Architect's Sketch Of New Pontiac Motor Service Parts Warehouse

Big GM Warehouse to Be Built in City

Pontiac Motor Division officials today unveiled plans for a new parts and service warehouse on Joslyn.

The new warehouse, which will cover more than 1 million square feet, is scheduled for completion by the fall of 1965, said E. M. Estes, General Motors vice president and general manager of the division.

Construction is expected to get under way within two months.

The sprawling warehouse will be built between Columbia and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad. Cost of the new facility was not disclosed.

City officials learned of the plans yesterday and have already begun to prepare for action on various zoning changes, vacating of public right-of-way and similar items so that construction schedules won't be delayed by excessive red tape.

"This new warehouse," Estes commented, "will enable us to consolidate the storage of service parts under one roof."

Currently the division stores parts in five separate locations.

Designed by Argonaut Realty Division of General Motors, the warehouse will contain 1,070,000 square feet of space — nearly triple that now available in Plant 11, the present parts warehouse.

Expect Series of Moves to Give Kennedy N. Y. Bid

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP)—Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy appeared today to be well on his way toward nomination as the Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator from New York State.

A well-informed source in the state Democratic organization said a series of moves over the next several days were expected to provide the momentum that would assure Kennedy's nomination.

The moves were expected to include Kennedy's announcement of his candidacy and further declarations of support from county chairmen.

While top party leaders in the state continued to maintain an official air of neutrality, there was evidence they were concentrating on the Kennedy candidacy almost to the exclusion of other prospects.

Democratic spokesmen were well-briefed with detailed legal references on the issue of Kennedy's position as a nonresident of the state.

He now has a home in Virginia and was named to the Massachusetts delegation to the Democratic National Convention beginning Aug. 24 — the week before New York Democrats choose a senatorial candidate.

Warmer temperatures will prevail over the weekend.

Fifty-four was today's low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. At 2 p.m. the thermometer registered 58.

LBJ, Pentagon Fire Back at Barry's Claim

Deny Charges That Nuclear Arsenal Will Be Cut 90 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson and the Pentagon have fired back at Sen. Barry Goldwater's charge that the administration is depleting the "arsenal for the defense of freedom."

The Defense Department described as "totally false" Goldwater's statement that the U.S. capacity to deliver nuclear weapons may be reduced by 90 per cent in the next decade.

And President Johnson, addressing the same audience that heard Goldwater's charge — the members of the National Association of Counties — said:

"Our resources are committed, our sacrifices are made, our vigil is maintained so that there shall be no win for aggression in our times."

In his speech Monday, Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, said the United States faces the prospect of going into the 1970s without a single manned bomber.

His charge: "Under our present defense leadership, with its utter disregard for new weapons, our deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut down by 90 per cent in the next decade," Goldwater asserted, unless present plans are changed.

Not so, the Pentagon said last night through Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester.

Sylvester's statement said Goldwater's charge was "not only without foundation but contrary to the facts."

"The facts are," the statement said, "that in 1970 we will have a capability to deliver on target 2 1/2 times as many warheads as we had in 1961 and a greater number than we have today."

Heart Attack Is Fatal for Ian Fleming

IAN FLEMING

CANTERBURY, England (AP)—Ian Lancaster Fleming, creator of the fictional secret agent James Bond, died today from a heart attack. He was 56.

A newspaperman who turned writer, Fleming was one of the world's biggest money-making writers.

In addition to his numerous books, he also collected large sums from two movies, "Dr. No," and "From Russia With Love." A third film, "Goldfinger," has just been completed.

Fleming died at the Kent and Canterbury Hospital.

Bond fans included many famous persons, the late President Kennedy among them.

Allen Dulles, former director of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, also listed himself as an avid follower of Fleming's fictional agent.

Like his hero, Fleming was a lean, upper-class Englishman with considerable charm and a flare for food, cars and travel.

In 1952, he married Anne Geraldine, the former Lady Rothermere.

Peter Janson-Smith, his agent, estimated Fleming made more than $2.8 million from his books and films about James Bond since 1953.

More Tips Come In Boat Death Reward $2,700

Rewards for information leading to the conviction of those responsible for the boat hit-run death of Alan L. Akeryer now total $2,700.

The amount has prompted scores of additional tips to police who are still seeking the occupants of the boat which rammed into the 20-year-old swimmer on Aug. 3 at Cass Lake.

The Pontiac Press is offering $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of any or all guilty parties. Law enforcement officers as well as private citizens are eligible.

Additional reward offers should be made to Sheriff Frank Irwin and a certified check for the amount sent to him.

Jersey Cities Quiet After Violent Night

ELIZABETH, N. J. (AP)—Violence struck northern New Jersey last night with outbreaks by Negroes in Paterson and both Negro and white youths in Elizabeth.

Rock and bottle throwing occurred in both cities and gasoline bombs started fires in Elizabeth, where a store was looted.

The mayor of Paterson expressed fears, however, that racial violence might resume tonight.

In Elizabeth, police expressed belief the outbreaks were not racially inspired, but rather a chain of hooligan outbreaks.

The violence struck first in Paterson and, as order was restored there, flared up in Elizabeth, 20 miles to the south.

In a city where racial disorder erupted recently in Harlem and Brooklyn, Johnson pledged that:

"We will not permit any part of America to become a jungle, where the weak are the prey of the strong and the many."

While speaking of maintaining law and order among American citizens, Johnson also stressed in his prepared address that "we work for peaceful process among nations," (and for the defense of freedom "because that is what we should.")

But he beckoned to America's allies to lend a strengthened hand, and he upheld the administration's over-all policy in Vietnam — a policy that has drawn the fire of Sen. Barry Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee.

Johnston took advantage of the forum the lawyers offered to restate principles and policies guiding the administration with respect to both Viet Nam and Cyprus.

Denying that racial antagonisms underlay the Elizabeth disorders, Police Chief Michael Roy said he did not expect a repeat performance of last night's fires and bottle-throwing in the racially mixed Elizabethport section of the city.

"These were isolated incidents not directly related," he said. "There were both whites and Negroes looking on who passed each other in the street."

GOP Summit Hears Appeal for Party Unity

Promises to Model Foreign Policy After Eisenhower Pattern

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP)—Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater disavowed extremists of the left and right today, and promised, if he wins the presidency, to consult in advance with former President Eisenhower on appointments to key cabinet posts.

"I seek the support of no extremists — of the left or the right," Goldwater told a closed-door summit conference of Republican leaders whom he had summoned here in a bid for party unity.

His statement was distributed in advance.

In it, he said that if elected president, he will consult Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon "and other experienced leaders seasoned in world affairs" before naming secretaries of defense or state, or any other key national security posts.

NO TAKE-OVER.

"I seek the support of no extremists — of the left or the right," said Goldwater, adding that he was confident that there would be no "so-called extremist take-over of the party."

Goldwater said his foreign policy would be patterned after Eisenhower's, and continued:

"If all this amounts to an impulsive and trigger-happy approach to foreign policy, then I fear the English language has lost its meaning."

Goldwater said the No. 1 campaign problem the Republicans face is "the totally wrong view our opponents will try to din into the mind of every American voter — namely that the election of a Republican president in November will somehow lead to war."

Small Gang Aids in Train Robber Flight

LONDON (AP)—A small gang broke into a British prison today and sprung a former bookmaker convicted of taking part in Britain's great train robbery. Police believe the bookie knows where $6 million of the train loot is hidden.

A global police network swung into action in search of James Frederick Wilson, 32, husband and father of three daughters, who escaped from Winslow Green Prison in Birmingham.

Wilson was sentenced to 30 years in prison for taking part with 11 others in the Aug. 8, 1963 robbery of the Glasgow-London mail train.

They stole a staggering 2.5 million pounds ($7,025,000) in cash. Only 300,000 pounds ($940,000) have been recovered.

The tall, imposing Wilson was the silent man of the 56-day robbery trial, never speaking except to deny his guilt. Fingerprints convicted him.

He was sent to Birmingham, placed in a solitary cell, given prison work and paid three shillings (42 cents) a week for his efforts.

Still missing since the robbery are three men Scotland Yard has named as the masterminds: James White, 42, Ronald Edwards, 32, and Bruce Reynolds, 41. This trio is believed to be somewhere in Europe.

COUNT 'EM — Red-haired Bruce Glendinning, 12, and Peggy Ann Bramiff, 11, offer for scrutiny their faces, unswayed with the biggest crops of freckles to be seen in these parts. The two were named champion freckle growers last night at the annual Pontiac Press contest held in conjunction with the 4-H Fair. (For another picture and related stories, see Page A-4).

THERE HE IS, ALIVE—Adam Rios (left) of Los Angeles is completely baffled by the behavior of his uncle, Ramundo Reyes, seated next to his sister, Paula Reyes. The uncle disappeared three weeks ago, and the family buried another man in his place. Reyes showed up four days after his own funeral.

Man Comes Home 4 Days After His Own Funeral

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ramundo Reyes' funeral was a re-verent event, carefully arranged by members of his family.

They chipped in $150 to pay the mortuary and cemetery. His nephew contributed $22 for the burial suit. Reyes' Social Security was cut off, his other worldly affairs were terminated.

Final rites were conducted last Friday. Tuesday, Reyes, 74, was home again.

SEEN BY NEPHEW

"I put my hand to my forehead," Rios related, "and I said, 'Oh, my God!'"

Reyes' sister, Paula, 75, was more calm.

"Where have you been?" she asked Ramundo, with whom she resided.

He murmured something about Mexico, but he didn't remember much that had happened since he disappeared three weeks ago.

VISIT TO HOSPITAL

Miss Reyes said her brother accompanied her to General Hospital three weeks ago when she went for treatment. He waited outside.

When she returned to the waiting room, he was gone. So was $16 in her purse and $200 in her shopping bag.

Police were notified.

Last Wednesday, police called to say the coroner's office had the body of a man, matching Reyes' description, who had died the day before at a downtown relief mission.

"We went right down," said Rios. "We even took along some of the neighbors and friends, and they all agreed that it was my uncle."

WALKED BY CASKET

Fifty friends and relatives filed past the open casket after the rosary last Thursday night. None questioned the identity of the deceased.

"I would have sworn it was him," said a neighbor.

Uncle Ramundo couldn't explain what had happened.

"I walked a lot," he said. "Mostly at night. 'It's impossible for me to remember the exact streets.'"

He had $90 left.

"Money? What would I use the money for?" he asked relatives.

Reyes said he couldn't believe he'd been away for three weeks. It seemed like only a few days. "When things like this happen," he said, "the government ought to investigate."

PROVE LIFE

Tuesday Rios took his uncle to Social Security and state aid authorities to prove Reyes was alive, so his payments could start again.

"There he sits now," said Rios, "but who is the man we buried?"

"We call him John Doe," said a deputy coroner.

What does Uncle Ramundo think about his funeral?

"I don't want to think about it," he said.

Admits Causing Girl's Death

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI) —

Police said today a teen-age boy who found the mud-covered body of a slain 11-year-old schoolgirl in a storm sewer has admitted "causing the death of the girl."

The girl, Janette Joy Krzycki, had been missing since Friday. Her half-nude body was discovered in a silt-filled sewer about 10 blocks from her home last night.

Detective Capt. Edwin S. Shaffer said today two boys, aged 15 and 16, brought the girl's blue canvas beach bag to police and said they had seen her feet sticking out of a "cave."

Shaffer said the 15-year-old admitted after questioning that he met Janette at Kosciuszko Park, where she had gone to swim Friday morning, and took her to the storm sewer where he killed her. The other boy was not immediately implicated in the slaying.

After the boys brought the beach bag to 2nd District Police headquarters, authorities rushed to the storm sewer and found the girl's body about 75 feet in the sewer. Two inches of water and silt covered the floor of the darkened tunnel.

Rita Hayworth's Girl Is Engaged to Actor

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Rita Hayworth's daughter, 19-year-old Rebecca Welles, says she is engaged to marry Michael Flores, 21. Both are student actors at the Pasadena (Calif.) Playhouse.

"I don't know if mother knows it or not," said Rebecca yesterday. Her father is actor Orson Welles.

Steel Cable Snaps, Kills Man and Boy

JENISON, Mich. (AP) — A boy and a man were killed Tuesday when a steel cable broke and struck them as workmen were trying to remove a tree stump.

Witnesses said the snapped cable lashed at both victims—Terry Wierenga, 12, and Maynard Van Der Wall, 58, both of Jenison, a small town in Ottawa County.

Terry and Van Der Wall were dead on arrival at St Mary's Hospital in nearby Grand Rapids. The hospital said both died of "multiple injuries."

Floods, Landslides

Take 26 Korean Lives

SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Floods and landslides took at least 26 lives after new torrential rains last night. An American soldier was missing.

The victims included six South Korean soldiers who were swept away by a swollen river near Hongchon, 45 miles east of Seoul.

Rainstorms Don't Dampen 4-H Fair Opening Spirit

Youngsters of 4-H yesterday opened their annual fair and proceeded to welcome visitors as they had during a Monday parade through Pontiac.

The parade theme Monday was "Hands Extended."

Yesterday, 4-H hands were extended in a slightly different manner — out of doorways, through open windows and under tent flaps.

Many came back wet during the opening day downpour and many 4-Hers decided to stay near their displays or in some other protected place.

But when the rain let up in the afternoon, much time still was left for outdoor activities.

The evening program was moved from the show ring to higher and drier ground. It was the traditional fair opener.

At Avon Twp. Meeting

Water Problems Will Be Aired

AVON TOWNSHIP — The problem is, how will Avon Township keep up with the increasing number of critical water problems.

The answer, at least in part, is to be given at tonight's meeting of the township board.

Township Supervisor Cyril E. Miller has returned from a two-day trip to Washington

Top Leaders at Dem Fete

ORION TOWNSHIP — Former Gov. G. Mennen Williams, gubernatorial candidate Neil Staehle and other well-known guests are expected at the Orion Township Democratic Club's picnic Sunday.

To take place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Ferguson, 54 Elizabeth, Lake Orion, the event will begin at 2 p.m.

Guests have been urged to bring their own picnic lunch and table service. The public is invited.

Orion Zone Restriction Eased

ORION TOWNSHIP — An obstacle in the path of a proposed $250-million residential community here was removed last night by the Township Board's approval of a zoning ordinance amendment.

At a meeting attended by an audience of two, the board changed the township's minimum lot size from 11,200 square feet to 9,600 square feet.

A group of home owners turned thumbs down on the idea at an earlier hearing, but no protests were verbalized at the board's session last night.

Howard T. Keating, president of Keating of Michigan, Inc., asked for the reduction in the township's minimum lot size for his core subdivision.

The basic unit, to contain some 140 lots, is expected to have model homes on exhibit by fall.

ARGUES FOR REDUCTION

"Eighty-five per cent of the lots will be larger than the minimum anyway," Township Supervisor John Lessiter has said.

Lessiter argued for the reduction, pointing out one reason it was feasible was that there would be no individual wells or septic fields.

Water and sewage would be taken care of by a community system in Keatingon, title of the proposed subdivision.

The community will be located on the former Wildwood Farms, a 3,200-acre parcel one and one-half miles north of I-75 and west of M24.

$20,000 AREA

Homes are to be priced in the $20,000 area, according to Donald Condon, vice president and general manager of the Keating organization.

In other business last night, the Township Board voted on a across-the-board increase of $1,200 for the township supervisor, clerk and treasurer. This will bring the salaries up to $7,200; $4,200 and $6,200 respectively.

The earnings of township trustees were also increased last night, from $15 per meeting to $20.

Salary changes must be made before the date which precedes an election by 60 days, Lessiter explained today.

Three Market Livestock Classes Are Cut From State 4-H Show

EAST LANSING — The familiar grand champion steer, lamb and barrow will be missing from the 49th annual State 4-H Show this year, says a Michigan State University animal husbandman. Dates of the show are Aug. 31-Sept. 3.

Dr. Ralph Morrow says no market livestock classes in beef, sheep, or swine will be shown in the show.

This means that there will be no auction sale. Increased emphasis, however, will be given to the breeding classes in beef, sheep and swine.

Morrow says one of the reasons for this action is the increased number of county fair market livestock show and sales. He points out that county programs are stronger in late August than has been the show and sale at the State 4-H Show.

"Thus the quantity and a quality of market classes has been given a $100,000 boost."

Yesterday the State Municipal Finance Commission approved borrowing of funds in anticipation of taxes.

The money will be used for operational purposes.

More Rooms Needed by Holly Schools

HOLLY — Despite the opening of Holly Area School District's third elementary school last January, administrators report two more classrooms will be needed this fall.

Moreover, Supt. George Garver has told board of education members the district will be short four to nine elementary classrooms in 1965 and seven to 12 in 1966.

The estimates were based on the ratio of 30 pupils to a teacher.

Study of the situation was made at the request of the school board, now preparing for a bond issue vote — probably next spring. The issue, Garver said, would not include provision for secondary schools.

Garver noted the district now is renovating its junior high school and completing an addition to its high school. This work should answer secondary school needs for the next three years, he said.

Patterson Elementary School, which went into operation in January, contains 14 classrooms.

Last Session for Manager

ROCHESTER — Village Manager Paul York has made his last official appearance at a council session, a meeting which dealt with the problem of curbing speeders and protecting residents.

Acting on suggestion of Police Chief Robert Werth, the council adopted an ordinance prohibiting racing and "sudden acceleration" in the village.

Council also, after discussion, authorized Village Attorney Arthur Cox to draw up a draft of an ordinance prohibiting distribution or sale of obscene literature in the village.

In other business, Cox was named acting city manager, to replace Paul York until a permanent manager can be appointed.

Horse Shows to Be Larger

The horse shows — among the most popular events at the Michigan State Fair — will be expanded this year.

Fifteen shows are scheduled in the Coliseum, with the first on the opening evening of the fair, Friday, Aug. 28, and the last the final afternoon, Monday, Sept. 7. Last year, 12 shows were held.

The horse shows will be free to all State Fairgoers — a rare opportunity to see superbly trained horses going through their paces.

They'll be parade horses, pleasure horses, working horses, harness horses, quarter horses, saddle horses and ponies.

Included will be Arabians and Morgans, colorful Appaloosas and the giant Clydesdales, Belgians and Percherons. Shetlands and Tennessee Walkers will be on hand, as will palominos and ponies of the Americas.

MANY EVENTS

The horse shows will include regular showing of the saddle and harness horses, plus such events as barrel racing, goat tying, cattle cutting, prairie stump racing, barrel bending, and stake racing.

A total of more than $25,000 in premiums is being offered.

The shows will be held each evening of the fair except the final evening, with matinees on Saturday and Sunday, Aug. 29-30; Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 5-6; and Monday, Sept. 7.

May Kill Chances for Early Adjournment

Senate Fight Near on District Delay

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate battle lines formed today over efforts to tie a legislative reapportionment rider to the coastlines of the foreign aid bill.

Administration leaders saw little prospect of heading off a long floor fight on the rider sponsored by Senate Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen.

Unless a compromise can be reached, final action on the bill may not come until late next week, killing any prospect for the adjournment of Congress in advance of the Democratic National Convention which opens in Atlantic City a week from Monday.

The foreign aid bill suffered two setbacks Tuesday.

First, the Senate trimmed $216.7 million from the $3,516,700,000 asked by President Johnson and approved by the House. The action came on a 50-35 vote adopting an amendment by Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

This reduction, added to a $50-million cut recommended by the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, slashed the bill $266.7 million below the original "bare bones" request. Supporting the slash were 31 Democrats and 19 Republicans, while 26 Democrats and 9 Republicans opposed it.

Shortly afterward, the program suffered what Sen. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., its floor manager, described as a much more crippling blow. The Senate weighted the bill with an amendment that would raise interest rates on all development loans abroad, including those under the Alliance for Progress program in Latin America.

Administration leaders were hopeful the cut will be partially restored, and that the interest amendment can be eliminated or modified in a meeting of Senate and House conferees to iron out differences in the two bills.

LITTLE HOPE

But they admittedly saw little hope of avoiding a long fight over Dirksen's rider that would be aimed at slowing down court-ordered reapportionment of both houses of state legislatures on a population basis.

Dirksen told newsmen efforts to reach a compromise on his amendment to stay Supreme Court-ordered reapportionment for two sessions of state legislatures appeared dim and he likely will call up his amendment for debate after the Senate disposes of other routine legislation today.

"And the debate will be extensive," he said. But he scheduled another round of conferences with Democratic leaders to see if a chance remained for agreement.

Pierre Salinger's Rise Made Without Election

The vicissitudes of politics reveal few figures so blessed by the hand of fate as that of PIERRE SALINGER.

A longtime West Coast newspaperman and the late President KENNEDY's press secretary, he has within a year become a U.S. Senator from California—without participation in a general election.

His rise to eminence began with the withdrawal of the late Sen. Clair Engle from the senatorial race because of ill health.

SALINGER, backed by the KENNEDY clan, jumped into the party primary and defeated the candidate backed by Gov. EDMUND G. BROWN, engendering considerable interparty bitterness in so doing.

But the recent death of incumbent ENGLE paved the way for SALINGER to be given a gubernatorial interim appointment as Senator, which served, incidentally, to assuage the hard feelings between governor and candidate.

Salinger's political rise has not been without legal involvement — both as regards his eligibility for the recent state primary election and, later, for his appointment to the Senate vacancy.

A favorable State Supreme Court decision resolved the first question, and the Senate's inherent right to decide on admissibility of its members confirmed the appointment.

Thus entitled to "incumbent" billing on the ballot, SALINGER will enter the upcoming election with undisputed advantage over his GOP opponent, old-time movie actor GEORGE MURPHY. And with many political observers attaching top national significance to California's election outcome, SALINGER's unexpected ascendancy could give his party fortunes there a substantial boost.

Red Mismanagement Downfall of Satellite

The brightness of another Red satellite is fading.

There is nothing particularly new about such phenomena, except that this one—Czechoslovakia—has been the most luminous star in Communist Russia's firmament.

Nowhere do the evil effects of the economic strait jacket imposed by the Kremlin bosses stand out more starkly than in this country.

The most highly industrialized of the Communist captive states, it had been an Iron Curtain showplace. But after running at an annual growth rate of between 8 and 11 per cent in the late 1950s, the country's gross national product has remained static at about $18.5 billion since 1961.

The heavily controlled economy is now falling so far short of targets that its five-year plans have been abandoned.

Czechoslovakia's troubles started when her Commie overlords, who seized control in 1948, gradually switched much of the country's economy over to heavy industry.

The demand for factory labor trimmed its farm population from 3.3 million to 1.3 million. The switch stopped economic growth and also stunted the life of the ordinary Czech, as prices rose 20 per cent and the Communist bureaucracy swelled to 750,000 unproductive clerks and minor officials feeding on the 14 million population.

Prague, the nation's capital, once called "the Golden City," is a mangy metropolis of sooty streets and faulty plumbing. Everywhere signs warn against falling plaster. Railroads cannot haul all the coal needed for power. A current joke: "What did we use before candles?" is the question — "Electricity" is the answer.

KARL MARX was a great student of socialistic economics. But he had one great fault. He was a lousy student of human nature.

Johnson Getting Most of Program

By MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (U) — Congress is giving President Johnson a substantial share of the legislation he asked for under a "must-pass" label.

How much of the rest of it he will get before Congress winds up its 1964 session remains to be seen. It apparently will be a man-sized proportion.

However, in at least some danger in these closing weeks of the session are his program for medical care for the aged and increased Social Security benefits.

Some well-informed sources say he may have to choose between the two. They concede he could wind up with neither.

They already have written off as "dead" for this year his wage policy program for industry, including a proposal for double pay for overtime.

They also see a "very doubtful" future this year for a liberalizing overhaul of the immigration laws requested by the President.

With some give and take, his forces expect to get most of the rest of his program into the books, and are prepared to make a bragging point of this in the presidential campaign.

Top on the program already written into law, of course, are the 1964 Civil Rights Act and the $11.5-billion tax cut, plus an extension of excise taxes totaling $1.9 billion a year.

Congress also boosted the legal minimum national debt limit from $15 billion to $24 billion for one year as Johnson asked.

Among his major victories was enactment of a cotton-wheat farm aid bill. It established a new program permitting U.S. cotton textile mills to buy government-owned cotton at the same subsidy price as foreign producers, and a voluntary wheat price support program aimed at assuring $2-a-bushel wheat.

Another major victory was passage of his "War on Poverty" program, a $947-million project.

Other feathers in the administration cap included: Congressional approval of his program to protect wilderness areas.

A start on a $375-million, three-year program of grants to public bodies for the purchase of mass transit equipment, plus loan-guarantee authority.

NEW PAY INCREASE
The new pay increase for federal officials and employees.

Wider police powers for the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Continued support for the controversial space flight project to land American astronauts on the moon in this decade.

Still in various stages of congressional action, with his forces optimistic he will get most of all of what he asked for in the bills, are such measures as his:

Proposed $445-million extension of the area redevelopment program, to aid chronically depressed regions.

$1-billion companion piece to help build the economy of the Appalachian region.

Extension of the National Defense Education Act.

The Spokane Spokesman-Review

The Texas congressman who refused an offer of $14,000 in bank stock from a businessman is to be commended.

It is heartening to the taxpayer to know that a national lawmaker did not accept what amounted to a bribe. But what of the businessman who offered it?

Curiously enough, in recent years, the American public seems to have chosen to place the stigma of dishonesty in such cases solely on the recipient or person to whom the money was offered.

Actually, the person who proffers a bribe is as culpable as a man who accepts one. The predilection is his. Intent is present.

Rep. Henry B. Gonzalez, D-Tex., was intelligent to cut short the bribe offer. He knew, he explains, that sooner or later he would have to vote on legislation affecting matters in which the businessman who offered the gift of bank stock was interested.

Most persons do business within the United States — and with the United States — with honor and honesty. Government contracts in the vast majority of cases are awarded on merit. Legislation, whether on the national level or in state legislatures across the nation, for the most part is acted on by lawmakers in good faith.

However, the possibility of money, stocks or expensive gifts to influence lawmakers and votes is ever with us. When someone attempts to buy the influence of an official or a lawmaker he should at the very least be exposed by name and affiliation if there is no basis for stronger action.

Israel's Youth

The Israel Digest

"The most important problem after Israel's security, is how to approach Jewish youth in the Diaspora. The danger that lies in wait for this youth is not physical persecution or pogroms but the loss of Jewish consciousness." Mrs. Golda Meir, the Foreign Minister, stated at the second World Conference of the Iuduh Babinovich youth movement.

About 200 delegates representing 20,000 members from twenty countries attended the meeting.

"We live," the Foreign Minister said, "in a period which has two principal dangers: if anything should happen to Israel, it is doubtful whether there would be hope for the continued existence of Diaspora Jewry; and if the process of assimilation is allowed to expand and as a result the number of Jewish groups smaller, Israel will be greatly harmed."

U.N. Dues

The Nashville Banner

Nikita Khrushchev has told Secretary-General U Thant that Soviet Russia hopes its vote in the General Assembly for failure to pay special assessment dues, he will take his marbles and go home. In short, get out of the U.N.

This Red Gambit has Mr. Thant all shook up. So much so that he is going to see President Johnson.

At this point, the United States has stood amazingly firm in the face of the Soviet pull-out threat. And the word from U.N. headquarters is that the U.S. will remain adamant on a put-up-or-get-out basis. It would be so to speculate that the Secretary-General has only one purpose in mind when he huddles with Johnson. That is, to prevail on LBJ to "urge" U.S. representatives in the U.N. to amend their announced hard-line stand, and give Khrushchev time to reflect on his "folly."

U. N. bylaws are very explicit on the matter of dues payment. It is specified that any nation two years behind in meeting its financial obligations shall have no vote in the General Assembly. At issue are "peace-keeping" assessments; one for the Middle East operation and the other for the Congo affair. The Soviet has argued that these "special assessments" are not obligatory debts. However, the World Court, which has Communist representation, ruled that Russia and others were bound to pay and failure should result in the loss of votes.

Numbered are 11 other nations, some of them Red sphere some neutrals and some on our side of the ideological fence. The U.S. stand, of course, would have to be that the dues-paying regulation applies to friend and foe alike.

This is an issue which cannot be "accommodated," "appeased," or "compromised." The United States, the sugar daddy of the U.N., is on solid ground. If Mr. Khrushchev chooses to bring the Soviet delegation home, let him. It would mean the closing of at least one potential Soviet intelligence headquarters in this country. The loss would be his and the gains ours.

Voice of the People:

Readers Voice Concern Over Cass Boat Tragedy

In regards to boating, I'm sure I'm not alone in appreciating the public launching and picnic areas provided by the state. At these facilities officers take numbers and descriptions of boats being launched and check to see if they are properly equipped. However, some people who keep their boats at marinas don't have to meet these requirements and can jump into their high-powered inboard craft at any time, sober or otherwise. This also applies to sailboat operators running their boats at night without proper lights.

Why should property owners and people using these facilities have to pay for something that these so-called "runners" of the lakes do? I see no reason why the West Bloomfield police should take the privilege from everyone.

It is sad to think that there are some who get their kicks from reckless driving, but it is unfair to punish all. I hope that the parties passing judgment will consider the pleasure of boating for those responsible persons who really enjoy and appreciate our Water Wonderland.

NEIL W. GREGORY
122 SUMMIT

Home owners on Cass Lake, let's cooperate with our police in bringing justice to our lake. I believe 90 per cent of us try our best to uphold the laws, so why let a few spoil our boating fun? A lot of the trouble comes from the boat marinas. If those places closed at early evening and all boats slowed down at a certain time our lake would be much safer. I urge all people to get a petition out for getting the troublemakers off the lake.

SAFETY FIRST

In view of our nightly excursions on Cass Lake, Li. Kratt's report of indecencies on the lake are absurd. We live on Cass and because of the many craft, we find it more relaxing and safer to cruise at night. We have never encountered any infractions other than an annoying spotlight directed on us occasionally. Because of one unprincipled person handling a boat, why punish all who derive pleasure from night cruising?

On Sunday afternoons we have seen necking parties in front of our house, beer bottles thrown from boats of nonresidents and heard much profanity, but we have never encountered those things at night. We have these same killers on our roads but we don't stop other people from driving their cars. Education at boat launching areas would go far in reducing accidents and we residents could help by reporting violators.

This lake is known as the "busiest" in the county and I think the safety record is good. We invite any member of the investigating committee to ride with us any evening and make their own evaluations.

The Akerley boy had lived in our subdivision and was beloved by all and we pray for the apprehension of his killer.

'Poor Rest Room Facilities at Park'

The state park at Pontiac Lake is very nice and must have cost a lot of tax dollars. But when my 3-year-old grandson and I found the rest room he said, "Grandpa, this place stinks." There it was, nestled among the picnic tables, one dated back to B.C., not even equipped with catalog or newspaper.

Considering the money we have spent there, it seems as if we could have more modern facilities. Where is our health department?

As a teacher he rightfully demanded respect and got it, and was admired for the manner in which he taught. Although he had his own opinions, he never refused to listen and debate those of others. The township is losing a good man, but Waterford-Kettering is losing a good man and a good teacher.

Disregarding the three accidental deaths in the last two years, young members of the Wallenda family continue to learn the art of high-wire walking.

The three children of Carla Wallenda, 23, who will appear tomorrow in the Clyde Beatty-Cole Bros. Circus in Pontiac, are ardently learning the technique that their grandfather, Carl Wallenda, founder of the "Great Wallendas," brought to the big top three generations ago.

The three children, Ricky, 4, Mario, 7, and Rietta, 3, have all had their tries on the wire. Both Ricky and Mario have become fairly expert on the tight wire, but Rietta's is the big "ham" of the outfit, Carla said.

The kids practice on a wire that is two feet off the ground, so there is little chance of their hurting themselves should they fall.

Both Ricky and Mario have walked the wire at 12 feet, but only when their grandpa (Carl Wallenda) and their uncles are there to coach them and follow underneath in case one should slip, Carla said.

WOULD BE PROUD
She said she would be proud if her children, who would represent six generations of Wallendas in show business, should someday join the troupe, but presently she is not going to influence any of them.

None of them will be allowed on the high wire until they have finished high school she said.

"Right now Ricky says he wants to be a baseball player," Carla continued, "but Mario seems to have his mind set on show business, namely 'high-wire walking.'"

Young Mario is named after Carla's brother, Mario Wallenda, who was permanently crippled in a fall in Detroit in 1962.

NOT HESITANT
When asked if she wasn't hesitant about allowing her children to become interested in the dangerous high-wire walking, Carla answered with a quick, "No."

"We go through a lot of training and practice hard, and we have a lot of faith," she explained.

"Certainly, we've had our share of accidents in the last couple of years, but look at all of the car accidents there have been, and you don't see anybody giving up driving, do you?"

The two boys left the circus last Sunday to return to Sarasota, Fla. to stay with their uncles, Mario, and attend school there.

STAYING ON
Since Rietta does not attend school yet, she is staying on with her mother.

Carla said that she will be in her best form for her performances in Pontiac, since her father, who has had his troupe touring in the South, is planning to visit her here.

"I always perform my best when Dad's watching me," she said.

The circus, sponsored by the Pontiac Lions Club, will be at the Pontiac Mall Thursday. Performances will begin at 2 and 8 p.m.

Pontiac City Affairs

Hoskins Details Airport Expenditures

In a comprehensive report to the City Commission last night, Homer D. Hoskins said that $2,627,539.11 has been spent on Pontiac Municipal Airport development since 1927.

Hoskins, airport manager pointed out that of the total, $1,155,579.11 had been invested by the city.

The remainder was split between state ($972,317.63) and federal ($483,642.39) funds.

In addition to the $2.6-million total, an estimated $941,000 worth of private and corporate hangars have been constructed on airport property which the city leases to owners of the buildings.

That would bring the total private and governmental investment at Pontiac Municipal Airport to $3,568,635.13.

FROM INITIAL PURCHASE

Hoskins' report dated from the first purchase of land for the airport through 1964 improvements now under construction.

It lists all improvements during that period and how the total cost for each was split between governmental units.

Hoskins had been asked to prepare the report following an offer from the County Aviation Committee in April to swap some 40 acres of county land, appraised at $700,000, for the 436-acre municipal air facility.

The offer grew out of two years of study by the city and county, into the feasibility of joint operation of the airport.

COUNTY AID

In 1962, the city suggested that, since a major portion of the airport's business originates in the county, the county should help pay for future improvements.

The airport master plan outlines some $8-million in future projects which would equip the airport for major airlines and some small jet air traffic.

The city's share of all projects outlined in the master plan would be about $3.9-million. Neither the city nor county have that kind of money for airport improvements.

As far as the trade for county property is concerned, no official stand has been taken by city commissioners. The offer, however, has met with a generally cool reception at City Hall.

ZONE ORDINANCES

In other business at last night's meeting, commissioners adopted ordinances to rezone three residential lots on the northeast corner of Oakland and Kinney to commercial, and three lots zoned Residential-1 at 37 Monroe to Residential-3.

A 14-unit apartment is proposed on the Monroe property. Final approval came after public hearings on both zoning items.

Action was deferred until Sept. 8 on a planning commission recommendation to deny a request for commercial zoning of two residential lots encircling land on the southeast corner of Joslyn and Walton.

The petitioners had asked that action not be taken until they can petition for rezoning the entire subdivision to commercial use. Planners had objected to the present request as spot zoning.

COMMISSION CONCURS

After much discussion, commissioners concurred with a recommendation to deny commercial zoning for residential property on the southeast corner of Auburn and Paddock.

Commissioner Emmett S. Wellbaum voted against the recommendation on grounds that the corner was suited to future commercial use and present structures there "are dilapidated and beyond rehabilitation."

A request for a Residential-4 (trailer park) zoning on some 20 acres of land now zoned for single-family dwellings was also denied.

RECOMMEND DENIAL

The planning commission had recommended that all three requests be denied.

Four other planning commission recommendations were approved and will be slated for public hearings at future meetings.

IONIA (AP)—A fire destroyed a storage building at the State Reformatory Tuesday night. No one was hurt.

Flames from the blaze, which started near a stock of paint, could be seen at the Ionia Free Fair a mile away.

Seek Council Seats in Tuskegee, Ala.

TUSKEGEE, Ala. (AP)—Two Negro candidates won their way into runoffs against white opponents in Tuesday's city council race, but three other white candidates won outright. Negroes outnumbered white persons in voter registrations and there was at least one Negro candidate for each council seat. But the Negro voters apparently threw their support behind only two of the eight Negro candidates — the Rev. K. L. Buford and Dr. Stanley Hugh Smith, professor of sociology at Tuskegee Institute.

In the other three council races, the Negro candidates got only token votes.

Buford, a civil rights worker, received 635 votes and will be pitted against incumbent Dr. Riley Lumpkin, a Tuskegee physician with 736 votes, for place No. 3. Dr. Smith, 670 votes, also will oppose an incumbent, Jimmy Braswell, 565 votes for place No. 4.

FIRST TIME

If either should win, it would be the first time a Negro has been elected to office in Tuskegee.

In the other race in Tuskegee, Mayor Howard Rutherford led a four-man field but must face used car dealer Charles Keever in the runoff. There was no Negro candidate in the mayor's race.

In Prichard, Ala., another Negro candidate polled enough votes to earn him a place in a runoff for a city council race with Ernest G. Sansom. There were nine other candidates in that race.

Warren Probe Eyed Contract on Death Report

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Warren Commission, meeting in secret to consider how it will release the text of its Kennedy assassination report, considered a plan whereby contracts would be signed between the government and some information media.

These media would be supplied the text of the report somewhat in advance of other media on condition they "observe security" — not publish the report before the specified release date and then publish it in full.

The commission's chief counsel, J. Lee Rankin, briefed newsmen after the secret session Tuesday. The commission, headed by Chief Justice Earl Warren, is nearing the end of its long investigation into the assassination last Nov. 22 of President John F. Kennedy.

NEGOTIATION REPORTS

There have been reports that certain paperback book companies have had negotiations with the commission. So, a reporter asked: "How can a government commission, engaged on such a project of grave national importance, engage in contractual negotiations with private concerns?"

Said Rankin: "You will have to take this up with Mr. George Reedy at the White House." Reedy is the White House press secretary.

Rankin's response was the same when asked if the report shouldn't be released to everyone simultaneously, perhaps three or four days in advance.

so everyone would get a chance to read the thick document before writing about it.

At the White House, Reedy gave consideration to this matter at an appropriate time.

In Rochester, N.Y., Paul Miller, president of the Associated Press and president of the Gannett Newspapers, said, when asked for comment: "The Associated Press is opposed and will continue to be opposed to anything other than simultaneous release of the report to all."

A similar stand was taken by Miles H. Wolff, president of the Record-News at Greensboro, N.C.

AS INDIVIDUAL. He said he could speak only as an individual, but asserted: "If the government plans to release this report in advance to one group, it is shocking. It is perfectly ridiculous to try to figure how the government can do this with a report paid for by all the taxpayers."

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Single Ounce of Liquor Affects Judgment

Q — How much whisky must I consume to have alcohol show in a blood test? How much would justify a drunk driving charge?

A — Since the alcohol you drink is eliminated fairly rapidly, the amount in the blood depends in part on the amount of time that has elapsed since your last drink.

If the only whisky you consumed was 4 of an ounce and you had taken it within an hour or less of the blood test, your blood alcohol level would be 1-100th of 1 per cent. There would be no appreciable effect on your behavior or your driving ability.

With one ounce, the level would be 2-100th of 1 per cent, and the alcohol would begin to affect your judgment.

With two or three ounces, the level would be 1-20th of 1 per cent, and you might be inclined to address some injudicious cracks to the police officer. Officially, however, you would still be considered sober but very close to the borderline of drunkenness.

With five or six ounces the level would be 1-10th of 1 per cent, and you would be too sloshed to drive a car until you had sobered up.

Q — I have taken Bonadon for dizziness for about three months with good results. I would like to know what side effects might occur.

Is this drug habit-forming? Will it lose its effectiveness if I continue to take it?

A — Bonadon is a combination of medicine, an antihistamine that is especially useful in controlling dizziness and motion sickness, and pyridine, a part of the vitamin B complex that sometimes helps to control nausea.

Side effects such as drowsiness, dry mouth, and blurred vision occur only when large doses are taken.

The drug is not habit-forming and it should not lose its effectiveness on prolonged use.

Q — I have been taking Vistaril for an overactive thyroid. What side effects might there be?

A — Vistaril is a brand of hydroxyzine pamate. It is one of the antihistamines and it is used to reduce nervous tension. In the usually prescribed dosage it can be safely used for prolonged periods.

In some persons it causes drowsiness and dryness of the mouth.

Q — I have heard that taking one teaspoonful of vinegar after the noon and evening meal will cause you to lose weight. Is this true and is it harmful?

A — In order to reduce you must take in fewer calories than you use up. Since vinegar furnishes no calories it will put no weight on you.

If it reduces your appetite, it might help you to lose weight and in the amount suggested, it would not be harmful.

News Briefs From Washington

'Voting Is First Duty of Democracy,' Says President

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Voting is the first duty of democracy," says President Johnson. And he wants every eligible American to register and vote this fall.

He made his appeal Tuesday at a White House meeting sponsored by the American Heritage Foundation. A bipartisan group of about 170 political, civic, business and government leaders attended.

Johnson said almost 35 per cent of the electorate failed to vote four years ago and almost 40 million eligible men and women are not registered to vote this year.

"We preach the virtues of democracy abroad," Johnson said. "We must practice its duties at home."

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House has passed a bill that would increase pension benefits for war veterans or their widows.

Approval came Tuesday on a 384-0 roll call vote. The bill now goes to the Senate.

The Veterans Administration estimates the measure would add $44 million to pensions in this fiscal year that ends next June 30 and mount in cost until it added $111 million to pensions in the 1969 fiscal year.

At the most, the increase could come to $55 a month. This would apply to a veteran with three dependents who has an income of less than $1,200 a year. His new maximum would be $110 a month.

The measure which would cut meat imports by 30 per cent, had the backing of the livestock industry and was approved by the Senate on a 72-15 vote.

The State and Agriculture Departments opposed it. Representatives of city dwellers charged the reduced imports would boost meat prices.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Hugh Scott, R-Pa., urged today that Columbus Day be made a national holiday. In a statement to the Senate subcommittee on federal charters, holidays and celebrations, he said:

"The day on which Columbus discovered America was a day of great significance to the nation. It is a day when the United States was born."

Youth Exchange Program

29 Foreign Students to Visit Country

Twenty-nine students from seven foreign countries will arrive in Oakland County this week for a year-long visit under the International Youth for Understanding Teen-Age Exchange Program.

Sponsored by the Michigan Council of Churches, Ann Arbor, the students will live with Oakland County families and attend their senior year of high school in their host family's district.

The students will share the responsibilities of their host "brothers" and "sisters" in the regular family chores and are encouraged to earn their own pocket money with a part-time job.

Michigan Blue Cross-Blue Shield is cooperating with the program by extending coverage of member families to include the visiting students.

Mrs. Rachel Andersen, director (Advertisement) for of the program, said: "The long-lasting advantages of this program cannot be measured. Many of the earlier exchange students have helped others to come to this country."

"All have gained a better understanding and appreciation of the American way of life."

FIRST THURSDAY

Michigan families will host some 400 of the students this year. The first group is due to arrive at Detroit Metropolitan Airport Thursday.

'Situation Is Very Tight'

2 Gemini Flights in '64, Barring Problems

(Editor's Note — There has been much speculation about the next manned Gemini space flight being behind schedule. Basis for the speculation has always come from "informed sources." The Associated Press went to the most "informed sources" in the Gemini program and asked them point-blank: Will the two Gemini flights be made this year as scheduled?)

By HAROLD R. WILLIAMS

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Top space officials said today only unforeseen problems would keep two Gemini flights from being made this year.

Charles W. Mathews, Gemini program director, indicated all the bugs have been ironed out of the spacecraft and they will be ready for shipping to Cape Kennedy, Fla., before the end of August.

"I will be completely honest," he said. "The situation is very tight, but we still plan the unmanned flight before October and the manned mission in December."

"I can say we are not going to accelerate activity so the crew's safety is endangered."

NO BLIND RUSH

"We are not going to stick our heads in the sand and rush blindly along just to meet a schedule, and by the same token, we are not going to doggedly maintain we can meet the schedule when we know we can't."

Gemini is about one year behind the schedule originally announced in 1962. In May 1963 a top-level meeting set new schedules after a hard look at the program.

The present schedule calls for the first flight to be unmanned — it originally was set to be the first manned flight — and to be made in the third quarter of 1964, which includes July, August and September.

These are the only dates officially released by the manned spacecraft center, and these are the times Mathews and Dr. Robert Gilruith, manned spacecraft center director, reiterated.

"We have not changed the schedule from the one originally announced," said Dr. Gilruith. "We are sticking with that timetable."

Mathews said a schedule of time intervals between capsule delivery to Cape Kennedy and launching, which was released by his office June 1, had been changed.

Reports Are Optimistic for Ailing Italy Chief

ROME (U)—Doctors issued another optimistic report today on the condition of President Antonio Segni, stricken last Friday with a cerebral stroke. "The president of the republic passed another tranquil night sleeping for some hours," the medical bulletin said. "This morning, his general condition remains good. Pulse and breathing are regular."

"We will not need the eight weeks checkout at the cape now," he said. "The capsule will come from the McDonnell plant in St. Louis flight-ready."

He said one reason the spacecraft hasn't been delivered to Cape Kennedy before was that both capsules for the unmanned and manned flights were being checked out together.

ALREADY DELIVERED

"The GT3 capsule (for the manned flight of Maj. Virgil Grissom and Lt. Cmdr. John W. Young) will already have been delivered at the cape when the unmanned mission is made," Mathews said.

"The big problem is clearing the launching pad and getting it ready for the December flight," Cape Kennedy officials indicated it would take about 31 days to clear the pad and erect the Titan II launch vehicle.

"We can do it in less time than that," Mathews said. "If the unmanned flight isn't made until October we still feel we have sufficient time to fire GT3 (manned mission) before the year is out."

He emphasized that this is assuming the unmanned mission, which is a ballistic flight 7,500 miles down the Atlantic range, is successful.

In vivid tones of blue, green and purple, this card designed by Joseph J. DeFrancesco depicts the three wise men bearing gifts to the Christ child. It is one of the three Christmas card selections for 1964 made available by Camp Oakland. The cards and matching envelopes are packaged in lots of 25 and may be ordered by writing Camp Oakland, P. O. Box 9, 930 East Draher Road, Oxford.

This design by Dorothy Siddall, like all Camp Oakland cards, bears the following small inscription: "This card bears a two-fold gift; an expression of happiness for you and a contribution to Camp Oakland, a home for underprivileged children."

Though Leg Is Broken

Stand on Your Rights

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a painter. A month ago, while painting the house of a very rich woman, the ladder collapsed (it was her ladder) and I fell to the ground.

I broke my leg in several places. Since then I've had no income.

I lost $600 in pay, and my doctor bill is $150. I asked the woman at least to help me pay my doctor bill and she said her insurance didn't cover that kind of accident and she isn't responsible for my bills.

She is so cheap she told me to buy a box of plaster and make my own cast! She said I was foolish for going to a doctor.

She came over with two pain pills she bought at an Army surplus store and said they were just as good as prescription pills.

Everyone tells me I am nuts if I don't sue her. She is far from poor, Abby. She owns several houses in town. What should I do?

OUT OF WORK
DEAR OUT: See a lawyer at once! If you can't afford one, go to your local Legal Aid Society.

If you broke your leg on HER ladder, while painting HER house — insurance or no insurance, I'll bet SHE hasn't a leg to stand on.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a handsome man in his early forties. We have been married only a few months.

I knew he had false teeth when I married him, but I had never seen him with his teeth out. Soon after we were married, he started taking his teeth out the minute he came home.

Now he never wears them around the house. If we go somewhere, he won't put his teeth in until the last minute, and as soon as we get home he takes them out again.

I told him he should see his dentist if he is having trouble, but he says he has already spent enough money on false teeth and he doesn't want to spend any more.

His dentist is supposed to be one of the best in town. We have a small income, but I THINK THIS IS IMPORTANT.

I hate to nag him about it, but I don't know how much longer I can take this. He looks like an old man with his teeth out.

A BRIDE

DEAR BRIDE: Call your husband's dentist and tell him what you've told me.

If he's one of the "best" in town, he will probably insist adjusting the dentures without charge so they'll be comfortable and wearable.

Tell Guests NoChildren at Wedding

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I sent out my wedding invitations two weeks ago and enclosed reply cards for guests to answer.

The invitations made no mention of children. Replies are starting to come in and to my dismay several of them include their children.

What can I do about this without causing hurt feelings.

A: I cannot guarantee that it won't cause hurt feelings, but as you did not invite the children, and their parents took it upon themselves to include them in their acceptance, you have every right to explain to them that you are very sorry but you cannot have any children at the wedding and if you allow them to bring theirs, others will be hurt if their children are omitted.

Q: When having guests stay in one's house for a weekend, is it necessary for the hostess to provide them with fresh napkins for every meal, or could they be given their same ones over again as long as they are not soiled?

A: They should be given fresh napkins for every meal, unless the rather old-fashioned napkin rings are used so that each person is assured of receiving his or her same napkin.

Q: When a salad of fruits or vegetables is served on a leaf of lettuce, is it correct to eat the lettuce, and if so, may it be cut with the side of the fork or with the knife?

A: Eating the lettuce is entirely optional, and if it cannot be cut easily with the side of the fork, a knife may be used.

Details concerning the announcing and christening of a baby are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "The New Baby."

To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Personal News

Mr. and Mrs. John Ponushis of East Iroquois Road were recently given a farewell party by their neighbors.

The party, preceding the Ponushis' two to three months visit in Greece, was held by Mr. and Mrs. Jerome K. Barry Jr.

Helping with the send-off were Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Stark, Mrs. Jack Harris and her son Jack, Mrs. W. Archie Parker, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Weber, Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Beinap and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wujcik.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Ronan and their son Brad, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Buck, Mr. and Mrs. John Kim, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Austin.

Arrivals in New York on the "Queen Mary" this week included Lillian and Bonnie Davidson, Margaret Hartha and Mrs. John Borrvold.

The group was returning from a two-month tour of England, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy and France.

Betty Lynn Hamelback has set Oct. 10 as the date of her marriage to Thomas Clark Davis. Parents of the couple are the Greta Hamelbacks of Mt. Vernon Township, and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Morse of Rochester.

Women Play Part

Women have established a stronghold in previously all male province, the symphony orchestra.

The Philadelphia Orchestra, which will begin a series of five performances at the first Interlochen Arts Festival on Aug. 26, has been invaded by seven women musicians. This is more than at any time in the orchestra's 65-year history.

The only requirement is that they play as well as their male counterparts. Conductor Eugene Ormandy says he will welcome any of them, as long as they are good musicians.

The first woman to break the solid male phalanx of the Philadelphia Orchestra was

The Ervin G. Greers of Southard Road announce the engagement of their daughter, Kay Annette, to James W. Miranda, son of the Walter J. Mirandas of Freeport, Long Island, N.Y. The couple graduated from Monticello College and Hofstra University, Hempstead, N.Y., respectively. Nov. 14 vows are planned.

Edna Phillips, a harpist with the group from 1930 to 1946. Marilyn Costello succeeded her and is the present first lady of the harp.

FIRST CELLIST

Elsa Hiller was the first woman cellist in any major orchestra. She was engaged in 1935 and presently shares the first stand of the cello section with principal Samuel Mayes.

The Interlochen Festival will also feature Van Cliburn, William Warfield, the International Youth Symphony Orchestra, and an International Youth Music Competition.

Aug. 21 through Aug. 30 are the dates for the arts festival which also includes art exhibits, meetings, and music conferences. Further information may be obtained from the camp at Interlochen.

Bedspreads, Linen Need Planning

September is a busy month for the college set who are preparing to either enter their favorite college as freshmen or are just returning for another year as upper classmen.

Along with the job of choosing a back-to-school wardrobe just right for their on-campus days, goes the job of selecting the linens and bedspreads to perk-up the college living quarters.

Usually this particular task is left up to mom, and from the particular standpoint, mom knows a college dorm bedspread should be sturdy. From a student viewpoint this item should also be colorful and attractive.

WOVEN FABRICS

Mrs. Anne Sterling, director of public relations for the American Institute of Laundering, says that a good woven spread fits this description. A woven fabric takes harder wear and less care than a tufted or chenille spread.

When buying bed linens, it is important to know the size of the bed and mattress. Correct size eliminates strain from tugging and pulling and encourages more comfortable sleep.

To find correct size, take length of mattress, add six inches for thickness and ten inches for tuck-in and folding over blanket. The width of the sheet should be twenty-four inches wider than the mattress.

This allows a five- to seven-inch take-up on each side, depending on the thickness of the mattress, and a five-inch tuck-in.

Correct size is particularly important for fitted sheets, which are a time saver for the student trying to make an early morning class. The ideal pillowcase is two inches wider than the pillow to avoid strain during use. It should also be long enough to completely cover the pillow.

Straightforward Pillow Talk

By JANET ODELL

Pontiac Press Women's Editor
Your great-grandmother made her own pillows and stuffed them with goose feathers or down; if she was really hard up, she used chicken feathers.

Today's homemaker still uses feather pillows, although the foam ones have become popular with many, especially anyone with an allergy.

Pillows need to be washed ever so often. With modern laundry equipment, this is not much of a job. It's just part of the care you give your home.

One laundry expert recommends that each feather pillow be placed in a pillow case and the open end basted closed before washing. Two pillows in the washer will balance the load.

CHECK AND MEND

Check each pillow for tears or open seams and mend before washing.

Directions with your washer should be followed, but you will want warm water and gentle action. Halfway through the wash cycle, stop the machine and turn the pillows over. Complete cycle.

Three or four large bath towels in the dryer with the pillows will hasten the drying time which is usually more than one cycle.

Don't hang pillows in the sun to dry. If you have a shady spot, fine. Turn them end to end ever so often to hasten drying.

WASH BY HAND

If the pillows are latex foam, they should be washed by hand. Wash in laundry tray in mild sudsy water by squeezing the suds through the pillow, then rinse thoroughly.

To remove as much water as possible, place the pillow in a washer and set the dial at the extraction point.

(To keep the washer in balance fill with two pillows or articles equal in weight.)

Latex foam pillows take a long time to dry. Never put them in an automatic dryer; the heat can cause deterioration. Be certain they are DON'T: Never bend the mattress — this treatment may damage the innerspring unit.

DO: Frequent turnings will give uniform wear to each side of your mattress.

If the pillows are polyurethane foam, they may be washed in an automatic washer. Use a low-sudsing detergent and set the dial on warm water and gentle action cycle (if washer has this setting). Dry in an automatic dryer at a low heat setting.

ALWAYS FLUFF

Always fluff your pillows when you make the bed. If your dryer has no heat setting, fluff them that way several times a year.

You may not wash your mattress, but a few simple routine steps will keep it in good shape.

Foam mattresses never need turning; that's what it says on the one we own. Innerspring mattresses will give better service if they are

SEW SIMPLE By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer: When I sew hooks and eyes at the neckline of my dresses, just above the end of the zipper, they are always so difficult to hook and unhook, the fastener seems so wobbly, I'll feel like a hopeless case if I can't even do a simple job like that correctly, but I must be doing something wrong.

Mrs. N.E.E.

Dear Mrs. N.E.E.: It is perhaps a matter of choice, but I prefer the long eye, instead of the rounded one (both kinds come in a package). I think perhaps you have neglected to sew one part of the hook.

After you have secured the two little circles at the end of

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. A. Dulin, Liverpool, N.Y., wins a Tailor Trix Pressing Board for this tip:

When clipping into the seam allowances to make the seam lie flat, or to reduce bulk, stagger your cuts so that no two slashes are opposite each other. This reduces the chance of weakening at these areas, especially on underarm seams where there is apt to be strain.

This is also effective when joining lengths of drapery fabric together and you need to slash the salvage edges.

the hook, sew a few stitches back and forth across the prongs. This will keep the hook stationary at all times and prevent the slipping you are talking about.

Mrs. E.M. shares an idea that we have used in the column before, but I am sure those of you who haven't seen it will find it most helpful.

If your jumper, shift, or overblouse needs a zipper down the center back, apply this first. It is not only much easier to work with when flat, but fitting will be easier when the back can be closed.

One word of caution: Check the length of the overblouse you are making and be sure it is the correct length for your height. You may have to choose a longer or shorter zipper than the pattern suggests.

It is also a good idea to allow a little extra seam allowance for the center back, makes the zipper application easier.

Dear Eunice: Can you please tell me why I have so many gathers in the top of the sleeves when I make a garment?

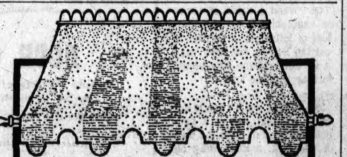

I cut the material exactly like the pattern, and follow directions carefully, yet the sleeves don't fit neatly as they do in ready-made clothes. It gives the garment such a "home-made look!"

Mrs. V. McA.

Dear Mrs. V. McA.: You are right! There is nothing in the world that shrieks "home-made" louder than a sleeve that has been poorly set in. Even experienced dressmakers and tailors agree that this is one of the most difficult of all sewing techniques.

I have prepared detailed step-by-step instructions which are too lengthy to go into this column. You should be able to achieve the "look" you are looking for if you follow each step carefully.

Your results will be perfect every time and you will get rave notices from your friends. Send 10 cents and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Sew Simple for your leaflet "All About Sleeves."

Use for Soap Paper

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — I have another good use for those soap papers C. E. S. suggested making out of paper towels.

They would be wonderful to take on camping trips. As a Girl Scout leader this seems to be a space-saving trick for those bulky knapsacks when the girls go on hikes or overnight trips.

Thanks to all those wonderful people for taking time to write you and many thanks to you for putting these ideas at our disposal.—ELIZABETH

DEAR POLLY — A safety razor makes an excellent holder for sandpaper when smoothing small objects.

Tuck the edges of a small rectangular piece of sandpaper between the head and the comb of the razor, tighten the handle and go to work.—PATRICIA

DEAR POLLY — I have a helpful hint for the fellows (and gals) who keep getting in the garage workshop.

Petroleum jelly worked well into a hand grimy with roofing tar will soften the tar quickly as a wink.

Wipe with a paper towel and wash hands with soap and water. Rub the petroleum jelly on work clothes with tar spots and toss in the washer.—ETHEL

DEAR POLLY — As a charter member of the "Housework Haters Association, Unlimited" I really appreciate anything that eliminates any drudgery.

Here is my contribution to poor brownstein mothers (such as I) who have children who often become car sick. True, there are many motion sickness medicines on the market but there are times when emergencies DO arise. I keep a roll of plastic bags LOCKED in the glove compartment for emergency use and then they are easily disposed of.

Lubricate Zippers

Stubborn zippers will work better if they are lubricated by rubbing them with a wax candle.

The engagement of their daughter, Frances Kay, to Roger E. Smith is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Flanagan of Rochester. His parents are the Arden Smiths, also of Rochester. November vows are planned.

Ears Are Showing

By JEANMARIE ELKINS
Lend me your ears, girls! There's a revolutionary new makeup idea sweeping the fashion field. Yes, you guessed it — ear makeup!!

If you're the type who likes to have her ears covered by hair, hats or earrings, now is the time to change styles.

This latest innovation, begun by Macadel Products, Inc., is a pearlescent lotion which is easily applied to different parts of the ear in a variety of designs.

There are two shades, pink and silver. Like just about everything else in these modern times, it comes packaged in plastic tubes.

SPECIAL BRUSH

the lobes or ear perimeter with a special styling brush. (Doesn't everything have a SPECIAL styling brush these days?)

A booklet offers instructions in four ear-styling variations.

The possibilities of this makeup revolution are limited only by your imagination.

High school age girls may paint one ear if they are not 'attached' and both ears if they are 'going steady'.

INVENT DESIGNS

College-age femme fatales may want to invent designs of their own, using the make-up to paint the fraternity letters of their boy friend or his service emblem on an ear.

Grandmothers could use it as a way to keep track of the grandchildren, much like the now-popular charm bracelet.

Political supporters could sport the mascot of their respective parties on the ear lobes in a small sketch.

A Denver company volunteered to make the first retail test of "Dear Ear" and the product will go on sale in its consumer premiere soon.

Fashion pioneers, those with a touch of adventure in their souls, may soon be seen wearing the new makeup.

Allow for Tips in Planning Budget

Since tipping can add appreciably to the cost of a wedding trip, it should be allowed for in the early planning stage. When and how much to tip differs from one city to another and from one country to another.

But fortunately, according to Modern Bride magazine, there is a general pattern to rates and customs of tipping.

In the United States and Canada, the bellboy gets at least 25 cents a bag, 50 cents in expensive hotels. He gets 25 cents for bringing ice, delivering a telegram, or any other minor errand.

For individual meals, tipping the waiter 15 per cent of the check is a good rule to follow, more if the service is exceptional. For overnight stays, no tip is necessary for the cham-bermaid; otherwise, leave $1 per week.

On cruises, you tip cabin and dining stewards about $1 per person a day. For a couple on a fourteen-day cruise, however, the tip would be $30 instead of $28. At the halfway mark, it's a nice idea to give half of your tip to stewards so they can have it for their shore leave.

On trans-Atlantic crossings you tip at the end of the trip. The cabin steward in first-class quarters gets $10 a person; cabin class $5; and tourist class, $3.

The dining steward should get $12-$15 per couple in first class; $5-$7, cabin class; $3-$5, tourist.

In Europe, you often tip a little extra when there is a service charge. And for travel in Europe, it's handy to know the foreign equivalent of a quarter tip. In England, Wales and Ireland, it's a shilling.

One franc in France is comparable. In Italy, 150 lira is equivalent to a 25c tip here.

OTHER PLACES

In Bermuda, the Bahamas, and the Caribbean, tipping is about the same scale as at home: 10-15 per cent. Many hotels have adopted the practice of adding a 10 per cent service charge, however, so be sure to check yours.

No Awning Flap

If your house awnings flap in the wind, weigh them down by sewing small fish sinkers along the inside edges.

MERRICK-WILSON

The Gordon Lyle Merricks (Linda Lou Wilson) pledged recent vows before Rev. Arnold Hashman preceding a reception in the First Assembly of God Church. Their parents are the Frank Wilsons, Cadillac Avenue, and the John Merricks of Comins. A Chantilly lace and net mantilla-type veil complemented the bride's gown of matching lace over satin. Attendants were: Tamara Ajfilder, Judy Wilson, Linda Presswood, Marie Wagner, Annette Britton, Mickey Johnston; Jerry Merrick, Al-pena; James Sazon, Daniel Evans and William Bernard.

Making Plans for a Wedding

Mrs. Heinrich Kobrak of Clarkston announces the engagement of her daughter Gertrude Ann to Dale Allan Calkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Calkins of Frankville Road, Independence Township.

The September bride - elect attended Flint Junior College. Her fiancé is a student at General Motors Institute, Flint.

Peels Add Flavor

Orange peels saved and dried may be ground and a small amount added to tea leaves when brewing tea. Gives tea a rich flavor.

Jokes Can Kill a Candidate

(Editor's Note—This is the second article in a three-part series on the American voter written by United Press International newsmen Harry Ferguson.)

By HARRY FERGUSON

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The American voter likes his presidential candidates to be wise, but not to resort to wisecracks. One smart-alecky phrase can hurt a man and a frivolous speech can doom him.

In the heat of a presidential campaign Adlai Stevenson casually remarked, "Egg heads of the world, unite! You have nothing to lose but your yokes." A woman who had been working for him vigorously promptly switched to Dwight D. Eisenhower with this explanation: "I can't visualize a President who is capable of making such flip-sart remarks."

Nobody knows how many followed her, but it seems to be a fact that Stevenson's easy sense of humor hurt him at the polls.

The voters want a President who radiates a vague attribute called "goodness and sincerity." The research survey center of the University of Michigan, seeking to find the reason for Eisenhower's popularity, found out that almost half of his supporters simply felt that he was a good man and honest. Issues were secondary.

WATCHING TV

Most voters form opinions of candidates by watching television, listening to radio and reading newspapers and magazines. Few see the man in the flesh.

Some candidates excel in one medium and fail in another. Stevenson was more effective than Eisenhower on the radio, according to post-election surveys, because he spoke in rounded sentences from a carefully prepared manuscript.

Eisenhower sounded jerky on the radio, but once he got on television he came across warm and friendly in contrast to Stevenson's cool aloofness.

John F. Kennedy probably turned the tide of the 1960 election when he debated Nixon on TV.

OFTEN CHARGED

The charge often is heard that newspapers slant the news in favor of the man they are supporting, but the facts are otherwise.

The overwhelming number of papers balance the news carefully and confine their opinions to the editorial page. Bernard R. Berelson in his book "Voting" offers the interesting theory that charges of unfairness against the press may stem from the fact that one candidate makes more news than the other and, therefore, his speeches and activities dominate the mind of the newspaper reader.

Example:

Thomas E. Dewey, Des Moines, Sept. 20, 1948: "The Republican party is engaged in this campaign for the express purpose of bringing our people closer together so they can realize their great future and find peace and honor in the world."

Harry Truman, St. Louis, Oct. 30, 1948: "Of all the fake campaigns, this is tops so far as the Republican candidate is concerned."

NOT ON ISSUES

"He has been following me and making speeches about home, mother, unity and efficiency. He won't talk issues."

There isn't any doubt that Truman's speech will stick longer in the newspaper reader's mind and gradually he may come to the conclusion that the press isn't reporting Dewey fairly and fully.

Humor is a risky business for a candidate, but anger can be an asset if it comes across as sincere and righteous. A veteran political tactician gives this formula on how to behave once the mud-slinging starts: "In politics, as in poker, the way to meet scandalous charges is to call 'em and raise 'em. If you are denounced as a fool, call your opponent a damned fool.

CALL HIM BACK

"If he says you are a crook, call him a robber. If he intimates that you are careless with the truth, tell your audience that he is a pathological liar."

Another useful technique is to take the offensive immediately against your opponent by asking an unanswerable question. Lyndon B. Johnson, running for vice president in 1960, proved to be an adept practitioner of it when his train rolled into the small town of Culpeper, Va.

He went to the platform of the rear car, waved to the crowd and shouted: "What did Dick Nixon ever do for Culpeper?" Nobody could recall that Nixon had ever done anything for Culpeper, and the campaign train rolled away without anybody inquiring what Lyndon B. Johnson had ever done for Culpeper.

Voters who make up the television audience for a political speech are an elusive lot, and a candidate can never be quite sure how to handle them.

FAVORITE SHOW

He knows, for instance, that a fair cross-section of them are going to resent his appearance because he has forced the cancellation of a favorite program.

Millions of persons are more faithful to "The Beverly Hillsbillies" and "Gunsmoke" than they are to political parties.

He also knows that a majority of the viewers already are in his camp, because Americans dislike political controversy in the home and prefer to listen to arguments with which they agree.

Berelson's study of voters' habits indicates only one-third of the people are "greatly interested" in politics, and the candidate's audience is most likely to consist of:

Persons who have graduated from college and are past 45 years of age. Persons of high economic status—say an annual income of $12,000 or more—are twice as likely to listen as those of low status. Men are more interested than women.

Tomorrow: The issues—what really excites the voters?

NEW YORK (AP) — Painful corns disappear with injections of a spongy plastic between the corn and the bone underneath, reports Dr. Irwin Acker of Greensboro, N.C.

He told the annual meeting of the American Podiatry Association Tuesday, "the plastic acts as a mattress or shock absorber takes pressure off the afflicted area."

Israeli Officer Shatters Tradition With Critique on U.S. Marines

WASHINGTON (AP) — Once upon a time, a U.S. Marine Corps squad was supposed to consist of 16 men and a publicist sergeant.

This was, of course, sour grapes from Army types.

President Harry S. Truman once accused the Marines of possessing a "propaganda machine that is almost equal to Stalin's."

Truman couldn't have done worse if he had criticized motherhood. He subsequently apologized for his "unfortunate choice of language."

In brief, it usually is about as safe to criticize Marines as it is to lift beagles by their ears.

Now, practically for the first time in living memory, there has been an independent critique of the Marines which has been published recently although in Hebrew.

It is addressed to the question: Are the Marines really as good as they say they are?

While it is a natural question, it is one that would never occur to a Marine.

The critique was written by a lieutenant colonel named Shaked — first name unavailable — and appeared as a two-part series in the magazine "Ma'Araketh," official publication of the Israeli general staff.

FINE IMPARTIALITY

With fine impartiality, Lt. Col. Shaked, who was one of seven Israeli officers who spent a year observing the Marines, found 14 things to the Marines' credit and 14 which he considered were on the debit side.

In general, Shaked found that the high self-esteem with which the Marines customarily regard themselves was justified.

In passing, it might be noted that there is an affinity between the Israeli armed forces and the Marines which goes back over 15 years and may come as a surprise even to Shaked.

One of the best-kept secrets of those years is the fact that a few Marine Reservists helped train some of the Israeli commandos shortly after the nation was formed in 1948.

VERY UNOFFICIAL.

The presence of these Marines was all very unofficial, of course.

In 1948-49 some Marine Reserve officers, all combat veterans of World War II and all of Jewish ancestry, went to France ostensibly as tourists. The exact number is not public.

They boarded Israeli-bound vessels in Marseilles at intervals without bothering to notify the French of their departure. They returned the same way.

The intervening months were spent training Israeli commandos in amphibious techniques and hit-and-run raids. One of these Reserve officers, who volunteered for active duty, turned up in Korea. He was a major and over a beer or two would tell of his experiences.

MAJOR FAULTS

Anyhow, Shaked really found only two things he classed as really major faults. One involved officers and the other, night operations.

By Israeli standards, Shaked said, Marine officers were "too orthodox;" they preferred "the safe and easy course of doing everything by the book as taught at Marine Corps schools."

He added that the Marine officers were "unwilling to risk daring and unorthodox solutions."

Shaked also found that Marine junior officers were too young and inexperienced in relation to their noncommissioned officers. He noted that only 25 per cent of the Marine's officers came up from the ranks whereas all officers in the Israeli Army had served at least a year as an enlisted man.

LACK OF EMPHASIS

The lieutenant colonel was critical of what he said was a lack of emphasis on operations at night and during bad weather. It is at these times, he said, that surprise attacks could be improvised and carried out.

Part of his criticism dealt with what he said was a shortage of self-propelled artillery and heavy mortars.

These criticisms aside,

Shaked characterized the Marines as a unique, outstanding outfit "without a parallel among the best armies in the world."

Shaked said Marine aviation was doubtless "the world's best and most efficient ground support force."

MOST EFFICIENT

Marine recruit training was called by Shaked "the finest and most efficient in existence." He said the Marines were well-disciplined, extremely skillful with small arms, that they had superior instruction and that their senior officers were first-rate in the execution of combined operations.

Shaked concluded that the Israeli armed forces could learn a great deal from the Marines.

What do the Marines say about Shaked's 28 points? They agree wholeheartedly with the 14 good points. Now, about those 14 not-so-good points:

A Marine Corps spokesman delivered this official view:

"Comments regarding shortcomings of Marine Corps equipment and training are not in consonance with current Department of Defense, Navy and Marine Corps decisions regarding requirements, or the degree to which these requirements have been met."

NO REBUTAL

"It is not considered necessary, or desirable, to rebut the comments point by point."

Still others are Gary C. Taylor, 201 Meribath, Highland Township; Thomas M. Terry, 8551 Allen, Independence Township; Ophils F. Wheeler, 405 E. Long Lake, Bloomfield Hills; and Joseph J. Willis, 6497 Graham, Waterford Township.

Robert C. Barnard, 119 Marion, Waterford Township, and Robert D. Haskin, 2607 Melvin, Avon Township, were ordered to show proof of financial responsibility due to unsatisfactory financial judgment against them.

Space Trainees in Survival Test

RENO, Nev. (AP) — America's third crop of space travelers, sticking close to the ground this week, headed into the western Nevada desert today to sweat it out among the wildlife and sagebrush.

They'll be 30 miles from civilization, with only two quarts of water and a survival kit until Friday. If the astronauts wish to eat, they'll have to forage food from plants and animals.

The 14 space trainees make up the third astronaut class to undergo survival training at Stead Air Force Base north of Reno.

What makes Canada Dry Bitter Lemon better?
We throw out the seeds and skins.

Not because it's just a lemonade.
It's because it's the only one that has the real lemon taste of the fruit.

We figure as long as you wouldn't eat lemon seeds or skins, why expect you to drink them? So we take the time and the trouble (and a lot more lemons) to use only the luscious, juicy hearts of lemon in Canada Dry Bitter Lemon.

And it pays off. We get a fresher lemon taste, a smooth sophisticated flavor with just the proper tartness to it. (The bitter part comes from quinine, did you know that?) Those tiny bubbles mean pinpoint carbonation—something else you won't see elsewhere. For a refreshing sensation, try some Canada Dry Bitter Lemon in a tall glass with ice and gin, or rum, or vodka, or whatever you like.

Bitter Lemon's not made for kids' tastes, really. It's probably the only soft drink that'll still be in the refrigerator when Daddy comes home.

Expatriate Farmer Still an Individualist

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—The expatriate Michigan poultry farmer Stanley Yankus leaned back in a swivel chair at his desk and said: "Sen. Barry Goldwater appears to be the best presidential material the United States has seen for 30-odd years."

Yankus, a rebel against controls in the United States, came to Australia five years ago. He still believes in individualism, and the need to abolish controls, especially commodity control authorities like egg boards, potato boards, milk boards and wheat boards, all of which Australia has.

Yankus, a rebel against control at Dowagiac, Mich., in 1959 when he was fined $5,000 for planting 35 acres of wheat when U. S. government planners told him he could plant only 15 acres.

He talked freely to a reporter, but refused to permit a photographer to take a 1964 picture.

HE'S POLITICIAN

"I believe Goldwater is right," he said, "But, and let me stress this, I will not judge Goldwater by what he says but by what he does. He is a politician. He is interested in becoming president. To achieve this Goldwater will say and do things which are contrary to his own personal beliefs."

"Goldwater voted against the present civil rights bill ... what a misnomer!"

"The civil rights bill, as constituted, is a travesty. It cuts right across those three fundamental human rights ... the right to life ... the right to liberty and the right to own property."

"This bill gives anybody, Negro or white, the right to impose his will over the wishes of property owners such as cafe proprietors, swimming pool operators, hotel keepers, clothing establishment owners and the like."

SHOULD HAVE RIGHT

"If I own a cafe or a shop or a swimming pool, I should have the right to say whom I shall admit."

"Goldwater, from what I have read, is against such man-made curtailments of our fundamental liberties. So, I am for Goldwater ... or would be if I were back in America."

Yankus recalled that he had labeled the former Republican presidential candidate, Richard Nixon, and the late President John F. Kennedy as "too much alike and too much for controls."

Yankus said that a patent he shared had been perfected and put on the market in Australia. It is a gadget for helping string wires for fencing properties.

LOST MONEY

"Actually, I lost money on this deal," he said. "I guess it cost me about 100 pounds ($250). The gadget enables one man and a tractor to do the work of two men. It costs 47 pounds ($105) to be fitted."

"But it just did not sell. The firm making it for me pushed it and advertised it. But Australian farmers are as much set in their ways as American farmers and do not take kindly to innovations."

Yankus still retains his old love of farming. Nostalgically he discussed the possibilities of starting chicken farming in Australia.

"There is an egg board here, and that means controls. There is no incentive for a fresh product."

NOT SO YOUNG

"I do not think my wife and family would want to move now. And thirdly, I am not as young as I was."

Yankus works as a commercial traveler for the big Adelaide electrical firm of Oliver J. Nielsen.

He travels extensively in the country and meets many farmers. His $13,000 home in suburban Grange is only five minutes drive from one of Adelaide's main swimming beaches.

"I have a good job, my two boys now are working and my

BOYS INTERESTS

His eldest boy, Russell, is now 18, Dennis is 17 and Karen is 9. Both boys are interested in autos, both are trained in trades.

Asked whether any members of the family wanted to go back to America, he smiled.

"Russell and Dennis have spoken of it, but I think the wish is slowly dying," he said. "My boys are both interested in Australian rules football as they played it at their school. They even play cricket!"

Hospital Needs Checkup

MOSCOW (UPI)—The newspaper Medical Gazette reports that Moscow's hospital number 60 is new but:

- It is filled with cockroaches.
- The elevators take patients up all nine floors but for economy's sake will take no one down.
- All the patients' pajamas are full of holes.
- The drainpipes are rusty and ugly.
- The new building's plaster is crumbling.

'Always the Greatest'

By PAT WERNER

Whenever it's baseball season again I think about the career of Lefty Morrison. Maybe he wasn't the best pitcher in the league, but to me he'll always be the greatest.

Back in my 14th summer, I was a gangly ex-tenor, adjusting to lipstick and high heels. I also had a crush on that lean, sandy-haired, 20-year-old rookie hero of the mound.

While most of the girls my age were screaming over some crooner, I spent every Sunday afternoon glued to the radio, envisioning the manly Morrison form winding up in the hope of delivering a called strike over the plate.

I am of the generation which grew up before TV became the norm. Poor underprivileged me! But with the radio and my imagination, the tensions mounted and the innings were vividly played in the confines of my head.

I kept hoping Lefty would pitch a no-hitter, and whenever the other team got that first hit, I roared for a one-hitter, a two-hitter, even a shutout. Sometimes I just prayed for Lefty to win.

Sometimes the manager would walk out to the mound, signal the bullpen and Lefty would go to the showers. I almost wept enough tears to supply the moisture when this happened.

I don't know how many halting minutes I snipped when the count was "out to the end of the string."

I only know that I wept whenever Lefty was sent to the showers, for I could picture the downcast look on his dear face and the dejected droop of his broad shoulders.

This did not go unnoticed by my parents. They would have had to get the idea sometime, the way I practically papered my room with pictures of Lefty.

I suspected that my folks were hatching a surprise but I never dreamed it would be anything so exciting.

WAVED TICKETS

When Dad waved those three box-seat tickets for a Sunday doubleheader under my nose, I nearly died of ecstatic anticipation. My exuberant hug almost strangled poor Dad, leaving him with his glasses dangling dangerously from one ear.

We lived 200 miles from Chicago, there was a war on, gas was rationed and, in the lingo of the war effort, this trip was hardly necessary.

So we took the train. We had to get up at 3 in the morning but I was too nervous over the idea of seeing Lefty to have slept anyway. And it was raining.

Dad quoted cheerily, "Rain before 7 stops before 11." I crossed my fingers and hoped and braced my feet. The train was so crowded that Dad and I had to stand. A sailor gave his seat to Mom.

FEET NUMB

By the time we reached the Windy City my feet were numb and my heart was breaking. It was pouring outside.

Dad tried to comfort me by telling me about how they'd have the field covered, and it was still hours before game-time, but I knew somehow that my pretty pink dream was going under in cold mud.

We dove in and out of doorways around the Loop for a while and then called the field. The doubleheader was postponed.

Mom and Dad tried to make it up to me by buying me a lunch at a fancy restaurant and taking me to a stage show, but all I could taste or feel was bitter disappointment.

ONLY CHANCE

Train tickets didn't grow on trees and Dad didn't make a lot of money. I knew this would be my only chance, at least that year.

At home the next day I didn't get out of bed. I had a cold to show for the trip, and a lot of tears to dampen my pillow.

I looked at all those pictures of Lefty and I just had to tell him. I smuggled the stained letter out in my history book and mailed it three days later.

Fall came. Lefty pitched in the Series. I would have almost given my autographed picture of Roy Rogers to have been there.

NEVER ANSWERED

Lefty never answered my letter. I supposed that secretaries took care of those things and some bad-tempered female had thrown it out.

The long red convertible in front of our house that November afternoon puzzled me. I hurried inside.

There Lefty was in our living room! I dropped my books, the ceiling reeled, and I think I would have fainted if Lefty had caught me.

He said he liked my letter and had decided to try to see me the next time he was in our area. I couldn't talk. What do you say to a dream?

NEARLY MELTED

He took us to dinner. He asked me to dance. I nearly melted when he put his arm around me.

I'm 35 now with four kids. What ever happened to Lefty Morrison? That's him out there in the back yard, snoring in the hammock. He's my husband.

South Africa supplies about 70 per cent of the gold produced in the free world.

Young Citizens for Johnson

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Political rally, Hollywood style—"You are cordially invited to join us at a barbecue honoring Miss Luci Baines Johnson and United States Senator Birch Bayh, no solicitation of funds." The telegram was signed: Young Citizens for Johnson Committee—co-chairmen: Natalie Wood, Steve McQueen; entertainment chairman: Vic Damone.

THOMAS

So I went. The scene of the barbecue was a sportsman's estate in the heart of Beverly Hills.

Arriving at the same time were Warren Beatty and Leslie Caron, who were perhaps expecting a smoke-filled room. They were startled to find photographers snapping them, and they promptly turned around and left.

FESTIVE BACK YARD

The big back yard was festive with tables placed around the Roman pool, in the middle of which was a fern-covered float with LBJ spelled out in daisies. A rope barrier was strung around the pool, perhaps out of politicians' wariness of total immersion.

The real action was on the tennis court, where the youthful crowd sipped beer or soft drinks, munched on ribs, chicken and cole slaw, and strained for glimpses of the more famous Democrats. Luci Baines obliged them by meeting the guests at each table. Perky in a white dress, her dark hair shielding one eye in what was once known as Veronica Lake style, she nestled her blistered palm for her trouble.

The genial chairmen received visitors at a table. McQueen said he was strong for President Johnson but wouldn't be able to campaign much "because I'm representing our country in the European food races." Miss Wood said she was proud to be on the steering committee of the Young Democrats for Johnson and, in show biz style, was counting the house. They hoped for 400 for the barbecue, had to turn away many after the 1,100 capacity was reached. Cost for the young Dems: $5 a head.

NO DIFFICULTY
Senator Birch Bayh (D-Ind.) at 36, fitted into the young assemblage with no difficulty. He said the rally was one of 17 across the country "to get the teens, 20s and 30s onto the Johnson team." He is helping to spearhead the drive, but he added his duties do not include learning the Watusi.

Luci Baines displayed her Watusi style in a tuxet with McQueen to the thumping rhythm of the Whisky a Go-Go combo. She performs with the proper loose-jointed, lip-lifting intensity. McQueen gave her able support, being one of the local Watusi experts. Secret Service men, also looking intense, stood by.

Later Luci Baines and the stars made brief speeches, and Bayh urged the guests to join in Watusi—and help register voters of Democratic leanings. He was cheered by his listeners including Shelley Winters, Tommy Sands and Nancy Sinatra, Nick Adams, Doug McClure, George Hamilton, Julie Newmar, James Darren and Don Murray.

THE SECOND TIME AROUND

Only Three Latin American Nations Continue Ties

Chile Breaks Off Diplomatic Relations With Castro's Cuba

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Chile severed relations with Fidel Castro's Communist regime. Only three Latin American nations remained on diplomatic terms with Cuba today after Chile's move isolates Cuba from all its neighbors except Uruguay, Bolivia and Mexico.

The break came only three weeks before Chile's voters are to choose a new president. A hot issue in the campaign is whether U.S. corporations, especially copper companies, should be taken over by the Chilean government.

Some diplomatic observers here think the break with Cuba will hurt the chances of Salvador Allende, a Communist-backed Socialist who is campaigning for president on a soak-the-Americans platform.

The other leading candidate is Christian Democrat Eduardo Frei, a moderate leftist. Although an advocate of reforms, Frei has not suggested that the government take over U.S. corporations.

After the break was announced, Chile's biggest labor organization, the Communist-dominated Central of Workers, said it would retaliate with a nationwide strike. No date has been revealed.

The break with Havana was the first under sanctions voted by the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States July 25 in Washington. The OAS demanded that all both diplomatic and trade ties with Cuba. Although the Chilean announcement said nothing about stopping trade it is expected that such a move will occur.

Last year's trade between Chile and Cuba was valued at about $10 million. Trade so far this year is at about the same level.

SPOKESMAN COMMENTS

Commenting on the Chilean action, a U.S. spokesman said in Washington: "We are naturally pleased."

The OAS sanctions were voted at the request of Venezuela, which claimed that Castro was attempting to overthrow the Venezuelan government.

In the Chilean presidential race, Communists and other leftists have banded together behind Allende in the Popular Action Front.

Long Terms for Bandits in Center Line Robbery

DETROIT (AP)—Two bandits whose loot totaled only $669 in the robbery of a Center Line credit union last Dec. 3 drew long prison sentences Tuesday from U. S. District Judge Thaddeus Machrowicz. Charles J. Shelby, 39, and Donald G. Rogers, 36, both Detroiters, drew terms of 15 and 10 years, respectively, for the holdup of Father Kramer's Federal Credit Union.

News Briefs From Around World

Tito Says Cyprus Tension May Be Due to U.S. Viet Action

BELGRADE (AP) — President Tito said today the Cyprus crisis was perhaps encouraged by the American attack on North Viet Nam.

Tito said in an interview, "These aggressive events provoke a serious concern since they jeopardize those positive achievements that have been arrived at with difficulty."

He said the recent U.S. air attack on North Viet Nam, regardless of what had preceded it, could not be justified in any way.

The Communist leader also criticized the attack on Cyprus by the Turkish Air Force "in which hundreds of peaceful people lost their lives."

GENEVA (AP) — Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft, general secretary of the World Council of Churches, says Pope Paul's encyclical indicates Christian unity is still a long way off.

Dr. Visser't Hooft, whose organization represents 209 Protestant, Anglican and Orthodox denominations, said Tuesday it was "encouraging" that the Pope emphasized the necessity of continued dialogue among all Christians.

But he added: "The concept of dialogue which the encyclical develops is not quite the same as that which we have used and practiced for many years in the ecumenical movement. According to the encyclical, dialogue is mainly a form of communication of the truth which the Roman Catholic Church holds."

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP) — Ceylon's press faces new controls aimed at curbing concentration of newspaper ownership.

Meningitis Scare Is Apparently Over

FT. ORD, Calif. (AP) — Army officials say a meningitis outbreak that has claimed 10 lives at Ft. Ord apparently has been controlled.

Post Surgeon Roland B. Signafoos said Tuesday, "We still have nine patients in the hospital, but, thankfully, all are now off the serious list."

The disease has stricken 61 persons so far this year at this Army training base. Nine soldiers and a child, a military dependent, have died of the disease.

and criticism of the government.

Prime Minister Sirimavo Bandaranaike approved Tuesday the establishment of a press council and tribunal to carry out the recommendations of a three-man study commission.

The commission suggested that the tribunal draft a code of ethics for newspapers, fix prices and advertising rates, license reporters and pave the way for the nationalization of Ceylon's largest newspaper group, Associated Newspapers of Ceylon Ltd.

The commission also recommended that the second largest group, Times Ceylon Ltd., be run as a cooperative and that the government establish a national news agency.

MOSCOW (AP) — The skipper of the Soviet cruise ship Gruzia says only the skill of his sailors prevented a collision with the U.S. destroyer Ketchikan on a trip to Cuba.

"There was a moment when a collision with the U.S. destroyer seemed inevitable," Capt. T. Makatsky was quoted as saying in the government newspaper Izvestia Tuesday. "Many of the U.S. sailors rushed on deck wearing lifejackets."

The captain also said the say where or when the incidents Gruzia was buzzed several times by U.S. planes. He did not

Fry Potatoes Mix With Nuts

For a delightful vegetable dinner, serve spinach and broiled tomatoes with these Spanish potatoes crunchy with almonds.

4 medium potatoes, peeled thinly-sliced
2 large onions, thinly-sliced
1 pimiento, cut in silvers
1/4 cup Spanish olive oil
1/4 teaspoon saffron
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 cup coarsely-chopped almonds

Place potatoes, onions, and pimiento in the olive oil over moderate heat, sprinkling with salt and saffron. (If leaf saffron is used, crumble into a powder between fingers.) Cover lightly; stir once or twice to prevent sticking. During last 5 minutes add chopped almonds. Serves 6.

Colorful Is Word for This Dish

Three foods stack up to good eating in a new cranberry-pineapple-ham ball entree. All three are baked on a foil-lined shallow pan and assembled when taken from the oven.

A slice of cranberry sauce tops each pineapple ring on the pan. The sauce is covered with a crumbly mixture of brown sugar and butter. Then balls or scoops of a tasty ham loaf mixture are lined on the same pan for baking.

When ready to serve the ham balls are stacked on the fruit rings for a colorful and flavorful meat dish.

Cranberry-Pineapple-Ham Balls
2 cups ground cooked ham
1/4 cup rolled cracker crumbs
1 egg, beaten
1 tablespoon thick meat sauce
1 tablespoon minced onion
1/4 cup milk
Salt and pepper to taste

1 lb. jellied cranberry sauce
1 lb. 14-oz can pineapple slices, drained
1 tablespoon butter
1/4 cup brown sugar

Combine first 7 ingredients and mix thoroughly but lightly. Form into 8-10 balls using ice cream scoop. Place on foil-lined shallow pan.

Put cranberry sauce into 8 slices. Place each on a pineapple ring and set on foil-lined pan with the ham balls.

Sprinkle cranberry-pineapple rings with crumbly mixture of butter and brown sugar. Bake in 400 degree oven for 15 minutes.

Freeze Marshmallows

Marshmallows make welcome surprises in salads and desserts. To keep your supply from getting dry and brittle, keep them in a plastic freezer bag, tucked away on a miscellaneous shelf in your freezer. When needed, take marshmallows out of freezer and cut them into mix while they are still "fresher cold". Frozen marshmallows won't stick to scissors.

If you use custard cups for baking popovers, you'll do well to place them on a cookie sheet for the baking.

Cook Tender, Juicy Scallops

Pontiac Press Food Editor
Visitors to New England, especially Massachusetts, can eat scallops in their native element. They are so popular there that a whole week is devoted to a scallop festival.

Here in the Midwest, we can buy frozen scallops at any time of the year.

For those who have never tried this form of seafood, let us say that they are about as "unfussy" as anything can be. They are sweet and tender and juicy morsels of white flesh—that is, if they are cooked properly.

Not long ago we tried the following recipe for a dinner menu. Both family and guests enjoyed it. We used frozen scallops, letting them thaw all day in the refrigerator.

This is a wonderful quick recipe.

Baked New Bedford Scallops

1 pound (1 pint) sea scallops
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup margarine
1/4 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup ketchup
1 teaspoon freeze dried chopped shallots
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Quarter scallops. Sprinkle with lemon juice. Melt margarine. Add bread crumbs, green pepper, ketchup, shallots, Worcestershire sauce, salt and pepper; mix well.

Spoon scallops evenly into 4 individual baking dishes or scallop shells. Sprinkle with crumb mixture. Bake in 350 degrees F. (moderate) oven 25 minutes. Makes 4 servings.

One home economist says that you can substitute scallops in many meat dishes. Try them instead of meat in a cheese and noodle casserole.

Scallops can be broiled on the outdoor grill or indoor hibachi. Just don't overcook them in any way or they'll be tough.

Charcoal Broiled Scallops
Brush skewered scallops, with a well-mixed combination of 1/4 cup honey, 1/4 cup prepared mustard, 2 teaspoons curry powder, and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Broil 10 minutes, turning often. Serve on bed of hot rice.

Another interesting way of preparing scallops is in fritters.

Scallop Fritters
1 pound sea scallops, fresh or frozen
1 1/2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 teaspoon salt

Blue Cheese Handy as Zesty Topping

Looking for a versatile spread?

Try fixing equal parts of butter and American blue cheese. This spread is delicious as a topping for burgers and baked potatoes.

It also can be used on French bread just before it is popped into the oven.

Now that the outdoor cooking season is here, use the butter and blue cheese spread on barbecued steaks.

Dad will think he has invented something new, so don't tell him good cooks have combined beef and blue cheese for many years!

1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup scallop broth
2 eggs, slightly beaten

Defrost scallops, if frozen. Dice. Simmer 5 minutes in water to cover. Drain; save 1/2 cup broth.

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and pepper; add to diced scallops with broth and eggs; mix well. Drop by tablespoons into a little hot vegetable oil; brown on both sides; drain on absorbent paper. Makes about 18 medium-sized fritters.

Serve with creamed tomato-mushroom sauce heated to serving temperature. Makes 6 servings.

Top Melon Appetizer With Ginger Ale

Alternate rows of cantaloupe and honeydew melon balls with shredded coconut in parfait glasses. Chill thoroughly. Just before serving top each glass with a teaspoon of ginger ale which has been frozen in an ice cube tray until frosty. Garnish with fresh mint.

It takes approximately 1 medium cantaloupe, 1/4 honeydew melon and 1 1/2 cans coconut to make 6 parfait servings.

Fresh Corn Pudding

A corn pudding, that is as delectable as it is delicate, is simple to prepare. Use your favorite baked custard recipe, omit the sugar and the flavoring and add two cups of sweet corn cut from the cob. Bake as usual. Good!

Broiled Tomatoes

If you have never served broiled fresh tomatoes, you have a taste treat in store for you. Slice $\frac{1}{2}$ to $\frac{3}{4}$ inch thick, season with salt and pepper and brush with melted butter. Slide under the broiler (5 to 6 minutes) or just until well heated through and slightly golden brown on top.

Peachy Sauce

Crush peeled, pitted peaches using a small can, like a soup can, with both ends cut out. Add the juice of half a lemon and $\frac{1}{4}$ cup of sugar for every cup of crushed peaches. Pour this sauce over any ice cream... but especially over raspberry sherbet.

Veal Chops Are Stuffed and Baked

Dressed up veal chops make a big hit at special parties. Delicious, full of taste surprise, a gourmet dish, they are fairly quick to prepare. Boiled ham and good Swiss cheese combine with the tender veal to produce one variety of this fancy fare.

Veal Chops Neapolitan
Four veal chops 1 inch thick

(2 pounds)
2 slices boiled ham
2 slices Swiss cheese $\frac{1}{4}$ inch thick
2 teaspoons kitchen bouquet
2 tablespoons fat
 $\frac{1}{2}$ teaspoon salt
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon marjoram
 $\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon pepper
Have butcher cut a pocket in each chop. Cut ham and cheese in half (or large enough to fit into pocket of chop) and fill each chop with a slice of each. Brush chops with kitchen bouquet.

Melt fat over moderate heat in a large frying pan. Cook chops until brown on each side.

Transfer meat to a 12x3 baking dish. Add seasoning and bake, uncovered, in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 45 minutes.

Tops Aren't Needed

Cut off tops of vegetables before storing since the tops draw moisture and food value from the vegetables themselves, leaving them wilted and limp.

Gourmet Sundae

Polynesian Kiss is the name of an elegant pineapple sundae specialty from one of Carmel-by-the-Sea, California's, gourmet restaurants. Cover a scoop of vanilla ice cream with canned pineapple chunks and a few fresh green grapes. Top generously with brandy flavored whipped cream and garnish with dots of ruby currant jelly.

Dairy Statistics

In 1964, according to the U.S. Department of Agriculture, American civilians consumed more milk, cream, ice cream, condensed milk and nonfat dry milk, than the year before. However, less butter, evaporated milk and dry whole milk were used.

Cold Juice

When going on a picnic place two or three cans of frozen juice inside a towel in your picnic basket. This will keep food chilled and the juice will be ready to mix and serve as a beverage.

For Sunday brunch you might enjoy serving poached eggs on toast with a cheese sauce made with grated Parmesan.

Honey Sauce, Cantaloupe for Syndae

For a tempting summer dessert flowing with the sweetness of Honey, the chill of sherbet and the delicate flavor of fresh cantaloupe, prepare Sundae Mellifluous.

Alternating cantaloupe slices and frosty pineapple sherbet swirled with Honey sauce make the sundae pretty for parties. Yet even though it appears elaborate, this dish isn't difficult or time consuming to make. Let it shine with the summer sun at luncheons, garden parties or backyard picnics. After the sun goes down don't forget the Sundae may shine anyway for dinner desserts, buffet suppers or late evening entertaining.

SUNDAE MELLIFLOUS
1 medium cantaloupe

1 pint orange or pineapple sherbet

Syrup

½ cup sugar
½ cup water
¾ cup honey
1 tablespoon chopped crystallized ginger

Dash orange rind
Cook syrup ingredients together for about 15 minutes, or until it starts to thicken. Chill overnight. Makes ½ cup.

Remove rind from cantaloupe. Cut in half and remove seeds. Cut slices to fit serving dish. Alternate with sherbet. Pour sauce over cantaloupe and ice cream when ready to serve.

Capers take to egg and shrimp dishes as well as to lamb.

Canned Corn Takes Well to Flavorings

With a turn of her wrist, a simple dish of corn can be fancied up by a new flavor interest.

For example, home economists with the U.S. Department of Agriculture suggest stirring grated sharp cheddar cheese into heated cream style corn. Garnish individual dishes with sliced ripe olives. Or, accent heated cream style corn with brown sugar, salt and pepper. For a finishing touch on this variation, sprinkle each serving with crisp bacon crumbles.

Add a dozen or so more flavor changes by seasoning canned corn with any one or a combination of: celery salt, onion salt, garlic salt, chili sauce, chili powder, paprika, nutmeg, marjoram, thyme or dried sage.

Last summer's bumper crop of top quality corn is still in season — in cans. Canned corn, according to USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, continues to be abundant, for your convenience.

Shrimp Dish Is Low in Calories

Summer is the natural time to go on a diet since salads and other popular warm-weather foods are generally low in calories. Yet in spite of the soaring thermometer, hot dishes are often a welcome change in the diet plan. These, too, can be very low in calories.

Since protein, vitamins and minerals are more important than ever when you're dieting, seafoods should be your first choice for both hot and cold dishes. Most fish and shellfish are lower in calories than other comparable high-protein foods, and have a "high-satiety value." This, translated, means that seafoods are extremely satisfying to the appetite; they have "staying power."

This summer diet special, Shrimp in Tomato Sauce, a hot dish that's low in calories was developed for you by the Shrimp Association of the Americas.

Low-Calorie Shrimp in Tomato Sauce

1 pound shrimp, fresh or frozen
2 onions, sliced
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
½ cup instant non-fat dry milk
2 tablespoons flour
1 (1-pound 3-ounce) can tomatoes (2 cups)
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Clean and cook shrimp. Cook onion in butter or margarine until soft. Thoroughly mix milk, flour, tomatoes, salt and pepper. Add to onions and cook, stirring, until mixture thickens.

Add shrimp and cook until shrimp are heated through. Serve with a border of toast or low-calorie wafers. Makes 4 servings.

Study Diet Ways With Chicken

If you are making a casserole or chicken stew recipe that calls for browning the bird before combining it with other ingredients, brown the chicken in the broiler rather than in a skillet with fat. It's a simple calorie saver.

Chicken broth is a great diet snack. For the diet broth, make the chicken soup in the usual way but skim the fat well from time to time as the soup is simmering. Or chill; the fat rises to the top and can be removed easily.

If you yearn for fried chicken but your diet forbids, try oven-fried chicken — like the fried variety, it has a pleasant, crisp crust. Dip the chicken pieces in evaporated milk and in seasoned corn flake crumbs; arrange on a baking pan lined with aluminum foil.

Bake for one hour, or until tender, in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) — and you will have splendid juicy, golden-brown crusty chicken.

Walking Salads Appeal to Young Hikers, Campers

Walking salads are fun to fix for hikers and campers. Iceberg lettuce leaves spread with peanut butter and real mayonnaise, rolled around carrot and celery sticks, are easy to munch on a walk through the woods. Hence the name, walking salads. Blend 1 cup each peanut butter and real mayonnaise. Spread center leaves of lettuce (they're easier for small hands to manage than large leaves) with peanut butter-mayonnaise mixture.

Prepare a dozen carrot sticks; celery sticks; green pepper strips, or a combination of all three. Place in lettuce leaves and roll up. Wrap in aluminum foil or transparent film. Makes 12 to 14 salads.

If you are going to fix these salads at the cookout, fresh fruits such as bananas and apples (which turn dark if salads are made ahead), may be used.

In that case blend ½ cup honey with the 1 cup peanut butter to spread on lettuce leaves.

Blueberry Pie Needs Nothing to Enhance It

No extra flavoring goes into this pie so the real blueberry fan will be for it!

Plain Blueberry Pie
2 tablespoons quick-cooking tapioca
¾ cup sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
1 quart large fresh blueberries
Pastry for 2-crust 9-inch pie
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
Milk
In a medium mixing bowl stir together thoroughly the tapioca, sugar and salt. Add blueberries and mix gently.

Turn into pastry lined 9-inch pie plate; dot with butter. Top with pastry, flute and seal; cut several vents in top pastry; brush with milk.

Bake in a hot (425 degrees) oven about 50 minutes or until browned. Cool enough to allow filling to set somewhat before serving.

To Keep Color

Lift the cover of your sauce pan several times while cooking green vegetables. This helps preserve the color of the food.

Freeze Coffee Cubes

Summertime is ice-coffee time, and here's an easy way to always see that the supply meets demand for the warm days ahead. Just pour leftover brew coffee into ice-cube trays and freeze. Pop frozen coffee cubes into plastic bags and into the freezer. Use instead of ice cubes when hot weather calls for iced coffee.

Preheat First

Place your candy thermometer in a pan of water and heat to boiling point before putting it in hot candy. This will keep the thermometer from breaking.

Fruit Gingerbread Baked in Ring

Take two things that memories are made of. The fresh sweet cultivated blueberries of summer, and homemade gingerbread. Combine them to make a cake that will be remembered summer after summer until and after those boys and girls are all grown up.

If your offspring have already started making their own family traditions, introduce this Blueberry Gingerbread to them as soon as possible. It is one of the most interesting and valuable summertime culinary heirlooms you can pass along.

It packs. It packs on boats, beaches, campsites, over hill and dale. Packed in picnic baskets or hamper it emerges moist, tasty, fragrant and all in one neat beautiful ring-mold shape. Even the shape will be remembered years later.

Of course, the most memorable thing about this cake is the remarkable taste of those remarkable cultivated blueberries, happily wedded to gingerbread.

Blueberry Gingerbread
1½ cups fresh cultivated blueberries
½ cup butter
¾ cup sugar
2 eggs, unbeaten
1 cup buttermilk
1 cup molasses
2½ cups pre-sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
1 tablespoon powdered ginger

Rinse fresh cultivated blueberries in colander and spread on paper towels to dry thoroughly. Add eggs, buttermilk and molasses, mixing well. Sift together flour, baking soda and ginger. Gradually add flour mixture to molasses mixture, stirring until well blended. Do not overbeat. Carefully fold in blueberries and pour immediately into well greased and floured 9-inch ring mold. Bake in preheated oven at 350 degrees for about 40 minutes. Unmold while still warm.

Grill Zucchini in Foil Pack With Cheese

If you've never cooked fresh vegetables over a barbecue, then you have a treat in store. Try zucchini and onion in a tangy dressing... cooked in aluminum foil over hot coals, these are delicious vegetable dishes.

Barbecued Zucchini and Onions
4 zucchini, sliced
1 medium onion, sliced
1 package dry Italian salad dressing mix
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
¼ cup salad oil
2 tablespoons grated Parmesan cheese

Place sliced zucchini and onion on a sheet of heavy duty aluminum foil and fold up sides slightly to make a container. To the dry salad dressing mix add vinegar and oil; pour over vegetables and sprinkle all with Parmesan cheese.

Fold foil to make a well-sealed packet and place on grill over hot coals for 30-35 minutes, turning once while cooking.

Panic Time Nearing for Yogi Berra

By The Associated Press

Yogi Berra isn't reaching for the panic button yet. But the New York Yankee manager might have his eye on it.

The Yanks continued to fizzle Tuesday, dropping a day-night doubleheader to the Chicago White Sox 6-4 and 8-2.

And August is usually the month the Yankee guns united and New York breezes along to the American League flag. But this year Berra's Bombers seem to be packing water pistols instead of heavy artillery.

The White Sox, who had lost 10 straight to New York, weren't about to extend that string. Pete Ward stroked three hits including his 17th home run and drove in four runs as Chicago snapped the streak with the afternoon victory.

They were even more convincing in the nightcap as Ward had three more hits and Juan Pizarro fired a five-hitter winning his 15th game. Pizarro added insult to injury by capping a five-run Chicago blast in the sixth inning with his third homer of the year — a three-run shot into the right field bleachers.

LEAD CUT

The double victory pulled the White Sox to within one game of the league-leading Baltimore Orioles who edged the Boston Red Sox 8-7. Elsewhere in the American League, Washington whipped Kansas City 5-2, Minnesota downed Detroit 5-3 and Cleveland shut out Los Angeles 3-0.

The losses dropped the three place Yankees 3½ games off the pace, gave them five defeats in six games against Baltimore and Chicago in the last week and left Berra worried.

"The club is down," the rookie manager said. "We're not there. We're just in a rut. We're just not hitting. We can't seem to get that big inning. We picked a heck of a time to go into a slump."

Baltimore got three two-run homers — the last one Boog

Powell's 30th circuit clout of the season — to whip the Red Sox. Brooks Robinson and Sam Bowens also connected for the Orioles who beat relief ace Dick Radatz.

Jim King and Don Lock homered to back up Claude Osteen's pitching for the Senators' victory. Osteen, who won his 11th, was replaced by Jim Haman in the seventh. Nelson Mathews homered for the Athletics in the ninth.

Rookie Luis Tiant won his fifth game, a four-hitter, and Max Alvis belted a three-run homer in the ninth inning for all the runs as the Indians blanked the Angels. Alvis' shot, his 13th homer of the season, was the third baseman's first hit since returning to the line-up after missing a month because of spinal meningitis.

Local Squads in Playoff Tilt

Auburn Heights Boys Club and the Waterford Firefighters, Class D baseball champions of Pontiac and Waterford Township, respectively, will play off their district contest at 5:30 p.m. today at Jaycee Park.

The game was postponed yesterday by wet grounds. The winner then will journey to Jackson tomorrow for the state recreation association's regional competition.

Also making the trip to Jackson Thursday will be the Yankees and Northside Kiwanis, WHITE SOX END DROUGHT — Pitcher Juan Pizarro (center) displays his muscles for teammates Bill Skowron (left) and Pete Ward after he had set the New York Yankees down on five hits, 8-2, running his record to 15-4. Pizarro also clubbed a three-run homer to spark the Sox attack. Skowron and Ward collected three hits each in the second game, giving Chicago a sweep of the day-night doubleheader. Sox had dropped 10 straight to the Yanks before yesterday's meetings.

Coach Howie Pollet of the St. Louis Cardinals won 12 straight games pitting with Houston in the Texas League in 1940.

Named to Hall of Fame

NEW YORK (AP) — Ten more names were added today to the National Football Foundation's Hall of Fame, including Earl H. Blaik, former coach at Dartmouth and Army who originated the lonely end formation.

The players honored were Charles O. Carroll, University of Washington fullback 1926-28; Ray R. Evans, Kansas University fullback 1941-42-46-47; Robert J. Herwig, University of California center 1935-37; Allison Hubert, University of Alabama fullback 1922-25; William N. Mallory, Yale University fullback 1921-23.

William Kyle Rote, Southern Methodist University halfback 1948-50; W. Earl Sprackling, Brown University quarterback 1908-11; Langdon Lea, Princeton tackle, 1892-95; and Charles R. Rinehart, Lafayette guard, 1894-97.

Lea, Rinehart and Mallory are dead.

No. 1 SHOOTING FAMILY—Mr. and Mrs. Paul Pace of Pontiac won Michigan Shotgun Championships last Sunday at the Williams Gun Sight Co. ranges at Davison. This was the second championship for each shooter. Paul won the men's title in a shootoff while his wife had an easier time in the women's division.

Pace Family Dominates State Shoot

The Pace family of Pontiac has taken control of the Michigan Shotgun Championships.

Paul became the first men's division two-time winner Sunday while his wife Muriel copped the women's trophy for the third time.

Pace, who captured the title in 1958, needed a shootoff in the 10th annual meet at Williams Gun Sight Co. near Davison.

He tied Saginaw's Robert Cashman with 72 out of 75 and won the shootoff in the practice bird field, 19-18.

Other finishers, in order, were Stuart Fleming, Grand Blanc; Iliis McColley, Flint; Jack Van Housen, Greenville; Jay Howlett, Davison; Fred Bauman, Lapeer; Fred Ozark, Fairhaven; Darrell Stringfield, St. Clair Shores; and Flint's Max Carpenter.

Don Cohagen Jr. of Birmingham won the junior division with a 63 x 75. Colby Pace, 11, following in the footsteps of his parents, took sub-junior honors with a 45 x 75.

TOP WINNER
Mrs. Pace's title makes her top winner since the shoot started.

Ted Hannaford of Warren won the veteran's class with a 68 and teamed with Flint's Wayne Sommerlot to take the veterans two-man trophy. Howlett and McColley won the regular team honors.

Howlett, the defending men's champion, fired a sharp 74 in Saturday's preliminary, but fell off badly Sunday.

The non-resident championship was won by Joe Haggerty of Fremont, Ohio.

Two Jockeys Hurt, Horse Dies in Spill

DETROIT (AP) — Two jockeys were hurt and a horse died in a spill in the second race at the Detroit Race Course Tuesday.

Track steward Henry Hauer said the horse that caused the spill, Home Town Hero owned by William Miller, may have suffered a heart attack.

Jockeys Victor Milligan, 33, of Redding, Pa., riding Home Town Hero, and Calvin Stone, 26, of Davis, Okla., up on Pharakin, were injured.

VEERED OUT

Witnesses said Home Town Hero veered out to the middle of the track in the stretch and striking four horses, wrecking Pharakin. Pharakin went down, taking Stone down with him.

As Home Town Hero hit the rail, splintering it, Milligan was thrown off. Home Town Hero ran into the infield, then collapsed. The horse was dead when track veterinarians reached him.

Dube, running in front of the spill, went on to win the race.

Tiger Team Remembers Park's 'Peg'

DETROIT (AP) — For eighteen seasons Mrs. Margaret McGarry of Detroit stood behind concession stand number 22 in Tiger Stadium dispensing hot dogs and drinks to players and fans.

If she looked toward home plate she could watch her son, Dennis "Peanuts" McGarry, scurrying around collecting balls as bat boy for the Tigers or the visitors from 1952 to 1955.

Recently, however, "Peg," as she is known at the ballpark, suffered a massive stroke and was hospitalized.

This week she celebrated her 55th birthday. Her family staged a party for her in the hospital, but there was more.

The Tigers remembered her too and the next day third baseman Don Wert showed up bearing a gift, something Peg had always wanted and never had—a baseball autographed by the Tiger team.

German Title Decided

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — Wilhelm Bungert, a semifinalist at Wimbledon this year, won the men's singles title in the international West German tennis championships Tuesday by defeating fellow West German Christian Kuhnke 6-6, 6-4, 7-5, 6-2.

Softball Playoffs Tonight at 2 Sites

Rain washed out last night's softball playoff slate but with cooperation from the weather, men six teams will continue the battles tonight.

Bud & Lou will take on Pontiac State Hospital at 7 p.m. at Beaudette in the second game of their two-game knockout series in the National League's lower bracket. Bud & Lou leads 1-0.

In the second game at Beaudette, Lyttell-Collegrove has an 8-30 date with Buckner Finance in the lower bracket of the International League. Buckner leads 1-0.

In the upper bracket of the International league, at Northside, undefeated Motorcar Transport meets Local No. 653 at 7 p.m. The loser moving into a 6th with the Pontiac Merchants tomorrow at 7 p.m.

Pontiac Dog Show Goes 'Over Top'

PKC Records
739 Canines for Program

Best-in-Show Award
by The Pontiac Press
at Waterford High

The Pontiac Kennel Club has blown its top.

No, the PKC members aren't mad. Their collective cup runneth over with joy.

A new record for entries in the annual summer show has been established. The total entry of 748 is 214 over the previous high for a PKC show.

The dogs will begin parading before the judges Sunday at 9 a.m. at the Waterford Township High School football field. The Pontiac Press Best-in-Show trophy is the top award.

Because this is the largest entry in the history of the club, additional tents have been ordered. Another judge has been added to the panel, too.

Poodle admirers will have a wide choice. There are 69 entered—miniature, standard and toy. German shepherd dogs and cocker spaniels are next in line with 46 each and then come the boxers with 38.

A not too well known breed, the American water spaniel will be represented by five entries.

SEVEN RINGS

Judging will take place in seven rings during the morning. Obedience with 23 entries will start at 10 a.m.

Junior showmanship is scheduled for 2:30 p.m.

Because of the heavy entry, the variety winners are not expected to be judged until 5 p.m. This means that the six group winners probably will not go into the ring until after 6 p.m.

Helping boost the PKC entry is the fact that two other shows will precede it.

The canines will be in Traverse City Friday and will move to Flint Saturday.

Following is the judging schedule for the PKC Show:

2 State Girls Qualify in National Golf Play

LEAVENWORTH, Kan. (AP) —Janice Elias of Grand Rapids and Cynthia Hill of South Haven were the only Michigan golfers to qualify Tuesday for the 16th United States Golf Association's national junior girls championship.

Miss Elias, who fired an 83-80-163, was to meet Connie Hirschman of York, Pa., today. Miss Hill shot 85-80-165, and was to play Roberta Albers of Tampa, Fla.

Anglers Would Agree

World's Best Vocation

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Any angler would agree that Edward C. Migdalski of Yale University has the world's best job.

Migdalski is not only a ichthyologist — a scientist who studies fish — and director of outdoor recreation at Yale; but also the fishing coach.

Migdalski takes his fish coaching seriously.

On a recent trip to Nova Scotia, making advance plans for the ninth annual Intercollegiate Game Fish Seminar and Fishing Match, he hooked and landed a 622-pound bluefin tuna. There are not many coaches, in other fields, who set such examples for their teams.

This fish would have scored 622 points if the match had started.

The seminar and fishing contest has been held at Wedport, Nova Scotia, for the past eight years. This year 10 teams from the United States and Canada will learn and fish Sept. 2-6.

The event is sponsored by Yale and the Province of Nova Scotia.

The teams from the United States are Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, Princeton and the University of Massachusetts; and New Brunswick and Dalhousie.

Elk Hunting Odds Revealed

LANSING (AP) — The average Michigan elk will have a 17-1 chance of being shot this year, but the would-be elk hunter has only a 60-1 chance of doing the shooting.

An estimated 18,000 persons have applied for the 300 elk licenses to be issued this year, the State Conservation Department reported Monday.

The department expects the hunters to harvest about 200 surplus elk from a herd estimated at 3,500 in Michigan's first elk season, Dec. 5-13.

The department said it had received 14,000 applications through Monday, the last day for postmarking deadlines. It estimates that 4,000 more before the mailing deadline.

A computer will select 300 state residents at random, Aug. 26.

and St. Francis Xavier University of Nova Scotia.

Each member of a fishing team pays his own expenses. The coaches are faculty members from the respective colleges and universities.

Among the coaches are an athletic association business manager, a chemistry professor, a professor of German and a history professor.

Many of the participants haven't fished saltwater before and find that learning the tricks is a new challenge.

The competition keeps everyone interested. The last few years the bluefin hasn't cooperated worth a hoot — none has been caught. But several tons of pollock, haddock, cod and halibut have been.

Each pound of fish counts as one point. Several tons have been donated each year to charitable organizations in Nova Scotia.

Each evening seminars and lectures on fishes and sports fishing are held.

Updated Maps Ready

Updated maps in book form and single sheets are now available for all 83 counties in Michigan through the Conservation Department's Publication Room, Lansing, 48926.

NEW LEADER — Donald Lloyd of Lake Orion holds the six-pound, one ounce large-mouth black bass he caught last week at Mills Lake. The fish leads its division in the Pontiac Press Big Fish Derby.

14-KARAT GOLD MINE

Your search is ended. Here is your "End of the Rainbow." Seven reasons why this is a no risk investment like no other. 1. No
Bust Busy Class "C" bar. Money mak-beer and wine carry off. Delicious full menu restaurant with 150 seating capacity. Two million dollar boat marina just three minutes away. Located on the shore of Lake Michigan's largest resort area. Truly, built in success, needing no investment. Selling down to anyone wants to make a fortune.

56 BASKET OF MONEY
Believe us, you will need a large basket of cash to pass up this. You will make from one of Michigan's finest party stores. Located on second floor of Macomb County Mall. Extra nice brick and cement block building only four years old. Its sales skyrocketing every month. Selling your own money press. Beautiful 2-bedroom, living quarters of 1,600 sq. ft., 2½ baths, 2½ fireplaces, 2 car garage, 100' x 100' lot. Call for details. Selling this to you for $5,000 down, plus stock with terms. Call for an inheritance from a rich uncle.

Big GM Warehouse to Be Built in City

Pontiac Motor Division officials today unveiled plans for a new parts and service warehouse on Joslyn.

The new warehouse, which will cover more than 1 million square feet, is scheduled for completion by the fall of 1965, said E. M. Estes, General Motors vice president and general manager of the division.

Construction is expected to get under way within two months.

be built between Columbia and the Grand Trunk Western Railroad. Cost of the new facility was not disclosed.

City officials learned of the plans yesterday and have already begun to prepare for action on various zoning changes, vacating of public right-of-way and similar items so that construction schedules won't be delayed by excessive red tape.

"This new warehouse," Estes commented, "will enable us to consolidate the storage of service parts under one roof."

Currently the division stores parts in five separate locations.

Designed by Argonaut Realty Division of General Motors, the warehouse will contain 1,070,000 square feet of space — nearly triple that now available in Plant 11, the present parts warehouse.

Train Robber Violent Sprees Hit Escapes Prison 2 New Jersey Cities

LONDON (AP) — A 32-year-old convict serving a 30-year term for his part in Britain's great train robbery escaped before dawn today from Birmingham Prison.

Scotland Yard posted men on all major roads surrounding London on the hunt that the escapee, Charles Frederick Wilson, would head for the capital.

Most of the $7,025,000 loot in the robbery just a year ago has not been recovered.

Prison officials said Wilson had helped in breaking out. They said several men got inside, knocked out a night patrol officer and then scaled the prison wall with a rope ladder.

Wilson, a bookmaker, was one of a dozen men convicted of robbing the Glasgow-London mail express Aug. 8, 1963, and making off with the biggest cash haul in history. The money was being shipped by groups of banks.

Tall and composed, Wilson was the silent man of the trial. The only words he spoke were denials that he took part in the robbery or shared in the loot. Only $460,000 has been recovered. Scotland Yard is still looking for three men it considers the brains of the operation.

ELIZABETH, N.J. (AP) — Negroes in Paterson and both Negro and white youths in Elizabeth went on violent sprees last night in which gasoline bombs, rocks and empty bottles were hurled, store windows smashed and one store was looted.

The outbreaks began first in Paterson, and as order was restored there, flared up in Elizabeth. Both are major industrial cities in northeastern New Jersey.

Elizabeth police said three cars carrying white youths careened through the streets of a predominantly Negro neighborhood, tossing bottles. Negroes smashed a tavern window, police said.

Paterson Mayor Frank X. Graves said today, "We have every reason to believe there will be further trouble. We are prepared for further trouble tonight."

Police appeared to be in control in both cities. Twelve separate incidents were reported in Paterson. At least three store windows were smashed.

BUS WINDOWS
Mayor Graves said a dozen Negro youths boarded a bus and smashed its windows.

Two fires were started in Elizabeth firms with gasoline bombs and a third was started under the front porch of a white residents' home facing an integrated public housing project. One store was looted.

No serious injuries were reported in either city. Four persons were arrested in Elizabeth. A Negro man was accused of looting a clothing store and three white youths were arrested after they allegedly threw a bottle from a car. A Negro man was arrested in Paterson on a disorderly persons charge.

FIRST REPORT
The first report of trouble in Paterson came as about 200 Negro teen-agers left a city-sponsored dance.

Mayor Graves said the youths began hurling empty bottles and bricks at a passing police car. Twelve Negroes boarded a bus, knocked the hat off one of four passengers and smashed windows.

All Extremists Are Disavowed by Goldwater

Promises to Consult With Ike, Nixon to Fill Cabinet Posts

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater disavowed extremists of the left and right today, and promised, if he wins the presidency, to consult in advance with former President Eisenhower on appointments to key cabinet posts.

"I seek the support of no extremists — of the left or the right," Goldwater told a closed-door summit conference of Republican leaders whom he had summoned here in a bid for party unity.

His statement was distributed in advance.

In it, he said that if elected president, he will consult Eisenhower, former Vice President Richard M. Nixon "and other experienced leaders seasoned in world affairs" before naming secretaries of defense or state, or any other key national security posts.

NO TAKEOVER
"I seek the support of no extremists — of the left or the right," said Goldwater, adding that he was confident that there would be no "so-called extremist take-over of the party."

Goldwater said his foreign policy would be patterned upon Eisenhower's, and continued:

"If all this amounts to an impulsive and trigger-happy approach to foreign policy, then I fear the English language has lost its meaning."

Goldwater said the No. 1 campaign problem the Republicans face is "the totally wrong view our opponents will try to din into the mind of every American voter — namely that the election of a Republican president in November will somehow lead to war."

POLITICAL LIE
"This is the supreme political lie, and we've got to label it for what it is," Goldwater said.

The Arizona senator said a Goldwater administration "will mean an immediate return to the proven policy of peace through strength which was the hallmark of the Eisenhower years."

"Every president, if he's worth his salt, will pick his own Cabinet. He must pick his own associates for the top echelon of government."

"However, I can assure you that I would not appoint anyone to the offices of secretary of state, or secretary of defense or other critical national security posts until I have first discussed my plans for those appointments with Gen. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Cheer Up, Folks! Perfect Weather Due In Tomorrow

Today's low-hanging clouds are expected to pass over the Pontiac area by tonight, leaving skies fair and temperatures a little on the cool side. Tonight's low is expected to be 46 to 53.

The weatherman said tomorrow will be sunny and warmer, a perfect summer day, with a high of 70 to 75. Fair and a little warmer is the prediction for Friday.

Warmer temperatures will prevail over the weekend.

Fifty-four was today's low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. At 1 p.m. the thermometer registered 55.

Showers falling in the downtown Pontiac throughout the day yesterday measured .75 inches.

More Tips Come In

Boat Death Reward $2,700

Rewards for information leading to the conviction of those responsible for the boat hit-run death of Alan L. Akery now total $2,700.

The amount has prompted scores of additional tips to police who are still seeking the occupants of the boat which rammed into the 20-year-old swimmer on Aug. 3 at Cass Lake.

The Pontiac Press is offering $1,000 for the arrest and conviction of any or all guilty parties. Law enforcement officers as well as private citizens are eligible, and in cases where more than one party claims the money, final decision will be made by the county's Probate Court judges.

Another $1,000 has been offered by attorney Irwin I. Cohn of West Bloomfield Township; $300 by Sylvan Lake builder Samuel G. Warwick; $200 by the weekly boxing newspaper Marina News; and $100 by a Waterford Township resident.

Additional reward offers should be made to Sheriff Frank Irons and a certified check for the amount sent to him.

Kennedy Said Set to Run for New York Senate Seat

NEW YORK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has decided to enter the New York race for U.S. senator, the New York Times said today.

The Times said it learned last night that Kennedy had told relatives and a few close friends of his decision.

Kennedy expects to make a formal declaration of his candidacy next week and in all probability will announce at the same time his resignation as attorney general, the story added.

The Times said an authoritative source disclosed that the Kennedy camp anticipates an endorsement from New York City Mayor Robert F. Wagner within the next few days.

The story said Kennedy's intentions became known after a day in which the campaign to get him the Democratic nomination "gathered momentum in all sections of the state."

SEN. KEATING
Republican Sen. Kenneth B. Keating of Rochester is expected to run for reelection. He has the support of his party's state organization, but he says he hasn't made up his mind.

Kennedy said here Monday that he would not consider running for senator without "express approval" by Wagner, the state's most influential Democrat.

That has been the last public word from Kennedy on the subject.

Wagner, at a news conference yesterday, stuck to his position of speaking highly of Kennedy as a possible senate nominee without making an outright endorsement.

WILL MEET KENNEDY
Wagner said he will meet again with Kennedy in a few days "to see what he has to say." The two men met here Friday.

Greece charged that the Turks also flew over the Greek islands of Crete and Rhodes, both Tuesday and today, and demanded that they quit it.

Premier George Papandreu's Athens government warned Turkey that any further violations of Greek airspace "would compel Greece to act accordingly."

Through bidding for cooperation of Greece in negotiations to settle the Cyprus crisis, Turkey is gearing up for further military action if the Greek Cypriots press on, as they threaten, in an offensive against Turkish Cypriot holdings in the Kokkina coastal area that was halted Monday by a U.N. sponsored cease-fire.

TROOPS READY
A dispatch from Iskenderun, a Turkish port 100 miles northeast of Cyprus, said more than 30,000 troops stood ready at barracks there for embarkation and armed units, including tanks and artillery, were already aboard naval vessels.

"President Makarios said his Greek Cypriots would fight 'alone or with others' to preserve their rule of Cyprus, in a broadcast Tuesday that underscored a rift with Greece."

Disclaims Cut of 90 Per Cent in N-Carriers

Pentagon Labels Goldwater Talk as 'Totally False'

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and the Pentagon have fired back at Sen. Barry Goldwater's charge that the administration is depleting the "arsenal for the defense of freedom."

The Defense Department described as "totally false" Goldwater's statement that the U.S. capacity to deliver nuclear weapons may be reduced by 90 per cent in the next decade.

And President Johnson, addressing the same audience that heard Goldwater's charge — the members of the National Association of Counties — said:

"Our resources are committed, our sacrifices are made, our vigil is maintained so that there shall be no win for aggression in our times."

In his speech Monday, Goldwater, the Republican presidential nominee, said the United States faces the prospect of going into the 1970s without a single new manned bomber.

HIS CHARGE
"Under our present defense leadership, with its utter disregard for new weapons, our deliverable nuclear capacity may be cut down by 90 per cent in the next decade," Goldwater asserted, unless present plans are changed.

Not so, the Pentagon said last night through Assistant Secretary of Defense Arthur Sylvester.

Sylvester's statement said Goldwater's charge was "not only without foundation but contrary to the facts."

"The facts are," the statement said, "that in 1970 we will have a capability to deliver on target 2 1/2 times as many warheads as we had in 1961 and a greater number than we have today."

PUBLIC INFORMATION
A Goldwater speechwriter, Karl Hess, said Goldwater's forecast was based on public information about bombers, missiles and their payloads.

The President, speaking to the 3,000 county officials, their wives and children on the White House lawn, did not refer to Goldwater. But he said:

"Since 1961 we have worked very hard to strengthen the hopes for peace. That is — and that must always be — the first work of our land."

City Acts to End Problems in State Redistricting Rule

The City Commission last night unanimously adopted two measures designed to solve what City Attorney William A. Ewart called "some technical and difficult problems" created by the recent state legislative redistricting.

One measure is an emergency amendment to the city's precinct ordinance which will enlarge Precinct 23 and reduce Precinct 24 by about 517 registered voters.

The second is a resolution covering three small areas in which there are only about 25 registered voters, which, Ewart said, "were left hanging at 30,000 feet without a parachute" by the redistricting.

The resolution doesn't affect precinct boundaries, but does specify the 28 voters to be notified that they will vote in precincts other than those they live in for state and national elections.

The emergency amendment,

May Extend Bus Pact Third Time

The city's current month-to-month contract agreement with Pontiac Transit Corp. appears to be headed for another extension.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren told commissioners at last night's City Commission meeting that he had met once with bus company officials, but that more time would be needed to arrive at a solution to the bus transportation problem.

"It will be necessary to make another extension of the bus contract," he said.

No action was taken, but is expected before Aug. 31. The extension would assure continued bus service in Pontiac through Sept. 30.

The annual contract, under which the corporation operates, expired June 30 and has since been extended twice.

OPERATES IN RED

Prior to June 30, bus company officials said they would not continue operations here after four years of operating in the red.

Talks since then have centered mainly around Pontiac Transit's offer to remain here if the city would give it an annual subsidy of about $30,000.

Warren entered the picture Aug. 3 when he took over as Pontiac's city manager.

which does change precinct boundaries, was necessitated when the state established East Boulevard as the line between legislative districts 62 and 63. East Boulevard runs through Precinct 24.

BOUNDARY MOVED

Thus, the east boundary of Precinct 23 was taken to from Francis to East Boulevard. The area between Francis and East Boulevard formerly in Precinct 24, is now in Precinct 23.

Had no action been taken, some Precinct 24 voters would have voted for candidates in one legislative district and a some for those in another, creating the "difficult" problem of seeing that the right people got the right ballots.

In the accompanying resolution, action was taken to merely direct 28 other voters to appropriate polling places for two reasons:

• Precinct lines could not be changed without changing city district boundaries — an impossibility without public approval at the polls.

• The number of voters involved was too small, according to city officials, to redesignate the areas as new and separate precincts.

The resolution will not apply to city elections, or special elections on local issues.

ARE AS DESIGNATED

The three small areas were designated as A, B and C. Registered voters in Area A, which is in Precinct 26, will vote in Precinct 22.

Residents of Area B located in Precinct 27, will vote in Precinct 27. Those in Area C, located in Precincts 27 and 28, will vote in Precinct 2.

Area A: Auburn, South Saginaw and East Wide Track.

Area B: South Saginaw, Grand Trunk Western Railroad main line and Franklin.

Area C: The Grand Trunk Western Railroad main line, the City Limit and Woodward.

The problem was created because the state legislative district boundary line follows East Wide Track and the railroad track, while the city's district and precinct lines follow South Saginaw in this area.

"Hit the northern tree line with everything you've got," Maj. Earl O. McNamara of Hqs., 3d SFG, called back to his helicopter crew.

McNamara's door gunners, Sgt. Mohamed Barofat of Dunn, N.C., and Pfc. Benjamin Serrano of Big Island, Hawaii, loaded the heavy M4 machine guns cradled in their laps.

"Wherever the slicks (ung. armed troop-carrying helicopters) have dropped smoke grenades, open up," the order snapped.

SMOKE GRENADES

In the jungle, scores of smoke bursts erupted, and tracers arched up at the helicopters.

Machine guns in the fast-moving helicopters "chattered," and rockets roared from their pods.

This correspondent was knocked on the face by flying metal.

TOUCHED DOWN

Troop-carrying helicopters touched down about six seconds, just long enough to unload their men. Only a few troops reported enemy contact.

"In this mess of jungle, there could be 2,000 or 3,000 Viet Cong hiding, and we'd never see them," an American paratrooper adviser said angrily.

But Viet Cong antiaircraft batteries continued to hammer away from under their canopy of foliage.

OUTPOST HIT

Near the same place yesterday, the Viet Cong hit a government outpost, killing 11 defenders and capturing 19 prisoners.

Estes, his face tense with anger, pushed his helicopter into a power dive straight at the spot where the Communist tracers were spurting, his four machine guns blazing away.

He blasted four rockets into the jungle and pulled out at low altitude.

"Damn, that was a hairy maneuver," Estes said laughing.

IMPORTANT BRIDGE

Ground troops entering the area found an important bridge had been blown up by the Viet Cong.

Elsewhere, the Saigon government claimed today that its forces killed 42 guerrillas in the Mekong Delta province of Dinh Truong, 30 miles south of Saigon Monday and yesterday. It said 16 government troops were killed.

About 20 miles southeast of Saigon early today, the Viet Cong reportedly captured eight government soldiers at an outpost in Go Cong Province.

Wage Survey Due Saturday

Commission to Hear Results on Monday

City Manager Joseph A. Warren plan to meet with the City Commission informally Monday to discuss results of a wage survey, but a scheduled meeting with the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA) has been called off.

Warren told commissioners last night that he expects the Michigan Municipal League (MML) survey of city employees' wages to arrive Saturday, as promised by MML representatives.

"I hope to have a preliminary analysis of figures in the survey, and their effect on our budget, for you Monday," Warren told commissioners.

However, he said a meeting with attorneys for the PPOA and the association's wage study committee had been dropped at the request of PPOA officials.

At last week's commission meetings, attorneys for the PPOA had succeeded in arranging a meeting with Warren on Aug. 21, or within five days after the MML survey arrived.

AFTER DEMONSTRATION

This came after a four-hour demonstration by city employees in front of City Hall, appealing for a pay hike.

"I met with representatives of the various employee groups last Thursday to discuss their pay problems and budgetary problems in general," Warren said.

"I feel the meeting cleared up many misconceptions about our fiscal status and that everyone went away feeling the discussion succeeded in bringing a better understanding of each other's problems."

Warren said that the Thursday meeting was requested Aug. 21 meeting be canceled.

AWAIT RESULTS

He indicated employees were interested in results of the MML survey and whatever action may be needed to implement its recommendations.

Although no date is set for a meeting with policemen, Warren said he would meet with them anytime Acting Chief William Hanger requests such a meeting.

OFFERS PLEDGES

Goldwater offered pledges to the 38 Republicans, Eisenhower and Nixon among them, he summoned here to talk about party unity.

He had a preview unity talk yesterday with New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller.

He said they met for about 90 minutes to discuss the party, campaign issues, and "the normal things good Republicans talk about."

Goldwater told the summit conference he and vice-presidential nominee William E. Miller would stand behind the GOP platform's "solemn pledge for full implementation" of the new civil rights law.

CONFIDENT TALK

GOP governors and gubernatorial candidates, summoned here by the Arizona senator, talked confidently of party unity as they gathered for the conference.

There was another advance gathering, at the mansion of Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton in nearby Indianatown Gap.

About two dozen top Republicans, among them vice presidential nominee William E. Miller of New York and national chairman Dan Rostenkowski of Illinois, were held for a private dinner Tuesday night.

Gov. George Romney of Michigan, who has been cool toward the ticket, told newsmen he will campaign for reelection "on the basis of my own record."

NOT ASKED

Asked whether he will campaign for the Goldwater-Miller ticket, Romney said he hasn't been asked.

Shopping Center to Stay Single Story for Awhile

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP

The new shopping center on the southeast corner of Maple and Lehigh is going to be a one-story complex for awhile.

The Bloomfield Commons Roger store opened Monday. Then the township board took action to control the operation which started without an occupancy slip.

The shopping center was built on the site only after a long court battle with township officials.

In 1962, zoning of the property was changed from multiple residential to commercial. But the Circuit Court decree provided that a 30-foot greenbelt separate the stores from the adjacent subdivision, Westchester Village.

The Prudential Investment Co., developer of the center, also agreed to construct a masonry wall.

PLANS FULFILLED

Sections of the wall, to consist of poured cement slabs, still are being made, but plans for the store opening were fulfilled.

Prudential agreed to place in escrow with the township $10,000, including the entire cost of the wall and $10,000 guarantee that no other stores will be occupied until the wall is completed.

The $10,000 will be paid to the subdivision association if stores are opened.

In addition, the company is to install immediately an opaque screen for temporary relief for residents near the supermarket.

FENCE COMPLETION

The township board resolution also provides that Prudential obtain a contract with the Cadillac Fence Co. of Detroit assuring completion of the fence within 60 days.

Contracts for four water mains in the township were awarded to A. and J. Construction Co. of Detroit. The special assessment districts are Foxcroft, $129,726; Devon Hills, $55,133; Sly Farms, $16,538; and Scotts Maple Lakes, $10,013.

County Dems Back Levin

Was Under Fire for Seeking Senate Seat

Oakland County Democratic leaders last night unanimously expressed "full confidence" in Chairman Sander Levin who is under criticism for seeking a State Senate seat while still in his party post.

Executive committee members also looked some broadsides at his Republican opponent, Charles L. Lyle.

The meeting at Birmingham Unitarian Church echoed with strong suggestions that GOP County Chairman Lyle keep his advice until asked for it and look at conflicts of interest within his own party.

Lyle has publicly demanded Levin's resignation asking: "Is it honest for the county chairman of a political organization to use the enormous advantages of his office to further his own campaign?"

The Democratic response was that Levin wasn't acting improperly. Instead, Lyle was asked to defend Republican vice presidential nominee William Miller who was his party's national chairman while serving in Congress.

LEVIN TARGET

Levin has also been the target for slumping by candidates within Democratic ranks, notably Howard A. Sikes, candidate for county drain commissioner, and legislative candidates in the county's south end.

While the executive committee resolution avoided intraparty squabbles, a report on a statement at the urging of Lyle whether Levin has undue advantage as a candidate.

Canvass chairman said lists of likely Democrat voters were still being assembled and would not be available until October, after the Sept. 1 primary, and were not now accessible for use by any candidates.

Levin has two Democratic opponents in the south-county 10th Senate District primary race. The 33-year-old Berkeley attorney has been county chairman since 1962.

He previously announced that he considered resigning to devote full time to campaigning, a statement at the urging of fellow Democrats concerned over several major projects the county party has under way.

Levin's dual role also was supported from Willis Brewer, Oakland County's unquestioned senior Democrat. In a letter read to the committee meeting, Brewer said he saw no need for Levin to step down from his party position.

today to continue his defiance of federal court orders requiring him to admit Negroes to his restaurant under the Civil Rights Act.

He will open up today for business as usual, but will remain segregated, said Maddox, who thwarted three attempts by Negroes to enter his Pickrick Restaurant Tuesday.

Maddox enlisted the aid of his Negro employees and a jeering crowd of whites waving at handbills to block the Negroes from the Pickrick. He had brandished a pistol to keep Negroes out previously, and had it with him today but kept it holstered. He keeps the six handbills in a box beside the restaurant door for persons who seek to aid him.

Crowds at the scene swelled to nearly 500 Tuesday as Maddox, who vows he will never integrate, clashed with police officers who sealed off traffic for a block on a street in front of the Pickrick.

In retaliation, Maddox used cars owned by himself and his daughter to block two side streets on which traffic was being rerouted.

Boat Owners Face Queries

The owners of 18 inboard motorboats are to be questioned by police in the next couple days in connection with the hit-and-run death of a young swimmer in Cass Lake more than a week ago.

The names were obtained from a list of more than 100 boat registrations recorded by water deputies on Cass Lake as routine procedure this summer.

The remaining boats, according to files of the Secretary of State's Office in Lansing, are outboard motor crafts and thereby eliminated from the investigation.

Witnesses have told sheriff's and state police officers that the craft that killed Alan L. Akerley August 3 was a large mahogany-veneered inboard boat.

Akerley, 20, of 2184 Park Circle, Keego Harbor, was killed shortly after 9 p.m. while swimming with a girl companion at Dodge State Park No. 4 in West Bloomfield Township.

Lt. Donald Kratt, director of the Sheriff's Water Safety Division, said that of the 18 names received yesterday only, half are Oakland County residents. The rest are from outside the area.

ture will also be vastly improved, according to Estes, due to a 27-foot ceiling height.

Two large truck docks are planned and rail facilities will be available on both the north and south sides of the building.

"We are confident that the demand for our products will continue to outpace that of the industry as a whole," Estes said.

"For this reason we are planning this warehouse capable of meeting anticipated future demands."

He pointed out that Pontiac service parts sales have increased 60 per cent in the past six years due to Pontiac's record sales volume, seriously overloading existing facilities.

BETTER SERVICE

"When this modern warehouse is complete we will be able to greatly improve service shipments to our dealer network."

Other improvements listed by Estes included better interplant trucking and speedier packing and shipping of parts because of the use of new conveyor and roller systems.

converged on the Negro district, rerouting buses around Governor street and blocking off the street to all traffic.

The windshield of a police car was smashed, as were the windows of a pharmacy, a pizza restaurant and a liquor store. Mayor Graves said there was no looting.

TROUBLE BEGINS

Police said the trouble in Elizabeth began at 11:30 p.m. when a gasoline bomb burst on the sidewalk outside a closed tavern.

As three fire engines sped to the scene, a second gasoline bomb crashed through the window of the tavern and started a small fire.

Expatriate Farmer Still an Individualist

ADELAIDE, Australia (AP)—The expatriate Michigan poultry farmer Stanley Yankus leaned back in a swivel chair at his desk and said: "Sen. Barry Goldwater appears to be the best presidential material the United States has seen for 30-odd years."

Yankus, a rebel against controls in the United States, came to Australia five years ago. He still believes in individualism, and the need to abolish controls, especially commodity control authorities like egg boards, potato boards, milk boards and wheat boards, all of which Australia has.

Yankus, a rebel against control at Dowagiac, Mich., in 1959 when he was fined $5,000 for planting 35 acres of wheat when U. S. government planners told him he could plant only 15 acres.

He talked freely to a reporter, but refused to permit a photographer to take a 1964 picture.

HE'S POLITICIAN

"I believe Goldwater is right," he said. "But, let me stress this, I will not judge Goldwater by what he says but by what he does. He is a politician. He is interested in becoming president. To achieve this Goldwater will say and do things which are contrary to his own personal beliefs."

"Goldwater voted against the present civil rights bill ... what a misnomer!"

"The civil rights bill, as constituted, is a travesty. It cuts right across those three fundamental human rights ... the right to life ... the right to liberty and the right to own property."

"This bill gives anybody, Negro or white, the right to impose his will over the wishes of property owners such as cafe proprietors, swimming pool operators, hotel keepers, clothing establishment owners and the like."

SHOULD HAVE RIGHT

"If I own a cafe or a shop or a swimming pool, I should have the right to say whom I shall admit."

"Goldwater, from what I have read, is against such man-made curtailments of our fundamental liberties. So, I am for Goldwater ... or would be if I were back in America."

Yankus recalled that he had labeled the former Republican presidential candidate, Richard Nixon, and the late President John F. Kennedy as "too much alike and too much for controls."

LOST MONEY

"Actually, I lost money on this deal," he said. "I guess it cost me about 100 pounds ($224). The gadget enables one man and a tractor to do the work of two men. It costs 47 pounds ($105) to be fitted."

"But it just will not sell. The firm making it for me pushed it and advertised it. But Australian farmers are as much set in their ways as American farmers and do not take kindly to innovations."

Yankus still retains his old love of farming. Nostalgically he discussed the possibilities of starting chicken farming in Australia.

"There is an egg board here, and that means controls. There is no incentive for a fresh product."

NOT SO YOUNG

"I do not think my wife and family would want to move now. And thirdly, I am not as young as I was."

Yankus works as a commercial traveler for the big Adelaide electrical firm of Oliver J. Nielsen.

He travels extensively in the country and meets many farmers. His $13,000 home in suburban Grange is only five minutes drive from one of Adelaide's main swimming beaches.

"I have a good job, my two boys now are working and my daughter is thoroughly enjoying her school and its social activities, especially the ballet lessons," he said.

BOYS INTERESTS

His eldest boy, Russell, is now 18, Dennis is 17 and Karen is 9. Both boys are interested in autos, both are trained in trades.

Asked whether any members of the family wanted to go back to America, he smiled.

"Russell and Dennis have spoken of it, but I think the wish is slowly dying," he said.

"My boys are both interested in Australian rules football as they played it at their school. They even play cricket!"

Hospital Needs Checkup

MOSCOW (UPI)—The newspaper Medical Gazette reports that Moscow's hospital number 60 is new but:

- It is filled with cockroaches.
- The elevators take patients up all nine floors but for economy's sake will take no one down.
- All the patients' pajamas are full of holes.
- The drainpipes are rusty and ugly.
- The new building's plaster is crumbling.

Detroit Bank Robbed

DETROIT (AP)—A lone gunman robbed a Detroit Bank & Trust Co. branch Tuesday of between $300 and $400. The robber, described as a 5-foot-11 Negro, pulled a gun, demanded money and "time to get out" in his holdup of the branch, at 5061 W. Warren.

Bell Exec to Retire

DETROIT (AP)—Roy E. Bradstrum, Michigan Bell Telephone Co.'s chief engineer since 1956, says he is retiring

Sept. 1 after 43 years with the utility. Bradstrum, a former Saginaw electrical contractor, is to be succeeded by Ernest O. Miller.

Trading Moderate

Coppers Rise in Steady Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Coppers continued to rise in a fairly steady stock market today. Trading was moderate. Gains of most key stocks were fractional.

The coppers continued to respond to rising prices for the metal because of tight supplies. Fractional gains were posted.

For Kennecott, Phelps Dodge, Cerro, Anaconda and others. Consolidated Edison lost a fraction in continued reaction to the call issue for its convertible preference stock.

STEELS, MOTORS

The trend among steels and motors was a shade higher on balance. General Motors, Chrysler and Jones & Laughlin (ex-dividend) were fractional gainers.

Tuesday the Associated Press average of 40 stocks dipped 4 to 31.9.

Prices were narrowly mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Gainers included Crooke Petroleum, Syntex and Imperial Oil.

Storms Flood Two Freeways

Lodge, Ford Closed;

Lansing Roofs Buckle

By The Associated Press

Severe thunderstorms resulted Tuesday in the collapse of two store roofs at Lansing and the flooding of Detroit's freeways.

The weight of accumulated water was blamed for the cave-in of the flat roof of a shoe store and an adjoining vacant shop at a Lansing shopping center.

RECEIVES HIGHEST AWARD — Lawrence O. McKinley (right), 1681 Ashton, Walled Lake, is shown receiving Campbell Soup Company's highest annual award from W. B. Murphy, president of the firm. The award is given for consistently outstanding sales performance throughout the entire year. The presentation was made last weekend during the company's annual marketing meeting in Chicago.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

(Q) "I bought Truett-McCoy Corp. at 23 and it is now selling at 33. I'm rather worried about it. Should I sell and buy something else? I am a single, middle-aged woman with no money who can help me." G. P.

(A) Froehlich is a stock which is very sensitive to changes in business conditions. It is not the type of issue that a person like yourself should hold and I see little likelihood of further big gains.

Your situation is rather a lonely one and I don't believe you should be subjected to continual worry about your investment. I would sell and buy Pacific Gas & Electric, a good public utility at around the same price level.

You would sacrifice something in yield, but I believe gain considerably in peace of mind.

Man Injured as Car Falls

An off-duty sheriff's deputy was injured yesterday when he was pinned under a car he was working on at home.

In satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured collarbone is Carl Raymond, 46, of 556 Joslyn, Orion Township.

Raymond was working on a muffler when the car slipped off the jack, according to the sheriff's office. The accident happened at 5:30 p.m.

Illness Fatal to Founder of Area Firm

SOUTHFIELD — Charles F. Meagher, founder and former president of the Meagher Lumber Co., Detroit, died yesterday after a brief illness. He was 82.

An elder and former treasurer of Kirk in the Hills Episcopal Church, Bloomfield Township, Mr. Meagher lived at 2340 W. 12 Mile.

He was also a charter member of his church.

Surviving are his wife, Effie; three sons, Charles S. of Pleasant Ridge, Robert L. of Pontiac and William A. of Birmingham; two daughters, Mrs. Wendell Rose of Rochester and Mrs. Albert Hoole of Carbondale, Pa.; 11 grandchildren and a great-grandchild.

Service will be 2 p.m. tomorrow at Kirk in the Hills. Burial will follow in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

MELROSE CHAPEL

His body will be in the church's Melrose Chapel 2-5 p.m. and 7-9 p.m. today.

Two-Car Collision Hospitalizes Man

In fair condition at Pontiac General Hospital is Frank D. Brigham, 794 South.

Car Hits Tree; Woman Hurt

A Detroit woman was injured last night when her car ran off Woodward onto the median just south of Nebraska Street and struck a tree.

Mrs. Ruby Jean McGee, 33, is in satisfactory condition in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with injuries to both knees.

A witness stated that the McGee car was in the third lane of northbound Woodward when suddenly it swerved to the left across the inside two lanes and into the median where it hit the tree.

Mrs. McGee said she did not know what happened.

Sales on Seesaw; Deposits Set Marks banks had a total of $46.5 billion deposits in July, compared with $42.7 billion a year earlier.

ANOTHER RECORD

This made July the record month. But the banks also had another record. The rise in deposits last month was $275 million, to top the previous high of a $158-million increase in July 1962. This summer's advance was more than twice that of July 1962, when deposit totals rose by $122 million.

The association says that rising deposits have been almost continuous during the five months since the federal income tax cut took effect. The bankers say people apparently are saving up to half of the tax cut.
