Kennedy Promises De Gaulle

U.S. to Protect West Berlin

Will Use Force if Necessary Against Reds

President Pays Tribute to France as Country With Brilliant History

PARIS (AP) — President Kennedy and President de Gaulle were reported in general agreement on Berlin today. Kennedy told the French chief of state that U.S. military forces will remain in Eurpoe as long as they are required.

The U.S. forces, Kennedy said, will be "ready to meet any threat with whatever response is needed."

"And both of us also know," Kennedy declared, "that neither ally would ever ignore the alliance to risk war, or to accept retreat, or to act out of narrow isolation."

The American President made this policy declaration at a dinner at the Elysee Palace when he rose to toast the French president.

Kennedy's statement followed by a few hours official disclosure that De Gaulle and he had reached "general agreement" on the Berlin problem.

The words used by Kennedy seemed to remove any doubt that their agreement was to stand firm and uncompromising in defense of West Berlin against Soviet pressures.

In most of the toast Kennedy paid tribute to France as a great nation with a brilliant history and to De Gaulle as one of its greatest leaders.

Kennedy said the French and American revolutions had been two of the great events of the past 200 years and that the ideals of those revolutions still inspire the new nations of the world.

WILL PRESERVE IDEALS

The United States and France, Kennedy said, are united to preserve those ideals.

"That is why I salute your nation," Kennedy told De Gaulle and the company at the dinner, "for its key contribution to the cause of freedom—and for its role as a full and equal partner in the Great Alliance.

"Both of our nations know that your fate is our fate — that your safety is our safety — and that American forces will remain in Europe as long as they are required, ready to meet any threat with whatever response is needed.

Traffic Toll Hits Weekend High

From Our News Wires

Traffic	457
Boating	40
Drowning	62
Miscellaneous	116
Total	675

The 1961 Memorial Day weekend went into the books today as the most deadly on record on the nation's highways and as the second greatest occasion of traffic death of any summertime holiday.

Late reports pushed the total of traffic fatalities far above the previous record of 413 for a 102-hour Memorial holiday. The former record was set in 1957.

Only three states, Hawaii, Delaware and Rhode Island, and the District of Columbia went through the four-day period — Saturday through Tuesday — without a traffic death.

'BRUTAL CARNAGE'

The only extended spring or summer holiday traffic death toll to exceed the total this Memorial Day was the 491 recorded during the 102-hour July 4 observance in 1950.

He said "It is absolutely imperative that every state in the union end the delays that have blocked complete modernization of every element in the administration of highway traffic."

"This is not an impossible situation," Pyle said.

"The answers are known, but they must be activated. Thousands of lives can be saved, countless injuries avoided, and millions of dollars in accident costs made available for more constructive uses."

Michigan Second in Road Deaths Across Nation

By United Press International

Double shifts by law enforcement officials, 200 National Guardsmen on patrol and a barrage of pleas for sane driving were no match for the beautiful weather during the long Memorial Day holiday.

The sunny skies of the first summer holiday weekend drew millions of motorists onto state highways in Michigan, and 31 persons died.

The grim toll gave Michigan the dubious claim to second place on the nation's death list. California counted 45 dead in traffic and Illinois and Texas followed Michigan with 30 highway fatalities.

Three persons drowned during the holiday period and four others died in other accidents to bring the four-day toll to 38.

FAR ABOVE 1960

The fantastic death pace on state highways amounted to one every three hours, 20 minutes. The toll was far above that of Memorial Day 1960 when 21 persons died on state highways.

In Lansing, Gov. Swainson asked the State Safety Commission for a complete analysis of the weekend carnage.

"It leaves me a great deal saddened to think that the beautiful weekend weather was marred by this record fatality count," Swainson said. "It should give everyone pause to think."

Reserve to Preserve Whiskers at Camp

By JOE SINGLETON

Even the United States Army has gotten into the spirit of Pontiac's Centennial. It has waived one of its strictest rules to help area men celebrate the city's 100th anniversary.

As any man who has served a hitch can attest, Uncle Sam frowns upon fuzz of any kind growing under the chin or about the face.

Men have been put on KP or lost their weekend passes for such offenses.

But to help Pontiac celebrate its Centennial, the Army has allowed members of Pontiac's 2nd Battalion, 333rd Basic Combat Training Regiment, to participate in their annual field training exercises in Camp McCoy, Wis., beards and all.

This decision did not, however, come easily. It took the persistence of the 2nd Battalion's Commander, Lt. Col. Franklin D. Thompson, to get an okay to keep the whiskers.

"In our unit, we have leading citizens of Pontiac and surrounding areas who take great pride in their city, who want to take an active part in the Centennial celebration, but also have the urge to serve their country by being a member of the active reserve forces," says Lt. Col. Thompson.

"Since we will return from our encampment the same day that the Pontiac Centennial celebration starts, June 17, these men wouldn't have any beards to sport during the celebration."

So Thompson wrote to the 333rd Basic Combat Training Regiment's Commander, Col. Joseph Dalek, and explained the situation.

The commander approved the request, and the Pontiac unit will be perhaps the first Army Reserve unit to sport beards at a military reservation.

The Pontiac unit will leave shortly after midnight Saturday by train to the Wisconsin military reservation where it will undergo two weeks of strenuous field training exercises.

Showers and Storms Forecast for Tonight

The weatherman says Thursday will be partly cloudy and continued warm with scattered showers or thundershowers and a high of 76. Partly cloudy and mild is the outlook for Friday.

Morning southwesterly winds at 8 miles per hour will become southerly at 10 to 20 m.p.h. tonight.

Fifty-two was the lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. The reading at 2 p.m. was 71.

Nikita Stops Off in Satellite on Way to Vienna

LONDON (AP)—Soviet Premier Khrushchev reached Czechoslovakia by train today en route to Vienna, Austria, to meet President Kennedy, the Soviet news agency Tass said. He is visiting the country, it said, "at the invitation of the Czechoslovak government."

There is speculation Khrushchev may hold a Communist summit meeting in Czechoslovakia in preparation for his talks Saturday and Sunday with Kennedy.

Predicts U.S. Will Be Forced to Invade Cuba

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — John G. Tower, the first Republican senator sent to Washington by Texas since reconstruction days, said the time is near when the United States must invade Cuba.

Tower, elected Saturday over Democrat interim Sen. William A. Blakely, said before flying to the capital that "it is imminent that the United States will at some time militarily occupy Cuba."

He added in a press conference, "I'm opposed to the tractors for prisoners swap proposed by petty Communist tyrants in Cuba."

The Wichita Falls, Tex., college professor plans to spend three days in Washington, then return home to await the official certification of the vote June 13.

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — The government of President Romulo Betancourt has uncovered and crushed a plot to overthrow the regime, it was announced today.

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Unemployment fell by 194,000 in May to 4,768,000. The number of Americans holding jobs climbed by 1,044,000 to 66,778,000.

Break Through Police to Bid Jackie Welcome

From Our News Wires

PARIS — A crowd of about 1,000 persons broke through police lines today and surrounded Mrs. John F. Kennedy in a wave of admiration for America's First Lady.

Most of the day Mrs. Kennedy was in the company only of diplomats and statesmen.

Crowds of tens of thousands cheered her — but only from afar — until midafternoon when she paid a 45-minute visit to a child welfare clinic founded by the American Red Cross after World War I.

ORDINARY FOLKS' TURN

Then it was the turn of the ordinary housewives, shopkeepers and passers-by who applauded her as she entered the red-brick building.

By the time Mrs. Kennedy was ready to leave, the crowd had grown to more than 1,000. They were held in check across the broad Avenue Brune by rows of police.

As the President's wife, in a pale yellow two-piece costume, walked to her car, the crowd began to force through the ranks of police.

Suddenly, the dam burst and the swarm of humanity flocked around "la tres belle Jackie" — the very beautiful Jackie — to tell her with smiles, waves and shouted words of acclaim the warmth the average Frenchman felt for her as a charming representative of the United States.

Earlier, two heads of state had looked on appreciatively as 2,000 Frenchwomen cheered when Jackie stepped out into the sunshine of Paris in the spring.

The radiant American First Lady, arriving at the Elysee Palace for a state luncheon, was hailed with shouts of "Jackie" as she stepped from a limousine and she smiled and waved in response.

DE GAULLE RESPONSIVE

De Gaulle beamed at the reception given the lovely young wife of his guest while Kennedy smiled quietly.

She came not only as the President's wife but as a sort of ambassadress of American fashion.

And if there was any unhappiness, it was in the French fashion world, which saw plans to give a private showing for the charming visitor strike a snag.

A top designer said the proposal was turned down by the White House.

Jacques Helm, president of the French High Fashion Syndicate, revealed that an approach was made through the French Embassy in Washington a month or so ago.

Trujillo Assassinated, President Kennedy Told

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Rafael Leonidas Trujillo, dictator of the Dominican Republic for 31 years, was reported today to have been assassinated. This word reached President Kennedy in Paris and the State Department in Washington.

Regular direct communication between the Dominican Republic and the United States, as well as with Haiti, adjacent to the Dominican Republic, was cut off.

The State Department said it had "received unconfirmed reports" that the 69-year-old dictator has been assassinated.

But Pierre Salinger, White House press secretary, apparently accepted it as a fact.

"In view of the assassination of Rafael Trujillo, Secretary of State Rusk will not come to Paris," Salinger told reporters in the French capital.

Rusk had been scheduled to leave Washington tonight and join President Kennedy in Paris and Vienna.

DEFINITE WORD

Asked whether the White House had definite word of an assassination, Salinger said:

"That's what we understand."

By transatlantic telephone Kennedy asked Rusk to keep in close touch with the situation.

The State Department in Washington said:

"The department has received unconfirmed reports that Generalissimo Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic has been assassinated.

"Reports from travelers arriving in a nearby country say that an unusually tense situation exists.

HEAVY MILITARY GUARD

"The capital is reported to be under heavy military guard.

"The department had no further information."

Diplomatic sources in Washington three weeks ago reported unusual air activity over Ciudad Trujillo, and speculated that a revolution might be brewing.

A dispatch from the Associated Press correspondent at Port Au Prince, Haiti, said a Pan American plane arrived there from Ciudad Trujillo with many vacant seats, indicating that Dominican citizens had been forbidden to leave the country.

Trujillo has ruled the Dominican Republic as a dictator since 1930.

"You'll know I'm retired when you hear I'm dead," he told an American interviewer in March 1960.

The portly, well-grommed Trujillo ran the nation of three million like a private preserve by terrorism, spies, an adulatory press and a tight control of the army.

Salute to Civil War Dead

MEMORIAL DAY TRIBUTE — A solemn salute is given by Edward Tanner, 83-year-old veteran of the Spanish-American War, at the Civil War monument in downtown Pontiac during yesterday's Memorial Day observance. Tanner was marshal of the traditional Saginaw Street parade. Memorial ceremonies afterwards in Perry Mount Park Cemetery honored those who made the supreme sacrifice for their country.

Tell of Calls by Klan Leader

U. S. Uses Testimony by Phone Co. in Effort to Link KKK to Riots

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — A federal judge today dismissed a Justice Department race-rioting complaint against the Birmingham, Ala., Police Department and one of three Ku Klux Klan organizations.

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Federal attorneys produced records of long distance telephone calls in court today in an effort to tie recent "freedom rider" bus violence to the Klu Klux Klan.

Some of the calls were made by someone who gave the name of acknowledged Klan leader, Robert Shelton of Tuscaloosa, Ala.; others were charged to the telephone listed for Robert Shelton, and still others were made from other places to the Shelton phone number.

Other calls were charged to the phone listed for Kenneth Adams in Anniston. A witness with the same name refused on the stand Tuesday to answer questions about the recent racial rioting. An Anniston photographer testified, however, that he once saw the witness, with a robe in his hand, at a Klan cross-burning rally in Anniston.

CARL O'BRIEN

To Ask Pay Cut If He's Elected

Dem Candidate for 2nd District Con - Con Seat Would Seek Reduction

Should he become a delegate to the constitutional convention, Carl O'Brien will move to cut his pay.

In announcing his candidacy on the Democratic ticket from Oakland County's 2nd (Pontiac) District, O'Brien, 31, of 477 E. Montcalm St., said he'd propose cutting the scheduled $1,000-a-month pay for con-con delegates in half.

"At $500 per month the convention will last only half as long, I predict, and produce twice the results," O'Brien said.

The balance of the funds, O'Brien proposed, should be used for higher education, mental health and other "vital areas our Republican-dominated legislature has short-changed."

"I believe the people want action on reapportionment out of this convention, not merely 144 politicians putting $1,000 each in their pockets month after month," O'Brien said.

3RD CANDIDATE

O'Brien, an employe of the purchasing administration department of the Ford Tractor & Implement Division in Birmingham, is the third Democrat to make a bid for the city's seat at the Oct. 3 convention. The primary is July 25.

A father of four children, the candidate was born in Pontiac. He attended Wayne State University and Henry Ford Community College.

He is treasurer of the Pontiac Democratic Committee, a member of the Pontiac Democratic Club, a precinct captain for his party, and a past delegate to the state convention.

ICC Order Could End Bus 'Ride'

ATLANTA (AP)—Negro leaders are setting up a special committee in Atlanta to organize a flow of "freedom rides" in the Deep South until bus and rail terminal segregation ends.

But Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker said that if the Interstate Commerce Commission issues desegregation regulations the rides may end soon afterward.

Walker, director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was interviewed in Atlanta Tuesday after spending four days in a Montgomery, Ala., jail. He was one of five riders released on bond Monday night.

He said Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's formal petition filed with the ICC was "the most hopeful thing that has developed to date."

If the ICC acts as Kennedy requested, Walker said, the freedom rides probably will end soon afterward. The freedom ride coordinating committee then will maintain a "sort of watchdog network" to make sure the regulations are enforced," he said.

Meanwhile, he said, the new coordinating committee is being organized in Atlanta with branches in Montgomery, Jackson, Miss., and New Orleans, to continue the rides.

Walker rejected any suggestion of a "cooling-off" period. "He (the attorney general) is asking the wrong people to cool off," he said.

district manager from Birmingham, identified the records in the third day of a federal court hearing.

The Justice Department is asking for a continued no-violence injunction against the Klan, and also for a court order to compel Montgomery and Birmingham police to protect "freedom riders" and other interstate passengers in the future.

Government attorneys have charged that police in the two cities deliberately failed to provide protection before race riots in Birmingham May 14 and Montgomery six days later.

ORDERS INTEGRATION

A U.S. district judge in New York City today ordered the New Rochelle, N.Y., Board of Education to start immediately desegregating a predominantly Negro school for the 1961-62 school year.

Judge Irving R. Kaufman issued the order concerning the Lincoln School in a decree calling for unrestricted transfers to other public schools.

Rebels Violate Truce in Laos

Men in Geneva Want Orders Sent to Halt Fighting During Talks

GENEVA (AP)—The United States and Britain today demanded new instructions be sent to the International Control Commission in Laos so it can stop the fighting in the Southeast Asian kingdom.

The demands were made as the 14-nation conference on Laos went back into session after a week's recess.

The call came first from British delegation leader Malcolm MacDonald. It was supported completely by U.S. Ambassador at Large W. Averell Harriman.

Harriman told the conference reports from the commission in Laos showed it "is aware of instances of substantial violations of an effective cease fire."

Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Georghi Pushkin disagreed and suggested there is no need to strengthen the hand of the control commission.

Harriman said the Communist-led Pathet Lao rebels have been making almost daily attacks in the area of Padong, about 100 miles north of Vientiane.

Jails Awaiting Integrationists

Jackson, Miss., Police Have 'Unlimited' Space for 'Freedom Riders'

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Police in this Mississippi capital city of 150,000 were ready today with unlimited jail space for more "freedom riders," an official said.

Already 52 persons testing segregation laws in bus and train terminals have been arrested and convicted on breach of peace charges. Eight have posted appeal bails or paid their $200 fines.

At Ithaca, N. Y., a Cornell University student group announced plans for more freedom rides next week and the following week.

"They may as well quit," said Police Capt. L. C. Bennett. "They're not worrying us. It's getting to be routine."

Eight more freedom riders joined earlier groups Tuesday in testing "Jim Crow" barriers. The newest arrivals—first to come by train—were speedily arrested and got $200 fines and 60-day suspended sentences. Their trial lasted five minutes.

The earlier Freedom Riders were jailed when they attempted to use white facilities in a cross-country bus terminal.

CAN HANDLE MANY

Forty-four of the riders, including Tuesday's arrivals, remain in jail. They apparently will work out their fines at the rate of $3 per day.

"We're a long way from being where we can't take care of them," said Sheriff J. R. Gilfoy.

"If their idea is to saturate the jails, it will take a lot of people, the county jail here can hold 160 to 170 and the city jail between 150 and 175."

Gilfoy said that if necessary a circuit judge can be petitioned for permission to send prisoners anywhere in the state.

"I feel any sheriff would cooperate with me 100 per cent in keeping these prisoners," the sheriff said.

"And that is also why there is no reason for either nation to dwell on our differences or our disagreements. For we have so much that unites us, and so great and dangerous a challenge to face together."

Kennedy acclaimed De Gaulle as "the man who is both a superb military leader and an extraordinary statesman, both an erudite scholar and a practical lawgiver."

GREATEST MONUMENT

De Gaulle's greatest monument, the U.S. President added, is not made of bronze or marble but is a "newer, a greater, a grander France."

Kennedy said that in De Gaulle's memoirs the French president related that he had told an American envoy in 1945 that the United States had never given the impression that it considered its fate linked to the fate of France, nor that it indicated that it wanted a strong, great France.

"But I want to say to you, Gen. de Gaulle," Kennedy declared, "that the United States of America, today and in the future, considers its fate linked to that of France—that we want a great and strong France — and that we will do whatever we can to help France remain the great nation she has again become under your wise and courageous leadership."

29 Historic Markers in Place by Weekend

By the end of the week, we'll be a marked town.

Marked for the Centennial, that is.

The Historic Markers Committee, headed by Monroe M. Osmun, plans to have some 29 historic markers up at various points in town by the weekend.

The signs, some produced by shop pupils at Pontiac Central High School and others by Pontiac Motor Division, will point up the sites of some of the most important buildings in Pontiac's 152 years as a community and 100 years as a city.

Most of the buildings disappeared long ago, but a few are still standing.

MADE OF WOOD

Committee members Mrs. Marion Benter and Daniel T. Murphy Jr., Oakland County clerk-register, did the historical research.

The markers, made of wood, are not permanent, but they'll provide fascinating details about Pontiac's colorful history.

The biggest markers, for instance, are two billboards prepared by Pontiac Motor Division.

One will go up on Mill Street, between East Huron and East Lawrence. It will tell about the original cluster of buildings north of what was once the city's mill pond.

The other will be at the southeastern corner of South Saginaw and Water streets, where the first log cabin was erected.

HISTORICAL SITES

Some of the other spots:

The corner of Clark and North Saginaw streets, where the Oakland County Agricultural Society had its fairgrounds during the second half of the 19th Century.

The northwest corner of Huron and Saginaw streets, where an educational academy was located as early as 1833, to be followed by a branch of the University of Michigan and a series of churches.

The southwest corner of Huron and Saginaw, donated as a courthouse site in 1819 by the original Pontiac Company. There was a log cabin courthouse and jail there in 1823 and a brick courthouse in 1856. The present courthouse, built in 1905, will be the last, now that the county has switched its attention to the Telegraph Road service center.

The southwest corner of Saginaw and Lawrence, site of Dr. Olmstead Chamberlain's hotel where he, as postmaster, established the city's first post office in 1823.

The southwest corner of South Saginaw and Pike streets, where the 1838 Hodges House hotel still stands under the name Chapman Hotel. This is the only brick hotel of its class west of Buffalo, which has been continuously operated as a hotel.

The corner of Saginaw and Jackson streets, marking the establishment of the Pontiac & Detroit Railroad in 1830, the first railroad chartered in Michigan. The first stations were on Jackson Street.

At 48 N. Saginaw St., where Arthur's Women's Apparel is now, once the site of Clinton Hall, an 1867 opera house with 800 seats.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the free world must arm to meet Communist aggression at every level "from the thermonuclear holocaust to assassination in the jungle."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk goes to Capitol Hill today to begin President Kennedy's battle for $4.75 billion in foreign aid money.

He testifies before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee against a background of senatorial demands for better administration of the vast aid program.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said events of the past year have cast many doubts on administration of the military and economic assistance programs abroad. He said there have been too many examples of countries in which the programs have been corrupted or frustrated in their aim of promoting freedom.

Fulbright, committee chairman, made his observations in a statement prepared for reading at the opening of the morning session.

DELAYS DEPARTURE

Rusk delayed his departure for Paris to join President Kennedy in his talks with President Charles de Gaulle to give the big mutual security measure a top level send off.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a member of Fulbright's committee said Kennedy's request will be sharply trimmed by Congress.

"More money is not the crying need," Aiken said in an interview. "What the program needs is well-qualified, well-trained personnel to adinister it without better administration; more money will only make its operation worse. I'm for giving whatever can be used effectively and honestly."

State Reaching End of Slush-Fund Probe

DETROIT (AP)—Asst. State Atty. Gen. Irving B. Beattie said today he expects to complete his investigation of Prosecutor Samuel Olsen's slush fund next week.

Beattie made his prediction as he resumed his inquiry following a four-day recess over the long Memorial Day weekend.

The inquiry began after former aides of the Wayne County prosecutor charged that they were required to make 2 per cent of salary kickbacks to Olsen's fund.

Herzberg, 34, said he has accepted a position with First Federal Savings of Detroit in the real estate appraising department.

No successor has been named to the $7,800 post by the city manager. The appointment will be subject to the approval of the City Commission.

Herzberg was employed by the city in December 1954, as a planning technician and six months later was appointed to his present position.

He had formerly been a planning consultant with Waring & Johnson of Detroit.

Herzberg, his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Kathy and Janet, currently reside at 15601 Turkshire Road, Beverly Hills, but are in the process of moving to Balmoral Orchard subdivision in Bloomfield Township.

His resignation will not affect any future city plans, Herzberg said.

The Downtown Development Plan, which he assisted in preparing with a planner hired by businessmen in the central business district, has reached its final stages and will soon be ready for public presentation, he said.

A $47,000 contract has been awarded to the Peake Asphalt Paving Co., of Utica for the surfacing of the Northwest Quadrant Parking Lot in the downtown business district.

The Utica firm, lowest of 11 bidders, will begin construction immediately with completion expected in 60 days.

The Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its annual picnic 12:30 p.m., Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Reginald Butler, 372 Harmon St.

The executive board of the fellowship will prepare and serve a picnic lunch. Reservations can be made by calling the church by Monday.

Architect Eero Saarinen, with offices at 1300 N. Woodward Ave., has been appointed to two national committees of the American Institute of Architects.

The board of directors of the AIA named Saarinen to the Fine Arts Award Committee as well as to the Committee on the National Capital.

May Bows Out Leaving Cold Records in East

By The Associated Press

May bade a frosty farewell to the Northeastern section of the nation today, leaving chilly record-breaking low temperatures in its wake.

Frost covered parts of New England as temperatures dipped into the mid-20s in the bogs of southeastern Massachusetts and the Northern New England hill country. Lows included 25 at Lebanon, N.H., and Burlington, Vt., and 26 at Montpelier, Vt. Concord and May, N.H., recorded 28 and it was 33 at Windsor Locks, Conn. All these marks set records.

Other parts of New England generally were in the 30s.

The official low at Boston was 43, compared with the record of 39 for May 31 set in 1884. On May 31, 1944, the reading in Boston reached 96.

Congo Head to Visit U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The White House announced today that Fulbert Youlou, president of the Republic of the Congo, will visit the United States informally June 8-10.

Rusk Sounds Russ Warning

Says Free World Must Arm to Fight Any or All Onslaughts

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of State Dean Rusk said today the free world must arm to meet Communist aggression at every level from the thermonuclear holocaust to assassination in the jungle.

Rusk opened the administration's argument for a $4.8-billion foreign aid program by telling the Senate Foreign Relations Committee: "We can afford to do what has to be done."

If the Untied States fails to undertake a sufficient effort, Rusk said, it must expect the failure of other nations to meet the demands of their people for a better life and from many of these nations an inevitable collapse.

While most of the committee gave the program a friendly reception, Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., declared he did not know how long "the American economy can stand this program."

Morse told Rusk he, as one senator, "will scrutinize every single item" in it.

He said the U.S. cannot continue to waste money as it has been "wasting it in many parts of the world."

"A lot of things need to be done at home," Morse added. "I am going into this program sentence by sentence and item by item."

Recalling testimony that more than 90 per cent of the foreign aid money would be pumped into the American economy, Morse said he would "like to know to what extent it will be used as a subsidy for the American manufacturing industry."

Ford Styling Chief 'Not Leaving'

DETROIT (UPI) — George Walker, one of the auto industry's most colorful executives, officially retired today as Ford vice president and styling director. But he vowed he would still be on the job tomorrow.

"I'm retiring in name only," the 65-year-old Walker said. "I'm not leaving. I feel I still have 10 or 15 years of styling in me."

Walker, being replaced by Lincoln-Mercury stylist Eugene Bordinat Jr., said he will continue with Ford "in an advisory capacity as long as they want me."

Walker became a Ford vice president in 1955 but was a consultant to the company since 1946. Among his accomplishments were the trend-setting two and four-seat Thunderbirds and the 1949 Ford.

Of Cherokee extraction, Walker earned his way through art schools in Los Angeles and Cleveland by playing on a semipro team of former Carlisle Indians.

ONE-MAN FIRM

He began his career in 1923 as a fashion illustrator in Cleveland, but moved to Detroit the next year and set up shop as a one-man industrial design firm.

In the next 26 years, he styled more than 3,000 products for 300 companies. Besides baby bottles, vacuum cleaners, radios and refrigerators, he lent his design talents to the Pierce Arrow, Packard and Nash cars.

Walker bases his designs on the theory that "you should lead the public, never push them." The public wants to see some design changes each year, he said, but won't accept a car that's too radical.

The Chicago-born stylist believes that "Engineering is important but the design concept is what sells a car. In most cases cars are sold in a dealer's showroom, not on the road."

Walker sees no revolution in design in the next five years, but rather an evolution of present models. But he feels space technology will make itself felt in the automobiles of the future.

More aerodynamic designs are possible, he said, and pointed to Ford's new two-wheel idea car, the Gyron, as an example.

LOW AUTO

The Gyron, designed to be powered by fuel cells and stabilized with a gyroscope, is 10 inches lower than the standard Ford.

But a production model of the Gyron is many years away, Walker said, and cars in the immediate future won't be any lower than they are now. "After all, people aren't going to crawl in and out of a car on their hands and knees," he laughed.

Loots 2 Machines, Gets Prison Term

A minimum term of 18 months and a maximum of 15 years in Jackson Prison —the latter set by law — was handed out to 18-year-old Bennie Castro Monday for looting a pinball machine and jukebox.

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero sentenced Castro, 467 Colorado St., after he pleaded guilty May 15 to breaking and entering during the nighttime.

The burglary of $18 in change took place at Ray's Billiards, 352 Franklin Road, on April 8.

Cyrus Eaton Denies Pro-Red Charge in Report

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI) — Industrialist Cyrus Eaton, fresh from another trip behind the Iron Curtain, Tuesday said he was "as dedicated a capitalist in theory and practice as there is in the world."

Eaton made the statement in denying a pro-Communist charge contained in a report prepared for the Internal Security subcommittee of the Senate Judiciary Committee.

The report charged that the Pugwash (Nova Scotia) scientific conferences sponsored by Eaton had been used as tools of Communist international propaganda and for learning of Western scientific advances.

Withholding Tax on Dividends Rapped

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Spokesmen for the insurance and investment industries told Congress today that a proposed 20 per cent withholding tax on dividends and interest would cause confusion for the public and the companies.

Willis H. Satterthwaite told a House Ways and Means Committee holding hearing on the proposal that complicated reporting and recording procedures required by the change "would result in a substantial loss of such income."

* * *

Testifying for the Life Insurance Association of America, Satterthwaite, vice president and counsel of the Penn Mutual Life Insurance Co., Philadelphia, said it would be preferable to bolster enforcement and taxpayer understanding of their liabilities.

State City Gets Grant

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The community facilities administration announced today in advance of $2,600 to aid Nashville, Mich., in planning improvements and extensions to a sewage system, estimated to cost $275,875. Nashville is in Barry County.

There are about 65,000 producing gas wells in the U. S.

Leisure Industry Awaits Better Summer

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Recreation spending time is here—and leisure industry leaders are assuring each other that this summer is bound to be better than last.

They hope the weather will take a turn for the better. So far sales of outdoor recreational equipment and toys have been spotty, lagging in many sections where spring has been all but a delusion, but ahead in areas where the weather has been cooperative.

Last summer bad weather hurt the leisure industry. Just as bad perhaps was the recession which caused many families to trim their fun budgets. Sales of several types of equipment fell well behind early expectations.

This year the purveyors of goods and services for recreation are counting on renewed public confidence in the economy and on longer vacations and higher disposable incomes to push recreation spending to a new high. Some put this year's total for all kinds of recreation at $44 billion.

HOPEFUL SEGMENTS

Two segments of the leisure market expected to show gains this year are equipment needed for outdoor activities aimed at family fun and physical fitness, and cultural pursuits that have commanded more of the spending of many families in recent years.

A third market aimed primarily at the younger members of the family is being pushed by toy manufacturers and retailers. Most outdoor toys are sold in the early part of June, and many manufacturers are stepping up promotion of this year's sales.

Looking further ahead, the Toy Manufacturers of the U.S.A. Inc., plans to start a spring and summer toy market week in October to spur sales of outdoor items in the summer of 1962. These range from beach pails to wading pools.

Sales prospects for equipment aimed at the whole family or older segments have been revised recently by the economics department of C.I.T. Financial Corp. Its interest is in providing installment financing for many of the larger items, ranging from boats, trailers, vacation cottages and private aircraft to golf carts, bowling alley pinsetters. The survey foresees sizable gains this year.

Swimming pool builders especially are setting high goals. Last year sales fell to $700 million from 1959's record $750 million. This year predictions are for $850 million. This would mean installing 70,000 pools, most of them in backyards.

Spending will go even higher than that, however. Pool owners are expected to buy filters, purifying chemicals, diving boards, cabanas and the like for another $250-million total.

$21 BILLION FOR TRAVEL

Pleasure boat spending estimates hit $2.5 billion, bowling $1.1 billion. Travel agencies estimate $18 billion will be shelled out for all types of domestic travel and $2.7 billion for the foreign variety.

Stay-at-homes are expected to put $12 billion this year into garden tools, seeds and fertilizer, into home workshop supplies and other do-it-yourself items. And another $1.1 billion is expected to go for musical instruments, hi-fi equipment, phonograph records, radios and TV sets.

The small fry will be helping, too. Last year's total toy sales were $1.7 billion at retail. Although three-fourths of this was shelled out at Christmas time, a sizable outlay is made each summer. And sales of these aids to summer recreation are expected to hit from $300 million to $400 million.

'Snail's Pace' No Match for Slow-Moving Traffic

CHICAGO (UPI) — Motorists who thought homebound Memorial Day traffic moved "at a snail's pace" were wrong, a Chicago scientists says.

Ernest J. Roscow of the Chicago Natural History Museum said the swiftest snail he has ever clocked was shell-less dendroceras gracile at .00758 miles per hour, or about 20 inches a minute.

The sluggish carychium exile moves out at .000192 m.p.h., he said.

Anticancer Drug Called 'Exciting'

U.S. Has 50 Per Cent Success in Arresting Uterine Disease

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Surgeon General Luther Terry said Tuesday night that government tests of an anticancer drug indicates "we're on our way" toward conquest of the dread disease.

Terry described as "a very exciting thing" the results of tests in which the chemical methotrexate was used against a rare form of cancer which develops in the womb of pregnant women.

In the tests at the National Cancer Institute at Bethesda, Md., the drug cured or arrested nearly 50 per cent of such womb cancer cases. This type of cancer usually spreads rapidly and almost always has been fatal.

Other public health officials said that the success with methotrexate opened up the prospect of finding other chemicals to cure other forms of cancer.

In the government tests, 63 womb cancer victims—some near death—were treated with methotrexate. In 30, the cancer was arrested or eliminated, of the remainder, 25 died, one showed no improvement and seven are still being treated.

Actor Is Operated Upon

ROCHESTER, Minn. (UPI) — Film entertainer Randolph Scott was reported in "good condition" today following a successful hernia operation at Mayo Clinic. Scott, 58, underwent surgery Tuesday.

Harry N. Rogan, director of travel services for the Automobile Club of Michigan, AAA affiliate, said a survey proves that visitors in Michigan stay around as long or longer than they do in other leading resort states — California, New York or New England, for instance.

Pontiac Man Held in Murder Attempt

In custody was Samuel Jones, 63, of 183 Osmun St.

Officers said Jones called them after the shooting, which occurred at 7:40 p.m.

Rebels Hurt 4 in Paris

PARIS (UPI)—Algerian rebel extremists injured four persons in a hand grenade attack on a police post here despite police efforts to keep Paris violence-free during the visit of President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy.

Stabbing Victim Fights for Life in Hospital

Pontiac police were unable to question Henry Garth, 44, of 688 Franklin Road. His condition was critical.

Witnesses told police Garth was stabbed with a pocket knife by a man whose first name was "Willie."

They described him as a Negro, 5-foot-8, 160 pounds, light complexion and wearing khaki trousers.

They were unable to tell police the cause of the quarrel.

Police said that Garth was stabbed near his heart.

Noted Interpreter Dies

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (AP) — Nicholas W. Orloff, 66, former United Nations chief interpreter, died Tuesday of a heart attack. Orloff joined the United Nations as an interpreter in 1946 and left in 1956 for a career in free lance translation work. He was born of royalty in St. Petersburg, Russia, and came to the United States in 1940.

Circulation Official for Free Press Dies

E. Roy Hatton, circulation consultant for the Detroit Free Press, died yesterday at his home, 24225 Farmington Road, Farmington.

Hatton, circulation director of the Free Press from 1940 to 1956, sold newspapers for 65 years. He became a Free Press carrier in 1896 and joined the circulation department in 1905. The paper at that time had a daily circulation of about 40,000.

In 1908 he became circulation manager and held the post until he was promoted to circulation director.

Hatton was instrumental in founding the Audit Bureau of Circulation, an organization which reports circulation figures of American newspapers.

He is survived by his wife Myra; a daughter Mrs. Julia Buys of Illinois; a son Embry; seven grandchildren; and a sister.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Girl He Stabbed Says 'Yes' to English Convict

WINCHESTER, England (UPI) —Frank Chapman will walk out of prison Thursday to marry the girl he stabbed, and then return to his cell to finish his sentence for the crime.

Chapman abducted Eileen when she was 16, and served an 18-month prison term for the crime. When he finished the sentence, she was waiting for him.

Then they quarreled, and Eileen complained to a magistrate's court. Chapman was put on probation. Angry at her complaint, he stabbed Eileen in March and was sentenced to another 18-month prison term.

The romance warmed up again when they started corresponding. Chapman proposed in a letter from prison, and earlier this month Eileen wrote back: "Yes."

June Should Be Glorious After Gloomy May

This is the end of May.

Three cheers!!

Rarely have we experienced a month that brought as much disappointing weather as this pesky period that we're currently releasing to posterity. That's where she belongs. She doesn't deserve an encore or a round of applause as she slinks shamefully from the American scene.

She failed us.

April's rainfall was more than fifty per cent above average and while we haven't seen May's official figures, general impressions indicate that this month, too, exceeded the usual average. If this doesn't happen to be true, we will charge May with springing her rains, her storms and her unseasonably cold weather at the most inopportune moments.

She never failed to torment mankind just when he prayed for the "joyous month of May" to be in one of her most benign and most beneficient moods. May was a perverse little cuss right from the start. She was unusually cold, rainy (and even snowy) when she should have been balmy and beautiful.

Since Mother Nature has an invariable rule to "level up," it follows that we should have a glorious June. Let's plan on that. Let's believe in it and set the dates for garden parties, outdoor teas, tennis, golf, boating and the kindred and myriad social functions that delight a Nation heading into summer.

June will be radiant.

Bank on it.

And without so much as a cursory glance at the weather report, we amateurs predict for tomorrow: "fair and warmer, with glorious sunshine, light, delightful zephyrs and the touch of good health in the air."

Encourage 'Foreigners' to Visit United States

The United States is receiving a sound spanking in a new cause.

To counteract the large sums of money that our citizens are leaving in foreign countries all around the globe, the Federal Government and interested agencies are staging a reverse campaign.

"Visit the United States."

We've had a fair share of visitors before, but we can handle ten times the number without even straining and we need the trade, the goodwill and the global interest.

"We're unfriendly — or indifferent."

Probably the charge is true. I doubt whether we're actually "unfriendly" but it's perfectly possible that we're too smug and complacent to go an inch out of our way to assist and help "a foreigner." For years we had so few visitors here that there was almost an implied tinge of inferiority in the very word "foreigner." A "foreigner" was someone from outside the sacred pale who didn't understand or comprehend, and hence, couldn't quite measure up.

Of course, this is the silliest sort of nonsense and everyone will recognize it as such upon the slightest reflection. Probably the "foreigner" is better educated than nine-tenths of the lofty Americans with whom he comes in contact. Probably he can speak English perceptibly better than we can handle his own language, whatever it may be.

At any rate, the authorities are urging us to be more friendly, of greater assistance and more helpful. We're admonished to go out of our way to help with directions and any other problems that arise.

Keep these facts in mind.

We need the money. These people are definitely helping our own standard of living and our own national income.

Be courteous.

In fact, be extra courteous. (It will do your own inner soul as much good as it will the visitor you serve).

The Man About Town

Oakland Is On Top

It Leads All Nation in Facilities for Hiking

Morning after: What's usually dependent on the night before.

Boy Scouts from other states are coming here by thousands in a single day for hiking in Oakland County. With the season just getting underway, it is expected that the number will pass the 25,000 mark this year.

On a recent weekend over 3,000 of them were with us at the Holly Recreational Area alone. They came from Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Wisconsin and other states, with a good sprinkling from Michigan.

According to Superintendent

Murray Titsworth

of the Holly Area, which is the largest such playground in our county, and one of the largest in the state, its

is about 25 miles in length.

It was completely negotiated by most of the Scouts. Many of them camped out over night, and finished the next day. Others who were not so hardy were picked up by automobiles after they had hoofed it the greater part of the way.

Starting at the most scenic spot in southeastern Michigan, this trail winds through a never-ending maze of natural countryside, quite evenly divided between forest and open country, with a well-marked terrain that rarely follows a straight line, either horizontal or perpendicular.

"The Overlook,"

The boys are brought by their various troops, well prepared for both outer and inner man. As most of them come from cities, it's an experience they joyfully anticipate, thrill with excitement and manhood building while on it, and which they'll never forget.

Other recreational areas in our county also have good hiking trails, Proud Lake being next in length, up to 15 miles or more. They also are receiving a part of this new out-state patronage.

Scoutmasters and others who accompany the troops here say there is no other area in the United States that has such a variety of healthful hiking that has been developed and made available in such a commendable manner as we now have in Oakland County.

who writes that his only difficulty is that even his best friends do not recognize him. But he adds that it's 50-50, as he can't recognize them.

of Keego Harbor, who has a secret way of annually beating the gun on this delicious fruit.

We're almost persuaded to agree with a letter received from

of Oxford who asserts that every "rotten spring" in his recollection was succeeded by a wonderful summer. And he's quite right in stating that most of us think that every spring is rotten.

In a phone call the other day, of Rochester expressed wonderment at the absence of mosquitoes, but ventured the remark that when they arrive they'll come with a vengeance to make up for any delay.

Mrs. Mildred Brownson

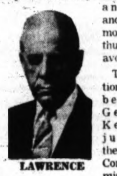
In Lieu of

David Lawrence Says:

Department of Justice Was Tardy

WASHINGTON — Were the so-called "freedom rides" really necessary? Could not the same objective have been accomplished by the Kennedy administration in another way, and could not mob violence thus have been avoided?



LAWRENCE

These questions are asked because Atty. Gen. Robert Kennedy has just petitioned the Interstate Commerce Commission to issue regulations banning segregation in waiting rooms, restrooms and restaurants at bus stations throughout the country.

Why wasn't this approach taken in the first place? Just after the Supreme Court's 1954 decision, the Interstate Commerce Commission in 1955 ruled that segregation of interstate passengers on trains and buses was unlawful.

Since the 1955 regulation was apparently inadequate and didn't cover restaurants or restrooms, it would have been a simple matter for the attorney general to ask for the issuance of a broader regulation and this could have been publicized widely.

Then any "freedom rides" would have been unnecessary because, if there were any violation, it would have been a routine procedure to ask the Federal Court to issue an injunction against those who disregarded the federal regulation.

WASN'T SPECIFIC

The language of the attorney general's petition filed early this week indicates clearly that he finds the 1955 regulation is not detailed enough.

The attorney general says:

"Recent events that have taken place in certain states have disclosed a breakdown of guarantees of nondiscriminatory transportation to passengers in interstate commerce.

"The promulgation of rules and regulations by the Interstate Commerce Commission is necessary to create order out of chaos, to lessen the possibility of mob action further disrupting the free flow of commerce and threatening the safety of passengers, . . . to guarantee to all passengers their rights under the Interstate Commerce Act and to vindicate those rights against inconsistent and unlawful action by state and local authorities.

"The lack of rules and regulations clearly enunciating the rights of all passengers in traveling on interstate motor carriers and clearly setting forth their rights in waiting room facilities, restroom facilities and eating and drinking facilities, has given rise to confusion on the part of the motor carriers as to their duty to their passengers and has contributed, and will continue to contribute, to unrest and civil disorder.

"The Department of Justice has received complaints, and can present evidence, of many instances of discriminatory treatment of passengers on motor carriers in interstate commerce."

All this merely deepens the mystery. Here was a course of action which the federal government might well have taken earlier this year when it first learned that the "freedom riders" were planning an "invasion" of Mississippi and Alabama.

Did the Department of Justice tell the "freedom riders" about it, or did officials here close their eyes to plans for incitement of the populace which was inevitable if the demonstrations were permitted?

It begins to look as if the Department of Justice, which is headed by the President's brother, either did not know what it could do through an Interstate Commerce Commission regulation or hesitated to interfere with the "freedom riders" propaganda plans.

The mere request by the department for such an order would have certainly put the "freedom riders" on the spot, and they might have been prevailed upon to wait for the regular processes of the law to be carried out.

With all the loud talk heard nowadays about "obeying the law" and giving "adherence" to the processes of "law and order," it is surprising that the Department of Justice, knowing of the possibilities of violence, didn't exert itself to prevent the demonstrations of violence at the source.

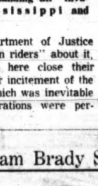
Dr. William Brady Says:

Here Are Books to Read on Natural Childbirth

An actress recently told how she and her husband, upon learning they were to have a baby, not only studied together books about childbirth but together did the daily exercises described and illustrated in Helen Heard-man's Handbook "A Way to Natural Childbirth."



DR. BRADY

So far it sounded like an ideal preparation for the miracle.

But we heard the actress saying it was all a joyous experience except (1) that they strapped her on the delivery table and (2) right after the baby was born the doctor insisted on giving an anesthetic, for they had to put in some stitches.

The poor soul said, somewhat apologetically, that they have regulations in the hospital and you have to abide by them, but next time she's having her baby at home.

Expectant parents may acquire some practical knowledge of prenatal care and maternity and childbirth by studying together the primer "Preparing for Maternity" for which send me 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

An excellent little book, "Childbirth," by Carl H. Davis, M.D., and Donita Ferguson, answers most of the questions expectant parents ask. It is published by Harper.

Prospective parents interested in natural childbirth should read together Dr. Grantly Dick Read's famous "Childbirth Without Fear," published by Harper. I believe Dr. Read has written also an abbreviated description of natural childbirth, but I have not seen a copy.

In natural childbirth, an anesthetic is always ready and the patient may have it whenever she wishes. Usually she doesn't want it — but anyway there it is. In case she changes her mind at any stage of the game.

I attended several cases of natural childbirth long before Dr. Read introduced it in this country. At any rate my patients, one a primipara, bore their babies without pain, or so they assured me when I offered an anesthetic. In the case of the primipara I wondered how much her state of mind had to do with the phenomenon — she was unmarried and determined to keep her plight secret — and she did. So the others childbirth was routine.

Let no smart Alice ask how many babies I have had. All I know about natural childbirth is what I read in books and current medical journals and what women who have borne children in the natural way tell me about it; I have never attended childbirth without anesthesia, except in the few instances where the patient declined to take it.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 150 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady. If a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Jeopardize Future Happiness

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE J-403: Alice G., aged 17, is a pretty high school senior.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I don't know what to do. For the last semester, I've been going steady with a boy named Tom.

DR. CRANE

"Last week, however, he began to make demands on me that I have been taught are wrong.

"When I resisted, he said I was old-fashioned. Then he said he'd jilt me and go with other girls who weren't such 'squares.'

"And he did take another girl to the dance last night, which humiliates me for Tom is supposed to be my steady date.

"Is Tom right? Do all the other girls give in to their boy friends? Are my parents wrong? I'm all confused."

SEX FACTS FOR TEEN-AGERS

No, the smart girls realize that teen-age boys are very eager to feel adultish, or grown-up.

That's why the tobacco advertisers can seduce them so readily, for the advertisers make it look sophisticated or "collegiate" to smoke.

The high schoolers obviously want to be regarded as college men, so they stampede readily into using cigarettes.

The usual boy is not really in love with his female escort when he propositions her. No, he is using her, as he does his cigarette, to make himself feel more important.

He will likewise cast her aside for another coed just as readily as he changes from one brand of cigarettes to another.

MARRY AT 22

Smart girls realize that in our large cities, the modern girl doesn't marry, on the average, until she is about 22, so there is no sense in rushing things.

If the girl goes on to college, those high school romances often become things of the past, anyway, and new romances take their place.

So never be guilty of doing anything that will jeopardize your true marital happiness later on.

What happens when a girl succumbs to the high pressure of her youthful escort as regards premarital sexual indulgences?

(1) She loses her spunk. She becomes shifty-eyed thereafter and is always afraid her boy friend may "tell," especially if he uses liquor. Girls, such a boy usually does tell, too.

(2) She may get gonorrhea. She can also contract syphilis and suffer from both of these venereal diseases, which may render her sterile or even produce insanity, heart disease, etc.

(3) She may get pregnant. Then she will be forced to drop out of school before graduation. She will thus break the hearts of her doting parents who have sacrificed for 16 or 18 years to give her the breaks.

(4) She must either let her baby be adopted elsewhere, or make it suffer by keeping it and thus labeling it as a child of an unwed mother.

These are the major hazards, over and beyond her guilty conscience and the danger of losing the real husband she may later meet and wish to marry.

So send for my booklet "Sex Problems of Teen-Agers," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents. Use it to gain perspective.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long envelope, self-addressed envelope and 20 cents to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

The Press Receives Letter From Sen. Philip A. Hart

Offers Suggestions to Relieve Traffic

Our city commission has done a good job in providing parking lots downtown, but they have done nothing to help the flow of traffic to and from downtown. Traffic congestion to and from downtown is one of the real reasons that people dread driving in the business area.

I offer the following suggestions: (1) Extend E. Huron through to Paddock Street. (2) Extend Warren Street, west to Pine in a northwesterly direction to meet Carter. This would make another exit to Cass Avenue and it would relieve the traffic on W. Huron. (3) Extend S. Johnson south through an open field to Gillespie and if possible all the way to Golf Drive. This would relieve some of the congestion at the Auburn, Saginaw, Orchard Lake intersection. (4) When the second urban renewal project is started, Water Street could be extended west one block to Cass Avenue. This would give another through cross street in the business area and also a fine approach to our civic center.

'Serving Country Helpful to Women'

I was very much interested in your editorial "Why Shouldn't Women Serve Our Country?"

A period of service commensurate with that for men would be a wonderful step forward. Women would be rendering their country a service and broadening their own education. Many women, who never leave their home communities, even though they go to college, have the minds of gnats when it comes to human relationships.

My "service to my country" was the most valuable experience I ever had. It opened my eyes and a period of service immediately after graduation from high school would be a wonderful thing for girls. It would help get rid of some of the snobbery, narrow-mindedness, intolerance and ignorance.

'Price of Liberty Has Not Changed'

In order to place present events in their proper perspective, it is necessary to review earlier happenings.

To some Thomas Jefferson is known by these famous words. "Rebellion to tyrants is obedience to God," or as the philosopher who had "sworn upon the altar of God, eternal hostility against every form of tyranny over the mind of man."

When our nation was born, our forefathers fostered a child of freedom upon whose life was served perpetual devotion toward the freedom of all mankind. Open hostility and rebellion against any people who by immoral government process seek to usurp any lawful government or institute upon them unlawful seizure of certain human rights. Liberty has been purchased by the red blood of earlier Americans.

All 61 Aboard Died in Dutch Airliner Crash Off Portugal

LISBON, Portugal (AP) — High tide was expected to wash more bodies and wreckage ashore today from a Dutch-Venezuelan airliner in which all 61 persons aboard were killed.

The four-engine jet crashed on a storm-swept Atlantic beach early Tuesday soon after taking off from Lisbon for the Azores. The plane had come from Rome and Madrid, leased by the Venezuelan airline Viasa from KLM.

There were no Americans aboard.

One American, William Aydelotte, had reservations to take the plane. Aydelotte, a former resident of Chicago, told a reporter. "I felt so good in Lisbon last night that I thought I'd wait for the next plane."

He said he still planned to fly on to the Azores.

Flint Man Is Slain Preparing Barbecue

FLINT (AP) — Lloyd Buck, 35, was shot to death Tuesday as he prepared a barbecue for some friends. His wife Ruby, 37, is held for investigation of murder.

Police said Buck was cooking in a vacant lot near his home when a woman drove up in an auto and began firing a pistol at him. He was shot several times.

Police said Mrs. Buck surrendered later. The couple had quarreled frequently, officers said.

Michigan forests do not yield so anymore. But smaller, fast-growing boxboard, for pallets, posts, and much lumber as formerly; and big types now give the state the raw crating material, and for literally timber trees are less often cut material necessary for paper and dozens of similar items.

LOW PRICE IS ONLY HALF THE STORY

(The other—and even more satisfying—half you'll discover the first time you drive a Corvair!)

And when we say "low price," we mean more than merely the pint-sized figure on the window sticker of a new Corvair. You're going to be saving like sixty on gas. And on the antifreeze you won't buy next winter, and the radiator repairs you'll never have to pay for. About the only things Corvair doesn't skimp on are room, smoothness, style and pure driving joy. But that's the other half of the story. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about it soon!

Dues Exemption Beaten

OTTAWA (AP)—A proposal to delete a plan exempting United States lake vessels from compulsory pilotage dues on a Canadian section of the St. Lawrence Seaway met defeat in parliament Sunday.

Pickup in Jobs Will Continue

Labor Dept. Reports Rise Started in March Going On to Mid-July

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Labor Department reported today that a gradual employment pickup begun in March is expected to continue at least to mid-July.

The department's Bureau of Employment Security said its May survey of labor market trends show that employers in about two-thirds of the nation's 150 major industrial centers expect further slight seasonal employment gains into midsummer.

EXPECT MORE GAINS

The May job totals were due to be released in midafternoon. A further rise in employment, and decline in unemployment, were expected. Farm employment, kept down by heavy spring rains, is due to show some increase. Unemployment normally drops by over 250,000 from April.

The Employment Security Bureau's report indicated that job recovery is moving along faster than it did after the 1958 recession.

The bureau said unemployment has been declining in practically all major job areas, with the improvement in 10 of them sufficient to warrant promotion to more favorable ratings.

State of Delaware Wins With No Traffic Deaths

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—The state of Delaware went through the Memorial Day weekend without a single fatal traffic accident, officials reported today.

State police had announced in advance they would use every available man, use radar and patrol the highways with aircraft to stop speeding.

Beauty Queen Jumps From Fiery Float

NEW BRITAIN, Conn. (AP)—Miss New Britain's ride in the city's Memorial Day parade came to a fiery end when a bystander threw a firecracker at a float carrying the beauty contest winner, Marcia Michlowski.

The float, made of crepe paper and other inflammable material, quickly went up in flames. Miss Michlowski, attired in an evening gown, jumped into the arms of a fireman. She was uninjured.

Charged With Assault, Judge Says: Innocent

He had punched an unidentified neighbor in the nose. Arias testified that his neighbor and a friend had been playing the guitar and singing for three days.

"I don't blame you," said Judge Lawrence Lang in finding Arias innocent. "I couldn't have put up with it that long, myself."

Two Admit Door Theft; to Be Sentenced June 12

Sentence will be passed June 12 by Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero on two men who Monday confessed to stealing five doors and molding from a house under construction at 149 Beverly Ave.

Pleading guilty when arraigned were Richard G. Dory, 30, of Detroit, and Clyde H. Buckner, 36, of 115 Maudlin St., Novi Township.

in Charge of Assault Man Pleads Innocent

William N. Shubert, accused of the armed assault of another man outside a Waterford Township restaurant in January, reappeared in Circuit Court Monday and pleaded innocent.

Shubert, 28, of 43½ Baldwin Ave., had been remanded back to a lower court after having stood mute to assault with intent to rob while armed of Otis Pillsbury, 43, of 166 Strathmore Ave.

A GIFT FROM MR. K — Elaine Williams of Jacksonville, Fla., age 10, wrote a letter to Nikita Khrushchev asking him to send her a doll from Russia. If he would she would send one from the United States to his niece. She also said in her letter that she was doing this hoping for peace between the two countries. Mr. K sent this wooden doll with a letter of thanks.

Flames Destroy Old Straits Hotel

ST. IGNACE (AP)—A midnight fire destroyed the old Nicolet Hotel Tuesday night, wiping out a landmark of the Straits of Mackinac area.

The spectacular blaze, visible for miles, lit up the waters of the Straits.

The hotel, being prepared for the tourist trade, was unoccupied. There were no casualties although two firemen were treated for smoke inhalation.

An offshore west wind served to protect nearby buildings of St. Ignace's downtown district. Otherwise, the city might have met with a disaster, firemen said.

An explosion, believed caused by accumulated heat from the fire, blew out windows of the three-story frame and concrete block building.

No. 2 dock on the Straits was ignited but firemen quickly extinguished that blaze.

TOURISTS WATCH

Hundreds of spectators, among them early-season tourists, watched about 35 firemen battle towering flames. It was St. Ignace's worst fire in years.

Firemen from Cheboygan and Mackinaw City aided the St. Ignace department in the battle.

Fire Chief Leonard St. Louis of St. Ignace said the damage might run from $75,000 to $100,000.

The fire apparently started in the hotel barroom and spread quickly, St. Louis said.

The hotel owner, Mrs. Alice Warren of St. Ignace, said the cause of the fire was not determined. She said the building had been locked after workers left.

Mrs. Warren and her late husband Gordon had owned the hotel together. He drowned in a Straits boating mishap a few years ago.

Glee Club at Harvard Picks President's Son

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (AP) — The Harvard Glee Club has a leaning toward relatives of the university president when it comes to choosing the head of their group.

James R. Pusey, a junior, was elected Glee Club president recently. He's a son of Dr. Nathan M. Pusey, president of Harvard.

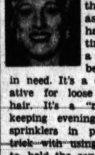
Friend in Need



What can hair spray do for you? If you need the extra assist of a hair - setting lotion, a spray can be a friend in need. It's a quick fixative for loose fly-away hair. It's a "must" for keeping evening stardust sprinklers in place. The trick with using spray is to hold the container far enough away from the hair. Placing directly next to the hair causes too much concentration and saturation.

Hair spray may be the immediate answer to keep your hair under control, but tinting will add a bit of extra glamour. Betty LeCornu Hair Fashions, 5780 Dixie Highway, Waterford. ORlando 4-1922. 1062 W. Huron Street, Pontiac. FEderal 8-8231.

'Gifts' for Tractors May Be Tax Exempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — Announcement of a controversial tax exemption for donations to the Tractors for Freedom Committee has been delayed because of congressional criticism.

Mortimer M. Caplin, commissioner of internal revenue, said today the IRS won't issue an opinion until its position has been studied by the Senate-House Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation.

OKAY EXPECTED

Caplin, in an interview, would not say what sort of decision will be made. However, other sources gave strong indications that Caplin intends to grant the tax exemption.

The IRS chief is expected to act by the end of the week. His opinion will be in the form of a letter to the tractor committee and will state that an exemption will be granted if the group meets a number of legal conditions.

The committee was formed to try to win freedom for 1,200 Cuban invasion prisoners.

The committee would buy 500 tractors which would be delivered to Cuba in exchange for the prisoners.

President Kennedy has called for public support of the program which is privately sponsored.

Kennedy has said that "tax exemption is granted as a matter of course to any 'charitable' organization engaged in the rehabilitation and assistance of needy refugees."

Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., vice chairman of the Senate-House committee, last week questioned the legality of granting the fund-raising organization a tax exemption.

"A ruling of this kind would be a distortion of existing regulations," Byrd said. "This is not charity, it is blackmail."

Former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and most congressional Republicans have been sharply critical of the proposed tractors-for-prisoners trade. They also have called it backmail by Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Baby Killed, 4 Hurt in State Car Crash

WAYLAND (UPI) — A 2-year-old Wyoming boy was killed today and four others in his family suffered injuries, state police said, in a traffic mishap on U.S. 131.

Officers said Steven English was killed when the northbound family car went out of control about five miles north of Wayland, struck a culvert and overturned.

Reported in fair condition at St. Mary's Hospital in Grand Rapids were the boy's father Charles, 23; his mother Janette, 19, and their two other sons, Jacob, 1, and Jeffery, 6 months.

Fight Japan Police

TOKYO (UPI) — Leftist students opposing government plans to curb political violence battled police here and in Kyoto Tuesday in clashes in which 57 students and 21 policemen were injured.

Youth, 19, on Probation Told to Stop Drinking

Arthur Thomas, 19, was placed on probation for two years, ordered to pay court costs and $294 restitution, and told to stop drinking, by Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero Monday.

Although a minor, Thomas, of 76 Florida St., admitted to the judge he got in scrapes with the law "several times" after he'd been drinking.

* * *

He pleaded guilty May 16 to taking a car from his employer, the Auto Reconditioning Service Shop, 138 S. Saginaw St., and damaging it.

FALSE TEETH That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor breath". Get FASTEETH at drug counters everywhere.

Cooking on Board Can Be Challenge to Meet

The time Americans will spend on board their craft this summer is precious time, too valued to waste slaving in the galley even though appetites will soar from the stimulation of fresh air and water-cooled breezes.

The answer to the problem, then, is to cook hearty but cut corners where you can. No matter how small your galley space, stock it as well as possible with reliable staples and some fresh onions and green peppers for multiple uses. Canned foods are a boon; also be sure to carry a few versatile seasonings with which you can perform wonders. Along with staples such as salt and sugar, stock that small but essential bottle of Tabasco.

This liquid red pepper seasoning, used in economical amounts, will enhance such varied foods as tomato and vegetable juices, breakfast eggs and sandwich fillings, to say nothing of seaworthy main dishes such as the Captain's Special and First Mate's Reprieve.

The Captain's Special is a delicious all-in-one skillet dinner based on popular Swiss Steak, taking advantage of the occasions when you will boast fresh meat aboard. Canned soup, luncheon meat and cannelini beans go into First Mate's Reprieve, making a hearty main dish for lunch or supper. This is especially comforting during poor weather!

Captain's Special

2 pounds round or rump steak (1½ inches thick)
Instant meat tenderizer
2 tablespoons salad oil
1 can (1 pound) tomatoes
2 onions, sliced
1½ teaspoons salt
½ teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon sugar
2 cans (12 ounces each) whole kernel corn
1 green pepper, sliced

Trim excess fat from steak. Sprinkle tenderizer on meat according to package directions. Brown steak well, about 10 minutes on each side, in salad oil in heavy skillet. Add tomatoes, onions, salt, Tabasco and sugar; cover and simmer 45 minutes or until fork tender. Add corn and garnish with green pepper. Simmer 10 minutes or until heated through.

Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

First Mate's Reprieve

½ teaspoon curry powder
½ teaspoon Tabasco
½ teaspoon salt
1 can (10½ ounces) cream of mushroom soup
Milk
1 can (12 ounces) luncheon meat, cubed
1 can (26 ounces) cannelini beans, drained

Blend curry powder, Tabasco and salt with cream of mushroom soup. Stir in ½ soup can of milk; heat. Add luncheon meat and cannelini beans; reheat. Garnish with diced green pepper, parsley or chives, if desired.

Yield: 4 to 6 servings.

ON BOARD—Two live savers for the galley slave. First Mate's Reprieve, using canned soup, luncheon meat and beans in a hearty one-dish meal, and the Captain's Special, a sea-going version of Swiss Steak.

You Eat Penicillium in Blue Cheese!

The color — or delicate marbling — in blue cheese is Penicillium Roqueforti.

It has a peppery taste which gives the cheese the characteristic piquant flavor for which it is known, according to Barbara Blue, home economics director of the American Blue Cheese Association.

The temperature, air currents and humidity found in aging facilities effectively promote the growth of the agent. Most American blue cheese is aged longer than foreign-made cheeses of the same type, usually 90 days and in some cases as long as 150 days.

American blue cheese, which is made from cow's milk, is available at reasonable prices in supermarkets and other stores that sell cheese.

Banana Kebobs Are Delicious, Unusual

It's almost time—for a favorite time—that's barbecue time with all the fun of eating outdoors. If you have never made Banana Kebobs, don't fail to add them to the favorites that just taste better when they are cooked on a grill.

Banana Kebobs

Allow per each skewer ¼ lb. of hamburger meat, 1 strip of bacon cut into 2 pieces, ½ green pepper, ½ red pepper and one banana cut into thirds, and melted butter or margarine for brushing kebobs before placing on grill.

Alternate chunks of banana on skewer with pieces of sweet red and green pepper and meatballs wrapped in bacon. Brush all kebobs with butter. Grill until bacon is crisp, peppers are tender and meat and bananas are browned.

Fragrant Tang of Cinnamon Spices Food

"When should ground cinnamon be used and when whole stick cinnamon?" This often puzzles young homemakers, but the answer is quite simple.

Use ground cinnamon in all baked things, of course; in cakes, cookies, pies, breads. Use it also on ever-popular cinnamon toast and as a dusting over whipped cream fluffs or the meringues of floating island pudding.

Stick cinnamon should be used to flavor a clear liquid such as pickling vinegar or the syrup of a fruit compote. It's ideal in marinades and in certain soup stocks, in fruit butters, jams, jellies and preserves. It takes at least 10 to 15 minutes of simmer-heat to release the full aroma of stick cinnamon, but longer cooking doesn't affect the delightful flavor.

This is a spice which has been in demand for thousands of years. It is, in fact, the greatest of sweet spices, used all over the world. Twenty-seven species of Cinnamomum have economic value, but the most important are Cinnamomum cassia and cinnamomum zeylanicum. American cooks prefer the more pronounced aroma of "cassia," while the very mild, buff-colored Ceylon cinnamon is preferred in Mexico and certain other parts of the world.

Cinnamon is famous in the dessert realm, but the world's cooks have discovered many other delightful uses for this bark. The Pennsylvania Dutch love sliced ripe tomatoes showered with sugar and cinnamon, eating this dish as a relish. The Greeks poke a stick or two of cinnamon into a beef and onion stew which is famous for flavor.

The Chinese mix ground cinnamon with star anise, fennel, cloves and Chinese pepper to make "five fragrant spices", a blend they use in many main dishes. Some of the best curries in India start with bits of wide cinnamon. There are endless ways of adding savor to even the simplest dishes with cinnamon and other spices.

Molded Cinnamon Cream

2 sticks cinnamon, 2" long
1½ cups light cream
1 cup sugar
1 envelope unflavored gelatine
¼ cup cold water
1 cup sour cream
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
Fresh, frozen or canned fruit

Heat together for 10 minutes cinnamon, light cream and sugar. Soften gelatine in cold water and stir into hot cream mixture. Cool and chill until mixture begins to thicken. Remove cinnamon. Beat sour cream until of smooth, fluffy consistency. Fold into the mixture along with pure vanilla extract.

Turn into oiled individual molds or into an oiled 1-quart mold. Chill until firm and ready to serve. Unmold and serve with fresh, frozen or canned fruit. Yield: 6 servings.

Cinnamon-Chocolate Squares

½ teaspoon soda
½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
½ cup shortening, softened
⅔ cup sugar
2 squares (2-ounces) unsweetened chocolate
1 egg
1¼ cups sifted all-purpose flour
¾ cup buttermilk or sour milk

Blend soda, cinnamon, salt and pure vanilla extract with softened shortening. Gradually blend in sugar. Melt chocolate in a custard cup over hot water and add. Beat in egg. Add flour alternately with milk. Beat batter ½ minute. Turn into a well-greased, lightly floured 8x8x2-inch pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 F.) 40 minutes or until a toothpick inserted in center comes out clean. Cool in pan 10 minutes. Turn out onto a wire rack to finish cooling. When cold, ice with Cinnamon-Chocolate Fudge Frosting. Cut into square or 24 pieces.

Cinnamon - Chocolate Frosting

½ teaspoon ground cinnamon
¼ cup butter or margarine, softened
1 teaspoon pure vanilla extract
1 square (1-ounce) unsweetened chocolate, melted
2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
¼ cup commercial sour cream

Blend cinnamon with softened butter or margarine, pure vanilla extract, and melted chocolate. Add confectioners' sugar alternately with sour cream. Beat until of smooth spreading consistency. Yield: Sufficient frosting for top of one 8-inch square cake.

Molded Cheese Salad Filled With Vegetables

Now that the weatherman is predicting warmer weather it is a perfect time to treat your friends to a tasty cold luncheon platter. This might include Spring Beauty Salad, cold cooked asparagus wrapped in thinly sliced boiled ham, assorted relishes, jellied Madrilene topped with sour cream and assorted muffins—either your own or from your favorite bakery.

This Spring Beauty Salad can be served as a main dish salad since it is rich in milk's high quality protein, minerals and vitamins. Along with its nourishing feature, this salad has another plus—it can be prepared well in advance of serving time and quickly unmolded and garnished just before the meal. To the busy hostess this is so important for hospitable informal entertaining.

Not to be overlooked is Spring Beauty Salad in individual molds served with dinner. A perfect compliment to an entree of baked ham or roast beef.

Spring Beauty Salad

¼ cup flour
½ teaspoon salt
2 teaspoons dry mustard
1 tablespoon plus 1 teaspoon unflavored gelatin
2 cups milk
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
¼ cup finely crumbled Blue cheese
1 cup finely sliced cucumber
¼ cup thin sliced green pepper strips
¼ cup thin pimiento strips
2 tablespoons minced onion
Salad greens

Combine flour, salt, mustard and gelatin in heavy saucepan. Gradually stir in milk. Cook and stir over low heat until thegresulting sauce is thick and smooth. Cool until slightly thickened, then add mayonnaise or salad dressing and blend well. Fold in cheese, well drained cucumber, green pepper, pimiento and onion.

Pour into a 3½-cup mold or 6 to 8 individual molds and chill until firm. Unmold on a salad plate and garnish with salad greens, cooked asparagus spears wrapped in ham, radish roses, celery and carrot sticks. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

When you see potatoes called "Dutchess" on a restaurant menu, you'll find that the vegetable will be mashed with eggs added and that these are often put through a pastry tube and served with broiled meat or fish.

SPRING BEAUTY SALAD — Your luncheon can be served on one platter when you have a molded cheese salad. Asparagus and ham rolls complete the main course with radishes, celery and carrot sticks for nibble food. It's all good nutritious eating.

Foil Serves as Grill for Frankfurters

Ever been caught without the equipment for barbecuing — or needed more space than your present barbecue provides? There's an easy solution, and one that lets you barbecue on trips without carrying bulky grills in your car, as well!

The answer lies in a roll of heavy duty aluminum foil and a small supply of charcoal briquets. You'll need a package of frozen frankfurts, if traveling, which will be thawed and ready for cooking by the time you're ready to eat. If you're barbecuing in your back yard, just let the frankfurts come to room temperature before cooking.

If you place the "broiler" in grass . . . protect the grass with flat stones or bricks. If at the beach or in a sandy area, lay one piece of aluminum foil, about two feet long, on the ground. Start your charcoal fire on this foil and allow the briquets to burn until gray, through and through.

Lay a second piece of foil, the same size as the first, directly on the briquets, and you're ready to barbecue! Place the frankfurts on top of the foil, and grill until golden brown. They're delicious!

The entire "instant" barbecue can then be rolled up and thrown away in one package, when cool.

Lots of Broilers for Barbecuing

Outdoor eating will be more enjoyable this year because of large supplies of broilers, says the Marketing Information Agent, Mrs. Josephine Lawyer.

For the outdoor barbecue select broiler halves weighing about one pound each. Place the halves over a hot, non-flaming fire.

Baste broilers with barbecue sauce each time they are turned. Basting should be light in the beginning and more liberal nearer the end of the cooking period.

A broiler will barbecue in about an hour, depending on the heat of the fire and size of the broiler half. Test to see if the bird is done by pulling the wing or leg away from the body.

New! PIZZA with SAUSAGE

Zippy, Italian-style Sausage Meat in pizza sauce. A great new pizza treat loaded with sausage. It's peppier. Richer. Each bite has that exciting sausage-pizza flavor.

You'll be the most-est pizza-party hostess when you serve this new treat from Chef Boy-Ar-Dee. Enjoy it for only pennies a serving.

COMPLETE IN ONE PACKAGE

Both Pizzas are super. Chef Boy-Ar-Dee Pizza—America's most popular—and the new Pizza with Sausage—each includes cheese. Try both.

CHEF BOY-AR-DEE® PIZZA with SAUSAGE

Main Dish Pie Has Cheese Base

Tempting to the eye, delicious to the taste, and truly nourishing. That's "Chee-Tomato Egg Pie", an economical new main dish with a rich, country flavor derived from wholesome eggs, milk and tomato blended with crumbled inch-square cheese crackers and seasonings.

An ideal choice for a buffet or any meal, "Chee-Tomato Egg Pie" will win you compliments as a really fine cook. Here's how to make it:

"Chee-Tomato Egg Pie"

1 tablespoon butter
¾ cup finely crushed, cheese crackers
1 tomato, peeled and sliced
1 teaspoon chopped chive
1 teaspoon chopped parsley
4 eggs, hard cooked
½ teaspoon salt
4 eggs, well beaten
1½ cups milk
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper

Generously butter a 9" pie plate, 2" deep. Sprinkle ¼ cup of crackers over bottom. Lay tomato slices on top of crackers; sprinkle with chives and parsley. Slice eggs crosswise.

Cover tomato slices with alternate layers of sliced egg and remaining cracker crumbs, sprinkling each egg layer with salt. Combine remaining ingredients; pour over all.

Bake in moderate oven (350 F.) 35 minutes, or until custard is firm in center. Serve hot. Makes 6-8 servings.

Always Something New to Report About Food

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Let's take time out and look over some of the new food products that have come out recently.

The newest one we've had is a TV dinner containing French fried shrimp, French fried potatoes and green peas. By heating it with the foil folded back from the fish and potatoes, they become crisp.

Baby gets a new treat for breakfast with Strained Ham and Egg Yolks. The junior variety of this dish contains whole egg and bits of bacon for the child to chew on.

It has long been a worry to dentists that children are so fond of sweet things. A new sweet drink is on the market that should satisfy both youngsters and the guardians of their teeth.

The new instant chocolate drink mix is sweetened without sugar. Nonfat dry milk solids are combined with a medium fat cocoa and artificial sweetening. The mix is instantly soluble in hot or cold milk or water. When made with water, an 8-ounce glass has only 78 calories; this should make it appealing to adult dieters.

Now there's a pizza mix that comes complete with sausage. There's enough flour mix for the dough, sauce with sausage and grated cheese to make a pizza serving 5 people.

Millers of one nationally known brand of flour are making life easier for Mrs. Homemaker. Their flour is sifted through micro-fine silk before it leaves the mill. It need not be sifted again for any recipe. You have to use one level tablespoon less per cup than ordinary recipes call for.

We had a sample bag of this flour. There was a definite difference in the feel of it; it was softer and silkier than most flour.

Brides will welcome a new recipe booklet titled, "Bride's Guide to Cooking for Two." For that matter, anyone who has to cook for two will appreciate the small recipes. It's available by sending your name, address and 25 cents to "Bride's Guide," Dept. E-3, Box 6168, Chicago 80, Illinois. The booklet is put out by the Evaporated Milk Association.

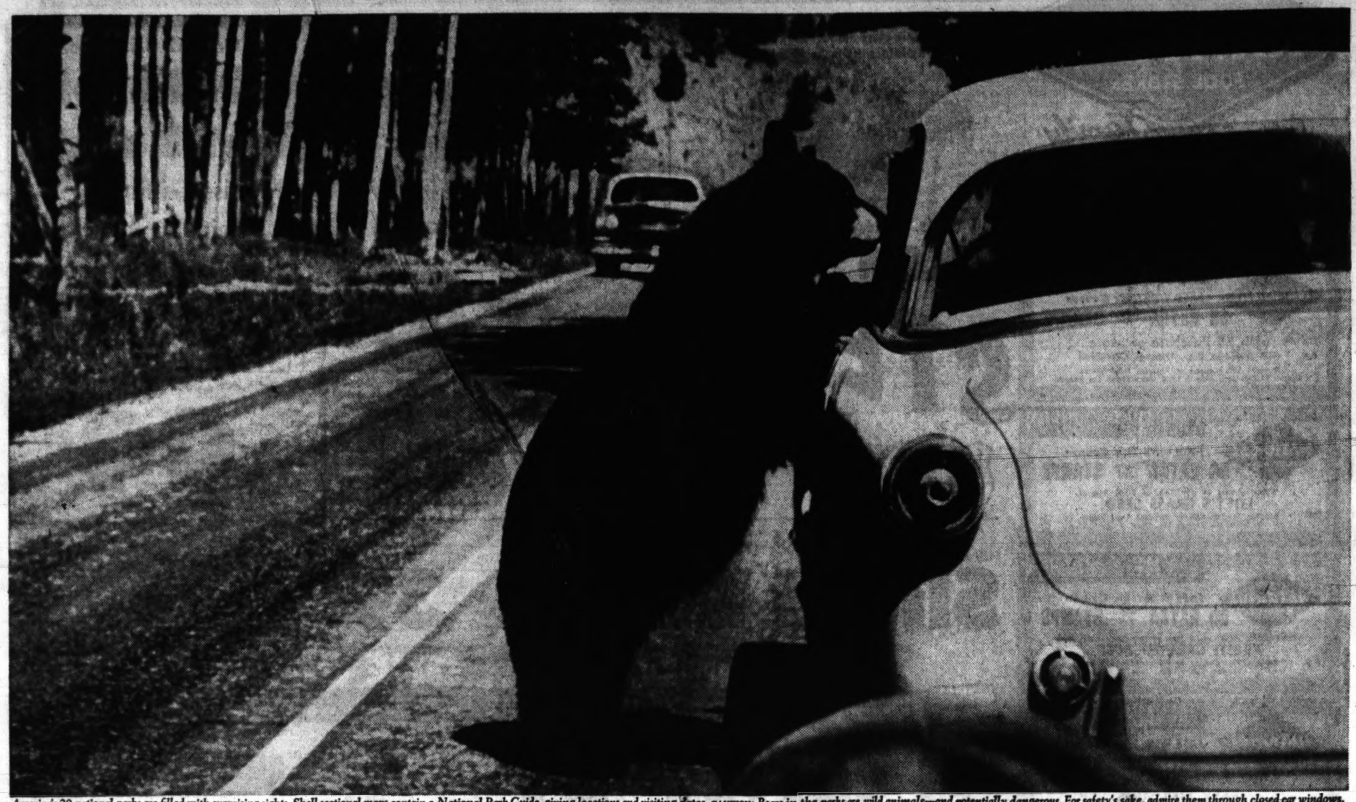
NATIONAL SERVING YOU BETTER NATIONAL SAVING YOU MORE NATIONAL SERVING YOU BETTER NATIONAL SAVING YOU MORE NATIONAL



America's 29 national parks are filled with surprising sights. Shell sectional maps contain a National Park Guide, giving locations and visiting dates. CAUTION: Bears in the parks are wild animals—and potentially dangerous. For safety's sake, admire them through closed car windows.

How Shell's free Touring Service can help you have the time of your life on your vacation

You can also get a free, personalized Shell Touring Service Package. It's crammed with information that will make your trip more fun. Read what this Package contains—and how to get one.

MAKE THIS promise to your family: This summer, discover some of those places that you've always meant to visit, but never have.

Shell Touring Service will help you keep your promise.

The first thing to do is to clip the coupon at the right for your free Shell book of travel tips. It has 50 pages of helpful tips ranging from the care and feeding of children to the care and feeding of cars.

Then tell your Shell Dealer where you want to go. He'll send a special travel information request card to the nearest of 15 Shell Touring Centers.

A team of touring experts then assembles your free Touring Package. It will be ready in about two weeks. Your Shell Dealer will notify you when to come in for it.

A choice of routes

1. The Shell touring experts plot a choice of routes for you—the fastest or the most scenic. The routes are clearly marked with a broad, green line. So you don't strain your eyes hunting for them.

2. The routes are plotted from your starting point to your destination and back home again. Surely you do want to return a different way.

NOTE: Your routing is based on the latest information. However, construction work can cross you up. Keep checking with Shell Dealers when you're on the road. They usually know what's happening up ahead.

Up-to-date maps

3. Your trip is charted on up-to-date, full-color maps. If you're driving through more than one state, you'll be guided on a sectional map that covers the whole trip.

4. Shell's touring experts are now developing something new: strip maps. Two are now available. New York to Miami. Chicago to New Orleans. They'll include them in your personal Touring Package if you're traveling between those cities.

The strip maps show a choice of routes—direct, scenic, historic. Cumulative mileage is indicated. The entire routing is shown on one page. No more turning endless pages to find your place.

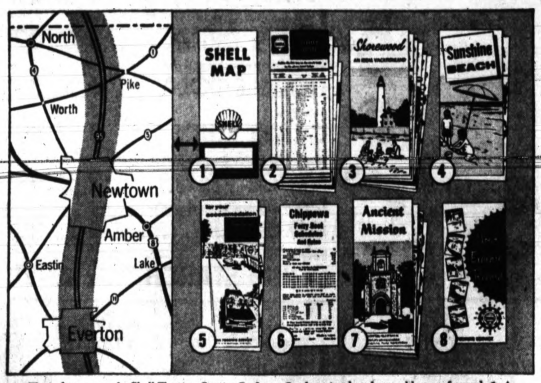
NOTE: The mileage boosters in today's Super Shell help shrink travel expenses. One of them, TCP additive, can give many cars up to 17 extra miles per tankful. An important plus when you're trying to cut costs.*

6. Turnpikes, toll roads, and freeways are unmistakably identified.

7. Populations of all towns are indicated.



Typical contents of a Shell Touring Service Package. 8. Shell maps contain an index of cities for quick reference.

9. Street maps of major cities en route are included in your Touring Package.

10. State parks, and national parks and monuments are shown. Parks with and without camp sites are properly noted.

11. Ferryboat lines are marked. A junket on the water can cut miles out of your trip. It also provides a delightful change of pace.

Accommodations

12. Your personal Touring Package contains sources for lodging and dining information—to help you select accommodations that suit you to a T.

An expense record

13. Shell's touring experts send you a useful, three-part record for daily expenses. Part one is for personal expenses. Part two is for normal car expenses. Part three is a record for accessories, repairs, and a grand total of expenses for the entire trip.

NOTE: An excellent way to help reduce expenses on the road is to have your Shell Dealer give your car a complete Shellubrication before you leave. Include an oil change to new Shell X-100* Premium Motor Oil. This will help you get top performance.

What to see

14. Shell's touring experts have intelligence reports on parks, beaches, cities, historic churches, monuments, and museums you can see en route. These pointers are included in your personal Touring Package.

Shell Dealers can also give you inside tips on what to look for. And, of course, they have today's Super Shell with 9 ingredients—to give your car top performance.

Super Shell's 9 ingredients for top performance

Super Shell now contains 2 octane boosters, 1 mileage booster, 1 quick-start component, 1 fast warm-up ingredient, 1 anti-knock mix, 1 gum preventive, 1 anti-icer, and new, improved TCP. These 9 ingredients work together to give your car top performance.

Summer Sun Shines on Betrothals and Weddings

The Earl Taylors of Clarkston announce the engagement of their daughter Diane Ray to John G. Harken Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Harken of Old Orchard Drive.

DIANE RAY TAYLOR

The Carl A. Wagners of Waterford Township announce the engagement of their daughter Judith Grace to Gary E. Hagen, son of Mrs. Lenora Hagen of Monroe and Edwin Hagen of Temperance. Both attend Western Michigan University. Fall vows are planned.

JUDITH GRACE WAGNER

The Edson F. Halls of West Brooklyn Avenue announce the engagement of their daughter Anita Louise to Kenneth V. Geeck, son of the Kenneth P. Geecks of Baldwin Avenue.

ANITA LOUISE HALL

August vows are planned by Mary Karol Miller of Milford, daughter of the Herbert J. Millers of East Lansing, to Gerald M. Breen, son of the Quirinus D. Breens of Berwick Boulevard. Both are graduates of Michigan State University.

MARY KAROL MILLER

Patricia Mae Hoyes Repeats Nuptial Vows

The Wisconsin Dells is the honeymoon destination of Norman T. Smith and his bride, the former Patricia Mae Hoyes of Monticello Avenue. They exchanged rings and vows Saturday evening in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church with Rev. Theodore Allebach officiating.

Daughter of Mrs. Margaret Hoyes of Pensacola Avenue and Francy Hoyes of Wixom, the bride wore white nylon embroidered organza and lace. A double Swedish crown of seed pearls and sequins caught her bouffant veil.

Nosegays of white carnations and pink rosebuds complemented pale turquoise silk organza over taffeta for honor matron Mrs. James Waldo and Phyllis J. Burt, bridesmaid. Their headbands were Dior bows.

Robert D. Smith ushered at his brother's wedding. Also ushering were James L. Weber of Milford and Richard G. Turner of Detroit. Charles A. Roth of Saginaw was best man.

MRS. NORMAN T. SMITH

Annual Convent Ball Slated for June 9

The 11th annual candlelight ball for the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Bloomfield Hills, will be at the Latin Quarter, Detroit, on June 9.

The evening, for graduates, will begin with a reception for the girls and their escorts at the convent. At the Latin Quarter parents will join the couples in a receiving line. A midnight supper will be served.

After the ball the honorees and their dates will go to the Birmingham home of the Judge Beardens and their daughter Susan for breakfast.

Drayton Plains Couple Weds at Lady of Lakes

Attendants in coral organza, carrying cascades of green Fuji chrysanthemums and frosted grapes, preceded Nancy Jean Stuart to the altar in Our Lady of the Lakes Church Saturday, where Rev. F. J. Delaney solemnized her vows to James A. Larkin.

Mrs. Ian MacGillivray was her sister's honor matron. Her cousins Kathy and Betsy Seebold and Joan McKinnon were bridesmaids. Kathy Larkin of Dayton, Ohio, in white organdy with coral cummerbund, held a basket of white rose petals and myrtle leaves.

A crystal rosary, gift of her grandmother, entwined white orchids, stephanotis and ivy on a white Bible, gift of the bridegroom.

BROTHER IS BEST MAN

David Larkin stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Leo W. Larkins of Drayton Plains. Ushers were Thomas Truscott, Lansing; Robert Sippell, Port Huron, and Jerry Baumler of Hillsdale.

MRS. JAMES A. LARKIN

Abby Says: Read a Book

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have been invited to a Catholic wedding but my husband doesn't want to go because he says we will have to go through all that crossing and kneeling, and we aren't Catholics.

I say that non-Catholics are not expected to do that. Who is right?

Also, we were recently invited to a Jewish wedding and we passed that up because someone told my husband that all the men had to break their glasses. What about that?

ABBY

INFORMATION PLEASE

DEAR INFORMATION: Non-Catholics are not expected to kneel and cross themselves. And at a Jewish wedding, the groom breaks a GLASS (not his glasses!).

There is little excuse for knowing so little about another person's religion. Ask any clergyman (or librarian) for an enlightening book on the subject.

DEAR ABBY: I am a mother-in-law who needs you to set her straight. My son married a girl whom I love very much. She is very close to her own mother, who lives near us.

I try to let the young people live their own lives, but my daughter-in-law practically lives with her mother. They are together day and night.

The young couple is always over at her mother's. All holidays are spent there. They are expecting a baby and the wife's mother is gathering the baby things at her home, evidently expecting to take full charge of it.

I know I am jealous, but I can't help it. Let me have it, Abby.

"THE OTHER MOM"

DEAR "MOM": If you can diagnose your own case (jealousy), you can heal yourself. Let your daughter-in-law do as she wishes. It's natural for a girl to gravitate toward her own mother.

When she matures a little more, she will become as considerate of your feelings as you are of hers. Patience, Mom.

DEAR ABBY: There is a young couple in our building who has aroused our suspicions. He clerks during the day, and on weekends he plays band jobs out of town. His wife is a real looker. Every weekend when he goes out of town to play these band jobs, she goes with him.

We wives say that she goes with him because she can't trust him away from home. Our husbands say that he takes her along because he can't trust HER home alone.

We would like to know your opinion, please.

THE FOLKS IN THE BUILDING

DEAR FOLKS: Isn't there a chance that she goes with him because she wants to be with him—and he encourages her because he wants her there?

DEAR ABBY: It sure enough burns me up to hear the way some of those Yankees make fun of the way we Southerners talk. When we say, "You all," we mean "All of you." No Southerner would ever say what that lady from Brooklyn said to the man from Virginia — "Drop dead, you all" — unless she meant for everyone in Virginia to drop dead. If she can't talk properly, she should hush up her mouth.

FROM GEORGIA AND PROUD OF IT

Will Speak on African Problems

Her first public appearance in Michigan since returning from Africa will be made by Mrs. G. Mennen Williams from 1 to 3 p.m. June 8 at the Bloomfield Hills home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard H. McNeill.

Oakland County women are being invited to participate in Mrs. Williams' reception, sponsored by the Democratic Women of Oakland County.

Mrs. Williams will tell of her trip to Africa and her own impressions of that area's need for more education, health programs and trained personnel.

Through an admission fee, sponsors of the reception expect to raise funds for the Oakland County Democratic Committee's use.

Mrs. Williams and her husband, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, will return to Africa later this month.

Odetta to Lead Off Art Festival's Events

Nationally known folk singer Odetta will open the eight nights of events scheduled in the Birmingham Arts Festival's geodesic dome June 17-24.

Dome Activities Committee Chairman Dean Coffin announced today that the popular and versatile singer will appear at Shain Park in downtown Birmingham at 8:40 p.m., June 17 and 18.

She will lead off a week-long schedule that includes drama, poetry, film classics, a gourmet matinee and a daytime production for children. It ends with a two-night jazz concert.

An honors-winning dramatic production will follow Odetta Monday, June 19, when the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild presents "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," by William Inge. The theatre group's production was adjudged the best show in the recent drama festival held by the Detroit-Windsor Theatre Council.

The famous bagpipers of the Essex and Kent Scottish Pipe Band and the colorful Ukrainian Bandurists Chorus will step onto the dome's platform June 20. Both groups are noted for their interpretation of music of their native lands.

The 35-man Bandurist Chorus which gets is name from the Ukrainian national instrument, the bandura, has been called "the most professional chorus in the world."

COMEDY FILM

Featured June 21 will be "The Golden Age of Comedy," a film reviewing the art and the humor of the immortal clowns of pioneer filmdom such as Harold Lloyd and Charlie Chaplin.

Poetry takes the stage June 22, when W. D. Snodgrass will read from his Pulitzer-prize-winning book of poetry, "Heart's Needle." Snodgrass will be joined on the stage by local poetry lovers reading their favorites.

In a moderated discussion, participants will interpret their selections. Snodgrass will reveal some new ideas on developments in poetry for the first time publicly.

The jazz artists will bring their syncopations to the dome on June 23 and 24. On Charter Members' Night, the 23rd, top jazz musicians who performed at last year's Birmingham Arts Festival will return. Among them will be blind pianist Bess Bonnier, drummer J. C. Heard and violinist Joe Kennedy.

The concert on the 24th will feature artists who have not appeared previously at the jazz event in Birmingham, to be announced later.

A "Gourmet Matinee" at 2:30 p.m. June 21, will be conducted by Philip Velez. The famous chef of the London Chop House and Caucus Club is known to Detroiters as "Poncho."

PLAYERS TO ENTERTAIN

The average cost of tickets for the events in the dome is $2.20, with some slightly higher or lower.

Proceeds will be utilized to establish a Birmingham Art Center. Work on the center has already been started by the Bloomfield Art Association, sponsors of the Birmingham Arts Festival.

Located at 1516 Cranbrook, Road, the new center for exhibitions and classes is the former Birmingham sewage disposal plant. It is now undergoing a thorough deodorization and imaginative remodeling.

Tickets for dome events will be available about June 1 at Grinnell's downtown and in Birmingham, and at the arts festival headquarters in the Harlan Building on Shain Park.

The stands in the big dome seat 800 people. "Goldplate" season tickets will be sold at $17.50. They will entitle bearers to special seats to be set up at the front of the stands. Total cost of all events, if purchased separately, is $22.20.

The dome, loaned to the arts festival for the second year by Birmingham's Tractor and Implement Division of Ford Motor Co., will be erected on the east side of Shain Park.

Dome headliner Odetta has featured role in the newly released motion picture "Sanctuary," with Yves Montand and Lee Remick. Odetta has appeared in a number of important festivals and concerts, including the Monterey Festival in California and Carnegie Hall.

On her second night's appearance here, she will feature the blues and be accompanied by the Fred Kaz trio. She will devote Saturday's program to folk songs.

Curtain time will be 8:40 p.m. nightly, except for June 21, which is 9:00 p.m.

Installation Scheduled

The fourth annual installation of officers for the Episcopal Church Women of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will be 12:30 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hotton on Beach Road, Birmingham.

Following luncheon the Rev. Carl Sayers, vicar, will install officers, who are Mrs. Hotton, president; Mrs. Don Mills, president-elect; Mrs. William Snyder, recording secretary; Mrs. Lyle Oviatt, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Knickerbocker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Osborne, UTO custodian; and Mrs. John Eldon, historian.

WNF&G Picnic

The Bloomfield Hills Branch of the Woman's National Farm and Garden Association will meet Monday at the Metamora estate of Mrs. John Q. Nagel.

The annual June picnic will feature a gourmet cooperative luncheon, plant sale and a talk by Mrs. F. G. Garrison, noted world traveler, who will speak of "The Wandering Gardener."

Ceremony in Wisconsin

Lena Sewell Is Wed

Before an altar banked with rhododendrons and white snapdragons in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Madison, Wis., Lena May Sewell pledged vows to James H. Wockenfuss, also of Madison. Rev. Alvin Berg performed the rite.

Receiving in the church parlors were the bride's parents the Thomas Maynards of Westway Drive and the bridegroom's parents the Harold Wockenfusses of North Fond du Lac, Wis.

Lavender cummerbunds accented frocks of white eyelet for Mrs. Robert Wissman of Wayne, her cousin's honor matron and bridesmaids Mrs. George Bird of Ypsilanti, and Alice Peet of Madison. Mary Ann Athanasoff of Birmingham was junior attendant. They held nosegays of feathered chrysanthemums, white roses and ivy.

MRS. JAMES H. WOCKENFUSS

After a New England honeymoon, the couple will be at home in Madison. They are graduates of University of Wisconsin and the bride holds a degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Girl Scouts Hold Event

Youth Day, honoring all young people in Michigan in conjunction with Michigan Week, was celebrated by Southern Oakland Girl Scouts Saturday at Southfield Park.

Diane Perrone of Southfield was in charge of the event, sponsored by the Youth Advisory Commission for the State of Michigan.

Marsha du Val of Troop 360 at Walnut Lake was in charge of arrangements for a "nosebag luncheon" at Southfield Park, attended by some 250 senior scouts of Southern Oakland Council.

Each troop planned a different segment of the afternoon's entertainment. Games involving facts about Michigan, folk tales and songs about Michigan were featured, along with projects showing how to prepare for emergencies, such as tornadoes, in the state.

Club to Stage Annual Dinner

The Twin Mothers' Club will stage its second annual dinner Thursday at Hotel Waldron. Mrs. Paul Kilar is in charge of reservations.

The club currently is cooperating with Goffredo G. Gensini, M.D., director of the cardiopulmonary laboratory and research department in Syracuse, N.Y., in a program which provides knowledge about congenital heart disease.

Get Children to Help With Emotional Block

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Dear Mrs. Lawrance:

My husband gets angry with me because I am not demonstrative toward our two children. Though I love them I can't hug and kiss them like he does. He knows why I can't, too. It'g because of my own childhood.

My mother had a very bad temper, would get mad, hit me and then try to make up by grabbing and kissing me. With such an upbringing my husband should not expect me to be as outgoing as he is . . .

Answer: But you are not a rubber ball that can only move in the direction it is thrown. You are a human being who can take — if you want to — control of your own direction.

Do you want to develop a freer expression of your affection for your youngsters?

If so, then admit this wish. Ask the children's help in fulfilling it. When you are certain that you want this development, say to them:

"You know how shy I am about hugs and cuddlings. I want to get over it. I'll need you to encourage me. Sometimes soon I'm going to hug one of you suddenly and I'd like it if you hugged me back hard and said, 'That's fine, mother. Try it again.' "

I see no more reason why we should hesitate to ask the children's help with this kind of weakness than we'd hesitate to ask their support if we'd sprained our ankle.

Certainly a parent who hits us one minute and wants to embrace us the next can make us deeply suspicious of shows of affection. But we do not have to retain this infection.

If some careless person infects us with a virus, we don't waste our time brooding over his irresponsibility to us. We call our doctor, get his prescription filled —and take other responsible steps for our own recovery.

Psychological infections are not so different. Knowing how we came by them in the past is important only as it rallies enough indignation in us to resist their domination of us in the present.

So the solution is in your hands. Do you want to develop the free and spontaneous ability to hug and cuddle these youngsters you love? Or do you want to just go on justifying your constraint with them by blaming your bad-tempered and inconsistent mother?

It's the want that counts. It's the vigor of the want that finds the way to satisfy itself.

Dainty Dessert Defeats Dieter's Determination

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Frozen strawberries are a bargain now in most stores; fresh ones are appearing in greater numbers. Take your choice when you make this pie.

Mrs. Charles Matthews is our cook today. Bowling and bridge are her hobbies.

STRAWBERRY PIE
By Mrs. Charles Matthews

1 package frozen strawberries OR
1 quart fresh berries
1 package strawberry gelatin
1 cup hot water
16 marshmallows
1 cup whipping cream
24 lemon wafers
A little butter or margarine

Roll cookies into crumbs and combine with enough melted butter or margarine to hold them together for a crust. Press into 9-inch pie pan.

Drain berries or crush them (if fresh) and drain. Combine strawberry juice gelatin and hot water. Add marshmallows and cook until marshmallows melt.

Fold in drained berries. Beat cream stiff and fold in. Pour into crumb-lined pan. Sprinkle top with nuts. Chill until firm. Serves 6-8.

'I Forgot! My Mother Is Asleep'

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: I live with my mother in a small apartment. Every once in a while I have some of my friends over to play bridge. My mother's bedroom is just off the living room where we play.

When it is my mother's bedtime she says good night to my friends, closes her door and goes to bed. We usually play until about 12 o'clock.

Here is my problem: There are two women in the group who talk quite loud. This is very disturbing to my mother. She is quite elderly and needs her rest. I would like to know if there is a tactful way in which to tell these two women to lower their voices.

Answer: You might say something in a rather loud voice yourself and then add, "Oh, dear, I forgot my mother is asleep. I must remember to keep my voice down so as not to disturb her." This should be a cue to your friends to lower their voices.

Q: My boy friend has invited me to go to his house for Sunday dinner in order that I may meet his parents. I have been going out steadily with this boy for the past four months but I have never met his parents.

Would it be proper for me to accept his invitation and, if so, should I take a box of candy for his mother?

A: You must receive a personal invitation from his mother either by telephone or note before you may properly accept. You are not expected to take anything to his mother. In fact, it would very definitely be better not to on this first visit.

Q: I am soon to be a bridegroom. My mother is a widow and she is anxious to know whether she sits alone in the front pew. If not, who should sit with her? I have only one brother and he is to be my best man.

A: She invites close relatives to sit with her, or if she has no relatives, she quite properly chooses one or two intimate friends.

Q: Should the groom's mother consult the bride's mother as to the dress she will wear?

A: It is not necessary, but as the two mothers will be standing together in the receiving line, it is advisable to do so, so that she can choose a dress that will not clash with that of the bride's mother.

Q. How shall I go about buying the wedding ring for the bridegroom? I suppose I buy his ring just as he buys mine. Shall we go together to get both of them or how is it generally done?

A: Quite right — you go together. You buy his ring and he buys yours.

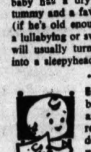
Bringing Up Baby.

HINTS COLLECTED BY MRS. DAN GERBER, MOTHER OF 8

Good sandman habits can be formed early if you make the land of nod a pleasant place to visit. If you set the same hour and be reasonably firm in sticking to it, baby will accept this routine. Then see to it that baby has a dry bottom, a full tummy and a favorite cuddle toy (if he's old enough). The lilt of a lullabying or sweet mother talk will usually turn a wide-awaker into a sleepyhead.



Easy does it! If baby's mealtimes are pleasant and relaxed, there's no doubt that baby will enjoy his food more. And that very enjoyment will make him want to eat more. Best way I know to start off a meal: substitute grin for grin.

Pleasant mealtimes are practically assured when you serve food to baby's liking. Gerber Cereals, for example, are made to please a tiny palate. Each variety has a mild but distinctive flavor . . . all have the dreamy smooth texture that inspires smiles. (And they stir to creamy perfection in seconds.) What about nutrition? Gerber Cereals give your baby blood - building iron, energy-giving calories, important B-vitamins and bone-building calcium. What baby wouldn't thrive on such nutritional fare?

Good feeding strategy when introducing new foods: It's a good idea to offer only one at a time and wait a few days before trying another. Give baby a chance to get used to the new flavor.

Your hair or heiress will "lick the platter clean" when his bill of fare features Gerber Strained Foods. Why? Because the flavors are fresh-tasting and mild, the texture smooth, moist and marvelous-to-the-tongue. Over 50 tempting varieties, all designed with appetite appeal in mind. Serve one and all to the tune of blissful coos. Rotate foods for guaranteed meal appeal. Has baby tried the new Strained Ham, yet? Gerber Baby Foods, Fremont, Michigan.

Wants to Be Up to Date

This Woman's Much Alive

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

My mail is so fascinating to me that once in a while I like to share some of it with you. The thing I enjoy most about my column is the contact it gives me with so many different people. It is interesting to know what they are thinking, what their problems are and what goals they have.

* * *

The following letter is from a young woman of 32. If she keeps this same outlook, I am sure she never will be really old.

LETTER

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I am a 32-year-old housewife with two preschool children. With the "get-up-and-go" season here, I'd like to learn how to do that very thing. And I especially would like to look like a 32-year-old woman living in 1961 — and not a 32-year-old woman of 1946.

"You see, my high school class plans a reunion soon, the first in 15 years. And I would like to look like I'm alive to 1961 and not just an older version of the high school-age me.

"My hair has been the same ever since I started going to beauty shops. Is it possible that only one hair style is becoming to me? I really would like to arrive at the reunion with a 1961 hairdo, eyebrow alignment, eye make-up and whatever is attractive and new in make-up."

INTEREST IN PRESENT

The sentence, "I would like to look like I am alive to 1961 and not just an older version of the high school-age me," is the giveaway of a vibrant viewpoint.

It indicates an interest in and a zest for the world about her, a wish to live in the present rather than the past — and an awareness that while we must all change it can be for the better rather than the worse.

Just sitting tight with the same thoughts, the same activities and the same hairdo, year after year, not only makes us look older but is aging to the mind and the spirit.

Do you know the right make-up for you? And do you know the right way to apply it? Josephine Lowman's free leaflet, "What's Going on?" will be a great aid. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

If you want to be a "get-up-and-go" girl, you've got to have new thoughts, new activities and even a new hairdo from time to time.

14 Tables in Play at Bridge Meeting

Winners were Mrs. Earl Waterman and Mrs. Harrison Specht; Mr. and Mrs. John Jarno; Dr. Douglas Campbell and Robert Larson; Earl Waterman and Frank Ferryman; the Lionel Thompsons; Mr. and Mrs. Ericson Lewis; the Paul Potters; Mrs. Donald Bowen and Mrs. Mehran Thompson.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Alex McVean and Mrs. Allan Schmidt, assisted by Mrs. William Harrison and Mrs. Furn Tubbs.

Add to Skill, Girls Urged

More Training Is Key to Better Jobs for High Schoolers

In just a matter of days, close to one million girls will receive their diplomas in high schools across the country. Although many will go on to college or to other schools, graduation ceremonies for most will mark the end of their formal education.

But should it stop there?

All the evidence, says the Institute of Life Insurance, suggests that where possible, a girl should seek further training.

It will help her find a better job than her less skilled classmates, and at a higher income.

Even if she leaves her job after she marries and begins to raise a family there is a good chance that she will think about job-hunting when she reaches her 40's.

MANY NEW JOBS

The women's bureau of the U.S. Department of Labor too points out that she will need more education and training than in the past.

"The coming decade will witness the creation of many new jobs and the revision of old ones, as technological and scientific advances change office, laboratory and factory procedures and equipment," says the bureau.

"The occupations expected to expand the most — the professional, technical, clerical, sales and skilled occupations — are those which generally require a considerable amount of formal preparation."

One of the most exciting possibilities for girls who are thinking about office work is using the new electronic computers and related equipment.

Another training approach is through the schools.

BASIC COURSES

An increasing number of universities and colleges, particularly two-year colleges, are offering basic courses in electronic data processing, and there are also special commercial schools which provide pre-employment training, usually with evening as well as day classes.

For those who think they may like technical work, there are growing opportunities for girls to become industrial laboratory technicians, chemical aid analysts and draughtsmen.

Education for these jobs is usually obtained in technical institutes and junior colleges, but some girls have obtained a head start in their education at a technical high school, vocational school or even through correspondence courses in drafting, mechanical drawing and blueprint reading.

There are many private schools and public vocational schools offering formal training in cosmetology; in some states apprentice training while at work in a beauty shop is taken as the equivalent of a formal course.

ADDITIONAL OPPORTUNITIES

Courses in commercial art are given by private schools and institutes and by some vocational high schools; before being enrolled students are generally asked to demonstrate that they have artistic ability.

There are also fashion design courses at private schools and a number of vocational high schools.

Health work has always appealed to women, and there have long been formal training courses for such health workers as registered nurses, dental hygienists and X-ray technicians.

But there are new opportunities for girls to become practical nurses and medical laboratory workers.

Having Graduation Photograph Taken?

(NEA) — Teen-agers who want their high school graduation pictures to be really pretty should follow a few simple rules: Don't apply make-up with a trowel before you go to the studio. A heavy coating of lipstick will photograph almost black.

Use a make-up base sparingly, followed by a dusting of powder and one coat of lipstick. Blot the lipstick. Have your hair done the day before so that it looks natural.

2 Church Groups Gather

The Woman's Fellowship of the First Congregational Church observed its May meeting Friday. The Colonial Group served a luncheon following the blessing by Mrs. George Gaches.

Mrs. Charles Hawn used excerpts of "Renew Yourself with the Twenty-Third Psalm" from Guideposts Magazine for devotions.

A musical program was presented by the Baldwin School Honor Choir under the direction of Mrs. Harold Northon, accompanied by Mildred Barnett. The vocal group concluded the meeting with one of the selections for the Pontiac School Festival which will be held at Wisner Stadium.

The Yomar Group of the First Presbyterian Church met Thursday with Mrs. Calus Gordon of Cambrook Lane.

Mrs. James Graybiel directed Bible study, and Mrs. George Stinnett of Birmingham, a guest of the group, presided at the refreshment table. Mrs. Olive Ayers of Clearwater, Fla., also was a visitor at the meeting.

Mrs. Chester Varney will be hostess to the group at a dinner June 22 in her home on Nelson Street.

Mrs. LaCore to Take Gavel

The final meeting of the season for the Women's Auxiliary to the Oakland County Medical Society will be at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in Carrie Lee's Chinese Tea Room, Birmingham.

Mrs. Ralph Fox will present the gavel to the new president Mrs. Ivan LaCore for the 1961-62 season. Mrs. Edwin Westfall will be installed as president - elect, along with Mrs. Paul Lahti, secretary, and Mrs. Charles Sempere, treasurer.

Final activity of the year was a dinner dance attended by 175 couples Friday at Birmingham Country Club.

Tips to European Tourists in U.S.

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — An open letter to any visiting European:

Dear Sir:

Naturally, under President Kennedy's plan to increase foreign tourist travel to the United States every patriotic American welcomes you—and the funds you bring.

BOYLE

We all want you to have a fine time, whether you arrive loaded with pounds, sterling, francs, marks or drachmas.

But, particularly if this is your first visit here, you may feel the need of a little briefing on how to make your stay more pleasant. Here are a few helpful hints:

First and foremost, don't buy the Brooklyn Bridge—even if the seller tenders you an apparently valid bill of sale. Local restrictions forbid the export of this particular bridge.

* * *

Remember, you are an unofficial ambassador of your own country and the people here will judge your country by how you behave. If you want to take a snapshot of a quaint American—and you will see many—politely ask his permission first.

TALK U.S.

Even if you know only a few halting American phrases, be sure to use them. The residents here always feel more warmhearted toward foreigners who make an effort, however limited, to speak to them in their own tongue.

Avoid unfavorable comparisons. Do not, for example, brag that in your own land you have been caught in worse traffic jams than you have here. Americans are particularly proud of the fact we have the worst traffic jams in the world.

Don't go into an alley looking for a black market operator to change your currency. The best bargain you can hope to get in an alley here is a small lump on the head.

Be sure to visit as many churches and museums as you can, as Americans are also very proud of their culture. You may find the new U.S. forms of architecture bewildering, but there is a quick way to tell the difference between a church, a supermarket, a bowling alley or a motel: You won't have to stand in line to get into the churches—and they don't give change.

FLASH CREDIT CARD

You may feel that the shopkeepers are in a conspiracy to cheat you because you have a foreign accent. This is not generally true. They may be suspicious of you, however, if you tender cash in payment. Buy on the instalment plan—or flash a credit card. Then they'll know you're hep.

Do not show annoyance if you give a bus driver a dollar bill and he hands you back 20 nickels. This is an old custom here, and bus drivers are granted this inalienable right by an unwritten clause in the U.S. Constitution.

The American natives are noted for their sense of humor, but they are politically restless now. So it might be as well if you avoid discussing with them such topics as Cuba, segregation, and why they haven't landed a man on the moon. Stick to the weather and baseball.

The question of how to tip properly is a vexing problem in any country. There are some parts of America where, if you leave a nickel, the waiter will drop dead in sheer surprise. There are other parts where, if you don't tip 15 per cent of the bill, he may tell you to drop dead. Here you'll have to feel your own way.

But everybody likes a good spender. Spend freely. The money the United States lends your own country later may be your own.

Have a wonderful stay, and come back often!

Acres of Cordwood Burn, Cause Smoke

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — A roaring, smoke-puffing fire raged through about 20 acres of stored cordwood at the American Excelsior Corp. in suburban Wyoming Tuesday night.

Grand Rapids Fire Chief Adrian Meyers said he believed at least three firemen required treatment for smoke inhalation.

Thousands of spectators on foot and motorists, homeward bound from the long Memorial Day weekend, jammed the area.

The Grand Rapids Fire Department answered the multiple alarm with about 15 pieces of equipment and upwards of 150 men. Wyoming sent 13 pieces of equipment to the scene.

Election by Russ Makes Dr. White Hope for Amity

BELMONT, Mass. (AP) — Dr. Paul Dudley White says he hopes his election to membership in the Soviet Academy of Medical Sciences will help to increase communication between doctors of East and West.

The world famous heart specialist, who was a consultant when former President Dwight D. Eisenhower suffered his attack, said Tuesday night that better relations among doctors could help achieve better relations between nations.

Dr. White noted that since 1956 when he first went to Moscow, he has been working actively to become acquainted with the Soviet Union's leading heart specialists. A year ago five of them visited medical schools in Washington, New York, Cleveland and Boston.

Brothers Stand Mute in Break-In Charge

Charles Scribner, 29, of 900 Mt. Clemens St., asked the judge later if his $5,000 bond couldn't be lowered, while Anthony W., 19, and Larry, 17, both of 44 Forest St., did not request a reduction in their bail.

Wed Ten Days, Bride Succumbs to Leukemia

REDLANDS, Calif. (AP)—Nancy Fortune, 17, a bride of 10 days, is dead. She never knew her marriage to her childhood sweetheart, Dwight Twomey, was doomed.

Their wedding was planned for years, as they grew up together in nearby Riverside. But Dwight was called for military service, and they decided to wait until he was free.

Twomey went to Okinawa for 13 months, with the Marines. In that time Nancy fell ill. She was brought to Community Hospital here, and Dwight, 19, came home.

They were married last week at the hospital's chapel, in the presence of the family and a few friends. Nancy went back to her hospital bed for more treatment, cheered by dreams of her life with Dwight.

Her husband and relatives knew she hoped in vain. But Nancy never learned that she had leukemia, which took her life Monday night.

Statistics Clerks to Attend Meeting

Village, city and hospital clerks whose job it is to maintain vital statistics are attending an information seminar here today arranged by County Clerk-Register Daniel T. Murphy Jr.

Murphy said about 25 clerks had indicated their intention to attend the meeting at the Supervisors Room, 1 Lafayette St.

Four Young Men in Jail 6 Months

Four Pontiac area youths who thought they had "the perfect crime" in looting laundromat coin boxes had jail cells opened for them Monday. They'll stay shut, however, for six months.

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero sentenced Larry Goff, 21, 100 Howard St., Charles F. Mero, 18, of 34 W. Columbia Ave., Jimmy D. D. Coffel, 20, of 5545 Crescent Drive, Waterford Township, and Albert J. Harris, 20, of 30 E. Rutgers Ave., each to six months in the county jail.

They pleaded guilty May 15 to taking $9 and some cigarettes from the Auburn Coin Laundry, 715 Auburn Ave., on May 10.

Asst. Prosecutor J. Robert Sterling said the youths thought their scheme was fool-proof as one of them would have an article of clothing in the machine while the other was prying it open. The others would be the "lookouts."

They admitted to other coin box openings and burglaries, Sterling said.

NCCC to Award First Diplomas Friday Night

Junior College to Graduate 20

Planning Outdoor Rite; Will Achieve Four-Year Status in 1964

AVON TOWNSHIP — The first graduating class of North Central Christian College will take part Friday night in an outdoor commencement exercise on the campus at 800 W. Avon Road.

The 2-year-old institution of higher learning, which will achieve 4-year college status in 1964, will award diplomas to 20 students on the grounds of the former Lou Maxon estate.

EXPECT 400

The ceremony will start at 7:30 p.m. with the presentation of a short musical program by the NCCC a cappella chorus. Over 400 persons are expected to attend the institution's first commencement exercises.

Valedictorian will be Wilma P. Schmudlach of Madison, Wis. Dona Mai Blake of Montague is scheduled to give the salutatory address.

NCCC President Otis Gatewood will award the degrees and certificates. Clyde Balderson, professor of history at NCCC, will present the special awards.

In case of inclement weather, Friday's graduation exercise also will be held at the assembly hall.

The college, which has a total enrollment of 150, was founded in September 1959.

Present plans call for third-year courses to be offered in 1963. The transition from junior college to four-year college is slated to be completed the following year.

To State Views at 'Town Hall'

Lake Orion Voters to Question, Hear School Board Candidates

LAKE ORION — Candidates for office on the Lake Orion Board of Education will state their views on school problems at a "town hall" meeting tomorrow at 8 p.m. in the senior high school.

This is the second year the Lake Orion Area Parent-Teacher Association Council has sponsored such a public forum to give school district voters a chance to hear and question the office-seekers.

Expected to be present to give their qualifications and air their views on education are incumbent board member Charles Carpenter, Robert Fetterly and Ernest N. Shagnea. All three are running for the single 4-year post open on the Orion School Board in the June 12 election.

The questions to be asked of the three men were compiled by a committee composed of representatives from each of the six schools in the district.

Mrs. Joe B. Hipsher is chairman of the "town hall" committee.

She said, "No public position is more important than that of membership on the board of education, and the PTA Council wants voters to come to the meeting and judge for themselves the qualifications of the candidates."

46 Street Names Will Be Changed in Orion Area

LAKE ORION — A total of 46 street names in Lake Orion and Orion Township will be changed soon to avoid duplication, Village President Irvine J. Unger said today.

The Village Council has approved changing the names of five streets and eliminating two others. A total of 41 streets in the township will be affected by the move, Unger said.

A joint committee of village councilmen and township trustees have been studying the problem of duplicate street names.

Unger said there now are five different Lakeview Roads in the Lake Orion-Orion Township area and two Park Island Roads and a Park Road inside the village limits.

The duplication often results in a hazard to public safety when emergency calls are made to the police and fire departments, according to the village president.

Unger said the new names of the streets and roads to be affected by the changes will be announced at a later date.

Mass to Open Exercises

St. Mary's Will Hold Its 72nd Commencement

ORCHARD LAKE — The 72nd annual commencement exercises of St. Mary's College and St. Mary's Preparatory will be held Sunday, beginning with the offering of a Solemn High Mass at 7:30 a.m. in the Classics' Chapel on the campus.

Rt. Rev. Msgr. W. J. Filipowicz, rector, will celebrate the liturgy, while the Proper and Ordinary of the Mass will be rendered by the Schola Cantorum, the college and preparatory graduates and the student body.

Most Rev. Henry E. Donnelly, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Detroit, will confer 24 bachelor of arts degrees and distribute 37 high school diplomas at 2:30 p.m. ceremonies in the campus auditorium.

The graduating classes include representatives of nine states: Michigan, Connecticut, Wisconsin, Illinois, New York, New Jersey, Massachusetts, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

MAIN SPEAKER

The main address will be delivered by Rt. Rev. Msgr. Vincent V. Borkowicz, pastor of St. Stanislaus parish in Detroit.

The salutatory address will be given by Lawrence J. Nadrowski, preparatory senior 1961 oratorical medalist, and the valedictory by Matthew S. Kafka, president of the college senior class.

The senior banquet, the annual tribute of the faculty and alumni to the graduates, will be held tomorrow at 5:30 p.m. in the campus dining hall.

Honor Leaders of Girl Scouting at Area Banquet

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Several Girl Scout leaders in Oakland County were honored guests and given certificates of appreciation at a banquet held at St. Mark's Lutheran Church on Commerce Road.

After the invocation by Rev. W. C. Grafe, Mrs. Herbert Huber, former Southwest District Girl Scout chairman and day camp director; Mrs. Wayne Helfrich senior leader; Mrs. Peter A. Unick, originator of the recent Miracle Mile birthday pageant; and Marjorie Eicher, Pontiac Press women's editor who pioneered neighborhood organization and extension for ten years in the area, were presented with awards.

Also honored by mothers of girl scouts were leaders and assistants of Westlakes Neighborhood, one of the oldest organized neighborhood associations in the Northern Oakland County Girl Scout Council.

The Commerce OES Ladies Kitchen Band presented several musical numbers, and the senior and intermediate girl scouts served the guests.

Utica Area Will See Film by Billy Graham

SHELBY TOWNSHIP — Evangelist Billy Graham's newest feature-length film, "Shadow of the Boomerang," will have its Utica-area showing at 7:30 p.m. Friday in the Harvest Baptist Church, 23 Mile Road at Van Dyke.

Settings for the screen drama are Australia's "outback," the continent's vast interior region, and Melbourne and Sydney, where the noted evangelist spoke to record-breaking crowds on his recent crusade in the land "down under."

Will Live in California

Janice Howland Marries

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—Janice Elaine Howland and Ens. Lloyd Sappington exchanged their nuptial vows Saturday afternoon at the Shrine of the Little Flower, Royal Oak. Rev. Louis F. Rohr read the service.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John E. Howland of 3105 Crumb Road. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Clarence L. Sappington of Royal Oak and the late Mr. Sappington.

Mrs. Carolyn Martin was her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Paul Aubry of Farmington, Sandy Capel of Pontiac and Betsy Clark of Novi.

Best man was Arthur W. Brown of Ann Arbor. Ushers were Lloyd Shipman of Royal Oak, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and Walter Kramer of Birmingham and Robert Betteral of Detroit.

Flower girl was Patricia Childs of Pontiac, cousin of the bride. Dean Shipman, nephew of the bridegroom, was ring bearer.

Jewelry, Watches Stolen From Home

AVON TOWNSHIP — The theft of jewelry and wrist watches from the home of Frederick Fischer at 72 Wimberley Drive was reported to Romeo state police last night.

It was the second break-in discovered on the street in three days. Oakland County Sheriff's deputies were notified Sunday that wrist watches and a camera were stolen from a home at 21 Wimberley Drive.

State police said both cases of breaking and entering took place while the owners of the homes were out of town over the Memorial Day weekend.

MILK STATION SOLD — The Michigan Milk Producers Association substation on M15 just north of Ortonville, which once was considered as a site for a new community hospital, has been sold to the Hall Manufacturing and Engineering Co. of Flint. The MMPA Board of Directors offered the station for $20,000 to a group of Ortonville residents interested in locating a hospital on the property. However, the hospital group dropped its option since the purchas price was considered to be too high.

Tense South Africa Becomes Republic

PRETORIA, South Africa (AP)—South Africa became a republic today with the nation mobilized against demonstrations by the nonwhite majority of its people.

Church bells at midnight and cannon at daybreak heralded the birth of Africa's as 22nd independent nation—and the only one still wholly ruled by whites.

Jubilant white throngs—mostly Afrikaners who long wanted a republic free of the 51-year rule under the British crown — braved rain for night-long revelry in this administrative capital.

As the republic was born the government claimed a "total collapse" of the three-day strike launched Monday by leaders of the nation's 13 million nonwhites to demand voting rights reserved for 3 million whites.

THOUSANDS DEMONSTRATE

But one African was shot dead and two wounded Tuesday night in African townships outside Port Elizabeth, where thousands of Negroes demonstrated against the government by burning South African flags.

Police moved into the African townships with armored cars but claimed they were not responsible for the shootings.

Johannesburg's streets were nearly deserted. Hundreds in the nation's biggest city had stayed home earlier in the week, but today was a holiday for most people anyway. Some Indian and Chinese merchants have kept their shops padlocked in silent protest against white supremacy rule.

Charles R. Swart, 66, an Afrikaner who once played bit parts in Hollywood and was South Africa's last governor general under the crown, takes over as the new republic's first president. His job is largely ceremonial. The real power still rests with Prim Minister Hendrik F. Verwoerd, who led the drive to make South Africa a republic and then took the republic out of the British Commonwealth when its other members demanded that he modify his apartheid policy of strict racial segregation and white supremacy.

Flint Makes Job Gain, but Owosso Shows Dip

WASHINGTON (AP)—Auto-making Flint, Mich., was among cities registering an employment gain in May, but Owosso, Mich., had an increase in idled workmen and moved into the "substantial unemployment" class.

Flint, which had been listed in the "worst" category in April, with 12 per cent or more of its labor force unemployed, moved up to the "substantial unemployment" classification to 9 to 12 per cent idle in May.

Owosso was a new entrant in the "substantial" category.

Boston Children to Eat JFK's Birthday Cake

BOSTON (AP)—President Kennedy's birthday cake, all 500 pounds of it, will be eaten today.

The huge cake, which went untouched at Monday night's $100-a-plate dinner, was moved intact to Nazareth Child Care Center after the big affair in Commonwealth Armory.

All day Tuesday the tempting mountain was on display at the center. The Catholic nuns in charge of the children said many of the children were away for Memorial Day and "we'll have an ice cream and cake party for everybody tomorrow."

Dies in Gas Chamber for Woman's Murder

PARCHMAN, Miss. (UPI) — Negro Robert Lee Goldsby died in Mississippi's gas chamber today for the 1954 murder of a white woman after expressing sympathy for his and her families.

Goldsby, center of a far-reaching legal battle, said in a Death Row interview shortly before he calmly walked into the chamber at 1:35 a.m. (Pontiac time):

"It's a tragic thing for both my family and the other family concerned. I am truly sorry for the heartaches I have caused."

Talking and laughing with men who strapped him into the chamber's metal chair, Goldsby, 35, showed no fear.

He kissed a crucifix held out to him by a Roman Catholic priest, waved goodby to a Baptist minister and, when the chamber door slammed shut, closed his eyes to await death. The execution took place at 2:32 a.m.

Intently watching Goldsby die was Bryant Nelms, husband of the woman he killed.

Catholic Writer Dies

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Dale Francis, 45, known to Catholics throughout the nation as columnist Barbara Francis, died Monday of cancer. She was a columnist for "Our Sunday Visitor," national Catholic newspaper, and for the Lone Star Catholic, of which she was associate editor. She was born in New Orleans.

Secret U.S. Paper Missing in Britain

LONDON (UPI)—Prime Minister Harold Macmillan has confirmed that an American secret document has been missing from British Navy Department files for more than a month.

"This particular document is in a file which is missing," Macmillan told Parliament Tuesday. "It contained one secret document."

Macmillan said the file was more probably lost or mislaid than stolen. He said modern techniques make it easier for a spy to copy a document than to steal an entire file.

There was no indication of the nature of the American secrets.

FLIP STARTS PILEUP — The car driven by Jack Turner of Seattle, Wash., flips in the midst of a six-car tangle in the annual 500-mile classic at Indianapolis yesterday. Texan Believed He Finished 2nd in '500' Classic

Victory at Indy Wasn't Known for Hours; Time Sets New Record

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Texan A. J. Foyt, who sits mighty tall in a race car seat, won't know until tonight's victory dinner how much he won Tuesday by capturing the golden anniversary 500-mile auto race in a record 139.131 miles an hour.

What he does know is that the $100,000 or so almost slipped through his fingers in a ferociously contested race that knocked out 21 of the 33 starting cars before the checkered flag fell. And it wasn't until Tuesday night that he learned he had set a record. This because of a breakdown in the timing.

Foyt spent several hours after the race thinking he only turned in the second best time in the history of the race. The first posted time had Foyt finishing at 138.466, which would have been just a whisker behind Jim Rathmann's record 138.767 which he set in winning last year. However, during the evening, speedway officials revealed timing equipment had gone bad on the 175th lap and had to be replaced by stop watches for two or three minutes. The corrected time — 139.131 — made Foyt the fastest ever to finish the race.

All other unofficial times released were incorrect. Timers worked through the night and planned to post the official results this morning, with a half-hour limit for filing protests.

It was a three-car race in the last stages among Foyt, 26-year-old USAC champion from Houston, Tex.; charging Eddie Sachs, Center Valley, Pa., and 1959 winner Rodger Ward. And it finally was decided in the pits.

Foyt made his third and supposedly last pit stop for tires and fuel, but the connection on the pressure fueling system wouldn't work. His crew borrowed a refueling rig from Len Sutton's pit and called Foyt back in for an extra stop.

Meanwhile, Sachs was flying and looked like a sure winner after failing to finish in four previous starts. Then his right rear tire wore ragged and he had to stop for a new one with only three laps—7½ miles—to go.

Foyt passed Sachs as the Pennsylvanian was gunning his car out of the pits. The handsome Texan beat Eddie to the finish line by 8½ seconds. With four pit stops apiece, Sachs spent 8 2-5ths seconds longer off the track.

Foyt drove the Indianapolis Bowes Special; Sachs the Long Beach, Calif., Dean Special.

Ward, having handling trouble with a new type Watson car, was less than a lap behind in third place. He could sympathize with Sachs because a worn tire forced Ward to surrender the lead to Rathmann, last year's winner, late in last year's race.

Mechanical trouble sent Rathmann to the sidelines Tuesday after he had led part of the race. Other leaders at various times included 1952 winner Troy Ruttman, who became physically exhausted; rookie Parnelli Jones and second-time starter Jim Hurtubise.

Hurtubise and Jones both suffered facial cuts from small flying objects, and Jones' cut forced him into a four-minute plus pit stop. He had to change goggles three times because of blood from his eyebrow.

Jack Brabham of Australia, the world road racing champion, drove a shrewd, smooth race to ninth place but he never was in contention. His little English Cooper simply didn't have enough oomph on the straightaways.

The race was run without death or serious injury to a driver, in spite of a series of spectacular wrecks on the west main straightaway. A speedway guard, John Masariu, became the old racing plant's 54th fatality, however, when a fire truck backed over him after extinguishing a fire in Eddie Johnson's wrecked car.

OUT OF THE WAY — The wrecked Bardahl Special driven by Jack Turner of Seattle, Wash., is pushed off the track and out of the way of the other racers as photographers mill around for pictures. There were no serious injuries in the pileup.

NO. 1 IS FIRST — Car No. 1 driven by A. J. Foyt has a few seconds lead on Eddie Sachs in a Dean Van Line Special (12) as they come around the curve on the way to the finish line. Foyt won with an 8-second edge over Sachs.

Foyt Shouts:

"Man, What a Race!"

The handsome 26-year-old Texan had just pulled into victory lane from his first 500-mile race triumph and was already talking about more races.

"I'm gonna race until I'm 35 or 36," he said. "Then maybe I'll retire." He had his wife's consent.

"You told me to win the anniversary race, Tony," he yelled. "Remember, Tony?"

It was hard to hear in the yelling throng around Foyt's sleek red-and-white Bowes Special. But Tony—Anton Hulman Jr., owner of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway—got the message.

"I remember," he shouted, meaning the night last summer he issued a challenge: "A. J., why don't you win the golden anniversary race?"

Somebody asked what Foyt while Eddie Sachs held the lead until the last three laps when he lost it in a pit stop.

"I was ready to settle for second," Foyt said. "Something went wrong with our fuel system and I didn't get much gas on my last stop. We knew we didn't have much fuel and would have to pull into the pits again, I had already settled for second."

Then Sachs had to pull into the pit to replace a badly worn tire. Foyt regained the lead and kept it.

Sachs said, "I thought it would be better to win second place than be dead."

"Man, we sure got good tire wear," Foyt told his crew. "The car was handling and running good, I knew I could win until I had to pull in for gas.

"When I got back on the track after what I thought was my final pit stop, I knew something was wrong. 'Man, did they put enough gas in' I thought."

What about the six-figure purse he won? "I haven't got any plans right now," Foyt said. Lucy echoed his sentiment.

"We've talked about winning the race a lot," she said, "but we never got around to thinking about what we'd do with the money."

Jacobson Wins Feature

On Sunday night racing for super modified cars, Don Irish of Pontiac is in second place in points standings with 160. Mickey Katlin is in 5th place with 105 points. Area drivers Ike Welch, Dink Zanoni, Roy Bachman and Bob Fredericks are among the leading drivers.

NBA Fires Collins as Chief Referee

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Jocko Collins said Tuesday he had been fired as supervisor of referees for the National Basketball Association.

The outspoken official said his notice of dismissal was received last week from league President Maurice Podoloff.

Collins declined to say what led to his dismissal. But he long had been under fire from members of the Board of Governors (club owners) and team officials, many of whom had complained about assignment and quality of referees.

Grand Slammer by Cash Wins First Game, 5-3

Athletics Rap Foytack in Second Game for 9-3 Victory

DETROIT (AP)—Four defeats in their last six games have cost the Detroit Tigers some ground in the American League, but manager Bob Scheffing is not disturbed about his team's mild troubles at the plate.

Except for a flurry of base hits Sunday in Los Angeles, the Tiger bats have been reltively quiet in the last week.

"It was bound to happen," said Scheffing after the Tigers divided a Memorial Day doubleheader with the Kansas City Athletics. "We've been on a hard trip and we've been playing hard all the way. We'll get our spark back."

Norm Cash was the only Tiger with much spark Tuesday as a holiday throng of 51,791 warmly greeted the Detroiters back from a successful road trip. He provided a grand slam home run in the eighth inning of the opener and it gave the Tigers an uphill 5-3 victory.

The Athletics, who had 12 hits in a losing cause in the opener, banged out 15 safeties in capturing a 9-3 victory in the second game.

It was the largest Tiger Stadium crowd since the 1960 opener and they roared approval at every move the first place Tigers made.

They had little opportunity to cheer until late in the opener as the Athletics built up a 3-1 lead against starter Don Mossi and his successor, Bill Fischer.

Some frantic managerial string-pulling by Joe Gordon, the Kansas City manager and former Tiger skipper, did not hurt Detroit.

Gordon's starter, Jim Archer, was working on a perfect game for five innings. Entering the eighth, he had a 3-1 lead. When Archer walked Billy Bruton and yielded a one-out single to Al Kaline, Gordon summoned Bill Kunkel from the bullpen.

Kunkel walked Rocky Colavito, filling the bases. Gordon made a slow trip to the mound for a long conference with Kunkel, then had his catcher do some chatting with the pitcher. Finally Gordon accomplished his purpose — stalling long enough to get southpaw Bud Daley warmed up to pitch to Cash.

The Athletics decided the second game in a hurry. They got to Paul Foytack for a run in the first, then banged across five more in the third.

Three of them scored on a long, upper deck home run by Norm Siebern, who connected again for two runs in the fourth off Bob Bruce. Siebern's second poke sailed into the lower deck in center field, just to the right of the 440-feet marker.

The Athletics got only three singles in the last five innings, but starter Jerry Walker and relief man Kunkel held the Tigers to five hits. In the two games the Tigers collected only 10 hits, the A's 27.

The same teams meet tonight in a single game and Frank Lary will seek his eighth triumph. His pitching foe will be Joe Nuxhall.

CASH AT HOME — Norm Cash has a hard time trying to find home plate after his grand-slam homer in the 8th inning of the first game to lead the Tigers to a 5-3 win over the Kansas City Athletics. Rocky Colavito, Bill Bruton, Al Kaline all scored ahead of Cash. Steve Boros is the next batter. The Tigers lost the second game, 9-3.

Titans Eliminated at Ann Arbor

Western in NCCA Driver's Seat

ANN ARBOR (AP)—Western Michigan sat in the driver's seat today as the NCAA District 4 Baseball Tournament went into the third round.

The Mid-American conference champion was the only undefeated team in the double-elimination tourney. Michigan plays Cincinnati in the first game today and Western Michigan plays the winner in the second.

Both Michigan, the Big Ten champion, and Cincinnati, the Missouri Valley titlist, have been beaten. Michigan lost to Cincinnati in the opening round Monday but beat Detroit 6-3 yesterday to eliminate the Titans. Western Michigan beat Detroit Monday and then trimmed Cincinnati 8-1 yesterday.

The Western Michigan Broncos rode the brilliant pitching of Bob Hamet and general team slugging to victory. Hamet allowed only four hits and struck out 14. Every Bronco hit safely. Frank Quilicki hit a home run and two singles, driving in two runs.

Michigan had to come from behind to tie its game and then win it in the 10th inning. Catcher Bill Freehan, the Big Ten batting champion, crashed a double to drive home the winning run. Jim Steckley then singled Freehan home and Joe Merullo drove in another insurance run with a sacrifice fly.

Pair of Forfeits in Softball

4 Games Slated, 2 Played

Four City League softball games were scheduled Tuesday evening, all in the International division, but only two of the Memorial Day attractions were played.

Langdon's Boat Livery trimmed the Boys Club, 8-3, and 300 Lounge walloped State Hospital, 12-7, at Beaudette Park in the only two holiday contests held.

A couple of forfeits at Northside Park ended proceedings before they ever began. Dixie Bar was a forfeit winner over Auburn Bar and Motorcar Transport won the easy way when Universal Oil Seal forfeited.

The Boys Club outhit Langdon's, 12 to 8, but the winners thrived on six walks and four errors plus a few timely blows. Langdon's scored four runs in the 1st inning and led the rest of the way. Bob Bannon made three hits for the losers.

Both Lounge and Hospital collected nine safeties in a sloppy contest marred by nine errors. Lounge iced the decision in the top of the 7th by tallying five runs to break a 7-7 tie. Ted Wharry blasted a solo homer for the Lounge in the 5th stanza.

The bowlers of the Windsor area will soon be moving out of the Greater Detroit Bowling Association to form their own organization—Pontiac take heed.

Their reasons for leaving include the lack of enough recognition from the Detroiters plus a claim that the Association has not improved much in recent years.

The Windsor boys said after the meeting that they realized Pontiac would also like to have its own group and promised to help should such a campaign be started here.

A visit to the semi-annual meeting and the fact that local man Leonard Biallas was defeated in the presidential election convinced this writer that Pontiac must have its own organization for men.

Biallas had high hopes for doing a lot towards putting Pontiac on a much more important level with the Detroiters but they went down the drain in a one-sided victory for Les Townsend.

The best way to emphasize our thoughts on the meeting would be to say that anyone in attendance at the session from this area would have left it thoroughly convinced that Pontiac must make a move.

The session was completely dominated by a certain group and we understand they all are after telling key officers our opinions. None had any argument when we commented that Pontiac should get out in a hurry.

An added blow against this sector will come in August when the term ends for president Irv Unger of Lake Orion and Frank Mitzel retires as secretary. Both had been familiar with the situation here and helpful as much as possible. There will be little interest left for Pontiac except as a source of revenue when they and Biallas are out of top positions.

American Bowling Congress officials asked when Pontiac was going to set up its own association while in Detroit for their recent tournament.

Everyone seems in agreement that the men should have their own group here except members of the cliques who seem to make most of the decisions in the Motor City.

The main problems would be getting together funds and securing capable persons to organize and handle the setup. There are many men here who could do an outstanding job if they would be interested in taking on the task. Meetings with the Windsor people would get things off to a big start.

A group headed by Joe Bonfiglio tried to get the wheels in motion for forming an association several years ago but had little success. When the 700 Chapter was formed here, its key members talked about it as a project but since have had little to say on the subject. Something should be done. The women have a very successful organization here.

Only two area leagues were represented at the semi-annual meeting. Men from both loops went away disgusted. Of over 2,800 eligible to attend from the entire GDBA area, the attendance totaled about 80. Personal battles and blasts at the ABC stole the show from business in some cases.

The only move discussed which would benefit local bowlers was the setting up of sectional awards for high scores. It was announced the Greater Detroit Bowling Association Tournament, which most of them call their city tourney, would be resumed next season at three sites with the location nearest Pontiac around Eight Mile Rd.

Orioles Pass Yanks by Sweeping Chisox

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles, who made their surprise run on the American League pennant with a bunch of kid pitchers last season, are back knocking on the door again—but this time behind a young southpaw and a pair of old pappy guys.

They moved past the New York Yankees into third place, four games back of league-leading Detroit, by sweeping a Memorial Day doubleheader from Chicago's sagging White Sox, winning the opener 6-0 on a three-hit job by left-hander Steve Barber and taking the second game 2-1 on a combined four-hitter by Skinny Brown and Hoyt Wilhelm.

It was the third shutout for the 22-year-old Barber, tops in the majors at the moment, and gave him a 7-3 record, tying Detroit's Frank Lary (7-2) for the most victories in the majors this season. Brown, 36, and Wilhelm, 37, each have won five, with Wilhelm nailing his eighth save.

Those three pitchers have been in on all but seven of the Birds' 25 victories this season—and have been responsible for 10 of Baltimore's last 12 in a surge from sixth place.

Detroit's lead was shaved to 2½ games as the Tigers split with Kansas City, winning 5-3 before the A's came back for a 9-3 victory in the nightcap. Second-place Cleveland closed in by sweeping Minnesota 4-3 and 7-5. New York hammered seven home runs and beat Boston 12-3, and Washington knocked off the Los Angeles Angels 5-1.

Barber walked six and struck out three while blanking the White Sox on three singles for his fifth success in the last six decisions. The Orioles, who have won seven of their last eight, collected 15 hits with Gus Triandos and Jim Gentile, who socked his 13th home run, each driving in two runs. Bob Shaw (3-4) was the loser.

Brown (5-1) then won his fourth in a row, shutting out the Sox on two singles for eight innings. Wilhelm retired the first two in the ninth, then gave up a homer by Jim Landis—the first run the knuckleball master had allowed in 17 innings over 10 relief appearances. It also was the first run in 24 innings for the last place White Sox, who have lost nine of their last 10 and are 0-6 against Baltimore. Billy Pierce (1-4) lost it on Dick Williams' home run in the fourth inning.

A pinch single by Don Dillard broke a tie and won the first game for the Indians against Camilo Pascual (4-5). Wynn Hawkins and winning reliever Frank Funk (6-3) stopped Lennie Green's hitting streak at 24 games—longest in the majors in two years. In the nightcap, the Tribe scored in three-run bursts in the first and third innings, with half of the runs unearned, against Pedro Ramos (3-5). Mudcat Grant (5-0) won it with three innings of two-hit, shutout relief by Barry Latman after Bob Allison's homer had triggered a five-run sixth for the Twins. Minnesota has lost five in a row and 10 of 11.

Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris and Bill Skowron each slugged a pair of homers for the Yankees, tying the major league record for most players hitting two or more in a nine-inning game. Relievers Bill Stafford and Jim Coates blanked the Red Sox on three hits over the last six innings, with Stafford (1-2), the winner, retiring all 12 men he faced.

World Title to Irishman

LONDON (AP) — Unbeaten Johnny Caldwell, a young, aggressive Irishman who dethroned Alphonse Halimi and became the first Briton in 10 years to hold a world boxing championship, has a couple of disputes to settle.

And, after decisively outpointing Halimi in their bloody 15-round battle for the European version of the bantamweight title Tuesday, the 22-year-old champ laid down this two-fold plan for settling the problems:

1. A return bout with Halimi, whose manager said "Caldwell should have been disqualified" when he opened a cut over the Frenchman's eye in the eighth round.

2. A meeting with Brazil's Eder Jofre, recognized as champion in Latin America and by the U.S. National Boxing Association, in order to clear up the two claims to the title.

Caldwell, who made Halimi his 22nd straight victim, took command when a cut was opened over the champion's eye during an exchange early in the eighth round. The cut bled throughout the rest of the fight.

Caldwell, who weighed 117¾ to Halimi's 116½, emphasized after the fight he wanted to give Halimi a return match first.

MORE PEOPLE RIDE ON GOODYEAR TIRES THAN ON ANY OTHER KIND!

If everyone rode on the Captive-Air Double Eagle, there would be no more flat tires.

It's two tires in one. A nylon-and-steel cord "inner spare" makes this the one tire that doesn't go flat. If your Captive-Air Double Eagle ever does go flat from any cause: Goodyear will (1) pay for your road service, (2) replace the inner shield free, and (3) give you full allowance for all unused tread wear if the outer tire is damaged.

The new Double Eagle is trimmer. The trimmer it is, the more it "gives" against bumps. So you ride safer, softer, smoother, quieter. Yet you don't sacrifice a mile of the wonderful wear Double Eagles are famous for.

Reds Complete Rise From 8th to 1st

By The Associated Press

It was a long climb back to the top, but the Cincinnati Reds finally made it. They rocketed out of the cellar by winning 20 of their last 26 games for a share of the National League lead in what amounts to a three-way jam with San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The Reds had first place all to themselves back on April 20, then nose dived into an eight-game losing slump that plunked them into eighth place just a month ago. Now they've tied the Giants for first, .010 percentage points ahead of Los Angeles, by sweeping a Memorial Day doubleheader at San Francisco 7-6 and 6-4.

The Dodgers, who have played four more games than the Reds and Giants, winning two and losing two, crept under the blanket that covers the leaders by beating the St. Louis Cardinals 5-3 in a night game.

Pittsburgh's defending champs stayed in fourth place, 3½ games behind, after dropping a pair to the Chicago Cubs 5-3 and 10-0. And fifth place Milwaukee remained at .500, 4½ games behind, after splitting a doubleheader at Philadelphia. The Braves won the opener 3-1, but the last place Phils bounced back for an 11-4 romp in the nightcap.

The Reds and Giants slugged seven home runs in the opener. But it was an unearned run—scoring after third baseman Jim Davenport of the Giants dropped a pop up with two out in the ninth—that handed it to the Reds. The Giants just missed with four runs in the ninth, three on homers by Charlie Hiller, Hobie Landrith and pinchhitter Willie Mays, who had been rested by Manager Al Dark. Rookie Jim Maloney (2-2) was the winner, and hit one of the Reds' three home runs. Sam Jones (4-4) lost his third in a row as a starter.

The Reds then made it five straight with a sweep of the three-game set by scoring four runs in the third against Juan Marichal (2-2) in the second game. Bob Purkey, making his first relief appearance of the season, saved it for lefty Jim O'Toole (5-4) in the ninth. The Giants now have lost three in a row and six straight at home.

Consecutive doubles by Jim Gilliam and Willie Davis and an error by Card catcher Hal Smith brought the Dodgers from behind with two runs in the seventh against loser Bob Gibson (2-2). Right-hander Stan Williams (4-3) and reliever Larry Sherry held the Cards to three hits, one a homer by Curt Flood. The Cards had two on with one out in the ninth when Sherry saved it by striking out Ken Boyer and getting Stan Musial to line out. It was the third straight success for the Dodgers, who scored their first run off Card relief ace Lindy McDaniel in 30 innings since 1959, when Gil Hodges homered in the eighth.

Ron Santo's two-run double wrapped up the opener for the Cubs in the seventh inning. Right-hander Don Cardwell (4-2) then blanked the champs on seven hits in the nightcap as the Pirates lost their fifth in a row. The Cubs, after losing seven straight, beat southpaw Wilmer Mizell (4-2) and right-hander Bob Friend (5-6), collecting 25 hits in the two games and hitting two homers in each. Dick Ellsworth (2-3) was the first game winner.

Mizell had beaten the Cubs 14 times in 15 decisions going back to 1958. Friend now has lost six in a row as a starter, giving up 10 hits and six runs in four innings in this one.

The Braves won the opener on the four-hit pitching of Bob Buhl (2-4) and a tie-breaking, two-run triple by Hank Aaron in the eighth inning. Left-hander Don Ferrarese (0-2) was the loser in his first NL start. The Phils then broke loose for six runs against Carl Willey (2-1) in the third inning of the second game, with Tony Gonzalez hitting a three-run double and Ken Walters socking a two-run homer. Art Mahaffey (6-3) won his fourth in a row with his eighth complete game in nine starts, tops in the majors.

City's Sluggers Enjoy 'Holiday'

Heavy Hitting, Shutout by York Take Baseball Spotlight Tuesday

Some heavy hitting and one dazzling pitching performance highlighted City League baseball action on Memorial Day as the Pontiac Merchants, CIO Local 591 and Joy Boy Jets breezed to easy holiday triumphs at Wisner Field and Jaycee Park.

The Merchants launched a 14-hit assault to trounce Don Nicholie, 16-1. Mike Morris allowed only one hit, a 4th-inning triple by Ed Lovell, and struck out a dozen. John Fleser and Al Barkeley collected three safeties apiece for the winners with Fleser socking a two-run homer in the 4th.

John York hurled a brilliant three-hit shutout to feature the Jets' 7-0 victory over the Oxford Merchants. York fanned 12 batters. The Jets made 10 hits with Lou Seay notching three safe blows to set the pace.

The CIO handed Don's Used Cars of Lake Orion a 22-2 drubbing. An 18-hit attack triggered the rout, spotlighted by a perfect 5-for-5 day by Ron Woodhull. Felix Brooks added three hits to the Union cause and Clay Williams contributed a solo home run in the 4th. Bill Hurd was the winning pitcher on a three-hitter.

Spencer Traded to Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "This makes me even more sure we'll win the pennant."

That's the way one of the Los Angeles Dodgers, pitcher Roger Craig, assessed the acquisition of infielder Daryl Spender from the St. Louis Cardinals. Spencer was traded Tuesday for infielder Bob Lillis and outfielder Carl Warwick. No money was involved.

"We took more of a gamble than they did," Cardinal Manager Solly Hemus admitted. "We gave up an established ball player and they gave up two guys who weren't playing regularly. But they also gave up two guys who could be real good ballplayers.

"I think we gave away maybe 20 runs batted in, but we should make up for it in defense. With Lillis (at shortstop), our infield should be as good as any in the league. And if this kid Warwick is as good as we think he is, he should really help."

* * *

The Dodgers had two motives for acquiring Spencer. They were looking for a third baseman to replace Tommy Davis, who is really an outfielder, and they were looking for right-handed hitting power.

Kefauver Lauds Carbo Conviction

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., says the conviction of Frankie Carbo on extortion charges has given Congress "an unparalleled opportunity to effect a final and conclusive cleanup job in professional boxing."

Carbo, long reputed to be boxing's secret boss, was convicted Tuesday with four others on charges of trying to muscle in on the earnings of former welterweight champion Don Jordan.

The Senate Antitrust and Monopoly Subcommittee, headed by Kefauver, starts hearings today on the senator's bill which would set up federal regulation to drive racketeers out of boxing. The bill would create the post of federal boxing commissioner with powers to regulate professional boxing.

Under his proposal, Kefauver said, "Men like Carbo and Palermo couldn't operate."

"Professional boxing is racket-ridden from top to bottom," Kefauver said in a statement prepared for the start of hearings on his bill.

The bill, however, faces an uphill fight. Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has declared that he is in favor of federal regulation to drive underworld characters away from the ring, but that his agency is not the appropriate one to take on the licensing powers the bill would provide.

Kennedy's point is that the Justice Department is mainly a law enforcement agency. To take on regulatory and licensing chores would confuse the department's legal status, Kennedy says. Previous attorneys general have taken the same stand.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., senior GOP member on Kefauver's subcommittee, has called the bill an invasion of states' authority. Not all Democrats like the bill, either.

Kefauver introduced the bill after his subcommittee heard testimony that Carbo and other underworld figures wielded vast powers over boxing, and could make or break a fighter.

Kefauver said he will call Rocky Marciano, Jack Dempsey, Gene Tunney and Joe Louis as witnesses at the hearings. He said they are in favor of his bill.

Canada Cup Matches Hit by More Withdrawals

DORADO BEACH, Puerto Rico (AP)—The ninth annual Canada Cup matches, already scarred in a power war with the Professional Golfers Association, suffered another battle wound today with the withdrawal of the South Korean team because of the revolution in that Asiatic country.

Chang Sang Hahn and Hak Young Kim, the two Korean professionals, cabled Frank Pace Jr., of New York, president of the International Golf Association, here that they were unable to obtain visas for the trip and were withdrawing.

Teobaldo Parez and Francisco Gonzales, the two Venezuelans, also have informed Pace of visa problems. But the South American country is expected to have a team here by Thursday morning when twosomes from 33 countries tee off in quest of the Canada Cup, now held by the United States, and the individual crown worn by Belgium's Flory Van Donck.

Earlier this month the Cup matches lost Arnold Palmer, U.S. Open champion; Gary Player of South Africa, the Masters champion and leading money-winner of the U.S. PGA tour this spring; and Stan Leonard of Canada, only man ever to have won the individual title in the Cup matches twice.

All three were denied permission to compete for their countries here by the PGA because the PGA co-sponsored Memphis Open has the same June 1-4 dates as the Cup matches.

Central Star Best Athlete

First in Champs Meet; Falls, Kaines Topped at Kalamazoo

The state champion shot putter broke the meet record with a heave of 61 feet 3½ inches. He was the only county representative in the meet to place first.

Waterford's Joe Falls and Mike Kaines both met defeats for the first time in their specialties. Falls was topped by Ecorse's Tom Brown in the high hurdles. Kaines failed to place in the mile.

Jim Vogler of Lutheran West won the low hurdles with Falls second. Bob Trotter of PCH was third in the broad jump, trailing Gene Roberts of Muskegon who won with a leap of 21-4. Trotter jumped 21-½.

Walled Lake's crack mile relay team finished in second place and Berkley's Steve Meyer was third in the 440.

Troubled Chisox Can't Find Help

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago White Sox, crammed into the American League basement in the worse slump Al Lopez has experienced as a major league manager, would like to make a dazzling trade but can't.

"We aren't even close to making one," said Vice President Hank Greenberg after the sox dropped a doubleheader 6-0 and 2-1 to the Baltimore Orioles Tuesday.

Bartzen Wins at Tulsa

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — Bernard (Tut) Bartzen of Dallas Tuesday won the Tulsa Tennis Club invitational championship by defeating Chuck McKinley of St. Louis, 6-0, 4-6, 8-6.

Surprised Fisherman Wins Fight With Trout

By DON VOGEL
Outdoor Writer, Pontiac Press

Ron Russell flipped his line across the stream so the night crawler dropped into the water and was swept under the bank.

The line twitched, Russell hesitated a moment, then set the hook. Instead of a 10-inch brookie sailing out of the hole toward him, the fish on the end of the line protested violently.

Russell, who lives at 5899 Tubbs, Waterford Township, carefully played the thrashing fish to keep it away from snags. Rufus Gage, a fishing partner who lives near Russell, finally slipped the net under it.

It was a 17½-inch brook trout, weighing 2½ pounds. Russell declined to disclose the exact location, but he did say that he was fishing the Huron River.

The trout had dark sides, bright red spots and very pink undercoloring. The size and coloring indicates that the trout had been in the stream before this year's planting.

He probably was left over from the 1960 crop. A 17½-inch brookie is a rare catch anywhere in the Lower Peninsula.

Russell has made several good catches of brookies on the Huron, but adds, "It's getting so the bluegills and bullheads take the bait before a trout has a chance."

Northern pike become legal on Pontiac Lake Thursday. This means that some entries can be expected in The Press Big Fish Derby. The lake has a reputation for producing some big northerns.

Pontiac Lake is an experimental project of the Conservation Department. Black bass are legal year-around on this lake. The pike season remains closed a month longer than on other waters and no spearing is allowed in the winter.

Rainbow trout, northern pike and bluegills are presently eligible for the contest, determined on weight only. Bass can be entered when the regular season opens June 16.

Fishermen assaulted area lakes Memorial Day. Checks in the county disclosed light catches.

Upper Silver, Union, Crotched and Elizabeth Lakes are fair for bluegills. Calico bass are beginning to move on Deer and LakeVille Lakes.

Cadillac Lodging Center Expected to Open in Fall

CADILLAC (AP) — Plans for an immediate start on a $1.9 million tourist lodging and entertainment center on M-55 just outside Cadillac were announced yesterday.

A target date of Oct. 1 was set for opening the bowling lanes portion of the center and Dec. 1 was set for completion of the tourist accommodations.

Speaking for the newly formed Caberfae Lodge and Lanes, Inc., were David Cole of Lansing, president; Everett White of Williamston, treasurer and Paul Cameron of St. Louis, secretary.

Besides a 66-unit motel, plans call for a year-around swimming pool, an ice skating rink, public dining room, cocktail lounge, two private dining rooms, dance floor, tennis courts, archery range and commercial shops for sports equipment.

Dayton Frosh Cager Being Disciplined

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Roger Brown, University of Dayton freshman named as an "intermediary" in the recent basketball scandals, Tuesday was informed that he will not be permitted to re-enroll at UD following the close of the present semester.

The announcement by the Rev. Raymond Roesch, S.M., president of the university, came after the school had received an official and confidential report from the New York district attorney's office and had a conference with Brown.

A university spokesman said that, under questioning by Father Roesch this morning, Brown admitted that certain parts of the district attorney's report were true.

Big Finish for Kelso

NEW YORK (AP)—Kelso, the 1960 horse of the year, staged a brilliant Carry Back finish right on the wire Tuesday and won the $114,000 Metropolitan Handicap at Aqueduct by a neck from pace-setting All Hands.

DEER NUTRITION — Borrowing a technique used on cows and other domestic animals, Conservation Department game men are literally "looking into" the digestive tract of this deer. The "window" placed in the stomach of the deer allows specialists to see how long it takes the deer to digest various foods at certain times of the winter.

Winter Deer Food Studied by Experts

Deer can lose up to about 25 per cent of their fall weight and still survive the winter yarding season, provided they are healthy in the first place.

Their food needs go up as temperatures go down; as much as 25 to 33 per cent more food is required than normal when temperatures are extremely cold.

White cedar is the only common conifer which, by itself, will carry a deer through the winter; add to this hardwoods, even in small amounts, and the value of a deer's total diet is greatly boosted.

When deer are able to feed on the right kinds and amounts of food, they will come out of the most rigorous winter in excellent shape. They prefer foliage growing in the open to that in the shade.

Underfed does bear fewer and less healthy fawns. Malnutrition leads to smaller bucks with small antlers . . . prolonged hunger leaves deer more susceptible to disease, to attacks by parasites, and other predators.

These are a few of the findings that research on deer nutrition has turned up over the years to guide Conservation Department game men in managing the state's deer herd.

COMPLEX ANIMAL

There are still many things that game men need to know about the complex whitetail, including why many deer starve each winter and early spring when their stomachs are full of food.

Hoping to answer this riddle, Department game men and researchers from Michigan State University are currently in the midst of a new deer nutrition study which literally allows them to "look into" the whys and wherefores of deer digestion during the winter.

Borrowing a technique used on cows and other domestic animals, biologists are focusing their study through a small "window" placed in the stomach of a four-year-old doe at Rose Lake wildlife experiment station near East Lansing.

The "window" consists of a capped rubber tube which extends from the body wall to the inside of the deer's stomach. It does not disturb the animal's normal bodily functions.

Through the tube's transparent cap, biologists are able to watch the doe's complicated digestive process to determine how long it takes the animal to digest various food samples at different times of the winter.

Game men reason that some foods may be so hard to digest at certain times of the winter that deer actually starve to death while waiting for food to pass through their digestive system. Autopsies show that most starved deer have full stomachs.

Deer, like sheep, are ruminants. After a deer chews its cud, only material which is readily digestible passes on through its four stomachs. The remainder stays in the first stomach. If a deer eats very much hard-to-digest food, there soon may not be enough room in this stomach for new food which is digestible and needed to keep the animal from starving.

Much of a deer's nutrition comes from cellulose (plant fibers) in the winter. At this time of the year, cellulose undergoes chemical changes and becomes more difficult to digest than in the growing season.

Alaska Bear Season Open

NEW YORK (NEA)—Just before emplaning for the valuable piece of real estate once known as Seward's Folly, Maj. Harold F. Palmer had some advice for sportsmen.

"Don't," he said, "put that big game rifle in moth balls for the summer. Come to Alaska, loaded for bear."

Major Palmer flies big ones for the Air Force from the Elmendorf Base near Anchorage and little ones as a bush pilot.

"Alaska has all the bears," said the major, who is a one-man walking around and flying Chamber of Commerce for the 50th state. "The season for all but the polars is at its height until June 30.

The Kodiak, brown and grizzly bear are all the same species, with variations. Kodiaks, so-called because they live on Kodial Island, are generally referred to as the second largest land animals, smaller only than the elephant. Despite their huge size—a single hide can cover a large wall—Kodiaks are no more vicious than the little brown bears foolish tourists feed in our National Parks.

"All bears are mean at times," Major Palmer said. "Trouble is, you never know when those times will come. Maybe the grizzly, because he's a loner, is a little more aggressive than his cousins, but none are animals to fool around with.

"The polar is real mean. He's not used to being hunted by man, so he's not afraid of firearms. To a polar, a man on ice is just a meal, like a big, juicy walrus, so he goes after the hunter."

Major Palmer, who is planning a big polar hunt next spring, explained that two aircraft are always used on the Kotzebue Strait across from Siberia where the white beauties abound.

"The temperature is always below zero, with prevailing winds from 10 to 25 miles an hour," Palmer explained. "One plane is used to land the hunters on the ice and the other stands by in case of accident."

It costs a non-resident between $1,500 and $1,800 to get a polar bear and about $1,000 for a brown. Any big game rifle with the proper load can kill any game in Alaska. There is a bag limit of one on everything except caribou and deer and only caribou and moose can be hunted without a licensed guide.

Birmingham Shooter Wins Lansing Event

He took the honors by breaking 98 of 100 clay birds. Smith also won the 20 gauge division with a 99 x 100.

Bob Thiefels of Pontiac won the small gauge, but needed a shoot-off with Chet Crites of Detroit after both had posted 49 x 50 scores. Thiefels placed second in Class B.

The 22nd annual Motor State Open Skeet Championships will be this weekend at the Detroit Gun Club on Oakley Park Road near Walled Lake.

STATE'S NAMESAKE — Michigan is called the Wolverine State, but no one is sure if its namesake ever lived here. Back in the early days when trapping flourished, Detroit fur traders bought wolverine furs taken from forests north of the state and that's probably how Michigan came by its nickname. The absence of this animal from Michigan puzzles scientists because the Upper Peninsula habitat and climate are suited for the wolverine, called one of the meanest animals alive.

Final Stages Reached In Battle With Lamprey

(Editor's Note—The United States and Canada are entering a new phase of the war they have waged against the sea lamprey since the scavanger fish invaded the Great Lakes 40 years ago. Woodie Jarvis, outdoor writer of the Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. Evening News, has written especially for The Associated Press a six-part series on the battle to rid the lakes of the sea lamprey and bring trout back. The series will appear in The Press on Wednesdays and Fridays, starting today).

By WOODIE JARVIS

What may be a final countdown on destruction of the sea lamprey begins soon on Lake Superior.

U. S. and Canadian field workers activated 44 electrical weirs on major spawning streams in the big northern lake this spring.

The lampreys will begin their spawning runs into the streams, and be captured by the weirs, when the water warms to about 50 degrees.

The spawning runs last 16 weeks. During that time last year the electrical barriers captured 44,500 lampreys. This was 11 per cent below the number captured in 1959.

How many lampreys will the barriers trap this year?

That's the $10,000,000 question—the amount spent so far in efforts to destroy the vampire that came from the sea into the upper Great Lakes just 40 years ago and virtually wiped out the famous Mackinaw trout.

SHARP SUCKER

The lampreys fasten to the almost scaleless trout with a sucker and cut through the flesh, feeding on the juices of the trout.

Lake Superior is the testing ground. Lampreys there have been under continuous attack for the past eight years.

The assault began in 1953 with the placing of electrified weirs on Lake Superior spawning streams. It was intensified in 1958 with the beginning of large scale chemical treatment of streambeds above the weirs and in small unbarricaded streams.

The barriers trapped upbound lampreys, preventing them from spawning. The chemicals destroyed lamprey larvae that spend from four to six years in the streambeds after hatching.

In all, 72 Superior streams were treated over a 2½ year period, the final one last October. But after the larvae reach maturity, they spend from 12 to 20 months in the lake preying on fish.

Thus the count of lampreys captured in the barriers this spring, as compared to previous years, will be a preliminary indication of the success of the lamprey control program.

Figures showing a definite trend are expected by late June and probably will be announced at the annual meeting of the Great Lakes Fishery Commission in Ann Arbor on June 22-23.

It's possible that the figures will show a substantial decrease in the numbers of spawning lampreys in Lake Superior.

FINAL COUNTDOWN

If so, the countdown on the lamprey will have started and final destruction of the vampire in all the Great Lakes above Niagara Falls can be expected within the next four or five years.

Complete figures, however, cannot be expected before 1963 when 20 months — the lamprey's maximum life span in the big lake — will have elapsed since the last Superior stream was treated.

U. S. and Canadian administrators are swinging the machinery of lamprey destruction into Lakes Michigan and Huron.

Lake Michigan has 78 known spawning streams, which will require about two years for chemical treatment. Lake Huron has 81. Seven streams were treated in each lake last year and the program will be pushed into high gear this coming summer.

Huron Canoe Guide Ready

A series of four Huron River canoeing guide maps illustrating routes from Pontiac to Lake Erie are now available for free distribution from the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority.

The Authority maintains canoe camp sites for overnight use by permit with stoves, water and sanitary facilities at Labadie Island in Kensington Metropolitan Park near Milford and along the Huron River a half mile south of Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park, located 12½ miles northwest of Ann Arbor; and a canoe camp site near Hamburg.

These maps or canoe camp permits may be secured from the Huron-Clinton Metropolitan Authority, 1750 Guardian Building, Detroit. These maps are also available at Kensington Park or Hudson Mills Metropolitan Park.

There is a canoe livery located in Milford (Michigan) which provides canoe rentals and pick-up service. No facility of this type is maintained at any of the authority parks.

Turnip Patch Legal Test Won by U.P. Deer Herd

LANSING (AP) — Wilbert Williams, an Upper Peninsula farmer, still has his problems with deer and there's not much he or the state can do about it.

Williams' fight to recover damages for deer losses on his turnip crops ended this week in Lansing.

Circuit Judge William R. Peterson, sitting in the state court of claims, ruled Williams failed to allege facts stating a basis for a lawful claim and that his lawyer failed to file a brief due weeks ago.

Former Rep. Andrew H. Wisti, of Hancock, started the drawn out legal battle over the turnip patch.

He charged the deer "showed absolutely no regard for the property rights" of Williams and nibbled the turnips "with great relish." Wisti claimed the deer were wards of the state.

Williams then asked for $1,100 damages to his one acre of turnips. The turnip field is next to a large forest in Houghton County.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Warren R. Snyder agreed Williams had been denied a permit to shoot the errant deer by the State Conservation Department.

However, Snyder denied the deer did the damage. He blamed it on rabbits.

Snyder said Williams was "imprudent" in choosing "his place of business" next to the forest.

"Thus he was inviting the deer to come in and eat his turnips," Snyder said. "Everyone knows the voracious propensities deer have and possess."

When deer tire of staples such as bark, twigs and boughs, they go for garden crops, Snyder added.

"To permit an aggrieved farmer to bring actions against the state for woodchucks burrowing in his yards and meadows with impunity . . . for the predatory skunk or deer who feast on those extra fresh and tempting turnips, would be to open the floodgates of litigation," Snyder said.

Light Winter Kill Leaves More Trout in Streams

By United Press International

There is new and refreshing statement which keeps popping up when strangers meet on Michigan trout streams this year.

After the usual amenities the exchanges almost always seem to include a statement which goes something like, "There are a lot of fish, I can see 'em but I can't catch 'em."

Cold weather has put the damper on early season fishing, particularly trout fishing, in many areas. But still the fact that most fishermen are agreeing that there are a lot of trout in the streams, the result of a light winter kill, is significant.

State fisheries men have been forced to retrench most of their programs in the past two years because of lack of funds. Michigan had been well on its way toward becoming a "put and take" state as far as stocking was concerned but the thin purse forced a change in this.

Last year when it became evident that the state's trout stocking program was going to be chopped to the bone, many fisherman thought light creels would be the rule, rather than the exception.

Opening weekend came as a pleasant surprise for these fishermen, the catch was pretty good. Since then the catch has fallen off generally and, as far as the state as a whole is concerned, can only be described as spotty.

On the streams, however, the agreement is resounding. The fish are there in good numbers and if catches are light blame the weather.

A swing through the eastern Upper Peninsula last week turned up a lot of frustrated fishermen on such streams as the Indian, the Big Murphy, the Sucker and the Two Hearted.

Catches were better further east but there were few bragging fish going into creels.

In the northern Lower Peninsula fair catches were coming in on the Sturgeon, the Pigeon and the Black, but again no bragging fish.

Fishermen who were worried about the curtailment of the stocking program can take heart in the statement of a Maumee, Ohio, trout fisherman encountered on the Indian.

"I only get up here about twice a year," he said. "After three days I'm convinced that there are more fish in this river than I have seen in 10 years . . . even if I haven't caught them."

It seems likely that put and take stocking wasn't the answer to complaints of a decline in the number of trout. The only thing needed was one mild winter to restore the fish population.

Bleak Duck Outlook Seen for This Fall

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Interior Department has some bad news for duck hunters — the outlook is bleak for the 1961 duck crop.

Serious draught conditions on the best duck nesting areas on the Canadian prairies threaten sharply to curtail waterfowl production again this year, the department said today on the basis of early reports.

Field reports described the waterfowl breeding habitat as in poorer condition than it was last year or in 1959 when drought conditions brought new restrictions on hunting of migratory waterfowl.

Memorial Day Gates Lower Than in 1960

By The Associated Press

Memorial Day attendance for major league baseball dropped some 20,500 from last year's figures despite an added site on the schedule due to the American League's expansion to 10 teams this season.

Although first place Detroit had the day's top crowd, 51,791, for a doubleheader with Kansas City, the American League's total of 128,071 was 7,578 below the 1960 figure of 135,649. The two new clubs in the AL, Los Angeles and Washington, drew 14,277 at Washington.

The National League attracted 119,926, a drop of 12,948 from last year. The first place battle between Cincinnati and the Giants drew the NL's top attendance, 41,693, at an Francisco, where a mob of 20,000 stormed the gates and crushed three ticket booths in pursuit of 6,000 tickets.

The two league total was 247,997, compared to last year's attendance of 268,523.

Actor Jeff Chandler Continues to Improve

CULVER CITY, Calif. (AP)—Actor Jeff Chandler continues to improve after two emergency operations for internal bleeding, hospital attendants report.

Chandler, 42, underwent surgery May 13 for a slipped spinal disc. Complications developed 10 days later and his condition became critical from an internal hemorrhage.

He rallied after surgery to repair an artery, but last Saturday a second such operation became necessary. Since then the hospital has reported slow but steady improvement.

U.S. and Russian Friendship Experiment Doomed to Fail

(Editor's Note: A. F. Mahan, now an Associated Press staff writer stationed at Detroit, was a participant in a World War II experiment deliberately designed to test whether young Americans and young Russians could fight and work and play together as friends. This is the story of that experiment.)

By A. F. MAHAN

On June 3, 1944, American newspaper headlines blazoned: "U.S. Bombers Shuttle to Russian Bases."

Actually, they were American bases in Russia. There were three: At Poltava, Mirgorod and Piriatin, all in the Ukraine. Each was manned by an American-Russian team, with at least some men from each side assigned to almost every job.

When Gen. Carl Spaatz, commander of U.S. Strategic Air Forces in Europe, called me in and told me I'd been selected as public relations officer for "Operation Frantic," he added:

"The public relations possibilities of this project are worth far more than any targets we ever will hit getting there (to Russia). It is a chance to prove to them and ourselves we can get along; that we can be friends, man to man. It may be a turning point in history."

Some stories need telling from the start. Here is one.

Convinced that Americans and Russians could get along together if they knew each other better, President Franklin D. Roosevelt sold Premier Josef Stalin on the joint operation.

Pin-point bombing on the Eastern front could be of tremendous advantage to the U.S.S.R.

Secretary of State Cordell Hull was the President's salesman and went to Moscow to close the deal in late 1943.

'OPERATION FRANTIC'

The building of the three bases for "Operation Frantic" started in February of 1944. On June 2 the first American Flying Fortresses came roaring in from Italy. They had dropped their bomb loads on Nazi-held Romanian oil plants en route.

The building job, primarily that of the Russians, had been a tremendous undertaking. The land had been fought over, going and coming. Few buildings were left. Airfields were bomb-pocked; most runways pulverized concrete; many railways shattered.

U.S. supplies had to come the long way around, via Murmansk or the Persian Gulf. The supplies included: Food and clothing for 1,500 Americans; 12,000 tons of steel planking for runways; 10,000 tons of high octane gasoline for Flying Fortresses and Mustangs and Lightnings then yet to come from England, as well as Italy.

When the American operating personnel arrived we were welcomed warmly. Russian WACs brought us flowers. Their officers invited ours to tea.

We had been well indoctrinated with "the great experiment" and "we can get along" theories. Apparently they had, too. Both sides had picked a liberal portion of personnel capable of speaking the other's language.

Both sides were respectful. Our big bombers and engineering know-how awed them. Their ability to make-do and knock the Nazis silly with their mostly outmoded and rattle-trap equipment amazed us.

Until GI food arrived, we shared their mess (dining facilities). A proud people, and with a government anxious to prove communism provided the best, we got steaks for a while—morning, noon and night.

That, incidentally, was a far more scarce item on the average Russian's wartime dinner table than on yours.

OPERATION SMOOTH

We boned up on Russian; they on English. We chirped a cheery "Daubrey Ootra." They responded with "Good Morning." They said "OK" and we "Khoro-Shaw."

American correspondents wrote stories about the camaraderie that prevailed—at first. So did Red Star (the Russian army's Stars and Stripes) and Pravada (which translates into "Truth.").

Russian WACs exhibited no hesitancy in accepting GI dates to attend showing of American movies or pairing off at Russian-sponsored dances and concerts.

Soviet airmen joined in horseshoe pitching and volleyball, and they watched with what appeared first-time interest a game Russia later claimed to have invented—baseball.

Maybe it was the beginning of the end when, after strenuous representation on our part, we got Lt. Gen. Alexander R. Perminov, the Russian commander, to lift a ban against American newspapers and magazines coming in with our mail.

The Russians had explained originally they opposed importation of magazines and newspapers because some would contain criticism of President Roosevelt and other governmental leaders. In time of peril Russians had been inculcated with banding together and unquestionably following the leader.

An American promise to keep the newspapers and magazines among our own was broken. Many turned up in Russian hands and they were fat by Russian four-page standards—and they had advertisements of many wonderful things in capitalistic America which hadn't even been available in Russia before the war. That, a highly placed officer was later to explain, is what really caused the ban in the first place.

Some six weeks after our first planes shuttled in and out, we began to note a hesitancy on the part of our Russian friends. About the same time we noted new faces and new uniforms mingled among the Russian airmen. These were the faces and uniforms of the NKVD, as the state police then were known.

Our Russian friends figited and were obviously anxious to break off conversations not strictly business. But they tried to do it without being rude. Soon some of the more friendly toward the Americans began to disappear. "Transferred to the front" was the explanation.

At first we had been aware of only one NKVD, a Maj. Maxseemoff, with whom even Gen. Perminov had to clear policy matters.

GAVE HER THINGS

Nurses and doctors at our tent hospital had all but adopted a bright, blue-eyed, honey-haired WAC of perhaps 17. They shared their precious chocolates with her whenever they got any and some of the nurses gave her nylon undies and stockings.

One day a nurse found the girl weeping brokenheartedly. She was having to go, she said, to a labor battalion at Stalingrad. Lt. Col. Jack Jackson, our medics chief, went straight to Perminov to protest.

The general said the girl was being transferred for petty thefts. Col. Jackson protested she hadn't stolen anything and offered to produce others to back him up. Finally, Jackson said Perminov told him:

She went.

A Russian army lieutenant, home to recover from wounds, was a guest of an American officer on a tour of the base and at dinner. He later was learned the NKVD roughed him up for it.

These are just two of a series of examples of what happened. They didn't match a free-born American's idea of fair play; nor did he take kindly to seeing friends, even newly acquired ones, being pushed around.

As tempers rose, some were prone to blame all Russians—at least for putting up with any such system.

Russian crews flew our transports to Moscow and between the bases, but we said who went as passengers. Whenever an NKVD man climbed aboard, the plane immediately became "overloaded" and he invariably was picked as the departee. That, of course, didn't help the situation.

It didn't get any better and before the end of World War II, Eastern command of U.S. Strategic Air Forces in Europe was deactivated.

Thus ended an experiment in togetherness that was announced to the world on June 2, 1944, in this initial communique:

A large force of strategic bombers and fighters today attacked Romanian targets selected by our Russian ally and then continued on to Russian bases."

A few Americans, 1,500 out of more than 165 million, now know what a newspaperman (Cy Sulzberger of the New York Times) once wrote of life in the police state:

"Explaining to one who has grown up in the freedom of the United States what it is like to live in Russia is like trying to explain the sensation of placing your hand on a red hot stove. You know you have been burned, but there is no adequate way to explain the sensation. You've got to be burned to understand what it's like."

Market Weak but Quite Busy

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved moderately higher in heavy trading early this afternoon.

The advance was selective, fractional gains among key stocks outnumbering losers.

Following the Memorial Day weekend, a four-day market recess, some large blocks were traded and the ticker tape lagged as much as three minutes behind transactions in a first hour which piled up volume of 1.17 million shares.

Gains of more than a point by some of the blue chips added a note of strength but there was little in the way of group leadership.

Steels were mixed. Although steel production rose for the 11th straight week, it was forecast that the industry would run into normal summer slackness.

Motors were easy as Wall Street anticipated the beginning of negotiations for new labor contracts.

Sewage-Pact Deadline Close

Commission Will Go to Wire on Approving Expansion Contracts

Contracts totaling $2,507,260 are scheduled to be approved shortly after tonight's 8 p.m. meeting begins.

The action will be less than four hours away from the deadline set by Oakland County Circuit Court in behalf of the Water Resources Commission.

In its move to curb Clinton River pollution, the State Water Resources Commission demanded that expansion be under contract by June 1 and completed by this time two years from now.

A general obligation bond issue to finance the expansion has still to be approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission. The issue will be $200,000 to $300,000 less than the $3.53 million originally anticipated.

REZONING RECOMMENDED

On hand tonight is a planning commission recommendation that the commission rezone about eight acres off North Perry Street from residential to commercial to make way for the proposed $2 million Glenwood Avenue shopping center.

The first move would be to have a rezoning ordinance drawn up for a public hearing later this month.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would recommend renewal of the one-year lease agreement with Pontiac Transit Corp., the city's bus line.

He said the agreement is almost the same as the one approved last year, when the company started operations here. The only difference, Willman said, is acknowledgement in the new lease that the company is now using new buses.

Grains Hold Steady in Moderate Dealings

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices held generally steady to firm today in moderately active two-sided early dealings on the board of trade.

Soybeans tilted toward weakness, however, with a new crop months off about a cent during the first several minutes. The July delivery appeared to have rather active support at times which some dealers said probably was reinstated of long positions that had been liquidated for the weekend and the Memorial Day holiday.

Wheat and corn scarcely stirred from their previous closes in a fairly even balance of trade.

Watson to Tell of Own Threats

Card With R.C.H. on It Given to Neighbor as Clue if Trouble

DETROIT (AP) — Gordon Watson told from the witness stand today of threats made against his own life after the 1959 slaying of his business partner, Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, in a lucrative Royal Oak dealership.

Watson is on trial in Lassiter's slaying, charged with first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

He has pleaded innocent and has ridiculed the state's accusation that he and Lassiter's pretty wife Nelle engineered the plot that resulted in the killing.

William Folgmann, a neighbor, testified earlier that Watson once gave him his business card, with the initials "R.C.H." penciled on it. Folgmann was to take it to police if anything happened to Watson.

Roy C. Hicks (R.C.H.) is one of three men who admitted the actual slaying of Lassiter and now are serving life-term prison sentences on pleas of guilty to second-degree murder.

Meeting Scheduled by Medical Society

The Oakland County Medical Society will hold its quarterly business meeting Thursday night at the Kingsley Inn, in Bloomfield Hills.

The 8 p.m. program will be preceded by a social hour at 6 and dinner at 7.

The doctors will discuss federal legislation for medical health care for the aged and changes in the Blue Cross-Blue Shield program.

Author Taken by Death

NORWICH, Conn. (AP) — Jay Jerome Williams, 68, author and former newspaperman, died Monday of cancer. Williams, at one time an adviser to former President Syngman Rhee of South Korea, started his newspaper career with the Chicago Tribune and later worked in Washington. He was an executive of U.S. Daily, a forerunner of U.S. News and World Report, in the 1920s.

3,000 Pupils Will Fill Stadium With Music

Wisner Stadium will be filled with the sound of music tomorrow night. Making the sound will be some 3,000 fifth and sixth grade pupils.

Each year the Pontiac Public Schools present a big spring music festival, with elementary and secondary schools alternating years.

The younger set gets the nod this year, and they have prepared a mammoth four-act prelude to the Centennial. "This Is Our City—Pontiac."

The program will begin at 7:30. It is a portrayal in song, dance, words and pageantry of the spirit of this city.

"With this program, we hope to show that from its wealth of Indian lore to its wealth of industry, Pontiac is truly the personification of the glory that is America," said Mrs. Edith Roach Snyder, principal of Webster School and elementary vocal music department supervisor.

INDIAN 'SPECTACULAR'

She is one of the pageant's directors.

Others include Jean Young, supervisor, elementary physical education; Gerald Irish and Eldon Rosegart, supervisors, elementary instrumental music; and Vera Mae Adams, of the Pontiac Central High School radio workshop.

The script was written by Miss Adams.

Prelude to the program will be an Indian "spectacular" with the all-city chorus singing "Song of Pontiac," composed by Mrs. Geraldine Cheal, elementary vocal music teacher.

Indian games and dances will be performed by Emerson, Herrington, Malkim, Crofoot and Mark Twain pupils.

The first act, "The Saginaw Trail," and Act II, "Old Pete," trace Pontiac history through the Civil War.

GERMAN BAND

Act III, "Wheels and More Wheels," will feature a German Band from Alcott, LeBaron and Will Rogers schools.

The finale will consist mainly of a tableau and a grand parade. Joining in will be members of the Pontiac Board of Education, Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, Greater Pontiac Centennial Committee, and City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Children have been rehearsing for many weeks and are spending many hours in final preparation at Wisner Stadium this week.

Women Will Spread Word of Centennial

A group of Pontiac businesswomen will spread the Centennial word from Pontiac to Dayton, Ohio, Friday.

Wearing Centennial garb and riding in two new Pontiacs marked with the Centennial seal, a nine-member delegation of the Tipacon chapter of the American Business Women's Association plans to drive to Dayton for the association's district convention this weekend.

The delegation decided to help advertise the Centennial along the way. Delegates will sport Centennial bonnets and dresses at the convention.

Junior Academy Graduates 15 at Church Rite

Rev. John P. Erhard, pastor, was the main speaker. Ralph R. James, principal of the academy, spoke briefly and the ceremony included songs by the school choir.

Graduating from the 10th grade were Eddie L. Arnold of 6588 Cooley Drive, White Lake Township, and David E. Wilson of 111 Palmer St. Both will attend the Adelphian Academy in Holly next fall.

The other graduates were all in the 8th grade graduating class. The local academy runs through the 10th grade.

Another Film About Pontiac?

Movie Would Spell Out Cooperation on Loop Between Agencies

Now they're talking about another film about Pontiac.

It would show how downtown business leaders donated nearly $20,000 for the highway needs study out of which plans for the loop grew.

Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, said the State Highway Department started thinking in earnest about producing such a film after discussing the idea with representatives from the city, Urban Renewal Administration and Bureau of Public Roads.

Cost estimates and a story line are now being developed by the highway department, Stierer said.

The film would point out how intergovernmental cooperation in planning and financing helped pave the way for the revitalization of a downtown business district, Stierer said.

Though not yet off the drawing boards, the proposed loop is fast becoming the first major step in the revitalization of downtown Pontiac.

Stierer said the highway department thought the film might spur similar projects in other Michigan cities. He said the Bureau of Public Roads believed the film could be shown in cities across the nation for the same purpose.

Britain Says Russ Block A-Ban Talks

GENEVA (AP)—Britain formally accused the Soviet Union today of blocking the Geneva negotiations to halt the nuclear armaments race.

Sir Michael Wright, British delegate to the deadlocked three-power test ban talks, expressed "intense regret" of the British government over the Soviet attitude in the negotiations.

He severely criticized the Soviet delegate, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, for rejecting out-of-hand a Western compromise proposal, presented Monday, to lower the number of inspections on the site of suspicious earth tremors in the Soviet Union.

Pastor Leaving Area for Church Program

Rev. Arvid E. Anderson, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church in Waterford Township for the past 11 years, will leave his pastorate to serve in the "Long Range Program of Parish Education" for the new Lutheran Church in America, a merger of four Lutheran churches.

REV. ARVID E. ANDERSON

The constituting convention of the merged church, representing 6,000 congregations of the United States and Canada, will be held in Cobo Hall, Detroit, in June 1962.

Since 1956, parish education boards have been preparing an entirely new educational system for the congregations. It is expected to be published in 1964, when the curriculum has been developed and field tested.

Pastor Anderson will work in the interpretation, introduction and enlistment of the new program.

The Andersons with their three children will leave for Philadelphia, Pa., headquarters of the parish educational department after Aug. 6 when Pastor Anderson conducts his last service here.

Rev. Reuben E. Norling of Detroit, who has been elected vice pastor of the congregation, will conduct the official affairs of the congregation while a successor is being secured.

CHURCH GROWS

Pastor Anderson came to Christ Lutheran Church, a mission of St. John's Lutheran Church, after his graduation from the seminary.

The church has grown to over 1,000 children and adults with a Sunday school enrollment of 550.

During this period a new addition was completed and dedicated at a cost of $130,000, a new parsonage purchased, and additional land secured for expansion.

Pastor Anderson has baptized over 600 children and adults, and confirmed over 300 young people. He has served as leader in the camping program for the past 10 years, and worked on the committee to secure a new camp for Michigan churches.

President of the Waterford Township Ministerial Fellowship, he serves on the Youth Protective Services Study Committee for Waterford Township and is pastor-president of the Waterford-Drayton Plains Rotary Club.

Supervisors Set Joint Meeting of Six Counties

Around 60 Oakland County supervisors will meet tomorrow in a new setting — Detroit — as supervisors from six Southeastern Michigan counties attend the fourth annual joint meeting staged by the Supervisors Inter-County Committee.

At committee-of-the-whole meetings of the several boards in the afternoon, the Oakland supervisors will discuss acceptance of bids for parking lots, lighting and sewer work at the new courthouse.

"We're taking this up now so we can get the project under way," said Norman R. Barnard, the board's committee clerk

Dr. James K. Pollock, vice chairman of the permanent advisory commission to the President on intergovernmental relations, will address the group at the Veterans' Memorial Building in the evening.

Colored glass blocks are being used in church windows instead of stained glass.

Accident in Avon Township

Nine Occupants of Car Injured

Nine occupants of one car suffered minor injuries last night in a two-car accident in Avon Township, according to sheriff's deputies.

Five persons injured in three other accidents in the Pontiac area were hospitalized.

The nine were injured when a car driven by John H. Hudson, 21, of 855 Orion Road, Orion Township, hit their vehicle in the rear, deputies said.

Treated at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital were the driver, Glenn D. Mapes, 69, of Detroit and his wife Catheryn, 66.

OTHER INJURIES

Also injured were Mrs. Delores J. Preston, 28, and her children, Gary E., 8, Donna J., 6, Martin G., 2, Gail S., 7, Daniel H., 5, and Maureen, 1.

The accident occurred at 10:30 p.m. on John R Road north of Auburn Road.

Two persons were injured at 1:20 a.m. today when their car smashed into a streetlight pole on Melrose Avenue at Perry Street.

The driver, Rosa B. Johnson, 39, of 1023 Stanley Ave. told Pontiac police she lost control of the car when another pulled alongside her.

She and a passenger, Robert J. Anderson, 36, of 751 Melrose Ave., were in satisfactory condition at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. They suffered multiple cuts and bruises.

An Orion Township woman was in satisfactory condition at Pontiac General Hospital after suffering back and hip injuries in a two-car accident at 2:40 a.m. today at Lapeer and Drahner roads in Oxford Township, sheriff's deputies reported.

She is Shirley M. Skinner, 40, of 1540 N. Lapeer Road. The other driver, Alexander H. Cole, 53, of 23 Pearl St., Oxford, was not injured.

Six members of an Avon Township family were injured yesterday afternoon when their car ran off Silverbell Road east of Adams Road in Oxford Township and hit a tree.

The driver, John H. Phillips, 30, of 3420 Emmons Road, told sheriff's deputies he was distracted by his children momentarily and lost control of the car.

He was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital along with three of his children, Cheryl Ann, 3, Gilbert C., 5, and Debra J., 7.

They were in satisfactory condition today.

John Black, 15, of 57 N. Johnson St., suffered a head injury when he fell from a tree at Featherstone Street and Cameron Avenue in Pontiac yesterday. He was in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Capital Merger Starts Thursday

No Difference to Public but Planes to Be Under United Air Lines

DETROIT (AP) — Capital Airlines' planes were making their last flights today as Capital ships.

Thursday Capital and United Airlines merge formally. The name henceforth will be United Air Lines. Capital's 34-year history thus will end.

United's absorption of Capital was approved by the government in view of the latter's ailing finances.

To the traveling public, the merger will make little difference, officials said, except for expanded service later.

Under the merger United adds Capital's 7,000 employes to its own 33,000 and Capital's 7,500 miles of system to its own 14,000 route miles.

TO KEEP JOBS

Starting Thursday, the 620 Capital employes of the Detroit area will be working for a new boss — United. For the girls at the ticket counters the only difference will be that they'll switch their lapel insignia.

In the merger negotiations United reportedly agreed that no Capital employes would lose their jobs — except for some in executive rank.

A United spokesman said Capital planes will continue to fly with the Capital markings until the end of the year.

As the Capital planes come up for overhaul they are to be repainted and their interiors redone in United colors.

United has been essentially a long-haul system. In the merger it is taking over Capital's flights to outstate Michigan cities including Lansing, Muskegon, Grand Rapids, Flint and the trio cities of Midland, Saginaw and Bay City.

Primate Retiring as Archbishop of Canterbury

LONDON (UPI)—Geoffrey Fisher, the 74-year-old Angelican primate who tried to bring the Church of England and the Roman Catholic Church closer together, retires at midnight as the archbishop of Canterbury.

He will be succeeded June 28 by Arthur M. Ramsey, now archbishop of York.

The outgoing archbishop, 99th primate of all England, told newsmen Tuesday he planned to retire to the country. He said he might be willing to take a new job if the duties were not too arduous.

"The house I want has got to be far enough away from London to escape suburbia . . ." he said. "If anyone wants me, there are a number of fields in which I might be tempted, more probably in what I might call a reflective rather than an executive capacity."

Rouge Worker Dies in Burning Grease

DETROIT (AP) — A crane operator died today when he fell into a pool of burning grease at the Great Lakes Steel Corp. plant in Ecorse. He was Floyd Ryan, 45, of River Rouge.

Ryan leaped 12 feet from the cab of his overhead crane to escape flames shooting up from the floor in the plant's soaking pits. He slipped when his feet hit the floor and his head struck a piece of machinery. The blow threw him into the flames.

Police Lt. Richard Oldfield of Ecorse said Ryan had tried to lift a 55-gallon drum of grease from the floor with the crane's tongs and that the tongs punctured the drum, allowing grease to spill. Heat from the pits ignited the grease and the drum exploded.

Ryan was the father of two children.

S. Koreans Set Poll on Method of Ruling Land

SEOUL (UPI) — South Korea's military junta government said today it will take a Gallup-type poll this week to determine how to run the country.

Informed sources said today that the junta also has reached "general agreement" on a broad new law that could "legalize" its seizure of power.

The measure, called "the basic law for national reconstruction," was designed to supplant suspended portions of the nation's constitution. It probably will be promulgated Friday.

The junta said it will send college students out Wednesday, Friday and Saturday to quiz about 1,500 voters chosen in Seoul at random on 24 basic questions as a means of determining what line to take in governing the country.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF MRS. Lena Kerr, who passed away May 31, 1960.
Only a memory of bygone days,
And a sigh for a face unseen,
A constant feeling that God alone,
Knows best what should have been,
Husband and daughters.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR beloved Son and Brother, James Mazza, who passed away May 31, 1951.
Treasured thoughts of one so dear.
Often bring a silent tear;
Thoughts return to scenes long past,
Time rolls on, but memory lasts.
—Sadly missed by Father, Mother and Sister.

FAMOUS SPOTS IN PARIS — Boxes show main points of interest which will be visited by President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy during their visit to Paris. They arrived at Orly Airport this morning after a flight from New York's Idelwild Airport. They are staying at the French Foriegn Ministry while in Paris.

Jacqueline's Clothes Sense to Influence Paris Modistes

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy's visit to Paris is sure to have a strong effect on the fall and winter collections that French fashion houses are readying for showings in July.

They make a willing and enthusiastic exception in Mrs. Kennedy's case, partly because they have already adopted her as French. Local newspapers and women's magazines have published lyrical tributes to "Jackie" sure that the admiration is mutual. They ungrudgingly praise her elegance and taste.

SHE'S NOT BUYING

Givenchy, who in the past has designed some gowns for Mrs. Kennedy, is doing no boasting. Press curiosity is firmly discouraged, and the White House has denied that Mrs. Kennedy is at present buying any clothes from Paris.

The New York Women's Wear Daily recently reported a Paris fashion house was discreetly forwarding gowns for Mrs. Kennedy to a fictitious name in Washinton. White House press secretary Pierre Saliger said the story was "rot."

The "Jackie style" of almost severe simplicity in dresses and simple little hats is fine by the Paris fashion houses.

However, the furriers and jewelers are suffering some pangs because Mrs. Kennedy prefers cloth coats and is shy on jewelled ornamentation.

The First Lady's liking for short skirts and plain, semi-fitted silhouettes is sure to make a mark on what the designers are dreaming up for fall. Her choice of colors—white is a favorite—and materials will be faithfully noted and acted on.

The French consider that Jacqueline Kennedy's fashion taste was probably formed in her Sorbonne student days in Paris, and whatever she wears usually meets their approval.

Worthless Check Passers Given Prison Terms

A total of nine years in Jackson Prison as minimum terms were passed out Monday by Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero to two men who admitted passing a worthless $112 check at an Auburn Avenue market.

Frank M. Zietek, 39, whose last known address was Detroit, was sentenced to 7½ to 14 years, while Bennie Karpoicz, 23, of 1818 Manse Road, Waterford Township, received 1½ to 14 years.

Both were suspects in what the police believe was a major ring of bogus check passers operating in Oakland and Macomb Counties and in Detroit.

Two other men await trial in Circuit Court here while a fifth is being held in Detroit.

Zietek, with a long criminal record, and Karpoicz, with this being his "first convicted offense," according to a probation officer, pleaded guilty to uttering and publishing May 15.

66-1 Longshot Wins English Derby Today

Head of Schools Dead

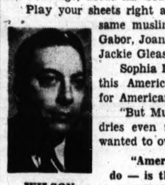
BALTIMORE, Md. (AP) — Dr. George A. Johns, 80, former superintendent of Rosewood State Training School, died Monday. He headed the hospital for mentally retarded children from 1937 to 1951. Johns, who formerly was superintendent of the Missouri State School at Marshall and the St. Louis Sanitorium, was born in Canada.

Rental Plan Frightens Sophia About Women

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Did you know, in this Let's Rent-Everything-We-Can Age, about the bedclothes rental service?

Play your sheets right and you can roll and toss on the same muslins slept on by Zsa Zsa and Eva Gabor, Joan Crawford, Ann Sheridan — even Jackie Gleason.



WILSON

"But Murray Cohen's Consolidated Laundries even rented men's shirts — but men wanted to own their own shirts," I said.

"American women have nothing to do — is that why there are so many divorces?" Sophia said, and then, speaking again of shirts, she said Italy doesn't allow its movie actresses to take off their shirts as much as American films do.

"We have never such low decollete as you do," Sophia said.

Hearing me splutter about her own pictures, she said, "You have to be born sexy. It's not done by undressing. In fact" — she's here to revise some dialogue in "Two Women" —"I've quit glamorous parts. They don't amuse me any more."

SOPHIA

With candor, she spoke of her husband Carlos Ponti's Mexican divorce, their Mexican marriage, his effort to get an Italian annulment of his previous marriage.

"I feel married," she said. "If Italy doesn't annul the marriage, we'll continue living together anyway. Most married couples don't feel married at all."

Sophia, speaking of JFK's wife, Jackie, said, "You know, she isn't pretty' "—and I bristled.

"If you don't care very much for somebody, you say she's 'pretty' or 'cute'," Sophia said. "Well, she's so much more . . ."

Police Injured in LA Park Riot

Mob Attacks Officers as They Try to Arrest Youths for Horseplay

LOS ANGELES (AP)—An angry throng hurled rocks, bottles, cans, sticks and baseball bats at police when a riot broke out among holiday visitors in Griffith Park Tuesday.

Authorities said the melee started when officers tried to arrest two youths for horseplay on the park's merry-go-round. Police said the offenders were part of a group of Negroes who had been jumping on and off the platform.

Sympathizers in the crowd challenged the arrests and soon a mob of 200 persons was advancing on the officers. One of the beleagered officers fired a shot into an embankment. The shot partly dispersed the crowd.

7 ARE HURT

Of the 75 police called out to halt the disturbance, five were injured. Two civilians also were hurt.

Three men were arrested.

Officials estimated that 3,000 persons were near the merry-go-round at the time the riot started and that as many as 1,000 probably took part. An unoccupied patrol car was overturned.

Held for Investigation in Death of Woman

CASSOPOLIS (AP) — Eule Wayne Bromley, 24, of Goshen, Ind., was held for investigation of murder today in the fatal shooting of a woman he claims was his wife.

Cass County sheriff's men said the victim, Lozetta M. Baker, 36, whose address is the same as Bromley's, died moments after midnight last night at Three Rivers Hospital despite emergency surgery.

Deputies were checking the man's report that the couple had been married last month.

Hungarian Jews Rejected Idea of Killing Eichmann

JERUSALEM (AP)—The Jews in Hungary decided against trying to kill Adolf Eichmann for fear that Nazi Germany had men in reserve who were even worse, a survivor of the World War II slaughter testified today.

Hansi Brand told the Eichmann trial court the Jewish leaders in Budapest were so frantic in the summer of 1944 that they frequently discussed the possibility of assassinating the Gestapo chief who directed the extermination of Europe's Jewry.

But "we were convinced that maybe someone else would come in his place and the death mills would continue maybe at an increased pace," Mrs. Brand said.

12,000 A DAY

Eichmann, chief of the Gestapo's Jewish Affairs Office in Berlin, took to the field in Hungary to hasten deportations to the Auschwitz gas chambers. Evidence has been introduced that this pace reached as high as 12,000 a day.

Mrs. Brand and her husband, Joel, were cross-examined by the court and by Eichmann's defense counsel on their testimony of events in Budapest. They were also taken again over the ground of Joel Brand's mission to Turkey and Palestine with Eichmann's offer to trade one million Jewish lives for 10,000 trucks to be used on the Soviet front.

Both witnesses reiterated that the Eichmann proposal stemmed directly from Gestapo Chief Heinrich Himmler as early as April-May 1944.

Brand said it was, in his opinion, a move by Himmler to use the remaining two million Jews in Europe as a wedge for broader negotiations with the Western allies.

Castro Seeks 500,000 Spies

Wants an Informer in Every Factory — Hints Enemies to Be Shot

MIAMI (UPI) — Radio Havana announced Tuesday night that Premier Fidel Castro needs 500,000 more spies to help him track down saboteurs and other foes of his regime.

The official radio called on Castro supporters to heed the appeal of his national directorate of citizen spies for recruits to help "stamp out criminal activity."

"Let there not be a single block, a single workshop, a single factory, cooperative or work center without its (spy) committee for the defense of the revolution," the broadcast said.

"All the people should join in this revolutionary vigilance to close in on the enemies of the revolution."

PROMISES LIQUIDATION

The radio also said that saboteurs will be "liquidated" by the Castroites — suggesting that the firing-squad rifles which have been silent for six weeks soon may be heard again in Cuba.

"The counterrevolutionary worms (unsuccessful invaders) who did not dare to fight our militia and army . . . now are using live phosphorus and Yankee dynamite in criminal attempts against women and children," the official radio said.

"The generosity of the revolution does not mean that such acts will go unpunished."

Youth, 17 to Pay Costs, Gets Probation in Theft

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero ordered probation for three years and assessed John Kappler, 17, of Detroit, $150 court costs after the youth pleaded guilty May 15 to the burglary of a Madison Heights restaurant of $14.

Crippled Plane Limps Home

104 Persons Aboard as Prop Runs Wild Over Atlantic Ocean

The Superconstellation ferrying U. S. military personnel and their families from Germany to McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., was forced to turn back two hours after leaving Shannon when one of its four propellers ran wild and the pilot could not feather it.

One of the aircraft escorting President Kennedy to Europe offered assistance but was not needed. A Pan American airliner in the vicinity shepherded the crippled plane to safety.

Forty children were among the 95 passengers aboard the airliner, 20 of them babies in arms.

Chief hostess Elanore Prakopeyk of Glen Gardner, N. J., said, "The passengers were just wonderful. They kept calm even after we had them take off their shoes and get into their life jackets."

Capt. James MacCormack, 17 Barbun Road, West Islip, Long Island, who piloted the Seaboard and World airliner, said "It was a bit tricky" after he brought it to a perfect landing.

Michigan Life Insurance Hits Highest Figure

Michigan Life Insurance Co. of Royal Oak has topped the half-billion-dollar mark of life insurance in force, it is announced by Scott E. Lamb, president, of 6301 Sheringham Road, Birmingham.

"This significant milestone in company growth keynotes the recent Michigan Life expansion programs in four states," Lamb stated.

The company, the largest, oldline, legal reserve stock life insurance firm in Michigan, took 26 years to reach its first milestone of $100 million of life insurance in force. The $400 million mark was achieved less than 18 months ago.

Lamb also announced that the company has produced a new rate book, based on the latest mortality table approved by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

He also said Michigan Life has just introduced policy innovations which include a special low-cost life insurance policy for women only, reflecting improved mortality in females; a series of basic decreasing term policies; a series of participating policies; automatic waiver of premium disability benefits with some policies; and some policy riders which include a guaranteed purchase option.

Memorial Toll on Highways Sets U.S. Mark

Fear One of Greatest Weekend Road Death Rates in 11 Years

By The Associated Press

Traffic	457
Boating	40
Drowning	62
Miscellaneous	116
Total	675

The nation's traffic death toll, racing along at a tragic steady rate of more than four an hour for 102 hours, hit a record high for the extended Memorial Day weekend.

Late reports covering the period from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Tuesday (local time) were expected to boost the final count far past the previous high of 413 for a four-day Memorial Day observance. That was in 1957.

During the July 4, 1950, weekend of four days 491 persons were killed in traffic accidents.

367 LAST YEAR

This year's heavy toll on the highways compared with 367 traffic deaths for last year's three day Memorial Day weekend.

Other violent fatalities included drownings not involving boats, in boating accidents and from miscellaneous mishaps.

The over-all death toll compared to last year's 579.

In the 1957 Memorial Day weekend, there also were 134 drownings and 113 persons killed in miscellaneous accidents for a death toll of 660.

State's Carnage Is 2nd in Nation

Only Californians Have More Fatalities; Study Asked by Swainson

By United Press International

Double shifts by law enforcement officials, 200 National Guardsmen on patrol and a barrage of pleas for sane driving were no match for the beautiful weather during the long Memorial Day holiday.

The sunny skies of the first summer holiday weekend drew millions of motorists onto state highways in Michigan, and 31 persons died.

The grim toll gave Michigan the dubious claim to second place on the nation's death list. California counted 45 dead in traffic and Illinois and Texas followed Michigan with 30 highway fatalities.

Three persons drowned during the holiday period and four others died in other accidents to bring the four-day toll to 38.

FAR ABOVE 1960

The fantastic death pace on state highways amounted to one every three hours, 20 minutes. The toll was far above that of Memorial Day 1960 when 21 persons died on state highways.

In Lansing, Gov. Swainson asked the State Safety Commission for a complete analysis of the weekend carnage.

"It leaves me a great deal saddened to think that the beautiful weekend weather was marred by this record fatality count," Swainson said. "It should give everyone pause to think."

Reserve to Preserve Whiskers at Camp

By JOE SINGLETON

Even the United States Army has gotten into the spirit of Pontiac's Centennial. It has waived one of its strictest rules to help area men celebrate the city's 100th anniversary.

As any man who has served a hitch can attest, Uncle Sam frowns upon fuzz of any kind growing under the chin or about the face. Men have been put on KP or lost their weekend passes for such offenses.

But to help Pontiac celebrate its Centennial, the Army has allowed members of Ponitac's 2nd Battalion, 333rd Basic Combat Training Regiment, to participate in their annual field training exercises in Camp McCoy, Wis., beards and all.

This decision did not, however, come easily. It took the persistence of the 2nd Battalion's Commander, Lt. Col. Franklin D. Thompson, to get an okay to keep the whiskers.

"In our unit, we have leading citizens of Pontiac and surrounding areas who take great pride in their city, who want to take an active part in the Centennial celebration, but also have the urge to serve their country by being a member of the active reserve forces," says Lt. Col. Thompson.

"Since we will return from our encampment the same day that the Pontiac Centennial celebration starts, June 17, these men wouldn't have any beards to sport during the celebration."

So Thompson wrote to the 333rd Basic Combat Training Regiment's Commander, Col. Joseph Dalek, and explained the situation.

The commander approved the request, and the Pontiac unit will be perhaps the first Army Reserve unit to sport beards at a military reservation.

The Pontiac unit will leave shortly after midnight Saturday by train to the Wisconsin military reservation where it will undergo two weeks of strenuous field training exercises.

Says Response to Tractor Trade Is 'Tremendous'

NEW YORK (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt said today the response of the American people to the drive for funds to purchase tractors for the exchange of Cuban prisoners had been tremendous.

Mrs. Roosevelt, one of the three leaders of the Tractors for Freedom Committee, told a news conference she had "never been afraid that a really humanitarian act would bring any harm."

She also said that in Latin America "the feeling was very warm because of the American people's response."

Mrs. Roosevelt disclosed that a committee of three agricultural experts is ready to go to Cuba to work out details of the farm equipment sought by Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Seeks KKK Tie to Race Riots

Justice Dept. Aiming at Permanent Injunction Against Hate Group

By The Associated Press

The Justice Department continues today its efforts to link the Ku Klux Klan to mob violence against "freedom riders" in Anniston, Birmingham and Montgomery, Ala.

This is the third day since the government launched a hearing in federal court at Montgomery aimed at (1) making permanent an existing injunction against the KKK and (2) obtaining an order requiring Birmingham and Montgomery police to provide protection for future interstate passengers.

During the second day of testimony before U.S. Dist. Judge Frank M. Johnson Jr., three witnesses refused to answer some of the questions put to them. They pleaded the fifth amendment, saying answers might tend to incriminate them.

One was cited for contempt after he refused, for a while, to tell the judge who advised him to use the Fifth Amendment plea.

French Greet JFK Warmly by Gun Salute

Berlin and Khrushchev Grim Topics to Chiefs of Two Countries

PARIS (AP)—President Kennedy and President Charles de Gaulle reached "general agreement" today on the problem of West Berlin in the opening session of their allied policy conferences.

PARIS (AP) — After a 101-gun salute and a warm welcome from the people of Paris, President Kennedy began his first European venture in summit diplomacy at a conference with French President Charles de Gaulle.

The streets of the French capital, brilliant with red, white and blue flags against the soft green foliage of spring, wore a gay and festive air. But the political atmosphere was grimmer.

On Saturday, Kennedy will meet Soviet Premier Khrushchev in Vienna, Austria, under the threat of a new Berlin crisis later this year.

Kennedy and De Gaulle opened their policy talks 45 minutes before lunch in Elysee Palace and were to continue this afternoon.

Their concern with a new Berlin move by Khrushchev was a major subject for discussion.

CALLS ON DE GAULLE

The young American leader called on De Gaulle, senior statesman of the Western Big Three, just two hours after his jet airliner landed at Orly Airport. He had flown from New York in 6 hours and 51 minutes.

De Gaulle, 70, greeted Kennedy, 44, with obvious warmth in his handshake. This resonant, rolling French he told Kennedy: "You are most welcome to France."

He spoke of the "difficult circumstances in which the world finds itself and which weigh upon our two countries to concert their actions."

Speaking without notes, as did De Gaulle, Kennedy delivered in response a brief prepared statement calling for greater Western unity and strength.

THE LADIES ARRIVE — Mrs. John F. Kennedy and her hostess Madame de Gaulle climb the carpeted steps of the Quai d'Orsay in Paris today on arrival from the French capital's Orly Airport. President and Mrs. de Gaulle were on hand at the airport to greet the Kennedys.

Break Through Police to Bid Jackie Welcome

From Our News Wires

PARIS — A crowd of about 1,000 persons broke through police lines today and surrounded Mrs. John F. Kennedy in a wave of admiration for America's First Lady.

Most of the day Mrs. Kennedy was in the company only of diplomats and statesmen.

Crowds of tens of thousands cheered her — but only from afar — until midafternoon when she paid a 45-minute visit to a child welfare clinic founded by the American Red Cross after World War I.

ORDINARY FOLKS' TURN

Then it was the turn of the ordinary housewives, shopkeepers and passers-by who applauded her as she entered the red-brick building.

By the time Mrs. Kennedy was ready to leave, the crowd had grown to more than 1,000. They were held in check across the broad Avenue Brune by rows of police.

As the President's wife, in a pale yellow two-piece costume, walked to her car, the crowd began to force through the ranks of police.

Suddenly, the dam burst and the swarm of humanity flocked around "la tres belle Jackie" — the very beautiful Jackie — to tell her with smiles, waves and shouted words of acclaim the warmth the average Frenchman felt for her as a charming representative of the United States.

Earlier, two heads of state had looked on appreciatively as 2,000 Frenchwomen cheered when Jackie stepped out into the sunshine of Paris in the spring.

The radiant American First Lady, arriving at the Elysee Palace for a state luncheon, was hailed with shouts of "Jackie" as she stepped from a limousine and she smiled and waved in response.

DE GAULLE RESPONSIVE

President Charles de Gaulle, a Frenchman still responsive to a chic woman and particularly one of his countrys' ancestry, stood alongside President Kennedy on a terrace at the moment.

De Gaulle beamed at the reception given the lovely young wife of his guest while Kennedy smiled quietly.

She came not only as the President's wife but as a sort of ambassadress of American fashion.

And if there was any unhappiness, it was in the French fashion world, which saw plans to give a private showing for the charming visitor strike a snag.

A top designer said the proposal was turned down by the White House.

Jacques Heim, president of the French High Fashion Syndicate, revealed that an approach was made through the French Embassy in Washington a month or so ago.

TIME RESTRICTION CITED

"We were sorry," Heim said, spreading his hands and shrugging. "We would have considered it a privilege and we had hoped that Mrs. Kennedy would love it. Time restriction was the only reason given against it."

He did not conceal, however, that he suspects other reasons. In fact, the French syndicate has its feelings slightly bruised over the fact that Mrs. Kennedy will not see any fashion shows here, much less buy any French clothes.

"We understand, of course, that the First Lady should wear mostly American clothes," Heim said.

"But we consider that no harm would be done if once in a while she could wear a French dress. On the contrary, it would only help friendly relations."

Boulevards of Paris Gay to Welcome the Kennedys

PARIS (UPI)—The boulevards of Paris gave President Kennedy a long and enthusiastic "oui" today.

And Frenchmen, who can appreciate a pretty girl quicker than almost anybody, took one look at Mrs. Kennedy in a pale blue costume with windblown hair and made it sound like "Whee!."

Yves DesJacques, spokesman for the prefect of police, said he was surprised by the size of the crowd that lined the streets—200,000—and he believed it was a bigger throng than turned out for former President Eisenhower or Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev on their last visits here.

He guessed that the desire of many persons to see Mrs. Kennedy swelled the crowd.

Paris did everything it could think of to make the Kennedy's feel at home.

WELCOME SIGN UP

"Welcome, Jack and Jackie," read a large sign in front of a cafe in the Avenue General LeClerc as the President and his wife rode from Orly Airport to the Quai d'Orsay.

The heaviest crowd was in the Sorbonne section where Mrs. Kennedy went to school 10 years ago, and the students didn't forget her husband either.

President Charles de Gaulle insisted on thrusting Kennedy into the spotlight. At Orly Airport he put his arm around the American President's shoulder and firmly guided him to the place of honor for the playing of the French and American national anthems.

And as the procession from the airport moved into the Boulevard St. Michael the cheers for Kennedy grew so loud and long that De Gaulle persuaded him to stand up in the rear seat of the open-top Citroen limousine so everybody could get a good look at the American President.

Kennedy was bareheaded on the ride in from the airport, but had put on a lightweight black topcoat as protection against a chill wind.

Except for the wind, Paris in the spring lived up to its advertising. The sun was bright, the chestnut trees were in bloom and the city was splashed with the red, white and blue of the Stars and Stripes and the tricolor.

CARL O'BRIEN

To Ask Pay Cut If He's Elected

Dem Candidate for 2nd District Con - Con Seat Would Seek Reduction

Should he become a delegate to the constitutional convention, Carl O'Brien will move to cut his pay.

In announcing his candidacy on the Democratic ticket from Oakland County's 2nd (Pontiac) District, O'Brien, 31, of 477 E. Montcalm St., said he'd propose cutting the scheduled $1,000-a-month pay for con-con delegates in half.

"At $500 per month the convention will last only half as long. I predict, and produce twice the results," O'Brien said.

The balance of the funds, O'Brien proposed, should be used for higher education, mental health and other "vital areas our Republican-dominated legislature has short-changed."

"I believe the people want action on reapportionment out of this convention, not merely 144 politicians putting $1,000 each in their pockets month after month," O'Brien said.

3RD CANDIDATE

O'Brien, an employe of the purchasing administration department of the Ford Tractor & Implement Division in Birmingham, is the third Democrat to make a bid for the city's seat at the Oct. 3 convention. The primary is July 25.

A father of four children, the candidate was born in Pontiac. He attended Wayne State University and Henry Ford Community College.

He is treasurer of the Pontiac Democratic Committee, a member of the Pontiac Democratic Club, a precinct captain for his party, and a past delegate to the state convention.

ICC Order Could End Bus 'Ride'

ATLANTA (AP)—Negro leaders are setting up a special committee in Atlanta to organize a flow of "freedom rides" in the Deep South until bus and rail terminal segregation ends.

But Rev. Wyatt Tee Walker said that if the Interstate Commerce Commission issues desegregation regulations the rides may end soon afterward.

Walker, director of the Southern Christian Leadership Conference, was interviewed in Atlanta Tuesday after spending four days in a Montgomery, Ala., jail. He was one of five riders released on bond Monday night.

He said Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy's formal petition filed with the ICC was "the most hopeful thing that has developed to date."

If the ICC acts as Kennedy requested, Walker said, the freedom rides probably will end soon afterward. The freedom ride coordinating committee then will maintain a "sort of watchdog network" to make sure the regulations are enforced," he said.

Meanwhile, he said, the new coordinating committee is being organized in Atlanta with branches in Montgomery, Jackson, Miss., and New Orleans, to continue the rides.

Walker rejected any suggestion of a "cooling-off" period. "He (the attorney general) is asking the wrong people to cool off," he said.

tween Anniston and a Klan leader when the judge recessed for the night.

Testimony so far has shown that biracial groups of "freedom riders" met with violence in Anniston and Birmingham on May 14 and in Montgomery on May 20.

Also in Montgomery Tuesday, the Alabama Court of Appeals upheld the conviction of 12 Negroes arrested in a series of sit-ins, ruling that a merchant can serve which customers he sees fit.

Ten Negro students were fined $100 and costs each and sentenced to 30 days in jail under a city ordinance which makes it unlawful to remain on the property of another after being warned to leave.

Rain Clouds Drench Texas With 5 Inches

Rain clouds hovered across broad areas in the Western two-thirds of the nation today after a night of stormy weather in sections of the Great Plains and northern Texas.

Torrential rains drenched Amarillo, Tex., with a downpour of nearly five inches in a three-hour period during a severe thunderstorm. Strong winds knocked out electrical power in the entire downtown section. No injuries were reported.

Severe thunderstorms hit eastern Nebraska, with the stormy weather also extending over much of the Plains and the upper Mississippi Valley.

Showers extended from northern California north and eastward through the central and northern Plateau region, the northern Rockies and into the northern Plains. The wet belt was expected to extend eastward into the middle and upper Mississippi Valley and the Great Lakes region.

Says Trust Not Needed for Nuclear Arms Treaty

CLEVELAND, Ohio (UPI)—Socialist Norman Thomas said Tuesday that it wasn't necessary for the United States to trust Russia in order to negotiate a nuclear disarmament treaty.

"The basis for a nuclear agreement is the obvious mutuality of interest—the desire by all parties to go on living," Thomas said.

Jackson, Miss., Police Have 'Unlimited' Space for 'Freedom Riders'

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — Police in this Mississippi capital city of 150,000 were ready today with unlimited jail space for more "freedom riders," an official said.

Already 52 persons testing segregation laws in bus and train terminals have been arrested and convicted on breach of peace charges. Ten have posted appeal bails or paid their $200 fines.

"They may as well quit," said Police Capt. L. C. Bennett. "They're not worrying us. It's getting to be routine."

Eight more freedom riders joined earlier groups Tuesday in testing "Jim Crow" barriers. The newest arrivals—first to come by train—were speedily arrested and got $200 fines and 60-day suspended sentences. Their trial lasted five minutes.

The earlier Freedom Riders were jailed when they attempted to use white facilities in a cross-country bus terminal.

CAN HANDLE MANY

Thirty-four of the riders, including Tuesday's arrivals, remain in jail. They apparently will work out their fines at the rate of $3 per day.

"We're a long way from being where we can't take care of them," said Sheriff J. R. Gilfoy.

"If their idea is to saturate the jails, it will take a lot of people, the county jail here can hold 160 to 170 and the city jail between 150 and 175."

Gilfoy said that if necessary a circuit judge can be petitioned for permission to send prisoners anywhere in the state.

"I feel any sheriff would cooperate with me 100 per cent in keeping these prisoners," the sheriff said.

29 Historic Markers in Place by Weekend

By the end of the week, we'll be a marked town.

Marked for the Centennial, that is.

The Historic Markers Committee, headed by Monroe M. Osmun, plans to have some 29 historic markers up at various points in town by the weekend.

The signs, some produced by shop pupils at Pontiac Central High School and others by Pontiac Motor Division, will point up the sites of some of the most important buildings in Pontiac's 152 years as a community and 100 years as a city.

Most of the buildings disappeared long ago, but a few are still standing.

MADE OF WOOD

Committee members Mrs. Marion Benter and Daniel T. Murphy Jr., Oakland County clerk-register, did the historical research.

The markers, made of wood, are not permanent, but they'll provide fascinating details about Pontiac's colorful history.

The biggest markers, for instance, are two billboards prepared by Pontiac Motor Division.

One will go up on Mill Street, between East Huron and East Lawrence. It will tell about the original cluster of buildings north of what was once the city's mill pond.

The other will be at the southeastern corner of South Saginaw and Water streets, where the first log cabin was erected.

HISTORICAL SITES

Some of the other spots:

The corner of Clark and North Saginaw streets, where the Oakland County Agricultural Society had its fairgrounds during the second half of the 19th Century.

The northwest corner of Huron and Saginaw streets, where an educational academy was located as early as 1833, to be followed by a branch of the University of Michigan and a series of churches.

The southwest corner of Huron and Saginaw, donated as a courthouse site in 1819 by the original Pontiac Company. There was a log cabin courthouse and jail there in 1823 and a brick courthouse in 1856. The present courthouse, built in 1905, will be the last, now that the county has switched its attention to the Telegraph Road service center.

Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., said events of the past year have cast many doubts on administration of the military and economic assistance programs abroad. He said there have been too many examples of countries in which the programs have been corrupted or frustrated in their aim of promoting freedom.

Fulbright, committee chairman, made his observations in a statement prepared for reading at the opening of the morning session.

DELAYS DEPARTURE

Rusk delayed his departure for Paris to join President Kennedy in his talks with President Charles de Gaulle to give the big mutual security measure a top level send off.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., a member of Fulbright's committee said Kennedy's request will be sharply trimmed by Congress.

"More money is not the crying need," Aiken said in an interview. "What the program needs is well-qualified, well-trained personnel to adinister it without better administration; more money will only make its operation worse. I'm for giving whatever can be used effectively and honestly."

City Accepts Resignation of Planner Herzberg

BIRMINGHAM — The resignation of Herbert Herzberg, Birmingham city planner for six years, has been accepted by the City Commission and will become effective June 16.

Herzberg, 34, said he has accepted a position with First Federal Savings of Detroit in the real estate appraising department.

No successor has been named to the $7,800 post by the city manager. The appointment will be subject to the approval of the City Commission.

Herzberg was employed by the city in December 1954, as a planning technician and six months later was appointed to his present position.

He had formerly been a planning consultant with Waring & Johnson of Detroit.

Herzberg, his wife Dorothy and their two daughters, Kathy and Janet, currently reside at 15601 Turkshire Road, Beverly Hills, but are in the process of moving to Balmoral Orchard subdivision in Bloomfield Township.

His resignation wil not effect any future city pans, Herzberg said.

The Downtown Development Plan, which he assisted in preparing with a planner hired by businessmen in the central business district, has reached its final stages and will soon be ready for public presentation, he said.

A $47,000 contract has been awarded to the Peake Asphalt Paving Co., of Utica for the surfacing of the Nortwest Quadrant Parking Lot in the downtown business district.

The Utica firm, lowest of 11 bidders, will begin construction immediately with completion expected in 60 days.

The Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold its annual picnic 12:30 p.m., Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Reginald Butler, 372 Harmon St.

The executive board of the fellowship will prepare and serve a picnic lunch. Reservations can be male by calling the church by Monday.

band and honor guard, the two chiefs headed a motorcade into the city, through the spacious Place de la Concorde and back across the Seine River to the Quai d'Orsay, the Foreign Ministry building where state visitors are housed.

In the heart of the city Kennedy was given the traditional 101-gun salute for a visiting chief of state. As he drove through the avenues with De Gaulle he was cheered and applauded as was the First Lady.

De Gaulle was host to Kennedy and his wife at a luncheon. At the end De Gaulle said:

"You saw this morning how happy Paris was to see you. I do not need to add anything to this."

"Mrs. Kennedy and I," the U.S. President replied, "appreciate your generosity and that of the French people. Years ago it was said that an optimist studies Russian while a pessimist studies Chinese. I prefer to believe the farseeing are learning French and English."

Ford Styling Chief 'Not Leaving'

DETROIT (UPI) — George Walker, one of the auto industry's most colorful executives, officially retired today as Ford vice president and styling director. But he vowed he would still be on the job tomorrow.

"I'm retiring in name only," the 65-year-old Walker said. "I'm not leaving. I feel I still have 10 or 15 years of styling in me."

Walker, being replaced by Lincoln-Mercury stylist Eugene Bordinat Jr., said he will continue with Ford "in an advisory capacity as long as they want me."

Walker became a Ford vice president in 1955 but was a consultant to the company since 1946. Among his accomplishments were the trend-setting two and four-seat Thunderbirds and the 1949 Ford.

Of Cherokee extraction, Walker earned his way through art schools in Los Angeles and Cleveland by playing on a semipro team of former Carlisle Indians.

ONE-MAN FIRM

He began his career in 1928 as a fashion illustrator in Cleveland, but moved to Detroit the next year and set up shop as a one-man industrial design firm.

In the next 26 years, he styled more than 3,000 products for 300 companies. Besides baby bottles, vacuum cleaners, radios and refrigerators, he lent his design talents to the Pierce Arrow, Packard and Nash cars.

Walker bases his designs on the theory that "you should lead the public, never push them." The public wants to see some design changes each year, he said, but won't accept a car that's too radical.

The Chicago-born stylist believes that "Engineering is important but the design concept is what sells a car. In most cases cars are sold in a dealer's showroom, not on the road."

Walker sees no revolution in design in the next five years, but rather an evolution of present models. But he feels space technology will make itself felt in the automobiles of the future.

More aerodynamic designs are possible, he said, and pointed to Ford's new two-wheel idea car, the Gyron, as an example.

LOW AUTO

The Gyron, designed to be powered by fuel cells and stabilized with a gyroscope, is 10 inches lower than the standard Ford.

But a production model of the Gyron is many years away, Walker said, and cars in the immediate future won't be any lower than they are now. "After all, people aren't going to crawl in and out of a car on their hands and knees," he laughed.

Loots 2 Machines, Gets Prison Term

A minimum term of 18 months and a maximum of 15 years in Jackson Prison —the latter set by law — was handed out to 18-year-old Bennie Castro Monday for looting a pinball machine and jukebox.

Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero sentenced Castro, 467 Colorado St., after he pleaded guilty May 15 to breaking and entering during the nighttime.

The burglary of $18 in change took place at Ray's Billiards, 352 Franklin Road, on April 8.

Summer Sun Shines on Betrothals and Weddings

The Earl Taylors of Clarkston announce the engagement of their daughter Diane Ray to John G. Harken Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Harken of Old Orchard Drive.

DIANE RAY TAYLOR

The Carl A. Wagners of Waterford Township announce the engagement of their daughter Judith Grace to Gary E. Hagen, son of Mrs. Lenora Hagen of Monroe and Edwin Hagen of Temperance. Both attend Western Michigan University. Fall vows are planned.

JUDITH GRACE WAGNER

ANITA LOUISE HALL

August vows are planned by Mary Karol Miller of Milford, daughter of the Herbert J. Millers of East Lansing, to Gerald M. Breen, son of the Quirinus D. Breens of Berwick Boulevard. Both are graduates of Michigan State University.

MARY KAROL MILLER

Patricia Mae Hoyes Repeats Nuptial Vows

The Wisconsin Dells is the honeymoon destination of Norman T. Smith and his bride, the former Patricia Mae Hoyes of Monticello Avenue. They exchanged rings and vows Saturday evening in the Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church with Rev. Theodore Allebach officiating.

Daughter of Mrs. Margaret Hoyes of Pensacola Avenue and Francy Hoyes of Wixom, the bride wore white nylon embroidered organza and lace. A double Swedish crown of seed pearls and sequins caught her bouffant veil.

Nosegays of white carnations and pink rosebuds complemented pale turquoise silk organza over taffeta for honor matron Mrs. James Waldo and Phyllis J. Burt, bridesmaid. Their headbands were Dior bows.

Robert D. Smith ushered at his brother's wedding. Also ushering were James L. Weber of Milford and Richard G. Turner of Detroit. Charles A. Roth of Saginaw was best man.

MRS. NORMAN T. SMITH

Strictly 'Square'

(NEA) — Those square-toed pumps, borrowed from the elegance of the Eighteenth Century, are definitely high fashion in Paris. Some show satin bows.

Annual Convent Ball Slated for June 9

The 11th annual candlelight ball for the Convent of the Sacred Heart, Bloomfield Hills, will be at the Latin Quarter, Detroit, on June 9.

The evening, for graduates, will begin with a reception for the girls and their escorts at the convent. At the Latin Quarter parents will join the couples in a receiving line. A midnight supper will be served.

After the ball the honorees and their dates will go to the Birmingham home of the Judge Beardens and their daughter Susan for breakfast.

Attendants in coral organza, carrying cascades of green Fuji chrysanthemums and frosted grapes, preceded Nancy Jean Stuart to the altar in Our Lady of the Lakes Church Saturday, where Rev. F. J. Delaney solemnized her vows to James A. Larkin.

Mrs. Ian MacGillivray was her sister's honor matron. Her cousins Kathy and Betsy Seebald and Joan McKinnon were bridesmaids. Kathy Larkin of Dayton, Ohio, in white organdy with coral cummerbund, held a basket of white rose petals and myrtle leaves.

A crystal rosary, gift of her grandmother, entwined white orchids, stephanotis and ivy on a white Bible, gift of the bridegroom.

BROTHER IS BEST MAN

David Larkin stood as best man for his brother. They are the sons of the Leo W. Larkins of Drayton Plains. Ushers were Thomas Truscott, Lansing; Robert Sippell, Port Huron, and Jerry Baumler of Hillsdale.

MRS. JAMES A. LARKIN

Abby Says: Read a Book

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: We have been invited to a Catholic wedding but my husband doesn't want to go because he says we will have to go through all that crossing and kneeling, and we aren't Catholics.

I say that non-Catholics are not expected to do that. Who is right?

Also, we were recently invited to a Jewish wedding and we passed that up because someone told my husband that all the men had to break their glasses. What about that?

ABBY

INFORMATION PLEASE

DEAR INFORMATION: Non-Catholics are not expected to kneel and cross themselves. And at a Jewish wedding, the groom breaks a GLASS (not his glasses!).

There is little excuse for knowing so little about another person's religion. Ask any clergyman (or librarian) for an enlightening book on the subject.

DEAR ABBY: I am a mother-in-law who needs you to set her straight. My son married a girl whom I love very much. She is very close to her own mother, who lives near us.

I try to let the young people live their own lives, but my daughter-in-law practically lives with her mother. They are together day and night.

The young couple is always over at her mother's. All holidays are spent there. They are expecting a baby and the wife's mother is gathering the baby things at her home, evidently expecting to take full charge of it.

I know I am jealous, but I can't help it. Let me have it, Abby.

"THE OTHER MOM"

DEAR "MOM": If you can diagnose your own case (jealousy), you can heal yourself. Let your daughter-in-law do as she wishes. It's natural for a girl to gravitate toward her own mother.

When she matures a little more, she will become as considerate of your feelings as you are of hers. Patience, Mom.

DEAR ABBY: There is a young couple in our building who has aroused our suspicions. He clerks during the day, and on weekends he plays band jobs out of town. His wife is a real looker. Every weekend when he goes out of town to play these band jobs, she goes with him.

We wives say that she goes with him because she can't trust him away from home. Our husbands say that he takes her along because he can't trust HER home alone.

We would like to know your opinion, please.

THE FOLKS IN THE BUILDING

DEAR FOLKS: Isn't there a chance that she goes with him because she wants to be with him—and he encourages her because he wants her there?

DEAR ABBY: It sure enough burns me up to hear the way some of those Yankees make fun of the way we Southerners talk. When we say, "You all," we mean "All of you." No Southerner would ever say what that lady from Brooklyn said to the man from Virginia — "Drop dead, you all" — unless she meant for everyone in Virginia to drop dead. If she can't talk properly, she should hush up her mouth.

FROM GEORGIA AND PROUD OF IT

Will Speak on African Problems

Her first public appearance in Michigan since returning from Africa will be made by Mrs. G. Mennen Williams from 1 to 3 p.m. June 8 at the Bloomfield Hills home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard H. McNeill.

Oakland County women are being invited to participate in Mrs. Williams' reception, sponsored by the Democratic Women of Oakland County.

Mrs. Williams will tell of her trip to Africa and her own impressions of that area's need for more education, health programs and trained personnel.

Mrs. Williams and her husband, assistant secretary of state for African affairs, will return to Africa later this month.

Installation Scheduled

The fourth annual installation of officers for the Episcopal Church Women of St. Stephen's Episcopal Church will be 12:30 p.m. Monday in the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hotton on Beach Road, Birmingham.

Following luncheon the Rev. Carl Sayers, vicar, will install officers, who are Mrs. Hotton, president; Mrs. Don Mills, president-elect; Mrs. William Snyder, recording secretary; Mrs. Lyle Oviatt, treasurer; Mrs. Robert Knickerbocker, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert Osborne, UTO custodian; and Mrs. John Eldon, historian.

WNF&G Picnic

The annual June picnic will feature a gourmet cooperative luncheon, plant sale and a talk by Mrs. F. G. Garrison, noted world traveler, who will speak of "The Wandering Gardener."

Ceremony in Wisconsin

Lena Sewell Is Wed

Before an altar banked with rhododendrons and white snapdragons in St. Paul Lutheran Church, Madison, Wis., Lena May Sewell pledged vows to James H. Wockenfuss, also of Madison. Rev. Alvin Berg performed the rite.

Receiving in the church parlors were the bride's parents the Thomas Maynards of Westway Drive and the bridegroom's parents the Harold Wockenfusses of North Fond du Lac, Wis.

Lavender cummerbunds accented frocks of white eyelet for Mrs. Robert Wissman of Wayne, her cousin's honor matron and bridesmaids Mrs. George Bird of Ypsilanti, and Alice Peet of Madison. Mary Ann Athanasoff of Birmingham was junior attendant. They held nosegays of feathered chrysanthemums, white roses and ivy.

MRS. JAMES H. WOCKENFUSS

After a New England honeymoon, the couple will be at home in Madison. They are graduates of University of Wisconsin and the bride holds a degree from Eastern Michigan University.

Odetta to Lead Off Art Festival's Events

Nationally known folk singer Odetta will open the eight nights of events scheduled in the Birmingham Arts Festival's geodesic dome June 17-24.

Dome Activities Committee Chairman Dean Coffin announced today that the popular and versatile singer will appear at Shain Park in downtown Birmingham at 8:40 p.m., June 17 and 18.

She will lead off a week-long schedule that includes drama, poetry, film classics, a gourmet matinee and a daytime production for children. It ends with a two-night jazz concert.

An honors-winning dramatic production will follow Odetta Monday, June 19, when the Livonia-Redford Theatre Guild presents "The Dark at the Top of the Stairs," by William Inge. The theatre group's production was adjudged the best show in the recent drama festival held by the Detroit-Windsor Theatre Council.

The famous bagpipers of the Essex and Kent Scottish Pipe Band and the colorful Ukrainian Bandurists Chorus will step onto the dome's platform June 20. Both groups are noted for their interpretation of music of their native lands.

The 35-man Bandurist Chorus which gets is name from the Ukrainian national instrument, the bandura, has been called "the most professional chorus in the world."

COMEDY FILM

Featured June 21 will be "The Golden Age of Comedy," a film reviewing the art and the humor of the immortal clowns of pioneer filmdom such as Harold Lloyd and Charlie Chaplin.

Poetry takes the stage June 22, when W. D. Snodgrass will read from his Pulitzer-prize-winning book of poetry, "Heart's Needle." Snodgrass will be joined on the stage by local poetry lovers reading their favorites.

In a moderated discussion, participants will interpret their selections. Snodgrass will reveal some new ideas on developments in poetry for the first time publicly.

The jazz artists will bring their syncopations to the dome on June 23 and 24. On Charter Members' Night, the 23rd, top jazz musicians who performed at last year's Birmingham Arts Festival will return. Among them will be blind pianist Bess Bonnier, drummer J. C. Heard and violinist Joe Kennedy.

The concert on the 24th will feature artists who have not appeared previously at the jazz event in Birmingham, to be announced later.

A "Gourmet Matinee" at 2:30 p.m. June 21, will be conducted by Philip Velez. The famous chef of the London Chop House and Caucus Club is known to Detroiters as "Poncho."

PLAYERS TO ENTERTAIN

The average cost of tickets for the events in the dome is $2.20, with some slightly higher or lower.

Proceeds will be utilized to establish a Birmingham Art Center. Work on the center has already been started by the Bloomfield Art Association, sponsors of the Birmingham Arts Festival.

Located at 1516 Cranbrook Road, the new center for exhibitions and classes is the former Birmingham sewage disposal plant. It is now undergoing a thorough deodorization and imaginative remodeling.

Tickets for dome events will be available about June 1 at Grinnell's downtown and in Birmingham, and at the arts festival headquarters in the Harlan Building on Shain Park.

The stands in the big dome seat 800 people. "Goldplate" season tickets will be sold at $17.50. They will entitle bearers to special seats to be set up at the front of the stands. Total cost of all events, if purchased separately, is $22.20.

The dome, loaned to the arts festival for the second year by Birmingham's Tractor and Implement Division of Ford Motor Co., will be erected on the east side of Shain Park.

Dome headliner Odetta has featured role in the newly released motion picture "Sanctuary," with Yves Montand and Lee Remick. Odetta has appeared in a number of important festivals and concerts, including the Monterey Festival in California and Carnegie Hall.

On her second night's appearance here, she will feature the blues and be accompanied by the Fred Kaz trio. She will devote Saturday's program to folk songs.

Curtain time will be 8:40 p.m. nightly, except for June 21, which is 9:00 p.m.

Girl Scouts Hold Event

Youth Day, honoring all young people in Michigan in conjunction with Michigan Week, was celebrated by Southern Oakland Girl Scouts Saturday at Southfield Park.

Diane Peirrone of Southfield was in charge of the event, sponsored by the Youth Advisory Commission for the State of Michigan.

Marsha du Val of Troop 360 at Walnut Lake was in charge of arrangements for a "noshbag luncheon" at Southfield Park, attended by some 250 senior scouts of Southern Oakland Council.

Each troop planned a different segment of the afternoon's entertainment. Games involving facts about Michigan, folk tales and songs about Michigan were featured, along with projects showing how to prepare for emergencies, such as tornadoes, in the state.

Club to Stage Annual Dinner

The Twin Mothers' Club will stage its second annual dinner Thursday at Hotel Waldron, Mrs. Paul Kilar is in charge of reservations.

The club currently is cooperating with Godfredo G. Gensini, M.D., director of the cardiopulmonary laboratory and research department in Syracuse, N.Y., in a program which provides knowledge about congenital heart disease.

The study of twins is permitting Dr. Gensini to compare children of the same age and environment.

Wants to Be Up to Date

This Woman's Much Alive

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

My mail is so fascinating to me that once in a while I like to share some of it with you. The thing I enjoy most about my column is the contact it gives me with so many different people. It is interesting to know what they are thinking, what their problems are and what goals they have.

The following letter is from a young woman of 32. If she keeps this same outlook, I am sure she never will be really old.

LETTER

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"I am a 32-year-old housewife with two preschool children. With the "get-up-and-go" season here, I'd like to learn how to do that very thing. And I especially would like to look like a 32-year-old woman living in 1961 — and not a 32-year-old woman of 1946.

"You see, my high school class plans a reunion soon, the first in 15 years. And I would like to look like I'm alive to 1961 and not just an older version of the high school-age me.

"My hair has been the same ever since I started going to beauty shops. Is it possible that only one hair style is becoming to me? I really would like to arrive at the reunion with a 1961 hairdo, eyebrow alignment, eye make-up and whatever is attractive and new in make-up."

INTEREST IN PRESENT

The sentence, "I would like to look like I am alive to 1961 and not just an older version of the high school-age me," is the give-away of a vibrant viewpoint.

It indicates an interest in and a zest for the world about her, a wish to live in the present rather than the past — and an awareness that while we must all change it can be for the better rather than the worse.

Just sitting tight with the same thoughts, the same activities and the same hairdo, year after year, not only makes us look older but is aging to the mind and the spirit.

Do you know the right make-up for you? And do you know the right way to apply it? Josephine Lowman's free leaflet, "What's Going on?" will be a great aid. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 50 to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

If you want to be a "get-up-and-go" girl, you've got to have new thoughts; new activities and even a new hairdo from time to time.

The bowlers of the Windsor area will soon be moving out of the Greater Detroit Bowling Association to form their own organization—Pontiac take heed.

Their reasons for leaving include the lack of enough recognition from the Detroiters plus a claim that the Association has not improved much in recent years.

The Windsor boys said after the meeting that they realized Pontiac would also like to have its own group and promised to help should such a campaign be started here.

A visit to the semi-annual meeting and the fact that local man Leonard Biallas was defeated in the presidential election convinced this writer that Pontiac must have its own organization for men.

Biallas had high hopes for doing a lot towards putting Pontiac on a much more important level with the Detroiters but they went down the drain in a one-sided victory for Les Townsend.

The best way to emphasize our thoughts on the meeting would be to say that anyone in attendance at the session from this area would have left it thoroughly convinced that Pontiac must make a move.

The session was completely dominated by a certain group and we understand they all are after telling key officers our opinions. None had any argument when we commented that Pontiac should get out in a hurry.

An added blow against this sector will come in August when the term ends for president Irv Unger of Lake Orion and Frank Mitzel retires as secretary. Both had been familiar with the situation here and helpful as much as possible. There will be little interest left for Pontiac except as a source of revenue when they and Biallas are out of top positions.

American Bowling Congress officials asked when Pontiac was going to set up its own association while in Detroit for their recent tournament.

Everyone seems in agreement that the men should have their own group here except members of the cliques who seem to make most of the decisions in the Motor City.

The main problems would be getting together funds and securing capable persons to organize and handle the setup. There are many men here who could do an outstanding job if they would be interested in taking on the task. Meetings with the Windsor people would get things off to a big start.

A group headed by Joe Bonfiglio tried to get the wheels in motion for forming an association several years ago but had little success. When the 700 Chapter was formed here, its key members talked about it as a project but since have had little to say on the subject. Something should be done. The women have a very successful organization here.

Only two area leagues were represented at the semi-annual meeting. Men from both loops went away disgusted. Of over 2,800 eligible to attend from the entire GDBA area, the attendance totaled about 80. Personal battles and blasts at the ABC stole the show from business in some cases.

The only move discussed which would benefit local bowlers was the setting up of sectional awards for high scores. It was announced the Greater Detroit Bowling Association Tournament, which most of them call their city tourney, would be resumed next season at three sites with the location nearest Pontiac around Eight Mile Rd.

SKIPPING AROUND

City police captain Oliver "Red" Lemeaux happy about medal he won at his first ABC tournament recently for topping 600 with 605. A few other local men made the grade led by Dick Carmichael, who rolled 655 in regular singles to win $109.77. Howe's Lanes got in on the team booster money with 2709 to earn $63.00.

Incoming GDBA president Les Townsend and a Royal Oak partner won $350 for their 1252 in regular doubles at the meet . . . Former Rochester Lanes proprietor Hal Hintz misses the bowling business . . . Jolly Five ladies already talking about possibility of going to WIBC at Phoenix next year after recent successful appearance.

John Nickell was the only area performer to gain any honors at the annual Men's State tourney at Lansing. His 2018 was tops in all events actual . . . Local bowling people are taking on other interests. Huron Bowl and Howe's are sponsoring softball teams while Joe Puertas, who is having "300" Bowl built, and a partner are now operating Sandy Beach.

Orioles Pass Yanks by Sweeping Chisox

By The Associated Press

The Baltimore Orioles, who made their surprise run on the American League pennant with a bunch of kid pitchers last season, are back knocking on the door again—but this time behind a young southpaw and a pair of old pappy guys.

They moved past the New York Yankees into third place, four games back of league-leading Detroit, by sweeping a Memorial Day doubleheader from Chicago's sagging White Sox, winning the opener 6-0 on a three-hit job by left-hander Steve Barber and taking the second game 2-1 on a combined four-hitter by Skinny Brown and Hoyt Wilhelm.

It was the third shutout for the 22-year-old Barber, tops in the majors at the moment, and gave him a 7-3 record, tying Detroit's Frank Lary (7-2) for the most victories in the majors this season. Brown, 36, and Wilhelm, 37, each have won five, with Wilhelm nailing his eighth save.

Those three pitchers have been in on all but seven of the Birds' 25 victories this season—and have been responsible for 10 of Baltimore's last 12 in a surge from sixth place.

Detroit's lead was shaved to 2½ games as the Tigers split with Kansas City, winning 5-3 before the A's came back for a 9-3 victory in the nightcap. Second-place Cleveland closed in by sweeping Minnesota 4-3 and 7-5. New York hammered seven home runs and beat Boston 12-3, and Washington knocked off the Los Angeles Angels 5-1.

Barber walked six and struck out three while blanking the White Sox on three singles for his fifth success in the last six decisions. The Orioles, who have won seven of their last eight, collected 15 hits with Gus Triandos and Jim Gentile, who socked his 13th home run, each driving in two runs. Bob Shaw (3-4) was the loser.

Brown (5-1) then won his fourth in a row, shutting out the Sox on two singles for eight innings. Wilhelm retired the first two in the ninth, then gave up a homer by Jim Landis—the first run the knuckleball master had allowed in 17 innings over 10 relief appearances. It also was the first run in 24 innings for the last place White Sox, who have lost nine of their last 10 and are 0-6 against Baltimore. Billy Pierce (1-4) lost it on Dick Williams' home run in the fourth inning.

A pinch single by Don Dillard broke a tie and won the first game for the Indians against Camilo Pascual (4-5). Wynn Hawkins and winning reliever Frank Funk (6-3) stopped Lennie Green's hitting streak at 24 games—longest in the majors in two years. In the nightcap, the Tribe scored in three-run bursts in the first and third innings, with half of the runs unearned, against Pedro Ramos (3-5). Mudcat Grant (5-0) won it with three innings of two-hit, shutout relief by Barry Latman after Bob Allison's homer had triggered a five-run sixth for the Twins. Minnesota has lost five in a row and 10 of 11.

Mickey Mantle, Roger Maris and Bill Skowron each slugged a pair of homers for the Yankees, tying the major league record for most players hitting two or more in a nine-inning game. Relievers Bill Stafford and Jim Coates blanked the Red Sox on three hits over the last six innings, with Stafford (1-2), the winner, retiring all 12 men he faced.

World Title to Irishman

LONDON (AP) — Unbeaten Johnny Caldwell, a young, aggressive Irishman who dethroned Alphonse Halimi and became the first Briton in 10 years to hold a world boxing championship, has a couple of disputes to settle.

And, after decisively outpointing Halimi in their bloody 15-round battle for the European version of the bantamweight title Tuesday, the 22-year-old champ laid down this two-fold plan for settling the problems:

1. A return bout with Halimi, whose manager said "Caldwell should have been disqualified" when he opened a cut over the Frenchman's eye in the eighth round.

2. A meeting with Brazil's Eder Jofre, recognized as champion in Latin America and by the U.S. National Boxing Association, in order to clear up the two claims to the title.

Caldwell, who made Halimi his 22nd straight victim, took command when a cut was opened over the champion's eye during an exchange early in the eighth round. The cut bled throughout the rest of the fight.

Caldwell, who weighed 117¾ to Halimi's 116½, emphasized after the fight he wanted to give Halimi a return match first.

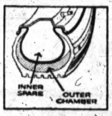
THE NEW CAPTIVE-AIR DOUBLE EAGLE by GOODYEAR

TURNPIKE-PROVED for extra safety

MORE PEOPLE RIDE ON GOODYEAR TIRES THAN ON ANY OTHER KIND!

If everyone rode on the Captive-Air Double Eagle, there would be no more flat tires.



It's two tires in one. A nylon-and-steel cord "inner spare" makes this the one tire that doesn't go flat. If your Captive-Air Double Eagle ever does go flat from any cause: Goodyear will (1) pay for your road service, (2) replace the inner shield free, and (3) give you full allowance for all unused tread wear if the outer tire is damaged.

The new Double Eagle is trimmer. The trimmer it is, the more it "gives" against bumps. So you ride safer, softer, smoother, quieter. Yet you don't sacrifice a mile of the wonderful wear Double Eagles are famous for.

Special introductory allowance
For a limited time only, we are offering a huge allowance for any tire off your car in trade—and, of course, you put NO MONEY DOWN. Take months to pay!

Active Market Moves Higher

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market moved generally higher in heavy trading early today.

Most gains were narrow. Fractional advances among key stocks outnumbered losses.

Du Pont, General Motors and American Telephone continued on the comeback trail. Their improvement Friday was basic to the surprising rally before the four-day market recess.

Du Pont, rising about a point, may have been helped by the company's request that the Supreme Court lift the 10-year deadline for the company to dispose of its GM stock.

Zenith was up 2 at 163½ while other electronics issues did little. Sperry Rand eased ⅛ to 32¼ as the company reported lower income despite record sales.

A generally higher tone among oils, chemicals, utilities and rails bolstered the average. The pattern was mixed among steels, motors, aircraft-missiles, rubbers and electrical equipments.

American Stock exchange prices were mixed. Insurance Co. of North America was off more than a point. Cenco Instrument advanced about a point. General Plywood and Aerojet-General were other gainers. Among losers were Leesona and Aeronca.

Girl He Stabbed Says 'Yes' to English Convict

WINCHESTER, England (UPI)—Frank Chapman will walk out of prison Thursday to marry the girl he stabbed, and then return to his cell to finish his sentence for the crime.

Chapman abducted Eileen when she was 16, and served an 18-month prison term for the crime. When he finished the sentence, she was waiting for him.

Then they quarreled, and Eileen complained to a magistrate's court. Chapman was put on probation. Angry at her complaint, he stabbed Eileen in March and was sentenced to another 18-month prison term.

The romance warmed up again when they started corresponding. Chapman proposed in a letter from prison, and earlier this month Eileen wrote back: "Yes."

Held for Investigation in Death of Woman

CASSOPOLIS (AP) — Eule Wayne Bromley, 24, of Goshen, Ind., was held for investigation of murder today in the fatal shooting of a woman he claims was his wife.

Cass County sheriff's men said the victim, Lozetta M. Baker, 36, whose address is the same as Bromley's, died moments after midnight last night at Three Rivers Hospital despite emergency surgery.

Deputies were checking the man's report that the couple had been married last month.

Noted Interpreter Dies

OYSTER BAY, N.Y. (AP) — Nicholas W. Orloff, 66, former United Nations chief interpreter, died Tuesday of a heart attack. Orloff joined the United Nations as an interpreter in 1946 and left in 1955 for a career in free lance translation work. He was born of royalty in St. Petersburg, Russia, and came to the United States in 1940.

Sewage-Pact Deadline Close

Commission Will Go to Wire on Approving Expansion Contracts

Contracts totaling $2,507,260 are scheduled to be approved shortly after tonight's 8 p.m. meeting begins.

The action will be less than four hours away from the deadline set by Oakland County Circuit Court in behalf of the Water Resources Commission.

In its move to curb Clinton River pollution, the State Water Resources Commission demanded that expansion be under contract by June 1 and completed by this time two years from now.

A general obligation bond issue to finance the expansion has still to be approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission. The issue will be $200,000 to $300,000 less than the $3.53 million originally anticipated.

REZONING RECOMMENDED

On hand tonight is a planning commission recommendation that the commission rezone about eight acres off North Perry Street from residential to commercial to make way for the proposed $2 million Glenwood Avenue shopping center.

The first move would be to have a rezoning ordinance drawn up for a public hearing later this month.

City Manager Walter K. Willman said he would recommend renewal of the one-year lease agreement with Pontiac Transit Corp., the city's bus line.

He said the agreement is almost the same as the one approved last year, when the company started operations here. The only difference, Willman said, is acknowledgement in the new lease that the company is now using new buses.

Grains Hold Steady in Moderate Dealings

CHICAGO (AP) — Grain futures prices held generally steady to firm today in moderately active two-sided early dealings on the board of trade.

Soybeans tilted toward weakness, however, with a new crop months off about a cent during the first several minutes. The July delivery appeared to have rather active support at times which some dealers said probably was reinstated of long positions that had been liquidated for the weekend and the Memorial Day holiday.

Wheat and corn scarcely stirred from their previous closes in a fairly even balance of trade.

Watson to Tell of Own Threats

Card With R.C.H. on It Given to Neighbor as Clue if Trouble

DETROIT (AP) — Gordon Watson was expected to tell from the witness stand today of threats made against his own life after the 1959 slaying of his business partner, Parvin (Bill) Lassiter, in a lucrative Royal Oak auto dealership.

Watson is on trial in Lassiter's slaying, charged with first degree murder and conspiracy to commit murder.

He has pleaded innocent and has ridiculed the state's accusation that he and Lassiter's pretty wife Nelle engineered the plot that resulted in the killing.

William Folgmann, a neighbor, testified earlier that Watson once gave him his business card, with the initials "R.C.H." penciled on it. Folgmann was to take it to police if anything happened to Watson.

Roy C. Hicks (R.C.H.) is one of three men who admitted the actual slaying of Lassiter and now are serving life-term prison sentences on pleas of guilty to second-degree murder.

Meeting Scheduled by Medical Society

The Oakland County Medical Society will hold its quarterly business meeting Thursday night at the Kingsley Inn, in Bloomfield Hills.

The 8 p.m. program will be preceded by a social hour at 6 and dinner at 7.

The doctors will discuss federal legislation for medical health care for the aged and changes in the Blue Cross-Blue Shield program.

Author Taken by Death

NORWICH, Conn. (AP) — Jay Jerome Williams, 68, author and former newspaperman, died Monday of cancer. Williams, at one time an adviser to former President Syngman Rhee of South Korea, started his newspaper career with the Chicago Tribune and later worked in Washington. He was an executive of U.S. Daily, a forerunner of U.S. News and World Report, in the 1920s.

McCARROLL DANCERS — One of the many routines in Thursday night's Pontiac Public Schools All-City Elementary School Festival at Wisner Stadium, will be "Ace of Diamonds," performed by McCarroll School pupils. Rehearsing their dance steps are (from left) Charles Ayers of 857 Spence St., Dennis Killen of 94 Glenwood Ave., Julie McEachorn of 624 Markle St., and Julia Bouldrey of 732 Young St. Some 3,000 fifth and sixth grade pupils will participate in the show, which will have a centennial theme. 3,000 Pupils Will Fill Stadium With Music

Wisner Stadium will be filled with the sound of music tomorrow night. Making the sound will be some 3,000 fifth and sixth grade pupils.

Each year the Pontiac Public Schools present a big spring music festival, with elementary and secondary schools alternating years.

The younger set gets the nod this year, and they have prepared a mammoth four-act prelude to the Centennial, "This Is Our City—Pontiac."

The program will begin at 7:30. It is a portrayal in song, dance, words and pageantry of the spirit of this city.

"With this program, we hope to show that from its wealth of Indian lore to its wealth of industry, Pontiac is truly the personification of the glory that is America," said Mrs. Edith Roach Snyder, principal of Webster School and elementary vocal music department supervisor.

INDIAN 'SPECTACULAR'

She is one of the pageant's directors.

Others include Jean Young, supervisor, elementary physical education; Gerald Irish and Eldon Rosegart, supervisors, elementary instrumental music; and Vera Mae Adams, of the Pontiac Central High School radio workshop.

The script was written by Miss Adams.

Prelude to the program will be an Indian "spectacular" with the all-city chorus singing "Song of Pontiac," composed by Mrs. Geraldine Cheal, elementary vocal music teacher.

Indian games and dances will be performed by Emerson, Herrington, Malkim, Crofoot and Mark Twain pupils.

The first act, "The Saginaw Trail," and Act II, "Old Pete," trace Pontiac history through the Civil War.

GERMAN BAND

Act III, "Wheels and More Wheels," will feature a German Band from Alcott, LeBaron and Will Rogers schools.

The finale will consist mainy of a tableau and a grand parade. Joining in will be members of the Pontiac Board of Education, Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, Greater Pontiac Centennial Committee, and City Manager Walter K. Willman.

Children have been rehearsing for many weeks and are spending many hours in final preparation at Wisner Stadium this week.

Women Will Spread Word of Centennial

A group of Pontiac businesswomen will spread the Centennial word from Pontiac to Dayton, Ohio, Friday.

Wearing Centennial garb and riding in two new Pontiacs marked with the Centennial seal, a nine-member delegation of the Tipacon chapter of the American Business Women's Association plans to drive to Dayton for the association's district convention this weekend.

The delegation decided to help advertise the Centennial along the way. Delegates will sport Centennial bonnets and dresses at the convention.

Junior Academy Graduates 15 at Church Rite

Rev. John P. Erhard, pastor, was the main speaker. Ralph R. James, principal of the academy, spoke briefly and the ceremony included songs by the school choir.

Graduating from the 10th grade were Eddie L. Arnold of 6588 Cooley Drive, White Lake Township, and David E. Wilson of 111 Palmer St. Both will attend the Adelphian Academy in Holly next fall.

The other graduates were all in the 8th grade graduating class. The local academy runs through the 10th grade.

Another Film About Pontiac?

Movie Would Spell Out Cooperation on Loop Between Agencies

Now they're talking about another film about Pontiac.

It would show how downtown business leaders donated nearly $20,000 for the highway needs study out of which plans for the loop grew.

Robert A. Stierer, assistant city manager, said the State Highway Department started thinking in earnest about producing such a film after discussing the idea with representatives from the city, Urban Renewal Administration and Bureau of Public Roads.

Cost estimates and a story line are now being developed by the highway department, Stierer said.

The film would point out how intergovernmental cooperation in planning and financing helped pave the way for the revitalization of a downtown business district, Stierer said.

Though not yet off the drawing boards, the proposed loop is fast becoming the first major step in the revitalization of downtown Pontiac.

Stierer said the highway department thought the film might spur similar projects in other Michigan cities. He said the Bureau of Public Roads believed the film could be shown in cities across the nation for the same purpose.

Britain Says Russ Block A-Ban Talks

GENEVA (AP)—Britain formally accused the Soviet Union today of blocking the Geneva negotiations to halt the nuclear armaments race.

Sir Michael Wright, British delegate to the deadlocked three-power test ban talks, expressed "intense regret" of the British government over the Soviet attitude in the negotiations.

He severely criticized the Soviet delegate, Semyon K. Tsarapkin, for rejecting out-of-hand a Western compromise proposal, presented Monday, to lower the number of inspections on the site of suspicious earth tremors in the Soviet Union.

Pastor Leaving Area for Church Program

REV. ARVID E. ANDERSON

Rev. Arvid E. Anderson, pastor of Christ Lutheran Church in Waterford Township for the past 11 years, will leave his pastorate to serve in the "Long Range Program of Parish Education" for the new Lutheran Church in America, a merger of four Lutheran churches.

The constituting convention of the merged church, representing 6,000 congregations of the United States and Canada, will be held in Cobo Hall, Detroit, in June 1962.

Since 1956, parish education boards have been preparing an entirely new educational system for the congregations. It is expected to be published in 1964, when the curriculum has been developed and field tested.

Pastor Anderson will work in the interpretation, introduction and enlistment of the new program.

The Andersons with their three children will leave for Philadelphia, Pa., headquarters of the parish educational department after Aug. 6 when Pastor Anderson conducts his last service here.

Rev. Reuben E. Norling of Detroit, who has been elected vice pastor of the congregation, will conduct the official affairs of the congregation while a successor is being secured.

CHURCH GROWS

Pastor Anderson came to Christ Lutheran Church, a mission of St. John's Lutheran Church, after his graduation from the seminary.

The church has grown to over 1,000 children and adults with a Sunday school enrollment of 550.

During this period a new addition was completed and dedicated at a cost of $130,000, a new parsonage purchased, and additional land secured for expansion.

Pastor Anderson has baptized over 600 children and adults, and confirmed over 300 young people. He has served as leader in the camping program for the past 10 years, and worked on the committee to secure a new camp for Michigan churches.

President of the Waterford Township Ministerial Fellowship, he serves on the Youth Protective Services Study Committee for Waterford Township and is pastor-president of the Waterford-Drayton Plains Rotary Club.

Supervisors Set Joint Meeting of Six Counties

Around 60 Oakland County supervisors will meet tomorrow in a new setting — Detroit — as supervisors from six Southeastern Michigan counties attend the fourth annual joint meeting staged by the Supervisors Inter-County Committee.

At committee-of-the-whole meetings of the several boards in the afternoon, the Oakland supervisors will discuss acceptance of bids for parking lots, lighting and sewer work at the new courthouse.

"We're taking this up now so we can get the project under way," said Norman R. Barnard, the board's committee clerk

Dr. James K. Pollock, vice chairman of the permanent advisory commission to the President on intergovernmental relations, will address the group at the Veterans Memorial Building in the evening.

Colored glass blocks are being used in church windows instead of stained glass.

Worthless Check Passers Given Prison Terms

A total of nine years in Jackson Prison as minimum terms were passed out Monday by Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero to two men who admitted passing a worthless $112 check at an Auburn Avenue market.

Frank M. Zietek, 39, whose last known address was Detroit, was sentenced to 7½ to 14 years, while Bennie Karpoicz, 23, of 1818 Manse Road, Waterford Township, received 1½ to 14 years.

Both were suspects in what the police believe was a major ring of bogus check passers operating in Oakland and Macomb Counties and in Detroit.

Two other men await trial in Circuit Court here while a fifth is being held in Detroit.

Zietek, with a long criminal record, and Karpoicz, with this being his "first convicted offense," according to a probation officer, pleaded guilty to uttering and publishing May 15.

Suggests Program on Student Affairs

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A University of Michigan faculty committee Tuesday called for a student affairs program to make the campus "responsive to the needs of 1961 and beyond."

The Senate Committee on Student Relations headed by Prof. C. F. Lehmann of the education school made the recommendation in a report to university heads.

Without disclosing details, the committee said in a press release that it is recommending "structural changes" in the office of student affairs.

The committee report was interpreted unofficially to be advocating a more liberal attitude on intercultural affairs, including the field of interracial relations.

FAMOUS SPOTS IN PARIS — Boxes show main points of interest which will be visited by President and Mrs. John F. Kennedy during their visit to Paris. They arrived at Orly Airport this morning after a flight from New York's Idelwild Airport. They are staying at the French Foriegn Ministry while in Paris.

Jacqueline's Clothes Sense to Influence Paris Modistes

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS (AP) — Jacqueline Kennedy's visit to Paris is sure to have a strong effect on the fall and winter collections that French fashion houses are readying for showings in July.

They make a willing and enthusiastic exception in Mrs. Kennedy's case, partly because they have already adopted her as French. Local newspapers and women's magazines have published lyrical tributes to "Jackie" sure that the admiration is mutual. They ungrudgingly praise her elegance and taste.

SHE'S NOT BUYING

Givenchy, who in the past has designed some gowns for Mrs. Kennedy, is doing no boasting. Press curiosity is firmly discouraged, and the White House has denied that Mrs. Kennedy is at present buying any clothes from Paris.

The New York Women's Wear Daily recently reported a Paris fashion house was discreetly forwarding gowns for Mrs. Kennedy to a fictitious name in Washinton. White House press secretary Pierre Saliger said the story was "rot."

The "Jackie style" of almost severe simplicity in dresses and simple little hats is fine by the Paris fashion houses.

However, the furriers and jewelers are suffering some pangs because Mrs. Kennedy prefers cloth coats and is shy on jewelled ornamentation.

The First Lady's liking for short skirts and plain, semi-fitted silhouettes is sure to make a mark on what the designers are dreaming up for fall. Her choice of colors—white is a favorite—and materials will be faithfully noted and acted on.

The French consider that Jacqueline Kennedy's fashion taste was probably formed in her Sorbonne student days in Paris, and whatever she wears usually meets their approval.

Rental Plan Frightens Sophia About Women

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Did you know, in this Let's Rent-Everything-We-Can Age, about the bedclothes rental service?

Play your sheets right and you can roll and toss on the same muslins slept on by Zsa Zsa and Eva Gabor, Joan Crawford, Ann Sheridan — even Jackie Gleason.

WILSON

"But Murray Cohen's Consolidated Laundries even rented men's shirts — but men wanted to own their own shirts," I said.

"American women have nothing to do — is that why there are so many divorces?" Sophia said, and then, speaking again of shirts, she said Italy doesn't allow its movie actresses to take off their shirts as much as American films do.

"We have never such low decollete as you do," Sophia said.

SOPHIA

Hearing me splutter about her own pictures, she said, "You have to be born sexy. It's not done by undressing. In fact" — she's here to revise some dialogue in "Two Women" —"I've quit glamorous parts. They don't amuse me any more."

With candor, she spoke of her husband Carlos Ponti's Mexican divorce, their Mexican marriage, his effort to get an Italian annulment of his previous marriage.

"I feel married," she said. "If Italy doesn't annul the marriage, we'll continue living together anyway. Most married couples don't feel married at all."

Sophia, speaking of JFK's wife, Jackie, said, "You know, she isn't pretty' "—and I bristled.

"If you don't care very much for somebody, you say she's 'pretty' or 'cute'," Sophia said. "Well, she's so much more . . ."

Pro-Cuba Units Being Formed

'Fair Play' Committees Thick in Colleges and Heavy With Reds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A Communist-infiltrated group is actively recruiting members on college campuses and elsewhere in the United States in a pro-Castro organization.

Called the "Fair Play for Cuba Committee" (FPCC), the organization plays on American sympathy for the underdog by depicting Cuban Premier Fidel Castro as a misrepresented patriot who is being "bullied" by a big neighbor.

The group now claims a membership of about 7,000, with chapters at 37 colleges and in 23 cities. Although all of its members are by no means Communists, it is heavily infiltrated by Reds.

On April 15, when the United Nations was debating a Cuban charge of "aggression" against the United States, a crowd of about 300 demonstrators marched outside the U.N. building waving anti-American placards and shouting, "Cuba, Si; Yankee, No!"

This demonstration was organized by the Fair Play for Cuba Committee.

The FPCC's orientation also is clear in its propaganda, which is distributed to members through a newsletter and other literature and to the general public in occasional paid newspaper advertisements.

It consistently blames the United States for friction with the Castro regime, and rarely finds fault with anything that Castro has done, including his mass executions.

Flabby American Finally Limbers Up

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — All together, now. We will do our exercise for today: open the window, breathe fresh air in and throw the remote control TV tuner out.

There! Last one to do it is, in the words of last night's "Close-Up" on ABC-TV, "The Flabby American."

Produced and directed by John Lynch, "The Flabby American" — no, Gertrude, it wasn't subtitled, "The Jackie Gleason Story" — spent too much time emphasizing the obvious and being superficially horrified in the Vance Packard tradition about what creature comforts are doing to us individually and collectively.

When the cameras pulled up before Bonnie Prudden, Dr. Glenn Olds and Coach Bud Wilkinson, the second-half of the program rolled out of its cozy hammock and somersaulted some impressive calls to action across the screen.

If this "Close-Up" examined their proposals and findings in greater detail, it would have uncorked a more forceful blow in the cause of physical fitness.

This trio told us that 90 per cent of our elementary schools lack gymnasiums, that parents can give their kids better starts in life by putting them through daily limbering-up exercises and making certain that schools have effective physical fitness programs.

We also were told that in general it's never too late to start flexing unused muscles by setting up our own exercise schedules.

Me? I get my exercise by frequent departure from the foam rubber couch cushion to manipulate the TV dial by a series of hand movements. That's why we call this TV-watching game, "la dolce vigor."

Incidentally, the sponsor of the show was in with a commercial for a remote control, push-button, automatic-loading camera. Don't just sit there showing home movies, folks. Do pushups.

Use Sit-In Plan at Model Home'

Negroes Try Technique at San Francisco Real Estate Development

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Negroes are applying to a San Francisco real estate development of $32,000 homes their sit-in technique of protesting segregation.

"Our people have been locked out when they attempt to look at the Forest Knolls model home," said Terry Francois, chapter president of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People,

But the lockout keeps potential white home buyers away, too.

"So we'll have somebody here every working hour," Francois declared Tuesday when 15 whites joined about 20 Negroes in the sit-in protest on the slopes of Mt. Sutro.

The sit-in procedure started Sunday in support of Willie L. Brown Jr., 27, an attorney, who attempted to buy a home in the development of the Standard Building Co.

Brown, runner up in the San Francisco Junior Chamber of Commerce distinguished service award selection last year said he wanted to move nearer his law offices.

Brown said the salesmen refused to talk about selling a house and left the model home area.

Throughout Sunday and Memorial Day, normally busy days for house hunters, the model home remained locked and no salesmen were evident.

Crippled Plane Limps Home

The Superconstellation ferrying U. S. military personnel and their families from Germany to McGuire Air Force Base, N. J., was forced to turn back two hours after leaving Shannon when one of its four propellers ran wild and the pilot could not feather it.

One of the aircraft escorting President Kennedy to Europe offered assistance but was not needed. A Pan American airliner in the vicinity shepherded the crippled plane to safety.

Forty children were among the 95 passengers aboard the airliner, 20 of them babies in arms.

Chief hostess Elanore Prakopcyk of Glen Gardner, N. J., said: "The passengers were just wonderful. They kept calm even after we had them take off their shoes and get into their life jackets."

Capt. James MacCormack, 17 Barbun Road, West Islip, Long Island, who piloted the Seaboard and World airliner, said "It was a bit tricky" after he brought it to a perfect landing.

Michigan Life Insurance Hits Highest Figure

Michigan Life Insurance Co. of Royal Oak has topped the half-billion-dollar mark of life insurance in force, it is announced by Scott E. Lamb, president, of 6301 Sheringham Road, Birmingham.

"This significant milestone in company growth keynotes the recent Michigan Life expansion programs in four states," Lamb stated.

The company, the largest, old-line, legal reserve stock life insurance firm in Michigan, took 26 years to reach its first milestone of $100 million of life insurance in force. The $400 million mark was achieved less than 18 months ago.

Lamb also announced that the company has produced a new rate book, based on the latest mortality table approved by the National Association of Insurance Commissioners.

He also said Michigan Life has just introduced policy innovations which include a special low-cost life insurance policy for women only, reflecting improved mortality in females; a series of basic decreasing term policies; a series of participating policies; automatic waiver of premium disability benefits with some policies; and some policy riders which include a guaranteed purchase option.
