Higgins to Seek Showdown on Turnpike Issue

Bathing Suits . . . or Ice Skates?

Weatherman Still Playing It Cool

Is this summer or did the Weatherman forget to flip over the seasonal calendar?

Last year at this time we were roasting in 90-degree or above temperatures for 17 days.

Now Pontiac area residents are switching on their furnaces at night and slamming windows shut as the mercury dips low to the 50s.

Some fuel oil companies report slight increases in sales while others say customers' tanks are filled to tide them through the cool, cool evenings.

A large Pontiac department-store reports many customers are "reacting more rapidly than normal" to 18,000 sweater layaway advertisements.

A low of 53 degrees Tuesday night broke a 70-year all-time low record of 54 degrees.

Vacation-bound travelers are scratching their heads as to the dubious benefits of heading for the lakes. County bodies of water are almost barren of bathers while Pontiac public parks have been sparsely populated in the evenings during the cool spell.

The Detroit branch of the U. S. Weather Bureau says the 30-day outlook is for "about normal" temperatures (74 degrees).

While days have been classified as "just pleasant" by many, the nights have been providing one consolation at least: It's good sleeping even though some furnaces click on and the blankets come out of the moth balls.

Lover Gets Life in Hermiz Trial

Mental Hospital Awaits Slain Man's Wife; Youth Guilty as Charged

DETROIT (AP)— Slender, young Maurice Hamilton, who came to the United States on a temporary visa, faces the prospect of a permanent stay in a Michigan prison for the murder of a Detroit grocer.

* * *

The 20-year-old Iraqui student was convicted of first degree murder yesterday in the butcher-knife slaying of Aziz Hermiz, 38, Feb. 10.

At the same time, a Recorder's Court jury found Mrs. Victoria Hermiz, Hamilton's co-defendant and admitted paramour, innocent by reason of insanity.

Hamilton's conviction carries a mandatory life sentence without chance of parole. Mrs. Hermiz must be committed to a mental hospital for life or until she can prove her sanity.

JURY OUT 12 HOURS

The verdict came after the jury of nine women and three men deliberated 12 hours, ending a bizarre 5½ week trial.

Hamilton met his 35-year-old paramour in their native Baghdad several years ago. In 1951, she married Aziz Hermiz, an Iraqui postal clerk and son of a wealthy liquor distributor. The next year he came alone to this country to open a grocery. She

To Start a Farm, Marry a Girl Who Owns One

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—If you want to make between $3,000 and $4,000 a year farming, it will cost you between $50,000 and $100,000 to get started as a farmer.

There's an easier way, suggests a Florida farm expert, and that's to marry the girl whose father owns a farm.

Dr. Marshall O. Watkins, director of the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, said if beginning farmers "go in on a shoestring, they face a life of indebtedness."

Watkins said in a speech land costs have risen, seeds and pest killers cost more, and equipment and tractors have climbed in price.

Thundershowers Predicted Tonight

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts partly cloudy with a possibility of scattered thundershowers tonight. The low will be 60 to 64 degrees.

The forecast for the Pontiac area tomorrow is partly cloudy with a high of 76 to 80 degrees.

The lowest temperature preceding 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 57 degrees. At 2 p.m. the thermometer registered 72 degrees.

Radio Also in CD Test

TV Blackout Tomorrow

NEW YORK (INS) — All radio and television programs will go off the air Friday in the nation's first daytime test of its emergency broadcasting system, Conelrad.

The Federal Civil Defense Administration has prepared and distributed to stations throughout the country a transcribed platter of announcements to be used during the test period.

The 15-minute blackout of regular broadcasting starting at 3:10 p. m. Pontiac time, will be part of the vast Civil Defense exercise known as "Operation Alert, 1956," in which the public is participating.

Marine Trial to Move Back Into Courtroom

Jurors See Swamp Where 6 Recruits Died on 'Death-March'

PARRIS ISLAND, S. C. (AP)—The trial of Sgt. Matthew C. McKeon moves back into the courtroom today after a look at the swamp-edged creek into which he led six Marine recruits to their death.

It was McKeon's first return to the scene of the tragedy.

The former drill instructor from Worcester, Mass., faces his general court-martial on four charges: involuntary manslaughter, oppression of recruits, drinking on duty and drinking in the presence of a recruit.

All charges resulted from the April 8 night march of Recruit Platoon 71 into ribbon creek.

McKeon's former boss for recruit training took the witness stand yesterday.

Lt. Col. Robert A. Thompson of Syracuse, N. Y., said a march such as McKeon ordered was maltreatment.

"Without adequate reconnaissance, without adequate safeguards . . . with full knowledge that members of the platoon could not swim," said Thompson of a hypothetical case similar to McKeon's, "it would be maltreatment."

He made the statement during cross examination by defense attorney Emile Zola Berman.

Thompson declared that he had never heard of similar night marches in his battalion.

Concluding witness yesterday was this 5,000-acre training center's provost marshal, Maj. Stanley M. McLeod of Spring City, Pa.

McLeod a former enlisted man, described the events of the night of April 8 as he figured in them.

He testified he got a call about 9:45 p.m. to come to the creek behind the butts of Rifle Range C. There he organized a search for the missing recruits, lost in the tidal waters.

He told of ground search parties, of lighting the area, of organizing boats and finally of the long job of searching the creek bottom with grappling hooks for the bodies.

McKeon sat impassive and rigid as McLeod described the scene.

Back among the spectators sat Mrs. Maggie Meeks of Savannah, Ga., mother of recruit Pvt. Thomas C. Hardeman, who drowned. She watched with a narrowed forehead.

The mother and the sergeant met for the first time during a short court recess.

"I hope the Lord will forgive you," she told the sergeant. There were tears in McKeon's eyes.

Find Fluoridation Works for Iowa City Children

DES MOINES (AP) — The Iowa State Health Department today said effectiveness of water fluoridation has been "proved" at Dubuque, Iowa.

The report said that before fluoridation of public water began at Dubuque in 1951, only 15 per cent of the 5-year-old children examined there had perfect teeth. This year, after drinking fluoridated water four years, 31 per cent of the 5-year-olds examined have perfect teeth.

Dr. Charles Henshaw, state dental hygiene director, said the survey shows that "fluoridation does reduce tooth decay."

No Ultimatum as Yet

Ike May Enter Steel Strike

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Reports of a presidential deadline for a settlement put new pressure on steel contract negotiations today.

However, in Washington, a White House official said three has been "no ultimatum, no warning" from President Eisenhower to disputants in the steel strike.

Federal Mediator Joseph F. Finnegan was on hand again for resumption of the talks as the strike rolled into its 19th day.

Despite reports that President Eisenhower has indicated he will intervene unless the contract differences are settled within a week, there was no apparent progress in yesterday's talks.

The session lasted two hours. There was no comment from either side.

Finnegan participated in a White House discussion where the President was reported to have gone over the situation with his top economic advisors.

MAY INVOKE LAW

Newspaper reports said the administration warned the steel companies and the United Steelworkers to iron out their contract difference within a week. There were implications, the reports said, that the administration might otherwise invoke the Taft-Hartley law.

Under the Taft-Hartley procedure, the 650,000 strikers could be ordered back on the job for an 80-day cooling off period while a government board inquired into the dispute.

Finnegan said he did not know of "anyone" setting an arbitrary deadline for settlement, adding:

"The whole tenor of the talks (at the White House) was toward solving the difficulty under normal collective bargaining procedure." Finnegan said Eisenhower sent an identical message to both the industry and union. He declared the message expressed concern about economic effects of the strike "but more important, for the 650,000 workers who are on strike."

Iowa Girl Takes Beauty Crown

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The dark-haired daughter of an Iowa minister reigned today as the queen of America's entries in the Miss Universe contest.

Stately Carol Morris, 20, of Ottumwa, who "wished upon a star" as she entered Long Beach Municipal Auditorium last night, had that wish come true when she was named Miss United States.

The Drake University junior won out in the final judging of 16 girls who had been chosen from the original field of 43 Americans in the contest.

Twenty - nine foreign beauties will make their first appearance before the judges tonight and 15 will be selected to vie with Miss Morris for the title of Miss Universe in the final stage of the contest tomorrow.

The new Miss U.S.A. is 5 feet 7, weighs 129 pounds and has a 36-25-36 figure. Blue eyes contrast with the dark brown of her hair.

Miss Morris, who serves as a lifeguard in Ottumwa during the summer, risked her chances for success by taking a dip in the ocean yesterday and getting her hair wet.

WISHED ON A STAR

"I couldn't do anything with it," she said, "I didn't think I had a chance to win but I did wish upon a star, the first star I saw— and it came true.'"

One of the most poised girls in the contest, she broke down momentarily when she was called back stage and announced as the winner.

Miss Morris is the only child of the Rev. Laverne Morris, pastor of the Davis Street Christian Church in Ottumwa, and Mrs. Gertrude Morris.

Studying to be an elementary school teacher, she came to the contest without ambition to become an actress. But one of her prizes is a motion picture contract.

She said she has no serious romantic attachment at present, but she admitted there is "one boy I like pretty well."

She identified him as George Goebel of Des Moines, also a junior at Drake, where he is star athlete.

Seek 4 Counts Against Hodge

State Grills Ex-Auditor in Half-Million Scandal for 5 Hours

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (INS) — Four indictments reportedly will be sought against Orville E. Hodge on the basis of his story of the theft of a half million dollars in state funds while auditor of Illinois.

Indictments against other figures in the widespread scandal also were indicated after Hodge bared details and named names in a five-hour question-and-answer session with Sangamon County State's Attorney George P. Coutrakon yesterday.

Indictments reported already being prepared against Hodge charge embezzlement, larceny, confidence game and malfeasance. The first three carry prison terms upon conviction. The latter calls for a fine.

Hodge is to return to Coutrakon's office Friday to complete his story. It is anticipated his statement will be presented to the grand jury either Monday or Tuesday for action on the proposed indictments.

Action, other than legal, already has been taken against five figures in the case besides Hodge. Three of his top aides while auditor were fired promptly by Interim Auditor Dr. Lloyd E. Morey, after he was sworn in yesterday.

They are Edward A. Epping, office manager, who was not on the state payroll but was paid as an adviser under contract; Floyd E. Lane, payroll accounting supervisor, and Thomas F. Shanahan, custodian of the auditor's warehouse.

Previously, Edward A. Hintz was forced to resign as president of the Southmoor Bank and Trust Co. in Chicago, where $200,000 worth of the questionable state warrants (checks) were cashed. William D. Lydon, mysterious Chicago policeman and business associate of Hodge's aides, was suspended by the police department for engaging in his extra-curricular activities.

Mitigating Circumstance?

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (INS)—Bartender Homer Tate, charged with fatally shooting a customer, told police: "I didn't mean to kill him. But without my glasses I couldn't see too well."

Suggests Parley With Ziegler on MTA Future

May Ask Legislature to Abolish or Uphold Authority

George N. Higgins, chairman of the Michigan Turnpike Authority, said yesterday he will ask State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler to a showdown that may determine the future of the MTA.

Addressing the Financial Analysis Society of Detroit, Higgins said Ziegler will be invited to the next regular meeting of the authority August 20.

"We hope Ziegler can show us where he will build roads, when he will start them and when they will be finished," Higgins said. "Then we can act accordingly."

Ziegler told the Press today he has not received any invitation from Higgins, "orally or written."

Higgins accused Ziegler of obstructing the MTA plan to build a toll road from the Michigan-Ohio line to the Straits of Mackinac by announcing plans to build competing freeways.

"If Ziegler cannot produce a workable plan at the MTA meeting, we will go directly to the legislature and ask that the MTA either be upheld or abolished," Higgins said.

* * *

Competing plans announced by the State Highway Department included a Detroit - to - Kawkawlin freeway, limited-access plans for U.S. 10, extension of Northwestern Highway to connect with the Fenton-Clio bypass of Flint, and limited-access plans for Southfield Road, Higgins said.

"Let's face it," Higgins said. "We haven't started turnpike construction yet because these paper roads are in competition, and you can't sell the bonding companies on a turnpike that way."

Higgins said he might appeal to the legislature to decide whether the turnpike or the announced freeways should be built.

"The legislature has authority, in effect, to create or cancel any road building plans," he said.

"We're working on capital provided by the taxpayers, and it's not fair to keep spending it if there's no hope for the project."

Tax Allocation Hearing Called

Brandon, Independence Townships Restrained Until Sessions Close

Oakland County Clerk Lynn D. Allen said today the State Tax Commission has set next Wednesday for a hearing on tax allocation appeals by Brandon and Independence Townships.

Allen said the hearing will start at 2:30 p.m., July 25, in the Supervisors' Room of the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette St., and will be "open to all interested parties."

The appeals, disclosed to supervisions June 25, make it technically illegal for any township government or school board in the county to spread taxes until the dispute has been settled.

However, several government units already have spread their taxes.

Supervisors Frank Brigham, of Brandon Township, and Floyd Andrews of Independence Township filed the appeals shortly after township and school board allocations were set by the County Allocation Board.

The appeals open a legal path for the State Tax Commission to review allocations throughout the county.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson says he plans to use some of the extra 900 million dollars Congress added to air funds requested by President Eisenhower.

Courthouse Fight Continues Over 'the Proper Site'

This is the first of two articles on the status of the proposed new Oakland County Courthouse slated for construction on the County Service Center site on the western city limits of Pontiac.

By LAWRENCE S. MARTZ JR.

Opponents of the proposed new Oakland County Courthouse are confident that "we have it pretty well blocked," but site preparation for the building has been started and its backers insist it will be built on schedule.

* * *

Major opposition to moving the courthouse from downtown Pontiac comes from a group of attorneys and downtown merchants, and the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce.

Harold K. Schone, chairman of the Special County Building Committee of the Board of Supervisors, admits, "some legal problems must be resolved."

But he adds that as far as he's concerned, the problems already are solved, that adverse decisions will make no difference other than delay construction.

OPPONENT ARGUMENT

Opponents point to two major legal issues which they claim still stand in the way of the courthouse.

Pontiac City Commissioner Philip E. Rowston said yesterday the two issues are validity of the 1954 annexation of 111 acres of the Service Center site to Pontiac, and marketability of the title to the downtown site of the present courthouse.

The City Commission did not oppose the annexation in 1954, but recently adopted an attitude of passive resistance to the courthouse project. Rowston, an attorney, speaks for six of the seven commissioners. His views will be detailed in the next article of this series.

LAW REQUIREMENT

Under Michigan law, the courthouse of a county must be located in the county seat. The 1954 annexation was intended to pave the way for location of the courthouse on the Telegraph Road site, on the western limits of the city.

Schone points out that present plans place the building's main tower, which houses court functions, just inside the pre-annexation city limits.

"There's no issue there," Schone declares.

The title question stems from the original grant to Pontiac of the downtown courthouse site by Stephen Mack, trustee for the original company formed in 1818 to obtain city status for Pontiac.

TERMS OF GRANT

The terms of the grant were that Pontiac was to have the land for courthouse use only. If any other use was made of it, Mack said, it would revert to the charter company.

A lawsuit in 1928 sought to clear the title. The State Supreme Court ruled the land would not revert to Mack's heirs if the courthouse were moved.

Courthouse opponents claim this decision is worthless, since all of Mack's heirs—few of whom have been traced — did not appear in court to argue their case.

The absent heirs have been deprived of their rights without due

Police to Grill Suspects Today

Pair Held in Connection With Gas Station Jobs; Two Others Released

Two suspects in a pair of gas station holdups here Monday night will be questioned today by Pontiac police.

The men were picked up Tuesday night by Oakdale Gardens police and were turned over to Detroit police as possible suspects in armed robberies there.

The pair fit descriptions of two of the three men in the $167 robberies here and in a $160 stickup of a Southfield Township gas station Tuesday, police said this morning.

• • •

Police Det. Sgt. John DePauw said that the men had large sums of money which they could not account for and also possessed pistols in their car matching weapons used in the three holdups.

Det. Sgt. John Williams will question them at Detroit Police headquarters, where they are held for investigation, DePauw said.

Meanwhile, he added, two other possible suspects were cleared by lie detector tests yesterday. The pair had been tentatively identified by the victims, DePauw explained.

Both men will be released today, he said.

Mrs. Weinberger Seeks Proof That Baby's Alive

WESTBURY, N. Y. (AP) — Mrs. Beatrice Weinberger has appealed to the kidnaper of her 6-week-old son for "some positive proof to assure us that our baby is alive and you have him."

• • •

The child, Peter Weinberger, was kidnaped two weeks ago while sleeping in a carriage outside his parents' home here. No trace of him has been found.

In a statement distributed to newsmen last night, the mother said, "Money is nothing compared to the love we have for Peter."

"Please contact us in any way you choose, but make it soon," the statement read. "Fourteen days have passed and we are worried. Give us some positive proof to assure us that our baby is alive and you have him. We will follow any instructions you give us."

Earlier yesterday, a grand jury in Brooklyn indicted two men accused of trying to extort a $5,000 ransom from the Weinbergers.

The men, Gordon T. Rowell, 24, and Robert F. Giebler, 26, both of Queens were held without bail after they pleaded innocent to charges of attempted extortion and providing false information about kidnaping. If convicted, they would face a maximum sentence of 25 years.

Solon Offering Bond for Top GOP Slogan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Oliver P. Bolton (R-Ohio) offered a $25 U.S. Savings Bond today to the person mailing him what he considers the best 1956 campaign slogan for the Republican party.

Bolton said President Eisenhower's phrases—"progressive moderates" and "dynamic conservatism"—haven't caught on.

What's needed, he said, is something as effective as President Roosevelt's "New Deal" or President McKinley's "full dinner pail."

Deadline in Bolton's contest is July 31.

He's Adm. Felix Stump

New U. S. Boss in Pacific to Quit Japan for Hawaii

ADM. FELIX STUMP

WASHINGTON (AP)—The top U.S. military headquarters in the Far East has been ordered moved from Japan to Hawaii, where it was before Pearl Harbor.

In a companion action late yesterday, the Defense Department announced it was shifting from the Army to the Navy the top command of all U.S. land, sea and air forces in the vast Pacific-Asiatic area. This too was the way it was before World War II.

• • •

Adm. Felix Stump, now Navy commander in chief in the Pacific, was designated to assume over-all leadership of American military forces in that theater when the changes become effective next July 1.

• • •

Gen. Lyman L. Lemnitzer currently is U.S. Far East commander and head of United Nations military forces. His headquarters are in Tokyo.

It was emphasized no major shifts of American fighting units are planned. Remaining in Japan will be a headquarters for U.S. forces that will continue on duty there. But the U.N. military command is to be moved to South Korea.

The Defense Department described the Far East Command changes as a centralizing and simplifying move.

• • •

In addition to ordering consolidation of the Far East Command with the Pacific Command, the department directed the abolishment of separate air defense commands in Alaska and the Canadian-Greenland northeast approaches. Effective Sept. 1, these will be placed under the Continental Air Defense Command at Colorado Springs, Colo.

A Pentagon spokesman said the new program would mean fewer men would be needed for various headquarters in the Far East, Alaska and the Northeast. Some Congress members have criticized the size of some headquarters staffs.

• • •

The spokesman said removal of the top U.S. command from Tokyo was not the result of demands by some Japanese, but was based entirely on a desire to consolidate military command in the vast central and western Pacific areas.

The plan to take the U.S. high command out of Tokyo seemed likely to encourage Japan to make still greater effort in building up its own defense forces. Similarly, transfer of the U.N. Command to South Korea could produce a positive effect there.

• • •

The Pentagon said the European Command, under Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, "will be substantially unchanged."

The new program expands the present Caribbean Command to include South American nations bordering that sea.

Civil Rights Test Nearing Climax

House Passage Seen for Friday, but Senate Sure to Kill Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — House members took battle stations today for the last civil rights fight of its session, expecting to pass the bill after Southerners exhaust their ample ammunition.

• • •

House passage, which might come tomorrow, does not mean the measure will become law. The bill is given no chance of passage in the Senate where a filibuster could kill it.

Even supporters of the bill conceded the Southern opposition can force at least a four-hour delay before the House so much as takes it up again today, by insisting on reading the journal of yesterday's proceedings and forcing a quorum call or two.

• • •

Once the House gets down to considering the measure, the Southerners can bombard it with dozens of amendments — and speak on each.

A few of the amendments Southern members have said they will introduce or support would:

Strip the bill to a mere provision for an investigating commission.

• • •

Write into it provisions for helping Negroes dissatisfied with conditions near their homes resettle elsewhere in the country.

Provide for investigating discrimination based on sex, as well as race, religion or national origin.

• • •

Establish rules to protect witnesses who may be called before a civil rights investigating commission.

Paint thinner, believed ignited by the children, exploded in an overturned drum behind the Allen factory, causing fatal burns to Mary E. Boughner, 4, and Leroy Roggow, 12, of 1135 N. Oak St.

process of law, the opponents claim.

According to Schone, county officials feel the 1928 decision resolved the issue.

"But even if we should find that we'll lose the downtown site by moving," he says, "I doubt very much that would affect the plans.

"A decision has been made by the Supervisors of Oakland County to build the courthouse on the Service Center site. All of our planning since then has been aimed at implementing that decision.

"In my own opinion, the value of the downtown site has been greatly exaggerated, considering the cost of demolishing the present building."

The courthouse building schedule calls for completion of working plans and contracts in March, 1957. Ground would be broken within a month, and the first stage of the building, the "Central Court Tower," would be finished in October, 1958.

The court tower, six stories high, will cost $2.5 million. Three low wings will be added later, and the entire project is planned for completion in 1960-1965 at a total cost of $5.5 million.

May Not Give Egypt Dam Aid

Nasser May Be After Pro-Communist Line, U.S. Officials Claim

WASHINGTON (AP) — United States relations with Egypt approached a showdown today in a meeting between Secretary of State Dulles and Egyptian Ambassador Ahmed Hussein.

• • •

The immediate issue is a long-standing United States offer, made in cooperation with Britain and the World Bank, to help finance construction of a gigantic dam in the Nile River.

American officials are no longer certain that they want to go through with this project because they fear Egypt may be developing a pro-Soviet, instead of a truly independent, line.

• • •

The offer last December specified that the United States and Britain would provide an immediate 70 million dollars, and an eventual total of 200 millions, to help finance the project along with a 200-million-dollar loan from the World Bank. Egypt was to pay the remainder of the cost.

Dulles was asked at the State Department yesterday whether the United States was prepared to go ahead with the offer.

"I would not want to answer that question," he said, "in advance of seeing the ambassador.

At the time the offer was made the United States and Britain felt that President Nasser was primarily concerned in raising the living standards and the productive capacity of his country, and that his policies would be devoted to avoiding an open war with Israel.

However, since December officials both here and in London have considered that various moves by Nasser displayed some antagonism toward Western interests and in some instances furthered Soviet purposes in the Middle East.

LONDON (AP)—The Foreign Office said today Britain now has some doubts about Egypt's ability to pay for its share of the $1,300,000,000 dam project to harness the Nile River.

A spokesman told a reporter the United States, Britain and the World Bank have to review with Egypt the financing of the giant undertaking.

The dam is a pet project of President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt and symbolizes Egyptian hopes to bring light and power to that underdeveloped country. For that purpose the Cairo government has sought the help of the West and has received offers of aid from the Soviet Union.

Polio Cases Reach 226 in Latest Chicago Count

CHICAGO (AP) — Fourteen new polio cases, including six in an area already plagued by the disease, were reported in Chicago today.

The new cases brought to 226 the total of persons stricken with the disease in Chicago this year. Five of the victims died. During the same period last year 35 cases and two deaths were reported.

Health Commissioner Herman N. Bundesen has termed the polio outbreak "an upsurge" and not an epidemic.

I-Way Traffic Proposal Receives Careful Study

By DOROTHY JEAN ZACK

BIRMINGHAM—"It's like a new type of vegetable you've never eaten before," said Charles Mortensen, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce today of the proposed plan for one-way streets and no left turns in downtown Birmingham.

"Such a plan can be complicated and can be very troublesome," he says. "It has to be analyzed pretty carefully."

What the traffic plan could do to increase or decrease business in Birmingham is receiving the careful study of the Off-Street Parking Committee of the Chamber of Commerce.

The committee has already met several times since its members were caught unprepared to give a decision on the proposed plan at Monday's meeting. The council postponed its decision until a later date, and several more meetings will be held before then, says Mortensen.

"Eliminating left turns all the way along Maple could be dynamite for people trying to park and shop," Mortensen said.

He points out that the Chamber's off-street parking committee considers downtown Maple avenue not only as a through street but also a "shopper-access" street.

The suggestions of Traffic Engineer T. M. Vanderstempel presented to the board by Chief of Police Ralph W. Moxley dwell mainly in the Maple avenue area between Maple and Chester. It would eliminate left turns and cut out parking from 7:30 to 9:30 a.m. on the south side and from 4 to 6 p.m. on the north side.

It also would make Pierce one-way northbound; Henrietta one-way southbound; Merrill one-way eastbound; and Brown one-way westbound for the lengths of several blocks.

"An essential beginning" was Vanderstempel's term for the group of suggestions for the improvement of traffic.

Mrs. Donald St. John has taken the post of supervisor of Birmingham's Ground Observer Corps. She volunteered this week, offering the know-how from her three years on the New Caanan, Conn., corps and 300 hours of work. She resides at 2280 Dorchester, and has been in Birmingham three years, and is a native of Detroit.

She is taking enlistments, and a dedication of the local post is being planned tentatively for the end of July. Four day-captains and about 40 of the needed 165 volunteers have been secured.

Roger Kyes, Bloomfield Hills executive in General Motors and former government official, has been asked to be speaker when the Air Force dedicates the post.

Swapped Mates, Children Cause Legal Problems

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Legal minds puzzled today over a child support case involving two couples who exchanged mates, leaving eight children in an odd predicament.

• • •

In superior court yesterday, Mrs. Virgie Sipes of Flint accused her former husband, Archie Bishop, 47, with failure to pay $20 a week for support of their five children, Dean 18, Paul, 16, Patsy May, 15, Donald, 13, and Alice 11.

Mrs. Sipes' present husband, Mearl, 42, is the former husband of Bishop's present wife, Thelma, 39.

Bishop has the three Sipe children, Doyle, 19, Vernon, 17, and Betty Jean, 9.

Bishop explained his stand this way:

"I was to pay my ex-wife $20 a week for support of my children and Sipes was to pay my present wife $20 a week for support of her children. But Sipes and I agreed to take care of each other's families."

Boy, 14, Badly Hurt When Tractor Flips

A 14-year-old farm hand suffered serious injuries when he was crushed by a tractor in Independence Township Wednesday afternoon.

William M. Rausch of 6875 Cranberry Lake Rd., Clarkston, is in Pontiac General Hospital with a fractured pelvis, internal injuries and both legs broken, authorities said.

The boy, who works summers at Bittersweet Farms in Clarkston, was driving on Allen road, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said, when the tractor hit a stone and overturned.

Police Release Motorist for Giving Trap Warning

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—He wanted to warn his fellow motorists, but John Tracey Stout ran afoul of the police with his sign, "Radar Trap Ahead," which he parked a short distance from Pasadena's new radar speed detection unit.

Officers took a dim view of the sign and confiscated it, but said that Stout will not be prosecuted.

"We object to the use of the word 'trap'" said Chief Clarence Morris. "However, 100 of those signs around the city might help us slow up the traffic."

Needed: Savings Bonds Writer

State Treasurer Hunts Agency to Take Care of Paper Work

LANSING (AP) — State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown complained today he can't find an agency to write U. S. savings bonds that are taken out of paychecks of state employes.

* * *

Brown sent a plea for help to Noble D. Travis of Detroit, state chairman of the U. S. Savings Bond Division.

Brown said his department went to local banks for the service after the Post Office Department discontinued writing bonds as an economy measure.

"We now have been advised that the local banks, which have been writing approximately 800 bonds per month for the Departments of Conservation and Highway, will no longer perform this service," he wrote.

Brown said his department is eager to continue helping the federal bond saving program but will be in difficulty unless another local issuing agency can be found.

CAA Urges Willow Run Become Military Airport

WASHINGTON (AP)—The director of the Civil Aeronautic Administration's airport office says Detroit's commercial air traffic ought to be consolidated at Detroit-Wayne Major Airport and military operations based at Willow Run Airport.

Herbert H. Howell spoke in favor of shifting commercial operations from Willow Run to Wayne Major in testimony yesterday before a House Government Operations subcommittee. He said the move would involve an additional cost of 4½ million dollars but added he thought it would be worth it.

The subcommittee is hearing testimony on whether Willow Run or nearby Wayne Major should serve as Detroit's principal airport.

Howell said the advantages of commercial operations at Wayne would include:

More effective airport layout with the terminal building in the heart of the pattern; longer and stronger runways; better location of runways permitting simultaneous use of parallel strips in instrument flying; a more adequate terminal building — not a converted hangar."

Better possibilities for air traffic control; greater convenience of the traveling public because Wayne is closer to downtown Detroit, increased volume of air travel, particularly for short trips because of less time consumed in traveling to and from the airport.

* * *

Howell was on the witness stand the greater part of the day and at one point denied the CAA had participated in any way in what Rep. Griffith (D-Mich) described as a "feud" between the two airports over commercial operations.

Willow Run Hits Million Passengers During '55

WASHINGTON (AP) — Detroit's Willow Run Airport handled more than one million passengers in 1955, the Commerce Department reported today. It was better than 150,000 over 1954's total.

Two other airports moved into the million passenger class—Miami and Atlanta.

Willow Run handled 1,040,728 in 1955 against 891,863 in 1954. Detroit ranks seventh in the number of airline passengers carried behind New York, Chicago, Los Angeles, Washington, San Francisco and Miami.

Nab 20 Gamblers in Pool Hall Raid

LANSING (AP) — Twenty persons were arrested here on gambling charges in a police raid on a downtown pool room last night.

* * *

Proprietor Woodrow W. Warren, 41, of the Recreation Billiards, was accused of running a gambling den.

The raid on the pool room, a block and a half from police headquarters, followed recent charges by Alderman Robert Klock that gamblers were operating openly. He gave police what he said was evidence after he was asked to put up or shut up.

Det. Capt. Sidney Hildebrandt said Warren had more than $600 on him.

The other 19 were charged with frequenting a gambling establishment, Hildebrandt said. He said one had $820, another more than $600 and a third nearly $400.

Miners' Lamps Help at Straits

Workmen Wear Lights, Life Vests in Building Towers From Inside

ST. IGNACE (AP) — With a coal miner's helmet lamp and a sailor's life vest, men go to work on the four 552-foot towers of the Mackinac Bridge. Both pieces of equipment are a necessity.

• • •

Bridgemen are building the huge towers from the inside out.

Because of this construction technique, most of the riveting and welding is done in dark, confined cells.

Because every web plate and rivet must be installed perfectly, good illumination is important to the bridgemen. Dry cell batteries they say, won't work dependably enough.

There isn't room for power lines form the shore, nor would it be practical to run lines out to the bridge. The only answer is the type of cap worn by miners, where light is portable and uncomplicated.

• • •

Because the huge towers rise out of the choppy waters of the straits, bridgemen also wear life vests. They ride to work in personnel boats. Then most of the day they are working over the water.

The towers they build will hold the longest suspension bridge in the world—8,614 feet and costing 100 million dollars. The main span between towers will reach 3,800 feet and the bridge itself with approaches will cover more than five miles.

"WHAT THE . . ." — Perspiring in the torrid heat, Frank Robertson can hardly believe his eyes as he looks at this trash can on a downtown Indianapolis street. The can, with its Yuletide message, had been there since last Christmas.

Hearing to Seek Use for Mackinac Ferries

MENOMINEE (AP) — A special house committee will hold a hearing here Tuesday on what can be done with the Straits of Mackinac ferry fleet after completion of the Straits Bridge.

The State Highway Department and trucking firms are expected to send representatives. Chairman James Goulette (R-Iron Mountain) said the session will be exploratory in nature with a regular hearing later.

Some 300 men and the five ferries in the fleet will be idled when the Straits bridge is completed in the fall of 1957.

Cass Lake Search Stalled; Can't Find Drowned Man

Hopes of finding a July 8 drowning victim in Cass Lake were temporarily abandoned Wednesday.

• • •

Oakland County Sheriff Department Diver Bill Jackson and county fire department dragging units gave up after more then a week of futile searching.

The victim was August Lutz, 62, of Rochester.

Jackson said the search had been discontinued because of a lack of a set location from which to work. He said diving will be resumed if any location can be established through further investigation.

DRAGGING FOR 10 DAYS

Diving and dragging operations had been conducted in various parts of the West Bloomfield Township lake since the Sunday afternoon mishap. Lutz reportedly fell out of a speeding motor boat.

The bodies of four earlier victims of Cass Lake never have been recovered, Jackson said. He said the drownings occurred over the past several years.

He calls the sudden changes of depths in the lake a hazard in recovering drowned bodies.

Goal of Adenauer Foes Threat to Free World

The free world would do well to give proper attention to what is happening inside Germany's Social Democratic party.

Statements by its leader, Erich Ollenhauer, make clear that defeat of Chancellor Adenauer and his policies is the Social Democrat's number one goal. In wooing wider support for the effort to unseat the Chancellor, Ollenhauer hopes to profit by exploiting two issues. These are opposition to conscription and German reunification.

★ ★ ★

Conscription already has been approved by the Bundestag over bitter opposition of the Ollenhauer faction. Under this law the first draft call is scheduled during the national election campaign. The Social Democrats, naturally, hope to win the votes of Germans who oppose it and are demanding immediate repeal of the conscription law.

★ ★ ★

Even more menacing is the Social Democrats' use of the reunification issue. Ollenhauer is charging that the two Germanys are being kept apart by Bonn's military commitments to the West and is demanding their revision.

He also is calling for closer diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union. All this, of course, is a serious threat to NATO. It could mean a shift of Germany into a neutral position where it would be much more susceptible to Russian pressure.

★ ★ ★

Voters of West Germany would do well to ponder what could happen to their country if Ollenhauer's ideas prevail. During his recent visit to Washington, Chancellor Adenauer showed his awareness of the danger.

He described Russia's rulers as being anxious to "smash first the mighty protective shield of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization . . . so that Europe will fall like a ripe fruit into the Soviet lap."

Free Enterprise Dealt Severe Blow in India

The outlook for free enterprise is anything but bright in India.

This has become apparent early in the first weeks of that country's second five year plan. Nobody there now is talking about a gradual shift to socialization. Instead, the Congress Party and Prime Minister Nehru are speeding the process.

Under the industrial policy revealed in Parliament last month, India's economy is to be divided into three categories. In the first will be those industries whose future development will be the exclusive responsibility of the national government.

The second category will include industries which are to be progressively state owned. With regard to these "the state will be expected to take the initiative in establishing new undertakings and private enterprise also will be expected to supplement the effort of the state."

The third category will include all remaining industries. In general, their future development will be left to the initiative of private interests. But wholly absent is any guarantee against nationalization either by the central government or by one of the state governments. However, there is a constitutional pledge of adequate compensation.

India's finance minister recently said the country would need a sizable domestic private investment as well as one billion dollars in private foreign investment. With a political climate so antagonistic to free enterprise, one can't escape the feeling that such investments will be extremely few.

★ ★ ★

Certainly on the basis of the new program, only the naive could consider promising the future of free enterprise in the subcontinent.

David Lawrence Says:

Less Troops Can Maintain Defense

WASHINGTON—Realism has at last come to the fore in the military planning with respect to the defense of those countries which are members of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

* * *

It has finally been realized that the continued presence of very large bodies of foreign troops on the territory of any member country is not conducive to good feeling and can provoke friction.

But until now there was no way to meet the necessity for maintaining such large troop organizations abroad and the local problems arising on account of their presence. With the introduction, however, of atomic artillery and missiles as an integral part of ground warfare, there has come a timely solution of the problem. That's what is back of the recent talk of a reduction in American manpower abroad.

Sen. Mansfield of Montana, Democrat, in his speech mistakenly assumed that a withdrawal of some ground troops from foreign lands means a revival of the "fortress America" concept. But he is not alone in this erroneous appraisal, because there have been editorial twists making the same point in recent news dispatches hostile to the administration's program.

SORTIES DAMAGING

While the intercontinental bomber is being talked up, it is not by any means intended as a single source of defense, though its striking power may be greater than many of the planes operating from overseas bases. It was discovered in the Korean War that it is the frequency of the sorties by medium bombers from near-by bases which counts and not the infrequent missions of long-range bombers from distant bases.

Sen. Mansfield is fearful that a cut in American manpower abroad will reduce America's ability to assist in fighting "small wars." But this is derived from a wrong inference that the United States has decided to give up its overseas bases. Nothing would please the Communists more than to see overseas bases denied to American air forces, but nobody in his right mind wants to give them up where they are really needed. The base in Japan, for instance, is now being given up because substitute bases in Korea and Okinawa nearby are readily available. Withdrawal from Japan of foreign troops helps to ease the feeling inside that country.

What has been misrepresented is the reported decision to cut American manpower in European countries. A fragment of a military plan leaks out to the public through indiscreet military men in the lower echelons, and it is immediately exaggerated by the politicians into something which it never was intended to cover. There have been, for example, plans in the making to cut manpower abroad but not at the expense of security. The mere number of troops in an army no longer measures its effectiveness in a military way. Modern weapons and forces equipped with atomic artillery, however, can save manpower. The rulers of the Soviet Union know it, and that's why they are making a big gesture out of their readiness to cut 1,200,000 men from their 15,000,000-man army.

For America the new policies may mean a cut in the draft calls. But the need for volunteers who will serve a longer period and become part of the atomic army and navy and air force of today is even greater than before.

The secretary of State, John Foster Dulles, at his Wednesday press conference made it clear that there may be less dependence hereafter on overseas bases, but he added that this was because America's defense was being strengthened by long-range bombers. He said also that it would be too expensive to depend on a defense based entirely in this country and that American retaliatory power based abroad is absolutely essential.

So it all comes down to one conclusion—our Allies are well aware of the new trends in military weapons and agree that cuts in manpower can be made and that America is wise in reducing her troop contingents stationed abroad. But at the same time it is well understood that the United States is more interested than ever before in an effective defense under the North Atlantic Treaty.

* * *

There isn't the slightest intention of lowering the guard against sudden aggression—but defense can be achieved nowadays with fewer troops and less annoyance to foreign peoples and less expense.

Certainly these are worthy objectives, and, incidentally, they will cut down the opportunities for the Communists to sow friction between the United States and her Allies.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Medical Reciprocity Deal Assailed by Pamphleteer

Long time ago, when I was an honest doctor, I was a member of the county and state medical society and a fellow of the AMA. I had and still have a license to practice medicine and surgery in any part of the state, provided I registered my license with the registrar or county clerk. This latter formality always irked me. It smacked of graft and corruption—which, as I propose to show, run the licensing racket throughout Yankeeland. My license, No. 5087 issued by the State of New York, was duly registered in Yates County and in Chemung County—at 25c per.

About the time I turned newspaper quack I moved to a third county in New York. I don't remember just why, but automatically, for I was through with drudgery — honest general practice, that is—I visited the county clerk's office to register my license. The clerk informed me the fee would be a dollar. No, I replied, the law fixes the fee at two bits. The clerk was pretty confident about it. We batted it back and forth for a while, and then I asked myself what the heck was I doing there anyway? I thanked the clerk for setting me right. I was through paying tribute to the legitimate grafters and politicians who control the licensing of physicians in this country.

Finally I moved from an east coast to a west coast state.

Some medical friends wanted me to transfer my medical society membership from east to west (including of course, my dues), a manuever to which the AMA consented, provided I was duly licensed.

So I applied to the State Board of Medical Examiners for a license. The board secretary told me I was in luck, for a deal called "reciprocity" between the Empire state and the Golden State made it unnecessary for me to submit to an examination. Just send along a certified copy of my registration in New York, with $100, and by return twenty-mule-team I'd be legally qualified.

I never got hold of that kind of money, and so I lost my membership or fellowship in the AMA—in the nick of time to evade payment of the extra assessment the members have been paying of late years to promote sweetness and light by distributing the picture of the extinct family doctor waiting at the child's bedside to see how a teaspoonful every hour will work.

The reciprocity deal, or a similar arrangement made by the politicians who arbitrarily decide who shall or shall not be permitted to practice medicine, means that if you have a license to practice in one state, that's good enough for the other state, or vice versa. Such an arrangement prevails between numerous states—as for instance between New York and California, and between Illinois and New York, but not between California and Illinois—this is just one of the countless quirks of the racket.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Parental Selection Lowers Divorce

Philip Lee points out a very startling fact about successful marriages. Parents can pick mates for their children and have a much better batting average as regards freedom from divorce, than can young people themselves. For parents select on the basis of their heads, not their hearts. Love is not as important as logic in picking a mate.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case S-316: The Rev. Philip Lee, aged about 42, is the talented pastor of a church in Chicago Chinatown.

* * *

"Dr. Crane," he began, "in the old days when the parents matched up their children for marriage, the groom never saw the bride until the wedding.

"Yet most of those marriages proved successful. Divorce was a rarity.

"But after American movies and other evidences of the modern age reached China, our young people began picking their own dates and selecting their own wedding mates.

"And what happened? Well, we began to see a divorce rate that was about like that in America.

"As a psychologist, Dr. Crane, how do you account for the fact that when the parents mated their children, divorces were almost unknown, yet now that young people choose their own mates, they have such a high divorce rate?

* * *

"Could it be the fact that in the old days, a man imagined the worst about his prospective bride? He figured she would be an ugly hag and unable to cook.

"He visualized her as a nagging shrew and of a vile temper. Having conjured up the worst, he was agreeably surprised to find that she wasn't bad to look at.

"And her cooking may have been excellent. And her personality may have proved at least average. So he fell in love with her after the wedding.

AMERICAN SALESMANSHIP

"But when our modern young people selected their own companions, and went on a date, each person put his best foot forward, as you say it in America, and showed off only his virtues.

"The bride thus seemed perfect and the groom had no faults, at least till after the wedding.

"Then they began to find out the many bad traits each had possessed but had kept covered up.

"Under the old Chinese custom, both parties to the wedding imagined the worst but then found many charming traits about each other after marriage.

* * *

"But under the American plan, both parties imagine the best but then find many faults and ugly traits creeping out after the marriage. Doesn't this seem a logical explanation, Dr. Crane?"

Yes, Rev. Philip Lee has diagnosed the situation very well. Another reason, however, for the success of the marriages in old China is based on the following psychological axiom:

"If you go through the proper motions, you will soon begin to feel the corresponding emotions."

And the parents shrewdly matched young folks, not on their dancing skill or pretty faces only, but on basic character traits.

Nowadays, if we matched young people in a similar manner, we'd also have fewer divorces.

And the young couple, though maybe never having viewed each other prior to the wedding day, would be ardently in love within a few months if they would show respect, admiration and kiss like movie actors and actresses.

For it is very true that love can be developed after the wedding and prove a wonderful, lifelong thrill to both parties.

It is thus far more important to pick mates on the basis of your head than your heart, for you can always learn to love each other. But you can't acquire morality and a good trade or profession in a couple of months.

* * *

So send for my "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Rate before you mate, for you and your future children will both be far happier in the years to come.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Five Election Problems Cited for U. S. Voters

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

The American people are quiet. This is an election year that has five stupendous problems to iron out for itself—

First, the effect on the American public the health of the President has.

Second, how long the American people are going to pay for the privilege of earning their living—namely, the income tax question.

Thirdly, with regard to foreign affairs—how much of our needed money is going to support other aggressive nations?

Fourth, who is going to shoulder the blame when inflation smothers our money?

And last, but of course, the most important—How many of our young soldiers are going to pay with the lives for the discrepancies in our political setup?

However—it is not too late for the American people to win if they will cast their vote honestly, thoughtfully, and without thought of graft.

I, for one, am going to think carefully before I drop my vote in the ballot box this year.

Customs of Ancient Days Survive in Modern Egypt

By DAVID HINNAWI
(For Hal Boyle)

CAIRO (AP)—Cheops was the man who built the Great Pyramid. He is also a Cairo lawyer who drives a 1956 automobile.

Many Egyptians today carry the names of their ancestors of 5,000 years ago. Nefrettiti, Amenophis and Tut Ankh Amen are just as common names as Tom, Dick or Harry in the West.

A retired Egyptian general calls his sons, Hutmos, Cenephro, Amenhotep and Ahmes.

PEASANT WAYS

Ancient customs, however, survive most strongly today among the Egyptian peasants, especially when it comes to medicine and burial.

* * *

Almost every village has its "spitting doctor" who claims to heal the sting of a venemous insect by spitting on the afflicted part. In ancient Egypt the god Thot was said to cure serpent bites or other injuries by spitting on the sufferer.

In Talkha village, in the Nile delta, the family of a sick person places a loaf of bread under the head of the patient to drive away the evil spirits. This custom is mentioned as far back as the 5th Dynasty and occurs in the famous Pyramid texts.

* * *

On the famous statute, in the Cairo Museum, of Zed-Her, a noted healer, are inscribed formulaes for different illnesses. This is followed by the note: "If you are suffering of an illness, you have only to pour water over my statute. The water will run into the writing and thus will have healing power. Let the sick person drink this water and he will be cured."

POWER OF WRITING

The power of the written word as healer prevails today. In some villages, sick persons wear around their neck a prescription prepared by the holy man of the village which is supposed to cure them from their illness.

* * *

Ancient Egyptians embalmed their dead. Today in upper Egypt, where the ancient customs survive more strongly, some peasants wrap their dead in 70 meters of cloth. Such a practice is contrary to Moslem teaching which forbids the use of decorative or costly shrouds. The Prophet Mohammed was buried wrapped in his own mantle.

At death the women of the deceased make their round of the village weeping and wailing, their arms and faces smeared with mud, and their hair unbound. This is exactly the same way in which the ancient Egyptians announced a death. This custom does not exist in any other Moslem country.

* * *

In modern Egypt, after the corpse has been placed in the tomb, the eldest son usually descends into the tomb-chamber and loosens the wrappings on the body. The Pyramid texts tell of the filial duties performed by the god Horus for his father Osiris, and among them it says:

"Horus comes to thee, he separates thy bandages, he throws off thy bounds."

* * *

The idea in ancient, as in modern Egypt, was to make the body free to use its organs.

Opponents of U. S. Aid to Yugoslavia Ready Ammunition to Down Jet Offer

WASHINGTON (INS) — Opponents of U.S. aid to Yugoslavia are looking forward to a possible Senate battle next week over administration plans to send nearly 400 jet planes to the Red-ruled nation.

* * *

A source close to the Senate Appropriations Committee has confirmed a report by Publisher William Randolph Hearst Jr. that the jets are earmarked for Marshal Tito's air force.

The move was denounced by Rep. Edna Kelly, one of the leaders in the House attempts to limit Yugoslavia aid.

Commenting that the shipment of modern aircraft to Tito has been part of U.S. foreign aid program for several years, she added: "No matter how many there have been, I think sending any more would be detrimental not only to U.S. security but to world peace as well."

She said Yugoslavia "has no need" for American arms since it already possesses one of the strongest military forces in Europe.

The committee source said Secretary of State John Foster Dulles told the group last week that the jets would give Marshal Tito "peace of mind" and keep him from returning completely to the Soviet fold.

IKE WANTS IT DONE

Dulles was appearing in a successful attempt to have the committee approve the full four billion dollar foreign aid appropriation requested by President Eisenhower.

The committee also beat down several attempts to ban or limit military assistance to Tito. However, the fight on both points—banning aid to Tito and cutting the appropriation—is expected to start all over again when the Senate takes up the measure this week.

Referring to this coming floor battle, the committee source declared: "The administration wants to send all those jet planes to Tito, but we may not let them do it."

Under the present bill, Eisenhower will have to certify within 90 days after signing the bill that Tito is still free of control by the Kremlin and is not taking part in any Communist program of worldwide conquest before he can give any aid to Yugoslavia.

Rep. Alvin M. Bentley (R-Mich), another opponent of aid to Yugoslavia, demanded that the administration at least suspend aid to the Red nation until the President reaches a decision and makes the required report to Congress.

* * *

He said that to do otherwise would be "almost an assumption" that Eisenhower will find that the U.S. should continue its foreign aid progam to Belgrade.

Fire losses amounted to $885,218,000 in the United States last year, 1.6 per cent more than in 1954.

Conch Shells Make Fine Lamps for TV

A Dallas man makes attractive television lamps from conch shells, which you can pick up on many salt water beaches or buy in the curio shops in the beach areas.

• • •

Paoli G. Woodliff inserts a light in the curved wall of the pinkish orange shells, and the effect, when other lights in the room are out, is beautiful.

Woodliff first soaks the shells in a strong bleach mixture for two weeks before polishing them with a stiff brush. (Shells bought in a curio store are usually already polished.)

• • •

A hole is drilled in the bulbous part of the shell, then ground out so a rubber cover off an outboard motor distributor cap fits snugly to hold a small light bulb socket.

This makes a good conversation piece as well as restful television viewing.

Crash Near Bay City Hurts 4, Kills 2 Tots

BAY CITY (AP)—Two young children were killed last night in a two-car collision involving a young mother and her brother-in-law. The drivers and two other children were injured seriously.

Both children were thrown into a ditch. Staygray's car landed on top of them.

The injured all were taken to General Hospital.

Mortgage Debt Soars

NEW YORK — Between the end of 1953 and the end of 1955, mortgage debt in the United States rose more than a third while the value of houses advanced less than 10 per cent. In 1955 mortgage debt climbed 17 per cent while the value of houses increased about 5 per cent. The net increase in 1955 was about 13 billion dollars, bringing total nonfarm debt to 89 billion dollars.

Record Budget OK'd

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The City Commission, without debate, unanimously adopted a record budget of $7,943,210 Tuesday. The figure, covering the city's operating budget and capital improvements fund for 1956-57, calls for a city tax rate boost of $2.30 per $1,000 of property valuation.

Canada sold some 48,300,000 pounds of leaf tobacco abroad during 1955, an increase of 16,300,000 pounds over 1954 exports.

Pontiac People Protected by Building Permit Dept.

BY GEORGE T. TRUMBLE JR.

"Every step of the way we're trying to protect the taxpayer," Carl F. Alt says when explaining the function of the city building permit department.

The city building inspector recalled former years when many property owners failed to apply for required building permits, believing they were protected in doing any construction on their private property.

Now most residents are aware of the law, and abide by it, Alt said. "We still get a few who claim ignorance of the law, but after a warning they come in for a permit."

Permits in the city are issued under provisions of the building zone ordinance, building code, and the Housing Law of Michigan.

Last year, permits for construction valued at $12,674,646 were issued. This was the second highest total the city has ever had, following the $16,328,697 in 1951.

Permits are needed for all new structures built in the city. Along with these building permits, similar ones must be secured for electrical and plumbing work, sewer and water tapping, heating, and any sidewalk or curb work at new construction.

Safety, sanitation, and the health of the individuals concerned are the basis for the permit system, Alt said.

Ninety per cent of these permits are issued to experienced workers who are licensed by laws for work in their particular fields. But there are still "do-it-yourself" fans who tackle almost any job.

The inspection department, a branch of the city engineering office, inspects all the projects when completed to see if they conform with the submitted plans and city laws.

Home siding, roofing and garage building projects are the most frequent jobs discovered by the department being carried on without a permit being issued, Alt emphasized.

He stressed that any structural changes on a home requires a permit. He cited roof re-construction, fences, re-locations of entrances to rooms, and replacing foundations as examples.

Flagrant violations are often uncovered in older homes in the city, where owners convert basements and attics into living quarters to rent without applying for a permit.

Although most of this work goes on inside and is difficult to see," Alt said, "there is always someone in the neighborhood that lets us know of the violation sooner or later."

He stressed that his department does not enforce the law but only points out violations according to city codes and ordinances.

Because of a lenient system of warnings to violators, penalties were particularly non-existent in 1955, Alt said.

He encouraged citizens and builders to come into the City Hall office to inquire whether a permit is needed for a particular job. "We are just as willing to tell them when they don't need a permit as when they do."

He warned home owners against subterfuge used by unscrupulous individuals in having the owners obtain permits and in turn let them do the work. "You will probably wind up with a bum job endangering your safety," the city official pointed out.

Eisenhower to Revisit Scenes of Early Army Service

WASHINGTON (INS)—Not only diplomacy, but sentimental memories will occupy President Eisenhower during his three-day state visit to Panama this weekend.

It was in that tiny outpost during the years from 1922 to 1924 that a carefree, happy-go-lucky Army major was transformed into a serious-minded disciplinarian, obviously marked for advancement.

Friends attributed the change in Ike to his grief. Shortly before his assignment to Camp Gaillard in Panama, the Eisenhower's first-born son, Dwight Jr., had died of scarlet fever. The young couple was almost inconsolable.

But it was in Panama that fate once again smiled on the future first family. Mamie became pregnant with John, the son who has since blessed them with their four adored grandchildren.

Mamie's first impression of her new home in Panama was stark horror. "A disreputable double-decked shanty," she wailed, as she glimpsed the rotting, unoccupied structure through a tangle of jungle growth.

SCENE OF DISASTER

To reach their future abode, Mamie and Ike had to fight their way up a steep path carpeted with slithering snakes, cobwebs and lizards. Mosquitoes clung to their perspiring faces, and the dank odor of decaying vegetation repelled their nostrils.

The creeping tropical jungle had played havoc with the mold-covered clapboard walls, the rotted screens and shutters. To the pampered daughter of a prosperous Denver family, the scene spelled disaster.

While Mamie slapped fearfully at buzzing insects, Ike bravely crossed the lurching porch and disappeared within. In a few minutes he returned, and to her disgust, suggested that a few new timbers, some paint and screening would transform the shack into a home.

Before Mamie could properly vent her pent-up wrath, a white-haired woman in a crisp dress suddenly appeared and invited them "next door." It was Mrs. Fox Conner, the wife of the general who had requested Ike as his aide.

A quick look at the sparkling, artfully decorated house of the general convinced Mamie that a vestige of hope remained. In the days that followed, she helped with the scrubbing and cleaning, unpacked her familiar possessions and became a shrewd shopper at the post commissary and the duty-free shops along the canal.

Once more able to smile, she helped with the officers' club parties and raised funds for a maternity ward at the post hospital. She could even laugh again when Ike, looking for all the world like Douglas Fairbanks Sr., leaped around their bedroom at night, making thrusts with his sword at the elusive bats which shared their abode.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Doud, Mamie's parents, arrived in the spring for a visit with the young Eisenhowers, and on returning to Denver persuaded their daughter to accompany them.

The post hospital was on the other side of the locks, across a treacherous mountain road more given to landslides than paving. If the gates happened to be up for a passing ship, how could Mamie reach the hospital in time?

Even Gen. Conner helped persuade her to go, by promising that her husband would reach Denver in time for the baby's arrival. Ike rejoined her sooner than she had thought. Scarcely a month had elapsed when he appeared in Denver for an appendectomy at Fitzsimons Army Hospital—the same establishment where Eisenhower as president was later to spend weary weeks recovering from a heart attack.

A week after John's birth Ike returned to Panama, where Mamie and the baby rejoined him three months later.

During this two-year period of recurrent hardship, Maj. Eisenhower so impressed Gen Conner with his qualities of leadership and perception that on his own reassignment to Washington, the general recommended Ike for the command and general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., a young officer's dream opportunity.

Without that assignment to Panama, Ike might never have led our forces in World War II. Had he not done so, he would almost certainly not have become president of the United States by a landslide.

• • •

To Ike, as perhaps to no other government chief assembling in Panama Saturday morning, the rendezvous will mark a "sentimental journey" home.

Carlsbad Caverns Ends Remodeling

CARLSBAD, N. M.—A $1,000,000 improvement program has been completed at the Carlsbad Caverns.

The two 11-passenger elevators at the national park running from the surface to the lower level 750 feet below have been revamped and two new high-speed elevators that can make the trip in 60 seconds have been installed.

Thousands of yards of underground trails have been regraded to give a gradual descent for those who walk in. Fluorescent lighting has been installed and on the surface parking space has been made available for 1,000 cars, nearly double the old parking facilities.

Four-fifths of traffic accidents occur in clear weather.

Today's Taxpayer Sure Pays Plenty

CHICAGO — Today's taxpayer making $10,000 a year and having two dependent children pays more than 25 times more federal income tax annually than his counterpart did in 1913.

According to Commerce Clearing House, national reporting authority on tax and business law, he paid only $60 on $10,000 taxable income when the income levy began in 1913, while this year his total was $1,592.

Tax payments for the same taxpayer have ranged from a low of $40 in 1929 to a top of $2,245 in the World War II year of 1944.

Indian Beetles Raised to Fight Florida Pests

ORLANDO, FLA.—A lady beetle being raised at the U. S. Department from India, called Chilomenes, is being raised at the U. S. Dept.-ment of Agriculture's Fruit Insect Field Station here as a potential enemy of the destructive cotton aphid.

Tests show it has a voracious appetite for many of the pests of fruits, vegetables, and ornamentals in Florida. A single adult lady beetle devoured 16,321 aphids in six weeks. And in the laboratory two lady beetles laid more than 6,000 eggs, proving they can build up a big population in a hurry.

Graying, Whitening of Hair Unexplained

EVANSTON, ILL. — Reports of sudden whitening of human hair, usually attributed to great shock o grief, may be due to "inaccurate observation," belives Dr. Matthew Brunner of Northwestern University.

He says there is little information on why hair grays, but it is likely to be due to failure of the pigmentation machinery to function properly. In animals it is known that graying of hair can result from lack of certain vitamins, but there is no evidence of this in man, Dr. Brunner says.

800,000 Moslems Move Toward Lifetime Goal---Destination: Mecca

CAIRO (INS)—Mohammed Hassan looked exhausted but happy as he squatted on the hot pavement outside the big white building where the Egyptian Government checks the travel documents of all foreign visitors.

His flowing burnous was yellowing and travel-stained. He had just walked 3,000 miles.

Eight months ago Hassan set out from his Arab village near Casablanca, obeying the Koran's injunction that, as a devout Moslem, he must make at least once in his lifetime the pilgrimage to Mecca.

His five sons and two daughters are grown, so Hassan, now 56, left his wife with relatives, took $15 from his $300 savings and walked east, across North Africa and Libya into Egypt.

LOTS OF COMPANY

He was not alone. An estimated 700 walking pilgrims have arrived in Cairo the past week.

Hassan with his papers registered and stamped, was ready to move on to Suez. From there he sailed for Jeddah on the Red Sea.

Grey-bearded Hassan is one of an estimated 800,000 pilgrims converging today on Saudi Arabia. They are coming from the Arab countries, from Africa, Pakistan, India, Indochina, Sumatra, Java, Malaya. One-seventh of the world is Moslem.

Two years ago the oil-rich Saudis abolished the pilgrimage dues of about $80 per person. But the annual trek still means big money for the hot arid country with Islam's holy cities.

Thousands like Hassan, make the pilgrimage the cheap, hard way. But others spend small fortunes. They arrive at Jeddah by air, several plane-loads daily. Then they are transported over the 85 miles of asphalt road to Mecca in shiny, eight-seater American taxis, officially described as "first class de luxe passenger cars."

At Mecca, birthplace of the Moslem prophet Mohammed, accommodation ranges from the best hotels ("running water and electric lights") to sleeping space on the sandy floor of a tent.

The holy city's 150,000 inhabitants exist almost solely on their annual pilgrimage earnings, as hotel an camp keepers, caravan leaders guides, water sellers, refreshment vendors and souvenir makers.

In the treeless wastes around barren Mount Arafat, which every pilgrim must climb, the shade sellers are assured of booming business. A spot under any sort of awning can be "rented" for as much as $1.50 an hour to the weary believer who seeks a nap out of the sun's scorching rays.

The temperature around Arafa often reaches 127 in the shade. In 1951, the last year an "official" count was kept, there were 731 sunstroke deaths.

* * *

The sacred pilgrimage rites center around the Kaaba, a cubic structure (39 feet by 33 and 50 feet high) in the courtyard of Mecca's great mosque.

Built into the Kaaba's southeast corner is the black stone which, the true Moslem believes, was given by the archangel Gabriel to the patriarch Abraham from whom the prophet Mohammed claimed descent.

The Kaaba, considered ultra-sacred, is jealously guarded. A few years ago, an international incident erupted when a Persian pilgrim, apparently suffering from the heat, profaned the Kaaba. He was beheaded on the spot.

ONLY MOSLEMS ALLOWED

All Mecca, and an area 10 miles around, is holy territory, strictly forbidden to non-Moslems.

This year's pilgrimage rites, lasting five days, begin July 15. The solemn rites are performed three days before the annual feast and two days after. The three-day feast begins July 18.

After completing the full ritual, the pilgrims return to Jeddah and sail or fly home.

* * *

Once back in Cairo, Hassan will start his 3,000-mile tramp westward. But he'll be a different man, walking proudly, head held high to display his beard, dyed ginger-red—a sign of his new status.

Lab Tests Indicate Chicks' Sex Control

DES MOINES—A poultry laboratory's tests indicate that it is possible to control the sex of baby chicks through the application of a homrone solution to the fertile egg.

In the patented method, the eggs dipped into a solution consisting largely of androgens hatch into cockerels and those dipped into an estrogen solution hatch into pullets, according to the researchers.

Tests cited in the patent papers indicate that 98 to 100 per cent of the eggs can be hatched in the desired sex. The method is also said to improve hatchability and viability of the chicks.

Pilots Now Insured as 'Standard' Risks

NEW YORK — During the past year a sweeping liberalization in the acceptance of pilots' applications for life insurance has made scheduled flying widely accepted as a standard part of the life-insurance risk both as to passengers and crewmen.

Many companies have announced during the past few months that pilots of scheduled airlines will now be accepted for life insurance at standard rates.

Bob Considine Says:

Cases Illustrate Uncertain Military Justice

• • •

There is no connection between the matter of the Marine drill instructor and the POW who changed his mind about staying in Red China, except the thread of military justice and its sometimes uncertain workings.

Blotted out of view of all except the readers of True is an appeal for funds in the current issue from Richard Stern, a writer who serves as secretary of the "Dickerson Defense Fund Committee." The group operates at Orangeburg, N. Y.

Stern and attorney Guy Emery, heavily decorated West Pointer who lost a leg in the Battle of the Bulge (he was Dickenson's counsel), are crusading to spring the GI who was given 10 years at hard labor and a dishonorable discharge for "collaborating with the enemy" and "ratting on his fellow prisoners."

• • •

Loudspeakers bellowed to the 22 Americans who remained after Dickenson returned to U.S. lines, "Corp. Dickenson returned home (Crackers Neck, Va.) and enjoyed a combination 30-day leave and honeymoon. This fact explodes Communist charges that you and your family will be harmed if you return." At the microphone was an American major.

TWO YEARS IN JAIL

Dickenson now has been in jail two years. Others who returned after him—Otho Bell, William Cowart, Lewis Griggs and Richard Tenneson—are free as a result of a Supreme Court decision.

• • •

Dickenson responded too soon. Emery hopes to take the case to the Supreme Court.

Peter Rathvon, former head of RKO who is now producing pictures in England, has created a storm with his film version of George Orwell's "1984."

The film about the ultimate control of the human mind by a dictator known as Big Brother is the subject of continued debate on the British radio, TV and classroom. There's that sticky business about the ending....

• • •

Seems that Rathvon faithfully filmed the real ending, the complete brainwashing of the hero so that Big Brother replaces even the woman in his life.

But his American distributors shook their jowls and asked that he give it a different ending. Rathvon did. In THAT ending, the hero rebels on the brink of the complete brainwash and is shot for his bravery.

ORWELLIANS FUME

Well, when the British distributor saw the alternate ending he exclaimed something like "Wizard!" and ordered that version into British cinemas. Orwellians fumed and are still fuming (while the box office clicks merrily.)

And to cap the whole matter, when the American distributors saw the authentic ending they once would have none of, they suddenly would have none of the ersatz finish. So British audiences will see the American ending, and vice versa.

Rathvon's next: A Capt. Hornblower series and "Phenomena," a Cockney Bridey Murphy.

"It will go well in England," Rathvon said of the latter. "Everybody's got a personal ghost there. The Baconites and Marloweites insist that even Shakespeare had one."

Small girl-type child we live with has a French poodle named Mimi. They are inclined to bite each other on occasion, but the girl will let no harm come to the dog from outside sources.

She is the poodle's perpetual protector. No criticism may be lodged against the pooch, not even a passing reference to the fact that her haircuts cost six times as much as mowing father's shaggy mane.

The other night, after Mimi had been barking at a mirage for 20 consecutive moments, father boomed to his daughter, "Shut that dog up, will you!"

The girl stoutly found a quick defense. "I don't speak French," she said, glacially.

Small Pacific Island Getting Whaling Plant

SYDNEY—A prefabricated whaling plant is being shipped from Norway to Norfolk Island, a small Pacific island nearly 1,000 miles east of Sydney, for establishment of a whaling industry.

A company there has a permit to take 150 whales this season. The factory will employ 70 persons, mostly Norfolk Islanders. The island is Australian territory.

Sales of station wagons during 1955 reached a record 9.6 per cent of total motor-vehicle factory sales compared with 6.3 per cent the year before.

Students in College Can Be Too Smart

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (INS)—Some college students are too smart and efficient for their own good.

So says Edward R. Quinn, head of the department of testing and guidance at the University of Notre Dame.

• • •

Quinn explained that students with superior mentalities sometimes become frustrated in choosing a college course and career "because of their intense interest and outstanding aptitude in several fields of learning."

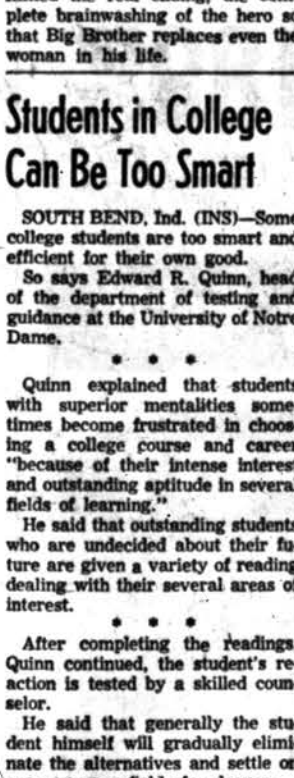

He said that outstanding students who are undecided about their future are given a variety of reading dealing with their several areas of interest.

• • •

After completing the readings, Quinn continued, the student's reaction is tested by a skilled counselor.

He said that generally the student himself will gradually eliminate the alternatives and settle on one career or field of endeavor.

The United States exported a record 67,289,000 bushels of soybeans during 1955, an increase of 56 per cent over the year before.

Orville Hodge—a Bright Political Career Sullied by Illinois Scandal

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP)—Orville E. Hodge, only a few weeks ago a bright prospect for governor of Illinois, today is a "beaten" man, his political career sullied by a financial scandal that might affect the outcome of the November presidential and state elections in Illinois.

The man sometimes referred to as "most popular man in Springfield" said he was through Monday. He resigned as state auditor, an office to which he was elected in 1952 by a margin greater than all others, save one, on the state Republican ticket.

He drew even more votes in 1952 than the man who demanded he quit as auditor—Gov. William G. Stratton.

• • •

As a proven votegetter, and as an affable man admired by Republican leaders and rank-and-filers alike, Hodge had been a good bet to bid for the GOP candidacy for governor in 1960.

FONDEST AMBITION

This was his fondest ambition. Then in a series of recent revelations, it was disclosed that at least 42 state warrants (checks) were unexplainably issued by his office and cashed for $544,000. Investigators say even more funds may be missing—and some sources say the ultimate figure in mishandled state money will total more than $800,000.

• • •

Now, as Stratton and other Republican leaders attempt to preserve party confidence for the November election, Hodge has been dumped from the ticket as a candidate to succeed himself. In the interim, his job as state auditor will be filled by Dr. Lloyd Morey, 70-year-old president emeritus of the University of Illinois.

Still facing Hodge are possible charges growing out of a number of current investigations.

OFFERS RESTITUTION

He said in a statement this week, after a conference with State's Atty. George P. Coutrakon of Sangamon County, that he would reimburse the state "to the full extent of my resources" and make a full disclosure of his activities before a grand jury. He said he would "attempt to hold the state of Illinois from any loss because of my actions."

One source reported Hodge had told Stratton and Atty. Gen. Latham Castle he believed he could raise a maximum of $400,000.

• • •

Hodge's career prior to the scandal in his office was markedly successful—politically and in a business sense.

He was born in Indiana 51 years ago and as a small boy moved to Granite City, Ill., a town of about 30,000 near St.Louis. The family was considered well to do and Hodge, after graduation from Granite City High School, attended Washington University and the Benton School of Law in St.Louis.

He married, became the father of a son, now 22, and became owner of the Hodge Agency in Granite City, a real estate and insurance firm, on the death of his father.

MONEY INVESTED

He and his wife, the former Margaret Coudy of Granite City, own farms in Madison and Clinton counties in Illinois, have interests in a farm produce ranch in Pecos, Tex., and in a Missouri stock farm, and own the $600,000 Esquire apartment hotel in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., as well as several large commercial buildings in the Granite City area.

Hodge also is director of the Paramount Fire Insurance Co. of New York and a director of the Mercantile Mortgage Co. of Granite City.

• • •

He was known as perhaps the greatest joiner in Granite City. He belonged—and was active in—such organizations as the Masons, Elks, Moose, Rotary and Eagles and was an avid athletic fan, once owning shares in the old St.Louis Browns major league baseball team.

He was elected to the Illinois General Assembly in 1946 and served three successive two-year terms. In 1952 he announced he would run for governor, but withdrew when offered the position as candidate for state auditor on the GOP ticket.

Elected to the state office by a big margin, Hodge immediately reset his sights on the governorship. Friends said this ambition was behind a lot of the free-wheeling spending for which he quickly became noted.

Tall, curly-haired, good looking and an impeccable dresser he developed his greatest reputation as a host. He acquired a palatial, multiple - level home on Lake Springfield and equipped it with piped phonograph music, air conditioning and lush furnishings. Here, and in his large home in Granite City, he entertained the greats of Illinois politics.

Simultaneously, he maintained suites in the St.Nicholas Hotel in Springfield and in the Drake Hotel in Chicago—paying an estimated $25,000 over a period of 40 months for the Drake quarters.

He had four automobiles, a yacht and two airplanes, keeping a pilot on his payroll although he often flew the craft himself.

British Couples Seek 'Marriage Menders'

LONDON—There's a growing demand in Britain for marriage menders—people who man mend broken marriages and prepare engaged couples for marriage and family life. Couples are clamoring for advice from the 80 marriage guidance councils in England and Wales.

One aim is to cut the divorce rate, now 30,000 a year. As an indication of the growing demand, Mrs. Dorothy Broughton, secretary of the Manchester office, has had 1,000 new cases in a year.

"The problems were always there," she says "but people are not so shy as they used to be." Marriage counsellors must be over 30, happily married, and blessed with sympathetic personality and common sense.

Aliens Flood U.S.

WASHINGTON — An all-time record of 2,622,462 aliens reported their addresses to the United States Immigration and Naturalization Service in January, 1956, some 100,000 more than in 1954, the next highest year. About 75 per cent of the annual address reports came from nine states, each with more than 100,000 aliens reporting.

African Leader Sounds Warning

Nationalist Rebel Aims Bitter Words at French in Fight for Freedom

CAIRO (INS) — A legendary desert warrior who looks more like a Hollywood version of the kindly country doctor cracked his whiplash warning today at his bitter lifelong enemy: "France is next."

* * *

Aging Abdel-Krim, the old Riff rebel, announced with quiet self-assurance that the next phase of the war for North African liberation would be fought on French soil—"soon."

"Active preparations are now under way to carry the fight into France itself," he told INS in an exclusive interview. "I can reveal no more at this time."

The 72-year-old Abdel-Krim—for 30 years exiled from his native Morocco—sketched a grim outline of Algerian, Moroccan and Tunisian nationalists, now living in France, waging a bloody campaign of guerrilla warfare in the cause of North African freedom.

NOTES INFLUX

He carefully noted that something like 500,000 Algerians plus another 100,000 Moroccans and Tunisians had emigrated to jobs and homes on the French mainland.

The French, he said, had paved the way for their own inevitable defeat by encouraging since 1930 a two-way flow of human traffic across the Mediterranean.

"They are block-minded, the French," he declared. "They will lose everything in North Africa, just like they did in Indochina."

To Abdel-Krim, the independence France granted Morocco and Tunisia is a "sham, a disgrace." He brands the French campaign against the Algerian insurgents "a tragic, needless massacre."

YEARS CATCH UP

The years have put a slight stoop on the stocky, gray-bearded old fighter's shoulders. But his glistening brown eyes still flash with the fire of the desert warrior as he delivers his stern warnings in a soft, almost musical voice.

Since 1947, Abdel-Krim has lived in Cairo, regularly firing his broadsides at the French "imperialists" and watching the North African struggle from the quiet of his twelve-room villa.

Here in a garden suburb, with armed guards at his doorstep, Abdel-Krim lives with his family of six sons and five daughters as a guest of the Egyptian government which granted him political asylum when he escaped from French exile and landed in Port Said.

His round face, topped by a white neatly-wrapped turban, crinkles into a mischivous smile as he disclaims any direct connection with Cairo's North Africa liberation committee or other organizations working for independence. But he leaves no doubt that his is a voice of authority.

* * *

Abdel-Krim blames the "ruling clique" in France, not the French people. The people, he sad, have never been told the facts.

Firms Send Helpers When Wives Are Ill

OLSO — A number of large Norwegian firms maintain their own staff of 'home assistants." When an employee's wife becomes too ill to do her chores, the husband need not stay away from work to take care of the children and the home.

He merely notifies his employer, and a trained home assistant tak over. This absenteeism-reducing system supplements the municipal housewife relief service operating in all but 120 of Norway's 746 municipalities.

New Treatment Found for 'Shaking Palsy'

CHICAGO—Three neurosurgeons report in the American Medical Association Journal that a new procedure of injecting chemicals into one part of the brain has been successful in restoring some "shaking-palsy" victims to more normal life.

The new method, called chemopallidectomy, was used on 125 Parkinsonism patients, with good results in 70 per cent of the cases, the doctors report.

Herring Juice 'Ages' Castle's Copper Roof

BERLIN—Salty herring juice is being put to an extraordinary use in West Berlin. Workmen restoring Charlottenburg Castle, built in 1743, are finishing work on the cupola, atop which the huge statue of the goddess, Fortuna, will be placed again to bring the city luck.

To give the copper roof of the cupola the proper antique look in a hurry, the workmen are rubbing it with herring juice.

South African Firm Plans 3rd Steel Works

PRETORIA, SOUTH AFRICA — The South African Iron and Steel Industrial Corporation (Iscor), is planning to build its third steel works.

This is one of the country's largest firms, with annual sales revenue of $98,000,000 capital value of $146,000,000, and reserves nearly equaling capital value. The projected works, plus expansion of Iscor's present plants, will cost $78,000,000. Its other factories are at Pretoria and Vanderbijl Park.

Youngster Fine After Trading Sight for Life

ORLANDO, Fla. (AP) — Mike Sibole is reported "doing very well" after the operation that traded his sight for a chance to live.

Doctors said in a brief bulletin last night that the 4-year-old lad was "resting nicely, sleeping, doing very well."

• • •

Mike may go home from the hospital tomorrow or Saturday. He will wear a flesh-colored patch to cover his left eye socket.

The eye was removed yesterday because of cancer that two years ago destroyed his other eye and spread despite long, intensive treatment.

Whether Mike successfully traded sight for long life will be known in a few years. The surgeon who performed the operation said he has a 50-50 chance of growing to manhood.

• • •

A large section of optic nerve was cut out but there is a danger some cancer cells slipped past the removed area. There also is a possibility the operation may have been too late.

If the operation was too late, Mike has only a year or two to live, the doctor said. But without the operation, he added, he would have died soon—and painfully.

Whether Mike knew before the operation he would come out blind was not known. His father, the Rev. James M. Sibole, told newsmen beforehand he would tell him when he woke up yesterday morning.

• • •

But Sibole brushed aside all questions about it from newsmen. Mike's doctor said he did not know whether the boy was told.

DAVENPORT, Iowa (AP) — Perhaps little Mike Sibole of Orlando, Fla., won't understand a letter he will be receiving soon, but it contains words of heartfelt encouragement from an Iowa woman who also lost her sight when she was 4.

Mrs. Jessie Marrero, about 60, of Davenport typed a letter to the small lad, recalling that her 14-year-old brother and his friends were having a snowball fight when one of the missiles shattered a window.

Her eyes were showered with glass and she gradually lost her sight.

• • •

"Being blind isn't an ending, Mike, but a beginning," Mrs. Marrero wrote. "It's beginning a full and rich life if you want to make it that way. A boy with a name like Mike won't have any trouble. The world will open as it always does for someone who wants it to.

"You will find your other senses growing sharper to compensate for the loss of your sight," she continued, "That is important to remember, Mike, that you still have four other senses. Use them and you'll never have any trouble.

• • •

"Yes, my hopes and my prayers are with you, Mike, on this way as you trustingly enter my world of darkness. "Yet never fear, child, in the darkness we can see with our hearts, if not with our eyes."

French Hunters' Club Bears Bishop's Name

PARIS—France's largest organization of hunters is the St. Hubert Club, which has 100,000 members. It is named after the Eighth Century bishop of Liege, an ardent hunter until he saw a cross appear above the antlers of a stag he was about to kill.

He spared the animal, gave up hunting, entered a monastery, and eventually became the patron saint of all Christian hunters.

Rubbish Crackdown

GRAND HAVEN (AP) — City Council has adopted a new ordinance which orders a maximum fine of $100 and 90 days in jail for persons convicted of depositing rubbish on public property and trespassing on posted private property. The move is designed to help police the city's beaches and protect privately owned waterfront property.

Experts Discuss U. N. Research

Project to Determine Attitudes of Foreigners to Other Cultures

PARIS (INS) — Social Science experts from nine countries have discussed under United Nations auspices in Paris a novel research project to determine popular attitudes towards foreigners and foreign cultures.

• • •

The plan is to put identical questions to the people in each country on details of books they have read, the foreigner they have met at home and abroad, and aspects of early schooling or personal experience which may have influenced their attitude towards foreigners.

The answers will be compared and analyzed.

• • •

Meeting under the joint chairmanship of Professor T. H. Marshall of London University, recently appointed Director of the U. N. Educational, Social and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) Social Science Department, and Professor Harold D. Laswell of Yale University, twenty experts drawn from various universities and research organizations agreed that sample surveys should be made by public opinion institutes this Fall, in a number of West European countries.

• • •

The comparative survey method was first used by UNESCO in 1948, in a study published under the title of "How Nations See Each Other," and which has partly inspired the questionnaire which the experts agreed to use for the present survey.

25 Homes to Be Built

MANISTEE (AP) — Douglas J. Dok, president of a Grand Rapids building firm, Tuesday announced Manistee's first multiple home construction project in plans for 25 new dwellings to be built this year. The homes will range in price from $13,000 to $22,500 and are planned as the start of a 100-home subdivision to be completed by 1960.

Ah, Forget It! We'll Go Home and Start Over

CHICAGO (AP)—An estranged couple stormed into divorce court yesterday, determined to end their marriage.

• • •

Four hours after filing suit they left arm in arm, determined they'd try and save it.

A crowded divorce calendar forced Clarence Pennington, 27-year-old clerk, and his wife Mary, 24 to wait for their case to be called.

Mrs. Pennington had wanted fast action. She said she needed support for herself and their 7-week-old daughter Susan.

• • •

Judge Walker Butler of Superior Court waived the usual 60-day cooling-off period usually applied in divorce cases. He permitted her to file a separate maintenance suit and Pennington a cross-bill for divorce, both charging cruelty.

But he told their lawyers he couldn't hear the motion for temporary support until the end of his court-call of other divorce cases.

The Penningtons sat down together in the crowded courtroom and waited. Their lawyers went about other business.

• • •

Four hours later the lawyers returned. The Penningtons had changed their minds. They said they were disgusted with the arguing and shouting—usually over petty differences — by husbands, wives and lawyers in court. They wanted to give their marriage another try.

Butler smilingly obliged and dismissed the suits.

Morocco to Get Quick U.N. OK

Hopes for Membership Soar as Japan Moves Peace Talks to Russia

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS) —Speedy approval of Morocco's bid for U.N. membership is assured when the Security Council meets next week to consider the application.

• • •

France asked for the session on the understanding the controversy over Algeria will not be raised anew in the council, which has refused an Afro-Asian demand to air the dispute.

Russia and other council members gave assurances they will support Morocco's admission, making it the first former French protectorate in North Africa to gain a seat in the 76-Nation U.N.

Formal admission will not take place until the General Assembly votes Morocco into membership at its next session in November.

JAPAN MAY MAKE IT

Recent developments inside and outside the U.N., meanwhile, boosted hopes that Japan—vetoed by Russia in December—may join the U.N. perhaps before the windup of the assembly session.

The decision to switch Soviet-Japanese peace treaty negotiations from London to Moscow was regarded as significant in respect of Japan's efforts to be admitted to the U.N.

It was believed that, with the talks taking place in the Russian capital, it will be difficult for the Kremlin to insist on linking Japan's admission to that of Communist Outer Mongolia, which also failed to secure admission last year.

GREAT TO BE ALIVE — Boundless exuberance brings 13-year-old Michael Reed, of 58 S. Roselawn, out of the water as he cools off from the exertions of summer. Mike, like others of his age (all experts on picking ways to enjoy summer to its fullest), will tell you that a vigorous swim is the very best medicine for hot days.

Fun and Memories Help Growing Up

Summertime — Paradise for Boys

By VICKY MICU

Summertime—a happy time—made for and enjoyed by one of the country's most valuable "tangible assts,,: a boy.

For it is a time when a fellow crams himself full of fun and stores up a treasure of memories to help carry him through the job of growing up.

This is also the time when expectations run high to win next week's little league game is of the essence; grow tan and freckled in the sun, waiting for the fish that sometimes bite.

The grass insists on growing and Mom insists on his mowing.

He'd lay down his life for a buddy, but how silly can girls get?

New things are constantly being discovered—dad is a pretty swell person. Father and son make a hot combination reeling in a striped bass or sharpening up a throwing arm in the driveway.

A fellow learns old things for the first time when he becomes acquainted with Nature—life teems in the quite woodland and clouds make pretty good weather forecasters.

Summer is the time his tastes change. TV takes second place to baseball, camping, and an occasional walk with a best pal (either human or canine).

Sweltering hot days speel f-u-n. Gone is the ole' swimming hole, but the enjoyment is there in a city pool or nearby lake.

A boy who usually finds meal-time a chore and would rather be out with the gang suddenly develops an enormous appetite when charred hot dogs springled with sand, pop and ice-cold watermelon are served.

As busy as he is in summer, there isn't time to regret what wasn't done yesterday. The only problem is where can go if it rains on the camp-out Saturday?

TIME TO DREAM — Mike pauses and takes a rest from the day's activities underneath a tree. Chances are, his dreams of the future go no further than tomorrow's softball game or the memory of the fish he caught yesterday. But dreams are fun — especially in the summertime.

WHAM! — Another homer — and just like Mickey Mantle, too. Plans for plenty of ball games at the Pontiac Boy's Club, of which Mike is a member, fill his mind. Maybe I'll be like Charlie Maxwell instead, Mike says. After all, I'm a lefthanded batter too.

Ike's Health Kicks Off Battle

Hagerty Hiding Truth From Voters, Michigan Senator Charges

WASHINGTON (AP) — The presidential campaign gathered heat today as the aftermath of a bitter Senate floor exchange over President Eisenhower's health.

• • •

Senate Republican Leader Knowland (Calif) and Sen. Goldwater (R-Ariz) challenged yesterday a speech in which Sen. McNamara (D-Mich) said presidential press secretary James C. Hagerty "is shielding the American public from the truth" about Eisenhower's health.

McNamara called it "one of the most masterful suppressions of the facts ever put across by the advertising techniques of Madison Avenue."

• • •

Goldwater took issue with McNamara, saying:

"I deplore the use of the political technique which has been used in this body, where it has been suggested that the President of the United States is operating under sedatives, that the President does not even know his own condition."

Goldwater added that the political campaign can be conducted "on a much higher plane than that."

• • •

This was in reference to McNamara's assertion that Hagerty calls in the press and makes "announcements that the President is making important decisions."

"But does any newspaperman point out that those decisions were made—if they actually were made—when the President was still under sedatives; when he could not be making decisions or should not be if he really was?" the Michigan Democrat asked.

• • •

His face flushed, and his voice angry, Knowland said, "It seems to me that the remarks cast reflection upon the integrity of the President of the United States. They cast reflection upon the integrity of the able and outstanding men of the medical profession who have attended the President . . ."

And Fill Campaign Coffers

Democrats Honor George With Retirement Banquet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Democrats paid more than $100,000 today to honor Walter F. George and replenish the party's senatorial campaign chest.

• • •

All avowed Democratic presidential aspirants planned to be on hand for the dinner tonight, but the star of the show was the 78-year-old, gray-haired retiring senator from Georgia.

Tickets cost $100 apiece, including those bought by Adlai Stevenson, Estes Kefauver, Averell Harriman and Gov. A. B. (Happy) Chandler of Kentucky, the latest entrant into the race for party standard bearer.

Whatever is left over after paying for the dinner and for a present for Sen. George and his wife will go to the Senate Democratic Senatorial Campaign Committee to help try to elect Democratic candidates for the Senate this year.

• • •

Senators Smathers of Florida and Humphrey of Minnesota, who arranged the affair, said the ticket sale already had topped 1,000, double what they anticipated when they started work on the affair.

• • •

George will be the principal speaker.

Less Outlay on Roads

WASHINGTON — Federal, state, county, and local units of government together spent 1.2 cents on roads and streets for each vehicle-mile of travel in 1955. That was about two thirds of the rate of spending in the years just before World War II.

Siamese Twin Boys to Undergo Surgery

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The Hutchens Siamese boy twins, joined at the base of their spines, undergo surgery today to separate them.

The twins, Gary and Larry, were born July 2, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hutchens of suburban El Cajon. Except for a 1½-inch tissue connection, the twins are normal in every respect.

"The date for surgery has been chosen carefully so the operation can be done while the babies are able to tolerate the ordeal with a minimum of risk," doctors said.

"At the present time the babies are in good condition as indicated by their good color, lusty cries, vigorous muscular activity, and gain in weight.

"They cry, eat, and move, without affecting one another, indicating they are two complete, separate individuals. There is no indication the intestinal tracts or vascular systems are abnormal in any way."

Happy Says He'll Win Nomination if Logjam Occurs

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP) — Gov. A. B. Chandler of Kentucky says he has the best chance for the Democratic presidential nomination if a deadlock develops in the national convention.

• • •

"I don't have much chance for the nomination unless a deadlock develops," he said in a campaign speech here last night, "but if the haystack does catch on fire, I expect to be there with a pitchfork."

• • •

Chandler, former senator and onetime commissioner of baseball made a flamboyant bid for West Virginia's 24 convention votes in a five-hour visit to this city, right across the big Sandy River from his home state.

• • •

He arrived at the head of a retinue of Kentucky supporters and officials in a horn-tooting motorcade for a press conference, reception, television appearance and speech.

• • •

In his address, he urged voters to "let President Eisenhower go back to his farm for the rest and peace that he has earned."

JUST FISHIN'—Mike's thoughts are far away, and not altogether concerned with the chance that a big one will come along and spoil his reverie beside his favorite pool. The bobber bobs . . . the sun is warm . . . "guess I'll close my eyes for a little while . . ."

Longfellow School Workshop Ends

Chief Pontiac, Paul Bunyon, a snowman and a totem pole may be strange bedfellows but they've joined forces these days to keep things lively at Longfellow School.

• • •

They're not illusions seen in the heat of the summer sun. They're plain as life in the bright and colorful form of papier mache. The figures have a purpose and quite an educational purpose it is.

Some 34 Oakland County teachers have joined in a creative reading workshop under supervision of Michigan State University. The four-week course is being held daily at Longfellow School.

The teachers are learning how to bring creative ideas into school studies through the reading program.

They are learning to bring continuity to a child's education—making a subject which students read about clear by putting it into art form; making a bulletin board display; showing a film about it; writing about it, or otherwise incorporating it into another subject.

TEACHERS JOIN IN

Instructing the course is Dr. Harry Hahn, director of the Oakland County Reading Service.

Aiding him are Josef Gutekunst, professor of art education at State Teachers College, Kutztown, Pa., and Edwin Crandell, grade school principal at Birmingham.

Also participating for three weeks of the four-week workshop are 34 school children from different schools in the county who principals feel would benefit most from participating in such a program.

The teachers and children worked together on a unit entitled "Gaining an Insight into Michigan."

• • •

Children were polled according to their tastes and interests. If their interests ran to rock collecting, a study on minerals found in Michigan was included.

If the interest showed an inclination toward traveling, a map display and study of the actual towns and places of interest in Michigan would follow.

Thus the figures of Paul Bunyon and Chief Pontiac came about. A study of the two figures of history resulted in a joint project to build the seven-foot forms.

BOOKLET BEING MADE

Other projects resulting from the workshop were hand puppets, paper sculpturing, fingerpainting and silk screening.

The latter process is being used by the group to put together a 115-page booklet concerning all the experiences the teachers have gone through in the course.

The teachers will then take the booklet back to their classrooms as guides for future schoolwork.

The course is being used for graduate credit for the teachers. Dr. Hahn says it is specifically designed to give the teachers an insight into working and thinking along creative lines and learning to direct projects in which students work together.

Giant Starfish Feared in Carolina Islands

HONOLULU — In the shark-infested region of Ifaluk Atoll in the Caroline Islands one of the creatures most feared by the natives is the starfish. It's a giant among its kind—2 feet or more across—and has 13 to 15 short, stubby arms radiating out from the broad disk.

Unlike most other starfishes, it is densely covered with sharp, brittle spines and it blends perfectly with the bottom on the shallows and reefs where it lurks.

Fathers! Check on Junior's Earnings

Now is the time for the taxpaying father to figure out how junior's summer earnings can affect the family income tax return.

In certain circumstances, both get a break under federal regulations, and father need not restrict the youth to making less than $600.

This happens if the youngster is under 19 years old or, at any age qualifies as a full-time student, and if the father furnishes over half the support during the year.

Then the father can claim the $600 dependency allowance, and son, earning $600 or more, can still claim his own personal exemption.

As an example:

An unmarried student earns $800 for the year. Tax of $115 is withheld. The parents pay $1,000 toward support and tuition. They may claim the dependency exemption. The student files a return, paying a tax of $26 and claims his own personal exemption. A refund of $89 excess tax withheld is given.

• • •

To qualify as a student the youngster must for five months of the taxable year be either a full-time student or taking a full-time course of on-farm training under accredited supervision. The five months need not be in a row.

HUMDINGER OF A DOG — All that hot dog and no sauerkraut! Seven youngsters sink their teeth into what was called the world's biggest hot dog at the Bronx "Funland" in New York recently. Five-and-a-half feet long, the king-sized frankfurter was cooked up to launch "National Hot Dog Month" (July). There was considerable disagreement among the tots about proportions of mustard and relish, etc.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

IN THE WOODS—4

Nature's Camouflage

Forest creatures are often protected by nature. Many are able to keep very quiet, breathing softly, not moving a foot or an ear for long periods when they believe an enemy is near. Also they often are colored so that they blend into their surroundings and can hardly be seen.

This kind of coloring is called camouflage.

A striped chipmunk moves so fast through the grass that often one thinks he is a snake. A rabbit's grayish-brown fur is lost among the foliage.

You might think that a spotted fawn could be seen easily, but those spots can look like sunlight on the leaves when he lies quite still.

Here are some forest friends. Color them with your crayons, and then stick the picture down on cardboard. Cut out the parts carefully.

Attach the long strip on the fawn behind the center through the holes indicated with a brass fastener or a bent pin. Fold the end panels forward. Then the fawn, when he is scared, can leap across the opening in the foliage.

Tomorrow: Woods Are Useful

Device Halts Train at Damaged Span

SAN FRANCISCO—The problem of overhead railroad bridges knocked out of alignment by trucks has prompted a large Western railroad to install on some of its spans a device for halting all trains approaching a damaged bridge.

* * *

The gadget consists of an electric wire circuit and a 132-pound detector rail which extends across the entire width of the bridge and is supported by iron brackets bolted to the bridge at the same elevation as the bottom of the bridge girder.

* * *

Cleric Solves Problem —Does Job Himself

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — The concrete steps to the portico of the Horace Bushnell Congregational Church needed replacing, and that posed a twin problem for the trustees.

Where could they find a workman skillful enough not to mar the antique beauty of the Colonial style structure, and where would they get the money to pay for the job?

The pastor of the church, the Rev. Joseph Zezzo, solved both problems. A stone mason before he entered the ministry, he did the job for nothing.

Only $3 Will Get You Candy Bar in Russia

By EARL WILSON

ON THE RUSSIAN SHIP UKRAINE—A chocolate bar costs from $3 to $5 in the Soviet Union . . . but, of course, for that you also get the wrapper.

★ ★ ★

We found out about that preposterous price while bouncing around the Black Sea on a cruise boat. Our son Slugger got candy-hungry, as kids do.

They had a nice candy display in the ship's dining room—two bars—and at those prices two were enough. I doubt that anybody's bought a chocolate bar in Russia in years.

"Forget about candy till we get to Czechoslovakia, where it should be cheaper," we told Slug, who, naturally, disagreed.

Our boat trip within Russia was a revelation. Aboard were many poor people riding tourist class.

★ ★ ★

This meant they must sleep out on deck—anywhere they could.

It was a stormy night as we bobbed around in the sea from Yalta to Sochi. I was afraid of being seasick.

Looking out the porthole before turning in, I saw a young girl of 15 bundled up in raincoat and blankets on a bench out on deck. She looked soaked. With a smile she waved good night.

Next morning, I found she was a member of a young Communist geography study group that saved money to make the trip to Yalta and back. It could only afford tourist class.

Once again I was a big hit with the crowd—with my Polaroid.

Out on deck they swarmed around me, coaxing me to take their pictures. They even offered me rubles. I could scarcely keep one picture out of eight on a roll, so hard did they beg for the prints.

"Look, he's GIVING them away!" one passenger said, according to Prof. N. H. Pronko, of the University of Wichita, who was aboard, making good use of the Russian he knows.

Astonishing as the Russian prices are to us, they don't seem to infuriate the Russians—who don't expect to achieve such luxuries anyway. Cigars sell for 75 cents to $5 in Russia; I saw about four in Russia. One was being smoked by a Russian, three by Americans.

★ ★ ★

Yet once we met a Russian waiter, Alexi, in Yalta, who didn't want to accept a tip from us because he was sure we Americans needed the money more than he did.

"I know, for example that waiters get only $15 a week in America," Alexi said.

"Where did you hear that?" we asked.

"I know it—I read it in a book," he insisted.

"What book did you ever read such a thing as that in?" we inquired.

He had the answer promptly.

"In Theodore Dreiser's book, 'An American Tragedy,'" he said.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL IN N.Y.

Grace Kelly, asked by French reporters if she's expecting, blushed and answered, "Peutetre" ("Perhaps") . . . Betty Grable and Harry James are planning their first European concert tour.

Jimmy Bayer, a 10-year-old in "Cat On a Hot Tin Roof" has a crush on leading lady Marjorie Steele—gave her a four-foot-long blacksnake . . . Eddie Fisher's readying a Las Vegas cafe act . . . Barbara Rush's work in "Bigger Than Life" won her a long-term contract.

BARBARA

The Ingrid Bergman story in Redbook (for August) carries her quote: "Let someone at home light a cigarette lighter, and our three children begin reciting my speech in Joan of Arc about being burned at the stake."

Earl's Pearls . . .

A local gal says she knows where next year's dance steps come from—they're her husband's version of last year's dance steps.

WISH I'D SAID THAT: "This is the month you can't open the bus window you couldn't close last January."—Jack Shaindlin.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: "Now that TV's such a big thing, a mother who wants to call her child to dinner must go through channels."—Woody Allen.

A woman approached Rocky Graziano and asked, "Aren't you Graziano, the famous fighter?" "Lady," said the Rock in shocked tones, "I'm askin' yuh—do I look like a pugilist?"—That's earl, brother.

Americans Overcoming the Fear of Flying

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Although only one American in 10 has flown, the U. S. public, some time since World War II, has lost the fear of flying which it once had.

* * *

This mass psychological willingness to be hurtled from city to city far above the earth's surface is the basic cause for the phenomenal growth of the commercial airlines, airline pioneers and other experts believe.

Of course, establishing safety records comparable to railroads and busses as well as offering cheaper, speedier, more comfortable travel to more points has helped condition Americans to flying.

But no matter how the reasons for the flying boom are sorted, the fact is that Americans can't get enough commercial flying right now. There are shortages of everything from stewardesses to baggage handling equipment.

FLYING DOUBLED

Whatever figures you use, they show that commercial flying has just about doubled during the past five years. And conservative predictions by the Civil Aeronautics Administration indicate it will again jump considerably during the next five years.

Beyond that, when the $2 billion worth of jet-type planes on order come into use, with more speed and more comfort, there is no telling what the increase will be.

From 1950 to 1955 the number of passengers on U. S. airlines doubled, to close to 42 million. By 1965, CAA predicts, the figure will be more than 70 million air passengers per year.

* * *

A significant boom is also being enjoyed by the non-scheduled airlines. In the past five years the 30 non-skeds boosted their business from 466,340 passengers to 820,000. This is going up, too. The non-skeds have been a potent influence in the extension of low-cost coach service.

ROUTES INCREASE

Since before the war the number of U. S. cities served by airlines has jumped from 386 to 695. In the past five years total commercial airline route miles flown in the U. S. jumped from 161,000 to 196,000 miles.

* * *

Much of the recent extension of routes by Civil Aeronautics Board has been the opening up of competition. For example, Delta-C&S is now flying from Atlanta into Washington and New York. TWA is now permitted to fly to Denver from New York. And American can now fly into Houston. These are typical examples of recent route additions.

One of the most startling flying increases has been in helicopter service. In 1953, some 1,000 passengers were lifted by whirly-bird. Last year 29,000 paid for helicopter lifts. The potential is unlimited, they say.

Much of the airline gain, of course, has been at the expense of the trains and busses. While airline passenger miles doubled — from 10 billion to 20 billion — Pullman travel slumped during the past five years from 10 billion to 6 billion passenger miles. Bus travel dropped from 21 billion to 16 billion passenger miles during the same period.

Comparable prices for travel remained fairly level during this period. Air fares averaged from 5.55 cents per mile in 1950 to 5.34 cents in 1955. First class rail fare was 3.25 cents in 1950 and 3.31 cents in 1955.

The boom is not an unmixed blessing to the airlines, however.

Passenger demand and new routes are straining present facilities. For the next three or four years the aircraft makers will be pushed to deliver a backlog of DC-7s, Super Constellations, new-type Convairs and turbo-prop Viscounts.

The jet-type equipment will begin to be delivered sometime in 1958.

There's a shortage of stewardesses. American is eagerly searching for 750 new gals to pass the coffee and cheeriness. United, Pan-Am, Eastern and other lines are also busily recruiting new gals.

Ticket-handling facilities offer problems, too. American, for example, is taking over a whole floor of a hangar at Washington National Airport for a new electronic reservation system.

Inadequate baggage is another gripe of air travelers.

Probably the toughest nut of all is the need for an expanded, modernized CAA air traffic control system.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks has just asked Congress for $246,000,000 for a five year plan to add new radar, peripheral communications, navigation and air traffic control equipment.

ATOMIC CRUISER—This Navy sketch shows the atomic-powered "all-missile" cruiser expected to play an important part in the fleet of the near future. Designed to be equally effective against sea, land and undersea targets, the all-purpose cruiser will carry a number of multiple launchers for missles of varying range and capabilities, plus torpedo launching equipment. The ship is now scheduled for construction.

23 Satellite Stations Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Establishment of at least 10 radio and 13 telescope-equipped visual observation stations to study the earth satellite was recommended today by the committee in charge.

The suggested locations were listed by Hugh Odishaw, executive secretary of the U.S. National Committee for the International Geophysical Year. His speech, made available here, was prepared for the Western Hemisphere conference of the IGY in Rio de Janeiro.

The recommended locations, Odishaw said, "are but suggestive, for it is hoped that many more stations will be established by the nations participating in the IGY."

* * *

Odishaw said American rocket scientists hope to place "at least five or six" satellites in orbits around the world at different times during the 18-month cooperative scientific effort starting next July 1.

The recommended list of observation sites:

Optical stations: White Sands, N.M.; Cocoa Beach, Fla.; Venezuela or Netherlands Antilles; Quito, Ecuador; Antofagasta, Chile; Cordoba Argentina; Bloemfontein, South Africa; Australia; Maui, Hawaii; southern Japan; India or Pakistan; Egypt or the east edge of the Mediterranean; southern Spain or French Morocco.

* * *

Radio - tracking stations; Santiago, Chile; Antofagasta, Chile; Lima, Peru; Quito, Ecuador; Panama; Antigua, British West Indies; Havana, Cuba; Jacksonville, Fla.; Washington, D.C.; and San Diego, Calif.

Policemen Boil Over Orders to Keep Cool

YORK, Pa. (AP)—York policemen became so indignant yesterday over an order telling them to wear pith helmets that the day shift of 26 cops refused to work for over two hours.

* * *

"We look silly in those sun hats," said one.

"Kid stuff," snorted another.

"And Bermuda shorts will be next," moaned a third.

The chief directed his men to wear the hats in observance of Soap Box Derby Day in York. City officials said it was a kind of experiment too, and if the tryout was okay, then the policemen would wear the helmets all summer.

* * *

It took 2 hours and 20 minutes for a lawyer representing the Fraternal Order of Police to persuade the mayor and other officials that it would be best to give up the idea of making the helmet part of the summer uniform for keeps. The policemen said they'd go along with the Derby Day stunt, even though "it makes us look like Frank Buck, Clyde Beatty or some TV jungle character."

KKK Calls Meeting

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — A statewide meeting of the Ku Klux Klan billed as an "old-time speaking rally and cross burning" will be held here Saturday night — the first such meeting in several years. The Klansmen have leased 700 acres of land north of the city for the rally, to which the public is inivted.

Israel's 1955 exports were worth the equivalent of $85,600,000, slightly above the 1954 total. Imports rose sharply, reaching $326,000,000.

Neutralist Trio Winds Up Talks

No Big Decisions Made at Nehru, Tito, Nasser Meeting

BRIONI, Yugoslavia (AP) — The much-trumpeted meeting of the neutralist Big Three entered the windup stage today but no world-shaking decisions were in prospect.

• • •

Indian Prime Minister Nehru described his session with Yugoslav President Tito and Egyptian President Nasser as only a friendly exchange at which no decisions were made.

The three advocates of a middle course between the West and the Communist world swapped views for 5½ hours yesterday on Tito's vacation island of Vanga near this Adriatic port. Reporters were barred from the island.

A move by Algerian nationalist leaders to draw a statement of support for their rebellion against France apparently failed.

• • •

Preconference speculation held that the French-Algerian dispute would be one of the major topics up for discussion. But an Egyptian source said Nasser was irritated by the appearance of four Algerian leaders in Pula and did not push the issue.

Algerian spokesmen in Tunis said the nationalists "presented a 10-point program" here, including demands for independence and freedom for all Algerians in jail or exile.

• • •

An Indian informant said Nehru was cool toward the idea of a stand on Algeria by the three at their Yugoslav meetings. Nehru said during his visit to Paris that the fighting in Algeria must stop, but he added that he thought the French were "earnestly desirous" of bringing peace to Algeria.

A joint communique summing up the week of talks Nasser and Tito held before Nehru's arrival said they had reaffirmed their support of "peaceful and active coexistence and nonattachment to blocs" on either side of the cold war.

• • •

The statement said Tito and Nasser also decided to hold joint talks at regular intervals, to begin negotiating Yugoslav-Egyptian economic and cultural agreements and to work together in atomic projects for peaceful pruposes.

'Met' May Meet Labor Halfway, Open After All

NEW YORK (AP) —Mediation efforts by an official of the Musicians Union may help to save the Metropolitan Opera's 1956-57 season, canceled in a labor dispute.

• • •

Al Manuti, president of the big Local 802 of the union, entered the squabble between the Met and the American Guild of Musical Artists yesterday to "save the opera season" and an estimated three-million-dollar payroll.

Manuti's union is not involved in the dispute, which concerns the dual role of Robert Herman, who held one executive job and one union-covered job. The guild, which represents many of the singers and dancers, threatened disciplinary action against Herman for his management role. The Met said the union refused to arbitrate the matter. The season was canceled, the Met said, because it had no guarantee of labor peace.

• • •

Manuti said he had prepared a compromise proposal an dthat the Met found it acceptable. He said the guild promised to put the plan before its executive board quickly.

Prisoners Raise Din When Electricity Fails

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (AP) — The electrical system at the Missouri Penitentiary went on the blink last night and the 2,700 convicts—all securely locked in their cells—raised such a din nearby residents feared a riot like the bloody one two years ago.

The prisoners only shouted profanities and rattled cell doors this time.

In the fall of 1954, several inmates died and millions of dollars in prison property was burned by demonstrating convicts.

2 Conventions Ending

HOUGHTON (AP) — The Michigan Assn. of County Treasurers and the Michigan Assn. of County Registers of Deeds wind up their separate conventions today. The three-day convention of the county registers opened Tuesday in Houghton. The county treasurers met Tuesday in Hancock, across Portage Lake.

Lands 20½-Pound Pike

NEWBERRY (AP) — A New Jersey man came up with one of the biggest catches of the season Wednesday when he landed a 20½ pound northern pike in Pike Lake north of Newberry. The pike had a 17-inch girth and was 43½ inches long. H. J. Fitzpatrick of Summerville, N. J., used an 8-pound test line to land his catch.

Crash Victim Dies

PORTSMOUTH, Ohio (AP) —John W. Legg, 67, of Trenton, died Wednesday in a hospital here of injuries received in an auto crash July 8.

Tips for Vacationers Using Roads

A steady cruising pace of 45 to 60 miles per hour is most economical on fuel, travel and vacation experts report in listing suggestions for those about to embark in the family car for a vacation.

Wise planning of time, not excessive speed, saves a motorist's time, the experienced drivers report.

Other fuel economy and safety tips for the vacationing driver are listed below:

Idling a car's engine is a gas-consuming act. It is better to turn off the engine, for the amount of gas used in restarting is negligible.

A warm-running engine gives better fuel economy than a cold-running engine, therefore driving during the day will save gas. The lower temperature and higher humidity of the night air cools the engine, decreasing engine efficiency.

"Jack Rabbit" starts, jerky acceleration, and racing are all taboo if maximum mileage is to be gained.

The misjudgment of speed and curves account for most accidents in mountain driving. The inexperienced driver who finds himself entering a curve too fast may do one of three things: 1) brake too heavily and throw himself into a skid; 2) oversteer in a panicky reaction to the pull of centrifugal force; or 3) veer across the center line into the path of an oncoming car.

Runaway speed can result from wearing out the brakes, and a low gear should be used when descending into a lower grade. Once brakes get mushy, stop and let them cool.

The wrong approach to gas saving is to coast down hills with the car out of gear. This is dangerous since the engine helps to brake the car in emergencies. Many states have outlawed such coasting.

Differences in speed, some much too fast, others too slow for traffic, causes many accidents on superhighways. Excessive speed gives the driver less time to think and react in emergency situations, and it increases the severity if an accident does occur.

Highway hypnosis, that trance-like state which comes about after uninterrupted monotonous driving, dulls alertness and must be relieved. Playing the radio, conversing with passengers, or playing license plate poker are ways to break the monotony.

At all times the driver must keep his eyes on the road, however.

To insure a safe trip, a complete engine tuneup is imperative. Thorough checking of the carburetor, brakes, tires, distributor, points, spark plugs, lights, steering and windshield wipers should be made.

Brakes especially should be adjusted and balanced, and a ready-to-use spare tire is imperative. Necessary incidentals—a first aid kit, flashlight, red flares or fuses, should be available. A hazard on the highway and an economy reducer is overloading in a car.

No vacation can be enjoyed unless care is taken to see that prowler tipoffs are removed. Mail, newspaper, and milk deliveries should be stopped or attended to by a neighbor. Arrangements for lawn mowing need be arranged.

If possible, police should be informed of how long the house will be vacant and where homeowners can be reached in an emergency.

Once under way, plan ahead as to overnight stops and the time element. Be familiar with driving techniques and make good use of highway signs and signals.

No Action Taken on Jobless Pay

Strict Party Line Vote Orders Recess; Debate Resumes August 9th

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Legislature has recessed its marathon fight over unemployment compensation until Aug. 9, two days after the primary election.

* * *

The lawmakers packed up and went home yesterday afternoon amid angry Democratic charges that Republicans had taken the "Rip-Van Winkle Approach" to solving the problems of the state's 280,000 unemployed.

Before recessing, the lawmakers sent Gov. Williams a bill expanding the state's polio vaccine program, passed a bill letting townships buy water from private companies and pigeonholed a measure to strengthen the state's driver licensing law.

The two-day session was marked by a bitter inter-party squabble over Williams' proposal to boost state jobless pay to 65 per cent of a worker's wage, plus $5 for each dependent.

FOLLOW PARTY LINES

House Republicans defeated a Democratic maneuver to save the bill by grabbing it from the Republican-dominated labor committee. The committee refused to act on it.

The lower chamber voted 51 in favor of and 49 against discharging the committee from consideration of the bill. The maneuver needed 54 favorable votes to succeed. The vote followed party lines exactly, Republicans opposed and Democrats supporting it.

"The Republican leadership has again refused to recognize Michigan's unemployment situation as anything requiring immediate action," Williams charged.

* * *

But Republicans insisted there is no justification for an increase in Michigan's jobless pay program because it is now the best in the country.

Woman Embalmer Dies

ALLEGAN (AP)—Funeral service will be held Friday for Mrs. Nine V. Benson, one of the nation's first women to hold an embalmer's license. Mrs. Benson, 67, who died Tuesday, was a partner with her husband, the late C. Clay Benson, in an Allegan Funeral Home for 21 years.

Commie Paper Heaps Praise —on Marilyn!

BERLIN (AP) — East Germany's Communist youth newspaper praised movie actress Marilyn Monroe today for marrying playwright Arthur Miller.

The paper, Junge Welt, said she deserved a tribute because she "risked" marrying him shortly after the House Un-American Activities Committee questioned him about alleged past Communist associations.

The paper also praised Miss Monroe for her interest in "classical Russian literature," which it called her favorite hobby.

The tribute, accompanied by a large picture of Miss Monroe, was unusual for the Communist press, which normally ignores American movie stars. Said Jung Welt:

"Her honest character and her artistic efforts will earn true recognition."

Bass Flounders

GRAND RAPIDS —After three hours of fishing without success on Reeds Lake, Bill Haven, Ben Fish and Bud Cooley headed for the landing when a 13-inch bass leaped from the water and bounced off Haven's back into the boat. Haven kept the fish.

Rubirosa Recovering From Fractured Neck

Paris (AP) —Porfiro Rubirosa is recovering from the fracture of a neck vertebra he suffered in a fall from a polo pony. His head struck a goal post in a recent match at the Bois de Boulogne.

The Dominican playboy diplomat—with his neck held rigid in a steel and leather collar—left his bed today and said he hopes to take up reins and mallet on the polo field again in a couple of weeks.

Farmers and other small holders own 57 per cent of the forest land in the United States.

Cobo Attacks Leonard Jibes

Claims Opponent Hurts Good of Party by Using 'Constant Sniping'

DETROIT (INS) — Mayor Albert E. Cobo was back in Detroit today after his first tour of the Upper Peninsula in search of votes for the Republican nomination for governor.

Cobo wrapped-up his trip last night with a speaking engagement in Sault Ste. Marie in which he blasted his primary opponent, Donald Leonard, for constant criticism since he consented to run for governor.

The mayor said:

"I put my arm around Don on the platform of the Republican state convention and predicted we would work together for the good of the party, even though we were opponents for the nomination.

"Leonard responded by charging that the convention was rigged in my behalf. He is now criticizing me because I am still mayor of Detroit, pointing out that he resigned as Detroit police commissioner to run for governor in 1954.

"It is proper for an elected official to run for a higher office without resigning. But it certainly would be improper for a police commissioner to remain in office while a candidate for governor.

"When Leonard decided to run two years ago, he asked me to let him stay as police commissioner for two weeks to give him a break. I consented, but I am becoming tired of this constant sniping at me."

Cobo told the 85 GOP workers he met with last night that as governor he would get the roads built which are badly needed.

Cobo said:

"Construction of the Mackinac Bridge would be a futile venture if you do not have the road to serve the tourists who will use it.

"Our present governor is now for highways, but don't forget that in 1951 he vetoed a gas tax increase on grounds that the money was not needed."

School Tax Hiked

GRAND HAVEN (AP)—The Grand Haven Board of Education has approved a school tax rate of $22.17 per thousand—an increase of 40 cents over last year—with the adoption of a record 1956-57 school budget of $923,596. The new budget is about 16 per cent higher.

Official Suggests Forcing Civil Defense on Everyone

WASHINGTON (INS)—The administration as it kicks off nationwide "Operation Alert" tomorrow morning will be pondering a recommendation that every man and woman be drafted for 60 hours a year of civil defense training.

* * *

The phroposal has been made by Mrs. Katherine Howard, special adviser to the Civil Defense Administration.

Mrs. Howard also is urging the administration to require every new home and apartment building to include a bomb shelter.

Her ideas are far from revolutionary. Norway and Sweden already have instituted both systems. In those precariously situated nations, one out of every eight citizens is already trained for civil defense emergency.

SAYS "TAKE A POLL"

Mrs. Howard has suggested the administration conduct a poll to see how Americans feel about a draft, which was voted into law by Scandinavians.

She says women at least would approve, since many of them donate more time than that each year to hospital and welfare projects.

Mrs. Howard will be sweating out Operation Alert until Wednesday in a secret emergency relocation center outside Washington while her husband, Charles P. Howard, bank commissioner of Massachusetts, evacuates with Gov. Christian Herter to their official state hideway near Boston.

Recently returned from an inspection tour of Western European defenses, she has been pressing the administration to adopt the European training plan of a strategic, rather than a tactical alert.

In those nations nearest the Iron Curtain, civil defense leaders are operating on the theory they will have a tipoff from intelligence sources several days before a mass attack. America, on the other hand, conducts its alerts as if we would know nothing until enemy planes actually crossed our radar screens two hours north of our principal targets.

The European plans would have civil defense authorities evacuate mothers, children and elderly citizens a day or two before the exodus began.

SECRETS SEALED

Sealed envelopes already are in the hands of civil defense leaders in 63 target cities in America. At the appointed hour tomorrow, they will rip them open to learn what sections of their localities have suposedly been struck by nuclear bombs.

It then will be their task to make the split-second decisions which may save theoretical thousands of lives. The exercise is based on the hypothesis that Puerto Rico and Hawaii have been surprise-bombed by missiles with atomic warheads launched from submarines.

Almost immediately, 63 target cities, four atomic energy installations and six strategic air commands on the mainland will be bombed from the air.

* * *

Washington officials already have received instructions to evacuate as rapidly as possible to secret relocation centers. Congress, rushing toward adjournment and notoriously indifferent to civil defense drills, must be assumed to be in recess.

Otherwise, the august gentlemen would surely be blown to bits by the imaginary bombs.

Bees Guard Moonshine

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—State and county officers went to a nearby area to destroy a 900-gallon, illegal whisky still.

A swarm of angry bees attacked the officers who persisted in their job — although somewhat hurriedly — but not until Deputy Sheriff H. B. Sands was badly stung.

Red Cross Offering Courses in First Aid

Enrollments are being taken by the Oakland County Chapter, American Red Cross for the National Aquatic and Small Craft School at Northwest Military and Naval Aacdemy at Lake Geneva, Wis.

The Aug. 12-22 session will give instruction in all phases of first aid, life saving and water safety.

A fee of $50 covers registration board, lodging and all instructional materials, officials report.

Ralph Forman, chairman of first aid for the Oakland County chapter, will be on the staff of the school for the 10-day period.

U.S. Grants More Time to Join Soil Bank Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Farmers have been granted more time to sign soil bank agreements and to plow under or cut crops on land to be retired from production.

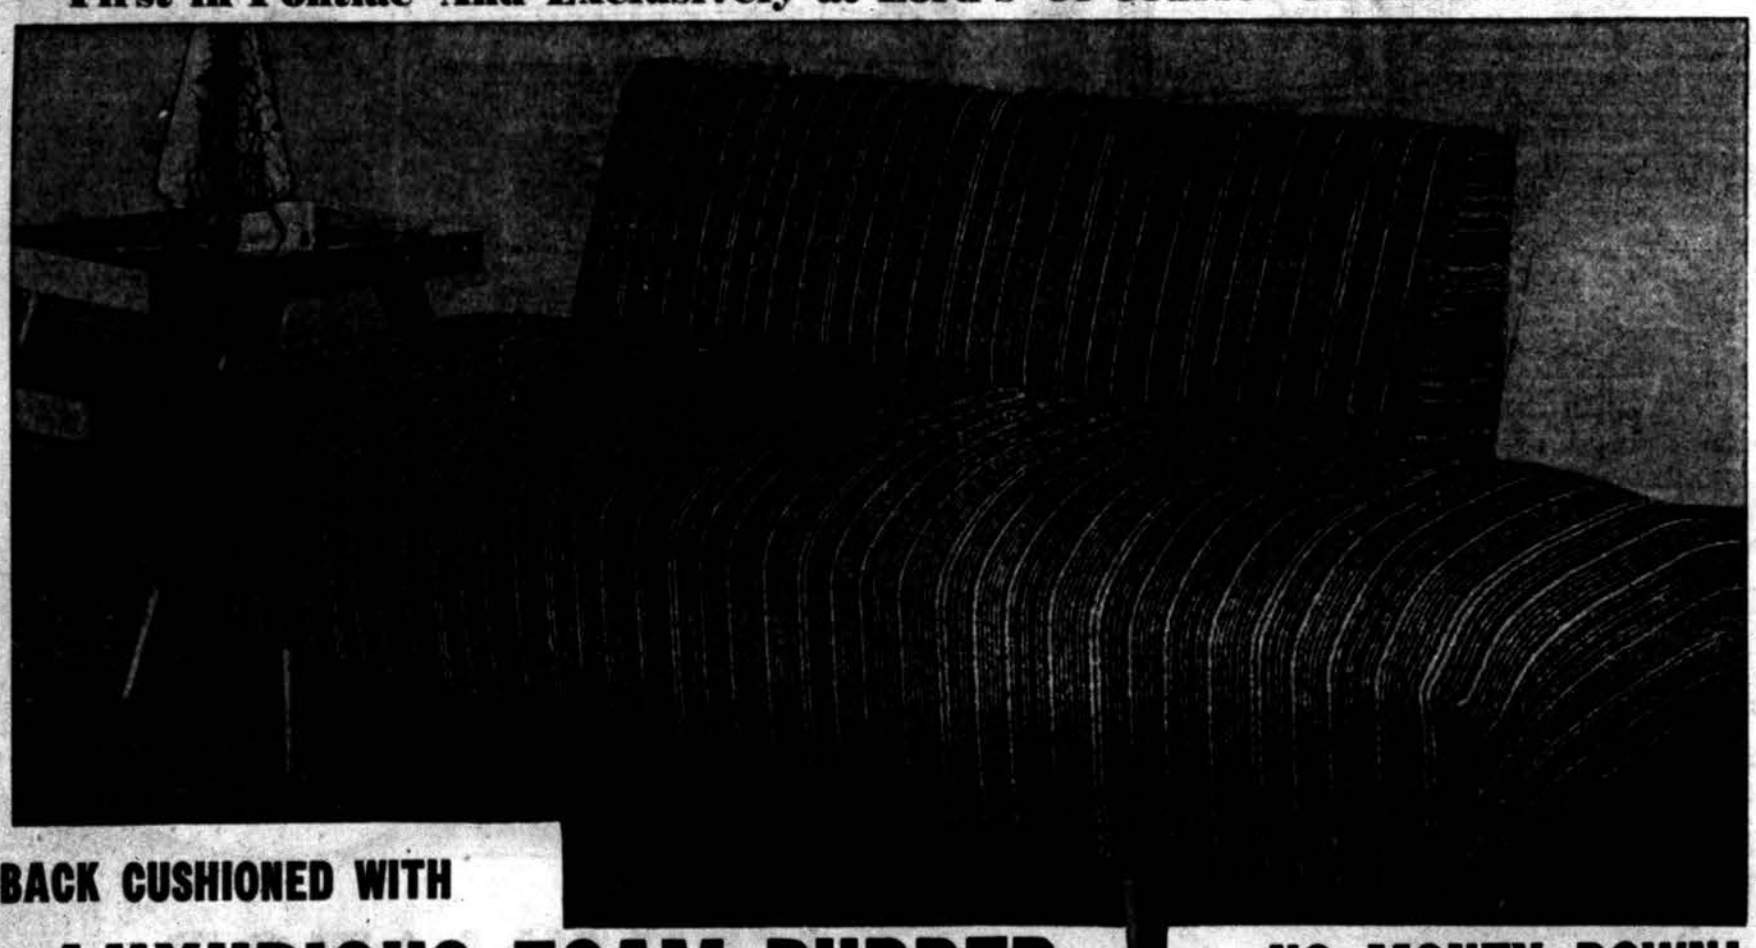

The Agriculture Department said the time extensions were approved because some county stabilization committees have been unable to sign up all the farmers who want to get in on the soil bank program this year.

The department also set the period between July 31 and Aug. as final dates for plowing under or cutting crops on soil bank land. Previously the final dates covered the July 15-July 27 period.

Farmers were given until July 27 to sign agreements putting lands in the acreage reserve this year.

Movie Tailor Decrees 'Ideal Male Figure'

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

New York (INS) — The "ideal male figure" is 42 inches at the chest, 33 in the middle and 40½ inches at the hip—but who's counting?

* * *

"Not many," says the man who concocted these "perfect" measuremets. "Of all the Hollywood celebrities, only Dean Martin possesses such form."

And are the rest of the glamor boys worried? "Not much, as long as we can pad and taper, expand and detract. After all, as clothes makes the woman so do clothes disguise the imperfections of man."

The speaker and self-appointed expert on this subject is one Sy Devore, a small and immaculate fellow who falls 3 inches short of perfection in the chest.'

* * *

He admits to being the "top tailor" for the Hollywood set, and concedes that some of his steady customers are not-quite-perfects, Bing Crosby, Jeff Chandler, Bill Holden, Tony Martin and on and on, ad tonsorialum.

"The big thing in fashion today is that everbody is going conservative," says Devore. "I like to call it 'The Devore Look'."

(This figures.)

* * *

"There was a long period after the war when clothes were pretty drastic eyesores for men. They went for square shoulders and they went for Ivy League. They wore dazzling colors. But now we're changing all that . . .

"We've trimmed down the shoulders, shortened the coats to give a longer-leg look, and tapered the hips. We've also eliminated the breast pocket because men don't need it, and taken away the lapel buttonhole which is absolutely unnecessary."

For weddings, when a boutonniere is desired, Devore shrugs, you pin on the carnation. Your handkerchief you put in an inside pocket so as not to clutter up the manly simplicity of the jacket.

* * *

The natty tailor, who now rnus an exclusive shop at Hollywood and Vine, began his career on Times Square in 1930.

FISRT GEORGE RAFT

His first steady customer was George Raft, followed by the Dorsey brothers and shortly thereafter Edgar Bergen and Charlie McCarthy.

It is difficult to say whose clothes created more stir—Raft's or McCarthy's—but at any rate he was soon geeting customers from all over Hollywood and got himself known coyly as the "show biz" tailor.

He became so successful, in fact, that he was commissioned to design that gold lame suit for Liberace.

The reason Devore sets his "ideal figure" at 42-33-40½ may possibly be that Dean Martin is one of his best customers, purchasing about 70 of his $225 suits a year. But Devore doesn't think so; after all, he's got integrity.

"Dean just looks better in suits than almost anybody else, he says. "Stands to reason, then, his figure is ideal."

The "average man's figure," Devore says, is 40 inches of chest, 34 around the waist and 41 at the hip.

We tried to ask the designer about other types of figures, namely cash, in an attempt to discover just how much Hollywood's heroes spend on their clothes, but he wouldn't give.

"Let's just put it this way," he said, lowering his eyes modestly. "I have a home with a swimming pool, and I have a cadillac and I pay a lot of tax.

"If I said how much I made, it would look like I was flaunting it."

34 Finish Bank Studies

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Thirty-four students will graduate from the University of Michigan's School of Banking Friday. The course, which consists of a two-week session of two summers, is designed to further studies in banking management. Students are sent from banks throughout Michigan.

Radioisotopes Sped Pollution Detection

WASHINGTON — Chemists at Georgetown University are working to perfect a discovery that faster detection of water pollution is possible through use of radioisotopes.

* * *

The discovery involves "feeding" radioisotopes to bacteria, whose presence in the water can then be detected by Geiger counters. Using this method, pollution has been found in river water in half an hour compared with at least 24 hours required in previous methods.

Rafael Cueto, father of nine children, was presented with a prize as the millionth visitor recently to the International Fair in the Dominican Republic. He was awarded a single seat motorcycle.

Says Half of Palsy Cases Need More Aid

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — A nationally recognized authority on cerebral palsy said Wednesday about 25 per cent of the nation's cases are so mild they don't need a full-fledged rehabilitation program.

Another 25 per cent cannot benefit from rehabilitation, leaving 50 per cent that can, added Dr. Myer A. Peristein of Chicago.

He is on the staff of several hospitals and is chief of the Cerebral Palsy Division of St. John's Hospital for Crippled Children, Springfield, Ill.

Peristein, in Kentucky at the invitation of the Kentucky Crippled Children Commission, held a clinic at the commission's outpatient department at Kosair Crippled Children Hospital.

An ideal program for the handicapped, he said, would give them services "that now are available to the normal individual." He referred especially to education.

Exclusive of adults, there are between 400,000 and 500,000 cerebral palsy victims in the United States, Peristein said.

Miles of Music

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. — Music while traveling is offered by an Arkansas bus line. A new $100,000 music system consists of a tape outfit on each bus that plays 8 hours of continuous music without repeating. That's about 400 miles worth. The music is piped in individual speakers that can be turned on or off as desired.

Crawford's Words of Wisdom:

Need Talent in Hollywood

Hollywood and London blondes and Italian brunettes have been "taking the play" this year. But what will they be doing 20 years from now? Joan Crawford, 48, has been a motion picture star for 30 years, and is in a position to give them a little advice.

By ATRA BAER

NEW YORK (INS)—"Any girl who thinks a beautiful face and sensational figure are enough to survive in Hollywood is making a fatal mistake."

That's the opinion today of Joan Crawford, who swept into the chic colony restaurant as if tacitly daring the lunching ladies to look her over and try to find flaws worth meowing about.

As how-does-she-do-it's were whispered over cocktail glasses, Joan smiled and nodded. The whispers were applause.

"You can't put glamor on like makeup," Joan warned. "It's not an external commodity. It's from the inside."

Does La Crawford think today's blondest blondees Monroe, Mansfield and Dors have "glamor"?

"I don't know. Glamor is a combination of warmth, mentality and neatness," she said with a tine that implied she was disposing of Marilyn, Jayne and Diana.

Joan, who once publicly lambasted Marilyn Monroe Miller for turning up at a movie award dinner in a dress that looked like it was "sprayed on," is a stickler for neatness.

"Actresses who look sloppy off screen aren't doing themselves or their fans a favor. To stay a star you should look like one."

Included in the one-time chorus girl's textbook for lasting success are:

1. Self-improvement: "Always keep studying. Observe the successful people around you. I did."
2. Diet: "Leave the table hungry." She weighs 119 pounds.
3. Talent: "It helps to have a little to start out with."

An Oscar winner, Joan sails for England today, with two of her four adopted children and her husband, soft-drink magnate Al Steele, to film "The Story of Esther Costello."

"I've never been happier in my life," said Joan, previously married to Douglas Fairbanks Jr., Franchot Tone and actor Phil Terry.

"And I won't retire because I want my work and I love it. Once you stop loving your work, you stop being a star."

Post Office Department Gives Papers Free Ride

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Post Office Department has given publishers authority to deposit Sunday and holiday issues in rural mailboxes on Sundays and holidays without paying postage. This is a particular benefit for small papers in largely rural areas.

This is an exception to the postal rule that mailable matter deposited in mailboxes is subject to postage even though carried personally by an individual who does not move through the postal system.

Arab Nationalists Kill Ten French Soldiers

ALGIERS (AP)—Arab rebels killed 10 French soldiers and wounded six today in an attack on the railway town of Ste. Barbe du Tlelat, about 20 miles south of Oran. The French said they, in turn, inflicted severe losses on the raiders.

The attack was one of a continuing series of incidents marking Algerian nationalists' campaign for independence.

* * *

Another French unit fell into a rebel ambush south of Cherchel, 70 miles west of Algiers, and suffered several wounded. Reports from the scene said this engagement was continuing.

About 60 miles east of Algiers, a rebel commando unit slit the throat of a local French cafe owner at Dellyszly and wounded his wife with gunfire.

In the town of Setif in the Constantine department, a rebel grenade thrown at a crowded bar injured several persons.

From Army to School—to Learn About Bulls?

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP) — Willard A. Whittet retired from the Army as a colonel and went back to school with his children. Whittet, 55, his daughter, Gay, and son, Richard, all enrolled in Montana State College. The father majored in poultry, explaining:

"I can handle a hen, but at my age I didn't think I would be able to wrangle a bull."

French Cattle Show 200,000-Head Gain

PARIS — The number of livestock on French farms continued to increase last year.

Cattle totaled 17,500,000 head at the start of 1956, an increase of 200,000 head over the year before; sheep totaled 8,171,000 head, about the same as the year before; hogs increased by 200,00 head to reach a total of 7,600,000.

Nile Dam Big Project

ASWAN, Egypt — The planned Aswan high dam across the Nile River will be able to store 135 billion cubic meters of water at a level 180 meters above sea level. Experts, figuring at the present rate of silting, estimate it would take 3,375 years for the dam to be completely banked by silt.

India Aids Refugees

NEW DELHI — India has earmarked $262,500,000 for refugee rehabilitation during the next five years. The bulk of the amount will be spent on displaced persons from East Pakistan.

American Schoolboy Wails About Latin Heard in Italy

WASHINGTON — In Rome today, it's no easier to do as the Romans did than it is in the United States. Not, at any rate, when it comes to conquering the Latin language.

* * *

The wail heard through the halls of American high schools—"Latin is a language as dead as dead can be — First it killed the Romans, now it's killing me" — echoes across Italy. There, says the National Geographic Society, any youth who enters the equivalent of the American high school must first translate 300 verses of Virgil and 30 sections of Caesar's Commentaries.

Although the Italian language derives from Latin, the ancient tongue is so different that few graduates, after eight years of required study, can sight-read Latin. Educators, as a result, are considering a proposal to make the subject optional for students in technical fields.

Those who value Latin as a character-builder and a "traditional national hardship," promise to fight the notion all the way to Parliament. For in Italy, as in America, Latin is far from being buried. It is, in fact, showing signs of new life.

Three years ago the Vatican launched an 80-page, general-interest quarterly magazine for Latinists all over the world. From title, Latinitas, to advertisements, it is written entirely in Latin. It concedes to vernacular on but one point: the dollar sign in the subscription rate.

Currently the magazine is staging an article-writing contest. In the United States, another competition, the 22nd annual Baird Memorial Latin Contest, drew 733 high-school students to New York University this spring to pit their wits in translating the classics.

LATIN ON UPSWING

American teen-agers have also published magazines in Latin, put on Roman banquets, and staged Gay Nineties melodramas with Latin lines and toga dress. The University of Maryland, which revived its classical-language department last fall, recently hired an extra professor to meet student demands. And a few high schools have added Latin sections.

Others, however, in keeping with the long trend, have dropped the subject. Nowhere does Latin shine as it did in 1900 when more high-schoolers studied it than English, and only algebra topped it in popularity. Latin lost its lead to Spanish during the depression when colleges and universities, in a death struggle for students, dropped their language requirements.

In 1948, only 7.8 per cent of high school pupils were taking Latin. By last year, the percentage had fallen to 6.9. But in colleges, the language was holding its own. Out of all four-year degrees, 6.17s per cent were earned in Latin and Greek—more than in 16 other disciplines including biochemistry, anthropology, public health and international relations.

Should any June graduate fear he's wasted sweat over dead old Latin, he owes it to himself to scan the modern Latin dictionary of Monsignor Antonio Bacci, the Vatican's official Latinist.

As up to date as Kansas City, this compendium of 7,000 expressions lists such modernities as television, (televisio), atomic bomb (globus atomica vi displodens) and tennis (manubriati reticuli ludus—sport with net on a handle).

* * *

As first aid to fractured Latin, the dictionary might also have been a comfort to marriage-harried Prince Rainier III of Monaco. Asked to translate the name of his honeymooning yacht (and the motto of Monaco), "Deo Juvante," the Prince blurted: "God help us." The translation should have been: "With the help of God."

Midland's Glass Cloth

MIDLAND — A Midland glass company has developed a glass-cloth finish that it says can be laminated to a wide variety of plastics. It is made of a solution of silicone resins that dry to a finish said to be resistant to dilute acids and abrasion.

FISHYBACK — Piggyback movement of loaded trailers by railroad car has inspired "fishyback" service out of Miami, Fla., for the Virgin Islands. Cheered by success, "TMT" trailer-ship fleet may expand operations to include a South American service.

Easier Import Tax Heads for Hearing

WASHINGTON (AP) — A bill designed to simplify import duties, and thus encourage foreign trade, was headed today for a Senate-House conference.

The Senate passed it by voice vote yesterday. The House passed its bill nearly a year ago. The conference group will work out differences between the two versions.

• • •

The House bill met President Eisenhower's request to base import duties only on export value, or the price put on the goods for sale in the United States. Under present law, import duties must be charged on the foreign value of the goods or the export value, whichever is higher. The foreign value is the domestic price in the exporting country.

The Senate bill also would change the present customs law. But it contains a provision that any item on which the cut in valuation would be more than 5 per cent would remain subject to the dual valuation system.

Diana Dors to Accept 3 Picture RKO Pact

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Diana Dors, the curvaceous bundle from Britain, says she will accept a three-picture contract from RKO Studio.

Miss Dors, here for her first Hollywood film, said she may also remain for a comedy with Tom Ewell at 20th Century-Fox.

Does this mean she will settle here?

"Oh, I don't think so. I have a contract with the Rank organization for a picture a year in England and I plan to make pictures both here and in England for the next few years."

Financial details of her RKO contract have yet to be worked out. Her current picture is "I Married a Woman," in which she costars with TV comic George Gobel.

While the Band Plays On

Danny'll Be There Singing

ELKHART, Ind. (AP)—If 12-year-old Danny Thompson takes his eyes off the track for a moment in the Elkhart Soap Box Derby Saturday he'll see a 35-piece Navy band cheering him on.

• • •

He'll have to look because he won't be hearing the music. Danny is a deaf mute.

Danny wanted his brother, Seaman Ennis G. Thompson, who is at the Naval School of Music, Washington, D.C., to be here for the race.

He wrote Ennis, who showed the letter to fellow musicians. An idea was born and grew until 35 members of the 90-man school band became Elkhart Soap Box Derby fans.

The musicians pooled their automobiles and made up a seven-car party for the 600-mile trip.

The seamen are due in Elkhart tonight and plan to drive back to Washington late Saturday night, with all the time coming out of their own leaves. They will appear on a television show and will lead the derby parade Saturday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. George Thompson, parents of Danny and Ennis, had some problems too. It took some figuring, but they plan to bunk 29 of the band members at their home and the others with friends.

Mrs. Thompson has been baking pies and cakes and storing them in her freezer all week.

Danny just grins. His brother is coming home, and he gets a kick out of music, even if he can't hear it.

Rents Shaw House, Finally

LONDON (AP)—The National Trust, a government commission which owns old castles and picturesque ruins, has finally found a tenant for the vine-covered house of many chimneys in which dramatist George Bernard Shaw lived for so long.

• • •

Since Shaw's death in 1950 the 12-room house on four acres at Ayot St. Lawrence has been a drain on the National Trust treasury.

The new tenant is 28-year-old Christopher Casserley, a breezy public relations executive with a wife and two sons.

"Now that I have my family settled I can bend all my energies to becoming a capitalist in the old Socialist's home," Casserley told newsmen.

• • •

If Shaw's spirit should be hovering about it probably would find a lot of fault with the new tenant. Shaw hated tobacco, abstained from alcohol, was a vegetarian and opposed formal religion.

"I smoke, drink, eat meat and am a Catholic," said Casserley.

Shaw gave his home, 20 miles north of London, to the trust in 1944. The gesture was regarded by many as a sly bit of Shavian humor. Shaw left no endowment to keep the place going.

• • •

After his death efforts to raise funds for its upkeep failed.

Then tourists were charged two shillings—28 cents—but Ayot St. Lawrence is a remote village and revenue was small.

An effort was made to rent the house, and for a year or more a mysterious, unnamed American from New Jersey negotiated with the trust. But four times he failed to show up to sign a lease.

• • •

Casserley's rent will be $490 a year. He will pay taxes of $257 and keep the lawn tidy. He agreed to let in tourists to see Shaw's working rooms and garden on Saturday afternoons.

GIs Making Progress Learning POW Code

WASHINGTON (AP)—An advisory board reported today that "commendable" progress has been made by the armed forces in teaching the code of conduct to men who sometime might become war prisoners.

• • •

The code was set up after some American servicemen had submitted to Communist pressure and blandishment while prisoners of the Reds in Korea.

The advisory board, composed of civilian officials of the Defense Department and retired generals, was appointed by Secretary of Defense Wilson more than a year ago.

• • •

Wilson, in accepting the report, asked that the military members of the committee make occasional visits to regular and reserve units to check on the code training program.

Parties Settle Delegate Spots

Conventions to Be Free of Explosive Contests Involving Seating

WASHINGTON (AP) — The major party national conventions next month are going to be unusually free of delegate-seating contests of the explosive variety involving potential presidential candidates.

Thus far the Republicans have turned up only two relatively timid tussles and the Democrats none. And delegate picking is just about over.

• • •

Rival factions seeking party control in their states will go to the GOP convention from Mississippi and South Carolina. All four delegations favor the renomination of President Eisenhower, although one group in each state is pledged and the other is not.

Four years ago the GOP convention had half a dozen sizzling scraps between rival Dixie delegations. They were ended only when the convention itself resorted to roll call votes to settle them. The decisions seated several key groups, especially from Texas and Georgia, favoring the nomination of Eisenhower over Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio.

• • •

The 1952 Democratic convention also had its Southern "loyalty" and anti-Truman seating battles. Antiadministration delegations from Texas and Mississippi were finally seated and their votes went to Sen. Richard B. Russell of Georgia on all three convention ballots.

This year Texas is sending only one delegation, pledged solidly for Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson as a favorite son. Mississippi also is sending only one delegation, free to maneuver for Southern principles and candidates.

Albert K. Mitchell of New Mexico will head a GOP National Committee group meeting in San Francisco Aug. 15, five days before the party convention, to take evidence in the Mississippi and South Carolina contests. The full National Committee and Convention Credential Committee then will pass on them.

Lie Test Clears Suspect in Killing

MUSKEGON (AP) — State Police said today lie detector tests have cleared Warren J. Bates, 31, formerly of Muskegon, of knowledge of the whereabouts of a male nurse sought for questioning in last summer's slaying of Boy Scout Peter Gorham.

Sgt. Victor Beck said two tests showed Bates was telling the truth when he said he did not know the man sought.

Beck said Bates worked for a Muskegon oil company last summer where the male nurse traded. Bates said he knew him only as a customer.

The 12-year-old Gorham boy disappeared last July while at camp Wabaningo on Duck Lake near Muskegon. His body was found Aug. 14 a few miles from the camp.

Cominform Will Continue —as Underground Corps

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

The Cominform seems about to go underground.

Recent pilgrimages to Moscow by the world's Communist leaders, coupled with hints from Pravda, justify speculation that the Communist International Information Bureau, declared dead by Moscow last April, will live on, flourishing and expanding but in hiding.

Communist party chieftains in Moscow have received delegations from every important European Communist party in recent weeks for an explanation of the new world Red line after Stalin.

But more than that, Pravda has cautioned Communists plainly not to believe that international connections among Communist parties have been dissolved. It said:

• • •

"One should remember that among people who are insufficiently mature politically and excessively credulous, there may be some who would fall for the contention that international connections between parties become superfluous."

Pravda then delivered a lecture to those Communists abroad who were taken in by the denunciation of Stalin and thus felt themselves free to criticize the Moscow leadership.

• • •

"Only hopeless individual blunderers who cannot see the forest for the trees, only opportunist elements oblivious of the great aims of the working class, can possibly forget international proletarian solidarity," Pravda said.

When Premier Bulganin and Communist boss Nikita S. Khrushchev went to London last spring to woo the British, Moscow announced that the Cominform was dissolved. The Cominform had left a bad taste throughout the world.

• • •

The organization came into being in 1947, a successor to the Comintern (Communist International), which Stalin declared dissolved in 1943 when he needed the good will of his wartime allies. The Cominform ousted Tito's Communists in Yugoslavia, led the ferocious attack on him, and in general was identified with the Stalinist approach to world affairs.

The Cominform was a bureau made up of the Communist party leadership of the Soviet and satellite parties plus the parties of Italy and France, the two most important in Western Europe. In the background, the executive of the Red-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions served as a sort of super-Comintern.

Now the international Communist organization is to be expanded to take in many more Communist parties — perhaps even all of them throughout the world.

Well-informed sources in Europe say they have information that European party leaders are to meet during the first half of August secretly, to fashion the foundations of the new Red International. While the meeting may be in Stockholm, these sources report, the real drive behind the organization will come the Italian party, biggest in Western Europe.

• • •

The new Cominform is expected to keep itself underground for a long time to come, so that it will not interfere with the operation of the Soviet Union's "new look" peace offensive. On the surface there would be no physical link between Moscow and the parties abroad.

• • •

The purpose of the new Cominform — or Comintern — would be primarily to maintain contacts among world Communist leaders and Moscow and serve as the transmission belt for directives and strategy.

Olivia de Havilland Gives Birth to Girl in Paris

PARIS (AP)—Movie star Olivia de Havilland is the mother of a 6-pound-13 ounce daughter. Born yesterday in the American Hospital, the baby will be named Giselle.

Miss de Havilland is the wife of Pierre Galante, a French movie reporter. She has a 6-year-old son by her first husband, writer Marcus Goodrich.

Galante said the baby has dark hair and blue eyes and "my wife is very happy it's a girl and so am I." He said the name they chose is "not a family name — just one we both happened to like."

2 Driver Penalties Reversed by State

The Secretary of State's office has corrected recent announcements of penalties against two Oakland County drivers.

It reversed an order against Floyd C. Umland of Drayton Plains, to provide financial responsibility. It was clarified that Umland had not been convicted of drunk driving.

It also reversed an announcement that a Birmingham woman faced a one-year revocation for physical inability to drive.

Mrs. Margareta P. Niedenfuhr retained her operator's license and full driving privileges.

The announcements were published in The Pontiac Press July 5.

The Blonde Cried MURDER

By Brett Halliday

THE STORY: Mike Shayne is investigating a case which involves the disappearance of a body from the Hibiscus Hotel. The woman who found the body told Mike she was pursued by a scar-faced man she believed was the murderer. This man later told Shayne he was the woman's brother. Mike has sent the young girl, identified as Nellie Paulson, to the apartment of Lucy Hamilton, his secretary.

XVIII

Shayne ran knobby fingers through his coarse hair and demanded, "Why do these screwy things have to happen to me? Why can't I for just once in my life get a nice, high-priced, clean-cut sort of case like I used to handle back in the agency?"

"Because," Rourke told him cheerily, "you've got all the taxi drivers in town capping for you and steering clients your way. And you'd turn it down cold if you did get one," he continued happily. "Look at tonight for instance. You have this babe proposition you on a nice high-priced, clean-cut sort of tailing case, and what do you do? Turn her down cold, of course? Why? Because you've got a great big black Irish hunch that something more interesting is waiting for you upstairs. So-o-o. Now you're in the middle of it, and here you are complaining."

There was a knock on the door and a uniformed man entered with a sheet of paper. He laid it on the desk in front of Gentry, saying, "The information you wanted from Jacksonville, sir."

Gentry laid his cigar aside and picked it up. He glanced through it and told Shayne placidly, "Tim was correct as usual. Bert and Nellie Paulson. Thirty-one and 22 respectively." He glanced on across the typed lines, muttering, "Blonde. Five-feet-four. Hundred eighteen. Blond hair. Five-ten. Hundred-fifty."

He paused a moment, frowned, and then put the sheet down. "Nothing here about a scar on his face, Mike. It's a pretty complete description otherwise."

Shayne's jaw was set and the trenches showed deeply in his cheeks. "Did I hear you read that right? Height five-ten and weight 150?"

Gentry referred to the sheet again. He nodded. "That's right. And no scar."

"So he was lying," Shayne said thickly. "He's not Bert Paulson at all."

"Guess not," said Gentry cheerfully. "Here's something else. It says they have evidence this isn't the first of these stunts the Paulson brother-and-sister team have pulled. Two others in the past three months that didn't get reported until this was in the papers. Didn't your Bert Paulson tell you he'd been living in Detroit and just came down in answer to a wire from his sister?"

WITH A GUN

Shayne nodded grimly. "That's what he told me."

"And now he's gone out with a gun looking for her," said Gentry sharply. "Could be he's one of her victims that finally decided to get sore."

The telephone on Chief Gentry's desk rang just then. He answered it, said, "Hi, honey," after a moment, and extended it to Shayne. "Your ever-loving and long-suffering secretary on the wire, Mr. Shayne."

He took it and Lucy said, "She's here, Mike. You told me to call you."

"Swell." He made his voice light and bantering. "You just keep it right there until I get around. Before midnight as I promised."

He hung up and grinned. "Just reminding me she's still got that drink of cognac poured out and waiting for me."

Lucy Hamilton sat stiffly erect in a straight chair near the telephone in her living room, smoking a cigaret and frowning a little, half-closing her eyes against the blue smoke that curled lazily up from the tip of the white cylinder in her left hand.

Each time she opened her eyes, her gaze went across the room to the big chair beside the sofa and the low table beside it with the glasses and cognac bottle she had set out for her red-headed employer more than an hour previously.

The untouched glasses mocked at her. Her brown eyes smarted each time she looked at them, and she blinked them shut to keep back the tears.

It was silly of her to feel this way, of course. This was no different from many other times. Tonight was just an integral part of the pattern she had cut out for her future when she went to work as Michael Shayne's secretary. For years, she had accepted the pattern. She accepted it now.

Somehow, tonight had been different. Michael had seemed subtly different as they drove home together after a perfect shore dinner.

With her face pressed against his shoulder in the car she had allowed herself to drift away once again on the wings of a recurring dream. It wasn't often she allowed herself to do that. Not these days. Not after these years of being with Michael. Of working so closely with him.

Always, there would be a telephone to take him from her side. Her right hand clenched into a tight fist. That was the pattern. His work came first. Any blonde who had got herself in trouble and wanted him to get her out of it would always come first with Michael.

Marco Polo Found Ice Cream

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Once upon a time only the very rich enjoyed ice cream. Marco Polo, returning from the Orient in the 14th century, brought back tales of slant-eyed men sitting on embroidered cushions, eating dishes of ice, flavored with exotic fruits.

Now—500 years later—that same "dish of ice" is available to anyone who can get or send to the nearest store. And we Americans take advantage of our opportunity. According to Mrs. Josephine Lawyer, Consumer Marketing Information Agent, each person in the country eats an average of about 3½ gallons of ice cream per year.

Mrs. Lawyer has other interesting information about ice cream. Pre-packaged ice cream represents almost half of all ice cream produced today. Since 1952 food stores have become the number one sellers of ice cream, with 95 to 96 out of every 100 food stores carrying the frozen delicacy.

With the advent of home freezers and more freezer space in refrigerators, more people are buying ice cream in half-gallon containers. We'll wager, also, that more people keep several flavors on hand for the same reason.

Nearly 200 flavors of ice cream are offered to the public. But vanilla, chocolate and strawberry hold the three top places and account for almost three-fourths of all the ice cream sold.

There are seasonal flavors that are popular. Cherry - vanilla reaches its greatest popularity in February. Peach sales leap in July and August; pineapple does likewise in September and October. The holiday season always calls for nesselrode, eggnog, peppermint stick and various novelties.

On Monday we visited a local ice cream manufacturing company to learn more about the actual manufacture of ice cream. Workers at the Maple Leaf Dairy were most cooperative in answering questions and showing processes.

Strict laws protect your health in the ice cream field, as well as in all other areas of food manufacture. The ice cream mix must contain 12½ per cent cream for vanilla and 10½ per cent for other flavors. It must be pasteurized before freezing. Constant inspection at the plants and in the open market keep manufacturers in line.

After the basic mix is prepared and pasteurized at the Maple Leaf plant, it comes downstairs through a pipe and into a huge vat. First of all it is flavored. If fruit or nuts are to be added, a special machine feeds a certain amount at set intervals into the unflavored mix.

Then the mixture goes to the freezer where it is beaten and where air is pumped into it. It is only a little over a hundred years ago that the important step of blowing air into ice cream mix was discovered. Were it not for this, the resulting product would be entirely too hard to eat.

When the mix flows into the tank, it is about 40 degrees. An ammonia cooling system around the freezer cools it still farther to around 20 degrees before it goes into cartons.

With the exception of half-gallons, the ice cream is all packaged by machines. A belt feeds empty cartons to the filling machine. Each pint must contain 10 ounces of ice cream. The boxes are closed automatically. At intervals, one is weighed.

Although machines do most of the work of making ice cream, there is no substitute for human taste to determine flavor. Some tasters are so skilled that they can tell how much of each ingredient is in a mix, just by tasting it.

Before going to the retail outlets, all the ice cream is put into the hardening room for a time. The temperature in this room is anywhere from 12 to 22 degrees below zero. Workers in there look like eskimos in their parkas.

One thing we learned from this visit is that a special ice cream is made for stores selling milk shakes and malteds. Because both drinks add milk, the ice cream can have a lower cream content.

It is safe to say that ice cream has a permanent place in the diets of the American people. Eat it any way you like. It's good for you. Because it is a dairy product, it can be used to supply some of the milk needed in everyone's daily meals.

Vary vanilla pudding by serving it with cooked dried apricots, fresh orange sections mixed with sliced maraschino cherries or sliced strawberries mixed with pineapple tidbits.

Please Family With Eggplant

Practically ever family has one member who simply doesn't like vegetables. And the reason is generally that not enough imagination goes into their preparation.

So in order to widen your practice of the culinary arts and please every member of your family, an August magazine offers a special vegetable cook book for the hard-to-please member of your family.

Eggplant Parmesan

1 large eggplant
3 eggs, beaten
1 cup packaged dried bread crumbs
¼ cup olive oil or salad oil
½ cup grated Parmesan
2 teaspoons dried oregano
½ pound sliced Mozzarella cheese
2 8-ounce cans tomato sauce

1. Start heating oven to 350 degrees F.

2. Pare eggplant if desired; cut into ¼" thick slices. Dip each slice first into eggs, then into crumbs.

3. Saute in hot oil in skillet until golden on both sides.

4. In 2-qt. casserole, place layer of eggplant; top with some of Parmesan, oregano, and Mozzarella; cover well with some of tomato sauce. Repeat until all eggplant is used, topping last layer of sauce with Mozzarella.

5. Bake, uncovered, ½ hr., or until sauce is bubbly and cheese is melted. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

EGGPLANT

COOKING TIP: Do not soak it before cooking. It's wonderful cut into thick fingers, brushed with butter, then broiled.

SEASONING: Add minced onion or garlic, a bit of dried thyme, or a little wine.

Try Sandwich Spread

A nippy and colorful sandwich spread for a summer outing consists of a 4-oz. can or jar of pimientos, chopped finely, a 4-oz. can of deviled ham, and 1 cup of shredded sharp cheese. Blend well and moisten with mayonnaise if necessary for spreading.

Fast Ham Recipe

Heat frozen cream of potato soup with bits of leftover ham; cut the ham in even dice.

Top carrot slaw with lots of minced green parsley or chives.

Use Marmalade Rice With Curried Chicken

Ever tried Marmalade Rice as an accompaniment for curried chicken or shrimp? Just mix homemade orange marmalade with about 3 cups of hot cooked rice. Marmalade is so easily made with the help of fruit pectin. In a jiffy, too. Use the recipe you find in your purchase of either liquid or powdered pectin.

Ground black pepper makes an attractive garnish when lavishly sprinkled over baked or scrambled eggs.

Artichokes Go Good With Grilled Meats

Artichokes are delicious vegetables to serve with steaks and grilled meats. One of the best ways to prepare them is mix three tablespoons of chopped parsley with one or two chopped garlic cloves, salt and pepper, and sprinkle the mixture on six medium-sized artichokes, from which you have cut off the top half-inch of the leaves. Place upright in a saucepan, pour a half cup of Spanish olive oil over them, cook over a high flame for five minutes, then turn down the heat and add half a cup of water. Cook uncovered for another six minutes, add another quarter cup of water, and cook covered for 20 minutes, or until the leaves pull off easily.

Sometimes drycleaning is recommended in preference to laundering for wrinkleproof linens. Read the label on your garment!

All Spice Waffles Sparkle With Raisins

Waffles are no bother if you make them with a mix.

Raisin Spice Waffles

2 cups pancake mix
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg
2 eggs
⅓ cup butter or margarine (melted)
2 cups milk
1 cup raisins (washed in hot water and drained)

Put pancake mix, cinnamon, nutmeg, eggs, melted butter and milk in a mixing bowl; beat with rotary beater until fairly smooth. Stir in raisins. Bake on hot waffle iron until steaming stops. Serve with butter and maple syrup. Makes 5 servings.

Diced Chicken Livers

Chicken livers are delicious when diced, then dipped in salt, flour and sugar . . . yes sugar! Then fry in a deep-fat kettle. Serve, with colored toothpicks.

Add Pimientos to Salmon Pie

The salmon swims in a cream sauce sparkling with the bright red color and tingling flavor of pretty pimientos, and yesterday's leftover mashed potatoes make a successful comeback in the piecrust. Simple Simon himself would have dug up some money to taste this pie!

Simple Salmon-Pimiento Pie

3 cups mashed potatoes
½ cup shredded Cheddar cheese
1 egg yolk
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
¼ cup chopped onion
2 tablespoons flour
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup evaporated milk
½ teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 can or jar (4 oz.) whole pimientos, cut in big pieces
1 can (1 lb.) salmon

Combine the shredded cheese and egg yolk with the mashed potatoes, pressing the mixture on the bottom and sides of an 8" pie pan or 1½ quart, shallow baking dish.

Melt the butter or margarine and cook the onion in it until tender. Mix in the flour and lemon juice; stir to a smooth paste. Pour in the evaporated milk, stirring until the sauce is smooth. Add the salt, pepper, and pimientos, and pour the mixture into the pie pan or baking dish. Break the salmon into large pieces and drop them into the sauce.

Bake at 325 degrees for about 25 minutes, or until the potatoes are golden brown and the sauce is set.

SALMON PIMIENTO PIE — This tempting pie features pimientos, potatoes and salmon. The main dish sparkles with the red color and zesty flavor of pimientos. Salmon-Pimiento Pie is simple to make but sure to bring on requests for second helpings.

Improves Flavor of Cottage Cheese

EAST LANSING (AP) — Development of a method for giving cottage cheese a better taste is reported by two Michigan State University scientists.

Dr. L. G. Harmon and Charles S. Wales, who presented their findings at the American Dairy Science Association meeting in Storrs, Conn., said the taste improvement can be made during the curd washing process.

The water used in washing the cottage cheese curd during the manufacturing process should be treated by addition of an organic acid, they said.

The researchers said one substance in cottage cheese had a bad odor when isolated in its pure form, but that when present in minute amounts contributes to flavor.

They undertook their study under the university's research marketing program.

Mashed Potato Treat

Next time mashed potatoes grace the dinner plate, hold the butter. Instead, add a generous dab of deviled ham and a sprinkle of minced parsley to each portion. Be sure the potatoes are good and hot, so the tangy ham can be mixed readily. Colorful, tasteful surprise!

CHILDREN'S BARBEQUE — Children don't need elaborate equipment. They can even have a barbeque with just flower pots for barbeque "stoves." Let each child have his own. Mother can make the barbecue sauce, then step out of the picture.

Frigid Delight for Summertime

Here's a summertime special for ice cream lovers, any age. It's a brand new recipe called "Chocolate Bit Ice Cream" that's as easy to make as it is to eat.

Served as a party treat or a family dessert, it's sure to bring requests for seconds. For a fancy touch, dip wafers into the ice cream and top with a maraschino cherry. Here's how to make it:

Chocolate Bit Ice Cream

¾ cup sugar
1 envelope unflavored gelatin
1½ cups light cream
2 eggs, separated
1½ teaspoons vanilla extract
1 cup heavy cream
1¼ finely crushed Chocolate Ice Box wafers (about ¾ cup)

Turn refrigerator control to lowest setting. Combine sugar, gelatine, light cream in top of a double boiler. Beat the egg yolks slightly and add to the gelatine mixture. Cook over hot water, stirring constantly, until mixture is a smooth custardy consistency which coats a metal spoon. Add vanilla and chill.

Meanwhile whip cream; beat egg whites stiff and crush Chocolate Ice Box Wafers. When gelatine mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg whites, beat smooth with a rotary beater. Fold in whipped cream, beaten egg whites and crushed cookies. Pour into 2 refrigerator ice cube trays and freeze until firm (about 2 hours). Makes 6 generous servings.

Dark-and-Spicy Sauce Adds Pique to Barbecue

The ingenious mother can show her children how to rig up an outdoor barbecue with no investment whatsoever, just using equipment at hand. And somehow, it's more fun for the kids when they do it themselves, making something out of nothing.

* * *

Line the bottom of eight or ten inch flower pots with aluminum foil, adding enough sand or gravel to half-fill the container. Then press foil over the sand and all around the inside surface, nearly to the top. Toss in glowing coals, put a piece of hardware cloth over the top . . . and you're in business!

* * *

For a really exciting party, each child should have his own flower pot and barbecue and cook his own frankfurters or hamburgers. You can make the easy barbecue sauce ahead of time, and let each child brush it on for himself (before cooking for real flavor):

Dark An' Spicy Barbecue Sauce

1 cup tomato juice
1 can spiced tomato sauce
1 onion, chopped
⅛ cup dark molasses
1 teaspoon dry mustard
¼ teaspoon black pepper
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vinegar

In a saucepan combine all ingredients and bring to boil. Simmer few minutes to blend flavor. Use as flavor baste for grilled hot dogs, hamburgers, chops and chicken.

Children are impatient when they do their own cooking so better bake potatoes ahead of time, too, and have your salad all ready to go. Lots of soft drinks and ice cream will round out the best party ever!

Do You Know Butter Scores?

"She brought forth butter in a lordly dish . . ." That quotation from the book of Judges reveals that even in Bible times, women knew the value of butter.

* * *

You may not serve your butter in a "lordly dish," but you have the advantage of being able to serve butter that probably merits such a container even more than butter produced back in the days of the Old Testament.

* * *

One of the reasons butter is better is the grading system established a good many years ago by the U. S. Department of Agriculture. It gave the butter markets some targets of quality to shoot at, and some standards by which quality could be measured.

* * *

And of course the grading system includes a staff of expert butter graders who inspect the butter, with a critical eye smell it, taste it, and then give it a score, such as 93, if it's the very best, or 92, if it's almost as good.

* * *

You may find the package of butter you buy carries the label U. S. "AA." That's the same as 93 score, as good as butter can be—fresh and delicate in flavor, with good texture, just enough salt, and made from sweet cream. Grade "A" butter is almost as good. It's scored 92 per cent of perfect, and it too is made from sweet cream.

Grade "B" butter is made from selected sour cream, and while some people prefer it because it has a somewhat more pronounced flavor, the butter graders score it at 90 points.

But you need have no fear about the wholesomeness of Grade "B" butter. It's largely a matter of what kind of flavor you like, whether you select Grade "B", "A" or "AA" for table use.

Grade "C" rates 89 in the scoring system, and it is generally recommended for cooking.

Chile Chopped Steak Makes Sandwiches

Quick hamburger dish.

Chili Chopped Steak Sandwiches

2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 medium-sized onion (chopped)
½ large green pepper (chopped)
1 clove garlic (minced)
1 pound ground beef (chuck or round)
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
¼ cup chili sauce
½ teaspoon chili powder
¼ cup sweet pickle relish
Hamburger rolls

Melt butter in 10-inch skillet over low heat; add onion, green pepper and garlic; cook, stirring often, until onion is wilted. Add beef; mash with a fork to crumble; cook until beef loses its red color.

Add tomatoes, chili sauce and chili powder; cook slowly about 30 minutes. Add pickle relish and cook 10 minutes longer. Split hamburger rolls, toast and butter; serve meat mixture over rolls.

Brazil Nut Sauce

Thin, lengthwise slices of Brazil nuts are crisp morsels to top broiled fish. For a Brazil Nut Sauce, melt a half stick of butter in skillet, stir in ⅓ cup sliced Brazil nuts and cook slowly until butter is slightly brown. Add 2 tablespoons lime or lemon juice, heat and serve over broiled fillets.

Persian limes from Florida, the kind big as lemons, are plentiful now and will be through September. These limes yield more juice when cut lengthwise and are enjoyed as a flavor garnish for iced tea, salads and seafood platters as well as in tall frosty limeades.

Lemon Cuplets Ideal for Snacks

When unexpected guests arrive, ability to produce a decorative snack quickly can make or break a summer afternoon.

That's why ready-to-mix and ready-to-use foods are so wonderful. In what other way could you produce a whole platter of sharply refreshing yet filling lemon-vanilla "cuplets" in little more time than the 15 to 20 minutes it takes to bake them? A new vanilla cupcake mix recently placed on the market makes it easy.

In this time-and-labor saving age, you can serve them in the little paper cups they're baked in, set out a jar of ready-to-use marshmallow topping for the latest in culinary "do-it-yourself." The sweet-tooths can ice thickly. The just-a-hint-of-sweetness fans can apply a thin coating of marshmallow. And the guests who prefer their cupcakes unadorned are not defeated. A wonderful way to please everybody!

Lemon-Vanilla Cupcakes

1 package Vanilla Cupcake Mix
1 egg
¼ cup lemon juice
¼ cup cold water
2 tablespoons grated lemon rind

Empty contents of package of cupcake mix into bowl, add egg, lemon rind and cold water and blend, then blend in lemon juice. Half fill greased cupcake pans or paper insert cups. Bake at 375 degrees F. (moderate oven), 15 to 20 minutes.

Dress up canned macaroni and cheese with slivered salami and green pepper. Cook the salami and green pepper in butter until lightly browned. Mix with the macaroni, and bake in a moderate oven until browned and bubbly.

Summer Dish of Cold Fish Hits the Spot!

When summer meal planning begins to pall, there's nothing so handy as a can of fish on the kitchen shelf. Preparing a summer dish—hot or cold—from fish, adds not only variety to summer menus, but provides valuable nutrients as well, especially necessary when cold foods and beverages play such a large part in our eating schedule.

Canned Salmon or Tuna: Chill a small can of salmon or tuna in the refrigerator. Turn it out onto a plate garnished with watercress, or other salad greens, and lemon wedges. With the fish, serve a bowl of cucumber sauce or mayonnaise to which chopped chives have been added.

Canned Lobster: Make a thick white sauce. Add flaked canned lobster meat, minced onion, chopped parsley. Season with salt and pepper. Add a little sherry or vermouth. Spoon mixture into scallop shells or ramekins. Top with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in hot oven 10 minutes.

Canned Crabmeat: Pick over crabmeat, removing any fibers, and flake. Set aside. Make an omelet with your favorite recipe. When it is nearly done, add crabmeat carefully and fold gently together. Finish cooking omelet. Sprinkle with minced parsley. Serve hot.

Corn Fritters Making Debut

Corn is getting around these days, both on-the-cob and off. So we make our menus to fit these leisurely summer days and feature delicious, golden corn fritters.

For most of us, the simplest and quickest way to make our corn fritters is to use the quick-frozen cut corn. That way, we're sure of top flavor, maximum amount of vitamins, and oh, how easy to fix! Serve your fritters with colorful cut green beans and broiled tomato halves for a handsome vegetable platter.

Or let them make their debut earlier in the day with maple syrup. They make a delicious and welcome change in the breakfast menu.

Corn Fritters

1 10-ounce package Quick Frozen Cut Corn
3 strips bacon, shredded
2 large eggs, well beaten
¾ cup sifted flour
½ teaspoon salt
Few grains cayenne pepper

Cook corn in boiling salted water following package directions and drain. Fry shredded bacon in heavy skillet until crisp. Blend well beaten eggs with flour and seasonings until mixture is smooth. Stir in cooked corn and bacon.

Drop mixture by tablespoons into hot bacon fat. Fry fritters gently until golden brown on both sides. Serve with meat and gravy. Yield: Makes 6 servings.

Tomato Lunch Salad Is Simple to Make

Simple but good stuffing for ripe tomatoes.

Tomato Luncheon Salad

6 medium-sized tomatoes
Salt
1 cup ripe olives
1 cup creamstyle cottage cheese
½ cup sliced radishes
Worcestershire sauce
Cayenne pepper
Lettuce
Mayonnaise

Peel tomatoes and hollow out center; sprinkle centers with salt-invert to drain. Cut olives from pits in large pieces. Dice removed portion of tomatoes and mix with olives, cottage cheese, radishes, Worcestershire sauce and cayenne to taste. Fill tomato cups with cheese mixture. Arrange in lettuce cups. Serve with mayonnaise. Makes 6 servings.

Spice Sparks Meat

If you're planning a large gathering, lighten last-minute tasks by shaping hamburger patties ahead of time. Season meat well with salt, pepper and form into patties, wrap and freeze. Spice intensifies and retains fresh beef flavor during freezer storage.

CANTALOUPE AND MINT — A refreshing flavor affinity is formed by the use of cantaloupe and mint. Lemon and orange juices are used to flavor the gelatin base. Cantaloupe balls are folded into the mixture when it begins to set, also used as a garnish with mint.

Try Cantaloupe and Mint for Cool Summer Treat

Want to whip up a cool and refreshing taste-treat?

* * *

Then try a mold of jellied lemon and orange juice flavored with mint; add pale apricot-pink cantaloupe balls so they will be suspended in gleaming splendor.

* * *

Serve this mold at your best company buffet. Cold ham and hot biscuits will accompany it beautifully.

Add a bowl of romaine and water-cress sprigs dressed with olive oil, wine vinegar, prepared mustard and if you like, a touch of garlic.

For a first course on this menu, creamy clam chowder sprinkled with chives is perfect. Serve the soup hot or cold.

* * *

For dessert offer both vanilla and coffee ice cream with a coffee or chocolate sauce. Or if you're energetic, serve a home made mousse or Bavarian Cream instead of the ice cream, making it coffee, chocolate or maple-syrup flavor.

Crisp cookies and coffee (hot or iced) will top off the dessert course delightfully.

Minted Cantaloupe Mold

2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
½ cup cold water
¾ cup hot water
⅔ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1½ to 2 tablespoons coarsely chopped fresh mint
¾ cup fresh strained lemon juice
¾ cup cantaloupe juice or cantaloupe juice and water
1 cup fresh strained orange juice
2½ cups fresh cantaloupe balls
Fresh mint leaves for garnish
2 cups cantaloupe balls for garnish if ring mold is used

Soften gelatin in cold water and set aside. Mix hot water, sugar, salt, chopped mint and ¼ cup of the lemon juice.

* * *

Heat to boiling point; strain and pour over gelatin; stir until dissolved.

* * *

Strain cantaloupe juice from pulp around seeds. Pour into a cup and add enough water to make ¾ cup. Add to gelatin with remaining ½ cup of the lemon juice and the orange juice.

Refrigerate, stirring often, until mixture is about as thick as fresh egg whites and has begun to set. Fold in the 2½ cups cantaloupe balls. Turn into a 5-cup mold. Chill until firm.

Unmold and garnish with mint leaves; if ring mold is used, fill center with 2 cup cantaloupe balls. Makes 8 servings.

* * *

Note: If you haven't a French ball cutter, use the ½ teaspoon size from a set of roundbowl measuring spoons to make the cantaloupe balls.

Your dishcloths heavily soiled? Use laundry bleach on them occasionally.

A dash of cinnamon and one of fied nonfat dry milk. Serve the milk icy cold.

Don't oil your froner unless manufacturers' directions call for this treatment.

Audience, Cast Share Happy Time

Lusty but Tender Play Begins Run at Will-O-Way

A happy time was shared by actors and audience at the opening performance of "The Happy Time" by Samuel Taylor Tuesday evening at Will-O-Way Playhouse.

* * *

Humor, both lusty and tender, is the earmark of this play.

The audience paid the performers the tribute of perfect silence —not even a cough marred the quiet—during a third-act scene between Papa, played by William D. Smith, and his son, Bibi, played by James Jolly.

James is a 12-year-old who does a remarkable job in a long characterization. His ability and stage presence are delightful to watch.

There are six pages in today's Women's Section

He is a student at the Apprentice Theater.

Laid in Ottawa, Ont., in the early 20s, the play presents six months in the life of the Bonnard family.

Maman, acted by Broadway star Mady Correll, is Scotch Presbyterian. She tries unsuccessfully to tone down the robust nature of her volatile French family.

There is Uncle Lewis (Paul Caplan) "who drinks." There are Uncle Desmonde (Danny Simpson) and Grandpere (Frederick L. Morris) "who runs after girls." Papa is a "crazy musician."

Into this fantastic family comes lovely young Mignonette, played by Janet Simpson.

* * *

The stage setting is a gem. Playgoers will feel a bit of nostalgia as they hear the player piano pound out songs popular some 30 years ago. They will also gaze with wonder at the men's costumes.

Girls All Sigh Over Dashing Duke of Kent

(This is the second of four articles on the Duke of Kent, the dashing young playboy who is seventh in line for the British throne, but first in the ranks of London's gay social set.)

By FRED DOERFLINGER

LONDON (INS) — The princely royal Duke of Kent is quite a guy with the girls.

* * *

No main stem sheik ever had anything to compare with the young Duke of Kent's amazing collection of girl friends.

Yet it was only a couple of years ago that one of his close friends remarked that Eddie "prefers wheels to skirts."

But 2nd Lt. Edward, the Duke of Kent, No. 443787, is a changed lad. Once the least-publicized member of the royal family he has graduated from the Sandhurst Military Academy phase into the top division of royal headline makers.

* * *

Socially he has made a debut that makes his cousin Princess Margaret's celebrated activities seem tame. Margaret at her most daring has never kissed her date at a Swiss railway station, cuddled a ski instructor in her lap at an Austrian resort, held hands with her companion in the last row of a London movie house or danced with arms entwined round those of her partner.

SNOWBALL BATTLE

Neither has she ever fought a snowball battle with a couple of boy friends as did the duke with a couple of girls while on a skiing holiday at Kitzbuhel in Austria, or gone wandering unchaperoned through the continental nightclubs.

* * *

And certainly Margaret has never let her known interest in men become a matter of public note as has the Duke's roving eye for the girls. Off the leash, eating in some restaurant, he meticulously and unabashedly appraises the looks and figure of every girl in sight.

He dances with an abandon no girl of royal blood would dare and as skillfully. The girls who and as skillfully. The girls who dance with him say he is one of the few men who completely loses himself to the dance.

Tall, he dances with his mouth open, a lock of hair falling over his forehead. One girl said: "I looked up at him because he was so silent and the first thing I saw was the roof of his mouth."

For Eddie—who rates as a "deb's delight," ranks as "Romeo of the Alps," and qualities as one of the "five most wanted men" on the list compiled by the Hollywood Bachelor Girls Club—it's all part of life and living.

NORMAL INTERESTS

He is demonstrating every day that he has all the normal interests of a young blade of 20, who incidentally is Britian's most eligible bachelor.

* * *

For a chap in his position romance inevitably lurks in every discreetly lit corner. There are countless ambitious young ladies who would dearly love to take him home to papa even if he looked like Dracula and had the manners of Frankenstein.

Despite the fact that he tops six foot there is something about the fair-haired lad with the engaging grin that, according to the girls, makes them want to mother him. One girl said: "He makes you feel he is very young and a bit helpless."

And he is always "ready for a lark." The duke, who has been photographed wearing a handlebar mustache, a wig, and the expression of a "gone cat" as Louis Armstrong would put it, does not stand on royal dignity.

* * *

Princess Margaret has always rigidly insisted that all her friends and even intimates should address her as "Ma'am." The Duke of Keut, only a few rungs down the ladder to the throne, says: "Call me Edward," while his closest associates use "Eddie."

ESCAPES PROTOCOL

There is always protocol and a private detective around Margaret but Eddie has managed to escape both. He enjoys the freedom of a private life, spotlighted though it has now become.

There are still plenty of princesses and titled young eligibles dotted round the fading palaces of Europe and the crumbling stately homes of England, but Eddie is having none of them.

If his girl friends up to now are any indication, the duke is likely to make an unconventional choice. Among the girls he has dated more than once or twice, there is not a single title. Most of them are good-looking, excellent dancers or skiers, and above all enjoy a "lark."

The duke calls them each a "smasher" — a stunning creature with intelligence and wit as well as looks. He greets them all with a "Hello, Girlie" and refers to them en masse as "lush fruitingtons" in the typical debutante jargon of the day.

Neither Buckingham Palace nor the Duchess of Kent, his widowed mother, screens Eddie's girl friends. "Eddie," explained a friend, "takes out lots of girls who are not well known socially. Many are sisters or friends of his army colleagues."

Take a quick look at some of the duke's dates. Blonde, bubbling, beautiful Margaret Wakefield is the 21-year-old daughter of actor Hugh Wakefield. Last season she and the Duke were called "London's most constant twosome."

Mary Williamson, the tall, blonde graceful daughter of a brigadier, was once a fashion model and was working as a flower girl in a London hotel when Eddie first took her out.

Honey-blonde secretary Marigold Broadhurst, 22-year-old daughter of a retired army major, met the duke last year on a skiing holiday in Switzerland. Recently they were spotted holding hands in the last row of seats in a London cinema.

Pretty Carina Boyle, daughter of a London businessman, went to school with Eddie's sister, Princess Alexandra. This tall, slim, fair-haired girl with blue-gray eyes is often seen jiving with the duke.

* * *

Emma Tennant, 18-year-old daughter of Baron Glenconner, was the stunner who was with Eddie at 2:30 one morning last winter when he walked smack into a film scene being shot in front of Al Burnett's Stork Room in London's West End.

RIVIERA HOLIDAY

Eddie has been seeing a lot of vivacious Charlotte Bowater, 19-year-old niece of a former Lord Mayor of London, ever since he shared a fishing-dancing-swimming holiday on the Riviera with her and 11 other youngsters last August.

* * *

Jane Sheffield, whose father is the wealthy director of a firm making bank notes, was the girl at the receiving end of the Swiss railway station kiss last January.

Eddie isn't the serious type. According to those in the know, he likes playing the field and isn't nearly ready yet for home fires and domesticity.

Forecasts of Princess Margaret's "imminent engagement were published almost as frequently as a monthly bulletin but Eddie has so far escaped this form of notoriety.

* * *

Once there were wild rumors of a "love interest" when the duke, wearing a handlebar mustache, was photographed at Kitzbuhel, Austria, holding attractive 35-year-old British ski hostess Rona MacLeod on his lap.

SPORTS CROWD

Then there is Eddie's current bevy of winter sports companions including Ruth Guler, Belinda Brooks, Jennifer McKinnon, Judy Wyatt, Louise Elliot and Sarah Garnett.

* * *

And to debutantes like pretty Camilla Straight, Anne and Clare Cobbold, Henrietta Crawley, Marika Hopkinson, Penelope and Felicity Drew, the jivy, fun-loving Eddie is "an absolute heaven," which translated means a good escort.

Lately the duke has been stepping out so frequently with the fetching Penelope D'Erlanger, 17-year-old daughter of British overseas Airways Corporation's part-time chairman, that whispers of a new romance can be expected any day now.

Good Looks May Rescue Less Efficient Workers

But Career Women Ought to Combine Attractiveness and Ability

By RUTH MILLETT

"If you can't be a good secretary, at least be decorative." That bit of advice was recently given to a group of secretaries by a University of Texas professor.

* * *

It's practical advice, of course, and it goes for any woman, no matter what her job.

To the men who hire and fire it is never possible to wholly separate the woman from the secretary of the file clerk or the assistant.

The woman and the worker are seen as one. So the girl who isn't quite as quick as she could be, or quite as efficient or quite as bright can detract a great deal from her shortcomings by being easy on the eyes.

* * *

To the girl who is just entering the business world, though, a word of warning.

DON'T RELY ON LOOKS

Make the most of your looks, be as decorative as possible but don't try to trade on your looks.

* * *

The job you are being paid to do has to be done and unless you put your mind to it and do it to the best of your ability your looks won't save the job for you for long.

Also, if you know you are good at your job don't think you don't have to bother looking your best day after day.

For a combination of efficiency and good looks will pay off far more handsomely than just efficiency alone.

A woman always makes a mistake if she thinks her looks don't matter. But she makes just as big a mistake if she thinks her looks are all that matter.

SEEN TWO WAYS

The way for a girl with a job to look at herself is the way her employer is bound to look at her as a woman and a job-holder.

She can't afford to neglect either herself or her job if she wants to get ahead.

A desk placed at right angles to a wall takes up much less space than one placed flat against the wall.

Bible Class Views Films

Lyle Legg presented colored motion pictures of the missionary and medical work on the mission fields of Nigeria, West Africa, at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Fellowship Bible Class of First Baptist Church.

* * *

The dinner meeting was held in the church parlors.

A dramatic reading was presented by Karen Swanson, Connie Barron gave a humorous reading and Clarence Groner presented a cornet solo to complete the program.

Making arrangements for the dinner served preceding the program were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lanning, Garfield Weldon, Mr. and Mrs. Otto J. Autrey and Mr. and Mrs. John McCormick.

James Buchner appointed Mr. and Mrs. John Cowe, Mr. and Mrs. George Crismann and Mr. and Mrs. Walter DeNio to serve on the nominating committee. Andrew H. Stimer was appointed to the committee at large.

158 Girl Scouts Close Up Camp at Party Tonight

One-hundred and fifty-eight Girl Scouts will climax six days of day camping this evening when they will entertain parents and friends at a campfire in Murphy Park. Three of the units are entertaining their parents at a dinner first.

* * *

Honored guests will be Commander Wessner of the U. S. Naval Reserve, located next to the park where the camp has been held, and the park caretaker and the policeman on duty at the corner.

Others invited are Leonard Buzz, recreation director for the city, and Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Smith.

* * *

The Scouts, under the direction of Elaine Smith, Mrs. Albert Latendresse and 30 counselors, have carried out a varied camping program. One of their projects was digging clay from a stream running through the park and making pottery.

Water hardness is measured in grains, one grain per gallon being the equivalent of 17 parts per million of dissolved calcium and magnesium in water. Any water with more than three grains per gallon of hardness is considered too hard for efficient and economical use in the home.

You Need Cool Oasis on Hot Days

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The very hot days in midsummer can be very trying. When hot weather sticks its burning nose into our business we may react with irritation and short tempers. However, this only heats us up more!

We cannot change the thermometer reading but there are many little things we can do to make ourselves more comfortable. Today I want to remind you of a few of them.

Follow the line of least resistance as much as possible. It also is cooling to surround yourself with white or clear, cool colors. Soft greens, or green blues are cooling.

Leave off complicated food. Stick to simple recipes for the duration, use paper napkins and even paper plates when you wish. Take it easy!

Most women lead busy lives regardless of the hot weather. Whether you are a career woman or a homebody you should provide yourself with one cool oasis during the day. Maybe the most convenient time would be a long lazy bath between daytime duties and evening companionship. Give yourself some bath luxuries and use them.

Perhaps you would prefer a quick shower and then would like to lie down for a half hour or so. If so, pull the shades, dabble cologne on your wrists and ankles. Let the fan stir the air. You will place an icepack at the back of be greatly refreshed after a little your neck and close your eyes of this.

Every woman should have at least one cool "oasis" during the day. After a shower, lie down, dabble cologne on your wrists and ankles, place an icepack at the back of your neck and close your eyes.

Cold cream is very hot. If you have been accustomed to leaving it on at night don't do so until the weather is cooler. Instead apply it in the daytime and let it soak in for 15 minutes or a half hour.

Many women who cannot use soap and water on their faces during winter find that their skins profit by this treatment in hot weather. If your complexion is not to be oily when the temperature soars you will need some soap and water therapy.

Change your makeup frequently in hot weather. You also will find ice-cold astringents refreshing as well as helpful in skin care.

* * *

tated by the heat. If you wear shoes without stockings put powder in your shoes before putting them on. You also will find the little silk foot covers comfortable.

SWELLING ANKLES

You may even have some swelling in your ankles during hot weather. Alternate hot and cold foot baths will help. If the swelling continues see a physician. A mentholated foot lotion is soothing to feet after a hot "dog day."

All these seemingly small factors in daily living count up to a big total in comfort when the heat is severe.

Tomorrow: "Advised to Exercise to Increase Chest Muscles."

Mrs. DeRousse was elected president. Other officers are Lorna MacKellar, vice president; Mrs. Reid Graham, secretary, and Mrs. James Vaughan, treasurer.

* * *

Mrs. Harry Stuart was in charge of the program, and devotions were given by Mrs. Lulu Buckler. Mrs. John Rentschler of Frankfort, Ind., and Mrs. William Brown of Tulsa, Okla., were guests of the evening.

Coming Events

Royal Neighbors Get-Together will be held at Oakland Park Thursday with a cooperative picnic lunch at noon.

Protect Your Hair in Summer Months

Protect your hair from sun, surf and sand.

The girl with bleached, tinted or dyed hair has an even bigger problem to keep her hair from looking like straw in the summer.

"If your hair is tinted, be sure to wear a bathing cap when you go swimming," advises Miss Vern, a New York hair coloring expert. "Salt water bleaches and dries the hair and dunkings in a chlorinated pool are no help either. Pool water combined with sunshine may drastically bleach or discolor your hair," she says.

Dry wet edges of your hair with a towel after taking off your bathing cap, she advises. Put on a big brimmed hat to reduce red or gold sun bleached hair streaks that might otherwise result from the exposure.

Hair lacquer is no substitute for a scarf if you ride in a convertible car, Miss Vern reminds us. Lacquer, she says, should be used sparingly at all seasons because it fades the hair, causing it to lose lustre. She suggests using a hair setting lotion that unsnarls the hair and contains a conditioner.

AT LEAST ONE

Every woman should have at least one mid-summer reconditioning hair treatment, she says, whether she tints or not. It will help keep the hair lustrous. "Many women think that the oils in pomade help condition hair. Actually, it only dresses the hair. It should be used lightly because it might fade the hair as well as attract dust to it," says she.

Your hair treatment if done in a salon should take about 40 minutes with a heating cap and special oils that help remove foreign coatings such as soap scum, shampoo residue and pigment from rinses as it lubricates and conditions the hair. These oils usually do not leave a sticky hair film and may be removed with a single soaping.

"A natural blonde or a tinted blonde who goes without a bathing cap may be surprised to find her hair taking on a green cast from chlorinated water," says Miss Vern. "That condition and brittle hair, may be helped by using a hair coloring bath that is warmer than the original shade. After that application removes the greenish discoloration the original color may then be put on."

* * *

The brassy hair look, the result of too much sun bleaching, may be helped temporarily with a rinse of hair coloring in a live-looking gray. This rinse conditions the hair at the same time so that there is no need for a setting lotion.

* * *

Brunette hair is likely to suffer from too much sun also. Ends that become sun-streaked are likely to need reconditioning, says Miss Vern.

A roller skating party is planned for July 24, with the time and place to be announced later.

Edwardian Vests Making Comeback

CHICAGO (INS) — Next winter men who dress formally for the opera and other festive occasions probably will be wearing Edwardian evening vests.

The comeback of fancy evening vests is so strong, said men's wear expert Ben Gingiss, that even silver annd gold brocades will be among the "many-splendored" materials used. He said:

"Some men are having vests made from materials that exactly match their partner's evening gowns, particularly lace over satin."

Lebo-De Vary Rites Read in Saturday Ceremony

* * *

A tiara of seed pearls held her fingertip veil of nylon tulle and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and ivy centered with a white orchid on a white Bible.

Fortraveling, the bride changed to a dusty rose dress and matching duster with white accessories and the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Child Must Tend Pet or It Isn't His

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some years ago my daughter met a stray puppy. The dog sought her out from among a group of other children, evoking a sense of responsibility for him.

* * *

On a policeman's direction, she took him to our local SPCA to await claim by his owner. that night to the inevitable question, I said, "No—I haven't time to look after him for you. So you better start looking around for another home for him.

She located one.

But at the week's end, the offer was withdrawn. Until another home could be found, Riff-Raff came to stay at ours.

When he arrived, he was a very sick dog. He was also a very endearing one. On the evening of the third day, he came over to me, crawled up on my lap, closed his eyes and went to sleep.

* * *

Later, when the new owner we had found for him came to drive him home, my child endured the ordeal of goodby with astonishing poise.

When I mentioned it, she said, "If we had kept Riffy, he would have been your dog, Mother. He'd have gotten to like you better than me because you looked after him while I was away at school all day."

COLD-BLOODED?

Recently in this column I suggested that if children cannot take the major responsibility for pets, they should not be given them. A reader finds this a "cold-blooded" attitude.

* * *

I think it only seems so.

Actually, it is impossible to "give" a child a pet he doesn't look after. For it can become his only as the animal learns to count on him for food, discipline, protection, nursing. If the child cannot render the pet these services, he loses it to the adult who can.

He is deprived of his kitten or dog, not through physical separation but through alienation of loyalty promised to him—and which he cannot earn.

* * *

This kind of separation can be a hurtful experience.

DREAMS CRUSHED

It's not easy to be told the new puppy is yours—and watch it licking the hand of the parent who's fed it. Your expectations of first loyalty are crushed.

* * *

Your joy in the puppy begins to give way to the resentful feeling, "My parent is more attractive and lovable than I am."

So if we have a youngster who cannot look after a pet, it's not necessarily kind to pretend he can by calling it "his."

The kind thing may be to acquire the pet as a family posession —and avoid arousing expectations that can't be realized.

Busy making plans for the activities to be held Sunday afternoon at Oakland County Tuberculosis Sanatorium are (left to right) Mrs. Claude H. Leach of Auburn avenue, Mrs. Ruel Supernaw of Rochester and Mrs. William Billingsley of Elam court, members of the Patients' Benefit Association. Entertainment and refreshments have been planned for the annual event that will take place on the hospital grounds from 1 until 4 o'clock for all ex-patients and their families.

Hanging Up Shoes?

A handy car-travel idea is to hang a shoebag over the back of the front seat and use it for toys, cameras, combs and any small items you may want while en route. .

Take Care of Your China

URBANA, Ill. (INS)—Your best china needs care in storing as well as handling.

To keep chips and scratches to a minimum, Home Furnishings specialists at the University of Illinois, provides the following suggestions:

Keep plates of different sizes in their own stacks. Stacking and removing one dish at a time, not sliding them across each other is a good way to cut down on scratches. Rubber or wooden vertical containers also help. Another way to prevent scratches is to use pads cut from blotters or paper doilies between fine china plates and plates with raised borders.

Cover seldom-used pieces of china with plastic dish covers. For further protection, cover spouts with rubber tubing or crumpled pieces of paper and then turn them toward the wall.

Man Can't Properly Speak First

Woman Greets Him Even If Uncertain of His Identity

By EMILY POST

"A friend of mine tells me that you have said it is a woman's prerogative to speak first to a man when she is not sure she has met him. If it is, I am curious to know why she should speak first.

"In my opinion, it should be the other way around since to have a woman speak first makes her seem very forward and gives the impression that she is chasing after him. I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: A man can't speak first; it is much more proper for the woman to do so. She, of course, has to have a definite idea of who she thinks he may be and then she may ask: "Are you John Smith's brother?" or "Aren't you Jim Brown?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: My mother died several years ago. My father and I live alone. We have a woman come in every day to tidy up the place and also get our dinner, but she goes home early in the evening.

"Under the circumstances, would it be proper to invite a girl friend of mine from out of town to spend the weekend with us, or is it necessary that a woman be present?"

Answer: Nothing in the world could be more proper than your father chaperoning you and you chaperoning your father!

"Dear Mrs. Post: My young daughter has been asked to be a flower girl in a relative's wedding. The bridesmaids and maid of honor are wearing ballerina-length dresses and the bride a long dress.

"Will you please tell me what length dress the flower girl should wear? Should it be long or short?"

Answer: It should be a little shorter than the bridesmaids'.

Gaudy Coats Top Squaw Costumes

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (INS)—In the Southwest, women wear intricately braided, plaited Indian squaw dresses to parties and to other festive occasions.

But it turns cool when the desert-hot sun goes down, so the latest squaw dresses have coats to match. And they are even fancier than the dresses.

The coats are designed by Jeanette, a red-haired Polish refugee who, in the last five years, has become the top interpreter of Indian-style women's fashions in Albuquerque.

Jeanette trims her dresses with braids and rick-rack she herself adapts into a wide array of colors from traditional Indian designs. But when it comes to coats, she covers them all up with braids so only a "hint" of the background color is visible.

* * *

Usually the coats are collar-less, full-length and have three-quarter sleeves. The braids overlaying a smooth cotton or linen are generously shot with metallic threads more often than not.

One of her most attractive versions, for instance, combines copper, silver and gold braids in a single coat. Its background and that of the dress are pale blue.

Jeanette's dresses sell from $20 to $125 and her coat ensembles from $60 to $200. They are available in stores throughout the country.

Red, Green Tops

A typical Parisian autumn color combination will be wine-red and bottle-green. In the greens the subdued, dark tones will be modish. The forest-type shades which the French call "hunter's green" and "antique green" will be used for elegant city as well as country clothes.

Partnership Brings Understanding

By ANNE HEYWOOD

"My husband doesn't appreciate me" and "My wife doesn't understand me" are such common expressions that they've become downright trite. Yet sometimes they contain much truth.

* * *

A man thinks of his wife sheltered and at home and doesn't ever really understand that meals don't cook themselves, rooms don't decorate and clean themselves, clothes don't wash and iron themselves.

"She can take a nap whenever she chooses," he is apt to grumble.

On the other hand, she is apt to picture him in a nice air - conditioned office, with a competent staff, with customers who love him dearly and a life of meeting "interesting people."

* * *

That's how it always was with the Browns, until years later when they retired and set up a small and successful shop. Working together, they began to appreciate each other as they never had before.

ALWAYS A SALESMAN

Mr. Brown was a salesman all his life. He now handles the sales, "And she's absolutely terrific!" Mr. Brown told me. "She did the place on peanuts, she keeps records like nobody's business and she gets a good two dollars' worth for every dollar!"

"I always did," Mrs. Brown chuckled, "only it was at home, so you took it for granted!

* * *

"And," she added admiringly, "you should see him. He is perfectly marvelous with the most difficult customers. And he can sell more merchandise than you'd believe!

THE RIGHT PITCH

"The skill wth which he takes the absolutely right pitch with each customer—and the ads he writes—bring people in."

* * *

"I always did," Mr. Brown said. advertising and window display for their shop.

* * *

Mrs. Brown was a housewife all her life. Now she handles the purchasing, decorating and bookkeeping for the shop.

"But you thought selling was just chewing the fat and having drinks with the boys!"

This is a phenomenon I've seen a good deal.

After retirement, husbands and wives go into business together and begin, at long last, to value each other.

It doesn't always work out that way, but it does a good deal of the time, particularly when their two aptitude patterns are different and therefore complementary.

BUT DON'T LEAP

However, it's nothing to leap into. If you are thinking of such a joint venture, better begin by reading some good books on projects for retirement income.

* * *

If you'll send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press, I'll send you my list of them.

Teenagers, Get in Form With '10-a-Day' Exercise

Teenagers who plan to spend their vacation at a beach or at the pool will emerge in September slim and muscular, if they keep a watch on the soft drinks.

Swimming and other exercise, coupled with a sensible diet, are generally responsible for the ideal of the American figure: unflabby, strongly graceful and healthy, rather than emaciated.

There is one catch. In order to get on the beach, one has first to get into the suit. And a winter of overeating may have done its damage.

Here's a rigorous exercise for the strong and young, to get things down to swimming suit size.

* * *

Sit on the floor with legs extended in front of you, ankles together, feet pointing straight ahead and down as much as possible. There should be a feeling of pull along the legs.

The hands are flat on the floor, a foot or so behind the hips, elbows straight. The body should be reclining slightly, resting on the arms. The body, from hip joint to ear, should be straight.

Get everything under control and held in because this is a tough one.

* * *

On the count of one, raise the body off the floor so there is as straight a line as possible from shoulder blades to heels. Don't let the shoulders pop up and the chest sag, in between. Get the chest up.

Keep the abdomen tucked in, the bottom tucked under. Pull the chin up, push the toes down hard.

On the second count, let the body to the floor. Do not fall, let it down with the muscles.

* * *

Check to see which muscles (abdomen, hips, thigh, etc.) are shirking and concentrate on them.

This can be done 10 times a day, if you're strong and you do it correctly.

Small electrical appliances should have adequate "leg" insulation to prevent the heat from marring the table top or work counter surface.

Men Wear Leather

PARIS (INS)—The fanciest new Paris styles for men are made of leather.

Until now the duffle coat in a man's wardrobe was reserved for rainy days or sports wear. But in leather it became a casual deluxe style for fashion-minded French males.

Made of tobacco brown suede a duffle coat complete with hood has just been introduced in Paris as a smart 1956 style.

Blazers, too, are considered smarter—although more expensive—when they are made of leather. A blazer styled jacket made of supple shiny kid leather is also a new Paris idea for masculine elegance. A smartly tailored kid blazer comes in a new "admiral blue" shade and is particularly recommended for yachting.

Made of almost white kid-leather, a blazer can be dressy enough for outdoor summer dinners. A Paris leather designer introduced such a leather jacket, double-breasted with four mother-of-pearl buttons.

Leather peak-caps, waistcoats and golf trousers are elegant parts of a well dressed man's wardrobe. Leather ties have been adopted in Paris by some Left Bank students.

In footwear the height of masculine chic is to wear crocodile shoes. Rarely seen on young men, they give high ranking business executives and successful artists a well founded and elegant base.

Name Acting Manager, Assessor at Walled Lake

George Gram to Serve City

Was Early Clerk, Former Treasurer; Make Other Appointments

WALLED LAKE — The Walled Lake City Council named George Gram as acting city manager and assessor to serve during the period following the resignation of A. J. Koenig, which becomes effective Aug. 1, until such time as the city hires a new manager.

Gram served as city clerk in the early days of the city and since that time has been treasurer part time.

Other interim appointments which the council made at their meeting this week are as follows: Mrs. Dorothy Lonsdale, city clerk; Marshall Taylor, street administrator; and Harold Ackley, water superintendent.

Four of the council members, Marshall Taylor, William Mercer, Joseph Secunda, and Robert Thibideau, as well as city attorney, Albert Herzog, were appointed to a committee to confer with Judge Herman Roth and work out procedures for the handling of traffic cases. The city office has handled a certain number of these and the council is in favor of retaining the violations bureau there.

The council has retained the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, of Detroit, specialists in the field of legal procedures, for financing street improvements to assist them in putting the street improvement program into effect. It is expected that the work may be started in the fall.

At the next meeting of the council on Aug. 7, members of the Wolverine Village council will be present to discuss fire protection.

The Michigan Inspection Bureau informed the city of Walled Lake that because of the steps it has taken to increase fire protection that it has retained its ninth class standing. Other nearby districts have dropped to a lower class and for them rates of insurance will be increased.

150 Teenagers at Westacres

Bermuda-Wearers Expected at Dance

By ELEANOR G. DUCKWITZ
Walled Lake Correspondent

WESTACRES—About 150 Bermuda-short-wearing young people are expected to arrive by car, bicycle or foot for the weekly dance tomorrow night at Westacres clubhouse.

For those lads too shy to don Bermudas, khakis or suntans are in order, according to Chairman Kay Stewart.

As the band tunes up before the weekly dances, the girls, who usually attend in colorful cottons, have time for noting each other's costumes and the groups of stag boys can take mental notes on future dancing partners. Blue jeans are "taboo" at the dances.

First tune begins at 8:30 and while younger couples take their first tentative circles of the room, couples with pre-arranged dates are arriving.

Midway during the festivities which last until 11 p.m., there is a floor show with novelty acts.

Sponsor of the activity is the Westacres Women's club, with Mrs. William Irons heading a special committee for the planning.

Those aiding her each week are Mrs. Roger Zucchet, Mrs. George Merkle, Mrs. G.H. LaPiner, and Mrs. Donald MacLean.

But the teeners do the actual work. Two of the high schoolers are named as chairmen each week, and they enlist friends to take admission fees, staff refreshment tables, arrange for several pairs of parents for chaperons, and enforce rules.

Besides the no-jeans rule, the few rules specify that no one may leave the building until he is ready to depart for the evening, and that there be no smoking on dance floor or in the lobby.

Top reason for the success of the dances is the band, led by Tom Dodd, who until two years ago had spent most of his life in Westacres.

All members are from Alma college, are known as the Velvetones, and have played together for three years.

They are Dick Berry of Monroe, George Huysken of Detroit, Jim Gordon of Milford, Art Dittenber and Spence Gordes of Midland, and Kenneth Smith of Alma. Tom's home is between Clarkston and Lake Orion.

During the week the boys are employed at various jobs throughout the state, but come Friday night and they each head for Westacres.

They are able to keep in practice and will be ready for accepting engagements when they return to Alma as seniors in the fall, Tom says.

A theme, such as this week's "Bermuda Bounce" title is chosen for each week. Last week it was a "jinks" dance, suited to Friday the 13th.

Floor show acts tomorrow are to be Ken Hanson, "the poor man's Bob and Ray," Hoeflin and Hannah, a comedy dance team, a magician, and other acts.

Dance, Planned Tonight at CAI, Is Canceled

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The "youth night" dance slated for tonight at the CAI building has been canceled along with the Aug. 19 one, according to Tom Belton, recreation director.

The teen-age dance held on June 28 did not draw enough attendance to warrant holding the second and third dance in the summer program, Belton said.

* * *

He urged teenagers to support the new "Blue Note Club" dances Thursday at the Eagles Hall in Waterford.

"When other wholesome activities are being supported and planned by teenagers, with proper chaperoning," he said, "it creates an adequate substitute for our program."

He blamed not only lack of interest but difficulty of transportation and more individualized activities for young people in summertime for the decreased attendance.

* * *

The dances attract from 300 to 400 in school months, but the three summer dances were to be an experiment in summer recreation.

The regularly scheduled dances will resume in September, Belton says.

Wheat Farmers Vote on Controls

Oakland Growers Join in National Poll on Marketing Quotas

LANSING (AP)—Michigan farmers will go to the polls Friday to express their sentiments on acreage controls and price supports for wheat.

In the past, Michigan's independent-minded farmers have been only lukewarm for the tight controls. They have never cast a favorable two third vote for the controls in three previous referendums.

Last year, 8,0651 farmers voted on the issue in Michigan. There were 4,144 favoring controls and 3,917 against.

A two third national approval was needed for the controls. The western wheat belt states, where the grain is the big cash crop, voted overwhelmingly for the controls and Michigan was fitted into the pattern.

Polls will be open in all the state's counties from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday.

All farmers who plan to harvest more than 15 acres of wheat in 1957 are eligible to cast an opinion.

Farmers will be asked to vote on a single question—"are you in favor of marketing quotas for wheat in 1957?"

If quotas are approved, price supports will be available to cooperators—those who do not exceed the acreage allotment set by the governor.

The suport is proposed at a level of between 75 and 90 per cent of parity for next year. This is estimated to be around $2 a bushel.

If disapproved, allotments will still be in effect. There will be no penalties for farmers who planted more than their allotted acreage. Cooperators will receive a price support of 50 per cent of parity.

Robert H. Long, chairman of the Oakland County Agricultural Stabilization committee, announces the folowing polling places in Oakland County:

Independence, Waterford, Pontiac, Avon, Troy, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Farmington, Southfield and Royal Oak Townships, at the County ASC Office, 18 South Perry St., Room 321, Pontiac.

First Strip of Four Lane Pavement Opens Friday

ORION TOWNSHIP — The first section of the new M24 pavement extending from Scripps Rd. to Waldon Rd. will open to traffic tomorrow morning. By the end of the week about three miles of the new road will have been poured, according to officials.

The total project from Scripps Rd. to Perry St. is seven miles long, and will be four lanes wide. Four miles of the present road will be widened and black-topped The only complicated crossover will be at the Perry-Opdyke entrance.

The old section, where it is at two levels will soon be removed while traffic is using the new strip, so it can be graded to the same level as the new southbound strip.

Contractors Lewis and Frisinger Co. of Ann Arbor, have constantly supplied flagmen along the route to keep the traffic moving and avoid accidents.

SHERIFF PATROLLED

The Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. has extra patrols in this area, enforcing the 35-mile speed limit throughout, and the 25-mile limit in actual working areas during the day.

This 35-mile speed limit is being enforced not only because of the heavy equipment and trucks, but also because the shoulders are not completed and are therefore unsafe at many points.

Unless new problems arise, concrete pouring will be completed by Oct. 1, and the entire project finished by November 31, spokesmen said.

Troy Officials Study Cost-Plan for New Drain

TROY — City commissioners, meeting unofficially this week to discuss water and sewer problems, decided to investigate further the city's sharing in the Twelve Town Drain problem.

Several commissioners indicated a feeling that the city might obtain drainage in the southern 917 acres east of Birmingham at less cost than is being talked of by Twelve Town Drain committees.

City support may be withheld pending a study of possible costs, City Clerk Lawson Lockhardt said today.

The drainage problem will probably be discussed at length at Monday's regular commission meeting, he said.

Board Critical of Teaching Load

Walled Lake Educators Seek Levy to Reduce Size of Classes

WALLED LAKE — Parents who feel that their Johnny or Mary are not getting enough of their teacher's time should keep that view in mind when they vote for or against the two-mill operating fund levy next Monday, according to Walled Lake School officials.

The board of education released figures today showing that the "teacher load" or ratio of teachers to students, is the highest in the county.

If the two-mill levy is not passed, the board predicts, the load will be even greater.

Without the proposed taxes, the board might balance the budget, officials say, by increasing the size of classes and eliminating four and one-half teaching posts in elementary schools.

Another money-saver, the board warns, would be to transport on buses, only children who live more than a mile from school. The board has been lenient about transporting those living slightly within the mile limit.

Without the levy, the board would expect to increase cost of cafeteria meals and to close cafeterias operating at a deficit.

Custodial and office staffs could also be reduced, the board says, but calls such cut-backs "false economy." It would later entail repair expenditures, officials warn.

At the fairgrounds, there will be pony rides, wagon train, pony and cart and fish pond; sale of fancy work, articles of clothing, white elephants, and refreshments.

Exhibits of antiques, curios and hobbies will have a prominent place.

Friday evening will feature a variety show. Saturday evening there will be an auction sale at 8, followed by a square dance with Tim Hoard, caller, at 9.

"Grandmother's Kitchen" will be open, supplying pies, cakes, jellies, jams, pickles, baked beans, meat loaves and chicken besides countless other goodies.

The purpose of the Futurama Fair is to reduce the church's indebtedness, and all departments of the church are working to insure reaching the goal.

Hollywood Headlines

Commuter Colleen Miller Keeps the Airlines Busy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A pretty Colleen named Miller could be named the queen of the airlines. She commutes between a Chicago home and a Hollywood career.

• • •

Strange things are always happening to this cute brunette. So it doesn't seem odd to her that she could have a home and a career 2,000 miles apart.

The reason: she is married to Ted Briskin, former husband of Betty Hutton and head of a big camera concern in Chicago. She is also a promising young actress with Universal-International Studios but now being loaned out to MGM for "Capital Offense."

• • •

"It works out very well," she says. "We have a house here and a house on the lake front in Chicago. When I'm working, I stay here. The rest of the time I remain in Chicago. I have two sets of clothes, so it's no trouble going from one home to the other."

How does her husband feel about it?

"He thinks it's wonderful. He loves Hollywood anyway. I was thinking of quitting my career when our daughter, Robin, was born seven weeks ago. But Ted said that wouldn't be fair—to me or Robin. He pointed out that if I quit I might be bored and frustrated with being just a housewife."

• • •

As I pointed out, strange things have a way of happening to Colleen. Born in Yakima, Wash., she went to high school in Portland, Ore., graduating at 16. She had been dancing since an early age and decided to seek her fortune in Hollywood.

So, all alone at 16, she took a bus to the glamor capital. She knew no one here except a dance director. That turned out to be a good contact, and she landed in a dance troupe that toured the continent.

• • •

While dancing in Las Vegas, a fish helped her get a screen contract. She was chosen to pose with a fish caught in a Lake Mead angling contest. The photo was seen in a Los Angeles newspaper by Howard Hughes and she was offered an RKO contract.

She returned to Hollywood full of ambition to conquer the town. So what happened? For almost three years she collected a salary without appearing in a film.

She finally landed a role in "The Las Vegas Story" just before she left the studio. She landed at U-I, where she got a little more action. Yet she is doing only her sixth picture in her six years in films.

Undoubtedly she'll be getting more action. When a player is loaned out to another studio, it's a good sign.

No Labor Day Parade

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — Lenawee County has canceled its Labor Day parade for 1956, Helen L. Fields, parade committee secretary, said there were two reasons: (1) unemployment has cut funds from union dues allocated for the affair, and (2) labor unions report lagging interest this year.

30-Foot Slingshot Tests Metals' Stress

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Yale engineers have constructed a 30-foot slingshot for testing the stress caused in metals by sudden impact.

Powered by three large rubber cords, the slingshot is loaded by means of a winch and fires a 3-foot aluminum rod at a similar rod. Electrical strain gauges taped to the struck rod record the impact.

Give Them Some Porridge, They Will Go Away!

NEWBERRY (AP) — The boldness of a couple of hungry bears might have been one reason why Milton Bachman and his family left when they did after a vacation at Bell Lake, northwest of Newberry.

• • •

Bachman, executive secretary of the Michigan Bar Assn. at Lansing, returned to his cottage with his wife and son after a fishing trip Tuesday to find two bears sniffing at the front steps and screen door.

Shouts drove the animals off and the Bachmans scampered into the cottage.

The bears, unperturbed, came back. Bachman picked up an old shotgun, long unused, and fired a shot. The bears retreated, this time for good.

The Bachmans left for Lansing early yesterday.

Liz Taylor Splits With Husband; No Divorce Yet

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After 4½ years of marriage and two children, actress Elizabeth Taylor and Michael Wilding have decided to separate.

• • •

The couple plans a legal separation but no divorce at this time, her studio announced last night.

The announcement surprised no one. Hollywood has been buzzing with rumors for a year that there was trouble between the beauteous 24-year-old star and Wilding, 20 years her senior. The rumors were always denied.

An MGM publicity department spokesman made this announcement for the couple.

• • •

"Much careful thought has been given to the step we are taking. It is being done so we will have an opportunity to thoroughly work out our personal situation."

This was not amplified.

The Wildings, both British born, married in London Feb. 21, 1952. They have two children, Michael Howard, 3, and Christopher Edward, 1.

• • •

Miss Taylor still is under contract to MGM and will leave within 10 days for location in Kentucky. Wilding, who asked for and received his release from the same studio, will depart shortly for Sweden to make a film. He will be gone two or three months.

Name Acting Manager, Assessor at Walled Lake

Was Early Clerk, Former Treasurer; Make Other Appointments

WALLED LAKE — The Walled Lake City Council named George Gram as acting city manager and assessor to serve during the period following the resignation of A. J. Koenig, which becomes effective Aug. 1, until such time as the city hires a new manager.

Gram served as city clerk in the early days of the city and since that time has been treasurer part time.

Other interim appointments which the council made at their meeting this week are as follows: Mrs. Dorothy Lonsdale, city clerk; Marshall Taylor, street administrator; and Harold Ackley, water superintendent.

Four of the council members, Marshall Taylor, William Mercer, Joseph Secunda, and Robert Thibideau, as well as city attorney, Albert Herzog, were appointed to a committee to confer with Judge Herman Roth and work out procedures for the handling of traffic cases. The city office has handled a certain number of these and the council is in favor of retaining the violations bureau there.

The council has retained the firm of Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone, of Detroit, specialists in the field of legal procedures, for financing street improvements to assist them in putting the street improvement program into effect. It is expected that the work may be started in the fall.

At the next meeting of the council on Aug. 7, members of the Wolverine Village council will be present to discuss fire protection.

The Michigan Inspection Bureau informed the city of Walled Lake that because of the steps it has taken to increase fire protection that it has retained its ninth class standing. Other nearby districts have dropped to a lower class and for them rates of insurance will be increased.

During the vacation of the Rev. E. John Yuells, Mr. Beyer will preach except on July 29th, when George Gullen Jr., prominent Congregational layman and lawyer will talk.

150 Teenagers at Westacres

Bermuda-Wearers Expected at Dance

By ELEANOR G. DUCKWITZ
Walled Lake Correspondent

WESTACRES—About 150 Bermuda-short-wearing young people are expected to arrive by car, bicycle or foot for the weekly dance tomorrow night at Westacres clubhouse.

For those lads too shy to don Bermudas, khakis or suntans are in order, according to Chairman Kay Stewart.

As the band tunes up before the weekly dances, the girls, who usually attend in colorful cottons, have time for noting each other's costumes and the groups of stag boys can take mental notes on future dancing partners. Blue jeans are "taboo" at the dances.

First tune begins at 8:30 and while younger couples take their first tentative circles of the room, couples with pre-arranged dates are arriving.

Midway during the festivities which last until 11 p.m., there is a floor show with novelty acts.

Sponsor of the activity is the Westacres Women's club, with Mrs. William Irons heading a special committee for the planning.

Those aiding her each week are Mrs. Roger Zucchet, Mrs. George Merkle, Mrs. G.H. LaPiner, and Mrs. Donald MacLean.

But the teeners do the actual work. Two of the high schoolers are named as chairmen each week, and they enlist friends to take admission fees, staff refreshment tables, arrange for several pairs of parents for chaperons, and enforce rules.

Besides the no-jeans rule, the few rules specify that no one may leave the building until he is ready to depart for the evening, and that there be no smoking on dance floor or in the lobby.

Top reason for the success of the dances is the band, led by Tom Dodd, who until two years ago had spent most of his life in Westacres.

All members are from Alma college, are known as the Velvetones, and have played together for three years.

They are Dick Berry of Monroe, George Huysken of Detroit, Jim Gordon of Milford, Art Dittenber and Spence Gordes of Midland, and Kenneth Smith of Alma. Tom's home is between Clarkston and Lake Orion.

During the week the boys are employed at various jobs throughout the state, but come Friday night and they each head for Westacres.

They are able to keep in practice and will be ready for accepting engagements when they return to Alma as seniors in the fall, Tom says.

A theme, such as this week's "Bermuda Bounce" title is chosen for each week. Last week it was a "jinks" dance, suited to Friday the 13th.

Floor show acts tomorrow are to be Ken Hanson, "the poor man's Bob and Ray," Hoeflin and Hannah, a comedy dance team, a magician, and other acts.

Dance, Planned Tonight at CAI, Is Canceled

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The "youth night" dance slated for tonight at the CAI building has been canceled along with the Aug. 19 one, according to Tom Belton, recreation director.

The teen-age dance held on June 28 did not draw enough attendance to warrant holding the second and third dance in the summer program, Belton said.

* * *

He urged teenagers to support the new "Blue Note Club" dances Thursday at the Eagles Hall in Waterford.

"When other wholesome activities are being supported and planned by teenagers, with proper chaperoning," he said, "it creates an adequate substitute for our program."

He blamed not only lack of interest but difficulty of transportation and more individualized activities for young people in summertime for the decreased attendance.

* * *

The dances attract from 300 to 400 in school months, but the three summer dances were to be an experiment in summer recreation.

The regularly scheduled dances will resume in September, Belton says.

Wheat Farmers Vote on Controls

Oakland Growers Join in National Poll on Marketing Quotas

LANSING (AP)—Michigan farmers will go to the polls Friday to express their sentiments on acreage controls and price supports for wheat.

In the past, Michigan's independent-minded farmers have been only lukewarm for the tight controls. They have never cast a favorable two third vote for the controls in three previous referendums.

Last year, 8,0651 farmers voted on the issue in Michigan. There were 4,144 favoring controls and 3,917 against.

A two third national approval was needed for the controls. The western wheat belt states, where the grain is the big cash crop, voted overwhelmingly for the controls and Michigan was fitted into the pattern.

Polls will be open in all the state's counties from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Friday.

All farmers who plan to harvest more than 15 acres of wheat in 1957 are eligible to cast an opinion.

Farmers will be asked to vote on a single question—"are you in favor of marketing quotas for wheat in 1957?"

If quotas are approved, price supports will be available to cooperators—those who do not exceed the acreage allotment set by the governor.

The suport is proposed at a level of between 75 and 90 per cent of parity for next year. This is estimated to be around $2 a bushel.

If disapproved, allotments will still be in effect. There will be no penalties for farmers who planted more than their allotted acreage. Cooperators will receive a price support of 50 per cent of parity.

WHERE COUNTY VOTES

Robert H. Long, chairman of the Oakland County Agricultural Stabilization committee, announces the folowing polling places in Oakland County:

For Addison, Oakland, Orion, Brandon and Oxford Township farmers, at the Oxford Co-Op Implement Building in Oxford.

Lyon, Novi, Commerce, Milford and that part of White Lake and Highland Townships south of M59 at Lyon Township Hall on Pontiac Trail just south of New Hudson.

Independence, Waterford, Pontiac, Avon, Troy, Bloomfield, West Bloomfield, Farmington, Southfield and Royal Oak Townships, at the County ASC Office, 18 South Perry St., Room 321, Pontiac.

First Strip of Four Lane Pavement Opens Friday

ORION TOWNSHIP — The first section of the new M24 pavement extending from Scripps Rd. to Waldon Rd. will open to traffic tomorrow morning. By the end of the week about three miles of the new road will have been poured, according to officials.

The total project from Scripps Rd. to Perry St. is seven miles long, and will be four lanes wide. Four miles of the present road will be widened and black-topped The only complicated crossover will be at the Perry-Opdyke entrance.

The old section, where it is at two levels will soon be removed while traffic is using the new strip, so it can be graded to the same level as the new southbound strip.

Contractors Lewis and Frisinger Co. of Ann Arbor, have constantly supplied flagmen along the route to keep the traffic moving and avoid accidents.

SHERIFF PATROLLED

The Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. has extra patrols in this area, enforcing the 35-mile speed limit throughout, and the 25-mile limit in actual working areas during the day.

This 35-mile speed limit is being enforced not only because of the heavy equipment and trucks, but also because the shoulders are not completed and are therefore unsafe at many points.

Unless new problems arise, concrete pouring will be completed by Oct. 1, and the entire project finished by November 31, spokesmen said.

Troy Officials Study Cost-Plan for New Drain

TROY — City commissioners, meeting unofficially this week to discuss water and sewer problems, decided to investigate further the city's sharing in the Twelve Town Drain problem.

Several commissioners indicated a feeling that the city might obtain drainage in the southern 917 acres east of Birmingham at less cost than is being talked of by Twelve Town Drain committees.

City support may be withheld pending a study of possible costs, City Clerk Lawson Lockhardt said today.

The drainage problem will probably be discussed at length at Monday's regular commission meeting, he said.

Board Critical of Teaching Load

Walled Lake Educators Seek Levy to Reduce Size of Classes

WALLED LAKE — Parents who feel that their Johnny or Mary are not getting enough of their teacher's time should keep that view in mind when they vote for or against the two-mill operating fund levy next Monday, according to Walled Lake School officials.

The board of education released figures today showing that the "teacher load" or ratio of teachers to students, is the highest in the county.

If the two-mill levy is not passed, the board predicts, the load will be even greater.

Without the proposed taxes, the board might balance the budget, officials say, by increasing the size of classes and eliminating four and one-half teaching posts in elementary schools.

Another money-saver, the board warns, would be to transport on buses, only children who live more than a mile from school. The board has been lenient about transporting those living slightly within the mile limit.

Without the levy, the board would expect to increase cost of cafeteria meals and to close cafeterias operating at a deficit.

Custodial and office staffs could also be reduced, the board says, but calls such cut-backs "false economy." It would later entail repair expenditures, officials warn.

Church Benefit to Open With Parade

Oxford Futurama Fair Slated July 27-28

OKFORD — The Futurama Fair, sponsored by the Congregational Church, is scheduled for Friday and Saturday afternoons and evenings, July 27-28, at the Daniel Axford School.

Mrs. Fred Skibowski, the Rev. Robert Harrison and Harold Campbell are general chairmen. Mrs. Stimson Travis is in charge of the parade, which will form at Oxford and Washington streets at 1:30 Friday afternoon, and march to the fairgrounds.

The parade will feature pets, dolls and decorated bicycles for children. The Womens' Fellowship will have a float depicting "Grandmother's Time" with an old organ, and a real, old-time song fest. There will be old cars, and new cars, horses, clowns, floats and many other attractions.

Prizes will be given for the most unusual pet, the best decorated bicycle, best-costumed girl with doll and the best costume. Judges will be Mrs. Donald Tripp, Mrs. Dan DeLano, and Mrs. Ellsworth Sage.

At the fairgrounds, there will be pony rides, wagon train, pony and cart and fish pond; sale of fancy work, articles of clothing, white elephants, and refreshments.

Exhibits of antiques, curios and hobbies will have a prominent place.

Friday evening will feature a variety show. Saturday evening there will be an auction sale at 8, followed by a square dance with Tim Hoard, caller, at 9.

"Grandmother's Kitchen" will be open, supplying pies, cakes, jellies, jams, pickles, baked beans, meat loaves and chicken besides countless other goodies.

The purpose of the Futurama Fair is to reduce the church's indebtedness, and all departments of the church are working to insure reaching the goal.

Hollywood Headlines

Commuter Colleen Miller Keeps the Airlines Busy

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—A pretty Colleen named Miller could be named the queen of the airlines. She commutes between a Chicago home and a Hollywood career.

• • •

Strange things are always happening to this cute brunette. So it doesn't seem odd to her that she could have a home and a career 2,000 miles apart.

The reason: she is married to Ted Briskin, former husband of Betty Hutton and head of a big camera concern in Chicago. She is also a promising young actress with Universal-International Studios but now being loaned out to MGM for "Capital Offense."

• • •

"It works out very well," she says. "We have a house here and a house on the lake front in Chicago. When I'm working, I stay here. The rest of the time I remain in Chicago. I have two sets of clothes, so it's no trouble going from one home to the other."

How does her husband feel about it?

"He thinks it's wonderful. He loves Hollywood anyway. I was thinking of quitting my career when our daughter, Robin, was born seven weeks ago. But Ted said that wouldn't be fair—to me or Robin. He pointed out that if I quit I might be bored and frustrated with being just a housewife."

• • •

As I pointed out, strange things have a way of happening to Colleen. Born in Yakima, Wash., she went to high school in Portland, Ore., graduating at 16. She had been dancing since an early age and decided to seek her fortune in Hollywood.

So, all alone at 16, she took a bus to the glamor capital. She knew no one here except a dance director. That turned out to be a good contact, and she landed in a dance troupe that toured the continent.

• • •

While dancing in Las Vegas, a fish helped her get a screen contract. She was chosen to pose with a fish caught in a Lake Mead angling contest. The photo was seen in a Los Angeles newspaper by Howard Hughes and she was offered an RKO contract.

She returned to Hollywood full of ambition to conquer the town. So what happened? For almost three years she collected a salary without appearing in a film.

She finally landed a role in "The Las Vegas Story" just before she left the studio. She landed at U-I, where she got a little more action. Yet she is doing only her sixth picture in her six years in films.

Undoubtedly she'll be getting more action. When a player is loaned out to another studio, it's a good sign.

No Labor Day Parade

ADRIAN, Mich. (AP) — Lenawee County has canceled its Labor Day parade for 1956. Helen L. Fields, parade committee secretary, said there were two reasons: (1) unemployment has cut funds from union dues allocated for the affair, and (2) labor unions report lagging interest this year.

30-Foot Slingshot Tests Metals' Stress

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—Yale engineers have constructed a 30-foot slingshot for testing the stress caused in metals by sudden impact.

Powered by three large rubber cords, the slingshot is loaded by means of a winch and fires a 3-foot aluminum rod at a similar rod. Electrical strain gauges taped to the struck rod record the impact.

Give Them Some Porridge, They Will Go Away!

NEWBERRY (AP) — The boldness of a couple of hungry bears might have been one reason why Milton Bachman and his family left when they did after a vacation at Bell Lake, northwest of Newberry.

• • •

Bachman, executive secretary of the Michigan Bar Assn. at Lansing, returned to his cottage with his wife and son after a fishing trip Tuesday to find two bears sniffing at the front steps and screen door.

Shouts drove the animals off and the Bachmans scampered into the cottage.

The bears, unperturbed, came back. Bachman picked up an old shotgun, long unused, and fired a shot. The bears retreated, this time for good.

The Bachmans left for Lansing early yesterday.

Liz Taylor Splits With Husband; No Divorce Yet

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — After 4½ years of marriage and two children, actress Elizabeth Taylor and Michael Wilding have decided to separate.

• • •

The couple plans a legal separation but no divorce at this time, her studio announced last night.

The announcement surprised no one. Hollywood has been buzzing with rumors for a year that there was trouble between the beauteous 24-year-old star and Wilding, 20 years her senior. The rumors were always denied.

An MGM publicity department spokesman made this announcement for the couple.

• • •

"Much careful thought has been given to the step we are taking. It is being done so we will have an opportunity to thoroughly work out our personal situation."

This was not amplified.

The Wildings, both British born, married in London Feb. 21, 1952. They have two children, Michael Howard, 3, and Christopher Edward, 1.

• • •

Miss Taylor still is under contract to MGM and will leave within 10 days for location in Kentucky. Wilding, who asked for and received his release from the same studio, will depart shortly for Sweden to make a film. He will be gone two or three months.

Make Mistakes and Suffer Unhappiness in Old Age

By RAY HENRY
AP Writer

Making mistakes in growing old means you'll be unhappy when you get there.

* * *

That could almost be the motto of the New York State joint legislative committee on the problems of the aging. For, that's what it found after interviewing families with older people in their midst, talking with older people and studying their problems and how they live.

After its search, the committee, almost reluctantly it seems, came to the conclusion that "there is a cluster of common mistakes which are made by many as they grow older which tend to aggravate their plight, and speed up the aging process."

It found these to be the ten most common mistakes:

—Failure to prepare in advance for retirement. Although most people these days are now covered by various retirement systems, few plan for retirement. The result for many is dissatisfaction reflected by mental and physical ailments.

LOSS OF INDEPENDENCE

—Failure to keep independence of spirit. Often, when older people lose their jobs, they become unnecessarily dependent on children or relatives for support. They soon lose stature and independence in their own eyes and in the eyes of others. They become a limp load to be carried.

—Failure to adjust to income levels of later years. The income of retirement is often inadequate, but many older people attempt to keep up with their former living standards. This often increases discontent and a hastening of decay.

—Failure to learn something new. Older people fear to attempt to learn a new skill, a new hobby, or adopt a new interest; it may be they fear failure; it may be they are too tired. This must be fought or another source of staying happy is cut off.

FACE REALITY

—Failure to face reality. Many older people leave their lifetime environment for the ideal of the "farm-life" or they move to the city. And, they often awaken to the sad fact that they have broken off with old friends and neighborhoods they knew so well. Developing new ties is not easy at any age, much less in later years.

—An unwillingness to slow down or, the opposite, abruptly halting a high pressure existence. Either course is wrong. To save serious wear and tear on mind and body, slowing down should be gradual and with ease.

—A failure to serve others. Service to others, in churches, civic organizations, etc., keeps a person active and gives a feeling of usefulness.

—A tendency to live for the past instead of the future. It's more important as you get older not to emphasize past glories but to concentrate on future achievement.

—Failure to adjust to the younger generation. Many older people want to be the boss and interfere with the bringing up of children. This causes tensions within the family and often makes the older people feel useless.

—Failure to have outside interests. The concentration on a career or, for women, the family, often results in a shriveled personality which is incapable of growth and incapable of adapting to the new stages of life. Thus, a great void develops in older age and brings on unhappiness.

—In charting these mistakes, the New York committee, headed by Sen. Thomas Desmond, did so in the hope that they might help those young enough to learn to keep clear of the mistakes. They described many of the older people they talked with as tragic cases, "all the more tragic because they could have been prevented."

Texas Fifth in Growth

AUSTIN — Texas' increase in population between 1950 and 1955 ranked it fifth in growth in the nation for that period. But with a population of some 8,563,000 persons there still is space for 5,000,000 more residents before the state's population density equals that of the country as a whole.

Tigers Steal Feast From Yank Platters, 8-4, 4-3

NEW YORK (AP) — With a couple of young righthanded pitchers showing the way, the Detroit Tigers offer proof that the American League title might not be handed to the New York Yankees on a silver platter.

The fearsome Yankees still hold a comfortable 9½ game edge over the second place Cleveland, but the Tigers' twin victory over the New Yorkers yesterday took some of the steam out of predictions that the A. L. race is all but over.

Fast-balling Paul Foytack, sometimes wild and sometimes brilliant, came up with one of his good days in hurling the Bengals to an 8-4 triumph in the opening contest. Foytack struck out 10 men and walked five while limiting the Yankees to seven hits, including Mickey Mantle's 31st home run.

Frank Lary, who casts a magic spell over Yankee batters nearly every time he faces them, did it again the second game with the help of a home run and a dazzling 9th inning catch by Al Kaline.

Lary collected his 4th victory over the Yankees, 4-3, giving up six hits. He has lost only one game against them this year.

The Yanks hadn't lost a game since the opener of a July 4 doubleheader at Boston and had taken 18 of their last 20 going into the doubleheader yesterday.

Kaline's 14th homer off Mickey McDermott broke a 3-3 tie in the sixth inning of the second game after the Tigers jumped on Tom Sturdivant and Don Larsen for 12 hits in the opener.

The second game ended as Kaline leaped into the air to grab Mantle's long drive to the right center field bleacher wall. The blow came with two out and two men on base.

* * *

Mantle's big homer, coming in the first inning of the opener, left him eight games ahead of Babe Ruth's record pace in 1927. Ruth hit his 31st in the 94th game. The Yanks have played 86 games.

The Tigers sent Sturdivant to the showers in a six-run 6th inning to wrap up the opener before 23,169 fans. Two-run doubles by Bill Tuttle and Harvey Kuenn and a two-run single by Charley Maxwell provided the ammunition as 11 men went to bat against Sturdivant and reliefer Larsen.

Sturdivant suffered his 3rd defeat while Foytack went all the way for his 7th victory against six defeats.

The opener, ending the Tigers' three-game losing streak included three for Bill Tuttle and two each for Maxwell, Ray Boone and Jim Brideweser.

The Tigers close their four-game series with the Yankees today, with Steve Gromek (5-5) getting the pitching assignment against Tommy Byrne (4-1).

Lesser Scents Sub-Par Play

HUNTINGTON, W.Va. (AP) — Pat Lesser, the defending champ from Seattle, felt she might be in for some sub-par golf for a change today in the quarter-finals of the Women's Western Amateur Tournament.

* * *

She remarked pointedly after winning a tense 1-up match yesterday with Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio, that she hadn't been able to snare a birdie in three rounds on the par 72, 6,220-yard Guyan County Club course.

The 21-year-old Miss McIntire knocked off three, and two of them on the 16th and 17th threw a tremendous scare into Miss Lesser. They suddenly cut her three hole advantage to one.

* * *

The only match to rival the drama of the Lesser-McIntire struggle was between the veteran Mrs. Mack Porter of Havertown, Pa., and a 17-year-old half pint, Clifford Ann Creed of Opelousas, La. Mrs. Porter, who was national champion when Miss Creed was 10 years old, was pushed all the way to the 19th hole before she could win.

All the other matches were comfortable victories for the favored.

Miss Anne Quast, the best shooter so far by being only one over par for the 52 holes she has played downed Mrs. Paul Dye Jr. of Indianapolis, 3 and 2.

Miss Quast was the tournament medalist with a two-under-par 70, lowest qualifying score in the long history of the Women's Western Golf Assn.

She will meet Anne Richardson of Columbus, Ohio, 6 and 4 conqueror of Betty Kerby of Akron, Ohio.

Bardstown Runs Away From Class Field at Arlington Park

CHICAGO (INS)—Turf followers enthusiastically hailed the arrival of another handicap star on the racing scene today — Calumet Farm's Bardstown, which won the $60,400 Equipoise mile at Arlington Park yesterday.

Bardstown, a four-year-old dark bay gelding which never raced until this year because of injuries, ran away from a classy field of 14 other stakes performers to gain permanent possession of a huge silver trophy worth $18,000 plus first money of $37,300 for his owners.

Skipper Bill was second, two lengths behind Bardstown and five lengths ahead of the 3rd horse, Sir Tribal. Dogoon, which set a scorching pace for six furlongs, faded to fifth behind Delta.

The winner's time of 1:35 3/5 was 1 3/5 second off Equipoise's track mark, but the manner in which Bardstown won indicated he could have done much better if pressed.

It was the 5th victory in eight races for Bardstown and his first stakes triumph. He never has been out of the money.

Andonian Given Coaching Post

Publinx Champ Will Handle Chiefs' Cross-Country Squad

Mike Andonian, 1956 Michigan Publinx golf champion, today was named coach for Pontiac High School cross-country squad. He is a mathematics instructor at the high school, and helped out this spring with the Chiefs' golf squad.

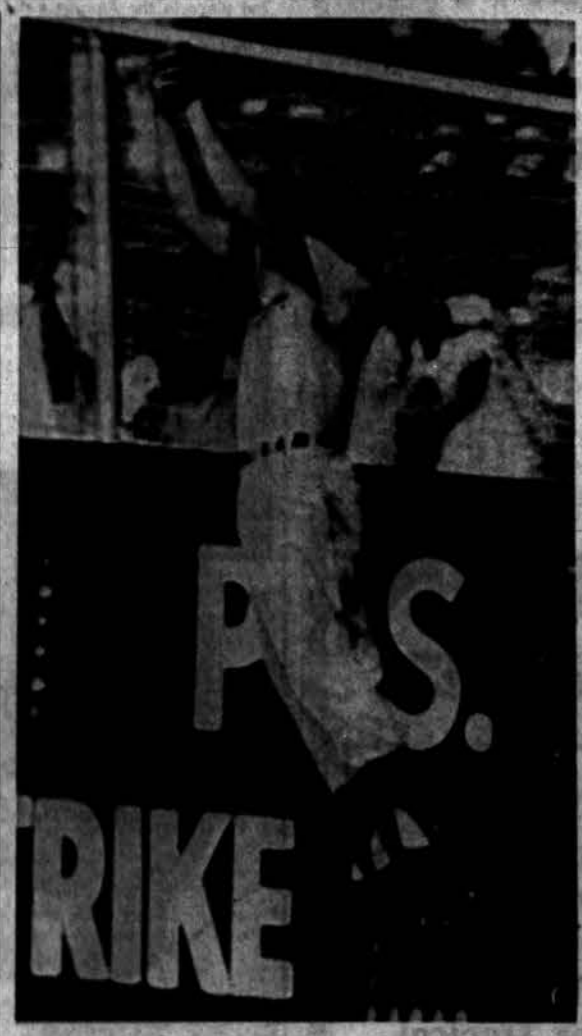

Andonian is a "freshman coach", today's appointment being his 1st effort along that line. He will also assist new track coach Dean Wilson with the 1957 spring track work.

"We believe Andonian will make a good contribution to the coaching work at Pontiac High," athletic director Tom Dodson said this morning announcing the appointment.

Mike succeeds Wally Schloerke, who quit coaching at the end of this year's term.

NEW JOB — Mike Andonian (above) today was appointed cross-country coach for Pontiac High School. He will also aid in the regular spring track coaching duties, athletic director Tom Dodson announced today.

GAME SAVER — Al Kaline, Detroit Tiger right fielder, leaps high into the air to grab Mickey Mantle's bid for a game-winning home run in Yankee Stadium yesterday. There were two outs with the score 4-3 in favor of the Tigers in the 9th when the Yankee slugger hit what looked like a sure homer. The Tigers won both games, 8-4 and 4-3.

STREAK SNAPPERS — Al Kaline, whose sensational catch in the 9th inning saved the game against the Yankees yesterday gets a happy hug from Frank Lary who was the winner in the second game, 4-3. It was Lary's 8th win of the season. Kaline also homered in the game.

Red Sox Moving Up

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After a false start, it looks as if Boston's Red Sox are on their way at last, just as Ted Williams predicted a couple of weeks back. Trouble is, they're sprinting on a treadmill in that American League race.

Williams, blaming early Sox disappointments on injuries, illness and sore arms, figured the Bostons were healthy and ready to go. After being side-tracked by New York, the Red Sox now have won 10 of 12, skipping past Chicago into third place and to within 6 points of runner-up Cleveland.

They closed in on the Indians yesterday, beating Kansas City 7-3 as Mel Parnell followed up his Saturday no-hitter with a seven-hit job that was good enough.

The Yankees, however, still lead the pack by a plush 9½ games—even after Detroit ended their winning streak at 11 games with an 8-4 and 4-3 doubleheader sweep. Cleveland split at Washington, losing 7-5 and winning 11-1. The White Sox were knocked off by Baltimore 4-3 for their 11th straight defeat — longest slump in the majors this season.

In the National, there wasn't one sign of a player brawl as Milwaukee re-established its two-game lead with a 7-3 decision over the New York Giants. Brooklyn defeated second-place Cincinnati 6-3. Rain held Pittsburgh and St. Louis to a 1-1 tie called in the top of the 10th. Philadelphia swept the Chicago Cubs 6-4 and 6-1.

* * *

The Red Sox, enjoying their best surge since winning 14 of 16 in June of 1955, have gained only a half game on New York but have packed away 8½ games against Chicago and 4½ against Cleveland.

A four-run eighth inning against Troy (1-9) Herriage kept them going yesterday. Jackie Jensen's single broke a 3-all tie and Don Buddin added a two-run double in the rally. Parnell won his fourth but lost his no-hit touch quickly—the first two men he faced singled.

* * *

The Indians swung free and easy in the nightcap, but lost righthander Early Wynn in the second inning when he was socked on the chin by Jose Valdivielso's line drive. Sixteen stitches were needed to close the gash. Pete Runnels and Jim Lemon homered for a 4-0 lead before Herb Score could get a man out in the opener and Ed FitzGerald then homered in a two-run seventh that won it against reliefer Bob Feller. Vic Wertz hit his 20th and 21st home runs for the Tribe.

* * *

A bases-loaded, two-out error by third baseman Fred Hatfield gave Baltimore the winning run in the ninth for the Birds' sixth straight victory. Morrie Martin, late of the White Sox, won in relief after stopping a tying Chicago rally in the ninth. The Chicago slump is the longest in the AL since Baltimore lost 14 in a row during August of 1954.

Longden Set Down at Hollywood Track

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Hollywood Park's stewards have suspended jockey Johnny Longden for the balance of the meeting for interference last Tuesday that caused the disqualification of Poona II in the Los Angeles Handicap.

Longden was scheduled to ride the unbeaten Count of Honor in the $75,000 Westerner Saturday.

Hitchcock Seen Most Likely to Replace Harris

NEW YORK (INS) — Sportscaster Harry Wismer says coach Billy Hitchcock will be named to replace Bucky Harris as manager of the Detroit Tigers at the end of this season.

Wismer said last night he had it on good authority that when Detroit's new management takes over Oct. 1, they will remove Harris.

Annual Union Golf Tourney on Saturday at Municipal

The eighth annual UAW Region 1-B golf tournament will be held Saturday at the Pontiac Municipal Golf Course. Action gets under way at 9 a.m.

Competition will be featured in three categories—men's individual medal, women's individual medal, and four-man team total.

Play will be conducted in flights grouped according to handicaps. Prizes will be awarded to gross and net winners in each division and in every flight.

Tournament director Al Borniak reports that entries have been received from UAW and CIO members in Adrian, Monroe, Howell, Birmingham and Detroit, as well as Pontiac. About 90 golfers are entered at this time.

All CIO members in UAW Region 1-B are eligible to enter the men's division. Immediate relatives (wives, sisters, and daughters) are qualified to enter the women's division. Post entries will be accepted until 10 o'clock Saturday morning.

Charles Cappell, a member of Local 594, was last year's champion at the Municipal layout.

The tournament is sponsored by the Oakland County UAW Recreation Council.

Shoots 32 Low Net

Yesterday's Silver Lake Women's Golf League action attracted 29 players for the weekly tournament, with Mrs. Myron O'Dell turning in a 32 for low net. Low gross for the day went to the season-long leader in that department, Mrs. Elbert Looney, with 53. Mrs. William Merritt had low putt total of 16.

Canadian Wins Rich Swim

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Cliff Lumsden of Toronto is $5,000 richer today after finishing only a hand ahead of runner-up Tom Park in the 25-mile world championship swim around Besacon Island.

* * *

During the last 10 miles of yesterday's race, Lumsden and Park, defending champion from Lakewood, Calif., fought stroke for stroke. Lumsden won the race in 9 hours, 51 minutes, a half hour slower than Park's record set in the 1954 inaugural. Park's time was 9:51:00.2.

Greta Anderson, the Danish-born 1948 Olympic winner in the 100-meter freestyle, received $1,500 as the first woman across the finish line. Her time was 10 hours, 17 minutes.

Record Entry List

124 Pairs in Birmingham Invitational

By H. GUY MOATS

A record field of 124 teams today began qualifying for Birmingham Country Club's popular best-ball invitational tournament. Most of Southeastern Michigan's top club stars were among the entries in what is expected to be the closest and, one of the most interesting of the series.

Today's round will cover 18 holes, with qualifiers placing in a number of flights besides the championship division, where only one of the 1955 championship team is back. Elmer Ellstrom, who won the long match grind a year ago, paired with Pat Schwab, will probably team with brother Ralph for this one. Schwab has turned pro. He now is associated with a Sandusky O. golf club.

The Ellstrom team should be a formidable pair. Both have long been in the top roster of district shotmakers, and are rated a good chance at the title.

Others mentioned as threats include Red Run's Chuck Kocsis and Birmingham's Jimmy Nick; Jim Riddell of Oakland Hills and Don Dawson of Red Run who qualified last Sunday with a 68; Dick Wibel of Bloomfield Hills and Jim Kraus of Pine Lake (one of PL's fine golfing twins) who also qualified Sunday with 71. Several other Sunday qualifiers were G. I. Connely and Harry Martin of Birmingham CC with 71; Roy Bergen of Grosse Ile and Birmingham's Dr. Frank Lovell, with 70.

Match play begins Friday and 18-hole matches will be played that day and Saturday, with the semifinal and final rounds of 18 holes each on Sunday.

Saturday's dinner-dance is one of the big social affairs of the tourney.

Junior Leaguer Gets No-Hitter

Two rival Boys Club teams locked horns in a Class F Junior League baseball game Wednesday at Columbia - Joslyn and pitcher Dave Jones hurled his 2nd no-hitter of the season as Boys Club No. 1 whitewashed the No. 2 squad, 13-0.

Aside from Jones' mound feat, yesterday was a bad day for pitchers in the city's Junior leagues.

In other 'F' contests, Matthews-Hargreaves scored an 11-1 triumph over Arnold Drug, the Clarkston Wolves bowed to the West Side Kiwanis by a 15-3 margin, and Osmun's outslugged GMC, 17-12.

Gingellville downed the Oxford Wildcats, 11-5, and the Clarkston Merchants trimmed the Mets, 13-4, in Class E tilts.

The Auburn Heights Boys Club shellacked Wing Lake, 27-4 and Pontiac Boys Club blanked the Senators, 18-0, in Knothole League scraps at Jaycee Park.

Extra-Hole Bogey Beats Mrs. DeBolt

A bogey-4 on the par 3 second extra hole yesterday cost Mrs. R. F. DeBolt of Pontiac her overtime match with Mrs. R. G. Martel in the weekly WMGA tourney at Bald Mountain layout. The women had tied over regulation routs with 83s. Mrs. Martel bagged a par after both halved the 1st extra hole of the playoff.

Mrs. DeBolt's card was 44-39—83. Mrs. Martel had 42-42—83.

Drayton Drug Crushes White Brothers Squad

Drayton Drug banged out 11 hits and took advantage of eight walks and 10 errors to wallop White Brothers, 18-1, in a Waterford Township League softball game Wednesday night at Drayton Plains. The runaway contest was halted after five innings.

Stu Hutchinson punched out two safeties and Gene Shell slammed a bases-loaded triple in the 1st inning to spark the assault against three hurlers. Jack Nelson pitched a two-hitter for Drayton, with catcher Sid Gregory making both blows.

Win Streak Reaches 17 for Unbeaten GM Nine

The true measure of a winning baseball team is its ability to produce in the clutch. General Motors demonstrated this fact convincingly Wednesday at Wisner Field and consequently gained its 17th straight victory in the Class A City Baseball League.

Last week the Coachers rallied in the 7th inning to score a 7-6 triumph over Elks No. 723. Yesterday undefeated GMC severed a 2-2 deadlock with a four-run outburst in the bottom half of the 6th stanza to defeat Griff's Grill, 6-2.

Griff's staged a two-run uprising in its half of the 6th to knot the count. Dick Goldsworthy, who owned a no-hit no-run performance entering the inning, walked Bill Graham and Dick Ayling and successive singles by Dave Zittel and Dayt Patterson drove him from the mound. Warren Hagyard came to the rescue and was credited with the win.

Pitcher Zeke Morris was the victim of GMC's winning rally. Walks to Jerry Dorr and Hagyard, a fielder's choice, an infield error and back-to-back doubles by Terry Thomas and Judge Booker continued GMC's league supremacy. All the damage occurred after two men were retired.

The Coachers tallied twice in the 2nd inning on Booker's single, a hit batsman, a fielder's choice and a single by Wes Roberts. Booker and Roberts led GMC's six-hit attack with two safeties apiece.

Player Ejected From Game

GMC Wins on Forfeit After Rhubarb

Royal Bar was placed on probation for the remainder of the season after a display of unsportsmanlike conduct during a crucial game with GMC to dominate the scene in Wednesday night's City Softball League program.

The Royal team, engaged in critical battle with the coachers for 2nd place in the American division, refused to continue playing when its 3rd baseman was ejected from the game for making uncomplimentary remakrs to the umpire.

After a three-minute warning by the chief arbitrator to resume action or forfeit, which was unheeded, a 7-0 decision was awarded to GMC. The contest, at Beaudette Park, was in the 2nd inning at the time with the Coachers holding a 1-0 lead. A post-rhubarb conference with league director Jim Jones resulted in Royal Bar's probationary sentence for the balance of the schedule.

Hitters enjoyed a prosperous evening in other softball games played last night. Richard's Tavern trounced Pontiac Select-a-Drink, 13-5, with a 14-hit attack against two pitchers in a National loop game at Beaudette.

In girls' league action at North Side Park, Katy Boykins, Margaret Liddy and Roberts all clouted home runs to pace North Side Auto Parts to a 9-2 verdict over GMC and Gingellville rapped 17 hits for an easy 17-7 win over Michigan Bell.

Leggett, Taylor Sign for TV Studio Bout

DETROIT (AP)—Ell Leggett of Detroit and Chuck Taylor will meet in an eight-round lightweight bout next Tuesday in a "studio fight" at Windsor, Ont.

The bout will be televised (CKLW-TV) starting at 10:30 p.m. (EST).

Winner will move into the role of No. 1 contender for the Michigan lightweight crown now held by Kenny Lane, of Muskegon.

Tom Keane, Dartmouth College golf coach, is a former president of the New Hampshire PGA.

Team on Probation

City League Director Rules on Forfeit Game

Jim Jones, city softball league director, issued the following statement in regard to the rhubarb and forfeiture of one of the games last night.

"The Royal Bar forfeiture of last night was most unfortunate and unusual in Pontiac softball. In three years of competition in local softball leagues, the players and manager of that team have gained a fine reputation.

"Last night, however, when Royal Barw' third baseman was justifiably ejected from the game for making an unsportsmanslike remark to the plate umpire, the team proceeded to stage a demonstration which also justifiably led the plate umpire to declare the forfeiture after play did not resume within period of time ordered by the umpire," he said.

After the forfeit to GMC the following league rule was pointed out to the Royal Bar team.

* * *

"A team whose game is declared forfeited by the umpire due to unwillingness to play by players or manager or sponsor, shall have all of its players, managers and sponsors automatically suspended from all recreational activities sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department for two years from the date of forfeit."

In view of the excellent past record of the Royal Bar team, and the assurances made by its members of good conduct in the future, the city softball director made the decision that Royal Bar could continue in 1956 softball play, and its members would be placed on probation for the remainder of the season.

Underdog Gains Unanimous Call

CHICAGO (AP) — Ellsworth (Spider) Webb, an 11-5 underdog making his first 10-round start, scored a unanimous decision over experienced Holly Mims of Washington, D.C., last night in a dull televised bout in the Chicago Stadium.

Webb, 23, 1952 American Olympic champion just two months out of the Army, was the favorite on all scoring cards as he slapped Mims almost at will and got little punishment in return except in the early rounds. Webb weighed 157½ and Mims 157 for the middleweight bout.

Referee Frank Sikora scored it 100-89 under the Illinois system of 10 points per round for the winner. Judge Harold Marovitz scored it 99-91 and Judge Spike McAdams, 97-90, The Associated Press score card favored Webb 99-92.

Mims, No. 10 ranking middleweight and a well-known spoiler with a record of 40-15-5 before the bout, acted as if he wished he had stayed at home. In the final rounds many of the slim crowd of 1,478 acted as if they wished they had stayed home, too. They booed heartily.

Union Lake Easy Winner

Union Lake Lumber scored an easy 10-1 victory over Drayton Five & Ten in a Waterford Little League softball game Wednesday night at Drayton Plains. Jerry Andre collected three hits and Bob Nestor made two safeties to lead Union Lake's 10-hit attack.

Oldtimer 9 Meets Ex-Major Leaguers

Pontiac Oldtimers baseball club tangles with one of its most colorful opponents of the season, Saturday at 8 p.m. in Detroit. The Detroit crew boasts a lineup of former major league players headed by the irrepressible Paul (Diz) Trout. Trout is expected to take a turn on the mound.

* * *

Kenny Mayhew and George Bone are named possible starters for Pontiac, Manager Bud Leslie says.

* * *

Pontiac players are requested to meet Saturday at the VFW hall, south Saginaw street, at 5:30 p.m. to make the Detroit trip together.

Pros Prime for National PGA

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

CANTON, Mass. (AP)—At an unfinished golf club, an unsettled, endlessly-argued question will be revived tomorrow when play begins in the 38th Professional Golfers Assn. championship.

• • •

That question is whether the familiar, sometimes - monotonous stroke competition or the man-against-man, sudden death match play is the best way of settling this contest, which, in effect, decides the championship of all the golf professionals.

It has been argued for years, and the debate was revived as a hot issue this year when the PGA eliminated the customary on-the-scene qualifying rounds. Now 128 players — survivors of the sectional qualifying tests and top performers who qualify automatically—will get down to knocking heads on the first day — by next Tuesday only two will be left to fight it out in the 36-hole final.

• • •

The tricky 6,356-yard Blue Hill Country Club course — a bit short by ordinary championship standards—looks like an ideal place to try out a new form of tournament play.

Blue Hill lost its clubhouse in a disastrous fire last winter. Reconstruction has been going on rapidly, and the course itself wasn't harmed. But the situation as play began was such that one local observer said he wouldn't be surprised to see a player reach into the cup at the 18th and pull out a carpenter or bricklayer.

The all-match tournament, the first in PGA history, seems to be just what the 'home' pros want. They form a big majority of the more than 3,000 members. In effect it's a private party for the guys who spend most of the year selling clubs, giving lessons and listening to the complaints of members about the brown patch on the 13th green.

• • •

The touring pros, who hog the headlines week after week, are tolerated mainly because they're the ones who draw the galleries. Yet they form the powerful minority which insists that 72-hole medal-play tournaments are a fairer test of golf. They draw strong support from such players as Ben Hogan and Open champion Cary Middlecoff, who think the five days of the PGA championship are too tough for them.

• • •

There's a sharp contrast in ideas and in types of golf. Results of the last half dozen years in this tournament indicate there's much to be said for the stay-at-homes. Steadiness is the big factor in stroke play. In match competition, a player can survive one miserable hole and still win.

• • •

Looking back to the 1956 Open, the seven on the 17th hole that cost Ted Kroll his chance of winning the title would have meant the loss of only one hole in the PGA.

• • •

Of the 12 finalists in the last six PGA championships, only one —Cary Middlecoff—ever has won the Open title. Sam Snead, a great golfer and often close in the Open, has won three PGA championships. Blond, snub-nosed Walter Burkemo has been a PGA finalist three times in five years without ever raising much fuss in medal competition. Hard-working Doug Ford, the defending champion, hasn't done too much on the pro tour although he accomplished a unique feat last year by winning the qualifying medal and the title on his first try.

Kelly Captures Speedway Race

Rusty Kelly captured the 25-lap feature in Wednesday night's modified hardtop auto racing show at the Pontiac Speedway. Mickey Katlin took runner-up honors and Dorris Sanders finished 3rd.

Stan Nawrock won the 12-lap semifinal, Carm Ragatz took the dash, and Loyce Cockrell and Katlin gained pursuit victories. Heat winners were Ed Lang, Jerry Lafner, Don Irish and Sanders. Kelly posted the best qualifying time in the preliminary trials.

The largest Wednesday evening crowd of the season, 1,561, watched the races on the M59 track. John Wallace spun out of two races, but was still around for the feature. John Minor cleared the wall on the back stretch to delay action for five minutes and Bud Wells was rammed by George Schooley when his car stalled during the feature event.

• • •

Modified hardtops will run again Sunday at the Pontiac oval. Time trials start at 5:30, with the 1st race scheduled at 7 p.m.

Braves Are 1st to Top Million

MILWAUKEE (INS) — The Milwaukee Braves today became the first major league team this year to hit the million mark in attendance.

A total of 32,960 cheering fans last night pushed the attendance figure to 1,006,500 as they watched the Braves defeat the last place New York Giants, 7 to 3, and take a two game lead over second place Cincinnati.

• • •

The Braves are host again today in the final game of the three-game series with the Giants.

Picked AL All-Stars

Scribe Pays Off Wager With Putt Into Crater

TOKYO (AP)—An American newsman who picked the wrong baseball team teed off at the base of Mt. Fuji at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday.

Ten hours, 50 minutes, 27 golf balls and 1,275 strokes later, former Floridan Don Schuck sank a 150-yard "putt" in the crater of the famed 12,395-foot dormant volcano.

• • •

"It was the best drive of the day," Schuck mused as he nursed his blistered hands, "and the one putt in my life I knew I couldn't miss—that's the biggest gold cup in the world."

Mt. Fuji's almost perfect circle crater is 2,000 feet across.

Schuck, 34, came to Japan five months ago as a civilian newsman for the U.S. military newspaper Stars and Stripes. He previously had worked on the Sarasota News, Sarasota, Fla.

• • •

Amazed Japanese climbers shook their heads and muttered about "those crazy Americans" as Schuck drove the ball upwards in the slow 11-mile climb to the edge of the crater. He sank his putt at 4:20 p.m.—10 minutes short of 11 hours after he teed off.

So far as known, Schuck's feat was a definite first. There's no record, or even rumor, of an American trying it before. Japanese golfing circles say no Japanese "has ever been foolish enough in the past to try it."

• • •

Most of the time Schuck had to use a runner-up iron and gently scoop hit the ball over rocks and out of lava crevices. A good many shots were under 10 yards and a few resulted in net losses when the ball would bounce back into a playable position.

A hook or slice and the ball would disappear into the misty cloudy atmosphere hanging over the upper part of the mountain. In such cases, Schuck would drop a ball in playable position at the nearest point where the ball was last seen.

• • •

"Now I'm not saying I proved anything but this, except maybe that I don't know how to pick baseball winners." Schuck paused to gingerly test a blister with a thumb nail.

• • •

"I was so sure the Americans (league team) would win the All-Star (game) that I got foolish and said I'd drive a golf ball up Fuji if the Nationals won.

"Next time, I'll keep my big mouth shut or bet money."

In Chesapeake Bay

18 Yachts to Make Start

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — The scratch boat for the 15th Virginia Cruising Cup race scheduled to start here today was Proton, but Rubicon was the yacht to beat in the 123-mile jaunt down Chesapeake Bay.

• • •

Eighteen boats were to leave here at 11 a.m. for the race to Hampton Roads, Va.

Proton, a 48-foot cutter skippered by Charles Price III of the Gibson Island Yacht Club, will give away time handicaps to all entries. Price will be making his first start in the cruising division.

The Rubicon, however, won the race last year and in 1951. At the helm will be Miller Sherwood, Baltimore oil company executive, who has won the event three times.

Sherwood, who also sails out of Gibson Island Yacht Club, won with Rubicon twice and with Cygnet in 1949. He is the only skipper to have won more than once.

The race, depending on weather conditions, usually requires more than 24 hours.

Entries, showing boat, skipper and club, include:

CLASS A

Proton, Charles Price III, Gibson Island Yacht Club.
Fun, Tom Close, Sailing Club of The Chesapeake.
Dirigo, Larry Newark, Patapsaut Sailing Assn.

CLASS B

Lively, R. T. Miller, Naval Academy Sailing Assn.
Chance, Henry Wise Jr., Gibson Island Yacht Club.
Celerity, R. M. Brown Jr., Hampton YC
Desire, Tom Raby, Gibson Island YC
Falcon, Dave Dunnigan, Gibson Island YC
Rubicon, Miller Sherwood, Gibson Island YC
Dutch Treat, A. R. Meyer, Tred Avon YC
Lang Syne, John D. Lang, Sailing Club of Chesapeake.

CLASS C

Sprite, Dr. Alger Doland, West River Sailing Club.
Yeoteiler II, Laury Denning, Patapsaut Sailing Assn.
Alaris, Dr. Charles Iliff, Gibson Island YC
Motu, B. C. Jones, Hampton YC
Mocking Bird, Ralph Wiley, Sailing Club of Chesapeake.
Celerity, R. P. Lots, Portsmouth Boat Club.
Sea Star, Vernon Eberwine, Portsmouth Boat Club.

Canadiens Deal With Cleveland

MONTREAL (AP) — The Montreal Canadiens of the National Hockey League have traded left-winger Calum (Baldy) McKay to the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League for left-winger Joe Lund and defenseman Tom Williams.

Frank Selke, managing director of the Canadiens, said there was no cash involved. McKay played last year for Montreal Royals of the Quebec Hockey League.

Williams is a veteran of eight years service with the Barons and Lund has played with St. Louis, Buffalo, Providence and Cleveland in the AHL. Both Williams and Lund probably will be assigned to the new AHL entry in Rochester.

WEDNESDAY'S HOME RUNS

Kaline, Tigers; Vernon, Red Sox; Mantle, Yankees; Pendy, Cubs; Werts, 2, Strickland, Indians; Gardner, Orioles; Runnels, J. Lemon, FitzGerald, Senators; Thomson, Braves, Amoros, Dodgers, Post, Redlegs.

TOSSING HER WEIGHT AROUND — Mrs. Earlene Brown may be America's answer to Russia's powerful field events women in the Olympic Games. The 21-year-old, 222-pound Los Angeles housewife and mother of a seven months old youngster holds the American record for the eight-pound shot, 48 feet 5 inches, and the discus, 136 feet 6½ inches.

Junior Legion Action

Flint, Owosso in 2 Tilts

Owosso's solid Junior American Legion baseball club today rated a good favorite to capture the zone playoffs at Birmingham High School diamond.

The well-balanced upstate club disposed of Rochester in yesterday afternoon's 2nd zone game, and today meets Flint's Buick post in the title finale. This is a double bill, and if the clubs split, they'll have to come back Friday for another battle. Games were set 10 a.m., 2 p.m.

Flint tripped Rochester 5-4 in the morning game, and Owosso took the afternoon tilt from Rochester 13-4. Morning setto was a pitchers' battle with the losers outhitting the winners 9-7. Mike Gatza, Flint pitcher, also hit two successive two-run homers (5th and 6th innings). Fred Weaver homered for Rochester in the 4th.

Owosso clubbed Rochester pitchers in the afternoon game for 18 hits, marked by Mike Stephenson's grand-slam homer in the 5th. A dozen errors didn't help Rochester, either.

In regular 2nd round district games Wednesday evening, Pontiac took a forfeit from Waterford, and Birmingham defeated Berkley 6-3. Fred Bleakley was the winning pitcher, Roper the loser. Birmingham collected nine hits to seven for Berkley.

Zone results:

Flint	100	201	01x	5	7 3

Owosso	400	050	315	18	18 2
Rochester	100	030	000	4	6 13

Seeded Tennis Players Score

Last Detroit Hopeful Eliminated in National Clay Court Meet

CHICAGO (AP)—Favored men and women players continue to dominate the National Clay Courts Tennis Tournament and competed today for quarter-final positions in the singles divisions.

Shirley Fry, who recently won the Wimbledon championship and is top seeded in this tourney, beat Beverly Toland of St. Louis yesterday, 6-0, 6-2. Althea Gibson of New York City, seeded second, defeated Virginia Carpenter of Oak Park, Ill., 6-1, 6-1.

• • •

The men's singles also went according to pattern in third-round play yesterday with Art Larsen of San Leandro, Calif., and Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of Dallas, Tex., seeded No. 1 and 2 respectively, winning their matches.

• • •

Larsen beat George Stoesser of Monterey, Calif., 6-4, 6-2 and Bartzen breezed past Richard Potter of Detroit, 6-0, 6-1.

Alenjandro Olmedo of Los Angeles, a Peru Native who attended UCLA and is the National Intercollegiate champion, beat Jim Douglas of Palo Alto, Calif., 3-6, 6-2, 6-1.

• • •

Other newcomers who advanced in yesterday's play are Barry Mackay, 20, Big 10 champ from the University of Michigan, and Ron Holmberg, 18, Tulane freshman who won the Wimbledon junior title.

MacKay defeated Joaquin Reyes of Southern California, 5-7, 6-3, 6-4, and Holmberg defeated Robert Mark, Australian junior champion.

Detroit last spring had 18 players six feet or taller.

Gomez, Adcock Draw NL Fines

All's Well in "Hare and Hound" Melee

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Joe Adcock and Ruben Gomez—principals in Tuesday night's "hare and hound" melee—were agreed today that it would be best to forget about the incident.

Most of their teammates on the Milwaukee Braves and New York Giants seconded the motion.

• • •

National League President Warren Giles yesterday fined the Giants' righthander $250 and suspended him for three days and fined the big Braves' first baseman $100 as a result of their actions in the second inning of the game won by New York, 8-6, in 11 innings.

Gomez's first pitch nicked Adcock's right wrist. As Adcock, a powerfully built 210-pounder walked toward first base the two players exchanged words. Suddenly, Adcock wheeled and charged the mound like a maddened bull. Gomez, rubbing up the cover of a new ball, fired it at Adcock, who was about 20 feet away, and hit him on the left thigh.

• • •

Gomez, a slender Puerto Rican who weighs 170 pounds, made a bee line for his dugout, dodged a block thrown by Braves' third base Coach Johnny Riddle and reached sanctuary well ahead of Adcock and a swarm of Braves. Players from both sides milled about but no punches were thrown. Gomez and Adcock were ejected.

Big Joe, who had hit eight home runs in 10 previous games, said last night he had "no hard feelings toward Gomez."

• • •

"I've been hit four times by pitchers," he said. "I've had it up to here," he added, drawing his hand across his throat. "Sure, I got mad, but this is a new game. He probably wants to pitch again. I want to bat again. I make my money at the plate, not at first base."

Asked if Gomez had apologized to him, Adcock replied:

"Apologize to me? Maybe I should apologize to him. As far as I'm concerned I'm forgetting about the whole thing."

Gomez, reached at the Giants' hotel during last night's game won by the Braves, 7-3, said, "I've forgotten about it already." Then he added:

"Those things happen in baseball every day. They're part of the game. Supposing I go toward the first base line to cover a bunt and get spiked. Why should I get mad?

"Adcock stands too close to the plate and he moves slow. I didn't mean to hit him.

Gomez said he didn't think the bench jockeys around the league would get on him.

"It's all forgotten now," he said. "I'd rather be safe than sorry."

State Shrine Immortalizes 'Old Oaken Bucket' Author

BENTON HARBOR (AP)—"The Old Oaken Bucket" is more than a song to Manna Woodworth—it's a voice from the past.

* * *

In memory of his kin, Samuel Woodworth, who wrote the song, Manna has constructed a stone replica of the early day well with its wooden roof, oaken bucket and huge wooden crank.

Manna, director of the House of David orchestra, is proud of his musical ancestor. He is a great, great, great nephew of the author of the song.

The well, covered with flowers and vines, stands next to the Woodworth stone house. Here Manna and his wife keep mementoes of their own entertainment history which goes back 45 years.

PLAYS EIGHT INSTRUMENTS

Woodworth, who plays eight instruments has two brothers who are band leaders—Ammi C. Woodworth and Emerald Woodworth, both of Phoenix, Ariz. Mrs. Woodworth is a former member of the House of David women's orchestra.

If you visit the Woodworth house as many people do, since it houses the House of David Colony Library, Manna will tell you the story of his great, great, great uncle.

Samuel Woodworth was born in Massachusetts in 1784, the son of a Revolutionary War soldier. He traveled, learned the printing trade and wrote many plays, novels and poems.

* * *

In 1816, he wrote a poem called "The Old Oaken Bucket," which grew in fame to become his best remembered.

German's Process Still Used in Mine

ATLANTA—The American sulfur industry did not begin until Dr. Herman Frasch, a German pharmacist who came to this country at age 19, developed his plan to mine sulfur not as a solid but as a liquid.

* * *

He pumped the first melted sulfur in 1894. Commercial production, using the Frasch process, started in 1901.

Under it, three concentric pipes are driven into a sulfur deposit. Hot water is pumped down one pipe to melt the sulfur; compressed air is driven down another to force the sulfur to the surface through the third pipe.

* * *

The sulfur flows out like molasses and congeals into an odorless, yellow, rocklike mass that is more than 99 per cent pure sulfur. The newest mines still use this process.

Grains Firm Up, Trading Active

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains firmed following a steady opening on the board of trade today. Trading was fairly active but gains never extended very far.

* * *

Commission houses were on the buying side in all pits, possibly because of extension of the soil bank deadline, while professional traders gave support to wheat.

* * *

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅛ to ¼ higher, July $2.14¾; corn ¼ lower to ⅝ higher, July $1.54⅞; oats ⅛ to ⅞ higher, July 76; rye ¾ to 1 cent higher, July $1.40; soybeans ¾ lower to 1¼ higher, July $2.63¾; lard 7 to 23 cents a hundred pounds higher, July $11.30.

* * *

Main news factor in the market was the fact the Agriculture Department had granted farmers an additional week to sign up for the soil bank.

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Ernoe Geroe took over as Hungary's Communist party boss last night with a pledge that his country would not be the scene of a second Poznan and a bid for closer ties with Yugoslav President Tito.

* * *

Geroe, who holds the government post of first deputy premier, made clear his position soon after Matyas Rakosi, veteran party chief and long-time foe of Tito, resigned under fire. The beefy, bald old Red boss also quit the party's ruling Politburo he so long had dominated.

* * *

In his first speech to the party Central Committee, Geroe denounced Rakosi's "Stalinist" mistakes and promised quick reforms. He also called for a bigger police force, strong collective leadership and rigid party discipline.

The new party boss apologized to Tito "for past slanders" and promised to seek closer political and economic cooperation with Yugoslavia.

* * *

In his first speech to the Central Committee, Geroe declared, "It would be a grave danger not to draw the consequences of the Poznan uprising." He made clear he would use all means to avert any Hungarian repetition of the "bread and freedom" riots which rocked Poland and the Communist world on June 28.

* * *

"Our party must advocate broader democratization," he said. "Justified criticism has become stronger in Hungary. Our party must absorb the forces which are dissatisfied with the present situation."

Geroe has risen steadily through the party ranks. Before becoming deputy premier in Premier Andras Hegedues' regime, he ran the ministries of finance, state and communications.

In 1953, he took over as interior minister and thus gained control of Hungary's secret police.

Italian Painter in Luce Home Tells Other Cause

ROME (INS—A house painter who worked many times on the Villa Taverna, residence of U. S. Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce, suggested today insect spray, not paint, may have caused the poisoning which afflicted Mrs. Luce.

* * *

The chemical which caused the ambassador's serious illness was previously reported to have come from paint which flaked off the ceiling of the ambassador's bedroom.

* * *

But Nicola Pacella, who said he worked on Villa Taverna paint jobs for 20 years, said that Mrs. Luce's bedroom adjoins a rose arbor and that the arsenic compound used to spray the plants might have caused the poisoning.

* * *

Pacella said he was not hired to do the job the last time the bedroom ceiling was painted. The painters who did the work, he said, did "a sort of patch-up business." He said that "they used tar paper and painted on top of it."

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The audience at Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium got a charge out of the drinking fountains. Officials said a faulty valve permitted gas, used in charging the concessionaire's water lines, to back up into the drinking fountains.

Stocks Pick Up, Remain Mixed

NEW YORK (AP)—Interest picked up in the stock market early this afternoon but the pattern remained mixed.

Gains by pivotal stocks ranged from fractions to around 2 points while most losses among the leaders were confined to the 1-point range.

* * *

Turnover picked up after a mid-morning lull which followed the fairly active opening. Volume was estimated at around 2,300,000 shares compared with 2,530,000 yesterday.

American Telephone, which dropped 1⅜ yesterday on news of its record-breaking stock offering and issuance of rights to stockholders, was traded actively and up around a point after an uncertain start.

* * *

Today's early dullness in the market was relieved by gains of around 2 points by Cessna Aircraft and Amerada. Anaconda, Kennecott Copper, and U.S. Hoffman went ahead a point or better.

Rohm & Haas dropped another 4 points following yesterday's fall on disappointing first half earnings.

Steels remained mostly unchanged on the news that President Eisenhower would intervene if the nationwide strike remains deadlocked. Bethlehem, however, rose a fraction. Motors did little of anything.

* * *

Aside from Cessna, leading aircrafts were mixed as Boeing and United dipped around a point. Douglas rose only a fraction on news of an extra dividend paid similarly in previous quarters.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was down 10 cents to $188.10 with the industrials off 20 cents, the rails unchanged and the utilities up 10 cents.

Rails were irregular as Santa Fe and Chesapeake & Ohio gained small fractions while Southern Railway and Southern Pacific tilted off. Union Pacific dropped around a point.

Led by Amerada and Texas Co., which also advanced around a point, the oils showed about the firmest pattern. Sinclair and Standard Oil (New Jersey) were steady.

NO LONGER ON VIEW—Looking for all the world like a roll warmer, object, above, is now much too hot for anyone's diet. It's the stainless steel core of the nation's first nuclear reactor specifically designed for industrial research. Built by Atomics International, atomic fission (the splitting of atoms) takes place within the core, which lies at the heart of the reactor, operated by Armour Research Foundation of Illinois Institute of Technology at Chicago, Ill. It's a water-type reactor, with a power capacity potential of 50,000 watts.

New Stock Offer Eyed by AT&T

Present Holders Could Buy Single Share for Every 10 They Own

NEW YORK (INS) — American Telephone and Telegraph Co. announced plans yesterday to offer its more than 1,400,000 shareholders rights to buy additional stock at bargain prices.

* * *

Stockholders will be permitted to buy one new share at $100 for each 10 shares they currently hold.

About 5,750,000 shares of new stock will be involved. A. T. & T. said although the new stock issue is the largest direct offering ever made by an American corporation, it is in line with the requirements of the Bell System for new capital.

The company, which already has more shareholders than any other U. S. corporation, will receive $575,000,000 by sale of the stock.

Shareholders are to be given the option of making direct purchases or buying the new stock on a two-installment plan.

A special stockholder meeting will be held Sept. 7 to authorize the increase in the authorized stock required by the issuance of the rights.

Asked Alcoholism Cure —but Not This Way

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) — A 65-year-old man appearing before District Court Judge Anthony Kupka wanted to go to the Bridgewater State Farm for an alcoholism cure, the $100 way — or not at all. He told Judge Kupka he paid a $100 taxi fare to travel from Chicopee Falls to Bridgewater, where he was refused admittance to the state farm, a correctional institution.

He appealed to Bridgewater Police Chief Elmer Shaw who locked him up for drunkenness. Judge Kupka agreed he merited a cure and sentenced him to three months at the farm. But the man protested.

"I don't want to go this way," he said — but he did.

European Group May Visit Area

Industrial Heads Would See Automotive Plants, Other Oakland Firms

Industrial leaders from Europe may visit automotive and other plants in the Pontiac area next December, it was announced today by John H. Parsons, of Clarkston, a member of the Industrial Relations Board of the National Assn. of Manufacturers.

* * *

Parsons, owner of the Parsons Punch Corp. in Drayton Plains, said there was a good possibility European delegates would visit concerns in Oakland County during the tour.

The visit will be held in conjunction with the Third International Convention of Manufacturers, scheduled to take place in New York city.

It will be the second such visit of European leaders, with Latin American industrialists also being invited.

A short visit was made by a delegation from Europe in 1952. A group of 150 Americans toured factories in Europe in 1954. Parsons was among the U. S. delegates on the trip.

The 1956 visit by approximately 150 industry leaders will center around a discussion of leadership in such fields as nuclear energy, automation, and company organization, according to a letter received by Parsons.

Indians to Adopt 8 Palefaces at Annual Rite

HARBOR SPRINGS (AP) — Eight prominent Michigan men are to be adopted into the Ottawa Indian tribe tomorrow night at the 20th annual naming ceremony and pageant at Harbor Springs.

* * *

The pageant recalls settling of the area by white men who first established a permanent trading post in 1853.

It also is part of a diamond jubilee observance of the incorporation of the village of Little Traverse and changing its name to Harbor Springs.

The Michigan Indian Foundation lists the following who will receive Indian names:

Circuit Judge Edward H. Fenlon of Petoskey; Donald S. Leonard, candidate for the Republican nomination for governor; Will E. Hampton Sr., of Dearborn, former newspaper publisher at Charlevoix; Alfred Hanson, Grayling lumberman; Maurice Clausen, Detroit lumberman; Stephen Bartush, Detroit food firm executive; Victor F. Dickson, Detroit, and Anthony D. Sagostino, Birmingham manufacturer.

Records indicate that the average prison time served throughout the nation for all felonies is 21 months.

Hobby—Stock Market, Estate—$1,000,000

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A modest lumber salesman who seldom discussed his hobby—investing in the stock market—left an estate estimated at one million dollars.

He was Constantine Rodrigues, 55, who died July 12.

Members of his family said he was a serious, generous, quiet man of few words. He seldom discussed investments.

His will, filed in Probate Court along with a preliminary valuation provided equal trusts for his wife and his mother after payment of small specific bequests.

Vote Possible on Hells Canyon

Slim Margin Decision Expected to Settle Bill for Control of Dam Site

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Hells Canyon Bill, symbol of a sizzling political fight over public vs. private power, headed for a vote in the Senate today.

• • •

A slim margin of votes was expected to settle the issue of whether the government or the privately-owned Idaho Power Co., would build and operate power facilities on the Snake River between Oregon and Idaho.

Senators on both sides of the controversy debated late into last night, but there was a strict time limit on arguments scheduled to lead up to a vote this afternoon.

The bill is one of the last major issues remaining to be settled before the 84th Congress adjourns.

CAMPAIGN ISSUE

Regardless of the outcome, Democrats are certain to carry the battle into this year's presidential and congressional campaigns as part of their charge that the Eisenhower Administration has engaged in a "give-away" of natural resources.

The bill provides for federal construction and operation of a single high dam on the Snake river instead of three smaller dams which the Idaho Power Co. has been licensed to build.

The issue is expected to play a vital part in the election fight between Sen. Wayne Morse (D-Ore), and former Interior Secretary Douglas McKay, who is running on the GOP ticket to unseat Morse.

A 'MONSTROSITY'

Morse, chief sponsor of the bill, argued at length last night in its favor and renewed charges of "criminality" by the company in going ahead with some bridge construction without required state or federal approval.

Sen. Herman Welker (R-Ida), one of the senators opposing the bill, described the projected federal Hells Canyon project as a "monstrosity."

Challenging claims that the power development would have navigation and reclamation value, Welker said: "The only navigation would be some idiot in a rowboat hauling a coyote or a gopher."

Earlier, Sen. Richard L. Neuberger (D-Ore), charged the White House was exerting "unprecedented" pressure on Republicans to assure defeat of the bill.

• • •

This was in answer to a charge by Sen. Barry Goldwater (R-Ariz), that Democratic national chairman Paul M. Butler pressured Democratic leaders to call up the bill "to enhance Morse's chances of re-election."

Gas Station Burglar Takes 59 Quarts of Oil

The breakin of a White Lake Township gas station last night resulted in the theft of 59 quarts of oil, owner Alvin Wright of 9075 Julia Ave. told Oakland County Sheriff's deputies.

Also looted from the building at M59 and Teggerdine Rd., were two boxes of cigars, three cans of car polish and about $3 in change, Wright said. Entry was through a broken window.

THEIR OWN SPECIAL DELIVERY — Postal employe Sam Shinsky plays role of patient as the nation's first postal ambulance goes into service in Chicago, Ill. Postal employes purchased the "special delivery" wagon with proceeds of their own vending machine fund.

GI Loan Activity Takes Steep Drop

WASHINGTON (AP) — GI Home Loan applications and appraisals dropped sharply during June, the Veterans Administration said today.

• • •

Appraisal requests for proposed and existing homes totaled 65,141, the agency said. That is 14,017 under May and 25,384 under June 1955.

Last month the VA received 41,377 home loan applications — a drop of 3,873 from May and 17,361 under those in June a year ago.

A VA spokesman said the June statistics covered the May 26-June 25 period and that the Memorial Day holiday resulted in two fewer working days than in the previous reporting period.

He said primary reasons for the decrease were the fewer working days and a further tightening of mortgage money.

Prof, in 1874, Warned Against Paint Poison

LANSING (AP) — More than 80 years ago, a Michigan State University professor was warning against the type of arsenic poisoning blamed for the illness of Clare Luce Booth, U. S. ambassador to Italy.

• • •

In 1874, Prof. Robert C. Kedzie, professor of chemistry for the then Michigan Agricultural College, prepared a report outlining the dangers of poisoning from arsenic paint contained in certain types of green wallpaper.

The report, "Shadows from the Wall of Death," is still contained in the files of the State Health Department.

• • •

The MSU professor found that arsenic paint in the wallpaper could flake off and deposit a thin film of poison on everything it touched—just as in the case of the U. S. ambassador to Italy.

Prof. Kedzie obtained more than 100 wallpaper sample books and sent them to libraries throughout the state to warn Michigan citizens of their danger.

He also compiled a file of letters from citizens who declared they had been affected by the poison wallpaper.

His efforts were credited with starting a campaign to outlaw wallpapers and paints containing the dangerous poison.

Locksmiths on Move

NEW YORK (AP) — Locksmiths can now take their shops with them when called to make duplicate keys. One lock manufacturer has developed a 12-volt motor which can be plugged into the cigarette lighter of new automobiles operating with 12-volt systems. The motor runs the grinding equipment.

NEW YORK (INS)—Bert Parks gets the emcee job on NBC-Radio's huge new "Bandstand" due in a few weeks...

It'll be a two-hour daily razzle-dazzle of name bands, a half-hour of which will be seen on TV, too...

Ed Sullivan signing Elvis Presley for $16,666.66 per program (or three for $50,000) now has set a new ceiling for individual stars on his shows. The previous ceiling was $5,000, so the TV talent agencies are delighted that Sullivan raised his price.

Marion Marlowe, last season's headline, quietly signed for five more Ed Sullivan shows through next Feb. 24...

Jimmy Dorsey sneaked into the clarinet section of Russ Morgan's band Saturday on Russ' much-improved CBS-TV musicale without anyone announcing it...

Jerry Lewis wins custody of bandleader Dick Stabile in the Dean Martin split...

QUESTION CHALLENGED

"The $64,000 Challenge" passed its parent, "The $64,000 Question," to top the July national Trendex.

Trendex had no trace of its longtime top listee, the Ed Sullivan Show, which dropped through the bottom because of Elvis Presley's presence on the July 1 Steve Allen Show (Allen's opus was sixth).

Julius La Rosa came through with some mighty respectable Trendex ratings.

Opposite "The Honeymooners," Julius' premiere lagged only 1.1 points behind... And he soundly trounced "Stage Show" 12.9 to 8.2.

Red Skelton was 43 yesterday.

Watch for Margaret Truman's husband, Clifton to turn up as a radio or TV commentator...

HELEN SOUGHT

Danny Thomas' director Sheldon Leonard, wants pretty singer Helen O'Connell to act in next season's series.

The premiere Frankie Laine Show Aug. 1 has hired Anita Ekberg for a few breathing exercises...

Gary Crosby, Bing's boy, is back at Ft. Lewis, Wash., from the Elmendorf Air Base in Alaska after helping a bunch of Hollywood celebs (Jeff Donnell, Chill Wills, Robert Linn, Maia Powers, etc.) raise $120,000 for the Air Force Aid Society...

More than 60,000 people (at two shows) saw Gary entertain, as he will again after finishing basic training at Ft. Lewis... Nice kid.

Ronald Colman will be back in TV at least once next season; aboard General Electric Theater.

Perry Como is reading the movie script Joe Mankiewicz wants him for...

The terrible fiasco of the Paul Whiteman Show's last-minute collapse on NBC last month will involve three separate lawsuits...

Railroads' Profits Largest on Record

NEW YORK — American railroads' 1955 profits were the largest on record. Net income, after taxes, rentals, and interest, is estimated at $917,000,000 compared with $682,000,000 in 1954 and with the previous all-time high of $903,000,000 reached in 1953.

Hunt for Pepper Led to National Rivalries

LISBON — The search for pepper promoted great voyages of discovery and fierce national rivalries. It was one of the main sources of wealth of the Portuguese crown from the time of explorer Vasco da Gama until the 18th Century.

It led to the founding of great merchant companies and to the amassing of large fortunes. It was the prize of many a pirate's cruise.

County Seats Upset

FARIBAULT, Minn. (AP) — To keep the record straight, Faribault is not the county seat of Faribault county. Nor is Blue Earth the county of Blue Earth county.

Faribault is in Rice county, Blue Earth is in Faribault county, and Mankato is the county seat of Blue Earth county.

MSU Wolves—Watch That Gal!

Blondie'll Throw You; She's Newest Member of the Campus Police

EAST LANSING (AP)—Here's a tip for any would-be wolves prowling the Michigan State University campus.

Don't annoy a tall, striking blonde you might see swinging along the campus paths carrying an extra-heavy purse.

Shirley Lazarecki, 21, from Detroit, and six feet tall in high heels is the first woman ever sworn in as a member of the campus police. She has been assigned to the criminal investigation division and will work mainly with problems involving coeds.

Shirley started to study industrial economics but a life-long interest in police work caused her to switch to police administration.

When she was 15 years old and attending Girls Catholic Central High in Detroit, Shirley said, she even wrote to the FBI to ask how to become a G-woman.

• • •

Shirely will work with Detective Lieutenant Clarissa Young of the Lansing Police Department for six weeks and also will take a 12-week in-training program with the campus department. She previously did field work with the Detroit Police Department.

• • •

Shirely became adept at judo as part of her police training. That extra-heavy purse had to be especially built to contain a holster for her .38 caliber police revolver.

Among the nation's resources for recreation are 5,000,000 acres of State parks and other State-owned recreation areas.

First Group Insurance Written in July, 1912

CHICAGO — In July, 1912, what can be regarded as the first group life insurance policy in history went into effect. It totaled $6,000,000. By the end of that first year 12,000 persons were insured for $13,000,000 under the group plan.

The idea proved so attractive that 10 years later 1,600,000 persons were protected by $1,800,00,000 of this type of insurance. Now it is the largest single category of life insurance in force.

Polish Workers Revolt for Food

Letters to Red Papers Show Why Dissatisfied People Oppose Rule

VIENNA (AP) — Why do Polish workers risk their lives—as during the Poznan revolt—to show dissatisfaction with communist rule?

Letters to Communist papers there throw some light on the question. They show that even the best-paid workers spend almost their entire monthly wage on food.

"And where are stockings for my wife and the children, where are underwear, shoes, repairs?" one worker asked the Szczecin (Stettin) paper Glos Szczecinski.

• • •

"And where are the clothes and coats for the children? And where are fruit and candy for the little ones? Where is a movie, entertainment and that bottle of wine which I'd like to drink once, but never can?"

The worker is one of the best paid in Poland. He works at a foundry as a blast furnace operator and gets about 1,300 zlotys a month. Only miners are better paid. The zloty is officially valued at 25 American cents but its real value is considerably less.

The Szczecin newspaper said that the average wage in Poland is 500 zloty. A list of foods needed by a household during a month, also published by the paper, showed that milk alone costs 150 zlotys a month.

Other prices listed by the paper for one kilo (2.21 pounds): bread, 3.50 zlotys; sugar, 12; flour, 7; lard, 38. Lighting and gas for the stove were estimated to cost 45 zlotys. The apartment was relatively cheap for 25 zlotys. Nineteen zlotys were mentioned as contribution to trade unions, press and similar institutions.

Clover Charm Fails

SANDSTON, Va. (AP)—Mrs. W. R. Pritchett found 16 four-leaf clovers, five six-leaf and two five-leaf on her lawn which should have brought enough luck for one day. They didn't, though. After her clover gathering Mrs. Pritchett began her housework and promptly fell through a first floor window she was washing into a prize tulip bed. Main damage was to her belief that multi-leaf clovers have anything to do with good luck.

Signs Help Drivers

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP)—Dr. A. R. Lauer, director of the Iowa State College Driving laboratory, says outdoor highway advertising signs help not hinder motorists. "There is little evidence that diversions of stationary objects outside the automobile increase driving hazards. In fact there is evidence exactly to the contrary," he says.
