Ford Rushes Plans to Start Up Car Production

Weekly Output Record at GM

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. plants established a new weekly production record by turning out 104,910 cars this week, it was reported yesterday by Ward's Automotive Reports, an industry statistical service.

The old GM record was 103,184 cars, set in the same November week last year.

Congo Rebels Peril Captives

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (A) — The rebel regime threatened death to U.S. and Belgian hostages today and moved them out of Stanleyville, apparently fearing a lightning swoop by Belgian paratroopers or the arrival of the onrushing Congolese army moving up from the south.

Stanleyville balked at sending a representative to Kenya to discuss the fate of the hostages, 60 of them Americans, with U.S. and African officials.

Instead, a Stanleyville broadcast warned that harm would befall the U.S. and Belgian civilians unless "the American and Belgian military aid to the Leopoldville government is halted."

A message in the name of Christophe Gbenye, leftist leader of the Stanleyville uprising in the Northeast Congo, said the Americans and Belgians had again started attacks and "the patience of the people has its limits."

Radio Stanleyville said each American and Belgian would be put under surveillance of three members of the rebel movement.

Meanwhile, strike-plagued Ford Motor Co. production losses had climbed past the 70,000 mark by the end of the week, Ward's said.

Ford blamed its shutdowns on local-level strikes by United Auto Workers in three of its plants.

Despite the Ford loss and a half-million cars lost to strikes by GM earlier this fall, Ward's said the 1964 automobile output is only "a scant percentage point below that of 1963 at this time," and added:

"With a quick return to work by Ford, the industry still can go ahead and exceed last year's production by 50,000 to 100,000 cars by Dec. 31."

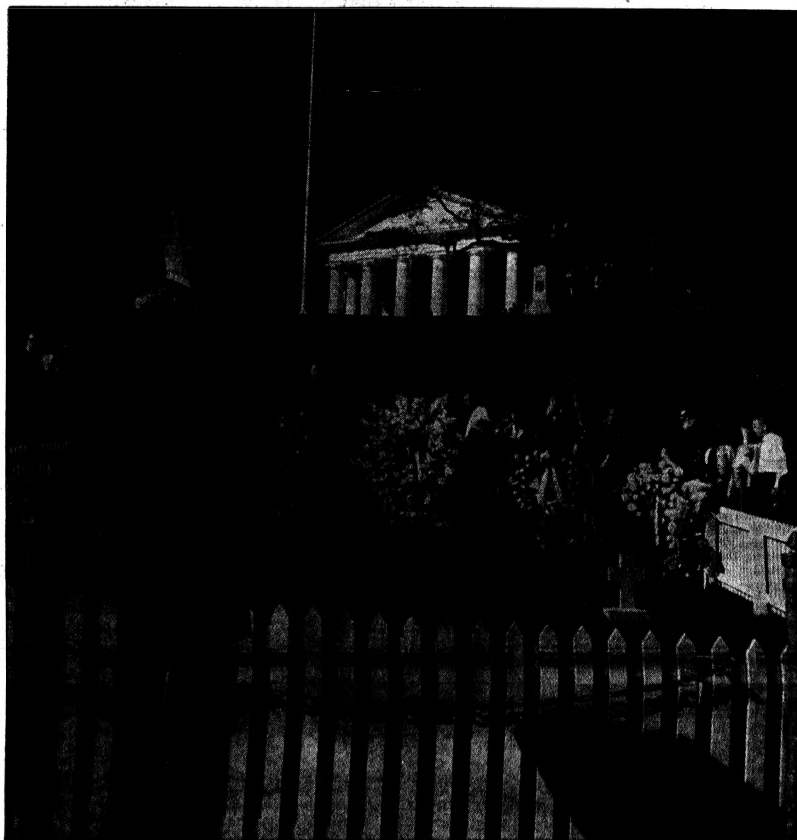

New-car production in 1964 to date was figured at 6,681,696, compared with 6,743,501 in the same 1963 span.

Heavy overtime was scheduled this week by U.S. producers other than Ford, according to Ward's.

PERCENTAGES

Of the week's total output, Ward's said GM would account for 67.4 per cent, Ford for 2.9; Chrysler for 22, and American Motors for 7.7.

U.S. truck production this week was figured at 29,659, compared with 30,338 last week and 30,972 in the similar 1963 period.

OK at Sterling Spurs Hopes of Return to Jobs

Nov. 30 Is Seen as Earliest Firm Can Hit Full Output Potential

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. rushed plans today to get back into passenger car production next week after overnight settlement of its Sterling Township parts plant strike.

Ford, with all its assembly lines at a dead halt and more than 80,000 men idle, said it hoped to resume production Tuesday or Wednesday in some factories.

A Ford spokesman said yesterday that the Chicago Heights, Ill., stamping plant is expected to resume production tomorrow night.

Another week would pass, however, before the company could be geared up to approach its 10,000-cars-per-day potential. Ford officials indicated Nov. 30 would be the earliest date for this.

The local strike at the Sterling Township plant near Detroit, which employs 6,300 men, was blamed largely by Ford for extensive layoffs and plant shutdowns since Nov. 6.

MAKE PARTS

The plant, which makes a wide variety of car parts, is described as a chief supplier in Ford's nationwide system.

United Auto Workers Local 225 of the Sterling Township plant will hold a ratification meeting tomorrow on the settlement terms.

The factory was one of nine in the Ford system that were struck Nov. 6 over unsettled local agreements to supplement the national Ford-UAW agreement of Sept. 18.

Two others, assembly plants in Wayne, remain on strike. Negotiations on these continued.

TERMS WITHHELD

Terms of the Sterling Township settlement were withheld pending the ratification meeting.

Ford and the UAW announced the settlement separately last night — Ford from its Dearborn headquarters and the UAW from its Solidarity House headquarters.

Under the sponsorship of the Pontiac Citizens' Committee on Youth, the event will recognize and salute Pontiac young men and women for their outstanding achievement and meritorious contribution to the community.

Awards and certificates will be presented in 14 categories including: scholarship, leadership, creative writing, heroism, traffic safety, dance, athletics, music, science, business initiative, dramatics, speech, photography and arts and handicrafts.

Highlighted during the program will be Hayes Jones, Pontiac's Olympic track champion. Gov. Romney will be represented by Mrs. Sara Stewart of the Michigan Youth Commission.

Five Unions OK Pacts With Rails

CHICAGO (AP) — Three of the six railroad shop-craft unions that threatened a nationwide strike Monday signed a three-year contract with the nation's carriers today.

Announcement of the settlement — which now has brought eight of 11 nonoperating unions under contract — was made by J. E. Wolfe, spokesman for the nation's railroads in the 18-months old dispute.

CHICAGO (UPI) — An agreement was reached today among five of 11 nonoperating railroad unions on a wage and fringe benefit plan for more than 290,000 employees.

The unions involved in the settlement were maintenance of way telegraphers, clerks, hotel and restaurant employees and signalmen. The signalmen agreed only to fringe benefits.

Federal mediators said the agreements were significant because the unions are among 11 nonoperating unions which include shop-craft workers.

The six shop-craft unions, which have not reached settlement in their talks, have set a strike deadline for 7 a.m. (Pon-tiac time) Monday which could paralyze the nation's railroad system.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, said today's settlement followed recommendations of the presidential emergency board laid down on Oct. 20.

The settlement provided for increases of 27 cents an hour, broken down into 9 cent increases over three years retro-active from Jan. 1, 1964.

Another passenger, Enid Braun, 14, of 32805 Bellvue, Beverly Hills, is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's, and a third, Harry Belcastro, 16, of 21681 Church, Oak Park, is in fair condition at Beaumont Hospital.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department received 25 accident reports in the last 24 hours, Capt. Leo Hazen said.

Eleven of these reports came between 4:15 and 5:30 p.m., Hazen added.

REAR-END CRASHES

"We had more calls than we could handle," Hazen said. He pointed out that most were rear-end collisions.

The U.S. Weather Bureau offers little hope of any immediate relief.

Following a dip to a low of 10 to 17 tonight, the mercury should rise to a high of 23 to 30 tomorrow.

Winds today are northwesterly at 15 to 25 miles an hour. They will be diminishing slowly tonight and tomorrow.

The lowest temperature recorded downtown this morning was 19—the low for this season. At 2 p.m. the Press thermometer read 22.

Near blizzard weather conditions are expected for today's football games between Michigan and Ohio State and Michigan State and Illinois.

The Detroit Lions can expect about the same when they square off with the Minnesota Vikings tomorrow.

Weather Factor in Rash of Accidents

Snow, falling temperatures and high winds that arrived in the area late yesterday afternoon contributed to a rash of traffic accidents including a fatality in Bloomfield Township.

More snow and cold weather is expected at least through the weekend, the weatherman said.

Bloomfield Township police said slippery road conditions were a factor in the 11:06 p.m. accident yesterday that took the life of a Beverly Hills youth.

Killed was Timothy W. Guenther, 17, whose car went out of control on West Maple and skidded into an Oakland County salt truck 400 feet west of Whysall.

Guenther was driving east on Maple when his car struck the westbound truck driven by Daniel F. Schmeltz, 53, of 650 Oakmont, Pontiac Township. Schmeltz was uninjured.

SERIOUS CONDITION

Eric Heber, 14, of 32805 Bellvue, Beverly Hills, a passenger in Guenther's car, is in serious condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

WINTERIZED — A dash of snow on this display of winter footwear in front of a downtown Pontiac store on North Saginaw last night was an appropriate signal that the season of boots and rubbers most definitely has arrived.

Pontiac Youth Fete Tribute to Kennedy

As Pontiac doffs its official hat to more than 200 youngsters, so will the city's youth honor the late John Fitzgerald Kennedy tomorrow at Pontiac Northern High School.

Pontiac's first "Salute to Youth" program will be dedicated to the memory of the late president "in recognition of his role as a champion and supporter of America's youth."

The event will be from 5 p.m. and admission is free.

Under the sponsorship of the Pontiac Citizens' Committee on Youth, the event will recognize and salute Pontiac young men and women for their outstanding achievement and meritorious contribution to the community.

Awards and certificates will be presented in 14 categories including: scholarship, leadership, creative writing, heroism, traffic safety, dance, athletics, music, science, business initiative, dramatics, speech, photography and arts and handicrafts.

Fateful Day in Dallas Recalled by AP Reporter

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — It still is a bad dream that couldn't happen in real life. But it did on that day of Nov. 22, 1963, when a vibrant young president was murdered.

It had rained in Fort Worth, Tex., that morning. When I peered out of the window of my hotel room I saw that despite the drizzle, a crowd already had gathered in a parking lot across the street where President Kennedy was scheduled for a brief appearance.

By the time the smiling President stepped out of an elevator in the crowded lobby two hours later, the sun had broken through. Flanked by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, the President walked across the street, spoke briefly.

In a high good humor he explained to the friendly crowd that Mrs. Kennedy wasn't with him because she still was making preparations for a breakfast appearance scheduled for them in the hotel.

"SO MUCH BETTER"

"It takes a little longer, but he looks so much better than we do," he said with a grin. After the breakfast meeting, at which Kennedy praised the controversial TFX warplane to be built in Fort Worth, the President and his wife made their way through the applauding crowds to the White House limousine from which the bubble top had been removed.

The presidential motorcade wound through streets banked with citizens who cheered and clapped as the handsome young President and his beautiful wife rode by. The story was the same as it had been the day before in San Antonio and Houston. Texans liked the Kennedys and were showing it.

When Air Force 1 landed at Dallas' Love Field a few minutes later, Mrs. Kennedy, wearing a fuchsia-colored suit, was presented with a bouquet of red roses. She joined the President in a handshaking walk along a fence which held back an enthusiastic crowd.

STREETS FILLED

The motorcade was off, heading for downtown Dallas. There the crowds filled the streets, pressing in so closely motorcycle police had difficulty clearing a lane for the open car from which the president and his wife were smiling and waving.

Dallas had shown with its warm welcome on that sunny midday that it admired the man who had been elected by the people and who had tried to "get the country moving" in his first 1,000 days.

As the motorcade made a right turn off the packed street, suddenly the tumult died and there were only a few waving spectators. Ahead, we rode toward a left turn into a street which led to an underpass. Nearby was a building with a sign which read: "Texas School Book Depository."

The President's auto, four cars ahead, already had made the turn toward the underpass and we had just completed it when there was a loud report. My first thought was: Those Texans, now they're shooting off firecrackers.

OMINOUS SOUND

Then came two more reports, paced possibly five seconds apart. They had the ominous sound of rifle crack. The President's car had stopped. We reporters riding "pool" scrambled to get out to run ahead.

But at almost that instant, a Secret Service man, riding in the front seat of the presidential limousine stood up, phone in hand and waved the preceding police cruiser on.

In that numbed moment we all sensed that something horrible might have happened. But we had no way of knowing exactly what as we thundered along a freeway at top speed in pursuit of the presidential car. Everybody in the President's car seemed to be down, but that would be prescribed procedure in escaping any danger zone.

We catered around a turn and roared into the driveway of Parkland Hospital. When we screeched to a stop I saw, as I scrambled out of the "pool" car, Mrs. Kennedy weeping, trying to hold her husband's head up.

Mrs. Connally was supporting the governor who sat slumped in a jump seat, his head rolled back, his suit and shirt front covered with blood. By the time I had sprinted up to the presidential limousine, Secret Service men were helping Mrs. Kennedy away. Hospital attendants were slipping Connally onto a stretcher.

When I reached the car, there was the President sprawled on his face in the rear seat. There was a pool of blood on the floor. Three twisted and torn red roses lay in it.

"Is he dead?" I asked a Secret Service man who stood guard.

"I don't know but I don't think so," he replied.

POURED OUT DATA

As I rushed for a telephone, Vice President Johnson was being escorted up a corridor to a cubicle near the receiving desk.

At the desk I found a phone, got the AP bureau on the line and shouted: "The President's been shot." A photographer on the scene of the assassination already had phoned an evening news account but I poured out all of the information I had collected.

Then began the agonizing wait for some official word to the President's condition. Some Congress members, White House staffers and even the priest who had been in the emergency room with him were not sure.

There was a report Johnson had been shot and one that he had a heart attack. When Mrs. Johnson came out of the emergency room, accompanied by Secret Service men, I jumped in front of them and asked, "Is Lyndon all right?"

WET WITH TEARS

"Yes," she replied. Her eyes were wet with tears.

"Is the President dead?" I asked.

"I don't know," she replied.

One of the Secret Service men spun me backward as he went on without answering.

A few minutes later Malcolm Kidduff, acting press secretary, rushed out yelling, "Follow me, I've got an announcement."

As we raced after him, we knew the President must be dead but still clung to hope. It died with the finality of the announcement.

A shining light had gone out.

Birmingham Area News

Classes for Homemakers at County Heart Center

BIRMINGHAM — Homemakers throughout the area will be able to benefit from "Heart of the Home" classes to be held next month at the Oakland County Heart Information Center here.

There are few who could not qualify for the classes designed for the homemaker with limitations on her time, energy or physical capacity.

The free work simplification and body mechanics sessions are to be held from 1 to 3 p.m. Dec. 1 and 8 at the center, 296 Hunter.

Registrations can now be made there, according to Mrs. Nell Hollingshead of 489 Argyle, center co-chairman.

"While all persons can benefit from this kind of instruction, it has special meaning to people with heart or circulatory ailments," she said.

GREAT VALUE

"Experience has shown that the classes have great value for many physically handicapped individuals as well as for those who must conserve their energy."

The classes are taught by Mrs. Ruth Kettunen, Michigan Heart Association consultant in homemaker rehabilitation.

The first session will deal with discussion and demonstrations of sit-down work, work levels and the selection and use of household equipment.

The second meeting will be devoted to kitchen layout, work centers, storage arrangements and the application of work simplification principles to specific jobs.

Mrs. Hollingshead emphasized that the instruction is concerned with useful techniques for life and work and that no medical advice is given.

Drawings, etchings and lithographs by Kaethe Koltwitz will be featured in an exhibit opening next week at the Little Gallery, 915 E. Maple.

Preview showing of "Kaethe Koltwitz and Her Contemporaries" will be from 3 to 6 p.m. tomorrow. The exhibit will open Tuesday and be on display through Dec. 31.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Ronald D. Krash, Cranbrook School history teacher, has been named director-elect of the Independent Schools Association of the Central States.

Locate Body of Missing Girl

TOPEKA, Kan. (UPI) — The body of a 7-year-old girl, missing since she was forced into a man's car a week ago, was found today.

Police said the body of Gladys Johnson was found by quail hunters in a field near St. Mary's, Kan., about 25 miles northwest of Topeka.

She had been the object of a search by hundreds of local and county law enforcement officers, military personnel and civilians.

A 45-year-old railroad engineer, William Frederick Zimmer, of Kansas City, Kan., was arrested last Sunday, a day after the girl was reported kidnapped.

He was arrested in Marysville, Kan., and was charged with first-degree kidnapping. During preliminary questioning, he had remained unemotional and had said little.

U.S. Pilot Tells of Red Escape

Flier Broke Out of Stockade in Laos

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Navy jet pilot held captive almost three months by Laotian Reds says he escaped with three Laotian prisoners by breaking out of a barbed-wire stockade.

1st Cmdr. Charles Klusmann says he was in solitary confinement nearly two months and after his escape spent three days in leech-infested jungles before reaching friendly forces.

From the outset, he says, he was determined to escape or die trying.

The Communists said Klusmann signed a statement favorable to their cause, but the Navy says his conduct throughout was "entirely satisfactory." It says the document he signed for the Communists stated only that he had been adequately fed and cared for and requested his release.

GIVEN AWARD

A Distinguished Flying Cross was given his wife, Sara, 30, in his stead last June.

The story of Klusmann's flight from the Pathet Lao prison had not been made public until the Navy released a 30-page report Friday.

Since his return Klusmann has been promoted and returned to active duty at nearby Miramar Naval Air Station. He is a lieutenant when he was shot down over Laos June 6.

Waterford JCs to Join Police in Antismut Drive

Ted McCullough Jr., president of the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, said today that the Jaycees would join forces with township police in their current antismut campaign.

Sgt. David Putnam and Detective Richard Rosner of the police department began a townshipwide appeal this week to have dealers remove smutty material from their newstands.

The police officers will give a progress report on Monday night's meeting of the Jaycees' board of directors.

Plans for future action in the antismut appeal also will be outlined at the meeting.

China Insists Russia Return to Stalinism

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Associated Press Reporter

Red China has delivered its ultimatum to the Soviet Union: plug up the holes in the Iron Curtain or the Communist movement will be irrevocably divided into two camps.

No other construction can be placed upon a 3,000-word statement from the theoretical journal Red Flag broadcast by Peking today.

As matters stand now, it means the Soviet-Chinese dispute not only will continue, but probably will grow more intense.

Peking, in breaking a sullen silence on its reception of the new regime in the Soviet Union, probably has thrown a scare into the Communists of both Eastern and Western Europe.

Almost openly, Red Flag was asking for a continuing and thorough-going purge in the U.S.S.R. to weed out all those Communists who supported Nikita Khrushchev's policies, and its return to Stalinism.

It would be bad news for the Communist-led countries of Eastern Europe, and equally bad news for Western European Reds for whom Stalinism had proved a heavy liability.

The Chinese statement was a recitation of Peking's terms for playing ball with Moscow within a unified world Communist movement, but the terms are just about as tough as they can be.

He was an energetic man, full of sardonic wit and tart talk. "Never take yourself too seriously," was a rule he said he took early in life.

RETAINED ZEST

Even while directing the coast-to-coast newspaper group, he retained his zest for reporting and for years wrote many major stories himself.

He joined the organization in 1905 when he went to work for the Cincinnati Post. Seven years later, at 29, he was directing head of United Press, which the late E. W. Scripps had established.

He was president of Scripps-Howard until his resignation in 1963. In 1960 he resigned as editor of the flagship of the group, the New York World-Telegram and the Sun. He continued as a director of the group's operating company.

Howard was born on New Year's Day in Gano, Ohio, near Cincinnati. His first job in newspaper work was as a carrier boy. Characteristically, he took on two routes, one morning paper and one evening paper.

Storm Dumps Snow

Cold Knifes Across U.S.

By The Associated Press

The coldest weather of the season, along with snow and gusty winds, knifed across wide areas in the eastern half of the nation today, cutting off the long period of mild autumn temperatures.

Arctic air poured into the northern states, dropping temperatures far below zero and 20 or more degrees below normal marks. The cold air spread eastward and southward and the mercury hit freezing in sections of the Southland. Freeze warnings were posted for Georgia, Alabama and Mississippi.

The biting cold struck a month before the start of the winter season.

Cold wave warnings were issued by the Weather Bureau for eight Midwest states from the Dakotas to Kansas and northwest Illinois. The zero zone covered areas through Minnesota to Nebraska and the Dakotas into northeast Montana.

STORM CENTER

A storm center raced across the Great Lakes toward Canada. Stiff winds whipped heavy snow squalls off Lake Michigan and Lake Erie. Seven inches of snow fell South Bend, Ind., the scene of one of today's major college football games — Iowa at Notre Dame, the nation's No. 1 team.

Wind gusts up to 55 miles per hour off Lake Erie lashed Buffalo and western New York early today. The Weather Bureau in Buffalo predicted heavy snow accumulations.

A blustery snowstorm, with winds gusting up to 75-80 mph, swept over western Michigan Friday. An apartment building in Benton Harbor collapsed in Benton Harbor reported. Snow from two to three inches blanketed the state.

Crash Kills 31 in Sweden

ANGELHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A Swedish airliner approaching Barkara field in rain and low clouds Friday night snugged its nose wheel on a railway power line and crashed in a ball of flame. Authorities said 31 of the 43 passengers and crewmen were killed.

The victims included three members of the Swedish Parliament.

Authorities said the plane's second officer, a native of Norway, was the only foreigner among those killed in the crash.

2 Satellites Lofted

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (UPI) — United States scientists shot two satellites into space aboard a Scout rocket today to investigate mysteries of density and radiation in the earth's upper atmosphere.

They said that successful separation of the two spacecraft would mark the first time that the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) had orbited more than one satellite with a single launch vehicle.

Launch was made at 9:09 a.m. PST (12:09 p.m. Pontiac time) and the separation was to be made after orbit is attained — approximately an hour after launch.

Plans called for the 135-pound payload to separate into a 12-foot polka - dotted inflatable sphere for measuring air density and atmospheric heating and a two-foot-diameter satellite

Press Exec Named to Association Unit

Howard H. Fitzgerald II, executive vice president and business manager of the Pontiac Press, has been appointed a member of the Inter American Press Association's committee on freedom of the press.

The appointment of new committee members from all parts of the world for 1964-65 was announced by Pedro G. Beltran, president of the Association.

Beltran of La Prensa in Lima, Peru, also announced the reappointment of Jules Dubois, the Chicago Tribune, as chairman of the Freedom of the Press Committee.

Wiggins had been assistant to Robert Deiball who resigned Nov. 1 to take a planning position in private industry.

Death Claims News Giant

Was Once Head of Major Wire Service

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy W. Howard, 81, a dynamic giant of American journalism for more than half a century, died Friday night of a heart attack.

He was chairman of the executive committee of Scripps-Howard newspapers, which he had helped build into a major newspaper group. He was the first managing editor, and later president, of United Press, the news service that is now United Press International.

Howard was stricken at his Park Avenue office. He died several hours later at doctors hospital.

He was an energetic man, full of sardonic wit and tart talk. "Never take yourself too seriously," was a rule he said he took early in life.

Will Discuss Speed Limit in Waterford

Representatives of the Oakland County Road Commission will appear at Monday night's Waterford Township Board meeting to discuss a disputed speed limit on North Cass Lake Road.

Residents in the area of North Cass Lake Road south of Pontiac Lake Road contend that the present 40 mile per hour limit is excessive, but the commission maintains that it is realistic.

In other business Monday the board will consider a planning commission recommendation that Vern Wiggins be named acting township planning director.

Wiggins had been assistant to Robert Deiball who resigned Nov. 1 to take a planning position in private industry.

NEW WATERFORD SCHOOLS — Dedication ceremonies are slated tomorrow for the Waterford Township School District's two new elementary schools, Silver Lake (top) and Riverside. The Riverside dedication is scheduled for 2 p.m. and the Silver Lake program is slated for 3:30 p.m. The schools, a part of the school system's $8.25-million building program, both opened in September.

Rusk-Gromyko Meeting May Be Near

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER, WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko may meet in New York in about 10 days for the first high-level talks on U.S.-Soviet relations since new leaders took power in Moscow last month.

Soviet diplomats here say Gromyko presumably will attend opening sessions of the Texas Church to Ring Old Locomotive Bell

AMARILLO, Tex. (AP)—A locomotive bell has become a church bell. Sante Fe Railway donated the bell from old steam locomotive 5044 to the First Baptist Church here.

The church has constructed a building like Amarillo's original First Baptist Church adjacent to the present church. The locomotive bell will be used there.

U.N. General Assembly, as he has in past years.

Rusk plans to go to New York Nov. 29, primarily to hold talks with foreign ministers present at the assembly meetings. The General Assembly will open Dec. 1.

A sharp U.S.-Soviet clash is in prospect over Russia's refusal to pay assessments levied for U.N. peace-keeping operations. Under U.N. Charter provisions, the Soviet Union stands to lose its assembly vote because its debts are more than two years old.

STRICT ENFORCEMENT

The United States is insisting that the charter requirement be strictly enforced, and a bitter fight over this issue could cloud U.S.-Soviet relations.

Apart from the payments dipute, there have been signs from both Moscow and Washington of some desire to improve relations and further ease East-West tensions, perhaps by concluding some new agreement in the disarmament field or on new matters of practical cooperation.

Within the week the United States and the Soviet Union signed in Moscow an agreement to cooperate in research on the desalinization of seawater. On that occasion Gromyko told U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler that the Soviet Union would do its utmost to solve existing problems between the two countries.

Kohler, who had a private talk with the Soviet foreign minister a few days ago, returned to Washington Friday and began consultations with State Department officials on the whole range of U.S.-Soviet relations.

REPORTED IMPRESSIONS

Special Clinic on Teen Acne

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Children's Hospital has a special Clinic for Adolescents which treats emotional problems as well as physical ills.

The present director, Dr. Francis Eberly, says a broken romance or bad case of acne can cause a teen-age stomach ache that is just as real as one caused by green apples or an overage hamburger.

"They really hurt, you see," he says, "but we have no magic medicine or pill to cure them."

"We talk to them, explain there is nothing seriously wrong, then try to get at the root of the trouble."

The clinic has its own staff plus consulting specialists and is the largest of its kind in the Midwest.

Rattler Gets the Wrench

CASTLEBERRY, Ala. (AP)—Mickey Nobles, an equipment worker who is used to fixing things that rattle with a wrench, did just that while working on a front end loader in a gravel pit.

This time it wasn't the machinery that was rattling, however. It was a five-foot-long rattlesnake nearby. Nobles hit the reptile on the head with his wrench, delivering a fatal blow.

intentions for the future, both in respect to the West and the current Moscow efforts to patch up the Red Chinese-Soviet quarrel.

Another outward indication of a Moscow desire to improve relations and probably move toward increased trade with the United States was the meeting this week between Premier Alexei Kosygin and a group of U.S. businessmen visiting the Soviet Union.

Kosygin indicated the Soviet government may make a payment on its long-standing lend-lease debt to the United States.

World Recalls JFK Tragedy

It was a year ago that America and the world was plunged into horrified shock by the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, the second U. S. Chief Executive in the twentieth century to meet an assassin's bullet.

In the year that has passed the Nation's initial shock has metamorphosed into an enduring sorrow over the tragic fate that befell the vibrant young statesman and deep reverence for the American image he personified.

KENNEDY

Millions of sad-eyed countrymen have passed the burial place of JFK in Arlington Cemetery in mute expression of the place he had won in their hearts and humble resignation to the inscrutable ways of the Almighty.

Had he lived there is little doubt that he would have been reelected for another term as the Nation's leader to carry on the social and humanitarian programs he had initiated.

As it is, much of them have already come to pass. Although materializing under another administration, history will record the concepts under the name of JOHN KENNEDY.

It is questionable whether any other American figure has so poignantly gripped the consciousness of his contemporaries, or been destined for a place so cherished in posterity's memory.

The Eternal Flame, lit by a grief-stricken widow, burns at the side of the resting place of America's 35th President as a fitting symbol of the unquenchable spirit that characterized him.

No doubt many Russian athletes work especially hard to get on the Olympic teams, in order to have the opportunity of defecting to another country.

Will Hubert Get VEEP Man?

By J. W. DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON — Once again there is talk of the government providing an official residence for the vice president, just as it provides the White House for the President.

This time the vice presidential mansion talk may become more than just talk. Some interested people are about to come up with recommendations on a specific house.

The final decision will be up to Congress. But Congress, which has turned down some interesting propositions in this century, may be more receptive this time.

President Johnson, with his plans for upgrading the vice presidency, will have an important part in deciding what's to be done.

Johnson hasn't announced for establishment of a vice presidential residence, but those backing the idea think he is with them.

ENTERTAINMENT DUTIES

For one thing, Johnson is reported to want to pass along to his incoming vice president, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey, some of the official entertainment duties required at the top in Washington.

Humphrey's own home here, a comparatively modest house in Chevy Chase, Md., would not begin to meet large entertainment needs.

The vice president-elect has said, moreover, that he doesn't want to leave his home, even though it has had to be "patched and fixed up" just to do for family living.

But he might take the stand Richard M. Nixon, vice president under President Dwight D. Eisenhower, took. Eisenhower said in his 1967 budget message to Congress that the government should provide the vice president with an official home.

NIXON BACKING

Nixon said then he didn't want Congress to give him a home, but he would give unqualified support to providing an official residence for future vice presidents.

Right now, one of Washington's finest estates, which has been mentioned as a possible vice presidential residence, is vacant and may again be available.

This is Tregaron, which was the home of the late Ambassador Joseph E. Davies.

One of his heirs said Davies had hoped to have the estate used for the vice presidency, but never offered it formally because friends in the Senate said the cost of maintenance would be too high.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Thanksgiving today, as in the days of the Pilgrim fathers, is a day for the family to gather and worship, and to give thanks for the bountiful harvest of blessings each has received. In the prayers we give this day we could well add the words of the Sixteenth Century English poet, George Herbert, who wrote, "Oh Thou who has given us so much, mercifully grant us one thing more—a grateful heart."

Days of All Faiths:

National Holiday Is Proclaimed

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

As a national holiday Thanksgiving is not nearly so old as one might suppose. In fact, even now it is national only in the sense that every state has, by state action, legalized it. The annual Thanksgiving Proclamation only asks the people to give thanks. The President cannot legislate a holiday.

It was not until 1863 that the President first issued a Thanksgiving Proclamation, and set the fourth Thursday in November as the day. Fortunately, the states have by now all accepted this same day, but they don't have to take the President's suggestion. As Franklin D. Roosevelt found out when he tried to move Thanksgiving Day a week ahead.

EARLIEST THANKSGIVING

Certainly there have been Thanksgiving observances since the very earliest times on this continent. The first one was in Newfoundland on May 27, 1578 when a little band of settlers who had come from England set aside a day on which to express their gratitude to God for having granted them a safe voyage.

But this was not the Harvest-Festival kind of Thanksgiving we all know so well. The first occasion of celebrating the harvest was in one of the Massachusetts in 1621, on December 13, to be exact. And since those people were still using the Julian calendar, it would have been about December 23 in modern times, which puts it pretty close to Christmas.

But the Puritans did not observe Christmas anyhow, so there was no conflict.

JOINED BY INDIANS

When December 13 was announced as the date for Thanksgiving, the men of the Colony went into the forest and brought back enough wild fowl to feed the whole population for a week. Most of the birds were turkeys, which thus by mere chance of the hunt on that particular day became the chief gastronomic symbol of Thanksgiving. But the hunters also brought back other kinds of game, and you could eat partridge or some other bird, or even venison, today without seriously violating tradition.

Smiles

It must worry a political candidate when he starts sliding down a poll.

School kids who start on cigarettes at an early age may be seeing their good health go up in smoke.

When a woman marries a rich man, she may turn out to be just his little check girl.

There's not much peace of mind for a man when his wife constantly gives him a piece of hers.

The way the kids twist in some of the latest dances, it's a wonder they don't wind up looking like pretzels.

The Better Half

"I've been testing the old theory this evening... Did my absence make your heart grow fonder?"

Voice of the People:

Irresponsible Adults Set Bad Example for Child

Every day we hear "what are our teens coming to?" Have we forgotten that children look to adults for example?

Recently a kitten was abandoned from a car at Union Lake and Commerce Roads by two women and a child. The child witnessed a disregard of responsibility. Our nation cannot remain great without responsible citizens, whether of this generation or the next.

The Oakland County Animal Shelter will accept unwanted dogs and cats at no charge.

Two Area Residents Comment on Odor

I am a resident of Stanley Street, in front of Osmun Lake, and the odor is vile and unhealthy. If there is a tree stopping up sewage, why can't it be removed?

Why are all the building permits being issued when the sewage system can't handle the homes that are already established? Who can stand living in this kind of atmosphere?

STANLEY STREET RESIDENT

City Sanitarian, Charles S. Cohen, says there is no health hazard from the odor coming from the Terry-Osmun Lake area.

I wonder if he would like to pay for my sinus tablets and have to sit up in bed half the night with difficulty breathing, then still get up at 5:15 a.m. and go to work.

'Governor Should Act Like Gentleman'

Why should the Governor of Oregon "deserve a round of applause," as suggested in your editorial November 18, for refusing a measly Federal grant to pay for milk for some children?

Why wouldn't he act like a gentleman and just say "Thank you, I run my own state-operated dairy farms, worked by prison labor?" He should save this kind of stuff for his next keynote speech... "Heil Goldwater."

R. D.

'Residents Want Signs for Subdivision'

Residents of Bloomfield Orchards in Pontiac Township have tried to persuade the Oakland County Road Commission to install STOP and SPEED LIMIT signs in our subdivision to slow traffic down and better protect our children.

In September the Road Commission informed us that STOP signs were not adequate, due to an alleged lack of law-enforcement in our area, and proposed that YIELD signs be installed at a cost of $15.50 each, to be paid by our association.

It seems fair that if we must pay for the signs we should have the right to determine the kind we feel will do the most good.

C. R. S. PIERRE, PRESIDENT
BLOOMFIELD ORCHARDS CIVIC ASSOCIATION

'Numerous Strikes Arouse Suspicion'

Main Street folks who comprise the heart of any neighborhood think the Detroit Newspaper strike is just one of many strikes aimed at our economy. Random phone calls said in part "they were convinced the strike was a controlled one, with instructions coming from a national headquarters, because they were sure the pressmen were not basically concerned whether or not they were 16 men on the presses instead of 15 when their pay days were long gone."

The Detroit strike follows others in New York, Cleveland, Minneapolis and the previous Detroit shutdown. I am afraid folks will never believe that Communism has been growing in schools, churches, unions and various organizations operating with misleading names.

The wave of strikes, now active or threatened — Ford, steel, railroad, tool and die workers, and many others in addition to the newspapers — should make the average American suspicious of the reasons set forth.

Washington Notebook:

'Johnson to Stumble on Culture'

By WASHINGTON STAFF
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — When President Kennedy was alive, some Republicans used to hear some on him for bringing "culture" to the White House by inviting poets, opera stars, folk singers, cello players and the like to various social events.

At least one GOP veteran clings to the notion that President Johnson won't do as well in this field and that Republicans somehow may seize the initiative from him. Commented the veteran:

"I think Johnson's going to stumble on culture."

Fred Harris, Oklahoma's Democratic senator-elect, proved himself a first-rate campaigner by downing former football coach Bud Wilkinson in a close race.

Harris — whose homespun looks and soft drawl belie his Phi Beta Kappa key — made the most out of two long whistle-stop train trips across the state.

On the first trip, at a Choctaw Indian settlement just outside Enid, a group of young school children performed a Choctaw war dance for the politicians aboard the train.

Not to be outdone, Harris, introduced his wife LaDonna to the crowd when the dance had ended. The pair, to everyone's astonishment, then chanted their way through a Cherokee war song, LaDonna — a full-blooded Cherokee — carrying the melody and Harris beating time on a large pretzel can and chiming in from time to time.

With the election of Harris, Oklahoma can now boast four Phi Beta Kappa keys among its congressional delegation, more any other state. Sen. Mike Monroney and Reps. Carl Albert and Ed Edmondson are the other edgehands.

New York and Pennsylvania each have three keys in their delegations. The current talk of Ronald Reagan, Hollywood movie actor, for the 1968 Republican nomination for governor of California seems based mainly on his reputation as a campaign speaker for Sen. Barry Goldwater this year.

There were times, in fact, when Reagan appeared to be doing almost too well for his hero.

After a big Los Angeles speech by Goldwater during the spring primary battle, two Goldwater fans from California's Orange County — red-hot Goldwater country — were overheard discussing the senator's performance.

Said one: "What did you think of it?" The other thought for a moment, shrugged, and replied:

"Oh, it was all right, I guess. But I think it would have been better if Ronald Reagan had made the main speech and Goldwater had just sat there and nodded."

Farm Started — in Chicago

Zoo Attraction Is in Middle of City

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago, once described by poet Carl Sandburg as the "hog butcher of the world," now has a new use for pigs: It raises them.

The Lincoln Park Zoo — only a few miles from the glittering loop, the city's downtown area — has opened a five-acre farm in the Zoo. The two big red barns of the zoo house not only pigs, but chickens, cows and sheep.

The farm, which opened Friday, will "tell the story of agriculture to the people of a big city," Dr. Lester Fisher, zoo director, said today. He called it, "the only farm of its concept in a big city."

Designed to educate and entertain, the farm did just that on the first day.

COWS DEBUT

More than 100 grammar school students watched avidly as the farm's six cows made their debut early in the morning.

"My grandfather has a farm and he has let me milk a cow and it didn't feel funny, it felt fine," said Edwin Closs while perched jauntily in the driver's seat of a huge red tractor.

Asked if he liked the cows, Mark Szymski looked glad. "No," he said, "but there aren't any elephants here."

"They're little when they're born," blonde Kimberly Parrott observed of the two two-week old calves on display.

ONCE LITTLE

"Well, I was little when I was born too," she added.

Current zoo plans call for the cows to be milked at 10:30 a.m. daily in view of the public — apparently with the thought of letting in-town dwellers learn where milk really comes from.

Also on exhibit are a barn complete with silo, hayloft, freshly-cut hay, a sow with a litter, a sheep with a young lamb and nests of hatching hens.

Governments More Aware of Dependence, Threat

Africa's Armies Fast Becoming Major Force in Each Nation

TUNIS, Tunisia (AP) — Africa's fledgling armies are flexing their muscles, rapidly becoming a major force in the continent's nations.

African governments are becoming more aware of dependence on the military and the threat created by their growing power.

Today independent Africa with a per capita income of $122 yearly supports some 400,000 armed men grouped in 35 armies. South Africa, with its white government and army, is not included in the statistics. Total estimated military budget of the independent African nations, without South Africa, is close to $800 million. There are an estimated 1,300 war planes in Africa, many manned by foreign pilots in the service of African governments. The quest for prestige and fear of conflicts with neighbors are the main motives behind the creation of armies by the struggling African nations. But with the armies usually comes the threat of military coup.

Over the past four years, a dozen military putsches shook the continent. Some were successful and some were quashed with the help of the former colonizers.

The most dramatic is the case of Togo, whose president, Sylvanus Olympio, was assassinated in 1963 by disgruntled soldiers demanding an increase of the tiny nation's token armed force.

QUELLED REVOLTS

In East Africa, British commandos and airborne troops quelled revolts by the fledgling armies of Kenya, Uganda and Tanganyika. The governments were kept in power but the problem remained.

In the West African country of Gabon, a French paratroop task force reinstated in power President Leon Mba after a brief military revolt.

In Dahomey, a military junta took over but subsequently turned the power over to civilians.

Tiptoe Through Tulips

WHITCHITA, KAN. (AP) — Security officers at the Atlantic Mills store here are baffled by a recent theft. Someone broke open a box containing 18 tulip bulbs, taking only one bulb and replacing the box on the shelf.

There were attempted assassinations and revolts by the military in Tunisia, Niger and Liberia.

COLLABORATION

Many governments decided to collaborate closely with their military as the best possible formula of survival. Such are the cases of Algeria, whose President Ahmed Ben Bella leans heavily on Defense Minister Houari Boumediene and the army; and Morocco, where King Hassan II recently appointed two generals to his Cabinet.

Almost everywhere in Africa, young officers are clamoring for buildup of troops, for action. Frontier disputes between African nations have sparked brief wars in which some young African armies tested their muscles.

One of Two Posts

LANSING (AP) — Deputy Atty. Gen. Leon Cohan advised Lansing councilman S. Don Potter Friday he must resign his city post before he can take his newly won seat in the legislature. The new State Constitution provides that no one may serve in the legislature while holding an elective office or other position in any other unit of government, Cohan said.

The continent's armies vary from such comparative giants as Egypt's 130,000-man force, backed by Soviet-made tanks and jet bombers, to Chad's 400 troops.

After Egypt, Algeria follows with some 70,000 men, then Morocco with 45,000 and Ethiopia with 34,000.

AT LEAST NUCLEUS

All of the newly independent African nations have formed at least the nucleus of armed forces, generally with the help of former colonizers.

The presence of foreign officers and advisers has been diminishing, however. In Ghana, where in 1960, British officers commanded companies and platoons, only a few British advisers remained in the general staff.

Something Is Missing for This Celebration

WAYNE, N.J. (UPI) — New Jersey officials may find it hard to get into the spirit of things next Tuesday when they dedicate the new $10-million Point View Reservoir — there is no water in it.

Officials of the Passaic Valley Water Commission said they do not plan to let any water in from the Pompton River until the drought is over.

County Government to Take On New Look Before Long

By BILL EASTHAM

The days of Michigan's present form of county government are numbered. Chances are the 24 township supervisors who were elected in Oakland County Nov. 3 will never run for office again as township supervisors.

NEWS ANALYSIS

There are two reasons why a change in the present setup appears to be inevitable:

• Kent County Circuit Judge Fred N. Searl ruled Sept. 11 that the Kent County Board of Supervisors is unconstitutional.

• County home rule is quite likely to become a reality in Michigan before the 1965 session of the legislature adjourns.

Judge Searl's decision, which is scheduled for review by the Michigan Supreme Court, is based on the "equal protection" clause of the 14th Amendment as construed by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Plaintiffs in the Kent County case alleged that the Supreme

on Three Overpasses

LANSING (AP)—Construction has started on a $385,000 project for three overpasses which will bring all of U.S. 27 in Clare County up to full freeway standards, says the State Highway Department. The overpasses at Motetier, Long Lake and Bailey roads are scheduled for completion next July. Overpasses at Surrey and Townline roads also are under construction.

Court's decision that states should be legislatively apportioned on a population basis applies to boards of supervisors.

This was the decision that led to the legislative redistricting of Michigan and several other states.

NO APPLICABLE

Defendants in the Kent County case contended that a board of supervisors is not a legislative body, however, and that the high court's decision is not applicable.

Local attorneys familiar with the case are unwilling to estimate how soon the State Supreme Court will rule on Judge Searl's decision.

But they are openly doubtful that it will be reversed.

George Cook, Kent County corporation counsel who acted as defense attorney in the case, has said that he will take the case to the U.S. Supreme Court if Judge Searl's ruling is upheld by the State Supreme Court.

However, if the federal court intends to invoke the "one man, one vote" principle at all gov-

State Highway Project to Open Wednesday

LANSING (AP)—Traffic can start moving Wednesday over a $780,000 modernization project on 7.8 miles of M57 west from Perrinton in Gratiot County, the State Highway Department says. Completion of the project will eliminate a two-mile detour around the construction site, the department said.

ernmental levels, there is little hope for a reversal should it go that far.

If the decision stands in the state court, the legislature will be expected to take immediate action, making it mandatory for all Michigan counties to reorganize their boards of supervisors on a population basis.

Supervisors now in office would finish the two-year term for which they were elected Nov. 3, but by the end of 1966 a new plan of county government presumably would be ready to put into effect.

This is where county home rule takes the spotlight. Under home rule, a county would adopt a charter suited to its size, population and problems and form a legislative and administrative body tailored to its needs.

Michigan's new constitution paves the way for it, and enabling legislation on it was passed by the State Senate in the 1963 legislative session.

"The bill died in committee, however, when it met strong opposition in the House."

15 Parcels of Land Will Go on Auction

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department says it will offer 15 parcels of excess property in Saginaw, Bay, Gladwin, Tuscola and Shiawassee counties for sale at a public auction at Saginaw Dec. 17. Total value of the properties is $62,000, the department said.

Advocates of county home rule, which include the influential bloc of six southeastern metropolitan counties, feel that victory is in sight, thanks to Judge Searl.

BOUNDARIES OBSOLETE

If the judge's decision is upheld by the State Supreme Court, township lines will become obsolete, especially in a county like Oakland where township population varies from 1,306 in Groveland to 47,107 in Waterford, according to the 1960 census.

Redistricting Oakland County on a one-man, one-vote basis along township lines would result in a board of supervisors with over 540 members—bigger than the U.S. Congress.

One answer would be to scrap the whole township supervisor system and start over—with a home-rule charter and a governing body of efficient size.

County government as we know it has been in continuing existence in Michigan since 1842.

It may soon become the victim of progress.

$3 Million in Coins in Lansing Exhibition

LANSING (AP)—Some $3 million worth of coin collections—reputedly the largest single showing of private coin collections ever in the state—go on display in Lansing this weekend at a convention of collectors. The display of more than 100 collections is part of the 16th annual convention of the Michigan State Numismatic Society.

Much-Disputed Electoral College Faces Another Challenge in High Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Electoral College, a favorite target of reformers, is about to face another challenge — this one via the Supreme Court.

At issue: the practice that has developed over the years of giving all of a state's electoral votes to the presidential candidate who gets most of the state's popular vote. And it's electoral votes, not popular votes, that elect a president.

Under the present system a candidate who barely carries New York, for example, gets all of the state's 43 electoral votes more than these a candidate could get if he carried the District of Columbia and 11 small states by tremendous margins.

Critics say this gives unfair advantage to minority groups in the big cities of the major swing states.

BY DISTRICTS

One proposed antidote: election of the 43 electors — who are numerically comparable to the House of Representatives — by congressional districts.

New York, for instance, would have two electors chosen by all the state's voters, and one from each of the 41 congressional districts. One man might carry 15 districts, worth 15 votes, while the other carried 26 districts and the state for a total of 28 votes.

Republican Richard M. Nixon would have won the 1960 presidential election if the district system had been in effect. He carried more states and more congressional districts than the late John F. Kennedy. But Kennedy won most of the big states, and got all of their electoral votes.

Using New York as the example again, Kennedy led in popular votes and got all of its 45 electoral votes. Under the district system he actually would have received 28 — two for carrying the state and 26 for the 23 congressional districts which he won. Nixon would have 20.

LEJ STILL VICTOR

Had district electors been the rule last Nov. 3, President Johnson still would have gained a majority of the 538 electors — but nothing like the 406 he got.

Various electoral reforms have been suggested in Congress and most died in infancy. But opponents of the winner-take-all system think a new door has been opened by the Supreme Court's ruling last February that House districts must be equally populated.

Their argument runs this way: the Constitution intended electors to correspond to senators and representatives. And since the court has ruled on the matter of House districts, it also must rule on the 438 electors who correspond anyhow to House members.

Delaware Atty. Gen. David P. Buckson, a Republican, has announced that he will challenge in a Supreme Court suit next year the 45 states which choose four or more electors at large and give them all to the popular vote winner.

UNFAIR EDGE

He says voters in the 45 states have an unfair edge over Delaware voters who can vote for only three electors. Other states in that boat — because they have only one House member — are Alaska, Nevada, Vermont and Wyoming.

Pushing for the district system is the electoral reform committee of the American Good Government Society. Among its members are former Sens. William F. Knowland, R-Calif., and William Blaikley, D-Tex., Republican National Chairman Dean Burch and former Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks.

The 15 largest metropolitan areas in the U.S. added 2.8 million residents from April 1, 1960 to July 1, 1963, to bring their total to 54 million.

Local Unit Names New Officers

New officers for St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Alumni presided at the first general meeting Friday in the Nurses' Home.

With Mrs. William Greene, chairman, were Marion Ballard, cochairman; Mrs. Kevin Ritter, recording secretary; Helen Clark, corresponding secretary; Mrs. James Adams, treasurer, and Mrs. Edward Omans, publicity chairman.

The annual donation to the hospital clinic for the St. Brigids fund for underprivileged children was approved.

Christmas gifts will be sent to the two scholarship students presently in Pontiac at the Dec. 14 annual Christmas party.

The annual scholarship buffet dinner and ball in February will have as cochairman, Mrs. Robert Halm of Birmingham and Mrs. Donald Lumsden of Clawson.

For leisure wear with pants is this White Stag pullover made of Borg deep pile of 80 per cent Acrilan and 20 per cent Verel. Borg pile is warm without being weighty, moth resistant, nonallergenic and easy to clean. The coat retails locally for about $27 and comes in black, brown, rusty red, camel, green and winter white, in sizes 10 to 16.

Calendar of Events

TODAY

Pontiac Northern High School: 8 p.m.; "Taming of the Shrew" given by Northern Players; tickets at the door.

MONDAY

Women's Association of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra: 1 p.m.; Birmingham home of Mrs. John Blamy, Robert Peterson will be guest speaker.

Chapter CL, PEO Sisterhood: 1:30 p.m.; meeting at the Clarkson home of Mrs. Barry Fell. Mrs. William Irons will be co-hostess.

Pine Lake CC Dance Honors President

Pine Lake Country Club will hold the annual president's ball this evening, honoring John Murtigh, this year's president. The Murtighs live in Bloomfield Hills.

Dinner at 8 p.m. will follow cocktails at 7 p.m. Dancing to the music of Warner Ruhl and his orchestra will begin at 9:30 p.m.

Advance reservations indicate a capacity crowd and a gala evening. Dress will be formal. All past presidents of the club have been invited as guests of honor.

Culture Club Members Speak

Answering roll call at Thursday's meeting, Child Culture Club members told how military service has affected their families.

M. Sgt. Raymond Barriaght of the Pontiac Army Recruiting Office explained the Selective Service Program and its opportunities for young men.

Mrs. John Bertholdy of South Marshall Street was hostess for the meeting which closed with questions concerning the draft as it affects individual families.

Survey Shows Eggheads Work Alone

NEW YORK (UPI) — A study of 342 persons with "high intellectual capability" shows that 70 per cent of them took jobs "which gave them freedom to work alone or power to individually lead and dominate others."

The study, conducted by seven Columbia University researchers and published as a book, "Talent and Performance," was conducted among persons who had received fellowships at Columbia for post-graduate or professional training 15 years ago.

The researchers concluded that these "academically talented" people "tend not to be the type who enjoy being team members in the organization."

70 PER CENT
"Much 70 per cent figure is much higher than we expected," said Eli Ginzberg, Columbia economics professor.

The study also showed that those who did well in college did not necessarily do well later in life.

Another finding was that the most successful persons in the group married early and those who "had difficulty launching their careers" tended to marry late. Single men were not conspicuous among those in the top achievement level.

CONCLUSIONS

Among the conclusions reached by the researchers:
• "No individual who has the capacity and desire to proceed with his education should be blocked by lack of funds."

• A high level of employment in the outside world encouraged the students to pursue their education to the Ph.D. and "the conservation of talent truly depends upon minimum unemployment."

Look for Moral Bankruptcy Unless 'Adviser' Gets Out

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I am a divorcee with two teen-aged children. For the past six months I have been seeing a lot of a man who is also my financial adviser.

He has been like a father to my children. He is married and has three children of his own.

Ours is a platonic relationship and nothing more. He spends many evenings in my home, quite often it is 2 and 3 a.m. before we realize it.

I would not want to cause him any trouble at home, but he has told me that he didn't have much of a marriage before he met me so I shouldn't feel guilty.

If I suggest that we talk business only at his office, he'll be hurt. And besides, I would miss him terribly.

Yet when I think of his wife and family my conscience bothers me. Can you advise me?

NAMELESS, PLEASE

DEAR NAMELESS: Give this "platonic relationship"

another six months and it will be another one of those "it just happened" affairs. See him at his office.

The kind of business that finds a married "adviser" lounging around a divorcee's home at 2 and 3 a.m. can lead to moral bankruptcy.

DEAR ABBY: My husband sleeps in his underwear, but that's not my problem. Sometimes if he can't sleep he will go into the living room and watch television and then he falls asleep on the couch.

Our daughter came home late with a date one night and when she turned on the light in the living room, there was Pa asleep on the couch in his underwear.

You can imagine how embarrassed my daughter was. He reads your column, Abby, so maybe if he said that some people should have a little more respect for other people, it might help.

LOUISVILLE

DEAR LOUISVILLE: On the nights your daughter has a date, impress on your husband the importance of sleeping in his own bed.

If he really bull-headed, buy him a nice pair of pajamas and try to get him to wear them.

Or would he rather provide his daughter with a good excuse for not coming home at all?

DEAR ABBY: I am engaged to a wonderful guy who has one bad weakness. He likes to speed.

He drives like he is on a race track all the time and he doesn't think a thing of the risks he takes.

His family and friends have all tried to tell him his reckless driving will be his undoing one day, but it doesn't seem to mean anything to him.

He thinks it is a matter of being able to "handle" his automobile. He knows cars inside and out and he is a good driver, but anything can happen at 55 and 100 miles an hour.

Abby, I love him and I don't want to lose him. How can I make him understand that if he doesn't slow down, he might end up committing suicide and maybe murder?

ONE WHO CARES

DEAR ONE: Your "wonderful guy" is still a little boy. The most important person in his world is himself.

No matter how "good" a driver he is, a blowout, or another driver who could be in the wrong, could spell disaster for your friend and anyone who is unlucky (and stupid) enough to be with him.

If you marry him before he reforms his driving habits, I hope you look good in black.

CONFIDENTIAL TO: A TORN DAUGHTER: "The parents try to 'handle' senile parents is to love them, love them, love them."

No matter what they say or do, assure them that they are loved and respected.

That is what they need most because their sometimes hostile and unlovable behavior has lost for them the ability to command love and respect and they miss it.

It isn't easy to hear one's mother curse you, or accuse you of stealing her shoes, her money, or anything else she herself has mislaid, or hidden.

Elderly people often lose, misplace or "hide" things, and because they can't face the painful fact that they are losing their memories, they blame others.

I know you can't always take a hysterical mother in your arms when she is cursing you, or even trying to strike you, but when you realize that she will have forgotten everything in five minutes, how can you but disregard it?

Try harder not to hear her accusations, and to answer them all with "I love you, Mamma. Remember, I love you."

Problems? Write to ABBY, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Hale to write letters? Send one dollar to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press for Abby's booklet, "How To Write Letters For All Occasions."

Honeymoon in Virginia

Leaving for a honeymoon at Williamsburg, Va. after a reception today in Rotunda Country Inn, will be Daniel Arthur Ward and his bride, the former Judith Maddock.

St. Benedict's Catholic Church was the setting for the vows pledged before Rev. Richard W. Thomas.

Parents of the couple are the William Maddocks of Sylvan Lake and the James Wards of Grosse Pointe Park.

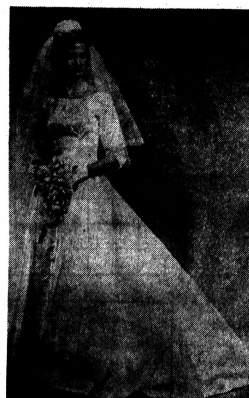

GOWN AND TRAIN

With her gown and train of white silk peau de soie, the bride wore a silk illusion veil and pillow of Alencon lace.

She carried cascading phalaenopsis orchids, Stephanotis and ivy.

Kathleen Maddock attended her sister as maid of honor and Carolee Nebel of Warren was bridesmaid.

On the acquire side were best man Norman DuCoin with Gerald Morrison seating the guests. Both are of Roseville.

MRS. DANIEL ARTHUR WARD

Wed today in St. Benedict's Catholic Church were Judith Maddock, daughter of the William Maddocks of Sylvan Lake and Daniel Arthur Ward, son of the James Wards of Grosse Pointe Park.

Sweep Up Upholstery

The best thing for upholstery fabrics is a regular going over with the vacuum cleaner. Use the dust brush attachment. Vacuuming keeps dirt, dust and lint from building up in both the fabric and the pores of the cushion.

If dirt builds up in fabrics, it is very difficult to get it out again, and causes the fabric to wear quickly.

Normally, vacuuming is enough to keep a foam rubber cushion fresh and clean. If it has been a long time between cleanings, remove the cover before you vacuum.

However, if something has been spilled on the cushion, and fabric and cushion are soaked, more drastic measures are required.

NO FLUIDS
Never use cleaning fluids in foam rubber because they can cause it to deteriorate. If you plan to use cleaning fluid, remove the cover first, use the cleaner, and let the cover dry before you replace it.

If the cushion itself must be cleaned, the only safe thing to use is a mild solution of soap or detergent and water.

Try not to saturate the cushion—it can take a long time for a big foam rubber cushion to dry—and it should never be placed in a dryer or in sunlight.

Just go over the stain lightly. If it is really serious, and the entire cushion must be washed, use mild soap and water in the bathtub.

SQUEEZE DRY
Squeeze as dry as possible and set the cushion aside on a large bath towel to dry. Keep the cushion out of direct sunlight. Sunlight causes rubber to deteriorate.

When the cushion is thoroughly dry, replace it in its cover. Foam rubber cushions are cut larger than their covers, so that the upholstery fabric will be kept trim and neat.

It is easier to replace cushions in covers if they are sprinkled with talcum powder first.

Pre-Holiday Sunday Dinner

Entertaining at a pre-holiday dinner on Sunday in their home on Westlawn Avenue will be the Charles H. Crawford.

In the group will be the Max A. Millers; the J. Earl Crawford, with Nancy and Peter; the David Crawford with children Laurie and Lee; Mr. and Mrs. James W. Crawford of Rochester, with Bruce, Jane and Judy.

The Clare R. Wilsons of Watkins Lake Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Janice Lorene to Lee Allen Rafter, son of the Dale Rafter of Hartline Road, Avon Township. Her fiancé attends Michigan State University. An August wedding is being planned.

Spring vows are planned by Annette Ida Campbell, daughter of the John H. Campbells of Preston Avenue and Kenneth T. Van Camp Jr., son of the senior Van Camps of Howell. The bride-elect attended Flint Junior College and is a graduate of the Lansing School of Practical Nursing.

Time Will Help Befuddled Child to Adjust

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE:
Our daughter, a college freshman, recently brought her roommate home for a weekend. We are greatly worried about this girl's influence on Marcia. She is older and a child of divorce who has spent much of her life in boarding schools. When she was here she drank to much and talked about men in away that made it clear she's had a good deal of sexual experience. We could see the change she's made in Marcia who treated her father and me like two old fogies. Answer: You mean that she showed scorn for your opinions, don't you? Did you insist on their absolute rightness during her childhood?

Because adolescent children do heap scorn on us if we have claimed absolute rightness for our opinions during their childhoods.

UNRELIABLE

As they discover they can't apply all our judgments to their problems, we become as totally unreliable as we were once totally reliable.

They obey us by refusing an important boy sexual intimacy and lose him. They make friends with a girl whose parents share our religious views and the girl says, "I'm an atheist, myself."

They express our political convictions in a dormitory argument and get treated as half-wits.

The awful possibility that our opinions lack the absolute rightness we've claimed for them dawn on them and they turn upon us as "old fogies" without the sense to come in out of the rain.

In my opinion there is no answer but time. Your Marcia's roommate hasn't got all the right answers either. But time has to reveal this fact to Marcia.

Time, not you, has to expose her roommate as the befuddled child she is. Time is what will underpin her influence as Marcia notes the effect of too many hangovers on her schoolwork, her sexual failures, the problems she creates for herself with her teachers.

INSUFFICIENT

As her roommates judgments are shown up to be insufficient too, Marcia will remember yours and some of them, with luck, will become reliable again.

We have to wait nine months for a baby to be born. It's an uncomfortable nine months. But there was no answer to our discomfort but time, was there?

That holds true for the discomfort we experience as our adolescent children struggle to grow into views of their own. It is painful to be disregarded.

But disregarding you was what Marcia did when she was born as your baby. If we can remember that, her scorn becomes part of the process of birth and we can endure it.

Roger Halls Are Wed

Our Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake, was the setting for the marriage today of Carmen Lucille Williams to Roger Dennis Hall.

An afternoon reception in the Hotel Waldron followed the ceremony performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas A. Jobe.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wilburn H. Williams of Bald Mountain Road, Pontiac Township, and the George W. Halls of Cass-Elizabeth Road.

The bride's Empire gown of white peau du soie and Chantilly lace was styled with a lace-bordered court train. A lace crown touched with pearls and crystals held her bouffant illusion veil. She carried an all-white cascade arrangement of carnations, sweetheart roses and ranunculus.

Janet Foster was maid of honor, along with bridesmaids Mrs. C. J. Cleveland and Sandra Hall.

Gerald Hall of Gary, Ind. was best man for his brother, Leo Chapin of Chicago and Richard Hall were groomsmen. Samuel Pankey and Timothy Hall seated the guests.

The bridegroom is a senior at Oakland University.

Addressing Differs on Invitations

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I am going to be married shortly at a simple afternoon wedding. As only 50 guests are to be invited, I am writing the invitations by hand.

I would like to know how the envelope should be addressed. Should it be addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Smith and begin Dear Mary and John, or should it be addressed to Mrs. John Smith alone and include him in the body of the note?

A: If you are writing informal notes, you address the envelope to Mrs. John Smith and include her husband in the note itself. If you are following the formal third person form, you address the envelope to Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.

Q: I was married two months ago and received a very handsome wedding present from my co-workers.

Now that I am settled, I would like to invite them all to a buffet supper at my house in appreciation for their very generous gift.

The problem confronting me is this:

Some of these people are married and I was wondering if it is necessary to invite their husbands or wives, who are strangers to me, to come too?

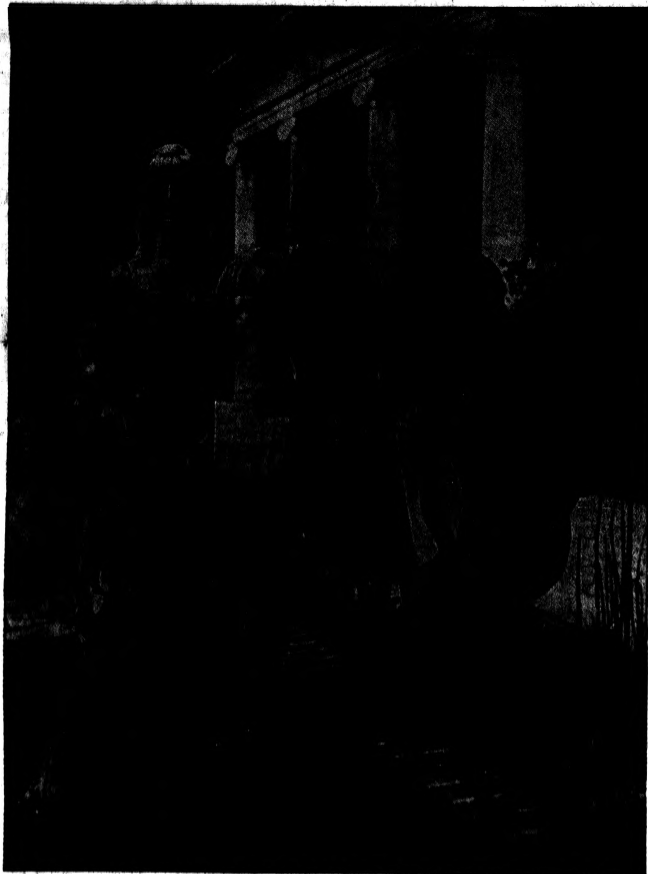

A: Even though they are strangers to you, the husbands and wives of your married co-workers should be invited to the buffet supper.

Q: Is it proper to wave a greeting to a friend who is seated at another table in a restaurant?

A: To smile and bow slightly when you catch the eye of a friend is best manners.

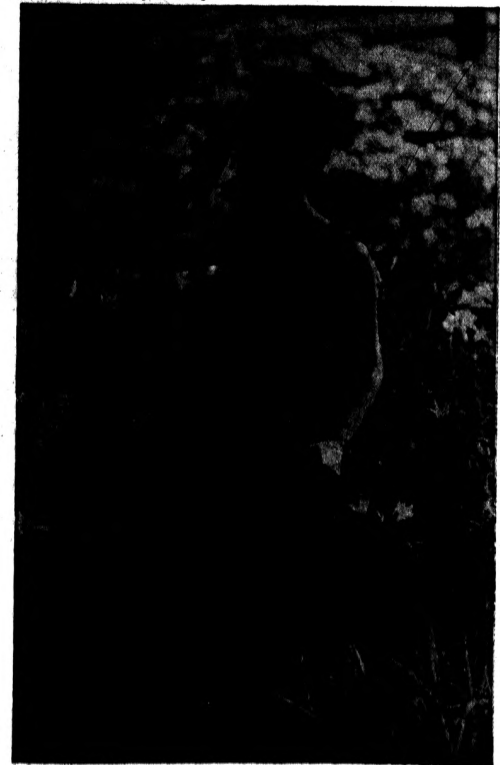

A slight wave of the hand is also permissible but a conspicuous wave, which attracts the attention of other diners, is certainly not proper.

The clothes of the bride and groom as well as those of their attendants, are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Clothes of the Bridal Party."

Trilevel Features Terraced Garden

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press
Managing four growing children, a home and a profession doesn't daunt Mrs. Donald L. Cole. She has found the perfect answer to career blending. Mrs. Florence Shoemaker. Mrs. Shoemaker has been the family children's nurse for almost 10 years.

"With Florence in charge," said Mrs. Cole, "I can go about my teaching duties completely sure that our youngsters are in capable hands."

Mrs. and Mrs. Cole and their children, Steven, 9; Lisa, 7; Diana, 6 and Pam, 4, live on Westview Court in Bloomfield Hills.

Built on a sloping lot, their contemporary white-brick tri-level features both a terraced garden of Ohio bluestone and a planted wall of volcanic rock in the back yard.

Three smoked-glass globes illuminate the large entryway. Walnut beams add contrast to the area's off-white ceiling and three walls. The fourth wall is papered in a gold and green washable print.

SCULPTURED CARPETING

Stairs, carpeted in sculptured beige-with-a-green-cast, lead to the lower family room level and to the upper bedroom wing.

A hand-carved rosewood and camphorwood Chinese chest at the top of the stairs serves double duty. Its outstanding beauty makes it a conversation piece and its wood, a perfect place to store woolsens.

The fireplace wall in the formal living room repeats the white brick of the exterior, differing only in the masonry pattern. To the side hangs an oil painting by Mrs. Cole's grandfather, George Grubhorn.

"It has been grandfather's custom," said Mrs. Cole, "to give each of his grandchildren one of his paintings when they marry. We are so pleased with ours, we used it as our color guide for the living room."

Carpeting of beige - green and walls near the same tone create a cool background in the room. Accent colors of pumpkin and gold are introduced in the tweed fabric of the sofa and shades-of-green in the diamond-patterned arm chair.

Twin chairs grouped in front of the sliding glass-door wall match the sofa. The wall opens onto a summer deck overlooking the back yard. Off-white antique-satin draperies close when additional privacy is desired.

A round coffee table in the room has matched panels around a beveled eye, giving a sunburst effect.

SUN PORCH

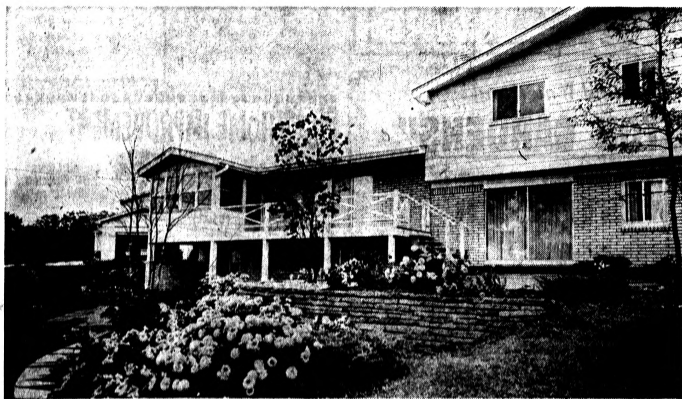

Also opening onto the summer deck is a nearby sun porch. Substituting for curtains are grey-green pull-down shades which can be easily adjusted to let in or keep out the sun's rays.

The furniture pieces have grey-green wrought iron bases. Covered in an abstract pattern of turquoise, brown, gold and moss green are the sofa and tufted backs of the chairs. Cushions on the chairs are upholstered in grey-green.

Pink geraniums add a bright touch to the muted colors of the room.

Flexible Style Fits Small--Big Family

Compactness and flexibility are the two words that best describe the latest House of the Week.

Its compactness is evident in the tight design, which permits eight sizable rooms and a generous amount of foyer, hall and storage space to be compressed within a modest land area.

Its flexibility allows a small family to use it as a two-bedroom house; a medium-sized family to have three bedrooms; and a large family to have four or five bedrooms.

The practical center hall plan—with the living room, dining room, kitchen and a breakfast room, is in effect "open" on four sides.

Architect Herbert C. Struppman has provided for easy housekeeping in the kitchen design. The room is almost square, and appliances and counters use all walls. The sink and dishwasher are under the double windows looking out on the patio. The range top adjoins the counters on one side and a breakfast bar on the other.

Across the room, the 10-foot width offers a wall oven, a large counter expanse and a refrigerator. All this planning puts the lady of the house within a few steps of everything and at the heart of the home where she can oversee activities on the patio or in the family room.

The latter room, by the way, has a large closet, an ideal placement should the room be used for sleeping quarters.

A hall in the bedroom wing affords entry into the two bedrooms and a bath.

The master bedroom has a large section set off as a dressing alcove, but which can be made into an extra bathroom if desired.

Both bedrooms have spacious closets.

FLOOR PLANS

The floor plans for Design H-58 show the second floor divided into a bedroom, a studio, a bathroom and a dressing room.

There's a large amount of storage space behind the walls under the eaves, with two openings for convenience.

Note the attractive exterior design, with its covered porch entrance, bow window on one side and three raised windows on the other.

The gabled roof and vertical siding covering the slightly protruding right side of the structure add an interesting touch to an interesting house.

Epoxy Resin Forms

Strong Tile Bond

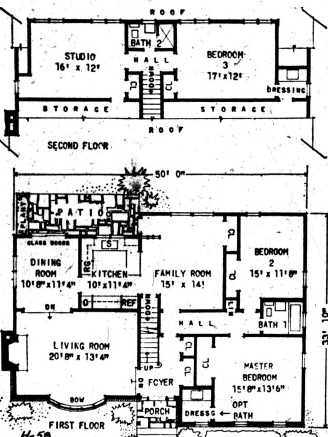

New epoxy resin adhesives, a major boom to home repairs because they often form a bond stronger than the object being repaired, now are being used to make ceramic tile installations even better.

The new epoxies are chemical—and stain-resistant and provide better-than-ever joints between the tiles.

LOW LINES PLUS: The trim look of this house belies its excellent expansion potential, which permits it to be used as a two, three, four or five-bedroom residence to fit the needs of a family of any size.

FLOOR PLANS: While maximum flexibility is the keynote of Design H-58, good traffic circulation is also apparent.

Property Owners Need Know-How

It is a good idea for the prospective property owner to avail himself of all technical information pertaining to materials employed in building the new structure.

This procedure would include a working knowledge of the grades of hardwood flooring.

For Northern hard maple and birch flooring, the standard grades and their interpretations are widely known through published grading rules. The grades are simply First Grade, Second Grade and Third Grade.

Single copies of the 1964 up-dated MFMA Grading Rules booklet are available free from the Maple Flooring Manufacturers Association, 35 E. Wacker Drive, Chicago, Illinois 60601.

Avoid Slow Burn; Check Heating Unit

Each year the heating and cooling industry comes closer to doing something other than talk about the weather. Engineering advances plus foreign contribution more to our daily comfort than we realize.

Those ripe for the current marriage market — 16 to 20 years old — may think a flick of a switch brings heat in winter and air-conditioning in summer. How many have shoveled coal at 4 in the morning?

The subtleties of old-time heating units, such as where to kick it for the best results, are gone. Since fuel costs are a fixed part of any budget, it pays to investigate what the heating plant will do besides take up little space. Before closing a deal for a house, have a local heating contractor inspect the heating system.

RECOMMENDED

Currently, industry experts recommend a separate (direct expansion) cooling system with separate hydronic (hot water) baseboard heating system with baseboard units installed at floor level.

Science backs them up with the principle that warm air rises and cool air descends. This eliminates puddling or accumulation of pockets of hot or cold air.

With acceptance of air-conditioning, the experts encourage shoppers to think about installing a cooling system immediately or at least see that it can be put in economically when the budget permits.

The cost depends upon the style and shape of the house, construction and materials, including insulation, landscaping and climate.

Pressed Wood
Renews Surface

Renew the working surface of a scarred workbench by adding a panel of 1/4" Pressed wood. Holes for bench stops or lugs that may be in the original top may be cut through the new panel.

The tempered panel, so durable it's used for this purpose in factories, can be applied with glue or nails, clamps, or screws. Heavy tapper and router treatment will not crack the tough, durable board.

A smooth, splinter-free surface is a boon to the home craftsman, too. Panels are available at lumber and building supply yards.

No matter what type heating system the house has, it should fulfill certain requirements:

• Does the system supply the two types of heat necessary for complete comfort—radiant heat to offset cold walls and floors and convected heat to provide gentle circulation of air?

• Are the heat distributors installed at the most effective location, along outside walls and under the windows?

• Does the system permit freedom of home decoration?

• Is the system compatible with a wide choice of equipment for summer cooling to be installed either now or later?

• Is it a good investment? Will it give dependable, low cost service and last for 20 to 40 years or more, without costly repairs?

• Can the system supply year-round-hot faucet water for washing, bathing and appliances at low cost without a separate hot water heater?

To help you decide on a new system, check with a home owner who has lived with the same type for two to five years. Is he happy with it? What are his complaints? Such investigation can help you make up your mind about what will provide comfort for you and save you money in the long run.

Laundry Requires Specific Space

The laundry has not kept pace with modern house design.

A definite area should be provided for the laundry instead of allocating it to leftover space.

There should be 36 to 44 inches in front of the washer and gas clothes dryer, plus the 28-inch depth of the appliance.

Space for sorting clothes and other related laundry activities also is essential.

System Has Four Parts

Ever hear of DWV? You simply couldn't have a home these days without DWV, which in the plumbing industry means drain-waste-vent piping and fittings for your home plumbing drainage system.

Your home drainage system has four parts. The first is the drain, or main soil stack, that carries the waste away from the various fixtures to a main drain which empties into the sewer drain outside of the home.

Tranquilizer in Any Home

One sure tranquilizer in nearly any home is a kitchen remodeling project. Modernization of an old kitchen is one way to keep the distaff side humming on a happy note.

In modernizing an old kitchen, don't overlook such important areas as countertops and back-splashes.

They should be surfaced with a stainproof and waterproof material such as ceramic tile — making them extra easy for the busy homemaker to keep clean.

Sunglasses are being made that can be changed to any degree of darkness by turning a button.

Plumber's Friend Helps Clear Drain

Clearing the sink drain may be accomplished in one of several ways.

Often the trouble lies just below the sink strainer and can be loosened with a long screw driver or piece of wire.

Using the familiar "plumber's friend" is another effective method. For best results, pour boiling water with a little ammonia down the drain before using this implement.

There are many powerful drain-clearing compounds available through plumbing contractors. Extreme care should be used in handling these compounds, as their ingredients can burn the skin.

The second part includes the waste lines from sinks, baths and lavatories which empty into the main soil stack.

The third part is the vent stack, which reaches up to the roof, to open air, with branches from each fixture. The vent stack helps with the proper flushing and drainage and carries away any possible sewer gas.

The fourth part is the house sewer which runs underground from the house connection to the city sewer or private septic tank.

Most home owners never see all of the arteries of the home plumbing drainage system buried in the walls and floors of the house.

That is why permanent, durable DWV is so important. Any failure of the DWV system could mean expensive repairs. No plumbing drainage system is stronger than its weaker link.

Buyers of new homes should make a definite point to discuss the plumbing drainage system with the builder or the plumbing contractor, or, if buying an older home, with the present owner to determine the quality of materials used.

Junior Editors Quiz on Deserts

QUESTION: How can plants and animals survive in a desert without water?

ANSWER: A desert is an area where less than ten inches of rain fall every year. If there were no rain whatever in a desert area, one would find no plants and animals there, except such animals as used by travelers.

But in many deserts, such as the American one shown in the picture, a certain amount of rain does fall. The plants and animals living there are those which have means of retaining this moisture and making it go a long way and of getting it from their food.

Desert plants have several ways of getting water. Plants such as Yuccas and Mesquite send down very long tap roots which can penetrate to some underground water source. Others of the cactus family, such as the giant Saguaro we show, spread out a wide fan of roots just under the surface to gather the last drop when the rains do fall.

Desert flowers grow furiously during a damp spell, flower and come to seed in a month. The seed, with its spark of life, will survive long dry periods. Reptiles flourish in deserts because their scaly skins keep moisture from escaping.

Many insects are round in shape because this prevents moisture evaporating. And many desert animals can produce the water they need internally as they digest their food.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the picture. Try to get the hot dry feeling of the desert with yellows and browns—but the big tree cacti should be a rich green.

Blames Cong Support
on Russia, Red China

HONOLULU (AP) — Gen. Duong Minh, South Viet Nam's former strongman, blames both Russia and Red China for the support given the Communist Viet Cong.

Minh, who led the coup which deposed President Diem a year ago, said yesterday in Honolulu that South Viet Nam is resolved to fight on to victory, no matter who the foe. Concerning "whose influence predominates in the north," Minh said, "to us it makes little difference who it is. Our problem is the same."

In Detroit River

Ship Halts Traffic

DETROIT (AP)—The 545-foot Canadian freighter "Burlington" was blown crosswise by strong winds last night, halting all up-bound Great Lakes traffic in the Amherstburg Channel of the Detroit River.

U.S. Coast Guard officials said it radiotelegraphed approaching the channel and they dropped anchor in Lake Erie near the river's mouth. The channel separates Michigan from Ontario.

The Burlington, owned by Canada Steamship Lines, Ltd., and loaded with coal, was not damaged but the Coast Guard said her bow was so deeply embedded in mud that tugs would be needed to free her.

Officials said no attempt would be made to pull her off the mud bank until winds — at times gusting to 25 miles per hour — had died down.

The Burlington dropped anchor near Bob-Lo Island because of fog and high winds, the Coast Guard said. As the ship came to a halt, a gust of wind caught her and swung her sideways across the full width of the channel.

The Coast Guard said lake traffic in the down-bound Livestone channel of the river was not affected.

The Coast Guard said abnormally low water levels in the river this summer and fall, plus last night's southwest wind which lowered the level another critical 36 inches was probably a factor in the accident.

Open Hearts to All Nations

Americans Serve Peoples of World

America's three major religious faiths during the Thanksgiving season are calling on their more than 100 million members to support the Fall United Appeal for Religious Overseas Aid, each through his own faith.

The fall emphasis of the tri-faith effort include the Protestant "Share Our Substance" appeal to help finance free distribution of foods from America's agricultural abundance to the hungry abroad.

It also includes the Catholic "Bishops' Thanksgiving Clothing Collection" which seeks millions of pounds of clothing and other relief materials for the needy overseas; and the "United Jewish Appeal" which asks aid for recent refugees and others in acute need abroad.

Carrying the bulk of America's voluntary overseas relief to victims of war, famine and other disasters, the three faiths distribute hundreds of millions of pounds of food, clothing and medicine to the hungry, homeless and destitute in virtually every free country in the world, regardless of race, creed or color.

FIGHTS POVERTY

"In fighting poverty, disease, hunger and homelessness at the individual level, the programs of the religious overseas aid agencies make a vital contribution to peace, strengthening the bonds of spiritual brotherhood between Americans and their neighbors abroad."

Programs such as those supported by the three faiths in the Fall Religious Overseas Aid appeals have, according to President Lyndon B. Johnson in an address to Congress Sept. 21, "Proved to be one of the most valuable resources in international development programs—to help people and the countries of the free world help themselves to economic and social progress."

In all Pontiac area Catholic churches, children and adults are taking good, used clothing to their schools and churches.

Funds voluntarily given at special services in local Protestant churches and Jewish synagogues and temples are used to finance the sending of food and medicines abroad.

Foods donated at Thanksgiving services will be given to the needy in the Pontiac area.

The Greek Orthodox Archdiocese began a fund raising drive this week to extend assistance to Greek Christians expelled from Turkey, and the orphanages in turn have long waiting lists of children needing assistance.

Americans have been helping youngsters overseas through Christian Children's Fund since 1938. Presently CCF assists 47,500 children, and reports a long waiting list of orphanages requesting help, and the orphanages in turn have long waiting lists of children needing assistance.

Seventy per cent of all requests for help are turned down because sponsors are not available, the agency reported. Sponsors send $10 a month toward the child's care, choosing a boy or girl from above the Arctic Circle to belong the equator.

Encouraged to exchange letters and Christmas cards with their adopted child, many sponsors also send gifts, provide for higher education and in some cases, take trips abroad to meet their child.

RATES ORPHANAGES

Christian Children's Fund operates its own orphanages, and is affiliated with 526 orphanages and schools. Special projects care for blind, crippled, retarded and abandoned children.

GIVE CLOTHING — Floyd Shotwell of 388 Hilleliff, and Rita Delasko of 2326 Watkins Lake, both of Waterford Township, carry coats, sweaters, shirts, skirts and socks to

Our Lady of the Lakes Catholic Church. The clothing will be sent to underprivileged families in other countries. Catholics across the continent are participating in the annual drive.

Worship With Songs, Sermons

Churches Join in Prayers of Thanksgiving

The custom of holding a special harvest festival to return thanks to God for His blessings will be observed with services in churches and family dinners.

But the custom didn't originate in America. The Pilgrims who read and lived by the Bible borrowed the whole idea from ancient Israel.

The story of the real "First Thanksgiving" may be found in the 16th and 26th chapters of the Old Testament Book of Deuteronomy. They record the instructions which Moses gave to the Jews for a holiday to be held exactly seven weeks after they began harvesting their first crop in the promised land.

The purpose of the holiday, Moses said, was to "rejoice in all the good which the Lord your God has given to you and your household."

Moses told his people they were to take some of the first of all the fruit of the ground and put it in a basket—and take the basket to the altar of God's house for dedication.

The contents were then to be distributed among widows, orphans and others who had no harvest of their own.

UNITED SERVICE

The United Thanksgiving Service sponsored by the Pontiac Area Council of Churches will be held at 7:30 Wednesday evening in Bethany Baptist Church. This is the traditional union service.

There will be other neighborhood services that evening and on Thanksgiving Day.

Dr. Emil Kontz, host pastor, will be assisted by Rev. Mires Stine of the Lutheran Church of the Ascension and the Rev. Edmund I. Watkins of Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church.

Dr. Milton H. Bank, minister of Central Methodist Church, and president of the Pontiac Area Council, will speak on the subject, "Thanksgiving—A Key to Successful Living."

AUBURN HEIGHTS

The Annual Community Service in Auburn Heights will be held at 10 a. m. Thanksgiving Day at the Free Methodist Church. Rev. George Kibbe of White Shepherd Gospel Church will bring the message.

Others taking part in the worship include Rev. Eric Wehrli, Rev. Lawrence Dickens, Rev. F. William Palmer and Rev. Charles Warner.

Special music will be provided by the Elmwood Methodist and Stone Baptist churches.

BEAUTIFUL SAVIOR

Beautiful Savior Lutheran Church will observe Thanksgiving with a service at 7:45 p. m. Wednesday and at 10 a. m. Thanksgiving Day. Pastor Donald Zill will be the preacher at both services.

The Sanctuary Choir will sing "Sing to the Lord of Harvest" by Healy and "Praise My Soul the King of Heaven" by Gordon Young.

BLOOMFIELD HILLS

The annual Harvest and Thanksgiving Offering will be received tomorrow at Bloomfield Hills Baptist Church when the congregation observes Harvest Sunday. The Young Adult Class will decorate the church with flowers and produce.

The church is located at 3600

Telegraph, West Bloomfield

Township. Members and friends will gather for the annual Thanksgiving service at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday. There will be a candlelight observance of the Lord's Supper with the pastor giving the Communion meditation, "Give Thanks Whatever Happens." The public is invited.

First Congregational Adopts Boy, Girl

DANIEL JOHN

ROSA PEREZ

In the Far East CCF has been a leader in developing the cottage system orphanages, where children live in small homes as family units, with a trained and responsible mother to guide them.

CCF works closely with government agencies, welfare workers, and missionaries of 35 Protestant denominations.

Verbon E. Kemp, executive director, reports that the population explosion brings suffering to the most innocent victims of tragedy—the children.

Christian Children's Fund operating in 52 countries, is registered with the U. S. State Department's Advisory Committee on Voluntary Foreign Aid, VFA-680.

"We wanted to adopt a child because there are so many children in need."

This is the reason the First Congregational Church School has adopted two youngsters through Christian Children's Fund, Richmond, Va., according to Mrs. Arnold Simson, spokesman for the Sunday School.

At first the group sponsored only one child, 11-year-old Leslie Daniel John in India, but when they saw his picture, members of the group were moved to adopt a second child.

And 13-year-old Rosa Perez in Chile received their help. They finance the adoptions with a special mission offering the fourth Sunday of each month.

Leslie, a cheerful, hardworking boy, likes to play running games. He is in the sixth grade and seems to do well in arithmetic. His father, a truck driver, works hard to support the family, but his wages are too low to buy food.

He asked help for Leslie's education from CCF affiliated Madras Christ Church High School. They accepted Leslie and now he can escape the illiteracy which retards 75 per cent of India's people.

Rosa's mother and father died of cancer, leaving six children. The eldest son tried to provide for his sisters, but he could not clothe or educate all of them. CCF affiliated Salvation Army Children's Home opened its door to Rosa and took her in.

She is a dependable, sixth grader who likes to play dolls and read.

Americans have been helping youngsters overseas through Christian Children's Fund since 1938. Presently CCF assists 47,500 children, and reports a long waiting list of orphanages requesting help, and the orphanages in turn have long waiting lists of children needing assistance.

News of Area Churches

KIRK IN THE HILLS

Five new board members and a new constitution were approved by the Men's Brotherhood of Kirk in the Hills at the annual business session last week.

Members of the class of 1967 include Robert C. Chinn, Dr. Warren B. Cooksey, Richard C. Gray, Arlet R. Henson and Raymond S. Supplee, all of Birmingham.

Graeme Supplee was chosen president of the board of directors of the Kirk. Val Corradi was named vice president; Thatcher W. Root, secretary; and David J. Wood, treasurer.

FIRST METHODIST

The Cherubs and Caroler Children's Choirs of First Methodist Church will sing "I Like to Read the Stories in the Bible," by Bixler, and "Only a Boy Named David," by Voss, at the morning worship services tomorrow.

Mrs. Eleanor Lochner of the Flint District Woman's Society will speak at the noon luncheon and general meeting of church women Tuesday. The Marion Sircle will be hostess.

The Booster Class will hold a 6 p. m. dinner program Friday. First Methodist will join in the Pontiac Area Council of Churches observance of Thanksgiving at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday.

LIBERTY BAPTIST

Rev. Z. L. Jones of Bethlehem Baptist Church, Toledo, Ohio, will be guest speaker at Liberty Baptist Church at 3:30 p. m. tomorrow as the congregation observes the closing services of Men's Month.

His congregation will also be present. The Liberty Baptist Building Fund committee will sponsor a Baby Contest at 7:30 p. m. Friday. Contestants will be sponsored by the nine auxiliaries of the church with Mrs. Pearlne Williamson, chairman. Rev. S.

M. Edwards said the public is invited.

INCARNATE WORD

The annual congregational meeting of the Lutheran Church of the Incarnate Word will be held following the 11 a. m. worship service tomorrow.

Business will include the election of councilmen and the adoption of a budget. Sunshine bags and contents will be on display in the foyer. The bags will be taken to local convalescent homes in December. The project is sponsored annually by the Lutheran Social Services of Michigan.

Ministers List Services for Thanksgiving Day

CATHOLIC

On Thanksgiving Day Mass will be said in St. Benedict Catholic church at 6:45, 8, 8:45 and 10 a. m. Hours for Mass at St. Michael Catholic church are 6:25, 8 and 9 a. m.

ALL SAINTS EPISCOPAL

There will be two services on Thanksgiving Day at All Saints Episcopal Church. A service of Holy Communion will be celebrated at 8 a. m.

The festival service and sermon with the Adult and Children's Choirs singing is scheduled for 10 a. m. Rev. C. George Widdiford urges families to attend together.

The first of three evenings of discussion on John A. T. Robinson's book "Honest to God" will be held at 8 p. m. Tuesday.

FIRST CHURCH OF CHRIST SCIENTIST

During the Thanksgiving Day service at 11 a. m. in the First Church of Christ, Scientist, individuals will stand up voluntarily to express their thanks to God in their own words.

Hymns, readings from the Bible and prayer will be featured.

ST. ANDREW

Thanksgiving Day will begin with offering thanks to God for what He has done at 10 a. m. in St. Andrew Episcopal Church, Waterford Township. Food received will be taken to St. Peter's Home for Boys, Detroit.

Rev. Edward A. Lowry asks families to bring canned goods but no home canned vegetables or fruit.

ORCHARD LAKE

The traditional service of Thanksgiving worship will be held at 10 a. m. in Orchard Lake Community Church, Presbyterian. Music will be provided by the Crusaders Choir under the direction of Helen Weis, and the Adult Choir directed by John Tousey.

charge of the citadel, N. S. Dempsey of 4321 Forest, Waterford Township and Elbert Whitford of 74 E. Iroquois. Other committee members are Albany C. Kirby, Elmer H. Reynolds and Harry J. Reed.

Church Leaders Outline Laymen Training Need

The need for vocational training is as great for the Christian layman as it is in the business world if he is to carry the church ministry to the whole community, a large group of church men were told last week.

At the annual three-day meeting of the board of managers of United Church Men in Chicago, a college president, and a Kiwanis executive, and a representative of the World Council of Churches discussed the layman's mission in the local community and the world.

"Laymen can lead the church out of its organizational mish-mash," said Dr. William Schechter, president of Tufts College, Me., "and make it effective at points of conflict."

Dr. Schechter described the Academy of Christian Thought and Service established this year at the college which "seeks to develop a new communication between clergy and laity, and between church and world."

"Education as a Christian," he continued, "is not achieved simply by joining a church and attending it one hour a week."

The importance of groups which "involve their members in problems the whole community faces," was underlined by Percy Shue of the Kiwanis Club.

Other leaders included the Rev. Dr. Loren E. Halvorson, director of lay training of the American Lutheran Church, and Ralph Young, who heads the department of the laity of the World Council of Churches.

Silvercrest Baptist Has Guest Speaker

Pastors List Services

OAKLAND AVE.

Thanksgiving will be the theme of both the morning and evening worship services tomorrow in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. The Crusaders Choir will sing "Now Thank We All Our God" at the evening hour.

Tomorrow is the last day for worshippers to bring food and clothing for deserving families. Deacons will pack boxes Monday night.

Helping with the project are Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Lawrence, the Stanton Levells, the Walter Messers, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Reader, Mrs. William Bray, Mrs. Guy Caswell, Mrs. Andrew Creswell, and Mr. and Mrs. Earl S. Ephard.

Youth group will meet at 5:45 with the Pioneers discussing "In the Catacombs" and the Builders with a subject entitled "He Leadeth Me."

The congregation is planning a one-hour Thanksgiving service for all families. Missionary intern Ronald Huth will bring the message.

A pictorial yearbook directory of every family in the congregation will begin this week at the church. According to Pastor Al-lebach a professional photographer will photograph each family with no cost to the family or church.

Mission Day Observed Tomorrow

National Mission Day will be the theme of the United Presbyterian Church in Auburn Heights at 11 a.m. tomorrow. The service will deal with the changes that have taken place in the nation since the landing of the Pilgrims.

Elders will meet at 7:30 Monday evening to interview elder-elect and review the membership roll. Elders Francis Gatzert, Willis Jacobs and Pastor F. William Palmer will represent the congregation at Detroit Presbytery in the Allen Park Presbyterian Church Tuesday.

Several members of the Chapel Choir will assist Mrs. R. H. Lowery when she presents "Christmas Portraits" at the Women's Fellowship meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Vernon King will install Mrs. Dale Lovett, president of the fellowship; Mrs. Stuart Hamm, vice president; Mrs. Robert Benedict, secretary; and Mrs. Fred Reinke, chairman of World Service.

Other installations include Mrs. Carl Schingee, church service chairman; Mrs. Harold Davis and Mrs. Willis Jacobs, sewing secretaries; Mrs. Frank Pretzner, Mrs. James Githen, Ruth Byers, Mrs. Gordon Hamilton and Mrs. Lawrence Lambersen, circle chairmen.

gregation will be given the opportunity to cast a ballot for the church on the next two Sunday mornings.

A voting booth will be set up in the church lobby. The voting drive is leading up to Church Loyalty Sunday, Pastor Gordon Lindsay said.

Gifts of clothing wrapped with Christmas paper and ribbon will be brought to the church Wednesday evening. The gifts will be sent to the Protestant Youth Organization in Detroit.

NEWMAN AME

The Senior Choir of Newman AME Church will present its annual fall concert at 5 p.m. tomorrow in the sanctuary, 233 Bagley.

Guest performers will include Mrs. Phyllis Harris, a soloist at Christ Church Cranbrook; Mrs. Louise Richardson, a dramatic reader of Providence Missionary Baptist Church; and Michael Lee, a piano soloist at Newman AME Church.

Mrs. Elizabeth Milburn, choir director, will be assisted by Mrs. Emily Harper.

Tickets for the program will be Mrs. Marie Manning, church pianist.

Trinity Ministers

Going to Mt. Zion

Rev. Lee A. Gragg and the congregation of Trinity Baptist Church Wexen at Maple will worship with the New Zion Baptist Church Flint, when it celebrates the 37th anniversary at 3:30 p.m. tomorrow.

The Adult Choir will sing. The day will close with members attending the baptismal service at Trinity Baptist at 7 p.m. Sunday School is at 9:30 and worship at 11 a.m.

Annual Mass at Cathedral

More than 10,000 men from the Metropolitan Detroit and Windsor areas, who have made retreats at St. Paul of the Cross Retreat House have received invitations for themselves and their families to attend the Fourth Annual Memorial Mass for deceased retreatants.

The Mass will be celebrated at the Blessed Sacrament Cathedral, Woodward at Belmont in Detroit at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Celebrant this year will be the Very Rev. James Busch, C.P., who was recently appointed to be rector at St. Paul's Monastery.

Preaching the sermon will be the founder of the St. Paul Retreat movement, the Rev. Declan Egan, C.P., who now serves as retreat director at the Passionist House in Cincinnati.

Honored guests are the members of the immediate families of retreatants, who have died in the past year.

Marimont Youth Will Attend Rally

Young people of Marimont Baptist Church will attend the Conservative Baptist Youth Rally in Flint Friday and Saturday. Several workshops will be offered dealing with youth work Saturday.

Rev. Ralph Crotty will be the main speaker.

Mrs. George Morgan will direct the Jet Cadets in their program entitled "A Horn of Plenty" at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. Mary Matthew will be in charge of the junior high program and Susan Ward will lead the senior high group in a discussion on "Is Home a Dull Place?"

Protestant Blood Bank at Bethany

The American Red Cross Blood Bank at Pontiac and a Protestant churches will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. Nov. 30 in Bethany Baptist Church, West Huron at Mark.

This is an open blood bank and donors can specify where credit is to be made.

Mrs. M. H. Baldwin said it would be helpful if donors would contact her to schedule appointments.

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile is open to all Protestant churches in the Pontiac area.

For any participating church, blood will be released to any member, or to any member of the participating member's family wherever located, provided the Red Cross Blood program is active there.

Bride Gives Timetable on Quarreling With Mate

By EARL WILSON
NEW YORK—"The best time to pick a quarrel with your husband," said Anne Bancroft, a bride of three months, "is when he's just up."

"When he hasn't shaved yet and is mad at everybody anyway."

"That's when you bring up things like 'Why don't you hang up your ties?' or 'Why did you say all those things last night in front of those people?' That'll get him started."

Miss Bancroft was glowing a little, I thought, over her success in picking quarrels with the writer-comedian Mel Brooks whom she married in August. She feels that only a quarrel-picker will get abused and insulted by her husband.

"It's in us all—a little bit of being pushed around is nice," she gleamed. "Don't you," she said, "like a little passivity in a girl?"

"I might if I ever saw any," I answered. This strange discussion took place at the Americana La Ronde Room recently when Miss Bancroft was out plugging her new film, "The Pumpkin Eater," which has already won a Cannes Film Festival award.

"Mel would fly to London to see me on weekends—rinking his life coming in a plane and then we would quarrel..." Anne seemed to enjoy remembering that delicious battle.

"He said something about my body—and I said, 'My Body! Don't you know that's my instrument?'"

"He said, 'Oh, yeah? Well, let's hear you play "Begin the Beguine" on it.' That sort of broke up the battle."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "I am a great believer in luck. The harder I work, the more of it I seem to have." Coleman Cox.

EARL'S PEARLS: Barbara Cook says in the musical "Something More" (set in Italy) she doesn't worry about local men pinching her: "A pinch is nothing more than a handshake that misses by a few inches."

That's earl, brother.

Prelates to End Active Session

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The most active and controversial Vatican Ecumenical Council session yet closes today with proclamation by Pope Paul VI and the council's 2,000 prelates of three far-reaching decrees.

Lavish ritual inside St. Peter's Basilica brings to a close the worldwide assembly of Roman Catholic prelates—the third session since Pope John XXIII opened the council in 1962.

All three documents won overwhelming approval before this promulgation day. A final formality vote today gave the scattering of bishops who voted against the documents earlier a chance to go down in church history as supporting the decrees.

The decrees deal with the nature of the Roman Catholic Church, the worldwide movement for Christian unity, and the Catholic Oriental churches.

But the documents on religious liberty, the Church in the modern world, pastoral duties of bishops and other topics are still to be completed.

Conservatives who opposed the declaration on religious liberty succeeded in preventing a final vote on it in this session. An American-instigated petition by 1,400 bishops for a vote during this session was turned down Friday by the Pope.

Willing to Wait It Out

HEMPSTEAD, N. Y. (U)—Sign on a cemetery along a well-traveled street: "Drive carefully. We can wait."

Laying Out of Streets Required 'Horse Sense'

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo. (U)—There is a "Horse Sense" explanation for the wide streets in Colorado Springs.

The chief engineer who laid out the town in pioneer days wanted lots of room for turning a double span of horses hauling huge freight wagons.

Bowling Alley Strikes

FRANKFORT, Ky. (U)—There was a surge of business at one bowling alley after it posted this sign outside: "Our Bowlers Are Striking."

BOSTON (AP) — Boston line-backer Tom Addison pried loose his helmet and summed up the 12-7 victory over Denver — "we had a big letdown."

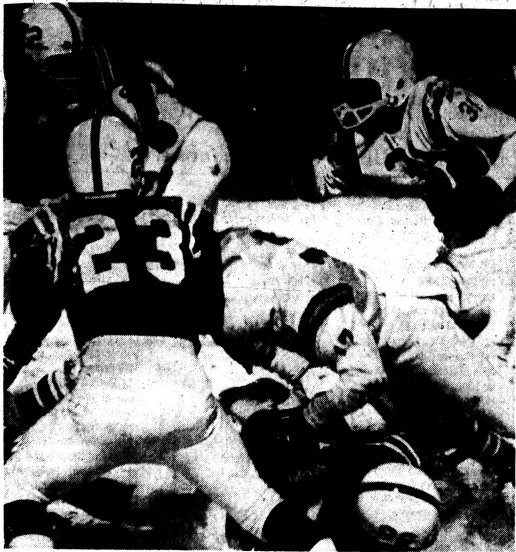

Gino Cappelletti, who had a touchdown pass reception, a 50-yard field goal and a conversion kick to account for 10 points added: "Nobody had it."

Deacons' Fullback 'Slumps' in Upset

By The Associated Press

Brian Piccolo, college football's leading scorer and ground gainer, has finished the season in a slump.

For the first time in three games, the Wake Forest fullback failed Friday night to score all of his team's points. Piccolo, however, did score 21 in the Deacons' 27-13 victory over North Carolina State that severely damaged the loser's chances for the Atlantic Coast Conference championship.

The contest helped start the last full weekend of college competition. Holding the spotlight in today's action was the Midwest where top-ranked Notre Dame met Iowa while Michigan and Ohio State clashed for a trip to the Rose Bowl.

Piccolo's performance enabled Wake Forest to finish the season with a 5-5 record, a distinct improvement over its record for the previous two years. In that time, Wake Forest won only one game in 20.

A victory would have given North Carolina State the ACC titles. Now, however, Duke can win it by defeating North Carolina today.

Piccolo, who enjoys acting on the stage as much as he likes performing on the football field, bringing his final total to 1,044. His 111 points put him back into the national scoring lead and established an ACC record.

The 198-pound senior wrecked North Carolina State with touchdown runs of one, nine and five yards. He also kicked three extra points.

In another major game, Miami swamped Vanderbilt 35-17 as quarterback Bob Bilenkoff ran for three touchdowns and passed for another. It was Miami's fourth straight triumph after losing four and tying one. Bilenkoff scored on runs of four, one and 13 yards in slightly more than three minutes of the third quarter. He earlier

Miss Hagge Holding Lead

BILOXI, Miss. (AP) — Marlene Hagge, 30-year-old Pensacola, Fla., professional, fired a two-under-par 69 Friday for the first round lead in the $17,000 Mary Mills Gulf Coast women's golf tournament.

A sudden change in the weather skyrocketed scores over the 6,100-yard, par 71 Broadwater Beach course. Temperatures dropped to the mid-40s with heavy rain. Thursday night soaking the course.

Par 71 rounds were made by Mickey Wright, leading money winner on the ladies PGA tour, and Shirley Englehorn, recently-elected LPGA president.

The purse in the 54-hole tournament is the largest of the women's tour and this event ends their 1964 season. The winner's check also will be the largest in the history of the tour, with $2,550 going to the champion of the three-day tournament.

Lions Set Sights on Second Place

Joe Schmidt Eyes Report on Shoulder

The Detroit Lions take aim on securing a firm hold on second place in the National Football League's Western Division and a possible place in the Playoff Bowl when they play the Minnesota Vikings tomorrow at Tiger Stadium.

Hit-hard by injuries this season, the Lions will be trying for a late season surge that will send them against the second place team in the Eastern Division at Miami in January.

The injuries are slowly healing, but the latest report on middleline backer Joe Schmidt is that he soon will formally announce his retirement.

This was reported in The Press after the Packer contest.

The stellar defensive player has been out of action since the second Green Bay game with a dislocated shoulder.

He's received medical advice from doctors at the University of Michigan Hospital in Ann Arbor and it's not favorable.

"They tell me that I must undergo an operation, if I want to play again," Schmidt explained Friday after the Lions practiced at Tiger Stadium. "If I quit now, I don't need an operation to carry on normal activities, like golf and bowling."

BIG RUSH

"I was told I could play next year without having the operation, too. But I would be taking a big risk. If I dislocated it again without having an operation, the shoulder ligaments would be permanently damaged."

Schmidt said while he hasn't yet made up his mind about retiring, he is "giving it serious consideration." After the Green Bay game he said, "I don't know what I'll do, but I don't want to go through another operation."

The last shall be first after the National Football League's battle of the basement is decided Sunday at Chicago and New York.

While Baltimore shoots for the Western Division title at Los Angeles and Cleveland tries to lengthen its Eastern Division lead at Green Bay, the defrocked Bears and Giants play host in a four-city cellar struggle. And the losers may turn out to be winners.

passed six yards to Tom Coughlin for a touchdown.

Unbeaten Notre Dame sought its ninth victory today while aiming to solidify its hold on the No. 1 spot in the nation. Second-ranked Alabama was idle, Iowa's Gary Snook, along with snow which hit South Bend, Ind., this week, could hamper the Irish hopes.

Elsewhere in the Top Ten, third-ranked Arkansas meets Texas Tech; Nebraska, No. 4, plays Oklahoma; Texas, No. 5, is idle; eighth-ranked Louisiana State battles Tulane; Syracuse, No. 9, plays at West Virginia, and Oregon, rated 10th, takes on Oregon State.

Many other traditional meetings dot the schedule. There are Pitt-Penn State and Yale-Harvard in the east, Tennessee-Kentucky and South Carolina-Clemson in the south, Rice-Texas Christian and Southern Methodist-Baylor in the southwest, Purdue-Indiana and Wisconsin-Minnesota in the midwest and California-Stanford and Air Force-Colorado in the west.

At Odds With Dodgers

Tribe Boss Gripes

CLEVELAND (AP) — Gabe Paul, president and general manager of the Cleveland Indians, said Friday the Los Angeles Dodgers were trying to torpedo baseball's proposed free agent draft.

E. J. (Buzzy) Bavasi, general manager of the Dodgers, called Paul "immature" and implied he should mind his own business.

Dodger President Walter F. O'Malley accused the Cleveland general manager of "headline hunting."

Paul started the exchange by issuing a statement saying the Dodgers were attempting to undermine the draft, which Paul recently praised as "the greatest thing since night baseball."

Bavasi emphatically denied the Dodgers are campaigning against the legislation that will be voted upon at the major league meetings in Houston Nov. 30 through Dec. 5.

Paul insisted O'Malley and Bavasi are campaigning to un-determine the draft at the minor league level. The proposal must be approved by both the minor and major leagues before it is adopted.

The other clubs were Kansas City, Washington, Houston and the New York Mets. The St. Louis Cardinals, who were a headline supporter, reportedly have changed their mind and also oppose the legislation.

Golfer Littler Snaps Slump

CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Former National Open champion Gene Littler of La Jolla scored his first tournament victory in 2½ years Friday, winning the $8,000 Southern California Open Golf Championship by four strokes.

Littler, who led from the first round, shot a final three-under-par 69 for a 54-hole 111 under par 67-69-69 — 205 over the Coronado course.

Pete Brown of Los Angeles, who was one shot back of Littler heading into the final round, shot a par 72 and finished second with a 209. He earned $900.

QUIET CASSIUS — Heavyweight boxing champion Cassius Clay, along with his wife, talked to newsmen yesterday in Boston City Hospital where he is recuperating from a hernia operation. The operation forced a postponement of Clay's title bout with Sonny Liston. Clay is expected to leave the hospital in a week.

Pistons Keep Rolling Under DeBusschere

By The Associated Press

Dave DeBusschere, who doubles in basketball and baseball, was a surprised young man when the Detroit Pistons asked him to triple in brass.

The Pistons have been surprised National Basketball Association rivals ever since. Ray Scott's last-second basket gave Detroit a 106-105 victory over Baltimore Friday night and boosted 24-year-old DeBusschere's coaching record to 4-1 since he was named to succeed Charley Wolf last week.

Dave, a University of Detroit graduate who spends his summers pitching in the Chicago White Sox organization, scored 20 points as Detroit climbed to within 1½ games of the third-place Bullets in the NBA's Western Division race.

In a double-header at Philadelphia, the St. Louis Hawks rallied from 13 points behind and tripped the 76ers 118-115; after the Boston Celtics, led by sharp-shooting Sam Jones, defeated New York 127-120, running the Knicks' losing string to eight straight. In Los Angeles, the Lakers held off Cincinnati 131-121.

DeBusschere, beginning his third NBA season as a player, almost wore goat horns in a hectic finish against the Bullets. The Pistons, trailing 105-104, held the ball 18 seconds before DeBusschere missed a shot from the corner.

But Baltimore knocked the ball out of bounds and the pass went to Scott, who whirled and fired in the winning two-point from beyond the free throw line.

St. Louis stormed from 10 points down to 10 points ahead with a 42-point third quarter and held off Philadelphia's rally to hand the 76ers their fourth straight setback.

Frank Beard in Golf Lead

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Arnold Palmer and Jack Nicklaus started their chase after golf's 1964 money championship in Friday's delayed opening of the $25,000 Cajun Classic, but had to take a back seat to late finishing Frank Beard.

The 25-year-old Beard braved skidding temperatures to forge a five-under-par 67 for a one stroke lead over Palmer, Nicklaus and two other pros.

Palmer, who has earned over $111,000 this season, leads Nicklaus by $318.87.

Dave Hill of Jackson, Mich., and Cotton Dunn, a 27-year-old Oklahoma rookie, had 68s over the Lakeborne Country Club course to match scores by Palmer and Nicklaus.

Family Found Dead in Home

SUNDANCE, Wyo. (UPI)—An Air Force family of seven was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning in their small snow-covered home yesterday.

Authorities found the bodies when they went to the home after Staff Sgt. Russell Schlotterbeck, 28, did not show up for duty at the Sundance Air Station. A gas heater was on and the house was filled with fumes.

Schlotterbeck, a 13-year veteran from Pueblo, Colo., his wife, Elvira, 22, and their five small children were found dead in their beds.

The children were Diana, 4; Michael, 3; John, 1, and 7-month-old twins, Gloria and Mary.

Currents Catch Currency

MUSCATINE, Iowa (AP) — Several thousand dollars in currency went flying when winter winds of near hurricane force smashed four drive-in windows at the Muscatine Bank and Trust Co. Friday. All was recovered except $50.

It wasn't known what peak the wind reached. The measuring device at the Muscatine airport registered 55 miles an hour before it was blown away. Other parts of Iowa had 60 to 70 mile an hour winds.

Modern Turkey's population is about 24 million.

Community Theaters Slated to Get Appointment

A Birmingham school official, Lloyd H. Van Buskirk, may soon join the staff of the Oakland County community college.

Van Buskirk, director of finance for Birmingham Public Schools, is slated to be recommended to the college staff at the next meeting of the college board of trustees.

College President John E. Turrell, in announcing Van Buskirk's pending appointment, said he would be director of campus development.

He will help in financial planning and supervise the orderly development of the physical facilities for the college's three campuses.

SERVED 4 YEARS

Van Buskirk of 27158 West 14-Mile, Franklin, has served as financial director of Birmingham school for four years.

Previously, he was business manager of the L'Anse Creuse School District near Mount Clemens.

Married and the father of three children, Van Buskirk has served on the Hazel Park Board of Education and the Hazel Park City Council.

But it is never too early to help you to plan now for the Christmas season so that you will not have complaints later.

ONLY 27 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

REMEMBER...

Trade only with known concerns.

Decide definitely what you want before you buy so as to avoid difficulty in take-back, exchange or refund.

Buy with care—read labels—keep all sales slips or receipts.

Examine your Christmas purchases before Christmas so that you may make exchanges before rather than after Christmas.

Don't expect to get full credit or refund for an article which has already been marked down—unless the store wants to do so.

DON'T CONTRACT TO PURCHASE ANYTHING BEYOND YOUR CAPACITY TO PAY.

Remember—a layaway is a contract. If you do not go through with the deal the merchant is entitled to keep your deposit.

Read all papers you are asked to sign and keep a copy.

TRANSIENT VENDORS, SIDEWALK HAWKERS AND PEDDLERS ARE NOT AROUND AFTER CHRISTMAS TO LISTEN TO COMPLAINTS.

Your guarantee should be specific AND IN WRITING.

NO ONE CAN CONTINUALLY SELL RETAIL AT WHOLESALE PRICES, SO AN APPEAL "BUY WHOLESALE" IS GENERALLY WHOLESALE BUNK.

By OSWALD JACOBY

In the World Bridge Olympiad match between Chile and Argentina, overbidding paid off for Argentina when the team's North-South pair got to a normally unmakeable spade contract.

Even three spades was a slightly un-sound contract. On the actual bidding, North should really have passed when South bid two spades.

When North bid three hearts, South might well have contested himself with a three spade bid but, South was looking at eight sure tricks and felt like bidding.

The overbid waterwarped. West opened the king of clubs.

East played the ace and West shifted to the three of diamonds. South played the jack from dummy and when it held South had a chance to make his contract. He drew trumps and led the jack of hearts. West played low, but South was not going to lose this contract. He went up with dummy's king and had his tenth trick.

West could have beaten the hand by just making it a point not to lead a diamond. Yet, I have to give East the real blame for the debacle. In the first place, East responded one diamond instead of passing with his honor. Then, when West opened the king of clubs, East played the ace. He really should have played the five and then the eight if his partner continued the suit.

Says Base Closing Motive Suspicious

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, says "the timing" by Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara of his announcement that 95 military bases would be closed "is highly suspicious" because it comes just two weeks after the election.

"Why was this withheld from the people," Mrs. Smith asked Friday in a statement issued one day after the defense secretary listed bases to be closed for economy reasons.

Mrs. Smith, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said she was "willing to accept" McNamara's word that there were no "political implications" in the decisions as to which bases and facilities would be cut back.

"But I would certainly be less than honest if I did not say that I cannot accept any claim that the timing of the announcement was not politically motivated and controlled. The timing in itself cast a political cloud over the announcement," she said.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The number of whooping cranes at the Aransas National Wildlife refuge in Texas has reached 33 — including eight young.

Three more adult whoopers arrived Friday after their southward flight from the Canadian nesting grounds.

Last spring, 32 adult birds made the northward flight. On that basis it is possible that seven more adults could return to Aransas.

Besides the eight young at Aransas, a ninth is recovering at the Monte Vista National Wildlife Refuge in Colorado from an injury suffered in Aransas.

If all adults return to Aransas, and all nine young survive, the total wild whooping crane population would reach 41 — the highest since counts of the rare bird were started 26 winters ago.

Another seven birds are in captivity at the Audubon Park Zoo in New Orleans.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The director of Army aviation, Brig. Gen. John J. Tolson, says that helicopters used in South Vietnam are far less vulnerable and much more rugged than most people realize.

Gen. Tolson said Friday that more than one million individual missions have been flown by Army small planes and helicopters in South Vietnam and that of those hit, only two per cent have been lost.

"The losses have been infinitesimal compared with any other action we have had," he told a conference at the annual meeting of the Army Aviation Association.

The association elected retired Brig. Gen. O. Glenn Goodhand of Morton, Pa., as president to succeed Darwin P. Gerard of Washington.

Dismiss Case Against Dem

A charge of posting political signs on city property against David B. McPherson, unsuccessful candidate for Oakland County sheriff, has been dismissed.

The charge was dismissed Tuesday by Madison Heights Associate Municipal Judge Charles E. Maloney following a trial.

Maloney ruled that McPherson, the Democratic candidate, didn't actually post a sign even though he may have intended to do so.

McPherson was indicted for the offense Sept. 7. He failed to appear for his scheduled court date Sept. 23, but later pleaded innocent to the charge in court.

Police Keep Man in Trunk Under Cover

ROME (UPI) — Italian authorities today lowered a curtain of secrecy around the whereabouts of Mordechai Lok, "the man in the trunk." Apparently it was for his own protection.

At first, police said Lok was taken to a refugee camp near Rome after they completed their investigation of the strange case yesterday. But it was ascertained he was not there.

Later informed sources disclosed that the Italian secret service had taken Lok to a "safe place" for more questioning — and protection.

Lok, 28, is considered an Egyptian spy and possibly a double agent for Israel.

He was rescued Tuesday from a special "torture chamber" trunk two United Arab Republic officials were going to ship to Cairo as "diplomatic baggage."

The U.A.R. diplomats have since been expelled from Italy.

Lok said he was an Israeli citizen who defected and was forced to spy for Egypt. Italian counterespionage pressed their undercover contact in an effort to verify the story.

DETROIT (AP) — Agreement on a new contract covering some 6,000 striking tool and die members of the United Auto Workers was reached today between UAW Local 155 and 157 and the Detroit Tooling Association.

UAW tool and die workers went on strike 13 days ago in support of new contract demands.

Troy Burglar, 22, Gets 2-10 Years

A 22-year-old Troy man was sentenced yesterday to 2-10 years in the state prison at Jackson for the burglary of a Troy store last month.

The prison term for Gary W. McPherson, 6099 Livernois, was ordered by Circuit Judge William J. Beyer. McPherson pleaded guilty to the breaking-and-entering charge Nov. 2.

Troy patrolman Robert Robertson and Maynard Ebeling captured McPherson Oct. 22 inside Uncle Lake's Feed Store, 6601 Livernois. He had gained entry by smashing a front plate-glass window.

Reflections

MAIL 'EM EARLY

Christmas time is a joyous time and a belated gift misses the essence of that occasion. The Postal Clerk is human beings, can only do what a human being can accomplish. Stacks of Parcel Post accumulate, the piles get higher and higher and if perchance our box is the bottom of the stack you know what happens — it's smashed. Gifts mailed early avoid such a condition, they are safely on their way and will be delivered quickly and in perfect condition. That's where we come in. We were smart, we mailed 'em early.

Every gift has part of the sender in it; he chose it, wrapped it, sent it and when it is crushed, part of the sender's heart is involved. Mail 'em Early, You, the Postal Department and the recipient will all be happier.

Double Killing at Old House

Officers Slay Man Who Shot Girl, 16

TARPON SPRINGS, Fla. — A 15-year-old girl and an elderly man were shot to death at a "haunted" house at the end of a dirt road near here late Friday night.

A corner's jury impeached at 3:35 a.m. ruled the girl's death "unjustifiable homicide" and that of the man in his 70s "justifiable homicide."

The girl was Joyce Ammons of Palm Harbor. The man was Charles Hall.

Sheriff's deputies said Frank Lysek, 18; Fred Van Ochten, 17; Barbara Mercer, 16, and the Ammons girl drove to the old, abandoned house off Dixie Highway about 11 p.m.

Lysek said he had visited the two-story house about a week earlier and wanted to show it to the girls. As they drove up, he said, the old man yelled "Halt!" and fired a shotgun at the car, some pellets striking Joyce in the head. She died en route to a hospital.

Deputies Carl McMullen, Don Anderson and George Kerns drove to the house with Lysek. McMullen said he told the boy to "duck down" as they approached. The old man, McMullen said, was on the porch when they drove up and got out of the car.

"When I spoke to him he leveled his gun straight at me," McMullen said.

Deputies opened fire, McMullen reported.

Only identification on 'lie man's body indicated he had lived in Jacksonville and Bradford. Deputies said they found two old wallets containing $1,692 in bills stuffed under a pillow in the house. Also under the pillow was a pistol, they reported.

Ford Rushes Plans to Start Up Car Production

Weekly Output Record at GM

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. plants established a new weekly production record by turning out 104,910 cars this week, it was reported yesterday by Ward's Automotive Reports, an industry statistical service.

The old GM record was 103,184 cars, set in the same November week last year.

Congo Army Across River

LEOPOLDVILLE, The Congo (AP) — The Congolese army swept across the Loba River today, the last major obstacle to the rebel capital of Stanleyville where 1,000 foreigners are held as hostages.

The crossing of the broad Loba, reported in a field dispatch, left the army led by white mercenaries 223 road miles south of Stanleyville after an almost unopposed march of about 125 miles from Kindu since Thursday.

A Belgium parachute unit was poised on an island off Africa's West Coast ready to fly into Stanleyville to prevent a threatened massacre of the foreigners, mostly Belgians but including 60 Americans.

Among them is Dr. Paul Carlson, 36, a medical missionary of Rolling Hills, Calif., under death sentence on a charge of spying.

A Stanleyville broadcast heard in Bangui, capital of the neighboring Central African republic, threatened harm to the U.S. and Belgian captives unless "The American and Belgian military aid to the Leopoldville government is halted."

Meanwhile, strike-plagued Ford Motor Co. production losses had climbed past the 70,000 mark by the end of the week, Ward's said.

Ford blamed its shutdowns on local-level strikes by United Auto Workers in three of its plants.

Despite the Ford loss and a half-million cars lost to strikes by GM earlier this fall, Ward's said the 1964 automobile output is only "a scant percentage point below that of 1963 at this time," and added:

"With a quick return to work by Ford, the industry still can go ahead and exceed last year's production by 30,000 to 100,000 cars by Dec. 31."

New-car production in 1964 to date was figured at 6,681,688, compared with 6,743,501 in the same 1963 span.

Heavy overtime was scheduled this week by U.S. producers other than Ford, according to Ward's.

PERCENTAGES

Of the week's total output, Ward's said GM would account for 67.4 per cent, Ford for 2.9; Chrysler for 22, and American Motors for 7.7.

U.S. truck production this week was figured at 29,659, compared with 30,938 last week and 30,972 in the similar 1963 period.

OK at Sterling Spurs Hopes of Return to Jobs

Nov. 30 Is Seen as Earliest Firm Can Hit Full Output Potential

DETROIT (AP) — The Ford Motor Co. rushed plans today to get back into passenger car production next week after overnight settlement of its Sterling Township plants plant strike.

Ford, with all its assembly lines at a dead halt and more than 80,000 men idle, said it hoped to resume production Tuesday or Wednesday in some factories.

A Ford spokesman said yesterday that the Chicago Heights, Ill., stamping plant is expected to resume production tomorrow night.

Another week would pass, however, before the company could be geared up to approach its 10,000-cars-per-day potential. Ford officials indicated Nov. 30 would be the earliest date for this.

The local strike at the Sterling Township plant near Detroit, which employs 6,300 men, was blamed largely by Ford for extensive layoffs and plant shutdowns since Nov. 6.

MAKE PARTS

The plant, which makes a wide variety of car parts, is described as a chief supplier in Ford's nationwide system.

United Auto Workers Local 228 of the Sterling Township plant will hold a ratification meeting tomorrow on the settlement terms.

The factory was one of nine in the Ford system that were struck Nov. 6 over unsettled local agreements to supplement the national Ford-UAW agreement of Sept. 18.

Two others, assembly plants in Wayne, remain on strike. Negotiations on these continued.

TERMS WITHHELD

Terms of the Sterling Township settlement were withheld pending the ratification meeting.

Ford and the UAW announced the settlement separately last night — Ford from its Dearborn headquarters and the UAW from its Solidarity House headquarters.

Weather Factor in Rash of Accidents

Snow, falling temperatures and high winds that arrived in the area late yesterday afternoon contributed to a rash of traffic accidents including a fatality in Bloomfield Township.

More snow and cold weather is expected at least through the weekend, the weatherman said.

Bloomfield Township police said slippery road conditions were a factor in the 11:06 p.m. accident yesterday that took the life of a Beverly Hills youth.

Killed was Timothy W. Guenther, 17, whose car went out of control on West Maple and skidded into an Oakland County school truck 400 feet west of Whysall.

Guenther was driving east on Maple when his car struck the westbound truck driven by Daniel F. Schmeltz, 53, of 650 Oakmont, Pontiac Township. Schmeltz was uninjured.

SERIOUS CONDITION

Eric Heber, 14, of 32805 Bellvine, Beverly Hills, a passenger in Guenther's car, is in serious condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Another passenger, End Braun, 14, of 32805 Bellvine, Beverly Hills, is in satisfactory condition at St. Joseph's, and a third, Harry Belcastro, 16, of 21661 Church, Oak Park, is in fair condition at Beaumont Hospital.

The Oakland County Sheriff's Department received 25 accident reports in the last 24 hours, Capt. Leo Hazen said.

REAR-END CRASHES

"We had more calls than we could handle," Hazen said. He pointed out that most were rear-end collisions.

The U.S. Weather Bureau offers little hope for any immediate relief.

Following a dip to a low of 10 to 17 tonight, the mercury should rise to a high of 23 to 30 tomorrow.

The lowest temperature recorded downtown this morning was 10—the low for this season.

At 1 p.m. the Press thermometer read 25.

Near blizzard weather conditions are expected for today's football games between Michigan and Ohio State and Michigan State and Illinois.

The Detroit Lions can expect about the same when they square off with the Minnesota Vikings tomorrow.

Youth Fete Dedicated to Kennedy

As Pontiac doffs its official hat to more than 200 youngsters, so will the city's youth honor the late John Fitzgerald Kennedy tomorrow at Pontiac Northern High School.

Pontiac's first "Salute to Youth" program will be dedicated to the memory of the late president "in recognition of his role as a champion and supporter of America's youth," said George Caronis, director of the city's youth assistance program.

The event will be from 3-5 p.m. and admission is free.

Under the sponsorship of the Pontiac Citizens' Committee on Youth, the event will recognize and salute Pontiac young men and women for their outstanding achievement and meritorious contribution to the community.

Awards and certificates will be presented in 14 categories including: scholarship, leadership, creative writing, heroism, traffic safety, dance, athletics, music, science, business initiative, dramatics, speech, photography and arts and handicrafts.

Highlighted during the program will be Hayes Jones, Pontiac's Olympic track champion. Gov. Romney will be represented by Mrs. Sara Stewart of the Michigan Youth Commission.

5 Rail Unions Settle

CHICAGO (UPI) — An agreement was maintenance of way telegraphers, clerks, hotel five of 11 nonoperating railroad unions on a wage and fringe benefit plan for more than 290,000 employees.

The unions involved in the Federal mediators said the agreements were significant because the unions are among 11 nonoperating unions which include shop-craft workers.

The six shop-craft unions, which have not reached settlement in their talks, have set a strike deadline for 7 a.m. (Pontiac time) Monday which could paralyze the nation's railroad system.

J. E. Wolfe, chairman of the National Railway Labor Conference, said today's settlement followed recommendations of the presidential emergency board laid down on Oct. 20. CALLS FOR INCREASE

The settlement provided for increases of 27 cents an hour, broken down into 9 cent increases over three years retroactive from Jan. 1, 1964.

Other provisions are for four weeks vacation after 20 years service, a paid holiday and $2,000 life insurance policies for retired employees.

The agreement was reached in mediation sessions conducted by Francis O'Neill, chairman of the National Mediation Board.

O'Neill has been meeting with carriers and the shop-craft unions who are at odds over a wage package similar to the one agreed to today by fellow brotherhoods.

CONTINUE BARGAINING

The mediator said shop-craft representatives and carriers would continue bargaining in efforts to beat the clock and avert the Monday strike deadline.

Peking Demands Russia Return to Stalin Policy

By WILLIAM L. RYAN

Red China has delivered its ultimatum to the Soviet Union: plug up the holes in the Iron Curtain or the Communist movement will be irrevocably divided into two camps.

No other construction can be placed upon a 3,000-word statement from the theoretical journal Red Flag broadcast by Peking today.

As matters stand now, it means the Soviet-Chinese dispute not only will continue, but probably will grow more intense. Peking, in breaking a sudden silence on its reception of the

The Chinese statement was a recitation of Peking's terms for playing ball with Moscow with a unified world Communist movement, but the terms are just about as tough as they can be. Indeed, if the Chinese conditions were met, the present regime of party chief Leonid Brezhnev and premier Alexei Kossygin in the U.S.S.R. could not last long.

Almost openly, Red Flag was asking for a continuing and thoroughgoing purge in the U.S.S.R. to weed out all those Communists who supported Nikita Khrushchev's policies, and to return to Stalinism. This

WINTERIZED — A dash of snow on this display of winter footwear in front of a downtown Pontiac store on North Saginaw last night was an appropriate signal that the season of boots and rubbers most definitely has arrived.

Fateful Day in Dallas Recalled by AP Reporter

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—It still is a bad dream that couldn't happen in real life. But it did on that day of Nov. 22, 1963, when a vibrant, young president was murdered.

It had rained in Fort Worth, Tex., that morning. When I peered out of the window of my hotel room I saw that despite the drizzle, a crowd already had gathered in a parking lot across the street where President Kennedy was scheduled for a brief appearance.

By the time the smiling President stepped out of an elevator in the crowded lobby two hours later, the sun had broken through. Flanked by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson and Gov. John B. Connally of Texas, the President walked across the street, spoke briefly.

In a high good humor he explained to the friendly crowd that Mrs. Kennedy wasn't with him because she still was making preparations for a breakfast appearance scheduled for him in the hotel.

'SO MUCH BETTER'

"It takes a little longer, but she looks so much better than we do," he said with a grin.

After the breakfast meeting, at which Kennedy praised the controversial RFK warlike to be built in Fort Worth, the President and his wife made their way through the applauding crowds to the White House limousine from which the bubble top had been removed.

The presidential motorcade wound through streets banked with citizens who cheered and clapped as the handsome young President and his beautiful wife rode by. The story was the same as it had been the day before in San Antonio and Houston. Texans liked the Kennedys and were showing it.

When Air Force 1 landed at Dallas' Love Field, a few minutes later, Mrs. Kennedy, wearing a fuchsia-colored suit, was presented with a bouquet of red roses. She joined the President in a handshaking walk along a fence which held back an enthusiastic crowd.

STREETS FILLED

Then the motorcade was off, heading for downtown Dallas. There, the crowds filled the streets, pressing in so closely motorcycle police had difficulty clearing a lane for the open car from which the President and his wife were smiling and waving.

Dallas had shown with its warm welcome on that sunny day that it admired the man who had been elected by a whisker and who had tried to "get the country moving" in his first 1,000 days.

As the motorcade made a right turn off the packed street, suddenly the tumult died and there were only a few waving spectators. Ahead, we rode toward a left turn into a street which led to an underpass. Nearby was a building with a sign which read: "Texas School Book Depository."

The President's auto, four cars ahead, already had made the turn toward the underpass and we had just completed it when there was a loud report. My first thought was: Those Texans, now they're shooting off giant firecrackers.

OMINOUS SOUND

Then came two more reports, spaced possibly five seconds apart. They had the ominous sound of rifle crack. The President's car had stopped. We reporters riding "pool" scrambled to get out to run ahead.

But at almost that instant, a Secret Service man, riding in the front seat of the presidential limousine stood up, phone in hand and waved the preceding police cruiser on.

In that numbed moment we all sensed that something horrible might have happened. But we had no way of knowing exactly what as we thundered along a freeway at top speed in pursuit of the presidential car. Everybody in the President's car seemed to be down, but that would be prescribed procedure in escaping any danger zone.

We careened around a turn and roared into the driveway of Parkland Hospital. When we screeched to a stop I saw, as I scrambled out of the "pool" car, Mrs. Kennedy weeping, trying to hold her husband's head up.

Mrs. Connally was supporting the governor who sat slumped in a jump seat, his head rolled back, his suit and shirt front covered with blood. By the time I had sprinted up to the presidential limousine, Secret Service men were helping Mrs. Kennedy away. Hospital attendants were shipping Connally onto a stretcher.

When I reached the car, there was the President sprawled on his face in the rear seat. There was a pool of blood on the floor. Three twisted and torn red roses lay in it.

"Is he dead?" I asked a Secret Service man who stood guard.

"I don't know but I don't think so," he replied.

POURED OUT DATA

As I rushed for a telephone, Vice President Johnson was being escorted up a corridor to a cubicle near the receiving desk.

At the desk I found a phone, got the AP bureau on the line and shouted: "The President's been shot." A photographer on the scene of the assassination already had phoned an eyewitness account but I poured out all of the information I had collected.

As we raced after him, we knew the President must be dead but still clung to hope. It died with the finality of the announcement.

A shining light had gone out.

Classes for Homemakers at County Heart Center

BIRMINGHAM — Homemakers throughout the area will be able to benefit from "Heart of the Home" classes to be held next month at the Oakland County Heart Information Center here.

There are few who could not qualify for the classes designed for the homemaker with limitations on her time, energy or physical capacity.

The free work simplification and body mechanics sessions are to be held from 1 to 3 p.m. Dec. 1 and 8 at the center, 286 Hunter.

Registrations can now be made there, according to Mrs. Pell Hollingshead of 489 Arlye, center co-chairman.

"While all persons can benefit from this kind of instruction, it has special meaning to people with heart or circulatory ailments," she said.

GREAT VALUE

"Experience has shown that the classes have great value for many physically handicapped individuals as well as for those who must conserve their energy."

The classes are taught by Mrs. Ruth Kettunen, Michigan Heart Association consultant in homemaker rehabilitation.

The first session will deal with discussion and demonstrations of sit-down work, work levels and the selection and use of household equipment.

The second meeting will be devoted to kitchen layout, work centers, storage arrangements and the application of work simplification principles to specific jobs.

Mrs. Hollingshead emphasized that the instruction is concerned with useful techniques for life and work and that no medical advice is given.

Drawings, etchings and lithographs by Kaethe Kollwitz will be featured in an exhibit opening next week at the Little Gallery, 915 E. Maple.

Preview showing of "Kaethe Kollwitz and Her Contemporaries" will be from 3 to 6 p.m. tomorrow. The exhibit will open Tuesday and be on display through Dec. 31.

Vote Is Today in Paper Strike

Publications Resume if Pressmen OK Pact

DETROIT (AP) — Striking pressmen were summoned to a ratification meeting today on terms for ending the nation's longest strike shutdown of metropolitan daily newspapers.

Members of local 13 of the International Pressmen's Union were urged by their leadership to accept the terms.

The strike of pressmen and the affiliated Plate and Paper Handlers Union Local 10 — which settled last week — closed the Detroit News and Detroit Free Press July 13, or 131 days ago.

Settlement terms were arrived at early Friday with the assistance of Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Auto Workers.

Local 13 President Freeman Frazee and his negotiating committee said in advance of today's meeting that they unanimously recommended approval of the terms.

The local has about 450 members, including employees of job printing shops. The membership includes about 200 Detroit News pressmen and 100 Free Press pressmen.

Waterford JCs to Join Police in Antismut Drive

Ted McCullough Jr., president of the Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce, said today that the Jaycees would join forces with township police in their current antismut campaign.

Sgt. David Putnam and Detective Richard Ranner of the police department began a township-wide appeal this week to have dealers remove smutty material from their newsstands.

The police officers will give a progress report on their dealer contact campaign at Monday night's meeting of the Jaycees' board of directors.

Plans for future action in the antismut appeal also will be outlined at the meeting.

NEW WATERFORD SCHOOLS — Dedication ceremonies are slated tomorrow for the Waterford Township School District's two new elementary schools, Silver Lake (top) and Riverside. The Riverside dedication is scheduled for 2 p.m. and the Silver Lake program is slated for 3:30 p.m. The schools, a part of the school system's $6.25-million building program, both opened in September.

Storm Dumps Snow Cold Knives Across U.S.

By The Associated Press
The coldest weather of the season, along with snow and gusty winds, knifed across wide areas in the eastern half of the nation today, cutting off the long period of mild autumn temperatures.

Arctic air poured into the north central states, dropping temperatures far below zero and 20 or more degrees below normal marks. The cold air spread eastward and southward and the mercury hit freezing in sections of the Southland. Freeze warnings were posted

ANGELHOLM, Sweden (AP) — A Swedish airliner approaching Barkarby field in rain and low clouds Friday night snagged its nose wheel on a railway power line and crashed in a ball of flame. Authorities said 31 of the 43 passengers and crewmen were killed.

The victims included three members of the Swedish Parliament.

Authorities said the plane's second officer, a native of Norway, was the only foreigner among those killed in the crash.

The Weather

Full U.S. Weather Bureau Report
PONTIAC AND VICINITY — Mostly cloudy, windy and cold today, tonight and tomorrow with occasional periods of light snow flurries. Highs today 22 to 23. Lows tonight 10 to 17. Highs tomorrow 23 to 30. Winds westerly at 15 to 25 miles an hour today, diminishing slowly tonight and tomorrow. Monday's outlook is partly cloudy and not quite as cold.

NATIONAL WEATHER — Snow is predicted from the Great Lakes to the Appalachians tonight and also in northern New England and parts of Montana and Colorado. Showers and drizzle are expected in central and southern Florida. Temperatures will be colder east of the central Plains and warmer over the Plateau states and northern and central Plains.

BREAK GROUND — Developer Harold Goldman (left), City Commissioner Robert C. Irwin and City Manager Joseph A. Warren broke ground yesterday for the first of four buildings in a 50-unit apartment complex on Wide Track near Cottage. Goldman expects his housing project to be completed by spring.

Bid to Halt Cong Gains Martial Law in Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The government proclaimed martial law today in six flood-ravaged central provinces in an apparent attempt to halt Communist gains.

Two typhoons have hit the coastal region this month permitting the Viet Cong to make significant inroads. Highway and rail communications are still disrupted.

Viet Cong strength in the area had increased sharply five months before nature dealt a blow to the government's anti-Communist war. The government claimed the Viet Cong infiltrated from North Viet Nam.

In other fighting, government troops killed 57 Viet Cong and captured 17 others in a third successful "eagle" flight in as many days, a U.S. military spokesman said Friday.

Will Discuss Speed Limit in Waterford

Representatives of the Oakland County Road Commission will appear at Monday night's Waterford Township Board meeting to discuss a disputed speed limit on North Cass Lake Road.

Residents in the area of North Cass Lake Road south of Pontiac Lake Road contend that the present 40 miles per hour limit is excessive, but the commission maintains that it is realistic.

In other business Monday the board will consider a planning commission recommendation that Vern Wiggins be named acting township planning director.

Wiggins had resigned Nov. 1 to take a planning position in private industry.

Press Exec Named to Association Unit

Howard H. Fitzgerald II, executive vice president and business manager of the Pontiac Press, has been appointed a member of the Inter American Press Association's committee on freedom of the press.

The appointment of new committee members from all parts of the world for 1964-65 was announced by Pedro G. Beltran, president of the Association.

Beltran of La Prensa in Lima, Peru, also announced the reappointment of John Duflo, the Chicago Tribune, as chairman of the Freedom of the Press Committee.

Pilot Tells of Escape From Reds

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A Navy jet pilot held captive almost three months by Laotian Reds says he escaped with three Laotian prisoners by breaking out of a barbed-wire stockade.

Li. Cmdr. Charles Klusmann says he was in solitary confinement nearly two months and after his escape spent three days in leech-infested jungles before reaching friendly forces.

From the outset, he says, he was determined to escape or die trying.

The Communists said Klusmann signed a statement favorable to their cause, but the Navy says his conduct throughout was "entirely satisfactory." It says the document he signed for the Communists stated only that he had been adequately fed and cared for and requested his release.

Death Claims News Giant Was Once Head of Major Wire Service

NEW YORK (AP) — Roy W. Howard, 81, a dynamic giant of American journalism for more than half a century, died Friday night of a heart attack.

He was chairman of the executive committee of Scripps-Howard newspapers, which he had helped build into a major newspaper group. He was the first managing editor, and later president, of United Press, the news service that is now United Press International.

Howard was stricken at his Park Avenue office. He died several hours later at doctors' hospital.

He was an energetic man, full of sardonic wit and tart talk. "Never take yourself too seriously," was a rule he said he took early in life.

Painting by Cezanne Sold for $1.4 Million

LONDON (AP)—The National Gallery has bought a Cezanne painting for $1.4 million, by far the highest price known to have been paid for a work by the French master and believed to be the highest price ever paid for an impressionist painting.

Time Will Help Befuddled Child to Adjust

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE:
Our daughter, a college freshman, recently brought her roommate home for a weekend. We are greatly worried about this girl's influence on Marcia. She is older, and a child of divorce who has spent much of her life in boarding schools. When she was here she drank to much and talked about men in way that made it clear she had a good deal of sexual experience. We could see the change she's made in Marcia who treated her father and me like two old fogies.

Answer: You mean that she showed scorn for your opinions, don't you? Did you insist on their absolute rightness during her childhood?

Because, adolescent children do heap scorn on us if we have claimed absolute rightness for our opinions during their childhoods.

UNRELIABLE

As they discover they can't apply all our judgements to their problems, we become as totally unreliable as we were once totally reliable.

They obey us by refusing an important boy sexual intimacy and lose him. They make friends with a girl whose parents share our religious views and the girl says, "I'm an atheist, myself."

They express our political convictions in a dormitory argument and get treated as half-wits.

The awful possibility that our opinions lack the absolute rightness we've claimed for them dawn on them and they turn upon us as "old fogies" without the sense to come in out of the rain.

In my opinion there is no answer but time. Your Marcia's roommate hasn't got all the right answers either. But time has to reveal this fact to Marcia.

Time, not you, has to expose her roommate as the befuddled child she is. Time is what will undermine her influence as Marcia notes the effect of too many hangovers on her school-work, her sexual failures, the problems she creates for herself with her teachers.

INSUFFICIENT

As her roommates' judgements are shown up to be insufficient too, Marcia will remember yours and some of them, with luck, will become reliable again.

We have to wait nine months for a baby to be born. It's an uncomfortable nine months. But there was no answer to our discomfort but time, was there?

That holds true for the discomfort we experience as our adolescent children struggle to grow into views of their own. It is painful to be disregarded. But disregarding you was what Marcia did when she was born as your baby. If we can remember that, her scorn becomes part of the process of birth and we can endure it.

Roger Halls Are Wed

Or Lady of Refuge Church, Orchard Lake, was the setting for the marriage today of Carmen Lucille Williams to Roger Dennis Hall.

An afternoon reception in the Hotel Waldron followed the ceremony performed by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas A. Jobs.

EMPIRE GOWN

The bride's Empire gown of white satin and Chantilly lace was styled with a lace-bordered court train. A lace crown touched with pearls and crystals held her bouffant illusion veil.

She carried an all-white cascade arrangement of carnations, sweetheart roses and pompons.

Janet Foster was maid of honor, along with bridesmaids Mrs. C. J. Cleveland and Sandra Hall.

Gerald Hall of Gary, Ind. was best man for his brother, Leo Chapin of Chicago and Richard Hall were groomsmen. Samuel Pankey and Timothy Hall seated the guests.

The bridegroom is a senior at Oakland University.

Addressing Differs on Invitations

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I am going to be married shortly at a simple afternoon wedding. As only 50 guests are to be invited, I am writing the invitations by hand.

I would like to know how the envelope should be addressed. Should it be addressed to Mr. and Mrs. Smith and begin Dear Mary and John, or should it be addressed to Mrs. John Smith alone and include him in the body of the note?

A: If you are writing informal notes, you address the envelope to Mrs. John Smith and include her husband in the note itself. If you are following the formal third person form, you address the envelope to Mr. and Mrs. John Smith.

Q: I was married two months ago and received a very handsome wedding present from my co-workers.

Now that I am settled, I would like to invite them all to a buffet supper at my house in appreciation for their very generous gift.

The problem confronting me is this:

Some of these people are married and I was wondering if it is necessary to invite their husbands or wives, who are strangers to me, to come too?

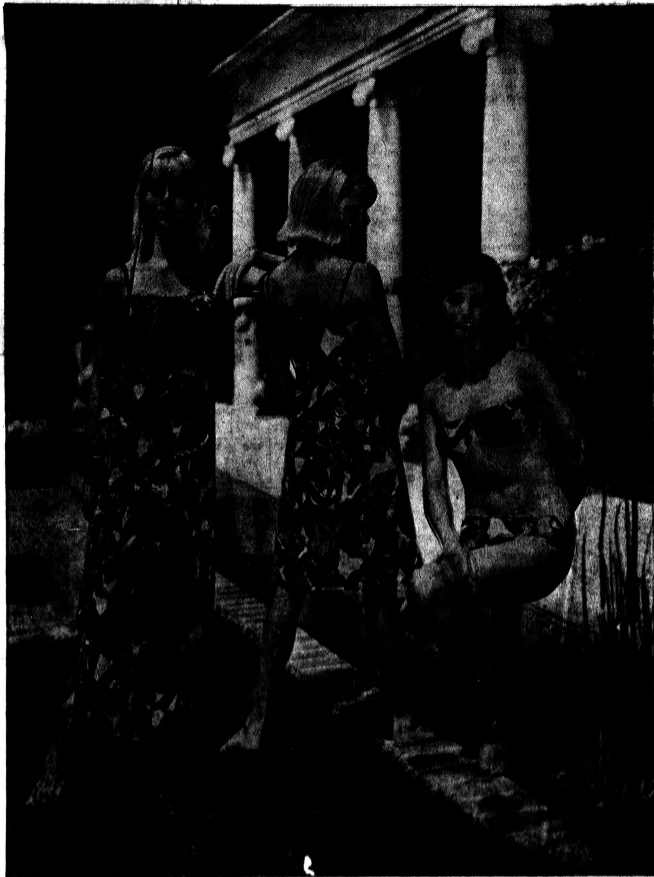

A: Even though they are strangers to you, the husbands and wives of your married co-workers should be invited to the buffet supper.

Q: Is it proper to wave a greeting to a friend who is seated at another table in a restaurant?

A: To smile and bow slightly when you catch the eye of a friend is best manners.

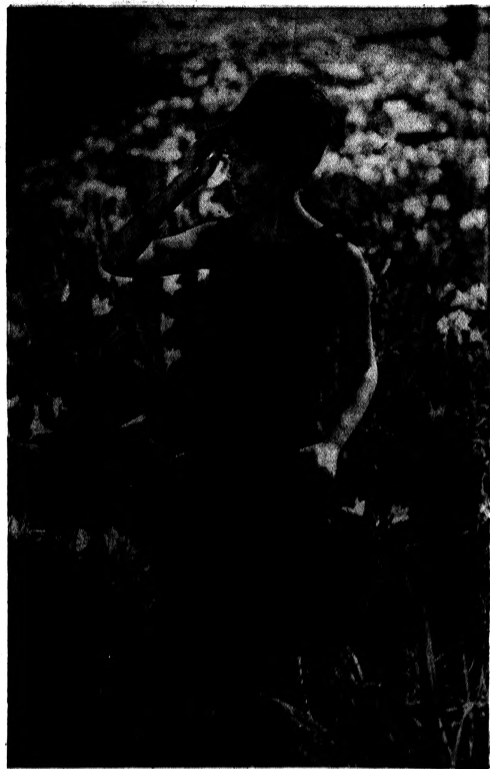

A slight wave of the hand is also permissible but a conspicuous wave, which attracts the attention of other diners, is certainly not proper.

Trilevel Features Terraced Garden

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Managing four growing children, a home and a profession doesn't daunt Mrs. Donald L. Cole. She has found the perfect answer to career blending, Mrs. Florence Shoemaker. Mrs. Shoemaker has been the family children's nurse for almost 10 years.

"With Florence in charge," said Mrs. Cole, "I can go about my teaching duties completely sure that our youngsters are in capable hands."

Mr. and Mrs. Cole and their children, Steven, 8; Lisa, 7; Diane, 6 and Pam, 4, live on Westview Court in Bloomfield Hills.

Built on a sloping lot, their contemporary white-brick tri-level features both a terraced garden of Ohio bluestone and a planted wall of volcanic rock in the back yard.

Three smoked-glass globes illuminate the large entryway. Walnut beams add contrast to the area's off-white ceiling and three walls. The fourth wall is papered in a gold and green washable print.

Stairs, carpeted in sculptured beige-with-a-green-cast, lead to the lower family room level and to the upper bedroom wing.

A hand-carved rosewood and camphorwood Chinese chest at the top of the stairs serves double duty. Its outstanding beauty makes it a conversation piece and its wood, a perfect place to store woolens.

The fireplace wall in the formal living room repeats the white brick of the exterior, differing only in the masonry pattern. To the side hangs an oil painting by Mrs. Cole's grandfather, George Grabhorn.

"It has been grandfather's custom," said Mrs. Cole, "to give each of his grandchildren one of his paintings when they marry. We are so pleased with ours, we used it as our color guide for the living room."

Carpets of beige - green and walls near the same tone create a cool background in the room. Accent colors of pumpkin and gold are introduced in the tweed fabric of the sofa and shades-of-green in the diamond-patterned arm chair.

A round coffee table in the room has matched panels around a burl eye, giving a sunburst effect.

SUN PORCH

Also opening onto the summer deck is a nearby sun porch. Substituting for curtains are grey-green pull-down shades which can be easily adjusted to let in or keep out the sun's rays.

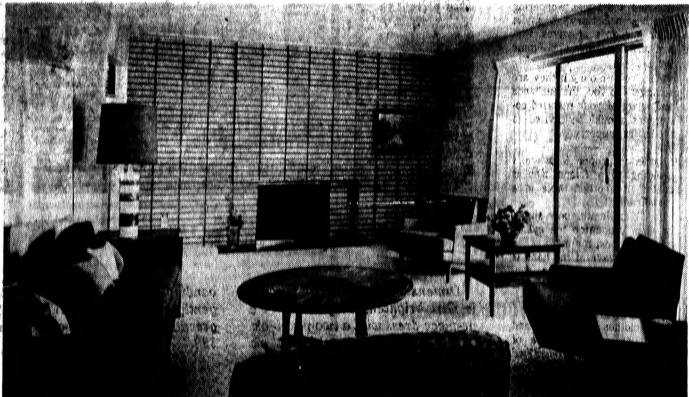

The furniture pieces have grey-green wrought iron bases. Covered in an abstract pattern of turquoise, brown, gold and moss green are the sofa and tufted backs of the chairs. Cushions on the chairs are upholstered in grey-green.

Pink geraniums add a bright touch to the muted colors of the room.

System Has Four Parts

Ever hear of DWV?

You simply couldn't have a home these days without DWV, which in the plumbing industry means drain-waste-vent piping and fittings for your home plumbing drainage system.

Your home drainage system has four parts. The first is the drain, or main soil stack, that carries the waste away from the various fixtures to a main drain which empties into the sewer drain outside of the home.

The second part includes the waste lines from sinks, baths and lavatories which empty into the main soil stack.

The third part is the vent stack, which reaches up to the roof, to open air, with branches from each fixture. The vent stack helps with the proper flushing and drainage and carries away any possible sewer gas.

The fourth part is the house sewer which runs underground from the house connection to the city sewer or private septic tank.

Most home owners never see all of the arteries of the home plumbing drainage system buried in the walls and floors of the house.

That is why permanent, durable DWV is so important. Any failure of the DWV system could mean expensive repairs. No plumbing drainage system is stronger than its weaker link.

Buyers of new homes should make a definite point to discuss the plumbing drainage system with the builder or the plumbing contractor, or if buying an older home, with the present owner to determine the quality of materials used.

Tranquilizer in Any Home

One sure tranquilizer in nearly any home is a kitchen remodeling project. Modernization of an old kitchen is one way to keep the distaff side humming on a happy note.

In modernizing an old kitchen, don't overlook such important areas as countertops and back-splashes.

They should be surfaced with a stainproof and waterproof material such as ceramic tile — making them extra easy for the busy homemaker to keep clean.

Sunglasses are being made that can be changed to any degree of darkness by turning a button.

Plumber's Friend Helps Clear Drain

Clearing the sink drain may be accomplished in one of several ways.

Often the trouble lies just below the sink strainer and can be loosened with a long screw driver or piece of wire.

Using the familiar "plumber's friend" is another effective method. For best results, pour boiling water with a little ammonia down the drain before using this implement.

There are many powerful drain-clearing compounds available through plumbing contractors. Extreme care should be used in handling these compounds, as their ingredients can burn the skin.

Most home owners never see all of the arteries of the home plumbing drainage system buried in the walls and floors of the house.

That is why permanent, durable DWV is so important. Any failure of the DWV system could mean expensive repairs. No plumbing drainage system is stronger than its weaker link.

Buyers of new homes should make a definite point to discuss the plumbing drainage system with the builder or the plumbing contractor, or if buying an older home, with the present owner to determine the quality of materials used.

Annual Mass at Cathedral

More than 10,000 men from the Metropolitan Detroit and Windsor areas, who have made retreats at St. Paul of the Cross Retreat House have received invitations for themselves and their families to attend the Fourth Annual Memorial Mass for deceased retreatants.

The Mass will be celebrated at the Blessed Sacrament Cathedral, Woodward at Belmont in Detroit at 6:30 p.m. Tuesday. Celebrant this year will be the Very Rev. James Busch, C.P., who was recently appointed to be rector at St. Paul's Monastery.

Preaching the sermon will be the founder of the St. Paul Retreat movement, the Rev. Declan Egan, C.P., who now serves as retreat director at the Passionist House in Cincinnati.

Honored guests are the members of the immediate families of retreatants, who have died in the past year.

Marimont Youth Will Attend Rally

Young people of Marimont Baptist Church will attend the Conservative Baptist Youth Rally in Flint Friday and Saturday. Several workshops will be offered dealing with youth work Saturday.

Rev. Ralph Crotty will be the main speaker.

Mrs. George Morgan will direct the Jet Cadets in their program entitled "A Horn of Plenty" at 6:30 p.m. tomorrow. Mary Matthew will be in charge of the junior high program and Susan Ward will lead the senior high group in a discussion on "Is Home a Dull Place?"

Protestant Blood Bank at Bethany

The American Red Cross Blood Bank of Pontiac Area Protestant churches will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. and again from 6 to 8 p.m. Nov. 30 in Bethany Baptist Church, West Huron at Mark.

This is an open blood bank and donors can specify where credit is to be made.

Mrs. M. H. Baldwin said it would be helpful if donors would contact her to schedule appointments.

The American Red Cross Bloodmobile is open to all Protestant churches in the Pontiac area.

For any participating church, blood will be released to any member, or to any member of the participating member's family wherever located, provided the Red Cross Blood program is active there.

Overcomes Denver Foe

BOSTON (AP) — Boston line-backer Tom Addison pried loose his helmet and summed up the 12-7 victory over Denver — "we had a big letdown."

Gino Cappelletti, who had a touchdown pass reception, a 50-yard field goal and a conversion kick to account for 10 points added: "Nobody had it."

Romeo, Franklin Put Two on Area Eleven

Romeo and Livonia Franklin picked up two berths apiece on the Pontiac Press All-Area grid-iron team.

Quarterback Sam Antonazzo and guard Frank Whitton represent Franklin. Halfback Phil Sweeney and center Tim Quinn are the Romeo representatives.

Sherman Plunkett of Baltimore is the heaviest member of the New York Jets football team. The 29-year-old outside tackle scales 295 pounds.
