White House Repeats Pledge to Help Victim of Aggression

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower will go on nationwide television and radio tonight to discuss the Middle East crisis.

This was announced shortly before noon today by the White House which also repeated that the United States is still standing by its pledge to assist any victim of aggression in the Middle East.

Britain is reported to have informed the U.S. government it considers the pledge defunct. The pledge bound the United States, Britain and France to work together in the Middle East to preserve peace.

Presidential Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said Eisenhower's talk tonight will last about 15 minutes—beginning at 7 p.m. Pontiac time.

(See related story page 30.)

All major networks are expected to carry it.

POLITICS OUT

Saying the talk will be "a nonpolitical report," Hagerty added that the President will speak from his White House office and discuss "the developing situation in the Middle East."

Hagerty also said Eisenhower will "outline the American position" regarding the tense situation resulting from the Israeli thrust into Egypt Monday.

Since that time Britain and France have announced plans to place troops in Egypt, and the two governments joined yesterday in vetoing a U.S. resolution in the U.N. Security Council.

The U.S. resolution called for a cease-fire in Egypt, and for other U.N. member nations to refrain from any use of force in the area.

The differences of viewpoint between London and Washington were emphasized by a statement British Prime Minister Anthony Eden made today in the House of Commons.

He said Britain must protect her own vital interests in the Middle East with or without prior agreement of the United States.

Eden said:

"We cannot accept that we have

Expect Planes to Land Troops to Seize Suez

LONDON (AP)—Britain and France launched air and naval bombing against Egypt's Suez Canal Zone today. There was no mention of ground forces.

The announcement said combined aerial and naval bombardments began at 6:40 p. m. in the Suez Canal Zone.

CAIRO (AP)—Britain warned Egyptians to clear out from all Egyptian airfields today—apparently as a prelude to the expected landing of a French-British expeditionary airborne force to seize control of the Suez Canal.

Egypt announced it had put Russian MIGs into operation against Israeli forces on the Sinai Peninsula. Israel claimed the capture of an Egyptian ship in Haifa.

On the canal operation, London newspapers reported waves of troop-carrying planes took off from the Mediterranean base of Cyprus just after dawn, flying toward the canal 250 miles away.

But these reports appeared to have been premature at least. Hours later Egyptian governors at Port Said, Ismailia and Suez along the canal reported all quiet there with no sign of invading forces.

The Voice of Israel, Jerusalem radio station, warned the refugee-packed Gaza Strip that it soon would be cut off from Egypt. It asserted Israeli military operations in the Sinai Peninsula soon would be concluded with the defeat of Egyptian forces.

The Israelis claimed to have destroyed scores of Egyptian vehicles in air attacks on convoys east of Ismailia, and claimed their forces had reached within 10 miles of the Suez Canal, the "ultimatum" line set by Britain and France.

Egyptian military headquarters announced it had sent its Soviet-built MIGs into battle today and that they had knocked down 10 Israeli planes. The Egyptians admitted the loss of two of their own planes.

The Egyptians said bombers also had gone into action over Israel's territory and had destroyed and damaged Israeli airfields.

The Israelis announced the capture of an Egyptian 1,000-ton frigate, the Ibrahim Awal which bombarded Haifa, and the surrender of its 250-man crew.

The Egyptians said the frigate was scuttled by its captain after "successfully completing its mission." The high command said the Ibrahim Awal developed engine trouble during an attack by three Israeli warships and warplanes and the captain was forced to sink her.

Egypt rejected a demand from London and Paris that the Israeli-Egyptian fighting cease by 6:30 a. m. and troops be pulled back 10 miles from each side of the Suez to let the European troops in. The British and French said they would send their troops into

Air Suspension Ride Available to Industry

The air suspension system developed by General Motors Truck and Coach Division is going to make things softer for the truck manufacturing industry.

Philip J. Monaghan, vice president of GM and general manager of the Truck & Coach Division announced yesterday the suspension system will be made available in "package" form to the truck-trailer manufacturing industry.

Shippers and trailer manufacturers have shown such a strong interest in the system he said he foresees the entire over-the-road hauling industry converting to it as soon as possible.

The remarks were made at a press preview of the '57 GMC truck models at the Bloomfield Open Hunt Club yesterday. The trucks will be shown Saturday.

Air suspension, which replaces heavy steel springs with rubberized nylon air-filled bellows, has been in use on GM coaches for the past three years and has more than ¾ billion miles of travel on record, Monaghan said. The same system will be in a new line of heavy duty GMC trucks to be announced soon, he said.

With the system being made available to trailer manufacturers, truck operators and shippers will have available a new type of vehicle with great economic advantages.

"I believe you all can visualize the potential savings to shippers throughout the country if, through the use of air suspension, they can substantially reduce packaging costs and the gross weight of the items they are shipping," Monaghan said.

Regarding future engines, Monaghan said the efficiency of current types will be improved and it is also possible a single new engine type will be discovered so economical and efficient that other fuel options may be discontinued, "or perhaps the engine of the future will burn almost anything in the way of fuel."

Monaghan predicted improved automatic transmissions and electronic sensing devices that will keep the engine and transmission operating at maximum efficiency at all times.

R. C. Woodhouse, general truck sales manager, said 1956 truck factory sales indicate a total of 1,110,000 units, with the domestic portion being about 920,000 units. He estimated 1957 sales will be 1,135,000, with 200,000 of these being for export and Canada.

Willman Gives Parking Figures

1,278 Metered Stalls to Be Boosted by 217, City Manager States

Pontiac has progressed rapidly in providing parking spaces in the city in the last two years, City Manager Walter K. Willman, said yesterday.

There are to date 1,278 parking meter stalls in Pontiac, including some 500 on-street spaces. The off-street spaces are divided among five municipally-operated lots situated conveniently throughout the downtown area.

* * *

This 1,278 figure will be boosted to 1,495 when negotiations for property are completed in order to finish the recent $600,000 off-street municipal lot program, Willman said.

This program — approved by voters last March—provides two lots on Lawrence street and one in the Jackoes-Pine-Wayne-Lafayette area.

Willman told the City Commission last night that the Law-

UF Nears Halfway Mark

The Pontiac Area United Fund neared the half-way mark as 45 per cent of its $612,202 goal was recorded at mid-campaign report luncheon today.

Highlight for Torchlighters at the Elks Temple was announcement of a $115,000 gift from General Motors Corporation.

The contribution takes in the Pontiac Motor Division, GMC Truck & Coach Division and the Fisher Body Division.

The total amount pledged to the fund so far is $274,178 of the 1956 goal, which will support 54 community service agencies next year.

The GM gift raised the Industrial Division's total report so far to $188,717 of its $414,000 goal.

Campaign leaders were also cheered by the bigger leads this year of the Geographic (door-to-door) Division and the Commercial Division.

The main speaker, Dean McCarthy, urged workers not to slacken their pace during the remaining two weeks of the three-week drive.

McCarthy is vice president of the Gerity Broadcasting Company and former dean of Notre Dame University School of Business Administration.

He was introduced by John Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, who acted as master of ceremonies.

Campaign chairman Walter K. Willman praised the UF's 4,500 volunteer workers for their success since the drive started last Tuesday.

Earl Maxwell, chairman of the Industrial Division said he expects reports soon of individual contributions from the thousands of factory workers in the Pontiac area.

Their pledges will push the division far above its present 46 per cent of quota, he said. Last year with many individual donations counted by mid-report session, the division reported at 85 per cent of goal.

Maxwell was confident, however, his division stands better than at this time last year, with every chance of reaching the nine per cent goal increase over last year's figure.

Sentence Moore to Life in Prison

Sex Killer Cool; Says Trial Unfair, Wants New Hearing

Howard Wayne Moore, 24, sex killer of three-year-old Martha Little July 27, was sentenced today to spend the rest of his life in prison for the crime.

But Moore, who protested before the sentence that "I didn't get a chance to defend myself," was unruffled by the prospect of life imprisonment.

"I ain't worried," he said. "I'll be back. Next time I'll get a fair trial, and I'll be out of here like a shot."

In pronouncing sentence, Judge George B. Hartrick said Moore is "a merciless killer."

"You have a grieving mother, wife and relatives who would rather see you dead than stand in the position you now occupy," Judge Hartrick said.

Moore's wife, Irene, 20, and mother, Mrs. Minnie Fairchild, were not in court for the sentencing this morning, which came up unexpectedly after being postponed Monday.

The sentence eliminates any possibility of parole, although a governor of Michigan could commute the term or pardon Moore.

A two-man, 10-woman jury found Moore guilty of first-degree murder Oct. 22, after a four-day trial. The jury found he beat Martha, his Lake Orion neighbor's child, to death in a field near Clarkston after taking her from her home in his car and sexually assaulting her.

Don't Let Accident Spoil Fun

Urge Drivers and Parents Play Safe This Halloween

With Halloween celebrators out tonight for the annual "meet and treat" hour from 6 to 7, officials have warned motorists to exercise extreme caution.

They also issued the following five safety rules for the children:

1. Parents should accompany children under nine during these expeditions.
2. Masks should be removed when crossing streets.
3. Children should cross streets only at intersections.
4. Youngsters crossing at signal lights should walk in a group and cross when the light first turns green to assure themselves plenty of time.
5. Don't soap car windows. Soap marks can result in accidents.

* * *

Leonard T. Buzz, recreational director for the Parks and Recreation Dept., asked the cooperation of all Pontiac area residents in "treating" children only from 6 to 7 p.m.

This hour will be followed by parties in most schools and the "Mystery Treat Contest."

Buzz said some 20,000 children have qualified to receive 67 gifts ranging from a new bicycle to radios, and contributed by the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The contest is co-sponsored by the Jaycees, the Parks and Recreation Dept. and the Board of Education.

Buzz reminded the senior high students they must be home at 11, junior high at 10:30 and grade school at 9, to qualify for the prizes.

Area Highway Route Changed

Ziegler Surrenders to Home Owners in Plan for Expressway

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler apparently has given in to protests by the Southfield-Bloomfield Association over a proposed route for the planned Southfield Expressway, previously slated to run through plush residential areas in the two townships.

In a letter read to the Association last night, Ziegler said he does not want to put the highway through the area because of high condemnation costs.

The letter said Highway Department engineers and Ziegler are "considering seriously" another route west of the protesting area.

A recent meeting of the Association, comprising representatives from more than 20 neighborhood civic groups, drew 3,000 spectators to Southfield High School.

Grand Trunk Agent, City Talk Secretly

Today's "conference" between A. N. Laird, chief engineer for Grand Trunk Western Railroad, and Charles H. Blackman, consulting engineer hired by the city, is not an open meeting, City Manager W. K. Willman said this morning.

He stressed that it was a conference between the two men in an attempt to "resolve the problems arising from the railroad's proposed industrial support yard."

Willman said he hoped to have a preliminary report for the commission at its informal meeting Thursday.

Rain May End Siege of Dryness Tonight

The weather forecast for tonight is colder, with occasional rain or drizzles and a low of 44 to 48.

The weather will turn cooler tomorrow and skies will be partly cloudy. The high will range around 60 in Pontiac and vicinity.

The low last night in downtown Pontiac was 53. At 2 p.m. it was 70 degrees.

This Phone User Got His Number —but in Jail

A Clawson man, who police say shot up the telephone wires outside his home with a shotgun following an argument with a phone operator, was lodged in the Oakland County Jail today on a charge of illegal use of firearms in the city.

John J. Brokelmyer, 53, of 619 E. 14 Mile Rd., was arrested early this morning by Clawson police following the incident.

He reportedly was having difficulty placing a long distance call when the argument developed. Brokelmeyer concluded the conversation by ripping the phone off his wall and going after the wires with his gun, according to investigators.

"He fired three shots and hit the wires each time. We have not found out yet how it has affected the other phones in the area," said a police spokesman.

Weather Slows Ore

CLEVELAND (AP) — Fog and strong winds delayed Great Lakes freighters last week and cut the week's shipment of iron ore to 2,571,108 tons, the Lake Superior Iron Ore Assn. reported today. That brought the season's movement to 66,133,292 tons, compared with 78,959,529 a year ago.

U. S. Seeks Ultimatum Against Israeli Action

Hint Mindszenty to Rule Hungary

Patriots Free Cardinal, Return Him to Capital With Tanks

BUDAPEST (INS) — Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty returned in triumph to battered Budapest today as trigger-happy Russian tank crews pulled out of the capital under demands by rebel forces.

* * *

There were reports Communist Premier Imre Nagy may step aside for him as a compromise premier in the attempt to still the blood-letting in the revolt-torn nation.

The cardinal who returned to his official residence in Budapest shook hands with reporters and said, "I have been sick for many years, but with this great news I feel fine."

He was referring to the quick changes in the Hungarian political scene that occurred after the revolt began Oct. 23.

FREED BY PATRIOTS

Mindszenty, 64, said he was released by 40 Hungarian soldiers and patriots equipped with three tanks at Felsopeteny.

They operated on their own orders and drove him to the capital.

The official Budapest radio said the government had released him under a general policy promising more freedom to Hungarians. That contradicted the story of the patriots.

Hungarians who released Mindszenty, who was sentenced to prison on treason charges in 1949, mounted the roof of his house and also stood guard in the street. They still had their three tanks to guard him.

* * *

Mindszenty, who was subjected to a spectacular "popular trial" more than seven years ago, wore his red skull cap of office and his red sash. A small Hungarian national tricolor also was seen pinned to his robe as he took off a fur-lined coat.

When he sat down in his old house a Hungarian soldier who along with thousands of others had joined the rebel movement tenderly wrapped the coat around him.

Pontiac Will Add 217 Parking Meters

rence street lots were now blacktopped, while the third lot is slated for blacktopping this week.

It was financed by a $600,000 revenue bond act plus $33,750 in collected meter money.

Willman emphasized that municipal lots are paying for themselves in the requirements of the capital structure of the bond act and operating expenses.

The city's first and largest lot is located at Parke and Mill streets. It contains 351 stalls and was paid for from on-street meter money collected held in escrow and later transferred into a construction fund.

The fifth lot, paid for in the same manner, is located on Auburn avenue and was completed this year. It contains 85 spaces.

Willman estimated that 500 additional spaces would be needed in the light of expected increases in the number of automobiles in the next 10 years.

He added the city was undertaking a move to eliminate on-street meters as they slow traffic movements. "Streets were built to move traffic and not to stall it," he said.

Youth, Hit by Auto, Escapes Bad Injuries

A five-year-old boy escaped serious injury when he ran in front of an auto yesterday afternoon on South Jessie street at Osmun street, Pontiac police said.

Ronald Dunlap, 586 S. Jessie, who police say darted from behind a parked truck into the path of Basil A. Pruett, 37, of 120 N. Opdyke Rd. was released after observation for possible head injuries, authorities at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital said.

Pontiac City Affairs

Commission Cleans Up Details

City commissioners breezed through a short 12-point agenda last night in 25 minutes and then adjourned to the city manager's office to start working on a lengthy informal meeting slate planned for tomorrow night.

* * *

An ordinance to amend the city's building zone map, which will add new "personal service district" classifications, was read by title only.

A public hearing will be held Nov. 20 on the proposal to add the new zones to 64 lots on the east side of Franklin boulevard from Pike to Orchard Lake, the west side of Franklin from Orchard Lake to Huron, and on the south side of Huron from Franklin to Palmer street.

Commissioners confirmed and set the assessment payments for laying a sidewalk on the east side of Telegraph road from West Huron to the north line of Ottawa Hills Subdivision.

LAWYER BALKS

A case filed by Pontiac Attorney William F. Dohany, charging his assessment on this roll is "unfair and inequitable," is still pending, City Attorney William A. Ewart said.

Passed over the "no" voters of Commissioners Floyd Miles and Gilbert Long, was a request from Nick Palaian to add space to a beer and liquor license at 1656 N. Perry St.

A lone bid of $300 for the sale of the city-owned house at 74 E. Pike St. was accepted.

* * *

A standard agreement permitting Bernard H. Berman to build one inch over the city sidewalk at 17 N. Saginaw St. was approved.

The commission authorized the discharge of a mortgage held by the city on lot 31 in the Pinegrove Addition.

Three public hearings were held on public improvement projects but nobody in the audience joined in.

YOUTHS WATCH

Watching the commission in action were 15 youngsters from the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church who attended the meeting along with their pastor, Rev. Theodore R. Allebach.

In Pennsylvania

Adlai Talks on War Scare

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson injected the Israeli-Egyptian fighting into the campaign today with the assertion the Eisenhower administration dismissed a proposal he made to keep peace in the Middle East.

He leaves by train today for New York, where he makes a series of speeches before flying into Pittsburgh for a major address tonight.

Time: 9:30 p.m., EST.

The Democratic standard bearer, pushing his bid for Pennsylvania's possible crucial 32 electoral votes, told a thunderously applauding audience here last night that he made his Middle East proposal last Armistice Day at the University of Virginia.

"Needless to say, this proposal was dismissed by the administration even as they are now dismissing my suggestion that we take prompt steps to stop the experimental explosion of hydrogen bombs," he declared.

In that speech at Charlottesville nearly a year ago, Stevenson said, he proposed the United Nations undertake "patrol duties in the areas of tension" to avoid bloodshed and violence by keeping "the troops of these antagonists apart."

He said that "tragically serious trouble" broke out in the Middle East two weeks after "the President appeared before you on one of those Republican television productions and told you he had 'good news' about the Middle East."

An audience which overflowed the University of Pennsylvania's Palestra, an indoor gymnasium where seats were provided for more than 12,000, gave Stevenson a big ovation and booed lustily every mention of Vice President Nixon. Police estimated the audience at 20,000.

There were boos also on two occasions at his mention of Eisenhower.

Earlier, Stevenson drew a crowd in Reyburn Plaza here that police estimated at from 30,000 to 40,000 persons.

"This day in Philadelphia has clinched Pennsylvania for Stevenson."

The Republicans, Stevenson said last night, are running a "phony and deceitful" campaign to reelect President Eisenhower on his record so "another man — or group of men—can run the country."

"I'm fed up with eight weeks of this mealy-mouthed Republican campaign talk — this squeaky chorus — peace, prosperity and progress," he continued.

He said the peace they boast of "is as unreliable as a Republican promise," the progress is "nonexistent," the prosperity "inherited, except they've dropped the farmer, the small businessman and all too many others."

He contended Eisenhower was away from his post, quail hunting, or golfing, at the time of the outbreak of many crises, and declared:

Report 45 Per Cent of UF Goal Pledged their $19,116 goal already pledged.

Volunteers in Pontiac have already turned in $8,435 and their coworkers in Waterford Township $1,576, she announced.

With a big boost from Special Gifts Torchlighters, headed by H. Wayne Gabert, the Commercial Division reported $75,450, or 48 per cent of its $158,086 quota.

Division chairman James F. Nye announced the following group pledges:

Automotive, $3,790; construction, $7,673; finance, $17,636; food, $3,133; general, $3,456; government, $2,087; professional, $6,500; public service, $15,680; retail group one, $12,323 and retail group two, $3,172.

The report session was followed by entertainment by the girls ensemble of Pontiac High School, songs by Linda Peterson and Judy Cary, and a baton twirling demonstration.

The campaign is slated to end with a victory luncheon Nov. 6.

Ike to Tell Nation About Crisis Tonight to obtain the agreement of the United States before acting in our own vital interests."

Sitting in at the White House meeting on discussion of problems related to the Middle East situation were Secretary of Defense Wilson, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey, Adm. Arthur W. Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Arthur S. Flemming, chief of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

One possibility in the view of officials here is that far-reaching economic difficulties may develop for Western Europe, especially West Germany, France and Spain, if British-French intervention in the Middle East shuts down the Suez Canal and perhaps interrupts the flow of oil through pipe lines.

* * *

Within 30 days, it is felt, an acute oil shortage would slow down Western Europe's vast industries because tankers would be forced to use the far longer route around Africa.

Whether the United States would step in to avert such an industrial paralysis with American oil shipments is not yet clear. An emergency plan for shipping 500,000 additional barrels of American oil daily is ready to be put into operation swiftly.

But, because Eisenhower and top aides are somewhat bitter at the British-French decision to intervene it is uncertain how far this government would be willing to help its two main allies in an emergency caused by what is considered their own rash action.

Roman Dacko of Detroit, was the big winner, taking home the grand prize ribbon for the best U.S. gold display and presenting the outstanding miscellaneous exhibit.

Clyde Gravlin of Royal Oak, was tops in silver coin competition, and Robert Lienert of Royal Oak, had the best foreign coin display. The other first place was taken by Royal Oak's Martha Gravlin in U.S. copper coins. Leinert ranked second for miscellaneous coins.

Other second place finishes were by Dr. Frank Limpert of Royal Oak, Dr. Edward M. Gates of Clarkston, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wilkins of Milford and John Clemons of Birmingham. Third placers included George Bassett and Kenneth McLain, both of Pontiac.

Britain, France Rush Men to Canal Zone

the canal zone "temporarily" to keep the canal open even if either country rejected the ultimatum.

Reliable Egyptian sources said up to 11:30 a. m. no foreign troops had landed in the canal zone.

The Israeli Army reported all quiet on the fighting front in the Sinai Peninsula and claimed it had units 10 miles from the Suez Canal—at the line set by the British and French.

Fighting flared, however, at sea and in the air. Just off Haifa, Israeli naval ships and planes attacked a 1,000-ton Egyptian frigate trying to shell the Israeli port.

Israel also reported shooting down four Egyptian planes today.

An atmosphere of excitement and expectancy gripped London, and most British papers said action signals were flashed to troops and warships before the 6:30 a.m. ultimatum ran out.

Cairo was calm. But the British Embassy began burning its secret files. A spokesman told newsmen "this is the normal procedure any embassy would take whenever military action appears to be forthcoming."

Unofficial sources in London reported that a British - French fleet was speeding through the eastern Mediterranean toward the canal and that paratroopers were ready on Cyprus to be dropped on Egyptian territory.

In Paris, a French Defense Ministry spokesman said: "The only thing we can say for sure is that there is an intense air-naval activity in the eastern Mediterranean."

* * *

The British Admiralty, War Office and Air Ministry said a statement probably would be issued later in the day.

At Malta, major British base in the central Mediterranean, truckloads of troops embarked in ships and landing craft.

* * *

They said the two regular convoys today totaled 35 ships. But the British Admiralty warned all merchant ships to avoid the canal and Egyptian and Israeli waters. Some 80 British ships bound for the Suez were being diverted around South Africa.

Egypt's military high command said in a communique that "there is no threat to the safety of ships or freedom of navigation through the Suez Canal."

The communique added:

The Cairo newspaper Al Akhbar said a state of emergency had been declared at Alexandria, Egypt's seaport on the Mediterranean.

Romeo Closes Haircut Issue

Teacher Refuses to Tell If All Students Accept Ban on Presley Cut

The long sideburns and ducktail haircut controversy for 52 Romeo High School students here "has been cleared up," according to Harold F. Barr, principal.

Superintendent T. C. Filppula issued the shave-and-haircut edict two weeks ago after the boys sported hairdos patterned after Elvis Presley, the rock 'n' roll singer. The deadline was today to get rid of them.

Filppula and Barr issued a joint statement this morning: "The haircut situation has been cleared up," they said. "We have no further problems."

Barr declined to tell whether any students violated the edict and were expelled.

After the ruling was issued, all but four of the youths complied with the order. They were suspended and told they faced expulsion if their hair wasn't trimmed by today.

Several parents complained to the Romeo School Board last week that their children were entitled to wear long sideburns.

Filppula complained about the unshorn appearance of the pupils and the "defiant" attitude it fostered.

Ferndale Man Crashes Fleeing Another Auto

A Ferndale man blamed the fact that he was being chased by another car for an accident in which he went off the road and hit a telephone pole in Orion Township last night.

Joyce Tatomis, 16, of 1916 Hazel St., Birmingham, a passenger in the car operated by Patrick R. Smith, 26, of 1703 Beaufield Dr., Ferndale, suffered forehead cuts in the crash. She was released after treatment at Pontiac General Hospital.

The accident occurred on Baldwin road, according to Sheriff's deputies. They reported Smith said he was trying to get away from the car behind him and driving at about 85 miles an hour when he missed a curve and smashed into the tree.

Transferred to Bay City

State Police Det. Melvin Kaufman, who worked several weeks with local authorities on the Martha Little murder case, has been transferred from the Detroit Post to Bay City.

He will concentrate on lie detector work there.

The Day in Birmingham

Educator to Talk Friday on Aid Around the World

BIRMINGHAM — Wilmena Rowland of Merrill-Palmer School in Detroit will present ideas she has formulated as a United Church Women staff member, teacher in Japan, world traveler, and woman's educator, at the UCW program at 10 a.m. Friday at Franklin Community Church.

The Birmingham Church women will be gathering with Franklin members as hostesses in their new Community Church, a part of the Birmingham area.

Miss Rowland, who will highlight the "Our Rights as Human Beings" program as part of World Community Day observance, is administrative assistant to the director at Merrill-Palmer.

She has been secretary of youth work for the World Council of Christian Education, and executive secretary of the World Student Service Fund, both jobs requiring much foreign travel.

Mrs. Donald Tracy is chairman of the event, open to all women of the area

"We'll be using the two new parking lots for the December Christmas shopping rush," predicted City Manager Harold K. Schone, this morning, "even if we just use the graveled surface."

"We do hope to have the asphalting on A before winter sets in, however," he says. Over the winter use of both lots is planned, with the completion of Lot HH at Hunter and Hamilton, in the spring, along with A, north of Hamilton, if it is not done this fall.

Complete police staff, along with all auxiliary police and office women, will be on duty tonight to keep Halloweeners, in parade or parties or individually from harmful pranks. Traffic will also require special care, with 5,500 expected to parade through the center of town.

* * *

Tomorrow, the WSCS of First Methodist Church will stage a rummage sale at the church, under chairmanship of Mrs. W. S. Etell and Mrs. T. J. Connell.

* * *

Young adult Co-Ed Club of the YMCA plans to meet for dancing, food and movies after the parade tonight.

Mrs. Ruth Shain will give a first hand report of Europe and the Paris conference of the International Federation of University Women at a breakfast in her honor next Tuesday at the Community House.

Former Official Hopes for 'Inside' Data on Mideast

The daughter and son-in-law of a former Pontiac city commissioner are expected to be getting a first-hand account of the war thunder in the Middle East.

* * *

Benjamin M. Gates, 389 Whittemore St., told The Press yesterday M. Sgt. William F. Bartlett and his wife, the former Connie Gates, and their 2½-year-old son, were in Tel Aviv.

The sergeant has been stationed there for the last two years in the American Embassy as an Army attache.

Gates said he had received a letter from the couple yesterday written a week ago and before the recent conflict exploded.

Pontiac Deaths

Obie Wilson Jr.

Obie Wilson Jr., aged 31 of 210 Franklin Rd. died Monday morning as the result of an automobile accident on South Telegraph road.

He was born in Longview, Texas, the son of Obie and Alice Carroll Wilson, and was married there to Willie Sue Glazier who survives him. He has lived in Pontiac about ten years and was an employe of the Huron Cleaners in Birmingham. He was a member of the Church of God.

The body will be shipped Thursday evening to Longview for service and burial there on Saturday. Arrangements are by the William F. Davis Funeral Home.

2 Trusties Depart From Work Party

Two trusties serving time for drunk and disorderly offenses walked away from the Oakland County Jail this morning while working around the building.

* * *

The pair who disappeared are Joseph Leahy, 36, of 86 S. Jessie St., and Boyd Ferguson, 42, of 108 Gladstone Place.

* * *

Both were serving their third sentences on the same charge. Leahy was jailed Oct. 8 and Ferguson one week later.

Worker Hurt Today

BIRMINGHAM — Cave - in of sandy earth in a ditch he was helping dig on the parking lot at Bates and Willets this morning injured an arm of Lee Sutherland, 29, 2101 Opdyke, Pontiac.

Sutherland and other Chissus Construction Co. workers were trying to brace the earth when the collapse occurred. Sutherland, who caught his foot as the group leaped from the ditch as the collapse started, did not receive the full brunt of the earthslide.

The men are placing drains in the parking lot, preparatory to paving the area. The lot is operated by National Garages.

X-rays at Beaumont Hospital this morning showed that no bones were broken, but Sutherland will remain in the hospital overnight for bruises and shock.

Dems Stimulate Vermont Race

GOP Expected to Keep Grip, but Foes Fighting All the Way

MONTPELIER, Vt. (AP) — Two Democrats are waging the hottest campaign in years for governor and U. S. senator in traditionally Republican Vermont.

* * *

E. Frank Branon, the Democratic nominee for governor, claims he will get enough votes from the state's minority of Democrats and a group of dissatisfied Republicans to become the first Democratic governor of the state in 102 years.

Branon, a state senator and dairy farmer from the small town of Fairfield, is out to displace Gov. Joseph B. Johnson, who defeated him by a 5,200-vote margin in 1954.

* * *

In the other principal contest, Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt) is running for his third full term with opposition from Bernard G. O'Shea, the 35-year-old editor of a Swanton weekly newspaper.

* * *

Both Republicans and Democratic leaders agree that President Eisenhower again will get the state's three electoral votes.

And they agree also that Branon's campaign is the stronger of the two being waged by the Democrats.

But Gov. Johnson and other Republican leaders say they have no doubt of the outcome. They figure the maximum Democratic strength at 60,000 votes, and they are forecasting a state vote of 150,000 or better.

California—a Political Pendulum

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (INS)—Leading Republicans and Democrats in California are publicly predicting victory Nov. 6. But privately they are admitting the state can go either way in presidential and senatorial balloting.

* * *

Intensive homestretch campaigning by both parties casts doubts on breezy public pronouncements California will swing heavily to either side.

Republican Gov. Goodwin J. Knight told a news conference last week President Eisenhower will carry the state and Sen. Thomas H. Kuchell will win re-election by staving off the challenge of State Sen. Richard Richards (D) of Los Angeles.

But Knight privately has expressed dissatisfaction with effectiveness of GOP campaigning in California. He is on record with warnings that renomination of Vice President Richard M. Nixon will weaken the ticket.

KNIGHT WORRIED

An indication of Knight's concern is the fact that he is in the midst of a 10-day tour which will carry him from the Mexican border to the Oregon state line in behalf of GOP candidates.

Democratic bigwigs, including State Attorney General Edmund G. "Pat" Brown, likewise are stumping industriously although proclaiming sure victory for their candidates.

Most political observers regard the presidential and senatorial contests as pretty much of a toss-up, with the edge, if any, favoring the GOP.

* * *

Despite the fact that three of every five California voters are registered Democrats the Republicans have dominated the state's politics for many years. There are 3,575,635 Democrats and 2,646,249 Republicans eligible to vote.

The Republican campaign, as in the past, is geared to woo the support of those Democrats who have not hesitated in the past to cross party lines. The Democrats are trying to keep these same voters within the party fold.

Richards, who is 39, has conducted a vigorous and seemingly effective campaign against what at the outset of the race appeared to be overwhelming odds.

PROMISED TO IKE

Kuchell is promising all-out support to the Eisenhower administration and has pitched his campaign to the theme that the President needs a Republican Senate.

Richards is backing Adlai Stevenson to the hilt and is advocating the Democratic candidate's proposals for ending H-bomb tests and the military draft.

Richards has termed Kuchel a "nice guy with a very bad voting record" while Kuchel contends Richards lacks the background and experience necessary to qualify him for a Senate seat.

* * *

About the only thing certain in the California election is that the state's 30-member delegation to the House of Representatives will continue to be predominantly Republican. The GOP holds 19 seats.

Easily the most dramatic congressional race is in the 29th District in the southeastern desert corner of the state where a learned Hindu immigrant, District Judge Singh Saund, is the Democratic candidate and famed millionaire aviatrix Jacqueline Cochran Odlum is flying the GOP colors.

They are seeking the seat vacated by retiring GOP Rep. John Phillips. Mrs. Odlum is campaigning in her private Lockheed Lodestar while Saund is preaching the Democratic gospel in a fervent, if more pedestrian, manner.

Veteran Republican Congressman Leroy Johnson is in danger of losing his seat to State Assemblyman John McFall in the 11th District in the San Joaquin Valley while Rep. Hubert Scudder is getting a stiff fight from Democrat Clement W. Miller in the 1st District in the north coastal area.

College Faculty Salaries Panned

Given as Reason for 'Mediocre' Teaching in Several Schools

WASHINGTON (AP) — The National Education Assn. claims some college students are getting "mediocre and even inferior" instruction because faculty salaries average only $5,243 a year.

The NEA's research division, in a survey of 730 four-year degree-granting institutions — about half those in the country — found that teaching salaries range from an average of $4,087 for instructors to $7,076 for full professors. Pay averages the highest in the Far West, lowest in the Southeast.

* * *

"Many of the higher educational institutions are forced to take unfair advantage of the devotion of their staff members," the report said.

". . . In many other instances it must be admitted that mediocre and even inferior work in the classroom is condoned simply because funds are not available to attract and hold superior teachers."

The report acknowledged that college administrative positions sometimes pay from $25,000 to $30,000, and that "salaries of $10,000 and more for straight instruction during the academic year can be voted."

It said that although nearly 20 per cent of doctor's degrees earned in 1954 were in the scientific field this was the area of greatest shortage of college teachers. At the same time, it said, Fine Arts doctorates accounted for only 3 per cent of the total but there was no shortage of art teachers.

* * *

In 1955-56, the NEA said, teachers' salary increases ranged from about 5 per cent at municipal universities to about 6½ per cent at state universities.

"... the water's fine!"

He enjoys himself at the Pontiac YMCA. Once a week he swims . . . twice a week he plays basketball. He's just one of the 3,282 members who have a good time there. That's what it's for . . . to have a Good time.

Along with those wonderful times, the young men of Pontiac learn of the high spiritual aims of the YMCA. They learn the importance of honesty in active competition . . . they learn of courage, self-control, justice and integrity. It's difficult, nowadays, to learn these virtues on the street!

Pot-O-Gold Fun May Bring You Check for $400

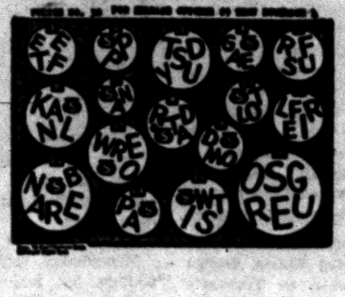

If you consider $400 satisfactory compensation for a few minutes spent having a good time, you have now found a suitable pastime. The Pot-O-Gold contestant who submits the correct entry will receive that amount, and more if he's a subscriber. (It's worth at least $100, even if a winner is found for last week's puzzle.) Rules and clues listed below should help you in finding the right answers and assuring a qualified entry. Your time is wasted if a breach of rules disqualifies you.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 22 must bear a Tuesday, Nov. 6, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD, POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Walt Disney's True Life Adventures

Israel Has Strong Leader in Fiery David Ben-Gurion

When the British withdrew from Palestine, he declared independence for Israel, and from 1948 to December, 1953, was Israel's first prime minister.

He headed the fight for survival against the Arabs and won.

Throughout the year since he returned to the premiership, he has backed a policy of what he calls "active defense" or retaliation against Arab infiltration and frontier violations.

Stocky, white-haired, personally shy and not too sociable, the 70-year-old statesman has managed to combine his determined leadership with a temper that can reach white heat and resolute action.

His two great concerns have been the army and security for Israel.

Ben-Gurion was born in Plonsk, Poland, fled from Russian pogroms, worked in Palestine as an agricultural laborer and union organizer.

Ironically the Turks exiled him to Egypt for pro-British activity.

He went on to the United States, fought with the American Jewish Legion at the side of the British in World War I and returned to Palestine.

As chairman of the Jewish Agency executive board he organized Jews to combat Arab terrorists attacking isolated communities. He planned for independence and urged Jews and the U. S. to help the British during World War II.

After the war he guided the Haganah partisan force of the Jewish agency in helping and protecting illegal immigration into Palestine.

When the British withdrew, he made his independence declaration, which he called a "consummate piece of boldness, courage and foresight."

* * *

But in 1953, he retired to become a farmer in the tiny desert settlement of Sde Bokor, some 30 miles south of Beersheba.

He returned to the government as minister of defense in little more than a year, and before the end of 1955 replaced Moshe Sharett as premier, but retained Sharett as foreign minister.

The shift meant new weight for Ben-Gurion's policy of retaliation against Arabs. Within eight months, by June 18, 1956, Sharett —who had advocated caution—resigned.

* * *

Ben-Gurion told the Knesset in June of this year, "preventive war would be madness." Yet he has charged that "the rulers of Egypt are determined to destroy the state of Israel and the people of Israel."

And that is one thing Ben-Gurion is dedicated to prevent.

New Runway May Speed Air Passenger Service

When Mayor William W. Donaldson on Sunday formally dedicated the Municipal Airport's new 4,000 foot east-west runway; Pontiac took a giant step forward.

On the basis of this $300,000 improvement, Airport Manager Homer C. Hoskins announced that he had applied to the Civil Aeronautics Administration for commercial service. He added that the City would be fortunate if it gets it within six or eight months.

The fact that there are 2,000-foot clear approaches at both Airport Road and Williams Lake Road greatly increases safety for larger twin engine planes. It also means that corporation aircraft which have been using the airport on a restrictive basis, now will be able to use it more frequently.

An important corollary development is the decision of the Chamber of Commerce to send out more than 1,000 letters asking recipients "how strongly they feel on getting commercial airline service at Pontiac."

Here's a chance for Pontiac to pull itself up by its bootstraps onto the Nation's airline map. Obviously, the greater interest shown here in commercial airline service, the greater will be the City's chance of obtaining it.

Let's get behind the Chamber's effort to win this much needed service. Residents of as important a community as Pontiac should not have to go 40 miles to Willow Run to begin any air journey.

Beaver Island's Doctor

Beaver Island soon will have a doctor for the first time since September 1.

That was the week's big news for residents of the isolated Lake Michigan island community 33 miles northwest of Charlevoix. It came with the appointment of Dr. Frank E. Luton by State Health Commissioner Albert E. Heustis to the $7,640 civil service post.

Dr. Luton, a 1901 graduate of the Michigan College of Medicine and Surgery, Detroit, is a former chief of staff at Clinton Memorial Hospital, St. Johns. Under the terms of the appointment he not only will receive the guarantee but can retain all fees paid him.

Dr. Heustis has revealed that the deciding factor in the appointment of Dr. Luton, one of 40 applicants, was his "compatibility with the islanders." He loves to hunt and fish and Beaver Island is a paradise for anglers and hunters.

★ ★ ★

We rejoice with the islanders, 300 of them are permanent residents and 2,500 live there in the summer, that they no longer will have to be without skilled medical attention. Mothers of small children, especially, will feel more secure having a doctor within easy reach.

Amendment No. 1

When Pontiac voters go to the polls November 6, they will be asked to decide the fate of two proposed amendments to the City Charter.

One of these asks:

Should Pontiac police and firemen be required to live within a 10-mile radius of the Saginaw Street and Huron Street intersection.

★ ★ ★

Such a limitation was proposed last April. At that time Pontiac Police Association petitioned the City Commission for elimination of a 1932 regulation requiring that members of these departments live within the City limits. The association charged that the limitation was "outdated, without purpose and unfair."

★ ★ ★

The amendment would permit members of these departments to reside anywhere between Clarkston Road on the north, Twelve Mile Road on the South, John R. on the east and the vicinity of Cooley Lake on the west. Certainly in an emergency any policeman or fireman living within these boundaries would be able to reach the City in a very short time.

★ ★ ★

This strikes us as a reasonable request considering current housing availability and cost. The Press believes voters should grant the 10-mile distance proposed by the Police Association's Counsel.

David Lawrence Says:

Egypt to Blame for Israeli Attack

WASHINGTON—Who really is the aggressor in the Middle East?

* * *

The average headline reader this week can be easily misled if he doesn't acquaint himself with the full record.

Here is the chronological story:

May 14, 1948, the British "mandate" or "trusteeship" over certain Middle Eastern areas ended. The State of Israel was created by the United Nations in December, 1947. But Arab forces invaded Israel to prevent the Israeli state from functioning.

Guerilla action was constant and May 15, 1948, Egypt began her blockade of all Israeli ships, and practically ordered none should go through the Suez Canal.

OK ARMISTICE

The Arab-Israeli war went on till the armistice Feb. 23, 1949.

The blockade continued, even after protests from the United Nations.

Aug. 16, 1951, Great Britain, France and the United States sponsored a resolution in the U.N. Security Council asking Egypt to lift the blockade.

* * *

Sept. 1, 1951, this resolution was adopted by a vote of 8-0, with Russia, India and China not voting.

The blockade was not lifted, and in March, 1954, the Security Council again asked Egypt to abandon the blockade. Russia voted against the resolution. Egypt disregarded it.

Sept. 28, 1954, the first Israeli ship attempting to run the blockade was confiscated by Egypt, despite a U.N. protest.

BLOCKADE GROWS

Nov. 16, 1955, Egypt extended her blockade of Israel to a point a mile and a half of the Israeli port of Eilat, cutting off shipments to and from the East.

Border raids have been continuous despite the armistice Both Arab and Israeli forces have crossed the lines and disregarded armistice provisions, each usually citing provocations or reprisals.

March 17, 1954, after an attack by Jordan forces on an Israeli bus, the Mixed Armistice Commission didn't censure Jordan so Israel boycotted the commission.

* * *

March 1, 1955, an Israeli raid on Egypt in the Gaza Strip was condemned by the Security Council.

Dec. 11, 1955, Israeli forces raided fortifications in Syria and were again condemned by the U.N., Jan. 19, 1956.

April 19, 1956, a cease-fire was agreed to under U.N. auspices.

STILL AT WAR

But an armistice or a cease-fire still means a "state of war" exists. When Nasser of Egypt seized the Suez Canal July 26, Israel was further endangered because even shipments in other vessels destined for Israel could be kept from her if Egypt decided to refuse passage of such goods through the canal.

But the biggest danger to Israel has been in the refusal of Egypt to recognize the little republic and in continuously threatening her existence. So Israeli forces find it necessary today to safeguard their interests.

Britain and France demand both Israel and Egypt withdraw their forces from the canal and that the waterway be "temporarily" occupied by British and French forces.

The Israeli government is willing. But Egypt is not. Nasser's position in violating the 1888 treaty, which guaranteed the canal against seizure by any power, is still something that must be reviewed by some competent tribunal — either the United Nations or a commission set up by that organization.

LI'L ONES

"First promise to gossip loud enough for me to hear."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Why Not Revive 'Pledge' to Curb Teenage Drinking

About two months ago I asked readers who know of a pastor who persuades young people to take and keep a pledge against the use of alcohol and/or tobacco before the age of 21 to tell me about it.

I was feeling discouraged and pessimistic about the future of America when I asked readers to do this.

So far 11 anonymous letters have been received, in which I am called the names drinking people usually apply to advocates of temperance or abstention; six signed letters from people who say that if a boy or girl is going to drink, he or she will do so, pledge or no pledge.

The difficulty with this argument is that it is unanswerable. If such boy or girl does not drink, obviously he or she was not going to do so; if he or she does drink, we told you so.

NINE NAME PASTORS

Nine letters named pastors and gave the location of their churches —pastors who ask young people to take the pledge. No, there were nine letters, but three of them named the same pastor and the same church.

Then there is a letter from Tennessee informing me that all Seventh Day Adventist pastors persuade all their young people to sign and keep a pledge against the use of alcohol and tobacco, tea, coffee, and other drugs, not just until 21 but for life.

A Minnesota letter reminds me that in the Church of Jesus Christ of the Latter-Day Saints the use of alcohol, tobacco, coffee, tea, and drugs is taboo altogether, but no pledges are taken because children are taught from the beginning never to indulge in these things, and they don't.

AROUSES FEAR

Now I'm more afraid than ever that the clergy in general regards the pledge as obsolete or ineffective. I hope I'm wrong about it.

As I have often said, as an active member of the WCTU my mother asked her four sons to take the pledge against the use of alcohol or tobacco before we were 21. We took the pledge and kept it. Not until 21 but for life.

Maybe we would have remained total abstainers without the pledge. I don't know. But there were times when I was a medical student in my late teens when it would have been much easier to join the group in a drinking party if it had not involved breaking the pledge.

* * *

AT WHAT AGE?

Should children be asked to take the pledge, either on their 12th birthday anniversary, on graduation from elementary school, or upon the occasion of confirmation?

Should the pledge be against alcohol alone or against alcohol and tobacco?

Parents of minor children qualify.

Views of such parents will have great weight with me if they will answer for me confidentially (I have never revealed the identity of a correspondent without his or her written permission) these questions:

* * *

1. How many children?
2. Their ages?
3. Do you have beer, wine, or liquor in your own home?
4. Do you indulge in cocktail or highball on special occasions?
5. Would you want your child or children to take the pledge?
6. Would you object if teacher, coach, or pastor asked your child or children to take the pledge?

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Praises County Officials on Courthouse Finance

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

I read with a great deal of interest your article in The Pontiac Press of Thursday, Oct. 25, in regard to the financing of the proposed new Courthouse for Oakland County.

It is very evident that this much needed building is now possible because of the sale of properties which were secured from the State of Michigan through the efforts of the Oakland County Social Welfare Commission, particularly John A. MacDonald.

I believe this is an outstanding example of foresight and unselfish devotion on the part of County officials and that it should be fully appreciated by the citizens of Oakland County.

'GOPers Backed Korean Decision'

The Republicans charged in the 1952 platform as well as earlier and later that the Truman administration was responsible for leaving Korea defenseless. The facts are that the Chief of Staff, General D. D. Eisenhower, and Douglas MacArthur recommended the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Korea and that another Republican politician made the motion in the U.N. to withdraw the troops.

That Republican was John Foster Dulles, who later wrote the platform charges against Truman.

Another thing, when the North Koreans invaded Korea, Dulles said, in response to Truman's dispatch of troops to fight in Korea, "What we are doing is in keeping with the tradition of our past." President Truman's decision that the U. S. should go to the defense of the Korean Republic was courageous, righteous and in the national interest.

Similar statements were made by MacArthur, Eisenhower and Nixon. The latter, for example, told the American Legion, "Let's recognize right now that the decision to go into Korea was right . . . on this issue President Truman was right and he deserves credit for making that decision." Now Nixon, among others, condemns the Democrats as the war party and praises the Republican party as the party of peace.

First-Time Voter Likes Stevenson

Recently I read in the Voice of the People that some father said if you vote for the Democrats, they'll take our sons and put them into war. Those Republicans are a clever lot.

There are cold wars going full blast in Poland and Hungary. Frankly I think they could have been prevented. But when the Democrats get in the White House this coming term they'll get the blame for them.

I also read that some guy was saying that Mr. Stevenson couldn't keep order in his own house. But you see who has custody of the Stevenson children, don't you?

This will be my first time to vote and (not like a lot of slackers) I'm very proud of that right and I'll use it to its fullest.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Recommends Church Suppers

Harry says a division of opinion has developed in his church. For the new clergyman vetoes having suppers in the church basement, even though the proceeds go to furnish more classrooms for the children in Sunday school. Do you think Jesus would shun such a church supper?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

"Dr. Crane, I have a problem," he began with a broad grin, "and it deals with meals.

* * *

"My wife and I joined a church in our rural community and have worked hard to help it expand.

"Recently, we added a basement to have more room for Sunday school classes. And we also included a modern kitchen.

"The unpaid debt on the church improvements total about $5,000 and we had planned to have church socials and suppers to help raise funds.

"But we have a new minister who objects to church suppers. Do you think it is unChristian to feed people in church or make the church the center of the social life of the community, as well as its spiritual life?"

JESUS LIKED SUPPERS

They didn't have church suppers in the temple in Christ's day, but the Bible certainly shows that Jesus liked dinner parties.

* * *

One of his greatest joys on this earth seemed to be his visits over the weekends to the home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus.

And dutiful Martha probably served Jesus double if not triple helpings, for Jesus must have had a hearty appetite.

The reason for my saying that, is the fact that Christ was not a neurotic person overwhelmed with fears and anxieties.

Although his 12 Apostles were probably so terrified on many occasions that they forgot when it was meal time, Jesus with the regularity of clockwork must have inquired, "Isn't it time to eat?"

When Christ fed the 5,000 with the lad's loaves and fish, the thing that probably made Jesus aware that it was suppertime, was the fact his own stomach was gnawing. So then and there he started the first church picnic!

EASTER BREAKFASTS

Christ also started the Easter sunrise breakfast idea, for after his resurrection, he came down to the seaside while some of his Apostles were off shore in a fishing boat.

"Children, have ye any meat?" Christ called to them.

* * *

When they say "No," he invited them to breakfast, for he had a fire burning with fish broiling thereon.

Christ also sat down to dine with the two travelers on the road to Emmaus. He was the distinguished guest of many eminent churchmen in his day. And he invited himself to dine at the house of Zacchaeus.

So Jesus relished dining with church people. If you have church suppers in your basement nowadays, you should realize that Jesus is undoubtedly sitting with the group enjoying their good fellowship.

In fact, it is a good plan to reserve a vacant chair at the head of the supper table just to remind your crowd more vividly of this Unseen Guest.

MODERNIZED RELIGION

Religion should move forward in much the same way as education, medicine and science. It should utilize all legitimate aids for helping produce the more abundant life.

To that end, many churches now utilize sound movies, as well as shuffle board and other suitable games in the church basement.

* * *

Jesus started the first church picnic, so I feel he would relish church suppers, especially when the proceeds help make more Sunday School rooms possible.

Housewives donate the pies and meat and other food, so the men folks simply contribute cash, and the whole ceremony is really a religious event.

If all members tithed and thus offered 10 per cent of their income to the church, such suppers might not be needed.

Even so, I'd recommend them for their promotion of good fellowship. Wealthy churches thus need such suppers, even if their budgets are balanced.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

AEC Boosting Nuclear Study

Fellowship Program to Encourage Students in Seeking Science Career

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) has announced establishment of a new special fellowship program aimed at encouraging more students to pursue studies in the Physical Sciences and Nuclear Engineering.

The AEC said it will award about 150 fellowships of $1,800 each, plus tuition and dependency allowances. They will be on a one-year study basis, renewable only under special circumstances.

The fellowships, the AEC said, will be offered as part of its program of "assistance in the field of education for the purpose of alleviating the shortage of trained nuclear scientists and engineers."

The program will be run by the Oak Ridge (Tenn.) Institute of Nuclear Studies, an agency of the AEC.

Eligible for the fellowships, AEC said, will be students "registered in, or accepted by, a college or university where a program of graduate study in Nuclear Energy Technology has been developed which is comparable to the one year course of study at commission schools."

Bob Considine Says:

McKay Campaign Discourages Supporter

NEW YORK (INS)—People . . . places . . . things . . .

* * *

Douglas McKay quit the Eisenhower Cabinet to try to pry Wayne Morse out of the U.S. Senate. Their race to represent Oregon in the upper house has overshadowed all else in Oregon.

Morse, bitterly articulate foe of the President, has taken the lead as the big day nears, according to most pollsters. One McKay supporter grumbles that his man can blame nobody but himself if he loses.

"We got Dick Nixon out to help him at a rally at the university," he recalled. "Dick gave a lofty speech that pleased the audience very much. But our man, when called on, just said, 'It isn't issues that count, it's votes.' "

J. Edgar Hoover has joined the growing list of thoughtful persons who consider the delinquent parent as much at fault as the delinquent juvenile. In the October Rotarian magazine the director of the FBI writes these forbidding words:

"The abdication of parental responsibility is resulting in the tragic anarchy of juvenile delinquency. . . . Criminals are not born with the stamp of criminality affixed to them. They are created by the forces and influences surrounding them.

VITAL ELEMENT

"Certainly parental influence is a vital element in determining the direction in which a child will go—whether toward stable, responsible adulthood or through the series of delinquencies which lead to a life of crime."

* * *

Hoover presents some numbing statistics: Last year 2,262,450 major offenses were committed by the nation's crime army. A little over 42 per cent of these crimes were committed by children under 18, and nearly half of these were under 15!

Kids under 18 accounted for 21.2 per cent of the robbery arrests, 46.9 per cent of the larceny arrests, 52.7 per cent of the burglary arrests, and 62.2 per cent of the arrests for stolen cars.

"I am convinced that the vast majority of causes or juvenile delinquency are to be found within the realm of parental control and that indifference is at the root of the failure to exercise that control," Hoover concludes.

* * *

"I believe that if parents could in some manner be shocked into a realization of their full responsibility for making decent citizens of their children, we should see an abatement in the tide of delinquency.

"Those parents who willfully neglect or otherwise contribute to the delinquency of their children, in effect, abdicate their parental responsibilities. They certainly should be held accountable for the criminal acts of their children."

THE HEALTH THEME

Wonder how many short short stories have been turned in since last Sunday with the report on President Eisenhower's health as a theme?

* * *

The plot? Easy. In 1916 Lt. Eisenhower, fresh out of West Point, read the riot act to Pvt. Clatterbuck and put him to work peeling a mountain of potatoes. Pvt. Clatterbuck muttered, "One day I'll get even."

Years pass. Pvt. Clatterbuck becomes a doctor, goes back into service, winds up as one of the eight doctors who had to issue the report on Ike.

You write the ending.

As we may have mentioned before, you know you're getting closer to New York while driving when the guys in the toll road booths stop thanking you after shaking you down.

This is especially true riding into New York over the magnificent new Garden State Parkway of New Jersey and that state's older and more bustling turnpike.

The toll-takers give you a cheerful and sometimes almost grateful "Thank you!" as they collect your quarters on the parkway. On the turnpike they occasionally grunt. By the time you get to the entrance to the tunnels, all you get is a glare for your four-bits.

SIMPLE GRATITUDE

One big manufacturer located his multi-million dollar plant in Jersey recently because, as he explained later, he was grateful for the fact that the money changers along the parkway thanked him.

The parkway booths are wired, by the way. Or "bugged." Highway headquarters can tune in from time to time to check on the "thank you" chorus.

But be that as it may, the guys seem to get as much of a kick out of being courteous as do the beneficiaries of that little decency.

How Israel, Egypt Stand in Weapons and Troops

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

This is the way Egypt and Israel, today's adversaries in the Middle East, shape up in a military way:

Israel's wartime potential is believed to be about 250,000 soldiers, including men and women reservists. Each able-bodied man serves in the reserves until he is 49, and childless women to the age of 34. There is compulsory conscription for 2½ years of men between 18 and 26 and 2 years for unmarried women between 18 to 26. The size of the standing forces is not known.

The Israeli Navy is known to include two destroyers, three frigates, a training ship and some patrol boats and landing craft.

The air force consists of an unspecified number of British-made Meteor jet fighters, at least 12 new French Mystere fighters recently delivered, and U.S.-made Mustangs, Mosquitos, Flying Fortresses and C47 transports.

Counting its National Guard, Egypt may be able to mobilize 500,000 men. The total standing defense force is about 100,000, including two infantry divisions and an armored formation which formerly consisted of about 300 tanks. Service is compulsory for all men at 18.

Since last year, when Egypt traded cotton for Soviet arms, she is estimated to have received about 300 million dollars worth of MIG15 jet fighters and bombers, tanks, artillery, destroyers and miscellaneous transport and communications equipment.

Besides Soviet - made planes, the air force has perhaps 80 British-made Vampire and Meteor jet fighters left, and a squadron of heavy Halifax bombers.

Before the Soviet deal, the Egyptian navy consisted of two destroyers purchased from the British, seven frigates, two corvettes, and a number of minesweepers, torpedo boats and landing ships. This force has expanded with Soviet supplies.

Hawaii Says 'No Thanks' to Shipment From Army

HONOLULU (AP)—Five spanking new tanks arrived here for the Oahu National Guard — with a freight bill for $18,135 attached — but no one wants them any more.

The guard ordered the tanks last year — but has since been switched to an antiaircraft unit and won't need them.

The Army said the five new tanks will be returned to the mainland, along with the 17 tanks the guard unit now has on hand.

Pair of Scholars Competing for Secretary of State

LANSING (AP)—One of the hottest scraps for statewide office in years will end Tuesday when Michigan voters choose between a former Rhodes scholar and an ex-college professor for secretary of state.

* * *

Hare is a former Wayne State University professor and one-time manager of the State Fair. Martin is the Rhodes scholar and a Republican party wheelhorse who has served in the State Senate and two terms as auditor general.

From the start, the campaign has been a slambang affair. If its tempo has subsided in late weeks, it is only because one of the contestants had to step out of the ring in the 11th round.

HARE HURT

That was Hare, seriously hurt in an automobile accident in Ferndale. He'll listen to election returns from his bedside in Lansing.

Even Hare's misfortune tied into the campaign because one of the major issues was the way he went about trying to rid the highways of accident-prone drivers in an attempt to cut the traffic death rate.

* * *

He set out to picture the Democratic incumbent as a political opportunist who turned his office into "an unholy politics-ridden mess" marked by alleged sale of patronage jobs.

And he assailed Hare for defalcations in the branch offices in the Secretary of State's Department where auto license plates are sold and other transactions performed on a fee basis.

Over and over, he reminded listeners that a Democratic appointee—Mrs. Anna Thorpe—fled last spring from her St. Clair Shores branch office with $80,000 in state funds.

STILL NO TRACE

Mrs. Thorpe has not been found despite an intensive search by State Police, the FBI and authorities in Mexico, where the trail led.

The situation in the secretary's office has "led to defalcation after defalcation, and to poor service besides," Martin declared.

As auditor general in 1950-54, Martin said, "I learned to smell a stench where there is one, and there is certainly a high aroma in the secretary of state's office right now."

* * *

Kept on the defensive most of the time, Hare said defalcations in branch offices are nothing new—that they have occurred through years of Republican administration.

Hare offered at a legislative committee hearing to recite chapter and verse on this score, but was given no chance.

He replied that auditing practices had been tightened and systematized at his direction. But he foresaw little hope of developing any foolproof system that would stop all thievery.

Hare said nearly all money stolen has been or will be recovered.

The "only answer," he has said, is to put the 220 branch office managers under civil service, or possibly close down the branches and inaugurate mail order sale of license plates from one or two central locations.

As for Martin's talk about selling jobs, Hare flatly denied it. He said neither he nor anybody from his office solicited or received political contributions from appointees.

* * *

He did say he hoped that like all other Democrats, branch managers who belonged to the party would contribute to its support through regularly constituted finance agencies.

Hare said his Republican predecessor, Owen J. Cleary, got 69 per cent of his campaign fund in one election from branch manager contributions.

In pressing his case, Republican candidate Martin made full use of testimony, described by Hare as doctored, taken by the all-Republican Legislative Audit and Appropriations Committee.

CHARGES POLITICS

Hare appeared before the committee and accused it of launching a "political attack" against himself and the Democratic party.

Martin swung another roundhouse punch at Hare with the allegation that Hare "played politics with human lives" in his administration of the state drivers license law.

Martin alleged, and Hare denied, that the secretary began a big crackdown on bad drivers last spring, suspending and revoking licenses right and left, but then backed down for fear of losing votes.

* * *

Hare's role in the traffic safety campaign was dramatized Oct. 20, when he was seriously injured in an accident police blamed on a driver they said ran a red light.

Sorry to see Hare taken out of the campaign at a crucial point, top Democrats nevertheless viewed the mishap as increasing Hare's re-election chances, rather than hurting them.

They reasoned that it placed him in somewhat of a martyr's role and gave him a prominent place on newspaper front pages while other candidates were being driven back to inside pages.

TURNS TO POLITICS

Hare, 46, holds degrees from Wayne State University and the University of Michigan. He taught government at Wayne until 1951, then left to become manager of the State Fair—a job he held until his election as secretary of state in 1954.

Martin, 47, attended Dartmouth College, Oxford University and received a law degree from the University of Michigan.

During World War II, he served as director of the National Office of Civil Defense and later helped prosecute the war criminal trials. He has practiced law in Grand Rapids since 1946, with time out during his terms as auditor general.

Planets, Moon Form Pattern

Unique Celestial Triangle

NEW YORK (AP) — The planets Venus and Jupiter and the Moon early today formed a celestial pattern that won't occur again for generations.

A thick blanket of clouds kept residents of the New York metropolitan area from viewing the spectacle in the eastern sky.

* * *

Venus and Jupiter have appeared from the Earth to be moving closer the past 10 days, and early today a waning crescent Moon moved in to form an unusual glittering triangle with the planets.

* * *

James Pickering, assistant astronomer at the Hayden Planetarium, said a similar lineup of the two planets and the Moon will not occur again for "generations."

Athough Jupiter and Venus have appeared to be moving almost to a point of collision the past week, the former is 573 million miles from the Earth and the latter is 103 million miles away.

Pickering said that by the time the Moon appears again, Venus will have moved behind the Sun.

Kalkaska Still Hopes for Base

Rep. Knox Tells Town AF Hanging On to Land for Jet Field

KALKASKA (AP) — Rep. Victor Knox (R-Mich) indicates the issue of a proposed jet base for Northern Michigan still awaits Air Force developments.

* * *

Addressing a Rotary Club group last night, he said:

"The truth is that Kalkaska has not lost the base. I have been in contact with officials of the Air Force and I am informed that construction of the base at Manistee will be deferred and the right to the Kalkaska property will be retained by the Air Force."

SITE MOVED

Congress last June upheld a House Armed Services Committee decision approving Manistee in another congressional district as the site of the base.

Knox said his information resulted from a conferrence with John M. Ferry, Air Force assistant secretary of installations. Last September, Ferry said the jet base might never be built if guided missiles instead of piloted fighter squadrons were selected for defense of the area.

If missiles were chosen, he said, different requirements might call for a missile base to be built elsewhere than on the Manistee site. Ferry looked for a decision within six months.

The multi-million dollar jet installation has been the center of a two-year controversy. It first was approved then removed from sites in Benzie, Wexford and Kalkaska counties. The squabble involved Air Force officials, members of Congress and Northern Michigan civic and resort groups.

Africans Go Barefoot

CAIRO — Before World War I, footwear production in Africa amounted to fewer than five pairs a year per 100 inhabitants. By 1940 this figure had increased to 11 pairs. Since then it has remained at 10 or 11 pairs per 100 persons yearly.

FBI to Investigate Anti-Catholic Letters

DENVER (AP) — The FBI has been ordered to investigate unsigned anti-Catholic letters circulated anonymously in the Colorado political campaign.

U. S. Atty. Donald E. Kelley requested the FBI investigation and indicated grand jury action will follow. He said federal law was violated.

The circular identified Catholic candidates for major state offices and endorsed their opponents as men "who will not accept orders . . . . from any foreign totalitarian authority."

Science Develops New Tablets

Relieves Painful Monthly Cramps For 3 out of 4 Women Tested! Gives Greater Relief Than Aspirin!

Boston, Mass. (Special)—New promise of relief for women who suffer tortures of monthly cramps and nervous tension is found in an amazing new tablet . . . developed especially to relieve this female discomfort. It offers greater relief than aspirin during that distressing period each month!

Doctors report remarkable results. For 3 out of 4 women tested, pain and cramps were stopped or strikingly relieved. Even on the first day, many had no nagging headaches, no backaches or other functionally-caused distress . . . were also less jittery the trying week before their period!

The new tablet contains not just one or two ingredients but a unique combination of special medicines. That's why this new discovery offers more relief than plain aspirin! Unlike such "general-purpose" remedies, it acts on the cause of distress. Has amazing power to calm uterine contractions, also works through a woman's sympathetic nervous system.

Called "Lydia Pinkham's Tablets," the formula was developed by the world's largest manufacturer devoted exclusively to relief of women's ailments! Easy-to-take new Pinkham's Tablets are now available at all drug stores without a prescription.

So don't suffer needlessly. Take Pinkham's Tablets yourself. See if you don't feel worlds better this very month. See if you don't escape much of the irritability and discomfort—both before and during those "difficult days." (For liquid form . . . ask for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.)

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

SYNOPSIS

Connie Barton's husband of almost five happy years has made her suspicious lately by his Wednesday night absences: his alibis for going out these evenings has worn thin. So Connie concludes Steve must be having blonde trouble. She resolves to fight fire with fire. She has her jet hair dyed the blondest blonde and seeks to allure him into staying home. But Steve laughs at her new hair-do and goes out again. Furious, Connie follows him to an office building where she spies him in a private room dancing with a beautiful blonde. Connie realizes he has been taking dancing lessons—as a pleasant surprise for her. She keeps an eye on the door, and after Steve leaves Connie enters the room unnoticed to have an encouraging word for his blonde teacher. Waltz music is still playing—and the teacher is sprawled on the floor—shot dead. In her hand is a paper silhouette of herself with a needle through it. Connie looks in vain for another door that the murderer could have used. She grabs the silhouette and the appointment book at the unattended reception desk and heads for home. When the newspapers appear with the story of the murder, they reveal that the Waltzer who had the 7 p.m. appointment with the dancing teacher is being sought by the police.

Chapter 5

Steve shook his head, signifying it was empty of an explanation. "The hell with the silhouette," he said. "How was she killed? She wasn't done in by a death ray. She wasn't poisoned through the mail. She wasn't bitten by a snake that crawled out of the woodwork. According to you and the newspaper, she was shot to death."

"At close range. Even I could see that."

"So she was shot by someone in the room with her."

"But, Steve . . ."

"Yes," he said, "I know! Nobody was in the room with her but me! Let's stop proving I killed her!"

"The murderer's already done that. Steve, do you think you should go to the police? I mean, before they come to you?"

"I don't know. I've got to think about it."

"You have some friends on the Homicide Squad. Nobody who knows you could believe you're a murderer."

"Connie, don't be an ever-loving wife. Everybody who ever committeed a murder surprised the daylights out of his friends."

"Yes," I said helplessly, "but if we explained everything to the police . . . wouldn't it look better?"

"Everything? Even tell them you stole the appointment register? How would you explain that, Connie?"

"Why, I . . ."

"You wouldn't have to explain it. They'd know. Baby, you stole it because you were afraid I had killed Anita."

"No! No, I got panicky, that's all . . ."

"If you told the cops the truth you'd peove to them I killed her. If you lied to them, they'd know it . . . and that would prove it to them, too."

"Let's not go to the cops. Let's forget I ever mentioned it."

* * *

There was a loud knock on our door.

"The register," Steve said.

I scooped it up, took it into the kitchen and hid it under the bread box as I heard Steve inviting in a man named Bolling. This Bolling was about fifty, not quite stout, but there was a lot of him.

Mainly he was a genial man, but on occasions he could be rather pulverizing. We knew him pretty well. Steve had become friends with him in the line of duty. He was employed by the New York City Police. He was a lieutenant in Homicide.

He was alone, he explained to Steve, because his partner was busy elsewhere. It seemed there had been a murder this evening at the Crescent School of Dancing and a rather curious aspect of the case made it advisable for the team of Bolling and Hankins to split up temporarily.

Now he was speaking to me. "Mrs. Barton, I remember you being a brunette."

"Those were the days," I said wistfully.

"You make a fine blonde, Mrs. Barton. I don't recall ever seeing a blonder blonde."

"This man I have does good work. He's very sincere. Won't you sit down, Lieutenant?"

"In a minute."

He went to our phone and called his precinct station. He was anxious to have his partner, Hankins, and another colleague named Lewine know that he was at the Barton's. When they called at eleven to report, they were to call here. It was now a little after ten-thirty. This was going to a long, nervous half hour for me and the Waltzer.

* * *

The Lieutenant moved into the love seat nearest him. He said, "What's come over the Barton family? The missus a blonde all of a sudden, the mister taking dancing lessons."

"We were in a rut," Steve said.

"I wish you still were," Bolling said. "Barton, don't you know better than to take lessons from a teacher who's going to get herself murdered?"

"How," I asked, "did you know that? I mean . . . we read in the paper that the register had been stolen."

"Yeah, the killer stole the register all right. But the bookkeeping department had all the students' names. And we boiled the list down to Anita Farrell's pupils by having the other teachers eliminate theirs."

Steve said, "You've been busy, haven't you?"

* * *

He took a sheet of paper from his pocket, spread it out on the coffee table. It was Anita Farrell's teaching schedule. It was blocked off into neat squares. The vertical columns were labeled Monday through Saturday. The horizontal columns were marked with the hours from 2 p.m. through Anita's final lesson from 9 till 10 p.m. A half dozen of the blocks were already filled in with student's names. At one side of the schedule were three other names.

"You see," Bolling said, "we're getting in touch with each of Miss Farrell's students. We find out what time he took his lesson. Now the killer is certainly going to lie about his time. He isn't going to admit he took the seven o'clock lesson tonight, Wednesday.

"He's going to say his lesson was at some other time. Therefore, we will get two guys both claiming the same time. One of them is the murderer. It won't be hard to figure out which is."

"This," I said, "is going to be an easy case to solve, isn't it?"

"You sound a little disappointed, Mrs. Barton."

Steve said quickly, "What are these names on the side here?"

"Tolley, Grant, Culligan. They were out when I tried to reach them. "I'll get them in the morning. Now, Barton, tell me. Where shall I put your name? When did you take your . . ."

I interrupted the Lieutenant. Somehow I was going to keep Steve from answering that question. I wasn't going to let him be one of the two guys who claimed the same time.

I said, "Steve, had you actually started taking lessons? I mean, had you been assigned a time?"

"Sure he had," Bolling said. He was looking at me as though I were a dumb blonde. "He's paid for nine lessons already. How come you didn't know that, Mrs. Barton?"

"I was learning to dance to surprise my wife," Steve said.

"If you learned to dance you'd surprise me, too," Bolling said. "Now, Barton, what time . . ."

"How about a glass of beer?" Steve said. "Cool, sparkling beer."

"Sure, I'll have a beer."

Steve hurried into the kitchen.

Bolling looked at his watch. He said, "Hankins and Lewine should be calling soon. They're out checking the lesson times of Miss Farrell's other students. With any luck we might clear this up by morning. Thank God the killer was stupid enough to steal the register."

"Maybe he wasn't stupid," I said. "Maybe he just lost his head."

"Well, it was a break for us. It means the killer has to be her last student . . . the fellow learning to waltz. Nobody else would steal the register."

Why should Connie want to re-visit the dance school? She does, without an appointment, tomorrow in Chapter 6.

Baby Wearing Shoes in Family Since 1900

The shoes were given to Franklin's grandfather Paul E. Williams, Bethany, Okla., in 1900 by President William McKinely, and since then all members of the family have learned to walk in those shoes.

McKinley gave baby shoes to all boys born at the turn of the century. Williams, the first to learn to walk in them, was born April 20, 1900, in Birdstown, Ill.

Farm Prices Dip Some More

4th Fall in 4 Months May Hurt GOP at Polls Next Week

WASHINGTON (AP)—A week before the election, the Agriculture Department has reported another drop in farm prices—the fourth in as many months.

The department said average farm product prices went down nearly 1 per cent between mid-September and mid-October.

In the Democratic - Republican battle for the farm vote, this new development could be significant.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson, in a statement put out by the department, termed the price decline "slight." He said it was a movement normal in the fall when heavy marketings are in progress. He also said farm income for the full year should average 4 per cent above last year because of larger production in 1956.

* * *

Democratic National Chairman Paul M. Butler, on the other hand, said the price decrease "reveals the Eisenhower-Benson farm program for what it is—a failure."

Splitting Vote on Machine Is Easy

While political aspirants urge "vote a straight Democratic or Republican ticket," the question has been asked whether a voter can split his ticket by using voting machines.

"It's really very simple to split your ticket," Pontiac City Clerk Ada R. Evans said yesterday. "It's a lot easier doing so on a voting machine than with the paper ballot."

Here's how she explained the process:

Suppose you desire to vote a predominant Republican ticket but there are a few Democratic candidates whom you wish to vote for.

In this case, you would first pull the Republican party lever at the far left of the machine, to the expose the "X" above the Republican party candidates.

Then to split your ticket, you push up the pointers above the Republican candidates you do not desire to vote for. And for these same offices, you pull down the pointer over your party choice.

Mrs. Evans emphasized that this step naturally follows the first of entering the machine and pulling the red handle all the way to the right until a bell rings. This opens the machine to voting.

An alternate to pulling the Republican party lever to the right, is to individually pull down all pointers over the party candidates, she said.

You can change your mind as often as you wish and your vote will still count. It isn't recorded at the back of the machine until you pull the large red handle all the way to the left opening the curtains.

The Pontiac official said a state question and two local issues at the top of the machine must be voted separately along with the non-partisan judicial ballot in the lower right of the ballot.

To aid voters in familiarizing themselves with the machines, two demonstration models have been set up in the City Hall and the Community National Bank.

They are being manned by the League of Women Voters from 10 a.m. until 5 at the City Hall, and during regular banking hours at the downtown bank.

Resourceful Kids Use Self-Service to Make Haul

SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP) — Delphia and Larry Fluss are back under adult supervision today. And the policewoman who said they were resourceful was proven a splendid judge of character.

They ran away from home last Thursday — for the fourth time — empty handed except for school lunches.

When police at Millbrae flagged them down on busy El Camino Real 30 miles north of San Jose last night, they had:

Two bicycles, about $9 cash and a heap of groceries.

Delphia is 11 and her brother is 10.

They did not say where all this wherewithall came from. As usual the children of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Fluss were not talkative. They said they had been sleeping at different places.

Those groceries drew the attention of a woman who had read about their disappearance. She called police.

Epileptic Kept in Cage; No Room in Institution

FOREST CITY, N.C. (AP)—He is the youngest of 10 farm children, now grown into a strong 13-year-old boy of medium height, with a love for watching television by the hour.

He is emotional and given to angry fits, at which times he has unusual strength.

* * *

His name is Colon Plato Guffey. He lives at a farmhouse at nearby Cane Creek, in a cage of heavy wooden planks set in the living room. He is mentally deficient and epileptic. He has lived in the cage "ever since he has gotten some growth on him," says a newsman.

The boy's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Colon Guffey, are awaiting word from North Carolina authorities on whether the child can be put in an institution. Authorities say there's a long waiting list of epileptics.

Frank Jeter Jr., editor of the semiweekly Forest City Courier, brought the situation to light yesterday. Mrs. Guffey says she hopes the publicity will help get the boy into a hospital. An application was made for him June 14 for admission to a state hospital.

* * *

Already on the waiting list of epileptics June 14 were 47 children and 291 adults, said Dr. James W. Murdoch, general superintendent of the State Hospitals Board of Control.

YOU MAY HAVE PIN-WORMS AND NOT KNOW IT!

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

JAYNE'S P-W for Pin-Worms

Hal Boyle Says:

Running for Presidency Is Like Courtship

* * *

Courtship often has these three stages:

1. The bashful beau is introduced to a girl everybody says is the belle of the neighborhood, but all he can see is her warts.

2. He discovers she is truly noble, so noble he couldn't possibly ever be worthy of her, so he might as well say farewell.

3. Then he sees another guy ask her for a date, and immediately the reluctant suitor becomes a besieging tiger. Now she is not only the most desirable girl in the world—he is sure he is the one lad in the county who can make her happy. And he wants to climb a mountain or swim an ocean to prove it.

And doesn't a political candidate's romance with the presidency sometimes go through the same three stages?

Both Dwight Eisenhower and Adlai Stevenson went through the bashful beau stage and the I-ain't-the-guy-for-such-a-great-big-job stage before 1952, when they finally got down to the third, or brass tacks stage.

* * *

Today they're in a brass knucks return engagement. Who would have thought only six years ago that these two fine men, so dubious then even of dreaming for the presidency, would now be clobbering each other for the right to that job, like two kids trying to get the last piece of cake at a birthday party?

"It's a mystery to me why anybody even takes the job," many a voter says. "I wouldn't take it for twice the dough."

* * *

That's what he says. But if 10 of his neighbors told him he'd make a good president he'd begin to wonder. If 100 told him the same thing he'd begin to believe it himself. If 1,000 told him this—even as a joke—he'd pawn his motor car to raise funds to launch his campaign.

That's the odd thing about "Potomac fever." Under the right conditions anybody can be infected by it—from a vegetarian to a general, from a lady reformer to a lawyer.

* * *

Just why no one knows. For if courting the presidency is like courting a girl, winning the presidency is like marrying a jealous woman with 169 million in-laws, all of whom think they have a claim on you.

The president is supposed to hold the most powerful office in the world, but he can't even buy a necktie or drop in to see a movie by himself.

* * *

Whenever he gets up to make a speech, can he forget that since 1865 the odds are about 1 to 4 that some lunatic will take a potshot at him during his term in office, and about 1 to 7 that the bullet will kill him?

Can he avoid the realization that whether he is wise or stupid, fair or biased, kind or vindictive—whatever he does or doesn't do—nearly every official act he performs may win him friends but is likely to make him enemies?

In a democracy every individual is a pressure unit, and the president is like a puppet, lonely in a vast spotlight, being tugged this way and that by 169 million strings, one for each of us.

The money? It's only $150,000 a year, taxed, plus $40,000 to entertain dull people like ambassadors. Elvis Presley will make $1,000,000 this year, and folks don't mind if he tries to sing while he works. But can you imagine what people would say if a president sang on the job like Elvis Presley?

* * *

From the standpoint of leading a normal carefree human life, the winner in the Nov. 6 election will be the loser, the loser will be the winner.

But the defeated man won't feel that way. Those who have wooed and lost the presidency often are more bitter than those who have merely loved and lost a woman.

* * *

"Long ago I proposed that unsuccessful candidates for the presidency be quietly hanged, as a matter of public sanitation and decorum," wrote H. L. Mencken. "The sight of their grief must have a very evil effect upon the young."

The suggestion has no merit this year. Hanging won't be necessary. Whether the loser be Ike or Adlai, the prospect is that he will be politically buried, finally and forever.

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

HALLOWEEN VISITORS

The belief that October 31 was the night when ghosts and witches roamed the earth goes back to ancient pagan days. When Christianity spread it became All Hallows' Eve, or Halloween.

After people stopped believing in the old superstitions, girls and boys dressed up as elves and played tricks. Even today many children still dress up and have parties on this night. Some ring doorbells and ask for "trick or treat."

Here are two Junior Editors who have set out on Halloween. Judy has a witch mask and a red cape, and has tied on a pair of her father's shoes, which make a fine clumping noise as she walks.

Bill has a red wig on his head, and over that an old cap with a hole in it. He has his sister's apron on backward, and a big false nose.

Color this with your crayons and then paste it down on cardboard. Cut it out along the heavy outline and fold it forward down the center on the dotted line so Judy and Bill will face each other.

(Craig Schindler, Sioux City, Iowa, wins $10 for contributing this idea first. Perhaps you have an idea for Junior Editors. If so send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

NEURITIS?
TRY O-JIB-WA NOW
On My Recommendation

"O-JIB-WA BITTERS did more for me in two weeks than everything I tried put together in the last 25 years," says Mrs. Nellie Cox, 446½ Capital Ave. S.W., Battle Creek, Michigan.

"My only regret is that I didn't try O-JIB-WA BITTERS sooner, when neuritis first began bothering me. Three years ago it got so bad that my arms and hands were numb and loosing their feeling. I couldn't get my arm up to my head for days at a time. My shoulders pained so fierce that I had to have my dress cut down the side and have someone help put it on for me. Life was miserable and I didn't seem to be finding any relief. After trying many tablets and other medicines, my husband suggested O-JIB-WA BITTERS, as he had talked to a man who had spent thousands of dollars to get rid of arthritis pains in his back, and after three bottles of O-JIB-WA he was completely well again. I thought if it helped him so much, it might help me even a little. It did much more than I expected, because in only two weeks the pains began to leave, and the feeling was coming back in my hands. O-JIB-WA BITTERS took all of my soreness away and I feel better than I have in years. Its been wonderful for my nerves and helps me rest well at night. It's just amazing what O-JIB-WA BITTERS has done for me, and that's why I am recommending it to you if you suffer from neuritis, rheumatism, or arthritis."

City Without One in a Latther

Tear Hair Over Barber

LE ROY (AP) — If this mid-Michigan city of 247 wrote Santa Claus a collective letter, it prokbably would end like this: "And please send us a barber for Christmas."

LeRoy's only barber went off to the Korean War and didn't come back. He didn't get shot. Just decided there was more hair to be cut in Detroit and stopped off there en route home.

Neighbors have been cutting each others hair hereabouts from time to time, but some ofthe jobs are getting out of shape, to say the least.

There's a barber at Tustin, five miles north, but, you know how it is, people from a city of 247 don't like to have to go five miles to a town of 229 to find a barber.

And for a store-bought hairdo, the girls have to drive 15 miles up to Cadillac or 100 miles down the road to Reed City.

"We're getting mighty shaggy," former Mayor B. J. Glerum said. "We've got a good opportunity here for somebody. All they need do is contact our Board of Trade and we'll fix 'em up in a good location."

Keys to Success: Doctor Retrieves From Retriever

HENDERSON, Ky. (AP)—An eager retriever that gulped too soon will be released from the hospital this week.

His owner Elmer Herron has been training the dog to catch his keyring and return it. Last week, Blackie made the catch but threw his head back too far and swallowed nine keys.

A veterinarian tried the more conservative methods of removing the keyring from the alimentary canal but all failed. He then resorted to surgery.

GIs in (Dry) Storage

READING, Pa. (AP)—Two AWOL soldiers from Fort Bragg, N.C., were found in a most unlikely place—the beer storgae vaults of a Reading brewery. It wasn't as festive a sojourn for the two evaders as might be expected. The brewery has been abandoned for more than 15 years.

Pope Joyful at Release

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope Pius XII was joyful today at the news that Josef Cardinal Mindszenty had been released in Hungary. Vatican sources said the pontiff, who made the Hungarian prelate a prince of the Roman Catholic Church in 1946, was preparing to write a personal note of congratulations to Mindszenty.

Neighborhood Prepares for Halloween Festivities

Celebration to Start Out With Parade

Costume Judging, Films and Dancing Will Be Featured

Adults as well as children will join in the annual neighborhood event planned by residents of Brookdale lane, Oakshire drive and Lincolnshire drive tonight.

* * *

Following the trick or treat hour from 6 to 7 o'clock, Parade-Marshal Carl Wagner will lead a torchlight procession through the area streets to the party grounds located at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Harold McDonnell, Mr. and Mrs. Philip Meacham and Mr. and Mrs. Frank R. Morton on Brookdale lane.

Five pages today in Women's Section

Costume judging at the scene of the mass party promises to be a popular feature of the Halloween celebration. Judging costumes will be Mrs. Joe Pollina, Mrs. William Salton and Mrs. McDonnell.

* * *

Clinton Hardy and Maurice Schlussel are serving on the refreshment committee and Frank Morton and Vernor Strassburg, with the assistance of all neighborhood residents, planned the colorful decorations for the party.

In order that everyone may enjoy the outdoor movies planned for the evening and hear the lively quadrilles to be called for those who will square dance, Valmour Lewis, Harlan Owens and Virgil Myers arranged a public address and sound system.

Climaxing the activities will be a huge bonfire. Everyone will gather by the fire for community singing.

* * *

Under the general chairmanship of Philip Meacham, the annual event for young and old alike serves to promote a strong community spirit.

The eyes of Tommy Moses (center) and Kristine Jones (left) sparkle as they watch Charles Cole put the finishing touches on a Jack-O-Lantern for tonight's Halloween party. In their costumes of "Peter Rabbit," "Happy Clown" and "Indian Chief" the three children, residents of Lincolnshire drive, will join with other residents of the neighborhood in activities planned for the annual event.

While the witches ride high and the Druids dance, families in the Brookdale lane, Oakshire and Lincolnshire drive neighborhood will gather for a full evening of activities including parade, costume party and huge bonfire. Forming an arch for a square dance are Patricia Dovre of Brookdale lane (left) and Dick Wagner of Lincolnshire drive. "Peepin' thru" are Margaret McCarther of Lincolnshire drive and Bill Kennerly of Brookdale lane.

8 Hostesses Fete Bride at Shower

Mrs. Warrington Is Honor Guest at Post-Nuptial Event

Mrs. Louis Warrington Jr. of Flint, the former Diane Miller, was honored at a post-nuptial shower Monday evening at the Elks Temple.

* * *

Mrs. Henry Pfeuffer, Mrs. John Meddaugh, Mrs. Fred Sytz, Mrs. Frederick Pickering, Mrs. Ray Kingsbury, Mrs. Wilma Dickinson, Mrs. Harold Slankster and Mrs. F. Howard Grady were hostesses for the 8 o'clock affair.

An arrangement of chrysanthemums, gladioli and autumn leaves, flanked by white tapers tied with white satin bows, centered the table.

Among the 68 guests attending the shower were Mrs. Oscar Eckman, mother of the bride; Mrs. Louis Warrington, mother of the bridegroom; Mrs. John Mitchell of Madison Heights, Mrs. W. A. Earl of Detroit and Mrs. Harry Markie of Birmingham.

* * *

* * *

Mrs. Donald Beattie is chaplain, Mrs. Edwin Good, public relations chairman and historian; Mrs. Jack Mariner, liaison officer; Mrs. Robert Brown, secretary; Mrs. Robert Emsley, treasurer; Mrs. James Cavalier, parliamentarian, and Mrs. Carlyle Bragan, sergeant-at-arms.

* * *

Gathering Scheduled Thursday Evening

Blanche Avery to Be Feted by DAR

Mrs. Allan H. Monroe, regent of General Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, and Mrs. Lloyd G. Porter, program chairman, have announced that plans are completed for the Thursday evening meeting.

* * *

The chapter will honor Blanche Avery of Ann Arbor with an award of merit for her outstanding citizenship over a long period in Pontiac. Miss Avery was a teacher of English and French in Pontiac High School and active in many extra-curricular school projects.

She has been a member of the board of directors of the Oakland County Historical Foundation for several years and has served on the restoration committee. This committee is in the process of restoring the Governor Wisner Home on Oakland avenue, which the foundation owns.

Miss Avery has served as regent of the General Richardson Chapter of the DAR and also has served on the Michigan DAR executive board as corresponding secretary.

* * *

The occasion is an open meeting, and all friends and former pupils of Miss Avery are invited. Circuit Judge Clark Adams will be the speaker and Adah Shelly will present the award. The gathering will be held in the Civic Room of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building at 8 o'clock.

Ora Hallenbeck, chairman of the chapter's approved schools committee, is collecting Christmas gifts which will be sent to children attending the DAR schools located in the mountain areas of South Carolina and Alabama.

These schools, founded by the National Society DAR in areas where no other educational advantages are available, are wholly supported by the DAR.

Mrs. Lisle L. Echtinaw is serving as chairman of the committee of hostesses and is being assisted by Mrs. Frank Allen, Mrs. E. M. Peterson, Mrs. L. L. Dunlap, Mrs. Elbert Wilmot, Mrs. Harry Pearce, Mrs. E. B. Wallace, Mrs. Elmer Buddenbaum, Mrs. Keith Deyo, Mrs. Louis Londick and Mrs. Maxwell Doerr.

Meeting Conducted by Pontiac WCTU

Mrs. Ralph Osborne of Ellwood avenue was hostess to members of the Pontiac Women's Christian Temperance Union for a dessert luncheon and meeting Tuesday.

The devotional topic, "Set a Watchman," was given by Mrs. Osborne, and Mrs. Guy Leffel presented a reading.

A report on the recent state convention held in Muskegon was given by Mrs. William Bradley. Mrs. Ray Fleming, president, announced that the federation and district meetings will be held in November.

Plans were made to remember hospitalized servicemen at Christmastime.

Pontiac Music Guild Conducts Meeting

Pontiac Music Guild members and guests met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Lester Snell on Auburn road. Two Bach piano duets were presented by Mrs. Snell and Army Hogle.

* * *

In the business session, announcement was made of the student recital to be held Dec. 4 in the First Congregational Church parlors. Plans were also discussed for a membership drive and for a piano workshop.

* * *

Reports were presented on the recent Michigan Music Teachers Association meeting held in Detroit. A round-table discussion on "Techniques" will be held at the Nov. 27 meeting.

Posts, Auxiliaries Gather for Powwow

Attending were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Beach, Mrs. Paul Boelter, Mrs. Archie Tryon and Mrs. Alma Cowley.

Mrs. Phil Orencia Entertains Lucky 13

Mrs. Phil Orencia opened her home on Center street Monday evening to members of the Lucky 13 Club. Mrs. John Bee was honored on the occasion of her birthday.

The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Steve Sapelak on Wesbrook avenue.

Personal News of Interest in Area

After spending several days visiting in the city, Myrtle Shore is leaving today to return to her home in Evart. While here she was the guest of Ethlynn Peterson and Mr. and Mrs. August Shier in their home on East Huron street.

* * *

Mrs. Margaret Peerson of Judson street and Mrs. Erma Warrilow of Jessie street returned to their homes by plane on Monday following a three-week vacation in Denver, Colo.

While in Denver, Mrs. Peerson visited her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Mero and family. Mrs. Warrilow was the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Harry Page, and her cousin, George Page.

* * *

John Genn of Lone Pine court, Bloomfield Hills, will appear as "Rafferdi" in the production of Augustin Daly's "Under the Gaslight" being presented today through Saturday by members of the University of Michigan Department of Speech. Performances are being given in the Lydia Mendelssohn Theater in Ann Arbor.

* * *

Thomas C. Fitzpatrick has returned to his home on Mary Day avenue from Dallas, Tex., where he attended the mid-year meeting of the American College of Apothecaries held during the past week.

* * *

Mrs. Frank C. Castell will entertain members of the Fireside Club in her home on Ottawa drive Friday at 1 p. m.

* * *

* * *

Selections from Haydn, Strauss and Tschaikowsky will be presented at the first concert of the season by the University of Michigan Symphony Orchestra Nov. 8 in Hill Auditorium, Ann Arbor.

Pontiac residents who will participate include Thomas Course of Opdyke road, Marilyn Keivit of Bennett street and Jeanne Leland of Middlebelt road.

* * *

Among the freshmen students at Marygrove College who will receive the academic cap and gown at ceremonies on Nov. 7 is Mary Therese Singles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Singles of Oliver street.

Halloween Marked

6 DUV Members Attend Conference

Six members of Frances C. Butterfield Tent 9, Daughters of Union Veterans, attended the 18th annual meeting of District Two held at the GAR Hall in Detroit recently.

Elected to office were Mrs. Mae Worth, council member; Mrs. William Van Druska, senior vice chairman, and Mrs. John Beechum, guide. Mrs. Laura Paetow was appointed first colorbearer and Mrs. Blanche Oniel, third colorbearer.

Coming Events

'Date' Jobs on Temporary Basis

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Most of us know better than to marry on the rebound. If the man you adore, and have been seeing steadily for a year or so, gives you the gate and marries somebody else, you don't, if you're wise, grab the first husband you can find.

Instead, you pick yourself up, begin to circulate again, date a good many men, and eventually find one as good, or better, than the one who ditched you.

But, unfortunately, in the vocational field we aren't nearly as wise.

You have a job, you love it and have been "dating" it for a couple of years. Then, for some reason, you get the gate.

* * *

The firm changes hands or goes out of business; a new boss comes in who has his own people; or maybe you just aren't as good as they think you should be.

JOB ON THE REBOUND

So, with a mixture of disappointment and humiliation, you go right out and get another permanent job, on the rebound.

It doesn't make sense, because at a time like that, when the rug has been pulled out from under you, you aren't in the best mental condition to decide on a permanent job.

The answer, of course, is to take a temporary job or, better still, a series of temporary jobs. This is the equivalent of dating a good many men.

* * *

If you have any basic skills, from selling to shorthand, from writing to typing, you can find a ready market in our present economy for temporary jobs.

GET ON YOUR FEET

Maybe they won't pay as much as your permanent one, and then again, maybe they will. But they will give you a chance to get on your feet and get over the disappointment.

And they will give you a chance to get acquainted with many different kinds of companies and fields. Then when the time comes, you can "marry" another job and really know what you're doing.

* * *

OFFICE SERVICE

* * *

This booming organization has offices in 46 cities, supplying all kinds of temporary workers to all kinds of firms.

If the gal can do the work, Mr. Kelly doesn't care how old she is. Moreover, a Russell Kelly girl who is doing temporary jobs in, say, Detroit, can take a jaunt to Houston, if she's dying to see Texas, and pick right up where she left off, under their traveling plan.

Her records and qualifications are simply transferred to their Houston branch.

There are many times in the average woman's life when a temporary job is just what the doctor ordered:

When she's been vocationally "jilted," when she doesn't know what kind of job she wants, when she is a housewife and cannot commit herself to a permanent job, or when she just has itchy feet and a desire to see the country.

Married Saturday were Patricia Jean Stites and Howard J. Clark. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stites of Clarkston. Howard, of Birmingham, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark of Battle Creek.

MR. and MRS. HOWARD J. CLARK

Patricia Stites Becomes Bride in Clarkston Rite

Patricia Jean Stites became the bride of Howard J. Clark Saturday evening in the First Methodist Church of Clarkston. The ceremony was witnessed by 250 guests.

* * *

Patricia is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James H. Stites of Clarkston. Howard, of Birmingham, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Clark of Battle Creek.

The bride wore a ballerina-length dress with the skirt featuring tiers of lace. The scoop neckline was also edged in tiers of lace. A cloche-style headpiece of sequins and seed pearls secured her shoulder-length veil of French silk illusion.

* * *

Mrs. Paul Fair, Mrs. Calvin Moriarty, Mrs. Donald Wilson and Mrs. Betty Murphy, bridal attendants, wore waltz-length gowns of crystalette in shades of green, apricot, rose and turquoise, respectively.

YELLOW AND AMBER

* * *

Best man for the service was Henry Setz of Bloomfield Hills. Ushers were Vaughan Redding of Huntington Woods, John Naimish of Milford and Paul Fair.

A crepe dress of Copen blue with matching accessories was worn by Mrs. Clark. Her corsage was composed of pink roses.

* * *

Following a honeymoon in the Southern states, the newlyweds will make their home on South Shore drive at Watkins Lake.

Lipstick Adds Color

You'll wear subtle, sumptuous colors this season which means you'll depend more than ever on your lipstick to provide contrast in highlighting the dulled-down greens, smoky taupes, deep off-beat blues, quiet browns and all of the other equally subtle new fashion tones.

Crispy Bits Will Trim Slice of Ham

Mrs. Foley Rolls Cubes of Pork Fat in Brown Sugar

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

The next time you bake a slice of ham use Mrs. E. D. Foley's recipe. It suggests an idea for an interesting garnish on the ham.

The Foleys live at Union Lake. They have a daughter in school at Ypsilanti and a son in grade school. Mrs. Foley is a member of Tuesday Musicale and a child study group. She enjoys reading, bridge and piano playing.

HAM WITH SUGARED FAT CUBES

By Mrs. E. D. Foley

Cut all the fat off a thick slice of ham. Parboil the ham and place in a baking dish.

Cube the ham fat and roll cubes in brown sugar. Pile sugared cubes on top of ham. Pour a little water in the dish.

Bake at 350 degrees until ham is done and cubes are crispy and brown.

Iris Ruth Duse became the bride of Joseph H. Roerink Friday. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earl C. Duse of Emerson avenue. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Roerink of Snellbrook road.

MR. and MRS. JOSEPH H. ROERINK

Iris Ruth Duse Repeats Vows in St. Paul Church

The Rev. George J. Mahder of St. Paul Evangelical Lutheran Church officiated at the wedding service of Iris Ruth Duse and Joseph H. Roerink. One hundred seventy-five guests attended the 8 o'clock ceremony Friday evening.

* * *

Mrs. Jack Roerink was matron of honor. She wore a dress of aqua lace over taffeta and carried yellow chrysanthemums.

ASSIST BROTHER

Joseph, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett Roerink of Snellbrook road, asked his brother, Jack Roerink, to serve as best man. Groomsmen were Gerald Roerink and Robert Roerink, also brothers of the bridegroom.

* * *

Mrs. Duse greeted her guests at the reception held at the home of the bridegroom's parents wearing a black dress with white accents. Her corsage was of white chrysanthemums with angel feathers.

Mrs. Roerink wore an aqua dress and a corsage of white chrysanthemums and angel feathers.

Balenciaga Shows New Color Tones

Besides black and white, Balenciaga shows many caramel, nut-brown or coffee shades for daytime and afternoon wear. A charming suit of strawberry colored, waffle corduroy is a splash of color.

Helen E. Shipley and Verlon C. Carlton were married Saturday. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Shipley of North Roslyn road and his parents are Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Carlton of Albertville, Ala.

MR. and MRS. VERLON CARLTON

Helen E. Shipley Marries

A ballerina-length gown of nylon lace tiers over net and taffeta was worn by Helen E. Shipley for her marriage to Verlon C. Carlton. Calvary Missionary Church was the scene of the 7:30 o'clock ceremony Saturday evening.

* * *

Helen's fingertip veil of illusion was secured by a Juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the bridegroom.

Helen is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Shipley of North Roslyn road. Verlon, of Whittemore street, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Carlton of Albertville, Ala.

* * *

Mrs. Charles C. Noell, sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, wearing a ballerina-length dress of dusty green nylon net over taffeta. She carried a bouquet of carnations and chrysanthemums matching her gown.

Patricia Robinson of Detroit was bridesmaid. Her lavender gown was identical in style to the honor matron's. Flower girl for the ceremony was Anna Mary Shipley, sister of the bride. She wore a coral-colored floor-length dress of net over taffeta.

Carl Duane Glenn was best man. Ushers were Russell B. Shipley Jr., Charles C. Noell and Jerry M. Sharette.

Preparation Is Already Under Way

Exhibition, Judging Are Scheduled for May 25th

Fall gardening activities of many residents of this part of Oakland County have picked up tempo recently. Cause of this flurry is the decision made by five Pontiac-area garden clubs to hold a spring flower show.

* * *

The Dirt Gardeners and Better Home and Garden Clubs, plus the Pontiac, Sylvan Lake and Waterford Branches of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association, have joined forces to sponsor a flower show to be held May 25 in the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

According to Mrs. Fred Bohlman, who has been named general chairman, the classes will be similar to those of the fall shows sponsored by four of the clubs for the past two years.

The divisions will be arrangements, horticulture, junior and possibly spring tables. In addition, there will be space set aside for displays. This is for informal bouquets or specialties that gardeners may want to exhibit without competing for ribbons.

* * *

Mrs. Vivian Tubbs, president of the Pontiac Dirt Gardeners Club, has kept a garden diary for several years. "If the weather is normal," she said, "many flowering shrubs will be in blossom at that time—forsythia, flowering plum, magnolia, lilacs, Japanese crab and snowball, flowering almond and deutzia."

She also listed anemones, grape hyacinths, tulips, daffodils, lilies-of-the-valley and early iris.

GOOD RESPONSE

Mrs. C. R. Gately, president of the Pontiac Branch, said that she had received enthusiastic response from her group about the spring show in spite of the fact that their state convention will be held that week.

* * *

Many of the members are putting in new plantings now. Mrs. Harcourt Patterson recently set out 350 new tulip bulbs and Mrs. John Marra, Mrs. Ross Thompson and Mrs. Arthur Young are planning special plantings.

Mrs. Sam Warwick of the Sylvan club and assistant general chairman of the spring show, Mrs. Alton Banfield, president of the Waterford club, and Mrs. George Alexander, president of Better Home and Garden, agree that if the interest shown now is any criterion, the competition next spring will be heavy.

* * *

Mrs. Gil Every of the Waterford club has kept a garden diary since 1952. Besides many of the plants Mrs. Tubbs mentions, she will have rubellum and golden challis lilies in bloom, violets, myrtle, pansies, forget-me-nots, mertensia, azaleas, and German iris.

South Africa is the world's third largest producer of mohair. Turkey and the United States are the other main producers.

Follow Washing Tips

When washing with synthetic detergents, the suds are not necessarily the guide to the amount to use. Some synthetic detergents get clothes clean with little or no suds. Others form suds readily — even when the quantity of detergent is too small to clean well. So, be sure to follow directions.

Gentlemen Change to Fancy Worsteds

The well-dressed gentleman — nine times out of ten—will be sporting fancy worsted mixtures in suits or all wool flannels this year.

Even though charcoal has lost in favor, gray flannels are more popular than ever and will be seen in varied shades.

Use Discretion in Selecting Jewelry

When you're in doubt about how much jewelry to wear, the solution lies in remembering that earrings, necklace and bracelets worn all at once are too much.

Use earrings and necklace from a set or earrings and bracelet but never all three at one time.

The matched ensemble, contriving dress and jacket, has generally replaced suits and this is excellent for full figures. The three-piece effects, adding matching topcoat, can look too clothy and bulky.

Stabafa Club Conducts Formal Initiation on Tuesday Evening

Ten Girls Welcomed Into Group

Home Opened for Membership Ritual by Kathie Hunter

* * *

Received into the group as new members were Connie Crozier, Judy Dearing, Kay Jerome, Sue Koprince, Barbara Learned, Tassie Reigle, Barbara Strang, Barbara Shadley, Judy Ward and Kay Whitfield.

Club pins were presented to the new members by Ann Donaldson, vice president. Articles were collected for Needlework Guild, which is one of the club's charitable projects.

Other organizations which the club assists include the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra and the Salvation Army. Mrs. Basil Brown is the club sponsor.

* * *

Pontiac Press Photos

Blondes in Science

Gentlemen prefer blondes, especially scientists. According to researchers, blonde hair is more sensitive to moisture changes than any material known and scientists interested in hair research use blonde hair as a sensing element in humidity control instruments.

For At-Home Wear

The woman who does not like the idea of velvet pants for "at-home" wear may welcome the idea of cashmere sweater coupled with a black velvet skirt. The cashmere may be in any pale color; bisque is pretty.

Specialist Gives Hints on Time, Work Saving

Home management specialist, Hallene Price, says women spend seven to 10 hours a day in and around the home caring for the house and family.

* * *

She offers these hints to help save energy, time and work:

Cut down ironing time by folding clothes as they come from the line or dryer.

Arrange cleaning so you can clean "spare rooms" less often than the rest of the house.

Call children once in the morning instead of many times. This probably will require extra guidance but will save wear and tear in the long run on mother.

Make full use of your electrical appliances. Mash potatoes with the mixer, for example, and store in the freezer extra quantities of foods that can be prepared at one time.

Use small pieces of kitchen equipment such as a peeler to clean carrots and potatoes, tongs to handle hot foods, household scissors for cutting up vegetables.

* * *

When making biscuits or cookies, use the "drop" method. No rolling pin or cutter is necessary and there's no messy cleanup.

Check your work pattern, see if there are things you can eliminate and find an easier way to do the job.

Sheaths Come Bloused or Very Straight

It may be bloused. It may be straight. It may have short sleeves or long. There are no sleeves at all on some. It is knitted or jersey or crepe or satin or wool or silk. It's for daytime or late-day or evening.

Though the sheath is for everyone, that doesn't mean that it lacks individuality. It offers lots of fashion differences and takes into account figure differences, too.

* * *

It goes easily, in basic colors, under coats and little jackets and sweaters. In some cases, it can go from the office to a dinner date with a little dressing up with jewelry.

Take Proper Care of Elbows

Elbows, because they rest on desks, are used on bus rides and to test baby's water, seem to get very rough and hard. Many women's elbows seem almost rough enough to be used as sandpaper.

* * *

To keep elbows smooth, they should be cleaned thoroughly with a nail brush and soap, in the bath. This should be done daily, just to get off the accumulation of dark dirt that gets ground in during the course of a day.

A good suggestion is a thorough massage with a good hand cream each night after getting in bed. This way, the cream can be allowed to soak in without collecting any dirt.

FOR WINTER

Hair will be fuller this winter, but not much longer. Collar length or a little shorter will be the first choice of American women this year, so many authorities predict.

Brushed waves with soft wisps taken to the face will give greater fullness at the temple. Hair will not be long or bulky but will require good shaping as a foundation for the face framing characteristic of the bouffant hair style.

Although this style is most suitable for the tall slim woman with a narrow face, yet there are modifications for other types. No boy-cuts this year. Hair-dos will be longer, fully, feminine but manageable. We will help you choose an attractive hair style.

Good Nutrition Renews Your Body

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Your body is constantly renewing itself. Your skin is sloughing off old dead cells and growing new ones. Your blood stream changes from time to time and the tissues of your body do not remain the same.

* * *

This is most encouraging because it means that you can change your body for the better if you will give yourself reasonably good care and eat as you should.

Good nutrition becomes a fascinating subject when you realize that the meat you ate last week is now a part of your red blood corpuscles, and the milk and fruit juice you drank now are working for your well being. Your body must have essential materials with which to work, and good nutrition provides these.

If you would like to renew yourself, cut down on fats and starches, be certain that you get an adequate supply of proteins and increase your vitamin and mineral intake.

* * *

Eat most of your fruits raw, leave off fat meat, cook your eggs without grease and forget pastries for a while, anyway. You will find yourself much more enthusiastic and energetic!

A few years ago there was quite a fad for drinking vegetable juices. Today many of the world's great, and those less well-known, continue this as a daily habit. You can buy these or you can brew your own vegetable "pot liquor."

If you wish to make your own, use carrot and beet tops, carrots, celery, cabbage, watercress and greens. Add tomato and lemon juice. If you wish, you can add a dash of garlic or onion.

Before folks became informed about nutrition the most important element in food went down in large amounts of water and the drain. Vegetables were cooked for long periods. The water then was poured off the vegetables and down the drain. With it went a lot of good health.

While we cannot stop the clock of age and the aging processes will continue no matter what we do, we can slow them down. If we have been neglecting ourselves, it is entirely possible to be in much better condition a few months from now than we are today.

* * *

There is a nice bonus, too. As you live and eat to improve your health you also are improving your appearance. The diet which is low in fat and carbohydrates and high in protein, minerals and vitamins is really a slimming diet.

If you would like to have my leaflet No. 37 "Vitamin Defense," send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

'Spook Spin' Dance Held by Hoedowners

Calling the lively quadrilles for the "Spook Spin" were DeWitt Hart, Roy Burch, Ben D'Arcy, Ted Hoyt, Fred Froede, Howard Hatfield, Harvey Gilchrist and Cecil Elsholz.

Mr. and Mrs. Stuart MacDonald, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Davison, Mr. and Mrs. LeRoy Colbeth and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Vandenberg were welcomed as new members of the group.

Guests for the evening included Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Bova, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Shelton, Mr. and Mrs. William Van Jarrsveld, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Fullerton, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Butler and Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Skelton.

Bold Colors, Patterns in Sport Jackets

Plaids, stripes and nubby tweeds make this a year of bright color and pattern in sport jackets. Here, too, the three-button coat will be widely popular.

Both glen plaids and stripes in tweed, shetland and flannel will win boy's favor. The rugged durability and smart styling of the sport coat makes it the mainstay of the everyday school wardrobe.

Back in fashion: the one-tie shoe. It slips on like a pump, feels like a pump but has a new and interesting look.

Some Masculine Traits Always Mystify Women

Why Are Men So Talented at Losing Things and So Poor at Finding Them?

By RUTH MILLETT

Masculine mysteries (at least they are mysteries to women):

Why men, who are so experienced at losing things, are so poor at finding the things they misplace. Could it be because there is usually a woman handy to whom they can yell, "What did you do with my such-and-such?"

Why a man always feels poorer when his wife mentions wanting to buy something for the house than when a power tool or expensive piece of hunting or fishing equipment takes his eye.

Why a man thinks if a woman marries a man 10 years her junior she is making a fool of herself but if a man marries a woman half his age he has done all right for himself.

How a man can manage to think of his son as two different ages—"a 16-year-old kid" when the son is asking for a privilege or more freedom, and "almost a man" when the son doesn't act as mature as he thinks he should.

How a man can feel he is being as solicitous of a tired wife by urging her to "let the dishes go tonight" as by offering to do them for her.

How a man can keep a really exciting bit of gossip to himself—when his wife tells him everything, even the things she promised "not to tell a soul."

How a man can forget even the most pressing problem long enough to play golf, fish for an afternoon or listen to a ball game.

Tailored Ties Are Fashionable for Men Now

And the style-conscious gentleman will select this season's neckwear in brown and red tones or shaded tones like ombre and grey.

* * *

Still the most widely accepted style of tie is the Ivy League pattern feature in wool challis, silk and cotton stripes and quiet toned plaids. Tweedy fabrics in stripes are becoming very important.

The European influence in ties is evident this year and imported fabrics are making a dent in American styling since local taste is leaning toward a conservative style of design.

She Objects to Dancing Minus Men

Asks How to Avoid Local Custom, Yet Offend No One

By EMILY POST

"My husband and I moved to our present location two years ago and have made many new friends. We are all married and all around the same age—mid-40s. On occasion we go out in small groups to dinner.

"Many of the places where we go have dancing, some of the husbands don't dance and the women have a habit of dancing together, which is an entirely new experience to me.

"I have been asked to dance with some of them but I have tried to find some excuse for not doing so as I do not think it proper for two women to dance together. I have seen some of the younger generation do this but at our ages it seems very much out of place.

"Perhaps I am being an old fogy. Will you tell me if such a practice is proper, and if not, how can I refuse to dance in the future, without being rude."

Answer: I agree with your point of view, and you'll have to explain this to them.

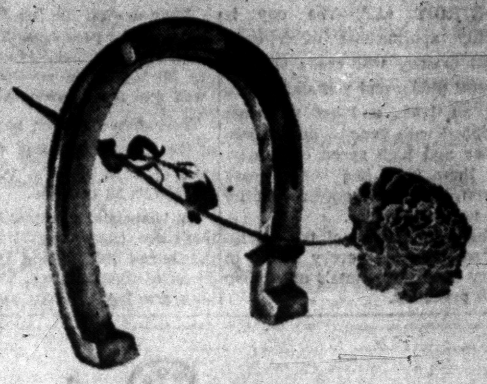

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is a headwaiter in a resort hotel supposed to be given a tip? We gave our waiter and the maid who took care of our rooms generous tips but saw no reason to give the headwaiter anything. However, there seems to be a difference of opinion about this."

Answer: If he gave you an appreciable amount of personal service, you naturally would tip him. But if he merely appointed a table to you on your arrival and did nothing for you after that, there would be no necessity for tipping him.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Where should celery and olives and other extras be put—on the dinner plate or on the bread and butter plate?"

Answer: On the bread and butter plate.

Army of Reporters, 'Brain' Machines Relay Election Returns

DETROIT (AP)—The day is rapidly approaching when campaign oratory will cease and the general public and politicians alike will sit back and let an army equipped with pencils, adding machines and high speed calculators tell them who has been chosen to run Michigan's government for the next two years.

This is an army of trained reporters seeking every vote in every one of the state's more than 5,100 precincts.

They are on the job from the moment the polls close at 8 p.m. until every precinct is complete. In Michigan this usually means well into the following day.

Thirty-five member newspapers of the Associated Press share the task of reporting the vote from the state's 83 counties.

By telephone, representatives of these newspapers regularly advise the Detroit office of the Associated Press of their returns. These figures are fed into complex International Business Machines tabulating equipment.

SPEW FORTH TOTALS

These machines spew forth totals on each of the state races, on the Michigan vote for president and on the congressional races.

All in all it is an amazingly fast an accurate operation. For example, figures from a remote section of Gogebic County can be telephoned to Detroit—700 miles away—and incorporated in a complete new set of statewide totals in less than 10 minutes.

During the night and morning this process involves some 40 persons in the Detroit office of the Associated Press. And in addition to the actual tabulation, the AP's political writers analyze the returns closely, watching for trends and any indication that one party or the other has taken an unbeatable lead.

The AP's figures, of course, are unofficial. But they come extremely close to the official ones which are gathered at leisure and painstakingly checked some two weeks after election day.

Vote totals tabulation by the AP are transmitted immediately to the 39 newspaper members and the 66 radio and television stations in the state served by AP.

Figures on the presidential and gubernatorial races also are transmitted to the Associated Press election headquarters in Washington where they are incorporated in the national totals.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams swept to victory in his first term in 1948 by a huge 163,000 vote plurality. But when he ran for re-election in 1952 he squeezed in by only 1,154 votes after a recount. Then 1954 brought another recount and an 8,618 plurality.

Both times, in the election itself and the recount, the AP had it right—and by almost exactly the official margin.

Pastors Will Hear Pontiac Physician

The Pontiac Pastors' Assn. will hear Dr. John K. Ormond at its regular monthly meeting at 10:30 a.m. Friday at the First Presbyterian Church of Pontiac.

Dr. Ormond, now a Pontiac urologist, served with the Presbyterian Board of Missions in a medical center in Miraj, India, until 1955.

Dr. Ormond will tell the ministers of his experiences in India and how the people live.

The cooks were welcomed to the morning session by George Yansen, principal of Madison. Group meetings and tours of Madison kitchen facilities completed the morning session.

A demonstration of the techique of mixing and shaping yeast dough, by Harold C. Waltman, commercial baker from Lake Orion, completed the afternoon program.

Resource people brought in for the day as group leaders included Nan Bernstein, nutrition consultant for the Michigan Department of Health; Norman Tellar, chief of the school lunch division of the Department of Public Instruction; and Robert Hurley, assistant superintendent of the Berkley City Schools.

Others included Mrs. Ruth Bacon, superintendent of St. Clair County Schools; Vernon Schiller, treasurer of the Pontiac City Schools and Mrs. Florence Dearing, manager of Daniel Axford Elementary School in Oxford.

Completing the discussion leaders were Philip Wargelin, principal of Lincoln Junior High School; Herbert Hengst, principal of Barnum Junior High in Birmingham; Cynthia Boyea, supervisor of nursing, Oakland County Department of Health and Robert Klingman, assistant superintendent of Clarkston Community Schools.

* * *

Co-chairmen of the meeting were Mary Slater, Oakland County school lunch consultant and Mrs. Alice Houts, local manager at Madison Junior High.

Rail Official Warns School Bus Drivers

LANSING (AP) — The complaint of a Jackson locomotive engineer has prompted the State Department of Public Instruction to warn school bus drivers against carelessness at railroad crossings.

H. C. Clark of Jackson, secretary of Lodge 240, Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, wrote the department he saw many close shaves between school buses and trains at crossings recently.

"There seems to be an apparent lack of caution in crossing railroad tracks, especially on foggy mornings," he wrote.

Clark said he saw several near accidents on his regular run on the New York Central Railroad between Detroit and Niles. He pleaded for more cautious driving to avert a major accident.

Kremlin Reveals Shift in Policy

Declares Ready to Free Hungary and Satellites, Withdraw Troops

MOSCOW (AP)—In a major policy shift, the Soviet Union says it wants all the Communist countries to be completely sovereign and is willing to talk about the disposition of Soviet troops in three of them.

An unusual declaration issued by the government last night was interpreted by diplomatic observers as indicating Moscow was seeking a graceful way out of an increasingly embarrassing situation within the Communist camp.

* * *

In conciliatory tones, it promised that the Soviet army will evacuate Budapest "as soon as this is considered necessary by the Hungarian government."

* * *

It also acknowledged that "the further presence of Soviet armed units in Hungary may cause even further aggravation of the situation."

* * *

The declaration said there are Soviet units in only three of the "peoples' democracies," Hungary, Romania and Poland.

It went on:

"With a view to insuring mutual security . . . the Soviet government is ready to examine with other Socialist countries participating in the Warsaw Treaty the question of Soviet troops stationed on the territory of the above-mentioned countries."

The Soviet troops in Poland, Hungary and Romania are there under terms of the Warsaw Pact, a Russian-commanded mutual defense alliance formed last year by the Soviet Union and her East European allies.

Helmets for Help

Crippled Children Aided by U. S. Army Air Force

As a result, Jimmy Mason's many spills no longer raise bumps on his head — and others in his school class are just about the happiest jet "pilots" anywhere.

* * *

A few weeks ago Jimmy tugged at his braces and began trying to walk. After several attempts, he managed to take a few steps at a time. But he always wound up by falling.

Jimmy was unable to raise his arms to protect himself, and each fall raised a new bump or marked him with a new cut.

Still, he kept trying.

The other day his school teacher at Samuel Gompers Memorial Clinic, Ted Hollingsworth, decided to equip Jimmy with a football helmet and face guard.

* * *

The rig protected Jimmy against head injuries, but, says Hollingsworth, it also "made him feel different" from the seven other crippled children in his class.

Jimmy began wearing the helmet with pride, but another problem popped up. Hollingsworth detected a trace of envy on the part of the other pupils.

The teacher turned to nearby Luke Air Force Base for help and the air force came on the run.

* * *

The airmen brought helmets for the seven other pupils, a collection of model planes and certificates activating the class as the "Jet Pilot Squadron."

* * *

Matheson admitted he was "a pushover from the start" of the project. "You see," he said, "when I was a kid, a collapsed spine put me in a crippled children's hospital for a year. I guess I understand."

Estes Shaking Michigan Hands

Raps Pork Buying Plan as GOP Farm Politics in Face of Defeat

BATTLE CREEK (AP) — The Democratic party today threw Estes Kefauver's Farm Belt oratory and factory break handshaking talents into the battle for Michigan's 20 electoral votes.

* * *

The vice presidential nominee started his Michigan swing here by denouncing what he called "the complete political nature of yesterday's announcement of a federal pork purchase program."

Most of the day was set aside for plane and car hops to automobile plants to shake hands with workmen as they changed shifts.

Aiming at both groups in a prepared talk, Kefauver said farm prices have dropped for the fourth successive month and "farm equipment plants are the first to feel the off-farm effect of a farm depression."

* * *

The candidate said that last year "the Republicans refused to institute a pork buying program." He continued:

"This year — as they face a landslide political defeat in the farm country—they are rushing a 100-million-dollar pork and lard purchase program into the breach to hold up prices in this immediate period.

"Can you imagine anything more hyprocritical than Benson (Secretary of Agriculture) accusing the Democrats of playing politics with the farm programs and professing that he never does?"

* * *

Last night Kefauver told a news conference that "a large part of the burden for what is happening today in the Middle East must rest on Secretary of State Dulles. He commented, "I don't know how it will turn out, but maybe France and Britain will be on one side with Israel while the Soviet Union, Egypt and perhaps this country will be on the other. If it turns out this way, it would be a sad commentary on the whole handling of the Mideast problem.

Kefauver also called on President Eisenhower to tell the country whether reports are true that the National Security Council had recommended a suspension of H-bomb tests but that the administration decided against such a step when Democratic candidate Adlai Stevenson advocated it.

'M' Engineers Study Wheels

Investigation Expected to Determine Their Reaction to Conditions

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — University of Michigan engineers have reverted to the age of the caveman in their probe of one of man's earliest inventions—the wheel.

The investigation seeks to learn about wheels, big and small, and how they react under various conditions.

To do this, the engineers have built a 40-foot trough in the university's new automotive engineering laboratory and they fill it with sand, mud, clay, rocks and other off-road materials. Then they tow the wheels through and measure the amount of resistance, slippage and skinning.

"We are trying to establish a mathematical theory for predicting the performance of a full-scale vehicle," explained Mechanical Engineering Professor Edward T. Vincent, in charge of the project.

Sponsoring the study is the Detroit Arsenal of the Army Ordnance Corps.

The research starts by testing a plain wheel, 12 inches in diameter in a trough filled with fine sand of uniform grains which absorb little moisture. Once the surveyors understand the problems of this situation, they add more and more features which create newer, more complex problems.

Eventually, they hope to simulate the passage of tandem wheels or tank tracks through soupy mud or across rocky terrain, Prof. Vincent said.

18—RETAIL MER —

Retail Merchants to Again Sponsor Christmas Parade

Colored movies of last year's "Christmas - On - Wheels" parade highlighted a noon meeting yesterday of the production committee for the 1956 edition of the parade.

This year's parade, sponsored by the Retail Merchants Assn. of the Chamber of Commerce, will be Saturday, Dec. 1 at 9:30.

Thirty churches and schools have signified their intentions of having floats in the ninth annual parade.

Capt. A. J. Largent, member of the Michigan National Guard, will be parade marshal, while Gerard A. Poehlman, assistant manager of the Chamber, will be executive director.

Brandon Township Scene of Car Crash

James K. Hood, 16, of 9600 Clarkston Rd., Clarkston, is in Pontiac General Hospital today with head injuries received last night when the car he was riding in hit a tree in Brandon Township.

He was a passenger in a car driven by James Ison, 18, of 10140 M15, Clarkston, who had only minor bruises.

British Chappie Not Talking About Anything

LANSING (AP)—A Lansing State Journal reporter received a lesson in British reticence Monday.

As a part of a demonstration of the wonders of the electronic age and the Trans-Atlantic telephone for the Lansing Exchange Club, reporter Charles Larson was supposed to interview a representative of the London Times on the European situation.

Larson reported the phone interview went like this:

"How does the Hungarian situation look to you over there?"

"Why about the same as it does in America, I suppose. You have access to the same information we do here."

"Yes, but we were wondering how you British people feel about it?"

"Oh, I'm sorry, awfully, but I cawn't tell you that."

"Why not?"

* * *

"What is the British feeling on the forthcoming election in the United States?"

"Oh my. You people know more about your election than we do."

"But what do you think about it over there?"

"So sorry. Cawn't express an opinion on that. Cawn't get mixed in the politics of other countries, you know."

The conversation was getting nowhere and the phone bill was running up. Larson signed off with:

"Thank you very much, sir. May I have your name, please?"

"Oh no. Awfully sorry, you know. We on the Times must remain anonymous."

Reo, Army Go Over $13 Million Contract

LANSING (INS) — Negotiations on a contract for production of 13 million dollars worth of 2½-ton Army trucks were started today by ordinance officers and officials of Reo Motors in Lansing.

Col. Edward D. Mohlere, Detroit Ordnance District commander said the negotiations were ordered by Washington, apparently as part of the Defense Department's policy of channelling military contracts into areas hard-hit by unemployment.

Arrest Nets Three

Alert Pontiac Police checking a suspicious car last night arrested two youths and a juvenile boy after discovering the auto was reported stolen from Bay City, they said.

Held are Jesse Gonzalez, 18, and Norberto J. Gonzalez, 19, both of Saginaw. The boy was turned over to Oakland County Children's Home.

Bay City Police said the car was stolen yesterday. Officers Peyton Johnson and James A. Teal Jr. spotted the car at Dawson Alley and the Grand Trunk Western Railway tracks.

Double Celebration

MIDWEST CITY, Okla. (AP) — M. Sgt. Marion M. Lynch celebrated his 36th anniversary with the armed forces, first with the Army, then with the Air Force, on June 19. On the same day, his son, John J. Lynch, was sworn into the Air Force. "He's following in his old man's footsteps," the father grinned. Lynch is stationed at Tinker Air Force base here.

Milford to Re-Value Taxed Property

2 Towns Join for Appraisal

Brighton Sharing Plan; Milford Sets Hearing on Rezoning

MILFORD—Plans are under way between this community and Brighton for a joint tax assessment appraisal.

Members of the two governing groups met jointly here on Monday night and voted to hire the E. T. Wilkens Assocs. of Lincoln, Neb., to handle the appraisal of properties in both towns.

With Brighton Mayor Albert Cole and council members was City Manager James Quigley, who presented data and information about the tax roll project.

In other action of the Milford village council, approval was granted for Camp Dearborn's use of Milford disposal facilities.

The nearby camp operated by the City of Dearborn will pay $2,500 in quarterly installments and will construct and maintain all necessary equipment.

A hearing has been set for Nov. 19 on the rezoning of property of Dunitz and Klein, real estate developers, on Commerce street. The company in their second appeal for rezoning, has asked a change from residential to commercial.

Hans Brock was hired by the council as Village Heating Installation Inspector, with the job created due to the $300,000 natural gas installation now in progress in Milford.

A zoning ordinance amendment was approved by council members to regulate the construction of new buildings. The Planning Commission is now working on rezoning the village and the new amendment will be a temporary measure for new real estate developers.

The people of Highland have requested that Milford Police Department be connected by radio to the Highland police.

As soon as the Highland department can install a radio, councilmen voted that the service be extended.

Square Dancing to Start Soon in New Classes

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Square Dance instruction for adults in Waterford Township is being offered by the recreation department, beginning next Wednesday at the Community Center on Williams Lake Road.

Instruction, featuring fundamental and advanced steps popular in the mid-West, will be given Wednesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 p.m. for six consecutive weeks by Mr. and Mrs. Warren Allen of Waterford Township.

"This instructional program is being offered in response to numerous calls, made this fall, requesting square dance instruction," states Recreation Director Tom Belton.

Registration can be made at the door, but only people registering in couples will be accepted. High-school-age boys and girls may register if in couples.

Set Party at Thomas

IMLAY CITY—The annual meeting of the Congregational Church will be Thursday, with a potluck supper at 6:30 in the Parish House. The business meeting will follow.

5,173 Attending Walled Lake Schools

Enrollment Up 10 Per Cent a Year

(Editor's Note: This is the third in a series of articles about Walled Lake and its current rapid growth).

"Our enrollment is increasing at the rate of 10 per cent a year", he said, "which is well above the state and county averages. I predict that by 1965 or 1970 we will have a system of at least 15,000 students. Today we have 5,173.

"We are happy to say that all our students are on full day schedules and we hope to remain on that basis", said Supt. Smart. "The building of the big new Lincoln plant in our district will help to bolster our tax resources as we have been almost wholly a residential area in the past.

"We need to increase teachers' salaries. Our starting salaries now are about average for this general area, but our maximums are below some. As a result we are losing some good teachers and we are failing to employ others who prefer to go to districts where they may attain higher maximum salaries later on.

"Every 500 students means 20 additional teachers. Then the regular 10 per cent turnover in teachers which we are now experiencing means 20 that have to be replaced."

Walled Lake's school district includes 50 square miles. This was the original consolidated school district in Oakland County. When formed it was one of the largest districts in the United States.

ONE OF LARGEST

Today that no longer is true. In fact there are several in Oakland County that are larger, but it is still one of the larger districts in the county.

The fact that consolidation is the general rule today shows that the people of Walled Lake were on the right track many years ago when they set up their consolidated system.

Walled Lake district has seven elementary schools, a junior high and a new senior high school building. The new senior high opened in 1954, and a gymnasium was added last year. There are 181 public school teachers and the 1956-7 budget runs $1,392,727.

"The demand for increased services felt by all of our governmental units has brought about a competition for the limited number of tax dollars and sound thinking and good leadership will be needed during the next few years."

In the last two years several special services have been added by the schools. Visiting teachers and speech correctionists have been employed, and facilities have been provided for retarded children, orthopedic cases, hard of hearing, etc.

Mr. Smart believes that new highways will speed up the rate of growth during the coming years. He cited the county's decision to extend Northwestern Highway, and mentioned the new Grand River expressway and forecast a doubling of the area's population by 1970.

He said that a Ford official had informed him that industrial surveys showed that normally 80 per cent of the employes of any plant live within a few miles of it. From this figure he feels sure that many employes of the new Lincoln plant will soon move out into the Walled Lake, Wixom, Novi area.

ENROLLMENT REVEALS

Mr. Smart produced school enrollment figures which reveal the rapid increase in population for the immediate future.

School enrollment totaled 3,321 in 1951. It is 5,173 today and by 1961 it probably will be 7,421 according to the schools' growth charts.

In addition to its public schools, between 300 and 400 children in the Walled Lake area attend St. Williams parochial school, over which the Rev. Fr. John Foley presides.

* * *

"Any time you get a Californian to admit a place in Michigan is growing faster, that is news," says Voorheis. "And yet that is just what happened here recently. Earl Miles, a resident of Hollywood, Calif., was visiting his brother, L. D. Miles of Walled Lake. He declared that Walled Lake is the fastest growing area in the United States.

Dick Roach, who has been engaged in real estate development for many years in the Walled Lake area, forecasts a 500 per cent increase in population in the next five years.

"I came out of the Walled Lake High School 25 years ago", says Roach. "The schools had 450 pupils then. Today there are 5,000. That is a 500 per cent increase. I believe we will get the same percentage of increase in the next five years.

"The new Lincoln plant will have some effect on Walled Lake's growth", he went on, "but its indirect effect will be much greater than the direct effect of this plant and its employment. The Ford plant is attracting other industry to come this way. There has never been so much industrial activity. Almost every day new industries inquire about possible sites.

Big 3 Break Wide Apart on Proper Action in Mideast

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP)—Relations between the United States and its chief European allies in the Middle East crisis collapsed into a dangerous state of confusion and disunity today.

* * *

A crack which had developed in recent months broke wide when Britain and France spurned a peace appeal by President Eisenhower and ordered their troops into key positions on Egyptian territory along the Suez Canal. Their announced aim was to guarantee access to the canal in the face of Israel's military thrust into Egypt.

U.S. officials, some angry and some shocked, were frankly uncertain what the consequences would be either in the turbulent Middle East or in the broader framework of the Western alliance.

It seemed evident that the split had wrecked the 1950 agreement in which the three nations undertook to maintain the balance of power in the Mideast and to prevent any aggression.

* * *

Some authorities here believe intervention in the Middle East may prove to be disastrous by uniting the Arab world against Britain and France. If a prolonged state of war should develop, pipelines carrying oil for Europe could be cut and shipping in the Suez Canal could become hazardous. That would have a devastating effect, imposing an economic drain which coupled with the costs of fighting in the Middle East, the British and French are ill prepared to bear.

What the United States would do in such a situation is not certain. If Washington held to the view that the British and French brought these troubles on themselves, it might be less willing to help out with Western Hemisphere oil than if the difficulties had been brought on primarily by Egypt.

The major immediate aim of U.S. policy is to try by all available resources of diplomacy to keep the Middle East fight from spreading.

American officials were dismayed that the Middle Eastern crisis with its remarkable complications—which saw the United States and Russia voting together against Britain and France in the United Nations last night—has so largely eclipsed developments in Hungary and in Russia's relations with its Eastern European satellites.

* * *

As one official put it, "The world may lose sight of the fact that freedom is winning its greatest battle in 10 years of struggle with Soviet communism."

Eisenhower made his appeal for Britain and France to reverse their announced intention to put troops near the Suez Canal in mid-afternoon yesterday. White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said the appeal was delivered to British Prime Minister Anthony Eden and French Premier Guy Mollet.

* * *

The statement made clear that Eisenhower had received his first word of the British and French intentions through news dispatches.

Exchange of information between Britain and France on one hand and this country on the other had been dropping off for some time. Some officials feel there has been a virtual blackout on communications with London.

"The President expressed his ernest hope," Hagerty said, "that the United Nations organization would be given full opportunity to settle the items in controversy by peaceful means instead of by forceful ones.

"This government continues to believe that it is possible by such peaceful means to secure a solution which would restore the armistice conditions between Israel Egypt as well as to bring about a just settlement of the Suez Canal controversy."

* * *

Eisenhower got his reply within a matter of hours when Britain and France vetoed in the U. N. Security Council a U. S. plan to end the military action. Russia voted with the United States.

State Department officials made no attempt to conceal a growing suspicion, for which apparently they had no hard evidence, that the French and possibly the British had known ahead of time of Israel's plan to launch a major military operation against Egypt two days ago.

The reasoning was that with the Middle East in turmoil the British and French would have opportunity to regain control of the Suez Canal by military means. Ever since the canal was nationalized by Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser July 26, Eisenhower and Secretary of State Dulles have urged negotiation and not force.

* * *

There is a strong feeling in official quarters here that in attacking Egypt, Israel was being used as a decoy for the British and French.

For Israel, the profit in such an operation could be a gain in Arab territory.

The British government's primary concern is regarded here as being for the canal itself. The French government is believed to be activated primarily by a desire to break Nasser's prestige so that he may no longer provide effective support for Arab rebels against French rule in North Africa.

* * *

Officials believe that if and when the present crisis is brought under control, the wounds of disagreement among the Big Three can be healed with reasonable success because in so many fields the Western powers have common interests. However, on many issues it may be difficult or impossible to achieve the degree of cooperation which the Western powers have enjoyed in the past.

Your PTA Is Planning:

Insight into Class Work at Schools on Thursday

Arithmetic, toys, and classroom facilities will star at tomorrow night meetings of Parents and Teachers in area schools.

Waterford Township

"Your Child and His Curriculum" is the topic of the program planned by the Williams Lake PTA for Thursday evening.

* * *

A short business meeting is scheduled for 8 p.m. after which parents will go to their child's room to discuss with the teacher the aims and objectives of that particular grade, and ways of attaining those objectives.

A baked goods and apron sale is also planned.

* * *

"An Inside View of Your Child's School" will be presented by the teachers and Principal Donald Smith of Stringham School tomorrow at 8 p.m. for PTA members.

Following the regular business meeting, the parents will retire to their children's rooms where the teachers will present a general review of their daily activities.

Refreshments will be served by the Brownies and Girl Scouts of the school.

* * *

Plans are being made for a Pancake Supper to be served at the school November 12th, from 5:30 to 7:30 p.m.

CENTENNIAL CELEBRATED — North Branchers of the Methodist Church of North Branch this week marked the 100th year of Methodist organization with a combined harvest festival and centennial service. Guest preacher was the Rev. Joseph Edwards of Lansing, area bishop of Evangelism. Mrs. Clara G. Spencer and Lilly Porritt were honored for longest membership records, since 1889. Buffet lunch was served by the Methodist Men's Club.

MFC Approves of School Plans

OK Million Dollar Work in South Oakland, Orion and Clarkston Plans

LANSING — School construction in Lake Orion, Clarkston, Oak Park, Royal Oak, and Southfield Township was given the stamp of approval yesterday as the Municipal Finance Commission voted on their finance plans.

Bonds totaling $2,400,000 will be issued by the Royal Oak School district for a new phase in a $6,900,000 overall construction program authorized in 1955.

Another sizable bond issue is the $2,500,000 one approved for the school district of the cities of Oak Park, Royal Oak and Southfield Township for new buildings.

Also approved were bond sales of:

$400,000 by Lake Orion Community School District, to complete a school improvement program now under way.

$375,000 by Clarkston Community School District, for assorted local school improvements.

Multiple Car Crash Injures Two Persons

One person was hospitalized and another slightly hurt when a car went off the road and struck a parked vehicle resulting in a chain accident involving four autos yesterday.

Frederick Newton, 62, of Detroit, driver of the car which went off the highway, is under treatment at Pontiac General Hospital for multiple face cuts. Released by the hospital after treatment for cuts was Mrs. Joseph Jenks, 41, of 179 W. Mill St., Ortonville.

The other cars parked when struck were operated by Ronald Hicks, 17, of 3040 Deland St., Drayton Plains, and Phyllis J. Armstrong, 30, of 630 Bowan St., Drayton Plains.

The pileup occurred at the A & P market in Drayton Plains. State police said Newton's car went out of control and into the store parking lot, striking the year of the Jenks vehicle which in turn moved forward and hit another, pushing it into the fourth one.

Police say Newton will be charged with reckless driving when he leaves the hospital.

Ladies Group Slates Benefit Breakfast, Lunch

WATERFORD—The Ladies Auxiliary of the Waterford Community Church is sponsoring a breakfast and luncheon at 9:30 a.m. and noon respectively, Thursday at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Giddings, 6180 Van Syckle Ave. There will be a business meeting following the luncheon.

* * *

The public has been invited to attend the breakfast and lunch, proceeds of which will go to the kitchen fund.

Ask Golden Agers to Lake Orion Event

LAKE ORION — In hopes of starting a Golden Age group, so popular in many communities, the Lake Orion Women's Club will sponsor a party for all "pioneer folks" of the area at 1:30 p.m. tomorrow.

Mrs. Frank Mills says coffee and conversation is planned. Transportation and other information is available by calling Mrs. William Anderson.

X Rays for Bob Hope

Troy Listens to Requests on Twelve Town

TROY — Meeting today in concern over Troy's injunction on the Twelve Town drain project, Troy's attorney and a city commissioner have been directed by the Troy commission to "go and listen."

The drain project's attorney has asked that Troy allow a 30-day relief in its injunction, protesting the assessment of 2,400 an acre for 900 acres within the city.

The meeting was set for 3 p.m. today at the corporation office in Pontiac.

Troy May Vote on Bar Sales

Liquor Issue Is Raised by Committee, Awaits Voter Petition

TROY — A vote on whether liquor by the glass will be sold in this city, which has four bars for its approximate 15,000 population, has been suggested by the city's liquor committee.

A new law requires petitions of 35 voters who cast votes for secretary of state in the last election, according to City Manager O. G. Holway. Before the law passed in August, earlier, the vote was mandatory within 60 days after incorporation.

The city has relatively few bars for its size, Holway says, because of its fast growth in population.

A state regulation allows one bar per 2,500 people. In the last census in 1950, Troy's area of 32 square miles had only 10,037, Holway reports.

Bird Fan to Talk to Garden Clubsters

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Mrs. Harriett Woolfenden of Birmingham will be the guest speaker when the Waterford Branch of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association meets tomorrow at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Charles Wood, 3257 Whitfield Court.

Mrs. Woolfenden's topic will be "My Bird Friends." Mrs. Robert Materna and Mrs. Alton Banfield will be co-hostesses.

Israelis Capture Warship, Down 7 Egyptian Planes

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP) — Israel today claimed the capture of a warship, the destruction of seven planes and the smashing of a big convoy of vehicles as the first fruits of its drive into Egypt.

* * *

Israeli naval units captured the warship, the 1,000-ton frigate Ibrahim Awal after a battle in early morning darkness off Haifa, watched by thousands ashore.

The planes were downed by Israeli fighters in night and early morning dogfights. The Israeli army spokesman who announced the victories did not specify where they took place.

The convoy was attacked by Israeli planes while moving in formation eastward from Ismailia, on the Suez Canal.

* * *

The spokesman again did not specify the exact location of the attack, but last reports placed the Israeli forces 10 miles from the canal. They were said to have taken up positions there along the "ultimatum line." This is the distance from the canal at which Britain and France ordered Egyptian and Israeli forces to halt.

Premier David Ben-Gurion was reliably reported to have replied to President Eisenhower that the Israeli drive was started because Israel was morally obligated to defend the lives of its people.

The text of Ben-Gurion's reply to the President's urgent appeal to keep the peace was not made public here.

* * *

But the white-haired Jewish leader was reported to have told Eisenhower that Egyptian President Nasser's "ruthless policy of expansion" had blocked efforts to establish peace in the Middle East.

The Premier was said to have expressed deep appreciation for the U. S. efforts to lessen tension in the area.

But he declared Nasser had renewed "murderous attacks on Israeli civilians," and set up a unified military command with Syria and Jordan with the "declared objective" of destroying Israel. He said 24 Israelis had been killed or wounded in Egyptian attacks in the six days before the Israeli blow at Egypt.

* * *

Israeli officials said no proper name has yet been found for the Israeli military operation. They have previously described it as too big for a raid and not big enough for a war.

They said today it was limited in its size and aim, but differed from previous reprisal raids on specific outposts in that it was directed against "the center of planning."

The operation, officials said, was mostly in unpopulated areas where only commands camps are found. There were no air bombings by Israel, officials said, despite the element of surprise, until after Egypt had started air attacks and utmost care was taken not to harm civilian properties and lives, the officials added.

Russians Flee From Budapest

Leave Dead and Run; Rebels Take Revenge Hanging Secret Police

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — The Russian retreat from Budapest appeared in full swing today. Soviet tanks — leaving their dead and wounded — headed away under a shower of leaflets from Hungarian air force planes threatening to bomb them if they tarried.

* * *

Russian armored forces guarding the Danube River bridges withdrew at dawn. Others fell into the lines of retreat throughout the morning.

The Hungarian army, now completely on the side of the revolution, trucked in fresh platoons to relieve street patrols of the ragged insurgents. The army took over the citadel, a fortress commanding the entire city, and ringed it with antitank guns.

Rebel anger which had been directed against the Russians was channeled entirely for the moment against remnants of the equally detested AVH, the Red Hungarian secret police.

* * *

Vengeance hunts for the members of the AVH, which Premier Imre Nagy's government has ordered dissolved, developed all over the revolt-torn city.

Unofficial Hungarian sources said 130 secret policemen, captured yesterday in a battle for Budapest's Communist party headquarters, were hanged by their heels and beaten to death. A precinct party headquarters was a prime target in the street fighting today.

Expunging of Soviet signs was accelerated with the government's announcement of its decision to end the one-party dictatorship and revive the multiparty governmental system that prevailed before the Reds took over in 1948.

* * *

The Red army memorial — a statue of a Russian infantryman —was toppled from its stand. Workmen chipped the stone hammer-and-sickle emblems from the Danube bridges. Giant metal red stars, ripped from building fronts, littered the streets.

Renamed in Ireland

Faith, Harvest Were Halloween's Start

With a background in religion and pre-Christian harvest festival, Halloween has a counterpart in many parts of Ireland called the Vigil of Saman.

* * *

In ancient times at the Druids festival in Ireland called the Vigil of Saman.

In ancient times at the Druids festival in Ireland, says Professor William R. Leslie of the University of Michigan, Saman, the lord of death, called together all wicked souls that had been condemned to occupy the souls of animals.

* * *

Back in the ninth century, the Roman church celebrated the vigil of the Allhallows Mass on October 31st which was Allhallows Eve — hence the name for the day.

The following two days were All Saints Day and All Souls Day, when the church would celebrate the memory of the whole company of the dead.

* * *

"We think of Hallowe'en in this respect as a Christian festival," Professor Leslie says. "However it was originally adopted from the Druids celebration of the Harvest."

Years ago in England on this day, the bones of the dead people were burned in a funeral fire, or bone fire. This is where the name "Bonfire" originated.

"On the night of this fire," Professor relates "everyone attending would put a stone with their names on it around the base of the fire. Those whose stones were burned over the next morning were expected to be dead within the year."

The direct contrast to the Christian celebration of Hallowe'en was the Witches Sabbath and the celebration of the Black Mass in old Europe. Instead of honoring Christ, all of the evil people would honor Satan.

Professor Leslie says "This is the night that evil spirits, goblins and such would march around and that's why witches and goblins are so popular on Hallowe'en.

Bobbing for apples, another Hallowe'en tradition, got its origin back in medieval times, when the children would play with a candle and an apple.

"They would form a circle with their hands tied in back of them, and one person would stand in the center twirling a stick with an apple on one end and a lit candle on the other.

The trick was to bite the apple and avoid getting burned.

Not just anyone could wear fancy shirts in the olden days in England. In 1533 Parliment decreed: "No one under the rank of knight may wear a plaited shirt or shirts garnished with silk, gold, or silver."

Great Jumping Soybeans

WASHINGTON — World production of soybeans reached an all-time high of 764,000,000 bushels in 1955, an increase of 6 per cent from 1954 and roughly two thirds larger than the average yearly prewar output.

Playgrounds Increase

NEW YORK—The National Recreation Association reports that in the past five years the number of publicly owned playgrounds used by children, young people, and adults, particularly in the summer, has grown from 15,000 to an estimated 20,000.

Hollywood Headlines

Holden Will Go to Ceylon for Role in 'River Kwai'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The last time I talked with William Holden he said he thought he'd stay put for awhile, but Bill loves to travel so he is leaving next week for Ceylon to star in "The Bridge on the River Kwai."

Sam Spiegel, who is producing this dramatic story, sold Bill a bill of goods over the long-distance telephone and then flew to Hollywood to cinch it.

Every day someone has called saying he's trying to get Bill for this or that picture, but Bill has chosen "The Bridge on the River Kwai," with David Lean directing. It starts Nov. 15 with Alec Guinness and Jack Hawkins in the cast.

The location is such a tough one that Mrs. Holden will not go with Bill, but she'll meet him in Honolulu after he finishes the picture.

So far the favored actress for the Helen Morgan role in "Why Was I Born?" is Anne Bancroft. Mike Curtiz took a test of Anne and liked it so well he brought it to the attention of Jack Warner, who shared his interest.

But before Anne is actually chosen, both Julie London and Julie Wilson will be tested. Miss Wilson gave up her role in "Pajama Game" to come out on a gamble that her test will prove good.

Not since Scarlet O'Hara in "Gone With the Wind" has there been as much excitement over any role. The final choice will be made at the end of the week.

LIZ WILL RETIRE

I sat next to Elizabeth Taylor and Mike Todd at Chasen's at dinner. Mike was off to New York, and Liz drove him to the airport.

She verified my exclusive story that she will retire from the screen and will marry Mike as soon as possible.

Mike said, "You were so right in your story. I don't feel marriage can be successful when the wife is an actress. Name me any actress who is happily married." So I named a few.

Liz and Mike go to Juarez, or some other place close by, and get Liz' divorce as soon as she finishes "Raintree County." "We can always get married again later," Mike said.

Dorothy Lamour telephoned from New York to say that her husband, William Ross Howard II, undergoes surgery Thursday at Johns-Hopkins Hospital in his native Baltimore. Bill has a series of cysts on his foot and it has been almost impossible for him to walk.

Dorothy's career is booming. She played to capacity houses on all of her tours, and she opens at New York's Versailles Nov. 14. "I only hope Bill will be well enough to be with me,' 'said Dorothy.

Bill himself got on the phone and said, "I'll be there, even if I have to hobble on crutches."

THE BITE ON ORSON

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: One reason attorney Bartley Crum came to the coast was to try to pin down Orson Welles on contributing to the support of his daughter, Rebecca Welles, or else establishing a trust fund. Since awesome Orson and Rita Hayworth separated he has never contributed to the child's financial welfare.

Nico Charisse, the dance master, and his wife have dated the stork for spring. He's the ex-husband of Cyd Charisse.

Saw Steve Allen at Chasen's. He flew to Hollywood to get some talent for his show. He said the doctor wouldn't let Jayne (Mrs. A.) fly.

Marie Wilson is winging to Detroit for the City of Hope benefit. She's substituting for Lana Turner whose doctor has refused to let her travel yet.

Everyone at MGM will give a sigh of relief when "Raintree County" is finished. Again Montgomery Clift is out because of an automobile accident.

June Allyson hosts a baby shower Friday for Mrs. Cesare Danova, wife of the Italian opera star who is being groomed for "Ben Hur" by MGM.

The Television Academy of Arts and Sciences ball on New Year's Eve will be reigned over by "Miss Cineremmy," to be chosen Nov. 26 in a beauty contest.

Premature Release

ST. LOUIS (AP) — George White wasn't feeling well. So the 53-year-old man had himself admitted to a hospital for a checkup.

Doctors made tests and the next day released him.

A few minutes after his release they were examining White all over again.

U.S. Joins Search

MANILA—In the past few years, with American aid, sanitary drinking water has replaced polluted supplies from ancient wells. Nearly 1,800 new wells have been completed, supplying pure drinking water to 400,000 rural persons in the Philippines.

About 7.25 million Americans over the age of 65 get benefit checks from the social security program as of 1955.

From the Press Box

BY BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The Bloomfield Hills school has been the prep pioneer of the sport in the state having first included it on the athletic curriculum 22 years ago.

Yet during this entire period Crane soccer teams, forced to play their entire schedule outside of Michigan, did not enjoy their first winning season until 1954.

That was the year when Ben Snyder took the soccer reins at Cranbrook and the team finished with a 6-2 mark.

Last year it was a 5-3 mark, and thus far this season with the help of Holm Sembach, a foreign exchange student from the true soccer-land in Germany, the Cranes are shooting for their first perfect season in history.

The young German, a 17-year-old son of a European soccer star, has learned one obvious thing about American athletics. "There is a more intensive desire to win in America," said Sembach. "It's not so intensive in Germany."

Sembach feels that American soccer is more aggressive while in Germany the stress is on skill.

That skill has paid off for Cranbrook, Snyder will admit, pointing to the fact that Sembach has set an all-time Cranbrook scoring record with 18 goals in six games and two more to play.

Along with his enthusiasm for bringing soccer to its greatest heights at Cranbrook, Snyder is hoping for the day in the near future when high schools in Michigan will add the game as a varsity sport.

"Soccer is simple to stage," said Snyder, "a ball and a field is all that's needed, and it enables a lot of kids to play ball who would ordinarily not play in other sports."

It is also interesting to note that nearly 200 colleges now have soccer as a varsity sport. Just recently Michigan State initiated the sport for earning an athletic award.

"There are many high schools in Michigan which could expand their athletic program and permit more boys to participate by starting a varsity soccer team," figures Snyder.

Cranbrook itself has provided some great players to the soccer field, including Tom Tyree, an All-America goalie at West Point in 1945 and John Rice a star at Dartmouth a few years back.

Of players of the last two years at Cranbrook, five are starring at Eastern schools, including Leo Butzell, an All-America candidate at Cornell and Shaw Emmons at Denison.

Showing that soccer can be played by boys of all physical statures, Snyder proudly mentions Sig Snyder, no relation, a 90-pound senior starring on the present unbeaten team.

At Cranbrook one of every three boys play soccer and get their start in the 7th grade. "It's like a farm system whereas by their sophomore year we get enough good boys for the varsity," added Snyder.

"Only thing missing," said Snyder, "are a few high school teams from Michigan on the schedule." The Cranes play four games in the Inter-State Conference and four with Canadian teams.

Being the only prep school soccer team in the state is unique but also disadvantageous for Cranbrook.

BETTERS MARK — Murray Rose, 18-year-old Australian vegetarian, last night clipped 6.4 seconds off the world 1,500 meter freestyle swim record of 18:05.9 held previously by George Breen of the U.S. Rose set the new time in the final night of Australian Olympic trials at Melbourne.

U.S. Olympic Power in Sprint Events

NEW YORK (AP) — In the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki, the United States won gold medals in two of the three individual sprints—the 100 meters and 200 meters—and collected a third place in the 400 meters.

This year in Australia the Yanks should improve that record by one, meaning they should sweep the board.

In Helsinki they won one of the two relays—the 400 meters—and got a second in the other, the 1,600 meters. They should improve that, too, by one, meaning another sweep.

Like ham and eggs, Americans always have taken to the sprints and, barring an upset of major proportions, they should have no trouble winning all five events—a healthy collection of gold medals to start things.

In the 100-meter dash, Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian College, Ira Murchison of the Army and Thane Baker, also of the Army, will carry the banner. The 200-meter dash will have the same cast except that Andy Stanfield will replace Murchison. Lou Jones of the Army, Jim Lea of the Army Air Force and Charlie Jenkins of Villanova are the 400-meter men.

These runners also will form the nucleus of both the 400-meter and 1,600-meter relay teams, so if they can do as well as expected in their individual events, there is no risk in predicting relay victories, too.

There is a distinct possibility that Morrow, who has lost about as many races as Joe Louis did fights, will win both the 100 and 200. That hasn't been done since Jesse Owens turned the trick in 1936. He has a 10.2 100-meter and a 20.6 200 meter clocking to his credit.

"I feel that I am coming along just about right," says Morrow, a 20-year-old junior, "and I think I am just about at my peak. I think Murchison will be a big threat in the 100 and Baker in the 200."

Baker, of course, is no newcomer to this Olympic business. He was second to Stanfield in the 200 in '52. He, too, has a 10.2 100 and 20.6 200 in the books. He has been working out at Kansas State.

"The man I will have to beat seems to be Morrow," he says, indicating the respect they have for each other. "I know about what I will run as to time, so if I am beaten, it will be by a better man.

"I wasn't in condition at the tryouts in June. I had a pulled muscle on May 5 and another on June 15. But I think I should be at my peak in November."

Lea, who holds the world 400-yard record of 45.8, probably will trail Jones across the finish. The U.S. monopoly could be broken in the contest for third place in this event. Jenkins could do it, but veteran Russian Ardelion Ignatyev could break in.

Here, then are the predicted 1-2-3 finishes of the five events:

Owen Released by Boston Club

BOSTON (AP) — Mickey Owen, a former star catcher who has served as coach under Manager Mike Higgins the past two seasons, has been released by the Boston Red Sox.

The Red Sox announced yesterday that Higgins plans to go along with only four coaches, Jack Burns, Del Baker, Dave Ferriss and Paul Schreiber.

Casares in Lead

3 Battle for NFL Honors

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rick Casares of the Chicago Bears holds a 12-yard lead over Ollie Matson and Hugh McElhenny in the battle for National Football League ground-gaining honors, the latest league statistics disclosed today.

Casares, who scored four touchdowns last Sunday to take over the league's scoring leadership, has gained 458 yards on 94 carries to hold the ground lead for the second straight week.

Matson of the Chicago Cardinals and McElhenny of the San Francisco 49ers are tied for second place each with 446 yards gained, Matson on 85 attempts and McElhenny on 75 runs. Lenny Moore, prize rookie of the Baltimore Colts, has the top average among the ground gainers, 9.8 yards. He's gained 333 yards on 34 carries for sixth place.

The Bears have the league's top air arm as well as ground leader, as quarterback Eddie Brown retained his passing leadership for the second week in a row. Brown has completed 44 of 65 passes for 704 yards, a 10.8 average per pass, and six touchdowns.

Lamar McHan of the Cardinals remained in second place with 27 for 51, 498 yards gained, a 9.7 average and five TDs.

Casares, the sophomore back from Florida, vaulted in the scoring leadership on the wings of his four TDs last week. The Bears' ace now has 60 points on 10 touchdowns. Bobby Layne of the Detroit Lions, is second with 51 points.

Other leaders are:

Norman Van Brocklin of Los Angeles in punting with a 55-yard average; Karl Tasseff, Baltimore, and Frank Bernardi, Cardinals, punt returns, each averging 16 yards per return; Lynn Chandnois, Pittsburgh, kickoff returns, averaging 36.4 yards per runback, and Bobby Dillon, Green Bay, pass interceptions, five for 171 yards.

Yardage Total Drops for OU

Notre Dame Still Cuts Sooners' Offense Even With 40-0 Lacing

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Notre Dame's inexperienced linemen, who have had to shoulder the blame for most of the team's difficulties this season, should get some satisfaction out of their 40-0 licking by Oklahoma last Saturday.

They held the Sooners to 236 yards by rushing and passing combined—their lowest total since Oct. 10, 1953.

Instead of averaging 459.5 yards per game on total offense, the Sooners are down to a 414.6 yard average. And their rushing rate tumbled from 396.5 yards to 346.6 per game.

Both those figures still are good enough to lead all the major colleges. Only Navy, with 404.6 yards per game, is above the 400-yard mark and Southern California with 314.8 yards average, is the only other one above 300 by rushing.

See 1st Series Win Since 1924

Iowans Steamed Up for 'M'

IOWA CITY (AP) — Iowans are all steamed up about their undefeated football team and they will turn out in record numbers Saturday yelling for the first victory over Michigan since 1924.

A crowd of 58,400, largest to see a game in the state, will be in the enlarged stadium, to see if Iowa can get the job done.

Although Rose Bowl talk is taboo around the squad, nearly every football tongue in the tall Corn State is wagging about Iowa's chances of a Pasadena visit. A victory over Michigan or Ohio State, here Nov. 17, and a triumph at Minnesota Nov. 10 would land the Hawks in California.

Iowa, unchecked in five games and the surprise Western Conference leader with a 3-0 record, has been jinxed by Michigan since a 9-2 victory in 1924. There have been 12 games in the spasmodic series since that eventful year and all were Iowa defeats except a scoreless tie in 1929.

Saturday the Wolverines are coming here, and the enthusiastic Iowa fans are hoping the tide will turn at long last against a Michigan team defeated 20-7 last week by Minnesota.

Frankly, most Iowans are a bit amazed that Coach Forest Evashevski has brought his squad through victories over Indiana, Oregon State, Wisconsin, Hawaii and Purdue to a No. 7 rating in the national Associated Press poll. With seven players listed as 1955 starters lost by graduation, this was supposed to be a year of rebuilding.

Actually, Evashevski started his reconstruction in the final 1955 game. He opened with seven sophomores against Notre Dame and lost 17-14 on Paul Hornung's 28-yard field goal in the last two minutes.

The major problem was the lack of backfield speed.

Evashevski answered with a switch from his multiple offense to a winged T with single wing blocking and a balanced line. Evashevski has a lot of variations, all under the direction of quarterback Kenny Ploen who as a senior has developed into one of Iowa's best.

Texas' Price Gloomy Over Shortage of Good Players

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Ed Price, Texas football coach who has seen his effigy hanging three times in 10 days, summed up the current gloomy season with this analysis:

★ ★ ★

But he was quick to add: "I think we have a lot of fine boys playing their best. We need more good boys — with enough good boys we'll do very well."

Recalling his 1953 freshman team, Price said yesterday the fact that only three of those players are now on the varsity squad is the major reason for this year's dismal record of one win, five losses.

Yesterday's effigy of the coach was hanged from a tall light standard on a practice field on the campus. It was the third hanging since Oct. 21 but student and alumni leaders attached little significance to the episodes.

Price has one more year on his present $12,500 yearly contract and Athletic Director Dana X. Bible steps out next September. Some alumni are calling for Price's scalp and others think the university's Board of Regents will not make a move in this direction, leaving any resignation entirely up to the coach. Other alumni think Price will take over Bible's job, thus clearing the air for a young coach to be named head football coach.

Taking over in 1951, Price has an overall record of 33 wins, 23 losses and 1 tie. His Southwest Conference record is 20-11-1, including two conference losses this year. With rough opponents ahead, the Longhorns may wind up with the worst season's record since the 1938 team that lost eight of nine games.

Milford JV's Trim Laker 11 in Windup

Milford's Junior Varsity football team wound up its 1956 season Tuesday night at Milford with a convincing 33-0 victory over West Bloomfield. It was Milford's 5th win in six starts.

Quarterback Jim Scheibner scored two touchdowns and passed for another as the Little Redskins tallied twice in the 2nd quarter and once in each of the other three periods.

Scheibner hit pay-dirt on runs of 18 and 8 yards in addition to spotting Eddie Olds with a 35-yard aerial for another. John Zeeman galloped 83 yards for a touchdown and Terry Anderson went 30 yards with an intercepted pass. Scheibner, Zeeman and Anderson scored extra points.

Sophomore Guards Get MVC Linemen Honors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A pair of rugged sophomore guards who had their best day of the season, Detroit's Tom Niehaus and Oklahoma A&M's Vandiver Childs, tied for lineman of the week honors in Missouri Valley football.

Niehaus, a 195-pounder from Cincinnati, recovered one Boston College fumble, intercepted a pass, and knocked Boston halfback Henry Sullivan loose from the ball for another fumble which a teammate recovered. Detroit won, 12-7, ending a string of three close defeats.

"Niehaus played a steady and strong defensive game, as well as a fine game on offense," Titan coach Wally Fromhart said.

Vikings Holding 4th

By DAVE DILES
Michigan AP Sports Editor

The battle for the top spot in the Associated Press Class B high school poll has developed into a three-way tug-of-war among East Grand Rapids, East Lansing and Sault Ste Marie.

While upsets in last weekend's action shoved two teams—River Rouge and Portage—out of the rankings, the struggle for the position in the "Top Ten" became more severe than ever. The 10th ranked club, Grand Blanc, for example is just 19 points behind fifth-place Saginaw St. Andrew.

East Grand Rapids remained atop the ranks for the 3rd straight week following a 27-6 victory over Grandville. But the pioneers could show just a seven-point margin over powerful and undefeated East Lansing.

Sault Ste. Marie and Walled Lake retained their third and fourth spots, but the Soo with 99 points crept to within nine points of East Lansing, and Walled Lake—with seven straight wins—rested only a few more votes behind.

Out of last week's top ten, only two teams failed to emerge with victories. And both of them, River Rouge—whipped 13-6 by Dearborn Lowrey—and Portage, downed 25-6 by St. Joseph—took the big tumble.

Saginaw St. Andrew, winner of seven in a row, made a big jump from 10th to 5th place. Albion came from 8th to 6th while Romeo stayed in the 9th spot in the ratings.

Albion and St. Joseph are the only clubs in the "top ten" with defeats on their records. Ionia has one tie along with six victories.

Team, Record	Points
East Grand Rapids (7-0)	115
East Lansing (7-1)	108
Sault Ste. Marie (9-0)	99
Walled Lake (7-0)	81
Saginaw St. Andrew (7-0)	55
Albion (6-1)	49
St. Joseph (6-1)	45
Ionia (6-0-1)	45
Romeo (7-0)	42
Grand Blanc (7-0)	36

Others: Lake Shore 14, Lapeer 13, Pinconning 12, Coopersville 10, Portage and River Rouge 9, Grand Haven 8, Clawson 7, River Rouge Lourdes and Inkster Roosevelt 5, Kingsford 4, Kalamazoo State and Rochester 3, Charlotte 2.

Durocher, Hank Greenberg Confer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Leo Durocher was anything but lippy today about any offer he may have to return to baseball and manage the Cleveland Indians.

"Any statement will have to come from Hank Greenberg," said the former New York Giant manager, who met twice yesterday with Greenberg, the Indians' general manager. He declined to say if the talks would continue today.

Greenberg, visiting here with his friend and former Pittsburgh Pirate teammate Ralph Kiner, was not available for comment. Kiner is now general manager of the Indians' San Diego farm club.

A reliable source told The Associated Press that Durocher, now an NBC executive, was offered a fat salary to take over the Indians, who finished second last season in the American League. But, the source said, Greenberg balked when Durocher also demanded a sizeable chunk of the club's stock.

Durocher has said previously he would never manage again "just for a salary."

After yesterday's first meeting, Durocher told newsmen he had to talk to his wife, actress Laraine Day, and several NBC officials.

"We were both sounding each other out," Greenberg said after the first meeting. "I want to find out first whether Leo is really interested and if he is, we'll go on from there."

Surgery Job for Podres

BROOKLYN (AP) — Johnny Podres, the skinny Yankee killer, revealed today that he faces a spinal operation, but that he's going to pitch as long as possible before going under the knife.

The 24-year-old Brooklyn Dodger lefthander who beat the New York Yankees twice in the 1955 World Series, was discharged from the Navy less than a week ago, but he already has taken an off-season job as an automobile salesman.

★ ★ ★

"I'll go as far as I can before I get the operation," said Podres. "I certainly don't want it now.

Pee-Wee Football League Experiment Is Successful

An experiment in Pontiac midget football this year was a rousing success.

Last Saturday afternoon the Pee-Wee Football League, organized and sponsored on a voluntary basis by local merchants and PTA groups, completed its 1st season of existence.

Using Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department facilities at Beaudette and North Side parks, the Pee-Wee circuit featured competition among boys between the ages of 9 and 12 who did not weigh less than 55 or more than 110 pounds.

All youngsters who played in the newly-formed organization were at least in the 4th grade but not above the 6th.

Seven teams representing six elementary schools participated. League members were the Whitfield Cubs, Whitfield Lions, Wilson Rams, Emmanuel Crusaders, Scotch School, Webster and Bagley.

The Rams, coached by Sid Gregory and sparked by elusive halfback Jesse Hodge, won the championship with five wins and one tie. Bagley, coached by Mel Taylor, finished 2nd with three wins, one loss and a tie.

Officials, furnished by the Pee-Wee League Association, were Norm Andress, Carl Lyon, Mike Smith, Chuck White, Ervin Miller, Bob Farms and Tommy Matthews.

Coaches and players will be honored at a banquet in either late November or early December.

Rams	5	0	1
Bagley	3	1	1
Cubs	3	2	0
Crusaders	2	3	0
Lions	2	3	0
Scotch School	1	3	1
Webster	0	4	1

Error Leaves Al Kaline Off All-Star List

Tiger Ace Barely Missed Making AP's Major Loop Team

NEW YORK (AP) — Detroit's Al Kaline, who barely missed making The Association Press Major League All-Star team, selected yesterday by a vote of the Baseball Writers Assn. of America, was dropped from the second team listing through an error in tabulating.

Kaline received 79 votes, ranking fourth and losing out as a first team member when Boston's Ted Williams collected 83.

In copying the tabulations, The Associated Press inadvertently omitted Kaline's name from the second team and included Frank Robinson of Cincinnati, who actually was seventh in the balloting for the outfielders.

List of Unbeaten Prep Teams at 35

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The state's list of undefeated high school football teams is down to 35.

Figures released to The Associated Press today by its astute Kalamazoo statistician, Dick Kishpaugh, show that the biggest dropouts last week were Grosse Pointe, Portage, Dimondale, Waterford, Traverse City St. Francis and River Rouge.

Grosse Pointe dropped a 20-0 decision to another undefeated-untied team, Dearborn Fordson; River Rouge was ousted by a surprisingly strong Dearborn Lowrey Club 13-6; Portage was ousted by St. Joseph 25-6; Dimondale fumbled 10 times in a 19-0 loss to Vermontville; Waterford lost 12-7 to Walled Lake and St. Francis (Class C) dropped a close one to Class B Manistee 27-20.

MSU Lineup Continues to Change by Injuries

EAST LANSING (AP) — After five games, you can count five changes in the Michigan State starting football lineup.

Some of the players starting against Wisconsin Saturday were running with the third string before the season started.

Mostly, it's a case of the best understudies being moved up to take over for those injured in the football wars.

* * *

Les Rutledge will start at the other tackle in place of Joel Jones, recovering from an ankle sprain. Jones, however, is expected to see some game action.

Jim Hinesly again will start ahead of Dave Kaiser at left end. But Kaiser, for the first time since he banged an instep the second game of the season, is almost certain to see some game action.

* * *

Art Johnson, a sophomore, is the definite starter at right half — ahead of Walt Kowalczyk and Jim Wulff, both slowed by nagging leg ailments.

"We're hurting more than most people think," admitted coach Duffy Daugherty. "If we're as deep as some people think we are, now's the time to show it."

On the practice field, meanwhile, the after-defeat gloom that followed the Illinois upset has lifted a little.

Coaches drove the players hard in practice until after dark Tuesday, but there were a few quips to lighten the scene.

* * *

Sauer Says OK to Giant Pact

NEW YORK (INS)—The New York Giants, with a gaping hole in left field caused by the departure of Jackie Brandt to the army and in need of some right-handed slugging to back up Willie Mays, hope veteran Hank Sauer wil fill the bill.

The 37-year-old outfielder, who hit .298 before being released by the St. Louis Cardinals at the end of last season, okayed a Giant contract offered him yesterday in a phone conversation from his California home.

Tigers Obtain Dick Donovan

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers have announced the purchase of pitcher Dick Donovan's contract from Charleston of the American Association.

The 22-year-old righthander, a native of Ionia, has been in the Tiger organization since 1952. He had an 11-10 record this season with Buffalo of the International League.

Still Hope for Win

Chiefs, Trojans in PHS Home Finale

By H. GUY MOATS

With Friday's Saginaw Valley home finale for the Chiefs pitting Saginaw High's Trojans against the host club there promised today to be a real "battle of the havenots." Neither has won a Valley contest, but both have shown far better potentials at times, than their record indicates.

Game at Wisner Stadium will be the last time this fall the struggling Chiefs can make an all-out effort to come through for the home folks. Season's finale will take place in Flint's Atwood Stadium a week from Friday, against Northern's fast-striding Vikings, the state's No. 1 prep eleven.

Injuries and the loss of several players have cut the Chiefs overall effectiveness, particularly on defense against aerials. And that is one matter which has the PHS coaching staff worried. Chiefs have suffered much from a shaky aerial defense, and now, with Jim Shorter definitely out for Friday and Jim Hawkins having left the squad, there's a big problem left.

Chief coaches who have seen Trojans in action fear the Saginaw passing attack, particularly with the sensational throwing of junior quarterback Jones, whose prime target has been 6-5 Ron Frost, the former signal caller. Jones took over only a couple weeks ago and the shift of Frost to end, and No. 1 pass receiver, has made a big difference in Saginaw's attack.

Jones is credited with completing 9 of 14 tries for a total of 114 yards. His first pass against Flint Central two weeks ago was a 34-yard effort good for a TD, PHS coach Ed Graybiel recalled today.

"This is going to be one of our big thorns, Friday," says Graybiel. "You can see what kind of a problem it poses. Particularly so with Shorter out and Hawkins gone."

Mariles Stars in Garden

Gen. Humberto Mariles long to give the National Horse Show crowd a demonstration of just what they came to see.

* * *

The riding master from south of the border teamed with his top mount, Chihuahua II to win the Good Will Challenge Trophy, first of the big international events, at the opening of the show last night in Madison Square Garden.

* * *

Nor did victory come easy. At the end of the regulation round, Gen. Mariles was tied with Capt. Guillermo Aranda on San Isidro and Roberto Knoop up on Simbad, — both of Chile — and Ireland's Thomas Morony, riding Bally Nonty.

San Isidro and Simbad were second and third, respectively, while Bally Nonty, who won the event last year, was fourth, the result of two refusals and two knockdowns.

* * *

In the matinee low-score competition — the first of a series of three to be determined by a total low score — Canada's riders finished with eight faults. Chile was second with 12 and Ireland third with 20.

* * *

The United States was fourth with 32 and Mexico, the defender, was fifth with 84. Samuel Soberson caused Mexico's miseries by collecting 40 faults, the result of losing his way twice.

The American team piled up 20 of its 32 faults when Taggs Matador, with Frank Chapot riding, fell on the second jump. Chapot was thrown, but neither horse nor rider was hurt.

Raceway Holds Pontiac Night

JACKSON — Harness racing fans from the Pontiac area are having their night at the Jackson Raceway tonight, which is rewriting its all time wagering records this year.

President Leon Slavin of the half-mile pari-mutuel track announced that all fans from the Pontiac area will be admitted free of charge tonight by merely presenting this story from The Press at the pass gate.

"We have drawn well from the Pontiac-Birmingham area," said Slavin, "and many Pontiac area horses have been seen in action at the Raceway."

Hartack About Sure of Title

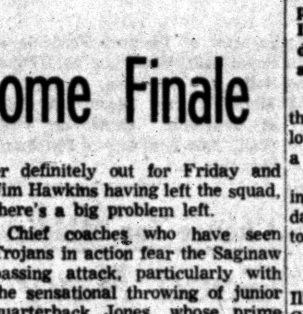

CAMDEN, N. J. (AP) — Jockey Willie Shoemaker is off on a seven-week vacation that virtually assures the 1956 riding championship for Willie Hartack.

Hartack now heads Shoemaker by four wins, 317-3-3, in their annual battle and seems certain to repeat as the nation's winningest rider for the second year in a row.

Shoemaker plans to break his vacation only once — to ride in the $50,000-added Vineland Handicap at Garden State Park here Nov. 6 on Brookmead Stable's Flower Bowl.

Big Bout Offered If Robinson Wins

MILWAUKEE (INS) — Middleweight boxing champion Sugar Ray Robinson can look forward to a $125,000 bout in Milwaukee if he is successful in defending his title against Gene Fullmer Dec. 12.

* * *

Milwaukee promoter Phil Valley said he sent a telegram yesterday to Robinson's training camp at Greenwood Lake, N. Y., offering him $125,000 to meet the winner of the Joey Giardello - Charley Cotten bout slated for Nov. 15 in Milwaukee.

If Robinson beats Fullmer, Valley said, he would stage the bout sometime in March.

Salaries Go Up, So Do Tiger Prices

DETROIT (AP) — New owners of the Detroit Tigers baseball club knew what they were doing when they upped the price of admission tickets and scheduled 21 night games for the coming season.

These moves, of course, are aimed at bringing in more revenue, and Tiger stockholders will need it, if only to meet higher salary demands of half the team.

Shortstop Harvey Kuenn, who topped the club in batting with a .332 average at the leadoff spot, served notice of what is to come when he came to terms on his 1957 contract.

Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr., named general manager by the Knorr-Fetzer syndicate which took over the Tigers from the Briggs family, declined to disclose salary terms. He did indicate, however, that Kuenn got a sizable boost over his reported 1956 pay of $28,500 in announcing the signing yesterday.

* * *

From there it is easy to calculate that the slugging infielder will be hauling down something in excess of $30,000 in his fifth full season in the Major Leagues, making him the highest paid player on the roster.

Third baseman Ray Boone drew a reported $30,000 this year, but is not expected to go over that figure next year.

Other players obviously are due for bigger paychecks, for despite the Tigers 5th place finish in the American League for the second year running, the team is studded with individual stars.

* * *

Pitchers Frank Lary, Billy Hoeft and Paul Foytack, for instance, all racked up impressive strings of victories. Lary and Hoeft both hit the covered 20-game mark, Lary taking 21, including 17 of his last 20 games, and Hoeft an even 20.

Foytack, playing his first full year with Detroit, ended with a 15-13 record and was improving all the while.

In the outfield, Charley Maxwell came through in his first real crack at the Majors with a .326 average at the plate. He also smashed 28 home runs, leading the team in that department.

Al Kaline, with a .314 batting average fell below his league-leading .340 of the year before, but ended up as runnerup behind Mickey Mantle of the New York Yankees in runs batted in with 128. He also hit 27 homers.

Kaline already has indicated that he wants more than his last year's salary of about $27,500.

"There's still quite a bit of difference between what the club has offered and what I'm asking," he said last week, "but I'm sure we won't have any trouble reaching agreement."

Frank Bolling, who joined the club before the season was half over after a tour of duty in the armed forces, did a tremendous job at second base, long a sore spot in the Tiger lineup. He batted at .279.

These are facts that make Detroit a marked club as a pennant contender next year—and keep the Tiger front office busy juggling salary figures in the annual battle to show a profit.

ANOTHER GIMMICK — Jim Cason, defensive halfback of the Los Angeles Rams, watches a closed-circuit television screen which the Rams employed Sunday against the Detroit Lions in suggesting defensive alignments. It may have seemed successful inasmuch as the Rams were effective against the Lion running attack, however the final score, 16-7, favored Detroit.

Season Wanes for Prep Gridders

With a few exceptions, anything that happens from now on is strictly anti-climactic as far as high school football in the Oakland County area is concerned.

There are scattered games of better than average interest between now and the end of the season, but for the most part the thrills and glamor attached to the fall sport have faded away, waiting to be called forth by players and spectators another year.

Many area schools complete their 1956 schedules this weekend and a small handful are already finished. Except for the traditional Thanksgiving Day battle between Birmingham and Royal Oak, everyone quits the weekend of Nov. 9-11.

Four league championships have been decided and three others are practically in the bag.

Walled Lake in the Inter-Lakes Conference, Clawson in the Oakland B, Orchard Lake St. Mary in the Suburban Catholic and Lake Shore in the Bi-County League have all been crowned kings this season.

East Detroit has the Eastern Michigan League title virtually in its hip pocket and Northville appears a cinch to win the Wayne-Oakland diadem. New Haven is assured of at least a share of Southern Thumb honors. Almont can divide the title with New Haven by beating Memphis Friday.

Only the South Central Conference crown remains to be determined and that issue will be settled on Nov. 9 when Oxford invades Imlay City. Imlay will be a heavy favorite.

The Suburban Catholic League has three games listed Sunday with St. Michael at St. Rita, St. Benedict at Orchard Lake, St. James at St. Frederick and St. Benedict at Orchard Lake St. Mary.

Chance for Middies

Good Navy 11 Faces Irish

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy's football team, laboring through the same mid-season obscurity of two years ago, has a chance Saturday to break through the barrier against Notre Dame at Baltimore.

* * *

It wasn't until after Navy dropped a 6-0 heartbreaker to the Irish in the sixth game of 1954 that a suspicion was confirmed the Middies had a good football team. It wound up trouncing Mississippi 21-0 in the Sugar Bowl.

* * *

As Coach Eddie Erdelatz said, "we're not rated very high in the East" when asked if Navy felt it was carrying an extra burden to represent the region against Notre Dame.

"We're not even in the first 20 teams" of the Associated Press poll, he added. Eight of the teams in the top 20 also have lost one game, three of them have dropped two and are ranked above Navy.

* * *

He hinted he might have more to say after the Notre Dame game.

Hawks Collect First Victory

NHL Cellar Dwellers Blank Bruins in Only Loop Contest

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The last-place Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey League emerged with their first victory of the season last night in the loop's only action.

* * *

The victory moved the Black Hawks to within two points of fifth-place Montreal. Boston remains in fourth.

Detroit continues to lead the league with 12 points followed by Toronto, 10, and New York, 9.

Pheasant Lands on 'Hot Seat'

It's not unusual for pheasants to hit the windshields of automobiles or fly through windows, but Mrs. Lawrence Lawson, 1836 Birchcrest, near Scott Lake, reports a new one.

"I was ironing in my kitchen the other day," Mrs. Lawson reported, "when a big pheasant crashed through the storm glass and the windowpane. But the startling thing about it was that the bird landed smack on top of one of the burners on our electric stove. Fortunately, the burner wasn't turned on."

Mrs. Lawson called a neighbor, "Smokey" Simpson, who caught the bird in a trout net. It now rests in a box in the basement. It had been injured.

Gains Split Decision

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Leo Alonzo, lightweight champion of the Philippines and the Orient, last night made an impressive U.S. debut, winning a split decision over Joey Lopes of West Sacramento in a 10-round bout.

Lopez Selects Most of Aides

CHICAGO (AP)—Al Lopez formally signed a one-year contract at a reported $40,000 yesterday to manage the Chicago White Sox and immediately named three-fourths of his coaching staff.

Lopez retained first base coach Don Gutteridge and pitching coach Ray Berres from the Marty Marion regime and said he'll bring with him Tony Cuccinello from the Cleveland Indians.

* * *

The 48-year-old Lopez said after contract signing ceremonies that he would remain in Chicago for several days to confer with White Sox Vice President Chuck Comiskey on possible deals.

"If we could get him, I'd like to do so," said Lopez. "Rosen is a fine baseball player."

Sarlo and Miceli Fill In at Chicago

CHICAGO (AP)— Carlo Sarlo and Joe Miceli, a couple of 27-year-olds who are at different stages of their careers, meet in a 10-round welterweight bout at Chicago Stadium tonight.

The fight, a substitute for the light-heavyweight battle scheduled between Germany's Willi Hoepner and Chuck Spieser until Hoepner injured an elbow, will be televised nationally, 10 p.m. EST on ABC.

Sarlo, a Chicago truck driver, will be making his debut as a main event contestant. He has had only 21 victories, 18 by decisions and three by knockouts. Sarlo has yet to meet a ranking foe but has suffered five setbacks, all by relatively little known fighters with the exception of Yama Bahama.

Woodson Rated Tops

Illinois Star AP's 'Back of Week'

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

His hurdle prowess put to use in Illinois' stunning 21-13 upset of previously unbeaten Michigan State, today earned Abe Woodson The Associated Press Back of the Week designation.

* * *

Woodson, Big Ten hurdle champion and co-holder of the 50-yard record indoors, scored all three Illini touchdowns, two coming on scoring sprints of 70 and 82 yards in the fourth quarter. The victory over the Spartans, the nation's No. 1 team at the time, went into the books as one of the biggest upsets in Big Ten history.

* * *

With the score tied at 13-13 and only five minutes remaining to play, Illinois quarterback Bill Offenbecher decided to "go for broke" with the ball on his own 18-yard line. Offenbecher faded back and lobbed a screen pass to the fleet Woodson. Abe took the pass, avoided a Spartan tackler, streaked nearly horizontally across the field and proceeded toward the Spartan goal.

On the State 30, Art Johnson moved in on Woodson and prepared to make the game-saving tackle. But Woodson leaped, hurdled the defender and completed his TD run.

* * *

The Illinois senior had scored earlier on a 2-yard plunge in the third quarter and a 70-yard dash earlier in the last period. In all he amassed 198 of the 386 yards the Illinois offense gained.

* * *

Jimmy Brown of Syracuse and Oklahoma's twin scoring threat of Tommy McDonald and Clendon Thomas were strong candidates for the award.

Brown, one of the East's leading contenders for All America honors, scored all the Orange points as they rallied to defeat Boston University 21-7.

Thomas and McDonald led the Sooners back to their No. 1 position in the AP poll as they led a raft of scorers to a 40-0 rout of Notre Dame. Thomas picked up two scores and McDonald one.

Others receiving mention were Bobby Cox of Minnesota, Johnny Majors of Tennessee, Harvard's Howard Hoelscher and Roddy Osborne of Texas A. and M.

By JACK PATTERSON

It is hard to imagine that anyone would object to the practically unbroken string of perfect days we've had since the first of October, but many hunters are. Pat hunters aren't kicking too much but pheasant hunters find cover too dry for good dog work and many duck hunters blame "bright" weather for spotty shooting from blinds.

PATTERSON

* * *

There is one type of hunting, though, that this weather was made for. That's sneak shooting for ducks. Fowl tend to raft offshore on bluebird days and about the only way to be assured good shooting is to get out where they are. Offshore gunning in bad weather can be a pretty miserable operation, but these days it's a comfortable exercise.

Oh, it may blow up a bit now and then but you know it won't last and you ought to get a little wet so you know you're duck hunting.

We spent a few days last week over on Lake St. Clair with George Zimmerman, L. H. Cole, Bob Oliver, Dave Edstrom and guide Paul Sears.

* * *

So you find yourself lying at anchor some 300 yards to windward of a spread of more than a hundred decoys. You've drawn lots and Oliver gets the first sneak, watching, with the guide for approaching fowl.

* * *

When the guide says "let's go" because he's seen a flock of redheads pitch into the decoys, the sneak party shoves off. All eyes watch the unfolding tableau.

Through the glasses you can see the ducks begin to show signs of nervousness as the boat bears down on them.

Why don't they shoot? The ducks are beginning to swim out of the decoys. Hurry up, fellas, you think. Suddenly the ducks are up and you see the shooters rise to their knees above the shielding "wings" of the sneak boat. A quick succession of shots and three ducks—no four, splash into the water. The first sneak is over.

* * *

Bye and bye it's your turn. Paul has spotted some canvasbacks settling in. You pile into the sneak boat and crouch down behind the "wings." As you approach the decoys you can't make out the live ones as you peer through a slit in the shield.

Paul can, though, as he rapidly paddles with one hand into the decoys. "Take that one on the left," he says, and you get up on your knees and the duck gets up and you do just that.

* * *

As you are poled back to the tender you think of duck hunting in many places and think it is surely the greatest sport ever invented.

Youthful Hunters Capture Fat Fox

Stopping a running fox at 15 yards is a good test of marksmanship for most any hunter. Thirteen-year-old Mike Naylor, 1190 Taylor road, Pontiac, yesterday joined that special class when he downed a 11-pound fat female red fox near Taylor and Joslyn roads. Mike used one shot from his 16-gauge single-shot shotgun.

Mike was hunting with his pal, Paul McNerney, 1530 Taylor, and Mike's dad, Horace, when he spotted the fox running over a hill. It was his first fox, although he has shot a 2½-pound pheasant this season.

Residents of San Cristobal, Venezuela, are subscribing towards the cost of a new bridge, 440 yards long, to link their town with Concordia.

'Derby' Leads Change

By H. GUY MOATS

Addition of the new "long bird" division in The Pontiac Press annual "big pheasant derby" has boosted interest in the contest tremendously.

Leadership in the weight division usually changes slowly. But there's a great deal more action in the hunt for the longest bird. Leaders have changed more than a half dozen times, several times in the last few days.

But today there are two new leaders.

When Bonny Murphy entered a 37-incher, it looked like it might hold up for some time. Then came along Alan Brown with a 37-incher, followed quickly by a 38 and ¾ inch bird shot by Gene Crane. Gene's hold skidded four days later when Bill Giles brought in a 39¼-inch specimen.

Giles had it three days, until the present leader came along, a 39⅞ inch rooster entered by Jerry McKay of Pontiac.

Where up to yesterday Ernest Meeker's 3-pound-12-ounce entry hung on to the "big bird" division, today there is a near-4-pounder on the books.

Hunting with his Milford High pal, ace track man Johnny Hiland, Jerry Stanley, 17, of 1245 Waterbury, Milford, bagged a 3-pound-13-ounce feathered beauty. That's the tops, as of now. Jerry got his rooster in the Highland Recreation area, yesterday afternoon. He also got a 3-pound-7-ounce bird, Hiland downed one, too.

Other possible entries that fell short of both weight and length leaders included a 37 incher shot by Rodney Dickinson, 45, East Princeton Saturday near Robinson lake. Still another was the better than 3-footer downed by Claude Inman, Overlook drive, on Fenton road.

Contest, for heaviest and longest pheasants continues through Nov. 10 U. S. Bonds of $50 (for biggest) and $25 (for longest) go to final winners.

Hunters' Banquet Set Nov. 1 for OCSC

Annual hunters' banquet for Oakland County Sportsmen's club members and others interested, has been set for Nov. 1 at the clubhouse in Waterford. There were 300 tickets available, and it is expected all will be taken.

* * *

Pat Metzdorf is chairman for this 7th annual affair and plans have been made for a fine program. The turkey dinner starts at 7 o'clock.

State Alumni Invite Illini to See Films

Thursday will be "magnanimity day" for Michigan State University Alumni association. The MSU group will show color films of the late lamented State-Illini football game at Champaign, serve cider and doughnuts.

* * *

Burning Trees to Get Coons Law Violation

LANSING (AP) — State game law enforcement officers say reports have been reaching them that some hunters have been setting fire to trees to smoke raccoons out of their dens.

* * *

This is a violation of the law against molesting certain animals in their nesting or living places, and also creates a serious fire hazard, they said.

The Conservation Department said that last week fire damaged 306 acres of state and private forests and grasslands, bringing the total acreage so damaged thus far this year to 3,188.

Seventy-five separate fires figured in last week's losses.

Pontiac Hunter Bags 20 Foxes in Season

Bernie Martin, 78 Hamilton, Pontiac, is an avid—and successful—fox hunter. First of the week he took two "reds" near Middlebelt and Lone Pine roads in front of his hounds.

* * *

Up to now he has taken some 20 foxes during the season, with the help of his hounds. He usually is accompanied on these hunts by Mrs. Martin.

Fish Food Expert Leaves State Body

LANSING (AP)—Edward F. Grassl, fish nutritionist who helped develop the pelleted dry fish foods now used in state hatcheries, has resigned effective Nov. 1 to take a job with a private firm, the state conservation department announces.

Heavy Squirrel Loss Predicted

LANSING (AP) — While squirrel shooters generally have had good luck this fall, the outlook for next year is far from encouraging, the state conservation department says.

* * *

Severe May frosts the last two springs have nipped budding oaks and reduced acorn production seriously. Sizeable squirrel losses are expected this winter.

The southern section of the state will be less hard hit because hickory, walnut and butternut trees, farmers' corn and grainfields and a somewhat better acorn crop will tide squirrels over.

* * *

Game experts say that hunting has little overall effect on squirrel populations, which are thinned for the most part by severe winters, food shortages and otherwise widespread problems that beset wildlife.

* * *

The department suggested that in the northern part of the state, with grouse populations low and the time not ripe for snowshoe hunting, that upland hunters concentrate on squirrels the last few days of the season.

Pontiac Press Photo

LEADER — Seventh change in leadership for the longest bird division in The Pontiac Press pheasant derby is announced today. They're really getting up around the 40-inch mark. Latest leader (above) is a 39 and ⅞-inch bird entered by Jerry McKay, 2725 Edgefield, Pontiac. Jerry's rooster, shot near Lapeer during the last weekend, eliminated Gene Crane's 38 and ¾ incher, and Bill Giles' 39¼ inch entries. Bill York hunted with McKay and each bagged his limit.

See You Later Alligator

FORT PIERCE, Fla. (AP)—A five-foot alligator disrupted play in a hurry when he waddled on to the diamond during a boys' Pony League baseball game. There was an immediate uproar which subsided only after Ken Gordy, a team manager, managed to lasso and tie the reptile and turn him over to police. The saurian apparently was flushed from a nearby drainage ditch by dogs.

Blame It on Juno

ROME—Why is June known as the wedding month? Well, in the ancient Roman mythology the statuesque Juno was the goddess of marriage; June was her special month, and Roman maidnes aspired and contrived to be wed during her purportedly protective reign.

Almost two-thirds of all the people of the world get an average of only 2,000 food calories per day which is barely enough to support life.

HALF ACRE CASTLE By John Morris

Market Dives as Crisis Grows

NEW YORK (AP)—Heavy selling drove stock market prices down sharply today after Prime Minister Eden told the House of Commons Britain must protect her interests in the Middle East with or without prior agreement of the United States.

Key issues dropped one to three points and the high-speed ticker tape lagged three minutes in reporting transactions.

The Eden statement converted a slow and cautious session into a rush to dump stocks. Even coppers, which had been higher on news of a rise in the domestic copper price, and aircrafts wilted in the general decline.

Du Pont was down around three, Gulf Oil and Youngstown Sheet & Tube more than two, Royal Dutch and U. S. Steel around a point or so.

COPPERS FALL

Kennecott lost around a point and Anaconda a major fraction. Both had been ahead by major fractions.

Douglas Aircraft, previously a one-point gainer, was down around a point. United Aircraft dropped more than a point.

Bethlehem Steel and Standard Oil (New Jersey) dropped around two points. General Motors, Ford and Chrysler around a point or so.

Other losers of a point or more included Caterpillar, Zenith, American Telephone, International Nickel, Alcoa, General Electric and Johns Manville.

Skunk-Bite Victim Object of Search

SAGINAW, Mich. (AP) — Authorities from New York to Illinois today were looking for a Syracuse, N. Y., man who faces possible death from the bite of a rabid skunk.

Francis J. Fonda was bitten Oct. 9 while he was staying with the Russell F. Heinkel family of Shields, Mich., four miles west of Saginaw.

The Heinkel family said he might have gone to Chicago in search of work. It was also thought he might have headed back to Syracuse.

Heinkel said the skunk died several days after Fonda was bitten and the family sent its head to state laboratories in Lansing for testing. Police said the first report indicated the animal was not rabid, but a second report said it probably was diseased.

Grains Show Minor Gains

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains scored minor gains in an active first hour on the board of trade today.

* * *

The market opened strong and then started to ease, thus duplicating yesterday's action. Gains at the start were not as large as yesterday nor was trading as active.

On the reaction, after the opening, prices held above previous closing levels. Trading again was dominated by the situation in the Middle East with much of the demand coming from previous short sellers.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to ⅔ higher, December $2.35⅛; corn ⅝ to ⅝ higher, December $1.38⅛; oats unchanged to ¼ higher, December 80⅞; rye ¼ to ⅓ higher, December $1.58⅛; soybeans unchanged to ⅛ higher, November $2.44⅝, and lard 8 cents lower to 5 cents a 100 pounds higher, November $11.55.

Business Notes

SMITH

The appointment of W. L. Smith as manager of the Pontiac Motor Division Houston zone, was announced today by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager. He succeeds T. J. Nicholson who is retiring December 31.

Smith's appointment is effective November 1. He is a veteran of 16 years with Pontiac and joined the Division in the Charlotte Zone in 1940.

Nicholson joined Pontiac in 1926 and has been Houston Zone Manager since 1952.

The promotions of Orin J. Brown and Darwin G. Simpson to assistant chief inspector posts at the Pontiac Motor Division were announced yesterday by Chief Inspector John F. Blamy.

Simpson succeeds Charles L. Stevens who was recently named superintendent of the car assembly plant. He will be responsible for product quality control in sheet metal, plating, car assembly, refinish and retail service inspection.

Simpson joined the division in 1940 and prior to his promotion was supervisor of work standards.

Brown, whose duties remain unchanged since his promotion to superintendent of inspection last February, is responsible for product quality control in the foundry, heat treat, axle plant and the engine assembly plant. He joined Pontiac in 1929.

The appointment of Charles K. Delsig as manager of the Oklahoma City Zone for Pontiac Motor Division has been announced by Frank V. Bridge, general sales manager. He succeeds T. A. Cullen who is being transferred to the central offices.

DELSIG

Delsig, a graduate of Wittenberg College, joined Pontiac in 1945 and has held positions of responsibility in the Philadelphia, Cincinnati, Oklahoma City and Kansas City Zones and the Western Region. He has been assistant zone manager in Kansas City since May.

Study Money Angles in Leasing Hospital

Financial arrangements must be "worked out" between Pontiac General Hospital and the county before an answer can be expected to an offer by the county to lease the Contagious Hospital to Pontiac during construction at the city hospital.

Willis M. Brewer, vice-chairman of Pontiac General's Board of Trustees, said this morning, "There's no question that we can use the hospital, but an answer is pending provided we can work out a financial arrangement."

The Joint Conference Committee of the city hospital yesterday recommended to the board that negotiations be continued. The matter was referred to the Finance Committee of the Board last night.

County Deaths

Seth M. Goold

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Service for Seth M. Goold, 84, of 3144 Whitfield Dr. will be at 2 p.m. Saturday from the Fowler Funeral Home, Brockport, N. Y. where he will be taken from the Donelson-Johns Funeral Home, Pontiac, Thursday morning. Burial will be in Beechridge. Mr. Goold, resident in the county for more than 3 years, coming from Brockport, died early today.

He is survived by two sons, Ralph L. Gould of Pontiac and Stanley C. Gould of Tujunga, Calif.; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren.

Detroiter Killed in Xway Crash

James Shaw Is Victim; Driver of 2nd Car Hurt, Risked Life to Save Son

DETROIT (INS) — One man was killed in a headon collision on the Edsel Ford Expressway yesterday, but a father's heroism prevented the accident from being more serious when he risked his life to save his son.

James Shaw, 35, of Detroit, died of injuries after his car crossed the middle boundary of the Ford Expressway just west of Grand River and smashed headon into an automobile driven by Robert Mackie, 51, of Dearborn.

Mackie, seeing the car speeding at him, ignored his own safety to push his son, Leonard, 9, down on the front seat. The boy was only bruised. Mackie suffered serious internal injuries and was taken to Receiving Hospital in critical condition.

INSTALLING BARRIERS

Protective barriers are being installed at "critical spots" along the 12 miles of completed expressways because of an accident Oct. 13 when a northbound car jumped the island on Lodge Expressway, near Chicago, and crashed headon into a southbound car, killing two men.

That crash caused such violent protests because of the lack of a protective barrier, the State Highway Department agreed on Oct. 23 to install a 2½-foot guard rail in the middle of expressway islands at a total cost of $600,000 to $700,000 for the Lodge and Ford expressways.

At present, however, the barriers are being installed only at "critical spots."

Ore Boat Crushes Docks Along St. Clair River

PORT HURON (INS) — A ship heavily loade dwith ore, struck and demolished three private docks and boathouses at Port Huron today.

Eyewitnesses said the Harry L. Findlay, owned by the Kinsman Transportation Co. of Cleveland, was headed down the St. Clair River when the ship's stern smashed into the docks.

Two or three small boats also were damaged. No injuries were reported.

Kiwanians Hear Local Trainman on R.R. Progress

"Don't write off the railroads as has been, ready for the museum," William Muncie, Grand Trunk Railway's trainmaster in Pontiac, told Pontiac Kiwanians Tuesday noon.

"They are far from that, although they now are part of a very competitive industry, instead of having a monopoly as freight and passenger carriers. In the last war our railroads carried 92 per cent of the military supplies moved as freight. They carried 97 per cent of all military personnel transported in this country.

"Our railroads employ more than a million persons in the United States, and pay five billions of dollars in wages annually," he said. "No other industry is moving as fast in modernization or in discarding obsolete equipment.

"Everyone is aware of the big revolution in locomotive power brought about by the coming of the diesel. This has meant new brakes, new bearings, new cars and new methods of controls.

"Centralized traffic control, called 'C.I.T.' is the term for the new system of traffic control in which one man can control rail traffic over a large area. He has a board in front of him with symbols representing every train in his area. As these symbols move along the routes, he gives the trains orders to stop, slow up, etc. He even opens switches by electronic controls.

"The Grand Trunk Railway has increased its traffic by 80 per cent through C.I.R.," said Muncie. "This modern method is used today between Pontiac and Durand and it is being installed between Durand and Port Huron."

The speaker said that with the increasing competition in the transportation industry the railroads should be freed from some of the excessive regulation which was placed on them when they were a virtual monopoly in earlier years.

Jobless Ranks Dip to 3-Year Record

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unemployment dropped this month to 1,909,000 — the smallest total in nearly three years.

Reporting this yesterday, the Commerce Department also said 66,174,000 persons held jobs during October. This was 103,000 more than in September and a new record for the month, although 578,00 below the over-all peak reached last August.

6 State Races May Hinge on Cobo-Williams Outcome

LANSING (AP) — Michigan voters Nov. 6 will decide six important statewide races that have been crowded into the campaingn background by lively contests for governor and secretary of state.

* * *

At stake are the offices of lieutenant governor, attorney general, state treasurer, state auditor general and two seats on the State Supreme Court.

If political tradition holds up, most or all the offices will remain Democratic if Gov. Williams wins re-election by a big margin.

MAY ALL LOSE

Democrat Philip A. Hart, the incumbent, faces Republican Clarence A. Reid in a return match for lieutenant governor.

Hart, 44, a lawyer, has been closely associated with Williams in public life since the governor won his first term in 1948, and is regarded as Williams' heir-apparent in the state if Williams steps out in 1958.

* * *

Starting in 1949, he served successively as Michigan corporation and securities commissioner, Office of Price Stabilization director in Detroit, U.S. district attorney and as legal adviser to the governor.

An officer in the 4th Infantry Division in World War II, he was wounded on Normandy Beach. He is married and has seven children.

Reid, 64, also a lawyer, served 10 years in the State Senate before his election as lieutenant governor in 1952.

BORN IN CABIN

He was born in a log cabin in Ohio, Reid says, grew up at Circleville, Ohio, and received both bachelor and law degrees from the University of Michigan, where he played football from 1914 to 1916. He served in World War I, is married and has three children.

For attorney general, the choice is between Democrat Thomas M. Kavanagh, 47, the incumbent, and State Rep. Richard C. Van Dusen (R-Birmingham). At 31, Van Dusen is the youngest man on the Republican state ticket.

A University of Detroit Law School graduate, Kavanaugh was elected city clerk of Carson City for six successive terms, and city attorney, before going on the ticket with Williams two years ago.

* * *

He is a former state official of the Knights of Columbus, a Roman Catholic laymen's group. He has four daughters. Recently, he has been active in Wayne County graft investigations.

A native of Jackson, Van Dusen practiced law in Detroit before running for the Legislature in 1954. He took his law degree at Harvard University.

Van Dusen played center on the University of Minnesota football team while an undergraduate there. He served in the Navy in World War II, seeing duty in the Pacific theater.

BROWN VS. PADZIESKI

In the contest for state treasurer, Democrat Sanford A. Brown, 47, a Bay Port farmer, seeks to repel the bid of Republican Frank C. Padzieski, 48, a Dearborn insurance and real estate man.

Brown, who rounded out his education at night school in Detroit, did factory work and was a union organizer and wholesaler in Flint before returning to the farm in 1939.

He is a former member of the State Fair Board, the Huron County Tax Allocation Board and former president of the County Dairy Herd Improvement Assn. He is president of his home town school board, is married and has two sons.

For 10 years, Padzieski has been on the Wayne County Board of Canvassers. He is an active member of a long list of Roman Catholic, nationality and civic groups.

He served on the Dearborn City Plan Commission and the Dearborn Civil Service Commission, and is a trustee of three Catholic schools.

FILLING VACANCY

Szymanski, appointed to fill a vacancy earlier this year, has a bachelor's and master's degree from Notre Dame University in addition to his law degree from University of Detroit.

He was a hearing examiner for the State Liquor Control Commission. He is a Navy Air Corps veteran, is married and has four sons.

Bagwell heads the Department of Communication Skills at Michigan State University, where he has been on the faculty since 1938. For six years, he directed the Michigan State March of Dimes campaign.

* * *

In 1952, he was chairman of the Michigan Citizens for Eisenhower. He has won national awards in public speaking, is married and has two children.

Opponents for the remainder of a Supreme Court term expiring Dec. 31, 1957, are Justice Talbot Smith and Atty. Michael D. O'Hara of Menominee. Smith, 56, is a Democrat, O'Hara, 45, a Republican by nomination.

Before his appointment to the bench in 1955, Smith practiced law in Ann Arbor, his home, and Detroit, worked as an Office of Price Administration attorney and taught law at the Universities of Missouri and California. He won his law degree at the University of Michigan.

ANNAPOLIS GRAD

A minister's son, Smith graduated from Annapolis and spent 14 years as a naval officer. He is married and has two children.

O'Hara is the son of a former attorney general and Public Service Commission member. He was admitted to the bar in 1935 after studies at Notre Dame, the College of St. Norbert and under Justice Leland W. Carr, and has practiced at Menominee for 21 years.

He is a former referee for the state in unemployment compensation disputes. O'Hara served in the Marines in World War II, is married and has four children.

* * *

Rivals for the remainder of a Supreme Court term expiring at the end of 1959 are Justice George Edwards, 42, a Democrat, and Circuit Judge John Simpson, 65, a Republican.

Edwards, a one time union organizer, studied at Southern Methodist and Harvard Universities and the Detroit College of Law, taking his legal degree at the latter school.

He served four terms on the Detroit Common Council, two of them as president, and five years on the Wayne County bench in Juvenile and Circuit Courts. His Juvenile Court work attracted wide attention. He is married and has two children.

27 YEARS ON BENCH

Simpson, a Jackson resident, has served 27 years on the circuit bench. He presided over several trials emanating from the Carr-Sigler graft grand jury investigation.

A University of Michigan graduate in law, he spent two years as police judge in Jackson, five as prosecutor and two in the State Legislature.

He narrowly missed a Supreme Court nomination at the Republican State Convention last year. He is married and has one daughter.

Christine M. Schieb

KEEGO HARBOR — Graveside services for Christine Marie Schieb two-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schidb of 2875 Knolwson, will be at 10 a.m. Friday in Mt. Hope Cemetery, with the Rev. G. Bartol officiating. The infant is at C. J. Godhardt Funeral Home, Keego Harbor.

Lightning Figured

HARTFORD, Conn.—The chance that lightning will strike a building 100 feet square and 50 feet high standing among other structures is about one in 250 a year, experts figure. The probability jumps to one in 17 if the structure is at an isolated location.

Village Rolls Still Increasing After Deadline

WOLVERINE LAKE — Although residents of Wolverine Lake village registered for the presidential election in the Commerce Township offices, the registration roll of the village has been growing lately.

Village Clerk John C. Finlayson reported that between 30 and 40 new names have been added to the official village registration list in the past few weeks.

"It looks like a case of people getting bitten by the voting bug," explained Finlayson. "They sign up in the township and then get the urge to vote on village issues."

Complaint Charges Malicious Destruction

The damage, believed to have been caused by a rifle shot, occured at 9540 Woodside Dr. sometime last night. Pieces of glass were found on the floor near the crib.

New Guinea will grant a 10-year permit to some bidder to build a sawmill and cut 4,000,000 feet of logs per year in the Brown River area 20 miles north of Port Moresby.

Approve School Consolidation

Novi Votes to Combine Four Districts Into One, Equalize Taxes

The last consolidation election to reduce school districts in Oakland County was held in the Novi area yesterday.

A vote to consolidate four districts into one was passed by 404 yes votes to 78 no. This vote lowers the number of school districts in Oakland County to 32.

An election in September in the Oxford area lowered school districts from 45 to 35.

Other votes yesterday in the Novi area passed a bond proposal which stated that the new consolidated school district would assume the outstanding bonds of one of the smaller districts.

EQUAL TAXATION

A third question, also passed, stated that the whole area would be evenly taxed to carry the bond indebtedness.

Dr. William J. Emerson, superintendent of the Oakland County Schools, said this final consolidation election was a milestone in school district reorganization.

He said an interim board of education for the new district would be appointed at the county board of education meeting tomorrow to direct the district until a new board could be elected.

Blowout Swerves Car at Pole, Teenagers Hurt

Two Royal Oak area teenagers suffered minor injuries when their car struck a telephone pole after a blowout on Adams road in Avon Township last night.

B. C. Arney, 18, of Royal Oak, the driver, suffered a head injury. His passenger, Lola MacAmish, 18, of Royal Oak Township, had leg bruises. Both were treated by a doctor.

Athens, Greece, hopes shortly to have an American-built Ambassador Hotel.

Movie Permits Elvis to Wiggle

Film Magnate Goetz to Produce Bible Series for Television

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS)—Seven-year-old Evelyn Rudie won the title role in CBS-TV Playhouse 90's Nov. 22 version of Kay Thompson's "Eloise." The tyke's been in six movies and six TV shows . . . Her grandpop, Rudi Bernauer, collaborated on the libretto of "Chocolate Soldier."

Elvis Presley gyrates more wildly in his 20th Century-Fox movie, "Love Me Tender," than he did even on the Milton Berle show that caused all the conniptions . . .

Filmogul Bill Goetz will produce a major TV series for Screen Gems (Columbia Pictures) called "The Book of Books," based on the Bible, making Goetz the De Mille of the living room . . .

Biff McGuire was signed to star with Gracie Fields in the Steel Hour's Dec. 19 "The Old Lady Shows Her Medals," and he warmed up for it last night as star of Armstrong Theater's "Flareup," about recent polio epidemic in Chicago.

Former ABC President Bob Kintner is in Puerto Rico for three lazy weeks of making up his mind. The CBS rumor persists . . .

MORE OF LEWIS

The Robert Q. Lewis show (radio) made such a hit that CBS is extending it to a full hour nightly . . .

Four of the biggest TV shows announced for the full 1956-57 season will sink in their channels after Jan. 1 . . .

Presidential Assistant Sherman Adams will "Meet the Press" Sunday.

BUNDLE OF LAUGHS

Makes Beer Steins

MUNICH, Germany—A huge new center being built on Stachus Square in Munich will have 10 restaurants, which expect to serve a total of 800,000 gallons of beer a year. They will have a total seating capacity of 7,000 persons. Beer will be dispensed only in quart-size steins.

Gives Fair Warning

Allen Drops 'Tonight'; Sunday Spot's All His

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Frank Lloyd Wright, who's 87, will get the ribbing of his life at the Circus Saints and Sinners when Harry Hershfield, Tex O'Rourke, Les Kramer and others ask him such questions as "Tell us, what kind of a fellow was Abe Lincoln?" They'll also claim that the famous architect "doesn't want to be 'different'—he just wants everybody else to be like him." They will not overlook his romantic adventures.

Perry Como and Frankie Laine were discussing Rudy the Barber who cuts the hair of so many celebrated singers in his shop. "Not only does he give you a good haircut," said Perry, "but he'll also produce your shows for you and tell you exactly what's wrong with your arrangements."

Peggy King—here to appear on "Jack and the Beanstalk" on TV Nov. 12—Gets flowers and a couple-phone calls a day from young piano genius Andre Previn out in Hollywood. He's being divorced, so it seems all right to mention that they're only seeing each other. Several years ago when both were kids at MGM, they were sweethearts, then each married somebody else, now it's on again. "Seeing them together again," remarked one actor, "is like a flashback to five years ago."

PEGGY

Flash! Steve Allen gives up his "Tonight" show Jan. 1 to devote full time to the Sunday spot which is now firmly his, though some other NBCers passionately want it. Ernie Kovacs seems in line to take over completely. Steve gets a bigger writing budget from NBC, which in effect's telling him he's done very well in his battle with Ed. Sullivan, and not to worry about anybody supplanting him. Steve told friends, "I hate to give up the week-night show because I always thought of it as my means of making a living."

★ ★ ★

Grace Kelly and Prince Rainier are going to keep on being too busy to see "Happy Hunting," the Ethel Merman spoof job on their wedding. (A beautiful new street in Monte Carlo's to be named "the Avenue Princess Grace") . . . Susan Zanuck, Darryl's daughter, and Andre Hakim, the Parisians, expect their baby in December . . .

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Sheree North's hair is now another shade of blond and even her old friends here don't recognize her on the street . . . "What you reading?" we asked Randolph Churchill and he candidly replied, "Something I wrote." . . . El Morocco Bandleader Charles Holden made ASCAP with "The Cave," a composition in which he gets a weird effect not by playing the keys but by strumming the wires in back of the piano.

★ ★ ★

Julie Wilson's being tested for the Helen Morgan life story role by Mike Curtiz at the suggestion of Joe E. Lewis who claims Julie's most like Helen was . . . Tommy Manville's ninth ex, Anita Roddy-Eden, accepted actor John Sutton's marriage proposal. . . Surgeons meeting in Florida warned against built-in plastic bosoms.

Earl's Pearls . . .

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: The perfect wolf, says Robert Q. Lewis, got a girl up to his apartment to see his etchings—then sold her six of them.

Bus Driver Tangled With Wrong Man

DENVER (AP)—Bus driver Marvin Muck yelled "Aw, shut up" at the driver of a black sedan. Then he learned the driver was Mike Carroll, an investigator for the district attorney.

Muck said the sedan refused to yield the right-of-way to his bus at a downtown corner. When he blew his horn, the driver yelled at him. That's when Muck yelled back.

Time to Buy a New One

DES MOINES (AP)—Homer Jewett received a letter from a man in Cornwall, England, recently. The man wanted a couple of new parts for his No. 5 model Jewett typewriter. Jewett replied that there were no parts available. The Jewett typewriters, once made in Des Moines, haven't been manufactured since 1908.

New Research Center in Ohio

Private Nuclear Plant Has Million Watt Pool Reactor in Operation

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The nation's first privately owned nuclear research center is in business. Battelle Memorial Institute here has put its $750,000 "pool" type reactor into operation.

• • •

The million-watt nuclear reactor gets its name from the pool of purified water into which the core of fuel elements and boron control rods are placed, 22 feet below the surface. The water cools the core and provides a shield to protect technologists from radiation.

It is the largest "pool" type reactor in service. Designed by Battelle physicists and financed with Battelle funds, it is housed in a three-story building on a 400-acre site about 15 miles from here. The location is a mile northeast of West Jefferson in Madison County.

• • •

The reactor uses solid uranium 235 for fuel. It will be shut down only one day a week, operating 24 hours each of the other six days.

"This multi-unit nuclear research center is a new concept in industrial research," said Dr. H. R. Nelson, the center's director of development. "It helps to open the way to private industry for nuclear research on a contract basis."

The new "pool" type reactor will be used in research to improve, develop or preserve metallic, ceramic, plastic, glass and chemical products and processes.

Piggins Alerts Force on Traffic and Pickpockets

DETROIT (INS) — November and December have been described by Detroit Police Commissioner Edward S. Piggins as high traffic accident months and open season for confidence men, pickpockets and shoplifters.

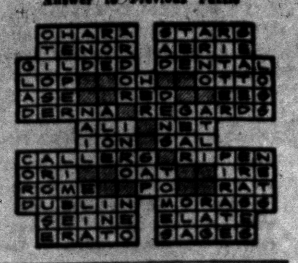

Piggins called for increased traffic enforcement at the precinct level, telling a police inspectors' meeting that precincts have failed to keep pace with a stepped-up campaign by the Traffic Division.

He also warned inspectors to be on the alert for criminals who will try to profit during the coming Christmas shopping season.

Speed Tax Returns

WASHINGTON — A new federal regulation that permits the Government to refund overpayments on income-tax returns without interest within 45 days. Interest on individual income-tax refunds declined from $5,400,000 in 1954 to $4,000,000 in 1955, indicating faster issuance of refund checks.

Torture in the Beginning, but Fun Later On Making Speech Resembles Falling in Love

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

DAYTON, Ohio (INS) — Somewhere in this vast, voluble world there are people who love to give speeches.

* * *

Why, then, did they pick on me?

Did they not know that I am one of those thousands who go knock-kneed, damp-paved, sand-voiced, callump-hearted and vacuum-brained when called to the podium?

Were they not aware that a sea of smiling faces tempts me to take a dive, and that a thunder of applause brings lightning searing down my spine?

* * *

Had they not heard that I got "D" in Public Speaking II?

DELIGHTFUL IDEA

These thoughts you cannot help but wonder, as you sit upon a stage before God, madame chairman and everybody. It seemed like such a delightful idea when the planning committee for the function suggested it. "Just a small speech," he said, "and we'll have a good steak luncheon preceding it."

* * *

That was four months ago and—it always being a pleasure to have a speech and a steak in your future—you accept.

The first month goes by slowly, routinely with the amateur speechmaker still glowing warmly from thoughts of the flattering honor recently thrust upon him. The second month picks up momentum, life is normal and hectic again and the speech a dim unreality.

Month three finds the potential speaker with vaguely uneasy nights—frequently having dreams of cows attempting to talk (any analyst could tell you this is a mixed metaphysic psychosis, involving an abnormal fear of speaking opposed to a gluttonous subconscious steak urge.)

* * *

The final month is murder. Each day sneaks up and smacks you in the forehead like a sharp whack of conscience and passes hurriedly on. Each night drags as if Father Time had a nasty lethargic virus.

THE LAST MARCH

You begin to put your affairs in order for your last march to the podium—you are certain, by now, that this is to be decidedly the final speech you'll make on earth—and by two days before the appointed hour when you will be either a hero or a bum, everything is ship-shape.

* * *

Except your speech. Through a mental process understandable only to the most brilliant brain specialists, the amateur lecturer in the "I'll only say a few words" category always puts off the speech till last.

He tells himself: It's better ad lib. Don't prepare anything or you'll stumble over the nonsense.

This is a reflection of two basic urges in man—the wait-till-they-make-me-do-it complex and the sheer laziness drive.

* * *

On the night before the day of eloquence you abruptly stop dreaming of cows and see only yourself standing before an audience, struggling vainly to speak. You reached the steak-sublimation phase of this climactic situation. The deadline has come.

MOMENT ARRIVES

The steak is placed before you and it might as well be pickled pig's feet (of which who is fond?) for all you know, because the moment of planning has arrived.

Harshly, you try to put your thoughts into oratorical order, while simultaneously shaking hands with people who say they cannot wait to hear you, and all at once the tinkle of flattery strikes your ears.

"An interesting thing happened," you begin, feeling your palms dry out and your larynx damp up. You are off, the ham in you overcoming the horrors.

To Shame, Men!

STILLWATER, Okla. (AP) — Nelda Ruth Snodgrass, Oklahoma A&M freshman from Wagoner, can put to shame many of Oklahoma's male marksmen. The brunette coed has seven wins in southwestern rifle meets, and recently scored 40 bullseyes in 40 shots to win first place in a National Rifle Assn. contest for women.

Many, Many Wiremen

WASHINGTON — The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that some 125,000 men were employed last year as construction electricians, installing electrical wiring, lighting fixtures, and electrical equipment in new or remodeled buildings and homes.

Solar Still Used

MELBOURNE — Australia' first commercial solar still for removing minerals from water was recently established at Mildura, Victoria. It is expected to lead to the perfection of cheap equipment for purifying well water for household and stock use in low-rainfall areas.

These Campaign Cigars Too Good to Pass Out

DALLAS (AP) — Judge Joe B. Brown lit up a cigar between cases in Dallas County Criminal Court. He leaned back, took a long draw and said:

* * *

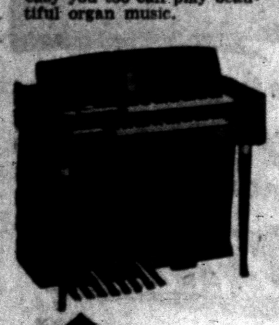

"A fellow gave me five boxes of cigars with my name and campaign slogan on them. They were so good I never gave them out."

Plastic Ice Tub Made

FARMINGDALE, N. J.—A Farmingdale company has developed an ice bucket made of soft vinyl plastic and fiberglas that is said to prevent furniture damage. The plastic is supposed to prevent scratching and at the same time stand rigid. The tub is said to be leakproof, washable, and odorless and to have a 2½-gallon capacity—enough for 180 ice cubes.
