

$9,992.59—That's Compensation!

A Pontiac Motor Division worker, laid off due to the steel strike, walked out of the Michigan Employment Security Commission office yesterday nearly $10,000 richer—or at least it looked like it on paper.

LaVern D. Morris, a differential inspector, had in his pocket an unemployment compensation check for $9,992.59—about $9,906 more than he was supposed to draw.

Morris, 2379 Archdale St., Union Lake, gets $86 compensation every two weeks for himself, his wife and their two children.

Morris said he didn't notice the amount listed on the check when he received it. Apparently the state clerk who issued the payment didn't check it either.

It was later yesterday, while standing in the supplementary unemployment compensation line at work, that Morris first saw the amount on the check.

He had to return to the MESC's Oakland avenue office, draw a new check—for $86 this time—and return to Pontiac Motor to file for his sub-benefits.

Paul Kimball, branch manager for the MESC, was puzzled over the error briefly. Then it was recalled that the account number assigned to Pontiac Motor by the state is 999259.

This numeral is inserted in the upper right hand corner of checks issued to Pontiac Motor employees. In Morris' case, however, the account number and the amount of his compensation—$86—were reversed.

"We write about 1,000 checks a day on our check-writing machines," said Kimball. "We're bound to make an error now and then, but rarely one like this."

Shorr Fired by WXYZ Over Payola; DJ Toll 4

DETROIT (AP)—The jobless among Detroit's disc jockey fraternity climbed to four in a week yesterday with the firing of Mickey Shorr of radio station WXYZ.

A favorite of teen-agers, Shorr said he was given the option of quitting or being fired.

"I refused to resign," said the 33-year-old record spinner. "I didn't feel I had done anything wrong."

Shorr said he did not receive payola—money or gifts to plug certain songs on his show.

The station issued a 13-word statement and declined further comment.

"WXYZ today (Thursday) exercised its right to terminate the employment of Mickey Shorr," said the statement issued by Hal (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

Psst, Wanna Make a Fast Buck, Buddy?

This nation is full of schemers and gypers eager to prove that there's a sucker born every minute.

Every year countless Americans are bilked out of millions of dollars falling for the bait offered by unscrupulous swindlers.

In a series of five articles beginning Monday in The Press, many of these rackets will be discussed and exposed at length.

"I LOVE ALAN"
One girl, wearing a hat inscribed, "I Love Alan," broke down and wept hysterically during the show. Freed embraced her and wiped away the tears.

At one point Freed, who is 38 years old, told his audience: "I'll be back on the air soon. I've done nothing wrong. The people I dig the most are you. We know we are more adult than adults."

In another development, Don Anthony, singer and record manufacturer, says he gave Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan two canceled checks as evidence he distributed payola to disc jockeys.

Anthony, 31, questioned Friday at Hogan's office, said later he paid about $5,000 to out-of-town disc jockeys to plug his records four years ago.

He said he had not made any payoffs in New York.

Also questioned was Scott Muni, a disc jockey for radio station WMCA and first vice president of the Disc Jockey Assn., Inc., which claims 200 members.

Upon leaving Hogan's office, Muni told newsmen he never had taken payments to plug records over WMCA. "In New York I've never been offered money," Muni said.

GM Calls Back 25,500 Men for Chevrolet

Will Bring Nine Plants to Near Full Strength; Chrysler Laying Off

DETROIT (UPI)—General Motors will recall 25,500 more workers Monday and Tuesday to Chevrolet plants, the company said yesterday.

Chevrolet already called back 5,000 of 63,000 workers in 33 plants idled by steel shortages.

Chrysler with 23,430 laid off as of yesterday, will shut down its seven assembly plants by Dec. 2, idling 15,000 more.

But Chrysler will start recalling some workers later and hopes to resume assembly operations around Dec. 9.

The GM recall will bring nine manufacturing plants back to almost full employment.

These were the Flint engine and manufacturing plants, Saginaw transmission and foundry plants, Bay City small parts, Toledo and Cleveland transmission, Indianapolis stamping and Muncie, Ind. transmission and forging.

Captain Terms Lakes Trip Worst in 40 Years

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., (AP)—A weather beaten Great Lakes captain steamed his ice-covered tanker into port yesterday and said his voyage through Lake Huron was one of the worst in 40 years.

Capt. Sid Williamson said his vessel battled 50 mile per hour winds on her final trip of the year.

So covered with ice were the decks of the Eastern Shell that crews had to hose them with steam before they could discharge cargo. The entire superstructure also was ice shrouded.

Coast Guard officials at the Michigan Soo said shipping will continue through the St. Marys river until weather forces a halt.

Tecumseh GI Held in Shooting

John Barton Grieves Over Accidental Death of Sentry Companion

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Marine Pvt. John C. Barton, of Tecumseh, Mich., was held in custody over the weekend while his officers investigate the fatal shooting Friday of a companion sentry in a 3:30 a.m. fast-draw contest.

The inquiry was opened soon after Pvt. Niels Hagerman, 20, Danville, Ill., died before he could be taken by ambulance to the Hunters Point Naval Shipyard Hospital.

Barton, 19, telephoned immediately for an ambulance after his 45 automatic discharged only 2½ feet from Hagerman in the sentry box where both were on duty.

"I can imagine how it happened," said Maj. Milton Cooper, commander of the Marine detachment.

"The boys were bored with nothing to do that time of morning. It was stupid, but that's hindsight, and I don't want to emphasize that. I don't want to see Barton broken down any more. He's taking it very hard."

"There seems to be no question that this was accidental, as Barton said," Cooper continued.

Roberts Thinks It's 'Probable' Solution

Payroll Levy in Spotlight

Attention was focused on the payroll-tax today as lawmakers nursed new hopes of getting Michigan's tax squabble settled.

Earlier endorsed by Republican Paul D. Bagwell and pronounced acceptable by Gov. Williams, it got another boost yesterday from House tax compromisers.

Reps. Farrell E. Roberts (R-West Bloomfield) and John T. Bowman (D-Roseville), cochairmen, said it looked, at the moment, like one of two possible solutions.

They are the latest legislators to get starting roles under the platoon system being deployed in the struggle to break Michigan's tax deadlock.

The other solution, they agreed, was the Republican Senate 73½ million dollar nuisance tax package now in disfavor with many senators who pledged their support before finding out in detail what it involved.

Bowman called the 1 per cent payroll levy "less objectionable" and Roberts a "more probable" solution. They said the income tax and corporation profits levies were not discussed.

Revenue Department experts were instructed to perfect an existing draft of the payroll bill and have it ready for possible introduction Tuesday.

'AN INCOME TAX'

Roberts said he and a majority of the GOP House caucus opposed the tax "because it, in effect, is an income tax."

Besides wage earners, the tax would hit farmers, doctors, lawyers, unincorporated merchants and other self-employed persons. Some strong opposition was certain to develop from this quarter.

To produce the estimated revenue yield of 168 million dollars a year it would have to fall on better than 2,500,000 taxpayers, assuming the rate of 1 per cent and exemption of the first $35 a week of earned income.

A newsman recalled Sen. Frank D. Beale of St. Clair, Senate majority leader, said last Tuesday night the GOP caucus had turned thumbs down on the payroll tax.

'DOOR OPEN'

But Bowman said: "The door is open. I don't think the Senate leadership has closed the door. I certainly hope not." At the same time, he admitted "the Senate caucus has been the stumbling block to all solutions right along, and the key probably lies in the Senate."

They displayed a rare—at least for the Legislature of late—compromising spirit when they met to plan for a Monday session of an eight-member bipartisan negotiating committee.

"There's not a hardhead on the committee," said Bowman, who (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Board Bomber Given 3 Years

Also Assessed $500 on His Conviction in Little Rock Incident

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A segregationist leader charged with bombing the Little Rock School Board office was convicted early today and his punishment set at three years in prison and a $500 fine.

E. A. Lauderdale, a stocky, 48-year-old lumber dealer—named by others charged in the case as ring-leader of a bomb plot—stood grim faced as the verdict was read.

Then he sat down and nonchalantly leaned back in his chair as the courtroom crowd of about 200 remained silent.

In the crowd were several prominent segregationists who earlier had heard Lauderdale's attorney picture him as "the symbol and representative of those who believe in segregation."

The Circuit Court jury of nine men and three women deliberated an hour and a half.

LABOR DAY BLASTS

Besides the school board, the business office of Mayor Werner Knopp and a station wagon at the home of Fire Chief Gann Nalley were dynamited.

The blasts occurred within minutes of each other shortly before midnight on Labor Day.

Judge William J. Kirby allowed Lauderdale's attorneys 30 days in which to seek a new trial, and the defendant remained free in $50,000 bond.

The attorneys did not say immediately whether they would ask for another trial.

Lauderdale was the third man convicted in the bombings. Two others, Jesse Raymond, 24, a truck driver, and John Taylor Coggins, 39, a car salesman, drew three-year sentences. Another man, J. D. Sims, a truck driver, pleaded guilty to the school board bombing and got five years.

Marine Held in India Garage by Red Chinese

Sergeant Later Freed; State Department Says Case Is Puzzling

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States protested today against the kidnaping of a U. S. Marine sergeant by Chinese Communists in Bombay, India.

The action came while State Department officials sought more information on the case.

The Marine, Sgt. Robert Armstrong, 31, Martinez, Calif., was held for about six hours yesterday in the garage of the Chinese Communist consulate in Bombay, India. He was released after Bombay police intervened to obtain his freedom.

A State Department spokesman said full information is being sought on the puzzling case which also involves a Chinese Communist defector who did not defect.

In New Delhi, the United States accused the Chinese Communists of "high-handed violation of personal rights."

SENDS PROTEST NOTE

The U. S. Embassy handed a note to the Indian government "strongly protesting against the illegal and improper actions of representatives of the Communist Chinese in Bombay," an embassy spokesman said.

The U. S. consulate general charged Armstrong was pulled from a taxi in which he was riding with the Chinese citizen, dragged into the consulate grounds, bound and beaten.

The Free Press Journal said the taxi driver told police he witnessed a scuffle between Armstrong and his Chinese captors in the consulate grounds.

U. S. Consul William Turner declined further comment on the case and kept Armstrong away from reporters.

CHANGES MIND

Armstrong had been given charge of the Communist citizen, who, the Americans said, wanted U. S. asylum but later changed his mind and returned to the Red Chinese consulate general.

The U. S. protest said "the actions of the Communist Chinese constitute a high-handed violation of the personal rights of a United States citizen."

Relatives Stunned by $5 Million

DETROIT (AP)—A treasure of stocks and bonds has been uncovered by investigators probing the estate of an elderly bachelor.

They said the holdings may be worth five million dollars.

No will was with the effects in Peter Patterson's apartment when he died at 90 last week.

Deputy treasurer Peter Posato and a court-appointed administrator, Harry M. Prevo, opened Patterson's safety deposit vault yesterday. They found two wills plus:

1. Government and municipal bonds, worth $2,381,000.

2. Life insurance valued at $30,000.

3. A total of 38,876 shares of stock in 32 companies.

Patterson owned a mortgage company and a construction firm. He also was founder of an insurance company.

The wills in the vault were dated 1932 and 1931. One awarded a little money to local people and charities, Prevo said. He said Patterson's closest relatives were nine nephews and nieces in Ohio.

In Parma, Ohio, a Cleveland suburb, two residents last night said they are among the relatives of Patterson. They are Raymond J. Patterson, 63, and Mrs. John J. Satwo.

Patterson said he knew about the discovery, but Mrs. Satwo said she was stunned.

"I don't know too much about it yet," said Patterson. "I guess I will eventually but I don't worry too much about things. You might say we're a relaxed family."

The other seven nephews and nieces live in Wellsville and Alliance, Ohio.

States citizen in a friendly country.

The Chinese Communists have not made public their version of the case but were said to have given a preliminary account to the Indian government Friday.

The Bombay state government was reported to have submitted a preliminary report of its own to new Delhi.

The central government advised state authorities to refrain from issuing any statements until the Red Chinese version is received.

In Los Angeles, Armstrong's father said "they must have really ganged up" on his son.

'COULD LICK IT'

Lewis S. Armstrong said Friday that his Marine son usually would be able "to lick any 10 of them."

"I am surprised the Chinese were able to hold on to him," the father said.

The father described his son as "a Marine from the ground up" and said he has a chestful of ribbons, including the Purple Heart.

The elder Armstrong, an appraiser for the Federal Small Business Administration, said his son has been in the Marines since 1944, except for a period when he attended the University of California.

Robert holds a degree in political science.

WHY GET OUT?

One of the mysteries of the affair as far as the State Department is concerned was why the Chinese changed his mind.

Another is the question of why Armstrong, having returned to Bombay in the same taxi, got out with Chang in front of the Chinese consulate.

On the latter question, the dispatch from Bombay said that Armstrong thought Chang had a tape recording of statements which the Chinese had made about his desire to defect and Armstrong was trying to recover the recording.

Whether Chang had really intended to defect or whether there was some kind of Chinese Communist trick involved in the whole operation were questions which the State Department was unable to answer.

London Rebuilds Little by Little

But Architects Shudder at Buildings Replacing War Rubble

LONDON (UPI) — The Germans bombed London in a haphazard, piecemeal way.

Planes, buzz bombs and V-2 rockets indiscriminately peppered the sprawling city with destruction. London is being rebuilt in the same way—haphazardly and piece by piece.

Architects shudder at many of the new buildings. Civic planners are appalled. Buildings are springing up with no overall plan and in architectural styles that defy description.

The rate of construction in London today is greater than at any time since the war. And the job is far from finished.

London's ordeal began Sept. 7, 1940. On that Saturday the German Luftwaffe set out to destroy what was then the biggest city in the world. The attacks came almost daily until May 11, 1941. Later in the war, pilotless V-1 and V-2 weapons renewed the destruction.

The Germans failed to crush London, but the damage was tremendous.

Fire took a greater toll than high explosives. One incendiary attack started a fire which gutted an area a quarter of a mile square in the heart of London. Firefighters often had no choice but to let fires burn themselves out.

Reconstruction has been going on for 15 years, but even today ruins can be found in almost every section of the metropolis. Bomb-sites gape in the busiest of business sections. Yet, the amount of rebuilding has been staggering.

In all of Britain, 3,245,676 new houses and apartments have been built since the war, and a big chunk of them are in London. New office buildings have risen, too, in every part of the city.

Nearly all the new buildings are variations of the box. Critics deplore their lack of originality, of experiment, of esthetic solutions to architectural problems.

Diverse building codes, traditional British conservatism, the materials and money—all these need for haste, the scarcity of have contributed to an architectural style which some call "ancient modern" and other "conservative contemporary."

There has been little or no civic planning. The concept of residential areas integrated with shopping centers and playgrounds has been neglected.

Detective Says: Mass Poisoning

Find Arsenic Mixed in Civic Workers' Coffee at Seattle

SEATTLE, Wash. (UPI) — Chief detective Vic Kramer said today that arsenic found mixed in coffee in an employees' lunchroom at the city-county building was a "cold-blooded attempt at mass poisoning."

The arsenic was found after eight staff members of the City Planning Commission became ill last Monday. The results of police laboratory tests revealed they had drunk coffee laced with the poison.

A search of the lunchroom on the eighth floor of the building disclosed arsenic in a two-pound tin of drip-grind coffee, and more arsenic in a jar of instant coffee.

"This was no accident," Kramer said. "It was deliberate."

The room is used by employees for coffee breaks and during the noon hour for those who pack lunches. Planning commission and engineering department staff members are the chief users, but other employees also have access to the room.

called Roberts "a nice guy to work with."

They also see a need to set a compromising tone to muffle vituperation from both parties in the latest impasse.

The big question was in the Senate, where Republicans are bound by caucus order to try for passage of a 73-million-dollar package of "nuisance" taxes. But the caucus has changed directions before.

The Day in Birmingham 18 New Buses Are Ready for Introduction Here

BIRMINGHAM — The Great Lakes Transit Corp. has officially informed the city that 18 new buses will be put into operation within the next few days.

Built by General Motors Truck and Coach Division, they are valued at $500,000.

The new coaches feature bright aluminum siding, wide use of window space, new heating and ventilating systems and new decorator styled interiors.

The vehicles are powered by the V-6 diesel type engine, according to Glen G. Crawford, a supervisor for Great Lakes, they are more efficient and quieter than those now in use, he said.

Col. Herbert F. Layle, a member of State Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, was honored on his retirement from the Michigan National Guard by fellow officers at a dinner at the Roosevelt Hotel in Lansing.

Practiced It 100 Times, Then Did It Wrong

'Goofed Up' His Parachute Jump

DAYTON, Ohio (U)—Capt. Joe Kittinger said Friday he "goofed up" when he stepped out of a balloon gondola 14 miles above the earth to make his record-breaking parachute jump over the White Sands Proving Grounds in New Mexico Nov. 16.

"I had some trouble getting out of the gondola—I put the cart before the horse," the ruddy-complexioned redhead said here Friday.

"The gondola has an extremely small door, and suddenly I found my body outside with my arms still inside. I had to go back in to bring my arm out, and that threw the timing off."

As a result, the drag-chute—a device to keep the jumper from spinning through space—opened too soon.

"If should have opened 11 seconds after I bailed out," Capt. Kittinger said. "Instead, it opened after only 2½ seconds and my velocity at that point wasn't enough to keep it from fouling."

With the drag-chute useless, Capt. Kittinger found himself whirling violently through space. He isn't sure yet how fast but it is estimated at 80 revolutions per minute.

DIDN'T GRAY OUT

He said that on no occasion during the 76,400 foot descent did he lose consciousness or even "gray out"—that is, come close to unconsciousness.

He was able to bring his descent under control by positioning his feet in various ways familiar to veteran jumpers like himself. (The record-breaker was Capt. Kittinger's 41st jump).

How did he feel when the first step in the carefully-planned descent failed?

"I can say I was apprehensive," the soft-spoken 31-year-old jet pilot said.

"I felt dismayed that I had goofed up. We knew the drag chute wouldn't work if my velocity was great enough, and I practiced the

Talks on Aging at MSU

State Hospital Citizens Group Meets Tuesday

Morris Bruck, chief psychologist of Pontiac State Hospital, will be the key speaker at 8:15 p.m. Tuesday before a meeting of the Oakland County Citizens' Committee for Pontiac State Hospital.

His topic will be "What Is a Psychologist—What Does He Do?" Proposed changes will be considered in a revision to the bylaws during the business meeting.

The committee is donating $50 in cash prizes to be given to winners at a patients' bingo session 7:30 p.m. Thursday.

Volunteers are needed to help patients play the game and to give out the money prizes. Workers should meet in the lobby.

Goals Commission Chairmen Selected

WASHINGTON (U)—Administration sources said Friday two men have been selected to head President Eisenhower's proposed National Goals Commission, but official announcement is being withheld pending adequate pledges for private financing.

Arthur F. Burns, former chairman of Eisenhower's Council of now head of the National Bureau Economic Advisers (1953-56) and of Economic Research in New York, is said to have been tabbed as commission chairman.

Frank Pace Jr., former budget director and secretary of the Army in the Truman administration and now president of General Dynamics Corp. of New York, is reported willing to take the vice chairmanship.

Eisenhower announced plans for the commission in a message to Congress last January. He said he would name experts in many walks of life to chart long-term goals for the nation.

Army Reports Machine That Sees in Dark

FORT DEVENS, Mass. (U)—The Army Friday reported successful testing this week of equipment that can see in the dark.

In the demonstration the Army parked a three-quarter ton GI truck on the range area of this post about 600 yards from the electronic equipment.

The Army reported that although total darkness prevailed, the equipment was able to "see" the truck, as well as other terrain features.

The instrument is described as using highly sensitive electronic vision equipment, somewhat similar to television transmitting and receiving equipment.

Scientist-Priest Talks on God

Says There is a Creator in Speech Noting 100th Darwin Year

CHICAGO (AP) — A priest-scientist told scholars today that God is the creator of man — and the creator of the elements of evolution as well.

The Rev. J. Franklin Ewing, anthropologist from Fordham University took for granted the scientific validity of the theory of evolution.

"God is the creator of man, body and soul. Whether he used the method of evolution for preparation of the human body, or created it from unorganized matter is not of primary importance. In either case, he is the Creator," he added.

The Jesuit priest said that, even if God used a body that already had been formed, he raised that body to the human level and gave it a soul.

"God is continually creating his creatures," he said. "If he were to withdraw his creative power for a second from you and me and the worm and the elephant, all would disappear into nothingness. This means that God created not only all beings but also all potentialities for evolution."

Father Ewing spoke at the five-day meeting of scientists and scholars observing the 100th anniversary of the publication of Charles Darwin's "Origin of the Species" — a theory of the gradual development or evolution of plants and creatures.

Deer Hunting Fatal in State Now Seven

By The Associated Press
Thomas Kettunen, 35, of Trout Creek, was wounded fatally Friday, bringing to seven the number of Michigan deer hunters shot to death since the season opened Nov. 15.

State Police said Kettunen was struck in the back by a bullet fired by his brother William, 42, who told officers he had aimed at a deer. The accident occurred in Ionia County about eight miles away from Trout Creek in the Upper Peninsula's Ontonagon County.

A 14-year-old Ann Arbor boy also was a victim of a fatal hunting accident Friday. Orle Curtis was shot while small-game hunting about two miles north of Ann Arbor.

Washtenaw County sheriff's deputies said Curtis was struck in the head when his cousin, Harold A. Haas, 22, of Ann Arbor, accidentally fired a double-barrel shotgun while loading it.

SLEZAK AT MET — Rudolf Bing, left, general manager of the Metropolitan Opera House in New York City, looks over some of the medals on the costume of Broadway star Walter Slezak after the latter's Met debut in a special performance of Strauss' "Gypsy Baron" Thursday night. Slezak had the role of Szupan.

First Time in Four Years State Traffic Toll Will Rise

LANSING (AP) — Michigan has lost the battle to cut its traffic fatality toll for a fourth straight year in 1959, a state police statistician indicated today.

The state's road death toll was 2,904 in 1959. An all-out traffic safety campaign pushed the figure down to 1,747 in 1956. The count dropped to 1,537 in 1957 and to 1,375 last year.

But, with five weeks of dangerous driving conditions remaining, the provisional death toll for 1959 is 1,274.

This means 101 more deaths will tie the 1958 count. And, the average death toll for December alone in the past five years is 170.

"There's no question in my mind that we will go over the 1958 total," said O. M. Lucas, state police traffic safety statistician. "We've still got December ahead of us and that is normally one of the worst months for traffic accidents."

"To stay even with last year, we'd have to keep traffic deaths under 100 between now and the end of the year but we won't come up with that figure," he added.

Lucas attributed the unwelcome reversal in the road death trend to "more cars, more drivers and more mileage." He noted that an October traffic survey indicated total mileage racked up by the state's drivers was running five per cent ahead of 1958.

Christmas Mail May Go by Air
CAB Proposing Half Rate but Railroads Are Objecting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ordinary mail would go by air during the Christmas rush under a Civil Aeronautics Board proposal.

The Post Office Department wants to do this, but the railroads have opposed the idea. The CAB Friday gave interested parties until Dec. 3 to file notice of objection.

The CAB proposed a rate about half of that paid the airlines for airmail, or about 19 cents a ton-mile.

The airlines had agreed to this rate for December, but indicated they would want a higher rate if they continue to carry ordinary first-class mail.

The Post Office agreed, saying it wants to establish a permanent rate in hearings. The Post Office had told the CAB the Christmas load would be heavier than ever and it wanted to utilize unused cargo space of airlines for first-class mail.

Nikita Due in Budapest for Hungarian Congress
BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — Nikita S. Khrushchev will come to Budapest for the Hungarian Communist Party Congress, the first since the 1956 uprising, the Soviet Embassy here said. The Congress opens Monday.

The spokesmen gave no indication when the much traveled Soviet premier will arrive but informed sources said he is expected to fly in Sunday afternoon. The Congress, the Party's seventh, is expected to last four days. The main item on the agenda is a new five-year plan aimed at increasing industrial production 65 to 70 per cent by 1965.

St. Louis Pastor to Visit Refugees on Christmas

NEW YORK (AP) — The Rev. Dr. Edwin T. Dahlberg of St. Louis, president of the National Council of Churches, will spend the Christmas season with the armed services in the Far Pacific.

After Christmas Dr. Dahlberg will visit refugee centers in Asia and the Middle East in a month-long journey by air which will take him around the world. He will visit church-supported refugee centers in Hong Kong, India, Pakistan and Jordan.

Dr. Dahlberg will spend Christmas Day in Okinawa and will preach at a special service which will broadcast throughout the Far Pacific via the armed forces network.

The council head spent Christmas 1958 with the armed services in Spain and North Africa and Christmas 1957 in Alaska. The council is composed of 33 Protestant and Orthodox denominations.

RISK IT!
The ancient who squeezed a red berry, stained his fingers, risked his life to give pretty red lips to his sister, mother and grandma. A sailor risked his life to find India by sailing West; he gave us Los Angeles, oil wells and smog. A dreamer thought he could sail under polar ice; he risked his life to vindicate his contention. Boys look into the eyes of pretty girls and ask, "Will you marry me?" Those girls risk poverty and heartache, balance love and happiness against that risk, slip a ring on their fingers.

Risk is inherent to progress. Someone risked capital to build the house next door; commercial air lines risked bankruptcy to save us time, railroads crossed rivers, plains and mountains; that risk built America. We risk investment capital to build industry, cities with schools and churches; risk and America are synonymous.

But $70 Million Scheme May Doll It Up

London Tower Isn't 'Falling Down'

LONDON (AP)—A 70-million-dollar scheme to provide a more stately setting for the Tower of London, one of this capital's most spectacular attractions, was announced today.

Actually the historic landmark overlooking the Thames River is a cluster of about a dozen towers—and one of the proposals is to build still another tower 16 stories high.

The plan was announced by designers of two municipal bodies, the corporation of the old city of London, in which the tower is situated, and the London County Council.

The idea is to make the tower where the crown jewels are housed and scarlet-robed beefeater perform their ceremonial duties, more accessible to tourists.

About a million visitors stroll through the 50 acres of its grounds every year, but the planners believe it could become an even greater tourist attraction.

The scheme is designed to make it easier for pedestrians to reach the tower by closing several busy streets in the vicinity and barring automobiles from them.

Wide ramps would prove an easy approach to Tower Hill. Terraces and gardens would give new back-grounds for the tower itself as well as for the monuments of Trinity Square, the Customs House and All Hallows Church. There is extensive provision for playgrounds, high quality office buildings and shops.

Sir Isaac Hayward, leader of the London County Council, estimated the cost for acquiring the necessary property will, alone, be about five million pounds (14 million dollars). The whole scheme, including private investment, would be in the neighborhood of 25 million pounds (70 million dollars), he said.

B. G. Arthur, chairman of a city planning committee, said construction could start in two or three years.

Detroit Firm to Entertain Science Group

Some 40 members of the Oakland County Science Teachers Assn. Wednesday will be feted by the Carboly Co. of Detroit, a metallurgy division of the General Electric Co.

The event is the association's third anniversary.

The teachers, representing science departments in school systems throughout the county, will watch the company's powder metallurgy process, use of equipment and facilities.

The hosts will provide dinner for the visiting teachers.

"The purpose of our organization," said Walter Ainsworth, president of the association and teacher at Pontiac Central High School, "is to keep abreast of progress in science in industry and research."

"Teachers understand their subjects better and can augment text books with lectures from their own experiences."

Legislation for Migrants?

Senator Says Officials Feel Federal Action Is the Answer

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Harrison A. Williams (D-NJ) said Friday there is a strong feeling among state and local officials that federal legislation is needed to solve problems posed by the nation's legions of migrant workers.

Williams is chairman of the Senate subcommittee on migratory labor which plans to visit New Jersey Monday, and New York and Pennsylvania the following week.

In those states already toured by the subcommittee, he said, state and local officials were "very much concerned" but unable to cope with some of the migrant labor problems.

"Because the migratory workers are continually moving from state to state, it is difficult for county and state officials to do very much in certain areas," Williams said.

HEARINGS, INSPECTIONS
Texas and California lead the states in employment of migrant labor, but New Jersey, New York and Michigan also are described as "heavy users."

The subcommittee's past schedule has included both public hearings and inspections of migrant labor facilities.

The subcommittee estimates that about one million persons are on the move in 23 states helping to tend and harvest crops.

The existence of such a large mobile army of workers has posed problems of housing and education which have baffled states and local communities for many years.

The group has held hearings and conducted inspections in Washington, D.C.; Wisconsin, Michigan and Minnesota.
