Split on Rights, GOP Convenes With Whoops

Open Struggle for VP Sought by 7 Governors

Admit That Nixon Can Get Anyone He Wants but Seek to Add Life

CHICAGO (AP)—Seven Republican governors declared today an open contest for the GOP vice-presidential nomination would stimulate their party.

They acknowledged that Vice President Richard M. Nixon—prospective head of the ticket—could swing the Republican convention to any running mate he favors.

Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois acted as spokesman for the governors after a hurriedly called meeting just before the convention opened this morning at Chicago's International Amphitheatre.

Stratton said the group discussed the party platform and "vice - presidential procedure." He predicted the party could rally around its dispute-laden platform. Denying that the governors left bypassed in formulating the platform, he noted that each state is represented on the drafting committee.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York was one of four governors at the convention who skipped the meeting.

Present besides Stratton were Harold W. Handley of Indiana, Robert E. Smylie of Idaho, Mark Hatfield of Oregon, Hugo Aronson of Montana, Caleb Boggs of Delaware and Christopher Del Sesto of Rhode Island.

"The general consensus was that there should be a number of nominations for vice president, and not be foreclosed as it was in Los Angeles," Stratton said.

N.Y. Delegation Willing to Feud

CHICAGO (AP) — New York's big delegation, under the firm control of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, was ready today to spearhead a convention floor fight for the platform he worked out with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

While siding with Nixon in the platform fight, Rockefeller still was unwilling to release the New York delegates to endorse the vice president as the Republican presidential nominee.

STILL OPEN TO DRAFT

The convention will select its nominee Wednesday night. Nixon, the only declared candidate, is considered assured of the assignment.

His plans to meet today with the Montana, Wyoming and New Mexico delegations, and Tuesday with Illinois, helped keep alive speculation the New York governor still has hopes of winning the nomination.

Rights Fireworks Brings Forth 'Moderately Liberal' Document

By NORMAN WALKER

The Republican National Convention opening today will not receive the plank formally until Wednesday night, when the full platform comes up for action.

CHICAGO (AP) — The Republican Platform Committee, after a sometimes bitter all-night session, finally adopted today a civil rights plank containing a mixture of moderate and liberal proposals. Whether it thus bypassed a convention floor fight remained a question.

Details of the plank were not announced immediately.

The composite was worked out at a closed-door session that ground on until 6:40 a.m. At one point the committee rejected 52-32 a motion that it adjourn for the night.

The politically touchy civil rights problem was tossed to the full committee after a drafting subcommittee voted 8-7 for a plank more moderate than that urged by New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and supported by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Backers of both sides had threatened a floor fight if they lost.

Rep. Melvin Laird of Wisconsin said the final product, although based on the moderates' proposals, included about half of the liberal-sponsored provisions.

Chairman Charles H. Percy said all votes were by voice, and no tally was taken.

Defeat of the liberals' offering followed claims by its supporters that many of their members had left the meeting while moderate forces remained in full strength.

Rockefeller himself had opposed earlier not only the civil rights plank chosen by the subcommittee but also the national defense pronouncement adopted by the full committee.

"I will fight right here in Chicago," if necessary, he said, to put across his views.

The platform group obviously charted a policy course that missed by a wide margin the terms set out in a compromise worked out late last week by Rockefeller and Nixon.

It appeared the platform group is largely rejecting the new look of liberalism that Rockefeller has hoped to fasten on the GOP. This was true even though many of Rockefeller's ideas have been embraced by Nixon, the party's cinch presidential choice.

MORE MODERATE?

The completed GOP platform seemed destined to be far more moderate than the one adopted by Democrats. Republicans argued, however, that their promises had more chance of attainment that what they described as the something-for-everybody pledge of the Democrats.

Rockefeller's big 96-member New York delegation, endorsing his stand, gave him a free ticket to carry a fight to the convention floor where any platform conflicts still remaining will have to be thrashed out.

Riding High Now, He's Prepared to Fight for a Strong Rights Plank

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon flew into Chicago today to accept the Republican presidential nomination and fight, if necessary, for a strongly worded civil rights plank in the platform.

Nixon's arrival today was in sharp contrast to the time eight years ago when he came to Chicago for the 1952 Republican convention.

He was nationally an unknown then, until Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower picked him to be his vice presidential running mate.

Nixon himself commented on that point in brief airport remarks. He said his expectations are somewhat different today from eight years ago when he came here "not expecting to be nominated for anything."

At Meigs Field a nine-automobile motorcade was set up for the run of 5.9 miles to the Sheraton Blackstone Hotel. Nixon was assigned to an open black convertible.

On hand were dignitaries of the state of Illinois and of the Republican National Convention which formally opened just before Nixon's chartered plane landed from Washington.

But the vice president's two young daughters, who flew in yesterday from California, beat the officials to the greeting. They were up the movable stairway and in their father's embrace before the formal proceedings got under way.

Officials at the airport estimated the welcoming crowd at around 2,000. It was a noisy one, with banners declaring "We Want Nixon," "Nixon for President," and the like.

Attacks Dems, Strives to Avoid Open Floor Fight

Stratton Blasts Away; Rousing Demonstration Greets Nixon

CHICAGO (UPI)—Vice President Nixon said today the civil rights plank approved by the GOP Platform Committee is "unsatisfactory as far as I am concerned" and should be replaced by a stronger declaration.

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO (AP) — The Republicans launched their national convention today with whoops and applause for attacks on the Democrats — and also in bitter pull-and-tug over their platform, particularly the civil rights plank.

Nixon winged into town from Washington shortly after 11 o'clock and was greeted with a rousing airport demonstration, mainly from young Republicans.

Nixon had already aligned himself for a strong civil rights plank. Before leaving Washington, he told a news conference he would back a floor fight, if necessary, for a strong plank.

But there was considerable grumbling in the party over what some conservatives called Nixon's surrender over the weekend to New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

During an all-night session of the platform committee, moderates succeeded in toning down a civil rights plank shaped to the Nixon-Rockefeller statement of principles of last Saturday morning.

While its wording was not disclosed, the plank was reported to contain a mixture of moderate and liberal proposals.

No Other Area Matches Its Performance

County Is Michigan's GOP Mainstay

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO — Oakland County looms big in the Republican party setup as the kickoff time for the GOP national convention is at hand.

HAAS

In fact, the Republican party is more indebted to Oakland County than to any of the other 82 in Michigan.

No other county, not even Detroit's Wayne County, can match its record in Republicanism.

Ever since the party was organized (in Michigan) over a century ago, Oakland County has had a record of consistently remaining in the Republican column.

It was the home of Michigan's first three-term governor, Fred M. Warner, a Republican. That was early in the present century.

And Fred Warner gathered around him a sort of kitchen cabinet of Pontiac and Oakland County men who helped him make such a record for the Republicans that it still endures.

Thad Seeley of Pontiac was state senator from the district that included Oakland County, and was considered Warner's closest confidant at Lansing.

Warner appointed Pontiac's Henry Zimmerman as state banking commissioner, and he also was a man whose word was highly respected in the governor's office.

It was a common expression around the capital that if you wanted to know how Warner felt about anything: "Ask Thad or Zim."

Oakland County's consistent Republicanism has extended right down the line after the national and state tickets.

In the matter of congressman, it has always given a majority for the Republican nominee of its district, back in the times when other counties were in a district with us, and since our great growth made us a district all by ourselves.

The same is true in the matter of state senator, where Democrats haven't had a look inside.

Oakland County's members of the Michigan House of Representatives generally have been Republican, the only exceptions being in recent years when the Democrats have garnered a few, either on a personality basis or the influence of the CIO.

On its own county officers it has almost without exception given big majorities to its Republican candidates, the number of Democrats to win being about as many as could be counted on the fingers of one hand, and then also on a personality basis.

Since Wayne's deviation from the Republican cause has been responsible for most everything that's happened to it in Michigan, it will be seen that Oakland County is the GOP's greatest bright spot in our state.

Our county went a long ways in saving Michigan for Eisenhower four years ago, and if it can do as (Continued on Page 5, Col. 3)

County Lakes Claim Two Lives Sunday

Two men drowned Sunday on Oakland County lakes. The victims were Richard Toto, 40, of 3363 Rochester Rd., Troy, and Vern E. Darlings, 23, of 3917 Gunn Rd., Oakland Township.

Toto was taking his mother-in-law Mrs. Elila Hawger, 65, for a ride in his homemade rowboat on Bald Eagle Lake in Brandon Township when he swamped the boat by making a sudden turn.

Mrs. Hawger hung on to the boat until she was rescued by Toto's brother-in-law Richard McClenaghan, 461 Big Beaver Rd., Troy. He had been on shore taking pictures of the ride.

'Reds Deliberately Misled RB47'

Lodge Shows Charts to Demonstrate Points in U.N. Speech

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States declared today it has proof that Soviet fighters deliberately pushed a U. S. RB47 off its course and shot it down over international waters.

In a dramatic speech to the U.N. Security Council, U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said this astonishing and criminal fact is established beyond doubt by the evidence of our scientific devices."

Lodge produced charts to demonstrate his points, and denounced the Soviet Union for "flagrant disregard for the standards of international conduct."

CALLED POOR ATTEMPT

He called the Soviet charges that the plane violated U.S.S.R. air space last July 1 a "complete fabrication" which must be dismissed as a poor attempt to cloak a wanton attack on a plane over international waters."

Lodge said he would introduce a resolution asking that the Council call for an impartial investigation of the entire incident, or a judgment on the case by the International Court of Justice.

"What actually happened was this: Before it (the plane) reached the point more than 50 miles north of Svatoy Nos, at which it was scheduled to turn northeast, a Soviet fighter pressed in from the seaward side and tried to force the plane off its course and into Soviet territory," Lodge said.

"The Soviet fighter was successful in forcing our plane off its course and in delaying its planned turn to the northeast. I was not successful in forcing the plane into Soviet airspace. It caused our plane to make a detour. That detour is shown by the green line (on the chart.) The prescribed course is shown by the black line.

But Thad Hutcheson, head of the Texas delegation, said a boycott of Dixie delegates from convention sessions was among a number of "spectacular" steps being considered if the full platform group should reverse the subcommittee and accept the Nixon-Rockefeller stand.

This called for aggressive action to enforce racial equality in voting, schools, housing and jobs and encouraged businessmen to end lunch counter and other segregation.

On the other side, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania predicted the convention would adopt the stronger plank if it came to a vote there. He said he would carry the battle to the full convention if the committee chose the more moderate approach.

Ike Likes GOP Defense Plank

At Odds With Rocky Who Calls It Deficient and Unrealistic

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP) — President Eisenhower thinks the national defense plank recommended by the Republican platform committee is pretty good, the summer White House said today.

And that clearly lined the President up against New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller. Rockefeller has called the plank inadequate and says it "does not face up realistically to the dangers that threaten the nation."

The plank the platform committee recommended in Chicago, on the eve of the opening of the GOP national convention, praised Eisenhower's conduct of national defense and said it would be continued on a no-price-ceiling basis.

Rockefeller has called for a 3½-billion-dollar increase in defense spending this fiscal year. He and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, sure bet for the Republican presidential nomination, agreed over the weekend that there is need for an increase in military spending. But on that occasion they mentioned no specific figure.

Eisenhower for months has taken the position that defense spending is adequate.

The White House again today declined comment on the defense views of Rockefeller, who has indicated his big New York delegation may lead a convention floor fight when the platform comes up for a vote Wednesday.

Fighting Over Rights, GOP Opens Confab

ernors that there should be an open contest for the vice presidential nomination.

Speculation over Nixon's choice has centered on U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts and Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, the GOP national chairman.

Gov. Stratton brought cheers from the delegates packing the hall by lambasting the opposition party in what was billed as a welcoming address.

"The record shows Democrat presidents failed not once, not twice but three times to keep us out of war," Stratton boomed.

The GOP faithful ate that up. Stratton called them, too, to get out in the precincts and work for a Republican victory.

Today's forenoon convention session was strictly a routine affair, devoted to welcoming addresses and preliminary organization.

Yet it was an occasion also for getting off some initial shots at the common enemy — the Democrats.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, national chairman, hooted at the promises he said had been made to everybody in the Democratic platform. To carry them out, he declared, would add 15 to 20 billion dollars a year to government costs.

Morton said the Republicans would adopt "a realistic, honest platform that we can and will fulfill."

Just in from Colorado Springs and opening of the mammoth Boy Scout Jamboree, it's refreshing to chronicle between conventions an-

To Enter House Primary Runoff

Almost counted out after a losing race for lieutenant governor last winter, Long, 64, stormed back into the political arena Saturday by running a close second in a field of three in his bid to unseat Rep. Harold McSween in Louisiana's Eighth District.

The patriarch of the family that has dominated Louisiana politics for more than three decades says he'll "certainly win" the primary runoff with McSween Aug. 27.

Long's first battle cry in the runoff campaign was a statement: "I'm going after Holt." His object is the 10,378 votes polled by Ben F. Holt, 34, Alexandria attorney.

Almost complete unofficial tabulations showed McSween had run about 3,700 votes ahead of Long. With 315 of 316 precincts counted, McSween had 29,854 to 26,128 for Long.

McSween, 34, completing his first term in Congress in the seat once held by Long's late brother, George S. Long, was equally confident of winning the runoff. "I think Mr. Long has polled his full strength. We'll win big," he said.

County Delegates Await Roll Call

By JOE HAAS

CHICAGO — Oakland County's delegates are all here and awaiting the first roll call.

Art Elliott is a delegate at large and communing with Postmaster General Art Summerfield, also a delegate at large, who surely knows his way around. He was National Manager of President Eisenhower's campaign in 1952.

Chad Ritchie also is no novice in the political game — a previous county chairman — and his experience there places a danger sign on the loopholes.

Mrs. John Finegan is learning under keen observance and good leadership.

The Oakland County contingent, quite unlike our delegates at Los Angeles, know that they represent an undivided clientele back home.

If there's a split in our county's Republican politics, they're doing a mighty harmonious job of keeping it to themselves.

RESPECTED BY STATE

Our county's representation has the respect of the rest of the Michigan delegates, but not in the degree merited from the Detroit bunch.

That city's Republicans are as cocky as usual, despite the fact that their poor showing in recent elections is what drove Michigan almost to the brink of the abyss of a Democratic victory in our state.

Detroiters have a big job at home in Republicanism if they hope to fumigate the mess into which they allowed Walter Reuther to precipitate them.

Coming to the convention as a spectator is my good friend 91-year-old George Scott of Royal Oak.

He will bring along his partner in several miseries not political, Jake Levi, also of Royal Oak.

other in the long line of Pontiac firsts.

Whether you get to the top of Pike's Peak by the cog railway or tortuous auto road, you'll hear the announcer say that only one make of car has won the annual grueling race to the top three times — Pontiac.

Michigan's delegates are a peaceful bunch at their quarters in the Hotel Congress.

They're for Nixon, but not absolutely, and are feeling the impact of the Rocky Roller. Whatever appears to be for the good of the party and Michigan will be OK with them.

Profiting by what happened at Los Angeles, (although any good Republican refuses to admit he ever heard of it), the idea of a Nixon-Rockefeller ticket is gaining momentum.

You'll recollect that Johnson also was "unequivocally opposed" to such a thing when it was first proposed to him after he had failed to land the top spot.

Michigan's Gerald Ford's candidacy for second place on the ticket is not exactly snowballing, but his home state delegation intends to make it more than a favorite son gesture.

They'll stick by him until the cows come home — and are milked.

Since Michigan hasn't had a nominee of a major party for president in 112 years, the historians are thumbing their books to find out how long it's been since our state had such a nominee for vice president.

Although my memory does not go back quite that far, I'd say it was as long. So, here's hoping, Gerry.

Hope you don't have the same experience as your home city of Grand Rapids — which recently slipped out of second place on Michigan's population ticket.

A sarcastic Democratic wag suggests that since a general steered the Republicans into the White House in 1952 and 1956, why not head the ticket this time with General Motors which, with a Ford for vice president, ought to satisfy big business.

Got my hair cut in a 24-chair barber shop in the Conrad Hilton that's surely an innovation. With all chairs occupied, you could hear a pin drop; not a spoken word.

But when the doors swung open on an adjoining big beauty parlor, I thought they were having a rerun of the Kennedy demonstration at Los Angeles.

A good looking Oakland County delegate, (she wouldn't let me use her name), puts it like this: "Nixon is an authentic gee-whiz kid, and Rocky's boom is a will-o'-the wisp."

Pontiac and Oakland County soon loom up in any Michigan political history. We even had a hand in establishing the present era.

AVERILL SECRETARY

A dozen years ago Kim Sigler hadn't done so badly as Michigan's Republican governor. George R. Averill, a Pontiac suburbanite, was his secretary.

Sigler was renominated, and drew for his Democratic opponent a young heir to a soap fortune, G. Mennen Williams, quite unknown in politics, and Sigler's re-election was regarded as a cinch.

But in the last days of the campaign he made some remarks that antagonized union labor, resulting in Williams' election by a raveled thread and recount, thus starting the Williams' era.

And those remarks, which spelled his downfall, were made by Sigler in an address in Pontiac.

The same concern which gave newsmen at Los Angeles bottles of its concoction to keen up eyesight is doing likewise here. That's a double insult.

Katanga Leader Warns Troops

Tshombe Won't Allow U.N. Soldiers to Land on Province Airfield

ELISABETHVILLE, The Congo (AP)—U.N. troops in the Congo "will have to attack our soldiers" if they enter secessionist Ktanga Province, Premier Moise Tshombe said today.

"We are firmly decided not to let them land on Elisabethville Airfield," Tshombe told a news conference.

In declaring his independence of the Congo's government July 11, Tshombe called in Belgian troops to maintain order in this rich southeast Congo province.

But at his news conference, Tshombe said it would be "Katanga soldiers," not Belgian troops, that would be involved if the U.N. forces enter the province.

While fanning out over the rest of the Congo, U.N. forces so far have avoided entering Katanga. No nation has recognized Tshombes proclamation of independence and the U.N. resolution asking Belgium to withdraw its troops from the Congo included Katanga.

It generally is expected that Belgium will withdraw its troops later from Katanga, except for its treaty base at Kamina, 200 miles northwest of Elisabethville.

Check on Death of Ex-Resident

Body Is Discovered in a River; Victim Had Been Going to Wedding

An autopsy was performed this morning in Vincennes, Ind., to determine what caused the death of a former Pontiac resident, Jonathon C. Monk, 23, whose body was found yesterday in the White River near Edwardsport, Ind.

A Vincennes coroner was to rule on the death this afternoon, according to Vincennes sheriff's deputies.

Monk, a 1954 graduate of Pontiac Central High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Monk.

The family lived here for about 16 years before moving to Sullivan, Ind., in 1954. The victim's father was a driver for Truckaway Corp. in Pontiac.

Monk was returning home from Baptist University in Pasadena, Calif., to attend his sister's wedding. His car was found abandoned Friday near the Edwardsport train station, deputies said.

It was believed Monk met with foul play at the hands of hitchhikers. A two-day search was begun with Indiana State Police assisting.

He told deputies the last time he saw Monk was when he was walking toward the river near the train station at Edwardsport with a second hitchhiker.

Police are still searching for the unidentified rider. Monk's body was found by two fishermen Sunday morning.

Monk has two aunts and uncles living here. They are Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Ward of 252 W. Chicago St., and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Monk of 1539 Parkway Ave., West Bloomfield Township.

Traffic Control Reports on Hunter, U.S. 10 Due

BIRMINGHAM — Reports and studies covering a three-year period of traffic control and access drives along U.S. 10 and Hunter boulevard will be reviewed by City Commissioners at tonight's meeting.

The surveys made by the city manager, the planning department, and the police department were requested by the City Commission June 20.

Roadside parking along U.S. 10 should be improved by the construction of access drives or the elimination of parking, if no access drives are constructed, City Manager L. R. Gare states in his report.

Gare suggests that if the program for the construction of access drives meets with the City Commission's approval a special meeting with the Commission and merchants involved be arranged.

City planner Herbert Herzberg has prepared large scale drawings of the entire length of U.S. 10 from the north to the south city limits showing exising access drives, proposed access drives, and where no access drives are needed, such as those in front of gas stations and totally unimproved blocks.

He said there are several commercial buildings that already provide for adequate parking and no access drives for parking are needed.

Thirty-nine accidents, plus three injuries, have occurred in mid-block areas where there are no traffic controls, such as access drives, in the last three years, according to Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley.

Moxley in his report notes that blocks where angle parking takes place, the tendency of drivers on U.S. 10 is to avoid the fourth lane adjacent to the shoulder, resulting in restricted traffic flow along the route.

Herzberg suggests that wherever an access drive is proposed along the route, sidewalk repairs and construction take place at the same time whenever necessary.

"The entire program should be based on interests of public safety and general welfare, and tend to promote a greater traffic flow or capacity with less hazards along U.S. 10," Herzberg concluded.

Some 40 boys, most of them from Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham, were evacuated from a summer camp in Montana Saturday night when a forest fire headed their way.

The boys were staying at the Lost Trail Camp near Sula, Mont., when the fire spread over 3,000 acres in the Saddle Mountain area.

The group will fly home tonight from Missoula, where the boys have been housed since the camp became endangered.

Camp Director Paul Gerhardt, said the boys were never in any danger. However, it was still uncertain today whether the camp could be saved.

Mrs. William G. Harry

Service for Mrs. William (Harriet) G. Harry, 83, of Bloomfield Hills, will be at 3 p.m. Tuesday at Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Harry died Sunday after a long illness.

She was a member of Christ Church Cranbrook, the Bloomfield Branch of the National Farm and Garden Assn., and the Women's City Club.

Surviving are a daughter Mrs. George C. Booth of Bloomfield Hills, a son William of Milwaukee, six grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Detroit Businessmen Plan Large Hotel

DETROIT (AP) — A syndicate of Detroit businessmen has announced plans for a $10-million, 700-room hotel for Detroit's civic center.

Their plans were revealed over the weekend shortly after the Hilton Hotel Corp. said it was not interested in the project.

Crash Injuries Fatal to Boy, 3, of Birmingham

A three-year-old Birmingham boy died Saturday in Pontiac General Hospital of injuries sustained in an auto accident earlier in the week.

The boy, Robin Lilje, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lilje, 6327 Tamerlane Dr., Birmingham.

He was injured Thursday evening when his father's car collided with a dump truck driven by James B. Raines, 42, of 334 W. Huron St.

Suing N. Y. for Tax Dunk of Liquor

NEW YORK (UPI) — The business of the Bon Voyage Liquor Corp. at Idlewild Airport here is to provide a fine howdy-doo for passengers landing in foreign countries.

It sells them tax-free liquor, bonded for export by the U.S. Customs, and deliver the hootch at their point of debarkation overseas.

This saves the passengers both U.S. and foreign taxes, and the grateful passengers give the Bon Voyage Corp. $1 million worth of business a year.

Bon Voyage Friday sued the state for trying to spike its 90-proof international trade.

In a complaint filed in federal court, the corporation said the State Liquor Authority has asserted its sales violate the alcoholic beverage control law.

The Corporation said the authority's actions against it have led to a number of hardships, including a recommendation by the New York Importers and Distillers Association, Inc., that members of the Association refuse to fill orders for the Bon Voyage.

The Bon Voyage maintained that it runs an export operation and is under federal, not state, jurisdiction. It asked for an injunction to keep the state from trying to "destroy" its business.

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Meller, D.V.M.

Q. My 20-month-old Chihuahua has had all necessary shots. Now she doesn't seem to want to drink water and has intermittend diarrhea. What would cause this? Mrs. L.P.M., Jeffersonville, Ind.

A. If you had told me what your pet is eating now, I could probably be of more help to you. Improper feeding of this tiny breed could well be the trouble, but I'd advise a check-up by your veterinarian before changing the diet.

If the doctor rules out the possibility of worms or other troubles, I'd then advise plenty of exercise and regular feeding with one of the better canned dog foods.

Your pet's lack of thirst may be traced to a mineral deficiency which, in turn, can cause elimination distress and irregularity.

Stubborn cases often show fast, effective response when fed a special canned intestinal diet, which is available through your veterinarian.

Calls Detroit Port Bottleneck

Member of Mayor's Committee Says Ships Are Bypassing City

DETROIT (UPI)—Marion A. Maciocе, a member of the subcommittee of the Mayor's Waterfront Development Committee calls Detroit's port facilities "the worst bottleneck on the Great Lakes."

"Prosperity laden" ships have bypassed the city to unload their goods and thus give jobs in other cities, he said.

Maciocе, president of the Detroit Building Trades Council, also is a member of the Wayne County Board of supervisors and its Ways and Means Comittee.

Detroit must build a public port terminal to be leased to private enterprise, he said.

"Government participation, which sparks private enterprise is a prerequisite for good ports," Maciocе said. Detroit is the second largest port on the lakes, next to Chicago, but it is not advancing at the pace of Chicago and other cities he said.

Maciocе's views, which he plans to present to the mayor's committee next Tuesday, also were expressed in the Building Tradesman.

GOLDWATER SUPPORT — Petitions for Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona drape these workers who are trying to win the vice presidential nomination for their favorite. The scene in the hotel where Goldwater has his headquarters was a gimmick to attract attention to the senator's position Sunday in Chicago — opposing agreement between Nixon and Rockefeller. The workers are Dotty Fancher of Phoenix and Kent Courtney of New Orleans.

60 Indonesians to Study Behind Iron Curtain

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — At least 60 Indonesian students will study in the Soviet Union and Poland next fall under a cultural exchange with the two Communist nations.

Fifty Indonesian students will be sent to the Soviet Union for three to six years of study. The Polish government has granted 10 scholarships to Indonesian students and has invited 10 more university students to study at their own expense.

State Wants to Regain Title to Gull Island

LANSING (AP)—A new legal move has been taken by the State Conservation Department in an attempt to regain a clear title for Michigan to Gull Island, in Lake St. Clair.

The some 137 acres of property, most of it submerged bottomlands, is regarded as a choice recreation and waterfowl hunting site.

The property was granted to the federal government by quick claim deed in 1937 as a dumping site for dredging spoils from the St. Clair River. It now has been declared excess land by the federal government.

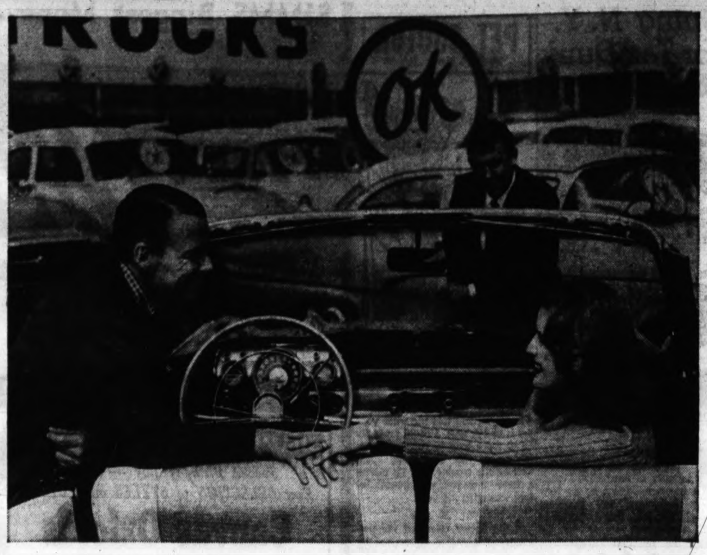

A recent attorney general's opinion, sent to Washington, holds the property still belongs to the state because the conveyance was made by joint resolution of the Legislature rather than State Law.

Judge OKs Contracts for 2 Teen TV Actors

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A judge has approved television contracts for Tim Considine, 19, and Don Grady, 18, "brothers" in the "My Three Sons" series featuring Fred MacMurray.

Tim is the grandson of the late theater magnate Alexander Pantages. He gets $800 per episode under the new pact; Don gets $400. Each agreed to invest part of his earnings.

Oakland Is GOP's Mainstay in Michigan

well this time its Republican leaders will be satisfied.

But the inroads of Walter Reuther have them worried. Can he be successful in breaking Oakland County's Republican record?

This record is appreciated today by the entire Michigan delegation — including those from Wayne County—and will stand out county well in the handling of affairs in connection with the convention, and long afterwards—if the Republican's win the national election on Nov. 8.

OVER 1,000 NEWSMEN

The Chicago International Amphitheatre, where the convention is to be held, has taken on the look that Chicago is accustomed to giving such things.

In most every respect it resembles the setup here four years ago when the Democrats nominated Adlai Stevenson to make his second try.

Provision is made for over one thousand newspapermen, divided quite equally on either side of the speaker's platform. This is much in line with the arrangement at Los Angeles.

Radio and television have been given a better break than they had at Los Angeles.

The seating of the delegates is on the main floor, much in the same manner as before, which also applies to the 'spectators' seats.

In most ways it seems that national political conventions have fallen into a groove which is changed only to meet the necessities of changing times. It is only in recent years that provision had to be made for radio and TV.

According to early advices from Nixon's camp, he considers the election will be won by the nominee who carries six states, including Michigan, the others being New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio and Illinois.

It is noted that this list does not include his own home state of California, where the Democrats have just held their convention, and count its electoral vote as sure for Kennedy.

Most of the advance polls in California indicate that state to be Democratic, but it is hardly probable that Nixon concedes that.

There is no doubt about the present top running candidate for the nomination for the office of vice president here, in case a Nixon-Rockefeller or Rockefeller-Nixon ticket is not nominated.

It is Henry Cabot Lodge, whom both political parties think is doing a great job on the United Nations.

It is asserted that he is the only man who has been able to talk up to the Russians, and that his name on the ticket would even result in Massachusetts deserting its own son, Jack Kennedy.

Chicago maintains its title of "The Windy City" in a rather unique manner. It secured that title on account of the breezes blowing off the extensive prairies to the west.

But such a cognomen is maintained largely by the breezes from the vocal chords of its residents in telling about it and its future.

The latest in that line is the claim of becoming the world's greatest port, now that the St. Lawrence Seaway is in operation.

It plans within five years to have 85 miles of dock frontage on Lake Michigan, extending into four states, Illinois, Wisconsin Indiana and our own Michigan.

Chicago residents point out that it is our only large city that has unlimited growth area, and that it surely is destined to become the largest city in the world, despite the fact that it showed a loss in the census only recently completed.

In the meantime, both kinds of breezes continue to blow, although on some of these hot summer days we wish we had more of nature's brand and less of the man-made kind.

Just as in the old days most everybody in Pontiac came downtown on Saturday nights, most everybody in Chicago comes to the lake front on hot nights.

The crowds are even worse than at the Cass Lake beaches, and the bathing suits are briefer. In fact some of them are so brief that they do not seem to have arrived yet.

Chicago also lays claim to the fact that it has benefited greatly by the grafting of its politicians.

The world wide publicized shenanigans of those aldermen like "Hinky Dink" and "Bathhouse John" revealed grafting in the millions, but also resulted in slum clearances and other civic betterments that made it a better city.

The call letters of The Chicago Tribune's radio and TV station, WGN, mean "World's Greatest Newspaper," but even Chicagoans know better than that. It is a great newspaper, with over a million circulation daily, but is not to be compared with The New York Times. Perhaps better call letters would be EGO.

A newspaper man likes to find examples of what publicity has done. Between these conventions I stopped off at Colorado Springs, Colo., for the big Boy Scout Jamboree.

While there I took the cog wheel railway to the top of Pike's Peak, the world's highest cog railway, 14,118 feet, almost 3,000 feet higher than the world famous railways in Switzerland. The publicity angle comes in the fact that Colorado has over a dozen mountains higher than Pike's Peak—but did you ever hear of even one of them?

The biggest news transmission moving job ever attempted has been completed. The Western Union has moved its skilled operating personnel and equipment from Los Angeles to Chicago, and commenced handling the newsmen's stuff from here. The total of the two conventions will exceed 12 million words.

Just discovered another Pontiac angle in connection with the big doings. I learn that our own Bill Cornwell on The Pontiac Press sports staff is a distant relative of Richard Nixon.

If only the Kennedys and John sons would vote that ticket it would have a good start. When at Colorado Springs I learned that R. E. Johnson, who donated the use of his great Reverse J. Diamond Ranch for the Boy Scout Jamboree, is a 42nd cousin of Lyndon — but votes Republican.

It is said that 266 of the delegates at Los Angeles were members of some labor union. Haven't started counting, but I don't expect to find that many here.

"One hundred years of progress" is the theme exploited in Chicago wherever the Republican publicity men can secure a place to hang a banner.

This is the 14th time the Republican National Convention has been held in Chicago, a greater number of times than all other cities combined. The first one in 1856, when Abraham Lincoln first came to notice, was held here in a temporary wigwam. That was even before the time of Mrs. OLeary and her cow.

The report that the bad smell around the convention hall is a hold over from the Democratic convention of four years ago is emphatically denied by Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley. He's a Democrat, and asserts that it comes from its use as a stock show place, of course the world's largest.

There are 172 gatemen and ushers at the convention hall. Hope that some of them know a little about what's going on. Never found one at Los Angeles who did.

Here's a plain fact that almost breaks Chicago's big heart. They have only a mere 12,000 seats to be allocated at the convention — and they were all allocated several weeks ago. At the last GOP national convention four years ago at San Francisco's gigantic Cow Palace there were 17,000 seats.

Something brand new in convention procedure is a couple of roof top heliports to shuttle fast doings to downtown Chicago.

Anyway, Chicago's ready, and says: "You've been here often before and liked us so well that you've returned again and again. We intend to treat you so well that you'll keep coming."

GOP Plank Committee Backs Plan to Promote Appropriate Groupings

CHICAGO (AP) — The Republican Platform Committee today approved a plan to promote appropriate regional groupings of nations to foster economic and educational development in the free world.

The plan contained in the foreign policy plank substantially follows a proposal made jointly by Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York that the United States encourage confederations of nations.

The plank completed by the platform group would encourage such groupings in somewhat different areas of the world than the Nixon-Rockefeller statement had advocated.

The plank calls for such national economic alliances in Latin America, Africa, the Middle East and Asia. Nixon and Rockefeller had suggested them in the 15-nation North Atlantic community and the Western hemisphere.

The platform committee noted that Eastern European nations already have an operating common market. It was suggested this could serve as an example for other areas to follow.

If such alliances should lead eventually to political unions, support for that development also would be forthcoming under a Republican administration, it was stated.

The foreign policy plank also:

1. Reaffirmed the Monroe Doctrine, saying "We shall join the republics of the Americas against any intervention in our hemisphere, and in refusing to tolerate the establishment in this hemisphere of any government dominated by the foreign rule of Communism."

This was seen as a warning to the Soviet Union, with particular reference to the situation in Cuba.

2. Pledged to maintain an armed power exceeded by no other nation.

3. Promised to continue to refuse American recognition to Communist China.

4. Condemned intervention of the Soviet Union into affairs of newly independent nations as "a form of subversion" and a direct challenge to the United Nations.

Three Harnack Brothers Own Face-Lifted Stores

Three Harnack brothers—and not just Hugo Harnack—own the three stores on East Huron street which have recently undergone extensive face lifting jobs on the building fronts.

In Saturday's Pontiac Press, the names of two other Harnack brothers, Clyde C. Harnack and Stuart M. Harnack, were omitted from a story telling about the change in the store fronts.

Richard Nixon Qualified to Take Presidency

In reviewing what's coming up in the Republican National Convention, RICHARD M. NIXON seems logically to fit the GOP image. His training and past record should qualify him for the 1960 standard bearer.

Nixon's appeal to the Republicans of the far right may not be a great deal warmer than the Rockefeller "liberals," but his record in Congress and as Vice President would appear to make him immune to the charges of "me-tooism" that plagued Wendell Willkie in 1940 and Thomas E. Dewey in 1944 and 1948.

NIXON is not the old guard and at the same time, he is not "modern Republicanism." To be sure, he will run on the EISENHOWER record. NIXON has been called by one of his severest critics the hub of the Republican wheel, the joining place of all Republican tendencies. Some of the Vice President's greatest strength is with the party regulars.

Nixon in 1952, 1954, and 1958 proved himself an indefatigable and effective campaigner. It was in the 1956 campaign that he began to place his main emphasis on the "peace, prosperity, and progress" achieved under President Eisenhower, although he continued to attack the former Truman regime.

NIXON has declared: "We Republicans believe in human welfare, but not in the welfare state. The difference is vital. Our aim is to create a climate that favors growth and progress, then letting the people decide for themselves what they will do with their money."

This is sound reasoning and we believe will stand him in good stead with many Americans.

Why Tag Convention as Being 'Rigged'?

We are inclined to feel that injecting the term "rigging" into the 1960 Democratic Convention talk was basically a dis-service. It was never defined, and consequently produced a high measure of confusion.

One notion that has grown out of this confusion is that a national convention is "rigged" if a substantial number of the delegates come to it already committed to one candidate or another. This is a pretty difficult idea to support.

HARRY TRUMAN, we simply can't buy this. It's just the way the ball rolls.

To begin with, a considerable share of convention delegates are committed by law, as a result of voters choices in binding state primaries. These are decisions of the people, and one can hardly call them "rigged."

These delegates are far less likely to be subject to "controlling influences" than are the closed door meetings in the convention city. Let's be realistic about this.

Other delegates are committed by free and open state conventions. Some may be formally instructed to vote for a particular candidate, or they may give a committment of their position at the time they are chosen.

We would like former President Truman to explain why such action is all right if taken in Los Angeles, but is what he prefers to call "rigging" if done earlier.

Let's face up to the fact that the delegates are selected months in advance and the majority will come to the convention with some committments and leanings. This is only natural and there is nothing new about the system.

Candidates put on campaigns and this is all part of the game. They spend a lot of money and do everything in their power to convince the delegates well in advance.

The early results of this year's convention is not new. Only two Democratic conventions since 1924 have gone beyond one ballot.

So why this charge of "rigging"?

The Man About Town

By a Dam Site

That's Where Pontiac Was Located in Its Early Days

Hat: Of which every politician has three—one to wear, one to throw into the ring and one to talk through.

The site for the first white settlement here was selected at Pontiac because it was where the Saginaw Indian Trail forded a river, then known as the Huron, but later as the Clinton.

The prime essential for any settlement in the wilderness was water power to turn the wheels of the mills to grind the corn and wheat into flour for the staple food product, and to turn the saw mills to convert the virgin forest into lumber to build homes.

This power was secured by impounding the waters of a stream by building a dirt dam across it, in which the water wheels were inserted. This was the only power available at that time. Steam power was in its development, and electric power was yet to be discovered.

This impounded water created mill ponds, of which there were three in Pontiac's early days. A good part of the low ground along the river was occupied by such ponds. Most of that area now is covered with business blocks, factories or dwellings.

Although somewhat mindful of a slang phrase, it will be seen that much of our present city in its early days was located "by a dam site."

A local statistician points out that 50 years ago most of the arrests made in Pontiac were for theft, but now over nine-tenths of the local arrests are for traffic violations. He asks, "Are we getting better or worse?"

Arriving home from a tour of Europe, a Pontiac man who wishes to be known only as writes me a letter that is worth remembering by anybody who plans an overseas trip. It says, "Don't be a sucker for any of those deals which teach you a few words of French or any other foreign language. Their use only gets you spotted for what you are."

"One Who Has Tried It,"

An exclusive girls' school near Los Angeles has a traffic sign in front of it, right in the middle of the block, that says, which effectually stops the girls from darting across the street there.

"Cattle Crossing,"

A marked adv. from a New Orleans paper is sent me by now there on a vacation trip. It is that of a dancing academy, and says: "Clean and respectable dancing here every night —except Sunday."

Bradner Graham,

David Lawrence Says:

VP Pick Doesn't Sway Elections

CHICAGO — In both parties there's been an overemphasis on the vice presidency. The selection —or failure to select any particular individual—in either case will not decisively influence the result.

LAWRENCE

If, on the other hand, it's in the cards for Sen. Kennedy to win the election, he will do so without the states in the South he is supposed to have drawn to his banner by the selection of Lyndon Johnson as the vice presidential nominee.

For more than 100 years, in not a single instance has the vice presidential nominee of either party, by carrying his own state, contributed enough electoral votes to bring in his running mate.

Take the 1928 election for instance. Al Smith, who had three times been elected governor of New York on the Democratic ticket, did not carry the electoral votes of his own state.

As for his vice presidential nominee, Joseph T. Robinson—who was nationally known because, like Lyndon Johnson, he was the Democratic leader of the Senate—the results after election day showed that he carried his home state of Arkansas all right, though by a reduced margin.

But he couldn't prevent five other states of the solid South from going Republican.

TAKE 1932 . . .

Take next the 1932 campaign, when the Democrats thought it might be helpful to have a southerner on the ticket, Sen. John Sparkman, the vice presidential nominee, carried his home state of Alabama though by a greatly reduced majority as the Republicans piled up a vote in that state nearly four times what Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, got in either 1944 or 1948.

But the presence of a southerner on the ticket didn't prevent four other southern states—Texas, Tennessee, Florida and Virginia—from going Republican, and there was no religious issue involved either.

Take then the 1956 election when another southerner, Sen. Estes Kefauver, was named for the vice presidency on the Democratic ticket after a consistent string of victories in the primaries of several states in the North. The South didn't back him. Not only did he lose his own state of Tennessee but the Republicans also again carried Florida, Texas and Virginia and added the electorial votes of Louisiana and the "border states" of Kentucky and West Virginia.

As for Democratic presidential nominee Adlai Stevenson, he lost his home state of Illinois both in 1952 and 1956. His running mates in the two campaigns had no influence in his behalf in the northern states.

In 1940 Henry Wallace, Democratic candidate for the vice presidency, failed to carry his own state of Iowa, but Franklin D. Roosevelt won the election. John Bricker carried his own state of Ohio as the vice presidential nominee on the Republican ticket in 1944, while presidential nominee Dewey failed to carry New York State and lost the election.

WARREN FAILED

Another instance of failure of the vice presidential nominee to help win the election was in 1948, when Earl Warren, former governor of California and now chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court, lost his home state while Dewey won his own state of New York. Yet the Republicans mistakenly thought in 1948 that the presence of Warren, the progress, on the ticket would help them to victory nationally.

When the American people vote in a presidential election, they apparently either cast their ballots for the party they favor or the presidential nominee they like—they don't stop to appraise the possibility that a vice presidential nominee, if elected, might possibly be president some day. Indeed, seven vice presidents have succeeded to the presidency out of a total of 33 men who have held the office of president.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Everyone Has a Need for Much Milk to Drink

Unfortunately for America a good many growing children are deprived of an adequate daily ration of milk, not because of poverty, but because their parents are ignorant. Keep your shirt on — as Will Rogers said, everybody is ignorant, only on different subjects.

BRADY

So I repeat, most American parents are ignorant of nutrition. Ignorant or else they just don't care whether their children get a good start in life or not.

Hence the youngsters spend their lunch money for colored, carbonated, sweetened, flavored, bottled water in the cafeteria and pass up milk, if indeed milk is available.

Milk is fairly described as the most nearly perfect food. What the youngsters buy instead of milk is fairly described as cheat-food — a glass of it gives a quick lift, just as the same amount of sugar or candy does, and when the quick calories are used up the youngster as quickly reverts to his or her original or ordinary languor.

The Department of Health in Scotland conducted a large scale test of the value of milk in nutrition. Twelve thousand school children, five to 12 years of age, were given 1½ glasses (6ths of a pint) of milk daily as a supplement to their regular fare, while the same number of children remained on their regular fare. The children receiving the extra milk showed improved physique and general health and increased mental alertness.

Even a mature adult needs not less than three glasses (1½ pints) of milk daily in addition to regular fare to maintain good nutrition. A growing child or youth (from five to 25 years of age; must consume four glasses (a quart) of milk a day to acquire and maintain VITE, that is, better-than-average nutritional condition.

Youngsters under 16 who are permitted to indulge in tea, coffee, cocoa, chocolate, pop, etc. in lieu of milk are to be pitied. They are getting a bad deal from parents, teachers, health advisers, physicians, nutritionists or coaches.

Milk is not the only health beverage for children. Fruit and vegetable juices and fruit juice ades are health beverages for anybody.

Everything I have said about milk in this piece applies to whole sweet milk, skim milk or buttermilk as well. Some persons harbor the notion that they can't drink whole milk because it is too fattening.

I doubt if a quart of milk a day (640 calories) is ever too fattening for anyone who walks a mile or two every day. But if the calories in sweet milk worry you, switch to skim milk or buttermilk, which has only half as many calories per glass or pint.

'Do Area Voters Realize Swainson Changed View?'

The voters in this area may not know that Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson has reversed his opinion on a Constitutional Convention since the election of 1958. All candidates for state offices in that year were asked, "Do you favor the Constitutional Convention method of updating our Constitution? Please explain."

His reply as printed in the Voter's Guide of the League of Women Voters was, "Yes, a Constitutional Convention free to discuss all parts of the Constitution would be preferable, but if revision by the Commission technique is more possible, I think this method should be utilized."

On May 13 and June 29 I sent letters to Mr. Swainson asking him the reasons for his change of mind. He has not replied. One wonders if he did not know the subject in 1958 or if someone now is telling him what to think.

State Charges Fee for Non-Existent

I had occasion to pay a visit to the Secretary of State's office to transfer some license plates. I was charged a 35c fee which was for the new illuminized type of license plate that won't be given out until 1961 and maybe not then. When 35c is multiplied by all transactions which take place in these offices it could amount to many dollars.

I resent being taken advantage of. Why attribute it to something that does not even exist?

Intermarriage Is Only Cure for War

Sir Francis Galton declared the English of his era in England were as far below the Greeks of Pericles' Golden Age as they were above pygmies of the Congo. As long as the Athenian folkway persisted limiting marriages to intellectuals, Greece produced brilliant thinkers. With world power, however, came love of luxury. Then fathers commenced selling their daughters in marriage.

Nervousness Keeps Speaker Alert

Claud wants a simple formula for making an interesting speech: The best one I have ever seen is described below. I've used it in my 35 years of professional platform work, and so have most of the other orators whom I have met. It fits high schoolers like Claud, as well as the clergy and all businessmen.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE F — 425: Claud R., aged 17, is a high school senior.

"Dr. Crane, I'm taking a course in public speaking," he began, "and I know it will be very helpful to me in later life, but I am so nervous that my hands shake and I feel hot all over whenever the time draws near for me to take the platform.

DR. CRANE

"Besides, I find it hard to remember what I want to say, even though I memorize my talk, word for word.

"So what advice can you give me so I will be calm as a cucumber?"

STAGE FRIGHT

No talented platform artist is "calm as a cucumber" when he mounts the platform.

If he were, his words wouldn't flow smoothly. For it is nervous tension which speeds up the heart and thus furnishes a better blood supply to the brain.

Our thoughts then percolate faster and we are more alert. So you amateur speakers can be grateful you are jittery. All professional performers are likewise keyed up before an important address.

But you can avoid showing your excessive nervousness if you will hold your hands behind your back at the start. Or clasp the edges of the pedestal.

And if you have no pedestal in front of you, but must hold your notes or sheet music, then previously mount those pages on a cardboard background to avoid their rattling unduly.

Another bit of clever strategy is to hold the sheet of paper with both hands and then pull gently in opposite directions. This will instantly make your hands lose their tremor.

SPEECH FORMULA

An ideal speech formula is this: (1) Pick out your text or general topic for discussion. Suppose it is "How to Carry on Interesting Conversation."

(2) Then illustrate it with stories that are relevant but which advance your central theme steadily toward your climax.

Here you can insert personal examples, or mention some of the cases which you have read in this psychology column that pertain to your topic.

(3) Then conclude your address with a punchy terminal sentence or two. This conclusion might contain a repetition of your speech title so the audience knows you are neatly "wrapping up" the idea.

If you can open and close your talk with an appropriate quotation from some famous person, past or present, that will add scholarly richness or "oomph" to your address.

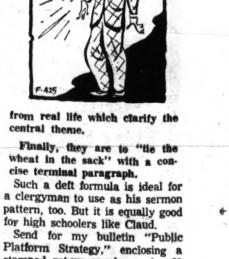

For example, suppose you were to begin by quoting Benjamin Franklin's comment: "As we must account for every idle word, so we must for every idle SILENCE."

Then you could go on to show that failure to pay compliments and speak up when we ought to do so, actually hurts most of us worse than excessive talk.

Reader's Digest employs a similar formula for its own writers. It urges them to start out their article with a striking statement which embodies the main idea.

Then they are to illustrate it with two or three actual cases from real life which clarify the central theme.

Finally, they are to "tie the wheat in the sack" with a concise terminal paragraph.

Such a deft formula is ideal for a clergyman to use as his sermon pattern, too. But it is equally good for high schoolers like Claud.

Doctors, Hospitals and Patients Abuse Terms, Medical Leader Says

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. D. W. McLean, president-elect of the Wayne County Medical Society, said Friday abuses by doctors, hospitals and patients are forcing Blue Shield medical insurance rates up.

Writing in the Detroit Medical News, the official publication of the society, McLean said the adoption of "generous" policies in 1959 has made concessions "which invite and encourage abuse."

He listed as abuses unnecessary hospital admissions or too long hospital stays; excessive laboratory tests and unneeded diagnostic procedures; increased use of medical services that formerly weren't covered by Blue Shield; frequent hospitalization of patients for diagnoses which later were not confirmed; use of high-cost treatment when low-cost treatment might have been better, and overuse of consultants.

"It is obvious that changes will have to be made in the contract," McLean said.

Blue Shield rates went up 11½ per cent July 1.

American Tourists Increase in Russia

NEW YORK (AP) — A Soviet travel agency head says that, despite international tension, the number of Americans traveling to the Soviet Union is increasing.

Vladimir Babkin, manager of Intourist's foreign division, said Thursday at the Overseas Press Club that thus far this year 9,000 visas had been issued to Americans and he expects the number to rise by 4,000 or 5,000 before the year is out.

About 12,000 Americans visited his country last year, he said.

Temporarily Bar Move of Plant From Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A federal court order has temporarily halted the planned move to Americus, Ga., of a Detroit manufacturing company.

The restraining order was issued by Judge Fred W. Kaess against the Crescent Brass & Pin Co., at the request of the United Auto Workers Union which filed a breach of contract suit on behalf of the company's 28 employes.

Ranch to Go When Jean Simmons, Granger Split

Divorce Will Smash an American Dream

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Stewart Granger is putting a dream up for sale.

In a few weeks, when he finishes "Go North" with John Wayne, he's selling his 10,000-acre ranch in Nogales, Ariz. This is the ranch that Granger and Jean Simmons, a couple of soon-to-be-divorced Britishers, had developed into an American dream.

"Now that Jean and Tracy (their daughter, 3) are no longer there," says Granger sadly, "I couldn't live in the place. Almost everything is named after the baby. It would be too depressing."

Granger will sell the big spread and go to Europe for a series of pictures.

"I guess I'll make my residence in Switzerland now," he says. "As long as I'm over there, I might as well take advantage of it."

He's referring to the tax break so many Hollywood stars have found since establishing residence in Switzerland.

"Taxes are lower over there," says Granger, an American citizen, "because you don't get as much as you do here, so you pay accordingly. I'll miss my home in Arizona."

QUITE A SPREAD

That home in Arizona consists of rolling hills just east of Nogales, five miles of it along the Mexican border.

It includes a six-bedroom house, two-bedroom guest house, and two-bedroom servants' quarters. Television is in every room, with three-channel reception from Phoenix and Tucson.

A 10-acre lake feeds a 5-acre lake stocked with trout. There is a swimming pool and tennis court and the Santa Cruz River winds through cottonwoods.

"I've been 25 years in the movie business," says Granger, "but the greatest thrill of my life was as a Britisher running an American ranch, winning blue ribbons for my French cattle."

Granger's ranch has 500 head of Charolais beef cattle.

"Jean and I have been knocking our brains out making movies all over the world to pay for the cattle. In about three years we had both planned to settle down in Arizona for good and never make another picture. I guess now I'll die an actor instead of a cattleman."

Granger's cattle came high. As the two made movies to buy them, they often were separated. An estimate by a friend had them apart almost half of the last six years.

Detroit Bureau Takes Over State Forecast

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Weather Bureau will take over the issuing of Michigan State forecasts from the Chicago Regional Office about Sept. 1, State Meteorologist W. W. Oak said.

The move is part of a decentralization designed to improve local coverage, Oak added. The Detroit Bureau will issue four revised state forecasts daily after the change.

The Chicago office, which now issues local forecasts for nine states, will continue to issue regional forecasts. But Oak said its local area of responsibility will be cut to a two-state area.

Lie Detectors May Do the Job

Mark Future Heart Victims?

CHICAGO (AP)—The lie detector—a sort of mechanical Sherlock Holmes—may be capable of singling out the most likely candidates for future heart attacks.

Two researchers report that the device detected markedly different responses between heart disease sufferers, persons with nonorganic disorders of the heart and normal individuals.

These variations showed up when the volunteers were subjected to an irritating experience, such as interruptions in a conversation.

The study was conducted by Drs. Meyer Freidman and Ray H. Rosenman of San Francisco. It was based on their earlier finding that the highest incidence of heart disease is found in persons with intense competitive drive, a persistent desire for recognition and advancement and a habitual drive to speed their pace of living and working.

Most of the volunteers in the normal group showed little sign of irritation, restlessness, tension or anger.

The group with nonorganic heart disorders became somewhat restless. But this symptom occured as frequently during the female interruptions.

In sharp contrast, 13 of the 20 heart disease sufferers fidgeted and changed body position repeatedly. They alternately contracted and relaxed their jaw muscles and grimaced with irritation or hostility. The reactions appeared far more frequently during the female monologue.

The lie detector test also showed that the bulk of the heart patient group, as compared with the other groups, exhibited more frequent breathing distortions and obvious and nonobvious hand clenching.

Writing in the journal of the American Medical Assn., the researchers said:

"The possession of this particular behavior pattern in a subject does not . . . indicate that he has, or will necessarily contact coronary heart disease. It only implies . . . that his future susceptibility to clinical coronary heart disease will be markedly enhanced."

They suggested the lie detector test might lend itself to mass studies in an effort to predict future heart disease.

County Chiefs Want More School Funds

JACKSON (AP) — A group of county superintendents of Schools has launched plans to lobby for a basic revision of the State Aid Program to County School Districts.

Twenty-seven superintendents called for an aid plan allowing a flat amount for each pupil.

Wayne County Superintendent Dr. Charles E. Brake said the plan would give the more populous counties a more equitable share of state funds and eventually force sparsely settled districts to consolidate.

Under the current system, no county school district can receive more than 10 per cent of the funds. A 1955 bill set the total amount of school aid at $650,000.

Brake said the revised program would cost the state about twice that amount—approximately $1,368,000. The basis of the plan is a study made of education administration by the Kellogg Foundation.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

The Alpena plant, officials said, would reduce operations at the end of current model year production.

Farm Woes Furrow Brows of Candidates

By JAMES B. SIBBISON

WASHINGTON (AP)— Presidential candidates soon will be setting forth their solutions to a problem that nobody has solved yet: farm surpluses.

Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic nominee, has placed this issue as No. 1 on the domestic scene. Vice President Richard M. Nixon, the probable GOP candidate, has made clear he regards it as overwhelmingly important too.

Neither one so far has come right out with a specific over-all farm program, although Kennedy has promised to introduce his when Congress reconvenes next month.

However, after an all night meeting of Nixon and New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to discuss the GOP platform, it was announced they agreed that farm programs "must be realistically reoriented."

To accomplish this, a statement after their conference said Nixon and Rockefeller agreed that steps should be taken to:

1. Find ways for low-income farmers to become more productive members of the national economy.

2. At least double the conservation reserve.

3. Use price supports "at levels best fitted to specific commodity" to widen markets. Ease production controls and "help achieve equitable farm income."

4. Speed up disposal of farm surpluses through an expanded overseas distribution in the "food for peace" program and allot some surplus commodities to a civil defense stockpile.

Kennedy is committed to his party's platform. The Democrats' farm plank would put the government back into agriculture in a big way.

Nixon's problem is somewhat different. Many farm belt Republicans have consistently attacked Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson's attempts to return the farmers to a free market.

DARE HE DIFFER?

The question is whether Nixon sufficiently agrees with these Republicans to sponsor a program substantially different from Benson's.

If he does, he will run up against his party's most important farm organizational support, the American Farm Bureau Federation.

The issue was etched Friday in contrasting views as to the significance of the near record vote by wheat farmers—97.3 per cent—favoring the existing federal wheat price support program.

They said the wheat farmers had no real choice but to approve the program, because their alternative — rejecting it — would have hurt their pocketbooks by dropping the government's present $1.78 a bushel price support payments to less than $1.20.

The National Farmers Union, anti-Benson and frequently pro-Democratic, saw the outcome in a different light.

It portrayed the lopsided "yes" vote as "a resounding reaffirmation of farmer approval of managed abundance farm programs."

Celery Pickers Are Safe With Protective Cream

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's several thousand celery pickers now can pick celery without breaking out with an irritating skin disease, the State Health Department reports.

The disease—known as Celery Dermatitis—has plagued pickers ever since celery was grown. Studies found it was caused by sunlight and a plant disease known as "pink rot."

Celery growers tried for years to fight it with homemade remedies, none of them effective.

The Health Department said a protective cream has been developed to shield the skin.

Nixon Parade Loses Exclusive Goal

CHICAGO (AP)—Supporters of Vice President Richard M. Nixon tried to make the big parade all their own, but everyone else got into the act.

"Watch for the big Nixon parade," a loudspeaker blared Sunday just before the Young Republicans rolled their parade down Michigan Avenue.

But when the marchers came along, "the big Nixon parade" fluttered signs for Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Barry Goldwater of Arizona as well as Nixon.

One sound truck screeched support for comedian Irwin Corey. It called him a man who will run for any party and urged that the Republicans nominate him "on the first bottle."

Forest Fires Still Blazing

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — Hundreds of forest fires, which have charred more than 175,000 acres of timber and range lands, flickered along the West Coast and in the northern Rocky Mountains today.

Many of the blazes were started by a series of lightning storms which raked across the Pacific Northwest beginning last Wednesday. Some of them, including a 25,000-acre blaze in extreme northeastern Oregon, have burned out of control ever since.

The northeastern Oregon and southeastern Washington areas were the hottest spots in the dangerous fire situation. Fires of varying size ranged out of control in British Columbia, California, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming.

Thousands of men, aided by Army and Air Force equipment and personnel were rushed to the threatening fires.

Eisenhower Had His Stassen . . .

Nixon Owes Rocky Much for Hullabaloo

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

CHICAGO: You couldn't find two more obliging chaps than Nelson Rockefeller and Harold Stassen if you searched all over the 20th Century.

Richard Milhous Nixon is deeply indebted to both of them. Except for Stassen, practically no one would have bothered to tune into the Republican Convention in San Francisco four years ago, and the newspaper coverage would have been of the rock bottom variety.

Harold, who jazzed up the proceedings by threatening to oust Nixon from the vice presidency, has long since faded from public view.

President Eisenhower should have been grateful to Harold for livening up the otherwise rubber-stamp affair, but he started the kick downstairs by demoting him from "peace secretary," with Cabinet status, to an underling of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles.

Citizens of Pennsylvania helped the process along by resoundingly defeating him for its governorship. Ordinarily staid Philadelphians finished him off by rejecting the one-time Minnesota governor even for city mayor.

Multimillionaire Rockefeller is now offering himself as a sacrifice on the altar of Republicanism. Nixon should have been glad to pay Rocky to kick up the present stir, if the money were in the other pocketbook. As it is, the glamorous New Yorker is doing it for free.

The heir to one of the world's greatest fortunes came to the Windy City a week ahead of Nixon to enjoy a draft. The air conditioning was working smoothly, however, so that instead of a Draft he has suffered only an occasional cold chill.

OVER AGAIN

Were it not for Rocky, however, who would want to be at this convention? In fact, who wants to be here anyway?

By the skin of our teeth, we lived through a horrendous display of sophomoric histrionics, bad taste, aching feet and horseplay at the Democratic conclave in Los Angeles. That should have sufficed as our good deed for the decade, but now we have to go through it all over again.

The names will be different, but the sea of faces will be the same as coal cats, beatniks and riff-raff muscle their way around the jammed convention loor carrying placards proclaiming that their candidate is best. They may not know how to spell his name, but a job's a job, and so is a pass to the big tent.

Only three more days, fate willing, and we'll be rid of those monstrous nominating conventions for another four years. Unfortunately, however, the worst days lie ahead.

Throughout this beautiful autumn, while leaves are turning to gold and trouble-spots are dangerously erupting all over the globe, Americans will be subjected to an ear-splitting barrage of sheer, unshirted politics.

Both sides will need "truth squads" to correct the deliberate falsehoods of the other. If lie detectors were strapped to all of the candidates running for public office, in this ominous time of world crisis, the needle gyrations could power a rocket to the moon.

John F. Kennedy and Richard M. Nixon will be beating the hustings like they have never been pounded before. It is conceivable that both presidential candidates will take the high road, but plenty of their lieutenants will not.

Like a wardheeling sheriff, they will handshake their way around the country while the world is going to pot. Isn't there a better way to run a railroad?

One start would be to rule out all favorite-son candidates. Require a man to have support in a minimum of four states before his name can be entered into nomination. Limit the seconding speeches to one each.

Hold the convention early in October, and allow a month's campaign. Appropriate public funds to finance them, divide it equally between both parties, and jail the first one who dips into private coffers.

Then give us peace.

Business Eyes GOP in Chicago

Time Is Ripe for Move Toward Stimulating the Economic Climate

NEW YORK (UPI)—This week's Republican convention can be expected to paint a rosier picture of the nation's economic health and it would be surprising if the market does not show a favorable response, according to B. K. Thurlow of Winslow, Cohu & Stetson, Inc.

It seems curious, he says, that with the election campaign now beginning in earnest, the administration is showing so little concern over the steady deterioration in business sentiment that has taken place during the past few weeks.

An excellent pretext for stimulating measures now exists and these include lowering interest rates and margin requirements, is the opinion of this financial analyst.

Despite important recent gains in the fight against tuberculosis, more than 50,000 persons die of the disease annually in the United States.

Red Chinese Accredit Ambassador to Nepal

NEW DELHI (AP)—Communist China has appointed a relatively low-ranking diplomat as its first ambassador accredited solely to Nepal. He is Chang Shih-chieh, the Chinese representative on the joint Chinese-Nepali border commission. China opened its first embassy in Nepal two weeks ago.

CHICAGO (AP) — Meade Alcorn, former Republican national chairman, has reason to ponder the fickleness of fame.

The Tri-City Airport serves Midland, Bay City and Saginaw. Leigh also urged more frequent service to Detroit and Chicago.

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A wasp crawled up Joseph Smeltzer's pant leg as he was driving south of here.

But there was a bright side. The wasp didn't sting smeltzer.

NIXON NOMINATOR — Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon talks to the press in Chicago Sunday, accompanied by his wife. He will place the name of Richard Nixon in nomination before the GOP convention Wednesday night. Hatfield said he would prefer Nelson Rockefeller as Nixon's running mate.

Polaris Success Could Reduce Overseas Bases

LONDON (UPI) — The success of the Polaris missile has set off diplomatic speculation that this medium range ballistic rocket could lead to a drastic change in the concept of American and NATO bases abroad.

The new missile, it was argued, might make it possible for the United States gradually to reduce its foreign bases.

Launchable from a submerged submarine and operating over range from 1,100 to 1,500 miles, the Polaris missile could replace American land bases, at least in some parts of Europe.

The net result of such development, the sources argued, would be a lessening of friction within the Western Defense Alliance.

Moreover, it would deprive the Soviet of a heavily used propaganda element against the smaller nations of NATO.

Such a development is still some time ahead and any changes now in NATO strategy on European and other overseas bases is considered remote.

But both diplomatic and defense sources hold that such a development is a strong possibility.

GREATLY IMPRESSED

British observers have been greatly impressed with the outcome of the trial firing of the Polaris from a submerged submarine.

So much have they been taken with the results that the British government is already being criticized for having jumped to wrong conclusions by deciding to buy the American Skybolt missile for Britain's own defense needs, instead of the Polaris.

Some defense experts, maintain it will be difficult for the Russians, if not impossible for a long time to come to neutralize this latest weapon.

These experts said that once the firing of medium range ballistic missiles from submerged submarines has been proved effective, the West's defense strategy will reach entirely new aspects.

The mobility, coupled with the ability of the new atomic submarines to remain submerged for periods of months makes this weapon one of the deadliest. At the same time it narrows the ranges, necessary for accurate aiming at vital targets inside Russia, they said.

From this viewpoint, too, many land bases would become of secondary importance or wholly dispensable.

Says Country Needs 3 Veeps — Ought to Know

JACKSON, Tenn. (UPI)—Sam Baum, 90-year-old invalid who has voted in every election since Grover Cleveland won the presidency in 1892, said the "precarious condition of the times" demands that the nation elect three vice presidents instead of one.

He recommended former presidents Harry Truman and Herbert Hoover for the office.

Aides Vow It'll Be Quiet

Will Suite Suit Nixons?

CHICAGO (UPI)—A suite at the Sheraton-Blackstone Hotel in downtown Chicago has been set aside to serve as a secluded haven for Vice President Richard M. Nixon and his family during all the uproar at the Republican Convention this week.

His aides vow they will keep it just as quiet as was Sen. John F. Kennedy's hideaway in Los Angeles. It will be strictly "out of bounds" for delegates, newsmen, and the idly curious.

The Nixons' suite is composed of two bedrooms, a living room, and a dining room. It is connected by a nearby stairway with the Vice President's campaign suite upstairs where his staff men will sleep and work.

But officials deny that the lavish set-up has anything to do with the move to draft Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the Presidential nomination or the possibility he might be persuaded to accept second place on the ticket with Nixon.

The New York delegation has rented 375 of the 450 bedrooms at the Sheraton Towers Hotel. But Harry O'Donnell, director of research said such a move was strictly in accordance with state practice.

"We always need a lot of extra rooms for a convention," he said.

Another feature is a switchboard with 90 extensions going to delegate rooms and offices in the hotel and to the National Amphitheater. Rockefeller occupies the presidential suite. It has two bedrooms, a living room, dining room, kitchenette and a sun porch. The governor also has an office in the hotel.

Checker Motors Reports $442,248 Net Profit

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — Checker Motors Corp. and subsidiaries netted $442,248.34 in the first six months of 1960, it was announced by R. E. Oakland, vice president and treasurer of the company.

Production for the six-month period totaled 4,205 vehicles, compared to 2,839 for the corresponding period last year.

Milk, Egg Price Rise Is Predicted for Fall

EAST LANSING (UPI)—Michigan State University farm economists predict milk and egg prices will increase this fall.

The milk price increase will be seasonal, but egg prices will be higher for other reasons, the experts say.

Bear-icades at Crossings Up North?

LANSING (AP) — "Deer Crossing" signs are a familiar sight to motorists touring Northern Michigan. Now the State Highway Department is toying with the idea of posting "Bear Crossing" signs.

A highway construction firm reported a bear walked across a section of newly poured concrete pavement on interstate 75 freeway near Carp Lake, about 18 miles south of Mackinaw City.

The pad and claw marks of a good-sized bear were imbedded in the concrete.

"He must have been a surprised bear," said Leet E. Denton in his report. "Do you think we should start posting 'Bear Crossing' signs?"

A gagster in the department suggested that instead Denton post more bear-icades on the project.

Move Up Dedication of Muskegon Arena

MUSKEGON (UPI) — The dedication of Muskegon's new million-dollar L. C. Walker Sports Arena has been moved up to the week of Oct. 17 because of an earlier completion date of the structure that had been planned.

The dedication week is expected to bring an ice show here, along with the start of International Hockey League play at the arena, which should be finished by Sept. 1.

Muskegon industrialist L. C. Walker donated funds for the arena, which originally had been set to be dedicated Nov. 21.

8 in Race for Oakland Probate Judge Post

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

An array of legal talent is lined up in the race for Oakland County's new probate judgeship.

Eight candidates for the two-year term beginning Jan. 1 will be narrowed down to two nominees in the Aug. 2 primary election. The contest is nonpartisan.

All eight candidates are attorneys:

Verne C. Hampton, Oakland County Circuit Court commissioner since 1937 and a resident of Bloomfield Township.

Theodore F. Hughes, former circuit judge, state representative and now a practicing Berkley lawyer.

L. Harvey Lodge, state senator from the county.

John B. Osgood, Royal Oak City commissioner and supervisor.

Voters next Tuesday must vote for only one. The two candidates receiving the highest number of votes will win a spot on the Nov. 8 ballot, when the county's newest $22,500-a-year judge will be chosen.

(The non-partisan portion of the primary ballot will appear on the right side of the voting machine on blue paper.)

Missing from the ballot will be the name of veteran Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore. He was automatically certified for a place on the fall ballot as the result of a writ of mandamus action started by Ralph Moore, 36.

Judge Moore, who has been the county's lone probate and juvenile judge since 1937, was unopposed for nomination to another regular four-year term beginning the same time as the abbreviated new term.

The 1960 short term winner will go after re-election for four years in 1962.

Coming up with a 1935 election law, Ralph Moore won his court case to keep the other Moore off the primary ballot because he was unopposed. He will appear, however, on the Nov. 8 ballot.

Another pre-primary sidelight occurred in the eight-man judicial contest when the county election commissioners certified Kaufman, but only after some of his nominating petitions were scrutinized for irregularities caused by some circulators.

Hughes, 52, hadn't completed his brief six-month stint as circuit judge long last December before he was watching efforts by county legislators—including Lodge — in Lansing to provide a much-needed second probate judge for the second largest county in Michigan.

Its probate load is considered one of the largest per capita for a single judge, plus referees for juvenile matters, to handle.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams eased the strain when he signed the post creating House Bill 359 into law on April 21.

County supervisors, including Osgood, handily and unamously called for the election of the new jurist a month later.

Lodge, 57, of Waterford Township, gave up a bid for re-election to a third term as state senator because he wants to taste the fruits of his legislative efforts. He is a former assistant state attorney general, a Republican state representative from Pontiac, and went from assistant, to chief assistant and then to prosecutor for Oakland County.

Defeated last year in his bid for circuit judge, the 56-year-old Hampton, president of the Michigan Conference of Bar Association officials, is this year advertising himself as being desirous for promotion to probate judge.

Adams, a 47-year-old native of Waterford Township who would automatically fill the shoes of Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams in case of national disaster, would like to follow his brother, Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, to the bench, probate rather than circuit, however.

Burdick, 44, a practicing attorney for 23 years, and Kaufman are seeking their first elective office. Kaufman is no relation to the two Detroit judges with the same last name.

Adams, in contrast, tried unsuccessfully in 1946, 1948, 1950 and 1952 for the Legislature. He found re-election as justice easier.

Ralph Moore, like Lodge, was once assistant county prosecutor.

As Adams would like to follow his brother, Osgood, 44, a city commissioner the last three years, would like to don the black judicial robes as did his former law partner, Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

The preliminary "fitting" takes place next Tuesday when out of the field of eight will emerge two winners.

What Hopefuls Say

Each of the eight probate judge candidates were asked to submit to The Pontiac Press brief statements. They follow:

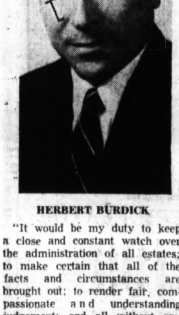

DONALD E. ADAMS

"Few positions offer greater opportunity for public service than that of judge of probate. Since he handles problems of juveniles, the mentally ill and estates of descendants, it is in probate court more than any other that the judge deals directly with the rights and individual liberties of persons appearing before him.

"Throughout my professional career as attorney and judge I have been consciously preparing myself for further judicial responsibility and have worked constantly to develop those qualities which are required in a good judge."

HERBERT BURDICK

"It would be my duty to keep a close and constant watch over the administration of all estates; to make certain that all of the facts and circumstances are brought out; to render fair, compassionate and understanding judgement; and all without any bias or discrimination whatsoever.

"In juvenile matters, I believe that the primary aim is to help the child and the family; to rehabilitate offenders whenever possible. But, when firmness is necessary, I would be firm."

RALPH S. MOORE

VERNE C. HAMPTON

"For several years I have served the people of Oakland County as Circuit Court commissioner, meeting thousands of litigants where tenancy and land contract matters are involved, giving honest and courteous consideration.

"Due to the work involving ill-guided children that comes before the Probate Court, it is most important that a family man be elected, one who knows the problems of growing children. I am a family man with three children, two of whom have graduated from college."

DAVID KAUFMAN
(Did Not Submit Photo)

"There is one asset which I consider indispensible and the most important asset which a judge must possess—that is, a deep love for the simplicity and authority of the law.

"A probate judge, by whose decisions not only material wealth but also the lives and freedom of our younger generation are affected, must possess the ability to tear apart factual situations presented to him, and reconstruct such situations in accordance with the framework of the law."

L. HARVEY LODGE

"Oakland County needs a second probate judge to share the responsibilities of the present incumbent. I feel my experience, temperament, mature judgement, education and public service eminently qualify me as the man for the position.

"This, together with my 18 years on the Board of the Michigan Children's Aid Society, and my past cooperative assistance in child welfare and legislative programs and other probate matters, enable me to offer the experience and background for the further development of the court."

THEODORE F. HUGHES

"My experience as a circuit judge convinces me that the requisites for the successful handling of the duties of a judgeship are the same as any other undertaking —the skill with which one can perform his duties depends upon the background, training and experience of the individual involved.

"As law is but a philosophy of the justice of human society, the broadness with which an individual has participated in organized society reflects the breadth of his background, training and experience."

JOHN B. OSGOOD

"I am seeking election to the non-partisan office of probate judge. I believe each lawyer has a desire to become a judge and my aim has been the probate bench.

"I believe this desire is kindled and inspired through my acquaintance with Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore, through the Royal Oak Kiwanis Club and its youth work, and more recently, through the handling of juvenile court matters.

"I believe that the system used in the county should be expanded from the youth protection committees in the local communities to the facilities offered by the county."

'Convention Participants Should Take Physical'

June Chick Hatch Up; Year Total Off 24 Pct.

LANSING (UPI)—The Federal-State Crop Reporting Service said today the June hatch of chicks was 12 per cent ahead of June a year ago.

Some 1,200,000 chicks were hatched but the figure was 17 per cent below the five-year average, the service said.

Total hatch for the September through June 1960 season was down about 24 per cent from the 1959 season and 37 per cent from the previous year, the service said.

NEW COUNTY COURTHOUSE — This is the drawing of Oakland County's new $7,000,000 courthouse project on the County Service Center as sketched by architects O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach Associates of Birmingham. The six-story courthouse tower unit in center is about a year away from completion. County voters will vote Aug. 2 on two special propositions to provide four million dollars to construct four administrative wings and the supervisors meeting room (in the left foreground). A fourth wing, not shown in the drawing, will be located behind the $3,000,000 tower unit, for which funds are available. The fourth wing became necessary after a re-evaluation of a 1953 space study of county office needs. You are looking north in this drawing.

Ask Voters for Approval of Courthouse Project

County voters in the Aug. 2 primary will vote on two special propositions which could raise the funds needed to complete the new courthouse project.

It will be the only countywide question on the primary ballot.

The county is seeking permission from its taxpayers and voters to raise four million dollars by levying a half mill (50 cents for each $1,000 of state equalized property valuation) for the next four years.

If approved, county officials figure taxpayers would pay an average of $2.50 a year.

The result will mean that citizens will have all their county functions housed under one roof on the 300-acre County Service Center on the northwest side of the city. This has been a dream since 1944 when planners envisioned a campus-like county center.

TAKING SHAPE

Would Raise Funds

Here Are Proposals

As they will appear on the voting machine ballots Aug. 2, here are the two propositions to raise four million dollars to finish the new courthouse project:

TAX LIMITATION PROPOSITION

Shall the limitation on the total amount of taxes which may be assessed each year against property in the County of Oakland, State of Michigan, for all purposes except taxes for the payment of interest and principal on obligations incurred prior to December 5, 1932, be increased for a period of four (4) years from 1960 to 1963, both inclusive, by 1/20th of 1% (50c per $1000) of the assessed valuation as equalized, of the property in the County for the purpose of creating a sinking fund to be used for the construction or repair of public buildings?

(All electors can vote on this proposition).

TAX LEVY AND SINKING FUN PROPOSITION

To authorize the Board of Supervisors to levy a tax of one-half mill (50c per $1000) of the assessed valuation as equalized, each year for a period of four (4) years from 1960 to 1963, both inclusive, to create a sinking fund to be used for the construction and/or repair of public buildings?

(Only taxpayers and their spouses can vote on this proposition).

Funds are already accounted for for this first three million dollar building, the Board of Auditors say.

It will house five Circuit Court rooms and space for a sixth, two probate courtrooms, the county clerk-register of deeds offices, Juvenile Division; prosecutor's office, law library, conference rooms for attorneys and detention space for prisoners awaiting trial.

Most of these functions are now either housed in the downtown Courthouse, built 56 years ago, or in the older Courthouse Annex next door on Huron street.

County officials say these two buildings, and the old Masonic Temple building, now called the County Office Building at 1 Lafayette St., are bursting at the seams trying to keep pace with Michigan's fastest growing county.

New quarters are the answer, they say.

The financial plan they've submitted next week for approval will save taxpayers money in the long run since no bonds need to be issued, hence no high interest cost.

AVAILABLE FOR PUBLIC FUNCTIONS

The money would provide the funds for four administrative wings and a supervisors' meeting room next to the tower unit. The meeting room will be used for public functions, too.

Briefly stated, one propostion gives the county authority to levy the half mill, beginning with this year's tax bills, and to set up a so-called "sinking fund" in which the monies collected would be kept.

The second one is more of a technical matter as required by state law. It permits the county to go outside the statutory 15-mill property tax limitation to levy the tax.

Both must pass for the fund raising package to be successful.

County officials point out that although the questions do not spell out specifically that the money is for the courthouse building program, this is the one and only purpose.

"The propositions are worded on the ballot as they are because the state law requires that exact language," said Charles A. Davis, assistant corporation counsel.

Important to remember is that not all voters will be allowed to vote, on both proposals. Just property owners and their spouses will cast their vote on the first or tax levying-fund, question, while all voters will be permitted on the latter—the tax limitation question.

HOME FOR COUNTY OFFICES

The new buildings would be home for the many county offices now in the County Office Building, and in some equally overcrowded buildings already on the Service Center.

Now is the time to proceed with the buildings rather than wait 10 or more years when building costs are expected to continue their upward climb, supervisors agree.

Construction could begin as early as next fall if the two propositions are approved. The courthouse tower unit is expected to be completed next summer.

Numerous civic, business and labor groups have already voiced their support of the county plan. They say they go along with the county's feeling that money will be saved if the entire project is completed in one package instead of piecemeal.

In an attempt to educate voters on the plan, an eye-catching mobile display called the Oakland Countyrama is visiting cities and townships. Officials of the county are on hand to answer any questions that might be asked.

"The reception has been terrific," said Rep. Lloyd L. Anderson, a member of the county's personnel department.

High maintenance costs resulting from the age of the downtown buildings will be eliminated, and a more efficient governmental chair-of-command will be possible declared Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

Supervisors on June 7 approved the financing plan without a dissenting vote.

Nothing definite, Hamlin said, has been decided on what will be done with the present Courthouse, the Annex and Office Building. Hamlin said disposal of the Courthouse might fit into the city's urban renewal program.

NOT ENOUGH FUNDS

Not enough funds were available when plans for the first unit were laid in 1953. These funds came from nontax surplus county funds, an annual levy of one-tenth of a mill for public buildings, and the sale of county buildings.

Couldn't the proposed buildings be financed in the same way the first unit was?

"Yes, but this could prolong the construction program 10 years or more and by that time construction costs conceivably could be 20 to 30 per cent higher than they are today," Hamlin answered.

"These facilities are needed now," he added.

Present plans would mean the additional four units would be finished by 1964 "or sooner."

"The proposed method of financing will permit the county to meet its building needs for many years to come without the necessity of resorting to long term bond obligations and costly interest charges," the chairman said.

Additional savings can be realized under the project from already existing utilities, such as light, heating and water, now serving those buildings in the Service Center, he said.

They include: Infirmary, juvenile home and cottages, Board of Education, Road Commission (across Telegraph road), central stores for supplies, Health Dept., Social Welfare Dept., Agricultural and Cooperative Extension Service, Animal Shelter and Central Garage.

1,000 View Church Ground Breaking

First Methodist Starts $300,000 Project on 7-Acre Site

CLARKSTON—A crowd of nearly 1,000 yesterday witnessed groundbreaking ceremonies for the new First Methodist Church on a hilltop site near M15 and Waldron road.

Following an address by Flint District Supt. Dr. Chester A. McPheeters, the first shovel full of earth was turned over by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huttenlocher, who donated the seven-acre plot upon which the $300,000 church will be erected.

The site was originally the location of Mrs. Huttenlocher's childhood home. She and her husband, owner of a Pontiac insurance agency, have long been members of the congregation.

Besides the sermon by Dr. McPheeters, prayers were offered by the pastor, the Rev. William J. Richards, and Everett Butters, lay reader.

QUADRILEVEL DESIGN

The First Methodist congregation numbers 900, with an additional 600 Sunday School children.

The new church, which will be built on a quadrilevel plan with an entrance at each level, will have a seating capacity of 500 when completed next summer.

A spire 112 feet high will rise from the building, which will be constructed on the highest point of the hill facing M15 and adjacent to Waldron road.

Rev. Richards said construction will get under way shortly.

Man Is Unique—Refuses to Take $1½-$3 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John R. Carr can boast "some fellows came to the door to leave 1½ to 3 million dollars in coin—but I wouldn't let them in."

Carr, an employe of the U. S. Mint, refused to let in two huge truckloads of silver coins when they arrived ahead of schedule from Denver. So the trucks, and their treasure had to spend the night in the driveway of the mint just off Buchanan Street.

"There's nobody to sign for the stuff," Carr told the truckdrivers and their armored car escort when they arrived at the new mint about 3 p. m. Sunday.

Flight of Czechs From Red Regime Is Similar to Sunday Jump

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —A Czech couple with two sons jumped overboard from an East-German ferry in the Baltic port of Gedser today in the same way another Czech family of five defected Sunday.

Taken to a hospital, they said they would ask for political asylum in Denmark. Police withheld their names but it is understood the man is a professor in chemistry at the University of Prague.

The five who jumped Sunday, and also sought political asylum, were a Prague engineer; his wife, a scientist; their sons, 4 and 6, and the wife's mother, 62.

Don't Ask Guests by Newspaper

By EMILY POST

Dear Mrs. Post: My fiancee and I are going to be married in the fall. Both of our families are in business in this town and we know a great many people who will have to be invited to the wedding.

Her family feels that if they send out invitations, they may miss some of the people and perhaps cause ill feelings among the townspeople, and therefore they would like to put a notice in the society column of the local newspaper stating that it will be an open wedding and reception and that everyone is invited to attend.

I am against this and feel that unless people receive a personal invitation, they will not come. I know in my particular case I would not attend a wedding without an invitation sent to me personally.

I realize it is possible to leave some out but I think it would be better to omit a few rather than run the risk of having many people stay away. I would appreciate your views on this matter.

Answer: I agree with you that a general invitation to everyone, printed in the newspaper, is actually not an invitation to anyone. It will be better to send invitations to all the people both of your families can think of, and try to miss as few as possible.

Dear Mrs. Post: When an acquaintance stops at the house to pay a very short visit, leaving a friend of hers sitting in the car, is it necessary that I give any thought to the person left in the car? I mean, is it up to me to go out to meet her and invite her in, or what?

Answer: If she stops in only for a very few minutes you would do nothing. But if the conversation runs on to any length, you should certainly ask your visitor to bring her friend in.

Dear Mrs. Post: I would like very much to have your opinion on the correctness of using a rubber stamp return address on all correspondence — personal or otherwise.

Abby in Mom's Corner

Strictness With Daughter Isn't a Sign of Squareness

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Our 17-year-old daughter is going with a 22-year-old fellow from one of the best families. The fellow called and asked me if our daughter could spend the night at his home. He said he anticipated a late evening and it would save a lot of driving.

ABBY

I said no, we had never permitted that kind of an arrangement for her and did not approve. So the boy had his father call and try to talk us into letting her stay all night. Then his mother got on the phone and said our daughter would be THEIR house guest and they would be home.

She argued and argued, making it very difficult for me to stick to my decision.

These people are supposed to be high society and leading citizens. I ended the conversation by saying that we wanted our daughter to spend her nights in her own home in her own bed. Are we "square"?

DOING OUR BEST

DEAR DOING: If you are "square," I want to be in all four of your corners.

DEAR ABBY: I envy the people who write and say they are TOO FAT. At least there is hope for them. They can always lose weight if they try hard enough.

But how about us girls who are TOO THIN? Don't tell me to drink malteds, take pills and see a doctor. I've tried everything and I am still painfully thin. My doctor said I was as healthy as a horse but I burn up my energy fast.

The worst part of it is that everyone tells me what a beautiful FACE I have. They always emphasize FACE, and it stops right there. Isn't there something new I can try?

NO PIN-UP

DEAR NO PIN-UP: Having tried everything, including a visit to your doctor, try accepting the fact that you are a "slim, slender, willowy" (never "painfully thin") woman. If you can't change the frame, upholster the clothes. Wear full skirts and tight wide belts; high colors and high necklines. At least you're a pin-up from the chin up. Count your blessings.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for ten months. Abby, I know the honeymoon isn't supposed to last forever, but should it be over in three weeks? Please answer this soon as I am very upset. I hope you understand what I am trying to get across. If I made it any plainer you couldn't put it in the paper.

NEEDS ADVICE

DEAR NEEDS: I suspect the only person who could advise you is a doctor. Take your problem AND your husband to him.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "PARENTS IN A QUANDARY": Give your daughter the same educational advantages as your son. An old Chinese proverb — and a good one to apply: "To raise a son without learning is raising an ass; to raise a daughter without learning is raising a pig."

"What's your problem?" Write to Abby in care of this paper. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Women Receive Greater Voice at Convention

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Republicans are giving their womenfolk more of a say than ever in their convention proceedings.

Mrs. Clare B. Williams, assistant chairman of the GOP national committee, said yesterday that never before had so many women attended a national political convention or held so many top posts.

She said there were 609 female delegates and alternates on tap and 11 females in key convention jobs. The Democrats had 606 women delegates and alternates at the Los Angeles convention.

"I think this convention will show the Republican party is a party that uses women in key spots," she said.

Conspicuous by her absence on program listing, however, was the party's leading female politician, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine, the only woman member of the Senate.

Mrs. Williams told a news conference that Mrs. Smith had "other commitments" and might show up Wednesday. Under questioning, Mrs. Williams said she had asked Mrs. Smith to make a speech to the convention.

Newlyweds Head North

Historic Mackinac Island and Northern Michigan will be the honeymoon destination for William Noyle Anderson and his bride the former Sandra Beatrice Erwin who were wed Saturday evening in the First Church of the Nazarene.

The Rev. J. E. Van Allen performed the candlelight ceremony before an altar flanked by tall standards of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Receiving over 400 guests in Roosevelt Temple following the nuptials were the bride's parents Mr. and Mrs. James Albert Erwin of Seminole avenue and the Frank Alexander Andersons of Oneida road, parents of the bridegroom.

Alencon lace in rose pointe pattern re-embroidered with seed pearls and iridescent sequins formed the molded bodice and long sleeves. The lace applique also accented the hipline and full chapel train.

MRS. WM. N. ANDERSON

Their floor-length dresses of rose pink silk organza over taffeta were styled with scoop necklines, gathered puff sleeves and crushed cummerbunds. Chin veils were attached to their matching caplets.

London Fashions Relaxed, Gentle

LONDON (UPI) — You'd almost think the British fashion designers were philosophers — or psychologists. The top couturiers here have created fashions for fall and winter of a gentle and relaxed beauty.

They're so pretty that if all women wore them, politicians might be influenced to stop ranting and political squabbles might be forgotten in sighs of admiration for the fairer sex.

There was a small avant garde movement to do away with the derriere. It came when John Cavanagh announced he was "heavily challenging" the tight skirt in favor of a flared, pleated or gathered effect that left the line at the back of the skirt rather vague — anything but defined.

A few others — including the clever and original Michael — went along with him.

But one got the impression he was fighting a losing battle when Hardy Amies and Victor Stiebel threw their considerable power behind the traditional slim skirt for most of their suits and day dresses.

Norman Hartnell, Queen Elizabeth's dressmaker, also refused to give up the fitted skirt though he did show a few adaptations of the "vague" style.

With the exception of this brief and quickly-settled flare-up about whether to define or not to define the derriere, the new style was a soft line that caressed the body.

There were no extremes, just an abundance of elegance and the natural silhouette.

To sum up this romantic trend in the London shows, which ended yesterday, the main features were:

—Hemlines of the same length.

"Flat" furs such as ocelot, beaver and caracul.

Plan Picnic Under Stars

This is the season of sunny skies and starry nights—perfect reasons to desert your spotless automatic kitchen and move dining delights outdoors.

It's the occasion, too, for the woman of the house to relieve herself of cooking chores and gleefully turn them over to the man, who likes to don the chef's cap over the barbecue.

It's still up to the woman though, to add the feminine touch, make the plans, and add the extras that make a party a real pleasure.

If you're planning an evening patio or backyard party, the "light touch" can certainly create the festive atmosphere. A string of oriental lanterns with your outdoor colored Christmas lights inside will create a merry mood.

Still another inexpensive way to create a lavish effect is with candles. A profusion of them placed in candelabras, metal cups or wine bottles and strategically situated on the terrace or lawn will cast a soft glamorous glow.

Lighted old-fashioned kerosene hurricane lamps are also effective and inexpensive. To add light with warmth on chilly nights, a host of braziers glowing with charcoal will create coziness and a luxurious look.

Some fancy touches that always add a festive note are matched bibs with either chicken, lobster, or hamburger designs, table centerpieces filled with fresh fruit, gayly designed napkins, or freshly-cut, colorful flowers.

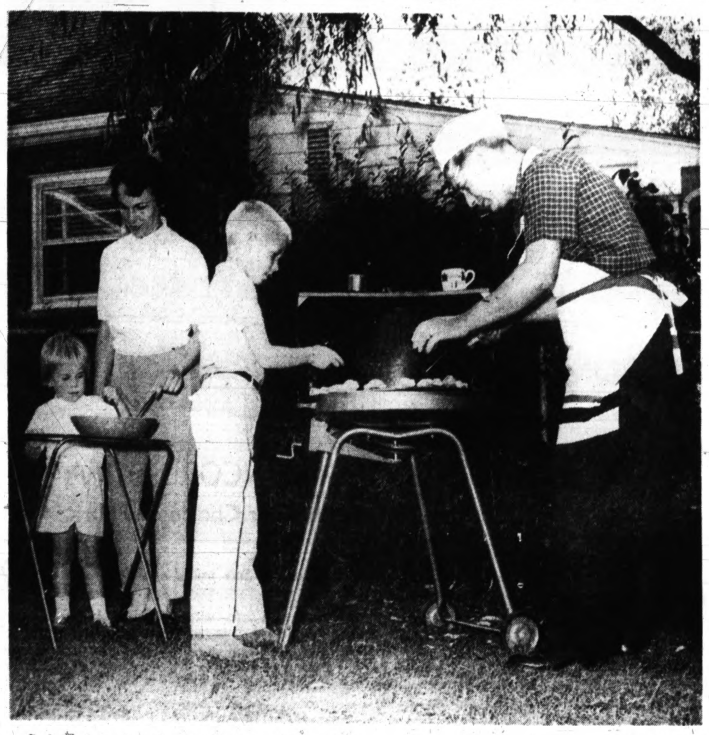

Passing out to your guests little foil packaged towelettes not only show you up as the gracious hostess, but are the perfect way to end the feast. These disposable, premoistened towelettes will be welcomed for cleansing sticky hands and faces after dining.

While the man is monarch over the grill, preliminary chores such as shopping for meat, and organizing the meal, are still reserved for mother.

In planning the menu, recipes should be selected that require the same cooking time. This assures you that foods will be ready to serve as closely as possible to the same time.

In buying meat, let your butcher help you save time and effort by having ribs cut to size, roasts boned, and fowl trussed for spit-roasting. Organize utensils ahead of time; have cooking equipment arranged within easy reach and cooking ingredients and seasonings grouped near the barbecue.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Going to a family reunion? Having a big crowd in for a picnic? Entertaining some teenagers? This spaghetti casserole would be a good choice for any of these occasions.

½ cup chopped onions
½ cup chopped green pepper

Brown meat, onions and green pepper together. Mix with rest of ingredients. Pour into casserole and bake one hour at 350 degrees. Serves six.

Time Can Help You in Mending Marriage

By RUTH MILLETT

A wife writes: "Some years ago I discovered that my husband was having an affair with one of the stenographers in his office—a girl at least 10 years younger than my husband.

"He didn't want me to get a divorce and promised that if I would 'forgive and forget' I could trust him to end the affair immediately. This I know he did. The girl is married now and no longer working at the office—so everything should be all right.

"Only it isn't. Our marriage just isn't the same, and I am beginning to wonder if it ever will be. I felt so safe and secure before this happened—now I don't. And my husband often seems restless and unhappy. Do you think our marriage will ever be the same as it once was?"

Probably not. But that is no reason to think it isn't worth saving. Time will ease the tension and embarrassment. Time will help you both forget past unhappiness. Time will bring you closer together.

But you've got to help time a little, too. Never, under any circumstances, remind your husband by a look or a word of the matter you both need to forget.

Don't allow yourself to dwell on it in your own mind. And don't fret because the marriage you have put back together after it came close to being broken beyond repair sometimes shows that it has been mended.

Be thankful that it is mended and, without looking back, make each day as happy and pleasant as you possibly can.

You will regain some of your old security if you will always remember that when it came to a showdown your husband chose you, rather than the other woman.

That must mean that you were more important to him than she was.

It's a Hectic Life

Working Wife Must Plan

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

There is no fuller or more satisfying life, and none so complex, as that of a woman who has both a job and the responsibilities of a home.

This most modern of all creatures, the married woman who works, leads a double life and in order to succeed at both she must avoid as many of the pitfalls as possible.

She must organize her household so well that she has only to wind it up once every 24 hours like a clock. She cannot afford the energy or time which forgotten items on the grocery list and neglected household equipment demand. She must live by lists and plan ahead for special occasionss.

The married woman who works must be aware of many tricks in the organization of her duties and her life. She must be able to fit in time with her husband and children, time for shopping and social life and outside activities, not to mention notes of thanks and condolence and beauty care.

IT'S A BIG JOB

It sounds like a big job and believe me it is! I do not think any woman should attempt it unless she has superlative health and no woman in this position can afford to neglect her health.

Perhaps most important of all, the woman who has a job and a family must have a certain temperament — not only to succeed but to survive! She must be able to slough off life's minor crises and unexpected happenings with a sense of humor. She cannot afford the energy for destructive emotional binges.

Any woman who works outside her home must have a keen sense of values if this is to be a profitable experience instead of a hectic and sad one.

The woman who has a job and a family must have a certain temperament—not only to succeed but to survive! She must be able to slough off life's minor crises and unexpected happenings with a sense of humor.

She must weigh her energy in order to know where best to spend it. She must know when to let the housework go and when not to, when loss of sleep is worthwhile and when it is not, and she must also be able to make a sound judgment as to when her job is interfering with her happiness and that of her family.

3 Million Teen Girls Drive Cars

565,000 Have Their Own, According to National Survey

Over 3 million of the nation's 9,750,000 teen girls drive a car and 565,000 of the country's teenage girls have their own cars, according to a new survey, "The Teen-age Girl: 1960," published by Seventeen Magazine. Based on interviews with 4,532 teen girls from coast-to-coast, the comprehensive study, covering all areas of teen activity ranging from cooking to cars, surveys teen-age car ownership, driving and influence on family car purchases.

While 31 per cent of all teen girls drive, the survey is broken down to show the percentages of girls in the 13-15, 16-17 and 18-19 age groups who drive. Fifty per cent are 18-19-year-olds, and as expected, the percentage is much lower with 13-15-year-olds, of which 11.2 per cent drive.

The majority of teen drivers (45.7 per cent) uses the family car, but 20.5 per cent rely on a friend for car-borrowing and 11.5 per cent use a brother's or sister's car. Almost half the teen drivers name friends and parents as the major sources for driving instructions. 17.6 per cent attended a special driving school, and 13.9 per cent learned how to drive at classes in their high schools.

When questioned on influence in family car purchases, 56.8 per cent of the 4,532 teens interviewed reported all or some influence, predominantly for color and upholstery.

They also influence decisions regarding make, convertible or sedan models, and special equipment.

"The Teen-Age Girl: 1960" is a national sample conducted during 1959 by the Eugene Gilbert Co.

To insure accurate information from the 4,532 girls interviewed, the study employs a semiprobability procedure established by the Gilbert organization.

We Hide Emotions and Needs Too Well

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Late last night the mother of a long-widowed friend of ours died in her daughter's home.

When I arrived I found the nurse still in attendance. I made us all coffee. Time passed. After a while my friend was able to speak. Looking across the room to where the nurse was sipping her coffee she said:

"You were so kind to me, Miss Gray. I will never forget your kindness."

"You did so many things I couldn't have done. I couldn't have talked to the medical examiner. I wouldn't have been able to find the telephone number of those — of those people who took her away.

"You were so kind. And then making me soup. You are so good, Miss Gray — so good . . ."

Now it is the responsibility of nurses to deal with illness and death. It is their job to know what to do for those who are not able to do for themselves.

That Miss Gray had done her professional work with kindness is surely to her credit; but as I listened to my friend's broken words of gratitude, they struck me as very sad indeed.

She was, quite literally, astounded by her experience of decent human kindness.

Is it such a rare one among us these days that we must so marvel at it? Is it so rarely that we can expose our weakness and need to others and receive strength and compassion instead of criticism and contempt?

Never must we falter before children. Always we must be ready with perfected understanding and endless strength. We must never let our guard down lest Jimmy and Nancy suspect that we are less sure of ourselves than we think we ought to be.

If a disagreement with their father has discouraged us, we must pretend it hasn't. If we're anxious about money, we must say:

"Oh, it's nothing. I was just wondering about something."

Under no circumstances is it safe to let the children know that we are not in complete control of ourselves.

Why?

The answer, I think is a saddening one.

We have learned that exposing our weakness to others means punishment. To reveal it is to invite not respect but exploitation and hurt.

Which is why increasing numbers of us have to seek psychiatrists for acceptance of our insufficiencies.

Defense Department Has Secret

WASHINGTON (AP) — Picture a stack of secret documents piled higher than the Empire State Building each week.

A House secrecy investigator conjured up that picture Saturday in protesting against what he called the increasing trend in Defense Department to classify papers and documents secret.

Rep. John E. Moss (D-Calif) said this is occurring at a rate equal to the amassing each week of a stack of documents 1,373 feet high — 123 feet higher than the Empire State Building in New York, the nation's highest occupied structure.

Moss is chairman of the House Government Information subcommittee which has waged a running, five-year fight with the Defense Department over handling of military information.

Ivan Has Been Told Ike Uses Mean Golf Racket

MOSCOW (UPI) — The Soviet Union has more wide open spaces than ony other country on earth, but its citizens don't cut them up into fairways, greens and roughs of golf courses.

With one-sixth of the earth's surface at its disposal, the U.S.S.R. does not have a single golf course, and as far as is known, never had one.

The average Russian could not tell a brassie from a caddie and couldn't be sure if golf is played on a course or a court.

But if he is a faithful reader of the Soviet Press, he reads that whatever it is, President Eisenhower would rather do it than attend to his presidential responsibilities.

Since the U2 plane incident cooled Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's opinion of the United States, Soviet newspapers rarely miss a chance to assert that Eisenhower is on the "golf court," as Izvestia said yesterday.

Unfortunately, the newspapers rarely explain what golf is. Unless the Russian reader has been abroad, there is scarcely a chance he would know.

'Squares' With Brother Lionel, '57 Champ; Gets $11,000 for Victory

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Jay Hebert finally got even with his kid brother.

The 37-year-old ex-Marine, wounded at Iwo Jima, stormed out of a four-way crush Sunday to win the 42nd Professional Golfers' Assn. championship by a stroke, leaving 1947 champion Jim Ferrier, three-time champion Sam Snead, and third-round leader Doug Sanders in his wake.

That should put a stop to the "needling" Jay has been getting down around his bayou home in Lafayette, La., even since his 32-year-old brother, Lionel, won the same title three years ago.

The Hebert boys, on the tour only five years, are the only brother act to grab a big-time title since the Smith brothers, Alex and Willie, did it in the National Open around the turn of the century.

Lionel won at Dayton's Miami Valley layout in 1957, the last time the feature was at match play. Jay did it on Firestone Country Club's 7,165-yard 'monster' over which par was bettered only 13 times in four days.

Hebert wound up with a 72-hole total of 281, one over par, with birdies on two of the last four holes Sunday, Ferrier, the ex-Australian, was second at 282, and Snead and Sanders deadlocked at 283.

Arnold Palmer, famed for his finishes in winning the Masters and Open crowns this year, couldn't make up a stroke on the final 18 with a par 70 and wound up tied for seventh with ex-champion Doug Ford at 286.

Snead, who has "blown" several big championships with shaky finishes, did it again. With two holes to play he held a stroke lead in a four-way fight for the finish. But he bogied the last two to lose three strokes to Hebert.

The slammer also lost two strokes to Ferrier and one to Sanders on the final pair.

Hebert picked up $11,000 of the record $63,000 purse, boosting his year's earnings to $33,002. Ferrier almost doubled his previous take with the $5,500 second prize. Snead and Sanders collected $3,350. Snead, appearing in only 10 tournaments this season, has won $16,916.

Ferrier was the first of the big four to finish, and his 282 looked like a winner, or at least good for a deadlock. He watched the others on television, and when Hebert ran down a long birdie putt on No. 17 to take the lead, big Jim shrugged, silently rose and sauntered out with his crushed hopes.

Lions Make Deal —Get Kowalczyk

DETROIT (AP) — Everybody's happy with the Detroit Lions' latest deal that brough Walt Kowalczyk here to join the National Football League club's ever-growing Michigan State alumni chapter.

The trade was made as the Lions prepared to open training camp today.

Reichow will get a long-awaited crack at a regular quarterback job with the Eagles. He had been shunted from position to position since joining Detroit from Iowa in 1956 as a quarterback.

Wilson had intended to try Reichow as a running back this fall. But when Ninowski was acquired last week from Cleveland, giving the Lions five quarterbacks, Reichow issued a "play me at quarterback or trade me" ultimatum.

With Philadelphia, Reichow will spell longtime veteran Norm Van Brocklin. Van Brocklin is expected to retire after next season. Leaving Reichow as his heir apparent for the starting quarterback post.

Kowalczyk joined the Eagles as their top draft choice in 1958 after an illustrious career at Michigan State. He teamed with Morrall when the Spartans went to the Rose Bowl and beat UCLA 17-14 on Jan. 1.

The "Sprinting Blacksmith" was used sparingly at Philadelphia last season because of an injured knee.

A smattering of veterans and 22 rookies were to start training today at the Lions camp at Cranbrook. All the quarterbacks were told to be on hand. So were veterans Wayne Walker, Terry Barr, Ollie Spencer, Williams, Gene Cook and Dick LeBeau. Most of the veterans — except the quarterbacks — were reporting to camp early to learn new positions.

This bettered the 25-year-old mark held by Jesse Owens of 8.13 meters (26 feet, 8.25 inches) but it was nullified because of wind conditions.

The Midwest Association of race cars for the 5th straight year will be the sanctioning body for the 250 mile stock car race at the state Fairgrounds, Sept. 11th. The 1960 state fair runs Sept. 2-11.

A 15-hit barrage led by Dave Simmons' bases-loaded triple in the 4th, plus some gilt-edged hurling by Gene Cox, gave Pontiac Jets their 8th straight exhibition victory yesterday, 9-1, over Walpole Island Indians. Simmons had a pair of doubles, also Cox and John Shanks hit 2-baggers to aid winners.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "Still fighting for distance."

DIAGNOSIS:: Wrong hip turn.

TREATMENT: In their eternal quest for extra distance, many golfers turn their hips nearly as far around as they do their shoulders. This big turn of the hips not only makes it hard to hit the ball straight, but actually works against getting more distance.

The best power position at the top of the backswing — as set out in the drawing—finds the shoulders turned to the point where the back is facing the target, and the hips turned about half that far.

A good way to judge whether the hips have turned far enough— but not too far—is to make this check! Have the hips turned so that the belt buckle is pointing toward the right toe. This is the proper position.

Getting this phase of the backswing down right will be a big help in getting some extra yardage into your shots. Work on it on the practice tee. Practice the backswing until you get the FEEL of the proper position. Then go ahead with some practice shots.

The Brede brothers finished second in their new boat. Fred Poole gained third for his first placement of the season moving up on the last after a protest.

Fries won a trophy for being 8th among 30 boats in the third district of the American Snipe Association race at Reed Lake. Mrs. Fries was crew in the competition against boats from Indiana, Ohio and Illinois.

NO TIGER RUN — Detroit Tiger Johnny Groth is tagged out in a cloud of dust as he tried to slide home with the potential winning run in the 7th inning against the Baltimore Orioles. Groth, running for catcher Lou Berberet, was on second base and he tried to score on Ed Yost's single to right. Gene Stephens threw to catcher Clint Courtney to make the tag. The umpire is Charley Berry.

Detroit Moves to Washington for Next Series

Battle for 5th Place Continues Tomorrow for Bengals

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Detroit Tigers, having booted away three tight games with the Baltimore Orioles, headed for Washington today to continue their battle for fifth place.

The Senators and the Tigers, fighting it out for fifth place in the American League, finished a three-game series in Detroit last week with Washington winning two of them.

The Tigers lost a 2-1 game to Baltimore yesterday. That gave the Orioles three of the four games here, each by one unearned run.

With one out in the 11th yesterday, Billy Klaus singled off relief pitcher Dave Sisler. Ron Hansen then struck out. Chuck Estrada banged a grounder and Frank Bolling muffed the play at second, setting the stage for a game-winning single by Jackie Brandt which drove Klaus home. Brandt doubled home the other Baltimore run in the third off starter Jim Bunning.

Estrada, a 22-year-old rookie, went all the way on the mound for the Orioles giving up five hits, striking out eight and walking four. He retired the Tigers in order in the final three innings and upped his record to 10-5.

Detroit scored in the seventh when Bolling doubled, Lou Berberet walked and Chico Fernandez sacrificed both runners along. Johnny Groth went in to run for Berberet. Neil Chrisley struck out pinch-hitting for Bunning. Eddie Yost singled to right and scored Bolling, but right fielder Gene Stephens cut down Groth at the plate trying to score.

Bunning struck out seven in six innings. Sisler, now 5-4, worked out of jams in the seventh and eighth innings.

Baltimore won Friday night 2-1, scoring twice on infield errors. Saturday night a two-out infield error put the winning run on base in the ninth inning of the second game of a doubleheader and a walk forced in the winning run.

Braves Replace Pirates at Top of Senior Circuit

Notice Who's Leading NL?

By The Associated Press

For the first time since May 30, the National League has a new leader. Pittsburgh finally has given way to the charge of the Milwaukee Braves, who have been chewing chunks out of the Pirate lead in recent days.

Just before the All-Star games, the Pirate lead measured 5½ games. The wise men along Broadway had tabbed the Bucs as 1-to-4 favorites to win the pennant.

Milwaukee closed the gap Sunday by whipping Chicago twice 7-5 and 1-0 behind a couple of familiar names, Warren Spahn and Bob Buhl. The Pirates, trailing 6-0, scared San Francisco with three runs in the ninth and had Manager Tom Sheehan digging deep into his bullpen for three pitchers before the Giants finally nailed down a 6-3 victory.

Los Angeles, blazing hot with 29 consecutive innings of shutout pitching (27 against the Phillies), blanked the Phils again 9-0. Stan Williams, the big man of the Dodger staff, hit a two-run homer during an eight-run spurt in the third inning and then managed to pitch a 10-hit shutout.

St. Louis came up with two in the ninth with the help of an error by shortstop Roy McMillan and a double by Bill White and nipped Cincinnati 6-5. The result left the Cards in fourth place but only one percentage point behind the third-place Dodgers. Each is four games behind the Braves.

The Braves gave Spahn the support of a 12-hit attack including home runs by Johnny Logan and Joe Adcock as the veteran won his 11th. Buhl tied up with rookie Jim Brewer, up from Houston, in a pitching duel until Mel Roach doubled with two out in the ninth inning of the second game. Logan was given an intentional pass and Al Spangler, running for Roach, stole third. Dark then laced a single to left for the run. It was Buhl's 10th victory.

Giants were rolling along with a 6-0 lead on homers by Willie Mays and Bob Schmidt when a blister developed on Billy O'Dell's pitching hand after he walked Dick Groat to lead off the ninth. Johnny Antonelli, the first relief man, was knocked out. Billy Loes, next in line, was thumbed out for arguing with the plate umpire. Mike McCormick finally got the side out.

In the big third inning, Los Angeles sent 11 men to the plate against John Buzhardt and Jim Owens and eight of them got hits. Norm Larker regained the league lead at .344 with two of the Dodgers' 15 hits.

Cincinnati appeared to have locked up the game with St. Louis when it scored two in the seventh for a 5-3 edge but Stan Musial's homer cut the edge to one run in the eighth and the Cards pulled it out with a single against Jay Hook and Bill Henry in the ninth. McMillan's error let one run in and White's double scored the other. Bob Gibson was the winner on relief and Hook was the loser.

Mickey Blows, Rawls Wins Open

Head for American Test

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — The nation's lady professional golfers headed today for the American Open at Minneapolis, aware that even the stars can boot a big one, giving everyone a chance.

They saw Mickey Wright drop a two-stroke halfway lead Saturday in losing the National Women's Open golf tourney at the 6,137-yard, par 35-37—72 Worcester County Club course.

It was the first time the willowy blonde from San Diego lost a tournament after taking a first-round lead.

The winner was Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S. C. and although she is the leading money winner this season, she was written off because she was so far off the pace. However, she overcame a seven-stroke lead during the trying 36-hole play Saturday to take the title and $1,700 in prize money.

For Betsy, it was an unprecedented fourth Open championship, breaking a record she held jointly with the late Babe Zaharias.

Miss Wright was shooting for her third straight title after becoming the first to win two successive titles in 1958-59.

Betsy had the tourney figured perfectly. She predicted at the start the winner would post a 292 total for the 72 holes. And that's how she finished. En route, she tied the Open record with a 68 in the third round.

Joyce Ziske of Waterford, Wis., was third at 293 and Mary Lena Faulk of Sea Island, Ga., tied Marlene Bauer Hagge for fourth at 298.

2 Pontiac Women Win State Water Ski Titles

HITS CENTURY — Tony Mitchell, of the Cass Lake Ski Club, joined the century club yesterday as he soared over 100 feet in the jumping event of the Michigan State Water Ski Championship held at Loon Lake. Mitchell, the 1958 champion, finished second this year with a total of 244 points behind Ray Fullerton of Ann Arbor who had 256 points and a jump of 108 feet. The State championships ended yesterday but next weekend the Midwest Championships will be held at Loon Lake.

Indians on Warpath Against Jimmy Piersall

Piersall stayed behind in Boston today for an appearance before American League President Joe Cronin while the rest of the squad packed their war clubs and set off for New York, where they open a four-game series against the Yankees Tuesday night.

Team members said they may send a committee to General Manager Frank Lane when he joins the club and will demand that he take definite action to curb Piersall's antics.

One irate player told a reporter the team is on the verge of a revolt, adding that "Lane has got to do something or the entire team will fall apart."

A veteran Tribesman said the Indians "still have a good chance to win the pennant, but not if Piersall remains unchecked. We got a lot of rough decisions from umpires in the Boston series. They lean over backward when Piersall is concerned but take it out on the rest of the players."

Members of the team said they thought the fines that have been levied on Piersall will have little effect and that neither Cronin nor Lane will take any action unless the team issues an ultimatum.

"They talk about the $350 he (Piersall) has paid in fines this season," said one player. "That's a big joke. He will make far more than that making personal appearances. But we aren't going to make any extra money unless we win the pennant."

Cronin called Piersall on the carpet to explain his antics and umpire-baiting tactics.

LONELY ONE — Jim Piersall cools off in the shade of the flagpole in centerfield as the manager Joe Gordon halted the game to change pitcher. The Cleveland outfielder was thrown out of yesterday's game for an argument with the umpire who called interference on him. Club and league officials are meeting with Piersall to discuss his antics.

Mrs. Wright Keeps City Golf Title

Mrs. W. D. (Edith) Wright is disdodging Mrs. Zadah DeBolt as the queen of golf in the city of Pontiac.

Breaking 80 for the first time in her golfing career, Mrs. Wright ran way from everybody Saturday at Pontiac Municipal golf course to win the women's City Medal Play golf championship for the 2nd straight year and 4th time altogether.

The Lake Orion shotmaker fired an excellent 39-38—77, two above women's par, for a one-sided seven-stroke triumph in the annual 18-hole event.

Mrs. Wright's four victories in this tournament are more than anybody else can boast except Mrs. DeBolt, who has won the city crown six times.

A prominent and active figure in the Women's Metropolitan Golf Assn. for several years, Mrs. Wright posted five birdies over the Municipal links while bogeying five holes and once slipping to a double bogey six.

Her nearest rival was Phyllis Boyer, who shot 84. Bobbie Miller took 3rd place with 85, followed by Mrs. DeBolt at 86.

Mrs. Wright birdied the 3rd and 6th holes during her front nine round on the Municipal layout's north side. Then she switched to the south course and birdied the 1st, 2nd and 5th holes.

Her 77 scorecard was five strokes better than any winning total in the women's city tourney in the last 10 years.

Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Boyer, Bobbie Miller, Mrs. DeBolt and Gerry Featherston, who finished 5th with 88, will form Pontiac's entry in the state MRA team tournament Sept. 17 at Midland.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department instituted a handicap division in this year's tourney and the low net winner was Betty Wallace, who rifled 97-32—65. Runnerup honors went to Gerry Featherston, who had a 20 handicap for a net 68.

Molenda Runaway Victor of Publinx Medal Play

By BILL CORNWELL

There isn't any doubt about it. Johnny Molenda was the best golfer by far in the Michigan Publinx Golf Association's weekend 54-hole medal play tournament at Morey's Golf and Country Club.

Collecting five birdies and an eagle deuce on Saturday and adding nine more birdies Sunday, Molenda was eight strokes better than his nearest foe in the annual event.

Molenda compiled a 54-hole total of 205, 11 strokes below par, to win the first title of his golfing career and strip Pontiac's Mike Andonian of the honors he won a year ago on the same course.

Andonian shot 215 to share 4th place with Dr. A. E. LaCroix. Runnerup honors went to Alan (Scotty) Thompson of Pleasant Ridge with 213 while Wally Smith of Pontiac, Al Whited of Wayne, Dick Preston of Detroit and ex-Tiger outfielder Roy Cullenbine divided 3rd spot at 214.

Molenda, the former U. of D. golfer who lives in St. Clair Shores, just couldn't be touched over the Red, White and Blue layouts at Morey's.

Now a junior accounting student at Detroit Tech, the 21-year-old Molenda seized a three-stroke lead at the end of Saturday's opening 27 holes by firing 36-31-37—104. He made it even more emphatic yesterday by shooting 32-32-37—101.

This is Molenda's 1st year in the Publinx organization and it's a mighty impressive debut. He had only five bogies during the two days and Sunday he one-putted a dozen greens while three-putting just once.

Record nine-hole scores were carded on each nine by the talented MPGA field. Molenda and Gae Peak shot record 31s on the White links, Andonian rifled a 34 on the Blue layout and Molenda and Cullenbine each shot 32 on the Red course.

Other Pontiac entries in the 54-hole championship were well back in the pack. Charlie Barker and Dick Robertson were part of a six-way tie for 8th place with 220s.

City Industrial Golfers Picked

Wasik, Bruske, Gaines and Hanes Will Shoot for Pontiac Motor

Four Pontiac Motor Division golfers earned berths in the National Industrial Golf Championship in 18-hole qualifying rounds Sunday at Pontiac Country Club.

Medalist Ed Wasik, Don Bruske, Joe Gaines and Jim Hanes will comprise Pontiac Motor's four-man team in the national tournament, which will be held Aug. 20-21 at Pontiac C.C. and Morey's Golf and Country Club.

Wasik fired a three-under-par 71 in yesterday's qualifiers to pace a 46-man field. Bruske and Gaines tied for 2nd place with 75s while Hanes won the 4th position in a sudden-death playoff with Stan Savage and "Red" Fender after the three players wound up deadlocked at 76.

Fender bogied the 2nd hole to drop out of the playoff, then Savage nowed to Hanes' birdie four on the 3rd hole.

Savage will be the No. 1 alternate for the Pontiac Motor squad. Other leading scores among nonqualifiers were a 77 by Weimer, Rube Wideman's 77, a 78 by Vidlund, and Jim Cumberworth's 78.

Yanks Win, Avoid Sweep by Chisox

By The Associated Press

Eli Grba is a name not calculated to strike terror into the hearts of American League hitters. Yet this 25-year-old right-hander, recalled from the Richmond farm in early June, has saved the New York Yankees at a crucial stage.

The Yanks were moaning low Sunday after losing the first game of a doubleheader to Chicago 6-3. The White Sox came into town in second place and proceeded to win three straight from New York. One more defeat and the proud Yanks would have been three games back.

Desperate for pitching after the failures of Bob Turley, Whitey Ford and Jim Coates, the Yankees called on Grba. He came through with the first complete game of his brief major league career and his second victory over the White Sox, 8-2. As a result the White Sox' lead was cut to one game. In fact, he has a total of four victories over two seasons in the majors and three of them have been at the expense of Chicago.

Baltimore sneaked into third place, three games back, by edging Detroit 2-1 in 11 innings on Jackie Brandt's fourth hit of the day. Boston dropped Cleveland into fourth place by taking two from the Indians who spent most of the day jawing with the umpires. The scores were 10-6 and 7-6.

Washington came within one error of a major league record by making five in the seventh inning while losing the first game to Kansas City 6-3. The Senators snapped back 10-2 behind Camilo Pascual.

The Yankee-White Sox double drew the season's largest Yankee Stadium crowd, 60,002. The fans saw Billy Pierce whip the Yanks in the first, with late inning relief help from Turk Lown and Frank Baumann as the sox pounded Yank pitching for 12 hits, including Roy Sievers' 16th homer.

Grba went all the way in the second game while New York ruined Herb Score's comeback hopes by knocking him out in the fourth inning. Mickey Mantle hit his 24th homer off Russ Kemmerer, the first relief man, in the fifth.

Bill Monbouquette and Mike Fornieles, working in relief of Frank Sullivan, were the Boston winners on a day of unorthodox developments at Fenway Park. Ted Williams beat out a bunt and Jimmy Piersall, fined $100 and called on the carpet for Saturday's argument, hid behind the flag-pole in center field during one of the many arguments between Indians and umps. Gary Bell and Jack Harshman were the Cleveland losers although the Red Sox were outhit in both games.

MacKay 'Clay' Champion; Heads Yanks to Mexico

The four-man squad of MacKay, Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, Chuck McKinley and Earl Buchholz, are to arrive in the Mexican capital tonight.

They will have nearly two weeks to get acclimated to the high altitude before opening the second round of American Zone Davis Cup competition.

The U. S. team trimmed Canada in the first round before arriving at the River Forest Tennis Club here, where the 24-year-old MacKay never was sharper in hammering down the mechanical Bartzen Sunday 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-0 in the finals.

Bartzen, 32, noted as the best clay courts player around, was deprived of his third-straight national clay courts title by the heavyhitting MacKay, who scored 13 service aces in the hour and 38 minute match.

In closing out with love-set, the 6-foot-4-inch MacKay had four aces and twice broke Bartzen's service in demolishing his opponent in 15 minutes.

"That last set was the best I ever played on clay, especially against an opponent like Bartzen," said MacKay. "All of us now are anxious to get to Mexico City and begin practice. The ball floats in that altitude and is harder to control."

Like the Canadian series, the second round in Mexico City also will be on clay.

The women's title went to 35-year-old Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode for the fourth time. The 1951, 1958 champion defeated 19-year-old Gwyn Thomas of Shaker Heights, Ohio, 6-3, 6-3.

The Australian duo of Bob Hewitt and Marty Mulligan captured the doubles championship by downing Martin Riessen of Hinsdale, Ill., and Ramsey Earnhart, Ventura, Calif., 6-3, 6-2, 11-13, 6-4.

WORLD MARK — Lance Larson of Los Angeles AC takes a final gulp of air as he nears the finish line to set a new world record in the 100 meter butterfly in the Men's National AAU swimming and diving championships at Scott pool. Larson swam the distance in :58.9 to eclipse the record he set in the afternoon at :59.3.

6 World Marks Fall in Outdoor Meet at Toledo

America's Male Tankers Break 14 Other Records in National Event

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — A weekend of record shattering performances that stunned even the most optimistic of the experts has buoyed the United States' Olympic swimming hopes.

Six world records fell during the AAU men's national outdoor swimming and diving championships. American and meet standards were toppled in all 14 senior swimming events.

"It's unbelievable," said Gus Stager, the youthful University of Michigan coach who will lead the U. S. Swimmers into Olympic competition in Rome later this summer.

"I don't think I've been at all pessimistic," said Stager. "But I kept thinking how much progress the swimmers in other countries have made. Now I know that our country has come along at a truly fantastic pace.

"Up to now I thought we were placing the stress on the wrong things — the idea of being the best in our own country. It's apparent now that the officials, the coaches and especially the swimmers are determined to be the best in the world."

The Olympic swimming team will be selected during trials in Detroit Aug. 2-5.

Some 350 swimmers and divers competed in the AAU meet at Scott Park Pool. The platform diving competition Sunday was moved into Bremen Pools in Detroit, site of the Olympic trials.

400-meter individual Medley, 5:04.5 by Dennis Rounsavelle, a junior at the University of Southern California.

200-meter backstroke, 2:16.0, by Tom Stock, a freshman-to-be at Indiana.

400-meter medley relay, 4:09.2, by Lance Larson, a University of Southern California swimmer.

400-meter medley relay, 4:09.2, by the Indianapolis athletic club team of Frank McKinney, Chet Jastremski, Sintz and Troy.

In addition to his world record in the 200-meter backstroke, Stock won the 100-meter backstroke in American record time. Farrell won the 100 and 200-meter freestyles, setting American records in both.

Indianapolis AC won the team trophy with 107 points to 72 for runner up Los Angeles AC. Somers and Larson tied for individual point honors with 17 points each.

400-meter medley relay — 1, Indianapolis AC "A" team, 4:09.2 (better: world record of 4:10 set by Australian national team in 1958, also better: American and meet records). 2, Los Angeles AC, 4:13.5; 3, Santa Clara SC "A" team, 4:16.0. 4, Indianapolis AC "B" team, 4:18.0. 5, Detroit AC, 4:18.4. 6, New Haven AC "A" team, 4:19.3. 7, Cleveland AC, 4:20.2. 8, New Trier SC "A" team, 4:23.9.

Dutch Driver Killed in Race

Dies of Burns After Pulling Himself Out of Blazing Car

SALERNO, Italy (AP)—A Dutch race driver, competing under an assumed Belgian name, was killed Sunday when he crashed into a crowd of spectators during an auto race. Nineteen spectators were injured, five seriously.

The driver died of burns after pulling himself out of his blazing British-made Cooper automobile.

He was at first identified by race officials as Belgian Jean Blanck.

But police later said the dead man's real named was Sorghelos Saveners.

Saveners was champion of The Netherlands in formula three auto racing, officials said.

Police said Saveners assumed the name Blanck in order to defend the colors of Belgium in the junior formula "City of Salerno Cup" race at this southern Italian town.

Race officials said the 27-year-old driver was going 62 m.p.h. when suddenly it began to zigzag and finally plowed into the crowd. The car overturned and burned.

Forty-nine drivers from a dozen nations took part in the race. Colin Davis, of England, was the winner in a Fiat-Osca. New Zealander Dennis Hulme, in a Cooper DKW, was second.

Hymient All Even With Little Fitz

DETROIT (AP) — Hymient evened the score with Little Fitz Saturday when he defeated the Ohio horse by a length in the $20,000 Seaway Stakes at Detroit Race Course.

The five-year-old chestnut, owned by the L & K Stables of Detroit, lost to Little Fitz by a nose in the recent $50,000-added Michigan Mile.

Hymient covered the distance of 1¼ miles in record time of 1:49 1/5 for first prize money of $16,050. The old record of 1:49 flat, set by Nancy Flyer, had stood since the course opened in 1950.

Local Boy Pole Hero

MILWAUKEE (UPI) — Milwaukee Polo Club rammed home the winning score in the overtime period yesterday to defeat the Detroit Triple C TEAM, 8-7.

The victory evened the series between the two clubs.

Ruth Playoffs Start Tomorrow

The 1960 District 1 tournament of the Michigan Babe Ruth baseball program gets underway tomorrow afternoon as North Farmington vs. the Northwest Detroit American Division team at 4:30 at the Walled Lake Junior High field.

The winner plays the Birmingham Pioneers Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. followed by a Milford-Warren contest at 4:30. The opening round will be completed Thursday when Walled Lake vs. the Northwest Detroit Nationals and the Birmingham Satellites play Southfield.

Semifinals will be held Saturday afternoon with the championship to be decided Sunday in a 2:30 p.m. battle.

All action will be at Walled Lake.

Class D Nines Have Busy Sunday Session

The Class D teams in the Parks & Recreation program had a busy Sunday with four games played.

Powell Trucking led the way with an 18-4 blasting of Oxford although matched in hits at nine. Auburn Heights Boys Club took Pontiac Central 7-2.

Lake Orion and West Bloomfield both had to come from behind to triumph. Orion fell bghind 4-2 after leading but gained a tie and then clinched a 6-4 nod over Don Nicholie with two in the 6th. Dennis Callison's single batted in the runs. Keego downed Our Lady of Refuge 10-6 after being tied and down 5-4.

In the Boys Club Federal Savings League, the Tigers nipped the Yankees 8-7 as Jim Longsfoot batted in the deciding tally. The Braves earned a berth in the playoffs by taking the Cards 6-5 on a three-run homer by Al Blaylock.

Sabre Leads Yachts

LUDINGTON (UPI) — Ralph Brotz' 87-foot yawl Sabre had a 10-mile lead over its nearest competitors at the one-third point last night in the 53rd annual Chicago-to-Mackinac yacht race.

After more than a day of sailing on Lake Michigan, Sabre was about 10 miles northwest of Big Sable Point, north of Ludington, and had covered about 113 miles in the race.

Gives Nixon Only Sneers; Poor Jack

Nikita Seems to Prefer Kennedy

By BOB CONSIDINE

CHICAGO—Even more disturbing to Jack Kennedy than the support of Frank Sinatra's Rat Pack must be the fact that Nikita Khrushchev seemingly looks with more favor on the senator's presidential cause than on the efforts of Dick Nixon.

The Soviet dictator, who injected himself rudely into the U. S presidential picture, when he broke up the summit meeting and announced he'd have no further truck with Eisenhower, has spoken on several occasions of his desire to meet with the "next president."

Or the one after the next, if the next should invite him to go fly a kite.

In all probability there will be a confrontation of some sort between Khrushchev and the very next president. It will merge from the needs of the hour and the temper of feelings here and abroad, not from any wish by the next president to appease this fellow or from what personal preference Khrushchev may have.

It will not be born of his having campaigned for the winner. The Russian is realistic enough to know he cannot direct an American presidential election; that the American people will make up their own minds.

He thinks clearly enough also to figure out that any effort on his part to put over a preferred candidate he could deal with later on would cause millions of American voters to turn on that man, rightly or wrongly.

HE'S WARY

So he plays it warily. He guardedly praised Kennedy after an early Kennedy reaction to the U2 incident. In the early wake of that fiasco, Kennedy suggested President Eisenhower should apologize in order to save the summit. Later, he changed his mind. In the guarded salute to him, Khrushchev dourly concluded, however, that Kennedy was no better than anybody else in the race in that he was in favor of retaining our enormous and costly retaliatory forces.

Still, it sounded almost like a plug compared to Khrushchev's open contempt for Nixon, when it was suggested by President Eisenhower that his summit stay had to be limited, but he would deputize Nixon to sit in for him when he left. Khrushchev hit the ceiling, giving a good advance imitation eruption of Mt. Etna; Khrushchev said such a substitution was like sending a goat to mind a cabbage patch.

True, the trip had produced opening day fireworks at the RCA and model home exhibits at Moscow's American Exhibition, but the next day all was cozy and relaxed between the two at a boating party at Khrushchev's dacha.

Then Nixon took off for his swing through Leningrad, Novosibirsk and Sverdlovsk, and was neither helped nor harmed by K.

Nixon returned to Moscow and held forth for an hour on Soviet television and radio, unchallenged and uncensored — a remarkable speech in retrospect, in which he put the full onus of the cold war on the Soviets and Khrushchev personally.

Nixon left the following day. It appeared that his astonishing charges would go unanswered. But at the last moment Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov showed up at the airport ostensibly to bid the American farewell. Kozlov promptly launched into a 40-minute rebuttal and reiteration of the same acrid old charges of imperialism.

Later, Khrushchev blasted Nixon openly, and probably will continue to do so. The vice president's campaign for the presidency will be based in part on his claimed ability to "handle" Khrushchev.

There will be many posters showing his jabbing K's chest and ostensibly telling him off.

In his acceptance speech, on the other hand, Kennedy scoffed as rhetorical the Republicans' expected attacks on the Kremlin and asked the people instead if they are willing to put up with the sacrifices that marched the Soviet Union to its present stature.

This may well be the difference in the postures of the candidates regarding Khrushchev, a man who his heart of hearts, if he has one, must have grave misgivings as to whether he could handle either of the young Americans.

Illinois Center of Population, Census Shows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new population center of the United States is in Meridan Township in Clinton County, Ill., the Census Bureau said Saturday.

That's 47 miles west and 12½ miles south of the old center near Louisville, Ill., which held the honor only briefly.

The 1950 census actually placed the center in a cornfield near Olney, Ill., but when Alaska and Hawaii entered the union, the Census Bureau did some refiguring and shifted it to Louisville.

The bureau defines the population center as the point on which the United States would balance if it were a rigid plane and all the people on it had equal weight.

Russian Ship Transports Relief Supplies to Congo

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet ship Leningorsk left Odessa for Africa Sunday night loaded with relief supplies for the Congo. The vessel is carrying 9,000 tons of wheat, more than 1,000 tons of sugar and 300,000 cans of condensed milk, a Tass dispatch said.

Nixon-Rockefeller Agreement Draws Critics, Leaves Questions

By JAMES MARLOW

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's sudden and secret journey to New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—just three days before the Republican convention opened here today—was a mixed blessing.

The two men reached what they called an agreement but it turned out to be an agreement with big holes in it. It looked like a shrewd political maneuver at first. But it may prove to have been a tactical error.

It seemed at first that Rockefeller had put Nixon in his pocket or that Nixon had the governor in his pocket. But now that isn't clear, either.

It got the governor off Nixon's back, at least temporarily, but it angered some Republicans. And Democrats in the upcoming presidential campaign will probably try to wrap the whole business around Nixon's neck.

Rockefeller, for months critical of Nixon and the Eisenhower administration, only last week here in Chicago indicated he might continue his criticism if the Republican platform's promises fell short of his desires.

This was gruesome news for Nixon, almost certain to be the Republican presidential nominee, since he will probably have to carry New York if he hopes to win the November election.

NEEDS ROCKY

He flew secretly from Washington to New York—apparently without consulting President Eisenhower or even his closest aides here in Chicago—to see the governor.

Rockefeller had complained repeatedly that Nixon wasn't taking either a clear enough or strong enough stand on some issues. Nixon therefore had had many weeks to reach an understanding with Rockefeller.

Why he waited to do so until almost the last minute before the convention is still a mystery. The obvious answer seems to be he felt he badly needed Rockefeller's support or was afraid the governor's continued criticism might ruin him.

In the end Rockefeller issued what both men called an agreement on "baic positions." But as Nixon later disclosed in a news conference there were some major gaps in that agreement which didn't show up in the text.

For example: while the agreement calls for strong defense efforts, Rockefeller feels the government should be spending immediately an additional 3½ billion dollars. Nixon didn't agree on that.

* * *

The agreement doesn't mention any money item. Neither does the defense plank approved Sunday by the party platform committee which has been working here a week.

ATTACKS DULLED

Rockefeller thinks major strikes should be settled by compulsory arbitration. Nixon doesn't agree. Neither did the platform committee in the labor plank it sanded and polished and presented to the public.

The sharp edge seemed to be removed from Rockefeller's attitude toward the platform—at least it appeared that way from his TV appearance Sunday—so the Nixonites may feel the vice president captured the governor.

But the very fact Nixon made what his critics may call a pilgrimage to the New Yorker may be interpreted as meaning the governor captured him and made him bow, to some extent, to Rockefeller's platform demands.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a friend of Nixon but also a representative of the Republican extreme right, called Nixon's trip a "surrender" and a sellout to the "Republican left."

Some members of the platform committee showed anger at the idea that Nixon and Rockefeller between them should draw up an agreement which, in effect, could be taken as a demand on the committee to conform.

Some of this committee resentment bubbled out when its subcommittee on civil rights refused to go nearly so far as Nixon and Rockefeller agreed the party should go on this issue.

In the 1944 campaign Republicans made capital of a report that President Roosevelt left selection of his vice presidential running mate up to a labor leader, Sidney Hillman, by saying "clear it with Sidney."

This year it wouldn't be surprising if the Democrats try to turn this phrase around by jibing at Nixon that before he could start his campaign he had 'to "clear it with Rocky."

Harriman Sees Rocky in Shrewd Move to Control

NEW YORK (AP) — The man who lost to Nelson A. Rockefeller in the 1958 New York gubernatorial election says he thinks he knows what Rockefeller is up to. Former Gov. W. Averell Harriman said Sunday Rockefeller acts as if he expects Vice President Richard M. Nixon to lose the presidential election. Rockefeller then would be out to take over the Republican party in 1964, Harriman speculated on a local television program.

Hoover to Be Honored

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Former President Herbert Hoover, 85, who urged Congress 30 years ago to begin a flood control project at Florida's Lake Okeechobee, will attend dedication ceremonies for the completed dikes in December. They will be named in his honor.

About five quarts of milk are needed to make one pound of American cheese.

Lewis Won't Agree to Free Medical Care

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former United Mines Workers President John L. Lewis has bluntly refused to reverse a union order cutting off free medical care for miners out of work more than a year.

A delegation of local leaders from Western Pennsylvania's district two made a futile plea to Lewis, who is in charge of the Union Welfare Fund.

"He listened all right," Allen Cryle, secretary of the St. Michael, Pa., UMW Local, reported. "But he refused to do anything. He said it was a question of money."

This inland port in Switzerland, though 500 miles from the sea, handles about four million tons of ship cargo each year at current rates.

New York Tops Kennedy's List

Nominee Will Huddle With Wagner, Discuss Dem Squabble

As the party's presidential nominee, Kennedy, has voiced deep concern lest factional feuds upset applecarts in his bid for New York's 45 electoral college votes, the nation's biggest block.

The conference ranked high in importance for this busy week in which Kennedy seeks to clear decks for the arrival of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the vice presidential nominee.

Through press secretary Pierre Salinger, Kennedy announced Sunday that Johnson will fly to Hyannis Port Aug. 1 or 2 to discuss plans for the campaign, and for the Congress session opening Aug. 8.

* * *

The two had been out of touch for several days while Johnson was on vacation in Mexico. Salinger said they talked at length by telephone Sunday and that Johnson "gave his support" to campaign plans Kennedy already has made from his summer home.

Pilot Begins Final Flight

Russia Releases Body of Flier Who Died in RB47 Shooting

MOSCOW (AP)—With a prayer and a brief military farewell, the U. S. Embassy today sent home the body of the pilot of the RB47 reconnaissance plane the Soviet Union shot down July 1.

A Soviet medical certificate said the flier, Capt. Willard G. Palm of Oak Ridge, Tenn., drowned and that his body was found floating in the Barents Sea. The U. S. charge d'affaires, Edward L. Freers, refused to make the full report public because of "legal and political implications."

The body, in its rough wooden coffin, was formally transferred to American custody at a shabby, back-alley morgue. U. S. representatives did not open the coffin. They were told it also contained Palm's flying suit, his shoes and socks and his identification disc.

The embassy provided a station wagon to take the coffin to the airport, but the Russians said the law required it be carried in a refrigerated truck. Instead it was put on an open, canvas-topped Soviet army truck. Ten Soviet privates rode on the truck, and a cortege of American Embassy cars followed. The soldiers got off en route at a barracks.

At the airport eight uniformed officers of the embassy military staff draped an American flag over the coffin and carried it to saw horses set up beside the KLM plane flying it to Amsterdam.

As Freers stood beside him, Father Louis Dionne of Worcester, Mass., the Roman Catholic chaplain to Moscow's foreign colony, led the American military personnel and foreign correspondents in the Lord's Prayer. No representatives of the Soviet government or other embassies were present.

The embassy did not know Palm's religion, but Father Dionne officiated as the only American clergyman in Moscow.

Quoting from Zachariah, the priest intoned: "Delivered from the hands of our enemies, we should serve Him without fear and in holiness."

Grain Hedge Sales Cut Futures Prices

CHICAGO (AP) — A heavy volume of profit taking in soybeans and hedge selling in grains weakened all futures prices today in early dealings on the board of trade.

During the first few minutes, soybeans were down major fractions to more than a cent but met short covering at those levels and rices stiffened somewhat.

Corn, oats and rye were off major fractions in spots at times but wheat offerings appeared to be meeting a moderate to strong commercial demand.

Wheat receipts over the weekend amounted to 559 cars, among the largest of the harvest time movement. Corn arrivals were a liberal 450 cars and oats 78.

Johnson Sees Busy Congress

Won't Have Time 'for Electioneering When It Reconvenes Aug. 8

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson, the Senate majority leader and Democratic vice-presidential candidate, says he does not believe Congress will be a sounding board for party platforms or a campaign stump to promote candidacies when it reconvenes Aug. 8.

He believes Congress will stick to its unfinished business and have a short, but productive session, the Texan told a news conference Sunday at his LBJ Ranch near here.

Republicans have been taunting the Democrats to enact laws putting their strong civil rights plank and other proposals adopted by the Democratic National Convention into effect during the upcoming session.

"A platform is drawn up for submission to the voters," Johnson said. "If the voters approve of it they will make their decision known in November and it is the duty of the party to carry out the decision in the following congress."

He reaffirmed his support of the Democratic party platform, saying "I intend to run on the platform."

Johnson, who returned Saturday night from a vacation in Acapulco, Mexico, talked by phone with the presidential nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachussetts.

He said he and Kennedy will discuss Congress' work and campaign plans when they confer at Hyannis Port, Mass., Aug. 1 or 2.

Another Decline in Stock Market

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market failed to hold a slight rise and went into another decline early this afternoon. Trading was slow.

Losses of fractions to about a point outnumbered an array of small gainers.

The market was a bit ahead on balance as the session started but there was no strong leadership and it wasn't long before the list showed more minus than plus signs.

A continuation of spotty earnings reports for the second quarter, the drift of steel production in typical summer doldrums, a reported slow-up in copper demand, and the uncertain international situation were factors.

Steels, autos, rails, tobaccos, and mail order-retails were among losers. Chemicals, aircrafts, and electronics were mixed.

U. S Steel and Bethlehem dropped fractions in an indifferent steel section. Ford (ex dividend) lost a fraction, as did Chrysler and American Motors. General Motors was about unchanged.

OUT OF LEOPOLDVILLE

Hammarskjold announced Saturday night that Belgian troops had finished pulling out of the Leopoldville area, leaving U.N. troops to keep order. Aides said 6,000 men of an eventual 12,140-man U.N. force had been deployed in the Congo to keep order and safeguard the population. Belgium has promised that as fast as the U.N. units take stations, she will withdraw her troops to their Congo bases. Lumumba wants the Belgian troops to leave the Congo altogether.

Another arrival from the Congo Sunday was L. Edgar Detwiler, who reported that in signing a 50-year development agreement with Lumumba, he had outbid the Soviet bloc to keep "the fantastic mineral wealth of the Congo" available to the West.

The contract gives the American promoter's two-month-old Congo International Management Corp. the right to exploit mineral resources of the Congo for 50 years. The agreement is subject to ratification by the Congo Parliament, which is now in recess.

In other developments Michigan's first preconvention caucus picked Mrs. Albert S. (Ella) Koeze of Grand Rapids as the replacement for Mrs. Rae C. Hooker of Mount Pleasant, who refused at the last minute to run for re-election as national committeewoman.

Mrs. Hooker, 70, a grandmother of 11 who raises horses as a hobby, relinquished a post she had held since 1948 when she was awarded a berth in the national committee along with Arthur Summerfield, Flint auto dealer who went on to become Postmaster General.

Mrs. Hooker relinquished the reins to an industrious 20-year veteran of GOP organizational activity who stepped up from the state GOP vice chairmanship.

Mrs. Koeze started two decades ago as a precinct committeewoman and rose to the post of state vice-chairman two years ago. Mrs. Koeze has five grown children.

Lumumba Is 'Optimistic,' Meets Dag Again Today

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) —Premier Patrice Lumumba of the Congo holds more talks with U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold today. Lumumba is seeking trained personnel to help get his chaos-ridden country back on its feet.

The 35-year-old leader of the infant central African nation arrived in New York Sunday and after an initial 2½-hour meeting with Hamarskjold said he was "very optimistic" about the situation.

Hammarskjold invited Lumumba to lunch with the members of the U. N. Security Council, which last Friday called on Belgium to speed up withdrawal of her troops from the Congo.

Lumumba later was to talk with delegates of the 29-nation Asian-African group and hold a news conference. He winds up his talks with Hammarskjold Tuesday.

Lumumba told newsmen he and Hammarskjold in their first meeting had discussed the general situation in the Congo and the session had been "very fruitful."

"I express my satisfaction for the understanding which has prevailed during our conversation," the premier said in French.

An aide said Lumumba particularly wants the U. N. to send engineers and doctors to the Congo.

When he arrived in New York, Lumumba told newsmen that peace in the Congo depends on "the immediate withdrawal of Belgian troops." He thanked the Security Council for its last resolution and offered friendship to President Eisenhower.

The premier said he had come to make direct contact with Hammarskjold "in order to arrange a speedy solution to the problem of the Congo." He did not explain why he did not wait at home for Hammarskjold, who had planned to fly to the Congo over the weekend.

Food Handlers Warned State Laws Have Teeth

LANSING (UPI) — The Agriculture Department has warned temporary food handling establishments they must comply with state regulations when serving food or drinks to persons at fairgrounds, carnivals, parks, circuses, resorts and roadsides during the summer months.

"Every precaution must be taken to make certain that only wholesome food products, properly handled at all times, are served to consumers without misrepresentation," the department said.

Bagwell to Share Billing With Favorite Son Ford

CHICAGO (AP) — A rip-roaring show for Paul D. Bagwell sparked Michigan activity at the Republican National Convention today.

The whoop-de-do was for Bagwell's arrival but if he gets television attention he appears likely to share it with Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the Michigan favorite son for vice presidency.

Bagwell, sure of a repeat governor's nomination in Michigan's Aug. 2 primary, responded to an enthusiastic greeting on the curbstone by reassuring his supporters for next fall's election.

"Bagwell is going to carry Michigan," he said. "I have never been more confident."

Bagwell's arrival capped a day marked by Michigan's formal, although qualified, endorsement of the Nixon-Rockefeller 14-point platform agreement over the weekend.

A Michigan caucus approved resolution applauded the recommendations as a foundation for the GOP national platform and as a "basic statement of purpose toward realizing national goals."

Run for VP, Hearst Asks Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP) — The Hearst newspapers today called upon New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to run for vice president on the Republican ticket for the sake of the party.

A New York Journal-American editorial signed by William Randolph Hearst Jr. and carried on the front pages of all Hearst newspapers said in part:

"Lyndon Johnson acted big when he took second place on the Democratic ticket, although he preferred his own important post of Senate majority leader and although it meant shelving his ambitions for the White House. . .

"But what of Rockefeller and his continued attitude that he will not play on the ball team unless he is allowed to be the pitcher? His party has turned to him to provide strength he can give by playing the less spotlighted position of vice president.

"It was as a Republican—not as an independent—that Rockefeller was elected governor of New York with the backing of his party. Now his party has need for him. We think he has an obligation to put his own frustrated ambitions aside."

The colors of New York City's flag — blue, white and orange — are the same colors which floated over Manhattan Island under the Dutch rule more than 300 years ago.

Examinations Set in Thefts

Charge 4 Pontiac Men in Two City Burglaries Over the Weekend

Examination of four men charged with two Pontiac burglaries has been set for Wednesday in Municipal Court.

Charged with breaking and entering the A&W Root Beer Stand at 218 S. Saginaw are Charles Gamble, 22, of 221 Rockwell St., and Wesley P. Evans, 22, of 450 Howard St.

They were arrested early Friday shortly after police spotted two men fleeing into a nearby field.

The pair surrendered, police said, after officers surrounded them and fired several warning shots.

Also arrested Friday were Charles Weems, 24, of 461 Nevada Ave., and Carl V. Buford, 21, of 74 Wesson St.

They are charged with the burglary of the Corwin Lumber Co., 117 S. Cass Ave.

Investigating a burglary report at the firm, officers said they found Weems hiding under a desk and arrested Buford outside.

All four denied any knowledge of the burglaries after being taken into custody.

They are free on $100 bond pending their examinations Wednesday.

Soft-Hearted Dad Couldn't Spank; Put Son in Chains

DETROIT (AP)—The arrest of a 12-year-old boy for questioning about a burglary led to the jailing of his father for chaining the boy to a bedstead to keep him out of mischief.

Talnley J. Davis, 60, was held today for investigation of cruelty to a child.

Davis' son, Leo, told police, "My dad, chains me to the bed so I won't run around."

Detective Chester Pyzik and Patrolman George Burnett said the father admitted chaining Leo for short periods to keep him from "running around with older boys and smoking."

"I should have beaten him, I suppose," Davis told police. "But I'm just too darned chicken-hearted."

Dewey Denies Getting Rocky, Nixon to Meet

CHICAGO (AP) — A spokesman for former New York Gov. Thomas E. Dewey denied today that Dewey arranged the meeting last weekend between Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Nelson A. Rockefeller, the present New York governor.

The conference appeared in a story

The report that Dewey set up written from here for the Pottstown (Pa.) Mercury by Roger S. Firestone, a member of the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. family.

Firestone, described by the newspaper as a close friend of both Nixon and Rockefeller, is writing a series for the Mercury on his observations of the Republican National Convention. He is a delegate from Pennsylvania.

Nixon's own report of the circumstances of his long night session with Rockefeller, given in a news conference, is that he originated the meeting with a telephone call to the New York governor.

Dewey, twice the Republican nominee for president, has described the principles agreed to between Nixon and Rockefeller at the meeting as "a superb statement."

TV News and Reviews

Now It's the GOP's Turn to Dominate Video Time

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — They're off and running in the second half of Ike's big summer sweepstakes—the political futurity.

The Republican National Convention starts in Chicago today, with the networks straining to give home viewers the big picture. Thus starts another week—four days for the economy-minded Republicans—of set-watching for those who are interested in the great game of politics.

Are too few interested? The TV ratings would indicate that. The total audience for the Democratic National Convention was considerably fuller than expected, if we are to believe the surveys. But then, the surveys aren't infallible, as a fellow named Truman can tell you.

It's hard to imagine any alert American not wanting to switch on the set to see what the politicos are up to. For this is TV at its best—poking its Argus eye into the once smoke-filled but now air-conditioned rooms where the national destiny is shaped.

SIDESHOWS SUNDAY

The networks got started on their week's labors Sunday night with some sideshow attractions to the main event. CBS took the folksy approach with Ed Murrow calling on Pat and Dick Nixon in the same way he chitchatted with celebrities on "Person to Person."

This time Ed was accompanied by fellow anchor man Walter Cronkite. Mrs. Nixon was asked if she were more thrilled over the prospects of seeing her two daughters in Chicago after a month's absence or watching her husband.

The vice president was asked some pointed questions about his plans and policies and then the Nixon children were introduced with their grandmother at the airport en route from California to Chicago. One daughter was asked if she still wanted to be an actress. "I guess so," she replied reflectively.

At the same hour, NBC was taking the hard-news approach in an hour-long "Meet the Press." The network had a tandem team of Republicans, Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York reading from right to left.

Both were handsome and articulate. Their response to questions can best be described in football terms. Goldwater was a line-plunger, Rockefeller an end-around man.

Nixon and Rockefeller also showed up on a preconvention program on ABC. The vice president had an effective exchange with Edward P. Morgan, one of TV's best interviewers.

SWITCH IN ACCENTS

Although the main result seems pre-ordained, this week's affair may prove that the Grand Old Party can also put on a lively a scrap as the Democrats. The principal difference, as this observer sees it, is the switch in accents.

There will be less of the Southern and Bostonian tones, and more of the Midwestern plus the accentless Californian of Nixon. It will be interesting to note how many versions we will hear of "Chicago."

Close Adviser to K Warsaw Pact Chief

MOSCOW (AP) — Marshal Andrei Antonovich Grechko, one of Nikita Khrushchev's closest military advisers, has been named commander of the Warsaw Treaty armed forces.

He is taking over from Marshal Ivan Konev, who has held the job since the Communist counterpart to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization was formed in May 1955.

The Soviet news agency Tass' said Konev, 62, a World War II hero, asked to be relieved because of ill health.

Grechko's appointment was announced Sunday night in the name of the Political Consultative Committee of the Warsaw Treaty countries, but he was clearly the choice of Premier Khrushchev. The Red military alliance includes the Soviet Union, Poland, East Germany, Czechoslovakia, Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Albania.

Florida Greets Apple Growers in Citrus Land

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With the exception of a few trees in back yards, there are no apples grown in Florida. But members of the Florida Citrus Commission looked forward to the opening today of the 66th annual meeting of the International Apple Assn.

As a commission member pointed out, "There's more citrus sold at the apple convention than apples."

Red China, Russ to Get a Third of Cuba's Sugar

HAVANA (AP) — Fidel Castro has bound a third of the Cuban sugar crop—the cornerstone of the country's shaky economy—to the Communist bloc.

For the next five years Cuba has agreed to supply the Soviet Union and Red China 1½ million tons of sugar annually out of a harvest that this year is set at 5,700,000 tons. Shipments to other Communist countries will bring the total Cuban sugar going behind the Iron Curtain to nearly two million tons a year.

The Soviets also have bought the 700,000 tons of sugar President Eisenhower cut from Cuba's 1960 sales to the United States.

The Castro deals with the Communists are largely on a barter basis pegged to world prices. The United States long has been Cuba's best customer at premium prices of 2 to 2½ cents a pound above the world market price. The Soviet Union pays the world price and Red China presumably will do likewise.

PACT SIGNED SATURDAY

Maj. Ernesto Guevara, the Red-leaning president of the Cuban National Bank, signed a five-year pact with a Peiping trade mission Saturday night to supply Red China a half million tons of sugar a year.

The terms were along the lines of the earlier agreement to send the Soviet Union a million tons a year.

The Cuban-Soviet pact led to the establishment of diplomatic relations between the two countries. The trade agreement with Red China is expected to follow the same course, making Cuba the first nation in the Western Hemisphere to recognize the Peiping regime.

The Castro government's deals with the two giants of the Communist world provide for payment mostly in machinery, oil and other goods, with only a small amount of cash to be paid.

Red China has agreed to put up British pounds for 20 per cent of the Cuban sugar shipped during the first year of the five-year agreement. The Soviet Union will pay dollars for 20 per cent of its sugar for all five years.

OTHER TRADE, TOO

The deal with Red China calls for Cuba to trade also iron, nickel, copper, chrome, cobalt, fibers and some food. Concessions for Cuba's nickel and cobalt are held by American interests, and the new agreement would seem to indicate Castro intends to take over the concessions and the plants to process the ores.

The bearded prime minister, who was put to bed with pneumonia more than two weeks ago, has not made a public appearance since a television speech last month.

Confab Police to Keep Mum About Politics

CHICAGO (UPI) — Policemen directing traffic and crowds around Republican Convention headquarters were reminded to remain neutral—even if they are Democrats.

"You will hereby refrain from discussing or arguing politics or anything relating to politics," Lt. Charles Pierson told the 211 policemen on duty around the Conrad Hilton and Sheraton-Blackstone Hotels.

Pierson said he hadn't received any direct complaints but had heard rumors that some of the policemen were seen wearing campaign buttons on their uniform shirts.

Union and Confederate forces counted 205,000 killed in action in the Civil War. United States battle dead during World War I totaled 58,500.

Russian Star Claims Sex Appeal Unknown

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Yulia Borisova, one of Russia's great glamour gals, is in America showing her pretty legs to photographers.

But I'd like to assure Mr. K. that it was accidental. When Yulia was shown her picture, she blushed, giggled, and dropped her head on the shoulder of her co-star, Yuri Yakolev.

"You sell sex-appeal?" I asked Yulia as she sat toying with home watermelon.

"He asks, are you a 'sex-bomba'?" spoke up Juri Yakoiev, who knows some English.

Yulia Borisova again turned pink — the same shade as the French lipstick she was wearing—blabbed, "Nyet! Nyet!"

WILSON

The State Dept. interperter lady with them explained:

"It's the first time she ever heard the expression." She says sex appeal has nothing to do with acting. Two different things.

"She says she'd rather resemble Sarah Bernhardt than Brigitte Bardot," the interpreter lady said. "She wants to know if Marilyn Monroe has sex appeal.

"They see her very little. Brigitte Bardot they see more."

They've been sightseeing, they liked the Lever Bldg., Greenwich Village. Yuri even liked the American girls. They have drunk vodka here—Russian Vodka supplied by Russian diplomats.

"I tried your drink wheesky," Yuri said.

"You like it?"

Yuri scowled. "It don't like me!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Singer Betty Clooney Rosemary's sister—is returning to show business. Cafe Sahara duo: Sabrina and actor Bob Evans . . . Diane Varsi'll write a book about her self-imposed exile from Hollywood.

MGM signed Nicolette Caras—Miss South Africa—to a 7-year contract . . . New beatnik name for marijuana: Instant kicks.

EARL'S PEARLS: With Thomas Dewey and Harry Truman having run for President, and Richard Nixon about in, it surely does seem that the nomination can be won by every Tom, Dick and Harry.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Joni James got her husband, Tony Aquaviva, to quit going to fights. "He's given up fights," she says, "except when I break down and have one with him."

Bob Goldstein, the kidder who's new head of 20th Century-Fox, prescribed a success formula for Hollywood two years ago. "Let everybody into theaters for nothing," he said, "then charge 'em to get out." That's earl, brother.

Czech Family Jumps Off Ship, Asks Asylum

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —A Czechoslovak family of five is seeking political asylum in Denmark after jumping overboard Sunday from an East German ferry in the Danish Baltic port of Gedser and being pulled ashore by Danes. The family includes an engineer from Prague; his wife, a scientist; sons 4 and 6 and the wife's mother.

Convention Notes

GOP Softens Political Furor

By JOE HAAS
(Special to The Pontiac Press)

CHICAGO— Everything is being done to make it look more like a convention than the Los Angeles riot. Nominating speeches are to be limited to ten minutes, and not more than 300 demonstrators are to be allowed on the floor for each candidate.

Oakland County older residents will remember the campaigns when in every city and hamlet each party tried to fly its pennant at the top of a pole that was higher than the other.

In Pontiac the poles were usually raised by derricks on opposite corners at Saginaw and Huron Streets. In honor of their "Old Hickory," Andrew Jackson, the Democrats always used a hickory pole. I never knew why the Republicans used a pine pole, unless it was because they pined to win. Double ouch.

The Chicago River isn't so much larger than the Clinton—but raises several times the heck.

The great Chicago Tribune asserts that our nation's greatest political need is platforms that are platforms, and not platitudes.

Speaking of close races, the Chicago taxi drivers can get through a space that is one sixteenth of an inch narrower than the best that can be done by those in Los Angeles.

The one thing around Chicago that always seems clean is the sun. And it should be clean, for it comes out of Lake, (note the name). Michigan every morning. But it almost made that lake boil Friday.

One of my new flames already is dimming. I've just learned that when they tried to corral the family of Lyndon Johnson for his acceptance speech his glorious daughter Lynda said she preferred to go to Disneyland instead. And to Disneyland she went.

That beauteous waitress in the restaurant in the Garden of the Gods, at the foot of Pike's Peak hence now tops my away from home list. She held my hand and followed me to my bus as I told her how beautiful she is.

But none of them can match the home product of the Pontiac area, from four of whom I get a letter or phone call every day. There's no place like home.

'ABOLISH PRIMARIES'

After attending eight of them, I heartily endorse the suggestion of Sen. Mike Mansfield, Montana Democrat, the national political conventions should be abolished, and federal financed primaries be substituted.

Which makes me wonder whatever became of Estes Kefauver who had won so many primaries that he was sure he had the nomination hog tied when the Democrats assembled here four years ago.

The welcome to Chicago of the nation's newspapermen and women at a party at the Conrad Hilton grand ballroom Saturday evening was a humdinger. It lasted four hours, with something doing every minute, and I still was able to walk out at its close.

The location of the Michigan delegation is among the poorest in the convention. It makes our state's delegation at Los Angeles look like a get-even gesture for even allowing the Democrats to meet there.

To be sure, the delegations of such states as New York, Massachusetts and Indiana fared worse here than did Michigan. Is Massachusetts another get-even?

Texas, Minnesota and the District of Columbia have the best locations here. Perhaps California was pushed back because Nixon doesn't want to favor his own state over the entire nation of which he is vice president.

The changed hours here are tough on the hot dog stands and other concessions. They allow everybody to eat downtown in a human way.

A phone call from Lawrence Kingsley asks that he be remembered to Jack McDonald, Bob Moore, Al Weber and some others. He now lives in a Chicago suburb, but was employed at Wilson Foundry in Pontiac several years. He was surprised to learn that we ever settled the question of where to build the new courthouse.

CHICAGO CLAIMS

Chicago also claims more commuters than any other city in the world; over 100 trains per day. Some go out over 100 miles.

The drivers of Chicago's sightseeing buses haven't changed their line of patter or jokes in 25 years.

Finally, Michigan Avenue is claimed to be the greatest one-sided street on earth.

In my first mail here is a letter from Byron Cogshall of Chicago, former Pontiac resident, who wants to know if Oakland County has had a Democratic sheriff "in this century." The only one I recollect is William A. Brewster — and that was early in it.

As usual, Chicago is going through its summertime siege of having three kinds of time at the same time. There's Central Standard time, Daylight Saving Time and city time. They're thinking of going back to the more reliable sun dial.

A question often asked is: "Is there a Republican machine in Oakland County?" If there is, it needs oiling.

OIL OR WHISKY

The biggest Rockefeller argument I hear is that it would pit oil millions against whisky millions, and the voters would favor oil.

Don't find many Pontiac or Oakland County spectators here for the convention. Thought Nifty Thatcher, Delos Hamlin or some of the other faithful might be here, but if they are they don't hang around the same joints that I do.

Life size placards of a sick donkey appear beside those of a happy elephant in many places.

Chicago's street decorations are not up to the standard of some former national political conventions. The large vases of flowers on the lamp posts, (and even below the Loop trains), and standard equipment, and not put up especially for this convention.

One of those running electric signs blazes away day and night: "Los Angeles doesn't think so, but politics can be sane."

The 19 railroads entering Chicago will entertain the newspapermen at a hospitality lounge only a few feet from the convention throughout the big doings.

P.S.: Los Angeles has only three railroads.

PHONE BINGE

My nephew, Harold Shay, who is with the Chicago affiliate of the Bell Telephone Co., tells me that this is the largest installation of temporary phones ever attempted. Yes, folks up Holly way, Harold is Mercedes' husband.

Strange as it may seem to the Tiger knockers, the Chicago sport writers say the White Sox fear Detroit more than they do New York in the pennant race.

Thanks to you all (southern) who have a part in it, the lady in charge of such things tells me that I'm getting more mail than any other of the 150 occupants of rooms on the 20th floor of the Conrad Hilton Hotel. Hint: I'll be here until Friday evening, regardless of when the convention ends. Home at 5:52 Saturday morning.

Special traffic officers for the convention number 380, of which 102 are at intersections between downtown and the amphitheater. Also 75 extra firemen are on standby duty at the convention.

Trying to be more friendly, a Chicago friend reminds me that Michigan and Illinois border on each other. Yes, that's true, but before there's any subdividing of building lots on the line there'll have to be some ditching.

The principal task of the Republican platform builders is to make every plank so attractive to Nelson Rockefeller that he will accept the nomination for vice president.

The Republicans are going Scotch. The two $300-per-day penthouse suites at the Conrad Hilton Hotel are not occupied. When the Democrats met here four years ago both were rented by members of that party.

Called at the editorial rooms of The Chicago Daily News, one of the finest in the world. But it isn't the same without City Editor Clem Lane who died suddenly a couple of years ago. 40 years too soon. Clem got his start on The Pontiac Press, his first story being about a fire on West Huron street.

Sorry to learn of the death of Mrs. Bertha Burrows Thompson of Davisburg. She was my age and we were members of the same class when we started high school. She graduated. I never got beyond that start.

A letter from Mrs. Fred Waters of Holly says she liked my story about a politician promising the cannibals a fresh missionary for breakfast. I've since learned that he was a Democrat.

Pontiac Car Magazine Due Aug. 1

A new concept in automobile owner magazines will be unveiled by Pontiac on Aug. 1 when the initial issue of "Safari" is mailed to approximately a million owners and service customers.

Designed to establish contact with loyal owners on a regular basis, "Safari" will completely cover a major subject in each bi-monthly publication, according to S. E. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

"With quality editorial content, art and photography in full color treatment, "Safari" will take the reader on a trip to a glamorous vacation area or dramatic industrial settin," Knudsen explained.

"Interesting side stories containing descriptive highlights of the particular section of the United States will contribute to a fuller understanding of the major subject.

"The new magazine will have family appeal with educational value, stimulating the travel instincts of all ages and creating interest in focal points of the U. S.," he said.

Another unique feature of "Safari" will be its identification as a dealer magazine. Special imprints on the front and back covers will keep the local dealer's name and location constantly before the eyes of Pontiac owners and potential customers.

Male Nurse Kidnaper May Be Extradited

MINEOLA, N.Y. (UPI)—Authorities today moved to extradite from Connecticut a Negro male nurse who shot a lawyer, kidnaped his pregnant wife, and was captured hours later after a 100-mile-an-hour chase.

Attorney Leonard F. Rothkrug, 32, of Great Neck, was reported in fair condition early today at North Shore Hospital in Manhasset.

Rothkrug still had a bullet between the back of his forehead and the frontal lobe of his brain from the shooting in his luxurious long Island home early Saturday, police said, but he was given a good chance of recovery.

Doctors planned to operate to remove the bullet.

Authorities said Reuben Black, 30 of Hempstead, N.Y., was burglarizing the lawyer's $80,000 home in order to get money to bail his sister out of jail in Hartford, Conn., when he shot Rothkrug.

Leaves 231 Descendants

GOP Fights All Night on Rights Stand

Bagwell Gets Rousing Hello in Windy City

Must Share Michigan's Conclave Spotlight With Rep. Gerald Ford

CHICAGO (AP)—A rip-roaring show for Paul D. Bagwell sparked Michigan activity at the Republican National Convention today.

The whoop-de-do was for Bagwell's arrival but if he gets television attention he appears likely to share it with Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the Michigan favorite son for vice presidency.

Bagwell, sure of a repeat governor's nomination in Michigan's Aug. 2 primary, responded to an enthusiastic greeting on the curbstone by reassuring his supporters for next fall's election.

"Bagwell is going to carry Michigan," he said. "I have never been more confident.

Bagwell's arrival capped a day marked by Michigan's formal, although qualified, endorsement of the Nixon-Rockefeller 14-point platform agreement over the weekend.

A Michigan caucus-approved resolution applauded the recommendations as a foundation for the GOP national platform and as a "basic statement of purpose toward realizing national goals."

National committeeman John B. Martin singled them out as political statements with "historic significance" for the GOP.

In other developments Michigan's first preconvention caucus picked Mrs. Albert S. (Ella) Koeze of Grand Rapids as the replacement for Mrs. Rae C. Hooker of Mount Pleasant, who refused at the last minute to run for re-election as national committeewoman.

N.Y. Delegation Willing to Feud

While siding with Nixon in the platform fight, Rockefeller still was unwilling to release the New York delegates to endorse the vice president as the Republican presidential nominee.

STILL OPEN TO DRAFT

The convention will select its nominee Wednesday night. Nixon, the only declared candidate, is considered assured of the assignment.

His plans to meet today with the Montana, Wyoming and New Mexico delegations, and Tuesday with Illinois, helped keep alive speculation the New York governor still has hopes of winning the nomination.

A Rockefeller aide said his meetings with the other states would involve only discussion on the platform.

Press secretary Robert McManus said the various delegations had invited Rockefeller to appear and that he had not sought the meetings.

By NORMAN WALKER

CHICAGO (AP) — The Republican Platform Committee, after a sometimes bitter all-night session, finally adopted today a civil rights plank containing a mixture of moderate and liberal proposals. Whether it thus bypassed a convention floor fight remained a question.

Details of the plank were not announced immediately.

The Republican National Convention opening today will not receive the plank formally until Wednesday night, when the full platform comes up for action.

The composite was worked out at a closed-door session that ground on until 6:40 a.m. At one point the committee rejected 52-32 a motion that it adjourn for the night.

ROCKY SNUBBED

The politically touchy civil rights problem was tossed to the full committee after a drafting subcommittee voted 8-7 for a plank more moderate than that urged by New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller and supported by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

Backers of both sides had threatened a floor fight if they lost.

Rep. Melvin Laird of Wisconsin said the final product, although based on the moderates' proposals, included about half of the liberal-sponsored provisions.

Chairman Charles H. Percy said all votes were by voice, and no tally was taken.

Defeat of the liberals' offering followed claims by its supporters that many of their members had left the meeting while moderate forces remained in full strength.

Rockefeller himself had opposed earlier not only the civil rights plank chosen by the subcommittee but also the national defense pronouncement adopted by the full committee.

"I will fight right here in Chicago," if necessary, he said, to put across his views.

The platform group obviously charted a policy course that missed by a wide margin the terms set out in a compromise worked out late last week by Rockefeller and Nixon.

It appeared the platform group is largely rejecting the new look of liberalism that Rockefeller has hoped to fasten on the GOP. This was true even though many of Rockefeller's ideas have been embraced by Nixon, the party's cinch presidential choice.

MORE MODERATE?

The completed GOP platform seemed destined to be far more moderate than the one adopted by Democrats. Republicans argued, however, that their promises had more chance of attainment that what they described as the something-for-everybody pledge of the Democrats.

Rockefeller's big 96-member New York delegation, endorsing his stand, gave him a free ticket to carry a fight to the convention floor where any platform con-

Nixon to Fight for Civil Rights

Would Support Floor Fight for Strong Plank if Necessary

WASHINGTON (AP) — Richard M. Nixon left for Chicago today prepared, he said, to back a floor fight if necessary to obtain adoption of a strong civil rights plank in the Republican platform.

The vice president was accompanied by Mrs. Nixon.

In a brief airport news conference, Nixon said that while he is confident of getting the nomination he expects that November election campaign against his Democratic opponent, Sen. John F. Kennedy, to be one of the closest contests in recent political history.

The vice president was asked if he would support a convention floor fight for a strong civil rights platform, if that course should be necessary.

"I certainly will," he replied, declaring it is particularly important in this Lincoln anniversary year that the Republicans adopt "a serious, honest" program in human relations, "one that will do the job."

"It is essential our party have a plank pledging more progress in the field of human relations."

Nixon said he couldn't say as yet what pledges are necessary in connection with supporting the lunch counter sit-in demonstrations since the language "is still in the process of negotiation."

But he said it would include full support of the objectives of the demonstrators insofar as the Republicans believe in the "right of peaceful demonstrations."

Mask of Unity Ripped From Party by Battle

Wording of Document Is Expected to Ignite a Strong Floor Debate

CONVENTION HALL, CHICAGO (AP) — A roaring all-night fight over the party stand on civil rights tossed a shower of fireworks into the opening today of the Republican convention. It had once looked like a placid gathering for nomination of Richard M. Nixon for president.

As the party faithful trooped into this big hall, close by the stockyards, it was hard to spot any of the 103 members of the platform-writing committee.

Many of them had scrapped till dawn in a battle that saw moderates tone down, at least slightly, the liberal GOP glow emanating from the weekend Nixon-Rockefeller pronouncement of views.

The exact wording of the civil rights plank that came out of this battle was kept secret for the moment. But the word to newsmen was that it contained a mixture of moderate and liberal proposals.

Both sides talked of a possible floor battle Wednesday when the committee's work will be submitted to the convention.

WANT STRONG PLANK

Nixon told an airport news conference in the capital that "I certainly will" support a floor fight for a strong civil rights plank if necessary.

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York also was prepared to battle on the convention floor for his ideas.

Today's forenoon convention session was strictly a routine affair, devoted to welcoming addresses and preliminary organization.

Yet it was an occasion also for getting off some initial shots at the common enemy—the Democrats.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton of Kentucky, national chairman, hooted at the promises he said had been made to everybody in the Democratic platform. To carry them out, he declared, would add 75 billion dollars a year to current costs.

Morton said the Republicans would adopt "a realistic, honest" platform that we can and will fulfill."

No Other Area Matches Its Performance

County Is Michigan's GOP Mainstay

By JOE HAAS

In fact, the Republican party is more indebted to Oakland County than to any of the other 82 in Michigan.

No other county, not even Detroit's Wayne County, can match its record in Republicanism.

HAAS

Ever since the party was organized (in Michigan) over a century ago, Oakland County has had a record of consistently remaining in the Republican column.

It was the home of Michigan's first three-term governor, Fred M. Warner, a Republican. That was early in the present century.

And Fred Warner gathered around him a sort of kitchen cabinet of Pontiac and Oakland County men who helped him make such a record for the Republicans that it still endures.

Thad Seeley of Pontiac was state senator from the district that included Oakland County, and was considered Warner's closest confidant at Lansing.

Warner appointed Pontiac's Henry Zimmerman as state banking commissioner, and he also was a man whose word was highly respected in the governor's office.

It was a common expression around the capital that if you wanted to know how Warner felt about anything: "Ask Thad or Zim."

Oakland County's consistent Republicanism has extended right down the line after the national and state tickets.

In the matter of congressman, it has always given a majority for the Republican nominee of its district, back in the times when other counties were in a district with us, and since our great growth made us a district all by ourselves.

The same is true in the matter of state senator, where Democrats haven't had a look inside.

Oakland County's members of the Michigan House of Representatives generally have been Republican, the only exceptions being in recent years when the Democrats have garnered a few, either on a personality basis or the influence of the CIO.

On its own county officers it has almost without exception given big majorities to its Republican candidates, the number of Democrats to win being about as many as could be counted on the fingers of one hand, and then also on a personality basis.

Since Wayne's deviation from the Republican cause has been responsible for most everything that's happened to it in Michigan, it will be seen that Oakland County is the GOP's greatest bright spot in our state.

Our county went a long ways in saving Michigan for Eisenhower four years ago, and if it can do as

County Lakes Claim Two Lives Sunday

Two men drowned Sunday on Oakland County lakes. The victims were Richard Toto, 40, of 3363 Rochester Rd., Troy, and Vern E. Darlings, 23, of 3917 Gunn Rd., Oakland Township.

Toto was taking his mother-in-law Mrs. Ella Hawger, 65, for a ride in his homemade rowboat on Bald Eagle Lake in Brandon Township when he swamped the boat by making a sudden turn.

His foot caught in an anchor rope and he was pulled to the bottom of the 15-foot deep water.

Mrs. Hawger hung on to the boat until she was rescued by Toto's brother-in-law Richard McClenaghan, 461 Big Beaver Rd., Troy. He had been on shore taking pictures of the ride.

After telling a group of swimmers he had cramps, he headed for a raft 75 feet from shore.

Lodge Shows Charts to Demonstrate Points in U.N. Speech

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) The United States declared today it has proof that Soviet fighters deliberately pushed a U. S. RB47 off its course and shot it down over international waters.

In a dramatic speech to the U.N. Security Council, U. S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said "this astonishing and criminal fact is established beyond doubt by the evidence of our scientific devices."

Lodge produced charts to demonstrate his points, and denounced the Soviet Union for "flagrant disregard for the standards of international conduct."

CALLED POOR ATTEMPT

He called the Soviet charges that the plane violated U.S.S.R. air space last July 1 a "complete fabrication" which must be dismissed as a poor attempt to cloak a wanton attack on a plane over international waters."

Lodge said he would introduce a resolution asking that the Council call for an impartial investigation of the entire incident, or a judgment on the case by the International Court of Justice.

"What actually happened was this: Before it (the plane) reached the point more than 50 miles north of Svatoy Nos, at which it was scheduled to turn northeast, a Soviet fighter pressed in from the seaward side and tried to force the plane off its course and into Soviet territory," Lodge said.

"The Soviet fighter was successful in forcing our plane off its course and in delaying its planned turn to the northeast. I was not successful in forcing the plane into Soviet airspace. It caused our plane to make a detour. That detour is shown by the green line on the chart.) The prescribed course is shown by the black line.

flicts still remaining will have to be thrashed out.

Many party conservatives, after earlier complaining the Nixon-Rockefeller pact was a "sellout" and an attempt to dictate convention policies, decided to accept the platform committee's work. Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona said he planned no protest.

But Thad Hutcheson, head of the Texas delegation, said a boycott of Dixie delegates from convention sessions was among a number of "spectacular" steps being considered if the full platform group should reverse the subcommittee and accept the Nixon-Rockefeller stand.

This called for aggressive action to enforce racial equality in voting, schools, housing and jobs and encouraged businessmen to end lunch counter and other segregation.

On the other side, Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania predicted the convention would adopt the stronger plank if it came to a vote there. He said he would carry the battle to the full convention if the committee chose the more moderate approach.

Pontiac Twp. Dems Will Hear Swainson Talk

With the important Aug. 2 primary just a week away Lt. Gov. John B. Swainson, Democratic candidate for governor, will make one of his last appearances in Oakland County tomorrow night before the Pontiac Township Democratic Club.

Swainson is scheduled to speak at 8:30 at the township hall, 2060 Opdyke road.

Other Democratic candidates for Congress, state and county offices will also be introduced at the meeting.

about a possible vice-presidential nominee.

But the betting favorite for the No. 2 spot was, at the moment, Henry Cabot Lodge, ambassador to the United Nations.

Nixon will choose the vice-presidential nominee, as is traditional, at his meeting with reporters in Washington, he declined to discuss his choice for the spot except to say it will be a man who shares his views and one who would be qualified for the presidency if it should be necessary for him to take over that office.

But Rockefeller remained an enigma, with his position largely incomprehensible to the average delegate moving in the make-believe world of tooting bands and shouting cohorts that precedes the usually dull convention routine.

on the ticket, Rockefeller threatened to shoot off about the only missile that might enliven the prosaic proceedings.

Although he wouldn't say it in as many words, the New York governor's complaint was directed at the heart of the Eisenhower administration's defense program.

The convention platform committee adopted language saying the Republicans have provided and will continue to provide "the defenses we need to protect our freedom."

Check on Death of Ex-Resident

Body Is Discovered in a River; Victim Had Been Going to Wedding

An autopsy was performed this morning in Vincennes, Ind., to determine what caused the death of a former Pontiac resident, Jonathon C. Monk, 23, whose body was found yesterday in the White River near Edwardsport, Ind.

A Vincennes coroner was to rule on the death this afternoon, according to Vincennes sheriff's deputies.

Monk, a 1954 graduate of Pontiac Central High School, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Monk.

The family lived here for about 16 years before moving to Sullivan, Ind., in 1954. The victim's father was a driver for Truckaway Corp. in Pontiac.

Monk was returning home from Baptist University in Pasadena, Calif., to attend his sister's wedding. His car was found abandoned Friday near the 22nd-wardsport train station, deputies said.

It was believed Monk met with foul play at the hands of hitchhikers. A two-day search was begun with Indiana State Police assisting.

He told deputies the last time he saw Monk was when he was walking toward the river near the train station at Edwardsport with a second hitchhiker.

Police are still searching for the unidentified rider. Monk's body was found by two fishermen Sunday morning.

Monk has two aunts and uncles living here. They are Mr. and Mrs. Roy B. Ward of 252 W. Chicago St., and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Monk of 1539 Parkway Ave., West Bloomfield Township.

Traffic Control Reports on Hunter, U.S. 10 Due

BIRMINGHAM — Reports and studies covering a three-year period of traffic control and access drives along U.S. 10 and Hunter boulevard will be reviewed by City Commissioners at tonight's meeting.

The surveys made by the city manager, the planning department, and the police department were requested by the City Commission June 20.

Roadside parking along U.S. 10 should be improved by the construction of access drives or the elimination of parking, if no access drives are constructed, City Manager L. R. Gare states in his report.

Gare suggests that if the program for the construction of access drives meets with the City Commission's approval a special meeting with the Commission and merchants involved be arranged.

Herzberg has prepared large scale drawings of the entire length of U.S. 10 from the north to the south city limits showing existing access drives, proposed access drives, and where no access drives are needed, such as those in front of gas stations and totally unimproved blocks.

He said there are several commercial buildings that already provide for adequate parking and no access drives for parking are needed.

Thirty-nine accidents, plus three injuries, have occurred in mid-block areas where there are no traffic controls, such as access drives, in the last three years, according to Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley.

Moxley in his report notes that blocks where angle parking takes place, the tendency of drivers on U.S. 10 is to avoid the fourth lane adjacent to the shoulder, resulting in restricted traffic flow along the route.

Herzberg suggests that wherever an access drive is proposed along the route, sidewalk repairs and construction take place at the same time whenever necessary.

"The entire program should be based on interests of public safety and general welfare, and tend to promote a greater traffic flow or capacity with less hazards along U.S. 10," Herzberg concluded.

Some 40 boys, most of them from Bloomfield Hills and Birmingham, were evacuated from a summer camp in Montana Saturday night when a forest fire headed their way.

The boys were staying at the Lost Trail Camp near Sula, Mont., when the fire spread over 3,000 acres in the Saddle Mountain area.

The group will fly home tonight from Missoula, where the boys have been housed since the camp became endangered.

Camp Director Paul Gerhardt, said the boys were never in any danger. However, it was still uncertain today whether the camp could be saved.

Mrs. William G. Harry

Service for Mrs. William (Harriet) G. Harry, 83, of Bloomfield Hills, will be at 3 p.m. Tuesday at Bell Chapel of William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery.

Mrs. Harry died Sunday after a long illness.

She was a member of Christ Church Cranbrook, the Bloomfield Branch of the National Farm and Garden Assn., and the Women's City Club.

Detroit Businessmen Plan Large Hotel

DETROIT (AP)—A syndicate of Detroit businessmen has announced plans for a $10-million, 700-room hotel for Detroit's civic center.

Their plans were revealed over the weekend shortly after the Hilton Hotel Corp. said it was not interested in the project.

Crash Injuries Fatal to Boy, 4, of Birmingham

A three-year-old Birmingham boy died Saturday in Pontiac General Hospital of injuries sustained in an auto accident earlier in the week.

The boy, Robin Lilje, was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Lilje, 6327 Tamerlane Dr., Birmingham. He was injured Thursday evening when his father's car collided with a dump truck driven by James B. Raines, 42, of 334 W. Huron St.

The accident occurred at 10:35 p.m. at the intersection of White Lake road and Dixie highway in Independence Township.

Novices, Veterans Raring to Go for GOP

By JOE HAAS

Art Elliott is a delegate at large and communing with Postmaster General Art Summerfield, also a delegate at large, who surely knows his way around. He was National Manager of President Eisenhower's campaign in 1952.

Chad Ritchie also is no novice in the political game — a previous county chairman — and his experience there places a danger sign on the loopholes.

Mrs. John Finegan is learning under keen observance and good leadership.

The Oakland County contingent, quite unlike our delegates at Los Angeles, know that they represent an undivided clientele back home.

RESPECTED BY STATE

Our county's representation has the respect of the rest of the Michigan delegates, but not in the degree merited from the Detroit bunch.

That city's Republicans are as cocky as usual, despite the fact that their poor showing in recent elections is what drove Michigan almost to the brink of the abyss of a Democratic victory in our state.

Detroiters have a big job at home in Republicanism if they hope to fumigate the mess into which they allowed Walter Reuther to precipitate them.

He has been the Republican elector for our congressional district for many years, and right here and now I'm nominating him for the oldest man in the nation in that capacity.

He will bring along his partner in several miseries not political, Jake Levi, also of Royal Oak.

The same nationwide manufacturer of auto tires who furnished free bus transportation for newsmen at Los Angeles, between their hotels and the convention, announces it will do the same thing here. This is of much longer haul than at Los Angeles.

Just in from Colorado Springs and opening of the mammoth Boy Scout Jamboree, it's refreshing to chronicle between conventions another in the long line of Pontiac firsts.

Whether you get to the top of Pike's Peak by the cog railway or tortuous auto road, you'll hear the announcer say that only one make of car has won the annual grueling race to the top three times — Pontiac.

Michigan's delegates are a peaceful bunch at their quarters in the Hotel Congress.

They're for Nixon, but not absolutely, and are feeling the impact of the Rocky Roller. Whatever appears to be for the good of the party and Michigan will be OK with them.

Profiting by what happened at Los Angeles, (although any good Republican refuses to admit he ever heard of it), the idea of a Nixon-Rockefeller ticket is gaining momentum.

You'll recollect that Johnson also was "unequivocally opposed" to such a thing when it was first proposed to him after he had failed to land the top spot.

Michigan's Gerald Ford's candidacy for second place on the ticket is not exactly snowballing, but his home state delegation intends to make it more than a favorite son gesture.

They'll stick by him until the cows come home — and are milked.

Since Michigan hasn't had a nominee of a major party for president in 112 years, the historians are thumbing their books to find out how long it's been since our state had such a nominee for vice president.

Although my memory does not go back quite that far, I'd say it was as long. So, here's hoping, Gerry.

Hope you don't have the same experience as your home city of Grand Rapids — which recently slipped out of second place on Michigan's population ticket.

Still looking like a happy boy, Bill stands on his Washington record, upon which he expects the voters of the 18th District to put an OK Nov. 8.

A sarcastic Democratic wag suggests that since a general steered the Republicans into the White House in 1952 and 1956, why not head the ticket this time with General Motors which, with a Ford for vice president, ought to satisfy big business.

Got my hair cut in a 24-chair barber shop in the Conrad Hilton that's surely an innovation. With all chairs occupied, you could hear a pin drop; not a spoken word.

But when the doors swung open on an adjoining big beauty parlor, I thought they were having a re-run of the Kennedy demonstration at Los Angeles.

A good looking Oakland County delegate, (she wouldn't let me use her name), puts it like this: "Nixon is an authentic gee-whiz kid, and Rocky's boom is a will-o'-the wisp."

Pontiac and Oakland County soon loom up in any Michigan political history. We even had a hand in establishing the present era.

AVERILL SECRETARY

A dozen years ago Kim Sigler hadn't done so badly as Michigan's Republican governor. George R. Averill, a Pontiac suburbanite, was his secretary.

Sigler was renominated, and drew for his Democratic opponent a young heir to a soap fortune, G. Mennen Williams, quite unknown in politics, and Sigler's re-election was regarded as a cinch.

But in the last days of the campaign he made some remarks that antagonized union labor, resulting in Williams' election by a raveled thread and recount, thus starting the Williams' era.

And those remarks, which spelled his downfall, were made by Sigler in an address in Pontiac.

The same concern which gave newsmen at Los Angeles bottles of its concoction to keen up eyesight is doing likewise here. That's a double insult.

(Special to The Pontiac Press)

Oakland Is GOP's Mainstay in Michigan

well this time its Republican leaders will be satisfied.

But the inroads of Walter Reuther have them worried. Can he be successful in breaking Oakland County's Republican record?

This record is appreciated today by the entire Michigan delegation — including those from Wayne County—and will stand our county well in the handling of affairs in connection with the convention, and long afterwards—if the Republican's win the national election on Nov. 8.

OVER 1,000 NEWSMEN

The Chicago International Antiphitheatre, where the convention is to be held, has taken on the look that Chicago is accustomed to giving such things.

In most every respect it resembles the setup here four years ago when the Democrats nominated Adlai Stevenson to make his second try.

Provision is made for over one thousand newspapermen, divided quite equally on either side of the speaker's platform. This is much in line with the arrangement at Los Angeles.

The seating of the delegates is on the main floor, much in the same manner as before, which also applies to the spectators' seats.

In most ways it seems that national political conventions have fallen into a groove which is changed only to meet the necessities of changing times. It is only in recent years that provision had to be made for radio and TV.

According to early advices from Nixon's camp, he considers the election will be won by the nominee who carries six states, including Michigan, the others being New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Ohio and Illinois.

It is noted that this list does not include his own home state of California, where the Democrats have just held their convention, and count its electoral vote as sure for Kennedy.

Most of the advance polls in California indicate that state to be Democratic, but it is hardly probable that Nixon concedes that.

There is no doubt about the present top running candidate for the nomination for the office of vice president here, in case a Nixon-Rockefeller or Rockefeller-Nixon ticket is not nominated.

It is Henry Cabot Lodge, whom both political parties think is doing a great job on the United Nations.

It is asserted that he is the only man who has been able to talk up to the Russians, and that his name on the ticket would even result in Massachusetts deserting its own son, Jack Kennedy.

Chicago maintains its title of "The Windy City" in a rather unique manner. It secured that title on account of the breezes blowing off the extensive prairies to the west.

But such a cognomen is maintained largely by the breezes from the vocal chords of its residents in telling about it and its future.

The latest in that line is the claim of becoming the world's greatest port, now that the St. Lawrence Seaway is in operation.

It plans within five years to have 85 miles of dock frontage on Lake Michigan, extending into four states, Illinois, Wisconsin Indiana and our own Michigan.

Chicago residents point out that it is our only large city that has unlimited growth area, and that it surely is destined to become the largest city in the world, despite the fact that it showed a loss in the census only recently completed.

In the meantime, both kinds of breezes continue to blow, although on some of these hot summer days we wish we had more of nature's brand and less of the man-made kind.

Just as in the old days most everybody in Pontiac came downtown on Saturday nights, most everybody in Chicago comes to the lake front on hot nights.

The crowds are even worse than at the Cass Lake beaches, and the bathing suits are briefer. In fact some of them are so brief that they do not seem to have arrived yet.

Chicago also lays claim to the fact that it has benefited greatly by the grafting of its politicians.

The world wide publicized shenanigans of those aldermen like "Hinky Dink" and "Bathhouse John" revealed grafting in the millions, but also resulted in slum clearances and other civic betterments that made it a better city.

The call letters of The Chicago Tribune's radio and TV station, WGN, mean "World's Greatest Newspaper," but even Chicagoans know better than that. It is a great newspaper, with over a million circulation daily, but is not to be compared with The New York Times. Perhaps better call letters would be EGO.

A newspaper man likes to find examples of what publicity has done. Between these conventions I stopped off at Colorado Springs, Colo., for the big Boy Scout Jamboree.

While there I took the cog wheel railway to the top of Pike's Peak, the world's highest cog railway, 14,118 feet, almost 3,000 feet higher than the world famous railways in Switzerland. The publicity angle comes in the fact that Colorado has over a dozen mountains higher than Pike's Peak—but did you ever hear of even one of them?

The biggest news transmission moving job ever attempted has been completed. The Western Union has moved its skilled operating personnel and equipment from Los Angeles to Chicago, and commenced handling the newsmen's stuff from here. The total of the two conventions will exceed 12,million words.

Just discovered another Pontiac angle in connection with the big doings. I learn that our own Bill Cornwell on The Pontiac Press sports staff is a distant relative of Richard Nixon.

If only the Kennedys and Johnsons would vote that ticket it would have a good start. When at Colorado Springs I learned that R. E. Johnson, who donated the use of his great Reverse J. Diamond Ranch for the Boy Scout Jamboree, is a 42nd cousin of Lyndon — but votes Republican.

It is said that 266 of the delegates at Los Angeles were members of some labor union. Haven't started counting, but I don't expect to find that many here.

This is the 14th time the Republican National Convention has been held in Chicago, a greater number of times than all other cities combined. The first one in 1856, when Abraham Lincoln first came to notice, was held here in a temporary wigwam. That was even before the time of Mrs. OLeary and her cow.

The report that the bad smell around the convention hall is a hold over from the Democratic convention of four years ago is emphatically denied by Chicago's Mayor Richard J. Daley. He's a Democrat, and asserts that it comes from its use as a stock show place, of course the world's largest.

There are 172 gatemen and ushers at the convention hall. Hope that some of them know a little about what's going on. Never found one at Los Angeles who did.

Here's a plain fact that almost breaks Chicago's big heart. They have only a mere 12,000 seats to be allocated at the convention — and they were all allocated several weeks ago. At the last GOP national convention four years ago at San Francisco's gigantic Cow Palace there were 17,000 seats.

Something brand new in convention procedure is a couple of roof top heliports to shuttle fast doings to downtown Chicago.

Anyway, Chicago's ready, and says: "You've been here often before and liked us so well that you've returned again and again. We intend to treat you so well that you'll keep coming."

GOP Plank Committee Backs Plan to Promote Appropriate Groupings

CHICAGO (AP) — The Republican Platform Committee today approved a plan to promote appropriate regional groupings of nations to foster economic and educational development in the free world.

The plan contained in the foreign policy plank substantially follows a proposal made jointly by Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York that the United States encourage confederations of nations.

The plank completed by the platform group would encourage such groupings in somewhat different areas of the world than the Nixon-Rockefeller statement had advocated.

The plank calls for such national economic alliances in Latin America, Africa, the Middle East and Asia. Nixon and Rockefeller had suggested them in the 15-nation North Atlantic community and the Western hemisphere.

The platform committee noted that Eastern European nations already have an operating common market. It was suggested this could serve as an example for other areas to follow.

If such alliances should lead eventually to political unions, support for that development also would be forthcoming under a Republican administration, it was stated.

The foreign policy plank also:

1. Reaffirmed the Monroe Doctrine, saying "We shall join the republics of the Americas against any intervention in our hemisphere, and in refusing to tolerate the establishment in this hemisphere of any government dominated by the foreign rule of Communism."

* * *

This was seen as a warning to the Soviet Union, with particular reference to the situation in Cuba.

2. Pledged to maintain an armed power exceeded by no other nation.

3. Promised to continue to refuse American recognition to Communist China.

4. Condemned intervention of the Soviet Union into affairs of newly independent nations as "a form of subversion" and a direct challenge to the United Nations.

Three Harnack Brothers Own Face-Lifted Stores

Three Harnack brothers—and not just Hugo Harnack—own the three stores on East Huron street which have recently undergone extensive face lifting jobs on the building fronts.

In Saturday's Pontiac Press, the names of two other Harnack brothers, Clyde C. Harnack and Stuart M. Harnack, were omitted from a story telling about the change in the store fronts.

Blames Many for Shield Cost

Doctors, Hospitals and Patients Abuse Terms, Medical Leader Says

DETROIT (AP) — Dr. D. W. McLean, president-elect of the Wayne County Medical Society, said Friday abuses by doctors, hospitals and patients are forcing Blue Shield medical insurance rates up.

Writing in the Detroit Medical News, the official publication of the society, McLean said the adoption of "generous" policies in 1950 has made concessions "which invite and encourage abuse."

He listed as abuses unnecessary hospital admissions or too long hospital stays; excessive laboratory tests and unneeded diagnostic procedures; increased use of medical services that formerly weren't covered by Blue Shield; frequent hospitalization of patients for diagnoses which later were not confirmed; use of high-cost treatment when low-cost treatment might have been better, and overuse of consultants.

"It is obvious that changes will have to be made in the contract," McLean said.

Blue Shield rates went up 11½ per cent July 1.

American Tourists Increase in Russia

NEW YORK (AP) — A Soviet travel agency head says that, despite international tension, the number of Americans traveling to the Soviet Union is increasing.

Vladimir Babkin, manager of Intourist's foreign division, said Thursday at the Overseas Press Club that thus far this year 9,000 visas had been issued to Americans and he expects the number to rise by 4,000 or 5,000 before the year is out.

About 12,000 Americans visited his country last year, he said.

Temporarily Bar Move of Plant From Detroit

DETROIT (AP) — A federal court order has temporarily halted the planned move to Americus, Ga., of a Detroit manufacturing company.

The restraining order was issued by Judge Fred W. Kaess against the Crescent Brass & Pin Co., at the request of the United Auto Workers Union which filed a breach of contract suit on behalf of the company's 28 employes.

Ranch to Go When Jean Simmons, Granger Split

Divorce Will Smash an American Dream

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Stewart Granger is putting a dream up for sale.

In a few weeks, when he finishes "Go North" with John Wayne, he's selling his 10,000-acre ranch in Nogales, Ariz. This is the ranch that Granger and Jean Simmons, a couple of soon-to-be-divorced Britishers, had developed into an American dream.

"Now that Jean and Tracy (their daughter, 2) are no longer there," says Granger sadly, "I couldn't live in the place. Almost everything is named after the baby. It would be too depressing."

Granger will sell the big spread and go to Europe for a series of pictures.

"I guess I'll make my residence in Switzerland now," he says. "As long as I'm over there, I might as well take advantage of it."

He's referring to the tax break so many Hollywood stars have found since establishing residence in Switzerland.

"Taxes are lower over there," says Granger, an American citizen, "because you don't get as much as you do here, so you pay accordingly. I'll miss my home in Arizona."

QUITE A SPREAD

That home in Arizona consists of rolling hills, just east of Nogales, five miles of it along the Mexican border.

It includes a six-bedroom house, two-bedroom guest house, and two-bedroom servants' quarters. Television is in every room, with three-channel reception from Phoenix and Tucson.

A 10-acre lake feeds a 5-acre lake stocked with trout. There is a swimming pool and tennis court and the Santa Cruz River winds through cottonwoods.

"I've been 25 years in the movie business," says Granger, "but the greatest thrill of my life was as a Britisher running an American ranch, winning blue ribbons for my French cattle."

Granger's ranch has 500 head of Charolais beef cattle.

"Jean and I have been knocking our brains out making movies all over the world to pay for the cattle. In about three years we had both planned to settle down in Arizona for good and never make another picture. I guess now I'll die an actor instead of a cattleman."

Granger's cattle came high. As the two made movies to buy them, they often were separated. An estimate by a friend had them apart almost half of the last six years.

Detroit Bureau Takes Over State Forecast

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Weather Bureau will take over the issuing of Michigan State forecasts from the Chicago Regional Office about Sept. 1, State Meteorologist W. W. Oak said.

The move is part of a decentralization designed to improve local coverage, Oak added. The Detroit Bureau will issue four revised state forecasts daily after the change.

The Chicago office, which now issues local forecasts for nine states, will continue to issue regional forecasts. But Oak said its local area of responsibility will be cut to a two-state area.

Francois Sagan to Write of Castro's Adventures

PARIS (AP)—Novelist Francois Sagan is temporarily discarding her stories of young love's difficulties for a trip to Fidel Castro's Cuba as a newspaper reporter.

She is being sent by the weekly L'Express, which reflects the left wing views of former Premier Pierre Mendes-France and has viewed the trend of Castro's revolution approvingly.

Lie Detectors May Do the Job

Mark Future Heart Victims?

CHICAGO (AP)—The lie detector—a sort of mechanical Sherlock Holmes—may be capable of singling out the most likely candidates for future heart attacks.

Two researchers report that the device detected markedly different responses between heart disease sufferers, persons with nonorganic disorders of the heart and normal individuals.

These variations showed up when the volunteers were subjected to an irritating experience, such as interruptions in a conversation.

The study was conducted by Drs. Meyer Freidman and Ray H. Rosenman of San Francisco. It was based on their earlier finding that the highest incidence of heart disease is found in persons with intense competitive drive, a persistent desire for recognition and advancement and a habitual drive to speed their pace of living and working.

Most of the volunteers in the normal group showed little sign of irritation, restlessness, tension or anger.

The group with nonorganic heart disorders became somewhat restless. But this symptom occured as frequently during the female interruptions.

In sharp contrast, 13 of the 20 heart disease sufferers fidgeted and changed body position repeatedly. They alternately contracted and relaxed their jaw muscles and grimaced with irritation or hostility. The reactions appeared far more frequently during the female monologue.

The lie detector test also showed that the bulk of the heart patient group, as compared with the other groups, exhibited more frequent breathing distortions and obvious and nonobvious hand clenching.

Writing in the journal of the American Medical Assn., the researchers said:

"The possession of this particular behavior pattern in a subject does not . . . indicate that he has, or will necessarily contact coronary heart disease. It only implies . . . that his future susceptibility to clinical coronary heart disease will be markedly enhanced."

They suggested the lie detector test might lend itself to mass studies in an effort to predict future heart disease.

County Chiefs Want More School Funds

JACKSON (AP) — A group of county superintendents of Schools has launched plans to lobby for a basic revision of the State Aid Program to County School Districts.

Twenty-seven superintendents called for an aid plan allowing a flat amount for each pupil.

Wayne County Superintendent Dr. Charles E. Brake said the plan would give the more populous counties a more equitable share of state funds and eventually force sparsely settled districts to consolidate.

Under the current system, 76 county school district can receive more than 10 per cent of the funds. A 1955 bill set the total amount of school aid at $650,000.

Brake said the revised program would cost the state about twice that amount—approximately $1,368,000. The basis of the plan is a study made of education administration by the Kellogg Foundation.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne*) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called *Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

Top U. of M. Football Player in '34

Ford Most Useful at GOP Parley

By GEORGE WEEKS

CHICAGO (UPI) — The University of Michigan's most valuable football player in 1934 is Michigan's most valuable politician at the Republican National Convention in 1960.

Backers of Rep. Gerald R. Ford (R-Mich) have no illusion of grandeur about Ford's chances of getting the GOP vice presidential nomination.

There even has been talk among some Michigan delegates of getting on the bandwagon of another more prominently mentioned candidate, United Nations Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge.

But Ford is to the GOP State Delegation what Gov. G. Mennen Williams was to the Democratic State Delegation in Los Angeles — a rallying point, a man to wave the Michigan banner in the high councils of the convention.

There was a time when Postmaster General Arthur V. Summerfield was the Michigan Convention mainstay.

WON DELEGATE BADGE

This year, Summerfield won a delegate badge only after promising to stop trying to overthrow liberal leadership of the state organization.

How did Ford rise to the position of prominence?

Nixon and Ford are charter members of the "chowder and marching society," an association of congressmen who started their service at the same time.

Ford during his dozen years in Congress has gained recognition as a leader and an expert in defense matters. He is the senior Republican on the Budget Subcommittee dealing with the Defense Department.

When the current session of Congress convened, Ford was high among contenders for minority floor leader, a job that went to Rep. Charles Halleck (R-Indiana).

INSTRUMENTAL MAN

Ford was instrumental in drafting a cold war platform for Republicans.

He was chairman of a task force of the GOP House Policy Committee which did a comprehensive study of "American strategy and strength."

But Ford is not widely known nationally and was trailing on the list of favorites for the No. 2 spot during the week before the convention.

After his football days at the University of Michigan, Ford went to the Yale Law School.

During his 47-month naval career as a gunnery officer and navigator, Ford rose to the rank of lieutenant commander.

The U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce chose Ford as one of 10 outstanding young men in 1949.

He is married and has three sons and a daughter.

Pontiac Car Magazine Due Aug. 1

A new concept in automobile owner magazines will be unveiled by Pontiac on Aug. 1 when the initial issue of "Safari" is mailed to approximately a million owners and service customers.

Designed to establish contact with loyal owners on a regular basis, "Safari" will completely cover a major subject in each bimonthly publication, according to S. E. Knudsen, vice president of General Motors and general manager of Pontiac Motor Division.

"With quality editorial content, art and photography in full color treatment, "Safari" will take the reader on a trip to a glamorous vacation area or dramatic industrial settin," Knudsen explained.

"Interesting side stories containing descriptive highlights of the particular section of the United States will contribute to a fuller understanding of the major subject.

"The new magazine will have family appeal with educational value, stimulating the travel instincts of all ages and creating interest in local points of the U. S.," he said.

Another unique feature of "Safari" will be its identification as a dealer magazine. Special imprints on the front and back covers will keep the local dealer's name and location constantly before the eyes of Pontiac owners and potential customers.

To Cut Back Operations at Factory in Alpena

DETROIT (UPI) — Operations of Detroit Gasket Co.'s Fraser Products Division in Alpena will be cut back because of a drop in orders and unfavorable costs, officials here announced.

The Alpena plant, officials said, would reduce operations at the end of current model year production.

Employment in Alpena, which averages 400, will drop to about 100 company spokesmen said. One of the two plants there will be used as a warehouse when the cutback goes into effect.

There are about 100 different kinds of bituminous coal.

1,000 View Church Ground Breaking

First Methodist Starts $300,000 Project on 7-Acre Site

CLARKSTON—A crowd of nearly 1,000 yesterday witnessed groundbreaking ceremonies for the new First Methodist Church on a hilltop site near M15 and Waldron road.

Following an address by Flint District Supt. Dr. Chester A. McPheeters, the first shovel full of earth was turned over by Mr. and Mrs. Howard Huttenlocher, who donated the seven-acre plot upon which the $300,000 church will be erected.

The site was originally the location of Mrs. Huttenlocher's childhood home. She and her husband, owner of a Pontiac insurance agency, have long been members of the congregation.

Besides the sermon by Dr. McPheeters, prayers were offered by the pastor, the Rev. William J. Richards, and Everett Butters, lay reader.

QUADRILEVEL DESIGN

The First Methodist congregation numbers 900, with an additional 600 Sunday School children.

The new church, which will be built on a quadrilevel plan with an entrance at each level, will have a seating capacity of 500 when completed next summer.

A spire 112 feet high will rise from the building, which will be constructed on the highest point of the hill facing M15 and adjacent to Waldron road.

Rev. Richards said construction will get under way shortly.

RAISE NEW FLAG — A new 50-star flag, which had flown over the nation's Capitol July 4, was raised Saturday on the Brewer centennial farm, 1101 Brewer Rd., Addison Township. Raising the flag are Addison Township's assistant fire chief, Robert McCallum, right, and fireman Eugene Mallia. The ceremony was witnessed by some 50 relatives and friends of the Brewer family.

Man Is Unique— Refuses to Take $1½-$3 Million

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—John R. Carr can boast "some fellows came to the door to leave 1½ to 3 million dollars in coin—but I wouldn't let them in."

Carr, an employe of the U. S. Mint, refused to let in two huge truckloads of silver coins when they arrived ahead of schedule from Denver. So the trucks, and their treasure had to spend the night in the driveway of the mint just off Buchanan Street.

"There's nobody to sign for the stuff," Carr told the truckdrivers and their armored car escort when they arrived at the new mint about 3 p. m. Sunday.

Second Family Leaps Off Ship

Flight of Czechs From Red Regime Is Similar to Sunday Jump

COPENHAGEN, Denmark (AP) —A Czech couple with two sons jumped overboard from an East-German ferry in the Baltic port of Gedser today in the same way another Czech family of five defected Sunday.

As the ferry, out of Warnemuende, entered the harbor, a man and woman, each carrying a boy—one 5, one 8—jumped overboard and began swimming. A pilot boat pulled them aboard.

Taken to a hospital, they said they would ask for political asylum in Denmark. Police withheld their names but it is understood the man is a professor in chemistry at the University of Prague.

The five who jumped Sunday, and also sought political asylum, were a Prague engineer; his wife, a scientist; their sons, 4 and 6, and the wife's mother, 62.

Want His Antics Curbed

Indians on Warpath Against Jimmy Piersall

BOSTON (AP)—The Cleveland Indians are on the warpath and the object of their ire is teammate Jimmy Piersall, the excitable center fielder.

Piersall stayed behind in Boston today for an appearance before American League President Joe Cronin while the rest of the squad packed their war clubs and set off for New York, where they open a four-game series against the Yankees Tuesday night.

Team members said they may send a committee to General Manager Frank Lane when he joins the club and will demand that he take definite action to curb Piersall's antics.

One irate player told a reporter the team is on the verge of a revolt, adding that "Lane has got to do something or the entire team will fall apart."

A veteran Tribesman said the Indians "still have a good chance to win the pennant, but not if Piersall remains unchecked. We got a lot of rough decisions from umpires in the Boston series. They lean over backward when Piersall is concerned but take it out on the rest of the players."

Members of the team said they thought the fines that have been levied on Piersall will have little effect and that neither Cronin nor Lane will take any action unless the team issues an ultimatum.

"They talk about the $350 he (Piersall) has paid in fines this season," said one player, "That's a big joke. He will make far more than that making personal appearances. But we aren't going to make any extra money unless we win the pennant."

Cronin called Piersall on the carpet to explain his antics and umpire-baiting tactics.

LONELY ONE — Jim Piersall cools off in the shade of the flagpole in centerfield as the manager Joe Gordon halted the game to change pitcher. The Cleveland outfielder was thrown out of yesterday's game for an argument with the umpire who called interference on him. Club and league officials are meeting with Piersall to discuss his antics.

Mrs. Wright Keeps City Golf Title

Mrs. W. D. (Edith) Wright is dislodging Mrs. Zadah DeBolt as the queen of golf in the city of Pontiac.

Breaking 80 for the first time in her golfing career, Mrs. Wright ran way from everybody Saturday at Pontiac Municipal golf course to win the women's City Medal Play golf championship for the 2nd straight year and 4th time altogether.

The Lake Orion shotmaker fired an excellent 39-38—77, two above women's par, for a one-sided seven-stroke triumph in the annual 18-hole event.

Mrs. Wright's four victories in this tournament are more than anybody else can boast except Mrs. DeBolt, who has won the city crown six times.

A prominent and active figure in the Women's Metropolitan Golf Assn. for several years, Mrs. Wright posted five birdies over the Municipal links while bogeying five holes and once slipping to a double bogey six.

Her nearest rival was Phyllis Boyer, who shot 84. Bobbie Miller took 3rd place with 85, followed by Mrs. DeBolt at 86.

Mrs. Wright birdied the 3rd and 6th holes during her front nine round on the Municipal layout's north side. Then she switched to the south course and birdied the 1st, 2nd and 5th holes.

Her 77 scorecard was five strokes better than any winning total in the women's city tourney in the last 10 years.

Mrs. Wright, Mrs. Boyer, Bobbie Miller, Mrs. DeBolt and Gerry Featherstone, who finished 5th with 88, will form Pontiac's entry in the state MRA team tournament Sept. 17 at Midland.

The Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department instituted a handicap division in this year's tourney and the low net winner was Betty Wallace, who rifled 97-32—65. Runnerup honors went to Gerry Featherston, who had a 20 handicap for a net 68.

Molenda Runaway Win of Publinx Medal Play

By BILL CORNWELL

There isn't any doubt about it. Johnny Molenda was the best golfer by far in the Michigan Publinx Golf Association's weekend 54-hole medal play tournament at Morey's Golf and Country Club.

Collecting five birdies and an eagle deuce on Saturday and adding nine more birdies Sunday, Molenda was eight strokes better than his nearest foe in the annual event.

Molenda compiled a 54-hole total of 205, 11 strokes below par, to win the first title of his golfing career and strip Pontiac's Mike Andonian of the honors he won a year ago on the same course.

Andonian shot 215 to share 4th place with Dr. A. E. LaCroix. Runnerup honors went to Alan (Scotty) Thompson of Pleasant Ridge with 213 while Wally Smith of Pontiac, Al Whited of Wayne, Dick Preston of Detroit and ex-Tiger outfielder Roy Cullenbine divided 3rd spot at 214.

Molenda, the former U. of D. golfer who lives in St. Clair Shores, just couldn't be touched over the Red, White and Blue layouts at Morey's.

Now a junior accounting student at Detroit Tech, the 21-year-old Molenda seized a three-stroke lead at the end of Saturday's opening 27 holes by firing 36-31-37—104. He made it even more emphatic yesterday by shooting 32-32-37—101.

This is Molenda's 1st year in the Publinx organization and it's a mighty impressive debut. He had only five bogies during the two days and Sunday he one-putted a dozen greens while three-putting just once.

Record nine-hole scores were carded on each nine by the talented MPGA field. Molenda and Joe Peak shot record 31s on the White links, Andonian rifled a 34 on the Blue layout and Molenda and Cullenbine each shot 32 on the Red course.

Other Pontiac entries in the 54-hole championship were well back in the pack. Charlie Barker and Dick Robertson were part of a six-way tie for 8th place with 220s.

City Industrial Golfers Picked

Wasik, Bruske, Gaines and Hanes Will Shoot for Pontiac Motor

Four Pontiac Motor Division golfers earned berths in the National Industrial Golf Championship in 18-hole qualifying rounds Sunday at Pontiac Country Club.

Medalist Ed Wasik, Don Bruske, Joe Gaines and Jim Hanes will comprise Pontiac Motor's four-man team in the national tournament, which will be held Aug. 20-21 at Pontiac C.C. and Morey's Golf and Country Club.

Wasik fired a three-under-par 71 in yesterday's qualifiers to pace a 46-man field. Bruske and Gaines tied for 2nd place with 75s while Hanes won the 4th position in a sudden-death playoff with Stan Savage and "Red" Fender after the three players wound up deadlocked at 76.

Fender bogied the 2nd hole to drop out of the playoff, then Savage bowed to Hanes' birdie four on the 3rd hole.

Savage will be the No. 1 alternate for the Pontiac Motor squad. Other leading scores among nonqualifiers were a 77 by Weimer, Rube Wideman's 77, a 78 by Vidlund, and Jim Cumberworth's 78.

Yanks Win, Avoid Sweep by Chisox

By The Associated Press

Eli Grba is a name not calculated to strike terror into the hearts of American league hitters. Yet this 25-year-old right-hander, recalled from the Richmond farm in early June, has saved the New York Yankees at a crucial stage.

The Yanks were moaning low Sunday after losing the first game of a doubleheader to Chicago 6-3. The White Sox came into town in second place and proceeded to win three straight from New York. One more defeat and the proud Yanks would have been three games back.

Desperate for pitching after the failures of Bob Turley, Whitey Ford and Jim Coates, the Yankees called on Grba. He came through with the first complete game of his brief major league career and his second victory over the White Sox, 8-2. As a result the White Sox lead was cut to one game. In fact, he has a total of four victories over two seasons in the majors and three of them have been at the expense of Chicago.

Baltimore sneaked into third place, three games back, by edging Detroit 2-1 in 11 innings on Jackie Brandt's fourth hit of the day. Boston dropped Cleveland into fourth place by taking two from the Indians who spent most of the day jawing with the umpires. The scores were 10-6 and 7-6.

Washington came within one error of a major league record by making five in the seventh inning while losing the first game to Kansas City 6-3. The Senators snapped back 10-2 behind Camilo Pascual.

The Yankee-White Sox double drew the season's largest Yankee Stadium crowd, 60,002. The fans saw Billy Pierce whip the Yanks in the first, with late inning relief help from Turk Lown and Frank Baumann as the sox pounded Yanks pitching for 12 hits, including Roy Sievers' 16th homer.

Grba went all the way in the second game while New York ruined Herb Score's comeback hopes by knocking him out in the fourth inning. Mickey Mantle hit his 24th homer off Russ Kemmerer, the first relief man, in the fifth.

Bill Monboquette and Mike Fornieles, working in relief of Frank Sullivan, were the Boston winners on a day of unorthodox developments at Fenway Park. Ted Williams beat out a bunt and Jimmy Piersall, fined $100 and called on the carpet for Saturday's argument, hid behind the flag-pole in center field during one of the many arguments between Indians and umps. Gary Bell and Jack Harshman were the Cleveland losers although the Red Sox were outhit in both games.

MacKay 'Clay' Champion; Heads Yanks to Mexico

The four-man squad of MacKay, Bernard (Tut) Bartzen, Chuck McKinley and Earl Buchholz, are to arrive in the Mexican capital tonight.

They will have nearly two weeks to get acclimated to the high altitude before opening the second round of American Zone Davis Cup competition.

The U. S. team trimmed Canada in the first round before arriving at the River Forest Tennis Club here, where the 21-year-old MacKay never was sharper in hammering down the mechanical Bartzen Sunday 4-6, 7-5, 6-4, 6-0 in the finals.

Bartzen, 32, noted as the best clay courts player around, was deprived of his third-straight national clay courts title by the heavy-hitting MacKay, who scored 15 service aces in the hour and 38 minute match.

In closing out with love-set, the 6-foot-4-inch MacKay had four aces and twice broke Bartzen's service in demolishing his opponent in 15 minutes.

"That last set was the best I ever played on clay, especially against an opponent like Bartzen," said Mackay. "All of us now are anxious to get to Mexico City and begin practice. The ball floats in that altitude and is harder to control."

Like the Canadian series, the second round in Mexico City also will be on clay.

Bartzen, a 5-8 southpaw, described MacKay as "a big fellow with a big game — when you face a windmill like that, everybody else looks small."

The women's title went to 35-year-old Mrs. Dorothy Head Knode for the fourth time. The 1951, 1958 chamnion defeated 19-year-old Gwyn Thomas of Shaker Heights, Ohio, 6-3, 6-3.

The Australian duo of Bob Hewitt and Marty Mulligan captured the doubles championship by downing Martin Riessen of Hinsdale, Ill. and Ramsey Earnhart, Ventura, Calif., 6-3, 6-2, 11-13, 6-4.

Gives Nixon Only Sneers; Poor Jack

By BOB CONSIDINE

CHICAGO—Even more disturbing to Jack Kennedy than the support of Frank Sinatra's Rat Pack must be the fact that Nikita Khrushchev seemingly looks with more favor on the senator's presidential cause than on the efforts of Dick Nixon.

The Soviet dictator, who injected himself rudely into the U. S. presidential picture, when he broke up the summit meeting and announced he'd have no further truck with Eisenhower, has spoken on several occasions of his desire to meet with the "next president."

Or the one after the next, if the next should invite him to go fly a kite.

In all probability there will be a confrontation of some sort between Khrushchev and the very next president. It will merge from the needs of the hour and the temper of feelings here and abroad, not from any wish by the next president to appease this fellow or from what personal preference Khrushchev may have.

It will not be born of his having campaigned for the winner. The Russian is realistic enough to know he cannot direct an American presidential election; that the American people will make up their own minds.

He thinks clearly enough also to figure out that any effort on his part to put over a preferred candidate he could deal with later on would cause millions of American voters to turn on that man, rightly or wrongly.

HE'S WARY

So he plays it warily. He guardedly praised Kennedy after an early Kennedy reaction to the U2 incident. In the early wake of that fiasco, Kennedy suggested President Eisenhower should apologize in order to save the summit. Later, he changed his mind. In the guarded salute to him, Khrushchev dourly concluded, however, that Kennedy was no better than anybody else in the race in that he was in favor of retaining our enormous and costly retaliatory forces.

Still, it sounded almost like a plug compared to Khrushchev's open contempt for Nixon, when it was suggested by President Eisenhower that his summit stay had to be limited, but he would deputize Nixon to sit in for him when he left. Khrushchev hit the ceiling, giving a good advance imitation eruption of Mt. Etna. Khrushchev said such a substitution was like sending a goat to mind a cabbage patch.

True, the trip had produced opening day fireworks at the RCA and model home exhibits at Moscow's American Exhibition, but the next day all was cozy and relaxed between the two at a boating party at Khrushchev's dacha.

Then Nixon took off for his swing through Leningrad, Novosibirsk and Sverdlovsk, and was neither helped nor harmed by K.

Nixon returned to Moscow and held forth for an hour on Soviet television and radio, unchallenged and uncensored — a remarkable speech in retrospect, in which he put the full onus of the cold war on the Soviets and Khrushchev personally.

Nixon left the following day. It appeared that his astonishing charges would go unanswered. But at the last moment Deputy Premier Frol Kozlov showed up at the airport ostensibly to bid the American farewell. Kozlov promptly launched into a 40-minute rebuttal and reiteration of the same acrid old charges of imperialism.

Later, Khrushchev blasted Nixon openly, and probably will continue to do so. The vice president's campaign for the presidency will be based in part on his claimed ability to "handle" Khrushchev.

There will be many posters showing his jabbing K's chest and ostensibly telling him off.

In his acceptance speech, on the other hand, Kennedy scoffed as rhetorical the Republicans' expected attacks on the Kremlin and asked the people instead if they are willing to put up with the sacrifices that marched the Soviet Union to its present stature.

This may well be the difference in the postures of the candidates regarding Khrushchev, a man who his heart of hearts, if he has one, must have grave misgivings as to whether he could handle either of the young Americans.

Illinois Center of Population, Census Shows

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new population center of the United States is in Meridan Township in Clinton County, Ill., the Census Bureau said Saturday.

That's 47 miles west and 12½ miles south of the old center near Louisville, Ill., which held the honor only briefly.

The 1950 census actually placed the center in a cornfield near Olney, Ill., but when Alaska and Hawaii entered the union, the Census Bureau did some refiguring and shifted it to Louisville.

The bureau defines the population center as the point on which the United States would balance if it were a rigid plane and all the people on it had equal weight.

Russian Ship Transports Relief Supplies to Congo

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet ship Leninogorsk left Odessa for Africa Sunday night loaded with relief supplies for the Congo. The vessel is carrying 9,000 tons of wheat, more than 1,000 tons of sugar and 300,000 cans of condensed milk, a Tass dispatch said.

Nixon-Rockefeller Agreement Draws Critics, Leaves Questions

By JAMES MARLOW

CHICAGO (AP) — Vice President Richard M. Nixon's sudden and secret journey to New York's Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller—just three days before the Republican convention opened here today—was a mixed blessing.

The two men reached what they called an agreement but it turned out to be an agreement with big holes in it. It looked like a shrewd political maneuver at first. But it may prove to have been a tactical error.

It seemed at first that Rockefeller had put Nixon in his pocket or that Nixon had the governor in his pocket. But now that isn't clear, either.

It got the governor off Nixon's back, at least temporarily, but it angered some Republicans. And Democrats in the upcoming presidential campaign will probably try to wrap the whole business around Nixon's neck.

Rockefeller, for months critical of Nixon and the Eisenhower administration, only last week here in Chicago indicated he might continue his criticism if the Republican platform's promises fell short of his desires.

* * *

This was gruesome news for Nixon, almost certain to be the Republican presidential nominee, since he will probably have to carry New York if he hopes to win the November election.

NEEDS ROCKY

He flew secretly from Washington to New York—apparently without consulting President Eisenhower or even his closest aides here in Chicago—to see the governor.

Rockefeller had complained repeatedly that Nixon wasn't taking either a clear enough or strong enough stand on some issues. Nixon therefore had had many weeks to reach an understanding with Rockefeller.

Why he waited to do so until almost the last minute before the convention is still a mystery. The obvious answer seems to be he felt he badly needed Rockefeller's support or was afraid the governor's continued criticism might ruin him.

In the end Rockefeller issued what both men called an agreement on "basic positions." But as Nixon later disclosed in a news conference there were some major gaps in that agreement which didn't show up in the text.

For example: while the agreement calls for strong defense efforts, Rockefeller feels the government should be spending immediately an additional 3½ billion dollars, Nixon didn't agree on that.

* * *

The agreement doesn't mention any money item. Neither does the defense plank approved Sunday by the party platform committee which has been working here a week.

ATTACKS DULLED

Rockefeller thinks major strikes should be settled by compulsory arbitration. Nixon doesn't agree. Neither did the platform committee in the labor plank it sanded and polished and presented to the public.

The sharp edge seemed to be removed from Rockefeller's attitude toward the platform—at least it appeared that way from his TV appearance Sunday—so the Nixonites may feel the vice president captured the governor.

But the very fact Nixon made what his critics may call a pilgrimage to the New Yorker may be interpreted as meaning the governor captured him and made him bow, to some extent, to Rockefeller's platform demands.

Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, a friend of Nixon but also a representative of the Republican extreme right, called Nixon's trip a "surrender" and a sellout to the "Republican left."

Some members of the platform committee showed anger at the idea that Nixon and Rockefeller between them should draw up an agreement which, in effect, could be taken as a demand on the committee to conform.

Some of this committee resentment bubbled out when its subcommittee on civil rights refused to go nearly so far as Nixon and Rockefeller agreed the party should go on this issue.

In the 1944 campaign Republicans made capital of a report that President Roosevelt left selection of his vice presidential running mate up to a labor leader, Sidney Hillman, by saying "clear it with Sidney."

This year it wouldn't be surprising if the Democrats try to turn this phrase around by jibing at Nixon that before he could start his campaign he had to "clear it with Rocky."

New York Tops Kennedy's List

As the party's presidential nominee, Kennedy has voiced deep concern lest factional feuds upset applecarts in his bid for New York's 45 electoral college votes, the nation's biggest block.

The conference ranked high in importance for this busy week in which Kennedy seeks to clear decks for the arrival of Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, the vice presidential nominee.

Through press secretary Pierre Salinger, Kennedy announced Sunday that Johnson will fly to Hyannis Port Aug. 1 or 2 to discuss plans for the campaign, and for the Congress session opening Aug. 8.

* * *

The two had been out of touch for several days while Johnson was on vacation in Mexico. Salinger said they talked at length by telephone Sunday and that Johnson "gave his support" to campaign plans Kennedy already has made from his summer home.

'Flower Drum' Actress Cely Carrillo Marries

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—Philippines actress Cely Carrillo and New York City businessman Antonio Onruiba were married Sunday.

Miss Carrillo, 26, said she will continue as featured player in the touring company of "Flower Drum Song." Onruiba, 33, will return to New York in three weeks.

Harriman Sees Rocky in Shrewd Move to Control

NEW YORK (AP) — The man who lost to Nelson A. Rockefeller in the 1958 New York gubernatorial election says he thinks he knows what Rockefeller is up to. Former Gov. W. Averell Harriman said Sunday Rockefeller acts as if he expects Vice President Richard M. Nixon to lose the presidential election. Rockefeller then would be out to take over the Republican party in 1964, Harriman speculated on a local television program.

Hoover to Be Honored

Lewis Won't Agree to Free Medical Care

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former United Mines Workers President John L. Lewis has bluntly refused to reverse a union order cutting off free medical care for miners out of work more than a year.

* * *

A delegation of local leaders from Western Pennsylvania's district two made a futile plea to Lewis, who is in charge of the Union Welfare Fund.

* * *

"He listened all right," Allen Cryle, secretary of the St. Michael, Pa., UMW Local, reported. "But he refused to do anything. He said it was a question of money."

Pilot Begins Final Flight

Russia Releases Body of Flier Who Died in RB47 Shooting

MOSCOW (AP)—With a prayer and a brief military farewell, the U. S. Embassy today sent home the body of the pilot of the RB47 reconnaissance plane the Soviet Union shot down July 1.

A Soviet medical certificate said the flier, Capt. Willard G. Palm of Oak Ridge, Tenn., drowned and that his body was found floating in the Barents Sea. The U. S. charge d'affaires, Edward L. Freers, refused to make the full report public because of "legal and political implications."

The body, in its rough wooden coffin, was formally transferred to American custody at a shabby, back-alley morgue. U. S. representatives did not open the coffin. They were told it also contained Palm's flying suit, his shoes and socks and his identification disc.

The embassy provided a station wagon to take the coffin to the airport, but the Russians said the law required it be carried in a refrigerated truck. Instead it was put on an open, canvas-topped Soviet army truck. Ten Soviet privates rode on the truck, and a cortege of American Embassy cars followed. The soldiers got off en route at a barracks.

At the airport eight uniformed officers of the embassy military staff draped an American flag over the coffin and carried it to saw horses set up beside the KLM plane flying it to Amsterdam.

As Freers stood beside him, Father Louis Dionne of Worcester, Mass., the Roman Catholic chaplain to Moscow's foreign colony, led the American military personnel and foreign correspondents in the Lord's Prayer. No representatives of the Soviet government or other embassies were present.

The embassy did not know Palm's religion, but Father Dionne officiated as the only American clergyman in Moscow.

Quoting from Zachariah, the priest intoned: "Delivered from the hands of our enemies, we should serve Him without fear and in holiness."

Johnson Sees Busy Congress

Won't Have Time for Electioneering When It Reconvenes Aug. 8

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — Lyndon B. Johnson, the Senate majority leader and Democratic vice-presidential candidate, says he does not believe Congress will be a sounding board for party platforms or a campaign stump to promote candidacies when it reconvenes Aug. 8.

He believes Congress will stick to its unfinished business and have a short, but productive session, the Texan told a news conference Sunday at his LBJ Ranch near here.

Republicans have been taunting the Democrats to enact laws putting their strong civil rights plank and other proposals adopted by the Democratic National Convention into effect during the upcoming session.

"A platform is drawn up for submission to the voters," Johnson said. "If the voters approve of it they will make their decision known in November and it is the duty of the party to carry out the decision in the following congress."

He reaffirmed his support of the Democratic party platform, saying "I intend to run on the platform."

Johnson, who returned Saturday night from a vacation in Acapulco, Mexico, talked by phone with the presidential nominee, Sen. John F. Kennedy of Massachussetts.

He said he and Kennedy will discuss Congres' work and campaign plans when they confer at Hyannis Port, Mass., Aug. 1 or 2.

He announced that he ha speaking engagements at Nashville, Tenn., July 30; at Montecello, Iowa, July 31; and will go to Oklahoma Cty Aug. 5 for festivities in connection with a new book published by Sen. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma. He plans to go direct from Oklahoma City to Washington.

Johnson also said he and Kennedy had agreed on an early visit to Hawaii.

Johnson is a candidate for re-election to the Senate as well as for vice president in November.

He was asked when he would resign as senator if he is elected vice president.

"I think Texas would want its senator to serve until just before the inauguration. I haven't given it much consideration, but I would think in view of world conditions, Texas would not want to be without a senator for any length of time," he replied.

Just Another Face in the Crowd

Where's That 'Old Shoe' Joe Martin?

By LYLE C. WILSON

CHICAGO (UPI)—Missing and almost unaccounted for in this Republican National Convention is the head man of other years — Rep. Joseph W. Martin Jr.

Joe will be here, of course. But where? Joe will be sitting somewhere in the Massachusetts delegation, a delegate-at-large, true enough, but no more than an obscure spear carrier in this big political show.

Joe Martin is the only man who ever presided five times running over National Conventions as permanent chairman. It doesn't seem right, somehow, for Joe Martin to be sitting down there among the extras at a time like this.

His first fling as presiding officer of a Republican National Convention was in 1940. Philadelphia was the place and the year was that one in which the Republicans were stampeded into the nomination of a recently-reformed Democrat as their presidential nominee.

Martin broke a cluster of gavels trying to keep order in that political brawl. The gallery guests heeded him not. They were packed and perspiring and, for hours on end, they bawled: "We Want Willkie."

They bawled so long and loudly that the Republicans began to believe they themselves wanted Willkie. Before long, he had kidnaped the nomination and was gone.

In 1944-48-52-56, Martin again was permanent chairman. He served a hitch as Republican National Committee Chairman in the early 1940's and he served variously as Republican leader and speaker of the house, 1939-58. Joe Martin deserved well of the Republican Party, but the verdict passed on him was as coldly impersonal as a jury summons.

CAST ASIDE

The House Republicans turned Martin out as Republican leader at the start of the present session of Congress in January 1959. Rep. Charles A. Halleck of Indiana led that rebellion against Martin's leadership and won the prize for himself.

That the leadership went to Halleck could have been, for Martin, the cruellest cut. Martin and others accuse Halleck of a double cross in the 1948 Republican National Convention.

Halleck was leader of the Indiana delegation and was counted a substantial member of the forces organized that year to prevent the nomination of Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

With no warning to his stop-Dewey friends, Halleck announced that Indiana would cast its votes for the New York governor. Halleck thought he had Dewey's promise of the vice presidential nomination. Dewey won the top spot but passed Halleck over for second place.

Everybody was angry after that, anr none angrier than Joe Martin. Halleck finally emerged from everybody's dog house with a lift from President Eisenhower. As assistant house Republican leader, Halleck became the most active house advocate of whatever Eisenhower wanted.

Halleck went to bat for Ike, sometimes, when Joe Martin didn't. After six years as a White House favorite, Halleck felt strong enough in 1959 to oust Martin from the House leadership.

House Republicans cast Martin aside like a cigarette butt, almost breaking the old warrior's heart. Joe charges Ike and vice President Richard M. Nixon with responsibility for bringing him down, and that probably is correct.

To be passed over for the permanent chairmanship of this convention is just another indignoty for Joe Martin. He's used to that by now. But the hurt lingers on.

Long Stay in the Congo Appears Ahead for U. N.

An authoritative on-the-spot assessment of the Congo situation has suggested that the United Nations force now being established there may have to stay several years to keep the peace.

This is the price for near-total unpreparedness of the country for self-rule and independence. The U.N. force's presence will be required to prevent dangerous flare-ups between Congolese and Europeans, and even more so among the Congolese themselves.

Under the U.N.'s protective shield, the country may calm down and build up a civil service and proper government institutions.

The projected U.N. force necessary to do the job effectively is estimated at between 15,000 and 17,000 men.

BONN VIEWS U.S.

Insiders in the West German capital of Bonn say Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is rather indifferent as to the winner of the coming U.S. presidential elections. However, the 84-year-old chancellor is intensely interested in the next secretary of state.

He likes Secretary of State Christian Herter who he believes has inherited the unyielding spirit of John Foster Dulles. He fears a man who might reach a soft settlement on Berlin.

NIKITA BLUFFING?

Herter's assertion that Khrushchev was bluffing in his threat to send combat troops to the Congo, has its strange counterpart in Communist East Berlin.

There, Soviet diplomats have hinted he also was bluffing in his threat to sign a separate peace treaty with East Germany if the West German Parliament meets in West Berlin in September.

FORMOSA MISSILES:

Nationalist China, the only nation to which the United States has entrusted a full Nike-Hercules missile battalion, soon will fire the anti-aircraft guided missile over Formosan waters for the first time.

This comes from high level sources in Taipei, who say that the Nationalists will invite top Allied military commanders to Formosa to witness the shoot.

The U.S. rushed four Nike launchers to Formosa during the 1958 Quemoy crisis and later gave them to the Chinese. But the missiles never have been fired by the Chinese.

Immigrant Service Sets Deport Hearing Thursday

WASHINGTON - (UPI) - The immigration service has scheduled a deportation hearing at Atlanta Federal Penitentiary Thursday for Vito Genovese, one-time kingpin of eastern racketeers.

Genovese, 63 years old, is serving a 15-year sentence at Atlanta as a result of his conviction in New York last year as a top man in an international narcotics ring.

Genovese came to this country from his native Italy as a young man and became a naturalized American. However, he was stripped of this citizenship in a justice department proceeding in Newark, N. J., in 1955.
