

Johnson Says Viet Reds Know They Can't Win

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP)—President Johnson, declaring the Communists know they cannot win a military victory in Viet Nam, has voiced optimism that "we are on the way" to solving the Vietnam problem.

Johnson planned a series of Viet Nam conferences at his ranch home near here tonight, summoning Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara, roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman and other military and diplomatic advisers for an overnight business visit.

The President expressed an optimistic view of the war during a news conference yesterday on the front lines of his ranch—a session preceded by a barbecue buffet lunch served by Mrs. Johnson and daughter Luci.

Taking the wraps off a top secret message from the Pentagon, Johnson cited estimates that stepped-up bombing raids on the Hanoi-Haiphong area have wiped out 57 per cent of North Viet Nam's petroleum storage facilities.

He said 67 per cent of all storage capacity has been hit during the raids that began last week.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

Other conference highlights: •Discussing racial problems, Johnson indirectly chided militant Negro leaders by asserting: "We are not interested in black power and we are not interested in white power, but we are interested in America democratic power, with a small 'd.'" Some militants have raised "black power" as a battle cry.

Turning to politics, the President said "as time permits, I will be traveling throughout the country" in the four months between now and the November elections.

He said that if he continues his recent travel rate, he could cover all 50 states by late October.

The latest budget deficit, he reported, will be "far below" the $6.4 billion estimate he gave Congress in January. He said final figures for the fiscal year that ended June 30 aren't yet available, however.

Dugan Is Firm on Rezoning

2nd Traffic Outlet Necessary for Okay

District 5 City Commissioner John A. Dugan claimed last night that as long as he could get one other vote, there would be no rezoning for a 20-acre parcel on Pontiac's East Side for an apartment development until a second outlet was provided for traffic.

Dugan, who represents the area, led the opposition last week when the commission voted 5-2 to reject rezoning from single-family residential to multiple dwelling.

A minimum of six of the seven commissioners would have to vote for the rezoning to get it approved, because a protest petition has been filed.

"I'm not going to be pressured into changing my mind," said Dugan. "I will continue to represent District 5 and the people of Herrington Hills subdivision and do what the majority of people want."

Dugan claimed that never had such a small rezoning matter received such newspaper coverage.

The veteran city commissioner said the land in question would not be rezoned until there was an outlet provided onto Mount Clemens, a major thoroughfare.

The rezoning would have permitted construction of a 15-million apartment project by developer Joseph Dreesman on a site near Herrington Elementary School.

Dugan claimed that during 1965 and part of 1966 there were 2,787 multiple dwelling (Continued on Page A-3, Col. 5)

Reports from Hanoi Show War Weariness

WASHINGTON (AP)—Under Secretary of State George W. Ball said today diplomatic reports from Hanoi indicate developments of war weariness.

But the reports show no political decision yet to seek a peaceful settlement in South Viet Nam, he said.

ROMNEY LENDS AN EAR — While Gov. George Romney of Michigan listens, Gov. John B. Connally (left) of Texas expresses an opinion during yesterday's opening session of the National Governors' Conference in Los Angeles. Romney, regarded by many colleagues as the top contender for the GOP presidential nomination in 1968, stirred up a scrap when he wanted the governors to declare that any resolution adopted by the group be "germane to the functions and responsibilities of the states." His proposal was defeated. (See story, Page D-4).

Two Tied for Lead in Tourney

MUIRFIELD, Scotland (AP)—Big Jack Nicklaus and Jimmy Hinchcock of England fired one-under-par 70s today and shared the first round lead in the 72-hole British Open Golf Championship with most of the field finished.

Nicklaus, the bulky blond from Columbus, Ohio is favored to win this tournament for the first time.

The 26-year-old Masters champion scored 77-35. He was one over par for the first time and two under for the last nine.

Hitchcock had 36-34. He came close to taking the lead by himself but his putt for a birdie three on the 18th hit the hole and popped out.

The 6-foot, 210-pound American and Hitchcock had a stroke lead on Doug Sanders, the colorful California pro, Tony Lama, 1964 winner from California, and Ronnie Stede, the Scottish amateur champion. They each matched par with 71s.

FOUR BIRDIES — Nicklaus had four birdies, three bogeys and 11 pars. He birdied the 11th, 13th and 17th holes and pulled out of trouble on the 18th by sinking a 20-footer for a par four.

Arnold Palmer, two-time winner of the title from Latrobe, Pa., defending champion and five-time winner Peter Thomson of Australia, Australia's Bruce Devlin and Julius Bors of Midland, N.C. were among the group with two-over-par 72s for the 6,887-yard, par 53-61-71 Muirfield course.

First round scores include: Jack Nicklaus 73-39, 73-70; Arnold Palmer 74-38, 74-39; Doug Sanders 75-37, 75-38; Tony Lama 76-36, 76-37; Julius Bors 77-35, 77-36; Peter Thomson 78-34, 78-35; Bruce Devlin 79-33, 79-34; Ronnie Stede 80-32, 80-33; Jimmy Hinchcock 81-31, 81-32; and Doug Sanders 82-30, 82-31.

Teamsters Grant Hoffa Blank Check for Legal Bills

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Cheering Teamsters Union delegates gave their twice-convicted president, James R. Hoffa, a blank check today to pay for his legal expenses.

A resolution approving the use of Teamsters funds for nearly $1 million in pending legal bills also authorized payment from the treasury for any and all future and past legal expenses.

"Because of a few selfish politicians, the Teamsters have to buy their freedom," said one of about a dozen delegates speaking in favor of the resolution.

No one spoke against it but after it was approved by a two-minute standing, cheering vote, Hoffa asked for opposing votes. One lone delegate, Larry Thomas of Philadelphia, stood up in the crowded convention auditorium.

Hoffa faces sentences of 13 years in prison on jury tampering and mail fraud convictions. Appeals have been taken. A new federal investigation into the use of Teamsters' pension funds is currently under way.

"We are not endeavoring to settle our litigation here," Hoffa said before winning the convention's approval for his legal fees. "We all know it must be settled in court." Hoffa said.

STOPPED USE OF FUNDS

In 1964, Hoffa quit using money from the union treasury for his huge legal expenses which the Labor Department said amounted to more than $500,000 over several years.

Four rebel Teamsters are currently suing the union, demanding repayment of money spent for legal fees for Hoffa and all other union officials.

Hoffa indicated yesterday that he would not actually draw on the treasury for more legal fees until all legal questions are settled.

"Now there goes a man who looks like he's leading a full life."

Soldier's Son Killed in Viet

ALAMOGORDO, N.M. (AP)—Army Spec. 6 Gerald L. Smith, 48, a career soldier wounded twice in Viet Nam, has brought home the body of his soldier son, killed in combat in Viet Nam June 30.

Smith arrived last night with the body of Army Pfc. Danny L. Smith, 22.

Meeting them were Mr. Smith and their only other child, Darrell Smith, 9, who had completed his first week of Army basic training at Ft. Bliss, Tex., when he learned of his brother's death.

"I'll bring myself home," Danny had written to a friend in a letter dated the day before the young soldier was killed.

"These people can't hurt me. He would have been 23 today."

"I'll be an old gray man," he wrote.

DETAILS — Details of the action that killed him were not available.

Services were pending today at the nearby Holloman Air Force Base chapel with burial at the Ft. Bliss cemetery.

The older Smith, nearing retirement from the Army, went to Viet Nam last December with an Army helicopter unit. His son left Ft. Bliss for Viet Nam in January. Danny was with a last infantry unit.

The Smith family declined to speak to newsmen Tuesday night, but a family friend, Mrs. George Ingram, said the father was wounded twice in Viet Nam action. Danny was wounded last May but returned to his unit in June.

'KITTEN'

"My 13-year-old daughter, Belinda, was his pet," Mrs. Ingram said. "He called her 'Kitten.' He told her he was coming home, that 'they can't keep me over here.'"

His letters to Belinda's mother took a slightly different tone.

"I sure hope I may get out of this place. I keep telling everyone I will."

Danny's unit was moving along a road when he saw his father standing nearby. There was a brief reunion.

CALLED TO UNITE

The next day, Danny's mother reported earlier, her husband was called to Danny's unit. His son had been wounded, but not seriously, in a mine explosion.

This was Danny's second tour of duty with the Army. He had reached the rank of Spec. 4 on the first tour, his family reported. He was awaiting action on his application for warrant officers' school when his orders to Viet Nam arrived.

Heat Relief Nearly Here

A bit of relief from the heat is in sight for Pontiac area residents even if highs are in the 80s.

The warm, muggy weather of yesterday will average about low temperatures 57 to 62 tonight. Sunny and cooler with highs 77 to 82 is Thursday's forecast, and fair is the prediction for Friday.

Temperatures for the next five days will average about 3 to 4 degrees below the normal high of 82 to 84 and low of 57 to 62. Only minor temperature changes may be expected until the weekend when temperatures will turn cooler.

Precipitation will total one-half inch toward the end of the week.

Morning southwesterly winds at 15 to 25 miles per hour will shift to west to northwest at 10 to 15 miles tonight.

A sunny day will be the low in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The thermometer registered 89 at 2 p.m.

Park Hunt for Women Continues

CHESTERTON, Ind. (UPI)—Coast Guard authorities today examined a motorboat believed to be one in which three missing Chicago-area women were last seen Saturday at the Indiana Dunes State Park.

Law enforcement officials resumed an intensive search of the barren dunes area at dawn.

The boat was found late yesterday at the Ludington, Mich., Yacht Club, about 150 miles from the park, where witnesses told police the girls had entered a boat with three men.

Joining the hunt today were two aircraft and a helicopter from the Civil Air Patrol, Indiana State Police, Coast Guard boats and soldiers from an Army missile site near the dunes area.

The missing women were Mrs. Renee Bruhl, 19, Chicago, wife of a young college student; Miss Ann Miller, 21, York Center, Ill., who was employed until recently exercising horses at the Oak Brook Polo Club; and Miss Patricia Blough, 19, West Chester, Ill., a secretary at the Commonwealth Edison Co.

They were last seen at the park beach Saturday morning by a lifeguard, who said he watched the women climb into a motorboat with three men. The lifeguard said he cautioned one of the women about dangling her feet in the water.

FEAR-FOUL PLAY

"The possibility of foul play must be considered in view of the circumstances of their disappearance," State Police Sgt. Edward Burke, said.

More than half of the 2,200-acre park, a popular spot for Chicagoans and residents of bordering Indiana, was covered by the search party last night.

Among the searchers was Harold Blough, father of one of the missing women and commander of Group 23 of the Illinois Civil Air Patrol.

Relatives of the other women were also at the park.

When last seen, the women were clad only in their swimming suits. Saturday night, park personnel discovered on the beach a blanket containing the girls' car keys, sunglasses, towels and purses, which contained about $60. A tag on the car keys led to Miss Miller's automobile, which was parked in the parking lot.

The women had left their homes early Saturday morning, and said they expected to be back by about 5 p.m. There were no reports of three young men being missing.

Bandits Escape After Holdup at Fox & Hounds Restaurant

Two men robbed the plush Fox & Hounds Inn, 1500 N. Woodward, Bloomfield Hills, at 10:50 this morning by forcing a woman employee at gunpoint to open a safe.

The holdup occurred more than an hour before the restaurant's noon opening.

A restaurant official told Bloomfield Hills police that the two men, who may have had an accomplice, regained much of the money they dropped and escaped in an automobile, according to witnesses.

Airport Grant

A meeting between city and County representatives. Past talks between the two governmental units have stalled over the amount of compensation due the city if the airport is transferred to the county.

The city has contended that it was entitled to some funds for past improvements, while county officials have held out for a nominal $1 for the 438-acre facility in Waterford Township.

to "go it alone." Mayor William H. Taylor Jr. indicated the city was still very much interested in cooperating with the county project.

"But," added Taylor, "we can no longer delay."

City officials have estimated the trunk sewer would mean the development of some 1,900 acres in the upper northeast corner of the city.

Plans for the city's Galloway Creek sewer — now three years old — were ordered reactivated by last night's unanimous commission vote.

Among the items to be reviewed will be the size of the actual pipe, new cost estimates and the bond issue needed to finance construction of the trunk sewer.

Sewer connection charges have been planned to finance the bonds.

Pontiac's role in the Clinton-Oakland system has been planned as a relatively minor one, accounting for only about $137,000 in the total cost of the interceptor or collection system.

Donald W. Ringler, deputy director of the county DPW, said today Pontiac's share of the costs for Clinton-Oakland would have to be spread over the seven other participating communities.

He said this would mean some contract revision.

ROUTE UNCHANGED

Pontiac's withdrawal from the system, however, is not expected to change the route of the trunk line, Ringler said. Some engineering changes might be necessary, but essentially the same route would be followed.

Four communities — Waterford, Orton, Pontiac, and West Bloomfield Townships — have approved the Clinton-Oakland contract.

County officials have estimated the total cost of Clinton-Oakland at $28.6 million, including $12 million interest on the 30-year bond issue.

Waterford Township is to pay about 40 per cent of the total, while Avon Township — one of the holdouts — is to pay about 26 per cent.

Pontiac and Independence townships are each to pay about 10 per cent, West Bloomfield 10 per cent, Orton Township, 4.7 per cent, and Orchard Lake, 1.4 per cent.

However, they evaded the offer in heavy traffic.

The intruders entered the restaurant by a kitchen door and walked up a flight of stairs into the office, according to witnesses.

They bound two women office workers with telephone cords they had ripped off the wall and waited for another employee, who knew the combination to the safe.

WOMEN BEATEN
Forced to open the safe, the women also were bound with telephone cords. All three were beaten, according to police.

One of the women said she was slugged in the mouth prior to being tied up.

One of the bandits scribbled some writing on a note pad in the office.

One of the men was quoted as saying "Don't worry, you'll get your money back. They've got my wife and kids in the car. I'm being forced to do this."

The younger Byrd said the comatose condition "has not been consistent until recently." He said the elder Byrd had been slipping into and out of the coma for several weeks "and we did not want to say anything public about it and hear it."

He said McNamara tells him substantial reductions in projected production rates may be desirable within three to six months, at a savings of several hundred million dollars.

Right now, Johnson said, ordnance inventories are ample and production exceeds usage in Viet Nam. He said he doesn't want to be stuck with $12 billion of worthless and obsolete military hardware, when the war ends — which he said was the case after the Korean war.

Asked if this meant the major part of the Viet Nam buildup was history, he replied, "No, I wouldn't make such an evaluation."

He said more men and material will be dispatched to the war zone and, later added: "We have a policy of measures response and gradually increasing our strength from time to time. We plan to continue that."

Tighter Controls Eyed for Cycle Agencies

BIRMINGHAM — Tighter control over motorcycle rental agencies is being eyed by the City Commission.

Commissioners last night instructed City Attorney James Howlett to prepare for their consideration an amendment to an ordinance that would add new regulations to the operation of agencies.

Earlier in the day, however, a Wayne County Circuit Court judge ruled that Detroit temporarily could not enforce an ordinance aimed at curbing rental agencies.

A final decision in the case may provide some guidelines for Birmingham in drafting its proposal.

Birmingham presently has only one motorcycle rental agency, located on Woodward and George.

COMPLAINTS RECEIVED
Police say they have received several complaints about noise from area residents, and that a few accidents have been caused by young people riding motorcycles.

Another provision to be considered is one that would make the agency file a bond to protect public property against loss caused by a rented motorcycle.

In other business, the commission directed the city administration to begin negotiations with the Michigan State Highway Department for the use of northbound Hunter Boulevard as the east leg of the city's perimeter road.

The highway department has informed the city that it will not give approval to the plan unless the city accepts its modifications.

The city also wants the state to share in the cost of the estimated $100,000 project.

Among these are to be a requirement that no agency operate within a given distance of a residential area unless a percentage of the homeowners approve, and a provision relating to a minimum liability insurance requirement on all vehicles.

The age of the operator is also to be considered, as well as a provision that would bar the carrying of passengers.

According to city attorneys.

Machinist Union Threatens Strike of Airlines Friday

WASHINGTON (AP) — A machinists' union spokesman said today if airline talks fail to bring an agreement by 6 to 8 p.m., its representatives will depart to get ready for a strike Friday.

Sales Increase for 2 Car Firms

DETROIT (AP) — Chrysler and American Motors corporations reported yesterday an increase in car sales during the last 10 days of June.

But Ford Motor Co., while reporting it sold a record number of cars in the first six months of this year, said its sales in the last 10 days of June fell off the pace for the same period of 1965.

General Motors Corp. was due to issue its preliminary sales figures today.

AMC, smallest of the major U.S. auto firms, led the upsurge with a 21 per cent increase in car sales for the 10-day period.

Chrysler, which last year sold 49,983 autos in the final 10 days of June, boosted its sales to 51,084 in the same period of last month.

Soapy Vows to Seek New School Aid

By the Associated Press
G. Mennen Williams says that as a U. S. senator he "would seek new ways to return federal tax revenues to the states and local schools."

At the same time he accused Sen. Robert F. Griffin, R-Mich., of having voted against federal aid for education as a member of the House last year.

Williams is seeking Democratic nomination to oppose Griffin in the November general election. The six-time former governor is opposed by Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh in the Aug. 2 Democratic primary.

Williams comment was in a letter to two housewives who bought space last Sunday to point out what they said was a day.

dire need of Detroit schools for in a reply released by his districts, many of which are in inadequate to meet school needs.

Democratic State Chairman Ron Perency will bring his campaign for nomination to governor to Wayne (Detroit) County for a full-day swing Thursday.

Perency is to address a senior citizens' gathering at a United Auto Workers Union hall at 11 a.m. He will participate in a testimonial dinner to Rep. Billie S. Farnum, D-Mich., that night; meet with the West Side Council of Polish Clubs and then address Painters Local Union 42.

Throughout Michigan I have found that many of our schools are overcrowded and many of our teachers are underpaid. Home owners are burdened with the inequities of the property tax and state tax systems are inadequate to meet school needs. I am convinced that we can do better. I am convinced that we can do better. I am convinced that we can do better.

Dixie City Relaxes Racial Curfew

CORDELE, Ga. (AP)—Officials here relaxed a strict curfew imposed after violent clashes between whites and Negroes last week and say it possibly will be lifted altogether in a few days.

Beginning Tuesday night, the curfew hours were shortened from 8:30 p.m. to 10:30 p.m. Only four persons were arrested during the long Fourth of July weekend for violating the curfew.

The curfew was imposed after a pitched gun battle between whites and Negroes climaxed three days of violence and vandalism beginning with a rock and bottle-throwing clash at a nearby state park.

Quake Toll Put of 24 KATHMANDU, Nepal (UPI)—The official death toll was placed at 24 yesterday from the earthquake that rocked the western part of this high Himalayan kingdom last month.

Officials Seek Okay on Sewage Grant

WIXOM—Oakland County and Wixom officials hope to receive approval during the next two months of an application for a $1-million federal grant for a city sewage system.

Local residents will finance the remainder of the total cost of $4.6 million by an ad valorem tax of 3 1/2 mills.

R. J. Alexander of the Oakland County Department of Public Works, said each homeowner would pay approximately $11 to $12 per year for the system.

The largest share of the cost will be paid by the Ford Motor Co. Wixom plant, which has the highest amount of assessed valuation in the area.

Alexander said there would be no connection charges for the Wixom officials hope to receive system.

Just Walk to Next-Door Neighbors

Selling a Farm in State No Problem

LANSING (AP) — Selling a farm in Michigan these days—if the land is any good—generally is about as easy as walking next door.

It may be even easier, and much more profitable, if the property is one which a developer wants for homes or factories. Farmland near cities is skyrocketing in price.

In most cases when a farmer decides to sell his holdings, real estate men say, his next-door neighbor buys the land before a real estate brokers are aware the property is for sale.

An active farmer, they say, figures as long as he needs expensive machinery to help do his work, he might as well spend a few extra hours, run that machinery over a few more acres, and make a few more dollars.

The next-door neighbor's land is worth more to him, they add, because he doesn't have to run the big machinery over a high-

Humanitarian Rests on Laurels

In retiring as executive secretary of the Kresge Foundation, AMOS P. GREGORY leaves an outstanding record for good works and social enrichment.

Named to direct the foundation when it was established by SEBASTIAN S. KRESGE in 1924, Mr. GREGORY was lauded by Foundation President STANLEY S. KRESGE who pointed out the difficulties of choosing causes worthy of support yet called it one of man's most rewarding tasks.

Some $75 million was awarded to institutions of higher learning, medical research, hospitals and to various charities during the 42 years that Mr. Gregory served the foundation. The beautiful Kresge Library at Oakland University and substantial contributions to Meadow Brook, St. Joseph's Mercy Hospital and the Boy's Club represent local memorials to the foundation and its founder.

Though relinquishing his executive connection with it, Mr. GREGORY will continue not only as a trustee of the Kresge Foundation but in the same capacity with several other institutions in various fields.

The area has been much benefited by the personal and professional attributes of Mr. GREGORY, whose service in the cause of humanity has left an indelible inscription on the honor roll of men.

David Lawrence Says:

Civil Rights Movement at Crisis

WASHINGTON — The civil rights movement has reached a crisis. Some of the Negro leaders are veering toward extremism and are actually advocating violence. Others are sensibly pleading for restraint and self-control.

Ray Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has just made some pointed criticism of those Negro groups which are talking about "black power." He deplores such a concept.

In talking to a news conference at Los Angeles, where the 57th annual convention of the NAACP is being held, Wilkins said "the trouble with 'black power' is it implies 'antwhite' and we don't want anything to do with it." He added that he believes in the legitimate use of power but that it ought never to be racial or ethnic.

In official circles here, Wilkins is highly regarded. He is an able lawyer and a graduate of the University of Minnesota. He has often been consulted by the White House under this and preceding administrations.

The debate going on about applying "violence" instead of "nonviolence" is attracting widespread attention. The League of Racial Equality (CORE) has just adopted its national convention resolutions endorsing the mobilization of "black power" and a transfer from "nonviolence" to "violence."

The Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., has invited Negro leaders of civil rights organizations to meet with him to iron out such differences. Words of caution appealing for self-restraint are being uttered emphatically by some clergymen. Thus, the Rev. Dr. C. H. Jackson, president of the National Baptist Convention, declared in Chicago Monday that direct action should not be substituted for the Constitution and the laws of the land or for moral pressure and constructive social influence.

He said, "You cannot stampede people into moral reforms or pressure them into a life of purity."

"All the constructive and forward achievements in our democratic society have been stabilized and preserved by law. We do not need to perform acts of civil disobedience in our attempt to become better citizens and to build a more democratic society."

Part of the difficulty of the organized groups which have been leading marches or demonstrations and carrying on a public battle is that they are dependent on popular appeals to raise funds, and sometimes leaders feel inclined to capitalize on prejudices and arouse passions.

Also, lining up Negro votes by themselves may not be sufficient, as the majority power is held by the large number of white votes in the north as well as the South.

Thus, CORE for instance, in trying to get more backers, has adopted a resolution demanding the withdrawal of American troops from Viet Nam.

Bob Considine Says:

LBJ's Place in History Is Endangered by Events

CONSIDINE

NEW YORK — President Johnson's place in American history, which concerns him every bit as much as it engaged the thoughts of his predecessors, is complicated by a development in most U. S. presidents could not have understood. Most of the memorable presidents served during periods of war — James Madison, Abraham Lincoln, Theodore Roosevelt, Woodrow Wilson, Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman. What case can be made for a president who reached the White House during a period when war, spelled war, had become an unwieldy President Truman had the highest popularity level ever recorded by a White House incumbent in the weeks and months after he reached office following the death of F.D.R.

He hit a peak of 87 per cent acceptance by the American people during the wrap-up of the titanic wars against Germany and Japan.

His rating fell all the way to 23 per cent during the war against North Korea and Red China mainly because the American public refused to buy his label on it: "police action."

Since then, U. S. forces have been engaged in Lebanon, Cuba, Dominican Republic and Viet Nam.

One cannot easily remember the name we used for "war" when the Marines went to Lebanon for a show of strength against a possible Communist coup. But it never rebounded to President Eisenhower's credit.

FEELER ROLE President Kennedy's popularity thermometer went up when the U. S. played its feeble role in the aggressive Bay of Pigs invasion, and zoomed higher still when it appeared in the fall of October, 1962, that the U. S. might become involved in a thermonuclear war with the Soviet Union over the presence of Soviet missiles in Cuba.

But the man who was vil-ing to face the awesome prospect, to keep Russian death machines out of our backyard, rose in the estimation of his fellow countrymen.

Johnson can't declare war on North Viet Nam without risking forcing the Soviet Union to live up to its pledge to help Hanoi.

He cannot declare war on Red China because it has not sent troops or, apparently, ships or planes against U. S. forces.

It is not a combination of events which launches a president into the Hall of Fame.

Supports Sen. Dirksen's Stand on School Prayer

I have sent your editorial "Senator Dirksen Proposes to Return Prayer to Schools" to all the Senators and members of the House of Representatives in Washington. I am positive that the editorial represents the thinking of a host of people.

I want to commend the Press for its stand on this issue. No one wants to compel any unwilling persons to read the Bible or pray, but I am sure this group is a small minority and there is no reason they should stand in the way of the majority exercising the privileges they feel they should have.

I trust you will continue to encourage the support of Mr. Dirksen and others in matters of this type.

Safety Study Benefits Available to All States

At the State Governors' Conference now convening in Los Angeles, the topic of highway safety and how the 50 states best can prepare to meet federal requirements will be an important one.

Available to aid the governors will be the results of a recently completed Automotive Safety Foundation study of functions of state government concerned with highway safety and motor vehicle use. This study was made for the State of Minnesota in response to a legislative committee resolution. It projects ways and means of providing state government services to motorists at a level in keeping with population and traffic growth.

The two-year Foundation study resulted in 181 recommendations in eight major areas of state government involved in highway transportation. Included are accident records, driver preparation and improvement, highway patrol, traffic operations, driver licensing, safety and financial responsibility, traffic safety promotion and vehicle registration.

The State of Minnesota's official coordinating committee already has begun work to implement the recommendations. Some can be carried out by administrative action and others will require legislation.

Question and Answer

My brother thinks he's funny when he says all girls talk too much but I'm the worst and he's going to enter me in a talking contest and live off the prize money. I know he's only joking, but is there such a thing as a talking contest?

TEEN-AGER

REPLY

Yes, indeed, and there are contests for just about anything else you might think of. You'll be pleased to know the talking record was set by a man, Kevin Sheehan, in Ireland in 1955. He talked non-stop for 133 hours. The closest a woman has come to that was 96 hours, 54 minutes and 11 seconds by Mrs. Alton Clapp of Greenville, N.C., in 1958. And even if you could beat that, tell your brother to hang on to his job. Prizes for such contests are usually medals, cups, plaques, etc. — nice to look at, but hard to digest.

Just a Shade Off

The First Journal

George Stewart, congressional architect, has a plan for spending an estimated $4 million to extend the west front of the capitol building to add about 25 per cent more space. He says that the work is needed to shore up the capitol's crumbling west wall.

The addition would provide two large restaurants and a cafeteria, some extra conference rooms, additional rest rooms for tourists and some storage space.

We aren't in position to argue the need for shoring up the west wall. But before Congress approves Stewart's plan, they should be closely scrutinized. For it was the same architect who estimated the new Rayburn office building would cost about $20 million. As nearly as anyone can figure out, the final figure came closer to $95 million.

On that basis, an estimate of $4 million could easily balloon into $100 million. And that seems a lot for shoring up a wall, even by Washington standards.

Reactions to Sen. Robert Kennedy's visit to Africa indicate that the trip was pointless and puzzling.

Ambition can be overwhelming. While Sen. Kennedy has seemingly graciously bowed himself out of the presidential race in 1968, in favor of President Johnson's re-election, he most certainly has not taken his eyes off the big prize.

On his visit to South Africa and East Africa, he seemed generally ill at ease, fumbling for a cordially difficult to attain with people of such diverse interests and backgrounds. He made it obvious he was quickly bored by the speeches of his hosts. His own vague remarks were only pallidly received.

Why, then, did he go to Africa?

The only contribution which caught the news headlines was his comparing the social revolutionary movements against colonialism with the civil rights movement in the United States. Aware perhaps of the criticism leveled against him on his previous visit to South America, where he made his opposition to many of the Administration's policies only too plain, in Africa he was careful to defend his country's foreign policy, even on South Viet Nam.

Had nobody been fooled. He had gone on record too many times.

He breezed through Africa, and the faces of its leaders must have become a hazy stream.

He was more interested in the image of Sen. Robert Kennedy in the United States.

The name of Kennedy is a powerful and honored one in Africa and Latin America. Sen. Kennedy sought to invoke the magic of his brother, the late president.

In this way, did he expect to win the clamor of the populace and the admiration of the leaders of an emerging continent and thus qualify himself as a statesman?

It all was too obvious.

In his restless drive toward trying to win the leadership of the Democratic Party, he has abandoned most of the conservative positions he once held and has moved openly toward the left. He has succeeded only in exposing his immaturity.

How True!

The Clinch County News

Pentagon Drove a Hard Bargain—Hard on U.S.

Uncle Sam has won assurance from the West German government that it will increase its military purchases in the U. S. to fulfill its agreement to help pay for the stationing of American troops over there.

Not too long ago it was revealed that American bombs, purchased by Germany at a fraction of their original cost, were sold back to a suddenly bomb-short Pentagon for a healthy profit.

When people can do this kind of business with Uncle, it's hard to understand why they need prodding.

Squawks Over Draft to Continue

By BARRY SCHWEID
WASHINGTON — "There is always inequity in life," President John F. Kennedy said in March 1962. "Some men are killed in a war and some men are wounded," he added, "and some men never leave the country, and some are stationed in the Antarctic and some are stationed in San Francisco."

"It's very hard in military or in personal life to assure complete equality. Life is unfair."

With this off-the-cuff statement on the Berlin crisis callup of reserves, the President was commenting at a news conference on the highly unequal way America meets its military needs.

The statement may have satisfied the sophisticated and the pragmatic, but the more question remained unanswered. It has swelled, with a widening war in Viet Nam and mounting casualties, to a national debate.

REVIEW OF POLICY

This past weekend, President Johnson named a 20-man civilian panel to take a broad look at the draft, focusing on its fairness and other factors.

In the meantime, the squawks are likely to continue.

While a football knee keeps Joe Namath from service, the young man in the stands who couldn't throw a football 15 yards is sent packing to training camp. Cassius Clay flunks his mental test while a college graduate pulling targets on a rifle range wonders how bright you have to be to even in the modern army. And, perhaps most irksome, the men in the jungles of Viet Nam — and their families — know Joe College is just about home free if he can maintain passably fair grades, get married and raise a family before his deferred number comes up at the local draft board.

EXASPERATED MEMBER

"There's not a damn thing fair about the present system," Rep. Lucien N. Nedzi, a Michigan Democrat who is a member of the House Armed Services Committee, said in exasperation 10 days ago during the panel's study of the Selective Service System.

In April 1964, Johnson set Selective Service, the military departments, the Census Bureau, the Labor Department and the Public Health Service to work on the problem.

The Pentagon favors taking men 19 to 20 ahead of older men, and men over 26 who received a college deferment should be taken in the same order as single men.

OFFER IN FUTURE

When its report, due in six months, is in, Johnson said in a statement, "we will then offer to the American people that course of action which we believe to be best designed to protect the nation's freedom with the least and most equitable burden on our society."

Memory Is the Maker of Men

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — It is memory, not clothes, that makes the man.

Man is the sum of all he remembers, a reservoir of past times, vanished worlds. At his will he can make them live again.

What a magician memory truly is, almost Godlike in this power to resurrect and recreate.

Police Still Seeking Kidnaped Girl

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Capt. Elza Hatfield, a veteran Kansas City policeman whose major-case unit gets the worst crimes, reached into his pocket and pulled out a picture of a blue-eyed girl, her mischievous, freckled face ringed with curls.

"I carry that with me wherever I go," Hatfield said. "Every man in the office does."

The portrait was that of Denise Sue Clinton, 9 years old and on summer vacation when she was kidnaped July 8 a year ago by a robber who apparently took her only as an afterthought.

There has been no trace of her — no torn or discarded clothing, no ransom demand, no indication whether she is dead or alive.

All that police and the FBI had to go on was a picture of a 33-year-old former mental patient that the girl's grandparents said resembled the robber. The man, identified as Robert Lee Hays, was arrested Monday night — four days short of the anniversary of the kidnaping — in Oklahoma City on a warrant charging unlawful flight. He had been sought on robbery warrants issued in Topeka, Kan., in September 1963 and in Kansas City.

He was arraigned in Oklahoma City Tuesday before U.S. Commissioner Jim Gullett and held under $2,000 bond.

Both the FBI and Kansas City police said they wanted to question Hays about the kidnaping — to eliminate him as a suspect. He probably will be returned to Topeka on the warrant charging him with robbing the Peacock laundry there. The grandparents will be taken to view him.

DENIED CHARGES

Hays denied in Oklahoma City Tuesday night that he kidnaped Denise. He also denied robbing the Peacock laundry.

Denise's mother, Mrs. Russell Clinton, says: "I believe I'm the only one who believes she's still alive. Hundreds of people wish she were, of course, but I believe it."

"I try to keep a level head about it, I also try to remember to realize that it might not be true. But as long as nobody finds her—"

The question, "Is she alive, is she dead?" is debated agonizingly by her Clinton and her husband.

ENTHUSIASM BUILDS

"There are times when my enthusiasm builds up," says of Clinton, service manager for a new-car dealer. "There are times when it fades some. Until they prove to me with some evidence that she is not alive, I won't believe she is dead. But I don't understand how she could disappear from the face of the earth without some clue."

Bobby, Family Go to Canada for More Adventure

TWIN FALLS, Idaho (AP) — Another river conquered, Sen. Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., and his family left Idaho Tuesday and headed for Canada in search of more outdoor challenges.

The senator packed his wife and most of their children into two private planes in Twin Falls after leaving Sun Valley.

Their reported destination was Calgary, Alberta, for a rodeo scheduled later this month.

The Kennedys returned to Sun Valley Monday night after a 100-mile trip down the middle fork of the Salmon River, known as "the River of No Return."

Federal Employees Hit Record in D.C.

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission estimates that the number of federal employees in the Washington area now is at an all-time high.

The commission says there were 282,769 federal employees on May 31 and that 14,000 students have been hired since then for temporary summer jobs.

This means there are more than 286,000 federal employees now, compared to the previous high of 294,515 in December 1962.

BLASTS ENEMIES — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa shouts "The Hell with our enemies" as he addresses the union convention yesterday at Miami Beach. He predicted he would thwart those in the government and the nation's press who want to see him jailed and removed from office. Hoffa is up for reelection as head of the union despite pending prison sentences for jury tampering and mail fraud.

Teamster Leaders Divided

Hoffa Silent on Resignation

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Grumbling in the union's top echelon grew louder over Hoffa's open attempt to keep control of the world's biggest and richest union by one means or another.

"He wouldn't resign if he had two machine guns pointed at him," snorted one member of the powerful Teamsters executive board which Hoffa so far has kept from open rebellion.

"He's made that commitment and I think he will," said another board member of Hoffa's promise to quit if he loses appeal on his federal jury tampering and mail fraud convictions.

The question is crucial in the power struggle shaping up among the 13 Teamsters vice presidents despite Hoffa's denial of any dispute in the union hierarchy.

SALARY HIKE
Hoffa prepared today to gavel through constitutional changes boosting his salary from $75,000 to $100,000 a year, authorizing the union to pay his huge legal expenses and empowering him to assign his duties to a new general vice president if he is jailed.

Lauds Romney, Blasts Soapy

DETROIT (AP) — Teamsters Union President James R. Hoffa praised Michigan Gov. George Romney while blasting former Gov. G. Mennen Williams at the Teamsters convention in Miami, Fla., a dispatch to the Detroit News said Tuesday.

Labor writer Jim Crellin said Hoffa declared in an interview that Romney, a Republican, has done "more for the working people in two terms than Soapy (Williams) did all the time he was in office."

Hoffa repeated that he would support Detroit Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh against Williams in the August Democratic primary but said he had not decided whether to endorse Romney in the general election, the News staff said.

GLENWOOD PLAZA CORNER NORTH PERRY AT GLENWOOD

Omaha Tense; Governor Back

OMAHA, Neb. (AP) — Omaha's predominantly Negro north side was tense but quiet today as Nebraska Gov. Frank Morrison said he would not tolerate civil disobedience.

For three straight nights, stores of adults and youths in the area threw bottles and stones, smashed store windows and then looted the stores.

"Under no circumstances will civil disobedience be tolerated in this state while I am governor," said Morrison at a news conference last night.

He arrived from Los Angeles, where he had been attending the National Governors Conference.

As city police, state safety patrol troopers and National Guardsmen stood ready to swing into action, the governor toured the strife-torn area.

Afterward he said: "I think I am reassured by the conduct I observed during this tour."

SMALL PERCENTAGE

"I am convinced that only a very small percentage of the people on the north side were involved in this disorder."

"Some people don't realize that violence and civil disorder set back a cause, rather than advancing it. There is too much talk of rights and not enough of responsibility, but without responsibility there are no rights."

The governor got from Mayor A. V. Sorensen and Douglas Stewart, executive director of the Urban League, a concurring view that the outbreaks stemmed primarily from the same things Stewart said caused the Watts riots in Los Angeles.

That, Stewart and Sorensen agreed, was frustration and despair among young Negroes.

Sorensen told of meeting late Monday night with a boisterous group of 100 young Negroes, represented to him as among those who had taken part in the first two outbreaks.

Shortly after that meeting the outbreak occurred. During the outbreak, two policemen were slightly injured and 78 arrests were recorded during the three nights.

YOUNGSTERS 'FRUSTRATED'

Of the youngsters who took part in the outbreaks, Stewart said, "These kids are sick, disgusted, frustrated." Sorensen said they were filled with "frustration, tension, discontent, a desire to be recognized."

Sanctions Threatened

WARREN (AP) — A threat of action, an MEA affiliate, filed sanctions from the Independent Michigan Education Association against the school board last Friday with the State Labor Mediation Board. It charged, among other things, failure to negotiate in good faith.

The association informed the board Tuesday it will impose sanctions within 72 hours unless it "rescinds last week's action establishing a salary schedule unilaterally."

When sanctions are imposed, the association warns its members not to sign contracts as teachers or administrators in a district, and, in effect, advises the district as "unfair" through the state.

Junior Editors Quiz on GLUE

QUESTION: What makes glue stick things together?

ANSWER: Much ordinary glue comes from animal bones and scraps. These contain complicated substances called proteins, which are extracted by boiling and turning into gelatin, which is then refined into the sticky material we call glue.

In recent years, many other types of glue are gaining in popularity, among them varieties of plastics. When you take glue and spread it over a piece of wood, the minute molecules in the glue are attracted by a force called adhesion to the molecules in the wood. The adhesion binds glue and wood firmly together. Press another bit of wood against the other side of the glue, and the molecules will bind together on that side also.

Glue and other adhesives work with many materials besides wood. A very strong glue, called epoxy, is made from the newest plastic materials. In our picture, a football player has coated the top of his helmet with epoxy and stuck this to a crossbar.

With his head in the helmet he can swing in the air by hanging on to the straps. The epoxy molecules have firmly linked with those of the helmet and crossbar.

FOR YOU TO DO: Get some glue and find something to mend, as Jane is doing in our picture. Many valuable things can be saved in this way.

Moon Scraper Backed

by Science Service CAMBRIDGE, Mass.—A spinning abrasive wheel may be grinding away at the moon in a year or two, sending little bits and pieces of "lunar sawdust" flying up into an automatic chemistry laboratory for analysis.

The device may even compete with another gadget already scheduled to go on several Surveyor soft-landing flights—a long thin tube that will thrust itself down into the lunar "soil" and then withdraw filled with samples of the material below.

Loose rocks and clumps would just be knocked out of the way by the wheel, which would then grind a little of the underlying solid surface into dust particles of a measured size.

Supporting the project is the Jet Propulsion Laboratory in Pasadena, Calif., guiding light tube that had to bore downward for some distance.

Status of Some Major U.S. Legislation

CONSUMERS
TRUTH-IN-LENDING—President Johnson proposed on March 21 that lenders be required by law to tell borrowers the true annual interest and total amount of interest for consumer credit.

Legislation has not yet been submitted. Senate: Has similar bill by Sen. Paul Douglas, D-Ill., which is stalled in banking committee. House: No action.
TRUTH-IN-PACKAGING—The administration has endorsed legislation to require more packaging and labeling information for the consumer on the quantity, quality and price of consumer-market type goods.

Senate: Approved. House: Commerce committee plans hearings July 25.

HOUSING

SLUMS—President has asked Congress to authorize a pilot program under which entire slum neighborhoods would be physically and socially rehabilitated.

The $2.3 billion cost would be spread over six years, with about 60 or 70 cities participating.

House: Banking committee approved and modified version. Senate: Banking committee hearings completed.

CONSERVATION

POLLUTION—Senate Public Works Committee, exceeding administration plans, approved $4 billion, six-year program for cleaning up major river basin waterways. House: Public works committee hearings start July 12.

TRANSPORTATION

DEPARTMENT—Johnson has asked Congress to establish a cabinet level department of transportation including the Federal Aviation Agency, Bureau of Public Roads, Coast Guard, Office of the Undersecretary of Commerce for Transportation, Maritime Commission, and safety functions of the Interstate Commerce Commission and Civil Aeronautics Board, plus smaller agencies.

House: Government operations committee approved. Senate: Government operations subcommittee holding hearings.

SAFETY

AUTO-HIGHWAY—Senate has passed bills to require new safety features in cars starting with 1968 models and to set up a broad highway-driver safety program in cooperation with the states.

House: Commerce Committee is considering similar legislation, while House Public Works Committee has approved separate bill containing different version of highway-driver program.

TIRES—Senate unanimously passed bill ordering federal safety standards for tires. House: Commerce committee has approved even tougher tire propo-al for addition to its auto safety year authority for higher education construction aid, with proposal to begin cutting back direct federal loans to college students under heavy fire.

House: Approved $2.55 billion three-year construction loan program. Senate: No action yet.

FARM
Johnson has asked for a five-year, $1.3 billion annual "Food for Freedom" program to sell and give food to hungry nations.

House: Approved a $1.3 billion annual program for only two years. Senate: Agriculture committee hearings completed.

EDUCATION
ELEMENTARY-SECONDARY—Administration asking four-year extension of grade and high school aid law enacted last year with authority to spend $1.4 billion in 1967-68.

House: Education subcommittee approved $2.2 billion authority for 1966-67, $1.1 billion total authority for four years. Senate: Education subcommittee hearings completed.

BAY CITY (UPI)—A 2-year-old Bay City boy accidentally hanged himself yesterday when his neck became lodged between the railing and mattress of his bunk bed.

Cancer Patient Treatment in 2nd Phase

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI) — Larry Rink, a young Michigan cancer patient and soon-to-be father, today made preparations to leave for home by week's end after completing a second cycle of an experimental treatment program at Roswell Park Memorial Institute.

Reached at the rooming house where his wife has been staying for the duration of the treatment, Rink, 21, reported he was "feeling fine."

He also noted that new X rays show him to be "progressing normally" in his battle to halt the spread of the disease through his system.

"The treatment has worked so far," he said. "There hasn't been any recent improvement, but there hasn't been any worsening either."

Rink, whose home town of Center Line, Mich., is located near the Michigan-Indiana state line, was one of four men who volunteered to undergo the radical treatment last spring. The other three have since died.

Rink suffers from a rare form of bone cancer. His right leg was amputated last April in an attempt to stop the disease from spreading.

He and his wife, Jean—who is expecting the couple's first child in September — returned to Roswell Park June 5 for another "dose" of the treatment after doctors reported the first treatment might have showed some signs of success.

In the procedure, surgeons transplant small sections of cancerous tissue between two or more volunteer patients.

Woman Flees Ionia; First in Last 36 Years

IONIA (UPI) — Ionia State Hospital's first female escapee in 36 years left the grounds yesterday afternoon while doing housekeeping work in a building in the hospital grove.

Authorities described the woman as Mrs. Lillian Kangas, 25, Calumet, transferred to the hospital from the Detroit House of Correction in February.

She had been given a 2-to-15-year sentence for breaking and entering the Houghton County Circuit Court last September.

Mrs. Kangas was a trusty patient at the hospital and wasn't missed until shortly after noon.

Hospital officials said several dozen patients walk away annually but they are all males. Mrs. Kangas was dressed in black slacks and a yellow blouse.

2 Quit Detroit Police

DETROIT (AP) — Under both grand jury and departmental investigation, the Detroit police force is losing two more top echelon officers to retirement.

Only last week, Deputy Supt. Paul R. Sheridan applied for retirement.

Inspector Peter R. Soncrant, 57, the deputy chief of detectives, and James Dunleavy, 58, filed for retirement yesterday.

Eighteen policemen have been indicted by a one-man grand jury, 17 on charges of perjury. Two of these 17 and another have been indicted on charges of bribery and conspiracy to bribe.

Two inspectors and a sergeant have been suspended in a departmental investigation prompted by notations found in three notebooks seized by grand jury raiders in a downtown restaurant.

Police Commissioner Ray Girardin said there was no connection between the retirements of Soncrant, Dunleavy and Sheridan and his departmental investigation. None of them is under indictment, nor is any officer above the rank of sergeant.

Soncrant said illness of his wife, Eileen, was "the only reason" for his retirement after 37 years on the force, and Girardin told newsmen: "His (Soncrant's) retirement has nothing to do with our investigation. He has problems of his own."

Corner of Dixie Highway and Telegraph Road — IN PONTIAC

Eight o'clock in the morning and they're already digging into their lunch! Before they boarded the bus Tuesday morning for day camp at Camp Oweki, Luetta Williams, 9, Howard McNeill Street (left) and Lisa Tusset, 8, Winchcombe Drive, investigated their food supply. The girls are starting two weeks of fun at the camp sponsored by the Pontiac Area Council of Camp Fire Girls.

Says Active Over-60 Volunteer

It's Time to Start Anew

By JOY MILLER
AP Women's Editor

NEW YORK — The woman of 60 has to face this fact, says Julia Lesser Crews: "Either she's going on living and be a contributing part of society, or she might as well not be there at all."

That may sound harsh, but Mrs. Crews feels she's entitled to say it. "I belong in that vast group of widows with 15 years left, and I know it's not funny."

Since the 1930s when Mrs. Crews rocked the cradle with a foot to free her hands for telephoning and typing, she has been active in civic and social work — not one or two little chairmanships, mind you, but dozens and dozens of volunteer jobs in which she rolled up her sleeves and "got my hands in the dirt."

NEEDED
"American democracy," she believes, "is very much dependent on the woman volunteer to keep the vital processes of social welfare going."

"You can't pay for all the people you need. So who's going to do it?"

To answer her own question she suggests that the great number of volunteers should come from this group of 60ish widows of whom she's one.

"These women were well trained in their youth, control wealth now (and they're also the hardest group to get money out of for a worthy cause), and have been so lucky throughout their lives, so protected by husband and children."

"This is the group of women that's most insecure, but if they'd only see it, the world is their oyster."

If any area of any organization interests one of these women, all she has to do is get in touch with the organization and it will tell her how she can help, says Mrs. Crews.

"It's a different world from what it was 30 years ago. All these public agencies have methods of training volunteers, but you have to go to them. Nobody is coming to your door."

Also, ask where you're needed, advises this dynamic doer, who has had her fill of volunteers who want to start right off making speeches.

HELP OTHERS

"And all through my life I've run into women who want to advance themselves only. They're not interested in helping the human race."

"So now when I talk to the older groups I say 'So it's yourself you want to help, then you want to be with it — and you get with it by working with young people who are with it.'"

"You want to be young again, work at the lowly level — not where you tell 'em what to do — but where you can get your hands in the dirt. You can't be at the top level if you're where the kids are."

"If necessary, address envelopes, lick stamps, be a Big Sister, work with Headstart... When licking stamps you're absorbing who's doing the job, who comes and goes."

"I tell them the world has changed. The older person has to get back in the drift, and the best way to do it is as the kids do it, at the lower level."

Mrs. Crews is currently working hard to get a booklet "You and The Law" into the school curriculum to help combat juvenile delinquency.

WRITING

She is preparing a book for publication, "Politician in America" aided by her experience as a Democratic candidate for Congress from Westchester County, N.Y., and a convention delegate, and political activity that dates back to 1917 when she worked for the Woman's Suffrage Amendment in New York.

"After all these years in politics," she says, "I know that it doesn't operate without volunteers, particularly women volunteers."

After receiving a masters in political science at Columbia University, Julia Crews worked in New York field-management and public relations.

When her husband, Floyd, a patent lawyer, thought a move to the suburbs would be best for their two small children, she made the switch gracefully.

Emotional Disorders Hit All

Brainy People Fall Ill Too

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a 33-year-old sister who has been under psychiatric care for nearly a year. I can't understand why.

She is a very smart person. She reads constantly and can discuss politics, religion, psychology, art, and current events with the most educated people, and everyone remarks on how brilliant she is.

She's even written poetry and short stories which have been published. Her mechanical aptitude amazes men. She can fix clocks, radios, and repair small motors.

So will you please tell me why a person who is as smart as she is needs psychiatric treatment?

PUZZLED
DEAR PUZZLED: Emotional disorders have no more to do with intelligence, cultural interests, or motor skills than diabetes or arthritis have.

If you knew precisely why your sister needed psychiatric treatment, you'd be a psychiatrist. Let it go at that.

DEAR ABBY: My only child had a birthday yesterday. In about a month I will get a letter from my sister-in-law in which she will say, "Didn't Stevie have a birthday this month? Or was it last month? What can I send him?"

Abby, I have five nieces and nephews, all the children of my brother and this sister-in-law, and I remember every one of their children on their birthdays, Christmas, and all special occasions.

If I can remember all of theirs, why can't they remember one of mine? My son is not greedy. He would appreciate being remembered with a card if it came on THE day.

Please print this. A word to the wise, you know.

REMEMBERED
DEAR REMEMBERED: It will take more than "a word." The wise don't need it, and the otherwise won't heed it.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a professional man. He has a girl in his office who is a divorcee with young children to support, but that's HER problem.

I stopped at my husband's office for a few minutes yesterday and first off, this girl called me by my first name in front of a lot of people sitting in the waiting room.

Then she said, "Want to hear a cute joke?" I said "All right." Then she told the dirtiest joke I had ever heard.

Abby, I've been married for over 20 years, and my husband would never tell me a joke like that. I left the office at once, not being able to look anyone in the face. Later, I told my husband what happened and demanded that he get rid of that girl.

He says he can't, she is the most efficient girl he has ever had and he "NEEDS" her.

Abby, do you think a husband who really loved his wife would keep a girl like that in his office?

IRATE

DEAR IRATE: Possibly. Don't confuse how much your husband "loves" you with how important an employee may be to him.

His professional image is likely to suffer if he keeps such a coarse and brazen girl in his office, but until he concludes that she's not worth it, it's HIS problem.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "SITTING HOME" IN SILVER SPRINGS, MD.: Time heals all wounds. It also wounds all heels. Be patient; he'll get his.

Problems? Write to Abby, in care of The Pontiac Press. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Theme music for the coat at the left is "March Militaire." The Originala model is navy double-faced fabric with crested military buttons and a tab cadet collar.

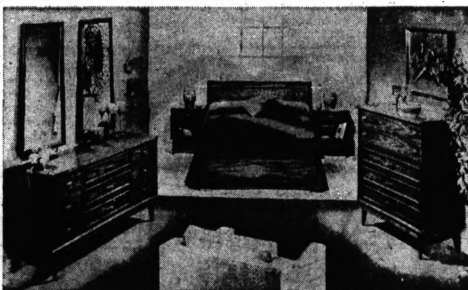

The crisp camel ensemble by Hannah Troy (right) is banded in black. Skirts are short so coats are shorter still. Both shown in New York this week.

Keeps Draperies off Wet Floors

To keep draperies off the way when you mop or wax floors, try slipping them over a wooden coat hanger. Then hook the hangers on the curtain rod. The smooth surface of the coat hanger will not pull threads or damage the draperies, and they are out of the way while you work.

Soap Suds Art Is Fun for All Ages

Here's a simple art project that even a non-artist can accomplish. It requires only colored art paper and a batch of soap (or detergent) suds beaten up to a dense, meringue-like texture.

Even a small boy or girl can use the bowl of a spoon to press these thick suds into pre-designed shapes—or free forms to make abstract designs in white or color. After drying, the suds adhere to the art paper, creating an imaginative 3-D drawing.

Several of these unusual "soaparamas" make attractive wall decorations for the child's room—and give a sense of pride in his "creations."

Organ for Jazz Not New

Every so often, a jazz buff will hear an exceptionally fine jazz organist and think he has discovered something new and different.

The technique may be new and different such as the fresh sounds made by the young artist, Freddie Roach, but the organ as a jazz instrument is not new at all.

PIPE ORGAN BLUES

The history of the jazz organ dates back to the early 1920's when the late "Pats" Waller studied it as a child. In 1936 he recorded St. Louis Blues and Lennox Avenue Blues playing a pipe organ.

Then, the invention of the electric organ by Laurens Hammond in 1935 created a whole new area of musical exploration. Walter was enthusiastic and made a series of recordings on this organ during the three years before his death. One was his famous composition, The Jitterbug Waltz.

In the 1930's Count Basie released an organ recording of Nobody Knows and Milt Herth was heard in a series of jazz novelty records.

Toward the end of the war years, Bill Davis, who was playing with Louis Jordan's Tympany Five, developed a pedal technique which attracted the attention of Duke Ellington. Together, Ellington and Davis produced a recording with Davis on the organ and Ellington on the piano.

Another Davis, Jackie, who worked as accompanist for Ella Fitzgerald, Louis Jordan and Dinah Washington, claims to have been the first jazz pianist to switch to organ and make a name for himself as a jazz organist.

ORGAN TRIO

Later, the spotlight turned to young Pennsylvania pianist, popular Jimmy Smith. Jimmy has won a Major Bowes talent contest as a nine-year-old prodigy. By the time he was 20, he had formed his own organ trio.

He arrived in New York in 1956 and was an immediate success, the first jazz organist — of international popularity — to reach the front ranks both musically and commercially.

With Smith as an inspiration, many other jazz pianists switched to the organ throughout the 1950s and into the 1960s. The organ, too, as an instrument kept pace by challenging new young talent with a tremendous range of new sounds and combinations.

Names such as Richard "Groove" Holmes, a brilliant blues artist, Charles Kynard who swings with a guitarist, and Shirley Scott, a young Philadelphian, have sprung into prominence.

Is organ jazz new? Maybe it is — after all, 30 to 40 years in a musical world is not very old.

Housewives Air Package Peeve

NEW YORK (UPI) — Hard to open and hard to close packages are among the peeves of housewives.

Sales Management, a magazine of marketing, found in a study of 1,411 women that 33 per cent complained about difficulty in opening packages, another 10 per cent found fault with reclosing, and 10 per cent complained of deterioration of packages. Others complained, to a lesser degree however, about false representation, label information, and inconvenient size.

Silk Gown Is Chosen by Bride

Sherry Louise Sowels chose white silk organza and lace for recent vows to Robert T. Conway in the Lake Louise Nazarene Church in Orionville.

A teardrop tiara held her illusion veil and white carnations and miniature pink roses covered her white Bible.

SEW SIMPLE

By Eunice Farmer

This travel coat is sure to catch everyone's eye, it's unusual, its versatile, and it's a fun coat to wear. My travel coat is made of a half-spread, burlesque-type, Swiss cotton, with a paisley design in almost every color imaginable, yet no one color is dominant. It has a cape-type sleeve which is easy to slip over suits or dresses. It has straight lines with a small bias rolled mandarin-type collar. The ends just loop over at the neck in a casual tie.

We lined it in a citron color to match my one wool suit for the trip. It was already sock-guarded to resist soil. I am taking it to my cleaners to have it treated. It will then serve as a water-repellent rain coat and be equally perfect as an evening coat. Best of all, it is individual and not stereotyped!

My citron colored wool suit is very simple in line but very exciting and dressy because of the beautiful color. It has lapels and its double breasted with tiny black jet buttons for the closing. Instead of a conventional suit, I use a simple dress instead of a skirt. The dress is sleeveless with a high, front neckline and a low, square back which instantly makes this perfect for the dressiest occasion.

A third part of this ensemble is a very practical dark, emerald green (not bright) flame rayon, notched-collar suit. It has the very new short sleeves and an almost straight skirt. The lining and blouse are made of lightweight, cotton, velveteen in shades of shocking pink, green and white.

An extra addition is an overblouse of the suit fabric with a large, bold monogram in shades of shocking pink.

Mrs. E. A. G. says:

To help those hard-to-hold creases in shorts and slacks that you make for your children out of the new iron-free fabrics, fold garment on the crease line. Machine stitch with matching colored thread as close as possible to the edge of fold. This will keep the crease in place permanently!

'Right' Frame Can Enhance Print, Room

Choosing the "right" frame for a favorite picture can transform "just another print" into the perfect decorating accent to that wall space over mantel, sofa, or buffet.

There's no mystery about selecting the proper frame to enhance both picture and room decor. According to the Picture and Room Decor, According to the Picture and Room Institute, the "right" frame links the picture to the surrounding room setting, and any number of frame styles may be suitable for one picture.

A traditional frame can be as effective for a contemporary picture as it is for a reproduction of an old master. On the other hand, a simple, modern frame may be perfect for either realistic or non-objective pictures.

The Institute suggests that these general rules be kept in mind when selecting a frame:

- The frame should focus attention on the picture and draw the eye to its center of interest.
- It should surround the color and weight with the subject matter.
- The frame should strengthen the composition it frames without dominating it.
- It should surround the picture without halting the movement of color and line in the picture.
- If necessary, the frame should create an illusion of depth, size, or added perspective for the picture.

In the end result, the "right" frame will be the one that reflects personal choice as it complements both picture and room setting.

Doctors Claim Feedings Soon After Birth Best

CHICAGO, Ill. — How soon after birth should a baby be fed? Although this remains one of the most controversial questions in the practice of pediatrics, several recent studies suggest that early feedings, even for premature infants, can be both safe and beneficial.

Dr. Paul Y. K. Wu reported recently that he and Dr. Peter A. Teilmann studied the effect of early feeding on 34 healthy but low weight infants born at Michael Reese Hospital and Medical Center in Chicago.

Half the babies were fed two hours after birth, the remainder not until 24 to 36 hours later, as is usual with preemies. They all received a formula that provided 20 calories per ounce; the other treatments simulated breast milk.

What were the results?

The babies fed soon after birth lost only 4.7 per cent of birth weight in the immediate postnatal period, while the babies whose feedings began later lost an average of 7.4 per cent of their birth weight. Most of the early feeders regained their lesser losses in a week, while it took the other babies 12.6 days to regain their weight.

The researchers also found that there was less of a substance called serum bilirubin in the blood stream of the babies fed soon after birth. This substance is found when jaundice occurs. These babies also had a significantly higher blood sugar level and a higher sugar level in the liver than the infants fed after some delay. High bilirubin and low blood sugar levels are two of the major causes of mental retardation in preemies.

Mrs. J. B. Nowell Jr., Winston Salem, N. C. has won a Tailor Trux board for her following suggestion.

"When making washable blouses, dresses, or boy's shirts use an extra collar or cuff of the same fabric as the garment for your interfacing. This gives extra body and insures a neater laundering job, no puckers or such. Be sure the garment fabric is firm and lightweight. This will avoid any chance of shrinkage you often find when you use cotton interfacings which result in wrinkles every time."

Vaccination Can Kill Fetus

Smallpox Shots, Said Danger in Pregnancy

By Science Service

LONDON—A warning against smallpox vaccinations in pregnant women has been sounded at Queen's College of the University of St. Andrews in Dundee.

The warning came from Dr. M. Green, a lecturer in bacteriology, S. M. Reid and K. Rhaney, who reported two cases of stillborn fetuses resulting from smallpox vaccinations in mothers.

The fetuses showed a condition known as fetal vaccinia. They had skin lesions and were infected internally with the vaccine virus.

Since the first report of fetal vaccinia in 1932, 13 such cases have been found. The English report adds two more.

Dr. Green and his colleagues noted that previous cases arose from a smallpox scare and massive vaccination. These, however, came from routine vaccinations given to the mothers in preparation for emigration.

LARGE NUMBERS

"In view of the large numbers of people who travel," observed the researchers, "it seems desirable that the risk of this apparently rare but serious complication of vaccination should be made widely known."

Her Fortune Was Just a Lot of Zeros

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—For five days Mrs. Una Tingle of suburban Northbridge had the largest private bank account in Australia — $40,000,000.00 — and did not know it.

Her fleeting good fortune came to an end when she went to her branch of the Commonwealth Savings Bank to make a withdrawal.

"I waited patiently for about 15 minutes," Mrs. Tingle said. "Then I noticed several of the tellers looking at me surreptitiously. I went over and asked them why there was a delay."

"A teller asked me whether I had made a deposit recently and I said yes, $36.45."

"He then asked me whether I had not made a mistake and deposited 40 million dollars instead."

BANK'S MISTAKE

"Unfortunately the mistake was the bank's, not mine. Their machine had added a row of zeros to the balance in my bank book."

"Still, it is nice to have been a multimillionaire—even though it was only for five days."

Would You Believe—a Girl?

Who Was That Sloppy GI?

FT. DEVENS, Mass. (AP)—There was only one word to describe the trooper's appearance—he was a mess.

He showed up as 2nd Lt. Edgar L. Smith III of the 82nd Airborne Division, lecturing on tactics to cadets of the Reserve Officers' training corps in summer training at Ft. Devens.

The soldier's pack was sloppily rolled. A grenade dangled from his belt alongside a whisky bottle. His dogtags jangled and jangled like little bells. And a daily newspaper jutted from a hip pocket.

1st. Smith asked the cadets seated in the bleachers: "Would you want this trooper in your squad?" A resounding "No" rose from the amazed cadets.

WHIPS IT OFF

At that point, the sloppy GI whips off the camouflage and helmet and is revealed as a very pretty young lady, Lynn Smith, brunette wife of the instructor.

She agreed to the charade to help the young lieutenant impress on the reservists the importance of being able to face up to any situation, even pretty girls masquerading as combat GIs.

The stunt was pulled each morning with good effect until some of the cadets were tipped off. So the Smiths came up with a twist.

A regular soldier look Mrs. Smith's role and when her husband asked the reservists if they'd want him in their outfit, the youthful cadets roared back "yes."

GROAN AROSE

The regular soldier removed his helmet, and a groan went up from the bleachers.

Mrs. Smith then dashes from behind the bleachers and holds her husband for having replaced her in the skit.

The finale of the revised performance comes next. The petite Mrs. Smith tosses her 180-pound husband on her shoulder and lugs him off the field.

The young couple got up their act after Smith explained his need for something to impress on the cadets the importance of camouflage.

Accidents in Britain

LONDON (AP)—The government Road Research Laboratory says serious accidents decreased 13 per cent in the first four months after speed limits were put on 100,000 miles of major British roads.

The report indicated that the Ministry of Transport would maintain the speed limits despite vigorous protests from some drivers' organizations and sports car enthusiasts. The limits are 50 miles an hour on heavily traveled trunk roads and 70 miles on superhighways.

Sukarno Okays Loss of Life Presidency

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — the president has the right to appoint a Cabinet. The Congress ordered the president Tuesday to let Suharto would oppose any attempt by Gen. Suharto to form a Cabinet without his approval.

"I don't want to be president for life. I have no desire even to be elected president. I want to dedicate myself to the people, to the service of freedom," Sukarno told the closing session of the Provisional People's Consultative Congress.

He said he would carry out the resolutions passed by the Congress but declared that under the 1955 constitution, only

Viet Protesters Hold Camp-In

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — Six persons are camping out on the patio of the War Memorial Auditorium today in a planned five-day fast to protest the Viet Nam war.

Bill Gregory, 23, Nashville, one of the original group who took his last meal Sunday evening, said his eyes are a bit bloodshot and hurt a little. Don Borer said his joints hurt.

Those two, plus Jody Palmour, Gainesville, Ga., started the fast Monday and were joined by three others today.

Gregory, a former Marine and "proud of it," said none of the group approves of young men burning their draft cards. Borer and Palmour have draft cards, but have not been in service.

Borer said the protest is aimed at drumming up support against the Viet Nam war.

Those joining the demonstration today were Ed Hamlett, 27, Paul Fahle, 23, and Deliah Lawson, 30, a mother of four.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — Associated Press correspondent Bob Poos has spent 10 months in Viet Nam. Here are some observations of what has taken place there in the past year.)

By BOB POOS
NHA TRANG, South Viet Nam (AP) — Last fall and winter, the allies were clearly losing the war against Communist insurgents in Viet Nam. Now, just as clearly, the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese are staggering under punishment from the Americans, Koreans, and the revitalized South Vietnamese army.

Some time ago, the North Vietnamese general, Vo Nguyen Giap, conqueror of the French during the Vietnam war, boasted that he would defeat the Vietnamese army and its allies in the central highlands and the coastal region, that he would cut the country in two there, and choke it to death.

American, Vietnamese, and Korean blood and energy have thwarted this aim thus far.

In the past 30 days, through a combination of good luck and planning, allied military operations have thwarted at least four Communist strikes. During the past half-year, at least eight battalions of elite Viet Cong and North Vietnamese troops have been chopped up by allied fire power.

U.S. GENERALS

There have been several architects of allied success but among the foremost are a pair of U.S. major generals, Stanley R. Larsen, senior American in the corps, and Harry W. O. Kinnard, who brought the U.S. 1st Cavalry, Airmobile, Division to Viet Nam and directed it from its beginning through its most outstanding successes.

Working with them has been Maj. Gen. Vinh Loc, a relative of Viet Nam's last emperor, Bao Dai. The Vietnamese general does not particularly like Americans but respects their energy and military ability.

The Communists have in central Viet Nam about 10 regiments of North Vietnamese regulars, about 30,000 men, together with an equal number of hard core South Vietnamese regulars and guerrillas.

Confronting them are the U.S. Air Cavalry, the 1st Brigade of the 101st Airborne Division, more than a division of Koreans, the 3rd Brigade of the 25th Infantry Division, 12,000 regular Vietnamese troops and government militia.

NOT WORRIED

There has been much discussion of Communist "monsoon aggression," an enemy move that theoretically would be aided by the rains that predominate in this area at this time of the year. Yet, allied leaders are not particularly worried.

Along with military success, the allies have been accomplishing less spectacular but possibly even more important achievements.

The Vietnamese peasant, who throughout history has gone along with the apparent winner in his country's unending strife, is reported more and more reluctant to work as a Viet Cong porter or part-time guerrilla.

There is one thing, however, that must be accomplished to assure allied success in central Viet Nam: The routes of entry used by the North Vietnamese must be sealed off.

Allied success in central Viet Nam will not be easy and it will not be quick.

India Cheers Beatles; Filipinos Still Jeer

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — Manila newspapers continued belaboring the Beatles today for raving up the Philippine president's wife, but the singers had the consolation of a welcome from Indian fans in the pattern that they're used to.

A surging crowd of several thousand enthusiasts nearly engulfed the mop-top quartet last night as they arrived by plane from Manila. Police formed a human wall to hold off fans who claved at the British entertainers and pelted them with flowers.

"I thought everyone took it real cool here," said John Lennon as he entered the sweltering customs lounge at the airport.

The welcome was in sharp contrast to the jeers and curses the Beatles encountered on leaving Manila, where Filipinos still fumed over what they considered a slight to the wife of President Ferdinand E. Marcos.

The quartet failed to make a scheduled appearance Monday at the Presidential Palace. Their claim that they did not know they were expected, and an apology from the British Embassy did little to soothe ruffled feelings.

ATTENDANCE DOWN

Attendance at their two concerts Monday night totaled about 75,000 persons, half the number expected.

More than 500 persons booed the singers as they prepared to depart from Manila airport yesterday.

LIMITED AMBITIONS—Ronald Reagan, Republican candidate for governor of California, tells newsmen at Los Angeles yesterday that he would serve all four years of his term if elected. He said that was a "flat statement" meaning he would not be a potential GOP presidential candidate in 1968. Some leading Republicans have mentioned him as a possible candidate in '68 if he wins the California governor's chair.

No Bail for Mother in 3 Deaths

WATERVILLE, Maine (UPI) — A plain-dressed housewife, weeping wildly, was ordered held without bail yesterday in the slaying of her three children — a grisly reenactment of the way she slew her first three youngsters 12 years ago.

Mrs. Constance Fisher, 37, quietly wiped the tears from her face during the 40-minute district court hearing, while some 100 curious spectators crowded the small courtroom.

Her husband, Carl, returned home last Thursday night to find the bodies of the children, aged 4, 4 and 9 months, drowned.

His wife lay unconscious in her bed, an empty bottle of pills nearby.

"I'm sorry to have to do this. I haven't done a proper job in raising the children. They will be better off in heaven," a note said.

On March 8, 1954, Fisher returned home and found a similar sight — the drowned bodies

MADE ENEMIES—When John Gardner (right), secretary of health, education and welfare and James Goddard's boss, told the FDA chief to clean house, he did. And he made a lot of enemies.

'Goddard Program' Ready

Far-Reaching Changes Ahead for FDA

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the last in a two-part series on Dr. James Goddard, commissioner of the Food and Drug Administration.)

By TOM NOLAN
Newspaper Enterprise
WASHINGTON — In five months as boss of the Food and Drug Administration, Dr. James Goddard has made more speeches than any Cabinet member, more decisions than any of his predecessors in a similar time-span, and more enemies than is considered safe.

Amazingly, though, he has not yet begun to put the "Goddard Program" into operation. "We've just been cleaning up the problems we inherited," says an aide.

Goddard's basic objective is optimum consumer protection. Though FDA has some 4,000 employees and an annual budget of some $800 million, it is not large enough to provide perfect consumer protection.

When Goddard took over last January, the agency was about to embark on a five-year program devised by its predecessor, George Larrick. Goddard promptly scratched it. His main objection: "Some of the things scheduled for 1970 should be done now."

Helped by a handful of FDA veterans, he devised a new five-year plan of long-range goals. The veterans were highly impressed with Goddard's grasp of sophisticated management techniques.

"This plan's no pipe dream,"

Girls Prove Lifeguard Is 'All Wet'

BIRMINGHAM, England — Girls are lifeguards? "No," said ex-wrestler Hank Combes, 48. "It won't work. Frolicsome bathing beauties don't have the strength to do the job."

Combes reacted with a letter to protest to his local newspaper after six girl lifeguards had been signed for the summer at this resort city.

But the girls made him regret his words. They challenged him to let them prove they are good lifeguards. Combes accepted the challenge.

AGREED TO TEST
He agreed to swim out in the English Channel and pretend he was drowning. A pair of shapely lifeguards, Janet Trump, 18, and Suzanna Burnay, 17, went out to subside and rescue him.

After two minutes and 20 seconds, Combes was subdued, and puffing, panting and coughing up salt water, was hauled in like a hooked fish and beached.

"I was wrong," he admitted. "They were very, very good. They did the right things at the right time. What shook me was their sheer brute strength. I would recommend all men as lifeguards anywhere."

S. Korea Gaining Value as Ally

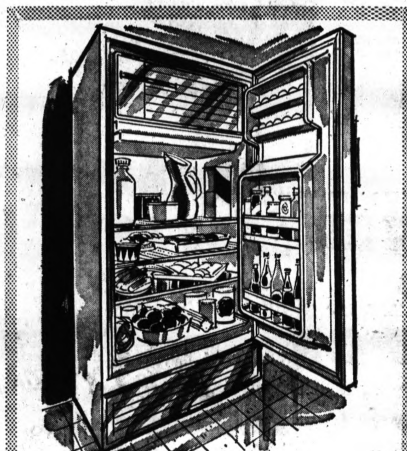

SEOUL (AP) — South Korea is flexing its diplomatic and military muscles, and U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk is likely to find Seoul an increasingly valuable but independent ally.

The main point of discussion on his visit here this weekend, earning praise from U.S. peace advocates, is the South Korean commitment to Viet Nam and its desire to participate in any peace talks there.

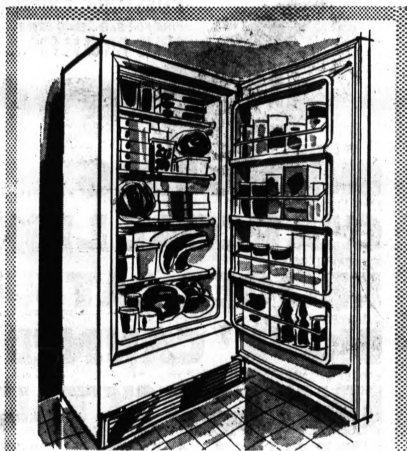

Washington has moved to the South Korean burden of sending troops to Viet Nam, but it has made no promises, but that the South Korean government, on his visit here this weekend, earning praise from U.S. peace advocates, is the South Korean commitment to Viet Nam and its desire to participate in any peace talks there.

Pumpkin Souffle Is Delectable, Creamy Summer Dessert

Of all desserts a Party Pumpkin Souffle is certainly much in favor for lighthearted summer meals. The secret of this chilled version is that it never falls in the center. Its appearance and texture are the same before and after being brought to the table.

Since this souffle is to be served cold, advance preparation is a must and a most welcome party recipe feature on an especially busy day.

Party Pumpkin Souffle is delicately soft and creamy because the canned pumpkin is blended with a spicy gelatin mixture and stiffly beaten egg whites and whipped cream are folded in.

To make a dramatic party dessert of it, fit a collar of foil around the edge of the souffle dish and let the filling rise an inch or two above the rim.

At serving time remove the foil, and garnish the top with swirls of whipped cream and slivers of crystallized ginger.

Party Pumpkin Souffle 4 envelopes unflavored gelatin

2 cups sugar
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon cinnamon

1½ teaspoons ginger
1 teaspoon nutmeg
¼ cup milk

1 can (1 lb. 13 oz.) pumpkin, or squash
8 eggs
¼ cups whipping cream
Crystallized ginger

Beat egg whites until stiff, gradually adding remaining ¼ cup sugar. Fold into pumpkin mixture. Pour into souffle dish with a foil collar; chill until firm. Serve topped with strips of crystallized ginger. Ten to twelve servings.

*To make foil collar: Measure foil to go around top of souffle dish, with 1-inch overlap. Fold in thirds lengthwise; oil lightly. Extend collar 2 inches above top of dish; fasten with tape.

Quick Skillet Dish Is Full of Beans

Your family will approve this bacon-accented dish . . . Chili's Beans

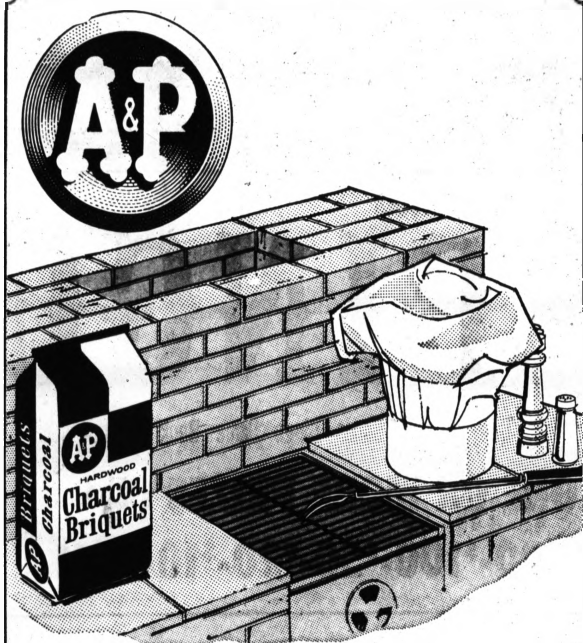

3 slices bacon
¼ cup sliced onion
1 can (15 ½ ounces) chili con carne (with beans)
1 can (8 ounces) lima beans, drained

¼ teaspoon garlic powder
1 can (8 ounces) butter beans, drained

In skillet, cook bacon until crisp; remove and crumble. Cook onion with garlic powder in drippings until tender. Add remaining ingredients. Heat, stir now and then. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

PARTY PUMPKIN SOUFFLE—A chilled party pumpkin souffle proves a refreshing companion to warm weather meals. Gently spiced, fluffy and smooth of texture, it makes a memorable dessert. Serve it garnished with whipped cream and slivers of crystallized ginger.

outdoor chefs are very fussy!

Ever since the outdoor cooking fad began, we've been catering to the special needs of outdoor chefs.

Over the years, we've satisfied scores of thousands.

Many, many find just the steak, chops or chicken they want in our self-service meat departments. Others have specific needs . . .

the steak must be 2¼" thick, the chops double thick and so forth.

That's no problem.

If you don't see it...just ask.

We'll be happy to help you.

One other reason we're so popular with "backyard barbecuers"... the quality of our "Super-Right" Meats. Quality so high, some meat graded U.S. Choice just isn't perfect enough to be "Super-Right" Meat.

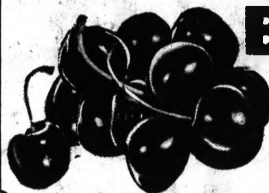

Is this a good reason for shopping A&P?

It's one of many.

Gobel Makes a Dip With Canned Chili

All across the country, relaxed summer entertaining is king! And people who enjoy fun and good food know there's no better way to start off an informal party than with a delicious dip — one like the king-of-good-times George Gobel favors.

It's Chili Dip, a snappy blend of flavorful canned chili con carne with beans, tangy cream cheese, and zippy red pepper. Out-of-the-ordinary George inspired this out-of-the-ordinary dip that's worthy of any crack, chip, or vegetable you'll want to dunk.

And this dip is so simple to make that even Alice doesn't mind putting it together... if through the summer.

George Gobel's Chili Dip (1 can (15½ ounces) chili con carne (with beans) 1 package (8 ounces) cream cheese, softened ¼ teaspoon crushed red pepper Blend chili into cream cheese; stir in pepper. Chili. Serve as dip with crackers or corn chips. Makes 2 cups dip.

That western-style chili combination of bright tomatoes, lean beef, tender beans, and perfectly blended spices provides a unique beginning for this snappy dip... or for a variety of summer meals and snacks that busy homemakers can whip up in nothing flat!

Keep several cans of chili con carne with beans on hand as "quick eating" insurance throughout the summer.

CHILI DIP — Dinner tastes better when it follows a relaxed beginning of bright cocktail vegetable juice, assorted crackers, and flavorful Chili Dip. The unique dip teams a canned chili con carne with beans with cream cheese — it's as easy to prepare, good to eat!

Stick Berries on a Topiary Tree

You will need six items to make a strawberry topiary tree... a small flower pot or other container, a wooden dowel or spike, a styrofoam sphere, ribbon, colored foil and lots of fresh strawberries.

Start with a container that is about 4-inches in diameter. Use a wood receptacle or spray a clay pot gold, red or what you will with aerosol paint (available in hardware and variety stores).

When dry, fill with pebbles, marbles, or any substance that will hold a dowel in place. Insert a dowel, wooden peg or stick... about 3-inches high and no more than 1-inch in diameter... into container and wrap, if you wish, with matching ribbon.

Now cut a piece of Styrofoam or Oasis (available at florists)

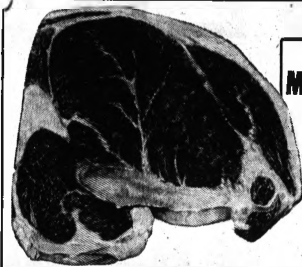

Use Quickly

It's safe to freeze food if it is only partly thawed and is still icy inside. But remember that frozen food loses some of its flavor and other qualities and that it should be used as soon as possible.

and variety stores... often already cut into shapes) into a 6-inch sphere. Cover completely with plain or colored foil.

Using wooden toothpicks broken in half, attach strawberries to the sphere. You will require about four plants of berries. Keep chilled.

Cool Salads Hit the Spot in Summer

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Salads are about the coolest thing to think about on these torrid summer days.

Fruit salads rate high with women who often serve them for luncheons. They are, however, refreshingly good with a regular dinner.

One colorful combination includes grapefruit wedges, orange wheels and avocado slices. To complement this salad, make this different dressing.

FRUIT SALAD DRESSING
1/4 cup light corn syrup
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 cup cider vinegar
3 tablespoons lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated onion
1/4 cup salad oil
1/4 cup ketchup

Using rotary beater or electric mixer blend corn syrup and salt with remaining ingredients until smooth. Cover; chill. Stir well before serving. Serve over fruit salads. Makes approximately 2 cups.

Fruit and seafood get along together famously. Crabmeat, tuna fish or lobster looks good and tastes wonderful when served in a melon bowl. Use either cantaloupe or honeydew.

Crab Cantaloupe Salad
2 cans Alaska King crab (7 1/2 oz. each) or 1 package (1 pound) frozen Alaska King crab
2 ripe cantaloupe melons
1 cup honeydew melon balls (optional)
1/2 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon honey
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 teaspoon salt

Drain and slice crab. Halve melons and scoop out seeds. Using melon ball cutter, make melon balls from cantaloupe meat. Save shells to use as serving dishes if desired. Combine crab with melon balls.

Mix together sour cream, honey, lemon juice and salt and pour over crab-melon salad. Heap into melon shells or serve in individual salad bowls. Makes 4 servings.

Letting everyone assemble his own salad is an excellent idea, especially at a buffet. With a tray of cooked and raw vegetables, serve garlic flavored mayonnaise.

ENSALADA VERDE
2 fully ripe avocados
Lemon juice
1/2 cup olive oil
2 tablespoons vinegar
1 clove garlic, halved
1 teaspoon each: ground mustard, salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup pimiento-stuffed olives
1 package (9 ounces) frozen Italian green beans
1 package (9 ounces) French style green beans
1 package (10 ounces) green peas

1 package (10 ounces) asparagus spears
1 large cucumber, thinly sliced
Aioli Sauce
Cook and drain frozen vegetables.
Halve avocados lengthwise, twisting gently to separate halves. Whack a sharp knife directly into seed and twist to lift out. Peel halves. Place cavity-side down and slice; brush with lemon juice.

Combine olive oil, vinegar, garlic, mustard, salt and pepper; beat or shake well. Arrange avocados, olives and vegetables in serving dish. Pour dressing over vegetables and marinate several hours. Serve with Aioli Sauce.
To prepare Aioli Sauce: (Makes about 1 cup) Crush 6 cloves garlic; beat in 2 egg yolks. With fork or wire whisk, slowly beat in 1 cup olive oil and juice of 1 lemon. Add salt and pepper to taste.

A molded chicken salad that contains cheese and rice in addition to the chicken is hearty enough for dinner.

If you're afraid that the gelatin will melt during the hot weather, simply add half a package of unflavored gelatin to the cold liquid before mixing it with the hot liquid. Or scant the liquid by about one-fourth cup.

CHICKEN SALAD SUPREME First Layer:
1 package (3 oz.) celery flavored gelatin
1 tablespoon lemon juice

1 teaspoon salt
Celery slices
Green pepper pieces
Parsley sprigs
Pimiento pieces
Second Layer:
1 tablespoon (1 envelope) unflavored gelatin
1/4 cup blue cheese
1 cup milk

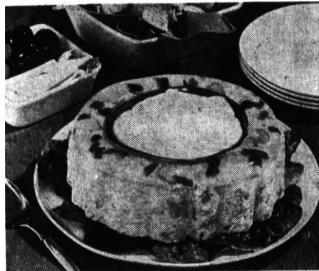

1/4 cup dairy sour cream
1/4 cups cooked rice
1 1/2 cups cooked diced chicken
1/4 cup chopped celery
1/4 cup chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped pimiento
1 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/4 teaspoon dry tarragon

To prepare first layer: Make gelatin according to package directions; add lemon juice and salt; pour one-half of mixture into a 6 1/2 cup ring mold. Set remainder of gelatin aside.

Decorate gelatin in mold with pieces of celery, green pepper, parsley and pimiento. Chill until firm: To prepare second layer: In a 1-quart saucepan, soften unflavored gelatin in re-

FRUIT SALAD

Add Fruit to Sauce for Good Sundae

This is a sauce for ice cream that youngsters can whip up themselves.

Butterscotch Fruit Sauce
1 can (8 1/2 ounces) crushed pineapple or 1 can (8 ounces) fruit cocktail
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 package (6 ounces) butterscotch-flavored morsels
Into a small saucepan turn the undrained pineapple and butter. Bring to a boil. Remove from heat; at once add butterscotch morsels and stir vigorously until melted. Serve warm over ice cream. Makes about 1 1/2 cups.

Fruit Cocktail Js Added to Lemon Pie

Western cooks are really kitchen pioneers. Something new seems to be their favorite ingredient.

For instance, where but on the Pacific Coast would anyone stud a lemon pie with fruit salad and spark it with a touch of nutmeg?

Fruited Lemon Pie
1 can (1 lb. 14 oz.) fruit cocktail
2 eggs, slightly beaten
1 package (3 1/2 oz.) lemon pie filling
1/2 cup sugar
Pinch salt
1 1/4 teaspoons grated lemon rind
Water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 cup whipping cream
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
Baked 9-inch pastry shell

Drain fruit cocktail, saving syrup. Combine in saucepan pie filling, sugar, salt, eggs and lemon rind. Add water to fruit syrup to make amount of liquid called for on pie filling package; blend into mixture in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a full boil. Remove from heat. Stir in lemon juice. Cool to room temperature.

Whip cream with nutmeg. Fold 1 cup lemon mixture into whipped cream. Fold fruit cocktail into remaining lemon mixture.

Save 1 cup of fruit mixture; turn remainder into pie shell. Turn whipped cream mixture over fruit layer. Garnish with spoonfuls of reserved fruit mixture.

Chill well before serving. Makes 6-8 servings.

Top Rye Toast

Nothing tame about the taste of this sandwich. To create 2 of them, open can of sardines, drain off oil. Add a teaspoon prepared mustard and a tablespoon chopped sweet pickle to 2 teaspoons soft butter. Spread this "butter" over 2 slices hot rye toast.

Arrange 8 sardines on each toast slice and sparingly drizzle pickle juice over them. Top each sandwich with a slice of Swiss cheese.

Finish with a dash of paprika. Bake in a hot oven (450 degrees) for 5 minutes, or until cheese melts. Serve hot.

Peanut Cookies Are Crunchy

Have you ever wandered around a carnival, looking at the sights, munching peanuts? It's readily understandable how these cookies were inspired.

The flavor of land and brown sugar give an especially tempting cookie, points out home economist, Reba Staggs.

Carnival Cookies
1 cup lard
1/2 cup brown sugar
1/2 cups sifted enriched flour
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/4 teaspoon salt

2 eggs
2 teaspoons vanilla
2 cups Spanish peanuts
Sugar
Cream lard and brown sugar. Sift together flour, soda and salt. Add eggs, vanilla and sifted ingredients to creamed mixture. Stir in peanuts.

Shape into balls about the size of a walnut. Place about 2 inches apart on ungreased cookie sheet. Flatten with a water glass wrapped in a damp towel. Sprinkle with granulated sugar.

Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) 12 to 15 minutes. Yield: 5 1/2 dozen.

Apple Industry Has Book, Film

National Apple Institute, the national apple grower federation, has just recently added two more excellent "tools" to its greater promotion and public awareness for apples.

A new "Apple Kitchen Cookbook," in popular paperback format, contains an opening chapter all about the history and lore and fact notes about apples and devotes some 200 pages to recipes and ideas for serving apples... from appetizers to main course dishes to a legion of different salad and dessert uses.

The book retails for 75 cents per copy and is available from grower organizations throughout the country.

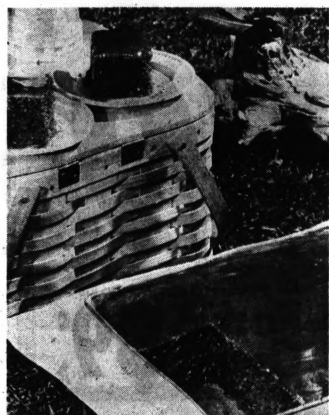

A new full color motion picture, "The Miracle of Apples," is a second major addition to apple promotional and education tools available through apple grower associations throughout the country.

It is available on loan or copies may be purchased from the NAI offices at 2000 "P" Street, N. W., Washington, D.C. for $145.00 per print. It's with sound, 16 mm. and runs for twenty-five minutes.

The film is a colorful documentation of the apple and the apple industry in America... excellent for all age groups... for school use and adult audiences.

Vegetables Perk Up

Vegetable-fied? Try adding freshly-grated delicious apple to cooked carrots, beets, beans or cabbage. One cup grated apple to each 4 cups of cooked vegetable promises flavorful eating.

PICNIC CAKE—For your next picnic, try a variation of German Chocolate Cake, using a mix. Heat oven to 350 degrees. Prepare German Chocolate Cake mix as directed on package, except—stir into batter coconut and pecans of the coconut-pecan frosting mix. Pour into greased and floured oblong pan, 13x9x2 in. Bake as directed. Cool. Prepare frosting mix packet as directed on package. Frost cake.

Braise Veal Chops in Chinese Style

With the coming of warmer weather, our day dreams often turn to plans for travel as well as gardening. Not all of us can pack up and take off for intriguing foreign ports, but there is a wide world of adventure well within the reach of all of us in our own kitchens.

A delicious starting point for a "Cook's Tour" is with this recipe for Veal Chops Chinois. Although reminiscent of Chinese cooking, all the ingredients in this recipe are easily available in local supermarkets.

The veal chops are beautifully browned with the aid of kitchen bouquet, then cooked in the flavorful broth from canned braised mushrooms and served in a sauce homelike with sliced broiled mushrooms and crisp water chestnuts.

Serve these chops with hot fluffy rice and tender-crisp fresh asparagus.

Veal Chops Chinois
4 veal chops, 1-inch thick
Kitchen bouquet (bottled browned sauce)
1 tablespoon butter or margarine
1 tablespoon vegetable oil
1 tablespoon instant minced onion

Tuna, Rice Team With Baked Bananas

While people today spend much time in entertaining, they seldom think back to man's early days when hospitality just didn't exist. Food was scarce then and man downed it in conclusion and haste, lest it be snatched away from him.

As civilization developed and food became more plentiful, friendship was expressed by sharing bread and drink... or even a communal pipe.

Among the Korliagas, for example, a cup of water was always given to a visitor with the phrase "Let us be friends."

In Senegal, a guest was offered a beji nut as a mark of courtesy; the Trobriand Islanders it polite to give a dish of honey and the Tahitians greeted a guest with "Hare mai to maba," which means "Come and eat with us."

Eating together is still the symbol of hospitality... today we invite friends to lunch, tea, dinner... and we always want to serve them something rather special. Tahitian Tuna is King of Rice

1 can (1 pound, 4 1/2 ounces) pineapple chunks
1/2 cup sugar
3 tablespoons cornstarch
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
1 cup vegetable stock or bouillon

2 tablespoons vinegar
2 teaspoons soy sauce
1/2 teaspoon Worcestershire
1 large green pepper, cut in strips
1/2 cup diagonally sliced celery
3 cans (4 1/2 to 7 ounces) tuna, drained and flaked
Hot cooked rice or rice rings
Drain pineapple; reserve 1/2 cup syrup. Mix sugar, cornstarch, salt and monosodium glutamate in saucepan; stir in reserved syrup, stock, vinegar, soy sauce and Worcestershire. Add green pepper and celery.

Cook and stir over medium heat until sauce is thickened and clear and vegetables are slightly tender. Add tuna and bring to serving temperature, stirring frequently.

Serve over hot rice or in center of rice ring. If desired, sprinkle toasted coconut and slivered almonds on top and accompany with baked bananas.

Clastone-Honey Baked Bananas (Makes 6 servings): Peel 6 medium bananas, green-tipped. Add place whole in shallow dish. Combine 1/2 cup honey, 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 teaspoon cinnamon; pour over bananas.

Bake in moderate oven (375 degrees) 20 minutes, basting occasionally with honey mixture.

CORN BREAD-HAM SQUARES—Prepare a 12-oz. package of corn muffin mix according to directions. Fold in two-thirds cup chopped cocktail peanuts and one-fourth square pan. Bake as directed on corn muffin package. Repound sliced boiled ham. Flour into greased 8-inch move from pan. Cut into squares and serve hot as snacks.

Alternates Fruits and Shrimp Dish Is Luscious
Homemakers know shrimp is high in nutrition and low in calories, easy and fast to prepare—and delicious no matter how it's prepared.

A tempting example are these summertime kabobs of shrimp and fruit, chilled before broiling in a tantalizing marinade.

Shrimp-Fruit Kabobs
1 cup orange juice
1/4 cup vinegar
1/2 cup salad oil
1/2 cup soy sauce
1 teaspoon salt
1 pound fresh shrimp, shelled and deveined, or 1 1/2-ounce package frozen shrimp, thawed
16 thin slices lime or lemon
16 maraschino cherries
1 large banana, cut in thick slices
Combine orange juice, vinegar, oil, soy sauce, and salt; blend. Add remaining ingredients. Chill 1 hour. Arrange shrimp, lime or lemon slices, cherries, and banana slices on 8 skewers. Broil kabobs 14 inches from source of heat, or cook on outdoor grill 3 to 4 minutes each side. Heat remaining marinade and serve as a sauce for kabobs. Make 4 servings.

by USDA's Consumer and Marketing Service in cooperation with State departments of agriculture, is known as the "Federal State Quality Control Program." The unique feature of this program is that eggs marketed with this exclusive shield are controlled for quality from the time they are laid until they are sold to the consumer.

Here's how the program works. If a farmer or egg packer wishes to earn the "USDA Quality Control" grademark for his service, of course, and he must agree to pay for the service. The farm is surveyed to insure that it meets the high standards of the program. After the program is initiated, surveys are performed to maintain these high standards. Some of the requirements of the program are: Eggs must be gathered frequently on the farm — two or three times a day. Eggs must be cooled immediately after gathering—and must be kept at a constant temperature and humidity until they are sold to the consumer at the grocery store. Samples of the eggs are broken out and height of the thick white is measured by a micrometer. Eggs must meet consistently high standards of the flock is to stay in the quality control program. In addition, the eggs are closely, examined individually for exterior defects such as misshaped shells, stains, etc. and all such eggs are removed before packaging. Cartons of eggs must have an expiration date marked on them — a date 10 days from the time of testing. (After this date, the eggs cannot be sold with the USDA grademark.) Government graders perform the surveys, sampling and grading necessary to insure that the eggs maintain high quality levels. Because of this program, many American consumers can now buy the very best eggs available — those marked with the USDA Quality Control Grade AA or USDA Fresh Fancy grademark.

New Attractive Barbecue Cookbook Is Full of Helpful Ideas for Outdoor Meals

With the barbecue season in full swing, now is the time to

McCall's Barbecue Cookbook (Random House, New York City, $2.95) is an attractive and practical volume about cooking food on the grill.

It covers—naturally—the details of equipment and procedures of barbecuing. The

But the Test of the meal is not neglected. There are recipes for everything from appetizers through desserts.

Let's Be Fancy

No reason why you shouldn't heat canned pork and beans on the outdoor grill! But you may want to "doctor" them up with mustard, molasses and onion.

ROAST ONIONS IN FOIL

minum foil. Wrap foil loosely around, twisting ends together at top to seal.

Adjust grill five inches from prepared coals. Place onions at edge of grill. Roast, turning occasionally with tongs, 40 to 50 minutes, or until tender.

To serve: Open foil at top; push back onion skin. Add but-

To cook indoors: Wrap onions in foil as directed. Bake on cookie sheet in a 425-degree oven 30 to 40 minutes, or until tender.

To "score" a ham means to make shallow cuts—usually in crisscross fashion—in the fat.

Two Kinds

When you are serving fruit and cheese for dessert, offer both a mild and a sharp cheese. Eaters can help themselves to the variety they like best.

Fruit Leaves Are Low in Tar

By Science Service
LONDON — Cancer-conscious? Try smoking fruit leaves. Papaya leaves flavored with honey, cocoa and "tobacco extract" have been made into cigarettes containing only 37.8 per cent of the tar in the standard, tobacco-filled variety.

The leaves were cured, shredded, dunked in "extracting solvent," rinsed, dunked again, heated and allowed to dry.

After being flavored with half a dozen different substances, 50 pounds of leaves were rolled into king-size cigarettes and smoked on a "standard Ecstasy smoking machine." The machine took two-second puffs, spaced at one minute intervals.

The result, reported R. J. Shamberger of Roswell Park Memorial Institute, Buffalo, N.Y., in the journal Nature (211:86-1966), was that tar was reduced to 14.6 grams per cigarette, compared to 38.6 grams in a tobacco cigarette.

Phenols were reduced to 8.5 per cent of the amount in a tobacco cigarette, and "other toxic compounds" were also "probably considerably reduced."

The smoking machine declined to comment on the taste.

THOMAS

has a wife and daughter to return to.

"And what's the difference it is!" he explains. "Them two make all the work worth it."

Durante averages six months of playing the top nightclubs of the nation, usually returns to his Beverly Drive home in later spring. He'll take a local date last week he was playing Humpy Dumpty in NBC's special "Through the Looking Glass," which will appear Nov. 6.

Otherwise, he preserves his summers, especially the three months he spends with wife, Marge, and daughter, Cece, at Del Mar, 100 miles south.

OUT FISHIN' — "I wouldn't miss that for the world," said Jimmy. "In the mornin', I'm out fishin' in the surf; I love it. Then, in the afternoon, I go to the racetrack. I don't bet much, 'cause you can't win anyway when you play nine races. And that daily double! Murder!"

He is admittedly a fond parent, having become one late in the game. The Durantes adopted Cece four years ago. She can do no wrong in his eyes. The only thing about her he deprecates is the nose.

"How d'ya like that kid!" he shrugged. "All she got for a nose is a button. It's no bigger'n a pimple. I keep pullin' on it, hopin' it'll make it grow. Nuttin' happens."

Come early autumn, Jimmy will once more be resuming his vagabondage. His wife and daughter sometimes join him in resorts like Miami and Puerto Rico, but most of the time they stay home. While he misses them, he doesn't mind the gypsy life.

AIN'T SO HARD — "Ya know, it keeps me from gettin' rusty," he said. "It ain't such hard work; I do an hour and 15 minutes couple times a night. And the time I spend out there with Sonny (King) and the rest of the boys is real fun."

"Why, you go out on the floors of some of those joints and you can just feel the audience likin' you. It's like electricity, dat's what it is."

Whatever it is, Jimmy thrives on it. He seems to have lost none of the explosive energy for which he has been noted throughout his long career.

Hollywood Is Rediscovered in Indonesia as Ban Is Lifted

JAKARTA (UPI)—Six months ago if you had asked an Indonesian teenager to name her favorite movie stars, the answers would have been Chitra Dewi or Titi Puspa.

The other day when I asked a young lady the same question she named Cary Grant and Audie Murphy.

The difference is significant. American movies have come back to Indonesia after a two-year Communist-sponsored boycott that operated under the unofficial endorsement of President Sukarno.

The return of American films is symbolic, in a way, of the wave of cultural pro-American sentiment that has swept the country since last October's abortive Communist coup. It also tells a lot about the country's finances.

FILMS LIMITED — Until recently, the only films shown here were Communist bloc imports, which were nobody's favorite, plus the local product and a few Japanese films.

Chitra Dewi and Titi Puspa are female Indonesian stars of some standing.

Now, smartly dressed Indonesians stream into the Ball Room of the posh Hotel Indonesia every Wednesday, Friday and Saturday night to watch such silver screen oldies as "The Counting of Eddie's Father" with Shirley Jones, "Four Riders West" with Maureen O'Hara, or "Charade" with Audrey Hepburn and Cary Grant.

If the playbill sounds old, that's because it is.

NO NEW FILMS — Indonesia's foreign exchange is so depleted that nothing is left to pay for importing films. So the films being shown now are those that made the rounds once and were locked up by the government during the boycott.

A spokesman for the Motion Picture Export Association of America here recently estimated there are about 1,200 American films floating around in Indonesia, most of them old.

A few relatively "new" films have been imported by black marketers with foreign exchange purchased on Jakarta's thriving illegal money market.

Veterans' Benefits—2

Doors to an Education Open Again

(EDITOR'S NOTE — This is the second in a 17-part series on benefits for veterans.)

By RAY CROMLEY
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON — The day of education under the "GI Bill" is back.

That radical innovation in federal benefits for veterans opened the doors of colleges and specialized training schools to more than 10 million after World War II and Korea.

Now, similar aid is available to the sons and younger brothers of those helped a generation ago. These benefits for post-Korea veterans of active duty with U.S. military forces began June 1.

By 1967, some 5½ million men and women are expected to be eligible for these educational benefits. For some, "GI Bill" scholarships will be worth up to $5,400 over four years.

If you qualify, you may study full or part-time, attend day school or night school. You may take correspondence courses. But you will not receive credit for open circuit television or radio courses.

NOT COVERED
You may choose almost any serious subject. Vocational or recreational subjects are not covered.

You may take high school, college, graduate or postgraduate courses. You may attend a trade, vocational or technical school.

You may take cooperative courses, combining full-time school with alternate phases of training in a business or industrial establishment. But these cooperative courses must be full-time.

Apprentice or other on-the-job training is not covered, either in a shop or on a farm. In some cases, you may even study abroad.

STUDY ABROAD

But whether in the United States or abroad, you must study at an approved school.

You are eligible for these benefits if you were on active duty with the U.S. Army, Navy, Air Force, Marines or Coast Guard for 181 days or more since Jan. 31, 1955, and are now a civilian.

New and future draftees and volunteers will become eligible as they complete these requirements.

But if you have been discharged from active duty since

Jan. 31, 1955, for a service-connected disability, you are eligible for educational benefits regardless of how long you may have served.

You are also entitled to vocational rehabilitation. This benefit will also apply to future disabled veterans.

A veteran who remains on active duty after the completion of two years of active-duty service is eligible for benefits while still on active duty.

But a person serving on active duty for training as a 6-months' reservist is not thereby eligible for any benefit.

(NOTE: Financial aid for education.)

4 Michigan Men Among Viet Dead

WASHINGTON (AP) — Three Michigan soldiers and a marine were among 70 U.S. servicemen identified Tuesday by the Defense Department as having been killed in action in Viet Nam.

They were Sgt. Charles V. Howard of Warren, Pfc. Roy R. Rogers of Jackson, Earl Smith of Dearborn, and Marine Pfc. Gerald D. Fritz of Bay City.

A Michigan soldier also was changed from the missing category to "dead, not as a result of hostile action." He was Spec. 5 Louis E. Walton, whose wife, Janet F., lives at 547 Baker St., Lansing.

Ford Car Agents Told to Leave Saudi Arabia

RIYADH, Saudi Arabia (AP) — Saudi Arabia has given Ford automobile agents in Saudi Arabia three months to wind up business in the kingdom "unless Ford changes plans for opening a branch in Israel."

In Detroit, the Ford Motor Co. said it has no operations in Saudi Arabia but that "several dealers market the company's products in the country."

Twins' Manager Mele Selects Youngsters

Detroit's Denny McLain Named to All-Star Staff

BOSTON (AP) — All-time first was named to the League in the annual mid-summer young staff of eight pitchers, American League All-Star team including four chosen for the today to face the National St. Louis.

of the Indians, Steve Barber of Baltimore, Jim Kaat of the Twins and Pete Richert of Washington.

Mele, whose choices were announced by league headquarters, named two Cleveland pitchers, and one each from Detroit, Baltimore, Minnesota, Kansas City, Washington and New York. Pitchers for the California Angels, Chicago White Sox and Boston Red Sox were bypassed.

The right-handers selected were Gary Bell of Cleveland, Denny McLain of Detroit, Jim Hunter of Kansas City and Mel Stottlemyre of New York. The southpaws were Sam McDowell of Cleveland, Jim Kaat of the Twins and Pete Richert of Washington.

FIRST TIME

McLain, Kaat, Barber and Hunter were named to the team for the first time. McDowell was the losing pitcher in a 6-5 defeat by the National League last year, when he was nicknamed for the "bubbling run" in the seventh inning.

Bell was tagged for two runs in the first inning of the All-Star game, which he pitched in a 4-3 defeat by the National League last year.

Bell is the oldest of the eight, at 29. Hunter, 20, is the youngest to spend his $75,000 bonus.

McLain is 22, McDowell 23, Barber 25, Richert 26, Kaat 27 and Kaat 28.

The selection of McDowell and Stottlemyre surprised some observers. McDowell has a 6-2 record, but the young fire-baller has been sidelined much of the season by arm trouble. Stottlemyre has a 7-9 record with the second division Yankees.

MOST WINS

McLain boasts the most victories with a 12-4 record, Barber with a 9-3 mark with the league-leading Orioles. Kaat, who won 18 games last year, is 10-6 of the American squad last year.

Hunter, who hasn't had much at .229. Hunter, 20, is the youngest to spend his $75,000 bonus.

as a major league sophomore while Richert, a National League castoff, owns an 8-8 record.

Pitchers passed up by Mele included New York veteran Whitey Ford, who has appeared in six All-Star Games; Baltimore reliever ace Stu Miller; Jim Grant of the Twins, who led the league with 21 victories last year; Jack Sanford, who has a 9-2 record for the Angels, and California's Dean Chance, the 1964 Cy Young Award winner.

The starting fielders were chosen in balloting by managers, players and coaches. The remainder of the 25-player squad, coaches, batting practice pitchers etc. will be announced Friday.

Bengals Continue Losing Ways

California's Chance in Winning Groove

By United Press International

Dean Chance, a devotee of horror movies, is ready to change into Mr. Hyde again after the All-Star break.

Chance has grown impatient with his kindly Dr. Jekyll roll, which he has played so convincingly from April to the middle of July for the past three seasons. His transformation changes him from a pitching pushover to the terror of the American League.

posting No. 7 Tuesday night by beating the Detroit Tigers 4-3.

Chance hurled one-hit ball through four innings during which he complained of a bad headache, caused by his "sinus trouble."

As soon as the headache got better, Chance's hurling broke worse. He gave up four hits, including a seventh-inning two-run homer by Jim Northrup and was lifted in the eighth after walking Dick McAuliffe.

Signups Continue For Cage Program

Elsewhere in the circuit, Minnesota shaded Cleveland 4-1, Boston clipped New York 7-1 and the Washington-Chicago game was called by rain.

SACRIFICED FLY

Harmon Killebrew's sacrifice fly in the seventh inning broke a 3-3 tie and sent the Indians leading Baltimore Orioles 4-3.

The Twins scored twice in the seventh as Jim Hall, pinch hitting for winning pitcher Jim Merritt 1-4, singled, went to second on Zoilo Versalles' single and scored the tying run on Ted Uhlenhuth's double.

Adcock's Blast Powers Angels to 4-3 Victory

Swift Enters Protest; Jim Northrup Collects 2-Run Circuit Clout

DETROIT (AP)—Accusations, a protest and a three-run homer by a player brought into the game because of a freak injury all played a part in sending the Tigers to their fourth straight loss Tuesday night.

Joe Adcock delivered the homer, following singles by Ed Kirkpatrick and Jim Fregosi, in the sixth inning and the Angels held off a late Tigers rally to win, 4-3.

Acting Manager Bob Swift said he felt Angels' starter Dean Chance deliberately threw at Willie Horton and Al Kaline.

"I'm sure Bill Rigney doesn't own his pitcher to throw at rival batters' heads," Swift said. "But I'm sure Chance threw at those two."

"I don't know what gets into a pitcher sometime. It sure doesn't take any nerve to throw at a guy head, I never order my pitchers to do it, but you have to protect your own players."

TWO AT ONCE
Swift played the game under protest — although he said he would talk with General Manager Jim Campbell before filing it officially — when Rigney brought in third baseman Paul Schaal and pitcher Lew Burdette at the same time.

Swift claimed Schaal was allowed too many warmup throws.

"The rule says an incoming player—outside of a pitcher—is allowed five throws. I don't know how many he took but I counted 10. I don't know how many he had before I started to count," Swift explained.

Denny McLain, now 124, suffered his first loss since the Angels beat him June 4.

Outfielder Pete Fox Retired in 1945

DETROIT (AP) — Ervin (Pete) Fox, with outfielder of three Detroit Tiger championship teams, died of cancer Tuesday in New Grace Hospital. He was 57.

Fox had been ill three years. He leaves his widow, Helen; two sons, James, 30, Largo, Fla., and Don, 18, and daughter Mrs. John Marley, Evansville, Ind.

A crowd pleaser for his hustle, Fox was also a good hitter. He had a lifetime batting average of .286 for 13 years in the major leagues.

Fox played on the American League Tiger champions of 1934, 1935 and 1936. The Tigers won their first World Series over the Chicago Cubs in 1935.

AFTER SLUGGER
Don, a Detroit high school pitcher who has been signed by the Boston Red Sox, said his father named the elder son, James, after slugging Jimmy Fox.

Fox and Fox played together with the Red Sox at one time. Pete started with Beaumont of the Texas League and became a Tiger in 1933.

Top-Seeded Players Survive Wave of Upsets in Western

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Top-seeded Dennis Ralston of Bakersfield, Calif., and No. 2 ranked Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex., surviving a wave of upsets, advanced to today's third round in the 79th Western Tennis Tournament.

Casualties included such contenders Tuesday as U.S. Davis Cup players Marty Riessen and Charles Pasarell, and Tony Roche of Australia, and the seeded foreign entry.

Ralston, another Davis Cup artist who was runner-up to Spain's Manuel Santana at Wimbledon, eliminated Jorge Mendosa of Mexico 6-4, 6-1 and Richard Leach, Arcadia, Calif., 6-4, 6-3.

Richey advanced with a 6-4, 6-1 triumph over Dave Power of Indiana University.

Roche, of the Australian Davis Cup squad, lost to Lenny Schloss, Baltimore, 6-4, 5-7, 6-6. Schloss, a 20-year-old University of Tennessee junior who won the Middle Atlantic last week in his hometown, is ranked 43rd nationally.

POSTS UPSET
Pasarell, the tourney's No. 1 American seed from San Antonio, R.P., fell to Chuck Devos of Indianapolis, 6-2, 9-7. Devos, 36, never lost his service during the match.

Dick Dell, 18, Bethesda, Md., who has just completed his freshman year at the University of Michigan, dropped No. 4 seeded Riessen, Evanston, Ill., 6-4, 7-5.

Riessen, four-time Western runner-up, jumped into a 3-lead in the first set and had the serve but couldn't stave off Dell.

Cliff Buchholz of St. Louis ousted seventh-seeded John Pickett, Tuscaloosa, Ala., 6-4, 6-2.

Two other seeded foreign players, No. 6 seed Roy Ruffels, Australia, advanced as play opened in the women's division. Miss Karantzke defeated Maria Guzman, Ecuador, 6-1, 10-8, and Miss Melville beat Anne Kern-vein, Rockford, Ill., 6-2, 6-3.

When Preacher Pitches

Softball Defense Rests

Playing defense behind pitcher Harold Hughes in Waterford Township softball action gets a little monotonous at times.

Hughes, minister at Hillcrest Nazarene, was on the mound last night for the Hillcrest nine and he spent most of the evening throwing strikes.

With only 21 batters to get out in a seven-inning game, Hughes got rid of 20 of them via the strikeout route and wound up with a two-hitter as Hillcrest (10-5) downed Day's Salisbury Service (8-7), 3-1.

Two walks, Tom Johnson's double and a two-run single by Bob Sutton gave Hughes all the runs he needed in the second inning. He lost his shutout in the seventh inning when he gave up a walk, a single and a hit.

LEADER FALLS
In the other game, Richardson Delry (10-5) handed league-leading Lakeland Pharmacy (12-3) a 3-1 setback.

Jerry Thomas tossed a five-hitter to pick up the decision, and Jim Patterson provided the batting support by singling home the winning run in the fourth inning and bringing home the third run on a sacrifice fly in the fifth frame.

El Charrard collected two hits for Lakeland.

Merger on AFL Discussion Agenda

DETROIT (AP) — American Football League owners were expected to discuss the recent merger with the National Football League at some length today after hearing a report on the basic facts of the move Tuesday.

The owners are holding their summer meeting here at the personal invitation of League President Ralph Wilson — a Detroit who owns the Buffalo Bills.

Lamar Hunt, owner of the Kansas City Chiefs and chairman of the three-man AFL committee which helped formulate the merger with the NFL, presented the report to the owners.

"There was a lot of listening and very little discussion today," said Commissioner Pete Rozelle after the three-hour initial meeting.

"This is the first meeting of all of the owners since the merger was announced and they and a lot of people are finding out that a lot of things can't be finalized in one or two meetings," Rozelle said.

ROUTINE MATTERS
Expansion plans, discussion of the AFL All-Star Game set-up and a report on questions asked by some of the players through their representative, Jack Keenan, are some of the other things on today's agenda.

Al the leagues merge because NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle will rule over both leagues.

"I have made a decision but do not expect to be ready to announce it for 10 days to two weeks," Davis said.

Following the meeting here, which may not conclude until Thursday morning, the AFL will appoint a committee to meet with a similar NFL group to discuss various aspects of the merger including site of the championship game.

Davis made it clear the owners did not expect all of their suggestions to be accepted by the NFL.

"I'm a great believer that problems can be worked out and I'm sure there will be problems before this is over," he said.

Trying to End Gridiron Woe

ASHEVILLE, N.C. (AP) — Dennis Clardie hopes to wipe out two years of frustration this fall when he gets his first chance to prove he can play pro football.

The 29-year-old Nebraska graduate is the top candidate for the quarterback's job with the Atlanta Falcons, who went to the third day of drills Wednesday and he said the plans to make the most of his opportunity.

"I don't know yet if I can cut it, said Clardie, who has taken command of the Falcons' squad during early workouts.

"But I'm going to make the most of this opportunity because it was real frustrating sitting on the bench for Green Bay for two years."

Evans, 10-3

An early assault carried CIO No. 594 to an easy 10-3 triumph over Evans Equipment last night in City Class A men's basketball.

The victory pulled CIO within a game of the 500 mark at 5-4, while Evans suffered its 13th loss in a row.

The winners used two walks and two hits in pushing across three runs in the first inning, and they moved four hits with a pair of walks in the second.

Bruce Mann, who collected three singles in four trips to the plate, knocked in three runs and scored once, while teammates Jim Berg and Ray Heaton chased home two markers apiece.

Steve Kendrick checked Evans on three hits and struck out 10.

Both are playing in the Coach's All-American game Saturday night in Atlanta and will miss this week's Falcons drills. Both are good passers, but neither has the running power possessed by Clardie.

"I don't plan to be a running quarterback," said Clardie, who ran more than he passed at Nebraska. "Nobody wants to be a scrambling quarterback but I might lose."

Clardie won't be able to relax too much with the Falcons or he might lose his job.

Two of last year's top college quarterbacks, Steve Sloan of Alabama and Randy Johnson of Texas A&M, also are on the Atlanta squad.

Nicklaus Grabs Favorite's Role as Play Opens

Arnie Palmer, Lema on Hand; Scotland Tournament Site

MURFIELD, Scotland (UPI) — Big Jack Nicklaus, who at 26 has conquered virtually every challenge in professional golf, set out today to capture the one elusive plum in his short but stunning career—the British Open.

Nicklaus was again the favorite as a field of 130 of the world's best golfers teed off on demanding Murfield course, which stretches 6,887 yards with a par 71.

Arnold Palmer, eager to show that his game has not fallen apart despite his big blump in the U.S. Open was the second choice.

Others in the field included Tony Lama, Doug Sanders, Phil Rodgers, Julius Boros, PGA champion Dave Marr, Gary Player and defending champion Peter Thomson of Australia.

The big prize here is prestige. First place is worth only $10,000. Palmer has won the British Open twice, but he has never played on Murfield.

Nicklaus, who failed to win in four previous tries, has been here for two weeks practicing. Palmer arrived Saturday.

Nicklaus was one of the few others who found Murfield a welcome course. But Jack didn't think the fairways were too narrow or the rough too tough, as expressed by many other golfers.

"This layout is about the closest British course to those we have in the States," Nicklaus said.

Chicago Netters Leading National Boys' Tourney

FLINT (AP)—With lanky John Kay leading the way, Chicago took the first day lead in the National City Boys' Tennis Tournament Tuesday.

Kayser, a state finalist from Hinsdale High School, stopped Jack Stevenson of Salisbury, Md., 6-1, 6-4 in the morning round.

The six-man team shut out Salisbury in both singles and doubles.

Chicago, which meets tournament favorite Kansas City Thursday morning in the five-day tournament, totaled 14 points to Kansas City's 11. Chicago was third with 10 points.

St. Louis was fourth with 12. Salisbury had five and Flint and Milwaukee one each.

Cords Hole-in-One

Jack Rasey of Mount Clemens earned an ace on the 165-yard, 12th hole at Highland Hills Saturday. Rasey knocked the ball into the cup with a 5-iron and wound up with a 97 for the round.

Traffic Crush on State Lakes Still Growing

Michigan Now Leads Nation in Boating; 398,608 Registered

LANSING (AP) — You might have guessed it if you were any place near the water over the Fourth of July holiday.

Michigan is the leading boating state in the nation. The Water Wonderland surged ahead of New York state — the former top boating state — with the end of 1965. Michigan had 398,608 boats with motors registered compared to 393,411 for New York.

Florida, Hawaii and Alaska plus California, with its long coast line, all trail behind Michigan.

Michigan's boat flotilla still is growing. Latest figures from Secretary of State James Hare show license plates have been sold for 23,500 of the larger boats this year — some 6,000 more than the total last year at this time.

In this category are boats 16 feet or over that navigate the Great Lakes or connecting waterways.

TRAFFIC JAM

Meanwhile, the crush of boats on the rivers and lakes is becoming comparable to the jam of cars on the highways.

More boats mean more accidents. Fifteen boat operators and 10 passengers have been killed to far this year.

The accident causes among boaters are strikingly like those among motorists, according to Jerry Battle, marine investigator for the boat and water safety section of the State Conservation Department.

"Operating too fast for conditions and failure to follow the rules of the road are the main causes," Battle said.

He told of an accident on a Lake in Lenawee County. Two boats were coming at each other. Both kept zigging and zagging. They zig-zagged right into each other.

"They didn't know the basic rule you should always pass on the right," said Battle.

The Conservation Department sponsors a boating safety course with actual instruction done by sheriff's deputies. More than 70 sheriffs' deputies, more than 700 patrol boats and some 40 of the five-hour course.

In Muskegon County, for instance, the five-hour course has been described as "a tremendous success," especially among youngsters.

For the more advanced boaters, the U.S. Coast Guard Auxiliary also offers a boating course. Or there is a booklet, "What Every Boater Must Know" available free from the Conservation Department.

Oakland County has some 40 sheriff's boats out patrolling its many lakes.

Huron, Sanilac and St. Clair County sheriff's deputies are kept busy on marine patrol hauling people out of Lake Huron when their boats get into trouble. Muskegon County sheriffs and county departments do a similar job on Lake Michigan.

The Macomb County Sheriff's Department regularly rescues people stranded on islands on Lake St. Clair.

Wayne County sheriff's deputies and the Detroit Harbor-master also are kept busy on "search and rescue" missions.

The Coast Guard takes the big projects in the lakes.

All will be busy this summer. "Let's face it. Boating accident rates go up with the temperature," said Battle. "We're in for it now."

PROTECTED THIS FALL — A bill that would have continued elk hunting in Michigan another season fell by the wayside in the Legislature this year. Therefore, the big animals will have at least one year of protection after being hunted for the last two. Legislators favored the bill, but it was mixed with some deer proposals that no agreement could be reached on and lost out along with several other Conservation measures.

Hot, humid weather kept anglers off the lakes during the middle of the day, but they were out in force at dawn and again in the evening.

Good catches of bluegills were made at Pontiac, and Big Lakes and the Holly millpond. Bass were not too active, but a few were taken on live bait at Stony Lake and on nightcrawlers and plugs at White Lake.

Northern pike and muskies have been very slow.

Walleyes are beginning to hit at night in the St. Clair River near Port Huron. Fishing on the bottom with crawlers is the best method.

Perch are biting on Lake St. Clair, the St. Clair River and about a half-mile out on Saginaw Bay from Port Austin and Cassville.

DEEP WATER
Bluegills have moved to deep water and best results will be obtained by fishing with crickets well off the drop-off.

Deep-running plugs and night-crawlers fished along the bottom outside of weed beds will produce big bass for patient anglers during the middle of the day.

Pike fishing is very slow this time of year, but a large minnow or medium sized sucker still-fished in a good spot may yield a lunker. Again, this type of fishing takes a lot of patience.

C.D. Harris, deputy director, said Hellman apparently was misinformed.

Harris said the ban applies only to evangelists and ministers who wanted to set up a circuit or regular services in the state parks.

A church group holding a picnic in a park can conduct its own religious service, he said, as can a church Sunday school group.

Commission to Act on Hunting Regulations

A package of proposed 1966 hunting regulations, covering just about everything from the tiny woodcock to the bulky black bear, will draw action from the Conservation Commission Thursday and Friday at the Higgins Lake Conservation School.

Of Michigan's full lineup of game targets to be hunted this fall, only ducks and geese will not figure in the season-setting.

Regulations covering waterfowl will be acted upon in August when federal shooting options are released.

Conspicuously missing from the Conservation Department's long list of hunting recommendations are elk. These antlered giants, hunted in the northern Pigeon River Area in 1964 and 1965, will not come under the gun this year.

The Commission's two-year authority to hold elk hunting seasons ran out last fall, and no legislation was passed this session to renew it.

Under legislation enacted in 1965, Michigan firearm deer hunters are in for another split season this year, running from Nov. 12 through Nov. 27 above the Straits and from Nov. 19 through Dec. 4 in the Lower Peninsula.

As recommended by the Conservation Department and eight Citizens' Advisory Committees on Deer, the big difference in this fall's season will be a substantial cut in antlerless deer kill quotas in the northern two-thirds of the state.

NO CHANGE
No change is on tap for the state's archery deer season. The same holds true for the early and regular bear seasons which again will be limited to the Upper Peninsula.

For the second straight year, bears will be completely protected in the Lower Peninsula because of their low population.

If Department recommendations are approved, turkey and quail hunting will be liberalized to headline changes in the 1966 small game season.

Game men are proposing that last November's turkey hunt in Allegan County be repeated there, with new shooting areas to be added on Beaver Island and in parts of the four-county area of Lake, Mason, Oceana and Newaygo.

The season, patterned after the 1965 turkey hunt, would last nine days (Nov. 2-10) and carrying a bag limit of one bird per hunter.

Taking a cue from last fall when quail hunting pressure and kill were light, the department is suggesting that the season Nov. 11-15 on these birds be extended to cover Berrien, Cass, Clinton, Ionia, Livingston and Shiawassee counties.

With one minor exception, all other seasons will follow last year's shooting dates and bag limits.

Under that change, the 16-day shutdown on southern Michigan's split grouse season will be shifted to the Nov. 19-Dec. 4 period to coincide with the firearm deer season in the Lower Peninsula.

Department Adds New Position

In a move to strengthen its having on Michigan, both in up-lifting the daily lives of its people and in boosting the economy of the state," reports department Director Ralph A. MacMullan.

"Through this new position we will go all out to coordinate state and local recreation programs between our Department and all units of government, as well as private and commercial interests."

Coming under the new recreational wing are the parks division and recreation resource planning division, plus the waterways commission and the Mackinac Island park commission.

The two commissions were linked with the department this year under the reorganization of state agencies.

Recreation will also have full charge in directing plans, programs and policies for water access sites and state forest campgrounds.

Secret Warsaw Talks Ending

Red Chiefs Sign Pact on German Question

BUCHAREST, Rumania (AP) — The Warsaw Pact powers began the third and perhaps final day of a secret summit meeting today after the Communist leaders signed a declaration apparently aimed at getting West Germany to renounce German territory lost in World War II.

Official spokesmen would not say when the declaration signed by representatives of the Soviet Union, Rumania, Czechoslovakia, East Germany, Poland, Bulgaria and Hungary would be made public. The Rumanian news agency Agpres said it was a "declaration on the strengthening of peace and security in Europe."

Romanian Foreign Minister Corneliu Manescu said it includes a call for an all-European security conference. The Soviet Union failed during President Charles de Gaulle's recent visit to Moscow to get him to accept its proposal for an immediate conference, de Gaulle felt, such a parley needed long preparation.

The Soviet Communist party newspaper Pravda said the Warsaw Pact members were convinced that European security is a "realistic and attainable task."

GUARANTEE BORDERS

Pravda, in a Bucharest dispatch, stressed that in the Soviet view European security means the guarantee of permanent European borders and renunciation by Bonn of its claims to territory Germany lost to the Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Communist nations of Eastern Europe.

"The Warsaw Treaty countries have definite commitments as regards the preservation of the inviolability of existing borders," Pravda said.

Travel May Be an Escape From Anything but Taxes

CHICAGO (AP) — Motorists who take long vacation trips sales taxes. Every state except North Carolina taxes cigarettes. And all have state taxes on gasoline.

Commerce Clearing House, a private organization which does research on tax and business law, says that sales tax rates range from 2 per cent in Indiana, Iowa, Louisiana, Nevada, New York, Oklahoma, Texas and Virginia to 5 per cent in Pennsylvania.

Virginia recently adopted a 2 per cent sales tax, but it won't go into effect until Sept. 1.

FEW EXCEPTIONS

That will leave only Alaska, Delaware, Minnesota, Montana, Nebraska, New Hampshire, Oregon and Vermont without a general sales tax.

The tax on sales and services is popular with the collectors. It brings in about 26 per cent of the total state revenues.

Commerce Clearing House says state gasoline taxes range from 5 cents a gallon in Illinois, Kansas, Missouri, Texas and Wyoming to a combined Hawaii-Hawaii County tax of 11 cents a gallon.

New Jersey boosted its cigarette tax rate this year from 8 cents to 11 cents, joining Texas and Washington as the states with the highest rates on cigarettes.

Massachusetts raised its tax per pack from 10 cents to 10 cents — the same as the state take on cigarettes bought in New York, Vermont and Wisconsin.

Mississippi has a 9-cent tax on cigarettes, and 19 states collect 8 cents a package.

Virginia's 3-cent rate is scheduled to drop to 2.5 cents a pack Aug. 31.

In the case of cigarette and gasoline taxes, Commerce Clearing House said, "the state rates are in addition to a 6-cent-a-pack federal cigarette tax and a 4-cent-a-gallon federal gasoline tax, as well as similar levies made by hundreds of cities and towns."

"For example, cigarette buyers in New York City pay 22 cents a pack in taxes consisting of a city tax, 10 cents state tax and 8 cents federal tax. And motorists to the caverns of Carlsbad, N.M., will pay a gasoline tax of 11 cents composed of 4 cents federal, 6 cents state and 1 cent city."

Officer Held After Station Holdup Try

DE KALB, Ill. (UPI) — Patrolman James Anderson, 28, was held in lieu of $10,000 bond today on a charge that he attempted an attempted stop of the De Kalb Police Station.

Three teenagers were held along with Anderson. All were charged with attempted armed robbery and scheduled for a preliminary hearing before Magistrate De Elin L. Pasley.

Police said the three youths carried out the robbery attempt on Monday following a plan conceived by Anderson. The money — estimated as high as $30,000 — was left in the station by tavern operators for safekeeping during the Fourth of July week-end.

"Anderson knew there was a larger-than-normal amount of cash in the station safe because of the holiday falling on Monday," said Police Chief Victor Sarich.

Wood, who was wearing a hood over his face, pointed a gun at Lesier and told him to put his hands over his head, police said.

Lesier pushed the barrel of the gun aside and wrestled Wood to the ground, police said. Lesier then called for help, and the two other youths were captured nearby. They implicated Anderson, police said.

Wilson Quiets Leftists on Viet

Quells Rebel Urging to Stop Backing U. S.

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Harold Wilson beat back today a leftist bloc in his Labor party demanding that Britain break away from backing U.S. policy in Viet Nam.

The rebels, who had claimed overwhelming support, were crushed by a vote of 214 to 46 at a closed-door meeting of Labor members of the House of Commons.

One source said: "Most M.P.'s accepted the prime minister's statement as immensely impressive for the government's case for continuing its support of U.S. policy in Viet Nam."

Wilson was ready to go before the House of Commons later to defend a policy that has come under sharp criticism from the Conservatives, too—but the Tories charge him with wavering by backing off from the American raids on Communist force dumps on the outskirts of Hanoi and Haiphong.

LEFT ENCOURAGED

The left was encouraged when Wilson dissociated Britain from the American bombings of Hanoi and Haiphong last week. More than 100 Labor members had signed a resolution condemning the "increasingly barbarous methods with which the war is being conducted" and demanding a complete break with "Misguided" American policy on the war. But it was apparent many changed sides in the caucus.

The House of Commons will debate the Viet Nam issue Thursday. Conservatives have introduced a motion accusing Wilson of abandoning the United States.

Scavengers Take Souvenirs From Sunken U.S. Ship

MANILA (AP) — Underwater scavengers have taken a large brass bell, the steering wheel and the brass name plate from the sunken U.S. Navy ship Canopus.

The U.S.S. Canopus, built in 1918, was sunk in Mariveles Bay in the early days of World War II by Japanese planes.

The U.S. Navy asked local authorities if they could salvage some of the relics, including the ship's bell, for use as historical mementoes in a new ship of the same name.

But when Navy divers went down to collect their souvenirs, they found that some one had beaten them to it.

Scavengers Take Souvenirs From Sunken U.S. Ship

MANILA (AP) — Underwater scavengers have taken a large brass bell, the steering wheel and the brass name plate from the sunken U.S. Navy ship Canopus.

The U.S.S. Canopus, built in 1918, was sunk in Mariveles Bay in the early days of World War II by Japanese planes.

The U.S. Navy asked local authorities if they could salvage some of the relics, including the ship's bell, for use as historical mementoes in a new ship of the same name.

But when Navy divers went down to collect their souvenirs, they found that some one had beaten them to it.

Pound for pound, the sun actually produces less heat than the human body. Only because the sun is so huge and its total production of energy so enormous, it is able to maintain its incandescent glow.

WILLIAMS RAPS 'Black Power'

Says Concept Leads to Hatred, Violence

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Roy Wilkins, executive director of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, looks upon the concept of "black power" as the father of all violence and the mother of violence.

Wilkins condemned the concept in his remarks today at a night session of the NAACP's annual convention with a keynote address to 2,000 delegates.

"We of the NAACP will have none of this," he said. "It shall not poison our forward march."

"Black power" in the quick, uncritical and highly emotional adoption — it has received from some segments of a beleaguered people — means only black death," Wilkins emphasized.

"Even if the human spirit would die a little."

CRITICIZE CORE

The director also criticized the adoption of a resolution by the Congress of Racial Equality calling for retaliation by Negroes against acts of violence.

While stressing that the NAACP has never "signed a pact to turn the cheek forever," Wilkins said: "It seems reasonable to assume that proclaimed nonviolence is as likely to encourage violence as it is to discourage violent persecution."

Instead, said Wilkins, the NAACP should choose as its weapons "the ballot, participation in government as elected public servants, and efforts to gain increased employment, fair housing and unsegregated public education."

JAMES DAVIDSON

Air Stowaway May Miss Girl

Transatlantic Feat
Leads to Frustration

LONDON (AP) — A 16-year-old jet-age stowaway may fly back to the United States Thursday without seeing the girl who was the object of his transatlantic feat.

James Richard Clark Davidson of San Marino, Calif., outwitted airline and immigration officials to fly from Kansas City, Mo., to London without a passport or tickets over the weekend.

But when he turned up at the girl's London apartment Monday, he found she and her family were vacationing on the Continent. They had gone to school together in California for a year.

SLEPT IN PARK

James, who started out with $11 and the clothing he was wearing when he left Kansas City Saturday, explained:

"Well, then I didn't know what to do. I went out and spent the rest of my money on some underwear and a blanket — I figured if the worst came, I could sleep in Hyde Park. I spent some time sleeping in the park Monday afternoon, and then I went to a local church to look for help."

The vicar put him in contact with consular officials at the U.S. Embassy who advanced him some money and arranged accommodations for him for a few nights in London.

Meanwhile, he went out sight-seeing and said: "I think I'll be going home on Thursday."

He still faced some questioning from Trans World Airlines' security officers. They wanted to know how he beat their system.

3 GI Deaths Confirmed; 34 Red Prisoners

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department, issuing a "tentative finding of death" of three men reported executed by Vietnamese Communists, says 34 U.S. servicemen still are listed officially as prisoners.

Hanoi and the Viet Cong radio reported the executions last year of three Army men — Staff Sgt. Harold G. Bennett, son of Mrs. Pauline Bennett, Perryville, Ark.; Capt. Humbert R. Vergase, son of Col. and Mrs. Humbert J. Vergase, Baltimore, Md.; and M. Sgt. Kenneth M. Roraback, husband of Mrs. Veronica J. Roraback, Fayetteville, N.C.

The Army said the Viet Cong radio reported the execution of Vergase and Roraback Sept. 24, 1965, and that Bennett was executed June 24 or June 25, 1965. Two other servicemen previously were reported to have died while prisoners, another escaped and two more were released.

Newberry Fisherman Is Drowning Victim

NEWBERRY (AP) — Emil Horn, 60, of Newberry was found drowned Tuesday in Siphon Lake eight miles west of nearby McMillan. Horn had been missing since 3 p.m. Monday when he went fishing. His overturned boat was found in the lake Tuesday morning; his body located by skin divers several hours later.

Although Moslems are forbidden to eat pork, transplants of parts of a hog into their bodies is permissible if this is the only way to save life.

Rocket Shows That U.S. Has Harnessed Liquid Hydrogen for Space Use

By HOWARD BENEDICT

Aerospace Writer

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla., (AP) — After years of engineering headaches, it appears that U.S. scientists have harnessed liquid hydrogen as a high-energy rocket fuel for man-to-the-moon and other space missions.

The breakthrough came Tuesday when America's heaviest satellite, a 28-ton rocket stage, hurtled around the globe for three orbits while ground stations monitored the behavior of 10 tons of hydrogen packed in the fuel tank.

Throughout this 4½-hour period, the hydrogen performed better than expected, thanks to a unique system of small rockets and gas vents that created a tiny thrust to keep the fuel positioned in the bottom of the 64,000-gallon tank, at the end of the engine.

Under weightless conditions on previous tests with smaller rockets, the fuel had a tendency to curl into a ball, climb the walls of the tank or vaporize.

SMALL GLOBULES

When the thrust was removed on command for brief periods Tuesday, the hydrogen reacted to its weightless world, forming small globules that floated in the empty portion at the top of the tank, at times obscuring the view of a television camera that relayed pictures to the ground.

Under great acceleration by larger rockets, the liquid bubbled in its frigid chamber, where temperatures of 425 degrees below zero were needed to keep the hydrogen in a liquid state.

But each time, when the gentle thrust was applied, the hydrogen settled to the bottom, with hardly a ripple on the surface, demonstrating that the engine could have been restarted—a must for manned lunar-landing flights.

A second start of the satellite engine was not attempted Tuesday because the rocket stage was fitted to handle an excess amount of hydrogen in order to give ground stations a greater opportunity to observe this volatile fuel.

A Saturn 1 rocket, most powerful yet launched by the United States, boomed its second stage into space as the test laboratory. This second stage, which fired its engine to attain orbital speed, is the same as the rocket which will form the third stage of the mammoth Saturn 5 rocket that will hurl project Apollo astronauts on moon journeys.

South Africa's international trade increased $30 million last year over 1964.
