QUADS PRODUCE PICKLE—Ciro Bravata was as proud as any father of quadruplets has ever been (above), when his wife gave birth to the four babies in East Orange, N.J., Saturday. But in the publicity connected with the multiple birth, it was revealed that the quads' mother was not his legal wife. The woman who was, Mrs. Grace Bravata, collapsed at her home in New York (below) after hearing the news. She is aided by a newsman, her son Robert and a neighbor. Bravata wants to divorce the first Mrs. Bravata.

Gromyko, Lloyd Confer in Private

Discuss Way Out of East-West Deadlock on Nuclear Test Ban

GENEVA (UPI)—Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko and British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd held a private meeting today to discuss a way out of the East-West deadlock over outlawing nuclear weapons tests.

The surprise meeting, asked for by Gromyko, was held at Lloyd's villa just a few hours before the three-power nuclear test ban conference was scheduled to end a four-week recess and resume work. No Americans were invited.

Also attending the meeting were Soviet Nuclear Delegation Chief Semyon Tsarapkin and a British delegate David Ormsby-Gore, minister of state for foreign affairs.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, head of the U.S. delegation at the nuclear conference, did not go.

'WE JUST TALKED'
The meeting lasted 45 minutes, Lloyd told newsmen afterward. "We just talked," Gromyko was equally uninformative.

A spokesman merely stated that Gromyko had asked Lloyd for the meeting to discuss the nuclear conference and Lloyd agreed.

The nuclear conference, which has been going on since last October, was recessed May 12 until today so as not to interfere with the beginning of the foreign ministers conference.

Crash-Explosion Kills 16 on Bus

32 Farm Workers Hurt in Remodeled Truck on Arizona Highway

PHOENIX, Ariz.—Sixteen farm laborers were killed and 32 others were injured when a crudely fashioned bus crashed into a tree and exploded near Phoenix today.

The Arizona Highway Patrol, which had difficulty determining the number of bodies in the twisted wreckage, listed these figures as official but said there may be more dead.

All the victims were Mexican nationals.

Many of the injured were reported in serious condition with burns and broken bones.

Emergency facilities at Memorial Hospital were overtaxed and some of the less seriously injured were stretched out on tables and chairs in a waiting room.

SCRAMBLE FOR FREEDOM

Two survivors told of the scramble to get out the door of the bus and how the laborers had to fight their way around a big water barrel and a pile of suitcases near the door.

The accident was the worst traffic crash in Arizona history. The National Safety Council said the crash might be classified as either a truck or a bus accident. Its records showed the highest toll in a truck hitting a stationary object was four in 1950. The worst bus accident under similar conditions took 23 lives in 1931.

Patrolmen said the driver, Nito Manuel Gloria Jr., apparently fell asleep at the wheel while taking the workers from the farm labor office at Mesa, Ariz., west of Phoenix, to fields at Tolson, east of Phoenix.

The truck, which had been converted into a bus with sides and a top, left a main suburban thoroughfare just south of the Phoenix city limits, plowed through a ditch and smashed into a tree.

Patrolmen said the head-on crash burst the vehicle's fuel line and caused an explosion.

LIKE THUNDER

Elmer Charbeneau, who lives near the scene, said an explosion awakened him.

"It sounded like a loud clap of thunder," he said. "I ran to the window and saw flames spread over the entire bed of the bus. Then I heard screaming."

"By the time I got there, most of those who could get out were wandering in a nearby field or were stretched out in the ditch."

Pontiac's highest temperature thus far in 1959, a collar-wilting 90 degrees, was predicted by the weatherman this morning, and by 1 p.m. the forecast had materialized.

To the delight of sunbather enthusiasts, the mercury is expected to reach the 90 mark again Tuesday, with fair skies.

Tonight the temperature will drop no lower than 70. Tomorrow night's low will hover in the 66 to 72 degree range.

Temperatures will average about nine degrees above the normal 77 high and normal 57 low for the next five days. Showers are likely Thursday, ending Saturday.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded before 8 a.m. was 66.

Traffic Claims 11 Lives; 8 in Search of Relief at Lakes Drown

Accidents took the lives of 21 persons in Michigan during the weekend, 11 of them in automobile accidents as motorists streamed to lakes and resorts for relief from the steamy sun.

Eight persons drowned, one of them following a plane crash, one man was fatally burned and a race car driver was killed during a race.

A father in Mount Morris, taking his son to the hospital for treatment of a severe cut, backed his car out of the driveway without knowing his 18-month-old daughter, Mary Ellen Routowicz, was playing behind the car.

He felt a bump and found the little girl under the car. He rushed her to McLaren General Hospital in Flint where she died six hours later.

A car-pedestrian accident in Wayne resulted in the death Saturday of two small children and critically injured a third. Howard Johnson, 5, and his six-year-old sister Jeri Lynn were fatally injured when they crossed a road with their mother, Mrs. Howard Johnson, 25.

Other traffic victims included Ronald Sargent, 21, Ecorse, fatally injured yesterday in a two-car collision in Monroe County.

Elvie Ann Kylvonen, 17, Alton, died yesterday in the Upper Peninsula when the car in which she was riding overturned and rolled into Lake Superior.

James Caesar, 10, died shortly after being struck by a car Saturday in Lansing.

In Geneva, the Soviet Union today appeared trying to sidetrack Big Four negotiations on the Berlin crisis by driving directly for an agreement to hold a summit meeting. Western officials insist Berlin comes first.

Secret exchanges were to resume today as the foreign ministers began their fifth week of negotiation. An American informant said the talks still hinge on the Soviet threat to Berlin, which has hamstringing the parley from the start.

The apparent Soviet strategy for the final stage of the conference emerged in statements by Premier Nikita Khrushchev and a spokesman for the Communist East German regime. They seemed to rule out any radically different instructions to Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

Khrushchev said in Budapest before returning to Moscow that East-West accords "undoubtedly will be reached at the summit" even if no agreement is achieved by the foreign ministers.

The Soviet premier displayed confidence a summit meeting will materialize by advising the governments of Finland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway that he may have to postpone the Scandinavian tour he is scheduled to make in August.

Bonds Should Have Higher Yield, He Says

Also Wants Hike in National Debt Ceiling to $288 Billion

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower today asked Congress to scrap the interest ceiling on government bonds, both long and short term. He also called for an increase in the national debt ceiling.

In a special message, Eisenhower said such steps are necessary for successful management of the public debt, now a record 286 billion dollars.

He said the Treasury Department will formally put before Congress requests for:

1. Removal of the current 3 1/2 per cent interest ceiling on savings bonds.
2. Elimination of the present 14 per cent interest limit on marketable bonds of more than five years maturity.
3. A hike in the permanent national debt ceiling from the current 283 billion dollars to 288 billion dollars, plus an increase in the temporary limit from the present 288 billion to 295 billion.

In the savings bond field, Eisenhower said the Treasury Department plans a new interest rate of 3 1/2 per cent on all series "E" and "H" bonds sold beginning June 1. That is an interest hike of a half of one per cent.

Eisenhower said further the Treasury Department plans an "improved interest rate" on all series "E" and "H" bonds now outstanding, as well as improved extension terms for outstanding "E" bonds when they mature.

"The public debt must be managed so as to safeguard the public credit," Eisenhower told Congress.

"It must be managed in a way that is consistent with economic growth and stability."

The President cited reasons why he believes removal of the interest ceiling on government bonds is necessary at this time.

Mail Sent Successfully by Missile

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department today announced the first successful mail delivery by guided missile.

The missile, a Navy Regulus I, was launched by a U.S. submarine in the Atlantic and landed at the auxiliary naval air station at Mayport near Jacksonville, Fla.

The submarine was the Barbero, a missile vessel.

The distance the missile traveled was not disclosed. The department said only that the submarine was somewhere at sea.

The cargo of 3,000 letters included one addressed to President Eisenhower.

Other messages in the cargo, all from Postmaster General Summerfield, were for members of the Cabinet, members of Congress, justices of the Supreme Court, the governors of all American states and territories, and the pastmasters general of the 99 other nations which are members of the Universal Postal Union.

The missile was fired at 10:10 a.m. and landed safely at 10:32 a.m., the department said.

Summerfield, describing the event in a telephone conversation with the Washington Evening Star, said it was a dramatic sight.

He reported the wheeled missile made a perfect landing on the runway, trailing a parachute to slow it down.

The weight of the payload was not immediately disclosed but Summerfield said postal workers were ready for it.

They unloaded the mail, processed it and sped it on its way.

Fenton Attorney Facing Prison

State Supreme Court Rejects Dye's Appeal of Assault Conviction

The State Supreme Court has upheld the 1956 Oakland County Circuit Court conviction of former Fenton Village attorney Clifford B. Dye.

Chief Justice Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said Dye would be turned over to prison authorities to begin serving a 2-to-10 year term "unless he comes up with some other legal action."

Although Dye was not available for comment, his Flint attorney, Andrew J. Transue, said he did not know what further legal action Dye would take "until I talk with him."

Dye was convicted March 1, 1956, of assault with intent to do great bodily harm in the Aug. 26, 1955 non-fatal shooting of William C. Clark, following disputes between the two over management of a farm leased by Clark from Dye's sister.

Judge Clark J. Adams sentenced Dye to the prison term. Dye, however, escaped the term by immediately appealing the conviction to the high court.

Dye, who was refused a second trial by Judge Adams in May of 1956, claimed in his appeal, among other things, that Taylor was "prejudicial" during the course of the nine-day trial.

Following many delays and postponements, Dye early last year was ordered by the supreme court to file his appeal. Taylor accused Dye of "deliberate procrastination in bringing this case to a conclusion."

Upon learning of the affirmation by the high court, Taylor said he would await confirmation of the ruling from Lansing, after which Dye should surrender himself to sheriff's deputies.

All were taken to Pontiac General Hospital. Troopers found the Clarkston woman unconscious, pinned under the dashboard of her smashed auto Sunday afternoon.

The Rev. Easton H. Hazard, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church, Pontiac, was given his retirement at the Detroit Annual Conference of the Methodist Church in Detroit last weekend.

His successor was named yesterday by Bishop Marshall R. Reed, episcopal head of Methodism in Michigan. He is the Rev. James McChung, who is being transferred from Dearborn.

The Rev. Hazard has been pastor of St. Paul's for the past seven years. Before coming to Pontiac, he served churches in Harbor Beach, Algonac, North Branch, Montrose, Vassar, Saginaw, Clio and others. He has spent 39 years in the ministry.

Area Chutist Nearly Fried on Tension Wires

A Waterford Township stunt parachute jumper came within a foot yesterday of being cooked alive on high tension wires.

Joseph H. Andres, 21, of 7673 Maerdy Lake Rd., jumped from a plane flying at 4,000 feet during an air show at the Huron Memorial Airport in East Ave. He waited until he was at 1,000 feet and pulled the rip cord.

"When I was about 200 feet off the ground I realized I was way off my designated landing spot and headed directly for some high tension wires," said Andres, an assembler at the Lincoln Mercury plant in Wixom.

"I tried to slip in my harness to get away from the wires," he recalled. He said his body passed within 12 inches of the wires but his canopy got caught and burned up when two of the wires came together.

"I've had close calls before," said Andres, who was jumping for the 17th time, "but this was the closest."

He said sheriff deputies of Huron County helped him from his harness after he touched ground. The unharmed Andres said he planned his 18th jump this week end.

LEON V. BELKNAP

Road Engineer Succumbs at 71

Retired Official Was Local Highway Head for 41 Years

Leon V. Belknap, engineer-manager of the Oakland County Road Commission for 41 years before his retirement in 1957, died yesterday.

Belknap, who was 71, was the guiding light in the development of hundreds of miles of county roads.

When he first started with the Commission in July of 1916 only Woodward avenue, then a single-lane highway from Detroit to Pontiac, was paved. Most of the commission's equipment was horse drawn.

Death came to the widely-known and respected Belknap yesterday at 7 a.m. at his home at 188 E. Lequons Rd. He had been ill several weeks.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Sparks Griffin Chapel. Burial will be at the White Chapel Cemetery. Rev. William H. Marbach will officiate.

Born Dec. 22, 1887 in Whittemore, Belknap received a degree in civil engineering from Michigan State University in 1909.

He spent a year doing land surveys in Iscoo County before becoming engineer with the Illinois Central Railroad at Birmingham, Ala. from 1910 to 1911, during which he coordinated construction of tracks and terminal construction.

After subsequent positions with the U.S. Gypsum Co. of Alabaster, Commonwealth Power Co., Jackson, and the Kansas City Terminal Railway, Belknap became county highway engineer for Gladwin County in 1915.

He remained there until July of 1916 when he came to Oakland County to begin a long career.

He was past president of the Pontiac Kiwanis Club, Michigan Road Builders Assn., and the County Road Commission of Michigan.

At his retirement Oct. 1, 1957, Belknap was one of the oldest county highway managers in the state in terms of service.

He was married to Helen L. Martindale on May 21, 1912.

Mrs. Belknap survives along with daughters Mrs. Gordon Reynolds of Pontiac, Mrs. William Pheasant of Berkeley, and three grandchildren. Also surviving is a brother Leslie Belknap of Grand Lodge.

The Day in Birmingham

Widening of Eton Road Again Up for City Action

A four-year-old problem will be ended tonight if Birmingham City Commissioners declare the necessity of repaving Eton road and extending the present 18-foot width to 41 feet.

Begun in March, 1955, the project has been subject to delays and setbacks ever since. In 1956, the necessity was declared but confirmation of the assessment roll failed to get the required five affirmative votes from commissioners.

A second hearing for tonight's meeting concerns rezoning city-owned land at Quanton Lake to permit residential construction there.

Commissioner John S. O'Gorman, whose term expires in 1961, has resigned his post effective tonight. O'Gorman has purchased a home in Tucson, Ariz., and will leave Birmingham shortly.

Bloomfield Township police arrested three area youths early yesterday morning on charges of minors in possession of alcoholic beverages. The fourth youth escaped when officers stopped the car.

Police Lt. Newton Tibbs said Lynn Birchard, 17, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Birchard, 1808 Stanley St.; Michael L. Hogan, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Hogan, 138 Pierce St.; and Robert G. Squiers, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Squiers, of 26421 Normandy Rd., Franklin, were stopped after their car ran a traffic signal at Gilbert Lake and West Maple roads.

Tibbs said police found 25 empty beer bottles in the car plus five cans and six full bottles.

Birmingham's first fire bell will be dedicated at 7:15 tonight as a memorial to volunteer firefighters.

James W. Cobb, of 167 Oakland Ave., who served as volunteer chief from 1913 to 1915, will be the guest of honor. Another former chief, Vern W. Griffith, who served from 1930 to 1935, also will be present. Merritt Olsen will represent his father, the late William D. Olsen, chief from 1915 to 1930.

The bell was purchased by D. H. Reynolds for $5 when the old fire hall was torn down nearly 30 years ago to make room for the Briggs building at Maple and Woodward avenues.

Mayor Harry M. Denyes will conduct the ceremony.

Construction plunged downward again last month, according to Andrew F. Butt, building inspector. The 34 permits issued totaled $276,076, only about a third as much as the previous month, he said.

Butt's report shows six single-family dwelling permits in the amount to $134,000 as the largest.

Girl Hangs Herself Tying Swing in Tree

A 13-year-old Burlington Township girl, who was trying to put a swing up in a tree Saturday evening, accidentally hanged herself with the twine she was using.

Lapeer County Sheriff's deputies reported today.

The victim was Judy Bayles, who was staying with her brother-in-law, Danae Mead, at 789 Slatery Rd.

Officers said they found the chair the girl had used to reach the branch overturned under the tree. They said Judy had apparently slipped off the chair and the binder twine became entangled around her neck as she fell.

Men, New Key to Success—Smell Important

By PHYLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK — My husband is a man who smells of good clean soap, with a dash of after-shave for zest, and a trace of nicotine so's he shouldn't seem too pious. I like him this way.

But now I discover he is off-beam. He does not have that very-rich or very-powerful aroma. He does not, to put it historically, "smell important."

"The symbol of the very rich and the very powerful men in history," said Paul D. Blackman, a man with some of the symptoms, "is his aroma." The most prosperous men, in their best days, have showered themselves with fragrances.

"Take Napoleon, say. He had a lackey pour a quart of perfume over him every day — that's the truth. Alexander the Great had pipes filled with perfume built into the floor, on the correct theory that odors rise. Nero sprayed perfume from his walls.

"But the American male sometimes is afraid of using pleasant body odors. He takes a shower every morning of his life, and puts on fresh, clean shorts and shirts. He comes to the office smelling like laundry soap — completely sterile, god bless him."

"At night, he goes through the same process before dinner with his date or his wife."

OUTSMELLS HIM

And what happens? Blackman smiles, whimsically.

"She outsmells him. It's as simple as that."

And the consequence of being thus outsmelled? Well, since perfumes are specifically designed to lure ("they're a come-on, let's face it"), the woman as usual has the upper hand. She makes the decisions. Like which movie to go to.

Mr. Blackman knows all about this business because it's his business, concocting fragrances for gentlemen. He is not concerned, because although the "typical" male still may have a predominately hygienic aroma, more dollars are spent for male fragrances in America today than for female.

A record 480-million dollars a year is spent on scented after-shaves, talcs, colognes, etc., and males. Musk, from the musk deer, civet, from the cat, and ambergris, from the sperm whale. Significant, isn't it?

Sociologists and anthropologists make much these days of the fact that today's American male has begun to dress for women.

Dr. Margaret Mead has said, "In the advertisements, men are now told how they, if they wear the right hat, may be the chosen one, the loved one — a role that used to be reserved for women."

FROM MALE ANIMALS

"By the way, the basic fixatives in all perfumes for women are male odors. Come from male animal. Musk, from the musk deer, civet, from the cat, and ambergris, from the sperm whale. Significant, isn't it?"

I told my husband about this and he just smiled, smelling of lavender and that intoxicating aroma, peppermint toothpaste. He said he is not averse to lavender but personally, it doesn't make him feel particularly powerful. So saying, he took out a $10 bill and rubbed it violently behind the ears.

It wasn't lasting, but he sure smelled impressive for awhile. There's nothing like that rich, freshly-minted aroma!

90-Year-Old Woman Holds 1st Art Exhibit

SUMMIT, N. J. — Recently Mrs. Anna Leth celebrated her 90th birthday, and held her first painting exhibition.

Her work ranged from scenes reflecting her childhood in Sweden to paintings of Korean scenes, done from snapshots sent by her grandson while he was there.

Mrs. Leth began painting at 81 when her son-in-law brought a canvas and paint to her while she was recovering from a broken hip.

The U. S. produces 14 million pounds of lamp black annually, used chiefly in paint and ink pigments.

Coloradan First World Bronco King

OVIED, Colo. — The first world champion bronco rider? A head stone in a northeastern Colorado cemetery says it was Thad Sowder, a Kentucky native, who was buried at Ovid after his death in 1931.

Friends of Sowder say the bronco championship first was recognized in 1901 at Denver's Festival of Mountain and Plain. Sowder won the champion's silver belt buckle that year and again in 1902. The next year he was with Buffalo Bill Cody's Wild West Show in Europe.

Wave of Hand Sends Telegram on Gentle Float

DENVER — If you wave to a girl on the balcony at Denver's Union Station, she may toss you a note. But it's strictly business.

The girl is following a 40-year-old system designed to save a long walk.

Miss Jessie Frank of the Western Union office on the station's main floor explains it: Whenever a secretary in an office on the second or third floor has a telegram to send, she presses a button which buzzes in Miss Frank's office.

Then Miss Frank walks out into the waiting room to catch the folded message. But if she is busy she may say to a customer or a man waiting for his train: "Do you see a girl up on balcony? Please wave to her." He does and the telegram floats down.

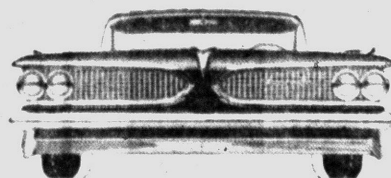

Hugs tighter on curves...

the road-hugging Wide-Track Pontiac!

Wide-Track Wheel design brings car and road into a new relationship. The wheels of a Pontiac are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance but not the car. There's a feeling of complete control, road-holding response. You're steadier, more secure, balanced. Lean and sway disappear. It's the automotive advancement of the year and one of the big reasons why you see so many new Pontiacs these days. Hasn't the day come for you to drive this sleek beauty? The keys are waiting at your nearest dealer.

THE ONLY CAR WITH WIDE-TRACK WHEELS

Dotted lines show conventional wheel positions. Pontiac's wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens only the stance, not the car itself. Pontiac hugs tighter on curves and corners. Sway and lean are considerably reduced, ride is smoother, balanced, steadier.

Beware of Sister . . . Abby

Your Lovin' Spouse Is No Louse

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a milkman and I am expecting our fifth child. My sister-in-law told me that there's a lady on his route who is just wild for him. She answers the door in her shorty nightgown and route who is nightgown and he has key to her back door and comes in and puts the milk in her refrigerator. It's only two quarts. I asked my husband about this. He said it's all true but this woman is a little unbalanced, and if he were going to play foot-loose and fancy-free, she'd be the last on his list. I am very upset over this. Can I trust my husband?

ABBY

DEAR UPSET: Of course you can trust your husband! It's your sister-in-law you've got to watch out for.

DEAR ABBY: We aren't the kind of parents who impose on our children but we get lonesome for them and our grandchildren and drive out to see them about once a month. We call first. We live in the country about 65 miles from them. I know my daughter-in-law has lots of work to do, but wouldn't you think she'd prepare a little something to feed us when she knows we are coming? Four times now we sat and she never offered us a cup of coffee or a cracker. Pa has an ulcer, and he had to ask her for a glass of milk. My son jumps all over us if we say anything against his wife. Pa says next time we are bringing sandwiches and a thermos of milk. Would it be insulting?

DEAR MA: Parents should not have to pack a lunch when visiting their children. Your daughter-in-law is ignorant and lazy, and your son is no better. Limit your visits to brief stays, and plan to eat elsewhere.

DEAR ABBY: Many people write in to your column and criticize kids for going steady. "Going steady" is just going with one person instead of many, but if a girl gets into trouble she blames it on going steady. There are lots of kids who go steady and never get into trouble. I would much rather go with one decent boy all the time than to go out with a lot of bums. Thanks for letting me get my two cents' worth in.

GOING STEADY

DEAR GOING: How about going with a LOT of decent boys instead of just one? Limiting yourself to one boy only (even a decent one) can lead to a dangerously cozy relationship. "Nice" girls frequently get into trouble with "decent" boys when the heart rules the head.

DEAR ABBY: I don't want to be called "stuckup" but I hate to lend my comb to everyone who asks for it. Some of the girls at school (and a boy with very greasy hair) ask to use my comb and I don't know how to turn them down without getting a reputation for being a snob. Can you help me?

NOT STUCK UP

DEAR NOT: Keep your "own comb to yourself but carry an "extra" (you can buy one for a dime) in your purse for "lending out."

For your copy of WHAT EVERY TEENAGER WANTS TO KNOW, send 25c and a large self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY in care of this newspaper.

Ledwan, Fries, Morris Capture WLYA Events

Last weekend's races for Watkins Lake Yachting Assn., produced several three-timers, when Glenn Fries led the lightnings, and Chuck Morris paced the snipes to victories. Races were the third of the spring series.

Sunday's other winner was another good one for Norm Ledwan, whose thistle, First Luft, won that class, with Frank Hill in Helion, and Karl Kreitz in Kritz Kraft in order.

Following Fries, in Jo-Dee were Fred and Bruce Brode (Buss Boys), Jack Beilein (Yava Yoom), Morris R-Bitoy led Guy Duffield (G Whiz), and Ray Fickel (Bottoms Up).

Winged Foot Not Bad, Stars Agree

By DON WEISS
Associated Press Sports Writer
MAMARONECK, N.Y. (AP) — Big, bad Winged Foot—the multi-acre assembly of turf, traps and trees where the National Open golf tournament will be played starting Thursday — isn't scaring anyone right now.

Early arrivals for the 59th annual tournament are confounding bystanders by hinting the golf course actually might be fit for human golf games. This despite the well-known players' lament that the U.S. Golf Assn. customarily doctors an Open layout to the point of outright camouflage.

Fifty-three of the 150 entries turned up for weekend looks and whacks at Winged Foot and comments on line this.

Curly Muddieff. "This is an absolutely fair course. I've had a 69, 68 and 67. But then I always do that before the tournament begins."

Four-time champion Ben Hogan. "There's less rough and I would say the fairways are wider than in any championship (Open) I remember."

Julius Boros. "I've never played the course before but it isn't tricky and doesn't seem too tough. But it should be different when the pins are set for the championship."

Even Sam Snead, who annually finds the Open a shut case and regularly claims the courses are toughened beyond reason, isn't grumbling.

"My only complaint at the moment is the rule that we can carry only 14 clubs," Snead said. "I could use a brassie and a one-iron, but they'd put me over the limit."

The reason for Snead's good humor is three successive sub-par practice rounds of 66, 69 and 67 on the par 70, a 6.873-yard test. Snead had his 67 yesterday while Middlecoff fired a 69 and Hogan a 2-over-par 72. Boros said he played close to par although he was experimenting with various shots and didn't hole out at every green.

Hogan revealed that he was still taking treatments for his shoulder and back muscles but was sure he would be in good shape for the tournament.

"I get this soreness every so often, that's all," he said. "I'm here to play. If we keep getting this warm weather, there's no reason why I shouldn't be all right."

It's Miss Rawls in Round-Robin

SUMMIT, N.J. (AP) — With a seven-year jinx broken in the Women's Professional Round Robin in Golf Tournament, Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C., moves into the Minneapolis Open this week with a bankroll expanded to $10,350.

Miss Rawls scored her first round robin triumph yesterday at Canoe Brook Country Club. She picked up points progressively in the four-day, 90-hole tournament, gaining four points yesterday to finish with a plus 62 total.

In second place with a plus 43 total was last-year's round robin winner, Louise Suggs, of Sea Island, Ga. Miss Rawls and Miss Suggs played in the final round in the same foursome, with Miss Rawls carding a 75 and Miss Suggs taking a 76.

Simple Adding Error
Stands for 28 Years

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI)—Building inspector Harry J. Mathers made the startling discovery that Buffalo's 32-story city hall had apparently shrunk almost 25 feet since 1931, when its height was listed at 398 feet.

But Mathers explained that the building has always been 373½ feet tall. An error in addition had been accepted as fact for 28 years.

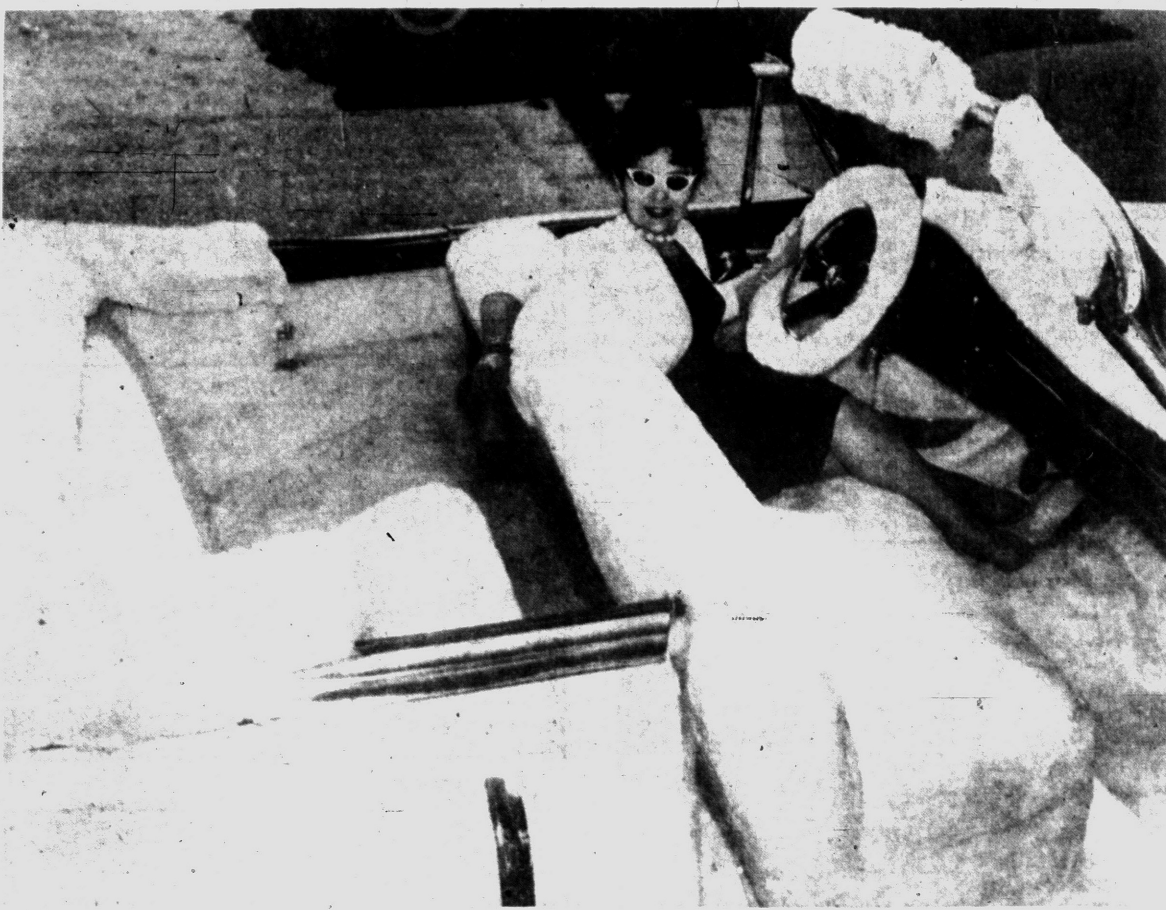

His Three Occupations
Have Common Factor

ROCKPORT, Mass. (UPI)—Ralph Baker is an ordained minister who also has served as a Weather Bureau observer and a securities salesman.

Asked how he happened to engage in such varied occupations, he replied: "It's quite simple. They all are concerned with making predictions."

Liquid Corn Heavier

RUSSELLVILLE, Ala. (AP)—Sheriff James Hovater stopped a truckload of corn for inspection because it looked too heavy. The corn he found under the corn was the moonshine type — 224 half-gallon jugs. Robert R. Mitchell was charged with transporting illegal liquor.

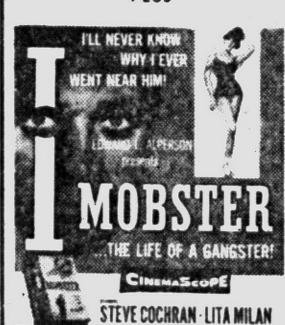

CARPET PROJECT — Who but a woman would think of having wall-to-wall, or rather wheel-to-wheel, carpeted car? New York theatrical agent Marion O'Hara shows off her white auto which is completely covered inside with acrylic fiber floor covering, not usually used for rugs. Covering seats, doors, back, floor, steering wheel, visors, and dashboard, the furry fabric is heavy, washable, so that Marion doesn't have to send the car out to be dry-cleaned every couple of days.

Threats to Negroes
End Church Camps

LEESBURG, Fla. (AP)—There will be no summer camps at Weeki-Wachee for some 100 Presbyterian boys because of threats of violence if Negroes were included, a church leader has announced.

The Rev. Terrell K. Kirk, pastor of the Leesburg Presbyterian Church and camp director, said the threats came from persons in Hernando County, where the camps are located.

One camp was to operate for white children with the other open to "qualified boys 11 to 14 from any of our churches," said Kirk. "No individuals were specifically threatened," Kirk said, "but members received word of the threats through residents of the Brooksville area in Hernando County, on the Gulf of Mexico north of Tampa."

The presbytery is still one of five in Florida. It includes churches of the Sebring, Sanford, Deland, Daytona Beach and Orlando areas.

One Orlando member is the Washington Shores church, a Negro church.

"We felt that it was only right and proper that young people from all of our churches should be allowed to attend the youth camp," said Kirk.

A decision to cancel the camps came June 2 at a meeting of the presbytery in Daytona Beach.

A letter announcing the cancellations said the presbytery is taking steps "to provide for unhindered conduct of our camp program next year."

California Dems Pledge Brown Presidential Vote
SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—The state Democratic Central Committee was on record today pledged to Gov. Edmund Brown for the party's presidential nomination in 1960.

The governor has said he does not seek the nomination. He said he could not be in San Francisco for the primary just to keep on "Once More with Feeling" was not of the state's delegation to because she had a date on the 20th to sign with Robert Lee

Hollywood Headlines

Cukor Is Likely to Replace Mourned Vidor on 'Flame'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD — George Cukor spent the entire weekend in a projection room at Columbia looking at the footage his close friend Charles Vidor had shot on "The Flame" (the Frank Lloyd story) before Vidor's tragically sudden death.

"I can't express what a shock it was to hear of Charles' death and my deepest sympathy goes to Lewis and his family. He was certainly one of our finest directors and finest gentlemen."

It is fitting that the first director summoned about taking over is George. It's typical of the friendship between the men that George stipulated this: If he feels he can carry on for his friend, he will not accept co-directing credit.

"It was Charles' picture," he said. His heart was in it and it should carry his name. The sad denoted "Flame" company, headed by Dick Bogard, remains in Vienna awaiting the new director on the William Goetz production.

Already, Hollywood's political-minded stars are tuning for the 1960 campaigns.

Today, John Wayne, Wendell Corey and George Murphy planned out for Washington, D.C., to attend the $100-a-plate Republican congressional dinner tomorrow night.

Duke Wayne will, m.e., and Wendell, for the second time, will have the honor of introducing the President of the United States.

He previously did the honors at President Eisenhower's second inaugural ball. As for George, he's very active in Republican affairs having directed the TV show at the San Francisco convention.

Ran into Arlene Dahl shopping in Beverly Hills before I left and found out the real reason she not seek the nomination. He said couldn't be in San Francisco for the primary just to keep on "Once More with Feeling" was not of the state's delegation to because she had a date on the 20th to sign with Robert Lee mon, and took a plane to London Saturday to start rehearsals for the Shakespearean festival at Stratford-on-Avon.

Congratulations to Paul and Egon who co-chaired their first anniversary. Tomorrow, Dick's spending it at Warner's talking about another movie to follow his hit in "A Summer Place."

Railroads of the United States prior to 1885 operated on its local time schedules, leading to multiple confusion.

Arlene plays the widow of a Swedish scientist who winds up married to Clifton Webb in the story.

The character actually has to speak Swedish in some of the scenes, which is the first time being able to speak my native tongue has ever had anything to do with my getting a good screen role," Arlene laughed.

Snapsheets collected at random: Now it's Cary Grant and Brigitte Bardot getting their pictures taken in Paris.

Maurice Chevalier, upset about those stories of his "scandalous" flings in Vienna, telephoned Paul Robeson in Hollywood just to prove he's suffering from a head cold.

After all the tribulations and illnesses that beset "Spartacus," Sir Laurence Olivier completed his final scenes with Jean Simmons.
