Birmingham Commission Sets April 26 for Hearing on Parking Rezoning Plan

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — City commissioners, confronted with opposition to the planning board's proposed ordinance allowing certain residential land to be zoned for parking lots, set an April 26 date for a hearing on the matter last night.

C. J. Huddleston, representing the Wabash Co. and Jacobson's Inc. which have purchased land in the northwest quadrant of the city for parking purposes, vehemently opposed the lot-screening requirements in the ordinance.

He protested that such screening and set-backs would waste much land which could be used for parking. Commissioners hinted that reduced screening requirements might be forthcoming and tentatively scheduled a joint meeting with the City Planning Board for April 13.

for Monday. Fire Chief Vernon W. Griffith and members of the Citizens' Fire Study Committee will attend tomorrow's noon luncheon at the Lions Club at the Community House.

Eisenhower at a weekend White House conference.

Dulles made clear that he meant action by the United States and its allies, in contrast to previous speeches in which he spoke of possible United States retaliation.

He did not spell out specific "united action" measures. A State Department aide said any moves would be discussed in detail with U. S. allies.

The secretary was interrupted 12 times by applause as he spoke to 1,000 persons at the dinner.

The speech was broadcast nationally by radio and television, and by the Voice of America abroad.

Dulles said that at the forthcoming Geneva conference on Far Eastern problems the United States will not be "disposed to give Communist China what it wants from us, merely in exchange for its promises of future good behavior." He said the United States would not abandon the Chinese Nationalist government on Formosa and encourage "its bloody liquidation by the Chinese Communists."

In a preview of the U. S. position at the peace conference on Korea and Indochina opening April 26 at Geneva, he declared:

"We hope that any Indochina discussion will serve to bring the Chinese Communists to see the danger of their apparent design for the conquest of Southeast Asia, so that they will cease and desist."

He also said the United States government has no intention of granting diplomatic recognition to Communist China or of voting to seat it in the United Nations.

"It is now the policy of the United States," he declared, "not to exchange United States performance for Communist promises."

HARRY J. MCGOWAN JR.

ROBERT S. OWEN

GEORGE W. MULLIN

Birmingham Commission Candidates

BIRMINGHAM — Harry J. McGowan Jr., 43, of 110 Aspen Rd., is a candidate for the City Commission in the April 5 election. He is a plastics engineer.

A resident here since 1939, he is active in professional plastics societies, is past chairman of the Birmingham Democratic Club, and is vice chairman of the Democratic Committee of Oakland County. He has five children.

Questioned about solutions to the city's off-street parking problem, he said:

"I believe that the most suitable long range parking plan should be adopted and immediately implemented in part. In other words, any new parking space, regardless of size or location, will be an improvement over the present situation."

Regarding combatting juvenile delinquency, he said: "Cooperation with existing social agencies, in an effort to discover cause, and taking all necessary steps to correct the situation would help combat juvenile delinquency. I also favor construction and operation of more athletic and social facilities."

BIRMINGHAM — Robert S. Owen, 54, of 303 Park St., director of shows and exhibits for the Plymouth Division of Chrysler Corp., is a candidate for election to the City Commission April 5.

A past director of the Detroit Sportsman's Congress, a resident here since 1945 and the father of two sons, Owen has served as co-chairman of the Citizens' Fire Station Study Committee and is chief of warden service in the local civil defense program.

Questioned about the city's off-street parking problem, he said: "Birmingham's off-street parking problem has been kicked around . . . for five years. I feel that an unbiased group consisting of merchants, home owners, a parking lot expert and a city commissioner could propose a solution."

Regarding combatting juvenile delinquency, he said: "Through the combined efforts of PTA's, church groups and youth organizations, a program of recreation and entertainment could be set up which would result in a decrease of juvenile delinquency."

BIRMINGHAM — A candidate for the City Commission in the April 5 election is George W. Mullin, 58, of 1420 Buckingham. He is a salesman for the Pontiac Varnish Co. of Pontiac.

A member of the board of directors of the Birmingham Rotary Club and past president of Adams School PTA, he is president of Birmingham Estates Subdivision Assn. He has resided here since 1938 and is the father of four children.

Questioned about the city's off-street parking problem, he said: "The City Planning Commission has been working on this and should have it well in hand. No home owner should be taxed to provide parking lots for the shopping center of Birmingham; if merchants do not solve this problem they will suffer."

Regarding combatting juvenile delinquency, he said: "Adequate police protection and education of parents, and more public information on what is taking place might get some parents to take more interest in where their children go and what goes on when they get there."

Local Boys' Club Honors Its Outstanding Members

Presentations were made by the club's executive director, William V. Coulaos, and Lou Creekmur, tackle with the Detroit Lions football team. Creekmur was guest speaker.

Other awards were received by John Dew, Ken McIntock, Jack Lenert, Charles Barge, Ronald Miller, Bill Buck, Truman Hammett, Jim Cartier, Tom Loignon, and Donald King.

The club kicked off its week-long festivities with a father-son banquet attended by over 600 persons. The highlight of the evening's program was a minstrel show by 16 members.

A special guest, Byron A. Gosden, former film director with 20th Century Fox, took part in the musical, which was based on one of his former productions.

Abe Lapidus, president of the Boys' Club, greeted the group.

Those same doubts still apply now that Eisenhower has accepted the suggestions in general, bundled them together into a message and asked Congress to do something about them. Many members of the President's own party in the Senate and House adhere to the historic GOP position that tariffs should be kept relatively high to protect domestic industry against cheap imports.

The commission, headed by Clarence Randall of Chicago, president of Inland Steel Co., turned in its report Jan. 23.

The core of the report and the Eisenhower message is a recommendation for a three-year extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act, which expires June 12, and for expanded authority for the president to negotiate tariff adjustments with other countries on a give-and-take basis.

Eisenhower said his is a "minimum program" of four major, interlocked parts:

Foreign aid—"which we wish to curtail."

Investments abroad—"which we wish to encourage."

Free exchange of one currency for another—"which we wish to facilitate."

Foreign trade—"which we wish to expand."

The President said he considers it essential to achieve each of these objectives, declaring:

"Unless we are prepared to adopt the policies I have recommended to expand export and import trade and increase the flow of our capital into foreign investment, our friends abroad may be discouraged in their effort to reestablish a free market for their currencies. If we fail in our trade policy, we may fail in all. Our domestic employment, our standard of living, our security, and the solidarity of the free world—all are involved."

"For our own economic growth we must have continuously expanding world markets; for our security we require that our allies become economically strong. Expanding trade is the only adequate solution for those two pressing problems confronting our country."

The county road commission called in most salt trucks about noon, fitted them with snowplows and put them back on the roads. Some 30 salt trucks and 60 snowplows and road graders worked until dusk, with a crew keeping 30 plows going all night long.

"Nobody out here got more than four or five hours sleep last night," Loomis said.

In Orchard Lake Village, a snowplow backed into a ditch alongside Orchard Lake road and could not get out. A wrecker hauled it back onto the road an hour later.

al defense is being derived from this test series."

Rep. Van Zandt (R-Pa.) said the AEC will brief him and other members of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee today on the results of the latest blast.

Ever since the awesome details of the March 1 test began leaking, demands have been rising in Congress for President Eisenhower to let the public in on the real scope and significance of that explosion.

Just yesterday, Rep. Holifield (D-Calif.), an atomic energy committee member, told the House he had written Eisenhower asking that the President end worldwide "confusion, fear and hysteria" growing out of the H-bomb test reports.

Until now, the President has declined to discuss in detail the March 1 explosion until he had had a briefing from Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the AEC. Strauss returned Sunday from the Pacific proving grounds.

The most Eisenhower would say at his news conference last Wednesday was that the effects of the March 1 explosion were surprising even to the Americans who conducted the tests.

However, the American people will get some idea of the meaning of hydrogen explosion in about a week. The government is releasing a censored picturization of the pioneer 1952 test for exhibition April 7. That the hydrogen blast nearly a month ago went beyond advance scientific calculations was evident from the fact that radioactive debris and moisture penetrated past the safety zone blocked out by AEC's generally cautious experts.

Let the Stars Get in Your Eyes

Latin Men Prefer Clinging-Vine Girls

By DOROTHY ROE
AP Women's Editor

Girls who plan tropical vacations in search of Latin romance should practice up on some old world manners, advises handsome Carlos Pellerano, who handles tourist matters for the Dominican Republic.

"Any girl who expects to get to first base with a Latin swain, says Carlos, should observe these rules:

1. Never make a noise like a career woman. The Latin ideal of

Supper, Shower Honor Couple

A buffet supper and miscellaneous shower were given Saturday evening by Mrs. Joseph Kacsik and Mrs. Arthur Bornak to honor Beverly Bornak and Jack J. Tee. The Kacsik home in Berkley was the setting for the occasion.

Beverly and Jack will speak their vows April 10 in Bethel Evangelical and Reformed Church. She is the daughter of the Gust Bornaks of South East boulevard, and the Emery Tees of Whitfield court are his parents.

Guests included Mrs. Dorothy Roise, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bornak, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tee, Mr. and Mrs. Emery Tee, Mr. and Mrs. Gust Bornak, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Chatterton and the Jack Alexanders.

Others were Delphine Dudzinski, the Roy Jodways of Detroit, Alfred Bornak, Richard Roise, Mr. Kacsik, Arthur Bornak and Mr. and Mrs. John Fant.

feminine charm is strictly a clinging vine.

2. Never try to pay your own dinner check, even if it is included in the price of your package tour, if you are dining with a Latin. This is considered a mortal insult by male Dominicans, as well as others.

3. Never wear shorts or slacks on the street. It just isn't done by local nice girls.

4. Remember that most young men south of the border have been reared in the old tradition of strict formality. Says Carlos:

"I courted the same girl for seven years, but I never was allowed to see her alone until after we were married. After the engagement was announced, I was permitted to call at her home from 8 to 10 in the evening, but even then, there had to be a chaperone present. That's why Latin men marry young—you have to get married to see your girl."

5. Practice up on your rhumba. All Latins love to dance.

6. Learn to look helplessly feminine, and you'll always find a courtly swain eager to help.

7. Don't giggle when your Latin beau kisses your hand. This is merely a mark of his deep respect, and corresponds to the American custom of tipping the hat to a woman.

8. Don't be afraid to accept the attentions of a Latin-American beau. You'll find him the soul of chivalry.

9. When on a date with a Latin, don't talk about such subjects as your job or politics. Your escort would rather discuss the length of your eyelashes or the light of the tropical moon.

10. Don't be surprised if your evening ends with a serenade. It's an old Latin custom still observed, and one enjoyed by the gentlemen as well as their ladies. Says Carlos:

"I've been married 13 years, and just the night before I left for the United States I serenaded my wife. She liked it too."

France's No. 1 soldier has gone

ing day.He is a "new look" general.
He agrees with the Pentagon that the day of Maginot-line "stay put" warfare has gone.A skillful strategist and tactician, Ely is a first class fighting man, too.He is one of those teenaged boys who went into battle at the outbreak of World War I—most of them to die—from St. Cyr, the French West Point.In World War II he received a wound which left his right arm partly paralyzed.When France fell he joined the underground. His chief job was to shuttle back and forth between occupied France and Britain, under the noses of the Gestapo and German sentries, with spy reports.Long before D-day, Ely went over to France to help get the underground ready for the Allied invasion. After D-day he led French troops.Since the war Ely has been in on top-level defense planning in Paris, London and Washington.The Geneva conference is only four weeks away. The extended aid program scarcely could affect the front materially before then. Hence while both Paris and London hope for peace, they must plan on continued war.Part of the political angle of Ely's mission was to say that French people are fed up with the war and want a negotiated peace at Geneva.But that probably would involve recognition of the Chinese Communist government. There is no chance the United States will agree to that. Hence the assumption that the war will go on.Diggers Aplenty, but Wa

Some Things Just CAN'T WAIT!

PONTIAC'S NEED FOR MORE HOSPITAL FACILITIES IS URGENT!

AT PRESENT

Your General Hospital must on the average care for 55 patients a day more than its normal capacity. On individual days the number has reached considerably above this average to as high as 100 patients over normal capacity.Seriously sick and injured patients must be crowded into busy hallways.
Some medical treatment has to be postponed until bed space becomes available. Fire regulations are compromised. There is virtually no room for storing vital equipment and supplies, for training medical personnel, for locating service groups and office employees, for accommodating some 600 visitors daily.

IN THE FUTURE

Matters are expected to become steadily worse unless additional facilities are provided. The most conservative, impartial surveys of community growth indicate that Pontiac's hospital requirements are doubled within the next six years.

You Can Correct This Serious Problem at the Polls on April 5th. You Can Assure Yourself and Your Children Adequate Hospital Facilities WITHOUT INCREASING YOUR PRESENT TAX PAYMENTS!

By Supporting the Two Proposals Being Offered to Pontiac Voters:CHARTER AMENDMENT No. 1 proposes to continue the present tax and earmark the funds for hospital expansion and public improvements.THE HOSPITAL BOND BALLOT provides for funds to permit building additional hospital facilities right away.DON'T BE MISLED by arguments and counter proposals intended to delay or permanently postpone the hospital improvement program. There are always some who can find fault with anything and many who the proposed program as the best and most practical solution.

Cub Pilot Ousted in First Managerial Shift

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
DALLAS (AP)—Phil Cavarretta and the Chicago Cubs parted company after 20 years today and another former Chicago baseball idol—Stan Hack—stepped in as manager.

Cavarretta, a star player for 17 years but unable to win as manager in two full seasons, was relieved of his post here yesterday after the Cubs had dropped their 15th spring exhibition game in 20 starts. It was the first managerial change in the major leagues this year.

Wid. Matthews, director of playing personnel of the Chicago organization, told Cavarretta he was to change places with Hack, who has been manager of the Los Angeles club in the Pacific Coast League. Cavarretta balked and said he would seek a major league connection elsewhere.

Matthews insisted that Phil wasn't fired but Cavarretta had a different view. "I come home and get fired," he said sadly. He now lives in Dallas and operates a children's amusement park here.

Matthews gave no reason for the action other than that it was "for the good of all concerned." But at Phoenix, Ariz., Phil K. Wrigley, owner of the Cubs, said, "This year when he picked everyone but us to finish in the first division, he was licker before he started. He said he did not have the kind of ball-players he wanted. He had sort of given up on the boys, so to speak, feeling that they were not pennant material. Well, maybe not, but they could be with the will to win."

Hack, who is flying to Shreveport to take over as manager tomorrow when the Cubs arrive there to play the Baltimore Orioles, said at Los Angeles that he was surprised that he had been picked.

"All I can say is that I'm going to pick up where Phil left off," Hack declared. "I will add this: It is wonderful to get back to Chicago where I spent my entire major league career."

Matthews said Cavarretta was offered the same salary at Los Angeles that he was receiving from the Cubs and that he would be paid his full 1954 salary although refusing to go to the Pacific Coast League club.

"I was really shocked," Cavarretta said at his home here. "Matthews told me right after the ball game. He just said Stan was coming in to take over the ball club. And if I wanted to stay with the Cub organization, I could take over Los Angeles. I just couldn't see going out to Los Angeles. I thought I had done a good job with the material I had. So I got fired in spring training."

Cavarretta, 37, became manager of the Cubs in midseason of 1951, replacing Frank Frisch. His club was fifth in 1952 and seventh last year. Hack, 47, finished his playing career in 1947 and managed Des Moines in the Western League and Springfield, Mass., in the International League before going to Los Angeles.

Better Hurling May Boost Cardinals Into Contention

By ED CORRIE
AP Sports Writer

It seems incongruous that a team that finished 23 games back of the pennant winner should be considered a threat the next year.

Yet, the St. Louis Cardinals—although they're not talking pennant by any means—certainly are thinking along those lines. And despite the fact that they can send shivers up and down the opposition's spine with such blockbusters as Stan Musial, Red Schoendienst and Enos Slaughter, their pitching will have to carry the load if they hope to overhaul the Brooklyn Dodgers and fight off the Milwaukee Braves.

As of today, the Cards show a far from spectacular 13-8 record in the Grapefruit League. But Eddie Stanky's pitchers have been coming through handsomely and even in some losses they've looked good.

In the last six games, the Cardinals have allowed only 14 runs, a little more than two per game. But with Vic Raschi, obtained from the New York Yankees (to work on the Dodgers), Harvey Haddix (with an 0.50 ERA in the exhibition loop), Gerry Staley (an 18-game winner last year) and Tom Poholsky (just back from the Army), who got credit for yesterday's 4-3 victory over the Chicago White Sox, the Cards will be no pushovers.

The amazing Baltimore Orioles continued their sweep through the exhibition trail by edging the Chicago Cubs 4-3 for their fifth decision in nine games with the Bruins. The Orioles came from behind to pound Holie Polie for three runs in the ninth inning.

The New York Giants beat the Cleveland Indians 4-1 behind Larry Jansen and Mario Picone. The veteran Jansen tossed five scoreless innings.

Murry Dickson became the first Philadelphia Phillies pitcher to go seven innings and he had little trouble. The puncheon Phils woke up and lambasted the Dodgers 19-5. Ted Kluszewski played Frank Merriwell for the Cincinnati Reds by lofting a two-run home run in the ninth inning to give his club a 9-4 triumph over the New York Yankees.

Milwaukee defeated Macon of the Sally League 12-4.

Opener Nears, Garver Still Question Mark

Tiger Hurler Appears Far Off Form Monday Against Senators

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP)—Ned Garver, has led the Detroit Tigers to ask three questions this spring.

"Will he sign?" "Will his leg or his arm bother him again?" And lastly: "Will it make any difference?"

Garver was the last Detroit holdout to join the pitching staff at Lakeland. The reported reason was a cut in his salary. The haggling came despite the fact that Garver was reported to be the last choice to start the regular season for the Tigers—now only two weeks away.

Last season, his second with the Tigers, it was hoped that he had recovered from a sore arm. He came from the St. Louis Browns on trade in 1952 after posting his best major league record 20-12 with the Nitties Browns.

He pitched one game for the Tigers in 1952 when the sore arm hit him. Tigers won that game, but they lost Garver for the rest of the season.

Last year the sore arm was gone, but the tall right-hander tore a cartilage in his knee which held him to an 11-11 record. He came back this spring pronouncing the leg cured by an operation. The outlook was rosy.

Monday Garver completed his 2nd pitching performance of the spring. The regular season looked farther off than ever. He pitched five innings, allowed 10 runs, and 12 hits, two of them homers by Eddie Yost. Later Yost hit another off Al Aber.

The attack on Garver gave the Washington Senators the start they needed to go on and win 12-8.

In his first start Garver had gone four innings against the Chicago White Sox. He walked three men, struck out one and allowed two runs. Chicago netted five hits off him, one of them a homer.

Totally this spring the man who is supposed to start the regular season has pitched nine innings and allowed 17 hits, three of them home runs. He has allowed 12 runs and has been tagged with two losses against no wins.

The April 13 opening game is just two weeks away from this afternoon. It is still early for Garver, who got a late start because of the delay dispute. But it is still a long way to travel in two weeks.

Calumet's Star Is Out of Derby Field

NEW YORK (AP)—The 80th running of the Kentucky Derby still is nearly five weeks away but already two highly regarded horses have been sidelined by injuries.

A bowed tendon removed Turn-o-of-Harry F. Guggenheim's Cain Hoy Stable from consideration and a quarter-crack suffered by Duke's Lea eliminated the threat of a 6th Derby victory for the famed Calumet Farm.

Cup Playoffs Resume Tonight

Wings Boast Well-Balanced Scoring Punch

Detroit Hopes to Hand Leafs 2nd Straight Loss on Their Home Ice

TORONTO (AP)—Detroit Red Wings are counting on well-balanced scoring punch to pull the unusual tonight and defeat the Toronto Maple Leafs for the 2nd straight time on their home ice.

A victory would give the Red Wings a 3-1 stranglehold on the best-of-seven semifinal Stanley Cup series. In the other set, Montreal is seeking to make a clean 4-game sweep of Boston in Boston Garden.

Not many teams have defeated Toronto twice in succession in Maple Leaf Gardens but the Red Wings are given a good chance to do it because of their balanced punch.

Detroit has scored nine goals against Toronto, only one each by Gordie Howe and Ted Lindsay. Defenseman Marcel Pronovost and a pair of low-scoring forwards, Marty Pavelich and Tony Leswick have clicked twice each. Leswick's 2nd goal gave Detroit a 3-1 decision in Saturday's vital 3rd game.

Defenseman Red Kelly scored the other goal. So that means players whose primary duty is to play defense have accounted for seven of the nine goals. Pavelich and Leswick, along with Glen Skov, make up Detroit's back-checking, or defensive line. They have outscored the Howe-Lindsay-Dutch Reibel combination by a 2-1 ratio.

It all adds up to more trouble for the Maple Leafs, who are seeking to become hockey's first team to win the playoffs 10 times. Lindsay and Howe can be held in check for only so long, then they usually explode.

Another factor in Detroit's favor is the improved showing of goalie Terry Sawchuk, who defiantly says "I'm not going to be the goat this year. The 24-year-old netminder, a self-admitted failure in last year's playoffs, has given up only four goals in three games. Only one of these could be traced directly to his own mistakes.

Teams return to Detroit's Olympia Stadium for the 5th game Thursday night. If a sixth is necessary it will be played in Toronto Saturday.

If both Detroit and Montreal have locked up 1st-round victories by Thursday, the finals likely will start in Detroit Saturday or Sunday night.

UCLA-UM Meet Won't Expand to Quadrangular

LOS ANGELES (AP)—UCLA's dual track and field meet with Michigan here April 9 will remain a dual meet and will not be merged into a quadrangular with the Stanford Southern California dual meet.

ABC Observes 'Detroit Day' in Annual Test

Motor City Bowlers Figure in Changes in Standings

SEATTLE (AP)—The American Bowling Congress observed "Detroit Day" at the 51st annual tournament yesterday with teams from the Motor City taking over 7th and 10th places in the open team division standings. Individual Detroit bowlers figured in other changes in top rankings.

While the defending team champion, Pfeiffers Beer of Detroit, was having a bad night, Maple Lanes Recreation held up honors of the Michigan City, rolling a 2874 which gave them 7th place in the open division. Pfeiffers, obviously off form, rolled a 2836 which squeezed them into a 10th-place berth.

Don Carter, all-star match game champion, didn't disappoint the crowd of 3,000—largest ever to watch a bowling match in Seattle. He rolled a 611 series on 234 and 223 games after a 194 opening round that cost him his chance for his 13th straight 200 or plus game in ABC play.

Two 19-year-olds led Detroit entries into the standing columns yesterday afternoon.

Don Glinski, an unheralded tool and die apprentice, copied 1st place in the singles event standing with a 674 score on games of 224-245-250.

Glinski, who rolls for the Cecil Ward Jr., All Stars of Detroit, scored a 546 team game and a 607 double which, coupled with his high singles effort, gave him an all-events pin mark of 1827, tying for 5th place in that division.

Another Detroit, Ken LaForge, also 19 and an apprentice welder, grabbed off a tie for 4th place in the singles column with a 652 score.

And Robert Hill, a Detroit milkman who bowls for E & B Beer, rolled a 639 team score, a 590 doubles and a 592 singles to grab undisputed possession of third place in the all-events column.

The other Detroit entry in the record books for the afternoon was made by the doubles team of Charles Stevens and William Stobart, ages 19 and 21, respectively, who moved into 2nd position in the doubles with a 1240.

LaStarza Picked Over Cockell in London Bout

LONDON (AP)—Heavyweight Roland LaStarza and Don Cockell meet tonight at Earl's Court arena on a tripleheader fight card.

A sellout crowd of 18,000 also is due to see former world middleweight champion Randy Turpin meet an unbeaten Swede from Goteborg named Olle Bengtsson and Yolande Pompey battle Ivano Fontana, an Italian light heavyweight.

LaStarza has been installed a 2-1 favorite to whip his tubby opponent, champion of Britain's sad corps of heavyweights.

"This fight with Cockell will get me back in line for Marciano," LaStarza said, "and I'll get Rocky the next time."

Colleges Must Decide on Single Brand of Football, With or Without Spring Practice and Scholarships

By GRANTLAND RICE
NEW YORK—There is a battle going on under cover today that can have a heavy effect on the future of football. At least the college brand of the game. And it might be mentioned that college football was by all odds the most popular and expensive of all sports.

It had one weakness—the overmastering will to win, regardless of ethics, fair play or the rules of the game. The heavy pressure on coaches to win, at times regardless of all decent tactics, has been more than most coaches could stand. I can't blame them very much.

This pressure led to proselyting, scouting, even actual pay, lack of classroom ability, mockery of the rules and permitting of flagrant offenses against the rules to go unchecked.

It finally got so bad that a coach's main defense was this—"Sure I broke the rule—but every other coach did the same. Why blame me when everybody's doing it?"

All too often the coach was right in that respect. Everybody was breaking a rule, so nobody could possibly be guilty.

The recent Rules Committee changed a lot of that. The sport had reached a point where it was necessary for a college to choose one or two things.

A game played under certain rules and regulations.

A game played without any rules or regulations—anything to win.

Whether right or wrong, the Ivy League has led the march for a reformed system—no spring practice, no athletic scholarships, no scouting and no proselyting.

A number of sections of the country have been in open defiance, half rebellion, and partial acceptance of the Ivy League standards.

It is simply a question of what brand of football you want.

There are now three varieties—

- 1.—The Ivy League type—no athletic scholarships, no spring practice.
- 2.—The Midwestern or Far Western type—spring practice with athletic scholarships limited to around 30 or 40.
- 3.—The South and Southwest—spring practice and practically unlimited athletic scholarships.

Spartan Nine Drops 2nd Game in South

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. (AP)—Pitcher Joe Morgan held the Michigan State Spartans to five hits as North Carolina's Tar Heels won a spring baseball game 6-2.

It was the 2nd loss against one defeat for the touring Spartans. They scored once in the 7th inning on a walk, a wild pitch, and a pinch hit single by Eddie Hough.

They got their last run in the eighth on a single by Ray Colard, a walk, and an infield out.

Three Spartan errors helped the Tar Heels score four unearned runs, three in the first inning. Today the Spartans play North Carolina State at Raleigh.

Stadium to Hold 70,000

MSC's Young Announces Expansion Plan for Spartans' Athletic Facilities

EAST LANSING (UP)—Ralph H. Young, Michigan State College's retiring athletic director, today disclosed long-range building plans for MSC's athletic plant, including expansion of Macklin Stadium to seat 70,000 spectators.

Young said the stadium, with a present capacity of 50,745, will be enlarged to accommodate 20,000 more fans by 1960.

The stadium was erected in 1923 to hold 12,775 spectators. It was enlarged to 26,000 capacity in 1933 and brought to its present capacity in 1948.

Braves' Ticket Manager Ready for Big Task

If Admission Taxes Are Cut, Million Refunds Would Be Due

MILWAUKEE (INS)—Milwaukee Braves ticket manager, Bill Eberly, said today that the club faces a tough problem if the new excise bill cutting admission taxes by 50 per cent is signed by President Eisenhower.

Eberly said the Braves will have a giant-size headache because ticket holders will be due for a refund and to date, the Braves have sold about 1,000,000 tickets.

Senate amendment to the excise bill, adopted last week, would allow baseball park and other entertainment owners to obtain refunds if the tickets sold are for events after April 1.

Eberly declared that a refund would mean shutting down the ticket office for at least three weeks to check every ticket sold. This also would mean the recall of tickets from 11 Wisconsin cities outside Milwaukee.

'Bumpy' Is Named UM Tank Captain

ANN ARBOR (UP)—Burwell (Bumpy) Jones, NCAA and Big Ten titleholder, was elected captain of the University of Michigan swimming team Monday night for the 1955 season.

Jones, a junior from Pontiac is the NCAA and Big Ten 150-yard individual medley champion. He was elected at an annual banquet to succeed Don Hill and Tom Benner.

Bob participated in all sports at Boys' Club during the past year and was an outstanding member of the organization's Intermediate basketball team.

Acquatic building — "we outgrew the present pool long ago," Young said. "We need a place that will hold more spectators and will provide for development of swimming instruction for all students."

Tennis courts — plans call for 30 new courts south of the stadium that can double as parking lots during the football season.

Baseball bleachers — present uncovered bleachers will be replaced by covered stands.

Intramural fields — additional fields will be made available for the nearly 5,000 students who take part in intramural activities.

Called a Genius on I'll Buy That

Excels in Many Lines, Writes Songs for Fun, Lives in Penthouse

NEW YORK — Albert Morehead, the six-foot-four erudite panelist of TV's audience participation series, "I'll Buy That," is one of those many-sided geniuses in cosmopolitan New York.

He is a book editor, magazine writer, games authority, author, tunesmith, newspaper columnist, lexicographer, businessman, translator, amateur criminologist and a half dozen lesser things besides.

On "I'll Buy That," Morehead's task, along with that of three fellow panelists, is to guess the identity of various articles, inanimate or animate, which studio guests bring in to "sell."

If they name it, the program buys it for a neat sum. His phenomenal range of knowledge of cabbages and kings, shoes and ships, and sealing wax makes him a natural on a show where anything imaginable, from an unwieldy coffee grinder to a Mohican artifact, may have to be identified.

For relaxation, Morehead writes three or four songs or hymns a year, is translating a play from the French and does occasional translations of French poetry. He also regularly contributes articles on criminology, another hobby, to books on the subject.

He was born in Flintstone, Ga., on Aug. 7, 1909. When he was 12, he took an IQ test, then coming into vogue. His showing was the highest recorded at that time.

Young Albert skipped from seventh grade to high-school sophomore in easy stages — a grade a month.

As a magazine writer, he set a record by having 36 articles (under four different names) published in one national magazine, in 1944, and almost matched it in 1951 with 29 articles in another.

In 1939, Albert Morehead married Loy Claudon, an Illinois girl. They have two sons, 13 and 11. They live in midtown Manhattan, in a two-story penthouse, with a front yard that has three feet of soil, a good-sized lawn and three trees growing in it.

Ex-King Leopold Seeks to Retrace Balboa's Route

PANAMA (AP) — Ex-King Leopold of Belgium headed an expedition across the mountainous wilds of Panama's easternmost Darien province today in search of the route followed by Balboa on his march to discover the Pacific in 1513.

The former monarch, father of Belgium's present King Baudouin, left yesterday by boat for the Pacific side of the province which straddles this narrow isthmus some 300 miles east and southeast of the Panama Canal. The party plans to cross back by land — in the opposite direction from that taken by Vasco Nunez de Balboa in his epic march of discovery.

The exploration is being made on the basis of a report prepared by Angel Rubio, professor of geography at the National University. That report is based on historical documents, including old maps and charts dating back to the 16th century.

U.S. Artists Aid Search for Male Lead in New Film

strators in the United States, Russell Patterson, Arthur William Brown and Ernestine Jaediker, have come to the aid of motion picture producer Stanley Kramer in the world-wide search he has launched to will the leading role of Lucas Marsh in his film version of "Not As A Stranger," present number-one best-seller by Morton Thompson.

Mr. Patterson, Mrs. Brown and Miss Jaediker each drew a sketch of Lucas Marsh, the hero of "Not As A Stranger," from the word description by Mr. Kramer: "I see him as muscularly aesthetic, with a sensitive face; a man who would go into a rage and throw a doctor through a window and then turn around and sit up all night comforting a two-year-old child; a man with a sympathetic face; a guy who could be rough and nice and is devoted to his work."

Mr. Kramer, who recently completed producing "The Caine Mutiny" and is currently preparing "Not As A Stranger" for United Artists release, is seeking a man who fits the word-picture of Lucas Marsh and who bears some resemblance to any or all of the drawings.

$5.8 Million Set by Civil Service

Commission Estimates Cost of Pay Raise for State Employees

LANSING (AP) — The State Civil Service Commission last night approved the details of a July 1 pay raise for state employees and calculated it would cost $5,800,000.

This was well below the original estimate of $6,000,000 to $7,000,000 Arthur G. Rasch March 12 when made by Civil Service Director Arthur G. Rasch March 12 when the commission gave preliminary approval to the boost.

The commission held a special meeting nearly two weeks ahead of schedule under pressure from the Legislature for exact figures as soon as possible before a scheduled April 9 legislative adjournment.

The raise includes a 5 to 10 cent hourly cost-of-living increase to all civil service employees and special boosts to classes which the commission said it found were underpaid.

Rasch said that his staff had applied the increases to appropriation bills introduced by the legislative finance committee.

On this basis, he said, the cost-of-living increases for 22,500 classified employees will cost something under $3,000,000. The civil service payroll totals about $37,000,000.

The special increases which make up the balance go mainly to workers in mental and tuberculosis hospitals, skilled tradesmen and the lowest brackets in all departments. Smaller special increases go to prison guards and state policemen.

Of the total bill for the increase, Rasch said, about $4,000,000 will come from the State General Fund. The balance will be chargeable to federal aid payments and restricted state funds.

The great bulk of the special increases go to workers in the mental health field. Some 7,000 of them will get a total of $1,838,583.

Carpenters, auto repairmen, electricians, masons, plumbers and like tradesmen in all agencies will get special boosts ranging from a total of 14 to 17 cents an hour.

Total increases ranging up to 15 cents an hour will go to such lower bracket workers as janitors, manual workers, park rangers and watchmen.

Police Argue Case Before Grand Jury

DETROIT (AP) — Attorneys for the Detroit Police Officers Assn. said today they will offer their demand to the Supreme Court to gain admittance to the chambers of the city's police grand jury.

Philip J. Neudeck, Frank Neaton and Harry C. Kent represent 13 policemen suspended for "irregularities" in connection with numbers rackets.

They argued their case before

Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara

Their admittance, they said, would not violate the grand jury law of secrecy. Grand jury procedure keeps attorneys in the corridor while their clients testify but clients are privileged to consult with their attorneys at any time.

The attorneys argued they should have the right to be in the grand jury chambers while their clients testify.

The 13 police suspensions followed a raid on a suspected numbers syndicate headquarters March 15.
