Tomorrow Marks 193 Years of U.S. Democracy

With a flourish, John Hancock etched his name with such boldness that none could mistake the intent and purpose of the document he had just signed.

Tomorrow marks the 193rd continuous year of the daring democratic experiment begun in Philadelphia when 13 small colonies declared independence from Great Britain to form the United States of America.

July 4, Independence Day, is the annual event in which citizens reaffirm their pride in America's great heritage.

It is a day of "Stars and Stripes Forever"—to show and to fly the American flag. The Pontiac Press encourages all who have flags to fly them. For those who do not, on the back page of this section is a full-color flag to display in your window.

Your home or your place of employment are suitable settings for "Old Glory," and we at The Press hope to see the area filled with displays of the Star-Spangled Banner.

For your information, rules and customs pertaining to flying the flag are on page A-2.

Formosans Sink Peking Ships

AP Wirephoto

SINKING SITE—The location of the sinking of three Red Chinese ships by Nationalist Chinese commandos is shown.

From Our News Wires

TAIPEI — A fleet of Nationalist Chinese gunboats blitzed into a coastal Communist naval base on the mainland last night and escaped today, reporting two supply ships and a Peking gunboat sunk, the government said.

It was the first sea battle between the two Chinese governments since Jan. 18, 1966. The returning raiders said they damaged a second Communist gunboat trying to block their escape.

A government announcement described the scene of the raid as a small port in the mouth of the Min River, about 100 miles west of the northern tip of Nationalist China and near the mainland city of Fuchou.

The battle spilled out into the Formosa Strait separating the two nations, with a rear guard of Nationalist gunboats holding off Communist counterattackers until the raiders finished.

'GUERRILLA AFFAIR'

A defense-ministry spokesman referred to the attack as a "guerrilla affair, not a regular sea battle."

Tensions along the strait had eased between the two Chinas in recent months and this battle threatened to bring retaliation from Peking and more calls for invading the mainland by the Nationalist regime headed by Chiang Kai-shek on Taiwan.

The two supply ships, of unknown tonnage, went down at the Communist naval base, the announcement said, while one pursuing Communist gunboat was sunk and a second was damaged outside the harbor.

The number and type of Nationalist Chinese warships in on the raid was not disclosed. The government said only that they returned safely to their bases.

The attackers were identified by the Nationalist Chinese Central News Agency as members of the Sea Guerrilla Force of the Anti-Communist National Salvation Corps.

There was no immediate comment from Peking. The Formosa Strait separates the two Chinas, with the island of Formosa or Nationalist China separated from the mainland or Red China by about 100 miles.

Lazaros Is Pleased by Grand Juror Pick

Underworld informant Peter Lazaros said yesterday he is pleased with the selection of grand juror Robert J. Colombo to probe alleged corruption in Oakland County.

Accusations from Lazaros, an admitted former Mafia moneyman, were instrumental in calling the jury. Lazaros of 2410 Dalesford, Troy, is expected to be a key witness in the investigation.

Colombo was named Tuesday to head the probe by a panel of nine visiting judges. Colombo was cocounsel for Angelo (Barrels) Lombardi in 1965-66 when Lombardi was convicted of conspiracy to bribe a Pontiac police officer. Lombardi has been named in a U.S. Senate committee hearing as a Mafia leader.

'HONORABLE MAN'

"As far as I know, Judge Colombo is an honorable man," Lazaros said. Lazaros said he never has met Colombo.

Lazaros also said he was happy that the jury finally had been called, and said he hoped the investigation would get under way as soon as possible.

Colombo indicated Tuesday he would begin his probe around Aug. 1.

Most other observers indicated yesterday an attitude of "now we will just have to wait and see" how Colombo handles the investigation.

Arthur Brandt Jr., who first petitioned for the grand jury along with Orchard Lake Councilman David Bradbury, said he was confident Colombo would do a good job, but he was a little concerned about Colombo's legal history. He said several of his friends have also expressed concern.

"It's interesting that they chose Colombo after he has represented alleged Mafia men in court before, isn't it?" said Brandt, president of the Oakland County Conservative Club.

Ironically, Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich. announced yesterday he would withdraw his nomination of Detroit attorney George E. Woods for a U. S. attorney's post for Eastern Michigan.

Griffin said he retracted his nomination because Woods recently served as attorney for Lazaros. He reportedly will name James H. Brickley, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, for the nomination in place of Woods.

Meanwhile, legislators in Lansing today continued talks on whether Michigan's unique one-man grand jury system should be allowed to survive.

Picnic Hamper Faces a Damper

The weatherman reports there's a chance of showers for the holiday tomorrow. But don't let his prediction mar your plans for a picnic or vacation. He often changes his mind.

Euler, Hospital Trustees to Meet Saturday Morning

The fired head of Pontiac General Hospital said he will try to find out why he was fired when he meets with officers of the hospital board of trustees Saturday morning.

The meeting of Harold B. Euler and the trustees was set up this morning for discussion of Euler's retirement benefits and severance pay, Euler said. Euler's attorney, the city attorney and the city manager are also expected to attend the 10 a.m. confrontation.

Meanwhile, two directors of influential hospital organizations have expressed admiration and respect for Euler.

Euler, dismissed without notice or explanation on June 19, from all indications was held in greater respect by almost everyone else in the hospital field in the state except the Pontiac General trustees.

SOME OPINIONS

Giving some opinions and details to The Press on Euler yesterday were Allan Barth, executive director of the Michigan Hospital Association, and Gene Sibery, executive director of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council.

Euler was elected treasurer of the Michigan Hospital Association on June 27 although the group was aware he had been deposed at Pontiac General, Barth pointed out.

The issue was discussed at the June 25, board meeting of the Lansing-based statewide organization. "It (the firing) came as a shock to all of us," Barth said. "We could see no reason why he would be fired. We felt he had made a distinct contribution to the advancement of the hospital. His election (as treasurer) indicates our confidence in him."

Sibery pointed out Euler held one of the highest positions in the organization

Governor Gets Bill on MCOM

The State Legislature finished its work last night on a bill to create a state college of osteopathic medicine, and the compromise measure has gone to Gov. Milliken's desk.

The bill (House—2196) has had House and Senate revisions and the final wording calls for the State Board of Education to pick a site and college affiliation for the new school. The osteopathic school could become a department at either Michigan State, University of Michigan, Wayne State or Oakland University.

Rep. William Hampton, R-Bloomfield Hills, said today there is some doubt the governor will sign the bill.

There are two issues involved, Hampton said — the college bill is accompanied by a $500,000 appropriation bill (still subject to amendment) and the money is above current budget expectations. Secondly, separating osteopaths from the regular medical field is contrary to current trends toward amalgamation.

"The issue will be a major policy decision on the part of the governor," Hampton said. A period of at least 10 days before a decision can be made is expected.

Pontiac, where a private osteopathic college is under construction, is still the foremost in consideration for the site, Hampton said.

3 GIs' Release Set by N. Viets

HONG KONG (AP) — North Vietnam announced today it has decided to release "three American aggressors," apparently prisoners, in honor of America's Independence Day and would allow other "U.S. aggressors" captured in North Vietnam to receive gifts from their families.

The brief announcement broadcast by Radio Hanoi did not specifically say the prisoners would be released July 4, just that the releases would be made to observe the American holiday.

Its reference to "U.S. aggressors" was taken to mean American pilots shot down over North Vietnam.

The broadcast did not identify the men to be released, nor did it say when or where they would be freed.

A Vietnam news agency broadcast monitored in Tokyo said: "Proceeding from the humanitarian and lenient policy of the government of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam and on the occasion of the American people's Independence Day, the general political department of the Vietnam's People's Army has decided: 1. To release three Americans captured in North iVetnam, 2. Allow the Americans captured in North Vietnam to receive gifts from their families.

LUMBERYARD BLAZE — Fire crews battled a $100,000 fire for more than two hours early this morning at Oxford Lumber Co., 54 Mill, Oxford. The cause of the fire, which destroyed a 60x170-foot storage building, is still unknown. (Story, page A-4.)

Rec Bill Passes, Goes to Milliken

LANSING (AP) — The $100-million recreation bond bill — hotly debated for months — was on its way to the governor today after final legislative approval of a face-saving compromise.

But charges of "breaking faith with the voters" lingered, despite the obvious relief of supporters of the bill.

The Senate passed the House-approved compromise 24-6 yesterday.

A brief interchamber hassle over technical methods of allocating the funds was settled in informal conference committees and approved as the House and Senate adjourned for the holiday weekend.

SPLITS EARMARKED

The bill earmarks $30 million for local communities on a population basis and $70 million for the Department of Natural Resources, including $25 million for multiuse urban recreation developed by the department.

Thus a total of some $55 million would go for local and urban recreation.

The long-contested distribution formula varied by $5 million from the 30-30-40 split recommended by the governor and far under the 70-30 split outstate legislators and conservationists contended that voters had been promised before they approved the bond issue last November.

But it allowed Milliken to commend the formula and call it "a fair and responsible plan," one that "conforms to widely supported "proposals for allocating funds on the basis of $70 million to the state department and $30 million for local units."

'NOT 70-30'

"I don't care what you call it," countered Sen. James Fleming, R-Jackson. "It's not 70-30."

In the Senate, many outstate members objected to speedy action on the bill passed late Tuesday in the lower chamber.

Members had copies of the measure on their desks for little more than six minutes before they were asked to vote, said Sen. John Toepp, R-Cadillac. "I don't like to move that fast.

"If there was some real problem, I'd go along with postponing this," said Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin, D-Berkley. "But this is simple." Levin outlined the 30-45-25 figures again, but members still grumbled.

U.S. Eyes Hanoi in Vietnam Lull

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is looking for some sign that the recent sharp drop in combat and reported cutback in the North Vietnamese infiltration into the South mean Hanoi is deliberately slowing down the war.

But officials are not sure they will get such an indication.

to some "change of plans" by the enemy command. And he has held open the possibility they could lead to increased U.S. troop withdrawal from Vietnam when President Nixon reviews his plans next month.

But Rogers also told a news conference yesterday the decline in enemy activities could be due to manpower supply problems or to a regrouping of forces for new attacks.

Other officials say privately a new enemy offensive is a definite possibility based on the present, admittedly inadequate information.

Some authorities believe if the developments have political significance they would eventually get some signals to that effect, perhaps through Soviet or other diplomatic channels, from Hanoi.

U.S. May Order Auto Air Bags

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Transportation John A. Volpe has given advance notice that the government may require auto makers to install inflatable air bags or a similar "passive restraint system" in 1971 model cars.

The advance notice yesterday gives the auto industry 90 days to comment before the government issues a proposed rule. Additional comment would be permitted before the rule went into effect.

Volpe said seat belts, now required on all cars and trucks, have proved effective in reducing injury but that studies show fewer than 25 per cent of drivers use them.

For this reason, Volpe said, some better means of protecting vehicle occupants must be found.

He described nylon air bags as "one very promising system that is in the final development stage."

The bags, which would inflate automatically in several hundredths of a second after impact, could be installed in steering wheels, dashboards and behind front seats. They would be activated by a special impact sensor.

Waterford Police Hit Home

3 Charged After 'Pot' Raid

Waterford Township police last night charged three men with possession of marijuana after a raid on a township home.

Arrested were James Collins, 19; George Johnson, 19; and Frank Vail, 40. All three lived at 5205 Highland, officers said.

Police went to the home at 8 p.m. with a search warrant after receiving an anonymous tip. Officers said the home has been under surveillance for about one month.

The Waterford officers, under the direction of Lt. David Putnam, were assisted by Bloomfield Township Detective Robert Taylor.

21 PLANTS SUSPECT

Found in the front yard of the home were 21 plants believed by police to be marijuana. Officers said they also confiscated several pills and other capsules found inside the home.

If the pills turn out to be drugs, other charges also could be made against the three, Putnam said.

The evidence was turned over to the Michigan State Police crime laboratory in Lansing for identification.

The home, which faces the Clinton River, was owned by Vail, according to police. Vail claimed no knowledge of the plants or pills when questioned by police.

ARRAIGNMENT TODAY

All three men are expected to be arraigned today in 51st District Court before Judge Kenneth Hempstead.

'Reds Eye India for Naval Base'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An authoritative Asian diplomatic source says the Soviet Union has asked India for permission to establish a naval base which could dominate shipping lanes to all of East Asia and the western Pacific.

So far, the source reported, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India has resisted the request for a Soviet fleet base in the Andaman Islands, astride the Bay of Bengal.

The source did not say how extensive a military base the Soviets are proposing for the islands, which were seized by the Japanese early in World War II because of their location.

In New Delhi, an Indian Foreign Ministry spokesman denied that such a request had been made. "There is no truth in such rumors," he said.

ISLES UNDEVELOPED

The spokesman said the Andamans are largely undeveloped and could not receive many warships. He also pointed out that Mrs. Gandhi and others have said often that India opposes the establishment of foreign bases by any nation.

An Andaman base could play a key role in Moscow's newly proposed collective security system for the containment of mainland China, Soviet diplomats were said to have emphasized in their proposal to India.

Prober Choice Pleases Lazaros

The controversial system—abolished in the Michigan House earlier this year—was considered this week by the senate Judiciary Committee.

When the committee reported its findings to the Senate floor Tuesday, committee chairman Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, said abolishing the one-man system would be premature. A provision that would have done away with the one-man system was deleted by the committee.

Now being considered is a provision that would allow a judge to summon a 13-17 citizen grand jury for a period of 90 days with one 90-day extension.

The present grand jury would not be affected even if Lansing legislators vote to abolish the one-man system.

for a two-year term, which ended last year. He served as chairman of the administrators' conference "with great distinction," Barth said.

He also served on the executive committee and is still a member of the long-term care planning committee. "He was certainly recognized by his peers by virtue of the positions he was elected to," Sibery said.

"It is my personal opinion and the opinion expressed by this council that in every indication he provided leadership . . . we considered him one of the real statesmen."

Euler was on the council as a representative of the hospital for the past 11 years. He no longer will hold any of the council positions except the long-term care planning committee. The hospital can appoint someone to the position, however.

The Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council is an organization of 84 hospitals in the six-county southeast Michigan area.

Flag Fliers: Avoid Hang-Ups

The U.S. flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset, though military establishments raise it by custom at 8 a.m.

It should be raised smartly to the top of the staff, and lowered slowly and with dignity.

When displayed over the middle of a street, it should be suspended vertically with the union (blue portion) to the north on an east-west street or to the east on a north-south street.

When displayed with another flag on crossed staffs, the American flag should be on its own right, the viewer's left, with its staff in front of the other.

When other flags are flown from the same halyard, the U.S. flag should be at the uppermost position.

BEA, Board Hammer Out Parts of Pact

BIRMINGHAM — Tentative agreement has been reached on individual teacher rights, responsibilities, security and recognition clauses in contract negotiations between the Birmingham Board of Education and the Birmingham Education Association (BEA).

The grievance procedure has been redefined to expedite handling of a problem when it develops under the contract.

Efforts also are being made to improve communications between teachers and administrators "in order to develop a better understanding of all points of view," according to a spokesman for Board of Education.

Schools will be encouraged to set up advisory councils and provide new ways of disseminating information and encouraging the exchange of ideas.

STRICTLY NONECONOMICS

Negotiations so far have centered on strictly noneconomic items. Items such as salary and class size, however, have been reviewed.

The Board and BEA do not expect to discuss salary and related items until complete agreement is reached on all noneconomic items. Negotiators expect to clear up noneconomic matters next week.

Twenty-four bargaining sessions have been held since negotiations opened in April. Negotiations will resume Tuesday following a two-week break to allow some members of the BEA to attend national meetings.

Dr. Charles Leach, 525 Southfield, has been elected president of the Birmingham Board of Education, replacing Pell Hollingshead.

Richard Halsted of 4053 Spur Hill, Bloomfield Township, was chosen vice president and George Schmidt, 945 N. Glenhurst, was reelected secretary. Mrs. Robert Wessels, 2152 Tottenham, is the new treasurer.

Richard G. Johnson, 1025 E. Maple, has been named chairman of the seventh annual Crippled Children's Board Cruise, July 22.

Wherefore Thou Art Romeo, Thou Art Memorable Village

By NED ADAMSON

ROMEO — A lot of small country towns have those names that stick with you — Lum, Broken Spring, Painted Post, Beulah, Honor and yes — Munks Corners.

Romeo is no exception.

No one here seems to know who Romeo was or just who is responsible for pinning that name on the village.

Some speculate Romeo might have been a lady killer in a nearby logging camp (the town was originally a logging center), or there might have been a Shakespeare nut around who just had to name a town after his hero.

PLACE TO REMEMBER

The village not only has a name to remember, but — unlike many other similar-sized communities — is a place to remember.

The Macomb County community has isolated itself into a little oasis of mid-Victorian period nostalgia and architectural atmosphere.

The lawns are long in Romeo, and the houses have class and style.

RIVAL CELEBRATED FARM

Some of the houses rival his own celebrated Nook Farm in Hartford for sheer architectural excellence.

The town is making a strong bid to retain a valid look of the quiet past.

Sitting on the northern perimeter of the southeastern Michigan-Detroit urban sprawl — about 40 miles from Lafayette and Woodward in downtown Detroit — Romeo is one of those last bastions of small town provincialism, or if you want to use that word — "charm."

It's one of the few towns in southeastern Michigan where one can almost completely escape the nagging traits of urban sprawl society — the endless rows of boxy houses on concrete slabs, the apartment complexes with the phony colonial names, auto plants, fried chicken stands and all the rest.

HISTORICAL DISTRICT

And the village fathers and most of the citizenry are dedicated to keeping out those traits.

In order to make sure the village stays "small town" and retains the turn-of-the-century flavor reflected in many of the rambling old houses, the council is in the middle of the long process of establishing a historical district through state and federal agencies.

Registration in the National Historical Register will be sought for some 200 homes in the village. Enactment of a local historic district ordinance and final plans for official designation as a historical district are hopefully expected by the end of the year, according to Village Clerk Norman Engel.

Engel says the primary problem now is convincing the residents of the importance and value of becoming a historical district.

DIFFICULT AT FIRST

"It was a little difficult at first convincing the council and others, but we now seem to be well on the way toward meeting community accord on the significance of historical district classification," Engel said.

Engel hopes that Romeo's attempt to secure historical district status will encourage other Michigan municipalities to do likewise.

He maintains the Midwest is well behind the East in terms of preserving the past in the midst of rapid growth.

The village has adopted a stiff housing ordinance in an attempt to maintain the authenticity of the old home atmosphere. The vast majority of the houses in the villages are around 100 years old and are either restored, under restoration or well-maintained.

LITTLE ROOM TO EXPAND

"When someone wants to make an improvement, we try to convince him, for example, to use wood instead of aluminum siding. It might be more expensive but it will add much more in terms of historical and property value," Engel said.

Founded in 1837 the village for over 100 years maintained a constant population of about 2,800 and now seems to have peaked at about 3,800. Engel said there is little room within the corporate limits for further expansion.

Growth — and an increase in the tax base — could only come by bringing in developers to tear down some of the old houses and downtown stores.

Engel said that growth and development talk here is strictly passe. Establishment of an historical district, he feels, would present a permanent deterrent to growth.

Mention changing the charter from village to city and you have spoken profanity. Said Engel: "City means one thing to the people here — orange smoke and traffic jams. This is a wonderful place to live, and we are working hard to see to it that it stays that way. There is a lot more to life than just boom growth and business.

"There is a certain cosmopolitan atmosphere here and we have a complete cross-section socioeconomic makeup. It is a wonderful place to raise children because we feel we have an environment that is representative of all types of people. And we are close enough to the city that residents can utilize its benefits as well."

Listening to Engel, one would think he might be rolling the drums for instantaneous growth.

But he is quick to point the village is not attempting to promote a fake-historical-look tourist trap complete with 10-story motels on the outskirts.

COMMUTE LONG DISTANCES

"We want people to come here who are interested in individualized architecture, who take pride in their homes and who would take the time and money to maintain or restore a house to its original authentic specifications.

The residents commute long dsitances to live in the tranquility of Romeo — many of them drive to Detroit and others travel to Pontiac, Warren and other points.

The area in Washington and Bruce Township surrounding Romeo is gradually developing, and in a few years the subdivisions will be sneaking up on the village.

The shopping district, as in most small towns, is showing signs of slow decay. Engel believes that as the area grows, the suburbanite may find the small stores in Romeo will not fill all of his needs.

SEES CONVERSION

He foresees the day the village might convert the downtown area into a center of boutique shops and specialty shops. There are touches of this influence scattered about town now. Some of the alleys have been turned into walkways and there are plans fo erect gaslights.

Old-home architecture buffs can easily fill a Sunday afternoon in Romeo. Name the architectural style and it's represented here — from antebellum, Cape Cod to "gingerbread", Victorian and Greek Revival.

An amble down Sisson or First Street will reveal the dominant architectural theme is Greek Revival and Victorian with the intricate wood carving known as gingerbread reaching elaborate proportions.

Neighbors in the mid-19th century seemingly tried to outdo each other too.

Carnival Starts July 4th Fete in Lake Orion

LAKE ORION — The Fourth of July celebration here begins tonight with a full carnival setup at Village Park.

Touching off the big day — Friday — is the 10 a.m. parade downtown. Personalities in the parade will include Batman, Rickey the Clown and war hero Thomas VanPutten.

Following the morning parade is the 1 p.m. Venetian parade around Orion Lake. Green Park viewers can watch log rolling and canoe jousting on Orion Lake following the Venetian parade.

Water fights between rival area fire department teams will be held adjacent to Village Park beginning at 4 p.m.

A giant fireworks display will cap the day's festivities. The fireworks begin at 9 p.m. at Koenig Gravel Co., 1955 Lakeville, Oxford Township.

4 Fire Departments Control $100,000 Blaze in Oxford

OXFORD — Four area fire departments took more than two hours to control a raging blaze that caused $100,000 damage to The Oxford Lumber Co. early today.

Oxford Fire Chief Claude Rogers said the three-alarm blaze began at 12:07 a.m. in a 60 by 170-foot semienclosed storage building at the lumberyard, 54 Mill. Units from Lake Orion, Gingelville an Addison Township gave assistance.

"Thanks to the good work by the fire crews, a Detroit Edison substation adjacent to the storage building, the home of a county sheriff's deputy and some overhead power lines were kept protected while the men fought the fire," Chief Rogers said.

Complicating the firemen's efforts were rain and a windstorm that fanned the blazes wildly through the storage building.

The building was used to store tools, special trim and 4x8-foot lumber sheets.

"Those sheets were the hardest thing to contend with," Chief Rogers said. "The fire would get caught between the sheets. We couldn't get near them until we got a crane to lift the sheets right out."

Rogers said that the fire's cause remains unknown and under investigation.

"Those poor pumpers of ours," Rogers said, "worked so hard that two of them gave out. They just broke down."

Rogers said that there were no injuries.

4th Events Set by Farmington Twp. Sectors

FARMINGTON TOWNSHIP — A full day of events to celebrate the Fourth of July is planned by residents in the adjoining subdivisions of Kendallwood 1 and Colony Park.

Highlighting the daylong program will be a speech by Oakland County Circuit Judge William R. Beasley.

The public is invited to attend the activities that will begin with a parade through the subdivision at 10 a.m. and end with a fireworks display at about 8:30 p.m.

The subdivisions are at the northwest corner of 12 Mile and Farmington roads.

SPEECH AFTER PARADE

Beasley is scheduled to speak at 11:20 a.m. at the conclusion of the parade. He will discuss the importance of foreign contributions to American Independence.

Most of the activities will center around the Wooddale Elementary School, located at the entrance of Peppermill Road.

Games, and contests will be held at the school about 3 p.m. with prizes being awarded to contestants.

Quit-Claim Deeds Are Issued to 26 in Homeowner Dispute

OXFORD TOWNSHIP — Apparently, under pressure of a civil suit accusing him of gross fraud, Detroit building company President Bernard Green yesterday afternoon signed 26 quit-claim deeds, resolving to some extent a long property dispute in a subdivision here.

The quit-claim deeds remove all claim by Green's Marion Building Co. to ownership of 26 of 50 homesteads in Red Barn subdivision No. 1 caught in the middle of a legal land hassle for four months.

Jerome C. Gropman, attorney for Marion Building Co., revealed that the quit-claim deeds were being sent to Pontiac real estate attorney H. Malcolm Kahn, counsel for 35 of the 50 homeowners.

"We also will be signing 11 more quit-claim deeds within the next few days," Gropman said, "although we do not intend to give up on 13 specific properties."

BOTH GREEN ENTERPRISES

The James T. Barnes Co., holder of all The Red Barn mortgages, Tuesday filed suit against Marion and Bernard Green. The suit explained that Green reclaimed 50 subdivided lots in a Circuit Court Commissioners' sale after Villa Homes Inc., the Oak Park developer, defaulted on $4,300 of land contract installments of the $125,000 purchase price.

The suit charges that Green has financial interest in Villa and that the sale was made "from one Bernard Green enterprise to the other."

The suit further alleges that Green, unable to obtain a Michigan builder's license, formed Villa under an assumed name.

The suit also accuses Green personally of tendering warranty deeds to each individual lot owner, thus releasing his security interests in those lots, then reclaiming the same lots from Villa Homes — the second party — in the court commissioner's sale.

PREVENTED KNOWLEDGE

Green also is accused of purposely preventing the third parties, the individual lot "owners," from having knowledge of or representation in the commissioner's sale.

"All that the Barnes Company is trying to do is pick up some marbles so they don't lost too much money," Gropman snapped, in commenting on the civil suit.

"We vehemently deny the allegations of fraud as irresponsible actions of the Barnes company attorneys. The allegations of the suit are all totally untrue," Gropman declared.

Gropman said he had been conferring with Kahn for the past several months and the two attorneys worked out the quit-claim deeds. Kahn drew up the deeds, Gropman said and Kahn confirmed today, and Green signed 26 of them yesterday.

SEVEN KAHN CLIENTS

"Of the 13 lots that are being held up," Kahn said, "about seven of the owners are my clients. I represent only 35 of the 50 homeowners.

"Mr. Gropman seems to feel that there are certain technicalities in the 13 lot titles that he has some argument on. I feel my chances are good of clearing my seven clients' lots from Marion Building Co.," Kahn said.

W. Bloomfield to Eye Disputed Zoning Monday

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — The Township Board will consider the controversial rezoning proposal involving land abutting the Doherty Estates subdivision as originally scheduled at its meeting here Monday night.

Supervisor John Doherty said a decision will be made, subject to delay by approval of such a request by a member.

The rezoning was approved by the township planning commission three weeks ago.

Board approval of the rezoning request would permit development of a 25-acre shopping center. The five involved parcels are currently zoned single-family residential.

Angry residents of Doherty Estates subdivision in the southern portion of the township last night met with the 15-unit Council of Subdivision Associations to ask aid and suggestions in their battle to prevent rezoning of single-family residential properties abutting the subdivision for a commercial shopping center.

"About half the residents of Doherty Estates are members of the association there and the other half are not. We have to bring both factions together before the feelings of the total neighborhood can be known," according to Henry Kramer, Council of Subdivision Associations president.

Freak Mishap Kills Radio Ham, Daughter

CLARKSVILLE (AP) — A 32-year-old amateur radio operator and his 10-year-old daughter were electrocuted near this Ionia County community yesterday when an antenna they were installing became tangled in power lines, State Police reported.

Troopers identified the victims as Claude Rupena and his daughter, Celeste.

Milford Fireworks Set

MILFORD — The annual Milford Jaycees Fourth of July fireworks show will be held tomorrow at 9:15 p.m. at the Milford High School football field.

Ammonia Tank Overturns; Fumes Kill Plants in Block

COLUMBIAVILLE — Escaping ammonia fumes from an overturned 1,000-gallon pressurized tank have killed all vegetation within a one-block area of this tiny Lapeer County community.

No one was injured in the Wednesday morning accident, but residents in the area dashed from their homes to escape the pungent fumes.

Lapeer County sheriff's deputies said the tank was on a farm wagon pulled by a truck belonging to the Lapeer County Co-op Inc. It was en route to a nearby farm, where the ammonia was to be used in fertilizing corn.

Deputies said the driver, Alvin Dean Dooher, 18, of Imlay City, turned a corner too fast and the wagon tipped over, knocking off a safety valve in the tank

FIREMEN AT SCENE

The Columbiaville Fire Department stood by for the nearly three hours it took to right the wagon and remove the tank.

Columbiaville is a community with a population of 878, northwest of Lapeer about halfway to Millington.

Dooher was charged with speeding and not having the chauffeur's license required for the co-op.

"He's still going to be working for us, but I took him off the road," said Joe O'Henley, the co-op manager.

'Michigan Navy' Course Is Charted

LANSING (AP) — The Senate yesterday passed and sent to the governor a bill that does "not abolish the Michigan navy because we don't have any."

The bill provides that those commissioned in Michigan's naval militia for five years or longer would be discharged unless an extension request were made in writing and approved. It provides further that the governor may commission persons who promote interest in Michigan.

"This doesn't abolish the naval militia," contended Sen. Harry DeMaso, R-Battle Creek. "I don't know of any Michigan navy."

Commissions, he explained, were "certificates of honorary membership."

The measure carried 34-2.

Sen. Stanley Rozycki, D-Detroit, voted "no" because "I don't think we need any navy."

The only other opposition came from Sen. George Kuhn, R-Birmingham — a commander in the U.S. Naval Reserves.

Stadium Hopes Soar

Pontiac's dream of becoming the site for a metropolitan sports stadium assumed aspects of reality with the impressive presentation made to a responsive Detroit gathering by the City's Stadium Building Authority.

It pictured a domed complex of two stadiums. One, designed for football and miscellaneous sports attractions, would seat 80,000; the other, structured for baseball, would accommodate 55,000.

With the two proposed sites in Detroit facing formidable obstacles, and two competing suburban projects contending with area disadvantages, Pontiac's superlative site availability at the junction of I-75 and M59 plus unexcelled rail communication, make it an odds-on favorite to capture the coveted facility.

A prime requisite afforded by the Pontiac site—unmatched elsewhere—is an abundance of publicly- and privately-owned land—some 270 acres—with parking for 27,500 cars, which could be expanded to handle 25,000 more.

The financial approach to the project is sound. The $65-million complex would be financed by an issue of revenue bonds, without cost to local taxpayers. Projections indicate that after a short period required to get the facility rolling, income from the use of the stadia, parking, concessions and miscellaneous sources would pay the annual interest on the bonds and amortize them over a reasonable length of time.

The prospect of acquiring such a magnificent sports center—comparable in community benefit to establishment of another large industry—is one of the most exciting that has appeared on the horizon in many a moon. To foster materialization of it calls for the wholehearted support of every area organization and public-spirited citizen.

Budget Faces Tight Squeeze

Budget making on all levels of government has much in common with a dog chasing its tail. Each fiscal year, budgetary expenses rise, chased by estimates of income that will hopefully catch up and put the budget in the black at year's end. One of the recurring headaches for budgeters is that while expenditures rarely fall short of projected figures —indeed the tendency is in the other direction—income is characterized by opposite experience.

The Michigan Legislature has tentatively approved a budget of $1,536,280,000 for the fiscal year that began July 1 — reflecting a spending boost of 15 per cent. Although total expenditures represent one of the smallest year-to-year increases in recent years, the figure is still $25 million in excess of Gov. WILLIAM MILLIKEN'S recommendations.

Theoretically, the budget is balanced; but as conservative members of the legislature point out, the conclusion is misleading because no provision is made for supplementary spending, which has averaged between $20 million and $40 million annually.

To provide a safety margin, these legislators are committed to cutting the proposed spending by several million dollars before final approval of the budget.

Should the general economy maintain current high levels, the 1970 budget should see the State through satisfactorily—although there is no foreseeable surplus against a rainy day. Indeed, this year's budget envisions disbursement of the $80-million surplus expected to materialize in last year's.

But if there were a business decline during the 12 months ahead, with State revenues curtailed accordingly, Michigan's 1970 fiscal history might well be written in red ink.

Winds Of Change!

David Lawrence Says:

'Experts' Hurt Peace Talk Effort

WASHINGTON — Vice President Agnew made a speech before the Midwestern Governors' conference in Wichita, Kan., Tuesday in which he said that, while some of the opposition to the Vietnam war is sincere, it is nevertheless "undermining our negotiations for peace and prolonging the war."

LAWRENCE

Sen. J. William Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, retorted that Agnew's speech was "especially offensive coming from a man with so little background and so little experience in the field he is talking about."

But how much background and how much experience does anybody need in order to understand that, when the United States is in a war and influential members of the opposition party—which commands a majority in both houses of Congress—demand that our troops be withdrawn, the enemy would not be likely to make any important concessions in the negotiations for peace and would wait it out instead?

The vice president, like many other citizens, has been watching the course of the negotiations at Paris. He has also had the benefit of private briefings and meetings of the national security council. So he certainly has had an opportunity to gain a good deal of "background."

REDS OVERESTIMATE

Agnew declared in his speech that "self-professed experts" want to end the fighting at any cost and are leading the North Vietnamese to overestimate the strength of antiwar sentiment in America and its power to force a surrender by American and allied forces in Vietnam.

The vice president assured his listeners that the President is anxious to end the war. He said American policy means staying in Vietnam long enought to secure "self-determination for the people of South Vietnam."

It doesn't take much imagination or background to recognize the belief that, if the United States pulls out of Vietnam without achieving its goal, the Soviet Union and Communist China will feel free to invade other countries in Asia and Europe.

The impression might prevail that America has abandoned helping countries which are the victims of aggression.

ENEMY CONVINCED

Even while the negotiations have been going on for more than a year, the war has been pursued.

Appeasement is usually the predecessor of a major conflict. This is what occurred prior to World War I and World War II. It doesn't take any background or experience to know that when you cringe before an enemy, you are not likely to win the battle.

Bob Considine Says:

Astronauts' Umbrella Might Be Vital Last Link

NEW YORK — The most sophisticated umbrella since Mary Poppins floated over London slung beneath her magic parasol will be opened on the moon, come July 21. It'll probably get lost in the torrents of news about man's first landing thereon.

CONSIDINE

One doesn't instinctively associate RCA with umbrellas. But this RCA umbrella will be opened on the moon by the first man to set foot on earth's satellite, civilian astronaut Neil Armstrong.

The umbrella is an antenna made of 38 miles of wire mesh thinner than human hair. It weighs only 14 pounds. When popped out it has a diameter of 10 feet.

If anything goes wrong with the primary communications system, which will be carried in the lunar-landing module, the umbrella will be the last link between the astronauts and the earth, a quarter of a million miles away.

TO BE LEFT BEHIND

It can do everything the main system can: transmit live TV signals back to the world, let us hear what astronauts Armstrong and "Buzz" Aldrin are saying about their unprecedented experience, and enable medical men at earth stations to tune in on vital biomedical statistics.

Just about everybody has left his umbrella someplace, sometime. Armstrong and Aldrin will leave theirs when they climb back into the landing module and aim themselves at the command module, which will have been orbiting the moon while they prospected.

They'll also leave a small American flag stuck in the surface of the moon, though we will lay no claim to it, of course. The flag will be stiffened by a wire netting, as if caught in a breeze. Otherwise it would droop dejectedly since there is no wind on the moon. Wouldn't want the Russian cosmonauts to see it in that posture, would we?

Another wonder in store for us, during the moon landing, is the use of laser, intensely concentrated light flashes. The astronauts will first lay a special reflector on the surface near their landing module.

TO BOUNCE BACK

The laser rays, aimed from an Arizona mountaintop, will hit the reflector and bounce back to earth at the speed of light — 186,000 miles a second.

The purpose of this will be to measure the relative earth-to-moon distance more efficiently than ever before. Dr. Renne S. Julian, senior scientist at Hughes Aircraft Co., which built this system, believes we'll be able to learn just how far away the two astronauts are — to within five feet!

Left, Right Attacks Point Up Ted's Rise

By BRUCE BIOSSAT
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — The measure of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy's rising status as a 1972 Democratic presidential prospect can be taken from the heat he is getting from both left and right.

BIOSSAT

The doctrinaire liberals, of whom Kennedy is not one, have been trying to work their private persuasions upon him tirelessly ever since he won the job of assistant leader of the Senate Democrats in January.

The more conservative elements in both parties had left him fairly well alone until he began swinging hard against the ABM and the Hamburger Hill military operation by U. S. forces in Vietnam. Now, however, they are chopping at him. And his adverse mail has reached heavy proportions.

The Kennedy utterances that are displeasing the conservatives naturally have an appeal to the partisan liberals. But they are far from totally captivated by the senator's activities.

NAME IN DEMAND

Evidently no one who has not been subjected to the doctrinaires' pressures can have any true appreciation of their intensity.

They want the senator's name on every cause they espouse, no matter how realistic its substance. They want him grabbing a banner and marching in every protest they mount. They want him spouting the language of "total commitment" by which they live.

Kennedy continuously spurns this ultimate partisanship, and has no intention of ever moving that way. He is the pragmatic type, interested in forward movement, but only on the practical level where the substance of proposals is real and the hopes of winning the day more than fragile.

Says one friend:

"You can't just be playing one bugle in the corner all the time . . . If you do that, no one will pay any attention to you, and you won't have any effectiveness at all."

FAIL TO IMPRESS

Arguments like that do not impress the partisan liberals. Again and again they say to Kennedy and his key aides:

"You just don't understand how deeply we feel about this."

He insists he does, but that he cannot simply respond to their every wish. Hearing that, they tend to dismiss him as a "hack" overburdened with an instinct for caution.

An aide protests:

"It's not caution, it's discretion."

Kennedy's new habit of open assault, typified most by his criticisms of the Hamburger Hill maneuver, is less a response to cumulative doctrinaire pressures than it is personal decision to act on his own "gut feelings."

The extraordinarily strong reaction against his free-swinging posture on some of the big issues has given him a little pause. But it is said that he is getting advice to ignore the private whisperers and the public shouters on both sides.

FATALISTIC AIR

Probably he does not really need such counsel. He shares some of the fatalism of his late brother, Robert, who used to say he would have become a "basket case" if he tried to gauge each act or utterance against the chart of popular attitudes—or in terms of its possible effect on the contending forces of right and left.

Kennedy's idea of leadership, says a friend, is to get things done "with the great center mass you have to move" to change the country's course for the better.

That means rejecting the partisan liberals' "message" much of the time, even though privately he may often be on their wave length.

On the other hand, "getting things done" that move the big center mass may not always be the consequence of responding to his own gut feelings. His awareness of that is among the things that give him concern as he watches the adverse mail pile up.

What happened to all thast neat, uniformed postal delivery men and women that used to service the Pontiac area? Now the majority of them are long-haired, hippie-looking, and generally a disgrace to the postal department. The post office is a branch of the U.S. Government and should use a little discretion in hiring employes.

Think how it would look if our servicemen came home on leave with their hair down to their shoulders and their uniforms bedecked with strings of beads.

Can't we do something about the appearance of these government employes that are paid by our tax money, or is this what the public wants?

Letters Discuss Press Comments on ABM

I am writing in response to your column "Nation Must Unite Behind President Nixon on ABM." Those who oppose the program would be doing our country a great disserve in falling silently into line behind the President without fully debating the issue. You advocate supporting the President in calling him the "Number One Authority" on the question. His Pentagon advisers are solidly in favor of the ABM. However, a large majority of scientists are opposed. Are their differences traceable to the classified data which only official Washington has access to?

If the non-Pentagon scientists had all the information they would agree with the President, but if this were true, our Senators would agree with the ABM proposal because they (at least many of them) have access to all of the data. But two-fifths af the Senate oppose the ABM. You called this a complicated issue; it is. Let's work it out in advance.

RICHARD P. STRAUSZ
6386 NORTHFIELD, BIRMINGHAM

The Press column condemning further controversy over the ABM issue exemplifies perfectly the classical logical fallacy of argumentum ad verecundiam, a surreptitious appeal to authority. The fact that Richard Nixon has achieved prominence and perhaps even a degree of competence in no way assures his competence in those complex aspects of physics and aerodynamics.

Allied with this fallacy is the immensely more dangerous jingoism entailed by your simplistic attitude of "My President, right or wrong." Replacing the words "Nixon" and "ABM plan" with "Hitler" and "purification of the Aryan race" reveals the grotesque logic of the editorial.

Question and Answer

I'd like to know where I can get some charcoal to stop the damp, musty smell in my basement. I've called lumber yards and nurseries, but can't find any. Could you please help?

MRS. DORIS COOK
OXFORD

REPLY

Activated charcoal, or old-fashioned charcoal (not briquets) is the kind you need. The main office of Wrigley's says all their stores carry regular and lump charcoal, as well as briquets. The public relations firm that handles publicity for one brand says if you can't find it, you can use fish tank charcoal that's sold at pet stores. They're sending you information on other uses for charcoal.

Question and Answer

As a physician just starting private practice, unable to obtain local hospital privileges for two years, I had to affiliate with out-of-town hospitals. This forces me to waste invaluable time commuting. The answer seems to be a helicopter, but I can't find a licensed instructor in Pontiac or surroundings. Could you help, please? Also, who sells helicopters in this area?

NAPOLEON FRANCO, M. D.

REPLY

Call Barney Stutzman at Hi-Lift Helicopters on Ford Road in Westland, 455-0500. He's a licensed instructor who came highly recommended by other men in the business. He can also tell you about getting new or used helicopters.

Writer Reviews PGH Board Sessions

By L. GARY THORNE
City Editor

Many of my more forgettable moments as a reporter were spent in meetings of the Pontiac General Hospital board of trustees.

THORNE

I found board sessions dull. There were flashes of friendly banter, but rarely strong dissent from the will of the majority.

Downtown entrepreneur Harold Goldberg offered the most quips. Goldberg, I think, liked to rib board chairman Aleck Capsalis. It was friendly, though.

Capsalis, for example, liked to start the meeting on time. If he were one minute remiss in commencing, former chairman Goldberg would pounce: "Mr. Chairman, would you like to begin."

The board meets the third Thursday of each month in the administrator's office — a room equipped for the occasion with a long table to accommodate the 11 trustees.

No meeting was complete without chairman Capsalis passing around a roll of Lifesavers. For me at least, this was usually the highpoint of the meeting.

The hospital board is the only governmental unit I've covered where the agenda is absolutely the same month after month. Only dates of meetings - to - be - reported - on change.

Contrary to the current drama over the dismissal of Harold B. Euler as hospital administrator, there was little controversy in the roughly two-year period I covered the hospital.

Because the public sessions went so smoothly, I always suspected that the hospital's problems were settled in executive session. This, I think, is not uncommon although it may be another question whether it's right.

There were some incidents that provoked debate. And, not a few requests to "keep that out of the paper." Nothing, however, really dramatic.

I think I've hit on just why there hasn't been a clear board response to the collective demand for an explanation as to why Euler got a pink slip.

I think the reason is the so-called God Syndrome. This is the affliction that strikes those who sit in judgment of others.

It's a nasty ailment. It often infects policemen, commissioners, doctors, judges, foremen and others who govern. People who make such decisions tend to think of themselves as all-powerful. It's a difficult tendency to fight.

Thus, it is understandable that the hospital trustees may need reminding that the public has a right to know about changes at a public institution.

Drug Abuse: Where Is Help?

EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the third in a four-part series on drug abuse in Oakland County.)

By JEAN SAILE

A pair of middle-aged Oakland County parents — smarter with hindsight but burdened with the fear of an unknown future—eye each other sadly as they talk about their runaway daughter.

They know she smokes marijuana and they know she's tried methedrine. And they wonder if she's not getting in so deep that she'll never be able to get out.

They'd use more family discipline if they had their lives to live over, and they'd attempt to get this overly bright child, now 16, interested in some form of activity.

Having lost parental control, they conclude, "She's an adventuress. Life was never any challenge to her.

MAYBE . . . MAYBE . . .

"I think we could have prevented her boredom if we'd given her more jobs to do around the house," said the unhappy mother. "Maybe if we'd let her have a horse when she was younger . . . maybe if we hadn't let her stop baby sitting . . ."

"You know she and I got along better than we ever had while she had that baby-sitting job, and she was a good baby-sitter, too. The kids really liked her," the mother recalled.

Their story is increasingly familiar in Oakland County — a young daughter, unhappy with the world, attracted by rock bands, affecting hippie dress, smoking pot and finally disappearing from home.

So far the other youngsters in the family are seemingly unaffected — except for a younger sister who is "quite nervous."

'IGNORE IT'

"We tell them to ignore it," the parents admit.

The lack of help for such cases, where there is no proven criminal act, was criticized by the father.

"I called the intake center at the Juvenile Home and they wouldn't give me the time of day. If only someone would just have told us what to watch out for, what to do," he said.

NO COMMUNICATION

Not having had the proper information at the proper time, the parents feel now that lack of communication is their biggest problem.

"If you see a puppy being hurt, you go and help it," the mother mused, "and yet you try to help these kids and they think it's a crime. If she saw an animal being hurt, she'd go to its rescue, but she can't see why we want to help her."

Now the parents believe that should she return home, their only recourse will be to cite her as a wayward minor and have her put on probation under court protection.

They tried psychiatric treatment. While it seemed to help for a while, it didn't stop the runaway.

SOCIETY ILL-GEARED

The parents, admitting they may have been wrong, also think society is ill-geared to handle this type problem.

They feel school contributed to their daughter's problem through its method of discipline, and they feel the popularity of rock bands and the influence of people who haunt such places also are responsible.

The believe tighter restrictions would help.

A DUAL LACK

Sincerely interested, they were thwarted by lack of information and lack of facilities.

There currently are three services available to drug users who would like to kick the habit. One is the Community Mental Health Board's outreach program at Pontiac General Hospital, offering group therapy. Another is the community mental health program at Pontiac State Hospital, offering service to the 14 northern townships. A third is Synanon House in Detroit.

However, County Health Director Dr. Bernard Berman points out that success in these areas depends on the will of the user.

Should a child or adult be criminally charged, he can take advantage of psychiatric care offered through the courts. But even psychiatric treatment is not a cure-all, Berman said.

FEDERAL HOSPITALS

For the hard addict, the only help available is federal hospitals, at Lexington, Ky., and Fort Worth, Tex. Those hospitals take patients only on referral from governmental health units — and they take only that small number with the best chance of kicking the habit, the director said.

Some private doctors try to help, but even most of those will reject the addict, Berman reported.

County Population Soars

Oakland County leads the entire six-county area of Metropolitan Detroit in population growth, according to figures just released by the Southeast Michigan Council of Governments (SEMCOG).

Since 1960, growth in the county has swelled from 690,259 to an estimated 900,000.

The 30 per cent population increase over the eight-year period represents significant gains in several communities in the county.

Southfield has led all county communities in growth. Population there has risen to 67,100 from 31,531 in 1960.

Other communities showing large gains were Bloomfield Township, up 17,870 to 40,400; Royal Oak with a growth of 17,388 to 98,000, Troy with a gain of 17,142 to 36,200 and Farmington Township with a rise of 16,974 to 42,500.

Ten other communities in the county showed population increases of 4,000 or more. They were Avon Township, Beverly Hills, Independence Township, Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pontiac, Pontiac Township, Royal Oak Township, Waterford Township and West Bloomfield Township.

None of Oakland County's communities showed a decrease.

Grand Rapids Had Chilly, Rainy June

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Near record cold and heavier than usual rainfall occurred in Grand Rapids during June.

In fact, the U.S. Weather Bureau says Grand Rapids hasn't had a colder June since 1886 when temperatures averaged one tenth of a degree cooler than last month's 61.8-degree average.

Temperatures ranged from a high of 92 on the 28th to a low of 27 on June 9, the Weather Bureau reported. Rainfall totaled 4.74 inches, 1.43 inches above normal.

Music Led to Career as Speech Scientist

By JUNE ELERT

"I came in through the back door." So says Frances V. Henry, Ph.D., director of Oakland County's first speech and hearing center for both children and adults. Dr. Henry is a specialist in work with damaged children who may have multiple handicaps in hearing, speech and language. She also works with adults with speech loss due to stroke and with post-neurosurgical patients.

The door which opened to the present vocation was music.

Frances married early in her native Ohio and had two daughters whom she raised alone. At the same time, she put herself through college, obtaining bachelor and master's degrees in music from Capital University at Columbus.

Frances then came to the University of Michigan planning to write a thesis on the physical aspects of voice production as the basis for a doctorate in music. In pursuit of this objective, she went to the speech department and "once I saw one girl who had a language and learning problem," Frances said, "I was hooked." Her doctorate was taken in speech science and child development. A fellowship in audiology at Johns Hopkins Hospital followed, plus 10 months study at the University of Manchester, England.

* * *

Dr. Henry came to this area a couple of years ago from George Washington University where she was associate professor of hearing and speech, and language consultant to the Department of Education, Washington, D.C. She makes her home in Brighton.

The Kenny-Michigan Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation Center at Pontiac General Hospital, of which the new clinic is a part, offers physical and occupational therapy services. Under direction of Dr. Nicholas Cherup, the center provides treatment for adult aphasics, accident victims, stroke sufferers and others who might benefit also from speech and hearing therapy.

The new clinic is not fully set up yet for all the services that are planned — but is hoped that it will be completely operative by fall. Dr. Henry's enthusiasm has generated a hope of initiating as soon as possible, an auditory check for all newborns.

* * *

Children may be referred to the clinic by physicians or others who note signs of difficulty in speaking, understanding, communicating their needs or who have difficulty getting along educationally.

These youngsters, says Dr. Henry, may or may not be mentally retarded or otherwise damaged. "Often," she says, "when a child can't talk, he quits listening. Others may be able to talk, but they are unable to interpret what they hear.

"I like to give people the skills whereby they can find and use their own minds as human beings," Dr. Henry says. "The greatest difference between humans and other living things is the ability to communicate verbally. When a person loses that, he feels less than human. A child who never learns to do this has a difficult time developing a good relationship with the world."

She goes on, "I have a great deal of empathy with these patients. But I maintain a pretty objective point of view. If I felt sorry for them, I wouldn't get anything done to help them."

Dr. Henry's spare time is spent in keeping up with developments in her profession. She holds membership in the American Speech and Hearing Association, the Society for Research and Child Development, and the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

She is also associated with Phi Kappa Phi, Phi Beta and the Birmingham chapter of Altrusa, in which she is quite active.

"And," she concluded, "I enjoy music even more, now that I'm not earning my living at it."

Questions Medic's Advice--- His Verdict, 'Be Yourself'

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law is paying $35 an hour to a doctor who must be as crazy as she is. This psychiatrist told her that in order to build her "self respect" she should cut out the "hypocrisy" and always say exactly what she thinks. She must be his star pupil because she is following his orders to the letter.

Not only that, but he told her to encourage her children to say exactly what THEY think, too. That is bad enough, but he also told her that words are only words and they don't "mean" anything, so not to react with horror or disgust if her kids talk dirty. Just ignore it.

Can you imagine what it's like at their house? Thank God my husband is dead, or this would kill him.

My son tells me not to pay attention to all this, but how can you ignore such uncivilized behavior? Since you are always plugging psychiatry I would like to hear your views on the subject. CONFUSED IN PHILA.

DEAR CONFUSED: Anyone who is seeing a psychiatrist has my profound respect because it's proof that he is trying to help himself.

Be patient, and don't judge so early in the game. The whole family could be better off eventually for what appears at the moment to be an overdose of honesty.

DEAR ABBY: My cousin, who recently was married, accepted a baby-sitting job for a family with 10 children while the parents went off on a week's vacation. My cousin and her husband stayed at the house and took complete charge of these children whose ages ranged from five months to 15 years old, feeding, dressing, supervising play, cleaning the house and doing at least two loads of washing every single day.

Well, when the parents came home, they figured out that the "sitters" should be paid the grand total of $54!

My cousin was furious. What is your opinion? INTERESTED

DEAR INTERESTED: This should be a good lesson to your cousin (and others who read this) to have a meeting of minds concerning the pay for any kind of job before it's accepted.

DEAR ABBY: "JEALOUS," who doesn't like the idea of his wife going out with a married co-worker for a steak dinner paid for by the loser of their weight-losing contest, should inform the two dieters that while THEY are having steaks, he will drop by the gentleman's home for POT LUCK with HIS wife.

Lots of Tennis in Holiday Plans of Birmingham, 'Hills' Residents

By SHIRLEY GRAY

The Maynard Andreaes of Bloomfield Hills, as in past years, will spend the July 4th weekend with the Stu Hoffmans of Port Huron.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Barnett, Bloomfield Hills residents for a while yet, until they move to Scottsdale, Ariz., this fall, plan a quiet day Friday with daughter Pat and her husband, David Kahrnoff of Orchard Lake, plus of course the two grandchildren, Joanne and Michael.

Dr. and Mrs. John Ingold of Bloomfield Village will have eight of their tennis-playing friends over for dinner Saturday, two of them being the William K. Downeys.

The Leroy W. Dahlbergs of Bloomfield Hills will while away the holiday playing tennis on the Cranbrook courts with 20 or so friends.

It'll be a "very informal" mixed doubles tournament, somewhat of a "pig in a poke" as far as the contestants are concerned, since Mrs. Dahlberg hasn't quite decided what to do about the prizes. She's considering bringing down an old unclaimed tennis trophy from the attic, dusting it off, and hanging a little note on it saying "prize."

After the tennis, which starts at 3 p.m., all will hie over to the Dahlberg domicile for buffet super.

If it doesn't rain, there'll be croquet on the lawn.

On the guest list: Leon Bramley, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel E. Gawne, Dr. and Mrs. Richard E. Straith, Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Rappaport, the David Hausers, the Samuel E. Harpers, Mr. and Mrs. W. Thompson Tambke, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Walker, Bill Henderson, Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rumsey and Werner Holzbock.

BRIDAL SHOWER

Four local women recently journeyed to the State capital for a shower in honor of bride-to-be Lynsie Schaberg, daughter of Mrs. Ernest Schaberg. Attending from Birmingham, was Mrs. Edson Ivy; from Bloomfield Hills, Mrs. Harold "Mac" McFarland, a former Lansingite and Mrs. Thomas E. Darnton and her daughter, Mrs. Robert Schaberg.

Baldwin Pavilion Setting for Two Special Concerts

The Meadow Brook Special Events series presents pianist Vladimir Ashkenazy and violinist Itzhak Perlman in a duo performance Tuesday, and vocalists Jennie Tourel and Jon Vickers with the Meadow Brook orchestra Wednesday. Both concerts are at 8:30 p.m. in the Baldwin Pavilion at Oakland University.

Ashkenazy and Perlman will perform piano-violin sonatas by Prokofiev and Beethoven and a rondo by Schubert.

Mezzo Tourel returns to Meadow Brook for the second season. Tenor Vickers joins her in performance of Mahler's "Das Lied von der Erde" with the Meadow Brook Orchestra conducted by James Levine. Mendelssohn's Symphony No. 4 in A major completes the program.

Tickets may be obtained from Hudson's and Grinnell's or by calling the University.

July Art Exhibits Include Works of 3 Local Women

Three Pontiac artists, Jean Belknap, Kate McLean and Vista Jackson Scott, will be exhibiting at the Judlo Gallery, Ann Arbor, July 6-25, in a show that will feature several Michigan women painters and sculptors.

A reception for the artists will be held at the Gallery July 6 from 1 to 5 p.m. The public may attend.

A wide selection of "Graphics for the Young Collector" will be exhibited at the J. L. Hudson Gallery July 3-31. The exhibit will include works by Calder, Chagall, Albers, Goya, Dali, Steinberg, Braque and others.

Nineteenth and twentieth century posters will also be displayed.

A trio of experimental artists will exhibit works utilizing the products of industrial research at the Gertrude Kasle Gallery from July 7-31.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer, I have finally (after 40 years) worked on my figure until it is just the way I have always wanted it to be, but now my problems are almost worse. I can't find patterns small enough and when I do, there are so few of them that the selection is very poor.

Surely, there are lots of women who wear size three or five ready-made dresses who have the same problem. The top high fashion pattern company is the worst offender in this small size range.

Mrs. P.S.C.

Dear Mrs. P. S.C.: The old rule of supply and demand is the problem here. Perhaps there are many of you who can't find patterns in your small size. Instead of complaining to yourself or your fabric shop, take a few minutes of your time and write to me. The pattern companies are in business to sell patterns and if there is a special need that has been overlooked, they would certainly be more than willing to correct this.

I will act as your go-between and any mail I receive from you will certainly reach the right people. Please drop me a postcard, or note immediately and tell me of what size patterns there seems to be the greatest shortage.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

Mrs. Janet Curda, Ft. Worth, Texas is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following sewing suggestion.

"I purchased an inexpensive bath mat with a sponge backing to put under my portable sewing machine. Fold it in half with the sponge out, extending about an inch in front of machine. It makes an excellent cushion to set the machine on because it prevents moving around. The furniture is protected and it is easy to store inside the machine case when you are finished.

But the BEST part of it is that it provides a nice pin-cushion the full length of the machine, so handily eliminates the constant searching for the pin cushion."

Dear Eunice Farmer, I am working with a designer pattern for a formal gown and the pattern calls for a three-inch hair braid for the hem. I am wondering what this is and where to find it. The only hair braid I have been able to find comes in a package and is only one inch wide. I can't understand why patterns recommend something that isn't available for those of us who do our own sewing.

Mrs. N. W.

Dear Mrs. N. W.: The pattern you are referring to must have been designed in Europe. When the pattern company buys the designer's original, they must reproduce the directions exactly as the original was constructed or they cannot use the designer's name on the pattern. These patterns are constructed with custom details that are usually not familiar to anyone other than a custom dressmaker.

Hair braid is a mesh type braid that keeps its shape and helps retain the shape of the hem of a gown by giving it the extra body necessary. Often a shop that carries better fabrics will carry this item. But, if you can't find it, you can take the narrow braid and lap the edges of two strips, hand sew a loose running stitch to hold them together and actually make this braid as wide as you desire.

Dear Eunice Farmer, Will you please tell me how to take the wrinkles and creases out of a piece of corduroy? Also, could I put a zipper in the side seam instead of the back of a dress?

Miss M.R.

Dear Miss M. R.: As to the creases in the corduroy, if they don't come out with steam, you might have to wet the corduroy and let it dry in your dryer to retain the soft nap. If you buy napped fabric of any type and aren't going to use it right away, it is best to fold it in approximately 12-inch folds, place large safety pins throughout the selvage of each fold and hang on a clothes hanger. Because of the wrinkle resistancy of fabrics today, if they do become wrinkled or creased, it is almost impossible to remove.

As to the placing of the zipper, this is a matter of choice. The back zipper application became so popular because of elaborate hairdos that became destroyed if a dress was forced over the head. If the dress has an adequate opening for the head, there is no reason why you can't use side closing if you desire. Usually a 12- or 14-inch zipper is recommended.

Detroiters Plan Swingin' Things for Weekenders

DETROIT (UPI) — Things will swing on weekends this summer in downtown Detroit.

There will be flea markets, music, artists' exhibitions, outdoor cafes, and festivals — all boosted by the Central Business District Association to put some pizazz into the inner city.

Beginning Thursday and running through the weekend will be the Greektown Festival not far from downtown. There will be dancing in the streets and outdoor booths dispensing Greek delicacies.

Chinatown, at midtown, not to be outdone, will have an outdoor flea market running every Saturday and Sunday during July and August. "Mayor" Henry Yee will provide an outdoor cafe, one of six fresh air cafes that will be operating in the downtown area this summer.

Every Sunday, there will be an outdoor flea market on lower Woodward Avenue, with vendord offering old and new odds and ends — from antiques to fresh flowers. Also on Sundays, there will be music in the Kern block and an artists' mart in Kennedy Square.

Cotton is the only major fiber that increases in strength when it's wet.

Exercisers Reach the Mass Market

Indoor exercising is a popular trend, according to the Family Fitness Council. Part of the reason is that exercise aids have been designed for mass production by its members for use in the home. Appearance, size, and cost have made figure control equipment, of a type formerly only available in professional salons, attractive for the home.

For example, belt massagers can be purchased for under $100, indoor joggers about the same, slant boards under $25, and stationary bicycles as low as $50.

State Medical Manpower Up

LANSING (AP) — Michigan gained 407 registered doctors and 4,600 more nurses this year over last year—but there still is a need for more trained medical specialists, reports the Michigan Health Council.

A council health manpower survey showed every area of Michigan with an improvement in medical manpower except the Upper Peninsula.

The survey showed Michigan still needs about 2,000 more medical doctors alone.

The total registered for the Upper Peninsula remained the same as 1968—227 mdeical doctors and nine osteopathic doctors, although there were some losses and gains of doctors among counties.

The gain for the state included 363 medical doctors and 44 osteopathic physicians. There were 2,389 more registered nurses and 2,211 more licensed practical nurses.

The total of medical doctors in the state increased from 8,379 to 8,742. The osteopathic doctor registration increased from 1,943 to 1,947.

The registered nurse increase went from 41,410 to 43,799. The licensed practical nurse increase was from 17,213 to 19,424.

"Substantial improvements in salaries paid to Michigan nurses is one of the reasons for the impressive increase," the report said.

BIG GAIN IN OAKLAND

"Many programs to encourage trained nurses to return to their profession as well as many new programs in community college are encouraging more young women and men to enter nursing."

Washtenaw and Oakland counties in populous southeastern Michigan showed the greatest gains in doctors. Oakland jumped from 992 to 1,124 medical doctors and from 300 to 328 osteopaths. Washtenaw went from 756 medical doctors to 836. It retained the same number of osteopaths—17.

Several other counties made gains, the report said, by cooperating with the council in publishing special brochures about medical opportunities in their hospitals and communities.

Jackson County showed a gain for the first time in 10 years, increasing its medical doctors from 110 to 118. Berrien County went from 112 to 122 medical doctors. Both lost osteopathic doctors, however.

2,000 NEEDED

The report said there still is a need for about 2,000 more medical doctors in the state.

The end of the Vietnam war would greatly help the situation, it was noted. The council reported 571 Michigan medical doctors still are serving in Vietnam and other locations with the military service.

John A. Doherty, council executive director, said the council had four recommendations to improve Michigan's medical manpower situation. He listed these as:

- Elimination of the old basic science examination, which has caused a number of prospective doctors to go to other states.
- Backing of the four-year College of Human Medicine at Michigan State University.
- An increase in the ratio of students entering medical schools from one to every 25,000 to 30,000 citizens to one to every 15,000 to 18,000 citizens.
- More funds to promote Michigan as a desirable place for doctors, nurses and other medical personnel such as by advertisements in national and student medical journals.

Parents to Raise Funds for School

DETROIT (AP) — Ten parents of children at Blessed Sacrament school in Detroit have organized to fight the fiscal crunch hitting schools of the Detroit Roman Catholic Archdiocese.

They plan to raise $80,000 to subsidize the school's $176,000 annual budget. The school has been ordered to take in 129 additional pupils this fall from two nearly Catholic schools which have been closed.

U.S. Military Men Puzzle Over Lull in Viet Fighting

SAIGON (AP) — As North Vietnam announced today it will release three American prisoners of war, U.S. military men were puzzling over one of the lowest levels of fighting in the war and trying to determine just how many North Vietnamese had infiltrated into South Vietnam or withdrawn.

American officers said three North Vietnamese regiments, the 36th, 138th and 27th, have pulled back across the 17th Parallel demilitarized zone into North Vietnam. But they said the Communist Command still has three regiments in the northern portion of South Vietnam, and speculated the pullback may simply mean new regiments will replace them.

Four enemy regiments also have pulled back from the Central Highlands around Ben Het, perhaps to get replacements after the recent battle there, the officers said.

Along the southern half of the Cambodian border, northwest of Saigon, a regiment of the North Vietnamese 7th Division reportedly has pulled back west of Loc Ninh. But spokesmen noted units of the 7th, 1st and 9th North Vietnamese divisions have been continually maneuvering in the critical 3rd Corps area.

SOFT SPOT

In one 10-day period, said the spokesmen, that same enemy regiment operating west of Loc Ninh went back and forth across the border three times. Some said it appeared to be feeling for a soft spot in allied positions.

A similar situation was reported west of Tay Ninh City, where the enemy's 9th Division has been crossing and recrossing the border for several months.

In the Mekong Delta far to the south, U.S. intelligence indicated North Vietnam's old 273rd Regiment has just returned to what is known as the Seven Mountain area after months of absence.

The latest military intelligence indicates 10,000 North Vietnamese troops infiltrated down the Ho Chi Minh Trail through Laos and Cambodia last month. Spokesmen said about 63,000 enemy have come down the trail since the first of the year.

IN CONFLICT

This appeared to conflict with a statement in Washington by Secretary of State William P. Rogers, who said "we know pretty conclusively" that the infiltration of North Vietnamese troops into South Vietnam has declined.

"I'm not disagreeing with anything Rogers said," said one U.S. source. "Washington is talking about the number of enemy troops being put into the pipeline, wherever the hell that starts. We are talking about what is actually coming into the country. This is possibly the difference in what Rogers is talking about."

Sources pointed out it takes North Vietnamese infiltrators three to four months to reach the 3rd Military Corps of South Vietnam thus a decline might not be reflecten until the end of July or August.

One source said: "I don't know what they're really talking about in Washington."

STILL COMING

Another U.S. source said the 3rd Corps is still getting the highest level of infiltration.

"Current reports indicate they're still coming in," he said. "Units that have suffered large numbers of casualties are currently filled up. This is where they want to put up the flags and banners and make noise as loud as they can."

Various reasons for the pullbacks and the lull in fighting have been suggested. For example, the three enemy regiments withdrawn across the DMZ may have been a "political pullback" because of the announced withdrawal of the 7,000-man U.S. 9th Marine Regiment that operates around there.

Spokesmen added the pullbacks in the Central Highlands might have been tactical because the North Vietnamese suffered an estimated 2,000 men killed in the battle around Ben Het.

ENEMY CACHES

"The level of fighting is as low as it has been this year," said one officer.

But others pointed to a sudden increase in discovery of enemy war stockpiles and food. The latest, a 10-ton cache, was found in War Zone D northeast of Saigon. These officers said this is an indication the enemy is preparing the battlefield for new attacks.

London 'Global Abortion Capital'

LONDON (AP) — The Daily Express said today London has become the abortion capital of the world. Abortions have been legal in Britain for a year.

The newspaper sent reporter Jane Carter to find out how long it would take a foreign girl knowing no one in Britain to get in touch with an abortion clinic. It took her exactly 53 minutes, and the clinic quoted her a price of $356 for the operation.

Copter Team Halts Abortion

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit police, using a rented helicopter, swept down on an East Side motel Wednesday morning, arresting two men they said were preparing to perform an illegal abortion.

Arrested were Richard Holdinz, a former osteopathic doctor, and David J. Dawood.

The 20-year-old girl upon whom they were to have performed the abortion was detained at the motel but later released.

Inspector Charles Mayrand of the police Intelligence Bureau said more arrests might be forthcoming in what police believe is a larger abortion ring in the Detroit area.

White-House Tour Pushes Crowds

WASHINGTON — You can stand 3½ hours in a broiling Washington sun for a 12½-minute tour of the White House and come out wondering what you saw.

Even so, it's the biggest summer show in town, and between 8,000 and 12,000 take advantage of it every day except Sunday and Monday.

"I was a little disappointed," said Jack Dugan, a businessman from Bisbee, Ariz. "This was my first visit and I would have liked to stop and examine some of the prints and history, but you can't hold the people up."

"Mama," said a small girl, tugging at her mother's hand. "I want to go to the zoo."

MOTHER'S WARNING

"Leave that policeman's pistol alone!" barked another mother at a tow-headed tyke who had slipped under the restraining ropes.

"Hey, you—get to the end of the line, I've been waiting here three years," a burly man with hamlike arms velled at a small figure carrying a briefcase. The man with the briefcase retreated sheepishly.

This is the mad scene that takes place almost daily at the mansion on Pennsylvania Avenue, which has been the home of every President except George Washington.

If you hope to catch a glimpse of President Nixon practicing his stroke on Ike's famous putting green or Tricia tossing her pretty blonde locks, forget it. You're lucky to see a rose.

CROWDS KEPT MOVING

"The crowds are so large you have to keep them moving," said Sgt. Daniel Cassell, who heads the 14-man uniformed force which marshals more than 2 million people yearly through this whirlwind tour of an American legend.

This is the peak season for White House sightseers. This is the week of Uncle Sam's birthday. School is out. Families are pouring into the nation's capital.

The No. 1 sight is the White House.

"They start queuihg up as early as 7 o'clock in the morning and the gates don't open until 10," says Cassell. "Visiting hours are between 10 and 12 noon on Tuesday through Friday, 10 to 2 on Saturday but the schedule can be canceled suddenly if there is a press conference or a prominent visitor."

PERSPIRING, PASSING

The perspiring mob passes through the East Gate and into the East Room, or Ball Room, scene of the President's televised press conferences and small receptions such as the recent one for Duke Ellington.

"This is the oldest house in Washington, D.C.," explains a spieling guard. "The cornerstone was laid in 1792. Now from here you go into the Green, Blue and Red Rooms which you can tell by looking around you . . ."

In the state dining room, guard Leroy Lombard, adds a little levity by announcing that the gold candelabra were a gift to President Eisenhower from Margaret Thomas Biddle.

"Ike left them here because he couldn't afford the taxes," he said.

WHAT DO THEY EAT?

Asked what people eat in the big dining room, Lombard replied:

"Potato chips—Congress just passed the income tax surcharge again."

The crowd, forbidden to take pictures or walk on the red VIP carpet which is rolled up, is then hustled out the door onto Pennsylvania Avenue.

"Why can't we go upstairs?—we haven't seen anything," visitors constantly complain.

"That's where the family lives—it is out of bounds," the policeman replies.

So the show ends. The price is right. It's free. But in the foyer for $1.25 you can buy a brochure showing what you didn't see on the tour.

Julie Surprises Tourists

WASHINGTON (AP) — Julie Nixon Eisenhower provided a surprise for the first 25 tourists in line at the White House yeszterday—giving them a personal tour that included things like a secret stairway and her father's study.

The President's older daughter is doing volunteer summer duty at the White House visitors' office and taking special tours is her job.

She did the same thing last week in privacy. But yesterday, the press was invited to go along to see Julie in action.

She explained she likes to give her tourists something different. So, she includes a tour of the garden, pointing out former President Eisenhower's putting green, the east garden "where my mother has peas" and where there's a small fountain with a wishing well—"but nobody throws anything in there."

The surprised and excited tourists yesterday also got a look at the famous Lincoln bedroom, where Julie said Lincoln never slept.

She told them that new presidents do "an incredible portrait shuffling" when they move into the White House, getting their favorite personalities prime space.

Julie opened up a secret passageway to show what she says is probably the only "secret stairway" in the White House, leading down from the family quarters. She said she has used it once to "escape from a party."

Census figures reveal that there was no significant increase in the number of people leaving farms to live in the cities in the U.S. in the past year.

Some Doctors Face Special IRS Audits

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Internal Revenue Service said today income tax returns of about 10,000 doctors who drew more than $25,000 a year from government medicare and medicaid programs will undergo a special audit.

Assistant deputy IRS commissioner William H. Smith, told the Senate Finance Committee an initial examination would be made of the 1967 returns of doctors, dentists and other medical practitioners who received more than $50,000 a year from the two federal health funds.

For subsequent years, he testified, the audit will be expanded to those paid more than $25,000. This group has been estimated at about 10,000 members of the medical and dental professions.

The Senate committee is conducting a wide-ranging probe into reported abuses of medicare, the program designed to give medical aid to the elderly, and medicaid, the program to supply similar assistance to the indigent.

ACCORD WITH HEW

IRS Commissioner Randolph W. Thrower told the committee an agreement had been worked out with the department of Health, Education and Welfare (HEW), to require insurance firms that underwrite all medicaid and medicare payments to report them in a comprehensible manner.

As the hearings started Tuesday, Sen. Russell B. Long, D-La., urged that the insurance firms should be required to inform the International Revenue Service how much doctors are paid under the two programs.

Thrower agreed with Long and Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., that code numbers used in reporting the payments resembled a "Swiss bank account" system.

Thrower told the committee he did not want to "make judgments as to whether there is widespread cheating" in doctors' tax returns. But he acknowledged that the IRS had not been getting information in precise enough form to trace their incomes.

Executive Pushing for Jobs for the Hard-Core 'Losers'

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Paul W. Kayser came to Washington from a company that seeks to identify itself with the beautiful and active young people of the affluent society. But now the vice president Pepsico is concerned with men and women hitherto regarded as a "loser" generation.

Kayser has been on loan as president of the National Alliance of Businessmen (NAB) for less than four months. But he has formed some firm opinions about the hard-core unemployed that the organization, in cooperation with the federal government, is trying to put to work.

"These are people who have been systematically excluded from the work force," the graying, 51-year-old New York City executive said.

"Look at the profile: A sixth-grade education or less. A jail record, probably. Medical problems, dental problems. Requiring education to reach literacy. If they are female, they need someone to care for their children if they work. They probably have no transportation to the places where the jobs are.

CRITERIOR: NEED

"In the past, the personnel men have screened for qualifications and they have screened these people out. We are asking them now to screen for potential, to make need a criterion."

NAB, through its JOBS (Job Opportunities in the Private Sector) program, already has found work for more than 191,000 persons, of whom 107,774 still were on the job as of June 1, 1969.

"That is a retention rate of 56 per cent, which isn't bad," Kayser said. "In normal business, you figure only on a retention of about 64 per cent."

Having exceeded its goal of 100,000 jobs in 50 cities during its first year of operation, NAB now is expanding to 131 cities and aiming for a cumulative total of 338,000 jobs by next summer. By mid-1971, it is shooting for 614,000 jobs, an increase of 114,000 over its original goal of 500,000.

MOST ON LOAN

Like Kayser, most of NAB's Washington and field staff of 801 persons is on loan from private business. However, 113 are on loan from the government and 101 are full-time NAB employes.

The organization, established in 1968 under the leadership of Henry Ford II at the request of President Johnson, goes directly into the business community urging employment of the hard core jobless and helping arrange federally financed training contracts to help companies meet the extra costs of preparing men and women who had been regarded as "unemployable" for jobs.

Kayser came to the job to find the business community "awakened" to NABs message and eager to help. As of June 1, the JOBS program had total job pledges of 267,000 from more than 15,000 companies, but was not letting up its search for more to assure itself of reaching the all-important "on board" goal.

Kayser is quick to admit there are problems. For example, "credibility is our biggest problem in dealing with the hard-core unemployed. After all the promises of the past, people didn't believe that we really are serious."

SPECIAL PROBLEMS

Kayser said the hard core does have special problems — just getting used to the idea of working regular hours is one — and "You can't expect them to be put into the production line and hope they'll get some help from a foreman."

Kayser's personal approach to employment of the hard core avoids any hint of "scare tactics" — a sales pitch based on the implied threat that if the disadvantaged are not given jobs they will riot.

Instead, Kayser uses hard figures to make his point that employment of the hard core helps businessmen two ways — by reducing the requirement for costly welfare and unemployment compensation programs and by adding purchasing power to the economy.

2 Couples Lost, 9 Are Orphaned

Lake Sail Ends in Tragedy

DETROIT (UPI) — An overturned sailboat and a brightly wrapped gift that may never be opened are all that nine frightened children have linking them to their parents, who never came home from a sail on Lake Erie.

The five children of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert A. Cross and the four youngsters of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Lentz wait with their grandparents and hope.

But the official search for the two couples, good friends and neighbors in northwest Detroit, has been abandoned.

"I know they'll turn up all right," said Kim Cross, 12.

EVENING SAIL

The two couples vanished Saturday after setting out for an early evening sail in Lentz' boat from Rondau Park, Ont., where both families have summer cottages. Rondeau Park is 30 miles southwest of Chatham, Ont.

Ontario Provincial Police found the boat a quarter-mile offshore the next day, capsized. No trace was found of Cross, 37 a week ago; his wife, Mary Ann, who would have been 33 on Saturday; Lentz, 42; or his wife, Beverly, 39.

A little birthday gift tied with a bright red ribbon waits at the Cross home "for mother."

Besides Kim, the oldest Cross child, there are Sherie, 11; Chris, 10; Jamie, 7, and Robert 4.

WITH GRANDPARENTS

The Lentz children are Steve, 17; Lori, 14; Melinda, 11; and Mike, 7. They are with their grandparents in Brighton.

Cross, a civil engineer, and his wife, a part-time nurse at Mount Carmel Mercy Hospital here, narrowly escaped death last April when the jetliner they were aboard caught fire shortly after takeoff from Madrid, Spain.

They came home safely from that vacation. But Saturday night, they vanished in high winds and rain squalls on Lake Erie with their very good friends, leaving nine children behind to wait and hope.

SGT. JOHN E. BRAID

Ex-City Soldier Killed in Viet

Son of Former Pontiac Residents; PCH Grad

Sgt. John E. Braid, 27, was killed June 23 in action in Vietnam, the Defense Department has announced. He was on a military mission when a mine detonated.

He is the son of former Pontiac residents Mr. and Mrs. John H. Braid of Comins.

Braid was a 1960 graduate of Pontiac Central High School and received a degree in industrial management from Lawrence Institute of Technology, Southfield. He also attended Albion College.

LEFT FOR VIET

He was inducted into the Army in March 1968 and left for Vietnam with the 26th Infantry, 1st Division, last March.

Surviving are his parents: a sister, Mrs. Sue Vliet of Alma; and a grandmother, Mrs. Martha Braid of Oxford.

His body will be brought to the Larrison Funeral Home, Mio, for service and burial.

Contributions may be made to Comins Church or the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston.

Union Lake School Target of Burglars

Burglars broke into the Union Lake Elementary School in Commerce Township, tore apart a vending machine and kicked in the main office door, it was reported to Oakland County sheriff's deputies yesterday morning.

Deputies found blood on a stairway and in the office, they said.

Nothing was reported missing from the building at 8269 Commerce except one bandage from the school's first-aid kit.

Flag Designed in Area Won't Go to Moon

A flag designed in Oakland County will accompany astronauts to the launching pad July 16, but it will not go to the moon with them.

The flag honors three dead American astronauts and two dead Russian cosmonauts. It was the idea and design of Bruce L. Thompson, 3520 Woodland, Highland Township; James R. Saile, 6290 S. Main, Clarkston; and Ted Hubert, 183 Hi Hill, Orion Township. It was sewn by Mrs. Andrew Wright, Saile's mother-in-law, also of 6290 S. Main, Clarkston.

Rep. Jack McDonald, R-19th District, introduced a resolution in the House of Representatives to have the flag planted on the moon along with the Stars and Stripes.

It was flown to Washington for display there by Detroit Tiger pitcher Dennis McLain, and its eventual usage was left to a decision by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, McDonald said.

NASA decided on just the American flag for the moon.

Service Center Bids Above County Limit

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors has run into a financial roadblock in construction of its new service center building on the North Telegraph county grounds.

Bids opened yesterday for construction of the facility all exceeded the supervisors' self-imposed limit of a $2-million construction cost.

The lowest figure came from E. E. Powell General Contracting Co. of Pontiac at $2,092,000. The highest bid was that of J. A. Fredman Inc. of Pontiac in the amount of $2,432,800.

Members of the finance and planning, building and zoning committees, met informally following the bid opening. They noted several alternates contained in the specifications could be eliminated.

MIGHT DUMP PROJECT

Reductions in such items as parking lot paving, a paint spray booth and $8,000 in garage paneling could reduce the low bid total cost as much as $24,100, they noted. The new total, less alternates, would still be $2,068,000, $68,000 over the limit.

George Grba, D-Pontiac, chairman of the finance committee, reported later that costs would be further pared or there was a good chance the project might be dumped.

The combined committees have referred the three low bids to the architect, Swanson Associates Inc. of Bloomfield Hills, and the county board of auditors for tabulations and recommendations.

They will be considered at a special meeting at 9 a.m. July 11 in the courthouse.

Following the low bidder, Powell, were the Collenson Construction Co. of Midland at $2,136,000 and the Pyramid Construction Co. of Farmington at $2,149,000.

R. J. Alexander, superintendent of the county DPW, said following yesterday's opening of the construction bids that the bids appeared to be in line. Just $340,800 separated the low and high bidder on the $2,000,000 project, he said.

He also stated the October 30, 1970 completion date promised by the low bidder was very good.

The county's service center building is now located on South Telegraph in Pontiac. The site for the new building is on Watkins Lake Road near the road commission offices.

MCOM Gets 2nd U. S. Grant

The grant is from the National Cancer Institute of the office of Health, Education and office of Health, Education and Welfare. It is for a program to be headed by Dr. Jon J. Kapara to do research on tumors in mice.

The first federal grant to the school was made June 17. It was $33,000 from HEW for an instructional program.

Thief Gets $200 at Service Station

The theft of $200 from a service station cash register at 2:15 p.m. yesterday has been reported to city police.

James D. Gates, 42, co-owner of Jim and Harold's Service Station, 660 W. Huron, told police he was busy at the other end of the station when the theft occurred. Gates told officers he suspects a teen-age boy he had chased away from the station prior to the theft.

Self-Policing Urged to Cut Air Accidents

Self-policing by the general aviation industry is the only route to air accident prevention, some 65 southeastern Michigan fliers were told last night.

Meeting at the Detroit City Airport, they heard Frank Martineau, executive director of the Aircraft Owners and Pilots Association (AOPA) Air Safety Foundation, give a slide and film presentation.

Martineau, a former Pentagon official and 30-year pilot, stressed the fact that aircraft accidents do not happen, "they are caused."

Committed to a national program whereby pilots would be required to take yearly proficiency tests, Martineau pointed to an accompanying need for qualified instructors and mechanics.

He reviewed accident reports showing that aerial collisions are responsible for less than 10 per cent of major aircraft accidents and that the fatality rate in those accidents are about one in four.

He blamed poor judgment and lack of knowledge as the major contributor to such accidents.

Fire Damages House, One of City's Oldest

Pontiac fire officials suspect faulty wiring as the cause of an $18,000 blaze which extensively damaged one of the city's oldest houses yesterday morning.

An electrical fire may have started in the roof void of a two-story brick rooming house at 273 N. Saginaw, firemen said.

The house, owned by Harvey Place, is estimated to be more than 100 years old.

The loss is estimated $15,000 to the house and $3,000 to its contents, according to the fire department. Place had no insurance on the house.

EXTENSIVE DAMAGE

Extensive fire, smoke and water damage was reported on the front section of both floors.

Firemen, arriving at the fire, said the smoke was so thick they went right past the house. They located it when an occupant called to them.

Firemen had considerable trouble getting to the source of the blaze and had to break through the mansard roof, they said.

Two fire companies, with two engines, one ladder truck, one tower and one rescue vehicle, fought the blaze from 4:20 to 8:40 a.m.

No injuries were reported. An unreported number of people, sleeping in the house when the fire broke out, escaped, firemen said.

Area Man Picked

Gov. William Milliken has appointed Severyn H. Niedjelski of 2372 Dexter, Pontiac Township, to the Advisory Board for Registration of Water Well-Drillers.

His term will expire March 30, 1972. A Senate confirmation is required.

New Bethel Witness Firm About Killing

DETROIT (UPI) — Despite a withering cross-examination by the defense, the star prosecution witness in the Rafael Viera case yesterday clung to his story of witnessing Viera slay a Detroit policeman.

After David Brown Jr.'s cross-examination was completed, the 20-year-old Viera's hearing was recessed until July 14 in order to obtain testimony from Patrolman Richard Worobec, who was severely wounded the night of the fatal shooting.

Patrolman Michael Czapski was killed and his partner Worobec wounded on March 29 when they stopped outside the New Bethel Baptist Church.

Brown, 19, of Compton, Calif., who was arrested in the church after the shooting and charged with assault with intent to commit murder, testified that Viera fired "five to seven" shots at Czapski. The policeman did not draw his gun, Brown said.

HE WAS BEATEN

When Brown was questioned by Viera's attorney, Milton R. Henry, he held firmly to his story. Earlier he said that he was beaten by police at the church, but he reiterated that the beating had nothing to do with his identification of Viera.

Brown said his father had persuaded him to cooperate with police. He said his father told him, "Look what this black nationalist business has gotten you into." Brown said he later sent word to police through his father that he would talk.

Both Viera of New York and Brown are members of the Republic of New Africa, a black separatist movement meeting at the church the night of the shooting.

After Czapski and Worobec were shot, other police officers burst through the doors of the church, firing guns. Four persons were wounded. Police said Brown fired a pistol at the rear of the church during the shoot-out.

Customs Rules for Liquor Told

There is no special limit on the amount of liquor or beer a resident of the United States may bring back from another country for personal use, according to the Bureau of Customs.

But only one quart (32 ounces) may be brought in free of duty and tax, and the person bringing the liquor must be 21 or older.

A check should be made on the regulations of the state where a traverler will reenter the United States from his trip abroad. The state may require a permit or a tax, or it may limit the amount of liquor.

If a traverler brings back more than one quart that is allowed free entry, he must pay the duty and the Internal Revenue tax on the amount over the allowance.

The liquor allowance is increased to one wine gallon (128 ounces) for arrivals from the Virgin Islands, American Samoa and Guam.

No liquor can be shipped through the United States mails.

Suit for Pay

DETROIT (AP) — The U.S. Labor Department has announced filing of an injunction suit in Detroit U.S. District Court against the Williams Detective Agency of Detroit and Samuel Williams charging failure to pay 101 employes the minimum wage and premium pay for overtime. The suit also seeks $14,254 in unpaid back wages for the employes.

Senate Delays Bill on Health Education

LANSING (AP) — Questions about sex education and whether a college course would have required a student to try drugs have led the Senate to postpone final action on a bill setting up a "critical health problems education program" for schoolchildren.

Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, Wednesday questioned a section of the House-passed bill that would call upon the State Superintendent of Public Instruction to establish guidelines for the "comprehensive health education programs."

"Comprehensive health — how far does it go?" Lane asked.

The bill specifies that curricula for such a program in elementary and secondary schools would include information on drugs, narcotics, alcohol, tobacco, mental health, dental health and accident prevention.

U-M INCIDENT

Lane said he understood a "young lady at the University of Michigan" had been asked "to take dope to write a paper." She did not take the course, he added later. Lane did not specify the course or name individuals involved.

Sen. Basil Brown, D-Highland Park, challenged Lane to "report this case to the Ann Arbor police, the Michigan State Police and maybe the FBI."

"You scream every day — as most of us do — about law and order," Brown said. "Use of narcotics is a violation of state law. You ought to go to the phone and call the police right now if what you say is true."

Asked later about his comments, Lane said, "It isn't that long that I've had (it). I'm going to try to pursue it."

HUBER OBJECTS

Sen. Robert Huber, R-Troy, also objected to the guideline provisions in the bill and cited the now controversial sex education program authorized in the Legislature last year.

"One year later (the department of Education) has done nothing," he said. "I wish there was some way of tightening the screws on the Department of Education. It's a disgrace that they can ignore the Legislature.

The State Board of Education plans to discuss sex education guidelines at its meeting next week.

The Legislature has passed a resolution, which does not have the force of law, urging local school districts to stop teaching sex education until guidelines are established.

BILLS PASSED

In other action, the Senate approved and sent to the governor bills that would:

- Extend the life of the school bond loan fund.
- Set up procedures by which cities may demolish or repair dangerous and unsafe houses.
- Provide for special operator's licenses for motorcyclists.
- Increase from $500,000 to $600,000 the revenue for local units from certain racetracks.

West Germany Recalls Envoy to South Yemen

BONN, Germany (AP) — West Germany announced Wednesday it is recalling its ambassador to Aden in response to South Yemen's recognition of Communist-ruled East Germany, but added that diplomatic relations have not been formally broken.

Government spokesman Conrad Ahlers told a news conference that a formal break with Aden "is not justified by German interests in South Yemen."

The freeze in relations follows a pattern set last month, when the Bonn government shut down its mission in Phnom Penh after Cambodia established full relations with East Germany.

Cambodia retaliated by breaking off relations with Bonn.

LA Suburb's Mayor Negro

COMPTON, Calif. (AP) — The first Negro mayor of this Los Angeles suburb says he foresees no racial or social turmoil during his administration.

Douglas Dollarhide said Tuesday at his inauguration that militants "are not really bad people, but people who are misdirected; they need firmness and kindness."

The racial composition of this prosperous community of 80,000 has changed in recent years, making Negroes a 61 per cent majority.

PUTNAM, Conn. (AP) — Malcolm A. Rovero, the new Republican town chairman here, is a Democrat, according to the local party caucus lists kept by the Democratic registrar.

The registrar, Stanley Glinski, said he has not been given legal notice that Rovero, who was elected last month, has transferred party affiliation.

Thant Calls for World Ban of Chemical, Germ Weapons

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant has called for a worldwide pact banning the development, production and stockpiling of all chemical and germ warfare agents for "their effective elimination from the arsenal of weapons."

Thant's three-point proposal was sent to the U.N. Disarmament Committee that opened a new round of discussions in Geneva today, to all 126 members of the United Nations and to the U.N. Security Council.

The program also urges all nations to accede to the Geneva Protocol of 1925, which prohibits the use of poisonous gas and germ warfare, and calls for a clear affirmation that the 1925 ban applies to the use in war of all germ and chemical agents, including tear gas.

* * *

The United States signed but never ratified the protocol, which has the formal endorsement of more than 60 governments. Japan is the only other major power that has not acceded to the agreement.

NO SURE DEFENSE

Thant's recommendations were accompanied by a 118-page study prepared for him by an international group of 14 experts.

The experts warned that "any country could develop or acquire" the capacity to wage war with chemical or bacteriological weapons and that there is no sure defense against such weapons. Some of them, the experts said, could endanger the future of mankind.

"The danger of the proliferation of this class of weapons," their report added, "applies as much to the developing as it does to the developed countries." And their use by one nation might trigger retaliation by "other categories of weapons systems," presumably nuclear weapons.

Although gas warfare was used in World War I and a number of nations are known to have stockpiled chemical and germ weapons during and since World War II, the experts cited only the United States as an example of a nation which has used the weapons in a recent war. They cited American use of herbicides to defoliate jungles and forests in South Vietnam.

"There is as yet no scientific evaluation of the long-term ecological changes resulting from these attacks," the report said. "One estimate is that some mangrove forests may need 20 years to regenerate, and fears have been expressed about the future of the animal population."

* * *

The committee noted that certain bird species have migrated from attacked areas, but "There has been no decline in fish catches."

The atmosphere of the earth at sea level is composed of 78 per cent nitrogen, 21 per cent oxygen and 0.03 per cent carbon dioxide.

Apollo 11 Crew in Last Key Test

Astronauts Take Part in Simulated Lift-Off

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 11 astronauts climb into their spaceship atop a towering Saturn 5 rocket today to take part in the last major test for their launching toward a landing on the moon.

Wearing their space suits, Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins planned to enter the spaceship as the launch crew ticked off the final hours of a simulated countdown, aiming for a practice lift-off in midmorning.

Following this test, the pad will be readied for the lengthy real countdown next Thursday, aiming for a blast-off at 9:32 a.m. EDT July 16.

The launch team Wednesday completed a 5½-day test of the full countdown. Although interrupted for more than three hours by a leaky fuel valve, the rehearsal was the most trouble-free so far in the Apollo program.

FINAL TEST

The countdown was then set back to the six-hour point for the final test with the astronauts in the spaceship.

Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins are to fire themselves into lunar orbit July 19, and the next day Armstrong and Aldrin are to fly a landing craft to the moon's surface.

Early on July 21, Armstrong, then Aldrin, will step to the surface for a 2½-hour exploration.

They are to plant an American flag, collect moon rocks, set up scientific instruments and determine how well man can function in the unfamiliar gravity, one-sixth that of earth.

$20,000 Owed to Caracas Hotel

Hotel Bill Strands Global League Team

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Twenty-six stranded Japanese baseball players were a bit skeptical Wednesday when they heard reports they would leave Caracas on Friday.

There's the matter of a $20,000 hotel bill to settle first, they noted.

"We've been stuck here for 78 days and every day we hear we will leave the next," said pitcher Hide Koga. "I don't believe anything. I'm just disgusted," said another player.

T. Sherron Jackson, president of the Baptist Foundation of America, was quoted in Los Angeles as saying the Japanese players would join players of a reduced Global League in Columbus, Ga., by Friday.

The foundation purchased the financially pressed league from its founder and chief promoter, Walter Dilbeck of Evansville, Ind., for $3 million last month.

The Japanese were stranded in the Hotel Conde in downtown Caracas when the league could not pay the bills for U.S., Puerto Rican and Japanese players.

Hotel manager Pedro Barrios said the team could not leave Venezuela until the bill is paid. He also threatened to cut off all food to the Japanese Thursday if the money was not forthcoming by then.

Barrios has made similar threats before. Tuesday he said the hotel would serve only sandwiches to the players but they lunched on pork chops.

What worries most of the players is that they are not practicing.

NO MONEY

"Ever since we stopped playing ballgames, we haven't had money to take transportation to a practice field," Koga said.

The league, originally made up of six teams, started its first season here with a series of games throughout Venezuela.

Poor gate receipts and small crowds were followed by the long wait for a trip to the United States and the second leg of the league's season.

Money from relatives and the U.S. Embassy paid the way home for U.S. and Puerto Rican players.

Tresh Blasts 3rd Home Run in Two Games

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Tigers' slim hopes of another American League pennant were a tiny bit brighter today thanks to Denny McLain, aching teeth, aching shinbone and all.

McLain shook off the effects of a sizzling line drive which felled him in the eighth inning as he blanked the Boston Red Sox 7-0 Wednesday night to become the AL's first 12-game winner this season.

He got explosive extra base hitting support, especially from Tom Tresh — who banged his third homer in two days — and usually weak-hitting Don Wert who slammed his third homer.

FOUR DOUBLES

Four Tiger doubles in a big three-run sixth inning made things easy for McLain.

"The pennant race is not over yet . . . if we can get within seven or eight games of Baltimore this weekend, we still will have a good shot at them," said Tresh as he looked ahead to the Tigers' big four-game series with the Orioles over the Fourth of July weekend.

McLain, surrounded by newsmen in the Tiger dressing room, said, "I am not saying anyone is going to catch Baltimore but at least we can make a race of it.

"The last time I saw the the Orioles, they did not look like a super-team but had some weakness like any other club. I can't see them going into a major tailspin though, for they have a lot of talent."

Added Tiger Manager Mayo Smith, "Two wins in a row over the Red Sox are great but Baltimore still is the team we have to catch. I hope we can do some good against them in the series here this weekend . . . we will have four cracks at them."

The Tigers, who have collected 19 runs and 24 base hits in walloping the second-place Red Sox in the first two games of a three-game series acted like a different ball club in their dressing room Wednesday.

BRIGHTER ATMOSPHERE

There was no celebration but a new air of confidence seemed to fill the room as the free-swinging Tigers enjoyed the fruits of two easy wins over the faltering Red Sox, who have dropped five in a row — their longest losing streak of the season.

A frustrated Red Sox Manager Dick Williams had little to say after the whitewashing which followed a 12-4 loss Tuesday. "We are playing poor ball at the moment and I don't know what the answer is," he told newsmen.

Nary a Red Sox runner reached third as McLain took only 128 pitches to mow them down on eight hits — all singles.

McLain gave the 25,487 spectators and Mayo Smith a big scare in the eighth when he was hit squarely in the left shinbone by a wicked drive off the bat of Boston second-baseman Dick Scholfield. McLain managed to get to the ball and tossed the runner out.

SCARES MAYO

He then slumped to his knees as the Tigers rushed to his side. "With Earl Wilson and Daryl Patterson still on the ailing list, our pitching staff is not in top shape and it would have been plain murder if we lost McLain," said Smith.

McLain finished the game, although he was touched for two singles in the ninth, to start some activity in the Tiger bullpen.

"It hurt like the devil," he said as he applied a wet towel to the shinbone in front of his locker.

THE PONTIAC PRESS
SPORTS
THURSDAY, JULY 3, 1969 C—1

Doug Seeking First Victory in Golf Event

By FLETCHER SPEARS

GRAND BLANC — There's a guy here by the name of Ford looking for a Buick.

That's not unusual. He's been doing it for years without success.

This Ford is not of automotive fame. He's Doug, a popular 46-year-old veteran of the play-for-pay circuit who has one of the more familiar names in the field of 144 that started play this morning in the $125,000 12th annual Buick Open at Warwick Hills.

Doug, winner of some 19 professional championships, takes some good-natured ribbing from Buick officials who bill him as "Doug Buick" on the banner which drapes his caddy.

IN EVERY TOURNEY

Ford is one of two players who have played in all of the Buick events. The other is Bruce Crampton, the handsome Australian who has boosted himself among the favorites in this rich event.

At stake, in addition to the $25,000 first prize, is a new Buick a year for five years.

In his 12 attempts at the Buick crown, Ford has finished in the money nine times and ranks 23rd on the all-time dollar list here with $8,702.08.

The guy who has to be beaten, however, is defending champion Tom Weiskopf, the 26-year-old former Ohio State golfer.

And an old guy who's a threat any time he steps onto the tee is two-time Buick champ Julius Boros, who won in 1963 and 1967.

CHI CHI'S RECORD

A best-ball foursome, headed by colorful pro Juan "Chi-Chi" Rodriguez knocked strokes off the tournament record with a 55 Wednesday to capture the pro am preliminary to the tournament.

Amateurs in Rodriguez' team were Cy Laughter; John Mestrezat, the tournament director; and former football quarterback and coach Otto Graham.

The previous best-ball record in the Buick Open pro-am was 59, reached four times since the event began in 1962. The Open, itself, has been held since 1958 at the par 72, 7,001-yard Warwick Hills Golf and Country Club.

"I had to carry you guys for 18 holes, and don't think my back isn't sore," joked Rodriguez to his teammates just before sinking a birdie putt on the par four, 18th hole.

Rodriguez, who picked up $400 for his performance, said he expects to do well in the regular tournament which started today.

"This is a good start for me," he said. "I've been going bad and all of a sudden my luck changed and I have a better mental attitude."

Three teams were bunched at 59. They were headed by pros Dave Hill; Lee Elder, and Jim Weighers.

Low individual scorers were Howie Johnson and Bruce Crampton, each of whom had 67s and collected $462.50. Jack McGowan had a 68 and Elder turned in a 69.

Among the celebrities in the event were singer Perry Como; television star Alan Hale; Michigan State football coach Duffy Daugherty; Bump Elliott, associate athletic director of the University of Michigan, and former U-M All-America and current New York Knicks basketball star Cazzie Russell.

Teen's Frontside 32 Gains Juniors' Title

Ken Walters, a 16-year old golfer from Girard, Ohio, fired a three under par 69 yesterday to win top honors in the second annual Junior Invitational at Spring Lake Golf Club in Clarkston.

Walters had a 36-hole score of 148.

According to Spring Lake pro Gordon Booker, Walters' 69 ties the course record, while his score of 32 on the front nine establishes a new Spring Lake mark.

The Ohio champion collected four birdies and took only 13 putts on his way to his record breaking round.

FIRST YEAR

This was Walters' first year in the Spring Lake tournament, "But you can bet I'm going to be back next year," the junior champion said smilingly.

One stroke back of Walters at 149, Albion's Gilbert Haas added a two-under-par 70 to his first round 70 to take second place in the Boys 16-17 competition. Haas finished second in the 14-15 year old division at Spring Lake last year.

First round leader Dick Kallis of Pontiac went six over par yesterday to finish the tournament in third place with a 151.

Among the Boys 12-13, Mike Mitchell of Flint added a 77 to his first round 81 to win first place at 158. Included in Mitchell's second round was an eagle on the par 4, 370-yard eighth hole.

Gordon Booker, Jr. finished in the number two spot with a 164, while Steve Watts finished third, 12 strokes behind the leader.

The Boys 11 and Under play, John Anderson of Clarkston, paced the field with a two-day, 18-hole score of 92. Five strokes back of Anderson, Oxford's Gordon Kastelic finished with a 97.

A sudden death play-off was needed to determine the champion in the 14-15 year old division as Todd Crandall of Ashtabula O., and East Lansing's Paul Fagan both finished the regulation 36 holes of play deadlocked at 154.

Fagan's birdie on the par five, 525-yard first hole won him the top honors.

Doc O'Neal of Carmel, Ind., finished second with a 156, and Oscoda's Mike Quellman won a play-off for third. Quellman finished with a 158.

Ken Walters, Girard, Ohio, 79-69—148; Gilbert Haas, Albion, 79-70—149; Richard Kallis, Pontiac, 73-78—151; Pete Halm, 76-76—152; Kevin Kramer, Naperville, Ill., 80-74—154; Frank Barone, Toledo, O., 80-75—155; John Green, Franklin, 78-77—155; Thomas Featherstone, Grand Blanc, 78-78—156; Randy Plummer, Monroe, 76-80—156; Brad Snider, Davison, 78-78—156; C. Open Tennis Sought for Davis Cup Play

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) — The first battle in the campaign to extend open tennis to the Davis Cup was being fought in London today.

Delegates from the Davis Cup nations were meeting to vote on a proposal by France that the promoter-controlled professionals be admitted to the big team tournament.

France has the support of the other three big tennis powers— the United States, Britain and Australia. But most of the smaller countries were reported opposed to the idea, which needs a two-thirds majority to go through.

Meanwhile, Arthur Ashe, the last surviving American in the Wimbledon men's singles, faced the defending champion, Rod Laver of Australia, in today's semifinals.

OTHER MATCHES

The other semifinal was between two Australians, John Newcombe and Tony Roche.

Laver is half-way towards the grand slam—the world's four major tennis titles in one year. He has already won the Australian and French titles and now has Wimbledon and Forest Hills to come. Laver did the Grand slam in 1962. The only other man to do it was America's Don Budge in 1938.

Wednesday, Mrs. Margaret Court of Australia lost her hopes of pulling off a women's grand slam—a success achieved only by the late Maureen Connolly in 1953.

Mrs. Ann Jones of Britain defeated Mrs. Court 10-12, 6-3, 6-2 in a two-hour semifinal of drama and high quality tennis. Mrs. Billie Jean King of Long Beach, Calif., slammed Rosemary Casals of San Francisco 6-1, 6-0 in the other semi, a drab and one-sided affair that was all over in 28 minutes.

Looks to All-Star Game

O. J. Is 'Iffying' Around

LOS ANGELES (AP) — All-American O. J. Simpson, who has yet to join professional football ranks, says he'd like to face the New York Jets' Joe Namath — who quit pro football ranks.

Simpson says for his part the meeting could be — with a few "ifs" — at the College All-Star game with the Jets Aug. 1 in Chicago.

The "if" for Simpson is if the Buffalo Bills will agree to his terms, which currently are for a $650,000 contract which the ex-USC star says he's fully worth. An alternative "if" might be insurance just to cover the All-Star game.

NO CHANGE

The "if" for Namath, of course, is if he changes his mind about quitting. So far he hasn't.

Asked in a telephone interview Wednesday night whether he'd play with the All-Stars, Simpson replied, "I would like to and I certainly plan to report to the camp on July 10 . . ."

"I hope to keep in shape by training with the All-Stars for three weeks if I sign my pro contract or if something can be worked out with the promoters as to insurance," Simpson said.

Red Kelly Appointed

New Penguin Coach Optimistic

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The Pittsburgh Penguins begin training Sept. 14 for what most observers say will be another long - National Hockey League season.

But Leonard "Red" Kelly isn't one of them.

Kelly says the Penguins are just an eyelash away from being a strong contender for the Stanley Cup, even though they're the only NHL team that hasn't made the playoffs.

"I thought they (the Penguins) were just about this much (snapping his fingers) away from making it all the way—and that's not much," Kelly said Wednesday at a news conference called to announce his appointment as head coach of the Penguins.

Kelly's vantage point was from Los Angeles when Pittsburgh came to play the Kings, a team he coached for two years before quitting this year after a series of differences with owner Jack Kent Cooke.

Los Angeles, like Pittsburgh, came to life two years ago during the NHL's expansion. Under Kelly, the Kings finished second and fourth in the West Division.

Pittsburgh, coached by Rod Sullivan, finished fifth both seasons.

DOUBLE PLAY—New York Yankee second baseman Horace Clarke relays the ball to first after forcing Baltimore's Paul Blair (6) in the first inning of last night's game. The throw was in time to catch Frank Robinson who started the double play with a grounder to third. The Yankees won, 3-2.

Yank Ace Checks Orioles; A's Slugger on Rampage

Only Second Series Loss by Baltimore This Season

NEW YORK (AP) — "You need an excellent pitched game to beat him," Manager Earl Weaver was saying after his East Division leading Baltimore Orioles dropped a 3-2 decision to the New York Yankees and Mel Stottlemyre Wednesday.

"He's a great competitor, one of the better pitchers in the league," Weaver said of the Yankee ace, who won his 11th game of the year and helped his teammates win the series, 2-0.

It was only the second series the Orioles had lost all year. The other was also a two-game set against the Chicago White Sox, May 6-.

PRAISES MEL

While Weaver cotinued to praise Stottlemyre as a definite pitcher on the upcoming All-Ralph Houk, also was tossing accolades to his top right-hander.

"He's something isn't he," Houk said, not expecting an answer. "He's a complete pitcher. He knows all the hitters and battles and wins despite a team that doesn't score many runs."

Horace Clarke led the 10-hit Yankee attack with two singles and a triple but a checked-swing grounder by Bobby Murcer in the sixth inning proved the winner.

EXTRA HELPING—Coach Joe DiMaggio of the Oakland Athletes makes sure Reggie Jackson has plenty of lasagna following last night's 5-0 win over Seattle. Jackson pounded three home runs to up his season total to 33.

Jackson Hitting Homers at Record-Breaking Pace

OAKLAND (AP) — Reggie Jackson, the 23-year-old slugger of the Oakland Athletics, won't put himself in the same class with Babe Ruth and Roger Maris as a home run hitter. Not yet, at least.

Jackson hit three homers Wednesday night to lead the A's to a 5-0 victory over the Seattle Pilots at the Coliseum.

"They named a candy bar and a stadium after Babe Ruth," Jackson said. "He and Roger Maris were great. It's nice to be compared with them, but I won't consider myself in their class until I have five or six good years, back to back."

Jackson's latest homers give him 33 for the season with 72 games gone.

Maris, who hit 61 homers in 1961, didn't get his 33rd homer that year until his 78th game. Ruth, in hitting 60 homers in 1927, got his 33rd in the 95th game of the year.

"I'm not going to hit 60," Jackson declared. "Because I'm not a 60-homer man.

"Frank Howard has 26 homers already, and he's not even hot, and Willie McCovey has 26 and you don't hear anything about him. This is the year of the hitter," Jackson said.

Lost in the clamor over Jackson's homer barrage was a five-hit shutout pitched by John Odom. It was his 11th victory of the season and fourth in a row. Odom also hit a homer, his second of the year.

Win 9th Straight

Phils 'Getting-By' Without Allen

By the Associated Press

Ever since Richie Allen bolted the Philadelphia Phillies, almost everybody on the team has been taking up the slack. Now, even the relief pitchers are getting into the act.

Reliever Al Raffo helped himself to his first major league victory by knocking in three runs with a single and a squeeze bunt as the Phils knocked off Pittsburgh 14-4 Wednesday night for their ninth straight victory.

The Phils lost thier first two games after Allen jumped the team in New York last week, but they haven't been beaten since.

Meanwhile, Atlanta ripped Cincinnati 9-4 to take over first place in the National League West, while Los Angeles dropped to second, a half-game back, after an 8-2 loss to Houston.

In other NL games, Chicago whipped Montreal 4-2, New York defeated St. Louis 6-4 in 14 innings and San Francisco stopped San Diego 6-3.

Raffo, who has two defeats, polished off a four-run second inning with a two-run single, then squeezed in another run with his bases-loaded bunt in the sixth.

Atlanta's vault into first place was a rather painful one for the Braves in one respect.

Five Atlanta batters were hit by pitches—a modern National League record for one game—and the three hit in the second inning equalled a major league mark.

The wild game also was marked by an unusual double play on what should have been a Cincinnati hit. With the bases loaded and one out in the third, Tommy Helms lined a sinking liner to right.

The Reds on base apparently thought Hank Aaron had caught the ball and didn't run. But Aaron had trapped the ball, and he threw to second for a force play there and the runner at second was tagged out off base for the double play.

CARDS STRAND 18

The St. Louis Cards blew three good scoring chances, then watched as Ken Boswell smacked a two-out RBI single and pitcher Ron Willis gave up a bases-loaded walk in the 14th for the Mets' winning runs.

All told, the Cards stranded 18.

Johnny Edwards' four hits and Doug Rader's three doubles paced a 12-hit Houston attack. Curt Blefary also chipped in his second homer of the season to back winner Don Wilson, who scattered six hits.

San Francisco took advantage of Jim Ray Hart's two-run homer in the fourth to hand San Diego its fifth straight loss. It was the first four-bagger of the season for Hart, who had 23 last year.

Nats Defeat Indians, 5-1, for 10th Time

CLEVELAND (AP) — Paul Casanova's run-scoring sacrifice fly and RBI double helped Washington to a 5-1 victory over Cleveland Wednesday night and its 10th straight victory over the Indians, including eight this season.

The Senators, winning their sixth straight, grabbed an early lead in the second inning when starter Sam McDowell walked Ken McMullen and Sam Bowens, Tim Cullen rapped a run-scoring single—one of his three hits—and Casanova's sacrifice fly got another run across.

Twins Record 4th Straight Triumph, 4-2

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Dave Boswell checked Chicago on two hits until the eighth inning and Harmon Killebrew backed him with a homer as the Minnesota Twins edged the White Sox 4-2 Wednesday night for their fourth straight triumph.

The game was called because of rain after Minnesota batted in the top of the ninth.

Boswell, 10-8, was sailing along with the two-hit shutout when Bill Melton touched him for a double in the eighth, and scored on pinch hitter Pete Ward's single. Luis Aparicio's single scored Ward before Ron Perranoski came in to quell the White Sox rally.

Killebrew slammed his 19th homer, a solo job, in the eighth.

Firecracker 400 Friday

Hot Ride in Sight for Cale

DAYTONA BEACH, Fla. (AP) — With his sights set on a third straight victory in the Medal of Honor Firecracker 400 race Friday, favored Cale Yarborough is in for a hot ride in his 1969 Mercury.

The pole sitter, who set a world closed course record of 190.706 miles an hour in qualifying, will forego the comfort of a suit cooled by circulating ice water and thus save the added weight of the equipment.

To partly offset the intense heat from an asphalt track that will reach 150 degrees, the Wood brothers, who own the lone Mercury in the field of 40 fast late model stock cars, installed wall to wall insulation on the floorboard.

They also wrapped fiberglass and asbestos material around the oil reservoir behind the driver's seat.

"That oil reservoir puts out about 280 degrees," said Yarborough, "and it's just like having a heater in the car."

He drove with a cool suit two years ago and without one last year.

At the faster speed of the aerodynamically improved body and newly approved 429-cubic inch engine, crew and driver decided they couldn't add 50 pounds of cooling equipment and keep their edge over the factory Fords and Dodges.

A crowd of 40,000 will be looking for another duel between Yarborough and the man with a similar name but no kinship, Lee Roy Yarbrough of Columbia, S.C.

Lee Roy was second to Cale in both the Daytona 500 and Firecracker 400 at the 2.5-mile Daytona Speedway in 1968.

They were battling again in the Daytona 500 last February until Cale smashed into the wall and Lee Roy emerged from the bridesmaid role.

The intensity of their rivalry increased in Michigan, in June when a last lap collision sent Lee Roy against the wall and Cale to the victory lane.

Yarbrough starts from ninth place, a broken part during qualifying slowing him to 182.000 m.p.h. But his Ford will be at least as fast as those of Donnie Allison, David Pearson and Richard Petty, who were right behind Yarbrough in qualifying.

Clippers Clip Teamsters in Class A Play

Rightfielder Santos Sanchez drove in four runs last night lead Clippers to a 9-1 victory over Teamsters in a city Class A baseball game.

Sanchez started his run production in the first inning with a two-run single and scored later on an infield error. The Clippers added four more runs in the fourth.

Two walks, an error, singles by Neil Roberts and Mike Doty and sacrifice flies by Sanchez and winning pitcher Bob Martin produced the tallies.

Sanchez wrapped up his effort in the seventh when he stroked his third signle and fourth rbi as Clippers scored twice. Willie Holloman aided the cause with a double and two rbi.

Martin scattered five Teamster hits and the only run off him was unearned in the fifth.

Close Games in Milford

Daly Realty scored in the sixth inning to defeat Aluma Vue, 4-3, last night in a Milford Slowpitch Softball game.

Milford Hardware rallied to nip Jones Transfer 8-7 in the second game.

San Diego Deals for Cornerback

SAN DIEGO (UPI) — The San Diego Chargers of the American Football League acquired cornerback Mack Lamb from the Miami Dolphins Wednesday in a trade for guard Larry Little. Little became expendable when the Chargers signed former All-Canadian offensive linesman Bill Frank two weeks ago.

16' Citation

Performance with a flare . . . plus comfortable space for six. The Citation is a big, broad 16-footer, with sun-lounge bucket seats, walkaround room and storage space, too. Yet there's an overall sleek, trim look that captures envious glances. Glasspar's modified-V hard chine hull planes fast and smoothly . . . knifes through waves without hesitation. And hidden, but always there, is the quiet and safety of Glasspar's exciting Life/Guard Construction.

Bobby Earl's two-run homer in the fifth inning yesterday gave Waterford a 4-3 victory over Pontiac and first place in American Legion baseball.

Walled Lake helped Waterford move into a half-game lead by knocking Southfield from the top rung, 2-1. Madison and Troy also moved into contention with victories.

Farmington was mauled by Troy, 14-1, and Madison took the measure of Berkley, 10-2. Clarkston and Milford tied 5-5 in a game called after seven innings because of darkness.

Pete Taylor took over the mound duties for Waterford in the second inning and checked Pontiac until Earl could provide the decisive blow.

WINNING RUN

Dave Horton pitched a three-hitter and struckout 11 for Walled Lake. Dan McDole's third inning single drove in the winning run as Walled Lake moved to within a game of the lead.

Jeff Keller's one-hitter gained Troy a tie with Walled Lake and Madison. He was backed by Dave Cole's three hits and five runs batted in and Ray Rogers' two hits.

Waterford Mott and Walled Lake will play at 10 a.m. tomorrow at Walled Lake.

Lady Bombers True to Name

The "Bombers" in Women's Slowpitch Softball play lived up to their name yesterday as they whipped Gethsemane Lutheran, 26-17 with Gwen Grant and Ronnie Lewis each getting five hits apiece.

Other scores in the league showed Standard Auto defeating The Press, 15-9, AMRC over Town & Country, 7-5.

Tie in Slowpitch Loop Down to Two

A four-way tie for first place in the Waterford Slowpitch Softball League was partially resolved Tuesday, as Hallmark Realty topped Irwin Realty, 16-13, and Oakland Wholesale beat Lakeland Pharmacy, 4-3.

As a reult of Tuesday's play, Hallmark and Oakland hold on to a share of the league lead, while Lakeland and Irwin move into a three-way tie with stagecoach Lounge for second.

Stagecoach blanked Coca Cola Tuesday, 12-0. Coca Cola's record now stands at 4-8.

Ace on Home Course

Mildred Osplach, the Ladies' club champion at Plum Hollow, fired an ace on the 150 yard No. 12 hole with a 4-iron at the Southfield layout. She had a 45-38—83 for the round.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

It is a well-known principle that any time you give a player a chance to make a mistake he may do so. It is equally well-known that a player doesn't have to make a mistake just because he has been given a chance to do so.

When today's hand was played in a match point game, the contract at all tables was three no-trump. When North became declarer, as was generally the case, a club was opened. West's 10 would force North's king and when East got in with the ace of spades he would lead a second club and hold declarer to five.

South became declarer at three tables. In each instance, a heart was led. The first South made the routine play of letting the lead run around to his jack. Against that declarer, East promptly cashed his ace of clubs when he got in with the ace of spades.

The second declarer went up with dummy's king of hearts and dropped the jack from his own hand.

This false-card play might have worked. Unfortunately for him, East was able to do some thinking of his own and could see no reason why a declarer would play dummy's king when he held the jack in his own hand except as an effort to get a heart continuation. So this East also took his ace of clubs and held declarer to five.

The other South also went up with dummy's king of hearts but just dropped the three-spot from his hand.

This time the East player who gained the lead with the spade ace should also have realized South wanted a heart return — but he didn't. He led back a heart and this last South ran off the rest of the tricks for a top score.

Q—The bidding has been:

West	North	East	South
1♥	Pass	1♠
Pass	1 N.T.	Pass	3♦
Pass	4♦	Pass	?

You, South, hold:
♠AK984 ♥2 ♦AK1093 ♣65

What do you do now?

A—Bid five diamonds. You should have a good play for this contract.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding four diamonds your partner has bid four clubs over your three diamonds. What do you do now?

July Is Killer Month for Water Fatalities

EAST LANSING (AP) —Mention Fourth of July weekend fatalities, and you automatically think of highway deaths.

Not necessarily so, says Sgt. William Carter, State Police water safety officer.

July is the high killer month in Michigan for all types of water deaths—both boating and nonboating.

On some warm weekends, when Michigan's many waters are so inviting, drowning deaths will even top traffic fatalities.

"The great tragedy is that so many of them could be prevented," said Carter. "And so many happen to toddlers and young people."

HOME POOLS

The home swimming pool has become more than a status symbol, Carter noted. There has been a tremendous increase in the number of such pools and a matching increase in pool drownings.

There were 15 drownings in home swimming pools last year.

"Some communities have local ordinances requiring the fending os such pools," he said. "We tried to get through a law making this statewide but it was killed in the Senate."

There were 305 water deaths in Michigan last year, up from 285 the previous year. Of these, 213 were killed in nonboating accidents and 92 died in boating accidents.

"We know so far we are running behind last year," Carter said. "But with warm weather, the drowning kill is sure to go up. This long weekend should be particularly bad."

TWO DROWN

For instance, while their parents were watching a Little League baseball game, two youngsters, 6 and 4 years old, wandered away and toppled from a bank to drown in a nearby lake.

July had the single month high of 70 nonboating accidents with 56 drownings and 116 boating accidents and 17 drownings last year.

June, July and August account for 70 per cent of all the water fatalities.

In the nonboating accidents, the aggressive and perhaps more foolhardy male accounted for 186 of the deaths and the females only 27.

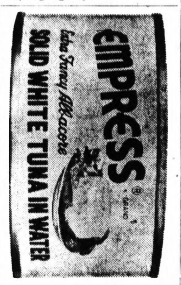
More than 62 per cent of those drowned in this group were under 20 years of age. The largest toll was 49 youths killed in the 15-19 age group.



You don't have to be fat to love skinny tuna.

It's not a diet tuna. It's real tuna. Empress uses only the plumpest filets of white Albacore. We call it skinny tuna because of the way we pack it. Most tuna comes packed in oil. Fatty oil. You can pour off the oil but not the calories. Skinny tuna, packed in water, has only half the calories of the oil soaked kind. And with no oil to disguise the taste, Empress has a fresher, more natural flavor. Serve your family a tuna that tastes like tuna.

Empress, the skinny tuna.

Trade Fairly Active

Stock Mart Continues Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market, with investors reported encouraged by its ability to keep its technical rally going, continued higher early this afternoon in fairly active trading.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was 5.23 at 885.92.

Gains led losses by better than 450 issues.

Brokers said the market's early action "looked pretty good" but cautioned that it could be blunted by the approaching long weekend.

The exchanges will be closed Friday for the Fourth of July holiday.

Many investors, brokers said, become cautious before weekends because they think there could be developments during the period that might affect the market when it reopens.

ADVANCE ANALYZED

Analysts attributed the market's steady advance this week "to the oversold condition the market found itself in after weeks of decline." They said bargain hunting, which helps buoy the market, usually follows a period of long decline.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up 1.3 at 314.5, with industrials up 2.9, rails up .4, and utilities up .1.

Canadian Homestead Oils led the American Stock Exchange most-active list, up ⅞ at 24⅜.

Equity Funding Corp., in which a 34,500 share block was traded, was second most-active, off ½ at 73. Four Seasons Nursing gained 2½.

U.S. Material State Isn't Standing Still

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK — Some assorted facts to contemplate concerning the present material state of affairs in the United States on the eve of Independence Day:

CUNNIFF

● Since the turn of the century the total output of goods and services has tripled, and the work-week has decreased from 60 to 40 hours.

● In the same time, the number of automotive vehicles has increased from almost none to 80 million. Telephones were rare in 1900, but now there is one for every two persons.

● The East and West coasts, separated in 1900 by nearly a week of hard travel, are now only four hours apart.

● The dollar is worth less than 40 cents when compared with the 1933 dollar, but few Americans would trade today's prosperity for 1933's economic gloom.

● In the early 1930s the federal debt was less than $20 billion. Now it is about 18 times that. Military spending now accounts for more than 50 per cent of all federal spending.

If the present produces dramatic contrasts with the past, the differences between present and future might be even more marked, according to estimates by George Pantos of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

5-HOUR PRESENTATION

Pantos, staff executive of the chamber, has compiled hundreds of projections in an unpublished manuscript that makes up the skeleton of a five-hour presentation to business groups. Among them:

● By the year 2000, annual production of goods and services—all the productive work by men, women, and machines—will total $2.4 trillion, compared with something in excess of $900 billion this year.

● By that same turn of the century year, 85 per cent of the nation's population will live in urban areas. In other words, five out of six Americans will be city folks.

● Some 82 per cent of the population increase between 1965 and 1975 will be among persons under age 35—and the proportion will be about 71 per cent between 1975 and 1985.

● By the turn of the century family purchasing power will be about two-thirds above the present. Hourly wages will average $7.50. But well before that—in the 1980s—one family in three will be earning $15,000 a year in current dollars.

From Dr. Seymore Wolfbein, dean, School of Business Administration, Temple University, and long-time U.S. Labor Department official:

● By 1975 there will be 33 million women in the work force, a 25 per cent increase over the previous decade. Most of the increase is expected to represent women over 45.

● By 1975, more than one of every six workers will be engaged in government service. Forty-eight per cent of all workers are expected to be white-collar employes, compared with 44.5 per cent in 1965.

● Between 1965 and 1975 there will be a total increase of more than 11 million nonwhite workers—a rise of 25 per cent, compared with an 18 per cent increase for white workers.

From the National Planning Association, a nonprofit organization "devoted to planning by Americans in agriculture, business, labor and the professions," in a projection of the American economy in the 1970s:

● Government's share of the national output will increase slightly by 1980, with slower growth of federal spending and taxation being offset by more rapid increases on the state and local levels.

● By 1980, the American economy will be approaching the $2-trillion mark, and will be producing 143 per cent more goods and services than it did in 1967.

● The present inflationary pressures and the accompanying price-wage spiral may ease somewhat, but price inflation is unlikely to halt soon. Prices will rise, on average, 2.6 per cent a year between now and 1980.

It's a good bet, too, that millions of Americans in 1980 are going to look back and say about the 1960s: "Those were the good old days."

AFL-CIO Raps Pentagon on California-Grape Buys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO accused the Defense Department today of being "a massive scab and strikebreaker" for continuing to buy millions of pounds of labor-boycotted California table grapes for shipment to Vietnam.

"I doubt that the soldiers are crying for them," said William L. Kircher, chief AFL-CIO organizer and strategist behind the long strike and boycott against grape growers by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

Kircher said he believed the Defense Department was bowing to pressure from business groups to more than double its purchases of table grapes this year and boost shipments to Vietnam nearly sevenfold.

"It ill-behooves the United States government to, on the one hand-pay lip service to the concept of collective bargaining which embraces striking and consumer boycotting—and then to play the role of a massive scab and strikebreaker by upping its consumption of grapes," Kircher said in a recorded radio interview.

Another Mark for GM Truck

GMC Truck & Coach Division posted its ninth straight month of record sales with 13,078 truck and coach deliveries in June, Martin J. Caserio, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, reported today.

GMC sales since Oct. 1 have exceeded former records for comparable months, he said. The previous June sales peak was 13,003 set last year.

Truck and coach deliveries in the first half of 1969 totaled 77,391 units, a 6.2 per cent increase over the prior record for the same six months of 72,864 established last year, Caserio said.

GMC, enroute to its best year in history, currently ranks third in industry truck deliveries, its highest level in 43 years.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—I am a 72-year-old widow in need of additional income. I get a small railroad pension, have a bank account and own some stock that pays a pretty good dividend. Western Pacific has been recommended for its good dividend. But I notice that it has a very poor rating and railroads seem to be a thing of the past. Please give me your opinion.—A. J.

A—I would not be too ready to "ring the bell" on the railroad industry. Last year freight traffic and revenues reached all-time high levels. Much of the gain was attributable to new concepts such as piggy-back and unit-train service. Rate increases, mergers, diversification efforts and possible government subsidy of passenger service combine to give the industry a relatively optimistic long-term outlook.

Rather than Western Pacific, which reported sharply lower first-quarter earnings, A-rated Norfolk & Western would be my choice. Shares yield about 6.4 per cent on a well-covered dividend. The company's competitive base was strengthened when, through its subsidiary Dereco, control was gained of Erie-Lackawanna and Delaware-Hudson. Consummation of the merger with Chesapeake & Ohio —pending ICC approval—would greatly improve earnings base. Norfolk's real-estate development program could also provide an additional boost to future earnings. Shares are an attractive buy.

SOFIA, Bulgaria (AP) — Bulgarian children up to 15 years old prefer books about partisan warfare against the Germans in World War II, a public opinion poll reports.

The children also enjoy works by Jules Verne, Jack London, Daniel DeFoe and Mark Twain, the poll said.

Remember Safety Tips While Using All Garden Chemicals

Garden chemicals can make the difference between having a grubby garden or a beautiful one.

But they have to be handled with care.

These safety tips will be helpful.

● Keep garden chemicals in a locked cabinet. Moreover, keep them in their own original, properly labeled containers. And keep them away from food.

● Don't spray or dust on windy days . . . pesticides may blow into your eyes and nostrils.

SPRAYING

● Don't spray in the heat of day, either. It is never good to wet a leaf in hot sunlight, not even with plain water.

Spray or dust in the cool of early morning or late afternoon.

● Always read the label. Reading labels is worth the small effort. It is important that you use garden chemicals exactly as labels in struct.

Heed cautions.

● Mixing, cleaning, washup. Some chemicals mix and others don't. So don't mix any chemicals together unless the label tells your to.

CLEAN-UP

When you finish spraying, thoroughly wash out the spray mix jar.

● Put everything away in your storage cabinets, and lock it.

Now wash your hands with soap and water.

Never save empty chemical containers. Don't burn them, either. Dispose of them in the garbage can.

The most likely months for automobile fatalities are July and August and the lowest number of accidents occurs in January and February.

Roses Falling Into Classes for Your Help

According to the All-America Rose Selections "A Handbook for Rose Growing," the best known and most useful classes of roses are:

● Hybrid Teas. Large, classically formed, elegantly petalled and colored blooms characterize this class which is considered the aristocrat of the flower world.

Rich, fragrant blooms are usually carried individually on a long, sturdy stem. Excellent for cutting and exhibition.

● Floribundas. An ever popular class of rose that is superb for landscaping. Relatively low growing.

GRANDIFLORAS

Grandifloras. This new class, first introduced by All-America Rose Selections in 1954, has steadily grown in popularity.

It combines all of the fine attributes of the hybrid tea and the floribunda into a taller growing plant that produces small clusters of medium to large size flowers on long stems, together with some stems bearing individual blooms, all very suitable for cutting.

Climbing Roses. In general there are two types of climbers recognized: Ramblers and large flowered climbers. Ramblers are characterized by supple canes and small flowers, two inches or less, borne in dense clusters.

Large flowered climbers typically have large, stiffer canes, flowers more than two inches in diameter, usually borne in loose, open clusters.

Gently Shampoo Your Plant Leaves

House plants — those bits of greenery that help make a house a home — occasionally need more than a weekly dusting to look their best.

Outdoor plants have the rain to keep them clean, while those inside rely on your ingenuity. Of course, you'd never wash your plant with a strong cleaner or detergent for the same rasons you'd never wash your face with one.

Instead, use a gentle solution of water that is only slightly warm to the touch and one or two capfuls of gentle baby shampoo. Using a sponge dampened in the solution go over each leaf, rinsing it afterward with cool water and another sponge.

For best results, both sponges should be rinsed frequently under cool running water.

Grass No Longer Is Effected by the Air Pollution

The world has become too congested to tolerate dumping of wastes much longer.

Automobile exhaust is one of the prime pollutants.

In the United States it is estimated that each year automobiles release 12 million tons of hydrocarbon lethal to vegetation. Also 6 million tons of nitrogen oxides. Such emissions contribute to the decline of vegetation along heavily traveled roadways.

Fortunately, today's fine turfgrasses are a hard breed, not inclined to cave in under an unfavorable atmosphere.

Sensitive plants like tobacco or white pine fade, but Kentucky bluegrass and fine fescue persist on almost any patch of soil in the median, even in the heart of the city.

Make Your Yard Like a Golf Green With New Grass Seed

The luxurious golf green is the envy of most turf-watchers. True, we couldn't keep it, were somehow fate to dump a putting green ready-made in our backyard!

The grasses that're used for golf greens are select creeping bentgrasses and bermudas, temperamental unless mowed almost daily with a special greens mower, and given all sorts of care (which includes precise fertilization, irrigation and disease prevention).

Even if you knew what to do, who'd want to sustain the bother and the expense?

Well, now, hear this. A new Kentucky bluegrass, 0217 Fylking can be mowed uniquely low. Maybe not so low as a creeping bentgrass, but at a half inch or less.

For a home putting green this is not too bad; the roll may be slightly slower than on a new-mowed golf green, but it should putt true.

And it looks as though Fylking blends pretty well with some of the less aggressive bentgrass varieties such as Highland.

COMBINATION

You might want to try a combination that includes two such famous turfgrass names, Kentucky bluegrass and bentgrass!

The advantage of a Fylking putting green for the home yard is that it doesn't require all the conventional care. The more intensively you tend it of course, the more like the real professional thing it will be.

But Fylking doesn't come down with all the diseases creeping bentgrasses are prone to get, and it doesn't thatch so readily.

Any low turf should be clipped frequently, lest it scalp and look stubbly after a mowing.

At the peak of the season golf greens may be mowed daily, seldom if ever at intervals longer than two days. But if you forget your Fylking home putting green for a week, its green for a week, its quality may deteriorate but it's not a disaster.

And though Fylking relishes regular feeding, should your fertilization schedule turn erratic there are not the consequences to pay that would be the case with the touchier creeping bentgrasses and bermudas.

It's just not the nature of things for a Kentucky blue grass to get jittery about fertilizer. Even a special variety so low and dense as Fylking is a tolerant breed.

Top Roses in Competition

Medal certificate reports to the American Rose Society based on 1968 exhibitions indicate that the top three winners in the United States and Canada among hybrid teas were Royal Highness, Peace and Mister Lincoln.

Royal Highness scored 153 points, Peace 134 and Mister Lincoln 129. Tropicana was fourth with 118.

In the floribunda category, the top three were Ivory Fashion 186, Little Darling 145 and Fire King 127. Grandiflora winners were Queen Elizabeth 296, Pink Parfait 218 and Montezuma 189.

Among miniatures, Red Imp led with 115, Starina had 101 and Cinderella 36. Polyanthas leaders were Margo Koster 96, The Fairy 58 and China Doll 48.

CLIMBERS

Don Juan led climbers with 131. Blaze was one point behind and Golden Showers lagged with 62. In singles and semi-doubles, Dainty Bess was out front with 292, Oriental Charm had 79 and White Wings 27.

In the miscellaneous group for old roses and shrubs, Golden Wings was first with 55, followed by Green Rose 39 and Crested Moss 38.

Sprinkling Can Aids Gardeners Across Nation

It's "green thumb" time across the nation.

While weekend gardeners gladly escape from indoor chores to plant, weed, sprinkle and spray, lawns begin to shape up and perennials blossom with promise.

An indispensible aid to every gardener is a rust-proof sprinkling can, one which brings a gentle life-giving spray to the more delicate plants and flowers in the garden.

Ideal for this job is a galvanized steel sprinkling can. Made of durable metal, the steel can withstands constant usage and it comes in handy for a multitude of things.

SMALL FRY

Junior-sized sprinkling cans are also available to give the small fry an opportunity to help mom or dad care for plant life.

Whether you have just a small yard or an expanse of lawn, watering on a regular basis will ward off dry, brown trouble spots.

Dry Weather Ups Mite Infestation

For the rose gardener, hot dry periods mean more than just additional watering. These are the conditions under which spider mites thrive and do their greatest damage.

Almost microscopic in size, these red-colored sucking insects pierce the undersides of leaves, sucking out vital juices and leaving a cobwebby cover. Leaves that look dry and yellow and fall are usually an indication of spider mites.

A sure test for these destructive pests is to hold a piece of white paper under a suspicious leaf and tap it. If you have mites, they'll fall to the paper and you'll know the worst.

Treatment for spider mites requires a miticide, since ordinary insecticides like DDT won't work.

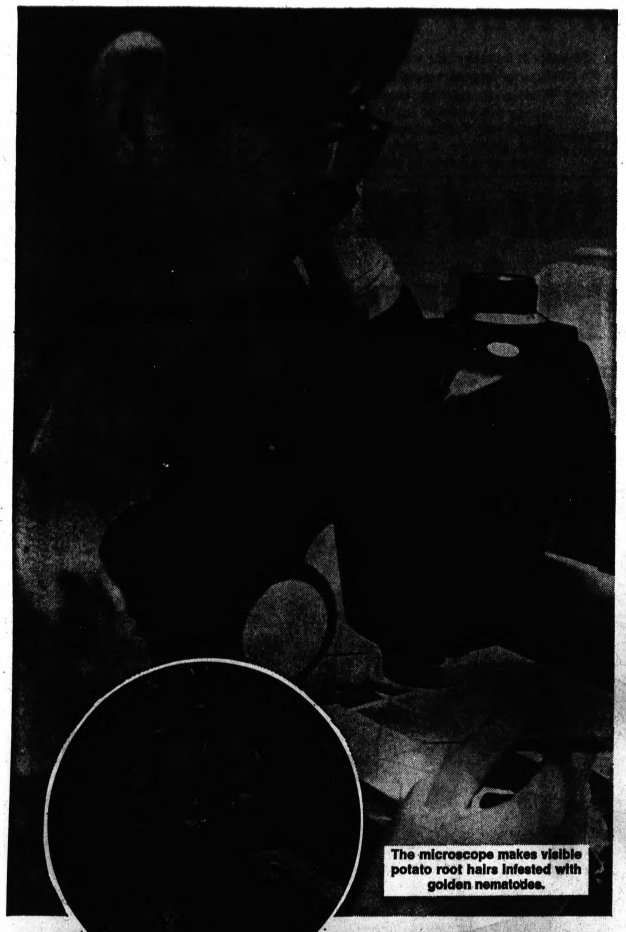
GOLDEN ENEMY



The microscope makes visible potato root hairs infested with golden nematodes.

Nematologists work in the laboratory to identify golden nematodes, as the first step in their control.

The golden nematode is the most serious pest which threatens the American potato industry. A parasite worm, it has, in fact, been found to be one of the hardest crop pests to deal with in temperate regions all over the world.

Its effect is to make potato growing uneconomical, when heavy infestation occurs. For example, the edible potato yield from such an area might be less than the number of seed potatoes planted in the first place.

The golden nematode had been known to occur in the U.S. only in Nassau and Suffolk counties, Long Island, New York. Then, in December 1963, it was discovered in Steuben County, New York, and, in February, 1969, in New Castle, Delaware.

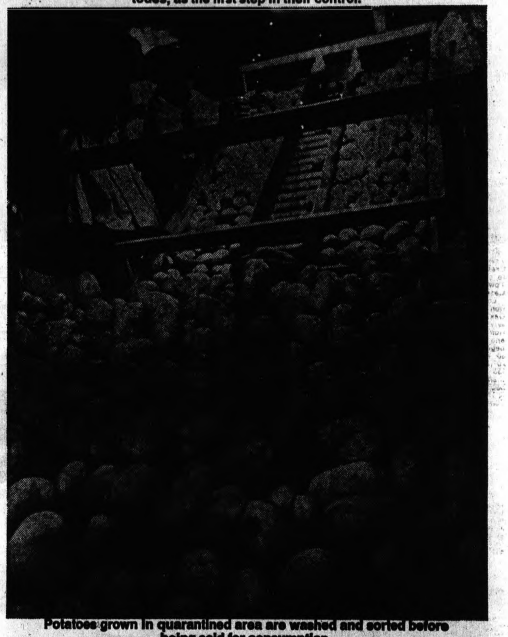
The pest (scientific name Heterodera rostochiensis) passes from egg to adult in 38 to 48 days. The dead bodies of the females, called cysts, are attached to the potato roots and act as protective coverings for the fertilized eggs inside. In spring the eggs hatch out, and the larvae migrate on to the host plants — which they rob of water and nutrients.

The cysts are visible to the naked eye: at first pearly white, then darkening through gold and orange to brown. They can become detached from the roots and remain in the soil after the crop has been harvested.

Since 1944, a State quarantine has been enforced in New York to prevent the spread of the golden nematode to uninfested areas. Marketing regulations and restrictions have been placed on the movement of potatoes, top soil and other commodities capable of carrying the nematode.

At the same time, cooperative Federal-State research and regulatory programs are being expanded to develop better ways to detect infestations of the pest, and to prevent its spread. The United States Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service is the cooperating Federal Agency.

A treatment for nematode infestation: injection with a fumigant, followed by chain harrowing to fill in the furrows.



Potatoes grown in quarantined area are washed and sorted before being sold for consumption.

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP
NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that a Public Hearing will be held by the Planning Commission of the Township of Bloomfield, Oakland County, Michigan, on July 7, 1969 at 8:00 o'clock p.m., at the Township Hall, 4200 Telegraph Road, in said Township for the purpose of amending Ordinance No. 169, being the Zoning Ordinance and that same be amended by revising Section 1402, One-Family Clustering Option, to read as follows:

Révised Section 1402
One-Family Clustering Option

SECTION 1402. ONE-FAMILY CLUSTERING OPTION:

The intent of this Section is to permit the development of one-family residential patterns which, through design innovation, will introduce flexibility so as to provide for the sound physical handling of site plans in situations where the normal subdivision approach would otherwise be restrictive. To accomplish this, the following modifications to the One-Family Residential standards as outlined in the "SCHEDULE OF REGULATIONS" shall be permitted subject to the conditions herein imposed:

1. In all One-Family Residential Districts, a density of 3.0 dwelling units per acre (including roads) shall be permitted in those areas having the following characteristics:
   a. An area generally parallel to, and not to exceed three hundred and sixty (360) feet in depth, on those unsubdivided parcels of land having frontage on a major thorofare of at least one-hundred fifty (150) feet so as to provide transition between said major thorofare and adjacent one-family detached housing.
   b. An area generally parallel to, and not to exceed three hundred sixty (360) feet in depth, on those unsubdivided parcels of land having frontage on a major thorofare of at least one hundred twenty (120) feet and being so located as to provide transition between non-residential or multiple-family districts and one-family development.
   (1) In the instance of this subsection b. and subsection a. above, the Planning Commission may vary and this 360 feet of depth wherein the parcel in question cannot be practicably limited to said depth, and when it shall find that the parcel is of a narrow dimension and would not permit sound development of that portion remaining after the 360 feet of depth were subtracted from the total depth.
   (2) The Planning Commission may vary the 360 feet of depth when the development of the remaining portion of the parcel in question would, due to topography or existing abutting development, more properly be related to the development on the 360 feet of land area.
   c. Those unsubdivided parcels of land containing major topographic problems which in the opinion of the Planning Commission would make sound physical development under the normal subdivision approach impractical. In approving these areas for one-family cluster development, the Planning Commission shall find the following conditions to exist:
   (1) The natural land forms are so arranged that the change of elevation within the site includes slopes in excess of fifteen (15) percent between these elevations. These elevation changes and slopes shall appear as the typical feature of the site rather than the exceptional or infrequent features of the site.
   (2) The achieving of road grades of less than six (6) percent is impossible unless the site were mass graded. The providing of one-family clusters will, in the the opinion of the Planning Commission allow a greater preservation of the natural setting.
   (3) The area in open space (including subdivision, recreation areas and water) accomplished through the use of one-family clusters shall represent at least fifteen (15) percent of the horizontal development area of a one-family cluster development. This entire area may be used in computing density when preserved as open space. The purpose of the density provision herein is to afford open space and related uses solely to the occupants of the premises involved and the lands used to arrive at such density shall not be used for any purpose by others than the occupants residing on the parcel used to compute density hereunder. The owner of such development shall file in writing with the Township an affidavit in recordable form showing in detail the area of the parcel and the required density.
   d. On those unsubdivided parcels on which the slope conditions set forth in item c. above are exceeded by twenty (20) percent, a density of 4.5 dwelling units per acre shall be permitted. These areas shall be surrounded by development of three (3) dwelling units per acre or have extensive open spaces about them (including golf courses and other such extensive recreation areas). Those clusters may be attached in groups of six (6) under the same conditions as set forth in item c. 2 above.
2. The attaching of one-family homes shall be permitted when such homes are attached through a common party wall which does not have more than thirty (30) percent of its area in common with an abutting dwelling wall; by means of an architectural wall detail which does not form interior room space; or through a common party wall in only the garage portion or adjacent structures, there being no common party wall relationship permitted through any other portion of the residential unit. The maximum number of units attached in the above described manner shall not exceed four (4).
3. Yard requirements, in those areas where topography meets the topography conditions set forth in c. above, shall be provided as follows:
   a. Spacing between any grouping of four (4) clustered one-family units or less and another grouping of such structures shall be equal to at least twenty (20) feet, measured between the nearest points of the two groupings.
   b. All such clusters shall be so situated as to have one side of the grouping abutting on to a common open space.
   c. That side of a cluster adjacent to a service drive or private lane shall not be nearer to said drive or lane than (10) feet.
   d. That side of a cluster adjacent to a dedicated street shall not be nearer to said street than thirty (30) feet, except that on lands immediately adjacent to said streets having slopes in excess of fifteen (15) percent, for each one (1) percent over fifteen (15) the front yard may be reduced by five (5) feet, and in no instance shall a structure be closer to the road right-of-way than ten (10) feet.
   e. This nature of cluster development shall not abut a front yard of an existing plat of record unless said plat is developed in conjunction with the cluster as one comprehensive site plan.
4. Yard requirements, in those areas where topographical conditions are not a problem, shall be provided as follows:
   a. Front yards, on that side of the cluster adjacent to a dedicated street shall be equal to at least twenty-five (25) feet.
   b. Spacing between groups of clusters shall be equal to at least twenty (20) feet measured between the nearest point of the two groupings.
   c. One yard of the cluster may be provided in the form of common open space.
   d. This nature of cluster, when abutting a front yard of an existing subdivision shall cause all dwelling units facing such subdivision to relate through its front or entrance facade and shall treat said side of the cluster as a front yard.
5. The minimum floor area required for each residence shall be equal to at least the minimum requirements of the R-1 One-Family Residential District, except that the floor area of residences permitted in 1, a. and 1, b. of this Section 1402 may be as follows:

R-1, One Family Residence
1 Story	1450 Sq. Ft.
1½ Story 1st Floor	900 Sq. Ft.
1½ Story 2nd Floor	500 Sq. Ft.
2 Story 1st Floor	825 Sq. Ft.
2 Story 2nd Floor	825 Sq. Ft.

6. The height of any individual dwelling unit in a cluster on a slope in excess of fifteen (15) percent shall, when the unit is constructed on stilts, not compute the first ten (10) feet of height of the stilts. Application of the definition of "Building Height" shall apply over and above this ten (10) feet of stilt height.
7. In reviewing the plans and approving the application of this section to a particular site, the Planning Commission shall require:
   a. A landscaped berm, at least five (5) feet high, shall be provided along the entire property line abutting the major thoroughfare. This berm may be included within a required side or rear yard. The Planning Commission shall find that the slopes on said berms are gentle enough as not to erode when planted in grass; and they shall review the design of the berm as it relates to street intersections, finding that the horizontal view of oncoming traffic is not obscured.
   b. Subdivision street ingress and egress to the major thorofares shall be kept to a minimum.
8. In submitting a proposed layout under this section, the sponsor of the development shall include along with the site plan, typical building elevations and floor plans, topography drawn at a two (2) foot contour interval, all computation relative to acreage and density, details relative to the proposed berm, and any other additional data to assist in reviewing the proposed plan.
9. Approval of a site plan under this section shall be effective for a period of three (3) years. Development not completed in this period shall be considered as abandoned and authorization shall expire requiring that any proposed development thereafter shall be reviewed and approved by the Planning Commission. Any proposed change in site plan or building plans, after approval, shall require review and approval by the Planning commission prior to effecting said change.
10. Further site plan review by the Planning Commission as provided in SECTION 1515 of this Ordinance shall be provided insofar as such review provided for therein is not inconsistent with the provisions herein provided.

All persons interested will be heard.

A LOT OF DOGS—Mother Bernard looks over her family of 12 pups, now nearly two weeks old and a fat two pounds each. There is always a runt and this one in the coffee cup at a healthy five ounces might have been the smallest St. Bernard on record at birth, according to officials at the Michigan State School of Veterinary Medicine. He weighed three ounces. The owners, the Rev. and Mrs. Archie Woodward of 85 W. Seymour Lake, Ortonville, have the task of finding homes for the pooches.

Home-Loan Rate Lid Retained by House

LANSING (UPI) — Following charges that money lenders were "robbers without guns," Michigan House members yesterday defeated a bill to raise the home loan interest rate ceiling from 7 to 8.5 per cent.

The 44-58 vote on the Senate-passed measure came after weeks of postponement in the Democrat-controlled chamber to allow leaders time to scrape up votes.

However, adamant opposition of Michigan AFL-CIO President August Gus Scholle and growing sentiment that interest rates across the country would sink in the fall kept the tide of opposition running strong through the six-hour debate.

Republican conservative John Joe Smeekens of Sherwood led the bi-partisan anti forces, claiming an "artfully contrived conspiracy" existed among money lenders in keeping money tight. He said the situation was a pressure tactic to force lawmakers to raise the usury ceiling.

'CONTRIVED CONSPIRACY'

"There is no scarcity of money in Michigan," he said, "only an artfully contrived conspiracy . . ."

The bill's fate was apparent early in the debate when dozens of amendments, seemingly aimed at assuring defeat of the bill, flooded the clerk's desk. Many were termed "illegal," "fantastic" and "ridiculous" by advocates of the higher ceiling.

One, which was first adopted then stripped from the bill, would have required banks to invest 90 per cent of their assets in home mortgages.

Sponsored by Smeekens, the amendment would also have required banks to return all interest charges over seven per cent to their depositers and shareholders.

CALLED ILLEGAL

Republican Floor Leader William Hampton of Bloomfield Hills said the amendment was "totally illegal" because there was a federal ceiling on deposit interest rates.

A key amendment to prohibit penalty points was adopted during the debate. Points are charges made against both buyers and sellers of homes for paying off mortgages ahead of time.

Supporters said lending institutions used the point system as a means of getting around the usury limit. In some cases, they said, the interest rates went as high as 10 per cent with the points.

Rep. Dale Kildee, Flint Democrat, said bankers using the point system were "robbers without guns" and "vicious people."

"The banks can be as big robbers as anyone. I'd like to see some of these crooks who sit behind the cages out of business," he declared.

Viet Oil Losses Tied to Accounting Failure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Tens of millions of gallons of petroleum shipped to U.S. fighting forces in Vietnam could not be accounted for in 1967 because of what Pentagon auditors branded a "total breakdown" of a complex, unmanageable accounting system.

In case after case, a nine-man Joint Petroleum Technical Assistance Team concluded it was impossible to learn with certainty whether any of thousands of petroleum shipments inside Vietnam ever reached their destinations.

This was true, it said, due to confusion, negligence and the stresses of war and because receipts, reports and other vital documents were either ignored or not filled out correctly.

In one instance, the team reported, the Air Force could not account for $21 million in petroleum products the team blamed the loss on incomplete terminal reporting, saying no records exist as to whom the fuels were delivered.

ASKS FOR REPORT

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., who last year triggered a General Accounting Office investigation which disclosed the theft of millions of gallons of fuel in Thailand, asked the Pentagon to release its private Vietnam fuel report.

In a letter to Secretary of Defense Melvin Laird, Proxmire said he also wanted to know if any more recent petroleum auditing investigations have been made in Vietnam.

He asked details on steps taken to shore up the system as it existed in fiscal 1967 and in early 1968 when the auditors' report was compiled and written.

"In view of the gross inadequacies in the preparation, distribution and control of documentation for receipt, storage and distribution of bulk POL (fuels and lubricants), the team concluded that there had been a complete breakdown in the accounting system," the report said.

SYSTEM UNMANAGEABLE

"All participants agreed," it said at another point," that team recommendations, if implemented, would result in improved property administration and accounting.

"Without exception, however, the consensus was that the complexities of the current system with split responsibilities are completely unmanageable," it said. "Thus control and accounting for POL throughout Vietnam will undoubtedly be a continuing problem."

The report criticized dozens of petroleum management practices. These included lack of government checks of the accuracy of measuring devices on oil tanks, the lack of what it called adequate procedures to assure that costly oil drums were returned for credit and the lack of adequate checks on the operations of private civilian contractors who supply the petroleum in the first place.

The auditors said it was not always possible to demand documentation for petroleum deliveries made under hostile enemy fire. It related that eleven 5,000 gallon tank trucks were destroyed in one day while the auditing team was in Vietnam.

NO CONTROL

But in other cases, when enemy action was not a factor, the auditors described a system in which little or no control could be maintained on the huge and expensive flow of military fuels.

In one of several documented examples, the team said it had determined that at least 23 of 59 oil barges unloaded at Dong Nai in May 1967 returned to the terminal with from 500 to 35,000 gallons of fuel still aboard.

"As the Army did not know the amount of fuel they were supposed to have received, and did not account for fuels remaining on barges returned to the contractor, there was no assurance that the Army actually received the total quantities invoiced by the contractors or that the contractors gave the Army credit for fuels not discharged," the auditors said.

McGovern Is Hit for N. Viet Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. George S. McGovern's secret meeting with top Communist negotiators has come under attack from a fellow Democrat who questioned whether it is in the nation's interest "to meet with the enemy in time of war."

Sen. Harry F. Byrd Jr. of Virginia raised the issue after McGovern, long a critic of U.S. policy in Vietnam, disclosed he had met for 10 hours May 23 in Paris with North Vietnamese and Vietcong representatives.

Answering questions about the propriety of the meeting, McGovern said: "These same considerations went through my mind for many, many months." But he said he decided to go ahead with the meeting after conferring with the State Department and chief U.S. peace negotiator Henry Cabot Lodge.

"I wouldn't be able to rest if I thought anything I'd done had cost the life of a single American boy or prolonged the war," the South Dakota Democrat said in defending his action.

NOT A SPOKESMAN

McGovern told of the secret meeting Wednesday in a Senate speech, and he elaborated in a press briefing and a series of exchanges with fellow senators during and after his formal talk.

He said he arranged the session to get a better understanding of why the war and the killing goes on. The senator emphasized he only asked questions and made clear to the representatives of North Vietnam and the Vietcong he was not speaking in behalf of the U.S. government.

Byrd, said if Lodge approved the session, he assumed other senators might also arrange such meetings.

"Are we going to attempt to have individual negotiations with representatives of the enemy in Paris" Byrd asked.

REINFORCED VIEWS

The Virginia Democrat, in questioning whether such sessions would serve the nation's best interests said "we are still in a very difficult and precarious position."

McGovern said the meeting reinforced his views that the United States must start a "systematic withdrawal of all of our troops" and stop supporting the regime of South Vietnam President Nguyen Van Thieu.

McGovern's Paris meeting drew praise from several other Democratic war critics who said they see no change between the policies of the Johnson and the Nixon administrations.

No Sign Murphy Will Bow Out

Finch Repeats Denial of Senate Seat Plans

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Key California political sources saw no evidence today that Sen. George Murphy would bow out of the 1970 campaign so Robert H. Finch, secretary of health, education and welfare, could run for his seat.

There was speculation in Washington that Finch, 43, former California lieutenant governor, would quit the Nixon Cabinet but he continued to state, "This is a four-year commitment I have made here."

In California, a Murphy confidant said that only a new and unexpected health setback could take the Republican senator out of the race for another six-year term. And Murphy, making a round of public appearances in Los Angeles, looked "hale and hearty," The confidant said.

Finch never has made a secret of his desire to be in the U.S. Senate but has said he would not challenge a Republican incumbent.

'NO BASIS IN FACT'

Henry A. Salvatori, wealthy Los Angeles industrialist and GOP backer, told a reporter, "I'm convinced there is absolutely no basis in fact in those rumors."

Salvatori said in a telephone interview he has no reason whatever to believe that Murphy, who will be 67 Friday, intends to retire from the Senate. A group known as Californians for Murphy already is putting together plans for a reelection campaign.

Salvatori represents a cluster of wealthy Republicans who control the bulk of GOP campaign funds in California. They normally back candidates with records and philosophies more conservative than Finch's.

Mental Test Set in Killings

Dr. Daniel J. Boucher, 44-year-old Birmingham orthodontist, accused of slaying his ex-wife and 7-year-old son, will undergo psychiatric evaluation to determine his ability to stand trial.

Circuit Judge William R. Beasley yesterday allowed a defense motion to temporarily commit Boucher to the Center for Forensic Psychiatry in Ionia. He will be removed from the Oakland County Jail where he has been awaiting trail on a charge of first-degree murder since the Oct. 16 shooting. The slayings occurred at 3130 W. Long Lake, West Bloomfield Township, where Mrs. Boucher and her son had resided.

A psychiatric report is expected in about 60 days, according to court officials and a hearing will follow to determine the orthodonits's fitness to stand trial.

Chinese Puzzle

MOSCOW (AP) — The Literary Gazette said this problem appears in children's textbooks in Red China's Sinkiang Province:

"Under the guidance of the great leader Mao, Sinkiang livestock raisers killed two wolves on the first day and three on the second. How many wolves were killed altogether under the guidance of the great leader Mao?"

Borman Tells of Plan for U.S. Space Station

LENINGRAD, U.S.S.R. (AP) — U.S. astronaut Frank Borman said today he is working on a program under which the United States hopes to launch a big space station a few years from now.

"I foresee a time in that program when Soviet and U.S. spacemen will be flying together," he added.

Borman said the launching of the space station is intended for the mid-70s. He did not give further details on it or the way in which Americans and Russians would operate in space together.

The astronaut made his remarks during an informal news conference in his hotel in Leningrad, which he is visiting as part of his tour of the Soviet Union.

Borman, with Soviet newsmen present, paid tribute to the pioneer role of the Soviet Union in space and spoke of the importance of space programs for the whole world.

"I am now working on a program in which in the mid-70s we hope to launch a big space station," he told reporters. "I foresee a time in that program when Soviet and U.S. spacemen will be flying together.

"I must say this all follows in the lead of programs started by the Soviet Union.

"We share a common belief with your cosmonauts that what we do is of value not only to America or the Soviet Union but to the world.

"We share the same spirit with your pioneers who settled Siberia and ours who settled the West."

1st GIs in Pullout Due in U.S. July 16

HONOLULU (AP) — The first U.S. Army troops bound for Hawaii from Vietnam under President Nixon's troops withdrawal program will arrive here July 16, says Adm. John McCain Jr., Pacific military commander.

The first group, a small advance party, is coming from Headquarters Company of the 9th Infantry Division, McCain said.

California Sues GM on Car Price Labels

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Asserting that General Motors puts deliberately misleading price labels on its cars, the state of California has filed a suit asking for fines which could total about $750 million.

"The sticker prices on new cars windows lead California customers to the belief that these prices are the prevailing retail sales prices for automobiles sold in California," said Charles A. O'Brien, chief deputy state attorney general.

"They are not. The sticker prices exceed the prevailing sales prices by several hundred dollars."

General Motors spokesmen declined immediate comment.

O'Brien said Federal Trade Commission guidelines and California law require that stickers in new cars reflect prevailing prices.

ASKS INJUNCTION FINE

The Superior Court suit filed Wednesday asks an injunction and a fine of $2,500 for every GM car sold in California in the past year. About 300,000 cars are involved.

"General Motors is the most flagrant in the Los Angeles area," O'Brien told newsmen. But he added that the suit might be amended later to include other manufacturers He said Ford, Chrysler and American Motors sell cars to dealers at about 17 to 25 per cent under suggested retail prices, allowing retail price variations of several hundred dollars.

O'Brien said a television commercial for Pontiac "advises buyers not to pay any attention to the sticker prices on the new automobile windows."

"The ad says these cars are available several hundred dollars below the sticker price," he said.

In 1963 the Federal Trade Commission said "a manufacturer may not affix price tickets containing inflated prices as an accommodation to particular retailers who intend to use such prices as the basis for advertising fictitious price reductions." The state suit does not affect dealers.

Planners Work at Rewriting State Budget

LANSING (AP) — As most lawmakers scattered for the holiday weekend, a small group of legislative budget planners worked at rewriting the $1.534-billion check to pay Michigan's bills for the current fiscal year.

The House and Senate both have approved their own versions of appropriations bills and conference committees are trying to hammer out compromise measures.

Both chambers agreed Wednesday to conference versions of three spending bills before adjourning for the long Fourth of July weekend.

Passed with little debate in either house were bills allocating $35.07 million to the Departments of Military Affairs and State Police; $27.49 million for corrections and $20.19 million for Public Health.

Among questions still unsettled were House and Senate differences in the $295.5-million higher education bill; a massive $289.3-million welfare appropriation; and a $47.6-million capitol outlay bill from which the House struck $4 million earmarked by the upper chamber for new Capitol construction.

Senate Appropriations Committee Chairman Charles O. Zollar, R-Benton Harbor, said he expected final legislative approval by the end of next week on the bills still to be reported from conference committees.

Zollar said the higher education measure could prove especially troublesome, partly because of $1.6 million the House included for what has been termed a "paper college," the yet-to-be constructed Wayne County Community College.

The House also added more than $4 million to the Senate appropriation for the University of Michigan.

COMPROMISE SEEN

Zollar said a compromise was imminent on the welfare bill, from which the Senate struck $750,000 for the State Housing authority.

The funds, which Senate Democrats fought for unsuccessfully, would be reinserted in the bill, Zollar indicated. But he said the total appropriation — nearly $30 million over Gov. William Milliken's recommendation — would remain the same.

Zollar said the $750,000 would be taken from other earmarked funds in the Senate version of the bill.

He and Sen. Garland Lane, D-Flint, also on the Appropriations Comittee, both strongly endorsed the $4 million for the new Capitol — chopped out in a surprise House move last week.

TO REINSERT MONEY

The money would be reinserted, Zollar said.

He added, however, that the conferees also would include provisions that other architectural firms and groups such as the State Council on the Arts may become involved in plans for the new Capitol.

Rep. Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, led the successful move to delete the $4 million, objecting in part to the fact that only one architectural firm — Smith, Hinchman & Grylls Associates, Inc., the state architect — had a hand in designing the proposed new Capitol.

To Collect Soil, Return Home

Soviets Set Lunar Probe July 10

MOSCOW (AP) — Communist sources said Wednesday the Soviet Union plans to launch an unmanned moon probe July 10 that will attempt to scoop up a sample of lunar soil and return it to earth.

The experiment, if successful, would precede the American attempt to land two men on the moon by just six days.

The sources, who have contacts inside the Soviet space program, added that the July 10 launch would be the third attempt to carry out the complex shot. Neither of the two earlier attempts, both of which were said to h ave blown up before leaving the atmosphere, was announced by Soviet authorities.

The reports of the third attempt were unofficial and confirmation could not be obtained.

'TERRIBLE BLOW'

"The space people are very disturbed over the success of the American Apollo program," one source said. "Losing the moon race will be a terrible blow to them."

The sources had few details on the mechanics of the moon shot, but they said a detachable lunar module would make the descent to the lunar surface, scoop up the soil, then blast off and link up with the main craft for the return trip.

The reports of a new lunar experiment appeared to be supported by a recent statement cosmonaut Alexei Leonov made to a group of correspondents in Moscow. Leonov said the Russians would attempt to return a sample of lunar soil in time to exhibit it at Expo 70, the Osaka, Japan, world's fair.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Starting today, school children in Los Angeles County will be warned against strenuous exercise when heavy smog is forecast.

Condition Is Same for Man Police Shot

The Chelsea man shot by a Pontiac police officer early Sunday remains in serious condition today in Pontiac General Hospital.

Hospital officials said Mark Wade's condition has not improved.

Wade, 21, was shot after a high-speed chase through the city when officers responded to reports of an attempted larceny.

The shooting occurred after Wade allegedly attacked one of the officers with a screwdriver after the chase ended.

A Look at TV

Ho, Hawaii Charming

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK — Moving a variety show off those familiar studio stages into the outdoors is a hard way to create an hour of entertainment. It's hard to get the sound right, it's difficult to dance on uneven ground and breezes keep mussing up hairdos.

MISS LOWRY

But when the background includes some of the beautiful and dramatic spots of the nation's 50th state, it is worth the effort and no viewer minds an occasional rough spot.

NBC's "Music Hall," in the first of a quintet of summer shows starring Don Ho, showed him in his native Hawaiian environment. Ho, a gentle-mannered, relaxed man with a smooth singing voice, headed up a handsome and comfortable sort of show. He sang a number of mainland standards; strolled singing along the ocean's edge with guest star Carol Lawrence; read—rumbling a bit—the straight lines to set up a Bill Dana comedy interlude.

Even without the imported Miss Lawrence and Dana, the hour had a lot of charm. Ho surrounded himself with smiling, singing children — one of them his own son, who helped his father move into a commercial break. He also introduced a couple of talented young Hawaiian singers.

Ho's programs will be mixed among a dozen taped in London.

In television's summer desert, winter variety shows are usually replaced with new programs while the dramas and comedies stick with reruns.

There is a valid reason: to comply with union rules, most persons connected with the production of taped variety shows must be paid as much for a repeat show as for the original production. Thus, it usually costs more to turn out a modestly budgeted new program than to repeat an old one.

Hawaii, with its lush tropical backgrounds and sparkling ocean, seems to be a natural for television production. CBS has been making its action series, "Hawaii Five-O" there for the past season and has resumed production for next. Although the series is standard cops-and-robbers stuff with plots that could be acted out against a New York, Chicago or Los Angeles background, the location shooting in Hawaii has given it special visual authenticity.

Movie actor Peter O'Toole was fined $75 yesterday in Dublin, Ireland, for punching a restaurant owner during an altercation over whether he should be served an after-hours drink. O'Toole also was bitten by the restaurant owner's dog.

O'Toole's attorney conceded in court that the actor tried to buy a drink at 3:30 a.m. long after closing hours, and got into an argument with the proprietor of the place.

Singer Patti Page, suffering from exhaustion, entered a Dallas hospital last night to rest.

She was unable to appear for a closing performance at the Fairmont hotel.

A hospital spokesman said Miss Page had been overworking and "hadn't been eating very well."

Johnny Carson Calls Salary Report 'Ludicrous'

Johnny Carson, star of the NBC "Tonight" show, describes as "ludicrous" and "far out of line" reports that his new contract calls for $75,000 to $85,000 a week.

CARSON

His protests to this effect on last night's show in New York were supported by an NBC spokesman who said the reports were "flagrantly in error" although conceding that Carson received a "good increase."

Neither Carson nor the spokesman would say what the contract actually does call for. The old one is believed to have brought Carson around $1 million a year, or almost $20,000 a week.

Singer Cash Faces $82,000 Bill for Forest Fire

Singer Johnny Cash owes the federal government $82,000 because of a 500-acre forest fire attributed to a faulty exhause system in his camper truck.

CASH

The U.S. attorney's office in Los Angeles said yesterday it accepted the amount—payable over five years—in a stipulated judgment.

Officials said Cash was negligent while operating the truck in California's Los Padres National Forest in 1965 and failed to notify authorities quickly when the fire flared out of control.

Miss Ono suffered a miscarriage last November.

Ex-Rolling Stone Dies in His Swim Pool

LONDON (AP) — Brian Jones, 26-year-old pop music idol who rose to stardom as one of Britain's Rolling Stones, died today while taking a midnight swim at his Hartfield home. The tour manager of the singing group said asthma may have contributed to his death.

Tom Keylock said: "It is possible that Brian had an attack of asthma while he was bathing. Jones has suffered from asthma for some years and it was particularly bad when there was a lot of pollen about. There was an asthma inhaler, which Brian used to help him with his breathing, at the side of the swimming pool."

A spokesman at Jones' home said Frank Thorogood, a contracter who is modernizing the house, and a blonde girl friend were at the pool when Jones went for his midnight swim. After about 20 minutes the girl went into the house and Thorogood went for a cigarette.

"When Mr. Thorogood went back to the swimming pool, he saw Brian at the bottom," the spokesman said. Thorogood and the girl dived in and pulled Jones out. The girl attempted mouth-to-mouth resuscitation while Thorogood tried artificial respiration.

COLLAPSE IN '67

Jones entered a nursing home in July 1967 to recover from what was reported as "severe strain." Five months later, he collapsed in his apartment and was taken to a hospital.

Jones was pronounced dead at the scene by a doctor. Police said the coroner was informed of his death.

Jones quit the popular quintet last month, saying he wanted to play his own type music.

"The music of Keith Richard and Mick Jagger has to my mind progressed at a tangent as far as my own tastes are concerned," he had said. "I have a desire to play my own brand of music rather than that of others, no matter how much I apeciate their musical concepts."

MUSIC, LYRICS

Richard writes the music for the quintet, Jagger, the group's leader and singer, writes the lyrics.

Jones, who was replaced by Mick Taylor, 20, made his last public appearance with the Rolling Stones in May 1968 at London's Wembley Stadium. Ten thousand people attended, and the group got a wild reception.

Rolling Stones records have sold 43 million copies around the world. Their latest hit is "Honky Tonk Blues."

Jones died at Cotchford Farm, a 16th century estate southeast of London that once belonged to A.A. Milne, author of "Winnie the Pooh." Jones bought it last November for nearly $75,000.

The pop star twice was convicted of possessing marijuana.

BRIAN JONES

In December 1967, he was placed on probation for three years and fined $2,400 but avoided a jail sentence by promising to give up drugs. He was arrested again five months later after police found marijuana at his home in London's Chelsea district. He was fined $120.

Showers Cool Tense Situation in Grand Rapids

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Thundershowers helped restore relative calm to Grand Rapids Wednesday night after two successive nights of disturbances on the predominantly Negro near Southeast side.

Police said a tavern holdup by a band of men armed with rocks, which netted less than $200, was the only serious incident of the night. There were also reports of scattered instances of rock throwing before the rains began shortly after 11 p.m.

Firemen reported three cases of arson in the hour before the rains began. The blazes at three houses, two of them vacant, caused a total of $535 damage.

The relative calm contrasted with events of the two previous nights, when 35 persons were hurt and 46 arrested during a wave of firebombings and rock throwing.

AYLESBURY, England (AP) — Forty winks in Aylesbury's museums can cost you a $12 fine. A recent local law says: "A person shall not, after warning by a museum officer, persist in sleeping in a museum."

Formosans Sink Peking Ships

AP Wirephoto

SINKING SITE—The location of the sinking of three Red Chinese ships by Nationalist Chinese commandos is shown.

From Our News Wires

TAIPEI — A fleet of Nationalist Chinese gunboats blitzed into a coastal Communist naval base on the mainland last night and escaped today, reporting two supply ships and a Peking gunboat sunk, the government said.

It was the first sea battle between the two Chinese governments since Jan. 18, 1966. The returning raiders said they damaged a second Communist gunboat trying to block their escape.

A government announcement described the scene of the raid as a small port in the mouth of the Min River, about 100 miles west of the northern tip of Nationalist China and near the mainland city of Fuchou.

The battle spilled out into the Formosa Strait separating the two nations, with a rear guard of Nationalist gunboats holding off Communist counterattackers until the raiders finished.

'GUERRILLA AFFAIR'

A defense-ministry spokesman referred to the attack as a "guerrilla affair, not a regular sea battle."

Tensions along the strait had eased between the two Chinas in recent months and this battle threatened to bring retaliation from Peking and more calls for invading the mainland by the Nationalist regime headed by Chiang Kai-shek on Taiwan.

The two supply ships, of unknown tonnage, went down at the Communist naval base, the announcement said, while one pursuing Communist gunboat was sunk and a second was damaged outside the harbor.

The number and type of Nationalist Chinese warships in on the raid was not disclosed. The government said only that they returned safely to their bases.

The attackers were identified by the Nationalist Chinese Central News Agency as members of the Sea Guerrilla Force of the Anti-Communist National Salvation Corps.

There was no immediate comment from Peking. The Formosa Strait separates the two Chinas, with the island of Formosa or Nationalist China separated from the mainland or Red China by about 100 miles.

Lazaros Is Pleased by Grand Juror Pick

Underworld informant Peter Lazaros said yesterday he is pleased with the selection of grand juror Robert J. Colombo to probe alleged corruption in Oakland County.

Accusations from Lazaros, an admitted former Mafia moneyman, were instrumental in calling the jury. Lazaros of 2410 Dalesford, Troy, is expected to be a ke witness in the investigation.

Colombo was named Tuesday to head the probe by a panel of nine visiting judges. Colombo was cocounsel for Angelo (Barrels) Lombardi in 1965-66 when Lombardi was convicted of conspiracy to bribe a Pontiac police officer. Lombardi has been named in a U.S. Senate committee hearing as a Mafia leader.

'HONORABLE MAN'

"As far as I know, Judge Colombo is an honorable man," Lazaros said. Lazaros said he never has met Colombo.

Lazaros also said he was happy that the jury finally had been called, and said he hoped the investigation would get under way as soon as possible.

Colombo indicated Tuesday he would begin his probe around Aug. 1.

Most other observers indicated yesterday an attitude of "now we will just have to wait and see" how Colombo handles the investigation.

Arthur Brandt Jr., who first petitioned for the grand jury along with Orchard Lake Councilman David Bradbury, said he was confident Colombo would do a good job, but he was a little concerned about Colombo's legal history. He said several of his friends have also expressed concern.

"It's interesting that they chose Colombo after he has represented alleged Mafia men in court before, isn't it?" said Brandt, President of the Oakland County Conservative Club.

Ironically, Sen. Robert Griffin, R-Mich. announced yesterday he would withdraw his nomination of Detroit attorney George E. Woods for a U. S. attorney's post for Eastern Michigan.

Griffin said he retracted his nomination because Woods recently served as attorney for Lazaros. He reportedly will name James H. Brickley, assistant Wayne County prosecutor, for the nomination in place of Woods.

Meanwhile, legislators in Lansing today continued talks on whether Michigan's unique one-man grand jury system should be allowed to survive.

Picnic Hamper Faces a Damper

The weatherman reports there's a chance of showers for the holiday tomorrow. But don't let his prediction mar your plans for a picnic or vacation. He often changes his mind.

And if he doesn't, there is always the attic, basement or garage for the picnic.

Respect for Euler Is Shown by Professional Colleagues

Two directors of influential hospital organizations have expressed admiration and respect for the man fired as administrator of Pontiac General Hospital.

Harold B. Euler, dismissed without notice or explanation on June 17, from all indications was held in greater respect by almost everyone else in the hospital field in the state except the Pontiac General trustees.

Giving some opinions and details to The Press on Euler yesterday were Allan Barth, executive director of the Michian Hospital Association, and Gene Sibery, executive director of the Greater Detroit Area Hospital Council.

Euler was elected treasurer of the Michigan Hospital Association on June 27 although the group was aware he had been deposed at Pontiac General, Barth pointed out.

FIRING DISCUSSED

The issue was discussed at the June 25 board meeting of the Lansing-based, statewide organization. "It (the firing) came as a shock to all of us," Barth said. "We could see no reason why he would be fired. We felt he had made a distinct contribution to the advancement of the hospital. His election (as treasurer) indicates our confidence in him."

Harold B. Euler will get his long-sought meeting with the officers of the hospital board of trustees Saturday at 10 a.m. to find out why he was fired, he said he was informed this morning by the city manager's office.

FIRING DISCUSSED

Sibery pointed out Euler held one of the highest positions in the organization for a two-year term, which ended last

Governor Gets Bill on MCOM

The State Legislature finished its work last night on a bill to create a state college osteopathic medicine, and the compromise measure has gone to Gov. Milliken's desk.

The bill (House—2196) has had House and Senate versions and the final wording calls for the State Board of Education to pick a site and college affiliation for the new school. The osteopathic school could become a department at either Michigan State, University of Michigan, Wayne State or Oakland University.

Rep. William Hampton, R-Bloomfield Hills, said today there is some doubt the governor will sign the bill.

There are two issues, involved, Hampton said — the college bill is accompanied by a $500,000 appropriation bill (still subject to amendment) and the money is above current budget expectations. Secondly, separating osteopaths from the regular medical field is contrary to current trends toward amalgamation.

"The issue will be a major policy decision on the part of the governor," Hampton said. A period of at least 10 days before a decision can be made is expected.

Pontiac, where a private osteopathic college is under construction, is still the foremost in consideration for the site, Hampton said.

3 GIs' Release Set by N. Viets

HONG KONG (AP) — North Vietnam announced today it has decided to release "three American aggressors," apparently prisoners, in honor of America's Independence Day and would allow other "U.S. aggressors" captured in North Vietnam to receive gifts from their families.

The brief announcement broadcast by Radio Hanoi did not specifically say the prisoners would be released July 4, just that the releases would be made to observe the American holiday.

Its reference to "U.S. aggressors" was taken to mean American pilots shot down over North Vietnam.

The broadcast did not identify the men to be released, nor did it say when or where they would be freed.

A Vietnam news agency broadcast monitored in Tokyo said: "Proceeding from the humanitarian and lenient policy of the government of the Democratic Republic of Vietnam and on the occasion of the American people's Independence Day, the general political department of the Vietnam's People's Army has decided: 1. To release three Americans captuerd in North Vietnam, 2. Allow the Americans captured in North Vietnam to receive gifts from their families.

The three would be the first Americans released since Aug. 2, 1968, when North Vietnam freed three U.S. pilots. Those three were released through Vietiane, administrative captial of Laos.

LUMBERYARD BLAZE — Fire crews battled a $100,000 fire for more than two hours early this morning at Oxford Lumber Co., 54 Mill, Oxford. The cause of the fire, which destroyed a 60x170-foot storage building, is still unknown. (Story, page A-4.)

Rec Bill Passes, Goes to Milliken

LANSING (AP) — The $100-million recreation bond bill — hotly debated for months — was on its way to the governor today after final legislative approval of a face-saving compromise.

But charges of "breaking faith with the voters" lingered, despite the obvious relief of supporters of the bill.

The Senate passed the House-approved compromise 24-6 yesterday.

A brief interchamber hassle over technical methods of allocating the funds was settled in informal conference committees and approved as the House and Senate adjourned for the holiday weekend.

SPLITS EARMARKED

The bill earmarks $30 million for local communities on a population basis and $70 million for the Department of Natural Resources, including $25 million for multiuse urban recreation developed by the department.

Thus a total of some $55 million would go for local and urban recreation.

The long-contested distribution formula varied by $5 million from the 30-30-40 split recommended by the governor and far under the 70-30 split outstate legislators and conservationists contended that voters had been promised before they approved the bond issue last November.

But it allowed Milliken to commend the formula and call it "a fair and responsible plan," one that "conforms to widely supported "proposals for allocating funds on the basis of $70 million to the state department and $30 million for local units."

'NOT 70-30'

"I don't care what you call it," countered Sen. James Fleming, R-Jackson. "It's not 70-30."

In the Senate, many outstate members objected to speedy action on the bill passed late Tuesday in the lower chamber.

Members had copies of the measure on their desks for little more than six minutes before they were asked to vote, said Sen. John Toepp, R-Cadillac. "I don't like to move that fast.

"If there was some real problem, I'd go along with postponing this," said Senate Minority Leader Sander Levin, D-Berkley. "But this is simple." Levin outlined the 30-45-25 figures again, but members still grumbled.

U.S. Eyes Hanoi in Vietnam Lull

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Nixon administration is looking for some sign that the recent sharp drop in combat and reported cutback in the North Vietnamese infiltration into the South mean Hanoi is deliberately slowing down the war.

But officials are not sure they will get such an indication.

to some "change of plans" by the enemy command. And he has held open the possibility they could lead to increased U.S. troop withdrawal from Vietnam when President Nixon reviews his plans next month.

But Rogers also told a news conference yesterday the decline in enemy activities could be due to manpower supply problems or to a regrouping of forces for new attacks.

Other officials say privately a new enemy offensive is a definite possibility based on the present, admittedly inadequate information.

Some authorities believe if the developments have political significance they would eventually get some signals to that effect, perhaps through Soviet or other diplomatic channels, from Hanoi.

Fulbright Blocks ABM Backers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright is trying to turn the tables on President Nixon by bucking administration nominees who support deployment of Safeguard antiballistic missiles—ABMs.

At Fulbright's direction the Senate Foreign Relations Committee he heads has passed over Nixon's nomination of William J. Casey as a member of the General Advisory Committee of the Arms Control and Disarmament Agency. Casey, chairman of the Citizens Committee for Peace with Security, is leading a publicity campaign for the administration ABM program which Fulbright strongly opposes.

All 15 appointees to the agency got caught in the same hold order.

In addition, Fulbright said he expects to recall Spurgeon M. Keeny Jr., chosen for assistant director of the disarmament agency.

While Fulbright didn't say so, it seemed obvious to his colleagues the Arkansas Democrat is of a mind to make the road difficult for appointees who get out in front in support of ABM, an issue that will come before the Senate after the July 4 recess.

Waterford Police Hit Home

3 Charged After 'Pot' Raid

Waterford Township police last night charged three men with possession of marijuana after a raid on a township home.

Arrested were James Collins, 19; George Johnson, 19; and Frank Vail, 40. All three lived at 5205 Highland, officers said.

Police went to the home at 8 p.m. with a search warrant after receiving an anonymous tip. Officers said the home has been under surveillance for about one month.

The Waterford officers, under the direction of Lt. David Putnam, were assisted by Bloomfield Township Detective Robert Taylor.

21 PLANTS SUSPECT

Found in the front yard of the home were 21 plants believed by police to be marijuana. Officers said they also confiscated several pills and other capsules found inside the home.

If the pills turn out to be drugs, other charges also could be made against the three, Putnam said.

The evidence was turned over to the Michigan State Police crime laboratory in Lansing for identification.

The home, which faces the Clinton River, was owned by Vail, according to police. Vail claimed no knowledge of the plants or pills when questioned by police.

ARRAIGNMENT TODAY

All three men are expected to be arraigned today in 51st District Court before Judge Kenneth Hempstead.

'Reds Eye India for Naval Base'

WASHINGTON (AP) — An authoritative Asian diplomatic source says the Soveet Union has asked India for permission to establish a naval base which could dominate shipping lanes to all of East Asia and the western Pacific.

So far, the source reported, Prime Minister Indira Gandhi of India has resisted the request for a Soviet fleet base in the Andaman Islands, astride the Bay of Bengal.

The source did not say how extensive a military base the Soviets are proposing for the islands, which were seized by the Japanese early in World War II because of their location.

In New Delhi, an Indian Foreign Ministry spokesman denied that such a request had been made. "There is no truth in such rumors," he said.

ISLES UNDEVELOPED

The spokesman said the Andamans are largely undeveloped and could not receive many warships. He also pointed out that Mrs. Gandhi and others have said often that India opposes the establishment of foreign bases by any nation.

An Andaman base could play a key role in Moscow's newly proposed collective security system for the containment of mainland China. Soviet diplomats were said to have emphasized in their proposal to India.

Prober Choice Pleases Lazaros

The controversial system—abolished in the Michigan House earlier this year—was considered this week by the senate Judiciary Committee.

When the committee reported its findings to the Senate floor Tuesday, committee chairman Sen. Robert Richardson, R-Saginaw, said abolishing the one-man system would be premature. A provision that would have done away with the one-man system was deleted by the committee.

Now being considered is a provision that would allow a judge to summon a 13-17 citizen grand jury for a period of 90 days with one 90-day extension.

The present grand jury would not be affected even if Lansing legislators vote to abolish the one-man system.

He also served on the executive committee and is still a member of the long-term care planning committee. "He was certainly recognized by his peers by virtue of the positions he was elected to," Sibery said.

"It is my personal opinion and the opinion expressed by this council that in every indication he provided leadership . . . we considered him one of the real statesmen."

Euler was on the council as a representative of the hospital for the past 11 years. He no longer will hold any of the council positions except the long-term care planning committee. The hospital can appoint someone to the position, however.

BEA, Board Hammer Out Parts of Pact

BIRMINGHAM — Tentative agreement has been reached on individual teacher rights, responsibilities, security and recognition clauses in contract negotiations between the Birmingham Board of Education and the Birmingham Education Association (BEA).

The grievance procedure has been redefined to expedite handling of a problem when it develops under the contract.

Efforts also are being made to improve communications between teachers and administrators "in order to develop a better understanding of all points of view," according to a spokesman for Board of Education.

Schools will be encouraged to set up advisory councils and provide new ways of disseminating information and encouraging the exchange of ideas.

STRICTLY NONECONOMICS

Negotiations so far have centered on strictly noneconomic items. Items such as salary and class size, however, have been reviewed.

The Board and BEA do not expect to discuss salary and related items until complete agreement is reached on all noneconomic items. Negotiators expect to clear up noneconomic matters next week.

Twenty-four bargaining sessions have been held since negotiations opened in April. Negotiations will resume Tuesday following a two-week break to allow some members of the BEA to attend national meetings.

Dr. Charles Leach, 525 Southfield, has been elected president of the Birmingham Board of Education, replacing Pell Hollingshead.

Richard Halsted of 4053 Spur Hill, Bloomfield Township, was chosen vice president and George Schmidt, 945 N. Glenhurst, was reelected secretary. Mrs. Robert Wessels, 2152 Tottenham, is the new treasurer.

Richard G. Johnson, 1025 E. Maple, has been named chairman of the seventh annual Crippled Children's Board Cruise, July 22.

Flag Fliers: Avoid Hang-Ups

The U.S. flag should be displayed only from sunrise to sunset, though military establishments raise it by custom at 8 a.m.

It should be raised smartly to the top of the staff, and lowered slowly and with dignity.

When displayed over the middle of a street, it should be suspended vertically with the union (blue portion) to the north on an east-west street or to the east on a north-south street.

When displayed with another flag on crossed staffs, the American flag should be on its own right, the viewer's left, with its staff in front of the other.

When other flags are flown from the same halyard, the U.S. flag should be at the uppermost position.

SEW SIMPLE
By Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer, I have finally (after 40 years) worked on my figure until it is just the way I have always wanted it to be, but no my problems are almost worse. I can't find patterns small enough and when I do, there are so few of them that the selection is very poor.

Surely, there are lots of women who wear size three or five ready-made dresses who have the same problem. The top high fashion pattern company is the worst offender in this small size range.

Dear Mrs. P. S.C.: The old rule of supply and demand is the problem here. Perhaps there are many of you who can't find patterns in your small size. Instead of complaining to yourself or your fabric shop, take a few minutes of your time and write to me. The pattern companies are in business to sell patterns and if there is a special need that has been overlooked, they would certainly be more than willing to correct this.

Mrs. P.S.C.

I will act as your go-between and any mail I receive from you will certainly reach the right people. Please drop me a postcard, or not immediately and tell me what size patterns there seems to be the greatest shortage.

TAILOR TRIX WINNER

MRS. Janet Curda, Ft. Worth, Texas is this week's Tailor Trix pressing board winner for her following sewing suggestion.

"I purchased an inexpensive bath mat with a sponge backing to put under my portabel sewing machine. Fold it in half with the sponge out, extending about an inch in front of machine. It makes an excellent cushion to set the machine on because it prevents moving around. The furniture is protected and it is easy to store inside the machine case when you are finished.

But the BEST part of it is that it provides a nice pin-cushion the full length of the machine, so handily and eliminates the constant searching for the pin cushion."

Dear Eunice Farmer, I am working with a designer pattern for a formal gown and the pattern calls for a three-inch hair braid for the hem. I am wondering what this is and where to find it. The only hair braid I have been able to find comes in a package and is only one inch wide. I can't understand why patterns recommend something that isn't available for those of us who do our own sewing.

Mrs. N. W.

Dear Mrs. N. W.: The pattern you are referring to must have been designed in Europe. When the pattern company buys the designer's original, they must reproduce the directions exactly as the original was constructed or they cannot use the designer's name on the pattern. These patterns are constructed with custom details that are usually not familiar to anyone other than a custom dressmaker.

Hair braid is a mesh type braid that keeps its shape and helps retain he shape of the hem of a gown by giving it the extra body necessary. Often a shop that carries better fabrics will carry this item. But, if you can't find it, you can take the narrow braid and lap the edges of two strips, hand sew a loose running stitch to hold them together and actually make this braid as wide as you desire.

Dear Eunice Farmer, Will you please tell me how to take the wrinkles and creases out of a piece of corduroy? Also, could I put a zipper in the side seam instead of the back of a dress?

Miss M.R.

Dear Miss M. R.: As to the creases in the corduroy, if they don't come out with steam, you might have to wet the corduroy and let it dry in your dryer to retain the soft nap. If you buy napped fabric of any type and aren't going to use it right away, it is best to fold it in approximately 12-inch folds, place large safety pins throughout the selvage of each fold and hang on a day, if they do become wrinkled or creased, it is almost impossible to remove.

As to the placing of the zipper, this is a matter of choice. The back zipper application became so popular because of elaborate hairdos that became destroyed if a dress was forced over the head. If the dress has an adequate opening for the head, there is no reason why you can't use side closing if you desire. Usually a 12- or 14-inch zipper is recommended.

The Highland home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Gee, was the setting for a reception feting Brenda Georgina Gee and Dale Roland Bjorklund of Fraser following their marriage Wednesday evening ceremony in Saint George's Episcopal Church, Milford.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bjorklund of Muskegon.

Attended by Mrs. Richard Wigginton and Joanne Haan, as matron and maid of honor, the bride was gowned in organza over peau de soie.

Detroiters Plan Swingin' Things for Weekenders

DETROIT (UPI) — Things will swing on weekends this summer in downtown Detroit.

There will be flea markets, music, artists' exhibitions, outdoor cafes, and festivals — all boosted by the Central Business District Association to put some pizazz into the inner city.

Beginning Thursday and running through the weekend will be the Greektown Festival not far from downtown. There will be dancing in the streets and outdoor booths dispensing Greek delicacies.

Chinatown, at midtown, not to be outdone, will have an outdoor flea market running every Saturday and Sunday during July and August. "Mayor" Henry Yee will provide an outdoor cafe, one of six fresh air cafes that will be operating in the downtown area this summer.

Every Sunday, there will be an outdoor flea market on lower Woodward Avenue, with vendord offering old and new odds and ends — from antiques to fresh flowers. Also on Sundays, there will be music in the Kern block and an artists' mart in Kennedy Square.

Cotton is the only major fiber that increases in strength when it's wet.

Exercisers Reach the Mass Market

Indoor exercising is a popular trend, according to the Family Fitness Council. Part of the reason is that exercise aids have been designed for mass production by its members for use in the home. Appearance, size, and cost have made figure control equipment, of a type formerly only available in professional salons, attractive for the home.

For example, belt massagers can be purchased for under $100, indoor joggers about the same, slant boards under $25, and stationary bicycles as low as $50.

Thant Calls for World Ban of Chemical, Germ Weapons

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary-General U Thant has called for a worldwide pact banning the development, production and stockpiling of all chemical and germ warfare agents for "their effective elimination from the arsenal of weapons."

Thant's three-point proposal was sent to the U.N. Disarmament Committee that opened a new round of discussions in Geneva today, to all 126 members of the United Nations and to the U.N. Security Council.

The program also urges all nations to accede to the Geneva Protocol of 1925, which prohibits the use of poisonous gas and germ warfare, and calls for a clear affirmation that the 1925 ban applies to the use in war of all germ and chemical agents, including tear gas.

The United States signed but never ratified the protocol, which has the formal endorsement of more than 60 governments. Japan is the only other major power that has not acceded to the agreement.

NO SURE DEFENSE

Thant's recommendations were accompanied by a 118-page study prepared for him by an international group of 14 experts.

The experts warned that "any country could develop or acquire" the capacity to wage war with chemical or bacteriological weapons and that there is no sure defense against such weapons. Some of them, the experts said, could endanger the future of mankind.

"The danger of the proliferation of this class of weapons," their report added, "applies as much to the developing as it does to the developed countries." And their use by one nation might trigger retaliation by "other categories of weapons systems," presumably nuclear weapons.

Although gas warfare was used in World War I and a number of nations are known to have stockpiled chemical and germ weapons during and since World War II, the experts cited only the United States as an example of a nation which has used the weapons in a recent war. They cited American use of herbicides to defoliate jungles and forests in South Vietnam.

"There is as yet no scientific evaluation of the long-term ecological changes resulting from these attacks," the report said. "One estimate is that some mangrove forests may need 20 years to regenerate, and fears have been expressed about the future of the animal population."

The committee noted that certain bird species have migrated from attacked areas, but "There has been no decline in fish catches."

The atmosphere of the earth at sea level is composed of 78 per cent nitrogen, 21 per cent oxygen and 0.03 per cent carbon dioxide.

Apollo 11 Crew in Last Key Test

Astronauts Take Part in Simulated Lift-Off

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The Apollo 11 astronauts climb into their spaceship atop a towering Saturn 5 rocket today to take part in the last major test for their launching toward a landing on the moon.

Wearing their space suits, Neil A. Armstrong, Edwin E. Aldrin Jr. and Michael Collins planned to enter the spaceship as the launch crew ticked off the final hours of a simulated countdown, aiming for a practice lift-off in midmorning.

Following this test, the pad will be readied for the lengthy real countdown next Thursday, aiming for a blast-off at 9:32 a.m. EDT July 16.

The launch team Wednesday completed a 5½-day test of the full countdown. Although interrupted for more than three hours by a leaky fuel valve, the rehearsal was the most trouble-free so far in the Apollo program.

FINAL TEST

The countdown was then set back to the six-hour point for the final test with the astronauts in the spaceship.

Armstrong, Aldrin and Collins are to fire themselves into lunar orbit July 19, and the next day Armstrong and Aldrin are to fly a landing craft to the moon's surface.

Early on July 21, Armstrong, then Aldrin, will step to the surface for a 2½-hour exploration.

They are to plant an American flag, collect moon rocks, set up scientific instruments and determine how well man can function in the unfamiliar gravity, one-sixth that of earth.

U.S. Material State Isn't Standing Still

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

CUNNIFF

NEW YORK — Some assorted facts to contemplate concerning the present material state of affairs in the United States on the eve of Independence Day:

● Since the turn of the century the total output of goods and services has tripled, and the work-week has decreased from 60 to 40 hours.

● In the same time, the number of automotive vehicles has increased from almost none to 80 million. Telephones were rare in 1900, but now there is one for every two persons.

● The East and West coasts, separated in 1900 by nearly a week of hard travel, are now only four hours apart.

● The dollar is worth less than 40 cents when compared with the 1933 dollar, but few Americans would trade today's prosperity for 1933's economic gloom.

● In the early 1930s the federal debt was less than $20 billion. Now it is about 18 times that. Military spending now accounts for more than 50 per cent of all federal spending.

If the present produces dramatic contrasts with the past, the differences between present and future might be even more marked, according to estimates by George Pantos of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States.

5-HOUR PRESENTATION

Pantos, staff executive of the chamber, has compiled hundreds of projections in an unpublished manuscript that makes up the skeleton of a five-hour presentation to business groups. Among them:

● By the year 2000, annual production of goods and services—all the productive work by men, women and machines—will total $2.4 trillion, compared with something in excess of $900 billion this year.

● By that same turn of the century year, 85 per cent of the nation's population will live in urban areas. In other words, five out of six Americans will be city folks.

● Some 82 per cent of the population increase between 1965 and 1975 will be among persons under age 35—and the proportion will be about 71 per cent between 1975 and 1985.

● By the turn of the century family purchasing power will be about two-thirds above the present. Hourly wages will average $7.50. But well before that —in the 1980s—one family in three will be earning $15,000 a year in current dollars.

From Dr. Seymore Wolfbein, dean, School of Business Administration, Temple University, and long-time U.S. Labor Department official:

● By 1975 there will be 33 million women in the work force, a 25 per cent increase over the previous decade. Most of the increase is expected to represent women over 45.

● By 1975, more than one of every six workers will be engaged in government service. Forty-eight per cent of all workers are expected to be white-collar employes, compared with 44.5 per cent in 1965.

● Between 1965 and 1975 there will be a total increase of more than 11 million nonwhite workers—a rise of 25 per cent, compared with an 18 per cent increase for white workers.

From the National Planning Association, a nonprofit organization "devoted to planning by Americans in agriculture, business, labor and the professions," in a projection of the American economy in the 1970s:

● Government's share of the national output will increase slightly by 1980, with slower growth of federal spending and taxation being offset by more rapid increases on the state and local levels.

● By 1980, the American economy will be approaching the $2-trillion mark, and will be producing 143 per cent more goods and services than it did in 1967.

● The present inflationary pressures and the accompanying price-wage spiral may ease somewhat, but price inflation is unlikely to halt soon. Prices will rise, on average, 2.6 per cent a year between now and 1980.

It's a good bet, too, that millions of Americans in 1980 are going to look back and say about the 1960s: "Those were the good old days."

AFL-CIO Raps Pentagon on California-Grape Buys

WASHINGTON (AP) — The AFL-CIO accused the Defense Department today of being "a massive scab and strikebreaker" for continuing to buy millions of pounds of labor-boycotted California table grapes for shipment to Vietnam.

"I doubt that the soldiers are crying for them," said William L. Kircher, chief AFL-CIO organizer and strategist behind the long strike and boycott against grape growers by the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

Kircher said he believed the Defense Department was bowing to pressure from business groups to more than double its purchases of table grapes this year and boost shipments to Vietnam nearly sevenfold.

"It ill-behooves the United States government to, on the one hand-pay lip service to the concept of collective bargaining which embraces striking and consumer boycotting—and then to play the role of a massive scab and strikebreaker by upping its consumption of grapes," Kircher said in a recorded radio interview.

Another Mark for GM Truck

GMC Truck & Coach Division posted its ninth straight month of record sales with 13,078 truck and coach deliveries in June, Martin J. Caserio, vice president of General Motors and divisional general manager, reported today.

GMC sales since Oct. 1 have exceeded former records for comparable months, he said. The previous June sales peak was 13,003 set last year.

Truck and coach deliveries in the first half of 1969 totaled 77,391 units, a 6.2 per cent increase over the prior record for the same six months of 72,864 established last year, Caserio said.

GMC, enroute to its best year in history, currently ranks third in industry truck deliveries, its highest level in 43 years.

News in Brief

Michael Capsalis, 14, of 67 Chippewa told city police yesterday that someone stole several items from his bicycle parked at the city library at East Pike and East Wide Track.

Successful Investing

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q—I am a 72-year-old widow in need of additional income. I get a small railroad pension, have a bank account and own some stock that pays a pretty good dividend. Western Pacific has been recommended for its good dividend. But I notice that it has a very poor rating and railroads seem to be a thing of the past. Please give me your opinion.—A. J.

A—I would not be too ready to "ring the bell" on the railroad industry. Last year freight traffic and revenues reached all-time high levels. Much of the gain was attributable to new concepts such as piggy-back and unit-train service. Rate increases, mergers, diversification efforts and possible government subsidy of passenger service combine to give the industry a relatively optimistic long-term outlook.

Rather than Western Pacific, which reported sharply lower first-quarter earnings, A-rated Norfolk & Western would be my choice. Shares yield about 6.4 per cent on a well-covered dividend. The company's competitive base was strengthened when, through its subsidiary Dereco, control was gained of Erie-Lackawanna and Delaware-Hudson. Consummation of the merger with Chesapeake & Ohio —pending ICC approval—would greatly improve earnings base. Norfolk's real-estate development program could also provide an additional boost to future earnings. Shares are an attractive buy.

Q—I have about $2,500 which I would like to invest in a lower-priced, listed, speculative issue. I can afford the risk.—J. S.

A—Telex Corp., on the American Exchange, seems to fit this description. The company manufactures audio equipment, communication products, hearing aids, professional tape recorders and digital tape drives. In 1967 a line of replacement drives for use on IBM systems was introduced and has since added substantially to profits. A marketing agreement with Information Storage Systems to distribute the latter's IBM-compatible disc-pack drives is expected to provide a good boost to earnings by 1971. Backlog on March 31 was up 14 per cent year-to-year to $18.3 million. About one-fifth of the shares are held by 17 institutions.

Remember Safety Tips While Using All Garden Chemicals

Garden chemicals can make the difference between having a grubby garden or a beautiful one.

But they have to be handled with care.

These safety tips will be helpful.

● Keep garden chemicals in a locked cabinet. Moreover, keep them in their own original, properly labeled containers. And keep them away from food.

● Don't spray or dust on windy days . . . pesticides may blow into your eyes and nostrils.

SPRAYING

● Don't spray in the heat of day, either. It is never good to wet a leaf in hot sunlight, not even with plain water.

Spray or dust in the cool of early morning or late afternoon.

● Always read the label. Reading labels is worth the small effort. It is important that you use garden chemicals exactly as labels in struct.

Heed cautions.

● Mixing, cleaning, washup. Some chemicals mix and others don't. So don't mix any chemicals together unless the label tells your to.

CLEAN-UP

When you finish spraying, thoroughly wash out the spray mix jar.

● Put everything away in your storage cabinets, and lock it.

Now wash your hands with soap and water.

Never save empty chemical containers. Don't burn them, either. Dispose of them in the garbage can.

The most likely months for automobile fatalities are July and August and the lowest number of accidents occurs in January and February.

Roses Falling Into Classes for Your Help

According to the All-America Rose Selections "A Handbook for Rose Growing," the best known and most useful classes of roses are:

● Hybrid Teas. Large, classically formed, elegantly petalled and colored blooms characterize this class which is considered the aristocrat of the flower world.

Rich, fragrant blooms are usually carried individually on a long, sturdy stem. Excellent for cutting and exhibition.

● Floribundas. An ever popular class of rose that is superb for landscaping. Relatively low growing.

GRANDIFLORAS

Grandifloras. This new class, first introduced by All-America Rose Selections in 1954, has steadily grown in popularity.

It combines all of the fine attributes of the hybrid tea and the floribunda into a taller growing plant that produces small clusters of medium to large size flowers on long stems, together with some stems bearing individual blooms, all very suitable for cutting.

Climbing Roses. In general there are two types of climbers recongnized: Ramblers and large flowered climbers. Ramblers are characterized by supple canes and small flowers, two inches or less, borne in dense clusters.

Large flowered climbers typically have large, stiffer canes, flowers more than two inches in diameter, usually borne in loose, open clusters.

Gently Shampoo Your Plant Leaves

House plants — those bits of greenery that help make a house a home — occasionally need more than a weekly dusting to look their best.

Outdoor plants have the rain to keep them clean, while those inside rely on your ingenuity. Of course, you'd never wash your plant with a strong cleaner or detergent for the same rasons you'd never wash your face with one.

Instead, use a gentle solution of water that is only slightly warm to the touch and one or two capfuls of gentle baby shampoo. Using a sponge dampened in the solution go over each leaf, rinsing it afterward with cool water and another sponge.

For best results, both sponges should be rinsed frequently under cool running water.

Grass No Longer Is Effected by the Air Pollution

The world has become too congested to tolerate dumping of wastes much longer.

In the United States it is estimated that each year automobiles release 12 million tons of hydrocarbon lethal to vegetation. Also 6 million tons of nitrogen oxides. Such emissions contribute to the decline of vegetation along heavily traveled roadways.

Fortunately, today's fine turfgrasses are a hard breed, not inclined to cave in under an unfavorable atmosphere.

Sensitive plants like tobacco or white pine fade, but Kentucky bluegrass and fine fescue persist on almost any patch of soil in the median, even in the heart of the city.

Most roadsides today sport lawngrasses as are planted in neighboring lawns. Happily, seed of these stalwarts is inexpensive enough for highway usage.
