Church Leader Against Censors for Radio, TV

Appears at Opening of FCC Hearing on Ways to Purge Broadcasting

WASHINGTON (AP)—A spokesman for the Protestant churches of America said today there should be no censorship of individual radio and television programs.

What is needed is "the will to enforce and the will to obey" existing law, said James W. Wine, associate general secretary of the National Council of Churches of Christ.

Wine appeared, along with spokesmen for Roman Catholic and Jewish church groups, as the Federal Communications Commission opened a weeklong hearing to get public views on what it should do about radio and television programming.

FCC Chairman John C. Doerfer said in an opening statement "this is an important moment in American history" because the hearings "may well determine the future course of our system of broadcasting."

Doerfer noted the FCC is trying to determine whether it should have broader policing powers over TV and radio programs without becoming involved in the field of censorship.

The commission always has contended it has no authority over program content. Disclosure of quiet show fixings and other alleged irregularities, brought demands for action. The FCC then called the hearings to determine whether it had authority over programs or whether it should ask Congress to add to its powers.

The FCC has wielded only indirect control through its power to renew or refuse to renew broadcasting licenses, depending on how acceptably the station operated "in the public interest."

In his prepared testimony, Wine called on the FCC for a clearer definition of what is meant by licensing a station "in the public interest."

Wine rejected what he called "the easy solution of censorship" as "contrary to our belief in the freedom and dignity of the individual." But some broadcasting practices, in programming and in advertising, he said, "are inimical to the public interest."

He condemned programs depicting violence and crime during hours popular with children, and efforts to pressure young audiences to promote product sales.

"The Federal Communications Commission," he said, "is much too lenient in its present-day acceptance of what constitutes public interest programming."

Long Distance Request
BRIDLINGTON, England (UPI)—Bridlington Police broke into a house here yesterday after its vacationing occupants telephoned long distance and requested that someone turn off their electric blanket.

Don't Act Like a Duck!

WELL SPENT BUCK — This young deer was the object of a cold, wet rescue mission for Waterford Township Firemen Saturday. Both the buck and his rescuers were "well spent" following the episode on Watkins Lake. The deer found ice too thin for his weight. He is owned by Frank W. Steere, a lakeside resident.

Anything for a Buck — He's Glad They Did

Waterford Township firemen proved Saturday that they would do anything for a buck—especially the four-legged variety that found itself "skating on thin ice" at Watkins Lake.

The young deer bounded from the comparative safety of a bird sanctuary at the home of Frank W. Steere, 4230 South Shore Dr., Waterford Township.

Chased by several neighborhood dogs, the buck bounded onto Watkins Lake. It had nearly reached the center of the lake when the ice gave away.

Steere saw the deer foundering and called firemen. Borrowing a boat, firemen Dick Lawson and Russell See started out from the south side of the lake.

The resumption of work on Dec. 14 of these lines was announced by Calvin J. Werner, division general manager.

Werner pointed out, however, that material shortages caused by the 116-day steel strike will force the suspension of heavy-duty GMC truck production today. This, he said, will result in the layoff in that department of some 500 employees for approximately two weeks.

Coach production schedules will be maintained, Werner said.

They'll Sing for Less

MALDON, England (UPI)—The 13 boys and girls in the choir of the All Saints Church have announced they will cut their fee for singing at weddings from $11 to $4. They said they reduced the price so all comers will have a better chance for their services.

Bit of Warmth — Weatherman's Yuletide Gift

The next few days will bring slightly warmer weather for Christmas shoppers, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Temperatures will average three or four degrees above the normal high of 37 and normal low of 25. Light snow or snow flurries Tuesday night or Wednesday will total 2 to 4-tenths of an inch, with flurries again Thursday night or Friday.

Tonight's expected low will be about 22 with a high tomorrow of 25 degrees, with the warming trend to follow. Downtown temperature at 1 p.m. was 32.

City Bus Riders on Foot Today

Mediation Meeting Set Thursday; Will Be 1st Since Last March

Pontiac went busless today as approximately 4,000 daily riders felt the first effects of the two-day old bus strike.

There appeared little hope for a break before the end of the week at the very earliest.

The State Labor Mediation Board has scheduled a meeting of management and union negotiators here for 1 p.m. Thursday at Waldron Hotel.

This will be the first meeting in almost two months on the Pontiac contract, which expired last March 31.

Similar meetings have been scheduled by the State for Wednesday in Kalamazoo and Friday in Saginaw, where bus lines operated by affiliates of National City Lines, parent of Pontiac City Lines, Inc.

Wage increases are sought in each city. In Pontiac, the last demand was for a 58-cent an hour package increase which management says it turned down completely.

A three-city strike, called after negotiations collapsed in Saginaw Friday, went into effect at 7 p.m. Saturday. Because there are no buses in Pontiac Saturday night or Sunday, today was the first day that regular schedules were disrupted by the strike.

A few pickets appeared at the company's offices, 200 N. Paddock St., shortly after 5 a.m., when Monday service usually begins. On strike in Pontiac are 35 drivers and eight mechanics of Local 1097, Amalgamated Assn. of Street Electric Railway and Motor Coach Operators of America (AFL-CIO).

Downtown Stores Go to Night Schedule

Virtually all downtown stores will be open until 9 p.m. tonight and every shopping night until Christmas, George Richman, president of the Downtown Merchants Assn., announced today.

Not only are stores full of potential Christmas presents, but downtown Pontiac is ablaze at nighttime with Christmas decorations put up by the association and its member stores, he said.

Shouting Through Packs Streets From Airport

President Grins With Delight at Shouts of Long Life

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—A million cheering Pakistanis — by official estimate — gave President Eisenhower today the most thunderous reception ever accorded a foreign visitor.

Shouting, waving people packed the streets and the roads from the airport as Eisenhower arrived from Turkey on the third stop of his 22,000-mile mission of peace.

The President was deeply moved by the outpouring of affection and called the welcome "tremendous," said James C. Hagerty, White House press secretary.

Greeting with delight, the American president stood erect in the back of a white convertible and waved to the colorfully clad Pakistanis jam-packed along his route into Pakistan's largest city.

More Stories, Photos of Ike — Pages 13, 32

Each time the American visitor waved his hat, the crowds responded with delighted roars of welcome.

"Eisenhower zindabad!"—"long life to Eisenhower!"—"the vast throngs roared over and over.

The teeming city of two million was festooned for carnival. The Stars and Stripes and Pakistan's green and white crescent banner waved on all sides, from poles and triumphal arches. A host of streamers of every color of the rainbow added to the brilliance of the scene.

HAPPY TO SEE HIM
Karachi definitely was happy to see Ike, and Ike to see the city and its people.

Thousands of Pakistanis pushed and shoved their way into the broad corner square near the U.S. Embassy where the President and his host, President Mohammed Ayub Khan, changed from the automobile to a stately red and gold presidential coach drawn by six spanking black horses.

Then the majestic, slow procession made its way to the presidential residence, where Eisenhower will make his headquarters for his 40-hour stay.

Karachi was strung with colored lights on all sides. As night fell, it looked like a city adorned for Christmas.

The welcome was a personal tribute to the first U.S. president to penetrate this far into Asia—visited Tehran in World War II. The reception was far larger than the roaring welcome of half a million Turks in Ankara Sunday.

Blast-Ike, Display 7 Contenders

Boom!—and Dems're Off

NEW YORK (UPI)—Democrats blasted open the 1960 campaign today with a stinging attack on President Eisenhower and a display of seven of their top presidential contenders.

The Democratic Advisory Council charged the Republican administration with a "second-rate, second-best" defense job that "could cost us more in freedom and national security than can possibly be measured in money."

Adlai Stevenson questioned Eisenhower's current good will tour and said it would be a "grave mistake" to mimic Nikita Khrushchev and convert the presidency into the role of "traveling salesman."

Tonight Stevenson and six other presidential prospects speak from the same platform at a dinner honoring Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt.

They include Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts, Gov. Edmund G. Brown of California, Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey of Minnesota and Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri.

Along with former President Truman, former Secretary of State Dean Acheson and other leading Democrats, they endorsed the council's statement of principles hitting the Republicans on 21 issues ranging from inflation to the missile gap.

'FORCED AGAINST WILL'

The document said all Americans hoped for the success of Eisenhower's present mission, but then it lashed out at seven years of Republican foreign policy concluding that Eisenhower had been forced against his will into a path of negotiation with Russia with no clear idea on how to achieve peace with justice.

Stevenson said on a television program that he had "some misgivings" about Eisenhower's trip as a precedent that should only be applied in the future in cases of "real emergency."

The statement of principles by the Advisory Council, which represents mainly the liberal wing of the party and notably does not include the party's main congressional figure, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, hit at the Republicans hardest on defense.

Neither Davis nor Morrison mentioned segregation much in their campaigning for the first primary, although both said they favored it. Morrison's foes often have accused him of courting the Negro vote.

State Sen. W. M. Rainach, Louisiana's No. 1 segregationist, accused them both of evading the issue.

Rainach, making his first statewide race, was third in the governor's race. He hasn't said whether he will try to line up his backers behind one of the leaders. The next two men in the race, (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Louisiana Lambastes Long

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—Religious-Protestant versus Catholic—could be major factor in deciding Louisiana's next governor.

Gov. Earl K. Long, shunned by the voters in Saturday's Democratic primary, often has called Louisiana tolerant. The Jan. 9 showdown between New Orleans Mayor deLesseps Morrison and former Gov. Jimmie Davis may test this view.

Morrison, a Catholic, led the record 11-man field. Davis, a Baptist, was next, trailing by more than 60,000 votes.

Morrison's strength was in South Louisiana, a predominantly Catholic area. More than 25 per cent of his votes came from New Orleans.

He wasn't ahead in any parish (county) in North Louisiana, where most of the people go to Protestant churches.

Louisiana voters haven't elected a Catholic governor since century.

SEGRESSION BIG ISSUE
Another important issue is segregation. Davis wasted no time in bolstering his stand on this.

Santa and the Ice King... by Lucrece Beale... Christmas Serial

Oonik and the Eskimos Wonder Why Ice King Is Angry

Oonik lived in an igloo on the edge of the Arctic Sea.

CHAPTER ONE

In Northern lands near the top of the world Christmas comes in the wintertime.

In Southern lands near the bottom of the world it is different. There Christmas comes in summer.

In June, July and August, Northern children swim and picnic and walk barefoot in the woods.

But during these very same months Southern Hemisphere children ride sleds and skate and wear gloves every day. For these children summer doesn't come until December and Christmas itself often comes on the hottest day of the year.

There is, of course, a scientific explanation for this strange state of affairs and you have probably heard this explanation and accepted it as, very properly, you should.

But some folk say there is another reason, not at all scientific, why December comes in summer near the South Pole while at the same time coming in the winter at the North Pole.

If you can believe these folk it is all because of Santa Claus and Oonik, the Eskimo boy, and the way the two of them long ago tamed the Ice King of the North.

Here is the story they tell: Once upon a time, in a far away Northern land, there lived a little Eskimo boy named Oonik. He lived with his family in an igloo on the edge of the Arctic Sea.

Nearby there were eight other igloos where other families lived. Together they formed an Eskimo village.

The Eskimos were hunters. In the winter they hunted seal and walrus and polar bear. In the summer, when their snow houses melted and grass covered the land they hunted reindeer and rabbit and birds.

One year it seemed that the winter was colder than anyone could ever remember. The icy winds blew all the time and the snow drifted high over the village.

Sometimes, when Oonik and his father returned home from hunting they had trouble finding the door to their own home because it was buried in new-fallen snow.

And sometimes the cold was so intense that all the villagers stayed in their snow house for weeks at a time.

The worst part of it was that the hunting was poor for even the seal and the polar bear did not wish to come out in such weather. So food ran low in the village and Oonik was often lucky to have even one hunk of frozen seal blubber as his only meal of the day.

One day as the family sat together in the igloo Oonik's father said, "The days are beginning to be longer than the nights and the Spring Moon shines in the sky.

That means winter is over and soon the ice will melt, birds will fly and flowers will grow."

WINTER IS OVER
"And we will be warm again!" cried their mother. "Oh, I will be glad when this miserable winter is gone!"

But weeks went by and May came and June and even July passed by and still the icy winds blew and the snow piled higher and even the hunters' sleds froze to the ice and it was a job to move them at all.

Then the Eskimos were truly frightened. They went to the igloo of Miski, the wise man of the village.

"What has happened?" they cried. "Why has summer not come?"

Old Miski sucked in his ancient cheeks and stared at the ground. Then he said, "The Ice King of the North is very angry. To placate him we must have a festival in his honor. Then the icy winds will stop and summer will come to Eskimo land."

Bad Feet Hold Up Fine

GRANTHAM, England (UPI)—Albert Johnson, who flunked his military physical 10 years ago because of bad feet, yesterday claimed a new record among Britain's hiking enthusiasts. He said he slogged 110 miles in 22 hours, 39 minutes, surpassing the record of Dr. Barbara Moore, who made the distance last week in 26 hours, 25 minutes.

LONDON (UPI)—The Bishop of Southwark admitted on a TV program yesterday that he was going to skip a discussion tomorrow on revising the prayer book. The bishop said he plans to attend the Oxford-Cambridge rugby match that day.

FEAST BEFORE THE FINAL — More than 100 students of Michigan State University Oakland turned out voluntarily for an extra class at Greenfield's Restaurant in Birmingham Saturday night. After dinner, students reviewed for final examinations.

Long Loses at Polls; Religion an Issue

former Gov. James Noy and State Comptroller William Dodd haven't picked a favorite either.

Noy, a former associate of the late Huey P. Long and Earl Long's choice as his successor, ran fourth. Dodd, whose career has included a term as lieutenant governor, was fifth.

Complete returns from 2,083 of 2,108 precincts gave Morrison 271,816 votes, Davis 209,765, Rainach 138,111, Noy 95,945 and Dodd 82,593.

A half-dozen other candidates trailed far behind.

Long, barred by the constitution from succeeding himself as governor, was third in the lieutenant governor's race.

The voters in Long's home parish of Winn even refused to let him serve another term as a member of the Democratic State Central Committee. They replaced him with a newcomer, Sheridan L. Garrett.

It was Long's worst beating since he was elected lieutenant governor in 1936. That election later led to him becoming governor the first of three times when Richard Leche resigned from the governor's job during the Louisiana scandals.

Ahead of Long in the balloting for lieutenant governor were Davis-backed C. C. Aycock and Mayor George Bwoden of Alexandria, who ran on the Morrison ticket.

Complete returns from 1,883 of 2,108 precincts gave Aycock 186,834 votes, Bowden 173,642, Long 139,357, Cy Courtney 99,307, William White 54,409, and Frank Jordan 19,964.

Democratic nomination in this one-party state is equivalent to election.

Pontiac Youth Confesses Theft of Shift Lever

An 18-year-old Pontiac youth switched gears Sunday and confessed all.

Pontiac Police received a call from the youth admitting he stole a gear shift lever from a 1956 station wagon belonging to Robert Braden, 59 N. Parke St.

The youth told police he had broken the gear shift lever on his father's car and wanted to replace it. His father's car was a 1936 model, same make.

The youth also phoned Braden and assured him that he would make full restitution for the theft. "I didn't want my dad to find out," he explained.

100 MSUO Students Bone Up for Final Exams in Restaurant

By MAX E. SIMON
Michigan State University Oakland freshmen feasted before their finals Saturday night.

And customers of a Birmingham restaurant were treated to a display of devotion above and beyond the call of duty by the young scholars.

More than 100 students voluntarily turned out for "class" at Greenfield's Restaurant, 725 S. Hunter Blvd., Birmingham.

The reason? A chance to review for a final examination in MSUO's history course in Western Civilization.

On hand for the event was 33-year-old Dr. William Kluback, assistant professor of history.

Students in one of Kluback's evening classes were disturbed upon learning they would not have an opportunity for a review session before finals.

The 32 students suggested a Saturday night dinner, followed by a review session, in a small Rochester restaurant.

Kluback okayed the idea.

News of the extra class traveled about the campus. Students in Kluback's other classes and some taking the course with other instructors indicated interest in the unusual meeting.

Because of the anticipated crowd, the affair was moved to Birmingham.

Cosies wearing fur coats and party dresses — and armed with notebooks — were on the scene. Youths abandoned sweaters for suits.

No one knew exactly how many were coming. A banquet room with a capacity of 100 had been reserved.

It soon became apparent planners hadn't underestimated attendance.

Waiters dashed to and from setting up more tables. All seating space was occupied. Some students stood.

After dining on chicken and roast beef, at $3.50 a plate, students settled down for the main course of the evening.

As he surveyed the students in besieging the instructor, Dr. William Kluback with questions. The session lasted until midnight. Students busily took notes as Kluback (left) stressed major points which might turn up on their examinations in the history of Western Civilization.

The candlelit banquet room, Kluback said, was "vastest questions."

Some examples — "Trace the attitude of the philosophers from Plato on as to the relationship between the individual and state?" And, "Define the difference between classical and Christian thought?"

Drained by the session, Kluback called a halt at midnight. Several students came up and continued a small discussion for another half hour.

"I'm prouder of this than if the presidents of Harvard and half a dozen other universities had been here," Kluback said happily after the event.

One of the students was stopped by an elderly woman as he was leaving.

WHAT ABOUT DATE? "Young man," she said, "don't college students usually have a date Saturday night?" "Yes ma'am," the young collegian replied. "That was no problem for me."

"I brought her along."

Other restaurant customers looked in amazement at the novel scene as students scribbled furiously amidst the white napery, mahogany furniture and wall-to-wall carpeting.

All in all, it was a soiree in which pariahs were followed by Plato and coffee by Copernicus.

The scene was in sharp contrast to the classroom scenes on the campus. Buildings at MSUO have no rugs, draperies or carpeting.

Kluback said afterward that his students asked the "vastest questions."

The Day in Birmingham Psst! Men! Tonight You Shop Alone—NO Ladies

BIRMINGHAM — Men, this is your night. Better take advantage of it. It comes only once a year.

Today, for the eighth year, almost all Birmingham stores will open their doors to men only between 7 and 10 p.m.

No women will be allowed — absolutely no women, the merchants say.

Men will be able to do all their Christmas shopping in one evening without competing with the fairer sex for standing space or a clerk's attention.

This unique shopping idea begun in 1951, has gained national attention.

Participating merchants will display every available piece of merchandise order to offer gift ideas.

Beat Christmas Rush by Using Pencil and Brains

Sit back, take it easy, and really enjoy Christmas while everyone else is rushing about.

How? Don't shop early. Just avoid the rush. Stay at home and make a list and decide EXACTLY what you are going to give each person on it.

Follow the newspaper ads, but don't get foot in a store yet. Check your list against the advertisements and choose one store that has every item you want to buy.

Also, jot down the location of the department carrying your gift selections so you don't have to hunt once inside the store.

Simplify by choosing gifts that are usually carried on the main floors of stores. For men choose special Christmas gift packages of toiletries, cuff links, money clips or mufflers. For the women: French leather gloves and fine perfumes.

With this system you really enjoy Christmas. The key word is organization, and that's what it takes to survive the Christmas rush.

Keep Candle Burning

The true Christmas candle, rarely seen now, was very large and burned throughout Christmas Day. If it went out or was accidentally blown out before the day's end, it was thought to be an omen of bad luck.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Singer Roberta Linn expects to leave Cedars of Lebanon Hospital today after brief treatment for a back ailment.

Ike Uses Copters on Tour

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — President Eisenhower is using helicopters on some parts of his tour to cut down on the physical strain of waving to crowds.

The President used helicopters to go to the airports when leaving both Rome and Ankara. Aides explained he had already done his quota of waving. By avoiding repeat appearances, he conserves his energy for his arrival at the next stop.

Barbara Eisenhower, mother of four children, visited a children's hospital in Ankara Sunday. The President's daughter-in-law went slowly through the wards, stopping to speak to the young patients, looked through the window at a new baby, and donned a surgical mask and gown to go through the ward for premature infants.

Later the wife of Foreign Minister Fatin Rustu Zorlu gave a tea for Mrs. Eisenhower. During the state dinner for the president—a stag affair — President Celal Bayar's wife entertained Mrs. Eisenhower and several other women at dinner.

Pope John XXIII told about 100 newsmen accompanying President Eisenhower that if St. Paul were alive today, he would be a journalist so as to spread the doctrine of Christ.

The Pope received the newsmen shortly before his meeting with the President. He said since becoming Pope, he had grown to appreciate the importance of journalism more and more.

Missing Man Found Dead in Swamp

The body of an Oxford Township man missing since last Sunday was found today in a swamp near his home.

Oakland County sheriff's deputies said John Burket Jr., 34, of 1909 Drahtner Rd., was found dead in a nearby swamp shortly before noon.

Deputies were unable to immediately determine the cause of death. Burket was last seen by his brother-in-law when hunting Sunday.

Deputies released a missing person report on him Tuesday after a search of the area failed.

On June 25, 1921, Samuel Gompers was elected president of the AFL for the 40th time, defeating John L. Lewis 25,022 votes to 12,324.

Two Small Vessels Sink Off Britain—While Liners Are Delayed

LONDON (AP) — Fourteen men may have drowned in the shattered wrecks of two small vessels which sank in a mighty gale raging round the coast of Britain today.

Numerous other craft were in trouble in the storm.

Further south, off the East Anglian coast, a Liberian freighter, struggled against gales sweeping it toward the jagged shore.

Eleven crewmen of a trawler Ravello were rescued by lifeboat.

Even the mightiest liners struggled against the fury of the storm that swept far out across the Atlantic.

The Queen Elizabeth radioed after a day and night battering that it would not reach Cherbourg until Tuesday morning, 12 hours late.

The liner plowed through the center of the storm's 125-mile winds that churned up waves 80 feet high. Inch-thick portholes in first-class cabins 40 feet above the water line were reported to have been smashed by the waves. Five cabins were flooded.

No passengers were hurt. Ashore, the storm brought floods. Many roads were impassable and dozens of houses in exposed coastal towns were damaged.

All of south Sweden and the southern Baltic were in the grip of one of the worst blizzards in living memory. As the storm whipped the area for the third day in a row, the death toll rose to five.

Tax Fight Near End for '59 —One Way or the Other

LANSING (AP)—No matter how things turn out, this looks like the next to last week of the 1959 Legislature's epic struggle over taxes.

The focus when lawmakers return in force tomorrow will be on the House, where Republicans plan a facelift job on the Senate's 34-million-dollar nuisance tax package.

As the Republican senate strategy unfolded last week, speculation arose that one result might be to force Gov. Williams into a seventh term bid.

Some of the governor's friends could go through with what heretofore has been widely supposed to be an intention of shooting for national office.

They believe that it would be political suicide for the governor to accept a voluntary exit from Michigan after 12 years in the saddle with the state treasury busted, state services limping and schools deeply in debt.

Such would probably be the state of affairs at the end of 1960 if Republican plans succeed, leaving the state general fund 75 million dollars in the hole until January, 1961.

GOP House leaders talked of holding up the final vote on the four Senate bills until they settle on just how to beef up the package by 20 or 25 million dollars, and then get a Senate expression on their handwork.

This pointed to a climactic wind-up the middle of next week.

ENOUGH VOTES?

There still remained the possibility that the necessary 36 votes would fail to turn up in the House for the new or increased taxes on beer, liquor, tobacco products and telephones.

Democratic leaders privately worried about how much help they would be able to muster for Republicans who pledged to carry the ball but can't make the grade all by themselves.

If unforeseen difficulties crop up as they have so often in the past,

Rocky Hopes Nixon Can Settle Steel Discord

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he hopes Vice President Richard M. Nixon will be able to help settle the steel strike while President Eisenhower is away.

Rockefeller, considered Nixon's chief rival for the Republican presidential nomination next year, said Sunday: "I don't know what has been going on in the inside behind the scenes in the negotiations, but I feel the time has come when action is needed."

"The last five steel strikes were settled from the White House, so it is not without precedent."

"I hope that the vice president, in his position of high prestige as vice president, will be able to contribute a solution to this problem."

EDDIE & LIZ: Now she's a fan.

Only Voice Is the Same Eddie Fisher Grows Up

NEW YORK (NEA)—If he didn't still sing like a bird, you'd hardly recognize Eddie Fisher any more. The cocky kid has disappeared; today he's a soft-spoken, pleasant, seemingly mature person.

He admits the change himself. "Until recently I never slept very well," he says. "I was always too afraid I'd miss something. And I've put on weight — just look at my face, here, under the jaw."

Sleeping better and eating better are signs of a relaxed, happy man, and that's what Eddie gives every indication of being these days.

This is reflected in his performing. Currently, he's appearing at the Waldorf-Astoria here—his first big-time New York engagement—and he's singing better than ever, with a full house every night.

GIVE LIZ CREDIT

Probably you have to give Elizabeth Taylor the credit for making a new man out of Eddie. His feelings for her are obvious.

"Yes," he'll say, "we'd like to work together. At least I want to—I'd like to be with her 24 1/2 hours a day."

And then, when he was told that a fashion magazine wanted her to pose for a layout as one of the world's 10 most beautiful women, he said, "Why do they need the other nine? — Elizabeth is THE most beautiful woman in the world."

There'll be TV in Fisher's future. Apparently, the peak of the public indignation, which undoubtedly led to cancellation of his last show is past.

Eddie says he has several offers, but he doesn't know what he'll do. One thing he's sure about:

"I don't want a straight variety show again; they've done about all you can with those."

House PO Group Sets Probe of Sexy Books

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A House Post Office subcommittee plans to hold hearings next year on sexy movies, books and magazines.

Chairman Kathryn E. Granahan (D-Pa.) said yesterday one purpose would be to determine whether the publishing industry should adopt a purity code patterned after that of the motion picture industry.

Job Goes Begging

COLUMBUS GROVE, Ohio (U)—A job for a full-time policeman went begging after the village council advertised the requirements: Willing to work seven days a week, or call 24 hours a day, furnish own car, equipment and uniform, salary to be decided later.

Double Trouble

NORMAN, Okla. (U)—Mrs. Byron Ampacher stepped on a nail in her garage. She tossed the nail into the back yard. Later in the day she stepped on the same nail.

Oil Brings Noise to Quietest Town

WINDOW ROCK, Ariz. (U)—A few years ago Window Rock, in the middle of the vast Navajo Reservation, was Arizona's quietest town.

The nearest theater was in Gallup, N. M., about 50 miles away. Then oil was discovered on Indian land.

Now the Navajo Civic Center at Window Rock has booked, for the fall-winter season, the U.S. Air Force Band, Guy Lombardo, Fred Waring and his Pennsylvanians, Phoenix Orpheus Club Boys Choir, Ximenz-Vargas Ballet Espanol and the Vienna Boys Choir.

This Was Unexpected

TOLEDO, Ohio (U)—It was late at night, the buses had stopped running and, to be on the safe side, Mrs. Marian Hall asked two policemen to drive her home. As she got out of their cruiser she slammed the door on her own hand and had to have it treated at a hospital.

700 INJURED

Only 10 days ago about 700 persons were injured in a clash between police and youthful demonstrators against revision of the U.S.-Japan alliance.

Nomura said such outbursts by a small minority should not be taken to mean the Japanese are anti-American. Most Japanese realize the security agreement with America "is the backbone of our safety," he added.

"MISTAKE"

Now 82, Nomura is healthy and active as a conservative member of Parliament and president of a phonograph firm.

"Those who wanted us to get on Hitler's and Mussolini's bus made a mistake," Nomura declared. "Now, others say Khrushchev and Mao Tse-tung are moving along. But I feel there is only one road for us (the West). Japan should not repeat its mistakes."

Nomura once again denied that he had advance knowledge of the Pearl Harbor attack.

"I had used strong words in advocating peace. I had told my reporters at the State Department that any agreement would be better than war. But our home government had made the decision.

Civil Rights Unit to Expand Scope

Chairman John Hannah Says Committee Will Probe Justice Abuses

NEW YORK (UPI)—The U.S. Civil Rights Commission will expand the scope of its inquiries to probe shocking abuses in the administration of justice, Commission Chairman John A. Hannah said yesterday.

He said however that the group would continue to devote the majority of its efforts to voting, education and housing.

Hannah, who also is president of Michigan State University, told the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith that he was encouraged by America's "lively national conscience."

"In time our people will come to believe as one that when a synagogue is bombed, no Christian church is safe; when one school is bombed, no school is steady on its foundations; when one man is lynched, the security of each of us is diminished by so much; when one man is denied the right to vote, our own freedom of decision is compromised," he said.

The Civil Rights Commission was established by the Civil Rights Act of 1957. Its life was extended two years by the recent session of Congress.

In discussing the "shocking" situation in the administration of justice, Hannah referred to the lynching of Negro Mack Charles Parker of Poplarville, Miss., April 25.

A grand jury last month failed to bring any indictment in the case. According to Hannah, local authorities had enough evidence to justify an indictment.

At the closing session of its 46th annual meeting, the Anti-Defamation League re-elected as Chairman Henry Edward Schultz of New York and elected Paul H. Sampliner chairman of the national executive committee and Benjamin Greenberg national treasurer.

Remember Age as You Buy Toy

Obeys First Impulse but Check With Parents as to Suitability

Note to Christmas shoppers: Obeys that impulse to buy the toys that first catch your eye but buy them realistically.

Toys for youngsters on your Christmas list are basic tools of child development. Choose them thoughtfully to fit the capabilities of each child's age level.

A Chicago educator and toy advisor points out, "Fun and utility are very closely integrated in the realm of toys, play value always is a prime requisite of a good toy."

Children enjoy most of the toys that give them opportunity for purposeful activity suited to their mental and physical stages of development," Dr. Philip Lewis also explains age suitability is important from a safety point of view, too.

A tool kit that's fine for a school-age youngster will be dangerous for a toddler. A toy with small loose parts is a potential danger to a baby, but can be an excellent source of creative play for an older child.

"Even adults who have never seen the children they are gifting can do a good job of providing toys that will yield long term dividends," said Dr. Lewis.

There are many sources of helpful information, too. Manufacturers give helpful descriptions of the purpose and age interest of their toys on box tops and on instruction sheets.

Good toy stores have guide lists of children's play interests at different age levels. Consult the parents of the children as to specifically wanted playthings or current hobby interests.

When a certain type of plaything is intensely desired, it is wise to provide the toy now. By next Christmas interests are likely to have changed.

Philippines Get Thriving Town Back From U. S.

OLONGAPO, Philippines (AP)—The Philippines got a town back from the United States today.

Olongapo, a thriving coastal community of 65,000 inhabitants, was formally turned over to the Philippine government in a colorful ceremony ending 45 years of U.S. navy rule here.

Once a fishing village, Olongapo grew up in the shadow of the U.S. Navy Subic Bay base near here. The town was on land within the base limits and was administered by the Navy.

BOAC Denies Collusion in Three-Line Agreement

LONDON (UPI)—Managing Director Basil Smallpiece of British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC) denied yesterday the airline was trying to thwart competition by coordinating its services with those of Air India and Qantas Airlines of Australia.

He said the three airlines also had no intention of banding together on decisions made in meetings of the International Air Transport Assn.

Main purpose of the cooperative agreement between the airlines, Smallpiece said, was to reduce overlapping services.

She'll Know Her Way Around

Kim to Honeymoon in Movie House?

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—They are building a livable home for a Kim Novak movie and the grapevine says it will be the honeymoon house of the actress and director Richard Quine.

The contractor estimates the market value of the property and house at $250,000. It is perched on a hilltop in Bel-Air and there is no swankier address in this land of millionaires.

The house is an integral part of the plot of "Strangers When We Meet." Kirk Douglas, married to Barbara Rush in the movie, carries on an illicit romance with Kim. He takes her to the site of a home he is building in Bel-Air.

Many of their trysts take place at the house in various stages of construction.

Quine's cousin, Tom, a Los Angeles contractor, is building the house.

Kim's steady date is director Quine. His wife gets her final divorce decree in March. Until the divorce, Kim is mum about any marriage plans.

"I certainly am very fond of Dick," she admits. "But as for marriage, I can't say right now."

Intimates say the beautiful Chicago blonde is more smitten with Quine than any of her previous boy friends, including Cary Grant and Aly Khan.

Quine, one of the top young directors in the business, is as mum as Kim on marriage plans.

But he does confirm that he is buying the house when the picture is completed.

The real tipoff will come when the decorators start working inside the house. If the color scheme is lavender, be assured that Quine will be living in it with Kim as Mrs. Quine. Lavender is Kim's favorite color.

Disagrees With Other Stars

Jimmy Stewart Thinks TV Aids Movie Career

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Jimmy Stewart moves and speaks slowly, but his mind clips along at a mighty rapid pace — especially when it comes to television.

Most movie stars in the Stewart galaxy dodge video for fear it ruin their picture careers.

The reason given by such as Clark Gable, John Wayne and Burt Lancaster generally is "I don't want to compete with myself. Why should I let people see me for nothing on TV and expect them to pay to see me in movies?"

The lanky, graying star crossed his stork-like legs in the den of his living room and calmly disagreed with his peers, saying "I think television is good for my movie career."

"My old pictures on TV help out too. If it's done correctly, an actor's TV appearances can tie in with the release dates of his movies. When I appear in a dramatic show it's a whole lot better than playing guest star on a variety show to plug my latest film."

"The public is on to that sort of thing, and it is more detrimental than beneficial."

"When you're acting in a story on TV it is a subtle reminder to the public that you are still around and working. That's why I accept TV programs from time to time throughout the year."

Stewart's next video appearance is Dec. 15 when he stars with George Gobel in an hour-long spoof on westerns, "Cindy's Fella."

Though he goes along with occasional TV programs, the movie veteran won't consider a regular series. His agent is instructed to refuse all offers on the basis that a series would destroy his picture career.

"Funny thing happened recently," Jimmy went on in his comfortable drawl. "When I appeared on Jack Benny's show with my wife, Gloria, we had three solid offers for a husband-and-wife program, which I don't want to do either. But I must admit Gloria was very good."

Jimmy looks for quality in his infrequent video appearances. This time he found it. The $100,000 production was directed by Gower Champion in eight days.

"I like it as well as anything I've done," Jimmy said. "I think audiences will approve of the show, too."

Traffic Bottleneck Alleviated in Lansing

LANSING (UPI)—A traffic bottleneck will end today when the route of U.S. 16 within the city is changed, the State Highway Department said today.

The route change will go into effect as a result of the completion of the second phase of the $1,800,000 U.S. 27 overpass on the north side of the city.

The bridge carrying U.S. 27 traffic was opened Nov. 13 and the roadway beneath the span carrying U.S. 16 traffic will open Monday.
