Mackie to Meet City Delegation on Road Plans

Group to Ask Him Why Pontiac Was Left Out of 5-Year Program

Pontiac representatives will meet with State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie Wednesday to urge construction of a new Pontiac expressway.

Mackie has agreed to a meeting in his Lansing office to discuss the absence of super-highway leading to and from Pontiac in his highway plans for the next five years.

The appointment, at 2 p.m. Wednesday, was confirmed today by John Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Hirlinger said he would attend the meeting along with the chamber's first vice president, John A. Riley. Also asked to attend are:

Mayor William W. Donaldson, City Manager Walter K. Willman; Delos Hamlin, chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors; Willis M. Brewer, Pontiac branch manager of the Secretary of State's Office and George N. Scrubb, director of the Oakland County Planning Commission.

★ ★ ★

In Mackie's five-year highway plan, Hirlinger noted, all Michigan cities of more than 50,000 population have been promised superhighways, with the exception of Pontiac and Royal Oak.

Hoffa's Homecoming

Rigged Election Also Charged by Same Group

New Union Chief Gets Big Welcome in Detroit, Predicts 'Trouble'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Attorneys for a rank-and-file Teamsters Union group said they intended to apply for a federal court order later today barring James R. Hoffa from taking office as Teamsters president.

The law firm of Dodd, Kaplan and Schmidt said it will seek the order this afternoon from Federal District Court Judge F. Dickinson Letts.

The firm represents a 13-man Teamsters member group from New York City which has a suit pending challenging validity of the recent Teamsters Union convention at Miami Beach, Fla., on grounds delegates were illegally handpicked to rig the union elections for Hoffa.

Hoffa and a slate of candidates were overwhelmingly elected as new officers at the convention.

Hoffa is sue to take over the union presidency from Dave Beck, who has said he will resign anytime Hoffa wants to assume the helm of the scandal-rocked union.

FORGOT CONSTITUTION

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) chairman of the investigating committee, said earlier that Beck enabled Hoffa to win the Miami election by dictating disregard of the union's constitution.

The senator said records of the convention's Credentials Committee "reveal some situations which are just plain scandalous."

The law firm handling the rank-and-file members' lawsuit said that besides asking Letts this afternoon for an order barring Hoffa from taking over, it will ask the

Shepherd Guilty in Wife's Death

But Verdict Is Second Degree Instead of Original Charge

James D. Shepherd, 36-year-old Birmingham man who admittedly stabbed his wife to death, was found guilty of second-degree murder today by Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Shepherd, who had waived a jury trial and at the last moment withdrew a plea of temporary insanity, will be sentenced Oct. 29. Second-degree murder calls for imprisonment for any amount of time up to and including life.

Judge Adams ruled out first-degree murder, holding that there was reasonable doubt that Shepherd had acted with deliberation and malice in stabbing his wife, Elizabeth, 42. The slaying took place at their home, 1509 Pierce St. on May 27.

While giving weight to evidence that Shepherd had been drinking May 27, and had quarreled with his wife that night, Judge Adams decided that the quarrel had been patched up before Shepherd went to bed.

"There's no evidence to indicate premeditation between that time and the stabbing an hour and a half later," said Judge Adams.

Shepherd in statements to police had maintained he "blacked out" during that period.

The defense decided not to have Shepherd take the stand, saying that he could "add nothing" to the statements already placed in evidence by the prosecution.

★ ★ ★

Judge Adams noted that Shepherd had probably taken "a number" of tranquilizers, but what their effect was, "has not been proved," he said.

American Sky Watchers Spot Sputnik in 3 Passes Over U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP) — American sky watchers reported sighting the Russian earth satellite again today as it made three early morning passes over the United States.

The man-made moon, apparently undeterred by a shower of fragments, neared the edge of its first week aloft still circling the earth once every 96.1 minutes.

The Naval Research Laboratory here said Sputnik made three high-speed passes over the United States this morning, and will return three times tonight.

SEES 2 OBJECTS

The New Haven, Conn., moonwatch team, which first spotted the satellite yesterday, reported that it saw two objects streaking through the sky this morning — presumably Sputnik and a part of the rocket that propelled the moonlet into its orbit.

Watchers at the Astrophysical Observatory of the Smithsonian Institution in Cambridge, Mass., also apparently caught a momentary glimpse of the satellite.

★ ★ ★

Two students at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y., also said they sighted it shortly before dawn.

Sputnik has traveled more than 2½ million miles, according to Soviet estimates, since the Russians shot it into the upper air last Friday.

Dr. Fred L. Whipple, director of the Cambridge Observatory, said there had been no observation to indicate a third object is speeding around the globe. The Russians have said the satellite's protective nose cone also is orbiting, as well as the spent rocket.

READY CAMERA

Whipple voiced hope that a huge satellite tracking camera at Pasadena, Calif., will be ready when the sphere makes two passes over the Far West today.

Moscow radio said last night the artificial satellite "is now being bombarded by micro-meteorites," but that it appeared no serious damage had resulted.

At the U. S. Naval Research Laboratory here, a spokesman said the satellite came over as scheduled last night, several hours after the Mocow broadcast about the meteorite bombardment. The spokesman said the satellite was emitting a steady signal.

Radio Moscow said that in the last stage of its existence, Sputnik will come closer to the earth and give off light like a meteor and that "its light will be observable for a long time."

In New York, Dr. Sergei M. Poloskov said the Russians intend to share with the United States and other nations scientific information obtained from the moonlet.

Motorist Rescues Invalid From Burning Home Here

A Pontiac man entered a smoke-filled house, Thursday, and carried its invalid owner to safety before firemen arrived at the scene, according to the Pontiac Fire Department.

Robert McKinley, 23, of 357 N. Saginaw St., driving home from work yesterday afternoon, noticed smoke coming from the home of Henry McGough, 340 N. Paddock St.

McKinley ran to the one-story frame house which was rapidly filling with smoke. He flagged down a passing wrecker with a two-way radio and told the driver to turn in an alarm.

When he entered the house, he said, "The smoke was so thick that I had to crouch low to the floor. I finally saw a man lying on the floor in the living room, trying to crawl toward the door."

McGough, an invalid who cannot walk, was still conscious when McKinley carried him in his arms to his car. No one else was in the house.

McKinley said that the sweater McGough was wearing had been scorched by flames, but otherwise he appeared uninjured.

Firemen arrived and fought the blaze for about an hour. Damage was estimated at approximately $2,500, said firemen. The fire started in the living room and was evidently touched off by a cigarette.

McKinley is employed at the Dostal Foundry and Machine Co., 2500 Williams Dr., Waterford Township.

Look Out for Frost; Low 31-35 Tonight

More cool nights are in prospect for the Pontiac area. The U.S. Weather Bureau predicts clear and cooler tonight with frost likely. The low will be around 31-35 degrees.

Tomorrow will be mostly fair and a little warmer with the mercury going up to 60.

Partly cloudy and turning cooler with a chance of scattered light showers is the outlook for Sunday.

The lowest recorded temperature in downtown Pontiac this morning was 42. At 2 p.m. the mercury had risen to 51.

Mackinac Bridge to Open Two P. M., Friday Nov. 1

ST. IGNACE (AP) — The Mackinac Bridge will be opened to traffic Nov. 1, the Mackinac Bridge Authority announced today. This laid to rest rumors of a possible earlier opening.

First public traffic will begin crossing the 100-million-dollar span connecting Michigan's two peninsulas at 2 p.m.

Gov. G. Mennen Williams, elected state officials and legislators have been invited for a pre-opening inspection trip across the bridge, but Authority Chairman Prentiss M. Brown said there would be no fanfare and no speeches.

Official dedication of the Mackinac, the world's longest suspension span, has been scheduled for the last week of next June.

To dramatize that law prohibits any free passes, Gov. Williams will purchase the first toll ticket.

Each car will pay $3.25, regardless of the number of passengers. Truck rates are graduated up to $14, depending on axles.

State ferries, which now handle traffic across the Straits of Mackinac, charge $2.75 per car, plus 25 cents for the driver and each passenger.

★ ★ ★

All tolls will be collected on the St. Ignace side.

Suspect Freed in Shooting

Carnival Worker Says He Was in Saginaw at Time of Incident

A suspect in the mystery shooting of a Highland Township woman, arrested in Detroit last night by Oakland County Sheriff's Dept. detectives and booked for investigation of attempted murder was released this afternoon.

Malcolm Halliday, 53, was questioned today in the shooting Wednesday night of Mrs. June Lebel, 59, of 1001 Hickory Ridge Rd.

Mrs. Lebel was struck in the mouth by a .22 caliber bullet fired at her through a window when she looked out to see who was knocking at her front door.

Halliday, who works for a Cleveland carnival company, came under suspicion when it was learned he had called Mrs. Lebel from Drayton Plains Tuesday and asked to see her. She refused to invite him to her home, she told detectives.

Halliday said last night he went to Saginaw after the phone call and was there at the time of the shooting. He gave the names of persons who could substantiate his

3 Routes Ready to Carry Crowds to MSU-'M' Tilt

Pontiac area football fans will find three big road improvements when driving to the Michigan-Michigan State game in Ann Arbor tomorrow.

For motorists using Pontiac Trail (M218), the bridge at Milford road leading under the Grand River Expressway is completed. Reconstruction of Pontiac Trail from Eight Mile road to N. Territorial road is finished, and a smooth, blacktopped highway awaits drivers.

For fans who prefer to take M59 (past Pontiac Airport) to U.S. 23, a new, four-lane divided highway awaits them from south of Whitmore Lake to Ann Arbor city limits.

If you drive out U.S. 12 (Willow Run Expressway), there will be a reversable one-way system leading from the expressway to the stadium via Ann Arbor - Saline road.

This will be one-way leading to the stadium before the game, and one-way leading to the expressway after the game.

Wilson Tells GOP in Seattle:

'Too Much Talk in U. S.'

SEATTLE (INS) — Charles E. Wilson says he thinks Americans "talk too much."

The former defense secretary told Seattle newsmen the U.S. "can't possibly get very far ahead" of Russia in a missile or satellite program. He explained:

★ ★ ★

"We—the military, the politicians, the press, particularly the columnists—talk too much. The present big fuss over the satellite plays right into Russia's hands."

★ ★ ★

Wilson, who spoke at a $100-a-plate Republican fund raising dinner, said he expects a 100,000-man reduction in the work force of the nation's aircraft industry.

Prep Games Postponed

The Sunday football game between St. Fred and St. Mike has been postponed because of influenza which hit all but 12 of St. Michael's football team.

Other games in the area called off: Oxford at Lake Orion, Avondale at Lapeer, Royal Oak Kimball at Dearborn, Wyandotte at Royal Oak Dondero, East Detroit at Hazel Park and Clawson at Madison.

For Slum Clearance

Federal Loan and Grant Will Assist Battle Creek

WASHINGTON—A residential slum area in Battle Creek, Mich., will be converted into a commercial and industrial section with the help of a $3,910,092 federal loan and a $2,726,417 capital grant.

The loan and grant were announced by the Urban Renewal Administration.

It said almost 70 per cent of the 342 residential structures in the 87-acre area are sub-standard. The area, known as the Jewell Street project, is subject to intermittent flooding.

Money will be used in part for rechanneling the Kalamazoo river by the Corps of Engineers. Net cost of the project is estimated at $3,972,897.

This represents a difference between the cost of acquiring and preparing the land for redevelopment and the return from its resale.

The federal grant will cover two-thirds of the loss, and Battle Creek will contribute the remainder.

Sounds Like Busy Signal on Telephone

Bloomfield Radio Ham Tracing Sputnik

Sputnik may be losing some of its sputter.

So says a Bloomfield Township "ham" radio operator who has tuned in on the Russian satellite several times since it began its journey around the earth.

"On one afternoon I heard the thing quit keying," said Albert R. Lewellen, 23, of 2124 Devonshire Dr.

"Then it broke into a solid tone and stayed that way for about 15 minutes until I couldn't hear it again."

★ ★ ★

"The pulses have been varying in duration also," Lewellen explained. He said this may indicate what phase of the scientific study the Russians had launched at that particular time, or that its batteries might be weakening.

Lewellen, a member of the research department for Bendix Aviation Corp. in Detroit, said listening to Sputnik's beeps was the greatest thrill he has had in his eight years of being a "ham."

COME IN SPUTNIK — Albert R. Lewellen, 23, of 2124 Devonshire Dr., Bloomfield Township, a 'ham' radio operator, has picked up signals from the Soviet satellite several times this week. He is shown reaching into space for the now famous beep.

This is something you don't hear every day," he said as he continued to twist dials on his commercial short wave radio receiver.

When he "got the bug" for being a "ham" back in 1949, Lewellen, who has never attended college, was the youngest operator ever to be licensed by the Federal Communications Commission (FCC).

He described the sound of the artificial moon, launched Oct. 4, as sounding similar to a busy signal on a telephone.

"It is generally clearer at night because the ionosphere breaks up some allowing the signal to travel easier and with less interference," he said.

★ ★ ★

Lewellen tunes in on the speedy object at 20,000 kilocycles with the aid of a beat frequency oscillator (BFO). He has also watched the pulses of the beep on a oscilloscope in the basement of his parents home.

Paratroopers Still on Duty

85 Little Rock Churches Plan Special Services to Pray for Solution

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — A handful of paratroopers from the 101st Airborne Division walked their post around massive Central High School this clear, chilly morning.

COMPLETE TESTS

Six-week tests were to be completed today by students. Three Negro boys and six Negro girls are finishing their third week of integration at Central High.

Generally both the Arkansas National Guard, which has been federalized by President Eisenhower, and the regular Army units take turns in protecting the Negroes and guarding the building.

Tomorrow, at least 85 churches in the Little Rock area will hold a special one-hour service to pray for a solution to the crisis.

A number of other Arkansas churches and some outside the state will take part in the Columbus Day service, which begins at 11 a.m.

Little Rock clergymen of several different faiths worked together in setting up the special service.

Among them were Rt. Rev. Robert R. Brown, Episcopal bishop of Arkansas; the Rt. Rev. Paul E. Martin, Methodist bishop of Arkansas and Louisiana; Rabbi Ira E. Sanders of Temple B'nai Israel; and Msgr. James E. O'Connell of the Roman Catholic Church.

★ ★ ★

Rabbi Sanders said yesterday that Jewish Reformed synagogues throughout the nation will join in the service.

Tonight, 24 Baptist ministers will sponsor a 15-minute prayer meeting at a Little Rock Baptist church.

Definitely No TV for Saturday's Game

LANSING (AP) — There will be no television Saturday for the Michigan-Michigan State football game.

Aides to Gov. Williams were informed of the decision in a telegram from Robert W. Sarnoff, president of the National Broadcasting Co.

Sarnoff said the decision was made partly because if this game was shown neither Michigan nor Michigan State could appear again this year on a regional telecast.

By E. H. SIMS

Many people pile earth and leaves on the north side of their homes and use a slanting roof on the northern side of the home. Do these practices actually reduce heating bills?

Yes, these practices do save money spent for heating. The slant of the roof deflects harsh, cold northern winds, which pass on over the house. If dirt and leaves are piled up to the overhanging roof, on the north side of the house, and the top of the earth pile is slanted, this provides a beginning to the deflecting of the northern winds.

A vertical wall on the southern side of the house will absorb sunlight and tend to catch the heat from the sun, so that full benefit from its rays are enjoyed.

Coming of Queen Swells Ottawa

OTTAWA (AP) — This capital of Canada, its population mushrooming overnight to almost twice its normal 200,000, is a burnished, bedecked and excited city on the eve of the arrival of Elizabeth II, queen of England, and her husband, Prince Philip, duke of Edinburgh.

★ ★ ★

The royal plane carrying Britain's Queen will land at nearby Uplands Airport tomorrow afternoon for the beginning of a four-day holiday, prelude to a six-day visit to the United States.

★ ★ ★

Preparations have been in progress for months.

Five miles of fluttering bunting are strung on government buildings alone. Flags of Canada are everywhere, adding touches of brilliant red as they wave throughout the city.

★ ★ ★

Lawns are clipped, hedges trimmed, streets are washed and Her Majesty's North American subjects, hoping to glimpse their Queen, are laying out their Sunday best.

★ ★ ★

Planning has been so careful and painstaking that one official charged with preparations for a state dinner, is reported to have eaten and talked his way through a sample banquet menu twice to make sure that this affair will be concluded on schedule.

★ ★ ★

Hundreds of Royal Canadian Mounted Police, local cops and a special protection force are practiced in maneuvers for handling eager crowds, hysterical women and lost children. They are versed in all details of controlling mobs while, at the same time, permitting the Queen and her husband to see and be seen by as many of her subjects as possible.

The dominion's famed four-horse landau, in which the governor general usually rides to open Parliament, has been refurbished for the young Queen—whose great-grandmother chose Ottawa as the capital of what was then a province of the empire.

If bad weather upsets this colorful aspect of the ceremony, there is on hand a special limousine with a transparent top ready for use.

The opening of Parliament — Monday—is an especially important occasion, because it is the first time it has been presided over by the reigning monarch of the British Commonwealth, although the dominion has been a regular port of call in the royal rounds for three generations.

Television cameras are being set up at important stops. The Queen's speeches, and the duke's too, will be carried throughout Canada by radio. A horde of newspaper men and women — from England, the United States and from all over Canada — are arriving in the city. One airlines official, charged with moving the press corps from Ottawa to Williamsburg, Va., next Wednesday for the Queen's U.S. visit, estimates the size of the communications corps at 700.

Sound Warning Over Turkey

U. S. and Russia Tee Off

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States and Russia confronted each other menacingly over the Middle East today, with each power warning the other against plunging the area into war.

Soviet Communist party boss Nikita Khrushchev touched off the situation with comments regarded by the U.S. government as directly threatening Turkey. His statement, made in a New York Times interview, was published yesterday.

The United States struck back last night with a State Department declaration that this country intends to stand by its obligations to Turkey under the North Atlantic Treaty and is also "determined to carry out" its expressed policy of defending the Middle East against international communism.

Clearly warning that a clash in the Middle East might spread to engulf much of the world, the U.S. statement asserted:

"Mr. Khrushchev is himself reported to have observed that it is dangerous in these times to assume that hostilities, once begun, will remain confined to a particular locality. That truth should be prayerfully and constantly contemplated by every responsible official of every country."

The American statement is understood to have been cleared with President Eisenhower and to have been checked with some, at least, of the other members of the 15-nation North Atlantic Alliance.

Exactly how serious the situation is was not entirely clear here. Much appeared to depend on the outcome of events in the Middle East itself, particularly developments along the tense border between Turkey and Syria.

If some kind of border incident involving Turkey and Syria should get out of hand, the situation could rapidly become worse.

Much also obviously depends on Russia's real intentions with respect to the Turkish-Syrian tension. One major consideration, perhaps the dominant one, in the top-level decision to issue last night's Washington declaration was that United States intentions should be made clear to the Soviet government in order to minimize the danger of a miscalculation there.

Suspect Released in Highland Shooting story. He gave himself up to Detroit police when he learned he was being sought.

CALLS ON HER

He said he has known Mrs. Lebel for five years and frequently calls her when he is in this area. He travels a great deal on his job.

Halliday was given a lie detector test today at the Redford State Police post which cleared him.

Mrs Lebel, who is divorced, lives alone in a 14-room Victorian mansion on 300 acres of land. She has been unable to give a reason why anyone would want to kill her.

The murder attempt was a determined one, with the gunman firing a second shot at Mrs. Lebel as she turned away from the window and moved toward the dining room. The second bullet was found lodged in a door frame.

Detectives are now checking other possible suspects, including a Cleveland man.

A neighbor of Mrs. Lebel's yesterday said she saw a "tall, dark, heavy-set man" walking toward the house about a half hour before the shooting.

Mrs. Donald F. Skinner, of W. Wardlow Rd. (not Mrs. Donald G. Skinner of 720 Tierney Dr., as reported yesterday) said she did not see a gun in the man's possession.

court to hold the Teamsters Union in contempt of court.

The purpose of the suit is to set aside the convention results, including Hoffa's election and establish a court master in equity, or caretaker, for the union, pending selection of new delegates and another convention.

"If he goes to trial, then I'll stay on a while, because there has to be someone operating in the office," Beck said.

Asked what he would do if Hoffa is convicted and sent to prison, Beck said, "I haven't given that any thought at all."

He said whatever happens, "my term of office ends Dec. 1."

WELCOMED HOME

Hoffa went home to Detroit in triumph yesterday and warned members of the Teamsters Union that their troubles are not over.

The newly elected president of the giant Teamsters Union warned the 700 rank and file members who greeted him at Willow Run Airport:

"We're going to be faced with the roughest, toughest legislative session in history next year."

In an obvious reference to his own troubles with a senate investigating committee, he said:

★ ★ ★

"I plead humbly that you understand whatever happens to me; you must know that whoever leads you is going to be subject to attack."

The cocky Hoffa, elevated from the 11th vice presidency to the top job at the Teamsters Union convention in Miami Beach, Fla., was met by a noisy and demonstrative collection of union members.

A band blared out Hoffa's convention theme song, "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Many of the greeters wore Indian headdress and one of them placed a headdress on Hoffa.

HEAP BIG CHIEF

"There's an old saying in the labor movement that everyone wants to be a chief and no one wants to be an Indian," explained one of the persons in the crowd. "We're just showing Jimmy that he's our chief and we're happy to be his Indians."

Many of the men, still in their bluejeans, shook him by the hand. Some of the women kissed him.

Says He'll Quit Hospital Interest

'I'm Not Under Fire,' Says McElroy; Used Teamster Money

DETROIT (AP)—John P. McElroy, who set up a hospital with money borrowed from the embattled Teamsters Union, says he is getting out of the hospital business.

"I'm not quitting under fire or because I'm afraid of anything I've done," said McElroy yesterday. "My name has been unfavorably connected with the hospital and I feel further participation would be detrimental to the hospital's welfare."

McElroy is publicity and personnel director of the Wayne County Road Commission.

He made the statement about quitting the hospital business while being questioned by county officials trying to find out if a conflict of interest existed between his share of the hospital and his county job.

The hospital, half owned by McElroy, is the Maybury Grand Medical Hospital. It received more than half a million dollars for care of county patients in the 18 months it has been open.

McElroy and his partner, James P. Hannan, former state senator, admitted earlier that they received loans of $381,000 from the Teamsters Union.

"There has been nothing illegal, unethical or immoral in my transactions," McElroy told the county officials.

Study Election on Courthouse

Board Considers Vote on Disposition of Funds, Location of Building

A special election to free $1,400,000 earmarked for a new courthouse is being studied by the Board of Supervisors' Ways and Means Committee, board chairman Delos Hamlin, of Farmington said today.

The committee, Hamlin said, also is considering putting to voters the question of where the new courthouse should be located.

FUNDS TIED UP

The funds have been tied up since last summer by a court decision holding that the county put more money into the building fund than could be done legally without public approval.

★ ★ ★

Hamlin believed that if voters approved using the money to build a courthouse, the funds could be freed for that purpose.

If it was freed, Hamlin said, the county could start immediately building the first $2.5 to $3 million section of the proposed building. The rest of the money for the first section, he said, could be raised by sale of county lands.

Hamlin doubted that the board would approve a public bond issue to finance completion of the whole $5 million building.

"We want this building to be interest free, and are planning to build the first section, which is needed now, and the second section when it is needed at some future date," he said.

The Oakland County Taxpayers League this week asked the board to consider placing all three questions on a public ballot. The League had brought and won the suit tying up the courthouse funds.

The county favors a new courthouse in the county service center on Pontiac's west side. The League prefers the downtown Pontiac site of the present courthouse.

Taxpayers voted for a courthouse bond issue in 1954, but twice turned down a tax increase to pay off the bonds. Subsequently, the county began accumulating building funds out of year-end budgetary surpluses until the present $1,400,000 was reached.

The question of where the new courthouse should be built has never been submitted to voters.

The Day in Birmingham

City's 1st Postal Award Honors Late Chris Bailey

BIRMINGHAM—First postal employe award ever to be presented in Birmingham will be made posthumously to honor Chris Bailey.

Bailey died last November. He had served Birmingham Post Office for 20 years as carrier in the business district, and had made a host of friends among businessmen and their employes.

Postmaster Roland Reese will present the award to Mrs. Bailey in the near future.

Reese said that in addition to the friends he had made on the route, Bailey was outstanding in his devotion to his job.

One example of his work was his willingness to serve without assistance during the Christmas rush and his desire to consider it a straight-time job, without overtime pay.

The proposal that the Police Department discontinue issuing drivers licenses weekends and evenings has been accepted.

BRAVES' FANS CELEBRATE—Students from Marquette University started a snake dance into downtown Milwaukee where pandemonium took place after the Braves defeated the Yankees, 5-0, in the final game of the World Series at Yankee Stadium yesterday. An estimated crowd of 250,000 joined the celebration in downtown Milwaukee and another 15,000 jammed the airport to greet the World Champions. The signs were torn from the utility poles in the city.

Police Blockade Called Poor

State Chief Declares System Is Inadequate, Needs Overhauling

LANSING (UP) — Michigan's present police blockade system is inadequate and needs overhauling, declared State Police Commissioner Joseph A. Childs.

Childs said recent blockades put up along the Indiana border in an effort to catch two gunmen who shot a police trooper showed the system was poorly organized.

The state police chief outlined plans for a new system at a meeting of the Michigan Sheriff's Association yesterday.

Under the new program, he said, cars would be assigned to a regular blockade spot and would proceed to it as soon as ordered. This will save time and avoid jamming the police radio network with calls to patrol cars, he explained.

Lee C. Richardson, head of the driver and vehicles services division of the secretary of state's office, told the sheriffs the new boat safety law passed by the last legislature "is one of the most confused pieces of legislation I've ever seen."

Richardson said he couldn't explain the law because he didn't understand it himself. He said he hopes it would be amended in the 1958 legislative session.

Vacationing Burglar Leaves the Evidence

BURBANK, Calif. (UP) — Jack Reimer says the burglar who broke into his house certainly was a lousy housekeeper.

When Reimer returned from a recent vacation he found the sink stacked with dirty dishes, beds unmade and food spilled on the floor. Whoever broke into the house didn't take anything, just ate and slept, Reimer said. "But he was a real slob."

Antarctic 1st Coming

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Stewardesses Patricia Hepinstall and Ruth Kelly depart tomorrow on a Pan American Airways Strato Clipper to become the first women to set foot on the Antarctic continent. They will be there one hour and then return. The 9,700-mile flight will be the first commercial one to the Antarctic.

Has Smallest Check Issued by Government

AKRON, Ohio (INS) — Myron B. Brown, a retired government worker, probably has the smallest check ever issued by the United States government.

Brown revealed that he once received a check for one cent as a refund for an over-deduction from his pay on savings bonds.

Brown, who lives in Akron, made his revelation after reading a story about a three-cent check which cost the government about $100 in paper work. It had been believed that this was the smallest check ever issued.

4 Escape Burning Bus

KANSAS CITY, Kan. (UP)—Three passengers and the driver escaped unhurt when fire and several explosions demolished a bus. Driver Jim Plimmer saw smoke in the rear and stopped in time for everybody to get off. The accident occurred between suburban Merriam, Kan., and Kansas City.

Gavel Block's Return Restores 'Peace of Mind'

OKLAHOMA CITY (UP) — A California tourist's "peace of mind" got the best of him and the Senate chamber at the Oklahoma state capitol got its gavel block back.

Gov. Raymond Gary said he received the block from a Yucaipa, Calif., man who wrote that he took it for a souvenir while touring the state capitol last summer.

The man wrote that he had had little peace of mind since he took the block.

Gary wrote the Californian a letter saying that he hoped "we may look forward to having you come see us again, whenever possible."

Performs Despite Burn

SAN FRANCISCO (UP) — Marie MacDonald went on with her act at the Fairmont Hotel in spite of second degree burns suffered when she spilled hot tea on her leg.

Claim They Have Cinderella Bandit Who Left Slipper

PHILADELPHIA (UP)—Detectives say they have found the Cinderella bandit who lost his slipper Sept. 27 in an attempted holdup at a swank apartment hotel on Rittenhouse Square.

Cleve Farrington, 26, denied he was the man, but Detective Lt. Howard Brooks and Detective Joseph Hunt said yesterday the shoe fitted and held him for a hearing today.

★ ★ ★

Farrington is accused of attempting to hold up Dr. Jacob Makler, a resident of the Rittenhouse-Savoy. He lost the slipper—a loafer for the right foot—in flight after the physician shoved him and yelled for help, police said. Officers said a button torn from the robber's coat by a desk clerk also matched those on a coat found in Farrington's home.

Industry Hiring Philosophers

Needs Them to Analyze Complexities Created by Automation

EAST LANSING (INS) — American industry is hiring more philosophers to make sure their electronic "brains" are correct.

Dr. Richard S. Rudner, assistant philosophy professor at Michigan State University, says manufacturers of high speed digital computers are using philosophers as logicians in computer programming, coding and designing.

Insurance companies have them screen complex policies to see that the firm does not contradict itself.

Rudner said policy decisions in industry, research and government are often made with the philosopher's help. Men with training in the special field of ethics can explicitly identify goals and values, then evaluate means for reaching those goals.

However, the professor stated many philosophers feel that justification of philosophy solely for its usefulness is intellectually repugnant.

He declared while "the vast still make their careers in university teaching . . . career philosophers are finding themselves in greater and greater demand."

★ ★ ★

Rudner, who worked 2½ years on a Navy project in computer research, pointed out interest in philosophy is increasing because "man simply requires and seeks an understanding of himself and his place in the universe."

Has Promise of Raise on His 100th Birthday

AMES, Iowa (AP) — Andy Anderson received a congratulatory telegram on his 97th birthday from his employer, a shoe company. It advised that when he reaches 100 his salesman's commission would be doubled.

"I'm saving that telegram," says Andy. "It's a contract and I intend to collect on it."

He has been covering most of Iowa for 76 years. He has a son who retired at 72.

Tough Day for Paper

CLARENDON, Ark. (AP) — Half of one page of the weekly Monroe County Sun appeared as a blank—except for a small notice in the center which read: "Don't laugh; we had a h— of a time filling the rest of it."

Traffic Charges Filed by Citizen Against Officer

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Ronald K. Curson, 26, an insurance salesman, filed traffic charges against a motorcycle patrolman yesterday.

"I thought it was my right and my duty," he said after lodging his complaint against city patrolman D. I. Jordy in Corporation Court.

★ ★ ★

The complaint alleges Jordy ran a red light, made an illegal turn and passed another vehicle illegally.

Curson said that after he stopped the officer, Jordy searched his car. The patrolman said he found a night stick and charged Curson with carrying a prohibited weapon.

★ ★ ★

Before his release under $800 bond, Curson asserted he was jailed four hours and then permitted to call a lawyer.

Jordy agreed with Curson that a citizen is privileged to file such a traffic charge.

"I know I am innocent and I expect it to be brought out in the trial," the patrolman said.

Board Elects Four Delegates

Evangelist to Preach Ten Days in March 1958 at Crescent Hills

The quarterly business meeting church in Waterford Township, was held at the home of Rev. Benjamin A. Bohn this week.

Reports revealed an increase in both church and Sunday School attendance during the past quarter.

Mrs. Norman Schmuck, Mrs. Debert Mitchell and Rev. and Mrs. Bo were elected delegates to the Michigan Baptist Convention which will be held at the First Baptist Church, in Royal Oak, Oct. 17 through 19.

A men's fellowship meeting was scheduled for Saturday, Oct. 26.

It was voted by the congregation to ask Dr. Arthur H. Fuhr, nationally koown evangelist of Central Baptist Seminary, Kansas City, Kan. to leadthe church in a revival meeting March 16 through 26, 1958.

A committee was appointed to meet with the Missionary Committee of the Bethany Baptist church. They include Norman Schmuck, Mrs. Carl Meng, and Charles Hazel.

No Quiet Integration Seen for Florida

MIAMI, Fla. (INS)—Gov. Leroy Collins of Florida believes there can be no peaceful integration of the state's public schools in the near future.

However, the governor told a news conference in Miami last night that he does believe that "someday, somewhere, somehow we are going to have integration of our schools in Florida."

★ ★ ★

Gov. Collins was asked if he thought the stand taken by Gov. Faubus of Arkansas and the use of federal troops in Little Rock had hurt the cause of so-called segregation moderationists. He replied:

"I don't think the whole problem (of integration) can be resolved with deep resentment on one hand and raw force on the other."

Politics Unites Pueblo

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (INS) — The Indian pueblo at Laguna, N.M., which once had 19 different clans, is today divided into two main groups — called liberals and conservatives. The difference between the two groups involves local, state and national politics as well as style of dress, type of haircut and matters pertaining to

Each year 1,000,000 American families advance above the $5,000-a-year income level. The nation's average family income was $4,000 in 1946.

Staid 5th Avenue Really Has a 'Ball' Recalling the Past

NEW YORK (AP)—Usually staid Fifth Avenue had a "ball" last night as 150,000 spectators enjoyed a 62-block torchlight parade glittering with golden memories of a half-century ago.

★ ★ ★

The occasion was the 50th anniversary of the Fifth Avenue Assn., a businessmen's organization.

It was the first torchlight parade along the avenue since the city greeted England's Prince of Wales back in 1860.

★ ★ ★

In keeping with the anniversary, all was golden. — "white wings" pushing gold-painted trash carts; an illuminated white and gold birthday cake with 50 electric candles; mounted police horses with their hoofs painted gold; dazzling window displays featuring the gold motif; 435 gold painted fire hydrants; 650 gold-colored trash baskets; and three miles of golden center line along the avenue.

Court Held in Theater

Where Do We Go From Here?

Now that the World Series is settled, we all should return to normalcy.

As a means of removing our minds from our usual troubles, it was a great taker-offer.

★ ★ ★

Most of us forgot about one HOFFA personality. Perhaps he grabbed that opportunity to help him sneak in. But we still think he has two strikes on him.

In a geographical sense, for a few days we didn't care if Arkansas was still in the nation. The series made it look like a small forty-eighth.

★ ★ ★

And perhaps the Russians sensed our inattention to mundane things just enough to select that time for launching their new moon. The royal baseball fan was surprised that it seemed to take some precedence over the series.

Today our minds go back to our old worries—if we had any.

Football still offers some surcease, a haven of relief from unhappy thoughts, getting much help from hockey, basketball and bowling. We should use them.

★ ★ ★

Whether it is local, national or crowding the solar system, most of the troubles we worry about never happen, nor can they be influenced, as far as we personally are concerned.

And if we could be of any assistance in staving them off, worry only helps to nullify our efforts.

★ ★ ★

If the men we've chosen to look after these things for us do not do their duty, we're happy to be living in a great nation that provides us with the means of throwing them out.

So, if you're back to normal, don't worry about where do we go from here.

We're going forward, the same direction in which our nation always has gone, even when threatened from without or within.

★ ★ ★

Next year we'll have other worries, and we'll have another World Series to make us forget them.

Tito's Ex-Aide Djilas Sentenced to 7 Years

For writing propaganda against Communism and the government, Yugoslavia's former vice-president, MILOVAN DJILAS, has been sentenced to seven more years imprisonment at hard labor. He already has served one year of a three year term for a similar offense.

★ ★ ★

The charge against DJILAS arose from publication of the book, "The New Class," the manuscript for which was smuggled out of prison to the United States. The government prosecutor charged not that the book wasn't truthful, but that it is designed to harm Yugoslavia's reputation and undermine its Communist system.

"Having achieved industrialization," writes the one time Communist hero, "the New Class can now do nothing more than strengthen its brute force and pillage the people . . . its method of control is one of the most shameful pages in human history."

★ ★ ★

An American attorney, JOSEPH L. RAUH JR. had been retained by the publishers of the book to defend Mr. DJILAS, but was not permitted to enter Yugoslavia and the one day trial was conducted in secret. Representatives of the International Committee of Free Jurists and the American Federation of Labor also were denied entry. Yugoslavia's attitude is in violation of human rights of the Third Committee of the U.N. General Assembly, of which AFL-CIO President GEORGE MEANY is a member.

★ ★ ★

The length of Mr. DJILAS' sentence is a tribute to the wide recognition his book has attained as a most important political work and a devastating expose of the Communist system.

Wild Life Haven

Hwy. Improvement Makes a Visit to It Much Easier

Business: What returns to normalcy after that New York episode Thursday.

The best wild life sanctuary in the Pontiac area has been lifted out of the woods, as far as transportation facilities go. The Drahner Woods, up toward the northeast corner of Oakland County, and 15 miles from Pontiac, no longer has a single file trail through it.

You now can drive this natural habitat of deer, fox, quail, partridge and other animal and bird wild life, who have become so tame through not being molested that they will almost commune with you.

From Pontiac, go out Perry Street, which merges into Lapeer Road, and follow it through Lake Orion village to the intersection of Drahner Road (plainly marked) just before you reach Oxford. There you turn right and for five miles on a common dirt road you go through some of the roughest and most scenic terrain in Oakland County, including this sanctuary. Be sure to keep on Drahner Road, as tricky corners and turns are numerous.

You'll emerge on the Rochester pavement just south of Lakeville, which you can follow to Rochester and then home.

The autumn colors on Drahner Road now are magnificently gorgeous. Better not go through there when roads are wet. They're a little rough, but it's a great back-to-nature drive.

With the survivors in our football contest, Michigan State is a two to one favorite over Michigan in tomorrow's game. How do you feel about it?

MEMBER OF AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS

The Optimist—Still Carries His Umbrella

David Lawrence Says:

Let's Be Calm About Red Satellite

WASHINGTON—President Eisenhower's refusal to be stampeded by the excitement over the Soviet experiments in outer space is an example of courageous statesmanship.

LAWRENCE

Judging by some of the hysterical outcries of various people, including some of the politicians, America should bow her head in shame, pull down the flag and offer to surrender at once to the tyrants in the Kremlin.

Or else, it is impulsively urged, the United States should begin spending billions upon billions no matter if it unbalances the budget, forces the purchasing power of the dollar down to ten cents and brings on a financial and economic debacle.

How amazing it is that, by the simple stunt of spinning an iron ball around the world, Americans in vast numbers can be led to lose their heads in an anguished clamor of the "for - God - sakes - do-something" variety.

What the Russian scientists have accomplished doesn't mean that the people of Soviet Russia are any safer today, with erratic and unscrupulous leaders in the Kremlin, than they were yesterday. Nor does it mean that hydrogen bombs, which can be dropped on all the important centers of the Soviet Union by jet bombers flying from bases wtihin a few minutes from the Soviet borders, have suddenly become useless.

About all the experiment in outer space has accomplished is to scare too many Americans into thinking that back of this device is another, more deadly, in the form of intercontinental missiles. Human beings however, are killed just as quickly with hydrogen bombs dropped from planes as they are from atomic warheads embedded in intercontinental missiles.

NO POWER SHIFT

The balance of power in the world hasn't shifted because a lot of Americans, especially many of the politicians, have lost their sense of balance. President Eisenhower doesn't profess to be a scientist, but he has had the good judgment to rely on the best scientific brains the United States can assemble.

The decision was made by the scientists themselves to go ahead with the ballistic program and let the stunts in outer space take plenty of time. Nobody can prove there was any military advantage lost by that policy.

Mr. Eisenhower, with characteristic courtesy, did not hesitate to speak highly of the Russian scientists. He might have said also, however, that much of what they know has come from American scientists in our governmental projects and that, had the United States not listened to the foes of security in government, there would have been less thievery of American secrets, as the records will in due time reveal.

What America needs is to protect her secrets and stop being swayed by the phobia of those who claim that all the scientists of the United States government know must be handed over to the scitists working for the evil clique in the Kremlin.

If an American scientist will not serve his government when it insists that he tell the truth to intelligence officers, instead of suppressing information that would help to detect espionage, then there is something wrong with his patriotism and with those who measure their fidelity to their own country by any such standard.

The rivalry among the military services is coming in for considerable criticism — as if this alone had something to do with the Russian "victory." Actually, the competition in research is a good incentive, and the real responsibility for the delay in working on problems of outer space can be traced to lassitude that occurred under the Truman administration.

Naive officials then almost passed up the hydrogen bomb when the top scientists were moralizing. Those episodes didn't expedite the projects that would have put America far head in the race for prestige in outer-space experiments.

The President isn't going to rush into big expenditures just because of what the Russians have done. He is likely to ask Congress for more money only when our own trusted scientists think it can be well spent—and they have not urged any major change in recent months and are not likely to do so even in the face of Russia's stunt.

Mr. Eisenhower is keeping his feet on the ground, where they belong—for the need of a balance and an equilibrium in a world so easily swayed by stunts and foreign propaganda is even greater than it has been.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Simple Rule for Posture: Just Keep Chin Tucked In

In an ancient film recently shown on TV, upper class cadets, hazing a plebe, make him "wipe off that smile, pull back those shoulders and suck in that stomach."

I hope that even plebes no longer cultivate the tin soldier posture — that is, in public.

DR. BRADY

The notion that one standing erect should suck in that stomach, pull back those shoulders and elevate the chin is ridiculous! Such monkey business is a travesty of good posture. So is standing with heels together and toes turned out.

My notion about this is that it would be a boon to America if every boy and girl were required to take a year of anatomy; a year of physiology; a year of hygiene and sanitation; and a year of embryology, prenatal and child care.

Whether one does or does not learn anything from the smattering of so-called "health education" to which he or she is casually exposed in elementary and high school, here are a few simple rules for the cultivation of good posture:

★ ★ ★

1. Don't "suck in that stomach." The front wall of the abdomen (greater body cavity) must necessarily bulge, protrude, expand or inflate when you take a breath (inspire, inhale), so it is absurd to try to "suck it in" or hold it in.

FORGET SHOULDERS

2. Don't "pull back those shoulders." Never mind the shoulders.

3. Don't try to expand your chest like a pigeon. Never mind your chest.

4. Don't try to keep your chin up. Try to keep it in, that is, keep it tucked inside of an imaginary high collar.

5. With chin in, the crown or back of the head is higher than the top or forehead — the posture for weight carrying.

6. Keep the feet almost parallel or only slightly, if at all, turned out, keep the chin tucked in and the crown of the head high and you will automatically assume good posture.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

'Why Not Lease Theater as 'Home' for Symphony?'

Two large theater houses in downtown Pontiac are closed and empty. One is advertised for lease. Committees working toward a Civic Auditorium ought not overlook the opportunity and need of the present while looking forward to the future goal.

If that lease can't be taken in the city's name, here's a challenging thought for civic-minded individuals. Why not a "home" for the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra? If Conductor DiBiasi can be retained, this organization will someday rank among the finest civic symphonies in the nation. Community pride makes such achievement possible, not the size of the city.

At the last concert I stood, willingly enough, because I knew what to expect. But I passed dozens of people returning to their cars because there weren't enough seats in Lincoln Junior High auditorium. What chance has community pride to assert itself if only a few hundred people can be allowed entrance to such events? The need is now.

Hal Higgins

Pontiac Could Build Community House

Mr. O'Neil's suggestion for an auditorium is a fine idea, but we must crawl before we walk. How about a community house? Communities smaller than Pontiac have them, and Pontiac could do as Gingellville did—build one floor and give suppers, dances, plays, etc., to raise the rest of the money. The public would not only feel it had a part in making a dream come true, but would have fun as well. Let's hear from others who think this idea would work. What smaller communities have done, Pontiac can do.

Civic Minded

'Children Might Have No Choice'

Waterford Resident says something is wrong if high school children can't stay out of the way of cars and not get into cars with strangers. They don't have to get in cars—there's the chance they may be forced. It might not be their fault if they are injured or killed, either. We still have drunks and hot-rodders on the roads.

Lover of Life

'Bugs' Baer Says:

Once again the GOP stalks me at the precinct level for information and middle-age security.

It desires to know why their man got his come-uppance in Wisconsin. That's as simple as Simon's whaling expedition. Those Milwaukeeans can't make an X anywhere but on a scorecard.

The sixty-seven per cent stay-home vote was terrific even for split-level garages. And you cannot make an X if teacher held out half the alphabet on you.

Only thirty-three per cent of the totalized Republicans whitebeamed the suggestion box this election. The Democrats won from here to there. Equivalent to twice around the block.

This administration has been giving the farmers bad weather lately. Has no control over the winds and does not pay a bonus for grass-hopper hides.

The Wisconsin weedbenders have not forgotten Franklin Delano ploved forty acres in peanuts at their open-air movies.

What the GOP has to do is get down to grass roots. It isn't too bad with mayonnaise dressing. The finance committee will get my anonymous check in the morning.

Quotes Statement of Negro Veteran

The most sensible article I've read comes from a Negro GI, Korean veteran and father of three children.

He writes, "I don't care if integration never comes about. If whites don't want to live near me, I don't care. I wouldn't want to live near some of them, either. With forced integration they move the colored in and the whites move out. It's just a mockery and damages the economy. I'm not interested in having white in-laws nor in having my children attend a white school just because it is for whites. What I'm interested in is having my rights as a citizen respected, my dignity and equality under the Constition and the benefits and opportunities guaranted."

For the last 25 years the Negro has been gaining but now certain politicians say it must be done at once. They are only fanning flames of passion and threaten to set good relations back. Is integration in schools so important to the Negro or are other things more important as stated by this Korean veteran?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Buck-Passing Starts Early in Life

Notice how early in life Philip spontaneously duplicated Adam's strategy of passing the buck. Adam blamed Eve whereas Philip conveniently made George the "goat." And at the age of three, Philip was already a confirmed extrovert, chiefly because of his sequence in the family. See the test below for further differences between introverts vs. extroverts.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case W-317: Philip, aged 3½, came in one day after a rain.

He had been walking in the water in his good leather shoes. They were soaked.

★ ★ ★

DR. CRANE

When Mrs. Crane saw them, she frowned and was about to remonstrate.

But Philip beat her to the draw.

"Mama, do you know what Georgie let me do?" he quickly asked.

"What did he let you do?" Mrs. Crane replied.

"He let me walk in the water without my overshoes!" Philip glibly replied.

Philip thus demonstrated what we call buck-passing. In psychology we officially term this device "projection."

It involves blaming somebody else for our own faults as a means of trying to wriggle out from under the resulting blame or twinges of our own conscience.

George was only 4½ years of age at this time, but already Philip had learned that his older brother was supposed to be his guardian and chaperone.

So Philip was already becoming a deft psychologist, for he tried to divert his mother's criticism to George.

Maybe George hadn't even seen Philip wading in the gutter with his good shoes.

But Philip realized that the older child is normally the custodian for its younger brothers and sisters, so he tactfully passed the buck to George.

I mention this case both to illustrate the concept of "projection" (buck-passing), which starts quite early in our lives, and also to illustrate how introverts and extroverts happen to develop those types of social outlook.

★ ★ ★

The oldest child is usually the introvert, for he comes on the family stage with no other youngster to threaten his reign or even to talk to or stimulate him.

Thus, the oldest child daydreams and lives in his imagination a great deal. He creates imaginary playmates.

INTROVERTS/EXTROVERTS

When the younger brother arrives, notice what happens. The latter sees this older brother as a more powerful person. So the younger child resorts to psychology to attain his ends.

He cries, albeit with crocodile tears, to bring harassed mother to his aid. In this fashion he manipulates his parents to help him get toys from the older child.

"Oh, give little brother your teddy bear," exclaims the weary mother, "for he is just a baby, you know!"

Reluctantly, the older child may part with his possessions under such maternal pressure, but he watches them and at night he tends to count his belongings just to make sure they are all back in his care.

★ ★ ★

Older children thus tend to be "counters." They budget their money more carefully in later life.

They are less talkative, as a rule, and more the poet or dreamer or scientist in temperament.

The younger child is more the extrovert, as the Prodigal Son so well illustrates. The extrovert thus likes to deal with people, as a salesman, receptionist, politician, etc.

He prefers to talk his way along, instead of writing out a report. The introvert, however, will choose to write his report instead of deliver it orally.

For other differences, send for my "Tests for Introverts vs. Extroverts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (nonprofit).

It contains several other tests and Rating Scales that make interesting material for party entertainment.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Flu Bug Puts Bite on State

Closes Schools, Cuts Earnings, Plays Hob With Football

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The flu "bug" has bitten Michigan hard.

More schools were closed today. Industrial workers were hard hit. High school football games were canceled or postponed.

Influenza was taking its toll in many sections of the state.

The high school at Morenci was ordered closed for six days today because of heavy absenteeism. Supt. Henry Geisler said 300 of the 1,133 pupils were absent yesterday. Five teachers also failed to make classes because of flu. He said.

Geisler said he ordered the school closed for six days because local physicians were hoping the peak of the disease would pass within a week.

★ ★ ★

Some 600 industrial workers in Schoolcraft County are getting free flu vaccinations at Manistique in a program sponsored by the Inland Lime and Stone Co. and the Manistique Pulp and Paper Co.

MANISTIQUE ESCAPES

No cases of Asian flu have been reported in the Manistique area of the Upper Peninsula. However, physicians said a number of persons have symptoms similar to flu.

In Western Michigan, visitors will be restricted at the Holland Hospital during a current high incidence of flu. Hospital director Fred Burd said the move was recommended Wednesday by the hospital's medical staff.

Until the flu rate subsides, visiting will be limited to immediate members of patients' families, Burd said.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, Detroit health officials said they have no intention of closing schools at this time.

Likes Rock 'n' Roll Beat

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Pueblo Police Officer C. E. Bosley was suspended from his job for 48 hours. The reason: Bosley left his beat for one he liked much better. Acting Police Chief Robert L. Mayber, who announced the suspension, said Bosley went to a dance hall — to listen to rock 'n roll music.

Ah, Bygone Fragile Dry-Clean-Only Days!

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — Beginning this Sunday, the women of America are expected to celebrate "Certified Washable Week," which is much like expecting mother to remark goody! when presented with an ironing board for Christmas.

Nevertheless, much has been planned in celebration, since when you come right down to it (the laundry tub, of course) you find that virtually everything is washable today. Disgustingly so.

Lovely was the day when one could go out and buy "dry-clean only" blouses, and silk lingerie that would positively shrink up in shreds at the thought of mixing with a detergent.

Those were the days, Madame, when you had it good . . . You had a dandy excuse to avoid dipping your hands in harsh hot water, and to take at least some of your finest clothes and linens to a dry cleaner, resulting in long, languid hours at the bridge table on Monday afternoons.

★ ★ ★

Now, everything takes work. From wallpaper to wool coats to carpets, it is scrubbable. Which means that if a woman is to be a "good" and thrifty wife, she's sort of obligated to wash all.

JUST NO END

And when she's finished a long day of washing out her husband's shirts, suits, overcoats and dispatch case covers? She then can turn her attention to removing — with one of those qwik-cut-soapies —her own elbow grease.

Science, with its push-button contraptions and its marvelous new fabrics and cleaners for same, is allegedly making life easier for the ladies. Nonsense.

We are spending more money than ever before for more products than ever before which are causing us more work than ever before.

The millions of people who make "certified washable" things get no huzzahs from me.

I'm saving my noisemakers and champagne for a "dry-clean only week" — when I'll have the time and inclination to make them blow and flow.

PUBLICITY BOOSTS BUG

Asian flu has kept people so concerned lately that the common cold, measles, chicken pox and St. Vitus Dance are being practically ignored. Not exotic enough; not epidemic enough.

Shows what a good publicity campaign will do for a bug . . .

So that the parents should not forget to watch for other signs besides high fever and an Asiatic sneeze, the Grove Laboratory researchers have alerted us to these anticipatory respiratory statistics. In the coming year:

Kindergartners will have an average of eight colds apiece. First and second graders will have about six apiece, and children in the fifth grade and higher, about five and a half. (With a half-cold, a child can still go to classes.)

'We Didn't Punch Cows With a Guitar'; Praises TV Westerns Today

By ROBERT L. MOORE

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — "Back in my day," he said, "they didn't punch cows with a guitar."

Thus, George (Pete) Morrison compared the Western film star of a few decades ago with today's singing cowboys of the screen.

★ ★ ★

Morrison, now 65, once shared the silent film spotlight with such horse opera stars as Hoot Gibson and William S. Hart. He figures he appeared in 204 films, including serials, two-reelers and scores of full-length features in which he was leading man.

PETE MORRISON
No Guitar

"It was a rugged, rough life in my day, the life of a movie cowboy," Pete said, "Sometimes we worked 30 hours at a clip. We didn't have a union that said you work only a few hours and then it's time and a half."

Pete was a 16-year-old railroad worker when he "crashed" the movies "by falling off a horse for $10." His "break" came at nearby Morrison, Colo., a town founded by Pete's grandfather, George D. Morrison, in 1862.

★ ★ ★

"The old Col. Selig Picture Co. was at Morrison filming 'On the Warpath'," Pete recalled. "An actor dressed like an Indian was supposed to ride very fast and fall off his horse. They shot the scene, but the 'Indian' went riding through and didn't fall.

"That's where I came in. I put on the Indian clothes and did the scene. Really, there's nothing to falling off a horse — if you know how to do it."

That was in the summer of 1907 and Pete remained a double and stunt man for the next few years. In 1915, he played a lead for the first time opposite Winifred Greenwood in "A Game of Three." Soon he was skyrocketed to Western movie fame.

★ ★ ★

Morrison remained a star for nearly 10 years. Then a new era in films began. "Talkies" made their debut.

"Yes, sir," Morrison sighed, "sound broke in 1926. I was a sick monkey."

Morrison doesn't go to the movies much any more. Instead, he's content to devote his time to his ranch. He spends his idle moments watching television.

"I like the TV Westerns," Pete admitted. "Particularly 'Wyatt Earp' and 'Gunsmoke.' The acting in those shows is smooth and easy and they've got good dialogue. I guess Earp comes closest today to being my kind of Western actor."

Says Reds Used Secret Potion

Charges Poisoning

FRANFURT, Germany (AP) — A former Soviet secret police captain has declared revenge-seeking Communists recently poisoned him with a secret potion developed in Moscow.

Nikolai E. Khokhlov told a news conference the Russians have developed poisons which cannot be detected in the ordinary way.

Khokhlov, who defected to the West in 1954 and now lives in New York City, was hospitalized here Sept. 15. He was treated in a German hospital and a U.S. Army hospital but neither was able to find traces of poison.

Commenting on this, Khokhlov, who looked pale and haggard, said: "Since they didn't find any trace, it is 100 per cent proof that it was sent from Moscow."

Khokhlov said that during his years in Moscow, he became familiar with Soviet officials who worked in a supersecret laboratory that was developing a nondetectable poison for assassination attempts.

The alleged attempt on Khokhlov's life came during a conference here sponsored by the anti-Soviet National Alliance of Russian Solidarists (NTS), a Russian emigree organization which advocates violent overthrow of the Soviet regime. The conference took place in a city-run restaurant called the Palmengarten.

"The whole case is nothing but a publicity stunt," Doetsch told an interviewer.

Doetsch said German and American investigators told him they were skeptical of Khokhlov's story.

Khokhlov told the news conference he believes the poison was slipped to him in a cup of coffee.

Pleasant Fall Weather Outlook for Most of U.S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Generally pleasant autumn weather was the outlook today for most of the nation although rain continued to dampen areas in the Far West.

★ ★ ★

Stormy weather in northern California has caused more than a million dollars damage to agriculture, roads and power lines. Heaviest damage was in Napa and Sonoma counties north of San Francisco. Rainfall measured more than 6 inches in some places.

★ ★ ★

Only minor wet spots were reported in other parts of the country. Northerly winds blowing across the Great Lakes resulted in scattered sprinkles from the northern Appalachians into the upper Ohio Valley.

Last year in the city, seven deaths were blamed on polio. Over the previous seven years the average was 30 deaths.

U.S. Could Have Fired Moon Two Years Ago

(Two years ago U.S. rocket scientists proposed to shoot history's first man-made satellite into space—but were ordered to drop the project! How this came about, and why the U.S. delayed, are disclosed in the following article, third of a series. Martin Caidin is the author of "Vanguard!")

By MARTIN CAIDIN

The irony of the dazzling Russian success in being the first country to hurl a satellite into an orbit about the earth is that American rocket scientists have had the capability to do this same thing for many years.

The warnings of U.S. scientists that we were losing the fight for space went unheeded.

PRODUCED ROCKET

As far back as 1946 an American company had produced a rocket motor of 100,000 pounds thrust. This was twice as powerful as the motor used in the German V-2, which climbed at nearly 4,000 miles per hour. More than 10 years ago we had the rockets and the fuels with which to send small satellites into space. When military and civilian scientists pleaded to try some of these experiments, they were criticized and told to stick to laboratory work.

More than 10 years ago the Convair Company fired the first rocket in the world with a motor mounted on a swivel. The swivel ring of the MX-774 provided extraordinary control of the rocket as it climbed beyond the atmosphere. Shortly after the initial rocket tests the government canceled all funds, and the program bogged down.

Nearly eight years ago General Electric engineer Robert P. Haviland was project chief of the two-stage Bumper rocket which soared to 252 miles above the earth, in 1949 the highest altitude ever achieved. A year later, after studying the performance of rocket motors and fuels with which he was then working, Haviland stated that we could send a small satellite into an orbit 300 miles above the earth at 18,000 miles per hour. Haviland was ordered to concentrate upon "practical matters."

HARD AT WORK

In 1955 the United States Army and Navy were hard at work on a secret Navy program called PROJECT ORBITER. Naval scientists, working with Dr. Wernher Von Braun, proposed to modify a 70-foot Redstone rocket, place two stages of solid-propellant rockets atop the Redstone, and fire a small satellite at 18,000 miles per hour into an orbit around the earth. The launching site was to be from the Galapagos Islands near the equator. The rockets were all "off the shelf" hardware. No special development program was required.

In an Army test not too long after, Van Braun's group fired a "Jupiter C" test missile down the South Atlantic. The rocket reached a height of 650 miles, and tore through space at 18,000 miles per hour. The scientist was not allowed to send a rocket 18,000 miles per hour.

Simultaneously with PROJECT ORBITER and at least two other military proposals for a scientific satellite, a group of engineers at the Air Force missile test center in Florida met for a special conference. They had run the performance figures for rocket motors and missiles—then in production or otherwise available—through a computer.

The results were startling. By assembling EXISTING motors and missiles, they could build a rocket which would carry 150 pounds of instruments away from the earth at 29,000 miles per hour. In less than five days the rocket would crash on the moon.

The cost was negligible, the chances of success approximately 93 per cent. The prestige of such a venture by the United States would have been incalculable. In the early summer of 1955, with mathematical computations and detailed drawings, the proposal was put before high officials in the Pentagon.

Unknown to any of these military groups, American scientists who were participating in the International Geophysical Year had placed on President Eisenhower's desk a proposal for scientific satellites to be launched during U.S. participation in the I.G.Y.

UNHEARD OF

Quite obviously the President and this scientific advisory group had never heard of the joint PROJECT ORBITER venture, or of the other space programs.

On July 29, 1955, the White House announced the new satellite program. The officials of PROJECT ORBITER and the other groups were stunned. In a single move all their hard-won gains were swept from the boards. Everything else would be dropped for the new satellite effort, quickly coded PROJECT VANGUARD.

Scientists of the Army and Air Force were convinced that the United States would adopt a practical view toward the satellite launching.

This meant simply that the scientists of the National Science Foundation and the National Academy of Sciences, and their representatives on the U.S. Committee for the I.G.Y. would present their satellite to the Air Force or the Army, to be fired from the Air Force's Cape Canaveral missile test center in Florida.

The Army proposed a variation of its PROJECT ORBITER design, still using its Redstone rocket, to get a satellite into space "within months;" by the fall of 1955.

It was rejected on the basis that it could not return sufficient scientific data.

The Air Force in turn recommended that the giant Atlas ICBM missile be afforded crash priority in its development and that a number of missiles be modified to hurl satellites of different shapes and weights into space. But an economy-minded U.S. government turned down the request for the expensive priority program, and then rejected the Atlas on the grounds that normal development would require too much time.

PLAN WON

The Navy came up with the winning combination. It proposed to take the existing Viking and Aerobee-Hi research rockets, modify them, add a third booster, and shoot a 21-pound satellite into an orbit. The heart of the Navy proposal was that the new combination would use existing rockets, that it in no way interfered with military programs, that it would cost only 10 million dollars, and that it was a "pure scientific venture."

The Navy proposal was accepted for Project Vanguard; all other opportunities to get a satellite into space were wiped out. Military scientists who pleaded for speed in the satellite race were ordered NOT to work on the satellite rockets. This has been a grave error for our country.

The Navy's Vanguard rocket is a highly sophisticated vehicle. It incorporates advanced electronics, and a sensitive control system. For its size and its weight it is likely the most efficient rocket vehicle ever built anywhere in the world.

But its engineering problems are enormous. They are time consuming. It is a monumental task to develop so fine and precise a rocket as this. Were there sufficient time for us to develop such a rocket, it would have been the perfect choice.

But we did not have that time! Project Vanguard moved slowly. Appropriated funds disappeared down the sinkhole of rocket development. Exasperating engineering delays time and again held up work. Disappointing slow-ups were announced, and then came the official word (not expected) that the actual satellite launching was to be extended from 1957 to 1958.

And in the meantime—despite the ominous reports of sensational Russian missile development—our engineers worked under economy-imposed restrictions. Our research centers closed down every night at the end of the work day, and remained closed during weekends and holidays!

Dr. Clifford Furnas, former assistant secretary of defense, clashed with his boss, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, on the satellite program priority. Furnas quit his post. "We didn't give it first priority effort," he said. "If we had, we could have been ahead of the Russians."

* * *

And while Project Vanguard wallowed helplessly in its engineering and economy problems, the Russian scientists worked feverishly. The result: No Vanguard rocket has yet been fired. The Russian satellite is a hard fact of life.

ROCKED SCIENTISTS

Furthermore—the Soviet "moon" has rocked the Vanguard scientists back on their heels. The American sphere will weigh 21 pounds; the USSR satellite of 184 pounds is described by our scientists as "fantastic." The American scientists announced that "if only one out of the 12 Vanguard rockets we're building gets a satellite up, we'll be more than satisfied."

The first Russian launching was an incredible success. The American scientists stated that a nearly circular orbit was beyond the capabilities of Vanguard; the Russian satellite moved in almost a pure circle.

The truth is not that Russian scientists have outstripped our own. The truth is that we have hobbled our scientists, stifled their wishes to move into space, and held them to "practical matters."

That is why it was a Russian, rather than an American satellite, that first began spinning around our planet.

Reckless Drivers Find It Easy to Fix Up Tickets

By ARTHUR T. VANDERBILT
Chief Justice of the Supreme Court of New Jersey

The courts having jurisdiction over violations of our traffic laws play an important part in the concentrated efforts now being made to increase the safety of our streets and highways.

Last year of the approximately 70 million licensed drivers in this country, some 20 million were ticketed for alleged violations. In New Jersey alone our municipal courts handled 990,901 traffic matters and collected $5,954,899 in fines and costs from erring drivers.

The traffic courts, coming as they do in direct contact with such a large percentage of the population, have become by all odds the most important courts in our judicial system.

On them rests the primary responsibility for developing in our citizenry that respect for law which lies at the very foundation of effective traffic law enforcement and on which in the last analysis all of our democratic institutions depend.

FIX IT UP — Motorists often evade a traffic summons by the well-known political process of having it fixed so that the matter will never come up in court. The evil has been eliminated by a unique system of recording traffic violations in New Jersey.

HARD TO UNDERSTAND

It is therefore difficult to understand why in many jurisdictions so little attention has been given to the traffic courts and why every proven device to increase their stature and effectiveness has not been utilized.

Perhaps the most common and damnifying criticism of traffic courts has been that so many people have found it possible to evade answering a traffic summons by the well-known political process of having it "fixed" so that the matter will never come up in court.

In a nationwide survey of traffic courts made a number of years ago unquestioned evidence of ticket-fixing was found in 39 out of 76 cities covered. In one out of every four cities visited the lag in traffic law enforcement was directly traceable to this insidious practice.

MANY FIXED

Generally tickets are fixed without the knowledge of the police officer who served the summons or of the judge who should have heard the case. How it is done is one of the mysteries of modern American life, known only to the politically initiated.

It is a vice, however, that is readily cured, as has been demonstrated in New Jersey, by the use of a simple uniform non-fixable traffic violations ticket.

The police officer makes out the ticket in quadruplicate with the aid of carbon paper. The original goes to the traffic court, one copy goes to the police headquarters, one is retained by the police officer who made it out, and one is handed to the offender.

★ ★ ★

All books of tickets are issued to law enforcement officers by the court and must be accounted for.

This kind of ticket cannot be fixed without the active aid of three public officials — the judge, the police chief and the issuing officer. After weighing the slim chances of success against the very real dangers of failure, few offenders consider it worth their while even to try.

That the ticket is non-fixable in practice as well as in theory is amply demonstrated by the experience in Newark, the largest city in New Jersey.

In the first four months the new ticket was in use only 607 were not disposed of in court — and most of these had been issued to non-residents who did not intend to return to the state — whereas in the corresponding four months the year before 14,529 tickets were not responded to.

The introduction in New Jersey of the uniform non-fixing traffic ticket by rule of court was violently opposed by many police chiefs and some prominent citizens, but significantly not by the policemen.

A spokesman for their association described it as "an Emancipation Proclamation and a Declaration of Independence for the patrolman."

★ ★ ★

Oddly, despite its demonstrated success and the endorsement and support of the Conference of Chief Justices, the Conference of Governors, and the American Bar Association, as well as many other organizations interested promoting traffic safety through the improvement of traffic law enforcement, the uniform non-fixable traffic ticket has not caught fire.

New Jersey is the only state where its use on a statewide basis has been made mandatory, although it is in use in a large part of New York, many cities in Michigan and in scattered cities in some 25 other states.

The time has long since arrived when every city and state should put an end once and for all to the vicious practice of ticket-fixing.

The means are at hand. All that is now needed is the will to do something about it and a day or two of courage while the beneficiaries of the old order are bewailing their loss.

But Will Speed Up Testing

Pentagon Still Undecided on Army or AF Missiles

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon, still undecided between Army and Air Force versions of the intermediate range ballistic missile, will continue testing both on a speedup basis.

How soon a decision can be made, a spokesman said, will depend on what future tests show. A choice of one or the other, or a combination of both, had been sought within the next few weeks.

★ ★ ★

No reason was given for the change of plans except the need for more data. The announcement made no mention of Russia's firing of the first earth satellite, sent aloft by a powerful rocket.

Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy announced last night that he had approved a recommendation "to continue testing of the Jupiter and the Thor intermediate range ballistic missiles until a better technical basis is established for an IRBM program decision."

The recommendation came from William M. Holaday, head of a three-man committee which includes an Army and an Air Force general.

The decision to continue testing the Army's Jupiter as well as the Air Force's Thor into next year seemed at least a temporary victory for the Army. Former Secretary Charles E. Wilson had directed that the Air Force would be the service to use whatever IRBM weapon system was evolved. And he also originally planned to let the Army's development program die off when funds for the Jupiter project were exhausted late next month.

The new order by McElroy gives the Jupiter project an extension which may run into several months of time and some millions of dollars in money.

A Defense Department spokesman said the testing of both missiles will continue at an "accelerated" rate.

Blazing Object in Western Sky Called Meteor

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (INS)—A noted scientist identified the brilliant ball of fire that streaked across western sides yesterday as a meteor.

Dr. Lincoln la Paz, director of the Institute of Meteoritics in Albuquerque, said the fire ball which briefly alarmed the nation probably was a stray from the Giacobinid comet.

He said the fire ball had the characteristic bright blue color of a meteor and it appeared on the anniversary of the 1946 Giacobinid meteoric shower.

The world-famous Dr. la Paz said the fire ball was seen by six widely-separated observers, all of whom identified the object as a meteor.

Astonomers said this is the time of year for the meteoric showers, and the next heavy downfall is expected Oct. 18 and Oct. 23.

A two-day celebration will be held this Saturday and Sunday, Oct. 12-13, by the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Pontiac Aerie No. 1230, in Honor of tis 52nd anniversary.

★ ★ ★

The festivities will be highlighted 3 p.m. Sunday with the dedication of the Eagles new home building and laying of the cornerstone, at 289 W. Montcalm St. State President Clarence Dalrymple of Flint, will be the feature speaker, after which a dinner will be served by ladies of the auxiliary.

★ ★ ★

The weekend will get underway at approximately 7:30 p.m. Saturday when the drill and ritual teams will initiate a class of new members. Grand Worthy President Martin J. Mol, and State Chaplain Donald Black will be speakers.

This will be followed by a buffet luncheon and dancing.

Advises Bawling Out Boss if Angry at Him

LOS ANGELES (INS)—A University of California doctor said today that when you're angry with your boss, bawl him out.

Dr. Maurice Sokolow, chief of the university's Department of Cardiology, told the Los Angeles County Heart Association that yelling back at your boss may not only improve your standing with him but may prevent you from getting high blood pressure.

★ ★ ★

Bawling out your secretary or some other scapegoat, he said, "is, in effect, repressed hostility and does no good. You have to punch the right target, not a substitute."

Flu Continues to Twist Its Way Through U. S.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Flu, like a broken-field runner, zigzagged across the United States today, trampling hard over some communities, dodging others, but generally dealing stiff blows.

Whether it was mostly Asian flu, or combined with other varieties, was uncertain. But either way, a rampage of coughs, aches, fevers and sniffles was on. Vaccine defensives were termed by some too late or too little.

The U.S. Public Health Service said estimates of Asian flu cases alone had passed the million mark, with heaviest occurence in Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama, Arizona and Ne York City.

An Associated Press survey showed most other states also have been seriously hit at some points. Persons stricken usually recover in a few days, but at least 15 deaths this month have been attributed to flu complications.

Many public schools were closed. Dances and social affairs were called off.

Athletic schedules crumbled. Football games were postponed or canceled by scores of high schools, and some colleges. Of a 26-man McAlester, Okla., high school team, 23 were out with flu.

At many educational institutions, infirmaries were crowded or overflowing. A former men's mormitory at Stanford University in California was converted into a temporary convalescent ward.

The infection also struck in factories and industries — even prisons. In the State Reformatory for Males at Hagerstown, Md., 126 prisoners — more than a tenth of the inmates — were down with flu. Visitors were barred.

Some hospitals also restricted visiting. Others refused to admit Asian flu cases, due to its highly contagious nature. Doctors and nurses worked overtime.

In a state home for retarded children at Medical Lake, Wash., staff physicians — along with a third of their patients — were ill with flu, and giving medical orders from bed. Nurses were put on double shifts.

The influenza sweep seemed to follow no definite geographical pattern, striking hard at some cities with others nearby scarcely hit, then jumping full force to distant areas.

Horses Draw Paris Wagons

79-Cent Gas Brings On Use of Animals Under Strict Legal Rules

PARIS (INS) — Horse-drawn delivery wagons are making a slow comeback in sophisticated Paris.

During the Suez crisis last year Paris police received more registration requests for "horse-mobile" than during the three preceding years.

One big mineral-water merchant reopened his stable in the center of the city and installed six horses-in-waiting.

A competitor, not to be outdone by him or undone by the gas shortage, set up house for thirty horses.

Gasoline once again is plentiful in Paris, but sells for 79 cents a gallon, based on the new rate of 420 francs per dollar. Thus both merchants are holding on to their horses; Operation Clop-Clop continues.

"powered" by horses, donkeys or mules. Dogs can become beasts of burden only in special cases.

The law also says:

Drivers must not crack their whips without real reason.

Horses must not be debridled on the streets — even to give them food or drink.

Oats must be provided in a pouch attached to the animal's neck.

★ ★ ★

These regulations apply to 43 horses who help distribute mineral water, 27 donkeys used in Luxembourg Garden and the Champs-Elysees gardens, 19 horses and eight mules used by rag merchants and six horses employed by wine merchants plus the horses used by tourist-minded cabbies.

Russians Cool to Missile Plan

Soviet Minister Snubs U.S. Bid to Start Talks on World Control

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Western diplomats at the U.N. today had hopes the Russians soon would accept an American offer to discuss international control of outer space missiles within the framework of the world organization.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko ignored U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge's bid yesterday to begin such talks, made at the beginning of the disarmament debate in the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee.

★ ★ ★

Observers pointed out, however, that the Russians are traditionally slow to respond to overtures on major issues, even when their own foreign minister is on the scene. It is standard procedure for Soviet diplomats to contact the Kremlin on any big questions and await specific orders.

The Western disarmament resolution was still held up while the 20 or more sponsors tried to agree on wording of the passage proposing control of space missiles.

★ ★ ★

One informed source said there had been a move to make control of such weapons the subject of a separate resolution. Military leaders in various Western capitals reportedly balked because outer space has never been clearly defined and any separate ban might put a halter on all ground-to-air rockets.

Russia Offers Pool 110 Pounds Uranium

VIENNA (AP)—Russia has offered to give 50 kilograms (110 pounds) of uranium 235 to the atoms-for-peace pool of the new International Atomic Energy Agency.

★ ★ ★

The United States has promised at least 5,000 kilograms.

Prof. V. S. Emelyanov made the Soviet offer yesterday. The correspondent member of the Soviet Academy of Sciences said Russia has "the most advanced knowledge in the field of nuclear science" and is willing to share it with other nations.

Gbedemah Is Natural Leader

He Boomerangs Mishaps

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS

Finance Minister K. A. Gbedemah of Ghana knows how to organize, how to fight and how to laugh.

These, among other qualities, have made him one of the three most influential men in the newest nation of Africa.

★ ★ ★

They also have helped win him an invitation breakfast with President Eisenhower.

For a Dover, Del., roadside restaurant picked just the wrong man to inform that he couldn't drink his orange juice at the counter because "colored people are not allowed to eat here."

The incident broke into print, and, as Gbedemah — pronounced bed'-eh-mah—said with a grin, he was invited to the White House to have orange juice to "make up for what I paid for and didn't drink."

The finance minister, a dark-skinned, handsome man who speaks flawless English with a British accent, was born the son of a prominent man of the African Gold Coast in 1913.

TEACHER, CONTRACTOR

He was educated at Adisadel and at Achimota College, both in Africa, went into business as a candy manufacturer, then taught science and mathematics at Accra Academy and finally became a contractor to builders and an operator of passenger transport and road haulage services.

He gave up all this to enter politics in 1948 and became chief organizer of the new, energetic Convention People's Party, which demanded independence. He is still "director of operations" of the party.

As editor of the party newspaper, he published an article that got him thrown into prison by the British. He came out six months later to attend a rally in a cap bearing the initials "P.G.", which he explained to the crowd meant: "I am now a Prison Graduate and qualified to carry on the fight."

The cap became a symbol of the battle for independence.

With Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah and Minister Kojo Bosick, he is one of the most influential men in the country.

He and his wife, Adelaide, have five children. The oldest, Bisesu, 13, is attending school in Switzerland.

Crewmen to Arrive at Midway Island

HONOLULU (AP)—Thirty-four of the 42 crewmen taken off the grounded Navy tanker Mission San Miguel were scheduled to arrive at Midway Island tomorrow aboard the LST that rescued them.

★ ★ ★

The other eight, four officers and four seamen, were transferred from the LST to the salvage ship reclaimer to aid in salvage. The tanker is stranded on the Maro Reef 745 miles northwest of Honolulu.

★ ★ ★

The Mission San Miguel, carrying a water ballast cargo rammed onto the reef Tuesday night. The oiler, under charter to the Navy, was reported listing at 12 degrees and the engine room flooded.

Detroit was founded in 1701 by French traders headed by Antoine Cadillac who wanted to control the entry from Lake Erie to Lake Huron.

CHICAGO (UP)—Louis A. Boening, 80, early movie theater operator and generally credited with ending a producers' monopoly on film projectors, died yesterday. Farmers Take Jobs in Cities Part Time

SUMMIT, Miss. (UP) — Frank Watkins, who carries a rural mail route out of Summit, did some personal research on the question of how many farmers also have city jobs.

"I went over my list of patrons carefully and I do not think there are but two out of the 275 who make their livelihoods exclusively on the farm," he reported. "The others have some form of industrial or commercial work to supplement their farm income."

Europe has an average of 207 persons per acre, compared with Asia's 122, North America's 23, South America's 16, and Oceania's 5.

Charge Is Murder in Boy Scout Slaying

MUSKEGON (UP) — Herman Barmore today was ordered bound over to Circuit Court on a charge of second degree murder in the July 1955 fatal shooting of Evanston, Ill., Boy Scout Peter Gorham.

The move was based on a four-page opinion delivered by Municipal Judge William T. Caughey, ruling out accidental shooting in the 12-year-old boy's death near a suburban Duck Lake Scout camp.

The opinion revoked a $20,000 bond against the 44-year-old itinerant handyman and ordered him held without bond pending arraignment Oct. 14 on the murder charge.

Sheriff Arthur Davis said Barmore, also sought as a New York State parole violator, has admitted the shooting as a target practice accident. Davis and Prosecutor Robert A. Cavanaugh sought to have Barmore tried for murder.

After the first examination of Barmore on the murder charge last July, Judge Caughey ordered him bound over for manslaughter. He ruled that evidence failed to support a charge of murder.

Woman Who Killed Six Dies in the Electric Chair

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A plump, 50-year-old waitress who killed three daughters, her mother and two husbands with rat poison died in the electric chair early today.

She left behind a wish for her body to be turned over to a medical institution. She said she wanted it learned "why I committed the crimes I have committed."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Rhonda Belle Martin died clutching a New Testament in her left hand.

Mrs. Martin was put to death for the poisoning of her fourth husband, Claude C. Martin, in 1951.

After her arrest in March 1956, she signed a statement admitting that she fed rat poison to two other husbands, three of her children and her mother.

Her fifth husband, Ronald Martin, survived the poisoning, but the other victims died. Ronald Martin is the son of the victim for whose killing the waitress paid with her life.

★ ★ ★

Prison officials yesterday found in Mrs. Martin's Bible a note she had written Oct. 14, 1956. It was turned over to authorities at Kilby Prison, where the electrocution was carried out.

The note said:

"At my death, whether it be a natural death or otherwise, I want my body to be given to some scientific institution to be used as they see fit, but especially to see if someone can find out why I committed the crimes I have committed.

"I can't understand it, for I had no reason whatsoever. There is definitely something wrong. Can't someone find it and save someone else the agony I have been through."

★ ★ ★

The condemned woman was strapped in the chair at 12:07 a.m. and received 2,200 volts of electricity three minutes later after one false start. When the switch was thrown the first time, it was discovered the electrodes hadn't been plugged into the chair and the task had to be repeated.

Gov. James E. Folsom denied an appeal for clemency yesterday.

★ ★ ★

Besides Claude Martin, the woman admitted poisoning her second husband George Garett in 1939. She also told of feeding rat poison to three daughters, 3-year-old Emogene Garrett in 1937; Anna Carolyn Garrett, 6, in 1940; and Ellyn Elizabeth Garrett, 11, in 1943. She also admitted that she killed her mother Mrs. Mary Frances Gibbon in 1944.

Her written statement said she had small insurance policies on the lives of all six victims. She was tried only for the death of Claude Martin.

Fake Sputnik Throws Tasmanians Into Panic

HOBART, Tasmania (AP)—A toy rocket threw the Tasmanian capital into a panic last night. It exploded high over the city in a shower of sparks just as the Soviet satellite was scheduled to cross the sky.

Switchboards of newspapers and radio stations were jammed with calls from people who believed the red moon was about to crash.

The fake satellite was a student's joke.

Buys House for $125, Finds Bills Worth $500

SALEM, Va. (AP) — John H. Tingler was high bidder at $125 for an old house which this town wanted razed to make room for an addition to the water plant. Tingler, in dismantling the house, found a tin box in the attic containing a lot of old money, United States bills of the old wide size now taken out of circulation, which he disposed of for $500.

Between 1941 and 1955 the number of families in the United States with incomes of $4,000 to $7,000 a year nearly doubled, increasing from 11,200,000 to 19,500,000.

Chinese Battle 'Sex Appeal'

Reds Try to Regiment Lovely Women Into So Many Carbon Copies

By FRED SPARKS

HONG KONG (NEA) — If for no other reason I hate communism because it has destroyed the sex appeal of Chinese women.

CARBON COPIES

With Marxian determination to regiment a great people into so many carbon copies, Peking has wiped off the ladies' makeup and stuffed them into crude jackets and slacks as appealing as lumpy laundry bags.

Hong Kong is the only place to compare Female China Before and After—the peacock and the crow:

Here you see local girls in their traditional simple side-slit dresses that fit their graceful slimness like car polish, their faces oiled to gleaming, not a hair unruly.

Here you also see visiting ladies from neighboring Red Canton in their ghastly blue military-type blouses and rough pants, dry skin crying for soft soap, tiny feet jammed into short work boots and hair running in all directions like Soviet foreign policy.

The Communists claim to have "emancipated" women and given them equality in office and field. They've succeeded to such an extent that a current whispered mainland joke goes: "The only way to tell if it's male or female is pinch it. If it punches it's male, if it slaps, female."

Of course, no cosmetics can be imported and the Five Year Plan ignores lipstick and style. Peking's fall fashions feature a grim, soiled young lady in a coal miner's cap posing before her record dig.

SAW TRAGEDY

An Italian movie director recently in Red China for a film festival cried into his chianti and spoke thus of the tragedy:

"What I could make of those women! Any woman is irresistible who has that heavy-lidded Chinese eye. And that short upper lip. And the perfect teeth. And the complexion. And the waist. And the legs. But they are not allowed to look or dress or act like women."

MASQUERADE PARTY: Detectives D. R. Duling and F. G. Clark Jr., and Patrolman A. B. Cole, III, of Richmond, Va., police department, pose (top) as their fellow officers know them and (below) in two of their crime-stopping disguises.

Officers in Masquerade

Disguises Trip Criminals

RICHMOND, Va. (NEA) — When conventional crook-catching tactics need a boost in Richmond, Police Chief O. D. Garton sounds the alarm for a masquerade party.

★ ★ ★

And next thing you know, a trio of well-muscled ladies ar patrolling the streets to break up a wave of purse snatching. Or three seedy-looking tramps start loitering on a downtown corner and begin catching shoplifters offguard.

For what purse-snatcher is going to suspect that a nice gray-haired lady is toting a badge and a snub-nosed .38? What shoplifter is going to pay any attention to a tramp?

Current stars in Chief Garton's masquerades are Detectives D. R. Duling and F. G. Clark, Jr., and Patrolman A. B. Cole, III. And they're so good they even baffle their fellow officers.

★ ★ ★

Once, while in his role as a tramp, Duling was picked up for vagrancy by an unsuspecting Richmond policeman. In similar disguise, Clark showed up at detective headquarters and played the part of a stool-pigeon. Although he works with thos same detectives every day, they never tumbled to his act.

As the youngest of the trio, Cole tested his feminie disguise by applying for the job as waitress at a restaurant where he often eats. He was accepted. He's even been picked up by an eager male motorist.

The masquerade has been such a success that Garton is working on some new disguises. All the other officers, it seems, want to get in on the act.

Sonali Seeking Legal Separation From Husband

BOMBAY (INS)—A close friend of Sonali Dis Gupta, linked romantically with Ingrid Bergman's husband, Roberto Rossellini, disclosed today that the sultry Indian beauty is seeking a legal separation from her husband.

The friend said Sonali filed the petition in Bombay two months ago and that the case is still in the hands of lawyers.

★ ★ ★

The friend also disclosed that Sonali's husband, Indian movie director Hari Das Gupta, may seek a divorce and custody of his 18-months-old son who is with Sonali in Paris.

The Indian news weekly, Blitz News, reported that Rossellini would fly to Paris this weekend to join Sonali, who has been hiding out since her arrival there last weekend.

Miss Bergman aiso is in Paris, starring in the play "Tea and Sympathy."

Sonali left her husband last April and moved into the same hotel where Rossellini was staying, setting off a spate of rumors about a romance—all of which have been denied by the Italian film director.

He has been in India for several months making documentary films for the Indian government. Sonali worked for him as a script writer.

Prime Minister of Pakistan Quits

President Mirza Asks Moslem League Leader to Form Government

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Prime Minister H. S. Suhrawardy resigned today and President Iskander Mirza asked Ismail Chundrigar, leader of the opposition Moslem League, to form a new government.

★ ★ ★

Suhrawardy, who had headed a coalition Cabinet for 13 months, quit after the Republican party withdrew its support. The Cabinet was made up of five Republicans, five members of the Premier's Awami League and one nonparty minister.

★ ★ ★

The Prime Minister and the Republicans fell out over Republican demands that West Pakistan be reorganized into four or more small provinces. Suhrawardy opposed the reorganization.

★ ★ ★

Suhrawardy's resignation was announced after a two-hour conference at the President's residence. Chundrigar was in Dacca attending a party convention, and Mirza asked him to report whether he could form a stable government.

★ ★ ★

Formation of a government should have no effect on Pakistan's allegiance to the Western alliance and its Western ties as a member of the Baghdad Pact and the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization. The league was in power when the government joined both alliances.

Does Thorough Job of Stripping 1957 Car

NEWTON, Kan. (AP) — Someone did a thorough stripping job on the 1957 car of the Rev. Noah Unruh of Ford, Kan., parked in his brother's garage.

Items taken, police reported, were the radio, hub caps, mirrors, spotlight, cigarette lighter, fender skirts, a pair of binoculars, two billfolds with $35 in cash—and the car keys.

Marine Terminal Planned in Muskegon

MUSKEGON (AP) — Great Lakes Dock and Materials Corp. has announced plans for a multi-million dollar development of a giant marine terminal at Muskegon with construction to start next spring.

★ ★ ★

Emery J. Toth, corporation president, said it is designed to accommodate up to 18 deep-draft vessels at a time and includes plans for a marina for berthing 80 boats of more than 30-foot length.

★ ★ ★

The development, embracing 1,750 feet of frontage on the south side of Muskegon Lake, includes plans for two 1,000-foot slips plus a huge berthing basin for up to 14 of the largest Lakes freighters.

A proposed warehouse would give the port of Muskegon a second major marine terminal to handle anticipated increases in deep draft tonnage from the St. Lawrence Seaway.

The plans were announced as the Muskegon Chamber of Commerce Harbors Department reported that the port had reached a "practical limit" on transit shed and warehousing space for overseas and other cargoes through facilities of the West Michigan Dock and Market Corp.

★ ★ ★

The port already has logged 38 foreign ships this year, compared to 18 in all of last season.

Costly Storm Passes

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A storm that caused more than a million dollars damage in northern California rained its way inland today, dumping up to 6.48 inches of water in some sections. The Mt. Shasta area near Redding got the most rainfall.

Resistance at Little Rock May Boost Negro Cause

Many See Faubus' Action as Mortal Blow to Segregation

By RELMAN MORIN

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—What now for Little Rock?

What now for integration elsewhere in the South?

It may well be that the whole complexion of that great social struggle has been changed by President Eisenhower and Gov. Orval Faubus.

★ ★ ★

The thunderous September events in the city showed the breadth and depth of the feeling against integration. Most people applauded Faubus for using the Arkansas National Guard to keep Negroes out of Central High School.

Then came the riots and federal troops.

★ ★ ★

Prior to that violence, most people thought of the problem primarily in terms of integration versus segregation. They knew, of course, that the Supreme Court had declared segregation unconstitutional.

But they did not think of it as a question of obeying or defying the court's order, of complying with the law or flouting it.

The road from Capitol Hill in Washington to the school down the block seemed a very long one. Few people in Little Rock expected to be confronted so soon with the hard alternative of accepting integration or challenging the U.S. government.

Moreover, a precedent has been set. Violence may be answered, again and again, by the arrival of federal troops. Short of civil war, what resistance is left? What could it accomplish?

Thus Little Rock has clarified the issue, laid it squarely in the lap of every parent with a child in a segregated school.

For this reason, integrationists in Little Rock and elsewhere contend that Faubus and the rioters inadvertently dealt segregation a mortal blow. They think he has lopped years off the revolutionary process.

They expect to see a stronger civil rights bill enacted in Congress next year. They believe the federal courts will be less likely to permit delays in integration, and that the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People will become more militant, demanding more action sooner.

★ ★ ★

As for Faubus, the question seems to be: How does he get out of this impasse without surrender and loss of face?

★ ★ ★

On the morning he left for Newport, R.I., to meet with President Eisenhower, he seemed supremely confident of his position. He told this reporter, "I'm on the ground. I'm in control. It's up to them to make the next move."

Neither the federal court injunction against him Sept. 20, the riots Sept. 23, nor the arrival of federal troops Sept. 24 seemed to shake him—so far as you could see.

Then came the efforts of the four Southern governors to work out a compromise. The President and Faubus both issued statements giving the gist of it.

Only a few hours later, having read Faubus' version of the understanding, the White House said the deal was off. Some of the phraseology in the governor's statement was unacceptable.

At a news conference the next day, Faubus did not look so confident. Several times, fire showed through his usual calm as he answered questions. "What do they want to do, write my statement for me?" he asked, raising his voice. He did not hesitate to accuse the White House of "double talk."

Meanwhile, Central High School is open. The nine Negro students are going to classes under guard. Attendance rose daily during the first week.

Students and teachers describe conditions inside the school as being about as normal as they could be in such circumstances. There have been a few disturbances, and Virgil T. Blossom, superintendent of schools, acted quickly and forcefully.

★ ★ ★

A girl student said, "You're not really conscious of the soldiers there. They don't escort the Negroes to classes any more. They just stand in the halls.

"Some of the kids simply ignore the Negroes. Some are polite to them. There are two Negro girls in my gym class and they seem very nice."

She said a white boy sat a table in the school cafeteria with some Negroes during the first week. Later, some other white boys told him they would "get" him after school. "But I don't think they did," she said.

Judging from the attendance figures, it appears that between 15 and 20 per cent of the parents who have children enrolled at Central High are determined to keep them out.

For the others, integration has come and they seem to be accepting it.

As for the city, this incident may be a straw in the wind — A letter signed "Iris Bell" appeared in the Arkansas Gazette, Little Rock's morning newspaper. It said, "You will see a quick right-about-face in the situation," if persons who employ Negroes should discharge them, and if Faubus would cut Negroes off the welfare roles. The letter closed, "P.S., I discharged my maid this morning."

Executives of the paper said they immediately received a call from a woman they described as "prominent" in the city.

"She said she wanted to place an ad saying that she would personally employ any Negroes fired for that reason. There were about a dozen other letters like hers."

End advance PMs Oct. 11.

Robbery Victim Glad He Works for Pants-Maker

NEW YORK (AP)—Bernard Bertan is glad he works for a trouser manufacturing company. He has lost two pairs of pants in a week to the same holdup man.

A week ago Bertan, 60, was entering the building on 5th Avenue where he is employed by the Well Made Trouser Co.

A voice behind him suddenly told him to "keep goin' or I blow your brains out." The bandit marched Bertan to a stair landing, made him remove his trousers after handing over $31, threw the pants out an adjacent window, and escaped.

Yesterday it was the same old story, Bertan said: the same voice, the landing, trousers off and out the window. This time, however, Bertan had only $4 on him.

Symphony Settles Labor Troubles

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Philharmonic and its musicians have reached a contract agreement after a dispute which caused cancellation of the season's first two concerts.

The Philharmonic Symphony Society and the American Federation of Musicians yesterday agreed on a two-year pact providing for wage increases for the 104 orchestra members and a longer annual season.

The new agreement calls for $155 weekly this year and $157.50 next season. Last season the musicians received $145 a week.

The dispute caused concert cancellations last night and tonight. The orchestra starts rehearsing today for a concert in Carnegie Hall tomorrow night.

COPENHAGEN — Denmark, which started to make jukeboxes only three years ago, is now exporting them to India, Africa, Australia, South America, and Japan.

Seeks A-Test Ban

TOKYO (AP) — Foreign Minister Aiichiro Fujiyama told newsmen today he plans to return to the U.N. Assembly late this month to work for adoption of the Japanese resolution calling for suspension of nuclear weapon tests.

Christopher Columbus died in 1506 still believing that the new lands he had discovered in the Western Hemisphere were outposts of Asia.

U. of M. Brochure in Colors of MSU

ANN ARBOR (AP) — It may have been sabotage or a practical joke, but a new University of Michigan brochure came off the presses printed in green and white — school colors of its arch-rival, Michigan State.

★ ★ ★

A university spokesman described the print job as just "an error." The pamphlets should have been maize and blue, Michigan's colors.

About 4,000 of the brochures describing housing and academic standards were printed before the "error" wasdiscovered.

"The announcements won't be distributed in Michigan," the spokesman said. "It might be too embarrassing."

Two natives, from different farms at Glencoe, South Africa, paid fines in one day for "belaboring exhausted animals."

Girl, Judge Agree on Proper Treatment

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Donald Brewster, 20, who stole a typewriter from the University of Toledo bookstore so he could buy his girl an engagement ring, got the same treatment from the girl and a judge.

When Judge John N. McCabe asked him how he was getting along with his girl, Brewster said "She's put me on probation." The judge said "That's good enough for me" and put him on three-year probation."

Chop Suey Restaurant Deceives One Tourist

TOLUCA, Mexico (AP) — A tourist saw a large sign reading "Chop Suey" on the front of a restaurant. He entered and ordered a dish.

"We don't sell chop suey," the waitress explained. "That's just the name of the restaurant."

Heat Always on Mayor; Air Conditioner No Aid

CLEVELAND (INS) — Cleveland Mayor Anthony J. Celebrezze returned from a week's fishing trip to find an air conditioner installed in his office.

The mayor ordered the air-cooler taken out. It wasn't that he had anything against air-conditioning, he just said, "There's no air conditioner that can take the heat off the mayor's office."

Tells Needs of Refugees

Peter C. Kalinke, former war correspondent and lecturer, described to Zonta Club members some of the problems confronting displaced persons today. The Fulbright scholar, who now lives in Birmingham, grew up as a Hitler youth. He spoke to 60 members at Kingsley Inn Thursday night.

During World War II he was taken prisoner by the Russians and transferred to a Russian concentration camp. There, he said, prisoners were classified into categories depending upon their physical ability.

He told of the inhuman treatment, lack of food, and how prisoners lost hope of ever living as human beings again.

In 1945, with assistance from America and the Christians of the world, the German people began to hope again. But another problem beset them, that of the displaced person.

These homeless refugees, the speaker noted, are grouped in camps. Children are placed in with alcoholics and mentally ill persons and, he said, many of the children are growing up with atheistic tendencies.

The need is for youth groups and proper training, he pointed out. In 1955, Mr. Kalinke returned to West Germany as director of a local integration and rehabilitation project for displaced persons. This was financed and supervised by the United States Escapee Program.

The speaker organized and built this project in cooperation with the various international welfare organizations working with displaced persons in Western Europe.

The speaker warned of the Soviet Union, its aim of world domination, and told of experiences with the "inhuman activity" of the Soviet "Return to the Fatherland" campaign.

Three awards to the Pontiac Zonta Club for sesvice rendered during 1956 were turned over to Mrs. Neil Wasserberger, service committee chairman, by President Mrs. Chadd Mellinger. Other committee members who worked on the project were Mrs. Adrian Ish, Mrs. Russell Evans and Mrs. Lillian Wattles.

The awards were for help in juvenile delinquency, families in crises, and scholarship grants. Mrs. Mellinger had received the awards at a regional Zonta conference.

★ ★ ★

A guest of the meeting was Helge Siner of Frankfurt, Germany. Announcement was made of the Oct. 22 meeting of the group at the home of Dr. Sarah Van Hoosen Jones in Rochester.

AUDREY WEED

Mr. and Mrs. Donald C. Weed of South Roslyn street announce the engagement of their daughter, Audrey, to Gerald McGregor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carter McGregor of Sault Ste. Marie. Both are graduates of Western Michigan University, where she was affiliated with Alpha Chi Omega and he with Delta Sigma Phi.

Don't Choose Job for Glamor Only

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Just as one man's meat is another man's poison, one girl's dream job is another girl's bore.

★ ★ ★

So many jobs seem so very glamorous from the outside, but from the inside it's the same old grind.

That's why it's so silly to choose a job for its so-called glamor. Choose it because you have a real interest in doing the work.

FASCINATING JOB

For example, when I was very young, a "big girl" down the street, all of 18, had a summer job which absolutely fascinated me.

★ ★ ★

She worked in a candy factory, packing the candies in those little brown pleated papers and then putting them in the satiny box.

I, who had a terrible sweet tooth and considered those particular chocolates the best in the world, used to envy her.

★ ★ ★

Finally, I worked up the courage to approach her one evening and, with bated breath, asked for details about her job.

You can imagine my complete astonishment when she said, "Oh, I'm so sick of it! That awful sickly-sweet chocolate smell! I don't think I'll ever look at candy again!"

★ ★ ★

Since then, I've known girls who took jobs in theatrical offices, in movie houses, in fancy cosmetic salons, in dress designers' offices, in film producers' studios.

If all they took the job for was the glamor, they've ended up feeling just like my "big girl" friend in the candy factory.

On the other hand, if they've chosen the job for the work itself, they've done all right.

★ ★ ★

In the final analysis, it's what we do, not the superficial environment in which we do it, that counts.

STILL DULL WORK

If you have a dull statistical typing job, and statistics and typing bore you, it isn't going to be much pleasanter in the long run even if Gregory Peck or Tod Hunter drifts in and out of the office once in awhile. It'll still be little old you typing dull statistics!

★ ★ ★

So do, please, choose your job for the work itself and be sure the work interests you. Remember that all the icing in the world won't improve a bad cake.

If you honestly don't know what does interest you, you might get suggestions from my pamphlet, "Pointers to Your Basic Interest."

★ ★ ★

Send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send it to you.

Blind Need Recordings and Books

Congress Library Is Unable to Meet the Demand

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — More of the nation's blind people want to read, and their tastes are the same as those of the sighted, but a national program to provide "talking" and Braille books is unable to meet the growing demands.

★ ★ ★

Robert S. Bray, new chief of the Library of Congress' Division for the Blind, which administers the program, says it is reaching only 60,000, or one-fifth of the estimated 300,000 blind persons in this country.

50,000 RECORDED

Since 1934, says Bray, more than 50,000 books, including the Bible and "most of the good books, past and present," have been recorded. Before this the library had been turning out books only in Braille.

★ ★ ★

The Division for the Blind has about 45,000 record players in the field. During the past year about 7,000 more were contracted for, but Bray says this is still not enough.

The machines are furnished free to the blind and may be kept indefinitely.

The user does not have to worry about the upkeep. If something goes wrong the library repairs it. If the machine wears out the user gets a new one.

★ ★ ★

The recordings are loaned by some 28 regional libraries in the program just like any ordinary book and for the same length of time. They are mailed out in leather containers going post free.

MEDICAL CERTIFICATE

To be eligible one must have a certificate from a licensed physician, ophthalmologist or optometrist as to the degree of blindness.

★ ★ ★

Recordings and Braille printings are made at the American Foundation for the Blind in New York and at the American Printing House for the Blind at Louisville, Ky.

A new recording process developed by the former has added approximately 33 per cent more material to each side of the record so that the maximum playing time per side will be 27 minutes instead of the former 20.

★ ★ ★

Within the next few months all new titles will be on the longer-playing records.

BEST SELLERS

Current best-selling books are also being made available to blind readers in tape-recorded form by a non-profit, membership corporation, Best-Selling Books for the Blind in Phoenix, Md.

★ ★ ★

These are on a rental basis, with a charge slightly higher than the price list of the book for two weeks' use of the tapes.

Shape of Mouth Less Important

Genuineness Makes Smile Lovely

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Is it possible to have a pretty smile if you have a small mouth? My mouth is well shaped but the lips are quite thin."

A. The beauty of a smile depends much more on warmth and spontaneity and genuineness than on the shape of the mouth. When a smile has these characteristics people always respond to it, with never a thought as to the shape of the mouth.

However, since your mouth is well shaped you can improve the situation by following its natural lines but pulling the line out a little when using your lipstick. This will make the mouth appear larger.

Q. "I am just 45 and feel very self-conscious abut the lines from my nose to my mouth. I look very youthful except for these. I have the beginning of little lines on my lips, too."

A. Do the following exercise: Fill the cheeks with air. Make them look like balloons. Hold the air while you tap gently all over the face. Release the air and repeat eight times. Do the same thing with your face submerged in water in the bowl.

Repeat each 10 times, morning and night. Also massage ALONG the lines with a good cream and a rotary motion, GENTLY. You can partially "IRON" out the wrinkles.

★ ★ ★

Q. "My nose and the upper parts of my cheeks are very oily. Please tell me how to overcome this. It bothers me all the time."

A. Do not use cream on the oily area. Wash these areas with soap and water several times daily. Use an astringent after each washing.

Q. "Several of my friends and myself smoke a lot and our teeth look yellow most of the time. What can we do to prevent this?"

A. If you go to a dentist and have your teeth cleaned he can remove the discoloration, but it will return shortly if you continue smoking heavily. Some people seem to be more subject to this than others, depending on the quality of their tooth enamel.

★ ★ ★

Q. "I am 5 feet 8 inches tall. Am I too tall to look graceful in high heels or heels 2½ inches tall? Should I wear them?"

A. You are certainly not too tall to wear these heels if you wish to do so. You will look as graceful as shorter women unless you walk awkwardly on the stilts.

Some women who are above average in height prefer lower heels because many of their dates are just a bit taller than they, and the heels make the gals look taller than the men. However, other girls and women much taller than you wear high heels. It is a matter of individual choice.

The beauty of a smile depends much more on warmth and spontaneity and genuineness than on the shape of the mouth.

Man With Working Wife Can't Expect Pampering

Nor Will Gal Earning Her Own Living Act Like Dependent 'Little Woman'

By RUTH MILLETT

Memo to young husbands:

If you expect your wife to go on working for an indefinite time, you might as well also expect that her job will make a difference in your life.

In most ways a working wife has a more independent attitude than a stay-at-home wife. The fact that she can earn her own living is bound to make her

A working wife usually expects more help from her husband around home than does a wife who has all day to get the household chores out of the way. So the husband of a working wife can't expect the pampering some get from a full-time homemaker.

No matter how efficient a wife is at her paid job, the result doesn't do as much to "advertise" her husband as the volunteer community projects a non-working wife can take on.

Housewife Mrs. Jones, who is president of this and program chairman of that, gets her husband's name around a lot more than Mrs. Smith, who is some other man's efficient secretary.

★ ★ ★

The working wife is not, as a rule, as absorbed in every detail of her husband's working day as is the wife whose only contact with the world of business is through her husband. After all, the working wife has the routine of her own office to think about.

The working wife may be just as neat a housekeeper as the stay-at-home wife. But if she is, she will have to run the house as easily as possible.

This means her husband will have to be neat instead of careless, pick up after himself, put everything where it belongs, etc. He can't expect to have a wife following him around setting things to rights.

★ ★ ★

A husband might not consider any of these differences between the working wife and the stay-at-home wife important. But at least he ought to know what to expect and what not to expect of a working wife.

America's Teenage Boys Want to Be Like Ike but the Girls Prefer to Copy Princess Grace

By EUGENE GILBERT
President of the Gilbert Youth Research Co.

For all their surface sophistication, teenaged American boys and girls are still hero-worshippers at heart, just as were their fathers and mothers.

And, like their voting parents in '52 and '56, they like Ike. In fact, they go further in their expressed desires, and would like to be like him.

We polled these young men recently and found that one out of three held President Eisenhower as the man they would most like to pattern their own lives after.

Judging by their comment, the teenagers not only admire the President as a leader of men in peace and war but also as a man.

★ ★ ★

"The youth of America should all try to follow Eisenhower's example," recommended 17-year-old Roy. "That would be the death of juvenile delinquency."

AFFECTION OF WORLD

The President, said an Austrian-born Jon Schwarz, "deserves and has won the affection of most of the world. If I could be even a little like him I would consider myself a success in life."

★ ★ ★

"I've looked up to Ike since the war," added New Yorker Dick Callahan. "He's a real prince."

Elvis Presley, the gyrating rock 'n' roller, showed up as a rather distant second to the President in our poll. One out of seven wanted to be like him. They admired him for his material success.

Grace Kelly, the movie queen who became a real-life princess, was the favorite among teenaged girls. One in five girls told us they wanted most to be like her when they grew up.

★ ★ ★

"Not only has Grace Kelly done all those marvelous things but now she has the most adorable baby as well," sighed 17-year-old Mary-Louise Bier of Westchester, N. Y. "How could a girl help but admire her?"

Queen Elizabeth of Britain and Marilyn Monroe of Hollywood each proved to be the idol of one in seven young women.

★ ★ ★

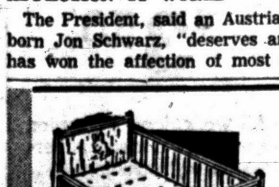

"She (Queen Elizabeth) represents all the finest qualities of womanhood," asserted a 16-year-old.

"How many women could lead such a strenuous life and yet remain a good wife and mother? She will always be my ideal."

★ ★ ★

"Marilyn," observed 18-year-old Jan, "is one person who graduated with honors from the school of hard knocks — and she made her way to the top, a place where I, too, would like to sit sometime."

Brides Get Too Many Showers

Community Custom Has Become Real Hardship

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Here in this community where I live, it seems to have become a custom to have an unlimited number of showers for the bride-to-be and invite her friends to all of them. Not only that but they also specify on the invitations what you are supposed to bring, and more often than not it is an expensive item.

"This is becoming a real hardship to many of us and we would appreciate it if you will print something in your column about the bad taste of such a practice and thereby put a stop to it."

Answer: I certainly agree with you that the same group of friends should not be asked to more than one shower for each bride. Moreover, shower presents should be no more than trifles because they supplement, and do not take the place of, wedding presents.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please settle an argument? Is it proper for parents to request an invitation for their daughter and son-in-law who are visiting from out of town to a wedding to which the parents have been invited? I think it would be very much out of order for them to do so. What is your opinion?"

Answer: I agree with you that these parents should not ask that their daughter and her husband be invited unless the daughter is an old and intimate friend of the bride.

It would then be quite normal for the mother to call up the bride saying, "Mary is going to be visiting us with John just at the time of your wedding. Would you like to have them come to it?"

"Dear Mrs. Post: When I call my husband at the office, I always say to the switchboard operator, 'May I speak to Mr. Jones?' Whereupon she asks, 'Who is calling?' I answer by saying, 'His wife.'

"I have been told that this is the wrong way to announce myself, and that I should say, 'This is Mrs. Jones' — or 'Alice Jones.' Will you please tell me if I am wrong, and if so, what should I say?"

Answer: To say "his wife" as you do is correct.

Queen Prays for Success of Their Journey

New Chapter Begins for Elizabeth, Philip

(This is the last of six articles about Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip and their impending tour of the United States.)

By BOB CONSIDINE
By International News Service

Queen Elizabeth II works at a big desk in a combination office and drawing room deep in a wing of Buckingham Palace her subjects seldom see. There is a ton of paper work, much of it decided for her by Cabinet and courtier in advance, but still needing her perusal and signature.

★ ★ ★

It will follow her in the bright red dispatch boxes of the Foreign Office during her trip to Canada and the U.S. As head of the state and of the British Commonwealth her handwriting must be noted on countless papers and documents, and she is expected to know what she is signing.

At home the Queen's day begins at 7:30. Most days she's at her desk at 9, begins to see people from all callings and corners of the commonwealth and elsewhere at 11:30. She lunches with Philip at 1 o'clock, and of late has been turning these into business affairs.

Then back to work until 5, when she has somebody in for tea. There is a session with the children at 8. If there's no evening appointment she is said to like to kick off her shoes, read the papers or watch TV. She retires about 11.

★ ★ ★

She will follow this routine, more or less, until her death. There is no retirement age for queens of England.

CHIEF COUNSELOR

Philip has become her chief counselor and probably would be regent until Prince Charles was of age, if anything happened to Elizabeth II.

Elizabeth's family, once called in the House of Commons "our oldest nationalized industry," must pay for everything — plane tickets, rail tickets, groceries, the help, etc. — out of the moneys which come to her and to them from what is called the Civil List.

There has been grumbling from time to time about the high cost of maintaining a royal family and of palace advisers and people close to the queen, but traditionally these barbs are never leveled at the queen herself.

The London Daily Mirror gave space recently to columnist Cassandra's complaint that costly and unnecessary renovations had been made on the $6,160,000 royal yacht "Britannia," which is used for approximately 30 days each year.

★ ★ ★

Cassandra barked also at what he called plans to buy a British counterpart to President Eisenhower's Columbine — a $2.8 million prop-jet.

CLOSE CRITICISM

Royal criticism was brought closest to the Queen herself by Lord Altrincham who, writing in his National and English Review last August, described the Queen's speaking style as a "pain in the neck."

★ ★ ★

Elizabeth's training has been "woefully inadequate," he went on, continuing: "The personality conveyed by the utterances which are put into her mouth is that of a priggish schoolgirl, captain of the hockey team, a prefect, and a recent candidate for confirmation."

The Queen hardly ever replies directly to such jibes and suggestions. But she did take a stand in the wake of worldwide reports that there was a rift between her and Philip.

The Queen asked her personal detective chief superintendant, Albert Perkins, to question all staff members, hundreds of servants and even the guards in their shakos, in an effort to pin down the source of the distressing rumors. (All had signed, as is customary, a pledge never to divulge anything seen or heard around the royal family.)

★ ★ ★

Press secretary Richard Colville denied the rift story in one line, issued from Buckingham: "It is quite untrue that there is any rift between the Queen and the Duke."

OPPOSED TO DIVORCE

The resignation of Cmdr. Michael Parker as the duke's private secretary, at the height of the reports, was said to have been called for by the Queen. But a usually well-informed source said it was only because of Parker's own domestic difficulties that he quit.

★ ★ ★

Elizabeth II, in both her role as titular head of the established Church of England and also in her occupation as a devoted wife, is vigorously opposed to divorce.

The rift rumors were aggravated by the good times Philip seemed to be having with old Royal Navy buddies and other friends during a 36,000-mile commonwealth tour between October 1956 and February of this year, a tour which included his opening of the Olympic Games at Melbourne.

He is, let one suggest, a gayer soul than the Queen, as well he can afford to be. But from all possible good sources, Philip is deeply devoted to Elizabeth, the children, and his job. For him to have kicked all this away would have been unthinkable as well as a shattering blow to royal prestige.

★ ★ ★

Philip called the Queen several times during the trip, using a line that does not go through the palace switchboard. He offered to cut short his trip and return immediately.

"That would be undignified," the Queen said. Instead, she went to Portugal to meet him on the way back.

SIMPLE PLEASURES

The handsome couple dominates Europe's, if not the world's, last full-dress royal court, but each can be as simple as those they serve. In season, when they can, the Queen, the prince and the children like to go off by themselves to a cottage called Gassalt Shiel, on the banks of the River Dee, a few miles from Balmoral Castle.

★ ★ ★

They make the journey across the Scottish moors in a Land Rover, a British jeep, after attending services at Crathie Church.

As Phip takes the children out to look for kindling and logs, the Queen spreads out the meal she is to cook. She turns it out on an old-fashioned range, and they have it in the cottage dining room. The prince does the dishes, helped by the children.

There is a sitting room in the thinly furnished cottage, but no bathroom, no telephone, no work, no people — not even nurse Helen Lighbody. They spend the afternoon near the water, playing, reading, listening to a portable radio.

★ ★ ★

When dusk gathers itself the little group picks up its things and goes back across the moors to the castle that symbolizes the curious jobs for which they were born.

For Elizabeth II and the Prince Philip a new chapter of their work book begins Saturday afternoon in Ottawa. It will be concluded after trips to Washington, Jamestown and Williamsburg, Va., and New York.

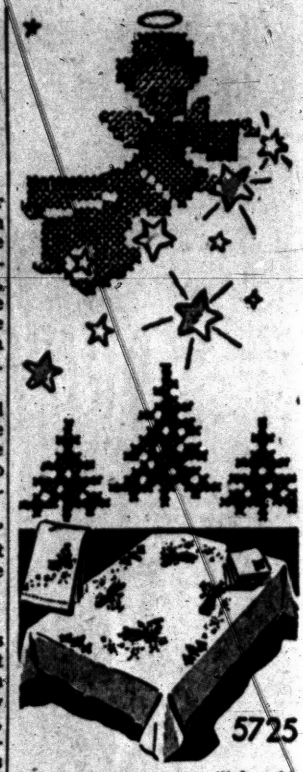

★ ★ ★

It will have bearing on the subsequent chapters in the life of Elizabeth, her consort and the commonwealth. She prays it will give substance and meaning to the new Elizabethan Age.

Disliked Job Will Lose Glamor

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Until the Allens learned their second child was on its way, they were happy with their two-bedroom garden apartment. Then they realized they'd have to re-plan sleeping arrangements.

★ ★ ★

Mr. Allen said the solution was simple — that young Jack could share his bedroom with the baby.

But Mrs. Allen said, "No John, that's impossible! At 4, Jack's just at the age when jealousy is a terrible problem. If he has to share his bedroom as well as you and me with the baby, we are going to be asking for more trouble than we can handle. No, the baby's crib will have to go into our room."

So that's where it went.

But as many other parents have discovered, sharing their bedroom with the baby was anything but a solution for the Allens. It increased Jack's envy of the newcomer instead of appeasing it. It made a decent night's sleep impossible for wage-earning Mr. Allen.

★ ★ ★

Worst of all, loss of their marital privacy began to breed an unspoken but intense resentment between them. Mrs. Allen thought her husband a brute not to appreciate her loyalty to her maternal obligations while Mr. Allen thought her unforgivably casual toward her wifely ones.

FURIOUS AT CHILDREN

Soon they were not only furious at each other but at their children, too, for producing such strains.

★ ★ ★

Of this kind of situation, psychiatrist Philip Polatin writes so helpfully in his book, "The Well-Adjusted Personality," that I want to quote him.

Says he, "In these days when families are kept in quarters too small for their needs, parents searching for a solution that will meet the children's needs, frequently forget their own—one of the most important being their need for privacy.

"They forget that their original impulse to found a home together away from the intrusion of their own parents was based on their need for privacy in which their intimate relationship could develop and flourish.

★ ★ ★

"It is ironic how many people achieve emancipation from their own parents only to become enslaved to their children because they overlook their need for privacy or assume it must be lost when children come.

"We can do children no greater disservice than to promote their physical welfare at the cost of our contentment as husbands and wives."

★ ★ ★

I hope these wise words reach as many expectant parents as possible.

Hair Styles Call for Soft, Casual Look

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

The continuing influence of Chanel in fashion has had its effects on hair styles, too. This fall, short to medium hair styles will have the soft look.

About the only way a girl can achieve a soft and casual hairdo that will stay in place is with a permanent. Knowing this, one well-known house has developed a permanent wave that is the ultimate in softness. With it, a girl can have any hairdo she pleases without the look of a permanent.

★ ★ ★

She will leave the salon with hair that is soft and manageable, that falls easily into place, that forms curls readily when she sets it. She'll be relieved of the drudgery of setting her hair every night or every other night. With this new permanent, she can set her hair just once a week when she shampoos it.

Under this fall's turbans and cloches, the soft hairdo with the definite line will be the prettiest. It's also the one that won't be flattened easily by a close-fitting hat.

Flooring Tip! Use a waste scrap of flooring as a block when tapping home the edge around strip of hardwood flooring. This will avoid marring the wood.

Hollywood---A State of Mind Surrounded by Romance, Glamor

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

HOLLYWOOD (NEA) — When movie pioneer Jesse Lasky arrived in Los Angeles by train from Chicago in 1913, he hailed a taxi and told the driver he wanted to go to Hollywood. The cabbie gave him a puzzled look and said:

"Get in, boss — we'll find it. . . ."

WORD MAGIC

Today the magic word "Hollywood" is known from hamlet crossroad to jungle hut and this month Hollywood is celebrating its 50th anniversary with a coast to coast, 20-city "Golden Jubilee" tour of stars and other celebrities in a chartered airliner leaving Oct. 17.

But even after 50 years, finding Hollywood in the maze of Los Angeles streets and traffic is still a perplexing problem for wide-eyed tourists, sailors on shore leave and starry-eyed arrivals whose goal is fame and fortune in movies and television.

There is, you see, no city of Hollywood, really.

Hollywood is a state of mind surrounded by romance and glamor.

THIS STARTED IT — "The Count of Monte Cristo," starring Hobart Bosworth (left) was Hollywood's first in 1907.

HOLLYWOOD AND VINE — A street corner and a restaurant a few miles west of the Los Angeles city hall.

Clerks in a United States post office just off Hollywood Blvd. have stamped "Hollywood" on all outgoing mail since 1948 as sort of an industry trademark, but physically Hollywood is just a small, roughly defined area a few miles west of the Los Angeles city hall.

MEMBERS BLUSH

Oh, yes, there's a Hollywood Chamber of Commerce, but its members have been blushing for years because the real Hollywood doesn't look at all like the state-of-mind Hollywood should. Now they are raising money to put the names of stars on lampposts and in bronze plaques in the sidewalks to help distinguish Hollywood from Los Angeles. They hope it will make tourists happy because the glamor Hollywood stands for isn't found in Hollywood.

Not a single movie or TV star lives in Hollywood. The stars live in nearby Beverly Hills, Bel-Air, Westwood and in other distant areas. Even four of the film industry's six biggest studios are miles away — MGM in Culver City; 20th Century-Fox in Beverly Hills, and Warner Bros. and Universal-International clear across a mountain range in San Fernando Valley.

Except for the Brown Derby, near the corner of Hollywood and Vine, the cafes, the restaurants and the night clubs in Hollywood look like those on any Main Street, U.S.A. Some, in fact, are in the honky-tonk league. The plush saloons are on the Sunset Strip, six miles west, and the swank eateries and fancy shops are in Beverly Hills.

Hollywood is celebrating its Golden Jubilee because 50 years ago Col. Billy Selig's Chicago-based film company came West to shoot outdoor scenes for "The Count of Monte Cristo," a 15-minute "drama," with a double impersonating its star, Hobart Bosworth. Col. Billy couldn't afford sending Bosworth out West.

And even these scenes weren't filmed in Hollywood. They were shot in the backyard of a Chinese laundry in downtown Los Angeles. A fellow named Thomas Parsons was the cameraman and he's the only member of the company still alive. He lives in Miami, Fla., and Hollywood is blushing about his current occupation —he's producing TV commercials!

But filming of those outdoor scenes for "The Count of Monte Cristo" in California was the birth of "Hollywood" as a state of mind.

The Chicago and New York "flicker" makers followed Col. Selig to the then smog-free land of sunshine, oranges and real estate agents and soon the country crossroads of Hollywood and Vine were overrun with bathing beauties, cowboys, Keystone Kops in Model-T Fords that reared on their hind wheels, cigar - box shaped movie cameras hand cranked by fellows in turned-around caps and a young genius in yellow puttees named C. B. DeMille.

★ ★ ★

They were followed by slinky sirens, handsome heroes and mustache-twirling villains, who played the love game in front of Hollywood cameras, and the miracle of the movies swept the nation — and the world.

"Going Hollywood" still means living beyond your means. African native girls wiggle like Marilyn Monroe. Danish housewives buy "King-Size Hollywood Beds," and Japanese teenagers buy "Designed in Hollywood" clothes. Drive-in restaurant car hops in Montana dress like Hollywood chorus girls and "Hollywood Home Plans" are sold in Sweden.

After studying Hollywood and its people for a year, even an anthropologist, Hortense Powdermaker, had to admit, "There is only one Hollywood in the World."

Junior Editors Quiz on THE EARTH

QUESTION: What's inside the Earth?

★ ★ ★

ANSWER: It was once thought that the center of the earth was a molten mass, like the inside of a volcano. But now we know that the earth deep down inside is a solid mass of metals, mostly iron but including other metals. Starting from the ground down, the earth is encased in a solid crust of rock averaging about 700 miles thick. Geologists call this the lithosphere or sphere of rock. In some places, this skin is thin and soft. Gases manage to force their way through and erupt into volcanoes. Going down through the earth's rocky crust, temperatures rise as much as one degree Fahrenheit for every 60 feet of depth. Except for occasional earthquakes and volcanic eruptions, man seldom is concerned about the intense heat at the core of the earth. He has flown higher in the air than he has been able to probe the earth's surface. Even a 15,000-foot oil well is but a pin prick in the earth's tough skin.

★ ★ ★

FOR YOU TO DO: Visit a local museum and observe the earth science exhibits and various rock specimens. Or get a book from the library to learn more about it.

McElroy to War on Bottlenecks

Amazed at Delays Met, Complacent Scheduling of Missile Tests

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy's war on "bottlenecks" may send 40 or 50 giant missiles streaming from the Florida coast in accelerated tests during the next few months.

The new cabinet officer was reported amazed today at the delays and complacent scheduling he has encountered in the testing of American counterparts of Russia's space missiles and satellite rockets.

★ ★ ★

McElroy told newsmen a few hours after being sworn in Wednesday that he is preparing to authorize additional overtime pay to speed up the missile program. He said this may be "of really quite considerable importance" in accelerating tests.

The secretary spoke mildly, declaring his initial purpose is to remove "bottlenecks" that are holding up information on which missile decisions can be based.

But there was a suggestion of an iron fist behind his words.

He also said: "I think the American people have a right to an answer to that question. . .What the H—l is required to give this country an adequate defense?. . .

★ ★ ★

"I hope to be the guy that tries to help get the answer for them."

During a preparatory tour of missile installations he has just completed, McElroy was told:

— — That only five of 50 scheduled test firings have been completed with the 1,500-mile ballistics missiles, although their final configurations were determined nearly a year ago. Three of the tests were failures.

— — A U.S. satellite test rocket that was shipped intact to Cape Canaveral, Fla., last May has not yet left the launching pad. This test must precede the launching of "pilot" satellites, which was set for this fall but is now rescheduled to begin in December.

— — Even though ballistics missiles were excepted from the Pentagon's flat economy ban on overtime pay, the test program generally has been on a 40-hour-week basis. Field managers claimed that difficult "justifications" were required in Washington for any overtime granted.

McElroy mentioned the U. S. Missile Test Center on Cape Canaveral as one place where additional overtime will be authorized, but he said the projected order will also apply at many other installations—wherever test weapons, equipment or materials originate.

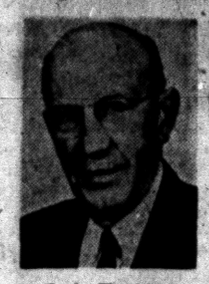

The new Pentagon Chief also indicated he may lift some of the secrecy behind which delays have taken place.

Pontiac High Plans for First Homecoming Festival

By WILLIAM BANK

For the first time in the history of Pontiac High School a homecoming festival or Anteneeban (Indian for Fall Festival) will be held.

It is scheduled to take place from October 14-18 and will consist of an election of Chief and Princess, a parade with many floats, a football game, and a post-game dance.

The winners of the Chief and Princess election will be announced today. Those nominated for chief include: Emmanuel Williams, Lyn Carson, Steve Lewis, Larry Beamer, Jerry Robinson, Gideon Robarge, Bob Thompson, Bill Hanson, and Harry Van Matre.

Princess candidates are Addie Taylor, Sharon Mower, Shirley House, Muriel Upton, Bonnie Bouford, Jeanne Johnson, Priscilla Runnels, Connie Scott, Sharon Daniels, Judy Baker, Ellen Taylor, Sharon Gale, Marie Dworin, Myrla Henry and Lona Lambdin.

Each candidate must be in the eleventh grade and have an average above "C". They are nominated and sponsored by one of the clubs or groups of the high school.

When the Chief and Princess are elected, they will reign over the festivities throughout homecoming week which begins Monday. They will receive their crowns the night of the football game Friday, October 18, at Wisner Stadium between Pontiac and Saginaw.

BANDS TO PARADE TO GAME

At 5:30 that night a parade will leave the Crofoot Elementary School field bound for Wisner Stadium. The Color Guard of the Pontiac National Guard will lead the parade with the Pontiac High School band. The bands of the five junior high schools in Pontiac will also participate in the parade.

★ ★ ★

At least 14 floats, with an Indian lore or football theme, will be entered by several of the high school clubs. Those planning to enter floats are: Future Teachers, Girls' Recreational Association, Dolphins, Vocal Department, Radio Workshop, Student Union, Student Council, Cheerleaders, Art Club, and Boosters.

Clubs working together on floats are Hi-Y and Y-Teens, Future Nurses and Ushers' Club, Quiver and Tomahawk, and the Latin, French, and Spanish Clubs.

At the beginning of the game a seven foot statue of Chief Pontiac will be presented by the General Motors Corporation. Then, during the half-time festivities, authentic Indian dances will be performed by members of the Chippewa Tribe of the Charlevoix area.

★ ★ ★

After the game a dance will be held in the P.H.S. gymnasium. Decorations will carry out the Indian theme.

CONSTRUCT HOMECOMING FLOAT—These five Pontiac High School coeds seem to have a teepee in mind as they begin construction on one of the 14 floats for the parade of first homecoming next Friday. Left to right are: Fannie Johnson, 53 Utah St.; Elinor Miteff, 287 Elizabeth Lake Ave.; Connie Scott, 20 Dix St.; Suzanne Looney, 160 S. Johnson Ave., and Marua Lowe, 183 Fisher Ave.

St. Fred Holds Annual Retreat

Time to Take Spiritual Inventory of Self, Life; Do Serious Thinking

By PATRICIA FOSTER

Big news at St. Frederick High School this week includes the annual student retreat given by Father Kuntz.

This particular time of the year gives the students an excellent opportunity to take a spiritual inventory of themselves. It gives them a chance to get down to some serious thinking about life in general.

Also headlining the news Sunday is the annual St. Michaelvs. St. Fred football battle. A very spirited pep rally was held in the hall after the close of retreat this afternoon. A free day is in store after the expected victory.

The social workers' club took their first field trip to the Lapeer state training school last week.

Students heard a lecture on the foreign and home missions Friday. The lecture was followed by a very interesting and informative movie concerning Christian persecution in China.

★ ★ ★

The Sodality has elected its officers for the school year. They include: Brian Dirker, prefect; Donna Needle, vice prefect; Douglas Presto, secretary and Jerri Dobski, treasurer.

ATTEND CONCERT

A group of seniors are going to Marygrove College in Detroit after school tonight to see the Don Cossack Chorus sponsored by the Dad's Club at Marygrove.

Reading, Aptitude Testing Conducted in Junior Highs

Tests! Tests! and more Tests! the ones which help the student more than they help the teacher are in the news at Lincoln Junior this week. A series of exams for the seventh and eighth graders continues under the direction of Phil Hillarie and Mr. Dick Elder of the Oakland County Reading Service.

Six Lincoln staff members returned from a stimulating conference on reading held at Higgins Lake Conservation Department Training School over the week. Philip Wargelin, president of the Pontiac Administrator's Association, which sponsored the conference, headed the delegates. Ralph Forman, assistant principal, and Mrs. Jean Stultzman, Larry Sherwood, John Buchanan, and Mrs. Theodore E. Wiersema, also attended.

Mrs. Myrtle Meabon's 7th grade social studies class is doing a bit of work in learning the resources of various countries. Homer Hassenzahl was especially commended for his work in locating and bringing to class unusual reference material for class use. Joyce McBurney was given special mention for her skill in map making.

AT WASHINGTON

The first edition of the Tom-Tom, the Washington Junior High school paper, has been published. This is a club activity sponsored by Joyce Hofman and Ruth Ward, English and Social Studies teachers respectively. Pete Wollaeger is the editor of the staff of twenty students. The paper will circulate every other Friday.

★ ★ ★

Washington has four of the participating Student Teachers from Michigan State University. They are: Sally Camm, Speech; Ann Demery, English and Social Studies; James Williams, Science; and Jack Samples, Physical Education.

AT MADISON

Seventh grade speech classes at Madison Junior High, under the instruction of Patricia Clark, are in a traveling mood. The topic for their presentations is "An Interesting Place to Visit." They have discussed travels made by students to all parts of the United States, Holland, and Hawaii, Philippine, and Wake Islands.

When one steps into the art room at Madison, one sees many birds, fish, and animals. Two seventh grade art classes have been working on paper mache projects. The geese and ducks appear real enough to shoot! Miss Woodin's ninth graders have just completed some work in clay sculpture.

In observance of Fire Prevention Week, a special assembly program was presented this week in cooperation with the Pontiac Fire Department.

Firemen cautioned students to be sure to check up on fire hazards in their own homes. In order to assist parents, a Home Fire Safety Check List was handed to the students, so that each one could check up on yard, garage, housekeeping, heating and cooking hazards in his home.

★ ★ ★

A Movie entitled the Importance of Fire Prevention concluded the program.

AT EASTERN

Students in the ninth grade vocations classes at Eastern Junior High are busy this week taking aptitude tests for occupations divided into personal-social, mechanical, general sales, clerical routine, computational, and scientific.

Each student is preparing a personal profile based on the information obtained from the tests.

These profiles or graphs showing the levels of these abilities, will not only be of value to the individual student through gaining greater self understanding, but they are expected to be helpful in planning for the high school course of study and the future life work. The tests are being administered by guidance personnel.

It was announced at a faculty meeting this week that Eastern would again participate in the annual magazine drive.

The drive is scheduled to begin at Eastern November 4.

AT LAKE ORION

The scoreboard has been erected at the Lake Orion Junior High School at last. Funds began with a class gift from the graduating class of 1955, while the school was the high school. They were completed this spring by the student council which raised nearly $200 to complete the $1,400 cost.

★ ★ ★

The school also has a new PTA organized just a week ago, with 125 in attendance.

AT AVONDALE

The Avondale Junior High School Glee Club, composed of seventh and eighth grade students, has begun fall rehearsals.

An extra-curricular activity, the Glee Club meets each Wednesday after school for its regular rehearsal. In addition to performances by the full Glee Club, Vocal Music programs will include selections by smaller ensembles such as quartets and trios. Tentative plans call for appearances during the Christmas season, at a student assembly and before a civic group. Currently, the Glee Club, which includes 50 voices, is preparing a Christmas presentation.

Avondale Junior High football game with Fitzgerald has been changed from Oct. 17 to Oct. 16, Wednesday night at The Avondale High School.

Fossil Remains Found in Luzon

Many Kinds of Animals, Crude Implements Tell Life of Prehistoric Man

MANILA (INS) — Prehistoric man roamed the Philippines 400,000 years ago.

This is the belief of an American anthropologist who recently unearthed fosillized remains and crude implements in the mountains of northern Luzon.

FIND REMAINS

The American scientist, Laurence L. Wilson, added that among the remains found in the swamplands of the north were those of several species of small, early elephants, rhinoceros, primitive forms of the wild pig, and other herbivorous and carnivorous animals.

★ ★ ★

Aside from the wide variety of wild life found there, he said, crude implements were unearthed indicating that a form of prehistoric man roamed the Philippines four thousand centuries ago.

Wilson, a long-time resident of Baguio City, north of Manila, predicted that fossilized remains of early Philippine man will be found in the general vicinity as shown by the discovery of crude implements.

Avondale Selects Officers

Class officers were chosen in school elections last week at Avondale High School.

Frank Harris will lead the seniors in their final year, assisted by Jerry Poynter, vice president; Judy Schoonover, secretary; and Sharon Wiles who manages the class' finances for a second year. Student council member is Catherine Gorang.

The juniors chose Tom Greenless as president; Mike Walker, vice president; Wanda Welsh, secretary; and James Brewer, treasurer. Linda Hall was elected to the student council.

Sophomore Irvin Gingrich will be president of his class with Dale Stuart, vice president; Judy Hooie, secretary; and Nancy McReynolds, treasurer. Venette Hysmith was chosen student council representative.

The freshman class elected Donald Sugden, president; Carol Brokenshaw, vice president; Richard Selhost, secretary, and Heather Romigh, treasurer. Chosen as a two-year representative for student council was Garn Nelson and Kitty Milldebrandt, one year.

Returning student council members are Charles Nurek, senior; Carol Mazurek, junior; and Margaret Paynter, sophomore.

Charles Nurek and Catherine Gorang, seniors, were elected president and vice president, respectively, for the Avondale student council. Assisting them will be Venette Hysmith, secretary; and Margaret Paynter, treasurer.

All classes and school clubs are busy with plans for floats to be used in the parade. All alumni are being notified by mail of the activity.

A practice debate between the Waterford and Avondale debate teams took place at Avondale Tuesday, according to Forensic leader, Leonard Passint.

The cheerleaders this year are Marilyn McKenzie, captain; Mary Lynn Shoup, Beth Woodward, Penny Christopher, Ellen England and Karen Green. Mary Jo Parker is a substitute.

A new system for the selection of the queen of the homecoming game on October 18 has been devised. Each student will be allowed one vote for a junior or senior queen and two votes for a sophomore or freshman member of the court. Voting took place today.

The senior magazine drive was a big success. Seniors sold $2,864.90 in subscriptions. The class received $956.60. Kathleen Abbey and Ed Fry won watches as top salesmen, and runnersup Darrell Shanahan and Jackie Sibley won trophies.

★ ★ ★

The Boot Bop, a dance held at Lake Orion Youth Center tonight will climax the festivities of the night of the Orion vs. Oxford High Schools football game. All Oxford High School students are invited to attend and dance to the music spun by Bob Maxwell, Detroit jisc jockey.

AT WALLED LAKE

Once a month throughout the school year the Inter-Lakes student council meets to discuss common problems and various ideas. The members are officers of each school's student council. Participating in this league are Walled Lake, Berkley, Farmington, Southfield, Van Dyke and Waterford.

Walled Lake was host to the first meeting of the year.

Officers elected were Dave Marsh of Southfield, president; Ron Jordan of Farmington, vice president; and Kay Armstrong of Walled Lake, secretary-treasurer.

Establishment of an Eastern Michigan Student Council conference was discussed.

The council also made plans for a traveling trophy to be awarded to the school exhibiting the best sportsmanship during that year. This will be discussed further at the next meeting.

Every year each school holds a talent assembly with students from the other schools participating. This year Farmington, Southfield and Van Dyke will exchange talent. Others are Waterford, Berkley and Walled Lake.

THREE OF A KIND — Something to be proud of are these triplet heifer calves, Faith, Hope and Charity, shown with their owner, Raymond Palmer, of Flemington, Mo. The calves, now seven months old, are an animal rarity. Authorities point out that triplet heifers occur once in 832,000 cattle births and that for all three to survive is even rarer. The calves are second generation and artificially bred.

Milwaukee Fans Say "Welcome Back to Bushville"

Pandemonium Reigns in 'Bushville,' Wisconsin

MILWAUKEE (AP) — The Braves brought the world championship of baseball home last night, and not since the song of the Valkyries has such a sound been heard in the land.

"I thought," said one hero whom even five years in the home of the Braves had left unprepared to face 750,000 roaring voices, "that you had to die in battle to get this kind of a welcome."

★ ★ ★

But Valhalla was never like this.

Said homecoming chairman Ben Barkin, "I hate to think what would have happened if we'd had a chance to really plan this celebration."

This is what happened:

Milwaukee, which holds within its metropolitan area about a million souls, turned out most of them early last night, and kept them out late. The downtown area — scheduled to see a parade of the World Champions after their arrival—began to clog with humanity in midafternoon. By the time the Braves' airplane touched down at 7:30 p.m. (CST) there were 250,000 people in an area roughly two blocks wide and two miles long along Wisconsin Avenue. Not a wheel turned in this area for hours.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile at the airport, 10,000 jammed the terminals Piers, decks and roof and another 10,000 swarmed out over the field. When the door of the chartered United Air Lines DC7 Mainliner opened and manager Fred Haney appeared, what little in the way of formal ceremonies had been prepared were swamped along with the television crews and cameramen.

Lew Burdette, who pitched his second straight shutout and his third straight triumph against the Yankees to clinch the World Championship was greeted by an Indian lady named Gloria White Thunder, who with friends from the Winnebago Indian Dance Club had been entertaining the airport crowd with victory dances.

Burdette came out of the encounter draped with wampum—that's money, pale face, in the form of woven beads—His mates found something in the sight that might prove ominous to General manager John Quinn at contract time this winter.

Unfurled at the airport were the first of the banners which repeated the same message for miles:

"Welcome back to Bushville."

This term of opprobrium — used opprobriously by a Yankee spokesman when the big shots from the Bronx brushed off a polite civic reception of their ill-starred visit to Milwaukee last week—has been taken to the bosom of the burghers here and is flaunted on every side.

Folklore has credited Mr. Charles (King Kong) Keller of the American League baseball club of New York with these deathless words, and for better or for worse the Yankees may weary of them before they pass away into the silence with the last words of Gen. Robert E. Lee, the late President Lincoln and others.

"The big shots with the big talk," a scholarly orator at the airport said. "Six errors they made. Them Yankees has got all the finesse of a guy falling down the cellar steps, ain't it?"

Set in an illuminated marquee before a big auto agency was an old Milwaukee maxim, refurbished to fit the times:

"The Yankees grow so soon old

"Und so late schmart."

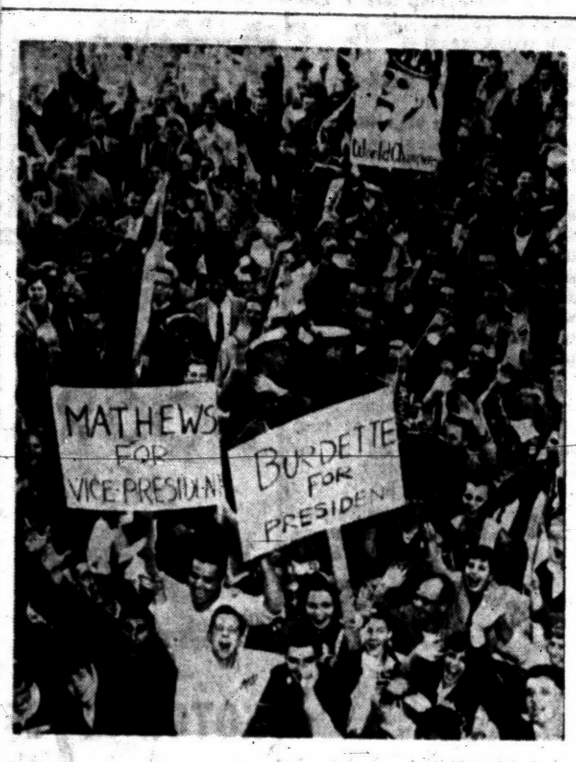

The parade itself was an 11th hour ordeal for the Braves themselves, but they were game. The Braves in 30 convertibles faced 47-degree temperatures spiced by an 8-mile-per-hour wind off Lake Michigan.

"Leave the tops down," they said. "These people have waited five years for this."

And the parade took off, slow enough for babes in arms to be held up that they might witness the event. Several ladies and gentlemen of the younger set not having any babes in arms handy, held up puppies instead.

★ ★ ★

Then the word came by radio that the parade must be rerouted. For the critical two miles of Wisconcon Avenue, people were jammed so tightly together that no lane could be cleared. Inspector Rudolph Miller said that there was literally no place for the crowds to go. So the Braves swung down a south side street, and for a mile or two had clear sailing. Then the crowds scented the diversion and for the rest of the way to County Stadium there was more of the slow passage through cheering crowds, squalls of rice and confetti, blaring brass bands and the banners bearing the strange device: "Welcome home to Bushville."

Final Win Completes Milwaukee Miracle

Braves World Champs on 5-0 Victory at NY

Errors, Del Crandall's Homer Help Dethrone Yankees

NEW YORK (AP) — Milwaukee's miracle is now complete. The miracle man is Fred (Merlin) Haney with Lew Burdette his magic wand.

Make no mistake about it. This was a standout team that came from behind repeatedly and overcame crippling handicaps to dethrone a good New York Yankee team in seven sizzling World Series games. This was a young team, too. The starting Braves' nine that shut out the Yankees 5-0 yesterday behind the remarkable seven-hit pitching of Burdette averaged 26.4 years to 31.4 for the American League champions.

Cold figures don't tell half the story of Burdette's truly remarkable pitching performance. The tall, sinewy righthander walked only one batter—and that was intentional. He was rarely behind the hitters as only four Yankees reached the three ball count. Not until two were out in the ninth inning did a Yankee runner reach third. With the exception of Hank Bauer's leadoff double, no extra base hit was made off him.

★ ★ ★

Practically everybody expected the Braves' defense to crack. Instead it was the Yankee fielding that collapsed. The team as a whole made six errors, twice as many as Milwaukee did. Three of the miscues came yesterday and one of them opened the gates to the four Milwaukee runs in the third.

★ ★ ★

As luck would have it, the culprit was Tony Kubek, the 20-year-old Milwaukee boy who had put himself forever in bad with his townfolk when he hit those two home runs and drove in four runs in the Yankees' 12-3 rout of the Braves in Milwaukee last Saturday.

This time, lady luck frowned upon Kubek. After Hazle had cracked a one-out single off Larsen in the third, Logan rapped a hard grounder to the versatile youngster at third base. Kubek, with an easy inning-ending double play in sight, threw too high to second forcing Jerry Coleman off the bag. Coleman's throw from an awkward position, was too late to get Logan at first.

Mathews followed with his two-run double. Then Aaron and Wes Covington singled and Frank Torre drove in another run with a grounder and Milwaukee had a 4-0 lead, Milwaukee's other score came in the eighth when Crandall boomed a drive off lefthander Tommy Byrne over Enos Slaughter's head into the left field stands. Byrne was New York's fifth pitcher.

DUGOUT DANCE — Jubilant Milwaukee Braves rush from their dugout to mob pitcher Lew Burdette (left, back to camera) and to join other teammates in a hop-skip-jump dance toward the locker rooms. Burdette won three of the four games for Milwaukee in the seven game series. The lone Yankee in the picture to the extreme right is Gerry Coleman who was on base when the last out was made and who got caught in the middle of the Braves' war dance.

Pitcher Lauded by Stengel, Haney

Series Story Is - - - Burdette

NEW YORK (INS) — In purest essence, the story of the 1957 world series is — Lew Burdette.

After Burdette won the seventh and deciding game of the series by hurling his second straight shutout and third consecutive route going victory, the praise for the crew-cut righthander was unstinting in both dressing rooms.

★ ★ ★

Milwaukee manager Fred Haney, fully aware that Burdette had turned in the finest series pitching since the immortal Christy Mathewson in 1905, got off the ultimate accolade when he declared:

"If Burdette could cook, I'd marry him."

When Haney was asked to point out the "key play" of the game, he replaied, "That's easy. In one word — Burdette."

That's how everyone — Yankee and Brave alike — felt about the series in which Burdette became the first three-game winner since Harry Brecheen in the 1946 classic.

Beaten manager Casey Stengel, who lost only his second series in eight tries going back to 1949, didn't hold back at all in lauding the 31-year-old Burdette.

★ ★ ★

"That feller held us better for three games," said Stengel, "than any pitcher I can remember. He deserves all the credit that he can be given."

★ ★ ★

The broad-shoulder righthander, who was born in Nitro, W. Va., but lives now in Sarasota, Fla., accepted the wild acclaim of his mates and owner Lou Perini with all the modesty he could muster.

"I was relieved when it was over," said the 6-foot-2, 180-pound hurler, "I had a little trouble in the ninth but I had two outs, and pretty soon it was three.

"I threw sliders mostly at the righthanders and sinkers and screwballs to the lefthanders. I'm going home now to Sarasota and relax."

★ ★ ★

Perini then threw a bear-hug around Burdette's neck and pressed as photographers snapped pictures, Burdette reminded them:

Send me copies of this shot — I'll need them at contract signing time."

Burdette, who ran his string of scoreless series innings to a near-record 24, was a throw-in on the 1951 deal with the then-Boston Braves that brought Johnny Sain to the Yankees.

★ ★ ★

Married and the father of two children, Burdette had only one losing year with the Braves and that was in 1952. In 1956, he led the league in shutouts and earned-run-average (2.71), although he was blamed in large part for the Milwaukee collapse because he won only one of his 19 victories after labor day.

★ ★ ★

But his pitching this October wiped out that blot on his record.

He beat the Yanks in the second game, 4 to 2, again in the fifth, 1 to 0, and yesterday, in the seventh, 5 to 0. He gave up just seven hits in each game.

Miceli to Meet Logart Tonight

DETROIT (AP) — Joe Miceli, a veteran of 89 fights who quit the game not long ago only to decide upon a comeback, gets a chance to knock Cuban Isaac Logart out of the top welterweight rankings tonight when the two fighters meet in a 10-rounder at Olympia Stadium.

★ ★ ★

Following a long string of defeats a couple of years ago, the 28-year-old New Yorker announced his retirement. It lasted only a short time and now Miceli is trying to get back among the top fighters in the division.

Recently Miceli knocked out former welterweight champion Johnny Saxton and the loser promptly announced his retirement. So far, Saxton has not changed his mind.

Football Fans in South Cheer Playing of 'Dixie'

FOREST, Miss. (AP) — The Forest High School band played "Dixie" for a football kickoff last night, but it came at the half instead of the beginning of the game.

For the opener, a color guard of four National Guardsmen paraded onto the field with the U.S. and Confederate flags, and the band played "The Star Spangled Banner."

During the playing of "Dixie" at the start of the second half, the spectators jumped to their feet and cheered wildly.

The announcement by School Supt. L.O. Atkins during the early stages of the Little Rock, Ark., school dispute that "Dixie" would replace the national anthem at a Forest football kickoff Sept. 13 was widely publicized.

Lou Little Calls 'em

With something less than the manpower possessed by some of their major rivals, at least in numbers, Notre Dame and Army have worked their way toward the front in their respective regions, but it is not for that reason that their meeting in Philadelphia tomorrow will attract national attention.

More important, they renew an old, colorful rivalry marked by men whose names will always be remembered. This is a game with tradition that captures the imagination not only of the schools' graduates but of the general public.

It creates an emotional enthusiasm which, of course, hits high pitch when, as this year, the teams appear strong.

★ ★ ★

There has never been any question that Earl Blaik at Army is one of football's finest students and that he has the ability to get his knowledge across to his players.

More than that, his men carry into action a terrific competitive urge. Terry Brennan, younger in years and in coaching, has handled this Notre Dame team well, and each added week that he can get by will help him with a squad that some had thought was a year away.

Though I'll be at Philadelphia, I wish it were possible also to be in Ann Arbor, Mich., where Michigan and Michigan State collide.

Here are two outfits with diversified and well conceived offenses which they execute well. I can attest to State's strength, having seen them against California last Saturday.

FRIDAY NIGHT

GEORGIA over Tulane (Georgia due if it can avoid mistakes).
MIAMI over North Carolina (close one between well prepared squads).
SMU over Missouri (Mustangs have started well-hard to score on).

SATURDAY AFTERNOON

ARMY over Notre Dame (both strong, but Cadets turn on that quick power).
YALE over Columbia (the Elis are too well manned).
MARYLAND over Wake Forest (Maryland begins to show expected drive).
NAVY over California (Cal far from weak, but Navy comes back strong).
PITTSBURGH over Nebraska (Pitt coming back to predicted strength).
AUBURN over Kentucky (Auburn backs should do it).
RICE over Duke (A bitter battle; Rice's edge in the air).
OKLAHOMA over Texas (not the day for Texas to regain momentum).
OHIO STATE over Illinois (Buckeyes can bother them all in Big Ten).
IOWA over Indiana (Iowa and Kansas too strong for Hoosiers).
MICHIGAN STATE over Michigan (a struggle of two well-manned squads).
MINNESOTA over Northwestern (Wildcat defense need work).
WISCONSIN over Purdue (Badgers still a question, but should make it).
OREGON STATE over Idaho (State is living up to early notices).

SATURDAY NIGHT

GEORGIA TECH over LSU (Tech sophs improving each week).

Players' Group Suing NHL and Club Owners

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Hockey League Players' Assn. has struck the first blow in its battle for recognition.

The Players' Assn. headed by the Chicago Black Hawks' Ted Lindsay, filed a three million dollar anti-trust suit in Federal Court yesterday against the NHL, Madison Square Garden, five other organizations and seven individuals.

The six clubs which make up the league — New York, Chicago, Boston, Detroit, Montreal and Toronto — were named in the complaint.

The complaint charged:

1. Since 1926 the defendants have "monopolized and obtained complete domination and control and dictatorship" of professional hockey in New York, New England, Michigan, Illinois, and Quebec and Ontario, Canada.

2. The alleged "dictatorship" included the hiring, firing, trading and buying and selling of all players and coaches as well as the terms of their employment.

League President Clarence Campbell said the suit took him completely by surprise.

"It looks as though it is going to be an exhausting affair — in time, resources and patience," Campbell said.

Someone suggested the whole thing was ridiculous.

"Anytime you are sued for three million dollars it isn't ridiculous," he replied ruefully.

Legal steps against the NHL had been threatened by the players' Assn. Several weeks ago after the league had declined to negotiate on the players demand for pension and TV benefits.

The Players Assn. is headed by Ted Lindsay of the Chicago Black Hawks.

Entries were taken today for three rich horse races which could throw some light on the muddled championship pictures. They are the $150,000 plus Champagne Stakes for 2-year olds and the $75,000 added Jockey Gold Cup at Belmont Park, and the $100,000 added Golf Cup at Hawthorne.

The Hawthorne Gold Cup, a mile and one-quarter affair matches Travis M. Kerr's brilliant 3-year-old Round Table and E. Gay Drake's Swoon's Son, generally regarded as the best of the handicap division campaigning in the middle west.

75,000 Seeking 'Deer' Permits

Drawing Will Be Held Oct. 20 for Special Areas

LANSING (AP) — More than 75,000 hunters have applied for permits to hunt in one of 31 areas designated for "any-deer" seasons this fall, the State Conservation Department reported.

The Department said it expects to receive thousands of additional applications postmarked yesterday, the deadline for application.

★ ★ ★

Drawings will be held about Oct. 20 to determine which hunters receive the 59,030 permits, each good for only one specified area.

★ ★ ★

Some 20,000 of the permits will be issued for 17 areas set aside for seasons running concurrently with the regular Nov. 15-30 bucks-only season. Another 13 areas designated for "any-deer" seasons this fall, the State Conservation Department reported.

The special seasons are designed to harvest 17,790 deer.

Stakes Highest Ever in 'M'-MSU Tilt

Wolverines vs. Spartans

All-Time Series Dates Back 59 Years to '98

The all-time football series between Michigan and Michigan State goes way back to 1898.

Saturday's encounter will be the 50th game in the classic and although Michigan has dominated the past, the spunky Spartans have grown to the extent that in the last 10 years each team has won five games.

Only twice in history were the Staters ever able to win in four consecutive years, in the 1934-37 era and in 1950-53.

The three ties which have been played were scoreless games in 1908, 1930 and 1931.

First meeting between the two teams came in 1898 when Michigan took a 39-0 decision. After a lapse of three years, they met again in 1902 and in the most humiliating game in MSU history, Michigan won 119-0.

For the next three years, Michigan State played at Ann Arbor but against the Michigan Freshman team. This gave MSU three wins but they were not against the "M" varsity and thus not put into the records.

When the varsity series was renewed in 1907 it stayed intact until 1943-44 when because of the war years, Michigan State curtailed football for one season and played an abbreviated schedule the next.

From 1916 through 1933 Michigan won 18 straight games, and during this time Michigan State scored only a total of 15 points. These came in losing 21-6 in 1918, 55-3 in 1926 and 20-6 in 1933.

The Wolverines also had 10 straight wins from 1938 through 1948, and in the overall series Michigan leads 35-11-3 with a total of 1,096 points to State's 229.

It's Definite; No Television of M-MSU Tilt

DETROIT (AP) — The Michigan-Michigan State football game this Saturday cannot be televised even though it's a sellout, Walt Byers, executive secretary of the National Collegiate Athletic Assn., said today.

The game will not be televised despite the reported willingness of Albion College and Bowling Green University to allow it, Byers said.

High officials reportedly said the telecasting of the Wolverine-Spartan game would not appreciably harm attendance at the smaller college games.

The two schools have the only other games scheduled Saturday within TV range of the Ann Arbor contest. Tickets for the game at Michigan's 101,001-seat stadium were sold out months ago.

BIG GUN — Michigan's big gun in its offensive unit is fullback John Herrnstein, 212-pound, 6-feet-2 junior from Chillicothe, Ohio. He is averaging 4.4 yards per carry.

SPARTAN — Michigan State will counter at fullback with big Don Gilbert, 195-pound senior from DuBois, Pa. He is averaging 6.5 yards per carry in two games.

Both Teams Up Among Highly Ranked Powers

Spartans Listed 2nd; Wolverines Rated 6th in National Poll

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

It's time for the big game. For the 50th time, the heart-thumping rivalry between Michigan and Michigan State will highlight the state's football calendar Saturday at Ann Arbor and 101,001 fans will be on hand to watch it.

The stakes are probably the highest ever for this game. With a victory, goes the joy of beating an intra-state rival; of a strong grasp for the Big Ten title; of a high national ranking; and finally of a Rose Bowl bid.

Michigan ranked number six in the country and Michigan State ranked second, both boast their best backfield units in many seasons. Each has shown tremendous defensive strength, MSU with an undented goal line and the Wolverines with only six points against them.

Physically both teams are in the best of condition. Michigan State, with its better depth, has been hailed the favorite, but by the slim margin of six points.

★ ★ ★

Both teams have powerful ground attacks and the aerial games are closely matched.

Michigan has tried 35 passes and completed 20 for 260 yards, while State has thrown 40 and completed 25 for 325 yards.

Big men in Michigan's backfield are quarterbacks Jim Van Pelt and Stan Noskin along with halfbacks Jim Pace, Mike Shatusky, Bob Ptacek and Brad Myers and fullback John Herrnstein.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State will counter with quarterbacks Jim Ninowski and Mike Panitch, halfbacks Blanche Martin, Walt Kowalczyk, Dean Look and Art Johnson and fullback Don Gilbert.

At end, where Michigan was weakened with the loss of Ron Kramer and Tom Maentz, the Spartans show greater depth with Dave Kaiser, Sam Williams Tony Kolodziej and Bob Jewett.

The middle linemen of the first two teams of each school are very evenly matched. The first 10 interor linemen for MSU will average 218, and for Michigan 216.

★ ★ ★

Big boys on the line for State are center Dan Currie (225), guard Ellison Kelly (225), and tackle Palmer Pyle (230). For Michigan, tackle Jim Davies (215), tackle Gerry Marciniak (225) center Jim Snyder (210) and Willie Smith (237) are the heavy heavies.

Everything is set for the kickoff at 1:30 p.m. Saturday.

Crowds Grew, Grew, Grew

It hasn't always been this tough to get a ticket to the Michigan-Michigan State game.

In fact many years ago while Minnesota and Ohio State were filling every seat in Michigan's huge stadium, Michigan State College (as it was known) hardly filled half of the seats at Ann Arbor.

Back in 1927 when the present stadium was completed to seat 79,000, the game with Michigan State drew only 27,864 while the OSU game had 84,401 and the Minnesota game had 84,243 fans.

One reason why the fans stayed away from the state rivalry was the fact that from 1916 through 1932, the little Agricultural College in East Lansing was able to score only 9 points against the Wolverines during this entire 16 year period.

Everyone just chalked up another win for Michigan when they met.

But in 1934 the Spartans finally broke the hunger period and defeated Michigan 16-0. The game drew 25,644. From 1934 through 1936 Michigan had three of its poorest seasons in history and MSU took advantage of them.

While the Spartans were able to give the Wolverines more competition the crowds then began to pour into stadium. In 1935 a crowd of 32,315 was on hand, in 1936 there were 45,656 and in 1937 there were 63,311.

Here are the attendance figures through the years for the M-MSU game since 1927:

1927	at Michigan	27,864
1928	at Michigan	26,067
1929	at Michigan	30,464

Plenty of Room for 'M'-MSU on 'Cheapskate Hill'

Why worry about tickets for the Michigan-Michigan State game Saturday? There's plenty of room and it won't cost anything.

Just get yourself a pair of binoculars and join the crowd on "Cheapskate Hill."

This is the name given to a nearby elevation outside the fence where some people can see the action as well as some of the fans in the highest seats in Michigan Stadium.

There will be 100,001 fans in the stadium, another 500 in the press box, with newsmen, radio crews and cameramen, and probably a couple more thousand trying to squeeze onto "Cheapskate Hill" to sneak a glance or two at the gridiron.

This should bring the attendance of paid and non-paid to at least 102,000.

Don't feel insulted about the word cheapskate. It may be worth it to see the game.

Red Wings Lose Season Opener, 3-2

DETROIT — If Thursday night's debut of the Red Wings is an example of things to come, it's going to be a long season for the Detroiters.

The hustling New York Rangers had all the better of it last night at Olympia Stadium as they skated to a 3-2 victory over the Wings in the 1957-58 season opener for both teams before 9,501 cash customers.

Twice the Red Wings had the lead and each time the New Yorkers struck back to tie the score. Then dangerous Andy Hebenton supplied the winning goal with a brilliant solo dash in the 3rd period.

Lorne Ferguson and rookie Tom McCarthy scored for Detroit and their efforts were matched by New York's Camille Henry and Larry Popein before Hebenton decided the argument with a short poke past veteran goalie Terry Sawchuk.

With four rookies in the lineup plus some other personnel changes, the Wings were expected to get off to a slow start. But few expected the home town hockey club to look as futile as this.

New York, Detroit's opening night opponent for the 11th time in 31 years, had a decided edge in experience and the Rangers put it to good use.

After Hebenton furnished the clincher, the Rangers played an aggressive brand of defensive hockey and helped goalie Lorne (Gump) Worsley bar the door on all Red Wing attempts to get back the tying goal.

Eight penalties were called, four to a side, including a 10-minute misconduct against Lou Fontinato, the Ranger "bad man." Each team scored once while the other was shorthanded.

Ferguson opened the scoring at 12:22 in the 1st period. Johnny Wilson skated behind the net, sent a short pass to Ferguson who tapped it home from the corner of the goal mouth. New York's Harry Howell was off for interference at the time.

With rookie Cummy Burton in the penalty box for slashing, the Rangers knotted the score less than a minute later when Henry skated in on the unguarded Sawchuk and clicked on a six-footer.

McCarthy simply beat Worsley with his shot, which gave the Wings a 2-1 lead in the 3rd minute of the 2nd period. But Popein tied the count again with his goal in the final minute of the same stanza.

Hebenton's winning goal was a combination of skill and lax defense. Andy took Bill Gadsby's pass, outmaneuvered defenseman Marcel Pronovost and connected from short range to the left of Sawchuk.

Detroit outshot New York, 34 to 23, but after Hebenton came through, Worsley refused to yield and the Wings lost their inaugural.

It was only the 2nd opening night defeat in the last 20 years for the Red Wings, National Hockey League champs eight times in the last nine seasons.

Clarence Campbell, NHL president, made three awards in pregame ceremonies. Gordie Howe received the Ross and Hart trophies for being the league's most valuable player as well as top scorer. The Prince of Wales trophy, emblematic of the league title, was presented to captain Red Kelly.

Chiefs in SVC Play Tonight

Saginaw Valley action gets underway at Wisner Stadium with Pontiac playing host to title hopeful, Arthur Hill, in the 24th game of their long rivalry.

★ ★ ★

The Lumberjacks, with a 2-1 season mark, are considered to have their best team under Kurt Kampe in seven years with the exception of the 1954 SVC championship squad.

"Potentially this team could even be better," said Kampe, whose lone loss was a 33-0 loss to the state's number one team, Midland, in a flu ridden game which saw Arthur Hill hit hard by the illness.

In that game the Jacks had only 27 players available with several regulars missing.

Regular end Paul Doersam, 220-pound, 6-foot-4 all - conference prospect may not start tonight but will make the trip. He was ill last weekend and missed practice sessions earlier this week.

★ ★ ★

Two sophomores will be in the starting lineup for Pontiac. Quarterback Fred Staley, who was supposed to get his first starting assignment against Ferndale last week, will get the rain-check tonight.

Regular quarterback Dick Whitmer will be used as a linebacker, and may see some action at the fullback slot. He is a big 195 pound senior, and could give the Chiefs the needed power at fullback.

Bob Manning, who missed the opener at home against Wyandotte, will make his first home appearance. A former dash champion from Detroit, Manning did not play the Wyandotte game because his family had not established residence in the city at the time.

★ ★ ★

Against Lansing Sexton, two weeks ago when PHS scored a 13-6 decision, Manning took a pass from Staley and raced for the Chief's first touchdown on a 62-yard play.

At the other halfback post, Jim Kellar, speedy 150 pound senior who stands only 5-feet-6, will get the starting nod.

The other sophomore in the starting lineup is guard Charley Brown a 185 pounder who earned regular duties in the Sexton game.

The Chiefs have not beaten Arthur Hill since 1951 when they took an 18-7 decision, and in the long history of the series, the Lumberjacks hold the wide edge with 17 wins, four losses and two ties.

Game time is 8:00 p.m. tonight.

State College Gridders in Big Rival Contests

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Winless Central Michigan takes on arch-rival Eastern Michigan tonight, kicking off a full weekend of football activity for Michigan colleges and universities.

The Chippewas, defeated four straight times after piling up a 15-game winning streak, have lost to Eastern only once since 1937. That was in 1948 when Eastern, then known as Michigan Normal, grabbed a 6-0 triumph.

The Central losing streak matches the school's all-time string without victory. Eastern, a 13-6 loser to Youngstown last time out, has one victory and two losses. At stake in tonight's encounter will be the traditional totem pole, the game trophy put up in 1950 by the Hurons — who have yet to capture the prize.

While the Michigan State-Michigan clash will attract the top crowd and main interest, there is plenty of action in the state's small college circles. Adrian will be at Alma, Hillsdale at Albion and Kalamazoo at Hope in MIAA games.

★ ★ ★

Wally Fromhart's Detroit Titans should get back on the winning track after losing 19-12 to the Air Force Academy. They take on the Wichita Wheatshockers, who have lost three straight.

Hillsdale brings a 28-game winning streak into the Albion game. The Britons, since losing to Wabash, Ind., in their opener, have defeated Kalamazoo and Adrian. A homecoming crowd will cheer the Britons on in this contest between the MIAA's two undefeated, untied elevens.

Adrian and Alma are expected to have a close dual and Hope and Kalamazoo appear to be about evenly-matched. Olivet, winless in three starts, encounters a non-league foe at Ferris Institute.

Wayne State's Tartars, a convincing winner over Case, are favored to dump John Carroll at Cleveland in another PAC game for Herb Smith's team. Michigan Tech goes to Marquette for a night game against Twice-beaten Northern Michigan.

Western Michigan, defeated in two games since overwhelming Central Michigan in its opener, takes on powerful Bowling Green in the Ohio City. The Western Broncos are two-touchdown underdogs against the Falcons, defending titlists in the Mid-American conference, and winner of three straight.

Prep Circuits Seize Spotlight

Flu continues to make serious inroads throughout Oakland County area high schools, but those football teams that have managed to stay halfway healthy will take the field of battle again tonight.

Four area games — East Detroit vs. Hazel Park, Oxford vs. Lake Orion, Avondale vs. Lapeer and Clawson vs. Madison — have already been postponed as the pesky virus takes its toll.

There was also a possibility that Pontiac's big parochial feud Sunday between St. Michael and St. Frederick would be called off as well as the Orchard Lake St. Mary - Ferndale St. James tussle.

League action seizes the spotlight this evening with all of the important contests centered in the Inter-Lakes and Wayne-Oakland circuits.

The Inter-Lakes campaign swings into its 2nd week with Berkley, Farmington and Southfield holding the upper hand after victories last Friday.

Defending champion Walled Lake, its 10-game winning streak broken by Southfield, tries to get back on the right road against visiting Farmington, the team which whitewashed Waterford.

The Skippers, finally returning to sound physical condition after a siege of flu, play host to Berkley, a 25-13 victor over Van Dyke a week ago. Southfield invades Van Dyke to meet the unpredictable Abes.

Waterford will be forced to contend with the Inter-Lakes' swiftest backfield. In halfbacks Franz Neubrecht and Dick Pierle and fullback Fritz Eilber, the Bears have three dash artists who run the 100 in close to 10 seconds.

The top game in the Wayne-Oakland loop pits unbeaten Milford against Holly, undefeated but twice tied, on the Milford gridiron. The winner will be in a sound position to go on to conference honors.

Clarkston meets West Bloomfield at Keego Harbor and defending champion Northville goes to Clarenceville for other W-O scraps.

Birmingham guns for its 2nd straight Eastern Michigan League victory tonight against invading Ferndale, but the Maples may have more than they can handle in Ted Meister's Railsplitters. The other EML game sends Mt. Clemens to Port Huron.

Troy, unbeaten in three starts, opens its Oakland B League campaign this afternoon with Fitzgerald on the Troy field.

It's "homecoming" tonight at Ortonville as the Blackhawks face Imlay City in a South Central tilt. Millington moves into North Branch for another South Central contest.

Warren and South Lake, both unbeaten in three games, collide at South Lake in a Bi-County League game. Southern Thumb games are Memphis at Brown City, New Haven at Armada and Dryden at Capac.

The best non-league attraction this week matches Rochester and Utica at Utica. Other games of interest are Brighton at Romeo. Wyndotte at Royal Oak Dondero and Royal Oak Kimball at Dearborn.

Cranbrook faces Shady Side Academy of Pittsburgh Saturday at Cranbrook in the Cranes' Inter-State League opener.

Capacity Crowd Is Expected

Lions Meet Rams in Home Opener

Buoyed by a winning effort last week against Green Bay, the Detroit Lions return home to Briggs against the powerful Los Angeles Rams, Sunday afternoon. Kickoff is at 1:30 p.m.

★ ★ ★

A capacity crowd of 53,000 is expected for the game that should give fans a definite "line" on the chances of both the Lions and the Rams in the 1957 National Football League race.

Detroit was abruptly dumped, 24-14, by the Baltimore Colts two weeks ago but came back brilliantly to whip Green Bay, 24-14, last Sunday in the Wisconsin city. The Rams, meanwhile, downed Philadelphia, 17-13, in their opener but lost to San Francisco in their first road encounter last Sunday, 23-20.

The Detroit Lions defensive forces, admittedly a potent factor in team successes during recent years, holds the key to the Lions' chances for a victory.

★ ★ ★

Los Angeles has assembled some of the finest offensive performers in the game . . . halfbacks Tom Wilson, Ron Waller, and Jon Arnette, fullbacks Tank Younger and Joe Marconi, and receivers Elroy Hirsch, Leon Clarke, Bob Boyd, Lamar Lundy, and Arnett and quarterbacks Norm Van Brocklin and Billy Wade and the Lions defense must contain this array to win.

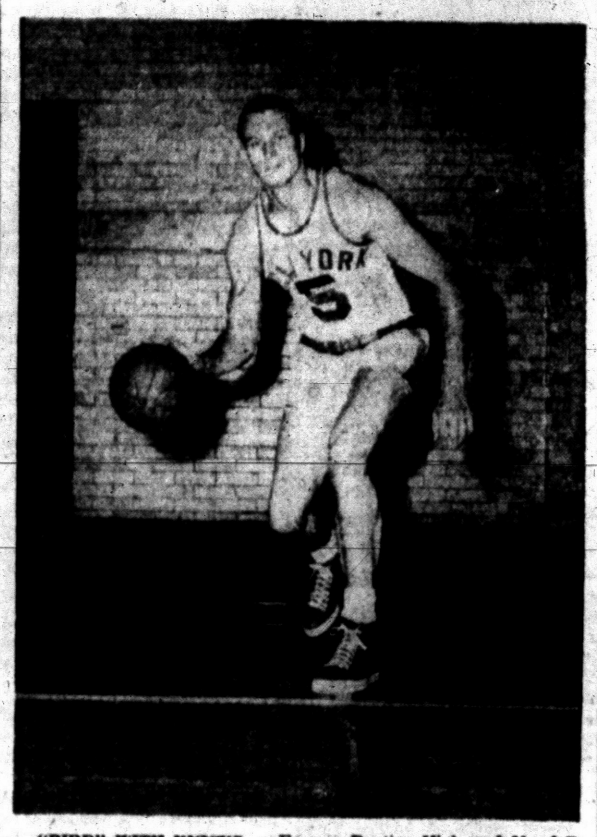

Tom Wilson, a 6' 0", 204-pound speedster with no college experience, has better than a 7.0 yard rushing average in the first two games. He set a new NFL single game rushing mark last year as a rookie by gaining 233 yards against Green Bay in the season's finale.

Quarterback Norm Van Brocklin has completed 20 of 40 tosses for 310 yards in the two games to date, using Leon Clarke (5 for 132 yards), Jon Arnett (4 for 65 yards Elroy Hirsch (4 for 56 yards) and Joe Marconi (4 for 16 yards) as his favorite targets.

Ron Waller, the Rams other explosive left halfback, has seen limited action but will be at full strength against Detroit.

Detroit was able to avoid any crippling injuries in winning over Green Bay so should be near top shape for the game. End Dave Middleton sat out the Packer contest with a bruised knee but is expected to return to the lineup against Los Angeles.

The Lions took both games of the 1956 series, 24-21 in Detroit and 16-7 in the return match on the Coast. However, the Rams still hold a wide edge in the overall series dating back to 1946 with 15 victories as against 8 for the Lions.

"BIRD" WITH KNICKS — Former Pontiac High and U. of D. cager, Guy Sparrow, who recently came out of the Army, has survived the first cut of players with the Knickerbockers of the NBA and is fighting for a berth on the roster. If Sparrow stays with the team, he will make an appearance locally when the Knickerbockers play St. Louis at the Olympia as part of a doubleheader with the Detroit Pistons, October 23.

Pinch-Hitters Way Off

NEW YORK (AP) — Four pinch-hitters failed in the final game, dipping their Series' average to .188 with only three safeties in 16 tries.

Good Relief Showings

NEW YORK (AP) — The best Series relief jobs were turned in by the Yanks' Art Ditmar and the Braves' Don McMahon. Ditmar allowed no runs and two hits in six innings and McMahon no runs and three hits in five frames.

Sparrow With Knicks

'Bird' Bids for Pro Job

The two years Guy Sparrow spent in the service has only made it tougher for him to win a spot on the 10-player roster of New York Knickerbockers of the National Basketball Association.

The former Pontiac High and University of Detroit cage star was drafted by the Knicks in 1955, but after a short trial he was called into the service.

"I think he would have made the squad easily two years ago," said publicity director Lester Scott, "but now Sparrow has a bigger battle against several outstanding newcomers for a spot on the roster."

The Knicks have nine holdovers back and seven newcomers. This means six players will have to be cut before the season gets underway.

★ ★ ★

One of the newcomers is 6-year veteran Mel Hutchins, obtained from the Pistons in a trade, and he is almost certain of staying.

Among the rookies Sparrow is battling are Charlie Tyra, Willie Gardner, ex-Globetrotter, and Wells Raeford.

"Coach Vince Boryla has liked what he has seen of Sparrow thus far," said Scott, "but competition is heavy."

Sparrow led the U.S. All-Service team in the International Tournament in Turkey with his scoring and rebounding. While at U. of D. he was the 4th best rebounder in the country in 1954-55, and finished with a total of 1,087 points in three seasons.

The Knickerbockers make their first visit to Detroit October 23rd when they meet St. Louis as part of a doubleheader at the Olympia when the Pistons open their season against the champion Boston Celtics.

Aaron Led Sluggers

NEW YORK (AP) — Hank Aaron and Hank Bauer compiled the highest Series' slugging averages. Aaron slugged .786 with 22 total bases in 28 at bats while Bauer paced the Yanks with .581 on 18 total bases in 31 trips.

Two-Day Field Test for Pointing Dogs

Genesee Sportsmen's club is those Saturday and Sunday for it's 8th annual bird dog field trials, in which any bird dog of a pointing or retrieving breed is eligible.

★ ★ ★

Trial is set for the Lapeer Game Area, five miles north of Lapeer on M-24. Defending champion is Fred Baucom's English pointer, Little Mike. Little Mike retired the Hubbard trophy for the trial feature, the Amateur Shooting Dog Stakes, and will be back after a new one. Mike has compiled some 30 wins, including the three straight Hubbard victories. Amateur Derby, and Membership Stakes will be run Saturday, the shooting dog stakes on Sunday.

Former Oak Gridders Louisville Starters

Two former Royal Oak football players are occupying starting positions on the University of Louisville line this weekend.

At left guard will be 200-pound Bob Rossoll, a freshman. Along side him will be 225-pound sophomore, Larry Cadwell, at tackle. The Cardinals oppose Murray State at Murray, Ky. in a night contest.

Moore-Spieser Fight Set for Early December

DETROIT (AP) — The final details in a championship fight between light-heavyweight champion Archie Moore and Chuck Spieser of Detroit will be ironed out next week, according to Spieser's brother and manager Joe Spieser.

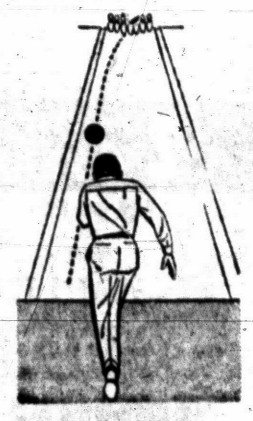

The manager said Moore's co-manager, Jack Kearns, had agreed to a fight in Detroit early in December.

Spieser said last night he and Kearns would meet here early next week, possibly Sunday, to close the agreement.

★ ★ ★

A group of Detroit businessmen had offered Moore a $100,000 guarantee to defend his crown against Spieser.

STRIKES AND SPARES

By Joe Wilman

Invariably, when I'm conducting a bowling clinic somewhere in this country, some left-handed bowler will ask me if he should forget about bowling left-handed and switch to the right-handed style.

My answer is usually the same: a left-hander can become a champion without switching.

On the positive side of the picture, almost every lefty I've ever seen has a natural hook working for him. Granted, they need control, but they always seem to have the natural turn for a good hook without any effort or practice.

On the negative side of the picture, a lefty will be shooting down the side of the alley which has the least bowling done on it. Therefore, It'll always have a bit more oil or dressing on it. Then too, a southpaw can't watch his teammates and learn how an alley "takes" unless there's another lefty on the team.

If you're a left-handed bowler, though, don't let this stop you from continuing. Unless an instructor tells you to change, keep bowling your natural way and keep working for control. There are plenty of stars in All-Star Tournament and the ABC Tournament each year who bowl from the left side.

Hm! Oh, yes, about football. Veritably the life of a forecaster is fraught with hazardous imponderables, gentle readers! Take any given Saturday—a gust of wind suddenly whips across the goal posts and there goes your extra point and victory.

Or a halfback hears his sweetheart's voice, runs over nine deadly tacklers while 70,000 cheer. Again, a fullback's grandmother may be ailing and he forgets where the pigskin is.

Nonetheless, your correspondent has lost not one whit of his boldness and elan. He give you three powerful upsets this week by the closest kind of scores—and watch for that gust of wind—Texas over Oklahoma, Illinois over Ohio State and Tulane over Georgia. Holy Cross-Marquette also will be a one-run ball game.

Pilot of Helicopter Cuts Red Tape

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — An Army helicopter pilot lost patience with red tape and got his craft fixed in a hurry. He walked to a hardware store for a part and paid for it with his own money.

CWO John Gray, from Ft. Sill, Okla., made an emergency landing here. He notified the Army he needed a small plug to fix a leaky gas line, and one was flown from Ft. Sill, 100 miles away.

Gray got the part, valued at about 60 cents, but found he needed another small part to finish.

Under Army regulations, the plane would have to return to Ft. Sill and fly back the part.

Gary got impatient, walked to a store, and purchased the part — for 40 cents.

Police Calls Interrupt His Sunday Sermon

WEWOKA, Okla. (AP)— The Rev. Harvey Scott of the Church of Christ was delivering a Sunday sermon when he was interrupted by a mere mundane message:

"Calling Car No. 11. Calling Car No. 11."

A check showed that a quirk caused the church public address system to pick up police calls.

Satellite Tales Cause Fairbanks to Produce

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—First under the wire with a satellite 'moon' story for a movie is Douglas Fairbanks Jr., who cables me he has a new picture coming up soon called "Quest for Pajaro," by Edward Maxwell.

"The Red satellite 'moon' is purely coincidental," says Doug. "My story is a romance set in the space age, about a pilot who penetrates outer space to break the time barrier and goes years forward in seconds of flight, and later returns backward to modern time in the same manner.

"This is a book and I am discussing the role of the pilot with Bill Holden. Michael Anderson, who was associated with 'Around the World,' and directed 'Chase a Crooked Shadow' for me, is the director."

GREG REJECTS ROLE

Let's not hear any more rumors about Gregory Peck starring in the best selling "By Love Possessed" — because he's very definitely turning it down. John Huston, Greg's good friend, purchased the rights to the James Cuzzons book, and there's no one Greg admires more than John. But he thinks the central role of the small town lawyer is "dull, uninteresting and involved, and there's no action in the story." That ends that.

On the other hand, Peck is really excited about doing "Pork Chop Hill," his next. This, he believes, has all the thrills of another "All Quiet on the Western Front." Meanwhile, Greg's immediate attention is being given the finishing "The Big Country."

HARVARD GRADS HERE

Did you know that we have a number of Harvard graduates in our midst? Oh, yes, indeed!

Many of them will attend the breakfast next month given for Nathan B. Pusey, president of Harvard, at MGM.

Let me name a few for you. Actor Jack Lemmon, director Richard Whorf, lyric writer Harold Adamson, musician Johnny Green, author Dick Tregaskis, director Bob Lord, producer Harry Tatelman, Julian Lesser, (Sol's son), producer of "Bold Journey," writer Dick McCann, attorney (also writer-producer) Bob Lerner, and public relations man Bernard Kamins.

President Pusey's trip here is in connection with a program for Harvard College.

MONEY IN THRILLERS

Francis Lederer has always been a smart boy with a dollar, and don't think I'm knocking it. When he first got into the big money on Broadway and in movies, he invested in San Fernando real estate so successfully he only acts when the mood moves him.

Now the mood has moved him to accept "The Curse of Dracula" for Jules Levy and Arthur Gardner's Gramercy Pictures—and don't tell me that Lederer isn't influenced in this choice by the whopping business being done by the "horror" movies, particularly the box-office champion, "The Curse of Frankenstein." There's money in these blood-curdling thrillers.

HOLLYWOOD SNAPSHOTS

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: John Ireland is not only helping Marcia Ford Humeston by working in scenes with her for her MGM test, but he's dating her. They were at the Avante Garde cafe two nights this week.

Another cafe twosome, Tab Hunter and glamor girl Venetia Stevenson at La Rue.

Phil Ahn, of the Moongate Cafe in the valley, has given his blessing to his sister, Sarah, who married Ray Buffan, TV script writer, in Las Vegas last weekend.

Republic producer Stephen Apostolof became a father under dramatic circumstances. His wife has been in General Hospital 10 days with polio, and last night she gave birth to a baby boy.

That's all today. See you tomorrow.

Big Reward Swells Posse After Killers

BLIND RIVER, Ont. (AP) — A combined reward of 127,500 drew more guns today into the hunt for two bandits who shot and killed a bank manager here Wednesday.

A posse of 135 men was led by provincial police.

★ ★ ★

The search began Wednesday morning after J. J. Walters Bridges, 50, was slain in his Royal Bank branch here. The search leader, Sgt. J. K. Brenna, said he believed the killers were still in a wooded region 15 miles from here.

They didn't get any money from the bank.

★ ★ ★

The Royal Bank offered a $25,000 reward for information leading to the capture and conviction of the men. The Ontario attorney general added $2,500.

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — It may be known elsewhere as Asian flu, but among hospital staffers here it is called Flu Manchu.

Dedicate 2 Additions to U. of M. Campus

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Two more additions to the University of Michigan's ever-growing north campus will be dedicated Tuesday.

The structures are the aeronautical and automotive engineering laboratories.

Three units—an aerodynamics lab, a propulsion lab and a pumping station—make up the aeronautical buildings. They are valued at $600,000 and the equipment inside them is worth another $1,400,000.

The automotive lab is a three-floor, 400-foot building. It was financed by a state appropriation of $1,950,000. Its equipment was provided by Michigan industry at a cost of more than $600,000.

The two laboratories bring to six the buildings now completed and in use on the university's sprouting north campus, a mile away from the main campus. A seventh structure—the first unit of the fluids engineering laboratory—is well on the way toward completion.

In the aeronautical lab, researchers will be able to test the way aircraft controls act at speeds of 1,700 miles per hour and altitudes of 200,000 feet. There are three wind tunnels in the building.

The automotive lab has 19 soundproof test cells for engine research.

Santa to Appear in New Sputnik

Town in Pennsylvania Plans to Bring Old Chap to Earth in 'Satellite'

NEW YORK (AP) — Retailers, stocked to the hilt with Christmas toys, are in something of a tizzy over Sputnik.

Even Santa Claus has changed his plans.

★ ★ ★

In Allentown, Pa., Hess Brothers department store is making a last-minute switch in arrangements for its annual Christmas party. Instead of gliding down on the Allentown Fairgrounds in a helicopter, Santa will make a dramatic appearance aboard a motorized satellite.

"Our designers are working on it now," says the store.

Macy's New York department store is doing what it calls a "real rush job" on a new section in the toy department completely devoted to interplanetary space. It will feature such things as earth satellite balloons (39 cents), geophysical computers ($1.98) and satellite battle stations ($3.98). Also a 20-inch vinyl plastic globe ($12.98).

★ ★ ★

"We've pushed up our plans," explains a store official. "We hope to have the space toy section ready this weekend."

Not to be outdone, Gimbel Bros. is running full-page newspaper ads proclaiming: "Not even the Russians have this satellite launcher or sky sweeper."

In the first week of its stellar gyrations, Sputnik has brought about a veritable boom in sales of binoculars, telescopes and science fiction.

Bamberger's department store in Newark, N.J., advises newspaper readers via full-page ads to "watch for the world's first satellite Monday" (when Sputnik is scheduled to streak across the Newark skies). To make the watching easier, Bamberger's offers a full line of spy glasses ranging from $4.99 to $69.99 each.

Book stores report demand for tomes and treatises dealing with interplanetary flight. Favorites include a one-time Book-of-the-Month Club selection, "Exploration of Space" by British scientist Arthur C. Clark, and Arthur S. Locke's "Principles of Guided Missile Design."

Gunmen Rob Post Office

Woman Pistol-Whipped; 60-Year-Old Man Killed in Oregon Town

PAISLEY, Ore. (UP) — Gunmen walked into this little ranch town's post office yesterday. In the next 15 minutes, they robbed it, pistol-whipped a woman and killed a 60-year-old man who tried to stop them.

★ ★ ★

After the gunmen fled in a car, a posse of more than 150 rifle-bearing men set out after the gunmen. Roadblocks sprang up.

The gunmen abandoned their car and fled on foot through the brushy prairie.

A man later was shot in the shoulder by the posse near a ranch. At a hospital in nearby Lakeview, under police guard, he told officers his name is Donald Ferguson. He said he is 32 and from Bakersfield, Calif. He said nothing more.

★ ★ ★

State police said they were not certain how many persons were in the gang that robbed the post office and killed John T. Lawson, a plumber. Estimates of the number of gunmen ranged from two to four.

Lawson yesterday was walking near the post office when an unidentified woman shouted that it was being robbed.

Lawson ran to his car and grabbed a rifle. As he reached the front door of the post office, one of the gunmen shot once and killed him.

Mrs. Anita Bannister, the postmaster, said that 15 minutes earlier a man entered the post office and flashed a pistol.

★ ★ ★

"He threatened to kill me several times . . . pushing me around and hitting me on the head with his gun. Three women came into the post office after that and that man just lined them up against the wall," she said.

A second gunman later entered, took money from the safe and left. It was then Mrs. Bannister heard the shot.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Bannister said the gunmen got only a small amount of money and an undetermined number of blank money orders.

Kansas City Cracks Down on Smut Peddlers

KANSAS CITY (UP) — Raiding squads swooshed through a distributing house and five news stands yesterday confiscating everything in sight that had to do with sex and the barely adorned female figure.

They took magazines, books, photographs, pamphlets and calendars.

No one was arrested and Chief of Police Bernard C. Brannon explained the idea is to get the material itself into court for a judicial ruling on what is objectionable.

"I feel it will be a good thing to have it clearly defined what this community considers objectionable literature," he said.

Circuit Judge Ben Terte issued search warrants to the raiders and set a hearing for next Wednesday. It will be up to him then to rule whether the confiscated material violates Missouri's laws prohibiting the sale of lewd, obscene, and lascivious publications.

Brannon indicated the raids resulted from a recommendation made by parent-teacher groups. He said the timing is related to the fact Kansas City will be host for the next week to 10,000 youngsters attending the national convention of the Future Farmers of America.

North Koreans Want Trade With South

PANMUNJOM, Korea (UP) — A North Korean campaign to resume trade relations with South Korea went to the Military Armistice Commission today. The Communists proposed the unsealing truce line to permit North-South trade.

★ ★ ★

The senior U.N. delegate, U.S. Maj. Gen. Homer L. Litzenberg, rejected the proposal as no business of the commission. He said the truce group was concerned only with military matters.

★ ★ ★

Several times in recent days Pyongyang radio, official voice of the Reds, has suggested that it was time for the divided halves of Korea to resume normal trade.

Formerly the economies of the industrial North and the agricultural South complemented each other.

Satch Will Blow Horn for the 'Russian Cats'

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Louis (Satchmo) Armstrong says he's ready to blow his horn for the Russian cats.

The Negro trumpeter observed: "Them cats over there is just like cats anywhere. I'll just blow and make 'em happy."

Armstrong has withdrawn his previous refusal to make a trip to Russia under State Department auspices.

To Tranquilize Flies

ALLIANCE, O. (INS)—Fruit flies at Mount Union College in Alliance may be in captivity, but they will be the most relaxed insects anything. Assistant professor Jerry L. Blount says he will use the flies as guinea pigs to test the effects of tranquilizer drugs on heredity.

Blames Poor Driving on Wife's Teaching

He called out to a nearby woman driver, "Sorry, but my wife taught me how to drive."

Coffers Again Swell to $500 in Pot-O-Gold

It doesn't take long for the riches to pile up when they're increased by $100 each week. This puzzle is worth $500 if no winner is found for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle that appeared in last week's paper. Even if that happens, this week's winner will get not less than $100 and possibly $125. How can you lose?

The new puzzle contains a series of squares which are alphabetically lettered and a corresponding list of sentences with two clue words. Each of the words is numbered. The object is to select the word which you think best fits the clue sentence. You then place the number of that word in the square which has the same letter as the clue sentence.

In other words, you will read the clue labeled A and decide which of the two words makes the most sense in the puzzle square marked A.

Do the same with all other squares. Read all the clues carefully and be sure the right numbers are in the right squares.

Fingerprinting Visitors to End

President Orders Stop to Rule Which Irked Soviet Union

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Eisenhower administration has ordered an end to fingerprinting for virtually all visitors to the United States. A few exceptions were made.

★ ★ ★

The new rules are expected to become effective this weekend.

Under them, visitors could come here from the Soviet Union, which has complained for years against the fingerprinting requirement, without being fingerprinted.

Furthermore, if the government decided as a matter of policy to let them come, newsmen from Red China, Olympic athletes and the like would come within the waiver.

The State Department announced the action which was taken officially by Secretary of State Dulles and Atty. Gen. Brownell who used authority given by Congress last Sept. 11.

★ ★ ★

Dulles and Brownell, the department said, today authorized publication of new regulations which "will waive the fingerprint requirement on a basis of reciprocity in the case of most nonimmigrant visitors."

Takes a Court Order to Move Drilling Rig

KOUNTZE, Tex. (AP) — It took a court order to get a drilling contractor's $75,000 rig off the property of a militant southeast Texas rancher.

Rancher Oscar Goins said he was convinced that driller J. P. Owens had struck oil. He strung a wire fence across the entrance to the lease and stood guard with a deer rifle for most of three days.

On Owens' petition, Dist. Judge H. A. Coe ordered Goins to remove the fence yesterday. Sheriff William Whitaker delivered the order and said he cut the wire after Goins refused.

Owens then hauled the rig away.

NEW YORK (INS) — One New York minister scoffs at claims that Sunday School attendance is "insurance against juvenile delinquency."

The Rev. Dr. Robert Spike, director of evangelism for the Congregational Christian Churches Board of Home Missions explains:

"I spent six years as chaplain of Youth House, the boys' dentention home in New York, and in all my dealings there, I never found any boy who couldn't conjure up the name of some Sunday School he attended."

Ava Gardner Wants No More Wedding Bells

MILAN, Italy (INS) — Actress Ava Gardner, a three-time loser in marriage, was quoted today as saying she never will try again.

The Milan magazine "Gente" said Ava described Italian comedian Walter Chiari as a "dear friend" who "in the past year has been closer to me than any other person."

★ ★ ★

The magazine said Ava went on:

"I love him dearly as one would love a dear friend but I will never marry him. Neither him nor anyone else."

Ava previously has been wed to actor Mickey Rooney, bandleader Artie Shaw and singer Frank Sinatra.

Four Crewmen Die as Bomber Crashes

Homestead Air Force Base, Fla. (AP)—Four crewmen died early today when a B47 Stratojet bomber crashed and burned while taking off from this southeast Florida base on a training mission.

Base officials said the plane was part of the 823rd Air Division.

Names of the dead were withheld.

Nepal Aide Strolls Again After Attack

NEW YORK (AP)—The Nepalese ambassador to the United Nations, stabbed and robbed several weeks ago during a twilight stroll in Central Park, says he has resumed his park promenades.

Rishikesh Shaha, 32, was robbed of $95, his wrist watch and cigarette ligher by two men. A stab wound suffered in the robbery sent him to a hospital for two weeks.

★ ★ ★

Shaha said yesterday he has resumed his evening walks, adding: "That was a piece of bad luck, that's all. They tell me this place is full of muggers. I don't believe that. I think it is perfectly safe. And I am not trying to be diplomatic. This could have happened in my country too."

On Oct. 4 Lawrence Jones, 22, and Robert Bemberry, 19, were charged with attacking and robbing Shaha.

They were held in $25,000 bail pending trial. Both are Negroes.

China's first railway was a short line of track running out of Shanghai. It was destroyed by the Chinese in the early 1880s because the imperial Manchu court thought it might "disturb the immortal spirits."

Crop Forecast Rushes Selling

CHICAGO (AP) — A government crop report which forecast huge production of wheat, corn and soybeans this year resulted in general selling on the board of trade today.

The entire futures list turned downward in early dealings, led by soybeans which plunged as much as two cents a bushel on expectations of an all-time record crop.

★ ★ ★

Wheat, too, was sharply lower, declining more than a cent a bushel on the distant July contract. Corn lost more than a cent on the March delivery and oats fell back fractionally.

In the export trade, Poland bought a cargo of mixed wheat at the Gulf and the United Kingdom took between 400,000 and 600,000 bushels of corn.

Overnight the Commodity Credit Corp. sold 10,000 bushels of corn, 500,000 bushels of oats, 500,000 bushels of rye and 850,000 bushels of barley at Gulf and Atlantic ports, all for export.

Near the end of the first hour, new style wheat was ½-¾ lower, Dec. $2.18⅝; corn 1-1¼ lower, Dec. $1.19¾; oats ¼-⅜ lower, Dec. 66¾; rye ¾-1 cent lower, Dec. $1.27; soybeans ¾-2½ cents lower, Nov. $2.28¾; and lard 2-17 cents a hundred pounds lower, Oct. $11.37.

Farmers Sorry for Pelting Eggs

Corn Pickers Inform Benson, 'We're Ladies and Gentlemen'

SIOUX FALLS, S. D. (INS)—Officials of the South Dakota mechanical corn picking contest apologized today to Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson who was the target of eggs thrown by five farmers.

Ray Loftesness, vice president of the corn picking contest, expressed regret and told Benson:

"I want you to know we are ladies and gentlemen."

The incident occurred yesterday as the secretary rose to give the government's side of the flexible farm price supports before more than 5,000 farmers at Sioux Falls.

One egg splashed Benson's hat. Another soiled the suit of Republican Gov. Joe Foss who was on the speaker's platform with the secretary.

★ ★ ★

The guilty parties, officials said, apparently threw the eggs in anger over price supports. State police seized five farmers who admitted throwing a half dozen eggs. The police took their names but did not place them under arrest.

Gov. Foss said last night that authorities should prosecute the egg-throwers.

Benson delivered his speech despite the incident. Later he said: "It's un-American, certainly, and I don't think anything is gained by that sort of thing. Nothing like this has ever happened to me before."

Fangboner Represents Fire Fighters Group

Elmer Fangboner is the Pontiac Fire Fighters' Assn.'s representative on the AFL committee working toward a merger of that union and the CIO in Oakland County, instead of Charles Evans as reported in yesterday's Press.

The name of Evans was reported to The Press as the representative by Grady B. Pinner, president of the Pontiac Oakland County Federation of Labor (AFL).

International Harvester Boosts Tractor Prices

CHICAGO (AP) — International Harvester Co. has announced price increases on farm tractors, crawler tractors and some other construction equipment and farm implements.

The price increases, effective as of Oct. 1, raised the list price from 5-5. to 6.9 per cent.

★ ★ ★

Wheel-type tractors were boosted 5.5 per cent and crawler tractors and certain other construction equipment products an average of 6.9 per cent.

The firm said price boosts were designed to recover higher production costs caused by increased wages and salaries, and higher costs.

Selling Pounds Prices Lower

NEW YORK (AP)— Heavy selling pounded stock market prices down further early today, but buying support developed and there was a trend toward recovery which left prices mixed.

The high-speed ticker tape was running two minutes behind transactions in the initial rush which included many large blocks.

Losses among key stocks went from fractions to a point or more.

The market seemed to be reaching some kind of temporary climax after yesterday's sharp break, the worst in two years, brokers said.

Douglas was up around two points, then clipped the gain to a point. U.S. Steel went down, recovered, then slipped again.

★ ★ ★

Gains of around a point were posted by Boeing, Gulf Oil, Amerada and Lukens Steel.

★ ★ ★

Among losers were American Telephone, Republic Steel, Studebaker-Packard, United Aircraft, Union Carbide, Du Pont, Anaconda and International Nickel.

Leading rails, after a ragged opening, moved slightly to the upside. Gainers included Illinois Central and Baltimore & Ohio.

★ ★ ★

Opening blocks included: Phillips Petroleum off ¾ at 37½ on 10,000 shares; United Aircraft off 2 at 51¾ on 3,500, Bethlehem Steel unchanged at 40 on 7,400; and General Motors unchanged at 39½ on 4,500.

Asks X-Ray Balance

LOS ANGELES (INS) —An X-ray specialist says all radiation is harmful to some degree, but that its use must be balanced against what would happen if it were not used.

Superintendent Opposes All-Year County Schools

Dr. William J. Emerson, Oakland County superintendent of schools, told a state legislative study commission on school finance yesterday that he felt a 12-month school year in Michigan wouldn't work, at least in Oakland County.

Dr. Emerson was called to testify before the study committee composed of state senators and representatives serving on education committees and to state his opinions on the adequacy of state school support.

The educator explained the three-term, year-around program has been tried off and on around the nation but never worked out.

He recalled that Royal Oak and Hazel Park, both in Oakland County, had proposed sending youngsters to school all year about six years ago.

In a vote, parents generally favored three terms instead of voting taxes for more buildings but were unwilling to commit themselves to sending children to school during the summer months. Citizens soon voted higher taxes and built new schools in both communities, Emerson reported.

★ ★ ★

Emerson said he was well satisfied with the contribution made by the state government to overall financing of public schools.

In Michigan, the state pays about 54 cents of each dollar spent on public grade and high school operations.

Sen. Arthur Dehmel (R-Unionville), commission chairman, observed that only two other comparable industrial states contribute more than 50 per cent of the cost of schools, namely California and Washington.

★ ★ ★

Emerson said he would be pleased to see the state provide in the years ahead only for enrollment growth and effects of inflation.

He urged opening one or more new avenues of revenue to local government units to enable them better to carry their share of the load. He mentioned taxes used in other states, dwelling on a property transactions levy in Pensylvania, but specifically recommended none of these for Michigan.

Bowlers Allege Discrimination

Local Group in Court, Asks Damages and Full Rights on Alleys

Suit was filed in federal court in Detroit yesterday charging the owners of seven Pontiac bowling alleys with discrimination against members of a Negro bowling league.

Plaintiffs, six members of the Pontiac Bowling Association, said that during the past three years they have met with "inconveniences" at the alleys that hindered them from playing as an organized league.

They said they have been allowed to play only at certain times on certain dates, repeatedly have been assigned side alleys, and have been given faulty equipment.

Plaintiffs asked $1,000 damages apiece plus a restraining order preventing the seven alley owners from denying league members their full civil rights.

The suit arose out of an incident at the Pontiac Recreation Club, 18 N. Perry St. last summer, it was stated. At that time, it was alleged, the plaintiffs were prevented from bowling and a fracas ensued which resulted in a police officer being summoned.

The officer, Patrolman Gerald Smith, and Police Chief Herbert W. Straley were named as co-defendants in the suit.

San Marino's Reds Surrender to Foes

SAN MARINO (AP) — San Marino's Communist government surrendered its power to a rival anti-Communist regime today, ending 12 years of red rule over this tiny republic.

The Communist leadership announced capitulation in a proclamation read in San Marino's village square.

The proclamation said the Communist government had "decided to give up its useless resistance as a sacrifice to the welfare of the state."

The proclamation did not say precisely when the Reds would hand over power to the new government.

★ ★ ★

But Communist leaders and their supporters were already seen leaving the government palace they have held since the teapot revolution erupted Oct. 1.

True Believer in Brevity

HARLAN, Ky. (AP) — Fire Chief Estil Giles apparently felt it was one of those days for a short speech. His speech at the Kiwanis Club: "Don't smoke in bed. Club's dismissed." He then left to watch the final game of the World Series on television.

Boeing No. 1 Holder of Defense Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Boeing Airplane Co., has edged ahead of General Motors Corp., as the No. 1 holder of U. S. defense contracts.

A report issued by the Pentagon yesterday covering the six and one-half years ending last Dec. 31 showed Boeing in front, followed closely by GM.

General Motors' role as a defense contractor started falling with the end of the war in Korea, but a heavy backlog of orders kept GM on top of the list.

Chrysler to Build Plant in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Chrysler Corp., announced today it plans to build an automobile assembly plant here to replace one in Evansville, Ind.

★ ★ ★

W. C. Newberg, Chrysler automotive group vice president, said the new plant is scheduled for completion in the spring of 1959. The first cars to come off the line will be the 1960 Plymouths.

★ ★ ★

Newberg said it would employ around 3,500 workers.

Newberg said it had not yet been decided what disposition would be made of the 30-year-old Evansville plant. He said it would be studied for possible conversion to some other use by the corporation.

Newberg said St. Louis was selected for the new plant principally because of need of a plant near Chrysler's growing southwest market.

★ ★ ★

Newberg said present employes at Evansville would be given a chance to transfer here.

The plant there will continue in operation through the production of the 1957 and 1958 models.

Explains Paint on Highways

Parallel Lines Called Way of Testing Stripes for Durability

LANSING (AP) — Those parallel lines a motorist sees painted crosswise on the highways are the researcher's way of stretching road dollars spent for paint.

How it works was explained today by Dr. Art Permoda, chemist in the State Highway department's research laboratory at Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

The purpose, said Permoda, is to arrive at a basis for buying paint for road striping that will cost the least per mile per year.

Wearing ability, then, becomes a primary consideration. It can be measured by inspection, on a comparative basis, after car and truck tires have ground away at the painted lines, say for a year.

Permoda says the test painting also provides an index of ability to withstand weathering, especially effects of moisture.

Other special requirements for road-striping paint are that it must dry within 45 minutes to prevent tracking while fresh, and ability to hold the tiny glass beads used in reflectorization.

The glass beads, which range in size from 20 thousandths of an inch down to a tenth that size, are mixed with the paint when it is applied. Another layer is sprinkled on top before the coating dries.

The glass beads are what pick up your headlight beam in the night and make markings on the paint luminous.

Small Nuclear Device Exploded by Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia has tested another nuclear device at a point north of the Arctic Circle, the Atomic Energy Commission reports.

In a brief announcement yesterday, the AEC said:

"Another nuclear test has been conducted in the current Soviet series, the latest test was a small explosion on Oct. 10 at a site north of the Arctic Circle."

The current Soviet tests started Aug. 23. The AEC also has reported a Sept. 9 blast of moderate size, and Sept. 25 explosion which AEC indicated was a hydrogen weapon.

Last Monday, Moscow itself announced Russia had successfully tested "a powerful hydrogen device of new design." The AEC said later the explosion was of substantial size.

After completion of the proposed High Dam on the Nile, Egypt hopes to grow all the wheat she needs, Cairo learns.

Admits Slaying 5-Year-Old Girl

'I Don't Know Why,' Farm Hand Declares of New Mexico Crime

JUAREZ, Mexico (AP)—Joe Franco, 24-year-old farm hand, was held in jail here today for the slaying last Sunday of five-year-old Sandra Joe Lucero at Roswell, N. M.

★ ★ ★

Police inspector Domingo Holguin said Franco admitted he ravished the little girl and stabbed her three times in the heart with a screw driver.

★ ★ ★

"I don't know why," Franco told reporters at the Juarez jail. He said he had been smoking marihuana.

Franco's capture ended a widespread manhunt by police in Mexico and the United States.

Two Juarez officers found him yesterday at an uncle's farm near Torreon, Mexico, 480 miles southeast of El Paso, Tex.

Franco had been working on a farm near Dexter, N. M., and he turned up Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clement Lucero near Roswell. The parents were away and had left a 10-year-old relative to baby-sit with their children. Sandra and Franco had disappeared when they returned and the girl's body was found Monday night in a dump near Roswell.

Capital Expense Slashing Ahead

$100 Million a Day Prop May Get Shaky for U.S. Business in 1958

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—A 100 million dollar a day prop to business may get a little shaky next year. This is the average amount business itself has been putting back into the economy each day of this year in its spending for plant and equipment.

Contract awards for factory construction are declining. Corporate directors are appropriating far less money now for new capital spending than they were a year ago.

One survey just made by the Research Institute of America indicates spending next year could drop seven billion dollars below this year's record 37 billion dollars. Other surveys look for only a two billion dollar drop in annual rate in the early months of 1958.

Reasons given: University over the business outlook; the capacity to produce already in excess of demand for the time being; and the natural completion of big programs started some time back.

A survey by the Department of Commerce and the Securities and Exchange Commission shows the expansion boom leveling off now and dropping slightly by the end of the year.

The expected total this year of 37 billion dollars would be 6.5 per cent over the 35 billion spent last year, which was a whopping 22.5 per cent over spending in 1955. Spending less this year than last were auto, textile and stone, clay and glass product companies.

Public utilities are expected to keep up their expansion plans regardless of the general business trend. This year they're spending 6¼ billion dollars, compared with 4¾ billion last year.

The Institute's survey found 19 per cent of the 1,000 companies polled planning to increase spending and 35 per cent foreseeing no change.

Crash Hospitalizes Rochester Man

A Rochester man is listed in fair condition today at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital after being injured in a two-car collision early this morning, according to hospital officials.

Roger V. Haley, 30, of 3160 Crooks Rd., was injured when his auto collided with a car driven by Donald D. Petz, 47, of 15183 Doney Rd., Capac, at about 6 a.m., according to Pontiac Police.

The accident occurred at Opdyke road and E. South boulevard, said police. Haley suffered multiple cuts and bruises and was admitted to the hospital for X-rays.

Burdette Can't Do It?

NEW YORK (INS) — "If Burdette could cook, I'd marry him." That's how Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney laughingly summed up the superlative pitching effort of righthander Lew Burdette, who had just won his third game of the 1957 World Series, a 5-0 shutout of the New York Yankees.

Asks Probe of Mine Disaster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Metcalf (D-Mont) has asked Secretary of Labor Mitchell to investigate the Oct. 3 mine disaster at Hurley, N. M., in which 17 miners died.

Metcalf said in a letter to Mitchell that he has been informed that the mine had been cited for violations of safety standards on 10 occasions since last January.

Says Black Widow Caused Accident

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Pedro Garcia appeared before Municipal Court Magistrate Fred J. Mack on a charge of careless driving.

Garcia gave this explanation: While he was driving his automobile, he saw a black widow spider weaving a web from his car's sun visor on the driver's side of the vehicle. The spider was at eyebrow level.

Pedro swung at the spider. His aim was good but not his punch. The black widow wound up in Garcia's shirt.

That's where the careless driving came in. Garcia forgot about his role at the steering wheel, set out in search of the spider. The car rammed into the rear of another vehicle, parked on the street.

Mack allowed that Garcia's action was understandable, dismissed the charge.

Resolution

Whereas Holly Area Schools, by its Board of Education, are desirous of having its lands, adjoining the Village of Holly on the east boundary line, annexed to the Village, and

Whereas the owners of certain other lands, adjoining the said lands of Holly Area Schools or the Village of Holly are also desirous of having said lands annexed to the Village, and

Whereas it appears that the lands so desired to be annexed comprise approximately 160 acres and that in the interest of keeping boundary lines in conformity with section lines, approximately 20 acres lying between the northern boundaries of said lands and Highway M-87 should also be annexed, and

Whereas it appears that the need of annexation exists and it is in the public interest to make possible the future growth and development of said Village,

Now therefore be it resolved that the Council present a petition signed by the President and Clerk of said Village to the Oakland County Board of Supervisors at its next regular meeting in the County Office Building, 1 Lafayette Street, Pontiac, Michigan, on June 24, 1957, praying that the boundaries of the Village of Holly be altered by taking in and annexing thereto the following described lands:

Beginning at the Northwest corner of the East ½ of the Southeast ¼ of Section 34, Town 5 North, Range 7 East; thence Easterly along the center line of M-87 to the center of Section 35, Town 5 North, Range 7 East; thence Southerly along the ¼ line of said Section 35 and the ¼ line of Section 2, Town 4 North Range 7 East to the Southeast corner of the Northeast ¼ of the Northwest ¼ of said Section 2; thence Westerly along the ⅛ line to the Southwest corner of said Northeast ¼ of Northwest ¼ of Section 2, thence Northerly alone the ⅛ line to the Northwest corner of Northeast ¼ of Northwest ¼ of Section 2; thence Westerly along the South line of Holly Township to the Southwest corner of the East ½ of the Southeast ¼ of Section 34, Town 5 North, Range 7 East; thence Northerly along the ⅛ line to point of beginning, containing 280 acres more or less.

Your petitioner shows that, of the 280 acres above described, approximately 50 acres is the property of the Holly Area Schools, upon which property a new high school is now being erected and that annexation of said property will be of great advantage to the said Holly Area Schools in that the said Schools will benefit from services of the Village, such as fire and police protection.

Your petitioner further shows that the owners of 158 acres of the above described lands have requested annexation to the said Village of Holly in order that 140 acres thereof may be developed and homes erected thereon, and that your petitioner verily believes that said property should be so annexed in that more homes would be available and the general welfare of the people of Holly would be better served.

Your petitioner further shows that, of the remaining 72 acres, approximately 20 acres adjoin and lie adjacent to Highway M-87 on the north side of said parcel and approximately 52 acres adjoin the Holly Area School property on the east and that your petitioner believes that said property should be annexed in that sanitary sewers will be available to the owners thereof, and further, that the boundaries of the lands, annexation of which is hereby petitioned for, be in conformity with existing state highway and section lines.

Wherefore your petitioner prays that your Honorable Body take such action as is necessary or appropriate to effectuate the annexation of the land herein described to the territory of the Village of Holly, Oakland County, Michigan, in manner and form as by law provided.

Respectfully submitted,
PAUL O. COHEE
GEORGE J. PATTERSON

Whereas he prefers not to call his leaving of public service as "retirement" but rather a decision to now start a new employment which he likes to call "pursuing my own pursuits", and

Whereas Stan, after graduating from Michigan Agricultural College (now M.S.U.) in 1913, worked as an accountant in private industry until 1924 when he was employed by the Michigan State Highway Department as an expert on Covert Road Bonds, and

Whereas because his knowledge of road accounting, he was induced to associate himself with the Oakland County Road Commission in 1930, which position he held until 1949 when he was employed as an accountant with the Oakland County Board of Auditors, and

Whereas he has for the past 18 years and is continuing to serve as Treasurer and a member of the Executive Board of the Clinton Valley Council of Boy Scouts, and is looking forward to attending the National Scout Council in Philadelphia next month, and

Whereas his conduct in public and private life has been most exemplary and that of a good and faithful public servant, dedicated to the welfare of his fellowman in public service, and

In Re: 1957 County Legislative Program To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Legislative Committee is happy to report that the County Legislative Program was exceptionally well received by the State Legislature this year and most of the proposed legislation program as outlined to you on April 15, 1957, has now been enacted into law.

Perhaps the most important piece of legislation to be passed at the present session of the Legislature which affects County government is the bill which authorizes counties to establish a "Department of Public Works." The highlights of this legislation was forwarded to all members of the Board last week. The Act was signed by the Governor on June 4th and is now known as Act 185 of the Public Acts of 1957. There are also several other important pieces of legislation which came out of the recent session in Lansing which, although not directly sponsored by the County, were supported by your Committee and are beneficial to the interests of the County.

Senate Bill 1338, which is now Act 186 of the Public Acts of 1957, will permit the County to annually set aside a sum not in excess of one mill from any funds on hand not raised by taxation for the purpose of constructing, equipping, or making alterations in any of the public buildings in the county if approved by a majority of the membership of the Board of Supervisors.

Senate Bill 1051 permits the Board to increase the per diem compensation for Supervisors. This bill has been signed by the Governor and is now Act 220 of the Public Acts of 1957.

Other minor pieces of legislation were successfully introduced either by Oakland County or with the support of Oakland County for other agencies but are not included in this report.

Your committee desires, at this time, to express its deep appreciation to the members of the House of Representatives from Oakland County and to Senator Lodge for the splendid cooperation given your committee during this session. Needless to say, nothing could have been accomplished without them for they worked many tireless hours in behalf of the county program.

In addition, we were given much assistance and advice by county employees and officials as well as other members of the Board of Supervisors. It should be pointed out that we also received a great deal of assistance from other legislative groups in Lansing.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Legislative Committee whose names are signed below, I move the acceptance of this report and further move that the Clerk of Committees be requested to prepare a suitable letter of appreciation to Senator Lodge and the members of the House of Representatives from Oakland County expressing the appreciation of the Board of Supervisors for their assistance and that the Chairman of the Board be requested to sign the same.

In Re: Proposed Legislation — Township Local Roads

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Roads and Bridges Committee has had under consideration suggestions from several of the Township Supervisors of this County, that Townships be permitted to assume control over and maintenance of their local roads. The Committee met on May 16, 1957 and again on May 14, 1957 to consider this matter and, after conferences with the three members of the Oakland County Road Commission, has determined that state legislation will be required to permit this to be done.

The Committee in its consultations with members of the Oakland County Road Commisston on this matter, has been informed that the Road Commission has no objection to such a procedure if proper changes are made in existing state laws.

Townships which elect to come under such Legislation would receive the funds now paid to the County Road Commission for maintenance from the state. The Road Commission would continue to receive funds for and maintain County primary roads, trunklines under agreement with the State Highway Department and local roads in those Townships which do not elect to come under the proposed law.

Permissive type of legislation to accomplish the above purposes is recommended by your Committee.

Now therefore, Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the members of the Roads and Bridges Committee, I move that the matter of proposed legislation needed to permit the Townships to assume control over and maintenance of their local roads be referred to the Legislative Committee for study and report back to this Board with specific changes in the State Laws to accomplish this in sufficient time for introduction at the next session of the State Legislature.

In Re: Number of Members on Board of Department of Public Works To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The Ways and Means Committee has discussed the size of the Board of Public Works, it being optional with this Committee whether the membership of the Board shall be 3, 5 or 7 members. The Drain Commissioner is automatically a member and the Ways and Means Committee recommends that the remaining four members shall be members of the Board of Supervisors.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, I move that the Board of Public Works shall consist of five members, including the Drain Commissioner as provided by the Act, and that the compensation for such members be the same as that received by members of the Board of Supervisors, plus such expenses as are approved by the Board of Auditors in carrying out the duties of the office.

Be it further resolved that the Drain Commissioner be appointed for a term expiring January 1, 1959; that two of the Supervisor members of the Board of Public Works be appointed for terms ending January 1, 1960; and that two Supervisor members be appointed for terms ending January 1, 1961.

In Re: Appropriation for Department of Public Works

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

The Ways and Means Committee has discussed the matter of funds for the operation of the Department of Public Works for the balance of this year and finds that it will be necessary for that Board to hire a Director and secretarial service and, in addition, it may be necessary for that Board, in connection with projects which may be immediately submitted to it to have cash to operate on until charge-backs can be made to the specific projects.

Your Ways and Means Committee believes that the sum of $50,000.00 should be advanced as needed and made available to the Department of Public Works for the above purposes and any balance existing at the end of the year shall be accounted for to this Board.

Wherefore on behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, I move that the sum of $50,000.00 be transferred from unappropriated surplus and made available by the Board of Auditors to the Department of Public Works, to be expended consistent with the practices of the Board of Auditors in the handling of such funds.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, I move the adoption of the foregoing resolution and request a roll call vote thereon.

In Re: Establishment of Board of Public Works

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Consistent with the resolution just offered and adopted, the Ways and Means Committee believes it is important that we utilize the most experienced talent we can supply from this Board.

The Act provides that the Board of Supervisors shall appoint the personnel of the Board of Public Works. The Act also authorizes this Board to make rules and regulations.

We believe that the Chairman of the Board should recommend the members of the Department of Public Works subject to appointment of this Board.

We are also of the opinion at this time that Delos Hamlin, the present Chairman of this Board, should be a member of the Department of Public Works and in view of the fact that he could not very graciously appoint himself we recommend that he be one of the Supervisor members of the five man Board.

Wherefore, Ladies and Gentlemen, be it resolved:

1. That the Chairman of this Board recommend himself and three other Supervisors who, with the Drain Commissioner, shall constitute the Board of Public Works:

2. That the Chairman submit the names of the recommended appointees to this Board for ratification and approval so that the appointments may be the action of this Board.

Mr. Chairman, on behalf of the ways and Means Committee, I move the adoption of the foregoing resolution and request a roll call vote thereon.

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas it would facilitate matters for the Chairman and Clerk if each member were assigned a seat and occupied it at each meeting,

Notice of Change in By-Laws
By Mr. Moberly
In Re: Duties of Chairman and Vice-Chairman

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It has come to our attention that few of the duties of the Chairman of this Board are outlined by Statute and that fact, together with the fact that no provision is made for a Vice-Chairman or Chairman pro tem, has lead your Committee to believe that our By-Laws should provide for the Chairman pro tem to be, by By-Law, vested with some authority to function officially in the absence or incapacity of the Chairman. At present, if the Chairman were away or incapacitated, the Chairman pro tem would be powerless to act. The Board would have ot convene and elect a Chairman.

We believe, with the state law silent, but with this Board having rule-making power and the business management of the County vested in this Board, that we should adopt some rules defining the function of the Chairman and providing for the election of a Vice-Chairman, and defining the duties of each.

Mr. Chairman, I would like, at this time, to give notice of a proposed amendment to the By-Laws, as follows:

Amend Rule IV by designating the present matter therein contained as Section 1".

Also, by adding to said Rule IV, the following Sections:

"Section 2. The Chairman shall appoint all Committees and if any committee personnel is required to be appointed by the Board of Supervisors, the Chairman shall make recommendations on the appointees subject to the approval of the Board. If the recommendations of the Chairman are approved by vote of the Board, the appointments shall be conclusively presumed to be the action of the Board.

Section 3. The Chairman shall be an ex officio member of all Committees and shall, as far as possible, attend all such meetings.

Section 4. Annually, when the Chairman of the Board of Supervisors is elected, a Vice-Chairman (Chairman pro tem) shall be elected.

Section 5. The Vice-Chairman shall have, and in the absence or incapacity of the Chairman, be vested with all of the powers of the Chairman except the right to appoint or remove personnel of Committees of the Board, standing or special. He shall also be an ex-officio member of all Committees, but shall not be charged with the duty to attend their meetings unless requested by the Chairman, or in the event that the Chairman is incapacitated."

Mr. Chairman, I move that these proposed amendments be referred to the By-Laws Committee for report at the next meeting.

In Re: County Lease on Road Commission Property
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas the Office of the County Drain Commissioner is crowded to the point of creating inefficiency, and

Whereas the recently created Department of Public Works has no space allotted to it, and

Whereas the Ways and Means Committee, with the approval of the Roads, Drain and Buildings and Grounds Committees, has negotiated with the Oakland County Road Commission for a lease to the premises recently vacated by the Road Commission on Telegraph Road, and

Whereas the County can lease the premises for the sum of Five Hundred Twenty-five and no/100 Dollars, ($525.00) per month and maintenance, which your Joint Committees believe is to the best interest of the County as well as the Road Commission, and

Whereas on instructions of the Ways and Means Committee, the Corporation Counsel has prepared a lease embodying the terms agreed upon, viz: a three (3) year lease with a six (6) months cancellation provision by the Lessee at a consideration of $525.00 per month plus maintenance of the premises;

Now therefore be it resolved that the Chairman and Clerk of this Board be authorized to execute the Lease with the Road Commission as prepared by the Corporation Counsel and approved by these Committees;

Be it further resolved that the Road Commission be permitted to occupy a space approximately 10 feet by 40 feet for temporary storage space until January 1, 1958, and the Clerk of this Board be directed to notify the Road Commission in writing of such permission.

To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas the Board has approved the lease of the Oakland County Road Commission Building for use by the Drain Commission, the Department of Public Works, and other departments, and

Whereas it has been estimated by the Board of Auditors that it will cost $5,000.00 to operate the building for the balance of the current year, and

Whereas it will be necessary to make certain renovations in order to make the building usable for the purposes intended, the total of which is not yet known, and

Whereas the Buildings and Grounds Committee now has under consideration the necessary alterations and renovations which will have to be made,

Now therefore be it resolved that a sum not to exceed $15,000.00 be appropriated from unappropriated surplus for the rental, operation, renovation and necessary alterations to the building.

In Re: Consolidation of Public Health Laboratories in Oakland County, Michigan
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas there are, at this time, three (3) public health laboratories in operation in Oakland County, Michigan, two (2) being maintained by the County and one (1) by the City of Pontiac, with six (6) trained technicians and three (3) laboratory aides required to operate same at an annual cost of $28,476.000 to the County and $18,311.00 to the City of Pontiac, or a grand total cost per annum of $43,787.00, and

Whereas because of the present shortages of available qualified professional personnel and frequent vacancies in one or another of these laboratories, along with sick leaves and annual vacation periods, thereby necessitating shifting of the work load from one to another or both the laboratories, as the circumstances demand, and which often results in a serious delay in reporting laboratory findings or an occasional lost specimen or report, and

Whereas a six months study indicates that one consolidated laboratory, under one director, assisted by three (3) trained technicians, and (2) laboratory aides; and one (1) part-time clerk-typist could more efficiently operate and carry the present work load, and

Whereas it is conservatively estimated that by such consolidation of these three (3) laboratories, the total operating cost could be reduced by $9,538.00 for the first year of operation (the County's share of this saving amounting to $6,324.50 and the City's share amounting to $3,223.50, and

Whereas the three (3) existing laboratories are not now of sufficient size to handle the total work load, nor is there room for expansion in any one of the present locations, and

Whereas the Michigan State Health Department, which has final jurisdiction over and handles registration of all laboratories in this State, has approved such consolidation, and

Whereas present estimates show that such a consolidated laboratory could be installed in the basement of the New Oakland County Health Center Building, in room approximately 30 feet wide by 60 feet long at an approximate cost of $6,325.50, including furniture, lighting fixtures, plumbing, electrical wiring, partitions, etc., and that there is ample scientific equipment (such as stills, incubators, centrifuges, sterilizers, microscopes, etc.) already available in the present existing laboratories;

Now therefore be it resolved as follows:

1. That the sum of $6,325.50 be appropriated from the General Fund of the County to pay for the cost of installation and equipment necessary to provide a consolidated laboratory in the new Health Center Building;

2. That the consolidation of the three (3) public health laboratories be approved as recommended by the Health Department and approved by the Health Committee of the Board;

3. That the Corporation Counsel be instructed to prepare the necessary agreements between the County and the City of Pontiac in accordance with the terms of the agreement attached hereto;

4. That the Chairman and Clerk of this Board be authorized to execute said agreements on behalf of the County.

In Re: Children's Home
Honorable Members of the Board of Supervisors:

Ladies and Gentlemen:

First, may I thank you for your graciousness in permitting me a few minutes of your busy time. Second, may I thank you for the splendid cooperation and assistance which you have given the Juvenile Court over the years of my experience toward having Oakland County furnish fine services to underprivileged children, and wards of the Juvenile Court.

My purpose in speaking to you is not to utter a word of criticism; rather to again remind you that the rapid growth of the county has far surpassed our housing facilities and school facilities for wards of the Juvenile Court.

In appreciation of your action on the Buildings and Grounds Committee report concerning cottages and school facilities, I feel that I am a spokesman for those who cannot plead their own cause because they cannot speak for themselves, because their parents do not care or are incapable of understanding, or are unaware of the needs of their children. Some are orphans in the full sense; all are orphans or in form in other respects. These children come to Oakland County and are brought to the door of the Oakland County Children's Home for shelter or custodial care at all hours of the day or night. To the degree that we help them, they become good citizens. When we fail in this obligation, they may become criminals, the insane, the socially inadequate, and all of the other classes of persons who are a load and obligation upon the shoulders of society. The Juvenile Court of this county continually serves approximately 2300 children who are abandoned, neglected, dependent, emotionally disturbed, psyapychos, bad, corrigible, or just plain delinquent. Whatever their individual problem may be, they suffer from infirmity, an infirmity of mind or of body or of emotions or of social training or of human decency. Each brings an individual problem which someone must solve. Failure of solution heaps not only danger and fear upon society, but in the long run costs society much more in prisons, insane hospitals, and rehabilitation centers than the cost of treating the need of the child.

There are 246,999 children in Oakland County under 18 years of age, less than 1% of these children are the responsibility of the Juvenile Court. Yet, this one per cent is the greatest factor for deterioration of society. So, I want to speak for just a few minutes about the needs of the infirm and underprivileged children of our county.

In 1928, this County had the foresight to build a modern detention home, now known more kindly as the County Children's Home. The Board of Supervisors envisioned a total future population of some 85 children. For years, this building was most serviceable, containing in it a woodshop for boys, a domestic science room for girls, family and recreational rooms for both boys and girls and consultation rooms and visiting rooms. Today these rooms have been completely abolished and are now used for school rooms, housing seven classrooms, which are insufficient.

Our population exceeds the reasonable capacity of the Children's Home a good share of the year by 40 to 80 children and this will be a more aggravated situation in the year 1957-8 than last, even though you have built two existing cottages, Camp Oakland takes care of 20 boys and the custodial home on Franklin Boulevard will house another 20 children. In other words, we need sleeping facilities for some 40 to 80 children, which we do not have if decent accommodations are to be furnished within the 1957-8 year.

Next, we need additional classrooms for a total of 11 classes with four new teachers, plus the principal's office.

Next, we need to segregate children according to type, namely, behavior and social, physical and mental characteristics. Presently, there are always some of the following children in our main building who must associate together to some degree, namely, pre-psychotic children, mentally defective children, incorrigible youth, neglected and dependent children and delinquent children.

Inadequate segregation of these children who come to us at all hours of the night for shelter is not good. Inability to afford adequate school facilities is disruptive to the very purpose of corrective child care services.

Our present lack of recreational space is both unfair and dangerous. We lack room for the clinical staff for counselling, visitation and Psychiatric contact.

Under the Statute in 1957, Oakland County will receive an estimated $142,000 of state aid if it provides for minimum standards in the care of these children. The State recommendations and regulations for such housing provide as follows:

Item 5. Rooms must be arranged to permit segregation according to character, physical and mental conditions. This we do not have.

Item 6. Sleeping rooms must be outside rooms with adequate window space and light and ventilation; this last year, many boys slept in the halls making the building unsafe from a fire hazard standpoint.

Item 7. Beds are required to be three feet apart. This requirement was disregarded under the emergency.

Item 10. Each child is required to have a reasonable place for his personal belongings, namely, for towel, wash cloth, etc. This was also disregarded.

Through good fortune and the excellent management of our Children's Home and cottages, no great untoward incident occurred during this last year. Nevertheless our clinical staff and our Psychiatrist have repeatedly warned us of the danger of herding youngsters into inadequate living space. Youths who are incorrigible, mentally defective, prepsychopathic and emotionally disturbed are apt to be dangerous to themselves, to other children and to the staff, under such intolerable living conditions.

This matter, and your proposal was brought to your attention by letters of the writer dated April 17, 1956, June 11, 1956 (my birthday) and June 6, 1957. Dr. Friedland's report accurately supported our planning.

We are thankful that you have provided space for the 20 children who are to be housed on Franklin Boulevard. This is a fine move and to the extent available, will be very helpful. However, it is not enough, for the estimated increase in population will absorb this space. The truth is that the tremendous growth of the county has increased the child care needs beyond our ability to give shelter. We have long since been bulging at the seams. All things indicate that prompt building construction should be undertaken. Your various committees have all been helpful and have given much thought toward the solution of this problem. We are thankful. But our pressure and needs are so severe that I believe that this matter of building accommodations for children should be given number one concern of the Board of Supervisors.

I know that you must have used wisdom in constructing the new county garage and the new Public Health Center and other buildings of lesser stature. For reasons which I do not question and which must have been apparent to you, these buildings have been given priority. My only point is that now, at this time, buildings for underprivileged children should be immediately on the emergency agenda.

Nor do I feel this building need is in any way dependent upon the decision relative to the location and construction of the new Court House. Wherever the Court House may be and whatever its problems are, needs for shelter of children remain the same.

I therefore suggest that the following emergency program be effected:

1. Assign the former Contagious Hospital, which I understand may be soon vacated by the Pontiac General Hospital, for the care and education of these children. This building would provide the 11 classrooms which are needed. This will free some of the rooms in the present Children's Home for their proper and intended use.

2. If the former Contagious Hospital cannot be available promptly, then we request you to proceed with prompt construction of a new school building including all purpose and group recreational facilities.

3. Construct at least two cottages for help toward segregation of incorrigibles, pre-psychotic children and delinquent children, and take them out of the other general living quarters of dependent children.

4. Plan for the construction as soon as possible, of additional cottages to meet the growth of the county.

Would it not be appropriate for the Board of Supervisors to go on record by resolution at this time, approving this report in substance, and authorizing this action when approved in detail by appropriate committees?

I thank you for your courtesy today.

ARTHUR E. MOORE,
Probate Judge.

Moved by Roberts supported by Ewart the report be approved, as requested.

Moved by Horton supported by Hulet the report be laid on the table until the next meeting and a copy be sent to each member of the Board.

Moved by Miller supported by Rhinevault this matter be referred to the Drain Committee for immediate action.

A sufficient majority having voted for the motion, the motion carried.

In Re: Court House Case Appeal

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas the opinion rendered by Judge Dehnke in the so-called "Court House Case" (Oakland County Taxpayers League vs. Board of Supervisors and Board of Auditors of Oakland Co.) in effect holds unconstitutional a portion of the Scavenger Act under which the County has received and expended funds for public buildings; and also would render unconstitutional Act 139 of the Public Acts of 1956 and Act 186 of the Public Acts of 1957, and would preclude the expenditure, without a vote of the people, of any sum in excess of 1/10th of a mill for the construction of repair of public buildings whether raised by taxation or otherwise, and

Whereas this interpretation of the law would make it impossible for this County and many other counties to maintain their physical plants, and

Whereas if Judge Dehnke's decision stands, the powers of Boards of Supervisors are drastically curtailed and Boards of Supervisors would be faced with the necessity of going to a vote of the people to provide buildings which the law charges the Board with the duty to erect,

Now therefore the Ways and Means Committee, after due consideration of the matter, recommends that the Corporation Counsel be instructed to take a general appeal to the Supreme Court from the ruling of the Circuit Court and do so as expeditiously as possible.

In Re: Available Tuberculosis Sanatorium Facilities
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Your Committee met with the Board of Trustees of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium on August 6, 1957 to inspect the present use of the County Tuberculosis Sanatorium facilities. We found that the main building is now being occupied to full capacity with 158 patients at the present time.

Anex No. 1 is occupied by 30 convalescent type of patients while the Nurses' Home is only partly occupied.

The Board of Trustees has advised your Committee that the patients now at Annex No. 1 are not occupying an efficient amount of the total space and that the Nurses' Home is physically more adaptable to ambulatory care, which would provide this type of patient with better living conditions.

Your Committee has also been advised that Annex No. 1 would provide more space for other County use, can be physically isolated from the main building at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium and operated as a separate administrative entity.

Therefore, it appears that the Annex No. 1 at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium may be made available shortly for such other County uses as the Board of Supervisors may direct.

In Re: Tenure Policy—Supervisors Appointed to Boards, Etc.
Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Within the organizational structure of the County government are several Boards, Commissions, Authorities and other officials and Corporate Bodies on which various members of the Board of Supervisors are appointed by virtue of their position as a County Supervisor.

In some instances, the terms of appointment to these various Boards, Commissions or Authorities may not terminate with the term of office to which a member of this Board may be elected or appointed as a County Supervisor.

As a matter of policy, your Ways and Means Committee recommends that members of this Board should be the official representatives on these various Boards, Commissions and Authorities, and that, upon expiration of term of office or resignation as Supervisor, such member shall submit his resignation as a member of such governmental or quasi-governmental bodies.

Therefore, Mr. Chairman, I move, on behalf of the Ways and Means Committee, that the policy as recommended be established as the policy of the County, and that those former Supervisors who may now or in the future, hold positions by appointment of this Board, be respectfully requested to submit their resignations to the Chairman so that their successors may be appointed from the current membership of the Board of Supervisors.

In Re: Incorporation Expenses—Legislation
To the Oakland County Board of Supervisors

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

Whereas there are an increasing number of City Incorporations taking place in the County, and

Whereas under existing state laws, the County is obligated to advance funds for necessary pre-incorporation expenses, including the cost of conducting the elections on the question of incorporation, adoption of a Charter and election of the first municipal officials, and

Whereas in the past, the County has been required to advance large sums of money for these purposes, some of which may never be repaid, and

Whereas your Ways and Means Committee recommends that an amendment to the existing laws be proposed in the next session of the Legislature to require either the petitioners to pay such costs or for statutory authority to allow the County to spread back the incorporation expense on the affected areas,

Now therefore be it resolved that the matter of recommended legislation for the deposit or collection of pre-incorporation expenses be referred to the Legislative Committee for study and report back to the Board in sufficient time so that proper Legislation may be submitted at the next session of the State Legislature.

In Re: Juvenile Facilities
Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the last meeting of this Board, the recommendations of the Buildings and Grounds Committee for additional facilities for the Juvenile Home were referred to your Ways and Means Committee with power to act.

Your Committee met on August 1, 1957 with Dr. Louis L. Friedland, Consultant, to consider his report on the feasibility of using one of the alternate proposals suggested by the Buildings and Grounds Committee as set forth in Miscellaneous Resolution No. 3250 to provide additional space for the County's Juvenile Program.

Your Committee is continuing its study of the possibilities of using either the former Contagious Hospital building or the Annex No. 1 at the Tuberculosis Sanatorium (which the Trustees of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium have announced will be available for other County uses) and have not as yet completed this study.

At this time, your Committee recommends that plans be prepared for immediate construction of one cottage type unit on the available site at the County Service Center to house wards of the Juvenile Court and that architects recommended by the Buildings and Grounds Committee be employed to prepare preliminary plans for a reasonable fixed fee under the supervision of the Buildings and Grounds Committee.

Therefore be it resolved as follows:

1. That the Buildings and Grounds Committee, in accordance with the By-Laws, be authorized to employ Bery-Klei and Associates, architects, to prepare preliminary plans and cost estimates, at a reasonable fixed fee, for one cottage type unit to supplement the juvenile facilities.

2. That the Board of Auditors, with the approval of the Corporation Counsel, be authorized to enter into a contract with the Architects hereby employed for these services.

NOTICE

The Zoning Board of Independence Township, Oakland County, Michigan, will hold a public hearing on October 16, 1957, at 8:00 P.M. at the Township Hall, Clarkston, Michigan, to consider the repeal of Section 12A (Gravel-Sand District) including 12A(1) and 12A(2) of Ordinance No. 2, the township of Independence Zoning Ordinance.

FRED L. TUCKER, Chairman
Independence Township Zoning Board
Sept. 26-Oct. 11, '57.

Bob Considine Says:

Feats Such as Burdette's Rare

NEW YORK (INS) — "If Lew Burdette could cook I'd marry him," little Fred Haney, the manager of the Milwaukee Braves, cried with delight after the World Series' final game.

FEAT ELUSIVE

Hardly once in a blue moon, or a Peruvian sputnik, does one see such a performance as Burdette turned in during the 1957 Series. His three victories, two of them shutouts, constitute a feat that eluded such pitching immortals as Walter Johnson, Lefty Grove, Dizzy Dean, Bobby Feller, Red Ruffing, Allie Reynolds and other great men who strode through these autumn sports classics in the past.

You've got to reach back to Christy Mathewson's three shutouts in 1905 to find a superior performance, and Christy was throwing by comparison a bag of oatmeal.

You've got to dust off Babe Ruth's legendary and often forgotten record of 29 and two-thirds scoreless innings of Series pitching to find something to stand up against the 24 consecutive goose-eggs Burdette rammed down Yankee throats.

VICTORY MIRACLE

For the Braves, this victory was one of those miracles which are so arresting that the result had a story-book quality. If the Yankees had won, the general attitude would have been, "Well . . . well, they did it again, eh?" The victory of the Braves, the underdogs at the start of the Series and before the final game, caused a kind of H-bomb explosion back in Milwaukee and provided a shot in the arm for the game far and near.

It will mean tens of thousands of new fans for the 1958 season, as people come out to see the Davids who slew the Goliath of the sport. The appearance of these men in San Francisco and Los Angeles, to play against transplanted Giants and Dodgers, will mean that those two clubs can take firmer root in their new soil.

At home in Milwaukee, persons not attending next season's games may very well be booked as subversives.

OFF PAYROLL

A World Series that goes beyond four games has a special attraction. The players, beginning with the fifth game, are off the payroll. The size of the crowd at each game from then on adds nothing to the amount they'll receive for playing in the Series.

Burdette's great 1-0 victory that put his team ahead, 3-2, in the Series was pitched, in effect, for nothing — as was his great final game. This goes for Bob Turley's splendid showing of the day before, which tied it up for the Yankees at three games apiece.

After the fourth game the boys are gambling. The incentive system goes into effect. If they win, it means that each regular will get as much as $3,000 more out of the escrowed gold put aside for them from the gates of the first four games.

* * *

Sometimes this is too much of a burden for a man to carry. He becomes overcautious, tries too hard, or simply chokes up. For others, it is a challenge that only a true gambler can feel and meet, and it is from these ranks that step the likes of a Burdette or an Eddie Mathews, or a Yogi Berra or a Hank Bauer.

Man Faces Court in Wife's Death

Utica Factory Worker Held for Examination on Murder Charge

A plea of not guilty was entered for a 45-year-old Utica factory worker when he was arraigned yesterday before Macomb County Judge Francis A. Castelluci in the clubbing death of his wife.

Examination has been set for Oct. 23 for Archie Wedge, of 6077 Higgins, Utica. He is being held on a $10,000 bond.

In a warrant issued Thursday by Macomb County Prosecutor Cecil A. Byers, Wedge is accused of clubbing his wife Louise, 47, to death with a rifle following a family quarrel.

Wedge made a statement to Byers saying he was sitting in a chair when his wife struck him with the rifle. He then grabbed the weapon and struck her once, Byers quoted Wedge as saying.

Wedge, a tool-and-die helper at Chrysler's Mound Road plant, Detroit, told arresting officers that he and his wife argued bitterly about his alleged attentions to other women.

The incident occurred when he returned from work at 3:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Pontiac Banks to Remain Open on Columbus Day

Both Pontiac banks and their branches, along with Pontiac Federal Savings & Loan Assn. offices, will maintain regular Saturday hours tomorrow despite the day being a "red letter" day on the calendar.

Officials said Oct. 12—Columbus Day—is not a bank holiday.

All stores are expected to be open also during their regular hours.

The day has been officially proclaimed "Columbus Day" in Pontiac by Mayor William W. Donaldson. Commemorating the discovery of America 465 years ago, Mayor Donaldson said citizens should look to Saturday as "a spiritual symbol of the Americas."

Judy's pie was adjudged the best in the junior division for school girls while Mrs. Morris won top honors in the senior division for housewives.

Other prize winners were Marjorie LeMond and Janice Logie, who won second and third places, respectively, in the junior division; Mrs. Donna Hamblin and Mrs. Edward Miller, won finished second and third, respectively, in the senior division.

The contest was arranged by Mrs. Mary Burt, homemaking instructor at West Bloomfield high school. It was sponsored by the West Bloomfield Township Kiwanis club.

The pies were judged on a basis of 50 points for the crust and 50 points for the filling with 100 points being the highest possible score.

The winners of each division are now eligible to compete in the Oakland finals at West Bloomfield high school on Saturday, Oct. 26.

Consider Plans to Rebuild Swimming Pool at PHS

Three plans to rehabilitate Pontiac High School's antique swimming pool were laid before the board of education last night by William Frankenfield, of Zimmerman Associates, architects and engineers.

The pool is beneath the girls' gymnasium in the main school building.

The first plan, to cost an estimated $140,000 would repair the existing pool, built in 1913 and bring it up to health standards. The second plan would enlarge the pool to full competitive size which would require a small three-story addition to the building and lowering the pool to allow diving height above it. This would cost about $450,000, Frankenfield estimated.

* * *

The final proposition was to build an entirely new full-size pool and repair the old pool for use by girls classes. This would cost some $471,000 all together.

The board members present said they felt either the first or third proposition was feasible, but ruled out the second. The board put off any decision for the present.

In other action, the board awarded contracts for equipment and fixtures at the new high school. Clothing equipment for homemaking rooms was awarded to W. D. Glardon Co., of Detroit, for $9,218.

Foods equipment contract went to Model Kitchens Co., Detroit, for $5,500; and science, language and reading laboratories equipment was won by B. F. Farnell Co., Detroit, with a bid of $34,135.

The board heard a report from Washington street residents on the finding of a suitable site for additional parking space for high school teachers' cars. A spokesman said that no location had been found to which residents would agree.

Superintendent Dana Whitmer reported enrollment in the Pontiac system totaled 19,009, as compared with 18,498 last year at this time.

The board also received a letter from the Pontiac Education Assn. requesting further consideration of a longer Easter vacation period, but no action was taken.

Get Comfortable, Gals, to Watch TV Programs

CHICAGO (INS) — A Philadelphia physician warns that sitting in an awkward position while watching television may produce serious circulatory disorders in the legs.

Writing in the Oct. 12 journal of the American Medical Association, Dr. Meyer Naide urged TV viewers to get up and move about at least once an hour. He also recommended that ladies remove girdles and other tight garments before settling down for an evening of watching TV.

Dr. Naide, who is associated with the Women's Medical College of Pennsylvania, reported three cases of blood clots occurring in the leg vessels after the patients had sat in awkward positions before their TV sets.

One man sat with the back of his knee pressed against the edge of a chair for 1½ hours, another man had his leg thrown over the arm of the chair for an hour, and a woman kept her leg tucked under her off and on for two hours.

Woman Hospitalized by World Series Bet

OMAHA (INS) — A 25-year-old Omaha woman was in a hospital today with a gunshot wound suffered during a "razzing" over a World Series bet with her husband.

Elmer Jackson told police he and his wife, Arline, began to "razz" each other after he won the bet.

They began to wrestle around the room, he said, and he warned her to be careful of a pistol he carried in his pocket. As he tried to get the gun out, it discharged twice, the second shot striking Mrs. Jackson.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR son, Stephen Clay Jones, who passed away Oct. 11, 1956.
He was a flower too sweet for earth,
Sent here but for awhile;
God marked him when he gave him birth;
And took him with a smile.
Sadly missed by his Mommy and Daddy.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF GUY W. James who passed away 3 years ago, Oct. 10, 1954.
Three lonely years have passed and gone.
Since one we loved so well,
Was taken from our home on earth,
With Jesus Christ to dwell.
The flowers we placed upon his grave,
May wither and decay,
But the love of him who sleeps beneath,
Shall never fade away.
Sadly missed by wife, children, & grandchildren.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MAYME Irene Kellner who passed away Oct. 11, 1956.
I have lost my soul's companion,
A life linked with my own;
And day by day I miss her more,
As I walk through life alone.
Sadly missed by her husband, Max.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MR. Phillip Felice who passed away Oct. 11, 1951.
His smiling way and pleasant face,
Are a pleasure to recall;
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not when,
To clasp his hand in the better land,
Never to part again.
Sadly missed by his 2 sons, Joseph & Ernest, & daughter Julia & wife, Rose.

Mike Todd Is Giving Little Birthday Party

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—The Beautiful Wife and I aren't nosey—but we'd like to know what presents Mike Todd and Liz Taylor are going to give us at their birthday party for 18,000 people on Oct. 17.

★ ★ ★

We're not the hinting type;

But that Cessna airplane, or one of the three Edsels, or the three Fiats, would be peachy—just some little remembrance.

WILSON

Mike's invitations—to Madison Square Garden on the first anniversary of "Around the World in 80 Days"—clearly says: "Don't bring presents. Have so many already, we'll share them with you."

I went around to Todd's 7th Avenue office to preview the presents that are to be given the guests by the former Milwaukee and Chicago boy who made good.

★ ★ ★

"The Cessna," grinned Mike's press agent, Bill Doll, "comes complete with flying lessons. We also have a rickshaw, 30 ivory back scratchers, 500 gallons of cider, 1,000 Decca albums, 50 elephant bells . . . Daye Marx, the toy king, offered us toys. Poor guy doesn't know he's hooked for 18,000 toys."

★ ★ ★

Suddenly Mike was on the phone from L.A. "How you going to keep the guest list down to 18,000?" I asked him.

"First I thought we'd keep the riffraff out by making 'em wear tuxedoes. But now all the riffraff wear tuxedoes. I'm going to take care of the gate-crashers by inviting 'em."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Comic Ignores Critics' Jibes

Plans No Changes in Format for First Show on November 5

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Jerry Lewis TV's golden boy of slapstick, is blithely untroubled by television's current craze for change.

★ ★ ★

"People who think nothing but new formulas, formats, directions and approaches seem to forget one element of show business—entertaining people," Lewis said.

And he doesn't even care what the critics say.

"I've had my brains handed to me by them during the past year," he commented. "But you can't please both critics and public.

★ ★ ★

"I got a going over after my last television show — but the public wrote me 200,000 letters of thanks, an unprecedented thing."

COMFORTABLE SPOT

Possessor of a contract which will pay him 7½ million dollars for 25 network performances over the next five years, Lewis is in a comfortable spot to pick his own path along the rating trail.

★ ★ ★

"I plan no changes," he said of his kickoff program under the contract. It goes on NBC-TV Nov. 5.

"I know I can do all the ingenious, chi-chi things that would get rave notices. But I've put them all away in favor of amusing the public."

Jerry, a restlessly persistent funster, is juggling a lot of other entertainment eggs along with his six hour-long TV appearances during the season. His own estimate is that he currently straddles "12 or 15 branches of show business."

★ ★ ★

Such mania for work was a main cause of splitup last season with 11-year partner Dean Martin, who is also to do some TV solos.

SATURATION POINT

"I'd say I'm at the saturation point at last," sighed 31-year-old Lewis with a sigh. His engagement book is solidly filled through January 1960.

★ ★ ★

Although Jerry is aware of difficulties in pleasing the critics he feels safe against the danger of inner smugness.

"I've always been, somehow, able to separate myself from Jerry the performer," says Lewis.

"I know when our boy is good —and when he's bad — without anyone telling me."

Answer to Previous Puzzle

JERRY LEWIS

Interests Son in Air to Keep Him Off Roads

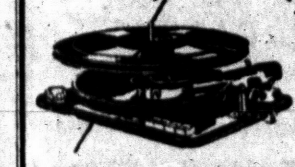

MIDDLETOWN, Pa. (AP)—Charles J. and Charles A. Zito, father and son, say one way to keep young people out of hotrods is to get them up in the air.

"I got Charles interested in flying so he wouldn't go roaring around the highways in hotrods and on motorcycles," said the father, a private pilot since 1935.

The two built a plane themselves and Charles A. soloed at 16. "It beats hotrodding every time and isn't nearly as dangerous," the younger Zito said.

Birthstone of November is the topaz.

Were Your Answers Like These?

The following are the correct answers and explanations for the Pot-O-Gold puzzle that appeared in last week's Pontiac Press.

A. (1) STUDDED. If a feeling for historical accuracy is evident here and there throughout a historical novel, the reader will learn much of the events and life of the period. It would be more a matter of his absorbing such knowledge as he read along, rather than that he Studied it.

B. (4) BORE. Sometimes a Boor, or uncouth person, can be amusing; also, nothing in the clue suggests the social level of the popular girl, who might be equally crude. A BORE would only be tolerated by a girl who could not find anyone more interesting.

C. (6) PROMISES. It is taken for granted that a landlord will properly maintain his Premises; this would rarely be specified in a lease. Certain PROMISES, such as for repairs or painting, are often a definite part of the agreement.

D. (7) RECESS. If the opposing lawyers in a trial are insulting each other, feelings are running high and things get out of hand. Apologies may be demanded, but Redress, or amends, is rather too strong a word. The judge, in the interests of court dignity, might order a RECESS—time out until tempers cooled off.

E. (10) DEDICATION. The family of a very sick man usually has more to be grateful for than Medication. Drugs help, but the conscientious doctor would want to observe their effect on this patient, and his progress in recovering. For this, the doctor's DEDICATION, or devotion to his work, deserves the family's gratitude.

F. (11) FRISKY. "Often" is the clue here; a puppy's adventures are not often of the Risky type. He is in no danger when, feeling FRISKY, he chews up a slipper, but he certainly often needs to be restrained from such doings.

G. (13) MATTERS. MATTERS of science always, at some point, are a problem of hard work, in research and development. Masters of science have already earned their M.S. degree, and have hard work ahead on MATTERS of science.

H. (15) FIGURES. The sculptured FIGURES portrayed would hold interest for museum goers. A new statue would not be apt to have Fissures or cracks. If cracks did appear, they would surely be repaired before the statue was put on display.

I. (18) SWELTERING. A thunderstorm occurs usually in summer, as a climax to humid, sticky weather, when a hut would be SWELTERING. Sheltering hut would be always welcome, but the wording of the clue suggests that ANY hut, no matter how SWELTERING, "seems" welcome to a hiker caught in a cloudburst.

J. (19) ACIDITY. The rich old woman would probably reply with sourness and bitterness to relatives after her money. The Avidity or greediness would apply better to the relatives than to the woman herself.

K. (21) MATERNAL. A "rich, spoiled youth" is a weakling who needs someone to lean on, so he may well be attracted to an older girl whose interest in him is motherly. It may be Material as well—after all, he has money!—but its the MATERNAL interest that attracts him.

L. (23) COURSE. The COURSE or general trend of disaster that runs through generations of a family—a favorite theme for novelists—would naturally include any Curse, another favorite theme, in which someone who was wronged called down evil on future generations.

M. (25) FACTIONAL. The charges against an opponent may be Fictional, or completely untrue. They may also have a germ of truth, which a politician will exaggerate in a FACTIONAL way—he's on the other side.

N. (28) REFLECTS. If someone to whom you are talking Rejects every opinion you express, there's often an exciting argument, which many people enjoy. It he REFLECTS every one of your opinions, it's very dull going. He hasn't an original thought of his own; what is more boring than "I think so too"?

O. (29) DUDGEON. A man in a high state of anger always feels resentful, even if the unfair treatment is only in his imagination. Many saintly men have been put into a Dungeon through evil motives, matters of state, etc. Such men are incapable of resentment.

P. (32) CLAMBER. The word "over" points to CLAMBER, for wrought-up citizens are likely to climb over the palace balconies. They may Clamor, or, make loud outcries as well, but clamor "over the balconies" would not fit the sense as well.

Q. (34) SCHEME. A good playwright has his plan of action all mapped out before he writes his dialogue; he knows who enters when, and why. Although a Theme—a basic underlying idea—is often used, many plays are of a farcical character, having no particular theme.

R. (35) STEADY. It's generally thought that a person who is lying finds it hard to look his listener straight in the face. So a STEADY gaze makes him uncomfortable. A Steely gaze is cold and uncordial, but would not be so disconcerting under the circumstances.

S. (37) CANNON. A big CANNON in a fixed spot usually commemorates some important battle, and there is likely to be a plaque explaining it, for the tourist to read at a glance. A Canyon has been formed through the ages, and most tourists do not have sufficient curiosity to go into all that technical study.

T. (39) DULY. Campaign workers feel an obligation to respond fittingly when a political speaker is addressing them, even if he is a bore. Responding Dully wouldn't show enough enthusiasm; they have to pretend an eagerness even if they don't feel it.

Shoe Follows Girl From Fairgrounds

FRESNO, Calif. (UP) — Kathy Evans, 4½, lost a shoe at the Fresno County fairgrounds.

Her mother, Mrs. Barbara Evans, later answered a telephone ring to hear: "I found a baby shoe at the fairgrounds last night. I thought it looked like one of Kathy's and I picked it up."

It was Kathy's shoe. The caller? Mrs. Marie Martin, who baby-sits with Kathy.
