City Gives Four Parking Lots Preliminary OK

Commissioners Salary Increase Recommended

Study Committee Says Mayor Should Receive Monthly Pay

An increase in pay for the $5-a-meeting city commissioners has been recommended by a special study committee composed of former commissioners.

In a report submitted to the City Commission last night, the 5-man committee recommended that the mayor receive $2,000 per year, payable on a monthly basis.

Each commissioner should receive, the committee said, $25 for each meeting he attends, with a limit of $1,300 a year (one paid meeting a week).

The report was referred to the next informal meeting, scheduled for late this month.

Mayor William W. Donaldson said, however, it was likely the Commission would put the matter to the electorate at the March primary. If approved it would take effect in April, when the new commissioners are elected.

Currently, the commissioners and the mayor each receive $5 for each regular meeting They get a free dinner at the informal meetings usually held once a month.

The committee said it made its recommendations "in view of the very considerable growth of the city of Pontiac with attendant additional complexities in its governmental duties and the added time which must be devoted to such duties since the adoption of the charter in 1920."

Since the salaries are part of the charter, they can be changed only by an amendment approved by a majority of those voting.

Serving on the committee were ex-commissioners John C. Cowe, Harold W. Dudley, Arthur J. Law, Harcourt S. Patterson and James F. Spence.

4 Persons Shot in Walkout Riot

Perfect Circle Strikers Mob Gates of Indiana Plant; Many Injured

NEW CASTLE, Ind. (INS)—Four persons were shot, including a woman, in an outbreak of violence today when 5,000 striking workers and sympathizers tried to crash the gates at the Perfect Circle Corp. in New Castle. Numerous others suffered minor injuries.

Outnumbered local police withdrew momentarily but at noon today were preparing to return to the battle scene with some 200 state troopers ordered into the city by Lt. Gov. Harold Handley.

Mayor Paul F. McCormack appealed to Handley, as acting governor in the absence of Gov. George N. Craig. Handley accompanied the troopers to the scene.

The injured woman, Mrs. Ethel McRoberts of Greensboro, a nonstriker, was still inside the plant at noon. The milling thousands outside prevented an ambulance from entering the plant.

LEG FRACTURED

Extent of her wounds was unknown but a police radio report said she suffered a compound leg fracture when a bullet, fired from outside the plant, struck her.

* * *

Three other men were shot among the massed strikers as persons inside the plant returned gunfire. New Castle police said they fired no shots at any of the strikers but retreated to await reinforcements.

In addition, Capt. Robert Dillon of the Indiana State Police contingent on hand when the outbreak occurred, was hit in the head by a rock.

Witnesses said the violence flared when several men in the crowd outside the plant attempted to get inside by climbing a 10-foot fence mounted with barbed wire.

The crowd was estimated at between 4,000 to 5,000 persons.

The strike was called last July by CIO-United Auto Workers.

Football Traffic Delayed

Who's to Blame for This Tieup?

Who's to blame?

Football traffic was tied up badly and blocked for hours at New Hudson last Saturday because of poor planning.

Grand River passes through New Hudson. Normally the traffic on Grand River far exceeds the crossing traffic. The light is properly adjusted for this condition. But things are very, very different when the Michigan football team draws 100,000 people to Ann Arbor. Then, the Grand River traffic is a tiny trickle compared to the crossing cars.

★ ★ ★ ★

WHY DON'T THE PROPER OFFICIALS CORRECT IT?

★ ★ ★ ★

On these few fall Saturdays, there should be an officer there with a manual signal or the timing should be reversed, with the Ann Arbor traffic having the long light. Probably an officer would be better.

When the game is over, the same condition arises again.

Last Saturday many football fans in this section heeded the plea of road officials and started early. But the Grand Blockade at Grand River spoiled everything. Traffic was backed up a mile or two shortly after eleven o'clock and then grew steadily worse.

When Philadelphia has the Army-Navy football game or any spectacle that fills the 100,000-seat field, the main street of Philadelphia is made ONE WAY ONLY for several hours before the game. Then it's reversed when the contest ends.

A city of MORE THAN TWO MILLION PEOPLE is alert and ready to handle traffic expertly when the occasion demands. New Hudson, Michigan, (population a few hundred) doesn't change a whit to accommodate the public.

WHO'S AT FAULT?
IS IT NEW HUDSON?
IS IT THE OAKLAND COUNTY ROAD COMMISSION?
IS IT THE STATE POLICE?
IS IT CHARLES ZIEGLER?

Saturday Michigan plays the Army.

Again the total attendance will approximate 100,000. The public hopes for a better deal at New Hudson.

Motorists were muttering during the early stages last Saturday, openly rebellious a little later and were ready to battle as the thing reached its peak of inefficiency.

Sometimes it doesn't pay to insult a voter and taxpayer too often.

Let's hope for help and cooperation when Michigan plays the Army. The Pontiac Press will be the first to cheer and the first to give a glad hand to the right people.

Lad, 3, Sends Cops Scurrying —but No $2,500

ST. CLAIR SHORES (INS)—Still no sign of the more than $2,500 evidently given away by 3-year-old Frank Licavoli in St. Clair Shores.

Teams of detectives spent most of yesterday running down clues which young Frank gladly gave.

First he said—in the car. Police searched and returned. Frank laughed.

Then the boy suggested—in the pile of bricks in the back yard. Other clues he gave were — in the cupboard in the basement, the rubbish pile, and so forth.

But still only a dollar and five cents have been recovered since young Frank was found with his mother's empty purse in the yard of their home. The money represented the sale of a home.

Rains Increase Flood Danger in Wichita Falls

More Than 500 Forced From Their Homes as Water Fills 150 Blocks

WICHITA FALLS, Tex. (AP)—More rain fell today, increasing danger from flooding streams which have inundated 150 blocks of this north Texas city and forced more than 500 persons from their homes.

Rising flood waters over the town already were estimated at from a few inches to as much as 6 feet deep. Hundreds of homes and scores of businesses were hit. Disease threatened.

"But if the rains persist, as they have," a Red Cross worker said, "there's no telling what will happen." The river stood at 20.8 feet as he talked.

Railroad and highway bridges were washed out and traffic closed northwest, west and southwest of the city.

More than 5,000 acres of farmland were under water, and the cattle county communities of Hackberry, Dumont, Grow, Chalk and Sneedville had been waterbound since Sunday night.

"The situation is going to get a lot worse before it gets better," said a Marine officer who flew to Mexico City from the stricken Gulf Coast oil port of 110,000 population.

Meanwhile in Hermosillo, Sonora, Mex., seven persons are reported dead and thousands believed to be homeless as a result of a flood that has swept the rich Yaqui Valley about 150 miles south of this northern Mexico city.

Company Hired for Mental Study

Leslie Hudson Opposes Action by Committee for $20,000 Survey

The Public Administrative Services of Chicago, yesterday was hired to gather facts and figures on Michigan's mental health program despite protests from Pontiac's State Rep. Leslie H. Hudson (D).

The Interim Senate Committee on Audits and Appropriations agreed to pay $20,000 plus cost for the survey to be completed by March 1 next year.

Decision to obtain a study came after conflicting reports were received from state agencies as to number of beds available for mentally deficient and tuberculosis patients.

An interim committee on mentally retarded, of which Hudson is a member, sat in on the meeting.

Hudson said the Citizens Research Council of Michigan had the facilities and experience to make the study and had offered to do so at no expense to the state.

"With a local research group available which has made many surveys within the state and knows where to get statistics, why do we go outside and pay $20,000 plus expenses which will probably amount to another $20,000," he asked.

The Michigan firm could make the study in the same length of time, he stated.

Appropriation committee members said they felt hiring an outside company would assure an unbiased report.

"When a competent firm is hired to gather statistics its report will be accurate because statistics are unbiased," Hudson asserted. The committee, however, voted unanimously to employ the Chicago concern.

Three Players Hold Champ to Draw

COULDN'T BE BEAT — Three checkers players who got draws against world champion Newell W. Banks in the Pontiac Press Chess and Checkers Exhibition last night were Robert Dunham of 272 Cottage St., his son, Delos, of the same address, and Dwight Fisher, a visual education director from Fenton. Above Robert Dunham and Fisher try their skill against each other after the big match, while Delos Dunham looks on. Two chess players, Dennis Gibson, 16, of 137 Osceola Dr. and Kassily Skziabin, 63, of 1250 Parkway Dr. also tied the champion. All other players were defeated in the five-hour exhibition held at Stevens Hall. (Additional pictures on pages 2 to 13.)

5 Area Players Emerge With Draws Against Champion in Press Exhibition

By WILMA GREENWAY

None of the players who turned out for the Pontiac Press Chess and Checkers Exhibition last night was able to wrest a victory from world champion Newell W. Banks.

However, three checkers and two chess players got draws in the five-hour exhibition at Stevens Hall here, and drew from the expert the comment that "Pontiac has some exceptionally good players."

Tying the champion at checkers were a Pontiac father and son, Robert E. Dunham, 68, and Delos A. Dunham, 37, both of 272 Cottage St., and a high school visual education director, Dwight Fisher, 58, of 800 N. Leroy St., Fenton.

Dennis Gibson, 16, of 137 Osceola Dr., who beat Banks in a similar exhibition in Detroit, got a draw in the chess section, as did Kassily Skziabin, 63, of 1250 Parkway Dr.

An atmosphere of tense expectations prevailed, as players concentrated on the game. Almost as many chess players as checkers players had their boards set up at the long tables which lined all four sides of the big auditorium.

In the center the white-haired Banks moved from player to player as he took on all comers. Occasionally he stopped to call his plays to the three games of blindfold checkers that he was conducting.

Although the play started promptly at 7:30 p.m., it was not until after 11 o'clock that the checkers games had been played out. First to gain a draw was Robert Dunham.

"I got one draw in three games at the State Fair last month," said Dunham, who has been trying to beat Banks at exhibitions ever since 1934. "This makes two draws out of four," he chortled.

Three Pontiac businessmen who played blindfold games with Banks were all beaten, though not until they had put up "a stiff fight." They were Fred C. Kaiser, co-owner of Kaiser Wholesale Co.; Rowley C. Chase, a painting contractor; and Wayne N. McCandless of W. N. McCandless, Inc.

At 11:30 the game had narrowed down to seven chess players, and at midnight 16-year-old Dennis Gibson and Banks declared it a draw.

Chess enthusiast Skziabin, who speaks little English, explained through an interpreter that he had been playing ever since he was a child, and was top-notcher in Russia before coming here. Gibson appeared satisfied with his draw, though sorry there was not time to play the game out.

"One win and one draw, in two games with Banks — I guess that's not a bad record," Gibson said. "I had my offensive all figured out, but he made some

Argentine Labor Party Dissolves

Leaders of CGT Resign Under Pressure of Rebel Forces in Power

BUENOS AIRES (INS)—Leaders of the General Confederation of Labor (CGT) resigned today, ending the Peronist monopoly over Argentina's labor movement.

Most of the unions in the confederation, once the backbone of Juan Peron's regime, were taken over by democratic leaders.

Virtually all unions demanded new elections after it was announced Hugo de Pietro, CGT secretary-general, and other members of the controlling council, had resigned.

The CGT chief reportedly informed provisional President Eduardo Lonardi of the impending development at a meeting between the two last night.

USED FOR SHOW

Peron had used the six million members of the CGT as one of the pillars of his ten-year rule over Argentina, calling them out in the streets whenever he thought it necessary to demonstrate his power.

Meanwhile, the new government filled in more details of the real picture of Juan Peron to replace the one that the dictator had painted for the public.

Teisaire who was arrected following the successful military revolt last month described the ousted president as a taker of dope, a coward, a man without sentiment for his mother and whose sole ambition was to pile up wealth.

* * *

With regard to the last item, the provisional government today ordered that all property of Peron be placed under the control of an army officer responsible to Lonardi.

Death Claims Greek Premier

Nation Faces Political Dilemma Over Selection of Papagos Successor

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Greece faced the possibility of a serious political crisis today after the death of Premier Alexander Papagos, the national hero.

* * *

Field Marshal Papagos, 71-year-old victor over the Italians in World War II and the Communists in 1949, died last night of heart exhaustion following a lung hemorrhage from tuberculosis.

The marshal had been confined to his home since January with gastric troubles resulting from World War II imprisonment in a Nazi camp.

END OF PARTY?

Members of the Premier's conservative Greek Rally party planned to meet after his funeral Friday in an effort to reweld party unity and settle on a successor.

Because a general election would mean the end of the party, political observers expected its diverse elements to subordinate their individual ambitions in an effort to agree on a new premier.

U.S. officials in Washington were distressed to hear of Papagos' death. Americans who had dealt with him regarded him highly and found him very friendly to the United States.

Four New Sites for 560 Spaces Being Planned

Revenue Bond Issue of $550,000 Would Finance Project

By ARNOLD S. HIRSCH

A half-million dollar plan to provide 560 more municipal parking spaces in one move was given preliminary City Commission approval last night.

The plan calls for construction of four new city-operated lots in the downtown business district. It rounds out a program announced in July, when construction plans for two of the four lots were revealed.

Together with the 332 spaces at the two present municipal lots and the 471 metered spaces on the streets, the city would provide a total of 1,363 parking spots for downtown shoppers and visitors with completion of the new lots.

A revenue bond issue for $550,000 would pay for the lots. The bonds would be redeemed in 13 years or less from the income of all parking meters in the city.

Auburn just east of South Saginaw — 80.

City Manager Walter K. Willman, who detailed the program to the Commission at last Thursday's informal meeting before leaving for a convention, said construction could begin next spring if the Commssion gives the go-ahead.

They would be completed by the end of 1956, he said.

In hearing the first reading of an ordinance authorizing the bond issue, the Commission last night took the preliminary steps necessary to build the lots. Final action will not be taken before next week's meeting, which has been set for Thursday night to enable Willman to attend.

Although all the commissioners indicated satisfaction with the

Showers Predicted Tonight, Tomorrow

The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts cloudiness with rain today, tonight and tomorrow. The forecast for today's high is 72-76 with a low tonight of 62-66. The temperature will run the same tomorrow.

The mercury reached a high of 80 degrees at 3 p. m. yesterday.

One year ago today the temperature rose to 98 degrees with a low of 70.

In downtown Pontiac this morning the thermometer reading was 64 degrees at 6 a.m. rising to 61 at 2 p.m.

At 8 a.m. the wind velocity was 10 miles per hour from the south.

Optimism Prevails in Ike's Sick Room With Encouraging Progress Reports

There was no letup whatsoever in the physician's around-the-clock vigilance, because the crucial two-week danger period after a heart attack won't be up until Saturday. Any complications, the doctors have warned repeatedly, are likely to occur during those first 14 days.

But the Eisenhower family and relations are beginning to relax a bit.

Last night's medical bulletin said:

"The President had another good day. His condition continues to be satisfactory without complications."

Mrs. Eisenhower took in a motion picture last night at the Fitzsimons Army Hospital auditorium. It was her first real relaxation since she moved into a room across the hall from the President a few hours after he was hospitalized Sept. 24.

The auditorium movie screen was installed a few days ago near Eisenhower's eighth-floor suite so he will be able to see a motion picture himself eventually.

The President, a doting grandfather, got a powerful morale booster — a framed, 10x14-inch color photograph of his 7-year-old grandson David Eisenhower.

Eisenhower signed another half dozen documents yesterday afternoon. That was the largest number in any one day since he was hospitalized. Spadework on the documents was done in advance by aides.

One of the documents authorized release of $500,000 in disaster relief funds for conservation measures in the hurricane and flood-damaged states of Connecticut, Massachusetts and North Carolina.

Another presidential action was acceptance of the resignation of Jack K. McFall as ambassador to Finland, and appointment of career diplomat John D. Hickerson to replace him.

Eisenhower's final signature of the day was a formality legalizing allocation of federal money for drought relief in Texas.

Attorney for City Requesting Aid

Court Case Volume Cited as One Reason for Assistant

City Attorney William A. Ewart wants help, and he told the City Commission so last night.

Ewart said he is being overwhelmed by the number of cases he must try in Municipal Court. The load runs as high as 25 a day, he told the Commission.

A survey by the court showed, he said, that the number of cases handled here "far exceeds" that of other Michigan cities comparable to Pontiac. It reaches the number of cases handled by the much larger Flint municipal court, he related.

An assistant to handle municipal court cases would give him time to carry on the other legalistics of a thriving city, he contended.

He pointed to the legal staffs of cities smaller than Pontiac, Bay City and Royal Oak each has a city attorney and an assistant, he said. Muskegon has an attorney and two assistants. Hamtramck's attorney has three assistants.

The Commission took Ewart's request under advisement and deferred further consideration until the next informal meeting.

City Moves Toward New Parking Lots

general locations, there were indications by two of them that they were not completely satisfied with the Lafayette site.

A condemnation suit for one parcel of land needed for the Lafayette lot has been started in Circuit Court under Commission authorization given July 26 when plans for the lots at Lafayette and Lawrence - Pike were announced.

The remaining parcel is now used as a private parking lot, as is one parcel the city has been unable to purchase at the Lawrence-Pike lot.

Although the commissioners were told originally that there was precedent for condemning private parking property for municipal use, City Attorney William A. Ewart said, "We will probably be the first in the state to try it."

Estimated yearly revenue from the 1,363 meters — at the rate of five cents an hour — is $108,000. Present income from the 803 meters is $80,000.

Should annual income be 1½ times the amount needed to pay off the bonds, the city could develop additional lots, Willman told the Commission.

Actual cost of the lots would be $578,500, but $28,500 would come from available funds.

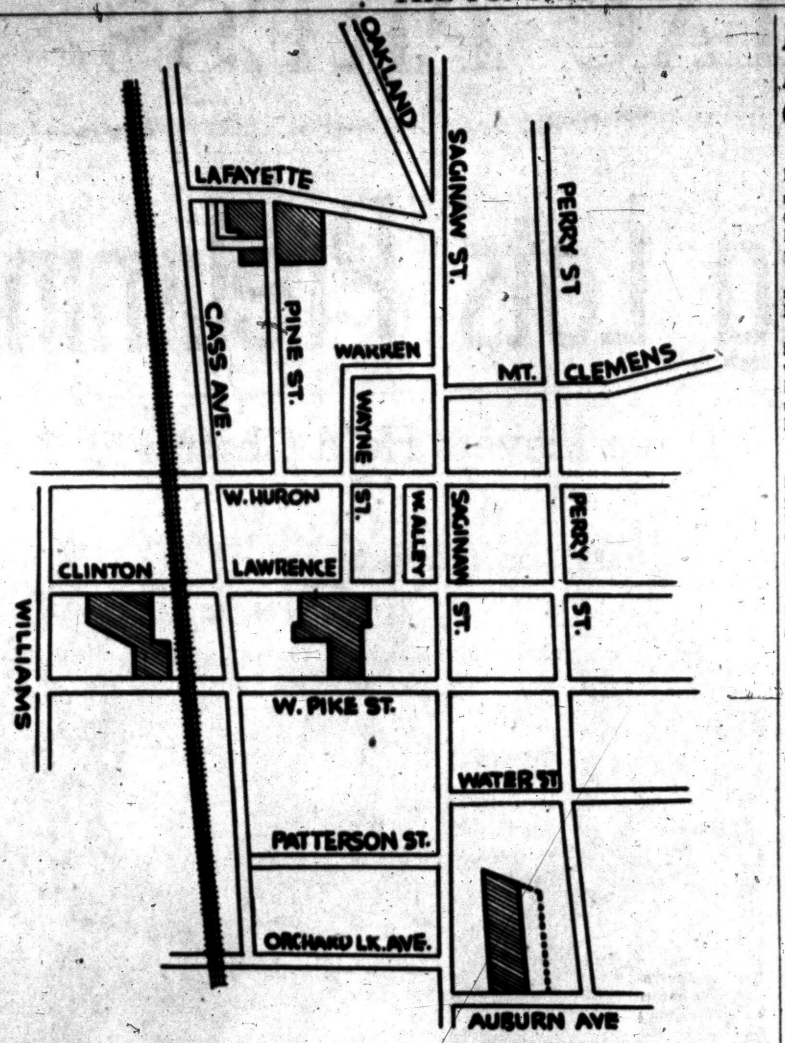

Bulk of the cost — $415,000 — would be for the land, which would be acquired by outright purchase or condemnation. Part of the land is now occupied by buildings and part is vacant.

When first presenting the program, Willman said the lots were ideally situated for persons wishing to shop in the downtown area. "We've got to keep downtown attractive and convenient," he added.

The lots follow generally the outline for downtown parking spaces developed by a citizens parking study committee in 1948. It called for 10 lots providing space for 1,885 cars. Some of the recommended sites have since been purchased by private operators.

"These lots are proposed to distribute parking, eliminate congestion and serve traffic coming into the city on the main arteries," said Mayor William W. Donaldson.

Both present city lots are east of Saginaw Street. Three of the four new ones would be west of Saginaw.

TO SERVE DOWNTOWN SHOPPERS — Locations of the sites for four new municipal parking lots in the downtown area were revealed at last night's City Commission meeting. The lots would add 560 new spaces at 5 cents an hour, with a 3-hour limit. Bonds would be issued to cover $550,000 of the $578,500 cost. Remainder would come from available funds. Dotted area is potential addition.

Lapeer Official Dies at Home

A Supervisor 20 Years, Ronald Rhead to Have Military Service

LAPEER — Service for Ronald David Rhead, 59, will be held Friday, 3,00 p.m. at the Grace Episcopal Church. Burial will be under military auspices in Mt. Hope Cemetery.

Mr. Rhead died unexpectedly Tuesday evening of a heart attack while mowing his lawn. He was born in Lapeer on Nov. 2, 1895 and was married to Kate Lincoln on Oct. 2, 1920. Mr. Rhead was a lifelong resident of Lapeer.

Mr. Rhead served as supervisor for 20 years, the second longest period of office in the county. He had been in the insurance business for many years, a veteran of World War I, active in the American Legion, a member of the Masonic Lodge, the Rotary Club and the Lapeer Country Club.

The body will be at the residence of 907 N. Main St., and arrangements will be under the Muir Brothers Funeral Home.

Godfrey Sends CAA $500 for Air Breach

WASHINGTON (INS)—The Civil Aeronautics Administration announced today that TV-radio star Arthur Godfrey has made a $500 settlement to close the case against him involving an alleged flying violation.

CAA Administrator Fred B. Lee said that a letter was received today from Godfrey's attorney, C. Leo D'Orsey, of Washington, enclosing a $500 check as a "compromise settlement."

However, the letter emphasized that the payment did not constitute any admission of guilt by Godfrey. The TV-radio star again denied that he had flown too close to an Ozark Airlines plane.

Calls Upon Ziegler to Back Toll Road

JACKSON (AP) — Michigan could develop a state highway program "very rapidly" if Highway Commissioner Charles Ziegler would "cooperate in the construction of a toll road," State Sen. Nichols (R-Jackson) contends.

Nichols in a statement yesterday called attention to the feud between Ziegler and the Michigan Turnpike Authority headed by former State Sen. George Higgins of Ferndale.

If commissioner Ziegler would cooperate in the construction of a toll road, and with the accelerated funds that should be derived from act of Congress at the next session, an expanding state highway program should develop very rapidly," Nichols said.

Ziegler has steadfastly opposed construction of a 113-mile toll highway between Rockwood, near Monroe, and Saginaw, claiming his department could build a comparable highway without toll assessments.

Hal Apologizes for $16,000 Slip on Quiz Show

NEW YORK (INS) — An embarrassed master of ceremonies offered $16,000 worth of apologies today for the most expensive slip of the tongue in TV-quiz show history.

Hal March said it was all his fault. He promised he would do his best to see that it didn't happen again.

A St. Louis Irishman named Patrick Keough had no complaints, either. Besides, Paddy said, he knew the answer all the time.

Thus apparently ended the latest unrehearsed drama of "The $64,000 Question" — the CBS cash and suspense spectacle which each week poses uncommon questions for unusual personalities before an estimated 50 million viewers.

There was an uncommon amount of suspense about last night's episode.

Contestant Keough, 62-year-old assistant manager of a carbon company, came within a tongue-slip of benching himself on the last part of a baseball question about the great Joe DiMaggio's all-time record hitting streak back in 1941.

* * *

But 35-year-old quizmaster March came through with an inadvertent "assist," and Keough limped over the $16,000 hurdle. Next Tuesday night, he'll fly back from St. Louis to announce whether he'll risk another baseball question for $32,000 or settle for a hard-won $16,000 check.

Rich De Barros Ahead in Brazilian Balloting

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Wealthy Adhemar de Barros held a thin lead in the Brazilian presidential race today but Juscelino Kubitschek stood a good chance of pulling ahead.

With about 10 per cent counted of the estimated 11 million votes cast in Monday's election the standing early today was: De Barros 333,288, Kubitschek 299,949, Maj. Gen. Juarez Tavora 293,727, and Plinio Salgada, Sao Paulo journalist-author 160,758.

Blaze in Waterford Damages Residence

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — No one was injured in a blaze which caused an estimated $4,000 damage to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Jadwin of 4340 Seeden Rd. Tuesday afternoon. The fire also caused an estimated $1,500 damage to the contents of the one story frame house.

According to acting Fire Chief Ed Smith, a daughter and son of the Jadwin family were playing with matches in their utility room while their mother was resting as the fire broke out.

Daringly Clad Marlene Wins Cheers in Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Marlene Dietrich, in full dress and near undress, roused night club customers to shouts of appreciation last night in her third opening in this wondrous show business town.

First she did a dozen numbers in a slinky net-and-feather gown, with a bosom peekaboo effect that had the crowd gasping. She wound up in top hat and tails doing "The Dark Town Strutters Ball."

* * *

This is Miss Dietrich's third appearance on a three-engagement contract but there are indications the contract will be renewed. She does only one other night club appearance, at the Cafe de Paris in London.

Miss Dietrich told reporters she has no plans to appear on television "because I'm too lazy."

Fish Deaths Due to Oxygen Lack

Galloway Lake Level Blamed by Authorities for Killings

Lack of oxygen today was blamed for the death of thousands of fish in Galloway Lake and sanitation officials warned that other small lakes face the same fate.

"It's the lack of oxygen that is killing them and unless we get some rain we'll probably get a lot of it in many lakes," said Russell H. Coltson, Oakland County Sanitation Dept. director.

"There is nothing new in having fish killed because of lack of oxygen," he said. "On any lake, when the water gets low, there is not much movement and the water doesn't pick up any oxygen."

Residents of Galloway Lake, which lies partly in Pontiac and partly in Pontiac Township, had complained that thousands of dead and dying fish were floating on the water and washing ashore.

Coltson said he has referred the matter to the regional division of the State Conservation Dept. at Imlay City for any further action.

He said he doubted a county drain carrying some sanitary sewage into the lake "had much to do with the situation." He said the county is trying to eliminate sanitary sewage from the drain, which has emptied into the lake for years.

SIDNEY N. GEAL

RABBI S. E. SAPERSTEIN

Saperstein, Geal Named to Housing Commission

Two posts on the Pontiac Housing Commission were filled by the City Commission last night when Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein and Sidney N. Geal were appointed for 5-year and 4-year terms, respectively.

Rabbi Saperstein, the 36-year-old spiritual leader at Temple Beth Jacob, has served on the housing board since he was appointed to fill an unexpired term a year ago.

Geal, 56, is general secretary of the Oakland County Town and Country YMCA. During the depression, he had charge of feeding and housing 22,000 jobless men in Chicago. In his present position, he coordinates YMCA activities in the county's smaller communities.

Slate Hearings on Debt Firms

Hearings are scheduled Oct. 20 and 21 in Detroit by the State Senate's Banking and Corporations Committee on operations of debt-management firms in Michigan.

Proceedings will start at 10 a.m. in the Veterans Memorial Bldg., said Sen. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak), committee chairman.

The lawmakers will probe alleged irregularity in methods of the firms which offer to work out deals with creditors of persons falling behind in debt payments.

The first hearing day will see testimony from persons who have complaints against the debt-pooling companies, said Broomfield.

Operators of the firms will be invited to testify the second day, "but if they don't appear voluntarily we'll have to subpoena them," the senator added.

Pontiac Deaths

Mrs. Arthur E. Burgis

Mrs. Arthur E. (Nina) Burgis, 72, died at her home 391 N. Perry St. early yesterday morning. She had been ill two years.

She was born in Minden City Aug. 27, 1883, the daughter of Belford and Asenth Dell Kelley. She married the late Arthur E. Burgis in 1905 in Detroit.

Mrs. Burgis has lived in Pontiac since 1906, coming here from Muskegon. She was a member of Central Methodist Church, the Mothers' Club of Pontiac and the Sunshine Club of her church.

Surviving are six children, Roy of Alpena, Earl of Grand Rapids, Clare of Woodland Heights, Calif., Mrs. Faye Maynihan of Phoenix, Ariz., Mrs. Beth Sinks of Grand Rapids and Lee of Pontiac.

Also surviving are a brother, Homer Kelley of New Mexico, a sister, Stella Kelley of Detroit, 20 grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

Dr. Milton H. Bank, her pastor, will officiate at the service Friday at 1:30 p.m. in the Huntoon Funeral Home. Burial will follow in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Samuel W. Gowdy

Samuel W. Gowdy, 77, of 194 Josephine St. died yesterday morning after an illness of six months.

Born in Ireland July 11, 1878, he was the son of Samuel Gowdy and married to the former Mary L. DeCamps.

Coming here from Lake Orion, he was a retired tool & dye maker at Pontiac Motor Division. Mr. Gowdy was a member of Mason's Ionic Lodge 474 F & AM in Detroit, and Eagles Aerie 336 in Mansfield, Ohio.

Surviving are a sister and a brother, Mrs. Annie Taylor and Hugh Gowdy, both of Belfast, Ireland.

Mr. Gowdy is at the Pursley Funeral Home where service will be held at 2 p.m. Thursday. The Rev. William E. Hakes of the First Baptist Church will officiate with burial in White Chapel Memorial Cemetery.

Chess, Checkers Exhibition Held

unorthodox moves and fouled me up. He's some player!"

Final players at the chess tables were Mrs. Fred M. Albertson of Keego Harbor; Robert W. Verhine of 184 W. Longfellow, a Pontiac policeman; and Nick Bogdanow of 407 S. Jessie. All were defeated, but a final game with Bogdanow kept the last remaining watchers on tenterhooks until 12:30 a.m. when Bogdanow, with a wry smile, conceded defeat.

Banks, who will mark his 68th birthday Monday, played with ease throughout the five hours, but his shrewd eyes showed that he wasn't missing a trick. A world champion at mixed chess and checkers, as well as blindfold checkers, he also has set endurance records at blindfold checkers that have never been equaled.

"I want to thank the Pontiac Press for making the exhibition possible," Banks said. "You have some fine players here."

More than 100 persons were present at the exhibition, attending from Detroit and other cities in southern Michigan as well as Pontiac and surrounding townships.

"He walloped us good," said one youthful checker fan, "but it was lots of fun."

Top man among the players, whose ages ranged from 8 to 17, was 8-year-old Charlie Hall of 647 Northway Dr. Although Charlie had played only about ten games of checkers in the last two years at the club, he held out long after the more experienced players were defeated, and was the last boy down.

"He's the king of the Boys Club," said club director Williaim Coulacos. "He just came in to try his luck, and he didn't even realize he was playing against a champion."

The Day in Birmingham

Suggest City Turn Down Land Purchase Request

BIRMINGHAM — The Planning Board will suggest that a request from the Birmingham Athletic Club purchase some five-and-one-half acres of the 64-acre tract of land owned by the city west of Cranbrook and north of 14 Mile Road, be turned down.

The recommendation will be passed along to the City Commission for final action and came as a result of last night's joint meeting of the Planning and Recreation Boards.

Backing up the decision was an added wish that the entire parcel be held in reserve for potential development by the Recreation Board.

It was felt this would complete the "triangle" formed by the area under debate plus Springdale and Eton Parks, filling the recreational needs for all areas of the city.

A newly-formed group headed by Frederick Matthaei Jr., the Athletic Club proposed to build a club house at the southwest corner of the city property, where squash and tennis courts and other facilties would be available to men of the community on a membership basis.

Frank A. Kenney

Service for Frank A. Kenney, 20, of 6236 Bloomfield Glens, West Bloomfield Township, will be at 3 p.m. Friday at Manley Bailey Funeral Home, with burial in Acacia Park Cemetery. A retired salesman of railway equipment, Mr. Kenney died Tuesday.

He leaves his widow, Anna P.; two daughters, Mrs. Owni S. Koskinen of West Bloomfield, Eleanor Kenney of Brooklyn, N.Y., and two sisters, Mrs. William Byrne and Ann Kenney, both of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Plant Accident Kills Area Man

BIRMINGHAM—An accident at the Chevrolet Spring and Bumper Plant, Livonia, took the life of Max M. Roensch Jr., 26-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Max M. Roensch, 19600 Riverside Dr., this morning.

A solution attendant in the plant's plating division, Roensch was killed by a sending elevator platform as he was leaning over the edge of a plating tank.

Young Roensch had attended Cranbrook School; University School, Cleveland; Washington and Jefferson College, Pennsylvania; and the University of Michigan, where he was a member of Acacia Fraternity. He was also a member of Christ Church Cranbrook.

Besides his parents, he is survived by one brother and a sister, Robert L. and Winifred, both attending U. of M.; and his grandmother, Mrs. Percy Leathers of Oak Lawn, R.I.

Service will be at 2 p.m. Friday at Christ Church Cranbrook, with burial in White Chapel Memorial cemetery. Arrangements are by Manley Bailey Funeral Home.

In lieu of flowers, the family suggests that contributions be made to the Christ Church Memorial Scholarship fund.

Ask Early Completion at Wing Lake School

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — Speed was the word at a special Board of Education meeting Monday, when architects doing the Wing Lake School addition and new east side elementary school were asked to proceed as rapidly as possible, in order that both facilities can be available for occupancy by next September.

When a survey of the needs of the school district was presented this spring, authorities thought it possible that the elementary school could be delayed another year.

A September completion date for the Wing Lake addition had already been anticipated.

Because of an enrollment beyond present expectation, the board has already seen the need for a speed-up in its five-step building program and hopes to meet this month with the Michigan State University survey committee.

John L. Lewis, Ike Suffer Same Illness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Doctors have diagnosed John L. Lewis' trouble as a heart attack like the one that felled President Eisenhower, but not as severe.

Dr. John Minor, Lewis' physician, said last night it now appears the 75-year-old boss of the United Mine Workers suffered a "very minimum heart attack" about two weeks ago, Minor said Lewis is progressing so well he probably would go home at the end of this week.

Lewis was admitted to Emergency Hospital Sept. 23 — the day before Eisenhower was stricken in Colorado. It was said at the time he was in for a rest and checkup. But Minor said yesterday it had been determined he was stricken with a "slight" coronary thrombosis.

He said Lewis attack was "not nearly to the same degree" as Eisenhower's.

Community Council to Meet Thursday

The Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council will meet at 8 p.m. Thursday in the City Commission Chamber, City Hall, to approve by-laws and a constitution.

It will be the third meeting of the body, which was first instituted last March as a community health and welfare council.

Morocco Slaughter Related

(The folowing dispatch by Euloge Boissonnade, an Associated Press French correspondent, tells of his visit yesterday to Immouzer-des-Marmoucha, northeastern Moroccan town of 500 inhabitants, including 50 Europeans. An estimated 2,000 Berber tribesmen attacked this and a nearby settlement Saturday night, killing at least 11 Europeans.)

By EULOGE BOISSONNADE

FEZ, French Morocco (AP)—I returned here early today from the sacked village of Immouzer-des-Marmoucha. The desolation and the suffering still haunt me.

Dead and wounded lay in the dust-caked cars. In the first ambulance was Capt. Chaussier, one of the survivors of the Immouzer garrison. He climbed painfully out of one of the ambulances with the help of a nurse. His face showed the pain of his wounds and grief from the loss of his wife and their two children, slain by the rampaging tribesmen.

Scattered between the trucks and ambulances were dusty family cars driven by women—the widows. Tired and frightened children huddled by their mothers. Some had been able to save a few personal belongings.

In the village were only troops. All civilians had been evacuated. Some of the soldiers — there were only 50 able-bodied men left of 100 in the military post by the time reinforcements arrived—said the attack took place by moonlight Saturday night.

Tribesmen infiltrated along the ravines, even into the very streets of the village. Then with wild cries they attacked the houses individually and almost simultaneously. Dwellers were wrenched from their sleep. Some were dragged into the street and their throats slit.

Maj. Beau, chief of the military post, tried to escape through his home's cellar and then out through an air shaft. The rebels caught him a few yards away and shot him to death. The thick stone walls and a few charred rafters were almost all that remained of his villa. An electric refrigerator had been emptied and burned. A sewing machine and a radio had been burned, too. In the roofless bathroom some shaving articles were still on a table.

Inside Capt. Chaussier's house —where his wife and two chidren had been slaughtered — broken furniture was in wild disorder and blood was everywhere. In the yard chickens picked at the last grain Mrs. Chaussier had thrown to them. The family dog trotted to and fro, his eyes worried.

Short bursts of a submachinegun fire could be heard from the distance. Troops were mopping up snipers. The main body of the tribesmen had retreated to the surrounding mountain peaks and beyond.

White flags hung outside Marmoucha tribesmen's homes in Immouzer. Tanks moved along the streets and occupied crests in the surrounding country.

On the way back to Fez, some 65 miles, we passed a seemingly unending line of convoys — French military strength rolling into the dangerous rebel country. No one travels alone.

Colorado Police Charge Father Smothered Son, Buried Him in Wilds

TELLURIDE, Colo. (AP)—A husky sheepherder who twice broke jail within a few hours was behind bars again today for questioning about the suffocation and crude burial of his infant son.

* * *

Orville Thomas Bell, 26, a former mental patient, was apprehended without resisting yesterday on the ranch of Marshall Hughes near Norwood, Colo., where he was employed.

His 19-year-old wife Emma told officers last Saturday that he had smothered their 41-day-old son, buried him in a wilderness grave and held her captive in their tent home for three weeks.

* * *

Bell was arrested and jailed at Naturita. He escaped and went to the home of a sister, who persuaded him to surrender. He did, and was handcuffed to a bed in his cell. He snapped the handcuffs, however, and fled Sunday morning.

Couple Begins Eating for Week for Only $8.56

"That's all, mister," said Mrs. Burdick Myre today as she and her husband, an airman first class at Goodfellow Air Force Base, finished breakfast today.

* * *

The Myers were starting on their first day of trying to eat on $8.56 per week, a figure that nutritionists at Utah experiment station say is possible.

Myres, a 6-foot-3-inch lad from Madison, Wis., said he would miss most the half-jar of peanut butter he has been eating before bedtime each night. But Mrs. Myre, a five-foot classified ad taker in the San Angelo Standard-Times office, believes her biggest problem is preventing her airman from eating "snacks" at the base.

The rest of todays menu: for lunch, bacon and tomato sandwich, raspberry jello with bananas and iced tea; dinner, pot roast, mashed potatoes, corn and lime jello with carrots.

Iowa Town Flees Ammonia Fumes

GIBSON, Iowa (AP) — Sometime around noon yesterday residents of this small southern Iowa town noticed a strong smell of ammonia in the air. Within a short time the entire population of about 100 had fled to the outskirts.

An alarm was sounded afer a valve broke on top of a railroad tank car while the pressurized liquid ammonia was being piped into the Gibson Fertilizer Co.'s storage tank. The accident let loose toxic anhydrous ammonia fumes.

Backstay Ready at Straits Bridge

Biggest Single Section Floating Toward Final Location at Mackinac

GRAND RAPIDS, (AP)—A Mackinac Bridge Authority speaker told Kiwanis Club members this week that one of the biggest single sections of the structure will be floated into place late this month.

Lawrence A. Rubin said a steel "backstay" span, 486 feet long and 120 feet high will be floated out on double barges and fastened to piers. The barges then will be submerged and removed from under the backstay.

"So far, the work all has been vertical. This will be the first lateral piece of 'bridge' to be installed," Rubin said.

In the process report, Rubin said all the foundations for bridge approaches are in concrete up to water line and 10 of 16 at the south end are completed. Four of 11 are finished on the north.

BONDS SELL OVER PAR

"Barring unforseen developments, we will meet the November 1957 completion," Rubin stated. "This year the water has been good . . ."

Rubin also said the bridge bonds, are selling over par on the market. The $1,000 bonds, he said, bring an asking price of $1,005.

The Bridge Authority secretary said the long term bonds could be refinanced as "full faith and obligation" bonds at a lower rate of interest. He expects the Legislature may consider placing the plan on the ballot at some future time.

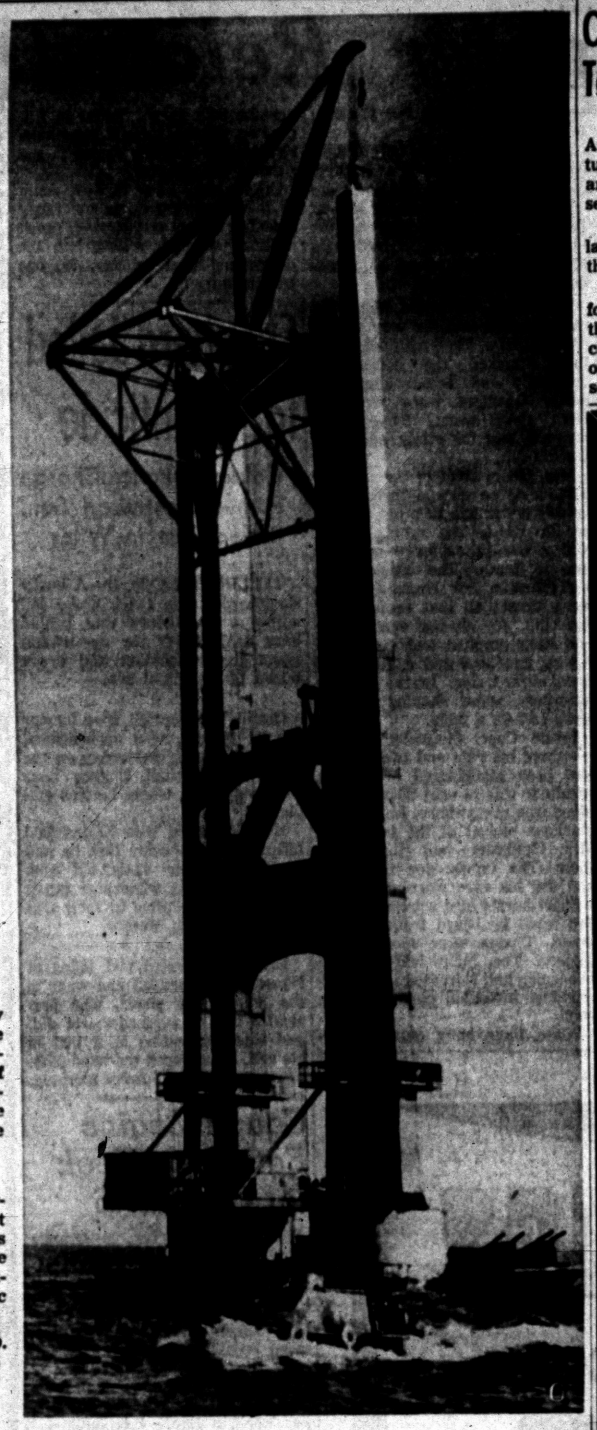

HEAVY USE EXPECTED

"Revenue from the present ferries is about big enough to meet such financing," Rubin told his audience, "and interest in the bridge from over the nation indicates it will have heavy traffic when finished."

Former State Treasurer D. Hale Brake had criticized the financing plan before it was adopted, saying the interest cost would be $40,000,000 or more.

Rubin yesterday said the bridge finance plan, as it now stands, will make the total bridge cost about $99,500,000, including interest. It would cost less, he said, if the state voters approved a "full faith and credit" bond issue.

"The contractors are sparing no efforts to get the job done efficiently and economically," Rubin concluded. "We are on schedule in concrete, steel, and in dollars and cents."

BRIDGE TOWER AT STRAITS — The steel superstructure of this north main tower for the Mackinac Bridge will go 215 feet higher. The 5-mile long, $100 million bridge will connect upper and lower Michigan. When completed this tower will be 552 feet above the water. The bridge is scheduled to be opened to traffic in November of 1957.

Detroiter Survives 152-Ft. Bridge Leap

DETROIT (AP) — Because she landed feet first, a 36-year-old Detroit housewife survived a 152-foot leap from the Ambassador Bridge into the Detroit River yesterday.

A veteran bridge official said he believed it was the first time anyone had jumped from the bridge and lived in the 25 years since the structure was built.

The woman, identified as Mrs. Margaret Coon, was pulled from the wind-swept waters by crewmen of the Mailboat J. W. Westcott. She was reported in critical condition with internal injuries at Receiving Hospital.

A physician at the hospital said the only reason she survived was because she landed in the water feet first.

Police said a witness reported Mrs. Coon walked to the center of the bridge linking Detroit and Windsor, Ont., climbed over the railing and, without pausing, leaped into the water.

Catalogues Helping Teach Americana

WASHINGTON (INS) — The American mail order catalogue has turned out to be one of the best ambassadors the U. S. has overseas.

Thousands of people from Greenland to Japan are learning about this nation from the catalogues.

The U. S. Information Agency has found the books to be so popular this year alone it has sent 3,500 copies of one mail order firm's order book to its overseas posts so far.

The agency reported today that people in foreign lands used the catalogues as English textbooks, as sources for ideas for manufacture of such things as toys, hats, porcelainware, electrical gear and style books for clothing design.

At Athens, catalogues are used by customs officials to decide prices of items on which duty is to be paid.

Tailors everywhere value American mail order books for the help they offer on clothes styles.

Police Examining Bones

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—City police await State Police laboratory analysis results to determine if bones, found wrapped in newspaper at a southwest intersection, are human. Officers said the package was discovered by David Bergman, who found his dog sniffing the bones while out for a walk. The newspaper was dated last June 28, police said.

Island Retreats for Sale in State

Department of Interior to Hold Auction Oct. 13 on Wilderness Land

ESCANABA (AP) — People who want to buy an island retreat to get away from it all will get their chance next week.

Tracts on isolated islands in the Upper Peninsula are being put up for sale by the U.S. Department of the Interior.

It will be the last major sale in Michigan of nearly 2,000 acres of public domain lands. Included are one entire island and portions of seven others in 10 counties.

Bids will be received in Escanaba Oct. 13 on the land, described as desirable sites for cottages and camps.

ISOLATED TRACTS

The lands, in scattered and usually isolated sections, are located in Alger, Baraga, Charlevoix, Chippewa, Houghton, Keweenaw, Leelanau, Mackinac, Marquette and Schoolcraft Counties.

More than 600 acres are offered for sale on Beaver Island in Charlevoix County with land and timber appraised at $8,000. Some of the tracts have frontage on Lake Michigan.

Other island properties offered are on Sugar, Neebish and Macomb Islands in the Lower St. Marys River, Chippewa County; a small island in Beaufort Lake, Baraga County, and portions of Manitou Island off Keweenaw Point in Lake Superior.

R.E. Chandler, forester for the Bureau of Land Management, said owners of adjoining lands will be given preference rights in the sale.

He said the 1,960 acres of land in 36 tracts has an appraised price of $43,771.

Sealed bids received for each tract will be opened on the day of the sale at the Delta County Courthouse. Each tract then will be offered for oral auction.

The lowest acceptable oral bid must be greater than the highest sealed bid accepted on the same tract.

A prospectus on the offered lands can be obtained from box 411, Bureau of Land Management, Escanaba. Mailed bids must be sealed and accompanied by a certified cashier's check or money order for the amount bid.

2-Headed Turtle 'Ditto' Confused by Dual Brains

BOSTON (AP) — You know that saying about two heads being better than one? It just isn't so, according to the Boston Museum of Science.

* * *

The museum has "Ditto" to prove it.

Ditto is a two-headed turtle. Instead of having one mind to make up, Ditto has two. So Ditto lives a life of confusion.

He's still tiny — the size of a quarter — but holds the dsiitnction of being one of the first two-headed turtles ever to reach the age of one year. Museum officials hope he'll grow to maturity. All other such turtles have died at an early age, says Education Director Norman D. Harris.

He explains that Ditto was once a turtle egg that started out to be twins, but, due perhaps to a sudden drop in temperature, hatched as a part twin.

"His independent brains will never learn to cooperate," says Harris. "So when Ditto starts walking, he often tries to go in two directions at once. When he gets all four feet going in one direction it's just a happy accident."

The Pentagon Building, headquarters of the Department of Defense, contains three times the office space of the Empire State Building.

Harvard Guide Shows Free Speech Still Alive

By EARL WILSON

★ ★ ★ ★

CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—I've entered "Hahrvud."

I entered it through one of the gates, just like anybody else. I stood for a while drinking in the beauty of leafy, historic Harvard Yard—pronounced "Hahrvud Yad.

"Can you direct me to "The Crimson?" I asked a passing student.

"It's not in the Yad," he said, vaguely. "It's outside the Yad."

Well, if it wasn't in the yad, maybe it was over around Hahrvud Squaah.

I wanted to find out if free speech still ruled . . . if The Crimson still published "Confidential Guide to Freshman Courses," which blasts professors who need to be blasted.

So I asked a cop.

"It's on Pimmmptnnn Street." His weren't in an uproar. You couldn't even hear say.

"I could swear you said Pimmmmmptnnn Street," I said.

"I did say Pimmmmmmmmptnnnnnn Street," he retorted, pointing.

I followed his finger. On the way I fell in behind three students en route to a second-hand bookstore. They talked something like I did 25 years ago at Heidelberg and Ohio State, but slightly modernized.

"If we blow all the loot we got for books, whatta we gonna use when we meet those cha-cha babes?" asked one.

"We can save a few bucks by moochin' a coupla free meals at the house that rushes us," suggested another.

Finally I found Pimmmptnnnn Street—spelled Plympton—and The Crimson office—and, for 50c, the "Confidential Guide."

"One of Hahrvud's sacret professors gets panned in the 'Social Science I' section," a student who sold me the book said.

★ ★ ★ ★

This "Sock Sigh One" prof, it said, was "universally condemned as in previous years" for his "completely irrelevant or utterly useless lectures" which were "unprepared, disorganized and rambling" . . . besides he told "unfunny dirty stories" . . . "Typical appelations were 'inept,' 'insulting' and 'an intellectual sloth'."

Evidently a big favorite.

It was cheering to find that free speech still reigns at Hahrvud. It was worth learning this foreign language to find it out.

I BELIEVE THAT O-JIB-WA BITTERS WILL HELP YOUR ARTHRITIS

MR. EDWARD MAJEWSKI, 5238 ELMWOOD, DETROIT 11, MICHIGAN, SAYS, "I was told that my only hope of getting rid of my arthritis was to pack up and move to Arizona, but as a last resort, I tried O-JIB-WA, and now can't praise this wonderful medicine enough."

"It was about three years ago that I first started to suffer from arthritis pains in my right arm. The pain would wake me 3 or 4 times during the night, and I had to flex the muscles in my arm, and open and close my fist for awhile until the pains would leave. If I didn't do this, then my arm would stiffen up so that I couldn't use it. Is was awfully painful, and felt just like my arm was clamped in a vise. The flesh felt as hard as concrete. I tried many things seeking relief, but was told by some that my best bet may be the warm climate of Arizona. Frankly, I just couldn't afford to pack up and go there. Then last February, I saw an ad for O-JIB-WA BITTERS in the newspaper and decided to try it. Believe me, that was the best investment I ever made.

Edward Majewski

In only a week, the pains started leaving and I could sleep without being awakened by those terrible pains. About two months after starting on this great medicine, the pains were entirely gone. O-JIB-WA helped me in other ways too. I used to feel tired and run down, with just not enough pep and ambition for anything, but now it takes quite a bit to tire me out. This year I am going deer hunting with a 60 pound pull bow and arrow. This would have been impossible if it wasn't for O-JIB-WA BITTERS. I even have my wife taking it now. She used to wake up crying because of the pain in her shoulder. It has helped her already and she has only been taking it a week. I wish that I could get a microphone in my hand and tell everyone in Michigan about this wonderful product. There is no doubt in my mind that O-JIB-WA BITTERS is the best all around medicine of its kind ever made."

Lawmakers and Chamber Agree on Safety Needs

In these columns the other day we pointed out that the matter of new legislation for greater highway safety in Michigan is a bipartisan responsibility.

Encouraging support for this view now has come from three important and responsible sources. They are Republican State Senator Broomfield of Royal Oak, Democratic Representative Leslie H. Hudson of Pontiac and the safety committee of Pontiac's Chamber of Commerce.

Broomfield and Hudson found they agreed on several points in both the Republican and Democratic programs which are to be acted on in the Legislature's October special session.

When members of opposing parties will sit down side by side and discuss a common problem as Hudson and Broomfield have done, a long step in the right direction has been taken. If all public servants would act in this gentil manner rather than constantly wrangling, our common problems could be solved in a much speedier fashion.

They agreed with Chamber President Ralph T. Norvell who said the safety program should have no political tinge and that credit for it should be shared by both parties.

Others participating in the discussion included Loren D. Anderson, Clyle R. Haskill and William F. Kalwitz, members of the Safety Committee, and John W. Hirlinger, Assistant Manager of the Chamber. They not only shared this view but agreed that the key to the situation is the central violations file. In their opinion enough personnel should be added to keep this file up to date.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Broomfield made a pertinent point when he said that if we add more State Police, as both parties agree should be done, more violators would be detected and the central file would be needed more than ever.

Rep. Hudson put the matter in clear perspective when he said Michigan can't get increased safety without paying for it and the public must be ready to provide funds.

We are convinced the public is ready.

Cranbrook's Planetarium

Formal dedication of the new McMath Planetarium at Cranbrook Institute of Science was an event of scientific importance as well as educational and public interest.

The ceremony was additionally interesting because Dr. Robert R. McMath, for whom the planetarium was named, was present and spoke. Visibly affected by the honor paid him, the industrialist, engineer and University of Michigan astronomer who presides over the McMath-Hulbert Observatory at Lake Angelus, briefly voiced his thanks.

The dedicatory address was given by Dr. Alexander G. Ruthven, President Emeritus of the University. Pointing out that man's habitat not only is the world but the universe, Dr. Ruthven dedicated the planetarium "to the increase of knowledge, to the enrichment of man's experience and to the culture of the human soul."

Also present was Armand Spitz, inventor of the projector with which the sky at any given time can be duplicated on the planetarium's domed ceiling. He demonstrated it by picturing the Michigan sky as it appeared later that evening and as it will appear next Christmas Eve.

This addition to the Institute of Science was made possible by public and private donations. The Spitz projector is a gift of the Detroit Edison Co. and Architect William E. Knapp donated his services.

We hazard the forecast that after the planetarium is open in November, there will be a noticeable increase of interest in the fascinating study of the stars.

Welded Rail Joints

Though the idea is far from new, 45 American railways are reported turning to welded track joints to reduce wear and tear on rolling stock.

According to the October issue of Steelways, these lines include the Santa Fe, Northern Pacific, Pennsylvania and New York Central. Back of this development is the railroads' knowledge that the greatest wear on rails and rolling stock is caused by these track joints, numbering 270 to the mile.

Welding was suggested first in 1820 by a British engineer. But the first joints were not strong enough. Later on railroad engineers opposed welding on the ground that on a hot day a long rail would buckle.

Their slide rules demonstrated that a mile long steel rail would stretch an additional 41 inches if its temperature were raised from zero to 100 degrees Fahrenheit. Tests soon disproved this theory, however. A one mile long welded rail expanded only slightly more than did one of 39 feet.

★ ★ ★

Anything that sharply reduces railways' operating costs is not only of vital interest to the railroads and owners of railroad stock, but is a benefit to the national economy.

The Man About Town

Changing Times

Some Living Conditions That May Be Expected in 20 Years

"People, Products and Progress,"

I learn that 20 years hence our nation will have 221 million people. Homes will have new emphasis on indoor-outdoor living, with warm or cold air from wall or ceiling panels, television on a thin wall screen, air conditioning as standard equipment, and hidden cooking units emerging from the kitchen wall at the touch of a button.

Multi-level super highways will provide high-speed travel at maximum safety. Suburban commuters will ride helicopters from neighboring terminals at three miles per minute.

Conveyor belts will carry us downtown from fringe parking. Railroad trains will have adjustable partitions, conveyor aisles and tubes for refreshments.

Our automobile motors will be in the rear. New lightweight materials and advancements in building will change skylines. Store fronts will be entirely open, with warm air curtains in winter, cool in summer. Special steels and atomic power plants will open vast frontiers.

Hotels will use center section for parking, outer ring for rooms, and roof for helicopter landings. Larger classrooms will serve smaller classes. Your share of the farm land will shrink, but better fertilizers will boost yields and improve foods.

On a thousand mile tour of Northern Michigan, covering both peninsulas,

Mr. and Mrs. Barnum Peckham

did not see a deer until they returned to Oakland County, and a pair galloped across the Dixie Highway near their home in Waterford.

David Lawrence Says:

Commie-Controlled Election in Indonesia Tolls Death Knell for 'Spirit of Geneva'

WASHINGTON — The so-called "Spirit of Geneva" is dead. The Russians have killed it. The big news is at last coming out—that, despite the polite phrases of restraint with which western government officials have been expressing themselves, they now realize that the Soviet tactics at Geneva constituted a bold attempt to make it appear that the Communists were peacefully inclined. The evidence now shows that since the Geneva conference the Communists have stepped up the "cold war."

The latest development is the Communist-controlled election in Indonesia which is demonstrating the Communist pattern—the local infiltration by the Communist technicians. A similar pattern will be revealed if Indo-China holds an election.

Throughout Asia and North Africa, moreover, the Communists have redoubled their efforts. They have infiltrated into Morocco to make that issue a perplexing one for the French government to handle.

Likewise, in Algeria the French have been up against Communist interference in a local problem. On the broader stage, the Communists have mustered a majority in the United Nations not only to discuss the Algerian problem but to get the subject of western New Guinea — a colonial possession of the Netherlands — on the agenda. The objective is to mix into the strategic situation in Southeast Asia.

ARMS SALE

The Communist activity in selling arms to Egypt and in lining up a number of the Asian and African nations which attended the Bandung conference is significant of the new policy of fomenting trouble between the western powers and the middle eastern countries. The whole purpose is to weaken the military lineup of the West.

* * *

The American awareness of the transparent duplicity of the Kremlin in talking peace at Geneva while intensifying the "cold war" has been officially revealed in a speech delivered Monday by Allan W. Dulles, director of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, and a brother of the secretary of state, John Foster Dulles.

The CIA chief pointed out that the Soviet expenditures "in training, support and operation of its over-all subversive mechanism may approach 10 per cent of its expenditure on its over-all armament program." He added:

"A few days ago, at a banquet for the East German Communists, Nikita Khrushchev, the head of the Soviet Communist Party, made some interesting statements. It was one of his informal and likewise revealing speeches. He remarked, as reported by the radio and press services, that if anyone believes that our smiles involve abandonment of the teaching of Marx, Engels and Lenin—the name of Stalin was added, according to the official East German broadcasts, but does not appear in the Moscow reports—he deceives himself poorly. Those who wait for that, he said, must wait until a shrimp learns to whistle.

MEANING DEBATED

"There is some debate among the experts whether the word should be shrimp or crayfish for there is an old Russian proverb that says: 'I will do it when the crayfish whistles on the mountaintop.' This, I understand, is a Russian way of saying 'never'—although I learn on good authority that in the deep reaches of the sea, as detected by modern science, the crayfish or the shrimp do make some gurgling noises.

"There is no hard evidence as yet, which we as intelligence or law-enforcing officers can accept, that the dangers we face from the secret underground subversive activities of communism have ceased. Let us hope it does. Let us hope that Khrushchev hears the shrill call of the shrimp."

The most pointed comment that Allan Dulles made, however, was in his reference to the prospective sale by the Soviets of armament to countries throughout the world. He said:

"While I am on the subject of Communist techniques, I might mention a somewhat recent development in their program of sowing international discord — the Kremlin's new Trojan Horse—but one that will look quite attractive to many countries which are under pressure to build up their military establishments."

ARMS FOR SATELLITES

The CIA chief declared that the Soviets have planes and tanks which are growing obsolete and that 4,000 to 5,000 MIG-15s "could be off-loaded as an adjunct to a general program of causing trouble throughout the world." He said that, of course, a good share of this equipment already has gone to Communist China and to Indo-China "with results that are now clearly seen." He added:

"There remains ample for other parts of the world, and we now hear of advanced negotiations with several countries of the Middle East. I should not be at all surprised if we soon heard that countries in this hemisphere were being approached."

Thus, the "cold war" goes on and the "spirit of Geneva" recedes into past history as another phony tactic attempted by the Communists is exposed.

Dr. Brady Says:

British Doctors Discover Iodin Helps in Rheumatiz

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

You're wrong. This is not Ol' Doc Brady sounding off on the tiresome theme of getting your iodin. That is, of course, important for every man, woman and child. But this piece is about the treatment of chronic rheumatiz, particularly a stage or type of rheumatiz which English physicians call rheumatoid arthritis.

Arthritis means inflammation of a joint or joints. In most instances of chronic rheumatiz there is no inflammation—that is, heat, pain, redness and swelling—but just pain, soreness and impairment of function.

A more accurate description of the condition under consideration, whether you call it chronic rheumatiz or rheumatoid arthritis, is—well, I'll mention it another time, for people who have not been enlightened are likely to be angry and refuse to heed anything further I have to say.

But it can do no harm to keep one fact in mind, namely, that there is usually no true inflammation present and therefore it is stupid to regard it as arthritis.

METHOD TOLD

Drs. Hagenbach and Walmsley recently reported in Medical World, a British journal, the effects obtained from injections of iodin combined with protein material (like white of egg) into the veins of patients with chronic rheumatoid arthritis. The treatment consisted of three or four injections a week for a period of a month.

Of 35 patients given this treatment 30 have remained symptom free and two are much better. Two patients had no benefit from the treatment and one relapsed.

The London doctors who reported on the treatment are, alas, mere G. P.'s but then the English are not so gullible as we are in reference to trick specialists.

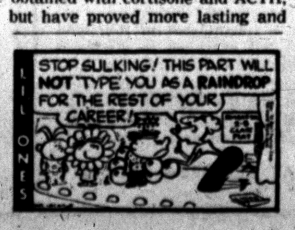

* * *

The effects of the treatment, concluded Drs. Hagenbach and Walmsley are similar to effects obtained with cortisone and ACTH, but have proved more lasting and have been attended by fewer side effects (unpleasant reactions).

It is beginning to be apparent that the "wonder drugs" are not as wonderful as they have been quacked up to be.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Cites Need for Toll Roads in Open Letter to Ziegler

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Mr. Ziegler's recent explanation of his flimsy reason for building freeways as against toll roads receives little sympathy from people with whom I have discussed the subject. A year ago he promised freeways overnight. He perhaps lost the blueprints.

I presume the highway commissioner would travel to Philadelphia or New York via U.S. 224 with its 35 mile speed zones and miles of traffic lights across Ohio; traverse U.S. 30 the length of Pennsylvania with its twists and turns uphill and down; follow a trailer truck up a seven-mile grade in the mountains at four miles per hour.

I have news for you, Mr. Ziegler. I help pay for your so-called freeways and would much rather pay for non-stop toll roads.

Mr. Higgins makes no bones on where he stands on the subject. Governor Williams knew the right bower beats the ace.

Soviet Communism Relies on Economic Espionage

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

In the effort for survival against the competitive co-existence of militant communism, it is helpful to take a mature view of the Soviet experiment.

* * *

So long as the free world vacillates between fear of the Soviet Union, on the one hand, and undervaluation of its assets, on the other, free men are victimized by psychological warfare.

Despite recent high-level indications that the smiling technique of the commissars entails no abandonment of the doctrines of Marx, Engels and Lenin, the truth is that the Bolshevik regime in its stretch of power over nearly 38 years has been modifying its practices and changing the basic theories to conform with experiences.

Lenin himself, it should be recalled, abandoned the pure Communist theory that each should contribute according to his ability and each should take out according to his need. Lenin rejected this doctrine because he found it dampened productivity.

Accordingly, in the successive Five-Year Plans, efforts were made to increase output through borrowing from capitalism the incentive system. Thus by the time Wendell L. Willkie made his wartime pilgrimage to Russia, he reported that managers in Soviet plants were paid 10 times as much as skilled workers.

STATE SOCIALISM

In light of the inequalities of income in the Soviet Union, it would perhaps be more accurate to describe the system as state socialism than as communism.

* * *

But even in its present modified form, the Russian system is partly parasitic. To the extent that it survives, it borrows ideas, techniques and information from capitalistic economies.

In a very real sense, it depends on economic espionage in the United States.

This type of spying has become virtually indispensable because under the boneheaded Marxian system of destroying free markets, the makers of goods and services are cut off from a spontaneous expression of customer preferences.

DISTORTS THE FACTS

For more than a hundred years, Marxism has confused the popular mind as to the economic facts of life.

* * *

Secondly, the Communist formula for distribution of income according to need, instead of according to productivity, is atrociously weak from a scientific management viewpoint.

Modern management feels called upon to deal with materials, tools and human energy as they are, and is not expected to alibi itself by saying it would get better results if men, materials and tools were different.

Thus, there is a blind spot in Marxist philosophy which shrinks from utilizing the well-known fact that human beings respond to incentive and rewards.

* * *

Thirdly, Karl Marx goofed in failing to recognize that concentration of economic power in the same politicians who are entrusted with political authority creates the circumstances for dictatorship.

Socrates counselled: "Know Thyself." It is also well to know your competitor.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Solve Disagreements by Pretending It's Your Last Day With the Family

Timmy's mother is playing the bad game of "tag" with him. She is venting on him some feelings that she hasn't put into words. To avoid undue criticism of your family, adopt the plan of widening your horizon. Assume this is your last day with them. Then figure what you'd say to their minor foibles.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

She also held a baby in her arms. It was late in the afternoon, and she had probably been jostled in the bargain day sale which she had attended.

* * *

Timmy was whining. Irritably she pulled him by the arm.

He whimpered some more, so she jerked his cap down over his eyes, which made him cry aloud.

"Shut up," she added, "or I'll spank you good."

CHERCHEZ LA FEMME

* * *

In diagnosing human behavior, we psychologists recommend that same general rule, namely, look behind the obvious to the underlying motive.

When Timmy's mother irritably pulled his arm, she was flashing to the world some such signal as this:

"My back is killing me and I can't stand it much longer!"

When she jerked his cap down over his eyes, she was telling us: "I'm reduced to a child-like state of fatigue and am striking out at anybody."

Her final curt threat, "Shut up or I'll spank you good," may have really meant "My feet are on fire and I feel like screaming."

CHILD PSYCHOLOGY

When a toddler tells his mother, "I hate you," most discerning parents disregard that obvious statement, for they know the youngster has simply missed his afternoon nap, due to guests dropping in, and the toddler is so irritable from fatigue that he strikes out at everybody.

But we should encourage our children to become equally skillful detectives, so they can look behind the obvious irritable commands of Daddy and Mother, and see the underlying cause.

Then much domestic friction would be eliminated. For a harassed mother may speak sharply, chiefly because her back aches.

A father may be doubly sarcastic about some minor fault that he would normally ignore.

But on this occasion, maybe a traffic officer bawled him out for running through a stop light or gave him a ticket.

Or maybe he is hungry and dinner is an hour overdue. For adults can act almost like hungry toddlers when their ulcers flare up or they have a gnawing stomach from a drink of liquor prior to meal time.

DON'T TAG YOUR FAMILY

On many an occasion, a fellow who belittles his wife has been bawled out at the store or office by his boss or by some angry patron.

* * *

An old Army adage says that when the sergeant bawls out the corporal, the latter jumps all over the private, who then kicks the mule!

Much sharp talk and undue scolding is thus just a case of buck-passing. It is psychological "tag" in which we "tag" another unlucky member of the family and thus try to get out from under being "it."

Many a bully is thus a person who feels inferior and is tagging somebody else. He tries to reduce others to tears so their weeping will make them appear more babyish than the bully.

To avoid being so sharp tongued, also cultivate a wider horizon. Ask yourself: "Suppose this were my last day with my family. Would I make such a fuss over this minor irritation or foible?" And you will be surprised at your calmer outlook.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Lumberyard Dispute Blazes Again, May Be Placed on Sylvan Lake Ballot

Sylvan Lake's controversial lumberyard rezoning issue may be put to a vote of the people at the Nov 8 municipal election.

Samuel G. Warwick, owner of 10 acres on Orchard Lake road between the Whitfield School and city hall, said today he will circulate petitions asking a city-wide vote on whether half the land should be rezoned to permit construction of a lumberyard.

The City Council by a 4-1 vote last month turned down a request by the Grace Harbor Lumber Co. of Detroit, to rezone the land so a yard could be built.

Warwick said the lumber company has an option for an L-shaped five acres of the property, which would run from Orchard Lake road back to the Grand Trunk Western Railroad tracks, then along the tracks to Inverness.

In order to earn a place on the ballot, the proposal would have to be endorsed by a quarter of the city's registered voters, according to the city charter.

Mrs. Marjorie Willson, city clerk, said based on present registration of 848, that would amount to 212 signatures.

She added that the petitions would have to be submitted in time for her to check their validity and present them to the council for action at its next regular meeting, set for Wednesday.

Once submitted to the council, the governing body would have 30 days in which to enact the proposal or present it to the electors, the charter states.

The original rezoning request touched off a controversy which ended only when the council voted down the move at its September meeting.

Opponents said the rezoning would devaluate adjacent property, that construction of a lumberyard would create a hazard for children going to the Whitfield School and that the move would be the opening wedge for industrial development.

"One of the reasons people were so against it was that the use of the remaining five acres was in question," Warwick said.

"We want it made clear that we would agree not to make application to use the remaining land along Orchard Lake road for anything but straight business, such as supermarkets."

"We are also willing to build a foot bridge over the railroad so if cars are being switched the children could cross over."

G. Richard Jarvis, head of a citizens committee which vigorously opposed the change from "business - retail" to "business-wholesale and retail" classification, commented:

"If it appears that they are going to circulate petitions, then certainly we will continue our efforts to maintain the present character of Sylvan Lake. If there is still a job to be done, we will do it."

Jarvis, who lives at 2239 Pontiac Dr., added:

"The company frankly admits that 25 per cent of its work is millwork. As far as I can determine — and I've visited Detroit, Birmingham, Pontiac and Dearborn — other cities classify millwork of this kind as industrial.

"We didn't feel that we wanted this particular lumberyard with its large amount of millwork. We also felt that it might be the opening wedge in enlarging the industrial district.

"Sylvan Lake has always been fundamentally and primarily a residential community. The recommended zoning change would allow lumberyards and railroad sidings anywhere in any business district."

Paper Reveals Jury Room Tap

Ford Foundation Backs Law School Technicians Who 'Eavesdrop'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Justice Department is investigating the planting of a microphone in a federal jury room in at least five cases tried last year in Wichita, Kan., the Los Angeles Times said today.

* * *

In a dispatch from its Washington bureau, the Times reported that the "bugging" of the jury room and recording of jury deliberations was done with the consent of U.S. Dist. Judge Delmas C. Hill.

The Times' story further asserted:

The recordings were made by a University of Chicago Law School team financed by the Ford Foundation.

The jurors were not aware of the eavesdropping, but counsel on both sides of the cases involved were said to have agreed to the project.

Later, however, the recordings were played at a semipublic meeting in Denver, leading to the current probe.

* * *

"So unthinkable, apparently, is the idea, that a microphone could be secreted in a jury room that legal experts so far have been unable to find any law, civil or criminal, against it," the story continued.

Meet the Vice President

Nixon—A Heartbeat From the Presidency

This is the first of four articles on Vice President Richard M Nixon—his life, personality and abilities. INS Correspondent William Theis has covered Nixon from the beginning of the "Hiss-Chambers" case to living aboard the same airplane with the vice president and Mrs. Nixon during their Far Eastern "good will" tour in 1953.

By WILLIAM THEIS

WASHINGTON (INS) — Destiny hangs close to Vice President Richard M. Nixon Today—closer than at any time in its previous brushes with this swift-moving Californian.

* * *

Should it tilt him into the White House, either by fate of succession or by the hard electoral road of 1956, the nation would have as President a man it has really known only three short years.

The political life history of this 42-year-old Quaker-bred Republican covers only eight years.

What manner of man is he? What has been his training? What is his capacity for leadership?

A summary impression is that of an ambitious, widely-informed, capable and hard-driving young executive who has the political gift of understanding people.

ONE HEARTBEAT

Appraisals of the Vice President took on new meaning with President Eisenhower's sudden heart attack. The young man who serves just "one heartbeat" from the Presidency might be projected into that office.

Nixon is 100 per cent behind the Eisenhower program. He has learned that compromise is a fine art, believes it can be practiced without loss of principle. Hence, he has been in tune with the "Middle-of-the-Road" approach of President Eisenhower.

When he first came to Congress in January 1947, he followed the Republican Party line all the time. As a senator, his voting record showed more independence.

He was almost a "perfect fit" in 1952 because of his youth, his record opposing Communism, and his political philosophy.

INTERNATIONALIST

In foreign affairs, he might be termed an "Open-Eyed Internationalist." He sees more clearly than most of his GOP colleagues the realities of reciprocal trade, the importance of long-range planning in foreign affairs and the threat of world Communism.

After visiting the Far East, he strongly favored granting military aid to Pakistan despite objections of Indian Prime Minister Nehru. Nixon saw the military importance of linking Pakistan into the defense line against possible Soviet aggression. He also was for taking a firm but friendly stand where Nehru was concerned.

Taking over the awesome duties of President would be easier for Nixon than it was for any of the seven vice presidents who succeeded to the presidency.

From the day Eisenhower took office, he made his 1952 running mate a true "understudy." Among other things, he made the National Security Council the real policy board on defense and foreign affairs, and Nixon its head in his absence.

OPERATING VICE PRESIDENT

The Vice President thus has been kept informed of the government's highest state secrets and plans.

His only official duty under the Constitution is to preside over the Senate. In the Eisenhower administration, Nixon has become an "operating" Vice President.

A primary Nixon role became that of "interpreter" of Congress. General Eisenhower's prior contacts with that political body had been as an Army witness before committees, or as military expert reporting on the progress of World War II.

The Vice President became a kind of "Mr. Fixit" when the President ran into trouble with GOP leaders or their Democratic counterparts on Capitol Hill. Nixon, a canny politician, often saw trouble developing and moved in on his own to patch it up.

WORKS FOR HARMONY

He operated in that role when Eisenhower and his state and foreign aid chiefs were challenged by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) on the issue of trade with Red China. It was Nixon who got McCarthy and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles together after Foreign Aid Boss Stassen publicly accused McCarthy of "undermining" the State Department.

Again, it was Nixon who convinced the White House that it must seek some form of compromise on the Bricker amendment limiting the President's treaty-making powers. And it was the Vice President who explained the administration's foreign aid program to first-term Republican congressmen and swung most of them to support it.

Long a friend of McCarthy, Nixon tried to head off a final break between the Wisconsinite and the President in the Army-McCarthy hearings. But he stood with the President when McCarthy's repeated challenges of Eisenhower and of the Senate itself led to the historic 1954 Senate vote "condemning" McCarthy.

In San Francisco in 1849 food was scarce but money plentiful. A typical menu listed eggs at $1 each, bread pudding at 75 cents and ale at $2.

NIXON VISITS PONTIAC — Veteran reporter Joe Haas of the Pontiac Press interviewed Dick Nixon when he visited Pontiac on October 14, 1952. More than 4,000 area residents heard the then Vice Presidential candidate speak. Here Joe Haas takes quick notes while Congressman George A. Dondero (R-Royal Oak) waits to escort Nixon to the speaker's platform.

State Tells Distribution of Snow Removal Fund

LANSING (AP)—The State Highway Department today announced distribution of a half-million dollar fund appropriated by the last Legislature for snow removal.

Distribution is based on the number of "inch miles of snowfall" in counties with 60 ro more inches of snow. This figure is obtained by multiplying the number of inches of snow by the number of miles in the county road system.

Of the 37 counties sharing in the fund, Allegan County will receive the largest slice—$26,395.

Soviet Builders Start U.S. Tour

10-Man Red Delegation Plans Visits to 13 Cities to Inspect Homes

BOSTON (AP)—Ten visiting Russian construction experts today were scheduled to begin a two-day inspection tour of Boston housing and building projects. The tour opens a monthlong visit to 13 American cities.

* * *

The visitors, led by I. K. Kozuilia, minister of city and urban construction of the U.S.S.R., are in the United States as guests of the National Assn. of Home Builders.

Kozuilia told an airport news conference last night that his group does not want to talk about its American experiences until the tour is completed.

FOUR VIRGINIA

There was nothing violent about the Boston demonstrations. State police officers mingled with the crowds at both the airport and the Kenmore Hotel, where the Russians are staying.

The visiting delegation missed the demonstration at the airport when their hosts spirited them into a chartered bus for a 200-yard ride to the news conference, held in the office of the airport management board.

* * *

The demonstrators hurried to the hotel where they waved placards and booed as the Russians entered.

A few of the Russians smiled at the demonstration. Others looked surprised. Some ignored completely the shouts and waving signs.

UM Sees Need for $111 Million

To Ask Legislature for Money Over Five-Year Period for Expansion

ANN ARBOR (UP) — The University of Michigan has reported that it will ask the State Legislature to pour $111,000,000 into its physical plant over the next five years.

Wilbur K. Pierpont, university vice president in charge of finances, said he expected capital outlay program was sent to the state controller and includes $12,475,000 for new construction, remodeling and additions to University Hospital.

Education facilities, he said, will require $98,568,000 for new construction, remodeling and additions.

The total of new construction in both university campus areas, main and north, is $88,290,000. Pierpont said $30,000,000 to $35,000,000 would be spent on new construction in the north campus area.

University appopriation requests have been generally observed by the State Legislature. Last year the university asked for $10,500,000 in cash, but received only $3,400,000 in that form and another $18,000,000 in authorizations.

SUMS LISTED

For the next school year, the university is requesting $14,120,000. After that it asks annually: $18,818,000; $18,744,000; $19,730,000; —and ending up five-year program with $16,878,000 for the school year 1960-61.

* * *

Over this period the university expects at least an additional 7,500 students, added to its current total of almost 21,000.

Among the projects planned over the next five years are an undergraduate library, a social science and language building, a new school of education, physics and astronomy buildings, dental building, a parking structure, dramatics and natural science buildings, pharmacy, law, television and undergraduate science buildings on the main campus.

Also planned are two units for the medical sciences in the hospital area, but still directly under the university's medical school.

On the north campus, the university plans a new college of engineering, two units for fluids engineering, metallurgy and structure laboratory, school of music, architecture, highway and sanitary engineering laboratories and service buildings.

The main hospital new construction consists of new buildings for the children's hospital-pediatrics unit. This, although labeled as part of the university's $111,000,000 request, is considered separately by the State Legislature.

Truman Accuses Burns of Doublecross in 1944 Vice President Nominations

WASHINGTON (INS) — Former President Harry S. Truman accused James F. Byrnes yesterday of what amounted to a political double-cross in the selection of the Democratic vice presidential nominee in 1944.

* * *

Truman said Byrnes asked him in advance to place his name in nomination at the Democratic convention and told Truman he (Byrnes) was President Roosevelt's choice.

But Truman said he learned later that FDR had previously named the future President as his preference and had instructed Postmaster General Frank Walker to "notify Byrnes of the decision."

Details of the 1944 political jockeying were disclosed in the third installment of the Truman memoirs, published today by Life magazine.

Byrnes and Truman were still close friends, the latter naming the South Carolinian to be his secretary of state after he became President a few months later. Byrnes finally resigned and, bitter over Truman policies, supported President Eisenhower in 1952.

ACHIEVED FAME

The retired President achieved his first national fame as chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee. This led to his selection as FDR's 1944 running-mate.

* * *

Harry Truman recalled that as chairman of the Senate Investigating Commitee in 1944 he was "doing the job I wanted to do" and had "brushed aside" all suggestions of friends that he go after the vice presidential nomination.

Then, he said: "In July 1944 as I was about to leave my home in Independence for the opening of the convention in Chicago, the telephone rang. It was Jimmy Byrnes calling from Washington.

"He told me that President Roosevelt had decided on him as the new nominee for vice president, and he asked me if I would nominate him at the convention. I told him I would be glad to do it if the President wanted him for a running-mate."

He explained that at this point Vice President Henry A. Wallace was regarded as the front-runner although he was unpopular with party leaders.

He continued: "Therefore, when Byrnes called me to tell me that Roosevelt had decided to have him on his ticket for his fourth term, I took it for granted that all the details had been arranged."

At Chicago, he found that labor was against Byrnes but would support him. Some labor leaders favored Wallace. He said he told them all he was backing Byrnes.

HANNEGAN SPEAKS

"On Tuesday evening of convention week, National Chairman Bob Hannegan came to see me and told me unequivocally that President Roosevelt wanted me to run with him on the ticket. This astonished me greatly, but I was still not convinced.

"Even when Hannegan showed me a longhand note written on a scratch pad from the President's desk which said, 'Bob, it's Truman, FDR,' I still could not be sure that this was Roosevelt's intent, although I later learned that the handwriting in the note was the President's own."

Adding to the confusion was the fact that FDR had written an earlier letter saying he would be satisfied with Wallace or Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

". . . Roosevelt told his conferees that he preferred Truman over Wallace, Douglas or Byrnes, and jotted down the note in longhand which Hannegan was to show me at the convention. At the same meeting, he had instructed Walker to notify Byrnes of the decision . . . " Truman wrote.

Truman's reaction was: "Why told Hannegan: "Well, you tell him if he wants to break up the Democratic party in the middle of a war, that's his responsibility."

Truman's reaction was: "Why the h— didn't he tell me in the first place?" And he hurried to tell Byrnes.

Crew Jumps Safely From Blazing Plane

GALVA, Kan. (AP)—A B47 jet bomber crashed 100 feet from a producing oil well near this central Kansas town yesterday but the crew parachuted to safety.

The plane burned but there was no damage to the well.

* * *

The B47 was afire before crashing and a crew member was quoted as saying it developed trouble soon after takeoff. The plane was from the Smoky Hill Air Force Base at Salina, Kan.

* * *

Explosion in Gym Kills 2 and Burns 8

WHITE CLOUD, Kan. (AP)—An explosion and fire in a gymnasium where a high school basketball squad was cleaning the floor killed two youths and burned eight other persons yesterday.

Mayor Bill Scheer said gasoline was being used as a cleaner.

The gymnasium is in the basement of the community church.

Fatally burned were Charles Baskins and Donald Todd, both 14. Two other students—Claude Franklin Collins, 15, and John C. Bowen, 16—were reported in critical condition.

Brother Nixes Another Eisenhower President

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—Edgar Eisenhower, the President's brother, doesn't want any more members in his family to become president.

"I'm not interested in having any more members of the family in the presidency because I'm being bothered enough as it is now, and I would like to live a quiet, peaceful life for the years I have left," the Tacoma, Wash., attorney said last night.

The statement was prompted by mention of Milton Eisenhower, the President's younger brother and head of Pennsylvania State University, as a possible Republican presidential candidate.

So excitingly new, we couldn't wait!

LMDA

WE ANNOUNCED the 1956 Lincoln early this year. We just couldn't wait.

For this Lincoln sets a new standard for fine car styling and performance—proves conclusively that a car can possess length and luxury and still be as lithe as the most cat-like of sports cars.

This is a truly long Lincoln . . . over a foot longer in the frame. And it's a lean, crisp length.

And this is a Lincoln with unprecedented maneuverability. The 1956 Lincoln's new V-8 engine turns out 285 horsepower with scarcely a whisper. An advanced automatic transmission puts that power to work with a smoothness unequalled in any motor car. And improved suspension makes even country roads seem like superhighways.

We invite you to break with the past. Drive the completely new 1956 Lincoln and prove to yourself that length and luxury can, at last, be as maneuverable, as easy to handle as a sports car.

JUNIOR EDITORS

THE LAND OF DOWN UNDER—3
The National Bird

Out in the bush, or back country, our Junior Editors catch sight of an emu, the Australian national bird. The name is pronounced EE-MEW.

Looking something like an African ostrich, the emu stands 5 feet tall. It cannot fly, but it can run very fast. Brown in color, the emu feeds on roots, fruit and grass. The mother emu lays six or seven dark green eggs in a hole in the warm ground, and takes turns with the father in hatching them.

Emus are tamed easily, and here is one of the natives of the country to tame our emu. These natives, the original inhabitants of Australia, have broad noses and thick lips and look something like African Negroes. They are a primitive people but they know how to get along in their often dry country, and they invented the boomerang. This is a curved club, flat on one side and rounded on the other, that can be made to return in the air to the man who throws it. The fellows are very skillful with it and can make it hit game hundreds of feet away.

Color the picture with crayons, paste it down on cereal box cardboard, cut along the solid lines, and make the emu stand up by folding back the side panel on the dotted line. Now you can have the native boy ride the emu as in the little picture.

Cost of Student Education Listed

Dean Explains Why UM Needs More State Aid Than Other Schools

FLINT (AP)—A University of Michigan faculty official states that for each dollar spent educating a freshman or sophomore, it costs two dollars on the average to educate a junior or senior and four dollars for a graduate student.

* * *

Robert L. Williams, assistant dean of faculities at the University, told the Flint Shrine Club that "every citizen of the state receives benefits from the University of Michigan."

Williams also explained why Michigan requires the largest legislative appropriation of any state supported school. He said:

"This is true not only because it is the largest in the state but also because it performs a distinctive service in the education of graduate, and graduate-professional students in medicine, law, dentistry, public health and social work."

There are over 7,500 students enrolled in specialized fields, Williams said. Last year the University awarded 75 per cent of all degrees granted by Michigan state supported schools at these advanced levels, he added.

"College and universities render different levels of training and their need for state funds must be examined in the light of their individual programs," Williams said.

Attorney General Explains Community College Rules

LANSING (AP) — An Attorney General's opinion has clarified the financial and legal supports of Michigan's new community college system.

Answering questions raised by Dr. Clair L. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction, the opinion said that:

1—A community college organized under a new 1955 law is legally a school district and may share in 1955 state school aid funds for community and junior colelges.

* * *

2—A community college organized under the 1955 law may share in the 1955 state general fund appropriation of $750,000 for junior colleges.

* * *

* * *

4—The one mill of tax money authorized for the operation of community colleges comes under the 15 mill tax limitation and is subject to action by the tax allocation board.

* * *

5—There is no authority for the voters to vote taxes for capital outlay, or construction, at a community college.

* * *

6—Any contiguous county which desires to join a community college district may do so at an original election, or may vote to join if it once rejected such a proposal, but there is no authority for a county to vote to join if it did not initially vote unfavorably on the original project.

Sun Furnishes Power for Georgia Phone Call

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP)—The sun furnished a rural telephone line with power for the first time yesterday.

George L. Mathews, a farmer, placed the first call on electricity supplied by a solar battery put into use here by Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co.

* * *

Mathews' call on the eight-party country line was the first in a test to determine the precise efficiency and value of the solar battery, which converts the sun's energy into electricity and stores excess current not needed for immediate telephone use into a storage battery.

* * *

It was invented by a three-member team at the Bell Telephone laboratories: G. L. Pearson and D. M. Chapin, physicists, and C. S. Fuller, chemist.

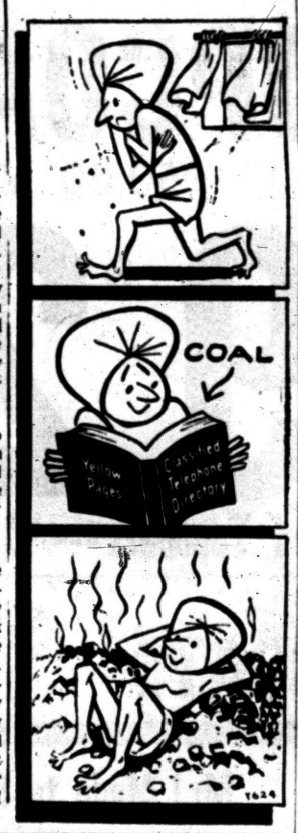

Roughly it consists of 432 very thin silicon cells encased in an aluminum housing less than a yard square. The cells, about the size of a 25-cent piece, are electrically linked, cushioned in oil and covered by glass.

* * *

The silicon is very sensitive to the sun's rays and generates an electric current which is drained off into a storage battery. The current reaches its peak when the sun is brightest.

The goal is to generate enough current at intervals of bright sunshine to form a battery backlog sufficient for continuous operation of the telephone circuit.

The battery has no moving parts or corrosive chemicals and should last indefinitely. If it operates the telephone circuit satisfactorily Bell scientists think it might be used economically for other communication purposes where commercial power is unavailable.

Inspector Probes Fire

BIG RAPIDS (AP)—A state fire marshal's inspector is investigating the circumstances of a Sunday night fire at the Big Rapids Box Co. in belief that it was not the result of spontaneous combustion. The fire, discovered by an employe and extinguished quickly by Big Rapids firemen, caused only minor damage. Firemen reported finding two separate fires, one at the building's front and another in a scrap pile at the rear of the structure.

PTA Seeks New Members

October is Membership Enrollment Time for Pontiac PTAs. The enrollment is not limited to parents and teachers but is open to any civic minded adult. Its purpose is to establish cordial home-school relations.

In this largest volunteer organization now numbering nine and a half million, members can help open the doors of educational opportunity for boys and girls, and require and enforce laws protecting children and youth.

Any individual paying dues to a local PTA organization automatically becomes a member of the National Congress, the State Congress and the local unit. Five cents per capita is apportioned for the national dues, fifteen cents for state dues and the balance for the local unit.

The PTA program is educational and is developed through conferences, committees and projects.

It is non-commercial, non-sectarian, and non-partisan. It does not endorse commercial enterprises or candidates for political office.

It does not seek to direct the administrative activities of the school, but to co-operate with the school.

It does, however, co-operate with other organizations with similar objectives.

The objects of PTA are to promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community.

To raise the standards of home life, to secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth, to bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.

Its objective also is to develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education.

Membership chairmen actively participating in the enrollment drive are: Mrs. Ernest Johnson, Bagley school; Mrs. Graydon Broadwater, Bailey; Mrs. Frank Phelps, Baldwin; Mrs. Fred Mora, Central; Mrs. Alfred Watson, Crofoot; Mrs. William McConnell and Mrs. Gaston McCurdy, Emerson; Mrs. Luther Waite, Hawthorne; Mrs. Hugh Stimson, LeBaron and Mrs. Frank Lesco of Longfellow School.

Other chairmen and their participating schools are Mrs. Ray Hartung, Malkin; Mrs. Robert Galbraith, McCarroll; Mrs. Harold Powell, McConnell, Mrs. Eric Davis, Owen; Mrs. Robert Lazelle, Whitfield; Mrs. W. J. Tiberg, Webster; Mrs. James Patterson, Whittier; Mrs. John Copple, Willis and Mrs. Stait Lloyd of Wilson School.

Completing the list of chairmen are Mrs. Wilbur Hinsperger and Mrs. Irving Cocking of Wisner; Mrs. Charles Evans, Eastern Junior High; Mrs. Worley Smith, Lincoln Junior High; Mrs. Leonard Terry, Wever Junior High; Mrs. Lucy Russell, Jefferson Junior High; and Mrs. Rudolph Hartman, and Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Siegel of Pontiac Senior High PTA.

Tiny Sub Crosses Catalina Channel

AVALON, Santa Catalina Island, Calif. (AP)—The Seahorse I, a 16-foot submarine, has crossed the 21-mile Catalina Channel.

The sub, powered by a 25-horsepower engine, stayed submerged most of the time. It burned only three gallons of fuel during the 6½-hour crossing from the mainland yesterday.

The two operators—Gustav Dalla Valle and Dick Anderson—wore diving masks with oxygen bottles on their backs. The 2,500-pound craft, modeled after World War II Italian submarines, plodded along at a steady five knots.

Knight to Lead California to Republican Convention

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Gov. Goodwin J. Knight said today he intends to head California's delegation to the 1956 Republican National Convention even if it means an open fight with Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

* * *

He reiterated that if President Eisenhower, his first choice, doesn't run, he will seek control of the state's important bloc of votes himself as a favorite son—and only nominal—candidate.

Knight, in an interview marking the start of his third year in office, made no attempt to hide his coolness toward Nixon.

HEARD RUMORS

He said he has heard rumors that the vice president's home state supporters are planning to enter their own slate of delegates in the June California primary if Eisenhower bows out of the race.

California voters select convention delegates of both parties in a presidential primary election. The delegates must be pledged to a candidate who has given his written consent.

* * *

Asked if a Nixon ticket would affect his plans for a Knight-pledged delegation, the governor replied, "Not in the slightest."

"We are going all the way regardless of what Mr. Nixon does," he said firmly.

BLINDFOLD GAMES — Studying ways to beat the champ at his specialty of blindfold checkers are three Pontiac businessmen, Fred C. Kaiser, 204 Mohawk Rd.; Rowley C. Chase, 63 Oliver St. and Wayne N. McCandless, 578 Lenox St. Banks beat all three at the chess and checkers exhibition last night, but said they put up "a stiff fight."

HOW DOES HE DO IT? — Banks moves quickly from player to player during the opening moves at the checkers tables, pitting his skill and experience at the game against the best players Pontiac has to offer. In the background, a spectator scratches his head in amazement at the ease with which the champion maintained his lead against so many good players. Nobody beat Banks in the exhibition, but before the night was over three checkers players had tied him. (See story on page one, and additional pictures on pages one and two.)

FORD'S LUXURY CAR — The new Continental Mark II, to be introduced by Ford Motor Co. this month, is a prestige automobile manufactured in low volume with special attention to quality, styling and detail. It retains in modern form many styling characteristics of the former Lincoln-Continental. The hood is almost 6 feet long, and the car is more than 18 feet long over-all. Only 4 feet 8 inches high, it is believed to be the lowest of production cars with both a front and rear seat. The cars will be placed on display by dealers Friday, Oct. 21, and will be shown here by Central Lincoln-Mercury Sales Inc., 40 W. Pike St.

Ford Introducing New Continental

Mark II Luxury Model Will Reach Market on October 21

DETROIT (AP)—The long heralded new Continental passenger auto—which for a time at least will be America's highest priced production car—will reach the market on Oct. 21.

William C. Ford, head of the Ford Motor Company Continental Division, announced this today following an extensive preview program of the car that began yesterday and will continue through tomorrow.

Withheld for later announcement was the price tag and horsepower of the V-8, valve-in-head engine developed for the new prestige car. However, it has been widely reported the price tag will be around $10,000 and the power output in the 300 horsepower area.

The new Continental, to be called the Mark II, has a 6-foot long hood, a relatively short rear deck, compact passenger compartment and a unique tire mount. The tire rests inside the luggage compartment beneath a molding stamped into the rear deck lid.

CARRYOVERS

Excepting for the tire mount, these features along with the distinctive rear roof quarter, were characteristics of the former Continental that was discontinued early in 1948.

In all mention of the new Continental emphasis has been put on the fact the car is designed as a low-volume, high-quality production unit. The youngest of the three Ford brothers, who revived the car originally conceived by his late father, Edsel B. Ford, describes the 1956 version as designed for the luxury market. It is 56 inches high, 218 inches long and 77½ inches wide.

The Continental Mark II is a two-door hardtop coupe. Standard in its equipment will be automatic transmission, power brakes and power steering, and power-operated vent, side and rear quarter windows.

The instrument panel consists of four clusters welded into the top of the front panel near the steering wheel. Dashboard and instrument panel are covered with leather to match the upholstery.

Aussie Divorces Drop

CANBERRA — The number of divorces granted in Australia dropped to 6,528 in 1954, a decline of 1,513 from 1953 and 2,287 fewer than in the peak year of 1947.

Dearborn Experiment Proves:

Trained Police Dogs Solve Small Town Patrol Woes

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Four German shepherd dogs, which at a command will jump through a plate glass window, are being used in an experiment that may prove the solution to the shortage of police officers in many of the nation's communities.

* * *

The experiment, first of its kind in city police work according to Commissioner Margurite C. Johnson of Dearborn, Mich., is being conducted in her city of 120,000.

"Instead of having two policemen on a beat, we can send out a dog and an officer," she said. "The dog, if commanded, will jump through a plate glass window, flush out a suspect and disarm him, enter a burning building to search for victims, scale a 14-foot fence and stand guard."

EXPERIMENT TERRIFIC

Mrs. Johnson, who is the nation's only woman police commissioner, is attending the 62nd annual International Assn. of Chiefs of Police Conference here. A grandmother, she also is commissioner of the Fire and Communications Department.

"So far," she said, "we think the experiment is terrific."

"The dogs, who also travel in patrol cars, could save many officers' lives," she said. "If a man is armed with a knife or gun or is holed up somewhere, the dog will find him, flush him out, disarm him and then guard him until the officer arrives.

* * *

She recalled how a dog held four men at bay while an officer left him and walked down a long block to call for a patrol car. When he returned, she said, the men hadn't budged an inch.

Battling Pair Told to Sell Home Arena

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The battling Kravaacks have been ordered to sell their home arena. Superior Judge Elmer D. Doyle yesterday told Harvey C. Kravaack, 47, and his wife, Billie, 36, to invest proceeds of the sale until their divorce contest is tried.

Harvey awakening one night to find Billie scratching his Adam's apple with an ice pick; Billie chasing Harvey with a meat fork; Harvey throwing dishes, food, cosmetics and perfume at Billie as she lay in bed.

The couple agreed to sell the house and split a $2,000 savings account.

TEACHERS NEEDED TOO—The teacher is equally important in the Parent-Teacher Association. The cooperation of both is needed in carrying out the objects of PTA. Mrs. Robert Galbraith, 583 Raskob St., membership chairman of McCarroll School; Mrs. Edward Leland, 2440 Middlebelt Rd., teacher at Baldwin School, and Mrs. Ernest John, 377 Howard McNeill St., membership chairman of Bagley School (left to right), review the PTA objects chart. These objectives are stated on each membership card.

PARENTS NEEDED — Both fathers and mothers are needed in PTA activities. Mrs. Lyle Venner (left) 559 E. Mansfield Ave., and Mrs. Worley Smith, 33 McKinley Dr., show how new members may join a local unit as they enroll Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Siegel, 789 Melnominee Rd. Mrs. Venner represents Wever Junior High School and Mrs. Smith is membership chairman of Lincoln Junior High School. The Siegels are joint membership chairmen of Pontiac Senior High School PTA.

DANIEL BOONE

Although not "the 14th colony," Kentucky became the 15th state in 1792. "It's too crowded here," said Dan'l. "I need elbow room."

Once the richest man in Kentucky, Boone had lost most of his land and he was nearly penniless at 60.

By Russ Winterbotham and Ralph Lane

Bob Considine Says:

Brave Printer Battled for Press Freedom

(Editor's Note: This is National Newspaper Week, and here a famed columnist and reporter illustrate the theme of this year's observance: "Your Newspaper — Fights for Your Right to Know."

NEW YORK (INS) — American newspapers have been telling the people what their government has been up to from the Boston Tea Party, to Teapot Dome, to the story in today's edition.

* * *

They have thrown light on shrouded rascals as separated in time and importance as George III, Boss Tweed and mink-coated influence peddlers.

They are not in the detective business, though reporters have solved countless crimes that baffled police authorities up to and including the FBI.

They are not the appointed guardians of the public's morals, but millions look to them for guidance on myriad matters. Their basic purpose for existing is to dispense truthful information.

* * *

In many areas on earth it is against the law (or the might that passes for law) to circulate the truth. That used to be the way things were here, too, astonishing as that may be to believe.

ZENGER'S BATTLE

The colonial press did not begin to be free until John Peter Zenger's New York Weekly Journal collided with the autocratic administration of his majesty's governor, William Cosby. That was 1734.

German immigrant Zenger was freshly arrived in the province. He set up a print shop and began issuing the Journal, a paper that wouldn't follow the supine line of most of the colonial press.

Zenger must have had the courage of a lion. To back it up he received the support of three substantial sources of inside news: An unfairly ousted chief justice of New York, Lewis Morris, and two responsible attorneys named William Smith and James Alexander.

The powder was soon being shaken out of Cosby's wig. He ordered copies of the "dangerous" Journal burned. When that didn't stop Zenger he threw the man in jail for 10 months. Zenger smuggled out pieces about conditions there and his wife, running the Journal in his absence, courageously printed them.

* * *

Zenger's historic trial began in April 1735. Alexander and Smith, his attorneys in court, were promptly disbarred when they pointed out several clear-cut cases of bias on the part of the judges. Old Andrew Hamilton, a Philadelphia lawyer, took over the case —which turned into a momentous battle against the prevalent law of "The greater the truth the greater the libel."

* * *

Mr. Chief Justice, quoting the law, intoned: "It is far from being a justification of a libel that the contents thereof are true, or that the person upon whom it is made had a bad reputation, since the greater appearance there is of truth in any malicious invective so much the more provoking it is."

GUIDE TO FREEDOM

"Star chamber!" cried Hamilton, kept battling, and in his summation to the jury spelled out a stirring new charter for freedom of the press;

" . . . And therefore I cannot but think it mine and every honest man's duty that (while we pay all due obedience to men in authority) we ought at the same time to be on our guard against power, wherever we apprehend that it may affect ourselves or our fellow subjects.

" . . . I should think it my duty, if required, to go to the utmost part of the land where my service could be of any use in assisting to quench the flame of prosecutions upon informations, set on foot by the government, to deprive a people of the right of remonstrating (and complaining too) of the arbitrary attempts of men in power.

"Men who injure and oppress the people under their administration provoke them to cry out and complain: And then make that very complaint the foundation for new oppressions and prosecutions."

* * *

The question before the jury was not the cause of a private concern or that of a poor printer, Hamilton pleaded.

"No!" he thundered. "It may in its consequence affect every free man that lives under a British government on the Main of America. It is the best cause. It is the cause of liberty . . .

RIGHT TO OPPOSE

"Every man who prefers freedom to a life of slavery will bless and honor you as men who have baffled the attempt of tyranny, and have laid a noble foundation for securing to ourselves, our posterity and our neighbors that to which nature and the laws of our country have given us a right—the liberty of exposing and opposing arbitrary power (in these parts of the world, at least) by speaking and writing truth."

* * *

Let Zenger's own account finish this salute to National Newspaper Week:

"The jury withdrew, and in a small time returned, and being asked by the clerk whether they were agreed of their verdict, and whether John Peter Zenger was guilty of printing and publishing the libels, they answered by Thomas Hunt, their foreman: Not guilty.

"Upon which there were three huzzas in the hall, which was crowded with people, and the next day I was discharged from my imprisonment."

Business Failures Up

NEW YORK (INS)—Dun and Bradstreet, Inc., reported nationwide business failures in the week ended Sept. 29 total 186. This compared with 171 the week previous, and with 192 in the same week a year ago. Casualties thus far in 1955 total 8,338, for a weekly average of 214, as against 8,504, for a weekly average of 218, in the comparable period last year.

Anniversary Album

You can see by A&P's up-to-the-minute methods of food distribution that we definitely don't live in the past. But, like most oldsters, we do cherish our memories. We've collected quite an album full since 1859. But there's always room for more. And this month, as our 96th Anniversary rolls around, we're adding to our fond recollections of those who have contributed to A&P's steady growth.

Among them are the thousands of loyal A&P employees whose untiring efforts have helped us carry out our founder's policy of bringing more good food to more people for less money, and the millions of customers who have shown their approval of this policy by their continued support and patronage.

We're mighty proud to have so many friends represented in our album of memories and hope to add many new ones in the coming year.

Plans for 'Y' Dormitory Progress With Wrecking

Plans to build a large YMCA dormitory adjoining the Y building at 131 Mount Clemens St. moved into focus today, as officials toured the 2¼-acre site and marked progress in the wrecking of an old house being torn down to make way for the proposed structure.

Wrecking operations are expected to be completed by Nov. 1, according to T. N. Slosson, YMCA general secretary.

The property and home known as the "old Webster house," were purchased by the YMCA in 1950 for the sum of $12,500. Last May the board of directors voted to tear down the house and level a hill on the property, preparatory to building the dormitory.

Since then, the board has commissioned Leo J. Heenan, local architect, to draw rough plans for the structure and present figures on approximate cost.

The plans should be ready for presentation to the building committee by the middle of November, Slosson said.

"At the present time, we are thinking in terms of a dormitory to accommodate 100 men," Slosson said, "but everything is tentative."

Slosson, together with YMCA president Elmer R. Pettengill and John C. Cowe, chairman of the dormitory committee, toured the site and pronounced wrecking operations as "satisfactory." The house is being torn down by a private person who hopes to reuse some of the lumber, officials said.

Discover Spectator Parked in Jury Box

SHAWNEE, Okla. (AP)—The trial of Pottawatomie County Sheriff Jim C. Harrington almost broke up here today when Special County Judge J. Rex Spurr discovered a spectator sitting in the jury box.

John Talley said he wandered into the courtroom just to watch the trial. He sat down in the jury box and was sworn in when officials confused him with another man. Judge Spurr removed him from the jury box and ordered the trial to continue.

Harrington is being tried on an aggravated assault charge, stemming from a May 25 beating of a Shawnee newspaper reporter, Jim Bradshaw.

Symphony Leaders Plan Season With Great Care

Charles G. Uligian of Starr avenue is president of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra for the 1955-56 season. He is shown as he discussed plans for the orchestra with Mrs. Maxwell L. Shadley of Ottawa drive. The president revealed that season tickets may be purchased from Mrs. N. E. Durocher and Mrs. E. D. Foley.

Pontiac Press Photos

It takes many hands and many people to insure a successful orchestra such as Pontiac Symphony Orchestra, Inc. This year's officers and committee chairmen have devoted many hours to bring about another successful season and to insure music lovers the best program possible. Richard Poole (left) of Watkins Lake is vice president and Mrs. B. B. Roush of West Iroquois road is general ticket chairman. Discussing arrangements with them is R. L. Bronoel of Pioneer drive, chairman of the house committee.

Cochairmen of window display for the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra this season are Mrs. Joseph L. Bennett of Illinois avenue, who also serves on the speakers' bureau for the symphony, and Charles Gadd of Orchard Lake. The first concert will be Oct. 19, at Lincoln Junior High School.

Vocal Clinic to Be Held November 7

Pontiac High School is preparing for a fall vocal concert Nov. 7. Maynard Klein, professor of music and director of choirs at the University of Michigan, will be guest conductor at the informal clinic sponsored by the high school.

* * *

The program will include nine massed numbers which will be sung by 700 voices, members of the glee clubs and choirs at the school. Selections of all types of music from different historical periods will be used.

The combined Boys' Glee Club and the combined Girls' Glee Club will each sing a group of songs. Several selections will have organ accompaniment.

Also featured in the concert will be the Pontiac High School A Cappella Choir and several ensembles.

Should Pair Have Used Gift Wine?

Or Was It Proper to Serve Beverage Already Chilled?

By EMILY POST

"Recently my husband and I had some friends in to dinner. They brought us a bottle of select dinner wine. However, my husband did not open it, but put it aside and served the wine which he had chilling.

"Later we wondered if we were rude in not having served the wine brought by our dinner guests and if they could justly feel offended at our not doing so."

Answer: You were entirely correct in using the wine you had prepared for dinner and keeping the gift bottle for some future dinner.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please answer the following questions that have been bothering me for some time: (1) When two boys and a girl are walking on the street, where should the girl walk?

"(2) When two boys and a girl go to an ice cream parlor where there are booths, where does the girl sit? (3) When two girls and a boy are seated in a booth, do the girls sit together and the boy across from them?"

Answer: (1) The girl walks between them. (2) Next to one boy and opposite the other. (3) Yes.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Very often, while my employer is in conference with a visitor, I have occasion to enter his office with a message that I think is of importance.

"When this happens however, I am always at a loss as to the correct way to handle the situation. By this I mean, do I excuse myself and interrupt his conversation, or must I stand quietly by and wait for my employer to notice by presence?"

Answer: You do the latter.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son-in-law owns quite a large restaurant. Whenever my wife and I are in the city, we are his guests for dinner at the restaurant. I would like to know if, under these circumstances, I should offer to leave a tip?"

Answer: If your son-in-law sits at the table and eats with you, you would not tip the waiter. But if you are alone at the table, you should.

Conductor Francesco DiBlasi of Detroit announces that the symphony is ready for the 1955-56 season and that an excellent program of music and guest artists is in store for lovers of good music. Mrs. Joseph C. Walker, treasurer of the symphony, has been busy getting her books in order.

Handling arrangements for the program of the coming symphony season are Mrs. Arnold Hillerman (left) of Chamberlain street and Mrs. S. V. Sekles of Ottawa drive. They are looking over the programs which have been completed for this season's concerts.

Rehearsal Dinner Set Thursday

The rehearsal dinner for the wedding of Verla Lee Sturgeon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Noah S. Sturgeon of Bamford drive, and George Raymond Howell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Howell of Pontiac drive, is being held at Rotunda Inn Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Howell will be hosts for the affair.

The couple will exchange nuptial vows Saturday at Grace Lutheran Church.

A silver and white floral arrangement flanked with silver tapers and a miniature bridal party will center the dinner table and individual places will be marked with small wedding bells.

Guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Sturgeon, Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Travis, Gwen Lehmann, Paul Snyder, Joan Morang, Ordean Sandness and Joe Morang.

Others will be Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Zaffina, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth H. Garves of East Grand Forks, Minn., and Mr. and Mrs. George A. Windiate and daughter, Nancy, of Flint.

Secretary to the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra is Mrs. George Wyman of Ottawa drive. The first concert, which will be held Oct. 19 at Lincoln Junior High School, will feature Georges Miquelle, cellist.

JoAnn Butrick Feted at Shower in Botsford Inn

The last of a series of parties honoring bride-elect JoAnn Butrick was a personal shower given by Peggy Ann Altemus in the Old Parlor at Botsford Inn.

JoAnn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Butrick of Birmingham, will exchange vows with Donald Allen Crook, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Crook of Allen Park, on Oct. 8. The ceremony will be performed in the First Methodist Church of Farmington.

* * *

Betty J. Ryan, bride-elect of Robert C. Gifford, was guest of honor at a miscellaneous bridal shower given by Mrs. Bruce Zollner at her home on North Telegraph road.

* * *

Betty, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ryan of North Johnson avenue, and Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Gifford of Lexington place, will repeat their marriage vows Oct. 22 in St. Michael Church.

Invited to the Tuesday evening affair were Mrs. Ryan, Mrs. Gifford, Mrs. S. B. MacDonald, Mrs. Robert Ryan, Mrs. Thomas Pheney and Mrs. Al Derocher.

* * *

Completing the guest list were Mrs. Sheldon Feuer, Mrs. Wayne Manning, Mrs. Margaret Pope, Peggy Derocher, Marge Carr, Sue Barks, Joelma Dempsey, Janice Moriarity, Jeanette Ashton and Glenda McGinnis.

Pontiac Panhellenic Hears Mr. Barnett

Walter Barnett discussed Michigan Bell Telephone Co. service before members of Pontiac Panhellenic Monday evening. Mrs. Robert Isgrigg opened her home on Menominee road for the meeting.

Members elected Turry Welden to represent the organization as Queen of the High Fever Follies and Mrs. Ruth Weber Parshall will serve as campaign manager.

The social hour was arranged by Rosamund Haeberle assisted by Mrs. Enar West and Mrs. Robert Burnes.

Mrs. L. Jerome Fink has invited the group to her home on Ottawa drive for its Nov. 7 meeting.

Skin Requires Good Foundation

* * *

If, during adolescence, there is acne, dandruff or any other smaller problems that plague this period of physiological change, there should be further medical and beauty care.

Whatever your fortune—a shining clear skin or a problem one—your make-up ought to stay to the bare minimum, according to one wise and beautiful beautician.

This woman feels that the perfect teen skin needs no more flattery than lipstick and powder. She knows that the problem skin needs to cling to its medicated solutions and not tamper with complex cosmetics that might wreck all the work.

For those who are past the parent-pleasing palest pink lipstick stage, this expert recommends a true pure red lipstick for the most flattery. It points up a perfect skin and can help to distract from a problem one.

Two hands for beginners, she recommends. When you're first learning to make the lipstick follow the lip line, brace both your elbows well and use both hands to steady the application.

Mary Lou Oakley Honored at Shower

The bride-elect, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Oakley of West Walton boulevard, and Engel A. Groenberg, son of the Engel Groenbergs of Ward road, will exchange vows Oct. 22.

Typing, Shorthand Are Essentials

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Scarcely a week goes by without the arrival of a letter like this one from Ellen B., aged 19:

* * *

"I have finished high school and am about to get my first job. Also, I am going to college at night, because my family cannot afford to send me to day session.

"My teachers tell me I am definitely college material, that I have a good mind, and I'm quite creative. But, it seems, I cannot get a decent job without shorthand and typing. I think that's ridiculous.

"I don't intend to be a stenographer. I intend to have a creative job, such as fashion designing or copyrighting. Besides, it takes time to learn shorthand and would keep me in routine jobs for the next five or six years.

* * *

"Can you suggest a really interesting job for me now, which doesn't require shorthand and typing, but which pays well?"

ANSWER IS 'NO'

To Ellen, and many, many girls like her, I answer a flat NO. I cannot think of well-paying fascinating creative jobs for 19-year-olds who are too lazy to learn shorthand and typing.

Most of the successful women I know, who have jobs like that, have earned them, the others, who felt that hard work and starting at the bottom was beneath them, are now miserable failures.

My suggestion is that Ellen buckle down and at least learn typing. If she works hard, she can do it in a month or two. Then she can start in a job and be worth something to some employer.

After that, she can learn shorthand at night and earn a more interesting job and a better paycheck.

Moreover, shorthand and typing, in addition to giving you a better job, are skills you will use the rest of your life. I still take down interesting speeches from the radio, in the shorthand I learned at Ellen's age.

And the knowledge that you have a salable skill, good at almost any age, gives you a kind of security which is most valuable.

VALUABLE ASSET

No woman knows what life may have in store—widowhood, a sick child, a husband whose starting salary is not high enough to support two—all kinds of things can happen which make the ability to get a job as a stenographer the thing that saves your life.

* * *

Ellen could have saved a lot of trouble if she had learned stenography and typing during high school or in the summers.

And I fervently hope that the teenagers reading this — or their parents—will consider it carefully.

GOOD GROOMING

. . . the indefinite quality we have described as the routine of the brushes. The importance of hair and tooth brush we have already discussed.

The clothes brush comes into its own in autumn when we start wearing darker colors, fabrics with naps and lint catching woolens.

Take care not to disturb soft fabrics with a harsh brush. Firm nylon bristles will do wonders. For a quick trick before leaving the house, take a tip from the Navy . . . use Scotch or Masking tape, sticky side out, to pick up lint from navy blue and black fabrics or velvet collars and necklines.

In remembering the shoe brush we suggest that we look at our shoes with the same interest we would in a hat we might wear.

Creole Pie Makes Use of Leftovers

Mrs. Gaff's Recipe Calls for Sausage and a Scone Crust

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Meat pies make fine fare for cool autumn nights. Mrs. Robert Gaff suggests a meat and vegetable pie that is a little out of the ordinary. Her recipe calls for pork sausage, but she has used chopped beef.

Mrs. Gaff's lovely singing voice is heard often in the Pontiac area. She sings in her church choir and in the Tuesday Musicale Chorus.

With her husband, she belongs to a church social group. She is a worker in her women's church group and in the Waterford Village PTA. She is also a member of an Extension group.

CREOLE PIE
By Mrs. Robert Gaff

½ pound bulk pork sausage
½ cup chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped onion
¼ cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
1 cup tomatoes
2 cups cooked vegetables

Brown sausage, add green pepper and onion and cook over low heat until vegetables are soft, but not brown. Stir in all remaining ingredients except the cooked vegetables. Stir and blend, cooking until smooth, about 5 minutes.

Add cooked vegetables and cook over low heat for 5 minutes. Pour into a scone pie shell and serve at once.

Scone Pie Shell

Stir together 1½ cups sifted flour, 2 teaspoons baking powder, 1 teaspoon salt. Cut in 1-3 cup shortening. Stir together 1 large beaten egg and 1-3 cup milk. Add to first mixture. Press into a pie tin so that there are no air pockets. Flute the edge.

Prick bottom and sides of crust well to avoid "blisters." Bake 15 minutes in a 425-degree oven. Keep warm.

No Gimmicks Help

Simplify — for kitchen efficiency that's the best thing to do. Get rid of all those extra "gimmick" utensils you never really use. Reserve your shelves and cabinets for only those items which see frequent use.

Check the work areas; do the gas range and refrigerator, sink and food preparation counters form a working unit? Remember, fancy gadgets, overstuffed closets, heavily laden shelves make for confusion.

National YWCA Receives $509,950

A gift of $509,950 from John D. Rockefeller Jr., toward the $5,000,000 YWCA Centennial Fund, has been announced by Mrs. F. Beardsley Foster Jr., vice president of the YWCA of the U.S., according to Mrs. Myron L. Buck, centennial chairman for the Pontiac YWCA.

* * *

Mrs. Buck has announced that the Pontiac association is one of six associations in Michigan which oversubscribed the minimum quota set by the national committee. The Pontiac association is credited with $5,111.60, Mrs. Buck says.

Income from the Centennial Fund will be used to expand services of the YWCA of the U.S., both at home and abroad.

A second American staff member is being sent to Korea, where an extensive rehabilitation program is being carried on by the Korean YWCA with the assistance of the American association. Two new staff members are augmenting regular personnel in helping to meet requests for new or expanded YWCAs.

* * *

The natonal board has requests from communities to organize new YWCAs and to aid in youth work. The Centennial Fund also will be used to help with work on 641 college and university campuses.

Areme Chapter of OES Elects Matron, Patron

Elected to serve during the coming year were Mrs. Edward Pritchard, worthy matron, and William Roberts, worthy patron, when Areme Chapter 503, OES, met Monday evening at Roosevelt Temple.

* * *

Mrs. Sidney Fellows, worthy matron, announced the installation of officers Oct. 17 at Roosevelt Temple and the fall meeting of Oakland County Association Oct. 27 at Royal Oak.

Hostess for the evening was Mrs. Roy Clark assisted by Mrs. James Balmer, Mrs. James Hart, Mrs. James Hoke, Mrs. Arthur Jeffers, Mrs. Melvin McPherson and Mrs. Lester Oles.

Married Saturday evening were Joan McLean and Larry Feneley. She is the daughter of Mrs. Roy McLean of Summit avenue and the late Mr. McLean, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Feneley of Ellwood avenue.

Opti-Mrs. Club Holds Meeting at Hruska Home

* * *

Mrs. S. B. Wattles told of presenting an inscribed silver tray from the club to the Adah Shelly Library. Mrs. H. Guy Moats reported on clothing purchased for Michigan Children's Aid Society.

New members who were received into the club are Mrs. Harold Davis, Mrs. Elwood Brown, Mrs. Joseph Reisz, Mrs. Alan Robertson and Mrs. Donald Henry.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Buhl Burt.

Joan McLean Is Gowned in Lace and Tulle for Rite

Joan McLean and Larry Feneley spoke their marriage vows Saturday evening in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Roy McLean of Summit avenue and the late Mr. McLean, and Larry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Feneley of Ellwood avenue.

* * *

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Emmanuel Randle of High River, Alberta, wore a gown of nylon tulle and Chantilly lace. The fitted lace bodice was fashioned with a Peter Pan collar of seed pearls, and her bouffant skirt had a scalloped headline of tiered lace that flared into a chapel-length train.

Her fingertip veil fell from a bonnet-shaped cap fashioned of lace and pearls, and she carried white roses on a white Bible. A platinum and diamond brooch belonging to her mother completed her bridal costume.

* * *

Janice Helzer and Betty McLean, bridesmaids, were gowned similarly to the matron of honor in dresses of blue. They also carried lace umbrellas filled with autumn-shaded chrysanthemums.

ATTEND BRIDEGROOM

* * *

Marval Dennes sang the bridal recital. Flower girls Laurie Dennes and Debby McLean were gowned in yellow taffeta and carried flower baskets. Chris Verwey and Mike McLean were ringbearers.

After the reception in the church parlors, the bride changed to a red wool dress with black accessories and wore a corsage of white roses for their honeymoon trip.

Model Meeting Held by Sorority Chapter

Chairmen for the program were Mrs. Edward Markham and Mrs. Richard Ferris. Plans were completed by the group for the Halloween party Oct. 18.

Mrs. Earl Rudd and Miriam Roth were guests of the sorority for the evening.

Catholic Women Now Total 982

Mrs. William B. Dean, membership chairman of the League of Catholic Women, reported that the membership totals 982 at the Monday meeting held in the League Building. Mrs. Dean expects membership to reach 1,000 this week.

Delegates named to the Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council are Mrs. Harry Wright and Mrs. Wilson J. Palazini, and alternates are Mrs. J. E. Clark and Mrs. Dean.

Mrs. W. J. Hinds reported on the recent meeting of the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs.

Round Table Holds First Fall Meeting

James Hunt Talks About Problems of Youngsters

* * *

Mrs. Eugene Cleland, program chairman, introduced the speaker of the day, James Hunt, who talked on "Children's Problems in a Changing World."

Mr. Hunt stressed the difference in children and the special attention which should be accorded them. He gave several reasons for juvenile delinquency, including lack of affection, too much lavishness, and parents who fail to cooperate with children.

He spoke also of the increased personnel in schools, clinics and camps which is certain to bring about good results.

* * *

A report was given by Mrs. William Gordon, who spoke on the newly formed Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council. Mrs. William Dawe reported on the City Federation of Women's Clubs.

Mrs. H. E. McCullough, president, presided at the meeting, at which Mrs. Fritzi Stoddard was received into the membership.

Hostesses for the day were Mrs. T. H. Rombough, Mrs. George Cram, Mrs. K. L. Hoyt and Mrs. G. H. Boles. Mrs. Minnie McCullough of Grand Forks, N. D., was a guest of the group.

* * *

It was announced the November meeting will be held in the community room of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Legion Auxiliary Elects Delegates

Those elected were Mrs. Arno Hulet, Mrs. William Thomas and Mrs. Roger B. Dean.

Plans were discussed for a "kick-off" membership dinner to be held Oct. 29 and final arrangements were made for the American Legion post and unit joint district meeting to be held at the American Legion Home on Auburn avenue Friday at 8:30 p.m.

Overdrying Causes Clothes Wrinkling

When drying your clothes in the dryer, avoid overdrying, which may cause deep-set wrinkles that are hard to iron out. Overdrying may also damage the fabric by making it permanently harsh.

Clothes that need ironing can be removed at the proper stage of dampness. Clothes that are not to be ironed should be removed while there is still a trace of steam in the dryer.

PEO Group Meets With Mrs. Wilson

Mrs. John Wilson of Briggs street entertained members of Chapter AW, PEO Monday evening at their first fall meeting.

Devotions were given by Marian Emery, chaplain, and Mrs. Clarence Norton read the local chapter bylaws.

Mrs. Earl Rinker of Lanman drive has invited members to hold their Oct. 17 meeting at her home.

Extension Council Meets

New board members were introduced at the first meeting of the year of the Oakland County Home Demonstration Council held Tuesday at the home of Mrs. George Perry on White Lake road.

Introduced were Mrs. Althea Rogers, Rochester; Mrs. B. C. Brondige, Holly; Mrs. Millard Bixler, Ortonville; Mrs. Howard Parr, South Lyon; Mrs. Donald Wurm, Lake Orion, and Mrs. Daniel Peterson, Pontiac.

Mrs. Elizabeth Brown presented the report of the district chairman showing the community work done by the extension women.

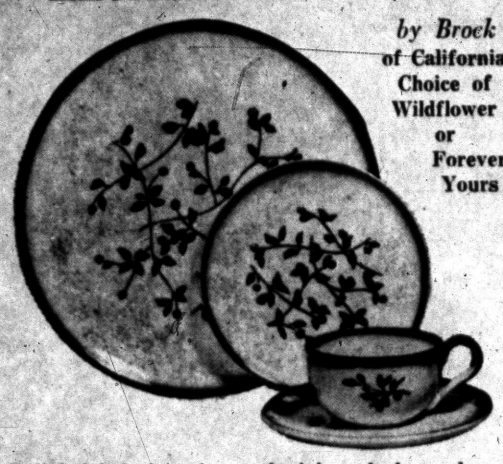

Committees announced for the coming year are Mrs. Charles Brucker, Mrs. Arthur Bezdecny and Mrs. Daniel Peterson, program; Mrs. Donovan Tubbs, community; Mrs. Burvel Schaffer, publicity; Mrs. Althea Rogers, civil defense, and Mrs. Walter Brown, historian.

Christmas workshop lesson plans were presented by Mrs. Frieda Bennett and Mrs. Mary Hixon, home demonstration agents, and suggestions were made for Achievement Day to be held in May of 1956.

To simplify sewing on material that ravels easily, try cutting into an old candle with your shears. Then, when you cut the fabric, a little wax from the shears will stick to it and bind the edges.

New Health Insurance Plan Protects Your Right to Renew

Omaha, Nebr. — A special Renewal Safeguard is part of a new health insurance plan, now being offered by Mutual of Omaha. The Renewal Safeguard specifies that the company cannot refuse to renew the policy for health reasons to age 65.

Yours to Own

Many insurance plans are what might be called "rental" plans. But the new Circle Security Plan goes beyond such protection.

When a person qualifies for this new coverage, he can continue to renew his plan to age 65, no matter how many times he receives benefits or how much his health may change. And, at age 65, he automatically is eligible for the protection for which he then qualifies.

Long Hospital Care

Special features of the new Circle Security Plan include hospital insurance that pays for as long as 500 days of hospital care for covered sickness or accident.

Also included are surgical benefits, maternity benefits on family plans, and certain medical benefits. The Plan can be designed for one person or an entire family.

Available Now

This extended coverage is now available to readers of this paper. To see if you can qualify for this broader protection with the Renewal Safeguard feature, you may use the coupon below. Information will be supplied by the licensed, career-trained representative of the Mutual Benefit Health & Accident Association, the largest exclusive health and accident company in the world. Arrangements have been made to provide you with full information at no obligation. (Policy Forms 3D-3FH)

It's All a Joke--So Why Become Riled Up?

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: The other night when my girl friend and I were taking a walk, two boys in a car stopped us to ask if we knew a girl who lives near us.

"We talked to them for about five minutes, and during that time our two boy friends (we don't go steady with them) came by in their car and stopped to talk to us. The other boys left at once.

"After a few minutes' chat with our boy friends, they said they had to be going, so we went home and sat on the front porch.

"Then our boy friends began driving by the house honking and waving with four girls in the car. They kept this up for an hour, then started calling and hanging up the phone.

"Do you think when we next see them that we should pass it off as a big joke, or should we be mad for what they did? And do you think they should be mad at us for talking to those boys?"

Answer: Frankly, I don't think anybody should be mad at anybody. The whole thing is a big joke, and it's silly to take it seriously.

Maybe your boy friends did misinterpret your chatting on the street with those two boys, so they decided to get back at you by parading their four girls.

They'd have stopped that, though, if you and your girl friend hadn't stuck to the front porch so you could watch it go on. If they'd found you gone, they wouldn't have kept on pestering you. But it was teasing, anyhow. And the score is even.

So, say nothing about it when you see them the next time. Let it pass without a word. Unless, they bring it up. Then you can explain yourselves as giving five minutes' worth of information to two boys you didn't know.

Make no comment about their performance. They can't explain that away, and the less you say about it the better. You all had your fun—so why get upset over it?

"Dear Miss Woodward: I can't trust him with other girls. He's very cute and I like him very much. He told me he liked me, too.

"He's kissed me many times. But he holds hands with other girls. What should I do to keep him and be able to call him my own?"

Answer: It's hard to make a hummingbird stay still long enough to be tamed. You apparently are interested in a boy who likes girls; he likes them immensely.

When he's with a girl he likes her best. He holds her hand and kisses her goodnight. Ditto with the next girl. A real hummingbird. He has fun.

MRS. GEORGE RIHARB

Mr. and Mrs. George Riharb were married Sept. 10 at the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak. The bride is the former Elizabeth Chapman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence A. Chapman of Berkley, and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Riharb of North Perry street.

* * *

A Juliet cap of Chantilly lace over satin outlined in seed pearls secured her fingertip veil of illusion. Her only jewelry was a strand of pearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses centered with a white orchid.

Mrs. Robert E. Best, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Mrs. Phillip Irons Hilzinger of Berkley was also a bridal attendant.

They were both gowned in ballerina-length dresses of turquoise crystallette styled with princess lines. Their accessories were turquoise and they carried shower bouquets of American beauty roses.

ATTENDS AUNT

* * *

Following the ceremony, breakfast was served at Devon Gables to members of the bridal party and the immediate families. Four hundred and fifty guests attended the evening reception held at the Ford Alumni Club.

Shower Given for Bride-Elect Ina A. Sprogis

Mrs. Ray Van Wagoner and Roslyn Francis were cohostesses at the Van Wagoner home in Lake Orion for a miscellaneous bridal shower honoring Ina A. Sprogis.

Ina, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Sprogis of Rochester, is the bride-elect of Harold Andrews, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Andrews of North Joslyn road. The couple plans an Oct. 29 wedding in First Congregational Church.

Guests attending the shower were Mrs. Sprogis, Mrs. Andrews, Mrs. Walter Gingell, Mrs. Mildred Gingell, Mrs. Harriet Young, Mrs. Payne Axford and Mrs. Paul Bryant of Lake Orion.

Guests also attended from Birmingham, Royal Oak, Rochester, Oxford, Almont and Flint.

Tom's Ordeal Served Its Purpose

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

* * *

Remember the story? It blew the lid off the brutalities condoned by the public schools of 19th Century England. At Rugby, Tom was forced to sing a song while his fellows hit him with bread pellets and other handy missiles. His hair was pulled; his ears tweaked and boxed. The soles of his feet were whipped.

A "roasting" before an upper classman's hearth finally landed him in the infirmary. He asked for no help. The Code commanded silent endurance and the "stiff upper lip."

Now here's an odd coincidence. At the very time that England was mistreating Tom, uncivilized people in other parts of the world were doing the same thing to their youngsters.

In painful ceremonies anthropologists call "puberty rites," their witch doctors required submission to anything from the stings of poisonous ants to traditional knife cuts. They, too, demanded the silent endurance—that "stiff upper lip."

DID THEY HATE?

Curoius, isn't it? One wonders why. Did the primitive people hate their children? Did the civilized, Victorian papas and mamas who blinked at their public schools' abuses enjoy having hurt inflicted on theirs?

* * *

I don't think so for a minute. I think they loved their children. And that these deplorable "puberty rites," both savage and civilized, had a protective purpose in mind.

They were, I suspect, "preparation" experiences — "briefings" on the hurts that lie in wait for the young who are unequipped to meet them. They said, I think, "Now you know what an enemy's knife, a malicious person, poisonous ants can do to you. Now you are ready to learn the arts of self-protection."

Certainly Tom was. In the holiday that followed his ordeal at Rugby, he demanded boxing lessons. And on his return, used them to knock out the bully who had persecuted him.

* * *

Let me be clear: I disapprove of inflicting pain on children. I think that Rugbys "puberty rites" were outrageous. But if I've read the real intention behind them, I hail it with "Bravo!"

OTHER EXTREME

For we go to the other extreme. Our youngsters get no "briefing" at all on the hurts that lie in wait for the unwary. So they bump into them blindly.

They don't even know when they've been stung by envy, cut by jealousy, whipped by injustice, much less what to do about it.

Tom Brown learned the facts in four months. He learned that his answers were in himself. What about your son? Does he know that yet? Can he go on singing his own song, no matter what's thrown at him?

UF Supported Family Service Aiding Families With Variety of Problems

Editor's Note: The actual names of persons in this story were withheld.

John's income was sufficient to provide a modest living for Mary and their two children, James, 12, and Sally, 10.

Then Mary's father died and her mother, Mrs. Brown, came to live with the Joneses.

John and Mary quarreled, worn under the strain of trying to placate Mrs. Brown who wanted to run every detail of household management and child-rearing.

Little enjoyments, such as movies and weekend trips were becoming few and far between.

Sally, a naturally shy child, retreated even more into her own thoughts and began to fail in her schoolwork.

Meanwhile, John's performance on the job suffered. Things came to a head when his boss demanded an explanation for his careless mistakes and lack of enthusiasm. John began to fear being fired.

Then one day his boss remarked that some of the men who had familiy troubles had been helped through talks with a case worker at Family Service of Oakland County, a Pontiac Area United Fund agency.

Both John and Mary had separate, individual talks with a caseworker. Mary revealed that she was not only unhappy but felt guilty over resenting her mother's actions.

The caseworker, after several interviews, made a home call to talk with Mrs. Brown and meet the children. Each person was encouraged to discuss what his role had been in creating the problem.

Mary realized she had been reverting to younger days and allowing her mother to come first—instead of her husband and children. John began to see he had been taking his wounded feelings out on his fellow workers.

Finally it was determined that Mrs. Brown could afford a home apart from the others, and that she would actually be happier living alone.

Family Service is a non-sectarian organization for use by any citizen in the community.

"Each family, each individual, presents an entirely different problem," says Miss Estella Martin, Family Service director, "and trained counseling is needed to guide people through to their own solutions."

In addition to marriage difficulties, the caseworkers tackle such problems as budget worries and family stress resulting from illness.

Those who can, pay a fee for services but no one is refused for lack of money. A large part of the organization's support comes from Pontiac Area United Fund dollars.

About 64 per cent of Canadian homes have hot and cold water.

Appliance Sales Rise

ST. LOUIS — If electrical-appliance sales this year increase by 8 per cent over 1954, as some experts predict, dollar volume will reach $7,381,934,000, topping the previous record, established in 1950, by $1,500,000.

Sen. McCarthy Testifies Again

WASH NGTON (AP)—Acontempt of Congress trial testing further the powers of congressional Red hunters went into its second day today with Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) still on the witness stand.

* * *

On trial in Federal District Court for contempt is Harvey O'Connor, 58-year-old author of "Mellon's Millions" and other books. He refused in 1953 to tell the Senate Investigations subcommittee, then headed by McCarthy, whether he had been a Communist at the time he wrote books purchased by the State Department for its overseas libraries program.

O'Connor did not rely on the Fifth Amendment's protection against possible self-incrimination. Instead, he contended that "under the First Amendment to the Constitution, my writings, my books and my political opinions are of no legitimate concern to this committee."

* * *

McCarthy testified yesterday that O'Connor was questioned in an investigation undertaken by the Senate subcommittee after it received "a vast number of complaints" that the State Department's overseas information program was "serving the cause of communism."

He was asked by Asst. U.S. Atty. William Hitz what information the subcommittee had in regard to O'Connor before calling him as a witness.

Before McCarthy could answer, defense attorney Gerhard P. Van Arkel objected that the question was irrelevant. He said Hitz was trying to introduce "unverified gossip. He was sustained by Judge Joseph C. McGarraghy.

Hitz protested, saying the government could prove that the subcommittee had "reasonable ground to believe" that O'Connor was a Communist when he wrote the books purchased by the State Department.

* * *

McCarthy testified for nearly three hours yesterday. His testimony was designed to show that the subcommittee had jurisdiction for its investigation and that its questioning of O'Connor was pertinent to the inquiry.

U.N. Talks Shun Algerian Crisis

Delegates Ask Other Subjects Be Discussed While Tempers Cool

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Informed sources say a move is afoot to hold off U.N. debate on France's Algerian dispute and other hot issues until tempers subside.

* * *

The informants said the top Political Committee at its opening session today would get a proposal to start debate with the atoms-for-peace program and avoid scheduling other items for the time being.

Still shaken by France's walkout, most delegates were loath to get into a wrangle over Algeria that might prompt the French to quit the U.N. altogether.

FLAGRANT MOVE

The French labeled the Assembly decision to debate Algerian independence demands a flagrant violation of the U.N. Charter. The French hold that Algeria is an integral part of France rather than a colony or protectorate and therefore outside the competence of the Assembly.

Most delegates also were anxious to avoid any controversy that might cloud the international atmosphere before the Big Four foreign ministers meet in Geneva Oct. 27.

* * *

Disarmament is the most important item on the Political Committee's agenda, but it has been generally agreed to hold off discussion until the foreign ministers had a chance to thresh out the question.

* * *

Libraries Announce Volume Increase

With the addition of 311 books last month, the Pontiac City Libraries' collection has increased to 55,804 volumes, librarian Adah Shelly said today.

Of the new seelctions, 275 were purchased and 39 were gifts, Miss Shelly said. Twenty new works have been added to the shelves this week. They are:

Auntie Mame, E. E. Tanner.
The Bond and the Free, Charles Dunscomb.
Bullet Law, C. N. Heckelmann.
First Train to Babylon, M. S.Erhlich.
Guns of Chickamauga, Richard O'Connor.
Moonraker, Ian Fleming.
Not the Glory, Pierre Boulle.
The Partisans, Peter Matthiessen.
There Comes a Time, Charles Mercer.
Up Home, Ardyth Kenneily.

Adult Non-Fiction

Backgrounds of European Literature, R. W. Horton.
Chilton's Automobile Repair Manual, 1955.
Exploring Papier-mache, V. B. Betts.
Hiroshima Diary, Michihiko Hachiya.
News Is a Singular Thing, Marguerite Higgins.
Sailors Kiss Everybody, Florence McGehee.
The Story of Our Ancestors, M. M. Edel.
Wish I Might, Isabel Smith.

Cop's Wife Convicted

DETROIT (AP) — An all-woman jury last night convicted Mrs. Rosemary Jacques, 31, wife of a Detroit policeman, of manslaughter in the fatal spanking of her 6-year-old foster son Robert Szabo after the boy wet his pants. She will be sentenced Oct. 15. Maximum penalty is 15 years.

Hal Boyle Says:

Good Newspaper Serves as Alarm Clock

And, as usual, caught us with our adjectives down.

The public, as usual, hasn't fired off any skyrockets. There have been no mass parades, no widespread excitement.

* * *

This is pretty much the way we hoped the populace would take the occasion. If no group has showed up to shower laurel wreaths upon us and ferry us twice around the town square in triumph, we are consoled by the more positive fact that no indignant subscriber, on the other hand, has marched upon us with the cry:

"Hang the editor."

So far as we have been able to find out from a careful check of the records, no editor ever has been hanged during National Newspaper Week.

* * *

The other purpose is to emphasize the importance of a newspaper to a community.

There are all kinds of newspapers and they serve many purposes. At the worst a newspaper is a mirror of community smugness; at the best a newspaper is a community alarm clock.

* * *

A good newspaper works from a very simple standard. It alerts and informs the citizens about what is going on. If your daughter is graduated as valedictorian of her high school class, it will chronicle this event. It also will chronicle the fact, even though you are a leading advertiser, if you should run away from home with the strawberry blonde wife of the mayor.

Birth, marriage. . . life and death . . . crop failures. . . new buildings. . . visits . . . appearances in court . all these are standard news items in every newspaper

* * *

A good newspaper will go farther. It will chronicle the dreams and defeats of the community and its members. It won't wait for elected authorities to uncover and attack official wrongdoing. If it discovers wrongdoing, it will cry for remedy itself.

A good newspaper will reflect its community as it is, good or bad. It is the community conscience.

The public often doesn't understand its newspaper. It rarely appreciates the drudgery of newspaper work. It throws a false glamour on newspapermen and overemphasizes their financial rewards.

The truth about the average newspaperman is that he is a harried man trying with all the energy and understanding he has to find out and tell what is going on in the most complex civilization the world has ever known.

* * *

His final reward—for all the world or his widow can see—is usually a small tombstone; his real monument is the memory he leaves to his friends.

A patient craftsman in the world of news cannot in his heart wish anything better than to be remembered after he is gone by someone in the same business, saying something after the last edition like:

"Now that was a story Jim would have liked to have handled"...or ..."You think that was a good headline? Let me tell you about the time Jim. . ."

* * *

The legends of newspapermen are wonderful things. "Such interesting people.' The most interesting people newspapermen meet in the smallest, widest field a man can enter—are fellow newspapermen.

The shop talk of newspapermen is the best conversation in the whole wide world because it covers the whole wide world. Wives of newspapermen are often lonely and never quite share their husbands' realm although they usually share their husbands' pride in it. They rarely wear fur coats but I never heard one say she would have preferred to marry a banker.

* * *

What is news? Lke truth, it is hard to say. The best definition I know was written years ago by Gerald Johnson, then of the Baltimore Sun.

"News," he said, "is what interests a good newspaperman."

Any nation that has good newspapermen will have good news.

The Gold Coast, with just over 4,000,000 people, now has its first

Goring Victim Fights Mad Deer One Hour

Harvey Wilson, 46, had just entered a fenced area to feed the animals at the Sherman Park Zoo here when the buck attacked. He was gored repeatedly before crawling over the fence to safety an hour later.

Wilson was taken to War Memorial Hospital where authorities described his condition as "critical."

It was the second attack by the same buck in two days. It cut a 6-year-old boy who wandered too near the fence Sunday. Conservation officers plan to destroy the animal today.

Slates Dedication Rite

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Dedication of the new $1,250,000 Aquinas College administration building has been scheduled Oct. 11. The Most Rev. Allen J. Babcock, Bishop of the Grand Rapids Roman Catholic Diocese, will preside at the formal blessing and deliver the dedication address.

Shoe producers in Portugal are divided into those making city-style shoes, country-style shoes, and sandals, Lisbon reports, most rural residents wearing shoes only to church.

Burlesque in Japan Takes On the Legit

France-za announced that next Monday it will abandon nudity — in Japan, strip-tease is all strip and no tease — for original light comedy.

It's the 13th burlesque house to fold since the end of the Korean War.

Today there are only three burlesque houses still operating in Tokyo's famed Asakusa fleshpot area and two downtown. Ninety unclad beauties are displaying their physical assets where once there were more than a thousand.

Red Union Seeks Western Friendship

VIENNA, Austria (AP)—The Communist-dominated World Federation of Trade Unions made a bid today for reconciliation with anti-Red unions of the West.

WFTU President Giuseppe di Vittorio sounded the peace overture in an article on the WFTU's 10th anniversary published by the Cominform Weekly at Bucharest, Romania.

Di Vittorio said it is impossible for the "working people of any trend" to reconcile themselves to continuance of a cold war between trade union movements while international tensions are being relaxed.

He said the question of union unity should be posed in a new way "offering greater prospects of success."

Look what Mr. Peterson told those financiers!

Mr. Alfred G. Peterson, a forthright man, addressed the convention of the Savings Associations League of N. Y. State and boldly discussed the matter of advertising – of his own free will.

Mr. Peterson, who is president of the National Savings and Loan League, and president of the First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Greenwich, Connecticut, spoke as follows:–

"I feel that advertising is a very profitable investment. No business can really grow without it. But we should not buy advertising blindly. We should give careful consideration both to the advertising appeals we use and the advertising media we use."

And listen to this!

"The medium which tops the list is the medium that reaches the greatest number of people at the lowest cost. It is my opinion the newspaper is that medium . . ."

But that isn't all . . .

"I place the newspaper at the top of the list because it reaches the local market. All of us are really conducting local businesses.

"We may be bound together into a national industry, but our spheres of influence are entirely local.

"The newspaper reaches precisely the people we want to reach."

Ah, Mr. Peterson — you are a man who knows his investment!

Last year the institution headed by Mr. Peterson invested 5% of its gross income on advertising, and more than 60% of that went into newspapers.

And apparently Mr. Peterson reached his prospects – and sold them, too! In only ten years this Association multiplied its total resources eight-fold!

Gosh! If savings and loan people themselves advertise, think how they must feel about lending money to people who work for sound companies who advertise soundly – in newspapers.

All business is local . . . and so are all newspapers!

Flatbush Goes Wild as Dodgers Grab First World Series Crown

NEW YORK (AP) — Their long-cherished dream finally a reality, the world champion Brooklyn Dodgers loomed today as the team which will represent the National League in the 1956 World Series.

Walter Alston, first of 20 managers dating back to 1890 to lead the Brooklyn club to a world title, modestly predicted his team would be even stronger next year than the one which whipped the New York Yankees in the series, 4 games to 3.

* * *

"Improved pitching will make us stronger next year," the tall, taciturn ex-schoolteacher from Darrtown, Ohio, said during a quiet moment in the Dodgers' riotous victory celebration following their momentous 2-0 triumph in the seventh and final game.

* * *

"Johnny Podres who was so superb in his two victories over the Yankees, should develop into one of the game's greatest pitchers," Alston pointed out. "He has all the stuff to make a great one and he may come into his own next year. Those World Series victories should give him the necessary confidence. Then we have Karl Spooner, Roger Craig, Don Bessent and Sandy Koufax. All are young, strong and have shown tremendous promise. And remember, we still have our reliables such as Don Newcombe, Carl Erskine, Billy Loes, Clem Labine and others."

* * *

Alston did not mention such standout stickmen as Duke Snider, Roy Campanella, Gil Hodges and Carl Furillo. All undoubtedy will be at the od stand next year including the aging, but still brilliant Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson, Junior Gilliam, Sandy Amoros, Don Hoak and Don Zimmer, representing the younger element, all figure prominently in the Dodgers' future plans.

* * *

There's no denying that all figured prominently in the great Dodger victory of 1955 climaxed by the pulse-pounding triumph at Yankee Stadium yesterday that had the 62,465 nail-biting spectators exhausted at the finish. Even the staunchest American League diehards could not begrudge Brooklyn's finest hour as they watched the 23-year-old Podres pitch a superb game to become the first Brooklyn pitcher to win two games in a World Series. They saw the Dodgers make maximum use of their five hits and marveled at the Dodgers' brilliant defense that five times turned the Yankees back when it appeared they were about to break through.

* * *

At the finish, when Reese, the stonewall shortstop, threw out Elston Howard, the big park rocked with human emotion as the entire Dodger team raced out on the field to embrace the gritty young southpaw.

In an extraordinary scene never witnessed before, the huge crowd stood up and cheered the new champs, who were deliriously climbing on each other's shoulders while the proud Yankees were filing slowly into the losing dressing room, a unique experience for them. Only Yankee coaches Bill Dickey and Frank Crosetti, Manager Casey Stengel and shortstop Phil Rizzuto had never experienced a loss before.

* * *

In one blazing, thrill-packed afternoon, all the years of frustration and defeats were wiped out. After four decades of trying, a Dodger team finally succeeded in winning a word title, and to sweeten the victory, it was achieved against their arch-tormentors, the Yankees, who had humiliated them in five straight previous fall meetings.

Numerous records were set in this full distance struggle but the one that Brooklyn players will remember most was their achievement in winning four of their last five games after dropping the first two. This kind of comeback had never happened in a 7-game World Series before. Another record that brought joy to the victors was the total net receipts of $2,367,515.34, making it the richest World Series ever.

* * *

To accomplish the tremendous comeback victory, the Dodgers had to get superb pitching from Podres, their young lefthander, and they had to beat Tommy Byrne, the veteran southpaw who had given them the most trouble, along with Whitey Ford, another lefthander.

Podres, who hails from Witherbee, N.Y., and Byrne, a resident of Wake Forest, N.C., dueled on even terms for three innings but in the fourth, Campanella crashed a double to left and scored on a two-out single by Gil Hodges to put the Dodgers ahead. Campanella had come to bat with 13 straight hitless times at bat in the Stadium and a lifetime batting average of .070 in the big park.

The insurance run came in the sixth. A costly error by Yankee first baseman Bill Skowron paved the way for the unearned tally. It forced the withdrawal of Byrne although in all he had given up only three hits.

* * *

Reese led off with a single. Snider sacrificed, but was safe at first when Skowron took Byrne's throw wide of the bag and dropped the ball as he made a swipe at the Duke. After Campanella had moved the runners along with another sacrifice bunt, Stengel allowed Byrne to give Furillo an intentional pass before taking him out. Bob Grim took over on the mound and served a long sacrifice fly to Hodges who thus drove in both Dodger Runs.

Fortified with this additional tally, Podres blazed through a succession of thrills while a grim band of Dodgers fought with the tenacity of inspired men to hold the advantage to the end.

DODGER DELIRIUM — This was the scene on the field after Brooklyn had beaten New York Yankees 2-0 in deciding game of 1955 Series to give the team its first World Series in history. Dodgers finally made it on 8th try. Fans and players are mobbing Pitcher Johnny Podres after yesterday's 2-0 win.

'Unless They Fire Me'

Casey Hints He'll Be Back Next Year, Rizzuto Hopes to Stick at Shortstop

NEW YORK (AP)—Casey Stengel wants to keep on managing the New York Yankees in 1956—"unless they fire me"—and Phil Rizzuto hopes to continue as shortstop.

* * *

As old Case has a contract running through next year and rates ace high with the owners, he appears a cinch to return. Rizzuto, however, faces several challengers for his shortstop job.

Because Stengel became ill in mid season and had to miss the start of one Western trip, there have been reports that he might decide to call it a career. After all, he is approaching the social security age, officially, and may already be 65.

* * *

Stengel hinted broadly that he'll be back to try for a seventh pennant when he taked with reporters after yesterday's final World Series game.

* * *

"I don't know about next year," he started out. "But I got a contract. I got it in black and white and unless they fire me —"

As his voice faded into the solemn air of the Yankee clubhouse, he left the writers with the strong hint that he'll be back at St. Petersburg, Fla., next spring when the Yanks open their training season.

Rizzuto, 37, was positive about his personal plans as he sat in front of his locker after playing a record-breaking 52nd series game. Nobody, not even the great Joe DiMaggio, has played as many series games as Little Phil.

* * *

"I want to play next year," he said. "I want to play with the Yankees. If they don't think I can, I'll look somewhere else. I think I can help some club, if not here, someplace else."

* * *

Although the arm isn't everything it used to be, Rizzuto still can make the plays at short. He handled 27 chances without an error and reached Brooklyn pitching for four hits and a .267 average in the seven games.

Dodgers' Alston Drops Baseball's Role of Mystery

Brooklyn Pilot Leads Bums to First Series Win in Club's History

NEW YORK (AP)—Walter Emmons Alston, the 43-year-old ex-school teacher, no longer is the mystery man of baseball.

Today he was known throughout the baseball world, and probably in numerous other spots, as the man who piloted the Brooklyn Dodgers to their first world championship—a feat that eluded 19 other managers over a span of 65 years.

* * *

It was less than two years ago that President Walter J. O'Malley announced the signing of tall, well-proportioned Alston as the successor to the fiery, talkative and highly successful Charlie Dressen.

Who's he? was the common question wherever the baseball clans gathered. He was a little-known disciple of Branch Rickey, brought up from Montreal of the International League after a thorough seasoning in leagues of lower classification. His major league career had been confined to one time at bat for the St. Louis Cardinals—and then he was fanned by Lon Warneke of the Cubs. He never had seen a World Series.

* * *

Newsmen found him cold and aloof. Players said they couldn't get close to him. The fans found him completely colorless in contrast to such previous Dodgers as Dressen, Leo Durocher, Casey Stengel and Wilbur Robinson.

He was faced with the task of winning the 1954 pennant, as Dressen had done in 1953 only to be fired when O'Malley refused him a long-term contract.

When he failed, finishing five games back of the New York Giants, there were cries for his scalp. But O'Malley stuck with the native of Darrtown, Ohio.

His first Brookyn club was plagued by injuries. His 1955 club, which opened up a big lead in the first month of the season and then coasted home, was threatened several times with internal dissension. It was no secret that several of the Dodgers regarded Alston as something less than a genius even as late as last spring.

* * *

Roy Campanella objected because he was so low in the batting order. Jackie Robinson complained because he was not getting enough chance to play. Russ Meyer criticized his boss because he thought he wasn't being pitched often enough. Don Newcombe refused to pitch in batting practice and was suspended for one day. Even as late as the World Series, Don Zimmer spoke his mind about being taken out of the lineup after the first two games.

Harriers Add 35th Victory in Dual Tests

Chief Cross - Country Team Continues to Add to Amazing Record

By H. GUY MOATS

Pontiac High School's cross-country team yesterday afternoon slammed the 1st five places in a dual meet with Royal Oak HS harriers. Those top places, plus the 7th and 8th spots gave Coach Wally Schloerke's charge a 15-48 victory.

The 35th win is a record for any spot in Pontiac High School annals as far as close search of past efforts show. Observers are also of the opinion that the unbroken dual meet string is without parallel in Michigan for the fall sport. It certainly is the longest sustained victory run of any PHS sport.

In Tuesday's meet Perry Williams and Bill Douglas again finished in a 1st place dead heat. They clipped 10 seconds off last week's race at Wyandotte, with a 11:00 flat time. This sterling pair was in command all the way, over the two mile course at Beaudette park.

PHS Jayvee team also won from the Oak Juniors, 25-34, with Evans Webb of Royal Oak first and Hastings Martin of PHS second.

First (tie) Perry Williams, Bill Douglas; 3rd, Gene Cretal (PHS); 4th, Rod Treals (PHS); 5th Pete Cox (PHS); 6th, Jim Eilertsen (RO); 7th Alex Baege (PHS); 8th Don Evans (PHS); 9th, Fred Thompson (RO); 10th, Dave Edgerly (RO).

What is expected to be the toughest test of the season, so far, will be the dual with Flint Central next Tuesday. This is the first SVC run and will be held here.

Dog Retrieves Eggs

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Joe, a bird dog and a very tender-mouthed retriever, started going with Roger Spencer to the chicken house to feed the hens and gather the eggs. He soon caught on. Joe began to take eggs from nests and place them in a cotton-lined basket. Joe hasn't learned to feed the hens.

SAFETY FIRST—Bob Oberbrunner of Beloit models a new helmet which will be worn by more than 7,000 Wisconsin high school players. It is designed to reduce facial injuries.

Team Victory, Says Reese, 'but Did You See Podres'

By PEE WEE REESE
(Special to the Pontiac Press)

HEADQUARTERS OF THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONS —BROOKLYN—How about that Johnny Podres? What can I say? We did it—and the hard way and in their own back yard. I don't think anyone will evef again tell the Dodgers they are afraid of anybody.

We didn't outhit the Yankees as much as I figured we would, but the boys had what it took when it was needed.

All our hats are off to Johnny Podres. Anybody who holds the Yankees to two earned runs in 18 innings of World Series ball—well, you find the words.

But if you expect me to make sense right now, you're nuts. This gang and everybody in sight has gone crazy. We've been up against these guys five times before—this time we did it. Are we happy—and did you see Johnny Podres.

I wasn't the only Dodger crying a little in the last few minutes and not the only one thanking God for a prayer answered. You don't win the big one without big help.

Maybe we're happier because this was a team win. Podres, Snider, Amoros, Hodges, Campy, Furillo, Robby, Labine, Bessent, Craig—all the boys who played a lot, or an inning or two—all of 'em—and that Walt Alston—and that Podres. But the main thing is we did it.

Ann Arbor's Pioneers Top Schoolboys' Football Poll

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

For the 2nd successive week, Ann Arbor ranks as the No. 1 team in the Associated Press Class A high school football poll.

Pioneers, who own the fantastic record of 47 victories, one loss and two ties in the six-year regime of coach Hank Fonde, drew almost overwhelming support from the 19 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the balloting.

Ann Arbor was given 15 1st-place votes, compared to only three for runnerup Bay City Central and one for 3rd-place Battle Creek.

These are the same teams which ran 1-2-3 in last week's poll, but this time Ann Arbor's hold on 1st place is much more emphatic.

Rounding out the top ten are Saginaw (105), Benton Harbor (99), Grosse Pointe (56), Grand Rapids Catholic Central (54), Saginaw Arthur Hill (46), Wyandotte (32) and east Detroit (29).

Comprising the second ten are Hamtramck, Muskegon, Royal Oak and Flint Central; Jackson and Pontiac, Birmingham, Midland and Lincoln Park, Grand Rapids South, Alpena, Flint Northern and Ypsilanti.

None of the top ten teams meet head-on this week.

Viking Jayvees Win

Waterford JV's were downed by the Walled Lake JV's yesterday, 13-7 in the Skippers 1st football game of the season. Jerry Nelson scored for Waterford on a 25-yard pass and John Duncan and Don Proulx plunged over for the winner's two touchdowns.

The rabbit is the Upper Peninsula, with its face far to the west (Ironwood), its ears in Lake Superior (the Keweenaw Peninsula), its front feet touching Wisconsin and Lake Michigan (at Menominee) and its hind feet at Detour and St. Ignace.

Poetic Justice

Brooklyn's Gil Hodges Atones for '52 Series

NEW YORK (AP)—It was poetic justice.

Gil Hodges, the goat of the 1952 World Series when he went hitless in 21 times at bat, yesterday drove in the two runs that gave the Brooklyn Dodgers their 2-0 victory over the New York Yankees and their first world's championship.

* * *

"It's a wonderful feeling," the good-looking Dodger first baseman exclaimed during the Brooks' dressing room celebration. "I feel tongue-tied, but I must say the whole club deserves credit."

What a difference from three years ago. Then the Dodgers held a 3-2 edge and seemed a cinch to win as the series moved back to Ebbets Field for the last two games.

* * *

But the Yankees took the sixth game to even things at 3-3. In this game Hodges struck out three straight times and was lifted for pinch-hitter Rocky Nelson in the eighth. Nelson fanned, too.

Hodges felt pretty low after that game and he was determined to break his slump in the deciding seventh game.

* * *

Now back to 1955's deciding seventh game yesterday. It was also in the fourth inning that Hodges came up with Roy Campanella on third and two out. He lined to left field, too, but this time it went for a single, driving in Campanella for the Dodgers' first run.

Duck Hunting OK, Few Grouse

Many Hunters Turn Out for Opening of Season, Field Workers Report

LANSING (AP) — Conservation department field workers have reported on the success of duck and grouse hunters in the opening days of the season.

The department's conclusion: duck hunters had better than average luck while grouse hunters did not fare so well.

On the whole the department said, hunting pressure was heavier than usual. This was because the season opened on a Saturday and in the morning, instead of a weekday at noon as it did last year.

Pointe Mouille in southeastern Michigan reported 600 hunters bagged 1158 ducks Saturday and Sunday compared with 843 shot during the first two days of last year's season.

At St. Clair Flats the department said 655 hunters took 649 ducks.

Goose hunters in the Swan Creek area near Saginaw had poor success. Some 140 hunters bagged only five geese. Most of the good geese hunting comes later.

Conservation workers checked 274 hunters in the Rifle River area and reported that only 42 grouse were shot. Last year 191 hunters killed 37 grouse.

Soph Pair Leads Titan Title Bid

Billy Russell, 5-8 by 160, and Al Korpak, 5-9 by 165, are the speedy rookies who led Detroit's amazing 41-0 victory over defending champ Wichita last week.

Russell, nephew of Towler, scored three times to grab the conference scoring lead with 18 points. His two-game total of 121 yards rushing is second on a per-game basis to Harvey Romans, Oklahoma A & M, who has 150 in two.

Al Backus (141) and Dick Scholtz (135) of Tulsa both lead the Titans' Negro rookie in yardage, but have played three games. Korpak its 6th on a pre-game basis with 89 yards.

By the same method, Detroit's senior quarterback, Jim Lobkovitch, is on top in passing with 141 yards, all but 17 against Wichita. Dick Phillips of Tulsa (151) and Jack Conway of Wichita (137) are three-game men.

Johnny Podres to Get Hero's Welcome Home

Two Towns Whoop It Up in Saturday Night Celebration

WITHERBEE, N.Y. (AP) — This Adirondack Mountain hamlet is planning to whoop it up Saturday night for Johnny Podres, the home town boy who pitched the Brooklyn Dodgers to the world championship.

* * *

The twin hamlets of Witherbee and Mineville (pop. 2,384), an ironmining community, went wild with joy yesterday when lefthander Podres shut out the New York Yankees in the final game of the World Series.

* * *

The Witherbee and Mineville Chambers of Commerce promptly arranged the community celebration at Mineville High School, where Johnny was once a star pitcher. There will be dinner and speeches. Just about everyone in town will be there.

'I Think I Can Whip 'Em 7 Times Out of 8,' Says Johnny Podres After Victorious Effort

NEW YORK (AP)—Hero of the 1955 World Series is a brash, 23-year-old miner's son who holds Yankee baseball power and prestige in a disdain bordering on contempt.

"I think I can whip 'em seven times out of eight," Johnny Podres said yesterday after he had pitched the Brookyn Dodgers to a seventh-game 2-0 victory which brought Flatbush its first world championship.

It was Podres who stopped Casey Stengel's haughty New Yorkers in the third game, 8-3, after the Yankees had won the first two games. It was Podres who clinched the series yesterday with a crafty eight-hitter, cowing the big Yankee bats in the clutch.

* * *

"I never once doubted I could take 'em," the young lefthander from Witherbee, N. Y., said. "Sure I was in a tight spot once in a while. But all I had to do was bear down."

The Yankees left eight men on base as Podres whistled his fast ones past the ears of powerhouses Yogi Berra, Hank Bauer and Mickey Mantle, the latter in a pinch-hit role, and teased them curves and change-ups.

With two men on base in the eighth and only one out, Podres made Berra fly out to short right field and Bauer swing for a third strike on a bad pitch—high and outside.

* * *

If the odds were long that the Dodgers could come back after dropping the first two games and take the series—a feat no team ever accomplished in a seven-game set—they were even longer that the main part of the job could be turned in by the hard-luck southpaw who finished the season with a lack-lustre 9-10 mark.

* * *

Plagued by a chronic back ailment for years, he hadn't completed a pitching assignment from June 14 until the end of the campaign. He started 13 games in that span, was knocked to the showers in all.

Proudest man in Yankee Stadium after the clinching game was not young Podres but a leathery miner of iron ore from a small upstate village five miles from Lake Placid.

* * *

"I've always dreamed something like this would happen," said Joseph Podres, with Johnny's husky uncle beaming at his side. "I always wanted Johnny to be a champ—and he is."

Johnny looked over at his dad and smiled. "You were a little nervous out there, though, weren't you, dad?"

* * *

Young podres said just before the game he saw his father sitting in the stands and gave him an "everything-is-okay" sign.

Flanagan Faces Chavez Tonight

RICHMOND, Calif. (AP) — Eddie Chavez of San Jose, Calif., meets Glenn Flannagan a substitute from St. Paul, Minn., tonight in a 10-round lightweight bout which will be televised nationally.

Flanagan has lost only 14 of 100 bouts. He is appearing for Cisco Andrade, a Compton, Calif., boxer who suffered a throat infection.

Chavez has a record of 52 victories, 8 losses and 3 draws.

The bout will be carried by the American Broadcasting Co., starting at 6 p.m., Pacific Standard Time. (10 p.m., EDT).

Walk Pounds Out Second Win Over Jasper by TKO

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit heavyweight Eddie Lee Walker made it two in a row over Don Jasper of Duluth, Minn., last night, scoring a third-round TKO in a scheduled eight-round bout at Michigan State Fairgrounds Coliseum. Walker weighed 184 and Jasper 189¼.

An estimated crowd of 7,000 saw the pair battle on even terms until Walker opened a cut over the left eye of Don Jasper during a savage flurry early in the 3rd. Referee Johnny Weber stopped the fight at 2:10 of the 3rd when blood from the wound blinded Jasper.

It was the 3rd meeting between the two fighters. Jasper won their 1st encounter by a knockout.

In another scheduled eight-rounder, Yama Bahama, 151¼, classy Bimini wetlerweight, made short work of Gene Parker, 141, of Indianapolis, knocking him out after 31 seconds of the 2nd round. The victory was the 34th for Bahama in 40 professional starts.

Lightweight Eli Leggett, 137½, of Detroit, won a unanimous eight round decision over Dick Ramazetti, 133¼, Detroit, in the big upset of the evening. Ramazetti tired badly after going ahead on points in the early rounds.

Statistics on World Series

NEW YORK (AP)—Figuring the series:

Brooklyn's victory gave the National League two World Series winners in a row for the first time since 1934 when the St. Louis Cards dumped the Detroit Tigers on top of the Giants' conquest of the Washington Senators the previous season.

* * *

The Dodgers now have won 17 series games and lost 32 for a .347 percentage while the Yankees record is 74-38 for .661.

* * *

Johnny Podres' slick performance put him over the .500 mark for his year's work. He was 9-10 for the regular season. What's more important, of course, it put the Dodgers over the .500 mark for the series.

* * *

Yogi Berra wound up with the series' highest batting average among those who played in every game. The Yankee catcher collected 10 hits in 24 at bats for .417. Duke Snider paced the Dodger regulars with .320.

* * *

There were 19 double plays for a record and Sandy Amoros was the only participating outfielder. If he didn't have his hand (or glove) in the one yesterday, there's no telling what might have happened.

* * *

The pinch-hitters batted .308 in the series with four hits in 13 at bats. Eddie Robinson, Frank Kellert, Andy Carey and Bob Cerv hit safely. Cerv's blow was a homer.

* * *

Neither the Dodgers nor the Yankees scored in the ninth inning of any game. The Dodgers registered in every other frame, but the Yanks also missed the fifth.

* * *

Gil Hodges, who drove in Brooklyn's second run with a sacrifice fly yesterday, has taken lots of advantage of the "free" at bat since the regulation was put back on the books. Gil led the National League in sacrifice flies with 19 in 1954 and he had 10 last season.

* * *

Podres was the first pitcher to shut out the Yankees since July 6 when Jim Wilson of the Orioles blanked them, 4-0.

* * *

From first to last: Elston Howard, who drove in the Yankees' first two runs in the series with a homer in the opening game, made the last out, grounding to Pee Wee Reese.

Yank's Andy Carey to Wed Film Star

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Infielder Andy Carey of the New York Yankees and film actress Lucy Marlow will be married at Hollywood First Methodist Church tomorrow.

Dr. Ray Ragsdale, district superintendent of Methodist churches, will officiate. Best man will be James MacAleer, the bride's brother. Mrs. MacAleer will be matron of honor.

Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano is expected to attend.

Daugherty Eyes Reserve Talent to Aid 1st Team

Pat Burke May Play as Spartans Prepare for Stanford

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State's talent hunt for game material went late last night.

Daugherty is primarily concerned about the line—where the two starting guards and tackles had to work more than 56 minutes against Michigan.

The valiant middle of the line was tiring in the 4th quarter last Saturday. Coaches don't want the same thing to happen this Saturday against Stanford, a team good enough to whip Ohio State, the last Rose Bowl champ.

"I'm looking for men that are tough," Daugherty told his players as he ordered the scrimmage.

When the scouting team managed to hold the 2nd and 3rd stringers for a couple of plays, Daugherty ordered a swap of shirts. The would-be regulars, humiliated by the demotion, then reeled off some good yardage.

The varsity was spared from scrimmage but worked long and hard on everything but contact work. Tackle Pat Burke, the most seriously injured of the regulars, ran through some signal drill with the rest of the 1st eleven.

Team physician Dr. James Feurig said it now looks as Burke, slowed by a knee bruise will be able to play Saturday.

Last Sunday's Results

OL St. Mary 25, St. Michael 0.
St. Frederick 19, RO St. Mary 19 (tie).
St. Clement 26, St. Benedict 7.
St. James 20, St. Rita 12.

Out of the frying pan and into the fire.

That old expression might apply to St. Michael's football team, whose gridiron fortunes took a turn for the worse against St. Mary's high-flying Eaglets last Sunday and offer no encouragement for the approaching Sabbath.

Coach Bob Mineweaser's Shamrocks, thoroughly squelched by the Orchard Lake 11, find themselves facing the uneviable task of battling St. Clement Sunday afternoon at Center Line in the north siders' 1st game away from the friendly confines of Wisner Stadium.

Last Sunday's 25-0 lacing by St. Mary handed the Mikes' 1955 Suburban Catholic League title hopes a severe jolt and a victory over St. Clement is a "must" if Shamrocks are to entertain any further hopes.

Tom Zott's St. Clement squad, defending co-champion with St. Rita, rates a heavy nod to down the Mikes. Sparked by fullback Dick Daledine who led the league in scoring last year with 16 touchdowns and quarterback Bill Fortin, the Clements have chalked up easy SCL wins over St. Rita and St. Benedict.

St. Frederick's future outlook is no brighter than its neighbor. Rams, without a victory in their last 19 games, meet St. Benedict Sunday afternoon at Wisner Stadium.

Despite its poor showing against the Clements, the Highland Park team will be favored to extend St. Fred's winless skein. Gene Wright's Rams have fought two draws this season, giving them three ties during the "famine," while losing a 26-13 decision to St. Mike.

The St. Mary's Eaglets, currently sharing the league lead with St. Clement, have high hopes of winning their 1st SCL football crown.

Rev. John Rakoczy's club, undefeated in two starts, will continue its bid for the championship Sunday at Hazel Park against winless St. Rita.

Bags Doe With Bow

IONIA (AP)—R. G. Kirgis of Muir bagged a 144-pound doe Sunday, the first deer felled in the Ionia area as Michigan's deer and bear archery season opened.

Chicago Cubs, aided by their early season drive when they were in 2nd place, drew 875,800 home fans this year, an increase of 127,617 over their 1954 figure.

Red Wings' Brass High on New Defense Player

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP)—If the words of Jack Adams, Jimmy Skinner and Sugar Jim Henry mean anything, Toronto-born Warren Godfrey is in for a big year in his 1st season as a Detroit Red Wing.

Godfrey, recently acquired from the Boston Bruins in an off-season trade, ranks high in the books of Adams, Detroit general manager. "Warren could be one of the greatest defensemen in the National Hockey League," Adams said in an interview.

"He has fitted nicely into the Red Wing style of play working alongside Red Kelly, and he should improve considerably. The youngster has always been an outstanding hockey player."

Coach Jimmy Skinner goes even higher in his praise of the 24-year-old defenseman. "Godfrey could be an all-star defenseman this year. He definitely was one of the top performers the Bruins had last season and there is no reason why he shouldn't be equally effective with our club," Skinner said.

Suffolk Ready to Run

Jewelers Call First Cage Practice Session

First call for basketball activities among prospective city leaguers has been sent out. Manager Clint Plympton of Shaw's Jewelers today requested players to report for the 1st drill at 7 p.m. Thursday in Eastern Junior High school gymnasium.

Plympton succeeds Pat Glynn, for years the guiding figure in the Jewelers' affairs. Other activities are absorbing Pat's time, forcing him to give up his connection with the club.

Garland Towne, veteran of the cage wars over many years here, will serve as playing coach for the Jewelers, Plympton says.

Allie Reynolds is the last pitcher to hurl two World Series shutouts. He blanked Brooklyn 2-0 in 1952 and shut out Brooklyn 1-0 in the 1949 opener.

Robinson Hopes to Play Another Year for Brooks

NEW YORK (AP)—Jackie Robinson, generally recognized as baseball's greatest current competitor, said today he wants to play one more year with the Brooklyn Dodgers so he can realize his dream of rounding out a 10-year career in the major leagues.

* * *

The versatile veteran, still a dangerous batter and spectacular base runner despite the wear and tear of nearly 37 years, thinks he can be useful to the Dodgers for at least another year. He expects the Brooks to win the pennant again in 1956 and is anxious to play on another world championship club.

"I would love to play another year," Jackie said during a lull in the clubhouse celebration proceedings following the Dodgers' World Series triumph over the Yankees.

* * *

"It's up to the ball club, whatever they decide. If they want me, I'll play—but not for nothing.

"I feel that even though I didn't have one of my best years, I still have a little bit of good baseball left in me. As I said, I want to play provided they don't cut me to death. I am going to talk to Buzzie Bevasi (Dodger vice-president) tonight or tomorrow. I want to get this thing straightened out as soon as possible.

* * *

"The club may feel I have to take a big cut in salary. Fortunately I'm in a position where I don't have to accept a cut or rely on baseball. As much as I like baseball and as much as it's done for me, I can't see myself accepting a big salary slash."

Fall Training Classes Set Up

Obedience Sessions at Whitfield School Begin Thursday Night

A 10-week fall training course for dogs, conducted by the Southern Michigan Obedience Training Club, will begin Thursday at Whitfield School on Orchard Lake Avenue. Starting time is 8 p.m.

John Eicher will be in charge of the school, scheduled every Thursday night except Thanksgiving Day for the next 10 weeks. For further information, call Eicher at FE 2-4867.

Trophies and diplomas will be awarded to owners of the dogs upon completion of the course at graduation ceremonies. Another school is planned in the spring. To be eligible, dogs must be over six months old and they must be able to see and hear.

Pats Plentiful in North but Very Wild

By JACK PATTERSON

Opening of the grouse season found the constituents of Alcona County's Sleepy Hollow practically in plenary session. Members present were Bob Nelson, Bob Glenn, Ed Barrett, Chuck Rogers, Ross Thompson and ye old dish washer. For the benefit of the gin players we imported a mullet from Port Huron, one 'Chuck Barrett. Friday night we sat around feeling selfish because we hadn't invited our wives along. We did go so far, though, as to uncover some fresh bean straw in the hay barn so the dear girls would have a place to sleep in case they paid us a surprise visit.

PATERSON

Saturday morning we managed to miss four woodcock and one pat before breakfast, personally. As they day wore on we found birds reasonably plentiful, but flushing very wild, which formed the pattern for the next few days. A good all night rain to quiet the trash underfoot will improve shooting no end.

While we were all in the field a brace of pranksters from nearby Camp 24, Dave Edstrom and Dr. George Petroff, descended on the place, pulled the main fuses, locked the front door and generally had themselves a bully time.

Retaliation in force that night Edstrom failed when the quarry fled to the woods, where, for all we know, he may still be hiding.

At Lovells we ran into brothers Dick and Bob Patterson with whom we spent a profitless afternoon in tinder-dry cover after pats. There, as elsewhere, birds were fairly plentiful, but very wild. Encountered Ben Jerome at the same tea room and learned that he had made a successful float for the purpose of kidnapping down the Au Sable for a mixed bag of ducks and pats. Asked Ben why he didn't shoot on his own property and he said there were so many uninvted bow hunters there they wouldn't let him use his private road.

(Speaking of bow hunters, the after two-thirds of an arrow inexplicably sailed through our open car window while we were driving near Lovells).

At Hidden Valley Clarence Patterson and George Hodges found birds wild and not quite so plentiful as last year.

Duck hunters generally found good shooting. Houghton lake offered fair shooting in North Bay, very good shooting on the Middle Grounds. Wildfowl Bay averaged fair to very good. The flats, according to George Zimmerman and his brother Fred, who own most of St. Clair County and probably all of Canada, are hosting big flights right now.

40 Conservation Officers Engage in Field Training

LANSING — Forty recruit conservation officers started a long run of field and classroom training at Higgins Lake training school on Oct. 1.

The 40 will hike the Conservation Department's staff of field officers to 200.

About 500 men applied for the positions. The 40 recruits, selected from this group had to first pass Civil Service exams, then stiff Department physical, oral and character tests to win their school assignments.

The recruits will alternate classroom and field training for five months, and pass through a six-month probatinary period before taking their places as full officers. Included in class work is training in law, firearms, first aid, public relations, criminology and field method. In field training, the recruits will assist older officers and gain actual experience in conservation problems.

EAST LANSING—Michigan State end John (Big Thunder) Lewis in 1954 snared 10 passes for 338 yards and four touchdowns.

Tips for Gunners

Writer Says Potholes Hold Many Waterfowl

By MORT NEFF

With a full 70 days of duck hunting for Michigan this fall there may well be a record number of hunters in our marshes and on our lakes as the big flights skid down from the skies in their long journey south. The wiley ways of waterfowl are learned the hard way by veteran gunners through the years, but here and now a few tips for the beginner (and some whose luck has been running bad in the marsh) will not be amiss.

NEFF

This has been a fine year for "local" ducks to hatch in Michigan, and our resident population is at a peak. You'll find these ducks in pot holes scattered throughout the state—small bits of marsh or open water no more than a couple of acres in area.

If you "sneak" such a pond and find it well filled with ducks, resist the temptation to shoot, and instead scare them all out with a wave of your hat.

Sound silly? Not at all. They'll all be back in scattered twos and threes within an hour or two, and if you get yourself concealed in a good shooting spot you're sure to have your limit.

Duck hunters have all experienced unaccountable failure to hit a duck that's coming in low, straight at you over the top of the cat tails. It's one of the hardest of all shots, probably because of the relatively narrow target presented by a duck in this position.

Area Gridders Figure in Wheaton's Victory

Two-area gridders figured prominently in the activity of the Wheaton College football team last weekend, but for vastly different reasons.

Halfback Kirk Hobolth of Pontiac was promoted to the 2nd-string varsity after the Crusaders trampled Elmhurst, 78-3. Hobolth scored twice on a 17-yard run and a 58-yard pass and gained 39 yards in five attempts during the two quarters he played.

Bill Barr from Howell, outstanding frosh linebacker at the Illinois school, suffered a broken ankle in last Friday's "B" game and will be lost for the season.

Bogus Ticket Firemen Draw Six Month Terms

DETROIT — Former Detroit firemen Harold Goheen, 30, and Robert A. Reynolds, 29, yesterday drew six-month jail terms for the sale of counterfeit firemen's field day tickets.

Both resigned from the force and pleaded guilty to conspiracy to cheat and defraud. They admitted having 1,995 bogus tickets printed in Chicago.

HUNTING

Every member of the Auto Club who is injured by firearms while hunting in the field is protected with valuable benefits within the limits of the huge group accident insurance policy that automatically covers all members. $1,000 in a fatality; $1,000 for losing two eyes, arms, hands, feet; $600 for losing an eye and limb; $400 for losing one arm, hand, leg, foot; $250 for losing one eye. And there are hospital benefits, too.

If you are a-goin' hunting, joining the Automobile Club of Michigan before you go is about as important as your gun. Prudent huntsmen are joining by the hundreds.

Chiefs Stand Pat on Starters for Wolves

By H. GUY MOATS

After last week's fine all-around performance of both offense and defensive crews, against Ferndale, Pontiac High School's football Chiefs will "stand pat" Friday night at Bay City.

"As far as I know right now," said Ed Graybeil, Chiefs' coach, "there will be no changes, except perhaps one in each of two categories for Friday's Valley opener."

"We will probably use the same type of defense against Bay City as was used against Ferndale. We may move one lineman and one back, but right now there aren't any other moves in sight."

Chiefs wind up hard work today. Yesterday's contact gives way to brushing-up work today and Thursday.

There are no new injuries to plague the coaches this week. However, it is improbable, Graybiel says, that little Kennie Fusilier or speedy Jimmy Shorter will see much, if any, service at Bay City. Both have ankle injuries, sustained more than a week ago.

Studying reports of scouts who have observed the Wolves in action in several games, the PHS mentor pointed out today that there are five important things the Chiefs will have to accomplish, to stop the state's No. 2 rated prep eleven.

No. 1—Stop Namon Smith up the middle.

No. 2—Stop Smith on off-tackle drives.

No. 3—Stop Smith around the ends.

No. 4—Stop Chesney (Wolves' quarterback) on rollout plays.

No. 5—Stop Chesney's rollout passes.

"If we can perform these 'stop' chores, we'll come home with a vitory," Graybiel commented.

Pontiac fans still remember the way little Namon Smith (140 pound Wolf fullback) barrelled through the Chiefs midsection in last year's game, played at Wisner Stadium, in rain and mud. Wolves won that one 32-60. Chiefs are quietly confident that sort of thing isn't going to happen this time.

Trophy No One Wants at Stake Friday Night

Most high schools want to add to their trophy cases, but out at Clarenceville this week, Nick Ianni's Wayne-Oakland gridders hope to get rid of one of their exhibits—a large vinegar barrel.

The barrel is symbolic of the traditional meeting of Clarenceville Trojans and Northville Mustangs and is presented to the losing eleven.

For the last two years, Clarenceville has been sheepishly displaying the trophy, having lost both years in the last two quarters after holding a half-time lead.

This year Nick hopes things will be different. Clarenceville will enter the night game with the best overall record to date. Trojans are unscored upon and have three wins including one league victory over Milford, 26-0 in the 2nd week.

An added incentive for a victory will be the Trojan dedication of their new lighted football field with a bleacher seating capacity of 2,000.

The Milford contest was Northville's 1st league win (20-7) against two earlier losses to non-league schools.

In another W-O contest Friday, top-ranked Clarkston, holding two league wins to date, will host the Redskins of Milford who are striving for their 1st loop victory after two setbacks.

Presidents of West Bloomfield will travel to Holly seeking their 1st touchdown and victory after giving up 109 points to the opposition in three games.

In the only inter-sectional clash in the league, Brighton will invade Grosse Ile and attempt to better its 1-1 league record.

Plan to Restock Lakes Proposed

Canadian Will Outline Idea for Commercial Fishing Benefit

LANSING (AP) — A Canadian lawmaker has proposed that the United States and Canada agree on a plan for restocking the Great Lakes for commercial fishing.

Rep. Herb Clements (R-Deckerville), chairman of a legislative committee studying the Great Lakes fishing problem, said J. W. Murphy, member of the Canadian parliament, would outline the plan at a meeting of the committee Oct. 13 in Traverse City.

Canada now has three hatcheries in operation supplying fish to the Great Lakes, while Michigan has none.

Commercial fishing in lakes Huron and Michigan was virtually wiped out by the sea lamprey, an eel-like creature that preys on lake trout and whitefish, the committee said.

Clements said the committee would "undoubtedly" recommend opening of three Michigan hatcheries shut down after the demise of commercial fishing.

The legislator is at odds with the conservation department over the matter. The department maintains no hatcheries should be reopened until the lamprey problem is solved.

DIVING GAIN — Halfback Walt Kowalczyk of Michigan State is at top of heap as he dived over the Michigan line to carry the ball to the Michigan five-yard line in third quarter for two-yard gain in Saturday's game at Ann Arbor. Michigan player making the leg tackle on Kowalczyk is Michigan guard Ed Meade (76) of Oxford. Michigan won, 14-7.

Hayward Leads Eastern 11 to Victory Over Warriors

Paced by the running and passing of Bill Hayward, Eastern Junior High's football team outclassed Jefferson, 18-6, in a Pontiac Junior High League game Tuesday afternoon at Wisner Stadium. It was the opening contest of the season for both schools.

Hayward had a hand in all three of the winner's touchdowns, running for two and passing for another. He sprinted six yards for Eastern's 1st touchdown in the 1st quarter and tallied the final TD in the 4th period on a seven-yard sweep.

In the 2nd quarter Hayward executed a 12-yard pass to halfback Gene Gidcumb to account for Eastern's other six-pointer. All three conversion attempts failed.

Jefferson's Warriors scored their lone touchdown in the 3rd period on a 55-yard gallop by Larry Douglas. Attempted place kick for the extra point was blocked.

Allwood Stable Buys Gray Colt

Scotland's Star Money Brings Top-Sale Price for Walnut Hall

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Star Money, a gray colt by Scotland, brought $32,000 last night as Walnut Hall Farm sold 43 head for an average of $4,584 at the Tattersalls sale of standard-bred yearlings.

A total of 47 head sold last night for $203,900, bringing the over-all sales total to $602,500 for 185 head, an average of $3,205. With two more nightly sessions, it appeared possible the record sales average of $3,163 set in 1952 might be topped.

Series Notes

NEW YORK (AP)—"Well," sighed Phil Rizzuto, the New York Yankee shortstop today, "it was a long series.

"And do you know who was the most troublesome guy to the Yanks all through these series? Pee Wee Reese."

* * *

This was the first series Rizzuto had lost and it made the deepest impression on him.

"Reese is always dangerous at the bat although he doesn't have a real high average," said Little Phil, "but what he can do to you in the field is murder. He literally is the man to beat.

"He hits when you can't stand it and he walks and he steals. Neither Roy Campanella nor Jackie Robinson had a good series against us. And Duke Snider never has been their sparkplug although he was their power the last two series."

* * *

The Yanks lost the series, but their methods probably will have a distinct bearing on the way Brooklyn's National League opponents handle Walt Alston's operatives next season.

The three games the Yanks won were pitched by lefthanders.

Don Newcombe, the Brook ace during the season, with 20 victories, will find out at the end of this week if his arm is as bad as he thinks. He opens a barnstorming tour in Louisville.

* * *

Alston got completely soured on Newcombe after Don was combed by the Yanks in the first game of the series and didn't even make an attempt to use him thereafter.

This series will go down as the hospital classic. The entire regular Yank outfield of Irv Noren, Mickey Mantle and Hank Bauer was crippled. Only two at a time were out, however. Moose Skowron and Gil McDougald also nursed hurts, while on the other side of the fence, Snider wrenched his knee and Robinson's Achilles tendon acted up.

* * *

The two trainers, Doc Wendler of the Brooks, and Gus Mauch of the Yanks worked overtime.

If Stengel is worried about being fired as he said, he should forget it.

"He'll be back," said Co-Owner Dan Topping. "I haven't talked to him about it, but he'll be OK."

Longhorns Hope to Stop Sooner 21-Game Streak

Texas' Clements Ready in Hopes of Upsetting Oklahoma Team

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Joe Clements, Texas' passing sensation, is ready to go and the Longhorns will journey to Dallas Saturday with the idea of stomping the longest winning streak in college football—that great 21 straight owned by Okahoma.

* * *

Clements, knocked cold early in last week's game with Southern California, has fully recovered and the Sooners may expect a shower of passes to remind them of a fellow who once set them on their ears—Bobby Layne.

Coach Ed Price of Texas said he thought his Longhorns had a chance of winning the game and that his players, full of spirit and the fire of conquest despite the fact that they have lost two games out of three thus far, were going to Dallas expecting to win.

There's one thing certain: Texas will have one of the best-conditioned teams and it'll be as tough in the last half as the first.

Price said his scouts found that Oklahoma was a "typical OU ball club—a strong running team that can throw, too, if necessary." They found Tommy McDonald, the halfback who ran for two touchdowns and set up another against Pittsburgh last week, to be outstanding; quarterback Jimmy Harris and halfback Bob Burris to be most capable, and the Oklahoma line powerful.

Clements, a lanky youngster who reminds some of Sam Baugh, the famed passer of Texas Christian 20 years ago, threw 30 and completed 22 for 299 yards in his first two games. It gave him the national leadership in total offense but he lost it last week when he was able to try only one pass against Southern California.

* * *

Back when Texas was beating Oklahoma so often there was agitation for moving the game from Dallas to a home-and-home basis. Bobby Layne was the scourge of all Sooners. The year Layne finished up—1947—was the last time for Texas to beat Oklahoma except in 1951.

The two teams have been meeting on the gridiron since 1900 and in the 55-period have played 49 games with Texas winning 30, Oklahoma 17 and two ending in ties.

Bennie Impressed by Army Club's Power

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan coach Bennie Oosterbaan, his mind filled with visions of Army's flashing backs and his own injured players, drew a gloomy picture last night of his Wolverines, now 2nd ranked in the nation, and he was almost convincing.

Oosterbaan tolled off a long list of his injured players for the Michigan chapter of the Football Writers Assn.—and he was doubtful whether some of them would be ready for Saturday's non-conference battle against Army.

Michigan never has beaten Army. The Black Knights are the only team to hold a victory edge over the Wolverines, having trimmed them five times.

Assistant end coach Bob Hollway, who scouted Army's impressive victories over Furman and Penn State, said, "their organization is better than last year and they're farther ahead in all phases of the game, offensively and defensively."

Hollway said that Army has "a quick line that rolled Penn State right off the field . . . in fact, I'd say Army was as quick as Michigan State if not quicker."

Army's converted end Don Holleder, now 1st string quarterback, Hollway said, has made the switch "as well as you'd expect anyone to do it. He can run and he's a fine passer. He's already made two touchdown passes."

Commenting on Holleder's ball handling ability in the Army "belly" series, Hollway said, "He rides the ball in there as well as last year's quarterback Vann did—and you know how good Vann was."

"End Charlie Brooks has a Charley horse . . .

"End Tom Maentz is recovering, but we won't know until he sees the doctor Thursday whether he'll be able to play."

Don Liebendorfer, an advance spokesman for the Stanford team which upset Ohio State last Saturday and takes on Michigan State this Saturday at East Lansing, ran down his team's personnel for the sports writers.

Zeigler Joins Army Backfield in Time for 'M'

Request for Amnesty by Belgium's Albert Gets Cadet Off Hook

Zeigler will be making his first appearance of the season in the game against the Wolverines after sitting out the first two games because of disciplinary punishment.

Ironically, it was the Navy Department which invited Prince Albert to this country. Navy, of course, is the reigning champ of Eastern collegiate football and Army's prime target.

There was no announcement concerning the reason for the disciplinary action against Zeigler, but it was a heavy blow to Coach Earl (Red) Blaik's forces. Subsequent injuries jarred the Cadet backfield even more — although Army still managed to "limp" through its first two games.

The Cadets, ranked No. 6 in this week's Associated Press poll, beat Furman 81-0 and Penn State 35-6.

Uebel, a 6-foot, 197-pounder from Bellevue, Ky., now can concentrate on the fullback job with the return of Zeigler and the injured Bob Kyasky and Dick Murtland, Both Kyasky 5-11 and 180 pounds from Ansonia, Conn., and Myrtland, his 5-10, 182-pound replacement from Greensburg, Pa., saw action in Saturday's Penn State game.

* * *

Zeigler, Uebel and Kyasky were in the big three in Blaik's running chance to operate as a unit Saturday at Ann Arbor, Mich.

A year ago, when the Cadets upset Michigan 26-7, Zeigler and Uebel both powered to touchdowns.

Bowling Clinic

By BILLY SIXTY

THE BOARD METHOD—There are two ways to deliver the ball: Picking a target board 12 to 15 feet beyond the foul line, which is called line bowling; or releasing the ball on a spot (spot bowling) just over the line. One is as effective as the other, experts prove, and which one to adopt must be determined in practice.

For beginners I recommend the board method because it lends itself more readily to follow-through. For that reason I use it in teaching. Finishing the swing smoothly, reaching out at the line, brings control. Try it. Pick a board well down the alley and reach out to roll the ball over it, without attempting to apply hook spin.

Accuracy comes first; stuff on the ball, later. Important: Go into stride with a very slow first step, always, and you'll soon have coordination of footwork and ball swing.

Pre-Game Show to Feature 24 School Bands

EAST LANSING (AP) — Anyone who gets to the Michigan State University Stadium 1½ hours before the Stanford game Saturday can see 24 Michigan high school bands perform.

Led by the MSU band, the massed outfits will present huge field demonstrations at halftime and play the music of their guest conductor, Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman.

The university said about 1,800 high school musicians are expected to respond to the baton of Dr. Goldman.

Florida Dentist Sips Coffee for Tenth Day

TAMPA, Fla. (AP)—Dr. Michael J. Piese, 67, sipped coffee and soft drinks today but shunned food for the 10th day of his jail sentence imposed for not complying with a court order to pay alimony to his 36-year-old divorced wife.

The retired dentist vowed he wouldn't touch food for 30 days. He argues his ex-wife married him just to gain entrance to this country from Yugoslavia and should not have been granted a divorce.

Former British Minister Remains on Critical List

NEW YORK (AP)—Hector McNeil, minister of state in the postwar British Labor government, remained on the critical list at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center today and the outlook was pronounced "very grave."

McNeil, 48, suffered a stroke on board the Queen Mary Monday and was taken to the hospital in an ambulance when the liner docked yesterday.

Start Plans for Waterford Police Department Building

To Be Located at Town Hall

Board Requests Draft of Specifications at Monday Meeting

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — Plans and specifications for a Waterford Township police station, garage and storage building are being drawn up by Johnson and Anderson, Engineers.

The proposed building will be located on town hall property at Crescent Lake Road and M-59.

Board also passed a resolution that all water storage tanks must be enclosed and protected with asphalt base aluminum paint. This housing must meet with board approval, it was pointed out.

Supervisor Floyd Anderson announced that sewer petitions for Donelson Park and Edgefield Drive have been approved for the engineers' survey.

Also at the Monday meeting, Waterford Township Civic Music Assn. was granted permission to park a trailer on township hall property, Oct. 14-29, to be used at the time for office space.

Imlay City Pair Will Celebrate Golden Wedding

IMLAY CITY — Mr. and Mrs. Chauncey Baer of Imlay City will observe their fiftieth wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter, Mrs. Donald Winslow, 2275 Brown City Rd., from 1 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Baer were born in Lynn Township and have lived in the community since their marriage, except for a short time in Flint and Lapeer.

They have two daughters, Mrs. Winslow and Mrs. Ruth Bennett of Flint; three sons, Lawrence, Harold and Richard, all of Flint, and seven grandchildren.

Oak Park Continues to Favor Ordinances

OAK PARK — City council decided at Monday's meeting to continue the struggle in favor of an ordinance recently adopted, of a midnight-to-6 a.m. gasoline station curfew and against multiple dwellings.

Oak Park has been stopped temporarily from shutting down filling stations, during the six-hour nightly period, by the Oakland County Circuit Court, pending an Oct. 17 (show cause) hearing on a restraining order brought by the Citron-Kolb Oil Co.

Residents voted, three to one last fall, to outlaw all apartment house zoning in the city and rezone the land to single family use.

However, last week four property owners won an appeal in Oakland County Circuit court to reimpose the multiple zoning law.

Troy Dads Group to Hold Plastic Party Thursday

TROY TOWNSHIP — With fall house cleaning in the offing and Christmas just around the corner, the Troy Dad's Auxilliary is having a Plastic Party at the Troy High School 7:30 p.m. Thursday. Persons too busy to attend may call MU 9-2129 to place orders.

Thursday Meeting Set for Southfield Optimists

SOUTHFIELD — The Southfield Optimist Club will meet at 6:30 p.m. Thursday at Fruitridge Inn.

Clarence "Pop" Blanchard, boys' counselor of Redford High School will speak on the subject "Playing Dad to Someone Else's Boy."

Clarkston to Accept Bids on Bus Fleet Insurance

CLARKSTON—Clarkston Community School is accepting bids at 8 p.m. Monday on school bus fleet insurance. Interested bidders can get detailed information by calling MA 5-7811 or the Board of Education Office, 6495 Waldon Rd.

Southfield Feels Drought

Township Hopes for Rain as Wells Start Fall Dryup

By JOHN R. CLOCK

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP — Southfield Township is faced with a water shortage that can only be solved by a "good, long, soaking rain," according to Leonard Lamb, township water superintendent.

Approximately half of the township's 30,000 persons depend on wells for their water, Lamb said. "And every day more of them are running dry."

"There have been fall water shortages before," he added, "but this seems to be even worse than the 1952 drought." He blamed it on the unusually hot summer, coupled with a dearth of rainfall in the past few weeks.

The last rain the township had was a light drizzle Sept. 29 that did little more than lay the dust.

WATCH TOWNSHIP WELLS

Lamb said the township is keeping its fingers crossed that the two surface wells at the fire station on Nine Mile road just west of Telegraph road and the deep well at the fire station on Thirteen Mile road, west of Southfield road, can weather the drought.

"So far they have held up just fine," he said.

* * *

Mr. and Mrs. William Olsen, 23811 Hunters Lane, parents of a baby girl still in diapers, are one of many couples who are keeping an eye peeled for rain clouds.

Mrs. Olsen, who says she hasn't been able to do a "decent wash" since her well started pumping mud last week, claims the family would have to move out if friends on the next street didn't keep them supplied with Detroit water. Approximately half the homes in the township are hooked up with the Detroit system.

Some residents, faced with the same problem, are drilling their water points deeper into the ground—without much success.

* * *

Runaway Truck Hits Train; 4 Die

Lumber Carrier Roars Down Pennsylvania Hill, Rams Moving Freight

WEST NEWTON, Pa. (AP)—A runaway lumber truck, horn blowing frantically, roared half a mile down a steep hill and smashed into a moving train yesterday.

Nine freight cars were flung from the Baltimore and Ohio tracks. They crushed the truck like a tin can and demolished two buildings.

* * *

The truck driver, Claude Brandt, 31, Warrenton, N.C., and four other people were killed.

* * *

Dead were Jacob Casale, 50, owner of the fruit store; Sheryl Ross, 6, daughter of a West Newton restaurant proprietor; Sheryl's grandmother, Mrs. Dora Whiteman, about 70, of Industry, Pa.; and Mrs. Martha C. McConnell, 70, West Newton.

* * *

Mrs. William Ross, mother of Sheryl, suffered a broken back and fractured pelvis. Emily Peternel suffered minor injuries.

Engineer William McManus, Connellsville, Pa., said he saw the speeding truck "but there was nothing I could do."

Lloyd Mauk, a civil defense auxiliary policeman, said he heard the truck horn wailing.

"After the truck hit the train all I saw was lumber flying," he related. "Then there was a big cloud of dust. I jumped down and went over to help."

* * *

There were few people on the street of this community of 3,800, about 35 miles southeast of Pittsburgh, when the crash occurred. One businessman said:

"It was terrible but it would have been worse except for the World Series. Most everyone was indoors looking at television or listening to the radio."

* * *

Two railroad wrecking crews worked through the night to clear the B&O's main east-west route between Cumberland, Md., and Pittsburgh.

* * *

Meanwhile, several investigations were launched to determine the cause of the wreck. One official said he believed the truck brakes had failed.

Utensil Left on Stove Causes $1,500 Fire

The Rochester Fire Department, called yesterday at 5:09 p.m., found that intense heat from the range had melted the kettle and charred a nearby door and shelves, causing volumes of smoke.

Mrs. Rodeny had left her home for a short time, and a neighbor, Mrs. Wayne Mickelson, turned in the alarm when playing children discovered the smoke.

Annual YMCA Party to Be Next Friday

"Memberama," the annual YMCA youth department party, will be held from 7 to 9 p. m. Oct. 14 for all boys and girls with paid memberships in the Y.

Featured at the free party, will be movies, cartoons, and favors. Ice cream and cookies will be served to the approximately 200 children expected to attend.

Bingham Farms Accepts Charter in 99-0 Vote

BINGHAM FARMS—The three-and-three-quarter-square mile community which seceded from Southfield Township last June, voted unanimously, 99-0 in approval of their new charter, yesterday.

The village, which had 150 registered voters, hopes later to merge with Franklin, according to spokesmen.

NAME STATE DAIRY QUEEN — Joanne Barrett, graduate of the McAuley School of Practical Nursing and just beginning her practical experience at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, is Michigan's "Queen of Dairying." As queen, Joanne will whirl in an almost continuous schedule of parties and public appearances from Saturday, Oct. 8, through Oct. 15. Here, she is pictured at the hospital with (from left) Joan Pametta, Hazel Robinson, Carol Parker and Elizabeth Tarantin.

Pontiac City Affairs

Report on Parts License, Drain Hearing Postponed

Although two key city officials were away attending conferences, the City Commission sailed through its 29-point agenda with ease last night.

William L. Collins, personnel director, filled the chair of City Manager Walter K. Willman at the commission table. And James N. Carlisle, assistant city engineer, occupied City Engineer Lewis M. Wrenn's seat.

Only two matters were postponed by the officials' absence. Deferred until Oct. 13, the next meeting date, was a report from Willman on a used auto parts license for a South Saginaw street firm.

Postponed to the same night was a public hearing on intention to construct storm drains in the block bounded by Glendale, Genesee, Menominee and Telegraph road. Wrenn's advice was needed, the Commission deemed.

Sent to the City Plan Commission was a petition for removal of sale restrictions on land on Orchard Lake avenue between E. Iroquois and Ottawa. Also referred to that board was a proposal to rezone land on Walton boulevard near Highwood for the use of two haulaway firms.

An ordinance was adopted rezoning to commercial 1 classification property at Oakland avenue and Kinney road. A public hearing was held on vacating Court Drive, but action was deferred on the vacation until land deeds are received.

Bids were accepted for three public improvement projects, including the installation of storm sewers in Lakeside subdivision and assessor's plat 101, scheduled for completion by Jan. 1.

Also accepted were quit claim deeds for outlets in Herrington Hills subdivision.

The engineering department was authorized to prepare cost estimates for curb, gutter, drainage and blacktop on East Princeton avenue from Baldwin to University.

Authorization was given the city assessor to prepare a special assessment roll for a water main in Highland avenue from Ditmar to Fern, and in Fern street from Harvey to Highland.

Other hearings were set for the same date following acceptance of special assessment rolls. They are:

Curb, gutter and drainage on Virginia avenue from Baldwin to Saginaw; Luther street from Franklin to Howland; Motor street from Rapid to Alton and Motor street from Pearsall to Fildew.

Willman is attending the International City Managers Assn. meeting in New Hampshire, while Wrenn and Joseph B. Jewell, DPW superintendent, are at the American Public Works Assn. conference in Milwaukee.

The Commission postponed the meeting regularly scheduled for next Tuesday until Thursday night to enable Willman to attend. He is slated to return to the city on the 13th.

Innocent Plea Given on Bad Check Charge

Albert Stockwell, 31, pleaded not guilty to a charge of uttering and publishing before Waterford Township Justice Willis D. Lefurgy on arraignment Monday, and is being held in Oakland County Jail under $2,500 bond pending examination Oct. 10.

A warrent was issued on the charge a year ago, after he allegedly cashed an $86 worthless check in Waterford Township. He was arrested in downtown Pontiac by Detective James LaPonsie, after a tip alerted police that he had returned to the area.

Country districts in South Africa face a shortage of midwives, Pretoria reports. That is because midwives can live wherever they want to, and most of them prefer cities.

Oak Park Population Is Up 500 Per Cent

OAK PARK—One of the fastest growing communities in the United States has just finished taking a special census and finds an increase in population of over 500 per cent since 1950.

Population in Oak Park was 5,267 in 1950. It is now 28,138 as of August, 1955.

Garden Club at Waterford to Hear Talk

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—The finer points of chrysanthemum culture will be presented by John T. Cochran, of Rochester, at the meeting of the Waterford Branch of the National Farm and Garden Association, Thursday. Mr. Cochran is third vice-president of the Men's National Garden Club.

The meeting begins at 1 p. m. and will be held in the home of Mrs. Eugene Cleland, with Mrs. Charles Harrison and Mrs. Leonard Coates assisting the hostess.

4 Candidates to Vie for Seats on Council

Four candidates will vie for two seats on the Sylvan Lake City Council at the Nov. 8 election, City Clerk Marjorie Willson said today.

Incumbent Robert Evans, who rounding out his first term, is seeking to keep his seat on the 5-man body. He lives at 1786 Lakeland.

Other candidates are Robert Menees, of 1535 Maplewood; Willard McRae, of 1668 Inverness, and Allan Cady, of 1729 Beverly. Both terms are for three years.

Not seeking re-election is Howard Wideman, who has served on the Sylvan Lake governing body 10 years. He first served on the village board and was one of the first councilman elected when the community became a city in 1947.

Supervisor to Speak

TROY TOWNSHIP — Norman Barnard, supervisor of Troy Township, will be guest speaker at the Troy Study Club when it meets with Mrs. Ernest Gray, 6300 Livernois, Thursday. Barnard's topic will be "City Government."

Hunters' Ball to Be Oct. 20

Marlette Philomatheans to Sponsor Traditional Benefit Event

MARLETTE — Plans for the Hunter's Ball, Oct. 20, sponsored by the Philomathean Club were announced recently by Mrs. Robert Willis, general chairman.

The ball, an affair attended by both local citizenry and visiting hunters, is traditionally one of the community highlights of the fall season.

Following last year's pattern, both boys and girls may compete in the Royalty Contest, as a king and a queen will be chosen to reign over the ball. Votes are obtained by the sale of tickets to the ball.

Tickets are on sale this week. Boys and girls 16 years of age or over who would like to enter the contest may contact Mrs. James Sheridan or Mrs. Robert Rudd.

Dublin School to Close Friday for Special Meet

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP — There will be no school at Dublin on Friday afternoon, according to an announcement by School Supt. William H. Vander Ven. Teachers will hold a workshop with personnel from the Special Education Department of Oakland County.

* * *

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP—Crescent Lake Country Club Park Assn. recently elected officers. They are president, Elden Johnson; vice president, Paul Simmons; secretary, Mary Lou Heading; treasurer, Leonard Heading; three-year trustee, Thomas Salisbury.

Junior Size Policemen Make Tots Toe Line

DETROIT (AP) — A lot of folk stopped to take a second look at some of the policemen walking beats in suburban Harper Woods this summer. The cops were aged 10 to 15 years.

Harper Woods swore in a Junior Police Force of 28, pledged to "uphold the laws of safety" and to "act in a manner befitting our titles." They were equipped with silver badges and books of tickets.

The tickets were used to notify police and parents of traffic violations by other youngsters and placed on cars which ignored the suburb's campaign against parking on residential streets.

Hollywood Headlines

Rita Moreno Will Portray Slave Girl in 'King and I'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — The very best role that Rita Moreno has ever had in the part originally assigned to Dorothy Dandridge in "The King and I." It's the second femme lead to Deborah Kerr's.

Rita plays Tuptin, the Siamese slave girl who defies the king and leaves the palace to marry a rickshaw boy. This precipitates all the drama between Deborah and Yul Brynner, as the king.

When I asked why the little Moreno girl was chosen I was told that her tests impressed director Walter Lang so much that he gave her this characterization which should do so much for her career.

Opposite Rita, when she sings the lovely "We Kiss in the Shadow" and the love duet, there is a handsome new boy, Carlos Rivas, whom producer Charles Brackett believes will make the girls' hearts go pita-pat.

POPULAR BETTE

If Bette Davis wants to run for mayor of Santa Rosa, Calif., she could probably get the job, with little opposition.

And the other members of the "Storm Center" cast now on location for Columbia have got themselves in so right with the townspeople that there's nothing but favorable comment on all sides.

Sunday they're having a community get-together with Bette as official hostess. Perc Westmore will lecture on makeup, using Kim Novak, also in the cast, as his subject.

Kalamazoo Spurs Vote Registrations

KALAMAZOO -(AP)- A voting exhibit and registration drive will be held in Bronson Park today in an effort to register new voters.

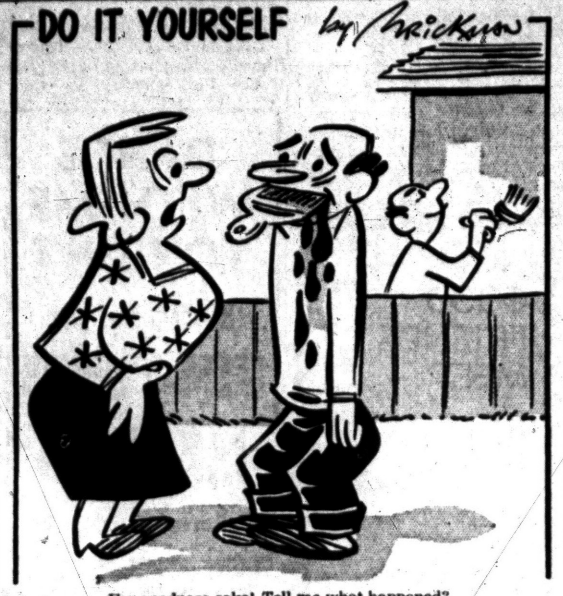

The Junior Chamber of Commerce and League of Women Voters have set up a voting machine to tally the opinion of new registrants on four questions:

1. Should 18-year-olds be allowed to vote?
2. Should voting machines be used?
3. Should the county build a recreation center?
4. Should a registration drive be held before every election?

The first mulberry tree in the United States, imported from France, was planted in New York City in 1826.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, management, circulation, etc., required by the Act of Congress August 24, 1912 of the Pontiac Press, published daily except Sunday and Christmas, at Pontiac, Michigan for October 1, 1955.

State of Michigan, County of Oakland, ss.

Before me, a notary public in and for the State and County aforesaid, personally appeared Harold A. Fitzgerald, who having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Publisher of the Pontiac Press and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation) etc. of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by that Act of August 24, 1942, embodied in section 411, Postal Laws and Regulations: printed on the reverse of this form to wit:

2. That the owner is: (If owned by a corporation its name and address must be stated, and also immediately thereunder the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding one per cent or more of total amount, the names and addresses of the individual owners must be given. If owned by a firm, company or other unincorporated concern, its name and address, as well as those of each individual member must be given.)

Harold A. Fitzgerald, Estate of Harry Y. Fitzgerald, George H. Gardner Trusts, John W. Fitzgerald and Howard H. Fitzgerald II, all of 48 W. Huron Street, Pontiac, Michigan; Mrs. Sanford P. Wilcox, Grand Rapids, Mich., Mrs. H. H. Fitzgerald, Trust, William R. Fitzgerald, Fontana, Calif.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders, owning, or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages or other securities are: (If there are none, so state.)

No bonds, no securities, no mortgages.

4. That the two paragraphs next above giving the names of the owners, stockholders and securities holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustees or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies each issue of this publication sold or distributed, through the mails or otherwise to paid subscribers during the 12 months preceding the date shown above is 54,321.

HAROLD A. FITZGERALD.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 3rd day of October 1955.

(Seal) LILLIAN HOARD.

(My Commission expires June 16, 1959.)

STATE OF MICHIGAN—In the Probate Court for the County of Oakland, Juvenile Division.

In the matter of the petition concerning Wayne, Grant, Robert and Martha Diehl, minors. Cause No. 14140.

To Daniel Diehl, father of said children.

Petition having been filed in this Court alleging that the present whereabouts of the father of said minor children is unknown and the said children are dependent upon the public for support, and that said children should be placed under the jurisdiction of this Court.

In the name of the people of the State of Michigan, you are hereby notified that the hearing on said petition will be held at the Court House in the City of Pontiac in said County, on the 18th day of October A.D. 1955, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, and you are hereby commanded to appear personally at said hearing.

It being impractical to make personal service hereof, this summons and notice shall be served by publication of a copy one week previous to said hearing in the Pontiac Press, a newspaper printed and circulated in said County.

Witness, the honorable Arthur E. Moore, Judge of said Court, in the City of Pontiac in said County, this 3rd day of October A.D. 1955.

NOTICE TO ROAD BUILDING CONTRACTORS

Sealed proposals marked "Proposals for the Earth Grading of and Road Gravel on Lone Pine Road west of Orchard Ridge Road" will be received in the office of the City Clerk, East Long Lake Road, City of Bloomfield Hills, Michigan until 7:30 p.m. o'clock E.S.T., October 11, 1955. Plans and specifications may be examined and obtained for bidding purposes at the Bloomfield Hills City offices. Copies may also be obtained at the offices of Max Engineers, 355 Henrietta Street, Birmingham, Michigan.

The contract will require the preparation of new subgrade and base course; the removal of approximately 2,400 cu. yds. of earth excavation; 330 lin. ft. of 24 ft. wide gravel road with 6" compacted gravel. Also all work incidental thereto.

A labor and material bond in the amount of 100% of the contract price to the people of the State of Michigan and a bond in the amount of 100% of the contract price to guarantee faithful performance of the work will be required of the successful bidder.

A bidder's bond or a certified check in the amount of 5% of the bid must accompany the proposal.

The right is herewith reserved for the City Commission to accept or reject any or all bids and to waive any irregularities or informalities in the bidding.

ELMER KEPHART, City Manager.

Board Reflects Soybean Gains

CHICAGO (AP) — Soybeans jumped around 5 cents on the Board of Trade today. Their sharp gains were reflected, in a much milder manner, in other cereals.

Despite the extent of the gain in beans trading was not unusually active. It has been more active recently without such a wide price swing. There was no inclination to sell beans. More heavy rains fell in the Midwest.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ¼ to ⅞ higher, December $2.03¼; corn 1¼ to 1⅜ higher, December $1.32⅝; oats ¼ to ⅝ higher, December 63⅞; rye ¼ to 1¼ higher, December $1.11½; soybeans 4 to 4¾ higher, November $2.47, and lard 7 to 15 cents a hundred pounds higher, October $10.97.

Foreman Falls to Death in Ford Rouge Plant

DEARBORN (INS)—A masonry foreman at the Ford Rouge plant was killed early today when he fell 15 feet from a ladder to a section of steel grating in the rolling mill.

Dearborn Police said the victim, Hans Greller, 57, evidently lost his balance trying to dodge a piece of angle iron which came rolling toward him.

Steels, Motors Lead Recovery

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market made its second straight recovery advance today with some leaders strong in early dealings.

The steels and motors were the greatest buying favorites and the aircrafts were higher along with a few railroads and oils and a number of miscellaneous issues.

Prices were up around 2 points at the best in significant areas of the list. Losses usually were quite small.

The market was higher from the opening bell in a quiet sort of way. Gains gradually widened as trading progressed without reaching an explosively strong stage.

Among higher stocks were U. S. steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Bethlehem Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Boeing, Glenn Martin, Lockheed, RCA, American Telephone, Kennecott Copper, American Cyanamid, New York Central, Union Pacific, Standard Oil (NJ), and U. S. Gypsum.

Holdup Man Injures Former Wayne Coroner

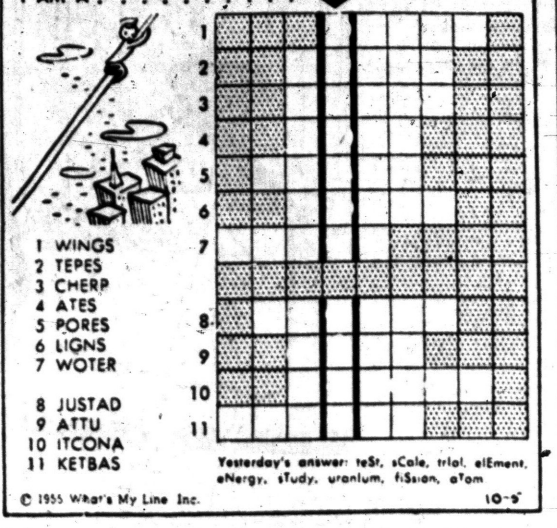

DETROIT — Dr. Vasile O. Vasu, 58, former Wayne County deputy coroner, was slugged by a would-be holdup man last night.

The doctor, who escaped serious injury, told police he had parked his car in the garage and was walking to the house when the attack occurred. He said he called out when slugged with a piece of pipe and the bandit fled without loot.

Dragnet Spread for 3 Escapees

Two Recaptured Within Ten Hours After Break From Mental Hospital

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP) — An intensive round-the-clock manhunt continued today for three inmates of a mental hospital who broke out of custody yesterday after overpowering two guards.

* * *

Three other escapees were captured several miles away after they had fled the Farview State Hospital for the Criminal Insane.

TWO RECAPTURED

Recaptured within 10 hours after they fled were Benjamin Porter, a convicted Philadelphia slayer; Frampton Lundy, 33, Rockville Center, N.Y.; and Alphonso Backus, 35, Philadelphia.

* * *

Dr. John P. Shovlin, hospital superintendent, said the six inmates overpowered guards Jay Owens and Edward Battle, who came running to their ward on a ruse that someone needed medical attention.

Hotel in Indianapolis Installs 7-Foot Beds

INDIANAPOLIS (INS) — The plush Marott Hotel is putting 7-foot beds in some of its rooms.

"We found 14 per cent of our customers are more than 6 feet tall. We want our guests to be well rested instead of waking up feeling like pretzels."

Khrushchev Fails to Answer Phone

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Three University of Southern California students will try again today to talk by telephone with Communist Chief Nikita Khruschev.

The students, who said they wanted to ease world tensions by chatting with the Russian leader, contacted the Moscow operator yesterday and were informed that there was no answer at Khrushchev's residence or his office.

Vic Gainer, 21, Don Ellis, 20, and Jerry Gruner, 20, said they talked Sunday with a man they believed to be Khrushchev's secretary and were told Khrushchev would talk to them yesterday morning. However, when they tried to contact him there was no answer.

Chicago First Graders Make Ike a Cotton Cake

CHICAGO (INS)—President Eisenhower will get a birthday cake Oct. 16 that will be a yard wide and a yard high.

But the President won't be able to taste it because it is a collage—meaning that its made of cotton and buttons and all sorts of things.

It was made by 38 first graders in Chicago's Kenwood School soon after the President suffered a heart attack.

August Factory Employment Hits Low for Year

DETROIT (AP) — Employment in Michigan factories fell to 1,140,000 last August, the lowest for any month in 1955, the Michigan Employment Security Commission (MESC) reported today.

Despite layoffs resulting from model changeover in the automotive industry, however, employment in August was greater than any month of 1954 except January the commission said.

Unemployment in the state totaled 130,000 in mid-August, an increase of 33,000 from mid-July but 105,000 under the mid-August level last year.

Outlook for employment is good, the MESC said. Automotive plants are expected to return to their pre-model change level of hiring during the next two months.

Non-manufacturing employment increased in August for the sixth consecutive month, reaching 1,160,000. The figure is 60,000 higher than the level at the first of the year and 33,000 more than the August, 1954, total.

Seasonal gains are anticipated for the coming months in non-manufacturing employment, in retail trade and service establishments.

C & O Reveals Income

CLEVELAND (INS) — Chesapeake and Ohio Railway announced net income for the nine months ended Sept. 30 of $42,095,000, equal to $5.27 a common share. This compared with $24,423,000, or $3.06 a common share, in the same period last year. Gross revenues increased to $278,127,000 from $222,958,000 a year ago. September net income amounted to $5,165,000 as against $3,401,000 in 1954.

Estes Due in Tokyo

TOKYO (INS) — An American embassy spokesman said today that U.S. Senator Estes Kefauver is scheduled to arrive in Tokyo Oct. 8 en route home from a visit to Russia.

Push for Stalled Auto Lands Driver in Jail

Gas station attendant James A. Jackson, 24, said he was looking under Matthews' car hood yesterday when he heard the money till close. Jackson quietly pulled the car's ignition wires and then courteously pushed Matthews and the car from the station.

Jackson returned, discovered $91 missing and called police. Officers said they found Matthews wondering why his car wouldn't start. He was booked on suspicion of robbery.

GM Institute Sees Record Enrollment

FLINT—General Motors Institute is expecting a fall enrollment of more than 850 new students in cooperative programs which will bring total enrollment in these programs to a new high of two thousand, six hundred.

Every state in the union but two will be represented along with students from Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Brazil, France, Germany, New Zealand, South Africa, and Canada. In addition, more than 2,000 Flint area proples have accounted for more than 4,000 enrollments in the spare time training program for fall.

Last Sunday the Institute held a reception for more than 400 new cooperative students, their families, and friends. A tour of the recently expanded Institute facilities and a social hour were features of the affair. A similar event will be held Oct. 30.

Total registration of new students will be divided as follows among the various cooperative programs: 605 engineering; 41 business administration; 200 dealer cooperative training students; and 24 liberal arts graduates.

There were 901,400 horses on Canadian farms at the start of fiscal 1956—a decline of 92,000 or 9 per cent fewer than at the start of fiscal 1955.

Some Dullness Noted in Show

'I Love Lucy' Returns Bright and Fresh for the New Season

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — "Mickey Mouse Club" unveiled its junior jukebox of pint size delights on ABC-TV with some suitably charming Walt Disney daffiness and ingenious diversion, and a few spots which struck us as terribly dull. Far below Walt's normally wily and resourceful fun.

Still, it was several cuts above the customary noisy nonsense deployed by Pinky Lee and Howdy Doody for about the same audiences.

"I Love Lucy" came home to CBS-TV with surprisingly fresh and bright nonsense, considering its long life in the vanguard of TV's top raters.

BETTER 'BRIDE'

So help us, going on its past flimsiness, we never expected "December Bride" to turn up this year with a feeling of anything but furious giddiness.

But the show's seasonal comeback was a comeback indeed—it came back with a great deal of pleasant and giggly comic inventiveness.

Spring Byington is an attractive elder glamor gal, and perhaps some of the cheerful charm of the comeback on CBS-TV comes from not having Spring indulging the giddy September-Song romantic conniptions heretofore belabored to death.

The rest of the cast chattered and chuckled its way back into the good graces of many a viewer simply by being caught up in an uncommonly brighter cut of comedy than "December Bride" once boasted.

If this keeps on the show will deserve to inherit its high rating from "Lucy."

DEPENDABLE SHOW

There are a few enough durably dependable comedy shows in television, but high among them always is Gracie Allen's bright brainlessness, not to mention George Burns' steadying standby ironies.

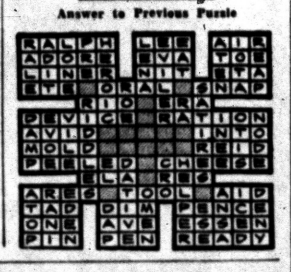

Burns & Allen returned to CBS-TV without much change in format, for none seems ever to have been needed, nor should there be in the foreseeable future.

Gracie's literal lunacies remain the device. It's just a matter of locating new chatter to surround her with, and sometimes a change of scenery to churn up the visual monotony.

Served 29-Year Term

LANSING (UP)—Charles Kregear, 52, formerly of Lansing, was scheduled to be released on parole today after serving 29 years on a statutory rape conviction. The state parole board said Kregear will live with a brother in Detroit.

HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)—Patrick B. McGinnis, here for a luncheon with city officials, was told that some of them would be absent because they were engaged in negotiations to enable an industrial concern to take over Brainard Field, former municipal airport.

"It should happen to every airport in the country," quipped McGinnis, a railroad presiddnt.

New Jet Trainer Set for Preflight Tryouts

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—A two-place training version of the supersonic F102A Air Force jet interceptor was ready today to begin preflight tests.

The Convair trainer, designated the TF102A, was designed to familiarize trained jet pilots with the delta-winged interceptor's performance and reduce the time required to bring the jet flier up to combat proficiency in the F102A.

Ruth St. Denis Defies That Old Debbil Time

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Ruth St. Denis, "first lady of American dance," has defied old debbil time for 76 years now, and today is more young in heart than the troubled new generation.

She's not so old in face or physique, either. With eyes flashing and shoulders shimmying like a rusty cable-car, Ruth is a glorious sight to behold.

"Age," she says, "it is nothing. I never give it another thought." To illustrate, she waves a long, slender arm through space and snaps two tapered fingers at the end of it.

"Youth, however, is important. And what is youth? I think that youth is nothing more or less than mental vitality."

Anyone who is "creative" has mental vitality so long as he remains creative. And this doesn't mean writers, poets, dancers, only.

* * *

"May I be pontificial?" asks Ruth. "I don't care whether it's just raising chickens that you do. That's creative too: You are creating comfort for chickens."

Miss St. Denis arrived at the office interview swathed in hundreds of yards of chiffon, muslin, cloth of gold and bangles . . . the costume for her famous "Nautch" dance which she started performing nearly 50 years ago.

EXCITING FIGURE

The elevator boys whistled, and asked admiringly later, "Jeez, who was that?"

Miss St. Denis laughed loud and richly. "I love it!" she said.

Though she is certainly accustomed to adulation, it never ceases to amuse her. Born in Newark, N. J., she spent the first 16 years of her life feeding pigs on a farm.

Then one day at the 1900 World's Fair in Chicago, she remembers: "Uncle Henry left the family, saying he was going to see a man in the engineering building.

"It seemed suspicious, since Uncle Henry was not an engineer, but not till long afterward was it divulged that he had really gone to the 'Midway Plaisance,' where there were girls dancing."

Deciding that Uncle Henry was no fool, young Ruth St. Denis took up dancing and became famous as the first artist in American history to give "impressions of the Orient."

ARTIST OF THE DANCE

Though she frequently has shocked more strait-laced Americans, not only with her exotic dances but with her philosophies on freedom of marriage and extra-marital diversion, she is still credited by top experts and critics as a true artist in her field.

"I have been considered, culturally," she says, "as sort of a bridge between the East and West. If I'm of any value in the world of the dance, it's because of my ideas, not my technique."

It is because her ideas are still "vital," though her body is admittedly susceptible to the slowing-down processes of age, that she was still a success in a recent recital series at Jacob's Pillow.

She explains why. "Dear," she says, "the Lord endowed me with a strong and supple body, but there are certain agile things of strength and speed which I cannot do any longer. Therefore, I simply do not attempt them."

* * *
