Gold Markets Are Stampeded

LONDON (AP) — The gold rush became a stampede in Western Europe's bullion market today, and scenes of "near-pandemonium" were reported in the bidding for gold shares on the Johannesburg stock exchange.

The Swiss National Bank moved to halt forward sales of gold—sales for delivery of the metal in 30, 60 or 90 days—to protect its dollar holdings.

The record sale of bullion also was reflected in the London silver market in the general rush to get out of paper money and into something solid like gold, silver or even stock in a gold mine.

It was a reflection of the general public uneasiness following Saturday's devaluation of the pound and also speculation that the United States will be unable to hold the line of $35 an ounce for gold which it is pledged to defend.

A change in the U.S. buying price for the metal could mean huge profits for speculators.

SECOND DAY

In London more than 100 tons of the metal was believed sold for the second day running. A record 10 tons changed hands in Paris. No estimates of sales in Zurich were available.

In Switzerland all gold transactions must take place in dollars and the Swiss National Bank's move was described as a measure of prudence to protect its supply of dollars.

London dealers reported a "gigantic turnover" in the bullion market.

* * *

The price remained unchanged as the United States and its partners in the international gold pool continued to provide the metal to meet the demand. But the run on gold which developed after Britain devalued the pound raised threats to the dollar.

Dealers said the turnover in the first hours of selling today indicated that a record would be set.

Gold stocks were also strong on the London Stock Exchange, but industrial shares continued the big decline that set in with wide profit-taking Thursday.

U.S. Envoy Seeking to Block Cyprus War

ATHENS (AP) — As U. S. presidential envoy Cyrus R. Vance sought in Athens today to head off a Greek-Turkish war over Cyprus, a spokesman announced in Brussels that the two nations had accepted the good offices of Manlio Brosio, secretary-general of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, in their dispute.

An informed source said Brosio probably would go first to Athens, then to Ankara, leaving Brussels "very soon."

Greece and Turkey are members of the Atlantic alliance and held strategic positions on NATO's southeastern flank.

Both nations had alerted their military forces, and Turkish planes swept over Cyprus again, as they have every day for the last week.

The tense situation caused the U.S. Embassy in Nicosia to order the evacuation to Beirut of 400 American wives and children from Cyprus.

The State Department advised American travelers to stay away from Cyprus, Greece or Turkey, and the Canadian government issued the same warning to its citizens.

Vance arrived in the Greek capital after talks with Turkish leaders in Ankara yesterday that roused resentment in the Turkish press and a rock-throwing anti-American demonstration by 2,000 students eager for war.

* * *

He was met with reserve by Turkish officials and made no comment on the negotiations.

WARMER RECEPTION

Vance could expect a warmer reception in Athens, where the military regime is in a less advantageous position. For the Greeks, war in Cyprus would mean fighting 500 miles from their mainland but only minutes from Turkish jet airfields 40 miles away.

Turkey also is stronger militarily than Greece, and the Greek dictatorship can count on little or no aid from abroad.

Cyprus was tense after new flights over the island by Turkish jets, the killing of a Greek Cypriot and two bomb blasts in the Greek quarter of Nicosia.

* * *

In the Turkish section of the capital, Turkish Cypriots dug fortifications and put up barricades.

Formosa Says Guerrillas Raid Red China Base

TAIPEI (UPI) — Nationalist China today said its guerrilla commandos destroyed eight MIG19 jets in a raid against a Chinese Communist mainland air base.

* * *

It marked the first time Nationalist Chinese officials reported specific results by their agents on the mainland.

A National Defense Agency spokesman confirmed Hong Kong newspaper reports that the commandoes struck a Red air force base in Kwantung Province Nov. 19 and destroyed the MIG interceptors on the ground.

"The report is correct," he said.

The spokesmen said the raid was carried out "by our anti-Communist fighters on the China mainland in stepped up operations during the chaotic cultural revolution."

* * *

It was a reference to Communist party leader Mao Tse-tung's struggle to purge foes in the Red army, government and party.

Nationalist Chinese officials previously have said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek's forces are increasing guerrilla raids on the mainland. But today was the first time they reported the results.

* * *

"We are checking through our intelligence channels to find out more details," the spokesman said.

U.S. Road Toll Over 200 for Holiday Period

By The Associated Press

The number of traffic deaths on the nation's streets and highways during the long Thanksgiving holiday weekend climbed past the 200 mark today.

* * *

With more than half remaining of the 102-hour holiday period that began at 6 p.m. local time Wednesday and continues to midnight Sunday, the traffic toll stood at 211.

For comparative purposes, the Associated Press made a survey of traffic deaths covering a 102-hour nonholiday period equal to that of the Thanksgiving holiday.

From 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 8, to midnight Sunday, Nov. 12, there were 567 deaths reported.

* * *

Motorists were faced with hazardous driving conditions in sections of the West, Southwest, North and Northeast.

SLIPPERY ROADS

The Weather Bureau reported that highways in 15 states were slippery from rain, snow or freezing rain.

The National Safety Council makes advance estimates of the number of persons expected to die on the highways all holidays except Thanksgiving.

The council feels that most Americans spend this holiday at home, and consequently, there are fewer cars on the highways than during most other national holidays.

* * *

The worst accident reported thus far during the Thanksgiving period took the lives of four 18-year-olds at Tell City, Ind. Their car ran off a road and hit a tree.

150 Red Troops Reported Killed in Hard Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — U. S. cavalrymen and helicopter gunships beat off a Red ambush of an American truck convoy today in the central highlands in one of three sharp actions reported to have cost the Communists 150 dead.

* * *

Enemy troops struck the truck column on Route 19 about 3½ miles east of Pleiku.

Reinforcements and helicopter gunships helped drive the enemy off. U.S. officers said 32 Communist troops were killed and seven captured.

U.S. infantrymen reported killing 118 Communist soldiers in two battles—with bazooka-firing Vietcong who attacked near Saigon and with entrenched North Vietnamese troops far to the north in the Que Son Valley.

* * *

In a fierce 11-hour battle that raged until dark yesterday, the U.S. infantrymen claimed killing 61 enemy soldiers. They reported seven Americans killed and 42 wounded and two armored personnel carriers destroyed.

The U.S. Command, revised downward its estimate of Communist military strength lined up against the allies in South Vietnam, putting the total at between 223,000 and 248,000 men.

Announcing a complete overhaul of its intelligence appraisals of the enemy's potential, headquarters omitted from its new tabulation 40,000 Vietcong political agents previously included.

'New North Viet Rocket Units Down 1 U.S. Plane Every 2 Shots'

MOSCOW (AP) — A Soviet correspondent declared today new North Vietnamese rocket divisions, which he said went into action in August, have shot down an average of one U. S. warplane for every two missiles fired.

That would be a remarkable improvement over the showing made by hundreds of the Soviet-made surface to air missiles fired in earlier months of the war.

U.S. authorities attribute to conventional ground guns the great bulk of the 755 planes officially acknowledged lost over North Vietnam.

Yevgeny V. Kobelev wrote in the magazine Za Rubezhom — Life Abroad — that U.S. pilots have been forced to change their tactics and "study the art of outmaneuvering rockets."

* * *

Kobelev did not clarify how the new crews differed from those previously operating in North Vietnam.

* * *

"The American planes became easy targets for the rockets," he said. "The pilots were forced to approach their targets at a low altitude and at great speed."

Report of Son's Death an Error

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn. (AP) — Pfc. John W. Guinn, whose mother thought she buried him last Tuesday, flew home from Vietnam today and said he knew the soldier who was mistakenly buried in his stead.

GUINN

Guinn, 23, of Elizabethton, said he and Pfc. Quinn W. Tichenor, 23, of Louisville, Ky., were in the same company.

"I'm glad they've got it all straightened out now," he said before he boarded a commercial flight to Seattle. He arrived earlier at McChord Air Force Base near Tacoma, Wash., on a military flight.

* * *

Guinn said Tichenor was in the 2nd platoon of his company and he was in the 1st. "We took advanced infantry training together at Ft. Polk, La."

* * *

Guinn said he talked to his mother, Blanche Guinn, by telephone from Vietnam Thanksgiving Day, but she didn't tell him of the mistake.

UNAWARE OF MISTAKE

Until a Seattle Post-Intelligencer reporter talked to Guinn at the Seattle airport, he was unaware of the mistake.

The Army said in a statement that two members of Guinn's unit mistakenly identified the body of Pfc. Quinn W. Tichenor, 23, of Louisville, Ky., as that of the Tennessee soldier.

The identity was not verified, through a standard check of fingerprints by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, until Tichenor's body had been buried.

"I went through some other woman's grief," Mrs. Guinn said Thursday. "He (Tichenor) resembled John so much."

One of 10 children, Guinn was drafted last April and went to Vietnam as a member of Company A, 1st Battalion, 35th Infantry, 4th Infantry Division. Tichenor was in the 31st Regiment of the 4th Infantry.

'Police Can't End Causes of Crime'

DETROIT (UPI)—Detroit Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said today police could do little to remove the causes of crime.

"While police are charged with deterring crime, they can do little to prevent crime in the broader sense of removing its causes," Girardin said in a statement.

* * *

"On the whole, they must accept society as it is — a society in which parents fail to raise their children as law abiding citizens, in which schools fail to educate them to assume adult roles and in which the economy is not geared to provide them with jobs," he said.

Tough Nasser Talk Firms Israeli Stand

JERUSALEM (AP) — A tough speech by President Gamal Abdel Nasser, warning that Egypt will fight if necessary to get its territories back, today strengthened Israel's determination that a settlement can be reached only through direct negotiations with the Arabs.

One Israeli diplomat said Nasser's speech Thursday "torpedoed" hopes raised by Egypt's acceptance of the U.N. Security Council resolution on the Middle East and "puts us back at square one."

★ ★ ★

"That's why we want direct talks with the Arabs — not a U.N. arranged settlement," the source said.

Nasser ruled out such negotiations or an armistice with Israel in an address to his National Assembly and said the Israelis must evacuate all areas of Egypt, Jordan and Syria siezed in the June war.

FORCE THREATENED

"What has been taken by force cannot be recovered without force," he warned.

Optimists at U.N. headquarters in New York suggested that Nasser might be talking tough to keep his people quiet, a standard tactic of his. But Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said in New York: "We take it as an authentic expression of Egyptian policy."

★ ★ ★

Nasser, in his first public statement in four months, said he was not satisfied with the U.N. peace formula adopted on Wednesday. Israel has said it was willing to cooperate with the proposal.

★ ★ ★

The plan, sponsored by Britain, calls for appointment of a neutral peacemaker to promote a permanent settlement, Israeli withdrawal "from territories occupied in the recent conflict," an end to the Arab state of belligerency with Israel and the recognition of all nations in the Middle East "to live in peace within secure and recognized boundaries."

'EGYPT TO WAIT'

Rather than endorse this, Nasser said "Time is on our side" and that Egyptian forces should wait until ready.

"When the time comes, we will not be on the defensive," he declared, "if we resort to military action, our friends would understand and even support us."

★ ★ ★

Gunnar Jarring, the Swedish ambassador to the Soviet Union, has been named special U.N. mediator for the Middle East. He said he would probably fly from Moscow to New York Sunday for talks with U.N. Secretary General U Thant.

"It's not been possible to follow the situation too closely from here," Jarring said. "I'm not entirely in the picture, so I can't comment."

SOVIETS HOPEFUL

The Soviet Union, which backed Egypt and Syria with arms during the June war and has been replacing some of the Arab losses said in the Security Council that it would have preferred another peace formula. But a prominent Soviet commentator, Viktor Mayevsky, wrote today in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda that the resolution "could be a step toward a political settlement."

"The task now," he said, "is to fulfill the decision and immediately withdraw Israeli troops from all the territories occupied by them."

★ ★ ★

As Israel reads the resolution, it does not have to withdraw until other provisions of the resolution are fulfilled, and the mention of "secure and recognized boundaries" means it is not held to those which limited Israel before the war.

Biafra Rebels Ready to Negotiate Peace

LAGOS (UPI) — Nigeria's breakaway province announced today it is ready to negotiate an end to the five-month-old civil war with the federal government.

★ ★ ★

A broadcast by the rebels, who proclaimed the independent republic of Biafra, said there is "still room for cooperation.

It was one of the strongest indications the civil war, which has cost thousands of lives, may be nearing an end in this most heavily populated African state.

The broadcast came as four African heads of state began their second day of talks in Lagos with the military ruler of Nigeria, Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon. The leaders came to find a solution to the fighting.

★ ★ ★

Gowon told the visiting leaders yesterday there is no possibility of the war ending unless the breakaway eastern region of Nigeria abandons secession.

NOTHING SPECIFIC

Today's broadcast said nothing specifically of ending the secessionist movement.

★ ★ ★

Birth Defect Could Be a Result of LSD

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI) — The first documented case of a child born deformed after its mother had taken LSD during early pregnancy was confirmed today by a pediatrics professor at the State University of Iowa.

Dr. Hans Zellweger said the women, a 19-year-old Iowa resident who took LSD on four occasions during the seventh week of pregnancy, gave birth to a baby girl with a deformed right leg.

He said he and his associates had confirmed that the malformation was similar to babies born with physical defects during the Thalidomide drug episodes of the early 1960s.

Dr. Zellwegger said that while no absolute findings that LSD would cause deformity if taken during pregnancy could be made without further research, he indicated the hallucinogenic drug might cause birth defects if taken by expectant mothers.

★ ★ ★

From his home here, Dr. Zellweger called the research "presumptive evidence."

He said studies of Thalidomide babies showed that the infants were born deformed when the drug was taken during the seventh week of pregnancy.

His research showed the Iowa woman had taken LSD — and no other drug — four times, including during the seventh week of pregnancy.

The amount taken was enough for her to experience hallucinations, he said.

"This connection between Thalidomide and LSD is the reason why we suspect there is a causel relationship between the LSD intake of the mother in this case and the malformation of the baby," he said.

Flint Boy, 5, Hangs Self Accidentally

FLINT (UPI) — A 5-year-old Flint boy apparently hanged himself accidentally in a closet at his home here on Thanksgiving day, police said.

★ ★ ★

The boy's mother, Mrs. Jean Olson, said she found her son David hanged from a clothes hook in the closet, a belt tied around his neck.

★ ★ ★

A stuffed doll was hanged in the same manner next to him, police said.

★ ★ ★

Police speculated the child may have jumped or fallen from the chair in the closet.

Former GI Claims U.S. Viet Atrocities

ROSKILDE, Denmark (AP) — A young Negro who said he was a former U.S. infantryman told the so-called Russell war crimes tribunal today about atrocities he claimed he and other Americans committed in Vietnam.

David Kenneth Tuck of Cleveland, Ohio, gave the testimony at the tribunal set up by Lord Bertrand Russell to try to show the United States is guilty of war crimes. Tuck said he had served in Vietnam as a private first class in the 33rd Infantry Regiment before returning to the United States last February and becoming a mailman in Cleveland.

Tuck said he once saw a Japanese-American behead an injured Vietnamese prisoner with a machete and then throw the head downhill "as a warning to other prisoners that we meant business."

The incident occurred near a Special Forces camp, he said, "after the first battle involving my unit. Everybody was angry with our heavy losses."

BARBED WIRE CAGE

Last January, Tuck said, he saw a South Vietnamese soldier put a knife into the body of a captured Vietcong who was tied up and lying on the ground.

★ ★ ★

"Since he still refused to speak, he was placed in a cage made of barbed wire," Tuck said. "He lay there on his hands and knees for a full two days. He must have been a superman because he never spoke up. An American officer was present and gave the orders."

★ ★ ★

In March 1966, Tuck said, he himself shot a Vietnamese woman who had not lined up with others after U.S. forces surrounded a village near the Cambodian border.

"The woman looked suspicious, an officer told me, and ordered me to shoot her," Tuck said. "I'm sorry I did it, but it was an order."

Tuck told the tribunal of being on board a helicopter carrying two North Vietnamese prisoners in November 1966. "When one of them started talking, an American threw him out of the copter—flying at 6,000 feet altitude—in order to make the other prisoner keep quiet," Tuck said.

He said it was general practice not to take prisoners except North Vietnamese officers. "We shot them. The only good Vietnamese is a dead one, we were told."

★ ★ ★

During cross-examination, Tuck said that after a battle many American soldiers "cut off the ears of the dead enemies. The man with the most ears was considered the No. 1 VC killer, and when we came back to camp, he got free beer," he explained.

Tuck asserted that most infantrymen in Vietnam are Negroes, Puerto Ricans or "poor whites." A total of 106 of 117 men in his unit were Negroes and this was typical, he said.

★ ★ ★

He stated he feared being killed "even by my own comrades" if he attempted to disobey orders. "They would have gotten rid of me one way or another."

Three Diseases in Resurgence

ATLANTA (UPI)—Three dreaded diseases which had been on the decline in the United States for a number of years showed signs of resurgence during the last year, according to U. S. Health Department officials.

The National Communicable Disease Center here reported noticeable increases in the rate of malaria, leprosy and diphtheria, according to its annual morbity and mortality report released yesterday.

Malaria cases in the United States during last year increased at the fastest rate in more than 30 years. The center said the sharp increase — from 147 in 1965 to 565 in 1966 — was caused by servicemen returning from Vietnam.

Also in 1966, 109 cases of leprosy were reported in 36 states. Leprosy had declined steadily since 1963. Ten years ago, only 36 cases of leprosy were reported in this country.

The center said although a sharp increase was noted in the number of cases of diphtheria, there was a decline in deaths attributed to that disease.

Ottawa Ending Death Penalty

OTTAWA (UPI) — The House of Commons has voted the abolition of capital punishment for murder for a five-year trial period, except for killers of policemen and prison guards.

The action was taken yesterday and requires only the formality of Senate approval and the traditional "royal assent" before it becomes law. Executions in Canada are by hanging.

Excepted from the measure are the capital crimes of rape and treason.

Vote on the controversial bill, a compromise measure defeated in Commons last year, was 114-87. Sixty-four members, including Prime Minister Lester Pearson, were absent and did not vote.

Pearson last week during debate on abolition supported the bill with an impassioned speech that included an attack on capital punishment on the grounds it is merely retaliatory and does not deter crime.

Pearson said that instead of exacting ultimate punishment for murder, Canada should seek to eliminate the slums, ghettos and emotional and personality disorders he asserted are responsible for murders and other crimes.

Sign-Up Deadline Near for Pageant

The deadline is nearing for potential Junior Miss applicants. Monday is the last day that the Pontiac Area Jaycees, contest sponsors, will accept applications for the Pontiac Area Junior Miss Pageant.

The pageant will be held Dec. 2, at 8 p.m. in the Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

Senior girls between the ages of 16 and 19 from the Pontiac area are eligible to compete.

Scholarships of $250 will go to the winner, and $100 scholarships to the runner-up. Merchandise awards will also be donated by local firms.

★ ★

The winner of the Pontiac Junior Miss Pageant will compete in the State Junior Miss Pageant in January, also sponsored by the Pontiac Area Jaycees.

NATIONAL FINALS

The state winner will then enter the national finals in Mobile, Ala., in March.

Contestants will not be judged on beauty, but on scholastic ability, mental alertness, poise and personality, along with physical fitness and creative talent.

School, Police Officials Will Meet Wednesday

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education has announced that it was inviting neighboring police departments to meet with school officials on mutual problems next week.

The superintendent and the five secondary school principals will meet with representatives from the Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Township and West Bloomfield Township police forces at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the board offices on Andover Road.

The meeting is being called to discuss methods and procedures for close cooperation regarding safety, traffic rules, vandalism and all facets of delinquency which concern both the police departments and the school system, said Supt. Eugene Johnson.

The meeting will be open to the public.

★ ★ ★

The board recently discussed the possibility of making a future addition to the administration building since office space has had to be rented outside the present building, said Johnson.

SWIMMING POOL

A formal dedication for the new swimming pool which was put into use this fall at the Andover High School will be Dec. 10.

★ ★ ★

Edwin Wichert will be on hand to discuss pool rules and regulations. Entertainment will be provided by some skilled divers and swimmers.

FRANKLIN — William White of 25860 14 Mile Road, journalism professor and chairman of the American Studies Program at Wayne State University, has been awarded a grant of $17,500 by the National Endowment for the humanities to work on the collected writings of poet Walt Whitman.

The grant comes through the Center for Editions of American Authors, a group of eight authors collaborating on writing the multivolume edition to be published by the New York University Press.

★ ★ ★

White, on a year's leave of absence from the Wayne State, is working on three parts of Whitman's collection including his diaries, journals and other unpublished prose; his newspaper and magazine articles; and a bibliography of all of Whitman's writings.

Police Official Talks on Riots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary of New York City has told President Johnson's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders the requisites of a riot include what he called "dry grass" conditions sparked into flame, fed by rumors and fanned by agitators.

Leary's testimony before the commission Sept. 20 was released Thursday. The commission was set up to investigate causes of last summer's riots and to make recommendations for dealing with the problem.

★ ★ ★

Leary described dry grass conditions as "a congested urban area, inhabited largely by persons who feel left out of the prosperity that marks most of the contemporary American society."

"It is marked by a rising standard of living," Leary said, "but an even more steeply rising scale of demands on society. There is generally a high level of frustration, an increasing amount of anger and almost always a feeling that comes from years of broken promises, and ranges from mute disappointment to outspoken rage."

POLICE ARE INVOLVED

The spark usually is an incident in which the police are involved, such as an arrest or the policeman's use of a gun, he continued. This is inevitably followed by rumors which magnify the original incident out of proportion, he said.

Thus, Leary testified, with the condition, the incident and the rumor, "Step No. 4 begins when the agitators appear on the scene, ready to promote their own aims and ambitions and programs at the expense of the community they profess to serve."

★ ★ ★

Leary told the commission the agitator inevitably turns his attention to teen-agers, exciting them into committing acts of vandalism.

At that point, he said, a sufficient police force is required—first, to prevent further vandalism and then to head off looting.

★ ★ ★

"This is a most critical area, because it is at this point that the agitator's efforts to turn disturbance into a riot will succeed or fail," Leary explained.

Student Grounded—It's Time for Book Learning

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Jean Saile, a Pontiac Press reporter, wife of a commercial artist and mother of six children, is taking flying lessons. This is the 13th in a series.)

By JEAN SAILE

Anybody like to ask me the four strokes of a piston? Intake — compression — power — exhaust.

MRS. SAILE

Want to know the four forces acting on an airplane? Thrust — drag — lift — gravity.

I've gone back to school!

Hindered by bad weather from continuing my private duel with the landing pattern at Oakland-Pontiac Airport, I've started ground school classes.

They'll be necessary if ever I am to win a private pilot's license.

★ ★ ★

Art Trowbridge is the instructor; and, while the first few classes are devoted to a general understanding of the workings of an airplane, it appears that the real crux of the matter is going to be a study of weather and course plotting.

NO STRONG POINT

Mathematics is about to assume an importance greater than the weekly grocery bill. Mathematics has never been a strong point with me, but Trowbridge assures that I will be tested and retested until I have the material in hand or head.

What this is all for, of course, is the Federal Aviation Agency test which says either I know my basics well enough to get a license or I don't.

While this course continues, I will also be continuing to fly. First, the landing pattern, then the solo, then about three more hours of landing patterns, about four hours in a practice area, then 10 hours of cross-country, and enough other hours in the air to the point that I know flying well enough that I can also take an FAA air test and hopefully pass it.

★ ★ ★

Ground school lacks the excitement of flying, but it is already answering questions that have occurred; and it is beginning to fill my admitted knowledge vacuum on the whys and wherefores of air travel.

PSYCHOLOGICAL BLOCK

It also has been explained that my hang-up on landing the airplane is probably psychological. A number of pilots have faced the realization that they're not really sure soloing is for them, according to Trowbridge.

Since soloing follows mastery of the landing pattern, it's here where the gremlins do the work.

"You know you've been instructed in every phase of landing, it's just working them out and getting them all put together. One day you'll be terrible, and the next day everything will be right," Trowbridge assured.

★ ★ ★

He's right, on the terrible part anyway!

Rivers Wants Spain in NATO

BRUSSELS (UPI) — A senior American congressman today said Spain is a better U.S. friend than France and should be invited to join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, told a surprise session of NATO lawmakers, "We need Spain as an ally and we need her now."

102nd Bite Worst

Snake Handler Listed Serious

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—While 50 tourists watched, a deadly Australian tiger snake plunged its fangs into the hand of Bill Haast, a professional snake handler. He is reported in serious condition, suffering from his 102nd and most dangerous snakebite.

* * *

"It was a brand new snake being handled for the first time," said Clarita Haast, wife of the 56-year-old herpetologist and his partner in the Miami Serpentarium, a tourist attraction.

* * *

Haast was rushed to a hospital in critical condition Thursday. After several hours in the intensive care ward, his condition was reported somewhat improved.

* * *

Haast claims he has built up immunity from snakebites through injecting himself over the last 19 years with a potion mixed from the venom of cobras, the green mamba, the coral snake and the Indian blue krait.

HORSE SERUM

Doctors inject such serum into horses, then bleed them to use their blood for snakebite remedy — but the horses usually die within two years.

* * *

After many of his snakebites — almost all of them suffered while taking venom daily from the snakes among the 700 reptiles at his serpent farm — Haast has refused medical attention because of his belief in his immunity.

Sometimes he has been near death, paralyzed, when rushed to a hospital. After one bite by a king cobra Haast pulled the fangs from his arm, cleansed the snake's mouth so it would not suffer ill effects, and continued his work until the venom began to work.

* * *

His eyelids dropped and his knees went rubbery. Breathing was difficult and he said sounds were tremendously magnified and colors wildly brilliant.

TOTAL PARALYSIS

Total paralysis wrapped his legs and he could not speak or open his eyes. He arrived at a hospital stiff as a plank.

"One moment, I was fighting for breath like a drowning person," Haast said. "Then a great wave of relief swept over me, like the relief a badly beaten fighter must feel when the bell ends the last round. I think this is the feeling of death."

* * *

Others have been saved from the brink of death by Haast since he quit the airline business 20 years ago and built his snake farm.

* * *

Haast's own blood is often a special lifesaver. In March Haast was flown in a U.S. Air Force jet and a Venezuelan air force helicopter to a jungle village in Venezuela to deliver his blood to a 5-year-old Indian who had been near death after being bitten by a snake. That was his 11th such mercy trip on record.

Soup Rattler Strikes Chef

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chinatown being what it is, Kun Loie wasn't surprised to get a rush Thanksgiving Day order for fresh diamondback rattlesnake.

* * *

So the 60-year-old proprietor of the Tsue Yuen pet shop pried the lid off a box he received recently from Texas and fondly beheld six pairs of beady eyes and six flicking tongues—rattling noises too.

* * *

Kun Loie stirred the group with a wooden fork until he found the rattler he wanted. He gingerly lifted the squirming serpent, when it suddenly struck his arm three times.

* * *

As Loie who was successfully treated with snake serum, was being transferred to Chinese Hospital, he explained to ambulance stewards what a fine treat rattlesnake soup is, especially when boiled for a week with herbs.

Lost Cobra Found at Zoo

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The 11-foot-long king cobra missing since Nov. 14 was found alive Thursday in a storage room of the reptile house at Forest Park Zoo.

* * *

Elzie Turner, zoo director, said the snake was found by Steve Boyd, a part-time zoo employe.

* * *

Buzz Ross, assistant supervisor of the reptile house, captured the snake and returned it to its display case.

Ross said the cobra had apparently suffered no ill effects during its 10-day disappearance.

Farmington School Vote Near

FARMINGTON — School district voters here will consider Monday a $9-million bond issue and a 5-mill operating increase.

The bond issue is the second part of a total $12-million package presented to voters more than a year ago. District voters approved $3 million of the package in June 1966.

The bonding program will finance a third senior high school, a fifth junior high, the 19th and 20th elementary schools, and about 50 acres for future school sites.

Supt. Roderick Smith said that the administration anticipates no increase in the debt retirement tax levy.

He explained that the bonds will be retired over a 30-year period and that the district can receive assistance from the State School Bond Loan Fund.

The millage increase for 10 years would raise the school's operating tax levy from the curernt 23.4 mills to 28.4 mills. The total tax levy, including the 9 mills for bonds, comes to 32.4 mills currently.

Passage of the millage increase would make the total levy 37.4 mills.

Salaries, wages and fringe benefits will take up most of the millage increase.

The superintendent also points out that enrollment has gone up by 912 students this year to a total of 15,264.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday.

Voting places are Precinct 1, Farmington Junior High, 33000 Thomas; Precinct 2, Dunckel Junior High, 32800 12 Mile; Precinct 3, Eagle Elementary, 29410 W. 14 Mile; and Precinct 4, Middle Belt Elementary, 24400 Middle Belt.

* * *

District residents permitted to vote are those who are registered voters and own property.

State Road Toll for Holiday Is at Least 9 So Far

By The Associated Press

At least nine persons including an Orchard Lake youth have lost their lives on Michigan roadways during this Thanksgiving holiday weekend, most in two-car collisions.

Five died in collisions with other cars, three died when they lost control and ran off the road and another was a pedestrian struck down by a motorist.

The Associated Press count, which began at 6 p.m. Wednesday, ends Sunday midnight.

The victims:

Lloyd W. Robinson, 39, of Detroit, who was killed early this morning when his auto ran off a Detroit freeway and struck a pole.

* * *

Warren H. Thomas, 45, of Detroit, who was killed yesterday in Detroit when his auto collided with another car.

William Flood, 45, of Benton Harbor, killed when he lost control of his car near Benton Harbor early yesterday and ran into a tree.

* * *

Gaylord attorney Melvin Freel, killed yesterday morning when the car in which he was riding struck a utility pole, 11 miles south of Gaylord.

Mrs. Mary Fendel, 73, of Portland, died in a Lansing hospital yesterday morning from injuries suffered Wednesday night. She was walking a half-block from her home to church when she was hit by a car.

Mrs. Betty Steffen, 25, of Detroit, killed yesterday morning in a two-car accident in Detroit.

Frank Heffner, 32, of Livonia, killed last night when his auto crossed the center line and collided headon with another car in Redford Township.

Richard Quinn, 22, of Detroit, killed when his car was hit by another vehicle, which crossed the center line in Detroit last night.

Richard Jordan, 18, of 3184 Middle Belt, Orchard Lake, killed early yesterday in a car-truck accident in Bloomfield Township.

8 Mills Asked for District

Romeo to Decide School Levy Monday

ROMEO — School district residents here will decide Monday whether they want to approve an 8-mill tax levy — three of which would be renewed.

The school system will be faced with an anticipated $100,000 deficit by next June 30, if the election fails, according to Asst. Supt. Robert Randell.

"A favorable election result will also permit us to draw up a preliminary budget for next year and begin salary negotiations with school employes and teachers," he added.

Polls will be open at the Romeo Junior High School and the Washington Elementary School from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

If the millage passes, residents would be paying a total of 27.6 mills, said Randell. The residents now pay 22.6 mills.

Five of the eight mills requested would be an additional tax; however, all would be assessed for five years beginning in December, 1968, he said.

This would be an additional cost to the taxpayer of about $40 a year based on $5 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

"Of the additional five mills, three would be needed to retire the debt and the remaining two would be for additional maintenance, six new school buses, some remodeling, and salary adjustments," said Randell.

* * *

He explained that each mill was worth $33,000 each year to the school district based on 92 per cent collection of taxes.

Choices for Appointments at Military Academies Set

Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-18th District, has announced his nominations for appointments to the U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force academies.

Five appointments will be made — two each to the Naval and Air Force academies, one to the Army academy.

The nominees have passed competitive examinations for the academy of their choice. After appointed, they must pass entrance exams.

Nominees are rated as principal and alternate delegates.

* * *

WEST POINT ALTERNATES

West Point alternates include Michael M. Aldrich, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Aldrich, 124 Glendale, Rochester; Frederick Van Vurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Vurst, 4889 Ardmore, Bloomfield Hills; and Roger D. Hershman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hershman, 3736 Thornbrier, Bloomfield Hills.

One of the two principal candidates for the Naval Academy, Annapolis, is George J. Quart, son of Mrs. Elinor H. Quart, 235 S. Glengarry, Birmingham.

Annapolis alternates are Thomas E. Snyder, son of Capt. Edwin K. Snyder of Washington, D.C., formerly of Birmingham; MacGregor H. Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Paul of Paxton, Mass., formerly of Birmingham; Keith C. Zajic, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Zajic, 3257 Wendover, Troy; and Stephen J. Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hopkins, 1423 Christian Hills, Rochester.

* * *

The 11 principal candidates for the Air Force Academy include Douglas R. Brower, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Brower, 3414 N. Adams, Troy; Michael Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Phillips, 1085 E. Snell, Rochester; William A. Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Rose, 6677 Timber Ridge, Birmingham.

Others are Mark C. Kraetzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Kraetzer, 1680 Norfolk, Birmingham; and Harold L. Chambers, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L Chambers, Sr. 47 Sheffield, Troy.

New Mascot at North Hill Is Feather in Students' Cap

ROCHESTER — Who's the smartest bird in town?

"The North Hill Owl — That's Whoo!"

Ask any of the elementary students who Wednesday ensconced the symbol of wisdom and knowledge as their official mascot.

Done to the accompaniment of a new school song, written by Mrs. Thomas Marsh, music teacher, and sung to the tune of "The Marine's Hymn," the installation ceremony created more excitement than has been seen in a long time in the elementary halls of learning at North Hill School.

"He is very wise and loyal and foresight is his trait. Our leaders look up to the owl, and help to keep us straight," sang the North Hill choir.

* * *

What they were looking up to was a former airplane hangar decoy, contributed by an anonymous donor, and outfitted in colorful felt finery.

YET TO BE NAMED

Presented to Ann Ungier, 11-year-old president of the student council, the owl is yet to be named.

It had to be representative of Rochester owls, for a display in the school hall noted that while most owls hunt at night and sleep during the day, "owls that are found in Rochester are the long-eared and short-eared owls and sometimes a snowy owl. The short-eared owl hunts by day and sleeps by night and eats mostly birds."

As everyone knows, no student should be a "night owl."

* * *

Quite descriptive of owlish habits, the display also noted, "They eat small mammals like mice, rats and moles. When they finish eating they regurgitate the bones, fur and feathers that they can't digest.

OWL PELLETS

It continues, "These are called owl pellets. They are found under roosting trees.

There were some rather graphic examples of such items in the case.

"Owls prefer to live in a pine grove. They use nests that other birds or small mammals make."

* * *

Come to think of it — that's probably pretty smart too, as anyone who has ever built a house can vouch.

Keego Officer's Futile Bid to Save Infant Recognized

KEEGO HARBOR — Auxiliary police officer David Erickson, 2955 Elam, has been recognized by the City Council for his attempt to save an infant's life Sept. 15.

Although Erickson revived the infant three times by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on the way to the hospital, the infant died at the hospital.

Also, the council has approved the renting of a building on Beachmont to house the City Department of Public Works machinery during the winter months.

City Manager Gary Dickson expects the rent from December through April to amount to about $1,000.

The council also approved the promotion of Mrs. Robert Ward, 2338 Willow Beach, from deputy treasurer to treasurer.

* * *

The promotion for Mrs. Ward, who has been employed by the city for four years, includes no increase in her $5,400 yearly salary.

Dickson, who is also city clerk, had been treasurer.

Commerce Twp. OKs Land-Fill Law

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A sanitary land-fill ordinance passed last night by the Township Board sets up controls tougher than those of the state. Some of the controls more stringent than the state law are those for fencing, greenbelts and setbacks, said Township Supervisor Robert H. Long.

A prospective operator of a land-fill must still obtain a permit from the township, according to a zoning ordinance already in effect.

The newly passed ordinance doesn't take effect for about 35 days.

* * *

It includes, as the state law, provisions regarding the covering of refuse.

SEWER LETTER SENT

The board also sent a letter to the Oakland County Department of Public Works stating the township's interest in participating in an interceptor sewer system which may become available in several years.

The system may be financed by special assessments to those serviced, said the supervisor.

6 Youths Arrested in Shelby Twp. as Arson Suspects

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Six Shelby-Utica area youths, including three 17-year-old girls, spent last night in Macomb County Jail on suspicion of arson.

They were to be arraigned today before Macomb Justice Edmond Schmidt in Mount Clemens.

Held were Carol Moore, 17, 47811 Burton; Michael Prowse, 18, 8714 Pemberton; Janice Dzierbicki, 17, 44287 Merrill; Marjorie Muszyski, 17, 8260 Rhode; Frank Tobey Jr., 20, 8471 San Marco; and James Good, 18, 4009 Goff.

They were arrested at 10 p.m. last night on 23 Mile Road west of Hayes near the site of an abandoned barn by Shelby Police Officers David Miller and Kenneth Stevens. The two officers said the barn showed evidence of an attempt having been made to set it afire.

* * *

The youths were picked up as officers were on their way to investigate an abandoned house fire at 23 Mile and Hayes. Another fire in an abandoned shed at 25 Mile and Mound roads had been reported previously.

Officers said an investigation linked the six with all three blazes.

The charge of arson is a felony and carries up to a maximum sentence of 10 years in jail.

OU Student Teacher Is First in Avondale

The Avondale School District has received the assignment of its first student teacher, Brenda J. Hamilton of Fraser.

* * *

A student at Oakland University, she will begin her teaching assignment in the Avondale elementary schools, according to Hobart H. Jenkins, assistant superintendent of schools.

2 Michigan Soldiers Are Killed in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced yesterday that two Michigan men were killed in action with the Army in Vietnam.

They are Pfc. High D. Scott, husband of Mary E. Scott of Adrian, and Pfc. Garry L. Reichard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reichard of Newaygo.

'Here Comes Santa' to Oxford Tomorrow

OXFORD — Santa comes to Oxford tomorrow in a 2 p.m. parade down Washington Street that will climax with his installation at the Santa Claus House in the Village Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Medaugh, Chamber of Commerce parade chairmen, report some 40 entries will take part. The parade will start at the junior high school and continue to Crawford Street.

Response to Detroit Hike

Novi Increases Water Rate

NOVI — Water rates have been raised in the village.

The increase was recommended by the village manager, Harold Ackley, and passed by the Village Council in response to higher rates charged by the Detroit system, which supplies the village.

The village will be absorbing a small share of the increase effective this week reported the manager.

The rate hike affects the minimum quarterly bill and the rate per 1,000 gallons over the minimum volume.

The increase ranges from 25 cents more each three months for 7,500 gallons of water with a ¾" main to $2.50 more each three months for 25,000 gallons with a 1½" main.

Clarkston Youth Group to Feature Panel Talk

CLARKSTON — A youth panel will be featured at the 8 p.m. Monday meeting of the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee.

* * *

Robert Brumback will serve as moderator for the session which is to take place at the Township Hall Annex, 90 N. Main.

Some 14 young people will participate. Refreshments will be served.

Avon OKs Ambulance Funds

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has voted to subsidize Fleet Ambulance Service to the cost of $500 a month on a six-month trial basis to keep the service available to the area.

The decision was arrived at following a combined meeting with city of Rochester and Oakland Township representatives.

It was passed by the board following a short executive session during its regular meeting Wednesday night.

Fleet had asked for a $1,000 a month subsidy in order to keep ambulances in the area east of Pontiac.

Rochester City Manager William Sinclair said he would recommend to the council Monday night that it pay $300 a month on a six-month trial basis. The remaining $200 a month is under consideration by Oakland Township, which however is partially served by ambulances from the Oxford-Lake Orion-Romeo areas.

PROPOSAL TABLED

In other business the board tabled its proposed water and sewer operating ordinance for further study. The ordinance, introduced for the first time at a special meeting last week, would provide for the construction and maintenance of some $8 million worth of additional lines.

Charted as part of the township's internal Phase I development program — timed to be ready when the Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor goes into useage in about two years — the plans call for 27 miles of additional sanitary sewers and 48 miles of additional water mains.

The sewer program would encompass 12 sections in the northwest portion of the township and the water program would include 26 central sections of the township.

* * *

Cost on the sewer program is estimated at $3 million and on the water system at $5 million by Johnson and Anderson engineering firm of Waterford Township.

FBI Boss Sees U.S. in Grip of Crime

The man who 43 years ago took a broken-down, corruption-ridden Federal law enforcement agency and built it into the world's foremost crime-busting organization has sounded an ominous warning to America.

HOOVER

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover declared that crime is costing the Nation $27 billion annually. He stressed that the 1966 increase in crime was 11 per cent over 1965 and that it climbed 17 per cent for the first six months of 1967 over last year's comparable period. Furthermore, that the growth of crime is outstripping that of population by 7 to 1 and has become the leading internal problem of the United States.

★ ★ ★

Contributing to the saturnalia of criminality under which thousands of Americans live in fear of their lives, Hoover said, are public apathy, misguided sociologists and well-meaning but misinformed public officers who rationalize the spiraling crime rate and excuse criminal behavior, judicial leniency and unrealistic parole practices.

He declared that society's most effective weapon against the present reign of lawlessness is full and stern justice.

"We need justice which keeps the balance true and affords the law-abiding public an even break. We need justice which deals swiftly and surely with the criminal. This means a quick arrest, prompt prosecution and substantial punishment of the lawbreaker."

★ ★ ★

The Press commends Hoover's authoritive summation to area law enforcement agencies and the judiciary for their earnest consideration, with the suggestion that they grade their fulfillment of public trust in the light of it.

Medicine Looks to Its Role in a Healthy America

The medical profession in the United States is exerting itself to expand its ranks in order to meet the needs of an increasing population and maintain the traditional personal, doctor-patient relationship.

Five new medical schools are opening this fall, and others are increasing their enrollments of beginning medical students. There are now 94 medical schools in operation, eleven more are pushing development programs. By the mid-1970s, they should be graduating over 10,000 students each year.

★ ★ ★

But these increases will probably not be sufficient to resolve the medical manpower problem. It takes from six to ten years from the time it is decided to build a new medical school until the graduation of the first class.

Two things are essential in maintaining the high standards of American medicine in the years immediately ahead. First, the incentives which encourage dedicated and gifted individuals to enter and complete grueling and costly medical training will have to be protected. Second, the entrance of government into the Nation's health care program must not be allowed to ensnare both doctors and patients in an endless, time-consuming efficiency-destroying morass of red tape.

★ ★ ★

Legislation alone cannot solve the doctor shortage or provide quality medical care. Government involvement must proceed with restraint and full attention to its impact on doctors, patients and the future of medicine itself.

Labor Secretary Takes Dim View of News

Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz has chided the Nation's press for printing so much bad news and so little good news.

★ ★ ★

He is tired, he says, of so much emphasis on Vietnam, inflation, riots and slum problems and so little on the positive accomplishments of the Kennedy and Johnson administrations.

The truth of the matter is there hasn't been any good news forthcoming from our Nation's capitol in quite some time.

Conscientious editors earnestly strive to present balanced reporting in the news columns of their papers. It could just be, however, that the bad news for which the Administration is responsible is so very bad these days that it completely overshadows the good news, despite the best efforts of the journalism profession.

Mr. Wirtz should think about that.

There's Madness in Modern Music

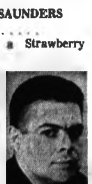
By DICK SAUNDERS

Ready, now . . . . .

1. What is a Strawberry Alarm Clock?

2. Can you get Incense and Peppermints from Peaches and Herb?

3. What is a rock group?



SAUNDERS

If you think this is a column about rare, exotic recipes for the lady of the house, you better stick around.

If you think a rock group is a club for people who collect gems, pebbles and other stoney trivia, you need this column.

★ ★ ★

Answer to No. 1 is No. 3.

The answer to No. 2 is No, only from No. 1.

The answer to No. 3 is No. 1.

Confused? Bewildered?

Here, then, are some terms guaranteed to soothe your frustrations: Cliquot Club Eskimos, The Happiness Boys, Benny Goodman, Frank Sinatra, Andy Kirk and his Clouds of Joy, and Bull Moose Jackson and his Bearcats.

What this is all about is music.

If you're a former flapper or bobbysoxer or anything B.B. (before Beatles), and you've turned thumbs down on the current trends in pop music, you are missing some real fun.

★ ★ ★

Only the music itself suffers from sameness. The names have changed . . . . substantially.

Strawberry Alarm Clock, for example, is a musical aggregation (rock group) that currently has a hit record titled "Incense and Peppermints."

Peaches and Herb recorded another hit, "Love Is Strange."

Likewise, a cowsill it NOT a milking device. It's a member of the Cowsills, another group.

★ ★ ★

Here's a question that will really date you: What is "Who," a song or a group of performers?

If you're unhip, it's "Who" as in "Who stole my heart away, etc." By today's standards it's The Who, a rock group, not to be confused with The Wonder Who, or Guess Who or Them.

And doors aren't for walking through. You listen to them, as in "People Are Strange," by The Doors.

★ ★ ★

There's the Fifth Dimension and Fifth Estate; The Association and Music Explosion—all musical groups. Jefferson Airplane has nothing to do with aeronautics.

Procul Harum is not related to David of soap opera fame.

Sandy Posey is not a dirty flower. She sings.

Then, there's Every Mother's Son, not to be confused with a West Coast group, The Mothers of Invention or an East Coast outfit, Oedipus and The Mothers.

★ ★ ★

It's a long, long way from Buck & Bubbles, Mills Ten Blackberries and Jelly Roll Morton and his Red Hot Peppers.

But it's a fun trip.

David Lawrence Says:

Clergy's Antiwar Role Protested

WASHINGTON — Much has been heard from time to time about "separation of church and state" in America. But a recent episode emphasized that clergymen feel they have a right to tell the government what to do.

LAWRENCE

While a Virginia pastor was reprimanded by the laymen of his church for expressing his criticism of the Vietnam war policy in the presence of the President of the United States — obviously an act of discourtesy — the real issue was not given much prominence.

For everything that the Rev. Cotesworth Pinckney Lewis said had been uttered before — and far more caustically — by pastors of various churches throughout the United States.

Indeed, national church organizations have issued declarations not only dissenting from the President's policies in Vietnam but also presenting demands for the ending of the war through a halt in the bombing and other moves.

Laymen in many parts of the country are protesting against the activist role of their preachers who participate in "lie-ins" or "sit-ins" and openly encourage "demonstrations."

★ ★ ★

In one city where a member of the staff of an Episcopal archdiocese had been urging men to burn their draft cards, picketing by enranged churchgoers ensued, and the bishop finally issued an order forbidding further acts of civil disobedience by his staff.

'INCONSISTENT'

An article in a Protestant magazine, "The Christian Century," declares that it is inconsistent for so many pastors to oppose violence in Vietnam but to advocate resorting to violence in the United States.

A top official of one church, however, has proclaimed that "revolution is our business."

A nationwide conference held under the auspices of the National Council of Churches heard delegates proclaim that churches not only should become "sanctuaries" for draft evaders but should sponsor a 24-hour general strike across the United States if the Vietnam war is escalated sharply.

Some delegates felt that the "complete restructuring" of society in this country might justify the arming of snipers and incitement to riot. One of the study papers said:

"Detailed mobilization of church resources must be developed to respond to confrontation between the police-military arm of the state and subjugated, robbed and excluded populations."

The trend toward militancy on the part of clergymen has been growing.

Many pastors feel that it is their function and duty to discuss public questions and, in effect, to persuade their congregations to take certain attitudes toward governmental questions.

In several countries in Asia, the Buddhists and other religious sects have for a long time assumed the right to influence governmental action.

Bob Considine Says:

Liberated Bedouins Cool to Conquering Israelis

THE MIDDLE EAST . . . No flowers, not even a dish of the plentiful local dates, were spread before the conquering Israeli forces as they clanked into El Arish, routing its 30,000 Egyptian defenders and sending them running for the Suez Canal.

CONSIDINE

The people of El Arish, a pleasant looking seaside oasis on the scabrous Sinai Peninsula, hated their Egyptian rulers. They are Bedouins. The Egyptians treated them like swine.

But they gave no cheers for the liberators, and since then have offered the most grudging kind of cooperation. Only 40 of the town's 90 schoolteachers showed up on the morning in September when the Israeli authorities recommended that classes be resumed.

(As elsewhere in the new territories, new textbooks had been distributed with hate passages deleted. These alterations were made in 55 of the Arab world's standard 130 schoolbooks.

★ ★ ★

For example, Arab children learned subtraction by such examples as: Our heroic soldiers met 11 Zionists and killed three. How many Zionists were left?

PICKETS

Still, the Arishi, as they call themselves to avoid being labeled Egyptians, would have little or no traffic with the newcomers.

Concerned about the education of the young, Israeli authorities brought in 50 Palestinian teachers to round out the faculties.

The Arishi picketed, a freedom they had never known under the Egyptians. Their banners read "Go Home Palestinians." Somebody threw a bomb at a school.

★ ★ ★

The Israelis were genuinely puzzled, but they soon learned. It seems they had held El Arish briefly during the aborted Sinai campaign of 1956.

When they quit El Arish, under heavy pressure by the major powers, the vanquished Egyptians immediately moved back.

They rounded up all Arishi believed to have cooperated with the Israelis and subjected them to horrid tortures, the commonest being the gouging out of the eyes.

The most respected Arishi, a local school principal who had kept his school functioning during the occupation, was vilely tortured, dragged to the public square and then executed. At gunpoint was the man's own son.

★ ★ ★

Now with U.N. and other voices demanding that Israeli forces return to the old borders once more, the Arishi feel they cannot safely play ball again with people who plainly wish them well.

Defeat of School Millage Discussed by Taxpayer

This is one time I wish there wasn't a secret ballot. Those who voted against the school millage in Waterford should be known and their children put on half days and deprived of the education facilities they turned down. I voted "yes" but my children will be penalized anyway.

★ ★ ★

People want the privilege of living in Waterford but they aren't willing to pay for that privilege. They fight requests for zoning changes that would bring the Township industry and added revenue that would help support our schools. It's time these people wake up to reality.

'Let's Stop Extra Check Cashing Charges'

Local food stores charge ten cents for cashing a check and the bank charges another then cents for the same check. The person paying by check is penalized. 'Most Felons Caught in Traffic Violations'

The largest number of murderers, robbers, kidnapers, thieves and wanted felons are caught by traffic violations. The policeman who does the dangerous work is the common patrolman. Most of the felons are caught in "wild chases." It is unfortunate that people don't realize that the police are a group of guys who have given their lives to the public for a salary far below that of a middle-class citizen so that our country might be a better place to live.

Question and Answer

Why can Friend of the Court help some people but do nothing for others? I gave them my ex-husband's address and phone number and they said they'd take care of it. I ended up calling Florida myself before I got the money I needed.

REPLY

It's a problem of too many cases and too few to handle them. Mr. Prout says there are 250 new cases a month, 3,000 new cases a year and 15,000 old cases with only two deputies to take care of them. They hope to do a little better after January, when they're getting a third deputy. In the meantime, work with the attorney assigned to your case, and if you don't get satisfactory service, you may ask for a personal appointment with Mr. Prout.

Vital . . .

Chicago's American

It is vital that Premier Eisaku Sato of Japan be able to show his people some tangible result of his negotiations in Washington with President Johnson on the return of Okinawa and other Ryuku islands to Japanese civil control.

Okinawa is a key American military base for the Vietnam war and cannot be relinquished at this time. But unless Sato returns home with more than a 10-gallon hat — the sole fruit of his last visit in 1964 — America may lose one of its staunchest Asian friends. Japanese leftists and nationalists are demanding return of control over the terriorty left under American administration by the treaty of 1951.

★ ★ ★

The solution to this problem lies in a compromise which will mollify the Japanese people and at the same time not jeopardize Okinawa, which also serves as a protective shield for Japan.

The best possibility appears to be the formation of a joint study group which could, for example, establish a timetable for return of some of the smaller nonstrategic islands and which could investigate means of changing Okinawa's status that would be in the best interests of Japanese-American friendship and security.

★ ★ ★

Feeling is running high in Japan over the islands which are strung out to the southwest of the main islands of Japan. The clash between police and 2,500 left-wing students just before Sato's departure is an indication of their fervor.

This force is combined with the wave of nationalism which has brought wide demands for return of the islands and their more than one million inhabitants to Japanese control.

★ ★ ★

With this pressure, positive but delicate results are needed from the Sato-Johnson talks. The main objective now should be to postpone the final decision on Okinawa until after the Vietnam issue is settled.

New York Daily News

Is Arizona last stop for convicted murderers?

At Phoenix, Ariz., a judge consigned to the gas chamber Robert Benjamin Smith, 19, who murdered five persons in a Mesa, Ariz., beauty college because he wanted publicity.

Smith's lawyer says he will appeal the sentence, which of course he has every right and duty to do.

★ ★ ★

But if Smith eventually goes to the gas chamber, it will be no loss to society. It will be a gain, because one killer will be made permanently unable to kill again.

This news story makes us yearn for the return of the death penalty (via the electric chair, or hot squat) for all murderers in New York State — and how about some hardy souls fighting for same in the 1968 Legislature?

Paris Subways Get Luxurious Improvements

PARIS (AP) — At its best, subway riding in Paris can be a pleasant affair. It's not always at its best, and they're working on that.

There are still mobs in rush hour, some stations are dark and odoriferous, and a lot of rolling stock shows badly its half-century of service. But the managers of the government-run Metro are pressing at improvements, and raising fares to pay for them.

* * *

Today, on an ideal trip, a Parisian can descend a wide stairway with white granite balustrade into a light, airy ticket room lined with tasteful window displays of modern furniture and Oriental carpets. His ticket may be either second class or first class (less crowded).

The tunnel decor is new enameled aluminum paneling in, say, prairie green, autumn brown and yellow. The commuter sees clean, up-to-date advertising posters and perhaps museum pieces in glass cases.

ART REPRODUCTIONS

He may even bathe his eyes with paintings of Van Gogh, Dufy and other masters reproduced in brilliant back-lighted collages of splintered glass.

A small box on the ceiling diffuses an aroma of pines — yes, a "perfumer." An air-conditioner wafts cool, filtered air over him.

In rubber-tired silence, the two-tone blue and pastel yellow train arrives and stops with a faint moan of the brakes. Sometimes an intercom can be heard giving traffic instructions, as on an airliner.

If there is no regular red plastic-cushioned seat available, the passenger might find a jump-seat. If left standing, he takes a firm grip on a polished chrome upright because the acceleration can take him off his feet.

When everyone is clear of the doors — a closed-circuit television monitor on the platform helps to verify this — the train is off with little more than a whir of the electric motors.

At the end of the trip, the rider may hear a clinking of hammers, but this only confirms that another station beautification or modernization job is under way.

* * *

Then, confidently, he strides aboard a "moving sidewalk" or an escalator which delivers him all the way to the street, relaxed and ready to face his job or his wife.

Well, perhaps.

These features exist on segments of the vast Paris system, but few riders encounter all on the same trip. The perfumers and air-conditioners, for example, are experimental only in a few stations. The majority of the system is still frequently stuffy and rattle-bang.

PNEUMATIC TIRES

Three of the 14 main lines have been placed on pneumatic tires, with two of them increasing capacity 25 to 30 per cent due to greater speed and longer trains — which also meant longer stations.

Rubberization is too slow to continue, however, there are only a few hours per night for work on the tire runways, and the ancient trains must be replaced faster before they wear out completely. There is no more time for track alterations — except possibly for one line on elevated rails.

New steel-wheeled cars in production will be almost as quiet as the rubber-tired jobs because of heavier insulation, officials say.

All this costs money, of course. Fares recently shot up, for example, from 11 to 18 cents a ride when a book of 10 first-class tickets is bought.

PAYS FOR ITSELF

But station beautification, progressing at about 30 a year, helps pay for itself, officials say. The prettier the stations, the more advertisers are willing to pay for space.

And presumably, the more pleasant it is to whisk under the city's traffic jams, the more often people will do it.

Short Strike Will Hurt AC

FLINT (AP) — Union members at the General Motors AC Sparkplug division in Flint will stage a walkout this weekend in the latest of a series of short strikes against GM plants.

A spokesman for United Auto Workers' Local 661 said the walkout was called to protest a short work week at some sections of the plant, excessive overtime at others, and the lack of settlement of local plant issues.

The 2,800 union members will walk out Saturday and plan to resume work Monday.

Turks Hold Edge on Cyprus?

By NICK LUDINGTON

ANKARA, Turkey (AP) — Turkey bowed to U.S. pressure in 1964, but this time it believes it holds the high cards to deal with the Cyprus crisis in its own way.

In Ankara's view, Turkey never has been in quite so favorable a position to press its demands. The Turks seem determined to make the most of their advantages and what they believe are disadvantages for the Greeks.

* * *

Aside from an overwhelming superiority in military strength, Turkey is counting on a strong psychological edge. Its government appears relatively stable and the people appear united in support of the government's stand on Cyprus.

News Analysis

Looking at their Greek neighbors, uneasy partners of Turkey in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization now but bitter enemies during most of their history, the Turks see a reversed picture.

INCREASING OPPOSITION

Ankara accepts as hard fact that the military dictatorship set up in Greece last April 21 faces increasing opposition at home and has become steadily more unpopular aboard.

For many Turks the Cyprus issue is a continuation of territorial conflict that began when Turkish warrior-nomads of the 13th century swarmed out of central Asia and grabbed at the decaying Greek Byzantine empire.

With the capture of Constantinople in 1454, Greece became part of the Ottoman Empire. Four centuries later, when that empire was tottering, Greece broke away.

After World War I, with Turkey weakened by defeat at the hands of the Allies, Greek troops occupied western Turkey. They were driven out by the late Kemal Ataturk, father of modern Turkey.

PART OF OLD EMPIRE

Cyprus is one part of the old Turkish empire that never belonged to Greece, though 80 per cent of the island's 600,000 residents are of Greek descent.

The Turks reject the contention that Cyprus should be part of Greece because most Cypriots speak that language, especially since the island is only 40 miles off the Turkish coast.

* * *

But it was pro-Greek agitation that finally forced the British to abandon Cyprus. The Turks demanded partition to give the island's 100,000 Turkish Cypriots freedom from Greek domination. They finally accepted a compromise that granted the Turkish minority a certain measure of autonomy under the Greek majority and a veto in key areas of legislation.

When the Greek Cypriot president of Cyprus, Archbishop Makarios, announced plans in December 1963 to take away those special rights, the two Cypriot communities went to war.

THREATENED INTERVENTION

Turkey threatened to intervene then. But it was a period of shaky coalition government and the United States pressured Ankara not to settle the issue by force.

A U.N. peace force moved to the island to end the civil war. At the same time, Turkey charges, Greece began clandestine troop movements to Cyprus. The Turks believe 12,000 Greek soldiers now are on the island illegally.

Under the 1960 agreement making Cyprus independent, Greece is allowed 950 soldiers there and Turkey 650.

When new fighting flared on the island Nov. 15, Turkey saw its chance. The Ankara government played the incidents up at home and handed Greece a stiff series of demands:

- Removal of Gen. George Grivas, the Greek military commander on the island.
- Return of arms seized from Turkish Cypriots after the Nov 15 fighting.
- Payment of compensation for the 25 Turkish Cypriots killed in the fighting and for property damaged.
- Withdrawal of any illegal Greek troops on the island.

Grivas has been recalled to Athens and it is believed he will not return.

* * *

The Turks consider this the big break. To strengthen their hand for the other demands they have created the impression of readiness to land their own troops on the island.

When he went to a woman's apartment to check on a complaint that the occupant was beating up a neighbor, the occupant didn't even wait to find out what he wanted. She opened the door and floored Officer Teubner with a right to the jaw.

Illinois U. Expels 7 for Dow Sit-In CHAMPAIGN, Ill. (AP)—Seven students have been expelled from the University of Illinois for participating in a demonstration Oct. 25 against a talent recruiter from Dow Chemical Co.

* * *

Another undergraduate and four graduate students were placed on probation.

* * *

The action was taken by a faculty committee on discipline headed by Prof. Arno Hill. The university, adhering to its custom, did not announce the names of the students.

The action was taken as a result of a sit-in in a campus building directed against a Dow recruiter who had come to the university to conduct job interviews.

Dow manufactures napalm for use in the Vietnam war and, for this reason, has been the target of several protest demonstrations.

Alfred A. Knopf, publisher and a 1912 graduate of Columbia College, received the 1966 Alexander Hamilton Medal, highest award of the Association of the Alumni of Columbia College.

Hunter's Shot Kills Boy, 14

PETOSKEY (AP) — A 14-year-old boy was mortally wounded by a hunter's stray bullet yesterday as he rode in a car driven by his father.

"I'm shot dad, you better hurry up," police quoted James L. Sobieski, but by the time he could be driven into Petoskey, an officer said, the boy was dead.

Police said the father, Leo M. Sobieski, was driving on a rural road just northeast of Petoskey at the time of the mishap. The hunter who fired the fatal shot could not be found, police said.

Churches Sway on Apartheid

South African Clergy Softens Race Stands

JOHANNESBURG, South Africa (AP) — The Dutch Reform Church, which backs the government's policy of apartheid, is gaining members. The Church of England, which in the main fights racial segregation, is losing them.

Other factors figure in church membership, of course, but the Rt. Rev. Leslie E. Stradling, Anglican bishop of Johannesburg, says: "The tide of opinion in South Africa is running more strongly in favor of the government."

Recently Anglican lay leaders in Cape Town rejected a proposal to teach that apartheid and racial segregation are morally evil. That drew a compliment from Prime Minister Balthazar J. Vorster.

"This shows how we have progressed," Vorster said. "These people are probably not government supporters and it is common knowledge that the Anglican clergy generally displayed a hostile attitude toward South Africa."

CONFIRMATION CANDIDATES

The defeated Anglican resolution proposed that all confirmation candidates and Sunday School children be taught that separate racial development is morally evil.

The Anglicans are of the same communion as Episcopalians. Canon C. T. Wood of Cape Town said the genuine Anglican attitude toward apartheid is "How can you do such a thing to your fellow man?"

The canon said that one reason the House of Laity turned down the motion was that it did not want to impose a point of view on the children of parents who back segregation. He added that rejection of the resolution taught the more ardent fighters against apartheid that it cannot be defeated by declarations of high moral indignation but only by slow, persistent exposure of suffering attributable to segregation.

Many Anglican preachers have for years crusaded against apartheid, but lately they have found that some communicants as well as some of their leaders are not so cool toward it.

READJUST THINKING

The archbishop of Cape Town, the Rt. Rev. Robert S. Taylor, is trying to smooth over differences among Anglicans. He has urged communicants to readjust their Christian thinking and prevent humiliation or suffering.

"South Africans should hang their heads in shame over incidents of apartheid injustice," he said. "It is impossible to estimate the amount of human suffering caused by government acts of racial legislation against the black man. It is always the economically less privileged who suffer."

* * *

Archbishop Taylor told of children humiliated because of their uncertain racial origin — they were neither white nor colored according to government measuring sticks. He said colored fishermen were deprived of their livelihood, people were herded into separate racial areas, families were split due to legislation and those who opposed the government's racial policy were banned, restricted or deported. "Colored," is the word used here for people of mixed blood.

Supporting the Anglican Church to varying degrees on racial issues are Methodists, Presbyterians and Roman Catholic worshipers. Differences of opinion arise among them as to the most effective way to meet the growing influence of the pro-government Dutch Church.

LESS FORCEFUL

Some Catholic, Presbyterian and Methodist churchmen, while opposing segregation and the support given it by the Dutch Church, shy away from the more forceful antiapartheid stance of Anglicans.

The Dutch Reform Church is the country's largest with 1.6 million white adherents. It reports its white following has grown more than 200,000 in the last 10 years. The Anglican Church reports a white membership roll of 390,000 and a drop of 30,000 white worshipers in the same period.

The Dutch Reform Church also claims the largest colored congregation, over 450,000. About 300,000 blacks are in this denomination. It receives a government subsidy of $3.5 million a year and has spent $6.02 million on mission work in non-white areas in the last year.

GLENWOOD PLAZA CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

Joanie Keeps in Step With Classmates

BRAINTREE, Mass. (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Joanie Hyland checked her blue sweater and gray skirt costume, then stepped off to the sound of the band with other girls from the Braintree High School drill team at halftime ceremonies of the Braintree-Milton Thanksgiving Day football game.

Joanie kept in position by counting the exact number of steps needed to go one way, then the exact number of steps needed to go another way, then the exact number of steps she should move in still another direction before turning again. During the difficult maneuvers her teammates whispered directions to her.

* * *

The pretty teen-ager needs a little extra help from the other girls—she has been blind since birth.

"Joanie has been with the drill team all this year," said her mother, Mrs. John F. Hyland, "but I never go to see her —I'd be very nervous if she goofed. But she does have a lot of fun."

DAILY PRACTICE

Joanie practices with her teammates every day after school but still finds time to keep on the school honor roll with a full load of college preparatory courses.

She studies braille textbooks and takes notes on a typewriter like machine which forms braille symbols on special paper. She takes her tests and does her homework on a regular typewriter and even goes to the blackboard to do problems in class.

* * *

"She's a very independent girl," her mother said, "and she finds blindness no handicap. In fact she often jokes about it."

Joanie once got into trouble in junior high school when she climbed onto the roof of the building.

"I wanted to see what it looked like," she said with a smile.

* * *

Mrs. Hyland said friends often call after a football game to tell her how well Joanie performed with the drill team.

"I think the best compliments come from the people who don't know her," Mrs. Hyland said, "because they don't notice anything different about her when she's marching with the girls. They think she's just like everyone else."

Spraying Start Decision Due

LANSING (UPI) — The Michigan Department of Agriculture plans to decide today when to begin spraying a section of the state with a controversial pesticide that conservationists claim can do "irreparable damage and harm to fish and wildlife."

B. Dale Ball, director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture, said the spraying decision would be made today. But he said weather conditions might prevent the spraying entirely.

The Michigan Surpeme Court declined Wednesday to hear an appeal by a New York-based group the Environment Defense Fund (EDF), to forbid the spraying of a section of land in Berrien County, an area in southwestern Michigan along the Michigan-Indiana border.

The fund, a naturalists group, is protesting the use of Dieldrin or DDT, to fight the Japanese beetle and Dutch elm disease.

* * *

Both a federal district court in Grand Rapids and the Michigan Court of Appeals earlier had refused to grant restraining orders against the spraying before the EDF went to the state Supreme Court.

MERITORIOUS BASIS

Handing down its decision Wednesday, the high court said the EDF failed "to persaude the court that they have a meritorious basis for appeal."

Victor J. Yannacone, attorney for the group, said he would have to study a possible attempt to seek action from the U.S. Supreme Court.

Fire Fighters Vote

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Firefighters Association re-elected Earl Berry as its president Wednesday and returned what it termed "a militant" executive board to office.

To Sing With Orchestra

Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Chorus will sing Vaughn Williams' "Magnificat" and Tchaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite," with the Pontiac symphony Orchestra. The concert is slated for 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in Pontiac Northern High School Auditorium.

* * *

Soloists for the "Magnificat" will be Alice Engram, alto, and Roger Welton, flutist. Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer is chorus director. The orchestra will be conducted by Felix Resnick.

* * *

Three instrumental selections will be performed by the orchestra: "L'Arlesienne Suite No. 2" by Bizet; "Romanza for String Orchestra" by Riegger and excerpts from Leonard Bernstein's "West Side Story."

The Tuesday Musicale Chorus was established in 1924. It is made up mainly of club members but anyone qualified may join.

* * *

Voices range from fine soloists to untrained singers, but nearly all of the current 50 members have had previous choral experience, according to Mrs. Gaensbauer. She says "The chorus provides women in the area an opportunity to continue musical growth and knowledge, relaxation through singing and friendship and fellowship through a mutually shared activity."

EXPERIENCED DIRECTOR

Director of the chorus for 17 years, Mrs. Gaensbauer has had extensive choral work, including training with Fred Waring and Robert Shaw.

She obtained her B.A. and B.M. with a piano major, from Parsons College in Iowa and her master's in music education from Columbia University.

SOLOIST

Alice Engram is a native of Detroit and was graduated from Hillsdale College. Following studies at Juillard School of Music in New York, she toured the United States on oratorio and concert engagements.

* * *

She was with the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company and New York City Center before coming to Oakland University four years ago.

She has been on the faculty of Oakland's Meadow Brook School of Music for the past three years and is director-producer of the Birmingham Musicale Opera Workshop.

FLUTIST

Roger Welton is a charter member of the Pontiac Symphony. He obtained his bachelor's degree in music from Michigan State University and his master's from Indiana University. On the staff of Pontiac School District for the past 10 years, he is instructor in instrumental music at Pontiac Northern High School.

* * *

Tickets for Tuesday's concert are obtainable at the door.

Cinderella Ball Funds Supply Buses, Clothing

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Mrs. Joseph E. Risdon, president of the Women's Committee of the TB and Health Society, reported at the association's annual meeting recently that $37,000 was realized from the Cinderella Ball. This money will go to buy more mobile X-ray buses and clothing for the children at the Maybury Sanatorium, as well as other equipment.

* * *

Attending the meeting from this area were: Mrs. Lewis D. Fykse who is social chairman, Mrs. John D. Richardson Jr. past president, and Mesdames: Charles L. Bricker, M. M. Burgess, John D. Daniels, Lloyd H. Diehl, Jr., John E. Jennings, J. P. Judd, Herman E. Reichart, Lynn A. Townsend.

* * *

Newly elected officers are Mrs. Risdon, serving her second year as president, and Mrs. William R. Shaw as executive vice president.

Mesdames Earl S. MacPherson and Irvin Hermanoff were welcomed in as new members of the association.

GLOBE-CIRCLERS

John W. Kinsey, president of the Circumnavigators Club, has announced that their 11th annual dinner will take place next Friday at the Mauna Loa Restaurant in Detroit. It will be a black tie affair with dancing following the dinner.

Mrs. Kinsey, who is in charge of decorations, promises something very unusual in the form of shell necklaces from Tahiti and fresh flowers from Hawaii.

* * *

Among those who have made reservations are: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. George, Mr. and Mrs. Vern D. Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dewey Hawthorne, the Henry C. Johnsons, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Meloche.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Nickel, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Thornhill, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Y. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wilson, Jr., the Edward S. Wellocks, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Van Degrift and Jack A. Frost.

George F. Pierrot will present the "Michigan Recognition Awards."

MRS. JOSEPH L. B. BENNETT

Today's Woman

Music Highlights Life

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

"They also serve who only stand and wait."

But Margery Bennett (Mrs. Joseph L.B.) of Illinois Avenue not only stands on the sidelines of every musical event in Pontiac — she cheers on the participants with her applause and her enthusiasm.

Young people presenting musical programs — and for that matter, any individual putting on a concert —have no better friend than Mrs. Bennett.

* * *

She has always been interested in music.

Before her marriage to the now-retired engineer from Pontiac Motor Division, Joseph L. B. Bennett, she taught music in the Pontiac schools.

She has raised her own family of three sons and now enjoys a flock of grandchildren who live in the area.

She could sit back and relax, feeling that others could do the work now. She and her husband like to travel. These are their leisure years.

Leisure?

As you would expect, she is a dedicated member of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale. She is on the board of directors of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

She's an active member of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall and a worker in the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital. As corresponding secretary of the latter she performs the task with her usual efficiency and willingness. At the hospital she works in the gift shop.

TIRELESS WORKER

But over and above her contributions within the framework of an organization, Mrs. Bennett is a tireless worker for better music—for more music—for encouragement of young talent. She's always pleading someone else's cause.

Most parents, after their children have graduated from high school, breathe a relieved sigh and vow they'll never go to another school musical event. Margery Bennett is the exception.

* * *

You'll always find her in the audience. Furthermore, she takes the time and effort afterward to tell the performers that she liked what they did. Or tell their parents how she enjoyed the concert.

She's a one-woman cheering section.

When approached about this article, she demurred, saying "Others are more worthy."

But we wrote it anyway and nominate her "Today's Woman," an important individual in the cultural life of our community.

Girl Is Unhappy

'Escape' Is Bad Basis for Marriage

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who has a very unhappy home life. My folks fight all the time. They have been fighting ever since I can remember. They treat me like dirt and I want to tell you, it is miserable and rotten.

ABBY

My boyfriend, Denny, is 17 and he comes from a home that's even rottener if there is such a word. His folks not only fight all the time, but his father beats his mother. Anyway, Denny has been crazy about me ever since eighth grade and we are thinking of getting married when he graduates from high school in June.

* * *

If the army doesn't get him, he hopes to work days at a garage and go to trade school for mechanics at night. He's real good with cars and motors.

Should I quit school and get a job when Denny graduates? I'd have only a year to go, and could finish later. We wouldn't have much money, but we wouldn't need much, and at least we'd have each other. I need advice. Thank you.

DENNY'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Don't use marriage as an excuse to get out of the house — no matter how "miserable" it is. I urge you to finish high school while you have the chance. The "later" you mention rarely comes. Children usually do, instead.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Can a girl get pregnant from kissing with her mouth open?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Not if she opens it to say NO!

DEAR ABBY: There is only one answer for HAMBURGER PUSS whose tender face was constantly irritated by her boyfriend's rough beard.

She should ask him to SHAVE AGAIN!

I had the same problem with my boyfriend (now my husband of 18 years). Old cactus chin used to tear up my face during those smooching sessions. Now, when I whisper, "Are you going to shave tonight, dear?" it sends him flying for his razor with flashing eyes. I wouldn't trade my heavy-bearded man for the most handsome peach-fuzzed face in the world.

Volunteers Will Find This Work Rewarding

A new and interesting role in the area of houman relations is available to volunteers who wish to participate in community services.

* * *

The position would involve public contact activity with business men, government officials and families in poverty stricken neighborhoods. Researching and staff committee meetings are just some of the important responsibilities for the volunteer willing to assume a new role in human welfare.

* * *

Housewives who enjoy communicating with people, retired school teachers, business, industrial retirees will have the opportunity to develop a whole new career in this field of human relations.

* * *

You are invited to call the Oakland County Volunteer Bureau, in Birmingham division of United Community Services of Metropolitan Detroit.

The Bureau will direct you into a whole new era of interesting activity.

This Mother's 'Workout' Is Never Done

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This article from a mother attending her first football game was submitted earlier in the season. It is no less hilarious to read now. With a few minor changes, here is Irma Facione's story.)

A football game can be a real workout for a mother. I found a game. I was there because they keep saying parents should do things with their children.

But it was nice, all this togetherness.

* * *

The game was on and the colors exciting. The other team wore green and white uniforms; ours wore red and white. Very Christmasy.

I asked my son if this was on purpose with the holidays and all soon coming up. He said, "For goodness' sake, Ma, don't you know anything? Watch the game."

But it was confusing. Those players were fighting over that ball all the time. They kept losing it or falling over it, getting in each other's way.

You could see they didn't know how to share. They wouldn't let any one guy keep his mitts on the ball for himself for awhile. Very impolite.

CHEERS

Then those bloodthirsty cheerleaders. They were something else! At first, I though them normal and mild looking, but it turned out they were very aggressive types.

I couldn't see it. A game is a game. I was there because I team was trying to clinch the championship of the Northwest Catholic League Second division, whatever that is.

Some of the stuff they egged us on to shout was revolting. I wrote some of their yells down and intend to report them for intentional cruelty to ballplayers.

Just to show you: They yelled, "Kill 'em, Bust 'em, That's our custom"; or they'd get even madder and scream, "Harder, harder, hit them again."

All very ungentlemanly. No way at all to treat the visiting team.

The teams were so mixed up. They couldn't decide which goal-post each side was supposed to score from. One quarter they'd give us one side, then they'd change their mind the next quarter and give us the other one.

* * *

It was really the visiting team at fault here: they were company and should've kept the post they got in the first place.

When our cheerleaders yelled, "touchdown, touchdown, we want a touchdown! Over there," and they'd point to the right post . . . well, that's when I knew for sure where ours was. Our team should've listened, too. We'd have made many more points.

Then there was this lady on our side -- she had her son playing out there. She kept beating her brains out yelling at us to cheer louder. I cooperated, but I was getting hoarser by the second.

My son said for sure that she was going to get a Junior Varsity letter for raising cheers. (I didn't know boys liked to write to old ladies.)

'DO AS YOU WOULD. . .?"

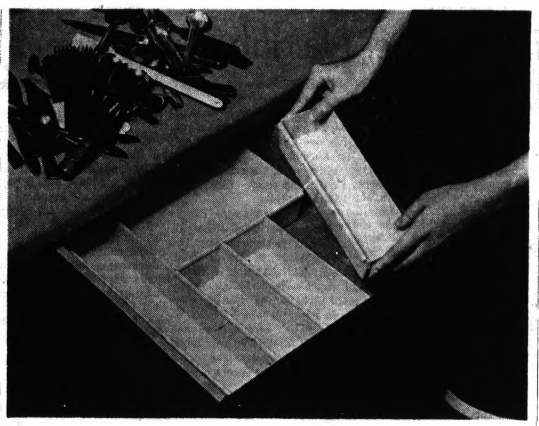
Both teams were practicing the Golden Rule all right. They were giving out just what they got. Players were falling to the right and left.

Odd men dressed in black and white convict stripes yelled, "Penalty! Penalty!" This made either one side or the other furious. I could tell when to get mad because our cheerleaders would start booing.

My son still was mad at me though. Especially when I yelled out to our player, "Watch where you're going, butterfingers. Don't spill that ball."

He said it was fumbling, not spilling. So what? The ball still was dropped.

But it turned out right in the end. Our team won, 14 to 12. I could have told them this would happen and saved all the fuss. A mother knows these things. . .



Drawers are often an organizational disaster area even for the most fastidious homemaker but new instant drawer organizers from Rubbermaid turn disaster to order in drawers throughout the home. Instant drawer organizers divide and conquer the clutter of silverware, cutlery, kitchen utensils, bath and hair supplies, cosmetics, jewelry, sewing notions, tools — all the items that seem to make orderly drawers only a dream. The box-like organizers are available in three sizes — 3" x 9", 6" x 9" and 3" x 15". They easily interlock making it possible for the homemaker to create her own organization combinations. Available in department stores.

Club Announces New Members

Three women were accepted as new members when the Pontiac Women's Club met Monday in the Boy's Club of Pontiac, Inc. They are: Mrs. D. J. Mogg, Mrs. Ervin Christie and Mrs. Joseph Pollina.

* * *

A guest, Mrs. Roadley Silkey was present when Boys Club director, Cressey Larson, spoke before the group.

* * *

Hostesses for this meeting were: Mrs. W. H. Eustice, Mrs. S. M. Pierson, Mrs. Guy Bevington, Mrs. Alfred Danton, Mrs. Alfred Coles and Mrs. Wilbert Colwell.

Short Hair Style Most Flattering to Many Faces

Short hair is extremely flattering to a variety of face shapes from perfect oval to square. It has the added appeal of minimal upkeep.

* * *

After shampooing and partial drying, comb your hair into place. Then, a series of ringlets should be formed. Bangs and hair at the nape of the neck can then be held in place by using tape.

Once hair is taped and curled, a light application of hair spray should follow. If you use a hair dryer the finished style can be combed out in less than a half-hour.

To determine if a concrete floor is dry enough to paint, lay down a three-foot square piece of linoleum. If after two days, no dampness shows under the linoleum, the concrete is dry enough.

Unit Announces Recent Election

Barracks Forty-Nine of World War One and Auxiliary met recently at the Legion Home.

* * *

Officers were elected as follows: Mrs. Carl Shindorf, president; Mesdames William Carls and William Jens, senior and junior vice presidents; Mrs. Ayers Miller, chaplain, and Mrs. Harold R. Schingeck, treasurer.

* * *

Others were Mrs. Allan Hersee, and Mrs. Leo Mineweaser

Make miniature Christmas trees for Christmas table decorations or favors. Several days ahead of time take pine-cones and tuck each one to a small square of wood. Then sprinkle grass seed in the scales of the cones and set in a pan of water. By keeping the cones moist, the grass-seed will sprout green in all directions, making lovely miniature trees when you are ready for them.

When ironing lightly starched small girl dresses or bonnets, skip the tiny lace trimmings. When the whole garment is ironed, shape and stretch the still damp lace with your fingers.

To keep children from losing one of their mittens, try sewing half of a dress snap to one glove, and the other half to the other. Then the gloves may be snapped together when they are removed.

Police Fire Into Student Mobs in India

CALCUTTA, India (UPI) — Police fired into student mobs today in the third consecutive day of street fighting over the ouster of West Bengal's left-wing state government by Premier Indira Gandhi.

* * *

At least one student was reported killed and many wounded.

At New Delhi, Mrs. Gandhi's government defeated, 215-88, a no confidence motion in Parliament.

In Calcutta's Jadavpur university section students smashed government buses and hurled rocks at police when ordered to disperse. The police then fired.

Both men successfully passed civil service examinations to establish elegibility for promotion.

'Dad, Son Pals' Is Slogan of New YMCA Program

"Pals Forever, Dad and Son" is the slogan adopted by Y-Indian Guides, a new father and son program for boys 6-9 years of age, recently inaugurated by the YMCA of Greater Pontiac.

Using the life of the American Indian as the major theme, neighborhood tribes of about eight fathers and their sons hold meetings every other week in the home of one of the members.

Although new to the Pontiac area, there are already some 500 tribes in Michigan and more than 170,000 in the United States.

It is the goal of the Pontiac YMCA to develop 20 tribes in Pontiac in the next few months.

* * *

Any interested father and son may participate. A small membership fee is required, but prior YMCA membership is not necessary. Inforamtion is available at the YMCA, 131 University.

Woman Hurt in Area Crash

A 57-year-old West Bloomfield Township woman is in poor condition at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital following a two-car accident in Independence Township last night.

Injured in the 7:40 p.m. crash was Lucille M. Osterstuck of 6535 Leytonstone.

* * *

The other driver, Andrew J. McIntyre, 34, of 30 S. Church, Ortonville, was not hospitalized. His 7-year-old son Andrew was treated and released.

The accident at Ortonville and Cranberry roads is under investigation by the sheriff's department.

Rochester Youth Recovering From 2-Car Mishap

A Rochester youth, injured in a two-car accident yesterday morning in Waterford Township, is listed in good condition at Pontiac General Hospital.

He is Richard T. Melstrom, 20, of 303 W. University.

* * *

Driver of the other car was Larry A. Zaika, 18, of 4079 Louella, Waterford Township. He was not hospitalized.

Township police said the accident happened on Walton Boulevard near Shawnee Lane.

Over $500 Stolen From Bowling Alley

Thieves made off with $115 in bills and $400 to $500 in change at the Sylvan Lanes Bowling Alley, 2355 Orchard Lake, West Bloomfield Township, sometime early this morning.

The missing money and damage to a storage room and main office were discovered at 8:20 this morning by a maintenance man, township police reported.

Police are investigating the case.

Wanted: Footman Must Be Discreet

LONDON (AP) — The progress of modern man has dropped a little sand in the well-oiled gears of Queen Elizabeth's household machinery.

Buckingham Palace acknowledged today it has found it necessary to advertise for a footman.

* * *

The homely truth is that not everybody wants to be a servant, not even of Her Majesty, in this day and age.

The advertisement specifies a footman to be 20 to 35 years of age who will be given a three-room apartment with his own bath and kitchen. Salary is never disclosed by the palace.

MUST BE DISCREET

The palace demands discreet people, pledges never to disclose what goes on in the queen's private life, and a cast-iron promise not to write any books or newspaper stories even after they quit the service.

The need to advertise isn't exactly a development of this week. It has been done before by agencies representing the place but the market for the kind of loyal servants needed for the sovereign clearly is growing more narrow every year.

* * *

The footmen are only part of a staff of around 25 or so who tend doors, handle meals and otherwise keep the royal family properly served. The age requirement for footmen is sheer logic: that walk from the palace kitchen to the breakfast room is about a quarter of a mile. And footmen are what the name implies: they don't sit around, they stand and walk and stand again.

Some of their livery, provided by the queen, is regulation day to day suiting but often they need to don the knee breeches. How about good legs, at least for looking-at purposes?

MOVE AROUND

"Oh, we don't really look at their legs and demand anything special," a palace spokesman said with an amused chuckle.

The domestic staff moves around quite a bit, from Buckingham Palace to Windsor or to Balmoral in Scotland. When the sovereign moves as many as 60 people are likely to move with her.

* * *

The servants, by and large, are loyal. In an atmosphere much more relaxed than under previous sovereigns they have a tendency to stay on their jobs. But time takes its toll, some get married and look for other types of employment. Of course, quite a few get married and remain—there's no bar to that.

* * *

In the old days, staff recruited replacements through their own network but that practice seems to have died out.

The emperor Charlemagne was illiterate until his old age, but priceless classical manuscripts were preserved because of his foresight.

Chess, Checkers Buffs Challenged

Chess and checker buffs will have a chance to compete against an acknowledged master at 7:30 p.m. tomorrow at the Adah Shelly Library, East Rundell at Glenwood.

Newell W. Banks, holder of several records in the field of chess and checkers, will take on all comers. Those wishing to play, will pay a "minimal charge" for each competition a spokesman said.

Red Forces May Use Port in Cambodia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Some U.S. military leaders express concern that North Vietnam, Red China and the Soviet Union are planning to use a Cambodian port to get arms and ammunition to Communist forces in South Vietnam.

* * *

This development could come if the stepped-up U.S. bombing of land routes from North Vietnam seriously slows up the movement of supplies southward. It is expected that the intensified bombing attacks, begun in August, will begin showing their effects perhaps in January.

* * *

The port in neutralist Cambodia is Sihanoukville, on the Gulf of Siam.

* * *

Although there have been military studies of a possible quarantine or blockade of the port, it is believed that this country's top civilian defense leaders would not approve of such a step under present conditions.

HAIPHONG RESTRICTED

Washington has refused to authorize the bombing or mining of Haiphong harbor in North Vietnam, where Soviet ships deliver supplies. The reason is a wish to avoid direct confrontation with the Soviet Union or Red China which could lead them to more directly enter the Vietnam war.

* * *

It is for much the same reason that a quarantine or blockade of Sihanoukville would likely not be approved.

* * *

In addition, the United States is seeking to avoid further trouble with Cambodia's chief of state, Prince Sihanouk, who already is hostile to the American effort in South Vietnam.

* * *

Sihanouk professes neutralism in the war, but with or without his approval, U.S. military officials say, his country has been used as a sanctuary by Viet-Cong and North Vietnamese forces for rest and resupply purposes.

CAMBODIAN VEHICLES

Information available indicates any arms brought into Sihanoukville for Communist forces in South Vietnam is hauled up country in trucks—possible Cambodian army vehicles furnished by corrupt officers.

* * *

One theory is that the road used by such trucks was built by U.S. aid funds. The goods then are transferred to North Vietnamese trucks which move through Cambodian territory to the front facing Kontum province in South Vietnam.

Ionia Fair Profit

IONIA (AP)—The Ionia Free Fair reports a $37,597 profit from the eight-day run last August, double the $18,403 of the previous year. Secretary-manager Corris Teachworth said $20,000 would be used to improve the fair. The jump in profits was attributed to increased patronage of midway shows and rides and the parking lot.

S. Viet Army Due Upgrading

Staged Modernizing Planned by Pentagon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon authorities are studying U.S. military proposals to re-equip the South Vietnamese army so it can take on a larger share of the war burden.

Modernization of the Vietnamese army, development of better leadership, and the instilling of self-confidence are basic to Gen. William C. Westmoreland's hopes for beginning at least a token withdrawal of U.S. troops by late 1969.

* * *

The United States has been trying to fashion the South Vietnamese army into an effective fighting force for six years or more.

But Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Vietnam, believes this objective is within grasp and is basing his program on that faith-judging by his statements in Washington this week.

STAGED PROGRAM

The plans envision a staged modernization program to provide the South Vietnamese regular army with about 225,000 M16 rifles and with M60 machine guns by December 1968.

In 1969, the South Vietnamese would be given a considerable number of helicopters and new ground vehicles such as personnel carriers. More Vietnamese airmen would be trained as helicopter pilots.

* * *

The United States now provides most of the air power and artillery for the South Vietnamese army. There is no indication of any major change in this—possibly because U.S. military leaders in Vietnam have used control of these important resources to apply leverage on the South Vietnamese when persuasion was needed.

The Vietnamese army now has a mixture of M14 rifles and carbines, except for a relatively small number of the M16s given to the South Vietnamese elite airborne and marine units.

HIGHER RATE OF FARE

The M16 is lighter than the M14 and has a higher rate of fire than either the M14 or the carbine.

The South Vietnamese regular forces number some 334,000 men, and there are indications virtually all of them eventually will get the M16.

* * *

Westmoreland reportedly won approval in principle of his proposal but details aren't firmly set. No dollar figure on the cost of the project was available.

Detailing his plans at the National Press Club last Tuesday, Westmoreland said that in 1968 his command intends to "provide new military equipment to revitalize the Vietnamese army, and prepare it to take on an ever-increasing share of the war."

COUNTING ON DECREASE

He also forecast that next year the United States is counting on decreasing the number of military advisers "where the professional competence of Vietnamese officers makes this possible."

American military leaders in Vietnam envision the time when the United States might confine its ground military efforts to shielding Vietnam's frontiers from incursions of North Vietnamese regulars, turning over to the South Vietnamese the job of securing the country's interior and stamping out the Communist insurgents and remaining North Vietnamese soldiers inside the country.

* * *

The South Vietnamese army still would be aided with American troops, but the main security mission would be the South Vietnamese army's job.

U.S. leaders in Saigon still opposed the idea of a joint command in which Americans would direct deployment and employment of South Vietnamese troops in battle.

Such a joint command, it is felt, would create friction, problems of "face" for the South Vietnamese, and undermine the self-confidence and expertise which the Americans are trying to instill into the South Vietnamese officers.

Time Is Short as Chrysler Talks Resume

DETROIT (UPI) — The Thanksgiving Day recess behind them, Chrysler Corp. and United Auto Workers bargainers today returned to negotiating on a contract to cover 8,000 salaried workers less than 72 hours before a midnight Sunday strike deadline.

* * *

The nonproduction workers will walk off the job unless they get a contract to match the one obtained for the 95,000 production and maintenance workers Nov. 8.

Little progress has been reported in the bargaining but both sides have expressed optimism a settlement can be reached.

UAW President Walter Reuther was expected to join the bargainers tomorrow morning. And his aides have said they expect continuous sessions to run right up to the Sunday midnight deadline.

* * *

A walkout by the salaried employes, mostly clerical and engineering personnel, would not tie up Chrysler operations immediately. But all of the company's production could be halted within a week.

PREPARING FOR GM

UAW strategists also began preparing for a resumption of main-table bargaining at General Motors Corp. Monday. Negotiations with the industry giant have been at a virtual standstill while the union dealt with the Ford Motor Co. and Chrysler.

* * *

Reuther has left GM as the last target in this year's round of bargaining. He will take the Ford and Chrysler settlements to GM and probably will ask the world's largest corporation to better the average $1 an hour wage and fringe benefits package he got from the two companies.

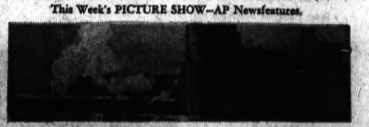
This Week's PICTURE SHOW—AP Newsfeatures.



MORALE BOOSTER — While entertaining Israeli troops following the battle of Sharm El Sheikh, Ron Eliran, one of Israeli's most popular singers, collaborated with two soldiers to compose a song about the battle. The stirring rhythm and poignantly inspiring lyric pushed the song to No. 1 on the Israeli Hit Parade.

Israeli War Inspires Songwriter

By JOAN CROSBY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK — The sun was setting over the Red Sea. Israeli soldiers were relaxing in Sharm El Sheikh, having wrested it from the Egyptians, thus extending the southern boundary of Israel by about 125 miles.

Floating over the soft warm air were the sounds of a guitar and the melodious voice of Ron Eliran, one of Israel's most popular singers.

He had volunteered to entertain the troops even before hostilities broke out, and now as the smoke of battle cleared away, he was helping the soldiers forget the recent brutality.

Suddenly, Eliran stopped singing and called out, "We have to write something about this place."

★ ★ ★

With two other Israeli soldiers Raphael Gabai and Amos Ettinger, he began to strum his guitar and hum a tune. Words began to come. He and the other two men would hit on a phrase and sing it over a couple of times.

SONG BORN

Occasionally, the other soldiers would suggest a word change and they would try it out. Soon a song had been born. It was called, fittingly, "Sharm el Sheikh."

Someone there had a tape recorder. The song was recorded and flown to army headquarters. The army put Eliran's recording on the radio as a news bulletin, announcing that Sharm El Sheikh was Israel's.

They played it eight times in the next few hours. It was heard on other battlefields and its stirring rhythm and poignantly inspiring lyric became an instant morale booster.

★ ★ ★

Eliran, who had been a combat photographer during the Israeli war of independence, was flown to Mount Scopus in Jerusalem, once again in Israeli hands, where he became the first sabra to sing in the great natural amphitheater since 1948. He performed "Sharm El Sheikh."

MONTE CARLO

About 10 days after the pocket war ended, Eliran was sent to Monte Carlo for a song festival. He sang his song there and was heard by representatives of Decca Records.

They signed him to a recording contract and rushed him into a studio to record his song with English words.

The singer says there are hundreds of untold tales of heroism. There is the story of the Israeli alone in a tank who fought Arabs for eight hours and survived, even though he was wounded three times.

★ ★ ★

Or the tale of the two Arab pilots who became confused by Israeli intelligence giving orders in Arabic. One pilot was convinced that the other MIG was an Israeli plane and shot it down. When the Arab ground forces saw one of their planes downed, they were convinced the other plane was Israeli and shot it down.

Shuffle Seen After War

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The demands of the Vietnam war have sent certain industries skyrocketing. But what will the space and defense market look like when the war is over?

There's going to be quite a shuffle, according to a six-month study just completed by an ad hoc committee of the Electronic Industries Association, an organization of firms engaged in electronics manufacturing and research.

The committee did not try to determine the actual loss in dollars that might face specific fields within industry. Instead, they attempted to map out the shape of the post-Vietnam space and defense markets, so that companies due to be hard hit could plan ahead to protect themselves.

The biggest market victim of the war is the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, the committee says. Even if the war ends in 1969, it predicts, three years later NASA expenditures will have shrunk to some $3.2 billion, compared to $5,425 billion spent in fiscal 1967.

And the pressure will get worse if the war lasts longer. If conflict doesn't end until 1971, the economic crush will be so great that in the following year, NASA's spending will be crimped down to a trifling — for NASA $2 billion. It should then crawl back up to $3 billion in the next two years, according to the report, and $2 billion will probably be as low as it will go, barring more wars.

OTHER SPACE SPENDING

The Defense Department's sky-spies and other satellites as well as projects such as the Air Force's Manned Orbiting Laboratory, is a different story. Military space spending is expected to keep going up, the committee says, until by 1976 expenditures will be three times as high as they were in 1966 and 60 per cent higher than in 1967.

Crap Shooter, Beware! Table's Loaded

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—I have often heard crap shooters talk to the bones, but broadcast to them? Sounds farfetched.

WEST

Yet, according to the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), that is the latest variation in one of the oldest games known to man — loaded dice.

To make its point, the FCC gave a demonstration Tuesday of the first radio-controlled dice table ever to fall into the hands of the law.

This one was seized by Maryland State Police, who initially weren't sure exactly what it was they had stumbled upon.

It was an FCC engineer, J.J. Freeman of the Baltimore office, who finally figured it out.

★ ★ ★

As explained at the demonstration, an ordinary plastic-top table of the type widely used in motel dining rooms is rigged up as a radio receiver.

IDEAL SETUP

Since the table is portable, it is ideal for floating crap games.

Then the sharpie who is running the game conceals in his pocket a radio transmitter about the size of a teen-ager's transistor.

All he has to do is activate the transmitter; and the dice, which are loaded with magnetic material, come up seven.

★ ★ ★

For the uninitiated, I should explain that seven is a "natural." Roll that number on the first throw and you win. Roll it when you're trying to roll another number and you lose. Being able to roll a seven at will is, therefore, a sweet position to be in.

This sort of thing is not only crooked, it is illegal. There is a federal law against operating an unlicensed radio transmitter. Which explains the FCC's sudden interest in the sport.

And what particularly pains the FCC is the fact that the dice table operates on the same frequency the federal government uses.

With Freeman rolling the dice and Patrick Scanlon of the local office operating the transmitter, the FCC staged a crap game to illustrate the advantages of dice broadcasting.

Each time Scanlon pressed the transmitter button, Freeman rolled 6 and 1. Even when the dice were at rest, the transmitter could make them hop over to those numerals.

OTHERS POSSIBLE

Although this was the only dice broadcasting table uncovered thus far, the FCC said it is quite possible that others are in operation. So, dice shooters, beware:

Your next outing may be with the oldest, established, permanent, radio-controlled, floating crap game in New York.

City Man Gets Probation in 2 Traffic Deaths

A 26-year-old Pontiac man was placed on one-year probation and ordered to pay $100 court costs today in the traffic deaths of two Royal Oak teenagers two years ago.

The sentence was ordered for James E. Rosser, 312 Clifford, by Oakland County Circuit Judge Robert L. Templin.

Templin had delayed sentencing Rosser since he pleaded guilty six months ago to negligent homicide.

Rosser was the driver of a car that collided with another at Telegraph and Elizabeth Lake roads Nov. 7, 1965, killing William R. Cosper, 19, and Judy L. Bonfield, 17.

Radio's Glory Days Kept Alive by 'Tape Nut'

NEW YORK (AP) — Big-time radio has been dead now for about 18 years, but it is not forgotten by those who grew up during its heyday.

* * *

One man who remembers it, and loves it, and even longs for its return, is Frank Buxton.

Buxton describes himself as a tape nut who has preserved thousands of hours of old radio programs for — well, certainly not for radio's return, but for the enjoyment of hearing the familiar voices just once more.

"Fred Allen was like a god to me when I was growing up," he said.

TEAMS WITH COSBY

Buxton, a radio and television personality, and author of "Radio's Golden Age," will attempt to bring back a little of the old flavor when he teams up with Bill Cosby in January for a five-minute, five-day-a-week radio comedy program.

* * *

"Radio was a powerful force in our lives," he said. "It was the sole source of entertainment in our lives for many of us during the depression. And it was free during a time when we needed something free."

* * *

As an example of radio's force, he cited Orson Welles' program on "The War of the Worlds," that in 1938 drove some people from their homes and convinced many others that the earth was being invaded by Martians.

* * *

"It was beautifully done. It was an absolute documentary approach," Buxton said. "The war jitters at the time helped it go over."

What is behind radio's mystique?

* * *

"I think for one thing the past is always remembered as better than it was," Buxton said. "And for another it's possible to re-create or find all the artifacts from the days we were growing up, from comic books to the old movie serials.

* * *

"But the one thing that's missing is radio. It's not possible to turn on your radio and re-create the past unless you're a tape nut like I am.

* * *

"It's impossible to describe to a child what radio used to be like. Radio was a theater of the mind. You made the hero what you wanted him to be. No one had to paint a castle for you because you did it much better with your own imagination," he added.

MYTHS EXPLODED

Buxton also explodes a few of the myths about radio.

The story has long been repeated that Kato, the valet for "The Green Hornet," was Japanese until World War II, then turned overnight into a Filipino.

"That story's apocryphal," he said. "Kato was referred to as a Filipino almost two years before Pearl Harbor."

* * *

Another myth is that of Uncle Don, the host of a New York children's program, who told the kiddies goodby and then, thinking he was off the air, added, "I guess that'll hold the little ——."

"That never happened," Buxton said, "but after I wrote about the myth in my book I got three letters from different parts of the country saying it had happened to their own local versions of Uncle Don. I believe it's a trick of memory."

School Bond Vote

GREENVILLE (AP)—Greenville School District voters will be asked in February to approve a $1.4 million bond issue for an extensive building and remodeling program which includes renovation of the intermediate school, new football field and track at the high school and additions and renovations to five elementary schools.

4-State Talks Asked on Lake Michigan

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — Gov. Otto Kerner requested Wednesday that Secretary of Interior Stewart Udall call a conference of the four Lake Michigan states to discuss water pollution.

The governor's office said Kerner has been unsuccessful in arranging a meeting of the governors of Indiana, Michigan, Wisconsin and Illinois.

* * *

Kerner asked Udall to call a conference after the Christmas holidays "to act on problems common to maintenance of this natural resource of vital importance to the health, welfare and economic well-being of the citizens of our four states."

Junior Editors Quiz on CAMERAS

Question: What are the main kinds of cameras — how do they work?

* * *

Answer: All cameras have lenses which focus light rays on a light-sensitive film. During the fraction of a second or so, after you press the button, the light is allowed to come through and images are imprinted on the film.

* * *

After being rolled, the film is taken from the camera. It retains a chemical memory of the images, which are developed with special chemicals, giving transparent negatives, from which the final positive prints are made.

We illustrate three of the most popular camera types. Box cameras are bought by most beginners because they are quite inexpensive. But these cameras, although reasonably priced, are not toys; excellent pictures may be taken with them.

The more expensive 35 millimeter cameras use moving picture type film and carry small rolls which give many pictures. Fine lenses and high speed shutters enable these cameras to capture such shots as the hummingbird in flight.

* * *

The reflex type is popular because you can look into such a camera, see just what you are going to get and focus it with precision. This principle is also used in many 35mm cameras.

For Ownership of Beach

Ex-Fisherman Fights Ohio

By NOEL GROVE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

KELLY'S ISLAND, Ohio — (NEA) — The battle for a beach continues on the north side of this little island in Lake Erie, with the state of Ohio and a former fisherman both claiming rights to the property.

Skirmishing, done mostly behind the lines so far, is scheduled to begin in earnest soon in court.

The state contends an option given it for purchase of the property two years ago should be honored.

The fisherman, and current holder of the deed to the property, 34-year-old Ben Elfers, says the option was illegal, and for that reason was later rescinded by the Fisherman's Co-operative that owned the land. The property was then bought by him through his father, a member of the co-op.

* * *

Both Elferses maintain the option was illegal because the co-op's secretary offered it to the state without consulting other members of the organization.

Regardless of who has rights to the land, the state has the edge. Should the court rule for Elfers, Ohio can still call out its heavy artillery — condemnation.

HIGH PRICE

Elfers' ace-in-the-hole is his hope that if the land must be appropriated, the price, due to its commercial potential, could discourage the state from buying it.

State-owned land now almost completely surrounds the property. Officials in the Ohio Department of Natural Resources say they need the additional land to complete their plans for a state park.

Standing in their way, feet planted and jaw set, is young Elfers, with plans of his own.

* * *

Elfers harbors a lifelong dream of his own dock and marina, with possibilities later of converting a sturdy old two-story building on the property into a lakeside restaurant. He maintains he and the state can work together.

WOULD COMPROMISE

"They don't need it all," he says bitterly. "I'd even be willing to give up part of my little beach if they'd let me keep some."

The state has its park and the bay, he points out, and all he asks is a chance to develop his own little bastion of private enterprise to supplement the area. "Why should I want to block their park plans?" he says "A park can only enhance the business I have in mind."

State-owned land now totals nearly 600 acres on the island, with less than 50 of it developed. The developed area is the sandy beach and campground adjoining the Elfers property.

* * *

Work on extending a breakwater and dredging out the bay and an inland cove will continue when the Elfers property is secured, say state officials.

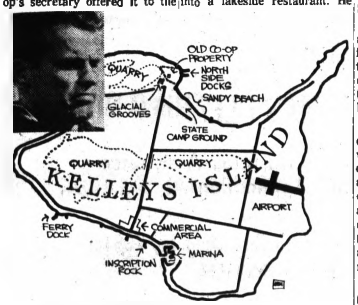
STATE'S CONTENTION

They contend it is more desirable to work with an area when it is all under their control, and that it assures that nothing "incompatible" with a state recreation area may be installed nearby.

Into the fray have leaped residents of the island, some siding with the state, some with Elfers, pitting members of families against each other in some cases. Harsh words have flown, and what started as a court case has ballooned into a semi-feud, the viciousness and durability of which only small town residents can fully appreciate.

Commercialism as well as petty jealousies have reared their heads, with value of adjoining properties and devaluing of south side interests at stake.

The calendar for the year 1912 and that for 1968 are identical.



DISPUTED PROPERTY — No island retreat, this spot of land is in Lake Erie off the Ohio mainland. State politics and a local feud over ownership of the old Fisherman's Co-Operative property on the north side keep Kelley's Island hopping. Claiming ownership is fisherman Ben Elfers (inset) while the state park department wants the land to go with their adjoining campground.

Qualifying Keglers Swell in Pontiac Open Tourney

Some 300 more bowlers will take the lanes this weekend in the second round of qualifying of the Pontiac Open Bowling Championship.

Huron Bowl, Lakewood Lanes and Fairgrounds Bowling in Milford are the sites for the qualifying and there are openings for fill-in spots on all squads except the 2:30 p.m. Sunday squad at Huron which is filled.

★ ★ ★

Bowlers who enter early squads will have the opportunity to re-enter on later squads in the same house or in another house, should they fail to hit the target score of 600.

Qualifying will begin at 11:00 a.m. at Lakewood and 1:00 p.m. at Huron on Saturday.

On Sunday, Huron and Lakewood will begin squads at 10:00 a.m. and Fairgrounds will have afternoon squads only at 2:00 p.m. and 4:00 p.m. and one to follow if necessary.

If past qualifying is any indication, at least 100 more bowlers will reach the semifinals this weekend by rolling at least 600 inclusive of their handicaps.

★ ★ ★

Last week, 70 bowlers made the grade and now await the semifinals December 10 at 300 Bowl. The finals of the tournament are slated for Huron Bowl December 17th.

AMONG LEADERS

Women are responding in great numbers in the qualifying and several women are already among the top qualifiers as result of last weekend.

The Team 'N Match total of 3,180 posted at Cooley Lanes by a five man squad from 300 Bowl, led by Les Rothbarth's 751 total, leads this feature team part of the tournament.

In the Mix 'N Match doubles, a check of the entries this week showed that Walt Conta and Nancy Jarrell, who marked their entries as a doubles' total at 300 Bowl, lead this feature with a 1277 total.

Conta qualified with a 634 and Miss Jarrell had a 643 second best singles total at 300 Bowl.

Bowlers should register for their squads at least 15 minutes before bowling time. Failure to report could mean disqualification.

Dallas, Oakland Triumph in NFL, AFL Contests

By The Associated Press

Thanks to Dallas' Bob Hayes and Oakland's stingy defense, the Cowboys and Raiders used Thanksgiving Day to move closer to a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

★ ★ ★

Hayes sped to three long-yardage touchdowns that sparked the Cowboys to a 46-21 victory over St. Louis Thursday night in the Cotton Bowl and sent them nearer the National Football League's Capital Division title and a holiday season shot at the NFL championship and Super Bowl.

And at Kansas City, Oakland intercepted four passes and returned two for touchdowns as it clobbered Kansas City 44-22, enhancing the Raiders' chances of replacing the Chiefs as champions of the American League's Western Division by Christmas and as AFL champs by New Year's Day.

★ ★ ★

Oakland, 9-1, still has one major obstacle in the West, the San Diego Chargers, 8-1-1, who also have visions of titles after sinking Denver 24-20 in San Diego.

Dallas retained at least a two-game lead over Philadelphia and Washington with the Eagles playing at New York Sunday and the Redskins at Cleveland. The Rams sit a half-game behind Baltimore, which invades San Francisco.

The other Sunday NFL games match Atlanta against host New Orleans, visiting Green Bay against Chicago and Minnesota against Pittsburgh in Pittsburgh.

Boston plays at Houston and Buffalo at Miami in the AFL before the big clash between Oakland and San Diego the following week.

Hayes turned back the clock for Dallas by racing 69 yards with a punt for a 14-7 lead and then taking touchdown passes of 59 and 34 yards from Don Meredith. Lance Rentzel caught two more scoring passes, one from Meredith and one from Dan Reeves, in the second half of the nationally televised NFL doubleheader.

Courtney Leader in Puerto Rico

DORADO, P.R. (UPI) — Chuck Courtney, a 27-year-old California golfer who has had his ups and downs on the professional trail, figures the winter Caribbean tour may be just the thing to get going again.

Mike Souchak was tied for second.

Courtney, of La Jolla, Calif., demonstrated some of the skills that stamped him as a top prospect when he joined the PGA tour four years ago Thursday as he took the first round lead in the $17,500 Puerto Rican Open.

The Southern California golfer shot a blazing five-under-par 67 Thursday to grab the lead over the Dorado Hilton golf course. He had rounds of 32-35—67 to outdistance his nearest competitors by three strokes.

Souchak, of Oakland Hills, Ross Coon Jr., and Edgar Davis all posted first round 70s.

Vetran Arf Wall Jr., of Honesdale, Pa., Wilf Homeniuk and Vicnent Sullivan all followed with 71s and 12 others shot even par 72.

Wall, a favorite on the Latin-American tour, had rounds of 36-35 for his 71.

Tiger Stadium Crowd Heckles Motor City 11

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

If any of the 200,000 people in downtown Detroit yesterday morning thought the annual Hudson's Mummers parade was funny they should have been in Tiger Stadium in the afternoon.

There were 54,389 who did go to the ball park and most of them had their Thanksgiving Day appetites spoiled as the Los Angeles Rams whipped the Detroit Lions, 31-7.

★ ★ ★

Even the turkey probably put up a better fight before it got the ax for the traditional holiday dinner.

The Lions were offenseless and defenseless against the Rams who will be cheering now for arch-rival San Francisco to defeat the Baltimore Colts Sunday.

Los Angeles is 8-1-2 in the Coastal Division behind the Colts who are 8-0-2, but in their final two games the Rams have Green Bay and Baltimore to play on their home grounds in the LA Coliseum.

Against the two Coastal Division teams, Baltimore and LA the past two weeks, the Lions have been touched for 72 points while scoring only 14.

Yesterday, the anemic offense produced 38 yards passing and 70 rushing, and in 61 offensive plays (four more than the Rams) the Lions had an average gain of 1.8 yards per play.

The holiday crowd got its vocal cords ready for the bigger holidays ahead by booing Karl Sweetan, cheering Milt Plum and then booing Plum at the game's end.

BIRD IN HAND

LA coach George Allen shouted "Give me a bird in hand and you can have the draft choices," in the locker room after the game.

★ ★ ★

Allen was referring to the castoff veterans he obtained prior to the season, Roger Brown, Myron Pottios and Maxie Baughan, all defensive men who squelched the slightest offensive threat made by the Lions.

It was the Lions' defense, a pass interception by Dick LeBeau, which set up the lone Detroit TD in the first quarter. LeBeau took the ball on the 35 and he returned it 27 yards to the eight.

Two plays later Tom Nowatzke went over Roger Brown and Lamar Lundy for a three yard touchdown.

Three questionable plays took place in the second and third periods and all three favored the Rams.

★ ★ ★

Early in the second quarter, Roman Gabriel passed 39 yards to Jack Snow along the sidelines for a touchdown. Snow made a great over head catch, but many Lions argued that Snow had one foot in the wide out of bounds area.

★ ★ ★

Another play later in the period involved a pass to Mel Farr. Farr slipped to the turf as a pass from Sweeten came to him. The ball bounced away as he was being hit, but it was ruled a fumble and the Rams had the ball on the Detroit 17 on a recovery by Chuck Lamson.

Two plays later Gabriel passed to Billy Truax for an easy eight-yard touchdown and the half ended 14-7.

With only three seconds left in the half, and after a Lion punt, the Rams utilized the old rule of asking for a free kick, trying for a field goal from their own 45 yard line. The kick was short and thus is ruled a kickoff. It was taken by Tommy Vaughn on the four. He almost broke away after picking up 38 yards.

The Lions had the Rams on the run in the third quarter with Plum calling the signals, keeping LA back on its own goal line, but an interception and fumble helped the Rams get into good field position for the 17 points fourth quarter.

★ ★ ★

The interception was also a disputed call. Plum pitched out to Mel Farr, who pitched back to Plum. The QB then tried to pass from the Ram 13 to Gibbons for what would have been the tying touchdown. Jack Pardee, however, stepped in front of Gibbons, grabbed the ball and continued juggling it until the ball touched the ground at the 13.

TOOK OVER

The Lions thought he never had complete possession, but the Rams took over anyway.

★ ★ ★

Later in the quarter another pitchout to Farr was intercepted by Lundy who returned it 15 yards to the Detroit 37 from where the Rams' drive started.

The play was ruled a fumble on Plum.

The series ended in only four plays with Gabriel passing to Truax for a six yard touchdown.

Two field goal tries in the final period failed for LA, but the Rams scored again on a 23 yarder by Bruce Gossett and a two yard plunge by Les Josephson.

★ ★ ★

There were eight minutes left in the game and there were possibly less than 20,000 of the 54,000 left in the stands.

HIGH-FLYING RAM — Los Angeles Rams' back Bernie Casey (25) takes to the air to collect a pass in yesterday's game with the Detroit Lions. Defensive back Lem Barney makes the tackle. The play gained 18 yards and the Rams went on to post a 31-7 victory.

Firebirds' Tickets for Game at Ypsi Available Downtown

Tickets for the regular season football finale of the Pontiac Firebirds who face the Ypsilanti Vikings at Willow Run High School field Sunday afternoon, are available at Osmun's, Griff's and VFW Post 1370.

The Firebirds, hopeful of a post-season playoff against Mt. Clemens, must hope for a Mt. Clemens defeat at Dayton Saturday night and then defeat Ypsi Sunday to gain a playoff.

Should this happen, the title game would be held next Saturday afternoon and the site decided on a flip of a coin.

Pontiac edged Ypsilanti, 7-6, earlier this season and the game Sunday is a toss-up.

Lansing Whips T-Hawks to Lead East Division

LANSING — The Pontiac Tomahawks found a whirlwind offense awaiting their unsteady defense Thursday night at Everett High School and dropped a record 164-128 decision to the undefeated Lansing Capitols.

The North American Basketball League's Eastern Division pacesetters ran, jumped and shot their way to a 29-17 early lead with 10 straight points and never were in trouble.

Actually, the victory boosted the Capitols into the Eastern top spot since Muskegon handed Battle Creek a 109-94 loss to drop the Braves out of a share of the lead.

In the other games, Grand Rapids trimmed Columbus, 124-112, to leave the Comets (a 122-120 loser in Pontiac Wednesday) a half game behind the Tomahawks; and Holland remained close on the Tackers' heels by topping winless Chicago, 120-113.

Two sharp-shooting guards — Brian Ferguson of Northern Michigan and Don Edwards from Central Michigan — paced the Lansing romp. Ferguson sank 10 of 20 from the field and 15 of 18 charity tosses for 35 points; and the hustling Edwards added 32 with a 14 of 25 (field goals) and four of four (foul shots) night.

The hot-shooting Capitols' twosome had plenty of help. Five of their mates also were in twin figures led by husky Mack Herndon's 18 points.

Unbelievably, the Tomahawks weren't overmatched in the statistics despite the score. Led by flashy Dave Gaines' 34 markers, four of the visitors had at least 15 and they took more shots (124-121) from the field and were only outrebounded by five (56-51).

In addition, the Pontiac pros sank four three-point field goals (including a pair by Gaines). In spite of these figures, the Capitols' fast break kept the Tomahawks down by at least 25 points the entire second half.

The winners scored 51 points in the final period to increase their lead despite the Tomahawks' best scoring period (42 in fourth and half (76) of the young NABL campaign.

Lansing's 91 and 51 tallies in the same span are league records, as are the winners' total and the two teams' combined score.

Pontiac's Jim Patterson led all the rebounders with 12 but this was below his season average which has him among the NABL's leaders. Marty Letzmann came off the bench to grab 10 retrieves, matching Lansing's Bill Curtis, former Michigan State captain.

Dick Dzik kept the losers in the contest during the first half with 8 of 11 for 16 of his game total 17 points. Free throw shooting hurt the Tomahawks, particularly in the first half.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac will be idle until Dec. 2 when the club will entertain Battle Creek at the Northern High School gym.

Rookie Dave Bing Ailing as Pistons Lose to LA Lakers

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Dave Bing can handle the basketball like a juggler when he's got an aching stomach, but he doesn't do as well with an aching hand.

Handicapped by a badly swollen right hand, the Detroit Pistons, and the National Basketball Association's top scorer managed only nine points Thursday night as the Pistons bowed to the Los Angeles Lakers 132-120.

Bing, who sported a 28.9 points per game average before Thursday's contest, injured his hand playing against the Seattle Supersonics Monday. The lithe second-year man had poured in 31 points during that game until the accident sidelined him.

He sat out Wednesday's tussle against San Francisco, but returned to action for 30 minutes Thursday as the Pistons ended their disastrous five-game swing along the West Coast.

In a game marred by 114 free throws, the Lakers led most of the way. Archie Clarke, playing his second year in the NBA, bagged five crucial baskets and stole the ball four times in the closing moments to clinch the game for the Lakers.

NATIONAL TITLE BID — Northern Michigan University coach Rollie Dotsch and senior quarterback Lloyd Carr from Riverview discuss tomorrow's game at Fairmont (W. Va.) State. The Wildcats, top rated team in the NAIA, and Fairmont will play for a berth in the national title game. New Mexico Highlands meets Eastern Washington State in the other semifinal.

'M' Can Conclude on High Grid Note

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan, floundering in the midst of five straight losses a month ago, could end the 1967 football season on a high note with a victory over Big Ten rival Ohio State at Ann Arbor Saturday.

Bump Elliott's Wolverines have won their last three conference games and now stand 3-3 in the Big Ten and 4-5 over all after losing five of their first six starts.

* * *

The big reason for the resurgence has been the work of junior quarterback Dennis Brown, who tossed a pair of touchdown passes and scored on a 44-yard run in a 27-14 victory over Wisconsin last week.

He replaced Dick Vidmer after the Michigan State game Oct. 14 and broke Bob Griese's Big Ten total offense record with 338 yards in a near upset of Indiana in his first college start.

OPTION PLAY

The 5-foot-8, 175-pound youngster has completed 65 of 132 passes this year for 734 yards and three touchdowns. He has the speed to make Michigan's split effective and has gained 328 yards in 123 carries on the option play.

When Brown isn't running, he usually pitches out to halfback Ron Johnson, another junior who broke Tom Harmon's single season Michigan rushing mark of 884 yards in the Wisconsin game.

Johnson has 909 yards in 200 carries for a 4.5 per try average.

* * *

Jim Berline, Michigan's split end, is Brown's favorite pass receiver. He has 33 catches for 416 yards and two touchdowns, including six receptions for 116 yards against Wisconsin.

Ohio State, which has been vulnerable on pass defense, may seen a lot of it Saturday. Elliott likes Brown to throw the football about 50 per cent of the time.

* * *

The Wolverines, weak on pass defense early in the year, are starting to come around. Tom Curtis and Jerry Hartman are the mainstays of the secondary. They have intercepted 12 passes, seven by Curtis, who now holds a share of the Big Ten season mark in that catagory.

BOUNCED AROUND

Michigan got bounced around pretty good in the Wisconsin game, but Elliott says he thinks most of his key players will be ready for the Buckeyes.

Brown, who had the wind knocked out of him twice while being tossed for 81 yards in losses against the Badgers, was back in action this week. Despite the beating, he managed a net 42 yards rushing and 232 yards passing in the game.

Sophomore defensive end Phil Seymour suffered a knee injury but is expected to be ready. But defensive tackle Dick Williamson, nursing a sprained ankle, and fullback Garvie Craw, who suffered a pulled leg muscle two weeks ago, remain doubtful starters.

* * *

Elliott said Tom Goss, hurt in the Northwestern game, probably will be ready to replace Williamson, if necessary, and Warren Sipp, the starter earlier in the year, has been playing for Craw.

Michigan holds a 37-22-4 edge in the Ohio State series, which dates back to 1897. The Wolverines won 17-3 last year.

MSU Kicker Wants More Time on Field

EAST LANSING (AP)—Mitch Pruiett, the Michigan State extra point kicker, is like a fellow who plays the cymbals in a symphony orchestra.

He isn't called on to perform very often, but when he does, he comes through with a bang.

* * *

Pruiett, a 21-year-old, 207-pound senior from Benton Harbor, has a perfect season for the Spartans this fall. The kicking specialist who wears glasses off the field proved his canny eye with 13 for 13 in the extra point department.

He also made his only field goal try.

A three-year letterman, Pruiett started out as a back playing both offense and defense, was switched to offensive guard this fall and probably will be shifted to the defense Saturday against Northwestern.

FEW TOUCHDOWNS

The only trouble with Michigan State this year is that Pruiett hasn't been called upon to perform enough. The Spartans just haven't been making enough touchdowns.

MSU has 18 touchdowns in nine games. Four of the five times Pruiett didn't kick, MSU tried for two pointers and made two and missed two. Another kicker missed the remaining conversion.

* * *

So Pruiett hasn't had a fair shot at the MSU extra point record, 39 by George Smith in 1947.

State's 18 touchdowns this year don't stack up to last year's 41 through the season. Opponents were held to only 13 touchdowns by the 1966 defensive crew that was riddled by graduation and injuries.

The 1966 defense also only allowed 51.4 yards rushing a game. This fall, opponents have averaged 191.7 yards a game rushing.

At Tuesday's workout, Pruiett and Tony Conti, another offensive guard, were working at linebacker spots in an effort by coaches to bolster the defense.

Regis Cavender, a junior from Detroit, was running at fullback and may bump out Bob Apisa, the senior at the spot, as a starter against Northwestern.

Canadian Six Defeats U. S.

DULUTH, Minn. (AP) — The Canadian Nationals, passing well and checking hard, downed the U.S. Nationals hockey team 5-2 at the Arena Thursday night.

The Canadians avenged a 5-4 defeat at the hands of the Americans in an exhibition in France on Oct. 13.

For Michigan Contest

OSU Starts Preparing Early

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — On the Ohio State campus, the feeling has always been that Coach Woody Hayes starts pointing for arch-rival Michigan during spring drills.

Beating the Wolverines in the season finale almost always puts a stamp of success on Buckeye football.

* * *

This year Ohio can accomplish a bit more by whipping the Wolves. For one thing, it would give them a 6-3 record, certainly a respectable mark for a team that was floundering at 2-3 four weeks ago.

And it would silence the "Goodbye Woody" cries that reached a peak after a 17-13 setback to Illinois that knocked the Bucks out of a possible Rose Bowl trip.

Ohio has turned in successive victories over Michigan State, Wisconsin and Iowa since the Illini disaster.

TOP FROSH

Now if Hayes' crew can get by Michigan, Woody is a cinch to be back in 1968 with a chance to use his best freshman prospects in more than a decade.

Hayes, always the philosopher, figures Ohio and Michigan and seven other clubs in the Big Ten are just average teams.

"Purdue," he said a week ago, "is in a league by itself with the others capable of beating each other on any Saturday."

* * *

At best, Ohio State does look like just an average team. Even in victory, the Bucks have not been impressive, except for a few standout sophomores.

"I think the main reason we have improved is that our youngsters just stuck in there despite our early season humiliations," Hayes said Monday.

The real Buckeye standouts are running backs Dave Brungard, Jim Otis and Paul Huff, all sophs. Brungard, a clever runner with better than average speed, tops the rushers with 476 yards in 97 cracks.

Otis and Huff are power runners who have added 416 and 273 yards, respectively. And junior quarterback Bill Long, who has been erratic as a passer despite a sensational rookie season, suddenly has blossomed as a running threat.

Tennis Tourney in Semifinals

2 Wimbledon Champs Are Sidelined

SYDNEY, Australia (UPI) — The New South Wales tennis tournament moved into the semifinal round today with 1967 Wimbledon champions John Newcombe of Australia and American Mrs. Billie Jean King both watching from the sidelines because of injuries.

Newcombe, who suffered a badly sprained tendon in his right arm last Sunday, struggled to the quarter-finals before deciding to withdraw.

Mrs. King, of Long Beach Calif., tore a tendon in her left leg during a quarter-final match Thursday and lost to Australian Judy Tegart, 6-3, 7-9, 6-0.

She was examined by a doctor who advised her to withdraw from Friday's doubles competition.

Rosemary Casals of San Francisco, Calif., also was beaten, falling before Australian Margaret Smith Court, 6-3 6-1, in another quarter-final match. Mrs. Court displayed some of her old power game as she won her first big test since returning from semi-retirement.

The U.S. women salvaged one match when Kathy Harter of Seal Beach, Calif., beat defending women's champ Lesley Turner of Australia, 6-4, 6-4.

Nearly Blind Player Aids Team to Title

SEATTLE (AP) — Senior halfback Billy Houghton scored two touchdowns and rushed for 117 yards Thursday to lead his Ingraham High School football team to a 44-13 victory over Garfield and the Seattle Metro League Championship.

It was kind of a special Thanksgiving for Billy, who is legally blind.

"I didn't know I had a problem until the sixth grade," Billy said the other day.

Then, he was asked to read a line on the blackboard and from his back row seat he couldn't see the writing.

"So, it hit me all of a sudden. At first, I bawled about it, then I began to adjust. I found I still could play football, and that was the big thing."

Billy has only 20-200 vision caused, his father says, by macular degeneration of the retina.

"That means the cones and rods in your eyes are dying," Billy explained.

"I see nothing, almost nothing, to the front. But I see to the sides."

And to the sides is where Billy carries the football. He's considered one of the best slanting backs Coach Tony Gasparovich has seen. He's the team's leading rusher and gained 681 yards this year.

Waterford Touch Title Is Decided

The Red Raiders have won the Waterford Township men's touch football league, clinching the title with a 30-0 win this week over the Eagle Boosters under the lights at the Drayton Plains park.

Four touchdown passes by Bob Casteel decided the big victory. The Raiders finished with a 6-0-1- mark.

The other game was a 25-0 triumph for the Nurds over the Stage Coach Bandits with Jim Swain tossing three scoring aerials. The Nurds are 3-1-2.

Although two games remain on the regular schedule, they will be cancelled if the hockey rink is set up on the field ahead of time.

Individual Honors for 2 Grid Stars

NEW YORK (AP) — O. J Simpson of Southern California and Leroy Keyes of Purdue, two of the nation's top college running backs, have virtually wrapped up individual titles among major college players.

According to the latest figures released Tuesday by the National Collegiate Sports Services, Simpson gained 1,415 yards in Southern Cal's 10 regular season games and has a healthy lead over his closest competitors.

Keyes, with one game left, has scored 114 points, 29 more than Houston's Ken Hebert, who has the best statistical chance of catching him.

Cage Countdown Starts for Tough Titan Slate

It's countdown to tipoff for coach Bob Calihan's 20th season at the University of Detroit.

With Aquinas in the opener, Dec. 2, Michigan, Dec. 4, Xavier, Dec. 9, and West Virginia, Dec. 11, this ten-day stretch that may give some indication just how far the Titans can go in their pretentious 1967-68 schedule.

There were few, if any, surprises in pre-season camp. Detroit has two fine guards in Warren senior, Larry Salci, and Hamtramck senior, Ralph Brisker.

Salci averaged 16.3 ppg a year ago and could better the all-time career mark for a guard with another good season. Brisker was Detroit's leading scorer (19.9 ppg) after nine games last winter but the academic axe fell and he sat out the final 16 games.

Ferndale sophomore, Dwight Dunlap, the top freshman scorer last year, appears to be capable relief for either of them, if needed.

The forwards are set. Captain Bruce Rodwan, 6-5 Ferndale product, will hold forth at one and 6-4 Chicagoan, Vyto Abramavicius, an adequate scorer and excellent defensive player, the other. Rodwan was Detroit's scoring runner-up last year and led the club in rebounding with a 16.4 mark.

Center, a problem last year, is still a problem. Tommy Richardson, a 6-7 Detroit Southwestern product, is rebounding as well or better than a year ago when he was second only to Rodwan. He didn't shoot well last year, though, and still doesn't.

* * *

Jerry Swartzfager, on the other hand, is scoring better than ever but still can't do the job on the backboards. The 6-6 DeLaSalle grad led U-D in scoring last year with a 17.0 ppg mark. The paradoxical pair will play or sit as the situation dictates unless one suddenly develops the other phase of the game.

* * *

The schedule, tough in December with the above plus Calvin Murphy and Niagara in the 16th Motor City Tournament, doesn't get any easier after New Year's.

Indiana, defending Big Ten co-champion, Duquesne, Eastern Michigan and Marquette pay Detroit calls and the Titans travel to Notre Dame, Dayton, Xavier and St. Bonaventure, all during January.

Notre Dame returns the visit, Feb. 3, followed by Villanova, Hillsdale, Western Michigan and DePaul. A road game at Marquette and one at Canisius, Mar. 2, close out the regular season.

Two Detroiters Among Top Ten in PBA Tourney

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Two Detroit bowlers are among the top ten after two rounds of the Professional Bowlers Association's $30,500 Camden Open.

Bob Strampe with 2,589 holds down the sixth spot while George Howard is ninth with his 2,543.

The field of 128 shoots another six games today with the top 64 advancing to the semifinals. After another six games, the top 16 will compete for the $3,000 first prize in Saturday's match game finals.

Leading after the first 12 games are Bud Horne, Los Angeles, 2,691; Bobby Knipple, Long Beach, Calif., 2,640, and Ernie Schlegel, Hackensack, N.J., 2,611.

Oaken Bucket Game Purdue's Ticket to Title

Boilermakers Favored to Ruin Indiana Bid for Rose Bowl

CHICAGO (AP) — Midwest football stars get their final chance to enhance All-America bids this weekend, but Purdue's sensational Leroy Keyes probably will be just gilding the lily in the Old Oaken Bucket classic with Indiana.

Keyes has been a season long standout, not only a gold-plated All-America prospect, but also a ranking candidate for the Heisman Trophy.

★ ★ ★

He will be a marked man, as usual, as the nationally third-ranked Purdue Boilermakers try to win their first clear-cut Big Ten title since 1929 and also extinguish any Rose Bowl hope for arch-rival Indiana.

★ ★ ★

The sophomore-inspired Hoosiers, tripped for the first time this season in a 33-7 loss at Minnesota last Saturday, will find their top All-America prospects under tremendous pressure against the free-wheeling Boilermakers.

TOP GUARDS

These include offensive guards Gary Cassells and Bob Russell and linebackers Ken Kaczmarek and Jim Sniadecki, who have done yeoman work despite the plaudits gained by the Hoosier sophomore trio of quarterback Harry Gonso, halfback John Isenbarger and flanker Jade Butcher.

★ ★ ★

Other top Midwest candidates who will try to add final game luster to All-America bids include Bob Stein, Minnesota's rugged defensive end; Tom Schoen, Notre Dame's flashy safety man; middle guard Chuck Kyle of Purdue; halfback Ron Johnson of Michigan Bruce Gunstra, Northwestern offensive guard, and Tom Dembres, a tremendous defensive tackle for winless Wisconsin.

From the Midwest's smaller schools, the board gave high praise to tailback Don Fitzgerald of Kent State and middle guard Tom Buetler of Toledo University.

Pick Soccer All-Stars

Soccer isn't likely to replace football in these parts, but the game's influence continues to spread and increased activity in the sport was noticable locally this year at the high school level.

★ ★ ★

Seven Oakland County high schools fielded soccer squads, and to give some recognition to the best players from these teams, The Press this week selected the first All-Area Soccer Team.

Cranbrook placed three players on the 11-man squad. Detroit Country Day was represented by two players, Bloomfield Hills Andover picked up two positions, while Bloomfield Hills Lasher, Feradale, Birmingham Seahoim and Birmingham Groves took one spot apiece.

★ ★ ★

Also on the line are Rick Hale, a senior from Seahoim, junior Louis Raden of Country Day at center halfback and sophomore Ron Trapp from Lahser at the left halfback post.

Tending goal for the all-star lineup is Groves' Steve Vartanian, a senior who posted four shutouts during the season.

★ ★ ★

Raden and teammate Sandy Robinson shared the team's Most Valuable Player award given at a banquet Tuesday night.

AREA SOCCER TEAM
Honorable Mention

Birmingham Groves: Steve Eyler, halfback; Gaeil Upward, line.
Country Day: Sandy Robinson, goalie; Alex Kaplin, line.
Birmingham Seaholm: Jim Abbott, halfback.
Andover: Paul Horst, line.
Lahser: Pat Hall, goalie.
Cranbrook: Mike Rostello, goalie; Ennis Barker, line; Sandy Haavenrich, fullback.

Tam Ends Season With '68 Election

The golf season closed at Tam O'Shanter CC with the election of officers and the start of construction on the course.

Oscar Braun was elected president for 1968, with Nelson Dembs as executive vice-president, Milton Fishman, vice president; Milton Lucow, secretary and Alvin Shapiro treasurer.

Five holes on the course, 1-2-13-14-17 are all being lengthened from 30 to 60 yards, and 200 trees are being added to the layout.

Dinghy Sailors to Race

Gymnasts' Clinic Set for Western

KALAMAZOO (AP)—A gymnastics clinic for high school boys and coaches is scheduled Saturday at Western Michigan University's intramural gymnasium. The clinic will be supervised by WMU gymnastics coach Fred Orlofsky and will include coaches Newt Loken of the University of Michigan, George Szypula of Michigan State, Marv Johnson of Eastern Michigan and Tony Miehle of Central Michigan.

Backstrom Is Spark in Montreal Surge

By The Associated Press

Speedy Ralph Backstrom has become the center of attraction for the Montreal Canadiens, who've suddenly caught fire in the National Hockey League.

With star centers Jean Beliveau and Henri Richard on the injured list, Backstrom, another veteran center, scored three goals and assisted on two others in leading the Canadiens to a 7-0 victory over the Chicago Black Hawks Thursday night. The setback was the Hawks' first in 10 games.

In the only other game, the Boston Bruins downed the New York Rangers 4-2.

The results lifted the Bruins into a first-place tie with Toronto in the circuit's East Division while the Canadiens took over fourth place from the Rangers. Detroit is third and Chicago sixth.

Backstrom, who scored one goal Wednesday night when Montreal beat St. Louis 3-1, registered twice in the opening period and once in the second session at Chicago. He now has seven goals for the season.

TWO GOALS

Bobby Rousseau with two goals and Claude Larose and Yvan Cournoyer with one apiece were the other Canadiens' scorers. Backstrom assisted on the Larose and Cournoyer tallies. The Hawks, who had won five and tied four of their previous nine games, had only 15 shots on net. Gump Worsley turned in the shutout.

Johnny Bucyk was the Bruins' star. He scored twice in the opening period at Boston after Larry Jeffrey's tally had given the Rangers an earlier lead.

After a scoreless second session, Tommy Williams and Phil Esposito tallied for Boston and Reg Fleming for New York in the third period. Gilles Villemure, who replaced Ed Giacomin as the Rangers' starting goalie, made 43 saves while Boston netminder turned back 21 shots. Giacomin had started each of New York's previous 17 games.

Racing Groups Discuss Autos

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — The sanctioning bodies have gotten together on engine specifications for the small sedan category for the 1968 auto racing season.

A final determination of 305 cubic inches maximum was worked out by Sports Car Club of America, U. S. Auto Club and National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing, along with a maximum of 115 inches on wheelbases.

★ ★ ★

While these new specifications are basic in the three sanctioning groups, NASCAR's Bill France says his technical committee will designate the cars eligible for the division and will include some that will not be eligible for the SCCA's prestigious Trans-American series.

"NASCAR also will have a weight-to- displacement formula for the GT cars, the same as for Grand National cars," France said. "But we will give cars such as Barracuda and Dart, with their smaller engines 283 cubic inches, an opportunity to bring displacement up to the 305 limit. We will not go strictly to the homologated sizes of the cars."

AGONY AND ECSTACY — Seattle Sonic fan Gaye Hill's face shows alternate hope, as the Sonics shoot; terror, as the opposition shoots; anguish, as the opposition scores; anger, at a call by the referee; and jubilation as the Sonics win the recent National Basketball Association game. The opposition was the Lakers.

Two Big Incentives Prod Indiana Eleven

CHICAGO (AP) — There's Yale and Harvard, and Princeton and Dartmouth, but nothing, nowhere, according to Indiana Coach Johnny Pont, rates with the Purdue-Indiana rivalry.

That, plus the 51-8 pasting Purdue handed Indiana last year, is all the stimulation underdog Indiana needs Saturday in its battle for a share of the Big Ten title and the Rose Bowl bid.

* * *

"I know there are some great and old rivalries like Yale and Harvard and Princeton and Dartmouth, " said Pont, "But I honestly don't think anything compares with this one."

The saying goes that you can throw out past performances when such rivals meet but it is a difficult thing to do under the circumstances.

Purdue is 6-0 in the Big Ten and 8-1 overall. Indiana is 5-1 in the conference and 8-1 overall. There the similarly ends.

Except for its 22-14 loss to Oregon State. third-ranked Purdue, led by the fabulous Leroy Keyes, has bombed most of its opponents and blistered Rose Bowl hopeful Minnesota, 41-12.

Indiana has squeeked through seven of its eight victories and was smashed by Minnesota 33-7, one week after Purdue had taken the Gophers to task.

Coach Murray Warmath, whose Minnesota Gophers can claim the bowl bid if they beat Wisconsin and Indiana loses to Purdue, evaluated the two teams along with sophomore quarterbacks Harry Gonso of Indiana and Mike Phipps of Purdue.

* * *

"Purdue is bigger, stronger and more experienced," said Warmath. "Indiana is flashy, cracked open and Minnesota got dashing and daring. Phipps is a some easy scores.

great passer but he doesn't have Gonso's quickness. Gonso is a great passer, too, but I also think he's a better runner than Phipps. In each case, their coaches are utilizing them perfectly."

* * *

Purdue Coach Jack Mollenkopf tried to minimize Minnesota's one-sided triumph over Indiana.

CRACKED OPEN

"It was a lot closer than the score indicates," said Mollenkopf. "It was 13-7 in the third quarter but the game finally cracked open and Minnesota got a some easy scores.

Wisconsin 'Fly' in Gopher 'Ointment'

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Wisconsin, the fly in Minnesota's Big Ten championship ointment more times in the past dozen years than Gopher Coach Murray Warmath cares to remember, lies between the Gophers and a Rose Bowl trip or a share of the conference title Saturday.

* * *

One or the other of the prizes awaits the Gophers — if they can beat the pesky Badgers, who have not won a game this season.

* * *

If Minnesota defeats Wisconsin and Purdue beats Indiana, the Gophers go to Pasadena. And that's what the Gophers would rather do.

If, however, Indiana upsets third-ranked Purdue Saturday, then the Hoosiers will make the Rose Bowl scene Jan. 1 because they and Minnesota will tie with Purdue for the Big Ten championship all at 6-1. This, again, is assuming Minnesota can handle Wisconsin.

Indiana would get the Rose Bowl trip in event of any tie because the Hoosiers have never been to Pasadena.

NOTHING TO LOSE

Wisconsin's winless status is what worries Warmath most of all. "They figure they've got nothing to lose, and then can salvage one whale of a whole lot by beating us," Warmath fretted this week.

* * *

"I'd rather they had won a few games, because they're certainly not as bad a football team as their record and they could have won some with a few breaks. We know they've got some fine personnel, and it's just a matter of putting it together."

* * *

Warmath's respect for the Badgers has a solid foundation. Only two Big Ten teams have an edge on Warmath in his 14 years as Minnesota coach. One of them is Wisconsin, which has an 8-4-1 bulge.

Brains, Brawn, Speed on All-State

By The Associated Press

The 1967 Michigan Associated Press Class A All-State High School football team has a combination of brains, brawn and speed which would make any coach mad with power.

* * *

The interior line averages 234 pounds, two of the players are honor students and two of the halfbacks are sprinters who can run the 100-yard dash in under 10 seconds.

* * *

Flint Northern and Battle Creek Central each placed two men on the squad. Northern's Gordon Brown is at one tackle and William Wallace is one of the backs.

Chuck Brown, Central's great blocker, is a guard and teammate Andy Johnson is a halfback.

The ends are Tom Huiskens of Bay City Central and Glenn Doughty of Detroit Pershing. Hulking George Trujillo of Jackson is the other tackle. Guard Doug Halliday of Royal Oak Kimball, center Bob Schaut of Escanaba, quarterback Ken Fiott of Roseville and halfback Harley Westfall of Adrian round out the squad.

* * *

Dana Coin, Pontiac Northern's record breaking halfback, and end Mike Shorters of Pontiac Central were named to the second team.

Coin holds all game, season and career rushing records at PNH while Shorters gained his berth because of outstanding defensive play. He also turned into a strong running threat when shifted to fullback the last half of the season.

Huiskens, described by Coach Elmer Engle as "the complete ballplayer," may be the best college football prospect in Michigan. He was a rare unanimous choice for Most valuable Player in the rugged Saginaw Valley Conference.

* * *

A fine blocker and defensive player, Huiskens scored 45 points for Engle's unbeaten and No. 1-ranked Bay City team.

KEY CATCHES

His statistics are not overly impressive, but as Engle points out, "he was asked to catch the ball on six key fourth down pass plays this year and we made every one of them."

An honor student with a B-plus average, Huiskens is president of the Student Council and a member of the National Honor Society.

* * *

Doughty is the youngest player on the team at 16 and has been a starter at Pershing for three years. He caught 13 passes for 245 yards and four touchdowns as the unbeaten Doughboys won six games in an abreviated schedule, cut short by the teacher's strike.

Gordon Brown is described by coaches as the finest lineman to come out of the Flint area in 16 years. A three-year defansive starter, he anchored a Northern line which allowed an average of one yard per play rushing play a game. A fine blocker and two-year offensive regular, Brown has been scouted by the University of Michigan.

Another outstanding college prospect is Trujillo, biggest man on the team at 6-foot-5 and 282 pounds. Big, fast, agile and a good blocker, Trujillo is described by coaches as "all man." He made 70 tackles while playing for a Jackson team which had a 4-4-1 record playing one of the roughest prep schedules in the state.

Battle Creek's Chuck Brown is a bruising 230-pound guard who was the bulwark of a Central line which sprung halfbacks like Johnson loose for long runs week after week. A two-way player, Brown was the key man on a defensive line which allowed only two touchdowns all year. He has good pursuit, is a good tackler and is described by coaches as "hard to take out" on defense.

HONOR STUDENT

Another honor student, Halliday has started three seasons at Kimball, never missing practice or a game. During that time, Kimball rolled up a 21-5-1 won, lost, tied record. A great blocker on offense, Halliday made 21 sole tackes on defense and recovered three fumbles.

Schaut anchored the middle of Escanaba's tough middle line, averaging 46 minutes a game on both offense and defense. Coach Jerome Cvengros considers Schaut the best college prospect on a team which won nine games this year without a loss.

Fiott, who has led Roseville to two straight titles in the tough Eastern Michigan League, set four school passing records. He hit on 74 of 123 aerials for 1,315 yards and 19 touchdowns, running another 604 yards and five TDs.

* * *

Wallace has been a three-year, two-way regular at Flint Northern. A 9.9 sprinter on the track team, he averaged 7.5 yards per carry this year, scoring 13 touchdowns. He kicked two field goals and 10 extra points.

Johnson, another 9.9 sprinter, carried 109 times for 816 yards and 14 touchdowns despite the fact that he was out one game this year with a leg injury. He is the best of a bevy of swift Battle Creek backs who lifted the Bearcats to a 17-1 record in the last two years.

Westfall, son of former University of Michigan fullback Bob Westfall, is an all-around good football player who punts, kicks off and averaged seven tackles a game on defense.

Yacht Bought for Cup Race

TORONTO (AP) — Three Toronto businessmen have purchased the 12-meter yacht American Eagle and believe it will stimulate new Canadian interest in the famed America's Cup race.

American Eagle, purchased by Herb Wahl, Mike Pellegrin and Gerry Morris, was built in 1964 for $250,000 and has twice failed to defeat other U.S. yachts for the right to defend U.S. Cup supremacy.

The purchase price was not disclosed.

ROLLS AWAY — Oklahoma's Bob Warmack rolls out on a run-pass option as Nebraska defensive end Mike Wynn hits the dirt after being blocked in yesterday's Big Eight game. Oklahoma won, 21-14, to clinch its first undisputed conference title in five years.

Cotton Bowl Spot for Texas Aggies

By The Associated Press

No one gave Texas A&M a ghost of a chance to win the Southwest Conference football championship when the Aggies lost their first four games of the season to Southern Methodist, Purdue, Louisiana State and Florida State.

But they didn't reckon with the heroics of quarterback Edd Hargett from the little Texas town of Linden.

★ ★ ★

He beat Texas Tech by running for a touchdown as time ran out, threw three touchdown passes to beat Arkansas, hurled two TD passes to beat Baylor and on Thursday hurled an 80-yard pass in the last quarter that beat Texas 16-7.

★

Their sixth straight victory not only gave the Aggies the SWC title and an automatic spot in the Cotton Bowl against Alabama on New Year's Day, it also put the University of Miami Hurricanes in the Bluebonnet Bowl against Colorado Dec. 23 at Houston.

ORANGE BERTH

Oklahoma, fifth-ranked in The Associated Press poll and already picked to oppose second-ranked Tennessee in the Orange Bowl at Miami, also came from behind to down Nebraska 21-14.

A crowd of 60,048 at Lincoln, Neb. plus a national television audience saw the Sooners beat the Cornhuskers on a 23-yard run by Eddie Hinton. The victory clinched the undisputed Big Eight crown for the Sooners who end their regular season next week against Oklahoma State.

★ ★ ★

Virginia Military edged Virginia Tech 12-10 in the 63rd renewal of the Military Classic of the South at Roanoke, Va., and Toledo crushed Villanova 52-6 at Toledo in other major games on Thanksgiving Day.

A seven-yard pass from Russ Quay to John Hince with 2½ minutes left gave the VMI Keydets their winning TD over VPI.

John Schneider hurled touchdown passes of 51 and 63 yards and Roland Moss scored three TDs to lead Toledo over Villanova. It was the ninth straight victory for the Rockets, co-champions of the Mid-American Conference.

OTHER RIVALRIES

Southern Mississippi walloped Louisiana Tech 58-7, Idaho State edged Portland State 22-21, Middle Tennessee downed Tennessee Tech 33-20 and Hofstra blanked C. W. Post 19-0 in other Turkey Day rivalries.

A capacity crowd of 50,000 at College Station, Tex., cheered Hargett after his winning TD pass to Bob Long that pulled the Aggies from behind a 10-7 deficit to beat Texas in the 74th game of the storied series.

★ ★ ★

The Aggies had the ball on their own 20 when Hargett faded back and threw the ball far down field. Long grabbed it on the Texas 36 and ran the rest of the way.

Nebraska had rallied from behind a 13-0 score to lead Oklahoma 14-13 at halftime before the Sooners pulled it out in the last quarter.

A short Nebraska punt gave Oklahoma the ball on the Husker 33.

A 10-yard pass, Bob Warmack to Steve Zabel, preceded Hinton's 23-yard sprint for the winning TD.

Nebraska had been expected to land a Liberty Bowl bid in the event of a victory over Oklahoma, but the Huskers' defeat did not definitely eliminate them of the chance to meet Georgia at Memphis Dec. 16.

"I wouldn't say the loss to Oklahoma eliminated Nebraska," said A. F. "Bud" Dudley, president of the Liberty Bowl. "Nebraska put up a great game."

Miami Hopes to Disprove Bowl Choices

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — The University of Miami, still miffed at being overlooked as an Orange Bowl contender by local officials, goes against Notre Dame tonight a one-touchdown underdog. But Irish football Coach Ara Parseghian feels the Hurricanes have three factors in their favor.

"There are three reasons aside from personnel why Miami will have an advantage," said Parseghian. "The heat factor is one. It's a night game, and Notre Dame has not played a night game all season. And Miami has had two weeks to prepare while we have had less than one."

★ ★ ★

In two of the last three years, Notre Dame has failed warm-weather November tests. In 1964, the previously undefeated Irish lost at Southern Cal, 20-17, in their final game of the season. They wound up 1965 with a scoreless tie against Miami in the Orange Bowl.

However, last year Notre Dame trounced Southern Cal 51-0 without breaking into a sweat, knocking the heat jinx.

BIG CROWD

The crowd for the game — over 76,000 — could be the greatest ever to see a football game in Florida. It also will be the largest to see a Notre Dame game this season.

The previous high for the Irish — some 71,227 watched their 47-7 pasting of Illinois — was restrained only by the size of the arenas in which they appeared.

Notre Dame is the only opponent on Miami's schedule this season with a physical advantage over the Hurricanes.

Aussie Netters Have Problems for Cup Team

SYDNEY (AP) — Australia's Davis Cup selectors face a king-sized problem with the announcement today by Tony Roche he has been bothered by a knee muscle injury for weeks.

Roche's injury leaves veteran Roy Emerson as the only completely fit emmber of Australia's possible Davis Cup Challenge Round team.

★ ★ ★

John Newcombe retired from the New South Wales Tennis Championships Thursday with a shoulder injury incurred when playing Emerson in the Queensland Tournament last week.

★ ★ ★

Following Newcombe's withdrawal, Australia's Davis Cup Captain Harry Hopman decided to pair Roche and Emerson as the Davis Cup doubles team.

This now is very much in doubt. The cup selectors are expected to announce Australia's squad of six for the cup Saturday.

Spartans Skate to 7-4 Victory

CANTON, N.Y. (AP) — Tom Mikkola slapped home two goals and posted two assists Thursday night as Michigan State whipped St. Lawrence's hockey team, 7-4.

Short one man because of a penalty, Michigan State stormed into the lead early in the second period, breaking a 2-2 tie on goals by Mikkola and Nino Cristofoli. With a 4-2 lead, they kept command the rest of the way.

Losers Get Less Letters

Mail More Scarce for Duffy

By DUFFY DAUGHERTY
Head Football Coach
Michigan State University

One of my musts as a college football coach is that each letter that can be answered must be answered. If a coach doesn't answer his mail he may never know when some proud parent of a high school football star is putting him to the test.

This season I wish I had more of these letters.

★ ★ ★

Since writing this column we've received mail from many places. Some of it's complimentary because we've tried to be gracious in defeat after having ceive. That choice is only one missed our goal to become the first to lead a team to three straight outright Big Ten championships.

But one letter which deals with the toss of the coin is the gist of this column. One fan wanted to know why we decided three weeks ago against Ohio State to kick off rather than receive.

★ ★ ★

There are many fans and even expert writers covering football who find it difficult to understand a team's decision on the toss of the coin.

They feel that the toss is made to decide which team will kick and which team will receive. That choice is only one of the options and it is secondary even though you will find it listed as the No. 1 choice in the official NCAA football rules.

FIELD POSITION

When our field captain wins the toss he elects to defend a goal that has a wind advantage. We do this in order to gain good field position early in a game when our opponent would have to kick against the wind.

★ ★ ★

Against Ohio State we won the toss and decided to defend the goal with the wind at our back. Our defense stopped the Buckeyes on their 16-yard line, forcing them to punt against the wind. Our strategy worked because we had the wind advantage and took over on their 49.

★ ★ ★

When the toss is made the captain winning the toss can make one of two decisions. He can elect to receive or kick, or he can defend a certain goal. He does not have both options.

If the captain elects to defend a certain goal with the wind at his back, the opposing captain has the choice of receiving or kicking. Seldom will the loser of the toss elect to kick because his opening kickoff, provided the toss winner picks the correct goal, would be into the wind.

★ ★ ★

So the loser receives. But when he fails to get his offensive in gear on the first series of plays he must eventually kick and all punters hate to kick into the wind.

It not only lowers their kicking average but, more important, puts their team in a vulnerable position. It is easier to run and easier to pass with the wind rather than fight it.

★ ★ ★

Before the start of the second half the loser of the toss shall choose one of the options. The team trailing by two touchdowns often will elect to receive.

The Pontiac Officials' Association will have a general meeting 7:15 p.m. Monday at the recreation department office in City Hall.

By Oswald and James Jacoby

People who watch bridge games are divided into three classes. The kibitzers who sit right back of the players, the dibitzers who sit back of the kibitzers and the tstsers who stand way back and go ts-ts after a bad play.

JACOBY

South drew two rounds of trumps and took the spade finesse. West was in with the king and after a lot of thought proceeded to cash his ace and queen of clubs. Then he got out with a spade and eventually South had to lose another club trick.

"Nice defense, partner," remarked East.

"Terrible dummy play" muttered the kibitzers and dibitzers, while a background chorus of "ts-ts" came from the tstsers.

All comments were justified. South really should have made his contract. He had two ways to do it. One way would have been to play three rounds of diamonds after drawing trumps so as to strip his hand and dummy of that suit. Then a club lead would have stuck West in.

A more elegant line would have been for South to play the diamonds before playing the second trump, then enter dummy with the second trump and lead a club from dummy to his jack.

This play would be expensive if the second diamond were ruffed, it wouldn't work any better against the actual East-West holding, but it would give West a chance to go wrong with ace-queen of clubs. West would be in with the queen and might just get desperate and shift to a spade.

As for East's comment of "nice play", we must agree with him. West made a remarkably fine play when he led out his ace-queen of clubs after winning the king of spades. If he had not done this, South would have stripped the diamonds and spades and end-played West in that club suit.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR
For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Good news and results connected with work, health, money from creative endeavors. Avoid excess. Be moderate. Help those who seek answers. Make friends through charity.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): You may try to handle more than is practical. Applies especially in romantic area. Find out what you want. You can't have everything at once. Know this. Act accordingly.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): What you own could go up in value. Applies to property, stock. Your sense of responsibility is tested. You could be promoted, get chance for greater success.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Some relatives appear expansive and expensive. You might have to nail a special project, consideration. Door closes in one area but opens in another.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Stress self-expression. Create and originate. Lead rather than follow. You get more money from others. But key is to keep up momentum. Push ahead. Be confident and authoritative.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Keep control of personal-professional affairs. If you relinquish reins to others, there could be blowups. Means things tend to expand too quickly today. Good fortune shown. Be wary.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23): Be versatile, flexible. You could be frightened by conjecture of others. But actually there is nothing to fear. What is unknown today soon will be available, useful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Good news received regarding friend and also in connection with personal desire. Fine night for celebration. Some today ask outlandish favors. Be fair but firm.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21): You get promoted, honored or recognized for carrying out special duties of others know your capabilities, achievements. Don't hide light under bushel. Speak.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You learn, gain, achieve greater degree of proficiency. Much of this comes through reading, advertising, publishing. Adds up to ability to grasp meanings, to communicate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Attention centered on legal settlements. Cycle rises in your favor. Fine for special appearances involving claims, contracts. Your resources multiply.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): You could reconcile. Today you receive overture which is opening for peace, greater harmony. Applies especially to close associate, mate or partner. Be gracious, reasonable.

IF TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have keen desire to learn, to transmit knowledge through teaching, writing, publishing. You are fond of travel and often battle orthodoxy. You are capable of interpreting your time and can delineate character. This would make for a successful career in the theater.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for VIRGO, LIBRA. Special word to LEO: welcome new contacts, experience.

Gower's 'Happy Time' Was Worth Waiting For

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) —The stage is bare except for a pair of baby spotlights which Robert Goulet focuses on a bouquet of flowers. He snaps the shutter of his camera, and the image of the bouquet flashes in full color on a screen at the back of the stage.

He chooses another angle, takes the photo, and it appears on the screen. Then he substitutes a rose and photographs it. The image of the rose lights up the stage.

Thus the imaginative opening scene of "The Happy Times," a new musical having its formal opening at the Ahmanson Theater of the Music Center this week after a week's delay because of technical problems. It was worth the wait. The show seems certain to add one more hit to the perfect string of musicals directed and choreographed by Gower Champion.

THOMAS

The show is derived from the Broadway comedy of the same name which in turn came from a book by Robert L. Fontaine. The setting is a small French-Canadian town to which a successful photographer returns for a visit with his uninhibited family. The screened flashes of his photographs are carried through the show with marvelous results, adding beauty to the otherwise stark setting and providing warm evocation of memory.

ACROBATIC BEAUTIES

The photographic device is not the only novelty in "The Happy Time." Instead of the usual line of showgirls and dancers, Champion employs six acrobatic beauties who figure in the plot as part of a vaudeville act. And midway in the first act he brings onstage no less than 30 boys of varying age and size who sing and dance as members of a boys' school.

Such razzle-dazzle might be wasted without a strong book to hang it on. Fortunately, N. Richard Nash has provided one. He interweaves the lives of the Bonnard family in affecting style. Only in the second act does the plot become diffuse, but that is likely to be remedied by the time the David Merrick show opens at New York's Broadway Theater Jan. 2.

* * *

Making his first return to Broadway since his sensational debut in 1960 with "Camelot," Goulet has a role ideally suited to his talents. As the wayward son Jacques, he creates a character that is warm and robust. Composer John Kander and lyricist Fred Ebb have provided songs he can belt, notably the title tune and "Being alive."

David Wayne occupies costar billing as grandpere Bonnard, the unreconstructed patriarch who collects photos of naked women and courts a nearby widow. He provides humor and spice and is made up for an indeterminate age, possibly as a sexagenarian.

TEEN-AGE BOLGER

Of equal importance to the plot is Bibi Bonnard, the boy who seeks to follow the footsteps of a dashing uncle. He is played with amazing stage presence by Mike Rupert, a student at nearby San Marino High School, who sings, dances and looks like a teen-age Ray Bolger. The weak link in the cast is Willie Burke, through no fault of hers. She is a lovely actress with a fine voice, but her role as the schoolteacher-sweetheart of Jacques lacks the definition of the colorful Bonnards.

"The Happy Time" is Gower Champion's show, as were "Bye Bye Birdie," "Carnival," "Hello, Dolly" and "I Do, I Do!" performed with athletic zest by the staging is the thing, and he has again provided a show-stopping number in "Without Me," Bibi and his classmates.

FAR EAST STUDY — This might be a scene in Japan, but it is at Earlham College in Richmond, Ind., where studies of Far Eastern Culture centering on Japan inspired this section of Lilly Library.

Far East Culture Studied in the Heartland of America

By AILEEN SNODDY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA) — Four Russian women, members of the Committee of Soviet Women, recently passed through the city on their way to the hinterlands.

"We are going to Indianapolis," one of the women said, "We were told this is the heartland of America. What does this mean? We were told the Midwest is still isolationist. Is this true?"

Have you tried to explain American to non-Americans, especially Russians?

A partial answer to her question of whether the heartland hides from the rest of the world is found a few miles from the Indiana capital. A special program in Far Eastern studies emphasizing Japan is picking up steam at Earlham College in Richmond.

The school, with Quaker origins, nestles in a semi-industrial, rural area known to many music buffs as a 1920s-'30s hub of jazz-blues music because early records were pressed there. During campus reactionary times Earlham would be considered liberal although it draws a bulk of its more than 1,000 students from the "isolationist - conservative" countryside.

Jackson H. Bailey, biology professor, puts the antiisolationist trends of the Midwest in perspective by explaining new educational programs springing up. Bailey is director of the Office of Education Center for East Asian Languages and Area Studies at the college.

The core of the program finds a small number of undergraduates, graduate students and their professors concentrating on Japanese studies on the campus and abroad.

In addition to learning the language, the study of Asian culture weaves itself into English, religion, history, economics and political science classes.

"The studies," according to Bailey, "are not isolated research projects. The program eventually will involve at least half the faculty. I don't feel many students really can escape. We are revising history courses, for example, to include components of non-Western history which will be exposed."

* * *

There is an exchange program with Japanese students or instructors taking part in Earlham activities while their Earlham counterparts are in the Far East.

FUNDS ARE WORRY

A major worry now is to get additional funds to widen "this broad scope of interest. There is a thin layer of schools," Bailey says, "which have made a beginning. This type of learning exchange is ripe for small schools." He mentioned Oberlin with a Chinese program and Antioch with a Portuguese concentration.

In the last five years Bailey says he notices it is easier to discuss, for example, Red China with certain campus personnel and local citizens, a direct result of the exposure to Far Eastern culture through the Japanese program.

A really heartening result which even the most rigid isolationist cannot fault is that "students are hungry to broaden their horizons. They have new ways of looking at things.

"We discovered that students become more interested in our own country because they are asked questions by foreign visitors and don't know the answers. They appreciate our culture in their lives as they learn about another."

TOTAL EXPERIENCE

The Far Eastern program at Earlham fits the scheme of other schools where the goal is for total educational experience and not just a lock-step to a bachelor's degree.

Scientist Gets a Patent on Ruby Laser

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — The man who first successfully amplified the laser light of a ruby has received a patent on the operating system.

Dr. Theodore H. Maiman, now president of Korad Corp. in Santa Monica, Calif., assigned rights to Hughes Aircraft Co., Culver City, Calif., where he was working at the time of the development in 1960.

An atomic method for amplifying light beams was suggested early in 1959 by Drs. C. H. Townes, now a Nobelist and professor at large at the University of California, and Arthur L. Schawlow, chairman of the physics department at Stanford University.

Many scientists immediately started working to see if they could build a laser, Dr. Maiman among them.

Dr. Maiman was convinced that synthetic ruby was the proper material for a laser, while his competitors experimented with different materials.

Children Find Live Teddies

Naturalists Outdone in Koala Bear Hunt

By Science Service

SYDNEY, Australia — Children can find living teddy bears better than naturalists can.

In New South Wales 250,000 school children have tracked down koala bears — small furry fellows who resemble nursery toys — to secret haunts where naturalists didn't believe they existed.

The school children found the bears in colonies west of the Darling River, in the center of the State, and in different groups in the far northwest.

The children have even discovered that the bears eat other foods besides the gum leaves which were believed to be their only source of food.

* * *

The children helped in a survey conducted during Conservation Week. Thousands of forms were distributed to schools. The children were asked to note locations of koalas in their immediate vicinity and the type of food they were eating.

EXTINCTION FEARED

The survey is the first major effort ever undertaken to collect data on the kaola, which has frequently been reported facing extinction.

Conservationists now find koalas more widely scattered than they thought. It is now planned to move bears from overpopulated areas, such as the northeast corner of the State, to places where they no longer exist.

The name koala is derived from an aboriginal word implying that the animal seldom drinks. Apparently it derives sufficient liquid from the dew and the moisture in gum leaves.

* * *

The New South Wales survey has had more than one beneficial result. Wheat and cattle ranchers (graziers) in the Bando area of the northwest have asked that thousands of their acres be declared wildlife reserves. This would give graziers much more power to deal with poachers on their properties.

RESERVE LAW TIGHTER

A spokesman for the National Parks and Wildlife Service said in the normal course of events a grazier could only sue a hunter for trespassing.

* *

If the land were declared a Wildlife Reserve, a hunter could be arrested if found on the land with a gun.

The reserved lands could be used as regeneration areas for bears to be transplanted from other areas.

Its slow breeding rate has prevented the species from replacing the enormous numbers that have been killed since the time of early settlement by diseases, by trappers seeking the skins and by bushfires.

* * *

In 1908 about 60,000 pelts went through the Sydney market alone, while in 1924 about two million were exported from the eastern states.

Although this had almost exterminated the koala in Victoria and New South Wales, another open season was declared in Queensland in 1927, and some 500,000 skins were exported.

Total protection has now been enforced, but except in special sanctuaries survival of the southern koala has been in doubt for some years. In recent years strong efforts have been made to reestablish the species.

Transplants for Pregnancy

By Science Service

Women with abnormal or nonfunctioning ovaries may eventually be able to bear children, a Temple University professor reports.

* * *

Dr. Hector A. Castellanos says that by transplanting healthy ovarian tissue from women being sterilized, barren women could achieve desired pregnancy.

* * *

Already he has done transplant operations on 12 young women — not with the immediate idea of making pregnancy possible, but to remove symptoms comparable to menopause.

Oral contraceptives not only seem not to cause cancer but they apparently prevent at least one type of cancer from developing, that of the endrometrium, or lining of the womb.

'Child Inherits Acquired Trait'

New Theory Supports Discredited Dogma

NEW YORK (UPI) — You'll find it hard to believe that what happens to a female in her infancy can influence her descendents through at least two generations.

* * *

Just the same, two scientists have "documented" that it is so. And if it is so, science has a new and very hard nut to crack in its efforts to understand fully and precisely how the characteristics of parents are transmitted to offspring.

What's more, it would give comfort to the late Trofim D. Lysenko, favorite scientist of the dictator Joseff Stalin, who for years imposed on Russian science the false dogma that acquired characteristics of parents are passed to offspring by the ordinary genetic means.

These means are the now-countless genes in the chromosomes of the merged parental germ cells of whatever species, from cabbage to man.

* * *

Each one is a specification and, taken together, they comprise an enormously complex recipe for both the making and operation of the new individual.

MERGED CELLS

Parents pass on only the specifications they themselves receive from their parents in the merged germ cells from which they originated. The dictated Lysenko Dogmas, this one among others, disgraced Russian science, which lost little time in throwing them off once it got out of the Stalin viser.

Now Drs. Victor H. Denenberg and Kenneth M. Rosenberg of Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., have "documented" that "information" acquired by a parent is "transmitted" at least to grandchildren.

However, they were careful to say it was "nongenetic transmission" and so were in no sense supporting discredited Lysenkoism.

* * *

But they acknowledged that as of now "the nature of the mechanisms underlying these effects is not known."

Speeches Monday, Tuesday

Northern Class Elections

By BETTY ATWELL

Elections for class officers will be held Wednesday and Thursday at Pontiac Northern High School.

The walls of PNH are adorned with campaign signs, the candidates are preparing speeches to be given Monday and Tuesday and everyone who is involved is busy "politiking."

Fern Kerr, faculty adviser, ruled in Student Council that the candidates must specify the office for which they are running.

In the past this was not done. The candidate with the highest number of votes was elected to the presidency, the student with the next largest number of votes was vice president and so on down the line.

* * *

Pat Adomitis, Northern's Daughters of the American Revolution award winner, was chosen to represent PNH at the 1967 National Youth Conference on the Atom, in Chicago, Illinois, November 29-December 2. David Craigmile is the faculty member that will attend.

28 DELEGATES

The two Northern representatives are among 28 Consumers Power Company delegates who were chosen.

Charles F. Brown, Pontiac division manager of the company, stated that the students were selected by the schools in recognition of their outstanding scholastic achievement in scientific studies.

Brown continued by saying that Dr. Glenn T. Seaborg, chairman, U.S. Atomic Energy Commission will be the principal speaker. A message from President Johnson will open the first session.

* * *

A motion was passed in Student Council that a king, queen or member of a court of one dance should not be allowed to reign at any other school dance.

ADMINISTRATOR REMEMBERED

Edward Dauw, former member of Northern's administration, who is now assistant principal of Pontiac Central, arrived at his office last Friday morning, only to discover his chair was missing, a poem was covering his doorway and his office was decorated in red and white, Northern's colors.

This was done by a few spirited Huskies to remind him that he is not forgotten at PNH.

The "Northern Family" received a letter from Central's new assistant principal telling how "I was 'over' joyed to see the fine decorations." He continued by saying, "I understand my chair is being repaired and it should return soon."

* * *

The traditional PNH Thanksgiving baskets were given to needy families in the Pontiac area in time for Thanksgiving.

The Northern students gave baskets to approximately 30 homes, one from each of the participating homerooms.

2 From WTHS Are Named to All-State Choir

By MARY JERGOVICH

Two Waterford Township High School students have been chosen for the 81-voice 1967 Michigan All-State Honor Choir.

Both WTHS seniors, Cheryl Shelton and Ted Price will represent the Waterford and Pontiac school areas.

Auditions for the choir were held earlier in November when students had to sing selections from the "Requiem Mass."

The choir will meet in Ann Arbor Jan. 10 to begin practice.

* * *

It will practice music for 10 hours a day until Jan. 13 when they will perform Cherubini's "Requiem Mass" in Ann Arbor.

CHOIR DIRECTOR

Fred Rizner of Hillsdale will direct the Honor Choir.

Every year teachers at WTHS elect the senior girl they feel best qualified to receive the Daughters of American Revolution Good Citizenship Award.

This year's DAR award has been presented to Pam Best. A two year member of the National Honor Society, Pam plays the flute in the school band. She was also elected band secretary.

* * *

She earned a letter in softball last spring and hopes to make the team again this year. Outside of school Pam teaches piano. She has been playing since the age of five.

SOPHOMORE AWARD

Sophomores Pam Gaith and Jim Main have received the Outstanding Sophomore Award from the Waterford Optimist Club.

Any girl wishing to run for Miss March of Dimes should contact Denise St. Dennis during fourth hour in room 206.

Students in Waterford Township have been dismissed from school for two days for Thanksgiving vacation.

Initiation Into Service Club Bad Memory for LOHS Girls

By DIANE CHAMBERLIN

"Take the edge off your button; come to the Buttons' initiation," was a familiar slogan at Lake Orion High School last week. Now it is a somewhat ghastly memory for 38 girls who proved their desire to be a Button — the girls' service club — at last Friday night's slumber party initiation.

A boy-girl party preceded the ceremonies of admission. But as midnight drew near, the gentlemen were asked to leave and the formal rites began.

Old members showed their artistic abilities by creating buttons, hearts and flowers on the faces of the inductees with flaming red lipstick. These designs were accented with gobs of crunchy peanut butter smeared on the ends of noses.

A show of talent by the prospective members followed. Embarrassment and laughter prevailed as each girl took her place in front of the entire group to perform such antics as speeches and imitations.

* * *

A pie-eating contest was the next attraction. With hands tied behind them, the girls devoured mashed mince meat pies. Theresa Vincent was announced the winner and received her prize — removal of the peanut butter from her nose.

DOUBLE DOSE

To ward off illness resulting from the pies, each girl was given a double dose of the Button's own brew — Button Sauce. This consisted of spices, peanut butter, water, lemon, horseradish hot sauce and Coke.

A special treat was prepared for those who did not obey — raw egg, Button Sauce, horseradish and cloves on a bun. This group was also rewarded with the job of cleaning up after the ordeal terminated at 4 a.m.

WBHS Plans 'Gripe Week'

By BOB BROWNE

Hopefully, the halls will all be buzzing at West Bloomfield next week as our first "Gripe Week" sponsored by the Student Council gets under way

* * *

It will climax weeks of work by the Council, which is attempting to improve problems at WBHS.

Perhaps, though, the greatest change sought by the "Week," is to better the relationship between the council and the other students in the school by asking them what they want from their Student Council.

Final arrangements are now being made by the Student Council as representatives present the final draft for the proposed week to the administration for approval.

* * *

Many groups with new ideas are emerging at WBHS this year. Among these are the Spanish Club, headed by A. A. Thygerson; the Chess Club, sponsored by A. A. Porter (who also heads the Slot Car Club); and the Varsity Club.

SPANISH CLUB

Members of the Spanish Club, new to our school this year, have elected officers and are preparing a constitution. The first thing on the agenda, of course, had to be a pinata party. Preparations are now nearly complete.

The Chess Club, also new to WBHS, meets every week with expert and novice matches.

The Varsity Club although an old institution, is going to be established on a new basis this year.

* * *

Instead of existing solely for pictures and looks, this year's club will attempt to raise sagging school spirit and instill new life into the athletic department.

New Cheerleader Togs

The Emmanuel Christian High School cheerleaders displayed new uniforms at the first basketball game Tuesday night. The uniforms, designed by Jean Lee, are white wool pleated skirts with maroon inserts topped by white wool sweaters and maroon dickies.

Seniors made bows, candles, centerpieces and ornaments for sale at Tuesday's Parent Teacher Fellowship night. More holiday trims will be on sale at the December PTF meeting.

Groves High Juniors Launch Candy Sale

By KIM SEROTA

The entire junior class bustles about the Groves High School cafeteria. Each member hunts for a sign identifying his homeroom. The setting resembles a political convention.

* * *

Is it a riot? Maybe a demonstration? No, the scene is last Friday at the beginning of the annual Junior Class Candy Sale.

Dismissed early from their last hour classes, the juniors converged on the cafeteria to pick up candy for the sale. The fund-raising event is held every year to earn senior dues and pay for the junior prom.

The sale actually began early in October with the selection of candy to be sold. Representatives from three candy companies brought samples for the class officers to try.

* * *

The officers, Larry Smith, president; Mark Shada, vice president; Linda Shahan, secretary; Melinda Rex, treasurer, and Cindy Evans, historian — decided on three varieties from the Morley Candy Co., caramel pecan torties, old fashioned mints and coconut bark.

WHERE THE MONEY GOES

For each box sold, the student earns 15 cents toward his senior dues, 35 cents goes to the class to pay for J-hop prom, and 50 cents goes to pay for the candy.

Every class member is expected to sell at least one carton of 16 boxes.

Ten thousand boxes were ordered. The sale will continue until all that candy, and the reorders have been sold.

* * *

Along with the regular candy, the class of '69 is experimenting with a new item, "The Christmas Story With a Sweet Ending." It is a Christmas tale with the last page revealing a box of candy. Each homeroom received 24 storybooks and can reorder many more if they sell well.

AMERICANS ABROAD

Groves juniors, Sue Dickson, Peggy Maass and Leesa Matthews, have applied for the Americans Abroad program in hopes that they might spend the next summer with a family in a foreign country.

Peggy Maass has already been chosen as the Youth for Understanding (YFU) representative. She will be staying in Switzerland for six weeks.

The American Field Service (AFS) student has not been selected yet. After several interviews, the group of 10 candidates has been narrowed to two — Sue Dickson and Leesa Matthews.

* * *

The choice will not be known until spring.

* * *

Candidates are accepted on the basis of interest in people, and the ability to adapt to a new family and surroundings. They must be eager to learn and enjoy making and keeping friendships.

Transparent Man Big Hit

A Star Is Born at Oxford High

By CLARA CALLAHAN

Popular at Oxford High School, "It" could never be homecoming queen or quarterback of the football team but is fast becoming Oxford's favorite mascot.

As the transparent man used to teach anatomy to OHS students, its chief function is educational, but with a skirt, cape and turban, a star is born.

It is only one of the far-ranging objects of interest to be found in the biology room.

Biology, now a required course at OHS, leads students to a wider knowledge of the world around them.

Eighteen members of the junior and senior classes were inducted into the Freda Quayle chapter of the National Honor Society.

Seniors were Jim Wallace, Kathy Marlowe, Mike Milosch, Ellen Garrettson, Judy Rumball and Cindy Barger.

Juniors were Chris Farrell, Tess Howell, Randy Shepard, Martha Ricketts, Jim Acheson, Dolly Sanday, Nancy Hall, Clara Callahan, Karen Palmer, Vicki Barrett, Penny Houck and Barbara Specht.

Nancy Hall and Debbie Skibowski have been chosen to tour with the Musical Youth International.

They will tour Central America, Mexico and the western part of the United States.

Pontiac Catholic

By DEBBIE ROCHON

Pontiac Catholic High School's junior class sponsored a computer dance Wednesday, which featured the Tribe as entertainment.

To many students' delight, and others' dismay, each found himself matched with the computer's choice.

There was an average of two or three dates to choose from, but some students were found compatible with as many as 12 dates.

Tonight the Teen Club will sponsor a dance from 8:30 to 11:30 p.m. featuring the Unrelated Segments, a popular recording group.

REPEAT OF COMEDY

The cast of "The Palmer Way"—Judy Holdsworth, Dennis Womack, Rick Land, Rosemary Quinn, and Joe Nurek — gave a repeat performance of the comedy for the student body this week.

The Pep Club is spurring enthusiasm among the students for Pontiac Catholic's first basketball game, to be Tuesday against Redford St. Mary's.

Avondale

By JAN MALANE

Tuesday Avondale High School students had an assembly program, not just one assemble but two, one in the morning for juniors and seniors and one in the afternoon for freshman and sophmores.

William Glavan will meet with the co-op students to discuss their jobs Monday.

Three senior girls will act as secretaries for the Health Department Thursday. The elementary school students will be getting TB tests then. The girls are Diana Sage, Vicki Sheldon, and Vicki Urbonovic.

3 Attend Cancer Seminar

Attending the Michigan Cancer Foundation's recent seminar were Christina Plaicer of Waterford Township High School, Peggy Cloherty of Marian High School and Christine Zube of West Bloomfield High School. The girls earned scholarships in the foundation's summer science program.

Everything from the reaction of white mice to wall-paper cages to the regenerative powers of a tadpole were discussed at this year's seminar marking the close of the foundation's summer scholarship program.

Approximately 200 persons attended the seminar held at the auditorium of the Cancer Center at John H. and Hancock.

Dr. Michael J. Brennan, president of the foundation, addressed the audience with an illustrated talk on "Immunity in Cancer," and papers representative of the wide areas of research undertaken by the scholarship winners were given by Richard Robb, Charles Wilson and Sandor Ziruinik, Detroit; Madeleine Ruessmann, Bloomfield Hills; and Brenda Fortunate, St. Clair Shores.

Certificates of achievement were presented to the 57 scholarship participants.

This summer marked the fourth annual science scholarship program sponsored by the Foundation as part of its career incentive curriculum.

Indian Musician's Rise Not Without Sour Note

By DICK KLEINER
West Coast Correspondent

LOS ANGELES (NEA) — Ravi Shankar's pleasure over his sudden popularity with American audiences is not an unmitigated joy. It has its thorney side for the world-respected Indian musician.

At home, in India, Shankar is immensely revered. His compositions, his performances on the sitar, his work in films and on All-India Radio have made him a national idol.

Shankar is risking the loss of this respect to stay in the United States and tackle the problem which has erupted here.

"I am being criticized at home," he says, "for spending so much time away from India.

* * *

"I earn plenty of money there, by God's grace, and I could stay there and have a fine life. But I feel a responsibility to stay here now."

RELIGIOUS DEDICATION

The small man, the color of wet sand, tucked his legs under him on the chair.

He was wearing a loose white tunic and white pants and his shining black hair curled thickly down his neck. He has an air of seriousness of purpose, of almost religious dedication to his art.

"India has become 'in' all of a sudden here," he says. "Perhaps because of me, the sitar is very popular. So is the way he we Indians wear our hair. Other things — nirvana, yoga, joss sticks — are also popular.

* * *

"And it is all very superficial. It doesn't make me happy because I see its shallowness.

FEELS RESPONSIBLE

"It hurts me very much, it makes me feel responsible, when I see these hippies with the acid and the flowers in their hair using our sitar.

"These people think they are creating, but the sitar is a difficult instrument. I have not yet mastered it."

Not only is the sitar a hard instrument to learn, but it is a painful one to play.

* * *

Shankar showed the callous at the side of the index finger on his right hand, and the iodine covering the almost-perpetual cuts on the tips of the first two fingers of his left hand.

GAVE UP EVERYTHING

To achieve his degree of perfection took Shankar many years.

Rock Peril in Space Feared Greater Than Previously Believed

CAPE KENNEDY (UPI) — New studies by space agency researchers indicate there may be more solid rock flying around in space than previously believed.

If so, the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said extra protection against cosmic debris may be needed for future manned spaceships making long voyages to the planets.

"Such added precautions would be reflected in the design of spacecraft and in protective space suits for men in space," NASA said.

Millions of objects slam into earth's blanket of atmosphere every day at speeds up to 35,000 miles an hour, and nearly all of this space debris burns up in the air and never reaches the ground.

* * *

For every pound-sized meteoroid entering earth's atmosphere, there are tens or hundreds of ounce-sized projectiles and millions of smaller ones.

VISIBLE AT NIGHT

The burning particles are often visible at night as meteors. NASA said measurements of meteoric light and studies of meteors' courses previously have suggested that most are loose mixtures of sand-like material that rapidly disintegrate and disperse when they hit the atmosphere.

The idea that most meteors are sand-like, combined with studies of their trajectories, led to the conclusion that most meteoroids are remains of broken-up comets.

"This fits the current theory that comets are like 'dirty snowballs' made mostly of ice, frozen ammonia and methane with some rock and sand," NASA said.

* * *

But recent experiments by a group of scientists at NASA's Ames Research Center, Mountain View, Calif., suggested that all meteoroids don't fit the "space snowball" theory.

ENTRY SIMULATED

The Ames scientists experimented with chunks of dense earth rock in high speed, high temperature wind tunnels to simulate the entry of meteoroids into the atmosphere.

They found that the heat caused by air friction melted the surfaces of the test rocks, boiled off what water they contained and expanded other gases in the rock into a layer of foam.

As the rock continued to be exposed to the tremendous entry heat, the foam acted as a blunt heat shield and allowed part of the froth to solidify around the rock.

* * *

NASA said the rock foam was two to 20 times less dense than the rest of the rock. This would account for the reduced density observed as meteors plunge deeper into the atmosphere and which led scientists to believe most meteors were aggregates of sand.

ROCK-LIKE METEORS

But with the new findings, Ames scientists reasoned that a majority of meteoroids may be composed of hard rock rather than sand-like material.

NASA said the reesearchers further speculated that, contrary to old theories, many more meteors originate in the rocky asteroid belts in the solar system or that materials in clouds of comets contain much more solid rock than once believed.

"Based on this new information," NASA said, "the probability of meteoroids puncturing spacecraft is about six times greater than previous estimates from observation of meteors."

* * *

"If indications prove correct, that rock-like debris occurs more often in space than previously calculated, plans for space missions extending into many months may need revision."

New Criticism Magazine Grows With Rock 'n' Roll

By JEFF COX
NEA Special Writer

NEW YORK — Rock 'n' roll has grown up. The proof that rock has lost its Clearasil aroma can be found in the great, gray New York Times, which has lately been affecting adult-aimed commentary on The Beatles.

With adulthood, rock has to take the rap for its excesses and its triumphs. And, for the first time, people are taking this music seriously.

No one takes it more seriously than a New York-based magazine called Crawdaddy, 50 pages of psychedelicate design and insightful criticism of the best rock groups.

Without any outside backing, its editor has made it the most respected magazine now dissecting rock.

* * *

Crawdaddy's editor looks like he just wandered into the magazine's shabby second-floor office in Greenwich Village searching for some fellow hippie's pad. He's Paul Williams, just turned 19, and a Swarthmore dropout.

DRIVES CREW

A wispy-looking young man, he treads barefoot around the office, speaks softly and articulately, works 15 hours a day on the magazine, and drives his crew of six just as hard as himself.

"Crawdaddy is the first magazine of rock criticism," Williams says, "and I'm trying to make it into the very best kind of critical facility."

Rock is suddenly the most active art form in America, he says, and deserves much more than the marshmallow-goo treatment it gets from the teenybopping press.

* * *

Williams talks about Crawdaddy's birth: "I was in my first year at Swarthmore in 1965 — I was 17 then — and interested in magazine work.

"I knew that a successful magazine has to cover a subject nobody else is covering. It struck me that no one was writing seriously about America's newest art form — rock.

"So, I decided to try it. I took the title Crawdaddy from an English club of the same name where The Rolling Stones and The Yardbirds used to be house musicians, and for the first year and a half, I published the magazine on a mimeograph from my home in Cambridge, Mass."

Williams moved the operation to New York six months ago and has built his circulation up to 18,500 . . . all but about 1,000 sold through bookstores and record shops.

* * *

The magazine isn't tightly edited — each writer's own idiom shows through — but it is cohesive and the criticism is often illuminating. Graphically, a young designer named David Flooke does exciting things.

On the debit side, the youth of the writers and editor shows up in the thick seeding of the word "wow" throughout the magazine.

Most important, though, is Williams' attempt to "get to what a magazine should look like." He uses layout for its own sake.

Crawdaddy's photography is never representational — faces are portraits, not mug shots. Groups are shown in moody candids.

Gold Mining Stocks Strong

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold mining stocks were strong early this afternoon while the overall stock market declined in active trading.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off 1.68 at 892.34 paring its earlier decline. Losses outnumbered gains by about 2 to 1 on the New York Stock Exchange.

* * *

A rush for gold in the world's bullion markets constituted a threat on the value of the dollar in foreign exchange, it was reported, and led to enthusiastic buying of gold mining stocks which were already strength-ened by Britain's devaluation of the pound sterling.

Glamor stocks were sharp losers on the Big Board. The roster of blue chips, however, gave ground grudgingly. Some of the nonferrous metal stocks aside from gold mining issues, showed strength.

AVERAGES OFF

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was off .6 at 313.1 with industrials off 1.8, rails unchanged and utilities up .2.

In a generally lower market on the American Stock Exchange, gold mining and other natural resources stocks were prominent. Trading was active.

Giant Yellowknife topped the list on volume, gaining a fraction. Also active, among the gold mining stocks, Goldfield, Day Mines and Lake Shore Mines rose about a point each.

News in Brief

An undetermined amount of liquor was stolen in a break-in of the Green Tavern, 1225 Baldwin, owner Stella Ann Warrington, 57, of 2482 Winkelman, reported to Pontiac police yesterday.

Robert Futrell of 3050 Old Orchard, Waterford Township, reported to township police yesterday the larceny of a stereo tape player valued at $137 from his car parked at 941 W. Huron.

DICK GREGORY

Two Will Fast in Protest of Viet, Poverty

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO — Dick Gregory, Negro comedian active in civil rights campaigns, began yesterday what he described as a Thanksgiving-to-Christmas fast "lawfully protesting against my government's policy in Vietnam."

Gregory, who previously announced he would be a write-in independent candidate next year for U. S. president, running on a peace platform, said he will consume only water during the 32-day fast period.

"I ask all those who, like myself, are opposed to war to demonstrate their determination by not buying a turkey for Christmas dinner," he said.

Gregory said he will maintain his schedule of personal appearances during the fast, appearing in 26 cities for lectures and concerts.

A Pontiac newscaster yesterday ate what he said will be his last meal until Christmas.

Bill Beer, newscaster for WPON, and son of Circuit Court Judge William J. Beer, said he will not eat, smoke or drink—with the exception of water—between Thanksgiving Day and Christmas Day.

The fast is aimed, he said, at dramatizing the plight of needy families in Pontiac, Oakland County and other parts of the nation.

The 32-year-old Beer, married and father of a 7-year-old girl, weighs about 192 pounds and makes no prediction about how much weight he will lose by Christmas Day.

Beer, who will continue his normal duties at WPON, said the food he normally would eat will be given to needy families. He said he hoped others in Pontiac would do the same.

'Christmas Carol' Spoofs Original Like the Dickens

By ROBERT WELLS
The Milwaukee Journal

Ebenezer Scrooge IV was not a man who did much reading or watched television often, so he had never heard of a story by Charles Dickens called "A Christmas Carol" until his public relations adviser tossed it on his desk.

"Imagewise, this could hurt, Eb," the press agent said. "Christmas seasonwise, it does us no good."

Scrooge was president of a company that made hammock grommets and a busy man, but he sat right down and read the book. He was immediately struck by the similarity of names — not only his name but the name of of his clerks. He considered suing this Dickens fellow, whoever he was, but he thought better of it.

"If I sue, it only gives us more bad publicity," he told Miss Flang, his secretary. "Get me Bob Cratchit."

"But it's only 9:15, chief. He never gets here before 10."

"Everybody goes on a coffee break at 10."

"I might line you up with an appointment about 11:15 as long as it won't take too long — the wash-up period for lunch starts at 11:28."

"Well see what you can do, Miss Flang. And could I ask you a personal question? Am I a mean old hardhearted skinflint who would go around saying 'Bah, humbug'?"

"Oh, you're not so old," Miss Flang said and swept out of the office.

Scrooge Arrived, Feast In Hand, At Cratchit's Modest 10-Room Pad

QUITTING TIME

Cratchit didn't show up that morning, but along toward quitting time he came into Scrooge's office.

Ebenezer told him to sit down, handed him a cigar and lit it for him.

"Just now got back from lunch," Cratchit said. "I cut it a little short when I heard you wanted me. What's on your mind?"

* * *

Do you have a family, Bob? A son, perhaps?"

"You mean Tiny Tim"

AN OLD PLOT?

Scrooge shuddered. He had the feeling that he was becoming trapped in the plot of an old Lionel Barrymore movie.

"What's the matter, chief" Cratchit asked. "You don't look so good. You're as pale as the ghost of Christmas past."

* * *

"This son of yours — I don't suppose Tim limps, does he?"

OFFHAND REMARKS

"Now how did you know that?" Cratchit asked, surprised.

"And sits in the chimney corner making little offhand remarks that tug at your heartstrings?"

"Yes, the boy does bug me sometimes, chief. But he's my burden. I'm not one to bother another man with my troubles."

* * *

"Cratchit," Scrooge said leaning forward anxiously, "I suppose you're planning a real feast on Christmas day?"

TV DINNERS

"In my house? I guess it'll be TV dinners as usual. Well, I got to go, chief. I want to beat the rush hour traffic."

Scrooge watched him leave. He wished he had never heard of Dickens or Cratchit or the holiday season itself

"Christmas," he said. "Bah, humbug."

* * *

That night he had no sooner dropped off to sleep than he began to dream. A dim figure came clanking its chains into his room and claiming to be his dead partner.

IT'S STRANGE

This was strange, Scrooge thought. He's inherited the grommet business from his father and had never had a partner.

"Send Tiny Tim to Johns Hopkins," the ghost advise him, groaning now and then for emphasis. "Give Bob Cratchit a raise. And stop going around saying humbug all the time. you mean old hardhearted skinflint, or else—"

"Or else what, oh ghost?"

Scrooge cried out in his dream. "Or else what?"

* * *

Or else it'll do you no good, imagewise, Eb, baby," the ghost said, and vanished.

OUT OF BED

Scrooge leaped out of bed trembling. He threw open the window, breathing deep of the crisp December air.

Then he ran to the telephone and dialed Bob Cratchit's number.

"What is the idea waking me up at this hour on Christmas morning, Scrooge?" the clerk demanded.

* * *

"Merry Christmas," Ebenezer shouted, rolling the r's. "Mer-r-ry Christmas."

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

"You been drinking Scrooge? You know it's only half past 6 in the a.m.?"

"But I'm full of the Christmas spirit, boy."

"I'll just bet you are."

* * *

"And I wanted you to know I'm doubling your salary. And don't you worry about Christmas dinner or Tiny Tim's leg Ebenezer Scrooge has seen the light."

"Well, turn it off and go back to sleep," Cratchit told him, and hung up.

Scrooge hurried to the window again and threw a shilling to a passing urchin, ordering him to run down to the corner and buy a Christmas goose, three plum puddings, plenty of brussels sprouts and keep the change for himself.

The urchin dropped the hubcaps from Scrooge's convertible and threw the shilling back.

"None of that funny money buddy. Throw me a double sawbuck and I'll see what I can do."

NEVER SEEN AGAIN

Scrooge emptied his wallet out of the window. The urchin picked up the bills and was never seen in the neighborhood again.

After a while, Ebenezer called up a catering firm and ordered a Christmas feast delivered to his home.

When it arrived about noon, he took it to Cratchit's modest 10-room cottage in one of the better suburbs.

The family was just sitting down to dinner when Scrooge came bursting in, his arms loaded with food and presents, and swept the family's TV dinners from the table.

FINE, FAT GOOSE

He thrust the fine, fat Christmas goose into Mrs. Cratchit's arms.

"Here, madame," he cried. "A fine, fat Christmas goose straight out of Dickens."

"And just full of cholesterol no doubt," Mrs. Cratchit said, throwing the bird back to him. "If you think I'm going to slave over a hot stove cooking a monster like that, you're crazy. Pick up those TV dinners I went to all the trouble to defrost, Tiny Tim."

Scrooge pivoted on his heel to get a good look at Tim, who limped forward to do his mother's bidding.

250-POUNDER

The lad weighed 250 pounds and was 6 feet 4.

"I was expecting someone smaller," Scrooge said. "Still I'm willing to send him to Johns Hopkins to fix that limp."

"John Hopkins?" Cratchit said. "They don't even have a football team. Tiny plays guard for Notre Dame — that's how he got his charley horse."

* * *

Scrooge left, but only after Cratchit had agreed to take his raise in salary even though it put him in a higher tax bracket.

Outside the house Ebenezer ran into the president of the clerks' union.

"The grommet works is on strike, Scrooge," the president said, "You can't go around doubling one man's salary without giving the other boys the same increase.

"Labor relationswise, you've really raised the dickens."

* * *

"Dickens," Ebenezer said, bitterly. "Bah, humbug."

* * *

And then he stomped off to his office and became a mean old hardhearted skinflint and everbody treated him with more respect.

Push-Button Ease Fingered by Santa for Every Home

"Push-button ease" is not just a phrase but a happy reality — in the gifted array of modern, new major appliances.

New ranges with automatic features can do almost everything but follow a recipe. They handle the cooking chores, and leave the creative joys of cooking to Mom.

New no - frost refrigerator-freezers automatically eliminate the messy job of defrosting. They pamper foods with special, spacious areas for best protection of every kind of food.

New dishwashers do the dishes, automatically, and cleanup chores practically vanish, especially when an automatic garbage disposer is added

* * *

New automatic washers and dryers are taking the word "washday" right out of the language. Even "ironing" is becoming obsolete, for modern home laundry equipment brings out the full benefits of durable press garments and linens, which are really no-iron and which are increasing in number and variety.

WHICH GIFT?

The features that add up to pushbutton ease present the strongest reason why this Christmas, the big gift for the homemaker and her family should be a major appliance. About the only question is, "Which appliance?"

Missing appliance in most kitchens is the dishwasher, and its companion, the garbage disposer. Even newer homes with modern, up-to-date kitchens often do not have a dishwasher.

With the variety of new models to fit every kitchen, every need — and including versatile portables — a dishwasher might well go at the head of Santa's list.

* * *

But what about the new no-washday wonders of automatic washers and driers? In many homes, Santa will find that the automatic washer is present, but the dryer is still lacking. And some homes need both.

SANTA AIMS HIGH

Virtually every kitchen and every family, could "get by" with its present range and refrigerator. Santa, however, has higher ideals of living comfort and convenience than merely "getting by."

The labor-saving lift of an automatic gas or electric range and the no-defrosting ease of a modern refrigerator - freezer are advantages that, probably, most older homes need right now.

For newer homes, too, the rapid developments of recent years in the range and refrigerator-freezer fields tend to make even relatively recent kitchen equipment a candidate for replacement.

Probably the best idea would be for Santa to project an equipment modernization plan. He can discuss with the family the urgent needs of kitchen and laundry, and decide to give the most-wanted appliance this Christmas, with other appliances, in order of need, scheduled for presentation on the next big gift occasion, be it birthday, Mother's day or anniversary.

'Change Your Image,' Ghost Advises A Fearful Scrooge

LBJ Back to Work After Family Fete

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson is settling back into the work routine of a ranch stay after a family-style Thanksgiving.

The Texas White House gave out no information on any official visitors or agenda for the chief executive today. However, it is Johnson's pattern here to mix paper work, phone calls to Washington officials and recreation.

* * *

There was the possibility, too, that before returning to Washington early next week Johnson might try to dramatize—perhaps with a ranch conference of high officials—his renewed drive for a 10 per cent income tax hike. Once given up for dead, the tax bill got a new lease on life because of last weekend's devaluation of the British pound

Administration officials will present a revised tax plan to the House Ways and Means Committee next Wednesday.

NMC Expansion

TRAVERSE CITY (AP) — Northwestern Michigan College announced a spring construction start on a $500,000 physical education facility with completion scheduled by winter of 1969. The building is part of a $5 million college expansion program approved by Grand Traverse County voters two years ago.

Twenty-six large cities containing less than one-fifth of the U.S. population account for more than half of all major crimes.

WHITE LAKE LEVEL CONTROL
NOTICE OF LETTING OF LAKE LEVEL CONTROL CONTRACT AND REVIEW OF ASSESSMENTS

Notice is hereby given that I, Daniel W. Barry, County Drain Commissioner of the County of Oakland, State of Michigan, acting as Agent for the County of Oakland, will on Thursday, the 7th day of December, 1967, at the office of the County Drain Commissioner, 550 South Telegraph Road, Pontiac, Michigan, 48053, receive sealed bids until 11:00 o'clock P.M. (Eastern Standard Time) at which time said bids will be opened and publicly announced for the construction of a certain project known and designated as the White Lake Level Control Dam to be located and established in the Township of White Lake in said County. The quantities involved in said project consist principally of the following:

Gravel Wall Well, pump and motor, electrical work, plating and appurtenances, site work, fencing, and reinforced concrete dissipation chamber and removal of existing observation wells.

Said bids will be in accordance with the date of completion and terms of payment all in accordance with the plans and specifications now on file with the other documents pertaining to said project, in the office of the County Drain Commissioner, Oakland County, Michigan and at the office of Johnson & Anderson, Inc., Consulting Engineers, 2380 Main Highway, Pontiac, Michigan, 48055, to which reference may be had by all persons interested and bids will be made and received accordingly. Contracts will be made with the lowest responsible bidder giving suitable security for the performance of the work in the sum then and there to be fixed by me, reserving to myself the right to reject any and all bids and to adjourn such letting to such time and place as I shall publicly announce.

Any person desiring to bid on the above mentioned work will be required to deposit with the Drain Commissioner a certified check or cashier's check in the amount of Five Percent (5%) of the bid price, as a guarantee that he will enter into contract and furnish the required bonds as prescribed by law.

Notice is hereby further given that on Friday, the 5th day of January, 1968, at the Drain Commissioner's Office, 550 South Telegraph Road, in the City of Pontiac, Oakland County, or at such other time and place thereafter to which the County Drain Commissioner shall said, may adjourn the same, the appointed benefits and the lands comprising within the White Lake Level Control Special Assessment District will be subject to review, one hearing upon which notice is the forenoon until five o'clock in the afternoon. All objections to the confirmation or costs for said project will be made or deemed to waive the parties interested.

In Memoriam 2

BRANCHEAU JR. IN LOVING memory of our dear Ray Branchear Jr. who was killed November 26, 1966.
We do not need a special day
To bring you to our minds.
For the day we do not think of you
Is very hard to find.
It all the world were ours
To give, we'd give it.
Yes, and we'd do so
The face of our dear son.
Lovingly, Mother and the dear.
Friends may think the wound
Is healed, But they little know
The sorrow that is in our hearts
Unexpressed.
Sadly missed by Mom and Dad.

TED'S Trading

THE MONEY YOU SAVE
Could be your own if you should find this 4-bedroom ranch with full basement, family room, garage, fenced yard in Waterford, to your liking. You'll have saved $1,000. Full price $13,900. 10 per cent down.

YOU HOLD THE KEY
To happiness and a lifetime of comfort in this 3 bedroom home you unlock the door to this attractive 2 bedroom brick ranch, family room, attached garage and full basement, attached garage and paved drive. Located in the Silver Lake Estates area.

FOR THE LARGE FAMILY
On the move we have an all brick 4 bedroom Cod home that fits the bill. Also included are a family room, full basement, breezeway, garage and a fireplace to keep you warm and cozy. Full price $19,500. Terms or trade.

TEDS CORNER
Trading your house is the same thing as buying a home with ONE EXCEPTION, your realtor determines the sale. His expenses are similar. If it takes 90 days to sell it could cost the realtor his entire commission of $300. for the advertising alone. What can you expect if you trade? You can expect more advertising, you only move once and you can present home until your new home is available, you are sure of a definite price, you are free and you're sure that your house will be sold when you move into your new home. Your unit is sold with the price built through because your's isn't sold.

2 Newsreels to End Run

NEW YORK (AP) — Universal Newsreel and News of the Day, the last two theatrical newsreels, will cease production before the year's end.

Henry H. Martin, vice president of Universal, said the demise was due mainly to "the speedy, free news coverage by television and the dwindling revenues and the rise in production costs."

★ ★ ★

Universal, founded in 1929, will close out its 38-year run on Dec. 26.

'La Mancha' Triumph Puts Dunce Cap on Early Skeptics

NEW YORK — There was great jubilation for the second anniversary of "Man of La Mancha" at the Players Club the other night.

But actor Ray Middleton, leaning against the bar, recalled there was less confidence on opening night, Nov. 22, 1965. Not everybody was so sure the show would be a smash. A couple of top people were leaving on vacations or other commitments. The reviews while great, were "not 100% rave."

And not all the Broadway historians covered it. It was "downtown," after all, at the ANTA Washington Sq. Theater. I was busy figuring out strategy to sneak into a party Sharman Douglas was giving for Princess Margaret the next night — and covering a Motion Picture Pioneers dinner.

WILSON

★ ★ ★

"But," remembered Middleton, "how it caught on. As somebody said—I believe it was Richard Kiley—'it was a show which was doomed to success.'

"Wish I'd said that," added Middleton.

Kiley, now between engagements, waiting to do a movie, told last night's celebrants, "This is a bigger and much more enthusiastic audience than saw our first performance at East Haddam, Conn."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The Burt Lancasters wanted to get away from fans when they dined at Luchow's so he insisted on sitting in the bar rather than in the "showcase" room . . . Joe Franklin who started out 20 years ago as Martin Block's record selector on WNEW's "Make Believe Ballroom," is planning an annual Martin Block Day in memory of the late dj.

At Danny's/ Janet Leigh showed up in a miniskirt while husband Bob Brandt was turtlenecked . . . New singer Loni Andal and mgr. Ellie Collin have a contract forbidding each to marry unless it's a double ceremony.

Secret Stuff: A new Broadway serious drama got excellent reviews but is dying at the box office . . . Mort Sahl and Yvonne Craig said at Miss Lacey's they'll wed soon . . . Jane Morgan bought nine clocks in Paris for her antique collection . . . The many mothers with children in "Henry, Sweet Henry" are barred backstage . . . The Supremes danced to their own records at Arthur.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Since the society guys are wearing turtleneck sweaters, the mob guys are starting to wear formal dress shirts. The latter don't want to be confused with the former" (Harry Hershfield).

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "Figuring the income tax in France isn't so hard" (says "Minute"). "You just add everything in all columns, and then add what you have left, and give the government the total."

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "Common sense is not so common"—Voltaire.

EARL'S PEARLS: Friend of ours, who's been on the grapefruit diet, was asked, "How are you doing?" . . . He answered, "Don't know how I'm doin' but the citrus industry is doin' great!"

Bob Hope just got his shots for his Christmas tour and remarked, "Everyone got four shots. Because I'm the star, I got six." . . . That's earl, brother.

City Home Fire Being Probed

The cause of a house fire at 344 Baldwin last night is under investigation today by the Pontiac Fire Department.

Damage to the two-story building and contents is estimated at $6,000 by Fire Marshal Charles Metz.

The fire started in the basement area where furniture and appliances are stored by the owner of the building, Herman Hollerbach, 2616 Lari, Orchard Lake.

The second floor, used as a dwelling, was not damaged by fire. No one was in the house when the fire broke out around 9 p.m.

Christian Signs

During the early years of Christianity when a cross was too easily recognized by persecuting non - Christians, other symbols came into use.

The fish, representing Christ's miracle on the Sea of Galilee when He summoned Peter to be an apostle, and the anchor, a disguised cross, were used by early Christians as secret signs of their faith.

He 'Pictures' the Past

An unusual photographic sideline has developed for John Dornes, an architect, artist and antiques collector of Monroe, N.Y.

He photographs people as they might have looked 100 years ago and produces the Daguerre-type portrait in minutes, framed in an old-fashioned gilt case.

It started when Dornes created a photographer's studio of 1850 for the National Arts and Square Garden in New York.

It contained a traditional posing chair with head-holder, studio background of velvet hangings, accessories of marble statuary and a Victorian tufted chair.

As a novel touch, Dornes conceived the idea of photographing spectators in the period costumes so that the pictures would resemble daguerrotypes.

However, to achieve the final picture results he adapted up-to-date methods:

● To get "instant tintypes," he used a Polaroid camera and got pictures in 10 seconds.

● To "fix" and preserve the prints, he developed a special aersol spray which dried instantly.

● To "age" the print, he put it under a gray acetate filter and it did the trick visually.

● To finish the presentation it was mounted under an oval mat in an old-fashioned-type gilt frame.

● Finally, to make the idea worthwile, there had to be adequate public response and willingness to pay a reasonable fee. He arrived at a charge of $4 for a one-person portraint and an additional fee for extra people and extra prints.

★ ★ ★

The stunt was an artistic — and financial — success and Dornes began to get calls to bring his "Daguerrean Temple" to charity bazaars, society affairs, theatrical and private parties.

FROM ANOTHER TIME? — Authentic costumes and props enable John Dornes to photograph people as they might have looked 100 years ago. It has become a sideline career at the New York Flea Market (above) and at private parties.

The first woman composer to have her work performed by the Boston Symphony Orchestra had her usual seat reserved in the first balcony today for the orchestra's performance of a piece honoring her 100th birthday Monday.

She is Margaret Ruthven Lang, whose "Dramatic Overture" was performed by the orchestra in 1893, when she was 26. She is one of only five women composers whose works have been performed by the Boston Symphony.

The selection that conductor Eric Leinsdorf has chosen to honor Miss Lang is an old Pilgrim standards, the 100th Psalm.

Wyeth's JFK Portrait Near Completion

Jamie Wyeth, 20-year-old artist son of painter Andrew Wyeth, says he has only about two more weeks of work to do on his portrait of the late President John F. Kennedy.

Wyeth said he will show the painting to Mrs. Kennedy as soon as it's completed.

K. Lemoyne Billings, a friend of the Kennedys, said it is hoped someone will buy the painting and present it either to the Kennedy Center for Performing Arts now being built in Washington or to the Kennedy Library in Cambridge, Mass.

Rush on Gold Threatening Dollar

LONDON (AP) — The gold rush on the London bullion market continued today for the third straight day with orders pouring in and dealers reporting a "gigantic turnover."

★ ★ ★

The price remained unchanged as the United States and its partners in the international gold pool continued to provide the metal to meet the demand. But the run on gold which developed after Britain devalued the pound raised threats to the dollar.

Dealers said the turnover in the first hours of selling today indicated that a record would be set.

Gold stocks were also strong on the London Stock Exchange, but industrial shares continued the big decline that set in with wide profit-taking Thursday. Within half an hour of the opening the Financial Times index of 130 industrials had plunged below the 400 level for the first time in weeks.

★ ★ ★

Record gold sales were reported Thursday in the London, Paris and Zurich markets as buyers, apparently expecting still more countries to devalue their currencies, traded paper money for gold. The French government let the word out it would resume cashing dollars for gold, which it stopped in October 1966 because it was running short of dollars.

The U.S. government is committed to buying and selling gold at $35 an ounce on the foreign market. If a scarcity in its gold supply forces up the metal's price, this means the value of the dollar has declined.

One important bullion dealer commented: "Even the American gold hoard cannot hold out indefinitely against this sort of demand." But British experts said the United States has several ways to defend the dollar.

The United States so far has had the help of seven other nations in a gold pool now digging into its reserves to satisfy the new demand. The pool was founded to stabilize the price of gold — and the value of currencies pegged to it — by buying or selling whatever was needed to satisfy the market. At least half the gold going through the pool to the anxious buyers comes from Ft. Knox.

★ ★ ★

The gold rush was expedited by the French announcement Monday that France had quit the pool in June and the obviously calculated leak of word that President Charles de Gaulle was preparing to demand U. S. gold for France's dollar holdings.

Both Belgium and Italy were reported on the brink of leaving the pool despite denials in both Brussels and Rome.

British government officials and financial experts, already angered by de Gaulle's maneuvering to keep Britain out of the Common Market, made no secret of their belief that the assault on gold was part of a determined bid by de Gaulle to wrest financial leadership of the world from the United States and Britain.

The British informants said one American line of defense is to halt American investment in Western Europe, particularly France, and dry up the French supply of dollars available for conversion into gold.

★ ★ ★

Another defense, they said, would be to remove the gold backing for the dollar, thus freeing $10 billion of the $13 billion worth of gold in Ft. Knox to meet the rush.

REAL TROUBLE

They said the dollar would be in real trouble only if all holders of the $14 billion worth of U.S. overseas liabilities got together and demanded gold at one time. Few believed that likely.

★ ★ ★

The rush on gold began Wednesday and within a few hours 20 tons of bullion — worth about $23 million — had been bought. Market officials said well over 100 tons, about $112 million worth, was bought yesterday.

U.S. Road Toll Trails '66 Pace

By The Associated Press

The number of deaths on the nation's highways mounted today as many Americans celebrated the long holiday period after a traditional Thanksgiving dinner with relatives.

But the early death toll lagged behind last year's pace that led to 748 traffic fatalities for the 102-hour Thanksgiving period, a record for any holiday.

The count at 11 this morning was 202.

For comparative purposes, The Associated Press made a survey of traffic deaths covering a 102-hour nonholiday period equal to that of the Thanksgiving holiday. From 6 p.m. Wednesday, Nov. 8, to midnight Sunday, Nov. 12, there were 567 deaths reported.

★ ★ ★

Motorists were faced with hazardous driving conditions in sections of the West, Southwest, North and Northeast.

SLIPPERY ROADS

The Weather Bureau reported that highways in 15 states were slippery from rain, snow or freezing rain.

The National Safety Council makes advance estimates of the number of persons expected to die on the highways all holidays except Thanksgiving.

The council feels that most Americans spend this holiday at home, and consequently, there are fewer cars on the highways than during most other national holidays.

The worst accident reported thus far during the Thanksgiving period took the lives of four 18-year-olds at Tell City, Ind. Their car ran off a road and hit a tree.

400 Americans Are Evacuated

ATHENS (AP) — U.S. presidential envoy Cyrus R. Vance sought in Athens today to head off a Greek-Turkish war over Cyprus while the two North Atlantic alliance members continued military preparations. Both nations' armed forces were alerted.

The tense situation caused the U.S. Embassy in Nichosia to order the evacuation to Beirut of 400 American wives and children from Cyprus.

The State Department advised American travelers to stay away from Cyprus, Greece or Turkey, and the Canadian government issued the same warning to its citizens.

Vance arrived in the Greek capital after talks with Turkish leaders in Ankara yesterday that roused resentment in the Turkish press and a rock-throwing anti-American demonstration by 2,000 dents eager for war.

★ ★ ★

He was met with reserve by Turkish officials and made no comment on the negotiations.

WARMER RECEPTION

Vance could expect a warmer reception in Athens, where the military regime is in a less advantageous position. For the Greeks, war in Cyprus would mean fighting 500 miles from their mainland but only minutes from Turkish jet airfields 40 miles away.

Turkey also is stronger militarily than Greece, and the Greek dictatorship can count on little or no aid from abroad.

Cyprus was tense after new flights over the island by Turkish jets, the killing of a Greek Cypriot and two bomb blasts in the Greek quarter of Nicosia.

★

In the Turkish section of the capital, Turkish Cypriots dug fortifications and put up barricades.

Formosan Guerrillas Raid Red Air Base

TAIPEI (UPI) — Nationalist China today said its guerrilla commandos destroyed eight MIG19 jets in a raid against a Chinese Communist mainland air base.

It marked the first time Nationalist Chinese officials reported specific results by their agents on the mainland.

A National Defense Agency spokesman confirmed Hong Kong newspaper reports that the commandoes struck a Red air force base in Kwantung Province Nov. 19 and destroyed the MIG interceptors on the ground.

"The report is correct,' he said

The spokesmen said the raid was carried out "by our anti-Communist fighters on the China mainland in stepped up operations during the chaotic cultural revolution."

It was a reference to communist party leader Mao Tse-tung's struggle to purge foes in the Red army, government and party.

Nationalist Chinese officials previously have said Generalissimo Chaing Kai-Shek's forces are increasing guerrilla raids on the mainland. But today was the first time they reported the results.

"We are checking through our intelligence channels to find out more details," the spokesman said.

150 Red Troops Reported Killed After Three Sharp Engagements

SAIGON (AP) — U. S. cavalrymen and helicopter gunships beat off a Red ambush of an American truck convoy today in the central highlands in one of three sharp actions reported to have cost the Communists 150 dead.

Enemy troops struck the truck column on Route 19 about 2½ miles east of Pleiku.

Reinforcements and helicopter gunships helped drive the enemy off. U. S. officers said 32 Communist troops were killed and seven captured.

U. S. infantrymen reported killing 118 Communist soldiers in two battles—with bazooka-firing Vietcong who attacked near Saigon and with entrenched North Vietnamese troops far to the north in the Que Son Valley.

★ ★ ★

In a fierce 11-hour battle that raged until dark yesterday, the U. S. infantrymen claimed killing 61 enemy soldiers. They reported seven Americans killed and 42 wounded and two armored personnel carriers destroyed.

Book on '67 Events Will Be Available Soon

The fourth of the Associated Press's unique books of living history, "The World in 1967," is being rushed to completion and will soon be available to readers of The Press.

"The World in 1967" is a handsome volume of living history illustrated with action photographs and written by the men who reported the stories in the first place.

If you have already started a collection of those books, you will want the 1967 issue. If not, you should consider starting one now, even ordering the back issues still available.

Report of Son's Death an Error

ELIZABETHTON, Tenn. (AP) — Pfc. John W. Guinn, whose mother thought she buried him last Tuesday, flew home from Vietnam today and said he knew the soldier who was mistakenly buried in his stead.

GUINN

Guinn, 23, of Elizabethton, said he and Pfc. Quinn W. Tichenor, 23, of Louisville, Ky., were in the same company.

"I'm glad they've got it all straightened out now," he said before he boarded a commercial flight to Seattle. He arrived earlier at McChord Air Force Base near Tacoma, Wash., on a military flight.

★ ★ ★

Guinn said Tichenor was in the 2nd platoon of his company and he was in the 1st. "We took advanced infantry training together at Ft. Polk, La."

★ ★

Guinn said he talked to his mother, Blanche Guinn, by telephone from Vietnam Thanksgiving Day, but she didn't tell him of the mistake.

UNAWARE OF MISTAKE

Until a Seattle Post-Intelligencer reporter talked to Guinn at the Seattle airport, he was unaware of the mistake.

The Army said in a statement that two members of Guinn's unit mistakenly identified the body of Pfc. Quinn W. Tichenor, 23, of Louisville, Ky., as that of the Tennessee soldier.

The identity was not verified, through a standard check of fingerprints by the Federal Bureau of Investigation, until Tichenor's body had been buried.

"I went through some other woman's grief," Mrs. Guinn said Thursday. "He (Tichenor) resembled John so much."

One of 10 children, Guinn was drafted last April and went to Vietnam as a member of Company A, 1st Battalion, 35th Infantry, 4th Infantry Division. Tichenor was in the 31st Regiment of the 4th Infantry.

Tough Nasser Talk Firms Israeli Stand

JERUSALEM (AP) — A tough speech by President Gamal Abdel Nasser, warning that Egypt will fight if necessary to get its territories back, today strengthened Israel's determination that a settlement can be reached only through direct negotiations with the Arabs.

One Israeli diplomat said Nasser's speech Thursday "torpedoed" hopes raised by Egypt's acceptance of the U.N. Security Council resolution on the Middle East and "puts us back at square one."

* * *

"That's why we want direct talks with the Arabs — not a U.N. arranged settlement," the source said.

Nasser ruled out such negotiations or an armistice with Israel in an address to his National Assembly and said the Israelis must evacuate all areas of Egypt, Jordan and Syria siezed in the June war.

FORCE THREATENED

"What has been taken by force cannot be recovered without force," he warned.

Optimists at U.N. headquarters in New York suggested that Nasser might be talking tough to keep his people quiet, a standard tactic of his. But Israeli Foreign Minister Abba Eban said in New York: "We take it as an authentic expression of Egyptian policy."

* * *

Nasser, in his first public statement in four months, said he was not satisfied with the U.N. peace formula adopted on Wednesday. Israel has said it was willing to cooperate with the proposal.

* * *

The plan, sponsored by Britain, calls for appointment of a neutral peacemaker to promote a permanent settlement, Israeli withdrawal "from territories occupied in the recent conflict," an end to the Arab state of belligerency with Israel and the recognition of all nations in the Middle East "to live in peace within secure and recognized boundaries."

'EGYPT TO WAIT'

Rather than endorse this, Nasser said "Time is on our side" and that Egyptian forces should wait until ready.

"When the time comes, we will not be on the defensive," he declared. "If we resort to military action, our friends would understand and even support us."

* * *

Gunnar Jarring, the Swedish ambassador to the Soviet Union, has been named special U. N. mediator for the Middle East. He said he would probably fly from Moscow to New York Sunday for talks with U.N. Secretary General U Thant.

"It's not been possible to follow the situation too closely from here," Jarring said. "I'm not entirely in the picture, so I can't comment."

SOVIETS HOPEFUL

The Soviet Union, which backed Egypt and Syria with arms during the June war and has been replacing some of the Arab losses said in the Security Council that it would have preferred another peace formula. But a prominent Soviet commentator, Viktor Mayevsky, wrote today in the Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda that the resolution "could be a step toward a political settlement."

"The task now," he said, "is to fulfill the decision and immediately withdraw Israeli troops from all the territories occupied by them."

* * *

As Israel reads the resolution, it does not have to withdraw until other provisions of the resolution are fulfilled, and the mention of "secure and recognized boundaries" means it is not held to those which limited Israel before the war.

Biafra Rebels Ready to Negotiate Peace

LAGOS (UPI) — Nigeria's breakaway province announced today it is ready to negotiate an end to the five-month-old civil war with the federal government.

* * *

A broadcast by the rebels, who proclaimed the independent republic of Biafra, said there is "still room for cooperation.

It was one of the strongest indications the civil war, which has cost thousands of lives, may be nearing an end in this most heavily populated African state.

The broadcast came as four African heads of state began their second day of talks in Lagos with the military ruler of Nigeria, Maj. Gen. Yakubu Gowon. The leaders came to find a solution to the fighting.

* * *

Gowon told the visiting leaders yesterday there is no possibility of the war ending unless the breakaway eastern region of Nigeria abandons secession.

NOTHING SPECIFIC

Today's broadcast said nothing specifically of ending the secessionist movement.

* * *

Birth Defect Could Be a Result of LSD

IOWA CITY, Iowa (UPI) — The first documented case of a child born deformed after its mother had taken LSD during early pregnancy was confirmed today by a pediatrics professor at the State University of Iowa.

Dr. Hans Zellweger said the women, a 19-year-old Iowa resident who took LSD on four occasions during the seventh week of pregnancy, gave birth to a baby girl with a deformed right leg.

He said he and his associates had confirmed that the malformation was similar to babies born with physical defects during the Thalidomide drug episodes of the early 1960s.

Dr. Zellweger said that while no absolute findings that LSD would cause deformity if taken during pregnancy could be made without further research, he indicated the hallucinogenic drug might cause birth defects if taken by expectant mothers.

* * *

From his home here, Dr. Zellweger called the research "presumptive evidence."

He said studies of Thalidomide babies showed that the infants were born deformed when the drug was taken during the seventh week of pregnancy.

His research showed the Iowa woman had taken LSD — and no other drug — four times, including during the seventh week of pregnancy.

The amount taken was enough for her to experience hallucinations, he said.

"This connection between Thalidomide and LSD is the reason why we suspect there is a causel relationship between the LSD intake of the mother in this case and the malformation of the baby," he said.

Flint Boy, 5, Hangs Self Accidentally

FLINT (UPI) — A 5-year-old Flint boy apparently hanged himself accidentally in a closet at his home here on Thanksgiving day, police said.

* * *

The boy's mother, Mrs. Jean Olson, said she found her son David hanged from a clothes hook in the closet, a belt tied around his neck.

* * *

A stuffed doll was hanged in the same manner next to him, police said.

* * *

Police speculated the child may have jumped or fallen from the chair in the closet.

Former GI Claims U.S. Viet Atrocities

ROSKILDE, Denmark (AP) — A young Negro who said he was a former U.S. infantryman told the so-called Russell war crimes tribunal today about atrocities he claimed he and other Americans committed in Vietnam.

David Kenneth Tuck of Cleveland, Ohio, gave the testimony at the tribunal set up by Lord Bertrand Russell to try to show the United States is guilty of war crimes. Tuck said he had served in Vietnam as a private first class in the 33rd Infantry Regiment before returning to the United States last February and becoming a mailman in Cleveland.

* * *

Tuck said he once saw a Japanese-American behead an injured Vietnamese prisoner with a machete and then throw the head downhill "as a warning to other prisoners that we meant business."

The incident occurred near a Special Forces camp, he said, "after the first battle involving my unit. Everybody was angry with our heavy losses."

BARBED WIRE CAGE

Last January, Tuck said, he saw a South Vietnamese soldier put a knife into the body of a captured Vietcong who was tied up and lying on the ground.

* * *

"Since he still refused to speak, he was placed in a cage made of barbed wire," Tuck said. "He lay there on his hands and knees for a full two days. He must have been a superman because he never spoke up. An American officer was present and gave the orders."

* * *

In March 1966, Tuck said, he himself shot a Vietnamese woman who had not lined up with others after U.S. forces surrounded a village near the Cambodian border.

"The woman looked suspicious, an officer told me, and ordered me to shoot her," Tuck said. "I'm sorry I did it, but it was an order."

Tuck told the tribunal of being on board a helicopter carrying two North Vietnamese prisoners in November 1966. "When one of them started talking, an American threw him out of the copter —flying at 6,000 feet altitude—in order to make the other prisoner keep quiet," Tuck said.

He said it was general practice not to take prisoners except North Vietnamese officers. "We shot them. The only good Vietnamese is a dead one, we were told."

* * *

During cross-examination, Tuck said that after a battle many American soldiers "cut off the ears of the dead enemies. The man with the most ears was considered the No. 1 VC killer, and when we came back to camp, he got free beer," he explained.

Tuck asserted that most infantrymen in Vietnam are Negroes, Puerto Ricans or "poor whites." A total of 106 of 117 men in his unit were Negroes and this was typical, he said.

* * *

He stated he feared being killed "even by my own comrades" if he attempted to disobey orders. "They would have gotten rid of me one way or another."

Three Diseases in Resurgence

ATLANTA (UPI)—Three dreaded diseases which had been on the decline in the United States for a number of years showed signs of resurgence during the last year, according to U. S. Health Department officials.

The National Communicable Disease Center here reported noticeable increases in the rate of malaria, leprosy and diphtheria, according to its annual morbity and mortality report released yesterday.

Malaria cases in the United States during last year increased at the fastest rate in more than 30 years. The center said the sharp increase — from 147 in 1965 to 545 in 1966 — was caused by servicemen returning from Vietnam.

Also in 1966, 109 cases of leprosy were reported in 36 states. Leprosy had declined steadily since 1963. Ten years ago, only 36 cases of leprosy were reported in this country.

The center said although a sharp increase was noted in the number of cases of diphtheria, there was a decline in deaths attributed to that disease.

Ottawa Ending Death Penalty

OTTAWA (UPI) — The House of Commons has voted the abolition of capital punishment for murder for a five-year trial period, except for killers of policemen and prison guards.

The action was taken yesterday and requires only the formality of Senate approval and the traditional "royal assent" before it becomes law. Executions in Canada are by hanging.

Excepted from the measure are the capital crimes of rape and treason.

Vote on the controversial bill, a compromise measure defeated in Commons last year, was 114-87. Sixty-four members, including Prime Minister Lester Pearson, were absent and did not vote.

Pearson last week during debate on aboliton supported the bill with an impassioned speech that included an attack on capital punishment on the grounds it is merely retaliatory and does not deter crime.

Pearson said that instead of exacting ultimate punishment for murder, Canada should seek to eliminate the slums, ghettos and emotional and personality disorders he asserted are responsible for murders and other crimes.

Sign-Up Deadline Near for Pageant

The deadline is nearing for potential Junior Miss applicants. Monday is the last day that the Pontiac Area Jaycees, contest sponsors, will accept applications for the Pontiac Area Junior Miss Pageant.

The pageant will be held Dec. 2, at 8 p.m. in the Pontiac Northern High School auditorium.

Senior girls between the ages of 16 and 19 from the Pontiac area are eligible to compete.

Scholarships of $250 will go to the winner, and $100 scholarships to the runner-up. Merchandise awards will also be donated by local firms.

* * *

The winner of the Pontiac Junior Miss Pageant will compete in the State Junior Miss Pageant in January, also sponsored by the Pontiac Area Jaycees.

NATIONAL FINALS

The state winner will then enter the national finals in Mobile, Ala., in March.

Contestants will not be judged on beauty, but on scholastic ability, mental alertness, poise and personality, along with physical fitness and creative talent.

Entry forms may be obtained at La Vergne's Hair Fashions, 887 Woodward.

School, Police Officials Will Meet Wednesday

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — The board of education has announced that it was inviting neighboring police departments to meet with school officials on mutual problems next week.

The superintendent and the five secondary school principals will meet with representatives from the Bloomfield Hills, Bloomfield Township and West Bloomfield Township police forces at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the board offices on Andover Road.

The meeting is being called to discuss methods and procedures for close cooperation regarding safety, traffic rules, vandalism and all facets of delinquency which concern both the police departments and the school system, said Supt. Eugene Johnson.

The meeting will be open to the public.

* * *

The board recently discussed the possibility of making a future addition to the administration building since office space has had to be rented outside the present building, said Johnson.

SWIMMING POOL

A formal dedication for the new swimming pool which was put into use this fall at the Andover High School will be Dec. 10.

* * *

Edwin Wichert wilbe on hand to discuss pool rules and regulations. Entertainment will be provided by some skilled divers and swimmers.

Blaze Rips Area Home

An estimated $20,000 damage was done to the home of the Larry P. Rossler family at 2561 Little Trail, Commerce Township last night.

* * *

The township fire department estimates $15,000 damage to the house and $5,000 damage to the contents.

* * *

Chief Clarence Kuttkuhn is investigating the cause of the fire.

No one was at the home when the fire was reported at 7:48 p.m. yesterday. Firemen and equipment from the township and Walled Lake departments left the scene at 10:23 p.m.

FRANKLIN — William White of 25860 14 Mile Road, journalism professor and chairman of the American Studies Program at Wayne State University, has been awarded a grant of $17,500 by the National Endowment for the humanities to work on the collected writings of poet Walt Whitman.

The grant comes through the Center for Editions of American Authors, a group of eight authors collaborating on writing the multivolume edition to be published by the New York University Press.

* * *

White, on a year's leave of absence from the Wayne State, is working on three parts of Whitman's collection including his diaries, journals and other unpublished prose; his newspaper and magazine articles; and a bibliography of all of Whitman's writings.

Police Official Talks on Riots

WASHINGTON (AP) — Police Commissioner Howard R. Leary of New York City has told President Johnson's Advisory Commission on Civil Disorders the requisites of a riot include what he called "dry grass" conditions sparked into flame, fed by rumors and fanned by agitators.

Leary's testimony before the commission Sept. 20 was released Thursday. The commission was set up to investigate causes of last summer's riots and to make recommendations for dealing with the problem.

* * *

Leary described dry grass conditions as "a congested urban area, inhabited largely by persons who feel left out of the prosperity that marks most of the contemporary American society."

"It is marked by a rising standard of living," Leary said, "but an even more steeply rising scale of demands on society. There is generally a high level of frustration, an increasing amount of anger and almost always a feeling that comes from years of broken promises, and ranges from mute disappointment to outspoken rage."

POLICE ARE INVOLVED

The spark usually is an incident in which the police are involved, such as an arrest or the policeman's use of a gun, he continued. This is inevitably followed by rumors which magnify the original incident out of proportion, he said.

Thus, Leary testified, with the condition, the incident and the rumor, "Step No. 4 begins when the agitators appear on the scene, ready to promote their own aims and ambitions and programs at the expense of the community they profess to serve."

* * *

Leary told the commission the agitator inevitably turns his attention to teen-agers, exciting them into committing acts of vandalism.

At that point, he said, a sufficient police force is required—first, to prevent further vandalism and then to head off looting.

* * *

"This is a most critical area, because it is at this point that the agitator's efforts to turn disturbance into a riot will succeed or fail," Leary explained.

Student Grounded—It's Time for Book Learning

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Jean Saile, a Pontiac Press reporter, wife of a commercial artist and mother of six children, is taking flying lessons. This is the 13th in a series.)

By JEAN SAILE

Anybody like to ask me the four strokes of a piston?

Intake — compression — power — exhaust.

MRS. SAILE

Want to know the four forces acting on an airplane?

Thrust — drag — lift — gravity.

I've gone back to school!

Hindered by bad weather from continuing my private duel with the landing pattern at Oakland-Pontiac Airport, I've started ground school classes.

They'll be necessary if ever I am to win a private pilot's license.

* * *

Art Trowbridge is the instructor; and, while the first few classes are devoted to a general understanding of the workings of an airplane, it appears that the real crux of the matter is going to be a study of weather and course plotting.

NO STRONG POINT

Mathematics is about to assume an importance greater than the weekly grocery bill. Mathematics has never been a strong point with me, but Trowbridge assures that I will be tested and retested until I have the material in hand or head.

What this is all for, of course, is the Federal Aviation Agency test which says either I know my basics well enough to get a license or I don't.

While this course continues, I will also be continuing to fly. First the landing pattern, then the solo, then about three more hours of landing patterns, about four hours in a practice area, then 10 hours of cross-country, and enough other hours in the air to the point that I know flying well enough that I can also take an FAA air test and hopefully pass it.

* * *

Ground school lacks the excitement of flying, but it is already answering questions that have occurred; and it is befitting to fill my admitted knowledge vacuum on the whys and wherefores of air travel.

PSYCHOLOGICAL BLOCK

It also has been explained that my hang-up on landing the airplane is probably psychological. A number of pilots have faced the realization that they're not really sure soloing is for them, according to Trowbridge.

Since soloing follows mastery of the landing pattern, it's here where the gremlins do the work.

"You know you've been instructed in every phase of landing, it's just working them out and getting them all put together. One day you'll be terrible, and the next day everything will be right," Trowbridge assured.

* * *

He's right, on the terrible part anyway!

Rivers Wants Spain in NATO

BRUSSELS (UPI) — A senior American congressman today said Spain is a better U.S. friend than France and should be invited to join the North Atlantic Treaty Organization (NATO).

Rep. L. Mendel Rivers, D-S.C., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, told a surprised session of NATO lawmakers, "We need Spain as an ally and we need her now."

102nd Bite Worst

Snake Handle Listed Serious

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—While 50 tourists watched, a deadly Australian tiger snake plunged its fangs into the hand of Bill Haast, a professional snake handler. He is reported in serious condition, suffering from his 102nd and most dangerous snakebite.

★ ★ ★

"It was a brand new snake being handled for the first time," said Clarita Haast, wife of the 56-year-old herpetologist and his partner in the Miami Serpentarium, a tourist attraction.

★ ★ ★

Haast was rushed to a hospital in critical condition Thursday. After several hours in the intensive care ward, his condition was reported somewhat improved.

★ ★ ★

Haast claims he has built up immunity from snakebites through injecting himself over the last 19 years with a potion mixed from the venom of cobras, the green mamba, the coral snake and the Indian blue krait.

HORSE SERUM

Doctors inject such serum into horses, then bleed them to use their blood for snakebite remedy — but the horses usually die within two years.

★ ★ ★

After many of his snakebites — almost all of them suffered while taking venom daily from the snakes among the 700 reptiles at his serpent farm — Haast has refused medical attention because of his belief in his immunity.

Sometimes he has been near death, paralyzed, when rushed to a hospital. After one bite by a king cobra Haast pulled the fangs from his arm, cleansed the snake's mouth so it would not suffer ill effects, and continued his work until the venom began to work.

★ ★ ★

His eyelids dropped and his knees went rubbery. Breathing was difficult and he said sounds were tremendously magnified and colors wildly brilliant.

TOTAL PARALYSIS

Total paralysis wrapped his legs and he could not speak or open his eyes. He arrived at a hospital stiff as a plank.

"One moment, I was fighting for breath like a drowning person," Haast said. "Then a great wave of relief swept over me, like the relief a badly beaten fighter must feel when the bell ends the last round. I think this is the feeling of death."

★ ★ ★

Others have been saved from the brink of death by Haast since he quit the airline business 20 years ago and built his snake farm.

★ ★ ★

Haast's own blood is often a special lifesaver. In March Haast was flown in a U.S. Air Force jet and a Venezuelan air force helicopter to a jungle village in Venezuela to deliver his blood to a 5-year-old Indian who had been near death after being bitten by a snake. That was his 11th such mercy trip on record.

Soup Rattler Strikes Chef

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Chinatown being what it is, Kun Loie wasn't surprised to get a rush Thanksgiving Day order for fresh diamondback rattlesnake.

★ ★ ★

So the 60-year-old proprietor of the Tsue Yuen pet shop pried the lid off a box he received recently from Texas and fondly beheld six pairs of beady eyes and six flicking tongues—rattling noises too.

★ ★ ★

Kun Loie stirred the group with a wooden fork until he found the rattler he wanted. He gingerly lifted the squirming serpent, when it suddenly struck his arm three times.

★ ★ ★

As Loie who was successfully treated with snake serum, was being transferred to Chinese Hospital, he explained to ambulance stewards what a fine treat rattlesnake soup is, especially when boiled for a week with herbs.

Lost Cobra Found at Zoo

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — The 11-foot-long king cobra missing since Nov. 14 was found alive Thursday in a storage room of the reptile house at Forest Park Zoo.

★ ★ ★

Elzie Turner, zoo director, said the snake was found by Steve Boyd, a part-time zoo employe.

★ ★ ★

Buzz Ross, assistant supervisor of the reptile house, captured the snake and returned it to its display case.

Ross said the cobra had apparently suffered no ill effects during its 10-day disappearance.

Farmington School Vote Near

FARMINGTON — School district voters here will consider Monday a $9-million bond issue and a 5-mill operating increase.

The bond issue is the second part of a total $12-million package presented to voters more than a year ago. District voters approved $3 million of the package in June 1966.

The bonding program will finance a third senior high school, a fifth junior high, the 19th and 20th elementary schools, and about 50 acres for future school sites.

Supt. Roderick Smith said that the administration anticipates no increase in the debt retirement tax levy.

He explained that the bonds will be retired over a 30-year period and that the district can receive assistance from the State School Bond Loan Fund.

The millage increase for 10 years would raise the school's operating tax levy from the curernt 23.4 mills to 28.4 mills. The total tax levy, including the 9 mills for bonds, comes to 32.4 mills currently.

Passage of the millage increase would make the total levy 37.4 mills.

Salaries, wages and fringe benefits will take up most of the millage increase.

The superintendent also points out that enrollment has gone up by 912 students this year to a total of 15,264.

Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. Monday.

Voting places are Precinct 1, Farmington Junior High, 33000 Thomas; Precinct 2, Dunckel Junior High, 32800 12 Mile; Precinct 3, Eagle Elementary, 29410 W. 14 Mile; and Precinct 4, Middle Belt Elementary, 24400 Middle Belt.

District residents permitted to vote are those who are registered voters and own property.

State Road Toll for Holiday Is at Least 9 So Far

By The Associated Press

At least nine persons including an Orchard Lake youth have lost their lives on Michigan roadways during this Thanksgiving holiday weekend, most in two-car collisions.

Five died in collisions with other cars, three died when they lost control and ran off the road and another was a pedestrian struck down by a motorist.

The Associated Press count, which began at 6 p.m. Wednesday, ends Sunday midnight.

The victims:

Lloyd W. Robinson, 39, of Detroit, who was killed early this morning when his auto ran off a Detroit freeway and struck a pole.

* * *

Warren H. Thomas, 45, of Detroit, who was killed yesterday in Detroit when his auto collided with another car.

William Flood, 45, of Benton Harbor, killed when he lost control of his car near Benton Harbor early yesterday and ran into a tree.

* * *

Gaylord attorney Melvin Freel, killed yesterday morning when the car in which he was riding struck a utility pole, 11 miles south of Gaylord.

Mrs. Mary Fendel, 73, of Portland, died in a Lansing hospital yesterday morning from injuries suffered Wednesday night. She was walking a half-block from her home to church when she was hit by a car.

Mrs. Betty Steffen, 25, of Detroit, killed yesterday morning in a two-car accident in Detroit.

Frank Heffner, 32, of Livonia, killed last night when his auto crossed the center line and collided headon with another car in Redford Township.

Richard Quinn, 22, of Detroit, killed when his car was hit by another vehicle, which crossed the center line in Detroit last night.

Richard Jordan, 18, of 3184 Middle Belt, Orchard Lake, killed early yesterday in a car-truck accident in Bloomfield Township.

8 Mills Asked for District

Romeo to Decide School Levy Monday

ROMEO — School district residents here will decide Monday whether they want to approve an 8-mill tax levy — three of which would be renewed.

The school system will be faced with an anticipated $100,000 deficit by next June 30, if the election fails, according to Asst. Supt. Robert Randell.

"A favorable election result will also permit us to draw up a preliminary budget for next year and begin salary negotiations with school employes and teachers," he added.

Polls will be open at the Romeo Junior High School and the Washington Elementary School from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

If the millage passes, residents would be paying a total of 27.6 mills, said Randell. The residents now pay 22.6 mills.

Five of the eight mills requested would be an additional tax; however, all would be assessed for five years beginning in December, 1968, he said.

This would be an additional cost to the taxpayer of about $40 a year based on $5 per $1,000 of state equalized valuation.

"Of the additional five mills, three would be needed to retire the debt and the remaining two would be for additional maintenance, six new school buses, some remodeling, and salary adjustments," said Randell.

* * *

He explained that each mill was worth $33,000 each year to the school district based on 92 per cent collection of taxes.

Choices for Appointments at Military Academies Set

Congressman William S. Broomfield, R-18th District, has announced his nominations for appointments to the U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force academies.

Five appointments will be made — two each to the Naval and Air Force academies, one to the Army academy.

The nominees have passed competitive examinations for the academy of their choice. After appointed, they must pass entrance exams.

Nominees are rated as principal and alternate delegates.

* * *

WEST POINT ALTERNATES

West Point alternates include Michael M. Aldrich, son of Mr. an dMrs. Edwin M. Aldrich, 124 Glendale, Rochester: Frederick Van Vurst, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Van Vurst, 4889 Ardmore, Bloomfield Hills; and Roger D. Hershman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hershman, 3736 Thornbrier, Bloomfield Hills.

One of the two principal candidates for the Naval Academy, Annapolis, is George J. Quart, son of Mrs. Elinor H. Quart, 235 S. Glengarry, Birmingham.

Annapolis alternates are Thomas E. Snyder, son of Capt. Edwin K. Snyder of Washington, D.C., formerly of Birmingham; MacGregor H. Paul, son of Mr. and Mrs. David H. Paul of Paxton, Mass., formerly of Birmingham; Keith C. Zajic, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Zajic, 3257 Wendover, Troy; and Stephen J. Hopkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. John H. Hopkins, 1423 Christian Hills, Rochester.

* * *

The 11 principal candidates for the Air Force Academy include Douglas R. Brower, son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Brower, 3414 N. Adams, Troy; Michael Phillips, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Phillips, 1085 E. Snell, Rochester; William A. Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hans Rose, 6677 Timber Ridge, Birmingham.

Others are Mark C. Kraetzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry C. Kraetzer, 1680 Norfolk, Birmingham; and Harold L. Chambers, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold L Chambers, Sr. 47 Sheffield, Troy.

New Mascot at North Hill Is Feather in Students' Cap

ROCHESTER — Who's the smartest bird in town?

"The North Hill Owl — That's Whoo!"

Ask any of the elementary students who Wednesday ensconced the symbol of wisdom and knowledge as their official mascot.

Done to the accompaniment of a new school song, written by Mrs. Thomas Marsh, music teacher, and sung to the tune of "The Marine's Hymn," the installation ceremony created more excitement than has been seen in a long time in the elementary halls of learning at North Hill School.

"He is very wise and loyal and foresight is his trait. Our leaders look up to the owl, and help to keep us straight," sang the North Hill choir.

* * *

What they were looking up to was a former airplane hangar decoy, contributed by an anonymous donor, and outsider in colorful felt finery.

YET TO BE NAMED

Presented to Ann Ungier, 11-year-old president of the student council, the owl is yet to be named.

It had to be representative of Rochester owls, for a display in the school hall noted that while most owls hunt at night and sleep during the day, "owls that are found in Rochester are the long-eared and short-eared owls and sometimes a snowy owl. The short-eared owl hunts by day and sleeps by night and eats mostly birds."

As everyone knows, no student should be a "night owl."

* * *

Quite descriptive of owlish habits, the display also noted, "They eat small mammals like mice, rats and moles. When they finish eating they regurgitate the bones, fur and feathers that they can't digest.

OWL PELLETS

It continues, "These are called owl pellets. They are found under roosting trees.

There were some rather graphic examples of such items in the case.

"Owls prefer to live in a pine grove. They use nests that other birds or small mammals make."

* * *

Come to think of it — that's probably pretty smart too, as anyone who has ever built a house can vouch.

Keego Officer's Futile Bid to Save Infant Recognized

KEEGO HARBOR — Auxiliary police officer David Erickson, 2955 Elam, has been recognized by the City Council for his attempt to save an infant's life Sept. 15.

Although Erickson revived the infant three times by mouth-to-mouth resuscitation on the way to the hospital, the infant died at the hospital.

Also, the council has approved the renting of a building on Beachmont to house the City Department of Public Works machinery during the winter months.

City Manager Gary Dickson expects the rent from December through April to amount to about $1,000.

The council also approved the promotion of Mrs. Robert Ward, 2338 Willow Beach, from deputy treasurer to treasurer.

* * *

The promotion for Mrs. Ward, who has been employed by the city for four years, includes no increase in her $5,400 yearly salary.

Dickson, who is also city clerk, had been treasurer.

OU Student Teacher Is First in Avondale

The Avondale School District has received the assignment of its first student teacher, Brenda J. Hamilton of Fraser.

* * *

A student at Oakland University, she will begin her teaching assignment in the Avondale elementary schools, according to Hobart H. Jenkins, assistant superintendent of schools.

Commerce Twp. OKs Land-Fill Law

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — A sanitary land-fill ordinance passed last night by the Township Board sets up controls tougher than those of the state. Some of the controls more stringent than the state law are those for fencing, greenbelts and setbacks, said Township Supervisor Robert H. Long.

A prospective operator of a land-fill must still obtain a permit from the township, according to a zoning ordinance already in effect.

The newly passed ordinance doesn't take effect for about 35 days.

* * *

It includes, as the state law, provisions regarding the covering of refuse.

SEWER LETTER SENT

The board also sent a letter to the Oakland County Department of Public Works stating the township's interest in participating in an interceptor sewer system which may become available in several years.

The system may be financed by special assessments to those serviced, said the supervisor.

'Here Comes Santa' to Oxford Tomorrow

OXFORD — Santa comes to Oxford tomorrow in a 2 p.m. parade down Washington Street that will climax with his installation at the Santa Claus House in the Village Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Medaugh, Chamber of Commerce parade chairmen, report some 40 entries will take part. The parade will start at the junior high school and continue to Crawford Street.

6 Youths Arrested in Shelby Twp. as Arson Suspects

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Six Shelby-Utica area youths, including three 17-year-old girls, spent last night in Macomb County Jail on suspicion of arson.

They were to be arraigned today before Macomb Justice Edmond Schmidt in Mount Clemens.

Held were Carol Moore, 17, 47911 Burton; Michael Prowse, 18, 8714 Pemberton; Janice Dzierbicki, 17, 44287 Merrill; Marjorie Muszyski, 17, 8280 Rhode; Frank Tobey Jr., 20, 8471 San Marco; and James Good, 18, 6009 Goff.

They were arrested at 10 p.m. last night on 23 Mile Road west of Hayes near the site of an abandoned barn by Shelby Police Officers David Miller and Kenneth Stevens. The two officers said the barn showed evidence of an attempt having been made to set it afire.

* * *

The youths were picked up as officers were on their way to investigate an abandoned house fire at 23 Mile and Hayes. Another fire in an abandoned shed at 25 Mile and Mound roads had been reported previously.

Officers said an investigation linked the six with all three blazes.

The charge of arson is a felony and carries up to a maximum sentence of 10 years in jail.

2 Michigan Soldiers Are Killed in Vietnam

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department announced yesterday that two Michigan men were killed in action with the Army in Vietnam.

They are Pfc. High D. Scott, husband of Mary E. Scott of Adrian, and Pfc. Garry L. Reichard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Reichard of Newaygo.

Response to Detroit Hike

Novi Increases Water Rate

NOVI — Water rates have been raised in the village.

The increase was recommended by the village manager, Harold Ackley, and passed by the Village Council in response to higher rates charged by the Detroit system, which supplies the village.

The village will be absorbing a small share of the increase effective this week reported the manager.

The rate hike affects the minimum quarterly bill and the rate per 1,000 gallons over the minimum volume.

The increase ranges from 25 cents more each three months for 7,500 gallons of water with a ⅝" main to $2.50 more each three months for 25,000 gallons with a 1½" main.

Clarkston Youth Group to Feature Panel Talk

CLARKSTON — A youth panel will be featured at the 8 p.m. Monday meeting of the Clarkston Area Youth Assistance Committee.

* * *

Robert Brumback will serve as moderator for the session which is to take place at the Township Hall Annex, 90 N. Main.

Some 14 young people will participate. Refreshments will be served.

Avon OKs Ambulance Funds

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Township Board has voted to subsidize Fleet Ambulance Service to the cost of $500 a month on a six-month trial basis to keep the service available to the area.

The decision was arrived at following a combined meeting with city of Rochester and Oakland Township representatives.

It was passed by the board following a short executive session during its regular meeting Wednesday night.

Fleet had asked for a $1,000 a month subsidy in order to keep ambulances in the area east of Pontiac.

Rochester City Manager William Sinclair said he would recommend to the council Monday night that it pay $300 a month on a six-month trial basis. The remaining $200 a month is under consideration by Oakland Township, which however is partially served by ambulances from the Oxford-Lake Orion-Romeo areas.

PROPOSAL TABLED

In other business the board tabled its proposed water and sewer operating ordinance for further study. The ordinance, introduced for the first time at a special meeting last week, would provide for the construction and maintenance of some $8 million worth of additional lines.

Charted as part of the township's internal Phase I development program — timed to be ready when the Clinton-Oakland Sewer Interceptor goes into usage in about two years — the plans call for 27 miles of additional sanitary sewers and 48 miles of additional water mains.

The sewer program would encomtion of the township and the water protion of the township and th ewater program would include 26 central sections of the township.

* * *

Cost on the sewer program is estimated at $3 million and on the water system at $5 million by Johnson and Anderson engineering firm of Waterford Township.

SISTERLY DREAM — Karen, 8, and Lisa, 5, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence K. Shinoda, 36590 Maas, Utica, try out a gasoline-powered dream car to be given away at the Chevrolet exhibit at the Detroit Auto Show. The show runs through Sunday at Cobo Hall.

MARKET QUEST PIECES

Subways Get Luxurious Improvements

PARIS (AP) — At its best, subway riding in Paris can be a pleasant affair. It's not always at its best, and they're working on that.

There are still mobs in rush hour, some stations are dark and odoriferous, and a lot of rolling stock shows badly its half-century of service. But the managers of the government-run Metro are pressing at improvements, and raising fares to pay for them.

★ ★ ★

Today, on an ideal trip, a Parisian can descend a wide stairway with white granite balustrade into a light, airy ticket room lined with tasteful window displays of modern furniture and Oriental carpets. His ticket may be either second class or first class (less crowded).

The tunnel decor is new enameled aluminum paneling, in, say, prairie green, autumn brown and yellow. The commuter sees clean, up-to-date advertising posters and perhaps museum pieces in glass cases.

ART REPRODUCTIONS

He may even bathe his eyes with paintings of Van Gogh, Dufy and other masters reproduced in brilliant back-lighted collages of splintered glass.

A small box on the ceiling diffuses an aroma of pines — yes, a "perfumer." An air-conditioner wafts cool, filtered air over him.

In rubber-tired silence, the two-tone blue and pastel yellow train arrives and stops with a faint moan of the brakes. Sometimes an intercom can be heard giving traffic instructions, as on an airliner.

If there is no regular red plastic-cushioned seat available, the passenger might find a jump-seat. If left standing, he takes a firm grip on a polished chrome upright because the acceleration can take him off his feet.

When everyone is clear of the doors — a closed-circuit television monitor on the platform helps to verify this — the train is off with little more than a whir of the electric motors.

At the end of the trip, the rider may hear a clinking of hammers, but this only confirms that another station beautification or modernization job is under way.

★ ★ ★

Then, confidently, he strides aboard a "moving sidewalk" or an escalator which delivers him all the way to the street, relaxed and ready to face his job or his wife.

Well, perhaps.

These features exist on segments of the vast Paris system, but few riders encounter all on the same trip. The perfumers and air-conditioners, for example, are experimental only in a few stations. The majority of the system is still frequently stuffy and rattle-bang.

PNEUMATIC TIRES

Three of the 14 main lines have been placed on pneumatic tires, with two of them increasing capacity 25 to 30 per cent due to greater speed and longer trains — which also meant longer stations.

Rubberization is too slow to continue, however, there are only a few hours per night for work on the tire runways, and the ancient trains must be replaced faster before they wear out completely. There is no more time for track alterations — except possibly for one line on elevated rails.

New steel-wheeled cars in production will be almost as quiet as the rubber-tired jobs because of heavier insulation, officials say.

All this costs money, of course. Fares recently shot up, for example, from 11 to 18 cents a ride when a book of 10 first-class tickets is bought.

PAYS FOR ITSELF

But station beautification, progressing at about 30 a year, helps pay for itself, officials say. The prettier the stations, the more advertisers are willing to pay for space.

And presumably, the more pleasant it is to whisk under the city's traffic jams, the more often people will do it.

Short Strike Will Hurt AC

FLINT (AP) — Union members at the General Motors AC Sparkplug division in Flint will stage a walkout this weekend in the latest of a series of short strikes against GM plants.

A spokesman for United Auto Workers' Local 661 said the walkout was called to protest a short work week at some sections of the plant, excessive overtime at others, and the lack of settlement of local plant issues.

The 2,800 union members will walk out Saturday and plan to resume work Monday.

"hello, dialing!".

You know the tune. It goes:
1. Dial 1.
2. Dial the Area Code (if different from your own).
3. Dial the number you want. Then say hello.

To Sing With Orchestra

Pontiac Tuesday Musicale Chorus will sing Vaughn Williams' "Magnificat" and Tchaikowsky's "Nutcracker Suite," with the Pontiac Sympohny Orchestra. The concert is slated for 8:30 p.m. Tuesday in Pontiac Northern High School Auditorium.

* * *

Soloists for the "Magnificat" will be Alice Engram, alto, and Roger Welton, flutist. Mrs. Ferdinand Gaensbauer is chorus director. The Orchestra will be conducted by Felix Resnick.

* * *

Three instrumental selections will be performed by the orchestra: "L'Arlesienne Suite No. 2" by Bizet; "Romanza for String Orchestra" by Riegger and excerpts from Leonard Bernsteins "West Side Story."

The Tuesday Musicale Chorus was established in 1924. It is made up mainly of club members but anyone qualified may join.

* * *

Voices range from fine soloists to untrained singers, but nearly all of the current 50 members have had previous choral experience, according to Mrs. Gaensbauer. She says "The chorus provides women in the area an opportunity to continue musical growth and knowledge, relaxation through singing and friendship and fellowship through a mutually shared activity."

EXPERIENCED DIRECTOR

Director of the chorus for 17 years, Mrs. Gaensbauer has had extensive choral work, including training with Fred Waring and Robert Shaw.

She obtained her B.A. and B.M. with a piano major, from Parsons College in Iowa and her masters in music education from Columbia University.

SOLOIST

Alice Engram is a native of Detroit and was graduated from Hillsdale College. Following studies at Juillard School of Music in New York, she toured the United States on oratorio and concert engagements.

* * *

She was with the Philadelphia Civic Opera Company and New York City Center before coming to Oakland University four years ago.

She has been on the faculty of Oakland's Meadow Brook School of Music for the past three years and is director-producer of the Birmingham Musicale Opera Workshop.

FLUTIST

Roger Welton is a charter member of the Pontiac Symphony. He obtained his bachelor's degree in music from Michigan State University and his master's from Indiana University. On the staff of Pontiac School District for the past 10 years, he is instructor in instrumental music at Pontiac Northern High School.

Tickets for Tuesdays concert are obtainable at the door.

Cinderella Ball Funds Supply Buses, Clothing

By SIGNE KARLSTROM

Mrs. Joseph E. Risdon, president of the Women's Committee of the TB and Health Society, reported at the association's annual meeting recently that $37,000 was realized from the Cinderella Ball. This money will go to buy more mobile X-ray buses and clothing for the children at the Maybury Sanatorium, as well as other equipment.

* * *

Attending the meeting from this area were: Mrs. Lewis D. Fykse who is social chairman, Mrs. John D. Richardson Jr. past president, and Mesdames: Charles L. Bricker, M. M. Burgess, John D. Daniels, Lloyd H. Diehl, Jr., John E. Jennings, J. P. Judd, Herman E. Reichart, Lynn A. Townsend.

* * *

Newly elected officers are Mrs. Risdon, serving her second year as president, and Mrs. William R. Shaw as executive vice president.

Mesdames Earl S. MacPherson and Irvin Hermanoff were welcomed in as new members of the association.

GLOBE-CIRCLERS

John W. Kinsey, president of the Circumnavigators Club, has announced that their 11th annual dinner will take place next Friday at the Manna Loa Restaurant in Detroit. It will be a black tie affair with dancing following the dinner.

Mrs. Kinsey, who is in charge of decorations, promises something very unusual in the form of shell necklaces from Tahiti and fresh flowers from Hawaii.

* * *

Among those who have made reservations are: Mr. and Mrs. Edwin O. George, Mr. and Mrs. Vern D. Hanna, Mr. and Mrs. J. Dewey Hawthorne, the Henry C. Johnsons, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold P. Meloche.

Others are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil E. Nickel, Mr. and Mrs. John L. Thornhill, Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Y. Watson, Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Wilson, Jr., the Edward S. Wellocks, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas C. Van Degrift and Jack A. Frost.

George F. Pierrot will present the "Michigan Recognition Awards."

MRS. JOSEPH L. B. BENNETT

Today's Woman

Music Highlights Life

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Women's Editor

"They also serve who only stand and wait."

But Margery Bennett (Mrs. Joseph L.B.) of Illinois Avenue not only stands on the sidelines of every musical event in Pontiac — she cheers on the participants with her applause and her enthusiasm.

Young people presenting musical programs — and for that matter, any individual putting on a concert —have no better friend than Mrs. Bennett.

* * *

She has always been interested in music.

Before her marriage to the now-retired engineer from Pontiac Motor Division, Joseph L. B. Bennett, she taught music in the Pontiac schools.

She has raised her own family of three sons and now enjoys a flock of grandchildren who live in the area.

She could sit back and relax, feeling that others could do the work now. She and her husband like to travel. These are their leisure years.

Leisure?

As you would expect, she is a dedicated member of Pontiac Tuesday Musicale. She is on the board of directors of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra.

She's an active member of Pontiac-Oakland Town Hall and a worker in the Women's Auxiliary to Pontiac General Hospital. As corresponding secretary of the latter she performs the task with her usual efficiency and willingness. At the hospital she works in the gift shop.

TIRELESS WORKER

But over and above her contributions within the framework of an organization, Mrs. Bennett is a tireless worker for better music—for more music—for encouragement of young talent. She's always pleading someone else's cause.

Most parents, after their children have graduated from high school, breathe a relieved sigh and vow they'll never go to another school musical event. Margery Bennett is the exception.

* * *

You'll always find her in the audience. Furthermore, she takes the time and effort afterward to tell the performers that she liked what they did. Or tell their parents how she enjoyed the concert.

She's a one-woman cheering section.

When approached about this article, she demurred, saying "Others are more worthy."

But we wrote it anyway and nominate her "Today's Woman," an important individual in the cultural life of our community.

Girl Is Unhappy

'Escape' Is Bad Basis for Marriage

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a 16-year-old girl who has a very unhappy home life. My folks fight all the time. They have been fighting ever since I can remember. They treat me like dirt and I want to tell you, it is miserable and rotten.

ABBY

My boyfriend, Denny, is 17 and he comes from a home that's even rottener if there is such a word. His folks not only fight all the time, but his father beats his mother. Anyway, Denny has been crazy about me ever since eighth grade and we are thinking of getting married when he graduates from high school in June.

* * *

If the army doesn't get him, he hopes to work days at a garage and go to trade school for mechanics at night. He's real good with cars and motors.

Should I quit school and get a job when Denny graduates? I'd have only a year to go, and could finish later. We wouldn't have much money, but we wouldn't need much, and at least we'd have each other. I need advice. Thank you.

DENNY'S GIRL

DEAR GIRL: Don't use marriage as an excuse to get out of the house — no matter how "miserable" it is. I urge you to finish high school while you have the chance. The "later" you mention rarely comes. Children usually do, instead.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Can a girl get pregnant from kissing with her mouth open?

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: Not if she opens it to say NO!

DEAR ABBY: There is only one answer for HAMBURGER PUSS whose tender face was constantly irritated by her boyfriend's rough beard.

She should ask him to SHAVE AGAIN!

I had the same problem with my boyfriend (now my husband of 18 years). Old cactus chin used to tear up my face during those smooching sessions. Now, when I whisper, "Are you going to shave tonight, dear?" it sends him flying for his razor with flashing eyes. I wouldn't trade my heavy-bearded man for the most handsome peach-fuzzed face in the world.

Opening lead—♥ 3

By Oswald and James Jacoby

People who watch bridge games are divided into three classes. The kibitzers who sit right back of the players, the dibitzers who sit back of the kibitzers and the tstsers who stand way back and go ts-ts after a bad play.

JACOBY

South drew two rounds of trumps and took the spade finesse. West was in with the king and after a lot of thought proceeded to cash his ace and queen of clubs. Then he got out with a spade and eventually South had to lose another club trick.

"Nice defense, partner," remarked East.

"Terrible dummy play" muttered the kibitzers and dibitzers, while a background chorus of "ts-ts's" came from the tstsers.

All comments were justified. South really should have made his contract. He had two ways to do it. One way would have been to play three rounds of diamonds after drawing trumps so as to strip his hand and dummy of that suit. Then a club lead would have stuck West in.

A more elegant line would have been for South to play the diamonds before playing the second trump, then enter dummy with the second trump and lead a club from dummy to his jack.

This play would be expensive if the second diamond were ruffed, it wouldn't work any better against the actual East-West holding, but it would give West a chance to go wrong with ace-queen of clubs. West would be in with the queen and might just get desperate and shift to a spade.

As for East's comment of "nice play", we must agree with him. West made a remarkably fine play when he led out his ace-queen of clubs after winning the king of spades. If he had not done this, South would have stripped the diamonds and spades and end-played West in that club suit.

Astrological Forecast

By SYDNEY OMARR

For Saturday

"The wise man controls his destiny . . . Astrology points the way."

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Good news and results connected with work, health, money from creative endeavors. Avoid excess. Be moderate. Help those who seek answers. Make friends through charm.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): You may try to handle more than is practical. Applies especially in romantic area. Find out what you want. You can't have everything at once. Know this. Act accordingly.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): What you own could go up in value. Applies to property, stock. Your sense of responsibility is tested. You could be promoted, get chance for greater success.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Some relatives appear expansive and expensive. You might have to halt a special project, consideration. Door closes in one area but opens in another.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Stress self-expression. Create and originate. Lead rather than follow. You get more money from efforts. But key is to keep up momentum. Push ahead. Be confident and authoritative.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Keep control of personal-professional affairs. If you relinquish reins to others, there could be blowup. Means things tend to expand too quickly today. Good fortune shown. But be wary.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Be versatile, flexible. You could be frightened by conjecture of others. But actually there is nothing to fear. What is unknown today soon will be available, useful.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Good news received regarding friend and also in connection with personal desire. Fine night for celebration. Some today ask outlandish favors. Be fair but firm.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You get promoted, honored or recognized for carrying out special duties. Let others know your capabilities, achievements. Don't hide light under bushel. Speak.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): You learn, gain, achieve greater degree of proficiency. Much of this comes through reading, advertising, publishing. Adds up to ability to grasp meanings, to communicate.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Attention centered on legal settlements. Cycle rides in your favor. Fine for special appearances involving claims, contracts. Your resources multiply.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): You could reconcile. Today you receive overture which is opening for peace, greater harmony. Applies especially to close associate, mate or partner. Be gracious, reasonable.

IF TOMORROW IS YOUR BIRTHDAY you have keen desire to learn, to transmit knowledge through teaching, writing, publishing. You are fond of travel and often battle orthodoxy. You are capable of interpreting your time and can delineate character. This would make for a successful career in the theater.

GENERAL TENDENCIES: Cycle high for VIRGO, LIBRA. Special word to LEO: welcome new contacts, experience.

Higher Interest Hits Consumer

Borrowing Cost Goes Up in U. S. This Week

NEW YORK (AP)—The individual consumer is going to feel the pinch of higher interest rates for car loans, home mortgages and personal loans.

The cost of borrowing money went up in the United States this week in the wake of devaluation of the British pound and an increase in the British interest rate to 8 per cent from 6.5 per cent.

* * *

The first move to higher interest charges was taken by the Federal Reserve Board when it boosted its discount rate to 4.5 per cent from 4 per cent. This rate applies to member banks who borrow money from the Federal Reserve.

Then major banks in leading financial centers raised their prime interest rate to 6 per cent from 5.5 per cent.

BIGGEST BORROWERS

The prime rate is charged the biggest and most credit-worthy borrowers—mainly big corporations.

But other interest rates are scaled up from the prime rate and that's where the consumer will be touched in the pocketbook.

* * *

The increase in the prime rate followed the discount rate boost because banks will have to pay higher interest to the Federal Reserve and, to maintain their profit level, will have to charge their own borrowers more.

As a result of the increase, the prime rate has returned to a level that prevailed from August 1966, to late last January, when it was cut by some banks to 5.5 per cent and by most others to 5.75 per cent. This split rate remained in effect until last March, when an industry-wide 5.5 per cent went into effect.

HIGHEST LEVEL

A 6 per cent prime rate is the highest level that the basic charge has reached since such an industrywide benchmark first came into general use in the early 1930s.

The probable effect of the prime rate boost on corporations is that some will defer borrowing to finance new plants and equipment. This would mean loss of new jobs that would have been generated.

* * *

Banks are expected to raise their interest charges on home mortgages, which currently range roughly between 6.4 per cent to 7 per cent.

Addition of a half per cent to a 6.75 per cent $20,000 20-year mortgage would increase the interest cost about $100 a year.

The individual who wants to buy an automobile, a television set or appliances or furnish his home on credit is likely to find he will be paying higher interest.

Some banks have raised their loan rate to stock brokers from 5.5 per cent to 6 per cent. Brokerage houses usually pass along their higher borrowing costs to customers. So investors buying stock on credit will pay at least one-half percentage point more in interest.

News in Brief

An undetermined amount of liquor was stolen in a break-in of the Green Tavern, 1225 Baldwin, owner Stella Ann Warrington, 57, of 2482 Winkelman, reported to Pontiac police yesterday.

Robert Futrell of 3200 Old Orchard, Waterford Township, reported to township police yesterday the larceny of a stereo tape player valued at $137 from his car parked at 941 W. Huron.

Hospital Release Soon for Lion Cub

BELLE GLADE, Fla. (UPI) — "Lucky," a rare white lion cub, may be removed today from a sterile hospital incubator which saved his life when his conventionally coated mother rejected him.

The one-of-a-kind cub is "definitely looking better," said Dr. Clarence Kidder, the veterinarian who has been watching over the two-pound "Lucky" since he was born nine days ago.

* * *

Kidder said that if the progress noted over the Thanksgiving holiday while the cub lapped up milk and was pampered in a human hospital continued, he would take "Lucky" home to a cardboard box this afternoon.

* * *

"Lucky" is the only all-white lion in captivity and possibly the only one in the world. Although all white, the cub is not an albino, Kidder said.

Devalued Pound Stirs Confusion

Money: What Is It?

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Money is the root of all evil, somebody once said, and after the British pound devaluation there are many who are quite willing to believe it.

Not by a fraction, however, do they compare with the millions now confused by the subject. Clear up the confusion and it becomes clear also that money, rather than being evil, is essential to economic health.

But what
