often a wife worries because her husband works too hard and wishes he would take things easy and spend more time with his family. Many wives are flattered if their husbands are Jealous.

O. (30) RAMBLE. Boys are more likely to want to explore an abandoned estate, just wander around and investigate. They can Gambol, or frolic, anywhere, and it should not be especially exciting just for being done on an abandoned estate.

P. (31) BENCH. A fugitive fighting it out with police could use the BENCH as a barricade, and shoot from behind it. A Trench or ditch would limit his line of vision and police could throw a tear gas bomb into it and force the fugitive out.

Q. (34) CHARGE. In a severe storm, the tugboat captain would worry about his CHARGE—his responsibility—part of which would be the need for landing safely with his Barge of coal.

R. (35) SEWING. Whatever her other problems may be in regard to Seeing, a dressmaker will have to retire if even glasses will not help her in SEWING.

S. (37) ATTENDANCE. Security officers would make sure that no troublemakers were included in the ATTENDANCE at a party for a visiting head of state. The Attendants — servants, etc. — would either be permanently attached to the host's household, or would be engaged from a list long since cleared for reliability.

T. (40) PRAISE. "Even a little" suggests PRAISE; the man who loves his job may be so satisfied that he doesn't concern himself with demanding a Raise.

135 Begin Play Today in Golf Amateur Event

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP) — The Midwest Amateur Golf tournament started today with a wide-open contest for top honors in prospect.

The advance list of 135 for the three-day 54-hole stroke play event included no former champions. Tee entries also were being accepted.

Dale Morey of Indianapolis, the 1956 winner, and Joe Campbell of Anderson, Indiana amateur and Open champion, were down south for the Masters tourney at Augusta, Ga.

Entry list included a woman for the first time, Mrs. Valerie Jones of Detroit discovered there was no rule against women and joined the field.

Rhee Favorite to U.S.

SEOUL (AP)—Lee Ki Poong, chairman of the South Korean National Assembly and President Syngman Rhee's apparent choice as his successor, will leave for the United States this month for medical treatment. He has been having trouble with his left leg.

Our Troubles Are His!

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — A reporter asked an Internal Revenue Service official if he had any "human interests" items. The official, swamped with income tax returns problems, replied: "Nope. At this point we're not human and we've lost interest."

Goodfellow Brady Dies

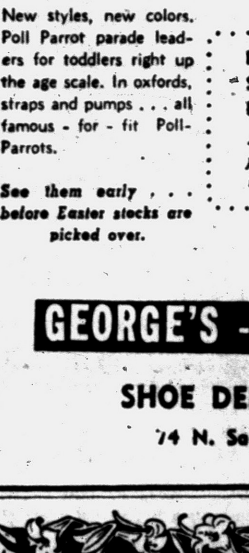

DETROIT (AP) — Frederic K. Brady, whose father founded Detroit's Old Newsboys Goodfellow Assn., died Thursday after a long illness. He was 51. For several years after the death of his father, James J. Brady, he sold newspapers in the charity drive at the downtown corner of Fort and Griswold known as "Brady Corner."

Coffee Break Costs as Much as Full Meal

DECATUR, Ill. (AP) — The County jail's coffee break still costs as much as a lunch or dinner.

Doughnuts and coffee furnished by the county for city jail prisoners costs 35 cents, while the County Building coffee stand sells the same for 26 cents.

Sheriff C. W. Peebles says the 35 cents is a flat fee for meals no matter what time of day it is eaten.

2 Hurdles Blocking Water Plan

Two hurdles are blocking a proposal that the Southeastern Michigan six-county area look to Detroit to alleviate its dwindling water supplies, Pontiac City Manager Walter K. Willman said last night.

The hurdles are a necessary guarantee from industry here that they will go along with the proposal, and a bill before the Michigan Senate.

The National Sanitation Foundation for the Supervisors Inter-County Committee last week recommended the creation of a metropolitan service area to draw water from Detroit as far ahead as the year 2000.

"If our industry in Pontiac is not interested in the proposition, it's lost," Willman cautioned the City Commission. Industry uses 60 per cent of the city's water supply.

MEETING ASSURED

"But I have assurances that their representatives will meet with us to discuss this report," he added. He referred to it as "the finest report of its kind I have seen."

The second hurdle is a bill, proposed by Pontiac Rep. Leslie H. Hudson, which, as amended by a Detroit representative, would block Detroit from selling water to outlying communities if its city consumers were not receiving all the water they needed at any peak time.

"I don't think any community would contract with Detroit with that provision," Willman commented.

He said it would be best that the Senate kill the bill as it stands today. It passed the House March 19 over the objections of five Oakland County representatives. The sixth did not vote.

Willman outlined many features of the foundation's recommendation. He said the proposal would not be new to Detroit as it provides water to 46 fringe communities presently.

Water rates under the plan would be reviewed by a joint board assuring city and outlying area users of carrying just costs of the program.

Sharon Suor, Richard Rosen Speak Vows

DRAYTON PLAINS — The marriage of Sharon Lynne Suor and Richard Henry Rosen was performed by the Rev. W. J. Teeuwissen of the United Presbyterian Church here on March 30. About 150 guests were present at the 7:30 p.m. service.

Sharon is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Winges of 2944 Voorheis Rd. while Richard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark of 4150 Meyers Rd. here.

Wearing a floor length gown with long sleeves of embroidered nylon tulle, the bride carried a Bible with a white orchid and stephanotis. The cap headpeice was trimmed with sequins and seed pearls and featured a fingertip veil.

Serving her cousin as matron of honor was Mrs. Richard Pitcher of Pontiac with Charlotte Rosen, sister of the bridegroom as bridesmaid. Junior bridesmaid was Sue Monroe of Pontiac, another cousin of the bride.

★ ★ ★

Display Booths Going Fast for Jaycees' Home Show

Booths for the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce's fourth annual Home Improvement Show April 25-28 are going fast, according to Donald Weedle, chairman.

He announced that 40 city and area business firms have purchased booths for the show to be held for the first time this year at the Tel-Huron Shopping Center. He said a total of 70 booths are available.

This year's exhibits will be housed in a 60 by 180-foot tent on the southwest parking apron of the center. Plenty of free parking will be available, Jaycees promised.

Here are just a few of the things which will be shown: construction materials and methods, heating and air conditioning units, electrical appliances, furniture, paints, fuels, insulation, garages, and storm windows and screens.

State Senate Gets Profits Tax Proposal

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Williams' proposal for raising an additional 76 million dollars in annual state revenue to help finance his recommended 1957-58 spending of 411 million dollars has come into the Legislature.

Essentially, it provides for a switch in the present corporation franchise tax from a net worth to a net income basis. This is the so-called corporation profits tax which Williams has recommended for years.

On the proposed new base, the levy would produce an estimated 132 million dollars annually, instead of the 52½ million anticipated from the existing corporation franchise tax.

An added feature of the Williams plan is to grant a $50 a year forgiveness in liability under the business activities tax, thereby excusing from payment an estimated 25,000 small business enterprises.

The resulting 3½ million dollars in revenue loss would bring the net of additional revenue under the package down to 76 million dollars.

★ ★ ★

The bill was brought into the Senate yesterday by Sen. John B. Swainson of Detroit, Democratic minority leader, and five other Democrats.

Trading Stamp Bill Goes to Legislature

LANSING—Cash value of unredeemed trading stamps may be collected by the state from stamp companies, if a bill introduced in the Legislature becomes a law.

The bill was introduced by Sens. Lewis G. Christmas (R-Ann Arbor) and Harold M. Ryan (D-Detroit).

Under the measure, the cash value of trading stamps unredeemed seven years after the date of issue would have to be paid by trading stamp companies into the state's General Revenue Fund.

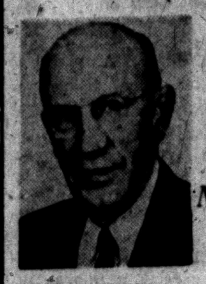

Companies would have to render annual reports to the State Board of Escheats on their business dealings to establish a basis for any cash payment that ultimately would have to be made.

Saturday Dance Set by Faculty to Benefit School

SASHABAW PLAINS — Members of the faculty of the new Pine Knob School will sponsor a dance at the Clarkston High School cafeteria on Saturday at 8:30 to 12:30.

★ ★ ★

The teachers hope to raise enough money to finish paying for the furniture in the lounge at the new building. A four-piece orchestra with a caller will provide music for both old time and modern dancing.

Lathrup Fixes Trial Budget

$3,000 Increase Seen in City's Yearly Total, Says Watchowski

LATHRUP — A tentative budget of $120,000 for the 1957-58 fiscal year will be presented to the city council April 15, administrator Leonard A. Watchowski said this morning.

While it shows a $3,000 increase over the current budget total of $117,000, Lathrup's tax rate of $7.50 per $1,000 of assessed valuation will not be increased.

Watchowski said, "We have been careful not to increase taxes because many people have expressed concern about keeping the rate down."

★ ★ ★

He added, "Our police force of seven special part-time men and one time full time officer will remain the same and the budget will include only the necessary governmental expenses."

Seniors' Style Show Slated for Saturday

WEST BLOOMFIELD HIGH — The senior girls of West Bloomfield High School will sponsor a fashion show - luncheon Saturday at 12:30 in the high school gym. Fashions will be modeled by seniors, seniors mothers, and faculty and will be selected from the R&M Dept. Store at Union Lake.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Claudia Baker will be commentator. Tickets may be purchased from seniors or at the door. Proceeds will go toward senior trip expenses.

Name Village Officials

MARLETTE — The village council met this week, at which time Emerson Kiteley, president, made the several appointments. Heading the list is Emory Montgomery who will fill out the term of Councilman Lewis Thornton, who resigned.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Scotch 'Fair for Fun' Tomorrow Afternoon

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Scotch School PTA will hold its "Fair for Fun" at the school Saturday, from 4:30 until 9 p.m.

Theme this year is "The Atomic Age."

There will be booths for young and old, plus varied entertainment including games of skill, cartoon room, and spook room.

A picnic supper will be served in the activities room from 4:30 p.m. on, and a snack bar will also be open to accommodate visitors.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Robert Scott is general chairman of the fair, being assisted by cochairmen Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shuler. Mrs. Paul Curran and Mrs. Dunbar Armistead are supper chairmen.

Dryden

Davisburg

Executive Board of the PTA meeting here this week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Nelson, set the monthly meeting for April 8, because of Easter vacation. Annual election of officers will be held.

Chairmen for the May 4 Fun Fair were announced with Mrs. Donald Chamberlain, president of the PTA, as general chairman.

★ ★ ★

Also taking part in the fair are the Brownies, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, and the Davisburg Student Council, under Mrs. Everett Hathaway's direction. Mrs. Stanley Clark will be in charge of ticket selling at the fair and Donald Frownfelter will be in charge of advance ticket sales.

Addison Approves Raises in Salary

LEONARD — Addison Township Board, in its recent annual meeting, granted raises in salary. The supervisor will receive $2,000 per year, clerk, $1,000, and treasurer about the same as the latter.

Radios for the fire truck and police car were approved. Half the cost of radios will be paid by Civil Defense for the use in cases of tornados or large fires.

A new heating plant for Rowland Hall and adjacent fire hall also were approved.

Fashion Fads Paraded at Forest Lake Country Club

Pontiac Press Photos By John Sexton

Fashion fads and fancies were presented to members of Forest Lake Country Club Wednesday at the club. Going back through the years to show what was the "latest" were Mrs. L. Don Collier (seated) of Birmingham and Mrs. Matthew Clevers of Pontiac. Mrs. Collier is wearing a typical "Alice Blue Gown" from about 1912, while Mrs. Clevers turned the pages back further for a clubwoman's dress of the 1890s.

For dusting about the house, a few years back, you might have worn such a get-up as Mrs. Manton Cummins of Southfield modeled.

Styles Going Back to 1880 Are Surprising, Amusing

Fashion fads through the years delighted 125 members of Forest Lake Country Club as they saw models from their own club parade in gowns dating way back to 1880.

They could hardly believe their eyes at the floating panels, dropped waistlines and stilleto-heeled shoes. "Why", they said, "we're wearing those today!"

Feathers, plumes, black lace and sheer chiffon were highlights of the 1890-type costume, but the roaring '20s brought the house down with laughter.

As milady approached the audience she was wearing a black bloomer-type bathing suit and long black stockings. When she appeared at the football game, she was wearing a raccoon coat which all but dwarfed her tiny cloched head.

But for dancing! Her choice was a beaded, fringed no waistlined dress which merely fell from the shoulders—but oh my, how she could do the Charleston!

They had their ideas about car coats too, but you could scarcely get them inside today's cars.

Well, it all ended happily for milady. She got married and had a beautiful wedding with satin and lace and lots of tulle about her face.

Models were Hollis Elizabeth Booth, Mrs. Stanley Meyer, Carol Ann Gillespie, Dean Benscoter and Mrs. Duane Freese. Mrs. Paul Hultgren was pianist and Mrs. John Gillespie was soloist.

Mrs. Norman Bodine was program chairman, Mrs. Ford C. Ritner, social chairman, and Mrs. Norman Terry handled publicity.

Present were their 3 children, 14 grandchildren and 2 great-grandchildren. Mr. and Mrs. Hunt were married in Waterford, moving to Pontiac 40 years ago.

Scholarship Drive Under Way

April Designated by PTA

The Pontiac Council of PTA has named April as PTA Teacher Scholarship Month. The combined efforts of all Pontiac PTA locals through the Pontiac Council of PTA will make it possible to send a fourth student to college this fall.

★ ★ ★

The scholarship, which is non - sectarian, totals $1,250 over a four-year period and is a grant, not a loan. The amount of $500 is given the first year and $250 annually for the next three years.

Applications for the four year scholarship may be made through the Pontiac High School office.

FUTURE TEACHERS

This scholarship is for any accredited college in Michigan. Three future teachers are now in college on PTA scholarships, one at University of Michigan, one at Albion College and one at Eastern Michigan College.

★ ★ ★

The student selected must be a graduate of Pontiac High School of either the mid-term or June class of 1957 with an average, or better, academic record and planning to enter the teaching profession.

Recommendations for this student are to be made by the principal of Pontiac High School and the senior counselors. A spiritual adviser and two other persons are to give personal references.

★ ★ ★

The final selection of the student will be decided by Francis Staley, principal of Pontiac High School; Mrs. William Mihalek, president of Pontiac PTA Council; Lester Stanley, elementary school principal; Ralph Dawe, finance chairman of the council, and the Pontiac High School senior counselors.

SPECIAL PROJECTS

Funds for the scholarship are raised by special projects, such as fairs, bake sales and hotdog sales, with the receipts being donated to the scholarship fund, or by PTA locals designating an amount in their budgets, or both.

★ ★ ★

October and April are designated as "Dimes for Scholarship" months. During these two months, a silver collection is taken during the local meetings, with the proceeds being contributed toward the fund.

Any individual wishing to donate to this fund, which will be administered according to the policies of the PTA Council, may do so through his local PTA or by contacting Mrs. Mihalek, council president.

Square Set Club Holds Election of New Officers

★ ★ ★

Plans were completed for the annual dinner-dance to be held April 27.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Price and Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Norberg served on the social committee for the evening. Guests of the group were Mr. and Mrs. Lionel Baril.

Amvets Auxiliary Conducts Meeting

Mrs. Roy Williams of Chelthingham road was hostess to the Jimmy Dey Post 12, Amvets Auxiliary Wednesday evening. Mrs. Arthur Tanney was cohostess. Mrs. Orrin Huntoon Jr. is chairman of the annual May 1 Charter Banquet.

The chapter will entertain District Three Council May 13 at the home of Mrs. John Allen. Jacobyn Smith, commander of Jimmy Dey Post, was a guest and announced plans to entertain the national commander April 5 at the Bemis-Olsen Post.

Talent Contest Held by Organ Society

Pontiac Hammond Organ Society conducted an organ talent contest at the Thursday evening meeting of the group held in Grinnell Auditorium. Mrs. L. M. Angleton was guest organist for the evening.

Mrs. Hart Gives Talk on Aviation

Mrs. Philip Hart, wife of Lt. Gov. Hart of Lansing, spoke to Zonta Club of Pontiac Thursday on "Aviation as a Vocation."

★ ★ ★

The speaker has participated in the Women's Trans - Continental Air Race, commonly called the Powder-Puff Derby, for several years.

The main objective of this race, Mrs. Hart said, is to dramatize the opportunities in aviation as a career.

The speaker believes that aviation should be taught in the schools, not as a separate subject, but included in geography, mathematics and allied subjects, since "We are living in an air age, and young people should be prepared for it."

★ ★ ★

As a preparation for teachers equipped to teach these subjects, a six-week summer course is offered at Ohio State University, she concluded.

Sorority Gathers

Following a recent theater party, members of Phi Epsilon Nu held a social meeting at the home of Mrs. Barney Boose of Seminole avenue. A pizza party was planned for April 16 and final arrangements were made to deliver an Easter basket to the group's adopted family.

Shirley Temple to Try Television

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—A modest Shirley Temple insisted today that fate—not talent—ignited the fabulous Hollywood career that netted her $3,000,000 in nine years.

★ ★ ★

The former child star, who will soon be making a "comeback" as emcee of a network TV show, declared in a telephone interview from her home in Atherton, Calif., that her career largely was a "matter of timing."

"My parents had nothing to do with it," she said, "and I had nothing to do with it. It just happened. It was the same kind of thing that happened to Rin Tin Tin and Will Rogers.

Shirley is jubilant over the idea of playing hostess to a series of hour-long "fairy tales" to be aired in the fall over NBC-TV. It will be her first professional appearance in eight years.

★ ★ ★

"I may appear in the first one myself—if they give me a script that I like," she said. "If not, then I'll probably do one later in the series."

FAMILY FIRST

The ex-"Baby Bernhardt" of the movies made it clear that she is doing the show only because it is the type of deal that will not take her away from her husband and family.

"I've turned down offers for years," she said, "because I didn't want to leave my family. I have a wonderful husband and three marvelous children and I don't want to be separated from them—ever. I guess I'm a real homebody."

Shirley, who is married to San Francisco Bay area socialite Charles Black, says she accepted the TV offer after she found she could film her part of the show from Hollywood. The series actually will originate in New York.

NOT SO POSITIVE

Asked whether she would consider returning to motion pictures, the happily married young matron, who will be 29 on April 23, said:

"I used to say 'yes' to everything, or 'no' to everything, definitely. But now that I'm almost 29 I'm not so positive." She added enthusiastically:

"I've had a wonderful career and I enjoyed every minute of it. It was a lovely life because children have such vivid imaginations. Just imagine being allowed to live parts like 'Heidi,' 'The Little Princess' and 'Wee Willie Winkie' and imagine wearing real costumes. It was truly a marvelous experience!"

Part of Shirley's "marvelous experience" included being an actress at 3, a star at 6, the most photographed human being on earth at the age of 8, and the No. 1 box office draw in the country between the ages of 7 and 10.

JOSEPH GARRETT

Joseph Garrett, a resident of Pontiac for 38 years, celebrated his 95th birthday on Thursday. An open house for friends and relatives will be held on Saturday at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bessie Barton of Hudson avenue. Two other daughters, Mrs. Edgar Rawlins of Lincoln avenue and Mrs. Lafe Barton of Bellevue street, will also be present for the celebration.

Doctor Fishhoff to Talk Tuesday

The Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob will sponsor a talk Tuesday evening by Dr. Joseph Fishhoff. Dr. Fishhoff will speak on "The Regular Confusion of Children's Emotions" at 8:30 in the temple. It will be an open meeting.

He is consultant to the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic, the Jewish Social Service Bureau in Detroit, the League of Catholic Women and the U. S. Air Force. Dr. Fishhoff is also on the medical staff at Sinai, Harper and Children's Hospitals, Detroit.

Secretaries Meet

Mrs. Fred Tiffany reviewed a book, "History of the Bible," at the Tuesday evening meeting of Pontiac Educational Secretaries Association held at Pontiac High School. Hostesses for the meeting were members of the business office staff of the Board of Education. Mrs. John House served as chairman.

D. S. Bells Will Visit Birmingham

Arizona Residents to Be Houseguests at Machus Home

BIRMINGHAM — Driving from their home in Benson, Ariz., this week, Mr. and Mrs. Donald S. Bell are expected to arrive in Birmingham on Saturday.

They will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harris Machus of North Glenhurst drive who have planned a cocktail party for their guests that evening.

The Bells' daughter, Kitty, will come from her studies at the University of Michigan, and with her parents, will complete plans for her marriage in June to William Henry Aughey III, who is a graduate student at Ann Arbor.

The prospective bridegroom and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William H. Aughey of Wilmington, Del., who are visiting friends in Detroit, have been invited to the party to meet his fiancee's friends and relatives.

Driving east with the Bells are Mrs. Harold J. Lauver and her son, Bob, of Tucson, who also formerly lived in Birmingham. Mrs. Lauver will visit Mr. and Mrs. Albert E. Horne in Birmingham and Bob will stay with his aunt, Mrs. Dorothy Heigho, in Detroit.

Mrs. Horne and Mrs. James R. Mock have planned a tea in Mrs. Lauver's honor Monday afternoon in the Mock home, and on Tuesday Mrs. Heigho and Mrs. Sam Post will entertain for her at a luncheon at the Detroit Golf Club.

Mrs. Aaron Webster will give a luncheon for the visitor on Thursday.

HOME FROM TRIP

Mr. and Mrs. J. Robert Mosby and Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm W. Welty have returned from a visit to Jamaica and the Virgin Islands.

They were joined in Miami for their trip by former Birmingham residents Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Thomas who now live in Bartlesville, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Klein have just returned from three weeks in Florida and Williamsburg, Va.

Mr. and Mrs. Colin John and their children are spending three weeks at Pompano Beach, Fla.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Duncan Hamner were hosts at a brunch Sunday morning honoring Margaret Booth and Robert W. Mitchell who will be married April 13 in Christ Church Cranbrook. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce G. Booth.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan W. Joslyn will give the rehearsal dinner next Friday evening in their home on Randall court.

MUSICAL PROGRAM

Compositions for duo-pianists and vocal music by Spanish and Latin American writers will comprise the Birmingham Musicale's program at its meeting April 11 at the Community House.

Mrs. Robert D. Lynd, president, will conduct a special business meeting preceding the program.

Mrs. Robert F. Killeen, soprano, will be accompanied in a group of songs by Mrs. Robert S. Clifton. Carol and William Reddick, in private life, Mr. and Mrs. William Reddick of Detroit, will present the piano numbers.

Mrs. Earl Bartholomew is chairman of the day assisted by Mrs. John H. Abbott, Mrs. William H. Hohmeyer, Mrs. Edson K. Pool and Mrs. Syver K. Thingstad on the house and stage committees, and Mrs. William W. Aulepp as chairman of the tea committee.

Assisting Mrs. Aulepp will be Mrs. Harry W. Gross, Mrs. Harry E. Fromm, Mrs. Robert T. Gray, Mrs. F. H. Mellinger and Mrs. Luther Heacock.

Mrs. Robert C. Gibson heads the list of hostesses for the afternoon assisted by Mrs. Donald M. Bigge, Mrs. Henry E. Edwards, Mrs. Walter R. MacKenzie and Mrs. Chester B. McCormick.

Sun May Have Stimulated Growth

Child's Face Fuzz Isn't Inherited

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "After last summer was over I noticed a large amount of white fuzzy hair on my 3-year-old child's face and arms. What caused this? My mother-in-law has a lot of fuzz on her face. She is 64 years old. Could my child inherit this characteristic from her grandmother?"

A. Your mother-in-law has hair on her face because her glandular system has changed at her age. Your child did not inherit this. The sun may have stimulated the growth. I imagine this will disappear, given time.

Q. "I wonder if you can help me find a new hair style that will be becoming to me. I have a long forehead and a long face. I can wear certain styles except for my chin which looks so long it is awful. I have been wearing bangs but am tired of them."

A. Wear your hair flat on top with a center part. It should be fluffed out at the sides to add width to your face. To compensate for the long chin wear your hair long enough. It should come an inch or so below the tip of the ears.

Q. "I am 15 years old, 5 feet 2 inches tall and weigh 100 pounds. I have a small frame. I want to know if I should gain some weight."

A. According to charts you are about 13 pounds underweight. However, since you have a small build a 5 to 10-pound gain probably would be right for you. You should gain for health's sake.

Q. "Please tell me if you think I should lose some weight. I am 26 years old and have two children. I am large boned and weigh 155 pounds. I am 5 feet, 8½ inches tall. My measurements are bust 38, waist 27 and hips 40 inches. I think I should lose about 5 pounds."

A. Considering your large frame I imagine that a 5-pound loss is about right. You should take hip-slimming exercises.

Q. "I am 13 years old, 5 feet 1 inch tall and weigh 94 pounds. My bust measures 30 inches, waist 25 and hips 32 inches. Are my measurements and weight okay? I have very thin legs from the thigh to the ankle. Could I take some exercise for them?"

A. You should gain 5 to 8 pounds. Do the following exercise. Stand with your left side toward the wall. Place your left hand on the wall. Rise high on your left toe as you swing the right leg forward with a stiff knee. Lower left heel to floor and return right leg to place. Continue.

Tomorrow: "We 'Are What We Eat' — Diet Affects Personality."

Do this to build up your legs: Rise high on your left toe as you swing the right leg forward with a stiff knee. Lower heel to floor and return right leg to place. Continue and alternate.

Why Is Adoption Difficult?

By JOHN BARROW
INS Staff Writer

Why is it so hard to adopt a child? A California woman writes that "it seems like you have to be a movie star before an adoption agency will consider you."

★ ★ ★

Yet a spokesman for the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society in Chicago asserts, "We have no waiting list. So far as we're concerned, we need more good applicants — good ones."

The society belongs to the Child Welfare League and places about 150 infants with couples each year. By "good" applicants, the official means:

"A man and woman who want a child to love and care for — not merely as an heir or a playmate for another child — and who can handle the responsibilities entailed."

Being financially able to support the child, of course, is a must. But the agency spokesman says most of his adoptions involved couples with incomes of $3,600 to $6,000 a year.

3 TO 9 MONTHS

Despite reports of delays of several years at many institutions, the official says this agency takes from three to nine months to complete interviews, investigations and other details in placing the child.

He says matching a child with adopting parents, in terms of physical characteristics and racial and religious backgrounds, is "rarely a problem."

A divorce in the background or a wife who is away from home at a job "hurts their chances but doesn't rule them out." The odds also are against couples nearing 40, because the breadwinner would be close to retirement by the time the youngster gets to high school.

A constant reminder of how careful "screening" must be is the society's foster home with 800 to 1,000 children. They cannot be adopted. They are from broken homes.

Style Hair During Shampoo

The teens are the time when experiments with hair styles are frequent. They may change every week, in fact.

This is fine, but not if you decide to make the big change the night of the school dance. If the hairdo is a flop, you'll feel that your evening is ruined.

Best time to try out a new style is when you're shampooing your hair. Work up a good, sudsy lather and then, when you look into the mirror, you'll find you can shape this soapy cap into any hair style that happens to catch your fancy.

If it doesn't suit you, your mirror will tell you at once. And if it's right for you, you can go ahead and try it, new part and all.

You may find that you can wear hairdos you never dreamed were flattering and that the way your best friend wears her hair is fine for her but not for you.

★ ★ ★

As you finish your shampoo, don't forget to rinse with clear, warm water three or four times, not just once.

Fashion Hint

Never buy a strapless bra by size alone. Always have it fitted. Styles vary so much that what may be right for you in one bra may be all wrong in another.

Invest in Good Clothes Brush

If you want to cut down on dry cleaning bills and still look well groomed, invest in a really good clothes brush and use it faithfully.

Your woolens never should go into the closet as soon as you take them off; they should be placed on a hanger to air, probably on the shower rod in the bathroom.

Then give them a good brushing before you put them away. You'll be astonished at what it does for both the appearance and life of your woolen suits and dresses.

Never press a woolen garment until you have brushed it thoroughly since you're only pressing dirt in when you omit the brushing.

Mom Upholds Lad's Self-Respect

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

It was Sunday afternoon, and Ken's living room was filled with relatives.

Among them was a new aunt who had just acquired a handsome beaver coat. She was describing at great length her reasons for choosing it when Ken interrupted her to ask his mother where she'd put his archery set.

She didn't like it. She liked it still less when, returning, he announced there was no sign of the set in the kitchen closet. As he continued to press his need for it on his mother, the aunt lost her temper. "Goodness, what a rude child you are, Ken!" she said sharply.

Ken looked astonished; then grew very red. His mother rose hastily, said, "Excuse us"—and took him out of the room.

★ ★ ★

Opening the kitchen closet, she said, "You are not a rude boy—you are a good one. You didn't want to be rude to Aunt Jo just now; you just wanted your bow and arrows. If that is the truth, I wish you'd go back into the living room and tell it to her."

STAND UP FOR TRUTH

Ken didn't answer. She reached down the archery set from a top shelf and went on, "You can't just let people tell you you're something you're not.

"Standing up for the truth about ourselves is the most important thing in the world. How about it? Are you going in there and tell them you had no intention of being rude to Aunt Jo?"

"Will you go with me?" Ken asked.

"Come on," she said.

So Ken went in to the roomful of adverse human opinion and to it declared the truth of his innocent intention.

A reader asks me these rather important questions: "How does faith in our goodness get taken away? Can you expand the sentence you once wrote—'Trust yourself enough to settle the goodness of what you do within yourself?' What can be done to build a self-respect that does not depend on the approval of others?"

Most psychologists and sociologists say it can't be done. So if we want to do it, we can't ask them for help. We have to turn from them to older teachers like Jesus and Buddha.

They say that we acquire our sense of worth through knowledge of our "original face"; through knowledge that we contain the kingdom of God.

Mrs. Proutt Adds Dressing to Gelatin to Make Tart Mold

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Cabbage is nice and green at this time of the year. Use some of it shredded in a souffle salad. Souffle salad, you'll remember hit the food pages several years ago as a brand new idea. This recipe is tart enough to serve at dinner.

Mrs. Melvin E. Proutt is today's cook. She has a part time job and enjoys her new lake home in free hours. She says she likes people (especially kids) and dogs. There are two grandchildren in the family to love.

COLESLAW SOUFFLE
By Mrs. Melvin E. Proutt

1 package lemon gelatin
1 cup hot water
½ cup mayonnaise
½ cup cold water
2 tablespoons vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
1½ cups shredded cabbage
½ cup radish slices
½ cup diced celery
2-4 diced green peppers
1 tablespoon diced onion

Blend mayonnaise, cold water, vinegar. Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add first mixture. Chill until partially set.

Beat until fluffy. Add remaining ingredients. Pour into mold and chill until firm. Serves 6-8.

Wife Issues Invitations for Family

It's Her Obligation to Ask Strangers on Hubby's Behalf

By EMILY POST

A wife writes: "Very soon my husband and I will have to do some extensive entertaining of his business associates, most of whom I have never met. He insists that I must personally contact the wives of his associates (who are complete strangers to me) and issue a personal invitation.

My feeling on the matter is that this is his home just as much as mine and that an invitation issued by him is just as valid as an invitation issued by me.

"I think it would be very awkward calling complete strangers and inviting them to dinner, or supper, or whatever. In this situation, don't you think he should do the inviting?"

Answer: I'm sorry not to be able to agree with you, but the wife is the hostess and correctly issues the family's invitations.

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening a friend and I went to a church dance. During the evening several young men came over and asked me to dance and I got up and danced with them.

"On our way home my friend seemed rather peeved and when I asked her what was the matter she said that she thought I was very rude to get up and dance and leave her sitting alone. She thinks I should have refused unless she had a partner to dance with too. Don't you thing her attitude unreasonable?"

Answer: To go to a dance and refuse to dance would be very silly. You should, however, have introduced your friends to the girl you were with and hope that they would ask her to dance, too.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you kindly tell me if it is proper to hold a coffee cup with the little finger held out and curled at the end? I have a friend who does it and thinks it is quite the thing. I think it is affected and in bad taste. What is your opinion?"

Answer: If done to a degree that is conspicuous, it is bad taste. If it is done very slightly, it might be quite all right.

Posture Tip—Stand Squarely on Both Feet

Letting your weight rest first on one foot and then the other while you're waiting for the bus or standing talking to someone is a sure way to poor posture.

No matter how tiresome it seems, put your weight evenly on both feet. When you don't, you're throwing your body completely out of balance.

As the years go by (and not so many of them, either) you'll find yourself with a round stomach, an aching back, a sagging bust and a generally unattractive appearance.

When you sit, remember to sit straight. A slump can give you a dowager's hump. Having and keeping a good figure is a matter of exercise, good posture, diet and a constant watchfulness.

Woman Biophysicist Fights Cancer

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Radiation can cure cancer—of some types.

Surgery can cure cancer of some types.

So far nobody has found what will cure all cancers, but when such a cure is developed, it probably will be by way of biochemistry, says Dr. Edith Quimby, one of the world's leading biophysicists, who has worked for 37 years on the question of how much radiation the human body can tolerate.

★ ★ ★

In her lifetime she has helped develop the science of radiation to a point where 24 million volts now may be fired in the war on cancer. When she started as assistant to Dr. Giocchino Failla, Columbia university's director of radiation research, the most powerful X-ray machine could produce only 140,000 volts.

In the manner of scientists, Dr. Quimby refuses to venture a prediction as to when—or whether—a final sure cure for all cancers will be found.

She does, however, have some strong opinions about scareheads who issue alarms about radiation danger, frightening the general public.

"People have been unduly alarmed by stories of radiation damage,' she says. "Many get so panicky they actually are afraid to have their teeth or chest X-rayed. This is pure nonsense. Any doctor qualified to give radiation knows how to protect his patient and himself."

Minor Jobs Lead to the Big Ones

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Everybody knows that one step leads to another in any undertaking but we forget that fact when we have a specific problem—either in a job or a hobby.

We think, "If I take such and such a step, there I'll be—stuck forever!' Actually, all you have to worry about is taking the first step.

For example, Mrs. J. wanted to be in personnel work. She knew she'd be good at it—and she was right—but she had never finished college.

She had married early and raised a big family. And as she put it, "If that isn't personnel experience, I want to know what is!"

She studied courses in the field in the evening, but still, she had no luck getting a job. They wanted recent experience, a degree, and a lot of other qualifications she didn't have.

★ ★ ★

But Mrs. J. did have one important qualification — the ability to see that taking one step is better than debating, bemoaning and analyzing a situation. The step she took was a job in a department store.

WORK WITH PEOPLE

"I figured that working with people is working with people," she told me. "Sales isn't what I wanted, but it's better than sitting around stewing. And it might even be fun."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. J. had a good time selling. From the beginning, she got along with her co-workers beautifully and with the customers as well.

She worked hard for a couple of years. Of course, she had asked to be transferred to the personnel department, but she was told that there wasn't apt to be an opening and that, furthermore, she probably would not be considered for it, because she lacked a college degree, so she knuckled down to the selling job.

One customer was a pleasant middle-aged woman, whom Mrs. J. had served consistently.

One day the customer approached her quietly and explained that she needed a personnel manager for a hotel she owned in the country.

GOOD RIDDANCE

"My last one just left, and good riddance," the customer said. "She was certainly qualified by education, but I don't think she really liked people. You do—I've been observing you. Would you like the job?"

★ ★ ★

Mrs. J. is now in personnel because she was one of the wise ones who knew that one thing leads to another!

Would Urge Girls to Be Engineers

WASHINGTON (INS) — A Columbia University sociologist suggested today that womanpower is the solution to the engineering manpower shortage currently plaguing the U.S.

★ ★ ★

In order to mobilize this untapped source, he indicated parents could be encouraged to give little girls chemistry sets instead of dolls; communication media could help by building up the lady engineer as well as "the glamorous girl, the loving mother and the efficient homemaker."

Prof. William M. Evan said developing lady engineers "offers one of the most effective solutions to a problem which is likely to persist for many years to come."

But he acknowledged that a concerted educational drive is needed to "brainwash" the American public of certain myths and misconceptions about both women and the engineering profession.

Among these myths and misconceptions, he listed:

1. The idea that women are either not intelligent enough or too "emotional" for the "tough-minded" and "factual" job of the engineer.

Evan declared psychologists have found "intelligence is not related to sex" and there is little evidence that men are "tough-minded" and women "tender-minded."

2. The idea that engineering is a "highly masculine" profession requiring muscular and manual activity with the object of building bridges and tunnels.

Alpha Delta Kappa Welcomes Member

Mrs. Norman Underwood received her membership pin at a pinning ceremony conducted at the Thursday evening meeting of Epsilon Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa sorority. Bonnie and Lois Coan were hostesses to members in their home on Newberry street.

Plans were made to assist with the recreational program at Pontiac State Hospital. Following the business meeting, members participated in a Chinese auction.

Jaycee Auxiliary Adopts Constitution

Mrs. Donald Weddle was appointed delegate to the state convention to be held May 18 in Lansing. Mrs. John Napley will host a box social in her home on Menominee road April 27, and a Mother's Day tea is planned at the home of Mrs. Melvin Eller on James K. Boulevard.

Beauty Hint

Baby Shower Held for Mrs. Alexander

Attending the Wednesday evening affair were Mrs. Frank Phick, Mrs. Edwin Broadway, Mrs. Edith Nickerson, Mrs. J. C. Laster, Mrs. James Emerson, Mrs. George Little, Mrs. A. D. Hasting and Mrs. George Links.

Meeting Conducted by Mothers' Club

Mrs. Walter Jeffreys, Mrs. Jack Nelson and Mrs. Ester Baker were hostesses to members of the Mothers' Club of Pontiac Boys' Club at the Tuesday meeting held at the Boys' Club. Mrs. Clara Richards was a guest.

Mrs. Harold MacKenzie was appointed chairman of the nominating committee. A report of the recent father and son banquet was given by Mrs. Leonard Noren.

Fasten Collars With Easy Snaps

You can save time in the long run by attaching snap fasteners to detachable collars before the first washing; they will provide quick removability and replacement.

Since many detachables are also reversibles, it's smart to equalize the wear by turning the collar after each sudsing so the same side won't always be on top. you please.

With the "plug" part of the snaps on both sides of the color, and just one set of the snap "sockets" inside the garment neckline, your collar can go into the suds and back to its place as often as

Chapter Contributes to Auditorium Fund

Mrs. Ben Sweeney presided at the Thursday evening meeting of Alpha Alpha Chapter of Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority held at the YMCA.

Mrs. Anthony Grand announced that proceeds from the recent money-making project were given to the Civic Auditorium Fund. Another money - making project is planned for April 27 at a local hall.

Going Steady Cheats Girl but Simplifies Boy's Life

Arrangement Puts Her on the Shelf While Giving Him Every Break

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to teenage girls:

You claim the reason you have to "go steady" all through junior high and high school—never being able to have a date with Joe until you have formally "broken up" with Bill—is that if you are dating one boy no other boy will ask you for a date.

★ ★ ★

Why don't you girls get smart and put an end to this going steady nonsense?

Aren't you bright enough to see that the boys have things all their way?

They don't like to be bothered with competition, so they have sold you girls on going steady so that they can keep a girl with a minimum of effort.

If a boy is sure no other boy is going to ask his girl for a date, he doesn't have to invite her to a party weeks ahead of time. He can call up at the last minute if he happens to feel like going.

WHAT HE WANTS

He doesn't have to take her to the movie she wants to see. He can take her to the one he wants to go to.

He doesn't have to dress up for a date with her because he hasn't any competition.

He can be as high-handed as he pleases because he figures if he doesn't take his girl out, she'll have to sit at home.

If a cute new girl comes along he can always pick a fight and "break up." So boys like "going steady." But how they ever sold girls on the idea is a mystery.

Girls ought to be smart enough to see that "going steady" robs them of their chance to pick and choose. It gets them out of circulation and puts them on a shelf.

★ ★ ★

And it never gives them a chance, through all their girlhood, to know the heady excitement of feeling like a belle.

How can girls be so foolish?

PHS to Present Water Show, Community Science Fair

By JACK HENDRICKSON

Pontiac High School's A Capella Choir sang at Northwood Inn Wednesday night at a meeting of the American Business Women's Assn.

The Senior Girls Ensemble performed with the group as did the Senior Boys Ensemble.

John Youngpeter, adviser to the Biology III class, plans to take the class to Clarkston High tomorrow to attend the Clarkston Science Fair.

Biology classes are busily working on their projects for the PHS Science Fair, April 12 and 13. Over 50 area schools will have projects here.

Constantine Sousanis, editor of the science department's publication, the Junior Academy of Science, Arts, and Letters, is working with his staff to meet their deadline of May 20! The staff consists of Krista Kaasik, Marth Hodge, Ronald Hoekman, Bob Tinney.

A new section on scientific vocation is included in this issue. Data for this will be contributed by different specialists in Michigan.

Wednesday afternoon 13 students attended a Spanish Fiesta and Play at the University of Michigan.

Under the direction of Mrs. Robert Irwin, the PHS Dolphin Club is in the process of preparing for public performance their annual water show which will be held April 10 through 13.

"Black Magic" will be the title for this year's show which will feature such numbers by the club as "Seance," "Voo Doo," "Zombies," "Black Cats," "Sandman," "Three Witches," "Skeletons," "Nymphs," "Leprechaun," "Rabbits," and "Halloween."

Attempting to convey to the public their interpretations of mystical superstitions found around the world, the Dolphins will open the show with "Seance."

"Voo Doo" will be next, presented by Gail Blamy, Sharon Daniels, Nancy Donaldson, Darleen Stange.

★ ★ ★

Members of the PHS Swimming team will take part in the third number. They are, John Doerr, Bob Colsch, Gideon Robarge, and Dennis Simonson.

Tension Mounts at Junior Highs

An undercurrent of excitement filled the air at Eastern Junior High this week, mainly because the end of school is only 10 weeks away and plans are already being made for graduation activities.

At a meeting of ninth grade homeroom teachers on Tuesday morning the following assignments for promotion activities were made: Promotion exercises—Neva Hartwig and Helen Jesse; flowers—Marian Van Ryzin; class gift—Edwin Rydell; Walled Lake outing—Alton B. Madden; finance—Joseph Blank.

AT LINCOLN

A double assembly was presented by the Boys' Glee Club and Ensemble of the Pontiac Senior High School today when George Putnam, vocal music supervisor, brought the groups to Lincoln.

AT WASHINGTON

At a recent Washington Junior High School election the ninth grades chose their class officers. They are: Ken Shaw, president; Karen Buchanan, vice president; Karen Hefner, secretary-treasurer.

Today two Civil Defense movies were presented to acquaint the students on how to protect themselves during an air raid. It was sponsored by the Civil Defense Committee of the Girls' Service Club, of which Lois Farrell is chairman.

The ninth graders who are members of the Washington, D. C. Tour Club are looking forward to their trip. They have been seeing films on Washington and have selected their roommates.

Future meetings will prepare them for the many experiences they will encounter while on the trip May 8 through May 12.

The Student Council sponsors a trip to Washington each year for two worthy, outstanding students. The two selected this year are Henry Smith and Lois Farrell.

AT MADISON

Students responded enthusiastically Wednesday to the ticket sale for "The Great Caruso" film sponsored by the Music Department at Madison Junior High School. Over 500 tickets were sold.

Sales were sparked by girls wearing green and gold choir robes which will be purchased from the film's proceeds.

Major Projects Occupy Area High Classes

A science fair, senior trip to New York, and a class play are among the items making news this week at area high schools.

Clarkston High School will hold its first science fair from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday. More than 100 projects are entered from the fields of chemistry, biology and physics, submitted by five schools in Independence Township and from Clarkston High.

Colored films will be shown on scientific subjects. Judging will take place from 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. and ribbons awarded.

AT LAKE ORION

The Lake Orion High seniors are off to New York on Sunday morning at 5:30. Their first stop is Niagara Falls where they will spend Sunday afternoon. Monday they will begin their stay in New York.

Planned are a sightseeing yacht cruise, a Broadway play, a sporting event at Madison Square Garden, tour of the United Nations building, the Empire State building, and a grand tour through Chinatown, the Bowery, east side, uptown, Broadway, etc.

A dinner with dancing and floor show at the Club Copacabana and an evening at Coney Island complete the plans. This is the first Lake Orion senior class to choose the trip to New York.

The exchange assembly was viewed this afternoon by the school. The assembly will represent the school at Rochester and Avondale High Schools.

Tickets for the Teacher-Merchant game in the gym are going fast as the students of even the elementary schools, whose teachers are on the team, are anxious to see how they fare. Proceeds go to the Teachers Club Scholarship Fund which finances one or more Lake Orion seniors in higher learning.

AT AVONDALE

Avondale High School juniors are busy getting ready for their play, "We Shook the Family Tree," which will be held April 9 in the gym.

Reports Record Year for Births in Detroit

DETROIT (INS) — City health commissioner Dr. Joseph G. Molner reports that a record number of babies were born in Detroit last year.

He said 61,200 infants were born in the icty last year as compared to 59,299 births in 1955.

Dr. Molner point out that the parents of 36.5 per cent of the babies born in Detroit in 1956 live outside the city.

There is an accidental death in the United States every five and one-half minutes and an accidental injury every three seconds around the clock.

'Foreign Aid With Us for Long Time Yet'

Congress Divided on Next Step

By RELMAN MORIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — How long will the United States have to go on helping other nations with its foreign aid programs?

★ ★ ★

These programs, over 10 years, have cost an estimated 56 billion dollars. That's about $330 to every American man, woman and child.

What's the outlook? More of the same?

"Impossible," others retort. "This is a long-haul contest with the Russians and it may go on for another 50 years."

"Make the setup more efficient," one view urges, "so that you get better results for less money."

"Encourage American private enterprise to take over as many of the economic development phases as possible," runs another argument.

Congress itself is divided over the next step. Never before has the foreign aid program been under such a hot white searchlight.

Official figures indicate that military aid takes by far the biggest chunk of the money Congress appropriates each year. A long study prepared for the Senate concludes that these costs are not likely to go down in the immediate future. It says:

"For the years immediately ahead . . . the military aid program should be regarded as an integral part of the defense program of the United States . . . (It) has served materially to stabilize the free world and discourage aggression," the study report said.

But what of economic aid?

Sen. Ellender (D-La), a fierce critic of economic aid, says, "If we contique our policies, those countries will never try to help themselves. Why should they?"

But Sen. Case (R-NJ) calls for consideration of a "comprehensive, systematic and adequate program of economic assistance for underdeveloped nations."

As if in reply, Sen. Knowland (R-Calif) said recently, "We should not attempt to remake the world in our economic or political image. It is time for them (other countries) to start living within their means and for us to do likewise."

★ ★ ★

Sentiment in Congress today appears to be for a sharp cut in the funds requested for foreign aid. President Eisenhower has asked for $4,400,000,000.

Even that part allocated for military assistance may get a severe going-over. The economic parts are expected to generate a fierce battle.

And the consensus in Washington is that foreign aid, in one form or another, will be with us for a long time yet.

Eye Incentive for Engineers

State School Aid Plan Would Assure Enough Road Technicians

LANSING (AP) — A plan to assure Michigan a supply of competent engineers for its ambitious roadbuilding programs is proposed in a bill submitted to the legislature by Rep. Harry A. DeMaso (R-Battle Creek).

The measure proposes a series of special scholarships to be handed out to top high school students who "indicate a desire to prepare for highway engineering professions."

To qualify for scholarships, students would have to agree to work for the state in the highway construction field for five years after receiving certification as engineers.

200 AWARDS

Another scholarship plan drafted by De Maso would set up 200 scholarships worth $500 each, all to be awarded to students enrolling at private colleges in the state. The bill provides for a $100,000 appropriation to get the plan rolling in time for the 1957-58 school year.

"This bill would serve as a shot in the arm for our private schools, which are a vital segment of our higher educational system," De Maso said. "In some cases these schools do not have enough students to use all available facilities. This plan would encourage bigger enrollments at private schools and help to relieve the burden on the bigger state-supported schools."

Honor Consumers Co.

JACKSON (AP)—Consumers Power Co. has received an award naming it as the American electric company that best served rural customers in 1956. It was the Thomas W. Martin Award, presented by the Edison Electric Institute.

Suggests U.N. Control Space

Rocket Society Counsel Observes Rising Need for Jurisdiction

WASHINGTON (INS) — The American Rocket Society general counsel declared that outer space activity is reaching the point where the United Nations will have to step in and exercise interplanetary jurisdiction.

Andrew Haley argued that such traditional earth-bound rules as freedom of the open seas, territorial rights, and sanctiy of air space will have to be abandoned in outer space conditions.

In their place, he suggested that a new set of rules and regulations, called "metalaw," would be necessary to deal with the problems created by development of rockets, missiles, earth satellites and space platforms.

He added, however, that "the simple laws of Moses known to the western world as the Ten Commandments will have to continue in space," at least for earthmen.

Haley, speaking at the opening session of the Rocket Society's meeting in Washington, suggested the dividing line between earth space and outer space is at 275,000 feet, or approximately 55 miles high.

He based this space boundary on two scientific propositions: The aerodynamics regime and the Kepler regime.

Haley reasoned that vehicles like airplanes and missiles depending on aerodynamic lift—that is, the existence of a thick air ocean in which to steer and climb — are traveling in earth space controlled by the nation below.

PULL OF GRAVITY

But when an object reaches 55 miles high, the air lift factor no longer holds and the Kepler regime, the pull of gravity, takes over.

Man, himself, has only reached about half way to the 55 mile boundary, but the proposed U. S. space satellite will travel around the earth 300 miles high if all goes according to plan.

So far, no nation has voiced any objection to the satellite program. The tiny space ball may go over some Russian territory in its circling orbit.

Watches Operation on His Own Heart

SCOTTVILLE (AP) — Harold Wever, 23-year-old Scottville Hardware employe, may be the first man in history to watch surgery on his own heart.

Via television in his parents' living room last night, Wever viewed the operation performed March 12 at Grace Hospital in Detroit.

"It didn't mean too much, because I had been told what to expect, he said, "but I still marvel at the surgery itself."

Back at work today, he said "I thought at first I wouldn't be able to look, but I changed my mind and watched."

Surgeons repaired Wever's heart by enlarging a valve opening over which scar tissue had formed following two earlier periods of rheumatic fever. The surgery included collapsing a lung, separating ribs, injecting novocaine into heart muscle and briefly diverting blood flow to the brain.

A film of the original Detroit telecast was run last night by Grand Rapids Wood-TV as part of an educational effort by medical groups and the Michigan Heart Assn.

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The outlawed Chilean Communist party sounded a clandestine call today for a continuation of the antiinflation violence that has left an estimated 40 or more persons dead in Santiago.

It exhorted the working classes to rally around the Central Workers Union, the nation's most powerful labor organization, and the leftist Popular Action Front to achieve their aims.

Facts on Tree Plantations Given

State Annual Losses

Annual losses due to insect damage of home shade trees in the United States total over 87 million dollars, says the National Arborist Assn., practically all of which could be saved by adequate tree care, especially spraying.

About 10 per cent of the wood mass of a tree is found underground in the form of roots, according to the National Arborist Assn.

Despite the large number of subdivisions, Oakland County still is one of the major tree planting counties in the state. Over 325,000 trees were planted by residents of the county during 1956.

One of the well managed Oakland County plantations that has been in operation the longest is one owned by Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kerley of Birmingham. They own a tract of land in Groveland Township near Ortonville, portions of which they have planted to trees over a period of eight years.

The Kerleys have used Scotch Pine and Spruce for their most satisfactory trees. The work has been done with the cooperation of the Oakland County Soil Conservation District. The trees have been sheared to provide better shape and more dense foliage and have been sprayed to control insect damage.

CUT YOUR OWN

Most of their trees are sold to the "cut your own" trade in the weeks preceding Christmas. Demand for Christmas tree seedlings for many years has been much greater than tree nurseries have been able to provide for.

In order to secure trees for Oakland County land owners, the Soil Conservation District has purchased each year a supply of trees which they make available to local people interested in reforestation or Christmas tree production.

Species available this year are Scotch Pine, Austrian Pine, and Norway Spruce.

This is one of the many soil conserving practices which the Oakland Soil Conservation District promotes annually. Some District Directors are: Royce Long, Milford; John Canfield, New Hudson; Keith Middleton, Lake Orion; and Earl Voorheis, Davisburg. The District's office is at 1260 West Boulevard, Pontiac. Jay Poffenberger, Oakland County Agricultural Agent, is Secretary for the District and Merrill Ray, of the Soil Conservation Service, is the District's Conservationist.

Scotch Pine is the most popular variety for Christmas tree plantation, because it grows rapidly even on poor sites. It has a pleasing shape and color and holds its needles well. Also, it is one of the most rapid growing of the trees. Scotch Pine trees can begin to be harvested six years after planting on good sites.

Austrian pine is another popular tree for the Christmas tree plantations. Branches are still making it difficult to pack and ship long distances. Hence, it is well suited to Oakland's "cut it yourself" trade. Austrian pine grows as rapidly as Scotch. Both need shearing or pruning to give them desirable shape.

White Pine and Jack pine are not recommended for Christmas tree plantation in Michigan. Red Pine pines, because of insect pests, are not recommended for Christmas trees in Oakland.

MORE FAVORITES

Other favorite trees for Oakland plantings include White Spruce, Norway spruce, and even the more expensive Colorado Blue Spruce. Norway spruce grow the most rapidly, taking about eight years to grow to Christmas tree size. Other spruce can be harvested at ten to fifteen years. Spruces prefer better soil for successful growth than the pines.

Douglas fir is a tree that brings premium price on the holiday market. However, it suffers from Oaklands winters and grows successfully only on a few sites where soil is reasonably fertile and drainage is good. Christmas trees are usually planted on the less fertile soils. Heavy clay soils are not usually well suited to the growth of trees because of poor drainage. Also, the more fertile soils are usually too expensive to warrant planting to trees.

Most plantations are planted with a machine which opens a slit in the bottom of a shallow furrow into which the tree is placed by the operator who rides the machine.

However, hand planting is equally successful if carefully done. Most growers plant about 1,000 trees to an acre.

The first few years on a plantation are the most critical for the trees. It is during this period the weeds choke them out, deer, mice, rabbits, and domestic livestock tramp them down or eat them off and grass fires can wipe the entire plantation out in a few minutes.

Spraying or dusting the plantation with chemicals is a must for insect control. Pruning or shearing improves the appearance of the trees, making a higher percentage of them marketable.

Christmas trees are one farm crop not suffering from overproduction. Each year Michigan residents use 350,000 trees more than they produce. The imports of trees nationwide runs into millions. With the local market that is available to Oakland growers there are many opportunities for added producers.

Some Tree Damages Are Tax Deductible

Storm damages to trees may be deducted in figuring income tax. The damage comes under casualty losses. The tax code allows a deduction equal to the difference in the value of property just before and after the storm. The claim must be entered in the year it occurs and must be substantiated by the estimate of a qualified person.

Learn Basic Principles

Beginners Baffled by Talk

BY CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y. — Much of the fun of gardening lies in talking to other gardeners. But gardeners, like every other group, have a language all their own, which unfortunately is likely to silence a beginner whose enthusiasm has confined him too much to the hoe and too little to the garden books.

It is unthinkable that there should be a second-year gardener who doesn't know his potash from his pH value, and as a matter of fact, a nodding acquaintance with both is right handy in both gardening and reading about gardens.

For conversation purposes, there are two basic chemical facts of life to learn. The first is one which is concerned with the amounts of nitrogen, phosphorus and potash in fertilizers.

This is invariably set down in a formula such as 5-10-5. And if you have trouble remembering which figure stands for what, the trick is that they are listed alphabetically.

Sweet and Sour

Now then, about this much-discussed pH scale. Nowadays it isn't enough to decide that your garden has "sweet" soil or "sour" soil.

The horticultural experts have learned, for instance, that beets and parsnips have decidedly different preferences. Beets — and forget-me-nots and English ivy enjoy a neutral soil, if anything slightly on the "sweet" side.

Parsnips — and potatoes and heather—like it strongly on the "sour" side. In the lexicon of gardening, sweet means alkaline while sour means acid.

Limestone for Acid

Actually, it's a good idea to have some idea of your soil's pH. If you find it too acid for the liking of your plants, it may be sweetened with ground limestone.

If you have sweet soil where you want to plant rhododendrons, aluminum sulphate may be worked into the soil.

To find out the condition, you may have soil samples tested by your county farm agent. Better still and fun, is to acquire a small and comparatively inexpensive soil-testing kit and do the job yourself. It also tells you the nitrogen, phosphorus and potash content of soil. (Find out where to get refills of testing liquids, you'll want to run tests for your neighbors, too.)

War on Elm Disease Begins Now

The annual war against the destructive Dutch Elm disease has begun, despite the lingering winter weather.

Donald E. Nagel, Pontiac city forester, said with a new cold weather spray, it is possible to go after the damaging beetle threatening 3,000 city Elms several months earlier this year.

Last year, spraying 2,844 Elms with a spray which restricted spraying to 40-degree or above weather, the beetle destroyed 150 trees. The previous year 137 Elms were lost.

"With this new spray we hope to get the jump on the disease," Nagel said.

Members of the forestry department have launched a three-week program of spraying Elms on city property.

HIRE COMPANY

Nagel urged citizens with Elms on their property to engage a tree spraying company. He said home gardeners do not have sufficient equipment to spray the entire tree as necessary.

One way to combat Dutch Elm disease, besides spraying, is to remove all dead wood from the diseased trees, making sure to burn the wood which is a breeding place for the beetle.

The first symptom of the disease is the yellowing of the leafs at the top of the Elms, Nagel said.

Experts believe the disease started with a load of mahogany shipped from Holland sometime around 1926. "It apparently housed the beetle which then spread very rapidly," Nagel explained.

He corrected the mistaken belief that the disease strikes "Dutch Elms" only. "There is no such thing as a Dutch Elm," he emphasized.

"The beetle, from one-twelfth to one-eighth of an inch long, carries its infectious fungus into the tree and clogs up the water and food vessels with fungus," the forester said.

Besides the discoloring of the leaves, a cross-section of a twig showing a brown ring in the sap wood indicates the presence of the disease, he stated.

To quell some citizens' complaints that the spray used by the city is dangerous, Nagel said it is not harmful to human beings. "It will sometime leave a scum on cars, but this can be easily washed off," Nagel said.

COMPLETE COVERAGE — DDT sprays mist give a full dose for effective control of Dutch Elm Disease. Here, mist blower equipment delivers the high volume needed to do the job right.

Lawn Clinic Slated for Home Owners

Lawn Clinic for Home Owners conducted by the Agricultural Extension Office and the Golf Course Superintendents Assn. will cover every phase of lawn building and maintenance.

The meeting will be held in the auditorium of the Royal Oak Senior High School, on Tuesday from 8:00-10:00 p.m.

Following brief talks on a particular phase of lawn building and care, each of the speakers will hold an informal discussion with a segment of the audience. The latest thinking on turf management will be mentioned, and should be a fine opportunity to get assistance with general and specific problems of your own grounds.

To Identify Insects

Most insects attacking home shade trees can be identified by tree experts and control measures adopted, according to the National Arborist Association.

Gardeners Go to State Meeting in Grosse Pointe

Gardeners attended an open meeting of the Grosse Pointe and Eastern Michigan Horticultural Society on Thursday at the Grosse Pointe Neighborhood Club. Philip Savage of Turf Horticultural Specialties showed a film and spoke on fertilizers for the lawn and garden.

William Law spoke on dahlias, including everything from planting to digging and storing the tubers for the winter.

R. Daniel Lutley, the president of the society and now working at a Lake Angelus estate, hopes to start a Men's Garden Club. Any further information may be received by calling Lutley at FE 2-5057.

Aerial Spraying for Gypsy Moth to Be Launched

WASHINGTON (INS)—The largest aerial spraying operation in U.S. history will be launched April 15 to eradicate the gypsy moth in New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

The Agriculture Department announced today that the cooperative effort by Federal and State Governments will continue through mid-June to remove the moth from almost three million acres of forest.

The department said spraying contractors, who have already been asked to bid, will be strictly supervised. Operations will be allowed only during the three or four post-dawn hours and only during favorable weather conditions.

About five million dollars have been appropriated by State and Federal Governments to combat the gypsy moth in the nine northeastern states during the current season.

Try Control Device Where Trouble Is

In cases where an infestation of an insect or disease occurs over a fairly wide area, it is much more economically sound to institute control measures for the whole area, according to the National Arborist Association. Area control is not only more effective but obviously cheaper for the individual property owner.

Anchor Isolated Trees

Isolated tall trees with comparatively small trunks should be anchored by guy wires to keep them from being whipped too heavily by the wind, advises the National Arborist Association.

Legislators May Rewrite Taft-Hartley Law

Union Reports to Be Made Public?

WASHINGTON (AP) — For a decade, most labor unions have been required to file annual financial reports with the government. In all that time only about 200 citizens have ever seen them.

Reports from some 40,000 national and local unions are promptly locked away in Labor Department valuts on receipt.

★ ★ ★

Congress seems to have planned things that way in writing the Taft-Hartley law in 1947. Many legislators now feel that was a mistake which Congress should correct quickly.

Recent disclosures by the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee of alleged misuse of large sums of union money have brought renewed interest in the problem.

Numerous legislators have recommended that (1) the Labor Department records of union financial data should be opened to everyone, and (2) Congress should enact a new law requiring similar data to be filed with the government and made public regarding multibillion-dollar welfare funds.

But 10 years ago in enacting the Taft-Hartley Act Congress thought differently. It included no provision for filing welfare fund data at all. It required unions using services of the National Labor Relations Board to file the annual union treasury statements, but made no provision for making them public.

The late Republican leader, Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, said "Such reports are not open to the public any more than corporation reports are open to the public."

Taft said that in addition to "proper government officials," union members should be permitted to see their own union's reports, and the Labor Department has allowed that. But in 10 years only 200 union members have availed themselves of the privilege.

★ ★ ★

Secretary of Labor Mitchell was inclined some time ago to Taft's notion that the union data was primarily the business of a union and its members. More recently, he has said he would like to see the data under his custody made public. He further wants power to investigate for fraudulent filing of data.

For several years now both Mitchell and President Eisenhower have been urging Congress to require disclosure of welfare fund data.

Create Outer Space Conditions

Scientists Place Humans in Weightless Suspense

WASHINGTON (AP)—Riding in a space ship would prove exhilarating to a good many people, but others would find it uncomfortable, some even nauseating, a scientist indicated today.

Dr. Siegfried J. Gerathewohl of the School of Aviation Medicine at Randolph Field, Tex., told the American Rocket Society about experiments testing reaction to "weightlessness."

★ ★ ★

This phenomenon — similar at least to some degree to the feeling you have at the sudden start-down of an express elevator, or when you go over the top in a roller coaster — would prevail when your space ship no longer was influenced by the pull of the earth's gravity.

If you weren't belted down, or lacked some other means of being attached to the ship's floor—perhaps by magnetized shoes — you'd float around inside the rocket ship's cabin. And so would your pills and anything else that wasn't pinned down.

Dr. Gerathewohl's prepared report told of experiments in which 47 persons were exposed to weightlessness under conditions duplicating for 10 to 40 seconds what you'd be faced with for days, weeks and perhaps even years in a space ship.

★ ★ ★

He said about half the subjects enjoyed the experience to the point of exhilaration, and 11 others found the sensations "neither unduly pleasant nor exactly comfortable."

★ ★ ★

The rest had a rather rough time of it, with some of them suffering extreme "motion sickness" But a few of these subjects had been jittery before the start of the experiment, he noted.

Some of the tests were made in a jet plane at the moment it reached the top of an arc. At this point, the plane's acceleration is at a standstill — with the result that the pull of the plane and the pull of gravity are exactly balanced.

The longer exposures were achieved with the help of a human centrifuge, in which weightlessness can be induced by whirling a subject to the point where centrifugal force matches the pull of gravity.

Israeli Ship Plans to Use Gulf of Aqaba

HAIFA, Israel (AP)—The Israel owned 1,500-ton motor ship Atlit left Haifa Wednesday night on the first leg of a three-month journey to southern Israel's Port of Eilat via the Cape route.

The Atlit will be the first Israeli-flag freighter to attempt to pass the islands of Tiran and Sinafar into the Aqaba Gulf since the Sinai side of the shoreline came under U.N. control.

Egypt and Saudi Arabia say these are territorial waters from which Israeli shipping can be excluded.

Postal Seminar Set

KALAMAZOO (AP) — A seminar for 200 postal workers from 70 Michigan and Northern Indiana post office units will be held Sunday at Western Michigan University. Speakers will explain federal civil service retirement and discuss postal regulations and legislation.

Flint Hospital Planned

FLINT (AP) — Plans for construction of a $3,537,000 hospital with a capacity of 240 beds were announced by the Flint Osteopathic Hospital. A fund-raising drive will be held in May, headed by Edward T. Ragsdale, general manager of Buick Division of General Motors Corp.

Urge Sweden Adopt Commercial TV System

STOCIHOLM — A committee of experts has recommended to the minister of communications that Sweden adopt commercial television. They advised also that the Swedish Broadcasting Company which is in charge of television, handle the commercial phase of the business.

Last year in a preliminary decision the Government said Swedish TV would be without advertising, depending on license fees for income.

Hollywood Headlines

Anita Ekberg Set to Star in 'The Screaming Mimi'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Remember the book "The Screaming Mimi," a best seller by Fredric Brown, which sold two million copies? Well, it's for Anita Ekberg and it's her next picture after she finishes "Trouble in Paris" now being filmed in Europe with Bob Hope.

Harry Joe Brown told me that, in association with Bob Fellows, he is producing this story in which Anita will play a daring dancer and which involves a nude statuette. I quote: "We won't pull any punches and the picture will be tailored to her talents." Why, Harry!

The fascinating story of Richard Harding Davis, America's most famous war correspondent and well-known author, has been acquired by Robert Ryan and Anthony Mann and will be made as an independent venture.

Bob and his partner have bought "The Magnificent Mr. Douglas" by Stuart Hamill, which is about a fictitious character who might be a twin of the great Davis.

I believe that some time ago MGM had a project going on Richard Harding Davis' life, but it seems to have been dropped. At least Benny Thau said it is not on their immediate schedule.

Harding was married to Bessie McCoy, beautiful show girl, and their romance was one of the front page stories many years ago.

SOL SIEGEL SIGNED

Tomorrow morning at the MGM sales meeting, Joseph R. Vogel, president of Loew's, Inc., will tell the world that he has signed Sol C. Siegel to continue his independent production for MGM release.

First, Sol will produce "Merry Andrew," starring Danny Kaye, which he starts next month. Then, under his new contract, his first picture will be "Some Came Running," the new James Jones novel, which James Patrick is scripting.

Sol has had a distinguished career and to his credit recently at MGM are "High Society," "Man on Fire" and "Les Girls." The latter two not yet released.

I promised Henry Fonda that I'd take a look at "12 Angry Men," his own picture which he brought in for $340,000 in 27 days. He's very proud of the picture, and well he might be.

I saw it at my home and it's a strong, dramatic story with nary a woman in it. One thing I particularly liked was that it did not go on and on and on; it's just the right length.

An astounding thing is that the action never once leaves a jury room, but you're never bored for a minute. Be sure to see it.

CALL FROM T-MAN

When designer Jean Louis received a call from the Bureau of Internal Revenue in Washington he was worried, like any of us might be.

He says he was considerably relieved when the T-man merely said he wanted to know where Marlene Dietrich obtained the swan feathers used to make her coat in her Las Vegas act.

Red Skelton is the only comedian on TV who has had his weekly show renewed. Jack Benny and Bob Hope, of course, are not on every week.

The Honorable David Bowes-Lyon, uncle of Queen Elizabeth II, recalled to me that he had met me at a dinner party given by the late Sir Alexander Korda in London.

Sue and Alan Ladd are taking some of their dough to buy a new building going up on Wilshire and Rexford drive in Beverly Hills. They'll call it the Jaguar Building after Alan's independent company.

One of Frank Sinatra's songs at the Mocambo tomorrow night will be "The Lady Is a Tramp" which he'll sing in "Pal Joey."

Bobby Sherwood, TV panelist, has come out here to play the role of a piano player in "Pal Joey." And Ellie Kent, Beautiful blonde wife of Jonie Tapps, plays a small part in the same movie.

It's Not All Smoke

PANAMA (AP) —Dr. William F. Rienhoff of Johns Hopkins University says smoking cannot be blamed for increased lung cancers any more than inhaling air polluted by fumes from gasoline and tar. Rienhoff addressed the opening session yesterday of the second Inter-American Medical Convention at the National University.

Sen. Potter Warns of Threat to Seaway

WASHINGTON (INS) — Sen. Charles E. Potter (R-Mich), said today the "economic blessings" of the St. Lawrence Seaway are threatened by a proposal to divert Lake Michigan water to the Illinois waterway.

The Michigan Republican, in a statement prepared for delivery before the House Public Works Committee, predicted also that the diversion plan "might jeopardize our harmonious relations with Canada."

He said: "diversion . . . will lower the lake level and make more expensive the improvement of the connecting channels (with the seaway). The loss of even one inch of draft for shipping, I am advised, would deprive the Great Lakes of two million tons of carrying capacity in one year."

The senator added that "all of the Great Lakes cities would suffer by this diversion and the whole concept of the seaway would be negated."

Mayor of Petersburg Gets 'Time' to Consider

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP)—The mayor of Petersburg, Mich., William K. Gee, has been sentenced to three days in the workhouse on a drunk driving conviction.

Gee, 38, was arrested March 20 after his automobile crashed through a barricade at the site of the old Ash-Consault bridge over the Maumee River and narrowly missed hitting a policeman.

At that time, police quoted him as telling them, "See to it gentlemen, that you keep out of Petersburg in the future."

Yesterday, however, Gee told Municipal Judge Homer A. Ramey he was repentant and "humiliated by my actions."

Rocket's Overtime Goal Puts Canadiens in Final

MONTREAL (AP) — Maurice (Rocket) Richard, who has scored more goals than anybody in hockey, catapulted the Montreal Canadiens into the Stanley Cup final last night with a typical Richard piece of artistry.

★ ★ ★

The Rocket electrified a screaming crowd of 14,201 with a goal after two minutes and 11 seconds of sudden-death overtime to give the Canadiens a 4-3 victory over the New York Rangers and end the semifinal series with dramatic suddenness.

★ ★ ★

The Canadiens won the best-of-seven series 4-1 and will open the final here Saturday against Boston.

★ ★ ★

Richard's goal climaxed more than 60 minutes of sensational play. The underdog Rangers, all but overwhelmed by three quick Montreal goals in the second period, struck back to tie in the third.

★ ★ ★

Two Montreal goals by Jean Beliveau and one by Floyd Curry were wiped out in the Ranger uprising by Parker MacDonald, Red Sullivan and Harry Howell.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

With the flail and flourish all his own, the 35-year-old veteran let fly with a backhand shot. The puck streaked past Gump Worsley, the little New York goalie, and the crowd broke into a roar of acclaim for their hockey idol.

★ ★ ★

The goal was Richard's 66th in 106 games of Stanley Cup competition, a series record he betters every time he scores. In regular-season play of the National League the Rocket's total this season reached a dizzy 493 for his 15 seasons of campaigning.

State Considers Land Purchases

LANSING (AP) — Acquisition of three public fishing sites, 60 acres of park land and 124 acres of public hunting lands will be considered at the state conservation commission meeting April 11-12 at Lansing.

★ ★ ★

The proposed public fishing sites are on Elk Lake, Antrim County; Torch Lake, Antrim County, and School Section Lake, Van Buren County.

Park land acquisition proposed is the addition of 60 acres to Algonac State Park during the next fiscal year if sufficient funds are available.

Proposed game land purchases would add 69 acres to the Tobico State Game Area, Tuscola County, and 12 acres to the Waterloo County; 26 acres to the Crane Recreation Area, Jackson County.

HAPPY DAY — Boston Bruin coach Milt Schmidt went wild with joy after the Bruins beat the Detroit Red Wings, 4-3, to clinch their right to play in the Stanley Cup finals. Schmidt went into the towel tossing spree in the locker room at the Olympia after last night's game.

Detroit Ousted in Five Games by Bruins, 4-3

Third Period Collapse Fatal as Boston Gains Berth in Finals

By BILL CORNWELL

DETROIT — The Detroit Red Wings, National Hockey League champions, were stowing away their uniforms for another year today after suffering a complete collapse in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

It took the surging Boston Bruins exactly five semifinal games to put the Redshirts on the sidelines until the 1957-58 season.

They dashed Detroit's hopes for a crack at professional hockey's most coveted prize with a well-deserved 4-3 victory Thursday night before 14,522 disgruntled fans at Olympia Stadium.

The hard-earned triumph vaulted them into the finals against the Montreal Canadiens, who eliminated the New York Rangers last night at Montreal with a 4-3 win in sudden death overtime.

Detroit scored 1st and last, but the not-to-be-denied Beantowners collected four goals in the interim to settle the issue. The three decisive tallies came within a 10-minute span in the 3rd period when Detroit's sagging defense wilted.

Two of the Wings' goals were the fanciest exhibitions of the evening. But Boston's close-checking, aggressive defense and offensive opportunism more than offset any Detroit flurry.

Alex Delvecchio got the Wings off to a flying start with a 20-foot blast from a sharp angle at 9:52 of the 1st period. Delvecchio's counter stood up until the 12:10 mark of the middle stanza when rookie Buddy Boone beat goalie Glenn Hall with an almost identical shot to tie the score.

Ted Lindsay's classy goal after only 36 seconds of the 3rd period sent the Red Wings into a 2-1 lead. Lindsay took Gordie Howe's cross-rink pass, faked goaltender Don Simmons out of position and beat him with a short tap.

Then the roof fell in on the Detroiters. Leo LaBine scored on a breakaway at 6:18, Doug Mohns cashed in on a long screen shot from a face-off at 10:21 and Cal Gardner wrapped it up with a sizzler through Al Arbour and Hall at 15:16.

Metro Prystai revived the Wings' fading chances with a nifty goal at 17:59. Prystai gathered in Delvecchio's relay and clicked on a shot very similar to Lindsay's effort. The Wings whacked away at Simmons in the final two minutes and pulled Hall out of the nets, but their frantic tries were unrewarded.

Only eight penalties were called, four a side, and none figured in the scoring. Simmons made a total of 23 saves while Hall was credited with 11 stops.

Speiser 13-5 Favorite Over Anthony Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—It will be the slam-bang style of Chuck Spieser against the quick-fisted counter punches of Tony Anthony when the two light heavyweights battle tonight for the right to meet champion Archie Moore.

Spieser is a heavy favorite in the scheduled 12-rounder which will be televised nationally (NBC-TV, 10 p.m. EST) from Detroit's Olympia Stadium. It's the two-time Olympic battler's first "big" fight in his home town, and a victory would mean an opportunity to take on Moore in a June 7 battle in the same stadium.

But Anthony, a New Yorker who has 22 knockouts to his credit in his 29-4 record, is confident almost to the point of being cocky.

"Where do they get that business of 13-5 odds?", he asked the day before the bout. "Who did Spieser ever beat, anyway?"

Anthony, the quicker of the two and capable puncher with either hand, feels he can elude the rock-hard body punches with which Spieser has been so successful. The Detroit fighter generally moves in just one direction—forward—and is most effective at close range.

Spieser, 27 and Anthony's teammate on the 1952 Olympic boxing team, is regarded as the No. 1 contender for Moore's crown. On the strength of six straight victories, Anthony is third-ranked. Spieser has won 19 bouts, 14 by knockouts, has lost four times and has one draw.

He hasn't been in action since late 1956 when he knocked out German Willi Hoepner in two rounds.

The fight will be scored on the must-five point system.

There's No Gratitude Among Lady Golfers

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

MSU's Jemilo Reaches Semis

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP) — Six Idaho State college punchers battle tonight to join three teammates who already have made the finals in the National Collegiate boxing championships.

Idaho state piled up nine points in the team standings during the first day, winning the only two semifinal bouts and three quarterfinal fights. Michigan State won three quarterfinal fights for three points, trailed by San Jose (Calif.) State and Syracuse with two points each.

Tigers Lose 9th by 1 Run

LAKELAND, Fla., (AP) — The Detroit Tigers have a more than even chance this year to better their last year's exhibition season record.

★ ★ ★

With three games remaining in the Grapfruit Circuit, the Bengals have won seven and lost 13. Last year they had an 8-16 record.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers have an off day today. They play the New York Yankees tomorrow, Sunday and Monday they meet the Philadelphia Phillies and then head north.

The St. Louis Cardinals handed Detroit its 13th defeat yesterday, 5-4. It was the ninth game the Tigers have lost by one run this spring.

Detroit pitcher Jack Crimian gave up eight of the Card's nine hits, including three runs in the first five innings. The 30-year-old righthander was pushed into a starting role when Jim Bunning was called home by the illness of his wife.

The Cards nicked reliefer Pete Wojey for two more runs in the seventh. Wojey walked three men, gave up one hit and made two wild throws on attempted pickoffs.

But Detroit couldn't connect in the pinches. The Tigers left 11 men on base. Eddie Robinson popped out with the bases loaded and one out in eighth. Small beat out an infield hit to push across the final Detroit run before Jack Phillips flied out to end the inning.

Jim Finigan had to leave the game in the third inning when Ennis' smash struck him on the side of the head. His right ear was cut, apparently by the metal bows of his glasses. Reno Bertoia, who replaced Finigan, later was hit on the arm by one of Jones' inside pitches. The injury wasn't serious, however.

MISSED PICKOFF ATTEMPT — Tiger pitcher Pete Wojey tried to pick Don Blasingame of the St. Louis Cardinals off second base yesterday but Tiger shortstop Ron Samford missed a bad throw which bounced and rolled out into center field. The Cardinals won the game, 5-4, in Lakeland, Florida.

3 Champs Favored to Keep Mat Titles

WAYNESBURG, Pa. (AP)—Three defending champs were favored to retain their crowns today as 21 survivors went into the semi-final and final rounds of the annual Amateur Athletic Union wrestling tournament.

Northrup Beats Abasta

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mickey Northrup and Joe Abasta, two local lightweights, scrapped for 10 rounds Thursday night at the Olympic Auditorium, with Northrup nabbing a split decision. Northrup weighed 135, Abasta 138.

Swimmers Seek Triple Title Tonight

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The ambitions of Timothy Jecko and Al Wiggins to become triple winners in the National AAU men's indoor swimming and diving championships clash tonight in the 100-yard butterfly event.

Wiggins, an Ohio State University senior from Pittsburgh, won the AAU butterfly title last year. Jecko, a sophomore at Yale University, won the butterfly as one of his three titles in the National Collegiate meet at Chapel Hill, N.C., last week.

Jecko and Wiggins posted a victory each in yesterday's four AAU events.

Jecko successfully defended his 400-yard individual medley title, swimming it in the best time ever made by an American: 4 minutes, 39.2 seconds. He was close to the world record of 4:36.9 held by Jack Wardrop of Great Britain.

Wiggins won the 100-yard freestyle although Dick Hanley, a University of Michigan sophomore, was clocked in faster time. They matched strokes through the four laps and touched the finish in a virtual dead heat.

Wiggins will defend a second of his 1956 titles today—the 100-yard backstroke. Jecko, if he wins the 100-yard butterfly, will be trying for a third championship in the 220-yard butterfly on tomorrow night's program, closing the meet.

Another contender for a triple title is George Breen of Cortland, N.Y., who won the 1,500-meter freestyle Wednesday night. He will defend his 440-yard freestyle title tomorrow and is entered in tonight's 220-yard freestyle. Hanley is the defending champion in the 220-yard freestyle.

Browns Sign Tackle

CLEVELAND (AP)—Henry Jordan who lost out last week in the finals of the NCAA wrestling championships, has signed a contract with the Cleveland Browns of the National Football League.

Jordan, a tackle from the University of Virginia, is 22 and weighs 235 pounds.

THURSDAY'S FIGHTS

Big Payday for Fullmer

CHICAGO (AP) — Gene Fullmer never had it so good.

The bull-necked middleweight boxing champion is looking ahead to his biggest payday. He stands to collect about $80,000 in his 30-30 percentage cut with Sugar Ray Robinson of the gate and TV proceeds for defense of his crown May 1 at Chicago Stadium.

Fullmer, confident he can beat Robinson again, will train in the ultra-plush surroundings of Tam O'Shanter Country Club. He opens camp there Monday, the first boxer to do so since Chuck Davey groomed for Kid Gavilan four years ago.

300 Expected at BC Tryouts

Nearly 300 youngsters between the ages of 9 and 16 are expected to turn out Monday April 8, for the first baseball meeting and tryouts for the many teams to be formed at Boys' Club.

★ ★ ★

At present, plans call for 10 midget teams, 6 prep teams (13 to 15 years of age), and five varsity teams to be entered in the city midget, Class F, E and D leagues as well as one team to take part in the American Legion program. During the last baseball season, every varsity team at the Boys' Club won the championship in its respective league. Executive director William V. Coulacos said this is a tribute to the youngsters' interest in the game and their ability to play well.

★ ★ ★

Burke's 1-Under 71 Leads Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Jackie Burke Jr. is a steel-eyed Texan who laughs at the jinx that Masters champions never repeat.

"I don't let that stuff bother me," the boyish-looking 34-year-old Houston professional said after shooting the only sub-par round—a 71 — of the 101 fairway stars who took a crack at the Augusta National Course yesterday.

The score, incidentally, was the highest ever to lead the Masters event on opening day.

Today Burke tries to defend his slender lead—one stroke over five players, two strokes over eight others and only three ahead of another cluster of 13—but it's sure these challengers never faced a cooler calculator.

"I hear the Masters champion never repeats," Jackie said. "Certainly, I know that others were favored, such as Ben Hogan and Cary Middlecoff. They should be, on their records.

"But never once did I think about these things. Not once did I feel any pressure of being a champion trying to win again. I found out long ago that there's enough to think about trying to whip a golf course.

"So there's just one thing in my mind. I go out there to beat the course, to play the best possible golf I can. Then if that isn't good enough, it's just too bad."

If Jackie were the type to get concerned, Middlecoff, the National Open champion, and Hogan, one of the great golfers of our era, wouldn't be on his "worry" list. Middlecoff, missing six putts of under three feet, soared to a 79. Hogan shot a 76.

★ ★ ★

Closest on Jackie's heels going into the second day's play were two menacing young Australians, British Open champion Peter Thomson and Bruce Crampton; Jimmy Demaret of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., and Sam Snead of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va., each seeking his fourth Masters title; and the old workhorse of the pro tour, Doug Ford of Mahopac, N.Y., former champion of the Professional Golfers Assn. and the year's leading money winner. All had par 72s.

Tied at 73 were an international assortment of seasoned pros — Britain's Henry Cotton, Canada's Al Balding, Ed Furgol, Arnold Palmer, Jerry Barber, Skee Riegel and Bud Ward—and the reigning National Amateur champion, Harvie Ward Jr. of San Francisco.

Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., was par for 17 holes before stopping because of darkness and needed only a par four on the final hole to fall into the 72 group. A birdie would give him a tie with Burke for the first round lead.

Fred Haas of New Orleans, playing with Marty Furgol, decided to finish in semi-darkness and came in with 74. Furgol and Tony Manero, who also didn't finish, planned to complete their rounds before the official start at 9:18 a.m. (EST) of today's second round.

Just as no champion ever has repeated in the Masters, no foreigner ever has won this event. But Australia, king of Davis Cup tennis, is threatening with two of her young sons in Thomson and Crampton.

Thomson, 26, has won the British Open title the past three years. Crampton, 21, is making his first U.S. tour.

The leaders:

Jack Burke, Jr.	35-36—71
Peter Thomson	37-35—72

ADMIRING A MASTER — Jackie Burke, one-stroke leader in the Masters Golf Tournament, finds himself swamped by young admirers in Augusta, Ga. Burke fired a one-under-par 71 in the first round yesterday. He is the defending champion.

Valley Track Barometer

Coaches Eye CMC Event

By H. GUY MOATS

Saginaw Valley Conference track coaches today were looking to tonight's Central Michigan College indoor Invitational meet at Mt. Pleasant for a clue as to the SVC outlook for 1957.

From a roundup of early-season opinions among the mentors Flint Northern, with 18 lettermen returning from the strong 1956 crew, is generally top-rated. Pontiac, hard hit by loss of the school's all-time great, Hayes Jones, and nine other first-line performers, is still looked upon as a big threat. Dean Wilson's Chiefs are defending champs in SVC and CMC Invitational.

Outside these two, Valley squads are largely in a building stage, with Flint Central and Arthur Hill offering the most hopes for improvement; but with Bay City figuring as a strong possibility.

Norb Bader, Viking coach, summed up what most SVC mentors thought of the prospects. "We'll be pretty good," Bader said, but added, "You've another pretty good team over there at Pontiac, and should figure high up again."

Top U.S. Skiers Challenge Champ in Alpine Event

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif. (AP)—Top skiers of the United States challenge Austria's Olympic champion Toni Sailer and a strong group of Europeans tomorrow and Sunday in the North American Alpine championships.

The competition also gives the first major competitive tests to the ski courses planned for the 1960 winter Olympic games here.

The North American serves as the final qualifying trial for selection of the United States team that will represent this country in the World championships next year at Bad Gastein, Austria. Selections will be Sunday night by the International Competitions Committee of the National Ski Assn.

Spring Trial Set for April 13-14

German Pointer Club Feature Open to Any Pointing Breed

Event is conducted by the German Shorthaired Pointer Club of Michigan and will include puppy stakes beginning at 8 a.m. April 13, derby stake at close of puppy event. Gun dog stake is set for 8 a.m. also on Saturday the 13th, with the open all-age stake being run on Sunday, April 14, at 8 a.m. Limited all-age stake is set to follow close of the open event.

A junior handling stake, for 1 p.m. Sunday, April 14, is open to all children under 16 years.

Trophies will be offered for the top dogs in all events except the limited all-age, rosettes to place winners.

Entries close April 9, at 8 p.m. and should be sent to Mickie Johnston, secretary, 23146 Springbrook drive, Farmington (tel. Greenleaf 4-9598). Draw will be made at 8 p.m. April 9 at home of Richard Kurnick, 9545 Beech Rooad, Detroit (tel. Kenwood 2-1173).

Badminton Tourney Begins on Saturday

Badminton stars from 15 clubs will take part in the Michigan Closed Tournament to be held at Cranbrook School this weekend starting at 11 a.m. Saturday.

Contestants from Pontiac, Rochester and Walled Lake will be included on the strong Birmingham entry in the meet. Trophies will be awarded for singles, doubles and mixed singles.

Softball Meeting Planned April 10

Plans are now being made by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department for the men's 1957 summer softball program in classes A, B and C.

The 1st meeting will be held Wednesday, April 10, at 7:30 p.m., in the Parks and Recreation Department office at City Hall.

All managers or representatives of men's softball teams who desire entry in the city softball leagues should attend this meeting. League organization, contracts, practice fields, rules and other regulations will be discussed.

First Practice Set

Opening practice for the Los Mayos baseball club, and for any player wishing to try out, is set for Saturday. Manager Joe Guillean says players should report at the Columbia - Joslyn North Field not later than 2 p.m. for start of rehearsal, weather permitting.

Bowlerama Entries to Close Tonight

Today is the very last day for entering the big Pontiac Press Bowlerama which will be held at four local alleys during the next three weekends with the winners and othe rtop performers to divide $2,500 in cash and several trophies.

Bowlers interested in taking part who have not yet turned in their applications must do so by midnight tonight in order to be eligible unless left at the Press. Entries may be left in the drop box located in the front of the Press buildng up to 8 a.m. Saturday.

All mailed entries should be sent to tournament manager Les Rothbarth in care of the Press sports department. These must be postmarked before midnight.

Qualifying begins tomorrow noon at three alleys and resumes Sunday at 11:30 a.m. with a total of 264 competing. All remaining entries will qualify April 13 at the same locations — Land-O-Lakes, Auburn Lanes and Dixie Recreation. Finals are April 20 at Huron Bowl.

Qualifiers on the final day will be made up largely of Elks, women and other contestants who enter this week. The tourney dates were extended to benefit the Elks and women who are bowling in other tourneys this weekend.

This singles handicap event offers an excellent chance for anyone to take home the top prizes of $400 and $200 for men and women respectively. There are no favorites in such competition.

Top scores or averages are not required for entering the tournament. All residents of Oakland County who are sanctioned with ABC or WIBC are eligible to shoot for title honors.

In most cases, participants will be bowling on strange alleys as manager Rothbarth conducts a drawing to determine the squads for the various establishments. So everyone starts off even.

There will be a long list of prizes topped by six guaranteed awards in each division and trophies for the leading men and women qualifiers at each alley.

The top 10 per cent of the qualifiers at each location will move into the championship round and will be assured of finishing in the money. This means one out of every 10 entries will take home some prize money. Hard to beat that percentage.

Everyone will bowl at least three games in the tournament with qualifiers rolling another series in the finals. Qualifying will have no bearing on the championship score. It only serves to determine the eligible bowlers.

The championship and other places down the line will be decided by the scores posted only on the crucial last day when all bowlers will be required to bowl three games across six alleys.

The times and locations for all women, Elks and men who have entered this week will be printed in the sports section April 11.

Sixth Annual Test

Press Golf Tourney May 27

BY H. GUY MOATS

Waterford High's 1956 Pontiac Press Invitational prep golf tournament champions are expected to be back for defense of their crown against another strong field come May 27. Date for the 6th annual links test, only one of its kind in Michigan, has been set following formal approval by Charles E. Forsythe, Michigan High School Athletic association head.

★ ★ ★

More than a score of area A—B—C schools have been invited to send five-man teams to Pontiac's Municipal Course for the event. Out of this number it is expected that another big field will be entered. There were 15 schools in the test in 1956.

★ ★ ★

The tourney, 18 holes of medal play, with winner determined by lowest five—man totals, will afford a fine test for the young links stars. A big rotating team trophy goes to the champion, with individual gold medals to top team, plus awards to tourney medalist and runnerup. There will also be Class A and B—C medals for top individuals in those classes, although the event is a wide—open team competition.

★ ★ ★

All participants must be eligible under MHSAA rules and must be under direction of approved school officials, or coaches. Play will be governed by USGA regulations and exact starting times will be published (etermined by numbers of entries as soon as list is determined. In case of bad weather sufficient to make play impossible, tourney will be held Tuesday, May 28.

★ ★ ★

Here Is List of Qualifiers

Qualifying for the Press Bowlerama begins this weekend at three alleys. Here is the complete list of bowlers who will bowl tomorrow and Sunday along with their designated times and alleys.

Entries not listed here along with all women and any entries received this week before midnight tonight will qualify at one of the three mentioned alleys on Saturday April 13th.

Rollins Nine Downs Touring MSU, 9-3

WINTER PARK, Fla., (AP)—Rollins College pounded out an easy 9-3 decision over Michigan State in their baseball game yesterday.

The win was Rollins' 4th in 12 games. State now has a 5-4 won-lost record on its spring training trip with two more games against Rollins left to go.

Billiards Champ Increases Lead Over Challenger

Worst had a high run of 5 and Chamaco, who committed three fouls, a high of 4.

Worst won the afternoon match 60 to 51 in 67 innings and had a high run of 7 against 6 for the challenger. Worst now has won 9 out of 10 blocks in the 1,200 points match and leads 600 to 436 points in 546 innings.

Ex-Wolve Star Dies

CHICAGO (AP)—George B. Dygert, 86, captain of the University of Michigan football team in 1893, died yesterday of a heart attack.

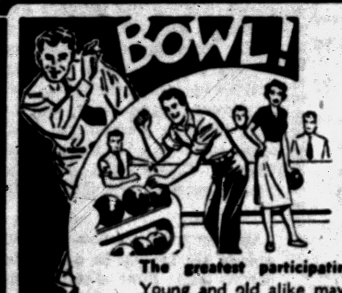

After several years of playing the equivalent of professional football with a team sponsored by mining interests in Butte, Mont., Dygert set up law practice. He came to Chicago in 1917.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Robin Roberts, trim, fit and doing things with a curve, looks ready to get back into that old 20-victory "rut' again. No more of those piddlin' 19-victory seasons for Robin.

★ ★ ★

The big, control-conscious right-hander, a basic reason for the Philadelphia Phillies being in or near the National League's first division for the past seven seasons appears at ease again on the mound. No longer is there a sign of strain such as marked his unsuccessful bid for a seventh consecutive season of 20 or more victories last year.

★ ★ ★

The 30-year-old veteran troubled by a back ailment provoked in spring training last year, has been a constant sight on the practice mound in the Phils' camp this spring. And the extra work is paying off.

Roberts, not as fast as before but changing speeds effectively on his curve, gave the New York Yankees a look at the best pitching they've seen this spring yesterday. And it wasn't until Robin left, in favor of a pinch-hitter, that the world champions managed to gain a 1-0 victory.

For eight innings, Roberts permitted but one hit—a bunt single by Hank Bauer that opened the fourth inning. The first nine Yanks had gone down in order. At one point, Robin retired 18 in a row with the ball never leaving the infield. He faced only 26 batters, struck out three, walked none.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere, Brooklyn battered Milwaukee 14-8; Chicago's White Sox nipped the Boston Red Sox 6-5 in 11 innings; the St. Louis Cardinals defeated Detroit 5-4; Pittsburgh's single beat Kansas City 4-3; Cincinnati rallied to defeat Washington 5-4 in 10; the New York Giants halted Cleveland's winning streak at six games 9-6, and Baltimore walloped Chicago's Cubs 18-5.

★ ★ ★

The Dodgers were out-hit by the Braves 16-14, but the Brooks collected 12 extra base hits — five of them home runs and two of those by Duke Snider, Milwaukee again had fun with Johnny Podres, scoring three runs in his five frames, and then tagged heretofore invincible rookie Rene Valdes for the rest, three on Hank Aaron's ninth home run. Gene Conley started for the Braves.

★ ★ ★

Reliefer Ellis Kinder worked the White Sox out of a ninth-inning hole when Boston loaded the bases with none out. Then Bubba Phillips tripled and rookie Earl Battey brought him home with a sacrifice fly.

Champs Falter in ABC Effort

Chicago Five Fails to Get Into Top 10, Hits Only 2,893

The Falstaffs won last year's ABC crown with 3,092 in Rochester, N.Y.

Bill Lillard, bowler-of-the-year in 1956, turned in a tame 558. Carl Richard, a new team member, was high for the squad with 627.

Ronnie Jones and Joe Meszaros shot the eighth highest two-man series in the 54-year history of the tournament yesterday to sweep into the doubles lead. They had a 3-game total of 1,369.

Sir Stork Will Sideline Entry in Bowlerama

Only the impending arrival of Sir Stork will keep pretty Mrs. Euphemia James of Rochester from competing in the big Pontiac Press Bowlerama which begins here this weekend.

The brunette kegler withdrew her application this week under doctor's orders with her 1st child due to arrive in early May. She had been scheduled to qualify next week.

"I was hoping to win some of the prize money to help with the delivery expenses but now my husband, Charles, will have to carry the family colors," said the disappointed 22-year-old housewife.

Mrs. James had been considered a strong candidate for women's honors with an impressive 147 average in the Hilltop Monday Night Mixed loop at Rochester. "I won't miss the Bowlerama next year," she vowed.

22 Lakes Open to Bowmen May 1

Conservation Department lists some 22 county lakes among area waters open May 1-Aug. 15 for taking carp, dogfish and garpike with spears, and bow and arrows, with or without lights. Non-trout waters are open now, but sportsmen should check with conservation men as to their locations.

The May 1 list:

Bass lake, Commerce; Cass Lake, Cedar Island; Clinton river (from Tel. road), Cranberry, Crescent, Huron river (down from Milford dam), Lakeville; Lotus, Maceday, Oakland, Otter, Oxbow, Lower Pettibone, Pine, Shiawassee river (down from Davisburg road), Straits (3), Sylvan, Walled Lake, White and Woodhull.

New York Yankee outfielder Hank Bauer closed the 1956 season with exactly 500 base hits and an even 1,000 runs batted in.

Jap Team at Southfield

Wrestling Bouts April 11

A team of amateur wrestlers from Japan will meet a picked all-star team representing the Michigan Amateur Athletic Association on Thursday night, April 11, in a dual meet at Southfield High School.

Southfield is located on Lahser at 10-Mile Road.

Competition begins at 8 o'clock and will be conducted in Olympic open style. This is the 1st time the Michigan AAU has ever played host to a foreign wrestling team.

Heading the Michigan squad will be 157-pound Mike Rodriguez, University of Michigan captain, and teammate Max Pearson, 130 pounds. Both were Big 10 champions and NCAA tourney runners-up this year.

Michigan State University will furnish LeRoy Gmazel, 137; Bill Allen, 147; Jim Ferguson, 167, and Tim Woodin, 191. Gmazel and Allen recently won Region 3 AAU titles while Woodin was national AAU champ in 1955.

Jack Santa, Berkley High School ace, will handle the 115-pound division. Santa was a regional prep tournament winner this season and runner-up in the Region 3 AAU championships.

Redskins Interest Washington Lawyer

★ ★ ★

The Charlotte Observer said today that Ralph Gardner of Shelby, N.C., who practices law in Washington, had offered to buy the team from Marshall in a deal that would involve close to a million dollars.

★ ★ ★

In the copyrighted article, the paper said Gardner commented: "It'll be up to Marshall. I'm ready to buy. Marshall will have to decide if he wants to sell."

'Original' Fur Style Causes Stir in Paris

PARIS (INS)—Fashionable fur is no rarity in the vicinity of the Rue de la Paix but a spotted panther skin caused a sensation in that exclusive area of Paris today—probably because it was worn by its original owner.

D'Orgeix allows Couna to roam freely in his apartment and frequently takes him on a leash when he is making the rounds of Paris night spots.

Aviation Shares Show Strength

NEW YORK (AP)—Aviation shares showed strength in an otherwise mixed stock market in early afternoon trading today.

Most key stocks recorded small gains and losses. Rails were a shade steadier than industrials or utilities. Trading was moderately active.

* * *

Demand for aircraft issues pushed Boeing, Douglas, Lockheed and North American higher. Boeing led the group. United Aircraft dragged.

Many of these companies are actively engaged in producing guided missiles. Great Britain's decision to concentrate on such weapons in its future defense program evidently stimulated the demand.

* * *

While Youngstown Sheet moved ahead more than a point, most other steels were held back by news of a drop in steel scrap prices on the West Coast. This followed a decline at Pittsburgh earlier in the week.

Bethlehem and Republic recorded small fractional losses while U. S. Steel held unchanged. Lukens which broke 7⅞ yesterday after several days of sharp advances, recovered about 2 points today.

Grain Futures Rally Slightly

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grain futures opened lower on the Board of Trade today and then undertook a slight rally which recovered part of yesterday's losses. Early trading was active.

* * *

Buying in soybeans was influenced by the tight supply situation, with a large decrease in the visible supply expected to be reported Monday. Some wheat strength was derived from a similar situation. Traders believe more wheat stocks may be moved from Chicago to cover exports.

* * *

Near the end of the first hour wheat was unchanged to ⅜ higher, May $2.24¼, corn was unchanged to ¼ higher, May $1.27⅝; oats were ⅛ to ⅜ higher, May 71¼; rye was ¼ to ½ lower, May $1.28¾; soybeans were unchanged to 6 higher, May $2.43⅝, and lard was unchanged to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, May $14.65.

Doors Abound With Tradition

New Inventions Swing Back to Ritual, Remind Us of Folk Tales

WASHINGTON — Stores without doors? A brand - new invention swings the door back to its origin as a cave opening.

Modern doorless doors, which have migrated to Chicago and New York from the West, do not pivot or revolve, lower or lock. They don't exist. A scientifically regulated curtain of air in the doorway keeps out the weather and, presumably, lures the customers in.

To keep customers out after closing hour, hidden glass doors unfold from the wall. Come morning, however, the panels vanish in the manner of open-sesames of folklore and fiction.

DOOR OF PRESIDENTS

The door, however fantastic or humble, has given rise to more ritual, symbolism, superstition, and lore than any other single part of a building, the National Geographic Society says.

Philadelphia's Christ Church reserves use of its Washington Door to United States presidents. One of the few known exceptions was made in 1948 when Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower visited the church.

Folk tales abound with magic doors, forbidden doors, and enchanted doors. In ancient India it was believed that souls dwell beneath the threshold. Some country folk in Ireland, Scotland, and northen England open doors when a person is dying to ease passage of the soul.

The custom of carrying the bride over the threshold, however, is based on logic. In olden days huge sills formed a part of the house. Odds were good that a starry-eyed bride might trip at the door.

Doors, as an architectural form, have had a somewhat belated but splendid career. Little is known about doors of antiquity. Great temples at Nineveh, Babylon, and Ephesus had doorways, but no doors.

Primitive dwellings merely had openings big enough to crawl through. Skins, linens, tapestries, and silk hangings served as cover until ancient architects learned to provide better privacy and protection with thin stone slabs and boards tied with thong. The Israelites, after fleeing from Egypt in about 1300 B.C. and settling in Canaan, constructed doors of both stone and wood. The threshold was considered sacred.

Haiti Army Pleads for Political Peace

PORT AU PRINCE, Haiti (AP) — The army alternately appealed and threatened today to return politics - plagued Haiti to something resembling normal.

Presidential candidates still wrangled without reaching agreement over an interim regime to run the country until the April 28 general election. Three presidents have been ousted in four months.

The militray banned demonstrations. They warned in radio broadcasts that police will shoot looters. Many burglaries have been reported.

MSU Registration Up 8 Per Cent Over 1956

EAST LANSING (AP)—Spring term registration at Michigan State University today was reported at 18,010 students, eight per cent above last year's registration of 16,608.

MSU officials reported the registration total showed a normal decrease from last fall's record high enrollment of 19,200.

House Bill Would Allot $10 Per Michigan Child

WASHINGTON (AP) — Michigan would receive $15,867,000 under a compromise bill to provide federal aid to states fo rschool construction which the House education subcommittee approved yesterday.

The amount, based on the 1953-54 school year, would average $10.09 per school age child in the state.

The average nationally would range from $7.27 per pupil in Rhode Island to $14.78 per pupil in Arkansas.

Face It, Mailmen!

DETROIT (AP) — A reported move to cut Saturday mail deliveries has drawn criticism from James H. Rademacher, president of the Detroit branch of the National Letter Carriers Assn. He said, "Somebody's going to have to deliver the backlog of mail on Monday. They will have to hire more people."

Abdul Khaliq, of Pakistan, became the "fastest human" of Asia when he ran the 100 meters in 10.4 seconds in a track meet at New Delhi, India.

Said One Big-Mouth of Another, 'Hi Slob'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—I have to disagree with big-mouth Paul Douglas, the actor not the Senator, who called big-mouth Arthur Godfrey a slob in an interview.

Arthur enjoys hooch, female companionship and risque stories (not exactly a unique taste). But he doesn't fit Funk & Wagnall's "slob" definition: "A careless, negligent or incompetent person." Careless, maybe. Big Daddy's only one-third of a slob.

PAUL

"Douglas," somebody said, "has the gift of nastiness." Another admirer said, "Success didn't change Douglas — he's still a heel."

Alas, those detractors don't understand Our Hero.

Paul suffers from acute windiness. He'll discuss any subject fully, whether he knows anything about it or not. He mastered this while radio-announcing. It's an art. His vocal cords go on talking while Paul's asleep. But Paul's gifted tonsils twitch to snarl out insults, because for years they prattled mostly sugary commercials.

Anyway, Paul probably used "slob" affectionately.

But if he was only being a big tease, Paul should have said so.

He could have paused in his mouth marathon, when he said that there'd always be slobs listening to slobs like Godfrey, and that TV is run by 11-year-old minds, to give his definitions.

I regret that in this tangle with "The Man Godfrey," he was careless and negligent. He was two-thirds of a slob. Two-thirds is a majority. That makes him a full slob if you want to be mathematical. It's unfortunate, because he's such a nice fellow.

We just wish he wouldn't use language like that. It ain't considered nice where I come from.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Eddie Cantor's medics told him to avoid all show biz excitement . . . Peggy Ann Garner (Mrs. Albert Salmi) had a baby girl . . . Tallulah's off to Hollywood to do the Jack Benny TV show but'll hasten back.

Friends of Vikki (The Back) Dougan look at her amazing pictures and scream, "She was never that way! This is too much" . . . Magda Miller of Britain's controversial "Over 40" Club is on "The Vise" TV show seen here.

MAGDA

EARL'S PEARLS . . . When a woman says, "I'll be ready in a minute," you can be sure of just one thing—she talks English.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A guy told us sadly, "I never really knew my wife's true worth—till the judge gave her $500-a-week alimony." . . . That's earl, brother.

Claire Bloom Plays Victoria

Van Doren Sought as Emcee on New Show 'The Lively Arts'

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — "Cinderella" will be repeated on TV, probably will be expanded to Broadway length, and a movie is almost a cinch already . . . The Rodgers - Hammerstein musical was on TV exactly 14 years to the day after the premiere of their first huge hit "Oklahoma!" . . .

Claire Bloom plays the old Helen Hayes role of "Victoria Regina" Monday on the Montgomery show.

We're advised the next star to break through the Calypso craze to possible Nat King Cole stature is "King Charles," of the Royal Calypsos of the Bon Air Hotel, Augusta, Ga. . . . The top scouts already are there with big bids . . .

JUST WON'T WATCH

Len Goldenson predicts a quarter-billion-dollar year for ABC in 1960, pretty fantastic for a network only two years ago fighting from 'way back . . .

Ted Mack's Sunday amateurs will be Guatemalans, in a show filmed in Latin America . . .

Hollywood was supposed to take over all TV but only 20 per cent of NBC's TV shows are Hollywood-based . . .

Schwerin Research Corp. states: "Over a quarter billion dollars of advertising money is being wasted annually on ineffective TV commercials." (At least!) . . .

ANOTHER COPCAST

NBC-TV's new "Code 3" is a smooth though standard copcast, using the Los Angeles Sheriff's Office as the peg to hang its badge; not as good as "Lineup," but better than "Dragnet," with none of the latter's Webb-footed mannerisms . . .

Simmons and Lear, Martha Raye's last TV writers, and cousins to boot, split up after nine years of gags in their combined mouths . . .

After its 12.1 per cent boost in earnings for fiscal '56, CBS handed out a general 7 per cent salary boost . . .

No U.S. Plans to Fill 'Vacuum'

Regard British Slash in Military Strength as Unavoidable

WASHINGTON (AP) — Diplomatic and military officials reported today that the United States has no plans to fill any "vacuums" which may be created by Britain's announced intention to cut back its military forces.

The reduction program, announced in London yesterday, is regarded in official quarters here as an unhappy but unavoidable result of Britain's need to cut costs.

The net result, it was generally agreed, will be a weakening of the available security strength of the free world although this effect will be offset in some degree by providing greater firepower for the smaller British forces, partly with U.S. aid.

The United States has already committed itself to provide the British with 1,500-mile-range guided missiles as soon as they become available.

The eventual establishment of missile bases in Britain—with atomic warheads stored nearby under American control—will give the British a striking power against Russia which they have not heretofore had.

The British program, on which there have been consultations with the United States, calls for cutting armed forces from 690,000 to 375,000 within five years. It is designed to lower defense costs by 600 million dollars in 1957-58.

It calls for a cut of 13,000 men in the British forces in West Germany this year. The present total is 77,000.

Deputies Hit Jackpot on Pinball Machine

A government check for $17.
An IOU for $50.

Gift for Ford Museum

DEARBORN (AP) — A model of the world's first home radio set will be presented to Henry Ford Museum Friday by its inventor, Huge Gernsback, 72, of New York.

The historic transmitter and receiver was first marketed in 1905. Gernsback now publishes radio magazines and books.

Believed Due to 3 Men Ousted Earlier

Bar Bombing Fatal to Six

By PAT MCNULTY

LOS ANGELES (UP)—A makeshift gasoline bomb turned a quiet neighborhood bar into a funeral pyre for at least six persons shortly before midnight.

The coroner said six persons died at the scene on a quiet street in south central Los Angeles. At least five others were injured.

Police said the bomb apparently was thrown through the front door of the Club Mecca by three men who had been ejected earlier when they tried to dance with one of the cocktail bar's regular woman customers.

The three men who threw the bomb escaped in a car amidst a barrage of gunfire from a passerby. Vernon Waggy, 24, told police he was walking down the street when he saw the men running.

"I pulled out a .32 caliber automatic which I carry for protection and fired at them. I think I hit one," he said.

Miguel Martinez, 29, a student, said he was walking near the cafe when a car pulled up in front.

"Two men jumped out," he said. "One sloshed a big can of some sort of liquid into the bar."

Then, Martinez said, the second man swung his arm like a softball pitcher and the cafe erupted in flames. Police said the man apparently tossed in a match.

"I wrapped her in my coat and tried to beat out the flames as she cried: 'Why did they do it? What about my children?'" The woman, tentatively identified by police as Jackie McGinnis, in her early 20s, was dead on arrival at Georgia Street Receiving Hospital.

Boys Admit Vandalism

KALAMAZOO (UP) — Four boys 8 to 12 years old have admitted doing $3,000 worth of vandalism at the Gull Lake summer home of John Baker, Battle Creek teacher Sheriff Bertram K. MacGregor said plaster was ripped from the walls and ceiling, furniture and fixtures smashed, upholstery slashed and records smashed.

1-Vote Error Breaks Tie

CHARLOTTE (UP) — A tie vote for Charlotte Alderman in Monday's election was broken by a recheck which showed Republican Charles Fielder the winner by one vote. He polled 285 votes to Democrat Dale Hennings, 284. Election officials said the error came in tallying election machine totals.

29 Seek Title of Queen

BENTON HARBOR (UP) — Pretty girls from 29 communities in southwest Michigan have signed up to compete for the title of Queen of the annual blossomtime festival April 29 through May 11. The festival opens with the ceremony of blessing the blossoms and closes with a giant floral parade which is expected to attract 200,000 spectators.

$25,000 Asked for Parking Site

Union Local Sets Price on W. Pike St. Lot Wanted by City

The City Commission last night heard $25,000 has been set as the partial price of property holding up completion of the Lawrence street municipal parking lot.

The sum was disclosed as the asking price of United Rubber Workers Local 125 for a 40-foot vacant lot west of its hall at 128 W. Pike St.

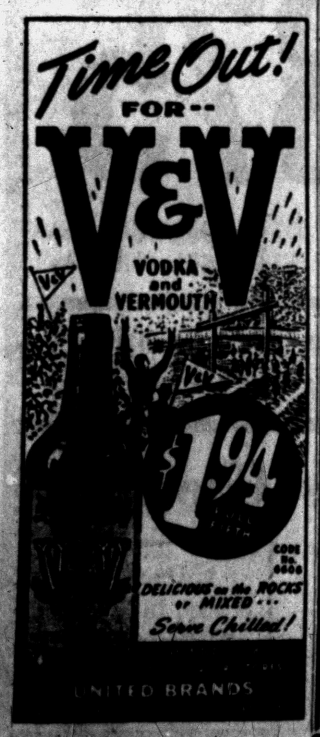

The city wants this lot and the 60-foot property on which the hall is located and has tentatively offered $36,000 for both.

The union's offer last night was made in an effort to prevent condemnation proceedings against the local for the two pieces of property, which the city wants for a Pike street entrance to the lot and for 42 more parking meter stalls.

Maintaining there is no public necessity on which the city can base condemnation proceedings, the union's representative, William John Beer, called for a delay in condemnation and consideration of the offer, "which we believe is in the interest of all Pontiac, as well as our own organization."

If the city does not complete the lot as originally planned, there is the possibility it will have defaulted on conditions of the bond issue that financed the project.

Legal action began March 26 after the city turned down the union's original offer of $64,000 for both pieces of property plus the hall.
