Planes, Boats Seek 11 Others in Lake St. Clair

Coast Guard Discovers
Capsized Boat in Lake,
8 Aboard All Missing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

State Police today rescued Carl A. Knisely, of 625 N. Woodward Ave., Birmingham, a business executive, one of 12 persons missing in Michigan waters since the weekend. Search continued for the others.

Knisely, 64, had been missing since Sunday when he was separated from two fishing companions along the Thunder Bay River in Oscoda County. He was found today only a short distance from where he had disappeared.

Officers took him to Alpena for hospital treatment.

Eleven of the missing persons were believed to have drowned on the wind swept waters of Lake St. Clair near Detroit.

Air Force planes and Coast Guard boats searched for two families, including four children, whose 18-foot motor boat was found capsized Monday.

Last in the same area are two men and a woman in a rented row boat. The Coast Guard reported the discovery of a life preserver Monday believed to have belonged in the rowboat.

Chief Bosum's Mate Keller Harmon of the St. Clair Flats Coast Guard, said it was possible that winds, at gusts of 20 to 25 miles per hour, stirred up Lake St. Clair Monday night and swamped the boats.

Eight other persons drowned over the weekend, the first balmy weather Michigan has had this spring.

The two families who were lost are: Walter C. Yeomans, 40, of Grosse Pointe Woods; his wife, Lileth, 38, and their two sons, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

'Voice' Tells the World of Segregation Decision

NEW YORK (AP)—News of the Supreme Court's decision banning school segregation was quickly beamed around the world by the Voice of America.

The historic decision came just in time for the regularly scheduled worldwide broadcast in English.

While it was going out on this program, the news was quickly translated into 34 other languages and then sent out as the time for broadcasts in these languages arrived.

Segregation Ban Accepted Calmly in Most of South

ATLANTA (AP)—Southern education and political leaders started work today on problems arising from the U. S. Supreme Court decision which outlaws segregation in public schools.

Yesterday's decision was generally received calmly throughout the South.

Negro leaders praised it. Reaction among white educators and politicians varied.

Governors of nearly every state involved reported they would call special committees into session immediately to study the problem. Most outspoken was Gov. Herman Talmadge of Georgia, a long-time advocate of segregation in Southern schools.

He announced he would call the State Commission on Education to immediate session "to map a program to insure continued and permanent segregation of the races."

A Talmadge-sponsored constitutional amendment to do away with Georgia's public school system will be voted on this fall.

Talmadge is the only governor who declared after the high court's decision was announced that his state will not abide by the decision. He said in a prepared statement:

Ike Firm on Secrecy Edict, Ban on Testimony to Stick

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House indicated today there is little or no prospect President Eisenhower will change his order which led Senate investigators to suspend the McCarthy-Army hearings.

From Democratic senators there were predictions the hearings never will be resumed unless Eisenhower does alter it, but Republicans disputed that.

The order bans testimony by government officials about talks within the administration concerning the controversy between Sen. McCarthy and Pentagon officials.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee voted yesterday to suspend hearings until next Monday while Chairman Mundt (R-SD) explores meantime whether Eisenhower might modify his order, denounced by McCarthy as an "Iron Curtain" some one must have "foisted" on the President. McCarthy contended it made it impossible to get at the truth.

Mundt was to begin his efforts with a conference this afternoon with Atty. Gen. Brownell who prepared a memorandum of precedents which Eisenhower sent to the senators yesterday along with a copy of his order. The order took the form of a (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Oakland County Men
Refused to Permit
Vaccinations

Warrants were issued today against three Oakland County men who have refused to have their dogs vaccinated against rabies.

The three are ordered to appear in justice courts Thursday on the formal charge of possessing unlicensed dogs. They are Rex Abney of 3125 Mann Rd., Waterford Township, Cloya Heath of 21228 Cass, and Floyd Teddy of 21149 Cass, Farmington Township.

The warrants are the first issued under the anti-rabies vaccination law adopted by the County Board of Supervisors May 5, 1952. The law makes vaccinations a prerequisite for obtaining dogs tags. Violators could get a maximum of a $100 fine and 3 months in jail.

Abney is scheduled to appear before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy and the others before Farmington Township Justice Allan C. Ingle.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said he withheld issuance of the warrants until Atty. Gen. Frank D. Millard passed on the validity of the county law.

Dr. Frank R. Bates, director of animal welfare for Oakland County, said his office is going to request action against other residents who refuse to allow the shots.

Abney has been fighting the vaccination order since he applied for a license last December.

Three Testify in Cab Dispute

Say Pickets Used Bad
Talk; Contempt Action
Is Approved

Three witnesses testified at the contempt hearing in Oakland County Circuit Court today against officials and members of Teamsters Local 614, AFL, that pickets used obscene language against passengers and drivers of Pontiac Cab company vehicles.

The contempt proceedings were approved by the three Circuit court judges after attorneys for the cab company claimed the union violated a temporary injunction.

The injunction, issued April 27, restrained the union officials and members from interfering with operation of the company.

Attorney Howard I. Bond asked Monday that the action against the union be dismissed on the grounds that the plaintiffs weren't properly identified.

He claimed that the leases signed by drivers are nothing but subterfuge enabling the company to dodge its responsibilities. Attorneys Edward P. Barrett and Robert G. Isgrigg asked the court to make the temporary injunction permanent and to forbid the picketing of the cab company on the grounds that there's no labor dispute.

The court granted the injunction and ordered the union to show cause why it should not be held in contempt.

The court also ordered the union to show cause why it should not be held in contempt.

Tonsils --- With and Without

BEFORE AND AFTER — The four Barnhart boys of Smiley road, Utica, are shown at left as they registered Saturday at Pontiac General Hospital to have their tonsils removed.

Their parents, the Kenneth Barnharts, had decided to show no favoritism and let the boys have the questionable honor of undergoing a tonsillectomy all at once.

Hospital staff members say the boys were model patients. One night's recuperation was all they needed and they left Sunday as full fledged hospital veterans.

Through a series of questions the youngsters made a study of hospital methods and equipment. They stand ready to instruct their friends and schoolmates on the subject.

Red Plane Sighted Over South Korea

SEOUL (AP)—A Communist plane crossed the neutral zone and flew south as far as Seoul today while U. S. Defense Secretary Charles Wilson, South Korean President Syngman Rhee and other officials watched a U. S. 8th Army review 65 miles to the northeast.

The 5th Air Force said radar tracked the Red plane southward, but it never was sighted visually. A spokesman said it apparently was a jet.

American Sabre jets tried without success to intercept it before it returned north.

NEW YORK (AP)—The conviction of Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke on charges of compulsory prostitution was reversed by the Appellate Division today and his retrial ordered.

The court held that Jelke, heir to an oleomargarine fortune, was deprived of a "fair and impartial trial" because certain portions of the hearings were closed to the public.

The decision was by a 3-2 vote. The Appellate Division is the appeals division of the State Supreme Court.

Jelke, 24, had been sentenced to serve three to six years on each of two counts of compulsory prostitution.

Blame Moscow for Latin Unrest

U. S. Diplomats Claim
Reds Fomenting Strife
in Central America

WASHINGTON (AP)—American authorities said today they are convinced Moscow has turned loose Communist agitators to foment strife and chaos in volatile Central America.

This belief, U. S. Diplomats said, is based on recent developments in Costa Rica, Nicaragua and Honduras and climaxed now by an apparently large shipment of arms to Guatemala from Communist-controlled Stettin, once a German port but now incorporated into Red Poland.

The State Department announced late yesterday that an unspecified quantity and type of arms now are being unloaded from a cargo ship of Swedish registry at the Guatemalan port of Puerto Barrios.

The announcement said that: "Because of the origin of these arms, the point of their embarkation, their destination and the quantity of arms involved, the Department of State considers that this is a development of gravity."

For a number of years the United States has blocked all arms sales to Guatemala. It has repeatedly charged too that Guatemala is the center of Communist agitation in Central America and that its government is "playing the Communist game."

Accuses State Men of Offering, Accepting Gifts

Three From County Face
Bribery Charge in AF
Contract Deals

DETROIT (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted seven persons on charges of offering and taking gifts in connection with Air Force contracts.

All are from the metropolitan Detroit area.

Roland L. Greenberg, assistant U. S. attorney, said the gifts were in the nature of 5 per cent commissions, unsecured loans, television sets and clothing.

Greenberg said four persons named in the indictments are former employees of the Wright Aeronautical Division of Curtiss-Wright Corp.

Three others, he said, were jet engine parts subcontractors.

The gifts were inducements for subcontracts from Wright Aeronautical, which was the prime contractor, Greenberg said.

Named in the grand jury indictments were:

Paul Eghigian, Detroit, owner of Sampson Die & Mfg. Co., Flint; Sol C. Brodsky, Detroit, vice president of Mansfield Steel Products Co., now in federal receivership; Irving I. Feldman, Detroit, co-partner of the Aero-Automobile Engineering Co.

Robert F. Page, Ferndale, a former Wright Aeronautical employee;

Daniel W. Pesanic, Birmingham;

Donald E. Miller, Royal Oak, and

Arthur F. Mason, Detroit.

Pesanic, Miller and Mason also are former Wright employees.

The government charges all the offenses took place in 1951 and 1952.

The Wright Aeronautical plants are in New Jersey. If convicted and given maximum penalties, the defendants face up to nine years imprisonment and $50,000 in fines. The grand jury returned five sets of indictments.

Eghigian and Page are named in a five-count indictment. They are accused of having conspired to raise parts prices by 5 per cent to include the commission received by an expediter who got the subcontract for Eghigian's firm.

Greenberg said the 5 per cent additional hike was passed along to the government.

French Renew Strong Attacks

Plan to Fly Out Injured
Fails as Rebels Build Up for Delta Target

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—French squadrons of American-supplied warplanes resumed heavy attacks today on Communist-led Vietnamese troops moving eastward out of Dien Bien Phu toward the Red River delta.

The French high command announced the renewal of air strikes after rebel failure to accept a six-point French plan for evacuating Dien Bien Phu's wounded, including an offer to take care of seriously wounded Vietnamese troops.

The French had told the Vietnamese air attacks would be resumed unless their proposal was accepted by midnight last night.

Prime target of the air strike was the strategic 70-mile highway between Dien Bien Phu and Son La.

The French had stopped bombing this highway last Friday after the rebels had agreed to permit evacuation of 753 of the 1,300 to 2,000 French Union wounded caught at Dien Bien Phu when it fell.

Rebel Gen. Vo Nguyen Giap insisted that the French must hold their fire on the highway so his own wounded could be moved.

S. Frank Baker Dies at Age 58

Birmingham Resident Was Head of Detroit Automotive Products

BIRMINGHAM—S. Frank Baker, president of the Detroit Automotive Products Corp., died yesterday.

The 58-year-old resident lived at 760 Fairfax, and had formerly lived in Vinsetta Park, Royal Oak. Born in Council Grove, Kan., Nov. 25, 1895, he began an aviation career by attending the school of military aeronautics at the University of Texas. In World War I, he was a first lieutenant in the Air Corps.

He was assistant chief of instruction at Selfridge Field, and after the war settled in Michigan. Joining Bassett and Smith, Detroit realtors, he became expert in appraising downtown property.

Mr. Baker left that firm to form the Thornton-Tandem Co. in 1933. This later became the Detroit Automotive Products Co.

A member of the First Presbyterian Church, he also belonged to the Detroit Athletic Club, the Detroit Board of Commerce, the Society of Automotive Engineers, the American Ordnance Assn., and the Engineering Society of Detroit.

Surviving are his widow, Katherine; his daughter, Mary, and five brothers.

The family suggests memorial donations be made to the building fund of the First Presbyterian Church.

Mr. Baker will be at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. until noon Thursday. Funeral services will be at 2 p.m. Thursday from the First Presbyterian Church, with burial in Oakview Cemetery, Royal Oak.

But the youngster spoke up, "Yeah, and we got a little one, too."

Carow said he found an undersized 10-inch walleye under the floorboards of the boat.

that American democracy is decadent."

Thurgood Marshall, chief counsel for the NAACP, said at his office in New York that compliance with the ruling may not be completed until about 1960.

But he said he does not believe Georgia can carry out its proposal to turn the schools over to private management.

"If they put any plan into effect in the morning we will have them in court by the next afternoon," he said. "There is no possibility of getting around this clear-cut interpretation of the Constitution."

Lt. Gov. Marvin Griffin, a candidate to succeed Talmadge as governor of Georgia, quickly announced that "the races will not be mixed, come hell or high water."

Representatives E. W. Gravette and Gilbert Faulk of the Louisiana Legislature urged that body to "take immediate steps to counteract such a decision."

Rep. Sam Engelhardt of Alabama, home of Tuskegee Institute, famed Negro college, asserted: "We are going to keep every brick in our segregation wall intact."

Gov. James F. Byrnes of South Carolina, another of the leaders in the fight to preserve school segregation and himself a former Supreme Court justice, said he was "shocked to learn that the court had reversed itself."

Byrnes some time ago declared his state would refuse to go along with a decision to end segregation.

Gov. Hugh White of Mississippi said he would call for an early meeting of the state's Legal Education Advisory Committee, the group given the assignment of finding means to maintain segregation regardless of the Supreme Court's decision.

Various state officers in the South called for immediate special sessions of state legislatures to study problems and map legislation, but the only governor who said he might call a special session was Acting Gov. Charley E. Johns of Florida. He didn't indicate what his position would be.

Hollis Rinehart, chairman of Florida's Board of Control, which exercises supervision over the state's universities, called for immediate preparation "for the integration of Negroes into our institutions of higher learning and our elementary schools."

Rinehart, who said he was speaking only for himself, said he believes integration can be accomplished without legal action by the Negroes "providing white leaders take the necessary steps" to cooperate.

Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas summed up the views of many Southern officials. He said it might "take years to comply" with the ruling. The "wait-and-see" attitude was taken by top state officials in Virginia, Louisiana, Arkansas, Alabama, West Virginia, North Carolina and Tennessee. But the governors of most of the states were busy today getting committee work lined up and summoning legal advice.

Gov. Lawrence Wetherby of Kentucky, a border state, announced his state will try to adjust its public education system to comply.

Vietminh Claim Truce Sabotage

Rebel Leaders Charge French Bombers Killed Own Wounded

GENEVA (AP)—Indochina's Vietminh rebels charged today the French sabotaged an agreement to get French Union wounded troops out of fallen Dien Bien Phu. They said French bombers killed 15 French prisoners of war the rebels were leading away from the fortress.

The charges were made at a news conference by Hoang Van Hoan, Vietminh ambassador to Red China. He said the French alone were responsible for the breakdown of the plan to evacuate the seriously wounded from the northwest Indochina bastion which fell to the Communist-led rebels May 7.

(Dispatches from Hanoi) said, however, the Vietminh released 18 more wounded from Dien Bien Phu today. At the same time, the dispatches said American-supplied bombers had resumed powerful attacks on rebel troops streaming along a main highway from the fortress toward the French-dominated Red River delta surrounding Hanoi. The highway had been neutralized to permit the Vietminh to remove their own wounded, but the French charged the rebels also were moving heavy military equipment for a possible attack on Hanoi.

Hoang said the bombardment of the main road out of Dien Bien Phu—in which he said the 15 prisoners were killed—was in violation of the wounded evacuation agreement. He said resumption of the evacuation hinged on whether the French would again make the highway immune from bombing attacks.

Hoang rejected the French demand for neutral supervision of the highway as "not realistic." He denied an earlier French charge that the Vietminh had discriminated against Vietnamese soldiers and planned only to evacuate the French wounded soldiers they had captured in the fortress.

The rebel spokesman said the Vietminh had agreed to permit the evacuation of all soldiers under French command who were seriously wounded regardless of race or nationality. But he claimed very few Indochinese were among the wounded. He claimed only one-eighth of the defenders of Dien Bien Phu were of Indochinese origin and most of these deserted to the Vietminh during the battle. By French announcements, more than a third of the garrison's 14,000 troops were Vietnamese.

Hoang said a group of prisoners taken at Dien Bien Phu, including nurse Genevieve de Galard Ter-raube—the lone woman stranded in the fortress during the siege—had written to rebel leader Ho Chi Minh to express gratitude for their "humanitarian treatment."

The new Vietminh charges were made as the second day of secret East-West negotiations on an Indochina peace got started.

Walter Jr., 12, and Thomas, 7; David MacLerie, 38, of Detroit; his wife, Ruth, 36; their daughter Carole, 10, and son David Jr., 5.

Yeomans, the owner of the boat, told friends they were going for a ride Sunday. They failed to return.

Only one of the three persons missing in the rowboat on Lake St. Clair has been identified. He is Harold DeLine, 38, of Detroit.

For a time, authorities feared three boys would be added to the list of drowning victims. The boys, wards of the Genesee County Probate Court live with farmers in Goodrich. They are Kenneth Clayton, 13, Tim Montel, 16, and his brother, John, 14.

The boys were believed to be missing in the area of Griffin Lake after they borrowed a boat to go fishing. When they did not return, State Police were notified. The boys later returned home.

The reasons these winners gave for reading Pontiac Press want ads were considered the best of those submitted.

Eisenhower Firm on Secrecy Order letter to the secretary of defense.

It may be two or three days before the question of altering the order formally reaches Eisenhower.

But reporters at the White House were given to understand there is scant prospect the President will shift his stand in any way.

Asked whether he thought the President might modify or rescind his letter, Press Secretary James C. Hagerty replied: "As far as I know, the President issued his letter yesterday."

A reporter then asked, "was the letter intended to bring the hearings to a stop?"

Hagerty: "I can think of nothing that would be a more silly question."

Hagerty announced that Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens would accompany the President to Charlotte, N. C., today for ceremonies attending the observance there of an early declaration of independence by colonial residents of the area.

Hagerty said the President asked Stevens to go along because the ceremonies also mark Armed Forces Week.

At the Capitol, meantime, Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich.) said he sees no reason why the investigations subcommittee cannot continue its McCarthy-Army inquiry despite the presidential order.

Ferguson said the Senate Republican Policy Committee, which he heads, probably will discuss later in the day the impact of the presidential order.

Told that Sen. McCarthy had said it would be impossible for him to "prove" his case under the President's silence ban on some government witnesses, Ferguson said he thinks the investigations committee will have to decide whether that is true or not. "No one has suggested to me that the investigation be dropped," he said.

Four Breakins Are Reported

$250, Valuable Papers Removed From Safe in Restaurant

A small floor safe containing about $250 and valuable papers was taken last night from a restaurant at 724 Glenwood Ave., Pontiac Police said today.

The thieves, who entered through a rear door, took about $50 from two vending machines. Three other burglaries were also reported.

A safebreaking attempt at the CIO Hall at 836 Kennett Rd. failed, but thieves broke into a desk and took a small amount of change. Entry was made through a rear basement window.

Officials at Malkin School at 1425 Joslyn Rd. said burglars took a small quantity of ice cream from the teachers' lounge. A rear window was forced.

Burglars took six fountain pens and entered rooms at Wisner School at 441 Oakland Ave., police said. About $6 in change was taken by the thieves who entered through an unlocked rear window.

Senate Votes to Ban Windfall FHA Loans

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Senate Banking Committee voted today to block builders from reaping "windfall" profits on Federal Housing Administration loans by forcing the FHA to base its loan insurance on actual construction costs.

Chairman Homer E. Capehart (R-Ind.), said the action, taken by unanimous vote, will eliminate FHA's established system of estimating property values in advance. This step had been advocated by government officials and some housing experts to prevent builders from obtaining FHA-insured loans far in excess of actual project costs.

Capehart has estimated that this loophole in FHA law has enabled builders to collect as much as 1/4 billion dollars in excessive profits on emergency apartment projects after World War II.

Hal Boyle Reports On:

Americana in Kansas City, as Seen on a Front Porch

KANSAS CITY (U)—Anybody who goes back and sits on the front porch of his boyhood will find he really hasn't learned much about life that he couldn't have found out if he had never strayed from that porch.

Any single city block in America, over a period of time, will reflect all the major joys and sadness, the defeats and victories, that a man will encounter if he travels the whole wide world to study the fabulous human race. I am sure this is equally true of a city block in Naples, Tokyo, Moscow, Berlin, Paris or Buenos Aires.

The other night I sat all alone under a bright moon on the steps of an old white house my father, now dead, bought 33 years ago. I looked up and down the silent street and wished God had made me a novelist.

For every darkened home along that 600 feet of asphalt cried out with stories of lives, twisted or firm, that would be remembered by many millions—if only Thomas Wolfe had lived in one of the houses, or Balzac, or Thomas Hardy, or Tolstoy.

It is only an average middle-class street—no different from ten thousand others—yet in only a single generation what power of passion, for good and bad, it has seen!

Every sin that Moses fought against had been committed, and many more, by the people who dwelt there—from wife theft to homicide, suicide, adultery, bribery, robbery and neglect of parents. Yet at any time in the last 33 years I have known this one block there were always—and still are—homes where Jesus Christ could come and feel that, after 2,000 years, he was not forgotten.

Just sitting there in the moonlight, looking up and down the street, I could see:

The house where an old lady, bowed with the woes that come to a woman when her children go wrong, met death bravely and graciously.

The house where husband and wife, locked in an indomitable marital duel, never spoke to one another. Through the years the wife, when dinner was ready, would say to the nearest of a half dozen kids, "tell your pa the food's on the table."

The house where lived the first bright friend of my youth, who coughed out his young life all alone on a farm before he probably even could spell tuberculosis.

The house up the street where madness dwelt, and the echoes seemed eerie after twilight.

The house down the street, where a sweet girl of 16 parlayed a new porch swing into a marriage with the handsome neighborhood druggist. After that all the young girls talked their dads into buying porch swings.

Oh, and there was the house where the old lady made a scandalous fool of herself over the young boarder . . . the house where the Indian medicine quack used to stir up his brew . . . the house to which the drunken mother used to weave back late at night to the little girl she had left unguarded . . . the house of the little boy who coasted down the hill on a sled and ran under a street car.

To make way for a school they have torn down the brick house of the red-haired girl who used to let us younger boys push her back and forth in a tree swing, thus making it impossible for us ever again to love another red-head in this world. It is a double sadness that they have also torn down the brick home in which was born a deaf-and-dumb pal of my boyhood—and the little white cottage two doors away in which he lovingly reared some fine kids who could both hear and talk.

Sitting there in the moonlight, I could recall well the sins and gossip of the elders from the time of my childhood. But of all the scores of children who had played on that brief stretch of pavement, I could remember none who was a juvenile delinquent or ever had been sent to jail.

When I mentioned this to my mother, who loves the old neighborhood—although for 32 of the 33 years she has lived in the same big white house she has threatened to sell it and move away—she said:

"Wouldn't it really be a terrible world if people weren't getting better?"

Beware of Week-Ends! Says Atomic War Prophecy

A strange man in Los Angeles, known as "The Voice of Two Worlds," is offering, free of charge to the public, an astounding 64 page book analyzing the great world prophecies covering these times. It shows that four of the greatest prophecies could not come true until the present time. But now they can, and world-shaking events are due. The atomic war will begin on a weekend. The prophecy tells even what season of the year to expect it.

"The Voice of Two Worlds," a well known explorer and geographer, tells of a remarkable system that often leads to almost unbelievable achievement of brilliant business and professional success and new happiness. Others tell of increased bodily strength, magnetic personality, courage and poise.

These strange methods were found in far-off and mysterious Tibet often called the land of miracles by the few travelers permitted to visit it. He discloses how he learned rare wisdom and long hidden practices, closely guarded for three thousand years by the sages, which enabled many to perform amazing feats. He maintains that these immense powers are latent in

Pennsylvanians Vote in Primary

Select GOP and Dem
Names for State Posts
After Mild Campaign

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Pennsylvanians today selected Republican and Democratic candidates for governor, Congress and a number of other state posts after a mild primary campaign.

Although fair skies and cool weather prevailed, only about half of the 5,071,000 registered voters were expected to cast their ballots before the 8 p.m. closing time.

The campaigning has been tepid compared to the bitter GOP struggle of four years ago when Sen. James H. Duff and Gov. John S. Fine successfully attacked the organization headed by National Committeeman G. Mason Owlett and former Sen. Joseph R. Grundy.

Pennsylvania does not permit its governors to succeed themselves. Although Duff and Fine have fallen out, they both supported the so-called "harmony" slate headed by Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, a 56-year-old attorney and turkey grower from nearby Montgomery County. Wood was opposed by independent Thomas S. Stephenson, president of the Pennsylvania Home Rule Assn., and Gordon F. Chamberlain, a farmer.

State Sen. George M. Leader, a 36-year-old York County poultryman, carried the backing of the Democratic State Committee for governor against Dr. William D. McClelland, Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) coroner, and Charles J. Schmitt, an advocate of legalized pari-mutuel betting.

Thirty congressmen are up for re-election, including Rep. Samuel K. McConnell Jr. (R-Pa.), chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee, and Rep. Richard M. Simpson, who is heading the national GOP congressional campaign. There are no Senate contests.

Blame Brazil Reds for Fray Injuring 43

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Forty-three persons were injured and 18 buses smashed as students rampaged in Belem yesterday against a bus fare increase, the Meridional News Agency reported. Authorities blamed "Communist elements" for the incident, which left the city's 200,000 inhabitants virtually without transportation.

The agency said irate students overturned and smashed buses after a protest meeting against a 1-cruzeiro (5 1/2-cent) fare boost. Thirteen persons were treated for bullet wounds and 30 for other injuries.

Two Fined for 'Old Country' Bird Trapping

It might have been a sporting thing in the "old country" to trap songbirds, but that sort of thing is frowned upon here. Two Detroiters discovered that recently when they were taken into Justice Elmer C. Dieterle's court at Keego Harbor and fined $25 plus the costs.

John Teuma, 1381 Sixth street, and Joe Misi, 1613 Leverette, Detroit, were taken by Conservation officer Howard Johnson after the men had been observed trapping a cardinal, two finches and a song sparrow. They had set up a big net, baited it and set out other trapped birds as decoys, on Ann Arbor Trail.

When the decoyed birds came close the nets would fall upon them.

The nets, several of which were said to be 6 feet in diameter, were confiscated. The pair said it was the usual thing to trap such birds in "the old country."

Words Please, Thank You Show a Person at Ease

By LAURA Z. HOBSON
(International News Service)

What about folks who never say "Thank you" to a waiter or waitress in a restaurant? And would fall down dead before they said "Please" to a salesgirl in a store or "Excuse me" to somebody they jostled on a bus?

They're all revealing a big shot complex, and not being very bright about it, at that.

For though there are some glaring examples of folks in high places who lord it over "subordinates," it's far more usual to find courtesy and consideration among people who really are established, or successful, or comfortable in the world.

When your grimy youngsters leave the soap dirty in the wash basin, you think, "Well, kids are little savages," and forgive them.

But if your office mate always forgets to rinse off the cake of soap you share, you have every right to decide he or she is not only sadly lacking in manners but also is pretty selfish about anybody else.

In your own house, there may be a newspaper-grabber who gets the nice fresh paper first and mangles it to his heart's content. He then leaves it inside out, falling apart, or so juggled around that when you get at it for your turn, the headlines are among the want ads, the sports page is mixed up with the death notices, and page 24 follows right after page 3.

Paper-grabbers are beaten only by road-grabbers on the highway, usually known as road hogs, who are show-offs as well as traffic hazards.

Another show-off is the driver who punches his horn angrily the split instant the light starts to turn green—and thus reveals himself not only jumpy, but the obnoxious drill-sergeant type who wants everybody obeying his commands on the double.

Any woman can size up the self-centered character of the unexpected guest who drops in "for just a minute," finds her hostess in the middle of baking, washing dishes, sewing or ironing, and then sits on and on and on.

She interrupts her prattle every few minutes with a "Well,

I must be going," but then sits on and on some more, until her helpless captive starts wondering about assault and battery.

In the feminine world, however, one of the biggest give-away traits I know comes safely tucked away between the covers of the latest fashion magazines you read while you're under the drier in a beauty parlor.

You leaf over the new fashions, and bang—an entire page is missing, torn out by some shampooed demon before you.

She wanted to ask her store if they had it, so without a thought for the frustrated rage in the next pin-curved head, she despoiled a magazine not her property, leaving all following customers high and dry.

Vandalism is what I call it, and adult delinquency. Give me spring faucets and streaky soap any time. You can have the magazine murderers—and any alibis they may offer are so much hot air!

Vietnamese Poet Begins 3rd Week of Death Fast

GENEVA (AP)—A 45-year-old Vietnamese poet, Vo Song Thiet, has begun the third week of his "death fast" for Indochina peace and police threaten to go beyond the law to force him to call it off.

Geneva Police Chief Charles Knecht conceded there was no lawful way to interfere since the fast was undertaken on private property. But he said he had a humanitarian duty to halt Vo.

NEWS ABOUT THE MODERN LIVING CAR

And the trend keeps growing to Lincoln

Perhaps it's because of Lincoln's clean lines. Or it could be this fine car's unmatched performance. The fact is that Lincoln sales have more than doubled in two years; last year sales were the highest in Lincoln's history.

You can find out the reasons for the growing trend to Lincoln. You're only as far away from the answers as one short visit to us.

First, stand back and look at Lincoln's superb lines. Notice the lack of bulging fenders and swollen sides. Then study Lincoln's careful use of chrome; note the lack of tricky glitter you often see on other cars.

Next, get behind the wheel. Take Lincoln out on the road. You'll discover a ride that's wonderfully different from any other. You control an engineering masterpiece—Lincoln's great V-8 engine. In traffic you glide along effortlessly, quietly. Take a curve on the open road. Lincoln's ball-joint front wheel suspension gives you maximum control.

Finally, try some stops in this great car. They're quick, sure, safe because of Lincoln's new, enlarged brakes.

Find out for yourself why the trend keeps growing to Lincoln. Consider this your invitation to inspect and to drive a Lincoln or a Lincoln-Capri at your first opportunity. No obligation, of course.

For the fourth straight year, Lincoln won first place in its field for economy in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run.

Don't miss the big television hit, "TOAST OF THE TOWN" with Ed Sullivan. Sunday evening, 7:00 to 8:00. Station WJZL, Channel 4.

Turkey a Strong Ally

Many who can remember when Turkey was called "the sick man of Europe" may be surprised to learn that it now is the strong man of the Middle East.

Our Ally's political stability was shown in the recent election. Out of a total of 10,000,000 voters, 90 per cent went to the polls, a rate equalled only in countries where voting is compulsory.

Moreover, those who voted registered enthusiastic support of Turkey's pro-American, free enterprise regime. As a result the Democrat party won 506 of the 541 seats in the national assembly.

Another reason for Turkish strength is that the country now is experiencing a boom. The peasants, who make up 75 per cent of the population never had it so good. New roads make it easier for them to get their crops to market and they have money to buy from the increasing stocks of merchandise.

American aid is a big factor in the boom. It and government policies have helped to develop the country's resources, expand industry and spread prosperity.

Turkey has gained much in stature on the international stage. It is the heart of the Little Balkan Entente with Yugoslavia and Greece and has a defensive alliance with Pakistan.

There are at least 19 other reasons why we are so fortunate to have such an Ally—the trained army divisions Turkey maintains along Russia's southern border. These are effective deterrents to any Red aggression in that direction.

Alabama's Voting Lesson

In its recent primary Alabama learned that modification of its undemocratic poll tax had a beneficial effect on the total vote.

Before the change in the law, residents delinquent in poll tax payments had to make up all arrears in order to cast ballots. The result was that some paid as much as $36 for the privilege of voting.

As modified, however, the law reduced back payments to two years. Not only did 16 per cent of the eligible electorate cast ballots, the largest percentage in the State's history, but there was an unprecedented rush at the polls.

Many persons stood in line for hours before they could vote. Others wouldn't wait. Nevertheless the vote of 500,000 was the heaviest ever cast in Alabama and 100,000 more than in the presidential election of 1952.

Encouraging though the 16 per cent turnout is, it is far below the average of 43 per cent for the non-poll tax states. But it is more than twice as great as the 7.7 per cent average in the four other poll states using this levy—Arkansas, Texas, Mississippi and Virginia.

Thus Alabama's primary has emphasized again the evil of this archaic tax. It is to be hoped that the results there will persuade all five states to abandon it.

Displaced No Longer

Of all the displaced persons welcomed to this country, none has made more progress than the three Latvian girls graduated by Western Michigan College.

All three achieved high honors although they couldn't speak a word of English when they arrived five years ago. Even more impressive, each of these former inmates of a German DP camp, has obtained a position as a member of a university faculty.

ANNA SALNE will teach at Michigan State, RITA POKORNIJS at the University of Wisconsin and AUSMA SKERBELE at Ohio State.

These girls did a magnificent job of making the most of their opportunities.

Boom in Baby Buggies

Never before in our history have the makers of perambulators, boodle buggies and just plain baby carriages been able to face the future with more confidence.

Their business is so good that one New England firm which boasted of a 1939 sales record of $200,000, sold $7,000,000,000 worth of its products in 1953. The industry as a whole reports a 400 per cent increase in dollar volume since prewar days.

Chief reason for the boom, of course, is the all time high record of 4,000,000 blessed events in the United States last year. A secondary factor is the unusual demand for more elaborate buggies, including those with wire wheels, white wall tires and two tone paint jobs.

Two other byproducts of this record birth rate are worthy of note. Architects are including baby carriage garages in apartment house plans and suburban department stores are going in for baby carriage parking lots.

"Any healthy child is at least mischievous and may be downright mean," says a psychologist. Undoubtedly the health of the nation's children is better than ever before.

Our opinion as to the duration of the Army-McCarthy investigation is that it will last too long—and this opinion is retroactive to the beginning of it.

Woman Wins

She Gets Best Suggestion Award at Pontiac Factory

Daffynition
 High school: What stops some young people from entering college.

Again a woman is top winner in the suggestion awards given out by a Pontiac factory. Twenty-seven employees of

Fisher Body Division participated in the last distribution there, and Mrs. Alma B. Poole of 2710 Mann Road, Pontiac, received the first prize, $617.

After viewing both of them, a number of people tell me that the tulip display at Holland is no match for that at White Chapel Memorial Park.

Word comes to me from Bill Emerson that 27 Pontiac Kiwanians worked over the weekend at County YMCA Camp Mahn-gotah-see, building a new 24x40 foot lodge and making many other improvements.

His neighbors tell me that Walter P. Lewis of 37 Stowell St., has one of the finest displays of tulips and other flowers in our city.

In response to several inquiries on the matter, I have communicated with Alexander Smith, Professor of Botany at the University of Michigan, and he tells me the only way to be safe about gathering mushrooms is to pick only the brown topped wrinkled morel. It now is found quite generally in Oakland County. The poisonous toadstool can so easily be confused with the umbrella-topped mushroom that both better be left alone.

According to a Pontiac luncheon club informer, we now are approaching the season when gals are shopping for bathing suits, paying more and more for less and less. But he asserts that the men never kick about it.

The big collie dog of Everett Bergen of Waterford brought up a big garter snake which he had killed. He then made a great fuss around the bushes where he got it, but wouldn't go back into them. Investigation located a rattlesnake with ten rattles.

A letter bearing a Pontiac postmark and signed "Veteran Baseball Observer," says: "The present silence of the pre-season knockers of the Detroit Tigers gives me the laugh. Those young players will bring the world series to Briggs Stadium."

The members of the Patients' Benefit Association, being the alumni who regained their health at the Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium, feel so grateful toward the TV firms who are giving free service to the 30 odd television sets that have been donated to the San, that they have expressed their sentiments in a display adv. in the Pontiac Press.

Suggests Board of Education Employ One Psychologist for Children's Aid

(Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests, unless the letter is critical in its nature.)

Again Michigan has been shocked by the murder of a little Detroit girl by a fifteen year old school boy.

In Oakland County, we have been doing some outstanding work in preventive delinquency. The Pontiac Child Guidance Clinic, under Miss Hall and her excellent staff, treats children in all phases of emotional maladjustment. But one clinic, which serves two counties only scratches the surface. Our Juvenile Court under Judge Moore does not see children until they become involved with the law. Often it is then too late.

The Board of Education should employ at least one psychologist to whom, particularly teachers in the lower grades, could go for counsel.

It is in the lower grades that children begin to show emotional traits which, if not corrected, often lead to such crimes. In this day of tensions, it is at least as important to train children's emotional make-up as to train their intellect. It takes both for a happy, well rounded individual.

We have only two visiting teachers. They can only hit the high spots. In this country we spend more for crime than we do for education.

Hagon Opposes Sending Our Forces to Indochina

Republican Senate Majority Leader Knowland declared he is ready to urge Congress to approve the sending of U. S. armed forces to Indochina, providing President Eisenhower favors such action.

If this materializes the American people will again be expected to send their sons into a war to protect the interests of a few. In the last election the Republicans used Korea for a campaign issue and no doubt the Democrats will use Indochina in the future but that just doesn't cut any ice when it comes to sending our boys to die on foreign soil.

He Favors Adding Words 'Under God' to Pledge

Our Sen. Ferguson recently introduced a resolution to add the words "Under God," used by Abraham Lincoln in his Gettysburg Address, to the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

With this addition the Pledge would read as follows: "I pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States of America, and to the Republic for which it stands, one Nation, indivisible, Under God, with Liberty and Justice for all."

Our nation is founded on the fundamental belief in God, and the Christian Religion. On the other hand Atheistic and Communist Russia and its satellites, which control a large part of the world, reject the very existence of God. Spiritual values are even more important to the defense and safety of our country than ships, guns and planes.

The handful of Americans who strive to eliminate God from our life would like to see the Ferguson resolution forgotten and buried in committee.

I urge all real God loving Americans to write their Senators and Congressmen urging adoption of Senate Joint Resolution No. 126 calling for the addition of the words "Under God" to the Pledge of Allegiance.

Reader Questions

Ratings on Credit

Recently two bankers asked me the same question, when we were applying for credit. "Why don't you do business with your own county financing corporation? Why do you go out of the county?"

The answer is: we must go out of the county to be financed as long as we are not under the CIO's protective wing. When one is not employed in the factory or any capacity that brings one under the CIO, unless he has a lump sum of cash to back his venture, his local credit bureau rating is poor, stalling any financial corporation from furnishing the capital to foster the work.

This holds true in many instances. For example, sheriff's office, hospital credit and others. Hospitals do not go through their own professional credit bureau, but operate through the local

Men Generally Blame Wives for Their Faults

Camille's husband is trying to hide his secret sex complex. So he shows jealousy and makes wild charges about her unfaithfulness. This is a very common "red herring" method which fearful husbands past 40 will often employ to divert their wife's attention.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case L-308: Camille P., aged 27, has an older, jealous husband.

"Dr. Crane, we have two adorable boys," Camille began.

"But my husband claims they are not his children, all because they have gray eyes like mine, instead of brown eyes like his own."

"Recently he has begun to make threats against a younger man in our community. He claims this fellow is the father of our children, which is absolutely false."

"Why, I wouldn't look twice at this man, even if I were single and hunting a husband."

"I have been true to my husband, and I really think he knows that, but he raves and storms and makes wild accusations."

"So I finally suggested he go with me to have a blood test performed or let us go to somebody who could give me the lie detector test, but he refuses."

"Dr. Crane, what else can I do to convince him that he is entirely wrong?"

Camille's husband is like millions of others right here in modern America.

He is worried about waning sex ardor in himself. Camille admitted they had not lived as man and wife for almost a year.

When men grow impotent, and this is usually a defeatist state of mind instead of an organic trouble, the husbands often pass the buck.

We psychologists call it "projection" for men generally blame their wives for their own faults. It is a universal male habit to do so.

Instead of admitting his own impotence, therefore, Camille's husband makes wild charges against his faithful wife. Secretly, he

Baering Down

By ARTHUR "BUGS" BAER

International News Service
 The banana biters of the upstate Asian districts have modulated their temple bells to background music for the Monroe Doctrine.

Next to taxation without tyranny the Monroe Doctrine is our oldest recipe for instantaneous breakfast on horse-back.

We have always claimed the doctrine reached its brilliant zenith when Garcia carried Livingston to Newcastile.

It is now an item on a Tibetan prayer wheel. We can see trouble ahead using the hole in a doughnut for a telescope.

The principal opinion of the doctrine is the heel of the invader shall not do a toe-dance on the western world.

Asia has slanted this ultimatum to its own optical chart and raised its five.

East is east and west is west and we're in the middle.

The oriental Monroe Doctrine means that Ripley's promenading Mongols will put on their hard hats and clip the tourist.

Our far-flung benevolence has released the oriental from his oppressor. The result is he is as lonely as a borrowed pup.

He has always been oppressed, enslaved and downtrodden. But nobody makes him brush his teeth every morning.

He would like to revert to the Mugg dynasty and enjoy things before we wrecked them with improvements.

If we are going to be hoist with our own petard we should examine the Monroe Doctrine for intention, drift and angle of departure.

thinks these will explain his failure to be affectionate. Some husbands repeat their accusations so often, they may finally believe their own talk. But Camille's husband doesn't really believe another man is the father of his two little boys, for he knows the lie detector machine could clear up the matter in 30 minutes.

No, he is waging a vigorous offense to keep his fearful wife on the defense and so worried about this "red herring" charge of his, that she will not see through the camouflage and detect his impotence.

For husbands are extremely sensitive on this point. They may resort to all sorts of red herrings to divert their wives' attention from the real problem.

Thus, a man past 45 or 50, may become excessively nagging and fault finding concerning his wife's housekeeping or cooking or anything else that will give him a plausible excuse to scold her.

Other men flee into alcohol and stop at taverns. Then they stumble home half intoxicated at 2 a.m.

But this drunkenness not only gives them a little relief from their constant worry and dread, but also excuses their lack of ardor when they finally do reach home.

"For if I am drunk, she'll think that's why I don't want to kiss her and be affectionate," they often report to me.

Other fearful husbands become excessive gamblers. Or they may throw themselves wholeheartedly into youth work at the YMCA or Boy Scouts so they are away from home till late every night and thus so dead tired that their fatigue can serve as a convenient "cover-up."

You wives can banish such jealousy and impotence fears by following the advice in my bulletin "How to Prevent Impotence." Send a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Medical Authorities Now Are Doubtful If Alcohol Causes Cirrhosis of Liver

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

Physicians know that the partial paralysis (multiple neuritis) which terminates the career of many an inebriate is not inflammation of the nerves in the weakened legs and arms due to direct irritation of the nerves by alcohol.

One of the things we have learned is that so-called alcoholic paresis or multiple neuritis or polyneuritis is actually degeneration of the nerves, a withering or breaking down.

So the name for it is polyneuropathy—disease of many nerves.

The actual cause of the withering, break-down or degeneration of the nerves of the steady drinker is nutritional deficiency, particularly dry beri-beri, inadequate daily intake of vitamin B1, thiamin.

But let no steady drinker or cocktail hound infer that there's no harm in a "social glass" of beer, wine or liquor.

Aside from the impairment of moral consciousness, judgment and responsibility by even a small dose of alcohol, so-called "moderate" drinking entails every untoward effect of heavy drinking, though in less obvious degree.

Remember this next time you read about the exonerated of some culprit because the chemical test of his blood showed less than 0.05 per cent of alcohol at the time of the crime.

It was the consensus of medical opinion that cirrhosis (degeneration) of the liver was generally alcoholic cirrhosis, although the trusty Osler's Practice in the gay nineties did mention incidentally that in some instances cirrhosis of the liver might be due to other causes.

Never mind how a doctor determines whether a patient has cirrhosis of the liver. This is a health service, not a symptom shop.

Today medical authorities on sound scientific ground question whether alcohol causes cirrhosis of the liver, Haggard & Jellinek, for instance, in their book Alcohol Explored (Doubleday Doran), point out these cogent facts:

1. Cirrhosis occurs in less than one out of each twelve chronic alcoholics.

2. Attempts to produce cirrhosis of the liver in animals by feeding them large amounts of alcohol over long periods of time have failed.

3. Cirrhosis of the liver occurs in individuals who use and have used no alcohol.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 150 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed.

Petrov Papers Name Solons Who Assisted Reds Unwittingly

CANBERRA, Australia (AP)—The Petrov spy documents list two and possibly three members of Australia's house of Representatives as having unwittingly given information to Soviet agents, the Royal Commission on Espionage was told today.

The commission's counsel, W. J. Windeyer, made the revelation during the second day of preliminary hearings into the story of Russian spying in Australia told by Vladimir Petrov, former Soviet Embassy third secretary here who quit the Reds and was given political asylum.

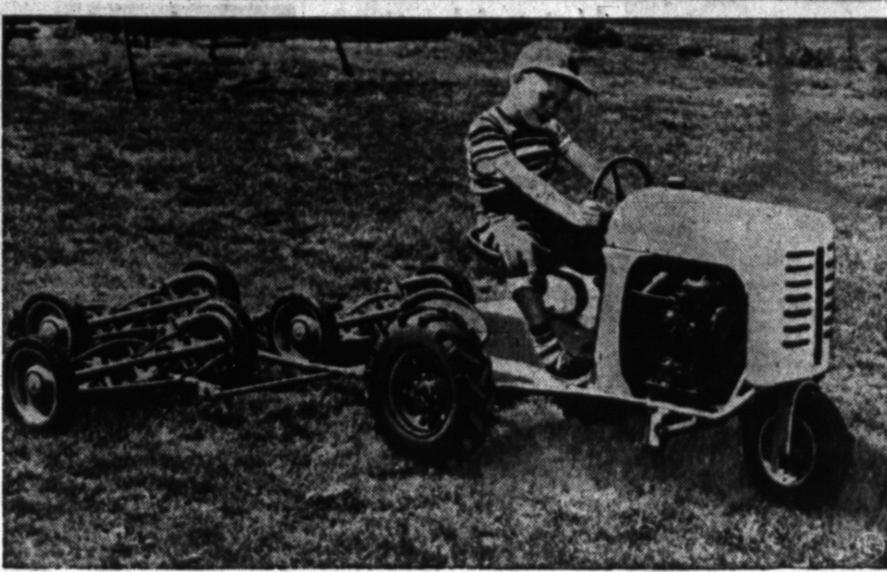

The counsel said one of the documents turned over by Petrov related to American and Japanese interests in Australia. He said it was 37 pages long but did not disclose its contents.

He said one of the two members of Parliament definitely mentioned in the papers as unwitting informants was from the Liberal-Country party government coalition and the other was from the opposition Labor faction.

He did not reveal their names or indicate the importance of the information the Soviets gleaned from what he termed unguarded remarks.

He also said government employees had passed information and copies of documents to agents of the Soviet MVD.

TV in Casino Permits Owner to Check Cheats

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—This gambling city is preparing to catch cheaters by electronics.

One plush casino, The Sands, inaugurated last night an elaborate television circuit by which Jake Freedman, president of the hotel corporation, can watch all 10 gaming tables at once from his office on the floor above.

The closed circuit consists of 10 cameras which show, on the screen of Freedman's receiver, only the hands of the players and dealers at the 10 tables. Any untoward activity can be reported by Freedman to pit bosses or other floor officials.

The cameras, a hotel spokesman said, do not identify the players but show only their hands and the exchange of money between dealers and players.

President to Address 50,000 at Picnic

CHARLOTTE, N.C. (AP)—President Truman today will deliver an address as part of a giant Freedom Day celebration.

His brief afternoon speech follows a picnic luncheon with attendance expected to reach 50,000. The President plans to take off shortly afterwards aboard his plane Columbine for Washington.

The Celebration at Freedom Park is in honor of the 179th signing of the Mecklenburg County Declaration of Independence Thursday.

It was May 20, 1775, that Charlotetown (now Charlotte) citizens, most of them of Scotch-Irish descent, gathered to protest their complaints against Great Britain. As a result the declaration was drawn up and signed by leaders of the meeting. The minutes of the meeting supposedly were destroyed by fire in 1800.

O-JIB-WA BITTERS HELPED ME WHEN I GAVE IT A FAIR TRIAL

"Four years ago I tried O-JIB-WA for a couple of days and quit. Recently I gave it a fair trial, and am amazed by the good results I received," says Mr. Charles Whipple, 16128 Linwood, Detroit, Michigan.

"It was about ten years ago that I first began to notice the stiffness and soreness of arthritis in my back. It gradually became worse until I was forced to walk all stooped over. Lots of times I couldn't even get up the stairs. Besides this, I suffered a lot with my stomach and stomach troubles and sleepless nights are things of the past. My wife was bothered with gas and sour stomach, and it helped her also. I believe that there is nothing better than O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I am so glad that I gave it a second chance, and that I'm all better now."

Mr. C. Whipple couldn't sleep well nights. Then about four years ago I decided to try O-JIB-WA BITTERS. After a couple of doses, I threw the rest away as at that time I lacked confidence in it. I tried many different kinds of medicine after that, but they did not help me at all. I began to feel as though I had tried everything and was about to give up, as I thought nothing would help me. Then I began to

Jacoby on Rummy

Gin for Three Fast and Tough

Score Is Kept for Each Player; 'Battle Royal' Is Lots of Fun

By OSWALD JACOBY
"Is there any way for three persons to play gin rummy, with all three playing actively?" asks a Chicago reader.

Yes, indeed! There is the three-hand game known as battle royal gin rummy. Fast, tough and more fun than the proverbial barrel of monkeys.

Each player is dealt 10 cards, and the next card (31st) is turned face up. If the first player refuses it, the dealer may take it.

If all refuse the upcard, the first player begins by taking the first card of the stockpile. Thereafter all play in turn, from left to right (clockwise), as in any game for three or more players.

At your turn, you may take the top card of the stock or either of the two previous discards. Sometimes this gives you the chance to pick up your own previous discard—if you happen to want it.

If you knock successfully, you score what you win from each opponent. For example, suppose you knock with 7 points, catching one opponent with 15 and the other with 23 points. You get 8 points from one opponent and 16 points from the other, for a total score of 24 points.

If you knock unsuccessfully, the two totals, together with a bonus of 25 points for the undercut.

For example, suppose you knock with 7 points when one opponent has 15 and the other has 2 points. You get nothing. The man with 2 points beats you by 5 points and the other fellow by 13 points and gets 25 points for the undercut, scoring a total of 43 points.

Gin is very rare and seldom worth going for. If you do go gin, you get a bonus of 50 points.

Laying off in case of a knock is a bit complicated. The second player may lay off directly on the hand of the player who knocks.

The third player may then lay off, but only on the hand of the player who knocks; he may not lay off on the hand of the second player.

In the case of an undercut, however, the player who threatens to win by the undercut is subject to laying off by the other opponent; but the original knocker can never lay off.

Game is 200 points, and there is a bonus of 100 points for the game. Boxes count 25 points each. Three columns are kept on the scorepad, one for each player.

DOUBLE WINNER — There's been quite a change in viewpoint concerning Elmer Wilson, a Texas Tech student at Lubbock, Tex. Recently he was voted the "Ugliest Man" on the campus and was given an award by coed Patty Pinson (top). But last February he won the "Most Handsome" award (bottom). All students participated on a penny-a-vote basis, with proceeds going to the senior gift fund.

Surgeon Dissatisfied With Godfrey's Hip

BOSTON — A Massachusetts General Hospital surgeon who helped operate on Arthur Godfrey's hip a year ago says he "is not entirely satisfied" with the way the entertainer walks.

Dr. Otto E. Aufranc says he examined the TV-radio star in New York Sunday.

"He has made progress with certain muscle groups," the doctor says, "and now he is to concentrate on exercising certain muscles for two weeks before any plans are made."

Godfrey told a radio audience a week ago there was something "mechanically wrong" with the hip. "I've got to go back to the hospital and have it done all over again," he said.

Union Meeting With U.S. Steel

Starts 1st Major Talks of '54; Slump Weakens Bargaining Power

PITTSBURGH — U. S. Steel Corp. and the CIO United Steelworkers kick off the first major labor negotiations of 1954 today with the big union's bargaining power weakened by a six-month-old slump in the nation's steel industry.

The talks open the USW's new contract drive in the basic steel industry, employing some 600,000 steelworkers. Contracts expire June 30.

An estimated 190,000 steelworkers are idled by layoffs, an additional 257,000 are working only part time and steel mill operations hover around 70 per cent of national rated capacity.

This leads observers to believe the union will do everything possible to avoid a strike.

The negotiations are of national importance because:

1. U. S. Steel, the nation's top steel producer, generally sets the pattern followed by other basic producers in their talks with the union.

2. The steel industry is the backbone of the American economy. Steel prices do much to determine the over-all cost of living. It's possible that steel producers may pass any added contract costs on to the manufacturers of autos, refrigerators, stoves and the thousands of other articles made of steel, causing higher price tags.

3. The USW is one of the pace setters of American labor and other union leaders are sure to watch closely what the USW manages to win for its members.

Announced objectives of the USW this year are a guaranteed annual wage, a wage increase, improved hospitalization and pension plans and better terms on such contract items as overtime, vacations and holidays.

David J. McDonald, union president, hasn't disclosed how much of a pay increase the USW seeks for members now earning between $2.14 and $2.24 an hour.

Last year the union won an 8 1/2-cent hourly wage raise. It is expected to settle for less this year.

French Hoping to Renew Airlift

Send Liaison Team to Negotiate With Reds at Dien Bien Phu

HANOI (INS)—A French liaison team flew from Hanoi to Luang Prabang today and was to proceed by helicopter to Dien Bien Phu to renegotiate the agreement for the mercy airlift of French Union wounded.

However, it was not known when the discussions would begin. The Vietnam High Command informed French headquarters by radio that it could not reply to the latest French proposal for an evacuation agreement until its "government" had been consulted.

Dr. Pierre Huard, a Hanoi medical dean, was prepared to go to Dien Bien Phu with other physicians and an air force officer. They were the same team who arranged the original May 10 agreement with the Vietnamese Communists.

Only 11 French Union soldiers had been evacuated when the French called off the agreement Sunday.

Last night, the French radio broadcast new proposals for the evacuation, designed to expedite the airlift of wounded and, at the same time, hinder any rebel attempt to use a cease-fire to move its battle veterans into the Hanoi theater.

The French, suggesting that the liaison team return to captured Dien Bien Phu for new discussions, said that if the enemy agreed, French planes would be used to evacuate rebel as well as French Union wounded.

Furthermore, the French High Command proposed, mixed commissions should be set up to decide on which wounded men should be airlifted to Hanoi.

Factory Damaged by 2-Alarm Blaze

DETROIT (INS)—A two-alarm fire caused damage estimated at $25,000 early today to the Brady Manufacturing Co., plant in Detroit.

The fire broke out at 1:12 a. m. in a pile of corrugated paper cartons on the second floor of the metal stamping plant. The fire's origin was undetermined.

Arson squad police said damage to machinery on the ground floor was slight.

Fireman Frank Torrice, 27, suffered cuts on the left hand from flying glass and was treated at the scene.

Missing Train Conductor Still Subject of Search

MACKINAW CITY (INS)—State Police continued the search Tuesday for missing train conductor Frank Gleason of Marquette. They said he was aboard the Duluth and South Shore train when it arrived at Mackinaw City Saturday and was seen taking tickets as the train crossed on a train ferry.

But he could not be found later when the train arrived at St. Ignace across the straits. Railroad officials said they found an envelope in his effects containing photographs and instructions to turn it over to State Police.

Kanzler Estate in Court

DETROIT (INS)—An estate, reportedly worth more than a million dollars was admitted to probate Monday at Judge James H. Sexton. It was the will of the late Mrs. Josephine Kanzler, a sister of Mrs. Edsel Ford. Mrs. Kanzler's husband, Ernest C. and Richard H. Webber, a J. L. Hudson executive, were named administrators.

8 Stand Mute When Arraigned for Stock Fraud

DETROIT (INS)—Eight men stood mute on arraignment yesterday on charges of conspiracy, mail fraud and securities fraud in connection with a $300,000 stock swindle from Canada.

Federal Judge Arthur A. Koscinski entered pleas of innocent for the eight and ordered them held on $80,000 bond.

The indictment charged that the eight, acting as U. S. salesmen for a bucket shop operation in Montreal, sold interests in oil and uranium claims for $1.50 to $2.00, when market value was only about 10 cents a share.

U. S. Attorney Fred A. Kaess said the men called prospective buyers and told them that stocks, listed on the current market, were due to go up in value.

Group Goes to Court to Get Liquor Permit

LANSING (INS)—The state's policy of limiting the number of liquor licenses in Detroit's "Skid Row" has been challenged in the State Supreme Court.

Chairman George J. Burke of the State Liquor Control Commission said Mark-Boyd Inc., operators of the Washington Bowl, had petitioned for a writ of mandamus to force the commission to grant it a liquor-by-the-glass license in the 300 block of Detroit's Michigan avenue, heart of Skid Row. Burke said the commission has an agreement with the Detroit Common Council and Police Department to issue no more licenses in that area.

The suit charges the commission with abuse of its discretionary power.

Cocker Shoots Air Rifle, Wounds Master in Chin

OMAHA (INS)—Mickey, a cocker spaniel, shot a man. Mickey's owner, Jerry Danahy, 16, and Jerry Douda, 15, were playing with a .17-calibre air-powered pistol with a broken trigger guard when the pup leaped into his master's lap. A paw hit the trigger.

The discharged pellet hit Danahy square on the chin, inflicting a two-inch gash.

2 Bloomfields Boom

By HARRY J. REED
(This is the eighth in a series of articles describing population and industrial growth for communities in Oakland and adjoining counties.)

Swift travel along the major highways of Bloomfield Township and Bloomfield Hills gives slight indication of the wealth of construction currently in these areas.

A drive along Woodward avenue, Telegraph road, and Long Lake and Square Lake roads provides only a glimpse of the daily building activity which is keeping hundreds of skilled craftsmen busy in these two areas.

The construction, moderate by growth standards of other areas, is quite large for these areas which are feeling the effect of industry and home building expansion from the metropolitan Detroit area.

Both in Bloomfield Hills and Bloomfield Township, the keynote is expensive, custom homes, averaging $50,000 in the former, and between $20,000 and $25,000 in the latter. Row-upon-row subdivision-type development is unheard of in these rolling hills.

"Our construction boom began three years ago, with 291 residences valued at $6,161,600 built in 1950, increasing to 415 homes costing $9,810,600 in 1953," Bloomfield Township Treasurer Arno L. Hulet says.

"We're further along in 1954, with 154 permits valued at $3,860,000 through April," he states.

Bloomfield Hills has no land zoned for industrial development, and the township has only a three-acre site in its extreme northeast corner, with light industries scattered along Telegraph road.

The largest building project now under way in the township is on the former Mercer farm, a 390-acre plot bounded by Cranbrook, Maple, Lahser and Lincoln roads.

The Garling Construction Co. of Dearborn has announced plans for a $6,000,000 development of 700 homes there, and has secured tentative approval of a 54-acre section of 75 lots in the southwest portion of this area.

Township Supervisor David Anderson says, "About 40 per cent of the township is left for future development," he estimated.

Also nearing completion is Lone Pine Village, a 20-home subdivision on rolling farmland near Telegraph and Lone Pine roads, with two-level modern homes set into hills there.

Much of the construction has been in rigidly restricted subdivisions, such as the Bloomfield Village of Judson Bradley. There, homes must be either brick or stone, and one and one-half or two stories, with all plans approved by the subdivider.

Business development of the southwest corner of Maple and Telegraph is in the near future, with the announced sale of the land there by Max Brook Real Estate of Birmingham.

Bloomfield Hills, like Bloomfield Township, is primarily a residential community, but with a new type of "industry" appearing. Large offices seeking to escape traffic congestion and to gain more space have moved out to the country. The largest is MacManus, John and Adams, an advertising agency located in a modern structure at Woodward and Long Lake Rd.

Occupied in late 1952, the two-story building was constructed with an eye to adding a third level when necessary.

"The new location brought our employees and executives closer to their work, and also to many of our clients," says president James R. Adams.

Other offices which have located in Bloomfield Hills are New Center Studios, Inc., a photographic firm producing technical manuals; architects Eero Saarinen and Associates, and Swanson and Associates, architects.

Multiple dwellings have also made an appearance, as evidenced by the Cranbrook Manor Apartments along Woodward. The three-bedroom units are spacious by law, since zoning forbids more than three residences per acre.

"We are not growing as fast as other nearby communities with smaller homes, but it is really a growth by leaps and bounds for us," Bloomfield Hills City Clerk Robert Stadler says.

"More and more of the big estates of years ago are being split up into subdivisions now," he added. "The only large areas yet untouched are in the northwest section of the city."

Schools have felt the results of the popularity of the area for large homesites. Voters approved a $1,750,000 building bond issue in November, 1953. Supt. of Schools Eugene Johnson and the Board of Education will receive bids on the $1,511,500 high school on May 24.

The present student population of approximately 800 is expected to hit 2,243 by 1960, if the 19 per cent annual increase continues.

With many new subdivisions being created, the city is moving toward higher cubic foot building requirements. Many subdivisions have restrictions even higher than the city's requirements.

"Home building is increasing every year," City Manager Elmer Kephart echoes. "We had 17 homes built in 1952, 28 in 1953, and we're still increasing."

"Since many home owners purchase two or three lots for the large type homes they want to build, the planning commission is considering raising the minimum area to two acres, in some places," he said.

Sam Smith Earns Award as Outstanding Senior Boy

By ELEANOR G. DUCKWITZ
WALLED LAKE Correspondent
WALLED LAKE—To those who know him, it was no surprise when Sam Smith was named outstanding senior boy of the Walled Lake High School class of 1954 and presented with the annual Rotary Club award last night.

Sam has been collecting honors for several years, and this one—presented by Rotary president Ralph Buffmyer following the all sports dinner at which 23 senior lettermen were guests—was merely the climax.

It started back in junior high when Sam became student council president after serving as a council member. That year, too, he received one of the junior high achievement awards for service in school.

As a sophomore he was elected to the senior high council and was the first junior in the history of Walled Lake high school to be elected to the president's office. He was re-elected to the post this year.

The son of Mrs. Mona Smith of Walled Lake, Sam has long had an interest in agriculture. With his uncle he has been running to 23 in favor of the "blind man."

What happened?
In a center set up to give free vision tests to 350 children a day, only 23 showed up.

Discouraging? You bet!

More than discouraging. Because of those 350 kiddies between the ages of 3 and 5, at least 35 have faulty eyesight. If the trouble were discovered now, they would have an excellent chance to remedy it before school work begins. If let go until they are in school, many face a lifetime wearing eyeglasses, and some may meet the "blind man" face to face.

The Birmingham Junior League which sponsors the program, and school and health directors who are backing it, are at a loss to understand the lack of response. In both Pontiac and Birmingham, hundreds of children received their vision tests within the last two weeks. Why not in Drayton Plains?

Is it that Monday washday, or transportation difficulties provided an easy excuse? Is it that Drayton parents are less careful of their children's welfare than those in Pontiac and Birmingham?

Is it that they just don't realize the amazing number of bright-eyed tots who have trouble seeing, and the importance of correcting vision defects before kindergarten age?

The Junior League has expensive testing equipment set up at the screening center today, at Sashabaw Rd. and Monroe St., in the Community United Presbyterian Church building.

Seventeen specially-trained volunteer workers are giving their entire day so the children can get vision tests.

They don't get paid for it. They do it because they want your child to have his chance in life.

You don't need an appointment and there's no charge for the test. The Snellen method, a series of sight glasses which are fun for the kiddies, is used. The center will be open until 4:30 today.

Isn't it worth the price of a taxi, if your car isn't available, to be sure your tot isn't one of the unlucky 10?

Wednesday the vision screening program will move on for a one-day stay at Airport and Williams Lake Rds., where the Christ Lutheran Church congregation has offered the use of its building for the tests. That center will be open from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Friday, the final program of the season will be given at the West Bloomfield Township Hall, 4460 Orchard Lake Rd., from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Educators and health directors are hoping that every child in the area will receive a vision test before starting school.

The program is set up as a community service for people in all income brackets. It costs a lot of money and time to operate it, but it costs you only a trip.

It is designed to help your child. Its success depends upon you.

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Donna Fralick, 20, seriously burned in an early Sunday morning fire which swept her four-room home at 46815 Vineyard, "is doing as well as can be expected," St. Joseph Hospital authorities in Mount Clemens said today.

Her husband, Donald, 21, died seven hours after helping his wife from the inferno and passing their 18-month-old child, Richard, through a window to a neighbor. The child was not seriously injured.

Besides his widow and son, Mr. Fralick is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Fralick, and a sister, Joyce.

Funeral service will be held in the St. John Lutheran Church, Rochester, at 2 p.m. Wednesday, with burial in White Chapel Memorial cemetery. Arrangements are by the William R. Potere Funeral Home, Rochester.

New Way to Stop Bleeding Piles Without Surgery

New York, N. Y.—(Special)—Medical research has developed a harmless, pleasant, quick-acting wonder drug called RECTORAL that is taken internally and goes right to the seat of the trouble. It does away with the old-fashioned messy, disagreeable-to-use ointments, suppositories, etc., that give little or no relief. Usually in just a few days, bleeding with any accompanying irritation and soreness begins to disappear and in a few days more is completely gone. It has been tested in thousands of cases without any return of bleeding, even years afterwards.

RECTORAL can now be obtained without prescription at Simms; J.V. Hallman Drug; Luttrell Pharmacy; Walgreen's; Thrifty; Shuster & Jones; Dunsmuir; Cole's; Furtney's; Hale; Quality; Keesee Drug; Keesee Harbor; Drayton Plains; Auburn Heights.

Pinky Lee Wowing Kids With Tricks

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD — Pinky Lee, the new hit of daytime TV, is wowing kid audiences with tricks he learned in burlesque.

Now before you parents get up in arms, let me add that the diminutive Lee is proud that he was "the cleanest comic in burlesque."

"I never did anything off-color in burlesque," he says. "If anything, my vaudeville act was spicier.

"I'm grateful for the two years I spent in burlesque. It was the greatest training I could have for what I am doing now. In those days, we had no script. We'd lay out the sketch and then feed lines back and forth to each other without missing a cue."

"Now I'm doing a half-hour show five days a week. It's a script show, and although we go over the lines many times, there's still a lot of ad-libbing and fast thinking to do. That burlesque training really pays off."

Pinky's checkered beany and his shy, lipping comedy have been known to audiences for years, but it turned out that a kid show has brought him his biggest success. He started his Pinky Lee Show for NBC Jan. 4, and it quickly earned the second highest audience rating for daytime shows. The veteran Howdy Doody, which follows him, is first by a small margin.

"I've never been happier than I have since I started this show," he remarked. "Before, it always seemed that when I was on the threshold of big things, the Devil would come along and knock the props out from under them. Now I think I have found my niche. I work hard — 16 or 18 hours a day — but it's worth it."

The little comic has had more than his share of bad breaks in the ups and downs of the show world. He has been in every phase of it during a career that has lasted over 20 years.

It was during one of his low periods that he took the job in burlesque. He had just returned from an engagement in Australia to find vaudeville virtually dead. His wife, pregnant with their daughter, took a fall and was seriously ill. Although he had earned up to $500 a week in vaudeville, he took a burlesque job for less than $100.

The training paid off. He went from there to a New York show, then to Hollywood for "Lady of Burlesque." While doing the movie Earl Carroll signed him for a two-week date at his theater cafe. Pinky remained 3½ years.

Since then he has done films, radio and TV.

"DARK" HEROINE—Curvesome Piper Laurie plays the role of a car designer in her newest film "Johnny Dark." Tony Curtis and Don Taylor are test drivers in the new Universal-International Technicolor production. The imposing cast includes Paul Kelly, Ilka Chase, Sidney Blackmer and Ruth Hampton.

Pinball Parlor Employees Ask Right to Pet on Job

TOKYO — Employees of a Tokyo pinball parlor are striking for—among other things—the right to pet on the job.

Eleven men and three women complained also about working 13 hours daily for $9 a month, food and lodging.

But their loudest howl was the prohibition against petting. Two couples were fired for displays of affection.

The owner had ruled petting on the job "detrimental to peace and order in the shop."

Thieves Nearly Manage to Curtail Mail Delivery

ATHOL, Mass. —Thieves yesterday came close to doing what neither rain nor snow nor dark of night cannot. They almost stopped the U. S. mail.

The robbers who stole the four wheels off rural mailman William Peacock's car delayed the swift completion of his appointed rounds.

But William Kelly, a neighbor, took over mail delivery for the day.

There are 51 miles of bicycle paths in New York City.

Raise Rejected by Carpenters

Striking AFL Locals
in Western Michigan
Defeat Proposal

BATTLE CREEK — Striking AFL Carpenters locals in six southwestern Michigan cities have rejected a pay raise proposal by a close margin, in a very tight vote.

In the actual tabulation of votes, released last night by the union, three locals favored the raise proposals by large margins.

Mrs. Frida Hotten, secretary of the Michigan State Carpenters Council, said the total vote was 361-337 in the six cities, represented by the Southwestern Michigan Carpenters Assn. (AFL). Some 2,500 carpenters are involved.

It was a defeat for the proposal, approved by the Southwestern Michigan Contractors Assn., that would give a 10-cent hourly raise retroactive to May 1 immediately.

The proposal, presented by the union, would also provide another 2½-cent raise effective Sept. 1 and give doubletime pay for Saturdays, Sundays and holidays.

Battle Creek, Holland and Coldwater accepted the proposal. Mrs. Hotten said the total was 106-8 in Battle Creek, 52-3 in Holland, and 26-4 in Coldwater.

Three other cities, Kalamazoo, Muskegon and Grand Rapids rejected the proposal. Mrs. Hotten said the vote against was 103-37 in Kalamazoo, 89-71 in Muskegon, and 154-45 by two Grand Rapids locals.

British railways still have important uses for the horse and maintain a stud of 75,000 horses with adequate stabling, hospitals and training schools controlled by a horse superintendent.

Sparrows Find Clothes Dryer Vent Pipe Cozy

OMAHA — Mrs. W. J. Noecker's clothes drier sits in a second-floor kitchen with a vent pipe extending through the side of a wall. Through the pipe came a sparrow family to take up homemaking in the drier.

For a while Mrs. Noecker kept destroying nests and the birds kept rebuilding. One day she found an egg in the nest. She gave up.

Now she removes the nest and its egg when she uses the drier.

Well Drilled for Water Spouting Gas Instead

WEISER, Idaho — City officials report they dug a well for the municipal swimming pool and for use in care of lawns. But little water has come from the well.

Instead, natural gas has poured out at a steady 20 pounds pressure. The city has installed a meter to see if the gas can be put to use commercially.

Perfume That Clings

Q.—Dear Penny: I adore perfume, but for some reason or other its fragrance just does not last on me. I have told several of my friends that I want a new perfume, but first I must find out about a lasting one.—Mrs. A. W.

A.—A particularly good idea for women who claim that perfume does not "stay with them" is a Liquid Skin Sachet. It smooths on the skin very easily, and lingers longer because of its sachet base. It has a slower rate of diffusion and evaporation than any other type of fragrance and was originated by Houbigant. Try their Chantilly Liquid Skin Sachet. Only $1.25 plus tax at better stores.

Also on the day's program were selections by the Baldwin Honor Choir directed by Mrs. Harold Northon and music by the school band conducted by Eldon Rosegart, along with several solos.

The annual report was presented by Mrs. Paul Arndt, president.

MR. and MRS. JACK H. NICHOLS

Doris J. Haney Becomes Bride in Nazarene Rite

White gladioli, snapdragons and daisies decorated the altar of First Church of the Nazarene Saturday evening when Jack Henry Nichols claimed Doris Jean Haney for his bride.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley J. Haney of Clarkston, and the Henry S. Nichols of Stout street are the bridegroom's parents.

The 8 o'clock service was performed by the Rev. Kenneth Hutchinson before 200 guests.

For the occasion the bride chose a white-length gown of white Chantilly lace over satin. The lace jacket featured a Peter Pan collar, and a matching lace Juliet cap held her fingertip veil. Her bouquet was of white gladioli and hyacinths.

Linda Sue Nichols, the bridegroom's sister, was honor maid, and other attendants were the bride's sister-in-law, Mrs. Vernon D. Haney, and her sister, Linda Gail Haney, flower girl.

Linda Sue wore ballerina-length blue net over taffeta with a taffeta jacket and Juliet cap. Pink carnations formed her bouquet.

A similar ensemble of coral with yellow carnations, was worn by Mrs. Haney, and Linda Gail wore white net over taffeta.

Robert Brian was best man and the bride's brothers, Vernon and Charles Haney, seated the guests with the bridegroom's uncle, Harold Stallons.

A blue linen dress with pink accessories and a corsage of tearoses was chosen for the ceremony by the bride's mother, Mrs. Nichols wore pink taffeta with white accessories and a tearose corsage.

A reception at Roosevelt Temple followed the ceremony. For the eastern wedding trip the bride changed to a blue linen suit with the corsage from her bouquet.

Scout Camp Will Mark 25 Years

Sherwood Boasts Great Increase in Facilities

Saturday will be the silver jubilee celebration of Camp Sherwood, the Girl Scout camp at Lapeer.

The camp has grown greatly since it opened its first season in 1929 with 160 girls. Then the 55 acres boasted two small cottages, an ice house, and cots and mattresses from Wilson Foundry dormitories. The boats were donated by Shorty Hook.

The site fulfilled national standards and excelled. Girl Scout camps in other countries.

The camp was staffed with volunteers except for the director and swimming instructor. Camping was also open to 4-H Clubs and Camp Fire Girls for part of the summer to raise camp funds. The Girl Scouts also raised money through the annual cookie sales.

Chairmen of the first camp committee were the E. D. Merrys, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Pardee, Mrs. Emmanuel Lewis, Ruth Kimball, Mrs. Jean Ayers, Mrs. George Carhart, Mrs. B. C. Stewart, Mrs. Floyd Kent and Mrs. J. W. Herring.

In later years Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hutchins presented the camp with a dining hall addition, Lottie Hutchins Hall.

During the depression, keeping the camp together was difficult, and the committee finally had to sell several acres, which were acquired again in 1950.

The camp today has 95 acres with six separate camping units, an infirmary, a lodge, a rainy day house for crafts, and a caretaker's cottage. Now 600 girls may enjoy the camping facilities during a summer, on a site that was hardly adequate for 160 girls 25 years ago.

Free Dater Must Keep All Happy

Should Make Each Girl Believe She's the Most Important

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

Just how far and wide can a boy wander when he's not going steady with anyone special? Does he owe any responsibilities to the various girls he does date?

Is there any way he can make one girl feel pretty important without dating her so often she begins to get ideas? How's he supposed to treat one of his girls when she sees him out with another?

Small wonder many a boy settles for going steady as being easier on the constitution. Yet there's much to be said for the freedom of the free lance.

The trick is in keeping the ties close without getting tangled up in them—which we will now try to explain to this boy who writes:

"Dear Miss Woodward: Our junior-senior banquet is coming off pretty soon and I'm in luck. If you don't go steady, getting a date can be quite a headache.

"You have to ask the girl you want weeks ahead of time or you'll find she already has a date. Then there's a chance that any other girl you ask might refuse because she's second choice.

"But, as I said, I'm in luck. I like this girl, though we aren't going steady, and I asked her for a date for the banquet and she agreed.

"Now what I want to know is this: Between now and the banquet would it be proper to go out with other girls?

"There are all sorts of big doings planned, and I'm wondering if I can feel free to go with someone other than the girl I asked to the banquet?"

Obviously the banquet is the big deal. And you've paid your highest compliment to a girl you like by asking her to go to it with you.

She's taking it as a compliment, too. She understands the importance of this big bid and the relatively lesser importance of incidental like class parties. She's aware that you aren't going steady with her, so she's certainly not looking to be invited to all the doings by you.

The big bid placed her at the top of your list and made her feel important. Seeing you with other girls at other doings won't disturb her. She knows you're free to ask anyone to anything. And she was your first choice for the biggest event.

If you want to give her a really big plan, invite her to the second biggest event. Or ask the girl who's second on your list. Or go stag and give all the girls a whirl.

Those big school affairs are all public appearances and a free lance can plot an easy course through them. The outside-of-school dates he has with his various girls are what really makes them feel important.

A girl won't mind seeing him at a picnic with someone else if she knows she's going to the movies with him that night. And if his phone calls to her before and after indicate that the movie date is faithfully important to him!

That's keeping the ties close, concentrating on each relationship separately, making each girl feel that the dates she has with him are the most fun. What if they do compare notes? It's all in fun—you've nothing to hide.

Try to Plan Chores to Reduce Fatigue

If you are a busy young mother, you'll find that a well-planned schedule that allows for occasional breaks in routine will be a big help toward avoiding end-of-day fatigue. Arrange to do chores when they will be the least effort.

For instance, don't wait to do your marketing until late afternoon when stores are crowded. By doing it in the morning you not only will avoid delay, but you will give yourself and baby an opportunity to relax.

While shampooing, comb the thick soapy lather the full length of long hair using a very coarse comb. This is extra insurance for complete cleanliness from scalp to hair ends.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Others' Keepsakes Are Clutter, Hers Are Useful

Accumulators like me. There ought to be a law, I often think, against people who clutter up homes and offices with useless dust-catchers.

The other day I was sounding off about this prejudice to a friend who shook his head and then told me the story of the ugly toy dog he keeps on his desk. Everybody he knows, including his rather blunt secretary, has tried to get him to throw the object away.

"But it isn't an ugly toy dog to me," he explained. "It's a beautiful day in Spain, one of the most perfect of my life. The sun was shining, the air was soft and I was as near complete happiness as I've ever been."

"Whenever I see that cheap toy dog, picked up at a fair that memorable day, I think of love, beauty, perfection and I wouldn't throw the little fellow away for anything."

It was a charming story, but as soon as I got out from under the spell of the romantic day in Spain, I found I still had my original case against people who can't get rid of even a scrap of paper without pain. Only now, I'll try to remember that with all human beings you have to allow for ugly toy dogs that really aren't what they seem.

I know somebody whose ugly toy dog is a sizable collection of Irish Sweepstakes tickets. Every year she spends $2.85 for one. She knows she can't afford it—she works at a job she detests and she doesn't even expect to win. But she has a wonderful time planning what she'd do if a miracle happened and the glorious word actually came.

"I mull over whether I'd buy a black Cadillac or a powder blue one," she declares, laughing a little at herself. "But chiefly I plan how I'd resign from my dreary job. Sometimes I think I'd just go into the office and upstage everybody who has ever been mean to me."

"Or again I think I'd be graciously forgiving and hand out $100 to each. Or maybe I'd take them all to an expensive lunch and when we arrived at dessert tell them I'm resigning. The enjoyment I get from that ticket each year is worth the price many times over."

Completely to my surprise and a little to my chagrin, I realize suddenly that I, too, have an ugly toy dog—a whole pocketful, in fact. They're flown across the ocean with me again and again.

There's a buckeye from Missouri that Mr. Ed Jamieson gave me years ago. There's a real piece of eight from a treasure-hunter. There's the left hind foot of a rabbit caught in a graveyard. And there's a part of the caul of a seventh daughter of a seventh daughter, besides a few four-leaf clovers, tiny elephants with their trunks up and various lucky medals and coins.

Why don't I practice what I preach and get rid of all that clutter? It isn't clutter, that's why—it's an assortment of very useful articles!

Baby's Third Year the Age of Doing

Baby's third year is a fascinating one, if a bit exhausting for you. It's the age of doing. He runs, jumps, climbs; he molds clay, builds blocks, draws with crayons.

And he will help to dress himself, delight in learning how to unbutton the buttons and taking pride in his neatness. He will eat without many accidents, too, and will drink from a cup with enthusiasm.

This Work Is Keeping Her Young

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"Why don't you discuss babysitting more often?" a woman asked me the other day. "It can be a wonderful career for older women who've always worked at home, and who like children."

"Take me, for example," and she went on to tell her story.

Four years ago, she explained, when she was 51, her husband passed away. They had been very devoted and the first year was awfully hard.

"But after that," she said briskly, "I realized that I still had my

Wife Still Devoted to Her Relatives by Former Marriage

By EMILY POST

A letter today tells me: "When my first husband (father of my three grown children) died, his relatives were simply wonderful to me. All these years they've helped me through bad spots."

"I've married again and my present husband is kind and good, yet he seems to resent my affection for this first family; also my referring to them as in-laws. He thinks his family alone is in that category. What can I do about this complicated problem?"

Answer: I wonder if the reason can be that you talk about this first family more than you realize you do, and perhaps with what seems to him to be greater affection than you are feeling for his family.

You are perfectly right to continue loving your first husband's family. It would be very cruel if you didn't.

However, it would be better to avoid emphasizing your affection for them to your present husband and to try to show greater appreciation of his family!

Dear Mrs. Post: When an invitation reads "From 4 to 6," is it proper to come at 4 and stay until 6? A friend and I differ on this.

She says this invitation means people only are expected to come in for a little while sometime during those hours. Is this true? I've often been at parties like this when people stayed the entire time. We would appreciate hearing from you on this matter.

Answer: To go at 4 and stay until 6 would be unusual but not unheard of if you find yourself among especially congenial friends. Most people go in sometime between these hours, stay a half hour or so and leave.

Dear Mr. Post: Does a person leaving the city to make her home elsewhere call her friends personally to say goodbye, or do the friends call her to bid her goodbye?

Answer: There's no rule. Those who know she is going probably will call her or even go to see her.

She herself must, of course, call those who do not know she is going away.

life to live and I'd better start living it.

"Money was scarce, and I took a small apartment in the city where we had always lived."

"I knew I would have to get some kind of job if I wanted any of the little luxuries that are so important, but I hated the thought of the business world, because the homemaker's world was what I loved the most, especially caring for children."

"So I put an ad in my local newspaper, offering to babysit evenings from 6 till midnight."

"I took evenings because they were the lonely time. Afternoons, I could always window-shop or visit with friends, but the evenings were awful."

"That first ad brought in only two customers, but before long, what with word of mouth and all, I had six couples, each of which wanted me one night a week."

"I made a permanent arrangement with them, so that every Saturday I go to one house, every Wednesday to another, and so forth.

"Monday nights I keep for myself, because nobody wants to go out on Monday, it seems, and also I do like one evening free."

But the rest of the week, it is really fun to have a 'date' with cute youngsters and make a little money at the same time.

"Now, a couple of my customers have asked me to take the children for two weeks this summer while they go off on vacation. So I'll make a good deal of money and still have a kind of vacation myself—living in someone else's house, playing with the kids and keeping young!"

"Because of my babysitting career," this woman concluded, "I have money for luxuries, a full and interesting life, a lot of young friends who seem to keep me young, a feeling of real service—and more birthday and Christmas presents than the belle of the ball!"

By HUBBARD COBB

We read just the other day that one of the reasons why mammals, including us humans, have done so well that we can now blow up the world is that we can perspire and adjust to varying temperatures.

Only mammals have learned this trick. Reptiles can't perspire and neither can insects. In fact neither can pipes, toilet flush tanks and masonry walls.

When people see moisture collected on the outside of a pipe, a flush tank or on a masonry wall, they say that the item is "sweating," but actually it isn't.

That moisture is the result of warm moist air striking a cold surface, being chilled and condensing the vapor into a solid called water.

Now that the warm, humid weather is with us you'll find a lot of sweating objects about the house. There are two ways to deal with this moisture problem.

One is to warm up the surface of the article involved and the other is to insulate it on the outside so that the warm, moist air won't be able to come into contact with the cold surface.

In the case of a sweating cold water pipe in the basement, you need only cover the pipe with insulation to eliminate the moisture condition once and for all.

With a basement wall, you should install some sort of wall-board over the wall. The same holds true of masonry in the main section of the house—a brick chimney, for example.

With a flush tank, you can either insulate the tank by covering it with a bath towel cut and fitted to the tank, warm the water inside the tank by bringing in hot water, or install a pan under the tank to collect the water dripping off the tank before it reaches floor.

RENDEL REDUCES LOST 24 POUNDS

Renel Concentrate gets top billing from thousands of Mich. users. So many men and women report that when excessive fat fades away, usually the body returns to its normal course and better health results. Choosing the right reducing aid brought good results to Mrs. Mary Hill, 57, Harmon, Detroit 2, Mich. She writes, "I am 58 years old and my weight was way above normal. This overweight caused my ankles to swell all the time and my blood pressure was extremely high. Less than two months ago I started to take Renel and with it have already lost 24 lbs. I eat quite normally and still lose from three to five lbs. each week. My feet and ankles are back to normal and so is my blood pressure. Naturally I am so thankful and I cannot praise Renel enough for what it has done for me." Just another satisfied user of Renel Concentrate who has made it do for her what she wanted it to do. If not pleased with the very first bottle return it to the manufacturer for your money back. Priced at $1.49. For best results get Renel.

ATLANTIC GATEWAY—Now that the St. Lawrence Seaway Bill is law, U. S. and Canadian officials are eyeing work necessary to turn the dream into a reality. The major project at present will be to cut a 27-foot-deep channel from Ogdensburg, N. Y., to Montreal, Canada, shown in the upper half of the map. The next project will be to enlarge and deepen all waterways west of Detroit, so that ocean-going vessels can travel between the Atlantic Ocean and the Mesabi Iron Ore Range in Minnesota. The waterway is expected to play a vital role in both U. S. and Canadian defense plans and hopes are high that it will fill the Midwest steel mills' needs for iron ore supplies from the Quebec-Labrador fields. Varying water levels of canals and lakes along the waterway are shown in the lower chart.

Presbyterians Meet in Detroit

Evangelism Conference Precedes Opening of General Assembly

DETROIT (INS) — The Presbyterian National Conference on Evangelism got under way in Detroit today as a preliminary to Thursday's opening of the 168th General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A. The Rev. Dr. Charles B. Templeton, official evangelist of the National Council of Churches, will speak tonight in Masonic Temple in Detroit, climaxing the first day of the conference which began this morning.

The General Assembly — supreme governing body of the Presbyterian Church — consists of 800 commissioners representing 2,581,500 Presbyterians.

The assembly's first order of business when it opens Thursday will be to elect a successor to Dr. John A. Mackay, moderator of the Presbyterian Church and pre-

Pioneer's Daughter Dies in Hotel Room

DETROIT (INS) — Mrs. Sarah Hubbard Brooks, 90, last surviving child of a pioneer Michigan explorer, was found dead in her bed at the Hotel Whittier yesterday.

Mrs. Brooks, who had lived at the apartment hotel for 20 years, left a note which said:

"I am old and so alone. Can't stand these changes. I try to be nice to the nurses, but —"

A partially empty bottle of sleeping pills was found amid a row of bottles near her bed. The death was listed as "suicide" by the coroner's office.

Mrs. Brooks, the widow of Alanson S. Brooks, president of the Michigan Drug Co., was listed in the Social Register. She was the youngest of eight children of Bela Hubbard, an early explorer of Upper Michigan and subsequently a wealthy realtor.

Deportation to Wales Facing Detroit Red

DETROIT (UP)—Frederick John Williams, 48, faced deportation to his native Wales today because of alleged Communist Party activity.

The Justice Department said Williams had become a Communist Party member in 1929, and has served as a party recruiter and as a worker and officer in various Communist front organizations.

He was a witness before the House Un-American Activities subcommittee during 1952 hearings in Detroit, but refused to answer questions regarding party activities.

The Justice Department said Williams once traveled to Moscow to study communism.

Presbyterian Church Names Synod Moderator

DETROIT (INS) — The Rev. Lauren E. Brubaker, minister of the Harbor Springs Presbyterian Church, Monday was elected moderator of the Synod of Michigan of the Presbyterian Church.

As moderator he will head the synod's general council. Dr. Brubaker also is State Clerk of the Presbytery of Petoskey. Before going to Harbor Springs, he served churches in Cadillac, St. Augustine, Fla., and Birmingham, Ala.

State Polio Rate Lower Than '53

No Youngsters in Test of Vaccine Show Signs of Disease

DETROIT (AP) — The state health commissioner has reported that Michigan's polio cases so far in 1954 are lower than they were last year at this time.

Dr. Albert E. Heustis, director of the Michigan Health Department, said the total so far this year is 77. Last year at this time, he said, the total was 84.

None of the children who received the Salk polio vaccine have been hit by the disease as yet, Dr. Frederick S. Leeder, head of the Disease Control Division said.

He said, however, it was too early to "place an interpretation" on the statistics.

The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis said that Michigan's cases, though lower than last year, are still higher than the five year average for this date.

Dr. Leeder said that some 54,600 children will take the last shot in the three-injection series during the last week, this month. He said:

"We are waiting for the crucial months of July, August and September."

The foundation said that the nation's total is higher this year than last.

De Valera at 71 Asks Vote of Confidence From Irish

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Staff Correspondent

The big question in the minds of the voters in today's parliamentary election in Ireland is whether "Dev" will make it again.

Lanky, gaunt, fiercely partisan Prime Minister Eamon de Valera has been head of the government for all but three years since 1932. He has been a leader in Irish politics since the Easter rebellion of 1916.

But now de Valera is 71. His eyesight is failing. He has undergone several operations. Members of his staff read reports and newspapers to him.

They say in Ireland that if "Dev" loses it may mean the end of the political road for him.

De Valera resigned in March after his "soldiers of destiny" party—Fianna Fail in Irish—failed to win two seats in by-elections. The opposition United Ireland Party (Fine Gael) kept the seats by increased majorities.

De Valera had only 72 seats in parliament out of 147. The support of two independents gave him a majority of two. But he was always in danger of defeat and decided to call an election, though his term would not have expired until 1956.

There are no foreign issues in tomorrow's election. The domestic issues are not sharply drawn.

De Valera believes in government investment and pump priming as a means of long-range industrial and agricultural development. Fine Gael calls for lower taxes and says de Valera has increased the cost of living.

The election really boils down to the one issue whether the voter is for "Dev" or against him.

"Dev" was born in New York.

City on the site of the present Chrysler Building. He is the son of a Spanish father and an Irish mother. He was taken to Ireland in his childhood, after his father died.

A brilliant student, de Valera became a mathematics teacher. But from his youth he took active part in the Irish independence movement. He led volunteers in the Easter rebellion. He was sentenced to death but reprieved and then released.

He was president of the so-called "Irish Republic" during the rebellion after World War I. Then came the treaty with Britain which gave Ireland limited independence.

De Valera refused to accept the treaty. A civil war followed. The free state government won out.

De Valera finally formed the Fianna Fail party and went into parliament in 1927. He became head of the government in 1932. He lost out in 1948 only to be returned to the prime ministry in 1951.

U.S. Calls Off Perjury Trial

Judge Pine Refuses Wire-tap Evidence in Stephenson Case

WASHINGTON (U)—A perjury prosecution against Warren L. Stephenson, former executive secretary of President Eisenhower's Inaugural Committee, has been dropped at least temporarily as a result of a ruling that a telephone talk recording cannot be used as evidence.

Whether it will ever be resumed depends in large part on the result of a planned appeal to higher courts.

The government move came yesterday after Federal District Judge David A. Pine refused to accept the recording of a conversation between Stephenson, who is a manufacturer's representative, and Robert Q. Parsons of Burbank, Calif., president of Century Engineers. The three-count indictment was based on testimony by Stephenson to a House committee, about talks with the industrialist concerning Navy contracts.

Defense Atty. Nicholas Chase asked for suppression of the recording, telling the court Stephenson was unaware that the exchange was being preserved by a device attached to Parsons' telephone.

Judge Pine held that the Communications Act of 1934, and a Supreme Court decision in a wire-tapping case as well, prohibit use of the recording as evidence.

Asst. Dist. Atty. Edward Troxell told the court he doubted the government could proceed without the recording in evidence. He said the government wanted to call off the prosecution until it could get a ruling on appeal.

Rail Service Curtailed by Wildcatting Britons

LONDON (U)—A spreading wildcat strike by more than 1000 locomotive engineers and firemen forced sharp curtailment of service in the western region of the state-owned British Railway system today.

The walkout began at the Newton Abbott engine depot as a protest against work schedules which require the engineers to spend night away from home. Early today it spread to Bristol and to the Paddington engine station in London.

Union leaders vainly urged the men to go back to work.

Ireland Holding Quiet, Orderly Election Today

DUBLIN, Ireland (U)—Ireland conducted one of the most orderly parliamentary elections today in her history.

Accounts from all 26 counties of the independent republic said voters turned out early in a good humor to make a choice between the followers of Prime Minister Eamon de Valera and John A. Costello.

The prevailing mild spring weather was expected to give De Valera some advantage. The 71-year-old Prime Minister's Fianna Fail (Men of Destiny) party draws its chief strength from rural areas.

Fianna Fail will need heavy backing in the farming districts and villages to win a majority in the 147-seat Dail (Parliament). There are 301 candidates in the field and Fianna Fail is running against the four-party coalition of Costello's Fine Gael (United Ireland) party, the Labor faction Clann Na Talmhan (Farmers) and Clann Na Poblachta (Republicans).

The new Dail will serve a term not exceeding five years.

De Valera and the Fianna Fail have held power for some months with only a two-vote majority in the Dail. Plagued by economic difficulties, De Valera decided on new elections after his party failed to wrest two seats from the opposition in recent by-elections to fill vacancies.

1,400 Japanese Dead, Found in One Iwo Jima Cave, Killed Selves With Own Guns

By SANFORD SOCOLOW

IWO JIMA (INS)—Iwo Jima today is a peaceful, green-flushed island in the Far Eastern sun — Iwo Jima where more than 5,000 Marines gave their lives in one of the epic battles of World War Two, and where at least 20,000 Japanese 'dead still lie.

It was a muggy March day in 1945 when 60,000 Marines stormed, and eventually took, the little island that was the last real bastion between them and Japan.

They knew as they plodded, crawled and ran ashore under hellish fire that the job would not be easy. They learned, in a matter of hours that to take this place seemed militarily impossible.

Yet take it they did — and the network of fantastic underground caves and strongpoints that still laces the island attests to the magnitude of their accomplishment.

So, too, do the thousands of Japanese dead whose bodies still are sealed in those self-made tombs.

The vast, intricate networks of Japanese caves, with mile upon mile of underground hospitals, supply depots and ammunition storehouses, came to light more fully than ever before recently in the midst of a giant amphibious maneuver on the famed island battleground of nine years ago.

One of the strangest explorations into these blood-washed tombs of thousands of Japanese troops was an invasion into a cavern known as "the hospital cave."

An Air Force chaplain discovered the cave and — by a strange, unexplained quirk of fate and nature — found the "hospital" almost intact.

Capt. George S. Bieber, a Protestant minister from Williamsburg, Pa., said he saw a doctor's charred but still standing swivel chair, a pocket watch complete with a sweep-second hand and a stethoscope.

A scorched but solid laboratory rose out of the chamber's eerie darkness—unmoved by hands, unswayed by the earth.

The skeletonized remains of from 600 to 1,400 suicide Japanese mutely proclaimed their victory over capture.

Marines called the strange burial plot "Cushman's Pocket" in memory of a brave regimental commander. Surviving sons of the Rising Sun named it "Hell's Valley."

A member of a Japanese mission, visiting the scene to study possibilities of removing the entombed skeleton, inspected the inferno-like pyre and said:

"Once inside the cave, you can tell it was used as a hospital for the wounded. Sulphurous vapors seeped from all sides. The bodies were piled one on the other.

"The wounded soldiers in this cave died horrible deaths. Nearly all of the skulls of the dead had holes in their right side.

"This could only mean that all of the Japanese soldiers shot themselves rather than be captured. The cave was the place of mass suicide for the last defenders of the island."

A worker-explorer, Junichi Kitajima, explored the vast networks of caves across the now-hushed island because he felt it would be honorable to pay homage to the dead there. He said he found a large command post and marked it as typical of all he had seen.

"Inside the cave," he reported, "bones, skulls and ammunition were scattered over the floor. The smell of the dead was awful.

"All the caves were dangerous because disc-like mines are buried in them and bottled 'Molotov cocktails' still are scattered through them."

Marine demolition teams nodded at the report. They said they found 70 tons of explosives across the island and exploded 11,000 World War II duds.

No one truly realizes the amazing span of the cave network. But over 5,000 Marines who died on this volcanic rock are a testimony to its staggering immensity.

In the bitter battle for famed Mt. Suribachi, for instance, there were 180 Japanese fortifications in the 500-foot cone-shaped mound.

These intricate caves were the reason Iwo Jima was called the most heavily-defended place in the world when three Marine divisions landed on the beaches in 1945.

Picture this—one of the strangest annals of warfare:

There never was any question that the 60,000 invading Marines had conquered the surface of the eight-square-mile chop-shaped clod; but 20,000 Japanese controlled every foot underground.

What happened?

The Marines searched out the fire-breathing cave entrances, set dynamite charges, and on the explosion let each cave crush and seal itself.

No attempt had been made to clear the vast tombs. Most military men say that any such attempt would be fool-hardy and dangerous because of the great stores of ammunition and various explosives stored with the bodies.

Negro Is Nominated as Church Moderator

QUINCY, Mass. —The Massachusetts Congregational Christian Conference today had before it for the first time in its 155 years the nomination of a Negro as moderator.

Julian Steele, 47, of West Newbury, was virtually assured of election to the conference's highest post tomorrow. Conference officials said nomination is tantamount to election.

Board of Education Gives OK to 7 Candidates

3 Main Issues to Confront Voters in School Balloting

Seven candidates for Pontiac Board of Education have their names on ballots approved by the school board Monday night.

The board, meeting at 40 Patterson St., OK'd ballots, election workers, registration and election notices for the regular June 14 school election.

It hired 85 election workers, the largest crew in history, as members expect a larger-than-usual vote June 14 and there will be four separate ballots to be counted.

Board members decided to give election workers a 10 cent-an-hour pay raise and stop serving free lunches. Pay rate will be $1 an hour.

Three main issues will confront voters at the polls June 14: election of two school board members, Pontiac schools' request for higher taxes to build schools and help pay day-to-day operating costs; and a county request for a half-mill tax to educate handicapped children.

Seven men and women are trying for the two open spots on Pontiac Board of Education this year — one of the largest groups of candidates in school history.

Running for office are Mrs. Harry E. King, board secretary, seeking re-election, Edward P. Barrett, Mrs. Matlyn L. Brown, Dr. Walter L. Godsell, Dr. Leonard F. Klausmeyer, Paul J. Simmons and Everett C. Spurlock.

Pontiac's proposed 10-year tax would build some $8,000,000 worth of new schools and raise money to meet operating costs. The board hopes voters will raise taxes 6.25 mills ($6.25 on each $1,000 worth of property) for 1955-57 and by 8.75 mills for the following seven years, starting in 1958.

Actually, board members say, the net increase in taxes would only be about 4.25 mills for the 10 years. This year is the last year for the tax for old debt. That drops two mills off the tax rate before the 6.25-mill raise would take effect; and the current 2.5-mill building tax ends in 1957.

Oakland County Board of Education's request for a half-mill tax (50 cents for each $1,000 worth of property) for educating handicapped children is being put to a county-wide vote.

Police in Pakistan Collar Red Leaders

KARACHI, Pakistan — Police arrested 11 of Karachi's Communist leaders today and indicated more would be rounded up within a few hours.

The arrests were made under the Pakistan safety act, which permits jailing without trial.

The raids were launched in the wake of warnings by Premier Mohammed Ali that "the foul conspiracy of Communists should be crushed" in Pakistan.

The Prime Minister blamed last weekend's bloody labor riots in East Pakistan, which claimed more than 300 lives, on the Reds and "other elements inimical to Pakistan."

All was reported determined to ban the Communist party—in East Pakistan at least—as a result of the riots.

Seven Scandinavians Get Scholarships Replete With Beer Busts, Fraternities

By LOUIS FREEZER
United Press Staff Correspondent
MADISON, Wis. —Seven young Scandinavians are getting a free college education complete with fraternities, girls and beer parties because of a man who believes in the axiom about all work and no play.

Thomas Brittingham, Wisconsin University alumnus and now a Wilmington, Del., businessman, decided to establish a scholarship at his alma mater after a trip to Sweden, Denmark and Norway.

But Brittingham felt most scholarships were stuffy affairs which restricted the recipients to an ivory tower existence and gave them little of the flamboyant campus life of an American college.

He remedied that. This year three Norwegians, two Swedes and two Danes are going in for crew cuts, dates, fraternity dances, corsages and tuxedos as well as studying from American text books—all on Brittingham.

It didn't take long for his benefactors to catch on. They were "rushed" and joined six different fraternities so now they see each other only occasionally.

The thing they find most surprising about college life in America is the coed. They find her amazingly friendly, most companionable and what the campus terms "sharp." Also unpredictable.

"One I met on my first blind date," said Gosta Westring of Stockholm. "She was very clean cut and prim looking. We went to a campus spot and had a beer. She matched me drink for drink. After the sixth beer I suggested she maybe should stop. On the way out she suggested that maybe I should not drink so much beer."

Only exceptional athlete in the group is Cato Vik, of Oslo. He was junior tennis champion of Norway and a skilled ski jumper but he is not eligible for varsity competition here.

Vik was impressed with the meriment and friendliness of American youths.

"It is a good thing for a foreigner to see this gaiety," he said. "In our part of the world we take life much more seriously."

Although they mix fully in the campus social life, all seven youths have been careful to keep high grades. All excellent scholars and with a good knowledge of English when they were selected, none has had a grade lower than C and many have high B's.

They've formed a club known as "Tom's Vikings" in honor of the man who made their scholarships possible. Brittingham is so enthusiastic he plans to continue his "social scholarships" for the next 10 years.

Scientist Devises Fly Killer

URBANA, Ill.—The house fly is getting harder to kill because of his increasing tolerance to spray insecticides, but he dies after eating a new potion devised by Willis N. Bruce, associate entomologist of the University of Illinois.

The scientist reports his syrup-sweetened compound or organic phosphate has proved extremely deadly to flies during a year of tests.

The manufactured compound is called Bayer I. 13.59. A bit of it mixed with water and syrup was painted on partitions, door edges and posts of a calf barn.

After locating the bait, flies fed hungrily. They showed distress symptoms in one to three minutes.

Bruce said the flies were unable to move at all in five to fifteen minutes. Flies that had fed sufficiently on the bait and showed distress symptoms never recovered.

DECORATED—Edwin A. Davis Jr., 20, of 281 Oakland Ave., receives the Soldiers Medal for saving the life of a fellow soldier last Aug. 15 while serving in Korea. Presenting the medal is Capt. Wayne Harbour, head of the Army Organized Reserve Training Center here.

Sgt. Edwin A. Davis Jr. Is Decorated at Ceremony Here for Korean Bravery

A Pontiac man, who saved the life of a fellow soldier while serving with the U.S. Army in Korea last year, was decorated for bravery last night at the Organized Reserve Corps Training Center at 37 W. Lawrence St., while family and friends looked on during the full-dress ceremony.

Edwin A. Davis Jr., 20, of 281 Oakland Ave., formerly a sergeant with Co. "C", 494th Engineer Construction Battalion, was presented the Soldier's Medal for saving a comrade's life last Aug. 15 near Pusan, Korea.

Pontiac Mayor William W. Donaldson addressed guests and uniformed reservists who formed a colorful military backdrop for the ceremony.

The medal was presented by Capt. Wayne Harbour, officer in charge of the reserve training center.

Capt. Harbour requested the 703rd Tank Battalion, Pontiac's reserve unit, to form a color guard and stand full dress formation for the presentation.

Capt. Wesley Cunnell, 703rd Tank Battalion adjutant, read the citation accompanying the medal.

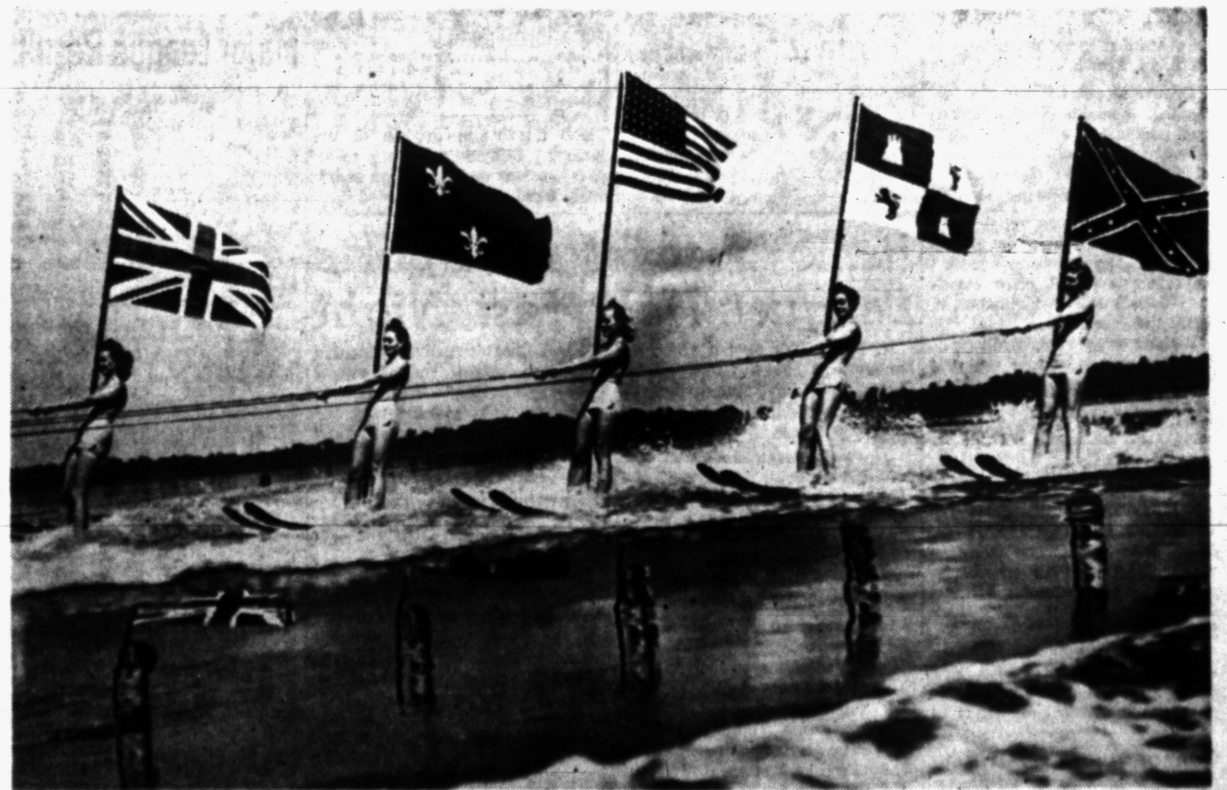

He said Davis was assisting in a quarrying operation near Pusan when a ledge of rock that had been blasted, gave way unexpectedly, carrying two men with it.

Both men were injured, one seriously and in danger of bleeding to death, the citation read.

Sgt. Davis climbed over sharp rocks that could at any time have started a landslide, applied a tourniquet to the pinioned man's severed arm, and stayed with him until a rescue crew could reach them about an hour later.

"The heroism and selfless devotion to duty displayed by Sgt. Davis on this occasion reflect great credit on himself and the military service," the citation concluded.

Maples Repeat as Invitational Champs

By JACK SAYLOR

Cast and director were different, but the script was the same. The 1954 edition of Birmingham High School's golf tournament repeated as Pontiac Press Invitational tournament champions by edging Southfield by five strokes.

Maples turned on the pressure on the 2nd nine holes at Pontiac's

Municipal course Monday to wipe out a 1-stroke deficit at the half-way mark. Birmingham's winning total was an even 400 strokes to 405 for the Bluejays.

Waterford was 3rd with 414, Milford, 4th with 448 and Bloomfield Hills 5th at 450. Rounding out the scores were Royal Oak "B", 457; Rochester, 471; Fitzgerald, 483; Avondale, 500; and Northville, 534.

Four of the 5 team members and the coach were changed in the Birmingham lineup, but Joe Borovick's squad shot only 7 strokes higher than the 1953 winners. Tim Baldwin, only returning member of the '53 team, paced the Maples with a 76.

Baldwin, a 15-year-old sophomore, and Bob Turner, Southfield sophomore, tied for low medal with 76, with Baldwin winning the sudden-death playoff on a par to Turner's bogie.

Joining Baldwin on the individual honor list were Bob Stallsmith of Milford, who took the Class B award with an 82, and Dave Van Every of Bloomfield Hills, the Class C medalist with an 83.

Baldwin fired a steady 38-38 against pars of 34-35, while Turner's 76 came on 36-40. Freshman Mike Conroy, 14-year-old son of Leo Conroy, professional at North Hills Golf Club, added a 77 (41-36), to the Birmingham cause.

Rounding out the Maples' winning total were Jim Kraus, 81; Bob Goldsmith, 82; and Capt. Terry Laundry, 84.

A pair of Waterford golfers were the only others besides Baldwin, Turner and Conroy to break 80. Larry Wigner posted a 77 and Bill Mitchell a 79.

Best 9-hole totals were the 36s registered by Turner on the north nine and Conroy on the south, Wigner's 37 on the south, and 38s by Van Every (south), Keith Fox of Royal Oak (north) and Baldwin (both sides).

Stallsmith surged back on his 2nd nine to nip Avondale's Charles Vallance in the "B" medal. After going out in 43, the Milford senior, who also is a fine basketball player, came back in 39 to top Vallance's 41-42 by a single stroke.

Birmingham retained possession of the big Pontiac Press traveling trophy for another year and the team members received medals, as well as the tournament and class medalists.

CHAMPIONS ALL!—It was a husky group of youngsters that Monday won top honors in the 3rd annual Pontiac Press Invitational High School Golf tournament. Here are the champs, including the title-winning Birmingham High team, and its coach. From left: Dave Van Every of Bloomfield Hills (Class C medalist), Mike Conroy, Tim Baldwin (Class A and tourney medalist). Coach Joe Borovick. Capt. Terry Laundry, Jim Kraus, and Bob Goldsmith (kneeling), all of Birmingham, and Bob Stallsmith of Milford (Class B medal winner).

Brighton thumped Northville, 15-8, and Clarkston walloped Holly, 19-0. Al Warman hurled a 4-hitter, striking out 11, and had a double and two singles at the plate.

Pete Thompson and Dick Johnston hit homers for Clarkston. Inlay City defeated Orionville, 18-7, with the seniors of both teams missing.

New Marks Are Seen for Junior High Meet

At least three records are expected to go by the boards tomorrow afternoon at the annual Suburban Junior High League track and field championships.

Preliminaries in the running events and finals in the field events are scheduled to get under way at 3 p.m. at Wisner Field.

Co-favorites in the test are defending champion Washington and undefeated Jefferson. Jeff's defeated the Braves by one-third of a point earlier this year to snap a 3-year winning streak.

New marks are expected to be registered in the pole vault high jump and quarter-mile relay. Current records in all three events have been bettered in dual competition this season.

Washington's Frank Whitlock is rated a cinch to raise the pole vault standard of nine feet 10 1/2 inches. He has cleared 10 feet 3 1/2 inches.

Hurling Saving Bums

The lesson for today is how to move from third to first place while averaging less than three runs a game over the last 10 games.

The instructor is Walter Alston, who used to teach school in the Midwest and who now is learning the facts of major league life as manager of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Alston this season inherited the National League champions who had inspired fear in the hearts of their opponents with their mighty slugging. The punch was so potent with 10 of them coming in a single game. The opposition has scored 31 runs. The team batting average has skidded from .280 to .259. The home run production has totalled a mere three.

He has his team in an exact first place tie with Philadelphia but over the last 10 games the Dodgers have scored a total of 27 runs with 10 of them coming in a single game. The opposition has scored 31 runs. The team batting average has skidded from .280 to .259. The home run production has totalled a mere three.

Of the 10 games, the Dodgers have won six and lost four. The victories have come almost entirely from excellent pitching, topped by Carl Erskine's two-hitter against St. Louis on Saturday.

But the big factor which has allowed Brooklyn to improve its position in the pennant race has been the inability of the other clubs to take advantage of the Dodger slump.

Meanwhile, the Dodgers benefited from last night's intra-league warfare when the Phils and Cardinals split a pair. Philadelphia whipped St. Louis 8-4 in a game started as the second half of Sunday's doubleheader and suspended by Pennsylvania curfew at the end of six innings with Philadelphia leading 6-3. In the regularly scheduled game St. Louis won 8-0.

In other major league games, Boston edged Detroit 4-3 and Chicago defeated Pittsburgh 10-6. The other clubs weren't scheduled.

Only one contest on a scheduled 3-game card was played yesterday in the Suburban Catholic League.

St. Michael forfeited its game to St. James and the St. Frederick-Center Line St. Clement tilt was switched to Wednesday because of the Rams' all-sports banquet last night.

Detroit St. Rita downed Orchard Lake St. Mary 3-1 in the on game played. Vikings' Byron Pertler struck out 10 batters, walked three and gave up only two hits while earning his victory at Orchard Lake. He also pounded out two singles in three times at bat.

Loss was St. Mary's 2nd in six starts this spring.

PHS Golfers Finish Fourth in SVC Meet

Pontiac High's golf team finished 4th in the annual Saginaw Valley Conference meet at Orosco Country Club yesterday afternoon.

Arthur Hill's defending champion repeated their 1953 triumph with a 339-stroke total, followed by Flint Northern with 346, Flint Central with 348, Pontiac with 361 and Bay City with 410.

Medalist for the meet was Bill Turner of Arthur Hill with a 76. Pontiac's low man was Norb Capistrano, who had an 87.

Arthur Hill's victory in the meet gave the Lumberjacks their 2nd straight SVC title, which is figured on a point system based on performances in both dual tests and the conference meet. Lumberjacks were 1st with seven points. Pontiac was 2nd with six and Northern and Pontiac tied for 3rd with four points each.

Ezzard Doesn't Plan to 'Slug' Champion

MONTICELLO, N. Y., May 18 (AP)—Ezzard Charles said today he does not intend to slug it out with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano on June 17 at Yankee Stadium. At the same time, Charles said he wouldn't be as cautious as he was when he lost to Jersey Joe Walcott the last time.

"I consider myself a better boxer than Rocky and also a good puncher," said the former heavyweight champion. "You can be sure, though, if I see an opening, I'll try and knock Marciano out."

BALTIMORE (AP)—Correlation is a cutup around the barn, but for Saturday's Preakness he'd better leave his tricks there, particularly the one of cutting in on other horses.

The California colt showed 11,418 fans at Pimlico yesterday that it's fast by winning the Preakness prep. But he also had them holding their breath as he bore closer and closer into Hasty Road on the rail as they reached for the finish.

They'll be racing an eighth of a mile longer in Saturday's $100,000 added classic for 3-year-olds and foalishness will be out.

Jockey Johnny Adams and Hasty Road were beaten only a head by Correlation at the end of the mile and sixteenth prep in a stretch duel reminiscent of the Kentucky Derby trial.

It was the third victory in six starts this year for Correlation, the winner of the Florida Derby and Wood Memorial. The purse was

Shakeup in Cleveland Ball Club May Be for Best as Tribe Stays on Top

By GAYLE TALBOT

NEW YORK (AP)—Nobody seems to have the slightest idea what the Cleveland Indians are doing around first place in the American League at this stage of the race, any more than they can understand what's holding up the Detroit Tigers. But there they are, and word comes that recently embittered Cleveland fans are beginning to get that old feeling again.

Redleg Pitchers Easy Mark for NL's Sluggers

Cincinnati Staff Has Yielded 48 Home Runs Thus Far

NEW YORK (AP)—Manager Birdie Tebbets soon will be putting himself to sleep counting home runs, particularly if the Cincinnati pitching staff he tabbed "as good as any in the National League" continues to give up gopher balls at its present rate.

To date, Redleg hurlers have yielded 48 homers. That's the top figure in the majors and with lefty Harry Perkowski, the individual leader with 10 "home-funs off," it's making Tebbets' freshman season as at the helm that much tougher.

Fred Baczewski, another Cincinnati southpaw, has given up nine circuit blows, a figure equaled by Vic Raschi of the St. Louis Cardinals. The other Redleg totals are: Corky Valentine 8 and Bud Podbielan, 7. Howie Judson, 4. Joe Nuxhall and Art Fowler, 3. Herman Wehmeier and Ken Raffensberger, 2, and George Zuerink, now with Detroit, 1.

In the American League, Cleveland's Early Wynn and Chicago's Billy Pierce are tied for the lead with seven apiece.

On a per-inning basis, Bubba Church of the Cubs is away ahead of the pack. The veteran right-hander has given up seven home runs in the 13 frames he's worked.

Curt Simmons of the Philadelphia Phillies and Mike Garcia of Cleveland have been the toughest pitchers for home run-hitters. Simmons has yielded only one—by Ernie Banks of the Cubs—in 54 innings and Garcia one—by Sam Mele of Baltimore in 53 innings.

Except for Cincinnati, the pitching staffs of the Cardinals, 34, the Cubs, 30, the Athletics, 30, and the Giants, 29, have been the most vulnerable.

Baltimore pitchers have permitted the fewest gophers 12.

19-Year-Old Jockey Badly Hurt in Spill

Cavalier Injured in 3-Horse Pileup Monday in Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)—Jockey Herbert Cavalier is paralyzed and in "very critical" condition today as the result of an injury suffered in a three-horse spill at Sportsman's Park yesterday.

The 19-year-old apprentice from New Orleans suffered a spinal cord injury and is reported near death at St. Anthony's Hospital.

Two other jockeys, William Carroll of Chicago and Ronnie Baldwin of Warren, Ohio, both 22, also were hurt in the collision, but suffered only minor injuries.

A hospital physician reported Cavalier's entire body is paralyzed as the result of "fracture of two cervical (neck) vertebrae with resultant injury to the spinal cord."

Trucks, Lopat to Hurl as Sox, Yanks Collide

Series May Throw Some Light on Pennant Race in American League

CHICAGO (AP)—Two of the game's oldest and most respected pros, Virgil Trucks and Eddie Lopat, take key positions tonight as further proof is assembled, one way or the other, on the question: Are the Yankees through?

Trucks, the 35-year-old fireballer, will pitch for the Chicago White Sox and Lopat the 36-year-old soft stuff expert, for the five-time champion New Yorkers.

Manager Paul Richards and General Manager Frank Lane of the Sox are on record to the effect the Yanks have had it and that this is the year they will lose the pennant.

They also have mentioned that the team representing the American League in the 1954 World Series will be the Chicago White Sox.

Casey Stengel, the Yank manager, dismisses this theory as imaginative at best.

But whether or not the Yankees are through, and tonight's game—and Wednesday's—may throw some light on the subject, it is apparent that Mr. Lopat is not. Nor, for that matter, is Trucks.

Lopat is undefeated in five pitching decisions this season—including one over the Sox. Trucks, a 20-game winner in 1953, has won four of seven, including a one-hitter.

The Sox go into the Comiskey Park night game in a virtual tie with Cleveland for the league lead—on an even-up basis in games won and lost but trailing the Indians 10 percentage points. The Yanks are just one game back of both of them on the basis of a current winning streak that has produced 11 victories in their last 13 games.

Saddler, Bassett Discover Lightweight Too Rugged

NEW YORK (AP)—Featherweight champion Sandy Saddler and Percy Bassett the "interim" king had better stick to the 126-pound class from now on.

The champ expected a romp against Hoacine Khalif, a 3 to 1 underdog, last night at St. Nicholas Arena and lost a split decision to the fleet Algerian lightweight.

Bassett found himself in way over his head against Orlando Zulueta at Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway and lost a unanimous verdict to the clever Cuban with the snapping left jab who is ranked second among lightweight contenders.

Khalif's stunning success was the second major upset in four days for the French stable of Jean Brettonel who saw Jacques Royer, a 5 to 1 long shot, upset Terry Jones Friday night at Madison Square Garden.

Khalif used superior speed and a solid right hand punch to offset Saddler's left hand punching and roughing tactics. Referee Teddy Martin had Khalif a lopsided 8-2.

Zulueta, a 13 to 5 choice, won as he pleased over Bassett, avenging two previous defeats by the top-ranking feather contender.

The Cuban weighed 135 to Bassett's 130 pounds. The votes for Zulueta were: Referee Pete Scalzo 6-4, Judge Charley Shortell 6-3-1, Judge Americo Schiavone 8-2, AP 9-1.

Defeated by the defeat, Bassett said he would like to fight featherweights for a change, especially Saddler.

As for Zulueta, Manager Hymie Wallman is looking for the winner of the June 2 lightweight title bout between Paddy DeMarco and Jimmy Carter at San Francisco.

Jensen's Homer Beats Tigers

By JOE FALLS
DETROIT, May 18 (AP)—Detroit's strategy of intentionally walking Ted Williams in the eighth inning backfired when Jackie Jensen, hitless in nine straight times at bat, followed with a three-run homer which gave the Boston Red Sox a 4-3 victory over the Tigers Monday.

Ned Garver, strong as steel through the first seven innings, was ordered to walk Williams with two out and Floyd Baker on second. Garver had held Williams hitless in two previous turns at the plate, walking him on another occasion, and the Tigers undoubtedly figured the Boston Strong Boy was overdue.

So Garver threw four wide itches and Williams loped to first. Jensen, whose batting average had skidded below the .250 mark, wasted no time in making mockery of the strategy, hammering Garver's first pitch down the left field line into the seats.

Williams, who thrilled the baseball world Sunday with an eight-for-nine hitting spree, played the full nine innings. It was the first time he had gone the limit.

Williams walked in his first appearance at the plate. Then Garver, pitching cautiously and craftily, retired the 35-year-old outfielder twice in succession. In the fourth inning Williams lined to second baseman Fred Hatfield, playing in shallow right field as part of the famed "Williams Shift."

In the sixth, Ted grounded out, first baseman Charlie Kress to Garver who covered first.

Williams' batting average dropped from .727 to .615. He has eight hits in 13 times at bat.

Tiger catcher Frank House, who was a 9-year-old schoolboy when Williams broke into the major leagues in 1939, stole the Thumper's home-run thunder in the second inning when he hit a two-run round-tripper to send the Tigers into a 2-0 lead.

The Tigers widened their lead to 3-0 by scoring once in the fourth. Kress singled to center, went to third on Al Kaline's single to right and scored when Tuttle forced Kaline at second.

Ted Lepcio, playing third base in place of the injured George Kell, got the first hit off Garver when he opened Boston's fifth inning by lining his first home run into the left field seats.

The score stood that way until the decisive eighth.

The "People's Car" Outsell Ford & Chevrolet

By Harold K. Turner

Every car is a "People's Car," even a new car becomes a People's Car when it is run around the block. The People's Car is the best value in the automotive industry; only part of its life has been used, but it can be had for less than its original cost. This price advantage comes because it is a Used Car and the original owner took the first big depreciation and there is no excise tax added to the price of a People's Car; it carries no freight or handling charges.

With the People's Car you buy all car, no waiting, and its value is so outstanding that three times as many owners buy People's Cars by choice than buy new cars.

The People's Car can be purchased for a fraction of the amount the original owner paid. Of the millions of cars you see on the roads, three out of every four were purchased as Used Cars. Their owners are people of discrimination, people who are seeking the most value for their dollar. The People's Car now represents the best automobile buy in the market.

Bob Considine Says:

New Book on Alcoholism Uses Education for Cure

WASHINGTON (INS) — The government's continuing research into alcoholism, a national disorder, is on a scale hardly commensurate with the scope of the trouble. It must look to state, city and private research for aid.

This past week it received a first rate boon in the publication of "Management of the Mind, or How to Conquer Alcohol and Other Blocks to Successful Living."

The book, published by Houghton Mifflin, is by a remarkable man named Edward J. McGoldrick Jr., who runs a sometimes astonishing operation in New York named "Bridge House."

McGoldrick, with a name ready-made for political success in New York, was a brilliant prospect at Fordham University's school of law, plunged into law practice in the richest field of his kind in the world . . . and became an alcoholic. He hit bottom and scraped badly.

He was "put away" in a series of "cures," or went voluntarily. He would emerge with the same burning thirst.

But he had the strength not only to reach for personal salvation but to define the component parts of that come-back and spread the gospel to others in the same fix.

Once on dry ground he found his real to help other alcoholics too strong to permit him to return to his law practice. The late Fiorella LaGuardia parceled out the money for "The New York City Bureau of Alcoholic Therapy," headed by McGoldrick.

Later, LaGuardia named Ed's haven "Bridge House," by saying, "It has become a bridge for those who are lost to cross over and find themselves again."

Specifically, McGoldrick's system has been getting a two-thirds cure rate, a figure high above the norm. I repeat: high above. Bridge House methods are not in accord with the wholesale methods of routine city anti-alcoholic services. But they work.

In the preface of his book, McGoldrick writes, "Alcoholism is no more a disease than thievery, or communism, or lynching; like these, it is the product of a distortion of outlook, a way of life bred out of ignorance and frustration. Its cure is education."

He gets vehement through his book with the notion that heavy boozers are "sick." It is one of the greatest obstacles in the path of recovery, he says.

At Bridge House a "student" attends lectures and discussion groups and is given written and oral examinations. The instructors are by and large, if not completely, former alcoholics.

The basic "course" lasts only three weeks (there is no charge for residents.)

For the next year, the student returns to Bridge House "a minimum of three hours a week for further instruction."

In time he is graduated but the requirements are severe. They include proof of a full year on the wagon . . . plus a demonstrated mastery of the principals taught.

No drinker wants to admit he or she is an alcoholic. Here's the definition of an alcoholic by the country's leading authority, McGoldrick: "Anyone who drinks habitually to the extent that it interferes with the acceptance and the fulfillment of his responsibilities, or who finds in drink the solution to his problems is an alcoholic."

Use an ordinary paint brush to dust furniture if it has a curved design. The brush does a good cleaning job and saves time.

Builder Reduces Cost of Schools

New, Flat-Roofed Units Called Less Expensive Than Slanted Roofs

A Detroit architect who specializes in low-cost factory buildings Monday told the Pontiac Board of Education that a new plan can cut school addition costs to as little as $13,000 a classroom.

H. F. Campbell of the Campbell Construction Co., said that using dead-level roofs, instead of slanted roofs, can give school districts "tremendous savings on buildings."

The Pontiac board has been paying about $30,000 a classroom, on the average, for new schools and additions, board member Robert B. Oliver said.

Campbell claimed dead-level roofs hold water, making buildings cooler in hot weather and can be enlarged more cheaply. He said the dead-level technique means steel beams and other materials can be used just as they're manufactured, as they don't have to be cut to fit angles and slants. This saves tremendously on labor costs and building time, he said.

Campbell said he wasn't trying to sell his company's construction work—just the idea of the dead-level roof plan. "If you get architects that will work out such a plan," he said, "we'd like to bid on it like everyone else."

Campbell claimed that he built a 10-room school for Port Huron Township's Schools, using the new roof technique, for $13,000.

Harold Snyder, president of that township school board, backed him up today.

"We're sold on this dead-level roof plan," he said. "I don't think we'll ever build another kind of building. They're cheaper, easier to build, go up faster and give us more for our money."

Snyder said his school system had another contractor build a dead-level roof, 14-room junior high school, including an auditorium, cafeteria, "and all the other things" for a total cost of $300,000, not including equipment.

A large share of this money went for special rooms like the gym and cafeteria, he said.

Campbell's school, he said, is a 10-room, one-story, steel-frame wing which needed no heating plant because it was added to the junior high. The building includes a corridor, glass block windows, sky-domes in the lavatories and outside doors on all classrooms. The cost, Snyder said, ran $133,000, not including the architect's fee and equipment for the rooms.

A third dead-level roof school, a 10-room grade school with its own multi-purpose room—cost a total of $220,000 not including equipment, Snyder said.

"We haven't had a bit of trouble with any of these schools," he said. "They went through the winter in fine shape. The junior high has been standing for five years. The elementary schools were finished last September."

Man Waltzes and Tangles Right Into Jail

CLEVELAND (AP)—Unless they give dancing lessons at the penitentiary, Samuel Hochstetler may never learn the Charleston.

The 33-year-old former truck driver was arrested yesterday at Chicago on a warrant filed after the Erie County United Bank of Milan, Ohio, was robbed March 9 of $31,000.

Guy Bannister, FBI chief in Illinois, quoted Hochstetler as admitting the holdup and said he had used $5,000 of the loot as a down payment for a "lifetime" dancing course at a Harrisburg, Pa., school.

He said Hochstetler told federal agents he had mastered the fox trot, the waltz, the rumba, the mambo, the samba, the tango and swing—and was working on the Charleston.

Tax Notes Sold by School Board

Borrows for May and June Expenses, Grinds Through Long Agenda

Pontiac Board of Education Monday sold $250,000 worth of 60-day tax anticipation notes to Pontiac State Bank at one per cent interest.

The school board, borrowing against July taxes to pay day-to-day costs in May and June, will get a $25 premium from the bank. Total cost of borrowing will be $338.58.

The school board meeting to approve papers for the June 14 school election, swept through an agenda piled high with odds and ends of business Monday night.

An agreement on wages, hours, vacations and sick leave for school maintenance men was approved. The agreement includes a $300-a-year wage increase for men, higher salaries for chief mechanics, and specifies that men shall be paid every two weeks on Friday.

The board filed a report from Ralph Becker, attorney, that Otto Sachse has paid in full a judgment against him awarded the school system by Oakland County Circuit Court 21 years ago. The amount totaled $6,572.55, including interest.

Vernon L. Schiller, school treasurer, was authorized to cash eleven $500 U. S. Savings Bonds held by Pontiac High School and a $100 bond held by Washington Junior High. The schools bought bonds 12 years ago with money raised in school activities. Money will be turned back to the two schools' activities funds.

Board members named Mrs. Ruth DeCout of Webster School as chairman of the school system's physical education program in grade schools and gave her an extra $200 a year. J. C. Cox, assistant superintendent, recommended Mrs. DeCout's appointment.

School board decided to keep paying bus drivers who take Pontiac High and Eastern Junior High School youngsters to SLEEPER State Park in the school camping program. Cost is about $200.

Pontiac Chamber of Commerce board of directors notified the board it has voted unanimously to support the 10-year tax program due to go to a public vote June 14.

School board members agreed to send two local teachers to the National Conference of Christians and Jews summer workshops in human relations this year. The board's share of the scholarships is $100 per person.

Michigan EUB Ends Sessions

Both Pontiac Ministers Receive Appointments for Another Term Here

The Michigan Conference of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, which concluded a five-day meeting at Sebewaing Sunday, reappointed both its Pontiac ministers for another term.

The Rev. H. E. Ryan of Baldwin Avenue EUB Church and the Rev. A. L. Bingham of Calvary EUB Church will continue in their pastorate for another year.

Honored for 50-year service was the Rev. H. I. Voelker, former pastor of Baldwin EUB Church. He preceded the Rev. Mr. Ryan, from 1947 to 1950.

Two Ferndale pastors, a father and son, also were honored at the assembly. The Rev. Gideon Knechtel was cited for 50 years of active service and his son, the Rev. O. G. Knechtel, for 25 years of service. The Rev. F. W. Kinn of East Detroit was elected to his 22nd term as conference secretary. Detroit's Calvary Church was named as the place for the 1955 meeting, to be held May 11-15. A minimum salary of $3,000 a year was voted for ordained ministers, and the building of a new church at Ann Arbor was approved.

Reports showed there are now 20,620 members of the denomination in the Michigan Conference. A budget of $141,213 was set for the next fiscal year.

Leonard Appoints State Campaign Boss

DETROIT (UP)—Merritt E. Dean of Durand, was named out-state manager today of the Donald S. Leonard-for-governor campaign.

Leonard, Detroit police commissioner, is seeking the Republican gubernatorial nomination.

Dean was campaign manager for Fred M. Alger Jr., two years ago when Alger won the GOP nomination only to lose the election to incumbent Gov. G. Mennen Williams.

Meanwhile, Leonard announced he will confer Wednesday with Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo about leaving his post as police commissioner to launch a pre-primary election speech campaign.

Keeps Up His Junior High School Rating by Correspondence

NEW YORK—Warren Berlinger, the teenage Jerry Ames of TV's daytime dramatic series "The Secret Storm," was just another kid playing cowboys on the streets of Brooklyn when a neighbor's well-directed pot-shot propelled him, holsters and all, into a successful acting career.

Born Aug. 31, 1937, in the New York borough where he still lives, Warren was eight years old that day in 1945 when a neighbor, a Mrs. Tracy stopped him between cap-gun fusillades to ask him whether he would like to be in the movies.

Interpreting this as an invitation to go to the movies, the youngster led the lady to his mother to get permission.

Mrs. Berlinger listened patiently to Mrs. Tracy while she explained that nation-wide auditions were being held for the role of Harlan in the cinema version of "Life With Father" and finally, yielding to persuasion, subways her offspring over to Manhattan for the big test.

Warren, as it turned out, didn't get the role. He was the New York selection in the finals, but lost out to a boy from the Coast.

Then, on the suggestion of a casting director, Mrs. Berlinger marched Warren over to Joshua Logan's office where he was promptly hired for the role of Ethel Merman's young brother in "Annie Get Your Gun."

The 16-year-old has done quite a bit of television, notably on "You Are There."

The son of Ella and Frieda Berlinger (dad manufactures venetian blinds), Warren is too busy with the stage and television to attend regular school, keeps up with his standing as a high school junior via correspondence courses from the Professional Children's School.

Warren goes in for a number of sports—softball, baseball, horseback riding, hockey and tennis—with equal skill and equal preference. He is especially proud of his stamp collection.

His ambition is to be a stage producer and director; also to do a little writing on the side.

Three Women Plead Innocent in Breakin

Three Pontiac women pleaded not guilty when arraigned before Circuit Court Judge Frank L. Doty Monday for the nighttime breaking and entering of a restaurant at 490 Sanford St. last April 23.

Mrs. Charlotte M. Guinther, 27, of 77 Douglas St. and Mrs. Martha Holsworth, 21 and Miss Claudine Carter, 18, who both formerly lived at a Padodck street rooming house, were released on $500 bond.

They are accused of the breakin, but claim they only investigated the premises when they saw three boys running from the building as they drove by.

Police said the two married women were arrested inside the restaurant in possession of gum and candy and that Miss Holsworth was carrying a chisel.

Board Permits Church, Lodge to Use Schools

People want to use parts of Pontiac public schools for everything from church services to bronch-busting.

Pontiac Board of Education Monday night decided to let First Church of the Brethren use Easter Junior High School for Sunday services until Oct. 3. The church was damaged by fire some time ago.

At the same meeting, the board agreed to rent Wisner Stadium to Pontiac Lodge 810, BPOE, for a western rodeo June 18-20. The board gave its approval after Maurice J. Croteau, school board vice president, told members the rodeo company's horses are not shod, so their hooves won't tear up the sod—and the company will pay for damage to the field.

WJBK, Jackson, Added to Booth Stations' Chain

JACKSON (UP)—Booth Radio & Television Stations Inc. has purchased radio station WJBK, Jackson, from Herman and Roy Radner, for $115,000, subject to FCC approval.

The firm headed by John L. Booth, president, operates radio stations WJLB, Detroit; WBBB, Flint; and WSGW, Saginaw.

The Booth Stations recently suspended UHF operation WBKZ-TV, Battle Creek. It holds a permit to operate WSBM-TV on UHF Channel 51 at Saginaw, and is applying for VHF channel 10 at Parma-Orandaga, near Jackson. WJBK obtained but later returned a permit for a UHF television operation at Parma.

Oberlin College Receives Kresge Foundation Grant

He said the money would be used to expand the facilities of the graduate school of theology.

The big "NO ROOM" schoolhouse

The little one-room schoolhouse has been disappearing. But unless you act, even the largest school buildings in your community are likely to lack room for all who must attend. Already 3 out of 5 classrooms are overcrowded. Yet within 6 years, the total school enrollment is expected to increase by 8 million.
