New Post Office on West Huron Wins Official OK

Bids for Main Building
Near Genesee Avenue
to Be Open in 48 Hours

Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield and Congressman William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) have announced the approval of a new post office building for Pontiac.

Bids for the Huron Street structure will be open in 48 hours, with specifications available at the regional real estate office of the post office department in Chicago. Broomfield reported from Summerfield.

The new building is designed to alleviate crowded conditions and inadequacies in the present downtown building. It will be located on Huron between Chippewa road and Genesee avenue.

Originally contemplated as a parcel post and vehicle handling operations, the building plan was later switched to provide for a new main office, including the original facilities.

Postmaster General Summerfield recognized the need for the Pontiac building following a survey by his department of crowded conditions in the existing facilities here.

Upon completion of the new post office, the downtown branch will become a "finance section," according to Acting Postmaster Leslie Dean.

He added that present public services will be maintained at the downtown office, but all bulk mail handling and sorting will be done at the new building.

As announced by Summerfield, the new structure will be a modern design one-story building, with a large basement.

The new block and brick veneer building will have 37,000 square feet of floor space on the main floor, with another 47,000 square feet of land utilized for parking and driveways.

2-Car Collision Kills Local Man

Arvid Fors, 60, Dies
After Crash at Golf Dr.,
Telegraph Rd.

A 60-year-old Pontiac man died in Pontiac General Hospital yesterday, 2½ hours after he was involved in a two-car accident at Telegraph Rd. and Golf Dr. in Bloomfield Township.

Arvid N. Fors, 1255 Desaix Rd., died from extensive brain injuries and a fractured skull about 6:10 p.m., according to Deputy Coroner Harry Riggs.

Bloomfield Township Police report Fors' auto collided with another driven by William H. Brown, 46, of 183 Oliver St., while attempting to turn out of Golf drive south onto Telegraph road.

Brown was treated for cuts and bruises and then released from the hospital.

Fors, a native of Sweden, was employed at the General Motors Truck and Coach Division.

Quiet Hospital Room? It Could Stay Like This

YOUR VOTE WILL DECIDE — This is how the interior of the Pontiac General Hospital addition looks today. Not much of a spot in which to survive a critical illness. But the hospital addition will stay this way unless voters Monday approve a bond issue to equip and furnish the new wing. Will it be this, or usable hospital facilities? Your vote will decide.

3 More Groups Backing Bonds

Urge 'Yes' Vote Monday to Equip Addition for General Hospital

Three more organizations have endorsed the proposed bond issue to complete and equip the city hospital's new 200-bed addition.

Endorsements come from the Pontiac Association of Insurance Agents, the Optimist Club and the Zonta Club.

It brings the list to 14 civic, labor and business associations—representing thousands of people—behind a "yes" vote Monday on the hospital election issues.

"The hospital expansion program is essential to our community," said Carleton C. Patterson Jr., president of the insurance association.

"The bond issue is the fairest way of financing the sorely needed new facilities," Patterson said. "A 'yes' vote is a must."

Patterson's group represents 16 of the community's established agencies. The Optimist Club, made up of independent businessmen, and the Zonta Club, a professional women's group, also issued statements strongly supporting the hospital program.

On Monday's ballot are a $4,500,000 general obligation bond issue and a corresponding one mill added to the city's tax structure.

The bond issue is divided into $1,500,000 for completing and equipping the hospital addition; $350,000 for a 300-unit hospital parking lot; and $2,700,000 for enlargement of the city's sewage treatment plant system.

According to Carroll L. Osmun, chairman of the Volunteer Hospital Committee, these groups have gone on record favoring passage of the hospital issues.

Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, League of Women Voters, Pontiac General Hospital Women's Auxiliary, Greater Pontiac Community Advisory Council, the Pastors' Assn., the Rema, Oakland County Medical Assn., Auxiliary, Manufacturers' Assn., Oakland County CIO Council, Board of Directors of the Retail Merchants Assn., Pontiac City Federation of Women's Clubs and the Oakland County Hospital Assn.

Canada's to Blame for Cold, Cold Air

The U. S. Weather Bureau reports that cold air from Canada is responsible for this area's near freezing temperatures.

Downtown Pontiac's lowest temperature prior to 8 a.m. was a frosty 35, and in Grand Marais a frigid low of 22 was reported.

Mostly fair and continued quite cool, low 36 to 40, is the forecast for tonight.

Tomorrow the high will average 56 to 60. Occasional rain is expected tomorrow night, with the mercury dipping to a low of 44 to 48.

At 1 p.m. the temperature was 49.

Quizzing Beck Again on Beer, Borrowing

WASHINGTON (INS) — Teamsters Union chieftain Dave Beck makes his third—and possibly last—stand before the Senate rackets investigating committee today.

The Senate group wants to hear more about Beck's adventures in beer, banking, borrowing and brokerage. He already has refused to answer 150 questions.

The 62-year-old embattled president of the nation's largest union, however, was expected again to defend himself with the weapon he has used twice before—the Fifth Amendment. Today's hearing was scheduled to get under way this afternoon.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Beck's appearance today would "just about wind up this phase" of the probe into the union leader's financial maneuvers.

The No. 1 Teamster still will be faced with a federal court income tax indictment, a move within his own union to force him to step down, and an AFL-CIO trial on possible expulsion as vice president of the federation.

Beck may have no support from his own union when he defends himself before the AFL-CIO Monday against charges of pleading the Fifth Amendment to senators' questions about his financial deals.

Teamster Vice President Elmer Mohn said yesterday after his five-man union committee conferred with AFL-CIO President George Meany that Beck's defense stand Monday "is an individual matter."

WON'T HELP BECK

Mohn's committee, composed of Teamster executive board members, had earlier charged that a the AFL-CIO had no authority to try Beck, but yesterday's statement was taken to mean that the union's top command will make no further effort to intervene in their president's behalf.

Also on tap as a witness today before the Senate committee was Donald McDonald, auditor for the 11-state western conference of Teamsters.

The committee yesterday heard a story of the Teamsters shelling out a $12,000 commission to Beck's Chicago buddy, Nathan Shefferman, after he had attempted unsuccessfully to clean up $71,500 on a land transaction with the union.

Raymond Fields, former American Legion national public relations director and now publisher of two Guyton, Okla., newspapers said Shefferman—representing Beck—suggested in 1949 that they profiteer to the tune of $71,500 from the sale of Legion-owned land in Washington to the Teamsters.

Fields said he balked at the plan, but Washington real estate broker Franklin C. Salisbury testified that the union later voted a $12,500 gift to Shefferman.

Witness Denies Budget Padding

Veteran Supervisor Says
Courthouse Plan Saved
Money

Veteran members of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors were prepared today to defend their plans to build a new courthouse.

One supervisor testified that a new building is badly needed and the county's pay-as-you-go financing plan has saved taxpayers' money.

Testifying in behalf of the proposed building in the service center area was David Levinson of Birmingham, a supervisor 24 years.

Corporation Counsel Harry J. Merritt said he may not call other members of the board since the need for a new building "has been conceded" in the case.

Among those ready for testimony were Fred W. Smith, of Royal Oak, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and Harry W. Horton, of Royal Oak, chairman of the Buildings and Grounds Committee.

"There never has been any attempt to adopt any budget that had been padded in anyway whatsoever," Levinson emphatically stated.

"Originally, I was in favor of financing the courthouse through a bond issue. I thought that we

Scores Injured, Property Takes Heavy Beating

Little Panhandle Town of Silverton Reports All of the Storm Deaths

DALLAS (P)—More than 20 tornadoes lashed Texas yesterday, killing at least 19 persons, injuring scores of others, and inflicting heavy property damage.

All of the deaths were at Silverton, 65 miles southeast of Amarillo in the Texas Panhandle, where a vicious twister roared through the small town of 857 population at 10:30 p.m.

All regular lines of communication into the plains town were wiped out.

At least 30 persons were injured, many of them critically.

The tornado ripped through an eight-block area in the southwest part of Silverton, destroying 25 houses, a cotton gin, four granaries and a warehouse. At least 30 other homes were damaged.

The Silverton tornado climaxed the 28th straight day of violent weather in Texas.

NO WARNING

"We got no warning at all," said Elvert Stephens. "It came down on Silverton out of the rainy night without warning. People died without even knowing what happened. In one family, seven are dead."

The black funnel smashed automobiles, buses and utility lines.

"The people are numb with shock and terror," Sheriff Darrell Smith said. "They can't seem to realize what has happened."

Lack of lights, a torrential rain that continued for hours after the tornado struck and unpaved roads hampered rescue work.

One elderly couple covered in their storm cellar hours after the twister had passed. Their home had been swept away.

Ghost Generals at Gettysburg

GETTYSBURG (NEA) — A chill breeze ruffled the grass at Little Round Top as the two old soldiers walked back to their car, followed by a troop of reporters and photographers.

Looking as if they'd been there all the time, you suddenly were aware of two additional figures still standing on the mound.

One wore shadowy Confederate gray, the other a filmy Union blue.

Each wore a general's epaulettes on his dusty shoulders.

"So they would have sacked us, George." It was the white bearded man with the gentle eyes shaded by a gray campaign hat who spoke first.

"Oh well, Bob," said the stocky man in blue, "it's always hard to comprehend the other fellow's tactics."

"True," said Robert E. Lee. "Do you remember how hard we found it to understand why Monty took so long getting out of the Normandy peninsula? Pickett spoke up pretty sharply about that in our joint non-Confederate briefing at that time."

"Ah yes," chuckled George G. Meade. "And Jeb Stuart was pretty provoked with Ike's man Patton. Claimed he was too much of a headline grabber. He would have torn his shroud if he had heard Ike today say 'What hurt Stuart was his love of headlines.'"

"They couldn't understand why I fought across these fields," Lee continued. "I found it very hard to understand why Ike fought across those beaches."

"And why Monty advanced inch by inch across Belgium and Holland only after destroying everything in front of him with artillery," Meade broke in.

"If I might borrow a phrase from our recent visitors," added Meade tartly, "I might say that the way they fought was 'monstrous, simply monstrous.'"

The gray figure stood for a moment with bowed head and then spoke with a gentle smile:

"The way all of us fought... Alexander, Darius, Caesar, Washington, Wellington, Napoleon... MacArthur, Clark, Eisenhower, Montgomery... the mislabeled of White Sands and the Urala too... is all 'sleepy monstrous.'"

"You're right, Lee," said Gen. Meade. "Maybe we should all have been sacked. But we all did the best we could in our time according to our lights."

Britain Tests First H-Bomb --in Class With U.S., Russia

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — Now three nations—the United States, Russia and Britain—can sit back and finger the trigger of their hydrogen bombs as they'd finger a farewell note.

With the explosion of its first hydrogen bomb high over the Pacific yesterday, Britain has moved into that new age where people may learn to be good because they're scared to death not to be.

No bets are being taken on the outcome of this new age because it still has to be proved that people have enough sense not to start something that's going to get them killed.

It's comforting to the United States that its ally Britain now has both atomic and hydrogen bombs. It's one more bit of discouragement to the Russians against starting a hydrogen war since they can be hydrogenized themselves.

But it's going to be just a little harder on the nerves of all three countries, requiring them to stay constantly on the alert against a surprise attack which would be not only catastrophic but might be conclusive.

The Russians accuse the West of wanting war. The United States and Britain say the only reasons for their bombs is to prevent the Russians from starting a war.

Britain's development of the atomic and hydrogen bombs proves only two things for immediate purposes: (1) the British had brains, and ability and resources enough to make them and (2) they weren't kidding when on April 4 they announced a startling change in their defense setup.

On that date the British, convinced they can't defend their small island in the era of hydrogen bombs in the nose of intercontinental missiles, said they depend for defense on their ability to dish out equal catastrophe on anyone—meaning Russia—who started a war.

For the next three to five years

Britain's ability to retaliate will depend on bombers carrying atomic and hydrogen bombs manufactured in Britain. Then they will be sticking the bombs in the nose of missiles provided by the United States.

And, since the British are going to depend for safety against nuclear attack on the power of nuclear discouragement, they will reduce their army, navy and air force.

When they made the April announcement it was still not known they had been able to produce hydrogen weapons. Apparently they had. So they weren't bluffing when they disclosed their new policy of defense.

Youth Named for Judge Appears in His Court

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C. (AP) — A youthful defendant appeared on a reckless driving charge before Judge Fentress Horner. It developed that the defendant's first name and middle initial were Fentress H. "Whom were you named for?" inquired the judge. "For you, Your Honor," the defendant responded. For one long moment, Judge Horner stared down from the bench. Then the defense lawyer came to his assistance — entering a guilty plea for the youth.

Educator Tries Special Calculator on Fifth Graders

School Finds Machines Create Interest in Arithmetic

By NEA SERVICE. CEDAR GROVE, N. J. (NEA)—The staccato chatter of calculating machines is an everyday sound now during arithmetic periods for fifth graders at the Cedar Grove elementary school. This revolutionary teaching method is the result of an experiment conducted here last year by Dr. Howard F. Fehr, head of the mathematics department at Columbia University's Teachers College.

LILIPUTIAN COUNTING HOUSE—It's really arithmetic period in the fifth grade at Cedar Grove, N. J., where pupils use miniature calculators to work problems.

methods of teaching arithmetic, which he feels soft-pedals meaning and enjoyment in favor of a dreary "rote" system of memory calisthenics.

With arithmetic listed as No. 1 on nearly every youngster's classroom hate parade, Dr. Fehr linked this to the dislike of science in high school and college, inasmuch as the third "R." he points out, is the bedrock of all the sciences.

In the fall of 1955, Dr. Fehr got the chance to put his theories to the test. At that time he prepared and supervised a controlled group experiment using a midsize calculating machine called the Monroe "Educator," designed exclusively for school use. The project, lasting four and a half months, took place in Cedar Grove's fifth grade.

The classroom function of the machine, he points out, is not to do the problem for the pupil, but to enable him to check his answers—and the steps involved in reaching them — after he has completed the problem with pencil and paper.

The test revealed that the experimental group using the calculator made gains of nearly half an entire school year over pupils studying with conventional methods. The most significant aspect, according to Dr. Fehr, was the obvious enjoyment the youngsters derived from studying arithmetic with the modern, visual device.

Today the miniature calculator is standard equipment for arithmetic at Cedar Grove. In Santa Monica and Culver City, Calif., the calculators are being used as part of an overall science incentive program conducted at all grade levels with the cooperation of two major aircraft companies.

New York Battles Broadway Scalpers

NEW YORK (AP)—A Broadway boxoffice crackdown by the city license commissioner is making it tougher for visitors to arrange their show-going here in advance. The crackdown, aimed at scalpers who have been getting fancy prices for duets to sell-out hits, also affected travel agencies that have over the past two seasons developed a booming business in organizing show tours for vacationists.

No body accused the agencies of scalping, but the new regulation bans sale of more than 10 tickets to any performance of any stage show to other than licensed ticket brokers.

One theater tour agency said it was suspending business, others affected are hoping for revisions in the law, and several court tests are planned.

Six Churches to Sponsor 5-Year Stay

Area Pair to Teach, Preach in Africa

By LAOMA SANFORD
Orion Correspondent

LAKE ORION — Planning clothing for a family of four, with two children Ruth 2½ and May 17 months, is only one of the problems facing the Glenn Hotchkiss family as they make final plans for sailing to Africa late in June. They will become missionaries in Zambesi Valley, Southern Rhodesia.

The family has secured a kerosene refrigerator, gasoline washer, and a one-ton truck.

They are still seeking a treadle sewing machine and perhaps a generator to meet needs where there is no electricity.

Mrs. Hotchkiss is taking yard goods along to meet whatever needs prove most necessary, as the nearest shopping center is 170 miles trail road away, and prices are known to be high.

The decision to become missionaries was made by the couple while they were attending Detroit Bible Institute before their marriage. Hotchkiss also has a BA degree from Bob Jones University, qualifying him as a teacher. Their primary purpose will be to teach natives to become teachers for their own people.

Plans are to sail to Capetown, drive their truck to Salisbury, 1,700 miles, then travel a 170-mile trail road to the first area station, founded in 1942. Here they will stay until they learn Shona, the native language, then they will move inland for the duration of their five-year stay.

The Orville Dunkels from the First Baptist Church of Pontiac who returned to the field recently, have told the couple may help things, and will be there to greet them.

The couple is confident that the last $1,200 still needed for their passage on a freighter will be raised before sailing time.

They are being sponsored by the First Baptist Church of Lake

Orion, his home church; the Grace Bible Church of Ann Arbor, her home church; the Covenant Bible Church of Redford; Community Bible Church of Redford; Hillside Bible Church of Byron City, N. C., and the Community Christian Church of South Norfolk, Va.

The couple will join TEAM, the Evangelistic Alliance Mission which works to educate the natives "known to be intelligent but uneducated."

Romeo Cubs Ending Year With Circus

ROME — Climaxing a year of varied activities, Cub Scouts of Romeo's Pack 87 will stage their annual circus at 7:30 p.m. Friday evening in the auditorium of Romeo High School.

Thirteen acts, put on by some 120 boys wearing handmade costumes, will feature such favorite circus entertainers as the "Fabulous 'Freaks,' acrobats and clowns.

A kitchen band a la Calypso will also perform in the center ring as will the ever popular lion tamers and other big top acts.

Popcorn and ice cream will be sold in the stands and music will be provided by instrumental students lead by band director E. C. Ojala.

Pontiac Firemen Begin Move to New Station

Pontiac firemen have started moving into the city's new West Huron street fire hall.

The City Commission, in committee session this week, decided to accept the new building from the contractor for immediate occupancy, City Manager Walter K. Willman said yesterday.

The $100,000 structure, financed by funds from the city's 1956 and 1957 capital improvement program, is at the corner of Genesee street.

Of brick and cinder block, the city's fifth fire hall will house 14 firemen and serve the West Side area.

The hall was designed by architect Leo J. Heenan, and work began last October by the Chissus Construction Co. of Birmingham. An open house is planned soon, Willman said.

Name Gerald Guinan to Civil Service Unit

The City Commission has approved the appointment of Gerald Guinan to the new civil service commission, City Manager Walter K. Willman announced yesterday.

Guinan, who served on the former commission which governed only firemen, now will serve on the joint police-firemen board.

Ban Successful on Real Estate

Area Realtors Board Plans to End Sales on Sunday

ROYAL OAK — The ban on Sunday real estate selling has met with great success, president of the North Woodward Board of Realtors, said this morning.

A telephone poll of the Board's 74 members shows that only three may not close this coming Sunday, he said.

The North Woodward Board of Realtors recently decided to end Sunday real estate selling, beginning May 19.

Strom said that real estate is virtually the last major commercial activity transacted on a seven-day-a-week basis.

He said the move to close Sundays has been under way for at least seven years and is hoping that non-affiliated brokers will follow suit.

Finish Vision Tests in Orion Township

LAKE ORION — The Lake Orion Community Schools have been conducting vision tests, for the past two months in Proper, the junior high, Blanche Sims, Webber, Carpenter and St. Joseph Schools, through the cooperation of the Oakland County Health Department.

Two thousand eighty-seven were tested, 239 retested and 153 were referred to doctors for further examination.

The Massachusetts Vision Tests were given under the direction of Mrs. Gerry Sheley, vision technician.

The Lake Orion School Board of Education alternates the vision and audiometer hearing tests every two years so no child will be handicapped without the parent and teacher being aware to make adjustments for over a two-year period.

Home Nursing Assn. Elects State Officers

GRAND RAPIDS — Frank W. Marsh of Grand Rapids, was elected President of the Michigan Home Nursing Assn., yesterday at the association's annual convention here.

Other officers elected were: Mrs. Ila Arthur, Grand Rapids, first vice president; Eugene Beach, Dundee, second vice president; Frederick Moncrief, Ann Arbor, third vice president; Mrs. Mabel Lilly, Mason, secretary; G. Robert Cotton, Grass Lake, treasurer, and Joseph Barrett, Buchanan, chaplain.

Board, Issue on June Ballot at Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — Both incumbents John Clark and Dwight Wiseman have filed petitions for reelection to the Walled Lake Board of Education at the annual election on June 10.

In addition, the names of Clement J. Philipski and Theodore Beguen will be on the ballot.

An issue in the election will be authorization for the Board to place four mills in the operating fund for the next four years.

If the measure passes as well as the rescinding of the two mills voted for operating a year ago, the Board then by resolution will reduce the debt levy from 13 to 9 mills. This would result in a reduction of taxes by two dollars a thousand, officials said.

Mole Tunnel Traps Are Most Effective

Pests such as moles, pocket gophers, and field mice occasionally damage lawns. Since these pests usually invade lawns to feed on grubs and other insects, a good insect-control program that removes their food supply will generally keep them away.

Traps in mole tunnels are effective. Poison baits will control pocket gophers and field mice but are not readily taken by moles.

Sacramento Girl Weds Waterford Area Man

Smoky Mountain Trip Follows Area Wedding

LAKE ORION — A Smoky McCarick, niece of the bridegroom, served as flower girl. Acting as best man was Samuel Lampher of Pontiac, with Reid Schell, brother-in-law of the bride, and Kenneth Freer, brother of the bridegroom as ushers.

A reception followed the ceremony at the YMCA on Franklin Blvd. The paid to reside on Silver Lake road.

The bride, who was given away by her brother Ronald McNeal, is the daughter of Mrs. Glen McNeal of 810 Beardslee, Lake Orion. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Leslie Freer of 18 Jefferson Ave., Pontiac.

About 200 guests witnessed the service as the bride was married in a gown with white lace peplums, Peter Pan collar and long pointed sleeves. The skirt was comprised of tiers of white nylon net over pale blue taffeta. The fingertip veil was secured by a pearl headpiece. For her bridal bouquet, she carried a cascade arrangement of white mums and blue iris.

Attending her sister as matron of honor was Mrs. Reid Schell of Belleville, with Mrs. Ronald McNeal, of Pontiac, sister-in-law of the bride as bridesmaid, Linda

Try These Respiration Exercises

Deep Breathing Improves Health

BY JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

When we stop breathing we die. And how deeply we breathe has an effect on how vibrantly we live through the years. Splendid oxidation is important to health. It speeds up the elimination of waste products and leads to better nourishment of the tissues.

Do this deep breathing exercise: Breathe in deeply, feeling the muscles of your back push against the floor. Hold while you tap your ribs gently with your hands. This forces the air into the small air pockets.

domen and back. If we expand our diaphragm and abdomen, we obtain a depth of breathing which is impossible otherwise.

The practice of deep breathing daily is a great help to those who are nervous, underweight or anemic. First, try taking a deep breath—feeling the muscles of the diaphragm, abdomen and back expand.

Hold while you lift the ribs and expand the chest. Slowly exhale. At the end of the exhalation force every bit of air out of the lungs. Do this several times.

Here are a few deep breathing exercises for you.

1. Stand tall. Bend the elbows and clasp the hands behind the head. Do not allow the head to move forward. Stretch up toward the ceiling. Breathe in deeply as already described. Breathe in through the nose.

Hold your breath for a few moments and then exhale slowly through the mouth. Do this several times. Now do it several more times but exhale forcibly through the mouth. Shoot the air out of your lungs.

2. Breathe in deeply for five seconds. This should fill the lungs. Hold your breath for five seconds and then spit the air out through pursed lips just as slowly as you possibly can.

3. Lie on the floor on your back, bend your knees and place your feet flat on the floor. Breathe in deeply, feeling the muscles of your back push against the floor. Hold while you tap your ribs gently with your hands. This forces the air into the small air pockets.

Of course increased respiration is one of the wonderful benefits of exercise. When you indulge in sports you of necessity breathe deeply.

Talking With Teenagers Calls for Tact, Patience

Parental Questions Immediately Place Youngsters on the Defensive

By RUTH MILLETT

"I just can't seem to talk to my 15-year-old daughter," a mother writes.

Lots of parents find it hard to stay on easy conversational terms with their adolescent children. If they ask questions, the kids feel their privacy is being invaded or that they aren't trusted.

If they discuss the adolescent's friends, the slightest hint of criticism may be resented.

If the parent tries to be helpful, the adolescent all too often feels he is being lectured.

So there is a special art or knack a parent has to learn in order to keep conversations between parent and adolescent friendly and free-flowing.

When your daughter comes home from a party, don't say brightly,

"Now tell me all about the party." Chances are that will only get you a gloomily, "There's nothing much to tell."

Asking a teenager to tell you "everything" about anything makes him shut up like a clam.

If you want to hear all about the party, ask one unimportant little question, and chances are a lot of information will follow.

If you want to know more about your daughter's friends, don't ask a lot of prying questions that indicate you are trying to find out if they are the "right sort." If you don't appear to be eager to disapprove, your child won't feel she is constantly having to protect her friends against your criticism.

When a teenager confides in you regarding something you don't approve of, don't jump down his throat. Hear the story out and then gently ask, "Don't you think it might have been better if you had done such and such?" You'll hear a lot more confidences if you can keep your reactions from putting your adolescent child on the defensive.

It takes tact and patience and understanding to keep the lines of communication open between a parent and a teenage son or daughter. But it can be done.

Never Put Off Thank-You Note

There is really no excuse for not writing a thank-you note to the person who sends you a gift or does you a favor. You weren't too busy to accept the gift or the favor.

Then don't be too busy to take a few minutes to express your appreciation.

Job Partnership Tests Marriage

By ANNE HEYWOOD

It's true that you can tell a great deal about people from living with them, but it's also true that you can learn a great deal more by working with them.

Husband and wife teams who want to start businesses together had better not forget that!

"I would say my father and mother knew each other about as well as it's possible for two people to know each other," Mary T. writes. "They've been married for 34 years, and quite happily — or so it seemed.

"Then, a few years ago, they went into the restaurant business. It was supposed to be a retirement project for Father.

"Mother pitched in, partly because they couldn't afford to hire enough people, and partly because, with all of us married and, on our own, she had time on her hands.

HASN'T WORKED
 "But the venture hasn't worked out at all. That is, the restaurant is successful, but Mother and Father are at each other's throats half the time.

"We're all so worried about it. What can we do?"

First of all, I doubt if this girl can do much, really. Parents are notoriously unwilling to take advice from their children.

But one thing is possible. If the restaurant is going successfully, perhaps her father could now afford to hire enough help so that her mother could get out of it for awhile.

Mary might urge her mother to come for a visit, which would at least give both her parents a breather.

If it really is as bad as it sounds, perhaps Mother ought not to go back to the restaurant. She might look for another activity which would interest her and which she could do on her own.

MARRIAGE FAILURE
 This would certainly be better than having the marriage fail!

This couple has already made the mistake of entering a business together without a well-defined plan. For them, the trouble is already stewing, and it will be hard to undo it.

But for other husbands and wives, contemplating a joint business, here are some steps to take to prevent a sad ending:

First, both of you should have good vocational testing before you begin. This way, you'll each know your own aptitudes as well as what each of you should avoid.

Second, divide the chores into two well-defined categories, assigning to Mom what is along the lines of her abilities and to Pop what he does well.

TWO TERRITORIES
 Be meticulous about not stepping into the other partner's territory. This way, you'll have a successful project and keep your happy marriage.

If you're having trouble in this regard, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope, care of The Pontiac Press and I'll send you Pointers to Finding Your Basic Interest.

The recent appointment of Pontiac dentist J. K. Schachern to a 12-man advisory committee on athletics at the University of Detroit was another silent footstep in what is often termed "big time athletics."

It wasn't Dr. Schachern's appointment, but the creation of the board that has more to it than meets the eye.

The man behind the U. of D. athletic picture now is the school's vice-president John Mulroy, an enthusiastic young man who has taken a more realistic approach from an attitude which came near to being a myth.

"We have been called starry-eyed dreamers, myth-makers and other disdaining things," said Mulroy, "but I think the dreamers are those who expect an athletic program to be built overnight."

Mulroy's "five-year" plan began a year ago. He figures it has and will continue to grow. He has selected 12 men to help him with community relations.

DORIS FOUNDATION BEHIND IT ALL

The key to Mulroy's plans is the Dorais Foundation which contributes something like $32,000 annually to the scholarship fund.

In the past the extent of the number of full time scholarships for football was 12. Today the number has reached 32. This means that more than $80,000 will be expended in football annually, and under Mulroy's "five-year" period nearly half-million dollars.

What does this mean to U. of D. football? "If what they say about having the horses is true, then I am confident we will get positive correlation with what we put into the program," said Mulroy.

"With all the added resources we have put into our athletic program, we have not nor do we intend to relax our scholarship requirements," he continued, "and every boy given a scholarship must be as good a scholar as he is an athlete."

RECRUITING DONE SCIENTIFICALLY

Mulroy pointed to the fact, that several outstanding names in college football today were turned away for failing to meet scholastic requirements. He also pointed out that for the first time since World War II, not one member of the present freshman squad was lost through grades at mid-term.

Much of the success depends on what Mulroy called "scientific recruiting." In the past, the process of recruiting was haphazard and disorganized. It was never completed until late in the summer, long after the best of the crop was taken.

Last season's frosh team, the first under the Dorais fund, was considered the best in many years. Next season's recruiting has already been completed, the earliest in history, with outside-Michigan names from Massachusetts, Indiana, Pennsylvania, Ohio, West Virginia, etc., among the prospects.

It will be interesting to watch Mulroy's "five-year" plan.

KILLED—Keith Andrews met his death before he was able to race in the 500-mile classic at Indianapolis. He died when his racer crashed into the concrete wall of the track yesterday.

Split Decision for Bobby Boyd

CHICAGO (AP)—Bobby Boyd, who was bombed from the No. 2 middleweight ranking by Joey Giardello eight months ago, still has a long way to go in his attempt to gain top contention.

The lanky, 23-year-old Chicagoan, was not too impressive last night in winning his third straight fight since the Giardello incident with a split 10-round decision over shiftier Willie Vaughn.

The Chicago Stadium bout, which was nationally televised and broadcast, drew only 1,423 fans at ringside and a net gate of $1,220.

Boyd, whose 43 victories in 52 bouts includes 22 kayos, displayed little of the punching power that took him to the top before Giardello pulverized him in five rounds at Cleveland. And if Vaughn had any steam in his punches, Boyd may have been in trouble.

Yankee Outfielder Involved in Brawl

NEW YORK (INS)—New York Yankee rightfielder Hank Bauer was accused today of slugging a man in a pre-dawn altercation in a swank New York night club.

But he quickly denied the charge through a Yankee spokesman. "I didn't hit anybody," the ballplayer was quoted as saying. The alleged incident occurred in the Copacabana at 2:35 a.m. Bauer was helping infielder Billy Martin celebrate his 29th birthday with triple crown winner Mickey Mantle, catcher Yogi Berra and pitcher Whitey Ford and their wives.

Lary Fails to Finish for 5th Time

Tighe Worried Over Pitching as Tigers Lose

Boston Pounds Out 16 Hits in Winning 11-8 Slugfest

BOSTON (AP)—"If our pitching blows up here, we're sunk," said Detroit manager Jack Tighe as the Tigers came into Boston Tuesday for a three game series.

In two games his club has made him look like an excellent prophet. Duke Maas tamed the Red Sox in brilliant 2-0 fashion Tuesday. Yesterday Frank Lary and four successors were bumped and the Tigers lost, 11-8.

For Lary it was another chapter in a growing book of spring failures—duplicating almost page by page his early troubles last season. He was charged with his fourth loss in six decisions and yielded half of Boston's 16 hits before bowing out under fire in the fifth inning.

Last season Lary won 21 games, 17 of them after July 1. His record for April, May and June was 4-10. In his last five starts this spring he has finished only once and won only once—against Baltimore May 5.

On April 26 at Cleveland he was struck on the knee by a line drive off the bat of Vic Wertz in the fourth inning. Maas finished up the shutout and got the victory.

In his next start, May 1 against the Yankees, Lary was hit again—this time on the hip by a Gil McDougald liner in the fourth. He had given up six hits and was charged with the loss.

After beating Baltimore Lary was shelled again, 8-5 by Washington before losing yesterday. The Tigers got more than their share of hits against the Red Sox, but the Detroit pitching collapse kept Boston in the lead from the fifth inning on.

Ray Boone put the Tigers in front with a first inning homer and they caught up again with two runs in the third after Boston scored three in the second. Boston routed Lary with three more in the fifth. Don Lee, working in relief for the first time, walked one man and then retired the next one in finishing out the fifth.

Lee was lifted for a pinch hitter in the sixth and was followed by Steve Gromek who was pounded for four hits and four runs in a single inning. Lou Sleater opened the seventh on the mound for Detroit but was promptly yanked after giving up singles to the first two batters. Paul Foytack finished up with two hits, two walks, two strikeouts but no runs in the last two innings.

Jim Bunning, elevated from the bullpen after several excellent relief performances, drew today's starting assignment against Dave Sisler.

Michigan Leads Hitting Department

Iowa Holds Lead in Big 10 Race

CHICAGO (AP)—Michigan is finding out it takes more than hitting to win the Big Ten baseball pennant.

The Wolverines lead the league in batting with .285, according to official conference statistics released today, but are third in standings with 5-3. Michigan's sluggers have collected 82 hits, 23 of Michigan have 13 hits, high in the circuit. Bur Boros is runnerup in total bases with 22.

Boros also leads in runs batted in with 9, and Tippery shares second place with Michigan State's Frank Palamara, a .320 hitter, with 8 RBIs.

Sharing home run production, each with three, are Tippery, John Herrnsheim of Michigan and Jerry Thomas of Minnesota.

Iowa, which last week took three games from defending Big Ten and NCAA champion Minnesota, has taken over the lead with 5-1. The Hawkeyes are second in team batting with .378 but have the league's No. 1 pitcher, Don Dobson. He has a 4-0 record, yielding only 10 hits and 4 earned runs in 15 innings.

Four pitchers have 2-0 marks—Ron Nischwitz, Ohio State; Tom Scheurman, Northwestern; Glenn Gordin, Michigan, and Jim Ruttecki, Ohio State.

The schedule of single games tomorrow sends Wisconsin (2-4) to Northwestern (3-2), Illinois (3-3) to Indiana (1-7), Purdue (1-2) to Ohio State (4-2), Iowa (5-1) to Michigan State (3-4) and Minnesota (4-3) to Michigan (3-3).

Division Spot WASHINGTON—The Senators have been in the American league second division for 18 of the past 25 playing seasons.

In midseason of last year few thought he would ever play again after a pitch by Hal Jeffcoat smashed his cheekbone and impaired his vision. But the 5-9, 165-pound gamester was back—by "Zip," despite that 0 for 14 string, is batting .274, with four September.

Birmingham's impressive track victory over highly-rated East Detroit, a 4-3 tennis triumph for Pontiac and Walled Lake's 2-0 baseball win over Waterford headed a well balanced area sports card yesterday.

Clarkston won a dual meet and Orchard Lake St. Mary finished 2nd in a triangular in other track action. Cranbrook won in baseball but bowed in track, while Mt. Clemens and Southfield were other baseball victors.

A sweep of nine 1sts and four 2nds gave Birmingham a 20-point victory by the score of 62½ to 46½. Pat Berry tied the school and field record with a 10.2 time in the 100 and also won the 220 to lead the Maples.

Other BHS sparkplugs were Chuck Gibson and Dick Boyd with their best performances of the season in the shot put and 880 respectively. Veteran Gary Ballman topped East Detroit by winning both hurdle races. He tied the low hurdle mark in 13 seconds.

Victories in four of the five single gles matches gave Pontiac its tennis triumph as Flint Northern swept doubles honors. Chief John Doerr was the outstanding individual blanking his opponent twice. Other PHS winners were Harry Van Matre, Dave Scriven, Dick Mallory and George Palian.

Two unearned runs in the 2nd frame was all Walled Lake needed for its 3rd baseball triumph in six Inter-Lakes games. Tony Willwerth bested Chuck Gillis in the mound duel with 15 strikeouts and had one of the two Viking hits. Waterford bunched two of its three safeties in the 3rd but failed to score.

Clarkston's track forces had little trouble with the South Central champion Oxford contingent compiling a total of 80 1-6 points to 28 5-6. George Lang led all the scorers with 13½ points by winning the 100 and 220 and tying with runnerup Jim Jensen for 2nd in the broad jump. Jensen had 12½ points with his 440 victory and a tie for 1st in the high jump. Both were on winning relay teams. Barnes topped Oxford with nine points. The Wolves have a 4-4 record.

A sweep of the shot put and 1sts for Chet Wajda and Pete Madeians helped Orchard Lake St. Mary to a 2nd place finish as St. Joseph of Detroit triumphed 77½ to 59½. Notre Dame had the other ½ point.

The Cranbrook baseballers had to overcome a 6-0 deficit in whipping Dearborn 11-7 for their 5th win against five setbacks. The Cranes clinched the verdict with a four-run 5th. The tilt was marred by 13 errors, four by Cranbrook 3rd sacker John Studebaker in the 2nd when Dearborn scored five times.

In tennis, Hamtramck romped to a 4-1 verdict to end a six-match Crane win streak. A doubles triumph for Fred Feckheimer and Bob Schultz accounted for the only point for the losers who are now 8-3.

Mt. Clemens put together three hits and a walk for four runs in the 5th to hand Birmingham its 2nd EML defeat in four games. 5-2. Jack Smoot homered for Mt. Clemens. Arnie Islette stole home for one of the Maple markers.

Southfield continued its climb for the Inter-Lakes crown by nipping Farmington 2-1 with two unearned runs in the 5th. Losing pitcher Roy Temple allowed only one hit.

Iron Liege Top-Rated in Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Young Willie Hartack and old Jim Fitzsimmons two of the leading characters in the cast for Saturday's $100,000-added Preakness, tried today to dispel a couple of growing impressions about their horses.

Hartack, vigorous and outspoken at 25, brushed aside a suggestion that Calumet's Iron Liege may be maturing into a better colt than stablemate Gen. Duke. "But he's still the best horse in this race," he said of the thoroughbred which carried him to victory in the Kentucky Derby and will be under him again Saturday.

Fitzsimmons, stooped, gentle, but alert despite his 82 years, begged to differ with another notion which has been budding during preliminaries to the Preakness, a notion that Bold Ruler is a moody customer.

The idea spread after the Wheatley Stable star finished fourth as the 65 Derby favorite and jockey Eddie Arcaro described him as a "typical Nasrullah (sire of Bold Ruler and 1955 Preakness winner Nashua) when it comes to temperament."

"He's not really moody," said Fitzsimmons. "It's just that he doesn't like anybody to fool around with his mouth."

Mr. Fitz said Bold Ruler suffered a severe injury to his tongue as a 2-year-old.

"He must have bitten it or something," suggested Bart Sweeney, the Wheatley foreman.

"We're not sure exactly how it happened," said Fitzsimmons.

"But whatever it was, it hurt him pretty bad for a while. He's all over it now, but he still doesn't like to be pulled too sharply. When you do that, he bears to the outside to get away from you."

Fitzsimmons pronounced Bold Ruler "ready enough" for the Preakness.

Bertoia Leads AL Batters

BOSTON (AP)—Reno Bertoia of the Detroit Tigers held the American League batting lead today by a 10-point margin.

The 22-year-old Italian-born infielder got two hits in three at-bats in yesterday's game against the Boston Red Sox, lifting his average to .333. He edged out Kansas City's Vic Power who went hitless against the New York Yankees and dropped his mark to .383.

Bertoia, a .182 batter in 22 games for Detroit last season, has only a lifetime mark of .186 in 115 games before the current season. He has appeared in 25 games this season.

Day I Remember Most

(One in a series of articles by Detroit Tiger players written especially for The Associated Press and The Press.)

By AL KALINE

DETROIT (AP)—The day I hit three home runs against Kansas City on April 17, 1955, is the most memorable day in my baseball career.

I have had many thrills in the short time I have been with the Detroit Tigers, but I think that day against Kansas City really started me off to my best season so far. I had hit only four home runs during the 1954 season, my first full one with the club.

I got three against the A's and in the first week or so of the season I had surpassed my 1954 total. I was stronger and heavier and I found out then that I could hit a pretty long ball.

It was a big thrill, too, playing in the all-star game in Milwaukee later that year. I hope there will be many more seasons with the Tigers and many more thrills.

Lt. Gov. Parker Claims
His State's Tax Hike
Lures New Industry

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP) — Lt. Gov. Crawford Parker says the tax situation in Indiana is luring new industry while the tax setup in Michigan is causing industry there to leave the state.

Parker, a Republican, told the Indiana Bankers Assn. yesterday that tax increases voted by the 1957 Indiana Legislature stabilized the state's financial situation so that businessmen can be assured of no further tax increases in the foreseeable future.

He said this has contributed to "attracting 10 new industrial payrolls to Hoosierland every single month." Then Parker criticized Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan, a Democrat, saying:

"Contrast our Eden-like situation with that of Michigan. There a political tyrant who has been kept in office by the ominous might of ruthless labor bosses and by the cowardly surrender of certain businessmen has demanded a new 6 per cent tax on corporate profits. He wants to raise a pyramid of taxes to match his pyramid of power."

"No wonder that industries are now fleeing Michigan. No wonder that this radical ruler of our sister state is now planning to leave the wreckage of his regime and boldly and brazenly touts himself for the presidency of the 48 states."

He and his labor boss mentors constitute one of the biggest menaces to a safe and sane America."

Husband Says Wife
Had Been Despondent
Because of Sickness

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Coroner Edward S. Shelley wrote verdicts of triple homicide and suicide today in the fatal stabbings of three little children and their mother.

The tragedy took the lives of Mrs. Helen J. Conley, 33, and her children, Rebecca, 6, Matthew, 4, and John, 2, in their home in a moderately fashionable east side section yesterday.

The coroner said all four died from knife wounds in the heart. Three bloody butcher knives were found, one of them protruding from Mrs. Conley's chest.

The husband and father,

George W. Conley, a laboratory technician in the U. S. Rubber Co. ball band plant in Mishawaka, found the bodies. He had gone home to investigate after failing to get an answer to a telephone call to his home.

Conley told police his wife had been despondent. Shelley said she had been confined to the house for a month by outbreaks of measles, mumps and chickenpox among the children.

The girl, a first grade pupil, was home from school because of chicken pox.

Shelley said autopsies showed John had been stabbed twice, Matthew once and Rebecca four times.

Says State Group Favors U. of M.

MSU Protests Fund Plan

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University today described as "unfair", proposed revisions by the State Legislature of operating budgets for MSU and the University of Michigan. University of Michigan, however, said it was "gratified" by the increased allocations.

The upward revisions were made by the House Ways and Means Committee in the operating budget for higher education in the 1957-58 fiscal year.

The State Board of Agriculture, governing body of Michigan State University, sent a letter to House members complaining the adjustments were "unbelievably unfair and unjust" to Michigan State.

The state board was mainly irked at what it said was a $304 per pupil difference in the level of state support given the University of Michigan $30,955,586 for next year's operation and Michigan State $26,133,193.

Tulip Festival Opens Despite Poor Weather

HOLLAND (AP) — The Holland tulip festival opened on schedule yesterday despite cold and damp and overcast skies.

Officials had feared Tuesday night's heavy storm might have damaged the blooms. But an early check disclosed flowers upright and blooming in lanes and gardens.

Hospital Employees Get $50,000 in Raises

Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital employees got $50,000 in cost-of-living raises last night.

The announcement was made by hospital director Harry H. Whitlow in behalf of the private institution's board of directors.

Whitlow said raises would bring the osteopathic hospital's salaries in line with those of the city's other two hospitals.

Boosts range from $8.22 a month for new employees to a top $72.50 a month, he said.

All of the hospital's 265 employees will be affected by the pay increases, Whitlow said.
