Cabinet Member Will Attend Paris Confab Then Fly to Viet Nam

LONDON (AP) — Robert S. McNamara, U.S. secretary of defense talked over European defense and nuclear problems at luncheon today with Prime Minister Harold Wilson and top figures of the British government.

Among other things, McNamara is investigating the prospects for reaching agreements with the Soviet Union to halt the spread of nuclear weapons without antagonizing the West Germans.

McNamara arrived here from Washington early today.

He will go to Paris to attend the meeting there Saturday of North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense ministers. He then flies to Saigon, South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Informed sources said talks at today's luncheon at No. 10 Downing St. were in the context of European defense and antidissemination of nuclear weapons and did not apparently deal with Britain's own defense review.

WAS ACCOMPANIED

McNamara was accompanied by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and John T. Naughton, the assistant secretary of state for international security affairs.

Before lunching with Wilson, McNamara met Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart and Defense Minister Renis Healey.

McNamara and his party arrived at London airport shortly before the West German defense minister, Kai-Uwe Von Hassel, was due to depart for Paris.

He has been having talks with Denis Healey and Fred Mulley, deputy secretary for defense and minister of defense for the army.

CURRENT ISSUES

American sources said McNamara and his team hoped to discuss some of the current issues in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, including the ways in which both the United States and Britain would contribute to strengthening the alliance cooperation in the field of nuclear policy.

Hospital Cancels 2 Doctors' Privileges

Two doctors at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital have been barred from administering anesthetics pending the outcome of an investigation into the deaths of three patients.

Both anesthesiologists, they are Dr. Stanley E. Abrams, 42, of West Bloomfield Township and Dr. Lloyd Goodwin, 52, of Pleasant Ridge.

Harry H. Whitlow, hospital administrator, said today that both men have had their hospital privileges canceled, "but they have not been suspended."

Abrams, of 7127 Brookridge, has been linked with the deaths, according to an investigator who questioned him at length Wednesday in the prosecutor's office.

The investigator said Abrams had told him he had drained ether from an anesthetic machine into a bottle "but doesn't remember what kind of bottle he used or if he disposed of it."

An eight-year-old girl died a week ago yesterday and a 12-year-old boy and a 24-year-old mother of two died last Friday after receiving injections of ether from a bottle believed to contain another anesthetic, Surital.

★ ★ ★

The bottle was marked Surital and did contain a small quantity of the drug.

The victims were Kimberly Ann Bruneel, 2599 Ivanhoe, West Bloomfield Township; William M. Ketchum, 250 W. Webster, Ferndale; and Mrs. Gerald Covington, 236 Roland.

They, along with two other patients, received injections of ether prior to surgery. One of the other patients, a woman, was in critical condition for a while but is now satisfactory. The other suffered no ill effects and has been released.

The surviving patients apparently received a mixture of the Surital that was still in the bottle when the ether was added, according to investigators.

Seek Tighter Coroner Setup

Bronson, Levin Will Air Alternative Plans

State Sen. Sander M. Levin, D-Berkley, will meet with Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson Monday to discuss alternative proposals to strengthen the coroner system in Oakland County.

Renewed interest has flared in the alleged inadequacies of the present system because of the three unexpected deaths which occurred last week at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Bronson has reemphasized his position that a full-time medical examiner is needed in Oakland County.

Levin said he has finished a series of meetings with a representative of the Legislative Service Bureau in Lansing to review its comprehensive research on the problem, which was started at his request earlier this year.

JOINS MEETING

According to Levin, Dr. Richard Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, is expected to join him in his 10 a.m. meeting with Bronson.

Olsen has advocated a new system using the services of a full-time, trained pathologist to investigate unusual deaths in the county, said Levin.

Olsen's position has won the support of the Oakland County Medical Society, Levin said.

One alternative proposal would call for a county the size of Oakland to possess the facilities of a morgue, either directly or in conjunction with another county, added Levin.

"The statues governing coroner systems in Michigan are complex, but a number of cases in Oakland County demonstrate that we must pierce the complexities to make sure the public is protected."

Levin said the cases included the recent deaths at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and the Carl F. Foster murder trial.

In the Foster case, an autopsy on his first wife a year after her death led to his conviction of first degree murder. Dr. Olsen performed the autopsy.

British Drive Seeks N-Pact, Viet Peace

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson pushed ahead today with a concerted diplomatic drive for a world nuclear pact and for a way to end the war in Viet Nam.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart flies to Moscow Monday to probe the Soviet Union's terms for a world pact to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

At the same time Stewart will seek to get the Soviet Union to join Britain and reconvene the 1954 Geneva Conference which settled the French-Indochina fighting and divided the former French colony into Cambodia, Laos and North and South Viet Nam. Britain and the Soviet Union were cochairmen of the conference.

Wilson's aims in the field of nuclear weapons were disclosed last night by high British sources.

His preparations for Viet Nam peace soundings were announced by the prime minister in the House of Commons.

When Wilson goes to Washington to meet President Johnson Dec. 17, he hopes to be able to put before the President the first results of British probings of Moscow's views.

As far as the Viet Nam war is concerned, Wilson made it clear to the House of Commons that he believes the Communist regime in North Viet Nam remains the major stumbling block to the holding of any peace conference.

★ ★ ★

He said the peace soundings to be made in Moscow and Washington have the aim of staving off "a major war in Asia, or worse."

France Orbits Its 1st Satellite

3-Stage Rocket Lofts 83-Pound Payload

PARIS (UPI) — France today put its first satellite into orbit. The launching boosted France into the space age along with the United States and Russia.

An official announcement said a three-stage, 18-ton Diamond rocket took aloft and placed into orbit the A-1 space capsule at 2:47 p.m. (9:47 a.m. EST.)

The satellite, which was to have been launched on the Algerian desert last Monday, was delayed by sandstorms and technical difficulties. It is an 83.7 pound capsule.

France, under prodding by President Charles de Gaulle, already had manufactured an atomic bomb and hopes to test its first hydrogen bomb soon in the Pacific Ocean.

★ ★ ★

French technicians built supersonic planes to deliver the planes as part of de Gaulle's "force frappe" (striking force) but were ordered to develop rockets capable of carrying the bombs.

3-STAGE ROCKET

The answer was the three-stage Diamond rocket which carried the satellite aloft today.

The launching was delayed when trouble developed in the fuel pumping system of the rocket's second stage.

The official announcement said:

"On Nov. 26, 1965, at 1547 hours (10:47 a.m. EST) the Diamond rocket was launched from the Hammaguir Base in the Sahara and the A-1 satellite was placed in orbit as planned.

★ ★ ★

"The satellite launcher functioned normally. The tracking of the satellite by the Aquitaine radar has established the following elements of its trajectory: apogee 1,768 kms (1,097.7 miles), perigee 528 kms (327.8 miles). The time of revolution: 1 hour 48 minutes."

Russia orbited the first "Sputnik" Oct. 4, 1957, and was followed on Jan. 31, 1958, by the United States.

N-Carrier Will Join Naval Force off Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The aircraft carrier Enterprise, which runs on nuclear power, will soon join the U.E. 7th Fleet ships that launch daily air raids against North Viet Nam, a reliable military source said today.

Elsewhere, giant B52 bombers supported a big allied drive in the Vo Dat Valley northeast of Saigon to keep Communist guerrillas away from a vital rice harvest.

South Vietnamese government irregulars killed 22 Viet Cong in a clash near Ban Me Thout today as fighting spread to the normally quiet part of South Viet Nam.

The torrid pace of war in recent days was tapering off and the U.S. command headquarters in the 2nd and 3rd Corps area said yesterday and today were the quietest days in November.

The 7th Fleet destroyer Orleck hammered land targets in the 1st Corps area, firing 700 rounds at 19 different targets. They included Viet Cong assembly points and weapons emplacements.

IN AIR WAR

In the air war against North Viet Nam, U.S. Navy and Air Force planes destroyed a communications site near Dien Bien Phu, a group of 22 fighters further east, and dropped the span of a bridge 105 miles west of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman reported.

The U.S. Navy announced in Manila that the Enterprise and another nuclear-powered ship, the guided missile frigate Bainbridge, joined the 7th Fleet today.

The announcement did not say where they would be deployed but the source in Saigon said the Enterprise will pull into position near the land border between North and South Viet Nam. It will be the first combat test of a nuclear-powered ship, he added.

★ ★ ★

The daily U.S. Navy air raids that the Enterprise will be supporting are bombing attacks using conventional weapons.

NO ESCALATION

Military sources emphasized that the move does not mean any escalation of the Viet Nam war, nor does it suggest that nuclear arms will be introduced into the war.

Romney Urges Gifts for GIs

Wants Presents Sent to Troops in Viet Nam

LANSING (AP)— "Operation Michigan Christmas in Viet Nam," a statewide volunteer effort to shower gifts upon Michigan soldiers in Viet Nam, was announced today by Gov. George Romney.

★ ★ ★

Romney is asking for the name of every Michigan soldier in Viet Nam.

Business, industry and agriculture are being asked to contribute goods and money and organized labor is being asked to advise on the packing and movement of goods.

Romney said he had learned on his recent trip to South Viet Nam that "several thousand Michigan boys are members of our armed forces there and will spend this Christmas thousands of miles away from home, many of them on the front lines of defense.

★ ★ ★

"Since returning, I have sought some manner of indicating to these sons of Michigan that their state has not forgotten them and will be especially thinking of them during the holiday season.

GIFT PACKAGE

"I have determined that this can be accomplished by sending a representative gift package to every Michigan GI we can identify and locate in South Viet Nam."

★ ★ ★

The governor asked that anyone knowing "of a Michigan man or woman who is presently serving in the U.S. Military Advisory Command, Viet Nam, please send me his or her name immediately. It is imperative that we receive all names before Friday, Dec. 3."

Names, he said, should be mailed to Christmas in Viet Nam, care of George Romney, State Capitol, Lansing, Mich.

Eisenhower Continues Smooth Recuperation

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower continued smooth recuperation today and his doctors said they were discontinuing daily reports on his condition.

The last bulletin from Walter Reed Army Hospital said attending physicians are pleased with Eisenhower's improvement from a heart attack.

Says Flint Senator

Survey Hits Income Tax

LANSING (AP)—State Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, said yesterday survey responses by about 640 voters in his district indicate "an overwhelming majority of Michigan residents" see no need for a state income tax now.

"I admit this is only the sentiment of the people I represent, but they are the average people and they are the ones who are most affected by comprehensive changes in the tax structure," Lane said.

Lane, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said he mailed a questionnaire to 10,000 voters in his district in mid-October.

He said there were 547 no votes to 48 yes votes on the question: "Are you in favor of Republican Gov. George Romney's income tax?"

★ ★ ★

There also were 416-141 against reducing taxes on business, he said, and 555 persons believed they would pay more under the Romney-backed tax plan, compared to 48 who felt they would not.

Rhodesia's Smith Blames Sabotage for Explosion

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI)—An explosion early today wrecked an electric power pylon and blacked out the rich copper belt in neighboring Zambia. Rhodesia's rebel Premier Ian Smith called it sabotage and said it could have been caused by Communists, "Chinese or otherwise."

The explosion around 2 a. m. destroyed a tower on the line from the Kariba Dam power complex to Kitwe in northern Zambia and interrupted copper belt supplies. The dam is on the Zambesi River which forms the border between Rhodesia and Zambia.

A government statement said electricity supplies to the Zambian capital of Lusaka had not been affected and about 75 per cent of copper belt needs were now being met with power generated by coal and from neighboring Congo.

Smith said he was "extremely sorry to hear of such sabotage" and deplored the damage to Zambia he said "can do no one any good."

Smith said Rhodesian Justice Minister Desmonde Lardner Burke warned Zambian President Kennedy Kaunda only yesterday that "by harboring saboteurs in his country he was running the danger of such people using their subversive training against Zambia and the Zambian government."

JUST WHAT HAPPENED

"This is precisely what has happened," Smith said. "People are attempting to step up trouble and to dislocate the economy of Zambia, hoping they can pin the blame on Rhodesia.

He said the explosion obviously was the work of fairly sophisticated persons.

Speculate Tshombe May Return

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — There was speculation today that Moise Tshombe may be called back to the government now that his rival, Joseph Kasavubu, has been ousted from the presidency in a bloodless coup.

Tshombe supporters hailed the coup by Lt. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, who declared himself president Thursday for the next five years.

Mobutu, the army commander, seized power from Kasavubu and ousted Kasavubu's handpicked premier, Evariste Kimba.

The army "believes its responsibility is to protect the people from anarchy and chaos," Mobutu said.

SWUNG AWAY

A friend of the West, Mobutu apparently believed Kasavubu had swung away from a pro-Western policy.

Kasavubu fired Tshombe as premier Oct. 13, apparently fearing the popular figure as a rival in a presidential election then set for next year. But Tshombe and his supporters in Parliament defeated Kimba, his replacement, on Kimba's first vote of confidence Nov. 14.

Kasavubu asked Kimba to try to form a new government, but political observers believed Kimba, planned to delay naming his Cabinet until after the scheduled Parliament recess Dec. 6.

Then he would not have to face another confidence vote until March.

'Gas Seepage Caused Blast'

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP) — Officials agree that seeping gas ripped apart a National Guard armory in a fiery explosion killing seven people — but they don't known how it got into the building or what touched it off.

The blast turned a lighthearted Thanksgiving Eve square dance into a nightmare of death and pain. A survivor said it was "like a bomb going off."

Forty-four persons were hospitalized with burns and about 30 of them were in critical condition.

Iowa Adjutant General Junior Miller and State Fire Marshal Wilbur Johnson explored the wrecked building yesterday.

They said they agreed with local officials that an accumulation of gas had burst the building with terrific force and searing heat.

Power Failure Darkens 200 Cass Lake Homes

About 200 homes on the north shore of Cass Lake in West Bloomfield Township were without electricity for about three hours yesterday because of a power failure.

A spokesman for Detroit Edison Co. said the electricity was off from 12:30 to 3:20 p.m. because of failure of a line voltage regulator.

Pontiac Hospitals Face Critical Nurse Shortage

By L. GARY THORNE

"Is there a nurse in the house?"

Pontiac hospital officials report a chronic shortage of them — especially highly trained registered nurses.

The need is a lingering one.

It dates back about five years, according to Pontiac General Hospital Administrator Harold B. Euler.

★ ★ ★

Often the nursing shortage is critical.

• Pontiac General's intensive care unit had to be closed for three weeks this summer because of a shortage of nursing personnel.

• Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital has 78 beds that are not in use and have not been in use for about two years because of the nursing shortage.

TOTAL NEEDED

Pontiac General, Pontiac Osteopathic and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital need a total of 74 registered nurses and 44 practical nurses.

One method of combatting the nursing shortage has been through the use of part-time nurses.

Pontiac Osteopathic employs 15-20 part-time registered nurses.

Pontiac General has 79 part-time R.N.'s, and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital has 57.

PRACTICAL NURSES

Local hospitals also need more practical nurses. Officials at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital report they need 15 more, while Pontiac General needs 29 more.

However, local hospital spokesmen are particularly concerned with the shortage of the highly trained registered nurses.

The three hospitals offer competitive salaries.

★ ★ ★

"We have to, in order to get nurses," said one official.

REGISTERED NURSES

Pontiac General needs 11 more R. N.'s, while St. Joseph's needs 23 and Pontiac Osteopathic requires about 40 more such nurses.

On the basis of its 401 beds, Pontiac General should have 132 full-time registered nurses and 144 practical nurses.

Instead, there are 83 full-time registered nurses, 79 part-time (equal to 38 full-time) and 115 full-time practical nurses.

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital requires 136 full-time R.N.'s and 84 practical nurses.

TOTAL NURSES

The hospital has 84 full-time R.N.'s, 57 part-time (equal to 29 full-time) and 69 full-time practical nurses.

Currently Pontiac Osteopathic has about 15 part-time and 45 full-time R.N.'s and 42 full-time practical nurses. This in effect, equals 52 full-time R.N.'s where 92 could be utilized.

There are two rays of hope for the local nursing shortage.

★ ★ ★

One is Oakland Community College and the other is the projected Michigan College of Osteopathy in Pontiac.

2-YEAR PROGRAM

The former institution has instituted a two-year nursing program.

The osteopathic college, when it begins operations, will turn out not only doctors but also the auxiliary personnel, such as nurses necessary in the healing profession.

★ ★ ★

Hoepfully these two schools will be able to eventually ease the shortage of nurses.

★ ★ ★

Figures below show the number of registered nurses at Pontiac's three hospitals, the number needed and the deficit. The figures include part-time personnel calculated on a full-time basis.

Law Enforcement Training Plan Will Be Outlined to Officials

A proposed countywide law enforcement training program and its budgetary requirements will be outlined Wednesday to officials of county governmental units.

The 7:30 a.m. breakfast meeting at the supervisors' auditorium in the courthouse was called by the special committee created by the County Board of Supervisors to study enforcement problems.

Police chiefs and heads of city, township and village governmental units from across the county have been invited.

The study committee on law enforcement problems was established in September at the suggestion of Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore to determine how police can perform at maximum efficiency in the face of present restrictive laws.

Early in its series of meeting the committee decided that more police training is necessary.

GUIDELINES

Tentative budgets and curriculum guidelines for a proposed countywide training program was introduced at the committee's Nov. 3 meeting.

Since income in the proposed budget hinges on the extent of participation by county law enforcement units, the committee called Wednesday's general meeting to present its proposal.

Expenditures in one suggested budget ranged from $26,700 to $34,700 and another pinpointed outlay at $31,608.

GIVEN TO BRONSON

Whitlow said all information received from his administrative investigation has been turned over to Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

★ ★ ★

Whitlow declined to name the responsible person, and Bronson says he will not release any information on the statements until the investigation is completed.

Bronson explained today that if his office singled out any individual at this point in the investigation "it might imply that some criminal action is involved, and we just don't know if that is the case.

"If anyone wants to name names at this time, I think the information should come from the hospital," he said.

David C. Pence, the hospital's attorney, commented on the likelihood that the hospital would take action if the investigation disclosed negligence on the part of anyone on the hospital staff.

"It will be dealt with as it should," said Pence. "The hospital's action will be based on what the prosecutor finds and the degree of fault discovered."

Dies at Pontiac Police Station

A 49-year-old man, apparently suffering from hallucinations, died late yesterday afternoon at the Pontiac police station, shortly after he had been taken into custody by officers.

Dead is James K. Roberts, 49, of 76 Fairgrove, an employe of Pontiac Motor Division.

Roberts died at the station despite efforts of Pontiac firemen to revive him.

Dr. Richard Olsen performed an autopsy this morning which he called "unsatisfactory."

Dr. Bernard Berman, Oakland County health director, said preliminary results were quite inconclusive and that further tests would be forthcoming.

Says Survey Hits State Income Tax

Lane said the return was 3 per cent lower than the normal 10 per cent for such surveys, indication "the general public knows our state is in good financial condition."

Lane pointed to a treasury surplus of $135 million reported last July and said, "People feel, as I always have contended, that it's unethical, immoral and even illegal to impose and collect new taxes when there is money in the bank for some time to come."

LeMay Views Viet Handling

'Would Tell Hanoi to Halt Tactics or Else'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who argues that it is immoral to use less force than necessary in warfare, says he would handle the present Viet Nam conflict by telling the Hanoi regime:

"They have got to draw in their horns and stop their aggression, or we are going to bomb them back into the stone age."

The four-star Air Force general, in his autobiography, "Mission With LeMay," writes that he was "all by myself" more than three years ago when as air chief of staff he advocated attacking North Viet Nam.

"Then the Marines came around to agreeing with me," the general says, "and we were together in the opinion.

BEGAN TO SEE

"Then, two or three months before I retired, the Army and the Navy began to see what we were talking about."

He said that finally the entire Joint Chiefs of Staff "recommended the northern approach."

LeMay's account of his 35-year career includes a firm endorsement of the use of all the force necessary and available to defeat an enemy.

"Actually," the general writes, "I think it's more immoral to use less force than necessary, than it is to use more. If you use less force, you kill off more of humanity in the long run, because you are merely protracting the struggle."

McNamara, British Chief View Issues

Saturday which is expected to be attended by about 10 of the 15 defense ministers, is the outcome of a recommendation last May by McNamara.

He suggested that a select committee of four or five alliance members should be created to discuss nuclear matters.

The original concept has given way to what is now called a special committee with a larger membership.

NUCLEAR PLANNING

It will study ways of improving consultations and extending allied participation in nuclear planning and will make an interim report to the meeting of the full North Atlantic Council administrative level in Paris in December.

Before leaving Washington, McNamara told newsmen, "You can expect increasing emphasis" on the bombing operations against the North Vietnamese infiltration routes in South Viet Nam.

When asked why he was going to Viet Nam, McNamara replied that since he and Wheeler were last there, "U.S. forces there have been almost tripled in strength."

Offer $500 Reward in Deer Deaths

Mrs. Alfred G. Wilson, prominent area philanthropist, is offering a $500 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the parties responsible for the death of four of her pet deer.

Three of the deer, including a white doe and a black doe, were found dead yesterday at Meadow Brook Farm, 480 S. Adams, Avon Township. A fourth was so badly wounded it had to be destroyed this morning.

A fifth deer had been wounded but is still at large on the farm, Mrs. Wilson said.

One of the deer had been wounded by gunfire and then killed by dogs, according to Mrs. Wilson. A fawn was killed by dogs and the others had been shot.

Michigan Department of Conservation officials have been notified of the incident, Mrs. Wilson said.

Police Chief Joins In to Criticize Prosecutor

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Police Chief Norman H. Dehnke has joined Township Justice of the Peace Mrs. Alice Gilbert in criticism of the Oakland County prosecutor's handling of lower court cases.

In a letter to County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson, Dehnke refers to the "very serious situation" arising from the prosecutor's boycott of Mrs. Gilbert's court.

The justice of the peace and the prosecutor are involved in a dispute over the central court established in Pontiac for county justices of the peace.

Mrs. Gilbert refused to use the courtroom, which had been devised by Bronson.

SUIT PENDING

She countered with a Circuit Court suit which still is pending before Judge Clark J. Adams.

Meanwhile, law enforcement in the township is suffering, according to Dehnke.

He said in the letter written Tuesday that too many officers are being kept out of service by appearances before "various judges throughout the county."

"This morning alone saw the township with only one car in service," Dehnke reported. "The remaining three were transporting prisoners from the various courts."

HAULING PRISONERS

The problem Tuesday was that police took three defendants to the office of West Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Christian F. Powell, picked up another three at the county jail in Pontiac, took two of these to Powell and one to Mrs. Gilbert and then returned all to either the Township Hall or the county jail.

"This situation probably could have been eliminated with some cooperation from members of your staff," Dehnke told Bronson.

The chief said he asked that these cases be referred to Mrs. Gilbert but that he was told it was impossible.

★ ★ ★

Besides leaving only one patrol car to cover 25 square miles, the situation Tuesday brought a delay in justice to the point where one defendant's attorney was threatening to obtain a court order for release of the man.

SILENCE BROKEN

Dehnke said his silence on the central court matter had been broken by the problems caused by the prosecutor's orders.

"I can see no benefit to this department or the township in your plans for one central court, especially when this plan takes the needed manpower from the road and places it in an isolated court where on two occasions the officers have sat for some two to three hours before they were called," he wrote.

Dehnke noted his letter was a formal request that the prosecutor's staff honor the wishes of Bloomfield Township police so that a case can be handled "conveniently and with dispatch and also without our citizens suffering the loss of protection."

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Dr. Norman D. Newell, an award winner in the fields of marine biology, paleontology and geology, will present an illustrated lecture on "Coral Reefs of Tropical Seas" at 8:15 tonight in Cranbrook School Auditorium.

The lecture by the chairman of the department of fossil invertebrates at the American Museum of Natural History is sponsored by Cranbrook Institute of Science.

Guest tickets are available at the door.

Dr. Newell has led many expeditions to remote places, including the atoll of Kon Tiki fame, Raroia.

Yank Said Dominican Rebels' Target

WASHINGTON (AP) — A defector from the rebel forces in Santo Domingo says the group has plans to assassinate U.S. Ambassador W. Tapley Bennett Jr., "sabotage the whole Dominican Republic" and take control of the country.

★ ★ ★

Juan Isidro Tapia, 24, said in testimony released today by the Senate Internal Security subcommittee that some bombings were carried out after a new government took office last September. The bombings, he said, had been planned early in the April revolution.

Tapia said he served the rebels as a commando captain and decided to defect when he became convinced the rebels were not seeking a return to constitutional government, but a Communist-style take-over of the country.

The plan to kill Bennett, he said, involves putting a time bomb in the ambassador's automobile. Rebel plotters, he added, have expert technicians — some of them trained in guerrilla camps of Fidel Castro's Communist Cuba — to carry out such an assignment.

SMUGGLED OUT

Tapia testified that weapons were smuggled out of Santo Domingo into provincial towns for use after the general sabotage began in Santo Domingo. Most of the weapons were moved out of the rebel zone in the capital through checkpoints controlled by U.S. or Brazilian forces of the inter-American peace force, the witness said.

He said the weapons were hidden in gasoline tank trucks, ambulances, trucks and automobiles.

Tapia said the sabotage plan included the bombing of two theaters in the rebel zone, "just to blame the aggression on the United States or the loyal forces" of the Dominican Republic.

Other plans, he added, included the bombing of bridges, highways, power plants and places frequented by U.S. troops.

The witness said the June 14 party, which he described as pro-Castro Communists, became powerful in the rebel movement. By mid-June, he said, the regime's president, Col. Francisco A. Caamano, had lost control of the rebel forces.

Tapia testified that Caamano hurriedly signed an agreement with a three-nation peace team sent to the country by the Organization of American States in fear that the Communists would take over before the agreement could be put into effect.

Independence Rezoning Request

Hearing on Disputed Junk Yard Dec. 7

By HUDSON WILLSE

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—A controversial rezoning request for establishment of an automobile junk yard will be given a hearing Dec. 7.

It's a foregone conclusion that there will be fireworks aplenty before the township board passes judgment on Jean J. Roy's proposed junk yard on White Lake Road, about two miles from Clarkston.

"We expect at least 200 persons will be here," said Township Clerk Howard Altman, who prefers to offer no official opinion until the hearing.

Independence Township is mostly residential. What little industry it has is concentrated in a portion of Section 31 in the extreme southwest corner. There are no sewer and water systems.

* * *

The proposed junk yard would be located in the area where four townships, Independence, Waterford, Springfield and White Lake converge.

SOME SUPPORT

Although Roy has some support, he apparently is far outnumbered by the opposition as indicated at recent meetings.

Nonetheless, the township planning commission unanimously recommended approval of the proposal.

Roy seeks to have the entire 15.7-acre site—purchased seven months ago for $18,500—rezoned from suburban farms to manufacturing-2. However, only about half of the land would be used for a junk yard, according to the proposed agreement.

* * *

The site is situated near the Grand Trunk Western Railroad crossing on White Lake Road between Dixie Highway and Andersonville Road.

MANUFACTURING

Most of the land in the immediate area is presently zoned manufacturing-2. The area includes a Standard Oil bulk station, the Ann Arbor Construction Co., an old coal yard, other manufacturing buildings and six homes.

The proposed agreement makes it mandatory — if the junk yard is approved — for Roy to install fencing and a greenbelt around the property so none of the operation is visible from any public highway.

"Definitely impossible!" says Terry L. Kelley, a spokesman for Jack's Green Lake Subdivision, where 65 families reportedly are violently opposed to the junk yard.

* * *

The subdivision is situated six-tenths of a mile north of Roy's property.

NO CONCEALMENT

Kelly of 6952 Tappon contends that a hill on nearby Clement Road would make it impossible to conceal the junk cars unless a roof is constructed over the yard.

"So this is a very important flaw in the agreement for which he would have to come up with some type of solution," Kelley said.

He insists that opposition prevails throughout the township and that people "dread the possibility of ever permitting this type of operation in the township."

The 23-year-old co-owner of the Clarkston Lumber Co. said the operation would plague nearby residents and lower property values.

He pointed out that White Lake Road is a primary highway with easy access to the village of Clarkston. "This is not an out-of-the-way place where they are trying to put this," he said.

Roy, owner of Roy Brothers Standard Service at 6765 Dixie, wholeheartedly disagrees.

"This definitely is the only place in the township for a junk yard," he said.

* * *

HALT ORDERED

However, the township board ordered a halt to the operation Oct. 7, giving Roy until next Tuesday to clear out his cars.

"Where am I going to move them?" asks Roy. "You've got to have a spot for these things. I'm waiting for someone to tell me where to take them."

Roy, who also operates a service station in Waterford Township, believes if the junk yard is allowed, 80 per cent of the junk car problem in Independence Township will be solved.

It has been mentioned that if Roy is turned down, he might attempt to purchase a parcel of land across the street from the proposed yard, already zoned manufacturing-2.

NO COMMENT

Roy declined to comment on this conjecture.

Altman disclosed that the township board will soon consider adoption of a broader, more up-to-date junk yard ordinance, which would provide more control over such an operation, if allowed.

The ordinance would include controls over noise and smoke and would limit hours of operation from 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

2 Communities Slate Parades

Milford, Oxford Yule Events Tomorrow

Santa Claus will get the Christmas season under way tomorrow in two area communities, with parades scheduled in Milford and Oxford.

* * *

The Milford parade will begin at 10 a.m. at Johnson School, marching east on Washington to Main, north to Commerce and west to the American Legion Hall.

Santa will leave the parade at the corner of Main and Commerce to go to his headquarters in the civic room of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland.

There he will visit with youngsters until noon.

* * *

With Village Manager J. Stuart Brophy as parade marshall, other participants will include village officials, the Milford and Hartland high school bands, Detroit Edison's caliope, floats, Smoky the Bear, an Army recruiting drill team, Civil Air Patrol members, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and the Milford Fire Department.

STARTS AT 2:30

At Oxford, the parade will start at 2:30 p.m. at Homer High Motors, Inc. and will proceed north on Washington to the junior high school.

After the parade, Santa Claus will greet youngsters in the Village Park until 5:30 p.m. and from 6:30 to 8 p.m.

* * *

He will also be in his park headquarters from 6:30 to 8 p.m., Dec. 3, 10, 17, 22 and 23. On Dec. 4, 11 and 18, he will be there from 10 a.m. to noon, 2 to 5 p.m. and 6:30 to 8 p.m.

Lake Orion will stage a Christmas parade Dec. 4 and Rochester on Dec. 11.

U.S. Highway Acts Tie Legal Knots for States

The Federal Highway Beautification Act recently passed is giving legal fits to states that previously passed legislation complementing the Federal Highway Act of 1958.

Under the prior act, the Federal government would in effect reward states that outlawed certain types of billboards adjacent to Federal-aid highways. The reward took the form of an additional 1 per cent of a state's normal share of Federal Highway funds.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-five states had complied by legislative action which entailed removal of objectionable billboards by owners at their own expense.

The 1965 Beautification law continues the earlier law's bonus for the complying states but also provides compensation for owners of billboards required to remove their signs. The states pay 25 per cent of the expense involved, the Federal Government 75 per cent.

By way of a "persuader" to the states to fall in line with both 1958 and 1965 acts, the latter provides a penalty of a 10 per cent reduction in Federal Highway funds against states that fail to join legislative hands with the national government.

What the legal stew boils down to is that states that had obliged billboard owners to tear down their boards without compensation under the 1958 law now face legal action from those owners when and if the states pass legislation under the 1965 act that provides compensation for it.

Moreover, in many states currently marking time in resolving resulting legal dilemmas, billboard interests could legally erect unsuitable billboards with the assurance that they would be compensated for removal once restrictive legislative was passed.

In a masterpiece of understatement, a spokesman for Wisconsin's Bureau of Public Roads says, "there is no easy answer to the problem," while U. S. Dept. of Commerce lawyers struggle to work out a solution to the legislative overlap.

★ ★ ★

The signs of the times seem urgently to need an updated Portia to tidy up the billboard mess.

Space Spies Keep Eye on Goings-On in Sky

For those concerned about flying saucers, be reassured. There are many electronic eyes pointed skyward.

While they are occupied with keeping track of the increasing satellite traffic in space, it is reasonable to believe that they might intercept anything little green men might be dispatching our way.

NORAD (North American Defense Command) at Colorado Springs, through its Space Defense System, acts as the clearing house for satellite tracking. A good many organizations contribute information. In addition to civilian agencies, there are systems operated by the Air Force, Army, Navy and Royal Canadian Air Force.

Most astounding, perhaps, are the Baker-Nunn cameras in a number of locations which can photograph light reflected from an object the size of a basketball 50,000 miles out in space.

As to the sky closer to the earth's surface, NORAD gives an encouraging report.

More than 200,000 aircraft fly daily through territory being watched. While few days pass by when there is no "unknown" reported and inspected by scrambling fighters, the average number a day has been reduced to 10.

Art Fad Brushes Off Corny Use of Paint

As if "pop" art and "op" art weren't enough, a couple of artists have come up with a new form they call "yes" art.

These pioneers explain that they have gone beyond mere symbolic reproduction of things on canvas but use objects as themselves, never removed from reality.

The artist can simply walk down the street and if he sees something that inspires him to say "yes," all he has to do is sign it and it is converted into "art."

According to a report of the first showing of "yes" art in New York, soap pad boxes bearing the "artist's" signature were offered for $1,000. Unsigned cartons, even if empty, were a bargain for 50 cents.

Other "masterpieces" were gilded soft drink bottles, spaghetti pasted on canvas, old socks dipped in plaster and hung on a line, a mounted green trading stamp and a completely black canvas.

Initial critical reaction to "yes" art:
"No!"

Rhodesian Blood Begins to Flow

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

For nearly two weeks after declaring independence from Britain, Rhodesia simmered. And then a Black Nationalist died under the guns of Rhodesian police pledged to the rebel government's determination to hold Rhodesia for the white man.

NEWSOM

Inevitably, it seemed a harbinger of things to come.

The killing, when it came, occurred just outside of Bulawayo, Rhodesia's second largest city, 250 miles southwest of Salisbury, the capital, and a hotbed of Black African Nationals.

Salisbury with its modern office buildings, its shops, tree-lined streets, golf courses and banks which are the financial go-betweens for Rhodesia's prospering tobacco farmers, and Bulawayo, an industrial city, stand as symbols of the white man's accomplishments in Rhodesia and the reasons for his determination to remain supreme.

When British Prime Minister Harold Wilson reported to Parliament on his last talk with Rhodesian Premier Ian Smith, he said: "I ended the conversation with a heavy heart, feeling that reason had fled the scene, and that emotions, unreasoning racialist emotions at that, had taken command . . ."

★ ★ ★

Britain has cut off Rhodesian trade preferences and placed trade embargoes on Rhodesian tobacco and sugar for which she has been Rhodesia's largest customer.

OTHERS TO FOLLOW

West Germany, Japan and Russia which take up the remainder of Rhodesia's annual $100-million export of tobacco have indicated they will follow suit.

A Security Council resolution in the United Nations, to which all but France agreed, called for a total embargo on vital oil shipments to Rhodesia.

Peace could be restored to Rhodesia in a matter of hours if the white Rhodesians would accept British terms — independence on the basis of majority rule, 4 million blacks over 220,000 whites.

★ ★ ★

If the harsh economic sanctions work, it is estimated to take at least a year before the Rhodesians go to their knees.

But this is a fight to the finish, and meanwhile much blood must flow.

Time For A Shift In Hero-Worship, Girls!

David Lawrence Says:

Business Disillusioned by LBJ

WASHINGTON — The most delicate factor that can favorably or unfavorably affect the American economy is public confidence.

LAWRENCE

When faith in the impartiality of the government begins to decline or fears grow that an administration in power is fumbling with big issues, uncertainties arise and eventually hesitation ensues. This tends to break down confidence in the future of business.

★ ★ ★

Today American businessmen are becoming disillusioned over the failure of the Johnson administration to play fair as between management and labor.

Coercion by government is unpleasant, but it might be borne with equanimity if the same rule were applied to labor as is being imposed upon management.

The Department of Labor itself this week admitted, in effect, that the famous "guidelines" which were supposed to prevail with respect to wage increases had been exceeded in the union wage settlements of the first nine months of 1965.

★ ★ ★

It was also revealed that the so-called "productivity" figures which are used to justify the wage increases had not attained the prescribed levels.

ARE DISTURBED

But it isn't statistics alone which are bothering businessmen. They are frankly disturbed that the administration is openly ignoring its responsibility to hold down wage increases, particularly in the big industries.

While the administration proclaims itself to be impartial, it is giving concrete evidence again and again that it doesn't intend to crack down on labor as it has on business. The inevitable result has been to produce a feeling of nervousness.

But the consequences of the President's palpable use of the club available to him through manipulation of the government's stockpiles has disturbed businessmen more than anything that has happened in a long time.

★ ★ ★

Businessmen nurture their grievances in private. They are not vocal in the sense that they make public speeches of condemnation as the politicians do when they disagree with a public policy.

SIGNIFICANT EFFECT

What the administration apparently doesn't understand, however, is that the damage which has been done in recent weeks will before long have a significant effect on the whole business situation.

The subject is slowly creeping into politics. Gov. George Romney of Michigan, Republican, said this week that President Johnson "is charging down the road to economic absolutism," and added:

"Both free collective bargaining and price competition in the marketplace are dying in our major primary industries and are being replaced by the arbitrary exercise of presidential power.

★ ★ ★

"Government policies on wage negotiations now favor big union demands excessively. Industry takes it in the neck while government permits inflationary wage settlements, then climbs down industry's throat when compensatory price actions are taken."

In the long run, especially during an international crisis such as a war in Korea or a war in Viet Nam, confidence can best be maintained by laws establishing wage-and-price controls.

★ ★ ★

It is an unpleasant prospect, but specific statutes passed by Congress are better than the edicts of a one-sided administration. For it isn't yet realized here how much damage has already been done in breaking down the confidence so essential to the planning and expansion of business and the maintenance of a fair return on capital invested.

Long Hates to Give Up Any of 3 Powerful Posts

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Senate Assistant Majority Leader Russell Long says he is doing some soul-searching about whether to give up his seat on the foreign relations committee, but is not about to surrender his leadership job when he also becomes chairman of the finance committee next January.

Ruth Montgomery

The son of Louisiana's colorful "Kingfish," the late Huey Long, may even defer a decision on resigning from foreign relations until next May or June, because President Johnson used to admonish: "Don't ever give anything up."

The President telephoned his old friend Long the day after Harry F. Byrd made his surprise announcement that he was resigning from the Senate, effective immediately.

Byrd's son, Harry Jr., was promptly appointed to take his Senate seat, but in the inexorable seniority system, Long automatically moves to the finance chairmanship.

At the news of Byrd's resignation, some ambitious senatorial hearts began to flutter. Why, they asked, should Long have the double plums of a chairmanship and the assistant leadership job?

All Long needed to do was point to the record of the "Ol' Maestro," who laid down plenty of precedents. Power - loving Lyndon Baines Johnson, while serving as Senate majority leader, also held onto the chairmanship of the aeronautical and space sciences committee.

Simultaneously, LBJ was chairman of the Democratic policy committee, and a member of both appropriations and armed services, in which capacity he was chairman of a couple of vitally important subcommittees.

Long's administrative assistant, Robert E. Hunter, says talk of depriving his boss of one or another of his jobs is "a tempest in a teapot."

He predicts that Long will be duly elected finance chairman when Senate Democrats caucus Jan. 9, and the leadership job "won't even be brought up, because they're elected for two years at the start of each session."

★ ★ ★

The only reason Long is even considering the possibility of resigning his much coveted foreign relations seat is because "I may not have time for it, and some of my good friends want it."

Reader Questions Ruling Made by Supreme Court

Our country was founded on God. Why have these nine men of our Supreme Court taken upon themselves to say no prayer in school, no mention of God in school, no Christmas carols and no baccalaureate sermon for our seniors? I think it is time our senators and congressmen made it clear that the Constitution with an amendment says that we can have God in our school.

Read your history and you will see what has happened to other nations who have tried to take God out of everything.

Comments on Veto of Small Colleges Bill

Chancellor Varner accuses the Governor of "playing politics" with his veto of a $1.2 million appropriation bill for small colleges.

★ ★ ★

Lt. Governor Milliken stated: "We agreed that in view of the total lack of tax action by the Legislature, there was no alternative but to block the enactment into law of bills which would substantially increase the level of spending in the years immediately ahead. We safeguard Michigan's fiscal integrity and serve notice that new spending programs must provide the revenue. It is unsound to encourage a precedent by which tax dollars follow students. Good planning necessarily involves the desirable size of institutions, the balance of students, including junior and community colleges, and other factors. A policy which underwrites the cost of enrollment beyond estimates would undercut the value of future planning and encourage a haphazard development.

★ ★ ★

"The fact several accepted students beyond earlier estimates, many of them after the first veto, is not justification for a renewed effort. Agreements between educators and the Legislature concerning this fund were not entered into by this administration."

★ ★ ★

Policeman's Worth!

The Holland Sentinel

It is a short time ago that the subway trains and stations in New York City were daily subjects for news. And the stories were about assaults, robberies, and murders on the trains and stations. What do you do about this?

★ ★ ★

New York City decided that one way was to put police on the trains and in and around the stations. The result has been a 61.5 per cent reduction in subway crime, and New York's Mayor Robert F. Wagner described the decrease as "stunning."

There is little doubt that the six months in which the new program has been in force has hardly been one of great sociological change. It is quite obvious that the increase in police protection has caused the criminal element to have some second thoughts.

We're not interested in getting into a discussion of the underlying causes of subway crime — poverty, lack of education, insecurity, no father figure, and what have you. But we do see in all this a good lesson for other communities, large and small, who are having similar problems. Crime costs money, and lots of it. The comparative costs for sound police protection are small.

We could get beyond this and say that a well-staffed and well-paid police department is worth every cent the taxpayer puts out. It may not be the only deterrent to crime, and we know that, but it certainly is a powerful one.

★ ★ ★

We could well give this some thought in our own community. We are no longer a small town, and our problems are not the same as they were a generation ago. We should make sure that our own police department is adequately staffed, thoroughly equipped, and paid a salary that will attract and hold men who want to dedicate themselves to this area of public service. New York's subway riders have some figures on the value of law enforcement officers.

Strike Is Low Blow

ST. HELENS, England (UPI) — A "stay down" strike by nine coal miners ended early today 2,000 feet below the earth's surface. The miners refused to come up yesterday as a protest against a coal board decision to close down their mine. An official talked them out of continuing the strike.

Now That Erhard Trip Delayed

LBJ Turns to Domestic Plans

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson switches attention today to domestic programs after postponement of next week's scheduled meeting with West German Chancellor Ludwig Erhard.

The announcement that he would meet with Erhard Dec. 19-21 instead of next week gives Johnson some valuable time to devote to drafting his new budget, outlining his State-of-the-Union message and developing his economic message.

The President and his family spent a quiet, restful observance of Thanksgiving Thursday at the LBJ Ranch.

Indications were that Johnson, who might have returned to Washington for the originally scheduled Dec. 2-3 talks with Erhard, may be summoning Cabinet members and others to the ranch this week for reports on the progress of domestic programs.

BOUT OF INFLUENZA

The West German government asked that Erhard's trip be delayed because the chancellor is just getting over a bout of influenza. He will come to the ranch for the conference two days after British Prime Minister Harold Wilson flies here Dec. 17 to talk with Johnson.

The attitude here about Wilson's statement that he intends to conduct Viet Nam peace soundings on his trip to the United Nations and in discussions with Johnson was that the prime minister meant the remarks for "domestic consumption"—to placate British anti-war elements.

Wilson told Parliament Thursday that he plans soundings in Moscow also to avert "a major land war in Asia, or worse."

The administration attitude is that Wilson knows very well where Johnson stands — that the President is determined to do everything necessary to halt aggression in South Viet Nam but at the same time holds himself in readiness to enter unconditional discussions aimed at negotiating a peaceful settlement.

The President was tuned in in advance on Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara's statement in Washington that "you can expect increasing emphasis" in bombing operations against North Vietnamese infiltration routes into South Viet Nam.

Lynda and Star in Acapulco

— Lynda Bird Johnson, 21, and Hollywood star George Hamilton IV were a chaperoned twosome at Acapulco, Mexico, today while her sister, Luci, and boyfriend Patrick J. Nugent were spending a farewell weekend at the LBJ Ranch.

The White House said that the President's oldest daughter, black-haired, brown-eyed Lynda, flew to Acapulco yesterday with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Deathe of Austin, Tex., the Johnson's longtime friends.

Informed sources said that Lynda was invited by Hamilton to spend the holiday weekend with him and several other guests at the plush Mexican resort.

Lynda departed after the Thanksgiving turkey feasting at the ranch. She spent only a few hours of the holiday with Luci, 18, who had flown to Texas with Nugent, 22, of Waukegan, Ill.

Nugent will enter the military service on Sunday. Friends of the first family say the President talked Luci and Pat into putting off their plans to become engaged before he goes into uniform.

Lynda was quite excited about her social weekend with a "movie star," sources said. She pooh-poohed any teasing about a big romance with Hamilton.

Denies Peking Report

India Says China Kidnaped, Killed 3

NEW DELHI, India (UPI)—Communist Chinese troops kidnaped three Indian soldiers from inside India's northeast frontier, dragged them across the border into Tibet and murdered them, a government spokesman charged today.

He said the Indian soldiers were on a routine patrol near Dom La Pass in the Siang division of the agency when they were surprised by Chinese troops, hustled over the border and killed.

The spokesman denied a New China Agency (NCNA) report of the incident which said the Indians violated Chinese territory and opened fire on civilians. They were shot down by Chinese guards.

"It is inconceivable that a group of only three Indians would have been sent to attack the Chinese," the spokesman said.

Earlier today Prime Minister Lal Bahadur Shastri said Chinese intrusions into Ladakh and Sikkim had become daily occurrences and were "causing us concern."

NO PROVOCATIONS

"It is surprising that these incidents are taking place at this moment," Shastri said. "We do not know what the Chinese have in mind or what they intend to do. But we have done nothing to provoke them."

Two days ago, the Communist Chinese said three Indians were killed when they entered Chinese Tibet from Sikkim and fired on civilians. The next day they said Indians had shelled the Chinese frontier guards on the Tibet side of the border.

The Indian account of the latter incident said 40 Chinese exchanged fire with Indian soldiers after entering Sikkim territory.

Shastri, speaking in New Delhi to irrigation ministers of the Indian federal states, said he will stick to the position that Kashmir is an integral part of India when he meets Pakistani President Mohammed Ayub Khan on Soviet soil to discuss the question.

"It will be impossible for us to deviate from our stand on Kashmir," he said.

Shastri announced earlier this week he had accepted Soviet Premier Alexei Kosygin's invitation to meet Ayub in Tashkent for a summit meeting on the differences that led to fighting between their nations.

Literary Magazine at PCH Offers Creative Opportunity

By HELEN COLLIAS

Students at Pontiac Central High School are given a chance to reveal their creative writing talents through a student publication called "Origins."

The annual literary magazine is sponsored by faculty member Marla Jackson. It works synonymously with the school newspaper and yearbook to represent the students.

"Origins" had its beginning three years ago when a 12th grade honors English class received permission for a publication.

It contains works from 30 to 40 students and includes all phases of literature ranging from poems, plays, short stories, themes and essays.

This year they are considering the addition of an art category as well.

MANY WORKS

Any student, who has a desire to write creatively and intelligently, may submit material.

Although many fine works are submitted, due to the lack of space, only a few of the best are published.

They are chosen by an editorial board made up of fellow students.

This year the board is comprised of Janet Boettger, business manager; Cynthia Bryant, sophomore editor; Cassandra Smith, junior editor; and Marjy Rosner, senior editor.

Members of the board also are Val Bunce, copy editor; and Lorraine King, in charge of the art submissions.

Others are Cheri Gay, Cecelia Hunt and Barbara Warren.

Originality is one of the major factors considered when a paper is submitted for publication. The work must be fresh, unique and different. Using these qualities as criteria, the annual publication in the past has been successful.

The coeditors of "Origins" are George Ellenwood and Roberta Wine. They will work in conjunction with the editorial board and faculty members to publish the magazine by early May.

Gay Spalla is faculty adviser in charge of the typing, while Theodore Carlson instructor handles the printing of Origins.

The ski club, under the direction of John Zimmerle, is planning a gala skiing event to Stowe, Vt.

Teacher Wants All-Out Fight Against Development of National Testing Program

BOSTON (AP) —A spokesman for the nation's English-teachers says they should fight tooth and nail to prevent a proposed plan to measure the quality of American education from developing into a national testing program.

Richard Corbin, president of the National Council of Teachers of English (NCTE), added that a national testing program would lead to a national curriculum — taking control of the schools out of the local districts.

Corbin told the annual convention of the council last night that three nationally known testing agencies are preparing the materials to be used in measuring education in the United States.

The assessment program is a project of the U.S. Office of Education with administrative assistance from the Carnegie Corp. of New York, a philanthropic foundation.

Corbin said, "The plan, tentatively, is to measure the competence of knowledge of Americans at the ages of 9, 13, 17, 21, and 30 to 35 years in eight or more major areas of educational concern."

Corbin, chairman of the English Department of Hunter College high school in New York City, said:

"We must watch carefully the unfolding of this new design for mass measurement.

"As long as it operates within its stated framework, it deserves our blessing; if, even in the slightest way, it shows signs of moving into the area of testing, we should contest it tooth and nail.

"The last thing our English classes need is more testing; what they do need is more good teaching."

Corbin also said, "except for the occasional slip of an official tongue or two, everyone involved seems very anxious to reassure us that this is an assessment and not a testing program."

The idea of a national assessment program was the most hotly debated issue at last summer's White House conference on education, but no agreement was reached.

The danger most educators see in a national testing program is that teachers inevitably "teach for the test."

Unsnarl Case of Missing Girl

Infant's Mother Says She's Coffee Heiress

CARACAS (UPI) — A girl believed to be 17-year-old Anna Maria Hitz, missing heiress to a $10-million Swiss coffee fortune, turned up here yesterday — married and the mother of a 24-day-old daughter.

She said she is the wife of Ulrich Bierschenk, a 25-year-old polish-born German with whom Miss Hitz was traveling when she dropped out of sight in California last month. The date of their marriage was not known.

The heiress' whereabouts became a matter of speculation when her mother, Anna Spring-Hitz of Washington, reported her missing this month.

Mrs. Spring-Hitz said she feared her daughter might have been "kidnaped" by relatives of her father, the late Swiss coffee magnate Othmar J. Hitz.

* * *

Mrs. Bierschenk said she has cabled her mother to let her know that "I am happy, married and have a baby daughter," and to ask her to "leave me in peace."

NO WORD

(In Washington, Mrs. Spring-Hitz said she has received no word from her daughter. Until she does, she said, she will continue to worry about Anna Maria's welfare.)

Mrs. Bierschenk said her daughter, Claudia Rosa, was born in a Caracas hospital Nov. 2. The birth was registered with Venezuelan authorities Nov. 18.

Beware of Kissing: Carries Tooth Decay

MIMAI, Fla. (AP) — Scientists have discovered that tooth decay is a highly contagious disease, not a defect you inherit from your parents, says a University of Miami researcher.

That means if you have a good, sound set of choppers but marry somebody with a mouth full of cavities, you are imperiling your ivory smile.

* * *

"This is not going to stop kissing," said the researcher, Dr. Doran D. Zinner, in a bit of understatement.

"But it does mean we have made a good step forward in stopping tooth decay," he said.

HALT DECAY

"For many years, we thought of tooth decay as hereditary," Zinner said in an interview. "But now we know that if an individual does not have a certain type of bacteria in his mouth, he will not get caries."

You can eat all the candy, cake and soda pop you want if you don't have these bacteria, Zinner said, and your teeth won't decay.

* * *

Of course, if you do have the bacteria, every time you eat something with sugar in it, you are giving the bacteria food, allowing them to destroy your teeth.

The bacteria are transmitted by direct contact, said Zinner, a dentist-microbiologist who has been studying tooth decay with four colleagues for the past five years under a Public Health Service grant.

He said the contagious nature of the bacteria was discovered first in experiments with rats and hamsters, whose teeth have physical and chemical properties similar to human teeth. The findings were confirmed in experiments with human teeth, he said.

Four main types of bacteria have been found. Each destroys teeth at different speeds.

"One type will produce rampant decay" in lab animals, Zinner said, "in say, 35 to 40 days. A similar type will take twice as long. A third may take 100 days or more, and so on."

About 98 per cent of the population of the world has some form of tooth decay, Zinner said, "but the biggest majority have the slow acting type."

FASTER BRAND?

Still, you might catch a faster-moving brand from your girl-friend, wife or even a kissin' cousin, he said.

The best protection against tooth decay discovered so far is fluorides, Zinner said.

Not only do fluorides kill the bacteria but they also become part of the crystal surface of the teeth and act as a wall against new bacteria, he said.

Says JFK Knew Failure in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy undoubtedly realized toward the end of his brief term in office that Viet Nam was "his great failure in foreign policy," writes historian Arthur Schlesinger Jr. in "A Thousand Days," his account of those White House days.

Schlesinger served as an adviser to the President and, for part of the time, as unofficial chronicler for the Kennedy administration. The Harvard-bred historian's book combines intimate details of events and vivid close-ups of the man behind the decisions.

* * *

Schlesinger pictures Kennedy as a man confused by the conflicting reports about the Viet Nam war.

In September 1963, he says, after hearing two aides give contradictory reports upon completing fact-finding missions in South Viet Nam, the President asked sardonically: "Were you two gentlemen in the same country?"

'NEW PHASE'

Two months later, writes Schlesinger, came the coup in Viet Nam in which President Ngo Dinh Diem and his brother Ngo Dinh Nhu "were murdered, and the history of Viet Nam entered a new phase. . .

"I saw the President soon after he heard that Diem and Nhu were dead. He was somber and shaken. I had not seen him so depressed since the Bay of Pigs. No doubt he realized that Viet Nam was his great failure in foreign policy, and that he had never really given it his full attention."

* * *

Schlesinger's book was previewed in Life magazine and some of the details that appeared in the magazine have been deleted from the book.

These include the controversial bedroom scene involving Mrs. John F. Kennedy after the Bay of Pigs fiasco, when Schlesinger wrote that Kennedy "put his head into his hands and almost sobbed, and then took her in his arms."

* * *

Friends of Schlesinger said the scene was deleted because the author believed it was not well written.

The book also includes a few swipes at Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, described at one place as a man with a "susceptibility to quantification," and Secretary of State Dean Rusk, depicted as having a "chronically cautious cast of mind."

Crash Kills Airman

United States Is Pleased With Progress in Strengthening Inter-American Alliance

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — Diplomats are putting the finishing touches today to a broad range of plans to strengthen and update the Inter-American Alliance.

U.S. delegation sources said Thursday night they were pleased with the consensus reached at the Organization of American States foreign ministers conference here.

But one discordant note may still be sounded in the otherwise harmonious meeting.

Colombia has entered a resolution on nonintervention which by implication censures U.S. actions in the Dominican Republic. The resolution says that "a unilateral armed intervention took place in the Dominican Republic, which makes it essential" for the conference to restate the Latin Americans' cherished principle of nonintervention.

NO CHANGES

Some Latin-American diplomats were reported trying to get the resolution toned down, but Colombian Foreign Minister Castro Jaramillo Arrubla said, "We have not thought of changing the text and no country has approved us to do so."

U.S. diplomats were puzzled by the Colombian move and said Jaramillo had not mentioned it in private conversation with Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

They pointed out that, with the exception of the Colombian resolution, there has been a general tendency here to avoid raising the Dominican issue. "No one wants to rock the boat," a delegation source said. "Everybody wants to see the Dominican problem worked out."

Racing toward Tuesday's formal closing of the conference, delegates have already agreed on:

— A U.S.-backed plan to make the OAS more responsive to crisis;

— A move to incorporate the goals of the Alliance for progress into the charter of the OAS;

* * *

— A plan to hold annual top-level inter-American meetings;

— The need for another special conference next year to streamline the OAS charter.

ECONOMIC FRONT

On the economic front, agreement has been reached on the need for:

—Mutual assistance among hemisphere nations supplemented by outside development aid.

—Cooperation in moving toward economic integration;

—Emergency aid to assist countries facing critical economic problems.

* * *

Agreement has also been reached on the need to refrain from following economic policies detrimental to other American nations.

While this conference is not empowered to change the OAS charter, agreement on the need to reform the organization is unanimous.

SPECIAL MEETINGS

The first step in this direction has been a decision to hold annual special inter-American meetings until charter reforms have been made and ratified.

* * *

After the charter has been amended the annual meetings would become the supreme organ of the OAS. They would be rotated among the American capitals in alphabetical order.

This, coupled with the increase in the political powers of the OAS secretary general and its council, would make the organization similar to the United Nations.

Agreement also was reached Thursday by a working group on a Costa Rican proposal that the American nations consult each other before recognizing governments which come to power by other than constitutional means.

Why do people with hard-to-heat rooms turn to electric heat?

It's pure and simple

Electric heat is the clean, modern heat—no flame, no fumes. It's a snap to install—costs less, too—because it's more compact and needs no flue. And only electric heat is 100% efficient; the heat is created right where it's used.

It's also economical. You can buy an attractive, low-operating-cost unit for as little as $35-$40 (plus thermostat and installation). And we're talking about a unit that can turn a 12' x 20' polar region into a tropical delight. Just dial the exact warmth you want, and you get it. Comfortable heat from head to feet.

So why shiver your timbers in a chilly bedroom, den, or basement any longer? There's a low-cost electric heating unit for every situation, including yours. Give us a call. We'll send an Edison Heating Specialist to discuss equipment, installation, and operating cost with you. There's no obligation, of course.

Freshman Senators—10

Montoya Tops in Legislative Experience

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last dispatch in a 10-part series on freshmen senators. The final installment is on Sen. Joseph M. Montoya of New Mexico.)

By ROY McGHEE
United Press International

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. Joseph M. Montoya is a professional lawmaker whose entire adult life has been spent in the legislative halls of either the New Mexico State Capitol or in the U.S. Capitol.

At 50, the New Mexico Democrat looks back on 30 years of public service. As one of the nine senators in the freshman class of 1965, Montoya easily outdistances them all in law-making experience.

While some of the newcomers have been breaking old Senate customs, Montoya has observed the traditions.

He has been seen and not heard. He has undertaken, with good humor, tedious chores that fall to the freshmen. He has an excellent attendance record at committee meetings — even the dull ones.

★ ★ ★

Montoya did not make a major speech during his first year. But he spent more than 100 hours presiding over the Senate. And he spent long hours — sometimes unbelievably long — in helping hammer out public works and agriculture legislation.

Montoya is the only senator of Latin-American extraction now serving. Fluent in Spanish, he is in constant demand at various embassy functions.

His office also is on the Washington tour for visiting Latin delegations. The State Department brings by three or four official delegations a week to see him.

As a member of the House 1957-1964, Montoya served on the foreign aid appropriations subcommittee and began building toward what he eventually hopes will be assignment to the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

★ ★ ★

"I know something about the cost of keeping the peace," Montoya said.

NO. 1 GOAL

Montoya puts the keeping of the peace as the ever-present No. 1 goal of the United States.

Domestically, the senator thinks the greatest task facing the nation is the elimination of poverty and the granting of equal educational and economic opportunity for all.

As a member of the public works committee, Montoya was instrumental in getting the concept of regional poverty commissions put into the law. And as a member of the agriculture committee, he serves in a field fundamental to the well-being of everyone.

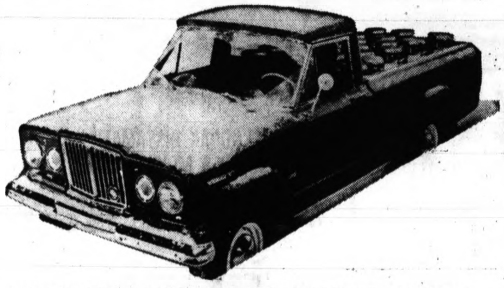
The senator used to enjoy horseback riding in New Mexico, but finds the hobby hard to follow here. He keeps in physical trim by playing handball a few times each week in the House gymnasium.

But his chief avocation, he said, is reading. Catholic in his taste, he finds time for fiction mostly on airplane trips. He is a student of Daniel Webster and enjoys reading constitutional history.

How would he sum up his political and governmental philosophy?

"The welfare of the individual is more important in America than the 'rugged individual' theories advanced by those who oppose the federal role in education and economic development."

Why does 'Jeep' 4-wheel drive make ordinary pick-ups incomplete?



Because 'Jeep' Gladiator is the only truck that offers both 4-wheel drive and automatic transmission. It has twice the traction in hub-deep snow. Does jobs and goes places other pick-ups can't. Options? You name it: new V-8 or six, Turbo Hydra-Matic* automatic transmission, power steering and brakes, 7 or 8-foot box, GVW's to 8600 lbs.

Hijacker Asks to Fight in Viet

MIAMI (UPI) — A Cuban exile charged with trying to hijack an airliner says he would like to serve his sentence fighting Communists "on the battlefields of Viet Nam."

* * *

Luis Medina Perez made the request in a letter apologizing for his attempt Oct. 26 to force a National Airlines plane en route from Miami to Key West to change course and fly to Havana.

"I feel sorry for the way I acted," the 20-year-old Medina wrote yesterday in a letter to a local newspaper.

"I wish that my sentence would permit me to carry it out on the battlefields of Viet Nam."

Medina attempted to hijack the plane at gunpoint, but was overpowered by the crew, and the plane landed safely at Key West. He pleaded innocent to the charges "by reason of insanity."

CHRYSLER DIVISION CHRYSLER MOTORS CORPORATION

If you want to see the new Chrysler at the Auto Show, better come early. Or bring a ladder.
Illustrated above, the 300 2-Door Hardtop

Considering what the 1966 Chrysler has to show, you're going to need some way to beat the crowds.
The look is young. Vital. Right. Inside every Chrysler you travel first-cabin.
There's even an optional reclining bucket seat on the passenger's side, complete with hideaway headrest.

There's also a muscular lineup of V-8s to "ooo" and "ahhh" about. They start in at 383 cubic inches and go up to a 440 TNT V-8 with twin exhausts and twin snorkels. (What's a snorkel? See us at the exhibit, we'll explain.)
In fact, we'll do more. We'll show you the entire Chrysler lineup. Including our famous Newports, the full-size Chryslers priced just a few dollars a month more than the most popular smaller cars, comparably equipped.
So we'll see you where there's the most to see. Under the sign that says, "Move up to Chrysler . . . it's easy."

Buy Car on Phone? It's Just Not Done!

By HAL COOPER

NEW YORK (AP)—People in this country seem to take more pains choosing their automobiles than they do selecting their wives.

This may be why the cars occasionally outlast the marriages. Or maybe that's because you're stuck with the car until you complete the payments, whereas your wife can pack up and leave.

* * *

At any rate, having just returned to America after many years abroad, we undertook to buy an automobile sight unseen by telephone the other day and consternation ensued. The way the car dealer and our neighbors reacted, you would have thought we had been caught horsewhipping Santa Claus. They didn't realize we simply didn't know any better.

* * *

Until recently, the family was housed in an urban area well served by public transportation. The need for a car arose from a move deep into Long Island, where the kids have grass to play on instead of city streets and the commuter trains stop six miles away.

CALLS DEALER

So the head of the family plucked the phone number of a local car dealer out of the Yellow Pages, called him up and said:

"We need a light sedan and the Vulture 6 you handle seems about right. Please send one over. Have the man bring the sales contract and other documents."

* * *

"Wait a minute," said the dealer. "You mean you don't want to see it first?"

"Not especially," we replied. "We've seen the one the fellow next door has and if you've seen one Vulture 6 you've seen 'em all."

"Now wait, wait," said the dealer, who seemed in a state of shock. "What kind of Vulture 6 do you have in mind?"

"A new one," we specified firmly.

SALES PITCH

"You want two doors or four? You want a radio? What color do you want?"

"Four doors. No radio. What colors you got"

"Well, my first batch of '66 four doors is due in about three days. I'm expecting one black, one white and one Burgundy. But don't you want to wait and. . .?"

* * *

"Hey, Joie," we called to our wife. "How about Burgundy for a color?"

"Okay," she said. "But tell him to get it over here as soon as he can. Those cab fares are killing us."

Although in some anguish, the car dealer finally agreed to show up with a Burgundy color four-door Vulture 6, no radio, at the earliest opportunity.

CAR COMING

Meanwhile, the two kids were out spreading the word that the family was about to acquire a car.

"Where did he go for it?" asked the housewife across the street.

"Oh, he didn't go anywhere," said Nicky, aged 8. "He ordered it by telephone."

* * *

This apparently spread around and for the next several days we and the wife got some mighty funny looks from the neighbors.

Toward the end of the week the dealer drove up with the car.

"This Burgundy?" we asked.

NEW COLOR

"Don't display your ignorance," said Joie. "Haven't you ever heard of white Burgundy? Comes from the Cote d'Or, Yonne and Saone-et-Loire same as the other kind."

We closed the deal on the spot So now we have a perfectly satisfactory car, are saving a fortune in cab fares and what's all the fuss about?

'No Acute Peril to Crew'—Skipper of Crippled Ship

BREMERHAVEN, Germany (AP) — The captain of a German trawler which hit an iceberg in heavy seas of Greenland told his home office today there is no "acute danger of loss of life."

* * *

The 1,102-ton trawler Buergermeister Smidt, with 44 crewmen aboard, was surrounded by five rescue ships today, the ship's owners, Hanseatische Hochseefischerei A. G., reported.

The company said it has been in contact with Capt. Hans Neumann, who told them the ship is able to pump off water leaking into the vessel.

The Buergermeister Smidt, crippled by motor damage, was in tow Wednesday night when its connecting line was ripped by heavy seas.

* * *

Fierce gale winds pushed the trawler into an iceberg yesterday causing a large leak.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Dr. Charles T. Tupper, associate dean of the University of Michigan medical school, was named Thursday dean of the new medical school and university hospital at the University of California. He will assume his new duties in January.

Says Hubby Married Her Just to Shun Draft

SAN JOSE, Calif. (UPI)—Karen M. Wilson, 22, Mountain View, Calif., filed a complaint in Superior Court asking that her six-month marriage to Kenneth Wilson, 22, be annulled on grounds of fraud.

She charged her husband married her only to dodge the draft.

Reds in East Berlin Open Wall for Yule

BERLIN (AP) — For the third straight year, West Berliners will be able to visit relatives in Communist East Berlin this Christmas.

Processing of pass applications from the 700,000 West Berliners with relatives in East Berlin is expected to begin Monday. A special hardship pass office for family emergencies will reopen then and will stay open through March 31.

Holiday passes will be issued from Dec. 18 to Jan. 2, under an East-West pass agreement signed yesterday.

Mount Vernon Gardens, which opened in New York City July 9, 1800, was the first summer theater in the nation.

At Cobo Hall

Pontiac to Display 2 New Show Cars

Two specially designed show cars — the Grand Corniche and the Tigerr — will be the center of attraction in the Pontiac Motor Division display at the 50th annual Detroit Auto Show opening Saturday at Cobo Hall.

* * *

Also inside Pontiac's 14,000 square-foot exhibit area will be 17 new 1966 Pontiacs and Tempests including the GTO, 2 Plus 2 and Bonneville Brougham and a cut-away model of the new overhead cam six-cylinder engine.

On one of Pontiac's revolving platforms will be the customized Grand Corniche, which derives its name from the famous Mediterranean coastal highway.

The Grand Corniche features a landau roof which covers only the rear bench seat.

The open front bucket seats, made of glove-soft leather, are of an aquamarine color while the roof-covered bench seat is a combination of cloth and leather brocade in the same aqua shade.

* * *

The half-roof is covered in an aqua colored Cordova top and the exterior paint is pearl aqua.

STYLING CONTRAST

Pontiac's other show car, a GTO convertible labeled the "Tigerr" presents a delicate contrast in exterior and interior styling.

A special custom paint of beige pink pearl, finishes the exterior with a red pin stripe running the full length of the car.

The interior is a contrasting black leather washed in gold to give a transparent effect.

The seats and doors are accented with a red stripe running throughout. The carpeting is black pouf.

* * *

The "Tigerr" features an eye-catching custom designed convertible boot. The boot is actually an extension of the rear seat backs.

The boot is of black leather washed in gold and has pleated panels just like the seats.

OFFER ADVANCEMENTS

All of Pontiac's 1966 models on display, from the Tempest to the Grand Prix offer extensive advancements in styling, engineering, safety and model availability.

Pontiac has increased the number of models from 26 last year to 33 in 1966.

The entire Tempest line has been redesigned, expanded by the addition of five new models including a new GTO series, and for the first time in an American passenger car, an overhead camshaft six-cylinder engine is offered as standard equipment on all Tempest models except the GTO.

* * *

A new series, the 2 Plus 2 with two models, and a new Star Chief Executive sports coupe has been added to the Pontiac line-up and all models, including the Grand Prix, incorporate both refinements in profile and complete changes in the front and rear.

LBJ, Veep Are Invited to Wedding

Hiring Survey Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A survey of minority hiring practices among 60,000 of the nation's largest employers has been proposed by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

★ ★ ★

Commission Chairman Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. said Thursday night the proposed employer reports would provide more detailed information about the nation's minority employment patterns than any other government survey in existence.

A public hearing on the proposed survey is scheduled for Dec. 16. Approval of the budget bureau also is required.

★ ★ ★

If approved, the first employer report would be due next March 31. Employers from whom reports would be sought are those covered by the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which prohibits discrimination by employers and unions in hiring, firing, training, referrals and promotions.

Commission officials said reporting requirements for labor unions and employment agencies are still being studied.

Data collection will include sex and race identification of employes.

De Gaulle Reverses Self, Plans Speech

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle today reversed himself and decided to make an election campaign speech to the nation next Tuesday.

De Gaulle is running for re-election Dec. 5. Earlier he had announced he would not campaign actively except for an eight-minute radio and television address Dec. 3.

But members of his government urged him to strike back at his five opponents and today a spokesman announced de Gaulle will make a 15 minute radio and television speech Nov. 30. De Gaulle is a heavy favorite to win the election.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Christening Invitation Question

By The Emily Post Institute

Our infant son is going to be christened in two weeks. We are planning to have a reception at home after the christening for relatives and friends.

As this is a first experience for me, will you please tell me what kind of invitations to send and also I would appreciate any helpful information you can give me concerning the party itself.

A: Christening invitations are usually given over the telephone or in a personal note similar to the following: "Dear Jane, We are having Kenneth christened on Sunday at 3:00 in Christ's Church.

"Would you and Bob come to the ceremony at the church, and join us afterward at our house?"

Or a message may be written on your Mr. and Mrs. visiting card saying simply: "Baby's christening, St. Mary's Church, November 30th, 3 o'clock. Refreshments at our house afterward."

The only difference between an ordinary informal reception and a christening party is that the latter features christening cake and caudle.

The christening cake is generally a white "lady" cake elaborately iced. A real caudle is a hot eggnog, drunk out of little punch cups.

But today champagne or punch is usually substituted for the caudle, and those who have an aversion to a punch are often offered a highball.

★ ★ ★ ★

Guests eat the cake as a sign that they partake of the baby's hospitality and are therefore his friends, and they drink the punch to his health and prosperity.

GUEST IS SEATED FIRST

Q: When a man takes his wife and a woman guest to dinner in a restaurant and there is no waiter at hand to seat them, who does the husband seat first — his wife or the guest?

A: He helps seat the guest first and then at least makes the gesture of helping his wife who by that time has probably seated herself.

RODNEY STENBORG

'Fantastiks' to Open Meadow Brook Guild

Meadow Brook Theatre Guild, Oakland University, opens in its first musical comedy Thursday night with a production of the off-Broadway success "The Fantastiks."

★ ★ ★

The production which has been running for more than five years in New York is still a top theatrical attraction.

★ ★ ★

OU theatre director Tom Aston said, "I don't think I've ever seen a musical — with the possible exception of 'Stop the World' — that has such a consistently strong core.

"Songs like 'Try to Remember,' 'Soon It's Gonna Rain,' 'Plant a Radish,' 'Much More' and a number of others . . . have made the 'Fantastiks' a rich source of songs for such popular recording artists as Barbra Streisand and Robert Goulet."

★ ★ ★

Mr. Aston has followed the original orchestration for piano, harp, bass and drums for the Oakland production. Sophomore Mary Wright of Lansing does musical direction for the show and doubles as pianist.

COFFIN STARS

Rochester sophomore Will Coffin plays the role of the old actor in the show.

Coffin entered OU this fall after spending a year in Hollywood where he worked as a bit player in the movie "The Hallelujah Trail" and was featured in a filmed television ad. He is the son of television actress Winnie Coffin.

★ ★ ★

This Baritone at Symphony

Rodney Stenborg, baritone, will be the featured artist at Tuesday evening's program of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

★ ★ ★

Concert time is 8:30 p.m. in the Pontiac Northern High School Auditorium.

★ ★ ★

Stenborg is a finalist in the Metropolitan Opera Association's auditions.

★ ★ ★

He is also the 1964 winner of the Grinnell Foundation of Music Voice Scholarship, a graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music, Detroit Conservatory of Music and winner of a Fulbright Scholarship for study in Germany.

★ ★ ★

He has appeared with the Santa Fe Opera and the Philadelphia Orchestra.

Detroit freshman Marylyn Keppel is handling choreography.

THREE PERFORMANCES

Performances will run for three nights, through Saturday. Tickets for the 8:30 p.m. shows may be purchased at Oakland's Little Theatre box office in the sports and recreation building or by calling the university.

If He Can Hear It's All Right

Keeps His Head Warm?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think a guy should be able to wear his hair the way he wants? I am 17 and ride a Honda to school. It gets cold here in the winter, and that's one of the reasons I want to keep my hair long.

ABBY

Also, a lot of guys at school have even longer hair than mine. I keep my hair nicely combed all the time, but my parents say I should get it cut shorter. What do you say?

STEVE S.

DEAR STEVE: If your hair is kept clean and nicely groomed at all times, I see no reason why you shouldn't be able to wear it the way you want to, providing it's not so long it interferes with your hearing.

But if you are thinking of growing you own fur hat for the winter, forget it. You'd be ahead to buy one, if your parents go on the warpath every time they look at your overgrown pelt.

DEAR ABBY: You said that if a man suddenly stopped dating a girl, he owed her no explanation.

Abby, men are irresponsible enough without your advising them to love 'em and leave 'em. If a man thinks enough of a girl to take up her time, then he should be man enough to tell her why he doesn't care to date her any more.

It would help her to know if he's had a change of heart, met someone else, or maybe because she wears too much make-up. I've had many men break off with me without so much as a "kiss my foot."

Since none of them were kind enough to tell me why they dropped me, I'll probably just go on making the same mistakes.

LOUISVILLE

DEAR LOUISVILLE: I agree, it would be very helpful for a girl to know why a man dropped her, but the question was, "Does he OWE her an explanation?"

I maintain, if she was only a date, he does not. (If the man promised marriage, that's another story.) For a candid, "What's the matter with me" session, recruit a man who's only a friend.

He'll level with you. But don't expect that kind of criticism from a currently snuffed-out flame.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THANKS, ANYWAY" IN LAKE FOREST: You are very welcome. Sometimes a good scare is better than advice. Don't let it happen again.

She Has Mixed Feelings on Double Role

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second in a three-part series in which local working mothers discuss their home life and busy schedules as part of the American labor force.)

By MARGARET BROWN

Mrs. Larry L. Kompus of Thorpe Street, a registered nurse at Pontiac General Hospital, confesses that the "working mother guilt complex" at times has haunted her.

"I seem to have mixed feelings," said Mrs. Kompus, a warm and soft-spoken mother of two pre-schoolers. "I naturally love my job — having been trained for it — yet I really feel I should be home. If the children seem happy, I'm fine; but if they're not, I'm miserable."

★ ★ ★

The conscientious mother added that sometimes when she and her husband leave the children for an evening out, she finds herself thinking, "We should be with them."

Her husband is a resident in psychiatry at Wayne State University's Lafayette Clinic.

"I do feel that right now we lack considerably in the area of family togetherness," she added, "especially with my having to work weekends so often.

"The children are beautifully adjusted, though, as my working is all they've ever known. Sometimes before my day off, they'll ask, 'Are you going to babysit with us tomorrow?'"

KANSAS PAIR

The Kompuses came to Michigan from Kansas where she was graduated in 1959 from Marymount College, Salina.

"Actually, I've never really known what it's like to be home, except for those few months after the children were born," she said in her pleasingly low midwestern accent.

"Until this year, I worked to help my husband through medical school and to keep us going."

Mrs. Kompus says she is working now primarily to keep the family on an even financial keel and for a few "little extras."

★ ★ ★

One certainly couldn't say that Mrs. Kompus is working to escape boredom.

Asked if she felt as though she might be "vegetating" when at home, she replied, "Oh no. I think women who try always can find something to occupy more than their time; there are all sorts of hobbies and one can read."

PLANS BETTER

Mrs. Kompus feels her job has made her more efficient at home: "You fall into a pattern when you work."

In fact, she added candidly, "When I have been home for any extended period of time, I've had trouble getting organized early in the day."

Very likely, because she always has had to start work at 7 a.m., Mrs. Kompus would rather "... stay up late to do housework, than arise early on days off."

As with so many working mothers, Mrs. Kompus keenly feels a lack of free time and sleep. "I need eight days a week instead of seven and at the end of my six-day stretch at the hospital, I really need to sleep later on day-off mornings."

In spite of the often tiring pace, Mrs. Kompus says that "Everything somehow works in its place."

The couple has no domestic help, but their baby sitter assists with ironings, dusting and dishes. "I never come home to an untidy kitchen," she said—a confrontation that would dismay any weary working mother.

SPACES WORK

Mrs. Kompus tries to wash several loads of clothes and to do a little ironing and dusting during the week. But cleaning is reserved for her days off.

Devoting time to her youngsters evenings, Mrs. Kompus places the "Mary Poppins" album on their impressive stereo, high-fidelity console, and "They dance about in the living room while I prepare dinner. I try to spend time with them exclusively until 6:30 when their father arrives for dinner.

"My husband doesn't expect a lot in housekeeping; he understands. We kid a lot about my working," she said.

Sometimes on days off when the children "squabble" (as brothers and sisters are wont to do), Dr. Kompus, noting his wife's frayed disposition, will tease, "And you mean you'd like to stay home!"

Working mother Mrs. Larry L. Kompus of Thorpe Street has been employed steadily since graduation from nursing school in 1959. The Pontiac General Hospital nurse has quit work only for brief periods after the births of her small son and daughter.

Two Groups Are Planning Holiday Events

Mrs. Richard Stone of Malibu Drive will host the annual Christmas party for members of the North Suburban Alumnae of Alpha Phi sorority. The evening event will begin at 7 p.m. Dec. 7.

Interested members may contact Mrs. John Beuker and Mrs. J. D. Lower both of Birmingham.

ZETA TAU ALPHA

Mrs. Daniel Williamson of Detroit will host the annual Christmas party of Zeta Tau Alpha Sorority on the same day at 8 p.m.

Hostesses will be the West Side group members.

Mrs. Ernest Gaston of Southfield is taking reservations.

Stops Sweater Neck Stretch

Prevent the neck of a sweater from stretching! After the sweater has been blocked, take the correct size crochet hook and yarn and slip stitch around the neck at the base of the neck ribbing or collar. This is done on the wrong side of the sweater, picking up each stitch as you crochet.

It doesn't show and although it gives slightly, it never allows the neck to stretch out of shape. You may also do the same for a ready-made sweater.

Get to the Point

To double dishwashing efficiency, cut a large kitchen sponge in half on the diagonal. Then use a pointed end to spread suds way down to the bottom of small glasses and other deep pieces. For general dishwashing, the broad sponge surface works as efficiently as a whole sponge.

White on White

For a centerpiece that's different, place a pure white china vase, holding white flowers, in a matching white bowl filled with purple grapes.

Yule Bazaar Is Planned

A Christmas bazaar on Dec. 6 from noon until 3 p.m. will be sponsored by the Chapel Hills Garden Club.

Mrs. Edward Martin will open her Troy home for the event.

Besides a display of gift items made by members, those attending will participate in a "Taste and See" table.

* * *

All proceeds will be donated to the Pontiac State Hospital.

Bruce Arrives This Morning

The birth of a son Bruce Edwin this morning is announced by Army Cpl. and Mrs. Jack Sarnik (Sylvia Snyder) of Minden, La.

The child's grandparents are Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Snyder, Tyrone Street, and the Russell Atwells, Owosso.

* * *

Over the Thanksgiving holiday Rev. and Mrs. Snyder's guests were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Blanchett of Flint, and son-in-law and his family D. D. Riebow, Findlay, Ohio.

MRS. J. D. PIERCE

Acapulco for Pierces

The Jeffrey Dennis Pierces (Carol Lee Thompson) flew to Acapulco, Mexico, following a wedding reception in the Pontiac Country Club.

Rev. John Wigle officiated at the recent ceremony in the Episcopal Church of the Advent.

* * *

MINK TRIM

White mink trimmed her chapel-length sheath gown of white silk brocade and formed a halo for the silk illusion veil. She carried cascading white roses and ivy.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Emerson Hall, Janet Sue Thompson, Susan Pierce and Susan Olds.

Junior attendants were Lynn, Laurie and Chris Jacobsen, Terrie Thompson, and Regan Hall.

Steven Olds was best man for his cousin, the son of Mrs. Gerald Burke of Oakley Park Road, Commerce Township, and the late Marston A. Pierce.

* * *

Daniel Malaforis, John McEvoy and John Olds ushered.

Pamper Velvet

Give velvet you are sewing extra care as you stitch it. Baste and stitch always in the same direction of the pile, using a long, fine needle and silk thread.

Terry's Tops

To keep slippery material from dropping off your lap as you sew it, wear a terrycloth apron.

Yule Trees to Be Sold

The annual Christmas tree sale at Camp Oweki, Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls, will get under way the first three weekends in December.

Saturday hours are 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. and 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m. on Sundays.

This is a joint project of the Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls and the Men's Club of the Church of the Resurrection.

Families may select and cut the trees of their choice at the camp which is located near Clarkston off Waldon Road.

Scented Socks

New Ideas from the American Institute of Men and Boys' Wear: There is plenty of talk, but little verification thus far, that scented yarns will soon be used for men's hosiery . . . This is just a report, not a recommendation. One clothing firm has made a travel jacket with 16 pockets, and a topcoat with 12 and a zip-in lining that serves as a bathrobe when traveling!

'Hook' Your Rugs

Keep some drapery hooks on hand when you launder mats and small rugs. Use several of them to suspend each piece from the line instead of using clothespins which leave "dents" after drying.

Footwear Folklore

By HELEN HENNESSY
Women's Editor
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — Feet and footwear have been the basis of many an interesting fact and fancy over the years. One pioneer firm in the shoe business has kept a running file of these tales.

★ ★ ★

For those who are light of heart and would enjoy a little folklore instead of fashion on the subject of footwear I cite a few of these tall tales for reading.

● Once upon a time, the natives of ancient Greece carved the names of their sweethearts or wives on the soles of their shoes so that "wherever they trod, they might leave a witness of their devotion." (Sounds more like the origin of "he makes a doormat of her" to me.)

● Centuries ago, it was customary for the Roman shoemakers to form parades almost daily "so marchers' shoes would wear out quickly and give the shoemakers more work." (Since all roads led to Rome, wouldn't you think they would get enough business without resorting to such skullduggery?)

● Nicotine literally causes cold feet. In fact, experiments show that excessive smoking will drop the temperature of the pedal extremities by as much as 10 degrees. (No wonder smoking is dangerous. A person could develop la grippe.)

● It was once the custom after a wedding to tap the bride on the head with a shoe and to hang the bridegroom's shoe over the bed as a symbol of his authority. (This one leads me to suspect an enterprising woman invented the twin bed.)

● Boots on a table foretell an argument. Put them underneath quickly to avoid one. (Any self-respecting housewife would fight about such sloppiness even today.)

So much for footwear folklore. Next time we mention shoes we'll go back to fashion.

Tend to Knitting

As you begin to knit a garment, cast the first few rows on a larger needle about two sizes larger than the one you intend to use for the rest of the job. By doing this, the first few rows will be much neater, since they will be stretched less.

Clergymen Want Degrees

Need of a 'Handle'

By D.R. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE X-460: Rev. Clark recently attended a Marriage Clinic which I conducted for a state ministerial meeting.

"Dr. Crane," he asked during the forum discussion, "many of our young seminary men are specializing in counseling.

"And they often grow so interested that they leave the pulpit to intern at the state hospital for the insane.

"Then they switch over to psychology and want to earn a Ph. D. therein and teach, instead of remaining as preachers.

"Is this a good thing?"

SEMINARY MISTAKES

Much of this loss to our pulpits could be stopped quickly by offering seminary graduates a doctor's degree at their commencement.

At present, they spend 4 years in college and obtain a B.A. or B.S. diploma.

Then they enter seminary for 3 years of graduate school.

But the seminaries are antiquated, for they simply award a B.D. (Bachelor of Divinity) whereas dental and medical schools are smarter and give their graduates a doctor's degree (D.D.S. or M.D.).

Educated clergymen crave a doctor's degree as a cultural "handle" on their names, to indicate they are not merely emotionally enthusiastic revivalists who never completed the 8th grade.

Since the seminary students amply merit a doctor's degree, it would be smart to offer them the D.D. (Doctor of Divnity) at least after they have successfully served an internship in a full time pulpit for at least one to three years.

A "HANDLE"

A major reason why they switch over to psychology or sociology to earn a Ph. D. is their desire for a doctor's degree as a "handle."

The present interest in family and marriage counseling is very wise on the part of clergymen, but they should not carry it too far.

Counseling is simply an aid to an efficient clergyman but not an end in itself.

And it is not necessary to spend 10 or 12 hours at mental hospitals to be a superb clergyman counselor!

For clergymen advisers don't need to be full-fledged psychiatrists to recognize psychotic patients.

Any intelligent adult can soon discover if another human being is so peculiar as to warrant medical attention.

The typical clergyman thus should shunt such medical cases to a local physician.

Meanwhile, he can handle the marital and family problems very well.

In fact, clergymen often do a better job than physicians, for they maintain better spiritual rapport with their parishioners.

Since most divorces start in the bedroom, clergymen should be well versed in sexual psychology.

But this doesn't require excessive study of graduate courses or a long stay at a mental hospital.

You clergymen can do your best counseling indirectly by your fervent sermonizing in the pulpit!

Often, the poor orators in the pulpit then try to compensate by developing an abnormal yen to become counselors!

Instead, remedy your poor oratory!

★ ★ ★

So send for the educational booklets offered herewith, for they condense the most acute counseling dilemmas.

Order the "Sex Problems in Marriage" booklet, enclosing a long stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Thousands of clergymen use it routinely.

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, enclosing a long stamped, addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his booklets.)

Just 'Flutter' After Cleaning Fake Eyelashes

NEW YORK (UPI)—When you buy false eyelashes you get guidance on fitting, cutting and application, but often there is no information on cleaning.

The gummy buildup from the surgical adhesive which holds the lashes in place is best removed by dropping the lashes (with tweezers, please) into a small bowl of cleaning fluid. The fluid removes the gum, but with lashes so close to the eyes the cleaning fluid also should be removed.

The best way: wrap lashes around a pencil and wash them gently with castile baby soap applied to a clean mascara brush. Then, rinse them, dry in a towel. Put them on and "flutter" for flattery.

She Was First

Mrs. Ruth Bryan Owen Rhode, daughter of William Jennings Bryan, was the first woman to be appointed to a high U. S. diplomatic post. She was minister to Denmark in the Administration of Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Redmond of Fortress Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Lee, to John E. Ryan, son of the W. K. Ryans of Andersonville Road. August vows are planned for the pair who are juniors at Central Michigan University. She is a member of Alpha Sigma Tau sorority and her fiance is affiliated with Tau Kappa Epsilon fraternity.

Gets Out Dust

Clinging dust may be quickly and thoroughly removed from knit clothes with the upholstering attachment of your vacuum cleaner. It will not snag the yarn.

Handle With Care

Linen scorches easily, so iron your linens dampened, using a moderate iron. Napkins and tablecloths should be ironed flat and folded with your fingers, not with the iron.

Good for twisting, turning, tumbling and looking cute at all times, Carter's one-piece "Stretch-a-kins" jumpsuit for baby girls is in stripe and solid stretch Nylon-Dacron polyester. In pink or red, solid body is contrasted with striped sleeves, neckline ruffle and jabot. Matching boys' style in blue or red has striped band at neck. Jumpsuit has elasticized stirrups for underfoot, snap-fastened back and leg openings.

Gift Wraps Get Unusual Color Touch

Here's a new idea when it's time to wrap the presents for display under the tree. Adhesive covering and a pair of time to wrap the presents for unique package wrappings.

* * *

All you have to do is cut adhesive covering to fit the gift box, peel off the backing, and press the covering against the box. If the box has an unusual shape, simply cut a piece to fit each surface. Cover tops and bottoms of boxes separately, and the box itself becomes another gift—a storage place for jewelry, sweaters, gloves, hat or shoes, depending on its size.

* * *

Once covered, decorate the package. Use adhesive strips of a different color to "tie" it. For the holiday look, cut out bells, Santas, wreaths, holly, stars, angels, snowflakes, or other symbols of the season and press them to the gift package.

SPELL NAME

For personalized presents, cut letters to spell out a name on the box. Wrap packages this way for mailing, and they'll arrive as pretty as when they were shipped, with no bows to crush or paper to wrinkle.

* * *

Adhesive covering comes in bright colors and patterns of Christmas reds and greens, winter blues and whites, and many other festive hues for holiday gifts.

Cookbook Gives Ideas for Frozen Assets

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Homemakers with freezers will be delighted with a new cookbook, "Freeze with Ease" The MacMillan Co., New York, $5.95).

It was written by the food editor of the Washington, D.C., Daily News, Marian Fox Burros, and a food columnist for the Hamden, Conn. Chronicle, Lois Levine.

They are not test kitchen cooks. They tried out their recipes on obliging friends and long-suffering families. They tell what failed in several instances, as well as what succeeded.

The book not only lists technical directions for freezing and storage, but goes into detail about hundreds of prepared dishes and menus.

FITS MANY

This is a cookbook for the woman with an outside job who has to get dinner after work; for the hostess who loves to entertain large groups; for the cook who enjoys a whole day in the kitchen if it will free her at another time.

Right now, the pair is probably tucking Christmas goodies away in their respective freezers.

* * *

Here's one cookie they recommend highly.

Florentines

¾ cup heavy cream
¼ cup sugar
¼ cup sifted flour
½ cup blanched toasted slivered almonds
⅓ pound candied orange peel, finely chopped

Stir cream and sugar together until well blended. Stir in rest of ingredients.

Drop dough by heaping teaspoonfuls on heavily greased and floured baking sheet. Flatten cookie with knife.

Bake at 350 degrees 10-12 minutes, or until lightly browned around edges.

Leave cookies on baking sheet a few minutes to firm. Remove with spatula and cool.

Over hot water melt 2 (4 oz.) sweet chocolate bars. Turn cookies upside down; cover bottom with chocolate. Allow to dry several hours at room temperature. Freeze.

When chickens are cheap, the authors suggest you store some away for the future.

Baked Chicken Casserole

3 cups catsup
1½ cups dry white wine
1 bunch parsley chopped
3 cloves garlic, crushed
¾ teaspoon basil
9 sprigs rosemary

Combine ingredients and pour sauce over three broilers, quartered. Freeze in portions suitable for your family.

To serve, defrost and bake at 325 degrees, basting, for about 1½ hours, until done. Makes 12 servings.

The Elderly Often Have Bone Malady

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—Nearly one third of all women past the age of 50 suffer from osteoporosis, a metabolic bone disease, says the California Medical Association (CMA).

HORMONE CHANGE

A report from the association said the doctors believe the disease is caused by a change in the hormonal balance since it is commonly linked with the menopause.

* * *

Persons affected by the bone disorder usually experience backaches, joint pains and a thinning of the skin, hair and nails. The CMA report said osteoporosis frequently causes curvature of the spine and a loss of height.

* * *

Although it is not possible to correct damage caused by the disease, the report said a special treatment—which includes estrogenic steroid therapy — creates a more favorable hormonal balance.

CONTROL

The disease can be controlled, pain subdued and loss of height prevented through such treatment, the CMA said.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

I don't know where the expression came from but do you remember it a few years ago? "How high is high?" Today I am writing about, "How fat is fat?" If a woman is very much overweight, of course she knows it.

If she has been the correct weight for years and suddenly finds that she must use a safety pin to fasten her skirt and is afraid to take a deep breath for fear of splitting the seams, SHE KNOWS IT!

* * *

However, for the one who is moderately overweight or pleasingly plump it is sometimes difficult for her to know just what her ideal weight is. The decision is often also confused by varying opinions of family and friends.

One will say, "Don't pay any attention to what they say. You are not overweight! You are just right." Another, "I hate to tell you, but you really are getting fat and it's not becoming to you."

HOW MUCH?

How fat is fat, or when are you fat? How do you determine this? There are excellent height and weight charts available which give you the ideal weights if you have a small, medium or a large build. One of these will guide you.

Then you can judge somewhat simply by the way you look and the way you feel. You must be honest with yourself and look at yourself objectively.

There is also the "pinch test." Pinch yourself on the back of your upper arm or on your abdomen. If you get an inch or more between your thumb and fingers watch out!

Life insurance companies have proven that those who are overweight do not live as long as those of normal or less poundage. Of course, there are exceptions. Therefore your ideal weight is the weight at which you are apt to live longest.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company says that a person's desirable weight is what he or she weighed at the age of 25. You are allowed 10 per cent plus or minus. More weight than that and you are approaching the obese classification.

GUIDES

The sizes of the wrists and ankles have been considered by some to be a guide as to body build. You can, to some extent, classify your own frame. However, the wrist does not seem to me to be a very reliable gauge. Lots of women with a medium build have very small wrists.

If you would like to have my calorie chart send a stamped, self - addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Polly's Pointers

Door Opens Pop

DEAR POLLY — While on a picnic we found ourselves without a bottle opener for the pop. My husband discovered that the car door latch makes an excellent bottle opener.—MRS. D. L. L.

FRIENDS — This may not work on all cars but it certainly does on some of them. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — On a recent trip I thought up a gift idea I would like to pass on to the readers. I collected books of matches from various places where we ate and stayed overnight.

These I used to fill small and inexpensive apothecary jars to give to friends for use in their kitchens or elsewhere. — MRS. E. D. W.

DEAR POLLY — Cub Scouts can make inexpensive fire extinguishers as gifts for mom and dad. Put about ¼-cup of rice in a medium-sized plastic detergent bottle and then fill with bicarbonate of soda.

The rice absorbs moisture and prevents the soda from caking. Put the cap back on and make a few holes around the top. Squeeze the bottle and the flying soda will immediately extinguish a small blaze. — MRS. W. S.

DEAR POLLY — When I go shopping I always write down the serial numbers of any bills over one dollar. This list is put in my purse. In case there is a disagreement in regard to the size of a bill given to a clerk, all they have to do is to check the 5-, 10- and 20-dollar bills and the entire register does not have to be counted.

If the serial number on your list matches one of these, that is it. Those who have ever stood in line while a cash register is being checked will know what I mean and how this would help.—MRS. M. A. P.

DEAR POLLY — The season is here when many of us are spraying pine cones, seed pods and the like with gold paint. Sometimes the result seems dull unless a number of coats are used. I have found it helpful to first give such material a light coat of white and then fewer coats of gold are necessary to get a bright color. — MRS. G. E. M.

* * *

DEAR POLLY — After I buy a package of school lunch bags, I use a marking pencil to write my child's name and school bus number on each of the sacks and then slip them back in the band.—MRS. E. E.

* * *

The eight chapters in Polly Cramer's new booklet, "Polly's Christmas Pointers" are: "Gifts for Women," "Gifts for Men," "Gifts for Children," "Let's Decorate," "Company's Coming," "Easy Does It," "Wrap It Up" and "Odds and Ends." To order a copy, send your name, address, zip code and 50 cents to: Christmas Pointers, care of The Pontiac Press.

$12,500 Gaming Debt Suit Won by Eddie Fisher

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — A $12,500 gambling debt suit against singer Eddie Fisher by the Flamingo Hotel was dismissed yesterday by District Judge John Mowbray.

The defense contended the singer paid the debt when he appeared for 12 days last year at a Miami Beach, Fla., hotel, under the same management as the Flamingo. It also was claimed that the suit was based on "an illegal gambling debt."

Although gambling is legal in Nevada, gambling debts are not collectible in court.

Group From State Seeks Europe Market for Goods

STOCKHOLM (AP)—A group of Michigan State Senators and commercial experts ended a fact - finding visit Thursday to Sweden after rounds of talks with industry, banking and agriculture leaders.

The group, led by State Sen. Gilbert Bursley, R - Ann Arbor, met Wednesday with Swedish businessmen and government representatives and visited the free port of Stockholm Thursday morning before a Thanksgiving dinner at the U.S. Embassy.

★ ★ ★

"We were very interested in the free port and our observations strengthen the case for a foreign trade zone at Bay City, Mich," said Bursley, chairman of the committee on international commerce.

The visitors shivered in the Stockholm cold but spent a long time in the port, inspecting the warehouses and other installations.

WARMER INSIDE

"It was warmer inside the refrigerated warehouses than outsides," said Don Bostwick, chief of the Senate's International trade division.

At a news conference, Bursley and Bostwick said the European tour is part of Michigan's efforts to explore exports potential on foreign markets.

★ ★ ★

"Other state delegations have come here to buy and sell and to get personal contacts with Swedish businessmen. This is the first mission that has tried to make a deep analysis of the Swedish and European markets," said a U.S. Trade Center spokesman.

"It is still too early to make any general recommendations as a result of the tour, as this is our third stop," Bursley said.

LONDON ARRIVAL

The mission arrived in London Nov. 18 and then visited Brussels. The Senators arrived here Nov. 23 and were to go to Frankfurt today. Their observations in Europe will be collected in an export program, recommending necessary steps and legislation leading to an improvement of Michigan's share of the U.S. exports.

Bostwick explained that there are now more than 500 firms in Michigan with exports over $25,000 and that there is an exports potential of several hundred small firms.

"With more information about the European market, and with increased personal contacts with European industry and agriculture leaders, our exports during the next decade could be increased by an annual 100 million. The normal growth pattern is $67 million each year," he said.

After the Senate has studied the observations from the European tour, a decision to open a trade promotion office in Europe is expected. Bursley also expressed the hope that Sweden will establish a trade commissioner in Detroit, to help the two-way trade between the two areas.

Most Are Against 'Longhairs'

Glamour Gals View Mop Tops

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Beatle-inspired hair styles have been catching on with some American teen - age boys, to the despair of their parents and teachers.

The trend on some high school and college campuses has been away from the crew-cut and toward the shaggy mop. Advocates of the style argue that short hair on men is a relatively new development; for centuries the males were tressed like the English singing groups. What was good enough for George Washington is good enough for them, say the longhairs.

THOMAS

The AP Hollywood forum called upon some Hollywood stars for their opinions of long hair for men. Their replies:

Elke Sommer: "Long hair on a man is too effeminate. I think men should be allowed to do more than part their hair and comb it to one side; think of the things we women do with our hair! But men's hair shouldn't get too long. I see to that by cutting my own husband's hair."

CARRIED TOO FAR

Patty Duke: "I think the length of boys' hair has been carried too far. I like a long cut on small boys like John Kennedy Jr. But on bigger boys it just looks dirty."

Greer Garson: "I find long hair rather attractive on certain men —in the profession, that is. Next door to our set were Herman and his Hermits, and they looked charming — like Tintoretto angels. But long hair must be cared for: washed, combed, brushed. I'd hate to see the beauticians gain control of men, as they have of us women."

★ ★ ★

Anne Francis: "I don't understand it. I suppose girls find long hair on men a safe image; it removes the element of sex. But it's unhealthy for girls to admire men who are female-looking. I like thick, clean hair on a man, not a crewcut."

Jane Russell: "When a boy's hair hangs over his ears or is long enough for bangs, it's time for a cut. If my sons don't get it done, I'll cut it for them."

COMB NECESSARY

Julie Andrews: "I don't mind long hair on men, as long as they have a good comb."

Debbie Reynolds: "With a shortage of men still prevailing, it's unfair for them to wear long hair. That makes it tougher for girls to find them."

★ ★ ★

Janet Leigh: "If I were dating, I certainly wouldn't want to go out with anyone who had longer hair than I have."

Martha Hyer: "Long hair looks too feminine on men. It's getting so bad that on the Sunset Strip these nights you can't tell which are the girls and which are the boys. It's not only confusing; it can be dangerous."

Junior Editors Quiz on WIND GUSTS

QUESTION: Where does wind come from and why is it so gusty at times?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: In general, winds are caused by air being warmed by heat radiated up from earth or sea. Warm air being light, it rises up and is replaced by heavier air which flows downward.

This circulation or movement of air causes wind. Wind varies in direction and strength for many reasons, especially because of the uneven heating of earth and sea and the earth's rotation.

Wind gusts are partly from this uneven heating but are also caused by the various obstacles on the earth's surface which interrupt the flow of the wind.

The upper right diagram shows air suddenly forced up one side of a mountain, then blowing down in irregular gusts on the other.

A bit of plowed land is shown, which heats up more quickly than the forest next to it, helping to make gusts by uneven heating.

Although gusty shore winds will often blow over water, such as a lake, the wind's force and direction will tend to be more steady when one gets out to sea, away from the land.

This is because the sea tends to heat up or cool down evenly over large areas, without the great local variations of heating and surface irregularity present on land.

Reservists Planning Viet Package Drive

DETROIT (AP) — The Marine Corps Reserve air-ground team in Michigan said Thursday it plans to sponsor a CARE package drive to aid the South Vietnamese. The Marines plan to ask people to contribute to CARE, which in turn would send the items to Marines for distributions in South Viet Nam.

Water Breaks Probed

WARREN (AP) — Officials in this Detroit suburb were trying to find out what caused four water main breaks in four hours Thursday. One of the breaks, at a main intersection, tied up traffic but, otherwise, no service interruptions were reported, police said.

Plains Facing Big Snowstorm

Rain, Flood Cleanup Begun in California

By United Press International

A severe prewinter snowstorm was building over the Great Plains today, threatening the upper Midwest with heavy snows and bitter cold.

Californians began the massive cleanup from a devastating two weeks of rain and floods.

Heavy snows already blanketed both Dakotas well in advance of the storm center and the U.S. Weather Bureau warned travelers and stockmen of dangerously heavy snow and strong winds.

Aberdeen, S. D., received three inches of new snow last night in little more than six hours while the first major storm of the season dumped eight inches of snow on mountain areas of Utah.

* * *

Californians celebrated Thanksgiving yesterday with a freakish batch of weather that included a tornado that did little damage just outside Los Angeles, more rain, some snow, and subfreezing temperatures.

EIGHT INCHES

More than eight inches of snow fell in the San Jacinto Mountains above the desert floor resort of Palm Springs.

Fruit growers gathered up smudge pots to combat 20-degree temperatures with crop-protecting warm smoke and heat, and scattered showers fell on several communities.

* * *

The Weather Bureau offered hope that the two weeks of rains were about at an end after they had caused $2 million damage from mudslides and floods and cost at least 11 lives in Southern California, mainly in traffic accidents.

More than 11 inches of rain fell in Los Angeles in a period when rainfall accumulation normally totals an inch and a half.

Renter Really 'Airs' Opinion of Landlord

UNION LAKE, N. J. (AP) — William Farley, 49, missed his Thanksgiving turkey dinner because of a beef against his landlord.

Police said that three days ago the Farleys were notified they faced eviction from their five-room apartment if they did not meet a recent rent increase from $48 to $70 a month.

* * *

While Mrs. Farley was preparing the turkey Thursday, police said, Farley suddenly ordered her and their 10-year-old son Dennis to go downstairs to his mother-in-law's apartment.

While they were gone, the police said, Farley tape-recorded his impressions of his landlord. He then attached the recorded message to a hi-fi speaker and let it blast forth from his apartment window.

Police came hopping when residents and the men in a fire house across the street complained.

Farley was arrested on a disorderly person charge and jailed for the weekend when he failed to produce $500 bail.

Negro Leaders Blast Ghetto as a Symbol

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.
Executive Director, National Urban League

Dr. Kenneth B. Clark, distinguished professor of psychology at the City College of New York, and Edwin C. Berry, executive director of the Chicago Urban League, unleashed some verbal bombshells several weeks ago before a nationwide conference on "A Thousand Harlems—How To Break Up The Racial Ghetto."

As one of the speakers at the meeting sponsored by the National Committee Against Discrimination in Housing in the Windy City, Dr. Clark called the Negro ghetto a form of status symbol for white people.

"The Negro ghetto helps the whites take their minds off their own problems," the noted author and educator said "They talk about all those terrible illegitimate kids in Central City, and forget about the abortions in their own 'gilded ghetto.' "

The Negro ghetto, in his opinion, is best characterized as "an involuntary prison-like confinement that destroys and dehumanizes powerless people."

These ghettos are not accidental, according to Clark, but planned and maintained by governmental power. And he accused Negro politicians of participating in a conspiracy along with their white counterparts to exploit the ghetto economically.

* * *

Moreover, he indicted administrators of ghetto schools who pin "badges of inferiority" on Negro children early in the elementary grades.

FEW ESCAPE

"The school people make sure that few of their 'prisoners escape the school unscathed," he said.

Clark, who wrote the widely acclaimed book "Dark Ghetto," indicated that Negroes should not depend on labor unions to offer help in eliminating housing segregation.

"When it gets down to the basics," he asserted, "most unions are as reactionary on the housing issue as the N.A.M. (National Association of Manufacturers)."

In conclusion, he described Chicago as one of the most segregated cities in America, and its political leaders as only giving "lip service" to integration.

PUNGENT COMMENT

Berry, a top League executive, also unburdened himself of some pungent comments on the Negro's social predicament.

"Chicago has a 'double ghetto,'" he explained. "One of race and one of poverty — in a seven-mile stretch of public housing on the South Side. It's a classic example of how not to build public housing."

"There are kids there who actually believe Negroes are the majority race," he pointed out, "because they never get far enough away to see any whites."

* * *

He contended that persons "locked" in all-white neighborhoods face a similar problem because their children grow up without knowing what the world really looks like.

AIM ACTIVITIES

Summing up, Berry said all human activities — from picketing to prayer — should be aimed at breaking up Negro ghettos.

It would appear that by now intelligent people acting in their own enlightened self-interest would want to take immediate massive steps to eliminate the ghetto.

Existence of the ghetto has serious economic and political consequences. And unless nonwhite citizens are dispersed throughout our cities, then white youngsters will have the unfortunate experience of growing up without any association with two-thirds of the world's population.

Secure, mature, intelligent and sophisticated people do not need this kind of sterile sameness. The new status symbol will be diversity and inclusiveness.

A muskrat can travel 50 yards under water before coming up for air.

Equalize Aid, France Asks

PARIS (UPI) — France called on other Western industrial nations today to equalize the load of economic aid to developing nations and to end the "stagnation" into which foreign assistance has sunk.

French Finance Minister Valery Giscard d'Estaing told the Council of Ministers of the 21-nation Organization for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) that for the fourth successive year the total aid by OECD members to developing countries stands at about $6 billion dollars.

* * *

He proposed that this "immobilism" be ended by a better sharing of the foreign aid load which, he said, would enable the total volume of aid to be stepped up.

OECD member countries are the United States, Canada, Japan and 18 Western European nations including France.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

When you are presented with a trick by the opening lead, should you go out after everything that is not nailed down or play with supersafety in order to be sure of a good score?

JACOBY

West opens the five of spades against your three no-trump contract. Dummy's jack holds the trick and if diamonds break 3-2 you can run off ten quick tricks for a very good score. If you try this and some one is unkind enough to hold four diamonds, you will be down two tricks at three no-trump.

The odds favor a 3-2 break but a low diamond play is indicated in match-point duplicate.

The reason for this is that you have reached a rather high contract when you consider that an opponent has opened the bidding and your side holds 22 high card points only.

At least half the field will be playing the hand at a part score and you want to insure your contract to the best of your ability.

Of course, if West had opened a heart or if East had covered dummy's jack of spades with the queen, you would have had to play for the diamond break since you would need six diamond tricks to bring home the bacon.

This hand is also from the Complete Book of Duplicate Bridge and while the authors did not discuss the bidding, we want to call your attention to North's raise to three no-trump which is a very fine bid indeed. He expects to have six tricks for his partner at no-trump and is willing to gamble for game.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
3♣	Pass	4♣
5♣	Pass	Pass	?

You, South, are not vulnerable and hold: ♠KJ3 ♥AKQ98 ♦3 ♣6542

What do you do?

A—Bid five hearts. Your partner is very likely to hold a singleton club. In any event you can't be sure to set five clubs. You bid five hearts instead of five spades in order to direct a lead in case your opponents go to six clubs.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Again your partner opens a nonvulnerable three spade bid. You hold: ♠KJ3 ♥AKQ98 ♦2 ♣A543

What do you do?

20 Million Breadless in British Bakery Strike

LONDON (AP) — Most bakery shops in half of England had no bread for sale today because of a bakers' strike.

Some 10,000 bakery workers struck yesterday for a 30 per cent pay increase from a basic 11 pounds 10 shillings ($32.20) to 15 pounds ($42) a week. The strike brought bread lines outside bakeries. More than 20 million Britons live in the affected areas.

Rails, Space, Airline Issues Up

NEW YORK (AP) — Strength in rails, aerospace issues, airlines and selected blue chips helped give an irregular stock market a slight boost on balance.

Trading in the postholiday session was relatively slow. Many Wall Streeters were taking an extended Thanksgiving Day weekend.

The rails were following through on their breakout to a new high in the previous session Wednesday.

Aerospace and electronics still seemed spurred by the escalation of the Viet Nam conflict while airlines rode on continued reports of booming traffic.

News of the highest order rate in the machine tool industry since June 1964 was encouraging to the investment community. Stocks of the machine tool companies, however, were only fractionally higher.

AVERAGE UP

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .3 at 352.9 with industrials off .1, rails up .9 and utilities off .1.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up .2 at 949.27.

Steels, motors and tobaccos were slightly higher on balance.

'Imperialism' Parley Slated

Afro-Asians, Latins to Gather in Havana

LONDON (UPI) — A three-continent, 100-nation conference will open in Havana Jan. 3 to align Afro - Asian and Latin-American strategy against worldwide "imperialism and colonialism in all its forms," official sources said today.

A preparatory committee in Prague which has been planning the meeting for some time, yesterday gave the green light to the conference. It will be held in Havana from Jan. 3 to 10, they said.

The conference, which has strong Russian support and is to include also Communist China, may prove a substitute for the Afro-Asian conference which was to have taken place in Algiers earlier this month.

The Algiers meeting was put off indefinitely because of Red Chinese opposition.

★ ★ ★

Peking apparently has been unable to block the Havana meeting where China may find itself in a delicate position of near-isolation — unless it prefers to back out at the last minute.

COMMON PROGRAM

The conference plans to draw up "a common program of action," although no details of its ultimate aims have so far emerged.

But among the plans which have become known is the idea of a joint program for a stepped-up struggle against "imperialism and colonialism in all their forms."

Another issue to be considered is a pledge of solidarity to North Viet Nam.

Further problems are to include disarmament, economic cooperation among the emerging nations in the three continents and the fight against racial discrimination.

Some 100 nations from Africa, Asia and Latin America are expected to participate.

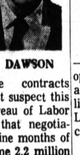
Wage Gain Hike Not Inflationary

Labor Costs Are Steady

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Wage gains this year are running ahead of either 1964 or 1963 but the labor costs per unit of output are holding steady — thus spiking some of the recently rising fears of inflation. And it will try hard to block another threat of inflation-rising prices.

Only the government's own leaning toward easy money and credit is seen now as a possible immediate threat. By further increasing the monetary supplies, this could start the economy overheating and thus set inflationary fires going again.



DAWSON

Generous wage contracts have been the most suspect this year. And the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that negotiations in the first nine months of this year gave some 2.2 million workers an average wage increase of 4.2 per cent. In the like 1964 period the gain was 3.2 per cent. In 1963 the increase was 3.1 per cent. Only wages are included. Fringe benefits aren't.

Also not included are automatic wage increases this year for 3.5 million workers from contracts negotiated in prior years.

GAINS INCREASE

The wage boosts this year exceed the 3.2 per cent guidelines set by the government as within the average annual gain in the economy's productivity over the last five years. But the bureau says that if the wage increases are averaged out over the length of the contract—some running two or more years ahead—the gains are within the guidelines, since the first-year pay boost usually is much larger than the later ones.

★ ★ ★

But more likely to quiet the nerves of those who fear another inflationary burst is in the making is the index of unit labor costs kept by the Census Bureau. This has remained in a narrow range now for seven years, in contrast to the big advances that followed the Korean War.

The index now uses the 1957-59 average as 100. The October index of labor costs per unit of production figures out at 100.6, the same as in October 1962, and even down a bit from this September. The high point in recent years was 101.2 in October 1964.

MEANINGFUL

These prosaic figures mean a lot to businessmen—and give consumers a hint of what to expect. They show that while wage gains this year have been generous by the standards of the previous two or three years, mechanization and efficiency have kept production costs in line, as measured by factory payrolls.

Price rises in raw materials have plagued many manufacturers. And most businessmen find their costs for transportation, distribution and retailing are rising. This puts pressure on them to raise their prices—where competition will permit it, consumers won't stop buying, and the government will look the other way.

While the current figures on labor costs is encouraging to those who want to see inflation headed off, there are some problems sighted on the horizon.

One is the growing shortage of skilled labor in many fields. When the labor market gets tight, employers will raise wage offers.

UNDER PRESSURE

Another fear is based on the growing volume of sales and production which is straining present facilities of some firms, some industries. Tight production schedules put pressure for higher prices.

And a third threat is seen in the escalating defense demands, which some fear are more likely to overheat the economy than is the larger wage scale that millions of workers have won this year.

Suit Begins in Alabama on Seating Negro Jurors

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A three-judge federal court opens a hearing today on a suit aimed at getting more Negroes listed on the jury rolls in Lowndes County, scene of two civil rights slayings this year.

The Negroes who filed the suit, the Justice Department, and the Episcopal Society For Cultural and Racial Unity contend that only a fractional number of Negroes have been used on juries in the county, although 80 per cent of Lowndes County's population is Negro.

★ ★ ★

The government claims that it has been the practice of Lowndes County for a half-century to keep Negroes off juries because of their race.

The suit was filed prior to President Johnson's announcement that he will ask Congress for passage of new civil rights legislation to "prevent injustice to Negroes at the hands of all-white juries." It was brought by several Lowndes County Negroes, with the aid of the American Civil Liberties Union, and amended to allow the Justice Department and the Episcopal group to intervene.

SUITS FILED

Only Lowndes County is involved but other suits have been filed involving other Alabama counties.

The suit also challenges the Alabama law prohibiting women from serving on State Court juries. The Justice Department, however, did not enter into that issue. The petition filed by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach seeks only to forbid discrimination on the basis of "race or color."

★ ★ ★

The suit was filed six days after an Episcopal seminary student, Jonathan Daniels of Keene, N.H., was killed by a shotgun blast in Hayneville, the Lowndes County seat.

The 26-year-old Daniels was the second civil rights worker killed in Lowndes County this year. In March, Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo, a white Detroit housewife, was shot to death as she drove along Highway 80 near Lowndesboro.

Successful Investing

Q) "We have Westinghouse Electric for which we paid 36. We've held this stock for 3½ years and in relation to some other stocks, ours hasn't done well. We were considering switching this stock into Magnavox. Would you advise this?" S. F.

A) I don't think you've done too badly with Westinghouse, which shows a 60 per cent gain in price from the level at which you bought it. Strong cost controls measures brought about a sharp gain in earnings in 1964, after a decade of rather spotty performance. Based on an estimated $2.80 a share for 1965, WX sells at a price-earnings ratio of 21, which is not historically high for this stock.

Magnavox has been an outstanding performer this year due largely to its strong position in color TV. The demand for this high-margined product exceeds supply and may continue so for some time. The shares have an earnings multiplier of 25, if my estimate of $2.90 per share for this year is correct. If you want a more colorful and dynamic stock than Westinghouse, and can assume greater market risk, I advise you to make the switch.

Q) "I invested $1,900 in International Business Machines when I was a young man in 1940, and the market value has now increased to $146,000. Would you advise holding for further growth or do you think it is wise to take part profits?" C. P.

A) IBM is one of the strongest growth stocks on the Big Board. It dominates the computer field and should continue to do so, thanks to very effective management. The stock should continue to expand and enhance your capital.

There is a very sound investment rule, however, that no one should hold more than he can afford to lose in any one stock. For diversification only, I suggest the sale of all but 100 shares of IBM and reinvestment of process in other strong growth issues so frequently mentioned here.

Holiday Toll in Slow Rise

By The Associated Press

Thanksgiving holiday traffic deaths increased slowly today — a day of dismal, dangerous driving weather in many sections of the country.

The toll reached 205 on the second full day of the tally period that began at 6 p.m. Wednesday and will end at midnight Sunday. Motor vehicle fatalities around midmorning were exceeding the average of about 110 a day recorded during the first nine months of this year.

★ ★ ★

This was a back-on-the-job day for many Americans. But many others were in the midst of a four-day holiday weekend.

Most of the motor vehicle fatalities occurred singly. However, 11 persons were killed in three separate crashes.

EIGHT HOMELESS

Eight children ranging in age from 1 to 16 years were orphaned last night when their parents and grandmother were killed in a crash near Kenosha, Wis.

Coed Corners the Coroner's Job

PRINCETON, N.J. (AP) — A shapely blonde coed starts a three-year term as coroner today with visions of running for Congress in the future.

"This is an ideal political office for a college girl," beamed blue-eyd Janet M. Bond prior to being sworn in as Mercer County coroner. "Already I've met a lot of people I wouldn't have otherwise."

* * *

Classmates introduce her to their parents as "my friend, the coroner."

On her first night home for the Thanksgiving holidays, she was invited to address a local Boy Scout troop.

She's received a bundle of mail from around the country, including congratulatory letters from Republican National Chairman Ray Bliss and U.S. Sen. Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania.

Janet became something of a celebrity three weeks ago by polling 56 votes for a landslide victory over 54 other write-in candidates.

She clinched the election with a mimeographed letter campaign from Mount Holyoke College in Massachusetts urging the people back home in Princeton to add interest ti their election day by casting a write-in ballot for her.

One of her major preoccupations since the election has been trying to figure out just what the coroner's job entails.

A 135-year-old state law requires her to bury shipwrecked people who wash up on the shore, sell their clothes at public auction and watch for more ships.

Her father, a physicist at RCA, has been assisting in the research.

* * *

"He's been having more fun than anybody in the world reading all the law books and uncovering all kinds of minute trivia," she said.

"If the shipwrecked victim is found nude, I have to provide the grave clothes. But I'm not allowed to spend more than one dollar for them."

Yank Newsman Is Ordered Out of Soviet Union

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has expelled the Moscow correspondent of the Washington Post because his newspaper is publishing "The Penkovsky Papers."

The correspondent, Stephen Rosenfeld, yesterday was given seven days to leave the country. He has been here a year and a half.

The Soviet News Agency Tass said Rosenfeld's "continued presence in the Soviet Union was undesirable in view of the continuing anti-Soviet campaign conducted by his newspaper over the so-called 'Penkovsky Papers'."

Oleg Penkovsky was a Soviet colonel executed for spying for the West. A book purporting to be his diaries has recently been published in the United States. The Soviet Union has denounced it as a forgery.

Go Overtime at McDonnell

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Production workers on Gemini space capsules and Phantom jet fighters worked overtime today at McDonnell Aircraft Corp. to make up time lost in a six-day machinists strike.

A McDonnell spokesman said the company had called in 4,000 production workers to "catch up on crucially needed work." He said another 4,000 would be called in tomorrow.

Today is a paid holiday for McDonnell machinists under the terms of a new three-year contract approved by members of the International Association of Machinists at a turbulent meeting in the St. Louis arena Wednesday.

The union members voted 6,087 to 2,847 to accept the contract, which had been hammered out in Washington under pressure from the federal government.

President Lyndon B. Johnson said through a spokesman at the Texas White House he was "glad that a settlement has been reached."

Unitas 'Off' but Still Rallies Colts to 24-24 Tie With Lions

50-Yard FG Fails

Detroit Lead Vanishes

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Fortunately for the Detroit Lions, John Unitas was "off" his game hitting only 14 of 34 passes yesterday, but even on such a poor day he hit on three touchdown aerials and brought the Baltimore Colts back from a 24-10 deficit to a 24-24 tie with the Detroit Lions.

A Thanksgiving Day crowd of 55,036 and a nationwide television audience estimated by the TV network at 30 million witnessed the contest.

The first half was similar to that of the Green Bay game in Detroit which saw the Lions take a big lead and then watch it disappear in the final two periods.

Baltimore used up seven minutes from opening kickoff to march 74 yards in 10 plays to score. Unitas flipped a five yard TD pass to Alex Hawkins and Lou Michaels converted.

★ ★ ★

Key plays in the drive were 10 and 14 yard runs by Lenny Moore and 24 yard pass from Unitas to Jimmy Orr.

Two interceptions gave the Lions life, the first one by Bruce Maher who took the ball on the Detroit 37 and returned in razzle-dazzle fashion to the Colt 28.

★ ★ ★

In only three plays Plum hit Pat Studstill with a 13 yard touchdown and Wayne Walker evened the score at 7-7 with five minutes left in the quarter.

INTERCEPTION

On the next Baltimore series, Dick LeBeau made a great overhead interception of a Unitas pass and the Lions had the ball on their own 34.

★ ★ ★

When the teams changed sides for the quarter, Detroit had the ball on Colt 45. A key first down pass to Ron Kramer for 23 yards, and 15 yards by Amos Marsh inside left guard put the ball on the Baltimore two.

But here three plays put the nose of the ball on the goal line and Marsh then ran outside left tackle for the touchdown, to complete a 66 yard march in 11 plays.

When the next Colt drive was stopped at the Detroit 35, Michaels made the score read 14-10 with a 42 yard field goal.

FINAL MINUTES

In the final minutes of the first half, Marsh gave the big crowd a thrill with the longest run from scrimmage in the NFL this season. After a pair of complete passes to Studstill and Nick Pietrosante put the ball on the Detroit 38, Marsh tore through a huge hole at left tackle and went 62 yards for the touchdown.

★ ★ ★

He celebrated his run by throwing the ball into the stands to the crowd, and with Walker's point it was 21-10.

Plum has his best two-quarter showing of the season. He hit on 8 of 10 in the first half and Marsh had 92 yards in 11 attempts.

In the second half however, Plum hit only one of 13 attempts to finish with 9 of 23 for the game. At least four aerials were dropped which killed key first down attempts keeping the Colts in good field position after forcing Detroit to punt.

★ ★ ★

Alex Karras and Roger Brown tore through several times to smear Unitas and the front wall started handcuffing the Baltimore running game to force punting situations.

GET FIELD GOAL

Late in the third quarter Studstill ran one punt back to the 38 and the Lions moved to the Colt five. Walker then settled for a 12-yard field goal to make it 24-10.

★ ★ ★

As the fourth quarter started, Baltimore started a series on its own 34. In three plays however, climaxed by a 52 yard touchdown pass to John Mackey who got behind Bobby Thompson and Tommy Vaughn, gave the Colts new life.

With Michaels' point and 14:08 to play it was 24-17.

A minute later, Bob Boyd intercepted a Plum pass intended for Studstill at the Colt 48.

With Jerry Hill punching the line, the Colts moved to a first down on the Lions' 4, but here Karras and Brown smeared Tom Matte. He fumbled and Mike Lucci recovered to stop the threat.

Failing to move, Studstill had to punt and rookie Al Haymond returned the ball 32 yards to the Detroit 14.

At this point the front wall of the Lions put a vicious rush on Unitas and on the 4th down, a pass went over the head of Mackey to give the ball back to Detroit.

There was 4:27 remaining and the clock ticked away. Two running plays failed and at 3:07, Plum went back to pass and was hit for an 18 yard loss.

★ ★ ★

This forced Studstill to punt from his own end zone. Haymond again shook off tacklers and his 33 yard return gave Baltimore the first down on the Detroit 14.

On third down Mackey got past Maher down the middle and he took a 15 yard pass to tie the score at 24-24 with Michaels' point.

The final 1:43 to play saw two key passes dropped and Studstill again was forced to kick from his own 10 yard line. It was a 62 yard punt and Baltimore was back on its own 19.

★ ★ ★

Karras and Brown again pressured Unitas as he tried three passes and failed and with 28 seconds left Tom Gilberg had to punt and Detroit had one last breath at the Baltimore 42.

The clock was stopped momentarily with 28 seconds left and the officials asked the Lions if they wanted to put the ball into play at the line of scrimmage or elect to try a free kick.

It was recalled that Green Bay took advantage of this ancient rule in the NFL books to take the free kick for a field goal and win a 24-21 verdict two years ago.

The Lions instead went to the line of scrimmage and thus the clock started to move. Fourteen seconds were wasted and Plum threw out of bounds to stop the clock.

Walker's try then for a 50-yard field goal with 11 seconds left was a low liner falling short of its mark.

For Marsh it was the biggest running day of his pro career, picking up 146 yards in 23 carries and two touchdowns.

Ironically, it was Gail Cogdill's poorest day as a pass receiver. It was the first game in six years that he failed to catch a pass in the games he played. He had a streak of 78 games up to yesterday.

"I'm happy to tie rather than lose," said personable coach Don Shula of the Colts, "and I don't know how it will affect our standing, except that at this point ties don't count in our standings."

FOILS PASS TRY—Detroit Lions' Bruce Maher (21) puts a shoulder into Baltimore end John Mackey (88) in breaking up a pass play in the second quarter of the game yesterday at Tiger Stadium in Detroit. The two NFL squads battled to a 24-24 tie.

COLT COLLARED — Baltimore Colts' quarterback Johnny Unitas (19) spent a good portion of yesterday's game with the Detroit Lions sitting on the turf at Tiger Stadium in Detroit. Taking the Colts passing ace to the ground above for a big loss in the third period are linebackers Mike Lucci (53) and Wayne Walker (55). Unitas completed only 14 of 34 passes, but three went for touchdowns as the two squads tied, 24-24.

Ties Chargers in Final Seconds

Buffalo Kicks, Avoids Beating

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The San Diego Chargers thought things were all sewed up tight in their American Football League match with the Buffalo Bills, but the Bills broke loose in the last six seconds to score a field goal, tying it up at 20-20.

And that's how it ended Thursday, giving the Chargers their third tie of the season. The Chargers stand one game behind Oakland's Raiders in the Western Division.

Buffalo, with a record of 8-2-1 for the season, needs but one more victory to clinch its second straight Eastern Division title.

LAST MINUTE

The last-minute field goal was made by Pete Gogolak from the 22-yard line. The kick was set up by quarterback Jack Kemp who tossed a 35-yard pass to end Paul Costa. He then scrambled to the Chargers' 15.

"If we had caught Kemp when he scrambled," said Chargers' Coach Sid Gillman, "we would have won the ball game. There wouldn't have been enough time for the Bills to run another play."

Said Kemp: "I almost lost it. I had to do something to get it back."

★ ★ ★

Kemp was referring to an intercepted pass caught by Dick Westmoreland that set the Chargers up for a touchdown. The touchdown had come a few minutes earlier, and had given the San Diegans a 20-17 lead.

"I felt we should have won. I'm not satisfied with a tie," Kemp said.

★ ★ ★

The story Thursday was much the same as last year's Thanksgiving Day game. It was Gogolak—the AFL's leading scorer, with 88 points — who won the game for the Bills with a last-minute field goal. That score: 27-24.

2 Pro Teams in Cage Clinic

DETROIT (AP) —Members of the Detroit Pistons and Baltimore Bullets, along with three Detroit area high school coaches, will participate in the annual Pistons' basketball clinic Saturday, Dec. 4.

★ ★ ★

Lofton Greene of River Rouge, Elton Rouse of Highland Park and Will Robinson of Detroit Pershing are the high school coaches taking part in the clinic, which will be followed by two games.

★ ★ ★

Southgate Schafer will face East Grand Rapids in the first game with the Pistons and Bullets playing a regularly scheduled National Basketball Association contest in the second.

Chicago Belts Detroiters, 3-1, to Share First

Boston Posts 6-2 Win Over N.Y. Rangers to Tie for Fifth Place

By The Associated Press

The Detroit Red Wings shook up the National Hockey League standings a bit by losing 3-1 to Chicago Thursday night.

For one thing, the Hawks, by virtue of their fourth victory over Detroit in a row, moved into a tie for first place. They pulled even with Montreal, which was idle.

Another result of the night's league action was that the Boston Bruins, the NHL's traditional cellar-dwellers, clambered out of the basement and into a fifth-place tie with the Wings.

Boston, last-place finisher in each of the last five seasons, tripped New York 6-2 in the other league contest.

38 SHOTS

Chicago goalie Glenn Hall turned back 38 Detroit shots.

Stan Mikita, the defending scoring champion, paced the Hawk attack. Eric Nesterenko scored the winner when he moved through the entire Detroit team to whip one past goalie Hank Bassen.

★ ★ ★

Andy Bathgate got Detroit back into the contest two minutes later by converting on Don McKenney's pass from the boards. But Mikita iced the game with 14 seconds left, shooting the puck into an empty net after Bassen was removed in favor of an extra offensive player.

★ ★ ★

Boston's victory came although starters Ted Green, Al Langlois and Leo Boivin all sat out the game with injuries. Reg Fleming tallied two for the Bruins and Bob Woytowich and Don Awrey smacked in the second-period tallies that sent Boston in front to stay.

The victory gave the undermanned Bruins 10 points in the standings — the same as Detroit.

Army, Navy Saturday Have 'Season at Stake'

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Army and Navy meet in their annual football classic Saturday, climaxing what truly has turned into a one-game season for both teams.

The cliche of Army-Navy meaning everything for the service squads, of what has gone before meaning nothing, is a reality this time. Both go into the showdown with mediocre records, no outside prestige at stake, and no glamorous stars to show off.

Nonetheless, the usual enthusiastic crowd of some 100,000 will pack mammoth John F. Kennedy Stadium in Philadelphia for the extravaganza, which will be nationally televised by NBC starting at 1:30 p.m. EST.

★ ★ ★

Navy is rated a touchdown favorite. The Middies have a 4-4-1 record in their first season under Coach Bill Elias, against somewhat sterner opposition than Army faced.

Army, in Paul Dietzel's fourth year as West Point coach, has won four and lost five.

STRONG DEFENSES

Both teams field strong, aggressive defenses but Navy should have the definite edge on attack with a more diversified and balanced offense. Army relies heavily on a running game that has been less than dazzling, while the Cadets' passing is so spotty that even Navy professes to have no fear of it.

★ ★ ★

Defensively, Army is something to watch, however. Townsend Clarke, a fierce and clever 210-pound linebacker, leads the unit that also has standouts in linebacker Pete Braun, tackle John Carber, middle guard Vince Casillo, ends Tom Schwartz and Sam Champi, and back Don Dietz.

★ ★ ★

Braun, Carber and Champi will play both ways for West Point.

Navy's defense emphasizes constant, quick pressure with fast-changing alignments and lots of blitzing. Don Downing, Gary Gray, Chris Hoch, Ron Buschbom and Fred Moosally are among the Middies who will be firing in.

Wind Problem at LPGA Meet

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — A lack of wind may be the answer to participants' prayers in today's second round of the Women's Titleholders Golf Tournament.

In the opening round Thursday, only three of the 25 leaders managed better scores on the back nine at the Augusta Country Club than on the first nine holes as the players drove into the wind on seven of the final nine holes.

Sandra Haynie of Fort Worth, Tex., grabbed a share of the lead by carding a 35 on the back nine after going out in 36. Miss Haynie's 71 was matched by another Texan, Kathy Whitworth of San Antonio.

HEAVY TRAFFIC—Skating traffic got a little heavy in the first period of action last night between the Detroit Red Wings and Chicago's Black Hawks as these five players battled for the puck at mid rink on Chicago ice. Players are Detroit's Don McKenney (20) and Billy Harris (14). Chicago players are Phil Esposito (7), Chico Maki (16) and Doug Jarrett (20). Chicago won, 3-1.

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Four two-man teams, including defending champions Dr. John Mercer and Dexter Daniels, teed off today for the semifinal round of the annual World Amateur Seniors Four-Ball Golf Tournament.

Daniels, of Winter Haven, Fla., and Mercer, of Sarasota, Fla., played J. R. Jacobs of Canton, Ohio, and Dr. H. C. McManus of Windemere, Fla.

North-South Seniors champ David (Spec) Goldman of Dallas, Tex., and Curtis Person of Memphis, Tenn., battled W. L. Render of Atlanta and Cliff Eley of St. Augustine, Fla.

Daniels and Mercer Thursday eliminated Lennox Haldeman and Paul Dickinson 3 and 2. The defending champions won four of the last seven holes over the 7,051-yard No. 2 course at Pinehurst Country Club.

Haldeman is from Chicago and Dickinson from Ardmore, Okla.

Goldman and Person beat Canadians Bert Barnaby and Romeo Trudeau, both of Montreal, 3 and 2, to advance into today's round.

Jacobs and McManus beat Aaron Morris of Nashville, Tenn., and R. T. Toney of Piedmont, Mo., 1-up at the 20th hole Thursday.

Nicklaus, Bondeson Pace Cajun Classic

LAFAYETTE, La. (AP) — Two blond giants who hit a golf ball a country mile were in the spotlight today as the $30,179 Cajun Classic — traditionally the final tourney on the PGA national circuit each year — went into its second round.

★ ★ ★

One is Jack Nicklaus, who not only has won two Masters' titles but has become the master of about all he can see on the fairways in just four years.

The other is Paul Bondeson, a 25-year-old ex-paratrooper who has never won a tournament. He had to lay off the tour during the summer to get what he calls his attitude straightened out.

Bondeson cut six strokes off par for a 66 and the first round lead in the Cajun Classic Thursday.

Tulsa, Nebraska in Turkey Day Wins

By The Associated Press

Glenn Dobbs is not one to make rash decisions. So the Tulsa coach gave long and careful consideration to the invitation for his football team to appear in the Bluebonnet Bowl game.

It took, oh, about two seconds.

"It just so happens we can go," Dobbs said after his wift-striking Hurricane had stormed over Colorado State University 48-20 Thursday with the record-breaking passing combination of Billy Anderson to Howard Twilley setting still more national marks.

Tulsa, which finished at 8-2, will play Tennessee in the Dec. 18 game in Houston. Tennessee, 5-1-2, has two games left, including Saturday's match with Vanderbilt.

★ ★ ★

Nebraska, ranked third in the nation, closed out a 10-0 regular season, its first perfect season in 50 years, with a 21-9 comeback against Oklahoma; Texas rallied for a 21-17 decision over Texas A&M, Cornell crushed Penn 38-14 and Virginia Tech beat VMI 44-13 in the other major Thanksgiving Day games.

SERVICE CLASH

The long football weekend continues Saturday with a flock of traditional games.

★ ★ ★

Probably the most important game is Alabama's meeting with Auburn in Birmingham. Both are bound for bowl games, and the winner takes the Southeastern Conference title with him.

Alabama, 7-1-1 and Nebraska's opponent in the Orange Bowl, is ranked fifth nationally and is favored. Auburn, bolstered by an invitation to the Liberty Bowl, is 5-3-1 over-all, but 4-0-1 in the SEC. Both 'Bama and Auurn were tied by Tennessee.

In some of the other traditional games, Gator Bowl-bound Georgia Tech plays Georgia, Boston College is at Holy Cross, Arizona at Arizona State, Florida State at Sugar Bowl-bound Florida, Mississippi at Mississippi State, Baylor at Rice and Southern methodist at Texas Christian.

Notre Dame, ranked sixth after losing last week's tough battle with Michigan State, closes out at Miami, Wyoming is at Southern California, Brigham Young at New Mexico, and West Texas State at Texas Western in others.

★ ★ ★

Colorado State played it close for three periods, but the spectacular Tulsa attack finally proved too much.

Anderson completed 37 of 57 passes for a record 502 yards. Five went for touchdowns. Twilley caught a record 19 of them, for two touchdowns and 214 yards.

In addition to his two touchdowns, Twilley kicked four extra points for a total of 16 points and a season output of 127, clinching the national scoring title. He's the first end ever to win it.

★ ★ ★

Oklahoma took a surprising 9-7 halftime lead against Nebraska, but the Cornhuskers' Harry Wilson broke it open with two third period touchdowns, one on a 66-yard run and one on a 38-yard pass.

Texas' embattled Longhorns also had to overcome a 17-0 A&M halftime lead and the morale-shaking effect of a trick play that netted 91 yards and a touchdown. Jim Helms smashed over for two last period Texas touchdowns that enabled the Longhorns to finish with a 6-4 record.

The trick play involved a lateral, which appeared to be an incomplete pass. After slamming the ball on the ground in disgust, and while the defenders were trotting back to position, Harry Ledbetter scooped up the ball, hurled a pass to Ken McLean, who trotted in with a 91-yard touchdown play.

Lands Class A Berth

PCH Star on All-State Team

By The Associated Press

Four Oakland County football players were honored on the top two teams of the Associated Press class A All-State selections announced today.

★ ★ ★

Guard Leroy Jackson of Pontiac Central and halfback John Gabler of Royal Oak Kimball were first team choices. On the second unit were end and linebacker Lon Snook of Walled Lake and tackle Chuck Andrews of Milford.

Utica's Tom Orlowsky nailed down the second team quarterback spot, winning out over Bay City Central qb Tom Kennell.

A backfield which averaged more than 32 points a game, headed by a quarterback who had a hand in 13 touchdowns this season, features the 25th annual All State team.

TOP QB

Jim Novar of Flint Northwestern is the quarterback on the dream team, selected after extensive study by a panel of AP sportswriters.

Joining Novar in the backfield are Dave Ripmaster of Grand Rapids Creston, Gabler and Tom Weinmann of Ann Arbor.

Class A champion Bay City Central landed two men on the team — end Dennis Wirgowski and guard Rick Brown.

Calvin Fox of Battle Creek Central was named at the other end spot.

Jackson was a regular on the Pontiac Central squad for three years. The 180-pounder sparked the Chiefs' strong ground attack and he handled a linebacker post on defense.

Tackles Jim VanWoerkam of Muskegon and Bill Otto of Harper Woods Notre Dame and center Ken Burchfield of Adrian round out the first team.

Novar, at 170 pounds, is the lightest player on the team. The other three backs weigh over 200 pounds and the line averages 207 pounds.

Novar completed 22 of 54 passes for 350 yards and eight touchdowns and scored five times. He rushed for 409 yards in 71 carries. He also handled the team's punting and played defense.

Ripmaster starred for an unbeaten Creston team bv lugging the ball 116 times for 857 yards. He scored a dozen touchdowns, kicked two field goals and 16 extra points and was the leading tackler on defense.

Gabler scored 12 times and rushed 153 times for 958 yards. He also caught nine of 12 passes thrown his way for an additional 187 yards. He was thrown for losses but three times, for a total of four yards.

Weinmann, rated the best back to come out of Ann Arbor in a number of years, gained 798 yards in 145 carries and scored 11 touchdowns.

While Wirgowski was known for his pass catching abilities—he was a second team choice last year — Fox stood out as a blocker and defensive specialist for a Battle Creek team which ran most of the time.

ANOTHER CHALLENGE—Art Harrison qualified for the "Beat The Champ" television bowling series at Huron Bowl and Sunday will try to make the 601 cut-off point in the Pontiac Men's Open Bowling Championships. He discusses his chances with Huron staff member Gloria Bonfiglio.

First Deadline Passes

Pontiac Open Qualifying to Start

Nearly 200 bowlers will begin qualifying Sunday morning at Huron Bowl and 300 Bowl in the Pontiac Open City Bowling Championship. Their first target will be a total score with handicap of "601" which will then move them into the semifinals Sunday morning, December 12th.

★ ★ ★

Squads will begin at 10:00 a.m. at the two sites. Bowlers who submitted their entries before the first deadline at midnight last night and are not listed among the qualifiers should check with the establishment for their squad time.

Another 700 or more bowlers are expected to get into the final qualifying round before the final deadline next Thursday at midnight.

The tournament, sponsored by the City Recreation Department, carries an $800 first prize and a prize list to at least 10 per cent of the total number of entries.

Scores shot in the qualifying and in the semifinals will have no bearing on the final three-game series which will be rolled in the finals, Sunday afternoon, December 12th, at 300 Bowl.

Bowlers are reminded to be at their assigned squad times at least 15 minutes before bowling.

With the honor of being the Pontiac Open city bowling champion will be the cash award and a large trophy.

Bowlers who have submitted entries carrying an average of 189 or better, or those who hit 618 actuals or more in the qualifying round will also gain an invitation to the Actual's Invitational to be rolled the afternoon of the finals.

Entries should be returned or mailed or submitted by phone to either 300 Bowl or Huron Bowl.

Entry blanks are available at numerous establishments in the Pontiac area.

Rich Eastern Prize on Pro Golf Horizon

NEW YORK (AP) — Plans are in the making for a new $250,000 pro golf tournament in the East, the world's richest, which sponsors hope could be developed into a new Masters.

★ ★ ★

"We have the sponsors and we undoubtedly could get the dates from the PGA," said Bill Jennings, president of the New York Rangers and general chairman of the Thunderbird Tournament.

The move depends on the disposition of the $100,000 Thunderbird Tournament, held the last three years at the Westchester Country Club in Rye, N.H.

★ ★ ★

Sponsors of the event are considering a move back to New Jersey, where the tournament was held the first year at Montclair.

AFTER SITE

"The Westchester Country Club is the perfect site for a big pro tournament," Jennings said. "If the Thunderbird sponsors decide to move, then we'll get another tournament for Westchester.

"I have talked to sponsors. They are ready to commit themselves to a three-year contract and we possibly could make it five. They want to make it the richest tournament in the world — a quarter of a million dollars."

★ ★ ★

The richest tournament at present is the Carling World, offering $200,000 in prize money.

Dates already have been awarded for the Thunderbird. They are Aug. 11-14.

The Thunderbird was held at Montclair in 1962 and won by Gene Littler. Then it moved to Westchester where consecutive winners were Arnold Palmer, Tony Lema and Jack Nicklaus.

Under Jennings' guidance, the tournament has raised $500,000 for charity.

"It would be a shame to take the tournament from Westchester," Jennings said. "This is a big, roomy country club which can handle players and crowds.

"We would be willing to take dates any time in June, July and August. It's our hope to make the Westchester tournament — whether it's the Thunderbird or another — a Masters of the East."

St. Louis Five Runs Winning Streak to Six

ST. LOUIS (AP) — St. Louis posted its sixth straight home court National Basketball Association victory Thursday night as the Hawks withstood a fourth quarter rally by the San Francisco Warriors.

★ ★ ★

The Hawks pulled out the verdict 119-113 in the only NBA game played.

Guy Rodgers led the Warrior uprising that almost caught the Hawks. San Francisco came from 21 points down early in the third period to within three halfway through the fourth stanza.

Rodgers scored 37 points.

★ ★ ★

"They were unbelievable shots," Hawk Player-Coach Richie Guerin said. "They were poor percentage shots and the kind we would have liked them to shoot but they just went in."

Guerin said he didn't think the rally was a reflection on the Hawks. He just thought the shots were unbelievable.

Guerin added 18 points to the Hawk attack as did Bill Bridges. Len Wilkens led all St. Louis scorers with 29.

★ ★ ★

Friday in the NBA, Philadelphia plays at San Francisco, Detroit takes on Boston at Providence, R.I., New York is at Cincinnati and Los Angeles is at Baltimore.

ANXIOUS RAMS—St. Frederick opens its basketball season tonight with John Stogdill (left) and Tony Bellesario hoping to play key roles. The Rams are hosts to Detroit St. Rose at the Madison Junior High School court. Game time is 8 p.m. after a junior varsity contest.

Mikemen, Rams Making Cage Debuts

The basketball season is still in its infancy but coaches Jim Niebauer (St. Michael) and Gene Wright (St. Frederick) could get a good idea of the title prospects of each tonight.

Both open their campaigns with contests against Macomb Catholic League foes they haven't faced before.

St. Fred entertains Detroit St. Rose on the Madison Junior High School floor; while St. Mike's Shamrocks visit New Baltimore St. Mary.

The other league game has Richmond St. Augustine at Marine City Holy Cross. Waterford Our Lady of Lakes had a non-league opening loss Tuesday to Orchard Lake St. Mary and is idle today.

Elsewhere, the annual collision between Birmingham Groves (1-0) and neighborhood rival Seaholm (0-1) highlights the card. Groves' Falcons are Seaholm's guests.

KIMBALL HOME

Royal Oak Kimball, which lost its opener at Groves has a home date with Mount Clemens; and Royal Oak St. Mary faces Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows in the Northwest Catholic Divisional opener.

Royal Oak Shrine plays Bishop Gallagher in Detroit.

On the prep wrestling slate, Kimball is visiting Groves and Walled Lake goes to Ann Arbor.

Both St. Mike and the Rams of St. Fred are expecting to vie for title honors in the Macomb League. However, neither has seen enough of St. Rita, St. Mary, St. Augustine or Holy Cross to accurately estimate their potential.

Waterford OLL showed scrappiness in losing to OLSM and should bother any of the Macomb teams on a given night.

St. Mike probably will be the team to beat since Niebauer has height and has produced winning teams in the past. The key for the Mikemen is a consistent offensive punch.

Apparently, Tom Patch and Bill French among the six returning letter winners will have to provide the scoring.

St. Fred coach Wright is confident of having a contender. The main reason is the point potential represented by Tony Bellesario, Mark Brasch and son Tom Wright.

They all scored well last season against tough opposition.

BAD START

Seaholm's Maples played poorly in losing to Royal Oak Dondero Tuesday and coach Lew Parry is worried about their encounter with Groves tonight.

The Falcons came on strong in the final period to upset Kimball the same night Seaholm lost. Mike Rafferty gives the visitors the consistent offensive threat that is lacking on the Seaholm roster.

OL St. Mary coach John Rakoczy probably will be among the interested spectators as league foes RO St. Mary and Our Lady of Sorrows square off at Farmington.

* * *

Meanwhile, Pontiac Central mentor Fred Zittel and his staff can get an early look at the Chiefs' first two league foes.

Flint Central will travel to Ann Arbor tomorrow night; and Bay City Central has a home date with Fenton, also, Saturday.

Dollar War Probable in Pro Gridiron Draft

NEW YORK (AP) — Kentucky quarterback Rick Norton, who could become the Joe Namath of 1965, figures to be among the top college football players selected when the National and American leagues hold simultaneous — but separate — drafts Saturday.

If last year is any indication, the drafts will once again touch off a multi-million dollar battle with $100,000 contracts plus additional inducements waved in front of the naton's college elite.

And it's more than possible that Norton might become the focal point of the battle. A prototype passer who appears to be No. 1 among a small group of standout college quarterbacks, Norton very likely could be picked by two new teams — the NFL's Atlanta Falcons and the AFL's Miami Dolphins.

Both the Atlanta and Miami clubs become operational for the 1966 season and among their primary needs will be a quarterback.

In that event, Norton could turn out to be the focal point of the money battle between the two leagues as Namath did last year.

Each new club will benefit from liberalized drafting procedures with Atlanta picking first and last on the firs tfive rounds of the NFL draft, then first on the subsequent rounds through 20. The Dolphins will get the first two picks in the AFL draft, then select first on every round after that.

In all, the 15 NFL teams will select 305 players while the nine-team AFL will tap 271 with 20 rounds of seniors drafted, plus an additional 10 rounds of redshirts — players still in school whose college class is graduating.

Lackin, after Atlanta in the NFL draft will be Los Angeles, Pittsburgh, Philadelphia, Dallas, Washington, Minnesota, St. Louis, Detroit, New York, San Francisco, Chicago, Green Bay, Cleveland, Baltimore and then Atlanta again.

New Grid Pact for Ky. Coach

Wildcats' Bradshaw Inks 4-Year Contract

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Football Coach Charlie Bradshaw was rehired Thursday by the University of Kentucky under an arrangement that will guarantee him employment security and retirement benefits.

As a starter, Bradshaw received his second four-year contract as head coach. His salary was not disclosed, but it was believed to be about $20,000 a year.

Details of the arrangement are not yet complete but in general it will provide:

—A guarantee that Bradshaw may stay at the university, but not necessarily as head football coach, until he reaches retirement age, is dismissed for cause or resigns.

—A retirement, in itself an oddity for coaches, plus the "same status and same responsibilities which accrue to other university staff members."

Unbeaten Spartans Record-Minded 11

EAST LANSING (NEA)—The Rose Bowl-bound Michigan State Spartans established one new league record and tied four others during its undefeated (7-0) charge to the 1965 Big Ten title.

The Spartans allowed opponents 34.6 yards per game on the ground, breaking a rushing defense mark of 58.2 yards per game set in 1962 by Minnesota.

The records tied by Michigan State were most field goals in a season (6), most field goals in a game (2, twice), most touchdown passes caught by a player in a single game (3, by Gene Washington against Indiana), and most touchdowns scored by a player in a single game (4, by Clinton Jones against Iowa).

Tuttle Regains Bowling Lead

DETROIT (AP) — Tommy Tuttle of Rural Hall, N.C., bounced back into the lead Thursday night as match play began in the quarter-final round of the Professional Bowlers Association National Championships.

Tuttle, who led the tournament at the start, had dropped Thursday afternoon as the field of bowlers was trimmed to 24. By evening, he had raised his 44-game pin total to 9,625.

The 24 survivors bowl 16 games today. The two top finishers battle for the crown on Saturday in a nationally televised match.

* * *

Standings after first round of finals (44 games completed):

1. Tommy Tuttle, Rural Hall, N.C., 9,625; 2. Jerry McCoy, Fort Worth, Tex., 9,464; 3. Skee Foremsky, El Paso, Tex., 9,453; 4. Dave Davis, Phoenix, Ariz. 9,427; 5. Famed Pianist Dies in London

Dame Hess Became Popular in WW II

LONDON (UPI) — Dame Myra Hess, the famed concert pianist, died of a heart attack in her home here last night, it was announced today. She was 75.

She made her last public appearance at London's Royal Festival Hall in September 1961. Since that time, rheumatism of the hands had forced her retirement.

She had been seriously ill for several months.

Miss Hess became popular with the man-in-the-street during World War II when she gave hundreds of concerts, often staying at the keyboard during air raids.

★ ★ ★

At the outbreak of the war, she canceled arrangements for tours of the United States and other countries in order to present a series of lunch-time concerts at the National Gallery in London's Trafalgar Square.

CONCERTS NUMEROUS

Her concerts kept London's musical life alive throughout the war. They were heard by 800,000 servicemen and women, and thousands of Civil Defense and office workers.

"Our first ambition was to provide an antidote to the prevailing sense of doom and destruction," Dame Myra once said. "Gradually we found we were realizing the ideal that music should have an integral part in the life of the nation."

Dame Myra, who never married, studied at the Guildhall School of Music and later at the Royal Academy here. She made her debut under the baton of Sir Thomas Beecham.

★ ★ ★

In 1936 she was the first instrumentalist ever to become a commander of the British Empire. She was made a Dame of the British Empire in 1941.

State Program to Permit Outside Work for Inmates

LANSING (AP) — A select group of model prisoners will be allowed to commute to outside work during the day under an experimental program announced today by the State Corrections Department.

★ ★ ★

Gus Harrison, state corrections director, said the new program is patterned after one recently adopted by the federal government.

★ ★ ★

Harrison said only those prisoners believed to be good social risks will be eligible for the program. It will be started in all state institutions after the first of the year.

The program will be initiated upon a very small scale at first and expanded as warranted.

"Much will depend on our experience with the new program," Harrison said.

Prisoners with a relatively short time remaining on their sentences will be considered for the program.

★ ★ ★

"Any inmate who has not established a good institutional record or who has a poor attitude, or is deviated in any way will not be considered for the program," Harrison said.

★ ★ ★

The prisoners will be placed on approved jobs within reasonable commuting distance of an institution or jail. Some may be housed at local jails at night under contractual agreement with the Corrections Department.

It is expected the prisoners will be used on jobs where there is a labor shortage.

★ ★ ★

Harrison said this will permit selected inmates to assume complete responsibility for the care of dependents, many carried on welfare rolls. Money earned by the prisoners will be assigned by their institutions for the support of dependents or other approved purposes.

Great Lakes Levels Higher

DETROIT (AP) — Levels of all the Great Lakes except Lake Superior today were above the levels recorded a year ago.

Lake Superior was at 600.40 feet, two inches below its level on Nov. 26, 1964, the U.S. Lake Survey said.

Lakes Michigan and Huron were at 576.90 feet, 15 inches above their levels on Nov. 26, 1964.

Lake St. Clair at 572.05 feet was 13 inches above its year-ago level.

Lake Erie was 569.05 feet, 10 inches above its year-ago level.

Lake Ontario's level was 244.10 feet, 24 inches above that recorded a year ago.

★ ★ ★

The Lake Survey said levels of all the lakes except Erie are expected to fall from two to three inches during the next month. Lake Erie is expected to rise one inch.

U. S. Rejects N-Test Appeal

'Site Inspection or No Underground Ban'

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United States rejected an appeal by 34 nonnuclear nations to suspend all underground tests of nuclear weapons without requiring on-site inspections.

"A moratorium on underground testing is unacceptable to the United States," said U.S. disarmament negotiator William C. Foster, addressing the U.N. General Assembly Main Political Committee.

★ ★ ★

He called instead for a permanent agreement in the form of a comprehensive test-ban treaty. He said such a treaty must involve "some on-site inspection" to distinguish illegal underground tests from earthquakes.

As a signer of the 1963 Moscow test-ban treaty, the United States is obligated not to test nuclear weapons in the air, in space and under water, but the treaty does not outlaw tests underground.

DRAFT RESOLUTION

A draft resolution sponsored Thursday by 34 U.N. members would have nuclear powers suspend all tests, including tests underground, until a comprehensive test-ban treaty with adequate safeguards can be worked out.

Foster noted that the Soviet Union resumed testing Sept. 1, 1961, despite a voluntary moratorium on all nuclear tests that Britain, the United States and the Soviet Union had observed since Oct. 31, 1958. "We are not inclined to repeat that unfortunate experience," Foster said.

★ ★ ★

Rejecting Foster's demand for on-site inspections, Russian Foreign Minister Kuzma V. Kiselev said the Soviet Union was sure that all illegal underground tests could be detected without international controls.

He said the U.S. demand was designed to open Soviet territory to spies.

Actress Kim Novak's back injury has forced the suspension of shooting on her current movie, "The Eye of the Devil." The $3-million production was only a few days from completion, in London, but today Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer placed it in the hands of insurance companies which had covered the production against the risk of noncompletion.

MISS NOVAK

Miss Novak's husband, British actor Richard Johnson, had said she had injured her back in a riding accident while on location shooting for the movie. She came out of a London clinic last weekend and went back to work.

But after one day's shooting she was so exhausted she returned to the clinic and her husband said it was probable she would be unable to complete the picture.

Reports circulated that MGM is looking for a replacement for Miss Novak.

Nasser Says Relations With U. S. Better

President Abdel Nasser told the opening session of the National Assembly in Cairo yesterday, that American-Egyptian relations are determined by the official U.S. position in Israel.

"We have always felt respect for the American people," Nasser said. "I do not want to hide the fact, however, that at the beginning of this year relations between Egypt and the United States were at a critical low point. Now, however, relations between our two countries have been improved through efforts by both countries."

NASSER

Nasser said Egypt feels extreme friendship for the Soviet Union and would like closer ties with Red China.

Wilson Won't Take Duke's Title Away

British Prime Minister Harold Wilson has rejected a suggestion that he strip the Duke of Montrose of his peerage because he is minister of agriculture in Rhodesia's rebel government.

"You don't use a steam hammer to crack a nut — not this particular nut, anyway," he said yesterday, in London. The House of Commons roared with laughter.

Death Takes Ex-Governor

CHESTER, W. Va. (UPI) — William G. Marland, former "boy wonder" governor of West Virginia who was found driving a taxi in Chicago earlier this year, died today in Chicago, it was learned here.

Marland, 47, had undergone surgery last August for cancer of the pancreas. He returned to his Barrington, Ill., home to recuperate.

★ ★ ★

The youngest man ever to be elected governor of West Virginia at the age of 34, Marland had been employed in an executive capacity at the Waterford Park Race Track here shortly after he was discovered driving a taxi in Chicago. Officials at the track confirmed Marland's death.

At the time, he admitted that he had had a drinking problem and had taken the taxi driving job in an attempt to rehabilitate.

Burning of Cars on I-94 Freeway Tied to Arsonists

DEARBORN (AP) — Police blamed arsonists for the burning of eight cars today on a 3½-mile stretch of the I-94 freeway near Dearborn.

All the cars apparently had been left alongside the freeway's eastbound lanes because of mechanical breakdowns, police said. The fires were set between 4 a.m. and 5 a.m., officers said.

★ ★ ★

"Apparently they just set one right after the other," said Lt. Richard O'Brien of the Dearborn Police Department.

All but one of the cars were damaged extensively. Rags and paper apparently had been stuffed under the seats and set afire, police said.

Man Robbed in Parking Lot

A Waterford Township man was robbed of $100 last night as he walked out of a Pontiac bar.

John Parrish, 24, of 114 Waterly told Pontiac police he was accosted by two men in a parking lot at Harry's Bar, 474 S. Sanford.

Apparently unarmed, the men fled with Parrish's wallet.

Two Newsmen Join Fund-Raising Drive

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — Arthur Ochs Sulzberger, president and publisher of The New York Times, and Martin S. Hayden, editor of the Detroit News, today joined an effort to raise $1.2 million for the Nieman Foundation for Journalism at Harvard.

★ ★ ★

Sulzberger and Hayden have accepted places on the national Nieman Fund committee which is seeking $1.2 million in three years to match a grant of the Ford Foundation to the Nieman Foundation.

Mother, 2 Children Drown; Father Saves 1

SUFFOLK, Va. (AP) — A young Suffolk mother, Mrs. Glenn Bunch, and two of her children drowned Thursday night after their car careened off a lakeside roadway near here and sank in 35 feet of water.

Her husband groped to the surface carrying their 2½-year-old daughter and struggled safely to shore, but was unable to relocate the car in the depth and darkness to save the rest of his family.

Priceless Works Stolen at Vatican

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Thieves have stolen priceless ancient works, including manuscripts by the great poets Petrarch and Torquato Tasso, from the Vatican's Apostolic Library, Vatican sources said today.

First estimates placed the value of the stolen works at 200 million lire ($320,000), but Vatican sources later said this was ridiculously small and that the missing manuscripts were priceless.

The theft was believed to have occurred last night.

Blackout Report Due Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Power Commission's report to President Johnson on the recent massive power blackout in the Northeast will not be issued before next week, a spokesman said today.

Ten days ago, Chairman Joseph C. Swidler had expressed hope the report would be forwarded to the President by the end of this week.

Meantime, a team of experts organized by the commission continued detailed studies of the Boston Edison system, one of those involved in the blackout, by on-the-spot inspections.

Other teams which had been in the field have returned here and are now compiling reports.

★ ★ ★

The point of origin of the Nov. 9 blackout has been determined to have been a breaking relay in the Sir Adam Beck No. 2 Plant of the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission on the Niagara River in Canada.

Famous Inn Damaged in Two-Alarm Blaze

SUDBURY, Mass. (UPI)—Fire today damaged historic Wayside Inn, a 279-year-old hostelry immortalized in the poems of Henry Wadsworth Longfellow.

Twenty overnight guests fled down fire escapes or were escorted to safety while the two-alarm blaze roared through ventilating ducts and swept upstairs to the attic.

For Op Artists

Sleep Patterns Are Inspiration

By Science Service

NEW YORK — The patterns you see when your eyes are closed just before sleep comes could be a "source of inspiration" for artists.

Because these figures seem to glow in the dark, they are known as phosphenes. They can be produced by closing your eyes and then applying pressure with the fingers to the outer edges of both eyes.

Everyone obtains the same pattern, Dr. Gerald Oster of the Polytechnic Institute of Brooklyn said here today. At first, all that is "seen" is a general whitish glow. After about three seconds, a checkerboard design that flickers appears.

The geometric patterns a person sees with closed eyes when relaxed are beautiful examples of op art, a new term for opticals art designed to produce a "pronounced visual stimulation."

Op art goes beyond most of the abstract art of the past in that it uses simple forms deliberately to provoke visual images, Dr. Oster reported here in Applied Optics, a journal of the Optical Society of America.

ON BOOK SHELVES

The November issue of this publication is certain to be found on the bookshelves of art students in the future. This will occur not only because Dr. Oster is both an optical scientist and an op artist, but also because he has thoroughly analyzed the elements of op art.

These elements include color, three-dimensional projections and the moire technique, which is the juggling of families of curves to produce new patterns. These elements are the basis of op art, individual works of which can stimulate anything from elation to nausea in a viewer.

Dr. Oster's analysis considers not only the physics of these effects but also the pertinent visual physiology and psychology. His report is also an extensive historical review of the scientific and artistic antecedents of op art.

* * *

In his report, Dr. Oster notes that an understanding of the real world is as important to the artist as it is to the scientist. Nowhere, he said, "do art and science seem to be on such common ground for discussion" as in optical art.

PRODUCED ELECTRICALLY

Dr. Oster states that phosphenes can also be produced by electrical means, and that these figures are easily remembered after several months if the person was under the influence of lysergic acid diethylamide, commonly called LSD, when they were "seen."

* * *

Concerning the prospect of digital computers being used to produce objects of art beyond the imagination of even the most imaginative human minds, Dr. Oster states that when "such a day is reached, it will require an artist" to tell the computer how to do so.

Shooting Case Suspect Held

SAGINAW (AP) — State Police are questioning an unidentified man today about the Wednesday shotgun shooting of Trooper John Fiedler.

Fiedler, 30, suffered wounds in the face and right arm. He was listed in good condition at St. Mary's Hospital here.

* * *

More than 100 law officers searched the Bridgeport Township area, one mile south of here, Wednesday night and Thursday morning. That search proved fruitless.

Fiedler and his partner Trooper William Bayn both of the Bridgeport Post, said they spotted a suspicious man near a Bridgeport Township grocery Wednesday night. The man fled as they approached.

As Fiedler got out of the car, the man turned and fired several blasts from a shotgun. Although wounded, Fiedler emptied his service revolver at the man. He said he believes he may have wounded him.

The officers found two cases of whisky alongside the store. A trooper for about a year, Fiedler is married and has two children.

Jet Blows Six Tires in Landing; No Injuries

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Pan American Boeing 707 jetliner blew six of its eight tires upon landing at Kennedy International airport yesterday. There were no injuries.

According to an airways spokesman, the Jetliner, carrying 104 passengers, turned back shortly after taking off from the airport for Bermuda because of trouble with its hudraulic brake system.

Deaths of women from cancer of the breast are less common in cooler northern countries than in more southerly lands with higher average temperature.

Santa Has New Tip on Gift Photos

Santa wisely suggests photographs as Christmas gifts that carry a special message of love and thoughtfulness to the recipient.

* * *

Portrait photographs, of individuals or of a family group, are traditional and always welcomed as gifts.

But this Christmas, Santa has come up with a new suggestion.

Why not give a restored, old but cherished photograph, too?

* * *

Any photograph, regardless of age or condition — even a torn-in-pieces photo — can be restored, say the Professional Photographers of America.

GROUP CREATION

Qualified portrait photography studios can also create a new group photo, complete with background, from several old, individual photos.

An old black and white photo can become doubly valuable and meaningful when restored in color. It will look as real as an original color photograph.

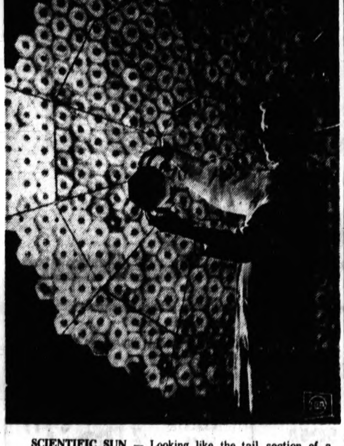
For the best results, and protection of a prized, only-copy photo, take old photographs to professional photographers who specialize in restoration.

* * *

Don't select restorer on the sole basis of price, but ask to see his "credentials": the examples of restorations he has completed.

Good Holiday Item

Monogramming, initialing or engraving adds a personal touch of thoughtfulness to many gifts. While it is wise to order early, some gifts come already initialed — hankies, for instance. Just be sure to select the right initial!



SCIENTIFIC SUN — Looking like the tail section of a proud peacock, an artificial sun shines brightly as an engineer checks its power with a globelike device. A seven-foot tall bank of 433 lights and reflectors, arranged to produce a 72-inch circle of light, the artificial sun is as nearly like sunlight as is possible. It's used in research concerned with landing a man on the moon, at Boeing's Seattle laboratory.

It's a First: No Crowds Join Beatles

LONDON (AP) — Harrods, the London store where Queen Elizabeth II goes shopping, allowed the Beatles to do their Christmas shopping after hours behind locked doors Thursday night.

That privilege has never before been granted — not even to the queen, Jacqueline Kennedy or visiting royalty and nobility. They all had to jostle with Harrod's regular customers.

Queen Elizabeth was at the store only last Friday. She spent two hours going around the store picking out presents. But other shoppers were there at the time.

The management feared that mob scenes might erupt if they allowed the Beatles to shop during normal opening hours.

Special Thanks Given by 'Betsy' Flood Victims

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP) — Neighbors in a two-block area of a subdivision heavily damaged by Hurricane Betsy floods held a special Thanksgiving.

They blocked off the street, set up tables and chairs, dined on turkey and offered thanks that — despite their losses — all of them came out of the Sept. 10 storm alive.

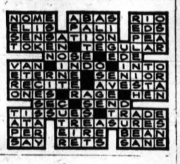
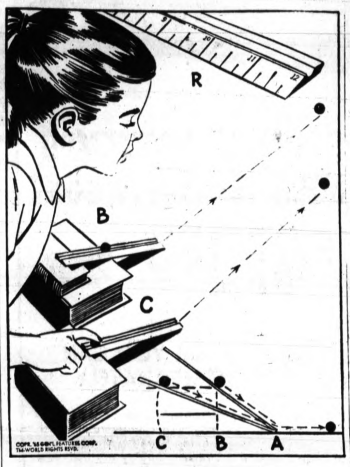
Answer to Previous Puzzle





Science Quiz

By BOB BROWN

PROBLEM: The rolling marble.

NEEDED: A ruler, a thick book, a marble and a rug on the floor. (The ruler must have a groove in it.)

DO THIS: Place the end of the ruler on the edge of the book. Let the marble roll down the ruler and measure the distance it rolls.

Place the ruler so that the book is under the middle of it. Let the marble roll from this middle point and measure the distance it rolls. The distances should be the same.

HERE'S WHY: The original potential energy of the marble is the same in both positions mentioned above. Potential energy is the product of weight times height.

This energy is converted to kinetic energy of motion in rolling down the ruler; therefore the speed of the marble is the same when it leaves the ruler in both cases and should roll the same distance along the rug.

NEXT WEEK: An Air Wave.

The Science For You experiments are in two books: "Science Circus" and "Science Circus No. 2." They are in bookstores and libraries.

Hospital Cancels 2 Doctors' Privileges Until End of Probe

Two doctors at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital have been barred from administering anesthetics pending the outcome of an investigation into the deaths of three patients.

Both anesthesiologists, they are Dr. Stanley E. Abrams, 42, of West Bloomfield Township and Dr. Lloyd Goodwin, 52, of Pleasant Ridge.

Harry H. Whitlow, hospital administrator, said today that both men have had their hospital privileges canceled, "but they have not been suspended."

Abrams, of 7127 Brookridge, has been linked with the deaths, according to an investigator who questioned him at length Wednesday in the prosecutor's office.

The investigator said Abrams had told him he had drained ether from an anesthetic machine into a bottle "but doesn't remember what kind of bottle he used or if he disposed of it."

An eight-year-old girl died a week ago yesterday and a 12-year-old boy and a 24-year-old mother of two died last Friday after receiving injections of ether from a bottle believed to contain another anesthetic, Surital.

★ ★ ★

The bottle was marked Surital and did contain a small quantity of the drug.

The victims were Kimberly Ann Bruneel, 2599 Ivanhoe, West Bloomfield Township; William M. Ketchum, 250 W. Webster, Ferndale; and Mrs. Gerald Covington, 236 Roland.

They, along with two other patients, received injections of ether prior to surgery. One of the other patients, a woman, was in critical condition for a while but is now satisfactory. The other suffered no ill effects and has been released.

The surviving patients apparently received a mixture of the Surital that was still in the bottle when the ether was added, according to investigators.

★ ★ ★

Goodwin, chairman of the anesthesiology department, inadvertently injected the ether into two of the patients who died on Friday, according to one investigator.

GIVEN TO BRONSON

Whitlow said all information received from his administrative investigation has been turned over to Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

Whitlow declined to name the responsible person, and Bronson says he will not release any information on the statements until the investigation is completed.

Seek Tighter Coroner Setup

Bronson, Levin Will Air Alternative Plans

State Sen. Sander M. Levin, D-Berkley, will meet with Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson Monday to discuss alternative proposals to strengthen the coroner system in Oakland County.

★ ★ ★

Renewed interest has flared in the alleged inadequacies of the present system because of the three unexpected deaths which occurred last week at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Bronson has reemphasized his position that a full-time medical examiner is needed in Oakland County.

Levin said he has finished a series of meetings with a representative of the Legislative Service Bureau in Lansing to review its comprehensive research on the problem, which was started at his request earlier this year.

JOINS MEETING

According to Levin, Dr. Richard Olsen, pathologist at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, is expected to join him in his 10 a.m. meeting with Bronson.

★ ★ ★

Olsen has advocated a new system using the services of a full-time, trained pathologist to investigate unusual deaths in the county, said Levin.

Olsen's position has won the support of the Oakland County Medical Society, Levin said.

One alternative proposal would call for a county the size of Oakland to possess the facilities of a morgue, either directly or in conjunction with another county, added Levin.

★ ★ ★

"The statues governing coroner systems in Michigan are complex, but a number of cases in Oakland County demonstrate that we must pierce the complexities to make sure the public is protected."

FOSTER CASE

Levin said the cases included the recent deaths at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital and the Carl F. Foster murder trial.

In the Foster case, an autopsy on his first wife a year after her death led to his conviction of first degree murder. Dr. Olson performed the autopsy.

Link Gas Seepage to Iowa Blast

KEOKUK, Iowa (AP) — Officials agree that seeping gas ripped apart a National Guard armory in a fiery explosion killing seven people — but they don't known how it got into the building or what touched it off.

★ ★ ★

The blast turned a lighthearted Thanksgiving Eve square dance into a nightmare of death and pain. A survivor said it was "like a bomb going off."

Forty-four persons were hospitalized with burns and about 30 of them were in critical condition.

The victims were attending the weekly meeting of the Swing Ezy Club, a square dance group with most of its members from Keokuk and surrounding communities in Iowa, Illinois and Missiouri.

Says N-Carrier to Join Ships off Viet

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The aircraft carrier Enterprise, which runs on nuclear power, will soon join the U.S. 7th Fleet ships that launch daily air raids against North Viet Nam, a reliable military source said today.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere, giant B52 bombers supported a big allied drive in the Vo Dat Valley northeast of Saigon to keep Communist guerrillas away from a vital rice harvest.

South Vietnamese government irregulars killed 22 Viet Cong in a clash near Ban Me Thout today as fighting spread to the normally quiet part of South Viet Nam.

The torrid pace of war in recent days was tapering off and the U.S. command headquarters in the 2nd and 3rd Corps area said yesterday and today were the quietest days in November.

★ ★ ★

IN AIR WAR

In the air war against North Viet Nam, U.S. Navy and Air Force planes destroyed a communications site near Dien Bien Phu, a group of 22 fighters further east, and dropped the span of a bridge 105 miles west of Hanoi, a U.S. spokesman reported.

The U.S. Navy announced in Manila that the Enterprise and another nuclear-powered ship, the guided missile frigate Bainbridge, joined the 7th Fleet today.

The announcement did not say where they would be deployed but the source in Saigon said the Enterprise will pull into position near the land border between North and South Viet Nam. It will be the first combat test of a nuclear-powered ship, he added.

★ ★ ★

The daily U.S. Navy air raids that the Enterprise will be supporting are bombing attacks using conventional weapons.

NO ESCALATION

Military sources emphasized that the move does not mean any escalation of the Viet Nam war, nor does it suggest that nuclear arms will be introduced into the war.

But the word, "nuclear," even referring only to the ship's power source, carries a mighty weight in Asia.

The Enterprise will replace one of the conventional-powered carriers supporting the air war against North Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

It is America's largest carrier, the sources said, but it is not capable of carrying a significantly larger number of planes than conventional carriers now in use in the area.

Says Flint Senator

Survey Hits Income Tax

LANSING (AP)—State Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, said yesterday survey responses by about 640 voters in his district indicate "an overwhelming majority of Michigan residents" see no need for a state income tax now.

"I admit this is only the sentiment of the people I represent, but they are the average people and they are the ones who are most affected by comprehensive changes in the tax structure," Lane said.

Lane, chairman of the Senate Appropriations Committee, said he mailed a questionnaire to 10,000 voters in his district in mid-October.

He said there were 547 no votes to 48 yes votes on the question: "Are you in favor of Republican Gov. George Romney's income tax?"

★ ★ ★

There also were 416-141 against reducing taxes on business, he said, and 555 persons believed they would pay more under the Romney-backed tax plan, compared to 48 who felt they would not.

British Drive Seeks N-Pact, Viet Peace

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson pushed ahead today with a concerted diplomatic drive for a world nuclear pact and for a way to end the war in Viet Nam.

Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart flies to Moscow Monday to probe the Soviet Union's terms for a world pact to halt the spread of nuclear weapons.

At the same time Stewart will seek to get the Soviet Union to join Britain and reconvene the 1954 Geneva Conference which settled the French-Indochina fighting and divided the former French colony into Cambodia, Laos and North and South Viet Nam. Britain and the Soviet Union were cochairmen of the conference.

Wilson's aims in the field of nuclear weapons were disclosed last night by high British sources.

His preparations for Viet Nam peace soundings were announced by the prime minister in the House of Commons.

★ ★ ★

When Wilson goes to Washington to meet President Johnson Dec. 17, he hopes to be able to put before the President the first results of British probings of Moscow's views.

EARLIER OPPORTUNITY

Wilson, however, will have an earlier opportunity to talk over the situation both in the nuclear field and in Viet Nam.

He has as his luncheon guest today Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara who stopped here on the way to Paris and Viet Nam.

As far as the Viet Nam war is concerned, Wilson made it clear to the House of Commons that he believes the Communist regime in North Viet Nam remains the major stumbling block to the holding of any peace conference.

★ ★ ★

He said the peace soundings to be made in Moscow and Washington have the aim of staving off "a major war in Asia, or worse."

SEEK CHANGE

"In our desire to get negotiations," Wilson said, "we shall continue to probe for any change of attitude which can bring the parties to the conference table."

He did not say whether Britain plans to raise any new points on the Viet Nam problem or make any new proposals on how the conflict could be ended.

Of his talks next month with President Johnson, he said he did not expect they were "going to end this problem until we can get a positive answer from the Hanoi authorities that they are willing to come to the conference table.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union is opposed to any Western move which would give West Germany any share in the West's nuclear deterrent.

'Imperialism' Parley Slated

Afro-Asians, Latins to Gather in Havana

LONDON (UPI) — A three-continent, 100-nation conference will open in Havana Jan. 3 to align Afro - Asian and Latin-American strategy against worldwide "imperialism and colonialism in all its forms," official sources said today.

A preparatory committee in Prague which has been planning the meeting for some time, yesterday gave the green light to the conference. It will be held in Havana from Jan. 3 to 10, they said.

The conference, which has strong Russian support and is to include also Communist China, may prove a substitute for the Afro-Asian conference which was to have taken place in Algiers earlier this month.

The Algiers meeting was put off indefinitely because of Red Chinese opposition.

★ ★ ★

Peking apparently has been unable to block the Havana meeting where China may find itself in a delicate position of near-isolation — unless it prefers to back out at the last minute.

COMMON PROGRAM

The conference plans to draw up "a common program of action," although no details of its ultimate aims have so far emerged.

But among the plans which have become known is the idea of a joint program for a stepped-up struggle against "imperialism and colonialism in all their forms."

Another issue to be considered is a pledge of solidarity to North Viet Nam.

Further problems are to include disarmament, economic cooperation among the emerging nations in the three continents and the fight against racial discrimination.

Some 100 nations from Africa, Asia and Latin America are expected to participate.

Thanksgiving Road Deaths Taper Down

By The Associated Press

The pace of the nation's traffic deaths since the start of the long Thanksgiving weekend appeared tapering off today after rising steadily yesterday.

The death toll on the highways since the count started at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday was 197, above the normal rate of about 110 fatalities a day during the first nine months this year. The tally period ends at midnight Sunday.

Most of the motor vehicle fatalities occurred singly. However, 11 persons were killed in three separate crashes.

Eight children ranging in age from 1 to 16 years were orphaned last night when their parents and grandmother were killed in a crash near Kenosha, Wis.

Earlier, three persons died in a head-on crash of two cars near Punta Gorda, Fla., and five others lost their lives in a head-on collision of two cars near Dayton, Tex.

Tonight's Showers to Turn Into Flurries

Showers forecast for the Pontiac area tonight will gradually change to snow flurries.

The weatherman predicts temperatures will average near the normal high of 40 and normal low of 29 over the weekend. Lows will dip to 34 to 40 tonight. Highs tomorrow will reach 35 to 42.

Cloudy and colder with snow flurries is the outlook for Sunday.

Southwesterly morning winds at eight miles per hour will increase to 20 to 30 this afternoon and tonight and become westerly tomorrow.

A mild 37 was the low recording at 7 a.m. today. The mercury had crept up to 44 by 1 p.m.

NATO Defense Issue, Nuclear Problems Eyed

Cabinet Member Will Attend Paris Confab, Then Fly to Viet Nam

LONDON (AP) — Robert S. McNamara, U.S. secretary of defense talked over European defense and nuclear problems at luncheon today with Prime Minister Harold Wilson and top figures of the British government.

Among other things, McNamara is investigating the prospects for reaching agreements with the Soviet Union to halt the spread of nuclear weapons without antagonizing the West Germans.

McNamara arrived here from Washington early today.

He will go to Paris to attend the meeting there Saturday of North Atlantic Treaty Organization defense ministers. He then flies to Saigon, South Viet Nam.

★ ★ ★

Informed sources said talks at today's luncheon at No. 10 Downing St. were in the context of European defense and anti-dissemination of nuclear weapons and did not apparently deal with Britain's own defense review.

WAS ACCOMPANIED

McNamara was accompanied by Gen. Earle G. Wheeler, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and John T. Naughton, the assistant secretary of state for international security affairs.

Before lunching with Wilson, McNamara met Foreign Secretary Michael Stewart and Defense Minister Renis Healey.

McNamara and his party arrived at London airport shortly before the West German defense minister, Kai-Uwe Von Hassel, was due to depart for Paris.

★ ★ ★

He has been having talks with Denis Healey and Fred Mulley, deputy secretary for defense and minister of defense for the army.

CURRENT ISSUES

American sources said McNamara and his team hoped to discuss some of the current issues in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, including the ways in which both the United States and Britain would contribute to strengthening the alliance cooperation in the field of nuclear policy.

The meeting of the alliance's defense ministers in Paris Saturday which is expected to be attended by about 10 of the 15 defense ministers, is the

Bomb Halts Power Supply on Zambia-Rhodesia Line

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (UPI) — The rich copper belt in neighboring Zambia was blacked out early today by the apparent bombing of a power tower on the main line from the Kriba Dam.

Officials of the Central African Power Corp., which serves both Rhodesia and Zambia, would make no comment on the power failure.

Zambian police were investigating the explosion which wrecked the tower about 2 a.m. at a point 20 miles south of Kitwe. Kitwe is in Northern Zambia near the Congo border.

By noon, power had been restored to some areas but the main section of the Zambian copper belt was still out.

* * *

Officials hoped to restore normal service within 24 hours. Meanwhile, electricity rationing was imposed on the affected area of Zambia.

NO ORDER GIVEN

Authoritative sources in London said no standby order has been given to British troops to be sent to Zambia and no decision made on Kauda's request for British protection for the Kariba Dam.

Malcolm Macdonald, Britain's roving envoy in East and Central Africa, is at present in Lusaka, Zambia's capital.

There has been no threat from Rhodesia to hamper the supplies and Premier Ian Smith has given assurances that electricity to Zambia, vital to its copper industry, would continue unaffected.

* * *

The Kariba Dam lies across the Zambesi River which forms part of the border between Rhodesia and Zambia. The main power house, however, is on the Rhodesian side.

CABLES SPREAD

Cables radiate out from the powerhouse 280 miles north through Zambia to Kitwe. The power lines in Rhodesia extend to Salisbury and as far south as Bulawayo.

Salisbury is about 165 miles southeast of the dam. Bulawayo is 260 miles farther to the southwest.

All was quiet in the Rhodesian capital of Salisbury following the first sitting yesterday since independence of parliament.

Government typewriters were removed from Sir Humphrey Gibbs' residence at government house this morning, apparently as another step in Smith's announced plan to remove all the trappings of his office.

* * *

The Smith government claims that Gibbs no longer has any status in Rhodesia and appointed Clifford Dupont in his place as "acting officer in charge of government.

Gibbs refuses to leave on grounds the British government still recognizes him as governor and the only authority in Rhodesia.

Speculate Tshombe May Return

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP) — There was speculation today that Moise Tshombe may be called back to the government now that his rival, Joseph Kasavubu, has been ousted from the presidency in a bloodless coup.

Tshombe supporters hailed the coup by Lt. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, who declared himself president Thursday for the next five years.

* * *

Mobutu, the army commander, seized power from Kasavubu and ousted Kasavubu's handpicked premier, Evariste Kimba.

The army "believes its responsibility is to protect the people from anarchy and chaos," Mobutu said.

SWUNG AWAY

A friend of the West, Mobutu apparently believed Kasavubu had swung away from a pro-Western policy.

Kasavubu fired Tshombe as premier Oct. 13, apparently fearing the popular figure as a rival in a presidential election then set for next year. But Tshombe and his supporters in Parliament defeated Kimba, his replacement, on Kimba's first vote of confidence Nov. 14.

* * *

Kasavubu asked Kimba to try to form a new government, but political observers believed Kimba, planned to delay naming his Cabinet until after the scheduled Parliament recess Dec. 6.

Then he would not have to face another confidence vote until March.

SPECULATION

There was speculation that Mobutu might want to make some use of Tshombe, who led the futile secession of Katanga Province after independence from Belgium in 1960.

Mobutu named Col. Leonard Mulamba, a career army officer, as the new premier. Mobutu said Mulamba will present his government for Parliament's approval by Saturday.

Pontiac Hospitals Face Critical Nurse Shortage

By L. GARY THORNE

"Is there a nurse in the house?"

Pontiac hospital officials report a chronic shortage of them — especially highly trained registered nurses.

The need is a lingering one.

It dates back about five years, according to Pontiac General Hospital Administrator Harold B. Euler.

* * *

Often the nursing shortage is critical.

● Pontiac General's intensive care unit had to be closed for three weeks this summer because of a shortage of nursing personnel.

● Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital has 78 beds that are not in use and have not been in use for about two years because of the nursing shortage.

TOTAL NEEDED

Pontiac General, Pontiac Osteopathic and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital need a total of 74 registered nurses and 44 practical nurses.

One method of combatting the nursing shortage has been through the use of part-time nurses.

Pontiac Osteopathic employs 15-20 part-time registered nurses.

* * *

Pontiac General has 79 part-time R.N.'s, and St. Joseph Mercy Hospital has 57.

PRACTICAL NURSES

Local hospitals also need more practical nurses. Officials at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital report they need 15 more, while Pontiac General needs 29 more.

However, local hospital spokesmen are particularly concerned with the shortage of the highly trained registered nurses.

The three hospitals offer competitive salaries.

* * *

"We have to, in order to get nurses," said one official.

REGISTERED NURSES

Pontiac General needs 11 more R. N.'s, while St. Joseph's needs 23 and Pontiac Osteopathic requires about 40 more such nurses.

On the basis of its 401 beds, Pontiac General should have 132 full-time registered nurses and 144 practical nurses.

Instead, there are 83 full-time registered nurses, 79 part-time (equal to 38 full-time) and 115 full-time practical nurses.

* * *

St. Joseph Mercy Hospital requires 136 full-time R.N.'s and 84 practical nurses.

TOTAL NURSES

The hospital has 84 full-time R.N.'s, 57 part-time (equal to 29 full-time) and 69 full-time practical nurses.

Currently Pontiac Osteopathic has about 15 part-time and 45 full-time R.N.'s and 42 full-time practical nurses. This in effect, equals 52 full-time R.N.'s where 92 could be utilized.

There are two rays of hope for the local nursing shortage.

* * *

One is Oakland Community College and the other is the projected Michigan College of Osteopathy in Pontiac.

2-YEAR PROGRAM

The former institution has instituted a two-year nursing program.

The osteopathic college, when it begins operations, will turn out not only doctors but also the auxiliary personnel, such as nurses necessary in the healing profession.

* * *

Hoepfully these two schools will be able to eventually ease the shortage of nurses.

	PRESENT STAFF	REQUIRED STAFF	DEFICIT

Law Enforcement Training Plan Will Be Outlined to Officials

A proposed countywide law enforcement training program and its budgetary requirements will be outlined Wednesday to officials of county governmental units.

The 7:30 a.m. breakfast meeting at the supervisors' auditorium in the courthouse was called by the special committee created by the County Board of Supervisors to study enforcement problems.

Police chiefs and heads of city, township and village governmental units from across the county have been invited.

The study committee on law enforcement problems was established in September at the suggestion of Circuit Court Judge Arthur E. Moore to determine how police can perform at maximum efficiency in the face of present restrictive laws.

Early in its series of meeting the committee decided that more police training is necessary.

GUIDELINES

Tentative budgets and curriculum guidelines for a proposed countywide training program was introduced at the committee's Nov. 3 meeting.

Since income in the proposed budget hinges on the extent of participation by county law enforcement units, the committee called Wednesday's general meeting to present its proposal.

Expenditures in one suggested budget ranged from $26,700 to $34,700 and another pinpointed outlay at $31,608.

outcome of a recommendation last May by McNamara.

He suggested that a select committee of four or five alliance members should be created to discuss nuclear matters.

* * *

NUCLEAR PLANNING

It will study ways of improving consultations and extending allied participation in nuclear planning and will make an interim report to the meeting of the full North Atlantic Council administrative level in Paris in December.

Before leaving Washington, McNamara told newsmen, "You can expect increasing emphasis" on the bombing operations against the North Vietnamese infiltration routes in South Viet Nam.

When asked why he was going to Viet Nam, McNamara replied that since he and Wheeler were last there, "U.S. forces there have been almost tripled in strength."

* * *

He said there also have been changes in the status of operations and in the "outlook for the future."

NO PREDICTION

Asked if he expects U.S. casualties to increase, he said, "I don't wish to predict the outlook for U.S. casualties."

But then he added "I do want to emphasize the very favorable outcome of the battle that has been raging in the central highlands for the last 10 days."

He said the Viet Cong casualties were about 2,500 and that "U.S. South Vietnamese forces fought magnificantly with tremendous effect."

Lane said the return was 3 per cent lower than the normal 10 per cent for such surveys, indication "the general public knows our state is in good financial condition."

Lane pointed to a treasury surplus of $135 million reported last July and said, "People feel, as I always have contended, that it's unethical, immoral and even illegal to impose and collect new taxes when there is money in the bank for some time to come."

Power Failure Darkens 200 Cass Lake Homes

About 200 homes on the north shore of Cass Lake in West Bloomfield Township were without electricity for about three hours yesterday because of a power failure.

LeMay Views Viet Handling

'Would Tell Hanoi to Halt Tactics or Else'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gen. Curtis E. LeMay, who argues that it is immoral to use less force than necessary in warfare, says he would handle the present Viet Nam conflict by telling the Hanoi regime:

"They have got to draw in their horns and stop their aggression, or we are going to bomb them back into the stone age."

* * *

The four-star Air Force general, in his autobiography, "Mission With LeMay," writes that he was "all by myself" more than three years ago when as air chief of staff he advocated attacking North Viet Nam.

"Then the Marines came around to agreeing with me," the general says, "and we were together in the opinion.

BEGAN TO SEE

"Then, two or three months before I retired, the Army and the Navy began to see what we were talking about."

He said that finally the entire Joint Chiefs of Staff "recommended the northern approach."

* * *

LeMay's account of his 35-year career includes a firm endorsement of the use of all the force necessary and available to defeat an enemy.

"Actually," the general writes, "I think it's more immoral to use less force than necessary, than it is to use more. If you use less force, you kill off more of humanity in the long run, because you are merely protracting the struggle."

SHARP ATTACKS

The book had been expected by some to include sharp attacks on President Johnson and Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara.

But LeMay said: "I shall suffice to say that I did not hold many of the same views held by Secretary McNamara with regard to our military posture, and do not agree with many of the acts or attitudes of the administration."

* * *

He adds: "In the Pentagon I carried out every order issued to me to the best of my ability."

But LeMay does say that military officials did object to one of McNamara's methods.

* * *

"What we did object to was the secretary's saying, 'no,' to something the military wished to do, and giving a military reason for his action. Probably thus he and his coterie were setting themselves up as military experts," Lemay said.

Dies at Pontiac Police Station

A 49-year-old man, apparently suffering from hallucinations, died late yesterday afternoon at the Pontiac police station, shortly after he had been taken into custody by officers.

Dead is James K. Roberts, 49, of 76 Fairgrove, an employe of Pontiac Motor Division.

Roberts died at the station despite efforts of Pontiac firemen to revive him.

Dr. Richard Olsen performed an autopsy this morning which he called "unsatisfactory."

Dr. Bernard Berman, Oakland County health director, said preliminary results were quite inconclusive and that further tests would be forthcoming.

Police Chief Joins In to Criticize Prosecutor

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Police Chief Norman H. Dehnke has joined Township Justice of the Peace Mrs. Alice Gilbert in criticism of the Oakland County prosecutor's handling of lower court cases.

In a letter to County Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson, Dehnke refers to the "very serious situation" arising from the prosecutor's boycott of Mrs. Gilbert's court.

The justice of the peace and the prosecutor are involved in a dispute over the central court established in Pontiac for county justices of the peace.

Mrs. Gilbert refused to use the courtroom, which had been revised by Bronson.

SUIT PENDING

She countered with a Circuit Court suit which still is pending before Judge Clark J. Adams.

Meanwhile, law enforcement in the township is suffering, according to Dehnke.

He said in the letter written Tuesday that too many officers are being kept out of service by appearances before "various judges throughout the county."

* * *

"This morning alone saw the township with only one car in service," Dehnke reported. "The remaining three were transporting prisoners from the various courts."

HAULING PRISONERS

The problem Tuesday was that police took three defendants to the office of West Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace another three at the county jail in Pontiac, took two of these to Powell and one to Mrs. Gilbert and then returned all to either the Township Hall or the county jail.

"This situation probably could have been eliminated some cooperation from members of your staff," Dehnke told Bronson.

The chief said he asked that these cases be referred to Mrs. Gilbert but that he was told it was impossible.

* * *

Besides leaving only one patrol car to cover 25 square miles, the situation Tuesday brought a delay in justice to the point where one defendant's attorney was threatening to obtain a court order for release of the man.

SILENCE BROKEN

Dehnke said his silence on the central court matter had been broken by the problems caused by the prosecutor's orders.

"I can see no benefit to this department or the township in your plans for one central court, especially when this plan takes the needed manpower from the road and places it in an isolated court where on two occasions the officers have sat for some two to three hours before they were called," he wrote.

Dehnke noted his letter was a formal request that the prosecutor's staff honor the wishes of Bloomfield Township police so that acse can be handled "conveniently and with dispatch and also without our citizens suffering the loss of protection."

Independence Rezoning Request

Hearing on Disputed Junk Yard Dec. 7

By [illegible] Writer

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—A controversial rezoning request for establishment of an automobile junk yard will be given a hearing Dec. 7.

It's a foregone conclusion that there will be fireworks aplenty before the township board passes judgment on Roy's proposed junk yard on White Lake Road, about two miles from Clarkston.

"We expect at least 200 persons will be here," said Township Clerk Howard Altman, who prefers to offer no official opinion until the hearing.

Independence Township is mostly residential. What little industry it has is concentrated in a portion of Section 31 in the extreme southwest corner. There are no sewer and water systems.

* * *

The proposed junk yard would be located in the area where four townships, Independence, Waterford, Springfield and White Lake converge.

SOME SUPPORT

Although Roy has some support, he apparently is far outnumbered by the opposition as indicated at recent meetings.

Nonetheless, the township planning commission unanimously recommended approval of the proposal.

Roy seeks to have the entire 15.7-acre site—purchased seven months ago for $18,500—rezoned from suburban farms to manufacturing-2. However, only about half of the land would be used for a junk yard, according to the proposed agreement.

* * *

The site is situated near the Grand Trunk Western Railroad crossing on White Lake Road between Dixie Highway and Andersonville Road.

MANUFACTURING

Most of the land in the immediate area is presently zoned manufacturing-2. The area includes a Standard Oil bulk station, the Ann Arbor Construction Co., an old coal yard, other manufacturing buildings and six homes.

The proposed agreement makes it mandatory — if the junk yard is approved — for Roy to install fencing and a greenbelt around the property so none of the operation is visible from any public highway.

"Definitely impossible!" says Terry L. Kelley, a spokesman for Jack's Green Lake Subdivision, where 65 families reportedly are violently opposed to the junk yard.

* * *

The subdivision is situated six-tenths of a mile north of Roy's property.

NO CONCEALMENT

Kelly of 6952 Tappon contends that a hill on nearby Clement Road would make it impossible to conceal the junk cars unless a roof is constructed over the yard.

"So this is a very important flaw in the agreement for which he would have to come up with some type of solution," Kelley said.

He insists that opposition prevails throughout the township and that people "dread the possibility of ever permitting this type of operation in the township."

The 23-year-old co-owner of the Clarkston Lumber Co. said the operation would plague nearby residents and lower property values.

He pointed out that White Lake Road is a primary highway with easy access to the village of Clarkston. "This is not an out-of-the-way place where they are trying to put this," he said.

Roy, owner of Roy Brothers Standard Service at 6765 Dixie, wholeheartedly disagrees.

"This definitely is the only place in the township for a junk yard," he said.

* * *

HALT ORDERED

However, the township board ordered a halt to the operation Oct. 7, giving Roy until next Tuesday to clear out his cars.

"Where am I going to move them?" asks Roy. "You've got to have a spot for these things. I'm waiting for someone to tell me where to take them."

Hiring Survey Proposed

WASHINGTON (AP) — A survey of minority hiring practices among 60,000 of the nation's largest employers has been proposed by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission.

★ ★ ★

Commission Chairman Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. said Thursday night the proposed employer reports would provide more detailed information about the nation's minority employment patterns than any other government survey in existence.

A public hearing on the proposed survey is scheduled for Dec. 16. Approval of the budget bureau also is required.

★ ★ ★

If approved, the first employer report would be due next March 31. Employers from whom reports would be sought are those covered by the Civil Rights Act of 1964, which prohibits discrimination by employers and unions in hiring, firing, training, referrals and promotions.

Commission officials said reporting requirements for labor unions and employment agencies are still being studied.

Data collection will include sex and race identification of employes.

De Gaulle Reverses Self, Plans Speech

PARIS (UPI) — President Charles de Gaulle today reversed himself and decided to make an election campaign speech to the nation next Tuesday.

De Gaulle is running for re-election Dec. 5. Earlier he had announced he would not campaign actively except for an eight-minute radio and television address Dec. 3.

But members of his government urged him to strike back at his five opponents and today a spokesman announced de Gaulle will make a 15 minute radio and television speech Nov. 30. De Gaulle is a heavy favorite to win the election.

Are You Bride-to-Be?

Are you planning a wedding in 1965?

We are interested in having your engagement and wedding news. But we need your cooperation.

The Pontiac Press has printed forms for both engagement and wedding announcements. But you may send in the details, giving full names and addresses (husband's names for a married woman) and other pertinent details.

Please include a telephone number so that we may check if necessary.

TIME LAPSE

There must be two months between engagement and wedding stories, if there is to be a picture with both.

No engagements are announced less than a month before the wedding date.

We prefer to receive wedding stories and pictures before the ceremony.

If pictures are taken at the wedding, we must have them no later than two days after the ceremony (that is, by noon Tuesday for Saturday weddings.)

If the wedding takes place out of town, this deadline is extended.

BEST PICTURES

Pictures should be black and white, preferably glossy prints. Snapshots cannot be used. Color and tinted prints are not acceptable.

While The Pontiac Press makes no promise to use every picture submitted, some printed mention of the event will be made.

There is no charge for editorial space, but it cannot be reserved nor can we promise the size of picture or its position.

Engagement and wedding pictures are kept for two months, then discarded. They may be called for any time after publication.

Christening Invitation Question

By The Emily Post Institute

Our infant son is going to be christened in two weeks. We are planning to have a reception at home after the christening for relatives and friends.

As this is a first experience for me, will you please tell me what kind of invitations to send and also I would appreciate any helpful information you can give me concerning the party itself.

A: Christening invitations are usually given over the telephone or in a personal note similar to the following: "Dear Jane, We are having Kenneth christened on Sunday at 3:00 in Christ's Church.

"Would you and Bob come to the ceremony at the church, and join us afterward at our house?"

Or a message may be written on your Mr. and Mrs. visiting card saying simply: "Baby's christening, St. Mary's Church, November 30th, 3 o'clock. Refreshments at our house afterward."

The only difference between an ordinary informal reception and a christening party is that the latter features christening cake and caudle.

The christening cake is generally a white "lady" cake elaborately iced. A real caudle is a hot eggnog, drunk out of little punch cups.

But today champagne or punch is usually substituted for the caudle, and those who have an aversion to a punch are often offered a highball.

★ ★ ★ ★

Guests eat the cake as a sign that they partake of the baby's hospitality and are therefore his friends, and they drink the punch to his health and prosperity.

GUEST IS SEATED FIRST

Q: When a man takes his wife and a woman guest to dinner in a restaurant and there is no waiter at hand to seat them, who does the husband seat first — his wife or the guest?

A: He helps seat the guest first and then at least makes the gesture of helping his wife who by that time has probably seated herself.

'Fantastiks' to Open Meadow Brook Guild

Meadow Brook Theatre Guild, Oakland University, opens in its first musical comedy Thursday night with a production of the off-Broadway success "The Fantastiks."

★ ★ ★

The production which has been running for more than five years in New York is still a top theatrical attraction.

★ ★ ★

OU theatre director Tom Aston said, "I don't think I've ever seen a musical — with the possible exception of 'Stop the World' — that has such a consistently strong core.

"Songs like 'Try to Remember,' 'Soon It's Gonna Rain,' 'Plant a Radish,' 'Much More' and a number of others . . . have made the 'Fantastiks' a rich source of songs for such popular recording artists as Barbra Streisand and Robert Goulet."

★ ★ ★

Mr. Aston has followed the original orchestration for piano, harp, bass and drums for the Oakland production. Sophomore Mary Wright of Lansing does musical direction for the show and doubles as pianist.

COFFIN STARS

Rochester sophomore Will Coffin plays the role of the old actor in the show.

Coffin entered OU this fall after spending a year in Hollywood where he worked as a bit player in the movie "The Hallelujah Trail" and was featured in a filmed television ad. He is the son of television actress Winnie Coffin.

★ ★ ★

This Baritone at Symphony

Rodney Stenborg, baritone, will be the featured artist at Tuesday evening's program of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

★ ★ ★

Concert time is 8:30 p.m. in the Pontiac Northern High School Auditorium.

★ ★ ★

Stenborg is a finalist in the Metropolitan Opera Association's auditions.

★ ★ ★

He is also the 1964 winner of the Grinnell Foundation of Music Voice Scholarship, a graduate of the Curtis Institute of Music, Detroit Conservatory of Music, and winner of a Fulbright Scholarship for study in Germany.

★ ★ ★

He has appeared with the Santa Fe Opera and the Philadelphia Orchestra.

RODNEY STENBORG

Detroit freshman Marylyn Keppel is handling choreography.

THREE PERFORMANCES

Performances will run for three nights, through Saturday. Tickets for the 8:30 p.m. shows may be purchased at Oakland's Little Theatre box office in the sports and recreation building or by calling the university.

If He Can Hear It's All Right

Keeps His Head Warm?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Don't you think a guy should be able to wear his hair the way he wants? I am 17 and ride a Honda to school. It gets cold here in the winter, and that's one of the reasons I want to keep my hair long.

ABBY

Also, a lot of guys at school have even longer hair than mine. I keep my hair nicely combed all the time, but my parents say I should get it cut shorter. What do you say?

STEVE S.

DEAR STEVE: If your hair is kept clean and nicely groomed at all times, I see no reason why you shouldn't be able to wear it the way you want to, providing it's not so long it interferes with your hearing.

But if you are thinking of growing you own fur hat for the winter, forget it. You'd be ahead to buy one, if your parents go on the warpath every time they look at your overgrown pelt.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: You said that if a man suddenly stopped dating a girl, he owed her no explanation.

Abby, men are irresponsible enough without your advising them to love 'em and leave 'em. If a man thinks enough of a girl to take up her time, then he should be man enough to tell her why he doesn't care to date her any more.

It would help her to know if he's had a change of heart, met someone else, or maybe because she wears too much make-up. I've had many men break off with me without so much as a "kiss my foot."

Since none of them were kind enough to tell me why they dropped me, I'll probably just go on making the same mistakes.

LOUISVILLE

DEAR LOUISVILLE: I agree, it would be very helpful for a girl to know why a man dropped her, but the question was, "Does he OWE her an explanation?"

I maintain, if she was only a date, he does not. (If the man promised marriage, that's another story.) For a candid, "What's the matter with me" session, recruit a man who's only a friend.

He'll level with you. But don't expect that kind of criticism from a currently snuffed-out flame.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THANKS, ANYWAY" IN LAKE FOREST: You are very welcome. Sometimes a good scare is better than advice. Don't let it happen again.

She Has Mixed Feelings on Double Role

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second in a three-part series in which local working mothers discuss their home life and busy schedules as part of the American labor force.)

By MARGARET BROWN

Mrs. Larry L. Kompus of Thorpe Street, a registered nurse at Pontiac General Hospital, confesses that the "working mother guilt complex" at times has haunted her.

"I seem to have mixed feelings," said Mrs. Kompus, a warm and soft-spoken mother of two pre-schoolers. "I naturally love my job — having been trained for it — yet I really feel I should be home. If the children seem happy, I'm fine; but if they're not, I'm miserable."

★ ★ ★

The conscientious mother added that sometimes when she and her husband leave the children for an evening out, she finds herself thinking, "We should be with them."

Her husband is a resident in psychiatry at Wayne State University's Lafayette Clinic.

"I do feel that right now we lack considerably in the area of family togetherness," she added, "especially with my having to work weekends so often.

"The children are beautifully adjusted, though, as my working is all they've ever known. Sometimes before my day off, they'll ask, 'Are you going to babysit with us tomorrow?'"

KANSAS PAIR

The Kompuses came to Michigan from Kansas where she was graduated in 1959 from Marymount College, Salina.

"Actually, I've never really known what it's like to be home, except for those few months after the children were born," she said in her pleasingly low midwestern accent.

"Until this year, I worked to help my husband through medical school and to keep us going."

Mrs. Kompus says she is working now primarily to keep the family on an even financial keel and for a few "little extras."

★ ★ ★

One certainly couldn't say that Mrs. Kompus is working to escape boredom.

Asked if she felt as though she might be "vegetating" when at home, she replied, "Oh no. I think women who try always can find something to occupy more than their time; there are all sorts of hobbies and one can read."

PLANS BETTER

Mrs. Kompus feels her job has made her more efficient at home: "You fall into a pattern when you work."

In fact, she added candidly, "When I have been home for any extended period of time, I've had trouble getting organized early in the day."

Very likely, because she always has had to start work at 7 a.m., Mrs. Kompus would rather ". . . stay up late to do housework, than arise early on days off."

As with so many working mothers, Mrs. Kompus keenly feels a lack of free time and sleep. "I need eight days a week instead of seven and at the end of my six-day stretch at the hospital, I really need to sleep later on day-off mornings."

In spite of the often tiring pace, Mrs. Kompus says that "Everything somehow works in its place."

The couple has no domestic help, but their baby sitter assists with ironings, dusting and dishes. "I never come home to an untidy kitchen," she said—a confrontation that would dismay any weary working mother.

SPACES WORK

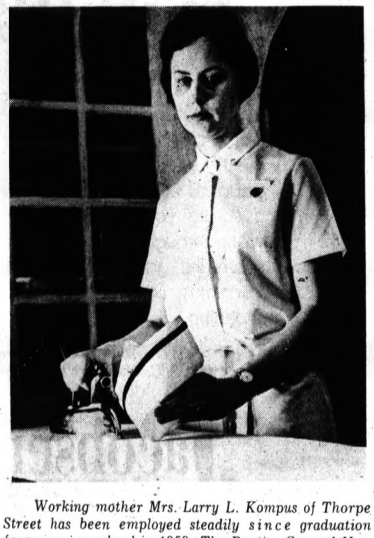
Mrs. Kompus tries to wash several loads of clothes and to do as little ironing and dusting during the week. But cleaning is reserved for her days off.

Devoting time to her youngsters evenings, Mrs. Kompus places the "Mary Poppins" album on their impressive stereo, high-fidelity console, and "They dance about in the living room while I prepare dinner. I try to spend time with them exclusively until 6:30 when their father arrives for dinner.

★ ★ ★

"My husband doesn't expect a lot in housekeeping; he understands. We kid a lot about my working," she said.

Sometimes on days off when the children "squabble" (as brothers and sisters are wont to do), Dr. Kompus, noting his wife's frayed disposition, will tease, "And you mean you'd like to stay home!"



Working mother Mrs. Larry L. Kompus of Thorpe Street has been employed steadily since graduation from nursing school in 1959. The Pontiac General Hospital nurse has quit work only for brief periods after the births of her small son and daughter.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

I don't know where the expression came from but do you remember it a few years ago? "How high is high?" Today I am writing about, "How fat is fat?" If a woman is very much overweight, of course she knows it.

If she has been the correct weight for years and suddenly finds that she must use a safety pin to fasten her skirt and is afraid to take a deep breath for fear of splitting the seams, SHE KNOWS IT!

However, for the one who is moderately overweight or pleasingly plump it is sometimes difficult for her to know just what her ideal weight is. The decision is often also confused by varying opinions of family and friends.

One will say, "Don't pay any attention to what they say. You are not overweight! You are just right." Another, "I hate to tell you, but you really are getting fat and it's not becoming to you."

HOW MUCH?

How fat is fat, or when are you fat? How do you determine this? There are excellent height and weight charts available which give you the ideal weights if you have a small, medium or a large build. One of these will guide you.

Then you can judge somewhat simply by the way you look and the way you feel. You must be honest with yourself and look at yourself objectively.

There is also the "pinch test." Pinch yourself on the back of your upper arm or on your abdomen. If you get an inch or more between your thumb and fingers watch out!

Life insurance companies have proven that those who are overweight do not live as long as those of normal or less poundage. Of course, there are exceptions. Therefore your ideal weight is the weight at which you are apt to live longest.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company says that a person's desirable weight is what he or she weighed at the age of 25. You are allowed 10 per cent plus or minus. More weight than that and you are approaching the obese classification.

GUIDES

The sizes of the wrists and ankles have been considered by some to be a guide as to body build. You can, to some extent, classify your own frame. However, the wrist does not seem to me to be a very reliable gauge. Lots of women with a medium build have very small wrists.

If you would like to have my calorie chart send a stamped, self - addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Polly's Pointers

Door Opens Pop

DEAR POLLY — While on a picnic we found ourselves without a bottle opener for the pop. My husband discovered that the car door latch makes an excellent bottle opener.—MRS. D. L. L.

FRIENDS — This may not work on all cars but it certainly does on some of them. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY — On a recent trip I thought up a gift idea I would like to pass on to the readers. I collected books of matches from various places where we ate and stayed overnight.

These I used to fill small and inexpensive apothecary jars to give to friends for use in their kitchens or elsewhere. — MRS. E. D. W.

DEAR POLLY — Cub Scouts can make inexpensive fire extinguishers as gifts for mom and dad. Put about ¼-cup of rice in a medium-sized plastic detergent bottle and then fill with bicarbonate of soda.

The rice absorbs moisture and prevents the soda from caking. Put the cap back on and make a few holes around the top. Squeeze the bottle and the flying soda will immediately extinguish a small blaze. — MRS. W. S.

DEAR POLLY — When I go shopping I always write down the serial numbers of any bills over one dollar. This list is put in my purse. In case there is a disagreement in regard to the size of a bill given to a clerk, all they have to do is to check the 5-, 10- and 20-dollar bills and the entire register does not have to be counted.

If the serial number on your list matches one of these, that is it. Those who have ever stood in line while a cash register is being checked will know what I mean and how this would help.—MRS. M. A. P.

DEAR POLLY — The season is here when many of us are spraying pine cones, seed pods and the like with gold paint. Sometimes the result seems dull unless a number of coats are used. I have found it helpful to first give such material a light coat of white and then fewer coats of gold are necessary to get a bright color. — MRS. G. E. M.

DEAR POLLY — After I buy a package of school lunch bags, I use a marking pencil to write my child's name and school bus number on each of the sacks and then slip them back in the band.—MRS. E. E.

The eight chapters in Polly Cramer's new booklet, "Polly's Christmas Pointers!" are: "Gifts for Women," "Gifts for Men," "Gifts for Children," "Let's Decorate," "Company's Coming," "Easy Does It," "Wrap It Up" and "Odds and Ends." To Inaugurate New Asia Bank

Seen as Step to Put East Nations on Feet

WASHINGTON (UPI)—White House adviser Eugene R. Black meets in Manila next week with representatives of 23 other countries to inaugurate formally the Development Bank which President Johnson sees as a step toward getting Asia on its own two feet economically.

* * *

Black is scheduled to leave Washington tomorrow for the Manila meeting, at which delegates will sign the charter for the bank and put the finishing touches on plans for the organization.

A former World Bank president, Black was named by Johnson last April to oversee U.S. participation in the project. The President announced Black's selection for the job in a speech in which he asked for $1 billion in capital for the institution.

A total of $850 million has already been pledged for the bank, which was first proposed by Asians two years ago. The United States and Japan will contribute $200 million each, with five other Western nations planning to chip in $265 million among them.

* * *

In addition to its economic possibilities, U.S. officials also believe the bank can help unify all of Asia — from Iran to Korea — against the power of Communist China.

RUSSIA INVITED

When Johnson threw his support behind the proposal last spring he invited the Russians into the bank. They are not expected to take him up on the offer as long as North Viet Nam is fighting with South Viet Nam and the United States, which both will be charter members.

But the Soviet Union did send a representative to a charter-drafting session in Bankok last month and hinted boradly that it might take part in specific projects financed by the bank. The Bangkok meeting was the first world monetary session Russia has attended in 20 years.

The Russians are just as aware as the United States of the political stakes. By helping the bank, Russia can show the Asians she is a better friend than China.

Black told UPI there was "a great desire" on the part of Asian countries to have their own regional bank. Latin America and Africa have development banks and the Asians "are very keen on it for themselves," Black said.

* * *

In addition to the United States, other Western countries participating and their contributions are Belgium, $5 million; Canada, $25 million; Italy, $10 million; Netherlands, $11 million; United Kingdom, $10 million.

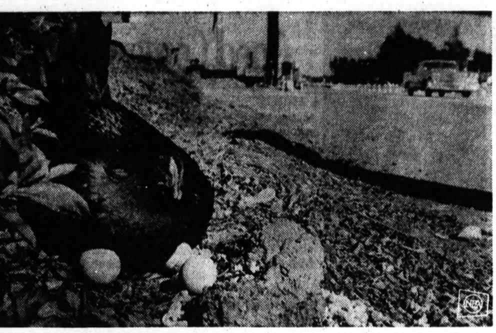
Israeli Cabinet Minister on Official Bonn Visit

BONN, Germany (AP) —An Israeli Cabinet minister came to Bonn today for the first time since that country established diplomatic relations with West Germany.

He is Hayim Zadok, minister of trade and industry, who is touring the capitals of the European Common Market countries.



NEST BY THE SIDE OF THE ROAD—Not why she crossed the road but why she chose the edge of a heavily traveled street at Ventura, Calif., as a nesting site is the question posed by this black hen. The apparently unflappable mother-to-be deposited her eggs on the dirt shoulder and goes on about the business of hatching them, unfazed by traffic roaring by only a few feet away.

Labor Costs Are Steady

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Wage gains this year are running ahead of either 1964 or 1963 but the labor costs per unit of output are holding steady — thus spiking some of the recently rising fears of inflation. And it will try hard to block another threat of inflation-rising prices.

Only the government's own leaning toward easy money and credit is seen now as a possible immediate threat. By further increasing the monetary supplies, this could start the economy overheating and thus set inflationary fires going again.

DAWSON

Generous wage contracts have been the most suspect this year. And the Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that negotiations in the first nine months of this year gave some 2.2 million workers an average wage increase of 4.2 per cent. In the like 1964 period the gain was 3.2 per cent. In 1963 the increase was 3.1 per cent. Only wages are included. Fringe benefits aren't.

Also not included are automatic wage increases this year for 3.5 million workers from contracts negotiated in prior years.

GAINS INCREASE

The wage boosts this year exceed the 3.2 per cent guidelines set by the government as within the average annual gain in the economy's productivity over the last five years. But the bureau says that if the wage increases are averaged out over the length of the contract—some running two or more years ahead—the gains are within the guidelines, since the first-year pay boost usually is much larger than the later ones.

* * *

But more likely to quiet the nerves of those who fear another inflationary burst is in the making is the index of unit labor costs kept by the Census Bureau. This has remained in a narrow range now for seven years, in contrast to the big advances that followed the Korean War.

The index now uses the 1957-59 average as 100. The October index of labor costs per unit of production figures out at 100.6, the same as in October 1962, and even down a bit from this September. The high point in recent years was 101.2 in October 1964.

MEANINGFUL

These prosaic figures mean a lot to businessmen—and give consumers a hint of what to expect. They show that while wage gains this year have been generous by the standards of the previous two or three years, mechanization and efficiency have kept production costs in line, as measured by factory payrolls.

Price rises in raw materials have plagued many manufacturers. And most businessmen find their costs for transportation, distribution and retailing are rising. This puts pressure on them to raise their prices—where competition will permit it, consumers won't stop buying, and the government will look the other way.

While the current figures on labor costs is encouraging to those who want to see inflation headed off, there are some problems sighted on the horizon.

One is the growing shortage of skilled labor in many fields. When the labor market gets tight, employers will raise wage offers.

UNDER PRESSURE

Another fear is based on the growing volume of sales and production which is straining present facilities of some firms, some industries. Tight production schedules put pressure for higher prices.

And a third threat is seen in the escalating defense demands, which some fear are more likely to overheat the economy than is the larger wage scale that millions of workers have won this year.

Suit Begins in Alabama on Seating Negro Jurors

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A three-judge federal court opens a hearing today on a suit aimed at getting more Negroes listed on the jury rolls in Lowndes County, scene of two civil rights slayings this year.

The Negroes who filed the suit, the Justice Department, and the Episcopal Society For Cultural and Racial Unity contend that only a fractional number of Negroes have been used on juries in the county, although 80 per cent of Lowndes County's population is Negro.

* * *

The government claims that it has been the practice of Lowndes County for a half-century to keep Negroes off juries because of their race.

The suit was filed prior to President Johnson's announcement that he will ask Congress for passage of new civil rights legislation to "prevent injustice to Negroes at the hands of all-white juries." It was brought by several Lowndes County Negroes, with the aid of the American Civil Liberties Union, and amended to allow the Justice Department and the Episcopal group to intervene.

SUITS FILED

Only Lowndes County is involved but other suits have been filed involving other Alabama counties.

The suit also challenges the Alabama law prohibiting women from serving on State Court juries. The Justice Department, however, did not enter into that issue. The petition filed by Atty. Gen. Nicholas Katzenbach seeks only to forbid discrimination on the basis of "race or color."

* * *

The suit was filed six days after an Episcopal seminary student, Jonathan Daniels of Keene, N.H., was killed by a shotgun blast in Hayneville, the Lowndes County seat.

The 26-year-old Daniels was the second civil rights worker killed in Lowndes County this year. In March, Mrs. Viola Gregg Liuzzo, a white Detroit housewife, was shot to death as she drove along Highway 80 near Lowndesboro.

JURY ACQUITS

An all-white Circuit Court jury acquitted Thomas L. Coleman, a Hayneville highway engineer and part-time special deputy sheriff, of a manslaughter charge stemming from the death of Daniels. There were no Negroes on the panel from which the jury was chosen for that trial in Hayneville, although they have been on juries in times past.

A month later, Ku Klux Klansman Collie Leroy Wilkins Jr., a Fairfield, Ala., mechanic, went on trial in the same courtroom for the second time in the slaying of Mrs. Liuzzo. He also was acquitted by an all-white jury.

Another jury had earlier failed to reach a verdict in the Wilkins case. Wilkins was one of three Klansmen charged with murder in the slaying. The other two, who have not been tried, are William O. Eaton and Eugene Thomas.

There were seven Negroes on the panel of 70 men from which the second trial jury was chosen, though none actually sat on the case.

Q) "We have Westinghouse Electric for which we paid 36. We've held this stock for 3½ years and in relation to some other stocks, ours hasn't done well. We were considering switching this stock into Magnavox, Would you advise this?" S. F.

A) I don't think you've done too badly with Westinghouse, which shows a 60 per cent gain in price from the level at which you bought it. Strong cost controls measures brought about a sharp gain in earnings in 1964, after a decade of rather spotty performance. Based on an estimated $2.80 a share for 1965, WX sells at a price-earnings ratio of 21, which is not historically high for this stock.

Magnavox has been an outstanding performer this year due largely to its strong position in color TV. The demand for this high-margined product exceeds supply and may continue so for some time. The shares have an earnings multiplier of 25, if my estimate of $2.90 per share for this year is correct. If you want a more colorful and dynamic stock than Westinghouse, and can assume greater market risk, I advise you to make the switch.

Q) "I invested $1,900 in International Business Machines when I was a young man in 1940, and the market value has now increased to $146,000. Would you advise holding for further growth or do you think it is wise to take part profits?" C. P.

A) IBM is one of the strongest growth stocks on the Big Board. It dominates the computer field and should continue to do so, thanks to very effective management. The stock should continue to expand and enhance your capital.

There is a very sound investment rule, however, that no one should hold more than he can afford to lose in any one stock. For diversification only, I suggest the sale of all but 100 shares of IBM and reinvestment of process in other strong growth issues so frequently mentioned here.
