

STAFF BULLETIN

November 11-17, 1968

Published weekly by University news service, 101 North Foundation
(ext. 2219). Deadline for submitting material is 5 p.m. Thursday.

CAMPUS FERMENT IS TOPIC FOR PARENTS DAY

The 1968 Parents Day on Saturday, November 16 will discard the traditional for the timely in the schedule of talks and panels for visiting parents. "Ferment on Today's Campus" will be the general theme for a series of three sessions beginning at 11:15 a.m. Parents will register for the day's events at 9 a.m., hold their annual meeting, present the Matilda R. Wilson Honor Scholarship, hear an address by Chancellor Varner, and see the film, "Meadow Brook Hall," a project of the Friends of Oakland which annually sponsors Parents Day.

Parents then have a choice of three lecture-panel discussions. Robert L. Stern, associate professor of chemistry, will lecture on "Black Power: Misunderstood?". Panelists on that subject will be moderator Harvey Burdick, professor of psychology; Marylou Lacy, graduate librarian, Kresge Library; Robert L. Stern, associate professor of chemistry; Karl Gregory, assistant to the Chancellor, urban affairs; Gwendolyn Heard, student; and Ingo Dutzmann, student.

William F. Sturner, assistant provost and assistant professor of political science, will lecture on "Politics, Parents and Pedagogy: The Concerns and Objectives of Student Activism". Panelists on that subject will be Carl R. Vann, associate professor of political science; Thomas Dutton, Dean of Students; William F. Sturner, assistant provost, assistant professor of political science; Mike Honey, editor of the Oakland Observer; and Cindy Attwood, member of the University Senate.

A panel of students discuss the student life and activities on campus. Panelists will be James Appleton, moderator, associate Dean of Students; Kathryn Philliben, resident assistant, Association of Women Students, president; Margaret Russell, Student Activities Executive Board, member at large; David Black, member of the University Senate; Kenneth Meldrum, Student Activities Board, chairman; and Michael Nolph, member of the soccer team.

Faculty and members have been invited to join parents and their sons or daughters at a 1:30 p.m. luncheon in the Oakland Center.

Special events later in the day include the Ted Knerr exhibit in the University Art Gallery, open house in the Kresge Library, activities in the Sports and Recreation Building, and open houses and programs in the resident halls.

Bob Johnson, OU alum, and James Davis, associate professor of chemistry, headed the planning committee for Parents Day.

THANKSGIVING OFFER, BUT NOT A TURKEY

The Meadow Brook Theatre is offering a unique family plan for Thanksgiving evening--and it won't be a "turkey". Faculty and staffers who would like to bring their families to the 8:15 p.m. opening night performance of Pinero's farce, "The Magistrate" will be welcome to bring up to three members of the immediate family free of charge with the purchase of two regular tickets. "The Magistrate", set in 1885 is a joyous and innocent farce ideally suited for family entertainment. The John Fernald Company can be expected to stage a fine performance for this family holiday opening. Tickets may be purchased at the Meadow Brook Theatre box office. For further information call 338-6239.

NOMINATE 14 FOR WW FELLOWSHIPS

Hoping to match last year's fine showing, the OU faculty has nominated 14 students for the stiff national Woodrow Wilson Fellowship competition. By department, they are: Art, Cynthia Chrostek; Chinese Language & Literature, Jerry Cunningham; English, Cynthia Attwood, Edward Cousino, and Gerald Smith; Engineering, Robert Peaslee II, and Fred Phillips; German, Linda Rollison; History, Carol Appelblatt, and Michael Honey; Political Science, David Black, and Francis Richter; Psychology, Mary Lou Cheal, and Helen Constantini.

With three seniors named winners last year, OU was one of only four state-supported universities in Michigan to place students on the select list and, proportional to enrollment, fared very well with the other three. The University of Michigan had 27, Michigan State University 12, and Wayne State University 2.

TWO SHARE PLATFORM

State Board of Education members Leroy G. Augenstein and the Rev. Charles Morton will participate in a panel discussion on modern morals and ethics at 2 p.m. Thursday in 128-130 Oakland Center. Augenstein is chairman of the biophysics department at MSU and is a widely known lecturer in the area of moral and ethical dilemmas created through advances in science and technology. Morton, a lecturer in philosophy and director of Upward Bound here at OU, is minister of Metropolitan Baptist Church in Detroit.

DIRECTORY DUE

The 1968-69 OU Telephone Directory is due from the printers today. As in the past, copies will be mailed to the homes of faculty and staff members and distributed on campus through departmental secretaries. If you have not received your copy by Friday, call ext. 2219 and complain.

FOR ADULTS ONLY

Mrs. Priscilla Jackson, Director of the Continuum Center for Women, will speak at the national meeting of the Adult Education Association in Des Moines, Iowa, next Saturday. She will describe the Center's program to others interested in developing women's programs.

TALKS TEACHING

Hal Cafone, associate professor of education, addressed the Region Six Conference of the Michigan Education Association on "Teaching Reading in the Social Studies".

TO BELL CONFAB

Kenneth Meade, assistant dean for special programs in the Continuing Education Division, will attend the "College Faculty Conference", to be hosted by the Michigan Bell on November 17-21.

FROM ARKANSAS TO ONTARIO

Harry Hohn, professor of education, last Thursday addressed the elementary teachers in Little Rock, Arkansas, on "The Role of Literature in the Elementary Curriculum". Friday he will travel to Toronto, Ontario, to conduct a language arts workshop for elementary teachers.

CALENDAR

Monday November 11	2:00 p.m.	C. L. R. James will speak on "Certain Aspects of the History of the Black Struggle in the New World" Gold Room
	3:15 p.m.	New College Dance Workshop presents two films, "A Dancer's World" Martha Graham and "The City Center" Robert Joffrey Ballet Company, Sports and Recreation Building
Tuesday November 12	7:30 p.m.	Continuing Education medical symposium (fifth session) Lawrence Powers, M.D., speaking on "Hormonally Active Non-Endocrine Tumors", Science Building
	8:15 p.m.	Meadow Brook Theatre, "The Apple Cart"
Wednesday November 13	9:00 a.m.	Continuing Education air pollution control conference, Oakland Center (continues to 4 p.m.)
	1:00 p.m.	Committee on Linguistics public lecture, Professor W. Freeman Twaddell, chairman of linguistics, Brown University, speaking on "Linguistics: Recent Past and Near Future", 128-130 Oakland Center
	3:00 p.m.	Mathematics colloquium, George Kozlowski will speak on "Maps which Preserve Homotopy Groups" 235 Science Building
	8:15 p.m.	Meadow Brook Theatre, "The Apple Cart"
	8:30 p.m.	Concert series, Maurizio Pollini, pianist, Dodge Hall auditorium

(continued)

Thursday November 14	7:30 p.m.	Continuing Education medical technologists symposium (fifth session), Andrew G. Smith, M.D., speaking on "Diagnostic Techniques in Clinical Micology", Science Building
	8:15 p.m.	Meadow Brook Theatre, "The Apple Cart"
Friday November 15	3:10 p.m.	Biology Department guest lecture, Dr. Helen Cost, assistant professor School of Dentistry and Department of Biochemistry, University of Minnesota, speaking on "Environmental effects on membrane and pigment biosynthesis in a photosynthetic bacteri", 202 Dodge Hall
	8:00 p.m.	University Film Series, "Warning Shot", 156 North Foundation (shown again at 10)
	8:15 p.m.	Meadow Brook Theatre, "The Apple Cart"
Saturday November 16	9:00 a.m.	Parents Day (continues through afternoon)
	11:00 a.m.	Cross Country, NCAA Championships (at Wheaton, Ill.)
	8:00 p.m.	University Film Series, "Warning Shot", 156 North Foundation
	8:15 p.m.	Meadow Brook Theatre, "The Apple Cart"
Sunday November 17	6:30 p.m.	Meadow Brook Theatre, "The Apple Cart"
	8:00 p.m.	University Film Series, "Warning Shot", 156 North Foundation