BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Seven young Negroes were arrested in Lexington, N.C., today on open charges in the aftermath of a race riot last night that left one white man dead and a newspaper photographer wounded by gunfire.

Lexington city officials went into conference this morning to make plans to check any similar outbreaks of violence in this racially tense furniture manufacturing town of 18,000.

Foresee Clash in New 19th

Broomfield, Murphy
to Eye Congress Job?

A clash of political aspirations between two Oakland County Republicans is one of the prospects raised by this week's revision of congressional districts.

Opponents in the possible battle would be Congressman William S. Broomfield and County Clerk Register Daniel T. Murphy.

They would be competing for the Republican nomination for Congress from the new 19th district containing most of the county, including Pontiac, and all of Livingston County.

Murphy and his supporters already are making plans and setting up a campaign organization.

The clerk said some time ago he would run from the new 19th District, and Broomfield added he would run even if Broomfield also chooses to make his re-election bid in the 19th.

Broomfield said yesterday he would not make his decision until after Congress adjourns this fall.

HAS OPTION

He has the option of staying in the smaller 18th, which contains his Royal Oak home, or seeking his fourth term in the new 19th.

The county-wide 18th was reduced to the county's southeast corner in the plan adopted Wednesday by the State Legislature to make room for the 19th District received by the state after the 1960 census.

The 18th, beginning next year, will include only Troy, L. Birmingham, Bloomfield area, Southfield and all south Oakland cities east of Southfield.

Among key factors bearing on Broomfield's decision is that past voting records show the new 19th to be about 60 per cent Republican and the 18th about 56 per cent for the GOP.

Royal Oak Mayor and Republican State Rep. William Hayward said yesterday he would run in the 18th if Broomfield did not.

Another mentioned in county GOP circles as a possible candidate is John A. (Jack) Gibbs of Royal Oak, assistant to Republican State Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr.

CHARGED IN VIOLENCE

Jackson was charged with inciting a riot after he led a similar sitdown in front of the City Hall Wednesday night. He refused to post $10,000 bail.

On other racial fronts across the nation, it was largely a matter of Thursday of talk, negotiation.

State Solons Call It Quits at Noon Today

Romney, GOP Hail
72nd Session of the Michigan Legislature

LANSING (UPI) — The curtain fell today on a short-run legislative show that Gov. George Romney and Republican lawmakers hailed as the most successful in recent state history.

With scarcely a representative or senator in sight the 72nd session of the Michigan Legislature ended officially at noon.

The work that brought the legislators back to Lansing this week for a four-day meeting had been finished yesterday and today's brief meeting was devoted to the exchange of farewells by the few members present.

Behind them the legislators left a record of having passed 248 bills, of which 241 have already become law.

There have been vetoed—one would have changed the criminal law pertaining to breaking and entering; another would have made it possible for the Michigan Employment Security Commission to disqualify firms with less than four employees from the unemployment compensation insurance list and the third would have made firemen eligible for workmen's compensation.

The governor still has four bills to act upon, including the important congressional reapportionment bill which was given final approval only Tuesday.

Yesterday three other measures cleared conference committees to join the redistricting measure as the only bills not yet acted upon by the governor.

Among the important measures approved in the 1963 regular session were revision of the unemployment compensation law; an aid to dependent children of the unemployed enabling act; Romney-designed appropriation measures; free school bus transportation for parochial and private school pupils in school districts providing similar service for public school pupils; a safety construction code; revision of the state economic development program; and two bills intended to give Michigan an Olympic stadium in which to host the 1968 international athletic games.

JFK, Mac to Meet at End of This Month

IN THE WEST With Kennedy — President Kennedy will meet with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for informal talks during Kennedy's late-June trip to Europe, the White House announced today.

Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, said Kennedy and Macmillan would get together June 29, after the President's visit to Ireland. Kennedy then will continue on to Italy on June 30.

Before Kennedy left the aircraft carrier Kitty Hawk to witness military displays ashore, Salinger read a statement which began:

"As it is now six months since they last met and there are a number of problems they can usefully discuss, President Kennedy and Prime Minister Macmillan have felt it would be useful to take advantage of the President's trip to Europe to have informal talks together."

Kennedy and Macmillan will confer in Sussex. The President will be the prime minister's guest at Birch Grove House, Chelwood Gate, Sussex.

The two leaders last met in the Bahamas in mid-December. At that time, they developed a joint plan, now the subject of much interest, to equip the North Atlantic Treaty Organization with a multinational nuclear force that would include Polaris missile-firing ships.

In London, British officials said Kennedy and Macmillan will discuss interrelated defense and the prospects of improved East-West relations.

Kennedy, according to diplomatic authorities in London, accepted Macmillan's invitation to make a brief stopover after considerable thought.

School Tax Up; May Cost Less

The Pontiac Board of Education approved a slight increase in next year's school tax rate last night, but homeowners may wind up paying less.

The school board voted 4-1 to hike the 1963-64 tax rate to $20.33 per $1,000 of state-evaluated valuation in the city of Pontiac and $19.13 in areas of the school district lying outside the city.

The lone dissenting vote was cast by Victor P. Sutt. The school board earlier voted down a slightly lower levy proposed by Sutt.

Although the school tax rate was increased from this year's $19.73 levy, the home owner with the same assessed valuation as last year may actually pay less.

School Supt. Dana P. Whitmer said a reduction in the equalizing factor from 1.265 to 1.118 would mean an equalized valuation of almost $400 less on a home assessed at $4,000 last year.

Whitmer explained that in 1962 a home owner paid a school tax of $95.16 on a $4,000 home. Under the new tax rate, the same home owner would pay a tax of $93.20, assuming the assessed valuation of $4,000 stayed the same.

GM APPEAL

The school board set the next year's tax rate, but adopted a resolution that school taxes not be levied until a decision has been made on the General Motors Corp. appeal.

General Motors has appealed its assessed valuation to the Michigan Tax Commission. The auto firm claims its valuation was assessed $32 million higher than it should be.

The new tax rate, which includes an additional .49 of a mill for debt retirement, will give the school district an estimated income of $1,075,388.

Whitmer said several additional costs would be covered by this revenue. He said $211,601 would go for teachers' salary increases, $51,000 for added water and sewerage costs, $16,000 for wage increases for other employees, and $60,000 for staff study items.

The additional .49 of a mill for retiring debts, which provoked the objection of Sutt, was included to maintain the tax rate to home owners at a constant level, Whitmer said.

Sutt supposed that the .49 of a mill not be levied.

"We don't want to overburden home owners or industry," Sutt commented, "and here we have a taxpayer (General Motors) who already thinks he is paying too much."

Sutt's motion garnered only three yes votes and four votes were necessary to pass any motion. Voting for the lower tax rate were Sutt, Glenn H. Griffin, and Monroe M. Osmon.

Rev. J. Allen Parker and Board President William H. Anderson of Detroit's St. Elmo Catholic Church, and Dr. Walter L. Godsell of Bluefield, W. Va., were absent.

Delivery Peak Hit by GMC Truck, Coach

Domestic retail deliveries of truck and buses manufactured by GMC Truck and Coach Division hit a 23-month peak in May, with 8,611 units being delivered.

He said this was the largest figure for any month since August 1960 when 8,734 units were delivered.

State Capital Hit Hardest by Wind and Rain

Communications Cut;
Thousands of Dollars
Listed in Damages

By The Associated Press

Thunderstorms and high winds last night crippled communications, caused thousands of dollars in damages and flooded streets in Southern Lower Michigan, striking hard at Lansing.

The mopping-up and wringing out following the storms will scarcely be completed before most of Michigan is drenched again.

The weather bureau predicted more thunderstorms for all parts of the state today, and still more tomorrow. And the bureau forecast little change Sunday.

Four inches of rain fell on Lansing in four hours.

Winds up to 70 miles per hour raked the capital city, damaging telephone and power lines.

The storm knocked out more than 7,700 Lansing telephones, according to provisional estimates of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Sixty additional repairmen were rushed to the area to help restore service, Bell spokesman said.

$30,000 OUT

Bell estimated that almost 20,000 telephones were knocked out of service by the storm. Also hard hit was the company's central area, west and north of Saginaw, where more than 1,000 phones were out of commission, and Taylor Township west of Detroit where more than 1,700 were affected.

No injuries or loss of life was reported to state police.

They said radio communications was hampered by the storm, which started about 7 p.m.

St. Lawrence Hospital at Lansing reported sporadic power failures in equipment, but no sustained loss of electricity.

Edward Sparrow Hospital at Lansing said communications were cut off for a time and the basement was flooded.

A spokesman for the Lansing Board of Water and Light said the storm knocked out more than 40 primary power lines in the city. The damage was estimated at more than $100,000.

The Lansing Fire Department reported it received 82 alarms during the storm period. The previous record was 38 alarms during a 24-hour period.

Storm Damage Hits the Area

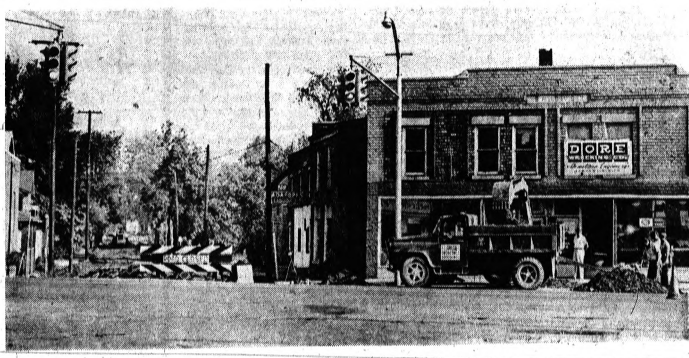

Temperatures soared to a season record of 92 degrees yesterday at 3:30 p.m. then suddenly dropped to 78 as a series of thunderstorms erupted, causing damage for the second consecutive day.

Two house fires, the temporary loss of electrical power in the area and several fallen trees were attributed to the storm.

Cooler temperatures prevailed in the area this morning, but a warming trend is forecast this afternoon with a high of 88 expected. More thunderstorms are predicted this afternoon and through the weekend, and high temperatures are expected to continue.

'Carriers Are Not Trying to Hide From Russian Planes'

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Russian bomber flights over U.S. aircraft carriers, seemingly at will, have raised some questions as to the value of the fleet as a weapon. Here is a report by a veteran military affairs writer.)

By BEM PRICE
AP Military Affairs Writer
WASHINGTON — The Navy's top brass said today Russian bombers and any first rate sea scout — could pretty well locate any U.S. aircraft carrier in peacetime and the Navy couldn't care less.

But there was one point in the interview Vice Adm. William A. Schoech, deputy SCHOECH chief of naval operations for air, wanted to make quite clear.

"Anytime the U.S. Navy doesn't want one of its carriers found, nobody finds it."

Schoech said he was fed up with people who have concluded that because Russian bombers have flown over U.S. carriers six times in the last year, the carrier is now worthless as a weapon.

In the latest incident six twin jet, medium-range Russian bombers flew over the carrier Ranger 230 miles east of Japan last Tuesday.

"We made no attempt to classify the going and coming of our ships," Schoech said. "We do this deliberately because if we practice security movements we will be giving the Russians the best possible exercise in coping with us in wartime."

"We do our best," he continued, "not to give away our wartime patterns. There is a real danger in going into war when your opponent has all the dope on you."

NO EFFORT MADE
The admiral pointed out that the Ranger was traveling non-stop from Japan to the United States via the northern Great Circle route, that thousands of people in Japan and the United States knew when she was leaving and when she was arriving and that she was making no effort to maintain radio silence.

"Any good sea scout with a plotting board and a radio sitting at home could have located her," the admiral said.

"But," he added, "when we keep our electronic mouths shut, they can't find us."

This business of Russians flying over carriers is all very friendly on the surface, with both sides wagging wings and waving.

Basically, it is one of the deadliest species of nonhosting war, in which billions of dollars have been invested.

Briefly, it is a form of electronic warfare in which each side tries to determine the efficiency and range of the other's detection devices, the characteristics of the of the very top people in government have asked that they be kept in ignorance of advances lest they let something slip inadvertently.

In any event, there are certain reporters in this town who know roughly at what range the Navy can detect, track and destroy hostile aircraft — and it is farther than the 100 miles at which Russian aircraft began "escorting" the Russian bombers.

These reporters know, too, of Navy orders that hostile action on the part of approaching Soviet

Lincoln White Gets New Job in Australia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Lincoln White, one of the most quoted men in the United States as spokesman for the State Department, is going to a new foreign assignment.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk announced today that White, 57, has been appointed to serve as consul general in Melbourne, Australia.

White has been in State Department public information work since 1959. He became assistant director of the office of news in 1963 and became the chief spokesman as acting director in 1965. He has been in charge of the office since 1967.

During the last eight years, therefore, White has made the day in and day out pronouncements on foreign affairs and foreign policy issues which were not handled personally by the President or by the secretary of state.

Redhead Knew Red Aide, Too

British Scandal Spells Woe for Mac

LONDON (AP) — A beautiful redhead's simultaneous affairs with the British secretary of state for war and a Soviet naval attaché, who had been three years in prison, was a new security headache today for Prime Minister Harold Macmillan.

Queen Elizabeth II also was nearly brought into the political row.

But John Profumo, British war minister, who resigned after admitting an affair with 22-year-old Christine Keeler, begged off from a traditional final audience with the queen.

She agreed and thus was removed from involvement in the political storm swirling around Macmillan's Conservative government.

Profumo, 48, quit his post Wednesday. He admitted he had lied to the House of Commons in an attempt to cover up an improper relationship with Miss Keeler, who carried on an affair simultaneously with a Soviet naval attaché stationed in London.

In a copyright interview in the Daily Express, Miss Keeler said she saw Profumo once or twice a week for several months in 1961, when she was 19 and he was 46.

Referendum by Dems Unlikely in Districting

Michigan Democrats probably will not call for a popular referendum on the controversial congressional redistricting bill passed by the Republican-controlled State Legislature, The Pontiac Press learned today.

A highly placed source in the Democratic Party said party leaders consider the move impractical and too costly.

He said the party likely will turn to legal action in the Federal courts in their fight against the reapportionment.

The decision to forgo calling seeking some 138,000 signatures on petitions for a referendum was all but final, according to the source.

A report from Washington this morning said Michigan's Democratic congressional delegation was considering a challenge in the federal courts after meeting yesterday with Democratic State Chairman Zolton A. Ferency.

The bill, fought all the way along its long journey through legislative procedures by Democrats, reshapes the state's congressional districts to fit in the new 1960 district received after the 1960 census.

It would eliminate the at-large seat held by Democrat Neil Stabler. This was created after the legislature and former Gov. John B. Swainson failed to agree on a redistricting last year.

Democratic leaders, though determined to fight the legislation, were motivated to benefit the GOP, now feel that a referendum would be too costly in view of the party's $235,000 debt.

A final decision on their course of action is expected at a meeting

East Swelters Under Warm, Humid Weather

By The Associated Press

Unseasonably warm and humid weather clung to broad areas in the eastern half of the nation today, with no immediate general break indicated.

Temperatures in the 80-90 degree range again were in prospect, with afternoon, or evening showers expected to bring temporary relief from the muggy weather.

Readings Thursday soared into the 90s as far north as southern Wisconsin and the high 80s were reported in New England. The mercury hit 94 in Chicago, a record for June 6, and climbed to 99 in both Hill City and Kansas. The hot spots in Texas included Cotulla, with 100, and Presidio, with 106.

Another fire, attributed to lightning, caused an estimated $1,400 damage to a vacant house at 690 Scott Lake, Waterford Township, owned by Earl Maiden.

Some 800 persons in five scattered areas were without electricity for periods ranging from 4:00 p.m. to nearly midnight, according to Detroit Edison Co. spokesmen.

Last night's storm brought 27 crews out to service power failures north of Lotus Lake, affecting more than 400 customers in Waterford and Independence townships, and four other areas ranging from 130 customers in the north part of Commerce Township to a similar number of customers in Lake Orion.

A tree that fell across the road at 6608 M59, Waterford Township, blocked traffic from 6:15 to 6:30 p.m.

Other fallen trees damaged the cars of William Martin, 2283 Overidge, Waterford Township, and Floyd Johnson, 454 Joslyn, Lake Orion.

An auto accident in Orion Township was attributed to the storm. Marilyn E. Koch, 362 E. Sheffield, was forced off Baldwin near Walden by a falling tree and drove her car into the ditch. She suffered only minor injuries.

Two Negroes will report to admission to the main Alabama campus in Tuscaloosa Tuesday, and another will report to the extension center in Huntsville Thursday.

This timetable was disclosed Thursday after a conference of interested parties, including Justice Department officials, in the office of U.S. Dist. Judge Seymour H. Lymne. The order barring Gov. George C. Wallace from physically interfering with admission of the Negroes was issued by Lymne.

Watch for Detours!

Pontiac's downtown area is fast becoming a maze of detours, with water system improvements and perimeter road construction under way.

Many motorists have turned up streets only to find the words "street closed" staring them in the face.

Therefore, the city is initiating a policy of periodically issuing street-closing notices which will be published in The Press in an effort to tell people what routes to avoid.

Currently closed to through traffic are the following city streets.

- Park, from East Huron to Saginaw (intersections of East Pike and Auburn are open).
- Millbrook, from Mill to Perry.
- School, from Perry to North Saginaw.
- Cass, from West Huron to Sanderson.
- North Saginaw, from Oakland to Howard.

Sanford, from Osmun to South Boulevard, will be closed to through traffic Saturday morning only.

City officials advise that some side streets intersecting with closed thoroughfares will also be closed to through traffic except where otherwise indicated.

Ex-CONCERT PIANIST Gives Birth to Girl

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mrs. Kenneth Amada, the former Susan Starr, 20-year-old internationally known concert pianist, became the mother of a daughter yesterday.

She gave birth to a 5-pound, four-ounce baby in Jefferson Hospital. The father also is an internationally known pianist. The U.S. Patent office not only child is the first for the Amadas, returns an annual profit as well.

It's just that the instruments were stolen, all $1,000 worth.

Officer Jim Guido said six juveniles under arrest and another still sought stole the instruments from 40 different schools and had been meeting daily in a field for practice. The boys were not named.

One, Guido reported, got so good on bongos that he felt he was ready for bigger drums and the youths were getting set to steal a set when they were caught.

W. Bloomfield Asks $1.6 Million

To Vote on School Needs

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — A four-pronged attack on school needs will be considered by school district voters here Monday.

The $1.6-million undertaking would include acquisition of future school sites, construction of a core junior high school unit, construction of additions to present facilities and retirement of a 1952 bond issue.

AREA NEWS

Tax increase brought by the issue would be 1.5 mills. An estimated $125,000 would be needed to pay off the outstanding bonds, thus allowing the current 2.5-mill levy for the 1952 issue to be applied on the new one.

Largest chunk of the bond revenue—about $800,000—would be used for the junior high school unit.

Board members have talked of a core with 18 teaching stations in the Orchard Lake-West Maple area.

About $400,000 has been requested for site acquisition.

STUDY BY GROUPS

This project was emphasized by two groups which made studies of anticipated needs, the Citizens' Study Committee and the University of Michigan's bureau of school services.

Receiving top priority on their lists were 50-75 acres for a high school, 25 acres for a junior high school and 12 acres for elementary facilities.

Capital improvement in the district is expected to require another $150,000.

The tax increase for the bond issue would call for an additional $2.70 per $1,000 of local assessed valuation.

The bond issue would be retired within 30 years.

Also requested on Monday's ballot is a three-mill hike in the operational levy.

WOULD HIKE PAY

According to Supt. Leif A. Hogen, the three-mill assessment would largely be used for increases in teachers' salaries.

West Bloomfield School District reportedly is paying its teachers less than any of the other six adjacent districts.

Salary schedule for the 1963-64 school year indicates a starting rate of $4,900, annual increases ranging from 4 per cent of the salary and a maximum rate of $7,400 after 12 years.

The current levy in the district is 22.35 mills, including 8.35 mills allocated by the county, eight mills voted extra for operation and six mills for debt retirement.

REHEARSE WILLIAMS-DRAMA — The Clarkson Village Players will present "Summer and Smoke" by Tennessee Williams tonight and tomorrow night in the Clarkson

High School little theater. Paul Bennett, play director, and leading lady Pat Breidenbaugh discuss a scene in a final rehearsal session. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m. for each performance.

Utica Electorate to Decide $5.8 Million School Issue

UTICA — Three propositions—requesting a total of $5.8 million for school expansion plus operational expansion—will face school district voters here Monday.

Seven times in 12 years the school board has sought approval of large bond issues in the district.

The other six times the expansion programs have received voter endorsement.

The major bond issue on Monday's ballot will ask for a record $5.5 million to build and equip additional schools and purchase land for future construction.

An administration service center building is planned for the $300,000 requested in the second proposition.

The millage issue, if passed, will provide three mills the first year and an additional 1.5 mills the second.

SCHOOLS IN PLAN

A new senior high school, two new elementary schools and one scheduled expansion of Switzer School are included in the planned use of the major bond issue.

The money would also be used to expand the present high school, three junior high schools and existing elementary schools, as well as the grade school scheduled for construction on Hahn east of Banker.

The administrative facility to be built with funds from the $300,000 question would take the place of offices now in the Beck Building, 8344 Hall.

It would also serve to centralize administrative staff members who service more than one school and put an end to a growing rent expenditure, expected to reach $10,000 next year.

Approval of both bond issues will increase the tax rate an estimated 73 cents per thousand dollars of assessed valuation, according to Schools Supt. Fred Atkinson.

Install Head of Novi Unit

NOVI — Harold Miller of the Ford Motor Co.'s Wixom plant was installed as president of the board of commerce here last night.

Other new officers are Kenneth Bassett of Novi Saw Mill and Lumber Co., vice president, and Dr. Harold Morris, local physician, treasurer.

To Take Tax Fight Before Legislature

DETROIT (UPI)—The Vigilance Tax Committee has decided to carry its battle against the Detroit income tax to the State Legislature rather than the courts.

At its last meeting, the committee voted to drop the legal battle against the 1-per cent levy which was upheld as constitutional by the Michigan Supreme Court.

But the committee decided to push its drive for signatures of petitioners protesting the tax. May or George W. Kuhn, Berkeley, said a total of 220,000 signatures have been collected, just 1,000 short of the goal.

Proposed $1.1 Million Junior High for Lake Orion School District

Woman's Body Found in Lake for New Junior High 'Dump Control Not Necessary'

MOUNT CLEMENS (AP)—Lake St. Clair has yielded the body of Mrs. E. V. Cawthon but an explanation to the young mother's drowning and that of a male companion is still a mystery.

Mrs. Cawthon's body, dressed in shorts and blouse but without shoes, was found floating on the lake about two miles southeast of Haron Point yesterday.

Mrs. Cawthon, 25, of Madison Heights, and Norman D. Walker, 39, her Royal Oak accounting firm boss, drowned while on a pleasure cruise Tuesday night or Wednesday with Mrs. Cawthon's 5-year-old daughter, Phyllis Elaine.

FOUND ALONE

The child, apparently asleep at the time of the drownings of her mother and Walker, could give investigators little help.

Walker's body was found Wednesday. There were no marks of injury either on his body or that of Mrs. Cawthon.

One theory was that Mrs. Cawthon fell overboard and Walker lost his life trying to rescue her. Mrs. Cawthon was a divorcee, her former husband, Gene, is believed to be a Wisconsin resident. Walker is separated from his wife, Irene. They have four children.

LAKE ORION — The major $1.1-million junior high school expansion project included in a $3-million bond issue and four-mill tax hike requested in the special July 15 election here is a

To be constructed on a 28-acre site adjacent to the present high school, the school would be a combination one and two-story building.

It is planned to accommodate 900 students, and will be filled as soon as completed, according to Schools Supt. A. A. Reed.

In addition to a library and home economics area, the school will contain 17 general-use classrooms. Four classrooms for science will also be housed in the building.

A cafeteria with a 4,000-square-foot dining area, will alternate as a study hall and auditorium for the students.

The school's gymnasium will occupy 10,000 square feet of floor space. Folding-type bleachers seating 1,000 are a feature of the athletic facility.

Besides the new junior high, additions and remodeling are planned for the present high school, junior high and elementary schools in the district.

Millage required for the total expansion program is 9.5 mills; wheat prices were unlikely to drop the minimum level of the necessary for the bond issue. This is possible because of a 2-mill reduction on the present $1.14 a bushel on U.S. farms. The tax levy and the cancellation of maximum price under the agreement 2 mills in the current building met at the U.S. farm level is about $1.35.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The American Farm Bureau Federation says it can foresee no immediate need for Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman to use his newly delegated authority to exert firm control on exports and imports of wheat.

President Kennedy gave Freeman the authority after farmers rejected the administration's tighter control plan for wheat at a referendum two weeks ago.

The president said the prospect of much lower wheat prices when the 1964 crop becomes available made it necessary that Freeman have power to prevent dumping of lower-priced wheat on world markets — dumping which, he said, would be in violation of terms of an international wheat agreement to which this country is a signatory.

This agreement seeks to stabilize world prices and markets through a system of trade quotas and maximum and minimum prices.

The farm bureau said even without controls on the 1964 crop, expansion program is 9.5 mills; wheat prices were unlikely to drop the minimum level of the necessary for the bond issue. This is possible because of a 2-mill reduction on the present $1.14 a bushel on U.S. farms. The tax levy and the cancellation of maximum price under the agreement 2 mills in the current building met at the U.S. farm level is about $1.35.

State Police Will Switch 77 Troopers

EAST LANSING (AP)—State police have announced that 77 troopers will be switched to other post assignments throughout the state with the establishment of a five-day work week effective July 14.

The transfers, said Police Commissioner Joseph Childs, are needed to strengthen certain posts so they can maintain full operations under the new schedule.

State police previously have worked a six-day, 56-hour week. The State Civil Service Commission has ordered that after July 14 they must not work more than 48 hours a week without compensating time off or overtime pay.

Childs said he will hold a series of meetings with district and post commanders and assistant commanders to acquaint them with the new schedule.

Schedule Autopsy on Man in Crash

ROME—An autopsy was to be performed today on the body of Robert T. McCoy, 51, who died yesterday after his car ran off North Avenue and struck a cult and rock abutment.

Romeo state police theorized the victim, who lived at 371 N. Ave. in Detroit, could have suffered a heart attack.

The accident happened about 5:30 p.m. just north of 31-Mile Road, six miles east of here. McCoy was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital, Mount Clemens.

No Cash Found Yet From $1.5-Million Mail Truck Robbery

BOSTON (AP)—A small mail truck was humming along Route 3, a smooth highway in historic Plymouth, last Aug. 14, on a routine trip from Hyannis to Boston. In minutes, the two men riding it were victims of the nation's biggest cash haul.

A band of white-gloved shotgun bandsits scooped up $1,551,277 in bills of relatively small denomination. Today, more than nine months later, none of the money has been found. Sixty postal inspectors still are working on the case, led by William F. White, chief New England postal inspector.

When he took charge of the investigation, White said: "I have little doubt we'll bring it to a successful conclusion. . . . The postal service has a record of 99 per cent convictions."

After the mail truck had passed Clark Road, which turns off Route 3 into Plymouth proper, the "police" placed a detour sign at the junction.

The sign diverted traffic from Route 3 and left the bandsits undisturbed as they slid from shrubbery and pointed guns at the two men in the mail truck.

Barrett continued: "We noticed there were a couple of cars behind the road. We thought there might be an accident. As soon as we stopped, four guys jumped us. They weren't masked but we couldn't see their faces. They leaped into the truck and shoved us back. They told us to keep quiet. Then we were tied up. We just sat there until they finally got out and left us."

That was about an hour and a half later. Meanwhile, the robbers drove the mail truck north for about 25 miles. They tossed out money bags to confederates along the way. When the gang abandoned the mail truck in Randolph, B. Montague said a woman partner could spell trouble for the gang. "It is a matter of history that when a female has been involved, trouble has developed within the gang," he said. If there was a girl in the gang, she apparently is defying history. A few weeks ago, Postmaster General J. Edward Day visited Boston and said he was confident the robbers will be caught. As a result of the robbery, he said, the Federal Reserve Bank has asked its member banks to use armored car companies to handle shipments of cash.

Citizens' Group to Eye Welfare

Committee Formed to Examine State Aid

EAST LANSING (AP)—A 30-member citizens committee was organized Wednesday by the Michigan Welfare League to examine the state's welfare program and make recommendations for improvement.

Detroit attorney Erwin S. Simon was named chairman of the committee, membership of which also includes:

Fedeles F. Fauri, dean of the school of social work at the University of Michigan; John B. Martin of Grand Rapids, chairman of the Michigan commission on aging; Probate Judge Philip Mitchell of Barry County; Dan Reed, Michigan Farm Bureau lobbyist; and Harry Trainor of Lake Linden.

The committee suggested that Gov. George Romney be asked to make "a full-scale, in-depth examination of the whole welfare program."

In a telegram to the group, Romney had said it is deserved "the commendation and support of all public spirited citizens."

The Michigan League of Women Voters is undertaking its own welfare study and its chairman, Mrs. George Hiltfanger of Beverly Hills, the Michigan Welfare Commission.

Parcel post users will get faster service within a month.

On July 1, the U.S. Post Office Department's Zip Code program will go into effect, speeding up delivery time of parcel post, in some cases as much as two days.

The Zip Code is a five-digit number which identifies each post office and delivery unit, and associates each with the major office through which mail is routed for delivery.

"Zip coding speeds mail to the last point of distribution as fast as possible because it eliminates much of the handling that is now required," said Pontiac Postmaster William Donaldson.

Donaldson returned this week from Chicago where the new numbering system was explained to some of the world's largest parcel post users.

AREA ID The first digit of the Zip Code is the geographical area of the country. There are 10 areas. Michigan is included in area four. The second and third digits identify the major offices within the area.

There are approximately 750 major office designations in the country. The fourth and fifth digits identify the post office, zone or other delivery unit.

Donaldson said area residents would receive a card in the near future telling them of their Zip Code. This number should be included along with the return address when ordering an item.

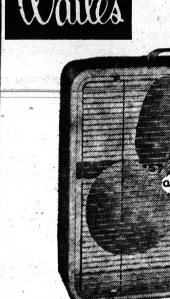

Postal authorities explain that the Zip Code is "for places and not people." It does not replace street addresses.

Specific ways in which large parcel post users will be asked to apply Zip Coding to their mailings are as follows:

Include Zip Code on address plate; presort parcels, particularly when the same products are being mailed to a large number of customers; and provide a space for Zip Code on order blanks as a means by which the persons sending the order can expedite service.

Hawaii's area is larger than Connecticut and Rhode Island combined.

Outside of the robbery gang—believed to consist of five men and a woman—the only witnesses were the victims: Philip Schena, driver of the truck, and Patrick Barrett, a guard who sat at his side. They were headed for the Federal Reserve Bank in Boston.

Schena was driving a steady pace through gathering dusk. There were few cars on the road.

"The first thing we knew a car passed us at 80 miles an hour. Then a police officer—we thought he was—stepped out on the road and flagged us down," Barrett told investigators.

Barrett didn't know several things: the man in the police uniform was one of the robber gang.

Residents Should Study Waterford School Vote

Facing Waterford Township School District voters on the June 10 ballot will be three separate proposals brought on by the area's growth.

These proposals need considerable study by Waterford residents, in addition to the school board election and community college proposals also on the ballot.

Essentially, the three millage proposals are for new schools, operating the new schools and improving school employee salaries.

The three proposals are based on the recommendations of a citizens advisory committee which has surveyed the Waterford education system and its needs.

That's why this $6.25-million bond issue is before Waterford residents. The first proposal includes one new junior high, five new elementary schools, a new bus garage and additions to eight other schools.

It would be financed by an additional one mill ($1 per $1,000) for 30 years.

Next fall Pierce Junior High School will house 200 more students than it was designed for, and several elementary schools will have triple kindergarten shifts. All other schools will be filled.

The second proposal is for 2.5 mills to be levied as needed for five years for operating the buildings in the first measure.

The final proposal is also for 2.5 mills, but for six years. This is to pay for salary increases of school employees, not just teachers alone.

It would raise the beginning teacher salary from $4,750 to $4,900. At present Waterford ranks 16th of 29 systems in the County for salaries of teachers with bachelor degrees, and stands to drop to 23rd if its schedule remains static with proposed increases in other schools.

The whole project adds up to higher taxes for an area in which taxes are already considerable.

Part of the problem in Waterford is that because of its low industrial tax base, home owners pay most of the tax shot.

But they have the children, and they must be educated. A "yes" vote for the measures is indicated for realistic solution to Waterford's school growth problems.

Inventor's Life Filled With Much Uncertainty

Without the urge to invent that resides in most of us and the complementary one to do something about it, our civilization would still be awaiting the revolutionary impact of the wheel and the use of fire.

But the path of the would-be inventor is not rose-strewn. Be his brainchild so simple and practical as the eraser on the end of a pencil or another abstract concept of perpetual motion, he faces formidable odds in bringing his creation to reality and deriving profit from it.

In the first place, there is an even chance that somebody else once had the same idea and has already patented it.

Every day, 350 Americans apply for patents. The applications routinely go to the bottom of a pile of 198,000 others waiting to be processed. During last month, the number of patents issued to date hit 3,085,272.

A staff of 1,000 examiners will determine whether he has hit upon an original idea and is therefore patentable. On an average, it will be 3 1/2 years before the fate of his petition is known.

If a patent is granted, the patentee has exclusive rights to his invention for 17 years, but only in the United States and its territories.

But at this point the inventor's problems are only beginning. For now, he has to persuade somebody to manufacture and sell his gadget.

Here again, his chances are no better than 50-50. Too many people, it seems, invent things that nobody wants.

The success of an invention often depends as much on patience as the ingenuity that produced it. It frequently takes 20 to 30 years to develop a potential idea to the point where it is commercially feasible.

But, despite drawbacks, aspiring inventors may well take heart from the unwarranted conservatism of the director of the patent office who recommended that the office be closed because everything inventable had been invented.

That occurred more than a century ago.

Among those who evidently aren't worrying about a population explosion are certain members of a prominent Alabama family whose surname begins with K.

Wallace Is Ready to Play Martyr

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — Alabama's Gov. George C. Wallace has set the stage to play the martyr. That's clear, but not his reason for trying it.

Nine years ago the Supreme Court ordered public schools desegregated, ruling that "separate educational facilities are unequal."

But the court, because there are so many elementary and secondary schools and they have varying problems, allowed time for desegregating all of them.

This was when it said desegregation should proceed "with all deliberate speed." Recently the court indicated it feels the speed is much too slow.

So much for the elementary and secondary schools.

As for state colleges or universities—the court said a week ago "recognition of the need for delay" has not even been extended to them.

NOT ONE

But the University of Alabama is a public school and it hasn't been desegregated at all. Not one school of any kind in Alabama has been desegregated.

This year a federal court, nine years after the Supreme Court's original ruling, ordered Negroes admitted next Monday to the University of Alabama.

Wallace promptly announced he would stand in the university door to block the Negroes from registering. He repeated this as late as last Sunday.

Wednesday, a federal district judge, Seymour H. Lynne, issued a stern injunction to Wallace not to interfere with the Negroes' enrollment.

CAN GO TO CAMPUS

It does not prevent him from going to the campus Monday nor demanding in the name of the state that the Negroes be denied enrollment.

In effect, he's free to put on an act.

But the injunction warned him not to block, prevent or interfere with the entrance of the Negro students by "physically interposing his person or that of any other person under his direction or control."

ON THE AIR

Nevertheless, a few hours after the warning from the judge, Wallace went on the air to say he would take action that "involves even my personal freedom, but I intend to carry it out, regardless of what risk I take."

He added: "What happens to George Wallace is not important but what happens to constitutional government is very important."

But how does the preservation of constitutional government jibe with what Wallace says he'll do since the Supreme Court has declared segregation unconstitutional and a federal judge ordered Alabama's university desegregated?

David Lawrence Says:

Wallace Exercising His Rights

WASHINGTON — However unpalatable the views of Gov. Wallace of Alabama may be to many people who disagree with him the fact remains that he is exercising his constitutional right to "challenge" any decision of the Supreme Court in order to try to get a different ruling from that which has prevailed. If he fails to get a new ruling and still doesn't conform to the court's order, he must pay the penalty of what then is legally spoken of as "disobedience" or "non-compliance."

The Alabama governor actually is exercising his constitutional right to "challenge" any decision of the Supreme Court in order to try to get a different ruling from that which has prevailed. If he fails to get a new ruling and still doesn't conform to the court's order, he must pay the penalty of what then is legally spoken of as "disobedience" or "non-compliance."

Lawyers versed in constitutional law know, but the general public doesn't realize, that there is no such thing as the "law of the land" in relation to the finality of all decisions of the Supreme Court of the United States.

The correct phrase is "law of the case." This means that an individual can test any law or ruling and has a right to pursue the matter from the lower courts to the highest court, arguing new points not covered in previous cases. Gov. Wallace emphasized this on television last Sunday as follows:

"We are just raising the constitutional question for the courts, the federal court system of the land, and they may change and rule in our favor."

"They did rule in our favor in the South for many years and then changed in 1954. Why should not we continue in fact, in the Savannah case the other day, in Georgia, a federal court ruled for the first time since 1954 that it is harmful to Negro and white children to integrate them into the school system."

RIGHT TO TEST

The Alabama governor added: "I haven't said I would disobey a federal court order for defiance's sake, but for the purpose of testing. As governor of Alabama, I have the right to test in the courts the validity of this system."

If, therefore, by chance the Supreme Court of the United States did reverse itself on the issue of federal coercion of a state university and permitted the institution once more to choose its own students, the net result could be the cancellation of any order against Gov. Wallace—there previously said to be issued by the high court.

The layman may call all this "legalism," but that's the way the judicial system operates in America. It is hard not only for laymen but for lawyers to be sure what the decisions of the high court mean or how long they will remain in effect.

Only this week, Justice Douglas, a veteran member of the Supreme Court, said in a dissenting opinion in a case involving water rights:

"Much is written these days about judicial law-making; and every scholar knows that judges who construe statutes must of necessity legislate interstitially (to a narrow extent), to paraphrase Mr. Justice Cardozo."

"The present case is different. It will, I think, be marked as the boldest attempt by judges in modern times to spin their own philosophy into the fabric of the law, in derogation of the will of the legislature."

"The present decision, as Mr. Justice Harlan shows, grants the federal bureaucracy a power and command over water rights in the 17 western states that it never has had, that it always wanted, that it could never persuade Congress to grant, and that this court up to now has consistently refused to recognize."

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

And now I beg you, lady, not as though I were writing you a new commandment, but the one we have had from the beginning, that we love one another.—II John 1:5.

Give bread to a stranger, in the name of the universal brotherhood which binds together all men under the common father of nature.—Marcus Quintilian.

Another Roman once put it this way: "The first thing an American pope would do around here would be to put an IBM electronic computer in the Sistine Chapel to make the whole establishment run more efficiently. If there had been an American at the Last Supper he'd have wanted a floor show."

Good News

Not only Greenville and Beidling will be glad to know that the Michigan Refrigerator Division in Michigan instead of moving it to Mississippi. This will come as good news to the entire state, both because the Gibson firm has had a long and honorable association with Michigan and because the decision to stay means continued employment for 1,600 Michigan workers.

Strictly by coincidence, a new study by Tax Foundation, Inc., suggests why it is possible for such states as Mississippi to make enticing offers to northern industries to relocate within their boundaries.

These inducements may take one of several forms. In some instances local communities, with or without state cooperation, offer to forgive all taxes for as long as 10 years. In other areas free plant space and reduced taxes for similarly long periods are held out. Although the concessions offered may vary, the effect is always the same—to transfer the new industry's tax responsibility to someone else.

That someone else isn't always someone in the same community. The obvious fact is that Michigan taxpayers as well as taxpayers in many other self-supporting states are paying for some of these giveaway programs.

The Tax Foundation's study shows that for each $1.20 that Today is Friday, June 7, the 158th day of 1963 with 207 to follow.

The moon is full.

The morning stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

The evening star is Mars.

On this day in history:

In 1864, delegates meeting in Baltimore for the Republican convention nominated Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Jackson to head their ticket in the November elections.

In 1909, Mary Pickford made her motion picture debut with the release of "The Violin Maker of Genoa."

In 1939, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth of Great Britain, the first British monarchs to visit the United States, crossed over onto American soil from Canada as they arrived at Niagara Falls, N.Y.

In 1948, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower took up his duties as president of Columbia University in New York.

A thought for the day—President John Adams said: "The happiness of society is the end of government."

"The trouble with most folks is that if you get enough of them together to have a good conversation — they have several."

Michigan taxpayers contributed for so-called federal-state matching programs, they received only 46 cents for each dollar they paid. But Mississippi taxpayers paid in only 46 cents for each dollar their state received. Alabama's taxpayers paid 50 cents, Louisiana's 44 cents, Arkansas' 48 cents.

Promote Four in Fire Dept.

Four promotions in the Pontiac Fire Department were announced today by Chief James R. White. Named assistant chief was Lee Nye, 40, of 384 Paddock, a member of the department for 21 years.

Nye, formerly a captain, succeeds John Morrissey who retired May 31 after 35 years service.

Others upgraded are Dave Warri-low, 46, of 251 Dick, named captain from lieutenant Lawrence Bentfield, 37, of 615 Melrose, lieutenant from engineer; and Robert Gravell, 32, of 5412 Sasabury, Clarkston, engineer from fire fighter.

Warri-
low has been with the fire department for 17 years; Bentfield, 12 years; and Gravell, eight years.

Morrissey, 58, of 283 Raeburn, will be honored at a retirement dinner June 11 at the Eagle Lodge, 4761 Highland Road.

Two Negroes Join Forces at Ole Miss

OXFORD, Miss. (AP)—James H. Meredith and Cleve McDowell have found companionship with each other as the only two Negroes among some 2,000 white students.

Meredith, 29, a senior, and the first of his race admitted under court order last fall, arrived on campus yesterday to register for the summer session.

McDowell, 21, ordered a d-mitted by a federal court earlier this week, registered for the law school summer session on Wednesday.

Both live in Baxter Hall, a men's dormitory.

Most of the white students ignored Meredith and McDowell as they worked through the campus routine.

Meredith drove his small foreign car to the law school to pick up McDowell, who had just completed his first class.

At Baxter Hall, McDowell helped Meredith carry his belongings to his room.

McDowell, an honor graduate of Jackson State (Negro) College, registered without incident, although campus and federal authorities stood by.

There was no commotion when Meredith signed for the summer term.

Considers Switching Site of Murder Trial

Oakland County Prosecutor George F. Taylor said today he will review a recent U.S. Supreme Court opinion before deciding whether to ask that the murder trial of Adoiso White and Charles E. Hodges be held in Lansing instead of Pontiac.

Taylor said earlier this week he may ask for the change of venue in the trial although he was urged successfully by against such a move before Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

The Supreme Court Monday overturned the murder conviction of a Louisiana Negro whose confession was broadcast on television before his trial.

White, of 79½ Wall, and Hodges, of 174 Prospect, both 22, are accused of the March 16 slaying of Pontiac Mail Kroger store co-manager Robert A. Greene, also 22, during a safe robbery at the store.

The pair's attorney, Milton R. Henry of Pontiac, claimed that television publicity of his clients' arrest last month made it "impossible to get a fair and impartial jury" in Oakland, Genesee or Wayne counties.

White and Hodges made statements admitting the crime in a television appearance after their arraignment on first-degree murder charges in Waterford Township Justice Court.

Judge Beer denied Henry's motion for a change of venue, saying there was insufficient cause to believe an impartial jury could be impeached without trying to do so first.

In the Louisiana case before the Supreme Court, it was argued that the accused was "allowed to convict himself" before the public in an area from which residents were called to be jurors.

Taylor said he wanted to determine whether the Louisiana case jurors had been asked if they saw the accused on television before they were impeached. He said this was "an important point."

Some 100 more prospective jurors are being summoned for the trial in Pontiac, scheduled for June 18.

Blame Nylons for Car Fire

DETROIT (UPI) — A new pair of nylon stockings was blamed for a fire which destroyed a 1962 car in the suburb of Berkley yesterday.

Mark Small of Oak Park drove his father's car to Berkley High School yesterday. Small's mother had left a new pair of stockings, still in their cellophane wrapper, on the front seat.

The sun, shining through the car window, built up heat in the nylons and they burst into flames. The car was a total loss.

LANSING (AP) — Continuing checks show that radiation throughout the state is remaining at a low level and does not constitute a public health threat, the State Health Department reports.

Health Department engineers are keeping a watch on the radioactivity levels of air, milk and water with the cooperation of local health departments and municipal water plants.

Daily air samples have been taken at the State Health Department at Lansing since 1956, except for a four-month period during the summer of 1961 prior to the resumption of nuclear tests in the atmosphere by the Russians.

Hire 68 Election Workers for Monday's School Vote

Some 68 election workers were hired last night by the Pontiac Board of Education to staff polling places in Monday's annual school election.

The list of inspectors was approved along with a $1-per-hour pay rate for each inspector. In addition, a flat $2 additional payment was okayed for each of the 29 precinct chairmen.

Vernon L. Schiller, director of financial management, said that voting machines would be used in all precincts Monday for the first time.

In other action, the school board also approved low bids on the purchase of bakery and dairy products for the 1963-64 school year.

Voting 44, the board okayed the low bids of the Nye Dairy Co., 585 Oakland, and the Maple Leaf Dairy Co., 20 E. Howard. Monroe M. Osmun refused to vote on the dairy contract. He stated that for some years he had felt that dairy products should be divided between the three local companies who are substantial taxpayers.

A low bid from the Oakland Baking Co., of Hamtramck, was accepted by the school board for bread products during the 1963-64 school year.

Other action saw the school board okay a renewal of the present student accident and football insurance for next year. The same rate—$1.50 for kindergarten through sixth grade students and $1.75 for students in grades seven to 12—will be charged.

Football coverage will cost a total premium of $13.75. Student graders will pay $3; while the school district will contribute the rest.

William J. Carr, now with the Fitzgerald School system, was appointed supervisor of plant maintenance at an annual salary of $8,775.

Carr replaces Maurice J. Van Gordon, who resigned recently to take another position.

The Pontiac school board set Tuesday as the date for a special meeting to canvass the results of the June 10 vote. The board will meet at 5 p.m.

Junior Editors Quiz on GREECE

QUESTION: What was the Golden Age?

ANSWER: The earliest myths of the ancient Greeks tell of the creation of the universe—first, of a black hole called Chaos. Out of this came Uranus (Heaven) and Gaea (Earth). They had 12 children, the Titans.

One of these overthrew Uranus and ruled instead. He was sometimes called Saturn and sometimes Cronus and is often represented as a bent old man with a sickle, symbolizing the harvest.

His reign was spoken of as the Golden Age, when everyone was happy and innocent; the earth bore its fruits without being tilled.

Later came a real period in Greek history which we speak of today as the Golden Age. The city state of Athens became prosperous and under the leadership of Pericles, a fine general and brilliant statesman, entered into a time of such progress that its achievements are said to be among the most important foundation stones of our Western civilization.

The foundations of democracy were laid at this time; art and architecture rose to beauty unknown before.

Thought, philosophy, education—all flourished in Athens. Athenians exercised their bodies as well as their minds.

And yet, this brilliant period came to an end. (Historians say that the Greek states quarreled so violently among themselves that they tore each other apart and were taken over by the Roman Empire.)

FOR YOU TO DO: Look up in an encyclopedia the names of three styles of Greek architecture, which reached a high point during the Golden Age.

Judge Raps Court Escapee

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — A judge said Maxwell Brumley resigned from the human race when he shot his way out of his courtroom and commandeered an escape car.

Then Judge Douglass Lambeth sentenced Brumley, 23, to life in prison for armed robbery, with a follow-up term of 10 years for escape.

"I was sitting on this bench when you resigned from the human race," the judge told Brumley yesterday.

"You showed complete disregard for the court and for society. Only by God's mercy someone was not killed."

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Pink Eye Condition Has Many Causes

You are not exactly "in the pink" if you have pink eye. This condition may be due to many causes, but all of them involve inflammation of the membrane that lines the inside of the lids (the conjunctiva) over the whites of the eye.

Infections of this membrane (conjunctivitis) occur but they are remarkably rare. BRANDSTADT says the tears are constantly washing germs and dust particles toward the inner corner of the eye.

From here they are either extruded onto the skin or pass through a small duct onto the nasal passage and throat. In addition to this mechanical action the tears contain a substance that kills most of the common bacteria.

Pink eye may occur with or without a mucous discharge. In children it is often due to eye strain or the need for corrective glasses.

It may be due to a foreign body in the eye and can be made much worse by unsuccessful poking about in an attempt to dislodge it.

If you know you have gotten something in your eye, you should first try washing it out with an eye dropper and eye drops.

REMOVE OFFENDER

If this doesn't work let someone who has had experience turn back the lids and gently remove the offender with cotton wool wound around the end of a toothpick. The cotton should first be moistened with clean tap water.

Pink eye may be due to rubbing the eye with dirty or sweaty (salty) fingers, to over-indulgence in alcohol or to exposure to ultraviolet light directly from the sun, from a sun lamp or reflected from the sea or snow in winter.

Whatever the cause, the eyes may itch, burn or feel scratchy even though no foreign body is present.

In most cases eye drops or an eye salve placed in the eye two or three times a day for a day or two and resting the eyes will allow the condition to clear up.

But if it doesn't clear up promptly you should see an eye specialist because pink eye may be incidental to a more serious condition.

MUCOUS DISCHARGE

In true conjunctivitis there is always an associated mucous discharge which may cause the lids to stick together during the night.

Allergic conjunctivitis is especially prevalent during the seasons when pollen is floating about in the air.

You can't see it but if you have an allergy you know it is there.

Pink eye of this type is almost always present with bouts of hay fever. For these conditions it is wise to have your doctor find the cause because without this knowledge the most effective treatment cannot be given.

Another type of true conjunctivitis is due to bacterial infection.

In the warmer months epidemics of this type of pink eye may be spread by improperly operated swimming pools.

Here again the offending organism should be identified so that an antibiotic eye wash can be prescribed.

Alabama Guardsmen to Go on Duty Before Integration Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — About 4,000 Alabama National Guardsmen will go on active duty Sunday—only days before the crisis over admission of Negroes to the state university.

The men are members of the 31st Infantry Division, an Alabama-Mississippi guard outfit due to start two weeks of summer training.

Army authorities said the division's training schedule was arranged several months ago and has nothing to do with the crisis. Nonetheless, whether by coincidence or not, thousands of Alabamians will be in federal Army uniform when three Negroes, with U.S. backing, try to enter the University of Alabama next Tuesday at its Tuscaloosa campus and on Thursday at its Huntsville branch.

LEGAL QUESTION

There appears a legal question whether guardsmen on training duty can be used to enforce federal court orders.

But Army sources said this is somewhat academic since "they can be federalized with a stroke of the President's pen."

The important thing is that these Alabama National Guardsmen already will have been mustered, if President Kennedy should decide to use them.

The guardsmen will report to their home stations and move by truck, mostly to Ft. McClellan, Ala., where more than 2,000 regular Army infantrymen and other soldiers have been in position since the Birmingham racial disturbances of May 12.

Some of the Alabamians will be sent to Camp Shelby in neighboring Mississippi. The Mississippi contingent of the 31st Division of Alabama will determine whether troops are used.

Wallace has been ordered by a federal court not to interfere with desegregation of the university, but he has pledged to stand in front of federal marshals against the doorway and bar the Negro applicants.

In such an event, it appeared, the governor might wheel up his soldiers.

WARNS FORCE

A high administration source said Thursday the Negroes must be admitted to the university, and he indicated overwhelming federal force will be brought to bear if that becomes necessary.

The source stressed that actions taken by Gov. George C. Wallace of Alabama will determine whether troops are used.

Wallace has been ordered by a federal court not to interfere with desegregation of the university, but he has pledged to stand in front of federal marshals against the doorway and bar the Negro applicants.

'Main Worry Is World Population'

ANN ARBOR (AP) The population explosion is a tougher long range problem than the nuclear arms race, Sir Charles P. Snow, British scientist and novelist, said in a news conference at the University of Michigan.

"Even war would not make a serious dent in the world population," he said. "In 50 years we would be back with the same problem."

"Britain could be destroyed in a nuclear war," Snow noted. "But the United States and Russia could lose about 2 million people without their countries being destroyed."

"I shouldn't be talking about people in these beastly terms," Snow apologized, "and I couldn't view it with equanimity."

DANGEROUS

"This may be a dangerous thing to say," he conceded, "but anything we say is dangerous and someone has to say what is dangerous whether he speaks as a scientist or as a private citizen. If we can't speak as private citizens then we are in more danger than we think."

"What we need in this time is leadership in trying to bridge the gap between scientific advancement and world problems," he said.

Snow, calling himself a quiet non-believer, claimed "the most striking example of leadership on the highest plane was the late Pope."

In terms of national leadership, the larger countries need to help the smaller countries with capital goods, skill and manpower. Snow pointed to the American foreign aid program as the model for this activity.

"Murders," said Miss Marple, "can happen anywhere. And do."
 "At the development perhaps?" mused Miss Knight. "A lot of those Teddy-looking boys carry knives."
 But the murder, when it came, was not at the development.
 Mrs. Bantry stepped back a foot or two, surveyed herself in the glass, made a slight adjustment to her hat (she was not used to wearing hats), drew on a pair of good-quality leather gloves and left the lodge, closing the door carefully behind her.
 She had the most pleasurable anticipations of what lay in front of her. Some three weeks had passed since her talk with Miss Marple.
 Marina Gregg and her husband had arrived at Gossington Hall and were now more or less installed there.

Rail Artists Ready for Fair

The Order of the Paint Brush was bestowed upon hard working members of this year's Hunt Fair Committee for the Detroit Horse Show.

Hunt Club grounds Thursday for a painting bee and picnic. Objects of their fevered (it was hot—82) activity were partition rails for the Detroit Horse Show, June 25-30.

For the second year, the Hunt Fair will add color and fun to the nation's largest outdoor show for hunters and jumpers.

Hunt Fair cochairmen Mrs. A. C. Girard and Mrs. L. L. Colbert are recruiting several hundred volunteers to assist their 45-woman committee during the show. The Hunt Fair is sponsored by the Oakland University Scholarship committee.

Highlights of the fair will include the shop, where visitors may browse in booths sponsored by 19 stores. Two favorites are the handknits booth and trinkets 'n' Treasures booth.

More than 100 sweaters have been knit by committee members and their friends. Many of them have been hand decorated.

An intriguing collection of household articles, art objects and jewelry will fill the trinkets 'n' treasures booth. Young horse show goers will investigate the carnival of games. This includes a shooting range, baseball games, ring toss and even a merry-go-round for the very young.

Lemonade, iced tea and sandwiches will be served in the Hunt Fair tea room, under the canopy of the ships. And a pop corn wagon and cotton candy stand will dispense any fair's most important edibles.

2nd Wife Excluded by Family

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I'm up against a family situation that is most unpleasant. Namely: I'm my husband's second wife and not accepted by his family.

Whenever they have family parties, my husband alone is invited.

I think that as long as I am not included, he should not go either, but he feels that his place is with his family on these occasions and that I am being very petty in resenting his going without me.

Is it proper for a husband to go where his wife is not welcome?

A: Your husband may of course go to see members of his family without you, but he should not go to any parties at their houses to which you have not been invited.

Q: When dining in a restaurant I often notice people, after they have finished eating, pour some of the water from their drinking glasses onto their fingers and then wipe them on their napkins. Is this considered good manners?

A: If no finger bowls are provided and one finds it necessary to wipe sticky fingers, the best thing to do is hold a corner of the napkin against the rim of the glass, tipping it enough to dampen the napkin and then to wipe one's fingers on it. Pouring water over the fingers as you describe, is not proper.

Q: My daughter is going to marry soon and as she plans to join the church of her husband after they are married, she would like to be married there. She is very fond of the minister.

Both my daughter and her fiancé are Protestants.

I'm not sure this would be proper and think she should marry in her own church. What is your opinion?

A: You are right, she should be married in her own church.

Makes 'Promises,' Now He's Candidate

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I'm no kid (33) and have had enough experience in this line to know better, but I am in a jam.

I started seeing a young woman (she is 25) and we hit it off fine. You know, Abby, when the lights are low a guy makes a lot of "campaign promises," and I guess I did tell her we'd be married in the future.

Well, what does this dizzy dame do but go out and buy herself an "engagement ring." She took it to the office where we both work and announced our "engagement."

She's telling everybody we'll be married around Thanksgiving. We did talk about it, but I wasn't that definite. I really don't want to marry her or anybody else at the moment.

What do I do now?

IN A JAM

DEAR IN: A man who makes "campaign promises" is definitely a candidate. So prepare yourself to "run" in one direction or another.

DEAR ABBY: For crying out loud, if you use this letter, don't use my name or I'll never hear the end of it. I am a man almost 40.

I sell for a living and do very well because I'm a good talker. I use the telephone instead of writing because, believe it or not, I can't spell.

I have tried to look up words in the dictionary to see how they are spelled, but how can you find a word in the dictionary if you can't spell it?

NO SIGNATURE

DEAR NO SIGNATURE: Look up the word the way you THINK it should be spelled.

If you can't find it, look up a synonym (a word which means the same thing)—and you'll probably run into it.

If you don't have any luck — just call up somebody and ask him!

P.S. Start with "dictionary."

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl who is almost 12 years old and my mother never told me the "facts of life."

How can I get her to tell me soon? If she finds out I already know, she will kill me.

SHOULD KNOW

DEAR SHOULD: Come right out and tell your mother exactly what you know.

This will give her an opportunity to correct any wrong information you have received, and to answer any questions you would like to ask her.

If you are a normal young lady, you will probably have several.

Sorority Hosted in Clarkston

Mrs. Cornelius T. Crowley, Clarkston, opened her home to Epsilon chapter, Alpha Delta Kappa (ADK) international teachers' sorority, Thursday, for the annual meeting. Mrs. Leon Yale was cohostess.

Reservations were taken for the ADK breakfast at the National Education Convention July 2 in Detroit.

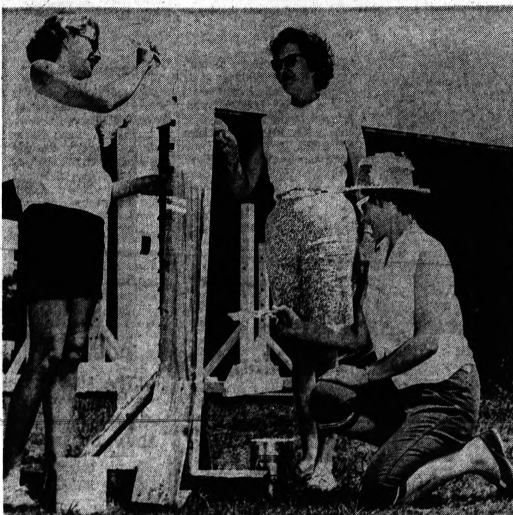

Chapter work will resume in September with Mrs. Arlo Davis, Ortonville, hostess for the first meeting.

Alpha Nu chapter installed officers for 1963-64 at a dinner meeting Tuesday in the Sylvan Glen Inn and Golf Club, Troy.

Mrs. Charles Fournier is incoming president; Mrs. Thomas Rosenthal, vice president; Mrs. Muri Webster, recording secretary; Mrs. Fred Tschirhart, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Henry McCandless, treasurer; and Mrs. Ronald Voorheis, assistant treasurer.

Virginia Haroutunian will serve as sergeant at arms and Dorothy Bell, historian.

Retiring president, Betty Barkley, who conducted the ceremony, will serve as chaplain.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Mrs. Robert L. Hausman, Breaker (front), Mrs. Robert S. Dunham, Midwestern Council of Pi Omicron National Sorority. Mrs. Hausman, Montreal, laid down their gavel Thursday evening. Mrs. Danielson is retiring president of Pontiac Council of Pi Omicron National Sorority. Mrs. Hausman headed Phi Kappa Tau chapter and Mrs. Dunham Iota Eta chapter.

Council Installs Officers

At the annual June banquet Thursday evening, Pontiac Council of Pi Omicron National Sorority installed its new officers.

"Pi Omicron — Always in Fashion" was the theme of the decorations and program at Alpine Inn. Nadot's of Miracle Mile presented a fashion show.

Sorority models included Mrs. Robert Dunham, Mrs. Robert Martin, Mrs. Bruce Church, Mrs. Gene Shell, Mrs. Robert Angel and Mrs. Alvin Heft.

The formal installation ritual was performed by Petro-Nilla Sullivan, central district president of the sorority. The Pontiac Council officers are Mrs. Maynard Holmes, president; Mrs. Dunham, vice president; Mrs. Hugo Harnack; and Mrs. Leon Skelley, secretaries; and Mrs. Martin, treasurer.

Mrs. Robert Hausman was chairman of the dinner and toastmistress. She is a state vice president of the sorority.

Swish, slap—and three more rails are ready for the Hunt Fair tent at the 1963 Detroit Horse Show. From the ground on up, painters are Mrs. Hollie Lepley of Rochester; Mrs. Collis A. Scott, Franklin Boulevard; and Mrs. Charles Hucker, Rochester.

Woman Bus Driver Working for Degree

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

At 35, new life is opening up for Mrs. Earl Spring of Miller. Mrs. Spring can look forward to graduating from college in two years, at the same time her son Earl Donald (Don) Spring Jr. will be graduating from high school. Married at 18, Mrs. Spring had always thought she would like to become a teacher. But in her own words, "When you fall in love, those things kind of go out the window." Four years ago, Mrs. Spring began driving a school bus for Emmanuel Christian School, when the school was still in the church building. Hers is the longest route.

Her busy schedule begins at 5 a.m. when she gets her husband off to work. At 7 a.m. Mrs. Spring leaves for work and at 8:30 children Vicky and Don are on their way.

Mrs. Spring drives from 7:15 to 8:35. From 8:35 until noon she attends class at Midwestern Baptist School. From noon until 3 p.m. she is free to return home and do housework or homework. At 3 p.m. she returns to the school and drives until approximately 5:15.

Then it is back home for dinner and more homework and housework. Mrs. Spring says she must do at least two hours of homework an evening, plus using any other time she can find to work on her studies. The household retires by 10:30 or 11 p.m.

Rounding out her busy schedule, Mrs. Spring spends a weekend of grocery shopping, working around the house, doing homework and other numerous weekend activities.

She has also been very active in her church, singing in the choir, teaching Sunday school classes, working with the young people's group, and doing volunteer work.

Mrs. Spring enjoys driving a school bus and looks forward to watching the children on her route grow up. She often wonders if the children, after they have left school, will ever remember their bus driver.

Some of her more intriguing tales concern the time she found a cat under the hood of the bus and the time a swarm of bees came in the window vent and covered her.

The cat belonged to a neighbor and luckily was unhurt after his ride. The bees entered the bus at a time when only one child was riding and were stunned so they did not sting.

When Mrs. Spring finally found a place to pull the bus off the road she brushed off the bees which covered her and stepped on them. It was a long time before she again opened the air vent on a warm day.

Bus driver Mrs. Earl Spring often tires of sitting in the driver's seat. So she takes a back seat to study. She will receive her college diploma in two years from Midwestern Baptist School. Her son Don will also graduate from high school in two years.

MARY FEELEY

Consultant in Money Management
Dear Miss Feeley: I find your column most interesting as I have always had an interest in money management. I have kept a detailed budget for the past five years which has been of tremendous value to me. I would be very interested to see the latest figures on the income scale for United States families. For instance, what per cent of families are making $10,000 a year and over... as this figure seems to represent the goal of so many people these days.
Mrs. L. T., Portland, Ore.
Dear Mrs. T.: It is estimated that 15 per cent of the families in this country today are in that $10,000 a year income bracket. These families control one-third of consumer spending power. As you say, that $10,000 figure does represent a certain financial status in the American mind. It's a hold-over from the days when $10,000 would buy a lot of ice cream and cake. But we'd all better take a good look at $10,000 as it actually stacks up in 1968! I hate to stick pins in anybody's dream balloon, but here are some typical wails of anguish I receive from readers in this income bracket:
"I'm in over my head. We did beautifully on one-third of this amount when we were first married!" (Maine)

Are Honored

Friends, colleagues, parents and relatives helped honor two veteran educators last night at a PTA-sponsored open house at McCarroll School.

Honored were Miss Marietta Spring, retiring principal, and Mrs. Helen Lane, a teacher for 46 years.

The two McCarroll School educators represent 89 years school experience. Both will retire at the end of the current school year.

Miss Spring, who has 43 years service in public schools, started as an art teacher in 1920. She taught at Wever and Baldwin schools and was principal of Malcolm School.

She has been principal at McCarroll for 16 years.

Mrs. Lane started teaching in 1917 in Rochester schools. After one year in Utica, she came to Pontiac's Crofoot School in 1919 and transferred to McCarroll School in 1938.

WILLIAM G. CASSIDY

Olivet College awarded William G. Cassidy, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Cassidy of Strathmore a bachelor of arts degree in economics and psychology at its June 2 graduation ceremonies.

"I always have plenty of month left over when the money runs out!" (New Jersey)

"On our income of $11,000, I drive a 1955 car and my husband uses a company car. But in spite of everything, when the first of the month bills arrive, I always run into trouble." (Illinois)

So you see—things are tough all over in this income bracket! This goal of so many families doesn't necessarily turn out to be a field of clover today. The reason: Inflation and taxes.

According to the National Industrial Conference Board, in order to match the purchasing power of a $10,000 income in 1939, a family today would have to have an income of $28,934!

The $5,000 a year family today needs a yearly income of $12,760 in 1968. In 1959, this family paid $50 in taxes. Today the same family pays $1,948 in taxes, while inflation takes $5,880.

So if you're wondering why you had more pocket in those years when your income was less—well, actually you did. Unless you analyze how much of the family income goes for inflation and taxes, you're apt to think you've slipped a cog somewhere.

The truth of the matter is that you may be doing very well indeed on the money you have to spend. It's just not as much money as you think it is!

If you face your income realistically, bring your thinking up to date, you'll spare yourself a lot of frustration. You just have to manage better while you're aiming higher!

New officers of the Pontiac Optimist Club will be installed Saturday evening at the Optimist Club dinner-dance. From left, they are Mrs. Stephan D. Tzineff of Square Lake Road and Mrs. Carl F. Wed in Candlelight

Five hundred guests attended a dinner-reception in Edgewood Country Club Thursday following the vows of Sharon Dawn Dreyer to Gene Carlton Cowper.

Dr. Harold C. DeWindt performed the candlelight ceremony at Kirk-in-the-Hills. The Edwin R. Dreyers, Orchard Lake, are parents of the bride, who chose an Empire gown of white silk peau de soie. The Watton back swept into a cathedral train. An organza rose topped her silk illusion veil.

White butterfly roses, ivy and Stephanotis were arranged in a bridal cascade. Mrs. Donald E. Voelker, Grosse Pointe, honor matron, and Marilyn K. Dreyer attended the sister. They wore pale yellow peau satin. In identical gowns were the other bridesmaids, Mrs. Wayne W. Wright, Birmingham, and Fay Cowper, Noel Lammertz, Roseville, was a flower girl.

Their bouquets were white and yellow daisy chrysanthemums.

Robert D. Cowper, of Utica, was best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Franklin L. Cowpers, Royal Oak. Ushers included Wayne W. Wright, Donald E. Voelker, William K. Burton III and John L. Ellertsen, Birmingham.

Mr. Cowper is a graduate student at Wayne State University where his bride was formerly enrolled. They will honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania.

Farm and Garden News

Now You Can Plant the Whole Year Long

Twenty or 30 years ago, it was the general conception that from a source which has given the property could only be done in the spring months, but this has changed completely.

Today, it is done all year long unless the frost is so deep that it is too difficult to plant. The methods for transplanting trees and shrubs from nurseries to home properties has changed considerably.

The plants are kept in containers in the summer months so the home owner does not disturb the roots in transplanting to his property.

Adequately balled and burlapped plants receive special care in the nursery for summer planting.

Plant hormones also are widely used to enhance the growth of newly-set-out trees and shrubs. So if you desire to plant this summer, go right ahead and do so, so long as you purchase from a source which has given the plants preplanting treatment, or care for this purpose.

Book on Birds Is Informative

Watching, Housing, Feeding Described

Walter E. Schutz, a long-time hobbyist with an intimate knowledge of the nesting and feeding habits of birds, is the author of a new book, "Bird Watching, Housing and Feeding."

A complete rewrite of an earlier book, it is an attractive and comprehensive source book for those who want to know how to attract birds through planting and through providing food, water and shelter for them.

An entirely new section on bird watching covers the entire scope of this wholesome outdoor hobby which appears to be sweeping the country.

"As a result of enriched school curriculums, heightened interest in conservation, a trend toward low-cost do-it-yourself activities, and increasing numbers of families setting up suburban households," the author says, "bird watching and housing has become one of today's most widespread hobbies."

WHOLE GRANT

With this in mind, the author introduces the whole gamut of bird watching, discussing such things as the balance of nature and conservation, how to attract birds, types of bird watching and the equipment needed.

Included is a discussion of bird photography, banding of birds, migration, field trips, nesting habits of common birds and where to find them. Identification of bird calls, taking a bird census, and how to start a bird club.

One complete section of the book is devoted to the building of feeders and houses.

Drawing on his many years of experience as a wood-working hobbyist, the author gives complete drawings and a bill of materials and instructions with each different house or feeder. A photograph of each completed project is also shown.

A mulching of straw or hay will help keep moisture in the seeded area after planting. Make sure the mulching is light.

Follow the Lawn 'Dos'

If you want to look from your picture window upon a lawn that will turn your neighbors green with envy, cultivate these dos suggested by scientists:

Do water a new lawn lightly and often until it is established. Do soak an established lawn to a depth of 3 to 6 inches but don't water again till the soil becomes dry and crumbly.

Do use summer weed killers or insecticides if the situation warrants — and resolve that next spring you will nip the problem in the bud. Pre-emergence crabgrass killers containing Dacthal are highly effective if applied in March or April.

Do follow instructions on the fertilizer package very carefully. A good lawn food will never burn the grass when used according to directions.

Do use a quality seed mixture instead of a bargain-basement mixture; it will prove an economy in the long run.

Do save yourself work by using fertilizer and pesticide combinations. A combination weed killer and fertilizer feeds your lawn while eradicating broadleaf weeds, and May and early June is a good time to use it.

Next spring, you might try a three-in-one product: fertilizer, crabgrass preventer and grub-killer scientifically blended so that each pellet of the product contains all three active ingredients.

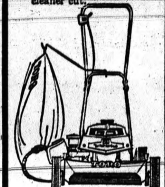

The hydrangea is a very thirsty plant. Water these plants every day.

Iris Increasing in Popularity

More and more home gardeners have been turning to irises as the backbone of their gardens because they are so hardy and long-lived.

Easy to grow iris varieties provide beauty to the garden by blooming at a time when few down the three petals that hang from a fuzzy line, or beard, that runs down the center of the petals.

There are three principal types of iris that grow from thick underground stems, called rhizomes. Bearded irises have a small raised area, or crest, on the middle of each fall petal.

The bearded iris is easiest to grow and is recommended for beginning gardeners. Most bearded iris grow two to three feet tall, blooming in May and June.

They are distinguished by a fuzzy line, or beard, that runs down the center of the petals. Bearded irises have smooth fall petals and thin, grasslike leaves. They grow from one to four feet tall, blooming in June.

Crested irises have a small raised area, or crest, on the middle of each fall petal.

Summer Near When Peonies Out

When you see peonies in bloom, you'll know that summer is "just around the corner."

Peonies, with their massive blooms and lavish colors, will help you create visual magic in your home or apartment.

For floral arrangements in any room, use a dozen peonies, all of the same color, with their blooms contrasting with their glossy foliage.

Or, combine peonies with other flowers and foliage — such as pink and red peonies contrasted with blue delphiniums and green bells of Ireland — for dramatic arrangements.

When you buy peonies from your florist, loosely wrap the blooms in wet newspaper and place the stems in a container of warm water for an hour or so before arranging them.

This will facilitate their absorption of water.

In arranging peonies, carefully remove all of the foliage below the waterline. This will prevent bacteria growth and permit the blooms to receive adequate moisture.

By using one peony stalk and separating the bloom from the foliage, you can make a little arrangement of peony foliage in a small shallow flat bowl, highlighting it with the peony bloom.

This can be placed on a low coffee table, for instance, with the larger peony arrangement providing major accent on a chest or buffet.

IN FULL BLOOM — Beautiful gardens in Birmingham and Bloomfield Hills will be open for public inspection from 1 to 6 p.m. Saturday and Sunday. Representatives of the Women's National Farm and Garden Association will be hostesses for the annual Detroit Garden Center Pilgrimage, which has been gaining popularity each year. Shown above is Mrs. Harold Tanner, of 4855 Ardmore, Bloomfield Hills, general chairman of the Birmingham-Bloomfield Hills area. The bed of iris is on the Lester A. Colmans' estate, 1825 Rathmore, Bloomfield Hills.

Sweet William, so easy to grow, house in June if seeds are sown/get your seeds into the ground from seeds, will produce flowers early enough. The flower really early, leave the plants in place that scent the garden and this is a biennial, so if you do not and they'll flower next year.

Study Effects of Pesticides

A Michigan State University research team has begun intensive study to determine how man's chemical battle against insect pests affects wildlife and his food supply.

The scientists will study the side effects of spraying for Japanese beetle and cereal leaf beetle.

The study of the pests which pose serious threats to Michigan will be supported through a $60,000 federal contract with the U.S. Department of Agriculture (USDA).

The researchers will work closely with USDA, the Michigan departments of agriculture and Michigan conservation and Purdue University.

James W. Butcher, MSU entomologist, reports data will be collected in Berrien and Cass counties before any spraying for cereal leaf beetle begins.

The team will also go into Monroe and Lenawee counties to check if children, granules sprayed from planes late in 1962 had any effect on wildlife or domestic animals.

Some 60 dead animals were found following the spraying, mostly birds, and autopsies will be performed to determine causes of death.

Malathion, safest of the phosphate chemicals, may be used to control the cereal leaf beetle if a test on 80 acres last fall proves it effective.

If not, the whole area may be sprayed similar to last Fall's Japanese beetle control program.

Organic farmers and other nature groups contend that spraying of insecticides is upsetting the balance of nature and that parasites and predators can control insect pests.

"Control by natural enemies is not always practical," Butcher asserted.

"These insect enemies don't always kill enough insects to be effective. When it is necessary to control insects with pesticides, our job is to use as little as possible and yet be effective."

Select Shrubs for All Seasons

Too often homeowners are apt to select a shrub for planting on their home grounds purely on the basis of flower color or flower fragrance, reports Rudy Favretti, extension home grounds specialist at the University of Connecticut.

In selecting shrubs, the expert suggests choosing those that do something throughout many seasons of the year.

Some shrubs, for example, are attractive only when they are in bloom but have little appeal the rest of the year.

State Negro Solons Air Views

Agree Integration Move Heading North

LANSING (U)—Negro members of the Michigan Legislature appear to be in general agreement that the integration movement is spreading from South to North.

David Holmes, who is one of the nine Negro representatives from the Detroit area in the house, said yesterday:

"The mood is very strong, both in the South and the North among Negroes. Basic rights for Negroes have been too long forthcoming."

Rep. Holmes said Detroit is "no different" from other major cities in regard to its treatment of Negroes, and in some cases appears to be in general agreement that the integration movement is spreading from South to North.

He cited education and housing aspects of Negro living in Detroit which need improvement, and said the biggest problem is jobs.

Holmes said he is not personally concerned about racial violence in Detroit or other Northern cities but added:

"Any time you get an ethnic group together with high unemployment, dense population and such factors, it breeds rebellion."

WATCHES GROUP

Holmes said he has watched the "Black Muslim" group and other alleged antiwhite movements with interest and sees them as possible instigators of racial trouble.

"They could cause an explosion at the right psychological moment," he said, "Something could start and have a snowball effect but I think there are enough sane Negro citizens to nip any real trouble in the bud."

"If trouble started, responsible leaders in the Negro community would get together real fast," he said.

Rep. James Bradley said he believed most Negro leaders distrust the "Black Muslims" and other such movements as not accomplishing anything positive for the Negro.

"These are radical elements and the only thing to be said is that sometimes radicalism has a good effect because it forces compromise," said Bradley.

"But I think the peaceful type of demonstration is far more effective because it brings out greater sympathy in other elements of the community."

Rep. Daisy Elliott said she was somewhat concerned over the likelihood of racial trouble because "people in all major cities are pretty well worked up."

Arlen Pleads Innocent

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Veteran actor Richard Arlen, 62, arrested Tuesday for driving too slow on the Hollywood freeway, pleaded innocent to a drunken driving charge yesterday and was ordered tried June 25.

Wayne County to Fight Bias

DETROIT (AP)—The Wayne County Board of Supervisors is establishing a human relations committee designed to alleviate racial tensions in the county.

A committee of 10 members, five from Detroit and the other five from non-Detroit areas, was approved without objection at a meeting of the supervisors yesterday.

Approval came in adoption of a resolution sponsored by Board Chairman William T. Patrick Jr., a member of the Detroit Common Council.

Patrick, speaking for his proposal, described what he said were differences in population characteristics between the "inner" Detroit city and outlying sections of Detroit and the suburbs.

There is a "predominance of Negroes in the inner city" and a "gradual lightening" beyond until "an almost total whiteness" in the suburbs, he said.

Patrick, a Negro, said some county supervisors have "bragged" of their ability to keep minority groups out of their cities.

The human relations committee, yet to be appointed, is designed to make recommendations assuring equal governmental services to all persons and to work for improvement of citizen attitude.

Detroit Church Sets Clinic on Birth Control
ECORSE (AP)—The Episcopal Church of the Resurrection is going to open a birth control clinic.

The plan was announced yesterday by the Rev. Henry L. Parker, rector.

The clinic is to be operated by Planned Parenthood League Inc., with a staff of four persons and with Dr. Ralph Ten-Have of the University of Michigan School of Public Health as medical director.

Such a clinic would be the first at any church of the Detroit area.

The clinic is to give out birth control information and materials, Rev. Parker said. The clinic is to be open one day a week starting July 9.

LA Is Handed Racial Deadline

Integrationists Given Promise of Action

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Negro and white civil rights leaders have given Los Angeles a timetable for "total integration" and received a promise of preliminary action within 10 days.

A six-hour conference on racial harmony resulted in the formation Thursday of top-level committees by integrationists and 50 members of the Los Angeles area.

The plan was announced yesterday by the Rev. Henry L. Parker, rector.

The clinic is to be operated by Planned Parenthood League Inc., with a staff of four persons and with Dr. Ralph Ten-Have of the University of Michigan School of Public Health as medical director.

Such a clinic would be the first at any church of the Detroit area.

The clinic is to give out birth control information and materials, Rev. Parker said. The clinic is to be open one day a week starting July 9.

Refuse to Support N-Fleet for NATO

OTTAWA (AP)—President Kennedy's plan to establish a North Atlantic Treaty Organization space nuclear fleet has won no immediate backing in Canada.

"No commitments of any sort were involved," a government spokesman said in a special U.S. envoy Livingston Merchant said, "before it adjourns June 21. If this discussed prospects for Canada's participation at a meeting Thursday with Prime Minister Lester B. Pearson and members of his Cabinet."

Sources said Canada in principle opposes participation in the proposed force of Polaris missile-equipped ships manned by international crews.

National forests cover 12 per cent of New Mexico.

Dennis Day Has to Be Father of the Year

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — The father of this or almost any year in Hollywood appears to be Dennis Day.

Jack Benny's modest tenure who has made a serious business of raising a family.

"We've never been out of diapers at our house," says Dennis, who seems somewhat astounded himself at the size of the Day (McNulty) tribe.

Here's how they will line up on Father's Day Sunday June 16.

Patrick James, 14.
Dennis Eugene, 13.
Michael Joseph, 11.
Margaret Mary, 10.
Eileen Maria, 8.
Paul Thomas, 7.
Thomas Francis, 5.
Mary Kate, 2.
Daniel Gerard, 2 weeks.

During a rehearsal break at the Jack Benny Show, Dennis rattled off the names and numbers with confidence — until he arrived at Thomas. He made several stabs at the middle name before arriving at Francis. I checked with his wife later and discovered he was correct.

How do they manage such a crowd scene?

CREDIT WIFE

"It's my wife Peggy who gets the credit," said Dennis. "The burden is on her, because I'm out of town six months of the year, that's the way it is with performers nowadays."

"We have one live-in help and a day girl, but we've never had a baby nurse. Peg has done it all herself. Nine babies, and every one of them has had the colic for the first six months! We've tried every formula and every preparation that is made. You name them we've had them."

Dennis admitted that the logistics for a family of nine children can be staggering. They manage to find room for sleeping accommodations in their expanded Mandeville Canyon home—now five bedrooms. The three oldest boys board at military school in Anaheim, so that's a help.

When the family goes for a weekend at their Palm Springs house, it's a regular caravan. Sleeping bags are a must.

MAJOR OPERATION

Outfitting the nimble nine is a major operation. "Shoes!" muttered Dennis, shaking his head. "We're always buying shoes. I got the boys shoes with a guarantee the soles wouldn't wear out in six months. Know something? They beat the guarantee."

"I was in New York recently, and I looked up some wholesalers I know—I haven't worked for Benny for 24 years without learning some tricks. I went through the racks of girls' dresses and said, 'I'll take this and this and this.' That's the way we shop."

Dennis was one of six children, who have now produced 31 of their own—sister-in-law Ann Blyth has five. "I think large families are closer," said Dennis, an obvious advocate.

HAZARDS?

Any hazards to rearing children in Hollywood?

"It's no different from other towns," he said. "You can't let other people raise your children. You've got to know your kids and keep the lines of communication open."

"I tell mine if they ever have any problem to bring it to me. I won't belt them if it's something they've done wrong. So far we've done pretty well on that system."

Ask Mile Hole as N-War Post

Defense Dept. Seeks Deep Command HQ

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Defense Department wants to drill a mile-deep hole in the ground and bury at its base a "post attack" command control headquarters for emergency use in any nuclear holocaust.

The cost was estimated conservatively at more than $100 million.

The plan — on which military men are divided — came to light as the house approved a $1.4-billion annual military construction bill in which the Armed Services Committee had refused to include authority to start work on the hole.

Committee Chairman Carl Vinson, D-Ga., ruled that the big construction job was not justified.

In this he had the concurrence of Gen. Thomas S. Power, commander in chief of the Strategic Air Command, who told the committee about the project in secret session.

All but the barest references to the proposed new underground center were stricken from the hearing record published by the committee when it brought the annual construction bill to the floor.

Arguments for it were not included in the published transcript.

Nor were its backers named, although Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara obviously was among them, since the request to get started was finally laid before Congress.

To Issue Coins, Stamps Marking Vatican Interim

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The cardinal of the Roman Catholic Church decided yesterday to issue stamps, coins and medals marking the interregnum at the vatican.

The cardinals made the decision at a meeting in the Apostolic Palace. The issuing of stamps, coins and medals between the death of one pope and the election of another is normal, but not obligatory.

Coins and stamps of Pope John's reign still are valid. Vatican coins are the same size as Italian coins and circulate in Italy as normal currency.

State Department 'Unmanages' the News

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Far from "managing" the news, the State Department's public affairs office has been gracefully executed a full turn, and freed reporters of the news shackles imposed even by previous administrations.

It is a fresh breath of air in RUTH, an administrative Montgomery, whose news policies had begun to edge so close to government censorship that Congress launched an investigation.

In the aftermath of the Cuban crisis last fall, the capital reverberated with angry charges of "news management."

The Pentagon had dropped an iron curtain around traditional news sources, and the State Department also adopted the Defense Department's rigorous requirement that officials must have a public affairs officer present in talking to the press, and also report any chance, non-monitored conversations in full.

The Pentagon order remains in effect, but state soon rescinded its similar harsh ruling in the face of public outrage.

Since then, under the skillful guidance of Assistant Secretary of State Robert Manning and Deputy Assistant James L. Greenfield, the press doors are more invitingly open than in several decades.

This correspondent has interviewed a long line of undersecretaries dating back to World War II days, including such more recent appointees as Herbert Hoover Jr. and Christian Herter.

At all times, a member of the public affairs staff sat in on the conversations. The explanation invariably was that this helped to keep the department's own press staff fully informed.

TOOK A CHANCE
Aware of the clamdome on news after President Kennedy stood "eyeball-to-eyeball" with Soviet Premier Khrushchev over Cuba, I somewhat trepidatiously requested an exclusive interview with Undersecretary George Ball.

Vice Adm. Bernard L. Austin, president of the court, was to deliver his findings today to Adm. H. Page Smith, commander of the Atlantic fleet, at Norfolk, Va.

The investigation began at New London, Conn., April 11, the day after the Thresher sank some 220 miles east of Boston with 129 men aboard.

The following day the court moved to Portsmouth Naval Shipyard where the Thresher was built and where it underwent an eight-month overhaul just before its final voyage.

The court heard testimony from 57 Navy men and 63 civilians including 51 shipyard employees who had worked on Thresher.

Romney Commutes Slayer's Life Term

LANSING (U) — Gov. George Romney yesterday announced the commutation of the life sentence of Matthew Page, sentenced in 1935 from Genesee County for first-degree murder in the hammer slaying of a woman at Flint. Page, 52, has served 27 years of his life sentence. The governor said he acted after an unanimous recommendation for clemency from the State Parole Board.

Washington, Vernon Agree to Separate

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Washington Manager Mickey Vernon, bumped upstairs when Gil Hodges was named field boss of the Senators two weeks ago, said Thursday night he was quitting his new post with the club.

Vernon, American League batting champion in 1946, became manager of the Senators in 1960 when the league expanded to 10 teams. He lasted through six weeks of the 1963 season before Hodges took over.

Vernon has been serving as administrative assistant to General Manager George Selkirk.

Admitting he had no idea of where he would wind up, Vernon said he would seek other employment in baseball. Selkirk said the Senators would welcome Vernon back in his administrative capacity if he failed to find a job elsewhere.

Vernon made his announcement while watching the Senators play the Boston Red Sox from the press box.

to the department from Time-Life. Inasmuch as Manning's special assistant, Frank Sieverts, did also, newsmen irreverently refer to the Public Affairs Department as "The Time-Life Bureau."

Greenfield spoke frankly about the revolutionary change, saying, "We think it is degrading for an official to have a public affairs officer present when talking to the press. It is degrading both to us, and to the newsmen himself."

"NOT WATCHDOGS"

"We're not watchdogs. Our proper function is to help the reporter get his story, and to put out our own position. Some of our officials were so accustomed to having a press officer present that they were reluctant to give it up — they felt it was a needed protection."

Grinning, he continued: "Whenever we hear of an official continuing the old practice, we call him up and warn him not to do it again. After all, we're something like a horse trough."

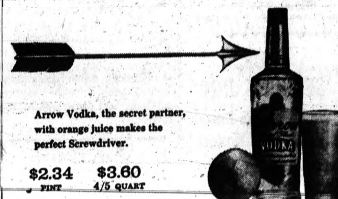

"No one wants to take a drink from us unless he thinks we're honestly disseminating information. This way they come back, and back again for more."

Buick Open First Round Replay Today

Tony Lema's Planned 'Champagne Party' Is Washed Out

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

GRAND BLANC — Put away the champagne bottles, Tony Lema isn't buying — that is not yet.

The "Champagne Kid" as he is now called after a couple celebrations following his victories on the pro golf tour, was in ideal position to plan a party after firing a 67 in the first round of the Buick Open at Warwick Hills yesterday.

But his sparkling round of 34-35 went for naught as the second downpour of the day forced officials to erase the board and call for a re-play today.

There were still one-third of the golfers on the course when play was called, but none apparently in position to match Lema's round.

12 SUB-PAR ROUNDS
Twelve golfers were in with sub-par rounds with lesser known players, stealing much of the spotlight.

Former Public Links champion Don Esig of Indianapolis fired a 23-55-46 and Bert Wewer had 23-55-46.

At 70 was Juan Rodriguez, whose double-eagle-2 on the par-five 13th hole was the feature shot of the afternoon. He sank the ball with a 170-yard six-iron shot, and it was the first double-eagle registered in sanctioned PGA play this year.

Also at 70 with Rodriguez, Dow Finsterwald, last week's 500

Festival winner, Jerry Pitman, Dan Sikes and Al Murray.

One stroke behind were Fundy's Gene Bone, defending champion Bill Collins, Al Gelberger, George Knudson and Al Johnson.

Don January fired a 73, Mike Suchack and Bob Goolby 74's, Sam Snead 75 and Art Wall Jr. and Don Cherry with 76's.

4 STRAIGHT BIRDS
Lema had a bird on the No. 5 hole as he sunk a 25 foot putt, and he took every hole in regulation until the 12th and then made three straight birdies with putts of 5, 10, 10 and 8 feet.

He missed his only green on 18. He had to blast out of the trap and was 25 feet from the cup before taking two putts for the bogey-5.

Except for Bone, the other Michigan golfers may be happy to get another crack at the first round.

Big Tom Draper, playing in Bone's threesome had a 39-41-80; Ben Lala of Mt. Clemens 39-42-81; Glen Stuart, Grand Rapids, 37-37-74; amateurs James Miller, Flint, 43-41-84 and Doug Mann, Flint 38-41-80; Dave Hill, Jackson 40-39-79 and Howard Brown, Detroit 35-42-77.

Lala was given a 2-stroke penalty on the first hole when he came late for tee off time.

Trevor Wilkes, the first alternate from Umdloti Beach, South Africa teed off in place of Lala. Before the second shot was hit, Lala turned up and took a 2-stroke penalty off the tee and was allowed to catch up.

When the storm struck there were an estimated 3,000 persons on the course. A bolt of lightning hit the television tower being installed for Sunday's finals. The damage was slight and there were no injuries reported.

To speed play today, the players were teeing off on the first and 10th tees simultaneously. The hole in one contest planned for Saturday was re-scheduled for this evening and after 18 holes tomorrow, 36 would be played on Sunday to try to finish the tournament on schedule.

Any further postponement would hamper the PGA qualifying slated for Monday and the USGA sectional qualifying on Tuesday.

These were some of the first round scores before the wash out:

Tony Lema, San Leandro, Calif. 67
Don Esig, Indianapolis 73
Bert Wewer, Regester, Minn. 74

Tigers' C-C: Collapse, Consternation

Colavito, Cash Fail to Help Slumping Team

DETROIT (AP) — The Tigers' C-C corps — once a source of clutch production and clobbering of pitchers — now stands for collapse and consternation.

Rocky Colavito and Norm Cash are supposed to be the sledge guns in the Tiger lineup, but far below their outputs at the same stage of the 1962 and 1963 seasons.

Their combined failure to produce is the main reason the Tigers are stuck in ninth place after 49 games. With the Yankees coming to town for a three-game weekend series starting tonight, Cash and Colavito are far below their outputs at the same stage of the 1962 and 1963 seasons.

"They've got a lot of catching up to do," said manager Bob Scheffing.

Scheffing won't pin the entire blame for the Tigers' downfall on the once-learned C-C tandem. The pitching hasn't been outstanding. The comparative figures for the first 49 games this season and the last two pinpoints how important Colavito and Cash are to the Tigers.

EIGHTH PLACE
This year the Tigers are 21-28 and have had difficulty rising to eighth place. Cash, last last month, has six homers and 18 runs batted in. Colavito, a slow starter every year, has prolonged the agony this season with only five homers and 18 RBI.

In 1962, the Tigers were in fourth place with a 27-22 record and they were only 2½ games behind the top. Cash was tied for the American League home run lead with 15 and had 31 RBI. Colavito, who didn't hit a homer the first month, started streaking and had 10 with 31 RBI after 49 games.

Two years ago Cash and Colavito were prime figures in the Tigers' early start into first place. Detroit led by two games with a 23-14 record. Colavito shared the home run lead with 15 and had driven in 20 runs. Cash had 12 homers and 44 RBI.

Scheffing figures the Tigers have to start climbing soon because both sluggers are due to improve.

The Yankee game tonight opens a seven-game homestand before the Tigers leave on another extended road trip. Scheffing named Hank Aguirre (4-5) to pitch against Bill Stafford (2-4) in the first game of the big weekend series that should help the Tigers' dwindling attendance.

Detroit has been about 100,000 off last year's home attendance. Better than 100,000 fans are expected for the games tonight, tomorrow night and Sunday.

Pa. Harness Track Has Grand Opening Tonight

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — The new $12.5 million Liberty Bell harness racing track opens tonight bringing pari-mutuel betting to Pennsylvania for the first time in state history.

The pari-mutuel setup was passed by the state legislature in 1961, after more than half a century of political maneuvering in the state capital at Harrisburg. Many feel the advent of the trotters and pacers is merely the forerunner of thoroughbred racing for Pennsylvania.

LOOKS — Tony Lema was well on his way to a first round champagne party until a second downpour washed away his sparkling 67 in the first round of the Buick Open yesterday at Warwick Hills. Lema put this trap shot at 18 20 feet past the cup and finished with his only bogey of the round on the par-4 hole.

Bengal Farmhands Show Up 'Parents'

DETROIT (AP) — Maybe the farmhands could show the city-slicker Tigers in Detroit how to do it.

The six Tiger farmhands are doing much better so far this season than the ninth-place parent club. Two Detroit farms are in first place, one is in second, one in third, one in fourth and one in fifth.

TOP FARM
The top farm, Syracuse, has a streak of 12 victories in 17 games and is second in the International League.

Duluth leads the Northern League and Lakeland is in front in the Florida State League. Thomasville is running third in the Georgia-Florida League with Jamestown fourth in the New York-Pennsylvania League.

Knoxville, the Tigers' No. 2 farm where Frank Lary was sent to pitch his arm back into condition, is fifth. Lary has a 2-1 record with a 2.47 earned run average at Knoxville.

The No. 1 pitcher of the Tiger farm system currently is southpaw Willie Smith, who has a 5-2 record and a 1.77 ERA at Syracuse. Smith may be brought up to the Tigers in the next few days if they can't swing a trade for a pitcher.

PUNAL GOLDY, farmed to Syracuse in May, is batting .328 and is another possibility for promotion. Goldy has batted four homers since his optioning to Syracuse.

Lansing's Larry Foster has a 2-2 record with Syracuse, but his ERA is 4.11. Bill Roman, former University of Michigan first baseman, is batting .259 with three homers for Syracuse.

Bone Happy but Then—

GRAND BLANC — One of the happiest golfers in the Buick Open yesterday was Pontiac's Gene Bone—that is, until the rains came.

It was homecoming for Bone. Warwick Hills was the club that gave him his first head pro position five years ago.

And what would have been a better homecoming than to come back to Warwick Hills and start off with a one under par-71 to start the first round of the Buick Open.

Bone left Warwick Hills last winter to go on tour and things haven't been too well.

"I've been playing pretty good, but I can't get my putter working for anything," he said after his 71 in the pro-am Wednesday. Even with the 71, he had four 2-putt greens.

When he dropped in a downhill 30-footer on the 18th yesterday to finish the first round with 71, he waved his arms with glee and several hundred local fans seated in the area gave him a big cheer.

"Can you imagine, I went through a round and didn't have one 3-putt green," he said happily. "I feel good now, I know I can do well in this tournament now."

MISSED 4-FOOTER
He had birds on 1-3-11 and 16 and took bogies on 8-15 and 17. On 14 he missed a birdie putt from only four feet.

"When I missed that putt, I started to worry. Those last four holes have been always been my downfall. But I'm starting to take a lesson from Lema (Tony) and build up my confidence rather than tear it down after a bad shot or hole," Bone confided.

He two-putted from eight feet for a bogey on 15 and then recovered with a 25 footer for a bird on 16. On 17 his chip went in and he two putted from 22 feet for a bogey and then came the 18th.

His approach landed in the trap and his blast went 30 feet past

KO Improbable in Title Bout

NEW YORK (AP) — Both welterweight champion Luis Rodriguez and Emile Griffith talk boldly of ending their bitter rivalry Saturday night by a knockout in their return title fight.

But if that happens it will be a bigger upset than the New York Mets giving Roger Craig a 10 run lead to play with.

The records show that no one has been able to stop either the champion from Cuba or Miami or the ex-champ from the Virgin Islands and New York.

They also will be using the 8-ounce gloves that are mandatory under the New York Athletic Commission's new safety rules instead of the 6-ouncers previously worn for title fights. Most boxers say the lighter mitts, with their thinner padding, makes a punch more powerful.

TROUBLE AHEAD — This was Gene Bone's blast out of the sand trap at 18 in yesterday's washed-out round of the Buick Open. The shot went 30 feet past the pin putting his sub-par round in jeopardy. But what happened is denoted in the photo below.

OH, HAPPY ROUND — When the 30 foot under par, but his joy was short lived as the putt on 18 dropped into the cup this was Gene Bone's reaction. He finished with a 71, one round was washed out four hours later and re-set for today.

It's also pretty irritating to come to your ball in a sand trap and find it at the bottom of a footprint. So, always rake and smooth out all clubprints and footprints from a sand trap before you leave it, as you are being done in illustration #2.

Pitcher Powers Cubs Into Tie for 1st Place

Coleman, Robinson Pace Cincinnati Sweep

From Our Wire Services
Cincinnati swept a two-night doubleheader from Pittsburgh Thursday night, 7-5 and 10-5, with Frank Robinson slugging a pair of homers in the opener and Gordy Coleman driving in five runs in the nightcap.

Coleman collected his five runs batted in with a bases-loaded triple, a single and a bases loaded walk after the red-hot Robinson made it four homers in two games with his first game blast that drove in three runs.

BUCS RALLY

The Reds had to put down a four-run Pittsburgh rally in the ninth inning of the nightcap.

The Pirates uprising came against Joey Jay, who had allowed seven hits going into the ninth but had been touched for only one run—on Jim Pagliaroni's homer. Jay survived the shaky ninth for his third victory against eight defeats.

The loser was Don Schwall.

now 3-3, first of a long line of five Pirate pitchers tagged for 10 hits. Three Cincinnati runs were scored on walks.

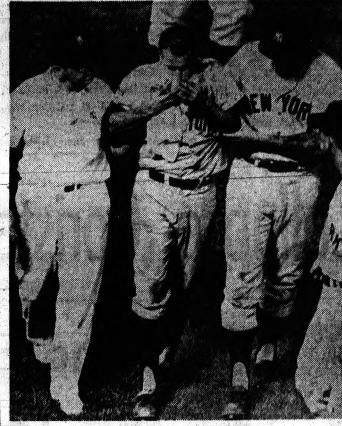

Robinson's homers, his 10th and 11th of the season, were the key to the Reds' opening game triumph.

CARDS WIN

Pinch hitter George Altman's run-scoring double in the eighth inning gave St. Louis a 5-4 victory over Philadelphia Thursday night and moved the Cardinals into a three-way tie with San Francisco and Chicago for the National League lead.

The Cardinals had to cede off Phillies' rallies in the sixth and eighth innings to win. Bobby Shantz retired the side with two men on in the sixth after Bob Wine had belted a two-run homer to chase starter Bob Gibson and bring the Phillies to within one run.

Bob Gibson got the victory, his fourth against three losses.

McDaniel Clips Game-Winning Homer in Tenth

Hurls Cubs From Jam for 3-2 Victory Over San Francisco

By JERR YLISKA
Associated Press Sports Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The sizzling Chicago Cubs, buried in the National League's second division for the past 16 seasons, have hurdled into a first-place tie on the batting prowess of an 000 hitter—relief pitcher Lindy McDaniel.

McDaniel's second home run of his career in the 10th inning Thursday handed the Cubs a 3-2 triumph over front-running San Francisco for a sweep of a four-game series and the Cubs' 11th triumph in 13 games. It's the first time in six seasons the Cubs have finished with first place at any stage of the race.

McDaniel's game-deciding blow off reliever Billy Pierce was his first hit as a Cub and was no less artistic than his superb relief job in the top of the 10th when he handcufted the Giants with the bases loaded and only one out.

It's awfully early for pennant fever, but the 40,000 Cub fans who attended the midweek series with the Giants certainly displayed it. This was the biggest midweek turnout since the neighboring Milwaukee Braves — then riding a prosperous crest—played the Cubs before 60,000 in a three-game set in 1958.

The 13,240 fans Thursday rocked Wrigley Field when McDaniel, former ace fireman for the St. Louis Cardinals, first saved the day in the top of the 10th by picking Willie Mays off second and striking out Ed Ball, and then broke a 2-2 tie by picking his only homer since a 1957 clout off Brooklyn's Roger Craig.

McDaniel, 28, a 6-foot-3 right-hander from Florissant, Mo., doesn't even own a bat of his own. He borrowed third baseman Ron Santo's club for his big smash.

"I don't come up to bat too often, you know," grinned Lindy. "I was so busy out there in the top of the tenth, I didn't realize I was first up when we came to bat," continued McDaniel. "I didn't know Billy Pierce had come in for starter Juan Marichal until I stepped up to the plate. When I 2-3 pitched came in waist high. I just swung and away it went."

Dearborn Invitational Record Washed Away

A record breaking 63 qualifying score by Bud Stevens and Don Mead was washed out yesterday when the opening of the Dearborn Country Club's invitational bestball tournament was stopped by rain.

There was a pair of aces scored yesterday. Ron Bontaz used a six-iron to get a hole-in-one on the 150-yard sixth hole at Meadowbrook and Carl Ramo aced the 165-yard 14th hole at Plum Hollow with a six iron.

Black Thursday for AL Managers

By The Associated Press
American League managers were set today to try a new game.

It's played with nine men, but some of your best players have to be seriously injured. First manager to fill out a complete line-up card—without erasures—gets a three-week vacation in a band-aid factory.

That might provide a welcome cure for the harried managers who watched their players mowed down Thursday night on a two-game program which saw a 7-1 record, followed Mantle into Baltimore regain first place by a downing the New York Yankees 4-2 and Washington stretch its winning streak to four games by beating Boston 2-1.

The Orioles, except for a fence slightly dented by Mickey Mantle, came out of the three-day war games with the Yankees in good shape. But the Yankees wound up with another wounded member in the series finale that gave the Orioles a 1½-game bulge over the world champions.

BOUTON HURT
Pitcher Jim Bouton, who had a 7-1 record, followed Mantle into a hospital after he was hit in the face by a line drive off the bat of Jackie Brandt in the fourth inning. Bouton suffered a cut on the right side of his face and also a severe bruise of the right shoulder.

X rays showed no fracture of either the jaw or the shoulder, but 12 stitches were required to close the 1½-inch gash on his face. Manager Ralph Houk said he was hopeful Bouton could take his regular turn on the mound.

At Washington, Manager Gil Hodges of the Senators lost his hottest hitter when Don Lock was forced to leave the game in the sixth inning. Lock, who had 20 hits in 40 at-bats and four homers in four games, suffered an ankle sprain.

Meanwhile, Red Sox Manager Johnny Pesky came up with two additions to his medical list—pitcher Gene Conley and catcher Russ Nixon, who had just won a starting berth, wrenched his back and is scheduled for a session with the doctors today.

Conley's condition, however, concerned Pesky even more. Conley, who has a 2-4 record and 20 hits in 40 at-bats and four homers in four games, suffered an ankle sprain.

The wobbly ankle apparently has been keeping him off stride. He was off stride right at the start against the Senators, giving up a two-run homer to Larry Osborne in the second inning that provided all the runs Washington needed to post its longest winning streak of the season. Conley was relieved in the third inning.

Ray Bluth Rolls 2,594

BALTIMORE, Md. — Monroe Bill Bunetta of Fresno, Calif. as Moore of Pontiac was resting in he shot six-game blocks of 1,245 22nd place at the halfway mark of the 24-game qualifying round in the Professional Bowlers' Association $20,400 Johnny Unitas Open Thursday.

Moore shot six game blocks of 1163 and 1232 for a 2395 total. He trails leader Ray Bluth of St. Louis by 199 pins.

Bluth shot 1245 in his afternoon round and came back in the evening session for a 1349 for a grand total of 2594.

Moore's big game was a 256 which he shot in the evening session.

Bluth held a 10-pin lead over

Bill Bunetta of Fresno, Calif. as he shot six-game blocks of 1,245 and 1,349.

Jim St. John of Chicago, who led at the end of the first round with 1,356, came back Thursday night with 1,227 to end up with 2,583.

Earl Johnson of Minneapolis fired the biggest six-game block of the tournament when he knocked down 1,371 pins in his second six-game set Thursday night.

Teeing Off

By BRUNO L. KEARNS

Mickey Wright is becoming the fantasy in women's golf in the same style that Arnold Palmer captured the imagination of golf fans a few years back.

The lady golfers of the LPGA are now hailing Mickey to be better than the great Babe Didrikson Zaharias. Miss Wright is certainly making it tough to argue the claim having won six of the nine LPGA tournaments thus far this season, including four straight.

"One person who isn't conceding anything to Mickey in comparison to Babe is Frank Syron, the pro and owner of Pontiac Country Club.

If anyone can talk about the Babe, Syron can. He had her as a pupil during her crude years, thanks to a couple of businessmen who were willing to pay $25 a day at Orchard Lake to teach the Babe the finer points of the game.

TOUGH TIMES

These were days when Babe was struggling despite her acclaim in the 1932 Olympics at Los Angeles.

She was brought to the Detroit area as part of a publicity promotion showing her at the wheel of a Dodge. While here, one of the Dodge boys and Ralph Lee, Detroit hotel owner, agreed to her wishes to learn to play golf.

"You couldn't say Babe was exactly the most refined young lady," said Syron, who was pro at Orchard Lake, "she was a real tom boy."

"She would come out to Orchard Lake and actually hurdle the fences; she was as tough as most of the men and she had a pretty good vocabulary of cuss words."

The Babe had played 18 holes during her Olympic stay in LA, but that was the extent of it. She admitted to Syron she never had a lesson.

"I put the ball up on the tee, gave her a few words of advice and told her to hit away," said Syron.

The onlookers stood aghast as the ball took off and cleared 250 yards.

"After four hours, I told Lee she had all the makings of a champion," Syron noted.

During the next five weeks, Babe was on the course four hours every day. "This cost Lee and Dodge $25 a day, and that was a lot of money in those days. So tom boy or not it was a profitable undertaking," laughed Syron.

"After five weeks, she was breaking 85 and hitting the ball as long as any man at the club."

A story in The Pontiac Press in May 1932 verified Babe's round playing with Syron, Lee and caddy master Pete Martin.

Two Yanks Left in British Play

(ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (AP)—U.S. Walker Cup team, defeated Two Americans, Dr. Edgar Updegraff, 41-year-old Tucson, Arizona, and 1. Lucet, a real dark horse in the tournament, won from Peter Green of Bath, England, by the same margin in the quarter-finals over the rain-soaked St. Andrews Old Course.

A fourth American, defending champion Dick Davies of Pasadena, Calif., was beaten by Michael Lunt, British Walker Cup star, 1 up, in a quarter-final match that wasn't decided until the last putt on the 18th green.

Updegraff, a member of the U.S. team, was defeated in the quarter-finals by Lucet, who played well over David Moffat of England.

REAL SURPRISE

Lucet has been the real surprise of this tournament. Unknown in major golf competition, he has played creditably in every match. He won out in a ding-dong quarter-final by shooting par 4 on the 16th and 17th holes after having fallen twice during the match.

He squared it with a par 5 on the notorious 660-yard 18th hole then hung on to win as Green shot 6-5-5 on the last four holes.

Davies, another unknown when he won the British amateur last year, said he "ran out of holes" after two come-from-behind victories Thursday.

"I didn't run out of heart. I ran out of holes," he said. "Lunt played well and I think I played well."

Inter-City League Starts on Saturday

The Inter-City Softball League gets under way Saturday with the two Pontiac teams — Elks 810 and Harvey's Colonial House — meeting in a doubleheader at Drayton Park at 7 p.m.

Waterford Spence's Floors will play at Flint Back Saturday night and return to Drayton Park Sunday for a twinnish against Harvey's at 1:30 p.m.

Elks will entertain Flint Sunday at 1:30 in Pontiac at a field to be determined. Other members of the league, which will play Saturday and Sunday doubleheaders, are Saginaw and Port Huron.

Last night's softball games in the Waterford League were rained out.

In Class C tonight, Dixie Bar plays Rockote Paint at 7 and Lakeland Pharmacy meets Hiron Bowl at 8:30.

Call Class D Practice

A baseball practice session for the Pontiac Boys Club "D" team is slated for 1 p.m. Saturday on the Columbia and Joslyn Avenue north diamond.

'Put Up or Else' at Aqueduct

NEW YORK (AP)—Owners and trainers who think they can give California's Candy Spots a run for the money in the 95th edition of the $125,000 Belmont Stakes were at the entry box stage today.

It's put up or shut up—$50 to enter colts officially, with another $1,000 to start in the rugged 1½-mile test for 3-year-olds Saturday at Aqueduct.

A field of seven was expected for the final leg of the Kentucky Derby-Preakness-Belmont triple crown, but it took a lot of maneuvering. In midweek it looked as if only five might start.

John W. Galbreath's Chateaugay, who upset Candy Spots in the Derby, May 4 but ran second to Rex Ellsworth's California-bred colt two weeks later in the Preakness, heads the opposition.

OTHERS DUE

Others due to enter were George D. Widener's Top Gallant, C. V. Whitney's Tom Cat, Wheatley Stable's Insurrection, Patrice Jacobs' Bonjour and Louis Lee Haggins II's Choker.

All carry 126 pounds, and with Hill Prince, Battlefield, Blue Man, Correlation, Bold Ruler, Tim Tam, Tompion and Carry Back.

The weather man hopes to co-operate, and with a fast track and clear skies, some 6,000 are expected. Post time is approximately 3:48 p.m., EST.

CBS will handle the nationwide radio and television from 3:30-4 p.m., EST.

In 23 Belmonts since 1940 when parimutuel betting was legalized in New York, only nine favorites found the winner's circle.

If Candy Spots and jockey Willie Shoemaker make the grade, the Colt can join such distinguished Belmont company of this era as Bimelech, Whirlaway, Count Fleet, Citation, Native Dancer, Nashua, Needles, Sword Dancer and Jaipur, who justified their favorite's role.

If he loses, he'll rate with other heavy favorites who couldn't swing it—Alsab, Pensive, Jeep, Lord Boswell, Faultless, Ponder,

The 11th Frame

Howe's Lanes is inaugurating a new feature tonight and it will be interesting to hear the reaction of John Q. Bowler (nee Public).

Instead of the usual procedure of rewarding outstanding bowling feats with presentations at the bowlers' respective league banquets, Howe's will have its own honors ceremony this evening.

All presentation of "house" awards will be made at 9 p.m. There are 17 bowlers who will receive awards from Barb and Les Howe at that time.

Also, refreshments will be served to retain that "special moment" atmosphere and yet avoid the formality of a banquet.

In addition to the normal league bowler awards for the house's high male and female individual games and series, there will be presentations to the five men team that won the Champions of Champion qualifying tournament last month.

Also, seven prizes are reserved for the winners in Howe's singles tournament. Two special awards will go to Garth Green and John Bennett.

Bennett had the top junior bowler series this past season, a 655 in the Junior Doubles Classic League. Green actually fired the top individual series at Howe's, a 712, but it came in Moonlight Doubles competition and could not be considered for the league honor.

MOORE SHARP
Monroe Moore has been training hard for his appearance on the summer Professional Bowlers Association Tour. Now working for brother Archie at Utica's Shelby Lanes, he has been spending a considerable amount of time practicing.

Reports have him averaging close to 220 while taking 12 lanes during a session.

If so, it is paying off. His first day with the tour in Baltimore he fired a 687 with nothing lower than a 224.

This was accomplished in the Pro-Am event and helped his non-pro partner to the $175 fourth prize money. "Mo" plans to hit all 20 stops on the summer tour.

It's Barry's Appeal Versus Rocky's Persuasion

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans appear to be heading into a contest in which emotional appeal may be matched against can-win claims in the selection of their 1964 presidential nominee.

As matters stand 13 months before the party's convention, backers of Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., like to think of their man as the emotional favorite for a nomination entitling its bearer to buck the tide that usually flows for a president seeking a second term.

Supporters of New York Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller, on the other hand, believe he represents a philosophy persuasive in modern times in convincing GOP convention delegates that they should nominate the man they think has the best chance to win.

In the wings, watching developments, is Michigan Gov. George Romney. He might be shoved to the front quickly if Rockefeller and Goldwater get locked in a convention stalemate. The chance is considered remote that some real dark horse, like Sen. Thurston B. Morton of Kentucky, might get the nomination.

If Goldwater is nominated at the 1964 convention the result will parallel in some respects — and differ radically in others — from the triumph of emotion that helped make Wendell L. Willkie 1940.

Willkie defeated the party pros with a combination of a meticulously timed explosion of convention enthusiasm and a carefully arranged deluge of telegrams and telephone calls to delegates from community leaders at home.

Probably few who read the temper of the delegates at the 1960 Republican convention doubt there will be a comparable upsurge for Goldwater at next year's meeting — backed by a surge of messages from the grass roots.

In Goldwater's case, this will have to be voluntary and spontaneous. Some of the party's largest contributors, including his Wall Street friends, financed the Willkie boom and demonstration.

There is no central financial clearing house for the Goldwater drive. Because he says he is only running for re-election to the Senate from Arizona, he won't even accept checks for a presidential campaign chest.

VOTING APPEAL
Rockefeller is credited with voting appeal in the large states which cast heavy electoral vote totals. If they are to beat Kennedy, the Republicans desperately need New York. Rockefeller has carried it twice in governor races.

The New York governor is on record for drastic civil rights legislation and action. This would be underscored as the basis for an appeal to Negro voters in the large cities. In contrast, Goldwater advocates moral persuasion to bring about the equal rights he says can't be attained by legislation. This view is more acceptable in the South.

A part of Rockefeller's task will be to engender the grass roots enthusiasm that has been notably lacking among his party colleagues. Goldwater's camp will have to try to convince the prospective delegates that he can win — that servative GOP nominee and the end in a Republican victory.

Turnover Fairly Brisk

Motors Active, Mixed in Mart

NEW YORK (AP)—Motors were extremely active but mixed in an irregular stock market early this afternoon. Turnover for the market as a whole was fairly brisk.

Ford, Chrysler, American Motors and Studebaker looked as if they would rank very high on the day's list of most-active issues.

Further published comment about the retail sales boom in autos accompanied heavy trading in these issues.

Chrysler, down about 2 points, continued to face profit taking on its tremendous previous advance. Ford, up more than a point, won favor as a stock which has been "behind the market." General Motors was off a fraction while American Motors, and Studebaker advanced fractionally.

Most other groups were irregular but the trend of average was a shade lower. Tobacco and sugars continued to decline on balance, although a few of these recently battered issues came back to the plus side.

MAKE GAINS
Mail order-retail issues and electrical equipments made gains.

The rise in unemployment in May and further published reports on tightening credit injected a note of caution but over-all market sentiment remained confident.

White American Tobacco, Liggett & Myers and Lorillard continued fractionally lower, Philip Morris and Reynolds Tobacco gained fractions.

The American Stock Exchange prices were mixed in quiet trading. Technical Operations and Irving Air Chute rose about 2 each. Gains of a point or so were made by Heli-Coil and Apollo Industries. Atlantic Coast Line Co. dropped more than a point. Fractional losses included Cinerama, Deminor Manufacturing "A," RIC Group, and Paddington "A." Up fractionally were Tectron warrants, United Canoe Oil & Gas, Great Basins Petroleum, and Mead Johnson.

Christopher Columbus made a total of four voyages to the New World.

To Hear Appeal on Taxes in July

GM Says Assessment $32 Million Too High

A spokesman for the State Tax Commission yesterday said that the commission proposed would not be able to hold a hearing before early next month on a $32-million tax appeal in Pontiac.

"Both city and school district officials have urged us to hold the hearing as soon as possible, but this is a big job and can't be done overnight," explained Edward Kane, commission secretary.

The appeal was filed by General Motors Corp., claiming that the assessed property value set on its Pontiac plants was $32-million too high. Most of the appeal is on personal property assessments.

"We normally wouldn't schedule hearings before September," Kane noted, "but because of the size of this one, we'll attempt to hear it sooner."

However, he added that "because of the work involved, I'd estimate the hearing won't be held before a month from now."

Local officials would like the matter settled sooner since the city's tax base will be uncertain until the tax commission rules on the appeal.

Taxes are due and payable July 1 and become delinquent if unpaid before Aug. 1 under the city charter.

James F. O'Neill, of Livonia, issued a statement opposing the refusal of Magnusson and Bartlett to keep the North Central Association report on educational matters in Michigan and Eastern Michigan University confidential.

"If Magnusson pledged to keep the report confidential, he and Bartlett flagrantly violated this pledge in their news release of May 16, when they made public a substantial portion of the report," O'Neill said.

He claimed that "since the state's entire higher education program has been criticized," Bartlett and Magnusson "are duty bound" to give copies of the report to Gov. Romney and legislative leaders.

A) You appear to be well situated financially, but you have not told me what I need to know about your overall cash position.

If the $3,000 represents all, or a substantial part of your cash resources — including savings, bonds and government funds — I would not invest this sum in stocks. I would leave it in liquid form as a safeguard against unforeseen contingencies.

If you are already adequately protected in the latter regard, I think you could well place this money in the merchandising group, which has been acting extremely well. I suggest Sears, Roebuck; Safeway Stores; or a combination of both.

"I am 80 years old and have shares in General Electric, American Cyanamid, and Cities Service. I have some money that should be invested and am considering life insurance stock. What is your opinion. I cannot afford any risk."

A) Since your letter — which came in the mail — seems eminently practical, I'm going to give you an equally frank answer.

I do not believe that life insurance stocks should be bought for investment unless they can be held for a period of time — at least five to ten years. These issues are rarely cheap, and the buyer should be able to wait patiently until value builds up behind them, as it usually has in the past.

I do not believe that life insurance stocks are a suitable investment for a man of your years. In its place, I suggest Montana Power, a strong utility yielding about three per cent.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all personally, but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Trade Picture Aided by Move to Standardize

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK — Americans are looking for a big step forward in cutting costs while increasing their international trade.

A move toward standardization is a bright spot in the recent sea of troubles in which U.S. tariff-cutting policies have been challenged by the European Common Market.

Among the worries set off by this has been an intensifying of the always present threat of a trade war.

The American Standards Association says a global standard for American containers is due to be adopted this year by the International Organization for Standardization.

That should help both this nation's domestic transportation and world shipping industries in their struggle to wriggle free of a severe cost-profit squeeze.

MEET WITH EXPERTS
Delegates from the American group have met with experts from European nations and with Far Eastern shipping interests. They say they have convinced them to accept as standard the American containers.

This would permit intermodal transportation of goods by standardized containers from Rome to Akron to Ankara. Americans expect this to open new export markets for their goods, not only in the Common Market, but in the rest of Europe, but also in the Far East and Latin America.

The standard containers were approved early this year for American industry, either 10, 20, 30 or 40 feet long, 8 feet high and 8 feet wide. In effect the containers are trailers without wheels.

They are fully interchangeable among railroads, trucks and ocean-going vessels.

Domestically, this standardization is counted upon to make a dent in the nation's annual $100-billion cost of transporting, warehousing and distributing consumer and industrial products around the states.

TO SPEND $12 MILLION
The association estimates that the American transportation industry will spend $12 million for the demountable containers this year, compared with $8 million last year.

If the new standards catch on internationally, the changeover to these containers should push total expenditures much higher next year.

American industry has a long-range hope that annual trade outside the Communist bloc will be by $100 billion higher within 10 years. Transportation and shipping experts contend that standard size containers could haul much of this 87 per cent increase in global commerce back to American pocketbooks.

Interchangeability among various sizes of transportation is the big talking point that standard size containers speed handling and transfer, cut the loss from breakage, reduce or eliminate pilferage and lower insurance costs.

Grain Prices Show Firming Tendency

CHICAGO (AP)—Grain future prices showed a tendency toward additional firmness today in fairly active early transactions on the board of trade.

Wheat and soybeans posted gains of major fractions during the first several minutes. All corn months except May moved up small fractions.

Dealers said the support for wheat appeared to be largely short covering but that buying of corn and soybeans probably indicated a good deal of establishment of long positions.

Let Them Study on Own

'Too-Helpful' Mother Holds Back Children

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Dear Dr. Nason: We have four children in the fifth, fourth, third and first grades.

By the time I have checked John's writing; drilled Esther on the alphabet, her numbers, her arithmetic, her reading; checked Tom's work made him correct his careless errors and drilled him on the arithmetic in which he is weak; listened to Ted read social studies and science and quizzed him on those, given him his arithmetic drill and drilled him in spelling, I am pooped!

Actually my evenings just aren't long enough for all this.

Am I complaining about the inevitable? Is all this help from me necessary?

Mrs. P.M.R. Magnolia, N.J.

Answer: You are actually helping, rather than hindering, your children. They must learn to take the responsibility for completing their work.

Hard as it may seem at first, you must turn the game back to your children. You can provide separate places for them to study, if possible, and give them firm, kindly encouragement.

The change-over will be rough on you. The children will seem to flounder, but as adults they will thank you for making them do their own work.

Dear Dr. Nason: Our 11-year-old son has had difficulty during his school years—finishing his work on time. This showed up especially on tests when the teacher really thought he knew the material, but he became keyed up and nervous over the time limit. Maturity has helped but still his written work is not up to ability. The teacher says he is excellent in all oral work but his difficulty is getting it down on paper.

Mrs. L.D.B. Brainfree, Mass.

Answer: Your son can gain speed in writing through a simple exercise. Have him write and rewrite a sentence, filling one or two pages.

At the third writing have him center his attention on writing it easily, and this will actually improve his handwriting.

At about the sixth writing have him commence speeding up while maintaining quality.

A month of practice, 15 minutes a day, will do wonders.

Dear Dr. Nason: My greatest ambition is to be a surgeon, but my parents and teachers agree I have not the brain.

I am 14 years old and in the eighth grade. My grades in school average around 80 per cent. My grades in science are well above average, but my weak point is mathematics (a thing my parents cannot understand).

Do you think I should abandon all hopes of entering the medical profession?

Miss S.P., Westfield, N.J.

Answer: Keep your hopes high. Try to improve your grades, and remedy that weak spot in mathematics. When your grades improve to a point where medical school work is something you can do without strain, your parents and teachers may change their minds.

If your grades do not improve sufficiently you should choose a goal that you can attain with reasonable effort.

Your parents are not being mean or unreasonable. They are trying to protect you from overwork and possible disappointment.

Dr. Nason will welcome your questions. Write him in care of The Pontiac Press.

By OSWALD JACOBY

South took a deep breath and bid five diamonds. He wasn't vulnerable and held a hundred honors so he didn't expect that any great harm would come to him and he was sure that he was sacrificing against a sure heart game.

West doubled and led the queen of hearts. South looked at dummy and saw that he had been wrong on all counts. West almost surely would have made four hearts and South had some sort of play for six diamonds.

Some players would have said, "Maybe we didn't bid enough," but South was more inclined to think that to talk and South saw that five diamonds was in jeopardy.

West had made a vulnerable overcall on a queen high suit and probably would hold all missing high cards. In that case there was no reason to do any finessing at all.

Instead, South played the king of clubs. West took the ace and led a second heart to South to ruff. Now South played his ace of diamonds, led a spade to dummy's ace, ruffed dummy's last heart, played a club back to dummy's jack and led dummy's last club to his own queen.

West was slow dead. If he ruffed he would have to lead a spade or a heart. If he did not ruff South would ruff his last club and throw West in with the king of diamonds to put him in the same losing position.

West passed and your partner bids four clubs. What do you do now?

Pontiff's Body Laid to Rest at St. Peter's

Catholic Church Begins 9 Days of Mourning for Pope

VATICAN CITY (AP)—The great bronze-canopied central altar of St. Peter's Basilica began today a few days of official mourning to bury the body of Pope John XXIII, whose pontificate was removed from the body now lies at rest beneath the world.

Requiem Mass is being said. For two days and a night each day at the Vatican basilica's uninterrupted stream of two mil-

Clipper Is Set for Crossing

MUSKEGON (UPI)—The Milwaukee Clipper will leave here June 21 on its first crossing of Lake Michigan this year.

The ship, which hauls passengers and cars between here and Milwaukee, will be pulled off the lake in favor of the larger and faster Aquarama.

But Milwaukee officials refused to dredge its dock to permit the Aquarama to berth there. The Clipper is being renovated and put back into service as a result.

Behind-Screen Activity Goes On at TV Studios

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer

NEW YORK—Television now has entered its slack season. The vast majority of programs have moved into reruns. Performers are taking off for Europe, mountains, beaches — or more likely — summer stock, the fair circuit or personal appearances.

But the lack of excitement on the small screens of the nation's television sets does not reflect the turbulent activity behind the scenes.

Casting for next season's programs is in progress, and some of them are in production. Packagers are busily seeking to sell programs to networks, for a year hence as well as fall.

Brasselle's Happy Now—Has Autograph Requests

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Keefe Brasselle rushed along Broadway in the rain—all abeam about becoming Gerry Moore's summer CBS TV replacement starting June 25—and especially happy about his first guest star, Carol Channing.

"She broke the ice for me on guests," Keefe said. "Now we've got Zsa Zsa, Barbara Streisand, Tammy Grimes, Teresa Brewer... suddenly everybody wants to do the show."

Keefe's "regular family" in his variety format will include beautiful Noelle Adams, Ann B. Davis, and "Schulzie," and Rocky Graziano.

Zsa Zsa was Zsa Zsa in a taping the other day. At one point when Keefe, who's the star, after all, was rehearsing a song in a corner, Zsa shrieked, "Dollie, I must have absolute kviet vile I am doing my number!" Sitting in Lindy's, Keefe smiled when a waiter asked—the former Elyria, Ohio, boy who got famous in an Eddie Cantor movie—if an autograph.

"This is like old times, having somebody asking for my autograph. Hasn't happened to me in quite a while," he said. "The last time I was on regularly was, gee, three years ago, when I replaced George DeWitt on 'Be Our Guest.' It's just a summer replacement... but at least I'm up at bat again."

grooves to a place near the tomb of Pope Pius XI.
The nine-day mourning period extends through June 17, with two days out for major religious feasts of joy—Trinity Sunday next Sunday and Corpus Christi next Thursday.

TO BRING DIGNITARIES
On the final day of official mourning, June 17, the most solemn of the Requiem will bring presidents, princes and prime ministers to St. Peter's Basilica.
Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson will represent the United States. Bishop Vladimir Kotliarov will be the first Russian Orthodox Church representative at a Pope's requiem since the East-West church split of 1954.
Archbishop Pericle Felici, chosen to say the first mass, was secretary-general of Pope John's Ecumenical Council, which was suspended automatically when the pontiff died last Monday night. The archbishop's role as the Mass celebrant, like his giving of absolution at Pope John's burial, was because of his position as vicar of the canons of St. Peter's Basilica.

One of the coming Masses likely will be offered by the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Loris Capovilla, who is a canon. The Venetian had served the pontiff for 10 years, since his days as cardinal-patriarch of Venice.

Msgr. Capovilla told Thursday how Pope John spoke of fear of a new war as he lay dying. During the service that preceded the Pope's burial, the bereaved secretary stood a few feet from the head of the open coffin, his gaze frozen on the lifeless body.
He bent to kiss the gloved fingers of his beloved pontiff just before the coffin was taken away, then stood with his hand to his face as grief overwhelmed him.

CARDINALS ARRIVING
Cardinals continued to arrive in Rome. There had been 32 at the first daily meetings of the College of Cardinals two days ago. The number was 35 Thursday.
Joseph Cardinal Mindszenty, the 71-year-old Hungarian primate, was not expected, however, a high Catholic source in Budapest said the cardinal apparently has decided to remain in his city's U.S. legation, where he has lived in refuge since the 1956 Hungarian uprising.
An agreement had been reported previously between the Vatican and the Hungarian government by which the Communist regime's restrictions on the church in Hungary would be exchanged for the removal of Cardinal Mindszenty's embarrassing presence from the country.

Waterford Workers to Join UAW Local

Sixteen transmission repair employees at the Buick Waterford, 5200 Williams Lake, Waterford Township, have voted unanimously to join Pontiac Motor Division Local 643, UAW.

The results were announced this morning by Cecil C. Mullinix, president of Local 643, and confirmed by Buick officials.

This caps a two-year drive to organize Buick employees working in Waterford Township, he said.

Heart Doctor Says

"Ride Bikes More"
SAUGUS, Mass. (UPI)—Dr. Paul Dudley White, noted heart specialist, says one way to cut school transportation costs is to have the children ride bicycles.

"Get more youngsters bicycling and we will cut down on the cost of school buses," White told a social club after leading a procession of bicycle riders over a six-mile route to mark the opening of Bicycle Safety Week.

Wild Weather Strikes Hard in South Michigan

Lansing Is Hit Most During Thunderstorms

Communications Cut; Thousands of Dollars Listed in Damages

By The Associated Press
Thunderstorms and high winds last night crippled communications, caused thousands of dollars in damages and flooded streets in Southern Lower Michigan, striking hard at Lansing.

The mopping up and wringing out following the storms will scarcely be completed before most of Michigan is drenched again.

The weather bureau predicted more thunderstorms for all parts of the state today, and still more tomorrow. And the bureau forecast little change Sunday.

Four inches of rain fell on Lansing in four hours. Winds up to 70 miles per hour raked the capital city, damaging telephone and power lines.

The storm knocked out more than 7,700 Lansing telephones, according to provisional estimates of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co.

Sixty additional repairmen were rushed to the area to help restore service, Bell spokesmen said.

20,000 OUT
Bell estimated that almost 20,000 telephones were knocked out of service by the storm. Also hard hit was the company's central area, west and north of Saginaw, where more than 10,000 phones were out of commission, and Taylor Township west of Detroit where more than 1,700 were affected.

No injuries or loss of life was reported to state police.

They said radio communication was hampered during the storm, which started about 7 p.m.

St. Lawrence Hospital at Lansing reported sporadic power failures in equipment, but no sustained loss of electricity.

Edward Sparrow Hospital at Lansing said communications were cut off for a time and the basement was flooded.

The severity of the lightning, rain and winds prompted Gov. George Romney to call state police for a storm report. Romney was entertaining state lawmakers at a country club.

Police said some Lansing streets were flooded to depths of three or four feet.

Storm Damage Hits the Area

Temperatures soared to a season record of 92 degrees yesterday at 3:30 p.m. then suddenly dropped to 78 as a series of thunderstorms erupted, causing damage for the second consecutive day.

Two house fires, the temporary loss of electrical power in five areas and several fallen trees were attributed to the storm.

Cooler temperatures prevailed in the area this morning, but a warming trend is forecast this afternoon with a high of 88 expected. More thunderstorms are predicted this afternoon and through the weekend, and high temperatures are expected to continue.

Fire caused by lightning at the house of Thomas Brennan, 1625 Luneta, Commerce Township, resulted in $8,000 damage to the building and another $2,000 damage to contents.

Another fire, attributed to lightning, caused an estimated $1,000 damage to a vacant house on 69th (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Clash Possible Between Broomfield and Murphy

A clash of political aspirations between two Oakland County Republicans is one of the prospects raised by this week's revision of congressional districts.

Opponents in the possible battle would be Congressman William S. Broomfield and County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy.

They would be competing for the Republican nomination for Congress from the new 19th district containing most of the county, including Pontiac, and all of Livingston County.

The clerk said some time ago he would run from the new 19th District, and yesterday added he would run even if Broomfield also chooses to make his re-election bid in the 19th.

Broomfield said yesterday he would not make his decision until after Congress adjourns this fall.

HAS OPTION
He has the option of staying in the smaller 18th, which contains his Royal Oak home, or seeking his fourth term in the new 19th.

The county-wide 18th was reduced to the county's southeast corner in the plan adopted Wednesday by the State Legislature to make room for the 19th District received by the state after the 1960 census.

The 18th, beginning next year, will include only Troy, the Birmingham-Bloomfield area, Southfield and all south Oakland cities east of Southfield.

Among key factors bearing on Broomfield's decision is that past voting records show the new 19th to be about 60 per cent Republican and the 18th about 56 per cent for the GOP.

Royal Oak Mayor and Republican State Rep. William Hayward said yesterday he would run in the 18th if Broomfield did not. Another mentioned in county GOP circles as a possible candidate is John A. (Jack) Gibbs of Royal Oak, assistant to Republican State Chairman Arthur G. Elliott Jr.

State Solons Call It Quits at Noon Today

Romney, GOP Hall 72nd Session of the Michigan Legislature

LANSING (UPI) — The curtain fell today on a short-run legislative show that Gov. George Romney and Republican lawmakers hailed as the most successful in recent state history.

With scarcely a representative or senator in sight the 72nd session of the Michigan Legislature ended officially at noon.

The work that brought the legislators back to Lansing this week for a four-day meeting had been finished yesterday and today's brief meeting was devoted to the exchange of farewells by the few members present.

Three have been vetoed—one would have changed the criminal law pertaining to breaking and entering; another would have made it possible for the Michigan Employment Security Commission to disqualify firms with less than four employees from the unemployment compensation insurance list and the third would have made firemen eligible for workmen's compensation.

The governor still has four bills to act upon, including the important congressional reapportionment bill which was given final approval only Tuesday.

Yesterday three other measures cleared conference committees to join the redistricting measure as the only bills not yet acted upon by the governor.

Among the important measures approved in the 1963 regular session were revision of the Ford-Canton section of the unemployment compensation law; an aid to dependent children of the unemployed enabling act; Romney-designed appropriation measures; free school bus transportation for parochial and private school pupils in school districts providing similar service for public school pupils; a safety construction code; revision of the state economic development program; and two bills intended to give Michigan an Olympic stadium in which to house the 1968 international athletic games.

News Flash

IN THE WEST WITH KENNEDY (AP) — President Kennedy will meet with British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan for "informal talks" during Kennedy's late-June trip to Europe, the White House announced today.

Final Naval Show Planned for Kennedy

IN THE WEST WITH KENNEDY (AP) — The Navy trundles out its latest land and air weapons today in a final show for President Kennedy before he starts concentrating on politics and civil rights.

Kennedy was to see the Navy's climactic display at the China Lake, Calif., testing station after flying there from the attack carrier Kitty Hawk via the Point Mugu, Calif., missile base.

After China Lake, the next stop on Kennedy's five-day, five-state itinerary was Los Angeles and a Jewish dinner party tonight for the Democratic party contributors in the $1,000 class.

Saturday Kennedy will drop in at a breakfast for lady Democrats in Los Angeles before flying to Honolulu to cap his fast-moving tour with a civil rights address at a conference of American mayors.

The President spent last night aboard the 80,000-ton Kitty Hawk, cruising slowly northward along the California coast at the center of an 18-vessel flotilla.

Before retiring shortly before 10 o'clock, Kennedy walked unannounced and without escort onto the carrier's towering navigation bridge to witness after-dark take-offs and landings.

In late afternoon, Kennedy had watched a spectacular display of Navy sea and air power from the flight deck of the Kitty Hawk. One demonstration after another, including successful rocket firings at speedy aerial drones, went off with flawless precision.

Although the school tax rate was increased from this year's $19.73 levy, the home owner with the same assessed valuation as last year may actually pay less.

Seven Negroes Arrested After Dixie Violence

White Man Victim; Photographer Shot in Back During Battle

By The Associated Press
Seven young Negroes were arrested in Lexington, N.C., today on open charges in the aftermath of a race riot last night that left one white man dead and a newspaper photographer wounded by gunfire.

Lexington city officials went into conference this morning to make plans to check any similar outbreaks of violence in this racially tense furniture manufacturing town of 18,000.

Officers said one of the youths had a home made "zip gun" in his possession when arrested. Another, officers added, had a single load shotgun with him and Johnson was carrying a 22-caliber sawed off rifle.

Meanwhile, police said they were listing the names of all white persons they recognized on the streets last night. When the list is complete, officers said, they will be charged with inciting to riot.

When authorities surveyed damage in the city today, they said it was not as great as first believed.

A plate glass window in a store was broken, several windshields in automobiles were broken, and a Negro church at the corner where the shooting occurred had small holes in a section of stained-glass window.

Police said they found several spent 22-caliber cartridges, including some inside the frame of a white church under construction.

A mob estimated at 2,000 white men gathered on the side of a street bordering the Negro section of Lexington and about 100 Negroes gathered on the other side. Police said the groups beat (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

'Carriers Are Not Trying to Hide From Russian Planes'

EDITOR'S NOTE — Russian bomber flights over U.S. aircraft carriers, seemingly at will, have raised some questions as to the value of the flattop as a weapon. Here is a report by a veteran military affairs writer.

By BEM PRICE

WASHINGTON — The Navy's top airman said today Russian planes and any first rate sea scout could pretty well locate any U.S. aircraft carrier in peace time and the Navy couldn't care less.

But there was one point in the interview Vice Adm. William A. Schoech, deputy chief of naval operations for air, wanted to make quite clear: Anytime the U.S. Navy doesn't want one of its carriers found, nobody finds it. Schoech said he was fed up with people who have concluded that because Russian bombers have flown over U.S. carriers six times in the last year, the carrier is now worthless as a weapon.

In the latest incident six twin-engine medium-range Russian bombers flew over the carrier Ranger 320 miles east of Japan last Tuesday.

"We made no attempt to classify the going and coming of our ships," Schoech said. "We do this deliberately because if we practiced security movements we would be giving the Russians the best possible exercise in coping with us in wartime."

"We do our best," he continued, "not to give away our wartime patterns. There is no danger in going into war when your opponent has all the dope on you."

NO EFFORT MADE
The admiral pointed out that the Ranger was traveling non-stop from Japan to the United States via the northern Great Circle route, that thousands of people in Japan and the United States knew when she was leaving and when she was arriving and that she was making no effort to maintain radio silence.

"Any good sea scout with a plotting board and a radio sitting at home could have located her," the admiral said.

"But," he added, "when we keep our electronic mouths shut, they can't find us."

This business of Russians flying over carriers is all very friendly on the surface, with both sides wagging wings and waving.

Basically, it is one of the deadliest species of nonhosting war that has been invented.

Briefly, it is a form of electronic warfare in which each side tries to determine the efficiency and range of the other's detection devices, the characteristics of the electronic counter-measures and even the counter-counter-measures.

Schoech characterized it as a "cat and mouse game," one in which the United States has declined to play.

Even so, he hinted ever so slightly that it is a game in which the United States is learning far more about the efficiency of Soviet devices than vice versa.

What goes on in this field of electronic warfare is so sensitive to the nation's security that some of the very top people in government have asked that they be kept in ignorance of advance lest they let something slip inadvertently.

In any event, there are certain reporters in this town who know roughly at what range the Navy can detect, track and destroy hostile aircraft — and it is farther than the 100 miles at which Ranger aircraft began "escorting" the Russian bombers.

These reporters know, too, of Navy orders that hostile action on the part of approaching Soviet bombers — evasive action, activation of radar blinding gear, opening of bomb doors — is to be met with hostile action.

On flyovers of the sort practiced free.

Referendum by Dems Unlikely in Districting

Michigan Democrats probably will not call for a popular referendum on the controversial congressional redistricting bill passed by the Republican-controlled State Legislature, The Pontiac Press learned today.

A highly placed source in the Democratic Party said party leaders consider the move impractical and too costly.

He said the party likely will turn to legal action in the Federal courts in their fight against the reapportionment.

The decision to forget about seeking some 138,000 signatures on petitions for a referendum was all but final, according to the source.

A report from Washington this morning said Michigan's Democratic congressional delegation was considering a challenge in the Federal courts after meeting yesterday with Democratic State Chairman Zolton A. Ferency.

The bill, fought all the way along its long journey through legislative procedures by Democrats, reshapes the state's congressional districts to fit in the new 19th district received after the 1960 census.

It would eliminate the at-large seat held by Democrat Neil Stabler. This was created after the legislature and former Gov. John B. Swainson failed to agree on a redistricting last year.

Democratic leaders, though determined to fight the bill, they claim was motivated to benefit the GOP, now feel that a referendum would be too costly in view of the party's $285,000 debt.

A final decision on their course of action is expected at a meeting of state party leaders Monday.

A court suit would contend the population variation in the new districting violates equal voter protection guarantees of the U.S. Constitution.

Trade Picture Aided by Move to Standardize

Will Direct GM Engineers

Oliver K. Kelley, of 288 Woodberry, Bloomfield Hills, has been appointed director of engineering development departments of General Motors engineering staff, it was announced today.

In his new position, Kelley will coordinate activities of development departments such as power development, transmission development, structure and suspension development, vehicle development, vehicle development, and product cost development.

One of the automotive industry's leading specialists in automatic transmission design and development, he was recently honored as one of the 60 outstanding living inventors in Michigan, with 80 automatic transmission patents.

Kelley was chief engineer at Buick Motor Division from 1957 to 1959, when he became technical assistant to the head of GM's defense activities. In 1961 he was named engineer in charge of program development for Engineering Staff. He joined GM in 1927.

NEW YORK — Americans are looking for a big step forward in cutting costs while increasing their international trade.

A move toward standardization is a bright spot in the recent sea of troubles in which U.S. tariff-cutting policies have been challenged by the European Community.

Among the worries set off by this has been an intensifying of the always present threat of a trade war.

The American Standards Association says a global standard for American containers is due to be adopted this year by the International Organization for Standardization.

The standard containers were approved early this year for American industry. They are van containers, either 18, 20, 30 or 40 feet long, 8 feet high and 8 feet wide. In effect the containers are trailers without wheels.

They are fully interchangeable among railroads, trucks and ocean-going vessels.

Domestically, this standardization is counted upon to make a dent in the nation's annual $100-billion cost of transporting, warehousing and distributing consumer and industrial products around the country.

TO SPEND $12 MILLION

The association estimates that the American transportation industry will spend $12 million for the demountable containers this year, compared with $8 million last year.

If the new standards catch on internationally, the changeover to these containers should push total expenditures much higher next year.

American industry has a long-range hope that annual trade outside the Communist bloc will be by $100 billion higher within 10 years. Transportation and shipping experts contend that standard size containers could haul much of this $7 per cent increase in global commerce back to American pocketbooks.

Interchangeability among various means of transportation is the big talking point. But others are in favor of speed handling and transfer, cut the loss from breakage, reduce or eliminate pilferage and lower insurance costs.

Q "I am 80 years old and have shares in General Electric American Cyanamid, and Cities Service. I have some money. I am considering life insurance. What is your opinion? I cannot afford any risk."

A Since your letter — which I cannot print in full — seems eminently practical, I'm going to give you an equally frank answer.

I do not believe that life insurance stocks should be bought for investment unless they can be held for a period of time — at least five to ten years. These issues are rarely cheap, and the buyer should be able to wait patiently until value builds up behind them, as it usually has in the past.

In general, I do not believe that life insurance stock is a suitable investment for a man of your years. In its place, I suggest Montana Power, a strong utility yielding about three per cent.

Mr. Spear cannot answer all questions but will answer all questions possible in his column.

Expect Administration Men Next Week

Officials to Testify in Pesticide Hearings

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Administration officials are expected to testify next week on legislation aimed at tightening controls over use of pest-killing chemicals.

The Senate Commerce Committee called off a scheduled session today at which Secretary Stewart L. Udall and presidential science adviser Jerome B. Wiesner were to testify. They probably will appear next week.

Author-biologist Rachel Carson, whose best seller "Silent Spring" touched off a national controversy over pesticides, told the committee yesterday that more research on "environmental health" is needed because too little is known about the possible harmful effects of pesticides and herbicides on all forms of life.

Wiesner told a Senate government operations subcommittee recently that broader research was needed on the potential dangers of such chemicals.

Miss Carson, a former government marine biologist, said fish and other marine life magnify the amounts of chemical poisons they take in as the substances pass through the food chain of nature.

Such minute underwater life as algae and plankton is consumed by small fish which are eaten by larger fish and so on.

The processes of each digestion increase the presence of some chemicals.

Unemployment Hits High Spot Since War

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Fast-mounting teen-age unemployment stood at a postwar peak today and Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz warned it might become one of the most "explosive" social problems in U.S. history.

The jobs rate among youths under 21 climbed to nearly 18 per cent in May to surpass previous recession levels in 1952 and reach its highest point since 1940.

This helped to push up the national unemployment rate to 4.8 per cent of the labor force — a rise of .3 from April after allowance for the usual seasonal trends.

New government figures released yesterday showed 4,066,000 Americans looked for jobs and could not find them in May. This figure held steady although the normal 1/2 drop by 200,000 or more at this time of year.

Employment rose by 850,000 in May to 69,061,000.

But the spurt in teen-age joblessness — an increase of 300,000 to 1.2 million last month — was regarded by Wirtz as the critical area of concern.

One out of every four in the jobs Americans is a teenager.

Manpower expert Harold Goldstein explained that the size of the teen labor force was swollen because the "war babies" born during or immediately after World War II now were grown up and seeking work.

This increase occurs at a time when new technology in industry is reducing the number of openings for youths who do not possess special skills, he said.

Wirtz called for broader training programs, improved schooling to cut the dropout rate and an end to racial discrimination to drive down the number of the teen-age jobless.

Portugal, Africans Ready to Confer

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — Portugal is ready to meet representatives of African governments, both here and in Africa, to discuss with them a dynamic plan of development in Africa, Foreign Minister Alberto Franco Nogueira told a news conference Thursday.

This was the first public indication that the Salazar government was prepared to meet African leaders who in their Addis Ababa conference called for a fight against all colonialism in Africa.
