Reds Pulled Back Some Units Near Saigon, U.S. Says

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. sources said today that some enemy units believed poised for an attack on the capital have pulled back and "there is no immediate major threat to Saigon."

"The enemy has backed off," said one highly placed U.S. official. "They don't have the capability to attack except in a very small way. There isn't any forward movement at all.

Related Story, Page A-5

"Some elements of the major units have physically pulled back. All of them didn't pull back. It is not a general withdrawal. But if you are going to mount a major attack you don't pull back anybody."

The new U.S. assessment contradicted South Vietnamese intelligence reports of a continuing enemy buildup along the Cambodian border and in Hau Nghia Province west of Saigon, where the North Vietnamese 9th Division has its headquarters.

ENEMY EVADES B52s

Earlier today it was reported that the North Vietnamese 32nd and 33rd regiments had reached the Cambodian border after evading U.S. B52 bombers on a 250-mile march from the central highlands. The main thrust of an enemy attack on the capital is expected to come from the west.

Only hours before the report of the new American assessment, the South Vietnamese government again ordered its security forces in Saigon on 100 per cent alert for possible attacks and increased terrorist activities.

★ ★ ★

There have been intelligence reports that elements of at least four enemy divisions are within striking distance of Saigon and that 1,000 Vietcong commandos are already inside the city.

★ ★ ★

Only one terrorist incident was reported in the capital—the assassination of a Viet Cong defector by two women who escaped.

U.S. Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford, in South Vietnam on the first visit since succeeding Robert S. McNamara, got a briefing from top U.S. commanders and presumably was informed of the fresh assessment.

SPEED UP DELIVERIES

Clifford, who arrived Sunday, said the United States would speed up deliveries of M16 rifles to the South Vietnamese army "even at the expense of our own forces." He did not elaborate, but Brig. Gen. Winant Sidle, the chief U.S. information officer, explained that he meant South Vietnamese units would get the rifles before American logistical troops. U.S. combat forces already are equipped with the rapid-firing rifles.

Careening Stock Car Kills Two, Injures 27

From Our News Wires

MARNE, Mich. — Duane Wilson's modified stock car was adding 100 miles per hour when it climbed a cement wall at the Berlin Raceway and sailed into a grandstand. Two [illegible] were killed and 27 injured.

The car flew out of control after its front wheels jammed Saturday night, then careened into a crowd of spectators.

Among the critically injured were three sons of Kenneth Bowers, 38, of Big Rapids, who was treated for minor injuries and released from Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Critically injured were James Bowers, 12, William Bowers, 10, Kenneth Bowers Jr., 15.

Also critically injured were Albert Brakefield, 15, of Grand Rapids, whose brother, William, 18, was killed as the car cut a 90-foot path of destruction through the grandstand.

Also killed in the mishap was James Mason, 35, of Allegan.

★ ★ ★

Other critically injured patients at Butterworth were Walter Runstrom, 47 and Frederick Shepard, 37, both of Grand Rapids.

The driver of the car, Wilson, 18, of Portland, was reported injured slightly as he was thrown free of the wreck.

FINAL LAP

The youth had barely entered the fourth turn of the final lap of the race in this west Michigan community when his front wheels jumped onto the rear of another car. Police said he told them the back wheels of his car "came loose."

The car then wrenched free and Wilson's right front wheel spun onto the four-foot high cement wall surrounding the track. "He traveled about 31 feet like that, then the whole car was on top of the wall and sped for some 90 feet into the first five rows of the grandstand seats," said Sgt. Jack Rosema of the Ottawa County sheriff's department.

Czechs Report Russian Troops Resume Pullout

PRAGUE (UPI) — The Czech news agency CTK said today Soviet troops had resumed moving out of Czechoslovakia. The announcement eased the developing crisis in relations between Czechoslovakia and other members of the East European bloc.

Czech government and political sources reported earlier the withdrawal of Russian troops in Czechoslovakia for Warsaw Pact troop maneuvers last month had halted over the weekend, ostensibly because of heavy tourist traffic.

CTK said some Soviet troops moved out of the country during the night and that more were expected to leave today. Until then, witnesses at the border said only three Soviet jeeps had crossed back into East Germany during the past 48 hours.

The CTK statement said "another unit" had crossed into East Germany at the Cinovec-Zinnwald crossing during the night and "three more Soviet columns also crossed the Czechoslovak-Poland border at Beloves near Nachod during the night."

MORE CROSSINGS

"Further Soviet troops are expected to cross over into Poland today at the same border crossing," it said.

Political observers had believed the troop withdrawal was halted pending outcome of a Warsaw meeting underway between Soviet leaders and such loyal East bloc members as East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria, and Hungary. Maverick Czechoslovakia, Romania and Yugoslavia were notably absent.

Official publications in Romania and Yugoslavia today criticized the continued presence of the Russian troops as interference in the internal affairs of another Communist state. Both have been increasingly independent of Moscow.

A clue to the importance of the Warsaw meeting came in the Polish armed forces newspaper Zolnierz Wilnosci which called Czechoslovakia a "bastion" of the Warsaw Pact defense system and said this is why Poland cannot be "indifferent to Czechoslovaki's destinty."

New Pact Ends Seaway Strike

OTTAWA (AP) — Ships moved through the St. Lawrence Seaway again today after a 24-day strike that idled nearly 300 ships and cost an estimated $20 million in wages, seaway tolls and other losses.

Traffic resumed last night a few hours after some 1,200 striking members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers voted 72 per cent in favor of an agreement providing a 19 per cent wage increase spread over three years and another 4 per cent in fringe benefits.

★ ★ ★

The increases will cost the seaway authority $2 million for the three years covered by the agreement.

Ninety-six ships, most of them ocean freighters, were awaiting entry to the inland waterway at Montreal when the strikers ratified the agreement hammered out in two days of bargaining which ended late Saturday.

Another 75 ocean ships were trapped in the system, and more than 100 lake vessels beyond Montreal were stalled.

The agreement virtually wipes out the 20 per cent gap between the wages paid Canadian workers on the seaway and those paid by the United States on the locks it operates. But W. J. Smith, president of the union, pointed out that the American workers open negotiations for a new contract in the fall and said the Canadians would presumably fall behind again.

Grab your water wings and bathing suit and head for the nearest swimming pool if you want to beat the heat wave that will continue to send thermometers soaring into the 90s for the third straight day.

The weatherman holds out no hope for relief until the end of the week.

A few brief thundershowers are expected this evening before the skies clear. Night temperatures are due to hover between 68 and 72.

Tomorrow and Wednesday will be more of the same, with each afternoon or evening punctuated by thunderstorms.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority Parks in the area did a booming business over the weekend as weather-weary residents sought the comfort of the water.

This afternoon's hot, humid winds from the southwest will slow by evening to 8 to 15 miles.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today 30, tonight 20 and tomorrow 30. Low thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 70. By 1 p.m. the mercury bounced to 90.

PARKS BUSY

Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford chalked up 66,000 people for the weekend. Yesterday's tally alone was 45,000.

For the same two days, Stony Creek Metropolitan Park near Rochester had 52,000 visitors, 35,000 yesterday.

Two Envoy Posts Filled by Johnson

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Harold F. Linder, 67, now president and chairman of the Export-Import Bank, has been selected by President Johnson, to be new U.S. ambassador to Canada, the White House announced today.

The President also is nominating Raul H. Castro, now ambassador to El Salvador, to be new envoy to Bolivia, the White House said.

★ ★ ★

Linder, a native of Brooklyn, N.Y., has been head of the Export-Import Bank since 1961. During the early 1950s he also served as assistant secretary of state for economic affairs.

Castro is an Arizona lawyer and a former state judge. He is a native of Mexico and became a naturalized U.S. citizen in 1939.

Castro has been in El Salvador since October 1964.

Rocky Sees 4th or 5th Ballot Win

From Our News Wires

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he should win the Republican presidential nomination on the fourth or fifth ballot. A top lieutenant of his chief opponent, Richard M. Nixon, says on the other hand that the former vice president will win on an "early" ballot, with the second ballot the target.

Related Story, Page A-2

Both sides agreed, that Nixon, despite his apparently overwhelming lead currently is not likely to get a first-ballot victory.

Rockefeller said yesterday in a television interview he believed the convention would go "to about four ballots, perhaps five, with nobody getting the necessary plurality on the first but Nixon being ahead.

'STARTS LOSING'

"On the second, Nixon starts losing votes to both Gov. Ronald Reagan and myself," he said. "On the third there's a motion in all directions and on the fourth it starts moving toward me."

Meanwhile, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon reportedly boosted their delegate leads for the Democratic and Republican presidential nominations despite weekend setbacks in Colorado and Utah.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey gained 21 new first-ballot delegate votes for 698¾ of the 1,312 needed for the Democratic nomination, according to an Associated Press survey of firm votes.

Nixon was reported to have gained 2 but his total for firm votes remained at 501 of the 667 votes needed for the GOP nomination.

SETBACK AT CONVENTION

Humphrey's setback came at the Colorado Democratic Convention where a slate of 12 at-large delegates favoring him was shut out by a coalition backing Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The shutout came after McCarthy addressed the convention.

But Humphrey won 17 new votes at a Washington state Democratic convention and 4 in Colorado. McCarthy backers claimed 9½ of the Washington delegates votes and he won 2 of the Colorado votes.

Nixon's setback came in Utah where Republicans named eight delegates—the last of the GOP national convention delegates—with five going to California Gov. Ronald Reagan, two reportedly to Nixon and one undecided.

ROCKY PLANS POLL

In another political developments, Rockefeller announced he'll conduct his own poll to indicate who the strongest GOP presidential candidate would be. And an apparent move to elevate Democratic Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota as a presidential contender appeared to die a quiet death.

★ ★ ★

At a caucus, the South Dakota democratic delegation voted to commit itself to McGovern as its favorite son. But McGovern, who did not attend the dinner, issued a statement in Washington that his campaigning will be for reelection to the Senate, not for the presidential nomination.

10 Pct. Surtax in Effect Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government started taking a bigger tax bite out of Americans' paychecks today as the 10 per cent income surtax recommended by President Johnson to help pay for the Vietnam war finally went into effect.

All paychecks received from today on must reflect the surcharge through an increased deduction for federal income taxes.

The 10 per cent increase is on the federal tax Americans already have been paying, not on their total wages.

All paychecks must account for the increased withholding to cover the surcharge even if the money was earned before this week. Only persons in the two lowest income tax brackets are exempt.

President Johnson originally submitted the surcharge to Congress last Aug. 3 and asked for an Oct. 1 effective date for individuals.

When Congress failed to act last year, Johnson changed the effective date for individuals to last April 1, a date approved by Congress in the measure finally passed in June.

Scranton and Love

New Yorker Adds Support

From Our News Wires

Former Pennsylvania Gov. William M. Scranton and Colorado Gov. John A. Love have endorsed New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller for the GOP presidential nomination.

Scranton, a delegate to the GOP national convention next month, disclosed his backing of Rockefeller during the weekend because he had been asked by other delegates to reveal why he decided to support the New York governor.

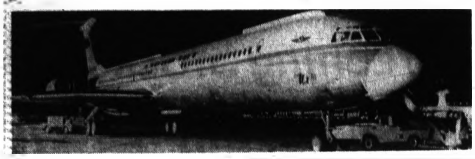

"For the future of the free world, for solving the internal problems of America, for Pennsylvania, and for the Republican party, I am supporting Nelson Rockefeller for president," he said.

Love threw his support to Rockefeller today even though he said the New Yorker was a definite "underdog" for the nomination. Love said Rockefeller faced "rather long odds."

Love is a member of Colorado's 18-member delegation to the national convention.

The Colorado governor has been thought to support Rockefeller for months but refused, until a special news conference today, to come out for the New York governor.

Airliners Begin Moscow-NY Service

The types of airliners which will make regular flights between New York City and Moscow are the Soviet Aeroflot Ilyushin 62 (left) and the Pan American Boeing 707 (right).

Russian Plane Kicks Off Run

NEW YORK (AP) — At 4:30 p.m. EDT today, an Ilyushin 62 jet passenger plane is scheduled to land at Kennedy International Airport, marking the end of the first direct flight from Moscow to New York and the beginning of regular air service between the two world capitals.

After more than seven years of negotiations, interrupted by such Cold War flare-ups as the building of the Berlin Wall, the United States and the Soviet Union reached agreement earlier this year on a weekly plane service.

* * *

Under the agreement, the government-owned Soviet Airline, Aeroflot, will fly from Moscow to New York, with a brief stopover in Montreal, on Mondays and will return on Wednesdays. Pan American World Airways will schedule a flight from New York Monday evening and, flying via Copenhagen, will arrive in Moscow on Tuesday, Moscow time, returning the same day.

The four-engine IL 62, which will have a seating capacity of 20 first and 102 economy class passengers, will have a crew of 11 for its inaugural flight. All speak English. The five stewardesses will wear dark blue uniforms.

The Pan Am Boeing 707-300 fan jet, scheduled to depart at 8:15 p.m. EDT today, has a capacity of 16 first and 127 economy class passengers. It will have a crew of 10.

* * *

The Moscow to New York flight via Aeroflot is scheduled to take 12 hours and 40 minuts, with the return trip estimated at 11 hours and 30 minutes. Pan Am will take 11 hours and 45 minutes to fly from Moscow to New York and 10 hours and 35 minutes for the reverse trip.

* * *

Fares on both airlines will be the same. A first-class ticket will cost $584 one way and $1,110 round trip. Economy tickets will be $384 one way and $730 round trip during off seasons and $429 one way and $815 round trip in peak travel periods.

Culture Swap Renewed

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The White House announced today the U.S.-Soviet cultural exchange program has been renewed through 1969.

The previous agreement expired at the end of 1967. Discussions on extending it had lagged and there was a decline in exchanges since no new programs were started after the old exchange expired.

'Political Parties Are Next Targets'

Abernathy Says Drive Will Persist

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy vows to instill new life in the Poor People's Campaign by carrying it to other parts of the nation.

Primary targets will be the Republican and Democratic national conventions in Miami Beach and Chicago next month, Abernathy said yesterday. He also indicated the campaign would be carried into many major cities.

* * *

The head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) declined to elaborate on his plans for the campaign, but said he conceived "new directions" for it while serving a 20-day jail sentence for illegally demonstrating on the capitol grounds.

Abernathy planned to spell out his campaign blueprint at an early afternoon news conference.

LED DEMONSTRATION

He was released from the District of Columbia Jail Saturday, and yesterday led a group of about 400 in a demonstration on Capitol Hill. The demonstrators circled the capitol twice, the fifth and sixth circuits in a symbolic reenactment of the biblical Joshua's seven walks around Jericho, before he and followers destroyed the city.

The seventh circuit is to be held next Sunday.

* * *

Abernathy, weakened by a partial fast while in jail, only walked around once.

Part of Abernathy's plans for the continued Poor People's campaign emerged yesterday as he spoke to his followers.

'WE WILL PERSIST'

"We came here and began a campaign," he said. "They tried to end it by putting us in jail when we went to Capitol Hill. They tried to crush it by tearing down Resurrection City.

"But we're going to take this campaign to Miami, Fla., for the Republican convention and to Chicago, Ill., for the Democratic convention."

* * *

He said he planned to present demands of the poor people before the platform committees of both parties, and possibly to stage floor demonstrations at each convention.

Health Dept. Closes City Office a Week

The Pontiac office of the Oakland County Health Department will be closed this week and possibly next, beginning today, Dr. Bernard D. Berman, health director, said this morning.

* * *

Dr. Berman said that services usually performed at the Pontiac office, in the Oakland County Service Center, will be performed at the health department's Southfield office, 27725 Greenfield.

* * *

The health director said it is necessary to close the office because of difficulties with the building's ventilating system, which may have to be completely overhauled.

The system apparently had been giving off noxious odors which affected some staff members, Dr. Berman said.

SOME AFFECTED

The health director said it is believed some employes who were in the building for long periods had suffered illness or discomfort caused by the ventilating system.

The office will reopen when necessary repairs are completed, he said.

* * *

Officials said employes who usually work in the Pontiac office will be transferred to the Southfield office until repairs are completed.

A Pontiac man was killed Saturday when his car ran off Silver Lake Road in Waterford Township and struck a tree.

The victim, Donald H. Boyd Jr., 24, of 583 Peacock, died at Pontiac General Hospital about 14 hours after the 6:40 a.m. accident. Death was attributed to a cerebral hemmorrhage.

EXCRUCIATING PAIN—Patricia O'Brien, 12, of Watervliet, N.Y., screams in pain yesterday at a hospital as the remaining section of a drainpipe is removed from her swollen arm. She was in the community pool when her arm was sucked into the pipe Saturday.

Dip in Pool by N.Y. Girl, 12, Results in Weekend of Pain

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Patricia O'Brien just wanted to cool off at a municipal pool, but the 12-year-old girl's dip turned into a weekend of extreme pain when her arm was caught in a drain pipe.

Patricia, of nearby Watervliet, went to that city's Schuyler Park Pool Saturday afternoon.

* * *

At about 4:30, her left arm became lodged up to her shoulder in a drainage pipe that protruded several inches above the concrete base of the shallow pool.

Her father, Albert, told reporters that Patricia slipped and that her arm went into the four-inch, steel pipe as she fell.

The pool was being drained at the time, causing suction.

Police and firemen tried at first to extricate her arm by using grease and oil. When that failed, they broke the concrete with air hammers and separated the pipe section from the base after after five hours.

Patricia, under sedation for pain and the piece of pipe still around her swollen arm, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital here.

* * *

A second ordeal lasted for nine hours Sunday as members of Tory's rescue squad cut away the pipe with hacksaws.

Illinois Bell Gets Arbitration Plan

CHICAGO (AP) — The Illinois Bell Telephone Co. was studying today a proposal of the striking electrical workers to submit their long and sometimes bitter dispute to binding arbitration.

* * *

After a two-hour meeting yesterday called by Gilbert J. Seldin, top federal mediator, the utility agreed to consider the union's verbal proposal. A union spokesman said an answer was expected by today "at the latest."

* * *

The 69-day wage dispute between the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Systems Council T-4, and Illinois Bell threatens to move the Democratic National Convention from Chicago.

* * *

Robert A. Nickey, chairman of the council, told a news conference that the Union had presented company officials a plan to submit the prolonged dispute to binding arbitration.

COULD RETURN TO WORK

The company will "consider the proposal as expeditiously as possible," a Bell spokesman said.

Union members could return to work during arbitration said Nickey, if this procedure for settling the strike is "mutually satisfactory" to both sides.

* * *

Nickey said if Illinois Bell rejects arbitration, the union will have no recourse but to file a charge of "unfair bargaining practices under the National Labor Relations Board."

John M. Bailey, national convention chairman, has warned that if the strike is not settled by July 28, the convention may be moved from Chicago's International Amphitheatre.

* * *

The walkout by some 11,800 electrical workers, which started May 8, has delayed installation of equipment needed for radio and television coverage of convention, scheduled to begin Aug. 26.

Three networks — ABC, CBS and Mutual — have warned that coverage of the Democratic conclave will be impaired if the strike is not ended soon.

City Engineers to Offer Plans to Cut Flooding

BIRMINGHAM — The city engineering department will offer several long-range proposals aimed at correcting flooding conditions to the City Commission for their consideration tonight at 8 p.m.

City Engineer William T. Killeen, in a report requested by the commission following the severe flooding of three weeks ago, said that "the problem is being studied but that it has not been determined what specific measure can be taken to control or alleviate conditions.

* * *

As part of the continuing study, Killeen said that it is important that the city cooperate with Beverly Hills on a project to relieve the Acacia Drain sewers.

Many of the basements that flooded, he said, are in the Acacia Drain District which is in both Birmingham and Beverly Hills.

DRAIN 'INADEQUATE'

The drain is inadequate, said Killeen, adding that "Although Beverly Hills was not previously interested in participating in the project, we now understand there is an in interest on their part to do so."

Pointing out that the flooding in the city was the result of the River Rouge flooding and the backing up of sewers, Killeen said his department proposes to study the River Rouge, paying particular attention to the problems that occurred on north Woodward, near Redding and Lakeside; and at the Quarton Dam.

* * *

"We will review the capacity of the existing bridges and other waterway sections to carry flood waters," he said.

"The engineering department feels, that the city should consider adopting necessary ordinances to control the River Rouge flood plains," he added.

STUDY FLOOD PLAIN

A flood plain information study has been made by the Corps of Engineers on the river going through the city but it does not include the Quarton Lake branch.

Killeen said that a study of the branch has been requested, but if and when it will be made is uncertain.

* * *

With the information already available, he said it is possible for the city engineering department to undertake the study.

"From that study, together with the Corp of Engineers study, a flood plain could be defined which would be used in a flood plain ordinance," said Killeen.

Miss Universe a Latin Lovely

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Martha Vasconcellos, a bright-eyed schoolteacher from Brazil, walks into a new world today as Miss Universe.

With a wave of her scepter, a nod of her sparkling crown and a losing effort to fight back happy tears, Miss Vasconcellos ascended her throne Saturday night. She was chosen the loveliest of girls from 65 countries.

* * *

Until next July when she returns to Miami Beach to hand her crown to Miss Universe 1969, Miss Vasconcellos will spend her time trotting about the globe, earning the $10,000 she is promised in a personal appearance contract.

In addition, the crown carries an award of $10,000, a $7,500 chinchilla jacket and stacks of lesser prizes.

IN FOCUS

Photographers — like those who posed her in bed with her trophy and then trooped to the beach with her yesterday — will become an integral part of her life for the next year.

* * *

But the 12 months of merry-go-round activity have hardly started and already Miss Vasconcellos admits, despite the admiring hordes: "I am lonely. I am without my family for the first time."

* * *

Miss Universe likes both her hair and her skirts long. The 5-foot-8, 130-pound beauty says she likes miniskirts but on other girls. "On me I think they're ugly because I am tall," she said.

Some Violence in Paris

Bastille Day Clashes Light

FIREWORKS IN PARIS—A cascade of fireworks falls in the sky around the Eiffel Tower in Paris last night. The display marked the close of Bastille Day, France's Independence Day. The day also saw renewed but sporadic antigovernment demonstrations in the French capital.

PARIS (AP) — Small sporadic clashes between police and young demonstrators punctuated Bastille Day celebrations Sunday night in the Latin Quarter, where crowds of tourists had massed for an evening of merrymaking.

Small groups of students jeered the several thousand helmeted police massed along Boulevard St. Michel, on the watch for leftist disturbances. The police hurled tear gas grenades at the hecklers and launched several baton charges. A number of persons were injured.

* * *

There were few disturbances in the capital during the day when thousands turned out in drenching rain to watch the annual parade reviewed by President Charles de Gaulle in his brigadier general's uniform. With de Gaulle were Premier Maurice Couve de Murville and other members of the new Cabinet.

After reviewing the troops at the Arc de Triomphe, de Gaulle rode down the Champs Elysees in an open car despite the rain, acknowledging the cheers of the crowd.

Later the president stood in a covered stand and watched units from all branches of the French armed forces march past. Among the displays were bulldozers like those that tore down the barricades the students threw up in May and June.

'Modern Priest' Marries Couple

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — James Kavanaugh, 39, author and former Catholic priest who defied church celibacy rules and was married last December, performed a marriage ceremony here over the weekend.

Author of "A Modern Priest Looks at his Outdated Church," the outspoken Kavanaugh defended his action after officiating at the wedding of a widow and a divorced father of five.

"I am a priest forever, and under California law, a priest is authorized to perform a marriage ceremony," Kavanaugh said.

He said the wedding was a civil, not religious, ceremony and added, "I announced my resignation from the priesthood after my marriage, but never went through with a formal resignation."

Kavanaugh married William Brockley, director of counseling for the Human Resources Institute of La Jolla, and Jean Ryan of Pacific Beach, near here.

It's a Honey of a Problem at Drawing

MASON (AP) — There was a bee in the barrel—but not in the gun barrel — at the Michigan Trapshooters Association championships Sunday.

A queen bee ducked into a barrel containing 5,000 tickets for a prize drawing. A swarm of male bees followed the queen and buzzed around a shed housing the barrel.

Bill Patterson of Grand Rapids, the association official in charge of the prize drawing, couldn't go near the barrel because he is one of a very few persons in the United States who are allergic to bee stings. Such stings are potentially fatal to him. Patterson even carries a kit in his pocket for emergency use in event of a bee or wasp sting.

The day was saved by Don Johnson of Lansing. Johnson, who had just shot 197 out of a possible 200 clay targets, walked over to the shed, captured the queen bee and led the swarming male bees into a large box, allowing officials to remove the barrel.

Long Strike Over

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Some 3,000 Lear-Siegler Inc. employes are expected to return to work in Grand Rapids on Tuesday. The workers ratified a three-year contract with the firm Saturday, ending a 15-week strike.

Ohio Cow Stolen

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Sheriff's deputies are looking for some cattle thieves. They said an 850-pound heifer disappeared from a far mwest of here. Its remains were found in a nearby hollow where the thieves had dressed it before departing with two sides of fresh beef.

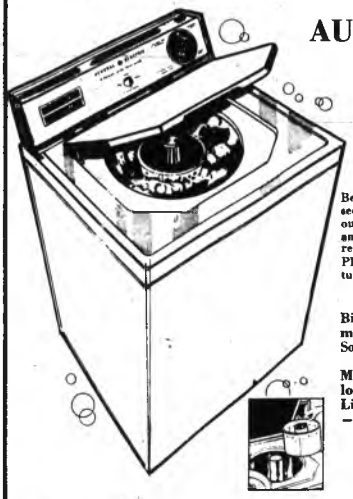

Robert Fulton's first practical steamboat, which made its first trip in 1807, was 140 feet long and 13 feet wide.

State Weekend Road Toll 8

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

At least eight persons were killed on Michigan highways over the weekend, including a 12-year-old Kalamazoo boy who fell between two hay wagons and was crushed by one of them.

The Associated Press count of weekend fatalities started 6 p.m. Friday and ended midnight yesterday.

The victims:

Layton Brown, 12, of Kalamazoo, when he fell between two hay wagons being towed by a farm tractor on a rural road near Hastings Friday night and was crushed by the second wagon.

Bernice T. Seeley, 72, of Millington, killed yesterday when the car she was driving was struck broadside at a rural Genesee County intersection.

Donald Rigel, 57, of Otisville whose car collided with a vehicle Saturday night at an intersection of M115 near Benzonia in Benize County.

* * *

Donald H. Boyd Jr., 24, of 583 Peacock, Pontiac, who died Saturday night from injuries suffered hours earlier when his auto ran off a curve and crashed in Waterford Township.

Monte Lafovre, 18, of Newport, when his car missed a turn and rolledover Saturday in Berlin Township, Monroe County.

HEAD-ON CRASH

Andrew Stephens, 64, of Pullman, in a head-on collision Saturday on a road six miles northeast of South Haven.

Arthur Blodgett, 3, of near Charlotte, when the car in which he was riding with his family was struck from behind Friday night on a road near Charlotte.

Virginia Duddles, 6, of Missaukee County, when she ran into the path of a car Friday night near her rural home.

Michigan's U. S. Senators at Odds on Court Choices

DETROIT (UPI) — Being on opposite sides is not unusual for Michigan's two U.S. senators, especially on the appointment of Abe Fortas from associate justice to chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Sen. Robert Griffin, a Republican, has been leading a battle to block Fortas' confirmation by the Senate as well as the nomination of Homer Thornberry as an associate justice.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, a Democrat, has been backing President Johnson on the matter.

Both senators were in Detroit over the weekend and each had his own view to express.

'MORE OF A LOBBYIST'

Griffin, who has been hard-pedaling a charge that Fortas won the nomination because he is a "crony" of the President, disparaged Fortas' standing as a lawyer.

"I'm sure that he's got a legal degree and his diploma and so forth," Griffin said. "But, in general, he hasn't been the kind of lawyer who's been in a court a good deal.

"A lot of lawyers in Washington spend a good deal of their time running around on the Hill and doing different types of lobbying.

* * *

"I think, in general, he has that kind of reputation," Griffin said.

Hart's view, expressed on a Detroit television program, The Lou Gordon Show, was just the opposite.

BRILLIANT LAWYER

"Fortas is not only a most distinguished member of the American Bar, he also is the most brilliantly equipped man to ever go on the court," Hart said.

"The President was dutibound to make the appointment," Hart said when asked if the President was acting as a "lame duck." In 1960, Hart sponsored a resolution to prevent President Eisenhower from making similar appointments near the end of his term.

* * *

Hart said he would be forced to stand by the resolution if the Senate should fail to confirm the nominations, most likely because of a planned filibuster led by Griffin.

Hart said it would be regretable if this should happen.

"A man of these talents," Hart said in reference to Fortas, "should not be denied to America.

Flooding Slows Avon Fire Fight

AVON TOWNSHIP — Two and a half feet of water hampered firemen's fight against a basement blaze early this morning.

Firemen at the Brooklands Fire Station answered a call at 1087 Collingwood at 4:30 a.m., but did not return to the station until 7:30 a.m. because the flood from recent rains slowed the work.

* * *

According to Battalion Chief Frank Mathews, the fire was caused by shorting of wires on the basement ceiling. Paneling around the stairs and ceiling had to be torn out to reach the blaze.

The fire caused damage estimated at $8,000 to the building and $2,000 to the contents. No one was injured.

Seven Drown in Michigan Waters

By The Associated Press

A 6-year-old gird and her 4-year-old brother who wandered away from their parents in Boyne City Saturday night were among seven people who drowned in Michigan waters over the weekend.

The Associated Press count started 6 p.m. Friday and ended last midnight.

* * *

Janet Peters, 6, and her brother, Neal, 4, were found in Lake Charlevoix at Boyne City's Memorial Park after they wandered from their parents, who were watching a baseball game.

Other victims:

- Kenneth Korreck, 6, of Grand Rapids, who was found floating in weeds at a beach in Long Lake State Park in Kent County yesterday after being reported missing on a family outing.
- Robert Menard, 25, of Michigan City, Ind., who apparently encountered trouble with his equipment while scuba diving and drowned yesterday in Klute Lake near Three Oaks in Berrien oCunty.
- Lee B. Denton, 62, of Comstock Park, who went under while attempting to swim ashore from the Grand River Sunday after a boat swamped. The other men in the boat clung to the craft and were saved.
- Parilee Tolbert, 48, of Detroit, who fell from a boat into Kent Lake at Kensington Metropolitan Park in Milford Township while attempting to transfer some equipment to another boat Saturday afternoon.
- Joseph Powers, 17, of Chicago, who drowned yesterday at Warren Dunes State Park near Bridgman while swimming in Lake Michigan with friends. His body was recovered in four feet of water.

Milford Twp. Lake Claims Woman, 48

MILFORD TOWNSHIP — A 48-year-old Detroit woman drowned Saturday in Kent Lake when the boat in which she was riding tipped over.

Kensington Park Police said Parilee Tolbert fell into the water near the park boat rental area when she and her three fellow passengers stood while transferring fishing tackle from another craft about 5:30 p.m.

A police boat was able to assist the others from the water, but the victim was not located for some 10 minutes.

She was pulled from eight feet of water by lifeguards, who unsuccessfully administered artificial respiration, park police said.

West Bloomfield Farm Gets Centennial Designation

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Burke of 2398 St. Joseph, has been designated a centennial farm by the Michigan Historical Commission.

The farm, located in Tuscola County, Almer Township, has been owned by the family since 1865. It was originally purchased in 1865 by Daniel A. Marsaw, grandfather of the present owners, from Benjamin F. Richards.

* * *

A centennial farm, according to the commission, is one which has been in the continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more. The farms are to be 10 acres or more, having estimated sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres but having estimated sales of $250 annually.

Historical markers are provided by Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison Co.

Mrs. Burke's mother also owned a centennial farm in Troy Township. The land, which she sold four years ago, is now part of Oakland Mall, according to Mrs. Burke.

Persons owning farms who wish to apply for centennial farm certificates are asked to write for an application to Centennial Farm Program, Michigan Historical Commission, Department of Statee, Lansing, Michigan 48918.

Avon Voters OK Fire Station Site

AVON TOWNSHIP — At a meeting Saturday afternoon the township's qualified electorate acted on two propositions concerning the Brooklands Fire Station.

The first of two propositions called for sale of the present station at 1725 E. Auburn. According to a township spokesman there were 23 yes votes and one no to sale of the site for $9,000.

* * *

The second proposal was for purchase of land on the north side of Auburn west of Frankson as the site of a new fire hall.

One person abstained while 27 voted in favor of the second proposal. The larger vote count was due to late arrivals to the meeting.

* * *

The station site is being changed because the present location is not convenient, according to the spokesman.

Four in Jackson Jailed in Strife

JACKSON (UPI) — Riot-armed police used the chemical Mace early today in making arrests as groups of Negro youths roamed through the city's south side, stoning cars and breaking windows.

Two homes and a car were firebombed, but the blazes were extinguished by policemen.

Two policemen were assulted during the disturbance, which lasted a little over four hours. One policeman was treated at a local hospital and released. The other visited his own physician.

Police said 11 shots were fired, "but not by policemen." There were no injuries.

Police were unable to say how many persons were involved in the disturbance but said groups ranging from 25 persons to 100 persons were seen.

Four person were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct. Their names were withheld pending arraignment.

At Milford Proving Ground

GM Tailors Cars to Drivers

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in a series of articles on research General Motors conducts at its Milford Proving Ground. The following is based on "The Application of Anthropometry to Automotive Design" by Ronald W. Roe and Dr. Peter Kyropoulos of General Motors Research Laboratories.)

MILFORD — If you feel depressed at the end of the day, it may be for good reason. The fact is, you could be almost an inch shorter at dinner than at breakfast. The change in height occurs when the spinal column relaxes and "stretches" during sleep, then compresses under the load of a day's activities.

This was one of the sidelights in a technical paper presented last week by Dr. Peter Kyropoulos, technical director for General Motors Styling, and Ronald W. Roe of Styling's Safety and Human Performance Group, at the General Motors Safety Seminar at the GM Proving Ground in Milford.

The daily change in the height of a human body is sufficient to cause many people to re-adjust the rearview mirrors in their cars before driving home in the evening, they noted.

The two styling representatives discussed the application of human dimension studies (anthropometry) to automotive design at the seminar.

METHODS, TOOLS

They also reviewed the methods and tools used to guide designers in developing the most comfortable and efficient seating layouts and the functional location of controls with a passenger car or truck cab.

"We are interested in the deimension of the driving population, men and women, between the ages of 15 and 75, in the seated position and performing normal driving tasks, such as reaching for controls and looking into rear-view mirrors," the authors said.

* * *

For this reason, they pointed out, overall height measurements are "only part of the story." They observed that arm length, leg length, torso length and shoulder and hip width may vary considerably among persons of the same height.

Statistically, there is no such thing as "the average-sized man or woman," they said, "and it is an oversimplification to refer to the '95th percentil male' or the '6th percentile female'."

MAIN CONCERN

For example, an automotive designer is, really concerned with the "5th percentile reach when seated" — a figure which takes into consideration both male and female dimensional data — "and this may be considerably different than the 'reach' of a woman of 5th percentile standing height."

MADE TO MEASURE—This device determines the reach capabilities of various-sized persons restrained by lap and shoulder belts. Retractable rulers measure comfortable reach distance to 35 locations on the instrument panel so that designers can position controls within the restrained driver's reach.

Car Flies off I-75; Driver Badly Hurt

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A Ferndale man is in serious condition today in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after his car flipped over an overpass guard rail on southbound I-75 near Square Lake Road and flew almost 200 feet before it stopped off the roadway.

According to township police, Robert L. Turk, 19, of Ferndale was driving on the second level of the three-tiered overpass when his car hit the guard rail.

* * *

Police estimated the drop to the ground was 45 feet, adding that the momentum carried the car 200 feet from the top of the bridge.

Police said the Turk car was not easily visible from the road and was not discovered until almost an hour after the mishap.

* * *

A patrolman sent to the scene could find no accident vehicle. Only by chance, as he was returning to the station on the lower level of the highway, did he discover the car with Turk, unconscious inside.

Lapeer Youth Earns National Scholarship

LAPEER — A youth here has been named with more than 2,800 nationwide winners as a recipient of a National Merit Scholarship.

George A. Kocur of 1555 W. Genesee was selected from among the 14,000 national finalists competing for college funds in the contest sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

* * *

Kocur, a recent graduate of Lapeer High School, will attend Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the fall. His scholarship is for up to $1,500.

COINS FLIP—An Ohio Highway Patrolman uses a vacuum machine to pick up thousands of dollars worth of U.S. coins of all denominations that were scattered over I-75 near Findlay Friday when a trailer overturned. The coins were scattered over a quarter-mile area, and officers spent three hours clearing the highway. Owner of the coins John Abbott, 32, of Bloomfield Hills said the coins had a face value of $15,000, but many are rare so that the entire collection probably is worth more than $100,000.

Massing of VC Underlines Intelligence Gaps

News Analysis

SAIGON (AP) — The Communist command's ability to mass elements of four divisions around Saigon underlines once again the weakness of allied tactical intelligence and the enduring strength of guerrilla warfare tactics.

Despite massive firepower, helicopter mobility, numerical superiority and computers, the allied command has been forced toward the medieval strategy of pulling back to defend the city's gates.

* * *

The allies have the equivalent of some nine divisions in the Saigon region and along the major infiltration routes leading to the capital. But they have not been able to find and destroy a significant enemy formation, either on the way to Saigon or in their pre-attack positions.

Some 15 enemy battalions are reported within 15 miles of Saigon. One highly placed Vietnamese source says some 1,000 enemy troops have infiltrated the city itself despite the ring of defending troops and hundreds of police checkpoints.

CAN'T BE STOPPED

The establishment of a vastly beefed up capital military district command is a tacit admission that the Viet Cong cannot be stopped before they reach Saigon. During the two previous defensives this year, some 4,000 troops managed to penetrate the city in February and about 1,200 in May and June. The allied command was caught flatfooted in February but had ample warning of the May offensive.

Mountains of intelligence on the expected "third wave" attack is in allied hands, but the vital details of just where individual enemy units are holed up are not part of it.

* * *

One U.S. source said lagging intelligence has resulted in B52 strikes as much as a day behind enemy movement toward the capital. The Stratofortresses are supposed to destroy the enemy regiments before they can get into position for an attack.

Most tactical intelligence apparently comes from electronic and photographic devices and the like, most of them carried by plane. Due to past demonstrations that U.S. and government troops cannot prevent enemy regiments from moving through the countryside, reports on enemy movements from villagers has dried up significantly, one source reported.

The villagers face multiple problems if they help. Allied troops may attack their village, causing widespread damage. Or the helpful villagers may be betrayed and executed, along with all their families Viet Cong punishment for informers is swift, brutal and final.

Thus the old Communist strategy of swimming their fish through the waters of the people remains as fundamentally sound as ever. That 1,000 of these fish can swim undetected in Saigon itself shows that the strategy works as well in the cities as in the countryside.

Allied ground units are also severely hampered by new restrictions on the use of artillery and air power around Saigon, even to defend themselves, some U.S. officers feel. The extent of the restrictions is a military secret. But the U.S. and South Vietnamese commands reportedly feel the restrictions are necessary to prevent widespread devastation in and around the city that would alienate the people.

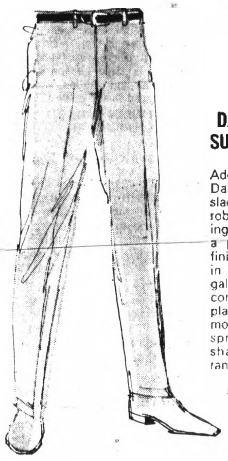

The allied command hopes to break any enemy thrusts toward the city at the outskirts. But some sources say the two plus allied divisions around the city are less than half the number of men required to seal it off.

CONFIDENCE CRISIS

If government promises to protect the capital cannot be kept after two earlier offensives succeeded in punching through, the crisis in confidence will deepen greatly.

The South Vietnamese are turning their criticism increasingly on the United States for real or imagined failures of the allies. Even a partially successful third attack on Saigon this year, regardless of enemy casualties and allied success in repulsing it, would increase sentiment for ending the war on whatever terms the Communists will grant.

It Seems to Me . . .

Fear, Personal Cowardice Increasing Across Nation

Are American civilians slowly tending towards personal cowardice?

Servicemen are exempt.

Stories of their bravery in combat and willingness to face death at the hands of armed foes are legion.

We bow before them.

★ ★ ★

But consider the rank and file of everyday citizens. Repeatedly we read stories of a man attacking another man savagely as bypassers simply continue to pass by. The other day a man beat a woman in public and all the people in the area "watched."

That's all they did.

★ ★ ★

Recently a woman was murdered in New York as neighbors "looked on" from many windows in the area and probably every single one was thinking: "What a shame that no one goes to her aid."

Not too long ago a man and a woman fought viciously in an alley as a gathering crowd of spectators watched with "considerable interest." In most of these instances, no one even bothered to notify the police.

Looters, arsonists and amateur bombers "get away with murder"—literally. Some bystanders even take the time and pains to photograph the depredations.

But do they volunteer assistance? Well, hardly ever.

★ ★ ★

I read two accounts of similar happenings in Nairobi, but I figured African obligations might be less than those of "civilized countries."

Is this new attitude part of the hippie philosophy? Are fear and cowardice becoming national traits?

Who has the answer?

And what is it?

Sentiments on War . . .

HAMILTON FISH has long stood as one of Harvard's most distinguished alumni. Just recently he was quoted in The New Yorker as saying:

★ ★ ★

"The war is a tragic mistake. We have suffered terribly from it. Our standing in the world is the lowest in history. The war has promoted communism by fifteen to twenty per cent in every nation of the world, including our own. While our hands were tied in Vietnam, the Communists have taken over the Arab nations and have gone into Africa. They're spreading into Nigeria. I wouldn't have any objection to the Communists if they had free elections and free speech, but if they did they'd get thrown out of office more quickly than you could imagine."

Here are the sentiments of a man known around the world and a long-time student of global affairs.

College Student Suicides . . .

Suicides among college students touch an all-time high. Our American Psychiatric Association received a warning from a Harvard official that's the first of its kind. This savant declares that parents must exercise due diligence and appraise the situation squarely in connection with college grades.

★ ★ ★

In a 12-month span, 100,000 collegians threatened to take their own lives. No less than 10,000 actually made an attempt.

And 1,000 succeeded.

This is astounding.

★ ★ ★

Suicide is the second greatest cause of death in the 15-24 age group according to this authority who then cites an unexpected reason. He believes a large part of the fault lies at the door of demanding parents who press unfairly for higher and higher grades — grades actually beyond the abilities of the individual. These young people are away from home and are subject to new and unusual strains.

★ ★ ★

Parents shouldn't add to such circumstances by demanding better and better marks. Perhaps the individual is near or at his own limits. A percentage may have exceeded capabilities.

The Harvard man feels fathers and mothers should awaken to the circumstances. Quite obviously, an appreciable percentage of undergraduates aren't in this division. But it does exist and parents must evaluate the situation honestly and squarely.

And in Conclusion . . .

Jottings from the well-thumbed notebook of your peripatetic reporter:

HUMPHREY against NIXON might make the best tickets. HUMPHREY represents the far-out liberals and NIXON the conservatives. It would give voters a real choice. . . . . Few sports figures have captured the public's imagination more than LEE TREVINO. His quick play and readiness to answer questions built him appreciably. . . . . In 1967, 57 million pounds of commercial fish were taken from Lake Michigan — an all-time high. Lake Erie suffered a loss but still produced 48 million.

★ ★ ★

MARY

Scouts advise me Mary Brown deserves rating among the attractive young ladies in the area. . . . . Oakland County's own Bill Fleming does a swell job with his sports announcing. . . . . Reagan backers are planning the biggest demonstration of all for their man at the convention. . . . . Friends, you can walk into the barber shop clean shaven today and emerge with a giant sized beard. It's glued on by experts and costs $80 to $100.

★ ★ ★

Cop to man walking with one foot on the sidewalk and the other in the gutter: "You're drunk." Drunk: "Shanks, officer. I thought I was crippled." . . . . Overheard: "Yes, sir, it's possible for a wife to be so tired she can hardly keep her mouth open." . . . . JAMES RESTON of the Democratic New York Times says the last eight years of Democratic regime have dropped U.S. global prestige to the lowest point in years. . . . . The world's biggest airplane which can carry 350 U.S. troops and all their equipment experienced a marvelous baptismal flight, followed by fine checking records. . . . . Dept. of Cheers and Jeers: the C's — SPOCK's conviction: the J's — SPOCK's light sentence.

David Lawrence Says:

High-Court Appointive Ills Noted

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Can a member of Congress be appointed and confirmed as a federal judge and then continue to serve for five months while he votes on important legislation?

Can a justice of the Supreme Court of the United States act as a personal adviser to the President on certain governmental problems?

Irrespective of the capabilities and qualifications of Associate Justice Abe Fortas to become chief justice and of Judge Homer Thornberry to join the high court as an associate justice, the American people have had their attention drawn primarily to some weaknesses in the present appointive system.

★ ★ ★

The failure to set a definite expiration date was noted when Chief Justice Warren wrote President Johnson last month of his intention to retire "at the pleasure" of the President.

Some members of the Senate Judiciary Committee say this means that if a successor is not confirmed at the present session of Congress, Justice Warren could stay on indefinitely.

'NOT JUSTIFIED'

Other members argue that "at your pleasure" gives President Johnson a flexibility which isn't justified by the Constitution.

If, for instance, Richard Nixon, who has been politically at variance with Warren, should be elected president, the chief justice could withdraw his offer to retire and thus continue on the high court the rest of his life.

★ ★ ★

Atty. Gen. Ramsey Clark was asked at the committee hearing whether Chief Justice Warren could revoke his own letter of retirement and remain on the court indefinitely. The attorney general said that the Justice Department had found no precedent which answers this question.

The whole controversy which has emerged over the appointment of Associate Justice Fortas to be chief justice and of Judge Thornberry to become an associate justice is not likely to end even if both men are confirmed for their new posts.

★ ★ ★

The issue really is whether justices of the Supreme Court, who are appointed for life, can withhold the exact date of their retirement until after a president has chosen a successor for the post, and he has been confirmed.

Many members of Congress feel that new appointments should not be made at the close of a presidential term and that the new president, whether he be Democrat or Republican, ought to have an opportunity to advise the newly elected Congress as to the men best qualified to serve on the highest court of the land, especially when the problem involves two of the nine seats on the Supreme Court of the United States.

Public Wrongly Maligns the Dedicated Politician

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — In this turbulent year, the American politician needs and deserves some defense. A new Louis Harris poll puts men in government and politics at the bottom of the pile in the public's regard.

In this reporter's view, this popular judgment is not only quite wrong but is damaging to the political process at a time when it is being sorely tested.

★ ★ ★

From the vantage point of three decades of observing and associating with politicians, it can be said that they are at least as honest, generally more hard-working, and clearly more intensely devoted to the public good than their counterparts in any other field of endeavor.

And it is fair to say that this is probably more true today than at any time in our history.

GOOD AND BAD

To be sure, as in any enterprise, there are good men and bad, the energetic and the lazy, the responsible and the irresponsible. One seasoned congressman estimates, for instance, that out of 435 U.S. House members, perhaps no more than 100 really understand what is going on and about 50 do the really crucial work.

Would a business corporation, a scientific establishment or a university faculty look much better if it were placed in the goldfish bowl the way Congress is?

★ ★ ★

The politician, the man in government, is the one exposed to public attention, especially in the age of television. And since his mistakes always make better news than his good performance, these are inevitably recorded with disproportionate faithfulness.

At the highest levels of state and national government, furthermore, the politician's judgments are often far more difficult to make than those required in the business, professional or academic world.

RESOLVER OF CONFLICTS

The hard choices tend to be among shades of good or shades of bad—gray-toned decisions which contrast markedly with the black-and-white recommendations urged upon the politician from the professor's or the business leader's safe sanctuary.

The politician is a resolver of conflicts, and it is in many ways the most difficult art practiced in a modern free society. Indeed, when businessmen, professors, scientists and others are drawn into the political process, as they often are, they seldom do better and sometimes do much worse than the career politicians.

★ ★ ★

In this age of the antihero, when those leaders who are not shot to death or jostled or spat upon are frequently reviled and hooted down, the many, many able, hard-driving, dedicated politicians in this country belong at the top of the heap, not the bottom, in public regard.

'Will Grilles Be Installed Before Another Tragedy?'

How long will it be before gates and grilles will be installed to cover the culverts of the Clinton River in the Pontiac area? I am sure that a lot of people will miss the two Rosario boys who drowned there recently.

★ ★ ★

I know that the loss of Capt. Donny Ashley of the Pontiac police force will not only be a loss to the police department and the public in general, but to his many friends. He has left an empty spot in their lives.

'State Ruling on Riding Stables Is Unjust'

I am disturbed over the fact that the State won't let the riding stables board horses anymore. It's unjust to the boarders and the riders. Our parents pay taxes for State land so we'll have some place to go, and the State takes it away. I hope this gets straightened out.

Discusses Handling of University Situation

I read your excellent editorial observation of President Hannah's handling of the situation at Michigan State. I agree with it for the most part, but take exception to two statements. You say that President Hannah won't shadowbox. But he did. When the legislators called on him to explain what was going on, he very conveniently made himself unavailable. He was shadowboxing. When he allowed the situation to reach the proportions he did, he was shadowboxing with the good element in the student body, the laws of the land, state legislature and the taxpayer.

★ ★ ★

Secondly, you state that neither SDS nor other malcontents can defy accepted law and constituted authority. Well, they did and they're getting away with it. The "capable hands" that are holding the reins, as you claim, let them.

★ ★ ★

He was probably trying to prevent the reactions of panic, but I think that he took the path of least resistance. I believe it's time for the good apples to stand up and be counted. Treason and sedition are treason and sedition, wherever you find them. They have to be nipped in the bud.

Gives Views on 'Warren Court' Editorial

You state in your editorial that the Warren Court is "the weakest in all history in the minds of most citizens." While the editorial page is often taken to be the alter ego of the average citizen, one cannot say that the editorial page is the alter ego of historical fact. Abolishment of lifetime tenures or appointments on the Court while questionable, should then result in mandatory retirement at 70 for members of Congress.

★ ★ ★

Granted that the editorial is an opinion of the editor, stating an opinion as fact does not do justice to the cause of journalism.

Poverty . . .

The Cobourg (Ont., Can.) Sentinel-Star

A country is surely going to the dogs when the politicians pound the political pulpit in pseudo speeches declaiming low-income Canadians as poor people.

Poor people are those who have money in the bank but poverty in the head.

★ ★ ★

Poor people are those who will never experience the happiness of fashioning something with their hands.

Poor people are those who do not delight in the everlasting beauty of a fawn and doe drinking from a quiet pool at the edge of a forest.

★ ★ ★

Poor people are those who never learned the song of a bird, who do not know by sound what species it is when the bird is lost from sight behind large leaves on the limb of a basswood tree.

People who are bound by selfishness can never be rich in sharing human wealth with the neighbor next door.

So very poor those people who walk by on the other side of the street; they have no helping hand involved in the world.

★ ★ ★

Poor are those people who resort to force whether on the picket line or on protest marches. Human brutality and human destruction of property are perhaps the worst forms of poverty that exist in the world. For, to be ruled by the mob is to sell the soul, to personally destroy one's God-given individuality.

Poor people are those who have not the carefree spirit, the untrammeled purpose, who do not travel the highway to the stars.

★ ★ ★

Poverty exists in the mind. No one is poor who has eyes to see and ears to hear.

How's That?

Richmond News Leader

Some governmental publications have the ability to say in three or four long words what some people can say in one short one.

A textbook sample is the booklet "Growing Up Poor," published by the Federal Department of Health, Education, and Welfare. It is aimed at social workers, educators, medical people and other soldiers in the war on poverty. Juicy samples of ripe Federal prose may be found on almost any page, but this one has outstanding merit:

★ ★ ★

"Since the pressure on the lower-class male for unobtainable occupational success are greater than on the female, it is hypothesized that depressive reactions, confusion over identity and recourse to the various mechanisms for self-expressive escape would probably occur in a higher proportion of men and to a more pervasive degree."

If the war on poverty ever falters, it may not be for lack of ammunition but because nobody can understand the marching orders.

Be Sure . . .

Manchester England Guardian

"I must be tolerably sure, before I venture to congratulate men upon a blessing, that they have really received one. I should therefore suspend my congratulations on the new liberty in France, until I am informed how it has been combined with government: with public force, with the discipline and obedience of armies; with peace and order; with civil and social manners. . . . All these (in their way) are good things too; and without them, liberty is not a benefit." (Edmund Burke, Reflections on the Revolution in France, 1790)

Judge Improper in Divorce Case

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — John D. Hasler is a judge without a bench or jurisdiction.

Hasler, 56, was found guilty Saturday of misconduct in office stemming from his behavior in a divorce case involving a 27-year-old former go-go dancer, Mrs. Jean Shelby.

* * *

His fellow St. Louis County Circuit Court judges had earlier suspended him from all duties and frozen his $19,000-a-year salary.

Prosecuting Attorney Gene McNary said necessary writs would be filed to remove Hasler from office. State statutes say any person convicted of misconduct in office shall be "forever disqualified" from holding office, but members of McNary's staff indicated Hasler could be formally removed only by the State Supreme Court.

IMPEACHMENT TRIAL

A trial by the Supreme Court on articles of impeachment returned against Hasler by the Missouri House of Representatives is scheduled for August.

Hasler was fined a token $1 by the six-man, six-woman jury. Maximum punishment for the misdemeanor offense is a $500 fine and a year in jail.

* * *

Defense Attorney Charles Shaw said the verdict would be appealed.

Little Dab'll Do You on Wall Street

NEW YORK (UPI) — The stock market was closed yesterday. But the bares were active in Wall Street.

Yayoi Kusama, a psychedelic painter and sunbathing enthusiast, went to all but deserted Wall Street with four young, supple hippies — two boys and two girls. She also took a conga drummer.

* * *

Within a few steps of the New York Stock Exchange, the conga drummer drummed and, in front of a triple-lifesize statue of George Washington, the four hippies threw off all their clothes and began to dance.

* * *

Miss Kusama, best known for her body-painting of dancers at discotheques, applied electric blue polka dots to the quivering naked flesh.

ART LOVERS ALL

About 15 tourists, art lovers all, watched.

The police arrived after about five minutes of frenetic dancing and painting. But the naked hippies saw the patrol car coming and quickly donned beads, bells, blankets and other hippie coverings.

The policemen asked the tourists what was going on. Nobody squealed.

* * *

By coincidence, of course, several news photographers happened to be in the area and preserved the happening for posterity.

This Week May Hold Key to Congress Adjournment

WASHINGTON (AP) — What happens this week could be the determining factor in whether Congress can adjourn before the start of the Republican National Convention early next month.

Leaders have scheduled a full agenda, including Saturday meetings, in what shapes up as the busiest week of the session, in order to clear away such important legislation as gun control bills and $115 billion in appropriations.

It would take a supreme, and unexpected, effort to finish work in time to meet the Aug. 3 adjournment target set by both House and Senate leaders.

This "will be the crucial week" in determining whether the Senate can be ready for pre-convention adjournment, Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield said.

MOSTLY MINOR

Mostly minor business was before the House today. The Senate had scheduled consideration of higher-education and vocational education bills, as well as House-passed proposals providing $13.67 billion for several independent agencies.

* * *

Here's the House schedule for the rest of the week:

Tuesday and Wednesday—Foreign aid authorization bill. A major floor fight is expected over the measure, already sharply cut by the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

* * *

Thursday, Friday and Saturday—Gun control bills; higher education and vocational education proposals and several other matters. Also Thursday, the House is expected to get for consideration next week the year's biggest money bill, presidential requests for $77.7 billion for the Defense Department.

The Senate outlook for the week:

Tuesday on—A bill to regulate handling of mutual funds; Transportation Department appropriation bill of $1.3 billion and several other money bills.

The nation's shoplifting losses — $2.1 billion in 1966 — are expected by security industry officials to rise to $3.3 billion by 1990.

Detroit Couple Begins Global Trip---on Motorcycle

DETRIT (UPI) — John and Kipp Farrell are voyagers of the 20th century.

The young Detroit couple left today on a classic trip around the world. But the Farrells are traveling by motorcycle, planning to visit about 90 countries on six continents during the next three years.

"Like many people, we had long dreamed of making such a trip," Farrell said. "Instead, we found ourselves leading a very routine kind of life, not knowing quite how it happened, and not happy with it."

* * *

"We decided to do something about it."

The route mapped out by the Farrells, both 25, will take them south first, through Central America, down the west coast of Latin America, over the Andes, then up into Brazil.

From Brazil, they will ship across the South Atlantic to Africa. They will be camping along the way, carrying all their equipment on the back of the motorcycle.

'LIGHTWEIGHT DURABLE'

"We rely heavily on mountain climbers' camping equipment because it is lightweight, durable and extremely compact," Mrs. Farrell said.

"We will eat whatever is the local food — our stomachs will certainly find that an interesting challenge," she said.

* * *

Their motorcyle weights a quarter of a ton. It carries 120 pounds of camping gear, medical supplies, photographic and tape recording equipment and clothing.

Exclusively a touring machine, the motorcycle is quiet and comfortable. The Farrells have added an 8½-gallon gas tank to enable them to go 350 miles between refills.

FLUENT IN SPANISH

Farrell speaks fluent Spanish and some French while his wife speaks some Spanish, French and German. They both took a crash course in Russian, just in case.

"We really feel the most difficult part of the trip like this is making it come true," Farrell said.

* * *

"And that's behind us now."

Shot Seriously Hurts Detroit Tenant Chief

DETROIT (UPI) — The head of a tenants union, who once vowed "to change the whole relationship of the landlord and the tenant" in the slums, was in serious condition today after he was shot Saturday by an unknown gunman.

Fred Lyles, president of the United Tenants for Collective Action, won acclaim last month when he battled Albert Goodman, head of Goodman Bros. and Co. Realty, for a contract that put tenants in charge of their buildings and gave them 75 per cent of the profits.

* * *

Lyles, 46, threatened Goodman and other inner city landlords with a rent strike unless they met his demands. Calling Goodman "one of the biggest operators," Lyles said the realtor was forced to go along with the pact because "he was operating on a complete deficit. Breaking his pocket was the only answer."

Goodman denies he was broke but signed the agreement whereby the tenants of 17 Goodman buildings in the inner city secured the right to devote 75 per cent of the profits from the buildings to improvements and remodeling. Eventually, they were to have the option of buying the buildings.

ORGANIZING 4 MONTHS

A long-time attacker of the city housing code, Lyles had been organizing the rent strike for four months before finally button-holing the contract. "I think it's unnecessary for a building to be so run down if the law enforcement authorities enforced the housing code properly," he said.

"Ultimately, my plan is to change the whole relationship of the landlord and the tenant," he added when the contract was finalized.

* * *

Lyles was standing near a window in his west side office late Saturday, when a single bullet pierced the glass and ripped him "shoulder to shoulder," a spokesman at the Detroit Homicide Bureau said. They had no clues yet to the assailant's identity, he said.

None Hurt as Bomb Hits Negro Church

BOWLING GREEN, Ky. (AP) —A rural Negro church was destroyed Sunday by what officials described as a four-stick dynamite bomb.

There were no injuries in the blast at the small frame Mt. Zion Baptist Church which is used about once a month. The blast was not reported until after noon, although officials said the explosion probably took place about 7 a.m.

*

Warren County Deputy Sheriff Charles Forshee and a state investigator were assigned to investigate the dynamiting, the sixth in the county in the past 18 months.

Forshee said Sunday that the dynamite apparently was stuffed into a beer can, put under the church, and ignited with a fuse.

Political Leader in Mississippi Is Dead at 88

MERIDIANA, Miss. (AP) — Ross Alexander Collins, a leader in Mississippi politics, died Sunday. He was 88.

Collins served eight years as state attorney general and spent 20 years as a congressman. He also made several unsuccessful bids for public office—one to regain his congressional seat, several for the senate and one for governor.

* * *

At one time, he headed the House Military Appropriations Committee and was an ally and defender of Gen. Billy Mitchell's belief in increased air power.

Lindsay Names Leader of School Boycotts to Board

NEW YORK (AP) — A Negro minister arrested nine times in protests against city school policies has been appointed to the board of education by Mayor John V. Lindsay.

The Rev. Milton A. Galamison, pastor of a Presbyterian church in Brooklyn, was among five men named to the board to raise its membership to 13 in accordance with a school decentralization plan passed by the final session of the 1968 legislature.

★ ★ ★

Galamison said the city's 1.1 million-pupil school system was in "very bad, almost indescribable shape" with most of the Negroes one to three years behind their grade levels.

The system is "hopelessly bogged down in red tape, rigidity and bureaucracy," Galamison said, adding, "If I cannot make this go, I intend to resign."

The other new appointees to the nonsalaried posts include the board's first Puerto Rican member and a Negro letter carrier who is vice president of the United Parents Associations. The new appointments brought to three the number of Negroes on the board.

In addition to Galamison, 45, Lindsay chose the following for staggered seven-year terms:

Hector Vazquez, executive director of the Puerto Rican Forum, a nonprofit organization that promotes educational and job opportunities.

★ ★ ★

Ernest R. Minott, the Bronx mail carrier.

William F. Haddad, chairman of the U.S. Research and Development Corp., a management concern.

INVESTMENT BANKER

Salim L. Lewis, a philanthropist who is senior partner in Bear, Stearns & Co., investment bankers.

In 1964, Galamison directed two massive boycotts of city schools and led other protests against alleged de facto segregation. Today he is appealing these convictions—one carrying a 30-day jail term—that stem from those activities.

In 1966, Galamison and 11 of his followers were arrested for occupying a board of education hearing room when they tried to set up a "rump" board with Galamison as president.

Last May he organized a one-day school boycott for greater community control of schools in Negro sections of Brooklyn.

TO FILL VACANCY

Four of Lindsay's appointments Sunday resulted from legislative decrees this year. Vasquez, the fifth, was named to fill a vacancy created in May by the retirement of Alfred A. Giardino, who was both a member and president of the board.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rose Shapiro, who succeeded Giardino as president, welcomed the new board members. She and vice president Aaron Brown, a Negro university professor, have agreed to resign their posts to give the new board a chance to elect its own officers.

Hospital Closes Its Maternity Ward

PENDLETON, Ore. (AP) — The Pendleton Community Hospital has closed its maternity ward because two married nurses are pregnant and three others are quitting for other reasons.

Al Cobbin, the hospital administrator, said the vacancies left the hospital without enough nurses to operate the ward.

Church Council Sifts Pleas for Bomb Halt

UPPSALA, Sweden (AP) — A resolution to be submitted this week to the fourth assembly of the World Council of Churches appeals to the United States for an unconditional halt in all bombing in both North and South Vietnam.

A drafting committee of the assembly section studying "peace and justice in world affairs" is working to synthesize five different drafts submitted to it. All called for a total halt in the U.S. bombing.

★ ★ ★

The final resolution is expected to welcome the Paris peace talks and urge that risks should be taken without waiting for guarantees to ensure the talks succeed.

The section has already approved a recommendation that official church support should be given to young men seeking to avoid service in such wars as Vietnam that offend their consciences.

HUMANE TREATMENT

In another report the World Council's Youth Department said it is the task of the churches to find alternatives to war service and to stand for humane treatment of conscientious objectors.

Calling for reappraisal and reorientation of the churches' work with youth, the report said: "Harm will be done if the churches judge a younger generation without, at the same time, blaming the adults for creating the environment in which the young people live."

★ ★ ★

The report noted that "many young people distrust basically all education and youth work methods because they seem not to allow young people to find identity and responsibility, but rather present them with an unreal choice—to accept or stay out, to conform or rebel."

It saw the involvement of youth in revolutionary action as evidence of their readiness, not only to question what exists, but to take responsibility. But it conceded that it was not easy to translate destructive conflict between the generations into productive tension.

'IT'S NOT ENOUGH'

"Protest is not enough," the report said. "It has to be evaluated, deepened and translated into a constructive contribution."

French Tourist Office Bomb Try Foiled in NY

NEW YORK (AP) — Police discovered and dismantled today a plastic explosive that had been tied to the door of the French government tourist office in Rockefeller Center.

Six foreign tourist and diplomatic offices in the city have been bombed since April 22.

★ ★ ★

A timing device was attached to the bomb, police said, but detectives did not know when it was set to explode.

The explosive, about six inches in diameter, weighed about one-half pound, detectives said, and was wrapped in a paper bag tied to the doorknob. It was discovered shortly before 3 a.m. by a patrolman.

BOMB DISMANTLED

Bomb squad detectives dismantled the detonator in a half hour.

The Spanish Tourist Office has been struck twice by explosives and the Canadian Consulate, the Japan National Tourist Office, the Mexican Consulate and the Cuban and Yugoslav Missions to the United Nations once each.

★ ★ ★

The French Government Tourist Office, at Fifth Avenue and 49th Street, is one block south of the Japanese Tourist Office and St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Sunday was Bastille Day, the anniversary of the French Revolution of 1789.

Romney Asks Moral Revival

ITHACA, N.Y. (AP) — Michigan Gov. George Romney says America will experience "what we see and deplore abroad" unless there is a "moral revival" at home.

★ ★ ★

The Republican governor and his wife, Lenore, addressed about 750 persons Sunday at a program sponsored by the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon).

★ ★ ★

Romney said it is imperative for Americans to dedicate themselves to religious convictions and ethical standards.

'VERY FRIGHTENING' — Dave Berman, a liquor store owner in a predominantly Negro section of Detroit, calls running a business without adequate insurance "very frightening." Here he holds notice of cancellation.

Ghetto Store Owners Feel Insurance Lack

DETROIT (AP) — Dave Berman reached under the counter of his beer and liquor store and pulled out a handful of canceled insurance policies.

"It's a very frightening way to stay in business," said the 54-year-old Berman, whose store is located in a predominantly Negro section of Detroit's West Side.

Berman and scores — possibly hundreds — of other Detroit shopkeepers have had their livelihoods threatened by loss of insurance since last summer's riot.

Michigan officials are currently investigating the cancellation of 318 policies by a London-based insurer, the Royal Globe Insurance Group.

4TH IN YEAR

Berman had another insurance policy canceled last week, his fourth cancellation since the riot nearly a year ago.

During last July's disturbance, rioters broke into and looted his store on West Warren, two miles west of 12th Street. He estimates they took more than $20,000 worth of beer, wine and liquor.

"My whole life's accumulation is in this store," he said. "I'm no youngster. I can't just walk out and get another job."

Berman, whose pale, lined face is topped by wavy gray hair, said that without insurance he would be afraid to continue running the attractive brick party store he built 16 years ago.

Berman displayed policies from Newark Insurance Co. and Hanover Insurance Co. covering $18,000 in contents in his store. Phoenix Insurance Co. ended a policy covering business interruption. Great Central Insurance Co. terminated a policy covering him for loss of up to $1,100 in cash through holdup or theft.

This month, Berman's insurance agent located a firm — the Jefferson Insurance Co. of New York — willing to cover $10,000 worth of his inventory, which he values at $23,000. The premiums on this policy are $800 a year.

The premiums on the same amount used to cost Berman $96 a year. "And you don't get the full coverage. It doesn't cover vandalism, and it has a $500 deductible clause," he says.

Some small businessmen unable to obtain insurance in riot areas have gone out of business.

Berman says the block where his store is located "used to be quite a shopping area for the neighborhood" with eight businesses. Five of the stores are now vacant.

* * *

"If insurance were available," says Berman, "a good majority of them would go back into business."

"I know of cases where people actually sleep in their stores where they cannot get insurance."

Berman says his store is expected to tally a gross income of $350,000 to $370,000 this year.

"Fortunately my volume will cover the increased insurance premiums," he said. His business is "better now than it was before the riot," mostly because three other liquor stores in the area were burned out and never reopened.

Rickover Rips 'Immature Officers, Dealings by Navy'

VICE ADMIRAL RICKOVER

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice Adm. Hyman G. Rickover says the U.S. Naval Academy is not producing the mature, confident and well-educated officers the modern Navy needs.

Rickover also says the Defense Department "is too much influenced by an industry viewpoint" in its dealings with defense contractors and their profits, "far from being too low as claimed," may be too high.

* * *

The deputy commander of the Navy's nuclear propulsion programs issued the broadsides at a closed House appropriations subcommittee hearing in May. His testimony was released today.

"Naval Academy midshipmen generally lack poise, self-confidence and maturity," Rickover said. "They give the appearance of having these qualities, but it is a superficial appearance with little depth."

TWO CATEGORIES

He said the most prevalent deficiencies he finds in interviews each year of many Naval Academy and Naval Reserve Officer Training midshipmen fall into the categories of insufficient academic preparation and immaturity.

Academy officials could not be reached for comment.

Rickover said he had been told by one member of the Class of 1967 that grades are the important thing at the academy and that "the instructors don't care too much if a midshipman learns the theory as long as he can pass the quizzes."

The admiral, a 1922 graduate of the academy, said he believes the general lack of poise, confidence and maturity "are caused by the idealistic but impractical attempts by the Naval Academy to include broad coverage of military training, professional and academic education, sports, etc., without giving anything up."

* * *

An emphasis on military indoctrination and training, he said, "is fostered by a strong professional military officer organization centered in the executive department" of the academy at Annapolis, Md.

"This conflicts," he said, "with achievement of proper academic education in fundamental concepts and theory."

FEW KEY CHANGES

Rickover said he was aware that steps have been taken to correct some of the deficiencies at the academy but expressed the belief that few significant changes have been made in the over-all training.

Rickover's criticism of the Naval Academy is not new. In recent years he accused the school of spending too much time on frills and not enough on teaching knowledge.

* * *

In similar testimony to a House appropriations subcommittee in 1966 he said the academy's greatest weakness, "the one that harms its students most, is the indoctrination which leads to an adolescent outlook."

As for defense contracts, he said in the testimony released today that contractors are able to "hide large profits in costs so that the government never really knows . . . how much profit a company actually makes . . . ."

PERSONNEL INTERCHANGE

Rickover said what he called an excessive interchange of personnel between government and industry has led to some cases where government contract officials deal with their former companies and vice versa.

"Substantial amounts of technical information regarding this country's military capabilities," Rickover said, "are being given away through advertising of government contractors," much of it at government expense.

Death Is Probed

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — Police today continued probing the fatal shooting of Burl Johnson, a 20-year-old Battle Creek gasoline station attendant. Another attendant at the station, Sam Ripoli, 18, said a man stood on a nearby corner Saturday night and fired a volley of shots at both attendants. Ripoli was not hit. A 25-caliber bullet slug was found at the scene.

Steel Output Slows; Talks Hit Key Stage

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The 70-year-old No. 4 furnace at the historic Homestead Works comes off the line today as steel production slows down.

About 125 men will be laid off as the open-hearth furnace is closed down after being pressed into service to meet the record-breaking demands for steel in the first half of the year.

* * *

Meanwhile, negotiators for the United Steelworkers Union and the nation's 11 largest steel companies return to the bargaining table to try to turn out a new labor contract before the Aug. 1 deadline.

This will be the first big week of decision for the union. Two important committees meet Tuesday to review the status of the negotiations, and a strike vote could be called.

'DAY OF RECKONING'

The top-level union team discussing the economic package has set Friday as a "day of reckoning" to sit back and see where it stands.

The industry has drawn a line at 6 per cent, arguing that any settlement costing that much more a year would wipe out two-thirds of the industry's profits and put some companies out of business. The union is under pressure to hit 6 per cent, the pattern set in the auto, can and aluminum industries.

* * *

Industry sources said they believed that small cutbacks were being made across the country as steel demand turned soft in the face of huge stockpiles of steel.

But the only confirmed cutback was at Homestead, where 76 years ago this month the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers fought a bloody and unsuccessful battle to win a strike.

IN INVENTORY

When the contract for the nation's 450,000 steelworkers expires, consumers are expected to have 36 million tons of steel. That's almost half of the 73.5 million tons produced in the first six months of the year.

About 14 million tons of the total will be in inventory ready for use in case there is a strike. The old record for six months' production was 70.6 million, set in 1965, the last contract year.

* * *

It is possible that some figures on economic proposals may leak out this week. Some local union officials have been grumbling that the news blackout to reporters is also blacking them out.

"How am I going to take care of my men if I don't know what's going on?" said the president of one local in the Pittsburgh area.

Radiophotos Cheer Sailors Near South Pole

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Three ham radio operators have found a way to cheer Navy men stationed near the South Pole. They're sending sailors radiophotos of their families.

Says one of the three, Earl Darnell: "It was a high point in my life to be able to get any kind of a picture down there. It's been a great morale booster for the men and a lot of fun for us."

* * *

After six months of experimenting with commercial gear and borrowed Navy equipment, the three made their first good transmission last month. Now they're sending new pictures at every opportunity.

The base at Antarctica's McMurdo Sound, where 700 men are participating in Operation Deep Freeze, receives the pictures on its weather map facsimile machine.

'TICKLED TO DEATH'

Ralph Sternberg, another of the trio, says: "The communications officer tells us that the men are tickled to death, and say keep the pictures coming."

Navy men here obtain the pictures and give them to the hams for transmission.

* * *

Sternberg, a Long Beach businessman and ham operator for 20 years, got the idea after reading that hams in Syracuse, N.Y., had sent pictures of home town newspapers to the base in 1958 on equipment supplied by the Navy.

He discussed it with Darnell, camera equipment dealer in nearby Bellflower, who had a facsimile transmitter and had found no use for it. Helped by Ellis Wampler, coordinator of engineering at nearby Compton College, they began experimenting.

INTERFERENCE

"We could make short distance transmissions," Wampler said, "but we got too much interference on long distances."

They called the Navy base here, which provided a war surplus converter and a technician to install it.

They also received from the Federal Communications Commission permission to use the frequency of the military affiliate radio service.

Now the hams are going to try sending front pages of home town papers, too — plus shots of beauty queens in swimsuits.

"We want those boys to get some cheesecake along with the staples," says Sternberg.

Space Fund Task

PARIS (AP) — Belgium's minister of science, Theo Lefevre, has been delegated to try raising $49 million in West European capitals for a joint space program through 1971 that could put up a communications satellite to serve television during the 1972 Munich Olympics.

Tides are caused by the gravitational pull of the sun and moon upon the water. The moon, being so much closer, is the principal cause of the tides.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain
Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles In Most Cases

(Advertisement)

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science discovered a medication with the ability, in most cases — to actually shrink hemorrhoids and promptly stop the burning itch and relieve pain.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, very striking improvement was reported and verified by doctors' observations. Pain and itching were promptly relieved. Then this medication starts right in to gently reduce the swelling of inflamed, irritated piles.

Tests conducted on hundreds of patients by leading doctors in New York City, in Washington, D.C. and at a Midwest Medical Center proved this so. And it was all done without narcotics or stinging astringents of any kind.

The secret is Preparation H® — an exclusive formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids. There is no other formula like it! Preparation H also lubricates to make bowel movements less painful, it soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. Preparation H comes in both ointment or suppository form. No prescription is needed.

Candidate Appeals Should Shun Racism

By WHITNEY M. YOUNG JR.
Executive Director, National Urban League

This November's election could be the most important one this nation has faced in many years. I can't recall an election year in which the electorate has been so divided or concerned with so many crises.

YOUNG

Racial tensions, the war in Vietnam, the student rebellion, and political assassinations have divided and embittered the nation. It is vitally important for all candidates to realize that this year of crisis demands intelligent discussion of the issues and a refusal to deepen our divisions with appeals to the backlash vote.

* * *

Recent elections have resulted in defeats for candidates who played upon anti-Negro prejudices. But there is still a danger that race may become a factor in the campaign through subtle appeals to backlashers.

This may be done through what I call the "code of racism" which consists of taking seemingly innocent phrases and cliches and giving them an anti-Negro meaning.

Since I first wrote about the way "crime in the streets" or "neighborhood schools" have become misused for these purposes, I've received many letters of protest from people who insist that the terms themselves have no racial connotations.

NOT ALL BIGOTS

I know that everyone who uses the term "crime in the streets" isn't a bigot. In fact, crime is one of the biggest problems faced by the ghetto. Every time a survey is taken in the ghetto, better police protection comes out at the top of the list of concerns.

But my concern is with the way candidates use terms like "crime in the streets." Instead of saying that crime is a problem and that the answer to the problem is more and better trained policemen, as well as eradication of the poverty which breeds crime, they take off in wild-swinging attacks on the Supreme Court.

* * *

Now, how can people who supposedly revere "law and order" hope to foster respect for the law when they strongly attack the highest court in the land?

The bulk of decent citizens take terms like "crime in the streets" and "law and order" at face value. But a large minority associate these terms with racial tensions.

NARCOTICS PROBLEM

They hear "crime in the streets" and they think of Negro hoodlums, ignoring the fact that most urban crimes are related to the narcotics problem. Addicts rob and mug people to get money for dope — and they get the dope from the white-run syndicate.

Similarly, "law and order" is associated in many people's minds with civil rights demonstrations and civil disobedience. But they ignore the fact that "law and order" is incomplete without justice. The demonstrations take place because justice is not real for the poor and the oppressed.

* * *

So candidates have to be conscious of the way they use these generally accepted terms, for they are weighted with significance in racially tense communities.

'Droplets Too Big'

Pesticide 'Overkill' Seen

By Science Service

Effective crop spraying may be possible with as little as 2 per cent of the presently used amounts of pesticide, by eliminating the large droplets from aerosol sprays, reports Dr. Chester M. Himel of the University of Gerogia at Athens.

By mixing fluorescent tracer in droplets of 50 microns or particles with pesticides, Dr. Himel has been able to measure the number and size of droplets hitting individual insects.

* * *

The usual aerosol, he says, contains drops of from one to 500 microns (millionths of a meter) in diameter. Most of the spray volume is expended in the larger droplets, but only the small ones get through the foliage to kill the insects.

Dr. Himel is now working to design an aerosol that concentrates most of the pesticide in droplets smaller. "Only 5 per cent of the amount now used, of properly applied would do a vastly better job," he says, adding that as little as 2 per cent may be effective.

Summer 'Do' at VWC Is Now Only Happy Memory

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

It was a festive party at the Village Woman's Club Saturday evening. Their only summer party — outdoor barbecue dinner and dance — was a huge success.

Capacity reservations were filled early; the weather was perfect and the tables with green table cloths and hurricane lamps decorated with daisies made a most attractive setting.

Mr. and Mrs. Judge W. Bearden were chairmen, together with the Kenneth R. Dickinsons as cochairmen.

The Beardens had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank Misch, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Moons, the Hubert Pattersons, Mr. and Mrs. Holland Weir and Dr. and Mrs. Donald Kaump.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Diehl, Jr. were also at the dinner dance. The Diehl family is dividing their time between their home here and their home at Lake Angelus where the young people especially enjoy swimming and sailing.

Julie who is interested in the arts will be attending Pratt's in New York this fall; Lloyd III is presently busy with his driver's training; Cynthia is having a fascinating experience working on the presidential convention in Washington; and Meg and her friends are taking advantage of every sport available this summer.

Mrs. Carson E. Dalton returned from a quick visit with her son Carson and his family in Caro, Ill., bringing with her granddaughter Cynthia.

Today (Monday) Mrs. Dalton and Cynthia meet another granddaughter from Summit, N. J., Linda Ruth Youngman who will be spending a week here. Later Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Youngman, will visit here and all will make a trip West.

Mrs. Ata Berker has returned home after six weeks of travel with her father, Boris Hagelin. They visited Switzerland where Mr. Hagelin resides part of the year, Greece, Austria and Sweden.

MRS. RALPH J. WINTER

Ginger Dodge Weds Ralph Winter

Newlyweds, the Ralph James Winters (nee Ginger Joyce Dodge) departed for a honeymoon trip to the Hawaiian Islands following a reception at the Gingellville Community Center Saturday evening.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Dodge of Hiram Street, Orion Township and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Winter of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, were wed earlier that evening in United Methodist Church of Lake Orion.

For the exchange of vows by candlelight, the bride chose a Bianchi gown of ivory peau de soie with matching chapel length train fastened at the shoulders.

Alencon lace, frosted with seed pearls, accented the Empire bodice.

To secure her illusion veil, she wore a Bianchi pillbox of matching lace. White gardenias with Stephanotis comprised the bride's bouquet.

Honor attendants were the bride's sister, Louise, and Carl N. Hartkoff of St. Louis, Mo. Michele Dingman and Kenneth Strzelecki attended as flower girl and ring bearer.

Other members of the wedding party were Mrs. Earnest Smith, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, Jacquelynn Vallad, Charles Cronick, Frank Lamping and Kent Carpenter.

Boyfriend's Game Is Blackmail

Inform 'Nice Guy' Affair Is Over

By ABAGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am caught in a terrible web and live in constant fear. Please help me.

I have been married for five years and just a housewife. Recently I started working to supplement our income. I met this nice guy at work and we became attracted to each other. One thing led to another, and we would stop for a drink after work. Then I started going to his place on my day off.

ABBY

Now I want to break off with him.

When I told him I wanted to stop this affair he said he wouldn't let me, and if I didn't continue to see him he would tell my husband everything. What am I going to do? He is single. He has nothing to lose, and I have everything to lose. DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: The name of that game is BLACKMAIL. Tell this "nice guy" that the affair is over, and if he wants to tell your husband, to go ahead and tell him. The chances are, he won't, because an admission of this kind will invite trouble for himself.

But if he does, prepare to get on your knees and ask your husband to forgive you. It won't be easy, but it's better than living in constant fear.

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and plan to marry a man who is 24. His mother died when he was a baby, and his older sister raised him. They have always been very close, and she is like a mother to him.

My problem is this: For our wedding gift, his sister gave us all our linen, blankets, and bedspreads. I thought this was very nice of her, but Abby, they were for TWIN BEDS, and we hadn't planned on having twin beds.

When we told her, she looked hurt, but she took them back to exchange. Don't most newlyweds have a double bed? And if so, why would his sister assume that we were going to have twin beds? GETTING MARRIED

DEAR GETTING: You say that she has always been "very close" to her brother. Perhaps unconsciously she doesn't want to accept the fact that someone else will be even closer to him. In any case, she should have asked first.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I am a teen-ager and I am writing this letter because I have something to say. I love to "take trips" to find my real self. I don't use drugs or LSD, but what I use is just as effective.

When I feel low or disgusted with something or somebody I "take a trip" by going to some quiet secluded spot. (I live on a farm, so I use the pastures.) I just lie down and think about people and what I can do for them, and how I have behaved toward them.

The "drug" I use is fresh air. I inhale as deeply as I can and all at once the world seems so much brighter. Then I remind myself to smile more often because when I smile I find that people smile back to me.

Before I started taking these "trips" I was a very small and selfish person. I thought only of myself. Now I think of others. Maybe if a few hippies would try this new "drug" they would learn to love the world better, and wouldn't want to escape from it. Sincerely yours,

KARYN EK, WEST LINN, ORE.

French Designers Take Note

Fashion World Nods at Rome

By PATRICK E. O'KEEFE
Associated Press Writer

ROME—French haute couture houses had better play heed to the new trumpet call of the fashion world: The Italians are coming:

At their fall-winter showing in Rome today, Italian houses seek the acclaim from buyers and critics that could make them the pacesetters in style, design and hem length.

The Italians have gained in reputation each season. In addition to their expert sewing and fine sense of beauty, they have shown the knack for the dressy little gimmick that will catch the critics' eyes and give the ready-to-wear people something to copy quickly.

★ ★ ★

The colors the Italians seem agreed upon this year are the muted shades of gray, navy, dark green and brown, with a prominent exception — a bright zany red.

Up and coming among the newer Italian houses are Andre Laug and Sanlorenzo.

Laug spent four years designing for Antonelli and now has his own white-walled, brown-carpeted salon in Piazza di Spagna, a very right location. His collection this year has the sharp, constructive lines he loves, with no needless frills.

At Sanlorenzo is a young fashion wizard named Gian Battista Vannozzi who is back in Italy after several seasons with Irene Galitzine in Paris.

With the rise in the Italians' fashion stock came a rise in the fees that store buyers pay to see the collections. In some cases the fees have more than doubled.

Bridesmaids were JoAnn H. Cudnohufsky and Syble Morris, the couples' sisters. David Austermann and James Chittick served as ushers.

The news of several citations for their group was announced at Friday's meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to David Belisle post No. 1008, Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Box Ends Hunt for Earring Pairs

To prevent having to hunt for matching earrings, place the bottom of a small box in the dresser drawer and clamp the earrings in pairs around the edge of it. This keeps them together and within sight.

The center of the box may be lined with cotton. Place on it the odd pieces of jewelry that accumulates.

Area Couple Repeats Vows on Saturday

Case No. G-502

Need for Importance

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE G-502: Charlotte B., aged 16, is a high school junior.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "why do so many high school boys take a special delight in drinking beer?

"They also seem to think it makes us girls admire them more when they smoke and use profanity.

DR. CRANE

"At luncheon last month, one of my classmates was thus boasting about how he got 'tight' and passed out at a party.

"He actually dramatized that stupid act as if he thought we girls should be favorably impressed!

"And a lot of the boys deliberately race their cars far beyond the speed limit, as if they think we girls will then regard them as 'he-men.'

"Dr. Crane, what is wrong with so many teen-age boys nowadays that they adopt such juvenile behavior, yet seem to think they will appear as big, sophisticated he-men by doing so? Are they inwardly afraid?"

CONFUSION

Girls, it is the "show-off" male of the peacock species that fans out his colorful plumage in an attempt to impress the peahens!

And that same desire to act like a big shot is just as typical of human males.

"I WANT TO FEEL IMPORTANT" is thus the tatto indelibly impressed on the chest of everybody, girls as well as boys.

But boys, like the peacock, have a double dose of this desire to strut!

However, to rate legitimate fame, either on the athletic field or as a scholar and scientist, requires hard work and often many years of diligent study.

But teen-age boys figure "We haven't the time to wait for deserved fame."

So they choose the quick route called "Notoriety."

For anybody can gain quick attention merely by stepping out of line and thus violating society's sensible rules and regulations.

It's figure-watching time!

How's your figure?

■ It's figure-watching time! How do you measure up? A little on the "slippy" side? Waistline, tummy and thighs need the control of a tight girdle to stay in line? Take heart. There is a way. It's Relax-A-cizor!

■ It's effortless! You use your Relax-A-cizor to reduce the size of hips, waistline, abdomen and thighs while you REST . . . at home! Not a whit of wearisome work!

■ No weight loss! Relax-A-cizor is different! Here's how it works. Many women lack good muscle tone because they don't get enough exercise. Relax-A-cizor gives effortless, concentrated exercise to such figure areas as hips, waistline, abdomen and thighs. Regular use causes these areas to reduce in size measurably to the extent these muscles lack tone because of insufficient exercise. And the less the muscle tone the greater the degree of size reduction.

Kostelanetz Disappoints, Says Concert Reviewer

By BERNICE ROSENTHAL

Andre Kostelanetz was guest conductor last weekend with the Detroit Symphony Orchestra at Meadow Brook. Featured as soloist at the Saturday and Sunday evening performances was Judith Raskin, soprano.

Neither the conductor nor the soloist offered anything by way of inspiration or artistic performance. The most that could be said was that the orchestra's permanent conductor, Sixten Ehrling, was sorely missed.

Benjamin Britten's "Sioroes Musicales", which opened the concert, is a charming derivative from Rossini, which the composer used, tongue-in-cheek, to burlesque the light-hearted sentimental music so popular for ballet accompaniment.

Its sugary sweet, exaggerated ironic mood was lost on Mr. Kostelanetz, who Played it as gravely as an exercize and as mechanically as a metronome.

* * *

The same composer's "Les Illiminations", for high voice and string orchestra, a truly spiritual cycle of ten songs, was done with a heavy hand, with overtoning of Miss Raskin's light voice.

The soprano had done a devoted task of earning the difficult music very thoroughly, but there was a telling strain on her voice from the demands of the cycle, and the extremes of vocal range, which produced some harsh tones and considerable vibrato.

Her diction and phrasing were excellent, but the total effect was one of a long, hard pull, with little evidence of her being comfortable or at ease with the music.

Tschaikowsky's Fifth Symphony made up the second half of the program. One might have expected, with such a familiar standard work, that Mr. Kostelanetz would have produced a commendable performance.

The Detroit Symphony Orchestra is a top-notch, well-disciplined organization which has always adapted beautifully to guest conductors. For example, its performances last summer with Charles Munsch, under very trying circumstances, were cohesive, artistic and inspring.

* * *

Yet is was difficult to ascertain Saturday evening if Mr. Kostelanetz was directing the orchestra or the orchestra was directing Mr. Kostelanetz.

Melodic themes became submerged in loud accompaniments; the slow sections dragged out and lost continuity; the fast movements clicked off helter-skelter with scarcely finished phrases hanging in mid-air.

* * *

The familiar second movement was the best of the symphony with Arthur Krehbiel's soulful French Horn Solo the high point of the evening.

The engagement is announced of Marsha Louise Kluwe and Michael Lee McReynalds. The bride elect, a sophomore at Central Michigan University, is the daughter of the junior George R. Kluwes of Old Salem Road, Pontiac Township. Her Fiance, a Corporal in the United States Army, is the son of the George McReynalds of Midvale Street, Pontiac Township. He is stationed at Ft. Benning, Ga.

Flying Bug Bites Three in Family

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP) — In the five years since he obtained his pilot's license, Robert Connell has flown 225,000 miles, using his plane in his job as a traveling salesman like others use a car.

During that time, he has owned four airplanes, which he has used to cover his sales territory in western New York and a section of northern Pennsylvania. As a sales representative for the American Hospital Supply Corp., he spends far less time in actual travel than do most salesmen.

* * *

A round-trip of 500 miles to the home office in New Jersey requires three hours flying time and Connell can transact his business and return the same day.

* * *

Connell's son, Paul, a 20-year-old sophomore at Northwestern University, soloed on his 16th birthday. He now has both a private and commercial pilot's license, as well as a flight instructor's rating, and teaches flying. Mrs. Connell has also been bitten by the flying bug and is a student pilot.

Why Grow Old?

By Josephine Lowman

Before you find your place in the sun this summer, you would be wise to give thought to the correct sun tanning technique. This will assure you a lovely tan and may save you from a lot of discomfort.

First, it is a good idea to understand that you cannot get a good sun tan too fast. You cannot hurry it! If you try to do so you may get a painful sunburn and you will not have a beautiful sun tan.

You will end up blistering and peeling, with that speckled look. You defeat your own purpose if you try to rush it.

Exposure to the sun's rays zooms the production of melanin (the skin's coloring pigment). This moves to the outer layer of your skin and you have started on your way to a tan. However, you must wait until the skin has thickened and enough melanin has been produced to protect you or you will just burn.

* * *

How long can you remain in the sun's rays at one time without burning? How long will it take you to get a good sun tan? This depends on many factors. Among them are the atmospheric conditions, the time of year, the time of day and the kind of complexion you have.

People with a very fair skin, blondes, redheads and those who freckle or have blue eyes, can stand less sun than those who have an olive skin, brown eyes and dark hair. Those with a dark skin can get a sunburn, too, but it is much less likely.

Remember that the sun's rays are stronger in the summer than in spring or fall. Also, the time of day makes a difference. If you have to take special precautions because of your coloring, or if you are just beginning to suntan, it is best to expose yourself to the sun earlier in the morning or later in the afternoon, not during the midday hours.

* * *

Many folks are fooled by a hazy day or a partially cloudy sky. You can get a very bad burn at such times because of glare. Remember, too, that water can reflect from 10 per cent to 100 per cent of the sun's burning rays, depending on the angle of the sun. Take great care when on the water.

* * *

The average person should spend no more than 15 minutes in the midday summer sun the first day. Increase the time by 10 minutes the next day and gradually increase until you have the tan you long for.

Do not remain in the sun until you become pink. It takes redness from 10 to 24 hours to reach its peak, AFTER you leave the sun.

Spin Test Eggs

To tell whether an egg is cooked or not, take an uncooked one and spin it. It turns slowly. Then try the eggs you're not sure about. The cooked ones spin much more rapidly than uncooked ones.

Divide Those Financial Responsibilities

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Mary Feeley:

Some of our friends are already having money troubles, even though they have only been married a year or two. It couldn't really be due to lack of money, since some of the couples have two incomes — and I'd guess more money than they ever had before! They just seem to get into a muddle over bills.

MARY FEELEY

My husband and I want to start off right. You've said in your column that if couples divide the responsibility, they can keep track of spending more accurately. So will you tell us what the husband should pay for, and what expenses the wife should take care of? My husband is the breadwinner and I'm to have a certain amount each month and my own checking account.

B. E. M., Seattle, Wash.

* * *

Dear B. E. M.:

There are no hard and fast rules to bind you. But the average pattern of family expenses suggest that His list include:

Housing (mortgage payments or rent); utilities; insurance; doctor and dentist bills; education expenses (these may come later); car payments and operation; his own personal running money; his clothing; outside entertainment; major savings account.

On Her list, put these:

Food; her clothing (and children's, if and when), her personal allowance; gifts; church and other donations; running money for errands; cleaning bills; home entertainment; household operating expenses; additional savings accounts such as Christmas Club or Vacation Club.

Let me warn you that the area in which family fights most easily ignite is "household operating expenses." It sounds so minor. But just start enumerating the items — laundry supplies, cleaning supplies, small household replacements, such as china and glassware, kitchen utensils, sheets and pillow cases, towels, curtains; occasional repair bills, etc. So, come to an agreement on this budget category before your share of the paycheck is established.

* * *

Usually, major purchases for the home in the way of furniture and equipment come out of the couple's major savings account, which can be a joint account.

Good luck to you both, and whatever you squabble about, don't let it be money.

Dear Miss Feeley:

My auditor tells me one thing, but I've heard from another reliable source quite another version. Pertaining to gift tax, my auditor says that $30,000 is a gift that can be given and then $3,000 a year can be given for any number of years to any one person or more persons.

The other source says that only $3,000 per year can be given per person until $30,000 can be used up. Which is correct?

E. D. Chauncy, Dalton, Ill.

Dear E. D.:

Your auditor is explaining the Gift Taxation correctly. Each year there is a $3,000 exclusion to any one or more persons, and in addition there is a lifetime specific exemption of $30,000.

Dear Mary Feeley:

My brother-in-law is coming to live with us, and as part of the financial arrangement he says he will pay for the mortgage every month. Since he will keep the receipts, he says, he will be able to deduct the interest on these payments on his income tax every year.

* * *

Is this true? The home is in my husband's name.

Mrs. V. F., Brooklyn, N.Y.

* * *

Dear Mrs. F.:

No, your brother-in-law won't be entitled to any tax deductions even though he makes the payments and lives in the house. Legally, it's still your husband's property — and only he can claim any tax benefit.

Door Turns Into a Shelf

BENTON HARBOR, Mich. — Whirlpool Corporation, a leading manufacturer of a full line of major home appliances, has just introduced a new innovation in a dryer door . . . a two-way door.

The full-width door pulls down to form a shelf for loading and swings to the side for easy access to the inside of the dryer for unloading.

* * *

Also new to the Whirlpool dryers is an electronic sensor that sensors the tumbling garments 60 times every second and automatically shuts off the dryer when the clothes are dry enough. It is adjustable so that the user may select the dryness desired.

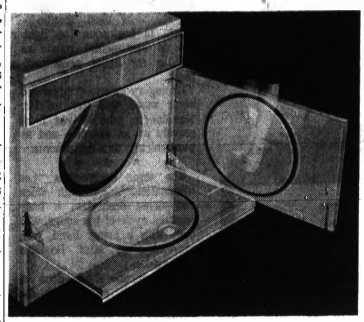

CAN BE TIMED

The unique part about Whirlpool's electronic sensor control is that it allows the homemaker to also use a time control.

Time drying is important in using tumble press, a feature that removes wrinkles from permanent press garments that have been used a short period of time or stored but not soiled enough to require laundering.

The timed dryer is also used with the drying rack which permits drying without tumbling. The drying rack is ideal for canvas shoes, sweaters and any other garments that the user does not wish to have tumbled.

These modern Whirlpool dryers are available in gas and electric.

Use Cloth Sacks to Make Spreads

If you are lucky enough to get your garden fertilizer in cloth sacks, convert them into an attractive bedspread at practically no cost at all.

First, rip the sacks apart and remove all the printed letters from them. Then cut into squares about 13 by 13 inches. Pull threads on all four sides of the cut square to make a one-inch fringe.

★ ★ ★

Then sew the squares together inside the fringe, sewing it in a way that the fringe is on top. When finished this makes a smart looking spread. It may be either left white or dyed any color that you like.

Resident Is Feted for Longest Stay

WILMAR, Minn. (AP) — The town where she holds the record for maintaining the longest continuous residence — 88 years — honored Mrs. A. W. Gilman at her 90th birthday party, held at St. Luke's Episcopal Church. She came here with her parents at the age of two from their native Denmark.

★ ★ ★

"I don't go dancing any more," she chuckled when asked to what she attributed her long life. Once winner of a local dancing contest, her opinion of modern dancing is low: "I don't even call it dancing. They just stand in front of each other and hop!"

Celebrating their golden wedding anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Willis R. Keasey of North Perry Street were honored at a buffet dinner Saturday at Northland Inn. The party was hosted by their daughters and sons-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mardis R. (Janet) Warner of Bangor, Me., and Mr. and Mrs. Marshall (Barbara) Hibbard of Ferndale. The Keaseys were wed in Birmingham May 25, 1918, and have lived in Pontiac throughout their marriage. They have six grandchildren.

Vietnam Soldier Called for Jury

JUNCTION CITY, Kan. (AP) — Edward Verbeke, clerk of the Geary County District Court, has rejected an offer from Mrs. Doris Caldwell of Junction City. Mrs. Caldwell offered to have her husband report for jury duty when his name was drawn from a special panel of jurors ordered to report to hear a second-degree burglary trial.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Caldwell said she would produce her husband if the county would make arrangements and pay transportation costs. Her husband is Sgt. Howard Caldwell and is with the U.S. Army in Vietnam.

House Critic of War Foes Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., an outspoken critic of Vietnam war protesters and resistance to the draft, collapsed and died at the Houston airport Sunday after being stricken with an apparent heart attack. He was 57.

* * *

Pool was a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities and had advocated 20-year jail terms for those who blocked troop train or sent blood and supplies to the Viet Cong.

The Dallas congressman was pronounced dead shortly after 6 p.m. Sunday at Southeast Memorial Baptist Hospital in Houston.

"From all appearances, the man died of a heart attack," said a spokesman at the Harris County medical examiner's office.

Pool, a strong supporter of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, had often said he would vote for a declaration of war against North Vietnam.

He was first elected to Congress in 1962.

Pilot Is State Man

Plane Hunted in West

HELENA, Mont. (UPI) — A full-scale search was to begin early today for a light plane, with five persons aboard, missing on a flight between Seattle, Wash., and the Helena Airport.

The pilot was identified as Garland Reynolds, Berrien Springs, Mich. The names of the four passengers were not immediately known.

Authorities said the single-engine Bonanza was due at Helena at 2 p.m. Sunday. The last contact was earlier, when Reynolds radioed the Spokane, Wash., airport concerning weather conditions at Mullan Pass on the Montana-Idaho border.

Reynolds' flight plans indicated he would have been out of fuel a half-hour after being due at Helena, according to Montana Aeronautics Commission Director Jack Wilson.

WATCH FOR PLANE

Aircraft along the route were notified to watch for the red and white plane.

Wilson said the route — Seattle to Spokane to Mullan Pass to Missoula to Helena — is not difficult. He said the mountains are not high and the weather has been good, and it's well-traveled. He said there were fairly strong winds aloft, but "The tubulence wasn't enough to bother anyone."

Because of the high tail winds, Wilson also directed that the search be extended east of Helena.

Oswald: "Some bridge players like to fight against windmills. Because there is a bonus for making a game, they bid game on hands that should play at a low and safe part score."

JACOBY

Jim: "Some bridge writers encourage some of these unsound game bids. Take a look at the North hand as an example. North has eight points and 4-3-3-3 distribution. Eight plus 18 is 26.

★ ★ ★

"If South has a full 18 points for his no-trump opening the hand should play in three no-trump, if he has 16 or 17 it shouldn't but books recommend a raise with this North hand."

★ ★ ★

Oswald: "Not our books. We don't want to be in two no-trump if our partner has only 16. We are too likely to go down. We aren't even too happy about getting to game if he has 18. Twenty-six points don't always produce a game and North has no 10 spot and this very poor 4-3-3-3 distribution."

Jim: "When the hand was played South had some chance to make his three no-trump. A heart was opened and the defense collected four quick heart tricks and then shifted to a club."

★ ★ ★

Oswald: "South won the club and went after spades. When the jack dropped he had four spade tricks. That meant all he needed was a diamond finesse but the diamond finesse failed, as did the play for game and rubber."

Jim: "We might add that we do recommend action opposite partner's opening no-trump with eight high card points plus extra values, such as a couple of 10 spots or a five-card suit. But with a really flat hand, such as North did hold, the best procedure is to stop at one and try for the small, sure profit."

What do you do now?

A—Bid four no-trump. You are going to seven if your partner shows three aces and to six if he shows two.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding three diamonds your partner jumps to three no-trump over your two heart call. What do you do now?

Junior Editors Quiz on MANDRILLS

QUESTION: Where is the mandrill found and what are its colors?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: The animals parading across the top and bottom of our picture are baboons—a special kind of monkey that lives mostly on the ground and has a head with a long muzzzle, somewhat resembling a dog.

Baboons are feared by other animals, since they have sharp teeth and quarrelsome dispositions.

The mandrill is a kind of baboon that carries the baboon nature to an extreme. It is large in size, with a particularly surly and ferocious temperament. The mandrill's pig-like eyes, set close together under jutting eyebrows, seem to signal "Hands off!"

This effect is heightened by the extraordinary coloring of the mandrill face: the long nose and nostrils are bright pinkish red and the cheeks on either side are brilliant blue, making a most startling contrast. There also are patches of bright red on other parts of this strange baboon's body.

Such coloring is particularly vivid in the cast of old males, who boss the herds around. Perhaps the colors serve to scare the other males away. Mandrills live in West Africa, especially in Guinea.

Iowa Third Graders Get First Taste of Color Discrimination

RICEVILLE, Iowa (AP) — A rural third-grade teacher who gave her pupils their first lesson in discrimination said the results were "absolutely frightening."

"I was sick. I was simply dumbfounded," said Mrs. Darald Elliott, 34. "We had all the problems you hear about being connected with intolerance and prejudice."

★ ★ ★

But she said the children benefited from the experience, and she plans similar lessons in the future.

To make the white youngsters in this northeast Iowa community aware of color discrimination, Mrs. Elliott divided the class into two groups — those with blue eyes and those with brown.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGES

She gave the brown-eyed children special privileges during a Friday "Discrimination Day." The following Monday the blue-eyed youngsters were given the superior role.

Though they knew it was just a lesson, she said the "inferior" group reacted with real anger, frustration and despair while their "superior" classmates lorded it over them.

★ ★ ★

"The people with blue eyes could not do the things the people with brown eyes did," one youngster wrote of the first day. "I felt left out because I have blue eyes. I felt like giving them all black eyes."

From another: "I felt like slapping a brown-eyed person. It made me mad. Then I felt like kicking a brown-eyed person. I felt like quitting school.

EXTRA RECESS TIME

"The brown-eyed people got five extra minutes of recess."

He added: "I would not like to be angry all my life."

Pupils' grades suffered when they were in the less-favored position. "I didn't want to work. I didn't feel like I was very big," noted one boy.

★ ★ ★

But he and the others perked up during their privileged day. "On Monday I was happy because we discriminated against the brown-eyed people and I felt smarter and gooder and cleaner than the brown-eyed people."

Mrs. Elliott said the children reacted that way "without exception."

"I think these children walked in a colored child's moccasins for a day," noted the teacher, herself a white native of Riceville, which has no Negroes in its 1,000 population. "They wouldn't want to do it again. They wouldn't want to make it as difficult for him to walk in those moccasins again."

The instructor conducted the lesson shortly after the assassination of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr.

Up until the lessons, she said the children's only impression of colored people was "burn baby burn and what they saw on television."

Elephants Can't Carry Their Weight—Vietnam Project Fizzles

TRA BONG, Vietnam (AP) — The massive undertaking of airlifting two elephants to help a remote Montagnard village has become Operation Fizzle.

* * *

The project, which involved all branches of the armed forces and cost thousands of dollars, is likely to be abandoned.

* * *

The two elephants, called Bonnie and Clyde by the Special Forces men who were responsible for the operation, are now eating every banana tree in sight. The supply in this pleasant village is nearly exhausted.

* * *

What really angers everyone is the failure of the elephants to do their job. They were brought in to haul logs to a sawmill that had been set up by a Portland, Ore., company, International Enterprises of America Inc., in connection with the Agency for International Development.

NOT AT FAULT

It's not really the fault of Connie and Clyde. Just 6 feet 3 high, they aren't big enough to pull heavy logs along the steep and narrow jungle trails.

* * *

Meantime the Montagnard tribesmen, who do most of the work and have a historical dislike for Vietnamese, have also grown resentful about the mill project, as a result, production has creaked to a halt.

The Special Forces team in the area is fed up with the entire project. The final indignity came when Bonnie and Clyde got upset stomachs.

* * *

Sgt. Joel Johnson of Park Ridge, Ill., cooked up a concoction of about two pints of kapectate and a fistful of pills wrapped in a choice banana leaf for each elephant.

* * *

Asked about the future of the elephants in the disgruntled village, Johnson said, "Would you believe elephant steaks?"

THEY ONLY EAT

Even the loyal Montagnards want nothing more to do with Bonnie and Clyde. Said one through an interpreter, "The trees are way over there, on those mountains. The mill is here. It takes nearly a month to get the big logs here. It is too long, and those elephants are too small. They cannot work. They only eat."

Several men in the Special Forces camp believe the entire project was hastily executed with little planning and became carried away with the publicity.

* * *

"It was dreamed up by somebody up in Pleiku who hadn't been out here and hadn't studied the situation. It shouldn't have been allowed," said one Green Beret.

Bonnie and Clyde were originally bought by the Special Forces for about $500 each. The plan was to bring them to this remote but beautiful valley, to drag the logs to the newly built sawmill and provide the people with an industry. I would attract new business, was Western technology in action and would, of course, become a bulwark against Communist influence.

Thus, on April 1 — a date that many looked upon askance — Bonnie and Clyde were brought to Tra Bong. Special drugs to knock the two out were flown in from England. Special rigging and platforms had to be built. Planes had to be brought in for an airlift.

When the groggy pair eventually revived in their new home, a specially selected villager began the long process of training the elephants. The soldier-turned-mahout worked diligently teaching them to back up, lie down, and pull. Special harnesses were prepared for them.

Then came the great day. They were hooked to some average logs in a normal field. Grunt. No movement. Grunt again. Nothing.

Now Operation Fizzle threatens to become Operations Get Rid of the Eelphants Before they eat the Village.

Effects of Rocket Noise Tested on Guinea Pigs

By Science Service

Caged guinea pigs placed near test firings of Saturn 5 rocket engines are helping Tulane University doctors evaluate the effects of rocket noise on hearing. The studies, being conducted at NASA's Mississippi Test Facility, may aid in determining how close humans can live to such noise without suffering permanent damage.

Rocket noise is unusual as a cause of hearing loss, points out Dr. Clifton Istre, because it is largely of low frequencies, whereas most harmful noises cause hearing losses in the middle range around 4,000 cycles per second, an area which Dr. Istre says is not vital speech intelligibility.

* * *

Most of the damage suffered so far by the guinea pigs, some of whom are believed now to be totally deaf, is apparently caused by blockage of the blood supply to the hair cells of the inner ear, according to the project's director, Dr. Gerardo Gonzalez.

The researchers plan to check this theory later in the year by microscopic examination of the cellular structure of the animals' ears.

'Suspicious' Newark Fires Kill One, Rout Hundreds

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Two blazes killed one fireman and routed hundreds of persons Sunday.

Fire Director John P. Caufield said both fires were "definitely suspicious."

* * *

One fire raced through half a dozen vacant tenements in Newark's predominantly Negro Central Ward, the scene exactly a year ago of rioting that took 26 lives.

The blaze began at 2:30 a.m. and sent hundreds of residents from threatened tenements across the street fleeing in night clothes and underwear.

FATHER OF TWO

The fire took the life of fireman Edward Dennis, a 41-year-old father of two. Authorities said he died of exhaustion.

Caufield said an investigation would delve into the possibility of arson.

* * *

"Why would a fire start in the middle of the night in vacant buildings?" he said.

A short time later, a three-alarm blaze broke out in a vacant four-story factory on Mulberry Street in downtown Newark. One fireman was slightly injured and the factory was burned out.

At the first fire, most of the residents were able to return to their homes after the fire was brought under control.

Caufield said the apartment houses received only slight heat damage from the fire across the street.

S. Lyon Boy, 11, Is Found Dead

Apparently Overcome in Shed by Gases

An 11-year-old South Lyon boy was apparently overcome by inert or natural gases early yesterday in a small storage shed in the back yard of his family's home, Brighton State Police said today.

The body of Carvel H. Cogger was discovered by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cogger of 58358 11 Mile, about 8:30 a.m. yesterday, police said.

* * *

South Lyon fire officials were called to the scene with resuscitators, but the boy could not be revived.

Medical experts and officials of the Consumer Gas Co. are meeting today to try to determine what sort of gas might have accumulated in the small sooden shack.

SAMPLES EXTRACTED

Air samples have been extracted from the structure, which was described by police as about eight feet by 10 by eight. In the floor of the structure is a small opening that leads to a storage basement underground.

There is no gas outlet or gas pump nearby, police noted.

Parents of the boy told State Police young Carvel has stored fishing bait in the shed for years, and that he was going to get some worms when he apparently was overcome by the gases.

It was estimated by police that he was in the shed about one hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Cogger also told officials they had noticed an odor over the years, but it was never strong or offensive. The odor was described by police as similar to that of a musky, damp cavern.

An autopsy was scheduled for today to determine the exact cause of death and in hopes of getting more information about the gas that apparently caused the asphyxiation, police said.

Sailor From Detroit Stabbed in Boston

BOSTON (AP) — A young sailor who suffered stab wounds when attacked by a group of youths in Boston's Roxbury section was reported in satisfactory condition at nearby Chelsea Naval Hospital Sunday night.

Police said Seaman Raymond Dell, 24, of Detroit, who was stationed aboard the USS Talbot in Newport, R.I., was attacked by six youths early Sunday.

35 at Party Robbed in Benton Harbor

BENTON HARBOR (AP) — Police in Southwestern Lower Michigan today were seeking five men who crashed a party at a Benton Harbor home late Sunday night and robbed about 35 guests at gunpoint.

Police said the men were armed with pistols, rifles, shotguns and possibly a machine gun.

The wanted men escaped with an estimated $1,000-$3,000 in cash and an undetermined amount of jewelry.

State Police joined Benton Harbor police and Berrien County sheriff's deputies in setting up roadblocks, but officers said the barricades were lifted shortly after 3 a.m.

The mass robbery was at the home of John Sherman Aicher. None of the guests was reported harmed.

Items and $100 Lost in Break-In

Items valued at more than $700 and $100 in cash were reported stolen early today in a break-in of a Pontiac home.

James Dunn, 34, of 427 Thors told Pontiac police he found his house had been entered when he returned home about 1:20 a.m.

* * *

Taken were a television set, a stereo, a radio, several electric kitchen utensils, a watch, two rings and eight suits, investigators were told.

Police said entry was made by breaking out a basement window.

* * *

Identification officers checked for latent fingerprints at the scene, police said.

Trading Fairly Active

Stock Mart Dips on Average

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market dipped on average early this afternoon after failing to hold a moderate advance in the morning. Trading was fairly active.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .24 at 922.22.

* * *

Gains held a slim advantage over losses, but the early margin to the upside was cut back drastically.

Conglomerate stocks were joined anew by word that the Federal Trade Commission had challenged more than 40 acquisitions made by Maremont since 1953.

BLUE CHIPS ADVANCE

Some blue-chip stocks continued to advance, but the list seemed to lack incentive despite a fairly good economic background. It was the first day of withholding under the newly adopted 10 per cent surtax. Some street sources pondered the effect of the surtax on earnings, and there was published comment that business would be dampened to some extent.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .4 at 348.8 with industrials down .2, rails off .3 and utilities off .4.

* * *

Prices advanced in active trading on the American Stock Exchange. Active fractional gainers included Gulf American Corp., New Idria Mining, Nuclear Corp. of America, Cinerama, Westbury Fashions, Westates Petroleum and RIC Group. Down about a point were H&B American and American Safety Equipment.

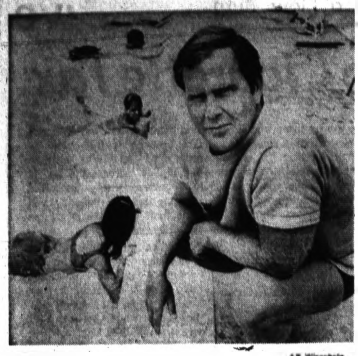

It is believed that there are about 8,000 species of birds in the world.

WANTS BACK IN THE SWIM — Jack Sheldon, the star of the ill-fated television show, "Run, Buddy, Run," works at his job as a Hollywood swim school instructor while preparing himself for a second shot at the airwaves. The show was canceled after a short run two years ago.

'McNamara Wall' Looks Like Maginot Line

CON THIEN, Vietnam (AP) — The U.S. Command is hardening its fighting positions below the demilitarized zone with the installation of concrete bunkers, giving the "McNamara Wall" a sort of Maginot Line look.

The Marine position at Con Thien, when finished, will be ringed with about 85 bunkers. From North Vietnam they will appear as white, two-foot-high dashes of concrete with six-inch gun slits at ground level.

★ ★ ★

Lt. John Snowden of Conway, S.C., a Marine engineer whose men are putting the bunkers in place, said, "If you put three layers of sandbags on top of these things to soak up the blast, they will be as safe as anything we can build."

Snowden estimated the bunkers with the sandbags would be able to withstand direct hits from 152mm artillery guns, largest in the North Vietnamese arsenal.

TUNNEL TO POSITION

"I wouldn't want to be inside, though," Snowden said.

In building the bunkers, the engineers sink a four-foot length of steel culvert pipe, about five feet in diameter, vertically into the ground. Another section of culvert pipe is laid horizontally, making a tunnel into the position.

★ ★ ★

The vertical section is capped with a two-foot high concrete hood weighing 7,200 pounds. The concrete is poured over steel reinforcing rods at Dong Ha and transported by truck or helicopter to the line positions ordered begun one year ago as an infiltration project by former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara.

★ ★ ★

Each bunker can hold a machine-gun team or three riflemen. The bunkers are joined by trenches scooped out by ditch-digging machines. The trenches will allow Marines to move about without exposing themselves to fire.

Con Thien, western anchor of a seven-mile strip cleared below the DMZ, has been hit pertaps 20,000 times by enemy artillery over the past year.

The bunkers and trenches should greatly reduce casualties, Marine officers said.

Thoughtful Sign

BERKSHIRE, Mass. (AP) — T. Sgt. Robert A. Conner couldn't be home for his wife's birthday, but he let her know he remembered it. Conner, stationed at an Air Force base in Thailand, rented a billboard in his home town with the message: "Happy Birthday, Mary. Love, Bob."

Insecurity of TV Life Exemplified by Star of Ill-Fated Series

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — The ups and downs of television stardom are demonstrated by Jack Sheldon, star of "Run, Buddy, Run" a couple of seasons ago. Today he is teaching tots to swim and playing trumpet at Hollywood parties.

THOMAS

★ ★ ★

That's how fast things happen in television. But Sheldon, 36, is neither bitter nor without hope.

"I figure I'm lucky because I can do other work," he observes. "I know a lot of actors who can't do anything but act. One friend of mine didn't get a job for five months—five whole months! He's working now, but it was awfully tough on him until he started getting parts again."

OFF-BEAT MANNER

Sheldon came to acting accidentally. After Air Force duty he began playing trumpet in local bands, including one that accompanied Julie London. He is a wry-faced fellow with an off-beat manner, and he and the singer began exchanging lines to inject some humor into the act. That led to a TV date with Steve Allen, the Christopher Columbus of comics.

As he has done with Louis Nye, Don Knotts and a host of others, Allen encouraged Jack Sheldon in his humor, and soon the budding comic was appearing on other variety shows. He auditioned for a Jay Ward show, "The Nut House," which failed to sell but led to a role in the Cara Williams show.

★ ★ ★

"That was my first real acting, and I had a great time," Sheldon recalled. "I did 30 shows, and then the series was canceled. But CBS cast me in the lead of "Run, Buddy, Run," about a guy who was running away from the Mafia.

"We did 14 shows, and then it was crisis time. We were laid off, but they told us it would only be temporary. They were going to send me and Bruce Gordon, the other star of 'Buddy,' around the country on an exploitation tour. Perry Lafferty, who was the program chief, told me, 'Don't worry—this show will go on forever.'

'STARTED WORRYING'

"That's when I started worrying."

Sheldon and his wife traveled to major cities on a deluxe tour —"Big Hotel suites, champagne with peaches in the glasses, the whole bit." The trip was a great success, but the series was a failure. "Run, Buddy, Run" was canceled after 16 segments.

★ ★ ★

With four children to support, Sheldon couldn't wait for the jobs to come in. He managed to land dates on the shows of Merv Griffin, Pat Boone, Joey Bishop and Woody Woodbury. He organized a small band and hires himself out for Hollywood parties. His mother operates a swim school on Hollywood Boulevard, and Jack, who has been teaching kids to swim since he was 12, spends many days in the pool with the little ones.

★ ★ ★

"Looking back on 'Run, Buddy, Run,' I can see that I should have worked harder in preparing myself for the role," he commented. "I'm better qualified now, because I have been going to classes at the Actors Studio. If I get another series—and I still have hopes—I'll be ready for it."

Fungus Hurts Cows, May Ease Fibrosis

By Science Service

A fungus that can make life miserable for cows has provided a drug that could some day help victims of cystic fibrosis, a Michigan State University biochemist says.

Dr. Steven D. Aust isolated the drug, which he named slaframine. The fungus makes cows slobber, but the drug makes experimental animals' pancreas secrete necessary digestive enzymes.

★ ★ ★

In cystic fibrosis, the pancreas is clogged with a thick mucus, preventing the flow of such enzymes. This curtails normal digestion, so that the person becomes undernourished on what is normally an adequate diet.

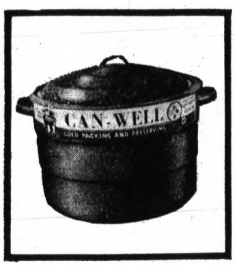

Years of intensive testing remain before slaframine can be tested on humans. Dr. Aust says, but he believes it has great potential for cystic fibrosis patients, as it may increase the flow of mucus from their lungs, relieving their breathing problems.

FIREBIRD FALLS — In hot and humid temperatures yesterday at Wisner practice field, the Pontiac Firebirds went through 90 minutes of full dress scrimmage to get ready for next Saturday's exhibition game against Flint. Carrying the ball on this play is Chuck Humphrey (26) with Dave Heilman (77) offensive tackle trying to clear the way. Defensive tackle No. 75, Ronnie Clark, who stands 6-4½ and weighs 300 pounds moves in on Humphrey to secure the tackle. With Bill Harrington and Bob Pomeroy quarterbacking, the Firebirds' offense scored four touchdowns, three by passing and two taken by end Ron Bemis (No. 83 extreme right), former Royal Oak Kimball gridder. Long Climb for Eventual Net Champ

Talent Abounds Among Men's Singles Entries

By JERE CRAIG

One fact became very evident during the long hot weekend of opening matches in the 1968 Oakland County Men's Open Tennis Tournament at Oakland University.

Whoever prevails in the men's singles division and thus claims the county tennis crown will earn it with probably the best tennis of his life.

A long, hard climb faces the eventual champion based on the battles some survivors had in the first two rounds and the calibre of play exhibited by most of the winners in all five men's and boys' classes.

* * *

Defending champion Rick Watson coasted past Ron Chapman, 6-0, 6-0 to reach the men's singles third round. Looming ahead for him — if he can down the Rick Feinberg-Gary Benjin winner — would be the challenge of Mauro Hipol, Greg Stephenson, Arnie Hoffman, Dick Ornekian, Leon Hibbs, Kirk Beattie or Tom Long to reach the championship match.

OTHER BRACKET

Second-seeded Chip Beel struggled past Larry Mason, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1 in his opening match. Anxious for a crack at Beel through the semifinal round at William Fish, Jerry Murphy, Don Pierce, Ralph Alee and Bruce Bigler.

* * *

Reigning senior men's titlist Hibbs has a rugged quarter-final match Thursday with either Bob Neff or Rev. Hiram Jones with the winner facing either Hoffman or Harvey Burdick in the semi-finals.

Perennial contender Alee, the second seed, will be challenged by Bill Ullenbruch in the quarter-finals; while highly regarded Ian Wilson is expected to beat back the challenge of Jack McBride, Fr. Ed Brennan and Larry King in the other half of the lower bracket.

Watson is paired with Jim Hawkins as the third seed in men's doubles but would face a strong challenge from Beel and Hipol if both reach the quarter-finals. The winner then would meet top-ranked Hibbs and Alee.

Likewise, trouble awaits second-rated Dan and Jerry Murphy if they reach the quarter-finals where they would meet either Neff-Wilson or Long and Bob Safford.

* * *

Todd Beel and Greg Stephenson appear destined for a junior singles quarter-final showdown with the winner likely to face John Pollick. Top-ranked Mark Erickson already has reached the opposite quarter-final with two easy wins.

In junior doubles, Kirk Beattie and Tom Bullard, No. 1 ranked, are in the quarter-finals and are expected to advance to a semifinal showdown against Todd Beel and Pollick.

See Page C-4 for all scores and this week's pairings.

Players, Owners Reach Agreement

NFL Settles 'Goal Line' Rift

NEW YORK (AP) — A pair of bargaining-table goal line stands—one by the club owners and one by the players—involving a pension dispute are ended. The National Football League is ready for football again.

The 16 club owners agreed Sunday night to pay almost $3 million in 1968 and 1969 for pension benefits.

* * *

It was the last of 21 points to be settled in negotiations between the owners and the NFL Players Association, which began last March 19.

A deadlock on the pension issue threatened to disrupt preseason training which begins in earnest this week, upset the exhibition season and cancel the College All-Star Game.

10-YEAR VETERANS

Detroit Lion guard John Gordy, president of the NFL Players Association, said under the new pension plan a 10-year veteran will receive $1,600 a month at the age of 65.

This compares with $775 monthly under the old agreement and with $1,132 a month for 10-year veterans under the current American Football League pension plan.

* * *

Benefits for five and 15-year veterans under the new NFL plan, which Gordy said was retroactive to 1959, were not available.

After a meeting of about 4½ hours at a midtown hotel, the agreement was announced at a news conference by Gordy and NFL President Arthur Modell, owner of the Cleveland Browns.

A joint statement, read by Modell, said:

"Under this agreement, the league club owners will contribute a total of $3 million for the years 1968 and 1969 for pension benefits, administrative costs and the cost of a joint study to be conducted in anticipation of the merger of the NFL and AFL pension plans by 1970.

COST OF PROGRAM

"It is estimated that administrative costs will amount to $144,000 and that the joint study will cost approximately $40,000. No commitment was made by the owners, either expressly or impliedly, regarding pension contributions beyond 1968 and 1969.

"In a departure from past practice in this area, the parties agreed that in view of the owners' guarantee as to the amount of the contribution, any reference to the source of revenue shall be dropped and the owners shall have exclusive control over determining how best to meet the guarantee."

It also was agreed to form a joint committee to administer the plan and arrange for a pension study to be used in the negotiations following the merger. Committee members will be named later.

Gordy expressed pride "that we are professional athletes can settle our differences across the bargaining table as gentlemen.

* * *

"We wanted to be heard and we wanted voice but never, never wanted to use our own strength unjustly."

Pete Rozelle, commissioner of professional football, said:

"I'm most pleased it has been settled and at a time when it does not effect the progress of the training season."

Lions' Veterans Get Green Light to Enter Camp

The private tutoring session for 26 Detroit Lions' rookies has come to an end as a full squad of 68 is expected in training camp at Cranbrook with the end of the NFL dispute between players and owners.

Four veterans acquired in off-season trades plus 17 sophomore or redshirt players from last year along with 21 long tested veterans will join the 26 rookies and free agents in the training camp at Cranbrook.

* * *

The four players obtained via trades are quarterback Bill Munson, running back Dave Kopay and defensive ends John Baker and Joe Robb.

Four Lions' draft choices, quarterback Greg Landry, flanker Earl McCullouch, end Charlie Sanders and kicker Jerry DePoyster will take part in the collegiate all-star game against the Green Bay Packers, August 2.

* * *

McCullouch signed his contract with the Lions on Friday after pondering a decision of whether to compete in the '68 Olympics.

* * *

The Lions will play their full dress scrimmage Friday night July 26 at U. of D. Stadium and play their first exhibition game Monday Aug. 5 in Buffalo against the AFL Bills.

Wins Publinx Title

DALLAS (UPI) — Gene Towry, who lives in Suburban Dallas, won the National Public Links golf championship Saturday with a 72-hole score of 282.

Wilson Is Ineffective in Bengals' Defeat

ANAHEIM — Earl Wilson thinks there might be something broken in his right hand and that could mean the American League might have a close pennant race after all.

Wilson, who won 22 games for Detroit last year, was woefully ineffective here Sunday as the California Angels handed the league-leading Tigers their third loss in their last four starts, 7-3.

* * *

The Tigers still have a comfortable lead over second-place Baltimore, but they could be in trouble if the injury Wilson suffered July 6 is more serious than first believed.

"They took X rays, but I think they must have missed something," he said Sunday after the Angels bombed him for seven hits and six runs in less than four innings.

SEVENTH SETBACK

"The wrist was so sore and stiff I couldn't get anything on the ball," said Wilson, who absorbed his seventh loss against six victories.

"I'd like to see another doctor."

The loss of Wilson for any extended time would be a severe jolt to the Tigers. Denny McLain their ace, has captured 17 of his first 19 decisions. But the other three starters — Wilson, Joe Sparma, 7-8, and Mickey Lolich, 7-4 — have a combined record of only 20-19.

* * *

"The Tigers don't have it sewed up, by any means," said Angel Manager Bill Rigney after the Californians captured the series opener. "They're a solid team and they've got that big stopper, McLain. I really doubt any other club could get hot enough to overtake them, but the Tigers could go into a slump. Cut their lead to four or five games and they might start to press."

Wilson's injury occurred against Oakland July 6 when he was twice struck by line drives in the same inning—once on the shoulder and once on the hand.

TWO HOME RUNS

Sunday, he gave up a bases-empty homer to Vic Davalillo and a two-run homer to Rick Reichardt in the first inning. The Angels hiked their lead to 4-0 in the third when Davalillo doubled and scored on a single by Don Mincher.

Reichardt an Tom Satriano knocked Wilson from the box when they opened the fourth inning with singles. Bobby Knoop greeted reliefer Daryl Patterson with a two-run single to put the Angels ahead, 6-0.

* * *

That should have made it an easy victory for Angel starter Sammy Ellis, 7-6, but it didn't. Ellis gave up bases-empty homers to Norm Cash and Don Wert and was finally shelled from the mound in the seventh inning. Willie Horton doubled home the last Detroit run in the eighth off reliever Clyde Wright.

* * *

Bobby Locke relieved Wright and went on to nail down the victory.

It was the fourth Angel triumph in 12 games against Detroit this year.

Lolich will try to halt Detroit's skid tonight when he goes against George Brunet, 8-9, in the second, final game of the series.

Hilaria Leads 17 Finishers

MACKINAC ISLAND (UPI) — Hilaria was the apparent winner in Class A of the 235-mile Port Huron to Mackinac Island Yacht Race today as the almost nonexistent breezes kept most boats far out on the lake.

By 5 a.m. today only 17 of the 204 yachts had crossed the finish line, with the scratch boat Norsaga making it first — in 30 hours and four minutes, far off the record of 25 hours, 47 minutes, 19 seconds set by Escapade in 1950.

Hilaria, a yawl owned by Hugh Schaddelle of the Detroit Yacht Club, was the fourth boat to cross the finish line, making it in 32 hours, 38 minutes and 53 seconds. But a handicap gave it a corrected time of 29 hours, 40 minutes, 29 seconds.

Race officials said it appeared that the sloop Sapphire would take second place in Class A. The boat, also out of the Detroit Yacht Club, was sixth to cross the finish line and had a corrected time of 29 hours, 59 minutes, 39 seconds.

Chisox Celebrate Lopez Return With Twinbill Sweep

Orioles Gain on Tigers by Beating Yanks

Surging Bosox Rally to Defeat A's While Tribe Tops Twins

By the Associated Press

AL Lopez is back in business —and so is the American League pennant race.

Of course, one has nothing to do with the other—Senor Lopez and his Chicago White Sox are 18 games removed from first place—but they're both nice to have around.

★ ★ ★

Manager Jim Lemon of Washington had a hunch what was coming when he said to Lopez before Sunday's action, "I just lost three straight to the new manager in Baltimore; what are you going to do to me?"

The answer was a double-header sweep—7-2 and 6-5 in 10 innings—as the White Sox celebrated the return of Lopez as manager.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere, Detroit lost to California 7-3 and saw its league lead sliced to 7½ games as second-place Baltimore beat the New York Yankees 6-4. Cleveland topped Minnesota 6-3 and the surging Boston Red Sox rallied to knock off Oakland 5-3.

★ ★ ★

"That was a nice way to break in," said Lopez, who resigned following the 1965 season after nine years as White Sox manager. He came out of retirement when Eddie Stanky stepped down Friday. "Those guys made some great plays and we got some pretty good hitting."

BATTING STAR

Chicago won the opener on Jack Fisher's three-hit pitching and the slugging of Tommy Davis, who batted in two runs with a first-inning double and two more with a triple in the second. Frank Howard whacked his 28th homer for the Senators.

A three-run rally tied the score in the seventh inning of the nightcap and the Sox won it on 10th-inning singles by Gerry McNertney, Wayne Causey and Luis Aparicio.

★ ★ ★

A week ago, Detroit was threatening to make a joke of the pennant race. But the Tigers have lost three of four since the All-Star break while Baltimore has won four in a row under new skipper Earl Weaver.

RELIEF HELP

Baltimore smashed 13 hits, including a two-run homer by Boog Powell, but needed a strong relief job by Eddie Watt before downing the Yankees.

★ ★ ★

The Yanks trailed 6-1 after seven innings but Roy White hit a two-run homer in the eighth and ninth-inning singles by Jack Gibbs and Bobby Cox knocked out Dave Leonhard. Watt fanned pinch hitter Bill Robinson and, after Horace Clarke singled home a run, also struck out Mickey Mantle and White. The Orioles trail Detroit by only six games in the all-important loss column.

★ ★ ★

Cleveland's Luis Tiant, who had shut out Minnesota twice previously, lasted only six innings and settled for a 6-3 triumph with relief help from Stan Williams. It was Tiant's sixth straight victory and gave him a 15-5 record.

★ ★ ★

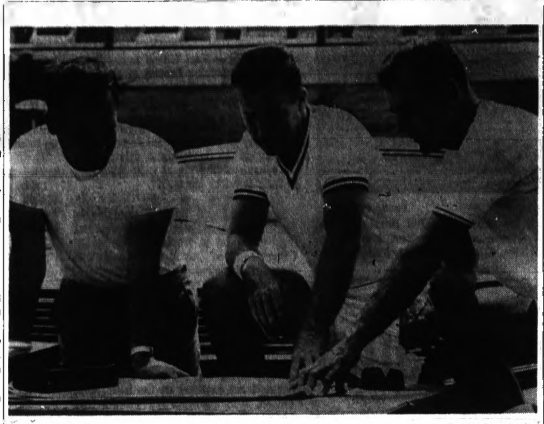

The Indians ripped into Jim Merritt for three runs in the third on a two-run single by Joe Azcue and Jose Cardenal's sacrifice fly.

The defending champion Red Sox made it three wins in a row and 11 in their last 12 games by rallying to top Oakland.

★ ★ ★

Handcuffed on three hits over seven innings by John "Blue Moon" Odom, the Sox erupted for four runs in the eighth and turned the game around.

Singles by Jose Tartabull, Mike Andrews and Dalton Jones loaded the bases and brought on reliever Paul Lindblad. Carl Yastrzemski belted a shot off Lindblad's leg, the ball ricocheting into left field for a game-tying two-run double. Jack Aker then came on and yielded sacrifice flies to Ken Harrelson and Rico Petrocelli.

MAKING NET PROGRESS—The Oakland County Open tennis tournament is expected to reach the quarter-finals by Saturday on the Oakland University courts and three veteran players entered in men's and seniors' play could reach that stage of the tournament. Left to right are Arnie Hoffman, Leon Hibbs and Ralph Alee, all weekend winners in their matches.

Dave Stockton Gains Four Stroke Victory

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — Dave Stockton can thank an unknown woman spectator and Donald O'Burn of Milwaukee for some unplanned help in his four-stroke victory over Sam Snead in the Greater Milwaukee Open Golf Tournament Sunday.

The 26-year-old fifth-year pro from California hit the unidentified woman with his tee shot on the par-3,240-yard third hole and plunked O'Burn in the head with a booming drive on the par 5,550-yard 16th. Both times he salvaged pars.

★ ★ ★

"The women was okay, but her arm swelled up to twice its size," said Stockton, who pocketed a $40,000 first-place check.

★ ★ ★

"My drive on 16 hit the man right on the head," Stockton said. "It must have knocked him cold because the ball came right back at me 40 yards. The doctor said he would be okay."

BIRDIE STRING

Right after Stockton hit the woman, he birdied four straight holes to go 14 under par for the tournament and make the nine-hole turn in four-under-par 32.

He came home in 37, with three bogeys and two birds thrown in, to wind up with a 13-under-par total of 275, his best effort this year.

Stockton, who skipped last week's Buick Open to be with his wife, Cathy, who is expecting the couple's first child later this month, won the Cleveland Open two weeks ago.

Snead, who had a record seven-under-par 65 in the second round, started the day six strokes behind Stockton. But the 56-year-old Slammer from White Sulphur Springs, Calif., birdied four holes on the front nine to make the turn at 32, four under par.

SAME GOALS — Joe Brisson (left) and Chuck Byrne chip and pitch onto the 9th green at Birmingham where they won the annual Invitational tournament Saturday by defeating Jim and Bill Stephenson, 1-up. For Byrne it was the third straight Invitational victory of the season and this week he will try to make it four in a row by competing in the Forest Lake Invitational.

Golf Streak Continues

Byrne Winner at Birmingham

Teams With Brisson to Win Invitational

BY BRUNO L. DEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Hottest club invitational golf winner on the circuit must be Chuck Byrne, who overcame serious leg surgery in 1962 and has since won the Invitational championships at seven different clubs.

After teaming with Joe Brisson to win the Birmingham Invitational for the third time since '62, he will be shooting for his fourth straight Invitational title of the season when he competes this week in the sixth annual Forest Lake Ivitational.

★ ★ ★

Byrne and his favorite partner Brisson, who also won at Birmingham in 1966, defeated the brother combination of Jim and Bill Stephenson, 1-up, in the finale Saturday.

In the semifinals, the champs easily disposed of the father-son combination of Rollie and Rich Weyand, 6 and 5.

Stephenson and Stephenson, meanwhile, entered the finals by taking a 2 and 1 decision from John Grace and John Panelli.

KEY PUTT

Byrne and Brisson took an early 2-up lead but the brother combination tied it and by the 15th hole had a 1-up lead. At this point Brisson dropped in a key 20 foot putt to knot the score.

★ ★ ★

Byrne's 20 footer on No. 16 gave his duo a 1-up lead which held despite a thrilling finish which nearly resulted in a tie when Bill Stephenson laced a beautiful approach shot 12 feet from the pin on the 18th and then left the ball on the lip.

★ ★ ★

A blood clot necessitated surgery in the right leg in 1962 and Byrne now shows the scars of muscle and tendon removal.

"Since then I decided to stick with invitational tournaments because I must use a cart, and I can't walk in the tourneys where carts are not permitted," he said.

OTHER CROWNS

Byrne and Brisson are past champions at Indianwood and Red Run.

Thus far this year Byrne has won 12 straight matches and three straight titles including Red Run, Pine Lake and Birmingham and he will team with Knobby Walsh at Forest Lake this week.

At Firebirds Scrimmage

Grid Drills Sweltering

Using regulars sparingly, coach Tom Tracy put the Pontiac Firebirds through a brutal full dress scrimmage in 90-degree temperatures yesterday at wisner practice field as the final head bumping session prior to next Saturday night's exhibition game against the Flint Wildcats.

Several players sustained injuries in the scrimmage, not serious, but enough to possibly keep them out of the Saturday exhibition game.

★ ★ ★

Defensive back Christ Payne bruised a shoulder, running back Chuck Humphrey suffered a severe nose gash and Larry Goldsworthy sprained an ankle.

There were some pleasant surprises among some newcomers and by veteran players at new positions.

Former Pontiac Central quarterback Bob Pomeroy, who is being counted on as a backup to Bill Harrington, passed for two touchdowns, one to a former defensive back George Tanner who is now at the flanker spot and another to big Ron Bemis who has been moved from defensive end to tight end.

MOST VALUABLE

Bemis, a 235-pound former Royal Oak Kimball gridder, was the team's most valuable player on defense last year and after taking the pass from Pomeroy, he hulled over tacklers for the final 30 yards.

Humphrey was hurt on this play when he threw a key block which took two defenders out of the chase.

The running star of the scrimmage was a sturdy back from Williamston, who played football at Ferris State, Tom Eifert, a 5-9 and 175-pounder.

He tore off 22 yards on the first play from scrimmage and had several long gainers to his credit, including a 45-yard pass play from Bill Harrington which went to hte nine yard line and led to one of the four touchdowns by the offense.

Humphrey also showed speed in his running plays before his injury.

Several key defensive players were missing or out with minor injuries including 6-9 and 310-pound defensive tackle Jerry Thick.

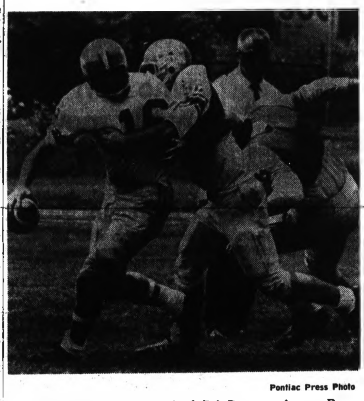

Saturday night's exhibition game against Flint will start at 7:30 at Wisner Satadium.

City Class A recreation baseball league will share in the proceeds, the money to be used for sending the city champion to the state championships in Battle Creek in August.

All members of the City Class A teams are selling tickets for the game.

Saturday night, July 27, the Firebirds will play at Rochester High School field in the annual Crittendon Hospital benefit game sponsored by the Rochester Rotary Club.

Tickets for both games are on sale at Griff's Grill Osman's, VFW Post No. 1370, and Shelton's in Rochester.

Big Doubleheader Set in Class A Tonight

Surging Pass Excavating and The Clippers garnered wins Sunday at Jaycee Park to set up a big Class A Baseball League double-header tonight.

Pass capped a full four-game schedule yesterday with a 2-1 triumph over Uncle Charlie's Pet Shop in the arclight tilt to gain its fifth straight victory and take over fourth place — its highest standing of the season.

The excavators will meet the third place Teamsters 614 in today's 6 p.m. contest. The unionmen nipped Talbott Lumber, 4-3, Sunday.

The runner-up Clippers dumped Local 653, 7-3, to move into tonight's 8:30 encounter with front-running M. G. Collision, riding a four-game win streak. M.G. dropped Local 594, 6-2, yesterday into fifth place to stay two games ahead of the nearest challengers.

Saturday night, UAW 653 upended Uncle Charlie's, 9-1 for only its second victory in its last 11 outings.

Rich Toles of Pass raced home from third base after a one-out infield grounder in the bottom of the seventh to give the Excavators their tough win yesterday. Bob Keep of Uncle Charlie's had tied the score with a single in the top of the inning.

Toles also was the winning pitcher, striking out 12 and allowing just four hits.

★ ★ ★

Don Picmann scattered nine hits and delivered a two-run single in the Teamsters' conquest; Greg Anderson broke open a close game with a two-run single to spark a five-run outburst by the Clippers.

M.G. handed CIO 594 its fourth loss in a row by coming from behind with two three-run uprisings. Six errors by the losers figured prominently in the winners' offense. Walt Miller gained his sixth mound victory.

★ ★ ★

Saturday night, Kyle Stephenson of UAW 653 fanned nine and allowed only three hits for his first triumph.

Seavoy Takes 2nd in Bowling Event

FORT WORTH (UPI) — Michigan's Dale Seavoy took second place and $1,600 Sunday in the Professional Bowler's Association's Fort Worth Open.

Seavoy, of Birmingham, finished with 9,173 points. Don McCuune of Munster, Ind., rolled 9,585 to take the first prize of $3,000.

Dick Weber of St. Louis, Mo., was third with 9,156.

Player Starts Another Cycle of 'Slam' in Golf

CARNOUSTIE, Scotland (UPI) — Gary Player has taken the first step toward a second slam of the world's major professional golf titles but he's in no hurry to take the next one.

Player, the little South African who is one of only four men in history to win the U. S. Open, the British Open, the PGA and the Masters, began a new cycle Saturday when he captured the British Open for the second time with a 72-hole total of 289, two strokes ahead of Jack Nicklaus and Bob Charles.

★ ★ ★

"The putts dropped here," Player said, "and now that I've won the British Open again I hope I can repeat the slam.

★ ★ ★

Certainly I am playing the best golf of my life."

Despite his desire for another slam, Player will be back on his farm outside Johannesburg Thursday when the majority of world's top players tee off in the PGA championship at San Antonio, Tex. It will be the first week of a 10-week vacation he promised himself if he won the title.

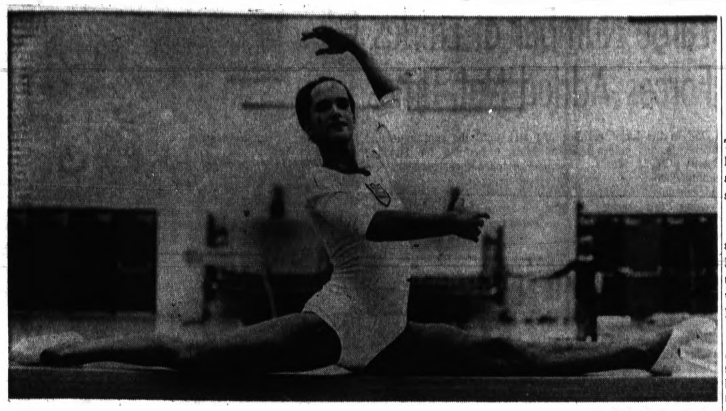

Player, who first won the British title in 1959 and then went on to triumph in the 1961 Masters and 1962 PGA before capturing the 1965 U. S. Open title, shot a final round one-over-par 73 on the rugged 7,252-yard Carnoustie seaside course to overtake a fading Billy Casper and Charles, the New Zealand southpaw who won the British championship in 1963.

Despite a dramatic eagle three on the 14th hole which virtually clinched the title, Player became the first British champion in 21 years who failed to break par, which was 288.

Local Teens Qualify at Oakland U.

A Birmingham and a Bloomfield Hills boy each emerged victorious, while two Bloomfield Hills girls were first and second Saturday in over-all competition at the Region VI-AAU gymnastics qualifying at Oakland University.

Kevin Koch topped the senior boys and John O'Connell led the intermediate boys to earn berths in the national tests later this summer. Kevin lives in Bloomfield Hills.

Also earning a chance in the nationals was Dianee Grayson who was first in the intermediate girls over-all scoring.

Barb Goode placed second in the senior girls' activity. They helped the Michigan girls' team to first place as a unit with Lake Erie, Ohio, second.

Ohio's boys outpointed Michigan boys. Four states were represented in the gymnastics competition.

Southfield Maintains Margin

Southfield maintained its half game lead in American Legion baseball yesterday by downing Waterford, 3-2 and 1-0.

* * *

Walled Lake stayed on the leader's heels with a sweep of Milford, 6-3 and 8-1. Farmington downed Clarkston, 4-1, and then lost, 16-6, and Troy split with Berkley, winning the night cap, 13-1, after dropping the opener, 5-1.

* * *

Pat Pillo hit a homer and drove in three runs in Walled Lake's opening win. Don Burlingame's two-hitter and 11 whiffs sparked the nightcap victory.

* * *

Joe Petrillo's triple in the fourth drove in the winning run in the first game for Southfield and Greg Main pitched a one-hitter in the second with Paul Eckhout's single deciding the game in the seventh inning.

* * *

Pitcher, Jeff Keyser collected three hits and drove in six runs in the second game for Clarkston after Les Thiessen's two-hitter earned Farmington the first game win.

'Ailing' Mare Impressive in Trot Win

WESTBURY, N.Y. (AP) — They said Roquepine was lame, that the queen of the world trotters from France was a doubtful hazard in her attempt to win the $100,000 Roosevelt International Trot for the second straight year.

* * *

What a laugh. If the 7-year-old mare had any trouble with her left front leg it wasn't evident as she won the 1968 renewal of the global spectacular in impressive fashion Saturday night.

* * *

Driven by Jean-Rene Gougeon, Roquepine trotted on the outside of Sweden's Kentucky Fibber, a length or so behind in second place, until the last 100 yards. Then she drew out with authority under mere hand-urging to win by a length.

Large Number of Entries Forces Added Net Times

Due to the large number of entries in this year's Oakland County Open Men's Tennis championships, it is necessary to schedule matches each evening this week at the Oakland University courts.

* * *

In order that the quarter-final round for each of the five events be completed by Saturday night, all pairings must be played weather permitting as scheduled.

In cases of important conflicts, a Monday - Thursday match can be rescheduled by contacting the Press sports department before 2 p.m. and if both parties can agree on the new time.

* * *

Each team or singles entry must provide one new ball per match until the semifinals and finals (scheduled for Sunday) when tournament sponsors will provide them.

The revised schedule includes one 7 p.m. men's doubles third round match tonight.

Harvard Crew Gains Olympic Trials Crown

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — Harvard — by a scant 12 inches and two-tenths of a second — won the U.S. Olympic rowing trials and will represent the nation in the Olympic Games in Mexico City.

The win Sunday on the 2,000-meter course came over Pennsylvania, which led Harvard almost to the finish line.

* * *

Harvard's time was 5:40.5, Penn's 5:40.7.

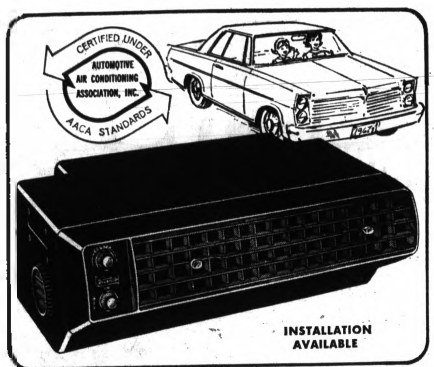

The Vesper Boat Club, Philadelphia, was third at 5:51.1 and the University of Washington fourth at 5:55.8.

* * *

Aaron Pounds 500th Homer

Modern Strikeout Record Tied

By MIKE BRYSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

It's the pitcher's year. They've been saying it all along. And now Don Wilson comes along and makes another big point for the case—matching a couple of strikeout records.

But the opposition has some dandy points, too—like Hank Aaron, Billy Williams and Richie Allen.

* * *

Wilson tied the modern major league records of 18 strikeouts in a nine-inning game and eight in a row Sunday as Houston whipped Cincinnati 6-1 in the nightcap of a doubleheader.

And now, for the opposition, we give you:

—Aaron, who ended a week of frustration by belting his 500th homer—a three-run shot that carried Atlanta past San Francisco 4-2.

* * *

—Williams, who unloaded a tie-breaking grand slam—the fourth of his career—to give Chicago a 6-2 conquest of Pittsburgh.

—And Allen, who had a homer in each game and six RBIs as Philadelphia breezed past the New York Mets 5-3 and 9-2.

SAME LEAD

Rampaging St. Louis held on to its 9½ game lead by stopping Los Angeles 5-1, and the Astros took their opener with the Reds 5-4 in 10 innings in other National League activity.

Wilson, who pitched a no-hitter against Atlanta last summer, whistled a called third strike past Johnny Bench to end the game and equal the record set by Cleveland's Bob Feller exactly 30 years ago and matched by Los Angeles' Sandy Koufax in both 1959 and 1962.

* * *

"I had a good slider to go with my fast ball," said the 23-year-old right-hander, who picked up only his sixth victory in 17 decisions. "In fact, it was so hard it was like a curve at times."

Wilson said he was aiming for the record after the third inning, and when Bench "came to bat, I was saying to myself, 'Please don't rain.'"

Rain skirted the field all afternoon, and there was a downpour after the final out.

Don fanned the side in the first three innings, but issued a walk to Alex Johnson with one out in the first. The eight straight strikeouts tied the modern record set by Max Surkont of Milwaukee in 1953 and tied twice since.

The all-time record of nine was set in 1884 by Michael Welch of the New York National League club.

HE KNEW IT

"I knew it was gone as soon as I hit it," said Aaron of the 400-foot blast over the left-center field fence that made him the eighth player in the majors to reach the 500 level.

"I'm glad I hit it off a guy like left-hander Mike McCormick, who won the Cy Young Award last year," cracked 34-year-old slugger. "It might be a little tainted if it came off some third or fourth-line pitcher."

It ended a trying week for Hank, who hit his 498th and 499th homers seven days earlier, then just missed on four occasions during the week of reaching the lofty plateau.

The victory went to rookie Ron Reed, 9-4, who had a shutout going until the eighth.

In Flint AAU Tournament

Area Boys Take Wrestling Honors

Pontiac area boys brought home a bountiful collection of medals Saturdays from the eighth annual Flint AAU International Wrestling Tournament.

Following in the footsteps of older brother David, Walled Lake elementary age wrestler Todd Schneider won the 62-pound class with six straight pins in 35 seconds or less and was named the outstanding wrestler of the meet for his age group.

* * *

Friday, David was named the outstanding wrestler in the junior high school division.

OTHER FIRSTS

Also in elementary events, Steve Garner (60 pounds), Robin Hyde (65 pounds) — both of Walled Lake — and John Davids (55) of Hazel Park won their events; and Walled Lake's Ken Russell was runner-up to Davids.

In Senior High School age competition, gold medals were earned by Bill Davids (Hazel Park) at 100 pounds; Larry Arnold (Pontiac), 147; and Roger Duty (Royal Oak) at 160.

Bringing home runner-up laurels were Pontiac's Larry Craft (147 pounds) and Jeff Moon (114), plus Berkley's Doug Willer (130). Bronze medals went to 130-pounder Randy Hyde (Walled Lake), 160-pounder Erick Alsup (Waterford) and 136-pounder Everett Seay (Pontiac).

The tournament lured more than 700 youthful wrestlers from around the world.

Hospital Employes Hold Off on Strike

A threatened strike today by Pontiac State Hospital employes has been held off to see if hospital officials bargain in good faith as they have promised, a union chairman said.

Mrs. Dorothy Sinsabaugh said about 600 members of Local 49, Michigan State Employes Union have been placed on "24-hour standby".

"If the hospital management doesn't provide a union office for us today as they promised, I'll call a strike," she said.

* * *

The standby strike notice came last night on recommendation from the local's bargaining committee. It followed three days of meetings of hospital and state officials and union leaders in Lansing last week. A fact-finding report also was made.

PROGRESS CITED

Both Mrs. Sinsabaugh and Dr. Donald W. Martin, hospital superintendent, said they feel progress has been made and will now concentrate on working out agreements.

* * *

A meeting has been scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow to start work on the agreements.

* * *

A strike by the employes of the housing, nursing, food service and maintainance departments had been threatened over alleged unfair assignments, grievance procedure, promotions, shortage of help and harassment of union officers.

* * *

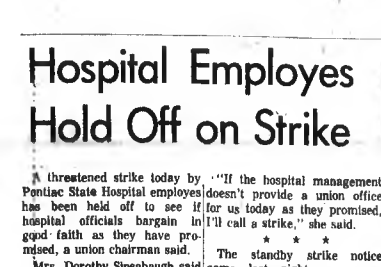

Mrs. Sinsabaugh indicated that the union office is the first test of the management's sincerity in the agreement.

OTHER PROMISES

A number of other promises, including improvements in the grievance procedure, were made by hospital authorities, according to Mrs. Sinsabaugh.

* * *

Workers were told they face suspension under state Civil Service rules if they walk out on the 2,200 mental patients.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Peter Edelman, 30, a top adviser to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, and Marion Wright, 29, a close friend of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the slain civil rights leader, were married yesterday in a simple ceremony in McLean, Va.

The marriage was performed by the Rev. William Sloane Coffin, 44, chaplain of Yale University who was found guilty last month with Dr. Benjamin Spock and others of conspiring to counsel evasion of the draft. Some 200 friends and relatives of the couple witnessed the ceremony here at the home of Adam Walinsky, another member of the Kennedy advisory team.

Arthur J. Goldberg, former U.S. chief representative to the United Nations and a justice on the Supreme Court, told the couple — whose lives had been touched by the assassinations of King and Kennedy—it was not "easy" in such a year to celebrate an event of joy.

The bride, born in Bennettsville, S.C., was graduated from Yale Law School and was the first Negro admitted to the bar in Mississippi. She handled cases for the NAACP legal defense fund and worked for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference during the Poor People's campaign.

Edelman, who is white, is a former official in the Justice Department and a native of Minneapolis.

Ex-University Head Leaving Priesthood

Msgr. John L. Storm, a former president of the University of San Diego, says he is leaving the Roman Catholic Church and the priesthood because the church continues to institutionalize God.

The educator explained in a statement yesterday why he plans to leave the priesthood after 25 years: "We can't afford to lose God in order to build a church."

"As it stands today, a priest experiences the church's top-level decisions which evidence little concern for the individual with whom God would have priests and all mankind first concerned . . .

"There being no satisfactory way of reasoning with an autocratic system, I am resigning while I am still in possession of my health."

Since resigning as president of the church-operated university in 1959, Msgr. Storm has been pastor of All Hallows Church in the San Diego suburb of La Jolla. Msgr. Storm, 50, said he left his pastorate July 5. He contradicted a statement by Bishop Francis J. Furey of the San Diego diocese that he left because of ill health.

Mexican Fisherman Rescued After 18 Days Adrift

Carlos Prado Uribie, 20, a Mexican fisherman, has been rescued after a harrowing 18 days adrift in the Gulf of Mexico in a tiny green rowboat.

The young fisherman covered 534 miles. Several times he spotted ships between swells but they didn't see him.

Uribie lived off bait, dead fish, and rainwater after he became lost near the Yucatan Peninsula. He was plucked from the Gulf Saturday night by the crew of the Escaut, a Belgian freighter.

"I prayed to God and Our Lady of Guadalupe to save me," Uribie said. "About the 12th day I tried to commit suicide with a rope and oar. Then my faith in God came back. I no longer wanted to kill myself."

Uribie had been working in the eight-foot skiff when a storm separated him from the fishing vessel El Rayo. He was sunburned and weary after his ordeal but otherwise satisfactory.

Red Newsman Back in Britain After 20 Years

Alan Winnington, a journalist who covered the Korean war from the Communist side for the London Daily Worker, returned home yesterday after 20 years in exile.

"I am British, and my roots are here, whatever people may think," Winnington said. "It is difficult to put down roots in a foreign country."

Winnington, 58, left London in 1949 for Asia. The British Consulate in Peking refused to renew his passport in 1954. He got a new one last month.

He is now an East Berlin correspondent for the Worker. He said he is here for a three-week stay.

Brazil's Merchant Fleet Largest in Latin America

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Brazil's merchant fleet was the largest in Latin America in 1967 and also was growing the fastest.

* * *

Figures issued by the Institutos de Estudios da la Iberamericana, located in Buenos Aires, showed Argentina's merchant fleet in second place in tonnage.

* * *

The Institute's report covered self-propelled vessels of more than 1,000 tons registered weight. Total tonnage was 3,696,423 — a 1.4 per cent increase over 1966. The average age per vessel dropped from 15.1 years in 1966 to 14.7 years in 1967.

At year's end there were 111 vessels totaling 928,960 tons contracted to be built or under construction — a 25.1 per cent growth compared with 17.4 per cent in 1966.

COUNTRY BREAKDOWN

The Institute's country-by-country breakdown of total ships and their tonnage was:

Argentina — 186 ships, 1,056,796 tons; Brazil—205 ships, 1,085,580 tons; Chile—43 ships, 262,056 tons; Colombia and Eduador—34 ships, 192,745 tons; Cuba—47 ships, 200,000 tons; Dominican Republic—three ships, 7,630 tons; Guatemala—two ships, 3,629 tons; Mexico—33 ships, 248,543 tons; Nicaragua—six ships, 15,221 tons; Paraguay—23 ships, 21,273 tons; Peru—32 ships, 197,876 tons; Uruguay — 19 ships, 112,851 tons, and Venezuela—36 ships, 291,323 tons.

Ad Exec Sees Glut of Words

DALLAS (AP) — Communication experts are calling this the age of communication, but a Chicago advertising executive said at a meeting here it is the age of "communication pollution."

* * *

Edward H. Weiss, head of a major agency, said that in addition to the pollution of water and air by modern industrial techniques, "we are also suffering from the pollution of words."

* * *

"People communicate when they speak freely, deeply and meaningfully to each other," he said.

* * *

Weiss asserted that words are tools that can be used for three purposes: express thoughts, conceal thoughts and camouflage the fact that there are no thoughts at all.

* * *

He urges a communication revolution: write less, read less, answer less. He advocates the spoken word in person for interoffice communications.

Buddy Knows He's Funny, so Ignores Onion Letters

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"I love to laugh," Buddy Hackett said. "I don't think I'm the Great I Am, but I know I'm a funny guy.

"And so when audiences laugh at me, I love them. Individuals I don't know, but collectively I love them. I made the transition several years ago from thinking about whether I'm going to be good, to thinking about whether they're going to be pleased. I'm always hoping that I please them. And when you worry about them being pleased instead of how you do, the you takes care of itself."

WILSON

It may have sounded a little like a sermon.

But Buddy was in the bar at the Regency drinking from two glasses, one orange juice, one vodka. "I can't stand the taste of either of them alone so I mix them," he said. He was discussing his record-breaking show at the Westbury Music Fair which some witnesses have said is a little blue.

The reports of the blueness have, however, been exaggerated.

"I use one three-letter word and on four-letter word," Buddy said. "People talk that way and if they object to me doing it, they're phony. I had one onion letter . . ."

"Onion letter? What's that?"

That's what airline stewardesses call a knock letter. Bad taste, or sour. One onion letter said, 'Dear Mr. Hackett: I was disappointed . . .' I tore that up. That's as far as I got. Anybody that calls me Mister to start with . . . I've had five onion letters in three years."

Buddy believes he must not be dirty or people wouldn't have paid $90,800 last week to see him do seven shows. "I have a theory," he enunciated, "that if something is funny, it's not dirty, and if something is dirty, it's not funny." And just as I was brooding about that, Buddy said some comedians' theory is to use "Something borrowed, and something blue."

Takeoff Load Mark Claimed

ATLANTA, Ga. (AP) — The largest airplane to fly, the C5 Galaxy, has set an unofficial record for takeoff weight.

Chet Payne, C5 flight test program manager, said the plane's second test flight Saturday was made with a takeoff weight of 520,000 pounds, about 10 tons heavier than any other plane has ever weighed at takeoff.

The Galaxy, 246 feet long with a wing span of 223 feet, has a cargo compartment 121 feet long, 19 feet wide and 13½ feet high. It could hold an eight-lane bowling alley.

A Look at TV

Newark Is Revisited

By JERRY BUCK
Associated Press Writer

NEW YORK — One year after the city of Newark was wracked by a disastrous riot, the causes were examined in an exciting confrontation on ABC Sunday by eight persons affected by the disorder.

Frank Reynolds, who was host for the program "Newark: Anatomy of a Riot," observed that "if the lessons of Newark weren't learned, your city can be next."

* * *

And if the people who participated in this program are representative of Newark, as they appeared to be, it seems that Newark itself hasn't learned much from a riot that killed 26 people and left sections of the city in ruins.

The same lack of understanding, the same hostilities, the same calcified viewpoints that evidently contributed to the riots were openly displayed. It made for exciting television, but it didn't say much for the future of Newark.

TRAGIC DANCE

At one point, as the accusations and recriminations mounted, Donald Malafronte, administrative assistant to Mayor Hugh Addonizio, said: "We are in some sort of tragic dance here, where we eat each other and berate each other and hate each other and curse each other."

But if this airing serves as a catharsis it will have a useful purpose.

* * *

None of the participants could agree on the root causes of the riot.

Morris Spielberg, president of the Springfield Avenue Merchants Association, laid the blame on the "insensitivity" of City Hall. But Malafronte snapped that it was the merchants, not the city government, who were insensitive.

OVERCHARGING

Negro panelists complained of storekeepers overcharging for shoddy goods. Robert Curvin, former chairman of the Newark chapter of the Congress of Racial Equality, said the "horrible relations between the blacks and the police which still exist to this day" had to be considered.

* * *

He said that Negroes, who make up 52 per cent of the population, had to have more power in the city government.

Warren Copeland, a young Negro, who lost his right leg due to a bullet wound he said was inflicted without reason by a policeman, said, "I just hope there is hope for us."

* * *

The program was the third in a series of six in ABC's "Time For America." The fourth, "Prejudice and the Police," will be presented at 7:30 p.m. EDT today.

FIRST OF 4 PROGRAMS

On Friday night, NBC presented the first of four hour-long conversations "What's Happening to America?" The idea is to invite persons knowledgeable in government, history, sociology and allied fields to discuss the tensions and uncertainties afflicting the nation. Edwin Newman, an able and versatile newsman, is host for the series.

The first guests were Dr. C. Vann Woodward, a historian on the faculty at Yale, and Dr. Kenneth B. Clark, a Negro who is a professor of psychology at City College of New York.

* * *

The two professors suggested that America's history and its myths have caught up with us, leaving the nation facing a series of unsolved problems at home and abroad amid present affluence and past success.

Although the program lacked spark and impact, telling points were made about the anxieties arising from the war in Vietname, violence, racism, poverty and the crisis in the cities.

San Francisco Gun Turn-In Nets 1,500 Weapons

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) —Mayor Joseph Alioto's antigun campaign ended at midnight Sunday with more than 1,500 guns turned in by citizens.

* * *

"I would think this would be one of the biggest gun turn-ins in United States history," said a police official.

Since shortly after Sen. Robert F. Kennedy was assassinated more than a month ago, San Franciscans have handed in everything from tiny pistols to rocket launchers.

* * *

A city ordinance goes into effect in August requiring registration of all guns.

Broadcaster Dies

NEW MILFORD, Conn. (AP) — Westbrook Van Voorhis, for many years narrator for "The March of Time" radio and movie news series, died Saturday after a long illness. He was 64. Van Voorhis tried a career on Broadway before joining "The March of Times" in 1935.

Lockup Is Flooded by Unruly Prisoner

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Walter Blacknell climbed the bars of his cell Saturday and broke open two outlets of the sprinkler system, police said.

* * *

Water flowed throughout the area of the police lock-up and into elevator shafts and firemen spent 30 minutes mopping it up.

Blacknell, 35, of Hartford had been in jail on an intoxication charge. He was transferred to a maximum security area of a local hospital.

Few Civilians Remain in Port City Given Up by the Biafrans

PORT HARCOURT, Nigeria (AP) — Only several hundred civilians remain in this key port city, which once had 300,000 inhabitants including a large expatriate community.

Everyone else has fled into the swampy bush of the surrounding state, or northward into shrinking Biafra—carrying whatever is movable.

Those remaining have been assigned to encampment areas, looked after by sort of "street captains" who log their movements.

For Port Harcourt is now the military headquarters for Col. Benjamin Adekunle's 3rd Marine Battalion, which controls the coastline and holds a steady front against Biafra's underside.

Soldiers with red octopus shoulder patches guard the vital airport, strewn with wreckage of the rebels' B25s, B26s, DC3s, and helicopters. In the distance are smoke columns of crude oil pipelines and wells, blown up by retreating Biafrans and burning unchecked for months.

Army headquarters is the Shell BP compound, where the emergency power supply accounts for the only electricity and water—and cold beer—in town. Cigarettes—if you can get them—cost $3.40 a pack.

★ ★ ★

The Presidential Hotel looks almost ready for guests, though the flowers have wilted from lack of watering. Much of the vegetation in Port Harcourt—known as the garden city—looks more natural, as grass and bushes grow unclipped.

A Bank of America agent sent here to "pick up the pieces" was surprised to find the bank untouched, and its records intact. Nearly all others are less lucky, with a number of vital records carried off or destroyed.

The Unilever agent said the United Africa Company lost three buildings to fire, apparently during the rebels' anti-British vandalism.

Scattered damage appears to be mostly the result of vandalism and looting rather than fighting.

The Bank of America man is considering moving back shortly just to keep eye on the property. It is impossible to estimate when the city's life might begin again, since the war is still going on around it.

Air-Bus Engine Being Quieted

By Science Service

A major effort to reduce noise in the engines powering the trijet Lockheed 1011 air-bus is being conducted by the engines' builder, Rolls Royce Ltd., in Derby, England.

★ ★ ★

Some 176 of the 1011's have been ordered so far, all of them to be powered by the RB211 turbofan, rated at 40,600 pounds of thrust for takeoff. To handle planned future payload and range increases, Rolls Royce is working to uprate the engine to 46,500 pounds of thrust by 1975 and 50,000 pounds later on.

★ ★ ★

The RB211 is already a quiet design, but the company's quieting plans are elaborate enough to have inspired the construction of several new facilities, including what is reportedly the world's largest anechoic chamber.

To cut down the whine of the engine's turbine during landing, it will be fitted with special flaps which will partially close the exhaust nozzle. A special cowling is also being designed with an acoustically insulated lining.

★ ★ ★

The engine's first test run is now set for September. The first flight test, according to Rolls Royce, will take place in a specially modified Vickers VC-10 jetliner, in which a pair of RB211's will replace two of its standard Conway powerplants.

Clifford Briefed as Saigon Awaits New Red Attack

SAIGON (AP) — U.S. Defesne Secretary Clark Clifford got a briefing from top U.S. commanders today on the latest enemy threats to Saigon and the northern provinces as the capital city awaited a new offensive.

★ ★ ★

South Vietnamese police went on another of their periodic full alerts after an intelligence report indicated possible major attacks and intense terrorist acitivities in Saigon beginning at noon. But the noon hour passed with only one terrorist incident reported in 24 hours — the assassination of a Vietcong defector by two young women who escaped — and U.S. officials indicated the intelligence information came from a low-level source.

Related Story, Page A-5

★ ★ ★

The general lull in the ground war also continued. South Vietnamese military headquarters said government forces sweeping the outer fringes of Saigon clashed with an enemy force today eight miles southwest of the city, killed one Vietcong and seized a mortar, two bazooka-type rocket launchers and 37 small rockets.

★ ★ ★

Clifford, who arrived yesterday for his first visit since succeeding Robert S. McNamara, conferred with leaders of the U.S. military and political missions deep inside the sprawling Pentagon East U.S. military compound at Saigon's Tan Son Nhut air base.

HURRY MIG'S

On his arrival, clifford said the United States would speed up deliveries of modern M16 rifles to South Vietnamese forces "even at the expense of our own forces." He expressed hope that South iVetnam one day might begin to take over the war burden from the Americans, but declined to speculate on when U.S, troops could be withdrawn.

The defense secretary is to present his findings to President Johnson in advance of the President's Honolulu meeting with South Vietnamese President Nguyen Van Thieu next weekend.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker gave Clifford a general assessment of the political and economic situation, with aides filling in details. Robert W. Komer, chief of pacification and civilian relief operations in Vietnam, also briefed him.

Gen. Creighton W. Abrams, U.S. military commander in Vietnam, had the afternoon to fill Clifford in on the latest military situation, especially the reportedly growing threat of a third major enemy offensive against Saigon and another threat to the northern frontier.

KEEPING HER KOOL—This bikini-clad New Yorker beats the high temperatures in New York City yesterday by sitting on a sprinkler spray set up on a public street. The sprinkler was turned on when the thermometer approached the 90-degree mark.

Grab your water wings and bathing suit and head for the nearest swimming pool if you want to beat the heat wave that will continue to send thermometers soaring into the 90s for the third straight day.

The weatherman holds out on hope for relief until the end of the week.

A few brief thundershowers are expected this evening before the skies clear. Night temperatures are due to hovr between 68 and 72.

Tomorrow and Wednesday will be more of the same, with each afternoon or evening punctuated by thunderstorms.

The Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority Parks in the area did a booming business over the weekend as weather-weary residents sought the comfort of the water.

This afternoon's hot, humid winds from the southwest will slow by evening to 8 to 15 miles.

Precipitation probabilities in per cent are today 30, tonight 20 and tomorrow 30. Low thermometer reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 70. By 1 p.m. the mercury bounced to 90.

19 Pct. Wage Hike Ends Seaway Strike

OTTAWA (AP) — Ships moved through the St. Lawrence Seaway again today after a 24-day strike that idled nearly 300 ships and cost an estimated $20 million in wages, seaway tolls and other losses.

Traffic resumed last night a few hours after some 1,200 striking members of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway, Transport and General Workers voted 72 per cent in favor of an agreement providing a 19 per cent wage increase spread over three years and another 4 per cent in fringe benefits.

★ ★ ★

The increases will cost the seaway authority $2 million for the three years covered by the agreement.

Ninety-six ships, most of them ocean freighters, were awaiting entry to the inland waterway at Montreal when the strikers ratified the agreement hammered out in two days of bargaining which ended late Saturday.

Another 76 ocean ships were trapped in the system, and more than 100 lake vessels beyond Montreal were stalled.

The agreement virtually wipes out the 20 per cent gap between the wages paid Canadian workers on the seaway and those paid by the United States on the locks it operates. But W. J. Smith, president of the union, pointed out that the American workers open negotiations for a new contract in the fall and said the Canadians would presumably fall behind again.

The agreement gives workers 7 per cent more pay the first year; 6.5 the second and 5.5 the third.

The first year increase is retroactive to Nov. 1, two months before the expiration of the old contract.

Careening Stock Car Kills Two, Injures 27

From Our News Wires

MARNE, Mich. — Duane Wilson's modified stock car was doing 100 miles per hour when it climbed a cement wall at the Berlin Raceway and sailed into a grandstand. Two persons were killed and 27 injured.

The car flew out of control after its front wheels jammed Saturday night, then careened into a crowd of spectators, injuring 27.

★ ★ ★

Among the critically injured were three sons of Kenneth Bowers, 38, of Big Rapids, who was treated for minor injuries and released from Butterworth Hospital in Grand Rapids.

Critically injured were James Bowers, 12, William Bowers, 10, Kenneth Bowers Jr., 15.

Also critically injured were Albert Brakefield, 15, of Grand Rapids, whose brother, William, 18, was killed as the car cut a 90-foot path of destruction through the grandstand.

Also killed in the mishap was James Mason, 35, of Allegan.

★ ★ ★

Other critically injured patients at Butterworth were Walter Runstrom, 47 and Frederick Shepard, 37, both of Grand Rapids.

The driver of the car, Wilson, 18, of Portland, was reported injured slightly as he was thrown free of the wreck.

FINAL LAP

The youth had barely entered the fourth turn of the final lap of the race in this west Michigan community when his front wheels jumped onto the rear of another car. Police said he told them the back wheels of his car "came loose."

The car then wrenched free and Wilson's right front wheel spun onto the four-foot high cement wall surrounding the track. "He traveled about 31 feet like that, then the whole car was on top of the wall and sped for some 90 feet into the first five rows of the grandstand seats," said Sgt. Jack Rosema of the Ottawa County sheriff's department.

Czechs Tense as Soviets Stall Troop Pullouts

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — The departure of Russian troops from Czecholsovakia was delayed again today as leaders of other Soviet bloc nations met in Warsaw to discuss what to do about the liberal movement in Prague.

In Prague, official news media said heavy weekend traffic caused the delay in the pullout of Soviet troops. They announced the withdrawal would resume tonight or Tuesday, but the delay was considered a new pressure on the new leadership of the Czechoslovak Communist party.

★ ★ ★

It was the second postponement of the troop withdrawal since Saturday. Some 5,000 Soviet soldiers arrived in Czechoslovakia last month for two weeks of Warsaw Pact maneuvers that ended June 30. Their continued presence triggered a wave of jitters among Czechoslovaks who viewed it as an implied threat to Prague's liberalized regime.

The Prague government announced last week that 35 per cent of the Russian troops had left. One Soviet troop convoy crossed into East Germany on Saturday, but after that the troop movement stopped.

IN HUDDLE

In Warsaw, Soviet Communist party chief Leonid I. Brezhnev and Premier Alexei Kosygin met for the second day with top party leaders from Poland, East Germany, Hungary and Bulgaria. Czechoslovakia and Romania, another independent-minded member of the bloc, were not represented.

The Polish and East German leaders have shown particular concern about the course the new Prague regime is taking because both Poland and East Germany have had antigovernment outbreaks since the death of Stalin.

★ ★ ★

Wladyslaw Gomulka of Poland and Walter Ulbricht of East Germany fear that the ferment in Czechoslovakia will spread to their people, and they also are upset about the improved prospects for diplomatic and trade relations between West Germany and Czechoslovakia.

An ominous note was sounded in advance of the meeting by the Polish Communist party newspaper Trybuna Ludu, which called for a "firm rebuff" against "reactionary forces" and "imperialist maneuvers" in Czechoslovakia.

Moscow-to-NY Flights Begin

NEW YORK (AP) — At 4:30 p.m. EDT today, an Ilyushin 62 jet passenger plane is scheduled to land at Kennedy International Airport, making the end of the first direct flight from Moscow to New York and the beginning of regular air service between the two world capitals.

After more than seven years of negotiations, interrupted by such Cold War flare-ups as the building of the Berlin Wall, the United States and the Soviet Union reached agreement earlier this year on a weekly plane service.

Under the agreement, the government-owned Soviet Airline, Aeroflot, will fly from Moscow to New York, with a brief stopover in Montreal, on Mondays and will return on Wednesdays. Pan American World Airways will schedule a flight from New York Monday evening and, flying via Copenhagen, will arrive in Moscow on Tuesday, Moscow time, returning the same day.

The four-engine IL 62, which will have a seating capacity of 20 first and 102 economy class passengers, will have a crew of 11 for its inaugural flight. All speak English. The five stewardesses will wear dark blue uniforms.

The Pan Am Boeing 707-300 fan jet, scheduled to depart at 8:15 p.m. EDT today, has a capacity of 16 first and 127 economy class passengers. It will have a crew of 10.

10 Pct. Surtax in Effect Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The federal government started taking a bigger tax bite out of Americans' paychecks today as the 10 per cent income surtax recommended by President Johnson to help pay for the Vietnam war finally went into effect.

All paychecks received from today on must reflect the surcharge through an increased deduction for federal income taxes.

The 10 per cent increase is on the federal tax Americans already have been paying, not on their total wages.

All paychecks must account for the increased withholding to cover the surcharge even if the money was earned before this week. Only persons in the two lowest income tax brackets are exempt.

President Johnson originally submitted the surcharge to Congress last Aug. 3 and asked for an Oct. 1 effective date for individuals.

When Congress failed to act last year, Johnson changed the effective date for individuals to last April 1, a date approved by Congress in the measure finally passed in June.

Rocky Sees 4th or 5th Ballot Win

From Our News Wires

Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he should win the Republican presidential nomination on the fourth or fifth ballot. A top lieutenant of his chief opponent, Richard M. Nixon, says on the other hand that the former vice president will win on an "early" ballot, with the second ballot the target.

Related Story, Page A-2

Both sides agreed, that Nixon, despite his apparently overwhelming lead currently is not likely to get a first-ballot victory.

Rockefeller said yesterday in a television interview he believed the convention would go "to about four ballots, perhaps five, with nobody getting the necessary plurality on the first but Nixon being ahead.

'STARTS LOSING'

"On the second, Nixon starts losing votes to both Gov. Ronald Reagan and myself," he said. "On the third there's a motion in all directions and on the fourth it starts moving toward me."

Meanwhile, Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey and Richard M. Nixon reportedly boosted their delegate leads for the Democratic and Republican presidential nominations despite weekend setbacks in Colorado and Utah.

★ ★ ★

Humphrey gained 21 new first-ballot delegate votes for 698¾ of the 1,312 needed for the Democratic nomination, according to an Associated Press survey of firm votes.

Nixon was reported to have gained 2 but his total for firm votes remained at 501 of the 667 votes needed for the GOP nomination.

SETBACK AT CONVENTION

Humphrey's setback came at the Colorado Democratic Convention where a slate of 12 at-large delegates favoring him was shut out by a coalition backing Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy and the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy.

The shutout came after McCarthy addressed the convention.

★ ★ ★

But Humphrey won 17 new votes at a Washington state Democratic convention and 4 in Colorado. McCarthy backers claimed 9½ of the Washington delegates votes and he won 2 of the Colorado votes.

Nixon's setback came in Utah where Republicans named eight delegates—the last of the GOP national convention delegates—with five going to California Gov. Ronald Reagan, two reportedly to Nixon and one undecided.

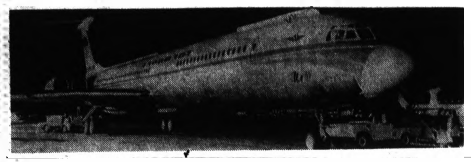

ROCKY PLANS POLL

In another political developments, Rockefeller announced he'll conduct his own poll to indicate who the strongest GOP presidential candidate would be. And an apparent move to elevate Democratic Sen. George S. McGovern of South Dakota as a presidential contender appeared to die a quiet death.

★ ★ ★

At a caucus, the South Dakota democratic delegation voted to commit itself to McGovern as its favorite son. But McGovern, who did not attend the dinner, issued a statement in Washington that his campaigning will be for reelection to the Senate, not for the presidential nomination.

North Viet Sees 'No Glimmer of Hope' at Paris

PARIS (UPI) — The North Vietnamese today said there has been no progress in Vietnam talks with the United States and there is no sign of hope there will be any way out of the 2-month-old deadlock.

"The fact is that up to this hour, the official talks have made no progress, they have not moved an inch and there is no glimmer of hope," Nguyen Thanh Le, North Vietnam delegation chief spokesman, told a news conference.

"American officials are advancing false arguments that moves are being made in Paris, that there are hopeful signs, that there are 'straws in the wind' and what have you," Thanh Le said.

The North Vietnamese delegation previously has said there has been no movement toward the talks' goal of cooling down the war enough to permit a peace conference — but it has never put it so bluntly.

'STRAW IN WIND'

A week ago chief U. S. delegate W. Averell Harriman reported no progress but told newsmen he remained hopeful and felt there was a "straw in the wind." refusal in Washington to order an un-

No, said Thanh Le. He blamed it all on the United States.

★ ★ ★

The deadlock since the talks opened May 13 "is entirely due to the obstinate refusal in Washington to order an unconditional cessation of American (air) raids on North Vietnam," he said.

Thanh Le told the news conference that Hanoi believes "the United States has decided to intensify its war of aggression in Vietnam."

'Political Parties Are Next Targets'

Abernathy Says Drive Will Persist

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Rev. Ralph David Abernathy vows to instill new life in the Poor People's Campaign by carrying it to other parts of the nation.

Primary targets will be the Republican and Democratic national conventions in Miami Beach and Chicago next month, Abernathy said yesterday. He also indicated the campaign would be carried into many major cities.

★ ★ ★

The head of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) declined to elaborate on his plans for the campaign, but said he conceived "new directions" for it while serving a 20-day jail sentence for illegally demonstrating on the capitol grounds.

Abernathy planned to spell out his campaign blueprint at an early afternoon news conference.

LED DEMONSTRATION

He was released from the District of Columbia Jail Saturday, and yesterday led a group of about 400 in a demonstration on Capitol Hill. The demonstrators circled the capitol twice, the fifth and sixth circuits in a symbolic reenactment of the biblical Joshua's seven walks around Jericho, before he and followers destroyed the city.

The seventh circuit is to be held next Sunday.

★ ★ ★

Abernathy, weakened by a partial fast while in jail, only walked around once. Part of Abernathy's plans for the continued Poor People's campaign emerged yesterday as he spoke to his followers.

'WE WILL PERSIST'

"We came here and began a campaign," he said. "They tried to end it by putting us in jail when we went to Capitol Hill. They tried to crush it by tearing down Resurrection City.

"But we're going to take this campaign to Miami, Fla., for the Republican convention and to Chicago, Ill., for the Democratic convention."

★ ★ ★

He said he planned to present demands of the poor people before the platform committees of both parties, and possibly to stage floor demonstrations at each convention.

Health Dept. Closes City Office a Week

The Pontiac office of the Oakland County Health Department will be closed this week and possibly next, beginning today, Dr. Bernard D. Berman, health director, said this morning.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Berman said that services usually performed at the Pontiac office, in the Oakland County Service Center, will be performed at the health department's Southfield office, 27725 Greenfield.

★ ★ ★

The health director said it is necessary to close the office because of difficulties with the building's ventilating system, which may have to be completely overhauled.

The system apparently had been giving off noxious odors which affected some staff members, Dr. Berman said.

SOME AFFECTED

The health director said it is believed some employes who were in the building for long periods had suffered illness or discomfort caused by the ventilating system.

The office will reopen when necessary repairs are completed, he said.

★ ★ ★

Officials said employes who usually work in the Pontiac office will be transferred to the Southfield office until repairs are completed.

SALISBURY, Rhodesia (AP)—Leaders of the ruling Rhodesian Front party gave a solid vote of confidence today to Prime Minister Ian Smith.

Right-wingers in the Rhodesian Front opposed Smith's plan for a new constitution which would provide for eventual parity between whites and nonwhites in Parliament.

Illinois Bell Gets Arbitration Plan

CHICAGO (AP) — Teh Illinois Bell Telephone Co. was studying today a proposal of the striking electrical workers to submit their long and sometimes bitter dispute to binding arbitration.

★ ★ ★

After a two-hour meeting yesterday called by Gilbert J. Seldin, top federal mediator, the utility agreed to consider the union's verbal proposal. A union spokesman said an answer was expted by today "at the latest."

★ ★ ★

The 69-day wage dispute between the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, Systems Council T-4, and Illinois Bell threatens to move the Democratic National Convention from Chicago.

★ ★ ★

Robert A. Nickey, chairman of the council, told a news conference that the Union had presented company officials a plan to submit the prolonged dispute to binding arbitration.

COULD RETURN TO WORK

The company will "consider the proposal as expeditiously as possible," a Bell spokesman said.

Union members could return to work during arbitration said Nickey, if this procedure for setting the strike is "mutually satisfactory" to both sides.

★ ★ ★

Nickey said if Illinois Bell rejects arbitration, the union will have no recourse but to file a charge of "unfair bargaining practices under the National Labor Relations Board."

John M. Bailey, national convention chairman, has warned that if the strike is not settled by July 28, the convention may be moved from Chicago's International Amphitheatre.

★ ★ ★

The walkout by some 11,800 electrical workers, which started May 8, has delayed installation of equipment needed for radio and television coverage of convention, scheduled to begin Aug. 26.

Three networks — ABC, CBSand Mutual — have warned that coverage of the Democratic conclave will be impaired if the strike is not ended soon.

EXCRUCIATING PAIN—Patricia O'Brien, 12, of Watervliet, N.Y., screams in pain yesterday at a hospital as the remaining section of a drainpipe is removed from her swollen arm. She was in the community pool when her arm was sucked into the pipe Saturday.

Dip in Pool by N.Y. Girl, 12, Results in Weekend of Pain

TROY, N.Y. (AP) — Patricia O'Brien just wanted to cool off at a municipal pool, but the 12year-old girl's dip turned into a weekend of extreme pain when her arm was caught in a drain pipe.

Patricia, of nearby Watervliet, went to that city's Schuyler Park Pool Saturday afternoon.

★ ★ ★

At about 4:30, her left arm became lodged up to her shoulder in a drainage pipe that protruded several inches above the concrete base of the shallow pool.

Her father, Albert, told reporters that Patricia slipped and that her arm went into the four-inch, steel pipe as she fell.

The pool was being drained at the time, causing suction.

Police and firemen tried at first to extricate her arm by using grease and oil. When that failed, they broke the concrete with air hammers and separated the pipe section from the base after after five hours.

Patricia, under sedation for pain and the piece of pipe still around her swollen arm, was taken to St. Mary's Hospital here.

★ ★ ★

A second ordeal lasted for nine hours Sunday as members of Tory's rescue squad cut away the pipe with hacksaws.

Bastille Day Clashes Light

FIREWORKS IN PARIS—A cascade of fireworks falls in the sky around the Eiffel Tower in Paris last night. The display marked the close of Bastille Day, France's Independence Day. The day also saw renewed but sporadic antigovernment demonstrations in the French capital.

PARIS (AP) — Small sporadic clashes between police and young demonstrators punctuated Bastille Day celebrations Sunday night in the Latin Qaurter, where crowds of tourists had massed for an evening of merrymaking.

Small groups of students jeered the several thousand helmeted police massed along Boulevard St. Michel, on the watch for leftist disturbances. The police hurled tear gas grenades at the hecklers and launched several baton charges. A number of persons were injured.

★ ★ ★

There were few disturbances in the capital during the day when thousands turned out in drenching rain to watch the annual parade reviewed by President Charles de Gaulle in his brigadier general's uniform. With De Gaulle were Premier Maurice Couve de Murville and other members of the new Cabinet.

After reviewing the troops at the Arc de Triomphe, De Gaulle rode down the Champs Elysees in an open car despite the rain, acknowledging the cheers of the crowd.

Later the president stood in a covered stand and watched units from all branches of the French armed forces march past. Among the displays were bulldozers like those that tore down the barricades the students threw up in May and June.

Birmingham

City Engineers to Offer Plans to Cut Flooding

BIRMINGHAM — The city engineering department will offer several long-range proposals aimed at correcting flooding conditions to the City Commission for their consideration tonight at 8 p.m.

City Engineer William T. Killeen, in a report requested by the commission following the severe flooding of three weeks ago, said that the problem is being studied but that it has not been determined what specific measure can be taken to control or alleviate conditions.

★ ★ ★

As part of the continuing study, Killeen said that it is important that the city cooperate with Beverly Hills on a project to relieve the Acacia Drain sewers.

Many of the basements that flooded, he said, are in the Acacia Drain District which is in both Birmingham and Beverly Hills.

DRAIN 'INADEQUATE'

The drain is inadequate, said Killen, adding that "Although Beverly Hills was not previously interested in participating in the project, we now understand there is an in interest on their part to do so."

Pointing out that the flooding in the city was the result of the River Rouge flooding and the backing up of sewers, Killeen said his department proposes to study the River Rouge, paying particular attention to the problems that occurred on north Woodward, near Redding and Lakeside; and at the Quarton Dam.

★ ★ ★

"We will review the capacity of the existing bridges and other waterway sections to carry flood waters," he said.

"The engineering department feels that the city should consider adopting necessary ordinances to control the River Rouge flood plains," he added.

STUDY FLOOD PLAIN

A flood plain information study has been made by the Corps of Engineers on the river going through the city but it does not include the Quarton Lake branch.

Killeen said that a study of the branch has been requested, but if and when it will be made is uncertain.

★ ★ ★

With the information already available, he said it is possible for the city engineering department to undertake the study.

"From that study, together with the Corp of Engineers study, a flood plain could be defined which would be used in a flood plain ordinance," said Killeen.

Miss Universe a Latin Lovely

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Martha Vasconcellos, a bright-eyed schoolteacher from Brazil, walks into a new world today as Miss Universe.

With a wave of her scepter, a nod of her sparkling crown and a losing effort to fight back happy tears, Miss Vasconcellos ascended her throne Saturday night. She was chosen the loveliest of girls from 65 countries.

★ ★ ★

Until next July when she returns to Miami Beach to hand her crown to Miss Universe 1969, Miss Vasconcellos will spend her time trotting about the globe, earning the $10,000 she is promised in a personal appearance contract.

In addition, the crown carries an award of $10,000, a $7,500 chinchilla jacket and stacks of lesser prizes.

IN FOCUS

Photographers — like those who posed her in bed with her trophy and then trooped to the beach with her yesterday — will become an integral part of her life for the next year.

★ ★ ★

But the 12 months of merry-go-round activity have hardly started and already Miss Vasconcellas admits, despite the admiring hordes: "I am lonely. I am without my family for the first time."

★ ★ ★

Miss Universe likes both her hair and her skirts long. The 5-foot-8, 130-pound beauty says she likes miniskirts but on other girls. "On me I think they're ugly because I am tall," she said.

By THE ASSOCIATED PARESS

At least eight persons were killed on Michigan highways over the weekend, including a 12-year-old Kalamazoo boy who fell between two hay wagons and was crushed by one of them.

The Associated Press count of weekend fatalities started 6 p.m. Friday and ended midnight yesterday.

The victims:

Layton Brown, 12, of Kalamazoo, when he fell between two hay wagons being towed by a farm tractor on a rural road near Hastings Friday night and was crushed by the second wagon.

Bernice T. Seeley, 72, of Millington, killed yesterday when the car she was driving was struck broadside at a rural Genesee County intersection.

Donald Rigel, 57, of Otisville whose car collided with a vehicle Saturday night at an intersection of M115 near Benzonia in Benize County.

Donald H. Boyd Jr., 24, of 583 Peacock, Pontiac, who died Saturday night from injuries suffered hours earlier when his auto ran off a curve and crashed in Waterford Township.

Monte Lafovre, 18, of Newport, when his car missed a turn and rolledover Saturday in Berlin Township, Monroe County.

HEAD-ON CRASH

Andrew Stephens, 64, of Pullman, in a head-on collision Saturday on a road six miles northeast of South Haven.

Arthur Bladgett, 3, of near Charlotte, when the car in which he was riding with his family was struck from behind Friday night on a road near Charlotte.

Michigan's U. S. Senators at Odds on Court Choices

DETROIT (UPI) — Being on opposite sides is not unusual for Michigan's two U.S. senators, especially on the appointment of Abe Fortas from associate justice to chief justice of the U.S. Supreme Court.

Sen. Robert Griffin, a Republican, has been leading a battle to block Fortas' confirmation by the Senate as well as the nomination of Homer Thernberry as an associate justice.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, a Democrat, has been backing President Johnson on the matter.

Both senators were in Detroit over the weekend and each had his own view to express.

'MORE OF A LOBBYIST'

Griffin, who has been hard-pedaling a charge that Fortas won the nomination because he is a "crony" of the President, disparaged Fortas' standing as a lawyer.

"I'm sure that he's got a legal degree and his diploma and so forth," Griffin said. "But, in general, he hasn't been the kind of lawyer who's been in a court a good deal.

"A lot of lawyers in Washington spend a good deal of their time running around on the Hilt and doing different types of lobbying.

* * *

"I think, in general, he has that kind of reputation," Griffin said.

Hart's view, expressed on a Detroit television program, The Lou Gordon Show, was just the opposite.

BRILLIANT LAWYER

"Fortas is not only a most distinguished member of the American Bar, he also is the most brilliantly equipped man to ever go on the court," Hart said.

"The President was dutibound to make the appointment," Hart said when asked if the President was acting as a "lame duck." In 1960, Hart sponsored a resolution to prevent President Eisenhower from making similar appointments near the end of his term.

* * *

Hart said he would be forced to stand by the resolution if the Senate should fail to confirm the nominations, most likely because of a planned filibuster led by Griffin.

Hart said it would be regretable if this should happen.

"A man of these talents," Hart said in reference to Fortas, "should not be denied to America.

Flooding Slows Avon Fire Fight

AVON TOWNSHIP — Two and a half feet of water hampered firemen's fight against a basement blaze early this morning.

Firemen at the Brooklands Fire Station answered a call at 1087 Collingwood at 4:30 a.m., but did not return to the station until 7:30 a.m. because the flood from recent rains slowed the work.

* * *

According to Battalion Chief Frank Mathews, the fire was caused by shorting of wires on the basement ceiling. Paneling around the stairs and ceiling had to be torn out to reach the blaze.

The fire caused damage estimated at $8,000 to the building and $2,000 to the contents. No one was injured.

Seven Drown in Michigan Waters

By The Associated Press

A 6-year-old gird and her 4-year-old brother who wandered away from their parents in Boyne City Saturday night were among seven people who drowned in Michigan waters over the weekend.

The Associated Press count started 6 p.m. Friday and ended last midnight.

Other victims:

- Kenneth Korreck, 6, of Grand Rapids, who was found floating in weeds at a beach in Long Lake State Park in Kent County yesterday after being reported missing on a family outing.

West Bloomfield Farm Gets Centennial Designation

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A farm owned by Mr. and Mrs. James Burke of 2398 St. Joseph, has been designated a centennial farm by the Michigan Historical Commission.

The farm, located in Tuscola County, Almer Township, has been owned by the family since 1865. It was originally purchased in 1865 by Daniel A. Marsaw, grandfather of the present owners, from Benjamin F. Richards.

* * *

A centennial farm, according to the commission, is one which has been in the continuous possession of the same family for 100 years or more. The farms are to be 10 acres or more, having estimated sales of more than $50 yearly, or less than 10 acres but having estimated sales of $250 annually.

Historical markers are provided by Consumers Power Co. and Detroit Edison Co.

Mrs. Burke's mother also owned a centennial farm in Troy Township. The land, which she sold four years ago, is now part of Oakland Mall, according to Mrs. Burke.

Persons owning farms who wish to apply for centennial farm certificates are asked to write for an application to Centennial Farm Program, Michigan Historical Commission, Department of Statee, Lansing, Michigan 48918.

Avon Voters OK Fire Station Site

AVON TOWNSHIP — At a meeting Saturday afternoon the township's qualified electorate acted on two propositions concerning the Brooklands Fire Station.

The first of two propositions called for sale of the present station at 1725 E. Auburn. According to a township spokesman there were 23 yes votes and one no to sale of the site for $9,000.

* * *

The second proposal was for purchase of land on the north side of Auburn west of Frankson as the site of a new fire hall.

One person abstained while 27 voted in favor of the second proposal. The larger vote count was due to late arrivals to the meeting.

* * *

The station site is being changed because the present location is not convenient, according to the spokesman.

Four in Jackson Jailed in Strife

JACKSON (UPI) — Riot-armed police used the chemical Mace early today in making arrests as groups of Negro youths roamed through the city's south side, stoning cars and breaking windows.

Two homes and a car were firebombed, but the blazes were extinguished by policemen.

Two policemen were assulted during the disturbance, which lasted a little over four hours. One policeman was treated at a local hospital and released. The other visited his own physician.

Police said 11 shots were fired, "but not by policemen." There were no injuries.

Police were unable to say how many persons were involved in the disturbance but said groups ranging from 25 persons to 100 persons were seen.

Four person were arrested on charges of disorderly conduct. Their names were withheld pending arraignment.

(EDITOR'S NOTE—This is another in a series of articles on research General Motors conducts at its Milford Proving Ground. The following is based on "The Application of Anthropometry to Automotive Design" by Ronald W. Roe and Dr. Peter Kyropoulos of General Motors Research Laboratories.)

MILFORD — If you feel depressed at the end of the day, it may be for good reason. The fact is, you could be almost an inch shorter at dinner than at breakfast. The change in height occurs when the spinal column relaxes and "stretches" during sleep, then compresses under the load of a day's activities.

This was one of the sidelights in a technical paper presented last week by Dr. Peter Kyropoulos, technical director for General Motors Styling, and Ronald W. Roe of Styling's Safety and Human Performance Group, at the General Motors Safety Seminar at the GM Proving Ground in Milford.

The daily change in the height of a human body is sufficient to cause many people to re-adjust the rearview mirrors in their cars before driving home in the evening, they noted.

The two styling representatives discussed the application of human dimenssion studies (anthropometry) to automotive design at the seminar.

METHODS, TOOLS

They also reviewed the methods and tools used to guide designers in developing the most comfortable and efficient seating layouts and the functional location of controls with a passenger car or truck cab.

"We are interested in the deimension of the driving population, men and women, between the ages of 15 and 75, in the seated position and performing normal driving tasks, such as reaching for controls and looking into rear-view mirrors," the authors said.

* * *

For this reason, they pointed out, overall height measurements are "only part of the story." They observed that arm length, leg length, torso length and shoulder and hip width may vary considerably among persons of the same height.

Statistically, there is no such thing as "the average-sized man or woman," they said, "and it is an oversimplification to refer to the '95th percentil male' or the '6th percentile female'."

MAIN CONCERN

For example, an automotive designer percentile reach when seated" — a figure which takes into consideration both male and female dimensional data — "and this may be considerably different than the 'reach' of a woman of 5th percentile standing height."

MADE TO MEASURE—This device determines the reach capabilities of various-sized persons restrained by lap and shoulder belts. Retractable rulers measure comfortable reach distance to 35 locations on the instrument panel so that designers can position controls within the restrained driver's reach.

Car Flies off I-75; Driver Badly Hurt

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A Ferndale man is in serious condition today in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after his car flipped over an overpass guard rail on southbound I-75 near Square Lake Road and flew almost 200 feet before it stopped off the roadway.

According to township police, Robert L. Turk, 19, of Ferndale was driving on the second level of the three-tiered overpass when his car hit the guard rail.

* * *

Police estimated the drop to the ground was 45 feet, adding that the momentum carried the car 200 feet from the top of the bridge.

Police said the Turk car was not easily visible from the road and was not discovered until almost an hour after the mishap.

* * *

A patrolman sent to the scene could find no accident vehicle. Only by chance, as he was returning to the station on the lower level of the highway, did he discover the car with Turk, unconscious inside.

Lapeer Youth Earns National Scholarship

LAPEER — A youth here has been named with more than 2,800 nationwide winners as a recipient of a National Merit Scholarship.

George A. Kocur of 1555 W. Genesee was selected from among the 14,000 national finalists competing for college funds in the contest sponsored by the National Merit Scholarship Corp.

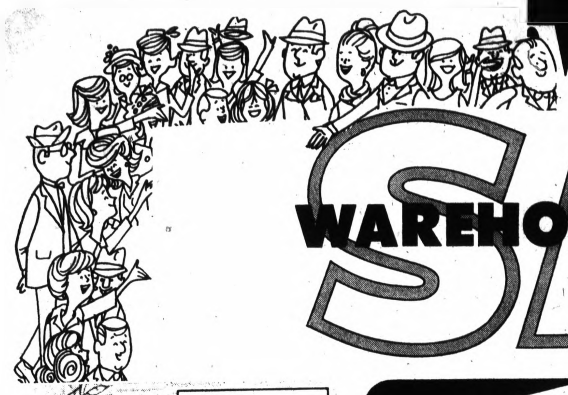

* * *

Kocur, a recent graduate of Lapeer High School, will attend Massachusetts Institute of Technology in the fall. His scholarship is for up to $1,500.

COINS FLIP—An Ohio Highway Patrolman uses a vacuum machine to pick up thousands of dollars worth of U.S. coins of all denominations that were scattered over I-75 near Findlay Friday when a trailer overturned. The coins were scattered over a quarter-mile area, and officers spent three hours clearing the highway. Owner of the coins John Abbott, 32, of Bloomfield Hills said the coins had a face value of $15,000, but many are rare so that the entire collection probably is worth more than $100,000.

Summer 'Do' at VWC Is Now Only Happy Memory

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

It was a festive party at the Village Woman's Club Saturday evening. Their only summer party — outdoor barbecue dinner and dance — was a huge success.

Capacity reservations were filled early; the weather was perfect and the tables with green table cloths and hurricane lamps decorated with daisies made a most attractive setting.

Mr. and Mrs. Judge W. Bearden were chairmen, together with the Kenneth R. Dickinsons as cochairmen.

The Beardens had as their guests Mr. and Mrs. Frank Misch, Mr. and Mrs. John C. Moons, the Hubert Pattersons, Mr. and Mrs. Holland Weir and Dr. and Mrs. Donald Kaump.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd H. Diehl, Jr. were o at the dinner their time betweentheir also at the dinner dance. The Diehl family is dividing their time between their home here and their home at Lake Angelus where the young people especially enjoy swimming and sailing.

Julie who is interested in the arts will be attending Pratt's in New York this fall; Lloyd III is presently busy with his drivers training; Cynthia is having a fascinating experience working on the presidential convention in Washington; and Meg and her friends are taking advantage of every sport available this summer.

Mrs. Carson E. Dalton returned from a quick visit with her son Carson and his family in Caro, Ill., bringing with her grand-daughter Cynthia.

Today (Monday) Mrs. Dalton and Cynthia meet another granddaughter from Summit, N. J., Linda Ruth Youngman who will be spending a week here. Later Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Youngman, will visit here and all will make a trip West.

Mrs. Ata Berker has returned home after six weeks of travel with her father, Boris Hagelin. They visited Switzerland where Mr. Hagelin resides part of the year, Greece, Austria and Sweden.

MRS. RALPH J. WINTER

Ginger Dodge Weds Ralph Winters

Newlyweds, the Ralph James Winters (nee Ginger Joyce Dodge) departed for a honeymoon trip to the Hawaiian Islands following a reception at the Gingellville Community Center Saturday evening.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph M. Dodge of Hiram Street, Orion Township and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald M. Winter of Chagrin Falls, Ohio, were wed earlier that evening in United Methodist Church of Lake Orion.

For the exchange of vows by candlelight, the bride chose a Bianchi gown of ivory peau de soie with matching chapel length train fastened at the shoulders.

Alencon lace, frosted with seed pearls, accented the Empire bodice.

To secure her illusion veil, she wore a Bianchi pillbox of matching lace. White gardenias with Stephanotis comprised the bride's bouquet.

Honor attendants were the bride's sister, Louise, and Carl N. Hartkoff of St. Louis, Mo. Michele Dingman and Kenneth Strzelecki attended as flower girl and ring bearer.

Other members of the wedding party were bridesmaids Mrs. Earnest Smith, Mrs. Thomas Lacey, Jacquelynn Vallad, Charles Cronick, Frank Lamping and Kent Carpenter.

Boyfriend's Game Is Blackmail

Inform 'Nice Guy' Affair Is Over

By ABAGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am caught in a terrible web and live in constant fear. Please help me.

ABBY

I have been married for five years and just a housewife. Recently I started working to supplement our income. I met this nice guy at work and we became attracted to each other. One thing led to another, and we would stop for a drink after work. Then I started going to his place on my day off.

Now I want to break off with him.

When I told him I wanted to stop this affair he said he wouldn't let me, and if I didn't continue to see him he would tell my husband everything. What am I going to do? He is single. He has nothing to lose, and I have everything to lose. DESPERATE

DEAR DESPERATE: The name of that game is BLACKMAIL. Tell this "nice guy" that the affair is over, and if he wants to tell your husband, to go ahead and tell him. The chances are, he won't, because an admission of this kind will invite trouble for himself.

But if he does, prepare to get on your knees and ask your husband to forgive you. It won't be easy, but it's better than living in constant fear.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and plan to marry a man who is 24. His mother died when he was a baby, and his older sister raised him. They have always been very close, and she is like a mother to him.

My problem is this: For our wedding gift, his sister gave us all our linen, blankets, and bedspreads. I thought this was very nice of her, but Abby, they were for TWIN BEDS, and we hadn't planned on having twin beds.

When we told her, she looked hurt, but she took them back to exchange. Don't most newlyweds have a double bed? And if so, why would his sister assume that we were going to have twin beds? GETTING MARRIED

DEAR GETTING: You say that she has always been "very close" to her brother. Perhaps unconsciously she doesn't want to accept the fact that someone else will be even closer to him. In any case, she should have asked first.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I am a teen-ager and I am writing this letter because I have something to say. I love to "take trips" to find my real self. I don't use drugs or LSD, but what I use is just as effective.

When I feel low or disgusted with something or somebody I "take a trip" by going to some quiet secluded spot. (I live on a farm, so I use the pastures.) I just lie down and think about people and what I can do for them, and how I have behaved toward them.

The "drug" I use is fresh air. I inhale as deeply as I can and all at once the world seems so much brighter. Then I remind myself to smile more often because when I smile I find that people smile back to me.

Before I started taking these "trips" I was a very small and selfish person. I thought only of myself. Now I think of others. Maybe if a few hippies would try this new "drug" they would learn to love the world better, and wouldn't want to escape from it. Sincerely yours,

KARYN EK, WEST LINN, ORE.

French Designers Take Note

Fashion World Nods at Rome

By PATRICK E. O'KEEFE
Associated Press Writer

ROME—French haute couture houses had better play heed to the new trumpet call of the fashion world: The Italians are coming.

At their fall-winter showing in Rome today, Italian houses seek the acclaim from buyers and critics that could make them the pacesetters in style, design and hem length.

The Italians have gained in reputation each season. In addition to their expert sewing and fine sense of beauty, they have shown the knack for the dressy little gimmick that will catch the critics' eyes and give the ready-to-wear people something to copy quickly.

* * *

The colors the Italians seem agreed upon this year are the muted shades of gray, nacy, dark green and brown, with a prominent exception — a bright zany red.

Up and coming among the newer Italian houses are Andre Laug and Sanlorenzo.

Laug spent four years designing for Antonelli and now has his own white-walled, brown-carpeted salon in Piazza di Spagna, a very right location. His collection this year has the sharp, constructive lines he loves, with no needless frills.

At Sanlorenzo is a young fashion wizard named Gian Battista Vannozzi who is back in Italy after several seasons with Irene Galitzine in Paris.

With the rise in the Italians' fashion stock came a rise in the fees that store buyers pay to see the collections. In some cases the fees have more than doubled.

House Critic of War Foes Dies

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Rep. Joe Pool, D-Tex., an outspoken critic of Vietnam war protesters and resistance to the draft, collapsed and died at the Houston airport Sunday after being stricken with an apparent heart attack. He was 57.

* * *

Pool was a member of the House Committee on Un-American Activities and had advocated 20-year jail terms for those who blocked troop train or sent blood and supplies to the Viet Cong.

The Dallas congressman was pronounced dead shortly after 6 p.m. Sunday at Southeast Memorial Baptist Hospital in Houston.

"From all appearances, the man died of a heart attack," said a spokesman at the Harris County medical examiner's office.

Pool, a strong supporter of President Johnson's Vietnam policies, had often said he would vote for a declaration of war against North Vietnam.

He was first elected to Congress in 1962.

Pilot Is State Man

Plane Hunted in West

HELENA, Mont. (UPI) — A full-scale search was to begin early today for a light plane, with five persons aboard, missing on a flight between Seattle, Wash., and the Helena Airport.

The pilot was identified as Garland Reynolds, Berrien Springs, Mich. The names of the four passengers were not immediately known.

Authorities said the single-engine Bonanza was due at Helena at 2 p.m. Sunday. The last contact was earlier, when Reynolds radioed the Spokane, Wash., airport concerning weather conditions at Mullan Pass on the Montana-Idaho border.

Reynolds' flight plans indicated he would have been out of fuel a half-hour after being due at Helena, according to Montana Aeronautics Commission Director Jack Wilson.

WATCH FOR PLANE

Aircraft along the route were notified to watch for the red and white plane.

Wilson said the route — Seattle to Spokane to Mullan Pass to Missoula to Helena — is not difficult. He said the mountains are not high and the weather has been good, and it's well-traveled. He said there were fairly strong winds aloft, but "The tubulence wasn't enough to bother anyone."

Because of the high tail winds, Wilson also directed that the search be extended east of Helena.

'Suspicious' Newark Fires Kill One, Rout Hundreds

NEWARK, N.J. (AP) — Two blazes killed one fireman and routed hundreds of persons Sunday.

Fire Director John P. Caufield said both fires were "definitely suspicious."

* * *

One fire raced through half a dozen vacant tenements in Newark's predominantly Negro Central Ward, the scene exactly a year ago of rioting that took 26 lives.

The blaze began at 2:30 a.m. and sent hundreds of residents from threatened tenements across the street fleeing in night clothes and underwear.

FATHER OF TWO

The fire took the life of fireman Edward Dennis, a 41-year-old father of two. Authorities said he died of exhaustion.

Caufield said an investigation would delve into the possibility of arson.

* * *

"Why would a fire start in the middle of the night in vacant buildings?" he said.

A short time later, a three-alarm blaze broke out in a vacant four-story factory on Mulberry Street in downtown Newark. One fireman was slightly injured and the factory was burned out.

At the first fire, most of the residents were able to return to their homes after the fire was brought under control.

Caufield said the apartment houses received only slight heat damage from the fire across the street.

Items and $100 Lost in Break-In

Items valued at more than $700 and $100 in cash were reported stolen early today in a break-in of a Pontiac home.

James Dunn, 34, of 427 Thors told Pontiac police he found his house had been entered when he returned home about 1:20 a.m.

* * *

Taken were a television set, a stereo, a radio, several electric kitchen utensils, a watch, two rings and eight suits, investigators were told.

Police said entry was made by breaking out a basement window.

* * *

Identification officers checked for latent fingerprints at the scene, police said.

Hospital Picketing Brings Arrest of 39

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Thirty-nine persons were arrested Sunday and charged with contempt of court in connection with picketing at two state hospitals here. All were held in jail overnight.

Judge E. Newton Vickers ordered a hearing today after a meeting attended by the Shawnee County prosecutor and attorneys representing the state and the Kansas Health Workers Union Local 1271 William Lucy of Washington, D. C., an international representative of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, also was at the meeting.

* * *

In all, 85 persons were arrested Saturday night and Sunday. Two juveniles were released and turned over to juvenile authorities.

Fourty-four others are charged with blocking traffic and entrances to Topeka State Hospital and the Kansas Neurological Institute, a misdemeanor that carries a fine of up to $100 on conviction for a first offense.

Sunday was the fourth day of picketing.

The U.S. Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, Long Island, N.Y., is celebrating its 25th anniversary this year.

S. Lyon Boy, 11, Is Found Dead

Apparently Overcome in Shed by Gases

An 11-year-old South Lyon boy was apparently overcome by inert or natural gases early yesterday in a small storage shed in the back yard of his family's home, Brighton State Police said today.

The body of Carvel H. Cogger was discovered by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Cogger of 58358 11 Mile, about 8:30 a.m. yesterday, police said.

* * *

South Lyon fire officials were called to the scene with resuscitators, but the boy could not be revived.

Medical experts and officials of the Consumer Gas Co. are meeting today to try to determine what sort of gas might have accumulated in the small wooden shack.

SAMPLES EXTRACTED

Air samples have been extracted from the structure, which was described by police as about eight feet by 10 by eight. In the floor of the structure is a small opening that leads to a storage basement underground.

There is no gas outlet or gas pump nearby, police noted.

Parents of the boy told State Police the Carvel has stored fishing bait in the shed, for years, and that he was going to get some worms when he apparently was overcome by the gases.

It was estimated by police that he was in the shed about one hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Cogger also told officials they had noticed an odor over the years, but it was never strong or offensive. The odor was described by police as similar to that of a musky, damp cavern.

An autopsy was scheduled for today to determine the exact cause of death and in hopes of getting more information about the gas that apparently caused the asphyxiation, police said.

* * *

In 1964 he became assistant headmaster at Stowe Preparatory School, Stowe, Vt., the position he held at the time of his death.

He is survived by three children, Sandra Stephen and Laurie.

Memorials may be sent to the Walter H. Young Memorial Fund at Stowe School.

Economic News Is Mixed

Mart Moves Generally Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved generally higher in fairly active trading early today.

Helped by good economic news, stocks advanced on balance. Gains outnumbered losses by about 120 issues on the New York Stock Exchange. The Dow Jones Industrial Average was up more than a point.

IBM rose about 2 points. The company reported second-quarter earnings 46 per cent higher than for the like period a year ago.

Chrysler gained 1 and Montgomery Ward about 1¼.

Maremont, slightly delayed, sank more than a point at its opening. The Federal Trade Commission has challenged more than 40 acquisitions made by Maremont since 1953 to broaden and integrate its operations.

TWA also dropped a couple of points. Little change was shown by other airlines.

The major steelmakers improved fractionally. Autos were mixed, rubbers a shade lower on balance, electronics higher.

It was the first day of withholding of earnings for the new 10 per cent surtax. But the rise in auto sales and an increased flow of favorable earnings comparisons of large corporations were regarded as encouraging.

Chadbourn-Gotham was up ½ at 17 on a block of 28,000 shares.

On Friday, the Associated Press Average of 60 Stocks dropped .8 to 349.2.

Prices were higher on the American Stock Exchange. Gulf American and Coburn rose nearly a point each. Stop 'N' Shop lost more than a point. Active fractional gainers included New Idria Mining, Reeves Industries, Kin-Ark Oil, Lerner Stores Warrants, and Banner Industries.

Hospital Employes Hold Off on Strike

A threatened strike today by Pontiac State Hospital employes has been held off to see if hospital officials bargain in good faith as they have promised, a union chairman said.

Mrs. Dorothy Sinsabaugh said about 800 members of Local 49, Michigan State Employe's Union have been placed on "24-hour standby".

"If the hospital management doesn't provide a union office for us today as they promised, I'll call a strike," she said.

* * *

The standby strike notice came last night on recommendation from the local's bargaining committee. It followed three days of meetings of hospital and state officials and union leaders in Lansing last week. A fact-finding report also was made.

PROGRESS CITED

Both Mrs. Sinsabaugh and Dr. Donald W. Martin, hospital superintendent, said they feel progress has been made and will now concentrate on working out agreements.

* * *

A meeting has been scheduled for 10 a.m. tomorrow to start work on the agreements.

* * *

A strike by the employes of the housing, nursing, food service and maintainance departments had been threatened over alleged unfair assignments, grievance procedure, promotions, shortage of help and harassment of union officers.

* * *

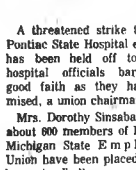

Mrs. Sinsabaugh indicated that the union office is the first test of the management's sincerity in the agreement.

OTHER PROMISES

A number of other promises, including improvements in the grievance procedure, were made by hospital authorities, according to Mrs. Sinsabaugh.

* * *

Workers were told they face suspension under state Civil Service rules if they walk out on the 2,200 mental patients.

People in the News

By The Associated Press

Peter Edelman, 30, a top adviser to the late Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, and Marion Wright, 29, a close friend of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., the slain civil rights leader, were married yesterday in a simple ceremony in McLean, Va.

The marriage was performed by the Rev. William Sloane Coffin, 44, chaplain of Yale University who was found guilty last month with Dr. Benjamin Spock and others of conspiring to counsel evasion of the draft. Some 200 friends and relatives of the couple witnessed the ceremony here at the home of Adam Walinsky, another member of the Kennedy advisory team.

Arthur J. Goldberg, former U.S. chief representative to the United Nations and a justice on the Supreme Court, told the couple — whose lives had been touched by the assassinations of King and Kennedy—it was not "easy" in such a year to celebrate an event of joy.

The bride, born in Bennettsville, S.C., was graduated from Yale Law School and was the first Negro admitted to the bar in Mississippi. She handled cases for the NAACP legal defense fund and worked for the Southern Christian Leadership Conference during the Poor People's campaign.

Edelman, who is white, is a former official in the Justice Department and a native of Minneapolis.

Ex-University Head Leaving Priesthood

Msgr. John L. Storm, a former president of the University of San Diego, says he is leaving the Roman Catholic Church and the priesthood because the church continues to institutionalize God.

The educator explained in a statement yesterday why he plans to leave the priesthood after 25 years: "We can't afford to lose God in order to build a church."

"As it stands today, a priest experiences the church's top-level decisions which evidence little concern for the individual with whom God would have priests and all mankind first concerned . . .

"There being no satisfactory way of reasoning with an autocratic system, I am resigning while I am still in possession of my health."

Since resigning as president of the church-operated university in 1959, Msgr. Storm has been pastor of All Hallows Church in the San Diego suburb of La Jolla. Msgr. Storm, 50, said he left his pastorate July 5. He contradicted a statement by Bishop Francis J. Furey of the San Diego diocese that he left because of ill health.

Mexican Fisherman Rescued After 18 Days Adrift

Carlos Prado Uribie, 20, a Mexican fisherman, has been rescued after a harrowing 18 days adrift in the Gulf of Mexico in a tiny green rowboat.

The young fisherman covered 534 miles. Several times he spotted ships between swells but they didn't see him.

Uribie lived off bait, dead fish, and rainwater after he became lost near the Yucatan Peninsula. He was plucked from the Gulf Saturday night by the crew of the Escaut, a Belgian freighter.

"I prayed to God and Our Lady of Guadalupe to save me," Uribie said. "About the 12th day I tried to commit suicide with a rope and oar. Then my faith in God came back. I no longer wanted to kill myself."

Uribie had been working in the eight-foot skiff when a storm separated him from the fishing vessel El Rayo. He was sunburned and weary after his ordeal but otherwise satisfactory.

Red Newsman Back in Britain After 20 Years

Alan Winnington, a journalist who covered the Korean war from the Communist side for the London Daily Worker, returned home yesterday after 20 years in exile.

"I am British, and my roots are here, whatever people may think," Winnington said. "It is difficult to put down roots in a foreign country."

Winnington, 58, left London in 1949 for Asia. The British Consulate in Peking refused to renew his passport in 1954. He got a new one last month.

He is now an East Berlin correspondent for the Worker. He said he is here for a three-week stay.

Brazil's Merchant Fleet Largest in Latin America

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Brazil's merchant fleet was the largest in Latin America in 1967 and also was growing the fastest.

* * *

Figures issued by the Institutos de Estudios da la Iberamericana, located in Buenos Aires, showed Argentina's merchant fleet in second place in tonnage.

* * *

The Institute's report covered self-propelled vessels of more than 1,000 tons registered weight. Total tonnage was 3,696,423 — a 1.4 per cent increase over 1966. The average age per vessel dropped from 15.1 years in 1966 to 14.7 years in 1967.

At year's end there were 111 vessels totaling 928,960 tons contracted to be built or under construction — a 25.1 per cent growth compared with 17.4 per cent in 1966.

COUNTRY BREAKDOWN

The Institute's country-by-country breakdown of total ships and their tonnage was:

Argentina — 186 ships, 1,056,796 tons; Brazil—205 ships, 1,085,580 tons; Chile—43 ships, 262,056 tons; Colombia and Ecuador—34 ships, 192,745 tons; Cuba—47 ships, 200,000 tons; Dominican Republic—three ships, 7,630 tons; Guatemala—two ships, 3,629 tons; Mexico—33 ships, 248,543 tons; Nicaragua—six ships, 15,221 tons; Paraguay—23 ships, 21,273 tons; Peru—32 ships, 197,876 tons; Uruguay — 19 ships, 112,851 tons, and Venezuela—36 ships, 291,323 tons.

Ad Exec Sees Glut of Words

DALLAS (AP) — Communication experts are calling this the age of communication, but a Chicago advertising executive said at a meeting here it is the age of "communication pollution."

* * *

Edward H. Weiss, head of a major agency, said that in addition to the pollution of water and air by modern industrial techniques, "we are also suffering from the pollution of words."

* * *

"People communicate when they speak freely, deeply and meaningfully to each other," he said.

* * *

Weiss asserted that words are tools that can be used for three purposes: express thoughts, conceal thoughts and camouflage the fact that there are no thoughts at all.

* * *

He urges a communication revolution: write less, read less, answer less. He advocates the spoken word in person for interoffice communications.

Few Civilians Remain in Port City Given Up by the Biafrans

PORT HARCOURT, Nigeria (AP) — Only several hundred civilians remain in this key port city, which once had 300,000 inhabitants including a large expatriate community.

Everyone else has fled into the swampy bush of the surrounding state, or northward into shrinking Biafra—carrying whatever is movable.

Those remaining have been assigned to encampment areas, looked after by sort of "street captains" who log their movements.

For Port Harcourt is now the military headquarters for Col. Benjamin Adekunle's 3rd Marine Battalion, which controls the coastline and holds a steady front against Biafra's underside.

Soldiers with red octopus shoulder patches guard the vital airport, strewn with wreckage of the rebels' B25s, B26s, DC3s, and helicopters. In the distance are smoke columns of crude oil pipelines and wells, blown up by retreating Biafrans and burning unchecked for months.

Army headquarters is the Shell BP compound, where the emergency power supply accounts for the only electricity and water—and cold beer—in town. Cigarettes—if you can get them—cost $3.40 a pack.

★ ★ ★

The Presidential Hotel looks almost ready for guests, though the flowers have wilted from lack of watering. Much of the vegetation in Port Harcourt—known as the garden city—looks more natural, as grass and bushes grow unclipped.

A Bank of America agent sent here to "pick up the pieces" was surprised to find the bank untouched, and its records intact. Nearly all others are less lucky, with a number of vital records carried off or destroyed.

The Unilever agent said the United Africa Company lost three buildings to fire, apparently during the rebels' anti-British vandalism.

Scattered damage appears to be mostly the result of vandalism and looting rather than fighting.

The Bank of America man is considering moving back shortly just to keep eye on the property. It is impossible to estimate when the city's life might begin again, since the war is still going on around it.

Air-Bus Engine Being Quieted

By Science Service

A major effort to reduce noise in the engines powering the trijet Lockheed 1011 air-bus is being conducted by the engines' builder, Rolls Royce Ltd., in Derby, England.

★ ★ ★

Some 176 of the 1011's have been ordered so far, all of them to be powered by the RB211 turbofan, rated at 40,680 pounds of thrust for takeoff. To handle planned future payload and range increases, Rolls Royce is working to uprate the engine to 46,500 pounds of thrust by 1975 and 50,000 pounds later on.

★ ★ ★

The RB211 is already a quiet design, but the company's quieting plans are elaborate enough to have inspired the construction of several new facilities, including what is reportedly the world's largest anechoic chamber.

To cut down the whine of the engine's turbine during landing, it will be fitted with special flaps which will partially close the exhaust nozzle. A special cowling is also being designed with an acoustically insulated lining.

★ ★ ★

The engine's first test run is now set for September. The first flight test, according to Rolls Royce, will take place in a specially modified Vickers VC-10 jetliner, in which a pair of RB211's will replace two of its standard Conway powerplants.
