

U. S. Troops Battle Large N. Viet Force

From Our News Wires

SAIGON — U.S. forces fought their biggest single battle in a month and a half today.

The American forces spotted as many as 200 North Vietnamese troops within two miles of the Cambodian border and 83 miles north of Saigon and attacked them with jet bombers, armed helicopters, tanks and armored personnel carriers.

The U.S. Command said aerial observers counted at least 72 North Vietnamese dead and 40 bunkers smashed. A spokesman said that at last report fighting was still continuing.

CAPT. JOHN W. MARSHALL

Yank Survives Viet Ambush by Playing Dead

SAIGON (AP) — "I raised my hands to surrender, and they shot me down without mercy," Army Capt. John W. Marshall said today of a nightmare ambush he survived by playing dead on a narrow side road 28 miles north of Saigon.

The 27-year-old officer lived to tell the story, but the three men riding with him in a jeep to a Christmas celebration Tuesday were killed by the ambushers, who wore South Vietnamese army uniforms.

A handsome career soldier from Lawton, Okla., and formerly of Livonia, Mich., Marshall suffered a broken leg from one of the bullets. He was found the next morning by a road mine-sweeping team.

Marshall and the others had left Lai Khe, base camp of the 1st Infantry Division, for the artillery firebase where they were stationed, a few miles away.

'ONLY ONE ALIVE'

Three miles east of Lai Khe, 15 to 20 Vietnamese suddenly opened fire from the four-foot elephant grass bordering the road, Marshall related.

"After the initial volley, I was the only one alive," Marshall recalled. The jeep careened off the road into the elephant grass, he said. "They were all around me, so the only thing to do was surrender. Obviously, they didn't accept that."

"After they shot me, they were very excited because they thought they got a dai yu (Vietnamese word for captain). Thinking I was dead, they unbuckled my flag jacket, took my dog tags, personal effects and watch. All I could do was breathe shallow and hope they didn't discover I was still alive," he recalled.

"They dumped the other three bodies over mine and then poured gasoline over the jeep and the bodies. As they started to leave they threw a match, setting the gas on fire."

HAD TO MOVE

"Luckily, they moved away without looking back. I had to move as the fire spread and by the time I was 15 feet away, I could smell the burning flesh," he said. "For the next few hours I crawled away from the fire and tried to avoid the enemy who were all around with flashlights."

When dawn came, Marshall crawled back to the road and waited for help.

The spokesman said there were some U.S. casualties but he described them as light.

NOVEMBER BATTLE

He said it was the biggest battle involving American troops since last Nov. 12 and 13 when U.S. forces reported killing 178 North Vietnamese soldiers in heavy fighting just below the demilitarized zone. Fifteen Americans were killed and 62 wounded then.

The spokesman said helicopter crewmen of the 11th Armored Cavalry regiment spotted two companies of North Vietnamese troops nine miles northwest of the district capital of Loc Ninh, near Highway 12 which leads from Cambodia into South Vietnam.

Elsewhere, battlefield communiques indicated only light activity across South Vietnam following the end of the 72-hour Vietcong cease-fire.

Enemy troops shelled a town in the Mekong Delta and a South Vietnamese base near the demilitarized zone, communiques said.

FOUR ROCKETS FIRED

In one attack, two government soldiers were killed and four were wounded when enemy gunners fired four rockets into their camp at Dong Ha, 11 miles below the demilitarized zone.

The other attack took place near My Tho, the principal city in the Mekong Delta. Vietcong troops fired rocket-propelled grenades at government militiamen and pacification workers and wounded some of them, reports said.

What little fighting there was yesterday took place near Da Nang.

U.S. troops from the 196th Brigade lost two men killed and 11 wounded in a four-hour fight 23 miles south of the city. Two enemy were known dead.

NO U.S. CASUALTIES

In two other fights yesterday ranging from 20 to 90 miles south of Da Nang, eight enemy soldiers were reported killed. There were no American casualties.

U.S. B52 bombers flew four missions during the night, two of them hitting North Vietnamese infiltration trails into the A Shau valley in South Vietnam's far northwest corner.

Two other waves of the bombers unloaded their explosives onto what were described as Communist base camps, bunker complexes and troops 29 miles east and 88 miles northeast of Saigon, U.S. spokesmen said.

Hospital Emergency

LONDON (AP) — London hospitals, jammed by a wave of influenza cases, went on emergency status today.

The government said 284 persons died of the disease in Britain in the week before Christmas and 52 the week before that.

Baby Was Born a Heroin Addict

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Doctors say an infant showed the classic signs of heroin withdrawal less than a day after he was born: restless, running nose, tiny legs drawn up to abdomen in response to severe stomach cramps.

The infant, a heroin addict at birth, was born earlier this month at the Tucson Medical Center, hospital officials revealed yesterday.

The infant's mother and father, both Yaqui Indians in their late 20s, became addicts after their fourth child was born about three years ago.

Dr. Milton Semoff, a pediatrician, said the mother told him of her and her husband's addiction. After 15 days of treatment, the baby seemed to have recovered. He said the baby should be able to live a normal life.

'WOULD START KICKING'

"She told me if she didn't have a fix for two or three days during pregnancy, the baby would start kicking violently," the doctor said.

The infant left the hospital three days before Christmas to live with his grandmother in Tucson, Semoff says.

In return for releasing the baby, hospital authorities made the couple agree to undergo treatment for their addiction at another Tucson hospital.

"I think if the baby was not put into a situation where the usage of drugs is a common thing, he will have no more chance of becoming a narcotic addict than any other human being. But if you return him to an environment conducive to drugs, chances are he will return to that," Semoff said.

Low of 10 to 15 Seen for Tonight

There's a chance of light snow or snow flurries dropping in on the Pontiac area over the weekend, forecasters say.

The U.S. Weather Bureau forecasts the following:

TODAY — Fair to partly cloudy high in the 20s. Increasing cloudiness and continued cold tonight, low 10 to 15. Winds will continue light and variable tonight.

TOMORROW — Cloudy and not quite so cold with chance of light snow, high 20 to 34.

MONDAY — Cloudy and cold with chance of snow flurries.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are 10 today, 20 tonight and 40 tomorrow.

A frosty 16 was the low recording before 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac. The mercury had warmed up to 21 by 12:30 p.m.

Elderly's Medicare Fee Being Hiked

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Premiums paid by elderly Americans for supplementary Medicare coverage will go up to $5.30 per month next July 1, a 32.5 per cent increase over the current $4 fee.

Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, announced the increase yesterday.

The supplementary insurance cost the elderly only $3 per month when the program was launched in 1966.

More than 19 million Americans are now covered by Medicare, which consists of two parts — a voluntary medical insurance program and the government-financed basic hospital insurance. The voluntary program supplements the basic program by helping pay doctor bills and a variety of other medical expenses in and out of the hospital.

PAY FOR HALF

Those enrolled in the supplementary program pay for half of the cost of their protection, and the government pays the rest.

The premium increase isn't the only

FIRST LANDING—A helicopter transported an injured Pontiac skier from Mount Brighton to Pontiac's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday afternoon. It was the first time the hospital had received an emergency case by helicopter.

The patient, Anthony Nakas, 16, of 699 E. Tennyson, is in fair condition with a fractured right leg. The helicopter was used because the ambulance service did not have enough cars in the Mount Brighton area to send one to Pontiac.

President Hints He Will Sign Tax-Reform Bill Cargo Ship Burns; Crewmen Hunted

From Our News Wires

HONOLULU — A Vietnam-bound cargo ship loaded with bombs and rockets equal to 2,000 tons of TNT burned in the mid-Pacific Ocean today as a Greek freighter conducted a search for 25 missing crewmen after rescuing 14.

The 459-foot Badger State lay deserted and smoking from her stern 1,500 miles northeast of Hawaii.

Her crew abandoned the ship yesterday morning after some of its deadly cargo broke loose. About an hour after the crew got off an explosion ripped a hole in the starboard side just above the water line, according to the Navy.

Weather in the area was rough with 18-20 foot seas and winds up to 40 knots.

Among the fourteen rescued crewmen was the Badger State skipper, Capt. Charles Wilson.

The crewmen were picked up by the Greek freighter Khian Star, the only vessel within range of the stricken ship.

"We have no report of casualties," the Navy said, "but we can't say for sure if all the men are accounted for."

A rescue plane from Hickam Air Force Base remained in the area to drop flares after another plane had spotted all the life rafts with dye and smoke markers, the Navy said.

The nightlong search was hindered by fears the smoking Badger State might blow up at any moment. The Greek freighter was forced to stay three miles from it.

Later, the German merchant ship Brunstor radioed it was on the way to join the search.

The Badger State, a Military Sea Transport Service ship, was loaded with 8,900 rockets and tons of bombs ranging to the 2,000-pound size. Its combined cargo had an explosive equivalent of 2,000 tons of TNT, the Navy said.

The Navy said, "With the fire and big waves we don't know how long the can stay afloat."

Over 2 Feet of Snow in East

By the Associated Press

A major storm continued to lash eastern sections of the nation today with heavy snow, rain and strong winds.

Heavy snow piled up from the North Atlantic Coast to the Great Lakes and the central Appalachians.

Travelers warning were in effect for most of the New England area, where sleet and freezing rain made highway travel hazardous.

Snow depths of more than two feet blanketed portions of New York state and northern New England. Montpelier, Vt., had 39 inches on the ground while Glen Falls, N.Y., counted 34 inches and Albany, N.Y., 29 inches.

NO SERIOUS JAMS

Yesterday's 6-inch snowfall in New York City caused delays in public transportation but a light posthazardous computer turnout prevented serious bottlenecks.

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay flew back to the city yesterday to oversee snow removal efforts, after directing crews from the Bahamas by telephone in the early hours of the storm.

Power was being restored today for thousands of North Carolinians left without electricity by a Christmas night ice storm which snapped many power lines.

The current was turned on yesterday in about 5,000 Raleigh homes which were without electricity Christmas night.

Extra linemen were still at work in the early hours today to restore power for some 10,000 more customers from Durham, N.C., to Spartanburg, S.C.

North Carolina highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies from Burke County rescued three carloads of travelers early today after their vehicles became stuck in snowdrifts two to three feet deep. The travelers were stranded atop Jonas Ridge on U.S. 181 between Morganton and Linville Falls for nearly three hours.

Jet Hijacked to Cuba Finally Makes Chicago

From Our News Wires
CHICAGO — A United Air Lines jet arrived in Chicago today, 11 hours after the big Boeing 727 plane was hijacked on a flight from New York to Chicago and diverted to Cuba with 23 passengers and a crew of six aboard.
Earlier the plane landed in Miami after leaving the lone hijacker in Cuba.

It was the 59th hijacking of a commercial airliner this year.
United spokesmen identified the hijacker only as "M. Martinez."

PULLS OUT REVOLVER

About 10 minutes out of New York, he pulled a snub-nosed .38-caliber revolver from a brief case and told stewardess Sheila Sneed of East Orange, N.J., "We're going to Cuba. Sit down."
Sharon Brodack of New York City, one of three stewardesses on the plane, described the hijacker, as "tall, stocky, dark-haired and very nice."

Capt. Axel Paulsen of New York said the gunman never attempted to enter the cockpit "although we asked him if he wanted to. He said 'no' and that was fine with us because it made it easier."

To stewardess Linda Brennan, the hijacking was exciting.

21ST BIRTHDAY

"It was my 21st birthday and I spent it in Cuba," said the New York stewardess, who has been married one month.
"We all sang happy birthday to her," Jim Howard, 30, of Chicago said in Miami.

Lazaros Wins Hearing Delay

Mafia informer Peter Lazaros of Troy, facing some 18 state and federal charges of perjury, has been granted a delay in a preliminary hearing scheduled Monday in Pontiac District Court and has been allowed to leave the state temporarily.

Lazaros was due to appear before District Judge Richard D. Dunn of Dearborn Heights in Pontiac on six counts of perjury charged after his testimony in August at the grand jury of Judge Robert J. Colombo.

Judge Dunn delayed the preliminary hearing on the charges until 9 a.m. Jan. 6.

He also gave Lazaros permission to travel to Boston to confer with his attorney, F. Lee Bailey.

Judge Dunn required Lazaros to surrender his passport and provide the court with a schedule of his travels before leaving.

Last August, Lazaros of 2410 Dalesford told Grand Juror Colombo he had made payoffs to Oakland County officials including $23,000 to former prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson.

Also facing Lazaros are 12 charges of perjury stemming from federal grand jury appearances where he charged Mafia payoffs had been made to Detroit officials, including Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh, and U.S. Internal Revenue agents.

REUNITED IN JAPAN—Verlin Lamberson of Bay, Ark., comforts his son, Pfc. Thomas M. Lamberson, at an Army hospital in Yokohama, Japan, today. The younger Lamberson was reunited with his father after citizens of Bay contributed $1,000 for the elder Lamberson's plane ticket to Japan. The soldier had his left leg amputated below the knee and received fragment wounds on his face. However, hospital officials said his condition was "generally good."

Israelis Raid Egypt, Claim Capture of 4

TEL AVIV (AP) — An Israeli commando force supported by aircraft struck an Egyptian army post on the Suez Gulf during the night and returned with four captive Egyptian soldiers, the military command said today.

The Israelis claimed inflicting "several casualties" on the Egyptian defenders. They said one Israeli soldier was slightly wounded.

A spokesman said the raiding force hit Ras Ghareb, an Egyptian army post on the Suez Gulf about 115 miles south of Suez City. The gulf at that point is about 17 miles wide. The Israelis hold the eastern shore.

NO FURTHER DETAILS

Israeli planes gave cover for the raiders by hitting military objectives in the area, a spokesman said. He added all planes returned safely.

The Israelis gave no further details on the size of the force or how the commandos reached their objective.

2-Car Crash Kills City Woman, 65

A Pontiac woman was killed in a two-car, head-on crash in St. Clair County at 8:30 p.m. yesterday.

Dead is Mrs. Christian Koch, 65, of 61 Riviera. Her husband, driving the car at the time of the crash, was reported in serious condition at Port Huron General Hospital this morning.

St. Clair County deputies said the couple's car was involved in a collision at 24th Street south of U.S. 25 in Port Gratiot Township.

The other driver involved, Peter C. Parsall, 24, of Virginia Beach, Va., was not injured, according to police.

My Lai Probers Viet-Bound; Sergeant Faces Army Quiz

WASHINGTON (AP) — While some top investigators assessing the Army's original probe of the alleged My Lai massacre flew to Vietnam, the rest of the special panel remained here today to question a sergeant accused in the case.

Staff Sgt. David Mitchell, charged with assault with intent to commit murder involving 30 Vietnamese civilians, was due at the Pentagon to appear at closed hearings under the direction of Gen. Bland West. The Army has not decided yet whether to court-martial Mitchell.

Ossie Brown, Mitchell's lawyer, said Friday in Baton Rouge, La., that the Pentagon session is an unusual one and he may advise the sergeant to refuse to answer some of the questions.

The only other serviceman formally charged in connection with the alleged My Lai incident is 1st Lt. William L. Calley Jr., who faces a court-martial at Ft. Benning, Ga., on charges of murdering possibly 109 Vietnamese. He already has appeared before the special panel.

FLYING TO VIETNAM

While the sessions at the Pentagon continued, the head of the Army board of investigators—Lt. Gen. William R. Peers—was flying toward Vietnam for an on-the-spot interrogation of some persons who may know what happened.

Peers and Robert MacCrate, a civilian lawyer from New York, plan a visit of 10 to 12 days in Vietnam. There are nine other men in their party.

Prior to leaving Friday, the three-star general and the attorney met with newsmen but refused to discuss anything substantive.

"I would not want to say anything for one minute that would prejudice this investigation," Peers said. He reiterated that his board, which began its work Dec. 2, is required to determine "if there was any attempt to cover up the incident itself."

BIG ASSIST

MacCrate said that with the advance work that has been done there by other Army investigators "we do believe that it will be possible to develop essential testimony and that the examination of the physical location will substantially assist in determining what did in fact take place."

Peers and MacCrate declined to hint at any opinions formed thus far in the investigation but MacCrate said he is "impressed with the vigor, candor and skill" with which it is moving.

YMCA Aide Leaves Post

BIRMINGHAM — Lee M. Chamberlain has resigned as physical director of the Birmingham YMCA to accept the newly created position of assistant director of development at Cornell College, Mt. Vernon, Iowa.

His successor is expected to be named soon.

In his new post, Chamberlain will have responsibility for helping to raise funds for several Cornell College activities including student aid, scholarships and expansion of facilities.

Cornell College is a liberal arts school with an enrollment of about 1,000 students.

4 YEARS ON JOB

Chamberlain had been physical director at the Birmingham YMCA since 1965. He developed and conducted family physical programs such as pre-school swimming and gym classes, youth and teen classes for boys and girls and women's physical fitness classes for men and women.

In 1967, he helped organize the YMCA and AAU national volleyball championships in Detroit.

Before coming to Birmingham, Chamberlain served as assistant physical director and later as associate physical director at the Cedar Rapids, Iowa, YMCA.

He was graduated from Cornell College in 1960 with a bachelor's degree in physical education.

The Birmingham City Commission has passed an amendment to the city's swimming pool ordinance.

Section 8.67 of the ordinance has been changed to permit swimming pools to be located within 15 feet of the side-street lot line.

The amendment was prompted in order to conform with zoning regulations for accessory buildings.

Mrs. G. Howard Willett Jr. of 550 West Brown has called on the City Commission to pass a resolution that would keep the city's Christmas lights on all year.

In a letter to the Commission, Mrs. Willett said there is nothing that restricts this type of lighting as a seasonal decoration.

Added Mrs. Willett: "We could be known as the 'City of Lights' and would attract many to our special town." Commissioners have taken no action on Mrs. Willett's plea.

Touring Spiro Taken Aback?

HONOLULU (AP) — The big jet carrying Vice President Spiro T. Agnew landed a Hickam Air Force Base Friday while civilian and military dignitaries had their backs turned.

Just as the gleaming blue and white Air Force Two jet approached the runway, the faint strains of the Star-Spangled Banner heralded the evening flag-lowering ceremony.

The small crowd assembled to meet the vice president turned around and stood at attention.

Snowmobiler, 13, Hurt in Accident

An Orion Township girl suffered fatal cuts in snowmobile accident at 7:30 p.m. yesterday.

Corrine Lloyd, 13, daughter of Mrs. Donna Lloyd of 638 Credition, fell from the snowmobile near her home.

She was in fair condition in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital this morning.

'Bunky' Says Report of Japan Auto Talks Is Bunk

DETROIT (AP) — Simon E. "Bunky" Knudsen, former president of Ford Motor Co., said Friday there was "absolutely nothing" to reports that he was negotiating for the exclusive United States franchise for Toyo Kogyo Co., Japan's third largest auto producer.

The Tokyo newspaper Asahi Shimbun said the Japanese firm was considering a proposal from Knudsen for exclusive marketing rights in the United States for the firm's autos. They are to go on sale in the U.S. market in the Spring.

Knudsen, who was fired from the Ford presidency last year—just 19 months after he got the job—was contacted shortly after he arrived at his Palm Beach, Fla. vacation home Friday.

"I don't know anything about such a report," he said in a telephone interview. "I am down here in the sun enjoying myself," he said.

DURING VISIT

The Japanese newspaper said Knudsen made his proposal to Kohji Matsuda, executive vice president of Toyo Kogyo Co., during the latter's recent visit to the United States to discuss his firm's plans to enter the lush American market in Seattle and other West Coast areas next spring.

"I know Mr. Matsuda. . . I have met him a number of times including a chat in Detroit on his recent visit, but there was no talk about my getting involved in the Japanese auto business," Knudsen said.

Asked what he had discussed with Matsuda, Knudsen replied, "He asked me for my appraisal of the import car market—not just Japanese cars—and we chatted about what we thought they would do in the sales race. . . We did not talk about Japanese cars per se and they did not ask me—nor did I ask them —any specific questions about the Japanese end of the market. It was just a general conversation."

"They put no feelers out to them early in 1968. He joined Ford several weeks later. . . there is absolutely nothing to the story," Knudsen said.

story that Toyo Kogyo was considering that Knudsen might be believed Knudsen acted at the request of James M. Roche, of which he was a vice board chairman of GM, in his presidential until his resignation early in 1968. He joined Ford several weeks later. . . there is absolutely nothing to the story," Knudsen said. Told that the Japanese him since I left General Motors.

Illness Brings Recess in Chicago Riot Trial

CHICAGO (AP) — The trial of seven men charged in connection with disorders during the week of the Democratic National Convention was recessed today until Monday because of the illness of Abbott "Abbie" Hoffman, one of the defendants.

Dr. Joseph Freilich, a chest specialist, testified that he examined Hoffman, 33, for the prosecution Thursday night. Hoffman, he said, probably had acute bronchitis.

Dr. Freilich said all of Hoffman's vital signs were normal at the time of the examination and that he was recovering with no apparent complications. He said Hoffman should be able to resume normal activities Monday.

Mayor Richard J. Daley has been subpoenaed as a defense witness and was expected to testify today. Under the circumstances, however, it was unlikely that he would be called to the stand until at least Tuesday.

TRIAL INTERRUPTED

Hoffman testified Tuesday, that last day on which testimony was taken, and defense attorneys said he will be put back on the stand for at least another day.

The trial was interrupted.

No 'Lettuce' in Break-In at Detroit Bank

DETROIT (AP) — Someone made a Christmas Day haul of sandwiches and soft drinks after the break-in at a Detroit bank with a baby buggy, police said.

Bank employees found a smashed window Friday and pieces of the baby buggy used to gain entry. Because of prior troubles with the bank's warning system, an 8:01 p.m. alarm was ignored at Detroit Bank and Trust central offices.

The would-be bank robbers tried to knock the combination off the door of the bank's walk-in vault, but failed. They also tried to scratch through the wall with a putty knife, but hardly made a dent.

Apparently in desperation the crooks broke into a locker and a refrigerator.

Start Made on New Jail

Sometime in 1972, the Oakland County Service Center on North Telegraph will have another addition to the complex of buildings that serve Michigan's second most populous county.

Ground has been broken for a new $9-million jail to replace the aged facility in downtown Pontiac that has functioned for nearly half a century.

That the present building with its capacity of 259 has been for many years most inadequate to serve one of the fastest-growing counties in the Nation goes without saying.

The new 137,000-square-foot jail that will encompass a morgue and a rehabilitation center will have a total capacity of 850 prisoners and inmates undergoing treatment — ample not only for present needs but those for the foreseeable future.

Meanwhile, the City of Pontiac and Oakland County are at financial loggerheads over the County's use of the City's unused prisoner facility in its Public Safety Building that would accommodate 19 inmates.

With the County in a bind with respect to housing its increasing prisoner load pending completion of its new jail, it doesn't make sense to have such an available stopgap stand idle.

'Family Doctor' Need Seen

In recent years, a new concept has emerged in American medicine. It is the idea of a family specialist—a physician whose role is to maintain the kind of personal care consistent with the highest tradition of medicine in this country.

The new family physician is described by Dr. VERNON WILSON, vice president for academic affairs of the University of Missouri. Dr. WILSON states that the new specialist will practice medicine on a continuing rather than an emergency, episodic basis. His practice will "emphasize preventive medicine as much, or more, than curative medicine."

Comprehensive medical care, says Dr. Wilson, will focus on the total health of the individual rather than on specific diseases, and the individual will always be considered in his relationship to the family unit. Consistent with this concept of a family specialist, a new certifying board, the twentieth in American medicine, has been approved by the American Medical Association.

The new family specialist will complement the other specialties. Even more important, as far as the public is concerned, he reflects the obvious awareness by the medical profession of the unchanging need to preserve, even in this day of massive government programs, the personal doctor-patient relationship that sets the American medical system apart from the mediocre collectivism of state medicine.

Credit Card Check Claimed

A break may be forthcoming in the Great Credit Card Robbery—the day-in, day-out misuse of stolen or forged credit cards which costs businesses and honest people millions of dollars each year.

A simple and compact data processing system for credit card purchases will be marketed early next year. The system is designed to make instant verifications of credit or identification cards right at the point of payment.

The basic unit is an imprinter similar to those in use today. A companion device, called a veri-fier, takes data from the card and automatically compares it with credit information stored either in the printer itself or in a central computer.

In a matter of seconds it can be determined whether the credit card of a customer is valid. The card is rejected automatically if it has been reported lost or stolen, if it is forged or if the customer has exceeded his credit limit. The verifier can be updated at any time.

It all adds to the welcome fact that the Goose of Credit Card Crooks is Cooked.

Has U.S. Lost the Viet War? Not Yet

WASHINGTON (NEA)—For more than a year, it has been the custom with sage Washington observers to nod among themselves and pronounce the ultimate verdict on Vietnam.

"The truth is that we have lost the war." As 1969 winds down, it now appears that off-heard judgment may be premature. Things are not going all that well for Hanoi. If ever there was a moment to press advantage, this would seem to be it. With 110,000 U.S. ground forces scheduled to be out of Vietnam by April, opportunity beckons Hanoi.

The successors to the late Ho Chi Minh may yet seize their chance. There could be another Tet offensive in February.

Yet the now widely reported crumbling of the rebel Vietcong in South Vietnam is a severe handicap to such an enterprise.

No military expert has any sure idea how well, on the other hand, the "Vietnamization" of the war may work when put to hard test.

Some experts think the day is still distant when South Vietnam's regulars and home defense forces can stand off assault from the regular armies of North Vietnam. Others think the time may be closer.

In any event, the important point is that the decline of the Vietcong, the last partial improvement of the South Vietnamese units and the question marks surrounding the North Vietnamese leave the final outcome of the war — militarily and politically — very much unsettled.

NOT OUR OBJECTIVE
The American armies, to be sure, did not win a military victory in the field.

It was never our stated objective to win such a triumph in the complete sense of crushing North Vietnam. But it was the obvious intent of our military leaders to score a limited victory by defeating the enemy in South Vietnam and driving Hanoi's regulars back across the 17th Parallel. We are presently pulling out without having achieved that goal. But have we, in fact, lost the war?

The only sensible answer has to be, Not yet. For if we have not triumphed, neither has Hanoi. And, as we have noted, Hanoi's ability to do so is currently much in doubt.

Hanoi may yet generate new leverage. But it has less in South Vietnam today than it has ever had.

The "if" is admittedly huge, but if Vietnamization of the war is even a moderate success, then Hanoi may never bring off victory. And if it finally fails, then our objective in entering the war will not have been lost after all.

Federal Spending Is Unabated

After Christmas come the bills — for thee and me and all our kin. But for the federal government, the bills pile up month after month, year after year.

The President cautioned us just last week that Congress was forgetting this simple fact, that it was reducing taxes and upping expenditures with no thought of the morrow.

Mr. Nixon would like the Congress to get over its spending fever. But he has been unable to convince the Executive Branch to take his message to heart.

Government departments continue to grow in size and in the amount of the taxpayer's dollar they take unto themselves. And this is one of the problems shared by states and municipalities which are learning that their payrolls increase almost by geometric progression.

In 1960, for example, 88 per cent of the nation's salaried workers were in the private sector, with 12 per cent distributed among the Federal, state, and local governments. In 1968, the private sector's share had dropped to 84 per cent, the government sector had risen to 16 per cent.

ALMOST DOUBLE
In flat numbers, this means that the various governments grew from 5.7 million workers to 10.7 million — which is almost double. The rate of increase for the government was about two and one half times that of private industry.

Between 1950 and 1968, private wages increased 197 per cent, government wages 348 per cent.

The General Accounting Office found that, as of 1967, the State Department had been holding 26 real properties, costing $2.7 million, for up to 20 years.

Of course, everything is expensive these days. The U.S. Senate is planning to spend $1,600 for a new hamburger patty maker to be installed in its cafeteria. The Senate is also spending $67,000 to replace desks and equipment in the Old Senate Office Building.

All the warnings go unheeded. The bureaucracy has dug itself in, and it has forgotten that north, south, and west of Washington, the taxpayer is suffering.

If waste were eliminated — and if ridiculous projects were cut out, the federal budget would be balanced, taxes could be cut, and part of the overwhelming national debt could be retired.

This may be too much to expect. But some day there will be enough indignation among the long-suffering taxpayers to force Congress to act.

Perhaps the voters should impose a series of new year's resolutions — on the bureaucrats, to put a stop to senseless and dangerous spending.

'Mockery Made of Law by Rioting Hoodlums'

Hundreds of young hoodlums have made a mockery of the law for several weeks in a row at Northland Mall, and no one seems to be able to stop them. The reason is that our laws of today have no teeth in them and these youths know it. This could have been stopped the first time it happened if parents had been given a stiff fine of $500 each. This is the only way to reach them — by hitting them where it hurts the most, in the pocketbook.

America is reaping the harvest of the seeds sown 15 years ago by a doctor who said in his book never to spank a child if he threw a tantrum, or a brick through a window, as this was only self-expression. By the time these children had started school, the parents had little or no control over them, and today you can see the finished product — not only at Northland Mall, but anywhere you look.

Some will cry out that this is but a minority group. They're right. Four hundred rioting teenagers is a minority group, but add up all these minority groups in all major cities across the Nation and it adds up to a lot of unruly young people.

'We're Becoming Enslaved by Communism'

The big squeeze is on. Our taxes will never again be reduced, only increased until the inevitable happens — enslavement to communism. I believe the government "creates" problem after problem, committee after committee and tax raise after tax raise. The great international money manipulators are so greedy that they invented communism to enslave the everyday good-hearted worker and squeeze the ultimate from his bones.

Express Views on Aid to Nonpublic Schools

We who support parochial and send our children to parochial schools do not feel that the nonsecular education they receive is any better than in public schools. However, it is just as good, and definitely worth the money. We don't mind footling the bill, what we do mind is footing the bill for both school systems. No one is asking that the people of Michigan be taxed to support anyone's religious beliefs, but how about sharing the load of the nonsecular schools?

Does it make sense to close all the well-built, finely equipped private schools in the State, overload the struggling public schools and really have a tax problem, just to avoid the possibility that you might extend a helping hand to someone out of your belief?

If the children of today received a little more religious education and a lot less sex and sophistication education, we might all be better off. Let's hope the day doesn't come when there are no private schools to supplement what the state requires of both public and private schools.

Penny for K's Thoughts on Stalin's 90th Birthday

NEW YORK—It would have been interesting to have a tape recording of Nikita Khrushchev's remarks about his late boss Joe Stalin, on the recent occasion of the 90th birthday of one of the great despots of modern history.

Khrushchev, who is walked-up in a small villa near the towering University of Moscow, or under detention at the pleasant dacha he occupied about 40 miles out of Moscow during his prime, is responsible for Stalin's confused position in today's Soviet history books.

Even Pravda appeared not quite certain about what to say about the wartime confederate of Roosevelt and Churchill when it commented on the anniversary.

It praised him for leading "the ideological political fight" against the detractors of Leninism but added guardedly "Stalin also made theoretical and political mistakes that assumed a grave character in the latter part of his life."

HATCHET MAN

There is considerable evidence that Khrushchev on several occasions served as a brutal hatchet man for Stalin, the supreme leader. Khrushchev's hands were certainly bloodied during the purges of the Kulaks in the Ukraine, his own bailiwick. He "turned in" a number of comrades Stalin wanted to liquidate.

He must have been a villainous political commissar during the building of the incredible Moscow subway system. It got built through mud and granite. There weren't any unions except the U.S.S.R.

Still it was Khrushchev who rendered history a service by blowing the whistle on the ominous ghost of his departed leader. He turned state's evidence against Stalin in a memorable Presidium speech in 1956, called him the ruthless architect of senseless mass murders, and a man as historically treacherous as Ivan the Terrible. It took a lot of guts.

Later, Khrushchev was bounced as unceremoniously as he had kicked Stalin out of the history books. He became even more obscure, if possible. The Russian schoolboy today can — and must — read more about Stalin than about the man who destroyed his image.

The only times Khrushchev has been visible since he was deposed by Kosygin and Brezhnev in 1964 have been the occasions when he voted for them at the polls, and one other occasion when he was permitted to give an "interview" to American TV.

Thus he probably felt like Janning Stalin all over again the other day in the privacy of his banishment.

Agnew Urges Asia to Be Self-Sufficient

HONOLULU (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew says the Nixon administration wants Asian nations to "develop an economic balance and self-sufficiency so that it will be unnecessary for the United States to step in if things go wrong."

But Agnew told reporters as he launched his 10-nation, 37,000-mile trip Friday that he plans to emphasize, in bilateral talks with Asian leaders, the intention of the United States to stand by its treaty obligations.

Agnew spent the night here on the first leg of a transpacific hop that takes him today to Guam and then on to the Philippines for Tuesday's inauguration of President Ferdinand E. Marcos.

Adm. John S. McCain Jr., commander of U.S. forces in the Pacific, and his chief of staff, Lt. Gen. Michael Davidson, planned to brief the vice president at a breakfast session, the only scheduled event of his 19-hour stay here. Details weren't disclosed.

WELCOMING PARTY

Sen. Hiram Fong, R-Hawaii, and two of the islands' top Democrats, Gov. John Burns and Mayor Frank Fasi of Honolulu headed the welcoming party for Agnew here Friday.

About 30 minutes after the vice president's plane, Air Force Two, took off from Washington on its flight to Hawaii, Agnew visited the rear cabin to chat with newsmen on the political and diplomatic aspects of his trip.

Asked about the Senate's rejection of the foreign aid bill because it included $54.5 million in unbudgeted and unauthorized funds to buy military jets for Formosa, Agnew said: "It will be my purpose to reassure (Nationalist) China's President Chiang Kai-shek that this does not represent any weakening of our treaty commitment."

Agnew said he has discussed the matter twice with President Nixon and "He would have gone along with it either way." The House approved the funds but the Senate rejected them, leaving the foreign aid money bill in limbo until Congress goes back to work in January.

PLEDGE REAFFIRMED

Agnew said the Nixon doctrine, outlined by the President at Guam on his Asian trip last July, includes a pledge to stand by U.S. commitments, a nuclear shield against threats to Asian nations and the stimulation of economic growth and regionalism.

"We expect them to handle insurgency within their own borders with their own people," he said, adding that "In the event we determine that any action against them threatens the general economy of the Asian hemisphere, we will support them with material and other forms of assistance."

But he said any decision on whether such aid would include U.S. troops would have to be made at the time by the President.

Agnew said: "The Thais seem to be handling their insurgency problem pretty well and haven't asked for any involvement of U.S. troops."

In response to a question about the storm in the Philippines over recent Senate criticism of U.S. aid, he said, "President Marcos should be concerned. The position of the administration remains unchanged with respect to our treaty commitments."

Nixon May Sign HEW Bill—Proxmire

VETO THREAT EYED — Sen. William E. Proxmire, D-Wis., tells a Washington news conference yesterday that he believes President Nixon is reconsidering his threat to veto the health and education money bill.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wash., says he believes President Nixon is "reconsidering his threat to veto" the health and education money bill but, if a veto comes, he thinks the Senate may be able to override it.

Proxmire told newsmen Friday that the measure is close to the President's request, explaining: "Over-all there's only a difference of 2 or 3 per cent, and that shouldn't be the basis of a veto by President Nixon."

Earlier in the week, Senate Republican leader Hugh Scott of Pennsylvania said the President still considers the bill to be inflationary and unacceptable. The $19.75-billion appropriation measure is $1.1 billion above Nixon's request.

The bill has been held over by the Senate for action after Congress comes back Jan. 19.

Meanwhile, Proxmire said that although he believes the President will back down on the veto threat, there could be "nothing healthier than a battle over national priorities" between the administration and Congress.

3 POW Wives Hope to Prod N. Viets

VIRGINIA BEACH, Va. (AP) — Three Virginia Beach women whose husbands are presumed to be prisoners of the North Vietnamese plan to fly to Paris tonight in an effort to make "gradually" come faster.

This was a reference to other American women who were told by North Vietnamese officials in Paris Christmas Day that news about American prisoners would be released "gradually." Seeking to speed up the release of news are Mrs. Thomas Stegman, Mrs. Robert Duncan and Mrs. Richard Nelson, wives of Navy air men declared missing in action in Vietnam. None has heard any news of her husband since he was shot down. Mrs. Stegman, the mother of two sons, said she and the other two wives are admittedly discouraged by the lack of results of other American women in trying to get news of their missing husbands from the enemy.

"But we keep thinking maybe this will do the trick," she said. The women said they have informed the North Vietnamese Embassy in Paris of their coming. If they are not granted an audience, they said, they will seek to have the Pope speak out in behalf of the American prisoners and their families.

'U.S. to Publish Captive List'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Cora Weiss, a leader of the Women's Strike for Peace, says the State Department has told her it plans to publish Tuesday the names of all American service men known to be held captive by North Vietnam.

Mrs. Weiss told the Los Angeles Times Friday her information came from an unnamed State Department official.

However, in Washington, a spokesman for the State Department said today: "We and the Defense Department do maintain a list of the status of men missing and believed held prisoner in Vietnam, but I have no information at this time about any planned announcement."

Mrs. Weiss returned last Sunday from a two-week trip to North Vietnam. During her visit, she said, she was permitted to enter a detention camp, where she visited with three American prisoners and picked up letters for mailing to the families of 131.

She discussed the possible release of the State Department list during a stopover at Beverly Hills en route to her home in New York City.

Loan Firm Sorry About Its Safe

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — The Home Savings & Loan Co. here had to get a loan from the Union National Bank in order to cash customers checks because of an overly safe safe.

A spokesman said that the vault's timing device failed to operate on time to open it Friday. He said the timing apparently was not properly sequenced for the holiday period.

Auto Bumpers Will Return to Protective Role in '70s

By DAVID W. CHUTE
DETROIT (UPI) — One of the major changes in automobiles during the 1970s will be in bumpers. They're going to stick out front and stick out the rear as they did years ago when bumpers were for function, not for frill.

During the past decade or more, the auto makers abandoned the functionalism of bumpers to styling. They were made part of the car rather than a protector against damage.

There are some models of cars which actually have parts of the car extending beyond the bumper. They've even built sidelights, direction lights and parking lights right into the bumpers.

And the bumpers have been positioned so close to the car fenders, front grilles and rear trunks that a parking lot bump can do severe damage to the car.

HEED CRIES

The cries of anguish that have gone up from motorists—and more importantly, insurance companies—about minor collisions in the 5-to-10 miles an hour range causing repair costs in the hundreds of dollars have finally been heard by the auto makers.

But there is more to it than just sticking on bumpers that stick out front and rear. Styling is still important in car-making, and the problem is to come up with bumper designs that will accomplish the job of protecting the car and yet not look like and add-on appendage.

They must increase the distance from bumper to car, perhaps with a space of about four inches. Shrouding with pliable plastic or rubber might be used to hide this separation and still make it look like part of the car. One thing is sure, also, lights will be taken out of the bumpers and placed on the car.

Incidentally, in this respect, there is likely to be a trend toward building rear lights on the car roof, rather than at bumper height. Studies indicate the higher positioned lights would be more visible.

Changes in bumper materials also can be expected. Some car makers have already developed plastic bumpers with tough characteristics.

Also in the works are plastic bumpers with a "memory." They deform under impact, but return to original shape.

Other experiments have been made with water-filled bumpers that spurt water out at controlled rates when the bumper is struck a blow. But so far, these bumpers have more drawbacks than advantages, one of which is the problem of water freezing in winter.

Hydraulic bumpers, fastened to the car with shock absorbers which will give on impact, also are under experiment.

But one thing is certain. Bumpers are returning to the role they were originally intended to perform—protecting the car.

Wife Believes Her Husband Is Dead

(Editor's Note: This is the final installment in a four-part series concerning the wives of American servicemen missing as a result of enemy action in Vietnam.)

By KATHRYN JOHNSON
Associated Press Writer
VIRGINIA BEACH, VA. — "I'm a little different from the other wives," says Jane Marik. "I don't believe he's there. I believe he's dead."

"Why?"
"He was shot down over the water and the pilot was rescued. Our rescue planes could find no sign of him. Originally, I was under the impression he was picked up by the North Vietnamese. Finally, when the men came home on the carrier, they didn't seem to want to talk."

"I went to Washington and saw the report. That's where I first got the idea ... my husband was not there."

Since then, Jane has gone back to college and graduated, so that when-if her husband is finally declared dead, she can make a living for herself and her 4-year-old son, Steve.

Until the Navy has more information, all "missing in action" wives, like the wives of POWs, are paid 80 per cent of their husband's salary.

Jane Marik spent the first summer with relatives, after getting the news her husband was missing. She started driving back to Virginia Beach. "I wanted to be with the other wives, and where I could hear news."

"Driving back through the mountains of West Virginia, I almost committed suicide," said Mrs. Marik, who is 26.

"I almost drove my car off the mountain. The only thing that kept me going was my child. I broke the car. I had to stop and sit for three hours before the wrecker came. That's the closest call I've had with death."

CHANGED

She feels she has changed tremendously since her husband was shot down.

"I was very shy, retiring, pensive before. I adored my husband. He was very gregarious, constantly talking. But he always had something to say."

"Now," she added emphatically, "I'm very strong in my opinions. I have very definite ideas."

"Most wives carry on a 'holding action,'" she said. "This is good. I took the other road. I'm trying to start a new life. It's a very scary feeling when the whole reason for your support is knocked out."

Talking to Pat Fellowes, who got a vivid picture of her husband, Cmdr. John Fellowes, a jolly outgoing Irishman, from Tucson, Ariz., who, she is convinced, parachuted into North Vietnam chomping on a cigar.

"I've never had a letter," she said wistfully. "It will be 40 months soon. There are times when I question ... actually. But time goes on. I just live this way, believing he's there."

Black Band Sounds Off as First in Rose Parade

By JACK V. FOX
LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Professor Harold Hill of "The Music Man" was a slouch at promoting band uniforms compared to the kids of all-black Alain Locke High School in Watts.

Come New Year's Day and who will be stepping off in the Rose Bowl Parade, 120 strong, resplendent in new blue and gold uniforms, blasting out their theme song, "When the Saints Go Marching In?"

Why none other than the Alain Locke Marching Band of boys and girls who can execute a cadence of more than 20 steps to the minute while alternating between marches and soul music!

They had to beat out every other high school band in Los Angeles to get there. And, on top of that, they conned their principal into ordering $12,000 worth of new uniforms when he had only about half that in the bank and no assurance they would make it to the Rose Parade anyway.

Sid Brickman, principal of the 2,800-student, all-Negro school, tells the story with something between a chuckle and a tear.

"Last February these kids came to me and said they believed if they could get new uniforms they were good enough to march in the Rose Parade. The ones they had were about 10 years old and there weren't enough to go around. The

Detroit Residents Return Presents for Many Reasons

DETROIT (AP)—Here are a few of the reasons Detroit-area merchants heard Friday as people started returning Christmas gifts:

"It doesn't go," said the elderly woman who beamed when the clerk pointed out a battery was required to operate the toy.

"I don't know what it's supposed to do, but it doesn't do it," said a woman of about 30 as she requested a refund on a toy.

"Too old for my child."
"Too young for my child."
"He already has one."
"He already has two."

"We've been married 18 years and my husband still thinks I'm Jayne Mansfield or something. Every time he gives me a sweater, it's two sizes too big," said the lady with the sweater in hand.

NOT PRACTICAL
Another lady returned a pretty nylon nightgown and asked to trade it for something practical, like a flannel nightgown.

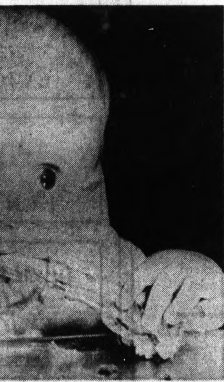

Detroit's Retail Merchants Association set a Jan. 3 deadline for the return of all Christmas gifts citing convenience for the shoppers and merchants.

Jean-Pierre Hallet, sociologist and agronomist for the Belgian Colonial government, lived among the tribes of the Congo from 1948 to 1960. He will appear Jan. 7 and 8 as guest lecturer in the Birmingham Town Hall series, speaking on "My life as a 6-foot, 5-inch Pygmy." Celebrity luncheon at Bloomfield Open Hunt follows the 10:30 a.m. program in the Birmingham Theatre.

Richard Burton Plans College Term

Goodbye, Mr. Burton. Richard Burton definitely plans to go back to college in Oxford, for a few weeks, to let old friend, Francis Warner, take a sabbatical.

Burton, who flew out of Geneva's International Airport Wednesday fur-wrapped against Swiss cold with wife Liz trendy in maxi and beige thigh boots, told a Women's Wear Daily reporter it's definite he will take over a semester at St. Peter's College, where Warner is fellow and tutor of English literature. The date is probably Spring, 1970.

For six-month-old Ronald Lanneck, Christmas was kind of a special day. Sure, there were lots of toys and stuff like that, but there also was a meal. Ronnie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lanneck of Tampa, Fla., proved he could handle a turkey drumstick with the best of them.

Spinning Wheels Speed Work

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Careening around huge airplanes on roller skates at a 345-acre plant, three girls have learned the hazards of their job.

"It's hairpins, cigarette butts and rubber bands on the floor," says Mrs. Vernee Wiesen, 20. "They just about guarantee a spill."

Vernee and the two other "skaters" — as they are called — carry blueprints and office communications through the McDonnell Douglas Corp. plant, breezing around and between the giant DC10 jets on their wheels.

The three skaters average 20 miles each day in standard rink skates on the concrete, hardwood and tile floors.

"It's a fun job," Vernee says. "It's also hazardous. A not-too-watchful employee is rammed as he rounds a corner and the girl spins to a bumpy landing. Or a girl can't slow down and hits a fence divider or desk."

The age limit for skaters is 25. It was established after a 36-year-old skater fell and broke a leg.

QUALIFICATIONS

The girls are hired specifically for the job. They have to be good skaters and enthusiastic about the prospect of doing such work, says the company. Starting pay is $2.90 an hour, with periodic raises.

Vernee now makes $3 an hour.

The advantages of roller skates are apparent in covering large distances but how about short distances?

At the Columbia Records plant in Los Angeles, 30 skaters roll around to music. They fill orders, skating from bin to bin and placing the records in mailing cartons.

The skates aren't mandatory. "But they leave you less tired at the end of the day," says Hope Serna.

The skates produce the speed that enable the workers to meet quotas. In one section, a worker must pull 522

Grandma's Right on Scene; She Likes the Action Spots

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: We have a very awkward situation in our home and seem unable to do anything about it, mainly because none of us has the nerve to tell Grandma the facts.

Last year, Grandma came to live with us because she decided she was unable to live alone.

We fixed up our guest bedroom for her. It is big and bright. We even bought new curtains, bedspread, and a comfortable chair. Also a lamp, radio, and television. But Grandma is in her room to sleep. She spends all her time sitting in the living room, reading, crocheting or watching TV there.

We used to have friends drop in for an evening, but this has stopped because Grandma is always right there. We have two teen-agers who liked to have "the gang" in for an evening of record-playing or just to "goof around," but that has stopped, too, because with Grandma there, there's not much privacy.

It's been months since we've had a family evening. We find ourselves taking refuge in the kitchen or in one of our bedrooms.

Can't Grandma realize that we'd like to be together once in a while without her listening to every word? She had HER life with her family, and we think we are entitled to ours before the children are gone from home.

Grandma is 78, but she is in good health. I hope you will print this, I'm not sure whether Grandma reads your column, but maybe this message will get across to other "Grandmas" (or Grandpas). Thank you.

PLEASE WITHOLD MY NAME AND TOWN

DEAR PLEASE: I'll publish your letter, but not to "get the message across" to a Grandma (or Grandpa) who must spend twilight years in the home of a relative. Everyone likes to be "where the action is." And elderly folks are no different. But most senior citizens are sensitive to the feelings of others and earnestly try to keep out of the way.

Instead of whining behind Grandma's back about the lack of privacy in your home, why not come right out in the open and good humoredly say, "The kids are coming in for another one of those noisy parties tonight, so be kind to your eardrums, Grandma, and stay in your room tonight. We're going to!"

There are lots of ways to skin a cat, and the direct, "honest" approach is always the best. Try it. If I'm wrong, you haven't lost anything.

DEAR ABBY: Our baby girl is just two months old and here is my problem: My husband does such cruel things to her. For instance, he will force her little cheeks together until her mouth is all pinched together. The baby reacts by jerking her arms and legs and thrashing about. My husband says he enjoys seeing her do this.

Also, when the baby is sound asleep, he goes into her room and yells and screams right in her little face. Naturally she becomes frightened, awakens, and cries. (My husband says he gets a kick out of this.) I have even seen him slap her on the bottoms of her feet (very hard) for no reason at all.

NEW MOTHER

DEAR MOTHER: Your husband is even so cruel as to be dangerous, or he is sick. (He could be both.) Tell your doctor what you've told me. And for goodness' sake, do it now! Your husband shows symptoms which should not be ignored another day.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SWINGING GRANDPA" IN LA JOLLA: Save your money. Fun is like insurance. The older you get, the more it costs you.

Widow Pleases Self, Others With Attitude

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Of The Emily Post Institute
I've published letters from children to parents, and letters from parents to children. Now I've had one of the nicest of all—from a parent to other parents. Mrs. X is a lady who will always be young. She may have her lonely moments, but her interest in new activities, her desire to be independent and her respect and fondness for her children, will insure her continued well-being, and her secure spot in her family's heart.

Dear Mrs. Post: I have just read the letter about the old parents who stifle their children by demanding be entertained.

I don't see why these parents don't join some senior citizens organizations and enjoy a life apart from their children. That is what I have been doing since I retired a year or two ago. I am 73 and a widow. I do get very lonely, especially on Sundays, if no one invites me to dinner.

If you keep busy and make friends of your own, you won't need to depend on the younger generation. There are groups that play cards or bingo. If you are against these many churches sponsor get-togethers where they have singing or lectures. But most of all, you are out with people of your own age, with the same problems you have.

I have a fine family of seven and they all have children. They never, but never, leave me alone on major holidays and we just have fun together. Mrs. "X"

Wedding Information

Planning your wedding? We want to help you.

We must have information about your wedding in our office five days in advance. Information blanks are available in the women's department, or the material may be clearly printed on any large sheet of paper.

Pictures will be accepted up to three days after the ceremony, but the information must be in our hands ahead of time.

U.S. Food Passes European Taste Test

NEA European Correspondent

LONDON — Europeans who believe that America's contribution to fine cooking begins and ends with the hot dog popped their eyes at the all-American banquet staged at the Savoy Hotel here recently.

There was nothing so vulgar as a frankfurter to be seen in the hotel's Lancaster banquet room overlooking the Thames. Instead, 8,000 pounds of goodies were flown in from 22 American states, including Hawaii and Alaska. They were washed down by 13 of America's finest wines selected by a panel of experts from among 200 wines submitted.

Even chef Silvino Trompetto of the Savoy, one of Europe's reigning kings of the kitchen, was impressed.

"American food can hold its own with the world's best," Trompetto declared, after admiring a king crab from the state of Washington. "Especially your seafood. It's one of the things you haven't tampered with," he added with a twinkle in his eye.

Occasion for this feast was the first annual Jeffersonian Dinner at which a group of American stockbrokers played host to nearly 500 European financiers in an effort to induce them to invest in U.S. stocks and bonds.

Whether it persuaded the gnomes of Zurich to buy American, the dinner evidently tickled their taste buds. After sampling the meal the Swiss, German and British bankers at my table agreed that America has indeed come of age, gastronomically speaking.

RESERVE PRAISE

Only the California champagne met with some reservations. The French objected to the use of the word "champagne," which they feel should apply only to a specific region in France. The Italians thought that the California vintage lacked the familiar bubbly quality. "Very interesting," was the noncommittal German comment.

The U.S.-European banquet, which is to become an annual event, has been named after Thomas Jefferson because he was America's first gourmet, as well as being its third president.

"Jefferson was not only a poet, mathematician, violinist and architect, but he was also an excellent cook," says George E. Lang, vice president of Restaurant Associates, which organized the airlift for the Savoy banquet.

"Not many Americans realize it, but they have Jefferson to thank for the waffles on their breakfast table. The waffle was one of his more inspired inventions."

Certainly Jefferson would have been proud of the native cooking on display at the Savoy. For one thing, it represented a triumph of logistics, it being flown in from the U.S. in three plane loads, with the perishables such as the crabmeat and clams arriving last. In contrast, the wine was flown in four weeks earlier in order to give it time to settle after its transatlantic journey.

The foodlift included turtles from the Virgin Islands and 55 striped sea bass, each weighing approximately 12 pounds and each in its own plastic bag containing sea water. It also included delicacies which few Americans have enjoyed, such as fiddle ferns from northern Maine and wild rice harvested near the Minnesota lakes.

Even the bread — sourdough such as gold rush miners used to eat — had been baked in San Francisco the day before, flash-frozen and flown to London.

Trompetto agrees with George Lang that bread is just about the only frozen food which a restaurant that calls itself great will serve to its customers.

The All-American banquet began with a seafood course of six varieties of crab from five American states. The main course sent the organizers scurrying to Pennsylvania in search of small, 5-pound wild turkeys such as the Pilgrim Thurkeys found when they arrived in America. These were stuffed with chestnut dressing and served with gilet gravy and the traditional cranberries from Maine.

The meal also included four varieties of cheese, baby pineapples from Hawaii, American home-style cookies, ending with 16-year-old Kentucky bourbon and a mellow New Jersey applejack.

Only the wines, most of them from California, were not quite up to European standard, the connoisseurs at my table agreed. An honorable exception was a 1965 Riesling perfected by Dr. Karl Frank, of the Finger Lakes region in New York.

That the native wines were not up to scratch was not Jefferson's fault. Jefferson stocked the White House with superlative vintages, not equalled even in John F. Kennedy's tenure. He also fought to reduce the wine duties imposed by the federal government.

"No national is drunk where wine is cheap," is the adage Jefferson laid down, to which most European's would add a pious "Amen."

Polly's Pointers

Whiskers Do Damage

DEAR POLLY — My bias tape. This works just great. It does not slip out of rub against the lining on his place while you are handling wool shirts (the strip between the collar and yoke that has the button on one end and buttonhole on the other). They are worn after about six washings. Can someone recommend a material for this that will give better service? — RENE

DEAR POLLY — When painting a chest for baby, paint the body of the chest white and each drawer a different color; that is, one pink, one green, blue, yellow and so on. This helps you to know what goes in what drawer without having to first pull open the drawers. — KAE

DEAR POLLY — An easy way to strain cooking oil after frying fish, chicken, etc., is to keep in the kitchen drawer some squares cut from clean nylon stockings that are large enough to fit over the top of the cup or other container and pour the oil through the nylon. Saves the trouble of cleaning a messy strainer, as the nylon is just thrown away. — INEZ

DEAR POLLY — If you want to make a real dandy "baby-burp towel," use a circular, hair-combing, shoulder cape as a pattern. Those handy with the scissors may not even need a pattern but can just cut a circle out of a new or used bath towel or a piece of terry cloth. Make it large enough to hang over your shoulders and bind the edges and make ties with

Broom-Dustpan Combines Tools

Here's a rolling dustpan that seems to combine carpet sweeper and dustpan in a single unit. It sweeps up all dirt in its path, and automatically deposits it in a built-in dustpan beneath the sweeper.

Empty the pan by pressing a lever. Unlike a conventional carpet sweeper, this unit works on linoleum, wood floors, and pavements, as well as carpeting.

Necessary Mess

Let your child feed himself, even though you hate to clean up the mess. This is important to help him develop a wholesome attitude toward eating, not a fineness of manners. Child development experts say that the child will learn manners from you.

Millions Ignore Cigarette Hazards

Why do an estimated 49 million Americans continue to endanger their health by smoking, despite many studies linking cigarette smoking with cancer, heart attacks, strokes, and respiratory diseases? What can be done about it?

These two questions are discussed concisely in "Cigarettes — America's No. 1 Public Health Problem," by Maxwell S. Stewart. This new Public Affairs pamphlet is available for 25 cents from the Public Affairs Committee, 381 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10016.

The statistics show, says Stewart, that "an average man aged 25 who has never smoked regularly can expect to live six and a half years longer than a man who smokes a pack a day or more." And he is likely to enjoy better health than the smoker, for "cigarette smokers are ill more often, miss more days of work, and have more days of restricted activity than nonsmokers."

By now, the harmful effects of smoking seem undeniable, and millions of people do periodically try to quit. About 2 million a year now succeed in doing so — but their place is taken by about an equal number of young smokers, including children.

As Stewart indicates, the problem is persistent, for even many people convinced of the danger of continued smoking have found it difficult to quit. Although radio and TV cigarette advertising may pass from the scene by 1971, youngsters are still being "induced to show their 'maturity' by experimenting with this 'adult' practice." The hazards of smoking do indeed add up to a public health problem, but one against which there is no giving or selling cigarettes to minors" there is widespread smoking by grade school and high school youngsters.

Stewart summarizes efforts to lessen the health hazards under four approaches: • Encouraging people to stop smoking. Stewart outlines the reasons people smoke, and discusses different approaches used in helping each type of smoker to give up the habit.

• For those who won't or can't quit, the harm from smoking can be reduced by these steps: (a) Choose a cigarette with less tar and nicotine; (b) put the cigarette out before smoking it all the way down; (c) take fewer content.

draws on each cigarette; (d) reduce your inhaling; (e) smoke fewer cigarettes a day.

Stewart concludes with comments on what government has done and can do to help curtail cigarette smoking.

In addition to health warnings on cigarette packages and restrictions on advertising, government has been urged to place restrictions on smoking in its facilities and other public places and on the sale of cigarettes to minors, and to institute differential taxation on the basis of tar and nicotine content.

Two Exhibitions of Medieval Art Are Planned in U.S.

NEW YORK (AP) — From the world of stained glass, chalices, tapestries and reliquaries — the world of Romanesque and Gothic treasures — two important exhibitions will give Americans a rare opportunity this winter and spring to see medieval art at its best.

The Metropolitan Museum of Art, for the first time, is sending out on loan some of the major works from its medieval branch, the Cloisters.

This exhibit, "The Middle Ages—Treasures from the Cloister and the Metropolitan Museum of Art," will be shown at the Los Angeles County Museum of Art from Jan. 13 through March 8.

From April 8 through June 8 it will be at the Institute of Art in Chicago.

SPECIAL EXHIBIT

In approximately the same period, Feb. 12 through May 10, the Metropolitan will be showing in its own galleries a special exhibit of works borrowed from church, state and private collections in 16 countries. Titled "The Year 1200," it will contain more than 300 items.

The "Middle Ages" exhibit is a survey from the early Christian era to the 16th century, and includes sculpture, tapestries, ivories, illuminated manuscripts, enamels and metalwork from Western Europe and the eastern Mediterranean.

One of the prize items is the famous Antioch Chalice, a eucharist cup of the 5th century, which was found in Syria. The Cloisters acquired it in 1950.

Another major work is the 13th century polychrome statue of the Virgin from Strasbourg Cathedral. It was acquired in 1947 and later identified as to its origin by the late James J. Rorimer, who directed the Cloisters and later the Metropolitan.

IMPORTANT EXAMPLE

There is an important example of late Gothic metalwork, the brass "Eagle Lectern" from Louvain, dating from about 1500. It was acquired little more than a year ago.

There also is the Puella Book of Hours, a book of prayers written in Latin, created by Jean Puella around 1385 to 1390 for the queen of France, Jeanne d'Evreux, wife of Charles IV. It is illuminated in grisaille, with a little color, on vellum.

The show opening at the Metropolitan Feb. 12, though titled "The Year 1200," is designed to cover the period 1180 to 1230, approximating the reign of Philip Augustus of France. In art it was a period of transition from Romanesque to Gothic.

"Making their first appearance in the United States, 'The Year 1200' and as the high point of that exhibition," said Thomas P. F. Hoving, the museum's director, "will be two works of the most famous master of the time, Nicholas of Verdun."

"They are three enamel plaques from his enormous Klosterneuburg altarpiece—possibly the most beautiful altarpiece ever made—and his square feet per gallon.

Shrine of the Virgin from Tournament. The Metropolitan will give a scholarly air to this exhibition. A five-day symposium will bring more than 100 scholars from all over the world. In addition to publishing a catalogue of the show the museum will issue a volume of essays by these experts.

A primer or first coat of paint will cover approximately 500 square feet per gallon. The finish coat usually covers 600

'2 Grand Domains' Proposed to End Social Sciences Conflict

BOSTON (UPI) — Economists and social scientists are entering the other fields of assumption that people are rational and hence make rational choices. Other social scientists think economists are way off because scientists and economists already working in those areas just don't speak the same technical language.

Tulloch opened the annual Christmas-to-New Year meeting of the American Association of the Advancement of Science (AAAS) with a proposal he hoped would end a conflict-interests dividing that important branch of science.

Tulloch said that economists are entering the other fields of assumption that people are rational and hence make rational choices. Other social scientists think economists are way off because scientists and economists already working in those areas just don't speak the same technical language.

Tulloch cited the economists' They think he is "a person who is perfectly informed, cold-blooded, takes very long views, harmful to science's advancement and predicted it

Let the social sciences be divided into "two grand domains," he said. One would be the sciences of choice and the other the sciences of preference. The first would be an outgrowth of present economics and seek to determine the likely outcome of the interactions of individuals at the preference functions in a society where it is not possible for everyone to have everything he wants.

The other would develop out of sociology, psychology and the related disciplines. It would determine just what the preferences of people are. It would examine individual preferences and, Tullock contended, "the factors which mold preferences."

Thai Stays Cut

BANKOK (AP) — American tourists will be allowed only 15 days stay in Thailand without a visa starting Jan. 1, 1970. Thai officials said today. Previously American tourists have been allowed to stay for 30 days without a visa. Thai tourists are allowed to stay in the United States for 10 days without a visa.

New Ski Lift Is Snowed In

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — An accumulation of 15 inches of snow blanketed the hilly city and workers couldn't reach the site in Fishburn Park to put the new lift Friday—too much snow.

But economists are thinking of people in relation to rational economic systems. Tullock found that other social scientists were unwilling to think that way and in the ways economists generally think. And so he proposed.

One way to win team-of-four matches is to bid all close high light Billy Eisenberg's two-games and then play the dummy-spade reopener in night game my well enough to bring the been.

Actually, Bobby hoped that

Bobby Goldman's jump to his opponents would try a five-gamble, since he could not tell if he could pick up a nice profit if eight. East won and did the best they saved against him but he could by returning the suit.

Dick Walsh and John Swanson didn't fall into that trap.

Billy ruffed the second diamond and looked the hand over.

He could see two club losers, as well as the diamond already lost, so the queen of spades presented a real problem.

You can see that queen nestling happily in the East hand. Billy couldn't but it didn't make any difference to him, since he played the hand in such a manner as to avoid having to locate Her Majesty.

East couldn't afford to let his last heart go, since that would allow Billy to play ace and king of trumps and then discard dummy's last club on the 13th heart, so East chuckled a club.

Now Billy ruffed his last heart, leapt and ruffed another diamond and had eight tricks in while still holding the two top trumps.

Nixon Backs Down on Illegal Foreign Bank Account Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration, under pressure from foreign and domestic banking leaders, has backed down on its support of a bill aimed at stopping hundreds of millions of dollars in tax evasions and frauds through the illegal use of secret foreign bank accounts.

The switch in positions came as a surprise since several administration members helped write the bill.

Now, congressional and administration officials say, the tough bill has been endangered, even though they still agree the illegal use of secret foreign bank accounts must somehow be stopped.

Six days after a Justice Department official endorsed the bill earlier this month, two other administration officials — who helped write the measure — told a House committee they thought it went too far.

One said the Justice Department witness had not supported the bill completely in his testimony six days earlier — even though, everyone in the committee room heard him do just that.

The administration's flip-flop followed a flurry of activity in the short span between the two hearings.

During the six days, according to a reconstruction of events through interviews and examination of records, foreign banks and domestic banks with foreign branches fought the bill at the State Department.

And during the same period, representatives of some of the largest banks in the United States met twice with high-level Treasury Department officials to talk them out of supporting the measure.

In both cases, the bankers complained that the bill would put an undue burden on their record-keeping.

The legislation was born last year when the House Banking Committee held a one-day hearing and decided some measure was needed to stop the illegal use of secret foreign bank accounts which officials say drain hundreds of millions of dollars a year out of the United States, most of it through tax evasion schemes.

The committee, chaired by Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., enlisted the aid of Nixon administration officials in writing the legislation. They came up with a bill to require tighter record keeping on domestic bank account transactions and the identities of persons dealing with those accounts, as well as reporting by persons transporting U.S. currency abroad and those doing business with foreign financial institutions.

Thus assured of administration support, Patman opened hearings Dec. 4.

The lead-off witness, Will Wilson, assistant attorney general in charge of the criminal division, testified that the Justice Department supported the bill.

Then came Robert Morgenthau, who as U.S. attorney for the southern district of New York broke several foreign bank account fraud cases. He said he could not speak for the whole Justice Department but personally supported the bill.

But on the same day, Eugene T. Rossides, assistant secretary of the Treasury for enforcement and operations, was meeting with representatives of the Bank of America, Chase Manhattan, First National City and the Chemical Bank New York Trust Co., some of the largest banks in the country.

It was the first time the bankers had seen the Patman bill and they were upset about it, a source who was at the meeting reported. A few days later they returned, this time with their attorneys, the source said, to talk to Rossides and the Treasury Department out of opposing the bill, but it was never mailed because the Treasury Department informed Revenue Service officials were present at the meetings.

At the same time, the State Department was being pressed by representatives of foreign banks and domestic banks with foreign branches. A State Department official drafted a letter to the Patman committee opposing the bill, but it was never mailed because the Treasury Department informed Revenue Service officials were present at the meetings.

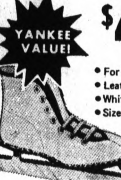

Patman knew of none of this, an aide said, when he convened the second day of hearings Dec. 10. There were two witnesses, Rossides and IRS Commissioner Randolph W. Thorer, who also had helped write the bill. Patman expected the support of both men.

But both testified that while they agreed with the intent of the bill, they could not support it as written because it "went too far."

The testimony obviously took Patman by surprise.

The United States presently is trying to negotiate a treaty with the Swiss government to make possible greater cooperation between law enforcement agencies of the two nations in breaking up illegal schemes which hide behind a cloak of Swiss bank secrecy.

A source within the Treasury Department said privately that the treaty, if it is enacted, would not be a total answer, year. Rossides has informed Patman that the Treasury task force will report to the committee in two or three months. Until then, the fate of the bill remains in doubt.

Used-Car-Lot Law Is Eyed

The Waterford Township Board is expected to act Monday on an ordinance regulating and licensing used-car lots.

The township does not now license used-car lots, Arthur J. Salley, township clerk, said. Licensing is done on a state-wide basis.

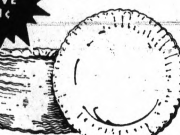

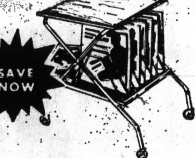

Salley said the proposed ordinance will better define a used-car lot, making it illegal to use the lot for other purposes such as the sale of separate auto parts.

The board is also expected to award the two-year gasoline contract for all township vehicles.

In addition the board will act on two rezoning applications. One application asks that 21 acres on North Lake Angelus east of Clintonville be rezoned from single family residential to multiple dwelling for the construction of a 288-unit apartment.

The other application asks that four lots on Cass Lake north of Cass Elizabeth be rezoned from single-family residential to extensive business district for construction of a warehouse.

The meeting is set for 7:30 p.m. in the cafeteria of Waterford Township High School, 1415 Crescent Lake.

Travelers Help Priest to Build Center

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Travel-hungry people are helping to build a religious and philosophical study center on the outskirts of Mexico City.

They do it by signing up for one of the four packages put together by the Rev. Peter Nicholas Kurguz, a 39-year-old Dominican priest who never has had a parish in his life.

"I've always been a businessman, fund raising and the like," says Father Kurguz.

"Oh, I do hear confession and I even baptize people."

A sort of accident led him to a way to fulfill the assignment given him two years ago—building the center.

"You see, I always wanted to visit Russia," he says, "so I learned that if I organized a trip with a certain number of persons I could go along for nothing. I did that last year, taking 95 residents of Mexico, and made 126,000 pesos for the center." That is $10,000.

Since then he has organized seven other such trips in the United States and Mexico. The destinations were Japan, Hong Kong, Hawaii and Europe, as well as one trip around the world.

With the percentage he gets from the cost of the tour packages, plus outright donations, he hopes to finish the $400,000 study center in 1970. He now has about half the money, and construction started six months ago.

"It will have about 50 rooms for students, a residence area for 15 or 20 fathers, guest rooms, an auditorium and refectory," he said.

"It will be much more than a seminary. It will be a place where the educated laity can meet and study in a program that would somehow enhance a person's knowledge."

Father Kurguz was born in Columbus, Ohio. He was graduated from Providence College in Rhode Island, and the Dominican House of Studies, Catholic University of Washington, in 1956. Before coming to Mexico, he was at the College of Marin, Kentfield, Calif., where he organized and built a Newman center, meeting place for young Catholics.

"I've always had a knack with money. When I was four, my father opened a bank account for me and started any more for lack of time.

Gls Carve Niche in Viet Jungle

FIRE BASE EUNICE, Vietnam — "This is a typical American operation," an officer said. "If you don't like the jungle, move the jungle."

For the U.S. 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment, it's almost that easy. The regiment's 2nd Squadron, reinforced by Army Engineers and a land-clearing company, is cutting through the thick jungle along Highway 14A between Loc Ninh and Bo Duc, 15 miles away.

The highway, less than five miles from the Cambodian border, has not been open to military traffic for more than two years. The jungle and North Vietnamese army have reclaimed it.

Most of the "jungle-busting" is done by the land-clearing company's Rome plows, incredible little bulldozers named for their heavy steel blades made in Rome, Ga. They push over or cut down virtually anything in their paths.

STANDING GUARD
Hundreds of armored cavalry troops in tanks, armored cavalry assault vehicles—A-Cavs—

MOVED RIGHT IN

Eunice, carved out of the jungle in only two days, serves as headquarters for armored units. They moved in as soon as the Rome plows had cleared a stretch from the unit's previous camp at Fire Base Deb, about five miles to the west.

The land-clearing operation is an offensive action at a time when most American offensives have been scaled down to permit the South Vietnamese to take over more of the fighting. The squadron's destination and future plans are classified, but the nature of its activities was demonstrated in a recent contact with the enemy.

An infantry unit of the 1st Air Cavalry Division was in the jungle, flanking the clearing operation, to prevent the enemy from attacking the plows.

An officer radioed that his infantrymen had been ambushed by a squad of North Vietnamese troops. Within minutes eight M48 Sherman tanks crashed into the jungle to pursue the attackers.

Overhead, Cobra helicopter gunships spewed rockets into the ambush site, and the jungle thundered.

The tanks, feeling foot-thick trees like toothpicks, pulled up to the infantrymen, pointed their big guns outward and stood guard while the Americans sent their wounded up a cable to an evacuation helicopter hovering in the treetops.

Cummings, Porritts Offer Gospel Music

The Lighthouse Quartet will present a full hour of Gospel music in Donelson Baptist Church at 7 p.m. tomorrow.

Joan Cummings, at the piano will accompany daughter Kathy and husband Ray along with Shelah and Dave Porritt. The group sings in concert and evangelistic services.

The quartet will sing at New Hope Bible Church in Clarkston on New Year's Eve.

Young people of Donelson Baptist Church will be in charge of skits, games, refreshments and a "swami to spoof" predication for the coming year.

The program begins at 8 p.m. in the church hall.

Faith is not belief in spite of evidence, but life in scorn of consequences. — Kirsopp Lake, English theologian.

Bill Yarborough tallied 27 and Chris McClure 19 for Henry Ford, while Gilbert Mitchell topped Orchard Ridge with 15.

Highland Lakes center Dan Rachael (6-8) set a school record with 32 rebounds and he hit on 16 of 21 shots to tally 38 points in sparking the victory. Guard Butch Finnegan was also in on the record act, collecting 11 assists. Doug Walters came off the bench and hit on 8 of 10 shots from the floor to aid the Highlanders cause.

'M' Coach Takes Issue With Odds

Doughty, U-M's second-string tailback but also the team's second leading runner, injured his right knee Wednesday and underwent surgery Friday at the UCLA Medical Center.

Another injury that Bo said could hurt Michigan even more is a bone fracture in Barry Pierson's right forearm. But the standout defensive back is to have a cast removed Monday.

Schembechler said Pierson wouldn't return punts against USC and "it's possible he won't play at all. We'll just have to wait and see."

He said Bruce Elliott would take Pierson's place on the punt return squad and that Billy Taylor would run back kicks in Doughty's place.

Fullback Garvie Crawford has a bruised thigh and middle guard Henry Hill a groin injury but Schembechler said they'd be all right.

McKay reported no new injuries. His Trojans and the Wolverines will both practice once a day through New Year's Eve.

Scott Tests Richey in Sugar Bowl Net

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Gene Scott of New York challenges top-seeded Cliff Richey, the nation's fourth-ranked singles player, in a semifinal match today at the 33rd annual Sugar Bowl Tennis Tourney.

Richey, the San Angelo, Tex., star who is seeking his third Sugar Bowl championship, was extended Friday in winning his first-round match.

Armistead Neely of Tampa, Fla., current Southeastern Conference singles champ, won the first set 9-7, before bowing to Richey's superior serve 6-3, 6-3.

Scott, No. 10 in the national rankings, beat 15th-ranked Tom Mozer of Knoxville, Tenn., 6-2, 6-2.

Cougars Suffer Loss of Bridges

HOUSTON (AP)—The University of Houston Cougars will be without the services of Bill Bridges, their All-American guard, Wednesday when they meet Auburn in the Astro-Bonnet Bowl.

Head Coach Bill Yeoman said Friday that Bridges will undergo a knee operation.

BOWLING

What may turn out to be one of the highest five-man team series in the nation was rolled at Maple Lakes in Walldale when Camelot Inn's squad in the Maple Masters carved out a 3,477-pin total.

Leading the pot series was Billy Golembewski with a 791. His teammates boosted the quintet as Dale Rosenboom fired a 703, Walt Honchell a 688, Roy Moore a 687 and Steve Olisek a 563. Billy "G" narrowly missed an 800 series with an open 10th frame in his third game.

The quintet's score ranks at the top of men's competition in the area for the past week.

Novi Defeated by Whiteford

Novi dropped its opening-round game in the Milan Holiday basketball tournament Friday night, absorbing a 62-43 defeat at the hands of Ottawa Lake Whiteford.

The loss dropped the Wildcats into the consolation bracket, where they will meet Monroe Catholic Central, 92-80 losers to host Milan Friday, at 4 p.m. today.

Phil McMillan was Novi's only double-figures scorer as he hit for 15 points. Dave Simpson and Gary Koppelman topped the winners of Ottawa Lake with 20 and 14 points, respectively.

Other action in the eight-team tourney Friday saw Dearborn Riverside romo over Alport, 83-34, and Monroe Jefferson trip up Clinton, 63-58.

Shrine Game Today

Owens Leads West 11

By KEN RAPPOPORT
Associated Press Sports Writer
Star-gazing college football fans will find out what makes Steve run, among others, when the East meets the West in the glamor-tinted 45th Shrine game today.

Steve Owens, Oklahoma's bread-and-butter ball carrier, heads a flock of powerhouse West runners in the annual classic for crippled children, shifted this year from San Francisco to Palo Alto, Calif.

The contest was among three today, unfolding several days of activity that wind up with the traditional bowl games on New Year's Day.

Tennessee met Florida in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., and the Blue all-stars clashed with the Gray at Montgomery, Ala., in earlier games today.

The Shrine game was moved out of San Francisco for only

Several Irish Still Snowed In

Parseghian Worried as Game Nears

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Notre Dame head football coach Ara Parseghian made it to Dallas Friday for the Jan. 1 Cotton Bowl date with the ranked Texas A&M. But a number of his players didn't and he said, "I'm worried about it."

Parseghian said, "I'm not sure when we will be able to work out because a number of our top players are still snowed in on up east."

"We had planned to work out today, but we had to cancel out. Two workouts are scheduled Saturday—if the players get in."

Parseghian said the players missing included quarterback Joe Theismann, who is from New Jersey.

"We've had only two good outdoor workouts since our last game in November with the Alphas," Parseghian said. "We had very bad weather in South Bend. We tried to cover the field, but it was frozen anyway."

Parseghian said his squad needs conditioning and work on its timing before the fighting Irish will be ready for their first bowl game in 45 years.

"I sure hope Texas has lots of Christmas turkey," Parseghian said.

Texas resumed work in sunny Austin and will not travel to Dallas until Monday.

Parseghian said his workouts—when he gets to have them—will be closed to the public.

Texas Coach Darrell Royal said "our workouts in Dallas will be public."

Royal was informed of Parseghian's problems with the weather and conceded "he's behind" compared to the number of outside workouts Texas has held.

Prince Handicap Pick

TUJANA, Mex. (AP)—Majestic Trujana, winner of the Kentucky Derby and the Preakness, has been named the 4-1 favorite in the Caliente future book to win the Santa Anita Handicap March 7.

meeting Tuesday night in the Peach Bowl in Atlanta. On Wednesday night, Houston tackles Auburn in the Astro-Bonnet Bowl.

On Thursday, New Year's Day, top-ranked Texas plays Notre Dame in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas; Penn State No. 2 meets Missouri at night in the Orange Bowl at Miami; Mississippi and Arkansas clash in the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans and Michigan and Southern California in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif.

These include, Bob Anderson, Colorado's All-American, Art Malone of Arizona State and Greg Owens of UCLA.

The East's trump card is a formidable defense, but it still boasts a couple of aces in the hole with Jim Otis of Ohio State at fullback and John Isenbarger, the Big Ten's leading rusher, also in the backfield.

South Carolina and West Virginia continue the bowl activity,

Gophers Play U-D in (MCT) Final

DETROIT (UPI)—Minnesota goes into the final round of the Motor City Basketball Tournament tonight as the Big Ten team to compete in the annual holiday affair since Michigan won the championship 10 years ago.

The Gophers qualified for tonight's meeting with host and defending champion Detroit by squeaking by Bowling Green, 70-68, in Friday night's initial game.

The Titans followed by whipping the University of Pittsburgh, 86-60, for only their second victory in eight starts this season.

Pittsburgh and Bowling Green meet in a consolation round tonight.

Larry Mikan, son of longtime pro star George Mikan, led all scorers in the first game Friday night, and clinched the game for the Gophers by sinking two clutch free throws in the last four seconds.

FALCONS FOLD

A basketball by junior forward Rick Walker gave the Falcons a six-point lead with 10 minutes remaining, but Minnesota rallied behind the sharpshooting of Mikan and Haywood to the Denver Rockets before the start of the season, had four players in double figures.

Barely a 50 per cent free throw team all year, Minnesota hit on 18 of 23 from the charity stripe.

Fellow guard Jim Jackson followed with 17 and Al Peak and Vern DeSilva each had 12. Paul O'Gorek led the losers which lost All-America Spencer with 11 tallies.

NEW YORK (AP)—Madison Square Garden has completed arrangements for a Feb. 16 heavyweight championship bout between Joe Frazier and Jimmy Ellis, it appeared virtually certain Friday.

The Garden, which has been boxing for match Frazier and Ellis for the title for almost a year, invited newsmen to a Monday press conference, at which details of the 15-round fight are expected to be announced.

Harry Markson, director of boxing for the New York arena, said earlier in the week he was confident the match would be closed with the resolution of "a few hitches" concerning the ancillary, the television setup.

Frazier, the Philadelphia puncher recognized as champion in seven states, including New York, and Ellis, of Louisville, Ky., the World Boxing Association titleholder, reportedly have been guaranteed $150,000 a piece against 30 per cent of the gate plus closed circuit television revenue.

Cassius Clay, or Muhammad Ali as he prefers to be called, still is recognized as the champion in some parts of the world.

Stripped of the title two years ago for refusing military induction, he was close to a match with Frazier, which would have earned him $300,000, but plans for the world-wide television bout fell through recently.

Persian Favorite

FAIRYHOUSE, Ireland (AP)—A $100,000 prize will be divided among the lucky people around the world who drew the correct winner of today's Fairyhouse Stakes—the race deciding the Irish Sweepstakes. Persian remained the 11-4 favorite.

The race is being run for the first time and the first prize of $24,000 is the biggest for any hurdle race in the British Isles.

Gridders Plowed Out

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A busload of Orange Bowl-bound Penn State football players crossed the snow-covered mountains behind a snow plow Friday en route to Greater Pittsburgh Airport and a flight to the sunny south.

The host teams again will be Marquette and Wisconsin.

Happy New Year

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

Members of the Rochester branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association practice what they preach as they decorate their homes for the holidays.

Each year the group sponsors a Greens Market at the Rochester Pavilion to provide greens and trims for the community and its members.

Six of the women kindly share their Christmas ideas on today's page. The results represent many hours of painstaking work to create beauty for the pleasure of their families and friends.

Mrs. Keith Crissman passes on an idea for inexpensive and attractive candlesticks.

EASY TO MAKE

"They are so easy to make," said Mrs. Crissman, "and versatile."

"Take goblets and spray them gold. When they are dry, affix the candles. Trim with holly. And you have a delightful holiday accent."

Mrs. Crissman used her goblet candlesticks on the mantel of her family room fireplace. The scarlet candles repeated the red of the holly roping festooning the hewn beam.

Angel musicians center the mantel under a natural holly wreath. To the delight of the four Crissman grandchildren, candy canes hanging from the mantel garland provided pleasant snacks to nibble on while they were waiting for Santa Claus to arrive.

HOLIDAY MAIL — Mrs. Joseph A. Watson Jr. of Rochester joined in the holiday spirit by decorating her black mailbox with an angel hair cloud and Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus in their sleigh. Candy canes add a festive air to the colonial-type light fixture. Mrs. Watson is the immediate past president of the Rochester branch - Woman's National Farm and Garden Association.

HAPPY NEW YEAR — Mrs. Arthur F. Underwood of Avon Township opens her topiary-trimmed front door to call the holiday greeting. The tree, made by Mrs. Underwood, features glycerined magnolia leaves, dried okra and lotus pods and a variety of cones. The moss green velvet bow and stem are complemented by a variety of greens in the gold-painted base.

Pontiac Press Photos by Ron Unternahrer

YULE CHEER — Holiday time is a happy time at the J. C. Bighams in Avon Township. Mrs. Bigham sets the mood for gaiety from the entrance porch through the spacious colonial. Fruit and greens frame the door decorated by an aqua and green wreath. Even the Italian statuary is trimmed for the occasion.

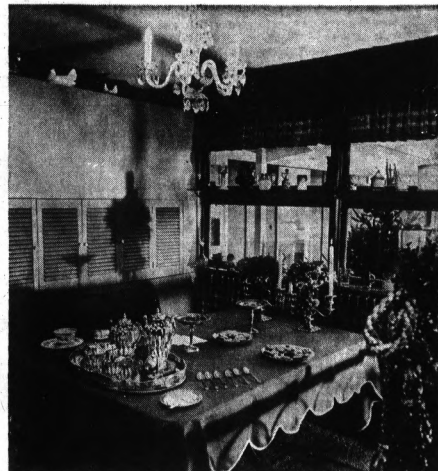

SANTA'S GONE — But the memory lives on at the Keith Crissmans in Avon Township. This was a year of great fun as the Crissmans welcomed their four grandchildren for the Christmas weekend. Heart of the holiday festivities was the family room with its gaily decorated tree and fireplace. The dolls — one belonging to Mrs. Crissman when she was a little girl, the other to her daughter Gail (Mrs. Richard Brenner) — rest before the fire on old-fashioned cane-backed chairs.

TIME OUT — Raggedy Ann and Andy find the cane rocker before the fieldstone fireplace just the place for a holiday snooze. Mrs. James E. Campbell of Avon Township made the gingerbread men scampering toward the green felt Christmas tree centering the mantel. Bright red bows decorate the Scotch and red pine swag on the cherry paneling.

REFRESHMENTS — Mrs. Frank Bauman of Rochester has everything in readiness for guests who drop in during the festive holiday week. The Christmas-red cloth emphasizes the red burjap wall covering and the red satin ornaments decorating the tree just outside the window. Greens and fruit fall from the bobèche of the silver candelabrum.

STATELY APPEARANCE of French Provincial house is attractively softened by extensive use of curves on roof, arches, dormers, windows and at brick walls on both ends.

FLOORS PLANS: Spacious foyer leads directly to living room, kitchen, breakfast room and the second floor. Angled family room is accessible from the breakfast room, the patio and the two-car garage.

Big French Chateau Has Elegant Facade

Looking at the facade of this elegant home, one is drawn back in time to another era—the heyday of French nobility, when the horse and carriage, footmen and retinues of servants were commonplace. The historic period may be gone, but traces of it remain in the architecture of some French countryside homes.

And the styling is enjoying a resurgence today on both sides of the Atlantic.

While the design fits into the general category of French Provincial, it can be more precisely described as of Loire Valley Chateau origin.

MANSARD ROOF

Distinguishing features are a high Mansard roof curved at its lowest edges, curved brick arches and window dormers, a front entirely of brick, and diamond-paned windows.

All of these are true to the original in this latest House of the Week, a creation of architect Samuel Paul.

A one-story angled garage wing and complementary angled brick wall on the other side add to the overall elegance of the front facade.

There is an impression of size, but this is largely an illusion, since the habitable area of 2023 square feet—1190 on the first floor, 833 on the second floor—is modest for a two-story house.

FRONT PORTICO

From the covered front portico, the attractive front door leads to a large foyer highlighted by a sweeping, winding staircase.

Also in the foyer are two closets and a powder room, the latter an especial convenience for arriving guests who wish to "freshen up."

To the left of the foyer is a formal living room 23' long, with an optional fireplace and mantel.

Straight ahead from the foyer and also accessible from the living room is the dining room, featuring a large bay window overlooking the rear garden.

BREAKFAST ROOM

The daily activities areas of the home are all to the right of the foyer.

A kitchen, with an abundance of cabinets, is at the rear. Adjacent to it, yet separated by a dwarf partition with attractive turned posts above, is a breakfast room.

To the side of the kitchen is a laundry-mud room with a service closet and a door to the outside.

Beyond the breakfast room—is a paneled family room, with a large brick fireplace and hearth and sliding glass doors to a curved patio.

CURVED GALLERY

Upstairs are four bedrooms and two bathrooms, all located off a roomy hall and curved gallery.

One of the bathrooms is part of the master bedroom, which is also a walk-in closet.

The exterior of this house has family requiring four bedrooms.

S-25 STATISTICS

Design S-25 has a living room, dining room, family room, kitchen, breakfast room, foyer and lavatory on the first floor, with a livable area of 1190 square feet. Also on ground level are a mud room-laundry and a two-car garage. Upstairs are four bedrooms and two bathrooms, totaling 833 square feet. The over-all dimensions, which include the garage and a curved patio, are 75' by 48'. There is a full basement.

Homebuilding Effort Going at Half Speed

By NORMAN KEMPSTER
UPI Reporter

The nation's homebuilding effort is limping along at half the speed needed to meet housing goals and there is little encouragement in either the economic statistics or recent history.

There is little doubt that the current slump in housing construction is caused both by rising costs and the government's effort to fight inflation through tight money policies.

Tight money drives up the interest rates on home mortgages and sometimes makes it impossible to obtain a home loan at any price.

Inflation drives up the cost of the material, labor and land that go into a house, increasing its price beyond the means of many would-be buyers.

ANTI-INFLATION

The Nixon Administration's economic experts — Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy, Chairman Paul W. McCracken of the Council of Economic Advisors and others — all argue the anti-inflation policy is beginning to take hold.

But they also say the inflation control measures must be maintained for several months more at least.

There will be little relief for housing until restraints on money are eased.

But even after the tight money policy can be ended, it may be months before home construction recovers.

ANNUAL RATE

Housing Secretary George Romney said recently that monetary policy began easing in the fall of 1968 after a severe credit crunch "but it was a full year later before housing production fully recovered its previous high."

The Commerce Department reports that housing construction in October was at a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1.3 million units.

That means if home building proceeded for an entire year at the October pace, the total construction would be 1.3 million units, half the rate needed to meet the nation's goal of 25 million homes in 10 years.

Romney has said there are indications that production may slump even more before it begins to rebound.

TWO REASONS

Romney said there are two important reasons for meeting the housing goals.

One is social and the other is economic.

"Success in meeting our nation's housing needs unquestionably would do more than any other physical achievement to alleviate the dangerous and divisive tensions of our cities," he said.

ECONOMIC SIDE

On the economic side, Romney said, construction of enough housing to meet the accelerating demand "can do for our economy what the railroads did in the last century."

"Meeting housing needs is a dramatic opportunity for business and labor," he said.

Colonial Idea Still at Work

A practice held over from American colonial days still saves thousands of families millions of dollars they might lose from moth damage.

This is storing fur, woollens and similar garments in a cedar closet.

The pleasant aroma from this unusual wood is refreshing to humans, repellent to moths.

In recent years, cedar-lined closets have grown so popular they often are specified as standard equipment in house construction.

HANDYMAN

To have a cedar closet, however, you don't need a new home.

The home handyman can nail the tongue-and-grooved pieces of aromatic red cedar to the walls of an existing closet, make sure the door closes snugly to keep the aroma in, and have a moth-resistant storage place at small cost.

Log Production Is Great Amount

U.S. softwood log production — whence comes lumber and ply wood for home building — totaled about 38 billion board feet last year.

This was less than two per cent of the sawtimber inventory of more than two trillion board feet.

TEN WAYS THE REALTOR TAKES THE WORRY OUT OF HOME BUYING:

Buying a home can be a bore of fun. Or a pack of pitfalls. And that's where a Realtor comes in. Sure, though you may know the difference between a dollar and a cent, a Realtor can save you a lot of money and a lot of worry. And a Realtor can save you a lot of money and a lot of worry. And a Realtor can save you a lot of money and a lot of worry.

1. THE REALTOR SAVES YOU TIME, EFFORT AND HEADACHES. He knows your neighborhood, knows something of your personal tastes—and tries to show you only the types of homes you want to see, within your price range.
2. THE REALTOR ADVISES YOU ABOUT NEIGHBORHOODS. His professional experience is invaluable to you in analyzing future trends and the potential value of your home as a long-range investment.
3. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU SEE THROUGH INFLATED PRICES. Owners who try to sell personally, often turn out to be overpriced. A Realtor, however, has a Realtor's knowledge of current market values.
4. THE REALTOR ARRANGES FOR DEFINITE INSPECTIONS. He makes appointments for your convenience. He will also see that you have plenty of time for a thorough, unbiased inspection.
5. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU SHARPEN YOUR VISION. He inspects homes with you, calls your attention to improvements and advantages, even introduces you to the neighbors.
6. THE REALTOR PROVIDES YOU WITH FULL INFORMATION. He will give you essential facts about taxes, maintenance costs, quality of construction, adequacy of public services, schools, churches—even introduces you to the neighbors.
7. THE REALTOR ACTS AS A NEGOTIATOR. Settling of the finer points of price and other details can get pretty hectic. Your Realtor, however, over the details and helps buyer and seller arrive at a mutually advantageous agreement.
8. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU STAY WITHIN YOUR BUDGET. He will help you analyze your financial situation, give you sound mortgage advice. Then, if you desire, he can recommend sources of mortgage funds so you can arrange financing.
9. THE REALTOR HELPS YOU KNOW FINAL FINALS AND FIGURES. At the close of the transaction, you will need a complete financial statement, giving you an exact record for insurance, tax and other purposes.
10. THE TERM REALTOR is your assurance of fair treatment, competence and integrity. Display of the Realtor Seal is evidence of the pledge to uphold the Realtor's Creed.

Recipient of Heart, Lungs Progressing

NEW YORK (UPI) — New York Hospital officials said yesterday a 43-year-old Newton, N.J., man was making "satisfactory progress" after receiving a new heart and lungs in a "three-hour-and-13-minute transplant operation."

A hospital spokesman said quest of relatives, had been Edward Falk underwent the operation Thursday. He received the organs of a 50-year-old woman who had previously withheld at the re-died of a brain hemorrhage. said Falk "is making satisfactory progress. He is awake and displays no signs of rejection."

Should Be More Patient With Youth, Says Daley

CHICAGO (AP) — Youth's idealism — and its trappings, some people think that young people are going to pot because of their long hair and mustache. But if you look at pictures of Christ, Abraham Lincoln, you see them with wings and beards. The mayor said he does not believe there is a generation gap. Daley said the only reason people think it exists is because so many write about it.

He was interviewed by Fahey Flynn of WLS-TV (ABC) for showing in the Chicago area. "We should be a lot more patient instead of trying to impose our own ideas on them. Johnson in 1968," will disappear. "Humor is part of it, you have to have it."

Earl Has 'Deefcult' Time Interviewing Yves, Simone

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Keeping up with Yves Montand and Simone Signoret is an assignment I'd prefer not having regularly.

After slopping through the rain for 10 blocks, I arrived at their suite at the Algonquin, accepted a drink and heard Montand call to a lady in the bedroom, "Simone, I have a friend here."

No answer from the bedroom. But sound. A drawer opening. A bag being opened. Lady undoubtedly dressing. In black sweat shirt, tight trousers, rather long black boots, he was exuberant about the reviews of "Z," his latest movie. He had been on the David Frost show and had sung—unexpectedly—he has sung very little in the last four years, while devoting himself to acting.

"Ees deefcult to seeng when you are in a tough peecture." He smoked a cigarette and poured a Scotch. "Your voice is changing when you go from one to the other. The best, the muscles are changing."

He gestured expressively. "Ees gerd how you explain how you loved the peecture. Perfection is not possible but we know when we do well."

"We must be the person we play. If I play a crew, we must be a crew. Marlon Brando, for me he is the real Zapata, he is Kalashi. For me when Paul Newman plays the billiards, he is the hustler."

"We believe Bogart, we believe Onree Fawnda in the 'Twelve Angry Men.' Simone."

Miss Signoret had emerged dressed for dinner, she sat down and greeted me.

"When we met Bogart? In Paris, in '53... And Onree Fawnda in 'Mssieu'—is god."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP... Leslie Uggams, taping a TV show in London with Engelbert Humperdinck, was asked by an interviewer, "We know about Mr. Humperdinck now, what's your real name?" Richard Harris describes his long hair in "Cromwell," as "early Ringo Starr." Ann-Margret agreed to the producers' pleas—she won't ride her motorbike till "R.P.M." is finished... Jim (Gomer Pyle) Nabors is dating Edna Earle, owner of the L.A. restaurant, Fog Cutter... Joe Levine's shooting five films simultaneously, from Russia to Arkansas.

Soap Sellers Find Austrians Behind

VIENNA (AP) — Austrians are on eighth place among West European countries as far as cleanliness was concerned, an official of Austrian detergent producing firm said. He said Austrians spend only 0.9 per cent of their annual household budget for soaps and detergents.

New Mexico's nickname is "The Land of Enchantment."

He blamed the Vietnam war for the bitterness and hatred that caused the youths who came to Chicago during the 1968 Democratic National Convention "to disrupt the convention inside and outside."

"In 1972, I hope young people come to the convention, not to fight the establishment, but to offer constructive suggestions." Asked if he was the last of the big city mayors who could handle urban problems, the mayor replied, "I don't think at Mount Sinai Hospital in the last. I hope I'm the last."

CAST BALLOTS—Japanese Prime Minister and Mrs. Eisaku Sato cast their ballots today in Tokyo in the general elections for a new House of Representatives. The couple voted at a poll station near their Tokyo home.

Scientific Debate Continues Despite End of UFO Probe

BOSTON (AP) — After 22 years, the U.S. Air Force has given up its investigation of UFOs—Unidentified Flying Objects—but a scientific debate continues.

UFOs were the topic of a symposium today at the annual meeting of the prestigious American Association for the Advancement of Science.

"Scientists of the 21st century will look back on UFOs as the greatest nonsense of the 20th century," declared Dr. Donald H. Menzel, Harvard University astronomer.

Dr. J. Allen Hynek, Northwestern University astronomer, countered: "We in the 20th century may be as far away from a solution of the UFO problem as 19th century physicists were from an interpretation of the Aurora Borealis (northern lights)."

'NO THREAT'

Both men have served as consultants during Air Force investigations of UFO reports. Dr. Hynek served almost from the inception of the project.

The Air Force, saying it found UFOs no threat to national security, closed its study just last week.

Dr. Menzel, who believes that most if not all UFO reports have a natural explanation, said: "I can't walk around the block without seeing at least one and sometimes several of the basic stimuli that people have reported from time to time as a bona fide UFO."

He said amateur groups who believe UFOs represent spacecraft from other planets "can do considerable harm to science," and will "deluge Congress with demands for further costly studies."

'DUBIOUS HOAXES'

"The government should withdraw all support for UFO studies as such, though I could certainly advocate the support of research in certain atmospheric phenomena associated with UFO reports," he said.

Dr. Hynek said some photographs of UFOs or flying saucers are obviously hoaxes, but that, in cases he looked into, "The probability of a hoax in all 25 cases is vanishingly small."

Even so, this would not prove the existence of strange flying objects, but it should provide sufficient justification for the proper attention to the phenomenon by the scientific world, he said.

"And that is, of course, all that I advocate: that the subject of UFO reports is worthy of serious scientific attention."

Dr. Hynek said: "The intellectual climate today is enormously better for taking a good look at it than it was even a few years ago. This symposium is itself an example."

A small residue of UFO reports are not easily identifiable as coming from crackpots or from misperceptions of known objects and events, Dr. Hynek said.

other victim was Mrs. Kenneth Rogers, whose husband was arrested yesterday and charged with the two slayings, plus the murder of a teen-age girl. The car was abandoned in a park near the west Tennessee town of Ripley.

some Jewish rye bread back from there, but I don't know if it will work out," he said.

Grant, 42, a counselor in the school system of the nearby City of Alameda, and several friends raised $2,500 in May 1967 for a down payment on a twin-engine Apache plane and went into the air freight business.

From the beginning, the directors had trouble obtaining financing, Grant says. Four government agencies and private loan companies turned them down.

"You're in the wrong place, they would tell us," said treasurer Robert Reed, 44, an aircraft mechanic at the U.S. Naval Air Station in Alameda for 29 years.

Finally, a bank official referred the directors to Oppor-

OAKLAND, Calif. (AP) — Arabesco Airlines, which claims to be the only black-owned airline in the United States, has cornered a chunk of the Los Angeles market with a San Francisco specialty: sourdough French bread.

Every night, one of Arabesco's two twin-engine C45 cargo planes flies from Oakland International Airport to Los Angeles with more than 800 pounds of French bread from San Francisco.

But airline President Donald Grant says the company hasn't been able to come up with anything from Los Angeles to fly back to the Bay Area—so the planes are returning empty.

"I got a call this morning about the possibility of bringing OTO, financed by seven local banks and one corporation, loaned Arabesco $47,500 in July and the company started operations with the two C45s.

Norman James, 25, a founder and chief pilot, said the company plans to buy another plane or trade one of the C45s for a larger aircraft in six or eight months.

Arabesco, which got its name from randomly picking one letter from the names of eight men originally interested in the company, carries about 80,000 pounds of cargo a month. It is unscheduled.

The ancient seaport of Byblos may be the oldest, continuously inhabited city in the world. It is situated in the Lebanon (known as Phoenicia in ancient times), about 25 miles north of Beirut. The history of the city spans 7,000 years—even in Phoenician legend it was believed to be the oldest city on earth.

About 5000 B.C. a small Neolithic fishing community settled there. From that date onward the site has been continuously occupied and various civilizations have succeeded one another as the ages have passed. Its position at a crossroads for trade and cultural exchange in antiquity meant that it became a highly cosmopolitan city whose influences were spread far beyond the Phoenician coast.

For several hundred years the name Byblos was not used for settlements on the site, and the exact location of the city was unknown and lost to history. It was re-discovered in 1860, and since then archeological research has been carried on, uncovering layer by layer traces of Neolithic, Bronze Age, Egyptian, Greco-Roman, Arab, Byzantine and medieval cultures.

But traces of Byblos are extant in everyday life, also, linking us with the times when it was a rich and creative center of activities for the known world. For example, in Greek the word "byblos" was used for papyrus—probably because Byblos was a center for the papyrus trade. Later, books were called "biblia," because of the use of papyrus as a writing material, and our word, Bible, is derived from this. And the earliest known form of the Phoenician 22-letter alphabet, the first of its kind, from which our own alphabet is descended, was found in Byblos in 1923. It formed part of the carving on the stone sarcophagus of King Ahiram and dates from at least 1000 B.C.

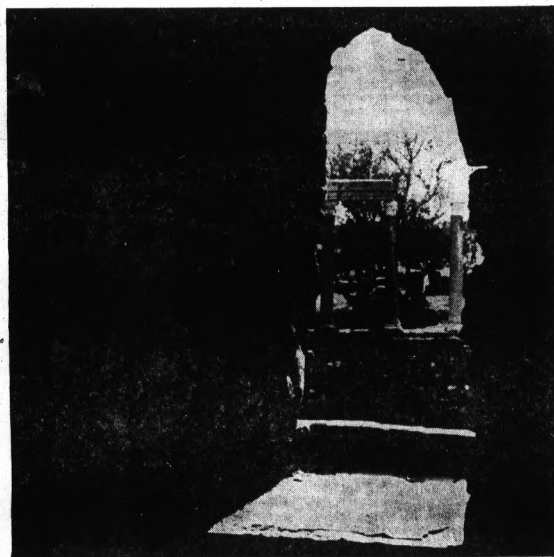

These pictures of Byblos today appear in "Byblos Through the Ages," by Nina Jidejian, a new account of the ancient site, the first to be published in English.

He and four other rights leaders previously had refused to post bond and were jailed after being indicted on charges of encouraging Negro pupils to boycott Memphis schools in protest demonstrations. Abernathy remained behind bars eight days.

New Dating Process Used

'Skeleton Is 9,000 Years Old'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — U.S. scientists will be used in dating finds a new dating method, from future diggings, despite scientists say they have the fact purifying the amino acid for dating is complicated.

Dr. Charles Rozario, curator of archaeology at the Los Angeles County Museum of Natural History, said Friday the accuracy of the dating was within 800 years.

This adds one more piece of information to our very limited inventory on early man in North America," he said.

The skeleton was described as one of the oldest ever found in the Western Hemisphere.

New York City Sanitation Expert Calls It Quits

Marty O'Connell, sanitation man extraordinaire, has retired after battling more New York snowstorms than any other public official in his 40 years with the city department of sanitation.

"It's time I put the garbage can down," O'Connell, 61, said yesterday.

He was called out of retirement in 1967 to take a $24,000-a-year post as operations adviser to the sanitation department, mainly because of his snow-fighting experience.

O'Connell's retirement came the same day the city was digging out of a 4-to-6-inch snow.

Murder Suspect Counting on Record Royalties

Charles M. Manson is counting on a record album of his singing and guitar playing to provide funds for his defense against murder-conspiracy charges in seven bizarre slayings.

Manson, 35, the leader of a communal cult, made the album from songs he composed himself before his arrest.

Word of his hopes for revenue from the musical effort came in Los Angeles yesterday from attorney George Shibley. The lawyer said he didn't know the name of the recording company or when the album will be released.

Manson has received court permission to represent himself when he comes to trial sometime next year in connection with the slayings of actress Sharon Tate and four other persons at her rented Benedict Canyon estate last Aug. 19 and the deaths of the following night of wealthy Mr. and Mrs. Leno LaBianca.

Yank Asking Russia to Act as Intermediary on Gifts for POWs

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Texas industrialist H. Ross Perot said today the Soviet Union is considering his request to fly to Moscow with a planeload of gifts for U.S. prisoners of war in North Vietnam.

Perot met with Soviet officials here after North Vietnam turned down his request Friday to fly the planes to Hanoi. He said he will go to Bangkok later today to see if the Moscow trip is approved.

If the Moscow trip is approved, Perot said, then Soviet postal officials will forward the gifts to Hanoi. This is what North Vietnam told Perot before he began his holiday mission.

The reason he requested permission to fly to Moscow, Perot explained, is that North Vietnam set a deadline of Dec. 31 for accepting Christmas parcels for prisoners of war.

WENT TO HEADQUARTERS
From the Russian Embassy, Perot and three aides went to Pathet Lao delegation headquarters. The Pathet Lao and the North Vietnamese, fight against the royalist and neutralist forces in Laos.

Perot said Pathet Lao delegation chief Soth Petrasi showed him a list of 172 U.S. servicemen reported missing in action in Laos, but the list is believed to be one prepared periodically by the International Red Cross and given to the Pathet Lao.

According to U.S. sources, some of the men on the list are believed to be alive as prisoners of war in Laos. Perot did not say whether the Pathet Lao official told him if any of the prisoners are alive. The Pathet Lao claim to have shot down 1,000 U.S. planes.

"The U.S. State Department says 162 American servicemen have been reported missing in action or captured in Laos during the war. Perot said that in his conversation with the Pathet Lao official."

"We talked principally about the subject of prisoners. I explained to him that this is a major concern to the people of America."

'IMPORTANT FACTOR'
"I told him that about 76 percent of the people of the United States supported President Nixon in his Vietnam war policy. I also told him one of the factors which made the people of America more determined was the unknown fate of missing troops."

As with the North Vietnamese, Perot said, the Pathet Lao refused to open its prison camps to him. Members of Perot's organization have made similar appeals to the Vietcong through its embassy in Phnom Penh, Cambodia. It is believed that this effort also has been rebuffed.

Perot said he encountered a "serious communications problem" in his conversation with both the North Vietnamese and the Pathet Lao.

"They sincerely feel that by keeping the fate of prisoners unknown, they have a powerful leverage against the United States," Perot said.

Universities' Role as Counselor Seen

EAST LANSING (AP) — The university is moving more into the role of counselor rather than disciplinarian, says a Michigan State University official.

"The university," says Dr. Milton Dickinson, vice president for student affairs, "is going to continue working toward the idea that students as individuals and as groups are going to be making their own roles."

He added: "The purpose of the university is not to change the individual but to counsel him and hope that he will establish his own rules of conduct, dress and discipline, keeping in mind he must exhibit some conformity with society such as stopping at red lights."

Officers Prevent Suicide, Cited

LANSING (AP) — Officers Joseph Cuthbert and David Bokanoski have received awards for preventing a possible suicide at the state prison at Jackson.

Corrections Director Gus Harrison said the officers were told that an inmate was going to set himself on fire at the prison yard bandstand Veterans Day. Harrison said the officers kept the inmate from suffering more than minor burns.

Choice of Cards Amazes Sister

JOHNSTON, R.I. (AP) — Maryanne DePusco received Christmas cards from her two brothers, Joseph of Waterbury, Conn., and Edmund of Los Angeles.

The brothers, who said their choices of cards were completely independent, sent identical greeting cards to their astonished sister.

Teen of the Week William J. Katip hits a high note of accomplishment in music.

For the past three years the Pontiac Central High School senior, who plays French horn, has marched with the band in addition to leading off musical activities as a drum major.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Katip of 3461 Ardeth, Waterford Township, has also participated in the Regional-Solo Solo and Ensemble competition.

In addition to taking active roles in student government, the college prep student is a member of the National Honor Society, one of the highest honors at Central. He will also finish his high school career with a near-perfect attendance record.

Outside of school, William takes an active role at First Baptist Church, where he has served as president of the church's youth group.

City Girl Escapes Fire With Jump Out of Window

A Pontiac girl escaped serious injury in a fire at a rooming house yesterday by jumping out of a window.

The house, 117 University, was gutted in the 11:10 a.m. blaze. Damage was estimated by firemen at $15,000.

Susanne Adameck, 20, received minor cuts and burns. Firemen said she leaped from a second-story window when she was trapped by flames on the stairs.

About 20 young persons occupied the building. The fire started in the kitchen, firemen said.

Junior Editors Quiz on WATER SHREW

IT'S AMAZIN' LIKE NEW YORK METS - HE EATS HIS WEIGHT EVERY THREE HOURS...

WHAT'LL I DO WHEN I USE THESE UPS?

MOST AMAZIN' OF ALL - HE ACTUALLY WALKS ON WATER.

HE SWIMS AMAZIN'LY WELL.

QUESTION: What makes the water shrew different from other shrews?

ANSWER: Thinking of the New York Mets, we used the word "amazin'" while drawing pictures of the water shrew. Actually, amazin' describes the whole shrew family. Shrews resemble mice, but have long pointed snouts and are usually smaller. In fact, some shrews are the smallest American mammals, about three inches long.

What's so amazin' is that beasts so tiny should have such fierce, fighting natures. If two shrews start fighting, one is quite apt to kill and eat the other. They are so active that their appetites give them no rest.

The water shrew is larger than the rest, up to six inches long. What makes him different from the rest is that, probably, because of the food he feeds on, he has become completely adapted to life around or in the water. An expert swimmer, his feet are much larger than those of other shrews, and are hairy as well as broad.

But he can do more than swim. By scampering rapidly across a water surface, the broad feet and the surface tension of the water will actually allow this shrew to walk on water without sinking. What could be more amazin' than that?

(You can win $10 cash plus AP's handsome World year-book if your question, mailed on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper, is selected for a prize.)

WHAT'LL I DO WHEN I USE THESE UPS?

MOST AMAZIN' OF ALL - HE ACTUALLY WALKS ON WATER.

HE SWIMS AMAZIN'LY WELL.

QUESTION: What makes the water shrew different from other shrews?

ANSWER: Thinking of the New York Mets, we used the word "amazin'" while drawing pictures of the water shrew. Actually, amazin' describes the whole shrew family. Shrews resemble mice, but have long pointed snouts and are usually smaller. In fact, some shrews are the smallest American mammals, about three inches long.

What's so amazin' is that beasts so tiny should have such fierce, fighting natures. If two shrews start fighting, one is quite apt to kill and eat the other. They are so active that their appetites give them no rest.

The water shrew is larger than the rest, up to six inches long. What makes him different from the rest is that, probably, because of the food he feeds on, he has become completely adapted to life around or in the water. An expert swimmer, his feet are much larger than those of other shrews, and are hairy as well as broad.

But he can do more than swim. By scampering rapidly across a water surface, the broad feet and the surface tension of the water will actually allow this shrew to walk on water without sinking. What could be more amazin' than that?

Prisoners Denied Forbidden Fruit

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The traditional holiday stick of candy and some fruit were passed out to prisoners at the Shelby County Jail.

But this year's package contained no apples. Last year some prisoners pooled their apples and converted them into hard cider.

South Korea Rejects Talks of Airliner

SEOUL (AP) - South Korea rejected North Korean proposals today for a meeting of nonpolitical organizations from the two countries to discuss the return of passengers aboard a hijacked South Korean airliner.

Information Minister Shin Bum-shik said the North Koreans would be making a "great mistake" if they tried to use "the innocent civilians, as hostages."

The North Koreans had suggested a meeting at Panmunjom between representatives of labor, industry and women's groups from the two countries.

The South Korean official said: "In returning the passengers and crewmen, no complicated negotiations are necessary, but the Communist regime may just inform the time and place for their return through the duty officers of the Joint Military Armistice Commission or through some other channel."

The plane, carrying 48 passengers and four crewmen, was hijacked to North Korea Dec. 11. North Korea said the pilots defected but South Korea said two North Korean agents disguised as South Korean military officers took over the plane.

Dog's Barking Arouses Couple in Burning Home

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio (AP) - A suburban Springfield couple's pet dog roused them from their beds Friday night in time to escape from their burning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Saylor, awakened by the dog's barking, fled the smoke-filled house with only a few personal belongings.

The dog, Poppy, tried to re-enter the flaming house after the Sayers were safe and had been rescued by a television cameraman.

Firemen said the cause of the blaze apparently was defective wiring.

5 Buried Alive in Java Slide

JAKARTA (AP) - Five persons were buried alive and six injured when a landslide, weakened by days of monsoon rains, collapsed and destroyed an irrigation project near Tjilatjap, East Java, earlier this week, the official Antara news agency reported today. One hundred and thirty workers escaped.

It was the second major landslide disaster in the last two months. Twenty-six persons were killed when another irrigation project in Java was buried.

Injuries Fatal

FLINT (AP) - Kenneth Cromwell, 23, of Flint, died Friday of injuries suffered Dec. 13 when he was involved in a three-car accident on the outskirts of Flint. Police said Cromwell ran into the rear of two other cars stopped at a railroad crossing.

Flint Strike Negotiators to Meet Again

FLINT (AP) - Negotiators in the 95-day-old Flint Body strike at Flint agreed to meet again today even though talks Friday were reported fruitless.

About 2,300 men struck the plant over work standards, and an additional 1,600 men at an adjoining Chevrolet assembly plant were idled because of the lack of car bodies. The strike by the members of United Auto Workers Local 588 is the longest local strike in General Motors history.

A union spokesman, Ken McArdle, said, "We are still 223 men apart when it comes to manpower."

However a company spokesman said the figure is more like 300 because the UAW figure does not include relief.

Football Sidelines Regular TV Fare

Television calls a screen pass this week in which football blocks out much of the usual viewing. The professionals carry the ball toward the end of the old year, then pass it to the collegians for a New Year score.

The pro show began this afternoon at 2 when the Los Angeles Rams, champions of the National Football League's Coastal Division, met the Minnesota Vikings, winners of the Central Division, for the Western Conference championship in a game at Bloomington, Minn.

Tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. the Cleveland Browns, champions in the Century Division, take on the Dallas Cowboys, winners in the Capitol Division, for the Eastern Conference title in a game at Dallas. Both games are on Channel 2.

Highlighting collegiate action this weekend, the East team meets the West today at 4:30 p.m. on Channel 7 from Palo Alto, Calif. Florida met Tennessee in the Gator Bowl at Jacksonville, Fla., starting at noon today.

The collegians monopolize football viewing Thursday, New Year's Day, in the Cotton, Sugar, Rose and Orange bowls.

Arkansas meets Mississippi in the Sugar Bowl at New Orleans at 1:30 on Channel 7. Notre Dame faces Texas in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas at 1:45 p.m. on Channel 2.

Michigan and Southern California come to grips in the Rose Bowl at Pasadena, Calif., at 4:45 p.m. on Channel 4 and, at 7:45 on the same channel, the Orange Bowl at Miami pits Missouri and Penn State.

The American Bowl at Tampa, Fla., Jan. 3 pits a North team vs. a South squad on Channel 2 at 12 noon.

The parades which presage the bowl games will include the Cotton Bowl Festival Parade from Dallas on Channel 2 Thursday at 10:30 a.m., the New Orleans Sugar Bowl Parade at 11 a.m. on Channel 7, and the Tournament of Roses Parade from Pasadena on Channels 2 and 4 at 11:30 a.m.

The King Orange Jamboree Parade in Miami is Wednesday night and will be on Channel 4 at 7:30.

Among the news specials offered this week is another in a series of interviews with former President Lyndon Johnson by Walter Cronkite for CBS. Covering Johnson's years as President, the series continues at 7:30 p.m. Saturday on Channel 2.

An attempt to deal with urban racial tension is examined in "The Battle of East St. Louis," a news special Tuesday at 10 p.m. on Channel 2.

This Week's Cover

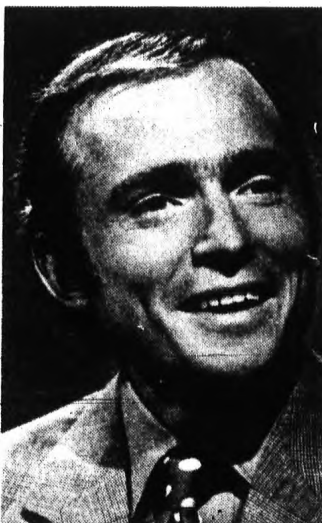

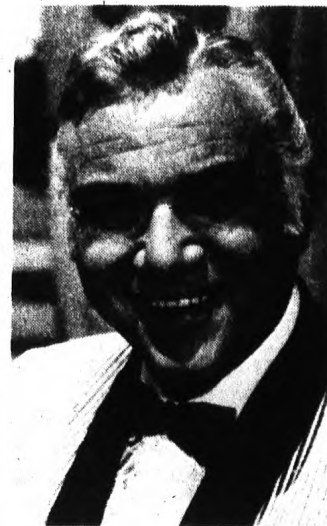

Karen Jensen, on the cover this week, helps The Pontiac Press TV Schedule wish everyone a Happy New Year. Karen is in "Bracken's World" Fridays at 10 p.m. on Channel 4.

Betty White, who loves flowers and particularly roses, will be host for the 16th consecutive year to NBC's telecast of the annual Pasadena Tournament of Roses Parade.

Former President Lyndon B. Johnson will be interviewed by Walter Cronkite in the first of a series of CBS specials on Johnson's years as president tonight at 7:30 on Channel 2.

Lorne Greene will cover this year's King Orange Jamboree Parade in Miami, along with Anita Bryant, for television viewers Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. on Channel 4.

Dick Cavette joins television's late-night talk show hosts, representing ABC in competition with Johnny Carson and Merv Griffin when he debuts Monday at 11:30 on Channel 7.

NO AGE LIMIT—NO MEDICAL EXAMINATION NO SALESMAN WILL CALL

One out of two families will have someone in the hospital this year! It could be you—or some beloved member of your family, tomorrow...next week...next month. Sad to say, very few families have anywhere near enough coverage to meet today's soaring hospital costs. These costs have more than doubled in just a few short years. They are expected to DOUBLE AGAIN in the few years ahead.

Stop for a moment. Think how much a long stay in the hospital will cost you or a loved one. How would you ever pay for costly, but necessary, X-rays, doctor bills, drugs and medicines? What would you do if your pay check stopped, but living expenses kept going on the same way as ever? The same rent, phone, food, all the day-to-day expenses that never stop.

The added protection you NEED! All benefits of this $400.00-A-MONTH Hospital Plan are paid directly to you, in tax-free cash, in addition to whatever you may receive from your insurance with any other companies! Spend the money as you see fit—for hospital or doctors' bills, mortgage payments—or any necessary but costly extras not fully covered by usual hospital policies.

While 7 out of 8 Americans have some hospital insurance, most have found it does not cover all bills that pile up when sickness or accident strikes. That's why National Health Plan developed low-cost Extra Cash protection that helps you pay either hospital costs or anything else you need!

You get your $400.00-per-month spending money—TAX-FREE—from your first day in the hospital, and as long as you are confined there, even for 2 years, if necessary. And, when you and your insured spouse are hospitalized for an injury at the same time, National Health Plan pays out an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT: You receive not $400.00, but $800.00 a month. Your spouse receives not $400.00, but $800.00 a month. That's $1,600.00 in all, in cash payments to you and your spouse every month...for as long as you both remain in the hospital—even up to 2 full years!

tax-free cash each time you go to the hospital...up to $9,600.00 each hospital stay.

ONE COLOR

Guaranteed renewable for life. At last—a hospital plan that guarantees never to cancel your valuable protection—no matter how old you get or how many claims you may make. Only you can cancel!

For older folks—greater protection than you ever would have thought possible!

Right now, would advancing age prevent you from getting hospital insurance, or income protection with another company? Or if you could get a policy elsewhere, would you have to pay a big premium for it? Your "life saver" could be this wonderful National Health Hospital Policy (NHO2-369)—because National Health Plan welcomes folks of all ages. Yes, even if you're over 65, even if you're OVER 100—each time you go to the hospital you collect $280.00 a month for the first 3 months, and a full $400.00 monthly afterwards during continuous confinement for as long as 21 more months!

And that's not all. Suppose you have a growing family. This special National Health Plan...

Pays you $400.00-a-month cash maternity benefits!

Ordinary hospital insurance may take care of part of your expenses when you go to the hospital to have a baby. But what policy can you think of that gives you cash to help you pay for all the things you need for the new baby? Now, if both husband and wife are insured for the entire period of pregnancy (and have added Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits), you get extra cash to use anyway you want. If a pregnancy, childbirth or even miscarriage puts you in the hospital for one day, five days, ten days—as long as 2 years—you get $400.00 a month for every day of your confinement.

All these added cash benefits.

Added cash benefit: Up to $2,000.00 cash for loss of limbs or eyesight, when the loss occurs anytime within 90 days of the accident. The loss of a limb or eyesight is a terrible thing. Nothing can replace the loss, but a check for $1,000.00 or $2,000.00 will help bring peace of mind during the adjustment period.

Added cash benefit: Choose Coverage for Children (with or without Maternity Benefits) and all your dependent, unmarried children, age 1 month through 18 years, will be covered, too! National Health Plan pays up to $5,760.00 at the rate of $240.00 A MONTH anytime your youngster is hospitalized...for removal of tonsils, appendix or any other illness or injury!

We pay your premiums when you are not able.

If you—the person to whom the Policy is issued—are hospitalized just 8 weeks or more, all premiums for ALL Covered Members that come due while you are still in the hospital after this period will be paid by National Health Plan. And your protection continues as if you were paying the premiums yourself! Then, if you leave the hospital and must return for the same condition before you have resumed full normal activities for 180 days, National Health Plan will again PAY ANY PREMIUMS COMING DUE WHILE YOU ARE IN THE HOSPITAL—TO A MAXIMUM OF 2 YEARS per confinement! This means you pay no premiums, yet your full protection remains in force—you collect a maximum of $9,600.00 for each new confinement! This provision applies only when the person to whom the Policy is issued is hospitalized.

Medical Costs Skyrocketing!

Govt. figures reveal your present health protection...may no longer protect you against today's rising medical costs! Act at once to add up to $9,600.00 to your health protection for only 25¢ for entire family.

These are the ONLY exclusions!

Your National Health Plan covers every conceivable kind of sickness or accident except conditions caused by war or any act of war; intoxicants and narcotics; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and expenses resulting from any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your Policy...during the first two years only.

This last item is a real help if you already have a health problem. If you are sick before you take out this Policy, you will even be covered for that condition after the Policy has been in effect for only two years. Meanwhile, of course, every new confinement is immediately covered. You are covered for care in the hospital of your choice, except of course, a U. S. Government hospital or a nursing or convalescent facility.

How can 25¢ buy so much?

You can buy ordinary insurance at any time and pay the regular rates, if you wish. But National Health Plan can now provide you and your entire family with $400.00-a-month tax-free Extra Cash Protection for just 25¢ the first month. Why? Because we enroll a large number of people at one time—direct by mail! This highly efficient "Mass Enrollment" method cuts costs to the bone—and the savings are passed on to you!

Make your decision carefully.

Think how costly a hospital confinement will be. Imagine paying for those indispensable doctor, surgical and nursing services that are not covered by your present insurance.

Would you be able to afford the quiet and privacy of a private room and a private nurse, should you so desire? Or a telephone to keep in touch with loved ones? Or the rental of a TV set to help pass the lonely hours? Who would pay your bills that keep on coming in at home? Many folks have lost their life savings, their cars, even their homes trying to meet such expenses. And no one knows who will be next.

OVER 65?
You collect up to $9,240.00 CASH
in addition to Medicare

We have designed this plan as the important addition to whatever is paid by Medicare—or any health insurance you may have with other companies. Checks will be sent directly to you (not to the doctor or hospital). $280.00 a month for the first 3 months, on top of your Medicare, and a full $400.00 monthly while hospitalized thereafter... right to the $9,240.00 maximum!

Why you must act before the deadline date shown in the Enrollment Form.

Why do we give you so little time to act? Because we must receive your Enrollment Form the same time as all the others in order to pass on to you the savings that come from processing many policies at one time.

We mail you the Policy as soon as we receive your Enrollment Form. Examine it in the privacy of your own home. It's a

Nationally known and respected

This is the kind of outstanding protection you have read about in Reader's Digest, Parents', National Geographic and other leading publications. The special plans offered by the National Liberty Corporation group of companies are today helping policyowners in all 50 states—and many foreign countries—paying benefits at the rate of more than one million dollars a month.

Money-Back Guarantee—in case you change your mind.

You are still free to return the Policy within 15 days after receiving it, and your quarter will be refunded at once. There will be no obligation whatever. Meanwhile, all during the 15 days you are making up your mind—you'll be protected by $400.00-A-MONTH extra cash benefits just as if you had already said "yes." That's right, you will be fully covered all this time for any accident or illness which puts you in the hospital, even if you finally decide to return the Policy.

However, after you've seen the Policy for yourself, you will surely agree that this is a tremendous value and you'll want to continue this $400.00-A-MONTH extra cash protection.

Here are the Low Rates.

The following rate chart shows how little it costs after the first month to cover yourself—or yourself and one or more adult dependents (including your spouse). Naturally, at these low rates we can issue only one policy of this type per person. Each adult—16 or over—pays (per person) the rate applicable to his or her age.

Age at Enrollment	Monthly Renewal Premium
16-44	only $3.30
45-49	only $3.75
50-54	only $4.25
55-59	only $4.75
60-69	only $5.70
70-74	only $6.60
75 and over	only $8.50

Only $1.90 more covers all your children

...from the age of 1 month through 18 years—who are unmarried and dependent. And then, if you wish, just add 95¢ more to that, and you're covered for maternity benefits, too! Newborn children are covered automatically at the age of one month—at no additional cost!

NOTE: The regular monthly premium shown above (for age at time of enrollment) is the same low premium you will continue to pay; it will not automatically increase as you pass from one age bracket to the next. Once you have enrolled, your rate can never be changed because of how much or how often you collect from us—or because of advanced age—but only if there is a general rate adjustment, up or down, on all policies of this type in your entire state.

Act now—"later" may be too late!
Only 25¢ covers your entire family for the first month!

TIME IS PRECIOUS! Act quickly. (No salesman will call.) Get your Enrollment Form into the mail today—because once you suffer an accident or sickness, it's TOO LATE to buy protection at any cost. That's why we urge you to act now—before anything unexpected happens.

19 QUESTIONS AND tell you how National Health Plan's $9,600.00 gives you the protection you need. Costs

ONE COLOR

1. How much will my Policy pay me when I go to the hospital?

$400.00 per month—to the full maximum of $9,600.00 cash. (If you're 65 or over, you collect up to $9,240.00 cash benefits on top of Medicare benefits. $280.00 a month for first three months, and $400.00 monthly while you remain continuously hospitalized thereafter for 21 more months!) You collect cash not just for yourself, but for all covered members of your family when they are hospitalized! And you collect cash even if you're in the hospital for only one day!

2. When do I collect $2,000.00 extra cash for accidents?

We pay you $1,000.00 extra cash for complete accidental loss of one hand or one foot or sight of one eye, and $2,000.00 extra cash for loss of both hands or both feet or sight of both eyes—even if the loss occurs as long as 3 months after the accident.

3. What if I am hospitalized by the same illness—again?

You still collect $400.00-a-month spending money to the full maximum of $9,600.00. You need only to have resumed full normal activities for just 180 days—then if you are hospitalized for the same illness you begin to collect all over again.

4. If I receive more money than my total medical bills—do I keep the "extra cash"?

You certainly do! We always pay you the full $400.00 a month—all the way to the maximum of $9,600.00 cash. And even if your bills add up to just part of that amount you still keep every dollar of the extra cash—tax-free! And if you already have some health or hospital insurance—all the better for you. That's why this Plan is called an Extra Cash Plan. Because we pay you on top of what they pay you! On top of Blue Cross, Major Medical, Workmen's Compensation or whatever insurance policies you have with other companies! Naturally, at these low rates we can issue only one policy of this type per person.

5. Do you pay me cash for my children, too? And... for my future children?

You collect $240.00-a-month cash any time your child goes to the hospital, when Coverage for Children is added to the basic Plan. A maximum of $5,760.00 each time any dependent, unmarried child (age 1 month through 18 years old) is in the hospital. And if you have a growing family—as soon as your newborn child is one month old, he too is covered—automatically—at no additional cost to you.

6. Will you pay me $400.00-a-month cash—even for pregnancy?

Yes! Many health plans don't cover pregnancy. But we do, when Coverage for Children and Maternity Benefits are added to the basic Plan. You collect the full $400.00-A-Month cash benefits—even to a maximum of 2 years—for pregnancy, childbirth or miscarriage that results in a hospital stay. (Both parents have to be enrolled in this Plan for entire pregnancy period.)

7. Are there times I might collect as much as $19,200.00... as much as $38,400.00?

There are! Remember, we pay cash not just for you, but for every covered member of your family when they are hospitalized. So if you or your spouse are hospitalized more than once... or even both of you more than once... or if a child gets sick or has an accident—you could end up collecting $19,200.00 or more! And that's not the whole story. National Health Plan gives policyowners an EXTRAORDINARY DOUBLE-CASH BENEFIT. If you and your covered spouse are both in an accident and go to the hospital at the same time... National Health Plan pays you $1,600.00-a-month tax-free cash. This amount is paid for as long as both of you remain in the hospital. Even for 2 years! You receive up to a maximum of $38,400.00—to pay for doctor and hospital bills and other expenses resulting from one accident alone! We hope illnesses and accidents don't strike your home—but should something happen, isn't it reassuring to know you're so well protected?

8. Can I spend my cash benefits anyway I please?

Yes! Spend the money anyway you choose. Use it to pay your hospital, doctor, and nursing bills. Use it to pay for rent, food, clothing. Or put it in the bank to replace any savings spent during your hospitalization. All cash comes straight to you (not to doctor or hospital unless you request it) so you alone decide how it is to be spent!

9. Am I ever allowed to stop paying premiums during a long stay in the hospital—yet still remain fully covered?

Yes, you are! All premiums that come due after you—the person to whom the basic Policy is issued—are in the hospital just 8 weeks or more... do not have to be paid by you! Yes, even if you are in for months, a year, or longer! We pay all premiums for you and for all covered members of your family, too, while you remain hospitalized. You aren't expected to pay us back, either.

10. How can you give so much—for so little?

Because you buy your Policy directly from the company. You don't deal through middlemen. You eliminate costly processing charges and "red tape" that raise the cost of most insurance. That's the reason why National Health Plan can provide you with $9,600.00 health insurance protection including a full month's coverage for your family for only 25¢!

11. How do I go about submitting a claim?

We invite you to contact CASH BENEFIT HEAD-QUARTERS direct. Whether you want to submit a claim, or just ask us a question, don't hesitate to contact us. As a National Health Plan member, you are entitled to prompt, courteous and direct attention at all times... and you will get it.

12. Because National Health Plan costs less... do I get less protection?

Absolutely not. You get more! $400.00 monthly cash payments for a maximum of 2 years for each hospital stay. And that goes for all covered members of your family. Yet all you pay to put this Policy in force for one month is... 25¢. And then you may continue this protection afterwards at the regular low National Health Plan rate! That's why we urge you—for your own satisfaction—to compare these big cash benefits with any comparable policy issued by any other insurance company... anywhere.

ANSWERS

Extra-Cash Hospital Coverage

ONE COLOR

13. Does this Plan pay in any hospital?

This Plan pays for coverage in the hospital of your choice except, of course, a U. S. Government hospital or a nursing or convalescent facility.

14. Now tell me what's the "catch", what doesn't my Policy cover?

Get ready for a welcome surprise. Your Policy covers everything except conditions caused by: war or act of war; intoxicants or narcotics; any mental disease or disorder; pregnancy, except as provided under the Maternity Benefit provision; and any sickness or injury you had before the Effective Date of your Policy—but even this last "exclusion" is done away with after you've been a policyowner for only two years. Everything else is definitely covered.

15. Will you cancel my Policy if I make too many claims? Or because of age?

No—positively not! Only you can cancel. The Company cannot—no matter how many claims you have... how old you get... or for any other reason whatsoever. A GUARANTEED-RENEWABLE-FOR-LIFE clause has been written into your Policy.

16. If hospitalized less than a month—do you still pay in full?

Yes! We pay you at the rate of $400.00 a month for every day you're in the hospital.

17. What are the requirements to enroll in this Extra Cash Hospital Plan?

You must not have been refused or had cancelled any health, hospital, or life insurance due to reasons of health; and, to qualify during this Enrollment Period, you must enroll before midnight of the date shown in the Enrollment Form.

18. Besides saving money—are there any other advantages of joining National Health Plan during the Enrollment Period?

Yes. A very important one is that you don't need to complete a long, detailed application—just the brief Form on the back of this booklet. Also, during this Enrollment Period there are no extra requirements for eligibility, and no "waivers" or restrictive endorsements can be put on your Policy!

19. How do I enroll?

Fill out the brief Enrollment Form and mail it with just 25¢ for the first month's protection for your entire family. Mail to: National Health Plan, Valley Forge, Pa. 19481.

U.S. Troops Battle Large N. Viet Force

From Our News Wires
SAIGON — U.S. forces fought their biggest single battle in a month and a half today.

The American forces spotted as many as 200 North Vietnamese troops within two miles of the Cambodian border and 83 miles north of Saigon and attacked them with jet bombers, armed helicopters, tanks and armored personnel carriers.

The U.S. Command said aerial observers counted at least 72 North Vietnamese dead and 40 bunkers smashed. A spokesman said that at last report fighting was still continuing.

CAPT. JOHN W. MARSHALL

Yank Survives Viet Ambush by Playing Dead

SAIGON (AP)—"I raised my hands to surrender, and they shot me down without mercy," Army Capt. John W. Marshall said today of a nightmare ambush he survived by playing dead on a narrow side road 28 miles north of Saigon.

The 27-year-old officer lived to tell the story, but the three men riding with him in a jeep to a Christmas celebration Tuesday were killed by the ambushers, who were South Vietnamese army uniforms.

A handsome career soldier from Lawton, Okla., and formerly of Livonia, Mich., Marshall suffered a broken leg from one of the bullets. He was found the next morning by a road minesweeping team.

Marshall and the others had left Lai Khe, base camp of the 1st Infantry Division, for the artillery firebase where they were stationed, a few miles away.

'ONLY ONE ALIVE'

Three miles east of Lai Khe, 15 to 20 Vietnamese suddenly opened fire from the four-foot elephant grass bordering the road, Marshall related.

"After the initial volley, I was the only one alive," Marshall recalled. The Jeep careened off the road into the elephant grass, he said. "They were all around me, so the only thing to do was surrender. Obviously, they didn't accept that."

"After they shot me, they were very excited because they thought they got a dai yu (Vietnamese word for captain). Thinking I was dead, they unbuckled my flag jacket, took my dog tags, personal effects and watch. All I could do was breathe shallow and hope they didn't discover I was still alive," he recalled.

"They dumped the other three bodies over mine and then poured gasoline over the Jeep and the bodies. As they started to leave they threw a match, setting the gas on fire."

HAD TO MOVE

"Luckily, they moved away without looking back. I had to move as the fire spread and by the time I was 15 feet away, I could smell the burning flesh," he said. "For the next few hours I crawled away from the fire and tried to avoid the enemy who were all around with flashlights."

When dawn came, Marshall crawled back to the road and waited for help.

The spokesman said there were some U.S. casualties but he described them as light.

NOVEMBER BATTLE

He said it was the biggest battle involving American troops since last Nov. 12 and 13 when U.S. forces reported killing 178 North Vietnamese soldiers in heavy fighting just below the demilitarized zone. Fifteen Americans were killed and 62 wounded then.

The spokesman said helicopter crewmen of the 11th Armored Cavalry regiment spotted two companies of North Vietnamese troops nine miles northwest of the district capital of Loc Ninh, near Highway 12 which leads from Cambodia into South Vietnam.

Elsewhere, battlefield communiques indicated only light activity across South Vietnam following the end of the 72-hour Vietcong cease-fire.

Enemy troops sealed a town in the Mekong Delta and a South Vietnamese base near the demilitarized zone, communiques said.

FOUR ROCKETS FIRED

In one attack, two government soldiers were killed and four were wounded when enemy gunners fired four rockets into their camp at Dong Ha, 11 miles below the demilitarized zone.

The other attack took place near My Tho, the principal city in the Mekong Delta. Vietcong troops fired rocket-propelled grenades at government militiamen and pacification workers and wounded some of them, reports said.

What little fighting there was yesterday took place near Da Nang.

U.S. troops from the 196th Brigade lost two men killed and 11 wounded in a four-hour fight 23 miles south of the city. Two enemy were known dead.

NO U.S. CASUALTIES

In two other fights yesterday ranging from 20 to 90 miles south of Da Nang, eight enemy soldiers were reported killed. There were no American casualties.

U.S. B52 bombers flew four missions during the night, two of them hitting North Vietnamese infiltration trails into the A Shau valley in South Vietnam's far northwest corner.

Two other waves of the bombers unloaded their explosives onto what were described as Communist base camps, bunker complexes and troops 29 miles east and 88 miles northeast of Saigon, U.S. spokesmen said.

Hospital Emergency

LONDON (AP)—London hospitals, jammed by a wave of influenza cases, went on emergency status today.

The government said 294 persons died of the disease in Britain in the week before Christmas and 52 the week before that.

Baby Was Born a Heroin Addict

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Doctors say an infant showed the classic signs of heroin withdrawal less than a day after he was born: restless, running nose, tiny legs drawn up to abdomen in response to severe stomach cramps.

The infant, a heroin addict at birth, was born earlier this month at the Tucson Medical Center, hospital officials revealed yesterday.

The infant's mother and father, both Yaqui Indians in their late 20s, became addicts after their fourth child was born about three years ago.

Dr. Milton Semoff, a pediatrician, said the mother told him of her and her husband's addiction. After 15 days of treatment, the baby seemed to have recovered. He said the baby should be able to live a normal life.

'WOULD START KICKING'

"She told me if she didn't have a fix for two or three days during pregnancy, the baby would start kicking violently," the doctor said.

The infant left the hospital three days before Christmas to live with his grandmother in Tucson, Semoff says.

In return for releasing the baby, hospital authorities made the couple agree to undergo treatment for their addiction at another Tucson hospital.

"I think if the baby we had at clinic is not put into a situation where the usage of drugs is a common thing, he will have no more chance of becoming a narcotic addict than any other human being. But if you return him to an environment conducive to drugs, chances are he will return to that," Semoff said.

FIRST LANDING—A helicopter transported an injured Pontiac skier from Mount Brighton to Pontiac's St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday afternoon. It was the first time the hospital had received an emergency case by helicopter.

The patient, Anthony Nakas, 16, of 699 E. Tennyson, is in fair condition with a fractured right leg. The helicopter was used because the ambulance service did not have enough cars in the Mount Brighton area to send one to Pontiac.

President Hints He Will Sign Tax-Reform Bill Cargo Ship Burns; Crewmen Hunted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon, having strongly hinted he intends to sign the tax reform bill, continued to work today on budget problems in an effort to offset the bill's projected $2.5-billion revenue loss for fiscal 1971.

Although he had earlier threatened to veto the reform-relief measure on the grounds it is inflationary, the President indicated yesterday his budget-trimming decisions were based on the assumption that the newly passed tax bill would become law.

The disclosure came when Nixon talked to reporters after meeting for 12 months of the day on the projected budget for 12 months beginning July 1 with budget director Robert May and defense secretary Melvin R. Laird and other aides.

"One of our major problems is we have got to readjust our whole thinking because there is a $2.5 billion shortfall which resulted from the tax bill," the President said.

LOSS EMPHASIZED

Nixon told newsmen that the House-Senate Conference Committee had "commendably reduced the loss of revenue" in its compromise version of the bill which Congress approved Monday.

However, he emphasized that the bill still carries a revenue loss $2.5 billion greater than the original administration bill.

Nixon has six more days in which to sign the bill or it will be pocket vetoed.

Neither Nixon nor Mayo gave any figure, but the budget expected to exceed $200 billion for the first time in history, despite the trimming.

"We are closing all the zippers between revenue and expenditures and this involved some very heavy breathing in," said Mayo.

PLANS CANCELED

The President and his family had canceled plans to fly to San Clemente, Calif., yesterday for the remainder of the holiday season in order to work on the budget. They are now expected to depart the White House on Tuesday.

Nixon will spend much of his time at the oceanside villa preparing his State of the Union address which he plans to deliver on Jan. 22.

BERKELEY TOWNSHIP, N.J. (AP)—A mother and five of her nine children died early today when fire swept their apartment in a one-story wood frame house. Local authorities were in the process of condemning the structure.

From Our News Wires
HONOLULU — A Vietnam-bound cargo ship loaded with bombs and rockets equal to 2,000 tons of TNT burned in the mid-Pacific Ocean today as a Greek freighter conducted a search for 25 missing crewmen awaiting rescue.

The 450-foot Badger State lay deserted and smoking from her stern 1,500 miles northeast of Hawaii.

Her crew abandoned the ship yesterday morning after some of its deadly cargo broke loose. About an hour after the crew got off an explosion ripped a hole in the starboard side just above the water line, according to the Navy.

Weather in the area was rough with 18-20 foot seas and winds up to 40 knots. Among the fourteen rescued crewmen was the Badger State skipper, Capt. Charles Wilson.

The crewmen were picked up by the Greek freighter Kharis Star, the only vessel within range of the stricken ship.

"We have no report of casualties," the Navy said, "but we can't say for sure if all the men are accounted for."

A rescue plane from Hickam Air Force Base remained in the area to drop flares after another plane had spotted all the life rafts with dye and smoke markers, the Navy said.

The nightlong search was hindered by fears the smoking Badger State might blow up at any moment. The Greek freighter was forced to stay three miles from it.

Later, the German merchant ship Brunstor radioed it was on the way to join the search.

The Badger State, a Military Sea Transport Service ship, was loaded with 8,900 rockets and tons of bombs ranging to the 2,000-pound size. Its combined cargo had an explosive equivalent of 2,000 tons of TNT, the Navy said.

The Navy said, "With the fire and big waves we don't know how long she can stay afloat."

Up to 2 Feet of Snow in East

By the Associated Press

Heavy snows and strong winds continued to belt the eastern United States last night and early today.

Snow was falling from the north Atlantic Coast to the Great Lakes and the central Appalachians with as much as two feet blanketing the ground from New York state to northern New England.

Heavy snow warnings were in effect over north and central Maine and gale warnings were flying from Virginia Beach, Va., to Eastport, Maine.

Roads and highways were reported treacherous all over the East. Yesterdays 6-inch snowfall in New York City caused delays in public transportation but a light postholiday commuter turnout prevented serious bottlenecks.

New York Mayor John V. Lindsay flew back to the city yesterday to oversee snow removal efforts, after directing crews from the Bahamas by telephone in the early hours of the storm.

Power was being restored today for thousands of North Carolinians left without electricity by a Christmas night ice storm which snapped many power lines.

The current was turned on yesterday in about 5,000 Raleigh homes which were without electricity Christmas night.

LINEMEN BUSY

Extra linemen were still at work in the early hours today to restore power for some 10,000 more customers from Durham to Spartanburg.

North Carolina highway patrolmen and sheriff's deputies from Burke County rescued three carloads of travelers early today after their vehicles became stuck in snowdrifts two to three feet deep. The travelers were stranded atop Jones Ridge on U.S. 181 between Morgantown and Linville Falls for nearly three hours.

The patrol said wind gusts up to 35 miles an hour were piling snow back on the roads in northwestern North Carolina as fast as they could be cleared off. No snow was falling in the area, but six to 12 inches had been recorded since Christmas night.

Another storm was shaping up in the Southwest as snow spread through the Rockies to the adjacent high plains. Travelers warnings were posted from the southern Rockies to the central plains.

Elderly's Medicare Fee Being Hiked

From Our News Wires

WASHINGTON — Premiums paid by elderly Americans for supplementary Medicare coverage will go up to $5.30 per month next July 1, a 32.5 per cent increase over the current $4 fee.

Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, announced the increase yesterday.

The supplementary insurance cost the elderly only $3 per month when the program was launched in 1966. More than 19 million Americans are now covered by Medicare, which consists of two parts — a voluntary medical insurance program and the government-financed basic hospital insurance. The voluntary program supplements the basic program by helping pay doctor bills and a variety of other medical expenses for and out of the hospital.

PAY FOR HALF

Those enrolled in the supplementary program pay for half of the cost of their protection, and the government pays the rest. The premium increase isn't the only added expense awaiting Medicare patients in the new year. It was announced previously that as of Jan. 1 Medicare beneficiaries will have to pay the first $2 of their own bill for an ordinary hospital stay of up to 60 days — an increase of $8 from the current $4 deductible.

The premium increase was sharply criticized by the American Patients Association. The nonprofit group said the hike only invited doctors to raise their fees, especially since the announcement was not accompanied by a request to doctors and hospitals to hold down health care costs.

'A CONTRADICTION'

The association said that the premium boost itself is inflationary and contradicts the administration's efforts to hold down price increases.

Association President Theodore O. Cron said the increased premium rate demonstrates that the program is "to be administered as a benefit primarily for physicians who wish to escalate their personal incomes."

By TOM CULLEN
NEA European Correspondent

LONDON — Europeans who believe that America's contribution to fine cooking begins and ends with the hot dog popped their eyes at the all-American banquet staged at the Savoy Hotel here recently.

There was nothing so vulgar as a frankfurter to be seen in the hotel's Lancaster banquet room overlooking the Thames. Instead, 8,000 pounds of goodies were flown in from 22 American states, including Hawaii and Alaska. They were washed down by 13 of America's finest wines selected by a panel of experts from among 200 wines submitted.

Even chef Silvino Trompetto of the Savoy, one of Europe's reigning kings of the kitchen, was impressed.

"American food can hold its own with the world's best," Trompetto declared, after admiring a king crab from the state of Washington. "Especially your seafood. It's one of the things you haven't tampered with," he added with a twinkle in his eye.

Occasion for this feast was the first annual Jeffersonian Dinner at which a group of American stockbrokers played host to nearly 500 European financiers in an effort to induce them to invest in U.S. stocks and bonds.

Whether it persuaded the gnomes of Zurich to buy American, the dinner evidently tickled their taste buds. After sampling the meal the Swiss, German and British bankers at my table agreed that America has indeed come of age, gastronomically speaking.

RESERVE PRAISE

Only the California champagne met with some reservations. The French objected to the use of the word "champagne," which they feel should apply only to a specific region in France. The Italians thought that the California vintage lacked the familiar bubbly quality. "Very interesting," was the noncommittal German comment.

The U.S.-European banquet, which is to become an annual event, has been named after Thomas Jefferson because he was America's first gourmet, as well as being its third president.

"Jefferson was not only a poet, mathematician, violinist and architect, but he was also an excellent cook," says George E. Lang, vice president of Restaurant Associates, which organized the affair for the Savoy banquet.

"Not many Americans realize it, but they have Jefferson to thank for the waffles on their breakfast table. The waffle was one of his more-inspired inventions."

Certainly Jefferson would have been proud of the native cooking on display at the Savoy. For one thing, it represented a triumph of logistics, it being flown in from the U.S. in three plane loads, with the perishables such as the crabmeat and clams arriving last. In contrast, the wine was flown in four weeks earlier in order to give it time to settle after its transatlantic journey.

The foodlist included turtles from the Virgin Islands and 55 striped sea bass, each weighing approximately 12 pounds and each in its own plastic bag containing sea water. It also included delicacies which few Americans have enjoyed, such as fiddle ferns from northern Maine and wild rice harvested near the Minnesota lakes.

FLASH-FROZEN BREAD

Even the bread — sourdough such as gold rush miners used to eat — had been baked in San Francisco the day before, flash-frozen and flown to London. Trompetto agrees with George Lang that bread is just about the only frozen food which a restaurant that calls itself great will serve to its customers.

The All-American banquet began with a seafood course of six varieties of crab from five American states. The main course sent the organizers scurrying to Pennsylvania in search of small, 5-pound wild turkeys such as the Pilgrim Fathers found when they arrived in America. These were stuffed with chestnut dressing and served with gilet gray and the traditional cranberries from Maine.

The meal also included four varieties of cheese, baby pineapples from Hawaii, American home-style cookies, ending with 16-year-old Kentucky bourbon and a mellow New Jersey applejack.

Only the wines, most of them from California, were not quite up to European standard, the connoisseurs at my table agreed. An honorable exception was a 1965 Riesling perfected by Dr. Karl Frank, of the Finger Lakes region in New York.

That the native wines were not up to scratch was not Jefferson's fault. Jefferson stocked the White House with superlative vintages, not equalled even in John F. Kennedy's tenure. He also fought to reduce the wine duties imposed by the federal government.

"No national is drunk where wine is cheap," is the adage Jefferson laid down, to which most Europeans would add a pious "Amen."

Millions Ignore Cigarette Hazards

Why do an estimated 40 million Americans continue to endanger their health by smoking, despite many studies linking cigarette smoking with cancer, heart attacks, strokes, and respiratory diseases? What can be done about it?

These two questions are discussed concisely in "Cigarettes — America's No. 1 Public Health Problem," by Maxwell S. Stewart. This new Public Affairs pamphlet is available for 25 cents from the Public Affairs Committee, 381 Park Avenue South, New York, N.Y. 10016.

The statistics show, says Stewart, that "an average man aged 25 who has never smoked regularly can expect to live six and a half years longer than a man who smokes a pack a day or more." And he is likely to enjoy better health than the smoker, for "cigarette smokers are ill more often, miss more days of work, and have more days of restricted activity than nonsmokers."

By now, the harmful effects of smoking seem undeniable, and millions of people do periodically try to quit. About 2 million a year succeed in doing so — but their place is taken by about an equal number of young smokers, including children.

As Stewart indicates, the problem is persistent, for even many people convinced of the danger of continued smoking have found it difficult to stop. Although radio and TV cigarette advertising may pass from the scene by 1971, youngsters are still being "induced to show their maturity" by experimenting with this adult practice. The hazards of smoking do indeed add up to a public health problem, but one against which there is no vaccine.

Stewart summarizes efforts to lessen the health hazards under four approaches:

- Development of less hazardous cigarettes. Although cigarettes are less dangerous than they were 10 years ago, the highly promoted longer cigarettes substantially increase the intake of tar and nicotine.
- Programs to reduce the number of new smokers. He sees the greatest challenge in preventing children and teenagers from taking up cigarette smoking. Despite stringent laws in most states against giving or selling cigarettes to minors, there is widespread smoking by grade school and high school youngsters.

Encouraging people to stop smoking. Stewart outlines the reasons people smoke, and discusses different approaches used in helping each type of smoker to give up the habit.

For those who won't or can't quit, the harm from smoking can be reduced by these steps: (a) Choose a cigarette with less tar and nicotine; (b) put the cigarette out before smoking it all the way down; (c) take fewer draws on each cigarette; (d) reduce your inhalation; (e) smoke fewer cigarettes a day. Stewart concludes with comments on what government has done and can do to help curtail cigarette smoking.

In addition to health warnings on cigarette packages and restrictions on advertising, government has been urged to place restrictions on smoking in its facilities and other public places and on the sale of cigarettes to minors, and to institute differential taxation on the basis of tar and nicotine content.

Action has been hampered by political conflicts between tobacco interests and congressional representatives from tobacco-growing states on the one side, and medical and health professions and more independent Congressmen on the other.
