JFK Urges New Welfare Setup

Rusk Heads Home as Latin Americans React to OAS Parley

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk headed for Washington today to report to President Kennedy on the hemisphere foreign ministers' conference on Cuba which already was arousing repercussions in Latin America.

The conference split on the crucial issue—immediate action to expel Cuba from the Organization of American States—already reportedly had generated pressure from conservatives on the Argentine government, one of the six which held out for a go-slow approach.

Argentina's military chiefs were reported furious at the soft line taken by President Arturo Frondizi's government. They reportedly served him with an ultimatum demanding a diplomatic break with Fidel Castro's regime and support of the next steps in the OAS Council to isolate Cuba from the inter-American family.

Informants in Buenos Aires said that the leaders of the three armed forces also demanded that Frondizi fire Foreign Minister Miguel Angel Caracno, who abstained on the key vote at Punta del Este on the expulsion of Cuba from the OAS.

In Brazil and Mexico, the two other major powers in the "soft-six" bloc, reaction was mixed with some expressions of anxiety over the outcome of the conference.

FEAR AGITATION

Some observers in Mexico feared the 20-nation condemnation of Cuban communism would spur leftist agitation in that country. Brazilian newspapers were overwhelmingly in favor of the condemnation of Cuban communism but differed on Brazil's refusal to support expulsion of Havana from hemispheric councils.

There was a general expectation of leftist pressure against the 13 Latin-American governments which joined the United States in voting the expulsion move.

It was widely believed that the Castroist-Communist combine would step up harassment of those governments both for revenue and to exploit the continental nervousness resulting from the 10 days of dispute.

The conference wound up Wednesday night with a show of unanimity against Castro as 20 of the 21 nations at the conference signed the historic document formally condemning the Cuban regime for going over to communism and aligning itself with the Soviet bloc.

The Cuban delegation boycotted the final session and rushed back to Havana claiming the outcome amounted to "a defeat for U. S. imperialism."

Castroites Yell, Demand Closing of Guantanamo

MIAMI (UPI) — Crowds mustered by Premier Fidel Castro's official Union Federation surged through Havana Wednesday night bellowing demands for the closing of the U.S. Navy's big Guantanamo base, radio Havana reported.

The official radio broadcast the sound of massed mobs chanting "Down with Calmanera (Guantanamo)!" and slogans hostile to the foreign ministers' conference that voted Wednesday to ostracize Castro.

Pro-Castro motorcades drove through the city after dark, honking their horns, and unionists held street-corner meetings to urge Cubans to attend the big mass meeting planned by Castro Sunday.

A new slogan heard over the air —"Worms (foes of Castro) at home, the people in the street!"— suggested to observers here that Castro may be having some difficulty drawing crowds to his recurrent mass meetings.

(In Guatemala City, President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes described the Cubans mobilized for Castroite meetings as "human cattle" who will "bang Castro and his stooges when the time comes."

("They are there because they are forced to attend or because they are afraid not to," Ydigoras said.)

Mr. K's a Candidate

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev's hat today was in the ring as a candidate for the Supreme Soviet (parliament) in the March 18 elections. The Soviet news agency Tass said the premier was nominated by the Hammer and Sickle metallurgical plant in Moscow.

SEN. ROBERTS

Roberts Expects Record Deficit

Oakland Senator Says $100 Million in New Tax Revenues Are Needed

A gloomy forecast of a record high state deficit and a need of $100 million in new revenue was voiced in Lansing yesterday by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County.

Not all legislators, Republicans and Democrats, agreed.

Roberts expressed concern over the state's new fiscal crisis as legislators were prepared to receive Gov. Swainson's 11-bill tax package, built around a 3½ per cent personal and corporation income tax, which is ready for introduction in the House of Representatives today.

Roberts reiterated his belief that "the only way out" is to enact the income tax. Two weeks ago he and three other moderate young GOP state senators supported such a tax—a taboo subject for Republicans during the past two gubernatorial campaigns by Paul D. Bagwell.

Roberts' stand has started some undercurrent murmurings of discontent among Republicans back home.

One of the faults Roberts found with the governor's program was, he said, that Swainson's advisors were too high in their predictions of income for next year.

"The state will commence next fiscal year with the worst deficit in its history," he said. "We not only should, but must hold to a conservative estimate of income for next year."

Muskegon Problem: Ban Girlie Pictures

MUSKEGON (AP)—The Muskegon Chronicle has adopted "shock treatment" to illustrate Prosecutor Harry J. Knudsen's ban of certain girlie magazines from a newsstand as obscene material.

The newspaper carried a four-column picture showing covers of two magazines with undraped females as their main subjects.

Fred Read, managing editor, said the photograph presented "an extremely knotty question — one of the most complicated we have to deal with." But, he added, "we made no attempt to disguise the subject matter at all."

Knudsen, meanwhile, denies that his action constituted censorship as charged by Jerry S. McCrosley, Muskegon attorney for the American Civil Liberties Union.

He said it was warranted in line with his duty as the county's chief enforcement officer. William Seuffert, proprietor of the uptown newsstand, said he was told that Knudsen would have him in court "if I didn't remove the (specific) books."

Seuffert also said it is his policy that "either you are 21 or over or you don't buy or even look at anything of a questionable nature." But, he added, "if you are 21 and a citizen, it's your business what you read."

Calls Stockpiling Excessive; Plans Senate Probe

President Says Supply of Strategic Materials Invites Profiteering

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has announced a double-edged investigation of how the country stockpiles strategic materials. He says the supply is so excessive it invites profiteering and mismanagement.

"The cold facts on this matter must be open to the public," Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

He said the stockpiling program would be "completely explored" by a Senate subcommittee under Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo. He promised Symington all the evidence his administration has obtained.

Moreover, he said he would form a special commission to study policies and goals "in the light of changed defense strategy and improved technology." He disclosed he has ordered a stop to all purchases except for three unidentified items and has instructed department heads to review their needs.

Kennedy's move to eliminate the threat of major criticism from the massive program to store essential materials for national emergencies highlighted this third news conference in 16 days—a pace unequaled since his first weeks in office.

Alternately cheerful and deadly serious, Kennedy ranged from international tension to civil rights in his half-hour with reporters. At the outset, he welcomed Soviet editor and Mrs. Alexei Adzhubei—she is Premier Khrushchev's daughter — among the spectators. Immediately afterward, he denounced Communist penetration of the Western Hemisphere through Cuba and labeled Marxist-Leninism "incompatible with the inter-American system."

Kennedy said no significant progress has been made in U.S. efforts to settle the Berlin dispute with the Soviet Union but supported the forthcoming trip of his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, to the Soviet Union.

HOPES LESS TENSION

"We hope that as communications improve," he said, "that problems which cause tension and danger to the world will lessen."

As for the strategic stockpile, he called the present supply enormous beyond necessity, "a questionable burden on public funds and in addition a potential source of excessive and unconscionable profits."

Jaycees Laud Top Men Outstanding for Service

One hundred Pontiac area Jaycees met last night at Devon Gables for the announcement of the outstanding young man of the year, the top boss and the key "inside" man of the organization.

Also present at the annual Bosses Night were Jaycees' bosses and guests.

Presented the Distinguished Service Award as Outstanding Young Man of the Year was E. W. (Ozzie) Watchpocket, 33, of 6015 Osceola Ave., Independence Township. Watchpocket is a sales representative for the Detroit Edison Co., and past president of the Jaycees.

The Outstanding Boss title went to James Clarkson, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland, and resident of 3111 St. Jude Drive, Waterford Township.

Picked as the man most valuable to the current Jaycee administration to receive the Key Man Award was Richard M. Fitzgerald, 28, of 148 Ottawa Drive. Fitzgerald is treasurer of The Pontiac Press.

The Jaycees also dug into their treasury to help the Pontiac Boys' Club with a donation of $500. The club last fall suffered a severe blow when its house was destroyed by fire.

MERIT AWARDS GIVEN

Organizations which have lent outstanding support to the Jaycees' activities were presented with Merit awards. The awards went to The Pontiac Retail Store, Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Pontiac, Community National Bank, Radio Station WPON, and The Pontiac Press.

Watchpocket, in receiving the Outstanding Young Man Award, was hailed as fitting the Jaycees' image for this honor: " . . . the young man with the maturity and wisdom of age and driving energy of youth, who has helped most to make Pontiac a better place to live."

The award cited his participation in community activities as 1961 vice chairman of the Pontiac Area United Fund Drive, his work on the Pontiac Centennial Committee, the fund raising drive of the YMCA, as delegate to the Junior Chamber of Commerce State convention and as past president of the Pontiac Area Jaycees.

OUTSTANDING BOSS

The Outstanding Boss, James Clarkson, was hailed for his participation in numerous professional and community activities including service as past state president of the Society of Savings and Loan controllers, director and past president of the Pontiac Board of Realtors, an unprecedented three years as chairman of the board of Pontiac General Hospital, as member of the board of the Pontiac Boys' Club and as a 32nd-degree Mason and Shriner.

The presentation also noted his activities in the Kiwanis Club of Pontiac, the YMCA, the Michigan Savings and Loan League, the U.S. Savings and Loan League, the So-

New Ward's Store Throws Doors Open

Montgomery Ward executives, local civic leaders and developers of the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center gathered this morning for the opening of the company's most modern full-line department store in Oakland County.

It is the first department store to open in the center located at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads.

Also present were Elmer R. Johnson, supervisor of Waterford Township; Charles W. Wood, M-W's vice president of merchandising, D. L. Hershey, M-W district general manager, and Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Aaron and William Gershenson, James Wineman, and Eugene Arnfeld, codevelopers of the Pontiac Mall, were present, along with Benjamin C. Maibach Jr., general contractor for Montgomery Ward; Willis M. Brewer, coordinator of roads and projects for the county road commission; George F. Taylor, Oakland county prosecutor; and R. M. Harrell, merchandise manager of the north central region for Montgomery Ward.

Says Emphasis Should Be Put on 'Rebuilding'

President Proposes $193-Million Expansion of Permanent Outlays

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called today for a $193-million expansion of permanent federal welfare outlays, with a shift in emphasis from doling out "relief checks" to the rebuilding of wrecked lives and careers.

The remedies "will not come cheaply but in the long run they will save money," Kennedy said in a special message to Congress.

He urged permanent extension of the one-year program to aid dependent children of the jobless, more spending on rehabilitation work, increased grants for child welfare, added funds for the day care of children of working mothers and removal or reduction of residence requirements for relief.

The President slapped at drastic local efforts to slash relief rolls, without directly naming the instance which has stirred national controversy, that of Newburgh, N.Y.

The message said: "Communities which have—for whatever motives—attempted to save money through ruthless and arbitrary cutbacks in their welfare rolls have found their efforts to little avail. The root problem remained."

By contrast, Kennedy said, communities which have "tried the rehabilitative road" for relief clients have fared better: "Families have been restored to self-reliance, and relief rolls have been reduced."

This approach can be furthered, he said, if Congress will enact broad revisions of the rules under which the Department of Health, Education and Welfare makes federal aid grants to match state welfare outlays.

1ST IN HISTORY

The special message, said by officials to be the first in history devoted solely to welfare problems, will be followed by two more messages on programs administered by the department—health care for the aged under Social Security and federal aid to education.

The program outlined today would represent the most sweeping overhaul of federal relief techniques since the aid program was started in the depression of the 1930s.

Its recommendations included: $100-million-a-year program for aid to the dependent children of the unemployed. Enacted as an emergency recession measure last year, it is due to expire June 30.

★ ★ ★

Boosting the $25-million ceiling on federal grants for child welfare services to $30 million in fiscal 1963 and then, gradually, to $50 million by 1969.

Thompson Talks With Gromyko

Pair Trying to Arrange for Negotiations on Berlin Situation

MOSCOW (AP) — Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko spent two hours and 40 minutes in conference today trying to arrange for negotiations on the difficult Berlin crisis.

★ ★ ★

On leaving the Foreign Office after his third talk with Gromyko on this subject, Thompson declined to give any information.

Thompson was in an amiable mood, but told reporters standing in below-freezing temperatures he could give out no information on his discussions.

★ ★ ★

This was the procedure he followed in his first two meetings. Western sources learned, however, that in the first two meetings the Russian position demanding a quick settlement on the Berlin crisis through a treaty with East Germany had not been modified.

Wallendas Return to High Wire

DETROIT (AP) —Their faces grim, Herman and Gunther Wallenda Wednesday night walked the high wire from which two members of the Great Wallenda troupe had fallen to death only 24 hours earlier.

There wasn't a sound in the huge state fair Coliseum as the 60-year-old Herman and his son, Gunther, 34, paid their tribute to the show business tradition that the show must go on.

FEATS OF DARING

With a substitute serialist flown in to fill the gap left by death and injury, the two Wallendas performed feats of daring for five minutes above the concrete floor.

As on the previous night, there was no net between the Wallendas and the concrete. Herman and Gunther were the only ones of the seven Wallendas on the wire the night before who were not killed or injured.

Gene Mendez had flown in from Stockholm, Sweden, to be the third man.

All activity in the Coliseum stopped as the two Wallendas and Mendez climbed the poles to the slender wire 35 feet up to do their Shrine circus act.

RIDES BICYCLE

Mendez was first on the high wire. He was followed by Herman, and then Gunther.

Gunther rode a bicycle across the wire and then teamed with Mendez, a former member of the troupe, to carry Herman standing on a cross bar between them. In their finale, Herman stood on his head on the bar.

The three men walked the wire to a platform at one end. As soon as they stepped onto the platform, ending the act, the crowd of approximately 5,000 burst into thunderous shouting, whistling, hand-clapping applause.

Herman rushed to his dressing room. Gunther remained outside to accept the congratulations of the performers and circus hands who swarmed to him.

The Wallendas have to decide on funeral plans for their dead: Richard Faughnan, 29, husband of the former Jenny Wallenda; and Dieter Schepp, 23, a nephew whom Karl Wallenda managed 10 months ago to rescue from Communist East Germany.

The Faughnans had two children, a son, Tino, 11; and daughter, Lilah, 9. The children were staying with their grandmother in Sarasota, Fla., while their parents were away. Jenny is Karl Wallenda's daughter.

Snow Flurries Expected Tonight and Tomorrow

Nearly 2 inches of snow blanketed the Pontiac area last night and there's a chance of a few more flurries tonight and tomorrow.

Little change in temperature is expected. The low will dip to near 6 tonight and Friday's high will be about 18. Mostly cloudy and a little warmer with some snow likely is the outlook for Saturday.

Morning northeasterly winds at 2 miles per hour will become 8 to 15 m.p.h. late today.

Eight above was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The recording at 2 p.m. was 17.

Idea of Soviet Visit Still Interests JFK

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy today held open the possibility of a visit to the Soviet Union if he can make "significant breakthroughs" in his developing drive to improve U.S.-Soviet relations.

A visit under present conditions of cold war tension probably would not be considered useful by either Washington or Moscow, he believes, but "we are making every effort we can to bring an easing of tensions."

The President discussed U.S.-Soviet relations with newsmen Wednesday in a conference attended by Alexai Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia and son-in-law of Premier Khrushchev.

Adzhubei visited today with W. Averell Harriman, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs. They were reported to have discussed the Laos situation.

DECLINES TO TALK

Adzhubei declined, when leaving the State Department, to tell newsmen what they had talked about. To questions about Laos, he said that situation was being handled by Harriman and Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Georgi Pushkin.

State Department informants said, however, that Harriman initiated the meeting and wanted to discuss the tense situation in the Southeast Asia kingdom.

Adzhubei told reporters Thursday he hoped an agreement on Laos "may come very soon."

RUSSIAN OBSERVER

Adzhubei had a center aisle seat to observe "an ancient American custom"—a presidential news conference.

Then the visiting Russian held an impromptu session of his own for newsmen who had just finished questioning the President.

"We hope that as communications improve, that problems which cause tension and danger to the world will lessen," Kennedy told the news conference.

Asked under what conditions he would accept an invitation to visit the Soviet Union, Kennedy replied: "I would think that an invitation and acceptance of an invitation would probably wait on an easing of the tensions which unfortunately surround our relationships. So at present, of course, until we have significant breakthroughs, that sort of journey would probably not be considered useful by either country."

Molotov Hospitalized With Heart Seizure?

MOSCOW (AP)—Usually well-informed sources said today that V. M. Molotov, publicly denounced former foreign minister, is in a hospital suffering from a heart attack.

A Foreign Office press spokesman declined to confirm or deny the report, saying it was of "no political importance."

He said he knew nothing of the case. The report from the usually well-informed source said Molotov had been in the hospital for about 10 days but that his condition was "not dangerous."

His wife, Paulina, visits him regularly, the informant said.

NOT SEEN PUBLICLY

Molotov returned Nov. 12 from Vienna, Austria, where he had been representative on the International Atomic Energy Agency and has not been seen publicly since.

He and his associates in the antiparty group which tried to oust Premier Khrushchev in 1957 were officially denounced by the party congress last October.

It was expected they would be read out of the party. But there has been no official word that they have been.

To the surprise of everyone here, a Foreign Office press spokesman told correspondents early in January that Molotov had returned to his Vienna post. Later the spokesman changed this report to indicate nothing was known about his future status.

Father Discovers He Has Wrong Baby

The babies belonged to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Grimes and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Woods.

One father discovered the slip-up when he undressed his tot and found his name-tape read something other than his given name.

He quickly called the other father. The babies were returned to the hospital and exchanged.

The switch apparently took place after the tots were dressed in identical clothing and taken to their mothers' rooms before going home.

Too Small for Trombone —So He Played Tuba

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Ronald Bishop, 26, of the Buffalo Philharmonic Orchestra says he started his tuba-playing career in the second grade because he wasn't big enough to play the trombone.

"They had a tuba they needed played, so they started me playing it," he says. He couldn't play the trombone in the school band because he "couldn't reach the positions."

Bad Driving Habits Showing Up in Pilots

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Three human factors which have caused countless automobile accidents are beginning to show up in airplane crashes, says education specialist Norman J. Crabtree of the Ohio Division of Aviation.

They are (1) a tendency to be prouder of willingness to take chances, (2) trying to justify what one wants to do rather than what one knows is right and proper and (3) risking losses all out of proportion to possible gains — such as chancing a risky landing to save a few minutes.

February Storms Right In

Icy Cold Smacks North

By The Associated Press

February's arrival found arctic conditions in rigid rule along the nation's northern border from Minnesota to Maine today.

Temperatures sank to levels under 30 below zero in Upper Minnesota and New York. The official minimum reading at International Falls was -32.

In the northern Adirondacks, two hamlets, Burke and Duane, reported -38 unofficially. Bemidji, Minn., and Caribou, Maine, had -28; Saranac Lake, N. Y., -27; Duluth, Minn., -22; Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., -21; Massena, N. Y., -20; Montpelier and Newport, Vt., -19.

However, there were signs of lessening severity in the Northeast's four-day cold siege in areas of lower altitudes and closer to the sea. Boston's minimum reading of 18 above was less rigorous than its coldest night of the year Wednesday when the mercury dropped to 8.

C. of C. to Hear Noted Speaker

Dr. Kenneth McFarland Will Address Chamber's Annual Dinner Meeting

Reputedly the nation's top public speaker, Dr. Kenneth McFarland of Topeka, Kan., will be featured speaker at the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce annual dinner meeting Feb. 20, chamber officials announced today.

Dr. McFarland, a General Motors Corp. guest lecturer, was recently named "America's No. 1 public speaker" by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

The honor was based on findings of a nationwide survey showing that few, if any, speakers in the country travel more or fill as many important speaking engagements.

The chamber traditionally installs new officers and directors at the annual dinner. It is slated to begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Pontiac Elks Temple.

★ ★ ★

Chamber directors also may announce a new manager. The resignation of current manager John W. Hirlinger will become effective March 1.

Mrs. McClendon Fails to Get Question to JFK

She's the reporter who was rebuked by the President a week ago when, in asking a question, she referred to two State Department employes as "well-known security risks."

She tried six times Wednesday to ask a question but was unable to get Kennedy's recognition. However, because of the large number of reporters who attend, it is impossible for the President to recognize them all.

Mrs. McClendon represents papers in Texas and New England.

Donates $17,000 for Hospital Unit

Gregor-Kohn Award to Pontiac General Is 2nd Large Gift in Year

The Gregor-Kohn Foundation, which made Pontiac General Hospital's mental health unit possible a year ago, will present a $17,000 donation to hospital officials next week to establish a new medical department.

Marcus Freud, foundation president, said the philanthropic organization will contribute the money for establishment of a Department of Medical Physics and the purchase of radioisotope equipment.

The foundation gave Pontiac General $20,000 in January 1961 for the mental health unit. That was the largest private grant ever received at the hospital.

The foundation also gave $5,000 in 1960 toward purchase of the cobalt X-ray therapy unit.

The medical physics unit had been in hospital plans for the future but wasn't expected to come so soon, said Harold B. Euler, administrator.

Dr. John D. Marra, medical director, said the unit will be an important addition to improved patient care at the hospital.

It will be located in the laboratory where space has been made available for the specialized equipment. The department will not add to bed capacity. It is strictly a diagnostic unit.

Freud, a Detroit attorney, lives at 1455 Nakemis Drive, Lake Orion. The Kohn Foundation is based on the family fortune of the late Marcus Gregor of Detroit and his late daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otto M. Kohn.

It is founded mainly on land holdings.

Over 300 to Attend County Plan Confab

More than 300 persons have arranged to attend a countywide planning conference this afternoon and evening at Michigan State University Oakland.

They will witness plans for a growing community laid out by experts in the field.

The conference, first to deal in the projected future of the county as a whole, is being cosponsored by the Oakland County Planning Commission and the university.

Workshop sessions will begin at 3 p.m., followed by a dinner in the university's Oakland Center Building. Sessions will resume at 8:30 p.m., lasting until 10 p.m.

Noted participants in the sessions will include Paul M. Reid, executive director of the Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission; R. J. Alexander, director of the county's Department of Public Works; George B. Catlin, area development director of Detroit Edison Co., and Paul Van Roekel, county Road Commission engineer.

TO BE SPEAKER

Paul Oppermann, executive director of the Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, will be the guest dinner speaker.

The workshop will cover zoning administration, compressive planning for community development, public works planning and design, legal aspects of zoning, planning for industrial growth, and the impact of expressways and thoroughfares.

Clyde Cook, associate county planner, noted that 325 persons have made reservations to attend the conference. Many of these are active in zoning and planning at the township and city level, while others are interested observers.

to establish the most modern department store in Oakland county," Ward said. "It represents your confidence in us as well as our confidence in the economic future of Waterford Township and Oakland County."

Following ceremonies, approximately 500 employes were on hand to serve the hundreds of customers who went about their shopping on the first day of a three-day grand-opening sale.

Last night more than 2,500 local VIPs including several hundred company shareholders, were given a preview of the ultra-modern, two-story store.

University Conducts Roast Beef Survey

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For about five years now, Ohio State University has been conducting research with roast beef.

Home economists are trying to determine how various sizes of roast and cooking temperatures affect yield, tenderness, flavor and preparation time.

The Day in Birmingham

Holy Name Church to Host Social Action Unit Head

BIRMINGHAM — Rev. Gerald Rooney, president of the National Catholic Social Action Conference, will be the guest speaker at the Feb. 8 cultural series program sponsored by Holy Name Church.

The program will be held 8:30 p.m. at Marian High School, 14½ Mile and Lahser Roads, Bloomfield Township.

The title of Fr. Rooney's talk will be "Christianity and Social Progress" and will deal mainly with the recent papal encyclical "Mater et Magistra."

A member of the Passionist Order, Fr. Rooney has been associate editor of The Sign magazine since 1957.

Ordained in 1934 in Scranton, Pa., he taught scripture at the seminary there for 12 years. Following this he conducted a weekly radio program at St. Ann's Shrine in Scranton.

After 5½ years, he was appointed associate director at St. Gabriel's Laymen's Retreat House in Boston. It was here that he organized the Catholic Social Action Guild.

Tickets for the program can be obtained at Holy Name Rectory, 645 Woodland St., Birmingham, or at the Marian High School the night of the talk.

Students at Pierce Elementary School will hear a lecture on animals, wildlife and plants Feb. 20. The talk will be given by Bill Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority.

Township police discovered the theft at 7 a.m. when they found a door to the gas station broken while making a check of business places.

The Sodality of Our Lady of St. Columban Church will hold its annual officers card party at 8:30 p.m. Feb. 15 at St. Columban School.

Tickets will be available at the door the night of the event.

The party and refreshments will have a Valentine Day motif.

Mrs. Jack Montieth, outgoing prefect, is program chairman.

Moves to Avert Clash on Refusal to Name Censors

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara moved today to avert a head-on clash with senators over his refusal to tell them which subordinates censored specific speeches by military officers.

In a letter to Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., chairman of the special subcommittee investigating Pentagon speech censoring, the secretary said he felt "impasses should be resolved by mutual cooperation."

★ ★ ★

Stennis promptly designated himself, Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., and Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, R-Mass., to meet with McNamara over the weekend and try to reach some agreement.

Missiles loaded with fire-retardant chemcals and guided by heat-sensing nose cones are suggested for fighting forest fires.

Labor Shortage Is Still Growing

Government Reports Some Fields Need Men Despite High Idle Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department said Wednesday that manpower shortages in a number of skilled occupations are growing despite considerable unemployment throughout the nation.

The monthly labor market survey of the department's Bureau of Employment Security recorded continuing persistent shortages of electrical and mechanical engineers for missile, nuclear energy and electrical work, as well as engineers in the metallurgical, chemical, civil, industrial and Aeronautical fields.

The bureau also reported shortages of nurses, accountants, architects, chemists, librarians, social workers, physicists, statisticians, economists, mathmaticians, biologists and draftsmen.

The report said there is a shortage of engineers in nearly half the nation's 150 major labor market areas surveyed.

It said calls for skilled metal workers, mechanics, repairmen, and competent office help exceed the available supply in many areas, some of which report large labor surpluses in other occupations.

The number of major areas classed as experiencing substantial unemployment, meaning 6 per cent or more of the available work force, increased by 1 to 61 in January.

This compares with the record high of 101 reported last April.

Pittsburgh is the only very large labor market area remaining in the category reflecting 9 per cent or more unemployment. This group has narrowed down to 14 of the 150 areas.

The Red Cross in one year issued 202,100 certificates to persons who had completed the prescribed courses in home nursing practices.

Does Humanitarian Job With Thin Purse

UNICEF Brightest Spot in Strapped United Nations

By BOB CONSIDINE

UNITED NATIONS — Even the liveliest critics of this financially wobbly but strictly necessary world body concede that one of its special agencies, UNICEF, for United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund, does a whale of a humanitarian job.

And it does it on an annual budget just about even to the cost of two months of desultory military activity by the U.N. troops in the Congo.

A recent piece of mine stated that U.N., to offset the fact that only 19 of its 104 member nations were contributing to the Congo campaign, had borrowed money from the Children's Fund, and the Fund wants it back.

True, but only in a way, writes C. Lloyd Bailey, executive director of the United States Committee for UNICEF. He sets the record straighter:

THE CORRECT STORY

UNICEF operates on funds voluntarily subscribed by nations and individuals. Last spring the U.S. pledged it would pay $12 million into the fund as its contribution to the fund's budget of $25 million—provided (we said sternly) the other members of U.N. came up with the other $13 million. If they did so, we'd see that UNICEF got our check on Dec. 27, 1961. (Our dangling carrot system worked so well that even Russia contributed money—$850,000.)

Meanwhile, back in the Congo, there was an urgent bill for $10 million due, and no funds.

When Dag Hammarskjold appealed to the U.S. for the money, we said, in effect, "Borrow it from UNICEF's reserve; after all, we're going to give UNICEF that much more at the end of the year."

There were many misgivings, quite understandably. Lending money to U.N. to shoot is, well, hazardous.

* * *

But this was done. And on Dec. 27, UNICEF not only was repaid the $10 million it lent to U.N. to fight a war but also received the $12 million contribution from the United States to help it fight its own war—a war against worldwide misery, hunger, malnutrition, disease.

* * *

It was a great day in UNICEF. Maybe a startling one, too, in view of the punctual return of the dough from U.N. It was ready for '62.

Last year UNICEF fed emergency milk rations to 5 million children in the underprivileged nations, whether those nations contributed to UNICEF or were even members of the United Nations.

The Fund treated 1,000,000 victims of leprosy. In all, some 56 million children and mothers benefited from UNICEF in 1961.

Over the years since its inception, UNICEF has vaccinated 130 million children with BCG, a rough but effective anti-tuberculosis agent which has upped prevention rates to 80 per cent in some backward countries.

More than 15 million children have been given penicillin treatment for yaws, 6.5 million for trachoma.

The statistics in its battle against malaria are too astronomical to pin down, for they involve the spraying with DDT of countless entire villages in some of the remotest lands on earth.

TO 2 RED NATIONS

Some of UNICEF's aid and services has gone to Poland and Yugoslavia, on application. No other Communist-dominated country has applied, but it is presumed that aid would be forthcoming to any of them if asked for.

* * *

All in all, it is U.N. at its best. You, too, can be a part of it. The U.S. Committee for UNICEF, United Nations, N.Y., forwards private contributions.

DOMESTIC PICTURE

It started one wintry night in Pittsburgh's Sheridan Theater when a mother abandoned her baby. To the baby's dress was pinned this note:

"I can't afford to keep this child. Her name is Catherin. I have 8 others. I am leaving her in the theater because of what I have heard of the charity of show people. I pray that you will take care of her."

Eight persons in show biz, beginning with theater owner John H. Harris of Ice Capades fame, answered that prayer, formed a Variety Club to rear and educate the child.

* * *

Today there are 46 such clubs in the U.S., Mexico, Canada, Ireland and England. During the years they have raised more than $80 million for handicapped children. What people can do, with a heart!

Agree on Expelling Congo Mercenaries

UNITED NATIONS (AP) —The United Nations announced agreement Wednesday with President Moise Tshombe to set up one or more joint U.S.-Katanga missions to speed the exodus of mercenaries from Katanga Province.

Sture Linner, the U.S. officer in charge of the Congo operation, also informed Tshombe that the United Nations rejected the setting of any time limit for withdrawal of mercenaries, Tshombe had proposed a month's limit.

A letter from Linner to Tshombe said it would be up to the United Nations to decide who shall represent it on any joint mission, "and in particular to decide whether its representatives should be civilian or military."

* * *

The missions, he added, would have free access to all places to which they might wish to go.

Mail Slowdown Strike Canceled in England

LONDON (AP) — Leaders of some 200,000 British postal workers Wednesday night called off a go-slow strike which has delayed mail deliveries throughout the country for the past month.

Union officials abandoned the campaign after Postmaster General Reginald Bevins offered to discuss claims for higher wages providing the strike stopped.

Soviets Still Refuse to Undergo Inspection

Breakup of N-Test Talks Came on Old Issue

BY PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

In Geneva, chief British delegate Sir Michael Wright sadly surveyed the wreckage of the East-West nuclear test ban talks and remarked:

"The world has lost two great chances of achieving nuclear disarmament since the war."

* * *

He was pronouncing the requiem of efforts undertaken by the United States, Britain and Russia in October, 1958, to find some enforceable means of banning nuclear weapons tests. In 385 separate meetings, the conferees had gotten exactly nowhere, and, after a final blast at the West, Soviet delegate Semyon K. Tsarapkin announced he was going home.

The end came on the issue which had taken the conference to the edge of disaster so many times before — Soviet refusal to permit adequate inspection of suspected nuclear blasts in Soviet territory.

The world had an earlier chance at nuclear weapons control in 1954.

It was the proposal suggested by U.S. elder statesman Bernard M. Baruch, and endorsed by the United Nations, that the United States place its virtual monopoly in nuclear weapons under international control.

VETOED BY REDS

That, too, was vetoed by the Soviets.

Events leading to final breakdown of the Geneva negotiations had involved a remarkable double switch by the Russians.

The United States and Britain, finally admitting deadlock, offered to accept a previous Soviet demand that the nuclear talks be switched over to the general disarmament conference scheduled to open next month.

Without explanation, the Soviets vetoed what had been their own idea.

SPECULATION BY WEST

One was that they wanted no agreement under any conditions because they planned a new series of nuclear tests.

The other linked it to a series of other events within the Kremlin which have puzzled the West.

One was Khrushchev's strange silence on international affairs almost since the November end of the 22nd party congress.

In the ensuing weeks he has travelled extensively through the Soviet Union's agricultural areas and most of his recorded speeches have dealt almost exclusively with that subject.

* * *

Another has been Moscow's sudden and seeming lack of interest in an early settlement of the Berlin question.

While no signs of progress have come from the Moscow talks between U.S. Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko, neither has Gromyko displayed any sign of urgency.

Finally, there is the mysterious case of V. M. Molotov who was supposed to but has not returned to his Vienna post on the International Atomic Energy Commission. A Soviet spokesman suggested blandly that he was ill.

* * *

Out of these have come suggestions that temporarily, Kremlin foreign policy is on dead-center and that Khrushchev may be involved in some sort of personal crisis involving leadership.

The Communist Party Central Committee meets in Moscow next month. An answer may be forthcoming then.

Cuban Regime Expelled From Family Councils

After traveling a rougher road than anticipated, the American states agree in principle to suspend FIDEL CASTRO's Cuban regime from this hemisphere's family councils. For a time it looked as though the necessary 14 votes out of 20 might not be attained, but the number was finally achieved with the hint that others might follow later. Hence, CASTRO's Communistic government cannot become an active participant in our joint deliberations.

★ ★ ★

Central and South America are torn by more unrest and general dissatisfaction than many people realize. There are several underlying factors that contribute, but probably the simplest way to put a quick finger on the greatest cause is to recognize that the "have-nots" are disproportionately separated from the "haves."

This is tragic anywhere.

It foments constant dissension.

Few people in this country really appreciate the wide gap that exists in the bulk of the whole world between these two sectors.

Argentina, Brazil, Chile and Mexico are probably the largest nations with the greatest influences and they consistently refused to "stay hitched" in this instance. Practically all of the nations agree that Cuba's government is in direct conflict with the type and kind that we approve in our hemisphere.

The actual method for expelling Cuba puzzles the delegation, but this isn't as important as the adoption of the general principles now enunciated.

★ ★ ★

As The Press has said many times before, we believe that this hemisphere is richly entitled to first thought and study on the part of the United States. Our own interests are so closely allied with these associates that they deserve priority in our thinking and planning.

Unmarked Patrol Cars Used in Connecticut

Connecticut has taken a controversial move toward greater highway safety by having all its police cars unmarked. Such a step is bound to stir storms of protest, but police officials felt the saving of lives was worth the roasting they will take.

Those who favor the use of the traditional, easily-identified patrol car with distinctive painting, and flashing light atop say that drivers seeing these kinds of patrol cars are reminded to obey the laws.

However, the other side of the coin is the idea that if drivers are not sure that a car around them isn't a police officer, they'll be even more cautious.

There have been a few cases when police in unmarked cars have sought to stop drivers and had trouble identifying themselves to the satisfaction of the driver. This is a problem that will have to be solved; no one is willing to stop late at night if he isn't sure it's the police who want him to pull over.

A possible solution to this identification problem is to have a large police insignia on the right-hand door of the police car. In normal traffic this marking is not too obvious, but it is effective when the police car pulls alongside offenders.

Another problem is using an unmarked car in emergencies, getting through traffic. Without a warning siren and flashing light, motorists do not give way. Accidents involving unmarked cars would present interesting problems in liability, if identification were lacking.

One of the chief arguments raised against unmarked cars is that it is "unfair." Some jokingly say they "want a chance" and that police officers would have an advantage over them. This argument is baseless, we feel. This is not a game, but a deadly duel between men hired to protect the public, and those who feel they are above the laws.

The police should have every advantage possible that does not violate basic constitutional rights.

Connecticut has been one of the leading states in traffic safety for many years. Convicted speeders there lose their licenses, just as convicted drunken drivers here are taken off the road. Whether public acceptance of unmarked cars there will allow the practice to be continued remains to be seen.

The Man About Town

'Wise Squirrels'

Demonstrate a Wisdom That Approaches That of Humans

Tact: When you make your point without stabbing the other fellow with it.

For over ten years

Mr. and Mrs. Julius Moritz

of Drayton Plains have been enjoying the keen instinct that borders on actual wisdom among the squirrels in their neighborhood.

The sagacious and ever industrious little animals have cultivated a nearness to the aptitude of humans that is quite remarkable. And they've outgrown the habit of chewing into things, generally associated with squirrels.

With nests in nearby trees, about a dozen of them are so domesticated that they immediately respond when the names that have been assigned them are called.

"Minnie" has that title because she's a moocher, although not having a monopoly on that trait.

Then there's "Willie," "Henry" and several others, who not only respond to the call of their own names, but to most any other, because they know that a handout is in order.

Although they are well fed on a diet of corn as the main dish and sunflower seeds as a particular relish, their squirrel instinct causes them to put away a supply of nuts and acorns for the winter. This is held in reserve.

Mr. and Mrs. Moritz also are bird feeders, and consider the blue jays to be among our feathered intelligentsia.

Quite concerned about the ground hog is of Waterford, who asserts that the animal may not be able to get out of his hole, and if he's wise he'll send his wife out tomorrow.

For top state (or national) honors in that respect, I nominate my good friend, of Fenton, who is unopposed for his 30th term as Village President of Fenton. Can any city or village beat that?

Harry Lemen

David Lawrence Wonders:

Is President Violating the Rules?

WASHINGTON — The Kennedy administration may not realize it but an image of helter-skelter is being created by its own publicity apparatus. The idea is being conveyed that what is good for the political machine is also good for America.

Several things have caused a raising of eyebrows here, and a feeling of concern is beginning to spread throughout the country. Questions like these are being asked:

1. Why is the administration seeking to tighten its control of all the political organization in the larger cities of the country by building up a department of urban affairs that could conceivably dictate to municipal governments and take from the local authorities the control of their own cities?

2. Why is the President bypassing the Department of State and the U.S. Information Agency, for which Congress expends annually a lot of money on the theory that the conduct of foreign relations and the carrying on of information programs, respectively, are the direct responsibilities of those two executive agencies in the government?

3. Why did the President recently conduct a series of inner government conferences, including 32 of the top policy-making officials, and set forth the policies of the government in the cold war without making any explanation to the American people or to Congress of the important decisions he has reached on foreign policy?

The newspapers were given background information on these inside conferences, and naturally such dispatches were read with considerable curiosity in Congress and by Allied governments abroad, if not by the Moscow government as well.

Subjects like our preparations for limited and conventional war and counterguerrilla operations have certain aspects that need not be publicized.

But it would have been helpful to the understanding of American policies throughout the world if the firm words attributed to the President during his conferences with high officers of the government had been put in some official form for the rest of the world to read.

BYPASSING USIA

The bypassing of the Department of State and the U.S. Information Agency has been revealed in the announcement that the President's press secretary, who doesn't speak Russian and who has had no experience in the foreign service, is suddenly to undertake a high-level negotiation with a top Soviet personality on the matter of exchanging television and other information programs.

director of the U.S. Information Agency, through the American Embassy in Moscow?

There is a tendency at the White House to bypass the Cabinet officers charged by law with certain responsibilities. There is also a tendency to conduct conversations with high officials of other governments through intermediaries who have not been trained to overcome the language difficulties and who may not know how to avoid the pitfalls of an interchange of views on policy questions.

Not a single deviation from Khrushchev's policies, it may be confidently assumed, will ever be made by the Communist emissaries who are wined and dined at the White House. But what the President says in polite conversations will be twisted to mean that he is getting ready to make concessions to the Soviet viewpoint.

Care in dealing with the Soviet government is essential and, when the President has anything to say to Moscow, it is better that it be said through a man like Llewellyn Thompson, the American ambassador, who not only speaks Russian fluently but knows the Soviet premier's personality and can deal with him effectively in the interest of the United States.

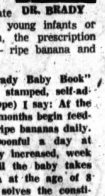
Dr. William Brady Says:

Bananas Can Do Wonders for Badly Nourished Baby

A 3-year-old child with what doctors call "anorexia nervosa" (absence of appetite, refusal to take food) not only refused all food but regurgitated liquid food fed through a stomach tube. Finally the child was offered a ripe banana.

This proved acceptable, and then the child began to take other food in more or less normal amounts. But when no more banana was given, there was a relapse. Only when more banana was given, did the child resume eating other food.



DR. BRADY

For obstinate constipation in young infants or young children, the prescription is the same — ripe banana and plenty of it.

In the "Brady Baby Book" (35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I say: At the age of 4 or 5 months begin feeding the baby ripe bananas daily. Only a teaspoonful a day at first, gradually increased, week by week, until the baby takes half a banana at the age of 8 months. This solves the constipation problem and makes puny, sickly, badly nourished infants thrive.

The skin of ripe banana is golden yellow, flecked with brown spots, not black bruise marks. The pulp is mellow, sweet and soft but not mushy.

Banana is an excellent source of vitamin A and vitamin C and a good source of vitamin B. Ripe raw banana also contains enough vitamin C to prevent and cure scurvy. For instance in the case of an infant 8 months old with scurvy (marked pallor, severe anemia, bleeding gums, rapid heart, tenderness of the legs which makes the baby cry when handled or moved), a banana-milk diet proved curative. One ripe raw banana whipped into a pint of milk was the formula — such mixture constituted the diet — the baby took about half a pint of the mixture every four hours.

"When I was carrying my third child I read in your column about giving banana. Having had such a time with my first two with colic and constipation I decided to follow your advice. Had my baby at home on a Sunday and fed him banana on Monday. He has been a happy, healthy baby."

Come, come, Mrs. M., you didn't follow my advice. I have never advised banana for babies less than four months old — although I'll admit that perhaps that's because I'm old fashioned and hide-bound about it. However, I hope I'm not too old to learn new tricks.

If other mothers have had similar experience in feeding banana they should tell me about it, for the sake of countless other babies who otherwise may not get their banana manana.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Wilfrid Brady. If a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

'Automobiles Make Walking Hazardous'

★ ★ ★

Perhaps "the little dears" don't walk because cars won't stop for loaded school buses so why would they bother stopping for a child, especially when the streets are icy and the driver is going between 35 and 50 miles per hour.

★ ★ ★

In "I.L.'s" day, horses were probably used most of the time and what cars people did have, probably didn't exceed 15 m.p.h. Anybody for an old-fashioned sleigh ride?

J.P.

In regards to schools closing when it is icy, perhaps "I. L." did walk. However in those days there weren't as many speeding cars. Also we kids could cut through vacant fields and take short cuts.

In grade school I walked through fields about one mile. In high school I walked three miles the short way. We had long underwear and brown socks, too. Where can you buy them?

'Four-Wheel Brakes Used in 1922 Cars'

On page 24 Monday it said "four-wheel brakes appeared in 1924." They were standard equipment on the Dusenburg in 1922. Case Records of a Psychologist:

Thumb Sucking Easily Remedied

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE L-422: Donnie D., aged 1 year, is a robust little boy.

"But, Dr. Crane," his mother protested, "Donnie sucks his thumb!

"As soon as he goes to bed, he pulls a woolly blanket against his cheek and then sticks his right thumb in his mouth.

"And when he is excited, even during the day, he may also put his thumb in his mouth. How can we break him of this babyish habit?"

DR. CRANE

Thumb sucking generally starts during infancy. It is usually an evidence that the child is irritated or frustrated by lack of adequate food or sometimes a peptic ulcer, for babies do have the latter!

So he throws his arms around and by accident, he finally gets his thumb (sometimes his fingers) into his mouth.

This starts up the usual nursing routine. And the saliva that is generated helps neutralize the acid in his stomach.

Besides, the muscular action of nursing will also drain off a little of the youngster's frustrated energy.

You cigarette smokers may be interested to learn that psychiatrists regard you as overgrown thumb suckers, who have simply shifted to the more socially approved cigarettes.

For when you get tense or jittery, you stick a cigarette into your mouth and nurse thereon just as the infant sucks on its thumb.

Many young mothers nowadays are unduly coerced into believing they MUST nurse their baby even if they have inadequate milk.

That's O.K. if you don't overly fatigue the infant. But a lot of jittery mothers of a first baby, allow the infant to nurse for 20 minutes, though it obtains not more than an ounce or two.

Then, when they place it on the bottle for the balance of its feeding, the baby is too tired to nurse, so it drops off asleep.

Unless you young mothers use a scales and weigh the child, you can easily believe your baby is full, instead of just too fatigued for further nursing.

But even after that has been remedied and they become as fat as butter balls, they may still suck their thumbs, just as a matter of habit.

For any confirmed habit is difficult to break, as you alcoholics, cigarette smokers, and fatties can attest.

CARDBOARD AND RUBBER

There are two simple ways to break the confirmed habit of sucking the thumb at night.

Get a cardboard tube about 12 inches long and big enough to slip over the baby's arm. Let it extend about 6 inches above and below his elbow.

Then pin it in place with safety pins. The baby can now move his arm freely and bend it part way, but can't quite reach its mouth.

A second device is to cut a strip of rubber from an old inner tube. Pin one end to the foot of the mattress. Straighten out the tubing and pin the upper end to the cuff of its pajama sleeve.

Now, when the baby brings its hand up to its mouth, the rubber will be under tension and soon fatigue those arm muscles so the thumb will slip out of its mouth.

GOP Says Voters Should Decide

State Building Bond Plan Faces Battle

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson's blueprint for a "pay-as-we-use" state construction program faced a steep uphill fight in the legislature today.

Republican leaders were quick to criticize the governor's proposal for a state building corporation which would issue $56.2 million in bonds to finance 31 construction projects.

Some said voters should be allowed to decide whether the state should embark on a new bonding program. Others offered alternative plans they said would be cheaper and more acceptable.

Rep. Wilfred G. Bassett, R-Jackson, House speaker pro tem, said the state should not undertake any deficit financing.

"Michigan," he said, "would be like a family already heavily in debt going on and buying a lot more things on the installment credit plan. We should stick to a pay-as-you-go program."

Swainson asked the legislature Wednesday to appropriate $22.6 million from the state's general fund treasury to complete building projects already under way, start construction on some new mental health facilities, boost matching grants for junior and community colleges and complete the new boys' training school at Whitmore Lake.

The 31 projects financed by bonding would include $33.5 million for state colleges and universities, $7.2 million for mental health institutions, $1.43 million for youth camps, $1.8 million for corrections facilities, and $12.2 million for a new State Supreme Court building and office building.

Institutions and agencies using the new facilities would retire the bonds by paying annual rentals from their appropriations.

Rep. Carroll C. Newton, R-Delton, assistant GOP floor leader in the House, and Sen. Elmer Porter, R-Blissfield, Senate appropriations committee chairman, both said statewide referendums should precede any bonding program. This, they say, would reduce interest costs by putting the faith and credit of the state behind the bonds.

"Our primary job here in the legislature is to get our general fund-treasury into good shape before we embark on any big new spending programs," said Newton.

Twist Reaches Vienna

VIENNA (UPI) — The twist claimed its first casualty Wednesday night in this old waltz capital. Bandleader Fred Gartner broke a rib when he lifted a plump dance partner to his band's tune of "Let's Twist Again."

ALEXANDER G. ZAPHIRIS

Heads Oakland's Children's Aid Society Branch

New executive director of the Oakland County branch of the Michigan Children's Aid Society is Alexander G. Zaphiris.

A native of Greece, Zaphiris for the past four years has been director of social service for the Hazel Park Youth Protection Committee.

Previously he worked as a caseworker in a Detroit agency serving foreign born, another agency serving epileptics, worked in an institution for delinquents and practiced law for a year.

Zaphiris' appointment was effective Jan. 1.

The new director of the agency, with offices at 132 Franklin Blvd., holds a law degree from Athens University, Greece, a master's degree in social work from Wayne State University and a certificate from the London School of Economics, London, England.

He has completed his work for a doctor's degree in sociology.

Will Charge $25 for Blood Unit

Supply at Community Hospital 'Placed in Jeopardy' in 1961

ALMONT — Macomb County residents will be charged $25 for each pint of blood received from the Community Hospital, Director James Crary revealed today as the hospital's supply of blood sank lower and lower.

During 1961, Crary said, 62 units were dispensed and only 12 were replaced.

"Because of the extremely unfavorable balance, the hospital's necessary supply of blood from the Red Cross is being placed in jeopardy, Car ystated. "On occasion it has been necessary to solicit the aid of the Romeo State Police Post to rush blood to the hospital at times of extreme need."

"If more replacements were forthcoming, the Red Cross would be in a stronger position to supply blood and thereby serve patients better."

Those who are charged for the blood will be given a refund for each unit they replace because this will aid in restoring a favorable balance, he added.

Police Battle Rioters in Oporto, Portugal

OPOROTO, Portugal (AP) — Police used fire hoses and fired into the air to break up an antigovernmen: demonstration in Oporto Wednesday night.

Between 18 and 20 persons were reported injured, none seriously. Authorities blamed the demonstration on Communist agents and said arrests had been made.

2 Tank Squads to Protect Paris

Mobile Reinforcements Heighten Speculation of French-Algerian Pact

PARIS (AP) — Two tank squadrons will be moved into Paris before the end of the week, government sources reported today. The report heightened speculation that the French government and Algerian rebels have reached agreement, at least in principle, on ending the seven-year war.

The squadrons of mobile gendarmerie, with a total of 32 tanks will roll into Paris to maintain order, It was said. The tanks will be bolstered by about 160 squad cars, some equipped with machine guns. The tanks and cars will reinforce about 25,000 mobile gendarmes, riot police and regular police already on duty in the French capital.

These measures obviously were designed to cope with the danger of a right-wing attempt to carry off a coup d'etat against President Charles de Gaulle's government if an Algerian settlement is reached.

The last time tanks rolled into Paris was last April, during the abortive putsch of dissident generals in Algiers.

★ ★ ★

Special security measures also were designed for Algiers, Oran and Bone, three Algerian cities where the right-wing terrorist Secret Army Organization has vowed an all-out fight against Algerian independence.

Berkley Girl Hurt in Crash in Rochester

ROCHESTER — A 17-year-old student at Michigan Christian Junior College is listed in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, with severe head injuries suffered last night in a two-car head-on crash here.

★ ★ ★

Treated and released from the hospital was Leslie D. McGuire, 18, of Warren, driver of the car in which the girl, Kerry J. Tucker, 4142 Tyler St., Berkley, was riding.

McGuire told Rochester police that he was driving north on M150 about 35 miles an hour when he hit a slippery spot on the bridge at the south end of the village.

In trying to regain control of the car, McGuire said, he slid into the oncoming traffic lane.

Driving the car which McGuire's struck was Raleigh Wilson, 20, of 2513 Weaverton St., Avon Township. Neither Wilson nor a passenger, Toni Wilson, 19, of the same address, was hurt.

Police said the road conditions at 6:30 p.m. were hazardous and that it was snowing. Neither driver was ticketed.

Moves to Ease Burden on Aged

Swainson Maps Plan to Aid Rising List of Elderly State Citizens

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson mapped out a program today to ease the burden of Michigan's steadily growing population of elderly citizens.

He called for legislation making more of them eligible for the federal-state medical aid to the aging (MAA) program and a law banning discrimination because of age in hiring.

He also called for hiring a state planning officer to assist public and private agencies and interests to obtain fullest use of available federal assistance in the housing field, including special housing for the elderly.

Other features of the governor's program would allow free fishing and hunting for all persons over 65 and liberalize pensions for retired teachers.

SEES MILLION BY '75

Swainson, in his 10th special message to the legislature, reported that Michigan's population of nearly 8 million now includes nearly 650,000 who have reached the age of 65. By 1975, he said, the total will reach nearly one million in a population of 10 million.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"The great majority of the 17 million Americans past 65 are living out their lives on drastically reduced income," he said. "They do not have adequate prepaid health and hospital insurance. They are faced with an ever-declining prospect for income supplementation through employment.

★ ★ ★

"They do not have properly staffed or adequately financed educational, recreational, social, housing and health services."

Brooklyn Gang Beams Over Latest Police Sentence

AP Photofax

NEW YORK (AP)—Here's one police sentence seven members of Brooklyn's Gallo gang swelled with pride at hearing: "It just shows that there is some good in everyone."

And this from none other than Asst. Chief Inspector Raymond Martin, after the gang members dashed through smoke and flame Wednesday to rescue six children from a burning third-floor apartment.

Then they led or carried to safety the other children—Frank, 6; Mercedes, 4; Yolanda, 3; Emelio, 2, and Juan, 10 months old.

The men took care of the fire, too. They smashed windows to let the smoke out; they threw a burning mattress into the street; they broke up a bed, also on fire, and threw the pieces out of the window. A burning dresser followed.

ALL HEROES

Heroes all were Larry Gallo, 31, leader pro tem; a brother, Albert Gallo, 32; Frank Illiano, 34; Anthony Abbatemarco, 39; Alfonso Serantonio, 22; Leonard Della, 37; and John Commarato, 37.

Mrs. Sista Biaz, mother of the children, who had left them alone to go shopping, cried in tearful gratitude: "They saved the lives of my children! They are wonderful boys! God bless them!"

Cause of the blaze was not determined.

Speaking for his cohorts, Albert Gallo said: "We only done what any red-blooded American boys would do.

DID A GOOD JOB

Not so, said Battalion Fire Chief Alexander Steier. "They did a good job."

★ ★ ★

And that wasn't all the Brooklyn boys did. They pooled their cash and bought clothes for the kids. They canvassed the neighborhood and took up a collection for the mother, and they arranged for the family to be housed in the area.

★ ★ ★

Larry Gallo swallowed so much smoke he was given medical treatment. His companions were singed but safe.

★ ★ ★

The Gallo mob has been under police surveillance recently because of mysterious shootings and feuds with rivals involving coin machine and other rackets.

Average Hubby 3½ Years Older Than His Wife

WASHINGTON (AP) — The married men of America are about 3½ years older, on the average, than their wives.

The census bureau said Wednesday married men had a median age of 44.6 years in March 1961 while the median age of married woman was 41.1 years. Both figures were about two years higher than those compiled in a similar survey in 1950.

The Bureau said the median age of men at first marriage was 22.8 years in 1961 and 20.3 years for the women. These figures were unchanged from 1950.

Eight Die of Smallpox

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP)—Eight people have died from smallpox in the Nigerian town of Onitsha and 74 people suffering from the disease have been admitted to the town's infectious hospital, medical officers report Wednesday. About 60,000 have been vaccinated in the town and district.

It's strange that no matter how good business is; it always seems to get worse the day you ask the boss for a raise . . . Experience is what causes folks to make new mistakes, instead of repeating old ones . . . I'ow far a dollar goes these days depends on where you take it. — Earl Wilson."

Suspends Operations of Insurance Firm

LANSING (AP) — State Insurance Commissioner Sherwood Colburn has ordered suspension of operations by the Central Casualty Co. of Evanston, Ill.

The suspension was ordered Tuesday shortly after similar action was taken in Illinois, Colburn said. But, he added, "If Illinois had not taken this action, we would have."

Joseph H. Gerber, Illinois insurance director, said the action against the company was taken after its officers failed to account for more than $1 million in assets.

The move was aimed at putting the company on a sound footing and under new management, he said.

The firm wrote about $45,000 in premiums in Michigan in 1960, the Michigan department said.

Earl Warren Jr. Leaves the GOP, Registers Dem

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Earl Warren Jr., son of the chief justice of the United States, has switched his political registration from Republican to Democratic because "I just think the Republican party is drifting away from dad's brand of republicanism."

★ ★ ★

Warren made the change Wednesday, his 32nd birthday. He said he also timed it so he can work for the re-election of Gov. Edmund G. Brown and other Democrats in the coming election. He is a Sacramento attorney.

★ ★ ★

Slavery was abolished in Trinidad in 1834.

United Defense McNamara's Major Triumph

By RAY CROMLEY
(Last of Three Dispatches)

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Defense Secretary Robert McNamara's greatest contributions to the Department of Defense are in budgeting and future planning.

McNamara worked on the 1963 budget from the beginning. He kept in close touch with its trends and many of the details through his trusted Comptroller Charles Hitch.

But when the "final document came to him, he had his budget riens go through it with a fine tooth comb. They found roughly 550 points they questioned.

He then had his budget men prepare a page or two or three on every questioned point, some 1,500 pages in all. They listed the reasons for their questions, the facts in the case and listed alternatives. McNamara himself studied those 1,500 pages and made a decision on each of the 550 points.

SEPARATE BUDGETS

Before McNamara, Defense budgets were a hodge podge of compromises. Essentially, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force would come up with separate largely-unrelated budgets.

As wars have grown more complicated, Army, Navy and Air Force weapons systems and equipment have tended to overlap expensively. Since each service has thought largely in terms of its own missions, there have been serious equipment and weapon gaps. In some cases, the services have had competing weapons and missions.

In their research and development programs, the Army, the Navy and the Air Force have been pushing at combination of weapons systems potentially so costly that not even all the successful systems could have been funded in future budgets, yet the less important have not been weeded out.

Reasonable budgets were arrived at by compromise, by letting each service have a percentage of what it wanted. This left duplication, overlap and gaps. Cutbacks were sometimes costly in terms of adequate defense.

* * *

Under Hitch, the services have of late been working on a unified budget for now and in rough form for the next five years. For each type of war or mission, the different available weapons, men and equipment are listed together.

* * *

Many weapons, men and equipment are usable for several different purposes. Cost is pro-rated among the different uses. The same thing is done for two, three, four and five years hence.

CUT OUT EXCESS

Then the civilian aides and the military men try to find the cheapest combination of the different types of weapons, men and equipment to see what can be eliminated as excess and what will be needed to fill gaps.

It is the old story of for want of a nail the shoe was lost, for want of a shoe the horse was lost, for want of a horse, the battle was lost. This type of analysis—a search for the missing nails — has enabled McNamara to make some of his more worthwhile decisions.

In a limited war study, McNamara's analysts reported that the number of troops is less important than the speed with which they could arrive on the spot.

McNamara checked, found there wasn't enough air transport immediately available to hit quickly at trouble spots around the world. He ordered more military transport planes.

* * *

McNamara's analysis told him that quick action in limited wars demanded one man in authority who wouldn't have to waste time going through channels to get the supporting forces he needed—principally fighter planes.

* * *

So McNamara set up the United States Strike Command, combining the Strategic Army Corps and parts of the Air Force's Tactical Air Command. He put Gen. Paul D. Adams in charge.

McNamara's analysis told him there were several weak spots in U.S. nuclear war defenses. Since U.S. plans assumed the Russians would strike first, then U.S. missiles, U.S. planes, military communications and command networks must be able to survive a Red sneak attack.

McNamara ordered alternate and improved military communications and command networks.

He speeded orders for Polaris submarines, which theoretically can ride through most attacks unscathed.

He ordered more production facilities for Minuteman, which is so cheap it can be dispersed widely and therefore is difficult to put out of commission.

He ordered a 50 per cent increase in the number of U.S. Strategic Air Command bombers that would be kept on 15-minute alert.

THOUGHT OF COST

McNamara is also introducing economies by forcing the military men to think in terms of cost, maintenance and obsolescence. Says one aide:

"One system may look far less costly in the beginning because the hardware costs less. But over the long pull, because of costly maintenance or quick obsolescence, the seemingly cheaper system may in the end cost a great deal more.

POLARIS SUB CUTS THE WATERS — A very logical reason for McNamara's enthusiasm.

The Army bothers McNamara. Or rather the Army mind bothers him. He is convinced there must be a buildup in conventional Army forces to deal with the brush wars he figures Russia is certain to start.

He believes more funds must be put into the Army, but he's not convinced the Army knows how to spend the money.

One of the secretary's close aides says that McNamara figures throwing billions into a buildup of the type the Army now wants would be a waste of funds.

McNamara is waiting until the Army develops the imaginative sort of program—with force breakthroughs — that he thinks the Navy has in Polaris and the Air Force has in Minuteman.

But this McNamara spending system has its weak points, as one McNamara admirer admits. This civilian aide says:

* * *

"The boss has the accountant's uncanny ability to cut away waste and show clearly which weapon system will be the cheapest. But I'm not certain that he therefore knows which weapon system is best. In these choices he may well be making some serious mistakes.

* * *

"But I think he will begin to realize this weakness of his and turn more to other men who do not look at defense solely with an accountant's fishy eye."

Christian Dems Go Left for New Support in Italy

NAPLES, Italy (AP) — Italy's ruling Christian Democratic party swung to the left today in a move to give the country a new government backed by Pietro Nenni's Socialists, former allies of the Communists.

The Christian Democratic party congress, after five days of debate here, voted on Premier Amintore Fanfani's plan to scuttle his middle-of-the-road government and replace it with a center-left cabinet that could win Socialist support for a more vigorous domestic program of economic, social and school reforms.

* * *

The resolution put before the party delegates, although approving the "opening to the left" Fanfani has urged since 1956, pledged the party to maintain Italy's pro-Western foreign policy as a member of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. It also rejected any move toward outright communism or fascism, declaring that any government backed by the Christian Democrats would work "in full independence of every totalitarian influence."

CONCEDE DEFEAT

The rightist faction of the Christian Democrats conceded defeat in advance by accepting only 22 of the seats on the party's national council. The rest went to backers of the opening to the left.

"Don't be afraid," ex-Premier Mario Scelba of the rightists told the congress majority. "Wherever you go, we shall go for the sake of party unity despite the fact we disagree with the (Fanfani) line."

The Christian Democrats are the largest party in Parliament but do not have a majority, and Fanfani since August 1960 has headed an all-Christian Democrat government backed also by the Republicans and Giuseppe Saragat's Democratic Socialists on the left and the Liberals on the right.

* * *

Fanfani now hopes to form a coalition cabinet of Christian Democrats, Saragat Socialists and Republicans which in the words of the party resolution "could be assured the direct or indirect support" of the Nenni Socialists. Fanfani's plan is that the Nenni faction will have no seats in the cabinet but will back the government on domestic issues and abstain on foreign policy votes.

Praises Nations for Aiding the Underdeveloped

WASHINGTON (AP) — Frank Coffin, deputy administrator of the Agency for International Development, returned from a month trip to industrialized countries with praise for their efforts in aiding underdeveloped nations.

Coffin outlined at a news conference what he listed as substantial foreign aid efforts he found in touring Western Europe and Japan.

He said the total outflow of economic resources from the European countries and Japan to underdeveloped areas amounted to $4.2 billion in 1960, compared with $4 billion from the United States.

However, in foreign aid confined to governmental assistance like grants, loans and contributions, he said the spending by other industrial countries amounts to only 40 per cent of the U.S. effort.

White Cloth, Hood Up to Signify Car Trouble

LANSING (AP) — A raised hood and a white cloth tied to the car door handle has been adopted as the uniform distress signal for motorists who must make an emergency stop on a freeway, the State Highway Department advises.

Motorists were told not to walk on the freeway and to wait until help arrives. At night, drivers also are told to turn on their rear and interior car lights.

OK School Borrowings

LANSING (AP) — New school district borrowings against anticipated state aid approved by the State Department of Public Instruction this week included: Edwardsburg, Cass County, $36,000; Mason County Eastern, $30,000; Hersey Township, Osceola County, $8,000.

Yenik to Get Life for Killing Boy

Welder Found Guilty of 1st-Degree Murder in Newberry Slaying

NEWBERRY (AP)—Factory worker James Yenik has been found guilty of first-degree murder in teen-ager Michael Richmond's death and must go to prison for life.

★ ★ ★ ★

A jury of five women and seven men returned the verdict against Yenik late Wednesday after deliberating three and a half hours.

He turned white. He spoke no word. Shortly, he was led back to the jail which has been his home for six months during his detention without bond.

Life imprisonment is the mandatory sentence for first-degree murder in Michigan.

Presiding Circuit Judge George S. Baldwin announced he would pass sentence late next week.

Yenik was tried for the gunfire death of 14-year-old Michael, one of five children in a Newberry family. He was found shot to death near a woods road intersection 14 miles from home July 28.

REJECTED ALIBI

The jury, in finding the dark-haired defendant guilty as charged, accepted the prosecution's circumstantial evidence and rejected Yenik's alibi.

The state has built a case on bootprints and car tire marks found at the slaying scene. The state also put emphasis on Yenik's missing 22-caliber revolver.

Yenik said he was miles away from the scene at the time Michael was killed, that he did not know the boy and that he had lost the gun months before.

★ ★ ★

Judge Baldwin had given the jury its choice of four verdicts — innocent, guilty of first or second degree murder or manslaughter.

McCone Is Approved as Chief of CIA

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Wednesday voted 72-12 to approve Republican John A. McCone as head of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Approval of the wealthy, 66-year-old California businessman rejected charges that he is unqualified and might be influenced by his financial dealings.

Before the vote on his CIA appointment, Sen. Margaret Chase Smith, R-Maine, said she was opposed to confirmation because "I do not consider him qualified for this very important position."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Smith, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said McCone once told the committee he had serious doubt about his qualifications but never mentioned them to Kennedy.

Lands Expedition on Isle Covered by Volcanic Ash

LONDON (AP)—The main party of the Royal Society's expedition to volcano-wrecked Tristan da Cunha has landed on that bleak South Atlantic island, a society spokesman said Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The main purpose of the expedition is to study causes and effects of last October's eruptions that forced the island's 282 inhabitants to flee.

★ ★ ★

The party also will determine if the islanders, now in Britain, can return to their old homes. The expedition landed from the frigate Transvaal.

Allan Williams Seeks GOP Senate Momination

IONIA (AP) — Allan Williams, 70, secretary-manager of the Ionia Free Fair and retired Ionia County Road Commission engineer, Wednesday formally announced his candidacy for Republican nomination for State senator, 25th district.

★ ★ ★

The district covers Ionia, Montcalm, Gratiot and Mecosta counties. Sen John Stahlin, R-Belding, has announced plans to run on the GOP ticket for Lt. Governor.

Injunction Forbids NY Central Strike

NEW YORK (AP) — A Federal Court judge enjoined the Transport Workers Union Wednesday from striking the New York Central Feb. 4.

The preliminary injunction by Judge Archie O. Dawson was directed at Michael J. Quill, TWU president.

Quill announced Jan. 26 that the TWU would strike at 12:01 a.m. Sunday against the Central and the Pennsylvania railroad unless both guaranteed job security for TWU employes in the event the roads merged.

NEW SENATOR AND FAMILY—James B. Pearson, with his family, looks at a souvenir booklet of Washington, D.C. Pearson, 41-year-old attorney, was appointed by Gov. John Anderson to be United States senator from Kansas to fill out the term of Sen. Andrew F. Schoeppel who died. The children are (from left) James Jr., 12; Laura, 7; Bill, 8; and Tom, 10.

How CAN She Leave Baby?

Princess Called 'Unfeeling'

BY PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 1.— The British press is after Princess Margaret's scalp again. All I can say is it couldn't happen to a more deserving woman.

Not that I know Princess Margaret personally. I suspect that if I knew Princess Margaret personally, my unservile attitude in Milady's petulant presence might have long since forced my banishment from Kensington Palace and the several other London digs that she digs.

It is told on the best authority that Meg insists on bows rather than back-talk — she likes your compliments, but don't stand too close, please.

Now she has just returned from a "second honeymoon" in the Caribbean and the Mirror, Britain's largest-circulation paper, accused her of being "perverse" for having left her 2-month-old baby.

"Perverse" is a strong adjective, meaning "deviating from the right or correct." But I don't think it describes our Mommy Meg, in this instance, quite so well as another word:

"Unfeeling" is the one I had in mind.

I also like "unwomanly," but perhaps that's a bit exaggerated since all it requires to be womanly (see Webster) is to be "possessed of qualities characteristic of women."

* * *

And one can still have some of those qualities, no doubt, while tootling off the the tropics.

* * *

One can still be feminine, white-gloved, giggly and girlish, even as she leaves the small bairn behind with the royal nanny.

But as a new mother myself, misty-eyed and gurgly and entranced with every squirm and squeal of the boy who resides in the local crib, I cannot conceive of a princess' saying bye-bye to her baby.

(A prince, yes. A prince can be a toad in disguise.) Realizing that she has very good, inexpensive babysitters, it still is incomprehensible to me.

AZALEA QUEEN — Margaret Ann Goldwater, 17-year-old daughter of Sen. Barry Goldwater, Wednesday was named queen of the Norfolk, Va., International Azalea Festival. The Arizona Republican will crown his daughter queen April 29, final day of the festival. Miss Goldwater is a senior at Judson School, Scotsdale, Ariz.

Rites Make It Fibber McGee and Gretchen

HONOLULU (AP)—Radio's Fibber McGee and the widow of stage, comedian Yogi Yorgesson were married here Wednesday at Our Lady of Peace (Catholic) Cathedral.

Fibber McGee's true name is Jim Jordan, 64. His first wife, Marian, who played the part of Molly in their radio series, died of cancer April 7.

The bride actually is Gretchen Stewart, whose first husband was Harry (Yogi Yorgesson) Stewart, killed in an auto accident in 1956.

New Boston Blaze Fatal to 4 in Family

NEW BOSTON (AP)—Four members of a family of six were killed today when fire engulfed their frame home in a rural area.

The dead included the father and three children.

The mother saved herself and a daughter by leaping through a window with the daughter in her arms.

Dead were Charles Nutt, 37; Charles Jr., 12; William, 7, and a daughter, Bonnie, 10.

Mrs. Phyllis Nutt, 35, was taken to Wayne County General Hospital for treatment of extensive cuts suffered when she plunged through the window.

New Archbishop Feb. 14

ATHENS (AP)—Election of a new archbishop of Athens and primate of Greece will be held Feb. 14, an Orthodox Holy Synod spokesman said Wednesday.

He will succeed Archbishop Iakovos, who resigned Jan. 25, under Greek government pressure. Undisclosed charges had been lodged against him by church officials.

Rep. Broomfield Urges Sanctions Against Castro

Broomfield said this country "may have" failed at the recent Organization of American States conference at Punta del Este because it sought to have the other Latin America nations stop trading with Fidel Castro without first taking action to impose complete economic sanctions on its own.

The legislator condemned the inaction of Congress in not following through on a bill, which passed the House last September, which would have imposed a total ban on trade with Cuba.

He said it was "a typical example of bureaucracy as usual in a time of crisis" and "an effort to beat Castro with paper proclamations."

Oregon originated state gasoline taxes in 1919, but within about 10 years all the states had similar tax laws.

Small-Change Bandits Lug Away $4,500

NEW YORK (AP) — The pair who held up a vending machine firm Wednesday and escaped with $4,500, had to be well-muscled.

The robbers lined up the manager and employees of the Coleman Vending Machine Co., and then struggled off with the loot—all in nickels, dimes and quarters.

Thief Surely Has Nerve to Invade Police Office

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Betty McDonald, 28, a receptionist, told detectives Wednesday her purse containing $7 was stolen when she stepped away from her desk momentarily.

Republicans to Hear Brass at Fund Raising Dinners

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican party faithful will dine tonight, listen to top GOP brass and —they hope—help wipe out the party deficit.

The 17 fund-raising dinners will be the Republicans' first big rallies of the new year—a congressional election year in which they hope to cut deeply into Democratic majorities in the House and Senate. Party leaders have said this won't be easy.

SEES WEAK SPOTS

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., former GOP national chairman, pointed to two weak spots in party armor Wednesday in a speech before a Young Republicans nationwide leadership conference in a suburban Virginia motel.

* * *

First, he said, the Republicans lack a strong organization in the big cities. This has been pointed out many times by Republicans since President Kennedy's narrow victory in 1960.

Next, Morton said, the Democrats, led by Kennedy, have outmaneuvered Republicans "on many levels and we are being placed in the position of being agin' everything."

MUST DO WELL

Morton, who is up for re-election himself, said unless the GOP makes a strong showing in this year's congressional elections, the Republican nomination for president will have little meaning in 1964.

* * *

"They ask me who is going to be the standard bearer in 1964," Morton said. "If we don't make gains in 1962, we're going to have to hunt for somebody to run for president."

'VARIED PROGRAMS'

President Kennedy said at his news conference Wednesday, "I am sure that I don't know who is giving the (Republican) leadership direction, but I am sure they will have a varied program."

Courtney Burton, GOP finance chairman, predicts more than 30,000 persons will attend the $100-a-plate dinners tonight, and thousands more will attend similar functions at later dates.

"When all our later fund-raising plans are added to the income from the dinners, our treasury will be in very good shape," Burton said.

He predicted the dinners would gross more than $1.5 million to be divided among national, state and local Republican committees. The national committee currently has a deficit of about $600,000.

* * *

Featured speakers tonight over a closed circuit television hookup will be former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, from Los Angeles; former Vice President Richard M. Nixon, from Fresno, Calif.; National Chairman William E. Miller, from Washington; Sen. Barry Goldwater of Arizona, from Cleveland, and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, from Des Moines.

President Planning More Press Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy reportedly is pleased with the results of holding more frequent news conferences. He is likely to schedule another next week and may put them on a regular weekly basis.

Wednesday's conference was his third in 16 days and occurred just one week after his last meeting with the press. It was his 22nd since taking office.

Several weeks elapsed between conferences last year.

* * *

Kennedy said last November he would hold conferences nearly every week once Congress reconvened.

DENIED PAROLE — Orville Hodge, former Illinois state auditor, bows his head and slumps in dejection Wednesday on being informed of Illinois Gov. Otto Kerner's rejection of his request for parole or pardon consideration. Hodge has been an inmate of Menard Penitentiary since 1956, when he was sentenced to a 12- to 15-year term after pleading guilty to embezzling $637,000 in state funds.

N.J. Wants to Cut Down the Size of Which Herd?

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—For the first time in 48 years, New Jersey had a one-day hunting season, confined to hunters who failed to bag a deer last year.

* * *

In an effort to cut herds down to size, the hunters were permitted Wednesday to shoot any deer on sight, regardless of sex.

* * *

Number of hunters hospitalized: Three.

Heads Austrian Province

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Leopold Figl, former federal chancellor and foreign minister Wednesday was elected governor of the province of Lower Austria. Figl, a Conservative, also received the votes of the Socialist party in the Lower Austrian diet, and his election was unanimous.

The surest way to make a long story short is to have the boss walk in suddenly . . . The old-timer can remember when history was made for about half as much as it's costing today . . . Figures may not lie —but girdles keep a lot of 'em from telling the truth.—Earl Wilson.

Con-Con Starts Floor Debate on Committee Proposals

LANSING (AP) — Michigan's constitutional convention, having surmounted its first major deadline hurdle, moved today into a new phase of action—full floor debate on committee proposals.

Substantive committees completed their work before the midnight deadline Wednesday night, taking stands on a wide range of subjects ranging from lotteries to legislative apportionment.

All committee proposals will now be placed on general orders, for "committee-of-the-whole" debate during which delegates can offer amendments or substitutes on any of the recommendations for the proposed new constitution.

The legislative powers committee, last to complete its assignment, voted 14-1 to retain the present constitutional ban against lotteries. But proponents of permissive bingo games promised to file a minority report against the committee's action.

Delegate Edmond Lesinski, D-Detroit, accused the committee of applying double standards in voting down a series of his proposals to legalize bingo yet doing nothing about legalized parimutuel betting on horse races.

Richard D. Kuhn, R-Pontiac, said he opposed liberalizing the anti-lottery provision because it would "make a Las Vegas out of Michigan."

The controversial issue drew a flood of letters. Some fraternal groups favored the proposal, while theater owners and others opposed it.

The theater group said legalized bingo would amount to unfair competition, and urged that if such a provision were adopted that movie houses also be allowed to conduct bingo games.

A proposal to write congressional redistricting into the constitution was tabled by the committee after discussion of whether the convention had any authority to act on the matter, since it concerned a federal governmental body.

The final day for committee action also saw the judicial committee adopt a proposal a majority really didn't want — just to get something on the floor.

SUPREME COURT

This was a recommendation that Supreme Court justices be elected by districts, rather than on a statewide basis. On an initial roll call, the committee was deadlocked 7-7, with four abstentions.

But after Chairman Robert Danhof, R-Muskegon, warned that minority reports would not be possible if the committee failed to come out with a majority recommendation, the proposal passed 11-6, with two abstentions.

In addition to the election of justices by districts on a nonpartisan basis, the proposal calls for expanding the court to nine members rather than the present eight, Wayne County would elect three justices, with the others being chosen from outstate districts.

The committee also voted to set up an appeals court system on a district base similar to the Supreme Court provision.

In the executive committee, a proposal was adopted that would direct the legislature to provide for a governor's mansion, long urged but never accomplished.

The committee's recommendation, which was adopted unanimously, said:

"There shall be provided for the governor's use a suitable executive residence with fixtures and furniture, and he shall receive an allowance for maintenance as provided by law."

In the legislative organization committee, it was decided that if any bipartisan commission set up to redistrict the legislature remains deadlocked the Supreme Court would decide which of the commission's plans more nearly complies with constitutional requirements.

The committee also decided to leave to a commission the touchy job of drawing any new district lines for both the House and the Senate, rather than attempting to have it done by the convention.

With the proposal deadline met, the convention looked ahead to the next target date — Feb. 21 — when the committee of the whole must complete its consideration of committee proposals and exclusion reports.

The convention timetable was set up with a March 31 adjournment date as its goal. Under an attorney general's ruling, the delegates must finish by April 1 if the proposed new constitution is to go on the ballot next November.

Otherwise, the voters will decide whether to accept the new basic law document in the April 1963 elections.

That Old Pagoda in NY Chinatown Is a Phone Booth

★ ★ ★

The "Gung Yung Deen Way" (Chinese for "electric talker for public use") went into operation Wednesday at Pell and Mott streets.

★ ★ ★

A young Chinese dancer burned incense in the booth and made the first call. She dialed City Hall, invited the mayor to attend a celebration next Monday of the Chinese New Year 4660—Year of the Tiger.

Abraham Lincoln Statue to Receive New Scroll

WASHINGTON (AP)—Abraham Lincoln's statue in the Capitol rotunda is going to have a new marble scroll placed in its hand.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Fred Schwengel, R-Iowa, noticed the Emancipation Proclamation scroll had been broken off and started a drive to have a new one added.

★ ★ ★

Schwengel said Wednesday Chairman Paul Jones, D-Mo., of a House Administration subcommittee, has indicated that the capitol architect has funds for making repairs of this sort and he has ordered the necessary work.

Red Italian Mayor Quits

SESTRI LEVANTE, Italy (AP) —Oreste Ocule, 81, the oldest mayor in Italy, has resigned. The Communist mayor had headed the municipal administration in this suburb of Genoa since the end of World War II. He announced Wednesday he was quitting because of ill health.

Baby Arrives in Dad's Car at Rail Crossing

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—A railroad yardmaster was under arrest Wednesday because a train blocked a crossing so long that a girl was born in her parents' waiting car.

Mrs. William Blankenship, 28, gave birth to the baby Tuesday night while her irate husband was trying to get police to clear the crossing so he could get his wife to a hospital.

The baby was taken to a nearby fire station, and the switching Indiana Harbor Railroad train also delayed the ambulance called to take mother and baby to St. Margaret Hospital.

Motorists said the crossing on busy Calumet Avenue was blocked 42 minutes, and Robert Mansell was charged with blocking a crossing.

Women's Section

Festival Set Feb. 18 at MSUO

Affair to Feature Displays, Styles of Nations

Food, fashion and far-away places will dominate Michigan State University Oakland's annual international festival scheduled for Feb. 18.

"Culture Internationale" will feature displays of handicraft, costumes and books brought together from all over the world by the university and its Association of Women Students.

The displays will be open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the university's Oakland Center, without admission charge.

Guests will be entertained by student performers presenting songs, dances and drama from around the world. A special international fashion show will show off costumes throughout the day.

Appetizers, salads, entrees and desserts from Java, India, Mexico and Turkey are among items on the menu of an international buffet dinner to be served from 12:20 to 2 p.m.

Tickets must be purchased in advance for the buffet and can be ordered through the dean of students office.

Teen Club Dance Set in Waterford

Waterford Community Center's Teen Club Dance will be from 8 to 11 p.m. Friday with music by an orchestra provided by Pontiac Area Music Federation.

Admission will be by membership cards which also will be on sale at the door.

Eight dances remain in this series for which the month's first dance features a live band and the second, a record hop. Disc jockey Don McLeod will spin records for the Feb. 16 dance.

Dr. Leland Miles Town Hall Speaker

Dr. Leland Miles, author and educator, will appear before Birmingham Town Hall at 11 a.m. Feb 8 and 9 in the Birmingham Theater.

Rev. David VanDusen of St. James Episcopal Church will introduce Dr. Miles whose subject will be "Behind the Book Jackets."

Luncheon and the customary question and answer period will follow at Kingsley Inn.

Pontiac Press Photo

Mrs. Edward E. Wilson certainly rates as one of the most talented young ladies in this section. She is shown here with a portrait that she did of her father in-law, the late C. E. Wilson, and also a bust of the same distinguished individual. Few people excel at either of these specialized arts—and an infinitely fewer number at the two in combination.

5 Pledges to Get Pins on Monday

Fourth degrees will be conferred on five pledges of Lambda Tau Delta Sorority at Monday's annual dinner in Topinkas Country House.

Mrs. William Jensen, Mrs. Ernest Grohs and Mrs. Robert McMaken, Pontiac; Mrs. Thoralf Uiseth, Troy; and Mrs. Arthur Budzaj, Detroit, will receive their membership pins.

Mrs. Elmer Mellebrand, Detroit branch president, will preside when members discuss plans for the sorority's March fashion show.

Epsilon Iota Chapter members will be hostesses for the program with Mrs. Charles Brink as pledge chairman. Among committee members are Mrs. Reginold McNichol and Mrs. Charles Harris, Pontiac, and Mrs. Bernard Dodd, Birmingham.

Breakfast Time Activates Mood for Entire Day

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Certain times of day are especially lovely. Breakfast should be one of these. It starts the day and sets the mood, often until evening.

If it's a jammed, hasty, grumpy affair, your day is off to a bad start. So is your husband's.

Try to make it pleasant, even if you must arise 15 minutes earlier. This means rollers out of the hair, powder on the nose, a dash of lipstick. Show your husband the courtesy you would pay any ordinary stranger.

Don't slop to the table in a frowsy robe. Get dressed. It may be a cotton housedress but it should be clean.

Make fresh coffee; the pleasant odor will fill the house. Keep your breakfast conversation light and cheerful. Otherwise, you may find that it tends to sink into a long and slightly complaining description of everything you have to do during the day.

Send your husband off to work with a warm and pleasant beginning to his day. You'll be more than repaid for the effort you make.

Save Odd Parts

(NEA)—Our mechanized age makes it almost certain that you'll find bolts, screws and other odd parts around the house from time to time. Save them. Among the collection you often find just the thing needed for a quick repair job.

Owen PTA School Fair to Be Oasis of Spring

Leis, hats and flower booths will lend a note of spring for Owen School Parent-Teacher Association's annual fair Saturday.

Other fair features will include booths selling old jewelry, handwork, silhouettes, refreshments and white elephants. Highlight of the 5 to 9 p.m. affair will be a talent show with students, teachers and parents participating.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ralph Bowers, general chairman, is being assisted by committee chairmen Mrs. Charles Abair, Mrs. James Reid, Mrs. Albert Tomanek, Mrs. Willard Shubert, Mrs. Britt Hurley and Mrs. LaVerne Paulson.

★ ★ ★

Throwaways

(NEA)—Run out of ash trays during a party? Press heavy-duty aluminum foil into contours of one of your trays, and let the foil substitutes serve as throw-away trays.

June vows are planned by Elizabeth A. Ferkowicz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Ferkowicz of Silverwood to William J. Gillow, son of the Harold Gillows of Waterford Township.

ELIZABETH A. FERKOWICZ

Party Is Set by Huron Unit

Huron Gardens Extension Club members' next meeting will be at a post-Valentine's Day party Feb. 19 at the Astor Street home of Mrs. Arthur Kohn. Mrs. Clinton Devine will serve as hostess for the affair.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

Following cooperative dinner, Mrs. Gerald Wright conducted a lesson on hobbies which demonstrated the making of tote bags and place mats.

Mrs. Devine and Mrs. Harold Shaw are new members.

Slims Waist

(NEA)—Stretching is one of the best exercises for waist reducing. Before you get out of bed in the morning, stretch. Then when you're up, open the window and stretch to your full height, arms overhead, 10 times.

E. JEAN CARSON

Pontiac Girl Is Honored

E. Jean Carson, daughter of the Colin Carsons of Henderson Street, was selected as a member of the Queen's court at Northwood Institute's first annual homecoming last weekend at Alma.

A 1961 graduate of Pontiac Central High School, she is a freshman at Northwood and is interested in the field of art design in advertising and retailing.

From Dowdiness to Glamour

Queen Goes High Style

LONDON (UPI)—A leading British fashion editor said today that Queen Elizabeth, in her 10 years on the throne, has developed from a dowdy dresser to a glamorous fashion plate with "the tiniest waist and the prettiest shoulders in London."

Queen Elizabeth, 35, who marks the 10th anniversary of her accession to the throne on Tuesday, got the wildly approving once-over from Daily Express fashion editor Jill Butterfield.

When the queen ascended to the throne in 1952 she was, according to Miss Butterfield, "a tiny, lonely glittering little figure crusted in diamonds and caged-in with pearls." And her complexion was the "peachy" envy of all.

But, alas, for the way she dressed.

"Do you remember," said Miss Butterfield, "those slingbacked open-toed sandals, those vicarage garden party pastels, those hats worn for convention rather than flattery, that debutante dreary spotted white organdy she wore at the early Buckingham Palace garden parties?"

SO MATRONLY

Miss Butterfield said the queen's appearance years ago made her look "both ridiculously matronly and . . . like a little girl playing at mother."

★ ★ ★

But Queen Elizabeth learned fast — being subjected to "analytical, cat-eyed scrutiny every woman in the world gives to her better-off neighbor."

★ ★ ★

By 1958, the fashion editor recounted, the queen was elected fifth best-dressed woman in the world and by 1959 international fashion experts had made her a founder member of the fashion "Hall of Fame."

★ ★ ★

"By 1961," said Miss Butterfield, "an enthusiastic American was describing her as a 'knock out, a wow, a doll who can generate wolf whistles.'"

Today the queen's chic is the envy of women the world over, according to Miss Butterfield. She said:

★ ★ ★

"At last she is slim enough for the tyrannic demands of fashion. Ten years ago her cross-over necklines, her cross-over skirts, her drapings on the hips and swathing on the bosom were designed mainly to conceal the reluctant remnants of puppy fat.

★ ★ ★

"Today she is model girl slim with the tiniest waist and the prettiest shoulders in London."

Is It Dirty, Asks Abby

Do You Live in Glass House?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I live across the street from a high school girl. She is a quiet girl, but I understand that's the type you have to watch. I see her coming home from school every afternoon. The same boy walks her home.

ABBY

I notice that they walk down the street holding hands. Then they stand in front of her house and talk. She looks up at him like a sick calf. They have stood there and talked for as long as an hour.

I can see trouble starting. Don't you think somebody ought to tell her mother? I was not spying. I was cleaning my Venetian blinds.

NEIGHBOR LADY

DEAR LADY: You must have the cleanest Venetian blinds in town. Now go to work on your mind!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What is your definition of maturity?

STUDENT

DEAR STUDENT: This is maturity: To be able to stick with a job until it's finished; to be able to bear an injustice without wanting to get even; to be able to carry money without spending it; and to do one's duty without being supervised.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: There is a relative of ours who is giving us all a pain in the neck with birthday parties' "honoring" her husband every year. This woman is no kid. She's in her early forties. Her husband has just celebrated his 44th birthday.

We can understand giving a fortieth or fiftieth birthday party, but what's all this nonsense of giving a 42nd, 43rd and 44th birthday party for a grown man?

She makes a big deal out of it, inviting the family and all their friends, and it means a present every year. Don't you think she should grow up and leave the birthday parties to the children?

NAUSEATED

DEAR NAUSEATED: An invitation to a party is not a command. You are free to decline if you wish. If such parties "nauseate" you — stay home and preserve your health.

She is a member of Phi Kappa Phi national honor society at MSU and member of Pi Omega Pi and Delta Pi Epsilon business education honoraries.

Her fiance was graduated from Alma College and Wayne State University School of Mortuary Science. He is a member of Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

To Assist Mrs. Joseph Fox

Name UF Campaign Aide

The appointment of Mrs. Earl White of South Telegraph Road as Pontiac cochairman for the 1962 United Fund Drive has been announced by Mrs. Joseph Fox, women's campaign committee chairman.

Laying the groundwork for the women's campaign requires the appointment of chairmen to head the four areas and 42 districts that compose Pontiac's geographical division. Some 1,300 volunteer women in Pontiac, Waterford and Lake Angelus will be needed to work on the campaign for funds that support the 54 agencies affiliated with the Pontiac Area United Fund.

Mrs. White brings some 20 years' experience in volunteer work to her assignment, plus association with the Red Feather, Community Chest and United Funds in Detroit and Jackson before coming to Pontiac 10 years ago. She also served as neighborhood solicitor prior to her appointment as district chairman in 1960 and Pontiac area chairman in 1961.

MRS. EARL WHITE

Commenting on the appointment, Mrs. Fox said, "We are fortunate to have a chairman with such an outstanding background of experience and dedication to United Fund work. Having worked with Mrs. White in the recent campaign, I have the utmost confidence and respect for her ability."

Mrs. White is crop area supervisor, farm placement section of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, a member of the Eagles Auxiliary, St. Benedict church and Altar Society and St. Gertrude's Auxiliary.

Cochairmen for Waterford and Lake Angelus will be appointed within the next few weeks.

Will Distribute Information on Cookie Sale

Information regarding 1962's Girl Scout cookie sale will be distributed to district and neighborhood chairmen at a noon kickoff luncheon Tuesday in the Howard Johnson Restaurant on Dixie Highway.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Carlyle Bragen, Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council's chairman for the annual sale, announces four kinds of cookies will be sold by girl and adult Scouts from March 9 through March 25.

★ ★ ★

MR. and MRS. LOREN COLWELL

Friday will mark the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Loren Colwell of Ferry Avenue. Parents of Mrs. Robert Reese, Palmer Street; Robert Colwell, Lake Orion; and Arthur Colwell, Oakridge Street, Drayton Plains, the honored couple has 10 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Good Habits Take No More Time Than Bad

Habits are formed by doing the same things every day in much the same way. And they can work for health and good looks or against them.

Coffee drinking can be delightful, and therefore an enjoyable habit. But if you overdo it, it becomes a bad habit.

Slumping is a bad habit and, if kept up, will give you a dowager's hump and other figure lumps.

Sitting up straight is easy and produces a better figure immediately. Obviously, this is a good habit, one that works for you. When you say you haven't the necessary time to exercise, remember this:

Good habits can help you. Standing erect, breathing deeply, walking rather than riding, otuching your toes 30 times daily are all good habits that help you keep a lithe body.

And yet none takes any great amount of time. Try them and see.

If this sets you to thinking conscientiously about your habits and substituting good for bad, you've made a valuable discovery.

Ideal for 8-Week Marathon

Slim Thighs With Exercise

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Thousands of women are now taking part in my Eight-Week Self-Improvement Marathon for a loss of 20 pounds. With the eight-week goal in mind, they have incentive — they know that it won't last forever!

Actually, it IS best to reduce over a specified period and to take each day as it comes; you're less likely to become discouraged.

* * *

It's wise, too, to exercise while dieting. The exercises today are corrective to the flabby inner and outer thighline — one of the first indications that early youth is gone; these are ideal for those of you on the eight-week routine — and others as well.

Stand tall with your left side toward the wall and your left hand on the wall for support. Raise your right leg forward — upward with a stiff knee. Move the leg to side position at the same height, and then return to place. Continue.

ANOTHER EXERCISE

This exercise is for the same figure defect. Stand with your back against the wall, arms at sides. Press the palms of the hands against the wall for support, arms slightly away from the body and straight. Bend the right knee up in front of the body. Keeping the knee in this position, swing it out to the right as far as you comfortably can. Swing it back and to the left as far as comfortable. Continue, slowly. Return to place.

Exercise can make great improvement in the beauty of the thighs. The truth is that every woman should take preventive exercises for a flabby or bulging thighline from the age of 30 on.

If you would like to join thousands of other women on my Eight Week Self-Improvement Marathon, which gives you a loss of up to 20 pounds, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for the Marathon booklet to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

This beauty qualifies as a leader of the beauty parade. Her exercise, described in Josephine Lowman's column today, will improve the appearance of your thighs.

Listens as She Works

Homemaker Makes Time for Reading

By KAY SHEKWOOD
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A frequent lament among homemakers is their lack of time for reading. The steady, unremitting round of homemaking duties leaves little time for relaxed reading and even less for reading material that requires greater concentration.

At the end of a full day, my concentration powers are at low ebb, and my eyes fall shut if confronted by anything more demanding than light fiction, a whodunit or the newspaper comics.

MAKES TIME

After a sound sleep, morning finds the brain clear and fresh and able to concentrate. I have made time for reading, literally, by waking up an hour earlier.

That's not very long but it's an hour when the children are still asleep, the telephone is quiet and there are no other demands on my time. My reading choices for these early hours lean toward nonfiction, toward religion, history, current exploration and foreign affairs.

* * *

This year I added another approach to reading and exercising the mental muscles. Sparked by a friend of mine, I am trying her suggestion for doing two things at once —listening to classic literature via the record player while working on routine tasks.

With hems to adjust on school clothing and six dining room chairs to refinish and upholster this seemed like a splendid time to try. The list of talking classic literature selections and of authors and poets reading their own works is impressive. Our record player has the 16 rpm setting needed for the commercial talking books.

* * *

Some reading material is also recorded at 33 rpm. The prices of these records are about the same as for a book. Some have printed material to read along while listening. Besides listening to stories and poetry, you can refresh your knowledge of a foreign language. Conversational French, for example, is one choice. Our public library also has records as well as books for the lending.

* * *

Our record player is in a nonportable cabinet, and this proved to be a certain disadvantage. I moved it as close to the porch — where the furniture is "in process" — as I could and the sound was quite satisfactory.

One of the interesting points, to me, about the new record players is the introduction of a three - speaker stereophonic high fidelity. One, for example, could be carried to the kitchen counter or the basement work bench.

SPEAKERS UNHINGE

Speakers in two detachable wings may be unhinged from the unit to give a three-dimensional blending of sounds. While this is of importance in clarity of musical performance, the spoken word benefits from the richer sound reproduction, too.

* * *

In practice I find I can sew, measure, paint, cut fabric or foam rubber while listening and not lose the thread of thought. Sandpapering surfaces is too noisy to hear a record properly. When I must concentrate on exact measurements, or intricate piecing of fabric, I suspend the readings. Don't forget to listen to some of the children's classics, both you and the youngsters will be delighted.

Story League Sets Program

Pontiac Story League members are planning a program on stories of Lincoln and Washington for the Feb. 22 meeting in Pontiac State Hospital staff house. Miss E. Grace Clark will be hostess for the evening.

Cutting and adapting stories to be told at future meetings is the current project of the league.

A short story by Louis Untermeyer which appeared recently in a national magazine was discussed following a cooperative dinner last week in the home of Julia Dalzell on Monroe Street.

Thomas Edison Second Choice

Teens Hold Ben Franklin in High Esteem

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research, Inc.

We asked more than 1,000 young people across the land what person, in their opinion, contributed most to the growth of our nation, excluding former presidents. (As reported previously, they hold Abraham Lincoln in highest regard among all U.S. presidents.)

The question was broad, and the answers accordingly spanned a wide range of fame — from Will Rogers to Nathan Hale, from Lewis and Clark to the Wright brothers.

But the largest number of the teen-agers, 18 per cent, selected a wise man, ("there never was a good war or a bad peace"); a wit ("nothing is certain but death and taxes"); a phrasemaker ("snug as a bug in a rug"); a patriot ("we must all hang together or assuredly we shall all hang separately"); and an editor, author, diplomat, scientist, philosopher: Benjamin Franklin.

The revered Pennsylvanian was the choice of 22 per cent of the girls and 14 per cent of the boys. Second choice, the favorite of 12 per cent of the boys and 2 per cent of the girls, was Thomas Edison. Next in line came Daniel Boone, Alexander Hamilton and Thomas Paine.

Some of the other choices deserve mention.

For example, 16-year-old Pat Taylor of Coffeyville, Kan., felt the honor belonged to "all the men who have died in wars to protect us."

Gary Campbell, 17, of Sioux Falls, S.D., selected "the pioneers who opened up new areas of our country;" and 17-year-old W. Fuss of Fort Smith, Ark., nominated "the captain of the Mayflower."

OTHER 'GREATS'

We also asked the students to name the greatest man or woman in various fields — government, music, art, philosophy, science, medicine and literature. We gave them no lists to choose from, nor did we ask them to limit their selections to Americans.

GOVERNMENT: Abraham Lincoln was the choice of 22 per cent, George Washington of 14 per cent, followed by Thomas Jefferson, Benjamin Franklin and Franklin D. Roosevelt.

MUSIC: The girls picked Bach first (8 per cent), Tschaikovsky second (7 per cent), and Beethoven and Chopin third (6 per cent). The boys selected Beethoven (17 per cent), Bach (12 per cent) and Mozart (7 per cent).

The only Americans named were Leonard Bernstein, George Gershwin, Rodgers and Hammerstein, Elvis Presley, Liberace, George M. Cohan and Stephen Foster.

ART: In this field also, Americans (such as Stuart, Whistler, Saint-Gaudens) were generally passed over in favor of the old Italian masters da Vinci (22 per cent) and Michelangelo (13 per cent). Third and fourth were the Dutchmen Van Gogh (6 per cent) and Rembrandt (5 per cent), followed by Spain's Pablo Picasso (4 per cent).

★ ★

PHILOSOPHY: The big three — Socrates, Aristotle and Plato — placed at the top in that order, the choices of 14 per cent, 8 per cent and 7 per cent of the students respectively. Fourth was Jesus (3 per cent), followed by St. Thomas Aquinas, Will Rogers and Albert Schweitzer.

★ ★ ★

SCIENCE: Albert Einstein was the favorite of 21 per cent; Thomas Edison the choice of 10 per cent; and 5 per cent picked Madame Marie Curie. Others selected were Aristotle, Galileo, Pasteur, Darwin and Benjamin Franklin.

★ ★ ★

MEDICINE: Dr. Jonas Salk was the nominee of 20 per cent and Louis Pasteur of 12 per cent. Third was Albert Schweitzer, then Dr. Tom Dooley and the ancient Greek Hippocrates, followed by the Mayo brothers.

★ ★ ★

LITERATURE: In this field, William Shakespeare was the selection of 20 per cent — 19 per cent of the boys and 21 per cent of the girls. The girls and boys differed in subsequent selections, however. The boys picked Ernest Hemingway second (8 per cent), Mark Twain third (7 per cent), Edgar Allan Poe fourth (5 per cent) and Charles Dickens fifth (4 per cent.) The girls picked Poe second (9 per cent), Hemingway and Dickens third (4 per cent) and Mark Twain, Homer, and O. Henry fourth (3 per cent).

★ ★ ★

The final question we asked the students was to name the one person they regarded as the greatest in all history. More than half, 69 per cent, either didn't feel a single person could be singled out or else declined to try.

Of those who had an opinion, 55 per cent named Jesus, followed by Abe Lincoln (8 per cent), Albert Schweitzer (4 per cent) and Dag Hammarskjold (2 per cent).

Heart Unit Picks Top Mother

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — The American Heart Association has chosen Mrs. Thomas E. Fleming III of Seattle as Heart Mother of the Year.

Better Give as Others for Present

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: One of the young women in our office is going to be married shortly. A collection is usually taken up among the employes and a check presented to the bride-to-be the day she leaves.

I am quite friendly with the bride-to-be in question and am going to send her a personal wedding present. I would like to know if I would be considered "cheap" if I did not contribute to the office collection.

A: Unless you are asked to give a sizable amount, it will be best to contribute with the rest and make no mention of the personal present you are giving the bride-to-be.

Q: Our son is going to be married shortly and my husband and I have just received an invitation to the wedding from the bride's parents. Enclosed was a reply card with an envelope to be returned to them stating whether or not we are going.

This was quite a surprise to us as we naturally plan to go to our son's wedding, and I feel that this invitation was out of order. Will you please give me your opinion on this and also tell me whether or not I am expected to send a reply?

A: It is entirely proper to send an invitation to even the nearest members of the bridegroom's family because it is taken for granted that they will be interested in seeing the invitations. It is certainly not necessary to send a reply.

Q: While out riding the other day in my car, I had a flat tire. As I was not near a garage (and I do not know how to change a tire myself) I pulled over to the side of the road and flagged a passing car. A very nice man stopped and changed my tire for me.

I thanked him appreciatively for doing this, but I would like to know if I should also have given him a tip. I was afraid I might insult him by offering him a tip.

A: You were quite right in in thinking that the man who helped you would have felt insulted if you had offered him a tip for his kindness.

Q: When the napkin is put at the left of the plate, is it placed next to the place plate or at the left of the forks?

A: The napkin should be on the place plate unless the first course is to be put on the table before the guests are seated, in which case it is put to the left of the forks.

Winner of Second Range Suggests Salmon Patties

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Here's a recipe from the second winner of a new range at the cooking school. Mrs. Phillip DeConick of West Bloomfield Township is a young homemaker with a son, 3½, and a daughter, 2. She is active in her Altar Society and participates in civic affairs. She enjoys sewing and just loves to cook.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. DeConick gave us her favorite recipe for Salmon Patties. This is a dish she expects to serve often during Lent. We might point out that it is an economical dish to serve anytime. With it the DeConicks have a crisp salad and hot rolls.

SALMON PATTIES WITH PEAS

By Mrs. Phillip DeConick

1 pound can red salmon
½ cup cracker crumbs
1½ tablespoons instant minced onion
1 egg
½ cup undiluted evaporated milk
3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Turn salmon and liquid into mixing bowl and flake. Add cracker crumbs, onion, egg and milk. Mix well and let stand 5 minutes.

Form into 8-10 patties. Melt butter or margarine in skillet. Saute patties about 5 minutes on each side. Serve with creamed peas.

Creamed Peas

1 package (10 oz.) frozen peas
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
3 tablespoons flour
1 cup undiluted evaporated milk

Bring ½ cup water to a boil; add salt. Add peas and let come to boiling point again. Cook gently 4-5 minutes. Add butter and let melt. Remove from heat and blend in flour. Add milk. Cook and stir over low heat until sauce is thick. Serve over salmon patties.

East, West Do Meet, According to Women

By RUTH MILLETT
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In Japan the craze for "rounded eyes" has reached such a frenzy that many working girls have the operation performed during their lunch hour.

The fashion for "westernizing" their eyelids is hitting Japanese women right at the time when American women are going all out for Japanese effects in their homes and gardens.

Almost any decorating magazine you pick up today has articles and pictures showing American women how to create typical Japanese charm in everything from house design to furniture and little "intimate" gardens.

Walk into a furniture store or interior decorating shop and the oriental effect is all over the place — in everything from flower arrangements to pillows on the floor, in place of chairs.

So what it all adds up to is that the Japanese women are spending their money to westernize themselves and American women are spending their money to try and bring the "charm of the Orient" to their own homes and gardens.

So East is no longer East and West is no longer West — so far as the women of the two parts of the world are concerned.

They are busy borrowing ideas from each other in beauty, fashion and decoration — each group apparently determined to have the best of the two worlds.

The result is an American woman whose home is decorated with ideas borrowed from Japan and doing her best to look "western" in a modified "eastern" setting, and a Japanese woman, with rounded eyes and wearing western clothes, doing her best to look "western" in her natural eastern setting.

Bowling's a Real Ball

Send ball across the lane to the target, not straight.

By SHARON KAY RITCHIE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Single pin spares aren't nearly as difficult to convert as they seem.

★ ★ ★

Bill Bunetta points out that they're nothing like the matchsticks on the horizon they appear to be to many.

"The target is a lot bigger than it looks," Bunetta of the AMF Staff of Champions says.

"It actually takes up one-third of the lane. The pin is five inches across, the diameter of the ball is nine inches. Since the ball doesn't have to hit the pin smack in the middle, but merely brush it, you have a target about 14 inches wide. And 14 inches is one-third of 42 inches — the width of a lane."

Adjust your starting position to right or left of your usual taking-off point, just as you would for any other spare. The delivery should be the same as it is for the strike ball.

One of the commonest faults in shooting at lone pins on the outside, such as the 7, 10, 4 or 6, is to "railroad" the ball — that is, send it straight toward the target hanging on the edge of the gutter.

Send the ball across the lane to the target, not in a straight line.

NEXT: Splits.

Elders Should Try the Twist Before Mirror

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Middle-age has a strange way of playing tricks on women. Many mature women feel as light-hearted as girls, but interior feelings are not matched by their exteriors. The result is something we've all seen: a middle-aged woman being ludicrous. And all the time, she had no intent of doing anything but enjoying herself.

QUITE A SIGHT

This was brought forcibly to mind at a party last week, where a number of middle-aged women who should have known better were doing the twist. They looked silly but they weren't aware of it.

★ ★ ★

It's fine to keep up with things contemporary but it's equally important to have sufficient sense to avoid those which are graceless. And the twist is not for the mature.

★

Meanwhile, it's best left to the really young to whom all such fads belong. If you feel that you look dashing doing the twist, try it out in front of a full-length mirror!

Hold That Line!

(NEA)—Don't purse or twist your lips. Try to keep the corners of your mouth slightly upturned. Mouth expressions are important to your beauty and can make a lot of difference in the impression you give people you meet.

Washable Kids

When leather gloves are marked lavable, that's simply French for washable. The French are as practical as they are chic!

Pick 'Self' Up Around House, Too

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The way you look around the house is important. Many women feel that it isn't and slop about in baggy pants, an old shirt and a head full of rollers. And then they're embarrassed when the doorbell rings.

★ ★ ★

You should have an adequate wardrobe for your job, just as a working girl does. For your appearance has a strong psychological effect on the way you feel, the experts say!

★ ★ ★

In choosing clothes for housework, pick machine-washable cottons, preshrunk terrycloth and synthetics that need no ironing.

QUICK CHANGE

The coat dress is an ideal style, easy to get into. A full skirt lets you bend and move with ease and a sleeveless style will not hamper your action.

To get around this business of rollers in the hair, invest in a home dryer. Wash your hair during your morning shower, then towel it almost dry and wrap a turban about it.

★ ★ ★

When the family has left for office and school, set it on large, light rollers and finish it with the dryer. Remove the rollers, brush out your hair and face both rollers and the crowd in the supermarket with confidence.

BE CRITICAL

A word about pants: few women can wear them and look well. The fact that your friends wear them should have nothing to do with your decision about them. Take a long, critical glance at yourslef in a full-length mirror.

Be honest and realistic. If you haven't a tight flat derriere and good legs, abandon pants in favor of the far more flattering skirt.

Window Drama

The Murderers—14

Ministers Urged to Take Lead in Fighting Dope

By HARRY J. ANSLINGER
U.S. Commissioner of Narcotics and WILL OURSLER

One of the most famous ministers in the United States phoned me one day and said:

"I am calling you from the White House. We have been discussing the case of a friend of mine in which you and your agents are involved. I am going to see my senator about this. I will then come directly to your office. At what time will you be able to see me today?"

* * *

His tone was arrogant and rude. But in the interests of amity between the executive mansion and the bureau, I set a time.

Pressure is one harassment enforcement officers battle unremittingly. Pressures come from many sources — businessmen, criminals, social workers and agencies as well as from the highest positions of power.

Sometimes they are justified; and in any case, a measure of pressure is expected. Criminals and suspected criminals are human beings and naturally have friends who stand by them.

As far as the bureau is concerned, pressure has little effect except where we feel it is in the public interest, in terms of information, or testimony, to give a man a break.

CONCERNED DOPE HOOD

The minister who showed up at my office from the White House was the pastor of one of the largest churches in the United States. The underworld figure he was interested in, a big dealer in heroin, was on our list of Mafia hoodlums we hoped to jail or deport.

The minister described this gangster as an intimate friend, referring to him by his first name.

"The arrest was a disgraceful business," he asserted. "Your men beat him without mercy. His civil rights have been ignored. I've talked with both the President and my senator about it. They are both launching immediate probes."

"In that case," I inquired, "why do you bother to come here?"

"The White House suggested I talk with you and report back to them."

I knew the case intimately. Frankie was one of the high wires in the east narcotics syndicate. Our agents had risked their lives to get evidence against him.

When they had gone in to arrest him, they had to push the man's son out of the way and restrain his wife from beating them over the head with pots an pans.

I inquired if the minister realized that his good friend Frankie had jumped $75,000 bail and gone into hiding.

"Yes," he answered, "and if he is killed as a result, it will be your fault."

I am respectful of clergymen, Protestant, Jew or Catholic. But in this instance the man before me was betraying everything that the church he represented stood for.

"You are wearing the cloth of a minister of the gospel," I said, "but you represent the devil. You should be defrocked. Your gangster friend is not of your flock—you are Protestant and he is nominally a Catholic. But not a good one, I can tell you.

"He doesn't even live in your state, but he kills some of your own parishoners with dope—he even makes a dope addict out of his own son.

"I don't need to ask you why you didn't go to the senator from the state where Frankie lives. You would have been run out of the office."

Drawing himself up like an angel of judgment, the minister said: "I shall report your calumny directly to the President."

* * *

I answered very quietly: "This whole story and your whole pompous act doesn't quite come off."

"You dare accuse me—a man of God—of lying?"

"If you're out," I said, "pick up the phone and call the White House — or the senator's office— and tell them about my reaction to your pleas."

The minister stared at the phone as if hypnotized. Then, without another word, picked up his expensive hat and walked out.

Immediately, I talked with one of the President's secretaries, who informed me that the minister had been there regarding problems of minorities.

Not one word was mentioned about the gangster — the White House had no interest whatsoever in it. I also called the senator, who said that the minister had called him on the phone about the case. He said to forget about it.

The hoodlum Frankie fled to Italy with his wife and family. Because of technicalities, he could not be extradited. The same minister dropped in to see me, some months later. "I have come to ask your forgiveness," he said calmly. "I was used by that man. I did not know his true character."

I repeated: "You should look after your congregation instead of Mafia gangsters who make blood-money contributions to the church to salve their conscience."

It is, of course, a routine syndicate gambit to make a play for the sympathy of the clergy, of social workers and individuals who lack sufficient experience in professional crime.

In a Midwestern city a dealer in dope and other vices actually ran the city, elected officials, and told them what they could or could not do. We had the mah indicted but could get nowhere; all prospective jurymen were working for him, either directly or indirectly. We finally brought him to trial in another district — but lost.

Preachers, rabbis, priests and others interested in social service came forth to paint him as the city's greatest benefactor, giving thousands of dollars each Christmas to their various causes.

This was all true. But it was also true that this money came out of the millions he had made in dope, crooked gambling, and whoremongering.

It is my opinion that our churches and their leaders could —and must—do better in combating illicit drug peddling. There is need for more active interest and knowledge, for more effort. This is particularly true in backing the government — before legislative committees —for tough laws to curtail the sale of illegal narcotics.

An inspiring role in this direction has been taken by one church —the relatively small Seventh-Day Adventists. More active support by all faiths is still urgently needed.

Find Snow-Covered Amusement Park Is Eden

Let's Play Hookey at the Park

Take three small boys, bundle them up warmly, set them roaming in a deserted, snow-covered amusement park, and the result is one of pure enchantment into the world of make-believe.

The youngsters, Glen and Danny Foster and Mark Vickers, spent an entire afternoon recently exploring the wonders of the Walled Lake Amusement Park during the season when most fun-seekers have completely forgotten that wonderful world of cotton candy and calliope music.

The park is now closed for the winter and is undergoing its annual rejuvenation with paint and hammer.

Therein lies the story of how the three young adventurers were able to walk, run and slide over the park grounds without interruption from a nosy adult.

Glen, 5, and Danny, 3, are the grandsons of Hallie Foster, caretaker, maintenance man and jack of all trades at the amusement park for some 20 years, and the sons of Mrs. Roy Foster of W. Lake Drive, Novi.

Story and Photos by Jim Long

Mark, 4, is the grandson of the superintendent of the park, C. E. Vickers. During the off-season, Vickers' son Richard takes over his father's duties and moves his family into a century-old house on the park grounds.

The combination of having both their grandfathers on the staff at the park makes it a natural playground for fantasy in summer and winter for the children.

If you ask them, the trio of small fry agree that the best time for playing, however, is during the winter and when you hear their explanation you can readily see their point.

There's no pushing or pulling or stepping on toes or "big guys" getting in their way of seeing what is new around each corner.

For props the boys use fences, stools, benches, ramps, empty monkey cages, wood and concrete castles, little school houses, giant laughing wooden clowns, miniature railroad tracks, huge silver jets and even the weird patterns shadowed on the snow by the now carriage-less ferris wheel and silent roller coaster.

Each new find was abandoned almost as soon as it was discovered because there was more to see—lots more and it was getting dusk.

It was time to go home and by all means the boys didn't need any prompting from their mothers who were visiting together at the century-old house.

It was a long day and the boys would sleep well that night.

SEASONED BUTTERS — Seasoned butter on hot bread or rolls will add flavor and variety to any meal. Take your pick of one herb or a blend with which to mix the butter.

Spread Seasoned Butter Bread Before Heating

Bread and butter have been "team-mates" for centuries. Bread being "the staff of life" and butter, in many countries, has been connected with love, marriage, religion and other noble states.

To improve on the flavor of butter is impossible, but it is easy and tasty too, to add variety to the butter you put on your bread. A dash of herbs, cheese, garlic or chives in softened butter will add a touch of imagination as well as flavor variety to this favorite food. Add what compliments will pour in when one of these seasoned butters is spread on bread then heated in the oven before serving.

Here are several seasoned butter recipes which will start you on your way. Try them on a variety of breads and then "invent" a few combinations of your own.

Cheese-Chive Butter

½ cup butter, softened
½ cup (2 ounces) American cheese, shredded
1 tablespoon minced parsley
½ teaspoon minced chives

Cream butter until light and fluffy. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Spread on soft or hard rolls or on slices of French, Vienna, or rye bread. Assemble bread as a loaf, wrap in foil and heat in oven before serving. Makes ⅔ cup.

Onion Butter

½ cup butter, softened
½ teaspoon minced onion
2 teaspoons minced pimientos
¼ teaspoon paprika

Cream butter until light and fluffy. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Spread on soft or hard rolls or on slices of French, Vienna, or rye bread. Assemble bread as a loaf, wrap in foil and heat in oven before serving. Makes ½ cup.

Dill Butter

½ cup butter, softened
½ teaspoon dill seed
½ teaspoon onion or garlic powder

Italian Style Butter

½ cup butter, softened
½ cup shredded Parmesan cheese
1 tablespoon minced parsley
¼ teaspoon oregano

Cream butter until light and fluffy. Add remaining ingredients; mix well. Spread on soft or hard rolls or on slices of French, Vienna, or rye bread. Assemble bread as a loaf, wrap in foil and heat in oven before serving. Makes about ⅔ cup.

Milk and Honey

For a delicious after-school refresher, the U.S. Department of Agriculture suggests you serve Honey-Milk drinks. For a Honey-Shake, just mix ¼ cup honey, 1 cup milk and a scoop of your favorite ice cream. For a Honey-Malted, try 2 tablespoons honey, 1 cup milk, 1 scoop of vanilla or chocolate ice cream and 1 teaspoon malted milk powder.

Chocolate "shot" is great to keep on the pantry shelf to sprinkle over a white cake frosting as a change from nuts.

Can Wear or Eat Your Flowers

NEW YORK (AP) — The next time you ask for orchids, better specify whether you plan to wear or eat them.

This may make a difference if the canapes created by food specialist Mrs. Sylvia Schurr becomes popular.

Although posie-chomping has been limited to ponies in the past, Mrs. Schurr served orchid hors d'oeuvres recently to the advisory committee of the world of food pavilion to be a part of the 1964 World's Fair.

Taste that dish before you serve it! You may want to add to the seasonings. All good cooks double-check a recipe this way.

Baked Grapefruit

For dessert fare, the U.S. Department of Agriculture suggests you dress up grapefruit. Gently toss grapefruit sections and sliced, pitted dates with grapefruit juice seasoned with cinnamon, brown sugar and grated lemon rind. Bake uncovered at 350 degrees for 30 minutes. Scatter chopped pecans on top before serving.

Toast walnuts and serve them with any kind of curried dish.

Rhubarb Recipes Anticipate Festival

TRY THIS ONE — Mrs. Arthur Avereyn of Washington serves a piece of rhubarb coffee cake to Mrs. Lawrence Elzerman (left) of Utica. Mrs. Frank Lambert (right) of Armada already has her piece. These women, all wives of hothouse rhubarb growers, had a tasting session at Mrs. Avereyn's home to decide on dishes for the Rhubarb Festival Smorgasbord, February 24 in Utica.

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

We're eating rhubarb out of the freezer at our house and it tastes mighty good. But our neighbors over in Macomb County are already picking, grading and packing fresh hothouse rhubarb.

The rhubarb queen, crowned last weekend, will reign over the festival February 24 in Utica. Several weeks ago wives of the growers got together to taste new rhubarb dishes and to decide what they will serve at the rhubarb smorgasbord during the Festival.

Mrs. Arthur Avereyn of Washington entertained the above mentioned women and made a frozen rhubarb dessert for the group. She has promised to send us an interesting rhubarb ice cream sauce too. Other dishes tasted were coffee cakes, custard, cake and candy.

RHUBARB FREEZE
By Mrs. Arthur Avereyn

1¼ cups sweetened rhubarb sauce
⅔ cup undiluted evaporated milk
½ cup confectioners sugar

Place ingredients in a mixing bowl. Beat at high speed with electric mixer for 2 or 3 minutes, or until thick and creamy. Pour into a refrigerator tray and freeze 2 to 3 hours. No stirring needed. Serves 4 to 6.

Mrs. Joseph Martin of Utica is one of the busy women packing and grading rhubarb. She took time out to send us her coffee cake recipe.

Rhubarb Criss-Cross Coffee Cake

1½ cups finely chopped rhubarb
¼ cup chopped walnuts
½ cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 tablespoon flour

Combine and set aside while you make dough.

1½ cups biscuit mix
¼ cup sugar
½ cup milk
1 egg, slightly beaten

Mix biscuit mix with sugar. Combine milk and egg. Add to dry ingredients and mix only enough to moisten. Do not overmix.

Spread half the dough in well-greased and floured 8x8x2 pan. Spread with half the rhubarb mixture. Top with remaining dough. Decorate top with remaining rhubarb mixture, criss-crossing to form a checked pattern.

Bake 15 minutes at 400 degrees. Reduce heat to 350 degrees and bake another 15-20 minutes.

Rhubarb Sponge Pie

1 unbaked pie shell
3 cups rhubarb, cut up
1 cup sugar
1½ teaspoons quick cooking tapioca
2 teaspoons grated orange rind.

Mix together and arrange in unbaked crust.

1 egg
½ cup sugar
½ cup cake flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
⅛ teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons orange juice

Beat whole egg until light and lemon colored. Fold in dry ingredients and orange juice. Spread over rhubarb mixture. Bake 45 minutes at 350 degrees. Serve plain or with whipped cream.

Might Be Time to Stock Up on Meat for Freezer

Snow time is the time for good supplies of all meats except veal says the Marketing Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer. Shoppers will find special emphasis given turkey, beef, pork and lamb this week.

The 1961 turkey crop was the largest in history, and as a result there is about 60 per cent more turkey meat in frozen storage than a year ago at this time. Turkey prices are expected to continue at low levels for at least the first six months of this year.

Turkeys of all sizes are tagged to attract customer attention, and most wear an inspection label. It is mandatory under federal law, that all turkeys being shipped across state lines be inspected for wholesomeness. About three-fourth of all turkeys today are federally inspected.

Beef chuck roast, steak and ground beef may seem more attractively priced when one realizes that wholesale beef prices remain about as they have been, to slightly higher this week. Might this be the time to freeze a few steaks for summer when tender steaks will demand higher price tags?

A round steak which grades U.S. Choice or better can become two different meals. Just divide the single top muscle from the two smaller bottom muscles. Use the top round section for broiling. The bottom round can be used for "Swiss steak," beef Stroganoff, or for pot roast.

PORK BARGAINS

Both smoked and fresh pork cuts rate shopper consideration this week. Although most stores are featuring only one pork item, Boston butt, loin cuts, spareribs, ham, bacon and sausage can be found at 10 to 20 cents less per pound less than the regular price. Canned hams vary from about 70 cents to a dollar per pound depending upon the size.

Rain and snow hindered harvesting some crops in central and southern California within the past week, but harvesting conditions improved in Florida. Shoppers will find these factors influencing both quality or condition and price of tender vegetables from these areas. For example, lettuce quality is down slightly, heads may be smaller than you generally find, and price will vary more than usual.

There is a big increase in the volume of vine-ripened tomatoes and prices have declined about 10 cents per pound. The fresh green bean crop shows quality improvement.

Take your pick from the fresh fruit bowl. Apples, bananas and pears are available at comparable prices.

Michigan's first load of controlled atmosphere apples was shipped Jan. 19 . . . destination Los Angeles. Each apple was hand wrapped and placed in a tray-type divider to prevent bruising. Michigan has 115 CA storage rooms and a total of 1,371,600 bushels of apples so stored. A year ago, Michigan had only 79 CA storage rooms.

This is the season for sales of processed fruits and vegetables. A check of markets shows a number of items so offered this week. If there is plenty of storage space, you might consider canned peaches, cherries, fruit cocktail, applesauce, apricots and pears; corn, tomatoes and tomato products, and green beans. Frozen meat dinners and pies, strawberries and orange concentrate are other foods to check.

Large stocks of frozen orange juice concentrate remain from last season's heavy pack. With prospects for a large pack in '62, frozen orange juice concentrate is expected to be featured in the coming weeks.

Canned Meat Gets Gold Top

Remember Frosty the Snowman—that chilly gentleman who began to dance around through the magic of an old silk hat? Well, a hot meat dish might have had the same effect — if it didn't melt him.

During these cold, Midwestern days, juicy chopped meat can chase away your family's last thought of icicles—especially when adorned with the sunny hue of golden sweet potatoes. Served Sliced Meat with Sweet potato topping, the youngsters and hubby won't need old top hats, they may just dance in delight over your menu-magic.

For that cold-weather treat, combine 2 cups hot mashed sweet potatoes, 1 tablespoon butter or margarine and ¼ cup raisins. Cut canned meat into 6 slices and top each with 1-3 cup sweet potato mixture. Sprinkle 1 teaspoon brown sugar over each slice. Place slices in frying pan, cover and cook slowly 8 to 10 minutes, or until meat is browned on bottom surface. Makes 6 servings.

Canned chopped meat can also be used in combination with other foods for a variety of main dishes. For delicious luncheon fare, heat slices of chopped meat and serve atop warmed rolls with slices of tomato and leafy lettuce.

Three Fruits Make Up a Pretty Dissert

Raspberry Grapefruit

2 large grapefruit
⅓ cup raspberry jam
1 cup halved seeded grapes

Cut grapefruit into halves; cut thin slice from bottoms if necessary to have stand straight. Cut around entire outer edge of grapefruit; cut sections away from dividing membranes.

Turn grapefruit sections and juice into a strainer set over a bowl. With kitchen scissors cut out membranes at center so they may be removed in one piece. Replace drained grapefruit sections in grapefruit shells.

In a small saucepan over low heat, stir together the raspberry jam and 2 tablespoons of the grapefruit juice until melted; force through fine-mesh strainer to remove seeds. Spoon melted jam over grapefruit sections; arrange grapes over top. Makes 4 servings.

Baking Is Better

Fish are rich in gelatin. However, because gelatin is soluble in hot water, more of the nutritive value of fish may be lost in boiling than in baking or broiling.

To Widen Orchard Lake Rd.

County Project to Start in '63 Spring or Summer

That pain in the bottleneck you've suffered as you crept along Orchard Lake Road like a snail during peak traffic hours will be cured next year.

The road, one of the most traveled east-west arteries in the Pontiac area, will be widened and improved from the Pontiac city limits to Wixom.

Early in the spring or summer of 1963 the $1.6-million improvement project will get under way. It is expected to take about three months, according to Hiland M. Thatcher, chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission.

Advertisement for construction bids will be Nov. 14 this year and bids will be opened Dec. 12.

"This is one we've needed for a long, long time," Thatcher said of the improvement of state trunkline M218. He said traffic on the narrow, two-lane road has often been backed up for miles during the morning and evening rush hours.

TO BE COUNTY ROAD

After the work is completed it is expected that the State Highway Department will turn the road over to the road commission and remove it from the state trunkline system. The commission today maintains the road but with funds provided by the state.

In the future, maintenance will be financed from the commission's share of primary gas and weight tax receipts, which won't increase even though the county adds another road to maintain, Thatcher said.

Two miles of the road, from the Pontiac city limits at Telegraph road southwesterly to Commerce Raod in Keego Harbor, will be widened from the existing two lanes to 44 feet of concrete surface or four lanes. This is the section which gets the major share of traffic to and from Pontiac, Thatcher explained.

Most of the rest of the road, which is heavily used during football season, will be widened from 18 to 22 feet or two lanes. This will be black top.

The Orchard Lake Road-Wixom Road junction will be widened to a wide four lanes or 48 feet.

Thatcher explained that the entire 15.7 miles of the road wasn't to be widened to four lanes because "the traffic doesn't call for it."

Roars Out of Flaming Troy Barn

TROY—Trapped by flames in a machinery storage barn yesterday, a landscape company employe threw down his electric welding torch, leaped into the cab of an elevated dump truck and smashed through the barn door to safety.

★ ★ ★

According to Lester J. Felmlee, owner of the Troy Tree and Landscaping Co., 4210 Rochester Road, the building and all of the firm's machinery stored for the winter were destroyed. He estimated the damage at about $9,000.

★ ★ ★

Felmlee said his son-in-law Thomas H. Tucker of 2736 Miner St., had raised the dump truck box on blocks inside the 24- by-50-foot barn and was welding on the body when he noticed the flames.

★ ★ ★

Troy firemen said sparks from the welder might have ignited debris on the floor and started the blaze.

★ ★ ★

No one inside the building was injured. Felmlee said the damage was partially covered by insurance.

★ ★ ★

The blaze was extinguished by the Troy fire department about an hour after it had been reported.

Area Girl Wins Music Award

Given Superior Rating in Junior Festival at Wayne State University

She is Susan Letts of 2670 W. Tienken Road. A member of the Rochester Junior Tuesday Musicale, she played the concerto, "Syrinx," by Claude DeBussy.

Mrs. Jacob W. Mackley of 1301 N. Livernois Road, Avon Township, was chairman of the event. She said a total of 10 superior and 17 excellent ratings were awarded.

Fourteen junior clubs from the Southeast District were represented with 100 juniors participating. All have received award certificates from the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs, and all who won superior ratings also will get special certificates from the National Federation of Music Clubs.

One junior, Nancy Wilson of 27640 Morningside Plaza, Lathrup Village, will receive the coveted Gold Cup at the MFMC convention April 28 at Benton Harbor. She played a piano concerto and earned a superior rating.

Nancy had to garner a total of 15 points since the 1960 festival to be eligible for the Gold Cup.

Southfield Loan OK'd

SOUTHFIELD — The borrowing of $4.2 million by the Southfield Public Schools for new construction has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

To Start Production at Holly Spring Co.

HOLLY — Production at the new Holly Spring Co. here will begin late this month, an officer of the firm announced today.

Heavy machinery will be moved into the new vacant plant at 400 Elm St. Feb. 8 and will probably begin operating two weeks later, according to Howard Smith, vice president and director of the Illinois company.

The plant is that of the former American Spring Co. of Holly, purchased more than a year ago by Republic, who moved the entire operation to Charlotte, N.C.

ONLY 15 TRANSFERRED

The relocation of the firm left nearly 200 persons without a job. Only 15 of the former American employes were transferred to the southern city.

In exercising its option to purchase the Holly plant along with the equipment in Charlotte, the Illinois firm just met its deadline. The option expired at midnight yesterday.

Smith, former president of American Spring before it was sold to Republic, said he has no idea of how many men will be employed when the firm begins initial operations.

At full production, the date of which is not known, the firm will probably employ some 100 skilled workers.

Before the plant was moved to Charlotte, 150 were employed in the shop and there were 50 clerical workers.

The Holly Spring Co. will be a wholly owned subsidiary of the Illinois Spring Co. Another subsidiary is located in Wisconsin.

The president of Illinois Spring is Albert H. Bitzer Jr.

GAILE A. WHEELER

Announcement is made of the engagement of Gaile Arlene Wheeler and John H. Campbell by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Britton Wheeler of 1045 N. Commerce Road, Union Lake. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Campbell, 1730 Duck Lake Road, Highland Township. No wedding date has been set.

Marines to Land at Kensington

250 Will Hold 2-Day Training Maneuvers Near Milford

Marines of the 5th Infantry Battalion Reserve will invade Kensington Metropolitan ark near Milford Saturday to hold two-day cold weather training maneuvers.

★ ★ ★

About 250 marines from southeastern Michigan will take part in the operations, which will include a company-sized defensive and offensive against an organized aggressor ground force during the daytime. There also will be a night attack.

★ ★ ★

The reservists will be transported from the Brodhead Naval Armory on East Jefferson Avenue in Detroit to the ground campaite in 10 military vehicles.

The companies participating include Bravo Company of Dearborn and Alpha and Headquarters & Service companies from Detroit.

★ ★ ★

Orion Twp. to Decide 3 Amendments

Vote Monday on Rezoning

ORION TOWNSHIP — Property-owning electors will vote Monday in a special referendum to either approve or reject three controversial rezoning amendments passed by the Township Board Sept. 19.

A battle began over the rezoning last June, when the Lake Orion Investment Corp. requested that three parcels of residential land on Indian wood Road be reclassified for industrial use.

Petitioned by some 900 township voters, the special election will climax the dispute over a total of 94 acres located near the Artco, Inc., plant at 3020 Indianwood Road.

Members of the Northwest Orion Homeowners Association, which represents most of the dissenting group, have argued that new industry in that area would lower their property values, increase traffic and pollute the air with smoke and obnoxious odors.

According to Wesley B. Allen, vice president of the nonprofit Lake Orion Area Industrial Development Corp., the site was the only one available with good roads and adequate water at the time the board rezoned the property.

Other arguments for the change to industrial use were that the area is not heavily populated and that new industry would improve the township's tax base.

The board passed the rezoning request by a vote of 6-1, with Trustee Harold Gingell dissenting.

LEGAL PROBLEM

Township attorney L. R. Bebout ran into a legal problem when the petitions were presented. According to a 1961 state law governing referendum voting procedure, both property owners and voters at large would be qualified to vote on the issue.

★ ★ ★

Bebout's opinion, based on what he considered as the intent of the law and of prior laws like it, allows only property owners to decide the election.

Polls at the two precincts in the Orion Township Hall, 571 S. Broadway St., and at the one in the Gingellville Fire Hall, 3350 Gregory Road, will be open 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Couple Is Bound Over on Bogus-Check Charge

AUBURN HEIGHTS—a 28-year-old Royal Oak man and his wife waived examination yesterday before Justice of the Peace R. Grant Graham on a charge of uttering and publishing bad checks. They were bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Monday.

Held at the Oakland County Jail in lieu of a $2,000 bond was Elton R. Brazeel. His wife, Patricia A., 24, failed to post a $500 bond and was also returned to the jail.

The pair was picked up Monday night for questioning regarding a bogus check cashed at the Community Super Market, 3286 Auburn Road, earlier that evening.

Owner of the market, Albert Spadafore said he became suspicious when the woman, identified as Carol Hall, gave a false address to endorse an $87.08 pay check.

CHECKS STOLEN

The checks were drawn to the Leader Corp. of Madison Heights. The company had been broken into Friday night and a book of 500 checks and a check protector were stolen.

According to Romeo State Police, Mrs. Brazeel said she had cashed about 12 of the $87.08 paychecks Saturday and Monday, most of them in food stores in the Pontiac and Auburn Heights area.

The checks may take up to 30 days to clear through the bank, police said.

Brazeel is currently on parole from Jackson State Prison after serving a sentence for a 1957 breaking and entering conviction, police said. His wife has two prior arrests for shoplifting, police said.

★ ★ ★

When asked what his occupation was, police said Brazeel told them he was a professional gambler. The couple has a 2-year-old daughter.

Troy's BPW Club Honored by Units

TROY — Members of area Business and Professional Women's clubs honored the Troy club last night on its third charter night birthday.

A past president of the state federation, Viola Wolfe spoke on the history of the organization. She presented the Troy club with its charter in 1959.

★ ★ ★

Representatives from Rochester, Avon Township, Southfield and other clubs were present to congratulate the Troy group.

Coin Club Plans Sunday Show at Rochester

ROCHESTER — Rochester Coin Club will hold its third annual coin show and bourse Sunday in the Rochester Elks Temple from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Among many features of the show will be exhibits in each of eight different categories including ancient, U.S. silver, U.S. copper, and U.S. gold. A trophy will be given to the two best exhibits.

Persons who have an exhibit and would like to try for one of the trophies are asked to bring their coins to the show.

Twenty-five dealers will be present. These dealers will buy, sell, or trade coins and many numismatic supplies.

★ ★ ★

Schedules Talk by Missionary

Clarkston Methodist to Host Rev. O. Stine at Potluck Dinner

CLARKSTON — The Commission on Missions of the Clarkston Methodist Church announces the appearance of Rev. Ovid Stine at a pot luck missionary dinner 6:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

Rev. Stine was born in Orlonville and attended Asbury College and Asbury Theological Seminary in Kentucky.

For 10 years Rev. and Mrs. Stine served as Methodist missionaries in Southern Rhodesia and were primarily interested in education and in supervising the work of African pastors in village churches.

With a membership of over 38,000 in 220 churches, Southern Rhodesia is a "Land of Decision" for the 1960-64 Quadrennium and will receive special resources of funds and personnel.

Those planning to attend are asked to call the church for reservations. Meat, potatoes and beverage will be furnished. Members and guests should bring their own vegetable, dishes and silverware.

To Collect Petitions Asking Millage Vote

Representatives of the district's PTAs have circulated over 200 petitions calling for an election to replace the three-mill hike defeated Nov. 28, said Dr. Frederick A. Jeffers, president of the Poppleton PTA.

The group will need the signatures of 10 per cent of the district's 5,660 eligible voters to get a new election.

GO ORIENTAL — On February 8, celebrate Chinese New Year with an open house. All the above foods can be made before and frozen or stored. Reading clockwise from the right side of the butterfly are Ginger Chews, Rice Dainties, Sweet Won Ton, Salty Won Ton and Shrimp Puffs.

Chinese New Year Open House

If the holiday season was so busy that you were not able to have that open house on New Year's Day, don't worry. There's still time. Chinese New Year falls on February 8 this year and will be an excellent time to greet your friends. The Oriental theme is very popular now and everyone is rested from the Christmas holidays and ready for more parties.

What will you serve? Serve a variety of sweets and appetizers. We've listed some adapted recipes below that can be made ahead of time and frozen or stored.

If children are to be included among the guests, have red envelopes containing two foil wrapped chocolate coins. Chinese parents present two real coins in red envelopes to their children because they believe that everything good comes in twos. As a matter of fact, the symbol for good is a boy and a girl.

Ginger Chews

2 tablespoons salad oil
2¼ cups sugar
¼ cup cornstarch
1¼ cups water
2 cups bite-size shredded rice biscuits crushed to ¾ cup
¼ teaspoon ground ginger

Combine oil, sugar, cornstarch and water. Heat and stir until sugar is dissolved. Heat to 240 degrees (medium ball stage). Wipe crystals from sides of pan frequently with a fork wrapped with a damp cloth.

Combine cereal crumbs and ginger. Sprinkle evenly over bottom of an 8-inch square pan. Pour syrup over crumbs. When cool enough to handle, turn candy over in pan to coat other side with crumbs. Cut into 1¼-inch pieces. Store in tightly covered container. Yield: 98 (1x1¼-inch) pieces.

Rice Dainties

½ cup sugar
½ cup honey
¼ cup water
1½ teaspoons vinegar
¼ teaspoon ginger
3½ cups bite-size shredded rice biscuits crushed to 1¾ cups

Butter an 8-inch square pan. Heat sugar, honey, water, vinegar and ginger together to 238 degrees (soft ball stage). Stir occasionally. Wipe crystals from sides of pan several times during cooking with fork wrapped with damp cloth.

Combine with cereal crumbs. Pat into buttered pan. Cool to lukewarm. Cut into 1½-inch square pieces. Allow to harden. Store in tightly covered container. Yield: 3 dozen (1¼-inch) squares.

WON TON
STUFFED DOUGH POCKETS

Sweet Filling

1 cup seedless raisins
¾ cup chopped nuts
½ cup orange marmalade

Combine ingredients. Mix thoroughly.

Salty Filling

½ pound ground pork
1 tablespoon shortening or oil
5 teaspoons soy sauce
1 teaspoon salt
Dash pepper
½ cup finely chopped celery
½ cup finely chopped carrots

Dough

2 cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon sugar
¾ teaspoon salt
½ cup bite-size shredded rice biscuits crushed to ¼ cup
1 egg, beaten
¼ cup soft butter or margarine
½ cup warm milk
Shortening or oil for deep fat frying

Sift together flour, sugar and salt. Stir in cereal crumbs. Add egg, butter and milk. Mix until smooth. Knead several times on floured board. Divide dough in half. For sweet filled Won Ton, roll into 10x15-inch rectangles. Cut into 2½-inch squares. Fill with a teaspoon of sweet filling. For salty filled Won Ton, roll into 12x12-inch squares. Cut into 3-inch squares. Fill with a rounded teaspoon of salty filling. Fold dough squares either by bringing four corners together or by folding diagonally into a triangle.

Press edges together firmly to seal completely (moisten edges with water if necessary).* Fry in deep fat (400 degrees) 1 - 2 minutes or until brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Yield: 4 dozen sweet filled, 2½ dozen salty filled.

*May be frozen at this point. Thaw 1 hour before frying. Or fry a day ahead. Reheat in a hot oven (400 degrees) 5 minutes.

Shrimp Puffs

¾ cup (4½-oz. can) shrimp, finely chopped
1 egg, slightly beaten
2 tablespoons onion, finely chopped
1 teaspoon cornstarch
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon ground ginger
Dash pepper
4 slices white bread
3 cups bite-size toasted corn cereal crushed to 1 cup
Shortening or oil for deep fat frying

Combine shrimp, egg, onion, cornstarch, salt, ginger and pepper. Trim crusts from bread. Cut each slice into 6 pieces. Spread both sides of bread pieces with shrimp mixture. Roll pieces in cereal crumbs. Fry in deep fat (375 degrees) 1 - 2 minutes or until golden brown. Drain on absorbent paper. Yield: 24 puffs.

Note: Puffs may be made ahead and reheated in hot oven (400 degrees) for 5 minutes.

Little Pecan Tarts Cure Weary Taste

You're the "doc" to cure languishing taste buds. Crunchy desserts such as pecan tarts, butter pecan cake and good old-fashioned pecan pie are just the thing to pull out of your little black bag. And these antidotes are mighty easy to take.

Honey-Pecan Tarts

Sift together 1½ cups all-purpose flour and ½ teaspoon salt. Cut in ½ cup vegetable shortening until mixture is granular. With 3-4 tablespoons cold water, first sprinkle mixture blending lightly with a fork, and then add water sparingly until dough clings together but is not wet. Let stand 5 minutes.

★ ★ ★

Roll out dough on lightly floured board and cut into 6 (6-inch) circles. Press pastry into muffin pans; double edge over and pinch with fingers to make an upright rim.

For filling, beat 2 eggs and blend in 3 tablespoons sugar, ⅛ teaspoon salt, 1-3 cup honey, 1-3 cup light corn syrup, 2-3 teaspoon vanilla and 2-3 cup coarsely chopped pecans. Pour 1-6 mixture into each shell. Bake at 400 degrees for 25 to 30 minutes.

Lime Juice Gives Lamb Nice Tang

Treat the family to a favorite meat prepared with a different flavor accent. They'll call for more Limey Leg of Lamb as soon as they discover its tangy twist. Long and slow roasting is the secret of its baked-in flavor.

Limey Leg of Lamb

1 leg of lamb (5-5½ lbs.)
¼ cup bottled lime juice
1 tablespoon brown sugar
½ teaspoon garlic salt
Paprika
1 cup water
1 teaspoon soy sauce

Sprinkle lamb with garlic salt, bottled lime juice and paprika. Roast at 500 degrees for 30 minutes. Reduce oven temperature to 325 degrees. Combine water and soy sauce; pour over lamb.

Roast uncovered for 25-30 minutes per pound. (Total roasting time should include first 30 minutes at 500 degrees.) Baste with sauce as necessary. Serves 4-6.

Serve with spiced peaches or apricots, and mint jelly.

Celery seed is just as good to add to creamed cabbage as it is to mix into cole slaw.

In working toward the control of the fusion of hydrogen, a temperature of 40 million degrees has been created and contained in a magnetic bottle for a thousandth of a second. It is expected that this temperature can be raised to eight-million degrees and confined for five-thousandths of a second.

SILVERCUP QUALITY...

...HAS NEVER CHANGED

In Grandpa's day Silvercup was known for its flavor, aroma and natural goodness. It's still the same today. For only bread that is kneaded like fine homemade bread has delicious flavor, rich aroma, and makes wonderful toast.

That's why we make Silvercup from the finest natural ingredients—and without any chemical preservatives.

Though many breads look alike, there is a difference—and, you'll notice it the first time you taste Silvercup, smell Silvercup, toast Silvercup, or serve Silvercup. Try it tomorrow and see for yourself.

Asks Americans to Shun Featherbedding

Progress Means Hard Work, Ike Insists

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower has called on Americans to "repudiate featherbedding and to glorify hard work at all levels."

Addressing more than 2,000 persons at a Chamber of Commerce banquet Wednesday night, he declared: "Wherever malingering in any group or class is condoned—whether in management, scientist or worker—progress is destined to be slow.

★ ★ ★

"Adequate leisure is not only desirable, it is healthy for mind as well as body, but unwarranted idleness in any part of the population cannot fail, correspondingly, to slow up the rate of growth."

Eisenhower said the public grew suspicious of "make-work" projects—both public and private—during the depression years of the 1930s.

He added: "Later on, in the 1940s, huge demand for all varieties of goods and services led to inefficiency and to neglect of true productivity in work performed. Today we are not lacking in specific indications that we are drifting toward a featherbed economy.

"In saying this," he continued, "I am not referring merely to the make-work rules adopted by some unions; rather I think we should be concerned with all the practices and trends in fields that may put present affluence above needed accomplishment — that may diminish incentive, stifle competition and, in the name of security, lessen opportunity."

★ ★ ★

Eisenhower interrupted a winter vacation at Palm Desert, 130 miles southeast of here, for a two-day visit to Los Angeles. He is scheduled to meet with Republican workers today and to address a private $1,000-a-ticket dinner tonight.

★ ★ ★

In his Chamber of Commerce address, the ex-president traced the development of the republic over the years and warned that "our form of government is still on test with its long term durability yet to be proved."

MONOPOLIES WEAKEN

Among weakening influences, Eisenhower mentioned "monopolies of any kind, pressure groups seeking selfish advantage at the expense of the whole and lethargy, indifference or ignorance on the part of the public."

He suggested the present might be a propitious time for overhauling laws and practices affecting the nation's economy.

He said laws now on the books were meant "to prevent monopoly, to sustain an atmosphere in which free enterprise can flourish and to foster and regulate labor unions.

"But there are grave doubts," he said, "that the present framework designed for these purposes really fits the problems of today."

Village Has Problem — Too Much Money

CATSKILL, N.Y. (AP) — This Hudson Valley village has a problem many larger communities wish they had: A perennial surplus in the treasury.

A state audit for the years 1958-61 noted: "In each year, general-fund revenues were in excess of expenditures, resulting in operating surpluses."

★ ★ ★

Star O'Connor Flies to Hospital: It's a Boy

Work was 300 miles away—in Las Vegas, Nev.

After finishing his first show at the Sahara Hotel Tuesday night, O'Connor received word his wife had gone to the hospital. He found a replacement for the second show and booked a plane flight. He arrived as his wife was being wheeled into the delivery room.

It was a boy, Kevin, 7 pounds, 11 ounces. The O'Connors also have Alicia, 4, and Frederick, 2, and he has a daughter by a previous marriage.

Film Importer Dead

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Edward Kingsley, 46, of New York, importer of foreign films, died Wednesday of a heart attack. Kingsley was vacationing with his wife, Lee, a publicist for the New York Philharmonic Orchestra.

JFK Jabs at Critics of Both Parties

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy has uncorked some new political punches that seem aimed at keeping his Republican and Democratic critics off balance.

With Young Republicans holding a leadership conference here and party members staging a series of dinners across the country tonight, Kennedy observed Wednesday at his news conference that he doesn't know who is giving the leadership direction but I am sure that they will have a varied program."

The President also jabbed at Republicans and Democrats who contend his proposed cabinet-level department of urban affairs will infringe on states rights.

Kennedy said he did not believe such a Cabinet position would interfere with the states. Instead, he said, it would supplement their efforts.

'RACE ISSUE'

Republicans also have charged Kennedy with injecting the race issue by announcing he would name housing administrator, Robert C. Weaver, as the first Negro Cabinet member if a new department is established.

★ ★ ★

Kennedy countered with praise of Weaver. The President said Weaver was "the very successful able head" of the biggest division that would go into such a department. This, Kennedy observed "may have played some part in some decisions in regard to the matter."

Shifting quickly from offense to defense as questions were popped at him, Kennedy defended his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, from attacks leveled by Reps. H. R. Gross, R-Iowa, and Bruce Alger, R-Tex.

Gross said that because of his scheduled visit to Moscow Salinger had "emerged as the new secretary of state." Alger called Salinger a "young and inexperienced White House publicity man."

There were always some people, the President replied, who thought that Americans were always young and inexperienced and foreigners always able and tough negotiators.

He got a laugh when he added: "Also, as I saw in the press, it said that Mr. Salinger's main function was to increase my standing in the Gallup Poll. Having done that, he is now moving on."

Name NY College Chief Head of Flint Schools

FLINT (AP) — Dr. Lawrence L. Jarvie, president of New York City Community College, was appointed general superintendent of education of the Flint public school system Wednesday.

Jarvie's new post, which pays $27,500 a year, was created by the board of education last year. He will assume his new duties July 1.

Cavanagh Appointed to Fair Commission

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson Wednesday announced the appointment of Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh to the Detroit State Fair Grounds Development Commission.

The commission, now numbering 25 persons, was organized to study possible year-around uses of the grounds.

Iron River Aid Load Approved in Washington

LANSING (AP) — The State Economic Development Department has announced approval of an application to the Area Redevelopment Administration for a federal loan to help establish a new industry at Iron River.

★ ★ ★

Application was made by the newly formed Northboard, Inc., which plans to utilize aspen to manufacture particle board. The company seeks a $225,000 federal loan to supplement local financing.

The firm is expected to employ between 28 and 40 workers.

PCH, PNH Hope to Bounce Back

IT'S IN THE NET — Chicago goalie Glenn Hall flips upside down and teammate Jack Evans looks into the net as he falls. The puck was in the cage, deposited by the Detroit Red Wings. Raising his stick to signify a goal is Detroit's Chuck Holmes. The Hawks won, 4-1. AP Photofax

Slumping Wings Cling to 4th Place

Lead Rangers by One Point After 4-1 Loss

Detroit Has Rematch With Hawks Tonight at Olympia

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings were hanging to fourth place in the National Hockey League by a fingertip today after a 4-1 loss last night at Chicago to the Chicago Black Hawks—the same team they play here tonight.

Tonight's game at Olympia, a novel second meeting within 24 hours, will find the Red Wings fighting to stay ahead of the fifth place New York Rangers.

While rookie Chico Maki and the Black Hawks were outdoing Detroit at the Windy City last night, the Rangers moved to within one point of the Wings by beating the Boston Bruins 5-4. Chicago holds third place by eight points over Detroit. The fourth place winner gets into the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Rookie Maki, a right wing called up from Buffalo of the American League two weeks ago, scored two Chicago goals. He shot the first one in the last minute of the first period and the second in the final period. They were his second and third in the NHL.

Penalties proved expensive to the Red Wings.

Two Wings were in the penalty box when Maki got his first goal. The Wings also were shorthanded when Bobby Hull, scoring his 28th goal of the season, counted for Chicago in the first period.

Hull's goal tied the score at 1-1 after Norm Ullman had counted for Detroit at 3:11. Chicago moved in front to stay on Stan Mikita's second period goal.

The rare penalty shot was given Bruce Mac Gregor of Detroit in the second period but he failed to make it click. His shot hit the net post. It was the fourth penalty shot this season in the NHL.

★ ★ ★

MacGregor got it after he had been hauled down by Chicago's Dollar St. Laurent while in clear position for a shot at goalie Glenn Hall.

Rangers Gain Hockey Finals

The Mountain View Rangers moved into the finals of the city's American League hockey tournament Wednesday night with a 5-4 victory over the Pontiac Central Raiders at Northside Park.

Goals by Neal Norgrove and Dick Anderson in the 3rd period broke a 3-3 tie and sent the Rangers into the championship round.

★ ★ ★

Standard Forge eliminated Dallas Tool from the double-elimination tourney with a lopsided 12-1 victory in the other AL contest. Rick Foster fired four goals and Jim Conklin added three for the winners. Dennis Doss tallied Dallas' lone goal.

Iron Dukes Throttle Villanova, 53-51

Duquesne Impressive

By The Associated Press

Duquesne, snubbed by the post-season tournaments last year, has emerged as the powerhouse of Eastern college basketball this season. The Iron Dukes, ranked seventh in The Associated Press poll, have put together some impressive credentials this time to alert the selection committees.

The Dukes from Pittsburgh throttled Villanova 53-51 at the Pitt field house Wednesday night to enhance their national stature. The victory was Duquesne's 15th as against two setbacks and avenged a previous loss at the hands of Villanova, which is 15-3.

Second-ranked Kentucky was the only other member of the top ten to see action Wednesday night and the sizzling Wildcats racked up their 14th straight win. Kentucky, the Southeastern Conference leader, disposed of Georgia 86-59 in Atlanta for its 15th success in 16 outings.

HEAT BONNIES

A year ago Duquesne finished with a flourish, winning its last three games—including the finale against St. Bonaventure, which had gained a berth in the NCAA championships.

Duquesne polished off trouble-some LaSalle last Saturday and then gained revenge for Villanova's 78-53 conquest in the Quaker City Tourney. The teams play a rubber match in the Palestra Feb. 7.

Duquesne had its hands full with the Wildcats Wednesday before emerging with the hard-earned squaker.

The Dukes went in front to stay 49-47 on Bill Stromple's jumper with 5:58 to go. Villanova was ahead at the half 29-27 and the lead then changed hands several times.

With 10 seconds remaining, the Wildcats gained possession of the ball and tried to produce the equalizing basket. But Jim McMonagle's shot missed and the Dukes grabbed possession until the buzzer.

FEW PUNCHES

A brief flareup by Willie Somerset of Duquesne and McMonagle occurred late in the first half and both benches emptied. Several punches were thrown before order was restored.

West Virginia edged Wake Forest 101-99 on the winners' court for its 15th success in 19 starts in an inter-conference game. Jim McCormick powered West Virginia's Southern Conference front runners with 35 points. Big Len Chappell's 37 points were high for the Deacons of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

In other games, Oklahoma State whipped Oklahoma 65-49 for its fifth straight decision over its state rival. Gordon Hatton triggered Dayton with a 27-point harvest as the Flyers downed Drake 78-74 for their 13th win in 17 games. Norm Halberstadt propelled Virginia Military to an 80-72 conquest of George Washington with a 36-point output. All five starters hit double figures in Iowa State's 85-73 Big Eight verdict over Missouri.

Rangers End Long Skid in Artificial 'Road' Tilt

By The Associated Press

The well-rested Rangers broke their 10-game National Hockey League losing string—within one game of the club record—with a 5-0 shutout of the last place Boston Bruins Wednesday night.

It moved them within one point of fourth-place Detroit, which currently holds the last playoff spot. The Red Wings lost to Chicago 4-1 in the league's only other action.

An artificial "road game" atmosphere may have had something to do with the Rangers' victory.

TEAM DINNER

Almost all the New York players live on Long Island, about an hour away from Madison Square Garden. Usually, they report just before game time for home matches.

Wednesday, however, they reported in mid-afternoon for a team dinner, as if they were on the road, and then were assigned rooms in a mid-town hotel. A similar set-up was used by the Giants before home games last fall.

"This way they weren't tired from the long drive," explained player-coach Doug Harvey. "And, being all together, we got to talking hockey, thinking hockey. We were in the right frame of mind before getting on the ice."

Goalie Worsley turned in 40 saves en route to his second shutout of the season. It was the highest number of saves registered in an NHL shutout this season. Gump's biggest test was early in the final period when the Rangers were two men short for a minute and 54 seconds.

HAPPY COACH

"One of his better games," commented Harvey, who was relaxed and joking for the first time in a month.

Hadfield got a pair of goals—his second and third of the season—on the new third line, and Andy Hebenton, Earl Ingarfield and Harry Howell the others for the Rangers, who were out-shot 40-23.

Tsuyoshi Yamanaka, Japan's top ranking swimmer and world record holder of the 200-meter freestyle, is in Los Angeles to study until the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

Sale of players to Houston and New York, new teams in the National League, enabled the Chicago Cubs to show a $45,000 profit for 1961.

★ ★ ★

Utah's basketball team, banned by the NCAA from playing in tournaments for one year, received a reprieve and will be allowed to participate in the Milwaukee Classic next December.

★ ★ ★

The Cleveland Indians have invited Ray Semproch, former Philadelphia Phillie pitcher, to tryout this spring. Semproch spent a brief time with the Tigers after leaving the Phillies.

★ ★ ★

Don Nicholls, Hoyt Post Cage Victories

Don Nicholls had too many big guns for Scarlett's Bike Shop in the Waterford Class B cage league Wednesday and posted a 71-66 victory.

★ ★ ★

Tim Courtney paced the winners with 21 points. Russ Rayna added 19 and Ron Hetherington 18. Rod Lyons hit 22 for Scarlett's which lost its eighth straight without a win.

★ ★ ★

Hoyt Realty rolled over Johnson and Anderson 66-52, despite a 27-point effort by the losers' Bob Davidson. Dave Goff sparked the "B" win for Hoyt with 19.

Southwestern 5 Visits Pontiac Friday Night

Colts Dangerous Foe for Chiefs in Valley Cage Battle

"One battle does not necessarily lose a war" is the motto of the Pontiac Central basketball team as the Chiefs try to bounce back into the victory column Friday night on their friendly home court.

Art Van Ryzin's cagers, victims of a 70-48 thrashing by unbeaten Saginaw High last week, play host to a dangerous Flint Southwestern quintet tomorrow evening in a crucial Saginaw Valley contest.

Any thoughts the Chiefs might have harbored about Southwestern being an easy mark were dispelled Tuesday when the underdog Colts gave Saginaw a battle royal before losing 72-62.

★ ★ ★

"This could be one of the best games on our schedule," Van Ryzin commented after scouting the Colts against Saginaw.

"They're a good shooting club and they jump well," said Van Ryzin. They have fine guards and they're a strong rebounding team. They'll give us a hard time, I'm sure," he declared.

The Colts, coached by Roy McMurray, led Saginaw through most of the first half and it was not until the final two minutes of the game that Saginaw put the decision on ice.

Guard Jim Yuille, the Valley's second leading scorer, paces the Colt offense. Yuille is averaging better than 20 points per game and he's an excellent outside shooter.

Southwestern's attack is further aided by Ken Franklin, a 6-foot-3 forward who's averaging 13 points a contest. Hamp Morris, 6-3 center, is strong under the backboards.

The Colts enter the game with a 3-4 conference record and an overall mark of 3-5.

PCH, runnerup in the Valley with a 6-1 record and 8-1 altogether, saw its eight-game winning streak snapped in no uncertain terms by the top-rated Trojans last week and the Chiefs were in a depressed frame of mind in early practice this week.

"They were dispirited and listless in practice Monday and Tuesday, but yesterday they perked up and had a real good workout," Van Ryzin said. "I hope they'll be ready for Southwestern Friday.

Saginaw plays host to Flint Central tomorrow while Arthur Hill visits Flint Northern and Bay City Central goes to crosstown Handy to round out the league schedule. Midland is idle.

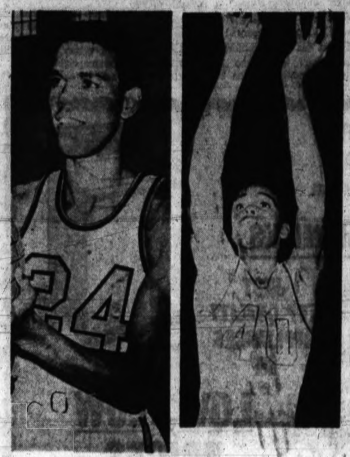
Cutters Capture 2nd With 66-56 City Triumph

The Wallace Cutters moved into second place in the National division of the City Basketball League with a 66-56 victory over Colonial Lumber last night at Pontiac Northern.

Bill Buck scored 21 points and Bud Hayward added 17 to pace the Cutters to their fifth victory in six starts. Jack DeCoe and Bob Devine tallied 14 and 13, respectively, for Colonial, which now stands 5-2. The Cutters led at halftime, 34-26.

Pepsi Cola of Waterford's Class A circuit ran wild in the second half for a 77-58 verdict over the Southwest Trojans in an exhibition contest. Bill York netted 25 points for Pepsi and the Trojan's Emmett Elliot bagged 14. The winners trailed at halftime, 35-29.

Two National loop games are slated tonight at PCH. First Church of the Nazarene faces 300 Bowl at 7 p.m. and Smith's Fuel plays Delice Market at 8:30.



Pontiac Press Photos

TRYING TO BOUNCE BACK—Pontiac Central tries to bounce back into the victory column Friday night and junior forward Ed Williams (left) and senior forward Paul Brown will be doing their utmost to aid the Chiefs' cause. The Chiefs meet dangerous Flint Southwestern on the PCH court at 8 o'clock in a Saginaw Valley basketball game. Williams has improved steadily this season and Brown is a stalwart rebounder.

Vikings Seek Win; Waterford on Road

The Vikings have lost all 11 games this season. Seven of the setbacks were by a total of 30 points, indicating the Vikings may be ready to break into the win column.

They get another chance Friday against Inter-Lakes League rival Southfield. The Blue Jays trounced Walled Lake by 13 points in an earlier meeting, but this time the contest will be on the Vikings' floor.

Walled Lake has toppled from the top of the I-L to the bottom slightly less than one year. Graduation riddled the Vikings of the top scorers and rebounders and on season's championship team.

Not only has Coach Jim Horein been plagued by a lack of rebounding and consistent scoring punch, the Vikings also lack experience.

TUCK IS TOPS

Bob Tuck, Gary Alderson, Jim Webb and Mike Hinckley have scored well in several games, but have not been able to put together a good string.

Tuck is the top point getter with 10.8 average.

SEEK REVENGE

Waterford has a score to settle with Berkley, but it won't be easy.

The skippers lost the early engagement by 11 points at Waterford and this time must travel to the Bears' stronghold.

It will be up to Paul and Gary Moran to supply the punch if the Skippers are to win and pull into a tie for second with the Bears. The Skippers have been effective when the Moran brothers have been hitting.

Paul has been the big scorer, but he was off last Friday against Farmington and the Skippers were easy victims.

★ ★ ★

Berkley has a well rounded offense and sufficient depth for coach Ace Zaphagos to substitute three or four players at once without hindering the Bears' play.

Area Executive Buys Pipers

Wilson Plans to Keep Cagers in Cleveland; Also Owns Grid Team

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ralph C. Wilson Jr., a Detroit insurance executive who owns a professional football team in Buffalo, has purchased the Cleveland Pipers of the American Basketball League for an estimated $75,000.

★ ★ ★

The announcement was made Wednesday night by George Steinbrenner, president of the Pipers, who said the team would remain in Cleveland and that there would be no front office changes now.

POSSIBLE REHIRE

McLendon, first Negro ever to coach a professional team, was to meet with Steinbrenner today and there were indications he would rejoin the club, probably as personnel director.

Wilson owns the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League. In buying the Pipers he gets a club that won the ABL's Eastern Division first half title, but is lagging in last place with a 2-7 record during the second half.

★

Wilson will not run the club himself and it is probable that some of the stock will be repurchased by the present owners. Steinbrenner is expected to continue as president.

Northern Team Hit by Ailments for Farmington

League Leading Falcons Show Good Scoring, Rebounding Punch

It could very easily be said that Pontiac Northern will send its "walking wounded" into battle against Farmington Friday.

Three Huskies—Ed Wasik, Rick Fisher and Larry Hayward—are not up to par. And Farmington will carry a 5-0 Inter-Lakes record into the PNH gym.

Wasik is still recovering from a bout with the flu. Fisher has the fractured index finger of his left hand in a big cast and is forced to play one-handed most of the time.

Larry Hayward has been out of school the last couple of days because of illness. Coach Dick Hall is keeping his fingers crossed that twin brother Gary does not come down with the same ailment.

Larry is the only doubtful starter. Hall indicated that he would probably call on either Wayne Daniels or Dean Souden to open against Farmington.

PNH STARTERS

Wasik and Fisher will handle the guard lots and Dave Shields will be at center. Gary Hayward, the team's leading scorer, will be at forward.

Farmington handed Northern one of its four setbacks in five league games by a 48-41 count in December. The Huskies are 3-6 overall.

They snapped a five game losing streak last week by defeating Walled Lake 52-48 and leaving the I-L cellar to the Vikings.

"Farmington has a real good team," said Hall. "They have a big front line and good reserve strength."

Walt Grimala, 6-5, and Chuck Gadde, 6-4, provide coach Dave Parks with a solid 1-2 punch in scoring and rebounding. Another potent point maker in recent games has been Paul Riggio.

Farmington holds two straight wins over the Huskies. The Falcons knocked PNH into a tie for first place in the last game of the 1960-61 campaign.

The Falcons who have lost non-league encounters to Highland Park and Plymouth, looked very impressive last week while beating Waterford by 20 points.

Farmington has a 9-2 overall record.

Second Round Action Opens in Church Loop

Trinity Baptist came through the first half with a 7-0 record, including a close victory over runnerup All Saints. It was the lone setback for the second place team.

Michigan College Action Features Decisive Scores

By The Associated Press

The decisions were decisive in most of Michigan college basketball Wednesday night.

Only Hillsdale, which defeated Youngstown by one point in a game at Youngstown, Ohio, had to strain to win. Hillsdale won 63-62.

Calvin, making its record 8-3 in the MIAA, walloped Olivet 99-56. The Knights, whose Henry DeMots scored 26 points, scored 17 straight points at the start of the second half before Olivet could score.

Oberlin of Ohio thumped Adrian 82-62 with Emmett Keeler scoring 31 points for the winners. It was Adrian's 14th loss in 15 games, including forfeits. Adrian got a prior blow Wednesday, losing Ron Schult, of East Detroit, its leading scorer, for the rest of the season because of scholastic ineligibility.

Wayne State (4-2) improved its hold on third place in the Presidents' Athletic Conference by defeating Thiel of Pennsylvania 79-66. Freddie Prime and Ken Marzka scored 27 and 24, respectively, for Wayne.

Lawrence Tech, playing a collegiate preliminary to the Detroit Pistons-Los Angeles Lakers professional game, won from Assumption 81-58. John Bradley scored 32 points for Tech.

MAPLE STARTER — Gene Schmidt will be in the starting lineup for Birmingham Seaholm Friday when the Maples invade Hazel Park for an Eastern Michigan League game.

Leonard, Baxter Set Pace

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Golf's only 90-hole tournament, the $50,000 Palm Springs classic, swung into its second stage today with unheralded Stan Leonard and Rex Baxter Jr., leading the procession.

They scored 65s, six strokes under par, in the first round at the Thunderbird Country Club Wednesday.

Baxter, 25, of Amarillo, Tex., is a relative newcomer to the money trail. Leonard, 47, Thursday, has won the Canadian PGA title eight times.

★ ★ ★

One stroke back of the leaders was Doug Ford, recent winner of the Bing Crosby tournament, while two shots back were U.S. Open champion Gene Littler, the winner at San Francisco last Sunday; Lionel Hebert and Jerry Steelsmith.

PASS PLAY

Baxter figuratively got into the tournament on a pass. He was a No. 1 alternate and got to play only because an older pro, Walter Burkemo, developed trough in his elbow and had to withdraw.

Three other desert courses are being used to handle the 128 pros and their 384 amateur partners. In something of a game of musical chairs, the pros who played one course Wednesday switch to another today. And so it will go until Sunday for the final round at a fifth course, Bermuda Dunes Country Club.

The 68 group included Mike Souchak and England's Neal Coles, while the 69 bracket was jammed with prominent players.

Also to be reckoned with was Sam Snead. He had a 70 in his first 1962 tournament.

SHOOT PAR

Even with par 71 was Jack Nicklaus, 1961 amateur champion turned pro. Last year's Palm Springs winner, Billy Maxwell, had a disappointing 73.

Player attributed his poor scoring in California this winter to faulty putting. But he was deft on the greens Wednesday.

"I've been playing the best golf of my life recently but I have lost any chance of good scores by some miserable putting," the little South African said.

HEADED FOR TROUBLE — Tommy Bolt grimaces as he explodes from a trap alongside the ninth green at Tamarisk Country Club Wednesday during the opening round of the Palm Springs Golf Classic. He took two putts and a bogie five on the hole.

Moore Starts Rolling in Philadelphia Tourney

Red-bot Monroe Moore of Pontiac returns to the bowling firing line today as the three-day Philadelphia Open gets under way.

★ ★ ★

The event will be sponsored by the Professional Bowler's Association. The two semifinal matches and the championship battle will be televised nationally by ABC Saturday.

Moore, fresh from winning $850 in the Empire State Open where he was 8th, will be shooting for more big money. The prize list will start at $5,000 for the winner.

Some 144 of the nation's outstanding keglers will be competing in the meet.

Qualifying began today and will continue through Saturday morning. The top scorers will then draw for opponents in head-to-head competition.

Three-game duels will be held until the field is cut to four survivors. A pair of one-game affairs will determine the finalists, who will settle the top prize in one game. Third and 4th place will be decided by total pinfall in the semifinals.

After the tourney, Moore will be on his way to New York again for his 6th appearance on the "Make That Spare" television show. He faces Bobbie Gaudern Saturday night seeking another $1,000 and a chance at the jackpot spare which will be worth $14,000.

Southeastern League May Boycott Pros

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The 29th annual Southeastern Conference meeting gets under way behind closed doors today with a call for an unofficial boycott of pro football teams high on the agenda.

Slugging Cager Cost Referee $2,000 in Court

DENVER (UPI) — A Denver judge ruled yesterday that a basketball referee cannot punch a player in the jaw, even if the player questions the official's ability to see.

Damon was refereeing a game Nov. 8, 1960, in Manual High School here when he became involved in an altercation with Gillespie, a player on a local pickup team.

Witnesses testified Gillespie told Damon that "the other referee isn't blind" after Damon called a fifth foul on him. They said Damon punched the player in the jaw.

May Ask Authorities to Reverse Decision

MONTREAL (AP) — Allied authorities in West Berlin may be asked to reverse their decision barring the East German ice hockey team from traveling to the world hockey championships in Colorado Springs, Colo., next month.

Bob LeBel, president of the International Hockey Federation, said Wednesday night he will appeal to the Allied travel office if he receives a formal complaint from the East Germans. A formal complaint reportedly was on the way here by cable.

★ ★ ★

"We shall do everything we can to support the East German application," LeBel said. "We want the East Germans in the tournament, not because we are afraid that other teams will pull out if they (the East Germans) cannot come, but simply because they have a right to be there. Their federation is a full-fledged member (of the IIHF) and their representatives have shown themselves to be good sportsmen."

MAY PULL OUT

LeBel made his comments in the wake of reports that Russia, Czechoslovakia, Sweden and the Netherlands may pull out of the Colorado Springs tournament, set for March 7-18, if East Germany is barred. He said no team has given official notice that it intends to withdraw and insisted that the championships will go on as scheduled.

★ ★ ★

LeBel will meet with the North American executive committee of the international federation next Monday and Tuesday in Colorado Springs to "re-assess and make final plans."

★ ★ ★

The refusal of the Allied authorities to grant travel permits to the East Germans stems from a general NATO ban, put into effect last fall as the West's answer to the Communist Wall in Berlin.

Los Angeles Edges Pistons in Overtime Duel, 123-122

DETROIT (AP) — The Los Angeles Lakers outlasted the Detroit Pistons in a series of comeback rallies and won their National Basketball Association game in overtime last night 123-122.

The Pistons enjoyed big leads on a number of occasions over the Lakers, including a 14-point lead in the first half, and another of nine points in the second half.

Jerry West's two free throws tied it up at 113-113 with three seconds left in regulation play. West led all scorers with 39 points. He shot three of the Lakers' four baskets in overtime. Bailey Howell and Ray Scott had 26 each for Detroit.

CELTICS WIN

In other NBA action last night, the Boston Celtics climbed back on the winning trail after losing four in a row with a 122-115 victory over Chicago and Syracuse drubbed New York 138-109.

Big Bill Russell, who sat out the Celtics' four straight losses recuperating from an injured Achilles tendon, was back last night and, although still favoring his heel, added 11 points to the Celtic total.

The Celtics and Lakers meet tonight in a big one at College Park, Md. Los Angeles now leads Boston by two games in the win column, and the team that finishes the regular season with the most victories gets an important, one-game home court advantage in the playoffs.

Walt Bellamy had 47 points to lead the field. Cousy led the Celtics with 27.

Sachs Will Try Again in Indianapolis '500'

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Eddie Sachs of Coopersburg, Pa., was nominated today to try again to win the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race May 30 in the Dean Special he drove to second place last year.

He apparently had the race won last year when he had to stop for a tire change with only 7½ miles to go, giving the victory to A. J. Foyt.

PNH Swimmers Lose 2nd Meet

NORTH SUBURBAN LEAGUE
Fitzgerald	2	0	Northern 2 2
Southfield	1	0	Madison 0 3
Thurston	1	0	Ulica 0 4

Pontiac Northern lost its second swimming meet of the season in nine starts at Southfield last night by a close margin, 54-51. It was a North Suburban League meet and as Fitzgerald defeated Madison, 66-39, the league is now in a three way tie.

The Cascaddan boys, Carl and Lou, scored three victories between them to help PNH. Louis set a varsity record in the 400 freestyle in a time of 4:42.1 and Carl set the varsity mark in the 100 breaststroke in 1:10.7. Carl also won the individual medley in 2:36.1.

Southfield also had a varsity mark with Rod Moore clipping 54 flat in the 100 freestyle. Moore also won the 50 freestyle in 24.4.

The Madison pool is now Fitzgerald dominated in records. The Spartans of coach John Wieck set five pool records in winning nine of 11 firsts. Madison managed to win the 100 breaststroke and the freestyle relay.

Fitzgerald diver Mike Reynolds remained unbeaten in the last 12 dual meets, including the last three of last season. He has not lost since the state meet a year ago.

5 Top Tigers Remain Unsigned

DETROIT (AP) — Rick Ferrell has 26 of the Detroit Tigers signed and ready to report for spring training at the end of this month.

But if the Tigers were opening the season today instead of 67 days from now, they'd send out a patchwork lineup. It would lack punch and Detroit's best pitcher.

Five of the nine Tigers manager Bob Scheffing is expected to use in the April 9 opener at Washington are unsigned. Ferrell is having his troubles bringing them into line.

"I was a major league player for many years," the Detroit vice president said yesterday. "So I know most of the arguments. Or thought I did. I've been hearing some new ones.

"Some of the demands have been unreasonable."

STILL DEALING

—Norm Cash, American League batting champion with a .361 average last year. The first baseman had 41 runs and 132 runs batted in.

—Dick Brown, who gave Detroit its finest catching in several seasons last year and provided some unexpected batting punch. Brown hit 16 homers and batted .266, missing two months with a broken finger.

★ ★ ★

"I'm not too far apart with Lary," Ferrell said. "I'm still far apart with Cash, and Kaline's and Colavito's demands are unreasonable."

Wolves Eye Upset

By CHUCK ABAIR

The team that has come the closest to beating Northville this year will give it a try again tomorrow night.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston, although matched by Holly in losing by eight to the Mustangs, had a much better chance for victory in the meeting with the state power but finally bowed to some good shooting in early December.

Second place seems to be the main issue at stake in the loop barring an NHS slump. Bloomfield Hills should be able to hold its runnerup ranking as guest of Clarenceville. Clarkston and West Bloomfield are right behind in 3rd. The Lakers will be favored as hosts to Brighton. Holly will visit Milford.

★ ★ ★

Birmingham Seaholm goes gunning for its 2nd Eastern Michigan League triumph and 3rd over-all at Hazel Park. East Detroit will try to stay unbeaten in the EML at Ferndale while Royal Oak Kimball and Port Huron clash.

TOP SCORER HERE

In the Suburban Catholic, St. Frederick will entertain Oakland County scoring ace Tim Mulcester and St. James. St. Rita will try to dump front-running Royal Oak St. Mary. St. Michael and Our Lady of the Lakes will meet at Pontiac Northern Saturday night when St. Benedict vs. St. Clement.

Avondale faces another rugged assignment at home against sizzling Oak Park. Troy and Fitzgerald meet in a big one and Clawson plays Madison in the Oakland A.

Tri-County action will have Romeo at Rochester and Lapeer vs. L'Anse Creuse. The Southern Thumb will have a full plate with Michigan power Capac at Brown City, Almont at Armada, Dryden vs. Memphis and New Haven vs. Anchor Bay.

Some of the other top attractions will have Lake Orion at Oxford, Kettering traveling to Roseville, high-ranked Imlay City at Saginaw Buena Vista, Emmanuel Christian and Grosse Pointe University School, Utica at South Lake and Royal Oak Dondero vs. Highland Park.

San Francisco Has Win Streak Snapped at Eight

By The Associated Press

San Francisco's 8-game winning streak in the American Basketball League was snapped Wednesday night.

The Saints went down before the New York Tapers, 112-106. The defeat, coupled with Chicago's 108-99 victory over Pittsburgh, tightened the second half race in both the Eastern and Western Divisions.

The Saints' lead over Kansas City in the Western Division was cut to one game. Pittsburgh's edge in the East was chopped to .025 percentage points over Chicago and one-half game over New York.

Roger Kaiser and Danny Swartz again were New York's big guns with 31 and 30 points, respectively. It was a hook shot by Kaiser that put New York ahead for good with seven minutes to play. Kenny Sears' 27 was high for the Saints whose streak went back to the last game of the first half.

Orioles Sign Pair

BALTIMORE (AP) — The new Baltimore Oriole infield candidates, Ozzie Virgil and Ron Kabbes, have returned their signed contracts to President Lee MacPhail, it was announced today. This brings to 11 the number of Orioles who have agreed to 1962 terms.

Virgil was secured in the draft last November from Kansas City. Kabbes was acquired from the Cardinals in a December trade for Johnny Kucks.

New U-D Grid Mentor Is 'Man in Motion'

DETROIT (UPI) — John Idzik, newly-appointed football coach at the University of Detroit, is the latest "young man in motion."

★ ★

Idzik is credited with creating and developing the "extended motion" play, now used by several college teams around the country including Mississippi, Georgia Tech and Penn State.

The extended motion involves "flooding the zone," as Idzik puts it.

"Most offenses use their man in motion parallel to the line of scrimmage," Idzik explains.

"We have our man dip behind the line and charge ahead so that at the crest of the arc, as we call it, he's going at full speed when the ball is snapped," Idzik said.

★ ★ ★

"This way, the ex-Maryland backfield star said, "the back is outside the realm of the defense. If they don't cover him and take the receivers instead, he's open. If they cover him, usually one of our receivers is open.

"And it gives our quarterback more leeway," Idzik said.

The youthful native of Philadelphia says he got the idea for the extended motion pattern during a practice "mistake" while assisting Jim Tatum at Maryland in 1961.

"During practice one day," he said, "one of the backs broke a signal and kept in motion after the whistle blew. I noticed the defense had real trouble changing direction to compensate for the jump he got."

★ ★ ★

Idzik is largely credited with putting the oomph into Detroit's flashy offense during his three years as Titan backfield coach.

He first gained national attention as a defensive back with Maryland in 1947-50.

Idzik led the Terrapins in pass interceptions for three years and intercepted two passes for the South in a 14-9 win over the North in the '49 North-South All-Star game at Miami, Fla.

As one of Tatum's standouts during the Terrapin glory years (they were 29-9-2 in Idzik's four seasons there), he received honorable mention for All-Southern Conference, won the university's TEKE award for "giving the most to football in four years," and found time to letter in baseball twice.

Besides Maryland, his other coaching experience prior to Detroit was at Tennessee and Ottawa of the Canadian pro league.

List NCAA Series Dates

OMAHA (AP)—The 1962 NCAA College Baseball World Series will open in Omaha June 11 and continue through June 15, with a possible extra game on Saturday, June 16.

The University of Omaha was named host school Tuesday with Virgil Yelkin, Omaha U. athletic director, in charge of the series. He will be aided by Charles Nelnas, Kansas City, who has been named NCAA administrative assistant for meets and tourneys.

West Siders Getting Hot

Harnack Hits 712 Series

The boys of the West Side Classic have finally started hitting their strike this season as the latest scores seem to indicate.

No less than 15 series over 600 were rolled this week for the first time this year. The new lanes have had some of the boys talking to themselves until now.

The high scoring this week was led by Jerry Harnack who sandwiched a 216 game between a pair of 248's for a nice 712 series. This is a new high series and the first one over 700 this season. A new high game was also rolled when Mickey Straka finished with a strong 269 to nose out former leader Harnack, who hit 268 just one week ago.

Team series and game scores also showed an increased scoring when over one-half of the league scored over 2,850 pins for series and three-quarters of the games were well over the 900 mark.

★ ★ ★

High team game was bowled by Ben Fyke & Sons Excavating when they fashioned a 1,046 game, new second high game, while losing two games to Jerry Perna's five who rolled games of 1,021, 1,030 and 918 for a new season high series of 3,018. Perna's boys were headed by Harnack.

★

Other high scores: Fyke & Sons 2,802, West Side Lanes 1,002 in 2,809, Sparks Griffin 1,014 in 2,895, P. L. of P. 2,919, Huron Bowl 2,896, Cabi Music 2,814.

College Skiers Injured in Bus-Truck Crash

RUMFORD, Maine (AP)—Four members of the University of Maine ski team and their coach were injured in a head-on collision between their bus and a panel truck near Canton Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

None of the skiers was injured seriously. But the truck driver, Walter V. Cormier, 44, of Auburn was reported in grave condition at a Lewiston hospital.

★ ★ ★

The ski team was en route from Rumford to Williamstown, Mass., College.

Kandahar Ski Club to Lose Jump Site

State Will Buy Area for Adding to Pontiac Lake

Present Lease Expires April 1st; Tourney Set Feb. 11th

After 25 years, Kandahar Ski Club, located in the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area, and site of one of the outstanding ski jumping tournaments in lower Michigan, is expected to lose its home April 1st.

The Michigan Conservation Department has approved the purchase of the farm area in which Kandahar is located for the purpose of adding to the Pontiac Lake Recreation area.

Sale price for the 170 acres is $102,000 and the purchase is now subject to approval of the Conservation Commission which will meet Feb. 8-9 to discuss the matter.

Kandahar ski club was founded in 1937 and it has been the only ski club in the area restricted to private membership. The facilities include a lodge, 6 rope tows, 8 slopes and a 35 meter jump.

The jump has been used each year for the annual tournament. This year's 9th annual event is scheduled to take place Sunday, Feb. 11th.

Conservation department officials in Lansing said that the club would be permitted to use the land until the end of the present contract which expires April 1st. The purchase money is coming out of the parks' admission fees.

None of the Kandahar officers were available for comment, although it is expected that many of the members would join the jumping club at Grampian Mt. which initiated its new jump this year.

Start Tonight, Skiing Is Great at Local Areas

The fresh snowfall yesterday brought skiers out in droves last night to all local ski areas. Conditions varied from very good to excellent for today, tonight and tomorrow.

These were the conditions as of this morning:

TWO YEARS TOO YOUNG — Guenter Schmid, head ski instructor at Grampian Mt. practices going through the slalom gates but to no avail. Schmid thought about the pro racing circuit, but at 22 years of age, he is too young. The IPSRA has set its age limit at 24.

Age Limit 24

Grampian Mt. Ski Pro Is 'Too Young' to Race

Guenter Schmid, head of the Grampian Mt. ski school, is only 22 years old but has a wealth of experience in his favor.

The experience however does him no good as far as the competitive racing in the new International Professional Ski Racing Association.

The age limit to join the IPSRA is 24.

Schmid, who left his home in Austria for his first visit to America by taking the job at Grampian Mt., is considered a good prospect for the pro ski circuit now in its second year of existence.

Since its establishment a year ago by Friedl Pfeifer, head of the Aspen, Colo. ski school, the pro circuit had seven successful meets last season and has held three thus far this season. The purse has jumped from $15,000 of last year to $35,000 for 10 scheduled meets this season.

The class A racers are the top touring pros. The class B IPSRA pros are mostly ski instructors at or from the regions of host teams.

Schmid, who was hopeful of seeing other ski areas in the United States before he returned to Austria in March, thought about getting into the pro circuit. His age prevented this.

"I don't know why they put such an age limit to join the pro circuit," Schmid said, "the organization surely could use younger names in competition."

Presently, all the top skiers on the pro circuit have reached or passed 30 years of age. One of the youngest is Swiss skier Roger Staub. Best winner among the youngest pros has been Pepi Gramshammer, a 29 year old native of Kufstein, Austria, an instructor at Sun Valley.

The top money winner of the circuit last year was Anderl Molterer of Aspen ski school. He is 30 years old.

Schmid helped train the British Olympic team in 1960. He has served on the ski staff at St. Anton, Austria for four years.

FULL HOUSE—The lodge at Alpine Valley had a full house over the weekend as skiers enjoyed a great day for skiing at local ski areas. New snowfall has made skiing very good at all areas for tonight and possibly the rest of the weekend.

State Open This Weekend at Mt. Holly

LOCAL SKI PRO — Veteran among local ski instructors is Gerry Monod, head of the school at Mt. Holly this year. Monod was at Grampian Mt. for four years prior to moving to Mt. Holly. He is a student of the St. Christof ski school in Austria where Professor Kruchenhauser founded the Wedeln system of skiing.

Three Classes of Events Set for Boys, Girls

Prep Slalom Tourney Is Scheduled Next Week at Holly Area

The Michigan Open Ski meet will be held Saturday and Sunday at Mt. Holly with competition in three classes.

All junior racers, competing in four divisions for both girls and senior racers, between 18 and 31, boys will be held Saturday. The and the veteran's class above 32 will compete on Sunday.

Saturday morning's quadrangular prep meet with Avondale, Kimball, Walled Lake and Waterford has been postponed.

A week later, February 10, Mt. Holly will be the site of the Southeast Michigan High School salom tourney.

Entries for the Michigan Open close tomorrow.

Trophies will be awarded to winners and runnersup in each division and class to both men and women. Ribbons will go to third place winners.

There is no admission charge for spectators. Mt. Holly has expanded its parking area.

For prep meet on the 10th, 14 schools have submitted entries thus far. Grosse Pointe and Bloomfield Hills stand as strong choices for the preps. Last year there were 9 entries in the prep meet.

Jumping Film on TV

A film of the National Ski Jumping championships held in Chicago Jan. 14th will be shown Sunday on ABC TV at 5:00 to 6:30 p.m. on

State Jumping Meet Sunday at Briar Hill

The annual Michigan jumping championships will be held Sunday at Briar Hill Ski Club in Mesick and a high class field of jumpers is expected to aim at the record of 158 feet held jointly by Art Tolde, former Olympic team member and Jan Simonsen of Flint.

Several outstanding local jumpers are expected to compete, including Walt and Alden Hyry of Berkley, Clint Beach of Flint, John Tessmer of Rochester, Bill Hyvonen of Ferndale, Bill Koch of Farmington, Dan Guthrie of Utica.

One of the top names in the field of entries is Sig Malvic, top class A jumper from the famous Norge ski Club in Chicago. Competitors will also hail from Ishpeming, Iron Mountain, Milwaukee, Toledo, Pontiac, Flint, Detroit and Minneapolis.

An outstanding B class jumper is Thorlief Scendt, who has won six straight meets in which he has competed since last year.

Changes have been made on the inrun this year to permit greater speed. With the takeoff set back, the present hill record is expected to be broken.

Dave Freeman of Waterford was state men's champion three years ago. Hyry has won the veteran's class title.

Skier's Streak in Pros Falls

Gramshammer in 13th Place After Winning Four in Row

ASPEN, Colo. — After winning four straight professional ski racing meets, Pepi Gramshammer of Sun Valley, one of the youngest pros on the circuit, dropped out of the money in his last start at Heavenly Valley, Calif., last weekend.

Anderl Molterer of Aspen, top pro racing money winner last year, won the event. He had a combined time of 1:55.7 for the two runs and picked up a first prize of $1,100.

In second place with a combined time of 2:00.2 was Ernst Hinterseer of Mammoth Mountain for $700. He was followed in order by Roger Staub of Switzerland for $450, Othmar Schneider of Boyne Mountain for $300, Marv Moriarity of Stowe for $250, Christian Pravda of Sun Valley for $200, Hans Forstner of Alpine Meadows for $150 in 7th place.

Gramshammer fell and he finished in 13th place. The course was short and steep and it was set by Stein Eriksen, the former Boyne Mt. pro who has been out with an ankle injury.

More than 5,000 spectators watched the pro racers, which had 18 entries, the largest of the season.

The next meet for the pros are the world championships at Aspen, Colo. in two weeks. They are scheduled to race at Boyne Mt. March 9th.

State Collegiate Meet This Weekend at Boyne

The annual Michigan Collegiate Championships will be held Saturday and Sunday at Boyne Mountain with six teams trying to unseat defending champion Michigan Tech.

Entered in the college meet along with Michigan Tech, seeking its third straight title, are Michigan State, Northwestern College of Traverse City, Ferris, Northern Michigan, Flint Junior College and Western Michigan. This will be the 11th time the state collegiates have been held and Michigan Tech has won eight of the previous championships.

German Bobsledder Plans Trip to U.S.

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP) — Germany's Franz Schelle, a mustachioed 32-year-old transportation company executive, looked ahead today to an invitational bobsled meet in Lake Placid, N.Y., as the first major event in his new role as world four-man champion.

Schelle, who Tuesday mastered the much-maligned, mile-long Olympic run here in the two championship heats of the fours, plans to make the trek to the United States to compete in the special invitational World Diamond Bobsled Trophy meet Feb. 18-25.

He will be accompanied by his brakeman, diminutive Otto Goebl. He will be joined in the upstate New York winter resort by world two-man champion Rinaldo Ruatti of Italy, and his brakeman Enrico Delorenzo. There is also a possibility that Ruatti's teammate, Segio Zardini, also will make the trip. Zardini finished second in both the two and four man championships here.

The lone United States sled, that finished 14th in the field of 15 Tuesday, will remain in Germany. Driver Lloyd Johnson, from Madison, Wis., is a businessman in Frankfurt, Germany, and his crew is made up of U.S. servicemen stationed in Europe.

About 100 Hopefuls Seeking Team Berths to Replace 15 Killed

BOSTON (AP) — The National Figure Skating Championships opened on a somber note today with top officials of the United States Figure Skating Association eyeing the field of about 100 hopefuls for possible successors to the 15 skaters who were killed in an airplane crash last year.

Those 15, representing the cream of the U.S. crop were en route to the world championships in Prague when their jet crashed outside Brussels, Belgium.

The championships will run four days and will be divided between the Skating Club of Boston and the Boston College Arena. The novice men's and women's compulsory figures and the first round of the silver dance event were on the opening day program.

U.S. SWEEPS

The United States has been unbeatable in the men's individual Olympic competition since the end of World War II. Dick Button won the Olympic Gold Medal in 1948 and 1952, Hayes Alan Jenkins won in 1956 and David Jenkins in 1960.

Working on Pilot of Series

Loretta Young Has New Show

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD—There was Loretta Young on the Goldwyn studio street, looking as pert and pretty as when she used to whip through that drawing room door way on TV Sunday nights.

"What's doing?" I asked.

"New series," she replied. And 20 minutes later, she had told me the plot of the pilot film and the details of her new TV show. Then she dashed off with a whish of petticoats.

THOMAS

It takes some doing to keep up with the dynamic Loretta. When her show faded from TV after eight successful years, no one believed she would be idle for long.

LIKES TO WORK

"Oh, I've enjoyed having the vacation," she said. "But I also like to work. That is to say, I enjoy the actual work—the making of the show. All the preparation is the hard part."

The Loretta Young Show was swept off TV in the anti-feminist drive that saw the networks canceling shows starring nearly every personality except Donna Reed.

★ ★ ★

The ladies made a small comeback this season with Gertrude Berg, Shirley Booth ("Hazel"), and "Margie." Next season may see a return of feminence (new word) to TV, with the possibility of Loretta, Lucille Ball and Eve Arden being back with new shows.

'HAVE GOOD CHANCE'

"I think we have a good chance with ours," said Loretta. "At least I think it's good. We'll see how they think back East."

★ ★ ★

The pilot was financed by a sponsor, and that's a good sign. The show is now called "Christine's Children." You've guessed it—a family show. But Loretta is going all out to beat the others: she'll have seven children, ranging from 6 to 18.

PLAYS WIDOW

I'm not supposed to give away the plot of the pilot, lest it be spoiled for the sponsor, but it's safe to say that she plays a widowed magazine employe whose editor falls for her, finding out later about her bounteous brood. Get the picture?

Loretta played in anthologies before, and she's not so sure she wants to get stuck with the same role—"I've already started glancing enviously at another part in the show." But she is fascinated with her screen family and claims to have no qualms about working with child actors.

"Of course the bad ones can be horrible," she said. "But we have a wonderful bunch."

Pop Singer Mathis Sidelined by Injury

NEW YORK (AP) — Singer Johnny Mathis is dailing off all public appearances until the end of April because of a back injury, his manager announced Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Engagements affected, Mrs. Helen Noga said, include cancellation of a spring date at the Seattle World's Fair, and postponement of tours to the Far East and Europe. Also postponed were night club commitments in New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Noga, the vocalist's business partner, said Mathis, who is 26, aggravated an old ailment in a fall at his home last month, and his physician has ordered a complete rest. He is at his home in Los Angeles.

Asked to Run for Mayor, Says GR Ward Chief

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Second Ward Supervisor John M. Brower, 72, Tuesday said he has been asked to run against Mayor Stanley Davis in the Feb. 19 city primary.

★ ★ ★

Brower also is chairman of the board of Brower Furniture Co.

A past president of the city board of education and long-time political foe of Davis, he said of his candidacy prospects: "I'm not encouraging it and I'm not opposing it."

Socialite-Volunteer Dies

LOCUST VALLEY, N.Y. (AP)—Mrs. Henry P. Davison, 90, active in Red Cross work and a pioneer in the international exchange of college students, died Wednesday. Mrs. Davison, a member of the New York Social Register, was the widow of a partner in the J. P. Morgan Co. Her husband, who died in 1922, also was a founder of the Standard Oil Co.

Found Innocent of Felonious Driving Charge

An 18-year-old Milford High School senior was back in classes today after a Circuit Court jury yesterday found him innocent of felonious driving.

* * *

The seven men and five women deliberated for an hour before acquitting Richard C. Danley, 2891 Ford Road. Danley was the driver of a car last June 28 which ran off Hickory Ridge Road in western Oakland County, sending the driver and his three passengers to the hospital.

* * *

Seek to Uphold Teacher's Ouster

Pontiac School District Fights Reinstatement Order by Tenure Body

An appeal by the Pontiac School District from a reinstatement order for ousted teacher Ina M. Vogel has been filed in circuit court on advice of school attorneys, Supt. Dana Whitmer announced today.

The appeal was filed in Oakland County Circuit Court, Dr. Whitmer said, after attorneys advised that "if we waited 30 days, some technical case might be raised against the appeal."

A quick poll of board of education members found them in agreement on the appeal, Whitmer said. However he stressed that such agreement was not binding until the board would adopt a resolution backing the appeal at the next board meeting, Feb. 8.

A resolution to that effect had originally been scheduled for discussion Feb. 8, before study by the Pontiac law firm of Dudley and Patterson revealed possible legal difficulties in a delayed appeal.

Mrs. Vogel had been refused a permanent contract for 1960-61 before she could acquire tenure.

She appealed to the State Tenure Commission and recently won reinstatement from that body. The school district is fighting the ruling, Whitmer said, on the basis that the tenure board does not have jurisdiction over a teacher who never has had tenure.

Red Defense Chiefs Meeting in Prague

BERLIN (AP)—Defense Ministers of the Warsaw Pact countries are meeting in Prague, Czechoslovakia, the official East German news agency ADN reported today.

It said they conferred Wednesday and today under chairmanship of the Soviet commander-in-chief of the united forces of the Warsaw Pact, Marshal A. A. Gretchko. The Warsaw pact is the East European counter to the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Ex-Police Officer Denies He Read His Confession

Tunnacliff did, however, testify that he told ex-convict William Mahar here to confess the Owosso Eagles Club, which was robbed of nearly $1,400 on Jan. 1, 1961, or "words to that effect."

Tunnacliff, taking the witness stand for the first time in his four-day trial, said he had not read a statement he signed before Owosso Police Chief Ted Rice on Oct. 20, the day after his arrest.

Asked why he had signed a similar statement in Lansing the day before, Tunnacliff replied: "I suppose I'd have signed a death warrant at the time."

This horrifying tragedy will live long in the minds of the 7,000 people who witnessed the fall," said Rep. John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, one of the sponsors. "The measure is designed not only to protect the performers but also to prevent possible panic which nearly occurred in the shocked crowd at the Shrine Circus.

Netherlands Agrees to Free Indonesians

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The United Nations announced today the Netherlands had agreed to release Indonesian prisoners taken in a naval engagement off disputed West Guinea Jan. 15.

The announcement said the international committee of the Red Cross had agreed to send an official to New Guinea to take the men back to Indonesia.

Twenty-eight Indonesian soldiers and sailors were killed and 52 others captured when Dutch warships sank the Indonesian motor torpedo boat Matjan Tutul in the naval clash.

Says Censoring Makes Us Tough Foe for Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur G. Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense, testified today that the censoring of military men's speeches makes the United States a tougher foe for communism.

His statement was prepared for a Senate subcommittee investigating charges that the censoring has been too drastic, often softening anti-Communist statements by military officers.

Sylvester didn't mention a disputed order from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara forbidding Pentagon personnel to tell the subcommittee who censored any particular speech.

Mailmen Sitting Down on Job . . . It's Your Fault

Pontiac-area mailmen are spending more time sitting down on the job during these winter months—and it isn't of their own choosing.

It's the fault of residents who won't salt, sand or shovel their sidewalks, Appeals to "Sand, Salt or Shovel," appear to have been fruitless.

"Our mailmen aren't just sitting either," said Postmaster William H. Donaldson. "They're sprawling, lying and flopping all over sidewalks, walkways and driveways."

Shoe Christmas, the, Pontiac mailing district has had 31 reports of falls causing injuries to postmen.

"And every report," says Donaldson, "usually means the carrier has fallen down five times before he was really hurt and reported the accident."

LIABLE FOR EXPENSES

Home owners are liable by law for medical expenses incurred by a carrier who falls on walks on their property, Donaldson said. However, so far the post office has paid out medical expenses and sick leave days to disabled carriers without sending the bill to the property owner, said Donaldson.

The main post office in Pontiac has tried to set a good example, Donaldson pointed out, by spreading a total of 2,500 pounds of salt this year on walks around the office. It also has used up 4,000 pounds of salt-sand mixture.

"We are trying our best to protect our customers," said Donaldson. "We wish they'd do the same for our 145 carriers."

Fire Consumes Dress Shop in Birmingham

Fire of undetermined origin gutted a Birmingham dress shop today causing an estimated $35,000-$40,000 damage. No one was injured.

The fire in the Suzette Dress Shop, 241 Pierce St., was believed to have started in a waste basket behind a counter.

According to owner-manager Morris Goldberg of Detroit, the fire "spread like lightning. . . . By the time I started calling the fire department, the entire building seemed to be in flames."

Goldberg said that the waste basket had been placed directly below a light switch.

* * *

Flames in the brick, one-story building were under control 45 minutes after the fire was discovered.

The building is located in a row of other retail stores, none of which was damaged.

Sponsor Bill to Require Nets for Aerialists

A bill, cosponsored by Rep. Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac, which would prevent circus aerialists from performing without a net soon will be introduced in the Michigan Legislature.

Three Democratic legislators ordered reparation of a bill to set up the restriction after two members of the Wallenda troupe of high wire performers were killed and a third injured in a fall at the Shrine Circus in Detroit Tuesday.

Bob Kennedy Urges Broad Wiretap Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy proposed today the enactment of a broad federal wiretap law which he said would protect individual privacy while giving law officers a new tool "to combat subversive activities and organized crime."

* * *

Saying that present wiretapping legislation is chaotic, Kennedy sent to Congress a detailed bill and stated his views on it in a letter to Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, president of the Senate.

Kennedy proposed that all telephone eavesdropping by private parties be outlawed and that strict procedures be laid down for the use of wiretaps by federal, state, and local authorities.

'No Orders' to Shoot if West Had Cut Wall

By JOHN O. KOEHLER

BONN, Germany (AP) — East German army and police units did not have standing orders to open fire if the Western Allies had tried to smash the Red wall in Berlin when it was built last Aug. 13, a defected East German army officer said today.

"But we were equipped to deal with any eventuality. We had live ammunition for machine guns and submachine guns," the officer, a lieutenant, said at a news conference. "But I am still not certain whether an order to fire, which only the interior minister could give, would have come."

* * *

The officer's name was not given for fear of reprisals against relatives he left behind when he fled East Germany a few days ago.

* * *

The lieutenant, who gave his age as 21, also said that every man had blank ammunition which could be fired on order of company commanders.

"We were to use blank ammunition to frighten an opponent if necessary," he said. "But we had 160 live rounds for heavy machine guns and 30 rounds per submachine gun. The tanks, Soviet-made T34s, carried 56 live shells and we had antitank bazookas with six rounds."

* * *

The lieutenant said morale among East German troops in Berlin the day the wall went up was extremely bad.

* * *

"There had been open cases of mutiny when men found out they were not sent to Berlin to repel Western aggression as we had been told," he said.

Named Official for Next Confab

Pontiac Administrator Will Preside at 1963 Osteopaths Meeting

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital Administrator Harry H. Whitlow has been named chairman of the next annual Michigan Osteopathic Hospital Association (MOHA) convention.

* * *

The appointment came during a MOHA business meeting yesterday which closed out a three-day state conference at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital.

Officials, elated over what they termed "one of the best conferences in our history," also indicated they might hold a five-state convention in Pontiac next year if space was available.

Whitlow was program chairman for the conference which drew nearly 500 doctors and hospital administrators.

ALSO TOOK PART

Also participating in the conference was the Ohio Osteopathic Hospital Association. It marked the first time in MOHA history that another state association joined in the state conference, and that medical suppliers were invited to set up exhibits.

Frank McPherson, MOHA president, said the tentative date for the next convention would be April 1963, if five Midwest states participated, it would be a major osteopathic event, larger than any MOHA event ever held in Pontiac.

The new $1.3-million addition currently under construction is slated for opening in September.

It will give the hospital a total of 403 beds, making it the largest osteopathic hospital in Michigan.

Marriage Declines in County During '61

Cupid didn't strike as hard in Oakland County last year as in 1960. There were 68 fewer marriage licenses issued, figures from the county clerk's office show.

* * *

There was a total of 4,230 issued last year and 4,298 the prior year.

In both years the months of June and August proved to be the most romantic of the 12. More than 500 licenses were issued during these periods, with the high being 552 issued in August, 1961.

3 Millionth Car for 1962 Due to Be Assembled

DETROIT (AP)—Automotive News said today the three millionth car of the 1962 model year will be assembled Friday. Production began last August.

Output for the current week was estimated at 139,400 compared with 141,489 last week and 100,712 in the similar week a year ago. The paper attributed the dip to a curtailment of overtime at Chevrolet plants.

Truck production will total 23,580 units against 24,262 last week and 23,024 last year.

PROVIDENCE, R.I. (AP)—At least five persons died early today in a general alarm fire in a three-story rooming house in South Providence.

28 Die as Fog Shrouds Coast

Visability Is Zero in Big Central California Communities

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Treacherous fog, blamed for at least 28 deaths since Sunday, including 11 victims in a bus-train collision, has created a crisis in central California.

* * *

With visibility zero at times in many of the area's major cities, dozens of schools were closed and motorists were advised to keep off the highways.

The Weather Bureau said the fog would persist in the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valleys at least until Friday with some local afternoon clearing.

* * *

Oldtimers term the fog the worst they've seen in years. Weather experts said it's caused by vaporizing moisture rising from the area's lush agricultural fields. The moisture is the result of a rare snowfall in the central valley last week.

RAMMED BY TRAIN

In the worst accident, ten laborers lost their lives Wednesday night at a railroad crossing in Mendota, about 50 miles west of Fresno, the only other laborer in the truck died of his injuries several hours later.

* * *

They were only two blocks from their destination, a labor camp, when a 60-mile-an-hour Southern Pacific freight train collided with their vehicle, a panel truck converted to a bus.

Tunnel Started Under 'Wall,' Claim Reds

Communist officials took newsmen to the Wollankstrasse Railway Station on the border of the French sector and showed them burrows alleged to be part of a "spy tunnel system."

In protests to the French and the West Berlin city government, East Germany demanded punishment of the West Berlin "bandits" responsible for the tunnel.

Hoffa Appeal Fails in Federal Court

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—The U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals has dismissed an appeal by James R. Hoffa, president of the Teamsters Union, in connection with his indictment in Orlando, Fla.

The court acted Wednesday on a joint motion by attorneys for Hoffa and the government.

Hoffa is under a 16-count indictment for fraud. He is charged along with Robert E. McCarthy Jr., a Detroit banking official, with misusing more than $500,000 of union funds in connection with a Florida housing development.

Hoffa and McCarthy have pleaded innocent.

Senate Unit Okays Smith as U.S. Judge

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Senate Judiciary subcommittee approved today President Kennedy's nomination of Talbot Smith to be a federal judge for eastern Michigan.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., chairman of the three-man subcommittee said the decision was unanimous and the Senate would probably act on the nomination Friday.

Smith, of Ann Arbor and a former Michigan Supreme Court Justice, has sat on the court bench in Detroit as a recess appointee since last October.

Girl, 4, Slain in Bed; 2 Teen Cousins Held

DETROIT (AP) — A 4-year-old girl was found slain late Wednesday night in the bedroom of her home. She had been stabbed at least seven times, police said.

Police held two teen-age cousins of the girl for investigation.

* * *

The cousins, who had been visiting in the girl's home, were apprehended Wednesday night by state police from Jackson post. The police were driving a car which police said was stolen from a boarder in the girl's home.

Lord Antony Is a Commuter Via Rolls Royce

LONDON (AP) — Princess Margaret's husband grabbed his briefcase and went to work today just like any other commuter — except that he traveled by Rolls Royce and arrived 8 minutes early.

A squad of news cameramen awaited Lord Snowdon, formerly society photographer Antony Armstrong-Jones, as he drove up for his first day's work as artistic adviser to the London Sunday Times.

But Tony didn't seem too keen to see them. He zipped out of the Rolls and was inside the building in three seconds.

Tony, 31, looked the perfect young executive in dark overcoat over a gray charcoal suit. Only the black bowler hat was missing from the usual Englishman's business getup.

Floriculturists say crabgrass is not likely to be a problem in bluegrass if the grass is cut two inches high or higher and given moderate fertilization.

Court Tower
Pontiac

Sealed proposals endorsed "Janitorial Service — Oakland County Court Tower" will be received at the office of the Oakland Board of Auditors, No. 1 Lafayette St., Pontiac, Michigan, until 10:00 a.m., E.S.T., Wednesday, February 21, 1962, from qualified contractors for janitorial services at the Oakland County Court Tower, Pontiac, Michigan, after which such proposals will be publicly opened and read aloud. The work will consist of cleaning all portions of the Court House Tower, between the hours of 5:00 p.m. and 8:00 a.m., 5 days per week, for a period of one (1) year, beginning on May 1, 1962.

Specifications may be obtained at the office of the Oakland County Board of Auditors, up to and including 4:30 p.m., Friday, February 16, 1962, and not thereafter.

Each proposal must be accompanied by a certified check or Bid Bond in an amount not less than five (5) per cent of the total price of the bid, made payable to said County Board of Auditors.

The successful bidder will be required to post bonds and certificates of insurance as outlined in the specifications. This board, acting as the agent for the County of Oakland, a Michigan Constitutional Corporation, reserves the right to reject any or all proposals, to waive any informality in the proposals received, and to accept any proposals which it shall deem to be most favorable in the interests of said County of Oakland.

State Senators Blast Scholle

Republican Members Hit Labor Chief but Refrain From Key Vote

LANSING (AP) — August (Gus) Scholle, state AFL-CIO president, was target of a verbal blasting in the Senate Wednesday but members ducked a floor vote on his controversial appointment to the State Conservation Commission.

★ ★ ★

Sen. John P. Smeekens, R-Coldwater, set the stage for Republican senators to loose their blasts at Scholle by moving that the Senate Business Committee be discharged from further consideration of the appointment. If successful, this would have allowed a floor vote.

Senators, respectful of the traditional powers of the committee system, voted down the resolution 22-9 on a party-line split. Smeekens was among those voting against his own resolution.

Senate historians said a committee there has not been forced to discharge a bill or appointment since 1912.

AGAINST CONFIRMATION

Smeekens said he made the motion as a device to make it clear he was against confirmation of the Scholle appointment.

"His philosophy of government is completely contrary to the thinking of the majority of the citizens of this state," he said.

"I wonder if we don't lack guts," said Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland. "He (Scholle) gets after us week after week in his publications, but we don't have guts enough to knock him off."

Sen. Frederic Hilbert, R-Wayland, said he voted against the discharge because he believed in upholding the committee system.

★ ★

"To discharge a committee is very dangerous," Hilbert said, "but this doesn't mean I endorse Gus Scholle."

Virginian Named First Negro Chief of Navy Warship

HONOLULU (AP)—Lt. Cmdr. Samuel L. Gravely Jr. of Richmond, Va., is the first Negro in United States Naval history to command a warship. Authority for that statement is the 14th Naval District public information office.

★ ★ ★

Gravely, 39, took command of the destroyer escort Falgout at Pearl Harbor Wednesday. He enlisted in the Navy in 1942 and attended midshipman school at Columbia University in 1943. His last station was that of executive officer on the destroyer. Theodore E. Chandler.

★ ★ ★

State Tax Revenue Below Last Year

LANSING (AP)—Sales and use tax collections in January on December business ran about 1 per cent below the same month a year ago, State Revenue Commissioner Clarence W. Lock reported today.

Tax collections during the month were $46,111,139. This compared with $35,896,611 for the previous December, when the tax was 3 per cent instead of the present 4 per cent.

If last years take has been on the 4 per cent level, collections would be $46,632,839.

We are still running about half a million dollars, or 1 per cent, behind last year," Lock said. "This isnt bad, however, since December was the best month we had the previous year and in some months this year we were running as much as 6 or 7 per cent behind."

Automobile sales held at about the same level as a year ago and most of the loss was in general business, Lock said.

Tito Sailing to U.A.R. on Vacation, for Talks

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) —President Tito and his wife sailed Wednesday night on the presidential yacht Galeb (Seagull) for the United Arab Republic.

The visit was announced as a vacation but it was taken for granted that Tito and U.A.R. president Gamal Abdel Nasser would hold extensive talks, particularly about steps to offset the effect on their economies of the European Economic Community.

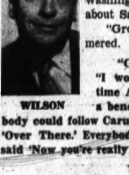
HOME SWEET HOME — Andy West Jr., 36, is a little surprised to be evicted from his four-foot galvanized pipe on the beach at El Secundo, Calif. "The rent is right, I'm crazy about the view and I can't stand nosey chambermaids, gabby neighbors or fussy landladies," said West when asked why he has been living in the overgrown can for the last nine months. Actually he is a victim of automation. West told officer Don Timoney that he has been kept out of a job since automatic pinsetters have taken over at bowling alleys.

Hall of Fame Debate Remains Controversial

By EARL WILSON

MIAMI BEACH — Quite a little controversy's blowing up here over my proposal to name a Show Business Hall of Fame —and particularly my question: Is Sammy Davis really greater than Al Jolson was?



WILSON

I was just down here for the opening of the Doral Country Club — the one with the gal caddies — when George Marshall, the Washington football magnate, jumped me about Sammy versus Jolson.

"Groucho says Sammy is greater," I stammered.

"Groucho WHO?" thundered Marshall. "I wonder if he ever heard about the time Al Jolson followed Enrico Caruso at a benefit during World War I? First, nobody could follow Caruso but Jolson. Caruso had just sung 'Over There.' Everybody was limp. Jolson came out and said 'Now you're really gonna hear some singin'."

★ ★ ★

What about Will Rogers — Bert Williams — Eddie Leonard? Is Hope as great as Will Rogers was? It's well known that stars get greater the longer they've been dead. Is Marilyn Monroe as sexy as Jean Harlow, are Rhonda Fleming and Joan Collins as beautiful as Lillian Russell, is Jackie Gleason as big a sport as Diamond Jim Brady was? Nobody really knows —but it's fun to argue . . . so let's!

N.Y. Real Estate Hits Whopping $27,678,596,166

The highest assessed single piece of real estate in the city remains the Chase Manhattan Bank at 1 Chase Plaza. It was tentatively valued at $86 million, up $9 million over last year.

Valuation of the Empire State Building was fixed at $55 million, also up $9 million. The Rockefeller Center buildings went up a million, to $123,200,000.

TV Quiz Winner Named Top Science Student

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert E. Strom, 15, who won a total of $242,600 on television quiz shows when he was 11 years old, is one of 40 high school seniors named national winners Wednesday in the annual talent search.

Strom, of the Bronx High School of Science, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Strum.

The science talent search is financed by the Westinghouse Educational Foundation. Winners get an all-expense trip to Washington, where they will compete for $34,250 in scholarships and awards March 2-5.

Delta College Asking Recognition, No Cash

SAGINAW (AP)—Newly constructed Delta Community College, bidding for status as a four-year state institution, opened its doors to an inspection by six state senators Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

School officials told the lawmakers that all they want from the state now is recognition, not money.

Sen. Lynn O. Francis, R-Midland, head of the Senate Education Committee, said the group was "greatly impressed" with the new $8-million college in Saginaw.

★ ★ ★

The two-year college which has 1,865 students, serves the tri-county areas of Saginaw, Bay City and Midland.

★ ★ ★

Maurice Brown, chairman of the college board, said that legislation was needed to enable the school to continue its growth.

Freedom Day Decreed

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson has proclaimed today as Freedom Day in Michigan to mark the anniversary of the 13th Amendment to the Constitution prohibiting slavery. The governor also proclaimed February as American History Month and urged reading and understanding of the history of this country and of Michigan.

Plan to Revise Pharmacy Code

Measure Introduced in Legislature Would Bring Law Up to Date

LANSING AP —Modernization of the state pharmacy code, the first extensive revision in 14 years, is being undertaken in the legislature.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Raymond L. Baker, R-Berkley, a pharmacist, introduced the measure Wednesday. It is the product of two years of effort by state pharmacutical organizations, authorities in the University of Michigan School of Pharmacy and others.

'Some of the major changes set up regulations for new drugs that have been put on the market in recent years," Baker said.

"It also would set up stricter inspection of the pharmacy profession by the state through a program to be financed by a $5 registration fee for pharmacists."

★ ★ ★

The measure also would prohibit use of the mail to advertise prescription services.

★ ★ ★

Judges would not be required to automatically suspend the license of a motorist convicted of drunk driving or driving under the influence of drugs, if the offense was his first, under a bill filed by Rep. Alexander Petri, D-Ecorse.

★ ★ ★

Jaycees Laud Top Men Outstanding for Service

One hundred Pontiac area Jaycees met last night at Devon Gables for the announcement of the outstanding young man of the year, the top boss and the key "inside" man of the organization.

Also present at the annual Bosses Night were Jaycees' bosses and guests.

Presented the Distinguished Service Award as Outstanding Young Man of the Year was E. W. (Ozzie) Watchpocket, 33, of 4315 Oakvista Ave., Independence Township. Watchpocket is a sales representative for the Detroit Edison Co., and past president of the Jaycees.

The Outstanding Boss title went to James Clarkson, president of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland, and resident of 3111 St. Jude Drive, Waterford Township.

Picked as the man most valuable to the current Jaycee administration to receive the Key Man Award was Richard M. Fitzgerald, 28, of 148 Ottawa Drive. Fitzgerald is treasurer of The Pontiac Press.

The Jaycees also dug into their treasury to help the Pontiac Eagles' Club with a donation of $500. The club last fall suffered a severe blow when its house was destroyed by fire.

MERIT AWARDS GIVEN

Organizations which have lent outstanding support to the Jaycees' activities were presented with Merit awards. The awards went to The Pontiac Retail Store, Coca Cola Bottling Co. of Pontiac, Community National Bank, Radio Station WPON, and The Pontiac Press.

Watchpocket, in receiving the was hailed as fitting the Jaycees' image for this honor: " . . . the young man with the maturity and wisdom of age and driving energy of youth, who has helped most to make Pontiac a better place to live."

The award cited his participa-

Roberts Expects Record Deficit

Oakland Senator Says $100 Million in New Tax Revenues Are Needed

A gloomy forecast of a record high state deficit and a need of $100 million in new revenue was voided in Lansing yesterday by Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County.

Not all legislators, Republicans and Democrats, agreed.

Roberts expressed concern over the state's new fiscal crisis as legislators were prepared to receive Gov. Swainson's 11-bill tax package, built around a 3½ per cent personal and corporation income tax, which is ready for introduction in the House of Representatives today.

Roberts reiterated his belief that "the only way out" is to enact the income tax. Two weeks ago he and three other moderate, young GOP state senators supported such a tax—a taboo subject for Republicans during the past two gubernatorial campaigns by Paul D. Bagwell.

Roberts' stand has started some undercurrent murmurings of discontent among Republicans back home.

One of the faults Roberts found with the governor's program was, he said, that Swainson's advisors were too high in their predictions of income for next year.

"The state will commence next fiscal year with the worst deficit in its history," he said. "We not only should, but must hold to a conservative estimate of income for next year."

Snow Flurries Expected Tonight and Tomorrow

Nearly 2 inches of snow blanketed the Pontiac area last night and there's a chance of a few more flurries tonight and tomorrow.

Little change in temperature is expected. The low will dip to near 6 tonight and Friday's high will be about 18. Mostly cloudy and a little warmer with some snow likely is the outlook for Saturday.

Morning northeasterly winds at 2 miles per hour will become 8 to 15 m.p.h. late today.

Eight above was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The recording at 1 p.m. was 17.

New Ward's Store Throws Doors Open

Montgomery Ward executives, local civic leaders and developers of the Pontiac Mall Shopping Center gathered this morning for the opening of the company's most modern full-line department store in Oakland County.

It is the first department store to open in the center located at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads.

Also present were Elmer R. Johnson, supervisor of Waterford Township; Charles W. Wood, M-W's vice president of merchandising, D. L. Hershey, M-W district general manager, and Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors.

Aaron and William Gershenson, James Wineman, and Eugene Arnfeld, codevelopers of the Pontiac Mall, were present, along with Benjamin C. Maibach Jr., general contractor for Montgomery Ward; Willis M. Brewer, coordinator of roads and projects for the county road commission; George F. Taylor, Oakland county prosecutor; and R. M. Harrell, merchandise manager of the north central region for Montgomery Ward.

EXPRESSION OF CONFIDENCE

"Montgomery Ward is delighted to establish the most modern department store in Oakland county," Ward said. "It represents your confidence in us as well as our confidence in the economic future of Waterford Township and Oakland County."

Following ceremonies, approximately 500 employes were on hand to serve the hundreds of customers who went about their shopping on the first day of a three-day grand-opening sale.

Last night more than 2,500 local VIPs including several hundred company shareholders, were given a preview of the ultra-modern, two-story store.

Calls Stockpiling Excessive; Plans Senate Probe

President Says Supply of Strategic Materials Invites Profiteering

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has announced a double-edged investigation of how the country stockpiles strategic materials. He says the supply is so excessive it invites profiteering and mismanagement.

"The cold facts on this matter must be open to the public," Kennedy told his news conference Wednesday.

He said the stockpiling program would be "completely explored" by a Senate subcommittee under Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo. He promised Symington all the evidence his administration has obtained.

Moreover, he said he would form a special commission to study policies and goals "in the light of changed defense strategy and improved technology." He disclosed he has ordered a stop to all purchases except for three unidentified items and has instructed department heads to review their needs.

Kennedy's move to eliminate the threat of major criticism from the massive program to store essential materials for national emergencies highlighted this third news conference in 16 days—a pace unequaled since his first weeks in office.

Alternately cheerful and deadly serious, Kennedy ranged from international tension to civil rights in his half-hour with reporters. At the outset, he welcomed Soviet editor and Mrs. Alexei Adzhubei—she is Premier Khrushchev's daughter — among the spectators. Immediately afterward, he denounced Communist penetration of the Western Hemisphere through Cuba and labeled Marxist-Leninism "incompatible with the inter-American system."

Kennedy said no significant progress has been made in U.S. efforts to settle the Berlin dispute with the Soviet Union but supported the forthcoming trip of his press secretary, Pierre Salinger, to the Soviet Union.

HOPES LESS TENSION

"We hope that as communications improve," he said, "that problems which cause tension and danger to the world will lessen."

★ ★ ★

As for the strategic stockpile, he called the present supply enormous beyond necessity, "a quite tionable burden on public funds and in addition a potential source of excessive and unconscionable profits."

Wallendas Back on Wire

Crowd Cheers Circus Act

By A. F. MAHAN

DETROIT (AP) —Their faces grim, Herman and Gunther Wallenda Wednesday night walked the high wire to a standing ovation as soon as the applause ended the climactic feat, adding the act, the crowd of approximately 3,000 burst into thunderous shouting, whistling, hand-clapping applause.

Herman rushed to his dressing room. Gunther, remained outside to accept the congratulations of the performers and circus hands who swarmed to him.

The Wallendas have to decide on funeral plans for their dead: Richard Faughnan, 29, husband of the former Jenny Wallenda; and Dieter Schepp, 23, a nephew whom Karl Wallenda managed 10 months ago (Schepp came from Communist East Germany).

The Faughnans had two children, a son, Timo, 11; and daughter, Lilah, 9. The children were staying with their grandmother in Sarasota, Fla., while their parents were away. Jenny is Karl Wallenda's daughter.

Faughnan had called the high wire the "safest place in the world."

The three men walked the wire to a platform at each end. Soon after the start of the act, the crowd of approximately 3,000 burst into thunderous shouting, whistling, hand-clapping applause.

Herman rushed to his dressing room. Gunther, remained outside to accept the congratulations of the performers and circus hands who swarmed to him.

FEATS OF DARING

With a substitute aerialist flown in to fill the gap left by death and injury, the two Wallendas performed feats of daring for five minutes above the concrete floor.

As on the previous night, there was no net between the Wallendas and the concrete. Herman and Gunther were the only ones of the seven Wallendas on the wire the night before who were not killed or injured.

★ ★ ★

Gene Mendez had flown in from Stockholm, Sweden, to be the third man.

All activity in the Coliseum stopped as the two Wallendas and Mendez climbed the poles to the slender wire 35 feet up to do their Shrine circus act.

RIDES BICYCLE

Mendez was first on the high wire. He was followed by Herman, and then Gunther.

Gunther rode a bicycle across the wire and then teamed with Mendez, a former member of the troupe, to carry Herman standing on a cross bar between them. In their finale, Herman stood on his head on the bar.

Kennedy Awaits Report on OAS Talks on Cuba

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk headed for Washington today to report to President Kennedy on the hemisphere foreign ministers' conference on Cuba which already was arousing repercussions in Latin America.

The conference split on the crucial issue—immediate action to expel Cuba from the Organization of American States—already reportedly had generated pressure from conservatives on the Argentine government, one of the six which held out for a go-slow approach.

Argentina's military chiefs were reported furious at the soft line taken by President Arturo Frondizi's government. They reportedly served him with an ultimatum demanding a diplomatic break with Fidel Castro's regime and support of the next steps in the OAS Council to isolate Cuba from the inter-American family.

Informants in Buenos Aires said that the leaders of the three armed forces also demanded that Frondizi fire Foreign Minister Miguel Angel Carcano, who abstained on the key vote at Punta del Este on the expulsion of Cuba from the OAS.

In Brazil and Mexico, the two other major powers in the "soft-six" bloc, reaction was mixed with some expressions of anxiety over the outcome of the conference.

FEAR AGITATION

Some observers in Mexico feared the 20-nation condemnation of Cuban communism would spur leftist agitation in that country. Brazilian newspapers were overwhelmingly in favor of the condemnation of Cuban communism

News Flash

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy asked Congress today to authorize wiretapping by federal and state law enforcement officers to help combat organized crime and subversive activities.

Demand U.S. Closing of Guantanamo

MIAMI (UPI) — Crowds mustered by Premier Fidel Castro's official Union Federation surged through Havana Wednesday night bellowing demands for the closing of the U.S. Navy's big Guantanamo base, radio Havana reported.

The official radio broadcast the sound of massed mobs chanting "Down with Calmanera (Guantanamo)!" and slogans hostile to the foreign ministers' conference that voted Wednesday to ostracize Castro.

Pro-Castro motorcades drove through the city after dark, honking their horns, and unionists held street-corner meetings to urge Cubans to attend the big mass meeting planned by Castro Sunday.

A new slogan heard over the air —"Worms (foes of Castro) at home, the people in the street!"— suggested to observers here that Castro may be having some difficulty drawing crowds to his recurrent mass meetings.

(In Guatemala City, President Miguel Ydigoras Fuentes described the Cubans mobilized for Castrolte meetings as "human cattle" who will "hang Castro and his stooges when the time comes."

("They are there because they are forced to attend or because they are afraid not to," Ydigoras said.)

Would Replace 'Relief Checks' With Rebuilding

Kennedy Tells Congress Make 1-Year Child Aid Program Permanent

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy called today for a $193-million expansion of permanent federal welfare outlays, with a shift in emphasis from doling out "relief checks" to the rebuilding of wrecked lives and careers.

The remedies "will not come cheaply but in the long run they will save money," Kennedy said in a special message to Congress.

He urged permanent extension of the one-year program to aid dependent children of the jobless, more spending on rehabilitation work, increased grants for child welfare, added funds for the day care of children of working mothers and removal or reduction of residence requirements for relief.

The President slapped at drastic local efforts to slash relief rolls, without directly naming the instance which has stirred national controversy, that of Newburgh, N.Y.

The message said: "Communities which have—for whatever motives—attempted to save money through ruthless and arbitrary cutbacks in their welfare rolls have found their efforts to little avail. The root problem remained."

By contrast, Kennedy said, communities which have "tried the rehabilitative road" for relief clients have fared better; "Families have been restored to self-reliance, and relief rolls have been reduced."

This approach can be furthered, he said, if Congress will enact broad revisions of the rules under which the Department of Health, Education and Welfare makes federal aid grants to match state welfare outlays.

1ST IN HISTORY

The special message, said by officials to be the first in history devoted solely to welfare problems, will be followed by two more messages on programs administered by the department—health care for the aged under Social Security and federal aid to education.

The program outlined today would represent the most sweeping overhaul of federal relief techniques since the aid programs was started in the depression of the 1930s.

Its recommendations included: $100-million-a-year program for aid to the dependent children of the unemployed. Enacted as an emergency recession measure last year, it is due to expire June 30.

Boosting the $25-million ceiling on federal grants for child welfare services to $30 million in fiscal 1963 and then, gradually, to $50 million by 1969.

Tensions Bar Visit to Russia'

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Alexei I. Adzhubei, Nikita Khrushchev's son-in-law, had an unannounced meeting today with Assistant Secretary of State Averell Harriman, who is primarily responsible for trying to settle the Laos crisis.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today held open the possibility of a visit to the Soviet Union if he can make "significant breakthroughs" in his developing drive to improve U.S.-Soviet relations.

* * *

A visit under present conditions of cold war tension probably would not be considered useful by either Washington or Moscow, he believes, but "we are making every effort we can to bring an easing of tensions."

* * *

The President discussed U.S.-Soviet relations with newsmen Wednesday in a conference attended by Alexai Adzhubei, editor of the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia and son-in-law of Premier Khrushchev.

RUSSIAN OBSERVER

Adzhubei had a center aisle seat to observe "an ancient American custom"—a presidential news conference.

Then the visiting Russian held an impromptu session of his own for newsmen who had just finished questioning the President.

Kennedy said Adzhubei, who is also a member of the Communist party Central Committee, "combines two hazardous professions, politics and journalism." He added he was glad to have the Adzhubeis "observe an ancient American custom."

"We hope that as communications improve, that problems which cause tension and danger to the world will lessen," Kennedy told the news conference.

* * *

Asked under what conditions he would accept an invitation to visit the Soviet Union, Kennedy replied: "I would think that an invitation and acceptance of an invitation would probably wait on an easing of the tensions which unfortunately surround our relationships. So at present, of course, until we have significant breakthroughs, that sort of journey would probably not be considered useful by either country."

ADZHUBEI'S VIEWS

Adshubei's news conference just happened. He was surrounded by newsmen in the lobby as he left with his wife.

Some of his views:

Agreement may be reached in Laos "very soon";

Americans and Russians can get together, at least in the area of extending cultural exchanges, if not yet on such knotty problems as Berlin and nuclear testing;

* * *

U.S. newsmen should not handle the "great events" he said are now taking place in the Soviet Union in the same way they deal "the divorce problem of Marilyn Monroe and Arthur Miller"; and Molotov Hospitalized With Heart Seizure?

MOSCOW (AP)—Usually well-informed sources said today that Vyacheslav M. Molotov, publicly denounced former foreign minister, is in a hospital suffering from a heart attack.

* * *

A Foreign Office press spokesman declined to confirm or deny the report, saying it was of "no political importance."

He said he knew nothing of the case. The report from the usually well-informed source said Molotov had been in the hospital for about 10 days but that his condition was "not dangerous."

His wife, Paulina, visits him regularly, the informant said.

NOT SEEN PUBLICLY

Molotov returned Nov. 12 from Vienna, Austria, where he had been representative on the International Atomic Energy Agency and has not been seen publicly since.

He and his associates in the antiparty group which tried to oust Premier Khrushchev in 1957 were officially denounced by the party congress last October.

It was expected they would be read out of the party. But there has been no official word that they have been.

* * *

To the surprise of everyone here, a Foreign Office press spokesman told correspondents early in January that Molotov had returned to his Vienna post. Later the spokesman changed this report to indicate nothing was known about his future status.

Thompson Talks With Gromyko

Pair Trying to Arrange for Negotiations on Berlin Situation

MOSCOW (AP) — Ambassador Llewellyn Thompson and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko spent two hours and five minutes in conference today trying to arrange for negotiations on the difficult Berlin crisis.

On leaving the Foreign Office after his third talk with Gromyko on this subject, Thompson declined to give any information.

Thompson was in an amiable mood, but told reporters standing in below-freezing temperatures he could give out no information on his discussions.

This was the procedure he followed in his first two meetings. Western sources learned, however, that in the first two meetings the Russian position demanding a quick settlement on the Berlin crisis through a treaty with East Germany had not been modified.

The five gathered in the shoe department following opening ceremonies this morning for the new Montgomery Ward's department store in the Shopping Center, 409 N. Telegraph Road.

C. of C. to Hear Noted Speaker

Dr. Kenneth McFarland Will Address Chamber's Annual Dinner Meeting

Reputedly the nation's top public speaker, Dr. Kenneth McFarland of Topeka, Kan., will be featured speaker at the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce annual dinner meeting Feb. 20, chamber officials announced today.

* * *

Dr. McFarland, a General Motors Corp. guest lecturer, was recently named "America's No. 1 public speaker" by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

* * *

The honor was based on findings of a nationwide survey showing that few, if any, speakers in the country travel more or fill as many important speaking engagements.

The chamber traditionally installs new officers and directors at the annual dinner. It is slated to begin at 6:30 p.m. at the Pontiac Elks Temple.

* * *

* * *

Chamber directors also may announce a new manager. The resignation of current manager John W. Hirlinger will become effective March 1.

Over 300 to Attend County Plan Confab

More than 300 persons have arranged to attend a countywide planning conference this afternoon and evening at Michigan State University Oakland.

They will witness plans for a growing community laid out by experts in the field.

The conference, first to deal in the projected future of the county as a whole, is being cosponsored by the Oakland County Planning Commission and the university.

Workshop sessions will begin at 3 p.m., followed by a dinner in the university's Oakland Center Building. Sessions will resume at 8:30 p.m., lasting until 10 p.m.

* * *

Noted participants in the sessions will include Paul M. Reid, executive director of the Metropolitan Area Regional Planning Commission; R. J. Alexander, director of the county's Department of Public Works; George B. Catlin, area development director of Detroit Edison Co., and Paul Van Roekel, county Road Commission engineer.

TO BE SPEAKER

Paul Oppermann, executive director of the Northeastern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission, will be the guest dinner speaker.

The workshop will cover zoning administration, comprensive planning for community development, public works planning and design, legal aspects of zoning, planning for industrial growth, and the impact of expressways and thoroughfares.

Clyde Cook, asociate county planner, noted that 325 persons have made reservations to attend the conference. Many of these are atcive in zoning and planning at the township and city level, while others are interested observers.

but differed on Brazil's refusal to support expulsion of Havana from hemispheric councils.

There was a general expectation of lettid pressure against the 13 Latin-American governments which joined the United States in voting the expulsion move.

It was widely believed that the Castroist-Communist combine would step up harrassment of those governments both for revenue and to exploit the continental nervousness resulting from the 10 days of dispute.

The conference wound up Wednesday night with a show of unanimity against Castro as 20 of the 21 nations at the conference signed the historic document formally condemning the Cuban regime for going over to communism and aligning itself with the Soviet bloc.

The Cuban delegation boycotted the final session and rushed back to Havana claiming the outcome amounted to "a defeat for U. S. imperialism."

Bob Kennedy on Tour

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and his wife depart today on a globe-circling, 26-day goodwill tour to Japan, Indonesia, Iran, Italy, the Netherlands and West Berlin.

Mrs. McClendon Fails to Get Question to JFK

She's the reporter who was rebuked by the President a week ago when, in asking a question, she referred to two State Department employes as "well-known security risks."

* * *

She tried six times Wednesday to ask a question but was unable to get Kennedy's recognition. However, because of the large number of reporters who attend it is impossible for the President to recognize them all.

Mrs. McClendon represents papers in Texas and New England.

Donates $17,000 for Hospital Unit

The Gregor-Kohn Foundation, which made Pontiac General Hospital's mental health unit possible a year ago, will present a $17,000 donation to hospital officials next week to establish a new medical department.

Marcus Freud, foundation president, said the philanthropic organization will contribute the money for establishment of a Department of Medical Physics and the purchase of radioisotope equipment.

The foundation gave Pontiac General $70,000 in January 1961 for the mental health unit. That was the largest private grant ever received at the hospital.

The foundation also gave $5,000 in 1960 toward purchase of the cobalt X-ray therapy unit.

* * *

The medical physics unit had been in hospital plans for the future but wasn't expected to come so soon, said Harold B. Euler, administrator.

Dr. John D. Marra, medical director, said the unit will be an important addition to improved patient care at the hospital.

It will be located in the laboratory, where space has been made available for the specialized equipment. The department will not add to bed capacity. It is strictly a diagnostic unit.

* * *

Freud, a Detroit attorney, lives at 1435 Nakemis Drive, Lake Orion. The Kohn Foundation is based on the family fortune of the late Marcus Gregor of Detroit and his late daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Otto M. Kohn.

It is founded mainly on land holdings.

Old Kashmir Dispute Brought Up in U.N. Body

UNITED NATIONS (UPI) — The Security Council turned today to the dispute between India and Pakistan concerning Kashmir, the oldest active issue on its agenda.

* * *

The council, over Indian protests supported by Russia and Romania, was called into session at the request of Pakistan, which fears India may be about to take over the entire mountainous princely state, now nominally divided between the two countries.

Says Censoring Makes Us Tough Foe for Soviets

WASHINGTON (AP)—Arthur G. Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense, testified today that the censoring of military men's speeches makes the United States a tougher foe for communism.

His statement was prepared for a Senate subcommittee investigating charges that the censoring has been too drastic, often softening anti-Communist statements by military officers.

* * *

Sylvester didn't mention a disputed order from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara forbidding Pentagon personnel to tell the subcommittee who censored any particular speech.

February Has Nothing New

Cold Weather Continues

By The Associated Press

February blew into the weather picture in the northeast part of the nation today with the same old dreary, miserable routine as January—snow and cold.

The Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast was unwelcome news for the winter-weary residents of the Northeast and the Great Lakes region: "below normal temperatures."

The season's coldest weather gripped sections of New England. The icy air extended across northern borders into the eastern Dakotas. Readings ranged from below zero into the teens.

* * *

In the Northeast, it was below zero in Maine, Vermont, New Hampshire and upstate New York. In the Midwest, hammered by severe weather most of the winter, the mercury again fell below zero in sections of Minnesota, Wisconsin, Michigan and North Dakota.

The mercury slid to -25 in Caribou, Maine, and in northern Minnesota, it was a crisp -23 in International Falls. It was -8 in Burlington and Montpelier, Vt., and -1 in Lebanon, N.H.

In New York, the low marks included -15 in Massena and -10 in Watertown. Boston, which had its coldest day of the winter Wednesday with 8 above, warmed to 22.

Holy Name Church to Host Social Action Unit Head

BIRMINGHAM — Rev. Gerald Rooney, president of the National Catholic Social Action Conference, will be the guest speaker at the Feb. 8 cultural series program sponsored by Holy Name Church.

* * *

The program will be held 8:30 p.m. at Marian High School, 14½ Mile and Lahser Roads, Bloomfield Township.

The title of Fr. Rooney's talk will be "Christianity and Social Progress" and will deal mainly with the recent papal encyclical "Mater et Magistra."

A member of the Passionist Order, Fr. Rooney has been associate editor of The Sign magazine since 1957.

* * *

Ordained in 1934 in Scranton, Pa., he taught scripture at the seminary there for 12 years. Following this he conducted a weekly radio program at St. Ann's Shrine in Scranton.

After 3½ years, he was appointed associate director at St. Gabriel's Layman's Retreat House in Boston. It was here that he organized the Catholic Social Action Guild.

Tickets for the program can be obtained at Holy Name Rectory, 645 Woodland St., Birmingham, or at the Marian High School the night of the talk.

Students at Pierce Elementary School will hear a lecture on animals, wildlife and plants Feb. 20. The talk will be given by Bill Hopkins, chief naturalist for the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Park Authority.

Township police discovered the theft at 2 a.m. when they found a door to the gas station broken while making a check of business places.

The Sodality of Our Lady of St. Columban Church will hold its annual officers card party at 8:30 p.m. Feb. 15 at St. Columban School.

Tickets will be available at the door the night of the event.

The party and refreshments will have a Valentine Day motif.

Mrs. Jack Montieth, outgoing prefect, is program chairman.

Labor Shortage Is Still Growing

Government Reports Some Fields Need Men Despite High Idle Rate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department said Wednesday that manpower shortages in a number of skilled occupations are growing despite considerable unemployment throughout the nation.

★ ★ ★

The monthly labor market survey of the department's Bureau of Employment Security recorded continuing persistent shortages of electrical and mechanical engineers, for missile, nuclear energy and electrical work, as well as engineers in the metallurgical, chemical, civil, industrial and Aeronautical fields.

The bureau also reported shortages of nurses, accountants, architects, chemists, librarians, social workers, physicists, statisticians, economists, mathematicians, biologists and draftsmen.

The report said there is a shortage of engineers in nearly half the nation's 150 major labor market areas surveyed.

★ ★ ★

It said calls for skilled metal workers, mechanics, repairmen, and competent office help exceed the available supply in many areas, some of which report large labor surpluses in other occupations.

The number of major areas classed as experiencing substantial unemployment, meaning 6 per cent or more of the available work force, increased by 1 to 61 in January.

This compares with the record high of 101 reported last April.

Pittsburgh is the only very large labor market area remaining in the category reflecting 9 per cent or more unemployment. This group has narrowed down to 14 of the 150 areas.

The Red Cross in one year issued 202,100 certificates to persons who had completed the prescribed courses in home nursing practices.

ALEXANDER G. ZAPHIRIS

Heads Oakland's Children's Aid Society Branch

New executive director of the Oakland County branch of the Michigan Children's Aid Society is Alexander G. Zaphiris.

A native of Greece, Zaphiris for the past four years has been director of social service for the Hazel Park Youth Protection Committee.

Previously he worked as a caseworker in a Detroit agency serving foreign born, another agency serving epileptics, worked in an institution for delinquents and practiced law for a year.

Zaphiris' appointment was effective Jan. 1.

The new director of the agency, with offices at 132 Franklin Blvd., holds a law degree from Athens University, Greece, a master's degree in social work from Wayne State University and a certificate from the London School of Economics, London, England.

He has completed his work for a doctor's degree in sociology.

Will Charge $25 for Blood Unit

Supply at Community Hospital Placed in Jeopardy in 1961

ALMONT — Macomb County residents will be charged $25 for each pint of blood received from the Community Hospital, Director James Crary revealed today as the hospital's supply of blood sank lower and lower.

During 1961, Crary said, 62 units were dispensed and only 12 were replaced.

"Because of the extremely unfavorable balance, the hospital's necessary supply of blood from the Red Cross is being placed in jeopardy, Car ystated. "On occasion it has been necessary to solicit the aid of the Romeo State Police Post to rush blood to the hospital at times of extreme need."

"If more replacements were forthcoming, the Red Cross would be in a stronger position to supply blood and thereby serve patients better."

Those who are charged for the blood will be given a refund for each unit they replace because this will aid in restoring a favorable balance, he added.

Police Battle Rioters in Oporto, Portugal

OPOROTO, Portugal (AP) — Police used fire hoses and fired into the air to break up an antigovernment demonstration in Oporto Wednesday night.

Between 18 and 20 persons were reported injured, none seriously. Authorities blamed the demonstration on Communist agents and said arrests had been made.

2 Tank Squads to Protect Paris

Mobile Reinforcements Heighten Speculation of French-Algerian Pact

PARIS (AP) — Two tank squadrons will be moved into Paris before the end of the week, government sources reported today. The report heightened speculation that the French government and Algerian rebels have reached agreement, at least in principle, on ending the seven-year war.

The squadrons of mobile gendarmerie, with a total of 32 tanks will roll into Paris to maintain order, it was said. The tanks will be bolstered by about 160 squad cars, some equipped with machine guns. The tanks and cars will reinforce about 25,000 mobile gendarmes, riot police and regular police already on duty in the French capital.

These measures obviously were designed to cope with the danger of a right-wing attempt to carry off a coup d'etat against President Charles de Gaulle's government if an Algerian settlement is reached.

The last time tanks rolled into Paris was last April, during the abortive putsch of dissident generals in Algiers.

★ ★ ★

Special security measures also were designed for Algiers, Oran and Bone, three Algerian cities where the right-wing terrorist Secret Army Organization has vowed an all-out fight against Algerian independence.

Berkley Girl Hurt in Crash in Rochester

ROCHESTER — A 17-year-old student at Michigan Christian Junior College is listed in fair condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, with severe head injuries suffered last night in a two-car head-on crash here.

★

Treated and released from the hospital was Leslie D. McGuire, 18, of Warren, driver of the car in which the girl, Kerry J. Tucker, 4142 Tyler St., Berkley, was riding.

McGuire told Rochester police that he was driving north on M150 about 35 miles an hour when he hit a slippery spot on the bridge at the south end of the village.

In trying to regain control of the car, McGuire said, he slid into the oncoming traffic lane.

Driving the car which McGuire's struck was Raleigh Wilson, 20, of 2513 Weaverton St., Avon Township. Neither Wilson nor a passenger, Toni Wilson, 19, of the same address, was hurt.

Police said the road conditions at 6:30 p.m. were hazardous and that it was snowing. Neither driver was ticketed.

Moves to Ease Burden on Aged

Swainson Maps Plan to Aid Rising List of Elderly State Citizens

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson mapped out a program today to ease the burden of Michigan's steadily growing population of elderly citizens.

He called for legislation making more of them eligible for the federal-state medical aid to the aging (MAA) program and a law banning discrimination because of age in hiring.

He also called for hiring a state planning officer to assist public and private agencies and interests to obtain fullest use of available federal assistance in the housing field, including special housing for the elderly.

Other features of the governor's program would allow free fishing and hunting for all persons over 65 and liberalize pensions for retired teachers.

SEES MILLION BY '75

Swainson, in his 10th special message to the legislature, reported that Michigan's population of nearly 8 million now includes nearly 650,000 who have reached the age of 65. By 1975, he said, the total will reach nearly one million in a population of 10 million.

★ ★ ★

★ ★ ★

"The great majority of the 17 million Americans past 65 are living out their lives on drastically reduced income," he said. "They do not have adequate prepaid health and hospital insurance. They are faced with an ever-declining prospect for income supplementation through employment.

★ ★ ★

"They do not have properly staffed or adequately financed educational, recreational, social, housing and health services."

Snow Stops Adenauer

BONN, Germany (AP) — A heavy snowfall prevented Chancellor Konrad Adenauer from resuming work today at his office. The 86-year-old chancellor had been ill with the grippe for more than a week and was to have returned to work today.

Say Reds Shell Airstrip

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP) — Pro-Communist forces half encircling government held Nam Tha shelled a vital airstrip of that northwest provincial capital today, military reports said.

Echo Greets February

Echo I will make its February debut with two appearances this evening in the Pontiac area.

The "double feature" will begin when the satellite appears in the north sky at 6:57 p.m., 84 to 88 degrees above the horizon, heading to the northeast.

The Echo will bow out in a return engagement at 9:01 p.m. in the north, 68 to 71 degrees above the horizon, with a switch in direction to the southwest.

Yolanda Sued for Divorce; to Keep Kids

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Veloz sued Yolanda for divorce Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

The romantic dancers, married since 1928, have appeared in ballrooms and night clubs around the world.

★ ★ ★

Frank N. Veloz' brief complaint charged extreme cruelty. It said community property exceeds $250,000, and added that Yolanda should have custody of their minor children. Their children are Nicholas, 21; Anthony, 18; Yolanda, 16, and Guy, 12.

Introduce Bills to Form U.S. Agency on Aging

WASHINGTON (AP) — Identical bills to establish a federal commission on aging were introduced Wednesday in the Senate and House.

The were offered by Chairman Pat McNamara, D-Mich., of the Senate's Special Committee on appropriations for the Health, Education and Welfare Department.

Producer Mervyn Leroy Leaves the Hospital

Leroy, 61, was admitted to the hospital Sunday night after collapsing at a banquet honoring Los Angeles Dodgers President Walter O'Malley.

Rep. Broomfield Urges Sanctions Against Castro

★ ★ ★

Broomfield said this country "may have" failed at the recent Organization of American States conference at Punta del Este because it sought to have the other Latin America nations stop trading with Fidel Castro without first taking action to impose complete economic sanctions on its own.

The legislator condemned the inaction of Congress in not following through on a bill, which passed the House last September, which would have imposed a total ban on trade with Cuba.

He said it was "a typical example of bureaucracy as usual in a time of crisis" and "an effort to beat Castro with paper proclamations."

Oregon originated state gasoline taxes in 1919, but within about 10 years all the states had similar tax laws.

Small-Change Bandits Lug Away $4,500

NEW YORK (AP) — The pair who held up a vending machine firm Wednesday and escaped with $4,500, had to be well-muscled.

The robbers lined up the manager and employes of the Colemat Vending Machine Co., and then struggled off with the loot—all in nickels, dimes and quarters.

Festival Set Feb. 18 at MSUO

Affair to Feature Displays, Styles of Nations

Food, fashion and far-away places will dominate Michigan State University Oakland's annual international festival scheduled for Feb. 18.

"Culture Internationale" will feature displays of handicraft, costumes and books brought together from all over the world by the university and its Association of Women Students.

The displays will be open from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. in the university's Oakland Center, without admission charge.

Guests will be entertained by student performers presenting songs, dances and drama from around the world. A special international fashion show will show off costumes throughout the day.

Appetizers, salads, entrees and desserts from Java, India, Mexico and Turkey are among items on the menu of an international buffet dinner to be served from 12:20 to 2 p.m.

Tickets must be purchased in advance for the buffet and can be ordered through the dean of students office.

Teen Club Dance Set in Waterford

Waterford Community Center's Teen Club Dance will be from 8 to 11 p.m. Friday with music by an orchestra provided by Pontiac Area Music Federation.

Admission will be by membership cards which also will be on sale at the door.

Eight dances remain in this series for which the month's first dance features a live band and the second, a record hop. Disc jockey Don McLeod will spin records for the Feb. 16 dance.

Dr. Leland Miles Town Hall Speaker

Dr. Leland Miles, author and educator, will appear before Birmingham Town Hall at 11 a.m. Feb. 8 and 9 in the Birmingham Theater.

Rev. David VanDusen of St. James Episcopal Church will introduce Dr. Miles whose subject will be "Behind the Book Jackets."

Luncheon and the customary question and answer period will follow at Kingsley Inn.

Pontiac Press Photo

Mrs. Edward E. Wilson certainly rates as one of the most talented young ladies in this section. She is shown here with a portrait that she did of her father in-law, the late C. E. Wilson, and also a bust of the same distinguished individual. Few people excel at either of these specialized arts—and an infinitely fewer number at the two in combination.

5 Pledges to Get Pins on Monday

Fourth degrees will be conferred on five pledges of Lambda Tau Delta Sorority at Monday's annual dinner in Topinkas Country House.

Mrs. William Jensen, Mrs. Ernest Grohs and Mrs. Robert McMaken, Pontiac; Mrs. Thoralf Ulseth, Troy; and Mrs. Arthur Budzaj, Detroit, will receive their membership pins.

Mrs. Elmer Mellebrand, Detroit branch president, will preside when members discuss plans for the sorority's March fashion show.

Epsilon Iota Chapter members will be hostesses for the program with Mrs. Charles Brink as pledge chairman. Among committee members are Mrs. McNichol and Mrs. Charles Harris, Pontiac, and Mrs. Bernard Dodd, Birmingham.

Breakfast Time Activates Mood for Entire Day

By ALICIA HART
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Certain times of day are especially lovely. Breakfast should be one of these. It starts the day and sets the mood, often until evening.

If it's a jammed, hasty, grumpy affair, your day is off to a bad start. So is your husband's.

Try to make it pleasant, even if you must arise 15 minutes earlier. This means rollers out of the hair, powder on the nose, a dash of lipstick. Show your husband the courtesy you would pay any ordinary stranger.

Don't slop to the table in a frowsy robe. Get dressed. It may be a cotton housedress but it should be clean.

Make fresh coffee; the pleasant odor will fill the house. Keep your breakfast conversation light and cheerful. Otherwise, you may find that it tends to sink into a long and slightly complaining description of everything you have to do during the day.

Send your husband off to work with a warm and pleasant beginning to his day. You'll be more than repaid for the effort you make.

Save Odd Parts

(NEA)—Our mechanized age makes it almost certain that you'll find bolts, screws and other odd parts around the house from time to time. Save them. Among the collection you often find just the thing needed for a quick repair job.

Throwaways

(NEA)—Run out of ash trays during a party? Press heavy-duty aluminum foil into contours of one of your trays, and let the foil substitutes serve as throw-away trays.

Owen PTA School Fair to Be Oasis of Spring

Leis, hats and flower booths will lend a note of spring for Owen School Parent-Teacher Association's annual fair Saturday.

Other fair features will include booths selling old jewelry, handwork, silhouettes, refreshments and white elephants. Highlight of the 5 to 9 p.m. affair will be a talent show with students, teachers and parents participating.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Ralph Bowers, general chairman, is being assisted by committee chairmen Mrs. Charles Abair, Mrs. James Reid, Mrs. Albert Tomanek, Mrs. Willard Shubert, Mrs. Britt Hurley and Mrs. LaVerne Paulson.

★ ★ ★

June vows are planned by Elizabeth A. Ferkowicz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Ferkowicz of Silverwood to William J. Gillow, son of the Harold Gillows of Waterford Township.

Party Is Set by Huron Unit

Huron Gardens Extension Club members' next meeting will be at a post-Valentine's Day party Feb. 19 at the Astor Street home of Mrs. Arthur Kohn. Mrs. Clinton Devine will serve as hostess for the affair.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Charles Sibra Jr. of South Marshall Street was hostess to the group Monday.

★ ★ ★

Following cooperative dinner, Mrs. Gerald Wright conducted a lesson on hobbies which demonstrated the making of tote bags and place mats.

Mrs. Devine and Mrs. Harold Shaw are new members.

Slims Waist

(NEA)—Stretching is one of the best exercises for waist reducing. Before you get out of bed in the morning, stretch. Then when you're up, open the window and stretch to your full height, arms overhead, 10 times.

From Dowdiness to Glamour

Queen Goes High Style

LONDON (UPI)—A leading British fashion editor said today that Queen Elizabeth, in her 10 years on the throne, has developed from a dowdy dresser to a glamorous fashion plate with "the tiniest waist and the prettiest shoulders in London."

Queen Elizabeth, 35, who marks the 10th anniversary of her accession to the throne on Tuesday, got the wildly approving once-over from Daily Express fashion editor Jill Butterfield.

★ ★ ★

When the queen ascended to the throne in 1952 she was, according to Miss Butterfield, "a tiny, lonely glittering litle figure crusted in diamonds and caged-in with pearls." And her complexion was the "peachy" envy of all.

★ ★ ★

But, alas, for the way she dressed.

"Do you remember," said Miss Butterfield, "those slingbacked open-toed sandals, those vickrage garden party pastels, those hats worn for convention rather than flattery, that debutante dreary spotted white organdy she wore at the early Buckingham Palace garden parties?"

SO MATRONLY

Miss Butterfield said the queen's appearance years ago made her look "both ridiculously matronly and . . . like a little girl playing at mother."

But Queen Elizabeth learned fast — being subjected to "analytical, cat-eyed scrutiny every woman in the world gives to her better-off neighbor."

★ ★ ★

By 1958, the fashion editor recounted, the queen was elected fifth best-dressed woman in the world and by 1959 international fashion experts had made her a founder member of the fashion "Hall of Fame."

★ ★ ★

"By 1961," said Miss Butterfield, "an enthusiastic American was describing her as a 'knock out, a wow, a doll who can generate wolf whistles.'"

Today the queen's chic is the envy of women the world over, according to Miss Butterfield. She said:

★ ★ ★

"At last she is slim enough for the tyrannic demands of fashion. Ten years ago her cross-over necklines, her cross-over skirts, her drapings on the hips and swathing on the bosom were designed mainly to conceal the reluctant remnants of puppy fat.

★ ★ ★

"Today she is model girl slim with the tiniest waist and the prettiest shoulders in London."

Is It Dirty, Asks Abby

Do You Live in Glass House?

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I live across the street from a high school girl. She is a quiet girl, but I understand that's the type you have to watch. I see her coming home from school every afternoon. The same boy walks her home.

ABBY

I notice that they walk down the street holding hands. Then they stand in front of her house and talk. She looks up at him like a sick calf. They have stood there and talked for as long as an hour.

I can see trouble starting. Don't you think somebody ought to tell her mother? I was not spying. I was cleaning my Venetian blinds.

NEIGHBOR LADY

DEAR LADY: You must have the cleanest Venetian blinds in town. Now go to work on your mind!

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: What is your definition of maturity?

STUDENT

DEAR STUDENT: This is maturity: To be able to stick with a job until it's finished; to be able to bear an injustice without wanting to get even; to be able to carry money without spending it; and to do one's duty without being supervised.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: There is a relative of ours who is giving us all a pain in the neck with birthday parties "honoring" her husband every year. This woman is no kid. She's in her early forties. Her husband has just celebrated his 44th birthday.

We can understand giving a fortieth or fiftieth birthday party, but what's all this nonsense of giving a 42nd, 43rd and 44th birthday party for a grown man?

She makes a big deal out of it, inviting the family and all their friends, and it means a present every year. Don't you think she should grow up and leave the birthday parties to the children?

NAUSEATED

DEAR NAUSEATED: An invitation to a party is not a command. You are free to decline if you wish. If such parties "nauseate" you — stay home and preserve your health.

How is the world treating you? Unload your problems on Abby.

To Assist Mrs. Joseph Fox

Name UF Campaign Aide

The appointment of Mrs. Earl White of South Telegraph Road as Pontiac cochairman for the 1962 United Fund Drive has been announced by Mrs. Joseph Fox, women's campaign coommittee chairman.

Laying the groundwork for the women's campaign requires the appointment of chairmen to head the four areas and 42 districts that comprise Pontiac's geographical division. Some 1,300 volunteer women in Pontiac, Waterford and Lake Angelus will be needed to work on the campaign for funds that support the 54 agencies affiliated with the Pontiac Area United Fund.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. White brings some 20 years' experience in volunteer work to her assignment, plus association with the Red Feather, Community Chest and United Funds in Detroit and Jackson before coming to Pontiac 10 years ago. She also served as neighborhood solicitor prior to her appointment as district chairman in 1960 and Pontiac area chairman in 1961.

MRS. EARL WHITE

Commenting on the appointment, Mrs. Fox said, "We are fortunate to have a chairman with such an outstanding background of experience and dedication to United Fund work. Having worked with Mrs. White in the recent campaign, I have the utmost confidence and respect for her ability."

Mrs. White is crop area supervisor, farm placement section of the Michigan Employment Security Commission, a member of the Eagles Auxiliary, St. Benedict church and Altar Society and St. Gertrude's Auxiliary.

Cochairmen for Waterford and Lake Angelus will be appointed within the next few weeks.

Will Distribute Information on Cookie Sale

Information regarding 1962's Girl Scout cookie sale will be distributed to district and neighborhood chairmen at a noon kickoff luncheon Tuesday in the Howard Johnson Restaurant on Dixie Highway.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Carlyle Bragen, Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council's chairman for the annual sale, announces four kinds of cookies will be sold by girl and adult Scouts from March 9 through March 25.

Find Snow-Covered Amusement Park Is Eden

Let's Play Hookey at the Park

Take three small boys, bundle them up warmly, set them roaming in a deserted, snow-covered amusement park, and the result is one of pure enchantment into the world of make-believe.

The youngsters, Glen and Danny Foster and Mark Vickers, spent an entire afternoon recently exploring the wonders of the Walled Lake Amusement Park during the season when most fun-seekers have completely forgotten that wonderful world of cotton candy and calliope music.

The park is now closed for the winter and is undergoing its annual rejuvenation with paint and hammer.

Therein lies the story of how the three young adventurers were able to walk, run and slide over the park grounds without interruption from a nosy adult.

Glen, 5, and Danny, 3, are the grandsons of Hallie Foster, caretaker, maintenance man and jack of all trades at the amusement park for some 20 years, and the sons of Mrs. Roy Foster of W. Lake Drive, Novi.

Mark, 4, is the grandson of the superintendent of the park, C. E. Vickers. During the off-season, Vickers' son Richard takes over his father's duties and moves his family into a century-old house on the park grounds.

The combination of having both their grandfathers on the staff at the park makes it a natural playground for fantasy in summer and winter for the children.

If you ask them, the trio of small fry agree that the best time for playing, however, is during the winter and when you hear their explanation you can readily see their point.

There's no pushing or pulling or stepping on toes or "big guys" getting in their way of seeing what is new around each corner.

For props the boys use fences, stools, benches, ramps, empty monkey cages, wood and concrete castles, little school houses, giant laughing wooden clowns, miniature railroad tracks, huge silver jets and even the weird patterns shadowed on the snow by the now carriage-less ferris wheel and silent roller coaster.

Each new find was abandoned almost as soon as it was discovered because there was more to see—lots more and it was getting dusk.

It was time to go home and by all means the boys didn't need any prompting from their mothers who were visiting together at the century-old house.

It was a long day and the boys would sleep well that night.

They knew they have a good thing going and tomorrow would be another adventure.

To Widen Orchard Lake Rd.

County Project to Start in '63 Spring or Summer

That pain in the bottleneck you've suffered as you crept along Orchard Lake Road like a snail during peak traffic hours will be cured next year.

The road, one of the most traveled east-west arteries in the Pontiac area, will be widened and improved from the Pontiac city limits to Wixom.

Early in the spring or summer of 1963 the $1.6-million improvement project will get under way. It is expected to take about three months, according to Hiland M. Thatcher, chairman of the Oakland County Road Commission.

Advertisement for construction bids will be Nov. 14 this year and bids will be opened Dec. 12.

"This is one we've needed for a long, long time," Thatcher said of the improvement of state trunkline M218. He said traffic on the narrow, two-lane road has often been backed up for miles during the morning and evening rush hours.

TO BE COUNTY ROAD

After the work is completed it is expected that the State Highway Department will turn the road over to the road commission and remove it from the state trunkline system. The commission today maintains the road but with funds provided by the state.

In the future, maintenance will be financed from the commission's share of primary gas and weight tax receipts, which won't increase even though the county adds another road to maintain, Thatcher said.

Two miles of the road, from the Pontiac city limits at Telegraph road southwesterly to Commerce Raod in Keego Harbor, will be widened from the existing two lanes to 44 feet of concrete surface or four lanes. This is the section which gets the major share of traffic to and from Pontiac, Thatcher explained.

Most of the rest of the road, which is heavily used during football season, will be widened from 18 to 22 feet or two lanes. This will be black top.

The Orchard Lake Road-Wixom Road junction will be widened to a wide four lanes or 48 feet.

Thatcher explained that the entire 15.7 miles of the road wasn't to be widened to four lanes because "the traffic doesn't call for it."

Roars Out of Flaming Troy Barn

TROY—Trapped by flames in a machinery storage barn yesterday, a landscape company employe threw down his electric welding torch, leaped into the cab of an elevated dump truck and smashed through the barn door to safety.

★ ★ ★

According to Lester J. Felmlee, owner of the Troy Tree and Landscaping Co., 4210 Rochester Road, the building and all of the firm's machinery stored for the winter were destroyed. He estimated the damage at about $9,000.

★ ★ ★

Felmlee said his son-in-law Thomas H. Tucker of 2736 Miner St., had raised the dump truck box on blocks inside the 24- by-50-foot barn and was welding on the body when he noticed the flames.

★ ★ ★

Troy firemen said sparks from the welder might have ignited debris on the floor and started the blaze.

★ ★ ★

No one inside the building was injured. Felmlee said the damage was partially covered by insurance.

★ ★ ★

The blaze was extinguished by the Troy fire department about an hour after it had been reported.

Area Girl Wins Music Award

★ ★ ★

She is Susan Letts of 2670 W. Tienken Road. A member of the Rochester Junior Tuesday Musicale, she played the concerto, "Syrinx," by Claude DeBussy.

Mrs. Jacob W. Mackley of 1301 N. Livernois Road, Avon Township, was chairman of the event. She said a total of 16 superior and 17 excellent ratings were awarded.

Fourteen junior clubs from the Southeast District were represented with 100 juniors participating. All have received award certificates from the Michigan Federation of Music Clubs, and all who won superior ratings also will get special certificates from the National Federation of Music Clubs.

One junior, Nancy Wilson of 27640 Morningside Plaza, Lathrup Village, will receive the coveted Gold Cup at the MFMC convention April 28 at Benton Harbor. She played a piano concerto and earned a superior rating.

Nancy had to garner a total of 15 points since the 1960 festival to be eligible for the Gold Cup.

Other Oakland County juniors winning superior awards included Nancy Ruffer of 1869 Birmingham Blvd., Birmingham, and Velma Green of 118 S. Washington St., Oxford. Nancy played the piano and Velma the organ.

Southfield Loan OK'd

SOUTHFIELD — The borrowing of $4.2 million by the Southfield Public Schools for new construction has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

To Start Production at Holly Spring Co.

HOLLY — Production at the new Holly Spring Co. here will begin late this month, an officer of the firm announced today.

Heavy machinery will be moved into the now vacant plant at 400 Elm St. Feb. 1 and will probably begin operating two weeks later, according to Howard Smith, vice president and director of the Illinois company.

The plant is that of the former American Spring Co. of Holly, purchased more than a year ago by Republic, who moved the entire operation to Charlotte, N.C.

ONLY 15 TRANSFERRED

The relocation of the firm left nearly 200 persons without a job. Only 15 of the former American employes were transferred to the southern city.

In exercising its option to purchase the Holly plant along with the equipment in Charlotte, the Illinois firm just met its deadline. The option expired at midnight yesterday.

Smith, former president of American Spring before it was sold to Republic, said he has no idea of how many men will be employed when the firm begins initial operations.

At full production, the date of which is not known, the firm will probably employ some 100 skilled workers.

Before the plant was moved to Charlotte, 156 were employed in the shop and there were 90 clerical workers.

The Holly Spring Co. will be a wholly owned subsidiary of the Illinois Spring Co. Another subsidiary is located in Wisconsin.

The president of Illinois Spring is Albert H. Bitzer Jr.

Vote Monday on Rezoning

ORION TOWNSHIP — Property-owning electors will vote Monday in a special referendum to either approve or reject three controversial rezoning amendments passed by the Township Board Sept. 19.

A battle began over the rezoning last June, when the Lake Orion Investment Corp. requested that three parcels of residential land on Indian wood Road be reclassified for industrial use.

Petitioned by some 900 township voters, the special election will climax the dispute over a total of 91 acres located near the Arlen, Inc., plant at 3929 Indianwood Road.

Members of the Northwest Orion Homeowners Association, which represents most of the dissenting group, have argued that new industry in that area would lower their property values, increase traffic and pollute the air with smoke and obnoxious odors.

★ ★ ★

According to Wesley B. Allen, vice president of the nonprofit Lake Orion Area Industrial Development Corp., the site was the only one available with good roads and adequate water at the time the board rezoned the property.

Other arguments for the change to industrial use were that the area is not heavily populated and that new industry would improve the township's tax base.

The board passed the rezoning request by a vote of 6-1, with Trustee Harold Gingell dissenting.

LEGAL PROBLEM

Township attorney L. R. Bebout ran into a legal problem when the petitions were presented. According to a 1961 state law governing referendum voting procedure, both property owners and voters at large would be qualified to vote on the issue.

★ ★ ★

Bebout's opinion, based on what he considered as the intent of the law and of prior laws like it, allows only property owners to decide the election.

Polls at the two precincts in the Orion Township Hall, 571 S. Broadway St., and at the one in the Gingellville Fire Hall, 3350 Gregory Road, will be open 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Couple Is Bound Over on Bogus-Check Charge

AUBURN HEIGHTS—a 28-year-old Royal Oak man and his wife waived examination yesterday before Justice of the Peace R. Grant Graham on a charge of uttering and publishing bad checks. They were bound over to Circuit Court for arraignment Monday.

Held at the Oakland County Jail in lieu of a $2,000 bond was Elton R. Brazeel. His wife, Patricia A., 24, failed to post a $500 bond and was also returned to the jail.

The pair was picked up Monday night for questioning regarding a bogus check cashed at the Community Super Market, 3586 Auburn Road, earlier that evening.

Owner of the market, Albert Spadafore said he became suspicious when the woman, identified as Carol Hall, gave a false address to endorse an $87.08 paycheck.

CHECKS STOLEN

The checks were drawn to the Leader Corp. of Madison Heights. The company had been broken into Friday night and a book of 500 checks and a check protector were stolen.

According to Romeo State Police, Mrs. Brazeel said she had cashed about 12 of the $87.08 paychecks Saturday and Monday, most of them in food stores in the Pontiac and Auburn Heights area.

The checks may take up to 30 days to clear through the bank, police said.

★ ★ ★

Brazeel is currently on parole from Jackson State Prison after serving a sentence for a 1957 breaking and entering conviction, police said. His wife has two prior arrests for shoplifting, police said.

★ ★ ★

When asked what his occupation was, police said Brazeel told them he was a professional gambler. The couple has a 2-year-old daughter.

Troy's BPW Club Honored by Units

TROY — Members of area Business and Professional Women's clubs honored the Troy club last night on its third charter night birthday.

A past president of the state federation, Viola Wolfe spoke on the history of the organization. She presented the Troy club with its charter in 1959.

★ ★ ★

Representatives from Rochester, Avon Township, Southfield and other clubs were present to congratulate the Troy group.

Coin Club Plans Sunday Show at Rochester

ROCHESTER — Rochester Coin Club will hold its third annual coin show and bourse Sunday in the Rochester Elks Temple from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Among many features of the show will be exhibits in each of eight different categories including ancient, U.S. silver, U.S. copper, and U.S. gold. A trophy will be given to the two best exhibits.

Persons who have an exhibit and would like to try for one of the trophies are asked to bring their coins to the show.

★ ★ ★

Twenty-five dealers will be present. These dealers will buy, sell, or trade coins and many numismatic supplies.

★ ★ ★

The parking will be free and refreshments will be available at reasonable prices.

★ ★ ★

The Elks Temple is at 204 W. Third St.

To Collect Petitions Asking Millage Vote

★ ★ ★

Representatives of the district's PTAs have circulated over 200 petitions calling for an election to replace the three-mill hike defeated Nov. 28, said Dr. Frederick A. Jeffers, president of the Poppleton PTA.

★ ★ ★

The group will need the signatures of 10 per cent of the district's 5,660 eligible voters to get a new election.

Schedules Talk by Missionary

Clarkston Methodist to Host Rev. O. Stine at Potluck Dinner

CLARKSTON — The Commission on Missions of the Clarkston Methodist Church announces the appearance of Rev. Ovid Stine at a pot luck missionary dinner 6:30 p.m. next Wednesday.

Rev. Stine was born in Ortonville and attended Asbury College and Asbury Theological Seminary in Kentucky.

For 10 years Rev. and Mrs. Stine served as Methodist missionaries in Southern Rhodesia and were primarily interested in education and in supervising the work of African pastors in village churches.

With a membership of over 38,000 in 220 churches, Southern Rhodesia is a "Land of Decision" for the 1960-64 Quadrennium and will receive special resources of funds and personnel.

Those planning to attend are asked to call the church for reservations. Meat, potatoes and beverage will be furnished. Members and guests should bring their own vegetable, dishes and silverware.

The interval of row spacing used in small grain drilling helps determine how the plants will use soil nutrients, Michigan State University researchers have found.

IT'S IN THE NET — Chicago goalie Glenn Hall flips upside down and teammate Jack Evans looks into the net as he falls. The puck was in the cage, deposited by the Detroit Red Wings. Raising his stick to signify a goal is Detroit's Chuck Holmes. The Hawks won, 4-1.

Slumping Wings Cling to 4th Place

Lead Rangers by One Point After 4-1 Loss

Detroit Has Rematch With Hawks Tonight at Olympia

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings were hanging to fourth place in the National Hockey League by a fingertip today after a 4-1 loss last night at Chicago to the Chicago Black Hawks—the same team they play here tonight.

★ ★ ★

Tonight's game at Olympia, a novel second meeting within 24 hours, will find the Red Wings fighting to stay ahead of the fifth place New York Rangers.

While rookie Chico Maki and the Black Hawks were outdoing Detroit at the Windy City last night, the Rangers moved to within one point of the Wings by beating the Boston Bruins 5-4. Chicago holds third place by eight points over Detroit. The fourth place winner gets into the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Rookie Maki, a right wing called up from Buffalo of the American League two weeks ago, scored two Chicago goals. He shot the first one in the last minute of the first period and the second in the final period. They were his second and third in the NHL.

Penalties proved expensive to the Red Wings.

Two Wings were in the penalty box when Maki got his first goal. The Wings also were shorthanded when Bobby Hull, scoring his 26th goal of the season, counted for Chicago in the first period.

Hull's goal tied the score at 1-1 after Norm Ullman had counted for Detroit at 3:11. Chicago moved in front to stay on Stan Mikita's second period goal.

The rare penalty shot was given Bruce Mac Gregor of Detroit in the second period but he failed to make it chek. His shot hit the goal post. It was the fourth penalty shot this season in the NHL.

★ ★ ★

MacGregor got it after he had been hauled down by Chicago's Dollar St. Laurent while in clear position for a shot at goalie Glenn Hall.

Rangers Gain Hockey Finals

The Mountain View Rangers moved into the finals of the city's American League hockey tournament Wednesday night with a 5-4 victory over the Pontiac Central Raiders at Northside Park.

Goals by Neal Norgrove and Dick Anderson in the 3rd period broke a 3-3 tie and sent the Rangers into the championship round.

★ ★ ★

Standard Forge eliminated Dallas Tool from the double-elimination tourney with a lopsided 12-1 victory in the other AL contest. Rick Foster fired four goals and Jim Conklin added three for the winners. Dennis Doss tallied Dallas' lone goal.

Iron Dukes Throttle Villanova, 53-51

Duquesne Impressive

By The Associated Press

Duquesne, snubbed by the post-season tournaments last year, has emerged as the powerhouse of Eastern college basketball this season. The Iron Dukes, ranked seventh in The Associated Press poll, have put together some impressive credentials this time to alert the selection committees.

★ ★ ★

The Dukes from Pittsburgh throttled Villanova 53-51 at the Pitt field house Wednesday night to enhance their national stature. The victory was Duquesne's 15th as against two setbacks and avenged a previous loss at the hands of Villanova, which is 15-3.

Second-ranked Kentucky was the only other member of the top ten to see action Wednesday night and the sizzling Wildcats racked up their 14th straight win. Kentucky, the Southeastern Conference leader, disposed of Georgia 86-59 in Atlanta for its 15th success in 16 outings.

BEAT BONNIES

A year ago Duquesne finished with a flourish, winning its last three games—including the finale against St. Bonaventure, which had gained a berth in the NCAA championships.

Duquesne polished off trouble some LaSalle last Saturday and then gained revenge for Villanova's 78-53 conquest in the Quaker City Tourney. The teams play a rubber match in the Palestra Feb. 7.

Duquesne had its hands full with the Wildcats Wednesday before emerging with the hard-earned squeaker.

The Dukes went in front to stay 49-47 on Bill Stromple's jumper with 5:58 to go. Villanova was ahead at the half 29-27 and the lead then changed hands several times.

With 10 seconds remaining, the Wildcats gained possession of the ball and tried to produce the equalizing basket. But Jim McMonagle's shot missed and the Dukes grabbed possession until the buzzer.

FEW PUNCHES

A brief flareup by Willie Somerset of Duquesne and McMonagle occurred late in the first half and both benches emptied. Several punches were thrown before order was restored.

Kentucky coasted to its sixth SEC triumph in a row at the expense of outclassed Georgia. The Wildcats opened up a commanding 39-23 advantage at the intermission and steadily pulled away.

West Virginia edged Wake Forest 101-99 on the winners' court for its 15th success in 19 starts in an inter-conference game. Jim McCormick powered West Virginia's Southern Conference front runners with 35 points. Big Len Chappell's 37 points were high for the Deacons of the Atlantic Coast Conference.

In other games, Oklahoma State whipped Oklahoma 65-49 for its fifth straight decision over its state rival. Gordon Hatton triggered Dayton with a 27-point harvest as the Flyers downed Drake 79-74 for their 13th win in 17 games. Norm Halberstadt propelled Virginia Military to an 80-72 conquest of George Washington with a 36-point output. All five starters hit double figures in Iowa State's 85-73 Big Eight verdict over Missouri.

Rangers End Long Skid in Artificial 'Road' Tilt

By The Associated Press

★ ★ ★

The well-rested Rangers broke their 10-game National Hockey League losing string—within one game of the club record—with a 5-0 shutout of the last place Boston Bruins Wednesday night.

It moved them within one point of fourth-place Detroit, which currently holds the last playoff spot. The Red Wings lost to Chicago 4-1 in the league's only other action.

An artificial "road game" atmosphere may have had something to do with the Rangers' victory.

TEAM DINNER

Almost all the New York players live on Long Island, about an hour away from Madison Square Garden. Usually, they report just before game time for home matches.

Wednesday, however, they reported in mid-afternoon for a team dinner, as if they were on the road, and then were assigned rooms in a mid-town hotel. A similar set-up was used by the Giants before home games last fall.

★ ★ ★

"This way they weren't tired from the long drive," explained player-coach Doug Harvey. "And, being all together, we got to talking /hockey, thinking hockey. We were in the right frame of mind before getting on the ice."

Goalie Worsley turned in 40 saves en route to his second shutout of the season. It was the highest number of saves registered in an NHL shutout this season. Gump's biggest test was early in the final period when the Rangers were two men short for a minute and 54 seconds.

HAPPY COACH

"One of his better games," commented Harvey, who was relaxed and joking for the first time in a month.

Hadfield got a pair of goals—his second and third of the season—on the new third line, and Andy Hebenton, Earl Ingarfield and Harry Howell the others for the Rangers, who were out-shot 40-23.

Tonight's schedule has Toronto at Montreal, New York at Boston and Chicago at Detroit.

Tsuyoshi Yamanaka, Japan's top ranking swimmer and world record holder of the 200-meter freestyle, is in Los Angeles to study until the 1964 Olympics in Tokyo.

★ ★ ★

Sale of players to Houston and New York, new teams in the National League, enabled the Chicago Cubs to show a $45,000 profit for 1961.

★ ★ ★

Utah's basketball team, banned by the NCAA from playing in tournaments for one year, received a reprieve and will be allowed to participate in the Milwaukee Classic next December.

★ ★ ★

The Cleveland Indians have invited Ray Semproch, former Philadelphia Phillie pitcher, to tryout this spring. Semproch spent a brief time with the Tigers after leaving the Phillies.

★ ★ ★

Don Nicholie, Hoyt Post Cage Victories

Don Nicholie had too many big guns for Scarlett's Bike Shop in the Waterford Class B cage league Wednesday and posted a 71-66 victory.

★ ★ ★

Tim Courtney paced the winners with 21 points. Russ Rayna added 19 and Ron Hetherington 18. Rod Lyons hit 22 for Scarlett's which lost its eighth straight without win.

★ ★ ★

PCH, PNH Hope to Bounce Back

Southwestern 5 Visits Pontiac Friday Night

Colts Dangerous Foe for Chiefs in Valley Cage Battle

"One battle does not necessarily lose a war" is the motto of the Pontiac Central basketball team as the Chiefs try to bounce back into the victory column Friday night on their friendly home court.

Art Van Ryzin's cagers, victims of a 70-48 thrashing by unbeaten Saginaw High last week, play host to a dangerous Flint Southwestern quintet tomorrow evening in a crucial Saginaw Valley contest.

Any thoughts the Chiefs might have harbored about Southwestern being an easy mark were dispelled Tuesday when the underdog Colts gave Saginaw a battle royal before losing 72-62.

★ ★ ★

"This could be one of the best games on our schedule," Van Ryzin commented after scouting the Colts against Saginaw.

"They're a good shooting club and they jump well," said Van Ryzin. They have fine guards and they're a strong rebounding team. They'll give us a hard time, I'm sure," he declared.

The Colts, coached by Roy McMurray, led Saginaw through most of the first half and it was not until the final two minutes of the game that Saginaw put the decision on ice.

Guard Jim Yuille, the Valley's second leading scorer, paces the Colt offense. Yuille is averaging better than 20 points per game and he's an excellent outside shooter.

★ ★ ★

Southwestern's attack is further aided by Ken Franklin, a 6-foot-3 forward who's averaging 13 points a contest. Hamp Morris, 6-3 center, is strong under the backboards.

The Colts enter the game with a 3-4 conference record and an overall mark of 3-5.

PCH, runnerup in the Valley with a 4-1 record and 8-1 altogether, saw its eight-game winning streak snapped in no uncertain terms by the top-rated Trojans last week and the Chiefs were in a depressed frame of mind in early practice this week.

"They were dispirited and flat-less in practice Monday and Tuesday, but yesterday they perked up and had a real good workout," Van Ryzin said. "I hope they'll be ready for Southwestern Friday.

Saginaw plays host to Flint Central tomorrow while Arthur Hill visits Flint Northern and Bay City Central goes to crosstown Handy to round out the league schedule. Midland is idle.

Area Executive Buys Pipers

Wilson Plans to Keep Cagers in Cleveland; Also Owns Grid Team

CLEVELAND (AP)—Ralph C. Wilson Jr., a Detroit insurance executive who owns a professional football team in Buffalo, has purchased the Cleveland Pipers of the American Basketball League for an estimated $75,000.

★ ★ ★

The announcement was made Wednesday night by George Steinbrenner, president of the Pipers, who said the team would remain in Cleveland and that there would be no front office changes now.

POSSIBLE REHIRE

McLendon, first Negro ever to coach a professional team, was to meet with Steinbrenner today and there were indications he would rejoin the club, probably as personnel director.

Wilson owns the Buffalo Bills of the American Football League. In buying the Pipers he gets a club that won the ABL's Eastern Division first half title, but is lagging in last place with a 2-7 record during the second half.

★ ★ ★

Wilson will not run the club himself and it is probable that some of the stock will be repurchased by the present owners. Steinbrenner is expected to continue as president.

Cutters Capture 2nd With 66-56 City Triumph

The Wallace Cutters moved into second place in the National division of the City Basketball League with a 66-56 victory over Colonial Lumber last night at Pontiac Northern.

Bill Buck scored 21 points and Bud Hayward added 17 to pace the Cutters to their fifth victory in six starts. Jack DeCue and Bob Devine tallied 14 and 13, respectively, for Colonial, which now stands 5-2. The Cutters led at halftime, 34-26.

Pepsi Cola of Waterford's Class A circuit ran wild in the second half for a 77-58 verdict over the Southwest Trojans in an exhibition contest. Bill York netted 25 points for Pepsi and the Trojan's Emmett Elliot bagged 14. The winners trailed at halftime, 35-29.

Two National loop games are slated tonight at PCH. First Church of the Nazarene faces 300 Bowl at 7 p.m. and Smith's Fuel plays Felice Market at 8:30.

TRYING TO BOUNCE BACK—Pontiac Central tries to bounce back into the victory column Friday night and junior forward Ed Williams (left) and senior forward Paul Brown will be doing their utmost to aid the Chiefs' cause. The Chiefs meet dangerous Flint Southwestern on the PCH court at 8 o'clock in a Saginaw Valley basketball game. Williams has improved steadily this season and Brown is a stalwart rebounder.

Vikings Seek Win; Waterford on Road

The Vikings have lost all 11 games this season. Seven of the setbacks were by a total of 30 points, indicating the Vikings may be ready to break into the win column.

They get another chance Friday against Inter-Lakes League rival Southfield. The Blue Jays trounced Walled Lake by 13 points in an earlier meeting, but this time the contest will be on the Vikings' floor.

Walled Lake has toppled from the top of the I-L to the bottom slightly less than one year. Graduation riddled the Vikings of the top scorers and rebounders and on season's championship team.

Not only has Coach Jim Horein been plagued by a lack of rebounding and consistent scoring punch, the Vikings also lack experience.

TUCK IS TOPS

Bob Tuck, Gary Alderson, Jim Webb and Mike Hinckley have scored well in several games, but have not been able to put together a good string.

Tuck is the top point getter with 10.8 average.

SEEK REVENGE

Waterford has a score to settle with Berkley, but it won't be easy.

The skippers lost the early engagement by 11 points at Waterford and this time must travel to the Bears' stronghold.

It will be up to Paul and Gary Moran to supply the punch if the Skippers are to win and pull into a tie for second with the Bears. The Skippers have been effective when the Moran brothers have been hitting.

Paul has been the big scorer, but he was off last Friday against Farmington and the Skippers were easy victims.

★ ★ ★

Berkley has a well rounded offense and sufficient depth for coach Ace Zaphagos to substitute three or four players at once without hindering the Bears' play.

Northern Team Hit by Ailments for Farmington

Larry is the only doubtful starter. Hall indicated that he would probably call on either Wayne Daniels or Dean Souden to open against Farmington.

PNH STARTERS

Wasik and Fisher will handle the guard lots and Dave Shields will be at center. Gary Hayward, the team's leading scorer, will be at forward.

Farmington handed Northern one of its four setbacks in five league games by a 64-61 count.

It could very easily be said that Pontiac Northern will send its "walking wounded" into battle against Farmington Friday.

Three Huskies—Ed Wasik, Rick Fisher and Larry Hayward—are not up to par. And Farmington will carry a 5-0 Inter-Lakes record into the PNH gym.

Larry Hayward has been out of school the last couple of days because of illness. Coach Dick Hall is keeping his fingers crossed that twin brother Gary does not come down with the same ailment.

Wasik is still recovering from a bout with the flu. Fisher has been in December. The Huskies are 3-6 overall.

The snapped a five game losing streak last week by defeating Walled Lake 82-68 and leaving the I-L cellar to the Vikings.

"Farmington has a real good team," said Hall. "They have a big front line and good reserve strength."

Walt Grimala, 6-5, and Chuck Gadde, 6-4, provide coach Dave Parks with a solid 1-2 punch in scoring and rebounding. Another potent point maker in recent games has been Paul Riggio.

Farmington holds two straight wins over the Huskies. The Falcons knocked PNH into a tie for first place in the last game of the 1960-61 campaign.

The Falcons who have lost non-league encounters to Highland Park and Plymouth, looked very impressive last week while beating Waterford by 20 points.

Farmington has a 9-2 overall record.

Second Round Action Opens in Church Loop

Trinity Baptist came through the first half with a 7-0 record, including a close victory over runnerup All Saints. It was the lone setback for the second place team.

Wolves Eye Upset

By CHUCK ABAIR

The team that has come the closest to beating Northville this year will give it a try again tomorrow night.

★ ★ ★

Clarkston, although matched by Holly in losing by eight to the Mustangs, had a much better chance for victory in the meeting with the state power but finally bowed to some good shooting in early December.

Second place seems to be the main issue at stake in the loop barring an NHS slump. Bloomfield Hills should be able to hold its runnerup ranking as guest of Clarenceville. Clarkston and West Bloomfield are right behind in 3rd. The Lakers will be favored as hosts to Brighton. Holly will visit Milford.

San Francisco Has Win Streak Snapped at Eight

By The Associated Press

San Francisco's 8-game winning streak in the American Basketball League was snapped Wednesday night.

The Saints went down before the New York Tapers 112-106. The defeat, coupled with Chicago's 108-99 victory over Pittsburgh, tightened the second half race in both the Eastern and Western Divisions.

The Saints' lead over Kansas City in the Western Division was cut to one game. Pittsburgh's edge in the East was chopped to .023 percentage points over Chicago and one-half game over New York.

Roger Kaiser and Danny Swartz again were New York's big guns with 31 and 30 points, respectively. It was a hook shot by Kaiser that put New York ahead for good with seven minutes to play. Kenny Sears' 27 was high for the Saints whose streak went back to the last game of the first half.

Orioles Sign Pair

BALTIMORE (AP) — The new Baltimore Oriole infield candidates, Ozzie Virgil and Ron Kabbes, have returned their signed contracts to President Lee MacPhail, it was announced today. This brings to 11 the number of Orioles who have agreed to 1962 terms.

Virgil was secured in the draft last November from Kansas City. Kabbes was acquired from the Cardinals in a December trade for Johnny Kucks.

Some of the other top attractions will have Lake Orion at Oxford, Kettering traveling to Roseville, high-ranked Imlay City at Saginaw Buena Vista, Emmanuel Christian and Grosse Pointe University School, Utica at South Lake and Royal Oak Dondero vs. Highland Park.

Harnack Hits 712 Series

No less than 15 series over 600 were rolled this week for the first time this year. The new lanes have had some of the boys talking to themselves until now.

The high scoring this week was led by Jerry Harnack who sandwiched a 216 game between a pair of 248's for a nice 712 series. This is a new high series and the first one over 700 this season. A new high game was also rolled when Mickey Straka finished with a strong 269 to nose out former leader Harnack, who hit 268 just one week ago.

Team series and game scores also showed an increased scoring when over one-half of the league scored over 2,850 pins for series and three-quarters of the games were well over the 900 mark.

High team game was bowled by Ben Fyke & Sons Excavating when they fashioned a 1,046 game, new second high game, while losing two games to Jerry Perna's five who rolled games of 1,021, 1,030 and 918 for a new season high series of 3,018. Perna's boys were headed by Harnack.

★ ★ ★

Other high scores: Fyke & Sons 2,802, West Side Lanes 1,002 in 2,899, Sparks Griffin 1,014 in 2,895, P. L. of P. 2,919, Huron Bowl 2,856, Calbi Music 2,814.

New U-D Grid Mentor Is 'Man in Motion'

Idzik is credited with creating and developing the "extended motion" play, now used by several college teams around the country including Mississippi, Georgia Tech and Penn State.

The extended motion involves "flooding the zone," as Idzik puts it.

"We have our man dip behind the line and charge ahead so that at the crest of the arc, as we call it, he's going at full speed when the ball is snapped," Idzik said.

★ ★ ★

"This way, the ex-Maryland backfield star said, "the back is outside the realm of the defense. If they don't cover him and take the receivers instead, he's open. If they cover him, usually one of our receivers is open.

"And it gives our quarterback more leeway," Idzik said.

"During practice one day," he said, "one of the backs broke a signal and kept in motion after the whistle blew. I noticed the defense had real trouble changing direction to compensate for the jump he got."

★ ★ ★

Idzik is largely credited with putting the oomph into Detroit's flashy offense during his three years as Titan backfield coach.

He first gained national attention as a defensive back with Maryland in 1947-50.

Idzik led the Terrapins in pass interceptions for three years and intercepted two passes for the South in a 14-9 win over the North in the '50 North-South All-Star game at Miami, Fla.

As one of Tatum's standouts during the Terrapin glory years (they were 29-9-2 in Idzik's four seasons there), he received honorable mention for All-Southern Conference, won the university's TEKE award for "giving the most to football in four years," and found time to letter in baseball twice.

Besides Maryland, his other coaching experience prior to Detroit was at Tennessee and Ottawa of the Canadian pro league.

List NCAA Series Dates

OMAHA (AP)—The 1962 NCAA College Baseball World Series will open in Omaha June 11 and continue through June 15, with a possible extra game on Saturday, June 16.

The University of Omaha was named host school Tuesday with Virgil Yelkin, Omaha U. athletic director, in charge of the series. He will be aided by Charles Nelnas, Kansas City, who has been named NCAA administrative assistant for meets and tourneys.

Kandahar Ski Club to Lose Jump Site

State Will Buy Area for Adding to Pontiac Lake

Present Lease Expires April 1st; Tourney Set Feb. 11th

After 25 years, Kandahar Ski Club, located in the Pontiac Lake Recreation Area, and site of one of the outstanding ski jumping tournaments in lower Michigan, is expected to lose its home April 1st.

The Michigan Conservation Department has approved the purchase of the farm area in which Kandahar is located for the purpose of adding to the Pontiac Lake Recreation area.

Sale price for the 170 acres is $102,000 and the purchase is now subject to approval of the Conservation Commission which will meet Feb. 8-9 to discuss the matter.

Kandahar ski club was founded in 1937 and it has been the only ski club in the area restricted to private membership. The facilities include a lodge, 6 rope tows, 8 slopes and a 35 meter jump.

The jump has been used each year for the annual tournament. This year's 9th annual event is scheduled to take place Sunday, Feb. 11th.

Conservation department officials in Lansing said that the club would be permitted to use the land until the end of the present contract which expires April 1st. The purchase money is coming out of the parks' admission fees.

None of the Kandahar officers were available for comment, although it is expected that many of the members would join the jumping club at Grampian Mt. which initiated its new jump this year.

Start Tonight, Skiing Is Great at Local Areas

The fresh snowfall yesterday brought skiers out in droves last night to all local ski areas. Conditions varied from very good to excellent for today, tonight and tomorrow.

These were the conditions as of this morning:

WINTER SPORTS

TWO YEARS TOO YOUNG — Guenter Schmid, head ski instructor at Grampian Mt. practices going through the slalom gates but to no avail. Schmid thought about the pro racing circuit, but at 22 years of age, he is too young. The IPSRA has set its age limit at 24.

Pontiac Press Photo

Age Limit 24

Grampian Mt. Ski Pro Is 'Too Young' to Race

Guenter Schmid, head of the Grampian Mt. ski school, is only 22 years old but has a wealth of experience in his favor.

The experience however does him no good as far as the competitive racing in the new International Professional Ski Racing Association.

The age limit to join the IPSRA is 24.

Schmid, who left his home in Austria for his first visit to America by taking the job at Grampian Mt., is considered a good prospect for the pro ski circuit now in its second year of existence.

Since its establishment a year ago by Fried Pfeifer, head of the Aspen, Colo., ski school, the pro circuit had seven successful meets last season and has held three thus far this season. The purse has jumped from $15,000 of last year to $35,000 for 10 scheduled meets this season.

★ ★

The class A racers are the top touring pros. The class B IPSRA pros are mostly ski instructors at or from the regions of host teams.

Schmid, who was hopeful of seeing other ski areas in the United States before he returned to Austria in March, thought about getting into the pro circuit. His age prevented this.

"I don't know why they put such an age limit to join the pro circuit," Schmid said, "the organization surely could use younger names in competition."

Presently, all the top skiers on the pro circuit have reached or passed 30 years of age. One of the youngest is Swiss skier Roger Staub. Best winner among the youngest pros has been Pepi Gramshammer, a 29-year old native of Kufstein, Austria, an instructor at Sun Valley.

The top money winner of the circuit last year was Anderi Molterer of Aspen ski school. He is 30 years old.

Schmid helped train the British Olympic team in 1960. He has served on the ski staff at St. Anton, Austria for four years.

FULL HOUSE—The lodge at Alpine Valley had a full house over the weekend as skiers enjoyed a great day for skiing at local ski areas. New snowfall has made skiing very good at all areas for tonight and possibly the rest of the weekend.

State Open This Weekend at Mt. Holly

LOCAL SKI PRO — Veteran among local ski instructors is Gerry Monod, head of the school at Mt. Holly this year. Monod was at Grampian Mt. for four years prior to moving to Mt. Holly. He is a student of the St. Christof ski school in Austria where Professor Kruchenhauser founded the Wedeln system of skiing.

Three Classes of Events Set for Boys, Girls

Prep Slalom Tourney Is Scheduled Next Week at Holly Area

The Michigan Open Ski meet will be held Saturday and Sunday at Mt. Holly with competition in three classes.

All junior racers, competing in four divisions for both girls and senior racers, between 18 and 31 boys will be held Saturday. The and the veteran's class above 32 will compete on Sunday.

Saturday morning's quadrangular prep meet with Avondale, Kimball, Walled Lake and Waterford has been postponed.

A week later, February 10, Mt. Holly will be the site of the Southeast Michigan High School salom tourney.

Entries for the Michigan Open close tomorrow.

Trophies will be awarded to winners and runnersup in each division and class to both men and women. Ribbons will go to third place winners.

There is no admission charge for spectators. Mt. Holly has expanded its parking area.

For prep meet on the 10th, 14 schools have submitted entries thus far. Grosse Pointe and Bloomfield Hills stand as strong choices for the preps. Last year there were 9 entries in the prep meet.

About 100 Hopefuls Seeking Team Berths to Replace 15 Killed

BOSTON (AP) — The National Figure Skating Championships opened on a somber note today with top officials of the United States Figure Skating Association eyeing the field of about 100 hopefuls for possible successors to the 15 skaters who were killed in an airplane crash last year.

Those 15, representing the cream of the U.S. crop were en route to the world championships in Prague when their jet crashed outside Brussels, Belgium.

The championships will run four days and will be divided between the Skating Club of Boston and the Boston College Arena. The novice men's and women's compulsory figures and the first round of the silver dance event were on the opening day program.

U.S. SWEEPS

The United States has been unbeatable in the men's individual Olympic competition since the end of World War II. Dick Button won the Olympic Gold Medal in 1948 and 1952, Hayes Alan Jenkins won in 1956 and David Jenkins in 1960.

State Jumping Meet Sunday at Briar Hill

The annual Michigan jumping championships will be held Sunday at Briar Hill Ski Club in Mesick and a high class field of jumpers is expected to aim at the record of 158 feet held jointly by Art Tokle, former Olympic team member and Jan Simonsen of Flint.

Several outstanding local jumpers are expected to compete, including Walt and Alden Hyry of Berkley, Clint Beach of Flint, John Tessmer of Rochester, Bill Hyvonen of Ferndale, Bill Koch of Farmington, Dan Guthrie of Utica.

One of the top names in the field of entries is Sig Malvic, top class A jumper from the famous Norge ski Club in Chicago. Competitors will also hail from Ishpeming, Iron Mountain, Milwaukee, Toledo, Pontiac, Flint, Detroit and Minneapolis.

An outstanding B class jumper is Thorlief Scendt, who has won six straight meets in which he has competed since last year.

Changes have been made on the inrun this year to permit greater speed. With the takeoff set back, the present hill record is expected to be broken.

Dave Freeman of Waterford was state men's champion three years ago. Hyrry has won the veteran's class title.

Skier's Streak in Pros Falls

Gramshammer in 13th Place After Winning Four in Row

ASPEN, Colo. — After winning four straight professional ski race ing meets, Pepi Gramshammer of Sun Valley, one of the youngest pros on the circuit, dropped out of the money in his last start at Heavenly Valley, Calif., last weekend.

Anderi Molterer of Aspen, top pro racing money winner last year, won the event. He had a combined time of 1:55.7 for the two runs and picked up a first prize of $1,100.

In second place with a combined time of 2:00.2 was Ernst Hinterseer of Mammoth Mountain for $700. He was followed in order by Roger Staub of Switzerland for $450, Othmar Schneider of Boyne Mountain for $300, Marv Moriarty of Stowe for $250, Christian Pravda of Sun Valley for $200, Hans Forstner of Alpine Meadows for $150 in 7th place.

Gramshammer fell and he finished in 13th place. The course was short and steep and it was set by Stein Eriksen, the former Boyne Mt. pro who has been out with an ankle injury.

More than 5,000 spectators watched the pro racers, which had 18 entries, the largest of the season.

The next meet for the pros are the world championships at Aspen, Colo. in two weeks. They are scheduled to race at Boyne Mt. March 9th.

State Collegiate Meet This Weekend at Boyne

The annual Michigan Collegiate Championships will be held Saturday and Sunday at Boyne Mountain with six teams trying to unseat defending champion Michigan Tech.

Entered in the college meet along with Michigan Tech, seeking its third straight title, are Michigan State, Northwestern College of Traverse City, Ferris, Northern Michigan, Flint Junior College and Western Michigan. This will be the 11th time the state collegiates have been held and Michigan Tech has won eight of the previous championships.

German Bobsledder Plans Trip to U.S.

GARMISCH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany (AP) — Germany's Franz Schelle, a mustachioed 32-year-old transportation company executive, looked ahead today to an invitational bobsled meet in Lake Placid, N.Y., as the first major event in his new role as world four-man champion.

Schelle, who Tuesday mastered the much-maligned, mile-long Olympic run here in the two championship heats of the fours, plans to make the trek to the United States to compete in the special invitational World Diamond Bobsled Trophy meet Feb. 18-25.

He will be accompanied by his brakeman, diminutive Otto Goebl. He will be joined in the upstate New York winter resort by world two-man champion Rinaldo Ruatti of Italy, and his brakeman Enrico Delorenzo. There is also a possibility that Ruatti's teammate, Segio Zardini, also will make the trip. Zardini finished second in both the two and four man championships here.

The lone United States sled, that finished 14th in the field of 15 Tuesday, will remain in Germany. Driver Lloyd Johnson, from Madison, Wis., is a businessman in Frankfurt, Germany, and his crew is made up of U.S. servicemen stationed in Europe.

SKIWARD HO! — Little Heidi Pinkert, 3½ years old, moves along like a ski veteran with her mother Mrs. Hans Pinkert of Birmingham. Hundreds of youngsters like Heidi are taking to the slopes at all the local ski areas. Mt. Christie has a toddlers slope complete with slow moving tow for the small fry.

Mart Moves Higher on Balance

Some Aerospace Issues Rise

NEW YORK (AP) — Some aerospace issues and other selected stocks advanced as the stock market moved higher on balance in fairly active trading early today.

Gains of fractions to about a point among key stocks out numbered losers.

Nonferrous metals showed an uncertain, downward drift. Several were unchanged but International Nickel dropped about a point while Kennecott, American Smelting and Alcoa lost fractions.

* * *

Steels, motors, utilities and airlines were mixed while oils, chemicals, electrical equipments, rails and rubbers were mostly higher.

Aircraft issues moved generally higher. General Dynamics, up a point Boeing and Grumman, up fractions, continued their rise of Wednesday. Republic Aviation, reporting a big jump in earnings, rebounded from Wednesday's loss with a gain of about a point. Lockheed dropped about a point.

Magnavox spurted 2⅝ to 47⅞ on 10,000 shares on news of a sharp rise in sales. International Business Machines recouped around 8 points, Litton about 3 and Xerox about 2.

San Diego Imperial moved up ⅝ to 13¾ on 7,000 shares.

Chrysler and Goodrich rose about a point apiece. General Motors and Ford eased.

* * *

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange. Gains of about a point were scored by Draper Insurance Co. of North America, and Gulf American Land. Also on the upside were Ogden, Aerojet-General, Barnes Engineering and Giannini Controls. Mead Johnson dropped a point and a scattering of other stocks lost fractions.

University Conducts Roast Beef Survey

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For about five years now, Ohio State University has been conducting research with roast beef.

Home economisits are trying to determine how various sizes of roast and cooking temperatures affect yield, tenderness, flavor and preparation time.

Center Will Aid Computations

Opening in Ann Arbor Today; Machines Tell Business Trends

ANN ARBOR (AP) — A Computation Center to enable business firms to solve sales and administrative problems and predict business trends has been established here by Applied Dynamics, Inc., a builder of analog computer equipment.

In opening the center today, company officials said they hope to demonstrate that the analog computer, as opposed to the more widely used digital computer, has far broader applications for business and industry than have been realized.

J. D. Kennedy, executive vice president and general manager of the firm, said the computation center will be one of approximately 90 in the U.S., and one of only 14 using analog equipment.

"We hope to demonstrate that many of the problems in sales, administration and finance, and especially business forecasting, can be handled faster and more efficiently by an analog system selling for $12,000 than by a digital computer renting for that much or more per month."

OPENING TODAY

The computation center, located in a rear area of the firm's small manufacturing plant here, will be open as of Feb. 1, serving businesses, industries and institutions on a rental basis.

Behind the plan is a bid by Allied Dynamics for a larger share of business in the computer manufacturing and selling market.

Applied Dynamics, Inc., was founded in 1957 by four professors of aeronautical engineering at the University of Michigan. All four — Robert M. Howe, Lawrence E. Fogarty, and Edward O. and Elmer G. Gilbert — have continued with the firm.

It employs 30 full-time employes in the manufacture of analog computers and components, which are most commonly used in the solving of engineering problems.

Sponsor Bill to Require Nets for Aerialists

A bill, cosponsored by Rep. Arthur J. Law, D-Pontiac, which would prevent circus aerialists from performing without a net soon will be introduced in the Michigan Legislature.

Three Democratic legislators ordered preparation of a bill to set up the restriction after two members of the Wallenda troupe of high wire performers were killed and a third injured in a fall at the Shrine Circus in Detroit Tuesday.

This horrifying tragedy will live long in the minds of the 7,000 people who witnessed the fall," said Rep. John T. Bowman, D-Roseville, one of the sponsors. "The measure is designed not only to protect the performers but also to prevent possible panic which nearly occurred in the shocked crowd at the Shrine Circus.

Bellboys Don't Know What Reds Will Tip

In addition to a flat 25 cents per bag, the standard tip, one suitcase-toter says he's been given Russian cigarettes, medals, or trinkets.

Fight for 10th of Passengers

Auto Hurting Carriers

(Editor's Note — Of all the problems facing the transportation industry, the question of how to make passenger service profitable probably is the most perplexing. This is particularly true of the railroads which last year experienced their worst year since 1946.)

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Next time you take a trip, the chances are 9 to 1 that you'll drive your own car.

That's the nub of the passenger-traffic problem which is compounding the economic woes of America's transportation industry.

The common carriers — airlines, buses and trains — are competing among themselves for 10 per cent of the total intercity passenger traffic. The other 90 per cent moves by private auto.

The airlines get 4 per cent of the traffic, which puts them in first place among the public passenger transportation systems. Last year they hauled 57 million people on nearly 30 billion passenger-miles of flights between various points in the United States.

In so doing, they lost $30 million. It was the first time in 13 years that the industry as a whole had gone into the red.

* * *

The airlines' basic trouble is that they have expanded their seat capacity, with the purchase of new fleets of jet aircraft, without drawing enough additional passengers to fill the seats.

In a bid for more business, they have offered cut-rate coach flights which are supposed to make air travel more attractive to people who might otherwise go by train, bus or private car.

But the coach flights also compete with the airlines' own higher-priced first class service.

FELT DECLINE

In 1960, about 51 per cent of the airlines' passengers flew first class. Last year, only 43 per cent paid the top fare, and the rest went coach. The effect was felt in airline revenues.

However bleak their immediate financial outlook, the airlines have sound reasons for hoping that their troubles are temporary, and will be eased by long-term growth in air passenger traffic.

Bus lines carry about 3 per cent of the intercity passenger traffic, and so far they are managing to make money.

* * *

But it also indicates that this was due largely to an increase in special or "charter" bus service.

Regular intercity passenger travel by bus has been static or declining in volume in recent years.

RAILS IN TROUBLE

In the worst trouble, by their own account, are the railroads. Their passenger traffic has been declining steadily and sharply for many years. Last year it was down another 7 per cent.

One major railroad which depended heavily on passenger traffic — the New York, New Haven & Hartford — went into bankruptcy.

Others reported that losses on passenger traffic were a major factor in making 1961 a sad year financially — the worst, according to the Association of American Railroads, that the industry has had since 1946.

* * *

Eastern lines posted operating deficits in excess of $25 million, while the industry as a whole reported a return on investment of less than 2 per cent.

In his Jan. 18 budget message, President Kennedy urged Congress to make train and bus travel cheaper by repealing the 10 per cent federal tax which is now tacked onto the price of every ticket.

He suggested that the tax on airline tickets be reduced to 5 per cent. But this would be offset by a proposed boost in taxes on aviation fuels, which doubtless would be passed along to passengers, eventually, in the form of higher fares.

SPECIAL JFK MESSAGE

The President will spell out other proposals for relief of the common carriers in a special transportation message which he will send to Congress within a few weeks.

He is expected to urge, among other things, that railroads be given more equitable treatment in claiming depreciation of their property for tax purposes.

At present, airlines can write off investments in new equipment in five years, bus lines in seven years, and truckers within 6 to 8 years.

* * *

But it takes an average of 28 years to recover through depreciation the capital invested in a railroad car.

Kennedy also is likely to recommend that the reduced rates which carriers are now required to give the government on all of its traffic be limited to times of war or national emergency.

He has said that he will make proposals for federal aid in developing urban mass transportation systems.

This could mean that he'll go along with the ICC in recommending some kind of public subsidies for railroads carrying a large volume of commuter traffic.

Meanwhile, the carriers themselves — especially the railroads and airlines — are exploring ways to shore up their economic position through mergers.

Romney Asks Redefinition of Economic Systems

NEW YORK (AP) — George Romney, president of American Motors Corp., calls for a redefinition of terms in describing economic systems.

"Communism is tyrannical and feudalistic," he told a meeting Wednesday of the Associated Business Publications, a trade group.

On the other hand, he said, "We have evolved beyond capitalism. The ultimate beneficiary of the American economy is the consumer."

He suggested the United States system be called "consumerism—the nearest I've been able to describe it." Such a definition would not only be more accurate, he said, but would be far more acceptable to emerging nations.

* * *

Speaking on the subject of "The Economic Struggle with Communism as an Industrialist Sees It," Romney emphasized that the fight begins at home.

He called for a reaffirmation of principles, the "decentralization of government from the bottom up rather than from the top down," and the elimination of economic conflict resulting from what he described as monolithic labor and monolithic industry.

He said the concentration of such power forces the government to grow also, in order to act as a referee.

* * *

The conflict between these forces, he said, was permitting other economics to show signs of "spinning circles around our awkwardness," since it has put the economy on "economic stilts."

He asked for a transformation of "the unimaginative America into the imaginative American."

Won't Oversee Content of TV

Kennedy States FCC Has Attempted to Use Only Persuasion

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy says the Federal Communications Commission has no intention of supervising the content of television programs.

* * *

The FCC today resumes its hearings on major television network programming practices.

Kennedy was asked at his news conference Wednesday whether he thinks the FCC might find it necessary to supervise program content.

He said he didn't, adding that FCC Chairman Newton Minow "has attempted not to use force, but to use encouragement in persuading the networks to put (on) better children's programs, more public service programs . . . Mr. Minow has already denied considering changing the basic relationship which now exists . . ."

* * *

The FCC recessed its hearings for one day of regular meetings. Executives of the National Broadcasting Company, who appeared Monday and Tuesday, were to be questioned by the commission during today's session.

The appointment of R. S. Boyd, 176 Suffield Road, Birmingham, as sales promotion manager for Autolite Division of Ford Motor Co., has been announced by E. R. Stroh, general sales manager.

Boyd has served in an advertising and sales promotion capacity since joining the division last year and will now have responsibility for originating and directing sales promotion programs at the distributor, jobber and retail levels of distribution for Autolite products. These include Autolite spark plugs, batteries and related electrical components and other automotive parts.

GR Supermarket Owner Named to Potato Council

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson today named L. V. Everhard, Grand Rapids supermarket owner, to the Michigan Potato Industry Council, succeeding Jacob A. Tuuk of Grand Rapids, who has resigned.

Wildcat Strike by Union Grows

Walkout by Workers at Western Electric Now Affects 4 States

NEW YORK (UPI) — A wildcat walkout of telephone equipment installers against Western Electric Co. was expected to spread to a fifth Midwestern state today.

* * *

Members of the Communications Workers of America (CWA) stopped work in a dozen Iowa cities and scattered parts of Nebraska and North and South Dakota Wednesday as wage negotiations with the Bill system subsidiary reached a stalemate.

Stevan Watson, chief steward of five-state Local 7290 at Des Moines, Iowa, said Wednesday that pickets would be out today and support was expected in Minnesota as well.

He also predicted that Omaha, Neb., would be hit by the walkout. McCook was the principal Nebraska city affected Wednesday.

COULD AFFECT SERVICE

A general strike by the 16,000 CWA members in the 43 states covered by the contract could affect telephone service if 350,000 other telephone workers respected picket lines.

A CWA spokesman here said members had been told to stay on the job until an official strike is called.

The union's national president, Joseph W. Beirne, has called a meeting of the executive board in Washington at 9 a.m. EST Friday to discuss the status of negotiations and the question of strike authority.

* * *

Lear-Union Talks Are Continued as Contract Expires

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Negotiations were scheduled to continue between Lear, Inc., this city's largest employer, and the United Auto Workers despite expiration of their labor contract.

The contract covering 2,200 union employes lapsed at midnight but no strike call was issued by officers of UAW Local 330.

Federal and state mediators were to meet with company and union representatives this afternoon.

Eddy Lynn, president of Local 330, said the major stumbling block to agreement on a new pact was job security, not wages.

JFK Slowly Changing to Tougher Policy

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — There's a slow change in President Kennedy. He's becoming more aggressive, more politically active, more determined and, perhaps, more self-confident.

★ ★ ★

This has shown up in his dealings with Congress last month and at his news conferences. He held his third of the year Wednesday. How much change there is should become clear these next few months.

TRIED BEING NICE

This evolution in the presidency could be Kennedy's response to criticism that he was following too easy a course or simply his own decision that, having tried mildness, he'd do better being tougher.

★ ★ ★

All through 1961 he acted very much like President Eisenhower. Careful not to needle or nettle his political opponents in Congress (in his case the Republicans) or precipitate quarrels.

★ ★ ★

This nice approach, as it did with Eisenhower, paid off handsomely in public opinion. Polls showed both men extremely popular.

But the basic question remained:

Does a president get the most done being nice all the time?

PRESIDENT MUST LEAD

It had been suggested last year that whenever a president shows a willingness to compromise he winds up having to compromise whereas the real role of a president is to lead, even if it means making enemies.

★ ★ ★

This was pretty much accepted as Kennedy's reasoning in 1961: Although his Democrats have a big majority in Congress, any time the conservative Southern Democrats team up with the conservative Republicans the balance of power shifts and the President is stopped cold.

REASONING FOR '61

By this reasoning it could be understood why in 1961 he refrained from making good for example, on his 1960 campaign promise to offer civil rights legislation at one of his first acts as president.

If he had pushed for civil rights in Congress, it might have angered the Southern Democrats and jeopardized some of his other programs.

★ ★ ★

As late as the last days of December in Palm Beach men who talked with him there reported he still indicated reluctance to have a head-on clash with Congress over civil rights.

REPORTED RELUCTANT

They also reported: He was reluctant to hit Congress with a reorganization plan to create a new department of urban affairs and housing, preferring to let Congress in its own slow way handle the problem in the form of the usual bills.

★ ★ ★

(Under the reorganization plan method—once he offered it—he would simply go ahead and create the new department if, within 60 days, neither House nor Senate by a majority vote opposed it.)

REVERSED FIELD

And those who talked with him also said he was reluctant to tear into the Republicans—although this is a congressional election year—at least until this session of Congress ended and the campaign had begun.

★ ★ ★

Before the end of January he had done just the opposite on all three. Reversing his do-nothing performance on civil rights legislation in 1961, he has now openly backed it.

★ ★ ★

He has thrown his reorganization plan for a new urban affairs department at Congress. And he has started ripping into the Republicans for trying to block a reorganization bill to set up the department.

STARTS PROTESTING

All these moves were a switch in tactics. Both Southern Democrats and Republicans started crying in protest.

What really counts in all this, of course, is not just these preliminary steps by Kennedy but how much follow-through he's willing to give when a little later this year in Congress the going gets lots rougher.

★ ★ ★

It's too soon therefore to say he has now decided as a fixed policy that a much tougher line is the better part of wisdom. But at least there has been a beginning.

28 Die as Fog Shrouds Coast

Visability Is Zero in Big Central California Communities

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Treacherous fog, blamed for at least 28 deaths since Sunday, including 11 victims in a bus-train collision, has created a crisis in central California.

★ ★ ★

With visibility zero at times in many of the area's major cities, dozens of schools were closed and motorists were advised to keep off the highways.

The Weather Bureau said the fog would persist in the San Joaquin and Sacramento Valleys at least until Friday with some local afternoon clearing.

★ ★ ★

Oldtimers term the fog the worst they've seen in years. Weather experts said it's caused by vaporizing moisture rising from the area's lush agricultural fields. The moisture is the result of a rare snowfall in the central valley last week.

RAMMED BY TRAIN

In the worst accident, ten laborers lost their lives Wednesday night at a railroad crossing in Mendota, about 50 miles west of Fresno, the only other laborer in the truck died of his injuries several hours later.

★ ★ ★

They were only two blocks from their destination, a labor camp, when a 60-mile-an-hour Southern Pacific freight train collided with their vehicle, a panel truck converted to a bus.

Guidance Clinic Asks County for $67,000

By DICK HANSON

Do counties belong to the mental health business?

Mental health facilities are a state government responsibility. But faced with a growing problem in this field state administrators admit Michigan has not been adequately coping with it.

★ ★ ★

Two bills will be presented during the current state legislature session to make counties copartners with the state in a mental health program aimed at licking the problem.

In addition, the Oakland County Child Guidance Clinic, originally established by a group of interested citizens aware of the state's inadequacies, is seeking more support from county government.

The clinic's board of directors yesterday presented a proposed 1962 operating budget totaling $199,923, with a request that the county furnish $67,000 of this, to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors' ways and means committee.

BUDGET DISCUSSED

The budget was discussed by the committee with no recommendations made at this time.

Committee Chairman David Levinson outlined a policy of "wait and see" until the state legislature decides what it will do about the mental health problem.

General feeling of the committee was that the county should have control of the clinics if it is expected to foot the bills, perhaps by placing it under the county health department.

Any measures the county takes now to assure continued operation of the clinic must be on a temporary basis, said Levinson.

He questioned a surplus of $9,156 shown in the proposed budget, stating that it was not the county's policy to include such surpluses in departmental budgets.

Also he said the clinic is going to have to adjust fees according to ability of patients to pay.

Hospital Breaks Occupancy Mark

Pontiac General Chief Reports 403 Patients in One Day

Pontiac General Hospital Administrator Harold B. Euler yesterday announced the hospital has just set two occupancy records.

★ ★ ★

"Last week occupancy averaged an all-time weekly high of 101.5 per cent," said Euler. "Last Thursday there were 403 patients at General—every bed was filled."

He also said the first accounting period of 1962, which ended Saturday, saw a record high occupancy for a four-week period of 99.64 per cent.

But excellent occupancy usually results in many cancellations in admissions.

"Our medical staff has been doing an excellent job in the admitting and discharge of their patients, but cancellations are still a daily problem for all concerned with the health problems of our community," he said.

In periods of extremely high occupancy, admissions are normally limited to emergency cases only, Euler said.

Mailmen Sitting Down on Job . . . It's Your Fault

Pontiac-area mailmen are spending more time sitting down on the job during these winter months—and it isn't of their own choosing.

It's the fault of residents who won't salt, sand or shovel their sidewalks. Appeals to "Sand, Salt or Shovel," appear to have been fruitless.

"Our mailmen aren't just sitting either," said Postmaster William H. Donaldson. "They're sprawling, lying and flopping all over sidewalks, walkways and driveways."

Since Christmas, the Pontiac mailing district has had 31 reports of falls causing injuries to postmen.

"And every report," says Donaldson, "usually means the carrier has fallen down five times before he was really hurt and reported the accident."

LIABLE FOR EXPENSES

Home owners are liable by law for medical expenses incurred by a carrier who falls on walks on their property. Donaldson said. However, so far the post office has paid out medical expenses and sick leave days to disabled carriers without sending the bill to the property owner, said Donaldson.

The main post office in Pontiac has tried to set a good example, Donaldson pointed out, by spreading a total of 2,800 pounds of salt this year on walks around the office. It also has used up 4,000 pounds of salt-sand mixture.

"We are trying our best to protect our customers," said Donaldson. "We wish they'd do the same for our 145 carriers."

Marriage Declines in County During '61

Cupid didn't strike as hard in Oakland County last year as in 1960. There were 68 fewer marriage licenses issued, figures from the county clerk's office shows.

★ ★ ★

There was a total of 4,230 issued last year and 4,298 the prior year.

In both years the months of June and August proved to be the most romantic of the 12. More than 500 licenses were issued during these periods, with the high being 552 issued in August, 1961.

Found Innocent of Felonious Driving Charge

★ ★ ★

Fails to Concur on Fair Site Plan

Unit of County Board Against Allocation of Grounds to 4-H Club

The ways and means committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors yesterday failed to concur with a recommendation by the Building and Grounds and Cooperative Extension Service committees to allocate the 4-H Fairgrounds site in Pontiac to the youth activities club.

The joint recommendation of the two committees was made subject to concurrence of the ways and means committee.

Ways and means instead recommended leaving the fairgrounds at its present location on M24 for the exclusive use of the 4-H Club, but at the will and pleasure of the Board of Supervisors.

★ ★ ★

Club officials had sought assurance of the fairgrounds site's permanency to justify further expenditures in improvements to the property.

The ways and means committee refused to allocate the site outright because it would thus lose control of the property's future.

"We don't know but the present site will become undesirable for this purpose at some future date," said David Levinson, committee chairman.

The committee was agreed that the 4-H Club is one of the finest youth programs in existence and could not visualize the Board of Supervisors ever taking any action contrary to the club's best interests.

Union Army deaths in the Civil War totaled 359,528, including 110,070 killed or died of wounds, 224,586 died of disease and 24,872 other deaths, according to War Department records. Estimated Confederate Army deaths, for which no official records are available, were 133,821 including 52,954 killed in battle, 21,570 died of wounds and 59,297 died of disease.

And Growing Audience of Her Own Children

Julie Andrews Looking Forward to Private Life

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Julie Andrews, whose bell-sweet soprano has enchanted millions, is looking forward to singing a few soft lullabies to an audience of one.

Then she'd like to build up the audience to two, three, four—maybe more.

"I'd like very much to have some children," she said. "It's very much in the air.

"How many: Oh, I'm not sure. One at a time — but a large family.

BOYLE

Julie won world fame in eight years in 3,000 nights and matinees playing three musical roles—a flapper, a cockney flower girl, and a queen. But her heart now is set on essaying the lifetime offstage role of motherhood.

HOPES FOR HOLIDAY

On Feb. 11 she stars in an NBC-TV special. On April 14 she will bow out of her latest hit show "Camelot," in which she plays King Arthur's wife.

Then she hopes to take a long holiday with her husband, Tony Walton, the theatrical designer, and settle down for a while in the comfortable privacy of being an English housewife.

"I think I'd be a very good cook," she said lightly. "but so far I've never seemed to have the time and just the right ingredients."

WON RECOGNITION

Julie came here as a shy and somewhat bewildered unknown in a British musical, "The Boy Friend," in 1954. She won instant recognition, enlarged it immeasurably with her spectacular triumph as Eliza Doolittle in "My Fair Lady."

★ ★ ★

"So much has happened in those eight years," she mused. "I didn't know what I was going to be or do.

"I was terribly green. America was an opening door to me. I suddenly began to grow up.

'SOMETIMES I WONDER'

"I sometimes wonder what kind of person I would have become if I had stayed home and lived a quiet village life. I suppose half of me would never have awakened."

But happy as she is with success, Julie's only major production plan now "is the hope of the baby."

Both she and her husband are set on the idea of having a large family.

★ ★ ★

"They teach you to share and be generous," she said, "and a large family is more fun—and keeps you young. And there are all those lovely weddings to go to when the children grow up."

STILL FRESH

Julie, who converses in long pauses and bursts of breathless exclamations, has none of the hardened surely of many theatrical stars. She still has the fresh air of a college girl who has just come back from a walk in the woods, her hands full of invisible flowers.

★ ★ ★

"Those around me are more certain of my ability than I am," she said. "I often have a feeling of inadequacy. I always think I'm not going to make it, to do it. But somehow I manage to pull it off."

As they say on Broadway, "You gotta roll with the punches, baby."

Girl, 4, Slain in Bed; 2 Teen Cousins Held

DETROIT (AP) — A 4-year-old girl was found slain late Wednesday night in the bedroom of her home. She had been stabbed at least seven times, police said.

Police held two teen-age cousins of the girl for investigation.

★ ★ ★

The cousins, who had been visiting in the girl's home, were apprehended Wednesday night by state police from Jackson post. The youths were driving a car which police said was stolen from a boarder in the girl's home.

Section 3. That said sum of Four Million, Nineteen Thousand, Six Hundred Seventy Five dollars and 00/100 for the payment of said debts, expenditures and liabilities herein mentioned in Section 2 be assessed for the several funds for said City of Pontiac for the fiscal year ending December 31, 1962 and that the same be forthwith certified by the Clerk to the City Assessor and that the same shall be levied and collected upon the assessed valuation of all taxable property within said City of Pontiac in accordance with the provisions of the laws of the State of Michigan and the Charter of said City of Pontiac for the levying and collection of taxes upon the 1962 City tax roll.
Section 4. That the City Treasurer of the City of Pontiac is hereby authorized, directed and instructed to cause to be prepared a delinquent tax roll for the 1961 City, School and County delinquent taxes and delinquent special assessments adding thereto all penalties required by Charter of the City and the laws of the State of Michigan and in accordance with said City Charter and statutes of the State of Michigan.
Section 5. This appropriation ordinance is based upon the budget submitted by the City Manager, approved and adopted by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac, after public hearing held January 23, 1962 and amended by the City Commission and pursuant to the Pontiac City Charter and statutes of the State of Michigan.
Section 6. This ordinance shall take immediate effect after passage thereof by the City Commission of the City of Pontiac, as it is hereby deemed to be an emergency ordinance within the meaning of Chapter VI, Section 3 of the Charter of the City of Pontiac.
Made and passed by the City Commission the 30th day of January, A.D. 1962.
