

Needed: Life-Giving Rain

DRY WEATHER DILEMMA — Even after Tuesday's downpour, Willis Field of Union Lake could sift bone-dry dirt through his hands. More than 50 per cent of his sweet corn crop has been lost due to the lack of rain this spring. Field's predicament has been repeated time and again as worried farmers look to the sky for a good, soaking rain.

County Farmers Worry Over Shortage of Water

Oakland County farmers are worried. The lack of rain, the record-breaking heat wave last month and the high winds have pulled the moisture out of the ground, threatening complete crop failures. It isn't just the fact that there has been only one good hard rain this entire spring, but the heat has penetrated to unusual depth, absorbing precious water so necessary for plant survival, according to Lyle Abel, Oakland County agricultural extension director.

"The biggest trouble has been the untimely heat wave," he said. "After the seeds are in the ground they just lay there and can't germinate for lack of moisture."

Willis L. Field of 1982 Wise Road, Union Lake, figures he's already lost 50 per cent of his sweet corn of sweet corn. "I've planted that corn four weeks ago and cultivated three times. All I have to show is a few scrawny stalks sticking up here and there," he added.

With the hope of a hard rain Tuesday, he planted 500 pepper plants and had planned on getting 1,000 tomato plants in this week. Now it's a back-breaking job, hauling water to keep the peppers alive. Only six-tenths of an inch of rain fell Tuesday shattering the hopes of farmers all over the county.

Out Lake Orion way, Raymond Alt reported that the ground was so hard he couldn't even get his plow down to prepare the ground.

He added that this year he planted his own-use garden crop extra early and it is having a hard time getting through the dry soil. Aside from a severe storm April 30, snow and rain fell four days during that month for a total of only three-quarters of an inch. In May it rained one and three-quarters of an inch. Monday and Tuesday's total for June was only 1.5 hundredths of an inch of rainfall.

Topp Found Able to Stand Trial

Sheddy W. Topp, 17, today was found mentally competent to stand trial on charges of first-degree murder in the slaying of Oakland County's First Corporation Council Charles A. Davis.

The ruling was made by Oakland County Circuit Judge William Beer after hearing testimony from three court-appointed psychiatrists.

Judge Beer, after hearing the doctors' testimony, said Topp was sane and psychotic, ruled the defendant "mentally competent" and added that "the proceedings against him may continue."

The doctors who examined Topp were Dr. Ivan LaCure and Dr. Maurice Willis, both of Pontiac, and Dr. William Gordon of Detroit.

The doctors testified that Topp can understand the proceedings at a trial and the charges against him and that he is able to assist in his own defense.

Dr. LaCure and Dr. Willis said they examined Topp for about an hour while Gordon said he spent two hours with the accused.

Proceedings at today's hearing were interrupted by a defense motion for adjournment based on a report in an area newspaper.

The newspaper article stated that the three psychiatrists had reported their findings to Prosecutor George Taylor yesterday. A defense attorney objected to the advance publicity of the mental competency findings prior to today's hearing.

The motion was denied. Judge Beer said he found "no irregularity or impropriety" in having the doctors report the findings to the prosecutor in advance of the hearing.

Pleasant Night Forecast With Low Around 50

A pleasant night is forecast for the Pontiac area with temperatures a little chilly near 50.

The weatherman said Friday will be partly cloudy and there's a chance of a shower during the day. Tomorrow's high will reach in the upper 70s.

The outlook for Saturday is partly cloudy and a little warmer with a few showers possible.

Morning winds northeasterly at 8 miles per hour will become easterly at 6 to 12 m.p.h. late today.

Fifty-five was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 5 a.m. The mercury had climbed to 81 at 2 p.m.

Wants Meeting on Job Problem

Labor Convention Talks of Automation and Low Employment

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Michigan AFL-CIO convention adopted a resolution today asking a national conference to try solving a dual problem of industrial automation and reduced employment.

The unanimous voice vote came as the state convention, with some 1,000 delegates, drew near the close of its four-day run in Grand Rapids.

The resolution noted a national labor force of 6.5 million, grown between 1950 and 1960, while employment over the same period rose 4.5 million, leaving some 2 million unemployed.

It asked that the President, secretaries of labor and commerce along with representatives of labor and management prevail upon Congress for legislation "to ease the transition period" from automation to new employment for industrial workers.

In such a conference, the resolution added, "serious and objective analysis should be made of the possibility of applying the shorter work week where automation has made its greatest impact."

The convention called on Congress to consider meeting the needs of workers and their families in the same way "it now does in aiding, assisting and subsidizing those areas of industry which are economically depressed."

Lawmakers Near Accord on $79-Million Tax Pact

Move to Soften Impact of Ban on Aid to Reds

Senate Leaders Seek Exemption of Surplus Farm Products

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate leaders moved today to soften the impact of a 57-24 vote to prohibit any further foreign aid to Communist-dominated countries by an exemption for surplus farm products. The amendment adopted yesterday, if approved by the House, would cut off air which has been going to Yugoslavia and Poland.

Undersecretary of State George W. Ball condemned the action today as a "no win policy" in the cold war. Sen. John Sparkman, D-Ala., said the administration is "very much concerned" over its effect on the State Department's efforts to keep Yugoslavia independent of Moscow's domination.

The ruling was made by Oakland County Circuit Judge William Beer after hearing testimony from three court-appointed psychiatrists.

Meanwhile senators were considering action to exempt surplus agricultural commodities from the ban. Some of them apparently were surprised that these were included under the ban, voted yesterday.

Sen. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., the majority leader, offered an amendment under which President Kennedy, in his discretion, could continue to give or sell surplus agricultural commodities to Yugoslavia and Poland.

The amendment adopted yesterday not only would ban a contemplated $10 million in development loans to Yugoslavia in the next fiscal year, but also would prohibit sales and gifts of heavy farm surpluses to any Communist country.

Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois told reporters "there has been some gripping over the fact" that under the amendment "you can't palm off your farm surpluses under Public Law 858."

Guard Witness in Hoffa Case

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON — A mysterious witness who apparently vanished for seven years was kept under armed guard today during a recess in a federal grand jury investigation of his dealings with Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

The witness, David Probst, was produced by the FBI yesterday a few hours before he would have been declared legally dead.

The jury did not meet this morning but the investigation continued and testimony will resume soon.

Government sources said Probst was being held in protective custody at a secret location.

What became of Probst after June 6, 1955, remained a mystery. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the FBI had tracked him down after a painstaking search, and added the former Indianapolis lawyer is cooperating with the government in its latest Hoffa probe.

The Justice Department would not say where Probst was, what he has been doing, or how, when and where he was located.

Chapman Hotel Sold to Pontiac

Urban Renewal Chief Reports City Bought Property for $73,350

The Chapman Hotel, a long battle to save it for historical purposes, died today as the building and property were sold to the City of Pontiac.

By the end of June, for the first time in more than 120 years, the southeast corner of Saginaw and Pike Streets will stand bare. City officials said they hoped to proceed with demolition by this weekend.

Charles E. Chapman, part owner and manager of the hotel, and three of six other partners in ownership of the property signed contracts yesterday, according to James L. Bates, urban renewal director.

"We have mailed papers to two more owners in California and one in Toledo who have agreed to the sale," Bates said, "and expect the signed papers back by tomorrow."

The sale price was $73,350. Before a storm damaged part of the old structure April 30, the owners had been offered about $77,000 for the property by urban renewal.

The sale price was $73,350. Before a storm damaged part of the old structure April 30, the owners had been offered about $77,000 for the property by urban renewal.

It was one of the first Saginaw Street structures tabbed for acquisition and demolition in the city's urban renewal project.

The owners decided to sell when their insurance on the building expired and the insurance company wouldn't renew the policy with the building in its present condition, according to Bates and City Attorney William A. Ewart.

Conference Unit Puts Together a Compromise

Six Members of Board Recommend Proposal After All-Night Talks

LANSING (AP)—The legislature neared final agreement today on a $79-million package of "nuisance" taxes after a marathon session that carried into the early morning hours.

A six-man conference committee of the House and Senate patched the compromise together when the two houses found themselves $24 million apart.

It was chiefly a victory for the House, which sent an $80 million package to the Senate last week. The Senate, in a session that carried past midnight, trimmed the total to $56 million.

All six on the conference committee recommended passage. It proposes:

A three-cent increase in the nickel-a-pack tax on cigarettes ($30 million); a 1/4-cent increase in the three-tenths of a cent tax on a bottle of beer ($24 million); a 1/4-cent increase in the four-cent tax on a bottle of liquor ($16 million); a 4 per cent tax on telephone and telephone service ($1 million); and a 4 per cent liquor excise tax ($2 million).

The committee changes fattened Senate proposals for increases in the cigarette, beer and corporation franchise taxes.

Leaders of both parties and in both houses indicated support for the compromises, which will go into effect July 1.

With Democrats fighting them every step of the way, Senate Republicans struggled all night long last night before pushing through a $59-million tax package, $24 million under the House figure approved last week.

The House, sitting July 6, hours waiting for the Senate to act, immediately rejected the cutsback and sent the package into a conference.

The Senate lapped a penny off the House-approved two-cent increase in the three-tenths-of-a-cent tax on a bottle of beer, trimming the increase to $17 million a year. It also cut half a mill from the proposed one-mill increase in the four-mill corporation franchise fee, leaving the raise to $7 million.

LEFT INTACT
Left intact were a two-cent increase in the five-cent-a-package cigarette tax, good for $20 million a year, and a 4 per cent liquor excise tax, worth $7 million; and a 4 per cent (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

Protest Hiring Practices

PICKET WRECKING FIRM — Members of Pontiac Laborers Local 1076 and Teamsters Local 514 are shown picketing a site today where urban renewal structures are being demolished by Louis D'Hondt & Son Wrecking Co. of Mount Clemens. Union officials charged the company is not hiring local union labor at prevailing wages as was stipulated in its contract with the city. The picket activity shown here was on Osborn Street between Saginaw and Paddock.

It's Freedom of Press Day

'Fight Is Still Not Over'

In connection with Freedom of the Press Day, June 7, as instituted by the Inter-American Press Association in 1953, President Andrew Heiskell, chairman of the board of Time, Inc., issued today the following statement:

"The Inter-American Press Association is proud to join in the hemisphere celebration of June 7th as Freedom of the Press Day. Though it recognizes serious problems remaining before it, IAPA is equally proud of the part it has played in the defense of press freedom and in its restoration to many millions of people in the Western Hemisphere."

"In 1953, when Freedom of the Press Day was instituted, the 50 million people of Argentina, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Venezuela and Cuba were denied the rights of free expression and a free press. Today Cuba, Bolivia, Haiti and Paraguay deny these basic rights to 15 million people. A gain in freedom for some 34 million Americans."

"In spite of this great progress, the danger of losing not only freedom of the press but all other freedoms as well may be greater today than it has ever been in the past. This danger is represented by the existence of a Communist regime in Cuba and its determination to infiltrate and subvert all other countries in the western hemisphere. With Havana as its base, international communism threatens with equal intensity the democratic governments of the Americas and the existing free press."

"Only when democracy is established in Cuba and international communism loses its base of operations in our hemisphere will the Inter-American Press Association consider that its greatest battle for freedom of the press in the Americas has been won."

2 Veteran Profs Retire From Michigan Tech

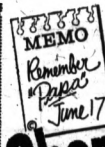

HOUGHTON — Retirement of two veteran professors was announced yesterday by Michigan College of Mining and Technology. They are U. John Noblet, head of the forestry department, and Dr. Royal P. Makens, director of nuclear engineering and professor of chemistry.

Tech faculty for 33 years, will retire Oct. 1 and Dr. Makens, a 31-year veteran, on July 1.

6 African Lands Pick French Community

PARIS — Of 15 French-controlled lands released since 1958, six remain with France as part of the French Community: Chad, the Congo Republic, Gabon, Malagasy and Senegal.

Four formed a Council of the Entente in 1959 and retain close ties with France outside the Community: Dahomey, Ivory Coast, Niger and Upper Volta.

The former trust territories of Cameroon and Togo and ex-colonies Mauritania, Mali and Guinea also have non-Community agreements with France.

Common Market Chain Reaction Spreads

By SAM LAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK—The Common Market's impact on the rest of the world is suddenly mushrooming all over the front pages.

A small trade war is threatened between the trading bloc and the United States over carpet and glass tariffs on our part and certain chemicals, paints and textiles on the part of the six European nations.

Australia, New Zealand, Canada, India, Pakistan—all are protesting the possible loss to them if Britain joins the Common Market at the expense of abandoning preferential treatment for nations of the British Commonwealth.

Even the Communist countries are debating in Moscow today how to counteract the growing power of the Common Market in Western Europe that is crippling their trade.

The impact is felt on political as well as trade policies, on domestic as well as foreign programs.

The U.S. Congress is deep in a tariff debate. The central question: how best the United States can deal with the Common Market threat or take advantage of its promise of expanded trade if we cooperate.

Involved are such things as the drain of our gold supply our wage and price policies as they affect our export prospects, and the division of powers between the President and the Congress.

The British government may face a political crisis as opposing parties take sides, even split amongst themselves, on the commonwealth problem.

Soviet policies may well be affected. Much of the Common Market involves trade with Russia itself. The Soviet Union has been selling crude oil and certain types of steel to Western Europe at prices well below what its satellites must pay.

In all parts of the world, including the Common Market itself, the current problems are fluid. It is this uncertainty as to the final direction that upsets business and politicians most.

MART HAS PROBLEMS

For the Common Market isn't a complete thing yet by any means. Quarrels over treatment of agricultural products still divide the six members—France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

And still very much in doubt is what progress they may make toward some form of political as well as trade unity. Age-old national and racial differences are proving hard to surmount.

Also the glamorous progress of the Common Market toward industrial prosperity in the last few years may well be slowing down. The growth rate isn't as great now as a couple of years ago. Benefits are rising, and in time supply our wage and price policies this could impair some of the price advantage that Common Market goods have had in world trade.

But for all its unsolved problems and the uncertainties about its final form, the Common Market is a very solid fact today.

The current danger is that failure to come to terms with it on at tariffs, import quotas and currency trade blocs—the European Community, a Far Eastern bloc, the Atlantic, both sides of the Pacific, and perhaps within the walls of the Kremlin.

It's this danger that spices the political debates on both sides of the divide the Western world into war-haps its Western Hemisphere na-

It's Long Way Home, but Worth Each Mile

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Walter Snow figures Leipzig, Ohio, is a nice place to live — so nice in fact, that he spends seven hours each day commuting to and from his job at the Dayton Air Force Depot 110 miles from Leipzig.

He admits it is a grueling pace but Snow worked up to it gradually. From 1945 to 1947 he worked in Lima, 25 miles from Leipzig.

From 1947 to 1955 it was Toledo, 45 miles away. Then in 1955 he went to Shelby, 86 miles from his hometown. He hit the 110-mile peak in 1958 when he joined the Dayton depot.

Of the present cropland area of 415 million acres in the U.S., only about 95 million acres can be classed as good land, according to the Department of Agriculture.

Tanganyikans Say Thank You; JFK Gets Boat

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy got a new boat Wednesday. It was one of a number of gifts brought by a C124 cargo plane of the Military Air Transport Service from the people of the Ruffiji area of Tanganyika, in a remote delta area of eastern Africa. It was their way of saying thanks for the food for peace deliveries from the United States.

The boat is a hollowed-out log canoe about 18 feet long. On it is lettered the words "Presented to President Kennedy, Thanks from Ruffiji Coastal."

The C124, operated by the 63rd Troop Carrier Wing from Donaldson Air Force Base, S.C., was one of several U.S. aircraft which delivered grain to the Ruffiji people in a remote delta area of eastern Africa. It was their way

Penn State Has New 'Rebellion'

Counseling Service Shows Students' Ability and Soothes Parents

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UPI) — The son who doesn't want to follow in his father's footsteps has a new alternative to rebellion in an unusual Pennsylvania State University counseling service.

Students whose parents disapprove of their career choices, are given extensive tests and questionnaires to determine their aptitudes and abilities.

Then their parents are invited to spend a day on the campus to separate and joint consultation with university officials.

Dr. Donald H. Ford, director of the 5-year-old program, said several hundred of each 4,500 freshmen have such conflicts with their parents.

SUCCESSFUL PROGRAM

The program has been so successful, he said, that some students enroll at Penn State simply to take advantage of it, then drop out and enroll at another college.

"The other day we had a boy who could be a third generation in medicine," he said.

"His father and grandfather have a lucrative medical practice waiting for him. But he doesn't want it. He wants to go into business administration."

Counseling has resulted in curriculum changes for about one in five students involved, Ford said.

Seeks GOP Backing as Attorney General

MUSKOGON — Supported by 12 west Michigan Republican county chairmen, former U.S. attorney and con-con delegate Robert J. Danhof yesterday set out as a candidate for nomination as state attorney general.

He is the first GOP candidate for nomination to state office from heavily Democratic Muskegon County in at least 12 years.

Danhof, 36, was associated seven years with the office of U.S. attorney for the federal district of Western Michigan prior to leaving in 1961 for private practice. Representing the 23rd Senatorial District of Muskegon and Ottawa counties as a con-con delegate, he served as chairman of the judiciary committee.

Married and the father of three children, Danhof is a Muskegon resident.

Mackinac Bridge Sees May Users Drop Below '61

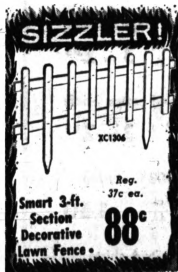

ST. RONACE — Traffic across the Mackinac Bridge slumped in May below that of the same 1961 month, but this was blamed primarily on a midweek Memorial Day, compared with a weekend one in 1961.

Preston M. Brown, chairman of the Mackinac Bridge Authority, said that traffic the first weekend of June was up 25 per cent, compared with the similar period a year earlier, and that this "more than restored the loss brought during the holiday week."

Only in April has 1962 traffic topped the similar month of 1961, but, due to increased toll rates, only January and May have shown revenue losses. The loss amounted to 4 per cent in each month.

Vehicle traffic totaled 62,082 in May, compared with 65,298 a year earlier. Revenue was $394,262, against $396,864.

Army Engineers Eye Lunar Living

Hope to Follow Landings
With Equipment for Residing on Moon

WASHINGTON (AP) —When Americans land on the moon, the Army engineers are getting ready to follow with equipment that will enable them to live and work in safety and comfort.

The engineers—masters at building bridges and roads on earth—have started planning how to deal with the problems of an airless environment on the moon where surface temperatures veer from boiling hot to 270 degrees below zero.

Though much of the work done so far has been theoretical, the engineers are getting ready to ask Congress for money to build laboratory facilities in which they would reproduce conditions on the moon.

The United States is aiming for a moon landing late in this decade, with exploration there starting possibly by 1970.

LONG WAY TO GO

"It is doubtful if we will have all the scientifically correct answers short of the time when a manned lunar landing is made," said Lt. Gen. Walter K. Wilson Jr., chief of Army Engineers.

"The engineer-designer-constructor will have to learn, develop and test over a long period, perhaps a decade, before he is prepared to construct on the moon," Wilson wrote in the Army Information Digest.

Progress already is being made in adjusting engineer thinking and design concepts, he said.

5,000 to Be Drafted in Month of August

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army will take in 5,000 from the draft in August, the Defense Department announced yesterday.

The new draft call is the same as the quota for July and 1,500 below the allocation for this month.

The 5,000 to be drafted in August represent about one-third of the Army's new manpower requirements for that month.

Army officials said the remainder of the 16,100 men needed in August will come into service through enlistment.

The Navy, Marine Corps and Air Force do not intend to draw manpower from the draft during August.

Not Slowed Up by Loss of Leg

Hydraulic Limb Allows
Football, Baseball

GLENDAL, Calif. (UPI) — Don Colwell, a chunky, good-natured fellow of 40, lost his right leg 49 years ago during a bombing raid on Tunisia. Today he can kick a football and play base ball.

Credit for Colwell's ability to lead a normal life must go to a miniature hydraulic braking-control system built into modern artificial legs.

After two operations in Africa, Colwell returned home and began a 15-year battle with unsatisfactory, clumsy prosthetics (artificial limbs).

But since 1938 when he was fitted for his first hydra-cadence leg, a whole new life has opened up for him.

Not only can he play football and baseball, he also runs and dances normally and helps other amputees as a prosthetic training instructor at the UCLA Medical Center in nearby West Los Angeles.

NOT HEAVY

The new type leg weighs no more than a normal limb and can be worn by a single or bilateral above-the-knee amputee.

It is operated by a downward pressure of the stump of the missing leg and body.

The pressure activates three tiny hydraulic cylinders which cause the knee to bend, the toe to be picked up normally and the leg to swing backward and forward in normal stride, its speed controlled by the wearer.

The leg's basic hydraulic action was the brainchild 25 years ago of John Stewart of New Zealand.

Its leakproof hydraulic cylinder seal overshadowed the prosthetic possibilities and the Vickers Corp. of Detroit, Mich., bought the patent rights and adapted it for braking systems on farm machinery, airplanes and automobiles.

Music, Business Combine Sounds to Get Rhythm

BOONTON, N. J. (AP) — The orchestra director and a business teacher at Boonton High School were talking one day about the past rhythm plays in typing and in music.

And orchestra director Paul Richley Jr. decided to put the two together.

He conducted the school orchestra to Leroy Anderson's "The Typewriter" at a spring concert, with Miss Andrea Bellino, the business teacher, "playing" an electric typewriter.

A microphone picked up Miss Bellino's delicate tapping and it was audible against the orchestral background.

"It's a symphonized rhythm pattern, so the beat's the important thing," Miss Bellino says. "I type for the sound, not the words."

Young Scientist 'Just Too Good'

Say Student's Advanced
Beyond His Classmates

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Hal Helms' Science Fair entry was too good to win.

The 15-year-old junior at nearby Broken Arrow High School entered an exhibit on "Relativistic Theory of the Non-Symmetric Field," dealing with the fourth dimension to show a probable connection between electromagnetism and gravitation.

Judges of the Tulsa County Science Fair decided his theory was correct, but added that his calculations were so far advanced they found them difficult to understand or to check.

They also felt it was unfair to judge his work in the same class with other youngsters, since he had some university work.

SPECIAL AWARD

So other young scientists got the top prizes — but Hal got a special award as first alternate for a Navy science cruise.

Hal's interest in mathematics developed early and his fifth grade teacher, J. M. Fisher, began giving him advanced problems to solve.

Then Hal enrolled in a special electronics program in high school, read deeply in theoretical mathematics and eventually took — and passed — college courses in trigonometry and integral and differential calculus.

Hal doesn't want to finish high school, however. Instead of taking a senior year at Broken Arrow next year, he wants to enter the Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Dems Can't Agree

Kennedy's Tax Revision Bill in Trouble

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy's tax revision bill appeared in deeper trouble today after being criticized sharply at a closed meeting of Democratic senators.

Opponents of the bill said privately they were convinced now there was a good chance it eventually will be dropped. And Republicans voiced such a demand in floor speeches Wednesday.

However, Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., who opposes the measure's two key provisions, told a report on the finance committee he heads will continue a conversation of the tax bill.

It was learned the Virginia senator told Kennedy a few days ago the measure would receive a complete study from his group.

The committee has been giving the bill a slow-motion airing since it started public hearings April 2.

PASSED HOUSE

The House passed the measure March 29, keeping the bulk of Kennedy's proposals.

Wednesday's Democratic meeting was in the office of the party's Senate leader, Mike Mansfield of Montana. It was one of the periodic sessions he holds to go over the Senate program and back before the committee next week to continue his defense of the bill.

Sen. Thruston B. Morton, R-Ky., a finance member, voiced a plea on the floor Wednesday for shelving the bill. He was joined by Sen. Frank Carlson, R-Kan., who also served on the committee.

Sen. John J. Williams, R-Del., senior Republican on the committee, called the tax cut announcement administration election year propaganda. He said Democrats could not deliver on a tax cut pledge in view of prospective federal deficits.

The tax bill in general was the chief subject of the meeting, with investment credit to give business a $1.35 billion incentive to modernize its plant and equipment.

The administration believes the credit would go a long way toward making the economy more efficient and productive.

The withholding plan is counted on to help pay for the investment credit.

It was learned that Sen. Robert S. Rife, D-Ola., second in seniority on the Democratic side of the finance committee, led off at the meeting with a defense of the withholding plan. He emphasized the present tax losses from unreported dividend and interest income.

LOSSES EXAGGERATED

Byrd then gave a rebuttal, stating his previously expressed view that the system would be unduly burdensome and that the Treasury has greatly exaggerated the losses.

One senator at the meeting even raised the question that the plan might be unconstitutional. Others said they were unable to explain it to their constituents.

Byrd said that Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon will be back before the committee next

The phone in 'one early phone booth' required no money to operate but the caller had to deposit a coin to get out of the self-locking door.

Michigan was the first state to permit women to serve as jurors. The legislation was enacted in 1915. Maine and Utah legislatures followed the example soon after.

'Graham, Aide May Swap Roles'

CHICAGO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham has an assistant who says their roles may be reversed when they get to heaven.

Cliff Barrows, who directs the 2,000-voice choir for Graham's 13-day Crusade for Christ in Chicago, says: "I tell Billy that when we get to heaven, there won't be any need for his preaching. But there will be plenty of music, and maybe they'll put me in charge."

Barrows joined the Graham organization while on his honeymoon in 1945. Barrows and his wife decided to attend a youth conference in Asheville, N.C., at which a young evangelist, Billy Graham, was speaking.

DIRECTS PROGRAMS

When the regular song leader didn't show up, Graham asked Barrows, an ordained Baptist minister, to take over. He has been with Graham ever since.

Barrows also directs "The Hour of Decision" radio and television programs.

Mr. and Mrs. Barrows are parents of five children, including a son born Wednesday. The boy, Graham announced to 20,000 persons at Wednesday night's rally at McCormick Place, has been named in honor of the evangelist.

Graham said in his sermon there is a movement afoot in America "to take the Bible out of our national life."

URGES RETURN TO BIBLE

"If this movement succeeds," Graham declared, "then 'In God we trust' will be removed from our coins, the Bible will be taken out of the courtroom, future presidents will be sworn in with their hands on the Constitution, and chaplains will disappear from the Congress and the armed forces."

Graham said, "If the Bible goes down, then anarchy will rear its ugly head. This will be followed by savagery such as the earth has never known. This generation must face the fact that it is either back to the Bible or back to the jungle."

DISTURBS MANY

Graham added that many Americans hate the Bible "because it disturbs their lives."

"Because we don't want God, we don't want the Bible," he said. "We don't want anything disturbing our consciences."

Commenting on Biblical truth, the evangelist said:

"Hundreds of old volumes in our libraries insist that Moses could never have written the first five books of the Bible as claimed because, they said, writing had not been invented in his day. Now tablets and inscriptions have been found which were written several hundred years before Moses."

Swainson Signs Retraining Bill

Takes 1st of 3 Steps to Make State Eligible for U.S. Funds

LANSING (U)—Gov. Swainson yesterday took the first of three steps to make Michigan eligible for millions of dollars in federal funds under the recently enacted Manpower Development and Training act.

The governor signed a bill enabling the Michigan State Board of Control for Vocational Education to accept and expend funds for retraining courses under the Development and Training program as well as the Area Redevelopment Act.

The Manpower Act appropriated $435 million over a three-year period to assist workers who lose their jobs because of automation. Funds also may be used by the state to train youths 16 to 22 years of age who have dropped out of school as well as high school graduates who can't find work.

Benefits also are provided for members of farm families with incomes of less than $1,200 a year.

The state still must sign an agreement with the U.S. Department of Labor and with the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare establishing administrative machinery for operation of the program.

Without authorization provided by the bill signed yesterday, the governor said, the federal government would have to enter into training contracts directly with individual school districts instead of with the State Vocational, Education Office.

Michigan expects to have 20 retraining programs ready to go into operation July 2, the first day of the new program, Swainson said.

"This places us far ahead of any other state in the nation," he said.

Debaters at Cambridge Pick Son of Ex-Top Red

CAMBRIDGE, England (AP)—Brian Pollitt, son of a former head of the British Communist party, Wednesday night was elected president of the Cambridge Union Debating Society. He is the first Communist ever to hold the post.

Pollitt, 25, was beaten up in his room early Monday, a few hours before final examinations. His assailants escaped, unidentified.

Civil Service to Take Postmaster Applications

WASHINGTON (U)—The Civil Service Commission announced yesterday it will receive applications for the "Memorize, Michigan" postmaster position. The job pays $6,870 a year.

Applications must be filed with the commission, or postmarked, no later than July 3.

Just a Handsome Face in the Moonlight?

Sincere Doubts Have No Place in Marriage Plans

By PHILLIPS BATTLE

NEW YORK — On this day, in this particularly traditional month, thousands of American boys and girls are saying to themselves, as they munch away on a diet of finger foods, "What AM I doing?"

They also are thinking, as they thoughtfully light the filter tip of a cigarette, "How did I get into this?"

And, as they ruminate fondly on the life of fancy freedom, "I don't want it!"

It is typical for about-to-be-marrieds to become nervous and want to back out. So typical is it that most people consider it completely normal.

Devoted parents and love-loving friends smile and reassure the young potential bride and groom that "everybody" wants to back out of marriage at the last minute — it's only a case of nuptial nerves.

But is it normal, or do many of our extremely young almost-marrieds suddenly realize, with a jolt — as the time for wedding approacheth, that they are not ready? — that they have gone along with, and been duped by, the modern American concept that an attraction to a handsome face in the moonlight means love and that love and marriage go together like a horse and carriage?

LISTEN, DON'T KID

I don't know. But I believe the youngsters who have really strong fears and doubts should be heeded, rather than kidded. "If they seem genuinely to back away, at M-hour, from the marriage — they should be given an audience, rather than an ultimatum to the effect that they mustn't embarrass the family by backing out now just because of a "perfectly natural" whim.

It is not whimsical when a young person (and remember, the U.S. average first-marriage age is very young indeed) is suddenly beset with reality when he (or she) has been living in a world of romantic dreams. It is, rather, an emotional coming of age.

And yet, incredibly, parents and those kindly but unknowing folks called "well-meaning friends," so often act incongruously. It was they who thought young John John was crazy when he claimed he'd fallen in love with Mary.

But once a wedding date is set, they assume him sane. Any change of heart or mind by John, after the invitations have been printed, and he is again considered crazy.

I say all this because I remember how hard it was. I was engaged, at an early age. The invitations were out, and the gifts were in, and the showers were over, and I suddenly woke up. He was handsome, I'd been obsessed by the desirability of frantically pins and suitcases, and it had all been fun. But forever? He wasn't my type.

It was all most embarrassing, and glibly, quite understated. Those who had tried to talk me out of being married in the first place now tried to talk me into it. They thought I was confused. I'd never thought, nor acted, more clearly.

When I finally did find the perfect man, many years later, I had no doubts. I could barely wait to get to the church. Most women I know, happily married, were the same way: mature and certain, flustered but untrusting. So this column is only to ask extra-troubled bride and groom you may know.

Nervousness and exhaustion are part of getting married. Sincere doubts, in my opinion, are not.

It is easy to fall in love with love, but it is not so easy to get married because you like the spotlight and the orange blossoms. Those youngsters who liked to play at courtship and suddenly realize they didn't want to play house are not necessarily fools.

One Million Installed to Date

Motorists Playing It Cool With Air Conditioning Units

By BEN PHILGAR
AP Automotive Writer

DETROIT — Motorists are playing it cooler this summer than ever before.

Having grown accustomed to air-conditioned homes, factories and offices they are now ordering cooling units for their cars at an all-time record clip.

More than 600,000 of the 1962 models, or better than 11 per cent, have rolled from the assembly lines with factory-installed air conditioning.

Independent dealer's normally install about 40 per cent of all such units, which would boost the total so far to roughly one million.

The factory installation rate had surpassed all previous years by April 1 and the final count may come close to doubling the 414,400 installed just two years ago.

Cooling units have become the rule, rather than the exception, in Lincoln (72 per cent), Cadillac (61 per cent) and Imperial (60 per cent). Oldsmobile, Buick, Thunderbird and Chrysler all are running well above 20 per cent.

And all of the 23 nameplates which offer factory-installed units (Valiant, Dodge Lancer and Mercury Meteor don't) show definite increases over 1961.

Ward's Automotive Reports recently called the demand for air-conditioners one of the auto industry's biggest gains this year in major equipment options.

Air conditioning units which would work in automobiles were invented in 1937 but it was late in the 1940s before they were produced commercially. The auto companies first offered them as options in 1953.

Today's units have the capacity to cool a five-room house. The good ones can cut 100-plus temperatures by 20 degrees within a couple of minutes.

Automobile air conditioners still are one of the most expensive options available. The companies de-bedroom, is never asked to withstand the bounce and shock of a moving automobile.

Air conditioning provides several benefits in addition to cooling. One is the dehumidifying action. Another is the reduction of dust and noise. And still another is the surprising effectiveness in shutting out air-borne pollen which leads to hay fever.

For motorists without the benefit of the cooling units, one company has come up with some suggestions for cooler driving by nibbling at the sources of heat a degree or two at a time. Choose light exterior car colors, especially roof and hood. These absorb less heat, so much so that when otherwise identical white and black cars were parked for an hour in the sun, the interior temperature of the white car was 15 degrees less than the black car.

Select woven upholstery which allows air to pass through it, or with nonwoven materials use a ventilated cushion to put an air space between you and the seat cover. Tinted or shaded window glass, often mandatory with factory-installed air conditioners, can in itself result in in-car temperatures five degrees cooler than with normal glass, since much less of the sun's heat passes through it.

Wear absorbent clothing. Fashion designer Jo Copeland, writing in Ford Times, insists skirts are definitely cooler than trousers for women, and adds that dresses, skirts and blouses in cotton and synthetic blends with some weight and body should be chosen over flimsy cottons which will wilt and cling uncomfortably to the body.

Glamour, Gangsters(?) Blend as Ex-Con Opens Night Club

CHICAGO (UPI) — Glamour queens mingled with tuxedo-clad police and possibly a gangster or two last night at the sell-out opening of an ex-convict's multimillion dollar motel and night club.

Headlining the show in the Club Gigi at ex-burglar Manny Skar's $18-million Sahara Inn North, near O'Hare International Airport, were rock 'n' roll singer Bobby Darin and comedian George Jessel.

Among those at rigatelle parties in the new "Las Vegas of the prairie" in suburban Schaumburg Park were actress Zsa Zsa Gabor and her mother. Also on the guest list were Darin's wife, actress Sandra Dee; and actresses Keely Smith and Martha Raye.

Darin asked Skar to rise and called for a standing ovation. About 150 of the audience, roughly half those in the room, obediently rose.

Darin thanks Skar, twice con-

the companion motel, Sahara South.

Police have described Skar as a known associate of mobsters, but Chicago Mayor Richard Daley said yesterday that authorities have been unable to turn up any evidence that crime syndicate figures had financial interests in the motel.

Meanwhile, plain clothes police of the organized crime detail were busy jotting down names and checking license plates at the Sahara parking lot, looking for the Chicago hoodlums who had been expected to attend.

If there were any representatives of gangland present, they lost themselves in the crowd.

Skar was under investigation by five city, county and state police units seeking possible grounds for revocation of liquor licenses at Sahara North and

Sonic Pile Driver Makes Big Noise in Industry

PROVIDENCE, R. I. — A sonic pile driver 20 times faster than conventional drivers has been developed by an East Providence construction company. It uses sound waves to achieve the same result as a 5,000-pound steam hammer driving a steel pipe pile with 50 strokes a minute.

In a test demonstration the sonic rig drove a pile 70 feet into the ground seven times and removed it six times while the steam hammer was driving a similar pile only 47 feet.

Note Big Increase in Bids for Merit Scholarships

EVANSTON, Ill. — A total of 586,813 high-school students took National Merit Scholarship tests last year compared with 58,158 in 1956, the year the program started. The number of four-year scholarships awarded has also risen, but not in the same proportion — from 555 in 1956 to 945 last year. Support from companies, unions and other groups and individuals has also increased — from 24 to 133.

There are now 3,275 National Merit Scholars in college.

(Can't Get Through Otherwise)

'Open Up Golden Gate'

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — Moving to California? Here are a few tips culled from a government report:

"Immigrants . . . should furnish themselves (if a family of five or six persons) with one good wagon, four or five yoke of oxen, three or four cows, three horses, and each person 250 pounds of flour, 150 pounds of bacon, 30 pounds of coffee, 50 pounds of sugar, 30 pounds of rice, two good blankets, and a few cooking utensils."

"Every male person over 14 years of age should have one good rifle, 10 pounds of powder, 30 pounds of lead, 2,000 percussion caps and a good horse."

PLANTING ADVICE

"On arriving on the banks of the Sacramento and finding a convenient piece of land that the immigrant can occupy, he should begin sowing wheat from December to February; beans, peas and corn in April or May; and should also procure himself cows two years old, worth from $4 to $5, a stallion at $15 or $20, and a few sheep at $2 each. One hundred cows will produce from 70 to 90 calves between the second and 12th months. From $1,000 to $1,500 in cash will start an enterprising man in breeding animals for a California farm."

The report was made by Thomas O. Larkin, U.S. Consul at Monterey, to the Secretary of State in 1845—three years before gold was discovered and five years before California was admitted to the Union.

Just Like a City Now

Oh, That Beirut Traffic!

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI)—Sadly, inevitably, the fun is going out of an amateur sport once unmatched for daring and excitement-driving in Beirut.

You can still slalom the wrong way down a one-way street or scare nimble pedestrians back on to the pavement, but it's getting harder.

Gradually, restrictions are appearing.

A few months ago there were

College Project Meets Challenge

Kalamazoo Switches From 2 Semesters to 4-Quarter Plan

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — Like all small private colleges, Kalamazoo College faced a major challenge in coping with fast-rising costs and an expected increase in student enrollment.

To meet the challenge the 750 student school embarked last fall on a bold curricula revision, switching from a two-semester academic year to a four-quarter plan.

It was hailed as a revolutionary approach to the cost and space problem, but first indication was that it had a hidden bonus factor: dramatically improved student performance.

The object of the Kalamazoo plan, a combination of several ideas already in practice elsewhere, is to obtain a rich and varied educational experience while making existing classroom, dormitory and dining hall space stretch at least one-third farther.

The main features of the plan are: three on-campus quarters a year with vacations spread among summer, fall, winter and spring; study at a foreign university and credit for nonresident quarters during which the student works for a business concern or social agency and pursues an independent study program.

A typical student would be on-campus only 10 of his 15 undergraduate quarters, some of them summer quarters.

The result is that the college plant operates at full capacity year-around. The space goes even further because of the time the students spend off campus.

Another innovation was a reduction of courses undertaken simultaneously from four or five to three. Those courses were scheduled five days a week and out-of-class research work was assigned in addition to normal "homework."

Pleads Guilty to Charge of Reckless Driving

Marvin Ostrander, 9414 Elizabeth Lake Road, Union Lake, pleaded guilty to a charge of reckless driving yesterday in Waterford Township Justice Court and was placed on one year's probation by Justice of the Peace Patrick R. Daly.

Ostrander pleaded innocent to driving under the influence of liquor after an accident last month. He changed his plea on the reduced charge at yesterday's trial.

Three R's No Longer Only Objective of Education

Schools Stress—Sound Mind, Body

Ancient writers and philosophers often expressed the thought that the ideal state for mankind exists only with "a sound mind in a sound body."

Through the ages however, man's desire for education was focused almost entirely on mental development. The attitude that prevailed emphasized that knowledge was power and what was gained by physical strength was more for brutes.

The little red schoolhouse in America concentrated on the three R's—Reading, writing and arithmetic, but added another R—Recess, a period between classes during which the pupils were able to unleash their physical energies.

Today, our government recognizes the great need for development of muscular sense, generally called the "sixth sense."

The physical education program in the Pontiac School system is a strong part of the total educa-

BUILD MUSCLES

The body is said to have more than 660 different muscles and right from the first grade the development of these muscles begins with games and exercises and continuing in upper grades with conditioning, weights and skills in specific sports.

First graders take part in animal mimetics such as frog jump and elephant walks. They graduate to second grade duck walk, crab walk or inch worm. Then comes the chicken walk, lame dog and seal walk in third grade plus numerous stunts and tumbling activities.

Grandfathers and even today's young parents find themselves somewhat bewildered when junior comes home from school talking about his knee-dips, the Chinese get-up, the Indian leg wrestle or the Siamese twin walk.

He may also tell the folks how well he did in Danish bounders, or as dog catcher or in crows and cranes.

Moving into junior high school the activities begin to concentrate on individual and team sports, nearly doubling the amount of time as in the elementary level. The physical fitness pilot program becomes more intensive in high school and development is charted to the body measurements of each boy.

MANY ACTIVITIES

Participation is available in 25 different sports and fitness activities, including archery, badminton, basketball, bowling, canoeing, conditioning, dancing, fencing, fieldball, gymnastics, hiking, horseback riding, paddle ball, rhythms, soccer, speedball, skating, skiing, swimming, table tennis, tennis, volleyball, weight-training and wrestling.

The elders who never knew such activities as part of their school days may frown on the purpose of such a program, theorizing that the intent is to build muscle-bound bodies rather than space conscious minds.

The concept of the physical program as outlined by the President's council on youth fitness and as planned and organized by the Pontiac school system has eight objectives: physical development, physical skills development, mental development, social and moral development, emotional and psychological development, health development, safety development and recreation development.

Put them all together and the total personality of each school child, our contributing citizen of the future, is molded—sound in mind and body.

Man Killed in Fire in Titan Missile Silo

CHICO, Calif. (UPI) — A civilian worker was killed yesterday when a fire erupted in a Titan missile silo, the Air Force said.

It marked the second accident in two weeks at the missile complex, located six miles northwest of Chico. An explosion in a Titan silo hospitalized seven and injured 70 on May 24.

The victim was identified as Edward Eugene Taylor, 32, Chico, who died of burns.

The victim was working underground with other workers when the fire broke out about 4:45 a.m. in a ventilator shaft. The blaze was controlled within an hour, the division of forestry said.

Men's manners have changed. Nowadays they don't pick up a lady's handkerchief, but they do kick it over to where she can get it herself. . . . Punctuality has been defined as the art of guessing just how late the other person is going to be. —Earl Wilson.

U. of M. Lists Special Degrees

McNamara, Cantinflas Are Two to Be Honored on June 16

ANN ARBOR (AP) — The University of Michigan will confer honorary degrees upon Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara, and Mario Moreno, Mexico's famed comedian known as Cantinflas, at its 118th commencement ceremonies June 16.

Others to be honored are poets Robert Frost and Theodore Roethke, businessmen Stanley S. Kresge and Fred W. Bartlett, William C. Steere, director of the New York Botanical Garden, and these men from government service:

Theodore Maccus of the Alliance for Progress; Robert V. Roosa of the U.S. Treasury Department, and Jerome B. Wiesner, special assistant to President Kennedy.

Moore, of Mexico City, will receive a doctor of humanities degree, while McNamara will receive a doctorate of law. These are the only two recipients who do not already hold degrees from Michigan or who did not attend the university.

Bartlett, of Stamford, Conn., retired chairman of Socomey Mobil Oil Co., will receive a doctor of science degree, as will Roosa, undersecretary for monetary affairs. Steere and Wiesner.

Frost, who now lives in Cambridge, Mass., and Roethke, a professor of English at the University of Washington, will receive doctor of law degrees. So will Kresge, a Detroit and president of the Kresge Foundation, and Moosman, a native of Spain, now living in Washington.

Senior Services (Peace Corps?) May Be Started

WASHINGTON (AP) — A proposal for establishment of a federally aided senior service corps, patterned after the Peace Corps, to work in volunteer jobs in schools, hospitals and welfare activities is being studied by the President's council on aging.

The council, set up on May 15, authorized the study at its first meeting yesterday.

"The President's appeal for service strikes a responsive chord among older people," said Secretary of Welfare Abraham Ribicoff in announcing the study. Ribicoff is chairman of the council.

"They want to do something for their country during their retirement years."

Campaign Issues To Be Aired by Dems

LANSING (AP)—Democrats will be indoctrinated on the "real meat of 1962 campaign issues" at a series of conferences across the state this summer.

Neil Staebler, Democratic national committeeman and candidate for Michigan congressman-at-large, said party leaders and experts in various fields will discuss accomplishments, plans and goals under the administrations of President Kennedy and Gov. Swainson.

The first party is slated Saturday in Ann Arbor. Others are tentatively set June 17 in St. Ignace, June 23 in Flint, June 30 in Grand Rapids, July 8 in Battle Creek and July 15 in Marquette. Others are planned for the 8th, 9th and 10th congressional districts, Staebler said.

Some 36,000 Americans live in Calgary, Alberta, Canada. Calgary is the center of Canada's oil industry.

Belafonte Gets in Dixie Hotel

Singer's Group Refused Service in Restaurant in Atlanta

ATLANTA (UPI)—Singer Harry Belafonte and a racially mixed group of entertainers cracked the segregation barrier at a downtown hotel yesterday, but were refused service in the hotel's privately leased restaurant.

The Negro entertainer said he and his party, which included Rev. Martin Luther King Jr., Southern integration leader, were turned away from the fashionable Atlanta Cabana Hotel's "King's Inn" restaurant.

Belafonte was the chief attraction at a benefit performance last night for the Southern Christian Leadership Council (SCLC), a desegregation group headed by Rev. Martin Luther King.

The singer said he and the members of his group were "mature enough to hold all of the city of Atlanta responsible" for the segregation incident.

Famed Acting Couple to Help Launch Theater

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — Jessica Tandy and Hume Cronyn, husband and wife in private life, have signed as members of the repertory company that will launch the new Tyrone Guthrie theater here in May 1963.

The first season, running through September, is to comprise revival of four period plays, yet to be chosen by Sir Tyrone.

OKs Loan for Dearborn

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Housing Administration has announced it is loaning Dearborn, Mich., $16,000 to plan its program for 80 low-rent homes, all to be designed for exclusive occupancy by the elderly.

No Plans to Increase Marines in Thailand

HONOLULU (AP) — Navy Undersecretary Paul B. Fay Jr. says there are no plans to increase the number of U.S. Marines serving in Thailand to help defend that country's border against communism.

Fay made the statement at a news conference Wednesday night shortly after arrival at Hickam Air Force Base. He is beginning a month-long tour of naval installations in the Pacific.

Fay will remain in Honolulu until Friday.

He said he did not know of any move to replace Marines in Thailand with U.S. Army troops.

Need OK to Change Oil

HAVANA (U) — Cuban motorists no longer may drive in for an oil change and lubrication when they feel like it. Managers of the nationalized filling stations have been made responsible for servicing only cars that need it, the interior trade ministry announced yesterday.

Solon 'Avoided' by GOP Chiefs

Rep. Andersen Claims Leaders Evading Him; Name Linked With Estes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Carl Andersen, R-Minn., accused Republican leaders yesterday of cold-shouldering him since his name was connected with Billie Sol Estes. He appealed to House colleagues to "come say hello — come shake my hand."

Andersen, in an impassioned House speech, said his conscience was clear because he had done nothing wrong. He also accused a syndicated columnist (Drew Pearson) of trying to smear him.

Andersen said previously he received $1,000 from Estes, now under indictment for fraud, in exchange for 40 shares of stock in a coal mine owned by the Andersen family.

Andersen told the House some of his fellow legislators and old friends had been "shying away" from him since his name was brought into the Estes case.

CITIZEN HALLERCK He specifically mentioned House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck, Rep. William E. Miller, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Rep. Ben F. Jensen, R-Iowa, a fellow member of the appropriations committee.

"Some of you have been shying away from me," Andersen said, his voice apparently near breaking. "Come and say hello — come shake my hand."

Jensen arose to tell Andersen, "You're imagining things." He said he had nothing but the highest regard for Andersen.

Andersen then apologized for mentioning Jensen, saying that he was upset by what he called unfair attacks on him in the Estes matter.

Expect Nomination Will Go to Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's nomination of Matthew H. McCloskey as ambassador to Ireland was expected to go to the Senate today.

Kennedy announced the nomination late Wednesday.

McCloskey, 69, is a leading Democratic fund raiser and Philadelphia contractor. He would replace Grant Stockdale on July 6. Stockdale, a Miami real estate man, was named to the Dublin post early in the Kennedy administration.

McCloskey was Democratic national treasurer from 1955 until he resigned in April.

Picked Up on Everest

KATMANDU, Nepal (U) — A chartered U.S. helicopter lifted two frostbitten members of India's Mt. Everest expedition from a base camp at the 13,000-foot level to a local American hospital yesterday. They were to be sent on to New Delhi for further treatment.

Laotians Have Own Way of Life

Vientiane Under Illusion of Peace

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
VIENTIANE, Laos — Life is leisurely in Vientiane, and in its dusty streets there is no hint that this is a center of world tensions. Along its two main streets, pedicab drivers lean into their handlebars, towing passengers on errands which have no urgency, and in their open-front shops Vietnamese, Thai or Chinese merchants flick their mops in a tolerant war against the dust which drifts over floors, counters and merchandise.

Coconut palms rustling in the hot wind, the brilliant red blossoms of the flame trees and the neat, high-peaked, white stucco houses of former French colonial administrators create the atmosphere of a colonial city at the turn of the century and add to the illusion of a people living in a more peaceful, less urgent time. Nor is it all an illusion, for the Laotians are a people to whom urgency is foreign, whether it be in work or war. In contrast to the terrorism which occasionally breaks out in Saigon and is a way of life in Algiers, there is none of that here. If there are Pathet Lao in Vientiane, they come only as another Laotian, perhaps only to purchase a small transistor radio, which is a favorite piece of equipment among the guerrillas. Hotel room doors are left unlocked, for there is not a sin of the Laotians.

The United States has little to show for its $300-million investment in Laos. Open sewers run along Vientiane's streets and the city has no water supply.

'Advise, Consent' Premier Aids Paralyzed Girl

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington premier of "Advise and Consent" was held last night to benefit Patti Corte, the orphaned and paralyzed daughter of UPI White House photographer Charlie Corte, who was killed last year in an auto crash. Patti, 15, was flown from New York's Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation for the event.

The girl was paralyzed from the neck down in the accident that took the life of her father, mother and an aunt. Her brother Kevin, 8, was injured but has now recovered and is living with relatives.

The hospital has reported that Patti is making some progress.

The capital premier of the Washington-filmed movie was held in two theaters. In addition to the Patti Corte fund, administered by the White House News Photographers Association, a local hospital benefited from the performances.

"Advise and Consent" producer Otto Preminger and two of its actors, Walter Pidgeon and George Grizzard, were present for the premiere.

Buildings still show the scars of machine gun and mortar fire which erupted in the coup of 1960, depositing neutralist Souvanna Phouma and installing Prince Boun Oum. But to the people of Laos these no more than the communists, which threatens to engulf their country by force, are matters of small concern. Of more concern is the new fountain which the government has built in the center of the sun-baked city square. When it is running in the evening, they gather by the score to watch the play of the waters.

In this way, then, the Laotian expresses his belief that those times will pass and that a way of life in which he wants no part also will pass.

The Laotians are products of ancient kingdoms, of Buddhism and long colonial rule.

Under each, life, if not progressive, has been easy. The land supplies the food and thatched palm leaves the shelter. By nature the Laotian is a neutral.

And when Phoumi or Boun Oum speak of war to the death against communism or accuse the United States of deserting them, the Laotian couldn't care less. Let the Indians, the Thais or the Chinese become the merchants and let others fight the wars.

5 More Negroes Leave Alabama on Bus to Hyannis

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Five young Negro men left here by bus last night for Hyannis, Mass., their fares paid by the Montgomery Citizens Council in a "reverse freedom ride."

The group brought to 13 the number of Negroes here given bus tickets and expense money to relocate in northern cities.

Citizens Council Chairman C. H. Lancaster said a Negro woman and her 10 children would leave soon for another northern city.

Fiji Legend Explains Shape of Nut Trees

SUVA, Fiji — Fiji's turtle-nut trees are said to be the sea god's reminder of the folly of a curious man.

After an ancient ceremony—continued to the present—in which gigantic turtles were called from the sea by male villagers, the ritual spot was taboo until the next day. One man, however, hid to see what happened. The sea god rose from the depths and the man died in its terrible gaze. On the spot sprang up the first tree with nuts shaped like a turtle shell.

Amish Convert Few

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — All the Amish in the United States are descended from a relatively small group of ancestors, since their conservative sect has made few converts. One researcher has found that the typical Amish family averages 8.4 children.

Old Fire Trucks Find No Pastures in Retirement

WOODVILLE, Mass. — Old fire trucks were retired to pasture — but what happens to old fire trucks?

Charles Henry Farrar, fire truck manufacturer, says the odds are not always bleak.

Some are sold to small towns which cannot afford a new truck in the $15,000 to $20,000 range. Others are purchased by organizations which want them for parade purposes. Occasionally an individual will buy one for summer property protection.

The average life of a town fire truck given good usage is about 20 years, Farrar says.

European Nations Plan Joint Venture in Space

LONDON — Eight European countries have agreed on a program for the construction of space vehicles for peaceful uses. Britain, France, Australia, Belgium, the Netherlands, Italy, Spain and West Germany make up the group.

They hope to combine within a few years, a first-stage British rocket, a second-stage French rocket, and a third-stage German propellant to lift their first satellite for research and commerce.

Top GOP Donor Is Michigan

Payments Gathered at Caucus of National Finance Committee

DETROIT (UPI) — The Republican National Finance Committee yesterday gathered payments for a 1962 political drive it hopes will net 40 more House seats.

Michigan, host state at the quarterly meeting of the committee, had the honor of making the largest contribution to the national war chest, a check for $10,730 mostly earned through a series of major stage shows called "GO-Parties."

Some 125 GOP fund raising leaders from 40 states attended the meeting, headed by Courtney Burke, Cleveland, chairman of the committee.

Speakers included Sen. Jack Miller of Iowa, who said the gap between the Kennedy Administration and business is widening, and ex-Gov. Harold Hanley of Indiana.

Don E. Ahrens, Michigan Republican finance chairman, said the party has pretty well cleared up its debts for the 1960 campaign and is pushing for money to meet 1962 quotas. He said Michigan now has paid about 30 per cent of its $200,000 quota for Senate and Congressional campaigns.

Ahrens said the party's opportunities to pick up Senate seats are slim, but the party is hopeful of gaining 40 House seats.

He said the GO-Parties in six Michigan cities—Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Detroit, Birmingham and Flint—drew more than 30,000 persons, who paid $40,000 gross. Ahrens said the GO-Party stage show idea was being used in other states and was drawing more people into party participation than did the $100-a-plate close-circuit dinners held in 1958 and 1960.

'Average' Name Hiding Figures Under Barrel?

WASHINGTON (AP)—Would the National Bureau of Standards have more glamour if it were named the Bureau of forms and figures?

Dr. Allen V. Astin, director, was testifying before the House Space Committee Wednesday on behalf of a bill to give the bureau more leeway in temporary employment of scientists. Several members said they suspect the bureau, as an old-line agency doing highly exacting scientific work in support of other agencies' publicized programs, gets crowded out of the limelight.

Rep. Bob Casey, D-Tex., suggested, "Maybe you need a more glamorous name. A good public relations man should be able to think up one."

"Bureau of forms and figures," suggested Rep. Ken Hechler, D, W. Va.

A star may farm from cosmic gas and dust, with gravitational attraction playing a major role. A gravitational pressure builds up within the star, nuclear reactions begin. Hydrogen may be converted into helium—the same fusion process as occurs in a hydrogen bomb.

Catholic Service Unit to Honor 3 Members

Reverend Fr. Swithun Bowers, OMI, will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of Catholic Social Services of Oakland County, to be held Monday 7 p.m. at the Pagoda Inn on West Maple Road in Clawson.

Father Bowers is an international figure in the field of social welfare. He is dean of the school of social welfare, St. Patrick's College, Ottawa.

Three board members, Mrs. William J. Dean, 17 Ottawa Drive, Joseph Saracino, former Berkley resident who recently moved to South Bend, Ind., and Kirk Mills, 711 Harmon Road, Birmingham, will be given special recognition for the years of service as members of the board of directors.

This Bus Has Class ... but Not Much Else

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—A former Fifth Avenue bus from New York, vintage 1935, is one of the attractions this year at Six Flags Over Texas, a recreation spot between Dallas and Fort Worth.

The Great bus, which has a top speed of 44 miles an hour and gets there and a half miles to the gallon, was purchased from a Houston collector who had produced it from a Hollywood movie studio.

The bus will be used as a shuttle between the 110-acre Six Flags Park and Six Flags Inn.

'Uh, Sorry to Put You Out of Your Way, Sir'

GUNNISON, Colo. (U)—Bill Koot drives a school bus between Gunnison and Sapinero in western Colorado. One chilly night he wheeled the empty bus up to his house and started to get out for the hot supper awaiting him.

A 6-year-old boy reared up from the back seat and sleepily asked: "Where are we, Mr. Koot?" He had stretched out on the rear seat and slept through his stop.

There was nothing for Koot to do but talk the boy home—a 50-mile round trip.

Virginia Votes Sterilization Act

Law Approves Broad Birth-Control Measure for Special Cases

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI)—The Virginia Legislature had enacted a law approving sexual sterilization as a birth control measure.

Under the act, physicians will have a legal right to sterilize adult patients, men or women, who request it. The operation can be performed only after:

—The patient has been given a full explanation of the consequences.

—The physician has brought the patient in consultation with another doctor.

—The patient has had 30 days to think over the operation.

Present Virginia law allows sterilization only for medical necessity—disease or certain types of mental illness.

Sponsors of the new measure said physicians should have legal protection to sterilize patients who wish to cease having children.

The new law exempts physicians from civil suit as the result of a voluntary sterilization.

Several physicians testified at public hearings in the legislature that they had sterilized many women who wished to cease bearing children.

One physician said one of every 10 women who gave birth in his hospital later asked to be sterilized.

Chief opposition to the measure came from Roman Catholic organizations which contended the proposal violated natural law against mutilation.

State Sen. John A. K. Donovan, attacking the bill on the senate floor, said Virginia would become the first state to permit sterilization without cause.

Overloads Hard on Tires

AKRON, Ohio — The tread life of tires on cars with a 20 per cent overload declines 20 per cent. As the load increases, the tires run hotter and wear out faster. Tire company engineers say that keeping your car's trunk clear of unnecessary heavy articles can prolong tire wear.

Lengthen Battery Life

CHICAGO — There are two ways of prolonging your flashlight batteries' life, manufacturers say. First, keep them away from high temperatures; they are designed to operate best at 70 degrees. Second, use your flashlights now and then; intermittent use is good for them.

Medical Center Planned by City

To Be Built in Honor of Long-Time Doctor in Kansas

WINFIELD, Kan. (UPI)—Medicine has come a long way since the first doctor drove his horse and buggy into this south-central Kansas town.

Plans were announced recently for a $2-million medical center to be built here by the H. L. Snyder Memorial Research Foundation of Winfield.

Snyder, known to thousands of Kansas as "Dr. H. L.," practiced medicine here for nearly four decades before his death in 1940.

The Foundation plans to build on a 22-acre site a medical center including a clinic building, a research laboratory, an additional special research building, a dental office building, a diagnostic receiving unit, a home for the aged and a motel for patients and visitors.

Construction is to begin this summer on the $200,000 medical clinic building, the Foundation said. It reported that more than $200,000 has been pledged so far.

When completed, the building will be leased to a group of Winfield physicians and the income will be used to further research in cancer, mental health, heart disease, multiple sclerosis and allied diseases.

Japan Film Output Tops

TOKYO — Japan produces more motion pictures than any other country, the Japan Federation of Motion Picture Producers claims. Between April 1, 1960, and March 31, 1961, 547 feature-length films, use your flashlights now and then; intermittent use is good for them.

TULSA — George Washington's father had an axe to grind with him one Sunday recently. George, 35, went for a drive.

So did his father, Fred Washington. When the elder Washington slowed to make a left turn at an intersection, his car was struck from behind by another vehicle. George was driving the other car.

Tsarapkin Charges:

'N-Bomb Polluting Ocean'

GENEVA, (AP)—Russia's Semyon K. Tsarapkin declared yesterday that the warhead of Monday's unsuccessful American nuclear test at Johnson Island is now spreading contamination through the Pacific ocean.

The U.S. Atomic Energy Commission said in Washington earlier this week there was no possibility of the warhead exploding after it fell into the sea.

Tsarapkin made the statement in the three-nation nuclear test talks while trying to show that the West's "aggressive military policies and acceleration of the nuclear arms race" are directly responsible for the test ban deadlock.

He said the Johnson Island bomb fell into shallow water and is now "spreading through the Pacific Ocean, contaminating marine life and many people."

U.S. delegate Charles C. Stille and British Minister of State Joseph Goforth ignored Tsarapkin's charges.

In the United States last year enough shirts were laundered by professional laundries to provide one for every human being on earth—2.852 billion of them.

Detroit Man Drowns Trying to Retrieve Pole

WALLACEBURG, Ont. (AP)—Curtis Horn, 55, of Detroit drowned yesterday when he waded into Bear Creek to retrieve his fishing pole.

Melvin Walker of the 4 m.e. advised in Detroit said the accident occurred after they chased Horn's pole 200 yards downstream. Walker left his companion to go after his own pole. The body was recovered about three hours later.

Oklahoma Candidate Sweeps Whole Precinct

NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—The city election voting was light. Constitution candidate Ray Barnard noted one precinct went for him 100 percent. He got the only vote cast.

Saves Neighbor Girl as His Son Drowns

WHITE ROCK, S.D. (UPI)—Farmer Norman Doll had only seconds to decide.

Doll, father of 10, was planting a field at his northeast South Dakota farm near here yesterday. His son and a neighbor girl were seated on the bank of a creek, dangling their feet in the stream. He heard cries and glanced over toward the creek. The bank had given way, dropping the two children into the water.

In the stream, swollen to a 7-foot depth by heavy rains, Doll saw his son, Dennis, 11, and a neighbor girl, Judy Lehman, 14, struggling for their lives.

Doll never hesitated. He raced to the stream, dove into the water and swam to the girl. The farmer towed her to safety.

Then Doll returned to the stream for his son. But the swift-moving water had closed over the boy's head and swept his body down stream.

Dennis drowned. There are about 2,800 languages in the world today.

Teen-Agers Forsake Summer Leisure for Vacation Jobs

By The Associated Press

America's teen-agers apparently do not believe that the best things in life are free.

Not too many of them, as they pour out of the high schools and colleges for summer vacations, are dreaming of a shady river bank and a fishing pole.

They are more likely to be dreaming of hunting bores in a warehouse, sitting behind a desk in an office, running a tractor, or any of a hundred other occupations.

When school's out, they want the money coming in.

There have always been youngsters wanting summer work, from the days when most of them went back to the farm.

There have always been the poor boys and girls who needed the money for more schooling, and the ambitious ones in a hurry to start a career or prove they're grown up.

But employment officials all over the country are facing increasing hordes of young summer job-seekers, and offering various speculations on why there are so many.

FOR COSTLY TASTES

Miss Joyce Graydon, guidance supervisor for the Columbia, S. C., school system, says college students usually want the money to continue their education, but the increasing number of high-school-age job seekers more often want spending money for increasingly expensive tastes.

"The boys want cars, and not jalopies, either," she says, "and the girls want larger wardrobes."

James Cuff, district manager of the State Employment Security Department at Nashville, Tenn., thinks one reason for the increasing teen-age job applications is that working in the summer has become a fact—the thing to do.

Cuff doesn't quite understand why the fact, but speculates it may be because the kids don't have enough to occupy them during the summer.

A Connecticut employment official disagrees. It's not "lack of something to do," he says, but simply money that sends the boys and girls out to hunt jobs.

College expenses are going up every year, he says, and youngsters now feel they must have things once considered luxuries—television sets, radios, cars.

"The kid who's looking is the one who's eager and has a goal," says Mrs. Eileen Cassidy, Los Angeles employment official.

"It's partly a status matter too," she adds. "If a boy's friend gets the job, the first boy wants to get in the swim."

TIERED OF STUDY

"In this area of suburbs, a youngster is likely to have parents who want to get ahead. This carries over to the youngsters."

Dr. Lawrence Shropshire, public school superintendent at Wichita, Kan., thinks the "teen-agers" get "fed up with working just with their heads, with abstract, academic courses."

"They need and want laboratory experience, working with their hands—and they have an impelling desire to earn their own money and to be independent."

"There's youthful prestige in owning a car," adds Shropshire, "and many parents can't afford to provide them—tell the youngster to 'earn it yourself, and the money to keep it running.'"

A counselor at a Cincinnati high school cites a classic example from the other side of the tracks.

MUST EARN AT 16

Sadie, a 16-year-old high school junior, wants to study nursing, and has to raise for herself the $750 she will need for the first year of training. She'll need somewhat more than that, too, because she now shares clothes with a younger sister.

"I know my mother won't let me take our clothes," she says, "because my sister needs them."

Practically all the experts point out that, in addition to the other reasons cited, there's a simple statistical reason for so many youthful job-hunters—the fact that there was a baby boom at the end of World War II. The same population explosion that jammed the schools the rest of the year is jamming the employment offices now.

And the fact is that in practically all areas of the country, only a fraction of those seeking full-time jobs will find them.

The Texas Employment Commission has put a new group of "youth coordinators" on the job after its experience last year, when it was able to find 3,170 permanent jobs and 1,838 summer jobs for young people—but had 16,000 applicants.

Florida's state employment service estimates that only one out of five teen-aged job seekers found work last summer, and this summer will be about the same.

A New York state employment official, Alex Altheim, says that despite an extensive program of farm work for city boys, and various types of "made" summer work, "we couldn't possibly cope with the demand... even if our entire staff was working only on summer jobs and not taking care of others at all."

Russell Hand, manager of the Omaha office of the Nebraska state employment service, makes a similar prediction—only about one-third of the expected 3,500 applicants will find jobs.

An Illinois official of a supermarket chain says his vacation replacement needs have been met long since by young friends and relatives of store managers.

ONLY 50 PER CENT

Washington, D. C., officials, despite a program that found jobs for more than 3,500 teen-agers last summer, and part-time work for many more, expects about half those who apply this summer to be turned down.

The Missouri division of employment security has about 2,250 youths registered now for summer work—and 53 summer jobs on file. Los Angeles officials expect 87,000 teen-age job seekers in their area, and predict success for one out of five. A San Francisco official says 50,000 sought summer jobs in the San Francisco Bay area last year. Of 50,000 seekers in the city itself, 1,900 were placed.

Only a few state employment services, Alabama and Ohio among them, report slightly improved job opportunities this year for the youngsters, due to improved local economic conditions or expanded "hire youth" programs.

One big reason why it will be tough for the teen-agers to find jobs is that it is tough for many of their elders. In sections where adult unemployment is too high, employers who must pay minimum wages are more inclined to hire adults, even for seasonal work.

An employment official in Baltimore quotes one major employer there:

"Why should I hire someone who doesn't even have a high school diploma when there are guys walking the streets with one and two years of college?"

The bugaboo of the adult labor force—automation—is hurting young job hunters, too.

Mechanization on the farm has eliminated countless jobs, like the bean picking in Wisconsin that used to attract many youths, but is now done by machine.

Self-service in groceries and other retail stores has cut into the unskilled job total.

And a big corporation in New Orleans, which employed 15 youngsters every summer but will hire none this year because of new office machinery, is typical of many across the nation.

On the golf courses, caddy carts are replacing the human (and usually teen-age) caddy. Summer job sources like excursion boats and amusement parks are dwindling in favor of television's mass-produced entertainment. Machines set up the pins in the bowling alley.

Kentucky's youth employment coordinator, Harold Conger, sums it up this way:

"When you compare the number of people needed to produce any one article a few years ago with present output, you find fewer workers and more machines."

One employer in Norfolk, Va., who has hundreds of applicants for about 10 summer jobs on which "a kid doesn't even learn anything," laments its inability to supply parents.

"Children are being made to feel they must get a job at too early an age," he said. "Fifteen is too young to do an inside job all summer. There ought to be some sort of reappraisal, to convince kids that there are too many other things that ought to be done in the summer."

Like sitting on a shady river bank and fishing.

Easy Does It . . . Don't Be Embarrassed, Pop Go Ahead, Explain Stocks to Children

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the ordeals that all parents must go through comes when their children begin asking questions about the stock market.

Many parents are embarrassed by the experience and are reluctant to be drawn into such a discussion.

Fathers will try to change the subject and mothers will pretend that something is burning in the oven.

Child psychologists tell us, however, that it is wrong to be evasive. The books say it is perfectly natural for children to become curious about stocks when they reach a certain age.

It is a natural outgrowth of their earlier experience with piggy banks, and if handled properly they will grow up with a wholesome attitude toward the market.

When such questions arise, parents should answer them in a frank, straightforward manner.

Otherwise, the child will hear about it from his or her playmates and may be exposed to misinformation that will prove harmful in later life.

Knowing the right way to approach the problem does not make the task any easier, however, as I found out last week.

My daughter happened to notice the newspaper headlines about the wild market fluctuations. It was her first awareness, or awakening of interest, in stocks and she cornered me for clarification.

With the simple directness that makes children such a joy, she went right to the heart of the matter.

"Where do dividends come from, big daddy?" she asked. At first I was too shocked to reply. But I realize that if I chickened out, she would never again feel free to talk things over with me.

To help put us both at ease, I went out and hired a maid to sit on my lap while I explained it to her.

HIS EXPLANATION

"As you grow older," I said, "you will begin to feel an urge to invest. This is a normal feeling and is nothing to be ashamed of. It is merely mother nature's way of telling us that we are ready to produce capital gains."

"It is important, however, that you control the urge until the right broker comes along."

To my relief, she accepted the explanation without further inquiry and went happily off to play jackstraws. But I'm dreading the day when she asks about the Securities & Exchange Commission.

Cuba's Oil Industry Reported Doing Poorly

NEW YORK (UPI) — Oil Facts magazine says since Castro's Cuba confiscated private oil facilities in late 1960, the government has drilled only 15 oil wells and none is commercially successful.

It also said thousands of Cuban vehicles are out of service because of a lack of spare parts, and mechanics and erratic supply of quality gasoline.

Executives Get School at Work

Conference Classes Held at Office for Junior Officials

NEW YORK (UPI) — The young man on the way up is getting a fresh boost these days by going to "school" right where he works.

Some leading industrial concerns have adopted a new method of training their junior and middle level executives for top management posts.

It's called the Conference Management Training Plan and consists of a series of conferences after business hours.

The executives, working from texts supplied by the Alexander Hamilton Institute, executive training specialists, discuss facts supplied by the texts in the light of their own company's activities and are assigned tests.

The programs are conducted without instructors. At each session a member acts as the conference leader. The program is directed and administered by the company on an in-plant basis with each participant paying at least part of its cost.

Firms running such "schools" include Caterpillar Tractor Co., General Aniline & Film Co., and Brunswick Pulp and Paper Co.

Cigarette Machines Being Placed in Homes

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Stanford University professor writes that a "surprising" number of cigarette vending machines are popping up in private Australian homes.

Prof. James S. Ewing, marketing consultant to an Australian firm, said the machines are mostly in the homes of heavy smokers apparently fearful of running out when shops are closed.

Named Leader of 'Pioneers'

Mrs. Donald E. Adams of West Walton Boulevard, Waterford Township, was chosen president of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society at the 88th annual meeting at Devon Gables Wednesday evening.

Maurice F. Cole was named vice president; Miss Erma

Howard, secretary; and Mrs. John H. Patterson, treasurer. Elected to serve on the historical commission were Miss Alice Serrell as chairman,

Mrs. E. V. Howlett and Laura Hunter. Serving as directors for the coming year will be R. C. Cummings, Miss Jessie Brewer, Mrs. Marion Hodges Benter, Mrs. L. L. Dunlap, Mrs. Harry Goring, Ernest Hughwaite, John E. Linbury and Mrs. Earl Mastick.

Other directors will be Mrs. Allan H. Monroe, Miss Louise Faddock, Harcourt S. Patterson, Mrs. Whitney Prall, Mrs. Harvey Place, Mrs. A. W. Selden, Mrs. Ross Stockwell, John H. Patterson and Mrs. John Windiate.

Among the centennial farmers of Oakland County honored during the social hour preceding the banquet were Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Arnold of Oxford, the Robert Callows of West Bloomfield Township and Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Fagan of Holly. Others recognized were Mr. and Mrs. John Lester of Lake Orion, the Harley Gibbons of Farmington, Dr. Sarah Van Hoesen Jones and Miss Serrell of Rochester, and Miss Mary Chapman and Mrs. Janette Bathum of Waterford Township.

Ernest Huthwaite offered the invocation, and Marshall E. Smith, president, gave a brief prayer in memory of the late Joe Haas, a director of the organization for many years.

GOWNS OF 1880's
A rollicking trio known as The Silhouettes, costumed in gowns of the 1880's sang "Dearie," "Whispering" and "Singin' in the Rain."

Martha Johnson was wearing a white graduation gown owned by Miss Blanche Avery, retired French and English teacher at Pontiac Central High School. Sheila Jacobson and Margaret Ann Beattie were also in long white gowns and large "merry widow" hats veiled in white maline.

Matthew Loper was guitar accompanist.

Members approved the report of the special committee on the proposed union of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society and the Oakland County Historical Foundation.

Dr. Willis F. Dunbar, chairman of the history department at Western Michigan University and I had only an hour to spend with her.

While I was there (I hadn't been there ten minutes), her cell phone rang. It was a mutual friend and not a long distance call.

My hostess hung on the phone for twenty minutes, making small talk, while I just sat there twiddling my thumbs and getting madder by the minute.

She knew I had only an hour to spend with her. What should I have done?

Marshall E. Smith, president of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society, pins names on Mr. and Mrs. Robert Callow of West Long Lake Road as they arrive for the social hour and banquet of the society at Devon Gables Wednesday. The Callows were among the centennial farmers of Oakland County honored.

Looking over an 1861 map of the City of Pontiac are (left) Mrs. Marion Hodges Benter of East Iroquois Road, Miss Emma Howard of Franklin Boulevard and Dr. Willis F. Dunbar of Kalamazoo, Mrs. Donald E.

Adams of West Walton Boulevard is standing. The four were attending the annual banquet of the Oakland County Pioneer and Historical Society at Devon Gables Wednesday evening.

Leal Emes Group Hears Reports

Leal Emes Group of the First Presbyterian Church met at the home of Mrs. M. L. Newton on Gateway Drive in Waterford Township Tuesday.

Eather Voorhees gave a report on the theme "Act As If" and Martha Leach discussed "Preaching the Good News in Suburbia." She also explained "The Fellowship of the Least Coin," a worldwide effort by women to provide assistance principally to the countries of Asia.

Jane Schlessor briefly explained the seventh chapter in the book of Romans.

The group plans to furnish the church sanctuary with flowers during August and to provide greeters for the church vestibule during the same month.

Abby Tells Guest

'Hostess' Needs Manners

DEAR ABBY: I want to know if I am wrong in feeling very much annoyed over this incident. I recently called on a friend (by invitation) and I had only an hour to spend with her.

While I was there (I hadn't been there ten minutes), her cell phone rang. It was a mutual friend and not a long distance call.

My hostess hung on the phone for twenty minutes, making small talk, while I just sat there twiddling my thumbs and getting madder by the minute.

STUMPED
DEAR STUMPED: You should have STUMPED out after the first five minutes.

DEAR ABBY: My daughter-in-law has just informed me that she doesn't want me or my husband spending too much time with our grandchildren (ages 2 and 5) because she doesn't want them picking up our "accents."

We are foreign-born, Miss Abby, and do have foreign accents, but I don't think this is any reason to keep the children away from us, do you? Once a week for one hour, I was told, was our limit. She said this in front of my son, and he didn't even open his mouth to defend us. What should we do?

FOREIGN ACCENTS
DEAR FOREIGN: There is nothing to do except to abide by her wishes if you want to see your grandchildren.

You can only feel sorry for such an unperceptive woman, and pity your son, who is obviously acting under her orders. Pray they wake up before it's too late.

DEAR ABBY: My husband's sister wants to come and live with us and go to school. There are better schools in her home town. She is a divorcee and has two children and is not yet 20. I have children, too. This has upset me something terrible. Abby, I don't have the nerve to write and tell her not to come, and yet I know if she were to come it would not work out. What should I do?

DEAR NERVOUS: Let your husband tell her. It's HIS sister.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "MISSING SOMETHING": What you are missing you can live without. Count your blessings. No woman has everything.

How's the world treating you? For a personal, unpublished reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to ABBY, care of The Pontiac Press, Box 3385, Beverly Hills, Calif.

Breakfast Will Honor Graduates

Graduating seniors from St. Michael's High School and their parents will be honored during the graduation breakfast at the parish hall Sunday.

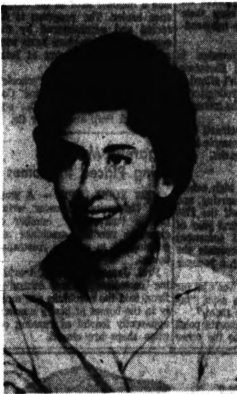

Plans for the occasion were completed during the June Altar Society meeting. Junior class mothers will serve the breakfast following the 8:45 a.m. Mass. Mrs. Steven Turner is general chairman.

FUTURE PLANS
Flipping the calendar ahead — Oct. 13 and 14 have been set aside for the annual fall bazaar. Plans are still getting started but there will be the usual booths, displays and home-made items on the dining table.

Cobo Hall, Detroit, is the scene of the national convention of the National Council of Catholic Women, Nov. 3-7.

Representing St. Michael's parish will be Altar Society President Mrs. Henry Simpson, the Society's NCCW contact Mrs. Floyd Sanchez, and pastor of the church, Rev. James L. Hayes. Over 10,000 representatives from throughout the nation are expected to attend the convention.

"Luncheon is Served" is the title event for September 18. General chairman of the affair, sponsored by Wright's Sisters, is Mrs. Lewis Swartz. Father Hayes has tentative plans for an adult education course to begin in the fall. Among the subjects included would be a series on "The Life of Christ," a course on family budgeting and one on child psychology.

CLARICE ROGERS FARMER

Mr. and Mrs. Alvis M. Rogers of Kinston, N.C., announce the engagement of their daughter Clarice Rogers Farmer to Airman 2C. Ronald J. Burch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis O. Burch of Walnut Road.

The Garfield Dahls of White Lake announce the engagement of their daughter Barbara Ann of Highland to Robert L. Pudney, son of the Elmer Pudneys of East Fairmount Avenue. August vows are planned.

Teachers' Group Holds Meeting at McCandless Home

Mrs. Henry McCandless entertained members of the Alpha Nu Chapter of Alpha Delta Kappa Sorority Wednesday evening in her West Iroquois Road home.

The occasion was marked by the initiation of Ann Liu of Harvard Court, Orchard Lake, and Mrs. Thomas G. Rosenthal of Elizabeth Lake Road, into the teachers' honorary sorority.

President Mrs. William L. Kish of Angelus Drive conducted the ceremonies. She was assisted by Beverly Barkeley, vice president; Mrs. Ronald Voorheis, sergeant-at-arms; and Mrs. Richard Berge, publicity chairman for the group.

Also honored was Joyce Hoffman, recording secretary for the chapter. Miss Hoffman departs for Hawaii June 15 to begin training for the Peace Corps. Her assignment is Barneo.

Other members present were Dorothy Bell, Mrs. Charles Fournier and Mrs. Frederick Tschirhart.

Camp Sets Open House in June at Echo Park

June is Open House Month at Echo Park Day Camp, according to announcement by Walter Baker, director.

Visitors are welcome to stop at 475 Echo Road, Bloomfield Hills, for a personally conducted tour of the camp's grounds and facilities, weekdays after 1 p.m. and all day Saturday and Sunday.

The unique day camp was organized in 1961 when a group of Birmingham - Bloomfield Hills residents purchased the 35-acre former Newcomb estate, "The Junipers." The site is between Lone Pine and Long Lake roads, near Kirk-in-the-Hills.

Acres have been cleared for recreational use and a large swimming pool was added. A four-acre lake was dredged on the property.

Campsites, built in clearings in remote wooded areas, contain such agility equipment as tree houses, rope slides and rope bridges on which youngsters can climb from tree to tree.

Day camping for nursery through 12-year-old youngsters will begin at Echo Park July 2. A special Teen Camp and Workshop will offer, horseback riding, swimming and other recreational activities for 15- to 17-year-olds, along with some minor staff responsibilities. Baker said preparations are under way for a special open house June 23 when the entire staff will be on hand and the camp's program will be demonstrated.

Lhasa, the capital of Tibet, is situated 11,820 feet above sea level. It was formerly known as the Forbidden City since it was closed to European travelers.

Gail Pearce Honored With Bridal Shower

Bonnie Denham of Oriole Road was hostess at a shower Tuesday evening, honoring Gail Bartine Pearce, bride-elect of Lawrence T. Leach.

Class Sets Reunion

Preparations are completed for the Pontiac Central High School Class of 1927's 40th reunion Saturday evening.

A social hour is set for 6:30 p.m., preceding dinner at the Elks' Temple. Mrs. Everett Garrison of Covert Road, Watkins Lake, is taking reservations.

Unit Observes Founder's Day With Social

Members of Iraq Caldron No. 70, Daughters of Nokanna, observed Founders' Day Wednesday evening in the club rooms of First Federal Savings and Loan Association of Oakland.

Mrs. Walter Shelton entertained with a vocal solo preceding an evening of games, and assisted Mrs. William Kogenschap as hostess. Meetings will resume in September.

So delicately balanced are some modern scales that they will register the weight of a human hair.

On Honeymoon in East

Waltz-Arama Rites Held

MRS. TIMOTHY A. WALTZ

Rev. Wayne E. Peterson officiated at the nuptials of Loraine D. Arama to Timothy A. Waltz Saturday afternoon in Christ Lutheran Church, Waterford Township. The bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Luke Arama, were hosts at the reception in their home on Floretta Road, Lake Oakland. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Waltz of Louella Drive, Drayton Plains.

With her floor-length gown of white eyelet organza, the bride wore a bouffant veil of silk illusion, fitted to a chapel crown of Alencon lace and seed pearls. A white cattleya orchid centered her cascading bouquet of miniature white roses.

Shirley Ann Arama, Lake Oakland, attended her sister as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Judith F. Ouellette, Lake Oakland, and Sandra Andreyuk, Birmingham. They wore azalea pink lace over taffeta and carried pink and white roses.

On the espouse side were best man Carl Adkins, Waterford, and ushers, Gene Ballant of Drayton Plains and Don Spierman.

The newlyweds will live in Drayton Plains on their return from a honeymoon in Baltimore and Washington.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Arama chose a white linen costume suit of white embroidered linen. Pink roses were included in her corsage of white carnations. White roses and carnations accented Mrs. Waltz' sheath dress of mint green linen.

Sisterhood Holds Year's Final Meeting

Sisterhood of Temple Beth Jacob held their final meeting of the year Tuesday at the Fox and Hounds Inn.

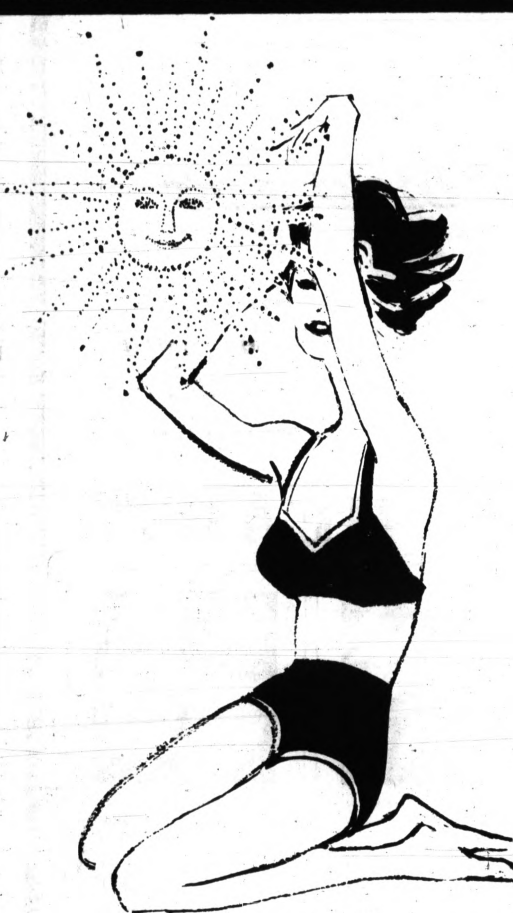

President of the Michigan Federation of Temple Sisterhoods Mrs. Harold Bettinus, was guest speaker. She discussed "Psychiatry in Sisterhood," stressing the goals and methods for a good "followership."

Mrs. Bettinus pointed out that many volumes have been printed on leaders and leadership for volunteer workers. The time is ripe for a new approach, she observed, and outlined a program for effective followers.

Other participants included Rabbi Nathan Herchfield who delivered the opening prayer and spoke on the work of the past year.

President Mrs. Harold Chapman delivered the year-end report. Arrangements for the affair were conducted by Mrs. Jerome Peters and Mrs. Malcolm Kahn.

At First Congregational Church 350 Honor Pastor, Wife at Banquet

More than 350 members and friends of First Congregational Church enjoyed a banquet honoring Rev. and Mrs. Malcolm K. Burton Wednesday evening. The Burtons came to the parish some 10 years ago.

An original skit entitled "A Preacher's Nightmare" was introduced by Mrs. Howard McIntyre with members portraying parts in "Building Committee," "The Visitors," and "The Women's Fellowship." Each group presented one scene of the nightmare.

Dr. Alfred D. Grey, retired pastor of Pine Hill Congregational Church on West Long Lake Road, gave the invocation. Everyone joined in singing the Doxology.

Lynn de Beaulclair, Nancy Howells and Julie Cray representing the Church School sang "Climb the Highest Mountain," accompanied by Mrs. Cecil Bondurant.

Norman Cheal, toastmaster, introduced an instrumental trio of Pamela Morris, flute; Larry Reynolds, oboe; and Pamela Griffin, piano. The three presented a selection from Carmen.

In recognition of the outstanding leadership shown by Rev. Mr. Burton in the completion of the church, the tower will be called the "Malcolm K. Burton Tower."

Sylvia Julia Hallenbeck Weds Gerald Richardson

Rev. Richard C. Stuckmeyer officiated at the marriage of Sylvia Julia Hallenbeck to Gerald L. Richardson of Baldwin Avenue Saturday evening in Grace Lutheran Church. A reception and dinner-dance in Hellenic Hall followed the candlelight ceremony.

Daughter of the Ronald C. Hallenbecks of Gingell Court, the bride chose a gown of white silk organza combined with chiffon and Chantilly lace. A crown of pearls and sequins held her silk illusion veil. White roses and stephanotis rested on her small white Bible.

Mrs. Paul Webb, Garden City, her cousin's matron of honor, appeared in pink silk organza with Chantilly lace jacket. Her flowers were red carnations.

Bridesmaids Oona Browning wore pale turquoise silk organza and Jo Ann Sirbaugh chose pale orchid. Both held cascades of pink carnations. Karen Webb, flower girl, was dressed like her mother and carried white roses. David Proper carried the rings.

Robert Richardson of Commerce assisted his brother as best man. They are the sons of the LaVern Richardson of Commerce. Harry Irwin and the bride's brother Ronald, ushered.

Returning from a honeymoon in New York City, the couple will reside in Pontiac.

State Leader of MOMS Is Picnic Guest

Mrs. Gordon Krause of Royal Oak, Michigan state president was the honored guest when Unit 2, MOMS of America, Inc., met at the Northfield Avenue home of Mrs. Carl Cox Tuesday for a picnic lunch and business meeting.

Mrs. Duncan McVean gave the devotion and Mrs. Krause led the group in the pledge of allegiance. Mrs. S. Edgar Thomas reported on the recent national convention held in Detroit.

Mrs. Kristine then told of receiving an award at Ann Arbor Veterans Hospital for the work done there by the MOMS and the buying of hymnals for the hospital. Funds came from units throughout the state. She also announced the forthcoming state convention to be held at the Albert Pick Motor Hotel in East Lansing Sept. 26-28.

Mrs. Alice Sibley was appointed nomination chairman by Mrs. McVean. During the remainder of June and July there will be no meetings. Members and husbands will meet Aug. 7 at the J. C. Park on Walton Boulevard for a 2:30 p.m. picnic and election of officers.

Church Class Has Meeting

Mrs. J. S. Hicks was hostess to 17 members of the First Philathes Class, Tuesday, in the educational building of the First Baptist Church.

Rev. John Turoni played violin solos and gave the message of the afternoon. Mrs. Warren Booth offered devotions.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Job Howell and her committee.

Literary Club Holds Tea, Installs Officers

Mrs. Norman Buckner of Pine Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township, opened her home to the Woman's Literary Club Monday for a silver tea. Sharing hostess honors were Mrs. Maude Place and Mrs. Lulu Luby. Mrs. Mabelle Clare Wilson presided at the tea service.

A letter of thanks for clothing sent to the Michigan State Indian Reservation at Mount Pleasant was read.

Guests were Mrs. John H. Hall, Mrs. Leland Martin and Mrs. Frank Williamson.

Mrs. Raymond Swaney installed Mrs. Fred Maves as president for 1962-3; Mrs. Joseph Phillips, first vice president; Mrs. Beanie Slaybaugh, second vice president; Mrs. J. Wendell Green, recording secretary; Mrs. A. O. Carner, treasurer; Mrs. P. G. Latimer, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ida R. Reeves, auditor; Mrs. Jesse H. Troyer, publicity; Mrs. Wilson, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Fred Bohlman, historian.

After reading her president's annual report, Mrs. Phillips presented the gavel to Mrs. Maves who appointed Mrs. Buckner and Mrs. Swaney to the board of directors.

A social hour followed discussion of next year's club projects.

Alpha Unit Holds Vote

Alpha Chapter of Beta Theta Phi Sorority met at the Clinton River Boulevard home of Mrs. Arthur McKinnis Tuesday and voted in the following new officers:

President, Mrs. Jack Great-house; vice president, Mrs. U. C. Meeker; secretary, Mrs. Harold Davidson; treasurer, Howard Stanton; conductress, Mrs. Leon Reese; and parliamentarian, Mrs. Cecil Denison.

The new officers will be installed June 26 at Devon Gables. A cooperative dinner June 19 will close out the sorority's fiscal year. Members will meet at the home of Mrs. Homer Timney.

A REAL TREAT — Old-fashioned potato bread is its own invitation to a snack. Even the grown-ups will enjoy it with their favorite spread and accompanied by creamy milk. Let the folks smell it while it bakes and they'll be waiting for a slice as soon as the loaf is cool enough to cut!

Buttered Cereal Crumbs Top Crab Dish

Crab Diable is a fancy name for an extra special version of an old friend, deviled crab. It can be made the day before, or early in the morning, and popped into the oven at the last minute. The crunchy topping, made of bite-size toasted corn cereal, is flavored with marjoram, a mild yet spicy herb that is particularly friendly with seafood. The real secret of the dish is this wonderful topping.

As a matter of fact, Crab Diable is just the perfect dish to serve for a late evening luncheon for guests or for a small family celebration.

This is really a "day before" luncheon. For instance, with the exception of the Asparagus Amandine, the entire menu can be prepared the day before and simply reheated at the last minute. Don't put the topping on the Crab Diable until you are ready to reheat it, but you can crush the cereal and season it the day before.

While you're about it, prepare a larger quantity and use the crumbs for coating salmon en croquettes, fish filets or topping vegetable casseroles. They'll keep in a closed jar in the refrigerator as long as any food that contains butter.

Crab Diable
1 tablespoon and 1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon dried marjoram, ground

1 1/2 cups bite-size toasted corn cereal crushed to 1/2 cup
1 tablespoon flour
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon white pepper
2 eggs, well beaten
1/2 cup light cream
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 cups flaked crab meat
1/2 cup chopped celery

Heat oven to slow (325 degrees). Melt 1/2 tablespoon butter and marjoram over low heat. Stir in cereal crumbs. Heat and stir until crumbs are coated.

Melt 1/2 cup butter in top of double boiler. Stir in flour, mustard, salt and pepper. Mix well. Blend in eggs, cream and Worcestershire sauce. Heat and stir over hot water 15 minutes, or until as thick as a medium white sauce. Add crab meat and celery. Mix well.

Spoon into 6 individual baking shells. Top with cereal crumbs. Bake 20 minutes or until brown and bubbly. Yield: 4-6 servings.

Milk in Soup
If some members of your family do not drink all the milk they should (for good nutrition) each day, serve cream soups often. You can provide 1/2 to 1 cup milk per serving in these soups. Use flavoring bases—for example, tomato, clam, oyster, spinach—that your family enjoys.

Rhubarb Parfait Is Light and Delicious

Dinner will end in a rosy glow when you serve Rhubarb Parfait. To prepare: cook a 1-lb. package frozen rhubarb according to package directions, or use stewed rhubarb made with 1 lb. fresh rhubarb cut in 1-inch pieces, 2 tablespoons water and 1/4 cup sugar. Add a few drops red food coloring.

Dissolve one 3-oz. package lemon flavored gelatin in 1/2 cup boiling water; then stir in rhubarb and chill until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white.

Whip 1 cup evaporated milk, chilled icy cold, until stiff. Fold in rhubarb mixture lightly but thoroughly.

Prepare 1 cup crisp chocolatecrispy crumbs and layer into 8 small parfait glasses with rhubarb mixture, beginning with the mixture and ending with crumbs in each. Chill until ready to serve.

Evaporated Milk Things
Double Cheese Dip Mix
It only takes minutes to whip up this zesty cheese dip to serve with crackers or potato chips. In the small bowl of an electric mixer, place an 8-ounce package of instant cream cheese and 1/2 cup (3 ounces) crumbled blue cheese. Add 2 tablespoons lemon juice and 1 1/2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce and mix at medium speed until well blended.

Reduce to low speed and gradually add 1/2 cup evaporated milk, mixing until smoothly blended. Keep chilled until ready to serve. Makes 1-1/2 cups delicious cheese dip.

Family Will Be Eager to Sample the Loaf

If anything is likely to bring back memories of grandmother's kitchen, it will be a loaf of potato bread. This old-fashioned loaf has a creamy rather than a white color, somewhat open texture, delightful tenderness and extra-good homey flavor.

Grandmother usually started her potato bread the night before, and her grandmother probably made a yeast starter several days or weeks in advance. Now, however, boiling up a spud in a short time and combining it with today's ready-to-act yeast will achieve the same goodness in what grandma would consider jig time.

This dough should have three risings. Punching down and allowing a second rise before shaping results in finer texture. The risings do not take long and, of course,

Wrap Chicken to Keep It Cold

Your outdoor living, 1962 style, may start this month as it will for many folks. Maybe it'll be a backyard cookout, or a simple picnic away from home.

Whatever the happy occasion, though, let ever popular chicken assure its success. You'll find broiler-fryers one of the plentiful foods listed by the U.S. Department of Agriculture this month of May, with attractive prices in sight.

If it's a picnic away from home, remember that "cold" fried chicken always has tempting appeal. Purchase the disjointed birds, fry to golden crispness and refrigerate until thoroughly chilled.

When preparing fried chicken to serve cold, be sure it is kept really cold. Just as hot fried chicken should be served piping hot, cold fried chicken must be kept thoroughly chilling until serving time to retain its serving-best goodness. Long standing at room temperatures, or in warm picnic baskets, causes rapid deterioration of all poultry and needless waste due to spoilage.

At picnic time, if you don't have a portable refrigerator, wrap the frozen foil-wrapped fried chicken in several layers of newspaper and pack it in your picnic basket. The time necessary for it to thaw, of course, will be determined by the heat of the day, but generally if packed in the early morning the cold fried chicken will be just right for lunch time.

Oven-Fried Chicken Cooks by Itself

Oven-frying chicken is a great time saver because it needs practically no attention.

Oven-Fried Chicken
1 broiler-fryer (cut in 12 pieces)
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup (1 stick) butter

Wash chicken; drain and pat dry. Mix together the flour, salt, paprika, garlic salt and pepper; roll chicken pieces in mixture to coat well. Melt butter in a baking dish (12 by 9 by 2 inches) in oven. Arrange chicken, skin side down, in melted butter in pan.

Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven about 45 minutes or until done and browned; turn pieces and baste halfway through baking time. Makes 6 servings.

other things can be done while they are going on. The results in size of loaf, flavor and texture are well worth the little extra time involved.

The recipe gives directions for boiling the potato. It's a simple matter, however, to add one extra to the pot for dinner and save it, along with the potato water needed, for use in tomorrow's Old-Fashioned Potato Bread.

Old-Fashioned Potato Loaves
1 medium potato
1 cup milk
2 tablespoons sugar
2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons margarine
1/2 cup very warm water
2 packages of yeast, active
2 packages of instant yeast
6 cups sifted flour (about)

Peel and dice potato; boil in water to cover until tender, about 15 minutes. Drain, reserving 1/2 cup liquid; mash and cool.

Scald milk; stir in sugar, salt, margarine and reserved potato water; cool to lukewarm. Measure very warm water into large bowl. Sprinkle or crumble in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in mashed potato, lukewarm milk mixture and 3 cups of the flour; beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour to make stiff dough.

Turn out onto lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic, about 8 minutes. Place in greased bowl, turning to grease all sides. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 35 minutes. Punch down; turn dough over in bowl; cover and let rise again about 20 minutes. Punch down.

Turn out onto lightly floured board; divide in half. Shape each half into loaf; place in greased 9x5x3-inch pans. Cover; let rise in warm place, free from draft, until centers of loaves are slightly higher than sides of pans, about 25 minutes. Dust loaves with flour.

Bake in hot oven (400 degrees) 15 minutes; reduce temperature to moderate (350 degrees) and continue baking about 30 minutes, or until done. Remove from pans; cool on wire racks or across tops of pans. Makes 2 loaves.

Chili Powder and Garlic in Fish Dish

A robust flavored fish dish that may be served to guests.

Spicy Baked Fish
3 pound fish (suitable for baking) cleaned and cut into 5 slices
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 1/2 cups chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 can (10% ounces) condensed tomato soup
1 1/2 cups tomato juice
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon chili powder
1 tablespoon catchup
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce
2 bay leaves
1 clove garlic (crushed and inserted on toothpick)
1/2 lemon (thinly sliced)

Arrange the fish slices (dipped in lightly seasoned flour) cut side down in a baking dish that they just fit in one layer and that is at least 2 inches deep. In a medium skillet over low heat cook the onion, celery and green pepper in the butter until partly softened, about 10 minutes.

Mix in all the remaining ingredients except the lemon; simmer about 10 minutes. Pour over fish; place lemon on fish.

Bake in a slow (325 degrees) oven about 45 minutes. Remove garlic. Makes 6 servings.

SAMPLES READY — These busy women spent the morning of June 1 at the CAI Building, passing out samples of whole wheat bread. Each woman had made one of the breads, as had many other Extension club members. Families receiving surplus food from the government usually get an allotment of whole wheat flour. From left to right are Mrs. Clarence Moore and Mrs. J. O. Lewis at Oxford, Mrs. Edwin Hoppe, 224 Walnut Road, and Mrs. Charles Brucker of Oxford.

Quick Bread Easy to Make, Rates at Top for Flavor

 Pontiac Press Home Editor
 Leaves and leaves and leaves of bread — whole wheat bread — have been baked in the Pontiac area in the past month. Women belonging to county Extension clubs have been busy baking bread with whole wheat flour.
 Last week and this week families who receive surplus foods from the government collected their allotments. When they picked up their food, they were given a sample of the bread made by the women mentioned above. Recipes were also passed out in the hope that many of the recipients would make the bread at home.
 Whole wheat flour gives rather a nutty taste to bread: it is a good taste. Many people do not like 100 per cent whole wheat bread because it is apt to be heavier than the bread they know and use. But a bread with nearly all whole wheat flour has excellent flavor.
 While the recipe below is not exactly like the one the Extension women used, it is a good recipe for a quick whole wheat loaf.
Quick Whole Wheat Bread
 1 cup sour milk or buttermilk
 1 teaspoon soda
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1 egg
 1/4 cup sugar
 1 1/2 cups unbleached whole wheat flour
 1/2 cup white flour
 Mix all together, pour into a greased bread pan. Bake about 1 hour at 350 degrees, or until a toothpick comes out clean. Makes 1 loaf.
 Cereal adds an interesting touch to quick bread. This recipe also calls for orange juice and chopped nuts. By using cereal in the bread you add protein, B vitamins and minerals to your family's diet. Breads taste in taste too.
Orange Cereal Flake Nut Bread
 2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
 3 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup sugar
 1 1/2 tablespoons grated orange rind
 1/4 cup chopped nuts
 1 egg, beaten
 Browned Onions Give 'Burgers Fine Taste
 An interesting seasoning combination helps to give hamburgers new interest.
Double Onion Hamburgers
 2 pounds lean beef round (ground)
 1 teaspoon salt
 1/2 teaspoon white pepper
 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg
 1 tablespoon minced parsley
 1 egg
 2 tablespoons butter
 1 small onion (finely chopped)
 2 tablespoons flour
 1 can (3 1/2 ounces) French-fried onion rings
 Mix beef with salt, pepper, nutmeg, parsley and egg. Heat 1 tablespoon of the butter in a 10-inch skillet; add chopped onion and fry until golden brown; mix with meat. Make meat into 6 oval-shaped patties; roll in flour.
 Heat remaining 1 tablespoon butter in skillet; add meat and brown rapidly on both sides; reduce heat and cook to desired doneness. Meanwhile heat onion rings according to can directions; serve with hamburgers. Makes 6 servings.
Ham With Pineapple
 Brown one side of ham steak in ungreased skillet or electric frying-pan. Turn and top with pineapple slices. Keep basting with syrup drained from canned pineapple. As ham cooks, the syrup blends with the meat juices, making a flavorful sauce.

CONTEMPORARY POT ROAST — A favorite main dish "just like mother used to make" gets a modern flavor treatment. Pot Roast is simmered in lemon-lime carbonated beverage until juicy and tender. Onions, garlic, vinegar, brown sugar, raisins and other seasonings are added to the carbonated beverage during cooking to make a delectable sweet-sour sauce to accompany the meat.

Let Carbonated Beverage Put Life Into Pot Roast

"Pies like mother used to make" — is one of the many references often used to indicate that the new bride today is not the culinary artist that her mother was.

Unless they were forced to learn by the necessity of circumstances, present day housewives at the time of their marriage know little about cooking or meal preparation. This was found true in a series of studies by Social Research, Inc. for The Seven-Up Company.

A number of women reported to SRI that they had taken home economics courses in high school or college, but generally the opinion was shared with the homemaker that said, "I think a wife has to learn to cook the way a husband wants you to cook, and you learn all these things after you are married."

Homemade pies and cakes, stews and pot roasts were great favorites of mother and are among the foods husbands recall from their boyhood days. Frequently, they will request such foods.

A recipe that satisfies the memory of "pot roasts like mother used to make" and yet is as new as tomorrow since this pot roast is simmered in lemon-lime carbonated beverage. The delicate flavors of lemon and lime add a delicious flavor to the meat.

Contemporary Pot Roast
1 tablespoon shortening
4 to 5 pounds pot roast (chuck or shoulder)
2 large onions, sliced
1 clove garlic, minced
1 teaspoon salt
2 (7-ounce) bottles lemon-lime carbonated beverage
2 bay leaves
2 tablespoons cider vinegar
1 tablespoon brown sugar
1 teaspoon salt
3 tablespoons catsup
1/2 cup raisins

Melt shortening in a large skillet or Dutch oven. Brown meat on both sides. Add onion and cook until brown. Add garlic, lemon-lime carbonated beverage and bay leaves. Cover and cook on low heat for 2 hours. Add remaining ingredients and cook for 30 minutes to 1 hour longer or until tender. Serve with hot, buttered noodles. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Pair of Hamburgers Hides Tangy Filling
The old-fashioned mustard called for in this recipe gives these burgers special flavor; it can be homemade or one of the varieties now available in markets.

Cheddar Hamburgers
2 pounds ground chuck beef
2 tablespoons sweet-type prepared mustard
1/2 cup finely grated cheddar cheese
Butter or margarine
Salt and pepper

Make the beef into 12 flat patties. Spread a teaspoon of mustard over 6 of the patties; spread the cheese over the mustard but not to the edges. Cover with remaining patties; mold the edges together well with your fingers so they won't separate during frying. Brown stuffed patties rapidly on both sides in a tablespoon or two of hot butter in a skillet; reduce heat and cook until meat is done as much as you like. Sprinkle meat with salt and pepper. Serve at once.

Hot Tuna Rolls Good for Snack
Easy to prepare for that end-of-the-week meal.

Baked Stuffed Tuna Rolls
1 can (6 1/2 to 8 ounces) tuna
3 hard-cooked eggs (chopped)
2 tablespoons minced green pepper
2 tablespoons minced onion
1 tablespoon drained capers
2 tablespoons minced pimiento-stuffed olives
2 tablespoons sweet pickle relish (drained)
3 tablespoons mayonnaise
6 frankfurter rolls

Drain tuna and mix well with all the remaining ingredients except the rolls. Split the rolls in half lengthwise but not all the way through and spread split sides with soft butter. Fill rolls with tuna mixture; wrap in foil.

Bake in moderate (375 degrees) oven about 20 minutes or until hot through. Serve at once. Makes 6 servings.

Add Strawberry Mix for a Pink Sauce
Gay pink Spirit of Spring Sauce makes a to-pot-topper for ice cream and puddings. The festive sauce derives from quick strawberry-flavored mix; the same delicious powdered product children use in their milk.

Combine in a saucepan 1 cup quick strawberry-flavored mix, 1 cup water, 1/4 cup sugar, and 1 tablespoon lemon juice. Bring to a rolling boil over high heat, stirring constantly. Cool and chill. Yields 1/2 cup sauce.

Onions Cooked on Top of Chops

The season for gardening is here again and with it comes a chance to add the spring freshness to your meals.

Lamb, traditional for spring meals, can be given a fresh look with this recipe for Garden Lamb Chops. The lamb is cooked with carrot and green onion slices and sour cream is folded into the gravy. The onion tops are even included.

Garden Lamb Chops
4 lamb shoulder chops, cut 1/2-inch thick
2 tablespoons lard or drippings
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
1 carrot, thinly sliced
3 green onions and tops, thinly sliced
Flour for gravy
1 cup dairy sour cream

Brown chops in lard or drippings. Pour off drippings. Combine salt, pepper and garlic salt and onion chops. Add carrot and onion, reserving onion tops to add later.

Cover tightly and cook slowly 30 minutes. Add onion tops and continue cooking 15 minutes or until meat is done. Remove chops to heated platter.

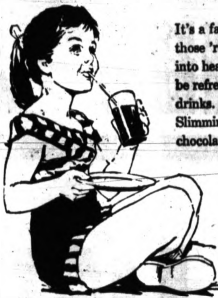

Thicken cooking liquid with flour for gravy, if necessary. Stir in sour cream and cook just until heated through. Serve as gravy, 4 servings.

Spacemen Super Intelligent, Yet They're So Very Folksy

By BOB CONSIDINE
NEW YORK.—Project Mercury combines the most rarified scientific endeavor with the homeliest of a small town church chicken fry. Buck Rodgers never used to bring on the wife and kiddies after returning from Pluto, and thus many of us were not quite prepared for the disarming folkiness of our real spacemen.

The fervid embraces, the photogenic grandparenthood, wives and kids, the togetherness of the whole endeavor has come as a most heartwarming surprise to millions who may not have thought of them as quite human—since their feats were superhuman.

The astronauts can speak a learned space and capsule jargon that hardly a thousand scientists in the world understand, yet also say in the humblest basic English something like "Gee, you guys, I don't deserve this good meal—I did it all for the wife and kids."

The trail-blazers in the early days of oceanic flying were comparatively mute, and were faced with only the barest fraction of the post-flight straitjackets placed on the astronauts.

SO ARTICULATE

How would Lindbergh, as widely heralded and honored as he was, have fared if put through the kind of program asked of John Glenn—parades, live or six different TV speeches a day, appearance before Congress, etc., etc., etc. Or Byrd, Chamberlain, Balchen, Acosta or even young way Corrigan?

Somewhere high on the lists of regulations leading up to the selection of our first seven astronauts must have been the item of "articulation." All of these fellows express themselves superbly. They are masters of understatement, unfalteringly modest, eternally grateful to "the team."

"They look good, dress well, and show the most impeccable manners. They are, by and large, small town boys—yet they walk with the nation's great without difference or arrogance."

At the Waldorf the other day, Scott Carpenter—who had never met either—was perfectly at home with Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman.

If he reveled in the sound of the eulogies each of the old presidents heaped upon his trim head, his browned face gave no sign.

At a table below him, one of his little daughters—a doll-splashed happily in her ice cream, and applauded herself when introduced and kept applauding right through the invocation. Where else could it happen?

At Canaveral, while we waited for the Carpenter shot, the talk turned one night at the bar to the day — still distant — when reporters will be taken along on space flights.

"Would you go?" a newsmen asked the general assembly. Everybody, at least those who were drinking, said "Of course!"

Harry Truman put things more honestly at the Carpenter luncheon. Waving his hands up and down excitedly, and looking at the impassive astronaut, Old Harry said, "He's done something I wouldn't do if they gave me the moon."

Ran into Chip and Evie Robert, of Atlanta and Washington, the day after the crash of the 707 charter of Orly, Paris. The enormity of the calamity was brought home by something the former treasury official said, and without embellishment: "We lost 25 good friends at once."

The Kennedy administration just got the bill for the current nuclear tests in the Pacific: $230 million. That's only 17 times as much as Jefferson put into the Louisiana Purchase, and Seward could have bought 50 Alaskas for the same sum.

But this involves our security, for which there is no calculable price tag.

But, Children, You KNOW It Was 'Ippopotamus

MEMPHIS (UP) — Scholars will disagree at times — as witness the answers given to a tough question on an eighth grade history exam administered here. One young authority insisted Lee surrendered to Grant at Mathematics Courthouse, while another was sure the name of the courthouse was Approximate.

Wins GOP Nod in Connecticut

Apple-Growing Solon Upsets Ex-Governor to Get Senate Nomination

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — Horace Seely-Brown Jr., a plain-talking, apple-growing congressman, has won the Republican nomination for U.S. senator from Connecticut.

Seely-Brown, 54, scored a stunning upset over former Gov. John Davis Lodge Wednesday at a dramatic Republican state convention. Although the pre-convention first ballot, 476 to 149.

John Alop of Avon, an insurance executive, received the gubernatorial nomination earlier after a record eight roll calls that began Tuesday afternoon.

The delegates broke another tradition by nominating the first Negro for a statewide office in Connecticut on the ticket of either party. William D. Graham, 47, an attorney who was born in Montgomery, Ala., was nominated for state treasurer without opposition.

Although the convention completed a state ticket to confront the Democrats this fall, Republicans may be in for some more excitement in the next few days.

Both Lodge and Edwin H. May Jr., a defeated gubernatorial candidate, polled enough votes to challenge the convention nominees in statewide party primaries. Neither committed himself either way on a primary.

Lodge noted he has until July 25 to decide whether to file primary petition. May said he would leave the question to his supporters, with whom he will meet here Sunday.

Dam to Swamp Ancient Relics

Money Not Available to Move All Egyptian Temples Behind Aswan

NEW YORK (UPI)—Some of the greatest monuments of the past will, in a few years, disappear beneath the waters which will back up behind the Aswan High Dam—and if not seen soon, may never be seen.

That was brought out vividly by Dr. Ahmed Fahmy as he sat talking one recent day about his favorite subject—the treasures of ancient Nubia.

Fahmy, professor of the history of ancient Egypt and the Near East at Cairo University, spoke as an Egyptologist, rather than as a travel expert.

But his words should be something of a timely warning to the traveler who likes to wrap a bit of ancient history and age-old sights into a tour.

More than 20 great and minor temples, and monuments from the days of the Pharaohs stand in an area to be covered by the great lake which will back up behind the Aswan dam in southern Egypt.

Some of the temples are being moved to high and dry locations but others are cut into the rock above the Nile river and cannot be moved, or no money is available to move them.

Those which must be left behind will be covered by up to 200 feet of water. Even one of Egypt's most famous sights, the Abu Simbel Temple, with its four towering statues of Ramses II carved into the sandstone face of a bluff overlooking the Nile, could disappear beneath the water.

Fahmy said "all of us are full of hope" that the money can be raised to salvage the magnificent Abu Simbel, which dates from more than 1,300 years before Christ. But $70 million is needed for a proposal to cut the temple from the rock and hydraulically hoist it to safety.

IN JUST A YEAR — As juniors a year ago, the three girls in the foreground of the upper photo had the drab task of helping make the traditional ivy chain used by seniors in graduation exercises at Christian College, Columbia. Mo. This week the same three girls, as seniors, wore formal gowns and carried the chain. Recommend Veto on Bid to Rezone Academy Land

A request to rezone for commercial use the Pontiac Junior Academy land at East Howard and Edison streets failed to win approval last night by the city planning commission. A recommendation to deny the request will go to the City Commission.

The proposal to change the present Class A Residential classification was opposed in a petition by 33 homeowners in the area, according to Henry Smith, assistant planning director.

Elder John Erhard, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church which owns the property, told the commission the church had tried to sell the 18-by-145-foot land for two years but had failed. The land could be used for a school, church, boys' club or union hall now, he said.

The church plans to vacate the two-story school in the fall, Mr. Erhard said, when a new building is to be finished at 5725 Pontiac Lake Road, Waterford Township.

Planning Commission Chairman D. R. Veeney told Mr. Erhard the commission could not recommend the zoning change in the midst of a residential area without knowing what type of commercial use the property might be put to. The vote against rezoning was unanimous.

In other action last night, the commission recommended rezoning to commercial five lots on the southwest corner of Baldwin Avenue and Merrimac Street. It also agreed to vacate an alley which divides the five lots from another five lots on the corner.

The 10 lots are to be used for a four-store shopping center, according to plans by prospective buyer John Caples of 699 Central Drive, Lake Orion.

Two public hearings on both the alley and the rezoning are yet to be held before the City Commission.

Elderly Prospect for Jury Duty Stumps Lawyer

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (U) — An attorney questioning prospective jurors for a negligence trial involving a motorcycle was seeking to insure against a prejudiced jury.

He drew from an elderly, white-haired gentleman the concession that yes, he had once owned a motorcycle.

"When was that?" asked the attorney.

"About 50 years ago," said the elderly gentleman.

"Now, then," said the attorney. "Did you ever have the feeling when you were driving your motorcycle, that all the automobiles were ganging up on you?"

"What automobiles?"

'Student Prince' Scars Appearing in Germany

HEIDELBERG, Germany (UPI) — That inch-long scar high on the cheekbone, a mark of honor half a century ago, is beginning to appear again on university students in Germany.

This time, however, it's the result of fencing for sport rather than cold-blooded dueling among aristocratic young Germans.

For generations the scar was the sign that students could at last be called men, that they had undergone their baptism by cold steel, defending a rigid code of honor.

Student hangouts at such famous university towns as Heidelberg, Marburg, Goettingen and Leipzig still boast numerous photographs of students winning their badge.

The practice gained most notice in the United States through Sigmund Romberg's "Student Prince," a romantic opera about the ill-fated love of a young prince for a comely serving wench.

Dueling suffered one of its early banishments during the pre-war years. Hitler, fearing competition from any organization he didn't sponsor, banned not only dueling but the corps, or fraternities, whose members made it popular.

Dueling still was forbidden after World War II. Indeed, possession of any weapons by Germans was illegal.

In 1953, the Federal Supreme Court ruled that the scholarly pursuit of "Mensur," fencing for sport rather than blood, was neither unlawful nor immoral.

Heidelberg University officials admit corpsmen still square off with foils but one said "it is very little and nothing like in the days of yore."

Master Upset Over His Dog's Taste for Socks

MILLINGTON, Tenn. (U) — John C. Howard has a dog that eats socks from his closetline and, what's worse, usually only one to a pair.

"He just goes up in the air and takes alternate socks," Howard said in a baffled tone.

Several brands of dog repellent have been applied to the socks. Once they were even sprinkled with cayenne pepper.

In vain. The dog's appetite for socks couldn't be better. Furthermore, the peppered socks complicate matters for Howard, the admiral's educational adviser at the Naval Air Station here. Admirals frown on foot-scratching.

Costs $4,000 Per Seat to Open a Restaurant

NEW YORK (UPI) — It costs a restaurant operator approximately $4,000 per seat to open a new establishment, according to Donald Greenaway, executive vice president of the National Restaurant Association.

BUFFALO, N. Y. (U) — Horseplayers are a stubborn lot. A local bookie was being escorted from his premises by two detectives after a raid when a customer approached the trio on the sidewalk and tried to get a bet down.

Profit Margin Small in Average Restaurant

NEW YORK (UPI) — Five years of studying the food service industry shows that the average restaurant makes only 0.3 to 0.7 percent net profit after income taxes, according to the National Restaurant Association.

This means, the report said, that the average eatery can easily be thrown into bankruptcy by management mistakes, a drop in sales caused by months of bad weather, wage hikes, or changes in government regulations.

Pontiac Press WANT ADS are for EVERYBODY

I wouldn't want my newspaper without ads. Like most housewives and mothers, the newspaper is the most valuable shopping guide I have. But, I do more than just read the ads. I am an advertiser, too. Whenever we have something around the house which is still useful, but which we no longer need, I call The Pontiac Press and place a Want Ad to sell it. We sold a bedroom suite and sofa, some power tools my husband had replaced, and a boat trailer. We had so many calls on our Pontiac Press Want Ad we could have sold every one of these items several times.

We will never have any idle "dust catchers" around our house, because we are sold on the use of Pontiac Press Want Ads to sell things we don't need.

FCC Chairman Encouraged

Green Sprouting Up in Barren TV

Editor's Note — In the following interview, Chairman Newton N. Minow of the Federal Communications Commission takes another look at television programming and gives his up-to-date evaluation.

By LOUIS CARRELL

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Newton N. Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission (FCC), said today he is encouraged to see "a few sprouts of greenery" appearing in what he has called the "vast wasteland" of television.

The past year, he said in an interview, has brought "substantial improvement" in news and public affairs programs.

He cited coverage of America's astronaut flights as evidence that broadcasters are devoting "more time, energy and resources" to the task of informing the public.

"On the entertainment side," Minow said, "I do not think there have been any really significant changes in the general level of program quality. There are a few rays of hope, but progress has been slow."

He added that the FCC intends to keep the heat on broadcasters to provide better programs, especially for children.

FUTURE IS INTELLIGENT

He reiterated his conviction that broadcasters are not "giving the public what it wants" when they saturate prime viewing hours with banal programs keyed to the formula of sex and violence.

"From the mail we receive here at the commission, and from the testimony at our public hearings on station license renewals, I am more than ever convinced that the industry tends to underestimate the public's taste," he said.

"The American people are a lot more intelligent and more receptive to quality than broadcasters think."

Minow said several developments now on the horizon may offer discriminating viewers a wider choice of programs in the future.

He noted that the House has already approved and the Senate is scheduled to act soon on legislation to require that television sets manufactured in the future be equipped to receive UHF (Ultra High Frequency) as well as the usual VHF (very high frequency) channels.

This legislation, he said, will clear the way for a major expansion in the number of television stations — from the approximately 600 now on the air to an eventual total of 2,300.

"More stations will mean more variety, more competition, more choice for the public," he said.

He also cited as a "very hopeful development" the recent enactment by Congress of a bill authorizing $32 million in federal aid for construction of education television stations.

He predicted that a nationwide educational television network would be in operation "within five or six years" and "that it would serve as 'a major cultural force in American life.'"

QUESTIONS, ANSWERS

Q. What about pay television?

A. The first full-scale test of pay television will begin late this month at Hartford, Conn. Several other applications for trials of pay-television are pending.

Q. Do you think the public wants pay television?

A. I don't know. But I think the question should be answered by a fair trial in the market place.

MINOW'S FCC CHAIRMAN

Minow, a former law partner of Adlai E. Stevenson, has been heading the broadcasting industry to improve program standards ever since he took office as FCC chairman on March 2, 1961. He told industry leaders to their face, at the annual meeting of the National Association of Broadcasters last year ago, that television was a "vast wasteland."

This remark did not set well with the broadcasters, but the young FCC chairman (he is 36) has never recanted it.

He was asked in today's interview to bring up to date his appraisal of television, with particular reference to progress, or lack of it during the past year.

Minow sat at one end of a long mahogany conference table in his office on the 7th floor of the Post Office Department building on Pennsylvania Avenue. He was in shirt sleeves and was armed with a cigar, which he waved like a baton when he wanted to emphasize a point.

Q. You mentioned "a few rays of hope" in entertainment programming. What are they?

A. Well, we have had the beginnings of a return to live drama. All of the networks have promised to put on some new programs for children next fall — programs designed to inform as well as entertain.

And the National Association of Broadcasters is currently putting on a vigorous drive to enforce the industry's own code, and cut down on excessive sex and violence.

This is exactly what we hoped to stimulate — responsible self-regulation by the industry.

Q. Anything else on the credit side of the ledger?

A. Yes. More stations are editorializing about public affairs. We are encouraging them to do this.

There are now only 80 cities in the United States with competing newspapers, and we think broadcasters ought to help insure full presentation of various viewpoints on public issues by expressing their own editorial convictions.

Minow paused for some moments, trying to think of other aspects of greenery. His round face lighted up with a smile and he aimed the cigar straight at the reporter's heart.

"The satellite," he said. "That's really the most important thing that's happened, and we haven't talked about it all."

Q. Which satellite?

A. The new communications relay satellite, called Telstar, which is scheduled to be launched from Cape Canaveral late this month. It's fantastic. No bigger than a beach ball.

But we will be able to beam signals to it and it will relay them across the Atlantic instantaneously.

Minow continued to speak rapidly and enthusiastically about the potentialities of the space vehicle and other like it which will follow it into orbit. The gist was that within a few years, live television broadcasts can be carried from any part of the globe as easily as they are carried now from one U.S. coast to the other.

Q. And what will all this mean to the viewer?

A. That's a good question. It could mean a lot. But I keep remembering the story Thoreau told about the man who was eager to be introduced to a distinguished deaf woman.

When he was finally presented, and one end of her ear trumpet was put into his hand, he had nothing to say.

The electronic miracle of modern communications — television, the new satellite, all this technological progress — is presenting us with the greatest ear trumpet ever conceived. It will be a great tragedy if history's verdict is that we found ourselves with nothing worthwhile to say.

Robert the Bruce, 14th Century king of Scotland was exiled on Rathlin Island off Northern Ireland. Legend holds that Bruce gained new courage there while watching a persevering spider try and try again to spin a web.

Avondale Has Sole Bond Issue

26 School Districts to Vote Monday

The largest bond issue ever to face Avondale School District voters will be the only bond issue at stake in Monday's elections in 26 area school districts.

Avondale voters will be asked to approve a $12.5-million bond issue to finance additions and improvements to all schools in the district and construction of a new elementary school.

Avondale is also one of 11 school districts seeking approval of operating tax levies.

School board candidates in eight districts are running unopposed. Three districts will elect board members at meetings Monday night.

Polls will be open 7 a.m. to 8 p.m., except for Dublin, 11

NEWS OF THE AREA

AVONDALE—Two 4-year terms: R. Grant Graham, incumbent, president; and Earl Wilson, incumbent, vice president; and James A. Laughlin, 350 Grace St.

Also on the ballot will be request for a five-year school operating tax increase and a $12.5-million bond issue for school construction. The operating tax proposal would raise five mills for three years and three mills for two years.

IMLAY CITY—Two 4-year terms: Francis Spencer, incumbent, vice president; and Howard Caldwell, incumbent, treasurer.

ALMOST—Two 4-year terms:

LAKE ORION—Two 4-year terms: Hugh Brady, incumbent, secretary; Keith Middleton, incumbent, treasurer; Dale Spear, 2506 Lancer St.; and William Boonin, 440 Indian-side Drive.

OXFORD—Two 4-year terms: Ted Pearson Jr., incumbent, president; and Louis C. Corryell, incumbent, treasurer.

A proposal asking renewal of the eighth mill operating tax due to expire this year will also appear on the ballot.

ROMEO—Two 4-year terms: Mrs. C. Harold Willis, incumbent; Dr. Ralph Renwick, 1100 S. Main St.; and H. C. Kernaghan, incumbent, appointed to unexpired term of post vacated by resignation of Harold O. Wainwright, 824 W. 32 Mile Rd., and Mrs. William C. Shepley, 381 Chandler St.

WEST BLOOMFIELD—One 4-year term: Mrs. Frances M. Lof, incumbent, secretary.

A two-mill tax increase for operations also will be requested. The tax rate, however, will not be increased since the school board intends to reduce bonded indebtedness by two mills.

CLARKSTON—One 4-year term: Walter Wilbur, incumbent; Hudson L. Nolan, 5448 Condo; Ronald L. Anderson, 6133 Eastlawn, all Independence Township.

SOUTHFIELD—Two 4-year terms: Paul T. Rabaut, 2734 Shagbark Drive; Mrs. Sol Siegel, 4425 Adams Rd.; William C. Barkus, 22356 Maplewood Drive; Richard P. Condit, 2472 Mulberry Road; Arthur L. Pelletier, 23300 Hunters Lane; and Harold G. Andron, 23300 Kildare Road.

The terms of Mrs. Elsie Lloyd, board president, and John Campbell, are expiring. They did not file for re-election.

LYON TOWNSHIP—Two 4-year terms: Donald Cox, incumbent, treasurer; Wilford Hildt, incumbent; Martin Miller, 12900 16 Mile Road; Leslie D. Smith, 11040 Tillson Road; and Elsie Pegg, 28300 Dickson Road.

The renewal of 6.5 mills for operations also will be asked of voters. No tax increase is involved.

OAK PARK—One 4-year term: Dr. Arthur G. Parklin, incumbent; Dr. Seymour Smiley, 1374 W. Nine-Mile Road; and Benjamin Lukin, 15001 Marlow St.

A 5-mill tax increase and the renewal of 8.5 mills for operations also will be asked of voters.

TRIOY—Two 4-year terms: Russell Kaufman, incumbent, secretary; and Mrs. Elizabeth Hotton, incumbent.

A proposal to transfer $2,700 from one debt retirement fund to another also will be on the ballot.

BRANDON—Two 4-year terms: Joseph Jencks, incumbent, secretary; Clarence Moore, incumbent; Mrs. Mary Jean Faust, 1001 Hummer Lake Rd.; Mrs. June Martin, Glass Road; Daniel Svetos, 2621 Ortonville Rd.; and Leroy Limlak, 500 Lockwood Rd.

NORTH OXFORD—A 'three-year post will be filled by balloting at a meeting 8 p.m. at North Oxford School. Mrs. Alice

New Park Guide Now Available

'Metropark' Map in Color Shows Lands of Huron-Clinton Authority

The new Metropark Guide for 1962-63 is now available for distribution. Kenneth L. Hallenbeck, director of the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, announced today.

Supplied without charge, the guide is a map in color illustrating Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority park lands, state recreation areas and highway routes throughout the counties of Livingston, Macomb, Oakland, Washtenaw and Wayne—the area served by the Authority.

With a cover of brilliant yellow, the map shows the locations and lists the facilities of the Authority's loop of seven parks from Lake St. Clair to Lake Erie.

Present and proposed "Free-way" routes and the location of Story Creek Metropolitan Park, 3,000-acre recreational site under development, also are shown. The Macomb-Oakland County line three miles northeast of Rochester and four miles southwest of Romeo, also are indicated.

Available "Free distribution," it may be obtained by contacting the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit 26, or by contacting the park officer at Metropolitan Beach near Mount Clemens, Kensington Metropolitan Park southwest of Brighton, Lower Huron Metropolitan Park near Belleville and Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park northwest of Ann Arbor.

15 Witnesses Fail to Appear in Club Probe

DETROIT—Fifteen witnesses subpoenaed for the state's investigation of the Star Social Club in Madison Heights failed to appear for questioning yesterday.

Only the day before 12 other subpoenaed witnesses in the investigation did not show up. Judge Sam Stearns issued a court order demanding the 12 appear for questioning Monday.

Deputy State Atty. Gen. Leon Adams ruled that unless the subpoenaed witnesses appear, the state will seek a writ of habeas corpus for the 15 who failed to appear yesterday.

The hearing was ordered by the attorney general's office to check on the club's status as a state-chartered "nongroup social club."

In questioning yesterday, Lt. Carl Robinson of the state police racket squad produced gaming equipment he said was taken May 25 when state police investigated the club for "fire violations."

Congregational Seniors to Get Special Honors

ROCHESTER—Recipient of a $200 scholarship from the Women's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church here will be announced at a breakfast for 1962 graduates at 8 a.m. Sunday at the Fellowship Hall.

Eighteen seniors will receive pocket crosses as tokens of the church's continuing interest in the graduates at the regular 9:30 a.m. service.

Constitution Vote Date Awaits State's Ruling

LANSING (UPI)—The next step is up to the state in the court action over when the proposed new constitution will be submitted to the voters.

Judge Sam Stearns has denied a motion on behalf of Secretary of State James M. Hare to dismiss the entire case.

At the same time yesterday he denied a declaration of nullity which would have given the convention officials power to order the document up for a November vote.

The action left the case in Hughes' hands for the moment. Solicitor General Eugene Kravitsky gave 15 days to file an answer to the suit or appeal Hughes' decision to the State Supreme Court on the question of dismissal.

Atty. Gen. Frank J. Kelley said, "I sincerely believe that the court is in error in this decision."

TO DECIDE FRIDAY

He said he would make a decision by tomorrow on which way to proceed, whether to try the case on its merits before Hughes or attempt the appeal route.

Ted Swift, attorney for convention president, Stephen S. Nisbet, in the matter, said he was "delighted" with the decision and was ready to proceed with the case.

Richard C. Van Dusen, R-Birmingham, chairman of a special convention committee charged with getting the proposed constitution on the fall ballot, said he regarded the decision as a "first round victory."

The dispute over submission of the document to the voters centers on section four of Article 17 of the present constitution.

Former Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams ruled that unless the convention completed its work by March 31, the document could not be voted on until April 1963.

Kelley, when he succeeded Adams, who moved to the State Supreme Court, agreed with that ruling.

Republicans have pressed the question of getting an early vote on the proposed new constitution, contending that the general election in the fall will give more interest to the vote.

They also claim that the issues will be "more fresh" in November.

The convention completed its work May 11 but has set a clear up session Aug. 1. In part, it affected Hughes' decision.

The judge said that in fact the convention could still make changes in the document at its Aug. 1 session and at present Hare has nothing before him.

He agreed that the convention officers "should know their leg rights before final adjournment."

In his decision Hughes stated that there was great public concern over the outcome of the suit. He said that at the moment, however, there was no controversy.

Arrest of 4 Teen-Agers Solves Six Burglaries

METAMORA—A string of six burglaries here in January and February was solved yesterday with the arrest of four 17- and 18-year old youths from Metamora and Oxford Township.

Arrested were Dale W. Loomis, 17, 343 Metamora Road; Robert L. Dietz, 18, 845 Sebek Road, Oxford Township; Jerry M. Brewer, 17, 70 Colson St.; and David L. Brown, 18, 90 Colson St.

They were to be arraigned this morning in Lapeer County Justice Court.

The youths admitted breaking into six Metamora homes and taking miscellaneous items, including $1,000 worth of paintings from the home of Margaret Stroh at 19C Hendrie Road in February.

PAINTINGS RECOVERED

Lapeer County's deputy who made the arrests along with state police from the Romeo post said the paintings were recovered from a creek where the boys threw them when they became frightened. The paintings were returned.

The youths also admitted taking souvenirs from the home of W. R. Jossman at 4421 Gardner Road; molar oil, paint and three from the home of Mrs. W. C. Ireland at 338 Metamora Road; and a new television set and 15 to 20 bottles of Rique from the home of Detroit publisher R. L. Folk at 638 Gardner Road.

Other homes they admit breaking into were those of Pat Horton at 4473 Gardner Road and Dean J. Rucker at 4747 Barbe Road.

Police said some of the stole items have been recovered.

Brown, they said, was implicated only in the burglary of Mr. Ireland's home.

Company to Sponsor Scholarship at MSU

A new $300 scholarship will be made available to freshmen in agricultural engineering at Michigan State University next fall.

The scholarship is sponsored through funds donated by the Michigan Vitified Tie Co. Called the George Amundson scholarship, it honors Mr. Amundson who was a former agricultural engineering extension leader at MSU.

Approves School Loan

DRYDEN—Authorization for the board of education here to borrow $2,000 has been granted by the Michigan Municipal Finance Commission.

The commission is set for July 7.

JEAN E. GEER
Engagement of Jean Ellen Geer, daughter of Mrs. Margaret Shrum, 8999 Bridge Lake Road, Springfield Township, and the late Geer Shrum, to Leon Ditch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ditch, 5380 Marvin Road, Independence Township, is announced. The wedding has been set for July 7.

2 Boys Top Seniors at Rochester High

ROCHESTER—Two boys, for the first time since 1954, have taken top honors at Rochester High School.

James Melstrom has been named valedictorian and William Pollock salutatorian of the 1962 graduation class.

While compiling a 3.94 academic average out of a possible 4.00, James was president of the school's chapter of the National Honor Society during his senior year, literary editor of the year book in the last of his three years on the yearbook staff and a member of the senior class council.

He also was president of his junior class, a member of the sophomore council, a member of the Key Club and a 1961 delegate to Wolverine Boys State.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Melstrom, 303 W. Fifth St., he plans to study mathematics at the University of Michigan.

The rest of the top ten in academic averages, in order, were Tina Rose, Sue Sutton, Robert Hodges, Ronald Stier, Roberta Blanton, Phyllis Holtz, Lynn Frailing and Betty Siegler.

Baby Born Year, to the Minute, After Brother

UTICA—Roger Ward Clark arrived in the world yesterday following his brother's footsteps.

A year ago yesterday Mrs. John Clark gave birth to Douglas John Clark at 4:47 p.m. at St. Joseph Hospital in Mount Clemens where she was listed as patient 5,359.

Yesterday, at precisely the same time, in the same hospital where she again was listed as patient 5,358, she gave birth to Roger.

Clark's job at the Fisher Body Division of General Motors Corp. at the Tech Center is to keep production on schedule.

Club to Put On Flower Show

ORION TOWNSHIP—"Symbols of Spring" will be the theme of a flower show Saturday and Sunday by the local chapter of the National Farm and Garden Club at the showroom of Al Hanouti, Inc., 209 N. Park Blvd., Lake Orion.

Exhibits for three classes, artistic, horticulture and conservation, will be accepted from the public, according to chairman of the show, Mrs. Alfred J. Dacey.

Horticulture plants and specimens must be home-grown and protected with flower covers under conservation must have been grown in the exhibitor's garden and labeled with their botanical and common names, Mrs. Dacey said.

4-H Club members Tom Middleton and John Wilson will give soil tests from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday and 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday. Girl scouts plan a conservation display. The show is scheduled for 1:30 to 9 p.m. Saturday and 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sunday.

The Garden Club has presented four certificates for outstanding attractiveness of grounds during 1961 through its Civic Improvement Committee headed by Mrs. Wesley Allen.

Recipients of the certificates were St. Joseph's Catholic Church and School on N. Lapeer Road, the Blanche Sins Elementary School, the Orion Medical Group on Lapeer Road, and the Dust Suppression and Engineering Co. at 120 S. Broadway St., Lake Orion.

Loan for Schools OK'd

WEST BLOOMFIELD—Borrowing at $7.00 against anticipated state aid has been approved for the board of education here by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction.

TO TEST SOIL—Demonstrating the process they will use to test the mineral content of soil from 2 to 5 p.m. Saturday and from 3 to 5 p.m. Sunday at a flower show at Al Hanouti's showroom in Lake Orion are Tom Middleton, 16, (left) and John Wilson, 15, both members of the East Orion 4-H Club. Tom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Middleton, 826 Stony Creek Road, and John's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James W. Wilson, 25 Kline Road, Oakland Township.

JOAN M. MARTELL

AID FROM THE PADRE — Rev. Luis Manuel Padilla, Venezuelan Navy chaplain, holds up a wounded man away from the rubble of a building after the soldier was wounded in a two-day revolt this week by Communist-backed rebels. The prison was waiting for someone to take the wounded man away. Remnants of the bloody revolt were crushed by President Romulo Betancourt's government Monday.

Seek New Check on Seminaries

Southern Baptists in Row Over Increasing Rein on Agencies

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Associated Press Religion Writer
SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Strong support was indicated at the Southern Baptist Convention today for a move to tighten the doctrinal reins on seminaries and other denominational agencies.

An effort also was being pushed to ban a Baptist-published book, "The Message of Genesis." Such a step, however, described as unprecedented in Baptist history, faced keen opposition from influential church leaders.

DEMAND CONTROLS

Both proposals came on a tide of charges by conservative forces that so-called "liberal" theological trends were evident in church institutions. Demands were made for stricter controls.

The issue has stirred a running controversy in the 10-million-member church body in recent times. The denomination's 51-member executive committee sought to head off an open clash on the matter Wednesday by putting through a plan for drafting a statement on just what historic Baptists believe are.

FAILED TO HALT MOVES

Baptists have always shunned binding creeds. However, the maneuver failed to check the calls for stronger action.

The Rev. Dr. K. Owen White of Houston introduced a resolution protesting "dissemination of theological views in any of our seminaries which would undermine faith in the historical accuracy and doctrinal integrity of the Bible."

Badge of Honor Was Getting a Little Tarnished

CLEMONT, N.C. (AP)—Enough is enough said Buren Grant, so he has resigned as the only police officer in this community of 750 persons.

He says he called it quits after the board of commissioners wanted him to haul garbage and cut the town's grass in addition to his other duties which include reading water meters, checking the town pumps, doing some street repairing and hauling gravel for the streets.

Grant made $74.50 a week.

Florida Bishop Asks Okay to Enter Cuba

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—A Florida bishop wants Fidel Castro to let him attend a June 14-15 conference of Cuban Methodists whose church affairs are under his administration.

Bishop James W. Henley of Jacksonville told the Florida Methodist Conference Wednesday he has requested permission to visit Cuba.

He said that if Castro's government won't admit him, a visitor's permit will be sought by Bishop Santo Uberto Barberi of Buenos Aires.

Florida Court OKs School Bible Reading

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP)—The Florida Supreme Court has upheld the right of Florida schools to have daily Bible reading and recitation of the Lord's Prayer.

In a strongly worded unanimous decision, the court said that a state law requiring Bible readings did not violate constitutional provisions for separation of church and state.

The decision is expected to be appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

The case originated in Miami, where a group composed of Jews, a Unitarian and an agnostic challenged the Dade County schools' practice of holding daily Bible readings, with provision for excusing children whose parents object.

Locate 'Buss Spot' in Big Parking Lot

SALT LAKE CITY (U) — A military parking ramp has been turned into a modern-day lovers lane.

An executive of a military parking ramp reported that couples have been driving up the ramp to the fifth or sixth level to do their smooching.

"It's a perfect spot," he said. "No cops to bother them, no curious strangers."

"After all, when you rent space in a parking ramp, the space belongs to you — there's no law that says you have to get out of the car."

Automatic Pinspotter Takes Coon for No. 1

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (U) — A wayward racoon became the headline at a bowling alley in nearby London recently.

Manager Ed Olczyk said when he activated an automatic pinspinner, the frightened animal was dropped in the No. 1 pin position.

MM's Absenteeism Has Bosses Sick

HOLLYWOOD (U) — Marilyn Monroe says she's sick and her producers say they're sick and tired.

Marilyn, complaining of a virus, showed up only once in the first 15 days of shooting on "Something's Got to Give."

"Even when she does show up," said a high front-office source at 20th Century-Fox, "she isn't prepared for her role. She comes late and leaves early."

The studio source, who asked anonymity, hinted Wednesday that producers are ready to look for a replacement — possibly Kim Novak.

"Something has to be done with these unprofessional people," the source said. "We have to sit down on them or else force them out of the industry. They're ruining it," he said. Marilyn's absenteeism has already cost the studio $2 million.

HAVE TO DECIDE

Said Harry Winston, producer of her current film: "There had to be an agonizing reappraisal of the situation. We have to decide whether Marilyn can recover in time to continue with production and if the studio can stand further delays."

To which the front-office source said: "Recover from what?"

"There would not have been delays if there had been a completed script," Marilyn's spokesman said.

But to this the studio source replied: "There was a completed script, but Marilyn insisted on rewriting it every night."

One of the few concerned people at the studio is costar Dean Martin, who is calling himself "the highest paid golfer in history."

Marilyn herself couldn't be reached for comment. Although a spokesman said she has a virus, commentators say she has turned up frequently at nightclubs. She appeared before a baseball game at Chavez Ravine last weekend on behalf of the Multiple sclerosis Society.

Set Funeral Rites for State GM Man

LANSING (AP) — Funeral service will be in Lansing Saturday for Clarence A. Trump, who was due to retire next November from his position as manager of the Lansing plant of the Fisher Body Division of General Motors Corp.

Trump, 64, died unexpectedly in his suburban Lansing home Tuesday, after putting in a full day's work. Ingham County Coroner Jack B. Holmes ruled that death was caused by a massive cerebral hemorrhage.

Trump started with Fisher as a metal finisher in 1920, and was named to his most recent post in 1947. He had worked in Fisher plants in Kansas City, Mo.; Memphis, Tenn.; Buffalo and Detroit.

He was born in Detroit.

Two Speckled Trout Find Way Back Home

TAMPA, Fla. (U) — A fish may not have much of a brain, but it knows the way home.

A couple of speckled trout were taken out of Lake Julian, tagged, and placed back in the lake at a point three miles away. Then they got caught.

Game commission officers said they were caught from the exact lily patch they had come from when they were removed for tagging.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

East ducked and South discarded his jack of clubs.

For the record, it should be noted that if West had opened the eight of clubs South would have had no play for the hand. But once the spade was opened South's line of play was sure to succeed provided West did not hold both diamond honors.

After North's two no-trump response, South decided to settle for a mere small slam. It was well he did. There was no way to make seven and prospects for even the small slam looked grim indeed.

South quickly studied the obvious line of play which would be to draw trumps, lead a low club from dummy and put in the nine spot. This play would work against queen-ten, king-ten, or king-queen of clubs in the East hand and possibly against king-queen should East split his honors on the first club lead.

South also noted a less obvious, but far better line of play.

He cashed his ace of diamonds, entered dummy with the seven of trumps and led the jack of diamonds. East played the king and South discarded his nine of clubs. West won with the king and led a second spade whereupon South entered dummy with the eight of trumps and led a second diamond.

U.N. Faces Debate on Date for Freeing Ruanda-Urundi

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly resumes its 16th annual session today to debate whether to fix July 1 as independence day for Belgium's troubled African trust territory of Ruanda-Urundi, described by some delegates as a potential little Congo.

The 16-nation assembly has a request from 39 African and Asian delegations that it also discuss how to bring independence to the British territory of Southern Rhodesia, termed by some another South Africa.

The opening meeting this afternoon was set aside for a speech by Archbishop Makarios, visiting the United States and the U.N. for the first time since he became president of an independent Cyprus.

'UNDER CONTROL'
In deciding last Feb. 23 to hold the resumed session, the assembly anticipated setting July 1 as the date to end trusteeship and proclaim independence in both Ruanda and Urundi, the two little countries that make up the territory. In a report published Wednesday night, the five-nation U.N. commission for Ruanda-Urundi said Urundi was under control and the assembly should end trusteeship there July 1.

But it said there had been bloodshed and racial antagonism lately in Ruanda, and urged that before deciding to turn that country loose on July 1, the assembly should first decide whether the coalition cabinet formed May 14 was likely to last.

The commission recommended that the assembly set up a voluntary aid fund for Ruanda and Urundi and that the neighboring Congo, Tanganyika and Uganda guarantee their frontiers with the assembly's help.

It said that though both Ruanda and Urundi had asked for the withdrawal of 300 Belgian troops now in the territory, in neither area were the local forces prepared to provide either internal or external security. It warned that without protection, some 1,300 violently needed Belgian technicians might withdraw also, causing a serious crisis.

The commission, headed by Miss Anne Brookes of Liberia, also includes Haitian, Iranian, Moroccan and Togolese members.

Tax Cut Talk Won't Aid JFK

GOP Speaker Claims Economical Spending Needed for Reduction

DETROIT (AP)—Sen. Jack Miller, R-Iowa, declared here yesterday that "soothing talk of tax cuts by administration spokesmen" would not head off the divorce between President Kennedy and private business.

"Talk of tax cuts without economy in federal government spending is an empty gesture," Miller said in a speech at a luncheon session of the National Republican Finance Committee.

On the theory a Kennedy-business divorce is inevitable, Miller said.

"Fine speeches about fiscal integrity during the honeymoon have been followed by the realities of spending beyond our income."

"It does no good," he continued, "to provide more capital for new or expanded business operations through tax cuts if the purchasing power of that capital has been reduced as a result of continued federal deficit spending."

"What America needs is a Republican Congress to lead us out of the jungle of deficits, inflation and ever-expanding federal payrolls and to enable private business to get moving, to provide new job opportunities for our millions of unemployed and our high school and college graduates, and to look to the future with confidence."

"Although there were small budget surpluses in 1956 and 1957, these were not enough to offset the prior deficits, and the Democratic-controlled Congress produced deficits of $2.5 billion in 1958 and $12.4 billion in 1959."

"The cost of living index ran up from 114.4 in 1955 to 124.5 in 1959. The purchasing power of the dollar dropped from 100 cents (using 1929 value of 100 cents) to 47.1 cents during the same period."

"We are headed for the same trouble now, with a seven-tenths of one per cent increase in the cost of living index during 1961 and another seven-tenths of one per cent increase during the first four months of this year."

Seniors Give Up Trip to Help Sick Classmate

GLEN LAKE (AP)—The graduating seniors of Glen Lake Community High School have given up their scheduled class trip to Washington to help ease medical expenses for a cancer-stricken classmate.

The class voted to forego the trip and turn over approximately $700 raised by various school projects to the family of 17-year-old Duane Richardson.

The youth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Richardson of Glen Arbor, in the past six weeks has been hospitalized at Traverse City and Ann Arbor after discovery of his illness.

Other Gold-Plated Films Can Take Courage

'Spartacus' Battling Its Way Into the Black

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—Those who despair over the monumental costs of "Spartacus" and "Mutiny on the Bounty" may find some solace in the "Spartacus" record.

The gladiators-and-gore epic was termed Universal's folly when Kirk Douglas was producing and starring in it.

The bill kept mounting with retakes and retakes of the retakes until the total came to a reported $11 million.

New Douglas reports a golden lining.

"By the end of this year, the picture is expected to have brought in $20 million," said the actor. "That will mean a good profit, and the run is by no means milked. It's also the kind of picture you could bring back every five years or so."

By some mathematical magic, ordinary films are supposed to double their cost in receipts before showing a profit. That rule, Douglas says, "is just a rule."

"Only next time, we'll start with a finished script. We got in trouble with 'Spartacus' because we had to work fast to beat the version that Yul Brynner was supposed to be making."

Otto Preminger muddled the Potomac with "Advise and Consent," his latest all-star, no-holds-barred movie. Much has already been said about what kind of a picture it displays of democracy at work and how it will be considered overseas.

The characters include: a candidate for secretary of state who lies under oath about previous Communist connections. A president who continues to support him, knowing this. A Senate majority leader who keeps house with the leading Washington hostess. A senator who would "rather crawl in Moscow" than risk war who is constantly surrounded by four goons and who blackmails a colleague.

One previewer said she had no worries about how foreigners would take it: "There's so much talk, they won't understand it," she said. "It's just a mess of distribution, advertising, interest, etc."

"But when a picture begins to cost many millions, that ratio no longer prevails," Douglas explained. "You can show a profit with less than double the cost."

"However, you couldn't prove it by me. I still haven't seen a dime of my share of 'Spartacus' and won't until it's securely in the profit column."

Douglas is now happily working for someone else—Perkins and Seaton in "The Hook." Does this mean he has given up the travails of being a producer?

"Not at all," he said. "I've got several projects on the fire, including another big one, 'Cortez'."

Mother of Priest Dies

BAY CITY (AP)—Mrs. Theresa O'Connor, 51, of Bay City, died yesterday. She was the mother of the Rev. Nell O'Connor, editor of the Catholic weekly of the Saginaw diocese.

About 60 per cent of the nation's wholesale trade is handled in New York State.

REVEALS DIVORCE PLANS — Eddie Fisher, with Juliet Prowse by his side, said today Elizabeth Taylor will win a divorce from him via an unusual legal maneuver. He said he would file for divorce in Las Vegas so that Liz can counterfile and win. 5,000 Chinese Siege Revolt

2,000 Arrested, With Several Killed, Claims Anti-Red Paper

HONG KONG (AP)—An anti-Communist newspaper claimed today that more than 5,000 forced laborers in a coal producing area in China's northern Kwangtung Province staged a bloody revolt May 28.

The Chinese-language Truth Daily said several score rebellious laborers were killed and more than 2,000 arrested. It said the revolt took to the hills along the Kwangtung-Hunan border.

The paper said the report came from an escapee from Red China, Chen Tse-jen, who took part in the revolt.

Several anti-Communist Hong Kong papers have reported a series of similar incidents in Kwangtung and other parts of China since May's influx of refugees from Red China. None of the incidents could be confirmed in Hong Kong.

The Truth Daily said the revolt was touched off by word that 3,000 forced laborers in the area would be transferred to a labor camp in sparsely populated Tsinling Province in northwest China.

Say Ice Cream Evolved

ATHENS — Authorities say ice cream was not invented but evolved from the chilled wines and other liquid beverages that graced the tables of antiquity. Alexander the Great in the Fourth Century B. C. was fond of iced drinks and desserts. A chilled jellied concoction now known as macedoine took its name from his kingdom, Macedonia.

A Few Obstacles Help Pilot, Says Psychologist

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Flying an ideal aircraft in ideal weather isn't always the safest way for a pilot to travel, a government psychologist says.

Things may be so good that the pilot isn't prepared for the unexpected, Dr. Richard Trumbull of the Office of Naval Research told a medical convention in Atlantic City.

The weather, flight plan and aircraft design can be so good, so simple and undemanding of attention that misleading anticipatory behavior will result, he said.

Dr. Trumbull suggested the devising of "deliberate ways for degrading 'too perfect' a situation in order to keep man alert and alive."

Woman Has Discovered Secret of Long Life

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Mrs. Ida H. Oford says she has found the secret of long life. "I think happy thoughts," says the New York native who moved to St. Petersburg 42 years ago. "Whenever some unhappy or unfortunate thing happens, I just think of the opposite and count all my blessings."

It must work. Mrs. Oford recently celebrated her 100th birthday.

Argentina Celebrates Newspapers' 152nd Year

BUENOS AIRES (AP)—Argentinians observe today the 152nd anniversary of the day the first newspaper was published in their country.

They'll do it without newspapers in afternoon and Friday morning. Newspapermen get the day off.

Refugee Tells of Uprisings

First Chinese in U.S. Under New Plan Says Mainland Ready

CHICAGO (AP)—A refugee from Red China says chances are "very good" for an uprising against the Communist regime in that country.

Eng See-suey, 45, head of the first Chinese family admitted to this country under President Kennedy's emergency program for Chinese refugees, said minor uprisings already are occurring throughout China. He said lower-level Communist party officials and soldiers are among those trying to flee the country.

Eng spoke yesterday through an interpreter at a news conference after he, his wife and three of their four children were flown to Chicago from Hong Kong. The sixth member of the family, 18-year-old Eng Leng-Ching, is expected to follow his parents soon.

Eng, who plans to take up life in suburban Park Ridge, where his ailing father is a restaurateur, said he believes mainland China would follow Chiang Kai-shek's leadership if Chiang attacked Red China.

He said this would require arms or money other than the aid of Nationalist Chinese forces on Formosa.

Eng said he thinks the Nationalist government has not done enough to help resettle the thousands of refugees who have fled Red China into Hong Kong in recent weeks.

REUNITED WITH FATHER—Dennis Chu, 23-year-old Chinese refugee, is embraced by her father, W. H. Chu, 54, on her arrival in New York today from Hong Kong. The young woman is the first Chinese refugee to be admitted to the New York area under the emergency program.

Menchen's Name Big, but Not in Baltimore

BALTIMORE (AP)—In a famous restaurant on Fayette Street, a visitor from the West asked if the place were a favorite of H. L. Menchen.

"I don't know," the waiter replied. "Does he play for the Colts or for the Orioles?"

AFL-CIO Votes to Sell Camp

214 Acres on Shores of Lake Huron Too Costly to Maintain

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Michigan AFL-CIO Convention voted yesterday to sell its 214-acre camp on the shores of Lake Huron, north of Port Huron.

The vote climaxed the warmest debate of the convention this far with several delegates objecting to selling the "FDR-AFL-CIO Day Camp" which the union has operated since 1946. It is used for informal courses in training young unionists.

The vote vote on the issue was so close that the convention for the first time since it opened Monday had to call for a show of hands. Michigan AFL-CIO president and convention chairman, August Scholle, ruled the motion passed by a 3-1 margin.

Scholle said he had "a sentimental reluctance" to dispose of the camp but that it had been operating at a deficit of over $45,000 a year recently.

Union sources said they hoped to realize $200,000 through the sale and the money would be used to build a more centrally located camp on a small lake.

Scholle said he hoped to build a new facility which could be used 12 months a year rather than just in summer as now.

Surveys, according to Scholle, had shown that a costly repair and building program would be required to make the Port Huron camp operational. If the camp were retained, Scholle said, the per capita dues of all Michigan AFL-CIO unions would have to be raised to provide for making up the deficit.

Mexican Slams Our 'Western Movie Mentality'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Vice President Sanchez Gavito, Mexico's outgoing ambassador to the Organization of American States, has assailed the United States with a charge that Americans have a "western movie mentality."

Americans believe that "what they do is right because they are the ones who do it," Sanchez Gavito said acidly.

The ambassador's assault came during a council debate Wednesday on quota contributions to the OAS budget. What apparently aroused his ire, diplomatic sources said, was that an amendment was drafted without Mexico's participation.

President Kennedy plans to visit Mexico at the end of the month.

Watch Your English When You Say 'Fat'

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—Being overweight and being fat are far from synonymous, two doctors from the School of Aerospace Medicine at Brooks Air Force Base, Tex., told a medical convention here recently.

Capt. James H. Wansley and Dr. James E. Roberts studied the body composition of 81 army aviators selected at random. A body composed of as much as 28 percent fat was considered obese.

The studies showed 15 of the 81 were obese but not overweight and six were overweight but not obese, while only five were both overweight and obese, the doctors said.

with home run hitters John Blanchard (left) and Roger Maris. The pair hit back-to-back homers the 8th to spark the victory. Terry allowed only four hits.

Tigers' Minor League Roundup:

Purnal Goldy's Bat Cools Off at Denver

Purnal Goldy, the Detroit Tigers' rookie sensation of spring camp at Lakeland the past spring has slipped below the 300 mark for the first time this year with the Denver Bears of the American Association.

Goldy is now batting .261 with 111 RBIs. Reno Bertola, who was shipped to Denver several weeks ago, now leads the team in batting with a .366 mark. Catcher Bill Freedman is hitting only .226.

This is the Tigers' minor league roundup:

defense with Al Baker and Ray Oyler making big plays at key stone a factor in club's spurt.

DULUTH SUPERIOR, Northern League, Class C, Manager Al Lakeman: Three weeks ago Willie Horton was hitting .171. . . Now he's .325 with eight home runs and 16 runs batted in. . . Mickey Stanley and Dave Kelly are playing strong supporting roles and Vern Holtgrave has become a consistent winner on the mound. . . With better run of weather Dukes are beginning to move.

JAMESTOWN, New York-Pennsylvania League, Class D, Manager Stubby Overmire: Club losing high scoring games because of erratic relief pitching. . . Bob Schmidt developing into Manager Overmire's stopper. . . Ray Causo is only regular in lineup hitting official .300.

MONTGOMERY, Alabama-Florida League, Class D, Manager Johnny Groh: Dick DeLong and Bill Meyers provide robust one-two punch. . . Mike Hindlick has raised average to .288 and has stolen nine bases. . . Don Pepper also hitting well. . . Pitching staff has run up a total of 270 strikeouts.

THOMASVILLE, Georgia-Florida League, Class D, Manager Gail Henley: This is the pleasant surprise of the farm system. . . Gail Henley's club is leading league in fielding. . . Charles Haygood is No. 1 hurler with a 2.00 earned run average and Ken Avery ranks third in league with 3.19 ERA. . . Marty Richardson shows the way in stolen bases with nine thefts.

Laver Enters Finals of Norwegian Event

OSLO (AP) — Rod Laver of Australia advanced to the singles final of the Norwegian Tennis Championships Wednesday night by defeating Ulf Schmidt of Sweden 6-4, 6-4, 6-2.

Laves will face the other Swedish Davis Cupper, Jan Erik Lundquist, in the final Thursday. Lundquist defeated Whitney Reed of Alameda, Calif., Tuesday in the other semifinal.

Clippers Conquer Airway in 8th

The R. T. Clippers blew a 2-0 lead, then tallied the deciding run in the bottom of the 8th inning to defeat Huron-Airway, 3-2, in a Class A City League baseball game last night at Jaycee Park.

Judge Booker, veteran City League diamond performer, drilled a single in the first extra inning to tie the score, and then delivered the decisive counter.

Boyd Thompson led off the 8th with a single and Warren Stephens ran for him. Stephens stole 2nd.

Clippers, who relieved Detroit to the 3rd inning, absorbed the loss.

Chuck Honchell buried the distance for the Clippers and allowed two safeties, three of them by John Pater.

Hazel Park Wrestler Wins

17 AAU Matmen Unbeaten

NEW YORK (AP)—Seventeen wrestlers, including two defending champions, grappled through the first day of action with unblemished records in a day-long program at the National AAU freestyle championships Wednesday at the New York Athletic Club.

A total of 42 in the field of 10 fell by the wayside as two full rounds in all eight weight classes were wrestled.

All four of the defending champions in the field emerged unbeaten and two, Dan Brand of the San Francisco Olympic Club in the 215-pound class and Russ Camilleri of the Olympic Club and the U. S. Air Force in the 175 class, racked up two victories by falls.

A team from Japan, priming for the world championships at Toledo, Ohio, June 21-27, survived the first two rounds without a casualty. In the tag team battle, the host New York A.C. piled up a number of contenders in the lighter classes, while the defending champion Olympic Club mustered its strength in the heavier ones.

In the absence of starting upsets, the team battle remained very much in doubt with a strong Oklahoma A.C. team, composed of University of Oklahoma and Oklahoma State U. grapplers, still rated a chance with New York and San Francisco.

Lee Allen of the Multnomah, Ore., A.C., defender in the 135-lb. class, had a decision and a pin for the two rounds. So did Mike Rodriguez of Hazel Park, Mich., the 1961 champ in the 154 pound class.

A decision costs a wrestler one black mark, a draw two, a loss by decision three, and a lot by pin four. A total of six demerits eliminates the wrestler.

Freestyle competition runs through Friday night, with Greco-Roman matches set for Saturday and Sunday.

Michigan Primes for 'World Series'

ANN ARBOR — Michigan and Texas, the two teams that wound up as finalists in the 1953 NCAA College World Series, hope to pick up where they left off when they meet in the 1962 collegiate baseball championships at Omaha, Neb., next week.

And the Wolverines will be well satisfied if the '62 outcome is just the same.

Michigan tackled the Longhorns in a first round game at 2 p. m. next Monday in Omaha Municipal Stadium. The last time the two teams faced each other there, it was for the 1953 NCAA crown and the Wolverines won the only national crown in their history, 7-5.

The teams met three times in the 33 tournaments Michigan winning 12-5, then dropping a 6-4 verdict before roaring back to win the title.

SECOND TIME

It will be Michigan's second appearance in the Omaha Classic and the sixth trip for the Longhorns who won in 1949 and 1950. The Texans clinched the District VI crown by winning two straight games from Arizona.

Michigan topped defending district titlist Western Michigan, 7-6 in a 10-inning fight to gain the District IV title. It was the third 10-inning tilt between the pair in the play-off.

Michigan dropped its opener 6-5 to the Broncos, then recovered with a 3-2 decision to gain the finals. In beating Western in the finals it marked the fifth time in six years that the Wolverines won the Southwest Conference. It will be Coach Don Land's first appearance in the Classic, since Ray Fisher guided the Wolverines to the title in 1953.

New York Gets Veteran Winger From Toronto

Red Wings Select Three, Send Godfrey to Bruins in NHL Draft

MONTREAL (AP)—Bert Olmstead, a tough competitor who has played for five Stanley Cup champions, is first in line today to succeed former teammate Doug Gensert as coach of the New York Rangers.

Olmstead, 35-year-old left winger, was obtained by the Rangers from Toronto Wednesday in the National Hockey League's annual draft. Nine players switched teams in the draft and three in a trade. The Rangers also acquired Bronco Horvath, a center, from the Chicago Black Hawks.

Boston and Detroit, both out of the playoffs last season, did the most business, each drafting three men. The Bruins grabbed left winger Jean Guy Gendron and defenseman Irv Spencer from New York and defenseman Warren Godfrey from Detroit. Boston also acquired goalie Murray Perreault from the Montreal Canadiens. The Rangers in a deal for goalie Ed Chadwick and defenseman Barry Ashbee.

The Red Wings drafted forwards Floyd Smith from the Rangers and Alex Faulkner from Toronto and defenseman Barclay Plager from Montreal. Toronto picked up Ed Van Impe from Chicago. The draft price is $20,000.

"We must seriously consider Olmstead for the coaching job because of his leadership qualities," said Murray Patrick, the Rangers' general manager. "We need a take-charge guy now that Harvey is gone."

Harvey resigned Monday night after one season as player-coach. Olmstead played for the Montreal Canadiens, Stanley Cup title holders of 1953, 1956, 1957 and 1958, with Harvey as a teammate, and was with the Maple Leafs' playoff championship club of last season. He was an assistant to Toronto coach Punch Imlach two years ago.

Local Drivers Compete at Mt. Clemens Raceway

John White of Warren, the nation's leading dirt-track driver, defends his newly-won honors tonight as he meets the challenge of an all-star field in super-modified auto racing cars at Mt. Clemens Raceway. The time trials start at 7 o'clock and the first race is at 8:15.

Jack Goodwin of Farmington, leading late model stock car driver, and Mickey Shaw and Vern Schmidt of Toledo are also high-ranking speedsters.

Local stars who will compete for honors and cash prizes are Bob Frederick, Royal Oak; Jim Nelson, Eastland; and Otto Meyer, Pontiac; Jack Harvey, Lake Orion; Harold Evans, Droyton Plains; Iggy Toth and Lem Savian, Detroit; and Dick Carter, Merrill, Mich.

Plate Takes Another Licking in City League Softball

Home plate took another licking Wednesday evening in the four-game City Softball League program at Beaudette and Northside parks.

Three National division games were played and two International teams met in the other contest and when the night was finished, 62 runs had crossed the dish.

First Presbyterian handed Motorcar Transport a 10-9 shellacking behind the four-hit pitching of Lowell Vollmar and Dick Butler. Vollmar received credit for this shutout win.

Presbyterian made nine hits, three by Chuck Young.

Pontiac State Hospital rallied to trounce G&M Construction, 11-6. The winners bagged 11 hits, three by Sam Crawford, two each by Mike Sorillo and Bill Schneider. Sterly DeVault had two in defeat.

A six-run uprising in the 5th inning propelled St. Joseph Hospital to a 10-7 triumph over Harry's Hideaway.

St. Joe launched a 10-hit attack, highlighted by three hits for Bob Anderson, two for Mike Montgomery and Bill Stabinski's solo home run.

Harry's outfit St. Joe with John Logan collecting three safe blows and Jim Uhan, Chuck Boyer and Jerry Barnfather each getting a pair to pace a 13-hit assault.

On the international loop front, Berry Dore trimmed Langdon's Boat Livery, 16-6. Basil Putnam and Chuck Davis had two hits apiece for Berry and Jerry Langdon notched two safeties in a losing cause.

The victors scored nine of their 10 tallies in the first two stanzas, five coming in the 2nd inning.

Orioles Receive Hobie Landrith From New York

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The New York Mets announced Wednesday night they are sending catcher Hobie Landrith to the Baltimore Orioles in payment for first baseman-outfielder Marv Throneberry.

Throneberry went to the Mets from the Orioles on May 9 in what was announced as a straight cash deal but turned into a player-for-cash transaction.

Landrith, a 33-year-old left-handed hitter who has been with five major league clubs in the last decade, was picked up by the Mets from San Francisco in the National League expansion draft.

To make room for Landrith, the Orioles are shipping catcher Charlie Latt to Rochester of the International League. The Mets will bring up catcher Chris Cannizzaro from Rochester, but he will continue treatment for an injured finger before he joins the team.

Teeling Off

By BILL CORNWELL

Those long, booming drives always boost a golfer's morale, especially when they're straight down the middle of the fairway.

But "it don't mean a thing if you ain't got that 'same' swing" the next time you sock the ball. Just ask an unhappy young gentleman named Pete Green.

Green probably never hit a better drive than the one he whaled off the first tee Tuesday at Plum Hollow in his sudden-death playoff.

With Saginaw's Bill Markham for a U.S. Open berth.

The 21-year-old Orchard Lake amateur didn't have that repeating swing from the fairway grass, however, and the consequences lost him a spot in next week's National. Open at Oakland, Pa.

Green pushed the ball against the fence and it nestled in a bush. Before the University of North Carolina senior could recover, Markham was in command of the situation.

It's always nice to blast powerful tee shots and they're very important, too, but you still have to put the ball in the hole because that's where the money lies.

Green outdrove Markham by a good 20 yards. Furthermore, Green's 220-yard ball was right down the center whereas Markham's tee-off hooked, just missed catching a bunker and stopped behind a tree.

Everything looked to be Green's move. But Markham made an excellent recovery shot, Green missed his chance and the rest is history.

This incident vividly recalled a similar occurrence at Plum Hollow, also on the first hole.

The occasion was the 1957 Western Open. Doug Ford, Billy Maxwell, Gene Little and big George Bayer were tied after 72 holes and had to go sudden-death to decide the championship.

Litterer, Maxwell and Bayer snatched perfect tee shots with Bayer's prodigious wallop sailing nearly 300 yards on the 477-yard par five hole. Ford proceeds to hit a disastrous duck hook into the deep rough.

What happened? Ford recovered for a birdie four to equal Bayer and Litterer and Maxwell bowed out with pars. Two holes later, Ford defeated Bayer with a par four to win the title.

Many pros consistently outdrive Ford on the PGA tour. But he's one of the steadiest money winners ever to enter the record books because he gets the ball in the cup better than most of them.

Suffice it to say, every single shot counts in this game. As we said earlier, just ask Pete Green.

SHORT PUTTS
Hal Shannon, a Hillcrest member, was two under par after three holes during a round of golf at his home club, yet he didn't have a par on his scorecard.

Shannon knocked a 230-yard 4-wood shot into the cup on the 415-yard 1st hole for a double eagle. Then he took a double bogey six at No. 2 and had a birdie three at No. 3. He wound up with an 81.

A 10-handicap player, Shannon was standing on the 2nd tee after making his double eagle two when another Hillcrest member asked him how he stood with par. "Oh, Three under," Shannon nonchalantly replied.

There's an interesting article in the May issue of Golfing magazine by Jim Chapman, assistant pro at Tam O'Shanter. The story is entitled "Little Round Man, Fine Hand Action." It's recommended reading.

Lakeport's John Dalrymple scored the 181-yard 2nd hole at Plum Hollow Tuesday in the sectional trials with a 46-foot chip shot. Mrs. Lloyd (Mary Theresa) Byron sank a 100-yard 7-iron shot on the 1st hole at Pontiac Country Club. Rochester Golf Club has made a bid for next year's Michigan Open tourney. Gene Bone's two clubs were a huge success last weekend at the grand opening of Carl Koss's driving range.

"Beating the Champ" during National Golf Week, now in progress, should be an easier task this year. Gene Little's 75, seven strokes higher than the 10-year average, won the playoff at the Aromink course in Newtown Square, Pa. Loser Jerry Barber had 78.

One, King Canute II, broke a leg and was destroyed. Another to fall was the British 9-5 favorite, Hethereth.

As Larkspur "entered" past the finish line for the first American victory since 1954, jockeys still lay unconscious on the track.

Spectators, including women in summer dresses, clambered over the fences and tended the injured riders until ambulances arrived. Larkspur finished two lengths ahead of Arcor, owned by French textile tycoon Marcel Bouscat, to land the first prize of $97,400. Another French colt, Mrs. Suzy Volterra's Le Cantillon, was third, another half length away.

Neville Sellwood, Australian jockey who rode Larkspur to victory, told newsmen afterwards how he was almost brought down in the Tattenham Corner pile-up.

"The horses all fell right in front of me," Sellwood said. "I had a wonderful escape. I thought we were going to be brought down. Somehow we managed to get through that heap of kicking horses. Once we got into the straight I knew we would win."

Ridderless horses, cantering wildly past the finish line in the wake of the leaders, made the scene more like the Grand National, the fearsome steeplechase in which many of the horses usually fall.

One keen race fan who missed the drama was Queen Elizabeth II, who had a cold and stayed home.

Other members of the Royal Family, including Queen Mother Elizabeth, Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowdon, saw the race.

Six of the thrown jockeys were taken to hospitals.

EPSON DERBY WINNER — Larkspur, owned by Raymond Guest of New York, crosses the finish line to win the 133rd running of the Epsom Derby at Epsom, England, Wednesday. Australian jockey Neville Sellwood rode the longest-hung winner.

Arcor, a French horse, runs 2nd and another French horse, Le Cantillon, on the rail behind Arcor, takes 3rd. Behind the leaders is a riderless horse, one of several which spilled and threw their jockeys during the accident-filled race.

First American Victory Since 1954

Accident-Filled Epsom Won by Larkspur

EPSON, England (AP)—Larkspur, owned by wealthy New Yorker Raymond Guest, dodged through a pile-up of fallen horses at Tattenham Corner Wednesday and went on to win one of the most dramatic Epsom Derbies of all time.

Seven horses crashed to the ground in an accident unprecedented in the 185-year history of the race.

One, King Canute II, broke a leg and was destroyed. Another to fall was the British 9-5 favorite, Hethereth.

Herb Score Puts Indianapolis in Top Spot of AA

By United Press International
Lefty Herb Score hurled Indianapolis to a 4-3 victory over Oklahoma City last night and boosted the Indians into undisputed possession of first place in the American Association.

Omaha, who had shared the lead with Indianapolis, fell to Louisville, 5-1.

Score went all the way for the Indians, whiffing nine batters and scattering five hits. The Indians got the winning run in the last of the ninth, when Ramon Conde cracked a single to, score Len Johnson.

Omaha dropped a full game behind the league leaders when Louisville pitcher Bob Hartman held the Dodgers to five hits. Gene Snyder took the loss for Omaha, his fourth defeat against his own team.

Johnson was selected "Fighter of Month" by the American Association.

UNSAFE - Obviously, this couple is not using common sense. The woman, standing with one foot on the gunwale, has already taken the first step to an unexpected dunking. To keep the boat level and more stable, the man should be sitting toward the other side.

All Boaters Should Use Common Sense on Craft

A thorough soaking, loss of equipment or even worse can result when common sense boating precautions are overlooked. To help you avoid an unexpected swim, here are a few tips from the Evinrude Boating Foundation. When boarding a small craft, step as far toward the center as possible and not on the gunwale or edge of the boat.

If fishing gear or other equipment is to be loaded, it should first be placed on the edge of the pier where it can be easily reached after you have boarded the boat.

When two or more people are present, it's best for one to board the boat and have the other pass the equipment to him.

Weight of passengers and equipment should be distributed evenly throughout the boat. This will keep the boat from tilting to one side, slowing or upsetting.

A full fuel tank placed toward the bow will help stabilize a boat when only one person, sitting at the stern, is aboard.

If you must stand in a small boat, do so carefully. Feet should be spread and knees slightly bent to absorb a sudden roll or pitch of the boat. Above all, keep both

2 Ski Meets Slated for Oxford Lake International Tournament to Start June 30

Top Skiers From East to Compete; Michigan Tourney, July 21st

Two outstanding water ski tournaments have been scheduled for Oxford Lake, a unique body of water designed especially for water skiing.

The first tourney slated for the Lakeville road site is the International which will bring most of the top skiers from the East, Midwest, South and Canada into competition June 30-July 1.

The other tournament will be the Michigan State championships, July 21-22. This tourney has been held in Oakland County for six of the past seven years. The last two years it has been held at Loon Lake.

For the International meet, competition will be held in four divisions, men's, boys', women's and senior men's. The first day will be for qualifying and the top five contestants in each division will go into the finals.

Among the Michigan champions entered in the event are Bill Billie, state slalom champion; Ray Fulton, state jumping champion; Lynn Vermulden, state, midwest and national boys' champion who will be moving into the men's division.

From the Eastern Region of the United States are champion skiers from New York, Pennsylvania, Maryland, Maine, and New Jersey. The state tourney at the same site will bring in nearly 100 Michigan entries to take part in six divisions. Among top local entries are Nancy Messler, Pudge Adler, Tony Mitchell, Ken Oberst and Paul Boel.

Water Sports Plan Ahead for Boating Trips

As an occasional relaxation tonic, a lazy unplanned cruise down a meandering river is hard to beat. But as a steady diet, this type of unorganized boating often tends to become a bit routine.

Most boaters have found that their boating is more fun when they have some sort of plan in mind.

Like many other weekend skippers, you probably have several ideas for things you would like to do this summer.

Perhaps you've already decided that this year for sure, you're going to take a few of those weekend cruises your boating friends continually talk about. For this kind of boating, planning is an absolute necessity.

"Cruising whether all hands share the cabin and cockpit or spend the nights ashore in a tent, is one of the very best of whole-family activities," says the Evinrude Boating Foundation in its publication "Outboard Boating Skills."

"It is interesting, instructive and restful, sometimes exciting, very rarely dull. One goes to new places, meets new people, picks up new ideas and acquires a broader, first-hand knowledge of our country."

But before setting out on a weekend cruise in strange waters, you will want to find the answers to several questions.

You'll want to know such things as the best place to launch your boat, where to make convenient fuel stops, recommendations for overnight lodging and tips on good water front eating places.

You may be able to get this information from friends who have made the trip or you can consult booklets and maps published by state and local agencies.

Most states have this information available and supply it through departments of conservation or boating. Perhaps your local marine dealer has the material or can tell you where to get it.

In addition to this information on services and accommodations, you may want to study a few navigation charts. Almost every large body of water has been charted. Charts and cruise guides can be obtained from several sources including some of the major oil companies.

No doubt your local library has a catalog listing the sources of boating information for all parts of the country.

If you find the idea of frequent cruises appealing, consider the possibility of joining a boating club. Most of these clubs are very active and have something planned for every weekend during the boating season. They also have regular meetings and schedule various activities during the off season. Planning can be almost as much fun as doing. And especially when it comes to cruising strange waterways, you'll find that planning is the key to an eventful and fun-filled trip.

Sailing Events Planned for '64 World Olympics

Sagami Bay off Japan's famous Kamakura Coast will be the site of the sailing events at the 1964 Olympics, according to plans drawn up by the International Olympic Committee during last summer's meeting in Athens. The Olympic games in Tokyo are to be held in late May or early June, 1964.

The five Olympic classes will be the same as they were for the 1960 Olympics: 5.5 Meter, Dragon, Star, Flying Dutchman and Finn. Eliminations for each class will be held in 1963.

Openings in All Classes

Last Call for City Teams

The Pontiac Parks & Recreation Department is issuing the last call for baseball teams to register for summer play. At the June 4 meeting, seventeen teams registered for the Class "E" and eight teams for Class "D". There are openings in all classes: Widget, 11 years and under; Class "F", 13 years and under; Class "E", 15 years and under; Class "D", 18 years and under.

Any boy who is of Widget and Class "F" age and is not on a team and wants to play baseball is asked to report to Jaycee Park, Tuesday, June 19th at 9 a.m.

The first week of the season will be devoted to practice games. The leagues will be divided into American, National and International leagues, etc. In order to balance competition between the teams.

A new innovation will be the introduction of the Pee Wee League for the 8-10 year old who cannot make the grade in the Widget League. The team will be made up of nine men but the ball will be hit off the tee instead of having the pitcher throw the ball. The rules, otherwise, will be the same as the Widget League.

Call Federal 3-7131 for further information.

Any boy who is interested in boosting score or improving play is asked to report to Madison Junior High School, Monday, June 11th and Tuesday, June 12th in the Little Theater at 1 p.m. All phases of umpiring, scoring, procedures will be discussed. Boys must be 14 years of age or older.

10-Race Card at Hazel Park

The one week only 10-race night program has caught the fancy of Hazel Park racing fans.

Insured for the benefit of the Michigan Colt Stake's program, the 10 race card got off to a roaring start early as the track had its best Monday night of the season. Each night the card has gone off without a hitch with the extra race squeezed in during the same three hour period.

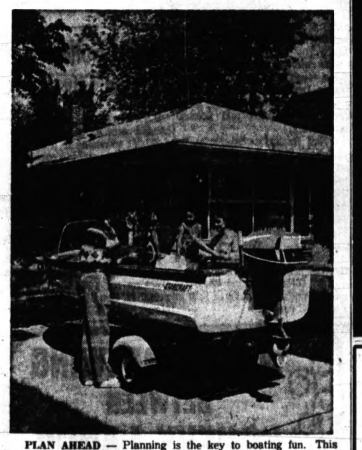

The stake's program, called Michigan's Grand Circuit by many, continues tonight with 11 nominated for the two year old pace for colts and geldings. The event will be raced for $2,500.

The field, which includes all Michigan owned or bred pacers, includes the entry of Pay Lincoln and Rocky's Imp of the Jordan stable. Others going are Royalty, Ess Hal, Chief Morenci, Relco, Straight A, Just Joe, Morenci, Chief, Duke, Gamaun, and Bee's Chief.

Racing continues through Saturday, June 16.

Police Chase Ends in Mishap

Avon Twp. Youth Held for Investigation of Drunken Driving

A police chase at speeds up to 100 miles per hour ended early today when a 15-year-old Avon Township youth smashed his car into a tree in a neighbor's back yard.

The driver, James P. Bishop of 3238 Coolidge Highway, was being held today for investigation of drunken driving at the Oakland County Jail.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said Bishop and juveniles in his car were apprehended following a three-mile chase.

Deputies said the chase began at 10:15 p.m. when they spotted Bishop driving at high speeds. Officers pursued him down Oakridge and east on South Boulevard.

They said he was clocked at speeds from 70 to 100 miles an hour. He ran two stop signs and a red light, narrowly escaping an accident at one of the stop streets, they said.

Deputies reported he drove south onto Alda street, turned into a field and drove through a yard in front of 2503 Alda St. He drove around the house and crashed into a tree in the back yard, police said. No one was injured.

Officers said Bishop and a 15-year-old boy had been drinking. The 15-year-old was turned over to juvenile authorities. Three other juveniles in the car were released to their parents.

Redheads Found Guilty, Get Socked on the Head

The Oakland County Road Commission today reported it is pointless to be worried about redheads.

The redheads have been punting their tires and shoving cars on Bogie Lake Road north of West Road for several days.

But yesterday a road commission worker went out and hit all four of them with a good sized hammer.

The Edward A. Homes & Son Service Station, 989 Commerce Road, was doing a land office repair business until Holmes' son, Edward J., 26, got a four-way spin on his wheels permanently.

The former Grace Kelly announced two months ago that she was pregnant. She was the screen this summer in the Hitchcock film "Marnie."

Later the British director said he had postponed the production.

The newspaper Nice Matin, published an interview today with Princess Grace.

"On the one hand I am not and on the other I have been definitely influenced by the reaction following in Monaco at the announcement of my pregnancy in the making of this film," she said.

Welder, Tools Stolen From Back of Truck

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — State police from the Romeo post are looking for a $200 pair of tools stolen from a storage shed on the back of a dump truck at Mt. Ver non and 26-Mile roads.

4 Trapped in Grain Silo; Two Almost Buried Alive

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Grain shifting like sand trapped two men yesterday in a silo filled with explosive dust, almost burying two of them.

It took three hours and 10 minutes for 30 rescuers to dig the last man free. They used boards and corrugated steel to keep the grain from engulfing still others.

Much Tougher Than Plane Landing Ship Passengers Takes Planning

NEW YORK (UPI) — Traveling by ship is looked upon as the unhurried, relaxed way of getting somewhere — but at one stage of every voyage a feeling of urgency sets in among passengers.

They are the passengers of North German Lloyd Lines, says that happen when the voyagers catch sight of land on docking day.

"Once they're seen land, they're anxious to get ashore — and with the least amount of inconvenience," Gunton observed as the welcoming crowd began building up on the pier during a recent arrival of the MV Berlin.

Getting passengers ashore fast and conveniently is the province of men like Gunton, and a mighty bit of planning it takes considering that several hundred persons want to get off all at once.

A ship's arrival differs from that of an international airliner, which sets down at an airport at which is concentrated all the public health service, immigration and customs facilities needed to process passengers.

Long before a ship docks at one of the piers strung along New York's Hudson River, the planning gets under way. Ship line employees are assigned to notify all the necessary government agencies, welfare organizations, Travelers Aid, plus anyone in this country,

Denver Teens 'Good Writers'

Students Win Honors Third Straight Year in Creative Competition

NEW YORK (UPI) — For the third consecutive year, high school students in Denver have won top ranking in the nation's largest creative writing competition for teenagers.

The competition, sponsored nationally by a pen company, drew approximately 100,000 entries from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Canada and 10 foreign nations.

Runners-up cities in the contest were Evanston, Ill., Ogden, Utah, and Riverside, Calif., with 10 winners each, Detroit with nine winners and New York City with eight.

The contest is open to students in senior and junior public and parochial high schools in the United States, Canada and in American schools abroad. Winners are named in six classifications of creative writing, including short story, essay, poetry and dramatic script.

Killer of 3 Women Dies in Gas Chamber

SAN QUENTIN, Cal. — Henry Adolph Busch, 31, who strangled three women because of an uncontrollable urge to kill died calmly in the prison gas chamber yesterday.

Busch was sentenced to death for the first-degree murder of his aunt and was convicted of strangling two other Los Angeles women.

Yesterday the U.S. Court of appeals rejected a plea for a writ of habeas corpus. His attorney, Al Matthews of Los Angeles, contended the prosecution inadvertently had failed to introduce the report Busch had killed his aunt, Martha Briggs, 53, after an argument.

The Chaco territory of northern Argentina is rich in timber, sugar and cotton.

Like Observes Anniversary of D-Day at Work

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The man who commanded the Allied invasion of Europe 18 years ago marked its anniversary yesterday with quiet hours of work.

Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower on D-Day—came to his tree-shaded office on the Gettysburg College campus at 7:30 A.M. It was a bright, brisk morning at Gettysburg, a far cry from the cloud-shrouded skies of the Normandy beaches.

The general's office staff reported he spent the morning working on a book he is writing. At 11 A.M. a delegation from the Military Order of Foreign Wars of the United States gave him an honorary certificate of membership in the Pennsylvania branch.

Union Files 3 Suits Against Autolite Co.

TOLEDO, (AP)—The Mechanics Educational Society of America filed three suits yesterday asking 2.7 million in damages which the union contends resulted from the Electric Autolite Co.'s move from Toledo to Bay City, Mich.

The suits, filed on behalf of salaried employees in the company's Methods, Planning, Engineering and Drafting departments, bring to $2.5 million the amount being sought in damages by MESA. A hearing on a $500,000 suit on behalf of hourly workers is scheduled for June 15 in Lucas County Common Pleas Court.

In both petitions, the union contends there is a contractual agreement that the company would not transfer operations during the life of the labor contract, which expires March 1, 1963.

Senate Cuts Off Foreign Aid to Commie Nations

Action Jolts JFK Men Who Hope House Vote Will Restore Funds

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate has jolted the Kennedy administration by directing that no slice of next year's foreign aid pie go to a Communist or Marxist dominated nation.

While Secretary of State Dean Rusk was lamenting Wednesday's Senate action as most unfortunate, administration leaders marshaled their forces to fight off another onslaught on the $4.5-billion authorization measure—an effort to lop off $400 million.

The aid restriction—still to be considered by the House—is aimed directly at Yugoslavia and Poland, the two Communist nations which receive U.S. help.

The administration takes the view that by assisting the two it acts to weaken them from domination by the Soviet Union. But the amendment's author, Sen. Frank Lausche, D-Ohio, declared in Wednesday's debate that any aid granted to a Communist country "never be in the interest of the security of the United States—it can only be in the interest of the promulgation of international communism."

The Lausche amendment passed by a 57-34 vote when 34 Democrats turned a deaf ear to a White House plea and sided with 23 Republicans. Voting with the administration were 35 Democrats and 6 Republicans.

UP TO THE HOUSE

It accepted by the House, which has yet to act on its version of the bill, the amendment would specifically prohibit $10 million in development loans to Yugoslavia this fiscal year, and ban shipments of surplus agricultural commodities to Yugoslavia and Poland.

The Senate acted within minutes after Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana read a White House letter protesting the cut in aid action which would "play into the hands of those who are most hostile to the United States."

"We must have confidence in the President," Mansfield said, as he read the letter from McGee Bundy, special assistant to Kennedy.

In his statement Rusk said "administration of the Lausche amendment will give the impression abroad that we are permanently writing off to Soviet domination the millions of people who still yearn for freedom."

Administration hopes for a modification of the restriction appeared to rest on whatever success it may have persuading the House not to adopt such an amendment and sending it into a Senate-House conference where other language might be worked out.

27 Arrested as Spies

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP)—Army intelligence agents arrested 27 persons last night and charged them with spying for Israel. The government said they would be tried by a military court.

Find Missing Witness; to Talk in Hoffa Case

WASHINGTON — A mysterious witness who apparently vanished for seven years was kept under armed guard today during a recess in a federal grand jury investigation of his dealings with Teamster President James R. Hoffa.

The witness, David Probst, was produced by the FBI yesterday a few hours before he would have been declared legally dead. The jury did not meet this morning but the investigation continued and testimony will resume soon.

Government sources said Probst was being held in protective custody at a secret location.

What became of Probst after June 6, 1955, remained a mystery. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy said the FBI had tracked him down after a painstaking search, and added the former Indianapolis lawyer is cooperating with the government in its latest Hoffa probe.

Labor May Ask Work Week Cut

State AFL-CIO Slated to Hear Request for Union, Industry Talks

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—The Michigan AFL-CIO was expected today to call for a shorter work week in industries affected by automation and resultant unemployment.

A resolution urging the federal government to call a national conference of labor and industry to try to solve the double problem of automation and reduced employment was to be presented at the concluding session of the union's four-day convention today.

Yesterday, the union's 1,000 convention delegates heard Earl Masey, secretary-treasurer of the United Auto Workers, assail the Michigan Farm Bureau for its support of a constitutional convention. He called the bureau "probably one of the most reactionary and conservative groups in the state."

Masey told a news conference the UAW was studying a possible appeal to Attorney General Robert Kennedy to investigate the matter in which he said auto companies pay tickets for $300 dinners in support of Republican congressional candidates.

Masey said he believed use of the corporate funds for political purposes was a violation of federal law and he would demand shortly whether to make a formal request to Kennedy for the investigation.

The convention also endorsed the work being done by the Labor and Industrial Relations Committee of the Michigan State University.

The resolution said the center has been under attack by some Republican senators and it pledged AFL-CIO support to fight off "these vicious attacks."

Youth Arrested for Taking Book of BG's Records

COCHIL, U.S.S.R. (AP)—A young man who accepted a book listing Betty Goodman's recordings was arrested last night after the American jazz band's concert here.

"It shows a terrible weakness on their part, doesn't it?" commented Goodman.

Another youngster was chased by police after he accepted a copy of the book of recordings. The boy got away in the crowd.

The arrested youth was seized by Soviet volunteer police in front of the Sochi Hotel where the band was staying. The book had been handed to him by Ted Newman, a New York trumpeter in the band.

News Flashes

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A Republican aide in the House investigation of the Billie Sol Estes case has been fired for leaking confidential information to newspapers. It was learned today.

SAIGON (AP)—U.S. Army helicopter ferried 900 Vietnamese troops into Communist-occupied jungles today in a search for three kidnapped American missionaries.

The Justice Department would not say where Probst has been for the past seven years, what he has been doing, or how, when and where he was located.

When newsmen asked Probst, he only shrugged.

Probst, now 38, telephoned his wife from St. Louis seven years ago Wednesday, and said he was driving East and would get in touch with her later. He had told a friend he was in great danger.

Mrs. Milton Eltinger, who remarried after divorcing Probst in 1958, today said she was surprised to learn that he was still alive.

She said she had never heard anything which would lead her to believe he was alive.

But attorney Joseph Wood, to whom Probst said his life was in danger shortly before he disappeared, said he never thought Probst was dead.

Kennedy noted that court action already initiated would have declared Probst legally dead as of today.

CONSIDER PERJURY

There were indications the grand jury was conducting a perjury investigation.

Hoffa told the Senate Investigations subcommittee in 1958 that a firm which he held an interest loaned Probst $8,000 to help start the State Cab Co. of Indianapolis.

Hoffa denied under oath he had any other business dealings with Probst.

But Sen. John L. McClellan, D-

Ark., the subcommittee chairman, said investigators had information about the cab company that indicated Hoffa had lied under oath. The testimony was sent to the Justice Department.

In other testimony at the 1958 hearings, senators were told that Hoffa's Detroit Teamsters local deposited $125,000 in an Indianapolis bank headed by former Democratic National Chairman Frank E. McKinney.

The bank also loaned Probst money for the taxi firm. The Teamsters deposit was withdrawn about a year ago.

Probst also was said to have been involved in deals with an Illinois insurance company which did a lot of business with the Teamsters.

McKinney and Allen Dorfman, head of the insurance firm, both were subpoenaed for the grand jury hearings. They were on hand Wednesday, along with former members of the Indianapolis Public Safety Board, which granted Probst a taxi franchise.

Kennedy announced that the FBI found Probst after a "wide and painstaking search." He said Probst was cooperating with the investigation into the State Cab Co. in Indianapolis, which he ran with funds provided through Hoffa.

Probst appeared outside the grand jury room in custody of U.S. deputy marshals yesterday. At midnight last night, he would have been legally presumed dead had he not appeared.

City Men Stuck on Bar

Liner Stranded in Lake

All passengers aboard the SS South American stranded in Lake St. Clair disembarked by ferry to Algoma shortly before noon today, according to a radio operator aboard the ship.

A word of advice to the wives of 50 Pontiac businessmen due home from an outing yesterday afternoon: Put away the rolling pins, your husbands DID get stuck on a bar—a sand bar in Lake St. Clair.

Aboard the SS South American on a four-day cruise were 233 businessmen from Pontiac and Lansing when the ship went aground on a sand bar in the upper end of the lake at noon Wednesday.

The businessmen, many of them members of the Lansing and Pontiac Area Chambers of Commerce, had breakfast today with four tugs pushing and hauling at the ship.

"Everyone's still in good cheer," reported one spokesman for the group. Capt. Harold Nelson hoped the tugs would be able to free his Georgian Bay Lakes liner some time today, but was uncertain whether he would proceed to Detroit or Port Huron to disembark passengers.

The ship went aground amidships. Both its bow and stern were in deep water. Crew members insisted the sand bar "wasn't there last season" and isn't shown on charts.

A spokesman for the group estimated the ship was only a good golf drive, 200 to 250 yards off the Michigan shore.

Cease Fire Ends Legislative War After Night Talks

6-Man Joint Committee Seals $24-Million Rift With Compromise

LANSING (AP)—The legislature neared final agreement today on a $79-million package of "nuisance" taxes after a marathon session that carried into the early morning hours.

A six-man conference committee of the House and Senate patched the compromise together when the two houses found themselves $24 million apart.

It was chiefly a victory for the House, which sent an $83 million package to the Senate last week. The Senate, in a session that carried past midnight, trimmed the total to $59 million.

All six on the conference committee recommended passage. It proposes:

A three-cent increase in the nickel-a-pack tax on cigarettes ($50 million); a 1½-cent boost in the three-eighths-of-a-cent tax on a bottle of beer ($24 million); a ¼-cent raise in the four-mill corporation franchise fee ($10 million); a 4 per cent tax on telegraph and telephone service ($8 million); and a 4 per cent liquor excise tax ($7 million).

The committee changes fattened Senate proposals for increases in the cigarette, beer and corporation franchise taxes.

Leaders of both parties and in both houses indicated they would vote for the compromise, which will go into effect July 1.

Urban Renewal Chief Reports City Bought Property for $73,350

The Chapman Hotel, a long-battle to save it for historical purposes, died today as the building and property were sold to the City of Pontiac.

By the end of June, for the first time in more than 120 years, the corner of Saginaw and Pike Streets will stand bare.

City officials said they hoped to proceed with demolition by this weekend.

Charles E. Chapman, part owner and manager of the hotel, and three of six other partners in ownership of the property signed contracts yesterday, according to James L. Bates, urban renewal director.

LEFT INTACT

Last Will and Testament: Oh, Bury Me Not in LA'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Francis Lotis, 40, died in San Francisco on May 31. Her will was filed for probate yesterday in Superior Court.

It read in part: "... As for burial—I just don't care. Wherever it is most convenient. Anyplace but L.A."

He added that this year he planted his own-garden grapes early and it is having a hard time getting through the dry soil.

Aside from a severe storm April 30, snow and rain fell four days during that month for a total of only three-quarters of an inch. In May it rained one and three-quarters of an inch. Monday and Tuesday's total for June was only 15 hundredths of an inch of rainfall.

C. of C. OKs Constitution

LANSING (UPI)—The Michigan State Chamber of Commerce has announced its "unhesitant and unreserved" support of the proposed new constitution.

Needed: Life-Giving Rain

DRY WEATHER DILEMMA — Even after Tuesday's downpour, Willis Field of Union Lake could still bone-dry dirt through his hands. More than 50 per cent of his sweet corn crop has been lost due to the lack of rain this spring. Field's predicament has been repeated time and again as worried farmers look to the sky for a good, soaking rain.

Chapman Hotel Crops Are in Trouble Sold to Pontiac as Ground Dries Up

Oakland County farmers are worried. The lack of rain, the record-breaking heat wave last month and the high winds have pulled the moisture out of the ground, threatening complete crop failures.

It isn't just the fact that there has been only one good hard rain this entire spring, but the heat has penetrated to unusual depth, absorbing precious water so necessary for plant survival, according to Lyle Abel, Oakland County agricultural extension director.

"The biggest trouble has been the untimely heat wave," he said. "After the seeds are in the ground, they just lay there and can't germinate for lack of moisture."

Willis L. Field of 1302 Wise Road, Union Lake, figures he's already lost 50 per cent of his seven acres of sweet corn. "I planted that corn four weeks ago and cultivated three times. All I have to show is a few scrawny stalks sticking up here and there," he added.

With the hope of a hard rain Tuesday, he planned on getting 1,000 tomato plants in this week. Now it's a back-breaking job hauling water to keep the peppers alive. Only six-inches of an inch of rain fell Tuesday shattering the hopes of farmers all over the county.

Out Lake Orion way, Raymond All reported that the ground was so hard he couldn't even get his plow down to prepare the ground.

He added that this year he planted his own-garden grapes early and it is having a hard time getting through the dry soil.

Aside from a severe storm April 30, snow and rain fell four days during that month for a total of only three-quarters of an inch. In May it rained one and three-quarters of an inch. Monday and Tuesday's total for June was only 15 hundredths of an inch of rainfall.

Next U.S. Space Shots Planned for 17 Orbits

HOUSTON (UPI)—The director of manned space flights for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA) said yesterday the agency plans no more three-orbit flights.

D. Brainerd Holmes said four capsules, similar to the three-orbit capsules but with capacity for more life-support oxygen and refined capsules but with capacity for more fuel and oxygen and refined equipment, are currently being built for a 17-orbit mission early next year.

It's Freedom of Press Day

'Fight Is Still Not Over'

In connection with Freedom of the Press Day, June 7, as instituted by the Inter-American Press Association in 1953, President Andrew Heiskell, chairman of the board of Time, Inc., issued today the following statement:

"The Inter-American Press Association is proud to join in the hemisphere celebration of June 7th as Freedom of the Press Day. Though it recognizes serious problems remaining before it, IAPA is equally proud of the part it has played in the defense of press freedom and in its restoration to many millions of people in the Western Hemisphere.

In 1953, when Freedom of the Press Day was instituted, the 30 million people of Argentina, Colombia, the Dominican Republic, Venezuela and Cuba were denied the rights of free expression and free press. Today Cuba, Bolivia, Haiti and Paraguay deny these basic rights to 16 million people—a gain in freedom for some 34 million Americans.

"In spite of this great progress, the danger of losing not only freedom of the press but also other freedoms as well may be greater today than it has ever been in the past. This danger is represented by the existence of a Communist regime in Cuba and its determination to infiltrate and subvert other countries in the western hemisphere. With Havana as its base, international communism threatens with equal intensity the democratic governments of the Americas and the existing free press.

"Only when democracy is established in Cuba and international communism loses its base of operations in our hemisphere will the Inter-American Press Association consider that its greatest battle for freedom of the press in the Americas has been won."

Three R's No Longer Only Objective of Education

Schools Stress—Sound Mind, Body

Ancient writers and philosophers often expressed the thought that the ideal state for mankind exists only with "a sound mind in a sound body."

Through the ages however, man's desire for education was focused almost entirely on mental development. The attitude that prevailed emphasized that knowledge was power and what was gained by physical strength was more for brute.

The little red schoolhouse in America concentrated on the three R's—Reading, writing and arithmetic, but added another R—Recess, a period between classes during which the pupils were able to unleash their physical energies.

Today, our government recognizes the great need for development of muscular sense, generally called the "sixth sense."

BUILD MUSCLES

The body is said to have more than 660 different muscles and right from the first grade the development of these muscles begins with games and exercises and continuing in upper grades with conditioning, weights and skills in specific sports.

First graders take part in animal mimetics such as frog jump and elephant walks. They graduate to second grade duck walk, crab walk or inch worm. Then comes the chicken walk, lame dog and seal walk in third grade plus numerous stunts and tumbling activities.

Grandfathers and even today's young parents find themselves somewhat bewildered when junior comes home from school talking about his knee-dips, the Chinese get-up, the Indian leg wrestle or the Siamese twin walk.

He may also tell the folks how well he did in Danish bounders, or as dog catcher or in crows and cranes.

Moving into junior high school the activities begin to concentrate on individual and team sports, nearly doubling the amount of time as in the elementary level. The physical fitness pilot program becomes more intensive in high school and development is charted to the body measurements of each boy.

MANY ACTIVITIES

Participation is available in 25 different sports and fitness activities, including archery, badminton, basketball, bowling, canoeing, conditioning, dancing, fencing, field ball, gymnastics, hiking, horseback riding, paddle ball, rhythms, soccer, speedball, skating, skiing, swimming, table tennis, tennis, volleyball, weight-training and wrestling.

The elders who never knew such activities as part of their school days may frown on the purpose of such a program, theorizing that the intent is to build muscle-bound bodies rather than space conscious minds.

The concept of the physical program as outlined by the President's council on youth fitness and as planned and organized by the Pontiac school system has eight objectives: physical development, physical skills development, mental development, social and moral development, emotional and psychological development, health development, safety development and recreation development.

Put them all together and the total personality of each school child, our contributing citizen of the future, is molded—sound in mind and body.

'No Plans to Increase Marines in Thailand'

HONOLULU (AP) — Navy Undersecretary Paul B. Fay Jr. says there are no plans to increase the number of U.S. Marines serving in Thailand to help defend that country's border against communism.

Fay made the statement at a news conference Wednesday night shortly after arrival at Hickam Air Force Base. He is beginning a month-long tour of naval installations in the Pacific.

Fay will remain in Honolulu until Friday.

He said he did not know of any move to replace Marines in Thailand with U.S. Army troops.

HAVANA (AP) — Cuban motorists no longer may drive in for an oil change and lubrication when they feel like it. Managers of the nationalized filling stations have been made responsible for servicing only cars that need it, the interior trade ministry announced yesterday.

Solon 'Avoided' by GOP Chiefs

Rep. Andersen Claims Leaders Evading Him; Name Linked With Estes

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. H. Carl Andersen, R-Minn., accused Republican leaders yesterday of cold-shouldering him since his name was connected with Billie Sol Estes. He appealed to House colleagues to "come say hello — come shake my hand."

Andersen, in an impassioned House speech, said his conscience was clear because he had done nothing wrong. He also accused a syndicated columnist (Drew Pearson) of trying to smear him.

Andersen said previously he received $400 from Estes, now under indictment for fraud, in exchange for 40 shares of stock in a coal mine owned by the Andersen family.

Andersen told the House some of his fellow legislators and old friends had been "siding away" from him since his name was brought into the Estes case.

CITES HALECK

He specifically mentioned House GOP Leader Charles A. Halleck, Rep. William E. Miller, chairman of the Republican National Committee, and Rep. Ben F. Jensen, R-Iowa, a fellow member of the appropriations committee.

"Some of you have been shying away from me," Andersen said, his voice apparently near breaking. "Come and say hello — come shake my hand."

Jensen arose to tell Andersen, "You're imagining things." He said he had nothing but the highest regard for Andersen.

Andersen then apologized for mentioning Jensen, saying that he was upset by what he called unfair attacks on him in the Estes matter.

Expect Nomination Will Go to Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's nomination of Matthew H. McCloskey as ambassador to Ireland was expected to go to the Senate today.

Kennedy announced the nomination late Wednesday.

McCloskey, 65, is a leading Democratic fund raiser and Philadelphia contractor. He would replace Grant Stockdale on July 6. Stockdale, a Miami real estate man, was named to the Dublin post early in the Kennedy administration.

McCloskey was Democratic national treasurer from 1955 until he resigned in April.

Picked Up on Everest

KATMANDU, Nepal (AP) — A chartered U.S. helicopter lifted two frostbitten members of India's Mt. Everest expedition from a base camp at the 13,000-foot level to a local American hospital yesterday. They were to be sent on to New Delhi for further treatment.

Laotians Have Own Way of Life

Vientiane Under Illusion of Peace

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
VIENTIANE, Laos — Life is leisurely in Vientiane, and in its dusty streets there is no hint that this is a center of world tensions. Along its two main streets, pedicab drivers lean into their handbills, towing passengers on errands who have no urgency, and in their open-front shops Vietnamese, Thai or Chinese merchants flick their mops in a tolerant way against the dust which drifts over floors, equesters and merchandise.

Coconut palms rustling in the hot wind, the brilliant red blossoms of the flame trees and the great, high-peaked, white stucco houses of former French colonial administrators create the atmosphere of a colonial city at the turn of the century and add to the illusion of a people living in a more peaceful, less urgent time.

Not it is all an illusion, for the Laotians are a people to whom urgency is foreign, whether it be in work or war.

In contrast to the terrorism which occasionally breaks out in Saigon and is a way of life in Algiers, there is none of that here.

If there are Pathet Lao in Vientiane, they come only as another Laotian, perhaps only to purchase a small transistor radio, which is a favorite piece of equipment among the Laotians.

Hotel room doors are left unlocked, for thievery is not a sin of the Laotians.

The United States has little to show for its $300-million investment in Laos. Open sewers run along Vientiane's streets and the city has no water supply.

Buildings still show the scars of machine gun and mortar fire which erupted in the coup of 1960, depositing neutralist Savanana Phouma and installing Prince Boun Oum.

But to the people of Laos these, no more than the communism which threatens to engulf their country by force, are matters of small concern.

Of more concern is the new fountain which the government has built in the center of the sun-baked city square. When it is running in the evening, they gather by the score to watch the play of the waters.

In this way, then, the Laotian expresses his belief that these times will pass and that a way of life in which he wants no part also will pass.

The Laotians are products of ancient kingdoms, of Buddhism and long colonial rule.

Under such life, if not progressive, has been easy. The land supplies the food and thatched palm leaves the shelter.

By nature the Laotian is a neutral.

And when Phoumi or Boun Oum speak of war to the death against communism or accuse the United States of deserting them, the Laotian couldn't care less.

Let the Indians, the Thais or the Chinese become the merchants and let others fight the wars.

'Advise, Consent' Premier Aids Paralyzed Girl

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Washington premier of "Advise and Consent" was held last night to benefit Patti Corte, the orphaned and paralyzed daughter of UPI White House photographer Charlie Corte, who was killed last year in an auto crash. Patti, 15, was flown from New York's Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation for the event.

The girl was paralyzed from the neck down in the accident that took the life of her father, mother and an aunt. Her brother Kevin, 5, was injured but has now recovered and is living with relatives.

The hospital has reported that Patti is making some progress. The capital premier of the Washington-filmed movie was held in two theaters. In addition to the Patti Corte fund, administered by the White House News Photographers Association, a local hospital benefited from the performances.

"Advise and Consent" producer Otto Preminger and two of its actors, Walter Pidgeon and George Grizzard, were present for the premier.

5 More Negroes Leave Alabama on Bus to Hyannis

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Five young Negro men left here by bus last night for Hyannis, Mass., their fares paid by the Montgomery Citizens Council in a "reverse freedom ride."

The group brought to 13 the number of Negroes here given bus tickets and expense money to relocate in northern cities.

Citizens Council Chairman C. H. Lancaster said a Negro woman and her 10 children would leave soon for another northern city.

Fiji Legend Explains Shape of Nut Trees

SUVA, Fiji — Fiji's turtle-meat trees are said to be the sea god's reminder of the folly of a curious man.

After an ancient ceremony—continued to the present—in which gigantic turtles were called from the sea by male villagers, the ritual spot was taboo until the next day. One man, however, hid to see what happened.

The sea god rose from the depths and the man died in its terrible gaze. On the spot sprang up the first tree with nuts shaped like a turtle shell.

Amish Convert Few

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. — All the Amish in the United States are descended from a relatively small group of ancestors, since their conservative sect has made few converts. One researcher has found that the typical Amish family averages 8.4 children.

Old Fire Trucks Find No Pastures in Retirement

WOODVILLE, Mass. (AP) — Old fire trucks were retired to pasture — but what happens to old fire trucks?

Charles Dewey Farrar, fire truck manufacturer, says the old ones are not always junked.

Some are sold to small towns which cannot afford a new truck in the $15,000 to $25,000 range. Others are purchased by organizations which want them for parade purposes. Occasionally an individual will buy one for summer property protection.

The average life of a town fire truck given good usage is about 20 years, Farrar says.

European Nations Plan Joint Venture in Space

LONDON — Eight European countries have agreed on a program for the construction of space vehicles for peaceful uses. Britain, France, Australia, Belgium, the Netherlands, Italy, Spain and West Germany make up the group.

They hope to combine within a few years, a first-stage British rocket, a second-stage French rocket, and a third-stage German propellant to lift their first satellite for research and commerce.

Top GOP Donor Is Michigan

Payments Gathered at Conclave of National Finance Committee

DETROIT (UPI) — The Republican National Finance Committee yesterday gathered payments for a 1962 political drive it hopes will net 41 more House seats.

Michigan, host state at the quarterly meeting of the committee, had the honor of making the largest contribution to the national war chest, a check for $100,750 mostly from a drive through a series of major state shows called "GO Parties."

Some 175 GOP fund-raising leaders from 40 states attended the meeting, headed by Courtney Burke, Cleveland, chairman of the committee.

Speakers included Sen. Jack Miller of Iowa, who said the gap between the Kennedy Administration and business is widening, and ex-Gov. Harold Hodel of Indiana.

Don E. Ahrens, Michigan Republican finance chairman, said the party has partly well cleared up its debts for the 1960 campaign and is pushing for money to meet 1962 quotas. He said Michigan now has paid about 20 per cent of its $280,000 quota for Senate and Congressional campaigns.

Ahrens said the party's opportunity to pick up Senate seats was slim, but the party is hopeful of gaining 11 House seats.

He said the GO-Parties in 11 Michigan cities—Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Lansing, Detroit, Birmingham and Flint—drew more than 10,000 persons who paid $35,000 gross. Ahrens said the GO-Party stage show idea was being used in other states and was drawing more people into party participation than did the $100-a-table closed-circuit dinners held in 1958 and 1960.

'Average' Name Hiding Figures Under Barrel?

WASHINGTON (AP) — Would the National Bureau of Standards have more glamour if it were named the bureau of forms and figures?

Dr. Allen V. Astin, director, was testifying before the House Space Committee Wednesday on behalf of a bill to give the bureau more leeway in temporary employment of scientists. Several members said they suspect the bureau, as an old-line agency doing highly exacting scientific work in support of other agencies' public programs, gets crowded out of the limelight.

Rep. Bob Casey, D-Tex., suggested, "Maybe you need a more glamorous name. A good public relations man should be able to think up one."

"Bureau of forms and figures," suggested Rep. Ken Hechler, D-W. Va.

A star may form from cosmic gas and dust, with gravitational attraction playing a major role. As gravitational pressure builds up within the star, nuclear reactions begin. Hydrogen may be converted into helium — the same fusion process as occurs in a hydrogen bomb.

Catholic Service Unit to Honor 3 Members

Reverend Fr. Swithun Bowers, OMI will be the principal speaker at the annual dinner of Catholic Social Services of Oakland County, to be held Monday 7 p.m. at the Pajala Inn on West Maple Road in Clawson.

Father Bowers is an international figure in the field of social welfare. He is dean of the school of social welfare, St. Patrick's College, Ottawa.

Three board members, Mrs. William J. Dean, 17 Ottawa Drive, Joseph Sieracino, former Berkley resident who recently moved to South Bend, Ind., and Kirk Mills, 211 Harmon Road, Birmingham, will be given special recognition for the years of service as members of the board of directors.

This Bus Has Class ... but Not Much Else

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A former Fifth Avenue bus from New York, vintage 1925, is one of the attractions this year at Six Flags Over Texas, a recreation spot between Dallas and Fort Worth.

The 67-seat bus, which has a top speed of 44 miles an hour and gets three and a half miles to a gallon, was purchased from a Houston collector who had procured it from a Hollywood movie studio.

The bus will be used as a shuttle between the 18-acre Six Flags Park and Six Flags Inn.

'Uh, Sorry to Put You Out of Your Way, Sir'

GUNNISON, Colo. (AP) — Bill Knox drives a school bus between Gunnison and Sapinero in western Colorado. One chilly night he wheeled the empty bus up to his house and started to get out for the hot supper awaiting him.

A 6-year-old boy reared up from the back seat and sleepily asked: "Where are we, Mr. Knox?" He had stretched out on the rear seat and slept through his stop.

There was nothing for Knox to do but take the boy home — a 50-mile round trip.

Virginia Votes Sterilization Act

Law Approves Broad Birth-Control Measure for Special Cases

RICHMOND, Va. (UPI) — The Virginia Legislature had enacted a law approving special sterilization as a birth control measure.

Under the act, physicians will have a legal right to sterilize adult patients, men or women, who request it. The operation cannot be performed only after.

—The patient has been given a full explanation of the consequences.

—The physician has brought the patient in consultation with another doctor.

—The patient has had 30 days to think over the operation.

Present Virginia law allows sterilization only for medical necessity or for certain types of mental illness.

Sponsors of the new measure said physicians should have legal protection to sterilize patients who wish to cease having children.

The new law exempts physicians from civil suit as the result of a voluntary sterilization.

Several physicians testified at public hearings in the legislature that they had sterilized many women who wished to cease bearing children.

One physician said one of every 17 women who gave birth in his hospital later asked to be sterilized.

Chief opposition to the measure came from Roman Catholic organizations which contended the proposal violated natural law against mutilation.

State Sen. John A. K. Donovan, attacking the bill on the senate floor, said Virginia would become the first state to permit sterilization without cause.

Overloads Hard on Tires

AKRON, Ohio — The tread life of tires on cars with a 20 per cent overload declines 20 per cent. As the load increases, the tires run hotter and wear out faster. Tire company engineers say that keeping your car's trunk clear of unnecessary heavy articles can prolong tire wear.

Lengthen Battery Life

CHICAGO — There are two ways of prolonging your flashlight batteries' life, manufacturers say: keep them away from high moisture temperatures; they are designed to operate best at 70 degrees. Second, use your flashlights now and then; intermittent use is good for longer educational and documentary pictures.

ROCKVILLE CENTRE, N.Y. (AP) — Perry Grant is having a little cocktail Sunday for his close friends.

The police have been notified. The driveway has been cordoned for dancing. The caterer has been alerted. The champagne has been ordered. And the bands have been engaged.

The wealthy bachelor expects more than 800 guests for the event at his sumptuous estate on Long Island.

It all began three weeks ago when Grant, 25, escaped injury as his plane crashed in a Maryland Swamp. He got to thinking how lucky he was to have escaped.

Medical Center Planned by City

To Be Built in Honor of Long-Time Doctor in Kansas

WINFIELD, Kan. (UPI)—Medicine has come a long way since the first doctor drove his horse and buggy into this south-central Kansas town.

Plans were announced recently for a $2-million medical center to be built here by the H. L. Snyder Memorial Foundation of Winfield.

Snyder, known to thousands of Kansans as "Dr. H. L.," practiced medicine here for nearly four decades before his death in 1948.

The Foundation plans to build on a 22-acre site a medical center including a clinic building, a research laboratory, an additional special research building, a dental office building, a diagnostic receiving unit, a home for the aged and a motel for patients and visitors.

Construction is to begin this summer on the $700,000 medical clinic building. The Foundation said it reported that more than $200,000 has been pledged so far.

When completed, the building will be leased to a group of Winfield physicians and be income will be used to further research in cancer, mental health, heart disease, multiple sclerosis and allied diseases.

Japan Film Output Tops

TOKYO — Japan produces more motion pictures than any other country, the Japan Federation of First-run Motion Picture Producers claims. Teen-Agers Forsake Summer Leisure for Vacation Jobs

By The Associated Press
America's teen-agers apparently do not believe that the best thing in life is free.
Not too many of them, as they pour out of the nation's high schools and colleges for summer vacations, are dreaming of a shady river bank and a fishing pole.
They are more likely to be dreaming of hustling behind a desk in an office, running a tractor, or any of a hundred other occupations.
When school's out, they want the money-coming in.
There have always been youngsters wanting summer work, from the days when most of them went back to the farms.
There have always been the poor boys and girls who needed the money for more schooling, and the ambitious ones are in a hurry to start a career or prove they're grown up.
But employment offices all over the country are facing increasing numbers of young summer job-seekers, and offering various speculations on why there are so many.
FOR COSTLY TASTES
Miss Joyce Graydon, guidance supervisor for the Columbus, S. C., school system, says college students usually want the money to continue their education, but the increasing number of high-school-age job seekers more often want spending money—for increasingly expensive tastes.
"The boys want cars, and not jalopies, either," she says, "and the girls want larger wardrobes."
James Cuff, district manager of the State Employment Security Department at Nashville, Tenn., thinks one reason for the increasing teen-age job applications is that working in the summer has become a fad—"the thing to do."
Cuff doesn't quite understand why the fad, but speculates it may be because the kids don't have enough to occupy them during the summer.
A Connecticut employment official disagrees. It's not "lack of something to do," he says, but simply money that sends the boys and girls out to hunt jobs.
College expenses are going up every year, he says, and youngsters don't feel they must have things once considered luxuries—television sets, radios, cars.
"The kid who's looking is the one who's eager and has a goal," says Mrs. Eileen Cassidy, Los Angeles employment official.
It's partly a status matter too, she adds. "If a boy's friend gets a job, the first boy wants to get in the swim."
TIED OF STUDY
"In this area of suburbs, a youngster is likely to have parents who want to get ahead. This carries over to the youngsters," Dr. Lawrence Shepsher, public school superintendent in Wichita, Kan., thinks the teen-agers get "fed up with the working just with their heads, with abstract, academic courses."
"They need and want laboratory experience, working with their hands—and they have an impelling desire to earn their own money and to be independent."
"There's youthful prestige in owning a car," adds Shepsher, "and many parents can't afford to provide them—tell the youngster to earn it yourself, and the money to keep it running."
A counselor at a Cincinnati high school cites a classic example from the other side of the tracks.
MUST EARN AT 16
Sadie, a 16-year-old high school junior, wants to study nursing, and has to raise for herself the $750 she will need for the first year of training. She'll need somewhat more than that, too, because she now shares clothes with a younger sister.
"I know my mother won't let me take our clothes," she says, "because my sister needs them."
Practically all the experts point out that, in addition to the other reasons cited, there's a simple statistical reason for so many youthful job-hunters—the fact that there was a baby boom at the end of World War II. The same population explosion that jams the schools the rest of the year is jamming the employment offices now.
And the sad fact is that in practically all areas of the country, only a fraction of these seeking full-time jobs will find them.
The Texas Employment Commission has put a new group of "youth coordinators" on the job after its experience last year, when it was able to find 3,170 permanent jobs and 1,838 summer jobs for young people—but had 16,000 applicants.
Florida's state employment service estimates that only one out of three teen-aged job seekers found work last summer, and this summer will be about the same.
A New York state employment official, Alex Altheim, says that despite an extensive program of farm work for city boys, and various types of "made" summer work, "we couldn't possibly cope with the demand... even if our entire staff was working only on summer jobs and not taking care of others at all."
Russell Hand, manager of the Omaha office of the Nebraska state employment service, makes a similar prediction—only about one-third of the expected 3,500 applicants will find jobs.
Illinois officials of a supermarket chain says his vacation replacement needs have been met long since by young friends and relatives of store managers.
ONLY 50 PER CENT
Washington, D. C., officials, despite a program that found jobs for more than 2,500 teen-agers last summer, and part-time work for many more, expects about half those who apply this summer to be turned down.
The Missouri division of employment security has about 2,250 youths registered now for summer work—and 53 summer jobs on file.
Los Angeles officials expect 87,000 teen-age job seekers in their area, and predict success for one out of five. A San Francisco official says 50,000 sought summer jobs in the San Francisco Bay area last year. Of 50,000 seekers in the city itself, 1,500 were placed.
Only a few state employment services, Alabama and Ohio among them, report slightly improved opportunities this year for the youngsters, due to improved local economic conditions or expanded "hire youth" programs.
"One big reason why it will be tough for the teen-agers to find jobs is that it is tough for their elders. In sections where adult unemployment is so high, employers who must pay minimum wages are more inclined to hire adults, even for seasonal work."
An employment official in Baltimore quotes one major employer there:
"Why should I hire someone who doesn't even have a high school diploma when there are guys walking the streets with one and two years of college?"
The bugaboo of the adult labor force — automation — is hurting young job hunters, too.
Mechanization on the farm has eliminated countless jobs, like the bean picking in Wisconsin that used to attract many youths, but is now done by machine.
Self-service in groceries and other retail stores has cut into the unskilled job total.
And a big corporation in New Orleans, which employed 73 youngsters every summer but will hire none this year because of new office machinery, is typical of many across the nation.
On the golf courses, caddy carts are replacing the human and usually teen-ager caddy. Summer job sources like excursion boats and amusement parks are dwindling in favor of television's mass-produced entertainment. Machines set up the pins in the bowling alley.
Kentucky's youth employment coordinator, Harold Conger, sums it up this way:
"When you compare the number of people needed to produce any one article a few years ago with present output, you find fewer workers and more machines."
One employer in Norfolk, Va., who has hundreds of applicants for about 10 summer jobs on which "a kid doesn't even learn anything," laments is mainly on pushy parents.
"Children are being made to feel they must get a job at too early an age," he said. "Fifteen is too young to do an inside job all summer. There ought to be some sort of reappraisal, to convince kids that there are too many other things that ought to be done in the summertime."
Like sitting on a shady river bank and fishing.

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI) — One of the ordeals that all parents must go through comes when their children begin asking questions about the stock market.
Many parents are embarrassed by the experience and are reluctant to be drawn into such a discussion.
Fathers will try to change the subject and mothers will pretend that something is burning in the oven.
Child psychologists tell us, however, that it is wrong to be evasive. The books say it is perfectly natural for children to become curious about stocks when they reach a certain age.
It is a normal outgrowth of their earlier experience with piggy banks, and if handled properly they will grow up with a wholesome attitude toward the market.
When such questions arise, parents should answer them in a frank, straightforward manner.
Otherwise, the child will hear about it from his or her playmates and may be exposed to misinformation that will prove harmful in later life.
Knowing the right way to approach the problem does not make the task any easier, however, as I found out last week.
My daughter happened to notice the newspaper headlines about the wild market fluctuations. It was her first awareness of the existence of interest in stocks and she cornered me for clarification.
With the simple directness that makes children such a joy, she went right to the heart of the matter.
"Where do dividends come from, big daddy?" she asked.
At first I was too shocked to reply. But I realize that if I chickened out, she would never again feel free to talk things over with me.
To help put us both at ease, I went out and hired a midge to sit on my lap while I explained it to her.
HIS EXPLANATION
"As you grow older," I said, "you will begin to feel an urge to invest. This is a normal feeling and is nothing to be ashamed of. It is merely mother nature's way of telling us that we are ready to produce capital gains."
"It is important, however, that you control the urge until the right broker comes along."
To my relief, she accepted the explanation without further inquiry and went happily off to play jackstraws. But I'm dreading the day when she asks about the Securities & Exchange Commission.

Executives Get School at Work Conference Classes Held at Office for Junior Officials

NEW YORK (UPI) — The young man on the way up is getting a fresh boost these days by going to "school" right where he works.
Some leading industrial concerns have adopted a new method of training their junior and middle level executives for top management posts.
It's called the Conference Management Training Plan and consists of weekly conferences after business hours.
The executives, working from texts supplied by the Alexander Hamilton Institute, executive training specialists, discuss facts supplied by the texts in the light of their own company's activities and are assigned tests.
The programs are conducted without instructors. At each session a member acts as the conference leader. The program is directed and administered by the company on an in-plant basis with each participant paying at least part of its cost.
Firms running such "schools" include Caterpillar Tractor Co., General Aniline & Film Co., and Brunswick Pulp and Paper Co.

Cigarette Machines Being Placed in Homes

NEW YORK (UPI) — A Stanford University professor writes that a "surprising" number of cigarette vending machines are popping up in private Australian homes.
Prof. James S. Ewing, marketing consultant to an Australian firm, said the machines are mostly in the homes of heavy smokers apparently fearful of running out when shops are closed.

Attending the banquet honoring Rev. and Mrs. Malcolm K. Burton for their 10 years of service to First Congregational Church are (left) Mrs. Howard McIntyre of Henry Clay Avenue, the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Burton and Mrs. George Gaches of Moreland Avenue.

At First Congregational Church 350 Honor Pastor, Wife at Banquet

More than 350 members and friends of First Congregational Church enjoyed a banquet honoring Rev. and Mrs. Malcolm K. Burton Wednesday evening. The Burtons came to the parish some 10 years ago.

An original skit entitled "A Preacher's Nightmare" was introduced by Mrs. Howard McIntyre with members portraying parts in "Building Committee," "The Ushers," and "The Women's Fellowship." Each group presented one scene of the nightmare.

Dr. Alfred D. Grey, retired pastor of Pine Hill Congregational Church on West Long Lake Road, gave the invocation. Everyone joined in singing the Doxology.

Norman Chral, toastmaster, introduced an instrumental trio of Pamela Morris, flute; Larry Reynolds, oboe; and Pamela Griffin, piano. The three presented a selection from Carmen.

Dr. W. A. Gordon presented an anniversary gift to the pastor and his wife.

Rev. John D. Rose pronounced the benediction.

Cochairmen for the dinner were Mrs. Stanley Kipp and Mrs. Oscar Lundbeck. In charge of decorations and the dining room were Mrs. John Morrison and Mrs. William Miller.

In recognition of the outstanding leadership shown by Rev. Mr. Burton in the completion of the church, the tower will be called the "Malcolm K. Burton Tower."

Spacemen Super Intelligent, Yet They're So Very Folksy

By BOB CONSIDINE
NEW YORK.—Project Mercury combines the most refined elements of a small town church chicken fry. Buck Rodgers never used to bring on the wife and kiddies after midnight from Plato, and thus many of us were not quite prepared for the disarming folksiness of our real spacemen.

The fervid embraces, the photographic grandparents, wives and kids, the togetherness of the whole endeavor has come as a most heartwarming surprise to millions who may not have thought of these men as quite human—since their frats were superhuman.

The astronauts can speak a learned space and capsule jargon that hardly a thousand scientists in the world understand, yet also say in the hushed, hushed, English something like "Gee, you guys, I don't deserve this gold medal—I did it all for the wife and kids."

The trail-blazers in the early days of oceanic flying were comparatively mute, and were faced with only the barest fraction of the post-flight stresses placed on the astronauts.

SO ARTICULATE

How would Lindbergh, as widely heralded and honored as he was, have fared if put through the kind of program asked of John Glenn—parades, five or six different TV speeches a day, appearance before Congress, etc., etc., etc. Or Byrd, Chamberlain, Balchen, Acosta or even wrong way Corliss?

Somewhere high on the lists of requisites leading up to the selection of our first seven astronauts must have been the item of "articulation." All of these fellows express themselves superbly. They are masters of understatement.

unfailingly modest, eternally grateful to "the team."

They look good, dress well, and show the most impeccable manners. They are, by and large, small town boys—yet they walk with the nation's great without difference of arrogance.

At the Waldorf the other day, Scott Carpenter—who had never met either—was perfectly at home with Herbert Hoover and Harry Truman.

Wins GOP Nod in Connecticut

Apple-Growing Solon Upsets Ex-Governor to Get Senate Nomination

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP).—Horace Seely-Brown Jr., a plain-talking, apple-growing congressman, has won the Republican nomination for U.S. senator from Connecticut.

Seely-Brown, 54, scored a stunning upset over former Gov. John Davis Lodge Wednesday at a dramatic Republican state convention. Although the pre-convention underdog, he swamped Lodge on the first ballot, 476 to 149.

John Alsop of Avon, an insurance executive, received the gubernatorial nomination earlier after a record eight roll calls that began Tuesday afternoon.

The delegates broke another tradition by nominating the first Negro for a statewide office in Connecticut on the ticket of either party. William D. Graham, 47, an attorney who was born in Montgomery, Ala., was nominated for state treasurer without opposition.

Although the convention completed a state ticket to confront the Democrats this fall, Republicans may be in for some more excitement in the next few days.

Both Lodge and Edwin H. May Jr., a defeated gubernatorial candidate, polled enough votes to challenge the convention nominees in statewide party primaries.

Neither committed himself either way on a primary.

Lodge noted he has until July 25 to decide whether to file primary petition. May said he would leave the question to his supporters, with whom he will meet here Sunday.

The nomination for congressman-at-large went to State Sen. John M. Lupton of Weston, 44, a conservative and an admirer of Arizona's Republican Sen. Barry Goldwater.

the invocation. Where else could it happen?

At Casseval, while we waited for the Carpenter shot, the talk turned one night at the bar to the day — still distant — when reporters will be taken along on space flights.

"Would you go?" a newsmen asked the general assembly. Everybody, at least those who were drinking, said "Of course!"

Harry Truman put things more honestly at the Carpenter luncheon. Waving his hands up and down excitedly, and looking at the impassive astronaut, Old Harry said:

"He's done something I wouldn't do if they gave me the moon."

Ran into Chip and Evie Robert of Atlanta and Washington, the day after the crash of the 707 charter of Orly, Paris. The enormity of the calamity was brought home by something the former treasury official said, and without embellishment: "We lost 25 good friends at once."

The Kennedy administration just got the bill for the current nuclear tests in the Pacific: $250 million. That's only 17 times as much as Jefferson put into the Louisiana Purchase, and without embellishment: "We lost 25 good friends at once."

But this involves our security for which there is no calculable price tag.

Police Chase Ends in Mishap

Avon Twp. Youth Held for Investigation of Drunken Driving

A police chase at speeds up to 130 miles per hour ended early today with a 16-year-old Avon Township youth smashed his car into a tree in a neighbor's back yard.

The driver, James P. Bishop of 3335 Collingwood Highway, was being held today for investigation of drunken driving at the Oakland County Jail.

Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said Bishop and juveniles in his car were apprehended following a three-mile chase.

Deputies said the chase began at Doris and Oakdale roads in Pontiac Township when they spotted Bishop driving at high speeds. Officers pursued him down Oakdale and east on South Boulevard.

They said he was clocked at speeds from 100 to 130 miles per hour. He ran two stop signs and red light, narrowly escaping an accident at one of the stop streets, where he was clocked at 110 m.p.h.

Deputies reported he drove south onto Alda street, turned into a field and drove through a yard in front of 2803 Alda St. He drove around the house and crashed into a tree in the back yard, police said. No one was injured.

Officers said Bishop and a 15-year-old had been drinking. The 15-year-old was turned over to juvenile authorities. Three other juveniles in the car were released to their parents.

Redheads Found Guilty, Get Socked on the Head

The Oakland County Road Commission today reported it is pointless to be worried about redheads causing any more trouble on Hogle Lake Road in Commerce Township.

The redheads have been punning their way through the road for several days.

But yesterday a road commission worker went out and hit all four of them with a good baseball bat for several days.

The Edward A. House & Son Service Station at 800 Commerce Road was doing a land office for the repair business until Holmes' son, Edward J., 26, got a four-way split in his rear.

Holmes then investigated. He found four surveyor's spikes — called "redheads" because they are covered with pieces of red cloth — sticking up in center of the road.

Holmes called Capt. Leo Hazen of the Saturday Dispatch. Hazen called yesterday sent a man out to drive the spikes into the concrete. Hazen said the road commission's chief engineer, said the spikes are driven into the concrete prior to blacktopping a road.

Baines said the spike are supposed to be flush with the surface of the road. He didn't know how they had risen up from the ground.

Welder, Tools Stolen From Back of Truck

WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP — State police from the Romeo post are looking for a $600 portable welder and $400 worth of tools stolen from a storage shed on a back of a dump truck in Mt. Vernon and 25-Mile roads.

4 Trapped in Grain Silo, Two Almost Buried Alive

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Grain shifting like sand trapped four workmen yesterday in a silo filled with explosive dust, almost burying two of them.

It took three hours and 10 minutes for 30 rescuers to dig the last man free. They used boards and corrugated steel to keep the grain from falling into the silo.

Much Tougher Than From Plane

NEW YORK (UPI) — Traveling by ship is looked upon as the unharried, relaxed way of getting somewhere — but at one stage of every voyage a feeling of urgency sets in among passengers.

They are the passengers of the North Carolina Line, which has been sailing out of New York City since the arrival of the MV Bertha.

Getting passengers ashore fast and conveniently is the province of men like Gunston, and a mighty bit of planning it takes considering that several hundred persons want to get off all at once.

A ship's arrival differs from that of an international airliner, which sets down at an airport at which is concentrated all the public health service, immigration and customs facilities needed to process passengers.

Days before a ship docks at one of the piers strung along New York's Hudson River, the planning gets under way. Ship line employees are assigned to notify all the necessary government agencies, welfare organizations, Travelers Aid, plus anyone in this country,

Crash in South Kills Navy Man From Commerce

COMMERCIAL TOWNSHIP — A Navy petty officer from here was killed yesterday along with a 16-year-old youth.

Killed in a head-on collision with a truck near Weldon, N.C., was Donald W. McClain, 25, of 9225 Highland Road, and Malcolm King of Philadelphia, Pa.

The truck driver was not injured.

State police said that King was driving and that he had no driver's license, only an expired learner's permit.

McClain was on leave from the Navy receiving station at Philadelphia and was scheduled to report to the U.S. Turner at Mayport, Fla., Saturday.

Students Win Honors Third Straight Year in Creative Competition

NEW YORK (UPI) — For the third consecutive year, high school students in Denver have ranked in the top 10 in the largest creative writing competition for teen-agers.

Young authors of Denver captured two first awards, three second awards, three honorable mentions and five commendations in the writing 38th annual Scholastic Contest.

The competition, sponsored annually by a pen company, drew approximately 100,000 entries from all 50 states, the District of Columbia, Canada and 15 foreign nations.

Runners-up cities in the contest were Evanston, Ill.; Ogden, Utah; and Riverside, Calif., with 10 winners each. Detroit with nine awards and New York City with eight.

The contest is open to students in senior and junior public and parochial high schools in the United States, Canada and in American foreign schools. Winners are named in six classifications of creative writing, including short story, essay, poetry and dramatic script.

causing any more trouble on Hogle Lake Road in Commerce Township. The redheads have been punning their way through the road for several days.

But yesterday a road commission worker went out and hit all four of them with a good baseball bat for several days.

The Edward A. House & Son Service Station at 800 Commerce Road was doing a land office for the repair business until Holmes' son, Edward J., 26, got a four-way split in his rear.

Holmes then investigated. He found four surveyor's spikes — called "redheads" because they are covered with pieces of red cloth — sticking up in center of the road.

Holmes called Capt. Leo Hazen of the Saturday Dispatch. Hazen called yesterday sent a man out to drive the spikes into the concrete. Hazen said the road commission's chief engineer, said the spikes are driven into the concrete prior to blacktopping a road.

Baines said the spike are supposed to be flush with the surface of the road. He didn't know how they had risen up from the ground.

The former Grace Kelly announced two months ago that she would make her return to the screen this summer in the Hitchcock movie. Later the British director said he had postponed the production.

The newspaper Nice Math published an interview today with the actress.

"On the one hand I will not have time and on the other have been definitely influenced by the reaction provided in Moscow at the announcement of my participation in the making of this film," she said.

Crash in South Kills Navy Man From Commerce

COMMERCIAL TOWNSHIP — A Navy petty officer from here was killed yesterday along with a 16-year-old youth.

Killed in a head-on collision with a truck near Weldon, N.C., was Donald W. McClain, 25, of 9225 Highland Road, and Malcolm King of Philadelphia, Pa.

The truck driver was not injured.

State police said that King was driving and that he had no driver's license, only an expired learner's permit.

McClain was on leave from the Navy receiving station at Philadelphia and was scheduled to report to the U.S. Turner at Mayport, Fla., Saturday.
