102 Passengers Escape Death as Jet Crashes

4 Crew Members Die on Flaming Mexican Airliner in New York

NEW YORK (AP) — A jet airliner crashed Tuesday night seconds after taking off in a wind-whipped snowstorm. The huge ship's speed sent it slamming across a highway, clipping an auto and skidding in flames into a marsh.

Of the 106 persons reported aboard, 102 escaped death, although at least 26 were injured, several critically.

The dead tentatively were identified as four of the eight crew members — three men and the woman purser. Sixty-one of the 98 passengers aboard the four-engine airliner are residents of the United States.

The airliner, a DC-8B of Aeromexico, was bound north for Mexico City.

One survivor, G. Terry Schriber of Farmington, Conn., said the plane got about 50 feet in the air, then skidded down. Other survivors weren't certain if the plane ever got off the ground.

Airport observers said the $2-million craft had to get aloft to clear a concrete fence at 8:15 p.m. It was bound north for Mexico City.

The Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Aviation Agency began on-site investigation today to learn the cause of the crash.

The one person aboard who might have the answer is William B. Poe, 52, of Miami, Fla., check pilot aboard the plane. But Poe's condition today at St. Joseph's Hospital in Queens was described as "still critical."

Stability at the time of the crash was a quarter of a mile, and the ceiling about 300 feet.

IDENTITY BODIES

GIVING UP HIS JOB — Retiring President Eisenhower left the White House today to ride with the incoming President to the Capitol for the inauguration ceremony. Evidently, he was carrying on a conversation with John F. Kennedy but perhaps they were sharing a joke.

Coffee Break Change From Ike-HST in 1953

WASHINGTON (AP) — When John F. Kennedy dropped by the White House today to have coffee with President Eisenhower, it marked a decided change from the switchover eight years ago.

There was a marked chill in the relations between Eisenhower and Harry Truman.

Motor Wire Smokes, Causes Excitement
WASHINGTON (AP) — A short circuit in an electric motor sent wisps of smoke soaring from the platform on which President Kennedy took his oath at office today.

The incident caused a small flurry of excitement but interrupted the ceremonies only briefly. For a time, the source of the smoke remained a mystery.

Then it was traced to the electric motor that operates an elevating mechanism in the lectern, which holds the speaker's text.

A Capitol electrician said that the motor probably had become wet, possibly because of snow which had been swept off the platform.

to Defend Liberty

WASHINGTON (AP) — A deadly serious John F. Kennedy became President today in deadly times with an eloquent plea for the Communists to join him in a quest for peace test all humanity be destroyed.

John Fitzgerald Kennedy, at 43 the youngest elected president in our history, took the oath from Chief Justice Earl Warren at 12:31 p.m. EST.

The simple, impressive ceremony took a moment, and Kennedy immediately plunged into the world problems that unquestionably will occupy most of his thoughts during the next four years.

Kennedy began his inaugural address with a vow that this nation would remain strong.

"Let every nation know," Kennedy said, "whether it wish us well or ill, that we shall pay any price."

bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and success of liberty."

OFFER REQUEST
He never mentioned the Communists by name when he said:

"To those nations who would make themselves our adversary, we offer not a pledge but a request: that both sides begin anew the quest for peace, before the dark powers of destruction unleashed by science engulf all humanity in planned or accidental self-destruction."

Nearly all the notables in the nation were here—governors, senators, representatives, Supreme Court justices.

A few, including former President Herbert Hoover, were kept away by Thursday night's snow storm.

But ex-President Harry S. Truman was on the inaugural stand, heading to see a Democratic take over the White House again after eight years of Republican rule.

And Dwight D. Eisenhower, who at 70 is the eldest president we ever had, listened quietly as his youthful successor confidently said:

"Let the word go forth from this time and place, to friend and foe alike, that the torch has been passed to a new generation of Americans."

THE SMILING KENNEDYS — At noon today, John F. Kennedy and his wife Jacqueline became the nation's First Family. As president-elect, Kennedy poses with his wife at Thursday night's inaugural gala, a celebration featuring stars of screen, radio and television.

Frank Sinatra was the promoter for the money-raising event. The Kennedys arrived late because of the storm but many guests failed to get there at all. Sinatra still hoped it would be a financial success for the Democratic party.

3,000 Work to Clear Off Ice

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spectacular blizzards, howling winds, the biting cold, to watch the inaugural parade for President John F. Kennedy.

Twenty-degree cold and an eight-inch snow failed to dampen spirits as the early comers of an expected large throng, in the heaviest clothes at hand, gathered along the historic route and at the Capitol, some of the snowing in ceremony.

The sun beamed cheerily this morning.

The title and a half parade route from the Capitol to the White House had been cleared, right down to the pavement, by a huge force of men and a huge array of equipment borrowed from the Army.

Crews had even brushed the blowing snow off many of the bleacher seats.

Democrats, celebrating their return to executive power in Washington, jubilantly decided against curtailing plans for the colorful parade of men and machines, bands and beatniks, and even Navy PT boats.

Three thousand workmen worked all night to clear the route.

At least 500 snowplows, dump-trucks and other removal equipment were mustered. Hundreds of street cars had to be moved out of the way.

Maine's state flag was right in the way of the parade, with dogs running over a fake snow scene.

The parade was planned to be the first spectacle ever staged for a presidential inauguration.

The parade roster included 22,000 people, nearly twice as many as four years ago. Half the participants were military. There were over 40 bands and a seemingly endless procession of floats.

Inaugural Storm Hits East Coast

United Press International
A howling midwinter snowstorm swirled down on a vast area of the east and metropolitan New York today, forcing millions to stay home.

Whether the wind-driven storm was a blizzard or a near-blizzard was a matter of interpretation.

New York City weathermen called it a near-blizzard but in Boston the icy misery was dubbed "the inaugural blizzard of 1961."

Snow, whipped by whirling winds, piled into four-foot drifts on Manhattan sidewalks, blocked city streets, and shut down subway service on two lines.

Auto traffic was nearly at a standstill as the nation's largest city reeled from its second major storm in less than six weeks.

As the storm swept along the Atlantic seaboard it dumped 10 inches of snow at Harrisburg, Pa.; 10 at Poughkeepsie, N.Y.; nine inches at Nantucket, Mass.; and six inches at Boston.

At least 10 deaths were attributed to the storm.

Down south a fast-moving cold front swept the length of Florida, bringing icy northern winds to coastal beaches and threatening citrus and farming areas with the coldest weather of the winter.

Hospital Plans Several Projects

Pontiac General Will Spend $180,000 on Services, Expansion

Pontiac General Hospital trustees last night laid the ground work for more than $180,000 worth of expansion, new services and equipment during the next few months.

Major plans include construction of a $42,500 storage building, purchase of an interim housing unit for development of a $10,700, Sister Kenny occupational therapy clinic and expenditure of $41,400 for replacement of basic equipment.

In addition, the board plans to spend another $30,900 soon for a new elevator, and $30,000 in private funds for development of a mental health unit.

In another important action, the board confirmed the election of Dr. Kenneth Vandenberg, 1844 Lakewood Road, Drayton Plains, as chief of staff, and Dr. Everett Gustafson, 3780 Lakewood Road, as vice chief of staff.

Vandenberg is a former chief of surgery and secretary-treasurer of the medical staff.

The City Commission will be asked to approve financing arrangements for the storage building and intern unit.

Trustees voted to take the money out of 1960 depreciation funds and charge the expense off, with city permission, against the debt to the city for completion of the east wing remodeling program.

Harold B. Euler, hospital administrator, said plans for a three-story, brick storage building with 5,300 square feet of space (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Plan $5-Million Area Hospital

Crittenton Will Erect Facility of 200 Beds
Near Rochester

The board of trustees of Detroit's Crittenton General Hospital today announced plans for construction of a $5-million, 200-bed hospital just south of the Rochester village limits.

The announcement came as the culmination of over three years of effort by a group of Rochester-area business and professional people who have been working towards a community hospital to locate in the area.

Crittendon General Hospital is a 194-bed facility which includes Florence Crittenton Maternity Home, the largest of its kind in the country.

Crittendon General's administrator, D. K. Kirby, said the institution's board of trustees plan to continue to operate its present hospital after the new branch is built "within a few years."

"The site of the branch hospital is expected to be along Rochester Road, somewhat south of the village limits," stated Kirby. He added that Crittenton will not build on the property it purchased in the fall of 1959 at Doris and Opdyke Roads in Pontiac Township.

The proposed location of the new facility came after a series of meetings between officials of the Detroit hospital and representatives of Bertha Van Hooten Hospital Inc., the Rochester group which has been seeking a medical center.

Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr. is chairman of a smaller hospital. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Mercury Set for Tumble to Zero Tonight

The Weather Bureau says temperatures will tumble to a low of 5 above in near zero tonight in the Pontiac area.

Continued cold through Wednesday with no important day to day changes is the forecast for the next five days. Precipitation for the period will total about one-tenth of an inch in form of snow flurries.

Temperatures will average a 10 to 15 degrees below the normal high of 29 to 34 and normal low of 11 to 15.

Michigan escaped the heavy snow storms of the East but sub-zero temperatures and some snowfall hit the Upper Peninsula and upper Lower Michigan last night.

It was 17 below at Alpena in Lake Huron and the mercury sank to 6 below at Sault Ste. Marie in the Upper Peninsula. Up to eight inches of snow fell in parts of the state.

The mercury registered 9 above at 4:30 this morning in downtown Pontiac. At 2 p.m. the recording was 30.

Resume Talks in Rail Tie-Up

Commuter Snarl Grows as Rockefeller Tries to Settle Strike

NEW YORK (AP)—Union and management negotiators renewed efforts today with Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller to end a strike of harbor crewmen against 11 railroad unions which has shut down the New York City area.

Emergency negotiations reported by the governor recessed at 2 p.m. today with no progress toward settlement reported. They resumed at the governor's office shortly before 10.

Harrassed commuters on the paralyzed New York Central and New Haven railroads were challenged today by a snowstorm which will close highways leading to subway terminals at the northern boundary of the city.

The governor said the tie-up was "getting close to catastrophic proportions." He stepped into the picture Thursday, announcing round-the-clock efforts toward settlement would be made.

The 11-day-old strike has stranded 100,000 commuters, most of whom have been using other means of transportation between the city and their homes in the New York-New Jersey-Connecticut metropolitan area.

The strike has shut down most of the operations of the New York Central and New Haven railroads. Long-distance service has been canceled in addition to service for 10,000 commuters on the Central and 20,000 on the New Haven.

Also hit are 30,000 New Jersey Manhattan commuters who play railroad ferries.

Heavy revenue buses are being suffered in the area.

Sibery and Crittenton's trustees decided that locating further east than first planned would better serve the area.

The final decision was based on the study made by the planning consultant firm of Gee Associates of Birmingham, Sibery and Crittenton.

Sibery estimated that it would cost $5 million to build the hospital.

In Royal Oak Township

No Warrant on Fire Chief

The prosecutor's office has received no request for a criminal warrant against Royal Oak Township Fire Chief Sam D. Mitchell, who allegedly used county road materials to pave his private driveway, an assistant prosecutor said today.

At the same time, The Press learned from another source that such practices may be more widespread than was revealed today.

It resulted in the Oakland County Road Commission "righting" its control over the use of such materials, according to LeRoy W. McEntee, commission attorney.

McEntee said that he has learned that Mitchell had two township firemen use a fire department truck in August 1959 to deliver three loads of asphalt from a county supply dump behind the township police station.

It was taken from a supply dump to fill back holes in township streets.

Assistant Prosecutor James E. Roberts, who was tied up prosecuting a murder case in Circuit Court, said later no one to date has come to his office seeking a warrant against Mitchell.

He added: "From what we see now an order (for a warrant) would issue."

He declined to specify what the charge might be.

Students Tuned to Inauguration

3,000 Pupils in Pontiac to Witness Ceremony Through TV or Radio

Many of Pontiac's school teachers came to school this morning with portable radios and television sets to watch the inauguration ceremony.

Through the efforts and planning of teachers, administrators, parents and even television retailers, more than 3,000 students in Pontiac's secondary schools will see or hear today's inauguration ceremony in Washington, D.C.

Parents and local television channels started planning a few weeks ago. It's really been a community project, said Melvin Stenbier, assistant principal.

This morning thanks to their efforts, we had 26 television sets in the school.

There should be a television set in every classroom in the school.

At Pontiac Central High School a 25-inch television screen in the auditorium. Second students are chosen will be held there for an estimated 500 students viewing the ceremony.

Some portable radios will be turned on in classrooms.

Pontiac-Northern will pipe the broadcast over its public address system to selected social studies classes.

There was no immediate explanation, but Kennedy, who had arrived at the Capitol early, did not come on to the inaugural stand until 12:12 p.m., or 12 minutes late.

Even then the program wasn't ready to begin, and there was considerable milling about on the platform.

Blushworth and Kennedy didn't seem to mind. They chatted amiably and at times energetically.

Neither smiled much. Mostly, Kennedy listened soberly, squinting into the sunlight made exceptionally bright by the snow.

The program finally got under way—20 minutes late.

There were the prayers from leaders of four faiths, Roman Catholic, Protestant, Jewish and Greek Orthodox.

There was the stirring martial music, the singing, and an unusual event at inaugurations, a poem read by the poet himself, the venerable Robert Frost.

This morning, thanks to their efforts, we had 26 television sets in the school.

At last, the big moment. Kennedy slipped out of a topcoat pocket a small, silver, 22-degree weather and stepped forward.

Facing Chief Justice Warren and speaking in a loud, clear voice, he repeated the simple words, and took on the awesome job of leadership in this dangerous world.

When the President finished the oath, he turned to pay President Eisenhower and smiled broadly. Eisenhower smiled back and shook hands.

Kennedy delivered his speech with the finger-pointing, hand-chopping gestures which became so familiar during the political campaign.

Even as he painted the grim picture of the world today, he was soberly confident.

"I do not shrink from this responsibility—I welcome it," he said.

Kennedy, who often deviated from prepared remarks during the campaign, followed his text closely.

The Day in Birmingham

School Board Sets 1.5 Minimum for Graduation

BIRMINGHAM — A new policy to encourage better work from high school students has been adopted by the Birmingham Board of Education.

Effective in June, seniors who have not attained an overall scholastic average of at least 1.5 will receive only a certificate of attendance and not a diploma.

The attendance certificate will mean that a student merely has gone through four years of high school.

According to Mrs. Peter Loomis, school board president, the certificate means the student has completed school but is not a graduate.

A student who receives such a certificate will not be allowed to participate in the cap and gown ceremony, Mrs. Loomis explained.

Those students failing to meet the requirement will have the opportunity to return school to achieve the required scholastic average, she said.

The average is arrived at on a quality point system in which an A is worth four points, B three points, C two points, D one point and E no points.

The overall average is obtained by adding the total number of points for all credit courses taken and dividing by the total number of semester courses taken.

The board of education has been considering adopting the policy since 1958.

Several land sites in the Birmingham area are under consideration for purchase by the recently organized Pilgrim Congregational Church, it was announced today.

James E. Flack, provisional chairman of the church group, said that early indications show that the temporary meeting place at Shogreve, Ala., will soon be inadequate for the size of the congregation and Sunday school.

The new church was founded by members of the Congregational Church of Birmingham who are opposed to the merger with the United Church of Christ.

A constitution and bylaws committee, headed by Richard C. Arnold, is currently drafting the church's organizational document.

A covenant committee to propose the church's reason for being and its membership obligations is headed by Mrs. Huguette E. Aughey of Royal Oak.

Millard J. Estes, Service for Millard J. Estes, 501 of 1083 Bird St., will be 1 p.m. Monday at the William Sullivan and Son Funeral Home, Royal Oak.

Mrs. Estes died yesterday in St. Joseph's Hospital, Pontiac, following a heart attack.

He was a life member of the Oakland County Sportsmen Club. Surviving are his wife Pearl, three sisters and a brother.

The couple's oldest child, Ernest, 12, ran to his neighbor's house for help after his father, clad only in an undershirt and trousers, fled.

Police said the stabbing occurred during an argument over a woman's driving.

Ernest, who was treated at St. Lawrence for a deep gash on the right hand, told police he was cut when he grabbed the knife blade in an effort to save his mother.

SPRUNG UP SAGINAW STREET — While some other vacant stores on downtown Saginaw Street remain empty, this one found a tenant almost as soon as its exterior was attractively remodeled by the Wolverine Porcelain Enameling Co. of Detroit, under the supervision of Heenan & Pullar, Inc., Pontiac architects. Opening at 6 N. Saginaw St. this week was Ingrid's Bridal Salon, previously at 1 N. Perry St. Dr. J. D. Lynn, owner of the building, said he decided to remodel after face-lifting was recommended to all downtown property owners last year. A Pontiac optometrist, Dr. Lynn said the investment was small compared with the results.

Pontiac Fifth Among New Car Registrations for '60

For the first 11 months of 1960, Pontiac placed fifth in new-car registrations, according to figures released this week by Automotive News, the industry's weekly trade publication.

Pontiac registrations through November totaled 363,441, an increase over the 362,538 for the corresponding period of 1959.

Although more registrations were recorded through November in 1960, Pontiac occupied a higher slot in the registration figures in 1959—third place.

Pontiac, however, led all makes in the medium-priced field, as those with more registrations are lower-priced cars—Chevrolet, Ford, Plymouth, and Rambler.

Rounding out the top 10 behind Pontiac in car registrations through November are Dodge, 334,777; Oldsmobile, 271,352; Buick, 290,311; Comet, 141,978; and Mercury, 127,269.

In November alone, Pontiac again held down fifth place in new-car registrations, with 31,904 Oldsmobile, with 31,361, was in third place for the month.

In analyzing the registration figures, the trade publication noted that Pontiac's penetration of the market in November was 3.87 per cent, down from 3.93 of the previous month.

"Had Pontiac's Tempest done as well as Oldsmobile's F85, Pontiac would have been replaced as No. 3 seller for the month," the publication stated. However, the Tempest was not announced until Nov. 5.

Tempest registrations for November came to 3,278. Registrations of other compacts were: Falcon, 37,141; Rambler, 31,341; Corvair, 21,965; Comet, 17,909; Valiant, 13,891; Lark, 7,237; F85, 6,790; Special, 6,445; and Lancer, 5,782.

On a year-to-year basis, with the first 11 months counted, Pontiac's 1960 penetration of the market (6.02 per cent) was down from the 6.45 per cent of 1959.

Communist Party Backs K's Reforms

MOSCOW (AP) — The Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party today approved Premier Khrushchev's call for a major reorganization of the management of the nation's vast farming program, with increased emphasis on scientific methods.

As a start, the committee called for a new plan for irrigating millions of acres of farmland in hopes of offsetting setbacks from bad weather and bad management.

The committee declared in a resolution that "big shortcomings and mistakes in leadership of agriculture were made" with the result that production fell in some instances below the minimum schedules set in the seven-year plan with which the Soviet Union hopes to overtake U.S. per capita production.

Give AT&T Green Light for Satellite Contacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government told the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Thursday to go ahead with its plan to communicate with space satellites with voice and television signals—but on an experimental basis only.

The earth-space communications research project proposed by AT&T was approved by the Federal Communications Commission only Jan. 1, 1962.

The commission denied a request for assignment of a particular band of frequencies for space communication on grounds that this would be premature.

Old Man Winter Kind to Road Commission

So far Old Man Winter has been pretty kind to the Oakland County Road Commission.

But fingers are crossed out at the commission offices, 2420 Pontiac Lake Road.

"We haven't hit our worst month yet," said Hiland M. Thatcher, commission chairman. He had in mind February, when history shows that the heavens usually open up wide and dump plenty of snow on the streets below.

Thatcher said a check of the records show that up to Jan. 1, 1960, there had been 17,000 tons of salt and sand spread to keep county roads, including state highways, passable.

"Up to the same time this year we have used but 6,700 tons," he said.

The stockpiles are in good shape for whatever may come.

Should the winter close out as it is starting, Thatcher said this "makes it possible" that some of the state gas and weight tax funds normally used for snow removal could be applied to improvement of primary or local roads.

But February and March are yet to come, Thatcher reminds us.

Snow Sends Hoover Back to Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A day of fishing in the Florida keys was planned today by former President Herbert Hoover, 86, while a man half his age took the oath of office in Washington as this country's new president.

Hoover sent John F. Kennedy a radio message last night that "I made a hard try to attend your inauguration."

The elderly statesman left Miami at 12:30 p.m., in an Air Force DC-8, flew to Washington, circled the storm-clouded airfield there for an hour, and landed back in Miami at 9:40 p.m.

Failure to attend the inauguration disappointed Hoover. He told newsmen, "I think this is the first I've missed, I don't remember exactly."

Hoover said he would resume his annual wintertime Florida vacation and planned to be here another month.

HOLLAND (AP) — William F. (Brig) Young, 59, a veteran newspaper and radio newsman, died today at Holland Hospital. He had undergone surgery last October and was readmitted last Sunday.

Survivors, Tell How They Fleed

NEW YORK (UPI) — A policeman squinted through the driving snow at the wreckage of the giant DC8 Mexican airliner, and wondered aloud, "How did they get out?"

Here, in the flocks of some who escaped, is his answer.
Anthony Marone of Mount Holly, N.J.: "We got about half the distance down the runway (on take-off), and I told my wife I didn't think we were going to get off. There was something I didn't like. The pilot cut his engines. I told my wife, 'brace yourself'..."

Nicholas Berach, president of the Pan American development Corp., of Washington, D.C.: "The plane seemed to get up five or six feet off the ground and came down again. It crashed through a fence and the whole front of the plane just disappeared."

Mrs. Joyce Groper, 28, of Chestnut Hill, Mass.: "It burst into flames the instant it touched. We were in first class, in the front of the plane, about 20 of us. I was sitting beside the emergency door and started to open it but the flames were terrific, and then someone called 'Come up front! Come up front!'"

"Benoit Garneau, 35 of Hastings on Hudson, N.Y.: 'A lot of cars passed us up (on Rockaway boulevard, near the marshland where the plane crashed). They wouldn't stop. A good Samaritan found me.'"

Ill-Fated Jet Ordered Originally by Eastern

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Mexican jetliner which crashed in New York was originally scheduled to be delivered to Eastern Air Lines. "We ordered 16 of them but agreed to give one up as a good will gesture," commented an EAL spokesman in Miami.

BATTLE JET'S FLAMES — Firemen work in a driving snowstorm to fight the flames of the burning Mexican airliner which crashed, exploded and burned in a marshy area 3 miles northeast of Idlewild Airport's main terminal building. The plane faltered on the take-off and crashed outside the main fence of the airport killing four of the reported 106 persons aboard.

Dash From Wreck Cost Man $40,000

NEW YORK (UPI) — Luciano and I had to jump out... I money order, I cashed the money Pereira escaped with his life when the Mexican DC8 airliner crashed here last night, but he said it cost him $40,000.

He left the money behind in the flaming wreckage.

"When the plane crashed I tried to open one of the doors in the rear, but was jammed." The stewardess opened the door and the people rushed towards me

Bolivian Official Aboard

NEW YORK (UPI) — Former Bolivian industrialist and diplomat Carlos Aramayo and his wife were aboard the Mexican DC8 jetliner which crashed and burned.

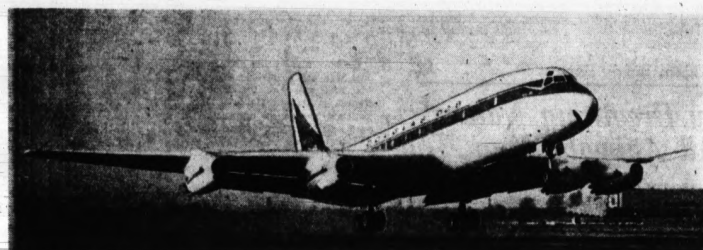

Victims Mirror Disaster

NEW YORK (UPI) — One by one, shoeless, coatless and in some cases on the verge of hysteria, men and women straggled into the Eastern Air Lines terminal from the crashed jetliner Thursday night.

"But then as shoeless men, coatless women, all pale, trembling and some in torn garments, straggled in assisting each other, we realized what had happened."

The survivors were for the most part unscathed.

Within a half-hour, Adanti said, all seemed to have recovered their composure — that is, all except one lady who "bore up magnificently" until, when walking to the bus, a photographer flashed her picture, and she fainted.

TYPE OF PLANE IN CRASH — This is a four-engine DC8 jetliner of the type that crashed in a snowstorm Thursday night about 3 miles from New York's Idlewild Airport. Police said the plane, a Mexican airliner operated by Aeronaes de Mexico, crashed into a heavily populated area shortly after take-off.

Why Does U.N. Permit Russia to Forgo Dues?

Studying the budget of the United Nations it is quite clear that it really is infinitesimal when compared to the national budgets of either Russia or the United States.

Even with all the added expenses caused by the Congo trouble the total sum is really modest. One fact stands out quite clear and that is that Russia has refused to pay her share.

How can you be a member of an organization and not pay your just dues? Particularly when you are as outspoken a member as Russia. Apparently this does not bother K or his gang.

Russia mentions, and at times even acts worried about the U.N.'s coming bankrupt. She could help this situation by paying not only what she owes with respect to the Congo operations, but also the modest sum she has been assessed for the business of many of the U.N.'s permanent agencies.

For the record, it is interesting to note that the United States, on a formula based partly on national wealth and ability to pay, contributes almost one third of U.N. costs. On the other hand, Russia is supposed to, but doesn't contribute slightly more than one-eighth.

How long must we continue to do business with someone not paying their just share?

Kratt Well-Deserving of 'Young Man' Award

The honor of "Outstanding Young Man of the Year" awarded to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy DONALD KRATT is well-deserved.

Under the guidance of Sheriff Frank Irons, Sgt. Kratt has done an outstanding job of organizing and supervising the Water Safety Patrol. This volunteer group has saved several boaters' lives, and brought some degree of sanity back to boat operations on many of the county's crowded lakes.

The organization has been well-received by the lake area residents and most of the transient boaters who haul their craft to the lakes. Its fame has spread to many other areas who have boating problems.

As safety director, Kratt has many other duties. Currently, he is spending much of his time working with youngsters, warning them of the dangers of befriending strangers.

Through his efforts, a great deal of valuable equipment has been donated to the sheriff's department, for mobile disaster units and emergency work.

Oakland County is proud of this young man who has given so much of himself in helping to make his community a better place to live.

New Secretary of State Approves of Neutralism

In appearing before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, DEAN RUSK, designated secretary of state in the Kennedy Administration, had wise words to say on neutralism:

"We need not be concerned regarding genuine neutralism. If new nations are strong, viable, progressive, their foreign policy as neutrals is not as important as their health. We should not insist that anyone who is not with us is against us.

"Neutralism to me is not a serious difficulty because we can live with a world community under law, co-operating on many problems without exacting pledges."

Most neutral nations are committed not to either side in the cold war but to their own freedom and well being. Real democracy should allow for differences of opinion. By raising living standards and building up democratic institutions in their own lands, they are serving the cause of peace and freedom.

We have come a long way in our understanding of neutral countries since a former secretary of state regarded them as enemies and neutralism as immoral.

The Man About Town

Coming Our Way A Survey Shows Facts; They Somewhat Twist 'Em

Population: What Detroit hasn't got to keep.

Endeavoring to find an excuse or alibi for Detroit's population loss of nearly 200,000, (largest in the nation), during the past ten years, a University of Michigan survey discovers what everybody else already knew—they're moving out.

However, the survey plays careful in making any prediction as to whether or not this trend is continuing—when everybody else also knows that it is going strong as ever.

Its findings on the big city's nearby suburbs also are a little amusing, because some of them declined, and very few others showed anything but a microscopic gain.

The unvarnished truth is that Detroit people have been moving out our way, into Oakland and Macomb counties, both of which showed a marvelous growth, mostly former Detroiters.

To be admitted is the survey's frank admission that the Detroit inner city, being all of the area within six miles of downtown, lost 270,000 in the past ten years, more than the entire population of one of our states, Alaska.

So, welcome Detroiters, I'll wager that none of you are sorry you made the change—hundreds of you have told "me" you were glad. Keep coming out there life is worth living.

An Oath — and a Prayer

David Lawrence Says:

Transition Period Hurts the U.S.

WASHINGTON — The flavor is Hollywood. Noted theatrical stars perform, as the money for tickets helps pay political expenses, but there is surprisingly little interest in just how they were incurred.

Despite the weather, the watching crowds and the parade along historic thoroughfares are festive, as in a Roman holiday. The inaugural ceremony itself is reminiscent of the coronation of a king.

Two minutes before noon one man is clothed with the power to defend the nation against surprise attack. Two minutes later a new president assumes that fateful responsibility.

What a moment on an inauguration day for an unscrupulous enemy to choose! Assembled in an area of a few hundred square feet on the Capitol Plaza is the entire government — the President and his cabinet, other key men in the executive departments and agencies, the justices of the Supreme Court of the United States, and the members of Congress — along with the military chiefs and advisers, the diplomatic corps, the governors of several states and their staffs, heads of corporations and labor unions, and a sizeable number of the nation's leaders in all fields.

Continuity in government is purely theoretical. Transition is being described as "smooth," but this is mostly because it is accomplished without personal rancor or ill feeling and in a spirit of cooperation and helpfulness.

"Continuity," however, is an ironic word. The transition in government really means confusion as there is a changeover of 90 top executives and sub-executives. Also among at-one time even 25 such personnel from a corporation as big as General Motors, and the wheels inside inevitably stop though outwardly everything looks the same. And the national government's budget is many times that of any single American company.

MENT LEARN JOBS Most of the officials in the new administration here will not be familiar with the background of their jobs for months to come.

Apart from the desires of the politically victorious to celebrate—and they are happy and gay today in their triumph—the fact remains that the way the United States changes presidents is not suitable for a nuclear age.

The alibi is offered that below the 90 top executives is an army of civil servants who stay on from administration to administration. But if the career employees can carry on the affairs of the government so well, one

Dr. William Brady Says:

Belly Breathing Natural to All Animals; Man, Too

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY Animals and humans naturally or instinctively breathe with the diaphragm. This is the easiest and most efficient way to breathe.

Poorly trained or poorly educated persons try to breathe with the chest muscles when they are unconscious when they think of their breathing. When they're asleep or unconscious, they breathe with the diaphragm.

Formerly, West Point plebs had to "pull in their stomach" in the presence of upper class cadets. I don't know whether this absurdity is still practiced at the military academy, but the diaphragm is and how it works.

Watch an animal breathe after a sustained effort such as running a race or fighting—the breathing is bellows or belly breathing, while the thorax, chest or lung cage is rigid or relaxed but certainly not thrust out or "expanded."

Deep breathing is diaphragmatic, bellows or belly breathing. In order to know how to breathe that's the title of Voltaire's "XXI" of his "Poker Cyclopaedia of Health." How to breathe? 35 minutes and stamped, self-addressed envelope, it is necessary, first, to understand clearly what the belly is and second, what the diaphragm is and how it works.

The belly is the front wall of the abdominal cavity on the doughnut—abdomen, not abdo-men. The abdomen is the lower and larger body cavity containing the liver, stomach, spleen, gall bladder, pancreas, small intestine, large intestine and a network of blood vessels which many hold as most of one-fourth the entire volume of blood in the body under some circumstances.

The abdomen does not contain the kidneys, urinary bladder, ureters, or reproductive organs of man or woman. These structures are in the pelvis, a space below and more or less separate from the abdomen.

Each morning when I go to town . . . To fetch the early mail . . . My dog is waiting at the door . . . With widely wagging tail . . . No human ever has displayed such boundless energy . . . As does this dog at break of dawn . . . In playing up to me . . . And if I do not take him to . . . My destination point . . . It is a certainty his nose . . . Will lead me out of joint . . . The reason is not simply for . . . A ride within my car . . . Because the central postal place . . . Is not so very far . . . He knows that in my pocket where . . . The early mail I fold . . . There are some special places that . . . His doggy yummies hold.

Margaret fears divorce, for her husband had grown plump and interested in other women with more slender figures. Wives, if your waist exceeds your bust, you are in grave danger of losing your mate. Send for the dieting card below. For Margaret soon changed her husband's plumpness into the slenderness of a reed.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE CASE G-483: Margaret B., aged 36, is attractive but matronly plump.

"Dr. Crane," she began unhappily, "I think our marriage is heading for disaster. For my husband treats me more like a sister than a wife. And I notice he perks up when we are at a party, especially if there are young, slender women around."

"Perhaps I am at fault, for I now weigh 157 lbs., though I was only 115 on our wedding day. But we have 3 children and I can't bear to throw away the good food they leave on their plate. How can I diet?"

WANT VS. WANT: Remember, in trying to keep food from going to waste, you good mothers simply divert it to your own waist.

Better keep a dog or cat, and then save your frugal consciences by feeding such scraps to this pet.

Margaret is correct in surmising that men often grow doubtful but lacking in romantic ardor when

'Area Folks Can't Afford Another Tax Increase'

Referring to the study of pay raises, it is time the city commissioners begin to think from this increase of taxes is to come. All they have to do is go down Saginaw Street and see how many store buildings are vacant, and how many more will be vacated if increased wages, etc., are continued.

Let's stop inflation first by starting with our city government by holding the line and maybe it will continue to our state government. Raising prices on different commodities to give wage increases is not the answer.

How are people on social security going to pay increased taxes on their homes, food and clothing? You are to give more in order to receive more. What more can you give?

Claims Imports Aren't So Great

An article appeared in our paper by Mr. Gordon, secretary of GM about the folly of people thinking that imports are always better than domestic products.

The next day we had proof of that wise observation in our own city when an imported Shakespearean troupe not only murdered Caesar but some of the finest pages in the English literature, but it was imported. Hence, it must be good whether it is spaghetti or Caesar. It was my third contact with Caesar's murderers as in many countries in as many languages and this time, I almost fell with Caesar when he died.

We have talented youngsters in our high schools. Given the money, time and coaches, they'll give a performance that will let Shakespeare rest in peace.

'Why Didn't I Like Create More Jobs?'

The says he has balanced the budget with nearly a billion dollars over. How did he do it—by pushing men and women out of work? He should have spent a few billion on creating work for the unemployed.

Also, I saw where one gentleman is worried about socialized medicine in the U.S. England has had socialized medicine and so think it is great. Why wouldn't it work here? Our government gets a lot of 'bur wagers in taxes, so why couldn't they fix a solid and sound health program?

Asks if Any M.D. Agrees With Brady

I agree with Dr. Brady's statement that a man's place during the birth of his child is in his wife's side. The birth of a child is the most precious event in the life of a married couple and if should be shared. Why do many M.D.'s and obstetricians refuse husbands the right to share the joy of childbirth with their wives? Are there any local doctors who agree with Dr. Brady?

Eisenhower Longing for Privacy and Release From Responsibility

By SAUL PATT
WASHINGTON (AP) — Two weeks ago President Eisenhower was visited in the White House by his old army friend, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, now a corporate executive.

"Brad," the President of the United States asked, "how do you like your job on the outside?"

The word "outside" was given a special kind of emphasis, a yearning, an envy, a vicarious relief, the way a man in jail a long time asks about the world beyond the walls.

"Mr. President," said Gen. Bradley, "it's wonderful. Oh, I don't have to make them the day they're brought in. I can take several days or even weeks to make up my mind."

And the President said, marveling, "that must be wonderful!"

HE CAN'T WAIT

The incident, aides and associates agree, is the best single mirror of Dwight D. Eisenhower's mood in the last days of his administration. Today he closes out a half century of public service and 20 years of awesome burden and he can't wait. He has been counting the days.

He leaves with a variety of other emotions but the overriding one appears to be relief. He hungers to relax and escape having done his best, with pride in much of his record (fiscal policy, relative containment of the Soviets and no shooting war involving America) and a deep, abiding disappointment that in his eight years the world came no closer to real peace.

He leaves, too, with some sadness, with a feeling of inner emptiness that he rarely shows in public.

He leaves with a private affection for the old house, to which he returned after two serious illnesses and a minor stroke, in which he and Mamie Eisenhower had the longest single stay in their 45 years of much traveled married life.

He leaves with a warm hope of privacy and a soaring expectation that he can now play golf without criticism. He leaves with two tiny ambitions, poignant in their smallness, to be able to go to a ball game without fuss, without galloping 50 people into action.

He would now like to be able to decide suddenly to go to a ball game without fuss, without galloping 50 people into action.

He goes from a choice of airplanes (prop. jet or helicopter), trains, naval ships and cars to his Gettysburg farm, where the Eisenhower have one car (a 1956 Chrysler limousine), one station wagon and two jeeps.

He goes from the immense power and prestige of the White House to a farm in Pennsylvania where, despite continuing fame and relative comfort, a man's ego will have to make its own private adjustment.

Our Allies Glad Administration Shift Is Over

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

As a new administration takes over in Washington, there also ends a period which United States' Allies dread and abhor.

It is this period of interregnum between the November elections and inauguration day in which the U.S. Allies feel that United States' policy drifts and that major decisions are put off while an administration waits to turn over leadership to a new one.

STEPS TAKEN

To be sure, firm steps have been taken in the last two months. The Eisenhower administration moved to slow the flight of gold from the United States.

It broke off relations with Cuba and served stern warnings against any attempt by the Communists to export their revolution to other Latin American nations.

The United States has given strong support to Communist-ruled Laos, even at the risk of a shooting war.

But America's Allies feel that these were steps forced by circumstances and do not necessarily represent the thinking of the new administration.

At the French foreign office in Paris there is fear of the consequences of the United States' go-it-alone policy in Laos.

The French believe that the absence of a united policy there is just one more opportunity for Nikita Khrushchev to drive a wedge between the Western Allies.

NATO faces momentous decisions. Among them one on an American proposal that NATO be armed with nuclear-tipped Polaris missiles and that NATO itself be made a nuclear power.

But while there is a difference of opinion among the NATO allies on the merits of the proposal, no firm decision can be taken until the new Kennedy administration declares itself. To implement the proposal new legislation must be passed by Congress.

WEST GERMANY AWAILS

West Germany awaits anxiously proposals the new administration may make for settlement of the Berlin question.

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has a personal problem. He is in the midst of an election campaign and wants to demonstrate quickly that cordial relations exist between him and the new administration.

Inauguration day in Washington signals the start of new diplomatic activity in Western

Kennedy Is Briefed on Armed Forces

WASHINGTON (AP) — President John F. Kennedy was briefed Thursday on the duties and responsibilities he will assume as commander in chief of the armed forces.

Kennedy conferred for about 30 minutes with Gen. Lyman Lemnitzer, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

After the session Lemnitzer told newsmen that he and Kennedy had discussed procedural matters relating to his taking over the duties as commander in chief of the armed forces.

Lemnitzer said the conference involved "no crisis, problems or anything else" of an emergency nature.

Offers Tract for Post

HART (AP) — City manager Howard Gurnea has been instructed by Hart councilmen to contact state police officials on the possibility of using a tract along U.S. 31 at the south edge of Hart for a state police post. The land was offered to the state for the purpose in November 1944.

Europe, and meetings carefully scheduled to take place after the world learns of President Kennedy's policies.

In Brussels there will be a meeting of foreign ministers from France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. A vital subject will be the United States' attitude toward the European Common Market.

President Charles de Gaulle of France and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan have a meeting scheduled, and so do De Gaulle and Adenauer. These will involve sweeping reviews of disarmament, nuclear weapons, the Soviet Union, Red China and the possibility of a spring summit. Then the trek to Washington will begin.

Church People Concerned With Drunken Driving

LANSING (AP) — The director of the division of temperance and general welfare of the Methodist Board of Christian Social Concerns has challenged the automobile industry to join with the National Safety Council and churches in stamping out the practice of drinking and driving.

Roger Burgess of Washington, D.C., speaking at the annual meeting of the Michigan Temperance Foundation in Lansing Thursday, said the national toll of highway deaths involving drinking has reached 10,000 a year.

Burgess, producer of a traffic safety film aimed at teen-agers, said drinking drivers are involved in more than one-third of highway fatalities.

"At holiday periods this number increases to more than one-half," he said.

Township Wins Suit on Damage to Fire Truck

A lawsuit for $6,500 against Waterford Township for damage to a new fire truck was dismissed today by Judge Frederick Ziem after a jury of five men and seven women returned a verdict of "no cause for action" in Circuit Court.

The Great American Insurance Co. was suing the township after ownership of the fire truck, John H. Youngs of 6811 Cedarbrook Drive, Bloomfield Township, had collected for damages to the truck.

The company charged that fireman Lewis Goff, of 130 S. Tilden, was negligent when he took a new $22,000 fire truck on a test run and ran off a gravel road in November 1958, causing damage in excess of $6,500.

The jury trial lasted three and one-half days. Attorney for the township was Paul M. Mandel, and for the plaintiff, John Irwin.

$58,552 More to County Roads

State's Population Hike Will Swell Fund From Government

Oakland County stands to benefit by $58,552 more in federal matching funds for secondary road construction for the fiscal year starting July 1.

The added funds available are due to an increase in Michigan's population.

Robert O. Felt, a member of the board of road commission, said the commission will receive $212,941 for the next fiscal year. This compares with $154,349 for the fiscal year from June of 1960 to June of 1961.

Felt said it hadn't been determined entirely on what state highway improvement projects the additional funds will be used. They must be matched from state gas and weight tax receipts.

He said, however, that two projects—Eight Mile Road from Gracery Road to a junction in Northville and 12-Mile Road from Telegraph to Northwestern Highway—had already been included in next year's work.

"We've got so many places where this could be used that I can't say now exactly where," Felt said.

He stressed that the projects, which must be exclusively state highway projects, must be designated and approved for the government first before the money is received.

All Michigan counties but Wayne will get an increase in federal matching funds for secondary road construction during the next fiscal year, the State Highway Department said.

The state will receive slightly more than $5 million in federal money for secondary road construction during the next fiscal year, an increase of nearly $500,000 over the current fiscal year.

The counties will get an increase, receiving $1.9 million against $1.5 million last year.

The highway department will retain about $3 million, the same as last year.

Wayne County will receive $609,804, about $3,000 more than last year as a result of a population decrease. All other counties will receive increases ranging from a few dollars to nearly $50,000.

Oak Park Man Killed in Ohio Auto Crash

CAMBRIDGE, Ohio (AP) — Roy Umshon, 35, of 15350 Park Drive, Oak Park, Mich., was killed early today when a sports car in which he was a passenger struck the rear of a trailer-truck on U. S. 40, about 10 miles east of here near Oak Park.

Carl Schweers Jr., of San Antonio, Tex., driver of the automobile, was admitted to Queen's Memorial Hospital for treatment.

The truck driver, who was not injured, was Donald Dean, 31, of Shadyside, Ohio.

Soapy Rescues Autos Stalled in Capital Snow

WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan spent most of inauguration week pushing stalled cars as five inches of snow buried the Capital.

The motorists never knew their husky rescuer was the incoming assistant secretary of state for African affairs.

Williams heaved at three automobiles and a truck that became mired in the path of his chauffeur as he traveled from Georgetown to Washington for reception.

His programs are built mainly around his own safety songs.

Crooning 'Cop' Sings for Safety

Did you ever have a policeman pull you over to the side of the road—and then sing songs to you?

It may sound crazy, but that's just about what's been happening to Pontiac elementary school children all winter.

The "cop" in this case is Lt. Wilbur Legree, recently retired safety director of the Flint Police Department.

Now child safety consultant for the Associated Petroleum Industries of Michigan, he bills himself as the "Singing Cop" and is appearing at local schools periodically.

Lt. Legree has already staged safety shows in 23 elementary schools in the Pontiac School District. His most recent programs were presented in the delight of his youthful audiences yesterday at Hawthorne, Alcott and Owen schools.

Lt. Legree wastes no time in delivering his message to as many young ears as he can.

At 9 a.m. he was at Hawthorne, at 10:15 he did a show at Alcott, and by 1 p.m. he was on the stage at Owen school.

His programs are built mainly around his own safety songs. Earlier this week he appeared at Central, Mark Twain and Emerson schools on Monday, and at meet, we can get them interested in spite of themselves," he said smiling.

Next Monday he will close out his appearances in Pontiac with programs at McConnell, Wilson, and Winner Elementary Schools.

The program began early in November.

"Traffic safety can be a pretty dull and dry subject for children," said Lt. Legree. "But if we can get them to learn a few simple songs, with a message applicable to the traffic conditions they'll

His songs are used by police departments and elementary schools in 42 states, as well as 60 Michigan schools alone.

Last year he appeared before more than 76,000 Michigan children in some 202 public and parochial elementary schools.

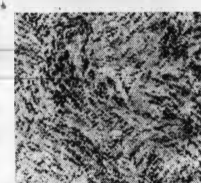

In addition he instructed nearly 5,000 school safety patrol members.

Lt. Legree is one "cop" that reaches for a song book not a ticket book.

He Has So Many Reasons to Prove Himself

Kennedy, With Strikes Against Him, MUST Be Good President

By BOB CONSIDINE

WASHINGTON — No man in the history of the presidency had greater incentives to be an outstanding Chief Executive than has John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

If he serves the constitutional limit of two terms, Kennedy will be leaving office eight years hence, this week at the age of 51, eleven years younger than Dwight Eisenhower was when he attained the office.

A third of Kennedy's presumed life span will lie ahead of him. During those long decades as an ex-president he will have to face the music for every error of omission or commission charged against him.

As the first Roman Catholic to occupy the White House, he constantly will be under the scrutiny of millions of Americans fearful of the slightest warring in the nation's traditional stand on separation of church and state.

Every move he proposes in, say, education and the care of needy areas, will be examined for traces of religious leanings.

As President, Kennedy will have to answer not only for his own acts in office but those of his countless appointees, large, medium and small.

As ex-president, he will be blamed even for events over which he had no real control—as Herbert Hoover was charged with being the chief architect of the worldwide depression of the 1930s.

The good deeds of Warren Harding, and there were some, were wholly overshadowed by the fact that a weak old man in his cabinet, Secretary of Interior Albert Fall, was a crook, and because his Justice Department was riddled with scoundrels.

SENATE OKAYS BOBBY

The nomination of Robert Kennedy as attorney general was unexpectedly quick approval in the Senate, where Sen. Erwin of North Carolina good-naturedly diagnosed the nominee's main drawback—his youth—as a malady from which he will eventually recover.

But this is not to say that Robert Kennedy will not be on constant trial throughout his tenure in that highly important office, as will be the brother who placed him there against widespread advice in and out of Democratic circles.

During the campaign, Republican orators made much of the fact that was a habit of rearing their bloody heads when a Democrat is in office.

Wilson had his World War I, Roosevelt his World War II and Truman the awful business in Korea.

It will be President Kennedy's task to stop that skin, though the world is more troubled now and the U.S. a more inviting target than in the times of his predecessors.

He must hold Khrushchev at arm's length, neither threatening the Russian leader or catering to him.

He must find a way of living with the break-off relations with Cuba, with which President Eisenhower saddled him, or renew our contact with the Cuban people in a manner that will not appease Castro or countenance his intention of turning the island into a menacing commune.

'EXPLAIN, PLEASE'

He will have the difficulty of being called upon now and then by unthinking people to "explain" the acts of suppression that sometimes crop up in so-called Catholic countries, notably Spain.

He will be criticized not only for being too chummy with Ex-President Eisenhower but for not being chummy enough.

Almost exactly half the people who cast ballots last Nov. 8 preferred Richard Nixon, and while many today are heard saying, "I voted for Nixon but I think Kennedy is going to be fine," there lingers in their breasts the disappointment which cultivates fertile soil for criticism.

HE'LL WORK HARD

For these and other reasons, John Fitzgerald Kennedy can be counted upon to try harder and work longer to be a finer president than any man before him.

He knows that if he is a bad president, or a faceless reincarnation of a Van Buren, let's say, generations may pass before another Catholic, or member of perhaps any other minority in America, is given a chance to prove himself in the White House.

When his paternal grandfather Patrick Kennedy arrived in America a century ago, in the steerage of a foul ship that had carried him from famine-ridden Ireland for $20, "Irish" was a synonym for "foreigner."

Patrick Kennedy saw everywhere in Boston signs reading, "Man Wanted—No Irish Need Apply."

Yet Patrick begot a son who today is worth $200 million, and that son begot a president. Jack Kennedy will give his all to crown that unique American Dream.

Who Wants to Be President?...Nobody!

By BOB BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—The job has no big salary, a nice pension, and you get to live rent-free in a fine old house plentifully staffed with servants.

Your wife would hardly have to lift her hand—let alone her voice. Doesn't it sound like every man's dream?

Well, every American mother's son has a born right to aspire to this wonderful job—but most of them say they wouldn't take it for love, patriotism or money. To them it isn't a dream job. It's a living nightmare.

That job is the one 43-year-old John F. Kennedy takes over today—the presidency of the United States.

FEW ARE ENVIOUS

A handful of professional politicians present at the inauguration may sigh to themselves, "Why couldn't it have happened to me? Why shouldn't I be the one taking the oath?"

But the man in the street has no envy at all of Kennedy, and no desire for his new job. To him it would be not a boon, but an affliction. He'd rather be in his own shoes than Kennedy's.

Why doesn't the average American want his country's top political job, often hailed as the world's most powerful post?

"Too much responsibility."

"You have to make too many important decisions. The way it is now I can let my wife make the decisions. She enjoys it. I don't."

"You have to try to please too many people. Even then half of them wind up hating you."

"It makes you old too soon. Ever notice how much older a president looks after he's been in office a few years?"

DORING LIFE

"Being president just doesn't sound like it would be much fun. You spend too much time holding conferences or going to public functions. Who wants that kind of a life? It would bore me."

"You might have to decide to send the country to war. If I had a worry like that on my mind, I'd never sleep at night."

"A president isn't really free. He's a kind of a prisoner in a way. He has to be guarded all the time against crackpots. That would give me the willies."

The idea of living in the White House also appalls many ordinary American men—appealing as the prospect might be to their wives.

"It's too big," said one. "It'd be like living in a railroad terminal. It wouldn't seem like home. It wouldn't be comfortable."

"And who'd want all those servants standing around listening when your wife bawled you out? I'd like a little more privacy."

NOT DOLLAR CHASERS

The rest of the world often assumes that most Americans are slavishly and solely dedicated to chasing the dollar. But here is one proof—if proof is really needed—they are wrong.

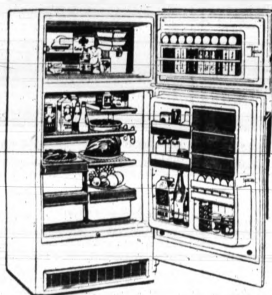

The truth is that the great majority of Americans don't put great wealth or great power at the top of their list of human values. They never have.

Being president, most feel, would interrupt rather than enhance, in their personal lives, their inalienable right "to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness."

When it comes to guiding the destiny of the nation, John Q. Public is more than glad to "let George do it."

Nixons Start Life Out West; Kennedys Take On White House

By RUTH MONTGOMERY
WASHINGTON—This is the end and the beginning for two former senatorial families named Kennedy and Nixon. It would be difficult to analyze, on this milestone day of their lives, which couple has the greater blessings for which to render thanks.

While Jack and Jackie Kennedy take up the awesome responsibilities of the presidency, Pat and Dick Nixon are setting forth on their first completely private and carefree vacation in eight long years.

Even the two Nixon daughters, Tricia and Julie, are to be left behind in school while their parents soak up sun and salt water in the Bahamas.

Dick, a natural athlete, plays a reasonably good game of golf despite little time for practice. Pat, who wants to learn, has tapped her husband as a teacher during the several weeks that they will use in the winter vacationland.

THOSE 112,000 VOTES!

The remainder of the year holds equally interesting prospects for the relaxed couple who, but for the grace of 112,000 votes would be burdened instead with the world's most taxing assignment.

At some point during 1961, Dick has promised to take widely traveled Pat on her first trip to such enchanting mecca as France, Germany, Switzerland, Austria and the Tyrolean Alps.

On their frenetic goodwill trips to four continents, they once touched down briefly in London, another time in Rome.

Never has Pat seen Paris, and Dick saw it only once as a junior representative, traveling as it is the stern eye of Chairman Christian Herter, who told his committee members: "No husbands and no wives. This is a working trip."

IF HE'D KNOWN PAT

When Dick grinningly recalled this admonition to the retiring secretary of state at last week's farewell dinner, Herter gallantly replied that if he had known how Pat could operate, he would have insisted that she go along on the survey.

Pat plans to remain in Washington until June, when the children's school term ends, but she will make several commuting trips to Los Angeles to shop for a house.

Although Pat and Dick met and married in Whittier, they both love the ocean so much that they hope to move within view of the water either in the rolling hills section of Santa Monica, or in a newly developed area of Orange County. It will be difficult for the retiring second lady to find a house that will mean to her what her present "dreamhouse" has. The 13-room Tudor-style manor is by all odds the finest home they have ever had, and into it has gone all the decorating talent that Pat has learned, since her rural childhood, to expend on a home of her own.

The Nixons have had many of offers for their house. They will probably accept whichever one promises to wait most patiently for June occupancy.

Dick will join a Los Angeles law firm immediately after their vacation, and will "batch" it until his "three girls" join him next summer.

The ending of his official life is not what he had planned, but the still-youthful politician has said he will not rue another try for the presidency.

To the Kennedys, no longer can they take a vacation, or a stroll down the avenue without a retinue of Secret Service agents and newsmen in tow.

For the new first family it is also the beginning of unparalleled opportunities. It is the beginning of a chance—how knows?—to save the world!

BRIGHTON (UPI)—A $290,000

Thursday almost six months ahead of schedule, highway Commissioner John C. Mackie said.

The structure, scheduled for completion July 15, carries the Chesapeake & Ohio tracks over the U.S. 23 freeway.

Secret Service Switches to Jack

Ike's 'Shadows' Just Melt Away

By PHYLLIS BATTLE

WASHINGTON—After eight years of constant protection against the enemies and mentally sick and the traitors of the world, Dwight Eisenhower officially "drops his guard" today.

He becomes a private citizen, tactically alone and vulnerable.

The U.S. Secret Service, pledged to throw their bodies between him and danger, are committed to change their allegiance in a split second from Mr. Eisenhower to President John F. Kennedy. If the letter of the law were followed, he would ride to his farm at Gettysburg with less notice from the police than you and I get for double parking.

"But this won't happen," assured Secret Service Chief U. E. Baughman quietly, almost (unless we imagined it) reverently. "We will do outgoing President Eisenhower the courtesy of escorting him back to Gettysburg."

"After that, he ordinarily would be on his own, but (scent) Dick Flour didn't want that to happen. Dick has been close to Mr. Eisenhower for a long time. He's going to take his annual leave of absence to guard him for the first two weeks he is out of office. He'll stay with him. I guess, till the Eisenhowers leave for their vacation."

Meantime, Chief Baughman's force will, immediately after Kennedy takes the inaugural oath of office, transfer its bodily protection to the new president. It will be very interesting," he said, grinning as though he anticipated the challenge of guarding this rather more controversial—not to mention swift-moving—chief of state with some adventurous glue.

"There've been just the normal number of hate and threat letters—but rather more vicious than usual—to President Kennedy," he revealed. "Nothing exceptional to worry about, though. Threats to the president are an old story. There are simply people who have a 'president writer' complex."

"I remember we picked up one man who had been writing to Eisenhower and—lo and behold!

PET DOCTOR

By A. W. Moller, D.V.M.

IT'S SUCH A THRILL WHEN THEY LOOK UP AT YOU FOR THE FIRST TIME AND SAY, 'MY FIRST PUPPY!'

Q. Our cocker spaniel is expecting her fourth litter this winter. We would like her to have her puppies outside. Do you think it will harm her or the puppies? Mrs. R. R. Martin, Florissant, Mo.

A. Not if you make adequate preparations. First, the dog's house should be big enough, certainly not less than nine square feet, to accommodate your dog and her expected litter.

Protect the opening of the house with a wind breaker, placed not more than two or three feet away. Electric, thermostatically-controlled heating panels are available for dog houses and are a must in your case. Use hay or newspapers for bedding rather than blankets to avoid the possibility of the puppies smothering.

Your biggest problem is in the food department. Remember, a female having puppies requires large amounts of fluid and food which must be kept warm at all times, even when it's freezing outside.

County Hospital Farm at Manistee Fails to Pay

MANISTEE—The Manistee County Board of Supervisors has voted to halt operations of a 192-acre farm in connection with the county hospital. Their action followed a recommendation which said labor payments made the farm unprofitable.

The tract had been farmed for 90 years with produce helping feed county hospital occupants. Supervisors said land not required in the site for the county's new $11-million medical care facility now under construction will be sold.

There are an estimated 2,500 chamber music groups in American colleges and universities.

Swainson and Williams Dust Off Their Top Hats

WASHINGTON AP — Michigan Democrats, headed by Gov. John B. Swainson and his predecessor, G. Mennen Williams, celebrated in bounding good spirits today their party's return to the White House after eight years on the outside.

Governor and Mrs. Swainson were proving themselves adept at the heady social whirl. They weren't missing an event and, in fact, usually arrived early.

Swainson, one of 38 governors at the inauguration, planned to wear white tie and tails to tonight's inaugural ball. So did Sen. Pat McNamara, who called his silk top hat his "zombie hat."

Asked if he planned to wear a tuxedo at the inauguration ceremony, Sen. Philip Hart quipped: "Can't you see me in a top hat chasing four kids?" he said the four youngest of the eight Hart children would stay home.

Meanwhile, the Williams grin that won Michigan six times was having its day in the Capitol. Williams proved a popular host Wednesday when he was chairman of a nationally televised luncheon.

The Williams' two daughters, Nancy and Wendy, flew in from Lansing for today's festivities. Nancy Gier has been here since the new assistant secretary of state for African affairs and his wife Nancy, settled in their Georgetown home 10 days ago.

Women who had left their garbages in Michigan fretted as snow piled up.

AT SHOREHAM HOTEL.
Most Michigan people were staying at the Shoreham Hotel where Michigan national committeeman Thomas Quinby was masterminding ticket arrangements. By late Thursday, inaugural tickets were going for $50 a couple and inaugural ball tickets for $30 a couple.

With his wife remaining home in Ann Arbor, Quinby co-chaired Mrs. Margaret Price, national committee vice chairman, in a reception for Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson. He planned to take Mrs. Mildred Jeffrey, Michigan committeewoman, to the ball.

Williams and his wife will be in President Kennedy's administration boxes at the National Armory for the inaugural ball. The Swainsons and some 150 Michigan people will be at the Sheraton-Park Hotel ball. The President planned to make the Sheraton-Park party the last of his five stops.

To Hold Contest for Ice Queen

Titlist at Annual Winter Carnival to Be Sent to Grayling Competition

Selection of a winter ice queen will highlight the North Side Community Club's annual winter carnival the last weekend of the month.

Relatively scheduled for Jan. 28-29 at Northside Park, Montclair and Edison streets, the carnival will poston Feb. 4-5 if ice conditions are poor, said John H. Ridgway, club president.

Skating contests and games will mark the two-day event, topped off by the annual Pontiac Skating Club show.

Winner of the ice title will be sent by the club to Grayling to compete for the statewide Winter Sports Queen title Feb. 11-12.

Competitors must be residents of Oakland County, at least 16 years of age. Skaters of only average ability or less may compete, said Ridgway, but professionals are ruled out.

The contest is primarily one of beauty, charm and poise, he said.

Opening day of the festival will see preliminaries in the various races for different age groups, plus a hockey game.

The queen will be crowned the second day, after finals in the contests. The carnival is scheduled to end with the ice show.

Taste of Cake Intrigued Him, So He Lived

HONG KONG (AP)—Lee Kai San, 18, decided to commit suicide because his father would not let him taste his cousin's wedding cake before the marriage ceremony.

He jumped from the roof of a 12-story building.

Passing the ninth floor, he reached out, grabbed a jutting iron bar, and hung on.

"After I jumped," he told firemen who finally pulled him to safety, "I thought now I will never know what the wedding cake tastes like. So I changed my mind."

Pro-West Laos Force Nears Key Junction

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—A Laotian government column today pushed to within 10 miles of the important Phou Khoun road junction commanding the western approach to the rebel-held Plain de Jarnes.

The column had advanced north from Vientiane, it captured the rebel base at Yang Vieng Monday and has driven 30 more miles north, reports from the front said.

But the advance of the column from Vientiane was a mixed blessing for Premier Prince Boun Oum's government. As it advanced, pro-Communist forces from Yang Vieng were retreating north. And as they retreated, the rebels pushed back another government column from Luang Prabang trying to link up with the column from Vientiane.

The Luang Prabang column was reported 16 miles north of Phou Khoun junction Thursday. Its retreat opened an escape route east to the Plain de Jarnes for the pro-Communist forces from Yang Vieng.

City Hospital Statement $21,432 in Black for '60

Pontiac General Hospital ended the year in the black last year for the first time in five years.

As predicted, revenues exceeded expenses by $21,432, according to the year-end financial statement accepted by the board of trustees last night.

Not included in the excess figure was a $93,130 rebate last year from Michigan Hospital Service (Blue Cross) on 1959 overpayments by the hospital.

Losses on county patients failed to top the $50,000 mark, as predicted. The report listed them at $44,828, compared with $41,374 in 1959 and $75,078 in 1958.

Bad debts and unpaid bills amounted to $170,479 last year, compared with $143,782 the year before and $173,883 in 1958.

The bad debt increase last year in offset somewhat by the fact that billings last year totaled $5,217,589, compared with only $4,232,971 in 1959. The 1958 billings totaled $3,538,062.

Losses on state patients came down from $60,978 in 1959 to $54,404 last year. The 1958 loss was $27,992.

Losses on county welfare patients and children admitted under the state afflicted children's program reflect the unfavorable difference between the costs of patient treatment compared with the lower rates paid by the county and state.

"It is apparent that Pontiac General is still carrying most of the county's welfare and indigent patients, despite our efforts to persuade other hospitals to carry their fair load," said Harold B. Zeiler, hospital administrator.

Occupancy averaged out last year at 87.86 per cent, as predicted in the 1960 budget. The rate in 1959 was 93.9 per cent and in 1958 it was 96 per cent. The report listed the average daily cost per patient at $43.71.

Holland Selling Bonds to Pay for Sewage Plant

HOLLAND (AP)—The city council has accepted the low bid of F. S. Smithers Co., of New York from among nine bidders on the sale of $1.6 million in bonds to finance a

The ratio of employees to patients held steady at 2.37, compared with a state average of 2.37. The hospital's 1959 figure was 2.33 and the all-time high was 2.41 in 1955.

Meal costs dropped from $4.01 per patient day in 1959 to $3.84 last year. Raw food costs dipped from 40 cents a meal in 1959 to 36 cents last year.

With more beds in operation, the hospital did more business last year in virtually every line. Comparative figures from 1959 and 1960 follow:

Admission (excluding new-borns) 15,437 compared with 15,871; patient days, 82,414 and 112,722; average daily census, 283 compared with nearly 300; average days stayed, 6.88 and 7.1.

Number of newborn babies, 2,565 compared with 2,925; number of newborn days, 11,839 compared with 14,247.

Emergency outpatients, 18,441 compared with 20,743; clinic outpatients, 2,388 compared with 2,267.

Today's Loud Blasts: Jets Crash Sound

Oakland County Sheriff's Department switchboard was flooded with a dozen or more calls at 11:30 a.m. today when a series of loud explosions were heard in the Pontiac area.

A check revealed the sounds were caused by two jets crashing the sound barrier.

Identity of the aircraft was not known but deputies believed the planes were from either Selfridge Air Force Base or the Grrosse Ile Naval Air Station.

Slushy Capital Draws Many From the Hills

By MARY ELLEN MEAD

Can't help wondering, this inauguration day, whether or not Mr. and Mrs. Maynard R. Andrus of Ridgwood Road were part of the ticket-bling throng consigned to the blizzards for this afternoon's duties in Washington, or whether they had to rely on a couple of pairs of sturdy shoes to follow the parade in which they son Christopher rode.

Pat (Mrs. A.) returned from Bal Harbour, Fla., Monday, where she and Gini (Mrs. Jack) Tompkins of Grosse Pointe had been houseguests of Mrs. Ralph C. Wilson Jr.

On opening her mail she discovered that First Classman Chris had been selected by Culver Military Academy to ride in the Black Horse Troop in the inaugural parade.

Being a mother, she got busy on the phone, rapped her bags and remembered to include her galoshes for uncertain Washington weather.

Van long distance, she learned from Mrs. Phil Hart that even some of the senator's relatives weren't going to be able to "cut" it out, but that Mrs. Hart would do her best.

The Andruses, accompanied by Adrian, 12, and Brother Ralph, who is 10, undaunted, took off Thursday morning to drive down to the Capital, assured of reservations for sleeping but not viewing.

Third Classman Bill Hartman, III, son of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Hartman Jr., is another Pacific from Culver who rode in the parade today, along with Robert P. Lytle Jr., son of Dr. and Mrs. Robert P. Lytle of Pinewood Court, and Bill McComb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan H. Scamman Jr. of Quenton Road.

The Hartmans had a twofold purpose in going down for the festivities, since his father-in-law and son, Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Ingraham (Susan Hartman of Birmingham) are just back from Yakarta, Indonesia, and are expecting to remain in Washington for the

First Ladies So Happy to Retire

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK (AP) — "The general and I feel like children just released from school," wrote the first lady shortly before her husband stepped out of office to retire to their country home.

That was 164 years ago, and the President's wife was Martha Washington.

But you can almost hear Mamie Eisenhower saying it, as she and the general leave Washington for their 500-acre farm at Gettysburg, Pa.

It's the first home they've ever owned, and Mrs. Eisenhower probably is eager to trade the responsibilities that go with running the 107-room White House for the joys of pattering around her own house. "I've been supremely happy as a housewife," she has said — and she wants to be one again.

She will be something more than that however, from a historical point of view. At 64 Mamie Eisenhower will be the youngest of four living former first ladies, sharing the distinction with Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt and Mrs. Harry Truman.

The oldest is Edith Bolling Bait Wilson, now 88, who still lives in Washington in the 36-room house her husband bought in 1921 when he left the White House. He died there three years later.

A large woman who likes somewhat elaborate clothes, Mrs. Wilson comes out of seclusion rarely these days except for ceremonial occasions. She attended the inauguration today.

Not long ago she turned up at the debut Mamie Eisenhower gave for her two nieces. Mrs. Wilson was observed standing in quiet meditation beneath a portrait of her late

Stock Rye and Have Enough

By the Emily Post Institute

Question: I was married two weeks ago. The reception was held in a private room of a hotel. After dinner there was dancing and my father ordered a bar set up at one end of the room for any of the guests who cared to drink.

He ordered several bottles of rye and scotch which he thought would be sufficient. However, before the reception was over the liquor ran out and he did not order any more as he thought everyone had enough. When there was no more to drink at the reception, several of the guests went out to the hotel bar to drink.

We have heard some unpleasant criticism over this, and I am very upset. What I would like to know is, should my father have ordered more liquor when it ran out, and also if it was not wrong for the guests to have gone to the hotel bar after the liquor was finished?

Answer: If the guests were becoming intoxicated, your father was right in not serving any more liquor, but otherwise, it is impossible he should have ordered more. It was not wrong of the guests to stop at the bar after leaving your reception, but to come back to it after drinking at the hotel bar would have been decidedly wrong.

Question: What is the proper position of the knife during the course of the meal when it is temporarily not being used?

Answer: It is laid diagonally across the rim of the plate. It should not be propped with handle on the table.

Question: What is the proper thing for a man to do when a tray of refreshments is passed to him first and a lady is sitting next to him. Should he help himself first or wait for her?

Answer: If the tray is held so both can help themselves, course wait for her. But if it is presented directly to him (on his way to her) he should help himself so as not to interfere with the passage of the tray.

Or Is It Beautiful, Asks Abby

A Beautiful Mother Complex!

DEAR ABBY: I've gone with Homer for seven years. I am 28 and he is 36. Neither of us has ever been married, but he was engaged twice. People say his mother broke them up. Homer is an only child and lives with his widowed mother. He's asked me to marry him and promised me his mother's disapproval. But she's still wearing

When we go to dinner, we either take his mother with us or hurry home to have coffee with her.

When Homer is at my apartment, she calls him and tells him not to stay too late. Last Sunday we were late for church because she made him change suits twice! Do you think he'd make a good husband? He is financially solvent.

LONG ENGAGEMENT

FINANCIAL SOLVENT may be financially solvent, but he sounds emotionally bankrupt. I see only one advantage in marrying this man: you will always be able to find him — attached to his mother.

DEAR ABBY: All my married life 41 years I have had to get up first in the morning, light the heaters, and see that everybody else got up, including my husband.

Don't you think that a man who wants to be "the head of the house" in all other matters should be the first one out of bed, since she can't get off? Also, who should look up for the night?

AVERAGE WIFE

DEAR AVERAGE: I am the man of the house should look up for the night. But the wife should be the first one out of bed to start the house fires burning.

DEAR ABBY: Can a person break out in a rash from living in a stucco house? Ever since I've lived in this stucco house (13 years) I have had a skin rash.

The only time it clears up is when I go to the hospital to have a baby, or if I leave town on a trip.

When I was away on a trip I stayed in a stucco motel and the rash came back, so I figured it has to be the stucco. Can you help me on this?

"BROKEN OUT" (I'm home now).

DEAR BROKEN: A dermatologist (skin doctor) can tell you whether you have an allergy, and if so; to what. Give him as many clues as possible, but let HIM diagnose the case.

London Names Hat for Jackie

LONDON (AP) — A hat named after Mrs. Jacqueline Kennedy, who became America's First Lady today, was one of the hits of the British capital's first 1961 fashion shows Thursday.

In addition to a hat named "Jackie," for the wife of the President, designer Donald Paterson offered a model called "Fabiola," for the new queen of the Belgians.

"Jackie" was a navy blue pillbox-style hat with a deep crown and a large brim. It was worn by a 20-year-old Parisienne model, Anne Marie Bocheux, who looks enough like Mrs. Kennedy to be her sister. "Fabiola" was a straw-edged sombrero.

Question: What is the proper position of the knife during the course of the meal when it is temporarily not being used?

Answer: It is laid diagonally across the rim of the plate. It should not be propped with handle on the table.

Question: What is the proper thing for a man to do when a tray of refreshments is passed to him first and a lady is sitting next to him. Should he help himself first or wait for her?

The Question Box

Women Shouldn't Bounce

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Q. "Are bouncing exercises good? I need to lose inches and I skip rope and jump up and down in place. Will this improve my figure?"

A. It's nice to have a bouncy, bubbly personality, but I doubt that the skipping and jumping in place will add your figure or get you anywhere. Any physical exercise is helpful in a general loss of weight because it uses energy and calories. However, bouncy exercises are not recommended for women. These may lead to a lowered uterus because of stretched ligaments. Also, such exercise is not specific for spot reducing.

Q. "Is there anything at all that can be done for pitted skin caused by acne?"

A. Yes, there is a comparatively new process called dermabrasion. If the scars are not too deep, this technique can practically banish them and even when they are, great improvement can be made. In this latter case more than one treatment is needed.

Q. "You often mention cosmetic wax in your column. I would like to know a little more about it before using it. For instance, does it permanently remove the hair? Is it harmful to the skin? Where can it be bought?"

A. Cosmetic wax removes hair temporarily. Electrolysis is the only permanent method of removal of superfluous hair. Cosmetic wax is not harmful to the skin if you follow directions. Many drugstores carry it, and have it.

Q. "My grandmother says that I am too thin. Will you please settle this argument? I am 14 years old, 5 feet 4 and weigh 114 pounds."

A. I hate to let your grandmother down, but you are not underweight unless you have an extremely large frame.

Many Ways to Deal With Emotional Hurts

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrence: My sister is married to a man she previously divorced for physical abuse. As the playboy in our town, he was always in and out of trouble, once demanded and got four cars in one year. Now my sister says he is "reformed" but the way they treat their 2-year-old boy is scandalous.

If Bobby points to something instead of adding for it the car's talk yet! he's beaten with a fly-swatter. If he falls down and hurts himself, this monster of a father will say, "Don't sympathize with him or he'll just yell louder." He says he treats the child like this to avoid spoiling him. What can we do to stop it?

ANSWER: You can direct that question to your local Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children.

In the meantime you might consider the possibility that your brother-in-law is trying to safeguard his son against the suffering he himself experienced as a "spoiled" child; that in beating his baby he is beating down impulses he still fears in himself; that the "reformation" which establishes him as a respectable member of his community is the like he has painfully built against the pressure of those fears.

I suggest these possibilities because it is never beneficial to us to regard another human being as a "monster."

Though we can judge your brother-in-law to be a dangerously incompetent parent, none of us are in any position to despise him. We all have our methods for dealing with intolerable hurts. Some are wiser than others.

If, in our vulnerable youth, we have been permitted to expose ourselves to repeated failures, we may choose a foolish method to correct them.

Like your brother-in-law, we may become so deeply afraid of the weaknesses that have involved us in painful humiliations that we panic at any sign of weakness in our children—and beat them. To the world we look like a monster. But in our poor demented way, we are still human. We are struggling to protect our child. By inflicting pain with the flyswatter we hope to deter him from incurring the kind of pain our still-orientated, still-terrified consciences inflict on us.

However, were I you, these realizations would not deter me from reporting this unhappy man to the S.P.C.C.

Bill Clarifies 'Available' Sewers

As Oakland County undertakes a big sanitary sewer building program, the question arises whether it will be mandatory for home owners to hook into the system.

The question is answered partially in the latest addition to the county's 13-point legislative program to be put before the 1961 legislature.

A proposed bill defines when a sewer is considered "available."

The bill, urged by Bloomfield Township Supervisor Arno L. Huie, spells out that when the sewer comes within 400 feet of a structure from which sewage emanates, connection shall be completed within six months.

Failure to comply after a 90-day grace period could result in a $100 fine to the property owner, as well as the costs the township incurs for connection to the sewer.

Costs for its ultimate use would then be collected like taxes — assessed against the property owner.

Huie, who is already experiencing difficulties in requiring sewer connections in his township, said the enabling legislation is for the protection of health, safety and welfare of county residents.

Without the bill — believed to be the first state law of its kind — some residents feel inclined to continue with their existing septic tank systems, thus endangering residents with pollution of area rivers and lakes, Huie said.

Townships, which must look to the legislature for permissive legislation, would be the only beneficiaries of the proposed bill. It would enable their governing bodies to enact ordinances requiring the hookups.

Norman R. Barnard, county corporation counsel who helped draft the bill, selected it as second in importance in the county's somewhat abbreviated program.

Members of the county's delegation in the legislature will meet next Wednesday in Lansing with members of the board of supervisors' legislative committee to discuss the program.

A third try at streamlining the judicial procedure on the way lake levels are established, and the existing methods of paying for the improvements, was cited by Barnard as the principal target.

The number of lakes have around 125 — makes it self-explanatory.

Eleven petitions for setting lake levels are bogged down before the board of supervisors, Barnard said, because of two out-moded laws.

Association Lists Types of Motorists Who Pose Serious Road Threats

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American Association of Motor Vehicle Administrators lists seven types of motorists as "the biggest holiday menace on the road."

Here are the seven types—and the association's comments on each.

—The speeder: Going too fast was a contributing factor in 31 per cent of fatal accidents.

—The Drinker: About 10,000 of the 33,000 fatal motor-vehicle accidents involved a drinking driver.

—The Sleeper: Noncollision accidents involving only one car accounted for 50 per cent of the fatalities registered in rural areas and 36 per cent in urban areas. Fatigue was listed as a dominant factor in most of these accidents.

—The Weaver: Improper weaving is listed as the cause of 15 per cent of all accidents.

—The Highway Hog: More than 18 per cent of accidents were due to failure to yield right of way.

—The Road Bum: One out of five passenger cars and one out of four trucks safety checked were found in need of maintenance for safe driving.

—The Blinder: Defective headlights is the leading cause for rejects among cars submitted to safety inspections.

Elect Class Officers; Cast Musical at PCH

By BARR GRIFFIN
Two important groups of students have recently been chosen at Pontiac Central High School and both have big jobs ahead of them.

The 1961 senior class has elected its officers and the cast of Pontiac Central's spring musical has been named.

Senior officers will be guiding the many activities of their class during its final year in high school.

The only requirements to hold office are a C average and a petition signed by 25 members of the senior class.

The seniors elected Ed Haroutunian, president; Jim Nelson, vice president; Charles Wiegert, secretary; and Darlene Woodhull, treasurer.

Ed is very active in the vocal department, being president of the choir and the senior boys ensemble.

He is a member of Playcrafters and has recently been selected to play the male lead in the forthcoming production of "Carousel."

Jim Nelson is very active in sports at Central. He has won three varsity letters in cross country and is vice-president of the Varsity Club.

Charles Wiegert is president of the Co-Op Club and works half the day in the school office. She has been active on the Student Union staff and in the music department at Central.

Darlene Woodhull also participates in the vocal department, singing in choir and the Senior Girls Ensemble. She is president of the Ski Club and was a varsity cheerleader for two years.

Others are Betty Boone, Jill Hicks, Irene Perkins, Cynthia Rush, Bill Morford, Mark Berg, Tom Lewis, Bill Smith, Phil Weber, Gary Alan, Julian Spira, and John Kimball.

SENIOR OFFICERS — Largely responsible for guiding the destiny of the 1961 senior class at Pontiac Central High School will be these four students. They are the newly elected class officers. The winning candidates are (from left) Jim Nelson of 41 Chapman St., vice president.

Charles Wiegert of 232 Russell St., secretary; Darlene Woodhull of 127 Lincoln St., treasurer; and Ed Haroutunian of 131 Douglas Drive, president. Haroutunian, in addition to being elected president, was also recently cast in the lead role of the forthcoming PCH production of "Carousel."

Others receiving parts are: Ron Boyce, Jim Baker, Judy Whitmer, Karen Bronson, Peggy Warren, Russi Maiss, Willis Martin, Susan Dunlap, Eddie Skelly, and Nancy Griffin.

Also portraying characters in "Carousel" are Dick Levine, Tom Murphy, Tom Schellenberg, Sue Putnam, Jeanette Wright, Kathy O'Brien, Kathy Jackson, Nancy Walker, Minnie Churchill, Susan Dunlap, Eddie Skelly, and Nancy Griffin.

Math Pupils Study Taxes at Northern

By DIANE MARY WALTER
Business math students at Pontiac Northern High School are being exposed to one of their parents' annual headaches, namely income tax returns.

At present they are devoting a complete chapter to the proper methods of filling out income tax returns using actual forms furnished by the Department of Internal Revenue.

In this way students get actual practice and experience of filling out the forms.

Mr. Leo Kawlecki, instructor of business mathematics remarks, "This has been a worthwhile experience for our business math students as it is a good idea to be exposed to this before employment."

His classes also had the opportunity to hear Mr. Maurice Lodge of the Community National Bank talk Wednesday. He emphasized the various facilities available and the different types of employment at the bank.

Today, a representative from the Automobile Association of America spoke to the class and pointed out types of automobile insurance, terms and what to expect in good automobile insurance coverage.

Question and answer periods followed both class periods.

Farmington High Classes Visit Detroit Institute

By ALICE BASSETTE
Three sociology classes of Farmington Senior High visited the Palmer Institute of Human Development in Detroit this week in connection with their study of child guidance and development.

The classes had an opportunity to observe the pre-schoolers in their daily play groups and at their lunch.

Before observing these groups, a staff member from the institute will talk to the classes to explain the purpose, functions, and organization of the school.

There are school and community services for the development of all age groups. There is an infant service and a class for engaged couples and expectant parents.

These classes and services are, however, interchanged from year to year.

In connection with, but before the trip, the classes will see the films "Life with Babies" and "Pre-fare to a Life."

Extra Curricular Combo — When eight area high school and junior high students got interested in forming a vocal-instrumental group over the recent vacation they asked Arden Sears (right) for home help. Sears, vocal music teacher at Madison Junior High, took time out from his own vacation to schedule several rehearsals and give the students a few tips. The group currently is made up of four Pontiac Northern pupils, three Madison pupils and a Lake Orion High School pupil. Five of the teen-agers, plus three provide accompaniment. Shown here working out the instrumental side of things with Sears are (from left) Dan Kane, Madison; Phil Bridger, Northern; and Tom Cox, Lake Orion.

Emmanuel Christian Forms Varsity Club

By KATHY McKEE
Players wishing to pep up sports competition at Emmanuel Christian High, have started a new club called the "Varsity Club."

Such a thing as this is spreading enthusiasm through the entire school.

Every time students walk into a pep rally they don't know whether to expect to see boys coming out wearing outlandish clothes or someone sitting hidden behind the basket until it's time to make a basket.

In Kennedy's Text: Join Me in Pledging Liberty

WASHINGTON (AP)—Here is the text of President Kennedy's inaugural address:

My fellow citizens:

We observe today not a victory of party but a celebration of freedom—symbolizing an end as well as a beginning—signifying renewal as well as change.

For I have sworn before you and Almighty God the same solemn oath our forebears prescribed nearly a century and three quarters ago.

The world is very different now. For man holds in his mortal hands the power to abolish all forms of human poverty and all forms of human life.

And yet the same revolutionary beliefs for which our forebears fought are still at issue around the globe—the belief that the rights of man come not from the generosity of the state but from the hand of God.

We Are Committed

We dare not forget today that we are the heirs of that first revolution. Let the word go forth from this time and place, to rise from the hill of despair and drive out the demons of hate; to let every American know that we are committed to the hard and certain path of freedom and justice for all men.

Let every nation know, whether it wishes us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend, oppose any foe to assure the survival and the success of liberty.

This much we pledge—and more:

To those old allies whose cultural and spiritual origins we share, we pledge the loyalty of faithful friends.

United, there is little we cannot do in a host of new cooperative ventures.

Divided, there is little we can do—for we dare not meet

Other Presidents Faced Snow, Cold

WASHINGTON (AP)—Judging from his inaugural day, people aren't likely to get much about "Kennedy weather" the way they used to mention "Eisenhower weather."

The outgoing president seemed to have more than a normal share of smiling skies for his outdoor speeches and appearances.

But though John F. Kennedy was confronted with a freezing snow-choked Washington, just beginning to recover from the worst traffic jam anyone here can remember, he is not the only president to have had weather luck on the day he took the oath.

Of the 43 previous inaugurations, 25 were held in clear weather, 10 in rain and 7 in snow.

powerful challenge at odds and split asunder.

To those new states whom we welcome to the ranks of the free, we pledge our word that one form of colonial control shall not have passed merely to be replaced by a far more insidious one.

We shall not always expect to find them supporting our every view. But we shall always hope to find them strongly supporting their own freedom—and in a new alliance of common interests to defend that freedom as if it were their own, to help us defend it.

We Pledge Support

To those peoples in the huts and villages of half the globe struggling to break the bonds of mass misery, we pledge our best efforts to help them help themselves, for whatever period is required—not because we seek their votes, but because it is right.

If the free society cannot help the many who are poor, it can never save the few who are rich.

To our sister republics south of our border, we offer a special pledge—to convert our good words into good deeds—in a new alliance for progress—to assist free men and free governments in casting off the chains of poverty.

But this peaceful revolution of hope cannot become the prey of hostile powers. Let all our neighbors know that we shall join with them to oppose aggression or subversion anywhere in the Americas.

And let every other power know that this hemisphere intends to remain the master of its own house.

To that world assembly of sovereign states, the United Nations, our last best hope in an age where the instruments of war have far outpaced the instruments of peace, we renew our pledge of support—to prevent its becoming merely a forum for invective—to strengthen its shield of the new and the weak—and to enlarge the area in which its writ may run.

Finally, to those nations who would make themselves our adversaries, we offer not a pledge but a request: That both sides begin anew the quest for peace, before the dark powers of destruction unleashed by science engulf all humanity in planned or accidental self-destruction.

We Must Be Strong

We dare not tempt them with weakness. For only when our arms are sufficient beyond doubt can we be certain beyond doubt that they will never be employed.

But neither can two great and powerful groups of nations take comfort from their present course—both sides overburdened by the cost of modern weapons, both rightly alarmed by the steady spread of the deadly atom, yet both racing to alter that uncertain balance of terror that stays the hand of mankind's final war.

So let us begin anew—remembering on both sides that civility is not a sign of weakness, and sincerity is always subject to proof. Let us never negotiate out of fear. But let us never fear to negotiate.

Let both sides explore what problems unite us instead of belaboring the problems that divide us.

Let both sides, for the first time, formulate serious and precise proposals for the inspection and control of arms—and bring the absolute power to destroy other nations under the absolute control of all nations.

Let both sides join to invoke the wonders of science instead of its terrors. Together let us explore the stars, conquer the deserts, eradicate disease, tap the ocean depths and encourage the arts and commerce.

Let both sides unite to heed in all corners of the earth the command of Isaiah—to "undo the heavy burdens . . . (and) let the oppressed go free."

And if a head-on of cooperation can be made in the jungles of suspicion, let both sides join in the next task: Creating not a new balance of power, but a new world of law, where the strong are just and the weak secure and the peace preserved forever.

All this will not be finished in the first one hundred days. Nor will it be finished in the first one thousand days, nor in the life of this administration, nor even perhaps in our lifetime on this planet. But let us begin.

In your hands, my fellow citizens, more than in mine, will rest the final success or failure of our course. Since this country was founded, each generation has been summoned to give testimony to its national loyalty. The graves of young Americans who answered that call encircle the globe.

We Must Work

Now the trumpet summons us again—not as a call to bear arms, though arms we need—not as a call to battle, though embattled we are—but a call to bear the burden of a long twilight struggle, year in and year out, "rejoicing in hope, patient in tribulation"—a struggle against the common enemies of man: Tyranny, poverty, disease and war itself.

Can we forge against these enemies a grand and global alliance, north and south, east and west, that can assure a more fruitful life for all mankind? Will you join in that historic effort?

In the long history of the world, only a few generations have been granted the role of defending freedom in its hour of maximum danger.

I do not shrink from this responsibility—I welcome it. I do not believe that any of us would exchange places with any other people or any other generation.

The energy, the faith, the devotion which we bring to this endeavor will light our country and all who serve it—and the glow from that fire can truly light the world.

And so, my fellow Americans: Ask not what your country will do for you—ask what you can do for your country.

My fellow citizens of the world: Ask not what America will do for you, but what together we can do for the freedom of man.

Finally, whether you are citizens of America or of the world, ask of us the same high standards of strength and sacrifice that we shall ask of you.

With a good conscience our only sure reward, with history's final judgment of our deeds, let us go forth to lead the land we love, asking His Blessing and His help, but knowing that here on earth God's work must truly be our own.

President John F. Kennedy

Stars Pull Quips at Late, Late Gala Show

By RYLAND MORRIS

WASHINGTON (AP)—John F. Kennedy spent the first hour and a half of his inaugural day watching the last acts of a gaudy relay staged in his honor by a huge cast of Hollywood and Broadway stars.

He appeared to be having the time of his life.

But when the massive show ended at 1:30 a.m.—90 minutes behind schedule—Kennedy started a serious note.

"It is now inauguration day," he said, quipily. "I hope that all of you will join Lyndon B. Johnson and myself in committing us all to the defense of the Constitution of the United States."

The oath of office is the core of the ceremony scheduled to start at noon.

Kennedy and his wife, Jacqueline, and Vice President-Elect and Mrs. Johnson drove to the National Guard Armory through a sleet, blinding snowstorm. It was one of the worst in Washington's history.

TRAFFIC CONGEALS

Traffic congealed. Thousands of formally dressed celebrants, stranded for lack of transportation to the armory, milled around in hotel lobbies.

Snow and ice that quickly formed on the streets, and hundreds of cars left abandoned by their owners contributed to one of the greatest tie-ups the capital has ever seen.

Kennedy's car, and those following it, had trouble getting up Capitol Hill.

It was Mrs. Kennedy's first formal appearance since the birth of her second child. She wore white talk ottoman, and a diamond and emerald necklace.

SHOW STARTS LATE

The Kennedy reached the armory about a half hour after the show was scheduled to begin. But that was well before thousands of others in the audience reached there. Sir Laurence Olivier, one of the principals in the cast, was reported stranded at the British Embassy. Olivier finally made it. Eleanor Roosevelt, also scheduled to appear with the cast, didn't get to the scene at all.

Apparently in order to give other guests time to arrive, Kennedy and his wife waited in a reception room for an hour instead of going to their box. The show was timed to start a moment after the Kennedy's arrival. It was an hour and 40 minutes late. The armory, with a capacity of 13,000, was about half filled when the show started. Democratic officials hoped nevertheless that tickets sold would bring an estimated $1.3 million toward defraying campaign expenses. Kennedy said the party had gone into debt $4 million to win the presidency.

Once the big show was under way, the howling storm and bitter cold outside were forgotten.

Bette Davis, Frederic March, Sidney Poitier, Anthony Quinn, and Olivier started it off. Each briefly recited some aspect of the world, the United States, and the presidency in the hour of Kennedy's coming to office.

Then, for more than two hours, the stars followed each other on stage.

SINATRA JOCKES

Frank Sinatra, co-producer of the show, quipped that "nobody in the cast is young enough to be in the new Cabinet."

There were singers Sinatra, Ethel Merman, Helen Traubel, Louis Prima, Ella Fitzgerald, Nat King Cole and Harry Belafonte. Between songs, comedians Joey Bishop, Alan King, Jimmy Durante, and Milton Berle held the stage. Gene Kelly and Juliet Prowse performed the main dance numbers.

After the intermission, Johnson was introduced and spoke briefly. He said the appearance of so many people on such a night was "a perfect example of the spirit of the Democratic party. Neither rain, nor sleet, nor snow can stop the Democrats once they get going."

Mrs. Kennedy did not stay until the end. She left around 1 a.m. As the last number closed, and the house lights went up, Sinatra announced, "The President-Elect, John F. Kennedy." The audience rose to a man and gave Kennedy a long ovation.

Like Johnson, he said the presence of so many people "when the winds of adversity blow" was a testimonial to the character of the Democrats. He said, too, that he was proud of his party because it had gone $4 million into debt in the campaign.

He got a laugh when he said, "I wasn't a bit disturbed about the fact that I saw a one-way ticket to Mexico, dated Nov. 9. Then I realized we had to get going."

He said "the happy relations between the arts and politics have come to a culmination here to night." He singled out Sinatra as a special subject of his appreciation.

Then, in reminding his listeners that the inauguration ceremony was only hours away, he left. He resided home about 3:45 a.m. after stopping with a friend at a downtown restaurant.

Walled Lake Jaycees Laud 'Young Man of '60'

Wilford Hook Given Award

Patrolman Doing Fine Work With Juveniles, Also on Police Job

By JIM LONG
WALLED LAKE—A local policeman was named the Outstanding Young Man of the Year by the Walled Lake Junior Chamber of Commerce last night.

Wilford Hook, a patrolman with the Walled Lake Police Department since 1959, received the organization's Distinguished Service Award for his "unrelenting work with area youths."

The 33-year-old Walled Lake resident received the award in the form of a silver plaque at a Jaycee banquet held in Rotunda Inn at Pine Lake.

Hook lives at 1411 Leon St., with his wife Norma and their 8-month-old daughter Rebecca.

Specifically, the award was given to Hook for his active interest in helping juveniles. However, several other factors played important roles in his selection for the coveted honor.

APPREHENDED TWO
It was pointed out that Hook was responsible for the apprehension and arrest of two men on separate occasions who were wanted for breaking and entering in the area.

A year ago Hook trapped one of the men on the roof of the Lakeland supermarket. A fight followed and the thief fled. Hook shot him in the foot.

In December Hook arrested a Taylor Township man wanted for several crimes in the area. Following his arrest the thief admitted to at least six break-ins in Oakland and Wayne Counties.

Before becoming a policeman and youth officer for the department, Hook had been a Walled Lake fireman for a year.

His work outside the police department includes being a member of the recently organized Youth Protective Group and a member of the important area work committee.

He is a deacon of the United Methodist Church of Walled Lake, and is assistant Sunday school superintendent.

The young officer is a native of Detroit, where his father Paul still lives.

Hook's award read: "For outstanding service through loyal, faithful and unselfish efforts resulting in lasting contributions to the community and nation."

Another award was presented to the most active Jaycee in the local club during the past year.

Recipient of the key award was Charles Davis, publicity chairman of the Walled Lake Jaycees.

The awards were presented by Justice of the Peace Gene Schnitz, who was named outstanding young man of the community last year.

Guest speaker at the three-hour program was Robert Brown, of Farmington who is national director of the Michigan Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Clawson-Troy Elks to Initiate 'Largest' Group

A class of 61 from Clawson-Troy Lodge No. 2189, Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, will be initiated into the order Tuesday night at the lodge rooms of Pontiac Lodge No. 810.

The initiation will honor Donald J. Wilson, who as state chairman of new lodges instituted the Clawson-Troy Lodge. It is considered the largest group ever initiated in Michigan BPOE history.

Wilson also will be given a plaque for his outstanding work in the organization.

Visiting Elks officials will include Albert Vernon, president of Michigan Elks Association; Alfred Tiffin, vice president; Clement Young, state chairman of new lodges; and Robert Steeb, state district grand exalted ruler.

Dinner will be served to all candidates and Elks at 6:30 p.m., according to Lewis W. Kline, exalted ruler of the Clawson-Troy lodge.

Teen-Age Musical Film to Be Shown at Church

CLARKSTON—"Summer Love," a musical film on teen-age romance, will be shown at 7:30 p.m. Saturday at the Methodist Church. The film is sponsored by the Margaret Richards Circle.

Back to real music hits are featured throughout the film, starring Molly Bee and John Saxon. The production was selected primarily for the entertainment of youth in the area.

A minimum charge to cover expenses will be collected. Teen-agers from surrounding communities are invited to the movie.

HOME DELIVERY — All packaged up and ready for shipment to New York is this new type of factory-built home which will be in mass production next month at Champion Home Builders Co., Dryden. The two 10-foot units shown here will be locked together to make a permanent 36-by-20-foot home. It contains three bedrooms, a bathroom, kitchen, utility room and living room and can be bought completely furnished.

For New Prebuilt Home

Firm to Hike Work Force

By DON FERMOYLE

DRYDEN — Champion Home Builders Co. will increase the work force at its main plant here by 50 per cent after Feb. 1 when it starts mass producing a new type of prebuilt family home.

The company, one of the largest in Lapeer County with about 200 employees, will begin hiring 100 more workers next month, according to Henry George, youthful co-owner of the firm.

Although Champion Home Builders is one of the major mobile home manufacturers in the nation, a company spokesman emphasized that the new product is a permanent home and not a house trailer or prefabricated building.

It is a 50-by-20-foot structure and contains three bedrooms, a kitchen, bath, utility room and full sized living room, explained Paul H. Jones, special assistant to the owner.

"There are predictions in the industry that over 50 per cent of the homes built for under $15,000 will be of this type in five years," Jones said.

ONE UNIT A WEEK

He reported that the firm has been producing the prebuilt homes here on a limited basis for about two months. The company has been turning out one unit a week during this time.

However, the company will move its home manufacturing operation into a new 35,000-square-foot structure Feb. 1. The new factory located on the firm's 15-acre site in Dryden will be used exclusively for production of the prebuilt home.

"We expect to be producing two units a day by March 1," Jones stated.

The unit, split into two 10-foot sections for shipping, will be delivered by the company's own fleet of trucks. The basic home includes bathroom fixtures, hot water heater, screens and an oil gas furnace.

It can be bought completely furnished. Champion Home Builders, which has other factories in Ellettsville, Ga., and York, Neb., manufactures furniture and all component parts for both its trailers and prebuilt homes.

MAKES OWN PLASTICS

The company even has its own plastics plant at its Dryden headquarters. The versatility of the firm's operation can be seen by the variety of jobs it has opened up to area residents.

Everyone from welders to seamstresses work at the plant.

"We employ locally 1,000 people here," said Jones, "and we expect to hire more of them to help build the homes. The company never has had any serious labor trouble. We've found the people from this area are good, loyal workers."

"It's sort of a one-big-happy-family arrangement," he explained. "The owners show up here every morning, one at about 7 o'clock and the other at 8 o'clock."

"There isn't anything that I, Henry George, don't know about the production end of the business. And the same goes for Walter Clark as far as sales go."

George, 35, and Clark, 45, both quit their jobs with a Port Huron trailer firm to start their own business 7½ years ago.

Between the two of them they built their first trailer in a quarter but here in 1953. It was constructed by hand and later sold by Jones, who has a thriving mobile home dealership of his own in New York.

Now, according to Jones, George and Clark own one of the largest mobile home concerns in the country. And they own a company which will be the first to have the new type of prebuilt home in production.

Rochester C. of C. to Honor Businesses

ROCHESTER — Certificates of merit will be presented to a number of local business firms when the Rochester Area Chamber of Commerce holds its annual dinner at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday.

The certificates will be awarded to new businesses which have moved into the area and those which have remodeled their buildings during the past year, according to C of C secretary Betty Levick.

Featured speaker for the dinner, which will be held at the Elks Temple in Pontiac, will be Joseph Brady of Howell, an executive of the Citizens Mutual Insurance Co.

Music will be provided by Roy Jones of the Sherry Music Co. and the Utica-Rochester Chapter of the Sweet Adelines vocal group.

Start Violation Traffic Bureau at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — A traffic violation bureau has been established here.

The object of the bureau is to relieve the congestion of the justice of the peace court and save time for the violator and the police.

Under the old system a traffic violator had to appear in court no matter how minor the offense. With the new bureau violators will have the opportunity to mail the fine.

They still will be able to appear in court for a hearing on a violation. It is their decision, according to Gene Schnitz, local justice of the peace.

Violators will have to pay their fines by mail or appear before Schnitz, who will supervise the new bureau, within 10 days after being ticketed.

OK Post Office for New Hudson

To Construct Building Under the Commercial Leasing Program

NEW HUDSON — Construction of a new post office here has been authorized by the Post Office Department. It was announced today by Rep. William Brownfield, R-Oakland County, in making the announcement, said he has been advised the new facility will be built on the southeast corner of Grand River Avenue and Sheple Street.

New Hudson Postmaster Harold T. Ham said that he has been informed that the new building will be constructed under the post office commercial leasing program, which utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprises.

The new post office will contain about 1,800-square feet of interior floor space, plus a loading platform and adequate parking and truck maneuvering area.

Bidding forms, specifications and other data will be available to prospective bidders in about six weeks, according to Haas.

The site option will be transferred to the successful bidder who will purchase the land, construct the building to specifications, and then lease it to the Post Office Department on a long-term basis.

Mackie Asks FEPC Probe His Office

LANSING (UPI) — State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has proposed the Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) investigate his department's employment procedures, instead of having a probe by a legislative committee.

In a letter to Commission Chairman Alex Fuller, Mackie said the "unpleasant" Mackie's action came Thursday, two days after State Rep. Roger B. Townsend, D-Pontiac, proposed a House committee be named to look into complaints of discrimination in promotional and employment practices in the department.

James G. Cabours of Utica will be presented a provisional certificate in secondary education. Provisional teaching certificates also were earned by Miss Thayer, Miss Mattson, Miss Moon, Frid, Hale and Miss Billig.

The posts represented were 15 of Charleston; 40 of Waterford Township; 40 of Rochester; 23 of Auburn Heights; 37 of Lake Orion and Ship 46 of Waterford Township.

The program was highlighted by a police firearms demonstration by Trooper H. O. Wade from the Pontiac State Police Post. He gave safety tips for handling firearms and showed how they should be used on the camp rifle range.

A potluck supper climaxed the day's program which was concluded with a film of the Fifth National Boy Scout Jamboree held near Colorado Springs last July.

This was the second activity sponsored by the newly formed Manito District Explorer Chapter, which is a subdivision of the Clinton Valley Council of Boy Scouts of America.

The Manito District Explorer Chapter consists of 20 representatives and an advisor from each Explorer unit in the Manito District.

In a letter to Commission Chairman Alex Fuller, Mackie said the "unpleasant" Mackie's action came Thursday, two days after State Rep. Roger B. Townsend, D-Pontiac, proposed a House committee be named to look into complaints of discrimination in promotional and employment practices in the department.

Troy Man at His Job After Ice Floe Rescue

Back at work today after his harrowing experience of being caught on an ice floe that broke loose from shore in Lake Erie yesterday is Myron Yancer, 52, of 316 Minnesota St., Troy.

Yancer was one of 15 fisherman lifted by Navy and Air Force helicopters from the ice, which was about a half-mile wide, three-quarters of a mile long and six inches thick.

A dog that had gone out to romp with the fishermen also was rescued.

The dog broke away from the main body of ice at 8:30 a.m. near Lemington, Ont., and moved slowly out into the lake.

Three hours elapsed before Merces Township Police Chief Roy Bole was notified of the ice break. He alerted the Coast Guard which in turn requested aid from Greater St. Naval Air Station and Selfridge Air Force Base.

The rescue mission was completed in less than an hour as the helicopters were used to lift the men, two at a time, from the ice and fly them to nearby Point Pelee, Ont.

"It was quite a thrill to be rescued by those helicopters," Yancer remarked today. His only other comment about the experience was that "it was mighty cold" during the period he and his friends waited for help to arrive.

Yancer, who is married, works as a paint mixer at the Chrysler Corp.'s Dodge Main Plant in Detroit.

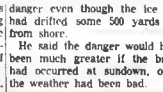

Eleven of the 13 fishermen rescued by Grosse Ile helicopters were from Michigan. They were Steve Shes, the Rev. C. Swenson, Floyd Ross, Stanley J. Ross, James Buccaria Jr., Lawrence Stevens, Charles Martin and Bernard Bark, all of Detroit; George Jungst, Warren; Frank Liss, Dearborn; and Yancer.

Lt. Cmdr. Jack Keufel, a helicopter pilot from the Naval Air Station, said the rescue mission was "routine." He said the fishermen weren't in any immediate We're sorry to hear that Tom Belton, Waterford Recreation Director, will be leaving the area for a similar position in Austin, Minnesota.

Waterford citizens can take it for what it's worth, but from this corner, there was no one more sincere in his job than Belton. He wanted nothing more than to make the recreation program in his community a success.

One thing is pretty obvious. Tom was an innocent victim of politics. He was raked over the coals by a few people in Waterford for selfish reasons.

Belton was stunned. He honestly believed he was doing the best possible job. As far as this writer is concerned he was.

Tom could have stayed and fought the Tammany society but why take personal abuses when a job like the Minnesota opening presented itself?

In 1955 he was Waterford's Outstanding Young Man-of-the-Year. He has lived up to that honor the past five years and now Austin, Minn., becomes the heir.

Treacy's 664 Top Effort in Classic at West Side

Pat Treacy led the West Side classic this week when he shot a classic of 213-267-381 for a final score of 768-1048. Treacy is one of the lower average bowlers in the league but he got hot for the night to stop and dropped the Royals into third place in the Western Division. The Royals were without high scorer Alex Robertson, sidelined with a clubbed game of 267 by Dick Hipps.

PCH, Saginaw Clash Here Tonight

By BILL CORNWELL
The "blue chip" game has arrived for the Pontiac basketball team—the one the Chiefs must win to stay in contention for their 3rd consecutive Saginaw Valley Conference title.

Saginaw High, with an impressive list of credentials, a 10-1 record, will clash with the Chiefs tonight at 8 o'clock in a midweek league showdown at the PCH gymnasium.

First place in the hectic SVC race will be at stake in this duel between the Trojans, pre-season favorites to win the crown, and the defending champion Chiefs.

Art Van Ryzin's PCH cagers, who have annexed three Valley crowns in the last four years, cannot afford another league setback. PCH has a 3-1 conference record and a 2nd seed would just about kill the Chiefs' hopes for another championship.

The Trojans have a 7-0 record altogether and currently set the pace in the top four with a 4-0 mark. What's more, they're Michigan's top-ranked Class A prep cage power.

Saginaw boasts the most lethal 1-2 scoring punch anywhere in the state in senior forward Jerry Tillman and junior center Ernie Thompson, who have combined for 315 points.

Tillman, a 6-foot 4 gunner, is the Valley's leading scorer with an average of 24.6 in league circle contests. Thompson, who stands 6-3, is a close 2nd in the SVC point race with a 21.8-per-game average.

The Chiefs, with an overall mark of 6-2, are presently Michigan's 9th-ranked quintet. They'll have to perform as though they were the No. 1 club this evening if they want to topple the high-flying Trojans.

Saginaw will have a height advantage in the starting lineup. Forward Brian Best measures 6-4 and guard Bruce LaBrecche is 6-2 to go along with Tillman and Thompson. The shortest starter for the Trojans will be 5-10 guard John Jacobson, a southpaw shooter.

Van Ryzin is definite regarding four starters. Dick McCauley mark 6-2, and Andy Roach (5-11) will start at the guard positions with 6-3 George Ford and 6-1

Clarence Douglas getting the call at forward.

The center post will be assigned to either 6-2 junior Paul Brown or 6-4 Bradell Pritchett. Van Ryzin may not make his final decision on the 5th man until 10:01 p.m.

Douglas, the Chiefs' blinding outside guard, now holds 4th spot in the SVC scoring race with a 18.5 average. Ford, Central's agile rebounding artist will have his hands full on the backboards tonight, is averaging 11.3 for 9th place.

Although the battle between unbeaten Saginaw and the Chiefs is the state's No. 1 game tonight, another important Valley contest takes place at Saginaw Arthur Hill where the Hillites, now sharing 2nd place with PCH, meet dangerous Flint Central.

An upset victory by the underdog Chiefs and a win for Arthur Hill would throw the SVC race into a three-way tie for the lead.

(Special to Pontiac Press)
DUNEDIN, Fla.—Bob Nodus, 24-year-old assistant professional from Bloomfield Hills Country Club who fired a competitive round, recording 64 here on Tuesday, teamed with President John F. Kennedy's home professional, Walter Hall, Hyannis Port, Mass., here yesterday to maintain a five stroke-lead in the fourth annual PCA Senior-Junior championship.

Nodus and Hall fired a 2-under par 70 over the 6,814 yard par 35-37-72 PGA National Golf Club layout yesterday in the 54-hole best-ball event.

LA Meet, Degree,
Millrose—That's
Jones' Itinerary

Pontiac's Hayes Jones, a bronze medal winner in the 1960 Olympic Games at Rome, flies to the west coast today where he will compete in his specialty, the high hurdles, in Saturday's Los Angeles Invitational track meet.

He will return to Ypsilanti after the meet in time to receive his Bachelor of Science Degree from Eastern Michigan University in Sunday afternoon Commencement exercises at 3 o'clock. Jones' degree will be in physical education.

Then, on Friday, Feb. 3, Jones will try to switch his unbeaten record in Madison Square Garden racing to new straight when he enters the annual Millrose Games.

The National AAU hurdles champion will defend his 60-yard high hurdles crown against 15 rivals, according to the Millrose Athletic Association.

Nodus and Hall collected the $50 daily prize on Thursday for their post-shooting 11-under 46, donated to the low net winner daily by the sponsors.

Nodus and Hall didn't play their consistent game, but lost no ground as high winds out of the southwest took its toll of those likely to bust par over this tough layout. Nodus and Hall each picked up a pair of Birdies and each collected a pair of bogies in today's round to continue their domination over the field.

The finals of this event, for the members of the PGA with one senior (over 50 years of age) teamed with a junior (a PGA member under 50 years of age), will be held on Saturday and all indications point to a first place finish and the $1,000 added purse for Nodus, whose father owns a nine-hole course at Crystal, Mich. and Hall.

The teams are tied for second place at 133. Bill Jelliffe of Lakewood, Colo., and Bonnie Graham of Sioux City, Iowa, held on to their second spot position while the teams of Ed Capompolino of Bradford, Pa., and Andre Chaves of Levis Quebec, moved up from the pack into tying position.

Boros, Regan Going Well in Winter League

DETROIT (AP) — Three young players considered key men in the Detroit Tigers' 1961 plans have been playing winter baseball in Puerto Rico, and Rick Ferrell has encouraging word concerning all of them.

Ferrell and another Tiger vice president, Jim Campbell, recently completed a scouting trip to Puerto Rico where they saw 14 games.
However, they did not get to see two of the top prospects, Flint's Steve Boros and Larry Osborne in action.

Boros, the Tigers' No. 1 third baseman, was on the disabled list of the Mayaguez club for 10 days because of a sprained ankle.

"He's hitting about .265 though," said Ferrell, "and that's pretty good down there. The lights aren't good, most of the games are at night and there's some pretty good pitching in that league."

Ferrell talked at length with Boros and said the former University of Michigan athlete is eager to meet the challenge the Tigers have thrust at him.

"He's really looking forward to the challenge," said Ferrell. "He says he can't wait to get to spring training."

The Tigers felt Boros' fielding and throwing needed some work, and a former Tiger farm club manager, Bill Adair, has been working with Boros to improve that part of his game.

Adair is managing the Mayaguez club on which several of the Tigers are playing.

One of the best right-handed pitchers in the Puerto Rican

League is Phil Regan of Wayland, Mich., who spent half of the 1960 season with the Tigers.

He has been under special orders to work hard to improve his breaking stuff. Ferrell watched Regan pitch two outstanding games and the young hurler yielded only two runs in 18 innings.

Regan has a 9-3 record and an earned run average of about 2.00.
"All the managers down there consider Regan one of the best right-handers in the league," said Ferrell, "so we're very encouraged over his progress. Adair has been helping him with his curve ball, too, and we see considerable improvement in him."

First baseman Larry Osborne played only the first half of the season with the Shastore club, and was hitting over .300 when he came home for the holidays and elected not to go back.

The Tigers are especially encouraged over Osborne's weight, or comparative lack of it.

Osborne scaled 232 when the 1960 season ended, after reporting last spring at about 215.

"I talked with him last week," said Ferrell, "and his weight is about 220 now. We want him to lose five more pounds a before spring camp opens, then most of all, we want him to stay at that weight during the season."

Ferrell reported that outfielder
George Aloush, given a good chance to make the Tigers in 1961, is having some trouble hitting.

Martin Quirk, former Montreal
Golden Gloves boxing champion, is a sophomore hockey player at Michigan State.

It was a mighty perplexing problem for awhile, but Fitzgerald High School swimming coach John Weick finally discovered a way to distinguish between the two Davis boys on his team.

Both lads are named Kenneth, but they are not related. One is a freshman and the other is a sophomore. "I'd get two replies everytime I called for Ken Davis," said Weick, "and I started seeing double. So I decided that one would be called Ken and the other Kenny."

Weick admits now that he's forgotten which name was assigned to which boy, but the youngsters themselves, much to his relief, have learned who is Ken and who is Kenny.

"The only resemblance between the two is their crowcuits," said Weick, "and it's a good thing too, because I have enough trouble distinguishing names, let alone faces."

Can't you just hear Weick at Fitzgerald's next meet? "Hey, Ken, you're up next! No, wait, I mean Kenny. Answer, I wish one of you fellows would let your hair grow."

GRID GAMES WANTED

Five Oakland County area high schools are seeking football foes for the 1961 season. The schools concerned and the open dates to be filled are as follows:

Almon: Sept. 15; Hazel Park, Oct. 20; Millington, Sept. 29; North Branch, Sept. 22; Southfield, Nov. 3.

ODDS AND ENDS

The Bloomfield Hills High basketball squad set three records in last Friday's 73-52 rout of Brighton. Bruce Billings' 32 points set an individual single-game mark, topping the 29 scored by Tom Maron last season. The 73 points established a record total for one game and the Barons' 25-point 3rd quarter was a new mark for a single period.

The PCH and PHN swimming teams and their coaches, Gene Norris and Ed Davis, seemed to enjoy every word of Gus Nagler's talk Wednesday at the Pontiac Jaycees' annual $1000 Night dinner in Devon tables.

Stager, the University of Michigan's 37-year-old swimming mentor who coached the 1960 U.S. Olympic swim squad, discussed the feats of his victorious swimmers at the games in Rome. The PCH and PHN tankers, guests of the Jaycees, certainly must have been impressed by his remarks.

Indiana University reportedly has the inside track on the services of PCH halfback Dick McCauley, although the All-Saginaw Valley star is still weighing other offers.

No. 16—Baseball's Unforgettable Games

Wilts Pirates, Wins Flag for Cubs

By JOE REICHLER and MEN GLAN

There are few baseball thrills that compare with the sight of a shiny white baseball streaking into the distant stands, nestling among the spectators for a home run was hit that few people saw. It didn't only win a game, it won a pennant. The blow was a shot in the dark that was heard around the baseball world.

It was hit to Wrigley Field and it probed the Chicago Cubs past Pittsburgh in the National League pennant and broke the hearts of the Pirates.

Although the blast into the left field bleachers was visible to perhaps a few spectators, all in the darkened ball park knew what had happened. The Chicago players stormed out to await their hero.

They followed him from third base to the plate, pounding his back, shaking his head, shouting incoherently at him.

When playing Manager Gabby Hartnett finally managed to cross the plate, he was lost from sight in a wild cluster of his own players. Ushers had to escort Gabby off the field.

The excitement in the stands was electrifying. The fans didn't see but they believed.

It was a game for the gods—a game that climaxed a stirring comeback by the Cubs. Only 10 days before, the Pirates had held what seemed to be a comfortable 3½ game lead.

With Bill Lee and Clay Bryant contributing excellent pitching the Cubs narrowed Pittsburgh's lead to only 1½ games when they met the Pirates in the opener of a three-game series on September 27.

The Cubs won the first game behind Dizzy Dean who needed help from Lee in the ninth. Now Pittsburgh's lead was a slim half-game.

The Pirates, smarting and in a vengeful mood, knocked Bryant out of the box the next day and forged ahead 5-3 in the eighth inning. Rip Collins opened the Cubs' eighth with a single and Billy Jurges walked. Pinch hitter Tony Lazzeri doubled, scoring Collins. Billy Herman followed with a single that got Jurges home with the tying run. Mac Brown, the Pirates' ace reliever, took over and stopped the Cubs.

It had been a dark afternoon, and it was getting difficult to see. The umpires conferred. They decided to let the game continue. Charley Root retired the Pirates easily in the ninth. Now it was the Cubs' turn. This was sure to be their last chance. If they didn't score, the game would end in a tie.

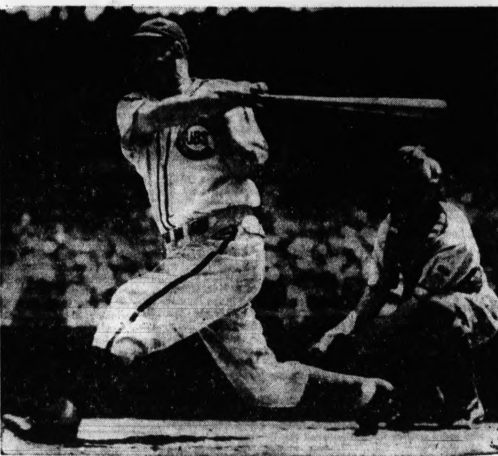

Phil Cavarretta, the first baseman, tagged a long drive to center but Lloyd Waner pulled it down. Carl Reynolds ground out for out number two. In the fast-gathering dusk, the ruddy-faced Hartnett approached the plate.

Old Tommie Foe, who had succeeded Charlie Grimm as manager in the middle of the season, stood at the first pitch and missed. He swung again and fouled it off.

It was really dark now. Brown wound up and threw Gabby swung and the ball hurtled through the gloaming and landed in the left field seat.

Plate Umpire George Barr, peering through the darkness, raised his right arm and signaled a home run. That's when pandemonium broke loose. The homer broke the backs of the Pirates.

The Cubs clinched the flag. They had come back a long way and the comeback had been brought to a stirring climax by the "home run in the dark."

Gabby Hartnett, who hammered out the home run which brought a pennant to Chicago.

Match Delayed

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sugar Ray Robinson, who has a long record of title fight postponements, is getting another one.

Robinson's 15-round bout here with NBA middleweight champion Gene Fullmer, scheduled for Feb. 25, was reset Thursday for March 4.

Promoters Jack Doyle and Mel Greb said Robinson was unable to get started with his training because of two court actions in the East.

In recent weeks Robinson has been involved in a paternity suit brought by a New York woman Thursday by a New Federal Court decision over Nicholas Trolis, who sued Sugar Ray for $75,000, charging he raped on an agreement to fight Fullmer in 1956 under Trolis' promotion.

Fullmer's manager, Max Jensen, said Thursday in West Jordan, Utah: "The postponement is all right with us this time, because we don't want Robinson to have any excuses. Gene wants Robinson to be at his best."

Fullmer, 34, is a former world champion who has won two world titles. He is now ranked No. 2 in the world.

YMCA Swim Team Meets Port Huron Saturday

Pontiac YMCA swimming teams head for Port Huron Saturday to compete in their third meet of the season.

Last weekend the local YMCA swimmers won two of three divisions in defeating the Bay City Midlets, 52-37, and the Bay City Juniors, 68-25. The Prep division lost its meet 25-68.

John Horro with the 20 yard freestyle and 20 yard backstroke for the Midlets in respective times of 1:18 and 1:53. Carl Hiller won the 20 yard freestyle and the 20 yard backstroke in 1:29 for the midlets.

Gary Sautter set a 40 yard freestyle pool record in 2:16 and he anchored the relay team which set a pool mark of 1:05.9. The team was made up of J. Car-fauters, M. Spink and S. Ydlin along with Sautter.

Nate Hedkins, Jay and Hugh Wilder and Dick Rice paced the 40 yard freestyle in 2:24 and was second in the 100. Rice won the 60 yard freestyle in 3:52 for a pool mark.

The Wilder boys had a big day. Hugh broke a pool record which stood since 1961 in the 40 yard backstroke in 2:49 and he also won 2:53 in the 60 yard individual medley.

Jay won the 40 butterfly and the 100 yard freestyle in 2:22 and 1:00.9 respectively.

Ross Coppersmith was lone first place winner for the prep. He won the 20 yard breaststroke and 40 yard individual medley in 1:45 and 1:05.2 times.

Lawrence Tech Ace NAIA Point Leader

KANSAS CITY UP—John Bradley of Lawrence Tech is the new leader of the NAIA individual basketball scoring derby.

Latest NAIA figures showed the Lawrence Tech up with a 12-game average of 34.3.

Lawrence Tech is ranked third in the NAIA in team offense with a 83.3 game average. Tech is ranked 16th in winning margin, capturing eight victories in 12 games by an average bulge of 14 points.

Johansson optimistically figured end would be about $1 million and Patterson, more conservative, assessed his gross would be around $800,000.

One complication that had held up the actual signing for the fight, announced before Christmas, was Patterson's insistence that there be no segregation at the arena. He had both verbal and written assurance from the City of Miami Beach, plus a $10,000 bond deposited by the promoters to guarantee it. If Patterson denies the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Mayor D. Lee Powell of Miami Beach said there never has been segregation at the arena.

The champ, first man ever to win back the heavyweight title, appeared to have grown in the last six months. He said he weighed 138 as compared to 130 for his last fight.

"I expect in a bout the name as last time," he said. "I don't want to change anything."

When asked for a prediction, Patterson said, "I choose not to express my inner feelings yet."

He sounded a bit like Cus D'Amato, his adviser, who was not present.

Johansson, flattened by Patterson's left hook in the third round some seven months ago, said he expected to use his left hand more.

Check Half Your Board, Now Asked of Chrysler

DETROIT (UPI) — A Detroit attorney and stockholder already involved in four lawsuits with Chrysler Corp. has asked the Chrysler board of directors to investigate half of its own membership for conflicting outside interests.

Sol A. Dunn wired the request Thursday to the central offices of the corporation. He said it is a privilege to another lawsuit he intends to file in New York.

Dunn asked Chrysler to investigate its 10 "outside" directors, men who hold no management positions but are successful in other big business firms, on its 30-member board.

The board was reduced to 20 members when director William C. Newberg, of 1411 Kirkway Drive, Bloomfield Twp., was forced to resign as president last June 30.

Newberg Wednesday filed suit in Wayne County Circuit Court here to prevent Chrysler from collecting $450,000 he promised to pay the firm.

Newberg promised to pay the $450,000 as his share of profits from two firms which supplied Chrysler with parts from 1952-56 and in which Newberg and his wife had half-interest.

In his suit, Newberg charged Chrysler Chairman L. L. Colbert, 611 Martell Drive, Bloomfield Hills, three directors and a company attorney used threats and coercion in a "conspiracy" to make him "a scapegoat behind which to hide and conceal the incompetence, maladministration, neglect, breaches of duty and self-dealing of which some of the aforesaid conspirators were guilty."

The outside directors named were Louis B. Warren, New York; Torney, W. Alton Jones, head of Cities Service Co., and James T. Trippe, president of Pan American World Airways. The attorney was Francis S. Benezel, like Warren, a member of the New York firm which is Chrysler's general counsel.

Chrysler said Newberg's charge were "without foundation." It said Newberg proposed the settlement only after Chrysler authorized suit against him to recover the money.

B52 Explodes; 5 May Be Dead

Two in Crew Parachute Six Miles Down Into State of Utah

MONTICELLO, Utah (UPI) — A B52 intercontinental jet bomber exploded 9 miles above the Southern Utah Badlands Thursday night, apparently killing five crewmen.

Two officers survived a long parachute drop of 36,000 feet, an ordeal they described as "colder than hell." Then they hiked to a highway and hitched a ride into town. Neither was badly injured. There was no nuclear bomb on the plane, the Air Force said.

Fragments of the 66-million-eight-hundred-pound bomber scattered over several acres of rocky ground 12 miles north of here and one chunk hit a cliff jutting out into a valley. Fires burned for several hours at three separate spots.

The two survivors told a doctor who treated them for abrasions that a severe vibration, much like turbulent weather, shook the plane as it winged north from Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Texas, on a round-trip training mission. One wing apparently caught fire and then exploded.

A witness said he saw three flaming bits of wreckage plummets from the clear sky.

A search, hampered by zero weather, was under way for the other five crew members.

Reporter Acquitted of Murder Charge

HERMANN, Mo. (AP) — Crime reporter Theodore C. (Tud) Link was acquitted of a first-degree murder charge Thursday. A Circuit Court jury found him innocent on the first ballot.

Link, 35, a veteran reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, had been charged with slaying Clarence W. Calvin, 35, a handyman who had a reputation for being dangerous. He was once a part-time worker for Link at the reporter's summer place near St. Albans, Mo.

The slaying occurred at the burned-out ruins of the summer home July 11.

Dominican Republic Hiding Missile Tests

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—East German missile experts are working with Dominican military officers on secret guided missile tests here, it was learned Thursday.

The exact number of the East German civilian technicians who arrived a little over a week ago was not revealed.

They are among a total of about 25 Europeans working with the Dominican armed forces on guided missiles. The nationalities of the other Europeans, who have been here for about two years, was not learned.

Ex-Track Star Loses Dash to Avoid Prison

YPSILANTI (AP)—James T. Joyner, 37, of Plymouth bolted across a field while being questioned about a burglary. Police had stopped his car.

Chester A. Wilson, 34, a Wash-tenaw County sheriff's deputy, gave chase and collared Joyner after a dash of nearly a mile through underbrush.

"I don't know how you caught me," gaped Joyner. "I was a track star in Tennessee."

"So was I in Kentucky," Wilson replied. "Let's go to jail."

2 More Cubans Are Executed

Pair Die Before Firing Squad as Dismantling of Defenses Begins

HAVANA (AP)—Fidel Castro's firing squads executed two more Cubans today. His regime began dismantling some of its defenses after 30 hectic days of alert against the invasion that never came.

The two men were executed at Havana's La Cabaña prison. Their names were not announced immediately.

They and six others were sentenced to die Thursday after conviction on charges of terrorism and sabotage. There was no announcement of what delayed execution of the other six. Seven other defendants were given 30-year sentences.

The executions brought to 367 the unofficial total of those gunned down by Castro's firing squads since he took power in January 1959.

Castro scheduled a speech this afternoon to welcome home some of the civilian militiamen being demobilized as the government pulled in its anti-invasion horns. It was assumed he would repeat his claim of last week that only the 20-day alert and the arms given him by the Communist bloc prevented the invasion he had said the Eisenhower administration would order before it left office.

Rev. King Benefit on Jan. 27

NEW YORK (UPI)—A fund-raising "tribute" to the Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., Southern Negro anti-segregation leader, will be staged in Carnegie Hall here Jan. 27 by Frank Sinatra's Hollywood and New York "clan" of entertainment-world intimates.

A sell-out crowd that will net King's Atlanta, Ga.-based Southern leadership conference an estimated $35,000 is expected, according to a local spokesman for the Baptist minister's organization.

The funds will be used by the civil rights leader, who inspired a wave of lunch-counter sit-ins by Negro college students throughout the south last year, to "extend the frontiers of liberty in the segregated South," the spokesman added.

Ticket prices range from $3.00 to $300.00.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, two former New York governors, two congressmen and one U.S. senator are among the "sponsors" of the benefit.

Allyson-Powell Reconciliation Is Hinted at

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—The meager public statements of June Allyson and Dick Powell suggest a reconciliation may be in prospect, but a divorce hearing is still scheduled for Jan. 31.

Miss Allyson, 37, filed a divorce action against the 36-year-old actor Tuesday, charging mental cruelty. A property agreement under which the actress would get about $2.5 million, accompanied the divorce papers.

Powell later told newsmen: "I still love my wife and I'm sure she still loves me."

Powell also suggested the matter might be ironed out "if people will only leave us alone." Miss Allyson agreed.

Powell has moved from their Beverly Hills home to a house in Newport Beach.

Stock Market Edges Higher

NEW YORK (U) — The stock market edged higher in moderate trading early this afternoon.

Wall Street was kept away from the city by a heavy snowstorm which marred transportation and by strikes on some of the commuter rail lines. The presidential inauguration was another factor which distracted attention.

After a mixed start, the market moved to the upside under the leadership of utilities and selected industrials. Rails took a back seat.

The Baltimore & Ohio issues could not be opened for trading due to a large accumulation of sell orders.

Steel, motors, rubbers, non-ferrous metals, chemicals, and aircraft-motors were higher on balance. Airlines and electrical equipment were off. Oils were mixed.

240 stocks pushed upward this week by heavy purchases from New York Central which seeks a place in the proposed merger of B&O with Chesapeake & Ohio, was a problem for the second straight day. It traded off briefly Thursday and then was swamped by orders which the New York Stock Exchange could not match to make a market.

New Broadway Show
Creates Role for Hero

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Tom Poston's new Broadway musical is "The Conquering Hero" and it strikes me in perhaps a corny way that Tom's sort of a minor hero in real life.

Over the weeks we had heard the show was in trouble. But Tom was never heard whimpering, whining, or acquiring a phony illness. He was always learning new lines, rushing to him half an hour ago. When I visited him at the ANTA Theatre after the opening, he said:

"I've never yet had a complete script. 'Look, here's a page we just got. I haven't had time to clip it in my book yet.'"

Tom, a Columbus, Ohio, boy who first got famous on TV, chose a couple of years ago not to move to Hollywood with Steve Allen's TV show—he wanted to be a Broadway actor. He still wants to be one!

I think sometimes the guys in struggling shows deserve a hand more than the stars in hits—they have a rougher time.

Toots Shor decided to give the inaugural benefit of his charm... A. Gardner (around town with S. American Joe Hernandez) is going, too... The Fredric Marches will appear at the Ball, Freddie'll appear at the Gala with Laurence Olivier, Sidney Poitier, and Anthony Quinn in a Norman Corwin sketch, "Club Sandwich in Four Parts."

Showgirl beauty Vera Vera and rich Curtis Swift, recently front-paged in a mystery shooting, just got married. They'll honeymoon in his 22-room apt., then at one of his six country homes.

THE MIDDLE NIGHT EARL... Max Anna of the Stage Delicacies won't be at the inaugural: "Why should I? Buddy Hackett sliced off 40 pounds for the film 'All Hands on Deck.'"

Ricky Nelson has another way to scare his fans and his bosses—call ripping... Director Walter Lang led on the ice and busted an arm directing skater Carol Heins in "Snow White and the Three Stoges"... Mickey Mantle celebrated his 75th Yankee contract with a double out of roast beef and milk at the Zimbers...

A major auto manufacturer may have to take a $2,500,000 loss—Castro ordered buses, won't pay for 'em.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: A fellow grumbled about his wife's driving: "Do you know any other woman whose vacuum cleaner has dent fenders?"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: If you doubt everything's speeded up today just see how long an all-day sucker lasts now... That's earl, brother.

Professional golfers go after a $50,000 prize pool in the Big Crow golf tournament, which is being held from Pebble Beach, Calif., at 5:30 p.m. Sunday (ABC). CBS presents a documentary on a U.S. Army pilot shot down from the North Pole in "City Under Ice" at 6:30 p.m. and at 9 p.m. Sid Caesar turns up in a comedy starring Ronald Reagan.

NEW DRAMA SERIES... A new hour-long drama series set in the Civil War period, "The Americans," will have its first showing Monday at 7:30 p.m. (NBC). On Tuesday ABC looks into the question of extraordinary preception in a documentary on "Alcoa Presents" 10 p.m.; NBC repeats its "Life in the 30's" 10 p.m. and Jackie Gleason and Arthur Godfrey substitute for Red Skelton on CBS at 9:30 p.m., with an unrehearsed game, Thursday.

CBS starts the new "Presenting Lady" with Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., and Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy, D-Minn., debating the role of the federal government.

ABRAHAM LINCOLN: "I have been selected to fill an important office for a brief period, and am now, in your eyes, invested with an influence which will secure my safety; but should my administration prove to be a very wicked one, or what is more probable, a very foolish one, if you, the people, are true to yourselves and the Constitution, there is but little harm I can do, thank God."

THE NATIONAL FOUNDATION... The National Science Foundation gave $67,000 to finance a summer study institute for 40 secondary school teachers of physics. A $40,000 grant from the U.S. Office of Education will study the effectiveness of teaching machines.

BRITISH NAB TRANSLATOR... Scott, a translator, made a brief appearance in Chicago's police station and was formally charged. Scotland Yard declined to give any details of Scott's arrest—or to state what documents he was alleged to have carried.

THE WEATHER BUREAU... Denver (UPI)—The U.S. Weather Bureau here said Thursday it would comply with the wishes of a chamber of commerce official and would no longer name Fraser, Colo., or any other mountain town, as the coldest spot in the nation.

RESTS FROM BATTLE — This Laotian government soldier had his automatic weapon by his side as he rested on a pile of ammunition cases during a break in a series of battles on Nam Lik River last week. Government forces were then pushing north from the Laotian border of Laos, the royal capital of Laos. American T-19 trainer fighter planes supported the advance.

Plan $5-Million Hospital at Edge of Rochester

200-Bed Facility to Be Built South of Village by Detroit Institution

The board of trustees of Detroit's Crittenton General Hospital today announced plans for construction of a $5-million, 200-bed hospital just south of the Rochester village limits.

The announcement came as the culmination of over three years of effort by a group of Rochester area business and professional people who have been working towards getting a community hospital to locate in the area.

Crittendon General Hospital is a 194-bed facility which includes Florence Crittenton Maternity Home, the largest of its kind in the country.

"Crittendon General's administrator, Dr. E. N. Silbey, said the institution's board of trustees plan to continue to operate its present hospital after the new branch is built 'within a few years.'"

"The site of the branch hospital is expected to be along Rochester Road somewhat south of the village limits," stated Silbey. He added that Crittenton will not build on the property it purchased in the fall of 1959 at Doras and Opdyke Roads in Pontiac Township.

The proposed location of the new facility came after a series of meetings between officials of the Detroit hospital and representatives of Bertha Van Housen Hospital Inc., the Rochester group which has been seeking a medical center in the area.

Dr. Edgar J. Geist Jr. is chairman of the Rochester organization.

"While we first proposed the building of a smaller hospital," reported Dr. Geist, "we now feel that the interest of patients (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

102 Escape Death as Plane Crashes

NEW YORK (UP)—A jet airliner crashed Thursday night seconds after taking off in a wind-whipped snowstorm. The huge ship's speed sent it slamming across a highway, clipping an auto and skidding in flames into a marsh.

Of the 106 persons reported aboard, 102 escaped death, although at least 26 were injured, several critically.

The dead tentatively were identified as four of the eight crew members—three men and the woman purser. Sixty-one of the 98 passengers aboard the four-engine airliner are residents of the United States.

The airliner, a DC8B of Aeromexico, went down at 8:23 p.m. It was bound north for Mexico City.

One survivor, G. Terry Schuch of Farmington, Conn., said the plane got about 50 feet in the air, then skidded down. Other survivors weren't certain if the plane ever got off the ground.

Airport observers said the $5-million craft had to get aloft to clear a concrete fence at the end of the runway. The plane did it, but a wire fence just beyond the concrete barrier. Sections of the wire fence were crumpled in the wreckage. The front section of the plane became enveloped in flames.

The Civil Aeronautics Board and the Federal Aviation Agency began on-the-scene investigations in an attempt to learn the cause of the crash.

The one person aboard who might have the answer is William B. Poe, 32, of Miami, Fla., cockpit pilot aboard the plane. But Poe's condition early today at St. Joe's Hospital in Queens was described as "not critical."

Visibility at the time of the crash was a quarter of a mile, and the ceiling about 300 feet.

IDENTITY BODIES

Police tentatively identified the bodies found in the wreckage as those of Capt. Ricardo Gonzalez, the pilot; First Officer Antonio Ruiz Bravo; Second Officer Javier Alvarez Bacha; and Gloria Sanchez Herrero, the purser.

Earlier, many persons had been declared missing in the confusion which followed the flaming crash. When the plane finally halted, passengers leaped through exit doors and smashed windows and fled in all directions in the sub-freezing temperature.

Many were picked up by passing motorists and taken back to the airport or driven to hospitals.

Josephine Nickeski, 43, of Rosedale, Queens, became a plane crash victim while driving along a highway near the airport. Her car was hurled about 100 feet off the road when clipped by the jet, and then caught fire.

Mrs. Nickeski was described as in satisfactory condition today at St. Joseph's Hospital.

Takes His Oath, Gives Short, Strong Address

Day Cold, Windy, Row as New Chief Pledges to Defend Liberty

WASHINGTON (UP)—John F. Kennedy took the oath of office today with the solemn pledge that this nation will defend liberty at all costs, and with an eloquent plea to the Communists to join in a new quest for peace.

It was a blustery, cold, raw day, and President Kennedy looked out on Capitol grounds blanketed with an eight-inch snow.

Kennedy, with only about four hours sleep, started his inaugural day by attending Mass at his parish church.

He left his Georgetown home at 8:35 a.m. for Holy Trinity Church, about three blocks away. He was driven in a car by a Secret Service man.

Kennedy told newsmen who greeted him that he was feeling fine.

"Let every nation know," Kennedy said in his prepared inaugural address, "whether it wish us well or ill, that we shall pay any price, bear any burden, meet any hardship, support any friend or oppose any foe in order to assure the survival and success of liberty."

Then, without mentioning the Communists by name, he said: "To those nations who would make themselves our adversary, we offer not a pledge but a request: That both sides begin anew the quest for peace, before the dark powers of destruction unleashed by science on humanity in planned or accidental self-destruction."

In this frigid setting—you'd have to go back to the blizzard of 1909 at William Howard Taft's inauguration for a worse one—Kennedy held out warm words for the future.

"If a beachhead of cooperation can be made in the jungles of suspicion, let both sides join in the next task. Creating not a new balance of power, but a new world of law, where the strong are just and the weak secure and the peace preserved forever," Kennedy said.

Queen Liz Heads East

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth and Prince Philip took off today on a 3-day tour of the Middle East and Far East including India and Pakistan, the first British monarch has paid to these two nations since they achieved independence in 1947.

London, jubilantly decried against curtailing plans for the colorful parade of men and missiles, bands and bagpipes, and even a Navy PT boat.

Three thousand workmen worked all night to clear the route.

She looked regal and beautiful in a long gown of white silk, outlined with a simple rounded neckline embroidered with a necklace of diamonds and emeralds. The dress had elbow-length sleeves.

Mercury Will Drop Down Around Zero

The Weather Bureau says temperatures will tumble to a low of 30 to 40 below zero tonight in the Pontiac area.

Continued cold through Wednesday with no important day to day changes in the forecast for the next five days. Precipitation for the period will total about one-tenth of an inch in form of snow flurries.

Temperatures will average 8 to 12 degrees below the normal high of 26 to 34 and normal low of 12 to 20.

The mercury registered 9 above at 4:30 this morning in downtown Pontiac. At 1 p.m. the recording was 19.

THE SMILING KENNEDYS—At noon today, John F. Kennedy and his wife Jacqueline became the nation's First Family. As president-elect, Kennedy poses with his wife at Thursday night's inaugural gala, a celebration featuring stars of screen, radio and television. Frank Sinatra was the promoter for the money-raising event. The Kennedys arrived late because of the storm but many guests failed to get there at all. Sinatra still hoped it would be a financial success for the Democratic party.

3,000 Work to Clear Off Ice

Parade Goes on Despite Snow

WASHINGTON (UP)—Special forces lined up along Pennsylvania Avenue today, bundled up against the biting cold, to watch the inaugural parade for President John F. Kennedy.

Twenty-degree, cold and an eight-inch snow, failed to dampen spirits in the party centers of an expected large throng, in the heaviest clothes at hand, gathered along the historic route and at the Capitol, scene of the swearing-in ceremony.

The sun beamed cheerily this morning.

The rule and a half parade route from the Capitol to the White House had been cleared, right down to the pavement, by a huge force of men and a huge array of equipment borrowed from the Army.

Crews had even brushed the blowing snow off many of the higher steps.

Democrats celebrating their return to executive power in Washington.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—John F. Kennedy was pronounced in "excellent" health by a medical report issued today, just two hours before he was sworn in as President.

After the ceremony and a quick lunch at the snow-covered Capitol, the Kennedy's reviewed the long inaugural parade from an open air reviewing stand in front of the White House.

With only a brief breather in between, they will change to formal evening clothes to attend five separate inaugural balls, starting up at about 2 a.m.

Mrs. Kennedy apparently was keenly aware of the busy schedule in store for her.

She took all the rest she could get Thursday night, making her first big public appearance since the November election, she went home before her husband from the inaugural gala.

She looked regal and beautiful in a long gown of white silk, outlined with a simple rounded neckline embroidered with a necklace of diamonds and emeralds. The dress had elbow-length sleeves.

Capitol Police Blasting Away

Attempting to Scare Starlings Off, Keep Building Clean

WASHINGTON (UP)—Those Capitol policemen who were firing their guns into the air during the snowstorm Thursday were not playing games. Neither were the officers beating the east front of the Capitol with bamboo poles.

Capitol Architect W. George Stewart explained they were frightening off starlings. "We want a clean front on the Capitol tomorrow," he said.

District of Columbia police have a friendly warning for out-of-town visitors to the inaugural.

A note distributed to vehicles with out-of-town tags wishes the owner a pleasant visit and adds: "We ask you not to leave your luggage, clothing, cameras or other valuables in your automobile at any time while it is parked on the streets during your visit."

Some of the best seats for the inaugural parade were free. An estimated 12,000 government workers and their families clustered around office windows faring on the parade route.

The agencies in the so-called Federal Triangle area alloted passes to the offices for workers and their families. Government workers get the day off.

Out-of-town visitors weren't the only ones troubled by the snow Thursday. It almost stalled participation in inaugural festivities by Mrs. John F. Kennedy's family.

Joe took a low truck to be called to haul D. Auchincloss' car up a hill to his home. Auchincloss, Mrs. Kennedy's stepfather, had no chains or snow tires.

Salary for Judge Tied to Population
A ruling by Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams that probate judges in counties showing a population increase are entitled to an automatic salary increase will not affect Oakland County's two probate judges, the corporation counsel's office said today.

Charles A. Davis, assistant corporation counsel, said the two local judges are being paid "way below" the top state bracket of $15,000 now. They are paid $22,500.

Adams' opinion held the Van Buren probate judge is entitled to a salary increase of from $7,000 to $8,000 a year. The county jumped in population from 39,184 in 1950 to 48,029 in 1950.

President Makes Hold Husband Appeal for Peace in Wife's Death

Lansing Mother of 5 Fatally Slashed After Squabble at Home
LANSING UP — A mother of five was found today with her throat slashed last night after her husband, bled to death from a knife wound, dashed barefoot from their home.

Willard Anderson, 28, was arrested about an hour later at the home of his wife's brother, Gerald Henderson, who had called police when he saw Anderson approaching.

Anderson's wife, Arlene, 30, died while she was being rushed to a hospital.

The couple's oldest child, Ernest, 12, ran to a neighbor's house for help after his father, dressed in an undershirt and trousers, fled.

Police said the stabbing occurred during an argument over Anderson's drinking.

Ernest, who was injured at St. Lawrence for a deep gash on the right hand, told police he was cut when he grabbed the knife blade in an effort to save his mother.

The couple's four younger children, ranging in age from 10 months to eight years, were not injured.

$5-Million Hospital Planned in Area
In the greater Rochester area can best be served with the building of the 200-bed Crittenton hospital.

Sibery said Crittenton's trustees decided that locating further east than first planned would better serve "the hospital bed deficit area of Rochester and Western Mason County."

The final decision was based on a study made by the planning consultant firm of Geer Associates of Birmingham, Sibery said. He reported that the hospital authorities now will select a definite site and have an architectural firm.

Sibery estimated that it would take three to four years to complete the branch hospital project.

Area residents will get a chance to meet representatives of the Crittenton and Van Housen groups at a public forum to be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 9 at Woodward Elementary School in Rochester.

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo — The U.N. Command today said 12 Belgians have been arrested by rebels in Katanga seeking revenge for the transfer of Patrice Lumumba into the hands of his enemies in Katanga Province.

U.N. overtures for the Belgians' release were curtly rejected. The rebels charged the U.N. Command with complicity in the ex-Prime Minister's transfer from an army camp near Leopoldville.

The Day in Birmingham School Board Sets 1.5 Minimum for Graduation

BIRMINGHAM — A new policy to encourage better work from high school students has been adopted by the Birmingham Board of Education.

Effective in June, seniors who have not attained an over-all scholastic average of at least 1.50 will receive only a certificate of attendance and not a diploma.

The attendance certificate will mean that a student merely has gone through four years of high school.

According to Mrs. Peter Loomis, school board president, the certificate means the student has completed school but is not a graduate.

A student who receives such a certificate will not be allowed to participate in the cap and gown ceremony, Mrs. Loomis explained.

Those students failing to meet the requirement will have the opportunity to return school for an additional year in order to achieve the required scholastic average, she said.

The average is arrived at on a quality point system in which an A is worth four points, B three points, C two points, D one point and E no points.

The over-all average is obtained by adding the total number of points for all credit courses taken and dividing by the total number of semester courses taken.

The board of education has been considering adopting the policy since 1958.

Middle Belt Church Damaged by Smoke
WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A fire at the Church of the Shepherd here early today was started by spontaneous combustion, said Fire Chief Herbert Morgan.

The fire at the recently completed Lutheran church, Middle Belt and Maple roads, started when a can of paint and thinner ignited near a folding door separating the auditorium from the chapel.

Fire damage was relatively minor, Morgan said, but smoke damage was considerable.

The fire was discovered about 3:30 a.m. by passing motorists. Sheriff deputies were the first to arrive at the church and first attempted to put out the blaze with a fire extinguisher.

Rocky Says Tie-Up Near Catastrophe as Negotiators Wrangle

NEW YORK (AP)—The crippling railroad tie-up tightened its grip on New York and New England today as snow, ice and bitter cold brought new hardship for the horde of commuters forced to use buses and private autos.

Emergency negotiations sponsored by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller recessed at 2 a.m. with no progress in efforts to settle the harbor strike that caused the ever-widening rail paralysis.

Rockefeller, who canceled plans to attend the Kennedy inauguration, invited the negotiators and federal mediators to meet with him later today.

The governor said the tie-up was getting close to catastrophic proportions.

He stepped into the picture Thursday, announcing round-the-clock efforts toward settlement would be made.

The 21-day-old strike has stranded 100,000 commuters, most of whom have been using other means of transportation between the city and their homes in the New York-New Jersey-Connecticut metropolitan area.

The strike has shut down most of the operations of the New York Central and New Haven railroads. Long-distance service has been canceled in addition to service for 40,000 commuters on the Central and 30,000 on the New Haven. Also hit are 30,000 New Jersey commuters who use railroad ferries.

Heavy economic losses are being suffered in the area.

Students Tuned to Inauguration

3,000 Pupils in Pontiac to Witness Ceremony Through TV or Radio

Many of Pontiac's school teachers came to school this morning with portable radio and television sets under their arms.

Through the efforts and planning of teachers, administrators, parents and even television students, more than 3,000 students in Pontiac's secondary schools will see or hear today's inauguration ceremony in Washington, D.C.

Easily the most outstanding program is at Madison Junior High School.

"Parents and local television merchants started planning a few weeks ago. It's really been a community project," said Melvin Stubbler, assistant principal.

"This morning thanks to their efforts, we had 25 television sets in the school."

There should be a television set for every classroom at Madison. Stubbler estimated that 1,000 Madison students would see the historic event.

At Pontiac Central High School, 25-inch television screens will be on in the auditorium. Social studies classes will be held there for 80 minutes, 400 students viewing the ceremony.

There will be several rooms at the elementary level. At Lincoln Junior High will hear the address over the school's PA system. It will go mainly to social studies classes.

At Jefferson Junior High all social studies classes will be held in the auditorium before a large television set.

Charles R. Brey, principal, estimated that "some 100 students should see the inauguration and inaugural address, while more than double that number will see at least some part of the entire inaugural program."

Pontiac Fifth Among New Car Registrations for '60

For the first 11 months of 1960, Pontiac placed fifth in new-car registrations, according to figures released this week by Automotive News, the industry's weekly trade publication.

Pontiac registrations through November totalled 33,341, an increase over the 32,338 for the corresponding period of 1959.

Although more registrations were recorded through November in 1960, Pontiac occupied a higher slot in the registration figures in 1960—third place.

Pontiac, however, led all makes in the medium-priced field, as those with more registrations are lower-priced cars—Chevrolet, Ford, Plymouth, and Rambler.

Rounding out the top 10 behind Pontiac in car registrations through November are Dodge, 334,277; Oldsmobile, 321,352; Buick, 240,111; Comet, 141,578; and Mercury, 137,388.

In November alone, Pontiac again held down fifth place in new-car registrations, with 31,804. Oldsmobile, with 31,581, was in third place for the month.

In analyzing the registration figures, the trade publication noted that Pontiac's penetration of the market in November was 5.87 per cent, down from 5.93 of the previous month.

"Had Pontiac's Tempest done as well as Oldsmobile's F85, Pontiac would have replaced Olds as No. 3 seller for the month," the publication stated. However, the Tempest was not announced until Nov. 5.

Tempest registrations for November came to 3,278. Registrations of other compact cars were: Falcon, 37,111; Rambler, 31,341; Corvair, 21,945; Comet, 17,520; Valiant, 13,801; Lark, 7,337; F85, 6,760; Special, 6,445; and Lancer, 5,782.

On a year-to-year basis, with the first 11 months counted, Pontiac's 1960 penetration of the market (6.02 per cent) was down from the 6.45 per cent of 1959.

Communist Party Backs K's Reforms

MOSCOW (AP) — The Central Committee of the Soviet Communist party today approved Premier Khrushchev's call for a major reorganization of the management of the nation's vast farming program, with increased emphasis on scientific methods.

As a start, the committee called for a new plan for irrigating millions of acres of farmland in hopes of offsetting setbacks from bad weather and bad management.

The committee declared in a resolution that "big shortcomings and mistakes in leadership of agriculture were made" with the result that production fell in some instances below the minimum schedules set in the seven-year plan with which the Soviet Union hopes to overtake U.S. per capita production.

Give AT&T Green Light for Satellite Contacts

WASHINGTON (AP) — The government told the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. Thursday to go ahead with its plan to communicate with space satellites, with voice and television signals—but on an experimental basis only.

The earth-space communications research project proposed by AT&T was approved by the Federal Communications Commission only until Jan. 1, 1962.

The commission denied a request for assignment of a particular band of frequencies for space communication on grounds that this would be premature.

SOUNDLESS CALLER — A new silent paging system—the VibaCall—improves in-plant communications at Oldsmobile's main plant in Lansing by replacing less effective whistle-and-buzzer paging methods. Upon receiving an electronic signal from the VibaCall transmitter switchboard, a miniature electric motor sets up a vibration in the Vibrator-receiver shown being worn on an Oldsmobile supervisor's belt. The receiver is a compact device, only slightly larger than a package of cigarettes.

The first steam warship built for the United States Navy was the Demitrios. Launched in the War of 1812, it had 44 big guns plus a trick gear that kept 300 piles and cutlasses jerking in and out of ber sides to cut down enemy boarders.

Old Man Winter Kind to Road Commission

So far Old Man Winter has been pretty kind to the Oakland County commission chairman. He had in mind February, when history shows that the heavens usually open up wide and dump plenty of snow on the streets below.

Thatcher said a check of the records show that up to Jan. 1, 1960, there had been 17,000 tons of salt and sand spread to keep county roads, including state highways, passable.

"Up to the same time this year we have used but 6,700 tons," he said.

The stockpiles are in good shape for whatever may come.

Should the winter close out as it is starting, Thatcher said this makes it possible that some of the state gas and weight tax funds normally used for snow removal could be applied to improvement of primary or local roads.

But February and March are yet to come, Thatcher reminds us.

Snow Sends Hoover Back to Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—A day of fishing in the Florida keys was planned today by former President Herbert Hoover, 86, while a man half his age took the oath of office in Washington as this country's new president.

Hoover sent John F. Kennedy a radio message last night that "I made a hard try to attend your inauguration."

The elderly statesman left Miami at 12:30 p.m., in an Air Force DC-8, flew to Washington, circled the storm-closed airfield there for an hour, and landed back in Miami at 9:40 p.m.

Failure to attend the inauguration disappointed Hoover. He told newsmen, "I think this is the first I've missed. I don't remember exactly."

Veteran Newsman Dies in Holland Hospital

HOLLAND (AP) — William F. (Bibi) Young, 59, a veteran newspaper and radio newsmen, died today at Holland Hospital. He had undergone surgery last October and was readmitted last Sunday.

Young retired two years ago as a newsman and copy writer for radio station WHCT at Holland. He previously had worked for newspapers in Grand Rapids, Bay City, Danville, Ill., and Crawfordsville, Ind.

LUCKY TO BE ALIVE — Mrs. Yola Friedman of New York City (right) is comforted by an unidentified woman after surviving the Mexican airliner crash at New York's Idlewild Airport Thursday night. The Eastern Air Lines terminal where Mrs. Friedman is pictured was set up as an emergency aid station.

Survivors Tell of Escap From Crash

NEW YORK (UPI) — A policeman squinted through the driving snow at the wreckage of the giant DC8 Mexican airliner, and wondered aloud, "How did they get out?"

Here, in the words of some who escaped, is his answer.

Anthony Marone of Mount Holly, N.J.: "We got about half the distance down the runway (on take-off) and I told my wife I didn't think we were going to get off. There was something I didn't like. The pilot cut his engines. I told my wife, 'brace, yourself.'"

Nicholas Deracht, president of the Pan American development Corp., of Washington, D.C.: "The plane seemed to get up five or six feet off the ground and came down again. It crashed through a fence and the whole front of the plane just disappeared."

Mrs. Joyce Groper, 28, of Chestnut Hill, Mass.: "It burst into flame the instant it touched. We were in first class, in the front of the plane, about 20 of us. I was sitting beside the emergency door and started to open it but the flames were terrific, and then someone called 'Come up front! Come up front!'"

Benoit Garneau, 35, of Hastings on Hudson, N.Y.: "A lot of cars passed us up (on Rockaway boulevard, near the marshland where the plane crashed). They wouldn't stop. A good samaritan found me."

Ill-Fated Jet Ordered Originally by Eastern

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The Mexican jetliner which crashed in New York was originally scheduled to be delivered to Eastern Air Lines. "We ordered 16 of them but agreed to give one up as a good will gesture," commented an EAL spokesman in Miami.

BATTLE JET'S FLAMES — Firemen work in a driving snowstorm to fight the flames of the burning Mexican airliner which crashed, exploded and burned in a marshy area 3 miles northeast of Idlewild Airport's main terminal building. The plane faltered on the take-off and crashed outside the main fence of the airport killing four of the reported 106 persons aboard.

Dash From Wreck Cost Man $40,000

NEW YORK (UPI) — Luciano Pereira escaped with his life when the Mexican DC8 airliner crashed here last night, but he said it cost him $40,000.

He left the money behind in the flaming wreckage.

"When the plane crashed I tried to open one of the doors in the rear, but was jammed." "The stewardess opened the door and the people rushed towards me and I had to jump out . . . I [money order. I cashed the money couldn't find my coat before leaving the plane. The coat contained insured. I lost my coat when the $40,000 which I had just received plane crashed. from Argentina in the form of a "I guess it's gone forever."

Victims Mirror Disaster

NEW YORK (UPI) — One by one, shoeless, coatless and in some cases on the verge of hysteria, men and women straggled into the Eastern Air Lines terminal from the crashed jetliner Thursday night.

Paul Adanti, general manager of WHEN-TV, Syracuse, N.Y., whose flight home was canceled at the time of the crash, described the scene:

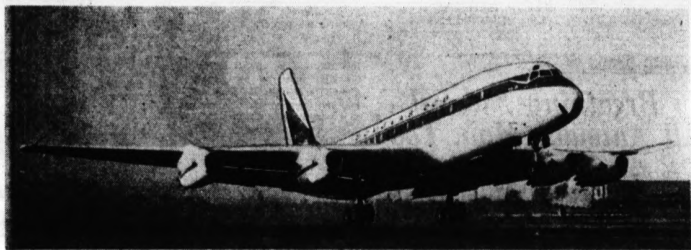

"One elderly gentleman was the first to arrive. He seemed to be on the verge of a heart attack and was given Extreme Unction. At first, those of us in the terminal main lobby thought a automobile accident had occurred."

"But then as shoeless men, coatless women, all pale, trembling and some in torn garments, straggled in assisting each other, we realized what had happened."

The survivors were for the most part unscathed.

Within a half-hour, Adanti said, all seemed to have recovered their composure — that is, all except one lady who "bore up magnificently" until, when walking to the bus, a photographer flashed her picture, and she fainted.

TYPE OF PLANE IN CRASH — This is a four-engine DC8 jetliner of the Type that crashed in a snowstorm Thursday night about 3 miles from New York's Idlewild Airport. Police said the plane, a Mexican airliner operated by Aeronaes de Mexico, crashed into a heavily populated area shortly after take-off.

Why Does U.N. Permit Russia to Forgo Dues?

Studying the budget of the United Nations it is quite clear that it really is infinitesimal when compared to the national budgets of either Russia or the United States.

Even with all the added expenses caused by the Congo trouble the total sum is really modest. One fact stands out quite clear and that is that Russia has refused to pay her share.

How can you be a member of an organization and not pay your just dues? Particularly when you are as outspoken a member as Russia. Apparently this does not bother K or his gang.

Russia mentions, and at times even acts worried about the U.N.'s becoming bankrupt. She could help this situation by paying not only what she owes with respect to the Congo operations, but also the modest sum she has been assessed for the business of many of the U.N.'s permanent agencies.

For the record, it is interesting to note that the United States, on a formula based partly on national wealth and ability to pay, contributes almost one third of U.N. costs. On the other hand, Russia is supposed to, but doesn't contribute slightly more than one-eighth.

How long must we continue to do business with someone not paying their just share?

Kratt Well-Deserving of 'Young Man' Award

The honor of 'Outstanding Young Man of the Year' awarded to Oakland County Sheriff's Deputy DONALD KRATT is well-deserved.

Under the guidance of Sheriff Frank Irons, Sgt. Kratt has done an outstanding job of organizing and supervising the Water Safety Patrol. This volunteer group has saved several boaters' lives, and brought some degree of sanity back to lake operations on many of the county's crowded lakes.

The organization has been well-received by the lake area residents and most of the transient boaters who haul their craft to the lakes. Its fame has spread to many other areas who have boating problems.

A safety director, Kratt has many other duties. Currently, he is spending much of his time working with youngsters, warning them of the dangers of befriending strangers.

Through his efforts, a great deal of valuable equipment has been donated to the sheriff's department; for mobile disaster units and emergency work.

Oakland County is proud of this young man who has given so much of himself in helping to make his community a better place to live.

New Secretary of State Approves of Neutralism

In appearing before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, DEAN RUSK, designated secretary of state in the KENNEDY Administration, had wise words to say on neutralism:

"We need not be concerned regarding genuine neutralism. If new nations are strong, viable, progressive, their foreign policy as neutrals is not as important as their health. We should not insist that anyone who is not with us is against us."

"Neutrality to me is not a serious difficulty because we can live with a world community under law, co-operating on many problems without exacting pledges."

Most neutral nations are committed not to either side in the cold war but to their own freedom and well being. Real democracy should allow for differences of opinion. By raising living standards and building up democratic institutions in their own lands, they are serving the cause of peace and freedom.

We have come a long way in our understanding of neutral countries since a former secretary of state regarded them as enemies and neutralism as immoral.

Coming Our Way A Survey Shows Facts; They Somewhat Twist 'Em

Population: What Detroit hasn't got to keep.

Endeavoring to find an excuse or alibi for Detroit's population loss of nearly 200,000, (largest in the nation), during the past ten years, a University of Michigan survey discloses what everybody else already knew—they're moving out.

However, the survey plays careful in making any prediction as to whether or not this trend is continuing—when everybody else also knows that it is going strong as ever.

Its findings on the big city's nearby suburbs also are a little amusing, because some of them declined, and very few others showed anything but a microscopic gain.

The unvarnished truth is that Detroit people have been moving out our way, into Oakland and Macomb counties, both of which showed a marvelous growth, mostly former Detroiters.

To be admitted is the survey's frank admission that the Detroit inner city, being all of the area within six miles of downtown, lost 270,000 in the past ten years, more than the entire population of one of our states, Alaska.

So, welcome Detroiters, I'll wager that none of you are sorry you made the change—hundreds of you have told me you were glad. Keep coming out where life is worth living.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Belly Breathing Natural to All Animals; Man, Too

By DR. WILLIAM BRADY Animals and savages naturally or instinctively breathe with the diaphragm. This is the easiest and most efficient way to breathe.

Poorly trained or poorly educated persons try to breathe with the chest muscles when they are conscious or when they think they are unconscious. When they're asleep or unconscious, they breathe with the diaphragm.

Formerly, West Point pibes had to "pull in that stomach" in the presence of upper class cadets. I don't know whether this absurdity is still practiced in the military academy, but the ill-soldier caricature keeps millions of Americans from breathing efficiently.

Watch an animal breathe after a sustained effort such as running a race or fighting—the breathing is bellows or belly breathing. In order to know how to breathe (as that's the title of Volume XXI of the Pocket Encyclopedia of Health, "How to Breathe," 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope), it is necessary, first, to understand clearly what the belly is and second, what the diaphragm is and how it works.

The belly is the front wall of the abdomen (not the tummy) and the diaphragm is the lower and larger body cavity, containing the liver, stomach, spleen, gall bladder, pancreas, small intestine, large intestine and a network of blood vessels which many hold as much as one-fourth of the entire volume of blood in the body under some circumstances.

The abdomen does not contain the kidneys, urinary bladder, uterus, or reproductive organs of man or woman. These structures are in the pelvis, a space below and more or less separate from the abdomen.

The diaphragm is another kettle of fish. Except physicians and the very few laymen who have had courses in anatomy and physiology in high school—serious courses, I mean, and not just a conglomerate of odd facts or lamiae called "science" or "biology"—nine out of 10 persons do not know what and where the diaphragm is or how it works.

The diaphragm is a partition separating the upper or thoracic from the lower abdominal cavity. It consists of an outer ring of muscle fibers, joined at the top of the breastbone, joined at the lower ribs, rib cartilages and Pentagon that one wonders whether these military men would venture to make decisions on their own unless the emergency were of a truly alarming nature.

MAINTAINS ALERT Thus the Air Force maintains a partial airborne alert around the clock and has facilities for detecting, if not intercepting, on coming planes and missiles.

front of the lumbar vertebrae; these muscle fibers converge all around into the central tendon part. The diaphragm covers the liver, stomach, spleen and intestine like a tarpaulin.

When it contracts, it presses down upon these organs and upon the network of blood vessels in the abdomen. At the same time, as the convex diaphragm contracts and flattens, it lowers pressure within the chest and (1) air is inhaled and (2) blood is forced from the veins in the abdomen into the veins in the thorax and on into the right auricle of the heart.

So the diaphragm is not only the main muscle of breathing but is also an important aid to the circulation.

Should letters not come within one week or 10 weeks, let me hear from you. Personal health and hygiene, not disease, is the subject. Write to Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright 1961)

Voice of the People:

'Area Folks Can't Afford Another Tax Increase'

Referring to the study of pay raises, it is time the city commissioners begin to think from where this increase of taxes is to come. All they have to do is go down Saginaw Street and see how many store buildings are vacant, and how many more will be vacated if increased wages, etc., are continued.

Let's stop inflation first by starting with our city government by holding the line and maybe it will continue to our state government. Raising prices on different commodities to give wage increases is not the answer.

How are people on social security going to pay increased taxes on their homes, food and clothing? You are to give more income to receive more. What more can you give?

Claims Imports Aren't So Great

An article appeared in our paper by Mr. Gordon, secretary of GM about the folly of people thinking that imports are always better than domestic products.

The next day we had proof of that wise observation in our own city when an imported Shakespearean troupe not only rundered Caesar but some of the finest pages in the English literature, but it was imported. Hence, it must be good whether it is spaghetti or theater. It was my third contact with Caesar's murderers in as many countries in the last few years. I have seen this I almost fell with Caesar when he died.

We have talented youngsters in our high schools. Given the money, time and coaches, they'll give performance that will let Shakespeare rest in peace.

Enjoyed Article About St. Agnes

I certainly enjoyed the article by Dr. Howard Harper, St. Agnes in the paper Jan. 14.

We have a son being ordained this May and he also is saying his first mass at St. Agnes Church in Detroit. He may not know about St. Agnes, so I sent him the clipping.

I wish I knew of a good book on the lives of saints. I have one but it just touches on a very few. Mrs. Peter Mars 215 N. Roan St.

Each morning when I go to town, I go to fetch the mail. My dog is waiting at the door. With wildly wagging tail. No human ever has displayed such bounding energy. As does my dog at break of dawn. In playing up to me. And if I do not take him to. My dog will point. He may not know about St. Agnes, so I sent him the clipping.

'Kennedy Will Soon Change Big Three'

I predict that Kennedy will soon make the Big Three, Kennedy, the Big Four and that will be Washington, Lincoln, FDR and Kennedy. Booster

'Why Didn't Ike Create More Jobs?'

He says he has balanced the budget with nearly a billion dollars over. How did he do it—by pushing men and women out of work? He should have spent a few billion on creating work for the unemployed. Also, I see where one gentleman worried about social medicine in the U.S. England has had socialized medicine and some think it is great. Why wouldn't it work here? Our government gets a lot of our money from taxes so why couldn't they fix a solid and sound health program?

Asks if Any M.D. Agrees With Brady

I agree with Dr. Brady's statement that a man's place during the birth of his child is at his wife's side. The birth of a child is the most precious event in the life of a married couple and it should be shared. Why do many M.D.'s and obstetricians refuse husbands the right to share the joy of childbirth with their wives? Are there any local doctors who agree with Dr. Brady?

By United Press International Today is Friday, Jan. 20, the 20th day of year with 345 more in 1961.

The moon is approaching its first quarter.

The morning star is Mars. On this day in history: In 1801, President John Adams appointed John Marshall to be chief justice of the Supreme Court.

In 1887, the Senate approved the leading of Pearl Harbor as a base for the U.S. Navy.

In 1891, Michael Elman, concert violinist, was born.

In 1925, King George V of Great Britain died.

In 1937, President Franklin Delano Roosevelt was sworn into office for his second term.

Thought for today: American novelist Herman Melville said: "Thinking is, or ought to be, a coolness and a calmness; and our poor brains beat too much for that."

Let's count little and celery is almost nil. A glass of skimmed milk is 100 but whole milk jumps to 150 calories. Bananas are 100, your hearts beat, and our poor brains beat too much for that."

ville, Fla.; George Ross, Barrington, Ill.; Charlie Harris, Waltham, Mass.; Ray Starkey, Garden Grove, Calif.; Bill Johnson, Waltham, Mass.; Gerard Zinner, Winter Park, Fla.; Edgar Maurer, Kahokia, Ill.; and Maurice Kowal, Grafton, Mass.

Jack Sure Can Swim, Says Crew Pal

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Patrick McMahon is in Washington today for the first time talking freely about how President John F. Kennedy saved his life during World War II.

McMahon kept silent during the election campaign because he was a mail carrier at Cathedral City, Calif., and didn't want to chance violating the Hatch Act which prohibits political activity by government employees.

Since then the incident has seemed just another piece of history. But inauguration day is a time for recalling history, and that is what McMahon is here for. Chiefly he has this to say:

"The skipper is a good swimmer—the best—there's no question about that."

The skipper turns out to be Kennedy, who commanded a 78-foot, 33-ton torpedo patrol boat designated PT109.

In the inaugural parade today, McMahon and eight other members of Kennedy's crew will ride aboard a duplicate of PT109 mounted on a large truck bed and pulled by a heavy tractor. The boat has a 22-foot beam.

McMahon, now a lean, gray-haired and deeply tanned man of 51, was the oldest member of the crew and one of the unluckiest on the night of Aug. 1, 1943, when a Japanese destroyer rammed the original PT109, shearing off a starboard section.

As the engineer of the crew, he was the only man below deck at the time. He happened to be in the part of the boat which first caught fire and sank almost immediately.

"How I got out of there only the old boy upstairs will ever know," McMahon said.

"I must have been thrown out the rear of the part that was sheared off."

"I remember dimly coming to the surface—it seemed a long time. Bucky Harris (Charles Harris of Waltham, Mass., who is also here for the inaugural) was nearest to me when I broke the surface and gave me the first help."

"My head had broken through the lines of my helmet and I felt like I was wearing a size 11 derby hat. I was badly burned, especially on one arm, and couldn't swim."

originally to be picked up by the Japanese. When nothing happened, they decided to attempt to reach a small island about four miles away.

Kennedy, clad only in skivvies, tied McMahon to a piece of timber from a wooden gun mount and, with the straps of McMahon's kapok lifejacket in his teeth, towed him to the island.

Two crew members who could not swim, William Johnson of Waltham, Mass., and Gerard E. Zinner of Winter Park, Fla., both of whom are here for the inaugural—were similarly towed.

The next day they transferred to another island, Kennedy again towing McMahon. After seven days of subsisting on coconuts and a little food and water found in Japanese caches, they were found by an eight-man native war canoe.

The natives brought welcome supplies. On the eighth day, the survivors were picked up by PT boats and taken to Rendova.

Titlist at Annual Winter Carnival to Be Sent to Grayling Competition

Selection of a winter ice queen will highlight the North Side Community Club's annual winter carnival the last weekend of the month.

Tentatively scheduled for Jan. 28-29 at Northside Park, Montclair and Edison streets, the carnival will postponed to Feb. 15 if ice conditions are poor, said John H. Ridgway, club president.

Skating contests and games will mark the two-day event, topped off by the annual Pontiac Skating Club show.

Winner of the ice title will be sent by the club to Grayling to compete for the statewide Winter Sports Queen title Feb. 11-12.

Competitors must be residents of Oakland County, at least 16 years of age. Skaters of only average ability or less may compete, said Ridgway, but professionals are ruled out.

The contest is primarily one of beauty, charm and poise, he said.

Opening day of the festival will see preliminaries in the various races for different age groups plus a hockey game.

The queen will be crowned the second day, after finals in the contests. The carnival is scheduled to end with the ice show.

Drayton Kiwanis Club to Sponsor Mills Circus

The Drayton-Waterford Kiwanis Club will sponsor the Mills Brothers circus in the Pontiac area in the Spring, according to President John Yung.

There will be entertainers from 18 foreign countries in one of the greatest shows on earth. All proceeds will be donated to underprivileged and crippled children, Yung said.

HE'S A LIFESAVER!—That's what 16-month-old Nancy Callemeyn thinks of Deputy Sheriff Eugene Michaels of Rochester, N.Y. The little girl, suffering from a virus infection, stopped breathing a week ago and was rushed to the hospital by Michaels. The quick-thinking deputy administered mouth-to-mouth respiration six different times on the way to save the child's life.

We'll Defend Berlin, Kennedy Promises

BERLIN (UPI) — President John F. Kennedy pledged in a message to Berlin published Thursday that the United States would fight if necessary to defend West Berlin.

He said he would defend Berlin just as he would New York or Paris.

Kennedy said, in the message published in a special issue of the "Berlin Illustrated," that a strong man who finally pulled him in "stand on Berlin and a strong U.S. policy toward Russia were the two essential elements needed to restore the unity of Germany."

Taste of Cake Intrigued Him, So He Lived

HONG KONG (AP)—Lee Kai-sun, 18, decided to commit suicide because his father would not let him taste his cousin's wedding cake before the marriage ceremony.

He jumped from the roof of a 12-story building.

Passing the ninth floor, he reached out, grabbed a jutting iron bar, and hung on.

"After I jumped," he told firemen who finally pulled him in, "I thought now I will have a taste of the wedding cake."

Holland Selling Bonds to Pay for Sewage Plan

HOLLAND (AP)—The city council has accepted the low bid of F. S. Smithers Co., of New York from among nine bidders on the sale of $1.6 million in bonds to finance a sewage system improvement project approved by voters last June. The city seeks a new sewage treatment plant and expanded sewer lines.

Thinking Ahead

The year 1980 hadn't been a good one for the studio; he admitted. Figures had just been released showing a $1,340,000 loss. The company profited $3,400,000 in 1979.

Disney explained reasons for the reversal: A squabbling with networks; two TV series going off the air; an outside film "The Big Fisherman" that lost money; over-estimates on film potentials, especially "Palladium," he said. He: "I think the picture should have done better with a different title. Girls and women went to it, but men tended to stay away because it sounded sweet and sticky."

PROFITS FROM EXPERIENCE

He is not one to dwell on past laphs, except to profit from the experience. Here are some of the lala he outlined in his varied palmas:

starting "Babes in Toyland" in March. It's a modernized version with pop lyrics for the Victor Hebert songs, which are just as good as ever. The cast will include Ray Bolger, Ed Wynn, Tommy Sands and Little Annette."

Also coming up: "Moon Pilot," an out-of-this-world comedy; "The Castaways," Julie Verne's take star Hayley Mills in England; "Bon Voyage," a tale of tourists in Europe to star Fred MacMurray.

Two in Crew Parachute
Six Miles Down Into
State of Utah

B32 intercontinental jet bomber exploded 6 miles above the Southern Utah Badlands Thursday night, apparently killing five crewmen.

Two officers survived a long parachute drop of 36,000 feet, an aerialist they described as "colder than hell." Then they hit the highway and hitched a ride into town. Neither was badly injured. There was no nuclear bomb on the plane, the Air Force said.

Fragments of the B-32 still eight-jet bomber scattered over several acres of rocky ground one mile north of here and one mile west of here, and fell into a valley. Flares burned for several hours at three separate spots.

The two survivors told a doctor who treated them for abrasions that a severe vibration, much like turbulent weather, shook the plane as it winged north from Biggs Air Force Base, El Paso, Texas, on a round-trip training mission. One wing apparently caught fire and then exploded.

A witness said he saw three flaming bits of wreckage plummet from the clear sky.

A search, hampered by zero weather, was under way for the other five crew members.

HERMANN, Mo. (AP) — Crime reporter Theodore C. (Tad) Lusk was acquitted of a first-degree murder charge Thursday. A Circuit Court jury found him innocent.

Link, 54, a veteran reporter for the St. Louis Post-Dispatch, had been working with slaying charges against Walter J. Olson, 33, a handyman who had a reputation for being dangerous. He was once a part-time worker for Link at the reporter's summer place near St. Albans, Mo.

The slaying occurred at the burned-out ruins of the summer home July 11.

Waterford School Board OKs 2 Building Additions

With last night's final approval by the Waterford Township Board of Education of plans for additions to school board offices and maintenance building, the school district is in the home stretch of a $5-million building program approved by voters two years ago.

John Cleland of the George D. Mullan architectural firm presented the final drawings and specifications for the two additions which will cost some $100,000. Construction bids will be accepted at 8 p.m. Feb. 16 at the board of education offices.

During the past two years the

Waterford Twp. Schools Lose 3

Principal, 2 Teachers Resign; School Board OKs 14 New Contracts

The Waterford Township Board of Education last night accepted the resignation of three teachers, and approved the contracts of 14 new teachers.

The three resignations being accepted were those of Mrs. Irene R. Cleland, principal of Williams Lake School; Duane J. Anderson, a teacher at Lake E. School; and Mrs. Joyce Grimes, 6800 Shalloway Drive, Clarkson, who is leaving two other teachers were from outside.

The 14 new teachers are: Mrs. Margaret Biggs, 2801 James K. Blvd.; Donald Dryden, 8300 Williams Lake Road; Dale Bowman, 1408 Lake Lane; Mrs. Helen Perry, 3174 Waterberry; Mrs. Patricia Spencer, 3706 Hamaker; Nora Tippen, 1362 Murray St.; Janet Wood, 313 Huronville Drive; and Mrs. Rose Evans, 2833 Perry Lane.

Those living in Pontiac are Mrs. Mabel Hanna, 378 Leola; Mrs. Alene Schultz, 418 Hume; and Mrs. Donna Arnold, 7 Hume. Mrs. Joyce Grimes, 6800 Shalloway Drive, Clarkson, also will leave two other teachers were from outside.

100 informational brochure, presented by Supt. William A. Shunk regarding the $5-million school building program, was approved subject to minor changes. The brochures will be available to township residents within a few weeks.

A request for the zoning change has been submitted to the zoning board by the Farnie & Irving Co. of Detroit.

According to supervisor Duane Hurstall there isn't much land available for light industry in the area, and the Detroit firm has a possible client for the property should it be rezoned.

Hurstall added that a special commission is now working on a plan to curb spot-zoning in the township by streamlining antiquated zoning and building codes.

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP: A hearing is slated for 8 p.m. Feb. 8 to consider rezoning a parcel of land on the highway between the Lakeside Cemetery from a residential to light manufacturing classification.

Market Prices Are Irregular

NEW YORK — Stock market prices moved irregularly in moderate early trading today.

Fractional changes were the rule for most key stocks. A few made wider moves.

DuPont dropped a couple of points. Texas Instruments advanced more than 2.

Oil was up 1/4 to 1 1/2 on a block of 10,000 shares, the largest transaction in early dealings.

Many Wall Streeters were absent because of a heavy snowstorm which snarled transportation. The situation was aggravated by a strike which tied up some of the commuter lines. Attention also was diverted by the presidential inauguration.

Baltimore and Ohio stock, both the regular common and the "stamped" stock, associated in the prospective merger with Chesapeake & Ohio, was delayed in opening due to an accumulation of sell orders.

Meanwhile C&O dropped a fraction and New York Central, which was regarded by much of the buying which drove up R&E in the last couple of days, was steady. Central wants a position in the merger parties.

National Theater Thursday's volume, which was active and steady.

Moderate gains included U.S. Gypsum, United Air Lines, Standard Oil of Indiana, American Telephone, Eastman Kodak, Air Reduction, and Goodyear.

Pro-West Laos Force Nears Key Junction

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — A Laotian government column today pushed to within 10 miles of the important Phou Khoun road junction commanding the western approach to the rebel-held Plain of Jars.

The column had advanced north from Vientiane. It captured the rebel base at Vang Vieng Monday and has driven 300 more miles north, reports from the front said.

But the advance of the column from Vientiane was a mixed blessing for Premier Prince Boun Oum's government. As it advanced, pro-Communist forces from Vang Vieng were retreating north. And as they retreated, the rebels pushed back another government column from Lao Pao, trying to link up with the column from Vientiane.

The Luang Prabang column which reported 10 miles north of Phou Khoun Junction Thursday. Its retreat opened an escape route east to the Plain of Jars for the pro-Communist forces from Vang Vieng.

Approve Demise of 4-Party Lines in Pontiac Area

The Michigan Public Service Commission has authorized the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. to discontinue four-party residence service in the Pontiac area. It was learned today at Lansing.

The change is part of Bell Telephone's plans to install direct dial service throughout the state, which is not adaptable to four-party service.

Ray Storm, Bell's Pontiac area manager, said today the change-over here will be gradual, and that the last four-party line is not expected to be done away with for a number of years.

New Gray Ladies Ready to Aid

By DICK SAUNDERS

Just 18 months ago Pontiac State Hospital and the Oakland County Chapter of the American Red Cross set themselves a goal — 100 Gray Ladies.

Gray Ladies volunteers last night, the hospital moved within easy shooting range of its goal.

This morning there are exactly 12 Gray Ladies at the mental institution, all thoroughly trained in their specialized field of volunteer aid.

Also, this morning, Mrs. George M. Sheriff, Red Cross Volunteer Coordinator for Pontiac State Hospital, began signing up new recruits.

"This should be our 'centennial' class," she said smiling. "We hope the spring class will take us over the 100 mark."

The Gray Ladies who received their caps last night were "graduating" from a rigorous 16-hour training program that began last Oct. 4.

Mrs. Sheriff capped each of the 18 volunteers and Mrs. William C. Spruill, chairman of the Red Cross Gray Lady Service, presented them with their pins signifying full-fledged Gray Ladies.

Those in the graduating class were: Mrs. Mary M. Averill, 42, of 41101 East 12th, who was arrested last month of embezzling $26,343 from Giffels and Valley, Inc., the architectural firm where she was head bookkeeper and office manager for 30 years.
