FATAL CAR—A Pontiac man, Fred Summers Jr., 41, of 806 Orlando, died this morning at Pontiac General Hospital following a head-on crash on Kennett near Hollywood about 1:30 a.m. A passenger in his car was injured, as was the other driver, Alvin Slusher of Waterford Township.

Area Accidents Kill Girl, Man

A 12-year-old Oxford Township girl was killed last night and a Pontiac man fatally injured early today in area traffic accidents.

The victims are Phyllis Heichel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Heichel, 1955 Lakeville; and Fred Summers Jr., 41, of 806 Orlando.

The youngster was struck by a car driven by Norman J. Bertram of Yale as she was crossing Washington street in Oxford in front of the Oxford Theater.

Her body is at the Flumerfelt Funeral Home, Oxford.

Another girl, Gloria Wright, 17, of 10½ Stanton, was also hit but was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital.

Bertram was being held in the Oakland County Jail pending his questioning by Oxford Police.

Police said that after the girls were struck Bertram did not immediately stop, but returned to the scene after he had circled the block.

Bertram was passing another car when the accident happened about 9:30 p.m., according to Oxford police.

Summers' car collided head-on with an auto driven by Alvin Slusher, 30, of 7228 Ideal Terrace, Waterford Township, on Kennett near Hollywood about 1:35 a.m. today.

He was pronounced dead in the emergency room at Pontiac General Hospital less than two hours afterward.

★ ★ ★

A passenger in Summers' car, his son Earl, 18, of 913 Boston, Waterford Township, was being held at the hospital for observation. Slusher was treated and released.

Jewel Robbery at Area Home

Farmington Twp. Job Worth Over $40,000

A Farmington Township woman was robbed of between $40,000-$65,000 in jewelry yesterday by a gunman who forced his way into her home.

★ ★ ★

The victim was Mrs. Markus Rohtbart, 31550 Franklin Fairway, the wife of a Detroit businessman, according to Farmington Township Police Chief Irving Yakes.

Yakes said the robber went to the Rohtbart home as an air-conditioning serviceman.

After forcing Mrs. Rohtbart to a bedroom where the jewelry was stored, he shut her in a closet while he made his getaway.

A maid, Ida Jones of Detroit, telephoned police.

Mrs. Rohtbart described the bandit as between 24-30 years old, six foot tall, 160 pounds with reddish brown hair. He wore a light cap with a brim.

Area 2-Year-Old Is Found Drowned

A 2-year-old Addison Township boy wandered from his home yesterday afternoon and drowned in nearby Lakeville Lake.

The victim was Daniel Winterton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Winterton of 582 Lakeville.

The boy's body was discovered floating in the lake by Ray Myers of 733 Manotic, Addison Township, about 10 feet off shore in six feet of water.

Any Diversion in Viet Tasks Regretted, LBJ

'Everything Possible Should Be Done to Unify All Factions

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson said today "we regret any diversion" in South Viet Nam from efforts to defeat the Communists or from the task of building a more democratic society.

Summoning about two dozen newsmen to a question-and-answer session in his oval office, Johnson began by reading a three-paragraph statement in which he said:

"We are watching the situation in Viet Nam closely. We believe everything possible should be done to bring the various factions to an understanding of the need for unity while the constitutional process is moving forward.

"That is what our people are trying to do."

The President went on to say that the South Vietnamese are trying to build a nation in the midst of war. He conceded, "It is a hard and frustrating job and there is no easy answer—no instant solution—to any of the problems they face."

★ ★ ★

His statement concluded:

"We are not in Viet Nam to dictate what form of government they should have. Our wish is to see them increasingly able to manage their own affairs with the participation of an ever broader share of the population.

WE REGRET

"We regret any diversion from that task and from efforts to defeat the Communists' attempt to take over South Viet Nam."

Stadium Plan for Detroit Told

Cost at Fair Site Is Put at $50-60 Million

DETROIT (AP)— A committee of the Michigan State Fair Authority revealed yesterday it has worked up a plan for a 65,000-seat stadium at the fairgrounds here, to cost an estimated $50 million to $60 million.

★ ★ ★

"We have been working quietly for 2½ years and have completed all the necessary studies," said Alfred R. Glancy, chairman of the authority's development committee.

He spoke at a meeting of a similar committee set up by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

"The stadium design is completed," Glancy said. "We have our sights set on a 65,000-seat stadium with parking facilities for 20,000 cars.

★ ★ ★

"It hasn't been decided whether the stadium will be domed," he said. "A dome can add 50 per cent to the cost. We will build either with the dome or with the idea of putting it on in the future."

The stadium would be built by the fair authority.

Market Turns Bullish; Bears Take Goring

NEW YORK (AP) — The badly mauled Wall Street bull began to show a few signs of life this week and got in a few licks against his enemy, the bear.

It was the first time in three weeks that the stock market had been able to show two clear-cut rallies in a week. Still the market showed a loss based on most indicators, its fourth straight.

Thanks to selective gains by some of its 30 stocks, however, the Dow Jones industrial average emerged with a gain of .78 at 876.89. It was the first advance in a four-week stretch which saw weekly losses mounting to 20 and 30 points in the Dow.

It has been a bear (or declining) market since Feb. 9 when the Dow industrials reached their historic peak of 955.15 and began sliding.

★ ★ ★

By the end of last Tuesday's session, the average had sunk 131.01 points, closing at 864.14.

The next day the market put on its biggest rally in 11 months.

Anti-Viet Display Clouds LBJ Phone Talk to UAW

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A group of 25 anti-Viet Nam war demonstrators unfurled their banners in the balcony of the Long Beach Arena last night just as President Johnson began a speech by telephone from the White House to the United Auto Workers' convention.

The demonstrators stole the show.

Most of the 2,500 delegates and their wives watched the drama throughout Johnson's speech, in which he declared that the nation's economy depends neither upon war spending nor the stock market.

"Ours isn't a roller coaster economy any more," the President said.

The UAW convention — being held near Watts, scene of racial unrest in Los Angeles — was also told by the President that "this is the time for bridges to be built, not for antagonisms to be aroused."

SURROUNDED

The demonstrators, most of whom identified themselves as students at the University of California at Los Angeles, were surrounded by about 40 delegates and a nearly equal number of UAW officials, trying to calm down their members.

The first banner appeared just before Johnson spoke.

As the delegates booed the demonstrators, UAW President Walter Reuther told them: "This is a democracy. They have the right to dissent, even if they are wrong. Let them stay."

To Strike Back if Fired On by Rebel Troops

Da Nang Shooting Hurts 15 GIs; Base Near City Is Shelled

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States warned Buddhist leaders today that American troops will strike back in case of further shelling of U. S. installations by Buddhist-backed rebel troops.

The warning was delivered by American consular representatives in Hue to Thich Tri Quang, a powerful Buddhist monk in the rebellious northern province.

American sources said Tri Quang repeated his demands for U.S. pressure to oust the military government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

American military sources said they felt none of the attacks were deliberate but exposed American servicemen to additional danger.

CALLED CONGRESS

As Ky's air force bombed rebel forces in Da Nang and riot police clashed with more than 5,000 Buddhist demonstrators in Saigon, Ky called a "civilian-military national people's congress" meeting for next Tuesday in an effort to end the strife.

The congress is supposed to represent a cross-section of the country's political factions and is to discuss the ways of stabilizing the situations before the Sept. 11 election for a constituent assembly.

Saigon had another antigovernment demonstration today. Riot police hurled tear-gas grenades and dispersed a crowd of about 1,000 Buddhist youths.

The demonstrators chanted slogans against the military junta and burned giant posters with caricatures of Ky and Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu. Some carried antigovernment banners.

Students Take Draft Exams Amid Protests

WASHINGTON (AP) Some 250,000 college students file into campus auditoriums and study halls today to take draft deferment tests as sporadic demonstrations against the Selective Service system continue across the nation.

This is the second of the three hour, 150-question examinations designed to help local draft boards determine which students, if any, will be called into the armed services.

Some 400,000 young men took the test last weekend at 1,200 colleges and universities in the 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Panama Canal Zone. Thousands more students are expected to be tested on June 3 and June 24.

As preparations for today's tests were being completed, antidraft demonstrations were reported from Brooklyn to Chicago to Wisconsin and California.

School Districts Ask Millage 'Fair Play'

Officials of several Oakland County school districts yesterday appealed to the County Tax Allocation Board for "fair play" with the schools in apportioning millage.

The school officials spoke at a hearing on the preliminary allocation of 15.18 mills set last Monday.

Allocation board members then took one tenth mill from the schools and gave it to the county government. This represents about $270,000 in property tax revenue.

School representatives who spoke at the hearing were unanimous in citing the significance of the loss of one tenth mill.

★ ★ ★

Dana P. Whitmer, Supt. of Pontiac Schools, said that the millage adjustment means a loss of $42,000 to Pontiac Schools and that this will impair the system's capacity to carry out its program.

MADE APPEAL

Whitmer then appealed to the board to reinstate the one tenth mill when it sets the final allocation of millage to school districts, townships and the county next Wednesday.

Gerald V. Harrison, Supt. of Farmington Schools, made a similar plea and commented that the 15-mill limitation was provided in the "horse and buggy days" and no longer is sufficient to meet needs of the three governmental units.

The allocation board is exceeding the limitation slightly as it did last year.

★ ★ ★

The State Constitution allows that when a governmental unit within a county overlaps another county line, the highest available millage may be used.

FIVE COUNTIES

Oakland County Schools, the Intermediate school district, extends into five surrounding counties.

The North Oxford School District in both Lapeer and Oakland counties is served by the Oakland intermediate school district.

Since it requires only 6.93 mills of a possible 9.60, excess millage is available.

George W. Coombe, Jr., president of the Birmingham Board of Education, presented the most lengthy argument in behalf of the schools yesterday.

In citing growing needs of school systems, he pointed out that more and more former non-public school students will be entering public schools and that the increased bargaining power of teachers, made available by the legislature, is certain to push salaries upward.

opments on the demonstration front:

● Police in Chicago arrested four students who refused to leave the Roosevelt University administration offices where a sit-in is being conducted against the university's policy of supplying class rankings to draft boards.

Outside the building, a man who identified himself as a sociology lecturer also was arrested.

● Twenty-seven Stanford University students opposed to holding the draft deferment test at the California institution maintained their sit-in in the university president's office.

They said they would be joined later by other students in efforts to disrupt administration of the tests.

And in protest to the protestors, some 350 Stanford students demonstrated in front of President J.E. Wallace Sterling's office.

●At Brooklyn College in New York, a 24-hour sit-in was conducted against use of the college's facilities for the draft exams.

● At Madison, Wis., a five-day student demonstration against the University of Wisconsin policy toward the draft ended quietly with students pledging to continue a campaign to persuade the faculty to approve a change in the practice of furnishing class rank to draft boards.

Living Costs Squeeze Public

Lower Pay Checks Increase Pressure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are stretching the already strained family budget even tighter with a sharp new rise in living costs. At the same time millions of breadwinners are bringing home smaller paychecks.

★ ★ ★

Latest government reports show living costs climbed faster for this time of year than in any similar period since the Korean War, while manufacturing cutbacks sliced the average pay of some 14 million factory workers.

The Labor Department said prices for food, clothing, housing, transportation, medical care, recreation, and other living costs went up four-tenths of 1 per cent in April, the third straight substantial rise in the monthly consumer price index.

★ ★ ★

ECONOMY FREE

But in a speech telephoned Friday night to a United Auto Workers convention in Long Beach, Calif., Johnson said the nation's economy does not depend on the stock market, which has been erratic of late, or on war spending.

★ ★ ★

He said it is time to "start thinking more soberly and realistically about the fact that ours isn't a roller coaster economy any more." This was one of a number of generalized suggestions the President made after asserting the nation "must go on a new agenda."

PRICE INDEX

The price index, at 112.5, showed it took $11.25 to buy items that cost $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the figure is based.

Since January, the Labor Department reported Friday, living costs have gone up 1.4 per cent, the largest increase for that period since 1951. It was matched only once before in any three-month period, in 1958.

★ ★ ★

Higher costs for consumer services — including medical care, excise taxes, mortgage interest rates, auto insurance, barbers, baby sitters and beauty shops — were largely to blame for the April increase.

Food prices, frequently the major factor in the past year of steadily climbing living costs, nearly leveled off with a hike of only one-tenth of 1 per cent, the smallest since last fall.

Heart Pump Placed in Woman Patient

NEW YORK (AP) — Doctors at Brooklyn's Maimonides Hospital have implanted an artificial heart pump in a woman, the Daily News reported today. The newspaper said the patient was in good condition.

★ ★ ★

The surgery was done Wednesday by a team headed by Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, a heart specialist who performed a similar operation at the hospital last February. That patient died a day later because of a liver disease.

Neither Kantrowitz nor hospital officials would comment on the latest surgery.

"We are under orders not to talk about the operation," said one hospital source.

PLASTIC PUMP

The News said the device used in the operation was a plastic pump designed to relieve the heart of work by bypassing the left ventricle, the chamber which pumps blood through the body.

Kantrowitz was an early developer of the implantable cardiac Pacemaker, which is used to stimulate heart action.

In Houston, Tex., the second man to receive an artificial heart pump within a month at Methodist Hospital died Friday. The plastic pump had been placed in the chest of Walter L. McCans, 61, of Woodinville, Wash., Tuesday.

A hospital advisory said McCans' heart condition seemed satisfactory and that persistent lung bleeding caused his death.

RUPTURED LUNG

Marcel L. DeRudder, 65, of Wesville, Ill., the first man to use the type of pump employed in McCans' case, died of a ruptured left lung April 26, five days after the operation.

McCans, a retired Navy man, had a long history of heart attacks. The pump assisted his damaged heart only about 27 hours. It was removed Wednesday.

In contrast, the pump remained in DeRudder's chest until he died.

Viet Diversions Regretted, LBJ

Vietnamese situation has been slipping, Johnson said that worry and dissatisfaction normally increase the longer American forces are involved and the greater sacrifices made by this country.

But he said that if anyone was worried about the course of events, "you can double that for the President."

★ ★ ★

He said he leads the parade of those who want to get out of Viet Nam — but only after achieving the objective of thwarting Communist ambitions.

PARRIED QUESTIONS

Johnson parried most questions dealing with Viet Nam, saying further discussion by him would contribute nothing.

That was his response when he was asked to state high current attitude toward South Vietnamese Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

On other subjects, Johnson said:

● The federal budget deficit for the current fiscal year that ends June 30 may be less than $4 billion compared with an estimate only last January of $6.4 billion.

SPENDING HELD

He reported that spending is being held close to the target of $106.4 billion while revenues have increased at least $2.5 billion above the January estimate of $100 billion.

The cost of living record of the United States, he asserted, is far better than that of any other industrial country in the world.

He said the average annual increase in living costs here of 1.5 per cent in recent years compares with 3 per cent in West Germany, 3.5 to 4 per cent in France and Britain, 5 per cent in Italy and 6.5 per cent in Japan.

● Plans for dealing with France's moves affecting the North Atlantic Treaty Organization have progresed thoroughly and satisfactorily. He gave no details.

A political action program and an escort service were put into effect this week by the Birmingham-Bloomfield Committee on Open Occupancy.

The political action program is designed to acquaint legislators and political parties with open occupancy needs in Michigan, according to John C. Palms, committee chairman.

The escort service will assist, contact and encourage prospective Negro home buyers. The plan is to encourage area realtors to offer Negro buyers equal treatment, Palms said.

Subcommittees were formed to implement both programs.

The political action subcommittee will direct its attention to political organizations and visiting candidates of Oakland County and Michigan; encouraging legislation on open occupancy.

Institute Of Science At Cranbrook

Cranbrook Seeks $4 Million for Science

A campaign to raise $4 million of endowment funds for Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills, has been announced by James A. Beresford, chairman of the board of trustees.

Beresford said the money will go toward student scholarships, research in biology, conservation and midwest archeology, support for the Visiting Scientists program, purchase of scientific specimens and salary improvements.

He pointed out that some of the capital needs are development of the physics hall, the atomarium and replacement of the planetarium instrument.

Donald N. Frey, a vice president of the Ford Motor Co. and general manager of the Ford Division, will be chairman of the original phase of the campaign, which will raise the first $2 million.

★ ★ ★

PAST SUPPORT

The Institute of Science has been supported in the past by funds supplied primarily by the Cranbrook Foundation.

Beresford said the Institute will continue to receive some support from the Foundation but that its ability to fund the operations of the Institute has not kept pace with rising costs and demands for varied programs occasioned by the many advances in the natural sciences.

Teachers Seek Sanctions on District in Pay Dispute

BIRMINGHAM — Teachers of the Birmingham School District have asked the Michigan Education Association to impose sanctions against the school district unless an agreement is reached on salaries for the 1966-67 school year.

Don Cameron, president of the Birmingham Education Associations are sought in addition to the association's threat to refuse to sign contracts this fall with the Birmingham School District.

If sanctions are imposed, the MEA would inform its 76,000 members that teaching in the Birmingham school system is "undesirable."

"The teachers are going to take their case to the community," Cameron said. "There has been no time to plan our course of action but we definitely feel citizens of Birmingham should know how the teachers feel about it."

A general membership meeting is planned by the BEA at 4 p.m. Thursday at Groves High School.

SESSION SET

A negotiating session is scheduled for Thursday night at the Hill Building at 7:30. "We hope the board will reconsider its decision and offer a counter proposal," Cameron said.

The BEA has asked a $900 average pay increase and has been offered $450 by the board.

Workers May Close Incinerator, Land-Fill

A union, whose members operate a garbage incinerator and a land-fill for 14 south Oakland County communities, has been ordered to show cause Monday in Circuit Court why it should not be prohibited from striking.

The order was signed yesterday by Judge Frederick C. Ziem against the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO, its Metropolitan Council No. 23 and Local 574.

The order was requested by the Southeastern Oakland County Incinerator Authority, established by 14 communities to dispose of waste materials.

The Authority said that if the union went on strike, approximately 346,000 persons living in the 14 cities would be endangered because of the health hazard caused by the failure to dispose of the garbage.

★ ★ ★

It said the incinerator and land-fill operates on a 24-hour basis in disposing of some 600 tons of garbage, rubbish and refuse daily.

OPERATION SITES

The incinerator is located at 29470 John R, Madison Heights and the land-fill operation is at 1741 School Road, Avon Township.

The authority said the union announced that it would strike after contract negotiations collapsed Thursday.

The communities that are members of the Authority include Birmingham, Troy, Beverly Hills, Berkley, Clawson, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, and Lathrup Village.

Others are Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak and Royal Oak Township.

Suspect Shot Near Scene of Troy Burglary

A Troy man was being held today in the Oakland County Jail after being shot by Troy police while fleeing the scene of a burglary early this morning.

Police said they would seek a burglary warrant today against Kenneth Williams, 24, of 510 Troywood, and another suspect, Charles W. Cormendy, 23, of 28684 Park, Madison Heights.

Cormendy was arrested by Birmingham police a block away from the break-in at the Interstate Vending Corp., Maple and Coolidge, Troy.

Williams was wounded in the hand by a shotgun blast after he allegedly refused to halt on police orders. He was treated at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

Police arrived on the scene in response to a burglary alarm at the firm, where they found a hole knocked out in the side of the building.

U.S. Aid Effort Said Failing in Viet

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman just back from South Viet Nam says U.S. aid programs there fail to supply the needs of the Vietnamese people or hold down inflation in the war-torn country.

Rep. John E. Moss, D-Calif., who spent 10 days looking into administration of aid programs in South Viet Nam, said much of the difficulty is due to inadequate foreign aid personnel.

"We need better checks on end use to see that our assistance aids in combating inflation," he said in an interview.

Moss also urged officials to "respond to the demands of the great mass of Vietnamese people" rather than take the word of local merchants concerning the needs of the Vietnamese.

His assessment of the civilian aid programs came as the political crisis in Viet Nam caused State Department officials to consider removing about 400 American civilians from the Hue-Da Nang area.

And there were these other major developments in the realm of U.S.-Asian policy:

—Officials said Red China's third nuclear explosion on May 9 was much stronger than originally estimated. At the same time, they reported the first radioactivity from the blast had been detected in the United States.

* * *

—A congressional subcommittee said Communist China is moving toward becoming a great world power. It urged the United States to continue trying for peaceful contacts with that country.

—Members of Congress and representatives of Canada's Parliament agreed at a conference that U.S.-Canadian relations would not be shattered if Canada recognized Communist China.

PUBLIC REMARKS

—The Viet Nam war continued to dominate public remarks of political figures. Republican Barry M. Goldwater predicted the United States will make a determined effort to win the war. Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey said he doubts congressional candidates running on an antiwar platform will win primary elections.

Moss, chairman of a House Foreign Operations subcommittee, discussed the Viet Nam aid program before entering Bethesda Naval Hospital to recuperate from what doctors described as exhaustion resulting from his trip.

* * *

He said definite progress has been made since subcommittee hearings earlier this year pointed up some of the deficiencies in the program. But he said despite very rapid expansion of facilities, "warehouse facilities are not adequate and not properly secure."

U.S. civilians had returned to the Hue-Da Nang area after being ordered out earlier this year in a previous phase of the crisis between the government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky and the Buddhist dissidents.

* * *

State Department officials said the United States is trying to help work out a solution and is keeping in urgent contact with Vietnamese government and rebel leaders.

May Contest Medical Post Salary Hikes

Salary hikes for four medical positions, approved a week ago by the newly established personnel policies committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, may be challenged.

David Levinson, chairman of the supervisors' ways and means committee, has called for a study of the availability of doctors and the going salary scale.

A joint meeting between the two committees is set for Tuesday to review action on the raises.

The personnel policies committee had authorized a salary of $24,000 for a full-time chief of staff at the County Sanatorium. It previously had been a $13,500 part-time position.

* * *

The committee also raised the salary range of $16,000 to $18,000 for an assistant chief of staff at the sanatorium to $18,000 to $20,000. This post has been unfilled.

OTHER BOOSTS

Pay boosts also were granted to the county health department director and deputy director.

These salaries were increased from $22,500 to $26,000 and $18,500 to $22,000 respectively.

Detroit Mayor Okays Record High Budget

DETROIT (AP) — Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh Friday approved a record $402 million budget for fiscal 1966-67 but warned he would take "immediate and positive corrective action" if spending gets out of hand.

In returning the budget to council for final action, Cavanagh endorsed the revised document, which is $2.8 million higher than his version.

Cancer Transplant Survivor Said 'Moderately Improved'

WHITE PIGEON (UPI)—Larry Rink, the only survivor among four men who underwent widely puclicized experimental cancer transplant operations, "has made moderate improvement" since returning home, his doctor said yesterday.

Dr. Ray Houghton, an osteopathic physician who has treated Rink since before his operation, said the youth will return to Roswell Cancer Institute at Buffalo, N.Y., soon for another transplant.

Rink, 22, "feels no pain at all" and even returned to his job at a mobile homes factory this week, Houghton said.

But he stopped working when he learned he would be returning to the Buffalo hospital.

Houghton said doctors at Roswell told him in a telephone conversation yesterday that Rink's partner in the transplant, Thomas E. Welker, 21, died Thursday at his home in Conrad, Mont.

OTHER DEATHS

A former football star and his partner in the same type of operation at Roswell died several weeks ago.

Roswell officials said 30 persons have undergone the treatment altogether.

Two of them are "apparently free" of cancer and three others, including Rink, are still alive, the officials said. The other 25 died.

* * *

Rink is active and is frequently seen in his home town of Centerville, Mich., and the nearby towns of Three Rivers and White Pigeon.

His right leg was amputated in April, before his visit to Roswell, and he walks with the help of crutches.

Rink's wife is expecting their first child in September.

Americans are now using more than 11 million barrels of oil each day.

House Bill a U.S. Budget Boon

As a work of fiction, the Federal Budget should be on the best seller list. The "plot" is couched in some fancy fiscal gobbledygook that plays off an accrual concept of accounting against actual inflow and outgo of cash.

Drawing a true balance sheet of Government's financial position from the maze of ambiguous debits and credits would short-circuit a computer.

Latest gimmick to window-dress the U. S. Treasury's cash status is the House bill passed with solid Democratic backing that empowers the Government to sell $4.2 billion of Federal loans to private investors.

In effect it will give the Administration that much windfall cash to spend apart from the 1967 budget that President JOHNSON had optimistically predicted would run a deficit of less than $2 billion. Indications are, however, that the red figure will hit $6 billion or more.

★ ★ ★

The House measure is strictly an expedient — a one-shot measure that converts government assets (the loans) into cash. It will, of course, favorably affect the cash position of the Treasury for the fiscal year beginning July 1 and reduce the budget deficit accordingly.

House Republicans made a united stand against this piece of legislative legerdemain but were outvoted by the Democratic majority.

It is a safe assumption that LBJ and Lady BIRD would countenance no such illusory bookkeeping in the conduct of their sizable personal business holdings, as has now been given Congressional sanction.

Learning Does Not End When School's Out

For millions of school children, the time of respite from books, homework and tests is almost at hand. Thoughts of a summer job, the playground, a camping trip, or a swim in the neighborhood pool are intruding more and more on academic pursuits. Students young and old need a time to refresh their spirits, soak up what they have learned and take a look at the course of their life and work.

To many high school and college students, the last school bell of this year will mean graduation and the greater responsibility of putting to use what they have learned in productive work in their communities, their Nation and in behalf of their families.

The habit of learning is the most valuable lesson they can carry away from their days of formal education. The ability to learn and adapt is part of living in this fast-changing world. It is still true that knowledge without action is futile, but it is more valid than ever before that action without knowledge is perilous.

★ ★ ★

The last school bell of the year brings change. It brings the fun of summer. May it bring also a time for young people to gain resolution to pursue the knowledge that awaits them in the schoolrooms of everyday life and utilize it to achieve the common goals of material well-being and spiritual fulfillment.

No Yardstick for Measuring Size of Wars

When do you cross the line between a brush-fire and full-scale war?

In this post-Hiroshima age, it is, presumably, when the major powers begin unleashing their formidable stores of nuclear weapons. Anything short of that qualifies as "limited war."

Yet in at least one category, the scope of war in Viet Nam is exceeding that of the European phase of World War II, unbelievable as it may sound.

★ ★ ★

During that war, which none will dispute was a full-scale effort, the United States dropped a total of 1.5 million tons of bombs on Europe.

Viet Nam cannot begin to compare with Germany in terms of bomber targets, and our aircraft engaged there are far fewer than those sent to the European theater.

Nevertheless, according to the Department of Defense, some 600,000 tons of bombs are planned to be dropped on Viet Nam, North and South, this year. This is 40 per cent of the total expended in Europe during World War II. It is 91 per cent of all the bombs dropped in the three years of the Korean War.

The United States is excavating a lot of rice paddies and pulverizing a lot of bamboo. To what extent the bombing is winning the war we will perhaps not know until it is over.

Meanwhile, this massive transference of America iron to Vietnamese soil would seem to be laying the basis for an economically profitable industry in peacetime Viet Nam — scrap metal salvage.

War Marring Johnson's Record

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

MARLOW

WASHINGTON — For President Johnson, the ideal situation would have been four years to concentrate on his favorite field, the one he knows best: getting what he wanted through Congress.

The ideal didn't last long. The Vietnamese war got in the way. Johnson could give only part of his attention to Congress.

Thus in this 1966 congressional election year, he can only hope public appreciation for what has been done at home will outweigh any public dismay or confusion about the war.

Under his guidance and prodding in 1965 Congress did a sensational legislative job, particularly in the welfare field. Four years of that would have been unmatched in American history.

★ ★ ★

But the war diverted both Johnson and Congress. And what it does this year will be no match for 1965, which in turn makes Johnson himself look less like a magician.

So, if the war is frustrating the American people, it's doubly exasperating to Johnson.

He's a great believer in public opinion polls. They may have convinced him that, war or no war, the voters will show gratitude to the Democrats by keeping them in overwhelming control of Congress.

Such hope, of course, would have to be based on what he is known to believe: that less than 10 per cent of the people share the war views of such critics as Sens. J. W. Fulbright, D-Ark., and Wayne Morse, D-Ore.

★ ★ ★

This explains, but only in part, why he hasn't felt it necessary—yet—to tangle head-on with the persistent critics who help spread discontent about it.

But there's another very practical reason why Johnson doesn't go after critics like Fulbright and Morse, although he has made cracks about them: they're members of Congress and he's a politician.

CAN BE HELPFUL

They can be helpful to him on legislation not related to the war. And they have been.

★ ★ ★

But, just because he is a politician and a realistic one, Johnson can hardly have any illusions about the memory and appreciation of a voting public which so often has had a simple, pragmatic philosophy: "What have you done for me lately?"

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

Among the many stories in the files of the World Council of Churches, that of Major Dudley John Gardiner tells of faith in action above and beyond the call of duty.

After serving 32 years in the British Army, Gardiner is a volunteer worker at the Salvation Army Social Center in Calcutta. He puts in 17 hours each day giving milk, food and medicines to TB patients. Then he directs and helps in the preparation of the meals for a "family" of over 1,000 in an outdoor kitchen he built at the center.

After a full day of feeding bodies he then gives food for thought. From 5:30 to 7:00 he coaches a group of boys in English, general knowledge and behavior.

Gardiner, a bachelor, has his own family too. He has adopted nine schoolboys for whom he provides out of his army pension.

During his years in the army Gardiner found it was always the civilians who suffered the most. He concluded, "I thought I would do a bit of building up instead of knocking down."

Confident Living:

Wisdom for Those Big Decisions

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

"Which one do I love? How can I know?" The pretty stewardess was quite tense and worried as she put this question to me. It was on a plane bound from Chicago to a Midwestern city.

Dr. PEALE

"Mine is a big problem," she said, sitting down beside me. "It's this: I've been dating two young men and they both tell me they're in love with me and want to marry me. The problem is, I don't know which one I love." She told a little about the two and how she felt toward each of them —or thought she did. And she asked, "Now, which one would you say I'm in love with?"

"Now look," I protested, "this sort of thing is not exactly in my line." However, since you've asked me I can only tell you what I think. My guess is that you don't love either of them. I wouldn't marry either one if I were you."

"Oh, but I'm 22 years old!" she declared a bit desperately.

"Oh, come now, don't panic or let that tender age bother you. I still know feminine beauty when I see it and unless I'm mistaken you'll have plenty of marriage opportunities. If you don't the boys are all blind."

"And you think I'll find the right one, the real right one?" she asked anxiously.

"If you go at it the right way."

"What is the right way?"

"First," I said, "form a clear idea of just what kind of man you want for your life partner. Make it specific. Can you describe for me the man you would want to marry?"

"Well, I want him to be real nice-looking."

"Equating him with your looks," I said, "would be an asset. What else?"

Her face grew serious. "I want him to be a good man, a clean decent person. And I want him to have lots of fun in him. Also, and this is very important to me, I want him to believe in God's way of life."

"Young lady," I told her, "you're all right. You have a head on your shoulders. Now here is what you do. Take that picture you have just drawn and put it up to God; and then just believe that you and that man will be drawn together in God's good time.

"But let's face it," I warned. "Maybe the man God brings to you won't be handsome, but don't let that worry you for the homely ones often turn out lots better than the glamour boys. So don't press the Lord too hard on that handsome business.

"I never thought of praying about a thing like this," she said.

"But why shouldn't we pray about important things?" I asked. "And what could be more important than your lifelong companion — who will also be the father of your children? Isn't that something big enough to pray about?" (Then I went all out.) "Try picturing to yourself that one fine day the right young man will come walking up the steps of your plane."

"Oh! Do you think he will?" she gave a rapturous sigh.

"Why not? But in any case you'll meet him somewhere. That's for sure."

And she did. It wasn't on the airplane, but at a church party while spending a weekend at home with her parents. "The minute I saw Fred I knew he was the one. Of course, he didn't know it — then. But it wasn't long before I got through to him and he knew it too."

This young lady learned how to make a right decision so that the way could be opened for the right outcome.

We all seem to have a rather phenomenal capacity for error and at times an almost uncanny knack for deciding wrong.

The best way to overcome a propensity for blundering is by developing more wisdom. The Bible gives a formula for doing that: "If any of you lacks wisdom, let him ask God, who gives to all men generously . . . and it will be given him."

Can 'Geniuses' Explain Latest Satellite Failure?

It seems the automotive experts, Nader, Sen. Ribicoff and LBJ have their work cut out for a while. What happened to the Agena 9 Satellite? This project was sponsored, and all personnel on the project were hand-picked by the Great Society, and it failed.

★ ★ ★

I don't think any of the auto makers ever had a complete failure in so few miles. Even if they did, it would not cost the taxpayers $50 million.

★ ★ ★

Let the so-called geniuses on automobiles explain this failure to the taxpayers and let the auto manufacturers keep building autos. The engineers these companies employ are more qualified than the critics who don't know a brake cylinder from a door latch.

Says Elderly Need City Bus Transportation

How will older people get around if the buses are taken off the streets? There is no Sunday bus service and the last daily bus leaves downtown at 6:15 p.m., but we can at least get downtown during the week. We who live on Social Security and small pensions can't afford to ride a cab since rates have gone up. Are we to be housebound?

'Many Were Unconcerned That Dog Was Hit'

What kind of people are there in the world today? We recently saw a puppy that had been hit and everyone kept running over the poor thing while two boys tried to get it out of the middle of the road. No one would stop and help them. How would the drivers feel if someone had run over their dog?

FOUR DOG LOVIN' TEEN-AGERS

Offers Suggestions to Reduce Accident Rate

The picture of the mothers picketing for a traffic light on Wise and Carroll Lake Roads makes me wonder how fast the school bus was traveling. Perhaps there should be a State law that all school buses should stop before crossing paved intersections, whether or not there is a stop sign.

★ ★ ★

Traffic experts say there isn't enough traffic to warrant a light at that intersection, and I agree, but there are enough residents to lower the speed limit on Carroll Lake Road to 35 m.p.h. Isn't there a State law that the speed in all residential areas is supposed to be 35 m.p.h.?

There are two of record: one at the Cohanzick Country Club in New Jersey, and one at the Hot Springs Golf Club in Arkansas. Each is listed at 700 yards.

'Great Society'---Reject of 1787

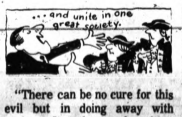
By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA) — Two years have passed since Lyndon Johnson first specifically used the phrase, "the Great Society," to describe the sort of America his administration sought to create.

They have been difficult years for the Republicans, who so far have not been able to counter the catchy slogan effectively. But they keep on trying.

The latest effort — by Rep. Donald Rumsfeld, R-Ill. — is based on a 1787 effort by a Mr. George Read of Delaware to abolish the states and form one national government.

To Read, states were a source of "perpetual discord." According to Rumsfeld, Read stated:



"There can be no cure for this evil but in doing away with states altogether and uniting them into one great society."

So, concludes Rumsfeld, President Johnson did not invent the phrase, but instead adopted an idea which "was rejected overwhelmingly in 1787."

Two days before Michigan Gov. George Romney telephoned Rep. Robert Griffin in Saigon to inform him he was being named U.S. Senator to replace the late Sen. Pat McNamara, an aide had to notify Griffin that the Governor's call would come on a Wednesday rather than the Tuesday originally planned.

Telephone connections between Lansing and Saigon proved shaky. Griffin at length was reached. The Lansing man said: "Bob, there's been a change in plans." Click! The connection was broken, and Griffin left hanging.

For 30 minutes, until it was re-established, the senator-to-be did not know whether Romney had changed his mind and was naming somebody else — or whether, as was the case, the change was utterly trivial. It must have been a tough half hour.

Five years ago, Orville Freeman summed up for the press the goals he hoped to achieve as secretary of agriculture.

They were to reverse the build-up of agricultural surpluses, to increase the incomes of farmers and to insure that U.S. food abundance was made available to those who needed it.

Although he has achieved all of these goals, the modest Freeman — when asked to sum up his five-plus years on the job — replied:

"I'm like the man who overheard his wife telling a friend, 'My husband had good luck on his hunting trip. He came back alive.'"

Watts Calm; Inquest Recessed

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Calm settled on racially troubled Watts in south Los Angeles today as a coroner's inquest into the fatal shooting of a young Negro by a white policeman recessed for the weekend.

The hearing was adjourned late Friday after shouting crowds were banished from the corridors of the Los Angeles County Courthouse. Thursday, the first day of the inquest, adjournment came when some of the 600 spectators became unruly.

Five witnesses gave conflicting testimony about the May 7 shooting of Leonard Deadwyler, 25, by Policeman Jerold M. Bova, 23.

A Negro woman said the victim's car was stopped when the shooting occurred. A Negro girl, 11, said the shot came from inside a police car. A policeman said the gun discharged as the victim's car lurched forward.

The testimony came as Mayor Sam Yorty renewed his charge that Communists are fomenting trouble in Watts.

The mayor said that Communists openly circulated handbills calling upon Negroes to organize "for the defense of the working class against the terror of the ruling class."

Yorty released mimeographed copies of the handbill, labeled as "issued by the Communist Party U.S.A."

There have been street demonstrations and violence in Watts by Negroes this week and protest statements by Negro leaders.

The witness, Deborah Barnett, 11, said she saw the incident from a nearby sidewalk. She said the fatal shot came from a police car moving slowly beside the victim's car.

Another witness, Officer Thomas Freeman, said the victim's car stopped, then "in a sudden lunge, the vehicle started up again and swerved sharply to the right."

Mary L. Jones testified the victim's car had stopped "a second or half a second" before the shot.

Officer Bova has said he was standing beside the victim's car when his gun discharged accidently as the car lurched forward.

Appeal Due in N.Y. Bribe Case

NEW YORK (AP) — L. Judson Morhouse, former Republican state chairman convicted in a Playboy Club liquor license bribe deal, has been paroled until his sentencing June 15 in State Supreme Court.

On that date, defense attorney Sol Gelb said, an appeal would be filed.

★ ★ ★

A jury of 10 men and two women deliberated 22 hours before finding Morhouse, 52, guilty Friday on two counts involving a $25,000 bribe for the liquor license.

The prosecution said the money went to Martin C. Epstein, former chairman of the State Liquor Authority. Epstein, now 73 and living in Florida, has been described as too ill to stand trial.

CLAIMS LEGALITY

Morhouse, a lawyer from Ticonderoga, acknowledged receiving $18,000 from the club but contended that it was for legal and publicity services to the Playboy enterprises.

He faces a maximum penalty of 20 years in prison and $9,000 in fines on the two felony counts. He was acquitted on two other bribery counts and two misdemeanor counts.

★ ★ ★

Morhouse became state GOP chairman in 1954 and resigned the post in December 1962 after the bribery scandal broke.

The current Teen of the Week not only has earned grades which have kept him on the honor roll but has been active in sports and other school activities.

Horace, son of Mrs. Katherine Davis of 444 Branch, this year had good seasons in football, track and baseball. He won a "Salute to Youth" award in athletics.

Horace is one of the leaders of the school band and a member of the Hall Guards.

Group to Aid Retarded Will Mark 1st Year

The Waterford Organization for Retarded Children (WORC) will mark its first anniversary at an 8 p.m. Tuesday meeting in Pierce Junior High School.

The program will include a slide presentation showing current educational, recreational, vocational and religious programs available to retarded children in this area.

WORC is an association of area residents, formed to promote the welfare of retarded children in Waterford Township.

In its first year, WORC distributed information on mental retardation to libraries, planned distribution of information on mental retardation to local physicians and assisted Junior Chamber of Commerce members with a display at Pontiac Mall during National Retarded Children's Week.

★ ★ ★

The organization presently is sponsoring a project, in conjunction with the Waterford Township special education program, providing good-grooming classes for junior and senior high school girls.

Capitol Background

Terminology Used by State Legislature Explained

LANSING (AP)— Legislative activity ebbs and flows on a series of deadline dates.

Friday was the deadline for committee action on nonmoney bills already approved by the other house.

What does that mean? Let's examine the terminology.

Committee action: The House and Senate each are divided into many committees. Each proposed law is sent to a committee for consideration. A majority of the committee must recommend the proposed law, or bill, to the full House or Senate for debate. Otherwise the proposal is dead.

Nonmoney bills: Some bills are concerned principally with spending money, such as the bill determining the amount of school aid for the year. Other bills are not money bills, such as those dealing with penalties for violations of the law.

Already approved by the other house: To become a law, the bill must be passed by both the House and Senate. Friday's deadline concerned bills already approved by one house. Deadlines earlier this year dealt with bills in the house in which they were introduced.

★ ★ ★

What deadlines are left this year?

By June 8, bills which already have passed one house must be passed by the other house or they are dead for the session.

Some bills are passed one way in one house, then amended in the second house. By June 10, these differences must be worked out. Then the Legislature, by its current schedule, will go home for the year.

★ ★ ★

The Legislature could reconvene later in the year and set up a new series of deadlines in order to consider additional bills.

There is no deadline for committee action on money bills. Money bills have to be approved by June 8 just like nonmoney bills, but the committees could send them to the full House or Senate even minutes before deadline for passage.

★ ★ ★

The purpose of deadlines is to space out legislative work so it does not all pile up at once. The result is a series of smaller piles.

Other Girl Missing

Kidnaper's Past Eyed

AP Photofax

CAN SMILE NOW—Peggy Ann Bradnick, 17, was able to smile yesterday as she talked to newsmen at the Fulton County Medical Center in McConnellsburg, Pa. She had only cuts and bruises from her ordeal as the prisoner of a kidnaper in the rugged Pennsylvania mountains.

SHADE GAP, Pa. (AP) — State police say they are investigating the possibility of a link between the kidnaping last week of Peggy Ann Bradnick, 17, and the disappearance last year of a little girl from Tyrone, Pa.

Kathy Shea, 6, was on her way to kindergarten on March 18, 1965, when she disappeared. Searchers combed the area 50 miles northwest of here for 10 days before giving up.

* * *

Miss Bradnick was rescued Wednesday when police closed in on her abductor, William Hollenbaugh, 44, a former mental patient. Hollenbaugh had killed an FBI agent and wounded a sheriff's deputy in a seven-day manhunt through the rugged Tuscarora Mountains, say authorities.

State Police Sgt. Stanley Krammes said Friday night "it is quite possible" that there might be a link between Hollenbaugh and Kathy Shea.

FOUND ARTICLES

He said police also will check out articles found in a pit under the floor of Hollenbaugh's mountain cabin to determine whether they match those reported stolen in burglaries in the area. He did not identify the articles, but there were published reports that the heel of a child's boot or shoe, along with a toy, were found in the two-room cabin.

Miss Bradnick came through her ordeal unharmed except for bruises and scratches.

Seated in a wheelchair and clutching a bouquet of roses, she met newsmen in the waiting room of the Fulton County Medical Center Friday.

Peggy's story of her ordeal with Hollenbaugh, who led her around with a chain clamped to her neck, has been sold to a national magazine. Her 10-minute news conference was limited to questions about her health and her future plans.

Peggy did say Hollenbaugh told her he was "the mountain man" who has terrorized residents of this central Pennsylvania area the past two years. "The mountain man," so named by the residents, would step out from behind a tree, shoot at a resident, then flee into the woods.

"I have cuts and bruises all the way up to my hips," said Peggy. "I got them climbing over rocks and tree stumps and fences."

"The thing I want most is to go to beautician school," she said.

While the girl was talking to newsmen, funeral services were held in Harrisburg for the FBI agent killed during the manhunt, Terry Ray Anderson, 42.

Senior Citizens Will Be Mailed Explanatory Medicare Booklet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Government printing presses are churning out some must reading for 19.1 million senior citizens.

Beginning June 1, and continuing through the month, the Social Security Administration will mail out a green-covered, A.B.C.-style pamphlet entitled: "Health Insurance Under Social Security — Your Medicare Handbook."

* * *

It spells out what benefits are provided under medicare and how to claim them. The program begins operating July 1 — except the services in "extended care facilities" such as nursing homes, which are not covered until Jan. 1, 1967.

The first part of the booklet explains hospital insurance, which helps pay four kinds of bills: hospital, nursing home, home benefits such as part-time nursing care and physical therapy, and outpatient diagnostic costs, like X rays and electrocardiograms.

SECOND PART

The second part deals with medical insurance, the voluntary plan under which a person past 65 can pay $3 a month with a federal matching payment. Briefly, this plan pays 80 per cent of "reasonable" doctor's charges for covered services each year, after a patient meets a $50 deductible.

The hospital insurance, unlike the medical plan is financed out of Social Security taxes and is available to persons past 65 as a matter of right.

* * *

Some 17.3 million persons covered by both plans will be receiving a booklet explaining both. A booklet telling about hospitalization will go to some 1.8 million who are not signed up for the doctor's bills insurance.

Social Security suggests you check to see if you've got a health insurance card to show to doctor or hospital in case you get sick on or after July 1. If you have not received it, they recommend you get in touch with the local Social Security district office.

12-Year-Old Not Capable Poolside

By ELIZABETH L. POST

Last week's column about swimming pools brought in a number of other questions on the subject. Here are a few:

Dear Mrs. Post: My 12-year-old daughter has been told she can have occasional pool parties this summer, and, of course, wants no supervision by her father or me.

I feel this could be dangerous and we might be severely criticized, but we would like your opinion. — Jean H.

Dear Jean: Much as I hate to sound stuffy to your daughter, you're right! You would quite justly be criticized because no matter how competent your daughter's friends are in the water, accidents do happen.

Twelve-year-olds just aren't old enough to cope with emergencies, so you and your husband or another competent adult must be present at all times.

THEIR OWN TOWELS

Dear Mrs. Post: Is it necessary to provide towels for all the guests who come to swim in our pool? I love to have people over but it's quite an expense to provide so many (and they do have a way of disappearing) and it's a lot of work to keep them washed.—Marian H.

Dear Marian: It's perfectly O.K. to ask your friends to bring their own towels when you invite them to swim. But you should also keep six or more available for those who forget, or for when the swimming idea comes up unexpectedly.

The same goes for extra bathing suits. Incidentally, I find that although a lot of my towels disappear, an equal number are left behind and can't be traced, so that I come out about even, although with rather an odd assortment.

POOL PARTIES

Dear Mrs. Post: Do you have any suggestions for pool-side entertaining? Hours, equipment, food, etc.? Any ideas you have would be greatly appreciated.—Maureen F.

Answers: This question could take three columns to answer, but I'll try to make a few specific suggestions. Hours? Saturday or Sunday brunch or lunch with a swim before or afterward is the safest, weatherwise, of all.

It's the warmest part of the day. Or a swim and a drink, or supper and a dip after working hours is really something to look forward to.

* * *

In very hot weather, a barbecue and a night-time swim in a lighted pool are just the greatest. The most important equipment: plastic glasses and plates, floodlights for night hours, and plenty of cushions or mats if you run out of chairs, lounges, etc.

Food should be simple, either a casserole and a salad which you can easily bring from the kitchen, or something that your helpful husband can grill on the spot.

Toys and equipment for the YWCA's nursery—such as this small, safe slide—will be purchased from proceeds of a benefit bridge Wednesday, sponsored by nursery mothers. Enjoying a play session is 4-year-old Debbie Bidwell with mother Mrs. Gerald Bidwell, Hempstead Road, Pontiac Township (right), and Mrs. J. L. Decker, Elizabeth Lake Road. The affair is at 8 p.m. in the "Y" where reservations may be telephoned.

Let Your Sins of Omission Speak Louder Than Words

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: First let me explain that I have five children (two are not in school yet), a nine-room house to take care of, and no one to help me. When my husband comes home from work he always asks, "What do you do around here all day?" Abby I could sock him! How should I answer this?

ABBY

BOILING IN DOVER, N.J.

* * *

DEAR BOILING: Don't answer him. But tomorrow, do absolutely NOTHING! And when your husband comes home and finds the beds unmade, breakfast and lunch dishes piled in the sink, the laundry basket spilling over with unironed clothes, and not a trace of supper started, he will demand "WHAT HAPPENED ANYWAY?"

Then it's your cue to say, "You're always asking me what I do around here all day. Well, today, I didn't do it!"

* * *

DEAR ABBY: Some good friends of ours went on an extended trip thru the Orient recently and ever since, each time we enter their house, we are a captive audience for the slides they took.

The last time, we had to be almost rude to get away at 2:30 a.m. They took 2,000 (honest) pictures, and at 15 seconds each, I figure we still have another six solid hours of viewing ahead, not counting reruns.

Abby, we are genuinely fond of these people, and are interested in their experiences, but if only they would organize their presentation and edit out the underexposed, repetitious, and redundant, the slides could be fascinating.

I am sure our sentiments are shared by many. Any advice for us stay-at-homes?

FOND FRIENDS

DEAR FRIENDS: Yes. Avoid their home until the novelty of that trip has worn off. For some strange reason, friends who accept criticism on everything else with good humor and equanimity, become hostile when guests take a dim view of their slides.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: This is for "Love Starved," whose wife wouldn't let him near her for fear he'd smear her make-up or muss her hair. I remember something I read in your column many years ago. You said, "If women worked as hard to PLEASE their husbands as they did to HOOK them, we could turn our divorce courts into bowling alleys."

If my husband wants to muss my hair, it's okay with me. He's the reason I fixed it.

RUTH

* * *

DEAR ALL: What a customer REALLY wants of a salesperson believe it or not, is courtesy and EFFICIENCY, not smiles! The salesperson who is too busy chatting with another salesperson to notice that a customer is waiting, or one who can't make change or write up a sales slip efficiently, will never compensate with a smile.

* * *

But the salesperson who is courteous, efficient, ready to serve, AND smiles, ah! Her price is above rubies, her paycheck shall runneth over, and her boss will rise up and call her "buyer."

Area Physicians Briefed on MSU Leukemia Study

Might the family pet be a link in the transmission of leukemia, commonly known as cancer of the blood or the blood-forming tissues?

This "stranger than fiction" possibility, still labeled remote, is one aspect of a special research project now entering its second year at Michigan State University.

Area physicians yesterday received a brief preview of the MSU leukemia studies from Dr. Gabel H. Conner and Dr. Ronald Hinz.

Dr. Conner, professor of veterinary surgery and medicine, said researchers don't know if there is a transmission link between the family cat or dog and humans, but this is one area under study.

* * *

In addition, he said transmission of leukemia from dog to dog is also the object of the research project, funded by the National Cancer Institute with a $10-million federal appropriation.

RECENT YEAR

Dr. Conner said it has only been in the last five or six years that domestic animals have been used in leukemia studies, although leukemia has been found in animals.

The MSU project director said, for example, one study disclosed that the instances of leukemia in cattle in a 19-county area of Michigan was four times higher than in humans.

Nevertheless, the comparative aspects of the disease in animals and man was given little thought, according to Dr. Conner.

* * *

Dr. Hinz said both human and animal material are transferred in the laboratory. Purebred dogs are used in the MSU project, which has emphasis on canine leukemia.

The visiting MSU scientists addressed a group of Pontiac area physicians at Pontiac General Hospital as part of the program of monthly lectures involving the medical staffs of Pontiac General and Pontiac State Hospital.

Reflections

PROMPTNESS

Let your pledged word ever be sacred. Never promise to do a thing without trying your best to perform it with the most rigid promptness. Nothing is more valuable to a man in business than the name of always doing as he agrees, and that to the moment. Remember that punctuality is the mother of confidence. It is not enough that the man fulfills his engagements, he must do what he undertakes precisely at the time, as well as in the way he agreed to.

Preserve your integrity — it is more precious than diamonds or rubies.

Art Objects Highlight of Home

By JODY HEADLEE
Home Editor, The Pontiac Press

A blend of the traditional and the oriental highlighted by rare objects of art sets the decorating theme of the Elwood Engels' formal living room.

Champagne carpeting, pale-green walls and draperies of sage - green - on - champagne brocade with double-pleated scalloped valances of velvet, create the background for the regal room.

Grouped before the fireplace around a Portuguese-marble cocktail table are twin fruitwood love seats covered in gold brocade.

Etruscan, Egyptian, Japanese and Burmese art pieces in the room reveal the Engels' appreciation of fine art.

Above the fireplace hangs an original oil of a forest found in Germany.

"But we made a minor adjustment," chuckled Mrs. Engel. "I have a Japanese friend who remarked how much the painting resembled the forests of Japan.

"With all the oriental accents in the room, that gave me an idea.

"I had another friend who is a French artist draw in the Shinto temple you see in the distance."

Antique stack tables of hand-carved rosewood from the Far East flank the fireplace.

Japanese wall scrolls gracing the room's end wall date back to the 15th century.

The decorating pace of the adjoining library is geared to informal living with the accent on comfort.

Hand-loomed tweed on the sofa, chair and ottoman repeats the Indigo blue of the Oriental rug centering the room's ranch plank floor.

PLANK AND BEAM: Behind the neat apperance of this contemporary exterior is the old-fashioned, informal charm of plank and beam construction, with its widely-spaced members, sloping cathedral ceilings and over-all appearance of openness.

Plank-Beam Offers Potential Savings

Plank and beam construction offers potential savings in materials and labor.

That's why it has been used for so many hundreds of years in the building of large barns—and why it is getting increasing attention in residential home design.

Briefly, the plank-and-beam system calls for the use of heavier structural members spaced farther apart than regular construction, with conventional ceiling beams conspicuous by their absence.

Because of this, all rooms, except baths and kitchen, have sloping cathedral ceilings, giving an air of spaciousness and permitting decorator magic.

In the latest House of the week, architect Caleb Hornbostel has placed plank and beam construction within a trim, contemporary exterior.

He also has taken it out of the ordinary with a bi-level or raised ranch design.

ADAPTATION

In effect, this is a one-story house raised out of the ground sufficiently to allow for recreational areas and a garage in what normally would be the basement.

This places the living and sleeping portions of the home on a single floor a few feet above ground level.

★ ★ ★

The living room of Design G-37, to the right of the entry, is well-proportioned, with a corner fireplace wall.

★ ★ ★

Next to this restful zone is a screened, side porch, which also is accessible from the kitchen.

The latter, large enough to accommodate three windows, has a huge pantry that should delight the lady of the house.

The adjoining dining room can be reached from the kitchen, the living room or directly from the entry stairway.

★ ★ ★

Incidentally, the double windows in the dining room are typical of those found in houses of plank and beam construction: large, bold and handsome.

VISUAL SPACE

Both the living room and the dining room gain extra visual space because of the manner in which they are positioned. At one point, there is a vista of nearly 27'.

To the left of the entryway are three bedrooms, two baths and an abundance of closets — seven of them.

One of the closets is a 7-footer in the master bedroom, allowing plenty of room for "his" and "hers" sections.

★ ★ ★

On the lower level are what the architect has called "play" and "quiet" areas, but which actually can be used for any purpose desired.

The floor plans show how really spacious this section is, with a storage room, closets, an extra bath with stall shower, and a stone fireplace similar to that in the living room.

Either of the fireplaces is, of course, optional. On the same level is an oversize two-car garage, with still more closet and storage space.

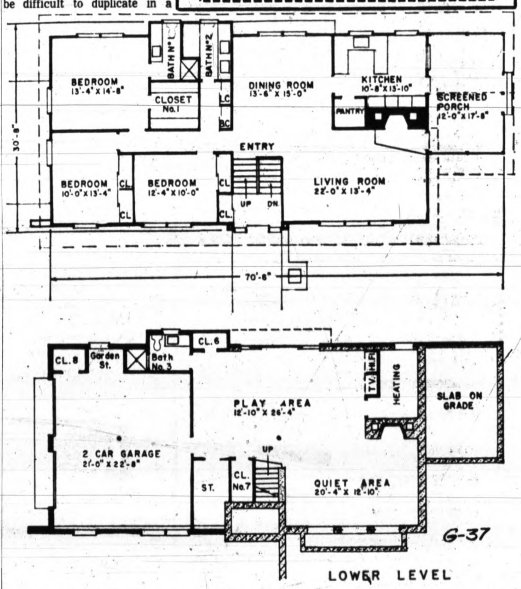
★ ★ ★

The high ceilings, wide windows and general atmosphere of spaciousness give this house a feeling of informality that would be difficult to duplicate in a home of standard construction.

Note, however, the simple but modern appearance of the exterior, making it suitable for almost any neighborhood.

G-37 CUTLINES

Design G-37 has a living room, dining room, kitchen, screened porch, three bedrooms and two baths on the main floor for a total of 1635 square feet. These figures do not include the lower level of this raised ranch. On that level are a two-car garage, a third bath, large recreational areas and plenty of space for utilities. The house, of plank and beam construction, has more closets and storage sections than most homes of larger size. The over-all dimenstons are 70' 6" by 30' 8".



LOWER LEVEL

FLOOR PLANS: Bi-level construction places living area of the house higher than it ordinarily would be, but raises lower level enough to make it suitable for practical use; these plans show effective use of such an arrangement.

Printed Foam Adds Interest to Draperies

Printed urethane foam, laminated to a polyethylene backing, is providing new decorator interest in ready-made draperies.

★ ★ ★

These tailored or pinch-pleated hangings, available in multiple color combinations, are said to be machine-washable and drip-dryable.

Woman Tells of Care for Model Airplanes

As custodian of her adult son's extensive collection, Mrs. Harold Emrick of Indianapolis advises washing model airplanes in soap and water to eliminate breakage which may occur during dusting.

★ ★ ★

This highly experienced homemaker further suggests setting the planes on a towel after rinsing, and not touching them again until dry.

Corner Windows Need Special Decor

Windows that go "around the corner" need special treatment. For flexible light control, and to dress up such an L-shaped area, hang a series of handsome, room-darkening window shades in a color to complement your decor.

★ ★ ★

For a distinctive "custom" look trim shades and continuous valance with the same braid and contrasting fringe.

★ ★ ★

Between the windows, hang bands of braid, with a tassel at the bottom of each, to simulate the elegant bell pulls of yesteryear.

★ ★ ★

These add definite, vertical line, and serve to unify the off-center window.

It's Great in the Garden but Heed Doctor's Advice

With the return of warm spring days, millions of home gardeners once again are getting out to spade beds, plant seed, spread fertilizer, mow grass — and the other countless chores attendant to keeping the lawn neat and attractive.

Your doctor recommends gardening as excellent therapy for both body and mind. For those who enjoy digging in the dirt, gardening offers good exercise, fresh air and sunshine after a winter of being cooped up indoors.

Your doctor and his American Medical Association also offer a few suggestions on keeping gardening fun and safe:

• Take it easy for the first few sessions. Don't try to work a 10-hour day at hard manual labor on the first warm weekend.

Take frequent rest breaks and work at a pace that isn't too tiring. As the season advances, your muscles will be able to do more with less discomfort.

• Cuts, scratches and bruises are the fate of most gardeners. Clean minor cuts with warm water and soap, and cover with a light bandage.

Tetanus lurks in the soil, and a booster shot of tetanus toxoid is recommended at the onset of the gardening season for all who have not kept their immunization up to date.

• Stop and think briefly about safety before handling garden tools — especially power tools such as lawn mowers. Power tools are great labor-saving devices, properly used.

Used carelessly, they can slash off fingers and toes. Always turn off the mower when it is left unattended, even briefly. Always turn it off when adding gasoline to the tank.

If the motor is electric, don't use of the machine in wet grass. Power tools usually are accompanied by safety instructions. Read them carefully.

• Poison ivy, poison oak and poison sumac also sprout up in the spring to the great discomfort of many amateur gardeners.

Look for the three-leaf sprigs that mark poison ivy and poison oak. If in doubt, consult a botany handbook or garden encyclopedia. If you find poison ivy in your yard, dig it out — roots and all — being careful not to touch.

If you burn poison ivy, avoid the smoke. The poisonous oils vaporize in the smoke and thus expose your whole body, eyes included.

If you get a poison ivy rash, your doctor can suggest soothing medications to ease the discomfort while healing progresses.

For VA Home Loan Guaranty

Ex-Servicemen Eligible

Many Oakland County ex-servicemen have recently become eligible for liberal home loans guaranteed by the Veterans Administration under a new law whose terms have received relatively little attention, Ward E. Partridge, President of the Pontiac Board of Realtors, said today.

He was referring to the GI bill which was signed into law last month and which, among other points, makes eligible for VA home loan guaranty between 3,500,000 and 4,000,000 post-Korean veterans.

The new law provides that veterans with more than 180 days of active military duty who were discharged from the service after Jan. 31, 1955, have at least until Mar. 3, 1976, to complete a GI home loan, Partridge said.

Realtors — professionals in real estate who subscribe to a strict code of ethics as members of the local board and of the National Association of Real Estate Boards — have homes listed which may be purchased with the new liberal terms and are prepared to help veterans in their housing search, he added.

★ ★ ★

For a post-Korean veteran or serviceman, VA may guarantee a home loan made by a private lender up to $7,500 or 60 per cent of the loan, whichever is less, the board president continued.

GUARANTY

This means that a lending institution will receive the government's guaranty which is intended to be in lieu of a down payment or to reduce the down payment which the lender normally requires, he explained.

Loans are not limited to the purchase of homes but may be approved also for alterations, repairs, or improvements in homes already owned and occupied, Partridge said.

There is no maximum on the amount of a guaranteed loan partridge declared, and added that all loans made or guaranteed by VA will bear interest at 5½ per cent.

★ ★ ★

Although the new GI bill offers many of the benefits the previous bill made available to world war II and Korean veterans, there are some benefits which it does not include, the board president said.

He said, for example, business loans are not authorized for individuals who qualify under the new GI bill.

VA direct home loans will be available only for the purchase of homes in areas where such loans have been authorized, partridge stated, and commented that the maximum direct loan ceiling had been raised from $15,000 to $17,500.

★ ★ ★

Veterans with the required length of service and who were discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable may apply for VA loans, he said.

SERVICE TIME

If released because of a service-connected disability, the service time may be less than the stipulated 180-plus days period, he added.

An individual veteran can determine how long he has to take advantage of the bill by adding 10 years to the date of his discharge from active service, plus one year for each three-month period of that service, Partridge explained.

He said there is a maximum eligibility date of 20 years after discharge from the qualifying active service, and that veterans discharged because of service - connected disabilities will have the maximum 20-year entitlement.

★ ★ ★

VA does not require a down payment, Partridge said, but cautioned that lenders may require them.

Anyone seeking additional information or requesting certificates of eligibility should contact any VA regional office, Partridge advised.

Among the members of the ordination class of June 1941 celebrating a Mass of thanksgiving Wednesday in Blessed Sacrament Cathedral, Detroit will be four Pontiac Area Catholic priests.

★ ★ ★

They include the Rev. Clement J. Esper of St. Hugo of the Hills Catholic church, Bloomfield Hills; the Rev. Arthur F. Oldani of St. Vincent de Paul Parish; the Rev. Edwin A. Schroeder who is chaplain at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital; and the Rev. Henry A. Waraksa of St. Mary's College, Orchard Lake.

Served 18 Years in India

Leprosy Researcher Honored

A pioneer in the treatment of leprosy or more properly, Hansen's Disease, Dr. Paul Brand, last week was awarded its honorary medal for outstanding service by the American Association of Plastic Surgeons.

The citation was given him at a ceremony in Cleveland.

For 18 years, Dr. Brand has served as teacher and surgeon at the Christian Medical College in Vellore, India, where he developed plastic hands and limbs making it possible for many victims of the disease to lead useful lives.

The sulfa and other new drugs have made it possible to control leprosy, said Dr. Brand, but the damage already done is irreversible.

In his statement, Dr. Brand estimated that between 10 and 15 million persons are afflicted with the disease, some 2,000 of them in the United States.

* * *

He called for more research and said that the doctor's job is made more difficult because of the stigma still attached to Hansen's Disease. Many people hide or hide their children, he said, until it is often too late to help them.

The disease is only mildly communicable, he pointed out, and in early stages can be arrested and often cured.

Dr. Brand is the son of British missionary parents and his mother, now 87, is still at work in the mountains of India, he said.

After 87 Silent Years, Bells May Ring Again

COVENTRY, England (AP) — A plan to rehang the 14 bells in the tower of ruined Coventry Cathedral is being considered by the Diocesan Belringers' Association.

The cathedral bells have not been rung since 1879, when the tower was reported slipping and it was judged dangerous to ring them. Most of the old Coventry Cathedral was destroyed by Nazi bombs in World War II and a new one has been built alongside it.

Salvation Army to Hold Open House May 23-27

In observing National Salvation Army Week, Major John Grindle, commanding officer of the local Salvation Army Citadel, will hold open house for members of the community at the Citadel, 29 West Lawrence Monday through Friday. Hours are from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. daily.

★ ★ ★

"Most of the citizens of Oakland County are familiar with the Army's work at Christmas. Last year more than 7,500 persons were helped with food and toys.

★ ★ ★

"But meeting the needs of others is not a part-time job. It's a full-time challenge which the Salvation Army eagerly accepts," Major Grindle said.

★ ★ ★

"As we enter our second century of service to others we will continue to need the support of the community which has made our present programs possible," he added.

During 1965 over 2,000 meetings and activities were held with an attendance of over 41,000.

AT CAMP

Fifty-six mothers and children went to camp as did seven senior citizens. Members of the League of Mercy visited 2,392 men and women confined to institutions.

More than 800 transients were helped and 402 families received food, fuel, furniture and clothing.

Thirty-five girls from Oakland County were admitted to the Salvation Army's Booth Memorial Home and Hospital.

The Men's Social Center under the direction of Brig. Ernest Alder, 118 W. Lawrence provided 25,915 lodgings, 63,332 meals, 1,872 medical examinations and treatments, and 2,347 counseling services during the year.

★ ★ ★

On the national level, the Salvation Army has 8,650 centers. These include homes for unwed mothers, emergency shelters, rehabilitation centers for alcoholics and homeless men.

★ ★ ★

Other centers are moderately priced residences for low-income working girls and for the aging, boys' clubs, USO units and Red Shield Clubs for servicemen, schools for wayward youth, and community centers for education, recreation and worship.

St. Luke's Church Sponsors Recital

Janet Everts will be heard in a vocal recital at 8 p.m. tomorrow at St. Luke's Methodist Church, 3980 Walton, near Oakland University.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Everts who studied voice at Drake University will present operatic numbers as well as religious selections in German, French, Italian and English.

★ ★ ★

Pastor Wayne Brookshear said there will be no admission charge but an offering will be taken to support the St. Luke Scholarship Fund. The public is invited.

Loose Morals Said Greatest U.S. Weakness

CANTON, Ill. (UPI) — "Our only enemy is irreligion."

This statement from State Auditor Michael J. Howlett, Chicago, was made to 200 Knights of Columbus, adding that this country's greatest weakness is its moral looseness.

"While we have made progress in material things, our moral standards have lessened; our moral standards are slipping," he said.

"Many people live in God's world quite unmindful of him as our creator.

"If those who worship the almighty dollar would worship God instead, we would not have to endure so many problems."

Escapee Photo Was Arresting

BRIDGEPORT, Conn. (AP)—Detective Robert Cafferty carried a wanted man's photo in his pocket for two years.

It paid off. Cafferty spotted the man driving a car along a city street, stopped him and arrested him.

★ ★ ★

The arrested man was wanted in Puerto Rico as a prison escapee.

Cafferty was vacationing in Puerto Rico two years ago and picked up a picture of the man to carry with him when he heard the escapee might have fled to Connecticut.

Government — sponsored research into a search for a virus possibly causing leukemia has cost $27 million in the last two years.

In Blood Pressure

Baboons, Giraffes Aid Study

ANAHEIM, Calif. (AP) — What do you know about the blood pressure of baboons? How about giraffes?

Not much? Scientists want to know more too, and they have been using the African veld as a laboratory.

★ ★ ★

Dean Franklin, chief of biomedical engineering at Scripps Clinic and Research Foundation in La Jolla, Calif., said baboons were chosen for testing because they are available and because they are distantly related to man.

But ultimately researchers may expand their study to chimpanzees, orangutans and even birds, Franklin told an interviewer at a biomedical symposium.

20 BABOONS

Franklin and Robert Van Citters of the University of Washington Medical School captured 20 baboons during an African safari.

They fitted each with a two-pound pack of electronic transducers to measure the flow of blood. The packs also were equipped with radio transmitters to send readings to a camp receiver and tape recorder.

★ ★ ★

Blood pressure studies directly upon humans are not practical because of the surgery necessary to fit the transducers over blood vessels, said Franklin.

He and Van Citters observed rises in baboons' blood pressure when the animals saw or heard leopards, their traditional enemy.

NOT FEAR

"But it didn't seem to be fear we saw," said Franklin. "It appeared to be anger, and the baboons acted anxious to get at the leopard rather than to get away from him."

He said the packs did not seem to affect the baboons' way of life.

Franklin said a nerve sensitive to pressure, and found in man and most other mammals, sends out electric impulses that cause the heart to compensate for pressure changes by beating slower or more rapidly.

"When a giraffe puts his head down, one would think he might get dizzy because of the sudden change in blood pressure in the brain," said Franklin.

But, although the giraffe's long neck virtually isolates the brain, such a sudden change does not take place. Franklin said he and Van Citters found that a giraffe's blood pressure remains remarkably steady when he lowers his head, and so far anatomists have not found the mechanism which is responsible.

Undersea Unit Held Steady

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — For the first time, variations in the earth's magnetism were successfully recorded by instruments suspended 100 feet below the Pacific Ocean.

Secured on an unique underwater stable platform, the magnetometers performed automatically for a month, reported researchers of the Environmental Science Services Aiministration (ESSA).

The platform was anchored to the ocean floor 4,300 feet below by three 1,500-pound anchors, held by quarter-inch cables.

The magnetometers were the first to be successfully located in the sea for measuring changes in the earth's magnetism.

ONE COLOR Throw the Book at Them

NORWICH, England (AP) — Norwich's bylaws set a fine of $14 for napping in the public library.

★ ★ ★

Said a library official:

Many elderly people come in to the reading rooms because they have nowhere else to go. They read a few newspapers and then doze off.

"We really don't object to it, but that's not what a reading room is for. Anyone caught after the bylaw is passed will probably be shaken, warned and let off."

Cuba Shortage of Shoes Eased

HAVANA (AP) — Cuba's newest factory, built and equipped by Czechoslovakia, is turning out 1,500 pairs of shoes a day.

The shortage of shoes has long been one of the Cubans' loudest complaints, with gripes about their price and quality close behind.

The factory, in Havana, is run by Czechoslovak technicians who are instructing Cuban employes in the operation of the machinery.

Production is expected to increase to 5,000 pairs a day within a few months. The plant eventually will employ 1,000 workers.

The cost of the plant was 4.5 million pesos. The Cuban peso officially is on a par with the dollar but its purchasing power is much less.

... on Penniless Drivers

Golden Gate Bridge Takes a Heavy Toll

(EDITOR'S NOTE—The Golden Gate Bridge, opened to traffic May 27, 1937, has been known best for its stately beauty, 746 feet above the entrance to San Francisco Bay, and for its grim suicide record, now over 300. But there are lighter moments, as experienced by the toll collectors.)

By LYLE W. PRICE

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — What happens if you motor across the Golden Gate Bridge — 29 years old May 27 —and discover at the toll plaza that, oops, you're broke?

If you think you can turn around for home and try a second time, guess again. You pay or put up bond or pledge your signature on the dotted line.

It's been that way for the 156 million vehicles that have crossed the orange-hued bridge since its opening May 27, 1937. The tight-fisted policy has netted $113 million, which is more than triple the original $35 million cost of construction.

Capt. Edward R. Moore, a friendly Irishman in charge of 64 toll collectors on the 4,200-foot-long suspension span, recalls calamities involving penniless drivers with a shudder not caused by the fog that cloaks the bridge many mornings and nights.

PERSONAL BELONGINGS

The captain has a safe full of personal belongings left by motorists who couldn't pay the basic 25-cent toll. They can't get by with cheap items either, like socks or handkerchiefs, since the collectors want the drivers to redeem the items — by paying the toll.

The toll collectors' safe bulges with unredeemed items such as hip boots, fishing reels, electric razors, drafting tools and transistor radios. Actually, 90 per cent do reclaim the property.

* * *

If the driver is a local resident with a plausible story, often he is allowed to pledge his signature that he will return with money. If he doesn't, a warrant can be issued.

"You think that's a nuisance," says Moore, "how would you like to make change for a $100 bill?"

* * *

The captain, who has been at the bridge since 1939, relates that one or two drivers a week show up with $100 bills, innocently averring they have nothing smaller.

* * *

The collectors go to a safe and make the change. If it isn't quite service with a smile, they do resist the temptation to hand back 399 quarters.

Space Objects Number 1,077

By Science Service

WASHINGTON — Though the faulty Agena rocket that doomed the Gemini 9 mission Tuesday failed to get into orbit, there are 1,076 other man-made objects up there to pick from.

The Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory keeps careful track of everything that goes up and everything that stays there.

Unfortunately for the disappointed GT9 crew, not a single one of the objects is any good for docking practice.

Most are just useless space-junk — burned-out rocket stages and dead satellites — or satellites like the weather-watching Nimbus series.

Even the one Agena that is in orbit is no help.

Jacoby on Bridge

By JACOBY & SON

Bridge is not played in a vacuum. You have a partner and you have opponents and if you want to succeed as a player you should believe your partner first and also pay attention to what your opponents have done.

JACOBY

When South looked over dummy his first thought was that North had bid a trifle to much when he jumped to four spades but the contract was a reasonable one. South knew he would have to lose two heart tricks but if he could get away with the loss of only one spade, everything would be fine.

Playing in a vacuum, South would simply have taken a spade finesse and gone down when the finesse lost but South wasn't playing in a vacuum.

He followed to two hearts and ruffed the third. He noted that East followed to the third heart, therefore West could not have started with more than five hearts.

South counted 27 high card points between his hand and dummy. That left 13 points for East and West. Eight of them were represented by the ace-king-jack of hearts and the other five by the king and jack of spades and the jack of diamonds.

West had opened the bidding with one heart. He surely needed the king of spades for his opening bid, in which case the spade finesse would not work.

This left another play for the contract and South tried it. Instead of finessing the spade, South simply led out the ace and a small one. West had to win with the king and South was able to pick up the rest of the tricks.

Office Site Protest Due in Waterford

Residents of Waterford Hills Estates Subdivision will go before the Waterford Township Board Monday night to object about the location of a new secretary of state branch office at 4589 Pontiac Lake, just west of M59.

★ ★ ★

Objection petitions have been circulated around the subdivision and are expected to be submitted to the clerk's office on Monday.

The new office, operated by Township Justice Patrick K. Daly, opened May 9.

Daly reportedly plans to construct an office building on a residential lot next to his home, which he is using as a temporary office.

★ ★ ★

Residents contend that a protective convenience restriction prohibits construction of any business in their subdivision.

★ ★ ★

Strike Cuts Hot Line

HELSINKI (UPI) — A week-old communications strike which broke the "hot line" teletype link between Washington and Moscow for several hours yesterday ended today.

A settlement was reached shortly after midnight, and the striking postal, telephone and radio engineers returned to work.

★ ★ ★

They had left automatic equipment operating when they walked out, but did nothing to maintain it. There were numerous breakdowns during the strike.

The "hot line," which crosses Finland, went out yesterday. Russian engineers rerouted the connection and, later in the day, Finnish authorities announced the line had been restored.

Baptists Face Heated Confab

DETROIT (UPI)—The fiercely independent Southern Baptists, the nation's largest Protestant denomination with 10.7 million members, will be tackling their own unique problems when 15,000 Baptists convene in Detroit Tuesday.

With a general theme for the convention of "God's Word for a New Age," the 13,000 messengers delegates to the Southern Baptist Convention (SBC) will explore two hotly debated issues — changing the group's name and accepting federal aid for Baptist institutions.

The name "United States Baptist Convention" has been mentioned in church publications for the renaming of the group, dropping the "southern" which has been with it for 121 years.

A study commission has been at work since last year when Charles Chaney, Palatine, Ill., made a motion at the 1965 Dallas convention proposing the name change.

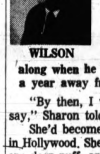
Moviedom Strips Secrecy From Latest Sex Symbol

By EARL WILSON

LONDON — Sharon Tate had to keep a secret and the secret was Sharon Tate.

Nobody was to know that Sharon Tate was to be launched as a secret sex missile. And keeping it a secret wasn't easy for Sharon Tate, because she's an All-American girl not given to secrecy. When I asked her where she's from in America, she answered:

"Everywhere!"



WILSON

Born in Dallas, a city she remembers but slightly, Sharon naturally went along when her father, an Army officer, was transferred . . . to San Francisco, to the state of Washington, to the city of Washington . . . eventually to Verona, Italy. She didn't go along when he went to Viet Nam where he's now stationed, a year away from retirement.

"By then, I was already signed and under wraps, as they say," Sharon told me at breakfast at the Savoy.

She'd become one of the beautiful people trying to make it in Hollywood. She'd gone to test for a cigaret commercial, taken one deep puff, and fallen on her face.

"Then they sent me for an interview for a movie part. They said, 'Honey, this is for a girl who's been around. You look like a baby.'

"That afternoon I had to go to Metro for another interview. Marty Ransohoff, the producer, sat in a chair near me. When I came in they just sat and looked at me.

★ ★ ★

"They said they had a plan for me. They would train me and prepare me.

"I would live quietly and study till I was ready. I would not take any jobs and I would not be seen.

"I studied in New York with Lee Strasberg. I lived at 42d St. and 2d Av. At times I was wondering whether it was really going to happen. But generally I didn't have time to have doubts."

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .

Barbra Streisand's bio in the program of London's "Funny Girl" notes: "It's her first appearance in a foreign country. Fortunately she speaks English fairly well" . . . Ursula Andress'll have another nudie photo layout in Playboy (in scenes from "Blue Max").

Liberace told Nick Vanoff, producer of "Hollywood Palace," he still practices four hours a day, "And you know," he laughed, "—it doesn't help!" . . . Richard Nixon laughed at the "Great Society" spoof at Julius Monk's Plaza 9 . . . Philadelphia tailor Ace Tesone, who makes clothes for Bobby Rydell, also played base on Bobby's TV pilot.

New Miss USA May Win by an Eyelash

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The winner of the 1966 Miss USA beauty pageant could be decided by an eyelash.

That is the view of makeup artists who are prettying up some of the girls with false eyelashes, taboo in previous pageants.

★ ★ ★

The 15 girls still in the running for the Miss Universe tiara and the $5,000 first prize money all wore false eyelashes in the semifinals, said Sheelagh Clarke, pageant makeup consultant.

"This is an unusually lovely group of girls, and such things as pretty eyelashes blending with natural beauty could tip the scales for someone," said another makeup expert.

OFFER ADVICE

Miss Clarke of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., said: "We see to it that the false lashes are not too artificial-looking. We advise the girls not to wear exaggerated eyelashes, but some that bring out their beauty. The eyelashes are carefully trimmed and feathered."

A "glowing outdoor look," Miss Clarke said, is emphasized in this year's pageant makeups.

★ ★ ★

Clean faces are needed as a foundation for this, she said.

"Many don't clean their faces thoroughly," she noted. "The foreign girls have better complexions, on the whole, than the Americans."

GLAMOUR PARADE

A full cast will appear on tonight's glamour parade, to be televised nationaly. On the stage will be the 15 finalists, 34 state queens eliminated in the semifinals, the reigning Miss Universe, who is Apasra Hongsakula of Thailand; and Miss USA, Sue Ann Downey of Ohio.

Eight judges will select the new Miss USA and four runners-up from these finalists:

Pat Denne, Connecticut; Sue Counts, District of Columbia; Roselaine Zetter, Maryland; Nancy Brackett, Massachusetts; Nancie Self, New York.

Roxanne Neeley, Arizona; Maria Remenyi, California; Judy Wolski, Hawaii; Denice Blair, Utah.

High School Career Over for Youth in a Wheelchair

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—William Wood, a 17-year-old Manton youth, is an enthusiastic fisherman, was a successful deer hunter last fall and is popular with his classmates at Mesick High School.

★ ★ ★

He received his diploma Friday ahead of time—in a bed at Osteopathic Hospital in Traverse City.

★ ★ ★

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wood lost the use of his legs at age 7 in an auto accident. His mother says he makes his way about with crutches and braces or with a wheelchair. "At one time," she says, "he played trumpet in the high school marching band. Fellow bandsmen pushed him along."

HIP INFECTION

William received his diploma early because he was admitted to the hospital May 6 for treatment of a chronic hip infection. He is expected to be there when the school holds its regular graduation exercises.

The youth plans to be out in time to enter Northwestern Michigan College at Traverse City for the fall term. He hopes to study for a career in radio and television announcing.

"He got started on that idea back in the third grade when he called a couple square dances," says his mother. "He recently was a narrator for some of the school gym shows."

British Ship Strike Spreads

LONDON (AP) — Hundreds of ships lay idle in British ports today as the spreading strike of merchant seamen neared the end of its first week.

Tugmen, sympathizing with the seamen, have refused to tow the vessels to nearby anchorages.

★ ★ ★

Within another week, many of Britain's docks will be jammed, its warehouses loaded with waiting exports.

Dockers, alert for any attempts at strikebreaking, say they would not hesitate to quit work rather than handle cargoes involving nonstrikers. This would imperil food and other vital British imports.

If the situation becomes acute enough to endanger the nation's welfare, Prime Minister Harold Wilson has promised to proclaim a state of emergency.

If that happens, the royal navy may be ordered to man the ships and open the ports.

Such a development would split the British people, plunge the country into turmoil and threaten the life of the Labor government.

It also would pose the possibility of an irreconcilable rift between Wilson's Labor party and the trade unions. The unions provide the party with most of its funds and votes.

★ ★ ★

Few authorities think things will get that far, however.

There have been no fights and no strikebreaking attempts — though William Hogarth, general secretary of the seamen's union, has hit out hard at what he calls Wilson's bias against the strikers.

Hogarth and the thousands of sailors who follow him resent Wilson's claim that the strike was "against the state, against the community." Wilson was assailed, too, for his proclaimed readiness to call in the Navy if necessary.

★ ★ ★

These were the factors that led Hogarth to warn Wilson that he would be risking a general strike, the hostility of every trade unionist in the land, even the fall of the Labor government, if he set out to break the strike.

Pilot's Body Washes In

LEAMINGTON, Ont. (AP) — The body of Frank Shreve, 40, pilot of a single-engine plane which crashed into western Lake Erie during a storm April 26, was discovered by a resident of Pelee Island Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Bodies of two Cleveland women, Mrs. Patrick Nemeth, 36, and Mrs. Darlene Gambatese, 34, were recovered a few days after the crash. Shreve was a resident of Alliance, Ohio.

Model Moon Craft to Make Pad Debut

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration will trundle the first model of its Saturn 5 moon rocket to the launch pad next Wednesday — five years to the day after President John F. Kennedy set the goal of landing U. S. astronauts on the moon by 1970.

The milestone will come during one of the busiest eight-day periods in the space age. Five major launchings, including the rescheduled Gemini 9, are planned. This the heaviest launch schedule since April 1962, when eight rockets ripped skyward in a five-day span.

The 365-foot Saturn 5 to be rolled out Wednesday will never fly. Technicians will use it to check pad facilities, train crews and develop test procedures before the first flight-ready Saturn 5 rockets begin flying early next year.

NASA's end-of-the-month assault on space is due to climax May 31 with a three-shot finale — launching Gemini 9, its rendezvous target satellite and a huge insect-shaped scientific satellite named Orbiting Geophysical Observatory.

OGO, as it is called, is now due to lift off at 10:42 p.m. (EDT) May 31. But it may be delayed because of the heavy launch schedule ahead of it. On May 30, the space agency plans to send a surveyor craft on an Atlas-Centaur rocket toward a soft-landing on the moon.

★ ★ ★

Next Tuesday, a three-times-postponed Explorer satellite is to rocket aloft to study the chemical structure of the earth's upper atmosphere.

WINNING JUMPER (OSTRICH STYLE)—Wisconsin's Thomas Atkinson lands in long jump pit with his head almost buried in the sand at the Big Ten Outdoor Track and Field championships yesterday in Bloomington, Ind. Atkinson's leap of 24-8¼ won the conference title. The Badgers finished the opening day holding the team lead.

New Practice at Preakness

BALTIMORE (AP) — An upset victory by Exceedingly in today's 91st running of the Preakness could convince other trainers to set up pre-race headquarters away from Pimlico, the site of the classic for 3-year-olds.

Trainer Frank Whiteley did it last year with Tom Rolfe, working him in the quiet of the nearby Laurel track. And Tom Rolfe won.

ARRIVED TODAY

This year, trainer Joe Considine has been working Exceedingly at Laurel and didn't bring him to the scene of the middle leg of Triple Crown until this morning.

The eight other probable starters in the nationally-televised race CBS, 5:30-6 p.m., EDT, have been feeling out the Pimlico track for days.

If Exceedingly wins, it would be more of a Maryland success story than a Preakness victory by favored Kauai King, the Kentucky Derby winner.

★ ★ ★

While the great Native Dancer sired Kauai King at the Valley Sagamore Farm of Alfred K. Vanderbilt, Exceedingly was first home-bred foal at a small operation owned by Mrs. Helen L. Jennings.

"I have great confidence in Exceedingly," said jockey Paul Kallai. He also said that he was changing his riding tactics from his 12th place finish aboard Quinta in the Derby.

★ ★ ★

"I am going to try to get out in front," Kallai added.

Beat Baltimore in Second Tilt After Warmup

Northrup, McAuliffe Connect to Support Monbouquette, 9-5

BALTIMORE (UPI) —It took the Detroit Tigers a full nine innings to get warmed up Friday night as they dropped the frist half of a doubleheader to Baltimore 8-4, but home runs by Jim Northrup and Dick McAuliffe gave them a 9-5 win in the nightcap.

The Tigers gave starter Bill Manbouquette a 5-0 lead in the first three innings of the second game as a single and a walk preceded Bill Freehan's two-run double in the first.

A hit by Norm Cash, a walk and Freehan's run scoring single got the Tigers started in their three-run third. Another run scored as Baltimore pulled a double play and then Northrup homered.

Brooks Robinson and Curt Blefary slammed homers back to back in the fourth as the Orioles cut into the 5-0 lead. Frank Robinson banged his second of the night in the sixth with none on.

★ ★ ★

McAuliffe then blasted a three run pinch homer in the seventh, his second of the evening after wasting one in the opener.

PAST CURFEW

That second game went past thh 11:59 p.m. EDT city curfew and the violation will cost the American League a $50 fine. Normally the game would have ended after eight innings.

The opener was tied 2-2 in the fourth when Andy Etchebarren clouted a homer and then Frank Robinson homered in the sixth after a single by Russ Snyder.

In a three-run seventh, Snyder clouted his third of the game and batted in two runs and Frank Robinson's single drove across the third.

Wally Bunker evened his record at 3-3 with the victory, but he needed relief help from Eddie Watt in the last three innings.

A spokesman for the Orioles said after the second game the club might not have to pay the fine for ignoring the curfew because of "unusual circumstances."

Kettering Overpowers Madison, 6-3

Circuit Clouts Defeat Eagles

3-Run Miceli Blast Caps Opening Game

By JERE CRAIG

The long ball can make up for fielding deficiencies.

That was the story last night at Jaycee Park as Kettering blasted three home runs and won the opening game of the Pontiac Invitational High School Baseball Tournament from Madison, 6-3.

★ ★ ★

The Captains' infielders Jay Nash and Dick Miceli (twice) picked on Carl Olson deliveries for solid shots over the left field fence that eliminated the tournament's only unbeaten team.

Play continues at 7:30 p. m. today with Bloomfield Hills meeting Brother Rice under the lights. The other 12 invited teams will begin play next Friday and Saturday.

Madison (8-1) bounced back from a shaky beginning after Nash's solo clout in the first inning to take control of the contest, 3-1, aided by uncertain Kettering fielding in the fourth and fifth innings.

A walk, Bill Scholes' single and Miceli's costly two-base error put the Eagles ahead, 2-1, in the fourth. A double steal found Tom Cox scoring the third run.

2 MISPLAYS

He and teammate Jim Guldi each reached base on errors after becoming two of winning hurler Jack McCloud's 15 strikeout victims, then teamed on the double theft.

But Miceli then led off the sixth with a big blast, cutting the lead to 3-2 and putting a spark into the Captains' offense. John Kampsen and Mark Curry delivered back - to - back singles after one out, and when the ball went through Guldi's legs, Kampsen raced home to tie it.

★ ★ ★

The Eagles' infield then booted ground balls by Jerry Harkey and Bruce Mihalek leading off the seventh, and after Nash's sacrifice bunt, Miceli clinched the victory with a long, high shot over the left-center field fence.

Madison had the tying run at the plate with one out in the last half of the inning, but McCloud then got the next hitters on ground balls to end the contest.

The Captains (9-4) now will play in the May 30 quarter-finals against the winner of the Southfield-Clarkston tilt at 3:30 p. m. next Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The win also avenged last year's 4-3, 12-inning loss to Madison in the opening round.

Favor Iowa, MSU in Big Ten Track

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (UPI) —Iowa and defending champion Michigan State remained favorites for the 66th Big Ten track championship today although Wisconsin held the opening day lead.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State qualified six athletes for the finals in five events and three for the semifinals in one event. Iowa also had six qualifiers for the finals, and one for the semifinals.

The Spartans and Hawkeyes each had two best performances in the qualifying rounds.

Tom Atkinson of Wisconsin won the broad jump Friday to help give Wisconsin 9 points. Michigan State had 6, Michigan 5, Minnesota 4, Iowa 3, Illinois 2 and Ohio State 1.

Bob Donnelly of Michigan won the only other final Friday, throwing the discus 166 feet, 5½ inches.

BEST JUMP

Atkinson won the broad jump with a leap of 24 feet 8¼ inches. "The best jump I have ever made," he said. Wendell Bjorklund of Minnesota was second.

★ ★ ★

Jim Garrett of Michigan State, winner of three Big Ten indoor broad jump championships, had been a heavy favorite to win the outdoor crown for the second consecutive year. But he finished third with a jump of only 23 feet 11½ inches, his worst finish in Big Ten competition. He exceeded 25 feet on his last jump but fouled.

Michigan qualified seven for the finals, Michigan State six, Illinois five, Indiana and Wisconsin three, Northwestern two and Ohio State and Purdue one.

HAPPY CAPTAIN — Waterford Kettering's Jay Nash (right) rounds second base with a big grin after clouting first-inning homer that put the Captains ahead, 1-0, in the opening game of the Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament last night at Jaycee Park. Madison's Tom Cox watches Nash.

Ohio State '9' Nearing Title in Big Ten

By the Associated Press

Undefeated Ohio State all but clinched the Big Ten baseball championship Friday with a 6-4 victory over challenging Minnesota.

The defending champion Buckeyes rallied for four runs in the eighth inning while taking advantage of Gopher errors to record their sixth victory in as many conference games.

FALLS TO 2ND

The loss left Minnesota in second place with a 9-2-1 record and all Ohio State needs for a second straight title is a split with Iowa Saturday.

Minnesota, meanwhile, will be at Indiana for a doubleheader.

★ ★ ★

Michigan State, with relief pitcher John Krasnan knocking in the winning run in a three-run fifth inning rally, edged Michigan 6-5 to climb into a third place tie with the Wolverines.

EMU Team Wins Loop Track Title

CLEVELAND (AP) — Eastern Michigan won its second straight Presidents' Athletic Conference track meet Friday with nine firsts, including two meet records.

★ ★ ★

The Hurons finished with 175 points. Case Tech was second with 110.

George Mason and Joe Grasely powered Eastern with two wins apiece. Mason set a meet record of 48.5 in the 440-yard dash, breaking Grasely's mark of 48.6 set last year, and clocked the half-mile in 1:55.6

Final standings: Eastern Michigan 175 points; Case Tech 100; Wayne State 62½; Western Reserve 51; Allegheny 35; Bethany 18; Thiel 16½; Washington & Jefferson 15; John Carrol 12.

Grid War May Stir Long-Term Pacts

NEW YORK (AP) — One result of the latest player war developing between the National Football League and the American Football League would seem to be long-term contracts for stars.

Alex Karras, the Detroit Lions' massive defensive tackle, lent credence to that theory Friday when he landed what is perhaps the longest player contract in NFL history, signing with the Lions for seven more seasons.

SPURNS DOLPHINS

The interesting point was that Karras, upon signing, said he had turned down "a very attractive offer" to play for the Miami Dolphins of the AFL.

★ ★ ★

There had been a report that Karras and two Lion teammates, linebacker Wayne Walker and receiver Gail Cogdill, were being wooed by the Dolphins, but it was denied by officials of the new AFL team.

To keep the talent intact, more and more pro clubs are likely to hand out term contracts.

The procedure up to now has been for a player to sign for one year, with a clause in the contract that binds the man to the same team for the second year. Now the owners probably will stretch the point and grant contracts for two years and up.

SWITCHED LOOPS

The current imbroglio started when Pete Gogolak, the Hungarian-born placekicker, signed with the New York Giants of the NFL after playing out his option with Buffalo of the AFL. Gogolak reportedly signed for three years at $32,000 a year.

Ralph Wilson, owner of the Buffalo club and president of the AFL, said, "We would like to see Gogolak's contract, as far as the Giants are concerned, rescinded."

However, there is little chance of any such action by NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle.

"If the contract is in order from the standpoint of eligibility for the NFL, it will not be disapproved," Rozelle said.

When the NFL ended its spring meetings Friday at Washington, Rozelle took notice of reports that players on the Giants and the Lions have been approached by representatives of AFL clubs.

"I have heard reports of contacts made by AFL club representatives with certain players now under contract with NFL teams," Rozelle said.

"I will have further information this when our club presidents and I return home. If there are legal ramifications to such contacts, they would be explored by the NFL club involved."

Bookies Back Cassius Clay

LONDON (AP) — Cassius Clay went against Henry Cooper and a sell-out crowd of about 46,000 for what is generally recognized as the world heavyweight championship today.

The crowd at an outdoor soccer stadium was expected to be wildly partisan to "Our 'Enery." None, however, was expected to do Clay much damage.

BOOKIES AGREE

And Britain's legal bookies had it 10-1 that Cooper wouldn't either.

★ ★ ★

Cooper, a lantern-jawed 32-year-old veteran, had been a prohibitive underdog all along. But the odds against him soared as the 5:15 p.m., EDT, fight time approached.

Clay, who had gone along with the ballyhoo and acknowledged the cut-prone Cockney as a worthy challenger, reverted to type in the hours before the fight and predicted a first-minute knockout.

PCH Divides With Flint '9'

Pontiac Central split another Saginaw Valley Conference double-header Friday, taking an 8-5 win after dropping a 12-2 opener to loop runner-up Flint Central.

Cecil Martin pushed his record to 5-2 with a three-hit effort that leveled the Chiefs' mark at 7-7 in the SVC and 8-10 over-all.

Dick Dooley and Bill White had key singles and catcher Paul Roberts a three-run homer in the PCH victory. A seven-run Flint first inning decided the opener.

Central will meet SVC leader Bay City Central Monday.

QUALIFIES FOR FINALS—Michigan's Alex McDonald (123) leads the pack in the stretch run of the 660-yard run's second preliminary heat Friday at the Big Ten championships hosted by the University of Indiana. McDonald won the heat with a 1:19.0 clocking. Iowa's Ted Brubacher is right on the Wolverine runner's heels.

'Local' Qualifying at Grosse Ile

Golfers Start Push for Berths in U.S.G.A. Open Tourney

The big push to qualify for the 66th United States Open Golf championship opens at 56 sites across the nation Monday and four more on Tuesday.

In all, 2,433 golfers—1,707 pros and 726 amateurs — will be battling in the local qualifying Monday and Tuesday for 449 berths in the sectional round, scheduled for June 6 or 7.

A field of 103 will tee off Monday at Grosse Ile Golf & Country in a 36-hole outing to determine which 19 will advance to the sectional play set for Country Club of Detroit June 7.

The 123 players who survive the sectional qualifying will join 28 totally exempt players for the U.S.G.A. Open at the Olympic Country Club in San Francisco, June 16-19.

The field at Grosse Ile — 74 pros and 29 amateurs — will be using both tees and play is scheduled to start at 7:30 a. m.

FIRST TRY

Among the amateurs who'll start at Grosse Ile is Lloyd Syron, manager at Pontiac Country Club and former state amateur champ.

★ ★ ★

Syron, 29, will be trying for a berth in the Open for the first time. Syron is paired with Howard Lee Brown of Bridgeport and Larry Wilkinson of Royal Oak. They'll tee off at 9:22.

Some of the other top Michigan amateurs in the field are Chuck Kocsis of Red Run; John French of Bloomfield Hills; current state amateur champion Melvin 'Bud' Stevens of Western Golf & Country Club; Peter Green of Orchard Lake; Tom Draper of Birmingham; and Bob McMasters of Rochester Country Club.

Most of the local head professionals are among the field of hopefuls.

Gene Bone of Bay Pointe Golf Club, who won a berth in the PGA sectional last week at Oakland Hills Country Club, will be on hand along with Bob Gajda of Forest Lake, Mac McElmurry of Knollwood; Tommy Shannon of Orchard Lake; Jack R. Corbett of Arrowhead; Jim Picard and Stan Brion of Tam O'Shanter; and Gerald C. Prieskorn of Stonycroft Hills.

OTHER PROS

John Chester of Birmingham Country Club, Paul VanLoozen of Edgewood, Bob Nodus of Bloomfield Hills and Carl Rose of Carl's Golfland are also in the field.

The field was originally set at 105, but pro Robert Panasiuk of Hydeway Golf & Country Club in Tecumseh, Ont., chipped a knee on the practice tee and dropped out, while the press of business forced Michael I. Kukes of Franklin Hills to withdraw.

Ted Kroll, head pro at Franklin Hills and leading money winner on the pro tour in 1956, is one of the 48 players exempt from the local qualifying at Grosse Ile, but he'll join the sectional field at CC of Detroit.

Grand Rapids will also play host to a local qualifying group —six pros and four amateurs—who'll be gunning for four berths in the sectional round.

Defending Titlist Tied for Fourth on Links at Grosse Ile

GROSSE ILE — Tom Draper of Birmingham led a field of 23 amateur golfers into the third round of the Michigan Medal Play tournament today at Grosse Ile Golf and Country Club.

★ ★ ★

Draper, winner of the North and South Amateur championship in 1965, carded a one-over-par 70-73—143 yesterday to grab a four-stroke lead in play over the 6,901-yard layout.

The 23 players remaining — three didn't make the cut and three dropped out — will play 18 holes today and the final tomorrow.

Holding the runner-up spot was Joe Grace Jr. of Detroit with a 75-72—147. Bill Albright (148) held on the third place and defending champion Melvin Bud Stevens of Western Golf and Country Club shared fourth at 150 with Claude Dwight.

Despite the wind and the length of the course, Draper played a steady game; and he needed only 26 putts on his first round 70.

Mikemen Win, Rams Lose

St. Michael Remains in Loop Contention

St. Michael rallied to overcome New Baltimore St Mary, 3-2, while Richmond St. Augustine spurted for three runs in both the fourth and fifth innings to top St. Frederick, 6-3, in Macomb Catholic League game Friday.

★ ★ ★

St. Mike (5-3) fell behind, 1-0, but tied it in the fourth when Tom Patch singled and scored on an error. The Mikemen then wrapped it up in the fifth on two runs without the aid of a hit.

A balk and a throwing error permitted the runs to score. Jerry Stanton pitched two innings of relief to save the win for Pat Thornberry (4-2).

St. Augustine, who will play host to St. Mike Sunday in a makeup game, deadlocked the Shamrocks in the standings with a trio of runs in the fifth after the Rams had tied it in the top of the frame on Jim Hahaka's two-run single and John Guillean's steal of home.

Gary Baranowski limited the losers to four hits while fanning 12. St. Fred is 3-6.

Dragons Retaliate Against Northern

Lake Orion and Pontiac Northern, though only a few miles apart, rarely meet in athletic competition, and when they do the Huskies usually prevail.

The Orion Dragons handled PNH golfers easily Friday at Bald Mountain Golf Club, 206-214, in a mild surprise. The win was the Dragons' first over Northern since 1962.

John Karvala had a 39 and Gene Harry a 40 for Lake Orion which is now 9-8. PNH, which hasn't fared well on the links this spring, was led by Dave Scheib.

Orion Trackmen Conquer Lakers by 61-48 Count

Lake Orion's cindermen cracked the win column Friday by toppling West Bloomfield, 61-48.

Roy Waterstradt compiled 16½ points for the winners by placing first in the long jump, the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes and running a leg on the 880-yard relay.

The Dragons took first place in nine events.

Farmington gave Waterford a clear shot at its first Inter-Lakes League baseball championship since 1955 with a 1-0 upset of perennial contender Pontiac Northern Friday.

The win, coupled with Waterford's 12-0 trouncing of Livonia Stevenson, put the Skippers in sole possession of first place with a visit from runner-up Northern set for Tuesday.

The Huskies are 4-2 and WTHS 5-1. Waterford defeated PNH on an early visit to Northern.

Tim Patrick blanked the Huskies on three hits at Farmington and got the only run he needed in the fifth inning on singles by Al Kilka and Doub LeFevre sandwiched around a walk.

Patrick fanned seven and didn't walk any. Losing hurler Larry Frye (4-2) struck out 12. He also set up PNH's best opportunity with a lead-of single in the sixth.

Pinchrunner Rick Rhoney then stole second base with none out, but the first three batters in Northern's lineup couldn't advance him further.

★ ★ ★

At Livonia, the Skippers broke open a 0-0 game with three in the fourth and six in the fifth. Sophomore Lee Pearsall, in his first varsity start, rapped two hits and drove in three runs.

Northville 9 Defeats Hills Behind Evans

STEVE EVANS

Northville's power hitting and Steve Evans' stingy mound work set up a Monday afternoon Wayne - Oakland League showdown with a 5-0 victory yesterday at Bloomfield Hills.

★ ★ ★

The victory was the Mustangs' 11th in 13 league starts, putting them one game behind Milford (12-1) going into the final contest. A Northville win will leave the title shared by the two squads.

Romeo defeated Avondale for the second time this season in nonleague contest, 5-1. All four teams are entered in the Pontiac Invitational Baseball Tournament now in progress.

At Bloomfield Hills, Evans allowed only two singles by Kim Kezlarian and whiffed 15 while walking only one. He belted a solo homer in the second, duplicating John Jameson's first-inning clout.

★ ★ ★

Gerry Imsland's two-run double and another solo homer by Mike Turnbull completed the scoring.

★ ★ ★

At Avondale, Mike Pokorney cracked three hits and scored twice as Romeo won its seventh in nine starts. Murray Galan yielded two hits to Avondale's sophomore catcher Bob Burt for the only damage.

Hagan Staying Retired

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — Cliff Hagan, high scoring St. Louis Hawks corner man, said Friday he is firm in his retirement plans despite pleas from club owner Ben Kerner that he reconsider.

Hagan plans to join the radio-television broadcast team for Hawk games next season.

Shrine Wins, 3-2

Brother Rice Nine Falls

Birmingham Brother Rice blew its chance for the outright central division baseball title in the Detroit Catholic League by dropping 5-4 verdict to the University of Detoit High team Friday.

Royal Oak Shrine continued its winning ways in the Double A division with a 3-2 conquest of Bishop Gallagher; and Orchard Lake St. Mary lost its final start, 1-0, to St. Gregory.

★ ★ ★

Brother Rice fell into a tie with Austin Catholic at 7-3 when it couldn't overcome five runs in the second and third innings. Wildness plagued losing hurler John Annas who only allowed four safeties.

Carl Gromek had a run-producing triple and Dave Baughman delivered three two-run singles in three tries for the losers. The Warriors trimmed U. of D., 12-2, in the previous meeting.

Dave Yeager (5-1) pitched out of trouble repeatedly and stole home for the winning run in Shrine's seventh victory against one loss.

★ ★ ★

Terry Shaw allowed only two hits for OL St. Mary but both came in the fifth inning and led to the game's only run. St. Gregory's John Turk whiffed 12 and allowed five safeties.

The Eaglets finished with a 5-4 record. The defeat was their first after five straight wins.

FRIDAY'S PIGHTS

SAN BERNARDINO, Calif.—Bobby Valdez, 129, San Diego, Calif., knocked out Rudolfo Gonzalez, 129, Mexico, 9.

Lakeland Dumps Toolmen, Dairy Tops McAnnally

Lakeland Pharmacy (2-1) took Dixie Tool, 11-1, and Richardson's Dairy (3-0) trimmed McAnnally Motors, 4-1, in last night's Waterford Township men's recreation softball action.

Bill Pittman had a no-hitter for four innings but gave up three hits and a run in the fifth before his Lakeland mates went on a seven-run spree to end the game in the same inning.

Jeff Snarey cracked a lead-off homer in the first and added a triple and single, while Jim Attard had a two-run blast and two singles.

Richardson's Jerry Thomas whiffed nine and scattered four safeties. The winners' seven hits were spread among seven players. They tallied twice in the second and twice in the fourth.

SMOOTH SWING—Dick Miceli of Waterford Kettering stroked two high pitches for big home runs last night as the Captains tripped previously unbeaten Madison, 6-3. Miceli's second circuit clout came in the seventh inning and decided the tilt. They were the first home runs Miceli has hit this spring.

U. of M. Wins Tennis Crown

EAST LANSING (UPI) — Michigan successfully defended its Big 10 Tennis title here Friday by creating a gap too big to close.

The Wolverines ran their two-day point accumulation to 126 points, with Michigan State a far second at 102½.

With only one day left in the elimination tournament, Michigan has clinched the title.

Mets' Ron Hunt Continues to Plague Giants

By the Associated Press

Headaches?

Ron Hunt probably gave Herman Franks another one but Milt Pappas' probably cleared one of Don Heffner's.

* * *

Hunt, the New York Mets' scrappy second baseman, continued to shell Franks' pitching staff Friday night, collecting 2 singles and a homer and driving in five runs in a 7-5 victory over San Francisco that sent the Giants down to their fifth loss in the last six games.

JAY STARTS

At Cincinnati, Pappas showed up at the ball park with a headache, so Heffner tapped Joey Jay to start for the Reds. He worked like an aspirin tablet on Heffner, probably pitching himself back into the starting rotation in a 5-3 victory over St. Louis.

Elsewhere Mack Jones hit two homers in a five-homer attack that gave Atlanta a 12-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh belted Los Angeles 7-3 and Philadelphia edged Houston 6-5 in 10 innings.

The Giants trailed 4-2 in the sixth inning when, after 29 straight singles since last Sunday's game against the Mets, they finally found the power button with solo homers by Jim Hart and Ollie Brown. But in the eighth, John Stephenson and Ed Bressoud singled and Hunt tagged Lindy McDaniel for his game-winner.

HOMERS HELP

The Reds collected all their runs on homers, Johnny Edwards hitting a three-run shot in the fifth inning and Tommy Helms and Deron Johnson collecting solo homers in the fifth and sixth, respectively. Bill McCool preserved Jay's fourth victory against two defeats, ending the Cardinals eighth inning rally by striking out Jerry Buchek.

* * *

The Pirates put it out of reach against the Dodgers by belting Don Sutton for five first inning runs. Willie Stargell's two-run double was the big blow. Roberto Clemente, Donn Clendenon and Bill Mazeroski each singled in one run during the uprising. Jeff Torborg accounted for two Dodger runs with a homer.

The Astros built a 5-1 lead with the help of homers by Felix Mantilla and John Bateman, but the Phillies tied it in the eighth with a four-run rally capped by Johnny Callison's two-run single. In the 10th, pinch hitter Harvey Kuenn doubled and eventually scored on a sacrifice fly by Cookie Rojas.

The Bayou Din Golf Club course was under water only a week ago from torrential rains, and a heavy downpour was in progress when the final three-some sloshed into the club house Friday.

Champ in First Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Jose Torres, who promised to be a fighting champion when he dethroned Willie Pastrano 10 months ago, makes the first defense of his light heavyweight title tonight against Wayne Thornton in outdoor Shea Stadium.

Although he has had only one fight since stopping Pastrano in the ninth round, the 30-year-old New Yorker is a 7-5 favorite over the body bombing, 26-year-old challenger from Fresno, Calif.

STARTING FAST

"I'm going right after him and he knows it," said Thornton, the No. 1 contender. "I've been waiting a long time for this chance and I'm not going to blow it now. I'm confident I'll beat him and I think I've got a real good chance to take him out.

* * *

"He'll have his hands high in that peek-a-boo defense of his but I'll go to his body early and he'll get those gloves down. Then I'll go for his head."

"This fight won't go over six rounds," Torres said. "I will have no excuse if I lose but I'm not going to lose."

The 15-rounder is scheduled to start at 10:30 p.m., EDT.

Maybe it's illegal . . . Maybe it's outlawed
But with results like this . . . WHO CARES!

Rejected from the tracks by every major oil company, (yet used by such large fleet owners as Avis, General Electric and RCA) — here at last is the full story behind science's new miracle-invention that gives you up to 500 miles of driving from a single tank of gas — saves you up to 50 gallons of gas each month — up to $200 on gas each year!

In fact, when it was first tested on the same proving grounds and in the same test-laboratories used by Ford, GM and Chrysler . . . results were so overwhelming that nation-wide press releases by America's leading automotive authorities immediately hailed this great new breakthrough!

6 months ago, for perhaps the first time in history, the United States Government issued patent protection to an invention that has been classified ILLEGAL! Sound strange? Not really . . . here's why:

I'm sure you're familiar with the famous gasoline-economy tests run by all major oil companies. Well, do you know that the remarkable new invention described on this page is actually banned from these tests because it is TOO EFFECTIVE! Do you know that because this invention saves so much gasoline . . . because it gives so much economy, it is actually ILLEGAL for a test-driver to fit one on his car! And do you know that because it boosts gasoline mileage up to 11 more miles per gallon . . . it is actually outlawed in every recognized cross-country economy test . . . simply because the officials who conduct these tests have been forced to rule that it gives all cars that have it AN UNFAIR ADVANTAGE!

In other words if you are a person planning on entering one of these cross-country economy runs . . . then this message is not for you. YOU JUST WON'T BE ALLOWED TO USE THIS NEW INVENTION — SORRY, BUT IT'S SIMPLY ILLEGAL. But — if you are interested in getting more miles per gallon than you ever dreamed possible — and doing it the very same way that many of America's leading corporations are doing at this very moment — then what you are about to read is perhaps the most thrilling and exciting news in automotive history!

NOW GET UP TO 11 MORE MILES PER GALLON

The name of this great new invention is the GT ENERGY CHAMBER . . . and there is no better way to describe to you the increased performance and economy it will give you . . . than to tell you of the "bombshell effect" it had on research scientists and test-drivers, who simply refused to believe their own gasoline gauges when they first tried it out. Look:

CUTS GASOLINE COSTS TO AS LITTLE AS 10 A MILE

1. When the GT Energy Chamber was first tested by the same research laboratories used by Ford, General Motors and Chrysler . . . results were so overwhelming, (a staggering increase of up to 67 per cent) . . . it actually lowered gasoline costs to as little as one cent a mile!

2. When test cars from HERTZ and AVIS were equipped with this incredible money-saving invention . . . and then test-run on the road and on such world-famous proving grounds as the Indianapolis Speedway . . . the test-drivers of these vehicles were absolutely amazed to see these big, 6-cylinder sedans get better gas-mileage than small European cars!

3. When RCA, General Electric and some of the nation's largest taxi fleets tested this great new invention to determine just how much gas it would save them . . . results were so dramatic, that within 30 days they reported savings of HUNDREDS and HUNDREDS OF gallons of gas the very first month alone!

Even more startling . . . when such huge fleet owners such as Avis, General Electric, Yellow Cab Co., etc., tested this amazing GT ENERGY CHAMBER in a series of special road tests, the results were so dramatic that entire fleets of cars were ordered IMMEDIATELY EQUIPPED . . . that's the kind of miracle-mileage this thrilling new invention delivers.

IMAGINE! ALMOST 500 MILES OF DRIVING FROM A SINGLE TANK OF GAS!

Yes, from road tests, laboratory tests, tests by one of the world's most famous test drivers . . . come reports of cars that drive for hundreds and hundreds of miles ON A SINGLE TANK OF GAS! Reports of test cars from Ford, General Motors, Chrysler that get more miles per gallon today than when they were brand new! Reports of big, luxury sedans that outweigh small European cars by a full ton . . . yet get better gas mileage, and huge dollar savings thanks to this new miracle invention.

HOW IT WORKS SUCH MILEAGE MIRACLES. HOW COME THE CAR MANUFACTURERS HAVEN'T INSTALLED THIS TYPE OF UNIT IN THEIR CARS — THE ANSWER IS THAT TWO ALREADY HAVE!

By now you are probably wondering just what is the GT ENERGY CHAMBER . . . and how does it work? To make a long story short . . . if you were to look under the hood of one of those $20,000 European luxury cars like the Maserati or the Aston-Martin, you would see sitting right behind the carburetor . . . a special gasoline BOOSTER unit . . . especially designed to extract more blazing power, more energy, from each gallon of gasoline. This remarkable booster-unit is what gives these cars such magnificent performance . . . such TOTAL POWER . . . increased engine efficiency.

And this is precisely what the GT ENERGY CHAMBER is designed to do — enable your engine to extract more piston-driving power, more raw, blazing energy and more gasoline economy . . . ONLY, instead of costing $100 to $150 (like the European booster-units) . . . the GT ENERGY CHAMBER costs but a mere fraction.

That's because after years of intensive research, automotive experts have finally found a way to simplify the mileage-boosting principles of these booster units . . . reduce the number of parts in each unit . . . mass produce them . . . and make them available at a price so low it's almost too ridiculous to mention. Why, do you realize what this means to you if you are determined to save yourself up to $16 a month on your gas bills . . . up to 50 gallons of gas each month . . . yes, up to $200 a year on wasted gasoline?

INSTALLS IN MINUTES — PAYS FOR ITSELF IN AS LITTLE AS 15 DAYS

It means that no matter what kind of car you now have . . . no matter how old that car may be . . . from this day on, you, too, can now save up to 500 gallons of gas each and every year, NOW you, too, can drive for hundreds of miles at a time without ever stopping at a service station. NOW you, too, can drive across 6 states of the union on just a single tank of gas . . . blaze a trail from New York to Chicago on just 2 or 3 tankfuls . . . perform mileage-miracles that only yesterday you thought were utterly impossible.

So . . . if you want to achieve the same wondrous results as Avis, General Electric, RCA . . . the same miracle-mileages as recorded in Indianapolis . . . on-the-track . . . and from coast to coast . . . and engineers as proven by research scientists at the very same testing laboratories used by Ford, Chrysler and General Motors . . . then take advantage of this special FREE-TRIAL introductory offer today!

BEST PROOF OF ALL!

Avis-Rent-A-Car Road-Tests Amazing New Invention and reports staggering mileage increases on all cars tested.

"Savings at the rate of up to 500 gallons per year."

Yes, from one of the most famous names in the automotive world comes the most dramatic proof of all. AVIS . . . a company that spends more money on gasoline in one weekend that the average person spends in a lifetime . . . they tested this incredible new invention and here is what they found: BOOSTED GASOLINE MILEAGE UP TO A WHOPPING 32%. Wouldn't you like to save up to $200 a year on your car? For full details, read the rest of this page.

"MATCH ME — I DARE YOU" — AND WE DID! This is the test that left the experts gasping in disbelief. The day we took a big luxurious Cadillac sedan . . . and sifted it in an ECONOMY RUN against a so-called "economy car" . . . this small Plymouth. The only change we made in the Cadillac . . . it was fitted out with the amazing new invention the GT ENERGY CHAMBER, described on this page. Result of test? The Cadillac boosted its miles per gallon by so much, it actually OUTPERFORMED the Plymouth . . . left it standing bone-dry, panting for even a glass of gasoline. For full documented proof of just how this amazing new invention can save you up to $200 in gasoline in the next 12 months . . . read the rest of this page. (Test conducted on the New England Turnpike—results sealed and attested to by official state notary.)

Sets Jumping Record

DE KALB, Ill. (UPI) — Chuck Rochow of Central Michigan bounded 44 feet 7 inches Friday to win the triple jump at the Interstate Intercollegiate Athletic Conference IIAC track meet.

Rochow's leap helped give Central Michigan a head start toward defending the IIAC title it shares with Northern Illinois.

In Month of May

Boston Pair Sparkles

By the Associated Press

Mark down May as a merry month for Boston's Rico Petrocelli and Jose Santiago.

Petrocelli's home run production has gone from zero to seven since the first of the month, while Santiago has turned into a winning pitcher with impressive credentials.

* * *

The 25-year-old Puerto Rican right-hander took it out on his former club Friday night when he recorded his first complete game in the majors, firing a two-hit 3-0 victory for the Red Sox over the Kansas City Athletics. Santiago now has won three in a row for a season mark of 3-1.

HEAVY BLOW

Petrocelli unloaded the heavy blow, a two-run homer in the seventh inning that gave Santiago some working room in this match between the last-place Red Sox and the ninth-place A's.

At the other end of the standings, Cleveland got three unearned runs in the first inning and dealt the Chicago White Sox their fifth straight loss, 3-2.

The New York Yankees nipped Minnesota 2-1, while Washington scored a run in the ninth with the help of two errors and beat California 6-5.

Gene Freese was the goat for the White Sox, and Jim Landis got the key hit for the Indians. With two out in the first and Max Alvis on base, Freese made a bad throw on Rocky Colavito's grounder. Fred Whitfield then singled in a run and Landis ripped a triple for two more.

Gary Bell was in and out of trouble almost all the way, but made the three runs stand up for the 3-2 decision that boosted the Indians' AL lead to 2½ games over Baltimore.

Al Downing struck out 11 and came within one out of finishing as the Yanks squeezed by the Twins. Camilo Pascual was clipped for the two New York runs in the fifth on Clete Boyer's double, Elston Howard's single and Roy White's triple.

Downing gave up a run-scoring single to Harmon Killebrew in the eighth, then was relived by Pedro Ramos after yielding a two-out walk to Bob Allison in the ninth. Ramos ended it by fanning Zoilo Versalles.

Don Lock carried across the winner at Washington. He got on in the bottom of the ninth on shortstop Jim Fregosi's error and raced home when third baseman Paul Schaal uncorked an errant throw to first after fielding Frank Howard's bunt single.

Aussie 3 Strokes Ahead

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Bruce Devlin, the world traveler from Australia, led the $110,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament into its third round today, boasting a three-stroke bulge over Gene Littler. But he probably is giving great thought to a jinx that has followed the tour this year.

No player has led a tournament from start to finish, and only three times in the 20-year history of Colonial has it been done. And it has been 11 years since that trick was turned here.

But Devlin, with hot iron play, swept over the 7,123-yard Colonial Country Club course in two-under-par 68 Friday for a 36-hole total of 135, and figured a pair of 71s the rest of the way would bag him first money of $21,000. He thinks 277 will win the 72-hole tournament.

Devlin was stopped on the 10th hole when lightning struck the course Friday and had to wait 18 minutes before play was resumed. But it didn't bother him a bit, and he returned to get a par on the 10th hole and go on for a birdie on 13.

Tax Receipt Influx Grows; Budget Deficit Drop Seen

WASHINGTON (AP) — The tax collector has good news for Uncle Sam's budget balancers.

Net tax receipts for April were 16 per cent above those of the same month last year. And if the trend continues — as government experts expect it will — the anticipated budget deficit for the fiscal year ending June 30 could shrink by $1 billion to $2 billion.

★ ★ ★

Government experts won't discuss the prospects of a drop in the estimated $6.4 billion deficit. But it's no secret that receipts have exceeded expectations since the beginning of the year.

It's all tied in with the booming economy, higher personal income, bigger profits and consequently, bigger tax receipts.

The Treasury's monthly report showed net tax receipts for the first 10 months of this fiscal year totaled $79.1 billion. May and June, historically the best tax months, are still to come.

The $9.9 billion in net receipts during April compares with $8.5 billion for April of last year.

★ ★ ★

Last January, the administration estimated net receipts for this fiscal year at $100 billion. They forecast a budget deficit of $6.4 billion. Since then, there have been these developments:

1. Higher than anticipated receipts which could add $1 billion to $2 billion to the positive side of the ledger.

CUT SPENDING

2. An administration campaign to cut spending by $1.1 billion during the rest of the fiscal year.

3. A new Treasury policy to step up collections from corporations of the income and Social Security taxes they withhold from employe paychecks. This procedure is scheduled to begin in mid-June and would mean an extra $1 billion in tax collections before June 30.

★ ★ ★

Under this policy, large corporations would deposit tax collections twice a month instead of monthly. On June 15, they would deposit collections for May and, three business days later, the collections for the first half of June.

And in a development Friday, President Johnson sent a memo to heads of federal agencies and departments instructing them to curb nonessential official travel. He also suggested a delay in filling job vacancies.

ECONOMY NEED

The need for economy in government is increasing, Johnson said, "in view of the high costs of the conflict in Viet Nam and in the interest of avoiding inflationary pressures at home."

Deputy Press Secretary Robert H. Fleming said he was sure Johnson would review his own travel plans and "may forego some previously planned travel." The White House has not announced any future travel plans for the President.

Leaders Shape NATO Policy

Johnson, Advisors Air Revamp of System

WASHINGTON (AP) —President Johnson and his key advisers are shaping U.S. policy on revamping the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

Johnson met for an hour at the White House Friday night with Secretary of State Dean Rusk, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, presidential national security affairs Adviser Walt W. Rostow, Undersecretary of State George W. Ball and Dean Acheson, former secretary of state now advising on NATO affairs.

★ ★ ★

Reports indicated the discussion centered on a meeting of NATO ministers June 6-8 in Brussels. The United States reportedly will urge moving NATO's military and political headquarters from Paris to Belgium, streamlining the NATO setup and giving West Germany a bigger role.

U.S. strategists want unanimity among American allies at the meeting. And, before Friday night's conference, Johnson met with Belgium's foreign minister, Pierre Harmel, in the latest of a series of NATO discussions with allied leaders visiting Washington.

FRENCH PULLOUT

The conferences were prompted by French President Charles de Gaulle's plans to pull out of NATO's military system and his order to his 14 NATO allies to remove the organization's facilities from France within a year.

Man Robbed in City House

A 42-year-old White Lake Township man was robbed of $100 at knifepoint this morning at a Hughes Street residence, police said.

Bill Male of 482 S. Williams Lake told Pontiac police a man and a woman both pulled knives on him, demanding his money.

★ ★ ★

He said that the man tried to stab him in the stomach but that he grabbed the knife away from him and ran.

Living Cost Raises Due for Auto Workers

DETROIT (AP) — The Big Three auto makers Friday all announced increases in cost of living benefits for the June-Aug. quarter, affecting some 850,000 employes throughout the country.

The boost was prompted by a rise in the consumer price index from 111.0 to 112.5 announced by the Bureau of Labor Statistics.

★ ★ ★

Hourly employees at Ford, Chrysler and General Motors will receive 16 cents an hour in cost of living allowances, an increase of four cents an hour over the previous quarter. The General Motors and Chrysler raises become effective June 6; Ford's starts June 1.

★ ★ ★

Ford and Chrysler announced that salaried employes would receive a total of $83.20 for the June-August quarter. GM said its salaried workers would receive an $80.00 allowance for the same period. The new rates are approximately $20 more than the cost of living allowances for the March-May quarter.

Odd Accident Is Fatal to 12 in Philippines

MANILA (AP) — Typhoon Irma, a leaking gasoline tank and a casually thrown cigarette resulted in the death of 12 persons in a bus explosion Friday night near Manila.

★ ★ ★

Police gave this account:

The fully loaded bus was slowly making its way along the flooded MacArthur Highway from Pampanga to Manila, its windows and doors closed to keep out the driving rain of Typhoon Irma.

As the bus slowed to a crawl in a deep puddle, a thin film of leaking gasoline spread over the water.

CIGARETTE BUTT

In the darkness, a pedestrian flicked a lighted cigarette butt as the bus went past.

The cigarette ignited the gasoline. A thin tongue of flame danced across the water toward the gas tank of the bus.

★ ★ ★

A split second later the tank exploded, setting fire to the bus.

Many of the passengers had been asleep and were taken by surprise.

Twelve screaming passengers were trapped inside as the flames quickly engulfed the bus. Eighteen others were badly burned but escaped.

City Woman Hurt in Car Accident

A 46-year-old Pontiac woman was injured last night in an accident on Lapeer Road near Metamora in Oxford Township.

Listed in satisfactory condition in Pontiac General Hospital with a neck injury is Mrs. Robert R. Shaver of 2125 Parkinson.

★ ★ ★

She was a passenger in a car driven by her husband.

Shaver told sheriff's deputies a travel trailer hooked to his car started to swerve, causing him to lose control.

Accident Injury Fatal

TUSCAN (AP) — Mrs. Ellen Olson, 69, died Friday, apparently of injuries received when an auto ran off a road near the Osceola County community and hit a tree.

Rare Stamps Stolen in D.C.

WASHINGTON (AP) —Washington police and the FBI are investigating the theft of a suitcase and two cardboard boxes containing about $25,000 worth of rare stamps and envelopes from a New York lawyer.

Robert L. Markovits, 29, told police the suitcase and boxes were taken Friday from his eighth-floor hotel room while he and his wife, Barbara, were at lunch. They are attending the sixth International Philatelic Exhibition.

★ ★ ★

Markovits, who has pursued his hobby for 16 years, refused to give the value of the stamps. But authorities estimated their value at $25,000 or more.

Police said there was no evidence that force had been used to enter the room.

★ ★ ★

Markovits said between 2,000 and 5,000 individual stamps are missing and another 1,500 in blocks. Also missing, he told police, were unusual U.S. stamps with plate numbers and envelopes, or covers, used between 1835 and 1940 by persons writing to the United States from England.

Card Really Gets Around

LOUISVILLE (AP) — The same birthday card has been going back and forth between the Trautwein brothers for 32 years.

The marathon mailing was originated by George after he received the card from his brother, Rudy, back in 1935.

The brothers estimate they're spent $2 in postage which is far more than the original 10 cent cost of the card.

God saw you getting weaker,
So He did what he thought best,
He came and stood beside you,
And whispered come to rest.
You wished no one a last farewell,
Not even to say goodby,
You had gone before we knew it,
And only God knows why.

State Committees Pour Flood of Bills Into House, Senate to Beat Yesterday's Deadline

LANSING (AP) — A leisurely but voluminous tide of nearly 100 bills poured onto the House and Senate floors Friday — the final day for committee action on nonmoney measures which had already been passed by one chamber.

★ ★ ★

Consumer protection bills topped the list of nearly 70 measures in the Senate.

The 27 bills coming to the House floor included a measure providing that a driver convicted twice of drunken driving would have his license permanently revoked.

Unlike the usual last-minute rush of most deadline days, the Legislature paced itself easily through the day after lengthy work Thursday, especially in the Senate.

NOT ON AGENDA

Many of the bills had been acted on a day or two earlier in committees but were not officially placed on the agenda until Friday.

Legislators now will have until June 8 to act on the bills, with June 9-10 set aside for final working out of differences in House and Senate versions of given bills.

★ ★ ★

Money measures are still in committee, but must also be passed June 8.

The consumer protection bills reported out by the Senate Judiciary Committee deal with advertising, installment loans and hearing aid sales.

STOP DECEIT

All seek to eliminate deceptive practices.

Principal measures left in committee would have established a State Housing Authority and more closely regulated activities of lobbyists.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Thomas Schweigert, R-Petoskey, promised to try to attach the lobbying provisions to a legislative conflict of interest measure which is pending action.

The drunken driving bill, already approved by the Senate, was amended in the House Judiciary Committee to require that a motorist arrested for drunken driving take a breath analysis test if a policeman demands it.

WRITTEN CONSENT

The results, however, could not be used in court unless the motorist gave his written consent.

The bill also provides for permanent license suspension for a third conviction of reckless driving.

Lawmakers will take Monday off, returning instead at 4 p.m. Tuesday.

THE PONTIAC PRESS

State's East Coast Shows Historical Variety

Rich Tradition Dots Shoreline

Travel Tour Covers Lake Erie—Straits

Historical variety is the keynote of Michigan's east coast tour which skirts Lake Erie then sweeps north along the Lake Huron shore to the Straoits of Mackinac.

The region along Lake Erie, now fertile farmland, is one of the most history-laden in Michigan for it was a bitterly contested section in the War of 1812.

This was also the place where Chief Pontiac plotted his war against the British outposts from Mackinaw to Pittsburgh in 1763.

Detroit, the Motor City, was founded in 1701 by French explorer Cadillac and is the home of mass production in America and the nerve center of Great Lakes shipping.

Mt. Clemens, 20 miles north of Detroit, has a railroad station where a young man named Thomas Alva Edison leared telegraphy. The city also is the site of New Gnadenhutten, where lived the tragedy-ridden Christian Indians who fled anti-American tribesmen in Ohio in 1781, as well as the hostile Americans themselves.

Fifty-seven miles north of Detroit is Port Huron, birthplace of Edison and site of one of the first forts on the Great Lakes — Ft. St. Joseph, built by the coureurs de bois — free traders — in 1686.

Up along Lake Huron's shore toward Michigan's "Thumb Country" is White Rock, phantom city of the 1835-36 era of land speculation, and whose rock, offshore, was an Indian treaty boundary marker.

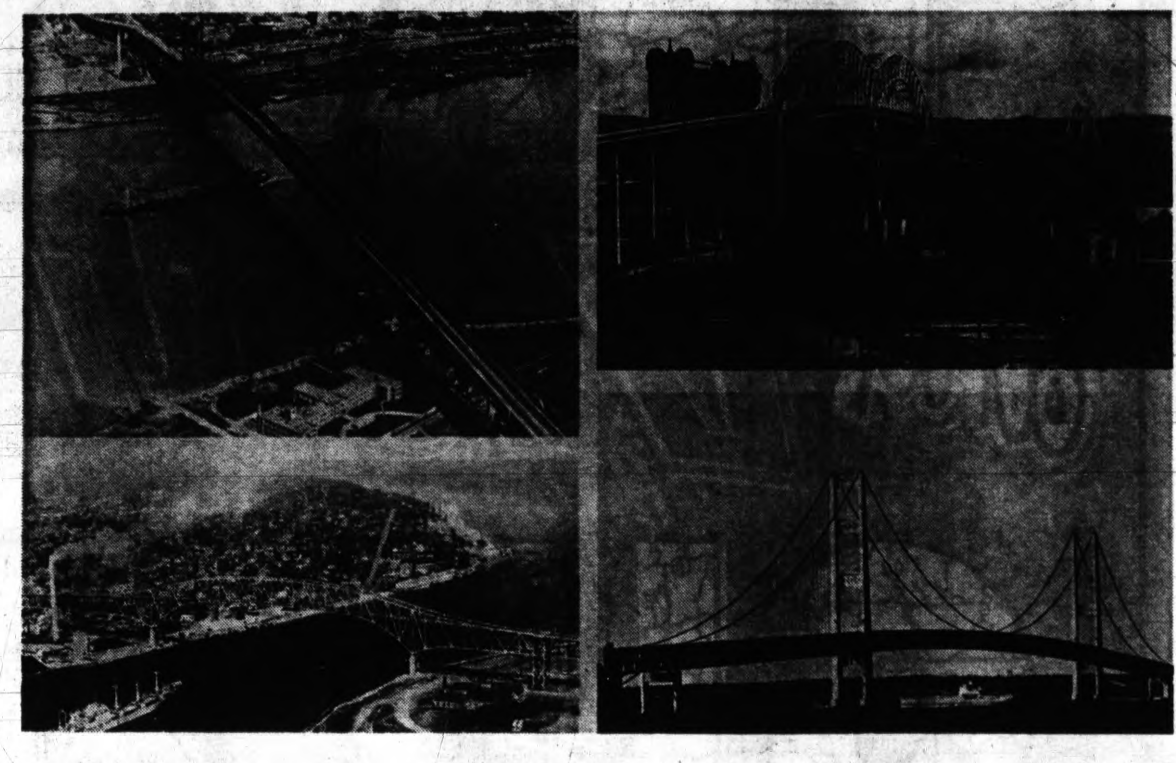
Bay City and Saginaw were the capitals of eastern Michigan's lusty lumbering industry of the late 19th century. North between AuSable and Tawas the route is through the old pinelands to the Lumberman's Memorial on a high bluff overlooking the AuSable river, highway of the Indians many years ago.

Beyond lies Huron National Forest, a living memorial where the wilderness destroyed by the lumberman's ax is being reborn.

Forty miles north along US-23 is Alpena which combines the breath of the wilderness with industry.

And 36 miles farther north is Presque Isle lighthouse, built in 1870 to guide ships along the Lake Huron shore.

Mackinaw City, southern approach to the giant Mackinac Bridge, sweeping high above the palisades of newly - restored Ft. Michilimackinac, is the terminal point of the east coast tour. And out in the Straits beckons Mackinac Island, rising high and green, as siren-like and enchanting as when it called to the French 300 years ago.



TRAVELERS' GATEWAYS — Bridges are instrumental in traveling around the Great Lakes area, and Michigan has four that are prominent not only as travel arteries but also as landmarks. The Ambassador Bridge (upper left) connects Detroit with Windsor, Ontario. The United States and Canada are also united by the International Bridge (upper right) which connects the two Sault Ste. Maries and by the Blue Water Bridge (lower left) at Port Huron and Sarnia, Ontario. Perhaps the best known structure, however, is the intrastate Mackinac Bridge which joins the upper and lower peninsulas at Mackinaw City and St. Ignace.

Crown Jewel of Great Lakes

Mackinaw Island: 'Big Turtle'

The crown jewel of the Great Lakes — Mackinac Island — juts impressively from the blue waters of Lake Huron, adorning the eastern approaches to Michigan's historic Straits of Mackinac.

The Indians had a word for it — Michilimackinac — or great turtle, which they superstitiously believed had arisen from the depths of the Straits.

As the area's vast fur trade developed, the French, to protect their interests, established a garrison, first at St. Ignace and then on the southern shores of the Straits where reconstructed Fort Michilimackinac now stands. From here they ruled the Mackinac country.

Following their victory in the French and Indian War in the mid - 19th century, the British gained possession of the Michilimackinac fort then moved their forces to the island.

Thus, Mackinac became the guardian of the Straits until signing of the Treaty of Ghent, after which the Americans took over.

The design for the island's present - day activities was drawn in the early 1800's when John Jacob Astor established the Mackinac post of the American Fur Company.

About 2,000 voyageurs and 400 clerks were employed seasonally by the Astor Company, but when winter came only a handful of soldiers and island residents remained.

The story is much the same today. The voyageurs, traders and trappers have been replaced by carriage drivers, waiters, bellhops, and others in the service trades who take their positions of hospitality in late spring and depart in the early fall.

The shops and cafes which serve tourists throughout the summer are then boarded up, the horses are shipped to the mainland and the few permanent island residents lay in provisions to await the Mackinac winter.

Summer visitors to Mackinac Island are transported by modern ferries which churn the Straits from either Mackinaw City or St. Ignace.

As the tourist-laden ship nears its destination, the charm that is Mackinac reaches out to greet the visitors. Green-tufted bluffs, dotted by magnificent summer homes and the village streets below come into sharper focus.

★ ★ ★

Here, the 19th centrury is still alive. The Grand Hotel, world's largest summer hotel preserves the gracious dignity of the gay 90's, offering the same hospitality as it did when wealthy Chicagoans held court on the hotel's spacious porch before the turn of the century.

Peering from the hilltops is Fort Mackinac which once knew the rule of the British and from where skirmishes against the Americans were conducted.

Surries — with or without the fringe on top — take tourists to such historical spots as British Landing, Skull Cave, Fort Holmes, old battlegrounds and Indian cemeteries. Residences of those who helped make Mackinac famous and whose names are written in history are preserved or reconstructed.

Nestled in this historic setting are modern accommodations, entertainment and a wide choice of recreational facilities.

Pontiac Motor Division

We've just had our best sales month in 40 years. Somebody somewhere must be buying a lot of Pontiacs.

We sold so many Wide-Tracks in April it even surprised us (not to mention our competition). But it really shouldn't have. Because when you've got what people want, they come and get it. Things like Wide-Track ride. Imaginative styling. Swank interiors. The world's only low-priced high-price car (Catalina). The ultimate driving machine (GTO). Grand Prix. Bonneville. Brougham. 2+2. Ventura. Executive. Le Mans. Tempest. An unmatched lineup of powerplants ranging from the unique (overhead cam six) to the sublime (421 cu. in. V-8). And an eager bunch of Pontiac dealers who are anxiously waiting to give you an irresistible deal and bump those sales records up even higher. With an April like this, can May be far behind?

Hawaii Offers Festive Period

Since there's a festival or festive events going on constantly in the fun-loving Aloha State, it's not hard for the Hawaii visitor to find an excuse to celebrate.

The first thing you do after you check into your hotel is doff Mainland clothing and get into light sportswear and sandals. Then check your hotel desk or bulletin board for what's going on or stop in at the Hawaii Visitors Bureau's information office which publishes a weekly events guide for free.

A touch of the old West comes to the Big Island of Hawaii May 28-29 with the 12th annual rodeo at Honokaa Arena.

Back on the capital island of Oahu, festivities in honor of Hawaii's "Napoleon of the Pacific," Kamehameha the Great, take over in June. Visitors should plan to attend the gala Holoku Ball at the Royal Hawaiian hotel June 10.

PARADE

The following day is Kamehameha Day, an official state holiday. The Kamehameha Day parade starts at 10 a.m. and ends up at Iolani palace in downtown Honolulu.

The parade features pretty Hawaiian pa-u riders on horseback. Their costumes are ankle-length, bright satin topped with flower leis in the colors of the various islands they represent. Flower and foliage trimmed floats with hula dancers will provide brilliant camera material for visitors. A mamoth public luau follows the parade.

Hawaiian outrigger canoe races are held in tribute to the ancient uniter-of-the-islands at Kailua-Kona on the Big Island of Hawaii June 11, as well as a number of other festivities open to visitors at both Hilo and Kona. Similar races take place at Oahu's Kailua bay June 12 and again, at Kaneohe bay, June 19.

The Garden Island of Kauai stages its rodeo June 24 through July 4.

Hawaii's loveliest girls will compete in the Miss Hawaii pageant June 25 and 26 at the Honolulu Concert Hall, an event open to visitors.

Another rodeo goes on at Naalehu on the Big Island of Hawaii July 1 through 4, combined with a fair. There's also a fair at Kailua-Kona July 1 through 4.

★ ★ ★

Flower fanciers can catch the Hilo Orchid Society Flower Show July 1-4 at the Hilo Cow Palace. This is the spot that grows more different kinds of orchids than any place else on the globe.

Windsor---Bright Look

Windsor, the Rose City of Canada, considers itself like a red carpet protruding into the United States' Great Lakes states.

While it is true the Dieppe Gardens along the Detroit River front and the Jackson Park Sunken Garden are horticultural attractions for visitors, the colorful description stems also from the Ontario city's blooming future and bright past.

★ ★ ★

Windsor in recent years has made significant industrial and business strides.

The Willistead Art Gallery, Hiram Walker Historical Museum, Cleary Auditorium, the Ambassador Bridge and the river tunnel are other tourist lures in the city.

Also, Jack Miner's Bird Sanctuary at Kingsville, the Pointe Pelee National Park near Leamington and the Fort Malden National Historic Museum at Amherstburg draw travelers to Ontario.

★ ★ ★

For strangers to the province, a stop at the Ontario Tourist Bureau in downtown Windsor is recommended for the best guide to the area's high points.

Inland Water Route Network of Beauty

The beautiful Inland Water Route, a 45-mile network of clear lakes and quiet rivers set in the green carpeted forests of northern lower Michigan, is a leading port of call for the nation's growing navy of pleasure craft.

Scenic variety is the key to its charm, according to the Michigan Tourist Council, and the fantastic rise of boating promises to keep the historic waters churning with vacationers afloat.

Remote wilderness, rolling farm land and scenic hills border the lakes and rivers. There is unlimited opportunity for hunting, fishing, cruising, exploring, water skiing, swimming and skin diving.

Fresh air and low pollen count attract thousands of hay fever sufferers. Springtime is blossomtime in nearby apple and cherry orchards. Trees lining the route become blankets of color during the autumn season. Skiing, skating and ice fishing are popular winter activities.

The area is noted for game, including elk, deer, beaver, muskrat and mink. Fishermen enjoy year-round sport with trout, bass, panfish and in the winter sturgeon. Waterfowl are plentiful.

FOUR LAKES

The Water Route winds through four lakes — Burt, Mullett, Crooked and Pickrel — and 18 miles of connecting rivers— Cheboygan, Indian, Crooked and Pickrel — on its course between Cheboygan and the village of Conway near Petoskey.

The route is rich in Indian lore and legend. The red man had great faith in the healing powers of the land's artesian waters and his small villages dotted the route.

The Indian River Shrine, the world's largest crucifix, is a simple, yet awe inspiring point of interest for travelers of all faiths. It is located near the community of Indian River, mid point on the Water Route.

Annually in mid-July, some 200 powerboats compete for honors in the Top-O-Michigan Marathon, a grueling 87-mile race along the length of the Water Route.

Canoeing and sailing enthusiasts also find the Water Route appealing.

The Water Route can be easily reached by car on modern highways, by boat through the locks at Cheboygan, and by air and seaplane, according to the Tourist Council.

★ ★ ★

Additional information on the Water Route, its accommodations, attractions, and hunting and fishing regulations, can be obtained, free of charge, by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Stevens T. Mason Building, Lansing, Michigan 48926.

★ ★ ★

Persons desiring Inland Water Route Navigation Chart 660 should write directly to the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, U.S. Lake Survey, 630 Federal Building, Detroit, Michigan. There is a charge of $1.00 for the chart.

Western Michigan Plans Boat Races

Several competitive boating events are included on west Michigan's 1966 summer festive events calendar.

For sailing fans the two annual west Michigan highlight events are the Port Huron-to-Mackinac Island and Chicago-to-Mackinac Island yacht races, set this year for July 16 and July 23.

★ ★ ★

For canoe racers there will be competition at White Cloud's first Water Festival July 7-9 and at the Marquette River Canoe Race near Ludington Aug. 21.

★ ★ ★

Outboard enthusiasts will have an opportunity to perform in the annual marathon race over the inland water way across Michigan's mitten. The event near Alanson is tentatively set for July 9-10.

Candy's a Key Item for Your Long Trip

Taking a trip? Here's a checklist for your car before you start. Use it to check your car at regular intervals and always before a long highway journey. It may save your life!

CHECK:

1. Brakes
2. Lights
3. Directional signals
4. Tires
5. Horn
6. Windshield wipers
7. Steering
8. Candy in your car.

That's right, candy. It's as important as fastening your seat belt and just as necessary. Even if your car is in top-notch operating condition it's only as good as the driver — YOU. And you're only effective as long as you remain alert to every situation.

Candy keeps you alert, fights fatigue, builds your morale. Instant energy to brighten your day, lighten your trip. Information from a national confectioners group emphasizes that candy is an important safety factor.

ABSORBED QUICKLY

Sugar in candy is absorbed into the blood in minutes, and is a basic fuel for all parts of the body. Fatigue accompanies low blood-sugar level. Candy quickly raises the blood sugar and combats fatigue.

★ ★ ★

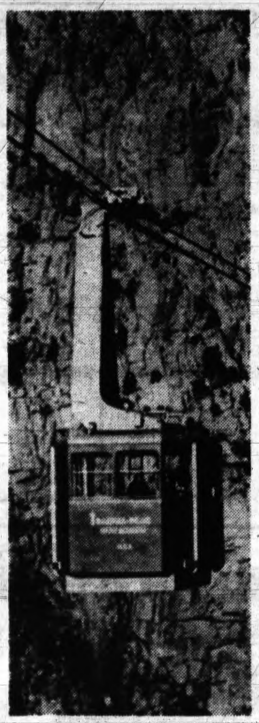
U.S. Steel Has Two Attractions at Rogers City

Two of Northern Michigan's more popular tourist attractions will again be open to the viewing public this year.

Harborview and Quarryview, tourist lookout stations in Rogers City, Michigan, will open May 29.

At Harborview visitors have a chance to explore a pilot house from a Great Lakes freighter and watch operations at one of Michigan's busiest ports.

Quarryview affords the tourist a chance to see a quarry operation, including drilling and blasting, as well as an opportunity to look over a fine selection of fossils. Qualified attendants are on hand at both sites and appropriate literature is available at the lookout stations.



NEW FEATURE — The longest aerial tramway in North America began operating this month at Sandia Peak, N.M., after a two-year building project. The 2.7-mile trip through the Southern Rocky Mountains last 10 minutes and terminates on 10,378-foot Sandia Peak, four miles north of Albuquerque, N.M.

West Michigan offers visitors more than 100 festive events during the spring, summer and fall.

Interlochen Planning Another Big Summer

Season after season, throughout the 38 years of its operation, the National Music Camp at Interlochen has provided high points in its programming that have been of major importance to its students and attracted thousands of the music-loving public.

In addition to the presentation of great works, the playing and conducting by Van Cliburn, and the performance of countless smaller works, the program this summer will include the seventh biennial conference of the International Society for Music Education.

That meeting, to be attended by some 3,000 musicians and educators from 45 countries and offering performances by outstanding musical organizations from overseas and the United States, will mark the climax of the camp's summer activity.

It will be at Interlochen August 18 to 26 (the first four days in conjunction with the final days of the camp's eight-week summer program).

Van Cliburn will make his appearance at the music camp as soloist July 30, and will return for the ISME assembly.

A string youth orchestra from Russia is scheduled to appear on the program.

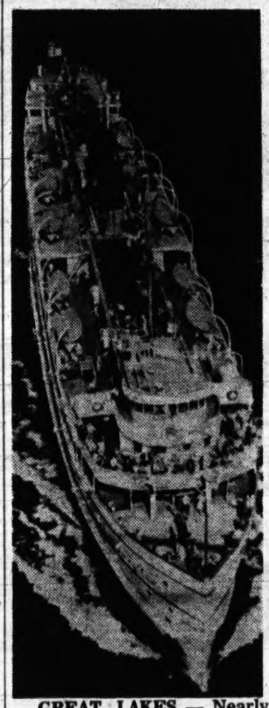
The regular cruise season will begin June 19 and will consist of 10 round trip cruises of over 2,200 miles of scenic beauty throughout the Great Lakes.

The Labor Day Weekend cruise will again be part of the schedule. The highlight of the 1966 cruise season will be the annual Great Lakes - St. Lawrence Seaway Cruise beginning in Cleveland, Ohio and Detroit on September 6, and covering Lake Erie, the Welland Canal, the St. Lawrence Seaway and the 1000 Islands to Montreal.

★ ★ ★

During the trip, which follows the river for the entire distance, sightseeing stops will be made at Our Lady of the Cape Shrine at Cap de la Madeliene, Quebec, and other points of interest. Time in Quebec will allow a visit to world-famous St. Anne de Beaupre nearby.



GREAT LAKES — Nearly 14,000 persons sailed the S.S. South American on its 10 summer cruises around the Great Lakes last year. The ship is a familiar sight twice a week sailing the St. Clair River going from Detroit to Lake Huron and vice versa.

BOUND FOR BOB-LO — Beginning May 29th the daily trips of the SS Columbia and the SS Ste. Claire will begin down the Detroit River to Bob-Lo Island and back again to the dock at the foot of Woodward Avenue in Detroit. The popular cruise attracts not only the metropolitan residents trying to escape from their normal routines but also the visitors wanting a river-front tour and recreation on the amusement island. There are moonlight cruises at 9 p.m. each day except Monday, and two each Saturday night. The cruises begin at 10 a.m.

Bob-Lo Offers Unusual Trip Out of U.S.

Each summer thousands of southeast Michigan residents and their visitors take a pleasure cruise out of the country without a passport or immigration inspection and return the same day.

The cruise is on the S.S. Columbia or the S.S. Ste Claire down the Detroit River to Bob-Lo Island.

★ ★ ★

The 240-acre Canadian island has amusement rides, historic tours, a restaurant and a souvenir shop. The cruise ships depart from the dock at the foot of Woodward Avenue in downtown Detroit.

The season will begin May 29th and run through Labor Day.

Boats leave at 10 and 11 a.m., 2, 4, 6 and 9 p.m. daily, although there is no 6 p.m. boat Fridays and no 9 p.m. cruise Mondays. There are moonlight sailings at 9 and 10 p.m. Saturdays.

The round trip costs $1.75 for adults (moonlights are $2) and 75 cents for children.

Some of the scenic highlights of the river trip are the Ambassador Bridge, Wyandotte Chemical and other river-front industries, Fort Wayne, the harbor terminal and the frequent Great Lakes and foreign steamers that pass.

In addition, the Bob-Lo boats themselves offer entertainment and refreshments during the cruise to and from the island.

Nova Scotia's Waters Paradise for Fishermen

Nowhere are Isaak Walton's brothers, cousins and even aunts happier than they are in Nova Scotia, for everywhere this province provides the heaven of all true anglers' dreams.

Each year sees a greater number of people holidaying in Nova Scotia, seemingly bent on discovering how rich their fishing luck can be in either fresh or salt water.

Nova Scotia, like a great doubled fist, hits out into the Atlantic where salt water fishing areas abound, and inland fresh water fishing spots can be found by the hundreds. Nor need you worry about trespassing on private streams. There are none.

Nova Scotia is of course ideal for salt-water fishing. Whether you want to bring home the scrappy pollock — likely to weigh anywhere between five and 35 pounds — or whether you wish to try your luck with the gigantic bluefin tuna and swordfish, they are all here, and will be pleased to meet you in a no-holds barred contest.

Early morning and evening are generally favored by the knowledgeable as the best times to fish for pollock. Tackle should be sturdy because pollock, after taking your lure, are battlers. They are likely to be found at almost any depth.

Tuna are truly big game fish, and even the best fishermen regard boating one the fighting climax of a career. Tuna fishing is not for the novice, though nearly every year the great bluefins are caught off nearby Wedgeport by people who have never trolled for them previously.

If you are seeking the game and high-spirited Atlantic salmon, Nova Scotia is the place to come. Salmon angling here is restricted to fly-fishing (the Silver Doctor, Jock Scott, Pink Lady and MacIntosh are favored wet and dry flies), and runs from early in June through July and August.

Splendid salmon streams — classics, indeed — are the Medway, LaHave, Moser's, Margaree (where a record 52½-pounder was taken) and North Rivers. A non-resident season's license costs five dollars. The daily limit is three salmon, and not more than 15 in any one week.

Of the many offerings of Nova Scotia's three thousand lakes, one hundred rivers, and brooks without number, few fish are more popular than the smallmouth bass. Best results are obtained by using live bait such as minnows or frogs, and bucktail and streamer flies.

Whether you go for rainbow trout on the Gaspereau River, or for browns on the Milford River, or sea trout in the St. Mary's, Nova Scotia, is the happiest of lands for the angler.

Lots of Water Attracts Boats to W. Michigan

Boats play a major role in western Michigan's vacation activities.

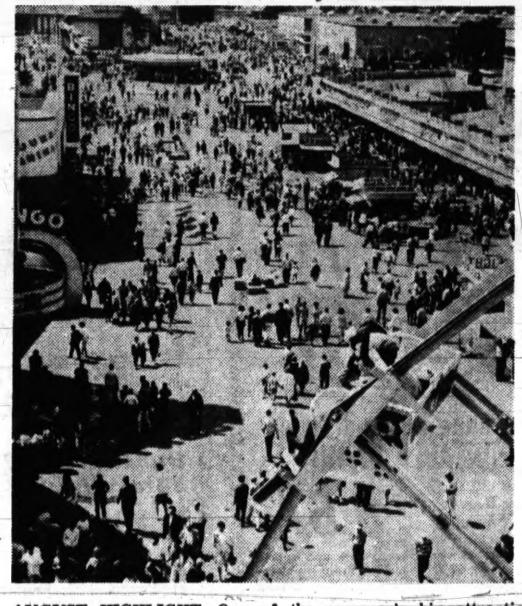
Whether the craft is motor-driven, rowed, paddled or sailed there's room for all with a 400-mile Lake Michigan coastline, some 3,500 inland lakes and more than 10,000 miles of streams and rivers.

★ ★ ★

The Lake Michigan coastline is broken by some 26 harbors with public or private boat facilities and in addition to these there are dozens of marinas for docking and servicing of all size craft on inland waters and many boat launching ramps.

Four of west Michigan's offshore holiday islands are reached only by boat or plane. The historic Manitou Islands are served by a ferry from Leland, Beaver Island is reached by a ferry and planes from Charlevoix and Mackinac Island is reached by ferries from Mackinac City.

Overall, Michigan ranks second in the United States in the number of outboard motors in use with a total of just under a half million.



AUGUST HIGHLIGHT—One of the summer's big attractions in the province of Ontario is the annual Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto. Numerous exhibits, name entertainment, amusements and refreshments lure thousands of visitors for the 17 days of the exhibition. This year's CNE will run August 19-September 5.

'Coordinate' Your Travel Apparel

By JEANNE NELSON

Selecting the right wardrobe for traveling this summer isn't nearly the problem it used to be. Variety needn't be sacrificed for lack of packing space with the new coordinated outfits now available.

Some come with as many as six different pieces to be worn in pairs, trios and separately. Each mix and match outfit affects its own "Total" look.

The addition of a colorful scarf (be sure to pack a number of these) will glamorize the most tailored dress or suit. Jewelry can do the same and both take up little space in a suitcase.

Stick to the basic colors for shoes, black, white and navy are good bets. Too, remember to take along a really comfortable pair for sightseeing.

WATCH CUSTOMS

Shifts (the variety is unlimited) will be comfortable and fresh looking for European sightseeing. Women in slacks are frowned upon.

The Arnel and linen knits that made their appearance last season are finding even more popularity this year and they come out of the suitcase ready to wear.

Avoid anything that isn't of the easy-care family. Long stretches at the ironing board cut into fun time.

Youngsters will probably need one "Sunday best" outfit but the bulk of their wardrobe should be made up of play clothes and changes of underwear. Bright little short shifts with matching shorts can even go to dinner with Mom and Dad at the restaurant.

For boys, the Ban-lon shirts are sure bets with a pair of permanently pressed slacks. Dad will find the same kind of comfort in his identical outfit.

Sweaters are an important part of the whole family's wardrobe. Most resort areas cool off after the sun goes down and the cardigan type sweater is a perfect foil for those evening lake breezes.

Beach wear is definitely impressed by the surfing crowd this season. Both his and hers outfits sport the lacings and contrasting waistbands that mark the look of surfer.

Sleepwear should also be geared to cool evenings in the north with special emphasis on the knit variety that packs easily and needs no ironing.

Swim caps are downright glamorous with their gay flowers everywhere and some can even be taken apart for an extra sleep cap to save a hairdo.

Usually one pair of white nylon gloves is sufficient since they wash and dry so quickly.

A good traveling companion is one of the portable hair dryers so wonderful for quick settings after day-long swimming along the beach. These dryers do double duty for use on hose, lingerie, sweaters and the like.

Collapsible drinking glasses can be carried in a handbag and don't forget that in some cases an attractive beach bag can be used for a purse. Make it a rule that double-duty items go along on the trip.

EASY LIVING — Women vacationers may find this new two-part look in leisure fashion just the thing. The pure wool knit has a straight-cut, lean line look briskly accented with yarn embroidery and is designed by Lee Herman of California.

Tips for Eating Out

Food's a Key Part of Travel

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Whether you go on vacation or stay at home, you have to eat. It's probably the most expensive habit we have.

★ ★ ★

There are ways to keep within the budget when you are on a trip and tips for eating out.

★ ★ ★

If you travel by plane or train, meals are no problem. But in this motor age, most families travel by car.

★ ★ ★

Even if good safety rules didn't tell you to stop every hour for a brief rest, you do it when you travel with children.

For such times it's wise to have vacuum bottles of water or fruit juice and crackers or cookies if you permit that type of snacking during the day.

That container of water in the car is always a good idea; not only does it take care of demands for a drink, but you have water for minor cleanup jobs.

★ ★ ★

With so many motels providing facilities for making instant coffee, it is possible to have your breakfast in your room before taking off for the day.

INSTANTS

With instant cocoa, the children can have a hot drink too. You can buy frozen orange juice the night before and reconstitute it with tap water in the morning. A package of sweet rolls completes the meal.

★ ★ ★

If you have a picnic refrigerator in the car, buy milk and have cereal for breakfast, too.

★ ★ ★

Picnic lunches are also the answer for children. You stop at a roadside park and let the young ones run off their excess energy. With that same picnic refrigerator, you can carry the makings for sandwiches and salad materials as well as fresh fruit.

★ ★ ★

You can obtain information on the area you intend to visit from oil companies, automobile clubs and paperback travel books. They usually indicate the types of restaurants and the prices.

We have found in the past that if we were in a strange town and did not know where to eat, we got good information from the policeman on the corner.

Once, at noon time, we inquired at the office of a real estate man, figuring he would know the area well. Owners of motels will often have suggestions too.

★ ★ ★

With children a cafeteria is ideal. You can buy just what they will eat without having to order a whole dinner and have part of it wasted. Places that serve family style are also good.

Part of traveling is having new experiences. This should extend to food.

If you can get the family to try something new — something that is typical of the area — it is fun. When you're in New England, you eat lots of seafood; if you go to Mexico, you try a few native dishes. We won't ever forget that we ate roast buffalo at Mt. Rushmore National Park.

★ ★ ★

When traveling, it is wise to eat lightly. Perhaps having five smaller meals instead of three full ones is better. You sit for long hours and may be uncomfortable after a big meal.

One more hint: There are times when you get to a town that does not have a good restaurant, only the local "greasy spoon." This calls for changing your usual menu.

Bacon and eggs are usually safe everywhere; a bad egg is apparent immediately and won't be served. Hash brown potatoes are nearly always all right; so is cole slaw, a cheese sandwich or pancakes.

★ ★ ★

Hamburger could be questionable. Steaks are OK, but they may be tough.

★ ★ ★

Shrug off the irritation such a situation causes, eat what you can and hope that tomorrow you'll hit a fabulous restaurant. It'll be worth the price, whatever it is.

Mexican Tour Lasts 10 Days

A ballet, bull fight and boat ride are highlights of a new 10-day tour of Mexico being offered by Camino Tours.

Designed for the first-time traveler to Mexico, the tour covers the popular "grand circuit": Mexico City, Cuernavaca, Taxco and Acapulco. English-speaking guides accompany the visitor on all sightseeing trips.

Features in Mexico City include a performance of the Folklore Ballet at the Palace of Arts, a reserved seat for the bull fight at Plaza Mexico, a boat ride on canals to the accompaniment of Mariachi music and a day exploring the ancient Aztec civilization, including the Pyramids of the Sun and Moon.

Other highlights: a visit to the Palace of Cortez in Cuernavaca, shopping in Taxco silver shops, and a yacht cruise in Acapulco.

Tour rates range from $205 to $254 through December 14, depending upon the category of hotel selected, and not including air transportation.

No Easy Description for Grand Canyon

Awesome, amazing, incredible, stupendous — these words can't aptly describe Grand Canyon National Park to any one person for it is no doubt true that no two people have ever seen this world's wonder in the same way.

★ ★ ★

The answer: see it for one's self.

A good base from which to start is Grand Canyon Lodge situated 8,100 feet above sea level at Bright Angel Point on the very North Rim of this Arizona Canyon, at the edge of the Kaibab National Forest.

From this base one can plant his feet on the rim or just sit on the veranda and let the Canyon work for him. From this lofty point one looks down upon an entire mountain range set within gigantic walls.

Couple this with the Canyon seen on rainy days, when three or four storms can be observed at one time with sometimes two or three rainbows arching across, and it is easy to realize that the color combinations are inexhaustible.

★ ★ ★

If you should wish variation, take the Union Pacific bus 11 miles to Point Imperial and then continue on to Cape Royal 17 miles further across Walhalla Plateau, stopping at other viewpoints on the way.

Mood of Past on File

Fifteen miles from the 20th century flurry of downtown Detroit, a mammoth indoor and outdoor display of Americana preserves the accomplishments and mood of the nation's yesterdays.

★ ★ ★

Greenfield Village and the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn make up one of Michigan's top vacation travel attractions and have welcomed more than 15 million visitors during the last 32 years.

Founded in 1929 by automobile pioneer Henry Ford, the Village and Museum are nonprofit institutions for preservation and display of technological, educational, and artistic milestones in the United States.

The outdoor Village covers some 200 acres and includes nearly 100 famous homes, workshops, mills, stores, laboratories, schools, and other historic structures.

The companion display to the outdoor Village is the 14-acre Henry Ford Museum. This indoor exhibition contains huge collections of decorative arts, a street of 22 Early American shops, and mechanical arts — with sections devoted to agriculture, crafts, industrial machinery, steam and electric power, communications, illumination and transportation.

The world's largest non-citrus fruit market is in Benton Harbor, Mich.

Cemetery a Civil War Reminder

Every year more than 150,000 American tourists are wending their way to the quiet 28 acres of magnolia trees, oaks, willows and rolling lawns which comprise the Andersonville (Ga.) National Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

Today the cemetery is a tranquil area of peace and solace visited principally by those who have a rekindled interest in the Civil War or those whose forefathers are buried here.

A century ago the adjoining area was the largest of the Confederate prison camps, crowded with three or four times as many soldiers as it was planned to house; rank with disease, sickness and death.

The Cemetery and Prison Park are located on Georgia Highway 49, an alternate route of the highly publicized Dixieland Trail. Andersonville is 10 miles south of Montezuma, the Peach and Mennonite country of Georgia.

Tourists find few signs or markers to direct them to these spots but they come nonetheless in increasing numbers each year. Soldiers of all wars are buried here—35 interred so far this year. The total now is 14,322.

Today visitors see the breastworks which were thrown up—yet in an excellent state of preservation. They see monuments erected by most of the Northern states in memory of their war dead. They see the tunnels which Federal prisoners dug with spoons, sticks or their hands.

THUNDERBOLT

MERCURY announces the first major breakthrough in outboard ignition in 50 years...

NOW—Spark plugs last seasons, not hours!

NOW—Preignition, even with highly leaded fuel, is unheard—and unheard of!

NOW—Engine efficiency and reliability are dramatically increased!

NOW—High-powered engines idle like fishing motors!

The new Thunderbolt ignition was invented and developed by Kiekhaefer engineers. It is a complete, fully integrated system that makes use of space-age, solid-state materials and technology to produce dramatically increased spark plug life and engine performance.

Thunderbolt is so named because its spark voltage impact far surpasses that of a conventional system—and because it produces this voltage in mere millionths of a second, many times faster than a conventional coil-and-battery system does.

Thunderbolt ignition fires the plugs so quickly that practically no energy is lost through leakage. Thus, it can fire plugs that are "fouled" by conventional ignition standards. And, because the triggering current required to discharge the capacitor (condenser) is so small, points are not nearly so subject to pitting and burning.

An integral part of the new Thunderbolt ignition system is Mercury's new Polar-Gap spark plug. Polar-Gap is a very "cold" plug: operating temperature of the electrodes and ceramic insulator is 800 to 1000 degrees cooler than conventional plugs. Consequently, deposits from the use of leaded fuels do not reach preignition temperature levels. Spark arcing area is considerably greater than that of a conventional plug—Polar-Gaps have a 360° electrode gap. This reduces the rate of electrode erosion, partially accounting for the greatly increased life of the Polar-Gap plug.

Thunderbolt's higher voltage spark just about eliminates low speed wet fouling or carbon fouling, while the very low operating temperature of the Polar-Gap plug ends fouling caused by lead deposits from automotive fuels.

And, Thunderbolt brings you a bonus of minimum interference with your radio and electronic equipment—only a single spark is produced.

The new Thunderbolt ignition is exclusive on the new 1966 six-cylinder Mercs 1100SS and 950SS. It makes them the most advanced outboards ever manufactured, offering performance, dependability and economy never before experienced in any high-horsepower outboard.

RAMP APPROACH AT CRANBROOK — The "Ramp of the Chinese Dog" in the center background serves as one of the many entrances to the 40 acres of Gardens of Cranbrook House, a peaceful, artistic scenic high point in Bloomfield Hills.

Cranbrook Has Artistic Lure

For those artistic - minded vacation visitors, area residents should consider a tour of the Gardens of Cranbrook House.

★ ★ ★

The gardens' 40 acres of formal and casual plantings, pine walks, cascades, statuary and the renowned Greek Theatre are open to visitors daily.

The attractive settings surround the home of the founders of Cranbrook Schools, the late Mr. and Mrs. George C. Booth.

Although there are no formal tours, booklets are sold that explain the layout of the gardens and provide information on the various features.

The guide books are 30 cents and on sale 2-5 p.m. weekdays and 10 a.m.-6 p.m. weekends at the sales desk in the Academy of Art Galleries.

The galleries' sales desk also sells admission tickets to the various booths on the school grounds Saturdays and Sundays.

Adult admissions are 50 cents except on weekends when they are 75 cents. Children are admitted for 25 cents at all times. The proceeds from the admissions benefit the scholarship funds of the Cranbrook institutions and also defray the cost of the gardens maintenance.

There is free parking both on the campus and across from the main entrance.

Old Land Newly Discovered

'Up Above'—Our Vacation Wilderness

They call it "Up Above," this upper peninsula of Michigan.

It's "up above" the lower peninsula, which, of course, is "down below."

It's a land of rough-hewn beauty and silent forests -- a wilderness vacationland singularly appealing to the urban traveler. It has the look of a land newly discovered, a land that was old when American frontiersmen pushed across the Alleghenies.

The peninsula's cities and villages are only a few minutes away from secluded lakes. There are cabins and camps on the trout streams but not so many as to spoil the atmosphere most trout fishermen prefer.

There are varied resort offerings, public campsites, and vast areas (83 percent) of unbroken forests. All in all, its an evergreen playground especially atractive to family-style vacationing.

A touring motorist can skim the peninsula in a day. Or he can spend weeks exploring the wonders of this expansive land.

CROSSING

Motorists driving through lower Michigan Bridge cross the historic Straits of Mackinac on the magnificent Mackinac Bridge to St. Ignace. Here is Michigan's second oldest settlement, the stepping-off place to outposts of the north for explorers of the 17th century and vacation explorers of the 20th century.

Off the eastern tip of the upper peninsula is Drummond Island which was the last outpost of the English on American soil. Today it is a popular sportsmen's retreat offering some of the best hunting and fishing in Michigan.

Along US-2, fifty miles north of the Straits is historic Sault Ste. Marie, first permanent Michigan settlement.

One of the busiest waterways in the world, the Soo Locks carry more annual ship tonnage than the Suez and Panama canals combined, and visitors by the thousands stop to view the giant freighters as they "lock through."

Highway M-28 cuts straight west through the "Hiawatha-land" of Longfellow legend to Munising.

But before going too far west, tourists in this area should visit the Tahquamenon Falls near Newberry.

Farther along on M-28 is Munising, originally the seat of the Ojibway Indian nation, then an iron furnace center and now a leader in paper production.

Beyond is Marquette, gateway to the Marquette iron range.

★ ★ ★

The drive back toward St. Ignace on US-2 is one of the most beautiful in Michigan. Mile after mile of sandy beach skirts the highway before the aquamarine backdrop of mighty Lake Michigan, and here and there a quiet fishing village beckons.

And, as elsewhere in Michigan upper pensinula highways are liberally sprinkled with roadside parks.

Union Street Reflects Era

San Francisco has been enhanced in recent years by the imaginative redevelopment of some of its most historic quarters.

★ ★ ★

Such a district is outer Union Street. Once a part of "Cow Hollow," the city's thriving dairyland in post-Gold Rush days, the neighborhood is now a thriving shopping sector with a turn-of-the-century flavor.

★ ★ ★

The new "Union Street" folder, a walking guide published by the San Francisco Convention & Visitors Bureau, contains a block-by-block directory of shops, galleries, restaurants and sites of historical interest. For a free copy, write to the Bureau at 1375 Market Street, San Francisco, California 94103.

Mackinaw City Plots Massacre

Fort Michilimackinac Will Reopen May 28

The fourth annual Re-enactment of the Massacre at Fort Michilimackinac, will be May 28-30 at the exact location of the history-making events of 1763, and will again be directed by drama experts from Michigan State University.

★ ★ ★

One hundred townspeople from Mackinaw City at the approach to the Mackinac Bridge are preparing their costumes and studying the action for the lively spectacle which may attract 25,000 people to the Straits of Mackinac.

The village has a tremendous historical asset to start with. The state has rebuilt Fort Michilimackinac in the exact form and location it had in the year of the massacre. Every building is authentic.

More than 150,000 adults and school children visited its extensive exhibits in 1965, and it will open for the season this May 28.

In 1959 reconstruction began, based on extensive excavations and researches into old records. Some building is still proceeding, as exacting studies make complete accuracy possible.

All accommodations and restaurants will be open for the summer season, promising ample housing in the surrounding area.

Heavy Increase Noted in Sanitary Stations

The establishment of sanitary stations to provide sewage disposal facilities for self-contained travel trailer units continues to increase at an amazing rate, and with the ever-increasing popularity of recreational vehicles, the end appears nowhere in sight.

Prior to 1962, only one sanitary station existed in the United States; today there are more than 1,500 in 48 states and six Canadian provinces.

These stations have been listed in a Sanitary Stations Guide, published by the Travel Trailer Division of the Mobile Homes Manufacturers Association available from MHMA at 25 cents per copy.

FATAL CAR — A Pontiac man, Fred Summers, 41, of 806 Orlando, died this morning at Pontiac General Hospital following a head-on crash on Kennett near Hollywood about 1:30 a.m. A passenger in his car was injured, as was the other driver, Alvin Slusher of Waterford Township.

Area Accidents Kill Girl, Man

A 12-year-old Oxford Township girl was killed last night and a Pontiac man fatally injured early today in area traffic accidents.

The victims are Phyllis Heichel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Heichel, 1955 Lakeville; and Fred Summers, 41, of 806 Orlando.

The youngster was struck by a car driven by Norman J. Bertram of Yale as she was crossing Washington street in Oxford in front of the Oxford Theater.

Her body is at the Flumerfelt Funeral Home, Oxford.

Another girl, Gloria Wright, 17, of 10½ Stanton, was also hit but was treated and released from Pontiac General Hospital.

Bertram was being held in the Oakland County Jail pending his questioning by Oxford Police.

★ ★ ★

Police said that after the girls were struck Bertram did not immediately stop, but returned to the scene after he had circled the block.

Bertram was passing another car when the accident happened about 9:30 p.m., according to Oxford police.

Summers' car collided head-on with an auto driven by Alvin Slusher, 30, of 7228 Ideal Terrace, Waterford Township, on Kennett near Hollywood about 1:35 a.m. today.

He was pronounced dead in the emergency room at Pontiac General Hospital less than two hours afterward.

A passenger in Summer's car, 18-year-old Earl Summers of 913 Boston, Waterford Township, was being held at the hospital for observation this morning. Slusher was treated and released.

Jewel Robbery at Area Home

Farmington Twp. Job Worth Over $40,000

A Farmington Township woman was robbed of between $40,000-$65,000 in jewelry yesterday by a gunman who forced his way into her home.

The victim was Mrs. Markus Rohtbart, 31550 Franklin Fairway, the wife of a Detroit businessman, according to Farmington Township Police Chief Irving Yakes.

Yakes said the robber went to the Rohtbart home as an air-conditioning serviceman.

After forcing Mrs. Rohtbart to a bedroom where the jewelry was stored, he shut her in a closet while he made his getaway.

A maid, Ida Jones of Detroit, telephoned police.

Mrs. Rohtbart described the bandit as between 24-30 years old, six foot tall, 160 pounds with reddish brown hair. He wore a light cap with a brim.

Area 2-Year-Old Is Found Drowned

A 2-year-old Addison Township boy wandered from his home yesterday afternoon and drowned in nearby Lakeville Lake.

The victim was Daniel Winterton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Darryl Winterton of 582 Lakeville.

The boy's body was discovered floating in the lake by Ray Myers of 733 Manotic, Addison Township, about 10 feet off shore in six feet of water.

Mrs. Winterton told sheriff's deputies she first noticed her son missing at about 2:30. The child was pronounced dead an hour, later.

Five-Week-Old Boy Kidnaped, Abandoned

VENTURA, Calif. (UPI)—Police today sought a kidnaper who took a five-week-old boy from his home Thursday night, left a $15,000 ransom note, and then abandoned the infant unharmed two hours later.

The baby, Richard Gentile, was found in a cardboard box outside the emergency room of Conejo Valley Hospital. Doctors said he was in good physical condition.

May GM Sales 'Looking Up,' Says Roche

Stockholders Hear Donner Report Good Long-Range Outlook

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors car sales, which dipped in the opening 10 days of May, appear to be "looking up a bit" in the second 10 days.

That was the word from General Motors President James M. Roche yesterday in a brief interview after the GM annual shareholders meeting.

Board Chairman Frederic G. Donner told some 1,800 stockholders at the four-hour meeting, "We will have our pauses and possibly our dips" in sales but he said GM's long-range sales outlook was good.

Donner predicted that the U.S. market, which absorbed 10.5 million cars and trucks in 1965, would reach the 13 million figure by 1975.

GM confirmed rumors that its 1967 line of cars would be introduced a wek or two earlier than 1966 models.

PRIVATE DETECTIVES

Stockholders centered much of their questioning on the March disclosure that GM had hired private detectives to shadow auto industry critic Ralph Nader.

Roche admitted the incident in a recent appearance before the Ribicoff senate subcommittee probing auto safety. He apologized to Nader and to Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, D-Conn.

In answer to questions from Mrs. Wilma Soss of New York, president of the Federation of Women Shareholders in American Business, Donner said he had no knowledge of the spying incident until it broke in the press.

Stadium Plan for Detroit Told

Cost at Fair Site Is Put at $50-60 Million

DETROIT (AP)— A committee of the Michigan State Fair Authority revealed yesterday it has worked up a plan for a 65,000-seat stadium at the fairgrounds here, to cost an estimated $50 million to $60 million.

★ ★ ★

"We have been working quietly for 2½ years and have completed all the necessary studies," said Alfred R. Glancy, chairman of the authority's development committe.

He spoke at a meeting of a similar committee set up by Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh.

"The stadium design is completed," Glancy said. "We have our sights set on a 65,000-seat stadium with parking facilities for 20,000 cars.

★ ★ ★

"It hasn't been decided whether the stadium will be domed," he said. "A dome can add 50 per cent to the cost. We will build either with the dome or with the idea of putting it on the future."

The stadium would be built by the fair authority.

Anti-Viet Display Clouds LBJ Phone Talk to UAW

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — A group of 25 anti-Viet Nam war demonstrators unfurled their banners in the balcony of the Long Beach Arena last night just as President Johnson began a speech by telephone from the White House to the United Auto Workers' convention.

The demonstrators stole the show.

Most of the 2,500 delegates and their wives watched the drama throughout Johnson's speech, in which he declared that the nation's economy depends neither upon war spending nor the stock market.

"Ours isn't a roller coaster economy any more," the President said.

The UAW convention — being held near Watts, scene of racial unrest in Los Angeles — was also told by the President that "this is the time for bridges to be built, not for antagonisms to be aroused."

SURROUNDED

The demonstrators, most of whom identified themselves as students at the University of California at Los Angeles, were surrounded by about 40 delegates and a nearly equal number of UAW officials, trying to calm down their members.

The first banner appeared just before Johnson spoke.

As the delegates booed the demonstrators, UAW President Walter Reuther told them: "This is a democracy. They have the right to dissent, even if they are wrong. Let them stay."

Market Turns Bullish; Bears Take Goring

NEW YORK (AP) — The badly mauled Wall Street bull began to show a few signs of life this week and got in a few licks against his enemy, the bear.

It was the first time in three weeks that the stock market had been able to show two clear-cut rallies in a week. Still the market showed a loss based on most indicators, its fourth straight.

Thanks to selective gains by some of its 30 stocks, however, the Dow Jones industrial average emerged with a gain of .78 at 870.89. It was the first advance in a four-week stretch which saw weekly losses mounting to 20 and 30 points in the Dow.

It has been a bear (or declining) market since Feb. 9 when the Dow industrials reached their historic peak of 955.15 and began sliding.

★ ★ ★

By the end of last Tuesday's sesison, the average had sunk 131.01 points, closing at 864.14.

★ ★ ★

The next day the market put on its biggest rally in 11 months.

To Strike Back if Fired On by Rebel Troops

Da Nang Shooting Hurts 15 GIs; Base Near City Is Shelled

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The United States warned Buddhist leaders today that American troops will strike back in case of further shelling of U.S. installations by Buddhist-backed rebel troops.

The warning was delivered by American consular representatives in Hue to Thich Tri Quang, a powerful Buddhist monk in the rebellious northern province.

American sources said Tri Quang repeated his demands for U.S. pressure to oust the military government of Premier Nguyen Cao Ky.

The American representatives met Tri Quang shortly after rebel fire in the embattled city of Da Nang injured 15 U. S. servicemen and after rebel troops fired mortars at the U. S. air base near the city.

★ ★ ★

American military sources said they felt none of the attacks were deliberate but exposed American servicemen to additional danger.

CALLED CONGRESS

As Ky's air force bombed rebel forces in Da Nang and riot police clashed with more than 5,000 Buddhist demonstrators in Saigon, Ky called a "civilian-military national people's congress" meeting for next Tuesday in an effort to end the strife.

The congress is supposed to represent a cross-section of the country's political factions and is to discuss the ways of stabilizing the situations before the Sept. 11 election for a constituent assembly.

Saigon had another antigovernment demonstration today. Riot police hurled tear-gas grenades and dispersed a crowd of about 1,000 Buddhist youths.

★ ★ ★

The demonstrators chanted slogans against the military junta and burned giant posters with caricatures of Ky and Chief of State Nguyen Van Thieu. Some carried antigovernment banners.

Yellow-clad monks guided the crowd into the grounds of the Vien Hoa Dao Buddhist Institute as steel-helmeted officers cleared the streets.

Students Take Draft Exams Amid Protests

WASHINGTON (AP) Some 250,000 college students file into campus auditoriums and study halls today to take draft deferment tests as sporadic demonstrations against the Selective Service system continue across the nation.

This is the second of the three hour, 150-question examinations designed to help local draft boards determine which students, if any, will be called into the armed services.

Some 400,000 young men took the test last weekend at 1,200 colleges and universities in the 50 states, Puerto Rico and the Panama Canal Zone. Thousands more students are expected to be tested on June 3 and June 24.

As preparations for today's tests were being completed, antidraft demonstrations were reported from Brooklyn to Chicago to Wisconsin and California.

These were the major developments on the demonstration front:

Millage 'Fair Play'

Officials of several Oakland County school districts yesterday appealed to the County Tax Allocation Board for "fair play" with the schools in apportioning millage.

The school officials spoke at a hearing on the preliminary allocation of 15.18 mills set last Monday.

Allocation board members then took one tenth mill from the schools and gave it to the county government. This represents about $270,000 in property tax revenue.

School representatives who spoke at the hearing were unanimous in citing the significance of the loss of one tenth mill.

★ ★ ★

Dana P. Whitmer, Supt. of Pontiac Schools, said that the millage adjustment means a loss of $42,000 to Pontiac Schools and that this will impair the system's capacity to carry out its program.

MADE APPEAL

Whitmer then appealed to the board to reinstate the one tenth mill when it sets the final allocation of millage to school districts, townships and the county next Wednesday.

Gerald V. Harrison, Supt. of Farmington Schools, made a similar plea and commented that the 15-mill limitation was provided in the "horse and buggy days" and no longer is sufficient to meet needs of the three governmental units.

The allocation board is exceeding the limitation slightly as it did last year.

★ ★ ★

The State Constitution allows that when a governmental unit within a county overlaps another county line, the highest available millage may be used.

FIVE COUNTIES

Oakland County Schools, the Intermediate school district, extends into five surrounding counties.

The North Oxford School District in both Lapeer and Oakland counties is served by the Oakland intermediate school district.

Since it requires only 6.93 mills of a possible 9.60, excess millage is available.

George W. Coombe, Jr., president of the Birmingham Board of Education, presented the most lengthy argument in behalf of the schools yesterday.

In citing growing needs of school systems, he pointed out that more and more former non-public school students will be entering public schools and that the increased bargaining power of teachers, made available by the legislature, is certain to push salaries upward.

Living Costs Squeeze Public

Lower Pay Checks Increase Pressure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Americans are stretching the already strained family budget even tighter with a sharp new rise in living costs. At the same time millions of breadwinners are bringing home smaller paychecks.

Latest government reports show living costs climbed faster for this time of year than in any similar period since the Korean War, while manufacturing cutbacks sliced the average pay of some 14 million factory workers.

★ ★ ★

The Labor Department said prices for food, clothing, housing, transportation, medical care, recreation, and other living costs went up four-tenths of 1 per cent in April, the third straight substantial rise in the monthly consumer price index.

There was no direct word from the White House on whether the developments might trigger some action, hinted at earlier by President Johnson, to raise taxes or drastically revise his wage-price guidelines aimed at halting inflation.

ECONOMY FREE

But in a speech telephoned Friday night to a United Auto Workers convention in Long Beach, Calif., Johnson said the nation's economy does not depend on the stock market, which has been erratic of late, or on war spending.

★ ★ ★

He said it is time to "start thinking more soberly and realistically about the fact that ours isn't a roller coaster economy any more." This was one of a number of generalized suggestions the President made after asserting the nation "must go on a new agenda."

PRICE INDEX

The price index, at 112.5, showed it took $11.25 to buy items that cost $10 in the 1957-59 period on which the figure is based.

Since January, the Labor Department reported Friday, living costs have gone up 1.4 per cent, the largest increase for that period since 1951. It was matched only once before in any three-month period, in 1958.

★ ★ ★

Higher costs for consumer services — including medical care, excise taxes, mortgage interest rates, auto insurance, barbers, baby sitters and beauty shops — were largely to blame for the April increase.

Food prices, frequently the major factor in the past year of steadily climbing living costs, nearly leveled off with a hike of only one-tenth of 1 per cent, the smallest since last fall.

They said they would be joined later by other students in efforts to disrupt administration of the tests.

And in protest to the protestors, some 350 Stanford students demonstrated in front of President J.E. Wallace Sterling's office.

● At Brooklyn College in New York, a 24-hour sit-in was conducted against use of the college's facilities for the draft exams.

● At Madison, Wis., a five-day student demonstration against the University of Wisconsin policy toward the draft ended quietly with students pledging to continue a campaign to persuade the faculty to approve a change in the practice of furnishing class rank to draft boards.

Gunman Robs Service Station in Pontiac Twp.

A bandit held up Jerry's Citgo Service, 3450 E. Walton, Pontiac Township, this morning and escaped with $90 and change.

The attendant, Jerry Shetler of 772 Predmore, Oakland Township, told sheriff's deputies the holdup man was carrying a pistol.

★ ★ ★

Shetler said the man, wearing a nylon stocking over his head and a pair of gloves, told him he would blow his head off if he tried anything.

The intruder forced Shetler into a restroom, and ripped off the telephone wiring before escaping with the money from the cash register.

Jimmy the Chimp Has Swinging Fun

FRANKFURT, Germany (AP)—Jimmy the Chimp bit his keeper and escaped from Frankfurt's zoo today with two of his wives.

The girls, Uschi and Cooky, returned voluntarily after a terrified look at rush-hour traffic. A narcotic dart ended Jimmy's escape two hours later.

★ ★ ★

Police said the chimp visited a fire station, stole some apples from a grocery and scaled a seven-story apartment building before zoo officials caught up with him and tranquilized him.

Heart Pump Placed in Woman Patient

NEW YORK (AP) — Doctors at Brooklyn's Maimonides Hospital have implanted an artificial heart pump in a woman, the Daily News reported today. The newspaper said the patient was in good condition.

★ ★ ★

The surgery was done Wednesday by a team headed by Dr. Adrian Kantrowitz, a heart specialist who performed a similar operation at the hospital last February. That patient died a day later because of a liver disease.

Neither Kantrowitz nor hospital officials would comment on the latest surgery.

"We are under orders not to talk about the operation," said one hospital source.

PLASTIC PUMP

The News said the device used in the operation was a plastic pump designed to relieve the heart of work by bypassing the left ventricle, the chamber which pumps blood through the body.

Kantrowitz was an early developer of the implantable cardiac Pacemaker, which is used to stimulate heart action.

★ ★ ★

In Houston, Tex., the second man to receive an artificial heart pump within a month at Methodist Hospital died Friday. The plastic pump had been placed in the chest of Walter L. McCans, 61, of Woodinville, Wash., Tuesday.

A hospital advisory said McCans' heart condition seemed satisfactory and that persistent lung bleeding caused his death.

RUPTURED LUNG

Marcel L. DeRudder, 65, of Wesville, Ill., the first man to use the type of pump employed in McCans' case, died of a ruptured left lung April 26, five days after the operation.

McCans, a retired Navy man, had a long history of heart attacks. The pump assisted his damaged heart only about 27 hours. It was removed Wednesday.

In contrast, the pump remained in DeRudder's chest until he died.

Sales Picture Better - Roche

of New York, another familiar figure at stockholders' meetings, out of order when she asked why GM had not fired its general counsel, Aloysius F. Power, as an aftermath of the Nader incident. She suggested Sen. Ribicoff should be given Power's job.

NUMBER OF LAWSUITS

Donner said no one had disagreed about the legal right of the company to investigate Nader's background in view of the fact that his attacks on the safety status of GM's Chevrolet Corvair had preceded a number of lawsuits filed against GM.

Donner added, however, that there had been some questions as to the ethics of the investigation of Nader.

"GM's apology as delivered by Mr. Roche was not hypocritical or rhetorical but was most sincere," he said, adding, "Steps have been taken so that no such incident will happen again. An error was made but it was an honest error in the spirit of protecting GM in a very serious situation."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Davis nominated Nader for a seat on GM's 25 - man board of directors but he was snowed under as the management slate piled up over 232 million votes each while Nader got otly Mrs. Davis's 217 votes.

STOCK SPLIT

Donner said in his opening remarks that the question of a possible GM stock split "continues to receive the closest attention from the board of directors."

He added, "If and when we reach a decision we will have a recommendation to you stockholders for action." Donner indicated there was no such action in the offing.

Donner, asked if GM had any plans to cut its capital expenditures in view of President Johnson's plea for business to slow down on some expansion programs, replied:

"We have reviewed our expenditures in the last three months and I would anticipate that we would rephase some projects and slow them down.

★ ★ ★

"However, we are not going to do anything to affect our plans for plant production and capacities. I expect we will spend money at a little slower rate but I can not anticipate how much."

The prepared texts of both Donner and Roche dealt mainly with the past and future business of GM, rather than with the immediate present.

Area Group Launches Program and Service

A political action program and an escort service were put into effect this week by the Birmingham-Bloomfield Committee on Open Occupancy.

The political action program is designed to acquaint legislators and political parties with open occupancy needs in Michigan, according to John C. Palms, committee chairman.

The escort service will assist, contact and encourage prospective Negro home buyers. The plan is to encourage area realtors to offer Negro buyers equal treatment, Palms said.

Subcommittees were formed to implement both programs.

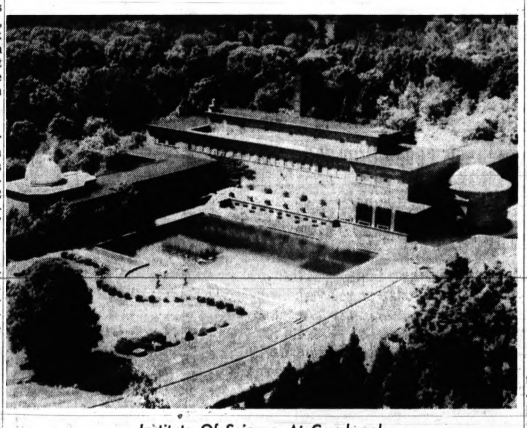
The political action subcommittee will direct its attention to political organizations and visiting candidates of Oakland County and Michigan, encouraging legislation on open occupancy.

Girl Listed Critical; Leaped From Building

A 19-year-old Avon Township girl was in critical condition at Pontiac General Hospital after jumping from the ninth floor of the 10-story Riker Building this morning.

Pontiac police identified her as Sandra Billington, 3735 Crooks.

She landed on top of an automobile parked in a courtyard on the west side of the building, according to police.



Institute Of Science At Cranbrook

Cranbrook Seeks $4 Million for Science

A campaign to raise $4 million of endowment funds for Cranbrook Institute of Science, Bloomfield Hills, has been announced by James A. Beresford, chairman of the board of trustees.

Beresford said the money will go toward student scholarships, research in biology, conservation and midwest archeology, support for the Visiting Scientists program, purchase of scientific specimens and salary improvements.

He pointed out that some of the capital needs are development of the physics hall, the atomarium and replacement of the planetarium instrument.

Donald N. Frey, a vice president of the Ford Motor Co. and general manager of the Ford Division, will be chairman of the original phase of the campaign, which will raise the first $2 million.

★ ★ ★

The campaign will include solicitation of the Cranbrook trustees, industrial firms, endowment foundations and individuals.

PAST SUPPORT

The Institute of Science has been supported in the past by funds supplied primarily by the Cranbrook Foundation.

Beresford said the Institute will continue to receive some support from the Foundation but that its ability to fund the operations of the Institute has not kept pace with rising costs and demands for varied programs occasioned by the many advances in the natural sciences.

Teachers Seek Sanctions on District in Pay Dispute

BIRMINGHAM — Teachers of the Birmingham School District have asked the Michigan Education Association to impose sanctions against the school district unless an agreement is reached on salaries for the 1966-67 school year.

Don Cameron, president of the Birmingham Education Associations are sought in addition to the association's threat to refuse to sign contracts this fall with the Birmingham School District.

If sanctions are imposed, the MEA would inform its 76,000 members that teaching in the Birmingham school system is "undesirable."

"The teachers are going to take their case to the community," Cameron said. "There has been no time to plan our course of action but we definitely feel citizens of Birmingham should know how the teachers feel about it."

Workers May Close Incinerator, Land-Fill

A union, whose members operate a garbage incinerator and a land-fill for 14 south Oakland County communities, has been ordered to show cause Monday in Circuit Court why it should not be prohibited from striking.

The order was signed yesterday by Judge Frederick C. Ziem against the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes, AFL-CIO, its Metropolitan Council No. 23 and Local 574.

The order was requested by the Southeastern Oakland County Incinerator Authority, established by 14 communities to dispose of waste materials.

The Authority said that if the union went on strike, approximately 346,000 persons living in the 14 cities would be endangered because of the health hazard caused by the failure to dispose of the garbage.

★ ★ ★

It said the incinerator and land-fill operates on a 24-hour basis in disposing of some 600 tons of garbage, rubbish and refuse daily.

OPERATION SITES

The incinerator is located at 29470 John R, Madison Heights and the land-fill operation is at 1741 School Road, Avon Township.

The authority said the union announced that it would strike after contract negotiations collapsed Thursday.

The communities that are members of the Authority include Birmingham, Troy, Beverly Hills, Berkley, Clawson, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Huntington Woods, and Lathrup Village.

Others are Madison Heights, Oak Park, Pleasant Ridge, Royal Oak and Royal Oak Township.

Doctors Unable to Find Cause of Girl's Sneezes

ANN ARBOR (UPI)—Doctors at the University Hospital here said yesterday that they haven't been able to discover why a 12-year-old Southfield girl has been sneezing every few seconds since May 9.

Carol Ryckman was taken to the hospital by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ryckman, after local physicians said they were stumped by the sneezing spell which is about three sneezes every five seconds.

The girl's father said he has received many suggestions on a cure which ranged from "using camphor to bringing crickets into the house." Mrs. Ryckman, who was at her daughter's side, said Carol hasn't been able to eat an entire meal since the sneezing began and was pretty weak.

Suspect Shot Near Scene of Troy Burglary

A Troy man was being held today in the Oakland County Jail after being shot by Troy police while fleeing the scene of a burglary early this morning.

Police said they would seek a burglary warrant today against Kenneth Williams, 24, of 510 Troywood, and another suspect, Charles W. Cormendy, 23, of 26684 Park, Madison Heights.

Cormendy was arrested by Birmingham police a block away from the break-in at the Interstate Vending Corp., Maple and Coolidge, Troy.

Williams was wounded in the hand by a shotgun blast after he allegedly refused to halt on police orders. He was treated at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak.

★ ★ ★

Police arrived on the scene in response to a burglary alarm at the firm, where they found a hole knocked out in the side of the building.

New Miss USA May Win by an Eyelash

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — The winner of the 1966 Miss USA beauty pageant could be decided by an eyelash.

That is the view of makeup artists who are prettying up some of the girls with false eyelashes, taboo in previous pageants.

* * *

The 15 girls still in the running for the Miss Universe tiara and the $5,000 first prize money all wore false eyelashes in the semifinals, said Sheelagh Clarke, pageant makeup consultant.

"This is an unusually lovely group of girls, and such things as pretty eyelashes blending with natural beauty could tip the scales for someone," said another makeup expert.

OFFER ADVICE

Miss Clarke of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., said: "We see to it that the false lashes are not too artificial-looking. We advise the girls not to wear exaggerated eyelashes, but some that bring out their beauty. The eyelashes are carefully trimmed and feathered."

A "glowing outdoor look," Miss Clarke said, is emphasized in this year's pageant makeups.

* * *

Clean faces are needed as a foundation for this, she said.

"Many don't clean their faces thoroughly," she noted. "The foreign girls have better complexions, on the whole, than the Americans."

GLAMOUR PARADE

A full cast will appear on tonight's glamour parade, to be televised nationally. On the stage will be the 15 finalists, 34 state queens eliminated in the semifinals, the reigning Miss Universe, who is Apasra Hongsakula of Thailand; and Miss USA, Sue Ann Downey of Ohio.

Eight judges will select the new Miss USA and four runners-up from these finalists:

Pat Denne, Connecticut; Sue Counts, District of Columbia; Roselaine Zetter, Maryland; Nancy Brackett, Massachusetts; Nancie Self, New York.

Roxanne Neeley, Arizona; Maria Remenyi, California; Judy Wolski, Hawaii; Denice Blair, Utah.

High School Career Over for Youth in a Wheelchair

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—William Wood, a 17-year-old Manton youth, is an enthusiastic fisherman, was a successful deer hunter last fall and is popular with his classmates at Mesick High School.

He received his diploma Friday ahead of time—in a bed at Osteopathic Hospital in Traverse City.

* * *

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wood lost the use of his legs at age 7 in an auto accident. His mother says he makes his way about with crutches and braces or with a wheelchair. "At one time," she says, "he played trumpet in the high school marching band. Fellow bandsmen pushed him along."

HIP INFECTION

William received his diploma early because he was admitted to the hospital May 6 for treatment of a chronic hip infection. He is expected to be there when the school holds its regular graduation exercises.

The youth plans to be out in time to enter Northwestern Michigan College at Traverse City for the fall term. He hopes to study for a career in radio and television announcing.

"He got started on that idea back in the third grade when he called a couple square dances," says his mother. "He recently was a narrator for some of the school gym shows."

Mets' Ron Hunt Continues to Plague Giants

By the Associated Press Headaches?

Ron Hunt probably gave Herman Franks another one but Milt Pappas' probably cleared one of Don Heffner's.

★ ★ ★

Hunt, the New York Mets' scrappy second baseman, continued to shell Franks' pitching staff Friday night, collecting 2 singles and a homer and driving in five runs in a 7-5 victory over San Francisco that sent the Giants down to their fifth loss in the last six games.

JAY STARTS

At Cincinnati, Pappas showed up at the ball park with a headache, so Heffner tapped Joey Jay to start for the Reds. He worked like an aspirin tablet on Heffner, probably pitching himself back into the starting rotation in a 5-3 victory over St. Louis.

Elsewhere Mack Jones hit two homers in a five-homer attack that gave Atlanta a 12-2 victory over the Chicago Cubs, Pittsburgh belted Los Angeles 7-3 and Philadelphia edged Houston 6-5 in 10 innings.

The Giants trailed 4-2 in the sixth inning when, after 29 straight singles since last Sunday's game against the Mets, they finally found the power button with solo homers by Jim Hart and Ollie Brown. But in the eighth, John Stephenson and Ed Bressoud singled and Hunt tagged Lindy McDaniel for his game-winner.

HOMERS HELP

The Reds collected all their runs on homers, Johnny Edwards hitting a three-run shot in the fifth inning and Tommy Helms and Deron Johnson collecting solo homers in the fifth and sixth, respectively. Bill McCool preserved Jay's fourth victory against two defeats, ending the Cardinals eighth inning rally by striking out Jerry Buchek.

★ ★ ★

The Pirates put it out of reach against the Dodgers by belting Don Sutton for five first inning runs. Willie Stargell's two-run double was the big blow. Roberto Clemente, Donn Clendenon and Bill Mazeroski each singled in one run during the uprising. Jeff Torborg accounted for two Dodger runs with a homer.

The Astros built a 5-1 lead with the help of homers by Felix Mantilla and John Bateman, but the Phillies tied it in the eighth with a four-run rally capped by Johnny Callison's two-run single. In the 10th, pinch hitter Harvey Kuenn doubled and eventually scored on a sacrifice fly by Cookie Rojas.

Champ in First Defense

NEW YORK (AP) — Jose Torres, who promised to be a fighting champion when he dethroned Willie Pastrano 14 months ago, makes the first defense of his light heavyweight title tonight against Wayne Thornton in outdoor Shea Stadium.

Although he has had only one fight since stopping Pastrano in the ninth round, the 30-year-old New Yorker is a 7-5 favorite over the body bombing, 26-year-old challenger from Fresno, Calif.

STARTING FAST

"I'm going right after him and he knows it," said Thornton, the No. 1 contender. "I've been waiting a long time for this chance and I'm not going to blow it now. I'm confident I'll beat him and I think I've got a real good chance to take him out.

★ ★ ★

"He'll have his hands high in that peek-a-boo defense of his but I'll go to his body early and he'll get those gloves down. Then I'll go for his head."

"This fight won't go over six rounds," Torres said. "I will have no excuse if I lose but I'm not going to lose."

The 15-rounder is scheduled to start at 10:30 p.m., EDT.

Maybe it's illegal . . . Maybe it's outlawed
But with results like this . . . WHO CARES!

Banned from the tracks by every major oil company, (yet used by such large fleet owners as Avis, General Electric and RCA) comes here at last is the full story behind science's new miracle-invention that gives you up to 500 miles of driving from a single tank of gas — saves you up to 50 gallons of gas each month — up to $200 on gas each year!

In fact, when it was first tested on the same proving grounds and in the same test-laboratories used by Ford, GM and Chrysler . . . results were so overwhelming that nation-wide press releases by America's leading automotive authorities immediately hailed this great new breakthrough!

6 months ago, for perhaps the first time in history, the United States Government issued patent protection to an invention that has been classified ILLEGAL! Sound strange? Not really . . . here's why:

I'm sure you're familiar with the famous gasoline-economy tests run by all major oil companies. Well, do you know that the remarkable new invention described on this page is actually banned from these tests because it is TOO EFFECTIVE! Do you know that because this invention saves so much gasoline . . . because it gives so much economy, it is actually ILLEGAL for a test-driver to fit one on his car? And do you know that because it boosts gasoline mileage up to 11 more miles per gallon . . . it is actually outlawed in every recognized cross-country economy test . . . simply because the officials who conduct these tests have been forced to rule that it gives all cars that have it AN UNFAIR ADVANTAGE!

In other words if you are a person planning on entering one of these cross-country economy runs — then this message is not for you. YOU JUST WON'T BE ALLOWED TO USE THIS NEW INVENTION — SORRY, BUT IT'S SIMPLY ILLEGAL. But — if you are interested in getting more miles per gallon than you ever dreamed possible — and doing it the very same way that many of America's leading corporations are doing at this very moment — then what you are about to read is perhaps the most thrilling and exciting news in automotive history!

LEADING DIGEST REPORTS BIG AUTOMOTIVE BREAKTHROUGH

Recently, scientists at one of the world's leading oil companies discovered a new way to save as much as 35 gallons a month on the gasoline your car burns. Working in complete secrecy for over 15 years, these men had been assigned to find out once and for all just how much mileage could actually be coaxed from an automobile engine.

After thousands upon thousands of experiments, they discovered that by simply feeding the gasoline to the engine in a new and different way they were able to get as much as 34 miles or more from every gallon of gas.

So revolutionary was this breakthrough that the Digest featured the sensational news NOT ONCE . . . but in two separate issues — AND THAT WAS ONLY THE BEGINNING; because when another group of experts took this "forced-feeding" concept . . . altered it . . . tested it . . . and improved it even more . . . they boosted gasoline mileage to a staggering 36% on 7 and 8-year-old cars . . . and as much as 61% on later model cars.

What you see on this page is the full, thrilling story behind this new wonder-invention . . . and how you, too, may obtain up to 7, 9 even 11 more miles per gallon . . . and do it without changing a single part on your car!

NOW GET UP TO 11 MORE MILES PER GALLON

The name of this great new invention is the GT ENERGY CHAMBER . . . and there is no better way to describe to you the increased performance and economy it will give you . . . than to tell you of the "bombshell effect" it had on research scientists and test-drivers, who simply refused to believe their own gasoline gauges when they first tried it out. Look:

CUTS GASOLINE COSTS TO AS LITTLE AS 10 A MILE

1. When the GT Energy Chamber was first tested by the same research laboratories used by Ford, General Motors and Chrysler . . . results were so overwhelming, (a staggering increase of up to 67 per cent) . . . it actually lowered gasoline costs to as little as one cent a mile!

2. When test cars from HERTZ and AVIS were equipped with this incredible money-saving invention . . . and then test-run on the road and on such world-famous proving grounds as the Indianapolis Speedway . . . the test-drivers of these vehicles were absolutely amazed to see these big 8-cylinder sedans get better gas-mileage than small European cars!

3. When RCA, General Electric and some of the nation's largest taxi fleets tested this great new invention to determine just how much gas it would save . . . the results were so dramatic, that within 30 days they reported savings of HUNDREDS and HUNDREDS OF gallons of gas the very first month alone!

Even more startling . . . when such huge fleet owners such as Avis, General Electric, Yellow Cab Co., etc., tested the amazing GT ENERGY CHAMBER in a series of special road tests, the results were so dramatic that entire fleets of cars were ordered IMMEDIATELY EQUIPPED . . . that's the kind of miracle-mileage this thrilling new invention delivers.

IMAGINE! ALMOST 500 MILES OF DRIVING FROM A SINGLE TANK OF GAS!

Yes, from road tests, laboratory tests, tests by one of the world's most famous test drivers . . . come reports of cars that drive for hundreds and hundreds of miles ON A SINGLE TANK OF GAS! Reports of test cars from Ford, General Motors, Chrysler that get more miles per gallon today than when they were brand new! Reports of big, luxury sedans that outweigh small European cars by a full ton . . . yet get better gas mileage, and huge dollar savings thanks to this new miracle invention.

IF IT WORKS SUCH MILEAGE MIRACLES, HOW COME THE CAR MANUFACTURERS HAVEN'T INSTALLED THIS TYPE OF UNIT IN THEIR CARS — THE ANSWER IS THAT TWO ALREADY HAVE!

By now you are probably wondering just what is the GT ENERGY CHAMBER . . . and how does it work? To make a long story short . . . if you were to look under the hood of one of those $20,000 European luxury cars like the Maserati or the Aston-Martin, you would see sitting right behind the carburetor . . . a special gasoline BOOSTER unit . . . especially designed to extract more blasting power, more energy, from each gallon of gasoline. This remarkable booster-unit is what gives these cars such magnificent performance . . . such TOTAL POWER . . . increased engine efficiency.

And this is precisely what the GT ENERGY CHAMBER is designed to do — enable your engine to extract more piston-driving power, more raw, blazing energy and more gasoline economy . . . ONLY, instead of costing $100 to $150 (like the European booster-units) . . . the GT ENERGY CHAMBER costs but a mere fraction.

That's because after years of intensive research, automotive experts have finally found a way to simplify the mileage-boosting principle of these booster units . . . reduce the number of parts in each unit . . . mass produce them . . . and make them available at a price so low it's almost too ridiculous to mention. Why, do you realize what this means to you if you are determined to save yourself up to $16 a month on your gas bills . . . up to 50 gallons of gas each month . . . yes, up to $200 a year on wasted gasoline?

INSTALLS IN MINUTES — PAYS FOR ITSELF IN AS LITTLE AS 15 DAYS

It means that no matter what kind of car you now have . . . no matter how old that car may be . . . from this day on, you, too, can now save up to 500 gallons of gas each and every year, NOW you, too, can drive for hundreds of miles at a time without ever stopping at a service station. NOW you, too, can drive across 6 states of the union on just a single tank of gas . . . blaze a trail from New York to Chicago on just 2 or 3 tankfuls . . . perform mileage-miracles that only yesterday you thought were utterly impossible.

So . . . if you want to achieve the same wondrous results as Avis, General Electric, RCA . . . the same miracle-mileages as recorded in Indianapolis "on-the-track" road tests . . . the same huge dollar savings as proven by research scientists at the very same testing laboratories used by Ford, Chrysler and General Motors . . . then take advantage of this special FREE-TRIAL introductory offer today!

PROVE IT TO YOURSELF AT OUR RISK

Now the price of the GT ENERGY CHAMBER on this special introductory trial offer is not the 15 or 20 dollars you might expect . . . but only $6.95 Why, you'll save up to 10 times that amount in gasoline savings in no time at all not to mention the hundreds of dollars in money you save year after year.

And since we invite you to try the GT ENERGY CHAMBER on your own car completely at our risk . . . you have absolutely nothing to lose and everything in the world to gain. So to take advantage of this no risk trial-offer . . . mail the no-risk coupon today!

"MATCH ME — I DARE YOU!" — AND WE DID! This is the test that left the experts gasping in disbelief. The day we took a big luxurious Cadillac sedan . . . and pitted it in an ECONOMY RUN against a so-called "economy car" . . . this small economy car was the Volkswagen — not the Cadillac . . . It was fitted out with the amazing new invention the GT ENERGY CHAMBER, described on this page. Result of test? The Cadillac boasted its miles per gallon by so much, it actually OUTPERFORMED the Plymouth . . . left it standing bone-dry, pasting for even a glass of gasoline. For full documented proof of just how this amazing new invention can save you up to $200 in gasoline in the next 12 months . . . read the rest of this page. (Test conducted on the New England Turnpike—results sealed and attested to by official state notary.)

BEST PROOF OF ALL!

Avis-Renta-Car Road-Tests Amazing New Invention and reports staggering mileage increases on all cars tested. "Savings at the rate of up to 500 gallons per year."

Yes, from one of the most famous names in the automotive world comes the most dramatic proof of all. AVIS . . . a company that spends more money on gasoline in one weekend that the average person spends in a lifetime . . . they tested this incredible new invention and here is what they found: BOOSTED GASOLINE MILEAGE UP TO A WHOPPING 32%. Wouldn't you like to save up to $200 a year on your car? For full details, read the rest of this page.

Cemetery a Civil War Reminder

Every year more than 150,000 American tourists are wending their way to the quiet 28 acres of magnolia trees, oaks, willows and rolling lawns which comprise the Andersonville (Ga.) National Cemetery.

★ ★ ★

Today the cemetery is a tranquil area of peace and solace visited principally by those who have a rekindled interest in the Civil War or those whose forefathers are buried here.

A century ago the adjoining area was the largest of the Confederate prison camps, crowded with three or four times as many soldiers as it was planned to house; rank with disease, sickness and death.

The Cemetery and Prison Park are located on Georgia Highway 49, an alternate route of the highly publicized Dixieland Trail. Andersonville is 10 miles south of Montezuma, the Peach and Mennonite country of Georgia.

Tourists find few signs or markers to direct them to these spots but they come nonetheless in increasing numbers each year. Soldiers of all wars are buried here—35 interred so far this year. The total now is 14,322.

Today visitors see the breastworks which were thrown up—yet in an excellent state of preservation. They see monuments erected by most of the Northern states in memory of their war dead. They see the tunnels which Federal prisoners dug with spoons, sticks or their hands.

THUNDERBOLT

MERCURY* announces the first major breakthrough in outboard ignition in 50 years...

NOW—Spark plugs last seasons, not hours!

NOW—Engine efficiency and reliability are dramatically increased!

NOW—High-powered engines idle like fishing motors!

The new Thunderbolt ignition was invented and developed by Kiekhaefer engineers. It is a complete, fully integrated system that makes use of space-age, solid-state materials and technology to produce dramatically increased spark plug life and engine performance.

Thunderbolt is so named because its spark voltage impact far surpasses that of a conventional system—and because it produces this voltage in mere millionths of a second, many times faster than a conventional coil-and-battery system does.

Thunderbolt ignition fires the plugs so quickly that practically no energy is lost through leakage. Thus, it can fire plugs that are "fouled" by conventional ignition standards. And, because the triggering current required to discharge the capacitor (condenser) is so small, points are not nearly so subject to pitting and burning.

An integral part of the new Thunderbolt ignition system is Mercury's new Polar-Gap spark plug. Polar-Gap is a very "cold" plug: operating temperature of the electrodes and ceramic insulator is 800 to 1000 degrees cooler than conventional plugs. Consequently, deposits from the use of leaded fuels do not reach pre-ignition temperature levels. Spark arcing area is considerably greater than that of a conventional plug—Polar-Gaps have a 360° electrode gap. This reduces the rate of electrode erosion, partially accounting for the greatly increased life of the Polar-Gap plug.

Thunderbolt's higher voltage spark just about eliminates low speed wet fouling or carbon fouling, while the very low operating temperature of the Polar-Gap plug ends fouling caused by lead deposits from automotive fuels.

And, Thunderbolt brings you a bonus of minimum interference with your radio and electronic equipment—only a single spark is produced.

The new Thunderbolt ignition is exclusive on the new 1966 six-cylinder Mercs 1100SS and 950SS. It makes them the most advanced outboards ever manufactured, offering performance, dependability and economy never before experienced in any high-horsepower outboard.

Candy's a Key Item for Your Long Trip

Taking a trip? Here's a checklist for your car before you start. Use it to check your car at regular intervals and always before a long highway journey. It may save your life!

CHECK:

1. Brakes
2. Lights
3. Directional signals
4. Tires
5. Horn
6. Windshield wipers
7. Steering
8. Candy in your car.

That's right, candy. It's as important as fastening your seat belt and just as necessary. Even if your car is in top-notch operating condition it's only as good as the driver — YOU. And you're only effective as long as you remain alert to every situation.

Candy keeps you alert, fights fatigue, builds your morale. Instant energy to brighten your day, lighten your trip. Information from a national confectioners group emphasizes that candy is an important safety factor.

ABSORBED QUICKLY

Sugar in candy is absorbed into the blood in minutes, and is a basic fuel for all parts of the body. Fatigue accompanies low blood-sugar level. Candy quickly raises the blood sugar and combats fatigue.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Steel Has Two Attractions at Rogers City

Two of Northern Michigan's more popular tourist attractions will again be open to the viewing public this year.

Harborview and Quarryview, tourist lookout stations in Rogers City, Michigan, will open May 29.

At Harborview visitors have a chance to explore a pilot house from a Great Lakes freighter and watch operations at one of Michigan's busiest ports.

Quarryview affords the tourist a chance to see a quarry operation, including drilling and blasting, as well as an opportunity to look over a fine selection of fossils. Qualified attendants are on hand at both sites and appropriate literature is available at the lookout stations.

NEW FEATURE — The longest aerial tramway in North America began operating this month at Sandia Peak, N.M., after a two-year building project. The 2.7-mile trip through the Southern Rocky Mountains last 10 minutes and terminates on 10,378-foot Sandia Peak, four miles north of Albuquerque, N.M.

West Michigan offers visitors more than 100 festive events during the spring, summer and fall.

BOUND FOR BOB-LO — Beginning May 29th the daily trips of the SS Columbia and the SS Ste. Claire will begin down the Detroit River to Bob-Lo Island and back again to the dock at the foot of Woodward Avenue in Detroit. The popular cruise attracts not only the metropolitan residents trying to escape from their normal routines but also the visitors wanting a river-front tour and recreation on the amusement island. There are moonlight cruises at 9 p.m. each day except Monday, and two each Saturday night. The cruises begin at 10 a.m.

Bob-Lo Offers Unusual Trip Out of U.S.

Each summer thousands of southeast Michigan residents and their visitors take a pleasure cruise out of the country without a passport or immigration inspection and return the same day.

The cruise is on the S.S. Columbia or the S.S. Ste Claire down the Detroit River to Bob-Lo Island.

★ ★ ★

The 240-acre Canadian island has amusement rides, historic tours, a restaurant and a souvenir shop. The cruise ships depart from the dock at the foot of Woodward Avenue in downtown Detroit.

The season will begin May 29th and run through Labor Day.

Boats leave at 10 and 11 a.m., 2, 4, 6 and 9 p.m. daily, although there is no 6 p.m. boat Fridays and no 9 p.m. cruise Mondays. There are moonlight sailings at 9 and 10 p.m. Saturdays.

The round trip costs $1.75 for adults (moonlights are $2) and 75 cents for children.

Some of the scenic highlights of the river trip are the Ambassador Bridge, Wyandotte Chemical and other river-front industries, Fort Wayne, the harbor terminal and the frequent Great Lakes and foreign steamers that pass.

In addition, the Bob-Lo boats themselves offer entertainment and refreshments during the cruise to and from the island.

Nova Scotia's Waters Paradise for Fishermen

Nowhere are Isaak Walton's brothers, cousins and even aunts happier than they are in Nova Scotia, for everywhere this province provides the heaven of all true anglers' dreams.

Each year sees a greater number of people holidaying in Nova Scotia, seemingly bent on discovering how rich their fishing luck can be in either fresh or salt water.

Nova Scotia, like a great doubled fist, hits out into the Atlantic where salt water fishing areas abound, and inland fresh water fishing spots can be found by the hundreds. Nor need you worry about trespassing on private streams. There are none.

Nova Scotia is of course ideal for salt-water fishing. Whether you want to bring home the scrappy pollock — likely to weigh anywhere between five and 35 pounds — or whether you wish to try your luck with the gigantic bluefin tuna and swordfish, they are all here, and will be pleased to meet you in a no-holds barred contest.

Early morning and evening are generally favored by the knowledgeable as the best times to fish for pollock. Tackle should be sturdy because pollock, after taking your lure, are battlers. They are likely to be found at almost any depth.

Tuna are truly big game fish, and even the best fishermen regard boating one the fighting climax of a career. Tuna fishing is not for the novice, though nearly every year the great bluefins are caught off nearby Wedgeport by people who have never trolled for them previously.

If you are seeking the game and high-spirited Atlantic salmon, Nova Scotia is the place to come. Salmon angling here is restricted to fly-fishing (the Silver Doctor, Jock Scott, Pink Lady and MacIntosh are favored wet and dry flies), and runs from early in June through July and August.

Splendid salmon streams — classics, indeed — are the Medway, LaHave, Moser's, Margaree (where a record 52½-pounder was taken) and North Rivers. A non-resident season's license costs five dollars. The daily limit is three salmon, and not more than 15 in any one week.

Of the many offerings of Nova Scotia's three thousand lakes, one hundred rivers, and brooks without number, few fish are more popular than the smallmouth bass. Best results are obtained by using live bait such as minnows or frogs, and bucktail and streamer flies.

Whether you go for rainbow trout on the Gaspereau River, or for browns on the Milford River, or sea trout in the St. Mary's, Nova Scotia, is the happiest of lands for the angler.

Lots of Water Attracts Boats to W. Michigan

Boats play a major role in western Michigan's vacation activities.

Whether the craft is motor-driven, rowed, paddled or sailed there's room for all with a 400-mile Lake Michigan coastline, some 3,500 inland lakes and more than 10,000 miles of streams and rivers.

★ ★ ★

The Lake Michigan coastline is broken by some 26 harbors with public or private boat facilities and in addition to these there are dozens of marinas for docking and servicing of all size craft on inland waters and many boat launching ramps.

Four of west Michigan's offshore holiday islands are reached only by boat or plane. The historic Manitou Islands are served by a ferry from Leland, Beaver Island is reached by a ferry and planes from Charlevoix and Mackinac Island is reached by ferries from Mackinac City.

Overall, Michigan ranks second in the United States in the number of outboard motors in use with a total of just under a half million.

AUGUST HIGHLIGHT—One of the summer's big attractions in the province of Ontario is the annual Canadian National Exhibition at Toronto. Numerous exhibits, name entertainment, amusements and refreshments lure thousands of visitors for the 17 days of the exhibition. This year's CNE will run August 19-September 5.

A ballet, bull fight and boat ride are highlights of a new 10-day tour of Mexico being offered by Camino Tours.

Designed for the first-time traveler to Mexico, the tour covers the popular "grand circuit": Mexico City, Cuernavaca, Taxco and Acapulco. English-speaking guides accompany the visitor on all sightseeing trips.

Features in Mexico City include a performance of the Folklore Ballet at the Palace of Arts, a reserved seat for the bull fight at Plaza Mexico, a boat ride on canals to the accompaniment of Mariachi music and a day exploring the ancient Aztec civilization, including the Pyramids of the Sun and Moon.

Other highlights: a visit to the Palace of Cortez in Cuernavaca, shopping in Taxco silver shops, and a yacht cruise in Acapulco.

Tour rates range from $205 to $254 through December 14, depending upon the category of hotel selected, and not including air transportation.

No Easy Description for Grand Canyon

Awesome, amazing, incredible, stupendous — these words can't aptly describe Grand Canyon National Park to any one person for it is no doubt true that no two people have ever seen this world's wonder in the same way.

★ ★ ★

The answer: see it for one's self.

A good base from which to start is Grand Canyon Lodge situated 8,100 feet above sea level at Bright Angel Point on the very North Rim of this Arizona Canyon, at the edge of the Kaibab National Forest.

From this base one can plant his feet on the rim or just sit on the veranda and let the Canyon work for him. From this lofty point one looks down upon an entire mountain range set within gigantic walls.

Couple this with the Canyon seen on rainy days, when three or four storms can be observed at one time with sometimes two or three rainbows arching across, and it is easy to realize that the color combinations are inexhaustible.

★ ★ ★

If you should wish variation, take the Union Pacific bus 11 miles to Point Imperial and then continue on to Cape Royal 17 miles further across Walhalla Plateau, stopping at other viewpoints on the way.

'Coordinate' Your Travel Apparel

By JEANNE NELSON

Selecting the right wardrobe for traveling this summer isn't nearly the problem it used to be. Variety needn't be sacrificed for lack of packing space with the new coordinated outfits now available.

Some come with as many as six different pieces to be worn in pairs, trios and separately. Each mix and match outfit affects its own "Total" look.

The addition of a colorful scarf (be sure to pack a number of these) will glamorize the most tailored dress or suit. Jewelry can do the same and both take up little space in a suitcase.

Stick to the basic colors for shoes, black, white and navy are good bets. Too, remember to take along a really comfortable pair for sightseeing.

WATCH CUSTOMS

Shifts (the variety is unlimited) will be comfortable and fresh looking for European sightseeing. Women in slacks are frowned upon.

The Arnel and linen knits that made their appearance last season are finding even more popularity this year and they come out of the suitcase ready to wear.

Avoid anything that isn't of the easy-care family. Long stretches at the ironing board cut into fun time.

Youngsters will probably need one "Sunday best" outfit but the bulk of their wardrobe should be made up of play clothes and changes of underwear. Bright little short shifts with matching shorts can even go to dinner with Mom and Dad at the restaurant.

For boys, the Ban-lon shirts are sure bets with a pair of permanently pressed slacks. Dad will find the same kind of comfort in his identical outfit.

Sweaters are an important part of the whole family's wardrobe. Most resort areas cool off after the sun goes down and the cardigan type sweater is a perfect foil for those evening lake breezes.

Beach wear is definitely impressed by the surfing crowd this season. Both his and hers outfits sport the lacings and contrasting waistbands that mark the look of surfer.

Sleepwear should also be geared to cool evenings in the north with special emphasis on the knit variety that packs easily and needs no ironing.

Swim caps are downright glamorous with their gay flowers everywhere and some can even be taken apart for an extra sleep cap to save a hairdo.

Usually one pair of white nylon gloves is sufficient since they wash and dry so quickly.

A good traveling companion is one of the portable hair dryers so wonderful for quick settings after day-long swimming along the beach. These dryers do double duty for use on hose, lingerie, sweaters and the like.

Collapsible drinking glasses can be carried in a handbag and don't forget that in some cases an attractive beach bag can be used for a purse. Make it a rule that double-duty items go along on the trip.

EASY LIVING — Women vacationers may find this new two-part look in leisure fashion just the thing. The pure wool knit has a straight-cut, lean line look briskly accented with yarn embroidery and is designed by Lee Herman of California.

Tips for Eating Out

Food's a Key Part of Travel

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Whether you go on vacation or stay at home, you have to eat. It's probably the most expensive habit we have.

★ ★ ★

There are ways to keep within the budget when you are on a trip and tips for eating out.

★ ★ ★

If you travel by plane or train, meals are no problem. But in this motor age, most families travel by car.

★ ★ ★

Even if good safety rules didn't tell you to stop every hour for a brief rest, you do it when you travel with children.

For such times it's wise to have vacuum bottles of water or fruit juice and crackers or cookies if you permit that type of snacking during the day.

That container of water in the car is always a good idea; not only does it take care of demands for a drink, but you have water for minor cleanup jobs.

★ ★ ★

With so many motels providing facilities for making instant coffee, it is possible to have your breakfast in your room before taking off for the day.

INSTANTS

With instant cocoa, the children can have a hot drink too. You can buy frozen orange juice the night before and reconstitute it with tap water in the morning. A package of sweet rolls completes the meal.

★ ★ ★

If you have a picnic refrigerator in the car, buy milk and have cereal for breakfast, too.

★ ★ ★

Picnic lunches are also the answer for children. You stop at a roadside park and let the young ones run off their excess energy. With that same picnic refrigerator, you can carry the makings for sandwiches and salad materials as well as fresh fruit.

★ ★ ★

You can obtain information on the area you intend to visit from oil companies, automobile clubs and paperback travel books. They usually indicate the types of restaurants and the prices.

We have found in the past that if we were in a strange town and did not know where to eat, we got good information from the policeman on the corner.

Once, at noon time, we inquired at the office of a real estate man, figuring he would know the area well. Owners of motels will often have suggestions too.

With children a cafeteria is ideal. You can buy just what they will eat without having to order a whole dinner and have part of it wasted. Places that serve family style are also good.

Part of traveling is having new experiences. This should extend to food.

If you can get the family to try something new — something that is typical of the area — it is fun. When you're in New England, you eat lots of seafood; if you go to Mexico, you try a few native dishes. We won't ever forget that we até roast buffalo at Mt. Rushmore National Park.

When traveling, it is wise to eat lightly. Perhaps having five smaller meals instead of three full ones is better. You sit for long hours and may be uncomfortable after a big meal.

One more hint: There are times when you get to a town that does not have a good restaurant, only the local "greasy spoon." This calls for changing your usual menu.

Bacon and eggs are usually safe everywhere; a bad egg is apparent immediately and won't be served. Hash brown potatoes are nearly always all right; so is cole slaw, a cheese sandwich or pancakes.

Hamburger could be questionable. Steaks are OK, but they may be tough.

Shrug off the irritation such a situation causes, eat what you can and hope that tomorrow you'll hit a fabulous restaurant. It'll be worth the price, whatever it is.
