Blast Levels 4 Buildings in Downtown Toledo

Europe Stays in Icy Grip

LONDON (INS)—Europe entered the third week of its most severe cold wave in 100 years today as nature heaped new disasters on a frozen continent.

Fresh blizzards and freezing winds swept devastation and misery over the land, leaving 323 dead, with scores missing.

Ice jams clogged Europe's vital riverways and canals, tying up thousands of tons of needed food, fuel and supplies while at sea raging winds sent four vessels aground.

The first aircraft of a 40-plane "mercy lift" arrived in Rome, Naples and Catania today with food and blankets for villagers in southern Italy isolated by snowstorms.

Some of the planes which were unable to get through new blizzards in the flight from American bases in Germany and France were forced to land in Marseille in Southern France.

BLANKETS AND FOOD

The planes are carrying a total of 10,500 blankets and 60,000 "C" rations.

Giovanni Alessi, president of the Sicilian region, sent a telegram to U.S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce to relay "to the general and great American people the expression of our sincere gratitude."

Freezing rain and snow have sounded the death-knell for the seasonal activities along the Riviera.

LONDON SHIVERS

A mild thaw in London followed heavy snows. But by evening temperatures were again down to around five degrees. More snow was expected.

Many Londoners were without water and other facilities as water pipes burst.

Milan, Italy, was in the grip of a paralyzing snowstorm with traffic at a virtual standstill because of the ice-packed streets.

Frozen rivers were a help to a number of Czechs. They were reported to have fled to the West over the ice-covered rivers.

Garbage collection and sanitation disposal systems in many big cities have either broken down or are running far behind schedule. Disease threatens.

In Turin, Italy, a school mistress beat off a starving wolf with a school catalogue.

And in Cairo, a housewife was hospitalized with serious burns. She told police she deliberately set herself afire to keep warm in Egypt's cold wave.

1 Dead, 2 Hurt, 1 Still Missing in Packing Plant

Explosion, Fire Causes Damage Estimated at Over $1 Million

TOLEDO, OHIO (INS)—At least one person was killed, two were seriously injured and one man left unaccounted for today when a blast leveled four buildings in downtown Toledo, causing more than a million dollars damage.

Toledo firemen are probing the ruins of the three-story Beegle Meat Products Division of the Hy-Grade Products Corp. at 21 Superior St. and three smaller buildings to determine if an unidentified worker and perhaps others lost their lives in the city's worst blast in recent years.

The one known dead was identified as Paul Borcherding, 54, of Toledo, an employe of the Beegle firm. Forty-year-old James Dunn and Stanley Bamschroeder, also 40, were seriously burned and are in fair condition at Mercy Hospital.

A fourth man was in the plant when the blast occurred, but has not been found.

Early reports said that at least three persons died in the explosions, but these were discounted by Lucas County Coroner Dr. Paul Hohly.

Bamschroeder told authorities that he reported to work at 4 a.m., walked into the meat cooler and as he lit a cigarette the explosion occurred.

WALLS BLOWN OUT

The roof was blown up and the walls out, and insulation from the cooling room was scattered.

Toledo Fire Chief A. Papenhagen said there was a smell of ammonia in the area. The chief estimated damage would exceed a million dollars.

Not much of a fire developed after the blast, but 16 fire companies were rushed to the scene and quickly extinguished the blaze.

Windows in a three-block area were broke, including large plate glass sections at the Commodore Perry and Secore Hotels.

Rochester Man Admits Holdup

Confesses City Stickup in Addition to Robbing Other Area Bars

One of Pontiac's two red-hooded armed bandits doffed his mask in Oakland County Jail Saturday, following the arrest for investigation of his suspected partner.

Gerald K. Davis, 28, of Rochester, admitted his part in the holdup of Tom's Bar, 928 Mt. Clemens St., for $890 Jan. 18, Pontiac Det. Sgt. Raymond E. Meggitt said.

Davis admitted brandishing a shotgun while his companion wielded a .22 caliber pistol, said Meggitt. Both men wore red cloth masks found later near the bar, he said.

Although the suspected partner has not admitted the stick-up, there is enough police evidence to charge him, Meggitt stated.

OUT ON PAROLE

A 23-year-old Auburn Heights man, the suspect is on parole from Jackson State Prison, where he served time after conviction in a Port Huron breaking and entering case.

Davis also admitted he was one of two red-hooded armed bandits who held up a tavern near Port Huron Jan. 18 for $121, Meggitt said.

ADMITS TROY BREAKIN

Confronted by evidence obtained in a search of his Rochester home, Davis also admitted the December breakin of a Troy Township grocery store, Oakland County

Minister Takes Flock Fishing and They Like It

MUSKEGON (AP) — Thirty-five of the Rev. Glen Groth's parishioners skipped regular morning service at the Bethlehem Lutheran Church yesterday to go ice fishing—at the invitation of their pastor.

The 34-year-old clergyman called the outing an experiment in making religion a "living experience." He hopes to make it an annual affair.

"I would call it a great success," Pastor Groth said. "I have had a lot of calls from persons criticizing Sunday fishing since I announced the project two days ago. But I have had fully as many calls from persons praising the idea."

Orrin Eittreim, a student pastor, opened regular morning service at the church for members who stayed behind.

The outing was held off the Muskegon Yacht Club on Muskegon Lake. It followed a special service led by the Rev. Mr. Groth who took his text from Matthew 4:19: "And he saith unto them, follow me and I will make you fishers of men."

Widow of Missionary, 8-Pound Matthew Jay Both Doing Fine

An 8-pound, 1-ounce son was born Saturday at Pontiac General Hospital to the widow of a missionary slain with four companions last month by savage Ecuadorean Indians.

Mrs. T. Edward McCully Jr. and the baby, Matthew Jay, are both reported in excellent condition today.

Mrs. McCully, 27, is the former Marilou Hobolth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold F. Hobolth, of 719 May Ct. She has two other children, Stephen, 3, and Michael, 1.

The five evangelists were murdered after they landed their light plane in an effort to make contact with the Auca Indians. The McCullys had been in Ecuador since 1952 and had worked with great success among the friendly Quecha Indians.

Senate Committee Ends Case Contribution Probe

WASHINGTON (INS) — The special senate hearings on a $2,500 campaign contribution to Sen. Francis Case (R-SD), were abruptly ended today but there was a possibility they may be reopened next week.

The blue-ribbon committee headed by Sen. Walter F. George (D-Ga) recessed its public hearings after John M. Neff, who offered the $2,500 to Case's fund, testified he did not give money to the personal campaign funds of any other senator.

After Neff's testimony, the committee went into closed session to consider testimony taken in the inquiry to determine whether an attempt was made to influence Case's vote on the natural gas bill.

George said on emerging from the closed session that "no further decision" had been reached on the committee's next step and that no action would be taken before next week.

The chairman announced that all witnesses who testified in the hearings are still under subpoena and are subject to further call by the investigating group.

Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo) resigned today as chairman of the Senate Elections subcommittee to set the stage for an immediate broad new inquiry into lobbying activities on the natural gas bill.

Expert Questions Authenticity

Statement by 2 Turncoats Puts Eden, Lloyd on Spot

LONDON (INS) — The British government faced sharp questioning today on the case of the turncoat diplomats Guy Burgess and Donald MacLean who suddenly reappeared in Moscow Saturday after disappearing nearly five years ago.

A report from the British ambassador in Moscow reached London today and was being studied closely by Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and foreign office experts.

Lloyd or Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden is expected to answer questions by former Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison of the Laborite opposition party in the House of Commons.

One angle that aroused a storm of criticism in London was Burgess' statement that he was connected with the MI-5, or British counter - intelligence organization, despite the fact that he never made any secret about being a Communist.

The strong implication throughout the Burgess-Maclean statement was that the two had access to top-secret material, including the activities of the cloak and dagger MI-5.

The government was expected to take the line that the reappearance of the two missing diplomats was not an important development and that their statement in Moscow added little to what already was known in the case.

The spokesman also said that "active preparations" were under way for the visit to Britain this spring of Soviet Premier Nikolai Bulganin and Communist Party Secretary Nikita Khrushchev.

Detroit Mother Confesses Plot

Claims That She Paid Her Cousin Over $600 to Stab Husband

DETROIT (INS)—Mrs. Victoria Hermiz, 22-year-old mother of two small children, confessed today she plotted the murder of her husband and paid her boyfriend, Maurice Hamilton, 20, "more than $600" to stab the victim to death.

Police said the latest confession, implicating herself for the first time, followed a series of four lie detector tests conducted in Arabic through an interpreter.

Hamilton still denies any part in the murder of grocer Aziz Hermiz, 35, early Friday and has also agreed to take lie tests. He is the son of a wealthy Baghdad merchant and came to Detroit three months ago to attend school.

All of the principals are recent immigrants from Iraq.

Mrs. Hermiz said she and Hamilton had plotted the slaying for a month. In her first admission Saturday, she had said Hamilton committed the murder, then forced her into an intimacy and tied her up to make the crime seem the work of an intruder.

Jordan Princess Born

New Orleans Set for Revelry

Merrymakers Flock to Louisiana City for Gala Mardi Gras

NEW ORLEANS (INS) — Thousands of visitors poured into New Orleans today for one of the nation's biggest and gaudiest annual celebrations—Mardi Gras.

The fabulous carnival begins at dawn tomorrow with the traditional maskings and parades, and lasts until midnight.

Hotels, which triple their prices for Mardi Gras, reported they were filled to capacity as every incoming airplane, bus and train brought more eager celebrants into the historic city.

Mardi Gras, of Catholic origin, is the one last fling before Lent —the 40-day period of sacrifice which begins Wednesday and ends Easter.

Despite the large crowd and the forecast of no rain, police officials said they expect no recurrence of last year's Mardi Gras eve riots in which tear gas was used to quell the celebrants.

The first parade tomorrow—that of the Zulus—will begin at about 8 a.m. amid protests from the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

The NAACP says it will keep a close watch on the parade to see that the Zulus exhibit "order and dignity."

James Russell, president of the Zulu Aid and Pleasure Society, said he did not think the parade is degrading and declared the group will not change its 40-year-old manner of parading.

Five other parades follow the Zulus. The biggest will be that of "The Krewe of Rex, Lord of Misrule."

In the meantime, the streets will be turned over to hundreds of thousands of swarming, dancing, drinking, singing celebrants.

The Mardi Gras season started after New Year's with carnivals, balls and parties and for the past week parades have been held almost daily.

Ike Beginning Decision Period

President Embarks on 2-Week Georgia Rest to Determine '56 Status

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON — President Eisenhower begins today the crucial two-week period during which he may make the most momentous personal decision of his lifetime.

The Chief Executive, after a cabinet session today and medical report tomorrow, will leave Washington later in the week for the peace and quiet of South Georgia.

There he will decide if his physical recovery from the Sept. 24 heart attack and his "own feelings" allow him to seek a second term in the White House.

Eisenhower indicated at his news conference last Wednesday that he will reach his decision and probably announce it to the nation by March 1.

The date of the next regularly scheduled news conference is Wednesday, Feb. 29.

Saturday, the President underwent an exhaustive medical checkup at Walter Reed Army Hospital.

Later in the week, the President will fly to the Thomasville, Ga. plantation of Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey to rest and decide his political future.

In arriving at his decision, Eisenhower has indicated that what the doctors tell him may not be the decisive factor in his reasoning.

He told his news conference last week: "I think I will probably trust my own feelings more than I will the doctors' reports.

"I have honestly got to be convinced that I can carry this job efficiently."

Senator Kefauver Attacks Republicans on 3 Fronts

During a series of appearances in this area over the weekend, including one at Utica Saturday night, Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.) attacked the Republican administration on three major fronts.

The Democratic presidential aspirant said farmers, small businessmen and laborers have suffered under GOP policies.

Kefauver said he, or any Democratic candidate, could beat President Eisenhower this year because the GOP "has failed to meet the needs of the little man."

The former head of a much-publicized Senate crime investigating committee asserted he was not here in direct attempt to win Michigan support at the upcoming national convention, but added he would be glad for any state support that "favorite son" Gov. G. Mennen Williams might throw his way.

DEPLORES RIOTING

The lawmaker deplored the University of Alabama rioting over admission of a Negro student and said nobody should be denied equal opportunity in education, industry or politics.

Speaking before more than 400 persons at a Seventh Congressional District dinner in Utica, Kefauver said "the Republicans are so afraid of farm surpluses that the major impetus of their farm program is geared toward eliminating a surplus.

"As a result, they cut the farmer's income so much he has to over-produce just in hopes of realizing enough from his crop to live. When surpluses go up, farm prices go down."

SAYS GOP MISSED CHANCE

He charged the administration has missed a "golden opportunity" to ease the problem by not making more surplus products available to "millions of starving people in Europe.

"While fellow humans are starving abroad, here at home our co-dependant economy is threatened by a glut of surplus farm products . . . "

"Secretary of Agriculture Benson merely dawdles. This nation is missing a magnificent opportunity to move this surplus to the benefit of the farmers here at home and also to the benefit of our international relations."

CLAIMS BUSINESS HURT

Low farm income cuts down business of retail stores and other small businesses, he declared. This in turn hits the wholesaler, then the manufacturer and men are put out of work, he asserted.

"The only relief for the farmer, which in turn will improve general economic conditions, is the reinstatement of 90 per cent price supports . . . "

"I want the little man to be given the same break the big man now gets under the Republicans . . . The small businessman sees big industrial profits and stock dividends soaring, while the number of small business failures has increased by 30 per cent since the Eisenhower 'team' took over."

CHARGES FAVORITISM

The GOP record has shown favoritism to "special interests, big corporations, the families of great wealth, the great land-owning interests, the utilities and the big bankers," Kefauver declared.

"The administration has not carried out its promises to repeal strike-breaking provisions of the Taft-Hartley Act," he alleged.

"I believe in framing a new law, or amending the old one, because . . . healthy unions are an essential part of our modern economy."

"Forward looking steps could probably result in many satellite countries throwing off their chains," he added.

Turncoat Statement Puts British on Spot

their Saturday statement they never had been Soviet agents although admitting they were Communists from university days.

One-time Soviet spy Vladimir Petrov said in Canberra, however, that the two took large quantities of secret data with them when they fled to Russia in 1951.

British ambassador to Moscow Sir William Hayter sent the report on the Saturday reappearance of the men to London.

A leading British handwriting expert states he doubts the authenticity of the statement released yesterday in Moscow by Burgess and Maclean.

"My examination shows a number of basic features which are different . . . I've considered the aspect that the signature of Burgess was written under duress or under strong emotional disturbances, but I think the signature at the bottom of the statement has all the characteristics of forgery," Eric Williams said.

Rochester Man Admits Stickup

The detectives said they found knives, cigarette lighters, wrist watches and several cartons of cigarettes stolen from the store.

Davis confessed the Tom's Bar holdup, they added, only after they had found a sewing machine equipped with green and white thread in his home. The recovered red hoods were sewed with matching thread.

He was arraigned for the crime Saturday before Township Justice Helmar G. Stanaback. Stanaback remanded Davis to jail under $20,000 bond, after Davis waived examination and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court for arraignment Feb. 20.

Thugs Empty Till, Say 'Thank You' for Free Paper

Two courteous bandits who thanked their victims for a free newspaper walked off with $287 Saturday night from a Troy Township grocery store.

Rex and Lelia Smith, proprietors of Nevalas Grocery on Big Beaver Road, told police they were alone in the store about 7:30 p.m. when the two men, armed with a shotgun, walked in.

"This is a stickup," said one, and he emptied the till of the cash register while his partner brandished the shotgun.

Actor-Director Dies at Grand Rapids Home

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Arthur W. (John) Ellis, long time actor and director noted for his protrayal of "Rip Van Winkle," died yesterday at his home. He was 86.

Prior to his school circuit tour with a streamlined version of the Washington Irving fantasy, Ellis had gained Broadway star stature in a variety of roles. His best remembered effort was in the hit, "The Squaw Man."

Twins Continue to Deny Murder

Youths, 14, Accused of Slaying Boy Scout, 9, in Wheeling, W. Va.

WHEELING, W.Va. (AP)—Twin 14-year-old boys charged with the slaying of a 9-year-old Cub Scout steadfastly insisted they were innocent during eight hours of questioning yesterday.

Police and other officials who saw Thomas and Joseph Williams calmly answer questions—and submit to lie detector tests—scheduled a meeting to correlate their information.

After the interogation of the twins, Ohio County Prosecutor Joseph Gompers said a mental examination is planned, adding:

The lads are charged with murder and are being held in a juvenile detention home.

Dressed in blue jeans and wearing identical jackets, the towheaded twins—rather slightly built for their age—remained calm. They both insisted they knew nothing of how young Powell was brutally beaten to death and his body placed in a coal cellar under the porch of the Williams home.

Young Powell's body was found last Friday, about 12 hours after he disappeared on a house-to-house tour of the neighborhood selling tickets for a scout benefit.

Gompers said Powell's skull had been crushed and that his chest had been nicked with a knife. A knife, he added, was found in his jacket sleeve.

The prosecutor said human bloodstains were found on a jacket worn by Thomas Williams and that Thomas admitted owning the knife but claimed he lost it last Tuesday.

Shortage Slows School Erection

Steel Scarcity Causes Delays; Use of Concrete as Substitute

Shortage of certain types of steel, which Gov. Williams reported last week has slowed school construction in many communities, has caused delays in Pontiac's program, School Building Coordinator Dr. Otto C. Hufziger said today.

"We have had to replace steel with concrete wherever possible," Hufziger explained.

Finishing one section of the new junior high going up on North Perry street has been held up for lack of steel columns needed for wall supports.

Activity centers planned for completion at eight elementary schools by next fall have been designed with all-concrete roofs, except for a few necessary steel rods.

"Steel is difficult to get and builders often have to pay top dollar for it, in turn running our costs up," he added.

Holdup Man Flees With Change Purse

Police are investigating the account of an Attica man, who claimed he was held up late Saturday in the parking lot of the factory where he works.

Samuel C. Arms said a man armed with a pistol and wearing a white handkerchief over his face opened the door of Arms' car and demanded his wallet.

Arms said he slipped his wallet to the floor and offered the thug his coin purse containing $3.50.

As the masked-man reached for it, Arms grabbed him. During the scuffle, Arms managed to blow the car horn several times. Plant protection officers were attracted and the bandit fled with the purse, Arms related.

Aid Grant Given to State Hospital

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Children's Bureau announced today a special grant of $55,000 to help the Michigan Crippled Children Commission treat child amputees from other states.

"Michigan is believed to have more experience in treating children with congenital or accidental amputation than any other state," said the Bureau, a part of the Department of Welfare.

Under the special arrangement, the Michigan commission will offer to treat children from any part of the country where adequate state or local treatment is not available. The fund will pay expenses if other means are not available.

The Michigan commission has operated its child amputee center at the Mary Free Bed Children's Hospital and Orthopedic Center, Grand Rapids for nine years. It has concentrated largely on children residing in Michigan.

Under the project, any physician or clinic may recommend to his own state's crippled children's agency that a child patient be treated at the Michigan center if the state does not have adequate or suitable treatment available.

If the state agency determines the child is eligible for treatment under the state program, the application would be sent to the Michigan project for final review and decision.

Freak Accident Fatal to Youth

Boy Tumbles From Car That Spun Around and Killed Him on Bridge

TOLEDO, Wash. (INS)—A youth opened the door to his own death today when he tumbled from an automobile that spun around and came back to kill him on the Cowlitz River Bridge in Toledo.

The state patrol said the driver's desparate grab to save his passenger actually resulted in the death of Leonard Hansen, 13, Toledo, who was fatally crushed under the out-of-control car.

State Patrolman John Nastrom gave this version of the accident:

Young Hansen was asleep in the front seat of an automobile driven by his brother-in-law, Joseph H. Nanamkin, 26, Toledo.

The car, southbound toward Hansen's rural residence, slowed speed as it started across the old Cowlitz River Bridge.

This change of speed partially awakening the sleeping youth, who apparently thought he had reached his home.

DESPERATE GRAB FAILS

Nanamkin told officers Hansen opened the front door of the car and started to get out. The driver said he made a desperate grab, taking both hands from the wheel, in an effort to clutch the falling boy.

Young Hansen tumbled to the bridge decking and officers said the slow speed of the car and the sleepy youth's relaxed condition indicated he had escaped serious injury in the fall.

Meantime, the southbound car careened into girders on the west side of the bridge, caromed into the span structure at another point and headed back north on wobbling front wheels toward the prostrate youth.

Nanamkin fought futilely to control the car, but the left front wheel had been nearly sheared off by the impact.

The front end of the trembling car passed over Hansen, still inert on the roadway, the wheels straddling but not touching him.

Revenue Service Brings Relief to Housewives

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Revenue Service has relieved housewives of any obligation to report wages paid to domestic or household employes for income tax purposes.

The service reported in its current bulletin on new tax rulings that payments or salaries or wages to domestics or other household employes by a housewife are not payments made in the course of a trade or business.

Accordingly, the ruling said, the obligation of trade or business employers to report wages paid by them for income tax purposes does not apply to payments made by a housewife to employes in her household.

The ruling does not apply where the home is used as a trade or business, such as a rooming house, a tourist home or otherwise.

Additionally, it does not affect the obligation of housewives to withhold and pay social security taxes covering domestic help.

Detroit Company Slates Cafeteria Building Plans

BIRMINGHAM — A modern cafeteria on Hunter Boulevard is to be erected by the Greenfield Mills Restaurant Co. of Detroit, according to the company's letter to the City Commission.

The commission meets tomorrow rather than tonight because of Lincoln's holiday.

According to Jack Lawrence, president of the company and a Lake Park street resident, the Early American style building will include a coffee shop and a private dining room as well as the cafeteria similar to the firm's operations in Detroit, Cleveland, Columbus, and Cincinnati, O.

It will stand at the corner of Haynes, directly north of the new Wrigley store on land being sold through Max Broock, Inc. Building next year would be completed by September, 1957, Lawrence's letter states.

Canadian Strike Marks 148 Days

Sunday Talks Between GM and UAW Fail to Produce Settlement

TORONTO (AP) — The marathon General Motors of Canada wage strike went into its 148th day today after long Sunday negotiating sessions apparently had failed to produce a settlement between management and the United Auto Workers Union.

The top-level talks began amid predictions a solution of the deadlock was near but adjourned 10½ hours later with no indication of agreement.

Union officials were to meet again today to decide on the timing of further talks.

Neither union nor company officials would comment on the progress of the talks as they filed wearily from their downtown hotel room. But observers believed negotiations had bogged down over the disputed health insurance clause.

The union wants the company to pay full health insurance costs. Management contends the workers should have some responsibility for their own welfare.

Another clause still believed unsettled is the union's demand for a 16-cent hourly wage boost. The company has offered a 15-cent increase spread over three years. The company offer would raise production workers' base pay to $1.83 an hour by 1957.

Company officials estimate the dispute—longest automobile strike in Canadian history—has cost the 17,250 GM workers in Ontario $26,341,425 in wages. The company said a total of 1,587,250 man hours have been lost since the walkout began Sept. 19.

Reds Create Barren No Man's Land on the Czech-West German Frontier

By TOM REEDY

WAIDHAUS, West Germany (AP)—One mile east of here is one of the most dangerous frontiers in the world.

It is the Czech-West German border over which thousands of anti-Communists have fled to the West since 1948.

Czechoslovak guards have orders that are stark in their clarity. No one who attempts to cross here secretly is challenged. He is shot first, and then questions are asked.

At Pilsen one strikes the highway leading to West Germany. For about 45 miles, it is a pleasant ride through countryside and village. Then it leads through dark forest.

Two miles from the frontier there is no sign of life. Trees have been felled to create open space dangerous for any potential refugee. Along the road there are signs every fifty yards or so:

"Do not halt. It is forbidden."

After a series of these, there is a temptation to drive just a little faster. A sentry tower looms up. A guard peers out. Stretched the width of the man-made meadows are five strands of wire from the ground to a height of about eight feet. Signs, with painted lightning bolts, indicate the fence is electrically charged.

In this two-mile stretch no one except a properly documented traveler in an automobile may appear without jeopardizing his life. Farm villages which once existed in the "death zone" are now ghosts. The families were moved out. The buildings are in decay.

Czech guards, courteous and efficient, check travel papers and in less than 10 minutes raise the barrier. Half a block down the road is the West German station. The customs guards are glad to see someone, anyone. The only other traveler that day was the French ambassador to Prague.

Less than half a mile away is the first settlement, Waidhaus, West Germany, population 2,500. It was not always this tiny. From 1948 to 1954, the village teemed with Czechs and Slovaks fleeing from communism.

"That's all stopped," a gas station attendant said. "They have the border plugged now and anyone who can get across is a remarkable man. He's so remarkable, I guess, that he doesn't even stop here."

Dr. Raymond W. Waggoner, head of the University's psychiatry department, said the unit "represents the first of its kind in this country to provide a complete psychiatric service for emotionally disturbed children."

The building was designed for a maximum of 75 children under the age of 17.

Peterson Hinted as CAB Chief

Omaha Paper Reports Civil Defense Head to Be Named New Chairman

OMAHA (AP) — The World-Herald today quoted a "high Republican source" as saying Federal Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson "almost certainly" will be named chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The former Nebraska governor has been rumored as a possible nominee to replace Ross Rizley, board chairman, who was nominated Friday by President Eisenhower to be a federal district judge in Oklahoma.

The World-Herald quoted Peterson as saying all he knew about the possibility of going to CAB was what he had read in the newspapers. He said, though, he had rejected several weeks ago a position outside the government that would have paid him considerably more than his present $17,000 salary. The CAB post pays $15,000.

The newspaper said there had been reports that the Motion Picture Owners of America had been negotiating with Peterson to become president of that organization and "there were indications these negotiations are still continuing."

Gas, Hoses Quell Texas Prison Riot

Approximately 75 armed officers surrounded the two-story concrete dormitory and blocked off all nearby roads in the area after the convicts started smashing windows and setting hundreds of mattresses on fire.

There apparently was no attempt at escape. About half the 490 prisoners at the farm took part in the 1¼-hour riot. With the exception of 12 Anglo-American trusties, all of the convicts are of Latin-American descent.

In quelling the riot, firemen directed high-pressure streams of water through the dormitory windows and Texas Rangers then threw in tear gas and nausea gas bombs.

Men Rule Out Valentine's Day Tenderness

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Now is the time for all red-hearted American girls to come to the aid of St. Valentine's Day. Dark forces (often called "men") are squeezing the love out of it.

Gone are the mushy poems and miniature chocolates of yesteryear, the lovers lounging on satin hearts, the red roses and cinnamon droplets. Almost forgotten is the choked-up wondering in a maiden's soul—what tall, handsome anonymous ladies he who asks me thus to be his Valentine?

Now a maiden needn't wonder. If she gets a Feb. 14th card at all; the sender's name is boldly set down. This here comes from Harry Schwartz. His message:

"Don't be a drag. Be my hag!"

I should probably never have brought this up at all, though the gradual deterioration of sentiment in February has nagged at my soul for some time, except that last week I received a card from a former friend named Dick, which read: "Valentine, you've got that 'Dior' look—that 'barn Dior' look, I mean."

WHERE, OH WHERE

Where, I thought suddenly, desperately, is the gallantry and chivalry and tenderness of those 8-year-old swains who used to make their own Valentines with sticky-back hearts and lace from their mothers' paper doilies?

Fine little men they were. Grew up into beasts.

I have done some checking around since then and have come up with some alarming statistics. Comic Valentines outsell romantic Valentines, four to three. About one in eight of them is genuinely insulting.

The only cards that are never offensive are those addressed to "Mother." Brother, sister and sweetheart cards often are virtually libelous.

Valentine candies are on a definite downgrade, partly because of the public diet-consciousness but mainly because of the general deterioration of V-Day. Red roses still have their heads above water, but corsages are dropping off.

Cupid is corny, and lace appears on only about one card in 25.

The reason given by some husbands and boy friends for sending "gags" instead of genuine mementoes of affection is that Valentine's Day is just another commercial operation, like Mother's Day and Father's Day and Susie's birthday.

St. Valentine may have lost his life for the principles of love and marriage back in the Third Century, but times have changed, and it ain't right.

SOLUTION SEEN

Well, personally, speaking for us old-fashioned women, I see a way around this problem . . . a man can just write out his own Valentine message.

That outdated, hackneyed, wonderful cliche "I love you" on the back of a postcard is infinitely more welcome in most mailboxes than a 50-cent invitation on glossy paper to "Share my flat, you dear old bat."

Not very commercial a project, either. Only the woman who receives the postcard will feel richer.

12-Year-Old's 'Oz' Items Amazing to Librarian

NEW YORK (INS)—A 12-year-old Boy Scout with an interest far beyond his years has startled the librarian of Columbia University's Butler Library.

The grinning lad, Justin Schiller, showed up at the library with three huge cartons. Roland O. Baughman, head of the library's special collections looked somewhat amazed.

Baum's works, arranged by Librarian Baughman, will fill the Butler Library exhibit cases until March 16.

Said Justin:

"I have lots more at home."

The boy has been collecting items on Baum for two years since he was presented with "The Wonderful Wizard of Oz" by his parents.

500 ITEMS

The young collector's hoard of Baum pieces now exceeds five hundred, including more than 100 volumes containing at least one copy of each of the 39 Oz books written by Baum, who died in 1919. He also has dozens of other novels and non-fiction books which Baum wrote — ranging from an adult story about Egypt to a textbook explaining the care and feeding of Hamburg chickens.

Contributions for Elections Need Tighter Regulations

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — You can drive a truck through some of the holes in the laws covering contributions and spending for elections to federal government office.

They are outdated, full of loopholes, and, as Sen. Hennings (D-Mo) says, are so "unrealistic" they not only "invite" but "demand evasion."

He has a bill on tap to tighten and modify them. But the chances that Congress will pass the bill in this election year are slim.

The man responsible for prosecuting violations of these election laws—Warren Olney, assistant attorney general in charge of the laws in the 1952 campaign, had found 139 worthy of investigation. The result: 2 prosecutions.

These are two of the biggest loopholes in the present law:

1. Political committees can't spend more than three million dollars apiece. But the law is so phrased that this means only national committees—like the Democratic and Republican national committees—and does not touch the many separate state and local committees.

GOV. CONTROLS LIMITED

2. The present law gives the government control, such as it is, only over spending in general elections for members of Congress. It excludes primary elections. The Supreme Court ruled 15 years ago Congress could, if it wishes, control primaries, but Congress hasn't moved to do so. Yet some primaries are far hotter and more expensive than general elections.

Hennings' bill, approved by a majority of the Senate Committee on Rules, would make these changes—among many— in present law:

1. Give the government control over both primary and general elections for federal office.

2. Put the spending of all committees—state and local as well as national—under federal limits if they work for a candidate for federal office.

3. Raise the limit on spending to 12 million dollars and limit state and local committees to a total of somewhere between $50,000 and $250,000 in Senate races and $12,500 and $25,000 for a representative.

4. The national committees now are required to file reports on the contributions they receive and the money they spend. Hennings' bill would extend this to state and local committees.

The way the bill is drawn this reporting on spending would require a great deal of paper work, perhaps too much, and that is one of the consistent criticisms of Hennings' proposal.

But he says he's not wedded to this measure and if Congress wants to change it, all right, so long as changes for the better are made.

20-Year-Old Brazilian Stows Away on Airliner to New York City

NEW YORK (AP) — A barefoot Brazilian stowaway who hitched a 5,182-mile ride in an airliner's freezing and cramped nosewheel compartment today awaited a more comfortable trip back home.

Wanderley de Cunha Camargo, 20-year-old airport baggage handler, hid in the nosewheel compartment of a Pan American World Airways DC6 at Sao Paulo, Brazil, Friday night.

He leaped out of the plane at Idlewild Airport Saturday night and sprinted away into the darkness. He was found several hours later rummaging through garbage cans a few miles from the field.

Hungry and bewildered, he wore only a jacket and trousers.

"It's a miracle he's alive," an airline spokesman said.

The plane flew at 18,000 feet on the trip north from Brazil. The temperature in the unheated nosewheel compartment was near zero and the oxygen thin.

"I wanted to see the United States," the youth told police.

Bishops should give up their gaiters, said Canon Hedley Hodkin, vicar of Holy Trinity in Sheffield, England.

City Airport Assured $91,500 for Expansion

From Washington has come some aviation news of vital importance to everyone interested in Pontiac's municipal airport.

It was in the form of an announcement by Rep. George A. Dondero that this City had been allocated a Federal grant of $91,500 for airport improvements. The Royal Oak lawmaker indicated the grant was made in recognition of Pontiac's growing importance as an industrial center.

City Manager Willman has indicated that Pontiac is prepared to match a portion of the grant. Airport Manager Homer Hoskins says the grant will make it possible to complete extensive improvements this year. These include acquisition of additional land, extension of east-west runway and center apron and taxi strip.

The importance of these improvements lies in the fact that they will make the airport usable by the owners of many more of the smaller type planes. They also will make it possible for larger aircraft to take off and land there, thus increasing the volume of air traffic in and out of Pontiac.

McCarran-Walter Act's Revision Asked by Ike

President Eisenhower in his immigration message to Congress has approached the matter of revising the controversial McCarran-Walter act on a new and sound basis.

The clear implication of the message is that the act is not doing the job it should. But Mr. Eisenhower doesn't suggest any basic change of policy. Wisely he leaves that to Congress. Instead, he proposes an interim program which would liberalize the act and adjust it to today's needs.

The much criticized existing law's quota system is geared to the 1920 census. This limits the annual number of immigrants to 154,657. The President proposes that the 1950 census be taken as a guide, raising the total admission to 220,000.

Another, and we think sensible suggestion, is that unused quotas be transferred to other countries to insure that we get the maximum possible number of immigrants.

To lighten the burden on the lawmakers, the President urged that the task of handling special cases of aliens seeking admission be transferred from Congress to the Attorney General. The message is convincing in its argument that fingerprinting of all alien visitors should be abandoned on the ground that it does nothing to protect national security.

No one, of course, will dispute the President's contention that alien criminals and subversives who have had their day in court, should be deported speedily.

Better Mental Health Aim of Coleman Bill

State Senator Coleman of Battle Creek has introduced a bill to establish a mental health training and research authority.

The hope is that such an authority would provide trained personnel for the State's mental hospitals. An important part of the measure is based on the advice offered by Dr. William C. Menninger, a nationally known mental health authority.

It calls for inclusion of representatives of the University of Michigan and Wayne University medical schools in an expanded commission to direct the Department of Mental Health. The bill would also provide for sweeping changes in the program to develop better training and research facilities.

In addition the bill would recruit and train psychiatrists. In exchange for fellowships, these trainees would be required to serve as staff members in State mental hospitals.

The Coleman bill may not be the complete answer to Michigan's mental health program. Yet it gives promise of being a sufficiently important step forward to deserve sympathetic study.

Early Creed Adopted in Making Automobiles Here

Knowledge: In which what you learn after you think you know

Pontiac this year rounds out a half century in the making of automobiles it all its what counts.
in a substantial way. After some previous attempts that were not successful, it was in 1906 that the

Oakland Motor Car Company

and a few others. At that time a creed was adopted that still maintains. Under the old company and its General Motors successor, the

Pontiac Motors Division,

it always has held true. That creed: "We believe that when a good engineer designs a car, the basic principles, aside from simplicity and accessibility, are to eliminate friction, guard against distortion, reduce wear to the minimum, and deliver the maximum horsepower to the driving wheels with the least possible loss."

Out of every $100 spent in our nation last year, $13 went for transportation, the largest percentage for any year in our history.

Drainage work no longer is a warm weather job, according to

If you contemplate entering a big quiz contest, you'll be interested to learn that a recent survey by the

A letter over the signature of "Resident of the Best Birmingham," says: "They seem to be having a lot of trouble in Birmingham, Ala., and I wish that when your paper prints any news about it that you'd put the 'Ala.' after the name of the city. "Birmingham (Mich.), is not slipping."

Figures gleaned on a nation-wide basis show that of the cases coming into juvenile courts 97 per cent are boys. In some of the courts in smaller cities there never has been a case involving a girl.

The Proverbial Snowball

David Lawrence Says:

Presidential Succession Laws in Mess; Elected Party Might Well Be Ousted

There's no law advising the nation how to deal with the duties of the presidential office when there is an "inability" to serve, as the word is used in the Constitution.

There's no law that enables the party elected at the previous election to maintain control of the White House if a vice president dies after succeeding to the presidency.

There's no law which would permit, in an emergency, a presidential candidate elected in November to take over immediately even though the outgoing president was ready to resign and make the transfer without waiting for the two and a half months' interval to elapse before the formal inauguration. It used to be four months.

A most significant point is that Congress does have the power to remove a president if "inability" occurs—and this word in the Constitution is not qualified by the word "physical." The argument could be made that "inability" means inefficiency, too, which would introduce something akin to the parliamentary system, especially if the Supreme Court—which doesn't hesitate to legislate nowadays—should some day broadly interpret the word "inability."

PRESENT LAWS CONFUSING

The present law of succession provides that, after the vice president, the speaker of the house and then the president pro tem of the senate shall succeed to the presidency. But today the speaker of the House is a Democrat, and it could conceivably happen again that the speaker of the House isn't of the same party as won the previous presidential election.

It is interesting to re-read what President Woodrow Wilson wrote confidentially to his secretary of state during World War I just before the election in which Charles Evans Hughes had resigned from the Supreme Court to be the opposing candidate. Wilson wrote on Nov. 5, 1916:

"Again and again the question has arisen in my mind: What would it be my duty to do were Hughes to be elected? Four months would elapse before he could take charge of the affairs of the government, and during those four months I would be without such moral backing from the nation as would be necessary to steady and control our relations with other governments. I would be known to be the rejected, not the accredited, spokesman of the country; and yet the accredited spokesman would be without legal authority to speak for the nation. Such a situation would be fraught with the gravest dangers. The direction of the foreign policy of the government would in effect have been taken out of my hands and yet its new definition would be impossible until March.

"I feel that it would be my duty to relieve the country of the perils of such a situation at once. The course I have in mind is dependent upon the consent and cooperation of the vice president; but, if I could gain his consent to the plan, I would ask your permission to invite Hughes to become secretary of state and would then join the vice president in resigning, and thus open to Hughes the immediate succession to the presidency.

"All my life long I have advocated some such responsible government for the United States as other constitutional systems afford as of course, and as such action on my part would inaugurate, at least by example.

OFFERS REMEDY

"Responsible government means government by those whom the people trust, and trust at the time of decision and action. The whole country has long perceived, without knowing how to remedy, the extreme disadvantage of having to live for four months after an election under a party whose guidance had been rejected at the polls. Here is the remedy, at any rate so far as the executive is concerned. In ordinary times it would perhaps not be necessary to apply it. But it seems to me that in the existing circumstances it would be imperatively necessary.

"The choice of policy in respect of our foreign relations rests with the executive. No such critical circumstances in regard to our foreign policy have ever before existed. It would be my duty to step aside so that there would be no doubt in any quarter how that policy was to be directed, towards what objects and by what means. I would have no right to risk the peace of the nation by remaining in office after I had lost my authority."

But such a plan is not now feasible because, if the president and vice president resign, they cannot appoint the winning candidate to be speaker of the House. A return to the old law of succession by means of the cabinet, which was on the statute books for many decades, would seem to be logical, at least in an atomic age.

3 Winter Itch Treatments Are Offered by Columnist

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

An editor friend informs me that the only dermatologist with the Air Force in Europe says the most common ailment of Air Force men and their families is winter itch.

The editor adds that he has been bothered with it for years, but he has found that taking baths only once every week or week and a half alleviates it greatly.

Although I profess to be an expert on itching, having had every conceivable kind of itch except this thing called winter itch.

In Little Lesson No. 9, Save Your Skin, (35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I give instructions on how to prepare and use a number of skin lotions to prevent or relieve irritation or itching.

So-called winter itch is usually due to excessive bathing.

Nature's skin conditioner is sebum, the oil secreted by the sebaceous glands.

This skin oil is poured out upon the surface through the common duct of sebaceous and sweat glands, the mouth of the duct being commonly knows as a "pore."

Water, especially very warm water, removes skin oil, and soap removes still more. So the skin is left dry and unprotected after a prolonged bath.

The least you can do to compensate for the loss of the natural skin protective, conditioner, beautifier and comforter is to apply a suitable skin oil (animal or vegetable, but not mineral oil).

Sesame oil, a few drops applied daily is the ideal oil, because it keeps well without becoming rancid and does not tend to clog the skin as many cosmetics do.

Lanolin (hydrous wool fat — not anhydrous, which is the crude wool grease) is the next best skin conditioner for folk who bathe too much.

Lanolin is too thick and sticky to use on the skin. It requires some thinning with cottonseed oil, olive oil or sesame oil.

The third best skin conditioner is standard cold cream freshly made by the pharmacist after the formula in the U.S. Pharmacopoeia.

It doesn't keep indefinitely, so have only enough to last for two months made up at any time.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Socialism in City Utilities Is Benevolent Monopoly'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

At the Monday meeting of the Pontiac Real Estate Board, Mr. Stolorow spoke in opposition to the $600,000 bond issue under consideration by the City of Pontiac, to finance additional public parking facilities in the downtown area.

He declared that for the city to participate in the parking business was "rank socialism." He is probably correct in calling it socialism, but how rank it may be is for the voters to decide. He should remember, however, that this same sort of socialism is as old as taxes.

The city maintains the streets, water supply, sewers and sewage disposal and on occasion takes away the empty beer tins and the garbage. We accept this service and pay for it because the city can do it better and cheaper than private individuals could or would do it. It is in this work a benevolent monopoly instead of the other sort.

George L. Scales

Explains Parking Bonds Won't Raise City Taxes

May I add my statement in regard to the parking lot bonds? To say that the issuance of these bonds will raise the taxes in the City of Pontiac is false.

These are revenue bonds and will be paid by the money received from the parking meters in the lots. They do not pledge the faith and credit of the City of Pontiac.

The worst that could possibly happen is that the revenues from the meters were not enough to retire the bond. The holders of these bonds, after due process of law, could take over the lots until such time as their claims were satisfied.

The history of the present municipal parking lots points to regular and positive retirement of these bonds. I urge everyone to vote in favor of the bond issue.

Army of West Germany Developing Very Slowly

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

The new West German army today consists of only 900 recruits—more than five years after the idea was conceived.

There also are 95 officers from World War II days and 25 American sergeant-instructors.

The idea of once more putting Germans into uniform was born after the Communist attack on South Korea in the summer of 1950.

This shocked the French, but they eventually subscribed to the idea after years of fighting delaying actions.

Many Frenchmen still fear the revival of a German army. But they are not alone in this. West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer also is proceeding carefully. He does not want to recreate what in 1945 Sir Winston Churchill called "The dull, drilled, docile, brutish masses of the Hun soldiery."

Adenauer does want to create what Churchill also once called a force of "great numbers of brave and skillful fighting men with every form of excellent equipment."

Many quarrels have occurred in Bonn over formation of the army, and there will be many more before all the legislation is passed.

The goal is to have by 1959 a total of 12 divisions of 360,000 men in the army.

At the head of this machine, which will be in the forefront of North Atlantic Treaty Organization defenses, is Gen. Hans Speidel, Marshal Rommel's former right-hand man.

Speidel, who was a history professor at Tubingen University, is deceptive in appearance. He is immaculately dressed and scholarly and looks the part of a professor.

But he was chief of staff to the German 8th Army on the Russian front in World Warr II. He was in the North African desert and later in France at the time of the Allied invasion.

And he was a key figure in the plot to assassinate Hitler, being arrested by the Gestapo when the bomb failed to kill Der Fuehrer.

Adenauer's plan is to give a concept of "soldier-citizen" to this new army. Troops will retain certain civilian rights in an attempt to prevent the army from becoming a detached military caste on its own—and therefore a threat to future German civilian governments.

Parliament is keeping a very wary eye on the new machine being born. Deputies scrutinize every word in any legislation affecting the new military forces which, with all three branches, eventually will total 500,000 men.

In contrast to the slow creation of the West German army, the Soviet-installed East German regime already has a force of more than 100,000 men. The latter now have been taken into the Communist Warsaw bloc pact under the overall command of Soviet Marshal Ivan Konev.

By JAMES J. METCALFE

There has to be some time in life . . . To alter our routine . . . If just a little trip to find . . . A different daily scene . . . Because if there is no relief . . . From being so confined . . . Eventually our labor may . . . Affect our normal mind . . . Our best prescription is to have . . . A change in atmosphere . . . To rest our weary body and . . . To keep our thinking clear . . . So let us not be hesitant . . . To simply walk away . . . From every wall surrounding us . . . If only for a day . . . Our progress may be slower as . . . We pour tomorrow's cup . . . But we will be in better shape . . . And we can make it up.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Keep Young by Entering Prize Contests; It Will Focus Your Attention on Future

Prize contestants are simply carpenters with words. They nail syllables together in an attractive manner to win big awards. Meanwhile, contesting offers zest for living. It is also a tonic for frustrated souls. So send for the booklet below and rejuvenate your entire family. It is an ideal hobby for invalids and retired folks.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case O-373: Lawrence J., aged 32, lost an arm and both legs in the Korean War.

"Dr. Crane, he is so frustrated," his devoted wife informed me tearfully.

"We receive an adequate income, so he doesn't need to worry unduly on that score.

"But he feels that he can't accomplish anything. What can I do to improve his morale and give him new zest for living?"

SOUL TONICS

"Man does not live by bread alone," stated Jesus, as he thus indicated we require a tonic for the soul.

People who fritter away their time with nothing constructive to show for their years here on earth, thus feel unhappy.

A person who can see some evidences of accomplishment, seldom is neurotic or jittery or a frustrated individual.

If you are semi-invalided or marooned at home and unable to perform heavy physical labor, then try prize contesting as a dandy hobby.

Some people earn their living putting bricks and mortar together as masons. Others put nails and boards together and are called carpenters.

But you can also put words together in interesting combinations and earn a good living. We call such people salesmen, teachers, clergymen, writers and prize contestants.

Hundreds of prize contests are being announced by newspapers, magazines and especially by manufacturers of merchandise.

So read the rules carefully; then work diligently preparing your entries. For prize contesting offers not only a chance at top financial awards, but it adds zest for living.

CONTEST PSYCHOLOGY

If the members of a family or a neighorhood club unite in trying to win prize contests, they turn their thinking forward into the future, which Emerson said is the test of whether we are young or old.

Elderly people live in the past, but young people think ahead toward the tomorrows!

Contest fans, even if they are 75 years old by the calendar, are thus rejuvenated by having their thoughts turned forward toward the expected winning announcements to be made in the future.

Contesting also stimulates the mind by causing the participants to look up words in dictionaries and encyclopedias.

When contestants get together, they always have plenty of fascinating things to talk about, for they compare notes and argue over meanings of words.

During our first year of marriage, Mrs. Crane and I became prize contest addicts, and won many prizes ranging from $1 to $1,000. I mention the word "addict", for once you have become a prize contest fan, it never gets out of your blood.

"When we get old and have a little free time, we'll be able to entertain ourselves by going back to contesting." Mrs. Crane spoke longingly the other day as she viewed several enticing contest announcement.

LIMERICKS, LETTERS

Many contests are simple to solve, so the final decision is then based on a 50-word letter. Other limerick poems require a final line with a clever riming word.

Crossword puzzle contests are also very popular, as are "christening" contests in which you offer a new name for a dog or a movie star, etc.

But be sure you watch the rules, for 51 words in your letter obviously will eliminate your entry if the rules state a 50-word limit.

Wounded veterans and retired folks can very profitably develop the habit of prize contesting, just as a mental tonic. But you always have an outside chance at big prizes.

So send for my booklet "How to Write Salable Copy," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents. It contains a section on prize contesting.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Revised State Law Streamlines Procedures

Voters and Election Workers Will Find Changes at Polls

Whether you are working on an election board this year, or are one of the thousands of citizens who go to the polls to cast ballots, you will find many changes in election procedure.

Revisions of the state election laws accomplished last year correct many points which have been under discussion for a long time in an effort to keep the election machinery working more smoothly.

One of the changes of importance to Pontiac City is that which places a maximum of 800 registered voters to a voting precinct if paper ballots are still used.

If the number is above 800 the municipality must divide its precincts, or employ voting machines, in which case a larger number of qualified voters is permitted per precinct.

Pontiac would have to split quite a number of precincts, at considerable cost, and therefore is considering installing voting machines, at least on a trial basis.

Other changes made by the election law revision include the following points:

ONE BALLOT AGAIN

Presidential, state and county ballots again will be combined on one ballot.

Township caucuses must be held between 8 a.m. and 8 p.m. on the primary election day, the third Monday in February. Previously, some latitude was permitted in the caucus date.

All governmental areas (township, city) with more than one voting precinct must keep a duplicate, or master registration list.

CHALLENGERS

Official challengers must reside in the city of township in which they serve. Citizens, voluntarily challenging another's vote, can do so only in their own precinct.

On voting machines, colored strips may be used to differentiate between several ballots, (as general ballot, propositions, etc.)

On machine precincts absentee voters' ballots must be opened and registered on the voting machine at 8 p.m., or as soon thereafter as all voters in line are processed.

Votes for a deceased candidate are void, but this will not invalidate the remainder of the ballot.

Advertising regarding propositions must carry names of the individual or group sponsoring the advertising.

Election boards are no longer required to initial paper ballots.

Up to six precinct voting places may be housed in the same building, if adequate facilities are available.

A majority of an election board for any precinct must be present at all times during an election and during the counting and tabulating.

If preinct boundaries are changed, the clerk of the area (city or township) must notify each elector who is affected by first class mail of the change.

NAME CHAIRMEN

The municipal clerk appointing election workers shall appoint the chairman of each precinct board. (At one time boards selected their own chairmen from their members.)

Everyone desiring to work as an election inspector must file a written application with the clerk of his municipality before being appointed. These must indicate the applicant's political party preference.

Nominating petitions for general offices and for non-partisan offices shall be filed at the same time and the signatures for placing a name in nomination for a non-partisan office shall be 1 per cent of the last secretary of state vote. (Formerly was 2 per cent.) The petitions now must bear the name, street address and city of the circulator.

A candidate who has changed his name must file an affidavit of the change, but not if his name change has been made 12 years prior to the election. (10 years for non-partisan races).

If an elector moves from his voting area (to another county, state, or elsewhere) he may maintain his residence for voting purpose if he claims intention to return and there is reasonable physical evidence of his intention to return at some future time.

Membership of various boards of canvassers and boards of election commissioners has been changed. The membership is now as follows: Cities—city clerk, city attorney and city assessor; townships—supervisor, clerk and treasurer; villages — president, clerk and treasurer.

Arrest "Mutt, Jeff" Suspect

Police Trace Getaway Car

Tip Comes Following Holdup in Royal Oak Township

ROYAL OAK TOWNSHIP—Warren G. Harrison, Detroit, is being held by police as a suspect in another "Mutt and Jeff" holdup early Saturday morning at the Goodwill Market, 8240 W. Eight Mile Rd.

Two masked men, the short one carrying a sawed off shotgun, the tall one armed with a nickleplated pistol, entered the store shortly after it opened.

They slugged the clerk with a pistol, locked six persons in the refrigerator and got away with $300 in cash.

Detective Samuel H. J. Whitfield of the township police said the description fit those of the "Mutt and Jeff" bandits who have terrorized the Detroit area for the past month.

Harrison was arrested by Detroit police as the driver of the getaway car. Police traced the car to Harrison from a tip given to Det. Whitefield.

Harrison will be questioned this morning. A customer released the six imprisoned in the refrigerator.

Troy Auto Collisions Bring Injuries to 3

Three accidents marred the weekend in the city of Troy. At 5:45 p.m. Saturday there were two accidents, a head-on collision on 16 Mile Road involving a car driven by Floyd C. Townsend, 43, 675 Hartland and William T. Dallard, 39, 3638 Rochester Rd.

Dallard was headed east on 16 Mile Road, according to Troy police, and hit the Townsend car going west. Dallard was treated for head injuries by a private physician.

The other accident at the same time Saturday was on DeQuinder. Louis Chesnick, 49, 2483 John R., swerved off the road and hit a tree. He was treated for facial cuts, police said.

A head on collision on 16 Mile Road one-half mile west of DeQuinder Saturday sent Mary Kamicka of Detroit to William Beaumont Hospital. Driver of the other car was Harold A. Jaynes, 5577 Knowles, Utica.

Graham Arrives in Hong Kong, Shuns Politics

HONG KONG (AP) — Billy Graham, jaunty in brown suit and tie, stepped out of a plane from Manila today, waved to 400 greeters and told newsmen that he had come here to teach the Bible, not discuss international politics.

The American evangelist will stage a mass rally Wednesday and leave the next day for Formosa, Japan and South Korea.

Graham preached last night to an overflow audience of more than 25,000 persons at Manila's Rizal football stadium. Roman Catholic Archbishop Rufino J. Santos had discouraged attendance by Catholics, but there were many in the audience.

The evangelist said he might visit Russia next winter. Asked if he thought Christianity was the answer to communism, he replied, "There is a vast difference between the teachings of Christ and Marx," but declined to comment further.

Bill to Protect Dealers Sought

Sen. Monroney to Draft Measure to Correct Abuses to Auto Buyers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Monroney (D-Okla) said today he has ordered a bill drafted to protect auto buyers from "phantom Freight" overcharges, and to aim a "truth in labeling" blow at car bootleggers.

Monroney said he will hold up introducing the measure until this Senate Commerce subcommittee reveives more testimony on its provisions.

Monroney said in a statement the bill will seek to correct abuses 'from what dealers claim to be one-sided franchises heavily loaded in favor of the automobile manufacturers."

The bill, he said, would forbid manufacturers to impose freight charges which exceed actual delivery costs.

He said it also "would strike at bootlegging by requiring each car to carry a 'truth in Labeling' windshield sticker" on which would be recorded the name of every company through whose hands it passed from factory to buyer.

"Of vital importance would be the requirement that the method of transportation in interstate commerce, whether by rail, truck or towaway would have to be shown for each sales company handling the car," he said.

'This would prevent cars from being sold as new cars, when actually many have not only been driven thousands of miles, but in many cases towed other cars through many states to the sales center," he said.

Other sections of the bill, Monroney said, would call for Federal Trade Commission policing of contracts between auto dealers and manufacturers which many dealers have denounced before his subcommittee as unfair to them.

Monroney said he may add a provision to "require arbitration before cancellation of franchises."

Whales Keep Heart Secrets Despite White

However, Dr. White said last night that he got information on methods that may insure success next time.

The Boston specialist and his expedition, sponsored by the National Geographic Society, invaded a favorite calving lagoon of the whales on the coast of Lower California, Mexico.

They hit one big whale with a harpoon, to which an electrode was attached. It hardly got into the blubber. Another harpoon glanced off. The electrode would have carried the heart record by wire to a water-sled telemeter.

White's previous attempts were in 1953 and 1954. He said before leaving by plane for San Francisco and Washington that no time has been set for the next try.

He says the slow heart action of the big sea mammals, averaging 30 tons each, may reveal information of value in studying human hearts.

Khrushchev Finishes Party House Cleaning

NEW YORK (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev has been having a thorough house cleaning in preparation for the opening tomorrow of the Soviet Communist party's 20th congress.

This is the most likely explanation for the recent removal of several important Soviet officials, the demotion of others and the meting out of severe rebukes to still more leaders in the party.

Party boss Khrushchev, who evidently intends to dominate the congress with a firm hand, appears to be putting his subordinates on notice that they must toe the line or else.

Here are some of the significant recent changes:

1. Sergei Kruglov was fired from his job as minister of internal affairs and replaced by N. P. Dudorov. Kruglov, a veteran police officer, had served for many years under Lavrenty Beria, who was executed as a traitor in 1953. After Beria's arrest Kruglov replaced him as minister of internal affairs. Dudorov was in charge of construction policies in the Central Committee of the party at a time when Khrushchev was particularly interested in this field. Dudorov seems to have been moved up because he is a man Khrushchev thinks he can trust.

2. A. M. Puzanov was removed as premier of the Russian Republic and replaced by M. A. Yasnov. The latter for a number of years was mayor of Moscow—during Khrushchev's tenure as boss of the city's Communist political machine. Puzanov was demoted to deputy premier.

3. In Lithuania M. A. Gedvilas, ilong-time premier of the Lithuanian Republic, was replaced by a party secretary, M. Y. Shumauskas. No reason was given.

4. Gen. P. I. Parshin was removed from his position as minister of the machinery and instrument industry when this department was split in two. Parshin was named head of neither of the new organiztions.

5. More than a dozen veteran first secretaries of Communist party units in key regions have been ousted.

* * *

For slightly more than two years Khrushchev has been removing persons he did not trust from positions of responsibility. Frequently they have been former close associates of ex-Premier Georgi Malenkov.

Station Owner, Son Capture Intruders

FLINT (INS)—A Flint gas station owner and his son fired at two men running from their station early today, wounding one and forcing the other to surrender.

Struck in the back with a shotgun blast and in fair condition at Hurley Hospital was Jerry Childers, 21, of Grand Blanc.

State Police identified the accomplice as David Woolard, 23, of Grand Blanc, held for investigation of breaking and entering.

Rex Sheppard and his son, Victor, 18, said they had noticed someone trying to break into the station about midnight. They live near the station and when they heard intruders a second time, State Police said, the Sheppards approached with guns and ordered the men to halt.

Thieves Ignore $5 Bill and Leave Minus Loot

BOSTON (AP)—Thieves ransacked the safe and office of the Mutual Credit Union without finding so much as a dime.

When police discovered the break, lying in plain sight on a desk three feet from the safe was a five dollar bill.

3,000 Cars of Fertilizer

MOSCOW (AP)—Komsomol Pravda complains that nearly 3,000 freight car loads of mineral fertilizer are going to waste on railroad sidings in the Minsk region. The Communist youth organ blames the situation on "negligent managers, talk and red tape."

Spirits Are Darkened With Shots at Prowler

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—Bartender Jim Smith fired a few shots at a prowler last night. The shots missed, but they cut a main power line, throwing half of north Phoenix into darkness.

Smith told reporters, "I'd like to tell all about it. But I've got a bar full of customers and a bar full of liquor, and man, it's dark in here."

The prowler? Escaped in the dark.

Channel 56 Off the Air

DETROIT (INS) — Channel 56, Detroit's educational television station, will be off the air today and perhaps tomorrow while a major piece of transmission mechanism is replaced.

Runaway Steers and Police Guns Stir Up Phoenix

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The Sunday afternoon calm of downtown Phoenix was shattered by the snorting of Brahma steers as police took potshots at a pack of the beasts who broke out of their feed pen.

Four were cornered after about an hour, the other four were killed.

One steer charged through the baggage room at union station, sending redcaps and tourists scattering from his path.

Police needed 33 bullets to kill one, 16 for another and 14 for a third. Police Sgt. Melvin Weil fired 10 shots at one beast: Weil said later:

"He just shook his head and kept coming. I jumped in my car."

Red Cross Blood Unit Seeking Donors Today

A mobile blood unit will be at the Elks Temple, 114 Orchard Lake Ave., today from 2 to 8 p.m. in an effort to secure 250 pints of blood.

A plea was made Saturday by Mrs. A. H. Magnus, Red Cross blood chairman for the Pontiac area, for donors to bolster a dwindling supply of blood for the Community Blood Bank reserve.

The unit will be at the temple only today and not daily as originally reported Saturday.

Win High Marks at Band Festival

State Finals Elimination at Ypsilanti Selecting Musicians for Contest

A number of soloists and ensembles from Pontiac junior and senior high school bands won first place ratings Saturday at the Southeastern Michigan School Band and Orchestra Association's solo and ensemble festival.

The festival, held at Michigan State Normal College, Ypsilanti, comprised elimination tests for state finals. Those winning first place ratings are eligible to enter the state contest April 21 at Michigan State University, East Lansing. There top players from the 11 districts in the state will vie for state honors.

Pontiac High School and Lincoln and Eastern junior highs took part in the southeastern district's concert Saturday.

Pontiac High School band members won eight firsts in the solo division and 13 in the ensemble division, according to band Director Dale C. Harris. Included in the top players were 39 band members. Only one ensemble and one soloist failed to make the first place rating.

Two ensembles—a cornet quartet and a flute trio—from Lincoln Junior High won first place honors; one quartet got a second place; and three soloists made the third place rating.

Eastern Junior High School's brass sextet and single soloist both made second place.

An elimination contest for full bands will be held Feb. 25 at Wayne University, Detroit. Pontiac High School Band under the direction of Dale Harris and Lincoln Junior High School Band conducted by Eldon C. Rosegart are both expecting to enter.

Broomfield Expects County Road Report

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler expects a special report on the Oakland County highway situation within 30 days, State Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) said today.

Ziegler is seeking more road information in an attempt to work out a plan which will allow Oakland a fair share of state road funds, Broomfield explained.

A proposed change in the gas tax distribution formula, while meeting needs of most counties, would leave Oakland with less funds than it now receives.

"We hope to arrive at a plan which will provide a more equitable distribution for the whole metropolitan area," said Broomfield.

LIFETIME OF SERVICE — Emerson Alston, manager of the Automobile Club of Michigan's Pontiac office, is honored by his company as among the three most outstanding of 43 Michigan division managers. Alston could not attend a recent banquet in his honor because of illness which has kept him in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital for the past week. Mrs. Alston looks on as her husband receives a trophy from William B. Bachman, Auto Club membership director.

'Amateurs' Discover Huge Uranium Lode

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — Two Philadelphia brothers who learned geology out of public library books have claimed the discovery of a uranium deposit in an abandoned New Jersey rock quarry that might be worth 5 million dollars.

The brothers, Vernon Gatling, 28, and Alvin, 25, said that ore from the mine, which is located near Stockton, N. J., just off route 29, has been assayed by the U. S. Bureau of Mines as having an average of two per cent raw uranium, and in some places, five per cent.

The Gatlings said the estimated 100,000 tons of high grade ore at the mine could be worth 5 million dollars at the current government rate of $1,000 a ton for five per cent ore.

The brothers said the only technical training they had in minerals was when they went west four years ago to work in uranium mines.

Elect Medical Officers

President, Dr. Raymond Winfield, Marlette; Secretary-treasurer, Dr. Ernest Blanchard, Deckerville; delegate to the state convention, Dr. Neil Muir, Croswell.

Auto Club Manager Cited as Among Best in State

But the firm's manager of the Pontiac division wasn't around to hear any of it—he was flat on his back in St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital recovering from an illness.

Alston was cited at the event as one of the three best among the state's 43 division managers, an achievement which later earned him a hospital visit from Membership Director William B. Bachman who presented him a silver trophy on behalf of the company.

In making the award, Bachman said: ". . . You have been cited for 20 years of outstanding accomplishments in serving motorists, and particularly for your civil achievements in running the Pontiac office.

". . . By encouraging travel by motorcar, you have helped Michigan's economy and assisted in maintaining Auto Club of Michigan's position as the largest auto club in the AAA family and in the world."

A similar award will also be made to Edward Tynan, of 2724 Chadwick Dr., who will be cited as the most-improved membership counselor in the state during the last three years.

The U.S. death rate was slightly higher in 1955 than in 1954, largely because of the increasing proportion of older people.

Live better Electrically

Bob Considine Says:

Civilian Lures Costing AF $2 Billion Yearly

OMAHA (INS) — Gen. Curt Lemay, who keeps the peace of the world at Strategic Air Command headquarters at nearby Offutt Air Force Base, is concerned these days with the heavy inroads private industry has made on his lads. It is costing the Air Force, notably SAC, about $2,000,000,000 a year to find and train replacements for airmen who won't reenlist.

The outbreak of peace at the Geneva Big Four conference had an unquestioned effect on this situation. Suddenly, the outside offers seemed increasingly attractive to many superbly trained airmen and the need to be in unifom seemed less.

There are jobs in SAC planes today, especially in the intercontinental bombers, that represent a training course which costs in the neighborhood of $50,000 per man. Hence the huge annual drain on air force appropriations.

Dedicated men like Lemay have turned down fabulous offers to leave the ranks, but stay on at faint fractions of what they could make on the outside. But they're not ready to condemn those who leave. They're more likely to be critical of desk-bound people in Washington who try to save pennies where billions are involved. The clippers are ever eager to cut down on serve-men's so-called "fringe benefits." one cut brought a roar from Lemay:

"Never before in the history of the nation have we developed a fighting man quite like the SAC aircraft commander and the men about him," he said, chomping at his cigar. "When given his orders he will carry them out as long as he can function. If he finds every other plane in the formation shot down and the target unreached, he'll fly on alone, no matter what the odds against him." Lemay paused, then concluded, "so they take away his salted peanut."

Speaking of Omaha, did you know it—a city of slightly over 250,000—has overtaken Chicago as the world's largest livestock market and meat packig center? The Department of Agriculture is authority for this. Omaha handled 6,764,140 head of cattle, calves, hogs and sheep last year—388,000 more than Chicago. In 1940 it handled only half of what Chicago was doing.

Harry B. Coffee, president of the Union Stock Yards Co., of Omaha, says these are the reasons for the gain: 'The city is adjacent to grange country and is a rail center of 10 big roads and a hub of federal and state highways.

The trend nationally is to slaughter near the source of supply (two thirds of the nation's livestock is produced west of the Mississippi, and two thirds consumed east of it) and, finally, Omaha has modern stockyards. Coffee calls it a "livestock hotel," but he sure treats the guests roughly.

Byron Reed, local advertising man who accompanied Father Flanagan of Boys Town to Japan after VJ-Day, recalled today that when Fr. Flanagan and he met Emperor Hirohito the emperor spoke of little else except the great job Gen. Macarthur was doing for Japan and the Far East as a whole. He asked Flanagan to relay the message to President Truman as soon as he returned to the U.S. Flanagan landed in New York, flew to Washington, saw the President and delivered the message.

"I was there," Reed recalled, "Mr. Truman stopped Father halfway through the message and said, 'Father Flanagan, you needn't tell me. I sent Macarthur on to that job and I know he's doing it magnificently'."

Congressmen Overworked

Washington Favored Short Sessions Also

WASHINGTON (INS)—One reason there's so much bickering in Congress is that members see too much of each other.

Who said so? George Washington did, nearly 172 years ago in a letter to Thomas Jefferson.

The letter was brought to light today by "Roll Call," a biweekly newspaper put out on Capitol Hill for the benefit of Congressmen and their employes.

The newspaper said it obtained the letter, which was dated Mount Vernon, Va., March 29, 1784, from its "historian," Winant Ellmore, a great-great-great-great-grandson of Jefferson.

Washington was in retirement from his military service at the time he expressed his views, which may or may not have been altered when he had to deal with Congress as president five years later.

The Congress to which he referred in his letter was the Continental Congress, which isn't exactly what we have now. But there are similarities.

Washington was opposed to the fact that the Continental Congress was in session all year long. He favored annual meetings of two months or so.

DISLIKED ABSENTEEISM

First, he complained of absenteeism among the members.

Then he wrote: "Annual sessions would always produce a full representation, and alertness at business. The delegates, after a separation of eight or ten months, would meet each other with glad countenances."

In recent years, Congress has seldom been out of session for more than five months at a time, and often less than that. On reconvening each January, members greet another with "glad countenances," but they fade away quickly.

Washington explained it this way:

"Men who are always together get tired of each other's company; they throw off that restraint which is necessary to keep things in proper tune. They say and do things which are personally disgusting. This begets opposition; opposition begets faction, and so it goes on, till business is impeded, often at a standstill."

* * *

If his advice were followed, the general concluded, "an annual session of two months would despatch more business than is now done in twelve, and this by a full representation of the union."

Terry Moore Wed Since New Year's

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Movie actress Terry Moore was married secretly last New Year's Day in Las Vegas, Nev., to Eugene C. McGrath, Panama City, Panama, insurance broker, and they are now honeymooning in Caracas, Venezuela, her mother said last night.

The mother, Mrs. Lamar W. Koford, said the marriage was kept secret because "he isn't used to this Hollywood publicity."

Miss Moore, 26, signed her real name, Helen Luella Koford, in obtaining the marriage license. McGrath is 33. Mrs. Koford said the marriage was performed by Las Vegas Judge A. S. Henderson at his home.

It is the second marriage for each. Miss Moore divorced Glenn Davis, former West Point All-America football player, in Los Angeles in April 1952.

Terry's mother said McGrath was here on a business trip about three months ago. A friend of his, actor John Wayne, introduced him to Terry and her mother.

Railroad Rebuilder Dies in Salt Lake City

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)— Wilson McCarthy, president of the Denver & Rio Grand Western Railroad who was instrumental in putting it back on its financial feet during the war and prewar years, died last night. He was 71.

McCarthy and Henry Swan of Denver became co-trustees of D&RGW in 1935, at a time when the railroad was in default on more than 58 million dollars in obligations. He and Swan launched a vigorous program to modernize the line. It was taken out of receivership in 1947 and McCarthy was named president the same year.

Ahepa, Greek fraternal order presented the shapely Hungarian with a scroll naming her as the actress who most resembles the Greek goddesses of old.

George Shanis said the award was for Miss Gabor's "classical beauty and stature, wit and charm." Shanis said 20,000 Ahepa members in California, Arizona and Nevada voted in the contest.

Adlai, Averell Split on Issue

Harriman Seeks Bar of Federal Aid to Schools to Segregated States

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Another round of comment on civil rights questions leaves Adlai Stevenson and Averell Harriman differing sharply on one issue growing out of the segregation dispute.

Harriman, governor of New York and an "inactive" candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination for which Stevenson is campaigning, said last night he favors barring federal grants to schools that resist desegregation.

Stevenson, however, said it wouldn't help reduce race prejudice to cut off Southern states from "the means of improving the educational standards of all their people."

In a statement issued at Portland, Ore., Stevenson also said he thinks it is "essential" that the segregation issue be kept out of this year's presidential campaign.

Among the Republicans, National Chairman Leonard Hall said he hopes the Democratic nominee will be picked by former President Truman "because I want the American people to have a choice between what they now have and what they had under Mr. Truman."

As for the GOP candidate, Hall repeated that he is operating on "the absolute, definite and positive theory" that President Eisenhower will seek a second term.

The school aid issue dividing Stevenson and Harriman stems from an amendment proposed by Rep. Powell (D-NY) to a federal school construction program pending in Congress. The amendment would prohibit allocation of federal funds to communities resisting integration.

Eisenhower has opposed the amendment.

In a radio interview, Harriman said he believes "the correct position" is to support the Powell amendment.

Sen. Kefauver of Tennessee, another Democratic presidential hopeful, hasn't taken a final position on the question. He has observed, though, that the amendment might result in defeat of the aid bill.

Stevenson, in his Portland statement, said he can "think of no greater disservice to our country than to exploit for political ends the tensions that have followed in the wake of the Supreme Court decision" ordering desegregation.

Reds Give China New Alphabet in English Style

LONDON (AP)—Communist China has decided to scrap the ancient Chinese character language of 250,000 ideographs—dating back thousands of years—for an easy-to-learn, English-style alphabet of 30 letters.

The Communists thus are embarking on a monumental gamble to modernize their nation and seize the minds of its 600 million people.

A simplified phonetic alphabet would help wipe out illiteracy, grease the grinding gears of Red indoctrination and simplify the education of technical experts needed to turn China into a modern industrial state.

Peiping radio announced the 30-letter alphabet had been introduced officially "for discussion and trial as a further step in the plan to change the Chinese written language."

It has all the letters of the English alphabet except "V" and five other letters "corresponding to sounds common in the Chinese spoken language."

The five added letters are mainly for sibilant Chinese pronunciations such as 'zh" and "sh." Pronunciation of some consonants the been changed to accommodate the Chines tongue. "Y" has been added as a sixth vowel with a different pronunciation than the English.

Policemen Must Pay for Citizens' Protection

OMAHA (INS) — Omaha policemen, asking the city council to raise their pay above the present scale of $330 to $505 a month, complained that they have to pay for any bullets they use.

"Every time we have to fire a gun to protect a citizen," an officer said, "it costs us three cents."

Wolfgang Horst Emrich, 16-year-old cabin boy, reached Cape Town South Africa, safely after being rescued from the sea more than five hours after he fell overboard.

Labor Experts to Study Walkouts at Westinghouse

HARRISBURG, Pa. (AP) — Two labor experts, appointed as a fact-finding board by Gov. George M. Leader of Pennsylvania, today prepared to study the disputed issues in the 120-day old Westinghouse Electric Corp. strike.

Leader, backed by the governors of four other states affected by the strike, named the labor-management experts to the board yesterday just two days after the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service quit the negotiations.

The strike has shut down 30 Westinghouse plants and idled about 55,000 workers in two unions —44,000 in the International Union of Electrical Workers (IUE) and 10,500 in the independent United Electrical Workers (UE).

The IUE said in Pittsburgh it "accepts" the fact-finding program. Westinghouse said it wants to examine details of Leader's plan before replying.

Named to the board were:

Dr. George W. Taylor, Philadelphia, chairman of the War Labor Board during World War II and now a professor of industrial relations at the University of Pennsylvania. During the Korean War he served as chairman of the National Wage Stabilization Board.

David L. Cole, Paterson, N.J., attorney, former director of the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service and ex-chairman of the New Jersey State Board of Mediation. He is presently an arbiter of jurisdictional disputes for the AFL-CIO.

RECEIVES BACKING

Backing up Leader in the action are Governors Averell Harriman of New York, Robert Meyner of New Jersey, Abraham Ribicoff of Connecticut and William C. Marland of West Virginia. All, including Leader, are Democrats.

Leader said the board's purpose will be:

1. To investigate the facts of the dispute which erupted into a strike Oct. 17 for IUE members and eight days later spread to the UE.

2. To determine the unresolved issues of the strike "that are responsible for this long-drawn-out dispute and present them to the general public, to labor, to management, and to myself and the other governors whose states are involved and who are cooperating in this action."

Both unions went on strike to back up demands for a 15-cent hourly pay boost for workers who previously averaged $2.10 an hour. Other issues in dispute are length of contract and company time studies.

Construction Plans Set for Truman Library

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Members of the Harry S. Truman Memorial Library Committee today began studying plans for final phases of the building's construction.

Former President Truman hopes the library at nearby Independence, Mo., will be ready for dedication in May 1957.

The committee also will discuss means of raising another $300,000 in addition to the building's estimated $1,700,000 cost. The additional money is needed for landscaping, furnishings and equipment.

Annual J-Hop Claims Many From Area

Biggest Social Event Held on Campus

By BARBARA JOHNSON

On Friday and Saturday Michigan State students took time out from mid-term cramming to attend the annual J-Hop.

BARBARA

The theme and mood for the big event was "Fantasia." Juniors have spent the past week working vigorously in the auditorium putting up elaborate decorations which gave the effect of a "ballroom floating in the sky."

Two doormen greeted the dancers and escorted them to the entrance. From there was seen spun glass, fibre glass meeting, soft lights and a lowered ceiling.

On Friday night the dance was semi-formal and was held from 9 to 1 a.m. Saturday's dance was formal and held from 8 to 12 p.m. Being traditionally non-corsage all of the coeds received orchids at the door with compliments of the Junior class.

The intermission entertainment on Saturday was highlighted by the crowning of Miss MSU, chosen from seven coeds who reigned at dances during fall and winter terms.

IMPORTANT EVENT

Since this event is of such importance on campus special privileges were given to collegians. Coeds were allowed to stay out until 4 a.m. on Friday and 3 a.m. Saturday. Also any student attending the J-Hop was allowed to drive and park on campus both nights.

Many pre and post dance parties were planned by fraternities and sororities. Informal get-togethers were held in the various houses. Afterward students took off their shoes, relaxed, and enjoyed breakfast prepared by members of the houses.

All living-units on campus were over flowing with excited guests who came from not only Michigan cities but from out of state to attend "the biggest dance of the year."

Among the Pontiac area students attending the "Fantasia" was Gail MacLaren of Delaware drive whose date, Peter McIlvaine, hails from Indianapolis, Ind. Leelyn Reese of Littletell road had as her guest, Michael Warchal, a Wayne University student from Detroit.

WOODWARD at SQUARE LAKE ROAD

Girl Thinks Beau Acts Cold Toward Her

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: We went steady for about three months last year then I broke up with him. When school started in the fall I thought I liked him again. That lasted about three days, then I got the funny idea to break up again.

"Well, I like him all over again now, and he also likes me, though I can sense that it's not as much as before.

"I'd like to know how I can change his fear of me and make him as he used to be. He's very affectionate, but cold in a way.

"He resents the fact that my strict parents won't let me go to the basketball games (he's on the team) or to the dances. He goes, but I can't. How can I get him to stop being so cold and make up for what I miss?"

Answer: You are struggling to be close, very close, to this boy you like—yet you aren't allowed to share a big part of his life.

The restrictions that keep you apart during out-of-school, leisure hours are the big ice barrier. Not that because of them he likes you less, but because he is forced to go his own way without you at times when he needs you most.

And you think him cold. Actually, he's just going about the business of living his own life without you. And he shouldn't be blamed for that.

You have a feeling that his affection for you isn't very deep. It's probably not that. It may be that he's completely realistic. He doesn't want to let himself get too tangled up over you.

You might just take it into your head to break up with him again, for one thing. And all the fun of his lone-wolf operation at games and dances would be spoiled for him. He'd be too lonely without you. It would hurt.

You want him to make up to you for all the fun your parents put on the restricted list. But too much of him would hardly find favor with your family, either. They want other interests to fill your life while you wait until they think you're ready to date freely.

Though he is a very big part of your private life at the moment, circumstances are against your being too big in his. You can't go places with him, so he goes it alone. And it wouldn't be fair of you to try to stop him.

You call that cold, unfeeling, indifferent? It's not really. It's the perfectly normal attitude of a boy who is trying to cope with a difficult situation. He doesn't know that you want more than he sees fit to give to your relationship.

He probably wouldn't know how to "make up" to you for what you think you're missing. And wouldn't have the slightest idea how to start even if you told him.

So settle for things as they are. Enjoy the time you do spend with him. And hope that nothing more drastic comes between you.

Mrs. Smith Bakes Cherry Dotted Cake Tops With Cream

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Here's a recipe you're sure to need in the next week or two. Vinegar Torte is a lot sweeter than it sounds. And since it contains a whole bottle of maraschino cherries, its color is just right for holiday serving.

Mrs. Walter Smith is today's cook. The mother of twin daughters, she is a substitute teacher in the Pontiac schools. She belongs to the New Sylvanites Club. Gardening, especially rose gardening, is her hobby.

VINEGAR TORTE
By Mrs. Walter Smith

4 eggs
1 large bottle maraschino cherries
1 cup sugar
1 cup ground walnuts
1 tablespoon vinegar
1 cup sifted flour
½ pint cream, whipped

Beat egg whites stiff, adding sugar gradually. Beat egg yolks to which juice of cherries has been added. Fold beaten yolks into stiffly beaten whites.

Add vinegar and fold in flour slowly. Add chopped nuts. Bake in greased pan in 350-degree oven about 45 minutes. Serve with whipped cream.

MRS. GERALD R. STOCKS

Goldie Stamas became the bride of Gerald Stocks at a 7 o'clock ceremony Sunday evening at St. George Greek Orthodox Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harry Stamas of South Saginaw street, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Charles Stocks of Milwaukee, Wis.

Goldie Martha Stamas Weds Gerald R. Stocks

Vases of white gladoli and stock banked the altar of St. George Greek Orthodox Church Saturday evening when Goldie Martha Stamas became the bride of Gerald Richard Stocks.

The Rev. Achilles Siagris read the double-ring candlelight ceremony in the presence of 100 guests.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stamas of South Saginaw street, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Stocks of Milwaukee, Wis.

As the bride approached the altar she was wearing a waltz-length gown of Italian silk accented with a portrait neckline of Alencon lace. A tara of seed pearls secured a fingertip veil of French silk illusion, and she carried a cascade arrangement of white roses and ivy centered with a white orchid.

A pink silk frock with a headpiece of pink Sweetheart roses was worn by Patricia Lee Stamas, niece of the bride, for her duties as flower girl.

Milo Olson of Milwaukee, Wis. and John Sousanis served as best men. Seating the guests were William Lawrence of Benton Harbor and Steven Stamas.

When Mrs. Stamas received her guests at the reception held immediately following the ceremony at Rotunda Inn she was wearing an aqua colored lace dress over taffeta with pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink Sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Stocks chose a dress of mauve satin with an overlaid lace bodice for her son's wedding. Her accessories were of pink and she also wore a corsage of pink Sweetheart roses.

When the couple left for their honeymoon trip to northern Michigan and Chicago, the bride was wearing a navy blue suit with red accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet. Upon their return they will reside in Pontiac.

Kids Use First Names of Parents

Aunt Thinks That This Sounds Very Disrespectful

By EMILY POST

A reader tells me: "My sister has two children. Their ages are 5 and 7. They have taken to calling their mother and father by first names and my sister does absolutely nothing to correct them.

"I think this sounds very disrespectful. But when I brought this to her attention she said that she saw absolutely nothing wrong in it, and that in her opinion it suggested an intimate companionship between parents and children. What do you think of this practice?"

Answer: I agree with you. The few times I have heard it I have found it shocking. There are no two names more beautiful than mother and father.

"Dear Mrs. Post: A friend of mine is to be married soon. Both her parents are dead and her nearest living relative is an aunt. The bride-to-be has asked the husband of a woman friend to give her away.

"The bride's aunt will sit in the front pew. Should the man, after giving the bride away, take his place in the front pew beside her aunt? Where does his wife sit in the church?"

Answer: The man who is to give the bride away and his wife are obviously very close friends and, as such, the wife would sit in the front pew with the bride's only relative. The man would join his wife and the bride's aunt after giving her away.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Recently I had a houseguest and when she left, I found that she had removed all the bedding from the bed, folded it and put it on a chair. Was this the proper thing to do?"

Answer: I am sorry, it was not. To fold the bed clothes implied that they were to go on the next person's bed, without being laundered. The bedding should have been left on the unmade bed.

Now She Can Afford Fancy Gifts

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband and I are quite sentimental about Valentine's Day," a woman writes, "partly because we were married on that day and partly because it is really such a romantic day.

"Every year he gives me a wonderful present. Each year I would try desperately to get him something nice, but just never had enough money. We have three children in school and you know what that does to the budget.

"Try though I would, I never did have enough to get Bob the kind of present I would like. Until this year, that is!

"And this year, my own home business brought in enough so that I could give Bob a camera he's always wanted. And it's an expensive one, too.

"Business," she went on, "is a rather impressive word for my work. It is really a home business; I'm a blouse specialist! I've always liked to sew.

ASKED ADVICE

"You may remember that several years ago I wrote you for advice on setting up a home-sewing business. You said I would have to specialize, that just doing miscellaneous sewing was almost never lucrative.

"You suggested that I find some specific need in my community, some out-of-the-way product or special service.

"At first nothing occurred to me at all, but about a year ago, I had a bright idea.

"I wear suits a lot," she continued, "and so do many of my friends. There's a darling shop in town, where most of us buy our suits.

MADE HER OWN

"I began making my own. I must say I do them well and make them inexpensively. I began designing, in a simple way, blouses that really did the most for my suits and for me.

"One day when I was in the suit shop, a customer was looking at a suit she wanted. She decided not to buy it because, as she said, she always had such bad luck with blouses and that particular suit had an unusual neckline which would make the blouse problem even bigger than ever. She walked out and the owner of the shop lost a big sale.

"I took courage and suggested to her that I might make blouses for her customers. I showed her the one I had on and told her about myself.

"Later on I came back bringing some of my other blouses. The long and short of it is I do custom blouses which she sells in her shop and I make a lot of money!"

Bizmac -- the Answer to Military Red Tape

SAN FRANCISCO (INS) — The traditional Army problem of "getting thar fustest with the mostest" may be solved through the use of an electronic "super clerk" which does in 24 hours paperwork formerly taking months.

The Radio Corporation of America engineers who developed "Bizmac" said it "is specifically designed to make molehills out of mountains of military or business paperwork."

Through the use of the device they foresee the time when the supply problems which have plagued the United States at the outbreak of every war may be whipped.

Such tragic spectacles as that of the American soldiers who suffered through the bitter Korean winter of 1950-51 with insufficient clothing may not occur again should the U. S. suddenly find itself involved in another war.

SOLVE MOBILIZATION

"Bizmac" may also solve the problem of overnight mobilization.

The RCA engineers describe "Bizmac" simply as an electronic processing system whose sole function is to do the routine paperwork which is so essential, but, at the same time, so wasteful of valuable time and manpower.

One "Bizmac" system already is in use by the U. S. ordnance tank-automotive command at Detroit. It is being used to keep track of the more than 200 different categories of replacement parts for military combat and transport vehicles in ordnance depots throughout the nation.

The "Bizmac" system being used in Detroit occupies between 15,000 and 16,000 square feet and consists of approximately 200 units of 3 different but fully integrated, types of electronic equipment.

Four to six persons are required to operate the complex organ-like console which controls the machine. The heart of the system is a computer which adds, subtracts, multiplies, divides and "remembers." Up to 4,000 instructions can be stored in the computer.

E. E. Minett, an RCA engineer, said "Bizmac" does away with the bulky files which characterize most logistical operations. In their stead are magnetic tapes which store needed data.

Minett said the machine automatically makes a complete inventory of all available stocks every 24 hours. As a result commanders always have up-to-date information upon which to base their future plans.

In addition to disposing painlessly of routine paperwork, "Bizmac" points up possible trouble spots, such as when a particular item is in short supply. By knowing immediately when a shortage threatens, steps can be taken to build up the stock, thus preventing a costly—and frequently tragic—halt in production.

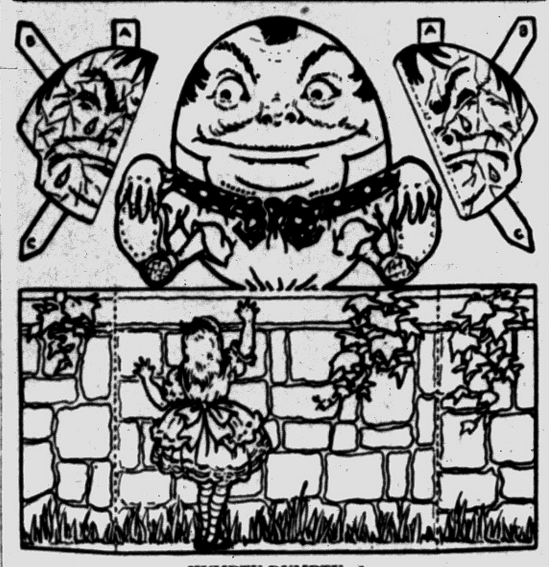
TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS



HUMPTY DUMPTY—1

Do you remember how Alice met Humpty Dumpty sitting on a wall? Humpty was the big egg who sat worried about having a great fall.

Sure enough he did fall and was badly cracked. Then all the king's horses and men couldn't put Humpty together again.

But you can!

Cut out the picture carefully and fold back the ends of the wall so it will stand. If you fold Humpty back at the wall line he will fall off.

To bring him back with a cracked face just make the little slits in the dotted line about the necktie. First put on the right half of the cracked face. Put tab C into the right slit. Do the same with the other half, folding tabs A and B around the head.

To put Humpty together again just remove the cracked face.

JUNIOR EDITORS pays $10 for any reader's idea that is used. Write your suggestion to "Junior Editors" in care of this newspaper; it cannot be acknowledged or returned and in case of duplication of ideas, the first submission shall be accepted.

U.S. to Join Four Nations in Far East Maneuvers

TOKYO (INS) — Six giant Air Force C-124 transport planes took off from Japan today for Thailand to add to the U.S. military power converging at Bangkok for a history-making military exercise of Free World Nations.

The exercise, dubbed "Operation Firm Link," will be a joint undertaking of the U.S., Britain, Australia, Thailand and the Philippines, all members of the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO).

The three-day exercise is designed to demontsrate the mobility and effectiveness with which member nations of SEATO can cooperate if need be to stem any Communist threat.

The transport planes belong to the 374th Troop Carrier Wing and represent part of eight C-124s and 40 C-119s the 315th Air Division is contributing for the maneuvers.

A total of some 7,000 men of the U.S. Army, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps will take part in "Operation Firm Link" which begins Feb. 15.

The Bangkok-bound 33,000-ton carrier is crammed with Leathernecks of the First Battalion, Ninth Marines and Marine Air Corps 16 and a dispatch from the Princeton said the marines are going through intensive drills on the carrier's flight deck.

Far East Air Forces said that 12 of its atomic-capable F-84 Thunderjets based at Okinawa will take off tomorrow for Thailand to participate in the maneuvers. They will refuel in flight on the 3,000-mile non-stop hop.

Meanwhile, another massive exercise swung into operation in another part of the Far East—this one an atomic warfare amphibious exercise in which 41,000 marines and sailors are taking part.

Leathernecks of the Third Marine Division—from Japan and Okinawa—wil storm the tiny island of Iwo Jima this week while carrier-based planes will bombard the island with dummy atomic explosives.

5 Unique Pumps to Heat and Cool Edison Structure

Five so-called "heat pumps" designed to cool it in summer and heat it in winter are being installed in the Detroit Edison Co.'s new Pontiac office building.

The building, as large as five ordinary six-room houses is scheduled to be opened July 1. A heat pump actually is a refrigerator.

Stirling S. Sanford, Edison industrial sales engineer, explained that a "heat pump" sucks in cold winter air at the rate of 3,400 cubic feet a minute and reduces its temperature, thus liberating heat which is used to warm air circulating in the building.

In hot weather, he said, the device works just the opposite, cooling the air in the building and discharging the extra heat to the outdoors.

It contains a supplementary electric heating unit which supplies heat in winter during defrosting and which also switches on automatically to provide extra heat when the outside temperature drops to 12 degrees above zero—or 20 below freezing.

Edison officials decided on installation of heat pumps in its new Pontiac building after an eight-month test in the home of an employe.

The device was put into the home of Jim Severy in suburban Northwest Detroit.

"The pump worked fine in Severy's home," Sanford said, "and we are certain the Pontiac installation will work, too."

Sanford said it would cost about $3,000 to install one of the devices in a six-room house and operating costs would approximate $350 a year.

"That will seem high if compared to heating bills alone," he said, "but it is not unreasonable when you realize that it pays for air conditioning in warm waether, too."

The device is operated entirely by electricity and got enthusiastic approval from Benjamin Linsky, chief of the Detroit Smoke Abatement Bureau, who said that "this machine cannot pollute the air, since there are no products of combustion involved in its operation."

Caution Against Russian Trade

U.S. Warns Its Allies They Cannot 'Get Rich' From Red Business

WASHINGTON (INS)—The United States warned its Free World allies today that they cannot get rich by trading with the Russians.

The note of caution, which came in the midst of increased Allied pressure to relax bans on trade with Russia and Communist China, was made in a seventh report to Congress on the Mutual Defense Assistance Control Law of 1951.

The entire report by the International Cooperation Administration dealt with Soviet reluctance to trade with the West.

Its central theme was that Russian reluctance to trade with the West, and not the Western ban on shipment of strategic materials to the Communists, was the barrier to East-West trade.

The report said that there are plenty of things which the Russians can buy in the West if they wish, but that so far the Reds have shown an interest only in materials that will increase their war-making power.

Clergy Extended Security Benefits Under New Law

Clergymen who have not taken a vow of poverty may secure Social Security coverage, according to the Pontiac office of the Internal Revenue Service. The provision pertains to ministers, Christian Science practitioners and other members of religious orders.

An election to be covered by 1955 and subsequent years must be filed on or before April 16th, 1956. Copies of the necessary Form 2031 may be obtained from any Internal Revenue office or Social Security office.

In addition to filing a Form 1040 Income Tax return, he must also obtain and file with the Form 1040, a schedule C. Profit (or Loss) from Business or Profession.

The new law (1954 Code) permits a minister of the Gospel to exclude rental allowances paid to him as part of his compensation to the extent that the allowance is used to rent or provide a home.

In addition to wages received, fees or money received for services by a clergyman such as: marriage fees, funerals, masses, etc. are taxable income and may be reported in his income tax return.

Falls Take Greatest Toll in State's Homes

Officials Confer on Four Major Health Problems

Echos from the meeting of Michigan's local health department officials, gathered in Lansing for the seventh annual Commissioners' Conference on health in Michigan:

"If you take the 10 most common ways to die in Michigan, you find that six of the causes of death are chronic diseases — heart disease, cancer, apoplexy, diabetes, arteriosclerosis and nephritis and nephrosis."

"In Michigan homes, falls are the greatest cause of accidental death; children under five and persons over 65 are far too well represented in the 800 accidental deaths in the home in Michigan last year."

"When mental illness disrupts a home-circle, the public health nurse should be prepared not only to help the family with physical health needs, but also to aid in rebuilding the emotional climate; what kind of training should Michigan public heath nurses have?"

FARM LANDS VANISHING

"In southern Michigan, farm lands surrounding cities are rapidly vanishing; in their place, we have neat rows of pastel houses; the suburban demand for water supplies, sewage disposal and for public health services has outstripped provisions in many areas."

The problems presented in these statements, health officials say, are "top priority Michigan health needs." Settled on this point, the health department directors are planning a counter-attack.

The proposed projects are a departure from current Michigan public health services.

Chronic illness programs, for example, have been run by health departments for years, but are limited to chest X-ray surveys, which will spot TB, lung cancer and enlarged heart; diabetes detection campaigns in some areas; and year-around educational drives.

The health departments are now weighing the merits of other case-finding programs for chronic diseases, and seek ways to expand nursing for home-bound victims of such diseases as cancer, arthritis and diabetes.

In the past few years, the health directors report a trend toward making the health department a "community safety center." With home and farm accidents in Michigan taking a heavy toll in death and disability, the county health heads are preparing to step-up work in the accident prevention field..

Another departure from past programs is the added interest in mental health. While the health department directors indicate a willingness to take up increased responsibilities in preventive mental health work, if staff and funds can be secured.

EYE URBANIZATION

Although the fourth problem on the conference agenda is called "urbanization," the health department directors point out that this includes sanitation in heavily populated areas, and complicated problems in zoning and population shifts which influence health services.

The "big four" health problems all have a complicated look. "But, certainly, not insurmountable," according to State Health Commissioner, Dr. Albert E. Heustis.

"After all," the Commissioner noted, "back in 1873, when the first state board of health was formed, Michigan was gravely concerned over 'spontaneous generation of disease arising from dirt, decayed animals or as a result of Providence.' And the old board of health consisted of six men, a table and a chair or two in the office of the secretary of state."

"From the beginning, we've won major victories over many health hazards. With community support, we can expect to move with equal success into these newer fields."

Propose Ways to Curb Thefts

Merchants Can Thwart Holdups and Burglaries by Precautions

That's the word from a protection expert to the nation's retail merchants calling their attention to National Crime Prevention Week (Feb. 12-18).

According to John Mosler, executive vice president of the Mosler Safe Co., which has been thwarting criminals for 108 years, the use of a planned cash protection system can force a great many criminals to seek their living legitimately.

Mosler offered merchants these suggestions:

1. Have two men open and close the store, one to stand at a distnace to give the alarm should the first be approached by a thief.

2. Keep money properly protected at night. Use a round door burglary-resistive money safe—not a square door unit which is designed primarily to protect records against fire.

3. Don't leave your premises unlighted overnight. Advertise the fact that you are well protected by placing your safe in a prominent location visible from the street. Experienced burglars, who love the dark, know they can't crack a modern money safe and won't try.

4. Don't make substantial bank deposits without taking extra care. When making deposits, use daylight hours whenever possible. Go to the bank at a different time each day using a varied route. If possible, have someone accompany you.

5. Don't try to be a hero. If a stickup man calls, follow his instructions. It may save your life.

'Parents' of 39 Forced to Leave Illinois Farm

HOLCOMB, Ill. (INS) — The nation's agricultural problem came to a sharp focus at Holcomb today when a couple who have served as foster parents for 39 children put their farm up for sale after 20 years "to make a living."

In explaining the problems that have forced them to sell their 160 acres in Illinois' North-Central Ogle County, Ernest Boumgarden declared:

"Some fellows blame the Republicans and some the Democrats. All I know is that the farmer is caught in the middle."

The sale of the farm is doubly sad for the 36-year-old Boumgarden and his wife, Hattie, since they have provided a healthy, outdoor life for 39 wards of the Illinois Children's Home and Aid Society in the past 15 years.

Mrs. Boumgarden explained that the move will sharply curtail the family's work as foster parents. The hard-working 39-year-old housewife said:

"We've bought a home in Payne's Point. But we won't have near the room we had on the farm.

"It's hard to say if we will be able to keep up our work as foster parents, I sure want to though, even if it is a lot of work."

The farm couple usually took care of three to four wards at a time.

Boumgarden, a former foster child himself, expects to work in Rockford, Ill., but the prospect doesn't please him. He said:

"I'm not real eager to go to work in a shop. Not after working outdoors all these years."

Mrs. Boumgarden calls her work as a foster mother one of heartaches and joy."

In explaining the heartaches, she said:

"When the society comes to take the kids back again, it is awful hard to let them go.

"Lots of our kids still keep in touch though. One of our "boys" will be a doctor soon. Another, now in New Jersey, visits the old homestead each summer—and now he brings his wife and baby along."

The joy, she said, comes from their children—Pauline, 12, Jimmie, 9, and Connie, 3—all adopted "because it was just impossible to let them go."

Benson Believes Ike Will Veto Farm Bill

WASHINGTON (INS) — Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson has indicated that President Eisenhower will veto any farm bill containing a return to high, mandatory price supports.

Benson described as a "step backward" farm legislation approved by the Senate Agriculture Committee last week. The bill would restore 90 per cent of parity supports for basic crops.

The secretary said on the NBC-TV program "Meet the Press" yesterday that—if the President should ask him — he would recommend disapproval of such a measure.

But Benson added that he thought "it will not be necessary" for him to give this advice to Mr. Eisenhower.

He declared: "The President has made his position clear."

Benson referred to the letter Mr. Eisenhower wrote to Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt), last week, in which the chief executive said that a return to high supports would "defeat" the purpose of the bill—reduction of crop surpluses.

Sees Soil Bank Raising Income

Aiken Predicts Veto by Ike if Congress Insists on Rigid Supports

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) predicted today that the new soil bank program "could add some two billion dollars to farm income this year" if Congress retains flexible price supports.

Aiken, in an interview, repeated his forecast of a presidential veto if Congress ties rigid price supports to the soil bank proposals of President Eisenhower and Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

His comments came after Chairman Ellender (D-La) of the Senate Agriculture Committee and Sen. Young (R-ND) said they were willing to risk a veto in order to try to get higher mandatory supports for cotton, wheat, corn, rice and peanuts.

As the soil bank bill goes to the Senate it will include this provision inserted by an 8-7 vote of the Agriculture Committee.

Ellender and Young contend the soil bank payments, authorized at $1,100,000,000 this year, would mean little actual profit to farmers unless something is also done to raise prices and support levels.

Sen. Anderson (D-NM), another member of the committee, supported Aiken's view that the President would veto the bill in its present form. But he added, in an NBC-TV interview, that he hopes Eisenhower never has the opportunity to do so. He called the bill "atrocious" and "completely inadequate."

Opponents of Caps Vote for Walkout

KALAMAZOO (INS)—Workers at the Sutherland Paper Co. yesterday voted to strike in a dispute over refusal by 120 women employes to wear safety visor caps.

The dispute has closed the plant since Feb. 3, idling 3,600 employes.

The women, who want to wear the hairnets to which they are accustomed, set up a picket line and a number of them were subsequently discharged by the company, which said it was filing a $350,000 breach of contract suit against the United Paper Workers Union.

A union official accused the paper mill of a lockout and said the membership gave an "overwhelming" vote in favor of a strike.

Dry Louisiana Town Watches Water Tank

RODESSA, La. (AP)—All eyes were on the town water tank today as the 400 citizens of this northwest Louisiana town hoped for an end to four bathless, shaveless, waterless days.

Repairs began on the leaky water tank Thursday. Drinking water has been hauled from nearby farms and a gas refinery, but the lack of cooking and washing water closed down the drugstore, barber shop and local cafes.

Workmen hope to have repairs completed by late tonight or early tomorrow.

Ambles Into Amble Inn and Ambles Out Richer

Diplomatic Gamble Taken by U. S. to Send Balloons Near Communist Borders

WASHINGTON (INS)—The U. S. decision to launch Air Force weather balloons almost at the border of the Soviet Union was deliberately taken as one of the biggest diplomatic gambles ever made by a major government.

It has been learned by International News Service that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and his brother, Allen, who directs the Central Intellegence Agency, were personally consulted.

They gave the go-ahead for taking the gamble which has brought ensuing protests from Russia and her Iron Curtain satellites.

The gamble was based on the hope the Russians would think enough of their "peaceful coexistence" posture to ignore weather balloons drifting over their territory, and might even cooperate in returning some balloon equipment, including cameras.

If they did, an entering wedge would have been established for President Eisenhower's proposal to permit mutual aerial inspection as a safeguard against surprise attack. A form of aerial inspection tied to international weather cooperation would have already started.

"It may sound incredible now," one official said, "but it seemed a good idea at the time.

REDS COOPERATE BY RADIO

"The Russians, since World War Two, have cooperated in exchanging weather information with us by radio. They are cooperating in the international geophysical program, which has many weather implications. Our balloon launchings were a well-established, legitimate program."

The Air Force program known as "Moby Dick" has launched in the last two years more than 4,000 of the weather balloons, which are made of an expandable plastic and cost about $19,000 each.

They have been floated mainly from the U. S. but also from Japan and Okinawa, where prevailing winds blow them away from Soviet territory, and in far away places such as Panama, Brazil and Scotland.

The hydrogen-filled balloons are 120 feet in diameter when they rise and can expand to 150 or 160 feet at high altitudes. The instruments they carry officially include both camera and radio equipment "to record and telemeter atmospheric information."

The basket or "box" containing the instrments weighs 400 pounds. The dangling carrier is parachuted gently to earth when the balloon destroys itself. This happens when the balloon drops below 30,000 feet of altitude after its original ascension.

A device that automatically dumps ballast if a balloon descends keeps them in the higher altitudes during the several days they remain aloft. This is designed to keep them out of civilian but not out of military airways.

The information obtained concerns high altitude jet streams, which blow at hundreds of miles an hour, and about "air frontal systems, storm formations, electromagnetic radiations and radio propagation."

An Air Force release on Jan. 8, announcing the prospective launchings in Europe, implied that the information obtained might help solve problems of hurricanes, dust storms and floods in the U. S.

Dad Loses Race, Candy Kills Child

James Spicer of Mount Joy drove at speeds up to 95 m.p.h. with his daughter Jacqueline, 18 months, trying to reach a hospital for aid. Moments before he arrived at St. Joseph's Hospital here the child died.

Coroner J. M. Mustard said death was accidental, caused by a gum drop lodged in the child's throat. Spicer and his wife Mary had tried vainly to remove the candy earlier.

Brother Admits Bizarre Death

14-Year-Old Boy Tells How He Unintentionally Killed Sister

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police say a remorseful 14-year-old boy has related how he accidentally suffocated his 2½-year-old sister, his favorite in a family of four children.

Patrolman Roger Spreck of the suburban Wellston police said Michael Dwyer told him last night the fatal mishap took place Friday.

The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Dwyer, had left the house Friday, with Michael in charge. They returned several hours later to find Michael gone and the child dead in her play pen.

"Mother and Daddy left, and Mary cried and cried because she thought they were leaving her," Spreck quoted Michael as saying. "So I put my hand over her mouth to quiet her, and I held my hand over her mouth for two or three minutes. When I took it away she was limp."

An inquest will be held at Clayton today, at which time it will be decided what to do with the boy.

Plan New Checks After Accused Plane Saboteur Fails in Suicide Try

A hospital spokesman said the tests are expected to last between 7 and 10 days.

Graham was returned to the hospital Saturday afternoon after he attempted suicide in his Denver County Jail cell Friday night. Authorities strapped him in a straitjacket for the cross-town ambulance trip.

Graham underwent 30 days observation at the hospital between Dec. 9 and Jan. 9. Shortly after, psychiatrists reported in court he was sane at the time a United Air Lines plane exploded and crashed near Longmont, Colo., last Nov. 1, killing 44 persons.

Graham has pleaded innocent and innocent by reason of insanity to murder charges in the death of his mother, 54-year-old Mrs. Daisie E. King of Denver, one of the crash victims.

Irwin to Be Headed for Indiana Tuesday

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Leslie (Mad Dog) Irvin, who says he will waive extradition, will be headed back tomorrow to Indiana and the electric chair.

Irvin, convicted of one murder and charged with five others, escaped jail at Princeton, Ind., and hitchhiked to California. San Francisco police arrested him Thursday when he attempted to pawn stolen diamonds.

Earl Hollen, Gibson County sheriff, is here to take him back. Accompanying the sheriff are two state policemen, Lt. W. L. Walls and Sgt. W. W. Cornett. They will reclaim him after tomorrow's extradition hearing.

Charles J. Funk, 70, of Los Angeles, identified two rings, two watches and a number of other items found on Irvin. They had been stolen from Funk's home.

AF Plane Crashes After Four Bail Out

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP)—An Air Force C119 ferry crew bailed out yesterday after the plane's controls went haywire a few minutes before a fuel stop. The plane crashed and burned about six miles east of here.

The copilot, Maj. Darrell Calkins, 35, Stillwater, Okla., was treated at a local hospital for face lacerations and taken to Sewart Air Force Base, Smyrna, Tenn.

The other three landed unhurt. They were identified at Sewart as Capt. Robert A. Miller, 33, pilot, San Antonio, Tex.; A.1.C. Robert E. Lesh, 20, crew chief, Battle Creek, Mich.; and A.2.C. Randall T. Blocker, 22, Glenville, Ga.

Former Actress Dies of Cancer at Age of 79

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Mrs. Grace Lockwood Bailey, former stage and radio actress, is dead at 79. She died Saturday of cancer.

She and her late husband, Edwin B. Bailey Sr., headed the Bailey-Lockwood Repertoire Co., which presented the works of Ibsen and other dramatists in this country in the early 1900s. She later pioneered in radio drama in Chicago, including the "Myrt and Marge" show.

Shooting of Chow Spoils Rabies Test

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Two men were advised to start antirabies shots immediately, but they may never know whether the dog that bit them was diseased.

A rabies test was made impossible after the black chow's head was destroyed in killing it. One man mutilated the head with a shotgun blast after another had hit the dog with a car.

Frank Vardon said he deliberately ran his car over the dog shortly after it had bitten G. D. Schwartz and Uriah Sutton. He said it was headed toward two children.

Chinese Ignore Ban on Beloved Firecrackers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Any evil spirit flitting around Chinatown today survived a full barrage of fire crackers, despite a police ban.

Chinese New Year started at midnight Saturday and was welcomed throughout the Oriental colony with an hours-long crackling of explosions aimed at chasing away the spirits.

New Police Chief Frank Ahern suffered his first reversal after ruling that the crackers could be fired only between midnight and 1 a.m. and only at Pogsmouth Square.

T. Kong Lee, head of the New Year Festival Committee, said: "Maybe the people were too busy during the day to read their newspapers. And the order came so quickly that the majority of the people didn't know about it."

Authorities Probe Anti-Franco Riots

MADRID (AP)— Authorities launched an investigation today into last week's anti-Franco student riots and the climaxing attack on Falange party headquarters. Officials already had ordered Madrid University shut down indefinitely and had begun a faculty shakeup.

The government ousted Law School Dean Manuel Torres Lopez in connection with last Thursday's riots. Reports spread that Pedro Lain Entralgo, university record, also had been fired and other dismissals were predicted.

The Falange, Spain's only recognized political party, demanded swift retribution for the attack in which one young Falangist was shot through the head and 10 other persons injured.

Student leaders said they demonstrated in protest against Falange control over Spain's education system.

Bluish White Meteor Flashes Past California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A bluish white meteor with a brilliant orange tail flashed across the California sky and was seen from points more than 600 miles apart early yesterday.

Observers as far north as Santa Clara, 400 miles from here, and south to El Centro, 175 miles southeast, and east to Winslow, Ariz., reported sightings shortly after 1 a.m. Witnesses reported seeing it for 10 to 30 seconds.

A sentry at Camp Irwin, the Army's huge armored equipment maneuvering base on the Mojave Desert, said blazing objects appeared to fall nearby. Another soldier on the same reservation said he saw the same apparent breakup of the meteor.

Two witnesses in the towns of Barstow and Daggett, near the camp, said they heard deep booming sounds after the flash.

A TWA pilot, Capt. Robert C. Downing of Malibu, Calif., flying over Winslow, said the meteor "looked like it was coming right under us. It made us duck and pull up the airplane a little."

Russians Building Up Far East Air Power

TOKYO (INS)—Gen. Laurence S. Kuter disclosed today Russia is maintaining within striking range of Japan an astonishing total of 100 bases capable of sending jet bombers against Asia's key industrial power.

The Russians have at the same time built up their Far East light-bomber fleet, according to other sources, to almost 1,000 twin-jet IL-28s, a slick, all-weather warplane.

Kuter, chief of U. S. Far East Air Forces, released the information on the Soviet potential in response to specific questions relating to Japan's defense build-up, now under way with U. S. aid.

Kuter said that overall Communist air power in Asia, including Russian, Red Chinese and North Korean, is on the increase and in numbers of combat aircraft is ahead of the U. S. by two to one—roughly 5,000 Communist warplanes to 2,500 American.

But the U. S. Air Force, in Kuter's mind, has the necessary edge in quality—in men, machines and know-how—to defend the Far East.

Much of the Communist air strength was presumed to have been concentrated in areas closely associated with the Formosa Straits area. However, Kuter explained:

"Along with the continual build-up of Soviet air capabilities, I am sure that the number of jet-capable air bases within radius of Japan is increasing and now numbers more than 100."

THREAT TO JAPAN

The main close-range bomber threat to Japan with its strategic complex of industrial and shipping centers, is posed by the IL-28, a fairly modern light bomber.

Because the IL-28 has a range of 1,200 miles, Kuter's statement was taken to mean that the Russians have built the 100 bases throughout eastern Siberia, Manchuria, North Korea, and the Sakhalin and Kurile islands just north of Japan.

U. S. Air Force weather reconnaisance planes have been jumped by Russian fighters over northern Japan in the past. The last incident took place Nov. 7, 1954 when two MIGs destroyed an American RB-29.

The RB-29, a weather reconnaissance plane, was riddled with bullets over Japanese territory. Other MIGs have tangled with U. S. Sabrejets in the Yellow Sea area—both in spring and summer of 1955—coming off second best each time.

These attacks suddenly ended when Moscow decreed its pre-Geneva spirit of peace. Kuter said his most recent reports bear out that the Soviets have inexplicably halted what were once frequent illegal air incursions over Japan.

"You may be sure our radar systems are active and alert to Soviet intrusions," he said.

"Our air defense force is ready to meet just such events and there have been no recent indications of Communist air intrusions."

U. S. Air Force leaders, within the framework of a security treaty, are trying now to help Japan develop its own defense network of men, planes and installations. Unofficial American reports have accused the Japanese of "dragging their feet" not only in the air defense program, but also in rebuilding a defense army and navy.

General Kuter, looking at this problem from the position of one of the world's leading military airmen, said:

"In view of the length of time Japan has been a free and independent major nation, under the threat of great Communist air power, and the fact that Japan does not have any efficient air defense of its own, no airmen—Japanese or American — could be satisfied with the rate of development of the Japanese air defense force.

"The existing Japanese six-year program, vigorously pushed to completion, will greatly increase the strength in airpower of the free nations of the Far East."

A Day to Remember: Jan. 1, 1882

Some Michigan Workers Earning a $3-a-Day Wage

(Michigan's history is rich and alive. Too often it is lost in the dullness of schooltime lessons. In an effort to bring some of these moments to life, the following story has been compiled from eye-witness accounts on file with the Michigan historical collections at the University of Michigan and assistant director F. Clever Bald.)

By JOHN BARBOUR

LANSING, Jan. 1, 1882 (AP)—The Michigan Commissioner of Immigration today released price and wage information for the state from its files for the year 1881.

The commissioner reported that some building trades workers averaged as much as $3 a day in some Michigan cities.

Carpenters ranged in daily wages from $1.75 to $3, as did masons. Bricklayers and plasterers started at $2 and some made as much as $3 a day.

In the Upper Peninsula, miners worked a 10 hour day, alternating weekly between night and day shift. Miners on contract averaged $2.50-$3.50 a day while non-contract miners averaged $2 to $2.25 a day.

The commission has prepared a book, "Michigan and Its Resources," showing wage rates and food price listings for the major cities in the state.

Potatoes are quoted at a dollar a bushel. Milk sold from 4 to 8 cents a quart. Butter went at between 20 and 25 cents a pound, the higher prices being found in Detroit.

The best grades of roast beef and steak were reported between 10 and 15 cents a pound. Lamb ran between 10 and 15 cents a pound. Pork sold between 10 and 12 cents a pound.

The commission also noted the current wage rates for female domestic servants. The average Michigan householder can hire a maid for between $1.50 and $3.50 a week plus board. The higher rates are found in metropolitan areas.

THE POWERHOUSE

By JIMMY POWERS

Observation Car: We were clobbered by the Russian hockey team and Europeans still remain ignorant of what American hockey really is like. Russia's best players are admittedly state supported on a 12-month basis.

This makes them professionals, by our standards if not theirs, because one Russian Olympic official when interviewed by the press was asked: "Are your professional athletes as good as your amateurs?" He replied: "There are no professional athletes in Russia."

In short, everyday language, the best Russian professional hockey players beat our best amateurs.

Never having had tne opportunity to see our best teams, Europeans easily fall into the Red-sponsored propaganda that our team at Cortina represents the best in the USA.

Johnny Greeley, Notre Dame '27, asks: "Why not consider sending the Rangers and another top pro team over to Europe to give a series of exhibitions, starting in Berlin?

This, more than anything else, would dramatically get across to Europeans what we could have done to the Reds at Cortina if we had adopted subsidizing tactics, eliminated the profession athlete class entirely, in violation of the Olympic oath, as the Russians have.

Let Us Discard the Olympic Oath

"Incidentally, isn't it about time we did away with this so-called amateur oath? In ancient Greece the athletes of that day were subsidized.

Reminds me of Nashua and his stockholders. If we interpreted rules as loosely as the Russians our Olympic boxing team would be headed by Rocky Marciano, Floyd Patteron, Carmen Basilio and Sandy Saddler."

Comment: Perhaps our defeats by the Reds will act as a stimulating influence among United States youth organizations. It may help those interested in combating juvenile delinquency.

Wings Moving Out of Range for 2nd

NEW YORK (AP) — There are two reasons why the Detroit Red Wings are only third in the National Hockey League. One is their inability to master the second-place New York Rangers. The second is the Rangers' knack of winning big games.

The latest example of this situation arose during the weekend. The Rangers were thumped by the Maple Leafs 5-0 Saturday at Toronto, then bounced back Sunday to nip the Red Wings 2-1 at New York. The Boston Bruins gave the New Yorkers a lift Saturday when they knocked off the Wings 3-2 at Boston.

The Rangers have taken 12 out of a possible 20 points from the Wings this season—considerably better than the seven points they got in 4 games in 1954-55.

The Wings, with 58 points, are three behind the Rangers and a New York win at Detroit in Tuesday's only game—the next in the league schedule—would give the Blueshirts a comfortable five-point lead over the Wings.

The Montreal Canadiens have 78 points and are almost a cinch for the NHL championship, which Detroit has won for the last seven years.

Toronto is fourth with 46 points, two more than Boston and five points ahead of last-place Chicago.

A full arena—15,925 fans—turned up at New York Sunday to give New York rookie Any Hebenton a tremendous ovation when he scored his 20th goal of the season.

It was the winning marker and gave him the honor of being the highest goal-scoring rookie of the season and the Rangers' first 20-goal man. Danny Lewicki fired the other New York goal. Defenseman Bob Goldham was Detroit's marksman.

The Bruins' big line of Real Chevrefils, Leo Labine and Don McKenney provided the Beantowners with their 3-2 win over the Wings at Boston Saturday.

Labine fired a pair of goals—both with Detroit shorthanded—and Chevrefils got the other. McKenney and Chevrefils assisted on Labine's markers and McKenney and defenseman Farn Flaman set up Chevrefils' goal.

Ted Lindsay and Earl Reibel scored for Detroit while the Bruins had a man in the penalty box.

U-M, Kansas Major Winners

5 Records at MSU Relays

EAST LANSING (AP)—Five meet and field house records broken and one tied was the score for the finals of the 33rd annual running of the Michigan State Relays over the weekend.

"Some very fine times for so early in the season," commented veteran MSU track coach Karl Schlademan with satisfaction.

The University of Michigan and the University of Kansas were the major winners in the 19-event meet, each taking home four first-place trophies. Notre Dame had three firsts.

Although no team championship was involved, an unofficial count using the point system showed Notre Dame in first with 41 points to 40 for Kansas and 30 for Michigan. Kansas State and Michigan State were tied for 4th with 24 points under the same system of five for 1st, four for 2nd, etc.

One of the thrills of the night was provided by the very first toss by NCAA shotput champion Bill Nieder of Kansas. Nieder threw the 16-pound ball 57 feet 6¾ inches before it bounced over the low backstop.

This bettered the meet and field house mark of 56 feet 6½ inches by Michigan's Charley Fonville in 1948 and also topped Fenville's recognized American record from an indoor dirt circle of 56 feet 10⅝ inches.

Just last week, however, Nieder got off a throw of 58 feet 5⅝ inches under the same conditions.

Michigan was the power in the relays races, setting new meet and field house records in two events.

In the spring medley relay, the foursome of Grant Scruggs, Dick Flodin, Bob Rudesill and Ron Wallingford won in 3:26.5, busting the old meet and field house time of 3:28.7 by Kansas in 1954.

In university-mile relay, Robin Varian teamed with Flodin, Rudesill and Scruggs for a 3:17.4 winning time, bettering the former field house record of 3:19.2 by Indiana last year and the old meet mark of 3:19.7 by Oklahoma in 1952.

In the high jump, Bernie Allard of Notre Dame went up to 6 feet 6¾ inches, bettering the old meet and field house high of 6 feet 6¼ inches.

Barrell-chested Jim Golliday of Northwestern was slow getting off the blocks in the 75-yard dash finals, but won in :07.5—this a tenth of a second more than his afternoon qualifying time of :07.4 that tied the American, meet and field house records.

About the same thing happened to "Jumping Joe" Savoldi Jr., of MSU, in the 75-yard high hurdles. Savoldi won the finals in :09.2, a tenth of a second off his qualifying time of :09.1 that tied a meet record.

Illinois Keeps Rolling

Powerful Illinois, undefeated in the first half of its Big Ten basketball schedule, goes into the final phase of the race periled by a hazardous schedule.

Riding the crest of a 13-game winning streak that has washed aside such teams as Indiana, Michigan State, Purdue and Ohio State, Illinois faces four conference foes away from home after battling Michigan at Champaign tonight.

Despite its 7-0 record in the Big Ten, Illinois is but a step ahead of Iowa's defending champions who take on Purdue tonight with a 6-1 mark.

Wisconsin is at Indiana, Michigan State goes to Minnesota and Ohio State moves in on Northwestern rounding out a full schedule tonight.

Purdue (6-3) poses a major problem for Iowa and if the Boilermakers can upset the Hawks, there'll be less pressure on the Illini when they take to the road.

Illinois goes to Michigan State Saturday in a nationally televised game and then has road contests against Ohio State, Iowa and Northwestern with home games sandwiched in against Purdue and Minnesota.

Illinois has already whipped Michigan State and Ohio State at home but meeting these teams on their own courts is a different matter. The Illinois-Iowa match at Iowa City March 3 probably will determine the conference champion.

Illinois reached its peak Saturday by trouncing Ohio State 111-64 while holding fabulous Robin Freeman to 12 points, the lowest in his collegiate career.

Pontiac Boxer Loses in Final

Cut Over Lamphere's Eye Ends Title Try in GR Gloves Test

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Grand Rapids' boxing team, backed by two of the sturdiest young fighters in Michigan, marched off with the 25th annual Golden Gloves team title over the weekend in what proved to be a lopsided contest.

Racking up 48 points to 2nd place Lansing's 32, the 10 Grand Rapids boxers who reached the finals in the eight weight classes of the open and novice divisions finished winning eight titles.

Other teams in order of their finish were: Kalamazoo, 30 points; Flint, 22; Port Huron, 16; Bay City, 8; Jackson, 4, and Petoskey, 0.

The two Grand Rapids fighters who clearly stood out over the 32 finalists were 160 - pound open champion Dude Green and Bill Vereecken, who wrapped up the 126-pound open title with ease.

Green, displaying a lethal combination of cat-like quickness and thundering power, opened up a cut over the eye of Pontiac's Larry Lamphere, ending the bout after round one. Lamphere boxed for the Port Huron team.

World Mark Is Set but Still Racer Loses

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (INS)—The southland sweepstakes regatta for inboard boats at St. Petersburg yesterday was full of the unusual and spectacular.

A world record was set by a pilot who failed to win the race; a pilot escaped serious injury when his boat flipped over three times; and a Hydroplane raced a mile and a half without its driver.

Burt Davidson of Tampa, Fla., set a world record of 60.688 miles per hour in the 91 cubic inch Hydroplane event but lost the national championship oto J. D. Smith of Cincinnati because Davidson got caught in a traffic jam and was able to race in only one heat.

Bob Schroeder of Tonawanda, N. Y., was the pilot who escaped with only slight injury when his boat flipped over three times in the D and E racing runabout race.

In the 225 cubic inch hydroplane event, Chuck Hunter of Columbus, O., was thrown into the water after a false start and his hydroplane roared over Lake Maggiore before hitting the shore and bursting into flames. Hunter was rescued shortly after he was thrown overboard.

GM's Turbine Auto in 1st Speed Test

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — General Motors' experimental kerosene burning, turbine engine Firebird I will make its first speed test today over the measured mile on the beach here.

The racer, driven by Mauri Rose, three-times winner of the Indianapolis Speedway, went 95.23 m.p.h. in practice runs yesterday opening NASCAR's seventh annual Speed Week.

Engineer Gains First in Bowling Tournament

Stewart fired a 1,550 8-game series Saturday to take the lead from Bob Starner of Benton Harbor, Mich., and the score was not topped yesterday.

Battle Against Par

Kroll's 16-Under 264 Wins at Tucson

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Ted Kroll has won a lot of golf tournaments in his 18 years as a pro but he's never had a 72-hole score like the 264 that won the Tucson Open and $2,000 for him.

Playing almost casually, the New Yorker now playing out of Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., chopped 16 strokes off the El Rio course par-70 during four days of play.

Kroll broke up a duel with Don Finsterwald, Bedford Heights, Ohio, on the 17th green and went on to beat him by three strokes yesterday. Finsterwald, whose broad grin and exciting chip shots made him the gallery's pet, collected $1,400 for his second-place 267.

Gene Littler, Palm Springs, Calif., matched Kroll's 65 to sprint from a tie for 10th place he had held for two days and grab third spot.

Kroll and Finsterwald went out together in the last threesome with Finsterwald trailing by a stroke. He made that up on the first hole by sinking a 40-foot chip shot out of a ditch for a birdie. Kroll took par-4.

Kroll regained the lead with a birdie on the second Finsterwald drew even again by sinking a 9-foot putt for a birdie on the third. Kroll went ahead again with a birdie-2 on the fourth. Both went over par on the simple 200-yard, par-3, eighth. Both birdied the ninth, with Finsterwald sinking a 30-foot putt. Both birdied the 10th.

"I figured I was in," Kroll explained. "I lagged on the 18th, trying to play it safe." Kroll took a birdie-4. Finsterwald had to chip accurately through trees to make par.

Ice Fishermen Get Aid as Thaws Cause Floes

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Police and coast guardsmen had a busy weekend aiding ice fishermen who either became stranded on ice floes or lost their way.

Most spectacular of the rescues was at Muskegon Lake yesterday afternoon where a hastily assembled fleet of small craft was used to save 60 fishermen.

The ice, which had been 10 inches thick, began to melt as a slight thaw set in.

A short time later, 300 fishermen were herded to safety from Brest Bay, Lake Erie, six miles north of Monroe, when ice began to melt there.

State police, together with Monroe County sheriff's officers and civilian defense workers aided in the work of warning fishermen to hurry back to shore.

WU Alumnus Defines Fund

President of Alumni at Coast School Tells of Money Grants

SEATTLE (AP)—The ringmaster of the University of Washington's athlete recruiting program took to television and radio last night to tell how a downtown fund works for needy and needed athletes.

Roscoe C. (Torchy) Torrance, UW alumnus, printing company executive and one of the concessionaires at the university, made these points in his half-hour talk:

1. Former Football Coach John Cherberg and school officials like UW President Henry Schmitz, UW Vice President H. P. Everest and Athletic Director Harvey Cassill, who resigned last week, knew of the recruiting activities informally, but never sat down to talk with Torrance about them.

2. The so-called Downtown Slush Fund got $28,000 out of promotion of last fall's San Francisco-New York pro football exhibition game.

3. Downtown funds went to players faced with problems which could not be met with the $75 monthly grants in aid okayed by the Pacific Coast Conference.

4. The players weren't expected to repay the money as a loan, but could after graduation contribute to the fund for the aid of later athletes.

Of the alumni group, Torrance said:

"We do not select the players. I do not select the players. I do not tell the coach who to play or when to play or what athlete to go after. That's entirely in the department of the coaching staff and the athletic department."

Mikes, Ravens Play at Shrine

Royal Oak Shrine has been selected as the site for Tuesday night's Suburban Catholic League basketball playoff between St. Michael and Highland Park St. Benedict.

The announcement of Shrine's spacious gymnasium as the choice was made this morning after a conference among officials of the three schools. Shrine is located on 13-Mile road two blocks west of Woodward.

Tomorrow night's clash will determine the SCL champion and the league representative in the parochial high school tournament at U. of D. fieldhouse. The two schools ended their regular loop schedules in a tie for the top with 8-2 records.

Wayne Streak Continues

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Wayne University basketball squad held its second longest winning streak and its single game scoring record of 105 points today. The Tartans ran up the score holding Case Tech to 54 Saturday night.

It was Wayne's 13th straight triumph and 14th victory of the season. The Tartans haven't done this well since the 1927-28 season when they posted an 18-1 record.

Wayne and Western Michigan were the only teams to turn back out-of-state opponents over the weekend. The Broncos defeated Miami of Ohio, 84-71, to take over undisputed possession of 3rd place in the mid-America conference race.

Terry Browne Sweeps to 6th Midwest Title

DETROIT (AP) — Terry Browne of Detroit swept the quarter and half-mile races to win his sixth midwest open speed skating championship at Belle Isle yesterday.

Browne had three firsts, two seconds and two thirds in the seven-event program for 25 points. Runnerup Bobby Snyder of Detroit had 14.

Jeanne Robinson, also of Detroit, won the senior women's event, sweeping all five races on the program for 25 points. Jean Simon of Chicago was second with 15 and Elaine Brochue of Wyandotte was third with seven.

Chief Cagers Aim to Repeat 1955 Win Over Polar Bears

AP Wirephoto

FAY DOES IT—Fay Crocker, who is remembered by local golf fans as winner of the Wolverine Open here last year, grins happily after winning the Miami Beach championship yesterday. She finished ahead of Patty Berg by one stroke.

Chiefs' mentor, Art Van Ryzin, sent his charges through a stiff hour and a half workout Sunday in the West Huron gymnasium in preparation for the Tuesday engagement. This was an unusual session for Pontiac, but Van Ryzin believed it necessary because of the fact that only a couple days were left after the Flint Central game to prepare for the Parkers.

Chiefs aim to repeat last year's victory (56-50 in overtime). That game was a thriller, played on the PHS floor.

Tuesday's game is the 4th in the current series between the schools, with the Bears winning the 1st two.

Because of the closeness of other tilts, Van Ryzin was inclined today to think this one will not be anything but a hot, close argument.

"Highland Park has a veteran team," says Van Ryzin. "They are a good, well-balanced scoring outfit that this year has abandoned their former controlled ball type of play for the fast break.

Tuesday's game is set for 8 p.m. and fans going to Highland Park should go down Third to Glendale, turn left and the school is in the 1st block.

Pontiac's starters will be the same, probably, as those who opened the Central game; DeWalt and Treais at forwards; Ray at center; Peet and Diehm at guards.

NCAA Group Talks TV Plans

Big 10 Asks Flexibility in 1956 Program

12-Man Committee to Formulate Plan Similar to Last Year

CHICAGO (AP)—Football television plans for 1956 will be discussed this week by the National Collegiate Athletic Assn. television committee.

The NCAA TV group opens a three-day meeting today to prepare a specific plan which is expected to be on the same structure of last year's regional-national basis.

After the plan is formulated by the 12-man committee, it will be mailed to NCAA members around March 1. The members will then vote on the plan for which a two-thirds vote is necessary for adoption.

Walter Byers, executive director of the NCA, said the plan will not be announced until it is mailed to the membership.

Last year's program included eight national telecasts and five regional dates over a 13-week period. Departing from restricted national television, the plan was well received although some institutions were in favor of less controls.

The NCAA is expected to relax its boundaries involving regional television for the benefit of the state of Iowa. Iowa is in the No. 5 region of the NCAA while the rest of the Big Ten and Notre Dame are in region 4.

By forbidding states to hop regions, Iowa stations on some regional dates last year had to settle for games in regional 5 while Iowa games were being televised in region 4.

The Big Ten has asked the NCAA to allow Iowa access to both region 4 and 5 games with stations selecting their game preference.

The Big Ten asked for more flexibility in the 1956 NCAA program "to take care of high pressure situations that seemingly exist in the Big Ten area." This would include telecasts of sellout games.

Phils Sign IL Hurler

CLEARWATER, Fla. (AP) — The Philadelphia Phillies yesterday signed pitcher Jim Owens who last season led the International League in strikeouts with 161.

It's Hot Stove League Time and—

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

(Sixth of a Series)

Little Bobby Shantz of Kansas City is considered one of the major league's more courageous pitchers. He went the distance four times in 1955 while compiling a 5-10 won-lost record.

In the followng case, Shantz was on the mound and Manager Lou Boudreau had to do some quick thinking. Boudreau's strategy was sound. What would you have done?

The A's are playing Cleveland at Kansas City. Shantz (L) takes a 3-2 lead into the top of the eighth. Jim Hegan starts off the frame for the Indians with a home run, tying the score. The next two batters are retired. But Al Smith singles and Bobby Avila walks, putting runners on first and second. Al Rosen (R) is the next batter with Ralph Kiner (R) to follow.

Would you:

A. Replace Shantz with a right-hander?

LOU BOUDREAU

B. Leave Shantz in for at least one more batter?

Result: A-Tom Gorman, a right-hander, relieved Shantz and he retired Rosen on a pop foul. Kansas City won 4-3 on Hector Lopez's homer (July 5).

UM Loses to Indiana, 97-73

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP)—Beaten 97-73 by Indiana in a weekend Big Ten basketball game, Michigan's Wolverines were down in 7th place in the standings today with a 3-5 conference record and an 8-8 overall.

Indiana's Archie Dees outshot Michigan's Ron Kramer, 25 points to 24, in a game in which Indiana used subs the last 12 minutes at Bloomington Saturday night. Guard Tom Jorgenson, who got 12 points, was the only Wolverine besides Kramer to score in double figures.

No Distance Too Great (within reason)

Judges Split in Decision, but Sime Loses NY Race

NEW YORK (AP)—Indoor track in this country has taken a long stride backward.

For the past few years, a photo-timer has been used as the final word in all sprint races and some long-distance events. It has all but eliminated the possibility of error on the part of the judges.

But this year, it developed that the company which supplied the timer decided the cost was too much and told the meet promoters they would have to pay for its use. The promoters refused.

So there are bound to be conflicts like the one which developed in the 60-yard dash in the New York Athletic Club Games in Madison Square Garden last Saturday. George Sydnor of Villanova was declared the winner over Duke's Dave Sime in 6.2.

The judges were split on the placing, and most of the crowd thought Sime had come on in the final stride to win. Subsequent pictures appeared to bear them out. Furthermore, Sime, although he wouldn't say so publicly, must have thought he won, for he came trotting back from the finish line ahead of his rivals in the traditional manner of the victor.

By the same token, Sydnor, too, seemed to think Sime caught him because he followed the Duke sophomore back from the finish.

But while the judges are having their troubles, Ron Delany probably will finish the season as the most unpopular miler in years. The crowd gave him a full-fledged booing when his winning time of 4:14 was announced for the Baxter Mile.

Sheree to Dance and Sing in 20th's Big '56 Musical

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Her biggest chance to date comes to Sheree North, who will both dance and sing in "The Best Things in Life Are Free," the da Sylva, Brown and Henderson story put in musical form. Sheree plays a fictional character of a chorus girl with whom all three men are in love.

She'll have three co-stars. Gordon MacRae is penciled in as Buddy da Sylva, Ernest Borgnine as Lew Brown. The Ray Henderson character is yet to be chosen.

The producer, Henry Ephron, wants to get somebody on a par with MacRae and Borgnine for this opus which is to be one of 20th Century-Fox' biggest 1956 productions.

She telephoned Eddie O'Neal, the bandleader-composer, in Hollywood, and made a deal for the use of his old tune "Waltz Me Faster Max, They're Playing the Bunny Hug."

Apparently Laurence Olivier has had his eye on Marilyn to play the American chorus girl for a long time, because as long ago as three years he said if the play was ever filmed she'd be ideal for the role.

A few nights ago at Jimmy Van Heusen's house, Milton Berle invited me to come to Las Vegas February 21st. That's the date he's going to do a tribute to "Meet Me In Las Vegas" in an hour long NBC-TV color show at the Sands Hotel.

This will be the first Hollywood premiere to originate from the Nevada playgound.

Joe Pasternak will take a whole galaxy of his top stars to the Sands Hotel for this telecast, and the world premiere of the picture will follow. In addition to the stars of the show, Jimmy Durante will be a top guest.

Briton Teaches English in U. S.

Cambridge U. Alumna Takes Position to Learn American Ways

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS)—There is an English teacher in a Portland high school who not only is qualified to teach English but can also throw in an English accent.

She is pert Rosalind Henn, graduate of Cambridge University, who came to the United States to discover how American children can all get educated in one big pot — the public schools.

To pursue this aim, she landed a job at Portland State College where she is teaching advanced high school English to college freshmen.

She says it was in 1944 that Great Britain tackled its problem of public education by setting up a "filtering" system to be applied to all children when they reach 11.

Children in Britain at that age become eligible for a state examination. This exam determines whether the child is inclined for a technical education or a "grammar training." The latter paves the way for continued education in England's universities.

Miss Henn said there is one danger in the system. She said:

"This is the danger of creating an intellectual elite which will replace the social elite. The biggest problem is to create a democratic society out of children who formerly did not attend school together."

Dems Accept Challenge

Try to Prove That Nixon Called Truman a Traitor

WASHINGTON (INS) — Democrats began a search of 1952 and 1954 campaign records today in an effort to prove that Vice President Richard M. Nixon once called ex-President Harry S. Truman "a traitor."

The Democratic National Committee's research project was sparked by a challenge from Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall, who offered to donate $1,000 to charity if the charge—made by Truman—can be proven.

Hall made the offer in a filmed interview, "Dateline Washington," with Rep. F. Edward Hebert (D-La).

Hebert referred to the former President's statement that Nixon called Truman "a traitor" in political speeches. The congressman declared it indicated there would be "a gutter campaign" in 1956.

The GOP chairman replied: "I am so certain that Dick Nixon didn't say that, nor anything like it, that if you find where he said that Mr. Truman was a traitor, or Mr. (Adlai) Stevenson was a traitor, or if you find where he said the Democratic Party is the party of treason, I will make a donation of $1,000 to any charity you name.

"I'm a poor man, but I'll make that donation if you can find anywhere that Dick Nixon said anything like that.

TRUMAN CHARGE

On Feb. 3, while talking to newsmen in New York during a morning stroll, the former President said the thought of it made him "not only want to swear, but to punch somebody."

Truman added: "I have served my country for 30 years in military and civilian capacities and to be called a traitor by a vice president of the United States is hard to take. It is an awful thing to be called a traitor."

Later the same day, Truman said the remarks he objected to were made during the 1954 congressional campaign.

On the previous night, in an address at the annual dinner of the New York State Democratic Committee, Truman charged that the Republican Party went so far "as to call General Marshall and myself traitors." He added: "If we are traitors, the country is in a hell of a fix."

Nixon, when asked to comment on Truman's statements, remarked: "I never comment on what he says. It would not do any good anyway."

Court Grants Divorce to Ex-POW Airman

MINNEAPOLIS (INS) — A 23-year-old airman, who was held prisoner for two years by the Chinese Communist, has obtained a divorce on the grounds that his wife committed adultery while he was overseas.

Harry Benjamin Jr., one of 11 Air Force men released by the Reds last August, was granted a divorce from his wife, Charlene, 21, last Thursday in Hennepin County Court. The action was disclosed yesterday.

Benjamin charged that his wife had a baby 21 months after he went overseas. She is reported to be with her parents in Worthington, Minn., the couple's home town.

Mollet to Give Nation Algerian Tour Report

Mollet, whose inspection tour of Algeria twice was punctuated by riots, returned to Paris Saturday to be met with still another demonstration.

The Socialist leader was to discuss the tour with his cabinet today before making his broadcast to the French people.

Mollet is expected to offer a plan to resolve the Algerian crisis to the National Assembly Thursday.

It will be difficult for any plan to meet with widespread approval since Algerian nationalists demand independence from France and French settlers in the North African territroty want continued French sovereignty.

Motor City Bandit Robs 8 Places and Escapes

DETROIT (INS) — A Detroit bandit, either brazen or lazy, knocked off eight business places within two blocks, on both sides of W. Warren, early yesterday and got away with it.

In each case, he gained entrance simply by smashing the glass in the front door and unfastening the lock.

An off-duty policeman, Jack Chefan, 29, was having a cup of coffee in an all-night restaurant when he heard breaking glass. He rushed out to see a man speed away in a blue automobile.

The loot was estimated at perhaps $1,000 or more. Nearly half of that sum came from Jack Stevens Men's Store.

Uranium Tool Trade Booming

Instead of Hunting, Engineers Decided to Make Instruments

GRAND JUNCTION, Colo. (INS) —Four engineers who took a few days off from their jobs to go uranium hunting today are nearing the end of their first year in a new business with a quarter-million-dollar profit.

It all began last December when four Grand Junction men—Donald A. Miller, James R. Wilson, G. Herb Gill and Robert Van Houten — took a uranium-prospecting trip in the rugged Utah wilderness.

One night in camp they talked about Geiger counters and other tools employed by the Atomic age sourdough in the business of ferreting out hidden U-ore deposits.

They agreed unanimously that ideal equipment was unavailable because no company was manufacturing it. Miller thought of it first and asked:

"Why don't we make the stuff."

FIRM FORMED

The quartet handed in resignations, pooled their savings of $2,500 and formed the Atomic Engineering Corp.

They settled in Grand Junction at the heart of the Colorado plateau country where uranium prospectors are most numerous.

The new firm opened Jan. 10 in an abandoned slaughterhouse. The old building was refurbished and the men went to work.

The first month's business amounted to $789.80 but by July the firm took in $12,763 for a 30-day period to bring the first six months' total to more than $42,000.

Miller, the plant manager, attributes the company's success to the "better mousetrap" formula with the emphasis on lightweight equipment.

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—The Hollywood American Federation of Labor Film Council, which represents more than 24,000 movie workers, has announced it is organizing a nationwide boycott to prevent showing of the picture, "Daniel Boone," in this country.

George Flaherty, president of the council, said that although the film was produced by United States interests and portrays the story of a famous American frontiersman, it was made in Mexico under non-union conditions.

Albert C. Gannaway, president of Albert C. Gannaway Productions, Inc. producers of the film said the picture was made in Mexico because of poor weather conditions in Kentucky and South Carolina. He denied the film was made under non-union conditions.

Nehru Urges Working Class to Ignore Reds

AMRITSAR, India (AP) — Prime Minister Nehru asked India's working classes today to concentrate on constructive activities and not be misled by Communists.

Addressing the annual convention of his Congress party, which supports the Indian Trade Union Congress, Nehru said:

"It is a tragedy that the workers of India are being pulled in many directions by so-called saviors at a time when they should be building India and building themselves up."

* * *

Calling on Socialist party trade unions to fall in line with his own Congress party unions "since our objectives are common," Nehru lashed out at Communist unions and said:

"Remember the Communists do not have your interests at heart. Their only goal is to agitate and in this they use you as their pawns We cannot get along with the methods they adopt."

Nehru called for a truce in labor strikes and other agitation for at least the next 10 years.

Iwo Jima Memorial May Honor Rosenthal

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Marine Corps may honor photographer Joe Rosenthal with a plaque on the Iwo Jima Marine Memorial, Sen. Neuberger (D-Ore) said today.

It was Rosenthal's picture for the Associated Press of the World War II flag-raising on the Pacific isle which served as the basis for the memorial. Rosenthal is now on the staff of the San Francisco Chronicle.

Neuberger, acting on the request of the National Press Photographers Assn. suggested the plague in recognition of Rosenthal's photograph.

He said he had been advised by Brig. Gen. F. H. Wirsig, corps information director, that the memorial foundation is "sympathetic and favorable to the idea of honoring Mr. Rosenthal."

There are about 5.5 million U. S. people with some form of heart disease.

Old Crop Beans Move Forward

CHICAGO (AP) — Old crop soybean futures advanced on the Board of Trade today but the rest of the grain market either eased or barely held steady.

Dealings were fairly active in soybeans but not in other cereals. Soybeans advanced largely in sympathy with a sharp early upturn in soybean oil futures. It was felt this gain represented export business.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to ⅞ lower, March $2.16; corn unchanged to ¼ lower, March $1.30; oats unchanged to ½ lower, March 63½; rye ¾ to 1¼ lower, March $1.20½; soybeans unchanged to ⅝ higher, March $2.49, and lard 3 to 5 cents a hundred pounds higher, March $11.65.

Striker Kills Mom, Wounds Stepfather

ST. LOUIS (INS)—A 33-year-old strike-idled factory worker shot and killed his mother and wounded his stepfather yesterday in an argument over a loan of $100.

A first-degree murder charge has been issued against Roy P. Archer of Times Beach, St. Louis County. He is charged with slaying Mrs. Allena Mae Loomis, his mother, in a cabin where she lived at a tourist court in Times Beach.

"I didn't want to kill Mama. I just wanted to scare my stepfather."

Police said Archer and his wife Dorothy had an argument with Mr. and Mrs. Loomis over $100 which Mrs. Loomis had loaned them.

* * *

Archer was disarmed of his powerful Japanese-made rifle, a souvenir of World War II service, by Loomis after he fired three shots.

Listless Trade Marks Stocks

NEW YORK (AP)—Listless trading and narrowly mixed prices prevailed in early afternoon in the stock market today.

Fluctuations ranged from fractions to around a point either way, the drift, if anyting, seemed to be slightly toward the downside.

While most major divisions were irregular, rails, oils and metal mining stocks were pretty generally off.

At noon the Associated Press average of 60 stocks was unchanged at $174 with the industrials unchanged, the rails down 10 cents and the utilities up 10 cents.

Volume for the day was estimated at around 1,700,000 shares compared with 1,770,000 Friday which was the slimmest volume since last Nov. 2.

Egypt's Nasser Shuns Meeting With Iraqis

CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egyptian Premier Gamal Abdel Nasser reportedly has refused to attend a Jordan-proposed meeting of Arab government chiefs to discuss the Arab-Israeli dispute. A well-informed source said Nasser would not meet with the Iraqis.

Egypt and Iraq have been on the outs since the latter government took a leading part in formation of the Western-blocked Baghdad defense alliance. Egypt is pushing a neutralist Arab policy in the East-West cold war.

Earnings

NEW YORK (INS)—The Standard Oil Co. (Ohio) today reported its preliminary net income in 1955 was $23,008,000, equal to $5.53 per common share, compared with $18,527,085, or $4.41 per share, the previous year. Sales and operating revenue increased to $367,007,305 last year from $321,920,427 in 1954.

CINCINNATI (INS)—The Kroger Co. reported today net income in 1955 of $14,368,282, or $3.88 per common share compared with $14,912,912, or $4.04 per share, a year earlier. Sales in 1955 totaled $1,219,472,812, a small increase over the $1,108,694,168 the previous year. President Joseph Hal said sales in the first four weeks of this year are ahead of the corresponding period a year ago and the 1956 outlook appears "favorable."

COATSVILLE, Pa. (INS)—Earnings of Lukens Steel Co. for 10 weeks ending Dec. 31 were more than half the total as for the entire fiscal year ending Oct. 22, 1955. The company, changing its fiscal year to conform with the calendar year, reported today 10-week earnings of $941,532, or $2.96 per share. Sales in the period totaled $18,334,157. Earnings in the fiscal year, previously reported, were $1,731,238 or $5.44 a share.

SEE YOU LATER, MR. GATOR — Mamie, the canine friend of a so-far nameless pet alligator at the home of Thomas Koschital in Royal Oak, casts a wary eye on the reptile. Koschital, a cab driver, delivered the alligator for a man who intended it as a gift for a woman. She inspected it and said: "You Keep It."

Platform Too Appealing

Union Concedes Edge to GOP for '56

By NORMAN WALKER

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—AFL-CIO political strategists have decided that "the Republicans will have an edge" in the 1956 presidential race regardless of whether President Eisenhower decides to run again.

This view is contained in an analysis of the political situation submitted confidentially to the 29-member AFL-CIO Executive Council during its winter session here by AFL-CIO political codirectors James L. McDevitt and Jack Kroll.

A major reason for this appraisal is that Eisenhower's recommendation for increased spending for schools, housing, social security, health and roads have "to a large extent deprived the Democrats of some of their most appealing issues."

"Although it is impossible to evaluate the presidential election until there is an announcement of Eisenhower's intention," the report says, "the Republicans will have an edge in the race.

"This will result from a shift in the party character to provide more appeal for city voters and from their control of communications."

The view is expressed that Eisenhower's announcement of his political intentions is "being delayed" for two reasons:

"1. Further shorten the campaign time to give the greatest possible advantage to a blitz campaign into which large financial resources could be poured and in which the full advantage of the one-party press, radio and television could be mobilized.

"2. Solidify the hold of the Eisenhower-Dewey wing on the Republican party by delaying the organization of the anti-Eisenhower forces around any single candidate."

The report continues that "in view of the attacks which have been made on the (AFL-CIO) merger by reactionary groups," it will be necessary for organized labor to "conduct a campaign primarily on the educational level without fanfare of publicity."

"Change in character of the Republican party," the report said, "is evidenced by the fact that at present 34 out of 48 Republican state organizations now have leaders selected after the election of President Eisenhower."

So far as Congress is concerned, the report said organized labor can now count on 177 House votes and 38 Senate votes. To attain a "liberal majority" in Congress, it says labor must get a net gain of 41 House seats and a dozen Senate seats.

"We feel," the report says, "that to accomplish the changes of the proportion outlined above would be a tremendous upset but we are impressed with the results of elections which have taken place since the presidential election of 1952."

2 Detroit Boys Seized for Stealing Huge Bar

Meaning, Beauty of Lent Told by Rev. E. G. Berger

"The Lenten season can be the most beautiful and meaningful time of the year. It all depends on you," stated the Rev. Ewald G. Berger at the Sunday evening service in Central Methodist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Berger, minister of Redeemer Lutheran Church, Toledo, Ohio, was a former pastor of Lutheran Church of the Ascension, Pontiac. During his pastorate, the present church on Williams St. was built.

He spoke at the fifth in the series of Inter-Church Fellowship meetings.

Speaking on "Unopened Tomorrows" he took for his text Acts 3:15: And killed the Prince of life whom God hath raised from the dead, whereof we are witnesses.

He said that we are the "Unopened Tomorrows." To be and keep spiritually alive we must accept responsibilities. We may become pioneers in the tomorrow by being willing to do what we can, sing in the choir, work in the Sunday School, call on the sick, the inactive members and offer other talents to our pastor.

The Bible Exposition was again given by the Rev. Walter Young of Cranbrook School for boys. Preceding the 7:30 service, a fellowship hour was enjoyed with refreshments served by women of Central Church.

Dr. Milton H. Bank, pastor of Central Methodist, was assisted in the service by the Rev. Edward D. Auchard, associate pastor of the First Presbyterian, the Rev. J. W. Mulder of Central Methodist, the Rev. Waldo Hunt of St. Andrews Episcopal, Drayton Plains, Dr. William H. Marbach, pastor of the First Presbyterian and the Rev. George Garver of the Lutheran Church of the Ascension.

The Central Methodist Choir sang the anthem, "First Psalm," by LaForge and the offertory anthem, "O Magnify the Lord," arranged by Lynn.

11 o'Clock Danger

Two out of every five dock workers in New Zealand were hurt on the wharves during the last year, Wellington reports. The hour before noon was the worst for accidents.

The choirs of the First Methodist and Bethany Baptist Churches will join Inter-Church Fellowship choirs next Sunday evening at 7:30 in a sacred concert at the First Presbyterian Church.

Michigan Roads Take 13 Lives

Blaze and Fall Claim Two Victims in State Over Weekend

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Michigan's weekend traffic deaths shot up to 13 on icy and snow-slicked highways.

Two accidents took three lives apiece. And one of these and another that killed two persons were blamed directly to a weekend snowstorm.

In still another mishap, a 17-year-old girl lost control on an icy patch of pavement and spun into a tree, killing her father.

Besides those who died in traffic, Richard Kunkle, 24, of Charlotte succumbed Saturday in a fire in his apartment, and 8-year-old Robert Hardy of Hartford died Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday when he fell from the rafters of a garage while playing cowboys and Indians.

Traffic victims included:

Mrs. Jerine Hool, 24, of Columbiaville, and her 3-year-old daughter, Debra.

Thomas Bacher, 73, of Flint.

Harold J. Smith, 53, of Charlotte.

Levi Williams, 32, of Coldwater, and his son, Dale, 12.

Fred Ehinger, 26, of Fort Wayne, Ind.

Jerome Schuts, 27, of Galesburg.

Raymond Adkins, 20, and Ernest Lukacs, 29, both of Augusta.

Mrs. Alberta Kemp, 34, of Detroit.

Mrs. Irene Wheeler, 34, of Detroit.

Gerald Hollaway, 33, of Albion.

A Michigan truck driver was killed in an accident in Indiana Sunday. The victim was James D. Fleming, 38, of Wayne. His truck loaded with new cars overturned and rolled down an embankment near Vernon.

Train Crashes; No One Injured

Streamliner Smashes Into Barrier on Tracks Near Memphis

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — The streamliner City of New Orleans, traveling nearly 80 miles an hour, smashed into a crude barrier across the tracks about three miles north of the city limits yesterday.

There was no damage to the Illinois Central train, en route from Chicago to New Orleans. The barrier was a telephone pole crossarm and a log six inches thick.

Engineer M. E. Cline told newsmen he was about 20 minutes behind schedule and going between 75 and 79 m.p.h. he said there was no possibility the objects could have fallen on the track by accident. The barrier was in an isolated area.

Sheriff's deputies, who were investigating along with the FBI and railroad detectives, said the train sliced off a portion of the heavy log and tossed it aside. The crossarm was "chewed into splinters and scattered for 200 or 300 feet."

Resort City Police Nab Mickey Cohen

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Mickey Cohen, Los Angeles gambler who served a federal prison term for income tax evasion, was booked here early today on suspicion of failing to register with police as an ex-convict.

Cohen was taken into custody as he left the cocktail lounge of a swank hotel. Chief August Kettman said Cohen came to this desert resort Saturday, registering at a hotel under an assumed name.

Yesterday he changed his registration to his own name, the chief added, and officers began searching for him.

Cohen had been in jail only a little while when his wife posted bail—$1,000 in cash—and he was released. He is scheduled to appear in court here Wednesday morning.

Crime Does Pay Here

Some Germans and Danes recruited by South African Railways, and dissatisfied with conditions, are turning to crime to break their contracts and be sent home, Durban reports. Several have admitted this in court.

Business Notes

He formerly was associated with the GMC Truck & Coach Division and has been an instructor in GM's Dale Carnegie Course. He is a graduate of Pontiac High School, the Business Institute and the Walsh Institute of Accountancy.

But Fans Ignore Time Element

Most Top Programs Are Viewed at Other Evening Periods

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—The high commands of the television networks long have had a fixed idea that what happens on their respective channels at 8 o'clock of a New York evening determines their strength.

* * *

This is an old notion that began in radio and has carried over to television. As Variety, the show business journal, points out, it's currently providing all the internetwork excitement these days. You know the hot spots: Ed Sullivan on CBS Sunday evenings vs. whatever NBC throws against him; Perry Como on NBC Saturday evenings vs. Jackie Gleason on CBS. And so it goes.

OUTDATED THINKING

Well, I have a couple of questions. To me the whole issue is an interesting example of categorical—or rigor mortis—thinking. Maybe I should be selling apples.

At any rate, my first question is: 8 o'clock where? The networks' answer is 8 o'clock in the East and 8 o'clock on the West Coast—via Kinescope. This, at least, is the method employed on several live shows originating in New York.

But what about the rest of the country? As an example, the Sullivan show, seen at 8 p.m. in the Eastern time zone, is viewed at 7 p.m. central time and 6 p.m. mountain time—and 8 p.m. on the Pacific Coast.

But why is it important that viewers on both coasts see it at 8 p.m. and unimportant whether midland and mountain audiences see it at 7 p.m. and 6 p.m.? Well, the New York experts patiently explain, there are more TV sets in the East and Far West.

STILL NO ANSWER

That still doesn't answer the question of WHY 8 p.m. is such a sacrosanct hour in the lives of a majority of the American public.

The answer, I submit, is that 8 o'clock is of little significance beyond shouting distance of network offices in New York and Hollywood. Perhaps the best way to demonstrate that is to list here the most widely viewed TV programs, as determined by the most recently available figures from the A. C. Nielson Co. Here they are in order of popularity, with the hours they're shown in the Eastern time zone:

* * *

The $64,000 Question, 10 p.m.; the Ed Sullivan Show, 8 p.m.; I Love Lucy, 9 p.m.; Jack Benny, 7:30 p.m.; Disneyland, 7:30 p.m.; December Bride, 9:30 p.m.; Dragnet, 8:30 p.m.; You Bet Your Life, 8 p.m.; The Millionaire, 9 p.m.

ONLY 2 SHOWS

In short, two of these top shows appear in what most network and agency executives consider that 8 o'clock hot spot. The most popular appears at 10 p.m.

* * *

This hassling over the 8 o'clock spot is, I submit, an intramural pastime of colossal indifference to the great American public. It's something for the boys to whoop up. Meanwhile, the public seeks and finds the entertainment it wants within reasonable viewing hours.

Do We Properly Select the Presidential Choice?

By EARL WILSON

OIL AROUND THE TOWN . . .

NEW YORK—After he won $32,000 on "The $64,000 Question," music-lover Mike Della Rocca was asked by Pat Caruso if he'd spend the next week studying for the big question. "No," said Mike, "because if I didn't learn it in 50 years I won't learn it in 6 days.

If Jayne Mansfield goes to Hollywood to film "The Wayward Bus," 20th Century-Fox may send us Mamie Van Doren to take Jayne's place in "Will Success Spoil Rock Hunter?" From Yokohama, Ted Chinell tells me about a fellow who went into business on a shoestring and in two years triple his income. Trouble is, what's he gonna do with three shoestrings?

Jackie Gleason—rumored to have been paid well for his life story in a current magazine—actually didn't ask or get a nickel . . . James C. Healy, probable Congressman-elect in the special election, is being groomed for Mayor and—who knows?—might be the first Bronx boy in the White House? . . . Dorothy Lamour, an ex-Miss New Orleans, is going back to the old home town to glamorize the Mardi Gras.

Do we select Presidents properly? Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts says that 60 years ago, Speaker of the House Thomas B. He further predicted that there would be an amazing result on the first such vote: Ninety-six Senators would each receive one vote.

Mrs. Van Johnson has the right to reject the proposed leading lady for Van's next, "Kelly and Me" . . . Nat "King" Cole will do a coast-to-coast tour with Ted Heath's British Band . . . MGM producer George Sidney may move to a major spot at Columbia Pictures.

Coleman Jacoby and Arnie Rosen will write the Ogden Nash-Vernon Duke musical, "The Bachelor" . . . Ed Judson, Rita Hayworth's first husband, quit his Miami restaurant job, claimed the hours were too confining . . . Publisher Bennett Cerf may play a detective in Doris Day's film, "Julie."

Tiny Bee Maintains Most Vanilla Crops

BRUSSELS—For more than 300 years after its discovery by Cortez, vanilla was produced only in its native Mexico.

Plantings were tried in many countries, but although the vine flowered, it never bore the fruit from which the flavoring is extracted.

The mystery confounded the minds of Europe until a Belgian, Charles Morren, discovered the secret in 1836. He found that a tiny bee that lived in Mexico's vanilla-growing districts was uniquely equipped to fertilize the plant.

He tried aritficial pollination and finally became the first in Europe to produce vanilla beans outside Mexico.

Hal Boyle Says:

'Nonskid Spaghetti' Is Selling Like Hot Cakes

NEW YORK (AP) — Typewriter tattle:

Would you like to know what it is that meadowlarks and robins sing about so early in the morning?

* * *

Well, there is a way to find out — if you go for the superstitions. There was a belief in medieval ties that anyone who ate the tongue of a white crow would understand the language of all birds.

There are two problems involved:

(1) The crow population of America has been estimated to be as high as three billions (that seems awfully high), but the Audubon Society is reported to have observed fewer than 100 albino crows in the last half century.

(2) There are even fewer cook books which contain recipes on how to dish up crow tongues palatably.

However, Joe Pellegrino, a Boston macaroni magnate, is now trying to popularize something he calls "nonskid spaghetti."

LOOKS LIKE WIFE

It tastes exactly like ordinary spaghetti, but the strands have been given a permanent wave and a plate of them looks pretty much as you wife does when she shows up at breakfast with her hair in curlers. The advantage: The speghetti can easily be entwined around a fork.

Pellegrino got the idea from Italian fishermen, who enjoy a curled form of spaghetti. He first merchandised his product under the name of "Fusilli."

What's in a name? As soon as he changed the name to "nonskid spaghetti," sales jumped 100 per cent.

The present residential building boom, big as it is, isn't a record-breaker in terms of the population involved.

The Northwestern National Life Insurance Co. points out that the 1,300,000 nonfarm dwelling units built in 1955 came to an average of 36 for each 1,000 families.

But back in 1925 the rate was 47 new units for each 1,000 families.

There were 20 million nonfarm families in America in 1925. In 1955 there were about 36½ million.

How you gonna keep 'em down on the farm? The evidence seems to be that in America at least you can't — even though the towns, cities and suburbs become more and more crowded.

PATTON HAD OPINIONS

The late Gen. George S. Patton, prophet and hero of American armored might, often got himself in hot water with his blunt opinions.

After the second World War he was among the first to declare there was no essential difference between fascism, nazism and communism. He thought them all bad. He said so.

While Patton will hardly go down in history as a military diplomat, he will be long renowned for the battle field boldness that won him brilliant success.

He was a great showman, a great actor, but above all a great soldier.

To Wendell Phillippi, an Indianapolis News editor and National Guard leader, I am indebted for the following summary of Patton's chief precepts as given by his admirer and comrade, Gen. Jacob Devers:

"1. In yourself demand the impossible.

"2. Always risk. Nothing worthwhile can be achieved without risking something.

PRACTICES IDEAS

Patton practiced what he preached. He was human and himself knew fear, but he also knew the terrible corrosion of purpose that fear can bring. Bravery came as hard to him as it did to any other man. By demanding the impossible of his troops — as he did of himself — he gained whatever immortal glory there can come from combat.

But no one knew the terrible price of it all more than he.

My favorite mailman, who is delayed neither by storm, nor heat, nor gloom of night in the swift completion of his appointed rounds, has brought me a statistic which I feel impelled to share at once.

Naturally, you have been wondering how many potato chips are rolling off the assembly line in America. I am informed that if all the potato chips manufactured in 1954 were put in 10-cent bags and the bags were placed end to end they would encircle the globe 27½ times.

Somehow, some year, couldn't we all chip in a dime apiece and see that this is really done?

Sulfa Drug Curbs Salt in Human Body

BOSTON (INS)—A former "wonder drug" has been found to be an effective means of controlling the balance of salt in the human system—a boon to heart patients.

Dr. William B. Schwartz of the Pratt Diagnostic Clinic, in research aided by the Massachusetts Heart Association, has been termined that a fraction of sulfanilimide can be harnessed to control the salt balance.

He discovered that sulfanilimide could be used, but that it had unpleaasant and sometimes dangerous side effects. Research, however, uncovered the effective fraction, which eliminated the rashes and fevers that sometimes accompanied use of sulfanilimide.

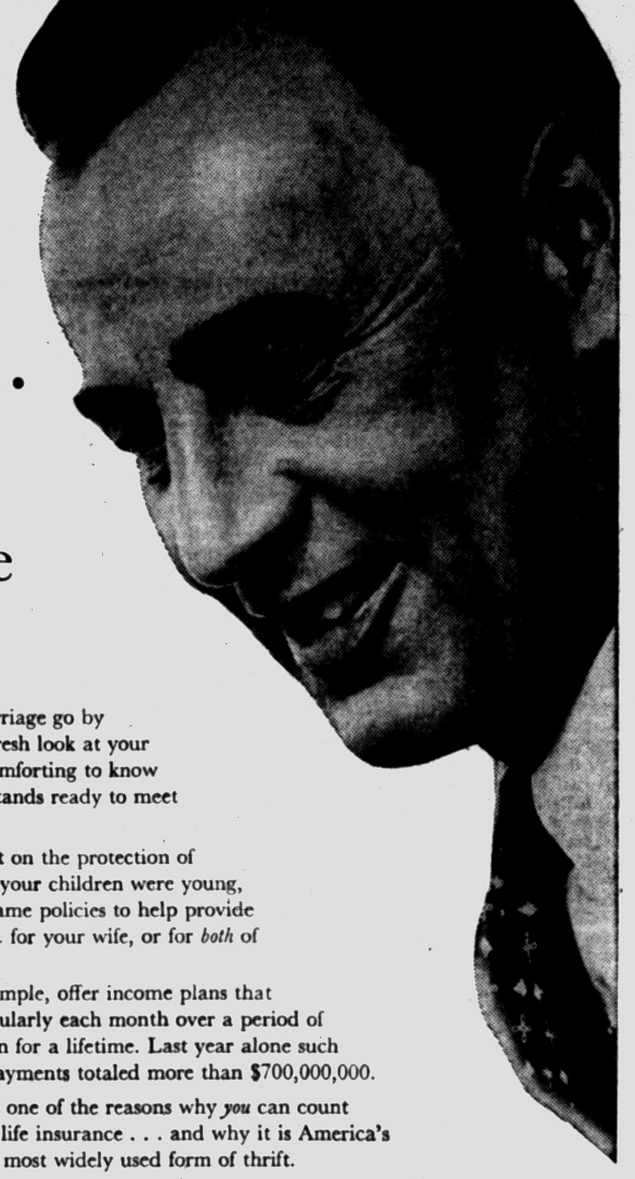
you can count on life insurance



As the years of your marriage go by ... and you pause for a fresh look at your responsibilities . . . it's comforting to know that your life insurance stands ready to meet your changing needs.

Just as you could count on the protection of your life insurance when your children were young, you can count on these same policies to help provide security in later years . . . for your wife, or for both of you when you retire.

Many policies, for example, offer income plans that bring a check regularly each month over a period of years . . . even for a lifetime. Last year alone such income payments totaled more than $700,000,000.

Most policies give you a choice of several income plans. Your life insurance agent will be glad to explain how these various plans work, and help you arrange your life insurance policies to fit your needs.

You'll also find helpful suggestions in the new booklet, Your Life Insurance —and How to Use It. Your free copy will be mailed promptly; simply send your name and address on a postcard to Dept. F.

Yours free!
