U.S. Won't Quit in Hoffa Case

Justice Department May Use Grand Jury to Get at Buried Facts

WASHINGTON—The Justice Department is reported to be using the services of a grand jury to obtain otherwise inaccessible information in connection with a continuing study of activities of Teamster boss James Hoffa.

The department declined to comment, except to say the various Hoffa matters which had been referred to it by the McClellan Senate Labor-Management Rackets Committee still were being studied.

The Senate committee headed by Sen. John L. McClellan (D-Ark.) demanded investigation of Hoffa's income taxes, financial dealings and political activities.

It also requested a study of Hoffa's testimony in the racketeering hearings to determine whether any perjury was involved.

Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters, has been acquitted in federal court trials on charges of trying to bribe a racketeering committee aide and of violating federal wire tapping laws in spying on subordinate unionists.

Cost of Living Dips Slightly in December

WASHINGTON—Living costs dipped two-tenths of one per cent in December—their first decline since August.

Lower prices for food, automobiles and clothing overbalanced increases in rents, other housing items, medical care and other consumer costs.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics price index declined to 123.7 per cent of the 1947-49 average, the base.

In reporting this today, the bureau noted the index stood 1.7 per cent higher than December, 1957.

The December index was exactly the same as that of last September and last June.

Some 700,000 workers whose pay rates are geared to quarterly and semiannual adjustments of the index consequently will receive no change in pay.

Count 90 Dead as Cold Follows Lethal Storms

Eastern Half of U.S. Tabs Damage Mounting Into Tens of Millions

From Our News Wires

A massive cold wave knifed across the Eastern half of the country today in the wake of winter's most severe and destructive weather, which left a heavy toll of dead and homeless.

The death toll in the succession of snow, wind, sleet and rain storms which began Tuesday neared the 100 mark. Damage mounted into the tens of millions of dollars.

A count since the start of the storms showed at least 90 weather-connected deaths in traffic, over-exertion, drowning, exposure or tornadoes.

There were 16 deaths in Ohio, 13 in Wisconsin, 11 in Illinois, 10 in Michigan, 9 in Indiana, 6 in New York state, 4 each in Iowa, Kentucky and Pennsylvania, 3 in both Missouri and Oklahoma, 2 each in Kansas, New Mexico and Texas, and 1 in Washington.

The fresh outbreak of cold weather was not expected to moderate much during the day, except in Southern areas.

The widespread variety of intense storms which have pounded the Eastern two-thirds of the country this week ended Thursday as the front, with cold dry air clashing with warm moist air, moved across the coast and out into the Atlantic.

TODAY'S TEMPERATURES

6 a.m. 2 12 noon 6
8 a.m. -1 1 p.m. 9

Area residents better keep their overcoats buttoned up in view of a prediction by the U.S. Weather Bureau and the cold will continue today and tonight.

Today's predicted high will reach 15 degrees with partly cloudy skies and a few light snow flurries. The low tonight will be about 3 above in Pontiac and is expected to drop below zero in outlying areas.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and a little warmer with a high of about 19. Winds will be westerly 20-25 m.p.h. today, diminishing tonight.

Most main roads throughout the area are reported in good condition by police but side roads are still extremely slippery. Police warn motorists to drive slowly and leave plenty of room between your car and the one ahead in which to make an unexpected stop.

The five-day outlook for this area calls for temperatures to average about 10 degrees below the normal high of 33 and low of 19.

Temperatures will rise slowly through Monday, turning colder again Tuesday or Wednesday. Precipitation will total near one-tenth of an inch as light snow Sunday night and Monday.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 1 below zero. The mercury climbed to 9 above at 1 p.m.

Says Irons Can Keep Badges

Royal Oak Twp. Police Captain Claims Force Still Has Power

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons can keep his deputy badges forever as far as Royal Oak Township's Police Department is concerned.

Captain Samuel Whitfield, head of the department, said last night, "My men have just as much power as deputy sheriffs."

The department's 13 members have been notified by Irons that their appointments as Oakland County deputies "expired" as of midnight, Dec. 31, 1958.

Irons said he took the action because four township officers refused to cooperate in an investigation into alleged corruption within the department and in a crack-down on vice in the community.

Without deputy authority, Irons said, township police have power to enforce only local ordinances, but not state laws. He said he was acting under the provisions of a 1948 state act.

The growing feud between Irons and the department was brought up before the Township Board last night when an exchange of communications between Whitfield and Irons was read to Board members.

Supervisor Elwood Dickens told the Board he, personally, had received no communication from Irons, and recommended no action. Board members unanimously voted to take the matter "under advisement," and called for a meeting with township attorney Lynn V. Hooe Jr. to consider the issue. No date was set for the meeting.

Whitfield, who did not attend the meeting, but was in the Township Hall on other business, told reporters, "I've checked the Michigan Police Law Manual, and my men don't have to be deputies to enforce state laws."

"They have just as much power as they ever did—with or without deputy status. We're going to continue operating just as we have."

"If Frank Irons thinks we're wrong, then he can fight us in the (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Swollen Waters Pour Into Shafts of Gouged Mine

Ice Laden Susquehanna Bursts Hole in Coal Car Shuttle Pit

From Our News Wires

PITTSBURGH, Pa.—Rescuers worked throughout the night searching for a trace of the 12 miners reported missing when the swollen Susquehanna river gouged a hole in a tunnel 30 feet under the river bed and poured tons of water into the shafts of a mine at nearby Port Griffith.

The ice laden water burst the 20-foot-wide hole in the quarter-mile long tunnel which was used to shuttle coal cars between the east and west operations of the Knox Coal Co.

Twenty-eight of the 44 miners who escaped wandered through a maze of dark air shafts for more than six hours before they emerged from the long abandoned eagle shaft.

Earlier, five other men had made their way to safety through the same shaft which had been in operation for some 50 years.

The first 11 miners clawed their way to the surface "like chipmunks" as the water poured into the shafts.

Robert Groves, superintendent of the Knox Co., said "there is a good chance that the 12 missing men might still be alive if they are able to reach certain air pockets."

"We never heard the water come in at all," one miner said. "It was just there."

Twenty-six men wandered through the maze of tunnels in waist-deep water for seven hours before a rescue team found and brought them to safety up the air shaft.

BOTTOMLESS HOLE

A little diesel engine kept pushing coal cars into the whirlpool of water and ice chunks that marks the seemingly bottomless hole in the river's bank.

But the cars, and the tons of baled hay also used to plug the breach, vanished into the swirling waters.

Worried relatives and townspeople watched quietly from the edge of the cliff as the crews worked (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Floods Bringing Havoc to Ohio, Pennsylvania

From Our News Wires

Floods were bringing havoc to scores of communities in Ohio and Pennsylvania today.

There were frightening prospects that the worst is yet to come.

Down along the banks of Ohio's rain-choked rivers whole communities waited, bracing themselves for the terrible floodwaters that have already brought death and destruction and untold misery to tens of thousands upstream.

At least 16 persons have died so far from the floods, and may be more. No one can estimate the property damage.

Infant Kidnaped by Baby Sitter in New York

NEW YORK (UPI)—Police and FBI agents searched the city's populous, Spanish-speaking slums today for the pregnant woman who kidnaped a 23-day-old boy entrusted to her by a mother who fell for a clever apartment-hunting ruse.

The kidnaped child was identified as John Tavaréz, the son of Dominican immigrants. The baby was ill with a heavy cold when he was taken from his crib shortly before 4 p.m. yesterday.

The Tavaréz apartment where the kidnaping occurred is located on the west side Manhattan block (158 W. 84th St.) known as "the worst block in New York" because of sordid slum conditions, prostitution, dope peddling, muggings and thefts.

Authorities hoped that several clues supplied by John's mother, Mrs. Doraliza Tavaréz, 31, would lead them to "Mrs. Gladys Garcia," the Spanish-speaking woman about 30 years of age who took the baby while Mrs. Tavaréz was on a wild goose chase in the Bronx.

The destruction has been too vast as the rivers, some small, some wide and deep, all turbulent, spilled over and boiled through the towns and cities in their paths.

Gov. David L. Lawrence of Pennsylvania declared a state of "extreme emergency" in the flood-stricken area stretching from the New York state border to Pittsburgh. He appealed to President Eisenhower for federal aid. Ohio Gov. Michael V. DiSalle said he also would seek federal aid.

The small business administration declared three Ohio counties disaster areas. The Office of Civilian and Defense Mobilization sent teams of disaster surveyors to Pennsylvania and Ohio to recommend action on federal aid.

In Ohio, at least 16,000 persons were forced to flee homes inundated by two days of flooding. Licking, Knox and Muskingum counties in Ohio were declared disaster areas. An estimated 8,000 persons were homeless in Western Pennsylvania floodlands.

As the floodwaters drained into the swollen Ohio river, nearly 100 barges were torn loose from moorings and drifted free down the river, ramming bridges and shore installations.

The Ohio was expected to crest 10 to 12 feet above flood stage in Pennsylvania, Ohio and West Virginia. Hundreds of families were evacuated from homes in the tri-state area.

Meadville, Pa., a town of 25,000 was virtually paralyzed today by a record flood resulting from a two-mile long ice dam in French Creek.

Fire Chief Fred Carman, directing relief efforts, said nearly 1,500 persons have been evacuated from their homes. The work is continuing.

Plans were made to dynamite the ice jam.

"This is one of the worst situations I have seen," Carman said. "The only thing comparable is a flood we had back in 1913. But so far we have been lucky. There have been no deaths or serious injuries."

French Creek is a main tributary of the Allegheny River. Down along the southern rim of Ohio, the mighty Ohio River is adding another threat.

The Weather Bureau forecasts a crest of 37 or 38 feet—5 to 6 above flood stage—by Monday. Generally, though, it takes 8 or 9 feet more to do any real damage.

Columbus and Cleveland, among the major cities, were drenched and puddled-stained but otherwise out of flood danger. Cincinnati was never seriously threatened.

Zanesville, Warren, and Fremont were the hardest hit Thursday. Zanesville, at the confluence of the Muskingum and Licking Rivers had 2,000 evacuees.

At Warren, the Mahoning River burst into the southern part of town and left 600 homeless.

At Fremont, 1,000 fled as the Sandusky River overflowed its banks.

More of the same is expected downstream today. At Chillicothe for example, south of Columbus, civilian volunteers and national guardsmen have sandbagged the quickly rising Scioto.

The river stood at 28 feet Thursday night and was lapping at the sandbags. The east side is already partially evacuated. Another half-foot rise in the river could mean a disastrous flood.

Still ahead in nearly every area that had a serious flood, is the search for more dead.

State Rep. Roberts Heads House Labor Committee

Rep. Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield Township) said he was going to work toward a labor reform bill for Michigan.

Roberts, a 36-year-old Keego Harbor attorney in his second term as state representative, made the announcement as he was named chairman of the powerful Labor Committee of the House of Representatives.

Roberts replaces Rep. Walter G. Nakkula (R-Gladwin) who stepped down from the committee.

Committee assignments for Oakland's other five representatives also were made.

The Labor Committee chairman said a preliminary to a labor reform bill for the state would be "to remove the fear that such a bill is a union-busting attempt."

He said before such a measure could be realized, bipartisan support would be needed. A similar bill came out of Nakkula's committee last session, passed the House, but was killed in the Senate "because it was overloaded with silly amendments which had no part in the bill," Roberts said.

He said his committee will study the new labor reform bill to be put before Congress.

Car Output to Total 130,190 This Week

DETROIT—Passenger car output in U.S. factories this week will number 130,190 units compared with 135,976 last week and 107,495 in the like 1958 week. Automobile News reported.

The decline this week results from a cut in Chrysler Corp. assemblies due to glass shortages, the trade paper said. The Chrysler decline was placed at close to 50 per cent of the previous week's output. It offset production gains by most other car makers.

Automotive News said truck output this week will total 24,704 units compared with 22,548 last week and 18,269 in the same 1958 week. The upturn results largely from resumption of output by International Harvester after a prolonged strike.

Bill Now in Legislature

Vote on Home-Rule Asked

A bill was tossed into the hopper of the Legislature yesterday which would order a statewide vote April 6 on a constitutional amendment to let counties like Oakland adopt home-rule government charters like cities.

Oakland County officials have not as yet taken a position on home-rule. The bill was introduced by Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman).

Also, bills to carry out Gov. Williams' plan to mortgage the Veterans Trust Fund were ready for their first hurdle in the House Taxation Committee today, but the Legislature was in weekend recess.

The four measures, introduced by Democrats yesterday, are the governor's immediate answer to the state's cash emergency. They do not purport to solve the long run revenue problem.

After it was broached last week, the Williams proposal drew fire from many Republicans and veterans' organization leaders, but as yet no alternative has mustered significant support.

However, Republicans reported by were toying with different ideas on how to utilize the big 50 million dollar trust.

With the House and Senate away until 8 p.m. Monday, no immediate action was possible.

Rep. Edwin A. Fitzpatrick (D-Detroit), chief sponsor, urged prompt passage of the bills, calling

Williams to Give Tax Plan on TV

Governor Will Explain Remedy for State's Money Ills Jan. 30

LANSING (AP)—The public will receive Gov. Williams' prescription for new taxes seated in the living room watching television.

That is the way the Governor proposes to break the news the night of Jan. 30. His half hour telecast, at 7:30 p.m., will be carried over a statewide network.

A more detailed statement of his tax recommendations will go to the legislature the first week in February.

The state is plunging toward a deficit of better than 100 million dollars by June 30, and is in serious cash trouble now, having suspended payments to the University of Michigan and Michigan State University.

Paul Weber, the Governor's press secretary, said the plan represents a departure from past practice "only to the extent that we never sought free television time before."

The "overriding importance" of the subject contributed to the decision, Weber said, as did the breakdown in plans to present the Governor's tax recommendations in his opening message to the legislature last week.

Before the Governor lays out his program, he will spend some of his television time explaining the gravity of the state's cash situation.

Thus far, four stations have made commitments to carry the telecast, the announcement said. WJTV in Detroit, WJMN-TV in Saginaw, WJRN-TV in Traverse City and WOOD-TV in Grand Rapids.

Bill Goulet Wins Jaycee Honor

Name Waterford 'Man of Year'

The Waterford Township Junior Chamber of Commerce last night named 30-year-old Claude (Bill) Goulet the township's "Man of the Year."

The presentation of the award was made at the Jaycees' annual Bosses Night banquet in the Community Activities Center.

In making the announcement, Township Supervisor Elmer Johnson said, "Whenever a fellow needs a friend, they call on Bill Goulet."

Judges William Shunk, the Rev. Walter Twissman Jr. and James Fry selected Goulet from a group of nine nominations for his "outstanding contributions to his church, community and family." Goulet, his wife and their two small children live at 4368 Seeden St., Drayton Plains.

He owns a trucking business, is a past president of the Jaycees and a charter member of the 5-year-old organization.

FRIEND TO MANY
"Unpretentious and dependable," Bill Goulet is known throughout the township for the many little things he has done for all his acquaintances," Johnson said.

An untiring worker in Our Lady of the Lakes Church, he has given "unstintingly" of his time in many church projects, according to the judges.

An all-around ardent sportsman, Bill has been on the state championship Drayton Plains Softball Team for the past 15 years. When ever he has been able to help a teenage boy in trouble, he has exerted every effort to set the youths on the right track, Bill's friends told the judges.

Preceding the presentation of the "Man of the Year" plaque, Jaycees, their wives and bosses heard an address by Herbert Stoutenburg, the director of admissions and registrar at Michigan State University, Oakland.

Two Pontiac men were injured in a rear-end collision on Telegraph road near Hickory Grove road at about 11 last night.

Sergeant Likoff, 65, of 761 E. Tenneyson St., was reported in "fair" condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital in Pontiac this morning. He suffered severe head injuries, according to police.

James Neely, 27, of 213 State St. was released after treatment for cuts about the face.

Neely told Bloomfield Township police he did not see the other car before the crash. Officers said they were unable to question Likoff because of the extent of his injuries.

Two Area Youths Held After Assault on Officer

BIRMINGHAM—Two 18-year-old area youths will stand trial Tuesday before West Bloomfield Township Justice Elmer Dieterle charged with assault and battery and drunk and disorderly conduct. Both are students at Birmingham High School.

The pair, Robert G. Squires of 26421 Normandy Rd., Franklin, and Michael Hogan of 1538 Pierce St., Birmingham, were arrested Wednesday by Bloomfield Township patrolman Martin McLaughlin when he went to investigate a call that cars were blocking a driveway on Forest lane.

McLaughlin found the cars gone and a truck in the ditch. The truck driver said he had been forced off the road and described the car to McLaughlin.

The officer said he met the car a short distance down the road and turned around to give chase. He said the boys threw beer bottles in the path of the police car during the mile-long chase over icy back roads.

When the youths stopped, Squires assaulted him, McLaughlin said. He added that two others in the car ran off into nearby woods where Hogan was caught after the officers radioed for help, the third youth escaped.

Squires is charged with assault and battery and Hogan with drunk and disorderly conduct. Both have been released on $100 bonds.

FTC Also Demands Stop to Discriminating Among Customers

WASHINGTON (AP)—Ronson Corp. has been ordered by the Federal Trade Commission to stop entering into illegal price-fixing agreements with its retail distributors. The FTC yesterday also ordered the company "to discontinue discriminating among its customers" in prices and allowances for promotional activities.

Ronson makes cigarette lighters and electric shavers. Named in the order with the parent company were Ronson Service Companies in San Francisco, Denver, Atlanta, Chicago, Baltimore, Boston, Detroit, Cleveland, Philadelphia, Seattle and New York City.

The commission's action was based on an order agreed to by Ronson and FTC lawyers. The commission recently issued similar orders against three other large manufacturers of electric shavers. Ronson's agreement with FTC was conditioned on the issuance of these orders. The agreement is for settlement purposes only and does not constitute an admission by Ronson that it has violated the law.

The complaint, issued 11 months ago, said Ronson entered into retail price-fixing contracts with many dealers in states having fair trade laws. FTC said the agreements were illegal.

Iran and Pakistan Want Better Terms

Middle East Defense Talks Stall

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States has run into difficulties with Pakistan and Iran in negotiating special defense agreements aimed at bolstering them against outside attack.

Both Iran and Pakistan are reported insisting on stronger defense assurances than the United States is ready to extend at this time.

understood to be satisfied, however, with the draft of an agreement proposed in talks in Ankara. Diplomatic authorities who disclosed the backstage argument Friday said there seems little chance the agreements will be signed, as had been hoped, at a Baghdad Pact meeting beginning Monday in Karachi, Pakistan.

The United States is negotiating the agreements within the Baghdad Pact framework in keeping with a pledge Secretary of State Dulles made in London July 28. That followed the internal revolt in Iraq, one of the original members of the pact.

Dulles said then that the United States would "promptly enter into agreements with nations in the alliance to give them added security in defense guarantees." He proposed doing this under authority already granted by Congress without the need for formal treaties. Such a course would avoid possibly dangerous delays while the U.S. Senate considered and approved new treaties.

The agreements proposed by the State Department would be a re-statement of existing mutual security agreements already signed with them plus some words noting the Middle East resolution approved by Congress March 9, 1957. This resolution gave President Eisenhower authority to use armed force, as well as economic aid, to assist Middle East countries whose independence was threatened by outside attack or subversion.

The department apparently feels that any stronger pledge might require a formal treaty.

In the negotiations, however, Iranian and Pakistani government leaders have criticized the proposed wording of the agreements as far too weak.

Both have requested unequivocal American commitments to come to their aid in the event of attack from any quarter, Communist or non-Communist.

Turkey has made no such objections, mainly because as a

Oust De Sapo Drive Is Begun

Liberal Dems Want to Remove Tammany Boss From Power

NEW YORK (UPI)—The liberal wing of the state Democratic party has begun a drive to remove Tammany boss Carmine De Sapo as a political influence in New York State.

Three of the state's most influential Democrats — former Senator Herbert H. Lehman, former Air Force Secretary Thomas K. Finletter and Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt — announced yesterday they were setting up a "New York committee for Democratic voters" which would seek to revitalize the party in the state. But they made it clear that removal of De Sapo was their main objective.

Foremost among the committee's goals, the committee sponsors said in a statement, would be the eradication of the "image of bossism" manifested at the state Democratic convention last August.

While not mentioning De Sapo by name, the statement charged that one of the main factors in the Democratic defeat in New York State last November "was the widespread feeling of protest among many voters against 'boss rule' in our party."

This was an obvious allusion to De Sapo, regarded as the state's most powerful Democrat, who forced the nomination of Frank S. Hogan for Senator over Finletter, the choice of Gov. Averill Harriman.

GOP Officials Promised Some Census Jobs

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — Patronage-hungry Republicans had a pledge from GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn today that party officials will have a hand in filling 100,000 census-taker jobs.

With the Republican National Committee indicating approval of an ambitious program to sell its candidates to the voters in 1960, Alcorn moved to chink up some of the cracks in party harmony.

One of these has been the Eisenhower administration's reputed failure to consult with members of Congress and local officials in handing out federal jobs. Another has been Alcorn's failure to check with congressional leaders on 1960 campaign plans.

John B. Martin Jr., Michigan national committeeman, brought the patronage matter out into the open with the observation that he had been informed the Commerce Department will hire 100,000 persons in its 1960 census operation.

Martin said he wants to be sure deserving Republicans share liberally in this windfall, which he said would provide employment for several months at pay ranging up to $400 a month.

Alcorn replied that this matter "is well in hand." He said he had conferred with Secretary of Commerce Strauss and other high administration officials and had been assured that the patronage is going to be available through local Republican channels.

Mrs. Claire Williams of Florida, assistant national chairman, said that women are going to hold the key to election victory in 1960.

"If we plan strongly and wisely, if we capitalize fully on the potential of womanpower, we cannot fail to turn the tide in 1960," she said in a speech.

Mrs. Williams also suggested that the Republicans make a drive for active support among the 23-million persons she said will be over 60 years old next year.

Bad English Dogs Sent to Reform School Now

LONDON (UPI) — Bad dogs will go to reform school instead of being put to death under a plan to be presented to parliament. The League of Canine Defense wants to lock up delinquent dogs and train them on the right track.

Bad owners, it said, should be banned from keeping dogs for life.

Come Home, Eddie— They'll Talk It Over

PORT HURON — Eddie Rylander — wherever you are — come home.

Bernice, the five kids and state and local police plus the FBI and the Michigan National Bank would like to talk things over.

Now that this personal appeal to Edward F. Rylander, 35-year-old former bank clerk, is over, perhaps we'd better explain.

Rylander was loan supervisor for the Port Huron bank's installment division.

He is described in Port Huron as "a quiet, reliable-type guy."

But the comptroller of currency in Washington uncovered a shortage in the bank last November. He notified the Justice Department. Rylander was confronted with a $6,800 shortage on Jan. 12.

"I fired him," said Frank J. McCabe, senior vice president of the bank. "Then he disappeared."

"Please explain," added McCabe, when contacted at a meeting of bank executives in Lansing, "that this won't break us. We're insured to up to two million dollars."

McCabe said that the entire matter was kept quiet at the request of the FBI.

But an Associated Press story from Washington said that the FBI was investigating a shortage in the Port Huron bank.

A check showed that Mrs. Rylander had put out a missing persons report on her husband Jan. 19.

The wife at first did some quiet investigating on her own. She found that her husband had checked into a Detroit area motel, then checked out. She called relatives in Chicago. When all leads failed she called police.

The couple's five children range in age from two to 14.

The U.S. aircraft industry spent more than one and a half billion dollars on research, development and production of civil jet transports before the first plane was delivered.

Try Exercise Too

Weight Gain May Make Ankles Fat

By Josephine Lowman

(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I would like to make my ankles larger. How can I do this?"

A. The size of the ankles depends to a great degree on bony structure. We cannot change this. A general gain in weight will make you a bit fatter all over. Most women long for a slim ankle. Perhaps you are just dissatisfied with pipestem legs. If so, an increase in the calf of your leg will make the difference.

If you or, any of my readers, would like to have my leaflet "Why Not Take Steps Toward Lovely Legs?" which gives you exercises for the most usual leg defects, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 13. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Q. "I am 12 years old, 5 feet tall and weigh 100 pounds. My bust measures 32 inches, waist 25, and hips 32½. Am I over weight?"

A. No you are just about right. You have the usual figure for your age. In a couple of years or sooner you will naturally slim down through the waist and develop more in the bust.

Q. "I am 11 years old and have blackheads and pimples now. I have always had a good complexion. My mother says it is because of the oil glands in my skin. My face is very oily. Please tell me why I am having this trouble and what to do."

A. You are at the age when the oil glands in your skin become very active. This is a part of approaching adolescence. Wash your face with soap and water about four times daily and keep your hands off your face. Do not pick at it.

Q. "I have had three children and am expecting my fourth. Whenever I become pregnant my breasts increase in size and my complexion clears up the way I was before I had children. Why is this and could a gland specialist help me?"

A. The change in your breasts and complexion comes from the change in the hormone setup in your body during pregnancy. I think most women have this experience. Discuss this with your obstetrician.

Q. "My hair was a very dark brown and I wanted a lighter brown color, so I used a product which was supposed to lighten it. Instead it turned my hair an awful

A. Sometimes a dye will look

This knee-bend exercise will do much to improve your legs. It is one of the exercises in Josephine Lowman's leaflet for the legs.

Benson Calls Farm Costs Fantastic

NEW YORK (UPI)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson said today the operation and cost of the nation's farm programs were "fantastic and indefensible."

He estimated the government would have a surplus board of farm products worth more than nine billion dollars in inventory or under loan by next July, and that the cost of storage and interest on these stocks will be one billion dollars a year.

"This is fantastic and indefensible," he said.

Benson made his remarks in a speech prepared for delivery before the National Industrial Conference Board at the Hotel Commodore.

He estimated the Agriculture Department will spend during the current fiscal year some $7,000,000,000 of which about five billion dollars is for programs for stabilization of farm prices and farm income. These expenditures, he said, do not benefit farmers alone.

News in Brief

Thieves broke into the Detroit Gun Club, 2775 Oakley Park Rd., last night and escaped with several bottles of liquor, some drink and cigars, and an empty cash box, according to Oakland County sheriff's deputies.

Mrs. Kenneth Solomon, 311 Pioneer St., reported the theft of a $100 bill to Pontiac Police yesterday.

9 Die in Jordan Air Crash

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—A Jordanian airliner with 15 persons aboard crashed Thursday night near Amman. The airline said nine persons, including two Americans, were killed. The six others aboard were injured.

Indicate Slight Change in Position on Hospital

A special committee studying what is to become of the vacant Oakland County Hospital yesterday indicated a slight change in its position to having the 80-bed center used for the emergency care of the mentally ill.

This all came about when another committee representing the Oak Leaf Chapter of the Michigan Society for Mental Health altered its drive to take over the entire building for this purpose.

Harold G. Webster, society director, suggested a new "pilot program" whereby the county might split the use of the hospital between the care of the mentally ill and whatever other use the special committee decides on.

This primary use still appears to be the suggestion of the Elizabeth Kenny Foundation for a rehabilitation center for polio and other cases.

A spokesman for the foundation had previously indicated his group was "definitely interested" in this use.

Webster explained the so-called compromise plan of the society by saying, "We realized that we weren't getting very far by asking for all of the center."

He said he hoped that county officials, should they go along with this "pilot program," would see that their suggestions are feasible.

Although members of the special study committee have not rejected society proposals, statements made at yesterday's meeting in Berkley leaned toward the negative.

Biggest block members said was how much such an emergency care center would cost the county, and that Dr. Charles F. Wager, state director of mental health, advised their group against entering into such a temporary arrangement unless the center could be made a part of a general hospital.

The 31-year-old edifice, located at 1055 N. Telegraph Rd., has been vacant since last August when Pontiac General Hospital terminated its lease for an annex.

No definite answer came out of the meeting.

Alvea Case Has Surprise Witness

Former Partner Sworn In to Explain Something at Murder Trial

A surprise witness, a partner in the landscape business with accused killer Raymond L. Alvea, took the stand yesterday afternoon when he interrupted the trial saying he had "something to explain."

Roland Sapp, 50, of Detroit, was sworn and questioned about a hydraulic system on a back door of the Egenfritz Nurseries, Inc., 22951 Northwestern Highway, Southfield, where the body of Anthony Javinski, a caretaker, was found Aug. 1.

Alvea, 35, who formerly worked with Sapp for the nursery, is charged with first-degree murder in the killing.

Alvea testified that he entered the nursery July 31—the day police say Javinski was slain. He said he knocked on the back door and that it opened.

State Police detectives have given a conflicting story. They say the hydraulic system would have prevented the door from opening unless the door knob was turned.

Sapp's testimony related that this system had been removed for repairs, supposedly allowing the door to go ajar as Alvea said, "in the spring."

Assistant Prosecutor William E. Lang and Alvea's court-appointed attorney, William R. Bensley, were expected to call witnesses back to the stand today to see when the system might have been placed on the door.

Fred W. Smith, chairman of the special committee, said he will meet again with Kenny Foundation officials and inform them of the latest proposals.

Should the split use of the hospital be approved, the final decision resting with the Board of Supervisors, it still would remain who would operate the hospital.

"Unless the state comes through in carrying a more appropriate share of costs, we (the county) just won't have the money," said Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Board of Supervisors.

Philip R. Sauer, a bar restaurant owner, said his petition would call for a public vote in the April 6 election to let Pontiac taverns open at noon Sundays instead of 2 p.m.

"The Pontiac Pastors Assn. has asked for this fight. Let's find out what the people want," said Sauer, president of the Oakland County Table-toppers Assn., an organization to which the majority of Pontiac tavern owners belong.

Already in circulation are 630 petitions from the pastors association which represents about 83 per cent of Pontiac's churches.

These petitions call for an April 6 vote on whether sale of beer and wine should be eliminated altogether on Sunday.

The two petitions on movements were seen as a renewal of a fight the two groups waged last summer before the City Commission.

Table-toppers asked for permission then to open up at noon on Sundays, instead of at 2 p.m. as a 1934 ordinance requires.

"We feel that local ordinances cutting down on tavern hours are discriminatory and, instead, the city should follow state law, which applies to everyone in Michigan."

Private clubs in Pontiac, operating under state law, can open at noon on Sundays, but public taverns can't open until 2 p.m. because of the local regulation, he pointed out.

The pastors group, petitioning under state law, must get about 8,400 signatures in order to win a place on the ballot.

Table-toppers, petitioning under a City Charter provision, need only 1,400.

Both groups must get sufficient signatures by the Feb. 2 deadline.

MARKETS Selected Stocks Showing Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—Some airlines, oils and selected issues advanced in an irregularly lower stock market early today. Trading was active.

Losses of key stocks went from fractions to a point or so. Turnover was heavy enough to put the ticker tape behind transactions for seven minutes.

Jet-age prospects for passenger travel continued to help selected airlines which resumed their rise of yesterday. Eastern Air Lines was up more than a point and American Air Lines rose a fraction. Pan American World Airways backed away slightly from recent gains.

Royal Dutch continued to show some strength, rising close to a point and Texas Co. gained fractionally in a carryover of recent demand for oils. Other leaders in this section backed away fractionally.

Tung-Sol Electric added about 1 1/2 points to its 1 1/2 rise of yesterday on news of its new long-lasting electronic tube. Rome Cable eased after jumping 7 1/4 on word yesterday of plans for affiliation with Alcoa.

American Telephone dropped more than a point. Most rails were fractionally lower despite a rise in carloadings. Motors were narrowly mixed.
