China Pledges to Fight With Soviet in Europe

Senate Passes $22 Million Hike in Business Tax

But House GOP Faces Stiff Battle to Put Over $30 Million Increase

LANSING (AP) — A three-pronged attack on an impending state deficit was being fought in the Michigan Legislature today.

Senate Republicans gave their answer, passing a $22,500,000 increase in the business receipts tax on a 20-8 vote. It would increase the rate of levy from four mills to six.

But House Republicans, trying a $30,000,000 boost in the same tax, plus a revision of the computing method, faced a stiff test in the House.

Success depended entirely on the ability of Republicans to stand together. Loss of three votes to the Democrats could spell doom for the proposal.

Republicans won a victory yesterday on the tax issue, but their one-vote margin left many party leaders gloomy about Republican chances on today's vote.

Whipping members into line at two caucuses, the Republicans defeated a Democratic maneuver to substitute Gov. Williams' corporation profits tax for a Republican-sponsored corporations franchise tax bill. The vote was 45-44.

The corporations profits tax, repeatedly urged on legislators by Gov. Williams, has been bottled up in the general taxation committee.

Democrats pinned their hopes on subbing the bill for the franchise tax, up for technical changes. They were expected to make a second try today.

If the House business receipts tax becomes law, the rates for most businesses would be hiked from four to seven mills. Public utilities would have to pay two mills instead of one, and multi-state businesses would be taxed on a "three-factor" formula.

The bill passed in the Senate made no change in the taxing method.

Fast Veto Seen for Postal Bill

President Expected to Reject Pay Increase of 8.8 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—A quick presidential veto, perhaps by Monday, reportedly awaits a bill to raise postal workers' pay 8.8 per cent. Sen. Carlson (R-Kan) said he is certain the Senate will sustain the veto if it comes.

The Senate passed the compromise measure 66-11 late yesterday and sent it to President Eisenhower. The House acted Monday 328-66.

Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) was among 64 senators who voted yesterday to adopt the postal pay conference report and send it to the White House. Sen. Potter (R-Mich) was one of 11 who voted against the move.

Carlson said the President never had discussed a veto with him, but it was learned the White House has told key Republican lawmakers they can expect a veto message quickly.

Eisenhower, who favored a smaller raise, has said publicly only that he would study the matter carefully.

The 66-11 tally was far more than enough to override a veto, but Carlson said there would be many switches if and when the question of sustaining the President arises.

Yesterday, 37 Democrats and 29 Republicans supported the compromise. Eleven Republicans voted "No."

Carlson said he would be ready immediately with a 7.6 per cent postal pay bill if the 8.8 per cent measure is killed.

Our Parks Still Free

LANSING (UP)—A proposal to charge 10 cents for visitors to state parks was defeated by the House yesterday.

Seek Longer Immunity

Improved Polio Vaccine Tested by Parke, Davis

DETROIT (INS)—Parke, Davis & Co. officials, confident the government will release their supply of Salk polio vaccine after yesterday's safety check, today made public field tests in Illinois with vaccine containing an additive designed to lengthen immunity.

The trials, being conducted on children aged six months to 10 years in De Witt County, are being conducted by the drug firm and the Illinois Department of Health.

The company said the unidentified additive, combined with the vaccine by Parke, Davis chemists, will cause the vaccine to be absorbed into the bloodstream more slowly. This, they said would also increase the vaccine's effectiveness.

Dr. E. M. Thompson, health director in De Witt County, was quoted as saying the test shots were given to 130 children yesterday and that another 250 were scheduled to receive them today.

Last night, after he conducted his "reappraisal," Dr. William G. Workman, head of the Laboratory of Biologics Control of the National Institutes of Health, would say only that he was reporting to U. S. Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele.

Meanwhile, the surgeon general's "boss," Welfare Secretary Oveta Culp Hobby, found herself in the middle of a political storm caused by her apparent reluctance to tell Congressional investigators about what one of them has called the "muddled" vaccine situation.

The House Banking Committee will consider a resolution today which would urge President Eisenhower to ask Mrs. Hobby to testify.

In Washington, the Public Health Service reported today that there were 149 new cases of polio throughout the nation last week. This was five more than in the same week of last year.

For the first time, the weekly government report also listed the number of polio cases among persons inoculated with Salk vaccine.

There have been 62 confirmed cases among vaccinated persons. This includes four fatalities.

Health officials noted that the incubation period for the disease is from seven to 10 days. They said that at least some inoculated persons contracted polio before receiving their Salk shots.

Ike's Ready

President Eisenhower pulls on his ear as he tells newsmen in Washington that he is ready to attend a Big Four Chiefs of State meeting to test Russia's sincerity on relieving world tension. Mr. Eisenhower added that he preferred such a meeting be held in a neutral country and last about three days.

Vernor Stock Battle Looms

Trust Fund Bequeathed by Late Founder Under Fire by Widow

A legal battle is shaping up in Oakland County Circuit Court over stock valued at more than $1,000,000 in the Vernor Ginger Ale Co.

James Vernor Sr. died last June 30 leaving more than half the firm's stock in a trust fund for his son, James Vernor Jr., and grandchildren, James Vernor II and Grayce Shannon Vernor, both minors.

Vernor's widow, Emma Fernande Woolson Vernor, was left his Bloomfield Hills home plus 40 per cent of property remaining outside the company stock.

She has filed suit claiming the trust fund is "void and unenforceable" and should be dissolved.

The stock contained in the fund should be turned over to the estate's executor, she asserts, to be distributed under provisions of Vernor's will. This, apparently, would allow her 40 per cent of the trust-fund stocks.

Cross Bill Filed

Pontiac attorney William J. Beer yesterday filed a cross bill of complaint on behalf of Vernor's son and two grandchildren who are named to receive benefits from the fund.

The cross bill denies the trust fund is illegal. Original administrators of the trust fund were the senior Vernor, James Vernor Davis and Raymond H. Berry, a Detroit attorney.

On Vernor's death, the remaining two trustees were to name another to take his place. Vernor's widow claims in her bill that she has been named to that post.

In the cross suit, filed by Beer, the court is asked to remove Mrs. Vernor and Berry as trustees and appoint James Vernor Jr. trustee and a third person to be named by him.

In the meantime, the cross bill asks the present trustees be prevented from resigning while the suit is pending or naming any successors. No hearing date has been set.

Jewel Thieves Hit Farmington Township Home

Take $25,000-$40,000 Worth of Gems While Family Is Away

Between $25,000 and $40,000 in jewels were taken by thieves who ransacked the swank Farmington Township home of wealthy meat packer Alfred Loewenstein Sr., State Police said.

The theft was discovered at 4:45 p. m. Wednesday by Mrs. Loewenstein when she returned home after being away since 9:30 a. m.

Detectives said the 2-story frame home at 27455 Fairway Hills, a private road, was ransacked before the thieves found the family jewels in a upstairs closet safe.

The jewels, a diamond collar necklace, a diamond cocktail ring, a set of diamond earrings and other jewelry, were carried off in the 6-by-10 inch safe which had been pried out of the wall.

Loewenstein, a member of the Detroit wholesale meat packing family of Loewenstein and Sons, said it was the servants' day off and no one was at home.

A 3-hour investigation of the home failed to turn up evidence of forcible entry, police reported.

The home, complete with swimming pool, was described as "a complete mess." Bookcases were emptied, contents of drawers were dumped on the floor, beds torn apart and furniture moved about.

Lions Are Reported Seeking Harry Gilmer

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Lions are negotiating with the Washington Redskins of the National Football League to acquire quarterback Harry Gilmer.

The Lions confirmed today there had been negotiations for Gilmer, who would be played back of Bobby Layne, regular Lion quarterback.

Sportswriter Watson Spoelstra said in the Detroit News that the Lions "are closing a deal" for Gilmer and "will receive two younger players, as yet unnamed."

Gilmer, 29, was a star passer at Alabama and has played seven seasons of pro football. He joined Washington when Sammy Baugh still was with the Redskins. A knee operation kept Gilmer out of uniform most of 1953 and he played with the defensive platoon last season.

Taipei Paper Doubts Success of Big 4 Meet

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP)—An influential Taipei newspaper took the view today that nothing good could come of President Eisenhower's agreement to a Big Four top-level conference.

"We feel sure," said the United Daily News, "that Mr. Eisenhower will get nowhere."

The paper asserted that when Harry S. Truman was president, he said his government would not meet the Russians "outside the United Nations, and he stuck to his word throughout his term."

Planes on Dawn Patrol

TRAVERSE CITY (UP)—About 300 planes from throughout Michigan will make their annual dawn patrol flight to this Northern Michigan community Sunday.

U. S. Unofficially Brands Red Plan as Propaganda

WASHINGTON (INS)—U. S. officials privately branded Russia's one-package "peace" proposal a propaganda stunt today although they publicly promised to give it "most responsible consideration."

They made it clear the U. S. would never buy some of the items in the Soviet package and that they are still basing their hopes for peace on the step-by-step process of settling East-West tensions.

This process would begin with the chiefs of state meeting to which the U. S., Britain and France have invited Russian Premier Nikolai Bulganin. There is no word yet on whether he will accept, although he is expected to.

While the Soviets have suggested a deal which they said could wipe out all points of conflict between the free and Communist worlds at one fell swoop, President Eisenhower made it clear yesterday he does not think a miracle such as that is possible.

He told a news conference that he does not believe a Big Four meeting "at the summit" would solve world problems in a matter of days, weeks or months. Its purpose, he said, is to give an impetus to progress toward easing tensions.

Called Propaganda

Other officials called the Russian proposal a propaganda move, which one of them said—"to give the devil his due"—was perfectly timed to take the play away from the Western proposal for a Big Four meeting.

Chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga) of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee also pinned the "propaganda" tag on Moscow's new disarmament plan. But he said he is "inclined to think it is aimed at lulling the German republic into inaction" about rearming itself.

In London, Ambassador James J. Wadsworth, U.S. representative on a subcommittee of the United Nations Disarmament Commission, said "we welcome" some of the Soviet ideas, especially since the Russians had been rejecting them since they were offered by the West years ago.

Governor, Senators Scrub Streets

Dutch Treat

Williams Assists Holland in Tulip Time Clean-Up

HOLLAND (AP) — Gov. G. Mennen Williams got down on his hands and knees and joined in the scrubbing of Holland's main street yesterday.

The governor wore a Dutch costume complete with baggy pants and wooden shoes.

"I'm getting to like this outfit," said the governor, attending the festival for the seventh year. "There's plenty of room in the pants pockets and the wooden shoes are easy on the feet."

Lt. Gov. Philip A. Hart, also sporting a Dutch costume, was a little self-conscious at first. He also wielded a broom in the scrubbing squad.

"I think the costume is fine but I don't quite get the hang of this scrubbing business but I hope to learn," Hart said.

There were 300 scrubbers in the van of the parade. Some carried pails of water on a yoke held over the shoulders, as they used to in the old country, and others pushed brooms to slush the water over the blacktop.

Spectators Splashed

Quite a few spectators got splashed as the pail haulers started tossing water at each other but you can't avoid that if you watch a tulip festival parade.

Mayor Robert Visscher of Holland started the show by proclaiming:

"The streets of this town are dirty."

Merge Detroit, Rochester Banks

Preliminary OK Given, Now Awaits Approval by Stockholders

Proposed merger of the Rochester National Bank with the National Bank of Detroit was announced today by Henry W. Axford, president of the Rochester Bank, and Charles T. Fisher, Jr., president of the National Bank of Detroit.

The merger has been approved by directors of both banks. Preliminary approval has also been received from Federal banking authorities, subject to favorable action by the stockholders of both banks.

Stockholders of the Rochester Bank will receive one and a fourth shares of National Bank of Detroit common stock in exchange for each share of Rochester National Bank stock.

Rochester Bank personnel will continue to serve, and directors of the bank will become members of an advisory committee.

Directors are Henry W. Axford, Dr. G. R. Brooks, A. R. Dillman, Ralph B. Garner, M. H. Haselswerdt, Howard L. McGregor, Jr., A. L. Keyes, C. W. Shepard, and Alfred G. Wilson.

Subject to stockholder ratification, the merger will take place in the fall. Facilities of the Rochester Bank will be expanded and modernized.

32 MIGs Seen in Attack Area

AF Squadron Leader Describes Scrap Over Yellow Sea

KUNSAN, Korea (AP)—A U.S. Air Force squadron commander said today there were at least 32 Red Chinese MIGs in the Yellow Sea area where his flight of eight Sabre Jets was attacked Tuesday.

Lt. Col. Robert E. Dawson of Dayton, Ohio, told a news conference that half of the Russian-built jets flew protective cover for the attacking Communist planes.

Dawson related details of the eight-minute air scrap in which U.S. fliers shot down two MIGs and probably bagged two others.

The Air Force said all U.S. Sabres returned without a scratch.

Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, United Nations commander-in-chief, ordered a strong protest before the Military Armistice Commission against "the hostile and illegal attack" by the MIGs.

Taylor sent the instructions to Maj. Gen. Harlan C. Parks, senior U.N. member of the commission.

Dawson declared:

"It was impossible for us to make a hostile act towards them . . . They were far above us.

"There was no damage sustained at all by us. However, three different pilots said they were fired upon."

The Red China radio said one Sabre was shot down and two damaged.

Russia Will Get Peiping Support if War Erupts

Observer at Warsaw Says Reds Will Talk About Formosa

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Communist China pledged today that she will fight alongside the Soviet Union and her allies if war is unleashed in Europe.

Peng Teh-huai, Red China's defense minister and deputy Prime Minister, made that declaration in the name of the Peiping government at a session of a Warsaw conference called to establish an Eastern defense organization to rival the North Atlantic Treaty Organization set up by the West.

Peng also declared Peiping stands firmly for peaceful coexistence. He said his government is ready to negotiate on any international differences — including Formosa.

But he warned that "to sober military adventurers" it should be firmly understood that the current balance of forces hangs in favor of the "camp of peace and socialism."

Peng is at the Warsaw conference as an observer. The eight conference nations are the U.S.S.R., Czechoslovakia, Poland, Hungary, Bulgaria, Romania, Albania and East Germany. Their prime ministers, defense ministers and foreign ministers are meeting here to set up a military grouping as their answer to West Germany's admission to the Western alliance.

Peng, according to an unofficial translation of his speech, told the delegates:

"On behalf of the government of the Chinese People's Republic I declare our government and people will cooperate with you and with all their strength support the decisions accepted at the Warsaw conference.

"Peace is indivisible. If peace in Europe be encouraged upon and if the imperialist aggressors unleash war against peaceful European countries then our governments and peoples of our fraternal countries will conduct a struggle against aggression until ultimate victory is achieved."

2nd War Bonuses Total $220 Million

LANSING (AP)—State bonus claims paid to World War II veterans totaled $220,108,890 as of April 30, the bonus division of the adjutant general's office reported today.

The deadline for filing claims expired last Dec. 31. Recent payments represented a backlog of claims filed when veterans rushed to get in under the deadline.

Hospitalized veterans and those still in the armed services still are eligible to file.

There were 623,037 claims received, 616,209 approved, 6,466 disapproved and 542 are still in processing.

The division reported that $837,000 has been paid out to beneficiaries of deceased veterans since June 27.

Widely Scattered Showers Forecast

Some widely scattered thundershowers accompanied by slightly warmer temperatures are predicted for tonight by the U.S. Weather Bureau. Low will be 52-56.

Considerable cloudiness with showers and a high near 74 is the forecast for tomorrow. Occasional showers tomorrow night will bring cooler thermometer readings, the weatherman says.

At 8 a.m. the mercury in downtown Pontiac stood at 58 degrees, rising to 73 by 2 p.m.

Four Witnesses Identify Defendants in Rape Trial

Four witnesses on the stand in Oakland County Circuit Court yesterday identified the quartet charged with kidnaping and raping a Pontiac housewife last March 6.

Martin Weiberg, 24, of 102 S. Merrimac St., said he had taken the woman for a short ride following a wedding reception they both attended.

Weiberg pointed to the four defendants as the men whom he saw returning to his auto after leaving with him to get a tow truck.

The defendants are Oscar Chavers, 26, of Gary, Ind., his brother, Richard, 23, of 38 Lake St., Joe Williams Jr., 22, of 38 Lake and Winston Johnson, 25, of 312 Hughes St.

Three police officers also named the four as being in a car with the woman when they stopped it on S. Saginaw at Wilson Sts. about an hour later.

She said they had seen a younger girl home from the wedding, then taken a ride. Weiberg was turning around to take her home, she explained, when the car became mired. Her husband was hospitalized at the time, the mother of three stated.

Tried to Push Car

Shortly after his car became stuck, Weiberg stated, a car containing two men and two women drove in. The men apparently tried to push his car, without success, the witness said. He then gave "one of them" a dime to call a service station.

Weiberg dropped off to sleep, he explained, while the woman listened to the car radio. She later woke him, saying he had better see about a tow truck himself. As he got out, a car pulled in containing the first two men plus another pair, said Weiberg.

The four again "apparently" tried to free the car, he testified. "Then I got in with them to go for a truck."

Defense attorney John Brusstar, of Detroit, asked, "Why didn't you take the girl in the car?" "I was suspicious," Weiberg replied.

In answer to further questions by Brusstar, Weiberg said the men did not threaten him, show any weapons or attempt to induce fear.

Car Hit Mudhole

As they drove off for the wrecker, the car hit a mudhole, he stated, and Oscar Chavers said it sounded like the auto lost a fender skirt. Chavers got out, and so did he, said Weiberg.

The witness said he saw no fender skirts on the car. Chavers started running back across the field toward the car containing the woman, said Weiberg, "and I shouted, 'don't go near that girl.'" Chavers continued running, he said and Weiberg walked up the road flagging an auto with three men in it.

Weiberg said he told them what had happened and said they should take him back to pick up the girl. "The driver said he wasn't going back in there," the witness stated.

"As we drove off to a gas station, I saw the other car drive back again to my auto." He then summoned police, giving them the Chavers' car license number.

Police Officers Testify

Police officers testifying were Sgt. John Carman and Patrolman Melvin Glover of Sylvan Lake police. They collaborated with Bloomfield Township Patrolman Richard A. Hoffman in halting the car containing the woman.

Officers said they found a hunting knife and two jackknives on the four defendants and in their car.

Under questioning by Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem and his chief assistant, George F. Taylor, the officers said they saw none of the defendants pushed or struck in any way.

Several other policemen are slated to testify today in the case continuing before Judge H. Russel Holland. An overflow audience viewed yesterday's proceedings.

Bloomfield Man Is Named Ford Vice-President

George W. Walker, nationally-known industrial designer, has been elected vice president and director of styling of Ford Motor Company, Ernest R. Breech, chairman of the board, announced today.

Styling responsibilities previously held by the company's engineering staff recently were transferred to L. D. Crusoe, executive vice president-car and truck divisions. Walker will direct styling activities as a member of Crusoe's staff.

WALKER

Victor Z. Brink, formerly assistant general manager of the Aircraft Engine Division, Chicago, has been appointed styling operations manager.

Walker entered the industrial design field in Cleveland in 1928 and established his offices in Detroit in 1929.

Retained by Ford Motor Company in a consultant capacity for the past 10 years, he has had a major part in the styling of postwar passenger cars.

Active in Detroit civic affairs, he is a member of the Bloomfield Hills Country Club, the Detroit Athletic Club, the Committee of 100, the Recess Club and the Detroit Board of Commerce. He holds directorates in various commercial and industrial firms.

He and Mrs. Walker live in Bloomfield Hills. They have two children and seven grandchildren.

County Man Hurt Falling From Auto

Thirty-year-old Thomas Tersigni, of Clarkston, was reported in fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a possible fractured skull suffered yesterday when he fell from the rear bumper of a moving car.

State Police of the Pontiac Post said the victim was riding on the bumper of the car to hold it in line with that of a pushing auto. The car, operated by his brother, Joseph, 27, had stalled and was being pushed by a car driven by Donald Schrader, 29, of Lapeer.

When the stalled auto started, Thomas was thrown from the bumper, landing head first on the gravel road.

Pontiac Boys' Club Official Is Honored

William V. Coulacos, executive director of Pontiac Boys' Club, was elected vice president of the Michigan-Ohio Assn. of Boys' Clubs last night during the annual meeting of the national convention being held in Milwaukee.

The association's purpose is to further Boys' Club interests in the two states and encourage exchange of ideas and closer cooperation.

Coulacos, who had served the group as program director the past year, was not present at the meeting. Representing the local club were Michael Fiorillo and Joseph Chevalier, both staff members.

Girls' Housemother at Pine Lake Dies

Word has been received of the death of Amy G. Shaw of 288 Ravine Rd., Birmingham. She died Sunday in her winter home in Hollywood, Fla.

Born in Oxford, England, she was brought to Detroit as a child.

Miss Shaw was housemother of Holiday House of the Girls' Friendly Society at Pine Lake for 30 years. She had been a social worker for Christ Episcopal Church, 976 E. Jefferson Ave. for many years and had also been a housemother at the old St. Agnes Girls' Home.

Miss Shaw will be at the John E. DeKay Funeral Home, 10549 E. Jefferson, Detroit, until time for the service at 1:30 p.m. Friday in St. John's Episcopal Church, 33 E. Montcalm Ave., Detroit.

Pamela Sue Hayward

Prayer service will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. at the Huntoon Funeral Home for Pamela Sue Hayward, baby daughter of Jerry Forest and Marian La Forge Hayward of 37 E. Walton Blvd. The Rev. Charles S. Maher of the Baldwin Ave. Methodist Church will officiate with burial in Holly.

Pamela was born April 14, 1955 in Pontiac and died last night at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital. She had been ill one day.

Besides her mother and father, the baby is survived by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Forest Hayward and Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Martin.

Osmundt Schrage

Osmundt Schrage, 63, of 229 Oakland Ave. known to his friends as Jack, died Tuesday at his home.

He was born Nov. 26, 1891 in Detroit and was the son of William and Lena Fisher Schrage.

Mr. Schrage, an employe of the Pontiac State Hospital, came to Pontiac from Detroit 15 years ago. He was a veteran of World War I.

Surviving is a sister, Mrs. Clare Mahan of Detroit.

Service will be held Friday at 1:30 p.m. from the Huntoon Funeral Home with the Rev. Theodore R. Allebach of the Oakland Ave. United Presbyterian Church officiating. Burial will follow in St. Charles Cemetery, Detroit.

Mrs. Charles Scott

Mrs. Charles (Mary Helen) Scott, 64, of 6512 Pontiac Lake Rd., died last night at Pontiac General Hospital after an illness of three years.

Born Oct. 20, 1890, in Canada, she was the daughter of John Kelley and married June 12, 1912, in Detroit.

A member of Grace Lutheran Church and the Webford Club, she had lived in the county 35 years.

Besides her husband, she is survived by three sons, George of Lansing, Charles of Spokane, Wash. and Thomas of Birmingham.

Also surviving are eight grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Winnie Nihill of Toronto, Ontario, Canada.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later by the Huntoon Funeral Home.

The Youth Convention and Banquet will be held in the Baldwin Ave. Evangelical United Brethren Church.

He said it was "obsolete," that it would discourage industry from settling in Michigan and that it would be unstable—subject to the business cycle.

Democrats countered that the tax would be fair and equitable. In contrast, they said, the business receipts tax is a burden on the professional and small businessman.

GM Tax Figured

Rep. Edward Jeffries (D-Detroit) said General Motors Corp. would pay some $26 billion annually under the corporations profits tax, against about $4 million each year under the business receipts tax.

Renewing a charge voiced at the public hearing on the corporations profits, Rep. Ed Carey (D-Detroit) said some smaller businesses had been frightened out of supporting the tax by the "big boys."

The Day in Birmingham

City's Fire Chief Retires After 32 Years' Service

BIRMINGHAM—Fire Chief Vernon W. Griffith stepped out of harness today, after 32 years of quelling Birmingham's blazes.

Although he will hold the title of fire chief until Aug. 27, Griffith's resignation unofficially will take effect at once, since the time between now and the official retirement date will be taken up with accumulated sick leave and vacations.

Park Smith, first assistant chief for the past several years, has been designated as Griffith's successor by City Manager Donald C. Egbert, subject to confirmation by the Birmingham City Commission.

Griffith's retirement comes at a time when the city's fire preparedness has reached new heights. His department is preparing to move out of the downtown station and into two new fire stations on either side of the growing community.

"My reason in asking that my retirement be made effective now is two-fold," Griffith stated.

Health Is Factor

In addition to reasons of health, Griffith said, "I feel now that the new fire stations are assured, and the city has fire protection to serve for multiple alarms, I should step down and given the city the benefit of new officers and new thinking along with the new fire department organization.

"I also feel keenly that the officers and men of the department who have worked so hard in the past two years with me to bring about this increased fire protection should be rewarded with promotions along the line when the older officers have reached retirable age," he added.

"I have enjoyed my many years' association with the officers and men of the department, and I will be forever grateful to City Manager Donald C. Egbert, Mayor Charles Renfrew, and the city commissioners and mayors of the past who have given me the support and free hand to operate the department as I have felt it should be operated," he concluded.

Began as Volunteer

Griffith began his fire-fighting career by joining the volunteer department May 10, 1923. He served with that unit until the paid department was established in July 1927.

Since the establishment of the paid fire department, he has served 28 years, the last 24 as fire chief, along with duties of assistant superintendent in charge of water production and storage for the city.

VERNON W. GRIFFITH

Under his guidance, the city has become well-known for technical advances and pioneering. The city's eight wells are all operated by remote control from the fire station.

This makes it possible to vary the number of wells in production without dispatching firemen to the four corners of the cities. It also makes it possible to alert repair parties at the wells, in the event of a blaze.

Will Assist City

Griffith intends to continue to assist the city with its water problems, by aiding in setting up water controls when the city begins using Detroit water.

Eventually he plans to move to property he owns near Lapeer.

City Manager Egbert lauded Griffith for his long years of faithful service to the city, and added that his careful training and selection of personnel has assured the city of continuing the fine tradition of the local department.

C. N. Harlan to Head U.N. Celebration

Gov. Williams today announced the appointment of C. Allen Harlan of 3535 N. Adams St., Bloomfield Township, as Michigan chairman for the United Nations 10th Anniversary Celebration.

Harlan is president of the Harlan Electric Co.

Big Four Agree on Austria Pact

Foreign Ministers Will Sign Treaty in Vienna This Weekend

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Big Four reached agreement today on an Austrian independence treaty.

This was reported by informed Western sources in advance of a communique.

The foreign ministers of the United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union will fly to Vienna this weekend to put their signature on a treaty the Austrians have been wanting for 10 years.

Ratification will mean that Austria will be free and sovereign for the first time in 17 years. Some 70,000 troops of Russia and the West will leave.

Agreement was reached after nine days of difficult negotiations which it was feared earlier today might break down. For the past three days the ambassadors of the four powers had been deadlocked on a Western demand that the Russians put into the treaty economic concessions granted the Austrians during talks in Moscow last month.

Western informants said the Russians finally gave way to the Western demand, thus paving the way for the actual signing.

Disabled Persons' Aid May Be Upped

Social security beneficiaries suffering from total disabilities may have their checks increased in July, according to Rex A. C. Atwood, manager of Pontiac district Social Security Office.

This is due to the disability "freeze" provision in the new social security law, intended to protect the social security rights of disabled persons.

"Disability" is defined by law as the inability to do substantial gainful work. "So a person who has worked at least five years under social security and who became disabled before 65 should get in touch with us," Atwood said.

The Pontiac Social Security Office, located at 18 S. Perry St., in the Hubbard building is open 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. daily.

Pontiac's Auto Inspection Program May Be Extended

Only 3,222 autos had been reported inspected up to this morning in the city-wide annual vehicle maintenance program, sponsored by the Safety Committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Police Dept.

"We may have to extend the inspection program," said Clyle R. Haskill committee chairman today, "since it looks like we may not reach the expected quota by Saturday morning."

The committee this year had expected to check at least 20,000 cars in one week with the help of various civic groups. Formerly, the committee had held its vehicle inspections during the entire month of May.

Besides the five reserved lanes handling the inspections throughout the city this week, Haskill said numerous garages and filling stations in Pontiac are checking the autos. The establishments are members of the Pontiac Auto Dealers Assn., cooperating in the annual program.

No report has been received from the association's members, said Haskill, but it had been hoped that 5,000 to 10,000 autos would be inspected by them.

Inspection lanes are located at the following places:

On Johnson street, between Elizabeth Lake and Liberty Sts.; on Hillside drive in front of Lincoln Jr. High School; East blvd., between Auburn avenue and Whittemore street; Municipal Parking lot on Pike street and on West Huron, beside the Oakland County Courthouse.

Jewish Welfare Council Meeting Slated Monday

Jewish Welfare Federation and Council members will meet Monday, 8:30 p.m. at Temple Beth Jacob, 79 Elizabeth Lake Rd., according to H. Malcolm Kahn, secretary.

Business will include the election of three members to the board of directors, report of the 1954 campaign, and reports of progress and activities by the president and treasurer.

SOMETHING SLIPPING—Meet "Mr. Fallout of 1955." Two-year-old Tommy Garvey picked up the title when he dropped his bathing suit in Las Vegas, Nev. It happened as he used both hands to wave to his father in the helicopter above. It's one of many Civil Air Patrol aircraft used during atomic exercises held some 75 miles away.

Japanese Stage Sitdown on Fuji

Leftists Lead Protest Against U.S. Artillery Firing Practice

FUJI-YOSHIDA Japan (AP) — Scores of Japanese villagers led by leftist labor leaders who rushed to the scene, began a sitdown movement today on the slopes of Mt. Fuji in protest against American army artillery firing practice.

The villagers said they would stay until the Army cancels plans for further firing which crosses busy mountain climbing trails. Special squads of police were moved to the area to keep the protesters from the big Army guns.

* * *

The newspaper Asahi said American soldiers with bayoneted rifles also stood guard.

The Army guns were silent today as Marines maneuvered in the area where the shells land. The guns fired yesterday. The maneuvering, with practice firing, is scheduled until the end of May.

* * *

The Red China radio also commented on the firing dispute latest to inflame the often touchy relations between Japanese and the American military.

Main Japanese objection appears to be that the shells from the 155mm. Long Toms fly over the climbing trails used by pilgrims scaling the revered mountain.

* * *

Involved in the dispute are basic Japanese objections to the use of Fuji, fears that tourist business will fall off in the area and general objections of many Japanese who oppose the presence of U.S. forces.

Injured's Condition Good After Wreck

David Every, 22, of Drayton Plains, injured in a 2-car collision Saturday on U.S. 10, was reported in good condition today by authorities at Pontiac General Hospital.

Every, a passenger with James Lee Millis, 22, of 206 Chippewa Rd., suffered broken ribs when Millis' auto collided with one being driven by Paul Green Jr., 28, of 626 E. Tennyson Ave. Green and his 6-year-old daughter, Elaine, were not hurt seriously.

Millis, who was not injured, told State Police of the Pontiac Post that he did not see Green's car when he made a left turn from U.S. 10 about two-tenths of a mile north of Williams Lake Road. Green said he was unable to stop in time.

Michigan Republicans Facing Battle in 1956

Republicans are casting about for a formidable candidate who can do battle on even terms with Governor G. Mennen Williams or his successor in the next State campaign.

Several possibilities have been mentioned. Some are strictly "home town" candidates that will run very strongly in Smith Creek Center but leave the balance of the State electorate limp and cold. Four men of statewide stature have been suggested by their friends and by shrewd Republican wheel horses who want a powerful entry in the next derby.

One is Alvin Bentley of Owosso.

Representative Bentley is a comer. He leaped into national prominence through misadventure, but he possesses the stature to go forward from that spot. Perhaps he needs more seasoning, but he is a worthwhile individual and one around whom Michigan can rally in the near future.

Bentley is someone to watch.

Then there's Mayor Cobo of Detroit. His Honor has served with distinction and he would cut heavily into the current Wayne County Democratic majorities. Mayor Cobo would be a strong candidate and running qualities are of tremendous importance. It doesn't matter how good a Governor one might make, if he lacks ballot magnetism and personal appeal. The best Governor "sitting it out" at home is a poor political bargain.

★ ★ ★

Representative Gerald Ford of Grand Rapids has also been suggested by a rather substantial group. Mr. Ford is compiling a very creditable record in the House. He is assertive and aggressive. His current activities have won him widespread recognition and both Republicans and Democrats respect him as a man and as an astute and formidable political figure. In fact, a young Democratic Representative said to one of the editors of the Press in Washington recently:

"Michigan can be very proud of the record that Jerry Ford is making down here. He has the respect of our whole group."

Senator Charles E. Potter has been mentioned in many quarters. He made a splendid run when he was elected and certainly he has grown in political stature steadily during his service in Washington. Many feel he should remain where he is and not throw away six years of experience and seniority. But his name is definitely on the list.

★ ★ ★

If the Republicans hope to give the Democrats a real battle in 1956 in Michigan, they can't do it by clinging steadfastly to President Eisenhower's coattails and yelling, "me too." They must launch a worthwhile offensive and pick candidates on their own merits. Their chances of success would be better if the State could unite now, agree on a man and work concertedly.

★ ★ ★

Counter hauling is doomed to defeat.

Make no mistake about that.

Through the years old Gus Taxpayer has become virtually insensible to pain, so upon reading the other day that the U. S. had completed four air bases in Morocco at a cost of $372,000,000, he felt only a fleeting pang.

Tories Expected to Win British Election May 26

Although our British cousins probably don't realize it, they currently are giving us a lesson on how to conduct a short national election campaign.

On May 26, three weeks after Queen Elizabeth II prorogued Parliament, voters will go to the polls to decide whether the next government will be Labor or Conservative. Obviously a 21 day campaign stands out in sharp and commendable contrast to the more than three months we devote to our quadrennial Presidential contests.

Latest dispatches report conditions favoring victory for Sir Anthony Eden's Conservative Party. One of the reasons for this is the prosperity enjoyed under Tory rule marked by expansion of the free enterprise system with continuation of the social reforms introduced by the Laborites.

The part played by the Conservatives in ending hostilities in Indochina and Korea also has helped them by silencing Labor's charges of warmongering. Still another reason is Labor's reduced effectiveness as a result of the split between the Attlee and Bevan factions. To all this the Tories have added a well timed reduction in income taxes and other tax concessions.

Labor is suffering from disillusionment with its program of socialized and controlled economy based on nationalization of industry, price fixing and rationing.

In the field of postwar foreign policy the United States has been able to get along in comparative harmony with both the Labor and Conservative governments. Undoubtedly, however, the Conservative government is in closer agreement with the United States than the badly split Labor Party.

Get 'Em, Fix 'Em

Local Minister Explains His Hobby of Early Made Cars

Opportunity: What you can make while waiting for it.

Old cars are not too hard to get and not too hard to fix, if you can afford it, one of their outstanding local fanciers told the Pontiac Kiwanis Club. He is the pastor of the Baldwin Ave. Evangelical United Brethren Church. "But let me tell you," he said, "It's hard to get rid of them." He showed color slides of several ancient models, including his own 1910 Buick and a 1909 Huppmobile, which had, believe it or not, air conditioning.

Other multiple blossoms are reported by

of 790 Cameron Ave., who found a six-headed dandelion in her lawn.

If you're interested in such things, the only Friday the thirteenth in 1955 is less than 24 hours away.

From ten year old

Chuck Langworthy

of Lapeer comes word that he has worked out all of the series appearing in the Pontiac Press. "They fill my play room," he says.

In a letter from his present home in Detroit,

Abijah Smithson,

formerly of Pontiac, writes, "When your city hall was built nearly a half century ago, many of us feared it some day would fall into the Clinton River."

As an example of what's doing in Oakland County,

Supervisor William Roeser

of Southfield points out the 1,200-unit Cranbrook Village housing project in his township.

A new menace to a new crop appears in the Pontiac area. In his first attempt at raising celery on a commercial scale, of Waterford finds that a pair of deer have been feasting on it nights.

Arthur Monsano

After tours of both Alaska and Hawaii within the past year, the writer feels that their denial of statehood is unadulterated politics.

Tent caterpillars, which did considerable damage in the Pontiac area a few years ago, again are appearing here. State Conservation Department Entomologist sends word that a DDT spray will kill them. As indicated by their name, their habitat resembles a small tent in trees or shrubbery.

Richard Fox

Caught in Between

David Lawrence Says:

U. S. Doesn't Need Advice From NATO on Formosa

PARIS—For some strange reason the North Atlantic Treaty Organization's council wandered into territory far beyond its usual domain and tried this week to give some gratuitous advice to the United States about the Far East. The essence of the advice was that the islands off the shores of China should be surrendered to the Communists and, in return, there would be some sort of vague declaration condemning the use of force in the area of Formosa.

Oddly enough, no such advice was given to the Red Chinese who have been the aggressors in the Far East. The idea that a meeting of the Western powers should be used to advocate giving in to the Communists on one of their principal demands is so startling that it needs to be studied carefully in America.

For it could mean that, when the chips are down, even the prominent members of the North Atlantic Treaty Council may be found cringing before the Communists in Europe and advocating a policy of surrender.

One wonders what would happen if the United States proposed the surrender of the city of Berlin, which after all is an "island" and is 100 miles away from West German territory.

Want To Forfeit Isles

Foreign Minister Spaak of Belgium was one of the ministers at the North Atlantic Council who seems to think that there is no important issue involved in giving the offshore islands to Red China. Also, with amazing promptness, the foreign minister of Canada, Lester Pearson, backed up M. Spaak.

To judge by the news reports of the council's meeting, the foreign ministers who undertook to advise Secretary Dulles either had not read or had decided to ignore the public pronouncements of the President and the U.S. secretary of state in the past in which they made clear that the United States was not interested in the off-shore islands as such but only in the use that could be made of them by the Communists for an attack on Formosa.

The interjection of the Far Eastern issues in an organization meeting devoted primarily to the defense of Europe is surprising, but not more so than the evident indifference with which American public opinion is treated.

Maybe the Isolationists will be encouraged in their belief that America has no true friends in Europe and that in a showdown there will be a crisis in which American troops will be left stranded.

Friendship in Question

It begins to look as if American friendship is not so seriously regarded, when a meeting of the NATO council can direct such pointed barbs of criticism at American policy in another region of the globe.

What happens in the Far East is, of course, a concern of European countries because the concentration rather than the dispersal of American military and financial resources is desired in Europe, as opposed to Asia.

But America has an ocean on each side, and happens to have a territory, known as Alaska, which is close to Asia. She has, moreover, an obligation to protect the Philippines. It is all the more disconcerting to see the NATO Council going off on a tangent about Asian affairs when it has no direct responsibility for what happens in that area.

Diplomatic Double-Talk

As for the promise of a collective security pledge to protect Formosa, this is a lot of diplomatic double-talk. The moment the subject of using British military forces to help protect Formosa was mentioned in the House of Commons recently, a barrage of criticism developed.

There isn't the slightest chance of any of the European governments furnishing any more military aid in defense of Formosa than they did in the Korean War.

The meeting held here in Paris by the NATO countries is, therefore, an eye-opener to America and signalizes the introduction into the NATO conference of the same set of differences between America and certain European powers that have in the past brought America most of the burdens and none of the relief which a nation 3,000 miles away from this continent might expect some day to enjoy.

Soviet Plan Welcomed

On the same day that the NATO Council met, the Soviets announced a few meaningless concessions on disarmament. These were greeted with enthusiasm by the Europeans, even as they allowed the NATO conference to give the impression that America wants to engage in a fight for the Chinese offshore islands, when the truth is the United States is merely protecting a line against communism while the major powers of Europe evidently do not care if it is broken.

It was a sad day for America when the NATO meeting formally proclaimed a call for a cease-fire in the Far East without remembering that Red China is the nation to which such a message of warning might better have been addressed.

A Little Long

"An heirloom," Johnny's mother explained, "is something that has been handed down from father to son and is usually greatly prized."

"I'd prize these heirlooms I'm wearing a bit more," remarked Johnny, "if they weren't so long in the legs."

Voice of the People

Gregg Peterson Favors Senator Potter's Plan to Raise Conservation Allocation

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I've just read an article about Senator Potter trying to increase the $150,000 which Congress appropriated to the fight against the sea lamprey to $350,000.

He said that the approved amount is not enough. He stated:

"This amount of money will mean that 30 skilled and professional personnel (not including temporary and seasonal employes) must be dismissed, and that research vessels so essential to field work in the Great Lakes would have to be sold or laid up between July and September of 1955."

This means last year's loss of eight million dollars to the fishermen and economic status of Michigan would increase.

This lack of money not only means a loss of millions of dollars to Michigan, but to the whole United States. It not only can effect U.S. economy, but it could hurt the people through Communist propaganda.

Many people will laugh at this idea. It could be used in this way. "The government of the Democratic World is so stupid that instead of spending enough money to control an eel which produces huge economic losses in the fishing industry, they forget it and take the loss. Now, if the Communist government were in control, we would have stopped this."

Let's all write Senator Potter and let him know we're behind him 100 per cent.

'Improve Election Laws to Stop Misunderstanding'

I was told by a person campaigning for the proposal for accepting the charter that if anyone voted for one of the candidates, he was thereby voting for the charter. I know many people who voted against the charter but also voted for candidates.

On behalf of these people, I petitioned for a recount after the election. This petition was not granted. My petition was turned over to the election board.

Why is the Corporation Counsel telling people who ask about the recount that they have two years to approve the charter? Actually, if the charter had been defeated, other charters could have been voted on any time within two years.

When we asked a recount, the backs of the voting machines were opened, but all we saw were the 'yes' and 'no' votes; none of the votes cast for candidates. They did not show us the tally sheet, poll book or voters' slips.

One of three members of the board of canvassers admitted he did not view the tabulations on the machines when canvassing.

There is a bill now in the legislature to perfect the law covering incorporation of cities. It provides for one election on the proposal, with no candidates on the same ballot. For the protection of other communities, I would like to see that bill passed. I would like to get in touch with anyone else feeling the same way about it.

I cooperated in bringing this issue to a vote by signing the petition for an election. I want whatever the majority of the people want, but I feel the election law should be clearly understood, so the people cannot lose out through any confusion of misunderstanding.

Hal Boyle Says:

Faulkner Was Happiest When He Had Nothing

NEW YORK (AP)—He sat there—the man across the luncheon table, small, dark-eyed, polite talking, with a whip in his mind.

The whip is the one with which he lashes mankind and himself for failing to dream as big as people can, and for not attaining the dreams they do have.

Asked when he was most happy in his life, William Faulkner, student of failure and recent Pulitzer prize winner, started off:

"Success comes too easy in this country. There are many ways to make money and they all spell success."

Faulkner may appear to some as the intellectual's Mickey Spillane. But his reverence is for a man like Thomas Wolfe, whom he calls the most magnificent failure of his generation, because "he tried to do more than flesh and blood could do. He tried to reduce the human heart into a paragraph."

"We measure greatness by the distance between the dream and the failure. We all fail. None of us match the dream."

* * *

Faulkner, who is a small man with obviously fastidious tastes, grew up with physical and literary giants, such as Wolfe and Hemingway.

"In our generation we were all failures. Myself, Dos Passos, Hemingway, Wolfe. Wolfe was the finest failure."

Faulkner, when asked how many books he has written, gives a vague answer.

"Somewhere between 18 and 22, probably 20."

* * *

When asked how many books he has sold, he says he doesn't know, but is going to ask his publisher about those things.

Faulkner is an extremely deliberate craftsman. Among other things, he has delivered the plot lines for 12 movies. The latest is "Land of the Pharoahs," a Warner Brothers picture.

After winning the Nobel prize for literature, he was given the Pulitzer award this year for his novel, "A Fable." This rather surprised him, since it was published a year before.

* * *

Faulkner, one of the most successful writers in America, has an outspoken antipathy for the bare bones of success.

"I was born to be a tramp. I was happiest when I had nothing. I had a trench coat then with big pockets. It would carry a pair of socks, a condensed Shakespeare and a bottle of whisky. Then I was happy and I wanted nothing and I had no responsibility."

* * *

I asked him what makes people grow old. He said idleness, boredom. It kills them. They die because they don't have enough to do.

"Doing nothing — sitting down and vegetating — is no good unless you can make it an actual occupation.

"There are people who can do without a job in this world and stay healthy, but they have to be used to it."

* * *

Asked what was his greater pleasure in life now, Faulkner replied:

"Thinking up an idea for a book before I realize this one really isn't going to be as good as I want it to be, either.

"This time you say I'll catch the answer to the whole riddle — why man is here—put it down in black and white so everyone can see it and understand. Before you can do this, you break the pencil and throw it away."

From the way he talks, you might get the idea his Mississippi farm is strewn with broken pencils — until you take a look at that book list.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And the Lord thy God will bring thee into the land which thy fathers possessed, and thou shalt possess it; and he will do thee good, and multiply thee above thy fathers. — Deut. 30:5.

He who sows, even with tears, the precious seed of faith, hope and love, shall doubtless come again with joy bringing his sheaves with him, because it is the very nature of that seed to yield a joyful harvest. — Richard Cecil.

TV Repairman With Religious Leaning Asks Advice on Studying for Ministry

Hal regrets he didn't become a preacher. But the churches need livewire laymen, too. The Christian Church was founded by a layman who was the Carpenter of Nazareth. Its first missionary work was launched by the layman tentmaker called Paul. And all four Gospels were written by laymen, so don't minimize what laymen can do.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-328: Hal T., aged 29, is a TV technician.

"But he feels low in spirits at times," his vivacious young wife informed me, "because he always wanted to study for the ministry.

"Last night he cried and told me he would always regret the fact he wasn't a preacher.

"But I reminded him he had plenty of opportunity as a layman to do Christian work.

"However, he wants your opinion, Dr. Crane. Should he go back to school on the GI Bill and try to be a clergyman?"

If Hal feels that he simply cannot be happy except in the ministry, then I'd gladly endorse his desire to return to college.

But he should first consider the vast importance of laymen to the development of religion.

The Christian church was founded not by a priest or clergyman but by a layman who worked as a carpenter and was called Jesus of Nazareth.

In those days the Hebrew tribe of Levi held a closed-shop domination of the pulpits. Nobody but a Levite could be a priest.

And Jesus was not a Levite but descended via David from the tribe Judah, so Jesus was a layman.

And Jesus also selected all of his 12 Apostles from among laymen. Not one of them was a theologian or priest, though Christ could easily have recruited all of his Apostles from the clergy of His day.

Furthermore, the star salesman of Christianity in the first century of the Christian era, was also a layman.

He worked full time as a tentmaker, for that was his trade. And he apparently put in at least 60 hours per week at his job.

Only after the quitting whistle blew, so to speak, did he have a change to devote himself to Christian preaching and missionary activity.

But he was such a talented and fervent layman that he set up churches throughout the entire Mediterranean Basin.

This great layman was St. Paul, in whose honor hundreds of colleges and hospitals have been named.

All the four great writers of the Gospels, were also laymen!

So Hal has many famous precedents for remaining as a layman, yet making great contributions to the cause of morality.

Furthermore, in modern churches we don't have an ecclesiastical tribe nor the inheritance of pulpits from father to son.

Instead, all Roman Catholic are recruited from laymen, and most of our Protestant clergyman are likewise ex-laymen who during their late teens, simply decided to enter theological seminary instead of law school, medical and dental colleges or some other branch of education.

Laymen also operate the wonderful by-products of the churches, such as the Scouts and YMCA, the CYO and Red Cross, the Salvation Army and the Community Chest Drives.

Laymen teach the Sunday school classes each Sabbath. And they direct the wholesome work of those great men's luncheon clubs, such as Rotary, Kiwanis, Lions, Exchange, Civitan, Optimist and Toastmaster's.

These men's services clubs are actually interdenominational home missionary societies of men who devote their attention to rendering aid and medical care to the underprivileged of their towns.

They correspond to the local Women's Missionary Societies of the various churches. So laymen are the backbone of morality.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Dr. Brady Says:

You Have to Be a Doctor to Get a Doctor at Night

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Save in his own house—I had to learn the hard way that a doctor should not attempt to serve members of his family professionally.

Thinking about this I recalled just such an emergency. About midnight I ran out to drive the chariot out of the rain, slipped on the wet porch step and took a header onto the cement walk, sustaining a goose egg over the temple, a small cut over the eye and impacted Colles fracture of the arm.

A telephone call to the home of a doctor I had met (and loved) on the bowling green—

Incidentally, folks, I'm not at all the convivial or gregarious but rather the cold aloof type—this I attribute to my monaural deafness which makes it difficult or impossible to understand what anybody is saying in a group of people.

In all my half-deaf life (since bird nest robbing days) I was never conscious of so much affection as I have for my bowling cronies. I appeal to you men, and women too, who are not already equipped with the hobby, activity, extroversion, game or sport every one needs to latch onto when without it he or she is likely to be relegated to the chimney corner.

Well, the doctor arrived within minutes, and took good care of me.

But I realize I was lucky. Had it not been for bowling (the robber, by the way, beat me in the final for the Paul Ehrlich trophy and he has never stopped crowing about it) we would have had great difficulty getting a doctor at midnight in the rain.

Whose fault is it that doctors are not generally available when you want a doctor at night?

I have pondered this question a great deal and seems to me the answer is fifty-fifty—that is, doctors and people are equally to blame.

Take my case, for instance. Specialists, most of them trick specialists, are a dime a dozen in this neck of the woods but general practitioners are scarce and becoming steadily scarcer. Fortunately we happened to know of two, both good sensible doctors, the kind you can trust. I happened to know them only because I'm a bowler or because I'm a doctor. Otherwise, I imagine, we would have made a federal case of it—called an ambulance to take me to the hospital, and all that funny business for a comparatively minor emergency that any real doctor could handle in his office or at the patient's home.

I believe the AMA — my pet aversion, some gullible customers will sniff—is chiefly to blame for the scarcity of honest general practitioners.

From the time the late poobah took over, slapped the officers of the Association around and started changing the profession into a business, the twin evils, trick specialism and the "clinic" racket have been nurtured as "scientific" and general practice has been patronized by the machine men and "shot" artists as "horse-and-buggy" medicine. This line suits the $400 snob trade so well that the customers seem quite happy—unless or until some night they need a doctor. When their trick specialist or "clinic" racketeer evades night duty, holiday, Sunday, early morning or other calls at inconvenient times, they complain bitterly.

Well?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Church Commercials

INDIANAPOLIS (UP)—Dr. Stewart W. Hartfelter made his usual reminders from the pulpit to his Prentice Presbyterian Church congregation of meetings which failed to get into the church bulletin. When the service was over, a departing small-boy greeted Dr. Hartfelter at the door and remarked: "You did very well with the commercials today."

There are about 67 million automobile drivers in the U. S.

Shot by Car Door

RUSHVILLE, Neb. (UP) —Gene Scott reported to authorities he was "shot" by his car door during a recent hunting trip. Scott said he was getting out of his snowbound car when a gust of wind blew the door shut. The door caught his coat pocket, discharging a .22 caliber rifle shell, Scott, struck in the abdomen, walked to the nearest farm home.

More than one-fifth of all radios in the U. S. are in automobiles.

Apaches Call It Home

PHOENIX, Ariz. (UP) — The San Carlos Apache Indian Reservation consists of approximately 1,623,000 acres and furnishes employment for nearly 750 persons. The reservation has areas which contain agricultural and livestock developments as well as timber resources.

India Had Own Ft. Knox

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India had its own "Ft. Knox" during World War II. Finance Minister C. D. Deshmukh has revealed that the Reserve Bank of India hid its gold in the hundreds-of-years-old Moghul fort at Allahabad. The gold normally is kept at Bombay, but the city was considered open to sea and air attack. About 84 million dollars worth of gold was taken to Allahabad.

Mailbox Keeps Warm

HAVEN, Kas. (AP) — Neighbors smiled when they saw the mail box at the Ray Tuttle farm clad in a jacket with fur collar. But it wasn't to keep the mail box warm, explained the Tuttles. They'd found the jacket lying in the road, and figured the loser might come by again and reclaim it.

About 750,000 persons emigrated from Great Britain between 1946 and 1950 and about 17 per cent went to the United States.

4 Boys Perish as Flat Burns

Tots' Sister Rescued; Believe Blaze Caused by Candle

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Four small boys were burned to death last night by a fire that swept through their second-story garage apartment, police reported.

Investigators said they believed the blaze was started by a candle. The small apartment had been without electricity for two months because of the family's shortage of funds.

The boys' 10-year-old half-sister Margie Davenport, who had been caring for the children while the parents attended a movie, was seriously burned on the hands. She was rescued from the apartment by a neighbor, Wilbur Hamilton, 22, who climbed a tree and kicked out a window. Efforts to rescue the boys failed.

The four, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Franklin, were identified as Leroy Jr., 4, Billy Ray, 3, Lewis Lee, 2, and Michael, 4 months.

* * *

The half-sister sobbed to the grief-stricken parents that she had lighted a candle to find a diaper for the baby. She said the flame brushed some rags but she poured glasses of water on the burn and thought it was out. She said she was awakened a short time later by the baby's screams and found the apartment filled with smoke and flames.

The father, a 32-year-old car washer, told a reporter: "We haven't had much money. That's why they cut off our lights. We never go anywhere and tonight for the first time in months I decided to take my wife to the movie."

Rite Climaxes Pair's Romance Over 53 Years

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Tom Kilshaw and Polly Shuttleworth Chapin, whose romance began 53 years ago, are honeymooning today.

They were married in the Hollywood Lutheran Church yesterday and plan to make their home in Los Angeles. They were childhood sweethearts in England but lost track of one another in 1907 when Kilshaw went to Canada.

Last Christmas a friend in the couple's home town of Kendal, Westmoreland, England, sent Kilshaw a card with the address of his onetime sweetheart, who by then was a widow living in Palo Alto, Calif.

The plane carrying the card crashed, and Kilshaw almost didn't get it. But finally it came—water-stained and battered. Kilshaw went to Palo Alto and soon the romance was on again.

The bridegroom is a livestock auctioneer. He and the new Mrs. Kilshaw are both 68.

Court Claims Police Brain-Washed Lifer

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal court has ordered a new trial for a state prison lifer, saying New York City police committed "psychological brutality" in extracting a confession from him in a murder case.

Santo Camanito, 41, behind bars since 1942, was convicted with two other men in Brooklyn on the hold-up-murder of a Coney Island merchant. All three received life terms.

Camanito testified at his trial that the police coerced a confession from him.

The U. S. Court of Appeals granted him a writ of habeas corpus yesterday on the ground that he had been "unconstitutionally victimized by officialdom."

Forty Foreign Ministers May Attend U.N. Rites

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—As many as 40 foreign ministers may attend the 10th anniversary meetings of the United Nations in San Francisco, the U. N. said today. There are 60 nations in the U. N.

So far, 18 ministers have notified the U. N. they intend to go to the June 20-26 sessions. In addition, word has been received from other governments informally that their foreign ministers expect to attend.

The Soviet delegation has dropped hints to other delegations that Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov might go to San Francisco, but has not yet replied to the invitation.

End Mexico Prison Riot

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Twelve rebellious prisoners were injured yesterday in clashes with guards at the federal penitentiary. The revolt was quelled and 50 of 100 rioting inmates were given solitary confinement for eight months. The convicts were protesting what they called "unfair treatment."

The power of amateur radio stations in the U. S. is limited to 1,000 watts output and some use as little as 10 watts.

Breeds Sea Rodents

CHANDLER, Ariz. (UP) — An aquatic ranch near here has imported 34 sea rodents called coypus from Argentina to breed and produce fur pelts similar to those of the beaver. Tom Krunce has built special pens at his ranch to hold the animals, which cost $800 a pair.

Fugitive Fouls Escape

LINCOLN, Neb. (UP)—An inmate of the men's reformatory here wrapped himself in a sheet to blend with the snow, sneaked out of his quarters and climbed a fence to escape. He then thumbed a ride. The motorist was a state safety patrolman.

Some birds, such as the owl and cuckoo, are sensitive to changes in the weather and often begin calling when the sky starts to overcast.

3,000 Bad Tax Checks

BOSTON (UP)—More than 3,000 bad checks were used by Massachusetts taxpayers last year in payment of their state taxes. Chief Collector James W. Hennigan said "some of them were for only 50 cents and still they bounced."

JAMES HARRY McREYNOLDS

Lecture on Prayer to Be Given Friday

The effectiveness of scientific prayer in solving everyday problems will be the topic of a lecture on Christian Science to be given in Pontiac Friday, May 13 by James Harry McReynolds of Dallas it was announced today.

A member of the Christian Science Board of Lectureship, McReynolds will speak under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Williams and Lawrence Sts. at 8 p.m.

His subject will be "Christian Science: The Way of Obedience to Divine Law." The lecture is free, and open to the public.

Israel Battles Drug Addiction

Hemp Is Cultivated to Supply Narcotics Users With Hasheesh

NAZARETH (UP)—Israel's police are campaigning against the growing of hemp plants to be used for supplying drugs to addicts. In some homes they have found the plants growing in kitchens from which part of the floor has been removed.

The police have a standing offer of 15 per cent of the value of the hemp being grown to persons informing them of such a practice.

Nevertheless, the number of addicts is on the increase, chiefly among immigrants from Moslem countries.

Since drug addiction is a relatively recent phenomenon in Israel, a new word had to be coined to describe it.

Scholars of the Hebrew language and the Bible familiar with the word "mitmakker," meaning "devotee," are surprised to learn that in recent months it has taken on the additional meaning of "addict."

In Nazareth police make occasional raids on a narrow street in the old part of the city. If a raid has been planned well, they may capture a big distributor carrying small lumps of yellowish brown hasheesh in concealed pockets.

Hasheesh, a product of hemp, is known in America as marihuana. Because of its low price in comparison with other narcotics, it is the most widely used drug by addicts.

Recently, heroin has become popular, according to police records.

Israel consumes 150 kilograms of hasheesh a month. This, compared with the 2 tons daily consumed in Egypt, seems hardly worth the bother given to it. Nevertheless, in comparison with the country's population, it constitutes a serious health problem.

The army, too, is seriously concerned with weeding out addicts in its ranks, and recruits from countries condoning the use of narcotics are put under special observation.

Israel has few facilities for dealing with addicts. They are sent to the mental hospital in Acre or to prison. This year, a 21-bed ward is planned for addicts in one of the mental institutions.

Hasheesh addiction is mostly confined to the poorer classes. A half gram cost one Israeli pound.

Hasheesh is preferred by many in an eastern water pipe known as a nargeeleh. It is frequently smoked in cigarettes which Americans know as "reefers."

Fluoridation Works, 10-Year Trials Show

PEORIA, Ill. (UP)—The President says that tests in Michigan, New York and Canada prove the safety and effectiveness of fluoridation in preventing tooth decay "beyond any reasonable doubt."

Dr. Daniel F. Lynch of Washington said he based his statement on reports from Grand Rapids, Mich., Newburgh, N. Y., and Brantwood, Ont. He said all three communities have completed 10-year tests with the program.

Addressing the annual meeting of the Illinois State Dental Society, Lynch said that nearly 1,100 U. S. communities with a combined population of 21 million now drink their water with fluorides added. Several million more have it naturally in their water supply, he said.

Tahiti Plagued by Cars

PAPEETE, Tahiti (UP) — Civilization is so well established on this once primitive island that automobile accidents have risen at an alarming rate. French authorities now are studying proposed new and drastic traffic laws to punish offending drivers.

Origin of the Albanian people is unknown. They speak a language of their own, which belongs to the Aryan family and is distantly related to Greek and Latin.

Police Fooled Last Time

OMAHA, Neb. (UP) — Police Chief Harry Green ordered his squad captains to get more inquisitive about names and addresses of criminal suspects after an embarrassing check on gambling violators. Several of the suspects gave phony addresses. One address checked was a comfort station in a city park.

Post Office Airs Cheese

DECATUR, Ill. (UP) — Paul J. Fields found a package notice in his postoffice box, but a post office employe couldn't locate the package. Finally the parcel was found on the loading dock outside the building. It was easy to understand why it was there. It contained $8 worth or aromatic German hand cheese, Roquefort and Camembert.

Termites have a life span of 30 years or more.

1,000 Studying in China

TOKYO (UP) — Red China says nearly 1,000 students from 14 foreign countries are studying there. Most of them are from Russia and Iron Curtain countries. But Peiping says there also are students from Finland, India and Indonesia.

Margaret to Interview Trumans on Television

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman and his wife will be interviewed on television Friday night, May 27, by their daughter Margaret. The Trumans will appear on the Person to Person program, CBS network announced yesterday. Miss Truman will take the place of Ed Murrow, the regular conductor, who will be in England at that time.

The Amazon River is almost 400 miles wide at its mouth.

Egypt Seizes Drugs

CAIRO (AP)—The Egyptian frontier corps today reported the seizure of an estimated three million dollars worth—2½ tons—of hashish and opium from a desert caravan east of Suez. An official of the corps said it was the Egyptian government's biggest dope haul of the century.

A bull sea elephant, by far the largest of the seals, may grow to a length of 20 feet and weigh as much as three tons. Its thick layer of blubber beneath the skin yields a valuable oil.

Preaching Attacked

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP)—Methodist Bishop Frederick Buckley Newell says much current preaching is "trivial, trite and feeble." The bishop addressed 500 ministerial and lay delegates at the opening yesterday of the New York conference's 156th annual session.

REV. CARL W. NELSON

St. John's Lutheran Pastor Is Chosen

The Rev. Carl W. Nelson, pastor of the St. John's Lutheran Church has recently been elected president of the Pontiac Pastors' Association. He succeeds the Rev. J. Allen Parker of the Newman AME Church.

Other officers include: vice-president, the Rev. Howard C. Artz; secretary, the Rev. D. D. McColl; and treasurer, Ted Slosson, executive secretary of the Y.M.C.A.

The Rev. Mr. Nelson has been pastor here since Feb. 17, 1947.

20,000 to Descend on Forrest City Escaping Imaginary Raid

FORREST CITY, Ark. (AP)—Tomorrow is Operation Able for this east Arkansas town and about 20,000 persons from surrounding areas, escapees from an imaginary bombing raid, will rush in for refuge.

There will be three times as many "evacuees" as homefolks in this cotton country town of about 7,500.

• • •

The busloads of refugees will be volunteers recruited to help civil defense authorities learn more about problems encountered when a small city is called on to take care of a mob of civilians from a devastated area.

For a short time armed National Guard troops and police will patrol the streets of Forrest City, alert to any evidence of looters on a rampage. Fighter planes and bombers will roar overhead, offering air protection for fleeing civilians. Refugees will be fed and sheltered. Medical aid stations will be set up.

• • •

This will be the first dress rehearsal of its kind in the United States. Other American cities have practiced getting their own inhabitants out of town. This time they are going to practice taking care of persons bombed out of their homes.

The imaginary target is Memphis and the time of the attack is 1:06 p.m.

Capri Awaits Honeymooning Joan Crawford

ISLE OF CAPRI (AP)—Only one little thing surprises Capri Islanders about the forthcoming visit of actress Joan Crawford: They didn't know it was to be a honeymoon.

The actress' elopement to Las Vegas yesterday with Pepsi-Cola President Alfred N. Steele may have surprised their friends too, but Miss Crawford arranged for the Capri part of her honeymoon several weeks ago.

• • •

She wrote well in advance to Bob Hornstein, wealthy American who has lived on Capri for the past five years, saying she planned to leave New York by boat May 18 and would reach Capri May 26.

Hornstein happily told islanders a week ago she was coming. But no word leaked out that she would bring a husband. Hornstein expects the couple to stay at his villa, Il Capricorno.

• • •

Villagers had already planned a tarantella to welcome Miss Crawford. Now Steele will be honored too. The tarantella is the ancient dance of the fishing folk to finger drums and odd-shaped bagpipes.

Miss Crawford will spend a few days in Hollywood finishing up a picture before beginning her honeymoon.

Wholesale Foods Edge Up One Cent

NEW YORK (AP) — The Dun & Bradstreet index of wholesale food prices edged up a bit this week.

The index registered $6.39 compared with $6.38 a week ago. In the same week of 1954, the figure was $7.31.

"Foods rising in price at wholesale included flour, wheat, corn, rye, oats, hams, lard, sugar, cottonseed oil, rice and hogs. Lower were coffee, tea, cocoa, eggs, steers and lambs.

Hails Cleanup of Racketeers

Brownell Says GOP Reversing Dem Trend in Union Mobster War

DES MOINES (AP)— Atty Gen. Herbert Brownell said last night that 20 years of "Democratic pampering" of labor leaders' racketeering is being ended by the Republican administration.

He told 1,700 Iowa Republicans that the administration's war on "parasitic labor racketeers" is restoring the foundations of American political system.

* * *

The former GOP national chairman addressed the annual statewide $25-a-plate fund-raising dinner.

In an earlier press conference, he said, "I think the President will run again" in 1956.

He said in his speech that during the last two years the present administration has secured 70 indictments under the antiracketeering and Taft-Hartley laws as compared to five by the Democratic administrations in the eight years before 1953.

He said the FBI has undertaken 1,400 investigations of possible violations of the two laws and are opening new cases at the rate of 50 a month.

He cited the region around St. Louis as a good example of "ruthless extortions" of business and unions and named Evan Dale as the 'most powerful racketeer in southern Illinois and Orrel B. Soucie as the "Duke of Indiana." Both men were convicted and sentenced, he said.

State Building Plan Shadowed by Ruling

LANSING (AP) — An attorney general's opinion today shadowed plans to build a new state office building.

Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held that the state employes retirement fund monies could not be invested in the proposed project under existing law.

The $5,400,000 Stevens T. Mason building, newest of the state office buildings, was built with employe retirement funds under the earlier law which permitted the investment in a semi-official building agency which leased the structure to the state until the state has repaid the loan. Then it will become the property of the state.

Kavanagh said the original law had been changed in 1951. Officials assumed the Legislature would be asked to change the law next year.

Kavanagh also held the retirement funds could not be invested in Mackinac Bridge bonds, Michigan toll road bonds, GI mortgages and building and loan association mortgages because they were not governmentally guaranteed.

Maybury Doctor Killed in Pontiac Trail Crash

ANN ARBOR (UP) — Dr. Eugenelo Filho, 30, of Maybury Sanitarium, Northville, was found dead in his car early today after the car crashed into a tree in Salem Township, eight miles north of here.

Filho's body was found in the wreckage of his car. Police said there was evidence that Filho had fallen asleep while driving at a high rate of speed along Pontiac Trail in Washtenaw County.

3-Leg Cat Suspected of Carrying Diphtheria

PINE BLUF, Ark. (AP) — City health officials are looking for a three-legged cat. They've been authorized to shoot it but they'd rather take it alive.

H. C. Roberts, city sanitarian, said a woman stricken with diptheria told him she had fed and petted the cat. Roberts explained if the cat is a diptheria carrier it would be the first time to his knowledge a cat had been discovered carrying a disease peculiar to humans.

2 More POWs to Go on Trial

One Is Charged With Murder in Addition to Collaboration Count

NEW YORK (AP)—Two American soldiers must face courts-martial for alleged pro-Communist activities while Korean War captives.

One is involved in an unprecedented murder charge.

The two are Sgt. James C. Gallagher, 23, of Brooklyn, and Cpl. Harold M. Dunn, 26, of Baldwinsville, N.Y.

The 1st Army announced yesterday that both men, prisoners in North Korea for almost three years, must answer to charges of collaboration with the enemy and mistreatment and informing on fellow prisoners.

* * *

Gallagher is accused of "murder without premeditation of fellow prisoners of war." The number of alleged victims was not listed in the formal charge.

An Army spokesman said Gallagher and Dunn have been confined in the stockade at Ft. Jay, Governors Island. He gave no details of the alleged crimes. No trial date has been set.

The pair were released during Operation Big Switch at Panmunjom, Korea, in 1953. Both were assigned to duty at Ft. Jay.

* * *

An Army spokesman said they had been under investigation for some time because of allegations by fellow prisoners.

After he returned home, Dunn said he voluntarily attended lectures in a prison camp but added that he was not a Communist and 'I never will be."

"I wanted to get the other side of the picture," he said. 'Now I know it isn't so good. Since my return I've found out they did quite a bit of lying."

Peron Senate Kills Catholic Education

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, (AP) — Backed unanimously by the Senate, a bill eliminating Roman Catholic religious education in Argentine public schools went today to the House of Deputies. Approval there was considered certain.

The measure, first congressional move supporting President Peron in his six-month dispute with the church, was passed by the Senate yesterday. Peron supporters also have proposed a bill in Congress to cancel constitutional provisions making Roman Catholicism the state church.

Police yesterday announced the arrest of two more Catholic priests. This brought to 33 the number taken into custody since last November when Peron began accusing some churchmen of trying to undermine his regime.

To Pay Funeral Costs

LANSING (AP)—The Senate voted last night to pay the funeral expenses of a student nurse who was killed by an inmate of the Kalamazoo State Hospital last year. If the House also approves, the $656.62 would go to Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Kraai of Holland, parents of the slain Marilyn Kraai.

Find Man's Body in Building Rubble

NEW YORK (INS) — Workmen clearing the rubble left by the collapse of the under-construction New York Coliseum yesterday found the body of a missing laborer embedded in cement.

Scores of workmen had been digging through the collapsed exhibition floor of the $35-million project seeking Joseph Lombardi, 55-year-old Brooklyn cement worker who was missing since the accident Monday afternoon.

Lombardi was the only missing man of some 1,000 construction workers employed on the project when parts of the main exhibition floor fell with a roar.

Fifty-one workers were injured in the mishap.

Five investigations are being made into the cause of the accident which contractors estimate resulted in $100,000 damage to the exhibition hall and sports palace.

Still Not Mom Liberace

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Liberace's mother Mrs. Frances Casadonte, 62, has withdrawn a court petition to change her surname to that of her piano-playing son. She divorced the pianist's father Samuel Liberace in 1941 and maried Alexander Casadonte two years later. He died in 1945. Two months ago Samuel Liberace, of Madison, Wis., informed the court he intended to oppose his ex-wife's petition.

Bob Considine Says:

No One Sheds Tear for Hay Fever Crowd

NEW YORK (INS) — There are 8,000,000 victims of hay fever in the United States. To paraphrase a distinguished British statesman, never in the history of man have so many suffered with so little sympathy. It's the only disease that people laugh at. People who don't have it, that is.

It is by far the No. 1 non-fatal chronic disease in the nation. If not controlled, about a third of the hay fever cases result in chronic sinusitis, bronchitis or bronchial asthma.

In New York City alone there are 400,000 sufferers, more than half of them allergic to the pollen of the giant and common ragweeds. Only in very recent years has the city designated ragweed hay fever as a public health problem.

The first survey the Health Department made showed that the city had a 10,000 acre crop of the weeds.

It has since been spending about $80,000 a year to keep the pollen at bay, but it's still a widely ignored and only faintly understood malady.

As Bugs Baer once mourned, "The world's in bad shape. There's more sneezing and less gesundheiting."

The world traveler a few years hence will be able to step into Conrad Hilton's Waldorf Astoria and book himself hotel rooms in most of the leading capitals of the globe, using the same credit card.

Hilton Hotels are about to open in points as separated as Beverly Hills, Calif., and Istanbul, Turkey. They are in the process of being built in Rome, Cairo and Havana. Saw the plans for the Nile Hilton during a recent trip to Egypt and it promises to be the loveliest of the lot.

The latest Hilton project is a hotel for West Berlin, first hotel built in that reborn city since the start of World War II. It will be built on the southeast corner of the zoological gardens, a mile and a half from the Brandenburg Gate, which is the symbolic dividing line between the free and the slave worlds.

Chain Faces Law Suit

A sky-room supper club will command the first such view of Berlin and of the Soviet sector.

The U. S. Justice Department is suing Hilton, trying to make the chain rid itself of four hotels in the U. S. on the grounds it's stifling competition. Whatever the situation may be in the U. S., the thought occurs to this writer that there's hardly a foreign city on earth that isn't in dire need of a modern, clean, efficiently run hotel.

Nor is there a country that doesn't pine for the tourist dollars which such a hotel will attract.

Hilton Hotels abroad are built by the people of those countries, are financed by the capital of those countries, and staffed principally by natives trained by experienced U. S. hotelmen. They talk your language, know what you want . . . and you can drink the water and eat the salads.

James S. Norris, New York advertising man and Civil War buff, writes:

"I was enjoying your recent column about Indians right down to the point where you re-told that awful canard about Gen. Custer receiving Gen. Lee's flag of truce at Appomattox.

"That just ain't so. What really did happen was that that awful little ham tried to get the Confederate Gen. Longstreet to surrender to him. And what Gen. Longstreet told Custer couldn't be printed in any family newspaper. And, of course, he didn't surrender to him.

"Custer was present in the living room of the McClean house when the terms of surrender were negotiated between Gens. Grant and Lee. He stole one of the chairs. All together, he was a thoroughly disagreeable character and what happened to him on the Little Big Horn he had coming."

Finance Men Condemn 'Wild' Auto Credit Offers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Representatives of finance companies, banks and automobile dealers condemned "wild and impossible" automobile credit offers as bad for the auto industry and the public.

However, Frederick J. Bell, executive vice president of the National Automobile Dealers Assn. said recently that in general the participants at the meeting found automobile installment credit to be sound.

Bell told newsmen that the meeting, which was closed to the press, recommended that new car sales be on a not less than 25 per cent cash basis, with payments to be completed in not more than 30 months.

The meeting was called by the auto dealers association to explore the credit terms being granted during the present boom in automobile sales.

Finder Will Return Dream House Fund

DETROIT (AP) — The Pawlaks dreamed of a new home in the suburbs.

They had saved a down payment of $710.

But Mrs. Charles Pawlak lost the money Monday on her way to a bank in downtown Detroit.

Mrs. Evelyn Montie found the money in a small cloth purse on a sidewalk. She read in the newspapers about the Pawlaks' loss and yesterday she phoned Mrs. Pawlak. "You can sleep tonight. I have your money."

"Mrs. Pawlak was so happy she cried," Mrs. Montie said.

Smoke Bombing Probed

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Navy is trying to determine how a plane happened to drop a smoke signal bomb through the roof of Mr. and Mrs. Leverett Bristol's home. It landed in a bedroom. The Bristols were in the kitchen and were unhurt.

Anyone who could neatly eat slippery foods with a knife was not considered uncouth in colonial America, but was regarded with awe and envy for his dexterity and finesse.

3rd Baby Arrives May 11

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — For the third time in a row, a new addition to the Ernest W. Isaacson family arrived on a May 11. The seven-pound baby girl born yesterday has not been named. Stanley Willard Isaacson was born May 11, 1951, and Vickie Lynn May 11, 1952. The Isaacsons have no other children.

Tallest plants in the world are seaweeds, of which some more than 600 feet tall have been found in the ocean at the southern tip of South America.

Old Enough for Stickup

WALLINGFORD, Conn. (AP) — "You don't look 21," Edwin E. Cowen told two youths who ordered a quart of beer at his liquor store. When Cowen asked them for proof of age, one of the youths reached into his pocket for a revolver. The pair fled with $250 in cash from Cowen's wallet and cash register.

The derisive term "mollycoddle" first was used to describe the effeminate and pampered men who evaded service in the Army during the Civil War.

Beef Steps Into Spotlight Among Better Meat Buys

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Beef returns to a prominent place among the better buys in meats in the nation's food stores this weekend.

Markets will be passing on cuts in wholesale beef prices, and some meat specialists say there may be further reductions next week.

Popular features will include prime ribs, steaks, chuck steak or roast and boneless chuck pot roast. Price reductions will vary from two to around six cents a pound.

Fryers again will be a favorite feature. Generally, prices will be the same as a week ago or a trifle lower.

Specials mentioned by scattered stores include legs of lamb, lamb chops, smoked picnics and ground beef.

There'll be few bargains in the pork line. Prices are higher at the wholesale level and you may find pork chop price tags in your store up four to six cents a pound from a week ago.

Prok Still Plentiful

The U. S. Department of Agriculture, looking over the food situation for this month, comments that pork supplies, though not as heavy as in previous months, will continue plentiful through the spring. It adds that high-quality beef will be in seasonal abundance.

The USDA also puts in a word for dairy products.

"Milk production continues to season's peak in June," it says. "So remember to reach often for the top thirst-quencher — a tall tumbler of cool milk.

"Large supplies of all the other dairy products will continue during May. Lots of cheese, butter and dry milk products are available for springtime menus."

You'll find something new in the seafood line in your supermarket's freezer compartments soon. A big food company is marketing something called Fish Bites. They're balls about the size of a 50-cent piece and are made of precooked morsels of ocean fish with potatoes and seasonings added. You heat them in the oven for about 10 minutes.

Vegetables Are Varied

There's good variety in reasonably priced vegetables. Produce specialists favor corn, potatoes, onions, radishes, spinach, escarole, endive, beets, asparagus, celery, beans and peppers.

In some sections of the country, sweet potatoes also rate as good buys. Cucumbers are moderately priced.

There have been small increases in the price of lettuce, carrots, cabbage and tomatoes.

Oranges and grapefruit are good buys in fruit, the produce markets report. Washington Delicious apples are cheaper. More watermelons are arriving at the markets, but prices are still on the high side. Cantaloupes also are rather high.

Aquatot's Father Told to Surrender

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Russell Tongay, swimming instructor convicted of causing the death of his daughter, was under orders to surrender today to begin a 10-year jail term.

The order was issued in Circuit Court here after the State Supreme Court refused to rehear his appeal.

8 Members of Family Die in Mexican Crash

MONTERREY, Mexico (AP)—Eight members of the Mexican family from Fresno, Calif., were killed yesterday when their car hurtled into a canal near here. They were returning home from a Mother's Day visit in Mexico.

The only survivor was the father, Ramiro G. Lozano, who was driving the car. Most victims drowned.

Lozano told officials he lost control of the car when his wife, nervous because of the speed, grabbed him.

Kefauver and Long Join Union Leaders in Plea for Strike Arbitration

ATLANTA (AP)—Two U.S. senators have joined union leaders in calling on the Southern Bell Telephone Co. to agree to arbitration in its dispute with striking workers.

Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn) told the Senate yesterday that he sent identical messages to the company and to the CIO Communications Workers of America, urging arbitration.

He said President J. A. Beirne of the CWA replied that the union would agree to submit unsettled issues to impartial arbitrators recommended by the federal mediation service.

Kefauver added that he had not heard from the telephone company but hoped to have word soon.

Sen. Long (D-La) supported Kefauver's stand.

"This strike has gone on too long," Long told the Senate. "It should be and could be settled." If the company "would negotiate in good faith, the strike would have been settled," he said.

Last night petitions were circulated by the CWA at Chattanooga to ask Gov. Frank Clement of Tennessee to urge Southern Bell to submit to arbitration.

Russian Hospitality Fails to Alter Ex-GIs' Beliefs

MOSCOW (AP)—The leader of nine American veterans of the 1945 U.S-Soviet Elbe River linkup says reunion with the Russians hasn't altered the group's "right of center" political leanings.

The spokesman for the group—Joseph Polowsky of Chicago—told reporters here last night he and his colleagues "fully support the U.S. government's foreign policy," including West German rearmament. The nine arrived here Monday for a five-day visit as guests of the Soviet Union.

Polowsky made the comment after a rally with Soviet veterans in the Central House of the Soviet army. At the rally Russian Col. A. S. Zhadov assailed the "remilitarization of West Germany."

Reporters noted that Polowsky and his colleagues, who were on the stage during the meeting, frequently applauded the Russians' speeches. Asked later if he and his companions understood what they were applauding, Polowsky said they were depending on an interpreter.

"I did not applaud criticism of West German rearmanent, which I fully support," Polowsky said. "I did not applaud any criticism of the United States government, which I fully support.

"We haven't discussed politics here at all and wouldn't bring up the matter if the Russians didn't do it first," he added. "I and my colleagues here are all right of center in our political leanings."

During last night's ceremonies, Polowsky invited the Russian veterans to visit Washington. He assure dthem "the same warm hospitality we received here."

The Americans, who will continue sightseeing until Friday, include William Weisel, Cincinnati; Murry Schulman, Queens Village, N.Y.; Elijah R. Sams Jr., Pinnacle, N.C.; Charles C. Forrester, Greer, S.C.; Robert Haag, Indianapolis; Fred W. Johnston, Bradford, Pa.; Claude W. Moore, Newbern, Tenn.; and Byron L. Shiver, Lakeland, Fla.

General Resigns Post in Indonesia

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — The government today announced the resignation of the army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Bambang Sugeng. It gave ill health as the reason and said the Cabinet, after an all-night session, had agreed to accept.

Official sources said the 46-year-old former guerrilla leader would be given a diplomatic post abroad.

Sugeng was reported to have resigned last January. A highly placed source said at the time the general declared he was 'unable to cope with political intrigues inside the army." He had taken the post after an intra-army quarrel had threatened to flare into civil war in 1952.

Civitans Hear U. of M. Man on Indochina

Dr. Edward Prophet, professor with the University of Michigan extension service, spoke Wednesday before the Pontiac Civitans, telling of the part Michigan is playing in the fight to stem Communist propaganda in Indochina.

He said the present premier of Indochina is a University of Michigan graduate and has asked this school to send a team of 35 trained in the field of economics, government, police and social work. A quartet of U. of M. men made a survey prior to this decision which pointed up the need for this type of assistance in Indochina.

Referring to Western Germany's progress since the end of the war, Dr. Prophet said this section with its 50 million people and top industrial production is a threat to Russia. It produces, he said, one-half of the total amount of materials turned out by the Soviet.

Tot Swears Off Cigars

BETHALTO, Ill. (AP)—Earl Welton, 3½, has sworn off cigars and taken to ice cream instead. His mother, Mrs. Earl C. Welton said he hasn't smoked for six days but "he has eaten about 20 ice cream cones." Word from a schoolteacher that he couldn't attend school if he smoked cigars brought about the reform, she said.

Fine Cut to Price of Car

PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP) — Melvin L. James, 27, pleaded guilty in District Court yesterday to charges of driving an improperly registered car and driving without his eyeglasses. He told Judge Luigi DePasquale the car had caused him so much trouble with police that he sold it Tuesday for $8 in the hope it would cover the fine. Judge DePasquale obliged by cutting a $10 fine to $8.

EMIL ZAMORSKI

New Man Joins Child Guidance Clinic in City

Joining the staff of the Pontiac Child Guidance Clinic as a psychiatric social worker, Emil Zamorski will work with parents and children, focusing on the emotional problems of children who come to the clinic.

Experienced in social service work, Zamorski has been on the staff of the Detroit Family Service Agency as a caseworker and was a day camp counselor and boys' supervisor at the Oakland County Boys' Ranch.

During 1950-52 he was employed as a juvenile probation officer for Lenawee County.

Born in Chicago, Ill. in 1927, Zamorski attended public schools there. He served with the 9th Air Force in Germany in 1945-46, as an administrative specialist.

He graduated from Adrian College in 1951, receiving a B.A. degree, with major in sociology. Enrolling in Wayne University Graduate School of Social Work in 1952, he graduated in 1954 with M.S.W. degree, specializing in psychiatric social work.

To live at 59 Monroe Street here, Zamorski plans to work in child guidance and to undertake graduate work in clinical psychology.

Nautilus to Embark on 'Shakedown' Trip

GROTON, Conn. (AP)—The atomic submarine Nautilus is expected to make a second try today at starting on its first long shakedown cruise.

The Nautilus returned to her berth here yesterday after a steam pipe burst off Block Island, R.I. She had started on the cruise Tuesday with Adm. Robert Carney, chief of naval operations, on board.

The spokesman said the pipe break occured after Adm. Carney was transferred to another ship off Long Island for a flight back to Washington.

Transit Relic May Be Doomed

NEW YORK (AP)—The Third Ave. El, transit relic of days when hearts now old were young and gay, creaks into history tonight—maybe.

The CIO Transport Workers Union has gone into court seeking a shot of legal adrenalin for the rattly old thing.

Matter to Be Argued Today

The matter is to be argued today, and it could happen again that reports of the El's pending demise are premature.

The Transit Authority, which must worry about all of New York's subways, elevateds and a good share of its buses, has decreed that the last old train will roll north to the Bronx at 6 p. m.

After that it will run intermittently up in the Bronx, but Manhattan will be left without any of the above-ground arteries that have, over the years, blocked out considerable amounts of its sunlight.

The Sixth Ave. El reached the end of its line in 1938. The Ninth Ave. and the Second Ave. followed.

The long, long trail of girders and rails that is the Third Ave. El began to stretch toward the Bronx from South Ferry, the tip of lower Manhattan, 77 years ago.

Ran Along the Bowery

It ran along the Bowery—now Skid Row but then the glamorous heart of the city's amusement area—and into Third Ave. to 42nd St. A few years later it was sending its "spacious, elegant coaches, decorated with all the taste and finish of a boudoir" up to 129th St.

In 1891 the doughty Third Ave. crossed the Harlem River and roamed on, finally reaching the city line by 1920.

Original steam locomotives gave way to electricity and the El went merrily along through the years. But the subways came, and buses, and the city changed, and so did people's traveling habits.

Buildings along the tracks deteriorated. Some were so close that an El rider could almost step across into a window. The mile upon mile of girder-pillars supporting the El structure became traffic hazards that cluttered up a wide avenue.

Threats to tear it down grew in number.

Not long ago, a group of railroad fans paid $5.50 each for a final, sad ride over the old line in a special train—and the Third Ave. was reprieved again.

Death Knell Is Sounded

The El's death knell was sounded in a Transit Authority announcement saying the line carried only 70,000 passengers a day, or 35,000 individuals on round trips, compared with 275,000 several years ago.

By contrast, the subways carry 4½ million riders a day.

The El, the authority said, was losing money at the rate of $50,000 a week. It was in such bad shape that officials kept their fingers crossed every minute of the day, hoping that no accident occurred.

Rehabilitation Cost High

The cost of rehabilitation was estimated at more than 80 million dollars.

To many, the departure of the El structure will mean opening a new frontier for development on an island without spare real estate. Nevertheless, protests against the closing are legion. Mostly they deal with the alleged lack of alternative transport.

But to one youngster living under the El it is a thing of the heart. "My 12-year-old son weeps inconsolably and refuses to eat," his distraught mother wrote the Transit Authority.

SMILE WELCOMES VISITORS — St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Nurse Betty Beck of the nursing service division flashes an appropriate smile today on Florence Nightingale's birthday, being observed throughout the United States as National Hospital Day. Conducting visitors through the hospital today, Mrs. Beck displays literature which is being distributed to persons touring the hospital today and throughout Hospital Week. The hospital is emphasizing careers in medicine and allied fields during the week's program. St. Joseph's, Pontiac's largest hospital, had 14,802 admissions during last year with an average daily census of 337. The hospital handled 15,394 emergencies and treated 2,803 outpatients also admitted. Hospitals in the United States cared for more than 20,000,000 patients last year, the greatest number in any year of hospital history. With a total of 7,000 hospitals in the United States, the national hospital bed deficit was reported last year at an estimated 800,000 beds. Employes at St. Joseph Hospital number 648. The day's program urges young men and women to enter the medical fields, which are in need of thousands of nurses, doctors and technicians.

Junior Achievers to Hold Annual Program Tonight

With the books closed ontheir most successful operating year to date, Southeastern Michigan's Junior Achievers, along with the business and industrial leaders who support the JA program, will meet at 8 o'clock tonight in Detroit's Masonic Temple for the fifth annual "Future Unlimited" celebration.

The evening's program under general chairman Ross Roy, vice president of the JA board and president of the Ross Roy, Inc. advertising agency, will honor the area's most outstanding participants.

College scholarships, plaques and scrolls will be awarded boys and girls who, starting last October in 236 JA firms, sparked the building of a junior-sized financial empire in eight months.

Among the firms to be honored are one from Pontiac and two from Birmingham.

Larry Decker, 17, of 267 Elizabeth Lake Rd., president of Plastico, will receive an award honoring his company as the top JA firm in the area in the plastics manufacturing category.

Plastico, sponsored by GMC Truck & Coach Division, was one of the dozen Pontiac firms which operated in the JA Center located at 53 N. Mill St.

Birmingham companies to be honored are J-Ad, advertising agency sponsored by the Birmingham Eccentric, and Wee-Ma-Kit, sponsored by Detrex Corp.

J-Ad is headed by Ted Donay, 18, of Birmingham, and Wee-Ma-Kit by Dick Martin, 17, of Birmingham.

Achievers, operating both manufacturing and service corporations under the guidance of advisers from business and industry, grossed $80,000 in their operations this year.

This sixth program year has seen the Southeastern Michigan area become the largest JA operation in the nation—a long way from the opening of JA in Detroit in 1949 when 600 boys and girls operated 63 companies.

Participating in the evening's program will be Achievers from the cities which now comprise JA of Southeastern Michigan: Ann Arbor, Birmingham, Dearborn, Detroit, Ferndale, Monroe, Plymouth, Pontiac, River Rouge, Wayne Wyandotte and Ypsilanti.

Two Detroiters Injured When Auto Overturns

After their car overturned on Commerce road near Hiller road early today, two Detroit men were treated for cuts and bruises at Pontiac General Hospital.

The driver, Richard A. Ostrowski, 32, of Hamtramck, told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies he lost control of his car when it skidded on a curve. His passenger, Alexander K. Hillcoat, of Detroit, was treated for an injured shoulder, suffered when the car overturned into a ditch.

Solons Approve School Aid Bill

Hike in Per-Student Payments Earmarked for Teachers' Pay

LANSING (AP)—The Senate passed $347,166,000 worth of appropriation bills last night in an action-packed four-hour session.

Making up for a day spent at the Holland tulip festival, the senators labored to within seven minutes of the mandatory midnight deadline for adjournment.

The house will vote this afternoon on 200 million dollars worth of money bills.

The senate voted to give junior and community colleges their first general fund money for operations—$750,000 in addition to the $1,500,000 they now get from the state school aid fund.

It passed the 184 million-dollar school aid bill, which boosts per student payments seven dollars to $177 and $157 for high school and elementary pupils, respectively—but earmarks the increase for teachers' pay.

Snow Removal Allowance

It voted $350,000 for snow removal allowances to northern counties.

It voted $212,500 for local airport matching funds.

It voted $4,627,000 for repair and maintenance of state institutions $7,227,500 out of the hospital bond issue for mental hospital construction and plans and $113,626,518 for general institutional construction—a down payment on a 35 million dollar construction program for the next few years.

Passing a $15,443,000 appropriation for mental hospital operations, the senate increased the amount for curative drugs from $100,000 to $175,000, approved $175,000 for a new psychiatric research unit at the University of Michigan and agreed to spend $22,000—$500 less than the governor gets—for a man to coordinate mental treatment in all state hospitals.

U.P. Library Branch

The senate added $25,000 for an Upper Peninsula branch of the State Library, $50,000 for operation of the Michigan College of Mines' forestry operation on the former Ford Motor Co. Elberta property and set up $500,000 to plan a $1,597,000 civil engineering and geological building at the mining college in place of a proposed new library.

The senate added $100,000 to the University of Michigan appropriation for development of its north campus and $151,160 for a utility tunnel at the children's hospital.

It gave Western Michigan College $125,000 more for an addition to McCracken Hall.

It boosted the state police building allowance to $200,000 to provide for posts at Saginaw, Grand Haven and Clinton.

Prison Chapel Out

It eliminated plans for a chapel at Southern Michigan Prison and set up $40,000 for two guard houses and a cyclone fence.

In the house, Rep. John J. McCune (R-East Lansing) tried unsuccessfully to tack on an amendment to the conservation appropriation requiring visitors to certain state parks to pay 10 cents apiece.

Democrats tried in vain to up the public safety budget to allow an addition of 117 state police. The bill in its present form would allow the state to hire 50 more policemen.

HOLY SMOKE! — Joe, a pet blackbird, "puffs" on a cigarette as he perches on the arm of his owner, cab driver Ralph Steadman of Kansas City, Mo. Found with a broken wing a year ago, Joe was nursed back to health by Steadman. He's shown no desire to fly away since. Steadman says the bird is a good weather prophet. Rain or snow always follow, he says, when Joe is observed fluffing his feathers and making bird chatter.

Propose to Give President Vaccine Distribution Power

WASHINGTON (AP)—A move was gaining momentum in Congress today to give President Eisenhower sweeping standby powers to clamp controls over distribution and prices of Salk polio vaccine.

Rep. Wolcott (R-Mich) said the proposal seems to be a "happy compromise" between contradictory demands for only voluntary guides and for drastic, compulsory and immediate controls.

He said he thought standby powers should be satisfactory to the Eisenhower administration, which has opposed federal controls so far.

Wolcott, usually a foe of federal controls, is senior Republican on the House Banking Committee, which is considering a wide variety of vaccince control bills.

• • •

Committee Chairman Spence (D-Ky) said standby controls "might well be the best solution," but he was not ready to commit himself yet.

• • •

Rep. Davidson (D-NY), another committee member, said sentiment for standby control powers is "very strong" among both Republicans and Democrats and he is convinced Congress will approve them.

These comments came today while:

1. The Public Health Service continued an on-the-spot recheck of vaccine manufacturing at the Parke, Davis and Co. laboratories in Detroit, the first of five manufacturers to be inspected. Surgeon General Leonard Scheele has called for a halt in the nationwide vaccination of schoolchildren pending these plant-by-plant rechecks.

2. Scheele agreed to go before the Banking Committee tomorrow to explain the situation further.

3. Some House members fired growing criticism at Mrs. Oveta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, eduation and welfare, who has general supervision over the Public Health Service, which Scheele heads.

4. A Public Health Service count showed the number of confirmed polio cases among children already vaccinated has risen to 62, out of an estimated five million children who have received the serum.

5. Parke, Davis and Co. said it has developed what it expects to be an improved version of the vaccine, and is testing it in De Witt County, Ill. It said a new substance has been added to slow down absorption into the blood stream. This should both increase the vaccine's effectiveness and provide a longer period of immunity, a company spokesman said.

• • •

Rep. Multer (D-NY) said he would urge the Banking Committee to adopt a resolution calling on the President to direct Mrs. Hobby to appear as a committee witness.

• • •

"The whole program has been manhandled," he said, "and the fault lies at the door of the secretary, Mrs. Hobby. This is her problem, not the problem of the surgeon general."

Rep. Bolling (D-Mo) told the House yesterday she appears to be ducking her responsibilities by disappearing "into the background" and shoving Dr. Scheele out front "when there is really a tough problem."

More Than 90 Women Seeking British Posts

LONDON (AP)—The British House of Commons was all male until 36 years ago, when Lady Nancy Astor took a seat.

Virginia-born Lady Astor showed the way to women with a political bee in their bonnets. There were 21 women among the 625 members in the House of Commons just dissolved.

More than 90 women are running for seats in the May 26 election of a new House. Perhaps 30 of them look like winners.

Among the current members are the Labor party's two leading ladies—"Battling Bessie" Braddock, 55, a 250-pound political foe of communism and Laborite left-wingers, and Dr. Edith Summerskill, 54.

• • •

On the Conservative side, the most vocal are red-haired Patricia Hornsby-Smith, 41, a junior minister with the reputation of being a snappy dresser, and 66-year-old Dame Florence Horsbrugh, who would pass for anybody's auntie.

Hardly a week passes without some of the Westminster lassies getting their names in print.

Last month Laborite Jennie Lee, 51, hit front pages with the opinion that Secretary of State Dulles' diplomacy "has all the delicacy of an elephant treading on eggs." Miss Lee once delighted her constituents by disclosing she had a special pair of woolen bloomers for speaking from drafty platforms. She is the wife of Aneurin Bevan, and as far to the left as he.

• • •

Mrs. Braddock has cornered her share of headlines too with two major libel actions—she lost them both—and a suspension from the House of Commons for talking back to the speaker.

Dr. Summerskill frequently attacks boxing and boxers. She calls them morons and says they should get their brains tested before they get them beaten out.

Dr. James O. Whitmer, 107 E. Berkshire, recently was elected to his third term as Secretary-Treasurer of the Michigan Academy of Chiropractic, Inc. at its convention in Detroit. Dr. W. E. Vander Stoip of Grand Rapids and member of the board of directors, was elected president.

Pittsburgh Pupils Use Homemade 'TV' Set

The first grade in Mt. Mercy Academy in Pittsburgh is an assortment of TV actors, writers, producers and newscasters. It's all due to a homemade "TV set" which has a prominent spot in the room. It is an effective incentive for learning. The class writes and dramatizes plays — their favorite is "Three Billy Goats Gruff" complete with hoofbeat sound effects on the bridge and the scary voice of the troll. Daily newscasts are written by a news staff and presented with a mop-stick microphone.

Raps Anti-Trust Action Against Press Group

CHICAGO (INS) — The president of the American Newspaper Publishers Association has accused Justice Department of trying to "saddle the press with a permanent injunction."

He said the department was trying to accomplish this through its anti-trust suit against the ANPA.

Social Etiquette Natural to Junior Diplomat Corps

MEDFORD, Mass. (UP) — Budding diplomats at the Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy pass up cookie-pushing and the study of social etiquette for sterner stuff—history, law and economics.

Fletcher officials feel that the social tools of diplomacy should come naturally, and the theory seems to work. The 21-year-old institution, located on the Tufts College campus, has more than 700 graduates in the U. S. state department, international organizations, international business concerns an dthe foreign ministries of various governments.

But, Dean Robert Burgess Stewart explained, "We are not a trade school turning out diplomats."

"Strictly speaking," he added, "you can't train a diplomat. We take the students who have the qualifications and give them background to help them succeed in their career."

Some 60 students, including 20 from foreign countries, are taking courses this year leading to a master's degree or the doctorate under a faculty of 10 teachers and 11 researchers.

A new faculty member is Dr. Marek S. Korowicz, former Polish delegate to the United Nations, who made a dramatic break with his Communist-dominated country in New York last year. A former law professor at Poland's oldest university in Krakow, Dr. Korowicz teaches international law and organization.

Many foreign governments send their diplomatic personnel to Fletcher for training. Twenty-four Pakistani foreign service officers have attended Fletcher since 1950, including six currently enrolled. Indonesia, India, Korea and Thailand also have students at the school.

Among the high-ranking Fletcher graduates are: Boris Klosson, deputy chief of research on Russia for the U.S. state department; Harlan Clark, state department authority on the Middle East; Edward Jamison, deputy director of U.S. inter-American affairs; Jean Francois-Poincet, secretary to the French high commissioner in Germany.

Fletcher, which is administered by Tufts College with the cooperation of Harvard, also does important research work. Its staff advises the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, the Ford and Rockefeller Foundations and many other groups on international policy. It is beginning a three-year study of the social democratic movement in Japan under a Ford Foundation grant.

Yale Stresses Books, Not Fun for Undergrads

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale has a new plan by which it hopes to direct its students' minds more toward the books and less toward extracurricular activities.

The university calls it a major change in its study program for undergraduates. Drawn up by a faculty committee headed by President A. Whitney Griswold, it is the first change since 1946.

* * *

The announcement said the change was "aimed at reviving the interest of students in academic work and modifying their attention to extra curricular activities."

Any Yale undergraduate knows what that means.

Fewer parties. Fewer visits to Vassar. Less emphasis on sports.

The program consists of two plans, both to go into effect in September 1956.

Plan A: All sophomores must continue the work they started in their freshman year (no switching to so-called snap courses). Organize the curriculum into the three basic areas of natural sciences and mathematics, history and social sciences, and the arts, instead of along the traditional departmental lines.

Plan B: Eliminate standard courses. Substitute them with seminars organized on the basis of extensive reading lists.

Tot Runs Into Auto

Larry Lee Pittaway, 5, of 183 Chandler St., was treated at Pontiac General Hospital Tuesday for face bruises suffered when he ran into the side of an auto at Hill and Chandler Sts., Pontiac Police reported today.

Driver Maxwell P. Lucas, 64, of 15 Portage St., was quoted by Patrolman Gene L. Felker as saying he was unable to see the child running into the side of his auto.

Bonn Coalition Seen Carrying Arms Plan

HANNOVER, Germany (AP) — A new four-party coalition government in Lower Saxony state today assured Chancellor Konrad Adenauer the two-thirds majority needed in the Federal Parliament's upper house to carry through West German rearmament.

The coalition replaced a government dominated by antirearmament Socialists. The new lineup was assured when the Refugee party (BHE) agreed last night to join the Chancellor's Christian Democrats and two other pro-Adenauer factions in the state administration.

* * *

Members of the Bundesrat, Parliament's upper house, are appointed by the state governments. Lower Saxony's five seats in the chamber will give Adenauer a 26-12 majority there. This margin will be needed if the Socialists successfully challenge the constitutionality of any of the mass of legislation needed to carry out the rearmament program. A two-thirds vote is required to change the constitution.

'Ike' Needs Push

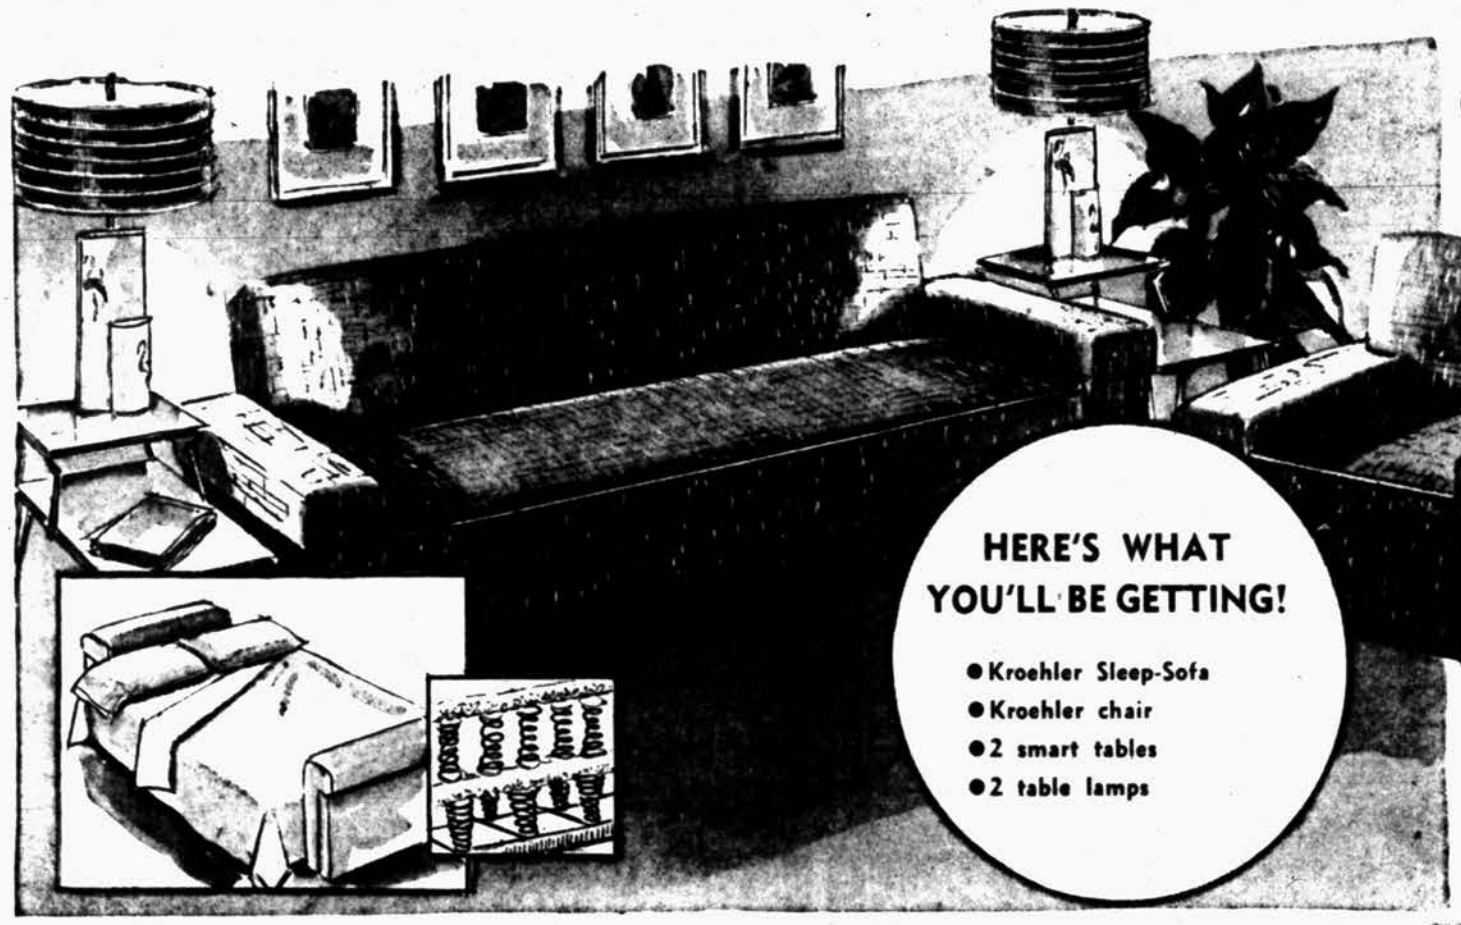

HASTINGS, Neb. (UP) — Paul (Ike) Eisenhauer was a candidate for a student office recently at Hastings College, so his campaign manager, Miss Susan Smith, wired President Eisenhower, requesting White House endorsement of her candidate. In replying, the President wrote in part:

"... it's evident that Paul Eisenhauer recognizes one of the requisites for a successful campaign is to obtain the services of a competent and resourful manager."

Committee Says Gasoline Still Best Bargain

"The average increase in gasoline prices since 1925 is 30.8 per cent, substantially below other basic commodities and below the average for all items, which is 53.1 per cent," local oil company owner James C. Clarke said yesterday.

Speaking for the Pontiac Oil Industry Information Committee, Clarke said "If you discount federal, state and local taxes, over which neither oil men nor competition have any control, the increase since 1925 is only 7.3 per cent. Gasoline taxes have increased 250 per cent in the same period.

"At the same time, competition among oil companies to develop better products has brought about remarkable improvements in gasoline quality—two gallons of modern gasoline will do the work that required three gallons of the 1925 type.

"Gasoline continues to be the average family's best shopping bargain," he concluded.

Salk Boon to Lollypops

NEW YORK (UP) — Parents aren't the only ones to hail the Salk anti-polio vaccine as a boon. The National Confectionery Salesman's Association said today the practice of giving lollypops to youngsters after their vaccinations has given the lollypop "the greatest prestige in its history."

'Stork Assistants' to Rate Fancy Title After Class

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — Ambulance drivers of the Pittsburgh Police Dept. often are nicknamed "stork assistants" by fellow officers. Now they will be entitled to the more formal title "obstetrical first aidmen." The title will be included in a certificate to be given to policemen completing a course taught by Dr. Clarence Ingram.

Fifty police — all ambulance drivers — enrolled for the first classes.

Officer John Pektas, a member of the police force for 17 years, was the student picked as most likely to succeed. He has assisted at 11 deliveries and says: "Mothers and children all have done well."

HONOR 'RUBBLE WOMEN'—Statue honoring "rubble women" who helped clear rubble in West Berlin, gets finishing touch by Katherina Singer as real rubble woman watches.

Oldest in Her Field

Alma Writer, 92, Recalls Pioneer Days in Column

PLEASANT VALLEY, Mich. (AP)—Probably Michigan's oldest active newspaper columnist is a perky white haired woman of 92.

She is Mrs. Clara Moyer, who is still going strong with a weekly column in Alma Record.

She admits her pace is leisurely—it takes her about two days to do a column "if I'm not disturbed too often."

"Nowadays, when my line of thought is interrupted, I have to go to the beginning and start over," she explains.

Readers of newswoman Moyer find in her writings chatty reminiscences of pioneer days and her personal experiences as a farmer's wife, storekeeper and school teacher, along with homespun humor and news of community happenings in this Midland County village.

When she was 27, Mrs. Moyer began teaching in rural schools. She recalls that she taught one generation of children, then their children and finally their grandchildren. Among her pupils were one of her brothers, a girl who later became her sister-in-law and two nieces.

Although childless herself, Mrs. Moyer cared for five nephews and nieces whose mother had died. Her husband died some years ago and this spring her last remaining brother, Ralph Hitchcock, died at the age of 90.

"I miss him terribly, and I'll miss his help with my column," Mrs. Moyer said. "He remembered so many interesting things that I had forgotten."

She keeps up on national and international news by reading, listening to the radio and watching television.

Asked how long she'd been writing her column, Mrs. Moyer said "You've got me there."

Comedian's Wife Suing for Auto Crash Injuries

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Mrs. Roscoe Ates, wife of the stuttering comedian, is asking $28,875 damages for injuries suffered in an automobile accident last Jan. 14.

She and her husband filed the suit in Superior Court yesterday against Robert E. Brandow, oil company employe. The suit said Mrs. Ates was seriously injured when her car and one driven by Brandow collided at a Los Angeles intersection.

To Quiz Wolfson, Avery

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D-NY) says he will call Louis Wolfson and Sewell Avery, key figures in the recent proxy battle for control of Montgomery Ward, to testify publicly before a Senate Banking subcommittee he heads. The group has scheduled hearings May 25-26 on stock ownership and proxy fights.

Metal Outlook Remains Bright

Drop in Scrap Steel Prices Fails to Dim Optimist at Mills

NEW YORK (AP) — Scrap steel prices have slipped from their lofty perch. A few years back such a drop would have been looked upon as foretelling a decline in steel production.

Copper prices in London have taken an even sharper tumble and that could foreshadow an easing of the tight supply here.

But in the face of all these factors that once would have been considered a barometer of easing production, metalmen here seem as optimistic as ever over the bright prospects for 1955.

• • •

Steel mill schedules are holding at record levels. Steelmen say scrap prices aren't a barometer this time. They have been easing because supplies of scrap have increased. Also, many steel mills are using more iron in their mix and less scrap.

Makers of steel, conning their order books, see no letup in demand and production for some time ahead—barring labor trouble.

Copper producers admit that the sharp drop in the price at London—where Rhodesian metal can now be bought for 1 cent a pound less than here—will tend in time to ease the shortage in the United States, and thus may foretell lower prices later. Copper now sells at 36 cents a pound, 6 cents higher than at the start of the year.

Stockpiling has bolstered the prices of lead and zinc too. The government has just pledged to continue buying the metals which all but guarantees a price floor for them.

OKs Construction of Pipeline in State

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Power Commission yesterday authorized Michigan Gas Storage Co., Jackson, to construct about $2,572,000 worth of natural gas pipeline facilities on its transmission system in Michigan.

The new facilities will be used to withdraw additional storage gas during the winter for delivery to the company's only customer, Consumers Power Co. They will also enable Michigan to receive additional supplies as available from Panhandle Eastern Pipeline Co., Kansas City.

Honesty Is Surprising

PERTH AMBOY, N.J. (AP)—When cafe proprietor Melvin Cutler lost a bag containing $745 in business receipts, he didn't even bother to notify police, thinking there wasn't a chance in a million of getting it back. Wesley Moody, a crane operator, found the bag and turned it over yesterday to police, who traced it to Cutler. Cutler said he'd give Moody "a suitable reward."

IDEA MAN — Freckled Robert Maslin, 12, was disqualified when he tried to enter his bullfrog in the butter churning contest at the third annual Butter Day Celebration in Mansfield, Mo. Robert wanted to drop the frog in the bucket of cream and let the croaker churn it by kicking around. Might have worked, too, but the judges thought the boy should do the churning himself.

County Citizens' League Plans Meeting Tonight

The Oakland County Citizens League will hold its annual meeting tonight at 8:15 in the Birmingham Community House, according to Henry S. Booth, president.

Principal speaker will be Thomas R. Reid, director of civic affairs for the Ford Motor Co.

"Reid is chairman of the famed Hoover Commission task force on problems in the national government and will reveal the behind-the-scenes story of the Hoover Report, one of the most significant events of our time," said Booth.

Club Views Facilities of Hospital

Members of the Pontiac Toastmistress Club gathered at Pontiac General Hospital Tuesday evening in observance of National Hospital Week.

Following dinner, members of the club toured the hospital and viewed the facilities.

At the conclusion of the tour a program was conducted by Mrs. Norman Sutherland, toastmistress of the evening. Table topic mistress was Mrs. Emil Mallahn.

Mrs. Robert Hodge gave a speech entitled "Helpful Hester"; Lauretta Paul spoke on the United Nations Building, and Helen Turek's topic was "Opportunities Unlimited."

The speakers were criticized by Mrs. Milton Freet, Mrs. Frederick Warrick and Mrs. Lester Snell. Duties of the grammarian were carried out by Mrs. Howard Wheatley and chief evaluator was Mrs. Orben Wilkins.

Evelyn Cole was timekeeper and Mrs. Joseph Shaw was the tail-twister. The "Oscar" was won by Helen Lapisch.

Mrs. Michael Gallo Is Guild President

Mrs. Michael Gallo was installed as president of the General Guild of Grace Lutheran Church by Mrs. William Rahn at a recent meeting.

Mrs. Vere Hodges was installed as secretary, Mrs. Otto Mielke as treasurer, Mrs. Jason Inscho as first vice president and Mrs. Emil Koop as second vice president.

Mrs. R. F. Jesse, of the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church of Detroit, talked to the members on how to make many gifts for a Christmas bazaar.

A cooperative luncheon was served with Mrs. Earl Burrill, Mrs. Albert Trapp and Mrs. Emery Mitchell as hostesses. Plans were made for terminating the season with a picnic in June.

Mrs. Ford Hostess to Gamma Chapter

Mrs. William Ford Jr. opened her home on Menominee road Tuesday evening to members of Gamma Chapter of Beta Theta Phi sorority.

Arrangements were made to send three girls to Camp Sherwood and tickets were distributed for the Beta Ball to be held May 21.

Soroptimist Clubs Plan Installation

June is the month designated by Soroptimist International for its installation of officers. The Pontiac club will join forces with the Birmingham, Rochester and Mount Clemens clubs for ceremonies.

Mrs. Arnold Hillerman has been elected president; Mrs. John Bieschke, vice president; Mrs. Oliver Lemeaux, secretary; Mrs. Roy Maxwell, treasurer; Mrs. Ray Swackhamer, delegate, and Alice Kimball, alternate.

Reports on the 43rd conference of the Midwestern region which ended last week in Erie, Pa., were given by Mrs. Karl Schultz, Mrs. Bieschke, Mrs. Hillerman and Taimee Surola, when the group met recently at Hotel Waldron. The conference theme was "Our Challenge Is Growth."

Members approved donations to Pontiac State Hospital and Camp Oakland.

As one of the club projects, members represented by Mrs. Leon Glenn and Mrs. Ellen Gallardo distributed plants to women at the Oakland County Convalescent Home on Mother's Day.

Those working at the May Pontiac State Hospital party included Mrs. Glenn, chairman; Mrs. Gallardo, Mrs. Bieschke, Mrs. Schultz and Mrs. Hillerman.

On May 24 the club will meet at Camp Oakland.

Omega Mu Sigma Meets in Waterford

Omega Mu Sigma sorority was entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Harold Frack in Waterford. Mrs. Kuga Kojima was cohostess.

The members decided to send a boy to Camp Oakland as one of their projects. New pledges of the sorority are Mrs. Wayne Anable and Emma Olson.

An annual spring breakfast is planned for June 14. The next meeting will be held May 24 with Mrs. Raymond Thompson as hostess.

Installs Officers of VFW Group

The offices of secretary, patriotic instructor and color-bearer were filled when Oakland County Council President Mrs. Philip LaMond installed Mrs. B. L. Jones, Mrs. Howard Keltch and Mrs. Bertram Barber, respectively, for VFW Auxiliary 1370.

Mrs. Myra Ostrander was presented with a life membership certificate in the national home, at the Tuesday meeting.

Women's Chorus to Present Concert

The Pontiac Women's Chorus will present its annual spring concert Wednesday evening in Pontiac High School auditorium.

This appearance will mark the 23rd year for the organization, and the 12th under the direction of Charles E. Hutton, with Dorothy L. McKibben as accompanist. The chorus is sponsored by the Pontiac Department of Parks and Recreation.

Guest soloist for the concert will be Fred Kendall of Detroit, well-known concert and radio artist. This will be Kendall's second appearance with the chorus, as a result of the enthusiastic acclaim he received last year.

Kendall will be heard in three groups of songs during the program. The concluding group will be comprised of popular songs requesfed by the audience.

CHARLES E. HUTTON

Program Outlined

The chorus program will include many familiar numbers, together with novelty arrangements. Following its traditional pattern, the concert will include groups of sacred and contemporary compositions.

Chorus members to be heard in solo lines and ensembles will include Elaine Keinert, Velva Wolfe, Helen Tom, Emma Lee Riggs, Alice Shaw, Pauline Haussauer, Dorothy Tallerday, Emma Jane Olson and Carol Crittenden.

Thirty of the organization's 40 members will participate in this concert.

Tickets are available from chorus members, or may be obtained at the door Wednesday evening.

Phyllis Marie Brinker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Brinker of Drayton Plains, became the bride of Burt S. Fangel Saturday morning at Our Lady of the Lakes Church, Waterford. He is the son of Mrs. James Puddy of Elizabeth Lake road and the late John Fangel.

MR. and MRS. BURT S. FANGEL

Bride Wears Linen Suit for Northern Honeymoon

A gown of white nylon tulle blended with Chantilly lace was worn by Phyllis Marie Brinker for her marriage Saturday morning at 11 a.m. to Burt Sterling Fangel.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Brinker of Drayton Plains and he is the son of Mrs. James Puddy of Elizabeth Lake road and the late John Fangel.

Nylon tulle outlined the portrait neckline of scalloped lace and a peplum of Chantilly lace swept into a fish-tail train extending to the floor.

Four layers of nylon tulle fashioned her full hooped skirt. A tiny headpiece of pleated nylon trimmed with iridescents held her scalloped veil of silk illusion in fingertip length.

The bride wore a single strand of cultured pearls given to her by the bridegroom, and carried a bouquet of baby carnations and stephanotis, centered with an orchid.

Mrs. Melvin Miller was matron of honor and other attendants were Mrs. Kenneth Peters of Holly and Mrs. Theodore Taylor.

They wore ballerina length dresses of aqua nylon tulle and lace, patterned after the bridal gown.

Tiny rhinestone-centered flowers were scattered over the tiny face veils worn by the attendants.

Mrs. Miller carried a crescent shaped bouquet of pink carnations and ivy and the others carried similar bouquets of yellow carnations and ivy.

A breakfast was held following the ceremony at Old Mill Tavern in Waterford for 100 guests. The reception was held in the home of the bride's parents.

A toast brown silk lace dress with avocado accessories was worn by Mrs. Brinker as she greeted the 250 reception guests. Her corsage was of yellow rosebuds.

The bridegroom's mother wore a dusty rose lace dress with navy accessories and a pink rosebud corsage. Mrs. Fangel, stepmother of the bridegroom, wore a powder blue lace and taffeta dress with white accessories and a yellow rosebud corsage.

Christine Harrison Honored at Shower

A miscellaneous bridal shower was given by Mrs. Stanton Levely of Elizabeth Lake avenue in honor of her niece, Christine Harrison.

Christine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Harrison of East Mansfield avenue, is the bride-elect of Airman 2.C. Richard McMahon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orval McMahon of Third avenue. The couple will exchange nuptial vows on June 17.

Guests were Mrs. Harrison, Judy Harrison, Virginia and Peggy Levely, Mrs. Roy Trent, Mrs. Harold Hoover, Mrs. Edith Levely, Mrs. Floyd Levely and Mrs. Harmon Williams.

Others at the recent shower were Mrs. Glen Levely, Mrs. Charles DeLorge, Mrs. Gladys Morris, Mrs. Edmund Smith, Mrs. Alfred Levely and Mrs. Harley Levely.

Young Adults Club Will Tour Toledo

Young Adults will travel to Toledo for a sightseeing trip, leaving the YWCA building by car at 8:30 Saturday morning.

Included on their itinerary is a visit to the art museum where a showing of area artists is currently under way, and a tour of the zoological gardens.

The neighbor who drops in at 4 and is still sitting in the living room at 5:30 shouldn't feel insulted if her hostess says, "Will you excuse me just long enough to put the roast in the oven?"

And even if she does, the hostess is still justified in starting preparations for dinner.

The couple was married Saturday evening at the home of the Rev. Leland L. Marion of James K boulevard, who officiated at the ceremonies. They will reside on Baldwin avenue.

Hills Garden Club Arranges for Flower Show

By RUTH SAUNDERS

BLOOMFIELD HILLS—Plans for the May 24 Flower Show of the Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association are rapidly taking shape under the chairmanship of Mrs. Louis Savage.

Judges have been chosen by Mrs. Donald D. James and a passing committee also has been appointed. On this committee are Mrs. Leroy G. Vandeveer, Mrs. Savage, Mrs. Irving MacKenzie, Mrs. G. N. Sieger, Mrs. Herbert W. Mason, Mrs. William G. Ferguson and Mrs. Fred C. Thompson.

Intriguing names such as Spring Melodies, Art of Ages and Flowerama have been given to the several classes to be judged, with capable chairmen taking entries for each.

Woodcrest Lakes Club is being groomed as the setting for the show, which will be given there from 1 until 8 p.m.

Return From Idaho

Mrs. George R. Squibb and Mrs. Rudolph Eberstadt Jr. have just returned from Sun Valley, Idaho, where they represented the Junior League of Birmingham at the 33rd annual conference of the Association of Junior Leagues of America.

Mrs. Squibb is president of the Birmingham Junior League.

On May 21 Mr. and Mrs. John W. Richardson will be hosts at a party for Junior League transfer members and their husbands. Mrs. Frank Rhodes Jr. is chairman of the transfer group which holds regular meetings of its own.

Assisting Mrs. Rhodes will be Mrs. Bartow Duncan, Mrs. Harry Swan, Mrs. Hugh Mack and Mrs. James Chapman.

Mrs. Squibb is planning to entertain old and new board members of the Birmingham (and Bloomfield Hills) Junior League June 7 in her home on Glenhurst drive.

Invite Dinner Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Yntema have invited guests for dinner Saturday evening in their home on West Long Lake road.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Eddy of Heather lane will have as their guests over this next weekend Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Knudsen of Lansing. Karen and William Knudsen will accompany their parents for the visit.

• • •

Irving A. Duffy, general chairman of the Detroit Horse Show, is about through appointing chairmen to their various duties in preparation for the show which will take place June 23, 24, 25 and 26 at Bloomfield Open Hunt Club.

Doing a great deal of preliminary work are Mrs. Everell E. Fisher and Charlotte Nichols who are in charge of entries.

Appels in England

Mrs. Walter D. Appel has flown to England where she joined Mr. Appel. After several weeks of travel they will return home together.

Mrs. Robert H. Skillman has returned to her home on Hickory Grove road after spending the entire winter in Winter Park, Fla.

Mrs. William H. Orchard of Pasadena, Calif., is the house-guest of Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Meyer of Manor road.

Mr. and Mrs. Carter P. Chamberlin were hosts at a dinner Saturday evening in their home on Rathmore road.

Plan Dinner-Dances

Orchard Lake and Forest Lake Country Clubs will both give their first formal dinner-dances of the year this coming Saturday.

Before the Orchard Lake affair Mr. and Mrs. Genaro A. Florez and Mr. and Mrs. Roy E. Stringer will be hosts at cocktail parties.

Among those who have made reservations for the Forest Lake party are Mr. and Mrs. Mathew Clevers, Mr. and Mrs. Richard H. Young, Mr. and Mrs. Blane Eynon, Mr. and Mrs. David J. Underdown and Dr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Stewart.

• • •

Mr. and Mrs. Arbie O. Thalacker have moved from Franklin to their new home in Bloomfield Hills.

Mrs. Vernon C. Genn, who has been traveling in Europe for six months, has returned to her home on Lone Pine court.

Mr. and Mrs. William S. Cooper were hosts at dinner Saturday evening.

Fashionette Gives Weight-Loss Award

Mrs. Scott Douglas won a trophy for losing the most weight when members of the Fashionette Club gathered Tuesday evening at Pontiac High School.

Mrs. James Fink spoke to members on "When You Should Not Reduce" and "Mathematics of Reducing."

Gold Star Mothers Choose Delegates

At a recent meeting held in the American Legion Home on Auburn Avenue, American Gold Star Mothers chose Mrs. Joe Doyle, Mrs. Sybella Stevens, Mrs. George Weatherbee and Mrs. Julia Thomas as delegates to a national convention to be held in Miami Beach, Fla., June 19 through June 22. Mrs. Edna Matheny will attend as an alternate.

Mrs. Duncan McVean and Mrs. Fay Tick were guests when the American Gold Star Mothers met at the home of Mrs. Edna Olmstead of North Telegraph road Wednesday for a cooperative dinner and all-day sewing for the American Cancer Society.

May 24 the chapter will hold an annual memorial service for deceased mothers and veterans. The public is invited to the service at the American Legion Home.

Elks Dancers Close Season

The Elks Sa-Shay Quadrelle Club held its final dance of the season last week at the Elks Club.

Callers for the affair were John Depauw, William Schmiel, Cecil McCallum and William Spalding. President William Moore acted as master of ceremonies in addition to his calling duties.

Guests at the dance were Mr. and Mrs. Louis Egerer. Committee members appointed for the coming year were Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nienstedt, refreshments; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walser, registration; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Vaverek, decorations; and Oscar Denham, membership.

Other committee members are Mr. Depauw, program coordination; Mrs. Karl Schultz, telephone committee, and Mrs. Harry E. Ault, news service.

Dirt Gardeners Conduct Biannual Plant Exchange

The Dirt Gardeners held a biannual plant exchange meeting at the Cedar Island home of Mrs. LeRoy Small. Mrs. William Bachman and Mrs. Cecil McNally were cohostesses.

During the business meeting Mrs. Arthur Compton presented the club with an application for membership from Mrs. Shirley Stamp.

Committees were organized to serve with the inter-club group on staging an August flower show. Mrs. Small was appointed to serve with Mrs. Vivian Tubbs as a voting delegate to the Jackson convention of the Federated Garden Clubs.

The June meeting of the Dirt Gardeners was designated for a short talk on "The Broadleafed Evergreens in Planning the Small Garden." The talk will be given by a representative of the Belle Isle White House. A tour of the rose garden and a cooperative luncheon will conclude the day's activities.

At the conclusion of the recent meeting Mrs. Clare Hitchcock was presented with a set of glass bowls by members in appreciation of her interest in the club's activities. She is leaving soon for Indiana.

Mrs. Donald Gilchrist and Mrs. Tubbs judged flower arrangements brought to the luncheon.

Mrs. Compton planned a combination of pink snapdragons and white carnations. Mrs. Louis Guellec designed an arrangement of red tulips with a Madonna in blue and white.

Mrs. Hendry's and Mrs. Hitchcock's harmonies in yellow and orchid hues and Mrs. Clare Lancaster's petite bridge table group were among those admired.

Mrs. Maude Guellec used a pixy driftwood combination with double lilacs.

GM Girls Club Entertains Supervisors on Birthday

Group Recalls Past 5 Years Devoted to Serving the Community

The distaff side led the way Wednesday evening when the members of the General Motors Girls' Club escorted their guests to special tables at Devon Gables.

It was the fifth anniversary of the club, and to help them celebrate, the girls had asked members of the supervisory staff of the three divisions of General Motors.

Although it was a night for fun and gaiety, it was a night for serious thinking and reflection, too.

President Mrs. Harry Dernberger told or some of the activities of the group, the philanthropic work carried on during the five years, and of the goals that have been set for the club.

They have given $2,900 for welfare work during this five years of organization. And it has gone to worthy causes.

The Oakland County Convalescent Hospital has been the recipient of many gifts as well as donations, and they have not forgotten Leader Dogs for the Blind.

Large donations have been given to the Oakland County Society for Crippled Children as well as to the Pontiac Foundation to be used toward the building of a civic auditorium.

Cheer Youngsters

Ten members of the club employed on the fourth floor of the Administration Building of Pontiac Motor Division — after learning about the Child psychiatry program at Pontiac State Hospital—decided to donate funds each pay day to buy gifts for the youngsters there.

Others in the department heard about the happiness created—both for the children and for those giving—and so today there are 85 girls aiding in this project.

There were other things that happened during the past year, too. Like the fashion shows which netted a good profit, the trips which the girls sponsor and the various money-making projects which the group lists.

Officers Are Named

At the annual meeting Mrs. Dernberger was re-elected president with Laura Bowmaster as vice president; Margaret Mitchell, secretary, and Kathrine Moyer, treasurer.

General chairman of the affair was Margaret Francis. Handling decorations was Joyce Stephens, with invitations extended by Betty Lou DeGroot.

Others participating were Mrs. Frank Carpenter, program; Phyllis Harris, election of officers, and Mrs. Henry Ricksgers, prizes.

Sonja Ryan was soloist accompanied by Kay Rouse. Jerry Libby entertained with several piano and vocal solos.

The Pentagon in Washington D.C., contains 17½ miles of corridors. It is three times the size of the Empire State building and 50 per cent larger than Chicago's Merchandise Mart.

Shower Given for Bride-Elect Sally Hawkins

Sally Hawkins, bride-elect of Dale McCardle, was honored Tuesday evening at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Harry Cherrington of Tacoma court.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul R. Hawkins of Poplar street and Dale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest McCardle, also of Poplar street. The couple will exchange nuptial vows June 17 at First Methodist Church.

Special guests at the shower were Ethel Cherrington of London, England, and Mrs. Pearl Kuhns of Monon, Ind.

Other guests were Virginia Hawkins, Mrs. William Hill, Mrs. Robert Genez Jr., Mrs. Ford White, Mrs. Clifford LaFaber, Mrs. Lawrence Wethy, Mrs. John Wethy, Mrs. James Gatton, Mrs. William Ramin, Mrs. Richard Kuhns and Mrs. Basil Wethy.

Mrs. Paul F. Hawkins, Mrs. Ernest McCardle, Nila Jean LeMonde, Mrs. Glen Reamer, Mrs. William LeMonde, Mrs. Thomas Mackie, Mrs. Glen Schulz, Mrs. Niles LeMonde, Mrs. Grant Browning, Mrs. Gene Chidester, and Mrs. Paul R. Hawkins completed the guest list.

Barbara Ruth Jenkinson, Donald Fenton Are Wed

Barbara Ruth Jenkinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. C. Jenkinson of Bratton road, became the bride of Donald Fenton Saturday at 10 a.m. in St. Benedict Church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Fenton of Hazel Bend avenue.

A pleated tulle panel was fashioned at the front of the skirt and a crown of seed pearls and white forget-me-nots secured her veil of nylon tulle. White roses and lilies-of-the valley formed the wedding bouquet.

Attendant Wears Blue

Margaret Denihan was the bride's only attendant wearing a gown of powder blue lace over taffeta. The fited bodice was fashioned with boat neckline. She carried an arrangement of white carnations with blue lilies-of-the valley and wore a matching blue hat.

Rudy Fortino was best man and seating the guests were Raymond Crane and Robert A. Domman.

A reception was held at the Union Hall on Baldwin avenue. The bride's mother wore an aqua dress with white accessories, and a navy dress with white accessories was worn by the bridegroom's mother.

Garbo Makes Her Last Silent Picture—Talkies Are Here

By JOHN BAINBRIDGE

When garbo emerged after a long spell of being in virtual hiding behind the wall of her house on Chevy Chase Drive, she moved with the alert, cautious timidity of some woodland creature leaving the safety of its bower, and she ventured but a short distance.

On the way she made a few hesitant acquaintences that developed into friendships. From then on she had a social life of her own, peculiar in some ways, narrowly restricted and for the most part subterranean.

Garbo's Friends Are European

Without exception, Garbo's small circle of friends were Europeans. The one she had known longest was Nils Asther, the Swedish actor with whom she had worked in The Single Standard. Renewing her friendship, she occasionally invited Asther to lunch or dinner, and they made a few trips to Lake Arrowhead, a mountain resort, together.

She also picked up her friendship with John Loder, an English actor, and his wife, an Austrian girl whom Garbo found attractive. She had first met the Loders at a party at Pickfair, the estate of Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks, which Garbo had attended with John Gilbert in the period when he was trying to transform his reluctant Fleka into a social butterfly.

Through Stiller Garbo had earlier become acquainted with Emil Jannings and his family, and through them, in turn, she met another couple who became her close friends. They were Jacques Feyder, a Belgian who had made a reputation as a brilliant film director in France before being brought to Hollywood by MGM, and his handsome French wife, a well-known actress on the Continent.

With Asther, the Loders and Feyders — all Europeans, all able to speak German (the language Garbo preferred next to Swedish), all professional people — Garbo felt at ease, being under no obligation to play the part of the mysterious actress. In the company of these good friends she made little jokes and sometimes acted as silly as a schoolgirl.

Friendship Ripens

Garbo's friendship with Jacques Feyder and his wife ripened after he had been selected, owing partly to Garbo's urging, to direct her in a picture called The Kiss. In this work Garbo played the young wife of a rich and jealous older husband, whom she finds it necessary to liquidate and of whose murder she is acquitted by the adroit courtroom tactics of the young attorney (Conrad Nagel) who is the object of her affection. However threadbare its plot, The Kiss has always been of interest to serious filmgoers for two reasons; it was Garbo's last silent film, and it was directed with consummate artistry.

Her little group of friends was increased by the unexpected appearance in California of Wilhelm Sorenson, a young Swede with whom Garbo had become acquainted during her recent trip to Stockholm Garbo was informed by wire of his arrival on a freighter docking at San Pedro, and drove down to meet him.

Sorenson dined that evening with Garbo at her home and was a guest overnight, that being the only occasion, in the memory of the help, that the guest room was occupied. The following morning Sorensen took up quarters at a hotel in Hoolywood, but he visited Garbo's house nearly every day during the remainder of his visit, which turned out to be an extended one.

Once Sorensen had become accustomed to the nature of Garbo's hemmed-in existence, he enjoyed being a part of it. She invited him to use her pool whenever he wished, a privilege she had extended to nobody else, and after he had bought a car, frequently allowed him to drive her to and from the studio. In time Sorensen took to accompanying Garbo to the movies and to small social gatherings. "You must be around me," she once told Sorensen. "But if I ever got sentimental," he remembers, "she would always say, "Don't drink so much," and push me away."

Moody—But Good Company

Though moody on occasion, Garbo was generally good company when with her few friend. To their pleasant surprise she invited all of them to have dinner and spend Christmas Eve at her house — the first time she had given a party. In preparation she bought a large Christmas tree and splurged on decorating the house with holly and poinsettias.

With Sorensen she went shopping at a five-and-ten-cent store, where she bought decorations for the tree and some comical little presents for her guests, who included the Loders, Jacques Feyder (his wife had returned to Europe), Asther and Sorensen.

After dinner Garbo played Santa Claus and distributed the gifts, which included such things as a boy's necktie for Feyder, a set of dominoes for Asther and a pair of lady's garters for Sorensen. Everyone had a jolly time laughing at Garbo's funny, inexpensive presents.

During this period, when Garbo was being pictured as leading the life of a confirmed hermit, she was actually getting about a good deal, in a quiet way. With Sorensen as her escort she once went so far as to attend a dinner party given in her honor by Pola Negri, whom Garbo had met through Stiller and whose talent she had always admired.

This function, Garbo felt, demanded that she look her best; she accordingly decided that for once she would have her hair done at a beauty parlor. When the battery of beauticians, following her suggestions, had finished, Garbo presented a rather unusual sight. She had had her hair waved and arranged in a novel style resembling a half-opened parasol.

Her gown for the occasion was equally sensational, being a green silk creation that had been to the cleaner's and shrunk so that the hem was at her knees. "She looked like Clara Bow," Sorensen has recalled. One of the guests at the party had the gallantry to compliment Garbo on her new coiffure. "You know," she replied, "one often makes mistakes in life," a remark which the other guests thought so humorous that it was taken up as a running joke among them.

Besides attending a limited number of private social functions, Garbo also occasionally went out in public. She and Sorensen attended the movies often. One Sunday afternoon they went to a theater in Beverly Hills to see "The Love Parade," starring Maurice Chevalier and directed by Ernst Lubitsch. When they came out of the movie house, Garbo walked over to the curb and sat down on it.

Placing her chin between her hands, she stared into space for what seemed to Sorensen to be several minutes. He finally asked what was bothering her. After a pause, Garbo said, "I must sit and think. I am so happy to know that pictures like that can be made." Rising at last, she asked Sorensen to drive her to a florist's shop, where she bought five red roses, after which they drove to Lubitsch's home. When Lubitsch, summoned by the butler, came to the door, Garbo tossed him the roses, threw her arms around his neck and said, "Ernst, I love you, I love you for this picture."

"Strangers Stare at Me."

Content with her little circle of friends, Garbo resolutely refused to have anything to do with the conventional social life of the film colony. When Mary Pickford invited Garbo to a dinner in honor of Lady Mountbatten, a visitor to Hollywood and a guest at Pickfair, Miss Garbo declined with thanks. Miss Pickford then wrote Miss Garbo a long letter, in which she transmitted Lady Mountbatten's overwhelming desire to meet Miss Garbo. This pleading missive brought no results. "It would be the same old thing," Garbo said to one of her friends. "Strangers staring at me and talking about me. I would be expected to dance, and I despise dancing. I can't do it."

Though Garbo was naturally less arbitrary in dealing with her close friends, even they at times found her social manner somewhat capricious. Always unpredictable about keeping engagements, she preferred to drop in to see her friends without warning and at her convenience, sit around for a while and then depart as abruptly as she had arrived.

John Loder once remarked that he could not "remember that she ever made one definite appointment, even a dinner engagement, a day in advance. 'Perhaps I will drop in to see you tomorrow night,' is the nearest intimation of her intentions that my wife and I ever got.

Many a night Mrs. Loder and I stayed at home on one of Garbo's half promises that she would call. Sometimes she would appear. Often she wouldn't She never took the trouble to as much as telephone when she didn't come. If anyone happened to drop in before Garbo's arrival, she would steal quietly away without even ringing the doorbell. She positively refused to meet any of our riends."

There were also times when Garbo positively refused to see anyone, including her friends. When this mood was on her, she would tell her butler, "Gustaf, I am not at home to anyone. Remember, not anyone." Then, regardless of who called or phoned —her friends, the studio, her business manager—she would neither see nor speak to them.

She made no effort ever to explain the reason for her periodic retreats. Because of her curious social behavior and simple tastes, Garbo's friends fell into the habit of referring to her among themselves as "the Peasant of Chevy Chase."

"I Read That I Was Queen of the Movies."

To the world, however, Garbo was something quite different, as she realized. This other self, the fabled creature of mystery, she regarded alternately with distate and with quiet amusement. One day as she was driving on Sunset Boulevard with Sorensen in his secondhand Buick convertible, a number of screen stars, including Joan Crawford, whizzed by in their high-powered chauffeur-driven limousines. "Imagine," Garbo said to her companion, "I read last night that I was queen of the movies, and look at me now, riding around in this old car. Gott, what a funny joke."

The short "A" line jacket with pleated skirt can be adapted to all sizes, but the extreme version ¾ coat, takes some carrying off.

Mrs. W. S.—The A-line is feminine and sweeps out gently into pleated or stiffened skirts. If that is too extreme for you now, modify it with less flare in your skirt. By fall, we believe, this new trend will be widely accepted. It is smart.

Longfellow Mothers Hold Sewing Bee

Costumes were made for 60 students who will represent Longfellow School in a citywide elementary music festival to be staged at Wisner Stadium early in June.

Refreshments were served by the homeroom mothers of Mrs. Margaret LeCocq's and Mrs. Harriett Young's rooms. Mrs. Ray Beason presided at the coffee service.

Hand-Painted Shades Are Aid to Decorating Scheme

By ELIZABETH HILLYER

Yes, some lamp shades can be painted, with flat wall paint in any of the beautiful colors wall paint comes in.

Mrs. H. J. asks about lamp-shade painting for two reasons.

"Wouldn't colored shades make rather ordinary lamps more interesting?" she writes, "and wouldn't it be a good idea for them to repeat the color of a chair and pattern in draperies?"

She's right on both counts in the case of her living room, but she must be sure the shades are the paintable kind.

They must be the white type that light shows through evenly.

Don't try to paint shades that are oiled or through which light shines unevenly for any reason, Mrs. J. The uneven effect probably can't be cured with paint.

If slight oiliness is suspected, or to remove fingerprints, wipe off the shades with alcohol. Spray or brush on the color.

Mrs. F. C. "When we bought our living-room and dining-room furniture six years ago, we expected to add more pieces by the same manufacturer when we were ready for them. Now our tastes have changed, and we wonder if you would advise us to stick to more of the same—which has gotten a little monotonous already—or to follow our inclination to buy new pieces of a different kind?"

As long as the new pieces are harmonious with the old, there's certainly no reason you can't choose what you like best. There's less of buying sets or matching today. Many of the smartest new groupings include pieces that very widely, sometimes even in finish. A home should progress with changing tastes.

Pontiac Chapter of Eastern Star Holds Meeting

Fifty members and guests were present at a meeting this week of Pontiac Chapter 228, OES, which was held in the Masonic Temple on West Lawrence street.

Mrs. Davy Gilpin, worthy matron, announced a cooperative dinner to be held May 23 at 6:30 p.m. Life, charter and honorary members will be honored at the affair.

Mrs. George Killan has been invited to be the guest of Clawson and Austin Chapters. Other guests for Friendship Nights will be Mrs. Lester McClellan and Mrs. Joseph Minton, at South Lyon and Mrs. Wallace Morgan at Oxford.

Wallace Morgan, worthy patron, presented proficiency cards to Mrs. Louis Scharr, Mrs. Eugene Redman, Mrs. Ervin Valrath, Mrs. Arthur Perry, Mrs. Millard Hopkins and Mrs. Mable Reynolds.

The social hour was directed by Mrs. Floyd Levely and Ralph Mapley.

Club Adds to Nursing Scholarship

The sum of $50 was added to the scholarship fund which will send a prospective nurse to training school. This was approved by the Past Presidents' Club of Blue Star Mothers Chapter Four at a Tuesday meeting.

The club was entertained by Chapter Four, whose members served luncheon. Honored guest was Mrs. Bessie Davis of Lansing, department president.

During the afternoon, R. C. Rew of the Michigan Milk Producers' Association, presented a program on magic.

Mrs. Catherine Woodward, president of the group, conducted the business meeting. As luncheon chairman, Mrs. Wilbert Fitzthomas had the tables decorated with bouquets of painted daisies.

Pottery Jar Hides Range Grease Can

The coffee can on the range is a familiar grease caddy in many homes. It can be disguised with a pottery cover that has handles and a lid.

Ronald B. Olliffe Claims Bride in Clarkston Rite

Ronald B. Olliffe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Olliffe of West Huron street, claimed Margie Mae Wilmot as his bride Saturday evening in a double ring ceremony performed at the Methodist Church of Clarkston.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Wilmot of Clarkston. An assortment of white and pink snapdragons and carnations and palms decorated the altar for the 7 o'clock ceremony.

Wears Pale Green

Sylvia Petersen of Clarkston was the bride's only attendant, wearing a pale green dress of taffeta fashioned like the bridal gown. She carried a cascade arrangement of yellow roses.

Jill Olliffe, sister of the bridegroom, carried a bouquet of rosebuds and carnations for her flower girl duties.

Seating the guests were Paul Wilmot, brother of the bride, and and Frank Cobb.

A reception for 100 guests was held in the church parlors. Pieces of the wedding cake were sent to Grimsby, England, for the bridegroom's grandmother and to Pomona, Calif., for the bride's grandmother.

Honeymoon in North

The new Mrs. Olliffe changed to a toast brown suit with beige accessories for a wedding trip in northern Michigan. Upon their return they will reside near Clarkston.

Mrs. Earl Brobst Entertains Lucky 13

Mrs. Earl Brobst was hostess to Lucky 13 Club members who gathered at her Stirling avenue home to celebrate her birthday with her. She was presented with two surprise gifts at the recent party.

For its June meeting, the club will meet with Mrs. Roy Deem of Sheridan street.

JOYCE JEAN ARMSTRONG

The engagement of their daughter Joyce Jean and Robert Eugene Martin, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Glen Armstrong of Monroe street. Robert is the son of James K. Martin of Raeburn street. He attended Michigan State Normal College where Joyce is a student.

Eight presidents of the United States came from Ohio: William Henry Harrison, Ulysses S. Grant, Rutherford B. Hayes, James A. Garfield, Benjamin Harrison, William McKinley, William Howard Taft, and Warren G. Harding.

Author Abhors the Colonel's Fashion Dictates

By MARY MARGARET McBRIDE

For the second spring in a row I've been having an attack of Dilley-itis, an irritation brought on by rising gorge.

My disease stems from published reports that Col. John Dilley, U.S. Army detachment commander in Frankfort, Germany, has reissued to the female dependents of his troops his 1954 spring ban on public appearances in bare midriff costumes, halter sunsuits, strapless low-cut dresses, shorts, jeans and unconcealed pincurlers.

Evidently the colonel fancies himself either as a fashion or morals arbiter, for a short time back he instructed his soldiers to put on neckties off-duty and cut out sport shirts at night.

That's all right with me if the men want to take it, but I hope the women won't.

I agree that many a woman looks something less than her best in shorts or even jeans. But I maintain that's her lookout.

And, pray, is there anything about a naked pincurler gleaming in the sunshine to arouse the base passions of man?

What I should like to know is where this military Mainbocher got the qualifications to lay down the law about what women shall wear. Does West Point maybe include dressmaking haute couture among its required courses?

It's obvious that the colonel doesn't even have a thumbing acquaintance with the fashion magazines or he wouldn't be so outraged by sunsuits. It is also clear that he hasn't spent much time lately in the United States.

Even Yonkers, N.Y., which for years fought against girls in shorts, has given in and anybody who has been in a suburban supermarket during the past four years could assure the commander that jeans and slacks are just about the most popular shopping costume in our borders.

A female in shorts and pincurlers hardly draws a second glance unless, of course, she has three legs or an armadillo on leash.

Colonel Dilley is supported undoubtedly — in addition to the eagles on his shoulders — by a deep-rooted conviction about what looks nice and modest on a lady.

But somebody ought to tell him a homely truth most men have learned by this time: That women will wear exactly what they want to wear regardless of what men, even colonels, may say or do.

Oh, maybe they'll fling a raincoat over the shorts or a scarf over the pincurlers to save trouble if they're likely to meet up with the colonel or one of his spies.

Taste is a highly personal matter and it is my contention that it is the inalienable right of woman to be in bad taste if she pleases.

And I reiterate that Colonel Dilley is taking unfair advantage of his rank when he tries to make the civilian womenfolk of the men in his command conform to his prejudices.

I may allow Christian Dior to suggest what I shall wear, but I'd never accept the word from some fellow in khaki who thinks he can tell me what I should do just because my husband is serving his country.

The colonial trial of Judith Catchpole, who was charged with infanticide, is remembered in American history because the jury was composed entirely of women. It was the first all-woman jury in the New World.

Through the sponsorship of Blue Star Mothers Chapter Four, a one-week stay at Camp Oakland is in store for some youngster.

Members approved this move when they met Tuesday evening at the YMCA. Other action saw Mrs. Grace Fitzthomas elected delegate to the department convention, which will take place June 5-8 in Jackson; taken into membership was Mrs. Dorothy Almas.

Plans are under way for a Memorial Day ceremony, and the local chapter will forward a $100 check to the Blue Star Mothers' Veterans Memorial Stadium in Chillicothe, Ohio.

Handyman Needs His Thinking Hat

Puttering Hours Call for Relaxing First to Avoid Disaster

By HUBBARD COBB

A few weeks back there was a report in the papers on the thousands of people who were hurt last year by being part time plumbers, carpenters, painters, masons and general handymen.

Now while we believe in fixing things yourself, we don't want anyone to end up in a hospital or at the doctors just because he tried to save a few dollars or get a little relaxation out of doing odd jobs about the house.

We've been fooling around with ladders, saws, hammers and power tools for a good many years now and when we've been hurt there has always been just one reason—we stopped thinking of what we were doing and started to think about something else.

If you start hammering a nail and start thinking about something else besides that hammer and that nail, there is a fair chance that you will hit your thumb with the hammer.

If you are using a saw or chisel and forget what you are doing, you are darn likely to cut yourself.

There is one good way to avoid injury on any sort of job and that's to think safety every minute.

If you are too tired for this sort of concentration—do something else like sitting down, and not think at all.

Too many of us try working on jobs in the evening after a hard day's work on jobs that require us to think safety and we are just too tired to do so.

Jobs like this should be left to the week-ends when we are fresh and rested up.

Too many of us try to do everything in one day and end up by getting over tired and over-strained. It's not worth it.

We feel darn sure that anyone smart enough to do odd jobs about the house is smart enough not to get hurt if they are mentally alert and are able to concentrate on what they are doing and on safety.

Car Owners Should Foot Travel Bills

If Invited Riders Are to Share Costs Explain Beforehand

By EMILY POST

Today's first letter asks: "Is it unreasonable to expect people who accompany my husband and me on automobile trips to share the expense of the journey?

So often we ask friends to drive several hundred miles with us over a week end assuming that they will do their share, and until the week end is over we find that we have even paid for a great many of their meals in addition to all the gasoline and storage of the car."

If you ask people to go away over a week end with you, they naturally expect to be your guests for everything. If you do not intend this, you should make it clear when inviting them, that they are to take care of their own meals and hotel bills.

But the owner is always expected to pay all expenses of the car—unless they are taking a very long trip and it is understood that the guests will play their share of gasoline and garage bills.

Dear Mrs. Post: My husband and I were invited to a large buffet party the other evening, and a question came up in connection with it that I would like you to settle.

Is it proper for a guest, having filled his (or her) plate, to go back to the buffet table a second time and fill it again?

Answer: If he (or she) is still hungry, it is entirely proper to go back for a second helping. The rule is not to refill a plate and then leave it uneaten.

Dear Mrs. Post: A friend and I have had several heated discussions as to the propriety of young woman accepting a valuable ring from a man.

I believe that she should not accept such a present unless the ring is an engagement ring, and she does not agree.

Answer: No young woman can possibly accept a ring of value from a man excepting as an engagement ring. She might wear a ring of his, as many school and college girls do, and even this means that she is his "best girl."

But the giving and receiving of a ring has always been taken seriously.

Belgian Congo Is Described by Missionary

Transplanted into the depths of Africa's Belgian Congo through the eyes of one who is home after completing six years of missionary work in Ekoko there was the Dora B. Whitney Group of the Women's Christian Temperance Union.

Marcelyn Reed was introduced by her mother, Mrs. Leone Reed of Drayton Plains, and displayed ivory and ebony hand-carved objects to members gathered in the Traver Room of Bethany Baptist Church on Tuesday afternoon.

Colored slides shown by Miss Reed were of the buildings, the countryside and the people with whom she worked.

Mrs. Andrew Stimer, president, announced that units of WCTU will hold a luncheon at First Church of Brethren on North Roselawn drive May 24. She added that the Pontiac Federation of WCTU is making plans for a June 7 membership breakfast.

Devotions were given by Mrs. Reed, with Mrs. Basil Hartt saying the closing prayer.

Typographical Auxiliary Meets

Women's Auxiliary to the Pontiac Typographical Union met at the home of Mrs. Robert Greve on Easton street for a cooperative supper.

Mrs. Ralph Babbington, who is leaving soon with Mr. Babbington for a three-month tour of the continent, was presented with a bon voyage gift.

Officers installed by Mrs. Chris Greve at the recent meeting were Mrs. Stanley Hatfield, president; Mrs. S. J. Davis, first vice president; Mrs. Robert Greve, second vice president, and Mrs. Kenneth Phares, secretary-treasurer.

Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Phares were named as delegates to a meeting of the state federation of women's auxiliaries to be held in Lansing June 26-28.

Hubby Doesn't Like to Hear He's Old

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Mrs. L. was a fidgety woman. She was very nervous and had an ear-piercing voice.

She looked me straight in the eye, squirmed in the chair, and let me have it.

"Men are like ostriches," she announced, "burying their heads in the sand. And my husband is the worst of all.

Why won't he admit that age is creeping up on him?

Can't he see his face in the mirror? Here he is, forty-nine years old, and he hasn't done the first thing about planning for retirement.

He's only got eleven years to go, and he's pretending it will never happen to him. What does he expect me to do?

Starve to death on that pension when he retires? Really, men are utterly hopeless!"

There are too many women like Mrs. L.

They needle their husbands, prematurely at that, and make such a fuss about retirement that they defeat their own purposes.

This is what I told Mrs. L., but it holds true for all women with similar problems.

Nobody likes to think about retirement when it's presented as growing old, losing the grip, retireing from usefulness.

When a man is in the prime of life, don't remind him that he will soon be elderly.

Remember that a man's work represents not only his activity and his pay check, but also his self-importance.

To remind him constantly that he will soon be retired, is to damage his ego. And that is never good.

Don't be so obvious. Naturally, you know he needs to do some planning and lay some groundwork, if he's to make a happy adjustment later on.

But present it, not as cold-blooded plans against the day he is old, but rather as an interesting hobby to take up now, for fun!

If you say, in effect: "Hey, kid; you'd better plan some activity because you're getting no younger," he will turn a deaf ear.

But approach him with the idea that he has lots of hidden talents, so why not start practicing them in his spare time now? Then you'll find a very happy and cooperative husband!

Scandinavian Lodge Sponsoring Dance

A dance for Pontiac Scandinavians and their friends will be sponsored Saturday evening at Knights of Pythias Hall on Voorheis road by the Pontiac Scandinavian Vasa Lodge.

Committee members making plans for the affair are Mr. and Mrs. Fremont Thoe, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Potter and Mr. and Mrs. Elof Bergstrom.

The dance will follow an 8 p.m. meeting of the lodge members.

PETUNIA!
Please, somebody, Tell me: Will it Hurt my favorite Cast-iron skillet?

Yes, Petunia — because detergent will remove the desirable absorbed grease. Use soap instead, and a plastic scourer.

Reports Are Heard by VFW Auxiliary

VFW Auxiliary 1008 met recently at the American Legion Home on Auburn Avenue to hear reports given by Mrs. Paul Boelter on the Pontiac State Hospital Workshop and on a past presidents' banquet held recently in Royal Oak.

Attending the banquet with Mrs. Boelter were Mrs. Lucy Wright, Mrs. Loren Beach and Mrs. Archie Tryon.

A life membership in the national home was voted to Mrs. Frank Finkle, treasurer of the auxiliary. The members also gave gifts to 14 graduates at the national home, located at Eaton Rapids.

Actual photographs of transparent automatic washers prove:

No thick-suds detergent can wash so clean yet rinse as free as all

The wash water has been drained from this tub... but just look at the thick, soapy suds that still remain on the clothes.

They stick to the fabric, hide in the folds of fresh-washed garments, and stubbornly refuse to rinse out. (This is easy to understand when you remember how difficult it is to rinse thick suds down the drain of a kitchen sink!)

When thick suds aren't rinsed thoroughly away they can deposit dirt back on your clothes, can cause a dull grey film. A wash just isn't completely clean unless it's rinsed completely clean.

Look at the difference with all! You don't see any suds clinging to clothes after the water has been drained away from this tub.

With all, you can be sure your automatic washer will perform the best possible rinsing job. all with "controlled suds" just won't stick to freshly washed fabrics. That's why clothes washed in all never have that dingy suds scum to dull colors and make whites look grey.

Be sure to use all and nothing but all in your automatic washer. Remember . . . no thick-suds detergent can wash so clean yet rinse as free as all!

More clean clothes for your money!

You get more washes from one 10-lb. box of condensed all than you do from three "giant" size boxes of the thick-suds detergents. Besides, no thick-suds detergent can wash so clean yet rinse as free as all with "controlled suds."

No wonder most automatic washers contain a box of all when they leave the factory . . . to get you off to the best possible start.

Your grocer carries all in just the right size for your family, including handy, money-saving 25-lb. packages and pails. Buy all today . . . for best results.

Feature Salad at May Luncheon

LUNCHEON SALAD — Let's have a May luncheon. Here's a delightful main course salad to serve with hot rolls. Avocado shells hold a flavorful mixture of avocado balls, pineapple, orange and chunks of canned tuna. The dressing, of course, is French. Garnish with crisp watercress.

Rich Candy Bars Glamorize Pudding

Here's a new modern version of an old classic recipe, Chocolate Rice Pudding. It can be made according to your favorite rice pudding recipe with one important change. Chocolate-covered cocoa nougat candy bars replace traditional raisins.

During cooking, the bars melt and all their good, pure chocolate and cocoa nougat flavor is released. An excellent, sweet-tasting dessert to serve often.

Chocolate Rice Pudding

Prepare your favorite rice pudding recipe to the point where raisins are added, cut three chocolate-covered cocoa nougat bars into small pieces. Add the candy bars to the pudding, in place of raisins at the same point in the recipe.

Continue to cook according to recipe directions. During baking the bars have a tendency to rise, forming a richly sweet topping for the creamy pudding.

This Corn Ain't Corny

Good with any dinner is corn prepared in this distinctive way: Cut several slices of bacon into pieces and cook until crisp. Drain off the fat and add a can of whole kernel corn. Blend in a half cup of thick commercial sour cream and season with a little salt and pepper. Heat and serve, sprinkled with paprika.

Heating canned baked beans for a quick supper? After you have turned them into a shallow baking dish sprinkle with a mixture of brown sugar and mustard.

Tangy Louisiana Sauces Lend Zip to Fish Sticks

Frozen fish sticks, steadily growing in popularity, are even more interesting when pepped up with interesting sauces. These new ones come from Louisiana, home of the hot stuff sauces.

Tabasco Fish Sauce

¼ teaspoon Tabasco
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 tablespoons chopped stuffed olives
2 tablespoons chopped pickle.

Stir Tabasco and lemon juice into mayonnaise. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Serve with frozen or fresh fried fish. Makes 1¼ cups.

* * *

Sauce Remoulade

3 hard-cooked eggs
½ teaspoon Tabasco
1 teaspoon prepared mustard
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
½ garlic clove, finely minced
⅛ cup olive or salad oil
1 raw egg yolk, juice of ½ lemon

Press egg yolks through strainer. Finely chop egg whites; reserve. Stir Tabasco, prepared mustard, vinegar, salt and garlic into sieved egg yolks.

Gradually blend in olive oil a small amount at a time. Blend in raw egg yolk; stir in lemon juice.

Serve over shrimp or seafood cocktail. Sprinkle with chopped egg white. Makes ½ cup.

* * *

Peppy Tomato Sauce

1 cup tomato catchup
2 tablespoons lemon juice
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon Tabasco
1 tablespoon horseradish
¼ cup minced celery
1 teaspoon minced onion

Make Special Sauce for Cooked Vegetables

Want an extra-special cream sauce for cooked vegetables. Make a white sauce using half vegetable liquid and half cream for the milk called for in the standard recipe.

This works well with such vegetables as cauliflower, snap beans, peas and carrots. Top the vegetables with the sauce, sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese and brown under the broiler.

Tuna, Avocado Can't Be Beat

Pineapple, Orange and Mint Add Their Tang to Main Course

Now comes the season of the year when we can plan on salads as the mainstay of a luncheon. Invite the "girls" in for a May party.

Team up protein-packed canned tuna and ripe, smooth-fleshed avocados. Tops both in flavor and nutritive values, this is a combination you can't beat. You might substitute chicken for the tuna if you like.

Tuna Avocado Salad

1 14-ounce can pineapple chunks, drained
2 oranges, peeled and cut up
¼ teaspoon crumbled dried mint leaves
French dressing
1 7-ounce can solid-pack tuna, drained

Cut avocados in half and remove seed. Scoop out pulp of avocados with melon ball cutter or teaspoon measure; reserve avocado shells.

Combine avocado balls, pineapple chunks, oranges and crumbled mint leaves. Marinate in French dressing 30 minutes.

Bake Fish Fillets to Golden Perfection

Golden Fish Fillets

1 pound fish fillets, fresh or frozen
½ cup beer
1 egg, beaten
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon Worcestershire
½ cup fine dry bread crumbs
2 teaspoons paprika
3 tablespoons melted butter

If frozen, allow fillets to thaw. Combine beer, beaten egg, salt and Worcestershire. Dip fillets, one at a time, into beer mixture, then coat on both sides with crumbs mixed with paprika. Place fish side-by-side in buttered shallow baking pan.

Drizzle melted butter over fish. Bake at 525 degrees 10 to 12 minutes, or until golden and easily flaked with fork.

Serve with lemon wedges dipped part way into chopped parsley, chives or paprika. Makes three to four servings.

U. S. Supplies World With Tallow and Fats

The U.S. livestock industry makes this country an important producer of tallow and fats. Until the advent of synthetic detergents, almost all U.S. soap fats were used domestically.

However, in recent years they have been channeled increasingly into export outlets. Sales abroad have grown because U.S. tallow is recognized as the world's "best buy" in soap fat.

Prewar, this country was a net importer of fats and oils, supplying less than 5 per cent of the world's exports, but today it supplies approximately 80 per cent. World trade in tallow and fats is now at a peak, with most of it going into soap.

Currant Jelly Sauce Is Excellent With Beef

Melt one-half of currant jelly and add 1 tablespoon of finely chopped blanched almonds and 1 tablespoon of grated horseradish.

Save Deviled Ham Cans to Poach Eggs Perfectly

Ever been bothered by the wanton shape of a poached egg? Turned your nose up at raggedy edges? Save your small deviled ham cans and you can poach eggs without trouble.

Here's how we use the rings to poach four eggs. We butter the bottom of our deep 10-inch copper-clad stainless steel skillet.

Then we butter well the inside band of four rings and put them in the skillet. We put six cups of water in the skillet, cover it and bring the water to a healthy boil.

We remove the cover and turn the heat very low; immediately we break an egg into a demitasse cup, and holding the tiny cup so the top of it touches the rim of a ring, we drop the egg into the ring. We quickly drop the other three eggs into the remaining rings in the same way; sometimes we cover the skillet at this point, sometimes we don't.

In five to six minutes, with the heat kept very low so the water won't bubble, the whites are well set and the yolks still runny—a condition we esteem.

We remove the rings with kitchen tongs and then speedily take out the eggs from the water one at a time, with a slotted spoon.

In case you think we are making a big production of preparing a simple dish, we hasten to say that numbers of cooks have confessed to us that poaching eggs is their Waterloo.

Deviled Ham and Poached Eggs

4 slices bread
1 can (2¼ ounces) deviled ham
4 eggs
Salt

Toast the bread on one side only in the broiler of a range or under the heating element of an electric rotisserie.

Spread the untoasted sides with ham. Place under the broiler again to heat the ham. Meanwhile poach the eggs.

Place a poached egg on each slice of hot ham-spread toast. Sprinkle eggs lightly with salt. Makes two to four servings.

Note: For four to eight servings use eight slices of bread, one can (4½ ounces) deviled ham and eight poached eggs.

Most New Potatoes Dyed for Attractiveness

Most new potatoes have a harmless vegetable dye added for attractiveness, and even though they look very much the same shape and size as potatoes from the Dakotas, the smart shopper will not be fooled.

Shoppers can easily choose new potatoes by looking at the skin. If the potato is from the new Florida crop the skin will be very thin and will actually be peeling in places.

Lemon Juice Varies Prepared Crust Mix

Vary that ready-prepared pie crust mix. Use lemon juice instead of water, as the liquid and add a teaspoon or two of grated lemon rind. This flavor combination is wonderful with apple pie.

Or add about half a cup of finely chopped pecans to the mix before adding the water called for on the package and use when you want pastry shells for chiffon pies.

To get that professional gloss on your chocolate frosting, add a teaspoon or so of vegetable oil.

Parker House Rolls Created by Baker Romeo

Internationally famous Parker House rolls had their origin quite by accident, the product of a romantic but enraged assistant baker, it is reported in a recent issue of an Institutional magazine.

Legend says that in the Parker House in Boston the baker's sweetheart was one of the chambermaids. She was accused of pilfering a valuable string of pearls by one of the women guests.

When news of the accusation reached the baker he was engaged in making rolls. He became so incensed that he seized the dough and with clenched fists threw it onto the baking platters. He then rushed off to defend his beloved.

Upon his return to the kitchen he found that he had folded rolls instead of rounded ones. Crisp and well-browned on the outside, soft and tender on the inside — these rolls became a sensation among the guests overnight. And thus was born the Parker House roll.

And as with most legends, this one too had a happy ending. The aggrieved woman guest found that she had neglected to bring her necklace from home; the chambermaid was declared innocent; she soon married her assistant-baker sweetheart; and they probably lived happily ever after on Parker House rolls.

Ham 'n' Apple Slaw Brightens Lunch Menu

Lightly toss together 1½ cups of diced cooked ham or luncheon meat, 1 cup of cubed apples, 1 small onion (chopped), 4 cups of shredded cabbage, one-half cup of mayonnaise and 2 tablespoons of French dressing. Serve in lettuce cups.

Amber Pudding Boasts Glamor

When you add a brown sugar topping to an old-fashioned pudding and place it under the broiler for about a minute before serving, you have a simple recipe that has moved into the realms of fancy dessert and with little extra effort on your part. We call it Amber Pudding.

Liquefied instant nonfat dry milk is a feature of the Amber Pudding recipe which was developed in a famous test kitchen.

Instant nonfat dry milk is a versatile pantry shelf item for it goes into made-with-milk recipes, or it is a refreshing beverage. It dissolves instantly even in ice water.

Amber Pudding

2 tablespoons cornstarch
¼ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
2 cups liquefied instant nonfat dry milk
1 egg, slightly beaten
½ teaspoon maple flavoring
6 tablespoons brown sugar

Combine cornstarch, sugar and salt in small saucepan. Gradually stir in liquefied instant nonfat dry milk. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil and thickens, about 10 minutes.

Remove from heat. Pour small amount of hot mixture into egg. Stir into remaining hot mixture. Cook, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a boil, about two minutes.

Mix Cheese, Dressing

Mix grated cheese with mayonnaise, spread on slices of bread; sprinkle generously with paprika. Bake in a hot oven until cheese melts. Good along with a cooked green vegetable for lunch. Sliced fresh tomatoes make a fine accompaniment to these open cheese sandwiches, too.

CLEAN
REALLY CLEAN

Use double-action Roman Cleanser Bleach for kitchen and bathroom porcelain, tile. It whitens and removes many stains as it disinfects. Use also to make cupboards fresh, sanitary—really clean.

CRISPY CAULIFLOWER — A popular vegetable too often ignored is cauliflower. Cauliflower this season comes in a dressed-up version. Cracker crumbs and lemon juice make a crunchy topping when mixed with melted butter or margarine. Serve with broiled tomatoes for color contrast.

Keep Yam Puffs in the Freezer

As an extra-special treat, a home economist recommends the following recipe for frozen Sweet Potato Puffs, 12 servings:

4 cups cold (cooked) mashed sweet potatoes
2 egg yolks
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter, melted
12 marshmallows
4 cups crushed cereal flakes
½ cup shortening, melted

Combine the cold, mashed sweet potatoes with the egg yolks, salt and one-quarter cup melted butter. Mix thoroughly and divide into 12 portions (each portion will be about one-third cup).

Flatten each portion and mold into circle, and place a marshmallow in the center of each. Mold the potato batter around the marshmallow, leaving a small opening at the top of the ball.

Combine the cereal flakes and the one-half cup of melted shortening, then roll the potato balls in the buttered cereal flakes. Package the balls, in freezer box preferably, and freeze.

When ready to bake, take the puffs out of the freezer and place on a baking sheet or in a casserole. Bake in 350 oven for about 20 minutes. (No need to defrost the balls before baking.)

Serve immediately. For an extra special treat, add two-thirds cup chopped nuts to the potato batter before molding into balls.

Fresh Strawberries Pep Up Dull Appetites

Fresh strawberries give a lift to between-seasons breakfasts. Their bright color and sparkling flavor perk up listless appetites.

Make your favorite recipe for quick coffee cake or make one from a packaged mix. Before pouring the batter into the baking pan, spread the pan with 2 tablespoons of melted butter or margarine. Sprinkle with one-fourth cup sugar and arrange 2 cups sliced strawberries over the butter-sugar mixture.

Then pour the batter over the strawberries. Remove from the pan immediately after taking the coffee cake from the oven.

Eggs Top Sardines

Heat the contents of two cans of sardines in a skillet. Place them on buttered toast and sprinkle with lemon juice. Top with poached eggs. Serve with Hollandaise sauce. Serves four.

Put New Dress on Cauliflower

A popular vegetable favorite, cauliflower, is making its bow this season in a new dressed-up version that's sure to delight spring menu planners.

The brand-new dish, called "Crispy Cauliflower Polonaise", gets its special elegance and extra-rich flavor from the dressing of crushed crispy crackers, melted butter, onion and lemon juice served with it. Here's the quick, easy, and low-cost way to make it.

Crispy Cauliflower Polonaise

1 medium sized cauliflower
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup butter or margarine
½ teaspoon grated onion
½ cup (about 6) finely crushed crackers
½ teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 teaspoons lemon juice

Remove large leaves and tough outer spines from cauliflower. Place whole cauliflower in a large kettle. Add boiling water to come halfway up sides of cauliflower, and sprinkle with salt.

Cover and cook 15 to 20 minutes, or until tender but not falling apart. Carefully remove to heated platter.

Meanwhile, melt butter in a skillet. Add grated onion and crushed crackers. Stir mixture until bubbling hot and crumbs are a deep golden brown. Stir in lemon rind and juice.

Pour over cauliflower. Serve with lamb chops, hamburger or other meat on platter with broiled tomatoes. Makes four generous servings.

Strawberry Muffins Star at Salad Lunches

Add 1 cup crushed, sweetened strawberries to the egg and melted shortening on a basic muffin batter. Then pour the liquid ingredients into dry ingredients and stir only enough to moisten the flour. Fill muffin pans two-thirds full and bake.

Now's the Time for Sandwiches to Take Spotlight

Picnic season is now officially under way in some parts of the country. It's time to start thinking of ways to prepare some special sandwiches for meals on weekend jaunts to the lake, the shore, the mountains — or right in your own backyard.

Here are a few suggestions for using that old standby, peanut butter:

Any of the following fruits, combined with peanut butter, will make delicious sandwiches: Tart apple plus a little mayonnaise, chopped figs, dates, prunes, candied or dried fruits, mixed to a paste with a little fruit juice.

Combine one-third cup piccalilli with one-third cup peanut butter. Spread one slice of bread with peanut butter; the second with mayonnaise topped with fresh tomato slices and lettuce.

Saturday Supper Has Spanish-Mexican Zest

Here's a menu for Saturday night supper that has a Spanish-Mexican touch.

Serve hamburgers with tomato sauce made hot with chili powder, yellow saffron-flavored rice, and fried bananas. Add a mixed raw vegetable salad with French dressing and tortillas or French bread. Offer fruit or caramel custard for dessert.

THE VERSATILE BANANA — Breakfast, lunch and dinner, the banana is always popular. Try this novel recipe for your next festive breakfast. Partially cooked bacon is wrapped around banana pieces; both are baked with eggs in the oven.

Bacon-Wrapped Bananas Team With Baked Eggs

There's no fruit more versatile than the banana. It is a treat morning, noon or night.

At breakfast, served with cream and sugar or sliced atop a bowl of cereal, bananas make a delicious and nutritious start for a busy day.

At lunch, in salads or as desserts, they are equally satisfying. They are surprisingly good in main courses, too. A banana wrapped in a slice of boiled ham, topped with a tangy cheese sauce and baked until golden makes a wonderful bridge luncheon dish.

A fresh fruit cup at dinner needs bananas for texture and flavor. A roast loin of pork takes on new glamor when ringed with broiled bananas. Roast chicken is sparked by the addition of bananas that have been delicately sauteed in butter.

Bananas are excellent for those fighting the battle of the bulge because they are low in fat but are satisfying and filling.

For those who are recovering from illnesses they are ideal because of their soft texture and their mildly sweet flavor. They are also valuable for aged people who have trouble eating tougher or harder foods.

Bananas in Blankets With Baked Eggs

6 slices bacon
2 bananas
2 teaspoons fresh lemon juice
6 eggs
Salt
Ground white pepper

Fry bacon until half done. Peel bananas. Cut each into three pieces. Dip in lemon juice. Wrap a slice of the partially cooked bacon around bananas.

Break two eggs in each of three greased individual casseroles, around which place two bacon-wrapped bananas. Sprinkle eggs with salt and white pepper.

Bake 15 to 18 minutes in a preheated slow oven (325). Yield: Three servings.

Blend Soup and Juice

The nice chicken flavor of canned condensed chicken noodle soup and tomato juice tanginess combine to make a soup you will not forget. Dilute the soup with tomato juice instead of water. Heat and serve with crisp crackers. Refreshing lunch.

And Do You Know This Dairy Data?

Do you know?

There are 2.15 pounds of milk in a quart;

It takes 4.6 pounds of milk to make a gallon of ice cream;

One pound of evaporated milk uses 2.2 pounds of milk;

It takes 100 pounds of milk to make 12.5 pounds of dry whole milk;

Treat Delicately Blends Flavors and Colors

Don't Scorn Leftovers --- Serve Them With Flair

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

What do you do with a dab of this and that? Do you let your leftovers accumulate for a week, then use them all up at one time; or do you try to incorporate them in the next day's meals?

Does your family balk when you ask them to finish up the last bite of potato or vegetable so you won't have any left over? Mine does, so I don't ask any more.

I often say in a joking manner that I don't make soup — I assemble it from whatever I find in the refrigerator. But the last time I wanted to make soup there wasn't a single thing to put in, and I had to start from scratch; even had to open a can of mixed vegetables!

How about that last spoonful of jelly in the bottom of the glass. If you leave it it will only get sticky and hard. Have fruit salad for dinner and put a wee bit of jelly in each peach or pear half. Or beat the jelly into French dressing for a sweet dressing.

Is there some applesauce in a custard cup, not enough for even one serving? Add it to gelatin, either to use as salad or as a dessert. The same idea will work with a small amount of cranberry sauce.

Two or three cans, each filled with a couple of pieces of fruit, can be combined for a fruit compote. Add sliced oranges, grapefruit sections or sliced bananas. A topping of coconut adds flavor. Serve this fruit medley in sherbet glasses, as a topping for ice cream or waffles, or mix it with gelatin.

Gravy is a versatile leftover. The obvious use is to heat meat in it for a second meal, either to serve on toast or in a shepherd's pie with mashed potato topping. Add gravy to homemade vegetable soup as a flavor giver.

A bit of leftover pork or veal may be made into a delicious salad or sandwich. Treat it the same as you would chicken. It is also possible to add minced veal or pork to mashed potatoes and form the mixture into patties for browning in hot fat.

Don't ever throw away the juice from sweet pickles. Mix it with equal amounts of mayonnaise for an excellent cabbage slaw dressing. Add beet slices to this pickle juice for good pickled beets. Add it to lemon or lime gelatin for a spicy salad.

The Italians have the right idea. They make up a large plate of lots of different foods and serve it as their appetizer — antipasto. If you find yourself with a variety of leftover foods, none of which is enough for a family serving, make up an antipasto plate, present it as such, and watch the family pitch in.

Two or three slices of bologna may be sliced into slim pieces for finger eating. Pickle some of the vegetables. Add a mound of olives.

Above all, never apologize for your food, even if it is the second-day presentation. Use your imagination and folks will think you're a wonderful cook.

SHRIMP JAMBALAYA — Thanks to the miracle of canned foods regional recipes need not be confined to any one section of the country. This popular rice casserole contains both ham and shrimp. Easily made, it's a natural for a buffet supper.

New Shrimp Jambalaya Can Come to All Tables

The famous southern dish Jambalaya, probably started its life as "jambon a la ya," with jambon (French for ham) and ya (sort of African for rice). Now, however, there are jambalayas made from seafood, the most famous of which is Shrimp Jambalaya.

Luckily for all of us, shrimp—fresh, frozen or canned—is so readily available throughout the United States and so easily prepared that the popularity of this dish need know no regional boundaries.

Here is a recipe especially developed for home kitchens by the Shrimp Association of the Americas, made with ingredients that can be found in grocery stores everywhere.

Shrimp Jambalaya

2 pounds shrimp
2 tablespoons salad oil
1½ cups diced smoked ham
¼ cup margarine or butter
1 green pepper, chopped
2 onions, chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1 bay leaf, crumbled
2 cups uncooked rice
1 cup water
1 No. 2½ can tomatoes
Salt, pepper, and cayenne

Cook shrimp in court bouillon (recipe below). Shell and clean. Heat salad oil in a very large skillet. Add smoked ham and cook until browned. Remove ham from oil and set aside.

Add margarine or butter to remaining oil in pan. Add pepper, onion, garlic and bay leaf and cook until onion is tender and slightly browned. Add rice and cook, stirring constantly until browned. Stir in water and tomatoes.

Cover skillet and let cook, stirring occasionally, about 30 minutes or until rice is cooked. Add salt, pepper and cayenne. If mixture becomes too dry, add more water.

When rice is cooked, stir in shrimp and ham, reserving some of each for garnishing. Pour mixture into a casserole, garnish top with extra shrimp and ham and, if desired, onion slices.

Place in a hot oven (425 degrees) just long enough to heat shrimp, about 10 minutes. Makes six to eight servings.

Court Bouillon

1½ quarts water
½ stalk celery
1 carrot, sliced
Juice of ½ lemon
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
1 small white onion, sliced

Put water in saucepan. Add all ingredients. Bring water to boil. Add shrimp as indicated above, and if necessary, enough water to cover. Let water come to boil again.

Turn heat down so water just simmers. Cover saucepan and let shrimp cook two to five minutes, never longer. Drain shrimp and cool quickly.

Add Beans to Soup

Canned green beans may be added to almost any soup or chowder mixture. In vegetable soups, add the beans and liquid toward the end of cooking time; just long enough to heat and blend flavors. In chowders the bean liquid may be used for part of the milk.

Make Good Use of Bacon That Papa Brings Home

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Isn't bacon a wonderfully versatile food? Think of the ways you can use it. Crisp strips of perfectly cooked bacon go well with your breakfast toast. Luncheon calls for a bacon-tomato sandwich.

Liver and bacon can be a gourmet dish for dinner, while club sandwiches served after a hunter's game make an ideal evening snack.

As you know, regular bacon or breakfast-style bacon comes from the side of the hog. Canadian-style bacon comes from the loin.

Hogs which yield the best bacon are leaner and longer in conformation than those yielding the best hams. The best bacon has a high percentage of lean to fat.

It's a good rule to buy only as much bacon as you'll use during a week so it will keep the freshness and flavor which you purchased. Always keep bacon refrigerated until ready to use. But never freeze it.

Nowadays you can buy your bacon sliced thin or thick. If you have trouble separating the thin slices, let the package of bacon warm up for just a few minutes.

If you are in more of a hurry than that, roll the package across the strips and they will come apart easily.

Bacon has the ability to enhance the flavor of other foods, which makes it tops as a meal accompaniment. To accentuate the flavor and juiciness of your most popular meat loaf, top it off with bacon strips and do the same the next time you prepare a lean roast or baked poultry.

A really special addition to any meal is the flavor and texture combination of bacon with hot breads or rolls. Add slivered bacon to the breakfast muffins or the luncheon biscuits to tempt all appetites.

And, for another surprise meal accompaniment or snack, serve little rolls with crisp slices of bacon sandwiched in.

For another hot bread 'n' bacon combination, here is a luscious bacon and biscuit roll-up that's perfect with the morning eggs, a luncheon soup or an evening main dish.

Bacon-Wrapped Biscuits

1 pound sliced bacon
2 cups sifted flour
3 teaspoons double acting baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
¼ cup bacon drippings
⅔ cup milk

Place bacon on jelly roll pan. Bake in a hot oven (400 degrees) until lightly browned but not crisp. Sift together dry ingredients. Add bacon drippings and mix until crumbly. Add milk and stir until the dry ingredients are well mixed.

Knead dough six times. Roll dough one-fourth inch thick. Cut into strips one-half inch wide and five inches long.

Roll a strip of dough on a strip of partially cooked bacon. Place cut edge down on an ungreased baking sheet. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) for about 15 minutes. Serve hot with tomato sauce. Serves six.

* * *

Try adding slivered bacon to a corn or potato casserole for unusual flavor and texture, or use the slices whole for a crisp casserole topping.

Casseroles that include a meat such as bacon are a specially good choice because they make a hearty "meal-in-one" dish.

Bacon-Vegetable Medley

½ pound sliced bacon
1 cup cornmeal
2 cups cooked tomatoes
2 cups cooked whole kernel corn
¼ cup chopped onion
2 teaspoons salt
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
¼ cup bacon drippings

Preheat oven to 350 degrees. Place bacon in the bottom of a 1½-quart casserole. Cook bacon until it is transparent. Remove bacon. Pour off drippings.

Combine cornmeal, tomatoes, corn, onions and salt. Combine eggs, milk and bacon drippings. Mix together the vegetables and liquid ingredients. Pour vegetable-egg mixture into 1½-quart casserole.

Variation: Cook one-half of bacon as given in Bacon Vegetable Medley. Cook second half until it is crisp. Cover the bottom of a flat 1½-quart casserole with one-half cup of cornmeal.

Tomato, Chicken Soups Combined With Limas

Tomato and Lima Bean Soup

1 can (10½ ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 can (10½ ounces) condensed clear chicken soup
1 can (1-pound) large dry lima beans
¼ teaspoon dried summer savory

Turn condensed tomato soup and clear chicken soup into a 2-quart saucepan. Drain liquid from beans into a measure, add enough water to make 1¼ cups.

Add bean liquid and water and the lima beans to the saucepan. Heat slowly, stirring occasionally. Makes six servings.

Dried Fruit Loses Values in Cooking

By International News Service

Dried fruit is merely fresh fruit with the water taken out. The food value changes some with the drying—such as the loss of vitamin C, but the fruit retains most of the food values under modern processing.

It is in the cooking of dried fruits at home that food values are most likely to be lost.

To save food values and get the best flavor and texture use uncooked when you can. If it is to be cooked:

1. Cover with water and soak. Cook in the soaking water.
2. Shorten the cooking time so the fruit merely becomes plump and tender.
3. Serve the cooking water.

Sauce Delicious in Many Dishes

A platter of steaming hot spaghetti swimming with thick, meaty sauce is good eating any way you look at it. This make-ahead sauce — a blend of tomato products, ground beef and seasonings—can be cooked in quantity and served many ways — over spaghetti, in real homemade lasagna, in a casserole with rice, with scrambled eggs. Make lot of sauce, for it takes long cooking to blend flavors.

Keep the extra sauce in your refrigerator for another meal, or freeze it for later use. With a supply of this tomato-meat sauce on hand, you can turn out hearty main dish fare when time is short and appetities are long.

Tomato-Meat Sauce

3 tablespoons vegetable or olive oil.
2 medium-sized onions, chopped.
2 cloves of garlic, minced.
2 pounds ground beef.
3 No. 2 cans tomatoes (about 7½ cups).
1 8-ounce can (1 cup) tomato sauce.
1 6-ounce can (¾ cup) tomato paste.
1 cup chopped celery.
½ cup chopped parsley.
1½ tablespoons salt.
1 tablespoon sugar.
¼ teaspoon pepper.
2 bay leaves.
½ teaspoon oregano.

Heat oil in large kettle; add onions and garlic, and saute five minutes. Add ground beef; saute until brown, breaking meat up with a fork as it cooks. Add remaining ingredients.

Bring mixture to boiling; simmer, uncovered, 2½ to 3 hours, stirring occasionally. Sauce should be thick.

Remove bay leaves; skim off fat. Store, covered, in refrigerator. Makes about 2½ quarts sauce.

Note: Extra sauce may be frozen for use later.

Health Protection Offered by Fresh Orange Slices

Whole oranges are now in the health news picture. Citrus bioflavonoids help keep our 62,000 miles of tiny blood vessels elastic.

In whole oranges, top scientists report, these health-giving citrus vioflavonoids are 10 times as concentrated as in strained orange juice.

Here are a few recipes that use whole slices. Let's take a healthy look.

Broiled Orange Slices

Cut large, seedless, unpeeled oranges into cartwheels one-fourth inch thick. Top each with one-half teaspoon butter or margarine.

Broil two minutes, placed 4 inches from the source of heat, with oven control set to broil and preheated.

Top with 1 teaspoon Indian chutney. Serve hot. Eat rind and pulp. Serve with meat or poultry.

* * *

Minted Orange Slices

Cut large, seedless, unpeeled navel oranges into cartwheels one-fourth inch thick. Top each with one-half teaspoon butter or margarine.

Broil two minutes, placed 4 inches from the source of heat, with oven control set to broil and preheated.

Tossed Orange Salad

Toss one-half head each, lettuce and romaine, three sliced fresh oranges and one-fourth cup French dressing. If desired, serve with cottage cheese.

* * *

Orange and Shrimp Salad

Arrange orange cartwheels on lettuce around a mound of cooked shrimp. Serve with mayonnaise or French dressing.

* * *

California Orange Sauce

Combine 1½ cups sliced fresh navel oranges, 1 tablespoon each fresh lemon and lime juice, one-fourth cup sifted confectioners' sugar and 1 teaspoon grated orange rind.

Serve over sponge cake, cottage pudding or fruit souffles. Makes 4 servings.

Broil Peaches, Hash

Like fruit with meat? Broil canned peaches with slices of canned corned beef hash, brushing both peaches and hash with melted butter or margarine. Good with cole slaw for Sunday night supper.

Protein Food Places No Strain on the Body

Occasionally, one will meet people, usually older folk, who would lead one to believe that the consumption of concentrated foods, particularly proteins, is likely to throw an undue burden on the liver and kidneys. This is fallacy, or old-fashioned superstition.

Actually, the liver has three or four times, and the kidneys at least twice, the capacity required by the normal mixed diet. Lack of capacity of liver and kidneys is no more to be expected than is lack of lung capacity.

We eat, digest, and assimilate meat just as naturally as we sleep, and with no injurious strain upon body organs.

Gay Lemonade Ice Cream Stars at Children's Party

Children love color, so here is a menu that will delight them. Both the ice cream and the cake are multi-colored. It's fun fixing easy-to-make refreshments like these in yellow, green and pink, and they will please the children so much.

Start with Lemonade Refrigerator Ice Cream, which is made with a can of frozen concentrate for lemonade (pure California lemon juice frozen with sugar). The recipe given fills one refrigerator tray with ice cream.

If your party is large, increase the recipe and tint one tray of ice cream yellow, one green and one pink — using pure vegetable coloring. When you serve the children's plates, give each a scoop of each color.

For the birthday cake, bake or buy a fluffy angel food. Cut it, and frost the slices individually in alternating colors, using powdered sugar and butter icing.

Divide your icing in three batches and tint it yellow, green and pink, too. Let the children select the color of cake they prefer.

Lemonade Refrigerator Ice Cream

2 tablespoons unflavored gelatin
3 tablespoons cold water
1 (6-ounce) can frozen concentrate for lemonade, and Water to make 1 cup liquid
¼ cup sugar
½ pint whipping cream

Soak gelatin in cold water. Heat (but do not boil) the concentrate for lemonade and water mixed with sugar. Stir into soaked gelatin. Cool.

Place in a refrigerator tray until thoroughly chilled. Then whip the mixture and fold the whipped cream into it. Return to refrigerator tray and freeze until firm — about three hours.

Shrimp Sandwich Easy, but Different

Open-Face Shrimp

5-ounce can wet-pack shrimp
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 tablespoon minced chives
¼ cup mayonnaise
2 slices bread
Extra mayonnaise
1 small tomato (sliced)

Drain shrimp; rinse with cold water; devein if necessary. Flake into mixing bowl.

Mix in lemon juice, chives and one-quarter cup mayonnaise. Spread bread with extra mayonnaise; arrange tomato slices over bread; pile shrimp over tomatoes.

Broil until hot through—about 10 minutes. Makes two servings. Double recipe for four.

Tropical Ham Prepared With Fruit and Wine

Give a can of chopped ham tropical treatment with pineapple and bananas and flavor it with wine. You'll have an attractive looking, wonderful tasting dish especially good for brunch.

Of course, it would be equally appreciated for supper or lunch, particularly when served in company with glasses of red or white table wine.

Tropical Ham Bake

1 (12 ounce) can chopped ham
4 slices canned pineapple, well drained
4 medium-sized bananas (not too ripe)
½ cup (firmly packed) brown sugar
¼ cup sherry wine
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
4 slices crisp toast

Cut block of ham lengthwise in four even slices; place in a shallow baking dish. Lay a slice of pineapple on each ham slice. Peel bananas and cut crosswise in halves; lay two halves on each slice of pineapple.

Combine sugar, wine and butter in a small saucepan; heat to simmering; pour over ham "stacks."

Bake, uncovered, in a moderately hot oven (375 degrees; for about 25 minutes, or until bananas are tender, basting frequently with the syrup in the baking dish.

To serve, place a "stack" on each slice of toast; spoon some of the syrup over each serving. Garnish with parsley or watercress.

Needs Longer Cooking

Brown rice needs longer cooking than white rice. Count on about three-quarters of an hour for a cup of the brown rice cooked in two cups of water.

Pick Utah Site for Sled Tests

Experiments in Descent to Be Conducted Atop Pioneer Mesa

HURRICANE, Utah (UP) — A 12,000-foot-long trench in a 300-foot-wide muddy cleaning atop Pioneer Mesa, three miles northeast of Hurricane, marks the location of a unique project in American military history.

By midsummer, the trench will have been transformed into the underpinning of a rocket sled track that will be used by the armed services in testing ways that crews could use to escape from supersonic aircraft in emergencies.

The multi-million dollar project is code-named 'Operation Smart.' The name is derived from the initials of the project—Supersonic Military Air Research Track.

The Utah rocket sled track will be an extension of the pioneer Navy installation near Mojave, Calif., and the Air Force's famed project at Almogordo, N.M., where an officer recently traveled more than 600 miles an hour on a sled.

The Pioneer Mesa development will have one major difference. The older tracks were equipped so that the sleds, after traveling at high speed, stopped at the end.

In Utah, the sled will stop but its cargo—instruments or dummies, with human passengers excluded—will be shot on off into space, in a duplication of the effect of ejecting a pilot's cockpit from a jet fighter or bomber.

The south end of the mesa, where the track will end, is a sandstone cliff. The "cap-rock," geologists call it the Shinerump formation, forms a wall some 200 feet straight up and down.

Below the cap rock, the rock and sluffed-off sand descends so sharply that the test capsule need be shot only a few hundred feet off the end of the mesa to have a vertical descent of 1,500 feet.

That is why the Pioneer Mesa was selected for the development after surveys of a score or more possible sites in this country and even on oceanic islands.

Instrument mounts — now used by surveyors but later to hold cameras—have been carefully installed at 28 locations on the edge of the clearing. The track, 6 feet, 8 inches wide when finished, will be in the middle.

PICKED BY IKE—John B. Hollister has been named Foreign Operations Administrator by President Eisenhower. The former congressman, born in Cincinnati, Ohio, succeeds Harold E. Stassen, who is slated to be special assistant to the President on dirarmament.

There are more than 275,000 blind Americans.

For Tired Husbands—One Lost Weekend a Month

WASHINGTON, May 11 (UP)—Ladies: Does your husband start fidgeting as soon as he's sat still for 30 minutes?

Does he take a vacation only to race madly to see how much you can see and do within allotted time?

Is he getting a paunch?

What he needs, said a psychologist today, is one long, lost weekend every month.

Just a blank weekend—not lost by drinking, but simply lost.

"You should order your life so that there comes a long weekend every month, or every two months at the most, when there is nothing wrong with doing nothing," said Dr. Nathan Kohn Jr., a personnel consultant from Clayton, Mo.

He was talking to wives of men gathered in Washington for the convention of the National Industrial Advertisers Assn.

"The Care and Feeding of Husbands" was his topic.

The problem is growing worse and worse, he said. It's the automation age coming upon us.

Moreover, pressures are multiplying for the creative person—the one who is an administrator or executive.

"Your husbands and all of us who try to think have tremendously increased pressure," he said.

"When he comes home he wants to discharge tension; he wants to get something out of his system. But there's the wife; she's thinking, 'Oh, good, he can watch out for the kids so I can get things on the table.'

"Try to put yourselves in his place; try to understand.

"But don't feel sorry for him. Don't think 'Oh, the poor thing.' Then you become mothers instead of wives. You create new tensions."

• • •

Dr. Kohn had this advice on the care and feeding of husbands:

Give them a good diet, but a varied one.

Arrange times for doing nothing.

Accept your husband without reservation, be critical of incidents but not of him.

And finally—"You have to be willing to not talk too much so he can tell you his troubles."

Commercial Plate Deadline Saturday

Midnight Saturday is the deadline for obtaining commercial half-year licenses, Willis M. Brewer, manager of the local secretary of state office, announced today.

Licenses may be purchased at the office's new location, 53 N. Parke St., a half block north of the Municipal parking lot. The office is open weekdays 9 a. m. to 5 p. m., Saturdays from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

It is the only office in Oakland County where the half-year tags are available. About 600 of the 1,200 commercial licenses expected to be issued have been given out, Brewer said.

Rat Chases Councilman Investigating Town Dump

CAMPBELL, Ohio (UP) — Councilman Frank Reichard, after hearing complaints about rats at the city dump, went down to the dump himself. He reported to his fellow councilman that a big rat attacked him, forcing him to flee from some distance before he finally was able to kill it with a stone.

After Reichard's experience, the city started scattering rat poison on the dump.

Pigeons Move With Cafe

CLEVELAND (UP) — Lou Watson, who recently moved his restaurant from downtown Cleveland to suburban Lakewood, several miles away, says a flock of pigeons which patronized the back door of his old place now visit his new one. He says he's sure they're the same ones because they are so tame.

Cholera Kills 57 in India

CALCUTTA, India (UP)—A cholera epidemic was announced in Calcutta today. Authorities said 57 persons, including many children, died of the disease in the first week of May.

Progress Reported in Diarrhea Battle

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE

NEW YORK (AP)—Better control of epidemics of diarrhea in infants—often serious and sometimes fatal—is promised in new reports today to the Society of American Bacteriologists.

The evidence is that certain types of intestinal bacteria may cause the epidemics which can sweep through nurseries.

One outbreak in children's hospital of Michigan was traced to one special type of a common bacteria known as E. coli, said Drs. Cyril S. Stulberg and Wolf Z. Zuelzer, of the Child Research Center of Michigan, Detroit.

This germ can be controlled by the antibiotic neomycin. But it is essential to treat all babies in the nursery, they said. Otherwise some babies can be carrying the germ, harmlessly to themselves, but pass it on to newcomers to fire up new epidemics.

Tariff Debate Involves National Security

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON (AP)—In the long debate over President Eisenhower's tariff-cutting program, one of the hottest arguments has revolved around a claim that the program might endanger national security by crippling industries vital to defense.

The administration rejected the claim. Cabinet officers testified that the strength and unity of the free world depends on a reciprocal, gradual lowering of trade barriers.

A year ago the jeweled watch manufacturers opened fire by stressing the "unique" skills of their workers in war and peace. Then coal, wool, machine tools, large segments of the electrical machinery, oil, chemical and other industries climbed aboard the defense-essentiality argument.

* * *

The arguments were not silenced by Eisenhower's personal assurance that no industry would be placed in jeopardy, nor by the fact that the bill retained a safety clause by which the President could block any tariff cut that would endanger defense production.

Those who prefer their protection written specifically into the law argued that:

Domestic shutdowns, caused by foreign competition, would so curtail production that the industry concerned would be unable to convert quickly to war productions; its skilled laid-off workers would be scattered; and the nation would be forced to depend on foreign suppliers who in wartime might be cut off or who, in an emergency, might not choose to sell to us.

* * *

Also, Congress heard fear expressed that sizable portions of American industry would be driven overseas. Witnesses pointed to American car producers who already are building autos abroad and shipping them into the United States, and to manufacturers who have set up plants overseas to penetrate foreign markets fenced off from U.S. exports.

Witnesses disagreed, however, on the remedy. To the foes of the tariff bill, the trend was proof that the reciprocal trade program hasn't been reciprocal; our tariffs came down but other countries kept theirs up. To supporters of the bill, the trend proved the need for a reciprocal lowering of tariffs so that dollar-shy nations could earn dollars here and abandon their trade walls.

* * *

M. A. Hollengreen, president of the National Machine Tool Builders Assn., supplied a further jolt by reporting that, because of competitive advantages enjoyed by foreign countries:

"American machine tool companies are considering manufacturing their machines abroad and shipping them back into this country over the low 15 per cent tariff barrier for sale in the domestic markets."

Several American companies already are manufacturing in Europe, Hollengreen said, while U.S. exports have shrunk to one third their peak postwar volume. He added, "This represents production capacity transferred to Europe which otherwise would be part of our national defense potential."

Some countries maintain virtual embargoes on certain U.S. machine tools, to protect their own producers. Others simply lack the dollars to buy them. Still others save their dollar resources for other U.S. goods as long as European-made tools, even though inferior, are available.

* * *

Problems more familiar, but no less difficult to solve, were reflected by the "defense essentiality" claims of the coal, electrical manufacturing, chemical and some other major industries.

A coal spokesman warned Congress that if war broke out the nation "would go on a coal economy overnight"—but that the industry, with many mines closed and employment down to 50 per cent, couldn't rise to the emergency for 8 to 12 months.

The bituminous industry, joined by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, centered its attack on imports of residual oil, the by-product of Venezuelan refineries. Coal men charged that residual oil is being dumped at Atlantic ports, devouring Eastern markets that once belonged to coal.

* * *

The railroads, which lose freight traffic when the mines are idle, made common cause with the coal industry.

Joined by the independent and nonimporting oil producers, this alliance of protectionists groups strongly backed an amendment proposed by Sen. Neely (D-WVa) and 16 other senators. However, the senate defeated this proposed exchange, which would have limited crude oil and residual imports to 10 per cent of total U.S. domestic demand.

* * *

The tariff-cutting bill was defended by Charles P. Taft, Republican candidate for governor of Ohio in 1952 and brother of the late senator. He is chairman of the privately supported committee for a National Trade Policy, most active of the business group supporting the administration program.

Taft agreed that defense-essential industries must be safeguarded and that coal is indeed a sick industry. Beyond that, he disputed many industry statements.

The soft coal industry has lost 155 million tons in annual demand since 1947, Taft said, while residual oil consumption has risen by the equivalent of only 11 million tons.

He said the remainder of the markets vanished in the trend to natural gas and other fuels, in the dieselization of railroads and in the decline of exports after the war.

Taft denied that residual oil is "dumped," saying that "the coal people have never made any request to the government under the antidumping Act."

"So far as national defense is concerned," he said, "existing mines, by going to a full week without overtime, could add 150 to 200 million tons of coal a year."

Soviet Cultural Ties Promoted by Britain

LONDON (AP)—Britain set up a committee today to promote closer cultural relations between Britain and Russia.

Christopher Mayhew, Laborite member of the last Parliament, was named chairman. The Foreign Office said Prime Minister Eden's Conservative government had organized the committee "in pursance of the policy of promoting good relations."

The announcement said the committee would encourage reciprocal understanding between Britain and Russia, primarily by sponsoring visits by small groups to each country.

Hollywood Headlines

Carol Richards to Keep Voice for Self

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Carol Richards is giving up the ghost from now on. She's going to sing only for herself.

The red-haired lovely from Rockford, Ill., has earned a nice living by acting as the voice double for film stars.

* * *

Does it come as a shock to learn that when Cyd Charisse opens her mouth to warble on the screen, it ain't really Cyd that comes out? It's Carol.

And when Vera-Ellen bursts into song in a movie, you're not hearing Vera-Ellen. That's Carol again.

Hollywood, you see, leaves nothing to chance. If a screen beauty does not have a singing voice that will titillate movie goers, she is provided with one. Sometimes this use of ersatz talent can be carried to extremes.

* * *

Once Betsy Drake was cast in a musical called "Dancing in the Dark." Since Miss Drake is not a musical performer, both her singing and dancing were done by other girls. She did her own acting, however.

Carol Richards has performed as singing ghost for Cyd Charisse in "Brigadoon," "Deep in My Heart" and the unreleased "It's Always Fair Weather." She did Vera-Ellen with an accent in "Call Me Madam" and the childlike singing for Betta St. John in "The Robe." She performed a double chore in "Pretty Girl"—in Spanish tones for Movita and plain style for Joan Caulfield.

* * *

How does she duplicate such a wide variety of voices?

"A few years ago, I learned from a Spanish boy how to reproduce accents," she explained. "He taught me how to watch a person's lips when she speaks. Then you can get the same kind of delivery.

"Whenever I did a voice doubling job, I always spent a couple of weeks with the actress. I studied how she talked. Then I always asked to have her on the stage when I was recording. The match could be more exact that way."

* * *

But Carol has now put an end to singing behind the scenes. She landed a fine job on Bob Crosby's daily TV show. And she has prospects of getting into pictures with her own face. She made a test at MGM and there have been good reports about it.

Pontiac Policemen at Training Course

Four Pontiac Policemen this week are attending the 8th annual Michigan State College training course for supervisory officer at the Kellogg Center in East Lansing, Chief Herbert W. Straley announced today.

The officers studying the course in police administration are Lt. Oliver H. Lemeaux, head of the police administration bureau here; Sgt. Donny Ashley, head of the vice squad; Lt. George T. Scott, platoon officer, and Sgt. Clayton Randolph, of the traffic division.

Straley said he is attempting to send "as many policemen as the department is able to spare" to such training functions as part of his overall plan, designed to increase the efficiency of the force.

Two County Men Seeking VFW Post

Two Oakland County men will vie for the post of junior vice commander when delegates from 35 District 5 VFW posts convene Sunday at St. Clair Shores for their final rally for the current fiscal year.

They are Ivan Gibbs, former Ferndale school principal, and John Ray, past commander of the Milford post. Gibbs is past commander of the Oakland County VFW Council, while Ray is district public relations officer.

1908 Car Swapped Even

LUCAS, Kan. (UP)—Roy Miller got a 1955 model auto in an even swamp for his used car. But his old car was a little out of the ordinary—a 1908 Buick, complete with original tires and carbide lights that work. It had been in Miller's family since his father bought it.

"So many of our friends have Blue Cross - Blue Shield," says Mrs. Robert Scott (left), of Dearborn. "We all agree—there is no substitute!"

Everyone agrees—

says Mrs. Robert Scott

You can't duplicate the "3-PLUS" advantages of Blue Cross-Blue Shield!

1. HOSPITAL SERVICES, NOT LIMITED CASH! No other state-wide plan gives you basic services the way Blue Cross does, through its contract with the hospitals! Other plans give you fixed cash payments, which may pay only a small part of your hospital bill . . . and may leave the big part to be paid by you!

2. DOCTOR SERVICES, NOT LIMITED CASH—with a choice of a $2,500 or $5,000 family income ceiling medical-surgical contract. You get service benefits if your family income meets the requirements of the contract you choose. The service benefits provision is offered only by your Blue Shield Plan.

3. YOUR BLUE CROSS - BLUE SHIELD CARD CUTS RED TAPE—eliminates need for a hospital deposit! No forms to fill out on admission to the hospital . . . no claims to file . . . no wait for payment. Blue Cross - Blue Shield Plans are the only plans that contract directly with your hospital and doctor.

Nothing can replace . . . or come close to replacing . . . the "3-PLUS" advantages of Blue Cross - Blue Shield protection against the cost of hospital and doctor care!

Chances are, your family has Blue Cross - Blue Shield. (Nearly half the people in Michigan do!)

And granted, you may think Blue Cross - Blue Shield protection is good. But it's far more than "good." It's so good that millions of Michigan people have found they just can't afford to be without it . . . and here's why—

Hospital services . . . not cash! Unlike plans that provide you with fixed cash benefits (and rarely do you get enough cash!), the Blue Cross Comprehensive Contract gives you basic hospital services themselves . . . regardless of the cost.

This protection provides up to 120 days at a time . . . at almost any general hospital in Michigan, and at Blue Cross member hospitals anywhere.

Doctor services . . . not cash! Along with hospital care, you'll surely need a doctor's care, too . . . and it's against part or all of the cost of in-hospital doctor care that Blue Shield protects you.

Blue Shield offers you a choice of a $2,500 or $5,000 family income medical-surgical contract. If your family income meets the requirements of the contract you choose, the cost of your participating doctor's in-hospital services will be covered by Blue Shield. This service benefits provision is made available to you only through Blue Shield. In any event, regardless of your income, liberal amounts will be paid to the doctor of your choice.

Non-profit organizations. Blue Cross and Blue Shield are non-profit organizations . . . sponsored by hospitals and doctors themselves. Together, these plans offer more protection per dollar than any other plan.

Ask your employer or your union representative how you can get low-cost group coverage for you and your family. (A company with as few as five employees may qualify as a group.) Or, contact your local Blue Cross - Blue Shield representative. Mr. Gordon Cox, Blue Cross-Blue Shield, Huron Centre, 1058 W. Huron St., Pontiac Michigan.

ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON—1
The Teller of Tales

The Samoan natives, with whom Robert Louis Stevenson spent his last years, called him Tusitala, the teller of tales.

Stevenson's stories, poems and essays are lasting favorites of both children and grownups. His three most popular stories are "Treasure Island," "Kidnapped" and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." One of his funny poems "My Shadow," begins this way:

"I have a little shadow that goes in and out with me,
And what can be the use of him is more than I can see.
He is very, very like me from the heels up to the head;
And I see him jump before me, when I jump into my bed."

Stevenson, in poor health all his life, was born in 1850 in Edinburgh, Scotland. Although he became a lawyer, he soon gave it up for a writing career. His first work, "An Island Voyage," was published in 1878.

For years, he traveled with his family in search of a climate good for his health. He finally settled on Samoa in the South Seas where he built a home, Vailima, at the foot of a mountain. The natives loved him and his stories. When Stevenson died in 1894, 60 Samoans buried him on the top of Mount Vaea.

Color the drawing showing the young Stevenson and his shadow, and the older man writing on his beloved Samoan island. This is the first of a three-part series on this favorite writer.

Tomorrow: The story of "Treasure Island."

Fear of Disease Hampering Cancer Battle

This is the last of five articles by a distinguished surgeon and cancer authority, telling what science knows about the disease and how it is waging the battle against cancer.

By DR. CHARLES S. CAMERON
Medical and Scientific Director, American Cancer Society

NEW YORK (INS)—One of the great obstacles in saving lives from cancer today is fear.

The disease is surrounded with an aura of concern that ranges all the way from superstitious terror to an informed and healthy respect.

This has its source in the history of cancer itself. The earliest recordes show that Hippocrates in 400 B. C. wrote: "Cancer of the uterus is incurable." In 1534, Aetius repeated the exact conclusion. Even as late as 1793, the British surgeon Baillie wrote: "Cancer of the cervix terminates fatally."

It was not until the turn of the Twentieth Century that medical men became convinced that cancer was not always fatal. It could be cured if detected early and removed completely.

But that was half a century ago, and although the cure rates for cancer have been steadily increasing, the dark hand of fear still leaves its mark on our culture. An American Cancer Society poll not long ago showed that about 40 per cent of the public still thinks cancer is incurable.

When stricken with the disease, those who cannot believe that cancer is ever cured refrain from seeking medical help because of their feeling of hopelessness. They usually wait so long that death is inevitable.

But everyone pays the price for this traditional, unhealthy fear of cancer. It adds an unnecessary burden of fright even on persons whose early cancer have been detected in time for cure.

Then there are those who suffer from cancerophobia—persons who have a morbid dread of cancer and either think they have it or are certain to get it.

It was because of this infrequent possibility that the question was once raised that the American Cancer Society's education program was creating unnecessary fear of cancer.

A study among the nation's psychologists produced the conclusion that a person who had an unhealthy fear of cancer would have turned to some other object for his neurotic expression. Cancer in this case is a symptom and not a cause of his neurosis.

The legacy of cancer fears bequeathed us by our ancestors has another facet. The unknown always fosters the occult. Because cancer was cloaked in mystery, dozens of fables arose about it down through the centuries. We are still harvesting this strange crop today.

A study in Massachuetts revealed that most cancer patients connected their disease to some wrong-doing of themselves or their parents. They had guilt complexes because cancer had struck them.

Fear, we must remember, can have a constructive side too. Some statesmen believe that fear of atomic warfare may bring permanent peace to this world.

A healthy fear, or respect for cancer, can motivate most of us to practice regular health habits—having a thorough physical examination at least once a year and knowing the seven danger signals and being alert for the early signs of cancer.

Being terrified about cancer will not help, but knowing that it is a dangerous disease that eventually will visit itself upon one out of every four of us can spur many of us into action. With such knowledge as this we can then double our efforts to conquer cancer through research.

And in the meantime we can increase the margin of the thousands being saved by prompt detection and early treatment. Fear is a poison that can destroy us or it can urge us into action that will wipe cancer from our lives.

Kidney Slow-Down May Bring Restless Nights

When kidney function slows down, many folks complain of nagging backache, headaches, dizziness and loss of pep and energy. Don't suffer restless nights with these discomforts if reduced kidney function is getting you down—due to such common causes as stress and strain, over-exertion or exposure to cold. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today

Even Grandma Can Dance the 'Merengue'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — There are not many things that Porfirio Rubirosa can teach Miss Zsa Zsa Gabor, for she is pretty well up on the tricks of the trade — "trade" in this case meaning the exchange of social niceties and fisticuffs and marriage vows, as they are swapped in Rubi's "international set."

But there is one thing he taught her, and that was the "Merengue." Not the meringue like you eat with strawberries and whipped cream, but the Merengue like they dance down in Rubirosa's homeland, the Dominican Republic.

It is a new step executed with a fluttering hip and a limp leg, and is said to be the hottest innovation in the dance world since the Black Bottom.

"You really must learn it," said a representative of the Dominican Embassy to me on the phone. "Within six months, it will have swept the country and completely replaced the Mambo."

So — visualizing the awakward moment when a local Romeo might ask me to Merengue and I would have to say that my feet were killing me — I took off for a lesson in this brand new art of Terpsichore.

The teacher was Chancellor Guillermo Nadal of the Dominican consulate, and we met in a back room at Arthur Murray's. All very businesslike, because Mr. Murray was there as chaperone. Also two of his girl teachers, "Miss Debbie" and "Miss Betty." They were wearing snug skirts, to illustrate a point.

"It is a very subtle dance," said Chancellor Nadal. "The hip move is important."

It was hard even for a woman to miss.

"That is the first half of the basic movement of the Merengue," said Mr. Murray, sticking his hip into the conversation. "The other half is a sort of limp with the right leg. In other words, here's how it goes — sway out with the left hip, drag the right foot, sway with the left, drag with the right, sway with the left, draw with the right."

Someone had put a "Merengue" record on the phonograph and suddenly everybody was swaying and dragging for fair. The room looked like one big happy rehabilitation center.

While they limped and bumped gracefully, I analyzed the music. It was like an urgent, sensual contest among a sax, a male voice and a tom-tom. . . similar to Calypso in the repetition of its tune pattern, but really like nothing you've ever heard.

"This dance is really a one-step, in which you do a sort of a Fox Trot with one leg, and Rhumba with the other," said Mr. Murray, clinically. "It will replace the Mambo easily, because the Mambo is a dance that can only be done by a young, exhibitionistic crowd.

"This is much easier," he said, heaving lightly.

Mr. Nadal regretfully gave up Miss Betty and returned to the discussion, speaking loudly over the tom-toms. "The dance is at least 100 years old," he said. "It is said it originated when a Dominican soldier returned with a crippled leg, and a dance was held in his honor. We are great lovers of dancing down there in the Republic, you know.

"He could only limp when dancing so, in homage to the guest of honor, the rest of the people copied his style. And that is how the Merengue is said to have started."

Do you believe that? I asked him.

"No," snorted Nadal. "But I have no other stories."

The reason that Merengue is being introduced around the U. S. today, Murray and Nadal admitted, is two-fold: To give the dance-loving Dominican Republic some extra-Rubirosan stature, and to re-inspire interest in ballroom Terpsichore in America.

"It's been a long time since we had a new dance that the older people could enjoy," they pointed out, "but this is an easy, relaxing series of steps they should do with the same ease as the youngsters."

In fact better, perhaps. From what I saw of the Merengue, with its lame duck action, every little infirmity may help.

Calms TV Tempers by Getting Rid of Set

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP) — Television, still new to the north, always drew a faithful — but not peaceful — audience around the set in the Nordale Hotel lobby.

Tempers were prone to grow short and arguments long over which of the two available channels should be tuned in.

The hotel management solved the problem.

Obliging Fire Turns in Alarm Via Water Pipe

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP)—A fire in Dr. F. H. Dubbe's office turned in its own alarm.

Petty Cash Box Thief Trapped by Chemistry

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Detective Hugh T. Rose spotted a janitor suspected of dipping into the petty cash box of an insurance firm after closing hours when he dusted the bills in the box with an invisible fluorescent chemical and took the serial number of the bills. When the next shortage was discovered the janitor was invited down to headquarters.

He held his hands under an ultra-violet light. And his guilt glowed.

Poor Brakes Leave Six Towns in Dark

NORFOLK, Va. (UP)—When brakes failed in a line of traffic on Clarence Elwood Ashew's truck he veered into a vacant field to avoid ramming the car ahead. But he bumped a guy wire and—

The top snapped off of a pole carrying a power line.

Families depending on electricity for cooking ate cold supper in Campostella, Riverdale, Newton Park, Oakleite, Indian River Park and Norfolk Highlands. Children with favorite TV programs missed them and fretted.

Nearby drug stores reported a run on candles.

Weird Pet Contest Victor Keeps Reserves on Tap

STAMFORD, Conn. (UP) — Alan Hendrickson, 11, of Darien was out for top honors in a "Weird Pet Contest" at a local theater, and he got them.

Woodie, his deodorized skunks grabbed first prize of a $25 savings bond. In the wings were Alan's reserves: two white mice, a cat, four turtles, a snake, a frog and a toad.

AIR FORCE 'POP' TO WED—M/Sgt. Horst W. "Pop" Tittel, 70, oldest man in the U. S. Air Force signs marriage license roster at Anchorage, Alaska, as his bride-to-be Ethel D. Andrews, 60, watches. The Sergeant and former Orleans, Cape Cod, Mass., woman, both of whom have been married before, met at Anchorage five months ago. Wedding date has not been announced.

Living Dangerously

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP) — A light-footed burglar entered the home of Edward T. Cody in the wee hours and took $100 from a bureau drawer. Cody is a policeman.

No Garbage Worries

HASTINGS, Neb. (UP)—A farm woman was honest in answering that part of a questionnaire pertaining to her method of garbage disposal. "Three hogs, a sheep and a flock of hens," was her answer.

Chicago's switching district handles about 45,999 freight cars daily, more than St. Louis and New York City Combined.

Jaycees Plan Teen Road E-O

Waterford Area Group Sets Driving Contest May 22 at Drayton

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Boys and girls under the age of 20, who hold drivers' licenses or permits, will be eligible to compete in the second annual Road-E-O sponsored by the Waterford Township Jaycees. The event will be held Sunday, May 22, at the parking lot of the A&P store in Drayton Plains.

According to Charles Pappas, Jaycee president, the Road-E-O will consist of a written exam and a skill test involving driving through prescribed exercises such as parking, smooth stopping and others.

Plans to conduct this event were made at the organization's meeting this week. Robert Klingman was appointed general chairman and six committees were selected to assist him.

"By emphasizing the rules of the road and the skills needed for safe driving, we intend to give local youths a chance to prove that some of America's best drivers are teenagers," Pappas said.

High schools participating will be Waterford Township, Clarkston, West Bloomfield, and Ortonville. The event is sponsored nationally by the U.S. Jaycees, Liberty Mutual Insurance Cos. and American Trucking Assns., Inc.

LIZABETH LAWSON

Earl Lawson of Holly has announced the engagement of his sister Lizabeth, to David G. Frick. She is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Matt Lawson of Holly. Her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Frick Sr. of Clarkston. No date has been set for the wedding.

Troy Township Couple Celebrate Golden Wedding

TROY TOWNSHIP—Mr. and Mrs. Henry White of 2609 E. Big Beaver Rd., are marking their 50th wedding anniversary today and making plans for an open house Sunday.

The open house will be held at the home of Mrs. Wesley Paul, 2735 E. Big Beaver Rd. from 2-5 p.m.

Married in Cornwall, England May 11, 1905, the Whites have lived at their present home for the past 23 years. They have five children, and 12 grandchildren.

OXFORD — Armloads of shoes and warm clothing mingled with school books today as pupils of the Daniel Axford school began their "Save - the - Children" bundle day.

Elementary Principal Wayne Francisco says the drive is part of the 13th annual "Children's Clothing Crusade" conducted under the auspices of the Save the Children Federation's National Advisory Committee of School Superintendents.

The clothing will be used to aid needy children in Korea, in the war-depleted countries of Europe and the Middle East, and in isolated rural areas of the United States.

Most needed is warm clothing, heavy underwear, wool skirts, suits, sweaters and coats.

Low-heeled adult and children's shoes are also important, along with baby clothing.

History Traced in Toy Soldiers

Machinist's Evenings, Weekends Are Devoted to Profitable Hobby

NEW YORK (UP)—Eugene Custer works on instruments for large antiaircraft guns by day, designs midget soldiers by night.

Custer, 40, a machinist for the Ford Instrument Co., turns out parts for experimental instruments. These in the past have been used to aim the big guns of battleships and other Navy fighting ships.

But every night after work, plus weekends, he and his wife, Wilma, enter the den of their Staten Island home to translate into metal one more bit of American military history gleaned from their vast home library.

As a boy, Custer was fascinated by toy soldiers. He began a collection but soon found it an expensive proposition. The costly toy soldiers that intrigued Custer were those imported from foreign lands, so he began making his own.

He has spent the past 20 years developing his own "secret" process for turning out 2-inch-high soldiers cheaply. Now they sell at New York's largest hobby shop for $15 each, which is "cheap" in this field.

Part of Custer's unusual collection includes a Continental Army officer from New Jersey, a British Grenadier of the Revolutionary War period and a U. S. Marine Corps officer of 1812. He currently is fashioning a Civil War gun crew.

Custer's basic method of operation is simple. First he makes a clay model which later is used to make a metal cast. From the cast he makes a rubber mold into which he pours low-melting metal alloys.

Mrs. Custer then paints the finished project in appropriate colors.

It takes about two months to turn out each figure. It takes another 10 hours to make "copies" from the original mold.

India's Five-Year Plan Sees Billion Dollar Deficit

NEW DELHI (UP) — Wanted — one billion dollars.

That sums up Indian's predicament as the nation enters the last two years of its first 5-year plan.

Unless foreign assistance pours into India at five times the rate of the past three years, it must either curtail economic development plans or finance them with created money at the certain cost of inflation.

Here are the reasons for this tremendous gap between need and availability of resources for the first large-scale experiment in planning undertaken outside the totalitarian world:

1. There have been progressive additions to the size and cost of the plan without any guarantee of additional resources.

2. The central and state governments have failed to raise additional revenues called for in the plan.

3. Inadequate foreign aid.

The cost of the 5-year plan in draft outline in 1951 was $4,000,000,000. In the revised form in which it was published in December 1952, the cost rose to $4,500,000,000. In October 1953, bowing to the popular outcry against increasing unemployment, the planning commission added a further $500,000,000 worth of projects designed to stimulate employment. The cost of the plan now stands at $5,000,000,000.

The mobilization of internal resources has been less than was planned for even at the modest beginning. The draft plan assumed that the central and state governments together, through taxes and loans, would raise a total of $2,800,000,000 over the 5-year period. Actual performance, according to present estimates, will fall short by $300,000,000.

To meet the gap of $2,500,000,000 between the cost of the plan and currently mobilized resources, the government drew on past savings. In the first three years of the plan, a total of $500,000,000 was secured by depleting the government's cash balances and selling securities held in reserve.

However, since there are no more cash balances to deplete and a minimum holding of sterling is necessary to back its rupee currency, the remaining gap of $2,000,000,000 can be met only by foreign aid or deficit financing.

Tribe's Pilot, Lopez, Believes Yanks Weaker

NEW YORK (AP)—After sweeping the two-game series from New York, Manager Al Lopez of the Cleveland Indians was convinced today the 1955 Yankees are weaker than the team which finished eight games behind the pennant-winning Tribe last year.

Ordinarily Lopez, a considerate soul, likes to talk only about his own club. However, the soft-spoken senor from Tampa, Fla., refused to shy away from a direct question asking him to compare this year's Yankees with those of 1954.

"While I believe the Yankees are still the team we have to beat for the pennant," he said, "I also think they are weaker than they were a year ago. Just look whom they've lost—Allie Reynolds and Gene Woodling. Phil Rizzuto can't play regularly any more. You can't lose such key men and expect to be as strong. You don't replace men of such caliber overnight.

* * *

"For years Reynolds was their money pitcher. He was the pitcher they depended upon to win the big game. He was doubly valuable because he was equally effective in relief. Stengel (Yankee Manager Casey Stengel) rarely had to think about taking out his starting pitcher because he knew he had the Big Chief ready and able to take over. This year, with Allie gone, Casey is not so quick to pull a starter in trouble."

It is Lopez' conviction that the Yankees miss the ever-presence of Rizzuto in the lineup more than they miss any one player.

"Billy Hunter is a good shortstop," he said, "but he's no Rizzuto. That's no refection on Billy. We had the same situation in Cleveland a couple of years ago. We had a pretty good shortstop in Ray Boone. But the fans weren't satisfied because they had become accustomed to the best in Lou Boudreau. Like Lou in Cleveland, Rizzuto was the heart and soul of the Yankees for years.

"Maybe he didn't hit as much as some of the other Yankees but the little rascal was always doing something to beat us—either with a timely base hit, a squeeze bunt or a great play in the field. And if he wasn't beating us, then Woodling was. I'll bet Gene hit close to .400 against us during his years with the Yankees."

* * *

Lopez admitted the Yankees obtained a fine pitcher in Bob Turley, former Baltimore speedballer.

"He's a pretty good pitcher," Al said, "even though we've had pretty good luck against him. Pretty good luck as far as beating him but he always pitched well against us. I remember one night he not only had us shut out until the last inning but he held us without a hit until two were out in the ninth. Then Al Rosen singled and Larry Doby followed with a home run to beat him 2-1. Twice we beat him in extra innings by 1-0 and 2-1 scores."

* * *

Turley lost another toughie to the Indians yesterday. Bullet Bob fanned 11 and permitted only three hits. But eight bases on balls helped the Indians edge the Yankees 4-3. That victory, Cleveland's third in four meetings with the Yankees this season, increased the Indians' first place margin over the Yankees to four games.

Braves, Jeffs Claim Junior Track Victories

Ghianni Silenced, But Team Wins; Hawkins Is Jefferson Sparkplug

Em Ghianni is speechless.

The highly-successful Washington Junior High School track coach wasn't that amazed over his athletes 3rd victory of the season at Wisner Field Wednesday. He underwent a tonsillectomy this week.

However, the Braves' runners and jumpers were not impaired in any way as they rang up a 57-20 win over Lincoln. Washington has lost only to Jefferson, while winning 3 meets.

Meanwhile, the power-packed Jeffs laced Wever, 59-18. Jim Hawkins won 3 events and set new records in 2 of them. He ran the 100-yard low hurdles with a terrific 11.5-second clocking, sped the 75-yard dash in 8.05 seconds and also won the broad jump.

Gene Lawson won the pole vault at 9 feet, 6 inches and the high jump with a 5-10 effort. John Herron tied the league and field record in the shot put at 50 feet, 8 inches.

John Phlegm was Washington's outstanding individual with 1sts in the low hurdles, high hurdles and high jump.

Dual meet competition winds up next Wednesday with Eastern running Jefferson and Lincoln meeting Wever. The league meet is listed May 25 at Wisner Field.

Shantz Comes Through Again to Trip Orioles

Sets 'Birds' Down on Pair of Singles in Relief Role

BALTIMORE (AP) — Little Bobby Shantz, the mighty mite pitcher with a king-sized heart, put his question-mark left arm to another test here yesterday and once more eased doubting minds about his 1955 comeback.

The 145-pound southpaw, the American League's Most Valuable Player in 1952, set the Baltimore Orioles down with just two singles in six innings of relief work as the Kansas City Athletics beat the Orioles 2-0.

Shantz thus posted his second triumph of the season and turned in his second sparkling performance in two weeks. On April 29 he shut out the New York Yankees 6-0 on a brilliant three-hitter.

Then last Saturday he was rocked for 9 hits and 7 runs in 3 2-3 innings by the Cleveland Indians and some observers were inclined to look on his Yankee whitewash as a flash-in-the-pan job.

But Bobby bounced right back for a superb mound job. And 3,965 Baltimore fans, while rooting hard for the Orioles to move out of the league cellar, were fascinated by the courageous southpaw. They gave him warm rounds of applause every time he made an appearance.

Bobby walked Gene Woodling, the first man he faced in relief of the injured Alex Kellner, to start the fourth inning. Then he set the next 12 men down in order.

* * *

Billy Cox singled to open the Baltimore eighth and shortstop Joe DeMaestri put Shantz in a hole by booting Bob Kennedy's ground ball. A sacrifice bunt put the tying runs in scoring position.

Shantz was equal to the occasion. On just six pitches he fanned Baltimore's two dangerous rookies, first baseman Gus Triandos and catcher Hal Smith.

Baltimore got its only other hit in the ninth when with two out Willie Miranda bounced a single off Bobby's glove.

Shantz has been battling injuries and arm ailments since his wrist was broken by a line drive late in 1953. Last year he pitched in only two games.

250,000 Fans Expected

83 Theaters Lined Up to Screen Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP)—A record number of 83 theaters in 58 cities from the Atlantic coast to Denver will show the Rocky Marciano-Don Cockell heavyweight title fight May 16 at San Francisco. The theaters will receive the fight over the largest closed circuit television network ever assembled for any event.

In releasing the statistics today, Nate Halpern, president of Theater Network Television, Inc. (TNT), said more than 100 cities would have carried the fight if lines to the West were available.

* * *

Seventeen theaters in the metropolitan New York area with a seating capacity of 50,000 will screen the fight. It could be that the New York theaters will outdraw the crowd at the scene in Kezar Stadium.

Halpern estimates that some 250,000 fans will pay their way into the theaters. At an average of $3 a seat, that could amount to $750,000. The International Boxing Club receives approximately $1 for each theater spectator. From the IBC's pot, Marciano will collect 40 per cent and Cockell 20 per cent.

The cities on the TNT hookup include only Detroit in Michigan.

Youngster Faces Champion Riley

Girl, 16, Plays Polly in Quarterfinal Match of Southern Test

SHREVEPORT, La. (AP) — The championship ambitions of 16-year-old Clifford Ann Creed met their sternest test today when the Louisiana high school student faced defending champion Polly Riley in the quarter-finals of the Women's Southern Amateur Golf Tournament.

Miss Riley, the veteran Fort Worth, Tex., stylist seeking her sixth tournament title, brushed past 15-year-old Joanne Bruni of Laredo, Tex., on an easy 8 and 6 decision.

Mrs. Leonard Keating of Houston, Tex., staged the tournament's biggest upset when she defeated Dot Kirby of Atlanta 1 up.

Coach Nine Tangles With Dearborn Again

General Motors will make its 2nd start of the Michigan State Baseball League season tonight, playing a return game with Dearborn Heating under the lights on the Oakman - Michigan diamond at Dearborn at 8 p.m.

The Pontiac team defeated Dearborn, 5-1, in the season opener at Wisner Field last Sunday. Manager Paul Parks will use either veteran southpaw Don Ernst or right hander Dan Keating on the mound.

Low Scoring Hits Bowling Tourney

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The 52nd annual ABC tournament is currently in the midst of the lowest scoring of its 46 days of action.

For four straight days there hasn't been a single change in any of the standings and it may continue until the famed Stroh's Beer quintet, of Detroit, shoots tomorrow night.

The best team effort yesterday was the 2,922 by Preno's Restaurant, of Scranton, Pa. Pace-setters were Angelo Simoncini with 644 and Gene Taramelli with 632.

A Los Angeles duo just missed the top ten in doubles by a single pin with a 1,272 total. Paul Dunivan recorded 637 and his partner, Jerry Morisette, hit 635.

Racing Starts at Hazel Park

Three-Year Agreement Ends Strike; Opening Races Tonight

DETROIT (AP)—Delayed for three days by a horsemen's strike, harness racing will get under way tonight at Hazel Park.

The strike was settled late yesterday.

Under a three-year agreement, horsemen will receive 38 per cent of the track's share of the mutuel handle. They had demanded 40 per cent.

Billy Dee, spokesman for the Michigan Harness Horseman's Assn., said:

"There was no victory in this settlement. It merely was an equitable solution of the dispute. This is the greatest advance in harness racing history in Detroit."

The harness meeting will run for 33 nights through Saturday, June 18.

Pontiac Man Praises Far West Dog Show

Back from his 1st far western trip, Rudy Buchmann, Pontiac dog show judge, has nothing but praise for the efforts of the Richland-Wash. club's outdoor exhibition, held on the Hanford atomic project.

"Words can't describe how that great country impressed me," Rudy reports. "In their show they had 450 dogs. There were 59 in the obedience division, which I was privileged to judge."

Show was held in an outdoor stadium that Buchmann describes as "very much like Wisner stadium here."

LPGA Cash 'Take' Going Up, and Touring Gals Like It

On their 1st appearance in this section of the country, the hotshots of the feminine professional golf fraternity are going to shoot at more cash than has been the case heretofore.

When the Ladies Professional Golf Association trades shots over an improved and very interesting Forest Lake Country Club layout May 25-29 they will have $5,000 to shoot at for the big split. Up to this time the usual purse was $3,500.

Winner's share of the Forest Lake event, known as the Wolverine Ladies Open, will be a cool $1,000. Next year the LPGA expects to fire at a $7,500 purse, with $1,500 for the champion.

Among top money winners in the gals' circuit coming here are Betty Hicks, Beverly Hansen, Jackie Pung, the happy Hawaiian, and Fay Crocker. All have collected more than $5,000 during the "grand tour."

What these, and other leading professionals, and the area's ranking amateurs will face at Forest Lake was paraded for the men of the press, radio and TV Wednesday in a day-long affair that included golf over the tricky layout, talks with William Diddel of Indianapolis, Ind., who has designed changes in the course, and dinner at night.

The women will shoot from the men's tees in the coming tourney, adding some 300 yards to the distance. Length of the tourney will be 6,425 yards and men's par of 72 will be used for scoring.

PHS' Linksmen Beat Skippers

Pontiac High School's golfers defeated Waterford Wednesday afternoon at the Pontiac Country Club, 327-334. Win was the Chiefs' 5th straight and 6th in nine meets.

Tom Cross fired a 79 to pace the Chiefs. Tom Jacobson was runnerup with 81; Bill Martin shot 83; and Sam Coleman, a newcomer, posted 84. Truman Hammett shot 92.

Skippers Jack Reynolds, consistently their ace linksman, banged out a 40-36—76 for medalist honors. John Wettlaufer shot 83; Asbury had an 86; Char had an 89; and Kilpela posted a 96.

Five boys played rounds for each school, with best four cards deciding the issue.

Texas-Banded Duck Reported Killed in Russia

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—A duck banded on the Arkansas Pass Wildlife Refuge near here in 1951 was reported killed at Kresta Bay in Russia last spring.

Refuge Mgr. Julian Howard said he learned of the duck's flight in a report from the Washington office of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. A Russian official relayed the news to Washington from Moscow.

Kresta Bay is just south of the Arctic Circle.

Skipper Trackmen Victors in Tight Meet; WL Wins

The Inter-Lakes Conference track meet may be closer than anticipated earlier this season.

League coaches had tabbed defending champion Waterford as the team-to-beat again this year. The Skippers may still be, but Jack Hackett's crew had a close call Wednesday squeaking through a triangular meet by 3/5 of a point.

Waterford scored 54 4/5 to Southfield's 54 1/5. Berkley had 28. Winning the half-mile relay was decisive for the Skippers. Southfield's Bob Quirk bettered his school shot put record for the 2nd straight time by tossing the ball 48 feet, 4¼ inches.

Walled Lake, a perennial Inter-Lakes threat, defeated Farmington 62 1/6 to 46 5/6, by taking eight 1sts, including a double win in the hurdles by Larry Hughes and slams in the mile and shot.

Utica rolled up 85 points to win a quadrangular at Romeo. Lapeer had 44, Oxford 36, and Romeo 20. Warren won the annual Warren Township meet with 68 5/6 points. Center Line had 54½, Fitzgerald 45, Van Dyke 13⅔.

Eaglet Frosh Swamp Shrine in Dual Meet

St. Mary's frosh thinclads overwhelmed Shrine, 69-8, in a freshman dual track meet Wednesday at Orchard Lake.

Nine events were run, high hurdles, medley relay, mile, and pole vault being omitted.

Eaglets had three double winners. Bill Darmetko, leading pointmaker with 14¼, won the 100 and 220 dashes. Pete Krystek won the 880 and broad jump, while Pete Madelans took the 120 low hurdles and tied for 1st in the high jump.

New Technique on Greens Gives Sammy a Lift

Slammer Sharpens His Putting in Tuneup for Greenbrier Test

WHITE SULPHUR SPRINGS, W. Va. (AP)—Sam Snead, who has tried almost everything including hitting crosshanded to improve his putting, is off on a new tack today in the Greenbrier Open Golf Tournament.

"Did you see the way I was rolling them in one after another," he said with glee after yesterday's final practice for the tournament. He has won it on his home course three times and been runner - up twice in the past six years, but putting is a chronic cause of worry to him.

* * *

"What was I doing? Well, I was marking on the green the line I wanted the ball to go and it worked. Of course, I won't be able to actually do that in the tournament, but I'm going to try the idea."

The Greenbrier is one of the tourneys he prizes the most since it is a matter of local pride. Not only is this resort hotel his home base, but he was born, raised and began to play golf in the surrounding mountains.

While Snead and Hogan are going to be the main magnets at the start of the four-day competition for $10,000 prize money, Mike Souchak, the leading newcomer, also is among the 48 pros.

The former Duke University football star is the leading money winner so far this year with $14,648 and is looked for to make his burly presence felt. He has three tournament victories this year while Snead and Hogan have been in comparative idleness.

Luncheon for Olympians

DETROIT (AP) — Norbert Schemansky, Olympic weight lifting champion, and his trainer, Clarence Johnson, will be honor guests Monday at a $10-a-plate luncheon in suburban Highland Park.

Profits will be used to send the pair to the 1956 Olympic games at Melbourne, Australia.

McBride Wants Patterson Bout

Heavyweight in Split Decision Nod Over Satterfield on TV

CHICAGO (AP)—Archie McBride, a stubborn heavyweight who does not smoke, drink nor cuss, still wants a shot at heralded Floyd Patterson after outlasting Bob Satterfield at the Chicago Stadium last night.

McBride won a split decision over Satterfield in a nationally-televised bout in which Patterson originally was scheduled to appear.

Satterfield, filling in for Patterson, who suffered a ptomaine poisoning attack a week ago, went all the way against McBride in a rugged if not particularly artistic combat before a sparse stadium crowd of 1,049 paid.

McBride won the vote of Referee Frank Sikora, 95-94, and Judge James McManus, 96-94, while Satterfield gained the vote of Judge John Bray, 95-90.

Aggies Pointing at Baseball Title

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Undefeated Oklahoma A&M has its eye on the national collegiate baseball crown and needs just one more victory to cinch a berth in the Missouri Valley championship playoffs against Detroit or St. Louis.

Coach Toby Greene's Aggies, unbeaten in 20 games and 6-0 in Western Division play, face Houston (3-3) in a single game today and doubleheader Saturday.

Fight Managers, TV Blamed

PHILADELPHIA, (AP)—What has happened to boxing in Pennsylvania? Why has Gov. George M. Leader suspended one of Americas major sports in the Keystone State?

* * *

These are questions of interest not only to Pennsylvanians but to all sports fans, fight fans in particular; The governor's action has wide significance because television has brought boxing into the homes of millions of Americans.

The immediate reason for the suspension is the fight involving Harold Johnson of Philadelphia and Cuban heavyweight Julio Mederos. Police, physicians and the Pennsylvania State Athletic Commission report that Johnson, number one light heavyweight contender, was drugged before his fight with Mederos, thus his collapse after two rounds.

* * *

But the Johnson-Mederos affair is only the straw that broke the camel's back. Gov. Leader talked of a boxing investigation during his election campaign last fall. He has mentioned it a number of times since. He was convinced something was wrong long before Johnson collapsed in his corner, a glassy - eyed loser practically unharmed by Mederos.

* * *

A check of leading persons in the fight game and in this area points a finger at two things: (1) television and (2) managers whose zeal for money has surpassed their regard for human dignity.

How has television hurt boxing?

* * *

A small club promoter in Philadelphia for 30 years says it has killed matchmaking. A promoter no longer looks for good matches. He merely seeks two boys in the comparative weight classes and schedules them for a bout. He has a TV committment to meet. He'll match anything he can get. And if one boxer is injured before the fight anyone—capable substitute or not—is thrown in so the TV show can go on.

* * *

The consensus among boxing officials in Pennsylvania is that a change must start at the manager's level. It is contended that perhaps half a dozen managers control boxing in the United States and they determine who, when, what and where in the fight business. One source said that until boxing returns to the point where promoters dictate matches and not the mangers, the sport will remain ill.

Phils' Mayo Smith on Hot Seat as Phils Drop 11th Straight, Dwell in Cellar 14 Games Behind Brooks

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Philadelphia Phillies didn't think much of Terry Moore as a manager, but the old Gas House Gang guy really belted one on the button when he wished his successor Mayo Smith "a lot of luck because he has a tough job ahead."

That was last October, after the Phils had wound up fifth, 22 games behind the pennant-winning New York Giants and owner Bob Carpenter decided Moore hadn't shown enough "experience" in his three months as manager.

Now Mayo and the Phillies are in the cellar, 14 games back of pace-setting Brooklyn and snarled in an 11-game losing streak. The St. Louis Cardinals extended Mayo's troubles last night, beating the Phillies 6-5.

Brooklyn also "slumped" yesterday, or what amounts to a slump for the Dodgers. They lost one. The Chicago Cubs did it, beating Russ Meyer's hex and snapping the Brooks' 11-game streak 10-8. It was only Brooklyn's third defeat.

Elsewhere in the National, Milwaukee finally beat Pittsburgh 8-3 and New York defeated Cincinnati 6-3.

In the American League, Cleveland swept its two-game series in New York, beating the Yankees 4-3 despite Bob Turley's three-hitter and 11 strikeouts. Boston edged Chicago 4-3, ending a five-game losing string. Ned Garver held Washington to three hits for a 7-0 Detroit victory, and Kansas City beat Baltimore 2-0.

The Cards tagged Robin Roberts for 11 hits in seven frames last night. Ron Mrozinski was the loser in relief as Harry Elliott, Stan Musial and Rip Repulski doubled for two runs in the eighth after the Phils had taken a 5-3 lead.

At Chicago, the Cubs beat Meyer for the first time since July 16, 1950. A five-run first inning, featuring Ernie Banks' first major league grand-slammer, finished Meyer.

Cleveland knocked Turley off his five-game winning streak by making the most of nine walks. Turley, who now has 57 strikeouts in 54 innings, also hit a batter and wild-pitched the first Tribe run home. Mickey Mantle and Andy Carey hit home runs off Early Wynn, but the Clevelad right-hander was tough when he had to be, giving but five hits for his third success without defeat.

Boston beat the White Sox on Billy Klaus' first major league homer, a two-run job in the seventh, plus some brilliant relief work by Ellis Kinder that saved Frank Sullivan's third victory. Virgil Trucks was the loser.

Notes From Rocky's Camp

Al Weill Squirms in California Heat, Blasts Law Requiring 8-Ounce Gloves

CALISTOGA, Calif. (AP) — This Calistoga, is the pleasant little town nestled below Mt. Helena, 75 miles north of San Francisco, where Rocky Marciano is winding up training for the fifth defense of his world heavyweight championship.

En route to Calistoga, just 15 miles out of the Monday night fight site itself, San Francisco, is the training quarters of the challenger from England, Don Cockell. More of Cockell at another time.

The first stop for more than a score of journeymen journalists, gathered from far and abroad, is the tiny Mt. View Hotel. And the first welcome is extended by Marciano's spry little manager, Al Weill.

* * *

Weill, known on Broadway as The Vest, is not wearing one. It is too hot. He's in a sports shirt, instead, and he is as hot as the sun.

"They wanna put 8-ounce gloves on us," he says. "We fight always with 6-ounce gloves. I'm gonna demand the California commission that they change the law. A heavyweight championship fight this is. They wanna roon it?"

* * *

Comes mid - afternoon workout time in the big auditorium of the country fairgrounds not far away, it is hot, 87 in the shade, 97 inside the hall.

* * *

Rocky works two brisk rounds each with a pair of young heavyweights, Keene Simmons and Sgt. J. B. Reed. He gives Reed a good bouncing around and bloodies his nose.

"That's enough. Too hot," orders Weill, draped over the top rope.

Tigers Rest After Garver Blanks Nats

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Detroit Tigers took the day off today to lick the wounds of their current road trip.

After six games they are playing at only a .333 pace and have watched the gap between their 4th place spot in the standings and the league leading Cleveland Indians lengthen to four games.

On the bright side was yesterday's three-hit shutout by Ned Garver over the Washington Senators. Tiger hitters broke loose in the late innings to pile up a 7-0 margin.

Big test is immediately ahead. After today's vacation the Tigers move into New York for two games with the Yankees, who have taken it on the chin twice in a row from the Indians. Sunday brings a doubleheader in Boston and the trip winds up with two games in Baltimore, Tuesday night and Wednesday.

Garver showed his best form of the young season against the Senators yesterday. He had a one-hitter going until the 7th and yielded only three singles in all—to Mickey Vernon, pinch hitter Carlos Paula and Ed Fitzgerald.

The veteran righthander walked a pair and struck out four. And he figured in the scoring of five of the Detroit runs. Two of the tallies were driven in when Garver smacked a bases-loaded single in the 7th.

The Tigers' biggest inning was the 7th. Bubba Phillips led off with a single to left. Red Wilson bunted and both were safe when Stone threw to 2nd too late to catch Phillips. Harry Malmberg bunted for a hit and the bases were loaded.

Up came Garver and he laced one down the 1st base line out of Vernon's reach, scoring Phillips and Wilson. Then he crossed up the Nats by stealing 2nd base. Harvey Kuenn brought home Malmberg and Garver with a single into center.

Al Kaline ran his new hitting streak to 11 games with a two-run homer in the 9th. It was his 7th home run of the year.

Although Kaline's average dropped under .400 for the 1st time in five days, he took over the league batting lead among regular players. His average now is .390. Kuenn is a close 2nd at .382 and then there is a 55 point drop to the 3rd place hitter, defending champ Bobby Avila of Cleveland.

Maple Golfers Add 5th Victory Without Defeat

Birmingham High School's golfing team is rolling along its unbeaten path with one more victory added to its string, Wednesday.

Coach Joe Borovich's crew laced Ferndale High in a dual match at Rackham course, with a 311-355 count. Four Maples were under 79 for the day. Medalist was Mike Conroy, with 75. Tim Baldwin fired 77, Bob Goldsmith 78 and Sandy Siegel had an 81. Sandy usually is under that figure. Dales' best man was Jack Aldred, with 78.

Match was a regular Eastern Michigan League contest.

Maples, EML leaders, are pointing for the regionals at Kearsley Lake layout, Friday. "Team to beat there," says Borovich, "is Midland, defending state champions."

Giant Cage Star May Enter Kansas

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, high-scoring 7-foot-2 high school basketball star, is reported planning to enter the University of Kansas.

The Philadelphia Bulletin said Chamberlain decided on the Big Seven Conference college after spending a weekend on the campus recently. He had been approached by close to 100 colleges.

State Tourney Starts Today at Kingswood

Girls' Championships to End Sunday; 8 Listed Among 'Seeds'

A field of 57 girls is entered in the Michigan State Girls' Open Tennis Championships at Kingswood School, Cranbrook, in Bloomfield Hills. The tournament, for girls 15 years of age or under, starts today and ends Sunday.

There are eight seeded players listed, half representing Hamtramck, consistent producer of top-ranking tennis performers. Seeded netters are Gwyn Thomas (Shaker Heights, Ohio), Nancy O'Connell (Chicago), Gay Miller (Quincy, Ill.), Sue Hodgeman (Kalamazoo) and Phyllis Saganski, Virginia Hesse, Darnella Everson, and Virginia Dykes, all from Hamtramck.

Oakland County area will have five representatives. They are Jolie Magnuson, Bloomfield Hills; and Karen Henderson, Susan Schecte, Nancy Ebbet, and Carol Pearce, all of Rochester. Kingswood School will have 21 of its own girls in the tourney.

Championship finals will be held Sunday, May 15.

Case to Test Hunting Rights

Ottawa County Suit to Determine Rule on Navigable Waters

LANSING (AP) — A test case of the public's right to hunt on navigable streams may develop out of a suit in Ottawa county, the conservation department said Tuesday.

A similar case a few years ago established the right of the public to fish on navigable waters, but the question of hunting has never been settled.

The Ottawa case involves two hunters who allegedly rowed their boat into Bruce's Bayou of the Grand River, near land owned by the Spoonville Gun Club of Grand Haven.

Arrested for trespassing, their case was dismissed by circuit judge Raymond L. Smith of Holland. Smith held the hunters were on navigable waters and therefore protected by the same court decisions that permit fishing on such waters.

The department said it has sided with the hunters, and will ask Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh to intervene.

Case is scheduled to be heard in June.

Forest Lake Women Keglers Hold Banquet

Top keglers were honored Wednesday night at a banquet of Forest Lake Women's Bowling League. Fifty persons attended the affair, held at Forest Lake Country Club.

Mrs. Russell Downey received a cash award for rolling high single game and high series. Mrs. Downey was also elected president for next year.

A plaque was presented the championship team, comprised of Mrs. Raymond Cahill, Mrs. William Bibbens, Mrs. Carl Horner, Mrs. Webster Buell, and Mrs. Wozniak. A cash award was also given to each member.

Mrs. George Greig won a trophy as the most improved bowler.

Maples, Southfield Nines Win, but Cranes Miss Out

Birmingham High's Maples racked up their 5th straight victory, beating Ferndale, 4-0, on the 3-hit pitching Dick Sheldon and Dan Cornila. It was the 3rd Eastern Michigan League success for Birmingham, the defending titlist.

Sheldon worked 6 innings, permitted 2 hits and striking out 10. Singles by Bill Deer and Tom Beck in the 1st inning followed by Bill Watkinson's double gave Sheldon enough offensive support to win.

Southfield kept stride with Berkley atop the Inter-Lakes League by downing Walled Lake, 5-1. Berkley won Tuesday as the Bears and Bluejays share the lead with 5-1 records. Dick Covera gave the Vikings 4 hits and fanned 8.

For Cranbrook, it was a different story, as Fred Campbell's luckless Cranes dropped their 6th game. They have won 5. All losses have been heart-breaking 1-run affairs. Hamtramck applied the latest setback, 5-4.

Bobby Jones was 53 years old on St. Patrick's day.

Junior Loop Managers Confer Next Thursday

A meeting of the Junior Baseball Managers will be held Thursday, May 19, in room 105 of Pontiac High School.

Managers of Class F and Midgets meet at 7 p.m., with managers of Class E and D teams convening at 7:45 p.m.

Midgets are classed as 12 years of age or under; Class F 14 years old or less; Class E 16 or below; and Class D 18 years old or under. To fit each class, a boy cannot have his next birthday before Sept. 1 of this year.

Persons wishing to enter a baseball team in any of these groups for the Parks and Recreation Department's Junior baesball program should attend this meeting.

A's Busy at Deadline for Roster Cuts

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Kansas City Athletics, grabbing wildly for a winning combination, were busiest of all major league baseball clubs in fitting their rosters into size-25 corsets before the Wednesday midnight deadline.

From the start of the season until today the clubs could carry 40 players. Now they must get along with no more than 25, plus service returnees.

* * *

The eager A's bought two veterans — outfielder Enos Slaughter and pitcher Johnny Sain—from the New York Yankees. They acquired pitcher Ray Herbert from Detroit and outfielder Harry Simpson from Cleveland.

Then to make room for this load of new talent, they had to ship seven men back to the minors.

* * *

Ray Kennedy, personnel manager of the A's, acknowledged that the team had to dig down deep into its pocketbook to come up with these players. Herbert alone reportedly brought the Tigers $40,000.

Kansas City threw John (Sonny) Dixon, a pitcher, into the Yankee deal and Dixon found himself immediately headed for Denver in the American Assn.

* * *

The day's other noteworthy activity included the outright release of lefthander Hal Newhouser by the Cleveland Indians. The 34-year-old Newhouser, once the prince of the American League lefties, said he had been offered either his outright release or a place on the voluntarily retired list. He chose the former.

The New York Yankees, besides selling Slaughter and Sain, also sold pitcher Art Schallock to Baltimore and sent pitcher Don Larsen to Denver of the American Assn. on option. Larsen came to the Yankees in the 18 - player deal which also brought pitcher Bob Turley.

Here is the list of last-minute moves by major league clubs to get within the limit:

AMERICAN LEAGUE

KANSAS CITY — Optioned first baseman Don Bollweg and pitcher Charley Bishop to San Diego, optioned second baseman Forrest Jacobs to Columbus and catcher Al Robertson to Portland, shipped pitchers John Gray, Marion Fricano and Ed Burtschy to Columbus for later disposition. Recalled infielder Hector Lopez from Columbus.

NEW YORK — Sold outfielder Enos Slaughter and pitcher Johnny Sain to Kansas City, sold pitcher Art Schallock to Baltimore, optioned pitcher Don Larsen to Denver, sent pitcher John Dixon (from Kansas City) to Denver.

CLEVELAND—Gave pitcher Hal Newhouser his outright release, sent Joe Altobelli to Indianapolis on option. Sold outfielder Harry Simpson to Kansas City.

BALTIMORE — Placed pitcher Joe Coleman on the disabled list, optioned pitcher Don Ferarese to Oakland, dropped pitcher Bill Millmer (unassigned) placed pitcher Arnold Portocarro on the disabled list.

BOSTON—Sold reserve infielder Owen Friend and optioned pitcher Bob Smith to Louisville, sold pitcher Joe Trimble to Hollywood.

DETROIT — Released Steve Souchak to Buffalo, put infielder Joe Coleman up for waivers. Sold pitcher Ray Herbert to Kansas City, released infielder Ron Sanford.

CHICAGO — Previously reached limit.

NATIONAL LEAGUE

BROOKLYN — Placed pitcher Tom Lasorda on the disabled list.

NEW YORK—Asked waivers on catcher Mickey Grasso.

ST. LOUIS — Optioned pitcher Floyd Woolbridge to Houston, first baseman Tom Alston to Omaha.

PITTSBURGH—Optioned pitcher Al Grunwald to Mexico City.

PHILADELPHIA—Optioned outfielder Mel Clark to Syracuse, infielder Luis Ortiz to Seattle.

MILWAUKEE—Optioned pitcher Ray Crone to Toledo.

New York Pro Shoots 63 in Practice Round at Hot Springs

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—More than 100 golfers had Doug Ford's practice 63 as a target today in the first round of the $15,000 Arlington Hotel open golf tournament at the Hot Springs Country Club.

Par on the 6,971 yard course is 72.

Ford, Cary Middlecoff—also registered from Kiamesha Lake — Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., Al Besselink of Grossinger's N. Y., and Byron Nelson of Roanoke, Tex. are among the well-known money players who have recorded subpar rounds in practice this week.

Star MSC Gridder Wins All-America on Diamond

EAST LANSING — Michigan State's Tom Yewcic quarterbacked the Spartan football team to the national championship in 1952 and to the Big Ten and Rose Bowl championships in 1953, but he gained All-America honors as a catcher for the Spartan baseball team in 1954.

Perfect Year for OSU

COLUMBUS—Ohio State's undefeated eleven in 1954 was the 1st to attain that goal in 10 years.

'Hit-and-Run' Homer Winner for Pale Hose

BOSTON (AP)—George Kell, Chicago White Sox third baseman, said his game-winning two-run homer Tuesday against Boston came on a hit and run play.

Kell, a righthanded batter, slammed a Tom Brewer pitch down the rightfield line into the pavilion in the eighth inning to give Chicago a 4-2 win.

"It was the firsttime I ever hit a home run on a hit-and-run play," Kell said afterward. "I was trying to knock the ball down the line to move Minoso (out fielder Minnie Minoso who had walked) around."

Ted's Return Prompts Farewell to Writers

BOSTON (AP) — "I want to say goodbye to you fellows," Boston Red Sox pitcher Leo Kiely said to newsmen in the clubhouse yesterday.

"Why?" Kiley was asked.

Ted's Return Expected to Aid AL Crowds

ABC Tourney's Low Scores May Climb Again

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The five-day scoring lull at the 52nd annual American Bowling Congress tournament may erupt with some heavy firing tonight.

The last of bowling's name teams, Stroh's Beer of Detroit, makes an appearance in the tourney and aiming to catch the leading Pfeiffer's Beer quintet also of the Motor City, which has the top score of 3,136.

The Strohs have such topflight bowlers as Buzz Fazio, Lee Jouglard (holder of the all-time ABC singles record of 775), Tony Landemann, Eddie Lubanski, and Pete Carter.

Illini Thinclads Beat MSC's Gosper

CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP) — Illinois Ralph Fessenden beat big ten champion Kevan Gosper of Michigan State by five yards in the 440-yard dash yesterday as the Illini defeated the Spartans 68 1/3 to 62 2/3 in a dual meet.

* * *

Fessenden's time of :47.1 set a dual meet record.

Willie Thompson won both the discus and Karl Johnsson took the mile and two-mile events to lead Illinois. Thompson skimmed over the highs in 14 seconds flat for another meet mark and added the lows in 22.9.

SCOT GOLFER — Dick Ayling, former Pontiac High School athlete, is a member of the golf team at Alma College this spring. A football and basketball letterman, Ayling played a year of golf at PHS, but switched his spring sports interest to baseball.

Williams May Also Give Push to Boston Club

Plans to Join Sagging Bosox in Boston on Friday

BOSTON, (AP) — Unpredictable Ted Williams' sudden decision to return to baseball is expected to give American League attendance a shot in the arm as well as bolster the sagging Boston Red Sox.

Williams will fly here tomorrow from Miami, where final terms of his divorce settlement were recorded yesterday.

"I'm not going to wait any longer," Ted told General Manager Joe Cronin in a phone conversation yesterday. "I've spent two days with my daughter. I've made up my mind to play baseball again before the settlement was completed."

Reached later in his Florida Keys seclusion by the Miami Herald, Williams said: "I'll just do the best I can, and hope I can help the club."

"I haven't done any running," he said. "I weigh 210 pounds (15 more than his playing weight) and I may be lousy. But the Red Sox seemed to want me, so I'm going back."

While the great left-hand hitter with a .348 lifetime average steadily repeated his decision to quit after the last game of the 1954 season speculation ran high as to whether he really meant it. Friends insisted his baseball future hinged on his marital difficulties which were the main reason for his retirement.

The court ordered Williams to pay a total of $104,000 including $50,000 for his ex-wife, court costs, and $100 per month for his 7-year-old daughter Barbara until she is 18. In addition, Mrs. Williams was awarded the family's $42,000 South Miami home and the family car.

Williams was in the service for three years during World War II, recovered from a 1950 All-Star Game injury and came back again in the midst of the 1951 season after flying in the Korean War. He suffered a broken collarbone March 1 last year which kept him out the first month of the campaign.

In 27 games this year, Boston has played to 309,914 fans—averaging 11,564 in 17 road games and 11,525 in 10 home appearances without Williams. A year ago in the same 27 games the total was 402,872 with an average of 15,898 in 18 away games and 12,856 in nine home starts.

'Prince Hal' Through, Gets Cut From Tribe

Ex-Tiger Newhouser Ends Pitching Career With 207 Wins

DETROIT (AP) — The pitching career of the often-brilliant Hal Newhouser apparently is ended. The 34-year-old stylish lefthander was given his outright release yesterday by the Cleveland Indians.

A product of Detroit sandlots, Newhouser broke in with the Detroit Tigers in 1940 and spent 13 years with the club. In 1953 the Tigers gave "Prince Hal" his release.

Newhouser's old Detroit teammate, Hank Greenberg, general manager at Cleveland, gave the lefty a trial in the spring of 1954. Newhouser stuck and, racked up a 7-2 record with the pennant-winning Indians, appearing 25 times as a reliefer and once as a starter.

Tacked on to his 200 victories with Detroit, these seven games gave Newhouser a major league record of 207 victories and 150 losses.

Spartans Lead Big 10 Batting

Defending Champs Hit at .339 Clip; Menace U-M's Title Chances

CHICAGO (AP) — Michigan State's defending Big Ten baseball champions, currently tied with Northwestern for 4th place in the 1955 race, still rank as the league's most dangerous slugging team.

The Spartans, who may upset Michigan's title hopes in a 3-game series with the Wolverines this weekend, are leading the conference with a rousing .339 team batting average. Michigan ranks as runnerup with .311 and Ohio State's Buckeyes are 3rd with .294.

Minnesota, which shares the lead in the Big Ten race with Michigan, each with seven victories and two losses, is the team fielding leader with an average of .972. That figure tops Michigan by a single point.

Leading Big Ten batter is Jerry Ranicke of Northwestern, who is batting .438 in nine games. Chuck Mathews, Michigan State 1st baseman, leads in total hits with 15 and Dan Cline of Michigan in total bases with 23. Cline and Ray Collard, Spartan outfielder, each have driven home 11 runs.

SCL Baseball Title Race Becomes Wide Open Test

Pontiac St. Michael's 7-2 victory over St. Mary of Orchard Lake last Monday has thrown the Suburban Catholic League baseball title chase into a wide-open scramble.

Five teams in the eight-member loop still retain good chances of winning the crown. Ol. St. Mary and Mikes, tied for the lead, have the inside track, but three other aspirants are close behind. Even thrice-beaten Hazel Park St. Rita, holding down 4th place, has a slim mathematical hope.

Upheaval of the Eaglets by the Shamrocks erased the last unblemished record from the books, leaving the two with identical 4-1 figures. Ferndale St. James is runnerup, while Center Line St. Clement and St. Benedict of Highland Park are deadlocked for 3rd spot.

St. Frederick's Rams, still winless after five attempts, are in the league basement one game behind St. Mary of Royal Oak.

Bob Dawson Victor in Southern Tourney

Bob Dawson, probably Pontiac's top senior golfer, recently returned from St. Petersburg, Fla., where he wintered. During his stay, he won the Lakewood Country Club's annual President's Cup tournament. It was his first time in the event.

Playing steady golf, the 74-year-old Dawson outlasted a field of 128 players to win the match play handicap affair, which took 2 months to complete. Bob has not yet begun his summer's campaign at Pine Lake Country Club.

Dodger Streak Ended, but There's No Feud

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers latest winning streak has been halted at 11, but apparently the recent feudin' and fussin' with their easy going manager, Walt Alston, had nothing to do with yesterday's 10-8 loss to the Chicago Cubs.

Tonight at Milwaukee the Dodgers will be out to start a new victory streak with Carl Erskine (5-0) slated to oppose the Braves Lew Burdette (2-2) in the first of a two-game series.

* * *

Jackie Robinson is one of the so-called "rebels", along with Don Newcombe, Roy Campanella and Russ Meyer, who have clashed at times with Alston this season. Nevertheless, Brooklyn is off to its greatest start in its history, with a 22-3, .880 first place rating.

Robinson insists that the club's morale is excellent despite the occasional controversies with Alston. And, he explained the reason for the player-manager squabbles. He said:

"This club is loaded with good ball players. They all want to get in the game and, understandingly, no one likes to ride the bench. That is a healthy thing. This club has spirit and all this growling proves it."

In addition to the victory string which was broken yesterday at Chicago's Wrigley Field, the Dodgers own a skein of 10 triumphs registered at the start of the season.

Robinson, who has been dividing his time between the outfield and third base, said about the Alston-player situation:

* * *

"A lot of stuff about us fighting among ourselves has been overplayed in the newspapers. There is complete harmony on this club. If there isn't how can we go on winning day after day?"

Hefty Campanella added:

"Actually, I never had an argument with Alston. All I said was that I didn't like hitting in eighth place in the lineup. But, that wasn't meant as a crack at the manager. He put me there because he wasn't sure at the beginning that the hand I injured last season was completely well.

"I proved it by hitting the ball good and he moved me up to the cleanup spot, which is where I like to hit."

Campanella collected a single and a triple in five trips to the plate yesterday, drove in two runs and scored once.

Sam Snead's Golf School

I like this picture. Start your downswing in the form pictured here and you'll be doing plenty all right. This player is perfectly balanced on his feet, and he has that straight left arm in there to guide the clubhead down in a wide, full circle. And his right elbow is under the shaft so that he can pull his hands down toward his right pocket permitting the hip and shoulder pivot to supply the necessary outward swing of the clubhead so that clubhead meets ball from an inside-out swing and passes slightly across the direction line. Swing for rhythm and remember your head must not move up or down or sideways until the ball is away and your right shoulder passing under your chin.

Rochester Home Week Set May 30 to June 5

IN FINAL REHEARSAL — Acting out a scene from "Sabrina Fair" are Avon Players David Keena, Mrs. David Keena and Mrs. Ed Kucera of Rochester. The hit play will be presented by the Avon group Friday and Saturday nights in the Rochester High School, with curtain time set at 8:30 p. m. The sensitively written drama, packed with both humor and pathos, is the final production this season of the Avon Players.

Urge Residents to Participate

Lions Club Show to Be Big Feature of 7-Day Festivities

ROCHESTER—Village President Clarence Burr has proclaimed the week of May 30-June 5, as "Rochester Home Week."

"Whereas the Rochester Lions Club has undertaken to organize a 'Rochester Home Show' in order to publicize the many advantages of living in this area, with its excellent location, neighborly citizens and forward-looking businessmen," Burr cited as reasons for issuing the proclamation.

It urges residents to make the week the occasion for beautifying their homes, renewing their appreciation of home and family life, and for observing the period in any other befitting manner.

The Lions Club show is scheduled for June 3, 4 and 5 at Halbach Field. Income from the affair will be used by the Lions for community projects.

The Rochester Village Council accepted the proclamation at its meeting this week, and also took action on several village matters.

Tax Rate Set

Taxes will remain at the same 17-mill rate as in 1954, with 13 mills allotted to the general fund and 4 mills for the highway fund. The Council accepted a report of 1955 assessment roll of $6,001,500, as received from village assessor Grace M. Crissman. This represents an increase of $336,500 over last year's figure.

Proprietors of the North Hill Subdivision appeared before the council and presented a formal financial agreement whereby $203,000 would be deposited in the Manufacturer's National Bank of Detroit, to be used for those utilities that the Village of Rochester is responsible for in the properties of the North Hill Subdivision.

All of the water, sewers, paved streets, sidewalks, storm sewers of the subdivision that are inside of the village limits are included in the figure, and funds can only be released by the village.

At a special meeting last night financial agreements, ownership papers and the final plat of the subdivision were signed.

Tag Days Approved

Permission to hold tag days was granted three groups. The American Legion Auxiliary and Veterans of Foreign Wars will have their Poppy Sale on May 26, 27 and 28. The Band Booster's Club will hold its tag day on May 21.

A petition from 12 property owners on Helen street to construct curb and gutter on Helen from Third to Fifth streets was received, and Manager Robert Slone was authorized to map the foot frontage and plan for a public hearing.

Permission to tap in on the village water main was given to H. P. Kjolhide for Lot 2 of Paint Creek Hills Subdivision.

Sylvan Lake Policeman Named Chief at Chelsea

Sgt. John E. Carman announced yesterday his resignation from the Sylvan Lake Police Dept. to accept the position of police chief in Chelsea.

Carman, a member of the Sylvan Lake department for six years, said in a letter to Chief George W. Purdy that his resignation would become effective June 1 when he will take over duties of chief of the 6-man department.

He was offered the position after passing a civil service examination, competing with 18 other applicants for the job.

Senate Raises 2 State Salaries

Health Chief, Education Commissioner to Get $18,000 a Year

LANSING (AP)—The Senate voted $18,000-a-year salaries for two state officials yesterday and said this probably should be the pattern for other elective officials.

The chamber overrode its Appropriations Committee in voting $18,000 to Dr. Albert E. Heustis, state health commissioner. He now gets $12,500. The committee had recommended $16,500.

It also voted to give Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, a boost from $12,000 to $18,000.

Sen. Edward Hutchinson (R-Fennville) said that the pay raise for Dr. Taylor was being proposed now because his new term will start July 1. The constitution forbids raising elective officials' salaries during a term.

"I think this will indicate a pattern which we should follow next year for the other elective state officials whose terms will not expire until next year," Hutchinson said.

He said the Legislature might as well face the fact that executive salaries are rising and that the state Civil Service Commission has boosted a number of lesser officials over the $13,000 mark.

Sabrina Fair to Run 2 Nights

Hit Play Ready to Open Tomorrow at Rochester

ROCHESTER—The Avon Players checked on props and brushed up on their lines today, as they made final preparations to present the hit play, "Sabrina Fair," tomorrow and Saturday in the Rochester High School Auditorium.

The curtain will go up at 8:30 p.m. both nights on this, the Player's final production of the season.

The sensitively written play has a goodly supply of both humor and pathos. Filmed by Hollywood under the title, "Sabrina," it met with substantial success and received several "Oscar" nominations. It starred Audry Hepburn and Humphrey Bogart.

It tells the story of a chauffeur's daughter and her difficulties with love in a wealthy family. The plain girl goes to Paris to study cooking, and returns a sophisticated, alluring and exciting woman. From there on, things happen.

Directing the production is Richard McGowan with Mary Chapman as assistant.

On stage will be Pat Kucera (Sabrina), Jim Jackson, Marj Whitlock, Jean Lilly, Gerry Germaine, Dorothy Duffield, Duke Baldes, Henry Purd, Alice Spitler, Betty and Dave Keena, Joan Mackey (as narrator), Bob Halbach, Judy Bachor and Don Blome.

Behind the scenes will be Bob and Betty Holbach directing the staging, Ed and Cynthia Wise handling properties and Louise Akers, make-up.

The Avon Players is a nonprofit organization for people who like to act or work around the stage. The group acquired 50 new members this year, bringing the total membership to 260, and plans are under way for a new playhouse.

Publishing, Ad Agencies Sued

Justice Dept. Names Six Groups Defendants in Antitrust Case

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Justice Department today filed an antitrust suit against six major publishing and advertising agency associations. It charges violations in the placing of national advertising in newspapers and magazines.

Atty. Gen. Brownell announced the civil action was filed in the U. S. District Court in New York City.

The suit named as defendants:

The American Assn. of Advertising Ageicies;

The American Newspaper Publishers Assn.;

Publishers Assn. of New York City;

Associated Business Publications, Inc.;

Periodical Publishers Assn. of America; and Agricultural Publishers Assn.

All of these groups have headquarters in New York City except Agricultural Publishers, based at Chicago.

The complaint charges a conspiracy in restraint of interstate commerce, alleging that the various associations had agreed upon uniform practices in connection with the placing of national advertising in printed media.

The suit specifically challenges an alleged agreement that the advertising agency commission for placing ads in such media would be a uniform 15 per cent.

Several leaders in the newspaper publishing field have denied any Sherman Act violation. Plans were made to fight the case in court.

The system which the government opposes is based on the practice of newspapers and other publications of accrediting about 900 advertising agencies that have established their responsibility.

These agencies receive a 15 per cent discount on advertising placed in newspapers and other media on behalf of a client. The agency retains the 15 per cent.

Mets' Charity Work Recognized by Lodge

The Pontiac Eagles, 1230, presented the city's Metropolitan Club Spirit 6 last night with a plaque in honor of the group's work in charity during 1954.

Police Sgt. Walter Baerwolf, past president, said the club sponsors functions throughout the year, with proceeds earmarked for public welfare. The Spirit's work also includes the annual Goodfellows' drive during Christmas.

30th Robbery Too Much

BOSTON (UP) — Two gunmen walked into Bedro's Asadrian's variety store and robbed him of $85. But that one incident wasn't what made Asadrian angry. It was the 30th time in 20 years that he had been a robbery victim.

Three City Youths Hurt in Collision

Warren H. Anders, 17, of 106 Omar St., the driver, and his passengers, Eddie Martin, 16, of 118 Omar, and David Cox, 16, of 229 Mechanic St., were treated for bruises at Pontiac General Hospital.

Anders' car collided with one being driven by Kenneth W. Hardenburgh, 33, of 3009 Eastwood St., who was unhurt. Anders said he failed to see a stop sign at the intersection until it was too late to stop.

Even Godfrey's Mother Eying Sullivan's Show

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Arthur Godfrey's mother, Mrs. Kathryn Godfrey, who's 76, was at El Morocco's "Mambo Night" the other morning, where she sipped a "grasshopper" and talked about her song-writing. When she was introduced, she called out, "Say I'm a producer—I produced a good son."

★ ★ ★ ★

"Arthur's wonderful to me," she said. "For Mother's Day he sent me two dozen beautiful roses. On my birthday he played my song."

WILSON

Godfrey doesn't like her to visit his program, fearing she might be embarrassed. "Maybe Ed Sullivan would let you visit his show," somebody suggested. "OK," she said, "if he'd pay me $6,000 a week!"

Sexes Have Own Ideas When It Comes to Shoes

ROCKLAND, Mass. (UP) — Women buy shoes in the interest of style, while men buy shoes for comfort, a survey by the National Foot Health Council reveals.

A person's feet differ in size, and the survey showed that men buy shoes for the bigger foot, but women buy their footgear for the smaller one.

The council's study said shoes should not be sold by the pair but fitted individually to each foot—even if one foot is a size or two larger than the other.

There were 42,181 franchised new car dealers in the U. S. in 1954, a decline of 3,000 below 1953.

To Publish Letters of R. L. Stevenson

LOS ANGELES (UP) — For the first time a complete, uncensored edition of the letters of Robert Louis Stevenson is being prepared that may bring into full relief the real personality of the British novelist and essayist.

Dr. Bradford A. Booth, literary scholar, is compiling the edition at the Los Angeles campus of the University of California.

"For the first time," Booth said, "we will be able to see Stevenson plain, something we've been denied for half a century."

A standard collection of Stevenson's correspondence was edited more than 50 years ago by his friend, Sir Sidney Colvin. But Colvin, in 19th century tradition, omitted anything considered "ungenteel or unflattering."

Dr. Booth's Stevenson collection will have a total of 1,800 letters, more than three times those published by Colvin and many never before published.

Libraries of Yale, Harvard and Princeton, the National Library of Scotland and the British Museum are assisting.

Graham's Scotch Flock Sees Him Off for London

GRAHAM'S SCOTCH —17 hed . . .

GLASGOW, Scotland (AP) — Billy Graham's supporters flocked to Glasgow station yesterday to speed the handsome American evangelist off to London. The grimy terminal rang with his favorite campaign hymn, "This is my story, this is my song."

Graham, his six-week mission in Scotland over and a gruelling seven-day campaign in London before him, stood with his head bowed and prayed for Scotland.

* * *

Then he moved slowly among his campaign helpers, shaking hands, and thanking them for their work. A group of 100 Scotswomen who had waited since early morning softly sang the 23rd Psalm as the evangelist's train pulled out.

Graham wound up his crusade 11 days ago with a mammoth rally at the Hampden Park football ground that drew over 100,000 people. In all, he spoke to more than 850,000 persons at his revival meetings, and drew 20,000 "decisions for Christ."

* * *

"It has been a magnificent success," he said.

The London campaign opens next Saturday night with a rally at the giant Wembley Stadium, where he often appeared during his 1954 London crusade.

"It is probably the most challenging campaign we have ever had," he said before boarding the train for London.

"So much depends on the weather and other factors, but the open-air meetings will give us a chance to have larger crowds than we could have had indoors."

* * *

Since the Scottish campaign ended, Graham has been staying at Gleneagles as the guest of a Glasgow business man. During his holiday he played 18 holes of golf each day — except Sundays.

Grains Ease in Quiet Trade

CHICAGO (AP) — Most grains eased in rather quiet dealings on the Board of Trade today.

There were a few exceptions to the main trend. Most notable was May wheat, again supported by short covering. Oats also displayed early resistance to the downward movement although they weren't able to push higher.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ lower to ⅝ higher, May $2.19⅜; corn ⅛ to ½ lower, May $1.45⅜; oats unchanged to ⅛ lower, May 73¾; rye ¼ lower to ¼ higher, May $1.01¾; soybeans ¼ to 1½ lower, May $2.51½; and lard 3 to 7 cents a hundred pounds lower, July $12.65.

Chrysler Institutes New Supply Division

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler Corp. has formed a new manufacturing division to be called the supply division.

It embraces four of the company's plants in Indiana—present manufacturing plants in Indianapolis, New Castle and Kokomo, formerly operated by Dodge Division, and a new automatic transmission plant now being constructed at Kokomo.

R. S. Bright will be general manager of the new division.

Burroughs to Acquire Todd Firm of New York

DETROIT (AP)—Burroughs Corp. of Detroit will acquire the Todd Co., Inc., of Rochester, N. Y., under plans announced jointly today by heads of the two firms.

Stock Prices Slip Sharply

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock prices slipped sharply today in a quiet stock market in early dealings.

It was the second straight day of quiet but pronounced decline in prices. There were, however, some excellent efforts at recovery among individual issues.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off $1.20 yesterday at $162.70.

Today losses went to between 1 and 3 points while gains were small except for some scattered wide movers.

Steels and motors were definitely lower along with aircrafts, utilities, oils, and railroads. In the mixed class were airlines, mail order shares, distillers, and radio-televisions.

State Public Utilities to Pay More Taxes

LANSING (AP) — Michigan public utilities assessed by the State Board of Assessors will pay 10.6 per cent more taxes this year.

The board reported today it had assessed these companies at a record $563,887,700 and set the average tax rate at $29.69.

The combination of the two, which determines how much the utilities shall pay into the primary school fund in lieu of property taxes, will take $16,742,572 from the companies.

The assessment is up 5 per cent and the tax rate of $29.69 compares with $28.20 last year.

State Public Utilities to Pay More Taxes

LANSING (AP) — Michigan public utilities assessed by the State Board of Assessors will pay 10.6 per cent more taxes this year.

The board reported today it had assessed these companies at a record $563,887,700 and set the average tax rate at $29.69.

The combination of the two, which determines how much the utilities shall pay into the primary school fund in lieu of property taxes, will take $16,742,572 from the companies.

The assessment is up 5 per cent and the tax rate of $29.69 compares with $28.20 last year.

Card of Thanks 1

I WISH TO THANK THE FRIENDS neighbors and relatives for their many acts of kindness and floral offerings during my recent bereavement in the loss of my beloved husband, William H. Midkiff. Special thanks to Rev. Harvey J. McCann and the Voorhees-Siple Funeral Home. Mrs. William H. Midkiff.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. Gertrude Vennix who passed away 16 years ago today May 12, 1939.
In our hearts your memory lingers,
There's not a day, Dear Mother,
We do not think of you.
Sadly missed by her Husband and Children.

'See It Now' Being Dropped by Alcoa July 5

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Aluminum Co. of America annouced today it will not renew a contract with Columbia Broadcasting System to sponsor Edward R. Murrow's "See It Now" television program.

The final program sponsored by Alcoa will be July 5, the company said.

Alcoa said a new advertising and sales promotion program prompted the decision. The company has no definite television plans, it said.

Radio Networks Feel TV Competition

By WAYNE OLIVER

NEW YORK (AP)—The radio networks, much harder hit than individual radio stations by television's inroads, plan strong measures to try to halt the decline in their fortunes and audiences.

NBC radio, starting June 12, will toss out its entire weekend schedule to inaugurate what it calls a new concept in radio programing. Entitled Monitor, it will be a continuous integrated schedule of news, music, discussion and entertainment from 8 a.m. Saturday to midnight Sunday.

• • •

CBS radio is breaking with tradition to keep most of its major shows on the air right through the summer, traditionally the time for lightweight replacements. Bing Crosby, Amos 'n' Andy, Rudy Vallee, Art Linkletter and others will continue this summer.

ABC radio is putting heavy emphasis on frequent newscasts over weekends and revising its sales pitch to sponsors.

• • •

Mutual, only one of the nationwide radio chains that never got into TV network operations, has notified affiliated stations of an announcement May 22 of an entirely new approach to radio network service.

• • •

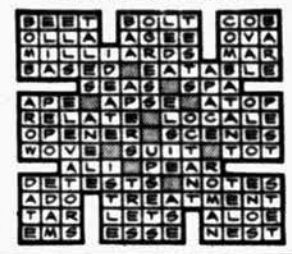

Total broadcast time sales for radio in 1954, including both stations and networks, were estimated by Broadcasting-Telecasting Magazine at 453 million dollars, down only 5 per cent from the record high of 477 million dollars in 1953. But national radio networks accounted for only 76 million dollars of the total compared with nearly 93 million in 1953 and nearly 134 million in 1948.

The answer is that individual radio stations are relying less on network programs and sponsors and more on local programs and sponsors. The networks hope to reverse the trend.

Sleep in Deep Freeze

SEATTLE (AP)—Mountain climbers Dick McGowan and Fred Beckey slept for seven hours in a cold storage locker at 26 below zero with fans whipping up a 30 m.p.h. They were testing sleeping bags they plan to use next fall in climbing a Himalayan peak. "It would have been just like home," said McGowan, "except for the smell of fish."
