Continues Battle for Tax Cut Despite Senate's Strong 'No!'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Douglas (D-Ill.) battled today for an excise tax cut despite overwhelming Senate rejection of his proposal for a slash in both personal income and excise levies.

By a 71-14 vote, the Senate last night defeated Douglas' proposal for tax cuts totaling about $5,200,000,000. He contended the cuts were needed to fight the recession and provide more spending money.

Several opponents attacked the Douglas proposal as inflationary. They also objected to the short-cut method he was using in seeking the reduction.

Douglas offered his plan as an amendment to a House-passed bill dealing with taxes on certain income of insurance companies.

PLANS AMENDMENT

The Constitution requires that tax legislation originate in the House, where it normally is processed in committee before reaching the floor.

However, in advance of today's session, Douglas said he planned to offer an amendment to cut excise taxes alone. He told newsmen he felt there was "still a chance" the Senate would accept such an amendment.

Under the proposal turned down a variety of excise, or sales, taxes would be reduced about $2,200,000,000. This would include cutting in half both the 10 per cent excise on autos and the 3 per cent tax on freight transportation.

Douglas, who contends a tax cut is the quickest way to pump consumer dollars into the sagging economy, said his new amendment would call for the same excise reductions contained in the rejected proposal, except that he might revise it to eliminate the freight transportation tax entirely.

There were indications that other senators might make another try at getting a cut in personal income taxes, perhaps by raising the present $600 individual exemption.

The fate of Douglas' new proposal on excise taxes may have been foreshadowed when the Senate last night rejected by voice vote an amendment by Sen. Anderson (D-NM) to halve the 10 per cent manufacturer's tax on autos and trucks.

POTTER A SUPPORTER

Sen. Byrd (D-Va.), a foe of any tax cuts at this time, estimated the Anderson proposal would cost the Treasury $50 million dollars in revenue. But Anderson said the revenue loss would total between 400 and 500 millions.

On the vote rejecting the Douglas amendment, Douglas was supported by only 11 Democrats and two Republicans, Senators Potter of Michigan and Langer of North Dakota.

In the House, meanwhile, Rep. Simpson (R-Pa.), a member of the tax-writing Ways and Means Committee, introduced a bill to cut taxes on personal and corporation income and to trim sharply excise levies on such items as new cars, TV sets and personal transportation. The Simpson bill would bring tax reductions totaling about $6,400,000,000.

U.S., Okinawa Police Press Search for AF Man's Baby Son Born to Grace at Monaco

NAHA, Okinawa (AP)—U.S. military and Ryukyuan police are intensifying an island-wide search for a 6-week-old boy who disappeared mysteriously from his home Wednesday night.

Terrence Hitt, 28, Plymouth, Mich., father of the missing child, raised from $500 to $1,000 the reward for information leading to return of his son, Brady D. Hitt. Police say they have no clues.

(Editor's Note: News of the search for missing Brady Hitt on Okinawa is eagerly awaited by Dinzel D. Himes of Commerce, a brother of the child's mother.)

Hitt believes his son was kidnapped. His wife, Madely, 26, had nothing to say. She stayed with friends while her husband made a personal appeal over the U.S. operated television network on this island, for return of the baby.

Roadblocks have been set up. Military police searched the area surrounding the family's home on Kadena Air Base for a trace of the infant.

The baby was discovered missing from his crib between 7:45 and 8 p.m. Wednesday. Police said the screen on a bedroom window was torn loose.

Hitt is a civilian technical representative for the U. S. Air Force in Okinawa. They have another child, a 3½-year-old daughter named Terrilyn.

Teacher Metes Penalty; Errant Father Pays

WHITSTABLE, England (AP)—Tardy Tony Braithwaite, 7, was ordered by his teacher to write "I must not be late for school" 50 times.

Tony showed up with the lines neatly done in his father's handwriting and an explanatory note. "It was my fault that Tony was late, so it is only fair that I should write the lines," it said. Teacher Frank Newsome accepted the lines, saying "it was the sporting thing to do."

But They Can't Spend It

ALLENSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—David Abney and Billy Carter unearthed a glass jar containing $2,700. But their joy didn't last long. The youngsters' fortune in denominations of $1 to $100 was all Confederate money—in perfect condition. It was not known where the money originally came from.

New Hall at Mount Union College Named in His Honor

Wilson Calls Education, Hard Work Vital Requisites

ALLIANCE, Ohio — Declaring education, hard work and the ability to get along with people are primary requisites, C. E. Wilson spoke at the dedication of a new hall at Mount Union college which has been named in his honor.

"I am pleased to speak at Mount Union College where my father graduated 70 years ago," he said.

"My father and mother taught me three important things: (1) That a good education is highly to be desired and worth striving for. (2) That work is a normal part of living, a means of self-expression, and not something to be avoided to the degree possible. (3) That it is worthwhile to make an extra effort to understand and get along with people.

"There has been a great deal of discussion in regards to the necessity of training more engineers and scientists. This has been pointed up by the technological race with the Russians. Important as this may be from a purely military point of view, it is probably of even greater importance as a fundamental requirement if we are to continue the great progress we have made in our country in raising the standard of living and well-being of all our people.

"There is considerable difference of opinion in regard to how to make the greatest progress, especially when progress seems to have been temporarily halted by a business recession, but I believe the proper education of the young people of our country, in both liberal arts and technical and scientific courses, is a fundamental of our free society on which we can all agree.

"The smaller colleges and universities like Mount Union are an essential part of our advanced educational system and the great number promotes independent thinking which is very vital to our free society and to our type of government. While a good education is a tremendous help, it alone will not assure success.

"The productivity made possible by our machines and scientific knowledge offers a clear promise of further progress for us and for the peoples of other nations, especially for those who have not yet benefited to any great degree from modern industry.

"More people in many nations

Plane Wreckage Parks at Curb in Tulsa

ONE CREWMAN KILLED — Twin engines of a B-47 which exploded in air over Tulsa, Okla., and killed one crewman smolders a few feet in front of a residence. Wreckage of the craft fell over an estimated 2-mile square area. Two other crewmen parchuted and were hospitalized with burns. The plane was on a training mission from McConnell Air Force Base, Wichita, Kan., when it blew up over the city's outskirts. No one was hurt by falling debris but some houses received minor damage.

Ike Meets With Cabinet to Study Ailing Economy

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower meets with his Cabinet today to take stock of the ailing economy and of mounting demands that the federal government spoon up more antirecession remedies.

The President had in mind a diagnosis from the AFL-CIO that business and job conditions are still deteriorating instead of improving as the administration had hoped by mid-March.

Bolstering this view were two new government reports showing that both business and consumers plan to reduce their 1938 spending.

One estimated business investment will be 13 per cent lower this year than last. The other said consumers plan reduced outlays for homes, cars, appliances and furniture.

A bit of encouragement came from still another report that department store sales, as figured by the Federal Reserve Board, rose over the country last week 7 per cent above the corresponding week last year.

Dr. Whitmer is superintendent of Pontiac schools; Woodman, treasurer of the GMTC Employees Federal Credit Union; and Powers, a distributor, is past president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Whitmer is one of four local leaders invited to address the meeting briefly, Hirlinger said.

The main speaker will be Louis C. Goad, GM executive vice president. About 15 other GM executives have been invited to attend as honored guests.

Retail Sales Climb

NEW YORK (INS)—The Federal Reserve Bank reported today that U. S. Department store sales last week were seven per cent higher than in the corresponding week of 1937. Philadelphia had the largest gain, 22 per cent. The Dallas Reserve District reported sales two per cent higher.

Bill to Convert Liquor Inventory Into Cash OK'd

LCC, Legal Adviser of Governor Meets to Study Procedural Questions

LANSING (AP)—The stage was finally set today for putting into effect the long-delayed Conlin Plan for pumping 16 to 18 million dollars into the ailing state treasury.

After the enabling bill cleared the Legislature yesterday, Gov. Williams promptly sent his legal adviser into a huddle with members of the State Liquor Control Commission on procedural questions.

The proposal, advanced in January by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton), calls for the state to switch over from a 30-day to a 90-day basis of payment for state liquor purchases.

Barring legal complications, this would have the effect of converting a large portion of the state's whisky and wine inventory into cash, he said.

The bill, unanimously voted by the Senate yesterday, and previously approved by the House, would authorize transfer of monies thus accumulated so they can be used to pay current state obligations.

After Conlin put forth his idea and Williams agreed a week later to try to carry it through, an impasse developed, with each asserting it was the other's first move.

'CAN PAY SCHOOLS'

"This will help get money into the state treasury so we can pay the schools," the Senate was told by Sen. Clyde H. Geerlings (R-Holland) in urging quick action.

Only Wednesday, State Treasurer Sanford A. Brown announced that a $28,500,000 state school aid payment due Saturday will have to be put off until early May because of depleted balances.

Conlin brought forward his proposal after the governor said the state was skidding toward bankruptcy, and predicted that by mid-May the state would be 30 million dollars in the hole.

Civic Leader in Detroit Dies

Mrs. Henry B. Joy, 88, Was Member of 83 Motor City Groups

DETROIT (U) — Mrs. Henry B. Joy, a prominent figure in Detroit civic and social circles more than half a century, died last night of a heart attack in her home, 2800 E. Grand St. She was 88.

Mrs. Joy was the widow of Henry B. Joy, a founder of Packard Motor Car Co.

Mrs. Joy was a member of 83 civic organizations and the last surviving founder of the Detroit chapter of the American Red Cross.

She longed to be a nurse. The yearning for a career of mercy was strong through her years at Miss Annie Brown's School, and at other private schools in Detroit and Washington, D. C.

Though Mrs. Joy's ambition never was realized, she later donated the Helen Newberry Joy nursing scholarship at Wayne State University.

In World War I, she worked tirelessly for the comfort and well-being of the Army.

She always claimed her interest in civic service was merely an inheritance.

Her mother was a founder of Grace Hospital. Mrs. Joy was a founder of both Cottage and Women's Hospitals. She was a vice president of Woman's Hospital and gave the Helen Newberry Joy Nurses Home to that institution.

The charming, witty lady was interested in the arts.

Among her treasured membership cards were those of symphony, theater and music groups.

She enjoyed recalling how she once started a group at the Art Institute at age 81.

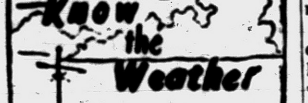

"I sailed out on the platform and walked the Blue Danube," she said happily.

It brought down the house.

Mrs. Joy, in whom culture, gentility and graciousness found a paragon, belonged to several eras and adapted to all with timeless dexterity.

Even in her advanced age she exuded enormous vitality and pursued the activities dear to her heart.

Mrs. Joy is survived by a son, Henry B. Joy Jr., and a daughter, Mrs. Helen Lee of Stomington, Conn. Funeral arrangements were not complete.

What is the significance of the closeness of the line on weather maps?

When the lines on the weather map in your newspaper are close together (these lines are isobars) that means pressure changes are great. Isobars are merely lines connecting points on the map which have reported the same barometric pressure.

If the pressure differential is great, even over a short distance, winds, and probably stiff ones, are sure to be encountered. That means for all practical purposes, that the top of the great layer of gases surrounding the earth is extremely hilly, so that air rushes from high peaks into the valleys nearby at great speed.

This speed, or wind velocity, causes heavy winds. If the incline is not steep—the lines (or isobars) not close together—the wind will flow more slowly, down a more gradual incline at the top of the layer of gas above you.

To Equip Pontiac Northern High School $222,050 Budget Approved

A budget of $222,050 was approved last night by the Pontiac Board of Education to equip and furnish the new Pontiac Northern High School now under construction.

The budget will provide for a variety of furniture, files, band, auditorium, kitchen and shop and homemaking items.

Added to other costs for new buildings and equipment during the past year, the equipment budget will place the building program $296,432 in the red, Assistant Superintendent Otto Hufziger told the board.

This money will be raised by bonds to be issued for next year's building program in accordance with the board's regular procedure for financing capital improvements.

The board already has the millage to pay for the anticipated bond issue.

Hufziger said the outlook for next year's building program income is $3,238,359 from all sources.

The board also received the terms of an agreement between its two maintenance and custodial workers unions, Local 719, AFL-CIO and the independent United Skilled Maintenance Trades Employees.

The two groups have agreed on a list of items on which they will negotiate in common with the board and on another list on which they will talk separately.

They also agreed on jurisdiction with all employees being represented by Local 719 except head machinists and mechanics.

The groups pressed for adoption of an apprentice training program for helpers who seek journeyman status.

Superintendent Dana P. Whitmer reported on state aid to school districts. He said that Senate Bill 1054 had cleared the Legislature and awaited the governor's signature.

This bill would pay Pontiac $2,708,000, compared with the $2,570,000 paid under the current law. However, he noted, the bill does not guarantee payment.

The board also received a delegation from the Winsor School PTA, requesting a new kitchen.

They were told that the board would add this project to its supplemental budget list which contains items left out of the budget but which the board would like to include if its income next year is higher than now anticipated.

Dr. Whitmer reported on a bill now in the Senate which would boost driver's license fees in Michigan and earmark the increase for driver training instruction in the schools.

"If passed, this bill would pay the schools about twice as much per pupil as the $13-$15 currently being paid."

The superintendent also reported privately to the board concerning the striking of a pupil at Whittier Elementary School by a teacher.

He said that he was presently negotiating with the boy's family for an amicable settlement of the matter.

The board also accepted an offer from the Nazarene Church to allow teachers at Pontiac Central to park their cars in the church lot without charge.

Navy, 5-Year-Old Ape Have Each 'Up Tree'

NORFOLK, Va. (U) — The U.S. Navy and Nicky, a friendly Barbary ape, have each other up a tree.

Nicky, destined for a Memphis zoo, escaped from his cage yesterday and fled up the rigging of the cargo ship Antares.

He was kept awake during the night hours by the glare of spotlights thrown on the 50-foot mast.

"How to get him down? The Navy wished it knew."

"I think he'll come down, all right," said Cmdr. J. F. Miller, skipper of the Antares, which is tied up at a Norfolk Naval Base pier. "Maybe we can lure him down with bananas—he seems to like them. We'll just improvise as we go."

When it became obvious that Nicky wasn't going to be persuaded to come down, Miller set a "monkey watch."

The "monkey watch" hoisted a small heater into the rigging to keep Nicky warm. It focused the spotlight on him to be sure he would not crawl out a cargo boom unnoted.

Once a sailor succeeded in getting the three-foot-tall, 5-year-old Nicky to descend and accept a banana. But before a net could be lowered over him, Nicky sped back up the mast—with the banana.

Nicky is a gift from the British admiral commanding at Gibraltar to the Memphis zoo. He was being transferred from his seagoing cage to the smaller cage in which he will be shipped to Memphis when he got away.

The AFL-CIO memo was a follow-up to the White House visit with Eisenhower by AFL-CIO leaders George Meany, Walter Reuther and others.

Police Testify in Kohler Probe

Senate Group Asking What Happened During 'Clay Boat Riot'

By RICHARD P. POPWERS

WASHINGTON (U) — Police officers testify today before Senate subcommittee on what happened in the "Clay Boat Riot" which erupted July 5, 1955, during the Kohler Co. strike.

Officials of the United Auto Workers have contended they were not to blame for the violence which ensued when attempts were made to unload ceramic clay from a Norwegian ship. The clay was consigned to the Kohler firm, which manufactures plumbing fixtures.

The special Senate committee is inquiring into charges by the company and the union, each accusing the other of blame for hundreds of acts of violence in the strike which began in April 1954 and is still going on. The plant is operating with non-strikers and new workers.

Wilson Declares Hard Work Vital that we are not placing enough value and importance on ethics, philosophy, religion and the humanities.

"Our nation and the free world must maintain great military strength as compared with Russia, to avoid a disastrous and suicidal war; we must not forget that the Communist challenge is economic and political or social as well as military. We cannot depend on arms, and arms alone, as the basis of peace abroad and freedom at home."

Largely due to our national policies and our strong defense, there is reason to believe that the rise of communism may have reached and passed its peak. Millions and millions of people throughout the world realize that international communism is not the path to security, social justice, or happiness for individuals, nor the road to independence, prosperity and peace for any nation. Communism may be an improvement over serfdom, but it does not fulfill the age old desire of men to be free.

"I am not one that looks wistfully to the past. I would not recommend that we turn the clock back even if we could. I would like to make sound progress from where we are. Never have so few promised so much to so many leaving it up to future generations to make good. And if we adhere to the principles that made our country great a surprising number of these promises will be fulfilled. But, if we try to place ignorance and intelligence on the same basis and try to reward laziness and industry equally, we will not make good on any of our plans to improve the welfare of all."

According to Dr. Otto Hufziger, assistant superintendent, the school's sewer line was crushed by a tractor which was doing some filling and grading work for the city.

Repair work on the line is under way and school will resume Monday, he said.

Seeks to Lease Pontiac General

Financing Critic Wants Hospital Run Profitably as Public Service

A critic of Pontiac General Hospital finances, Paul A. Kern Jr., has offered to lease the institution for the next 49 years and run it profitably as a public service.

Kern made the offer in a letter to the City Commission in behalf of the Pontiac real estate firm of which he is manager.

He asked commissioners for immediate action on his proposal. Otherwise, he said, "we would like to see this matter discussed and debated during the coming elections."

Kern, who opposed two unsuccessful bond issues proposed last year to complete the $4,500,000 hospital addition, claimed his group could run the hospital as a private institution and keep it out of the red, even though paying out of its profits the following:

The principal and interest on the 30-year $3 million 1952 bond issue for the addition. This has 28 more years to run;

The $350,000 which the city has promised to give the hospital to equip the addition. The first $137,000 has already been delivered;

The $75,000 annual "subsidy" which the city now pays for employee pensions and emergency service.

At present, the city pays the principal on the hospital bonds and the hospital the interest.

Despite these additional financial burdens, Kern claimed with an average 75 per cent occupancy of the hospital beds his group could keep hospital rates comparable to those in effect at present, while at the same time "improving services and eliminating political controversy" over the hospital's management.

Commissioners received the proposal skeptically. City Attorney William Ewart said if the proposal were to be considered "seriously," it would present "numerous legal problems," including a public vote of approval.

The proposal was referred to the hospital Board of Trustees, which presently is trying to figure out how to keep the hospital out of the red again this year.

Last year's hospital deficit was $71,000.

Frederick C. Ziem, Oakland County prosecutor since 1952, today became the first county official to announce he would seek re-election this fall.

Ziem, 41, of 74 Mohawk Rd., will be seeking his fourth term as prosecutor on the Republican ticket.

He joined the prosecutor's office in 1947 as an assistant prosecutor. He was made chief assistant in 1950.

Are you a widow or widower? Did your husband or wife die during 1954 or 1955? If so and certain conditions are met—the tax may be computed as if a joint return had been filed.

The conditions to be met are: (1) You must not have remarried. (2) You must maintain your home as the principal place of abode for a child or stepchild for whom you are entitled to an exemption. (3) You must have been entitled to file a joint return with the deceased spouse in the year of death.

If the foregoing conditions are met, compute the income, exemptions, and deductions in the regular manner and take advantage of the tax rates for married people.

Saves Bill to Check Fraudulent Petitions

A House-approved bill to provide a check for fraudulent petitions submitted by candidates for public office was saved from immediate defeat yesterday by State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Drayton Plains).

Authorization would be given to city, county or township clerks to examine petition signatures for their validity under the bill.

Sen. Donald E. Smith (R-Owosso), who was joined by other critics of the bill, contended the bill was "useless" in that last analysis of these signatures would have to be in circuit courts.

But the Senate agreed to hold the bill on the calendar after Lodge said "cheating" candidates, who know their petitions are padded with fraudulent names, often can be chased off the ballot by a diligent county clerk merely through threat of exposure.

Says He Flung Son, Daughter Into River

'Threw Children In!'

WHEELING, W. Va. (AP) — A 33-year-old steelworker told authorities at nearby Wellsburg last night that he had thrown his two young children into the frigid Ohio River from a bridge in Wheeling.

After several hours questioning, the Brooke County Sheriff's office said it was convinced that the man, John Turner, 33, of Beech Bottom, near Wellsburg, was telling the truth.

A search of the river was begun immediately.

Wheeling police said they found foot and hand prints in fresh snow on the sidewalk and rail of the Fort Henry Bridge. They said some of the prints appeared to be those of children.

Deputy Sheriff Evan Rees said Turner was incoherent at first and sobbed deeply at times. He said Turner could give no reason for his action.

Rees quoted Turner as saying he and the children, Betty Marie, 7, and John Jr., 4, left their house about 10:30 last night to go to a store.

Instead, Turner said, he drove to Wheeling, about 20 miles north of Beech Bottom.

Turner said he threw the children into the river, then drove back to Wellsburg, walked into the Sheriff's office and told his story.

Two County School Publications Honored

Two Oakland County school publications were among the 20 Michigan school newspapers and magazines honored by the Columbia Scholastic Press Assn. for outstanding writing, make-up and all-round publication.

In the printed newspapers senior high school category, the Farmington High School Blue and White was awarded third place.

The Crane, published by Cranbrook School in Bloomfield Hills, won first place in competition with printed newspapers in the boys private secondary schools class.

Awards were made yesterday from more than 1,400 entries throughout the United States in the 34th annual contest.

The "Lord's Prayer Rock" stands near Bristol, Vermont. It was inscribed in 1891, to admonish profane teamsters urging their horses up a steep grade.

A gown of Chantilly lace and tulle, fashioned on princess lines, was the bride's choice for her wedding. The lace, re-embroidered with seed pearls and sequins, accented the Sabrina neckline and the skirt of the gown, which swept into a chapel train.

A tiara of seed pearls and sequins held the bride's fingertip tulle veil, and a cascade of white carnations centered with an orchid corsage comprised her bouquet.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Mark Summers of Pontiac. Sharron Faus, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid and a cousin, Joan Lee Schaeffer, was the flower girl.

Mark Summers served as best man, and ushers were Carl Watson, Jack Schaeffer, cousin of the bride, and Michael Faus, the bride's brother.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony.

Following a honeymoon in Alabama and other southern states, the two will make their home at 2401 Opydyke Rd.

To Protect, Inform Township Taxpayers

Bloomfield Plans United Civic Group

BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP — Members of the Bloomfield Township Taxpayers Committee are taking steps to organize a united civic association on a permanent basis.

This decision was one of several made at a meeting held Wednesday evening in the home of Arthur J. Picotte, 4019 Quarton Rd.

Plans were made to have each civic association in Bloomfield Township elect or appoint three members to a united association, according to Mrs. John Begovich, committee publicity chairman.

The united association's only interest would be to protect and inform taxpayers, Mrs. Begovich said.

Charles Bauldry was assigned the task of contacting all civic associations in the township.

Township taxpayers not represented by a civic association may contact Picotte at MI 6-8044 or Doran B. Dickinson Jr. at MA 6-1339 if they wish to register with the united association.

In terms of services, received from property, taxes.

The taxpayers committee was formed at the recent mass meeting of Bloomfield Township property owners who protested against increased assessments.

The committee is circulating petitions to obtain names of taxpayers who want tax relief. Mrs. Begovich said that the petitions will be taken to state officials in Lansing.

Committee members will meet for a second time at 8 p.m. April 1 at the Picotte residence.

George Petzer, permanent chairman of the taxpayers committee, said today that Bloomfield Township taxpayers still have an opportunity to meet with the township Board of Review.

He said the board told him appointments may be made for Saturday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday by contacting township officials at the Township Hall.

Romeo Volunteers Fight Two Blazes

ROMEO — Members of the Romeo Volunteer Fire Department had a busy evening answering two fire alarms between 10:30 p.m. and midnight last night.

Twenty of the firefighters waded through marshy undergrowth to put out a grass fire on the Compton sand and gravel pit property. South of 31-Mile road in Washington Township.

Just after they returned home a car fire in front of the Romeo Savings Bank on Main street brought them out again.

The car belonged to Darryl Martin, 19, of 73827 Kanie Rd., Romeo. He told village police he stepped on the starter and the motor burst into flames.

The blaze was put out immediately but damage was estimated at about $300.

Cause of both fires has not been determined.

Dear Abby.... Show This 'Widower' You Have Lots of Life

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I found a phone number written on my husband's shirttail with a ball-point pen so I called it up. The girl who answered the phone said she had met a fellow called Emil (my husband) and when I told her he was my husband she refused to believe me.

She said ABBY Emil showed her a card that had his name printed on it as the president of the Weeping Widowers Club. (A club for widowers). I am very much alive and we have three kids.

How would you handle this? NOT DEAD YET

DEAR NOT DEAD: Tell Emil to turn in his card—and show him there's plenty of life left in you.

DEAR ABBY: I have read in your column many times where decent men are looking for a nice girl. I have a suggestion. Why not go to any one of our thousands of public schools? They are filled with intelligent, wholesome refined women who would make wonderful wives and mothers. School teachers are generally a pretty lonely lot and they are only human.

ONLY HUMAN DEAR ONLY: Your suggestion is a good one, but how does a gentleman get next to

All Women Should Know When to Display Temper Otherwise, Men Will Take Advantage of Feminine Agreeability

By RUTH MILLETT

"A woman who wants to get things done should know when to lose her temper," says one of the country's well-known career women.

There probably isn't a woman worth her salt who hasn't, at one time or another, had to lose her temper in order to convince somebody—usually a man—that she has set a point beyond which she will not be pushed and that she has a few principles she will stand up and fight for.

A truly feminine woman likes peace. She also likes to please. And she is perfectly willing to let unimportant matters slide rather than create any kind of disturbance.

Because that's her nature, both in the business world and at home, it is sometimes easy for people to begin to think that her rights and her performance and her opinions don't have to be considered.

It is even easy for some people to think they can indefinitely take advantage of a woman who is always agreeable, easy to please and willing to go more than half way in keeping things pleasant.

That is why a truly feminine woman has to know when to lose her temper, when to let others know she has had enough, that she has been pushed too far or overworked as long as she intends to be.

The sight of a usually easy-going, soft-voiced woman suddenly rising up and saying, "I've had enough. Now you listen to me," is enough to make strong men shake in their boots.

The fact that she knows when to get angry and that she never wastes her anger on anything unimportant or petty is the very thing that makes it effective when she does use it.

Certainly, every woman needs to

Not all suit jackets for spring are loose, brief and pared. Beautifully shaped, longer suit jackets will appeal to the well-dressed or sophisticated woman and there will undoubtedly be a modification in the length of her skirt too.

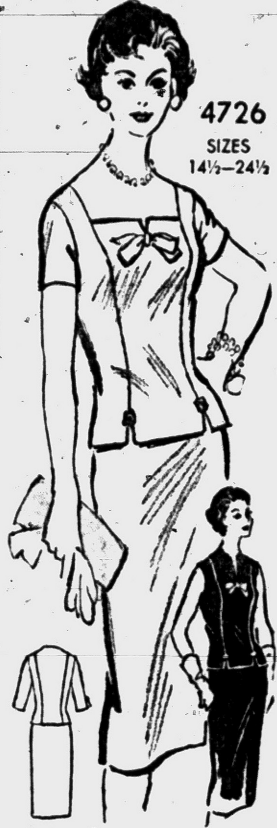

All organic compounds in plants are derived from sugar.

No Charge for Giving Legal Help

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: I found it necessary lately to consult a lawyer about a legal matter. This lawyer happens to be an old family friend. He spent a good deal of time on this matter and when I asked him what his fee was, he said there was none.

"I feel terrible about this and would like to know if it would be proper for me to send a check anyway for what I think would be his fee. If this is not proper, will you please tell me what I can do to repay his kindness?"

Answer: Don't send a check. You can, however, go to him personally and offer him the check saying, "I am deeply grateful for what you did for me. Won't you please let me give you what I can in compensation?" If he refuses, there is nothing to do but to thank him for his kindness to you. In short, don't make a scene of it.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I have an aunt who is only five years my senior. We are both married and travel in the same circle. When we are with others I feel rather foolish calling her 'Aunt Jane.' Would it be proper under these circumstances to leave off the 'aunt' and just call her 'Jane'?"

Answer: It seems to me that in view of the small difference in your ages, your aunt would be glad to tell you to call her "Jane" if you ask her whether or not she has any objection.

"Dear Mrs. Post: We are in doubt as to how to address an envelope to a husband and wife in the unusual situation of the wife instead of the husband holding a high political office; namely, member of Congress. Please tell us what is correct."

Answer: Official invitations read "The Honorable Mary Doe and Mr. Doe," but all personal mail sent to their house is written to Mr. and Mrs. John Doe.

Try This Ear-Touching Routine

Exercise Combats Underarm Fat

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)
Q. "I am fat under my arms. My bra leaves a roll under the arm. This isn't a lump, it is just plain fat. I am overweight but this is the spot which bothers me most."

A. A general loss of weight will, of course, help. Also do this exercise:

Q. "I am 5 feet 6 inches tall and weigh 180 pounds. Am I overweight or underweight? My friends disagree about this."

A. You are very much underweight and should gain.

Q. "I would like to know if this stuff you hear and read about how to turn gray hair back to its normal color is harmful in any way."

and would you advise people to use it?"

A. So far as I know there is no product which will turn gray hair back to its normal color. There has been some evidence that vitamin B complex may have some influence but this is inconclusive.

Q. "I am 44 years old and have been married for 20 years. I have five children and nursed all of them. My bust is so flat. In fact I practically have no bust. Is there anything I can do? Can a doctor do something?"

A. You can build up the chest muscles with exercise and therefore increase the bust measurement. Plastic surgery also, can remedy this situation.

Q. "I am not allowed to shave my legs and have dark hair which embarrasses me very much. My mother says if I shave my hair it will grow out thick."

A. This is not true. The hair will not grow out any thicker but the ends will be stubby when the hair grows out because of the cutting. However, it is too bad to be embarrassed about this since you can remove the hairs by shaving or with a depilatory. The only permanent method of removal is electrolysis.

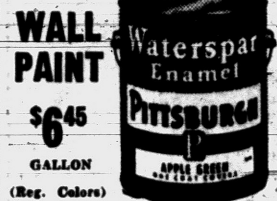

Q. "I have very small spider-like veins on my upper legs. What causes these and is there any makeup to cover them?"

A. Most women have some of these. Overweight and tight garments and long hours on the feet seem to make one more susceptible. There is a product which will cover them.

If you wish to have its name, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for this information. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.
Tomorrow: "Good Posture, Exercises Way to Charming Chinline."

Boss Often Considers Your Life His Business

NEW YORK (INS) — You may think your private life is your own concern, but a good many prospective employers disagree with you.

An insurance firm (New York Life Insurance Company) recently studied the problem of what will weigh against a job applicant, and among the negative factors were the following:

"Failure to participate in activities . . . lack of social understanding . . . loads during vacations—lakeside . . . unhappy married life . . . friction with parents . . . cynical . . . low moral standards . . . spends much time in movies . . . poor handling of personal finances . . . no interest in community activities."

The theory behind this interest in a future job-holder's personal activities is simple—the same traits that show up in private life will be evidenced during office hours.

While it is poor policy to tell a prospective employer that money burns a hole in your pocket, or that your father thinks you're a bum, don't paint an absolutely ideal picture, either.

No one is going to believe that you like everybody, have never had a financial problem and don't have an enemy in the world.

Mrs. Hadley's Cake Rich and Moist, Has Nutty Frosting

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

At present we seem to have an abundance of cake recipes. Today's cook, Mrs. Hadley F. Martin of Walled Lake, gives us her recipe for sour cream cake. No shortening is needed with this recipe.

Mrs. Martin, a homemaker with an outside job, is secretary of the Walled Lake Business and Professional Woman's club. Golf is her hobby.

By Mrs. Hadley F. Martin

1 egg
1 cup sour cream (about)
1 cup sugar
1½ cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon cream of tartar
1 teaspoon vanilla

Break egg into measuring cup, then fill cup with sour cream. Stir together in mixing bowl, add sugar and beat. Sift and add dry ingredients, then flavoring. Bake in greased 8x8 pan on lower shelf of oven. Bake 25 minutes at 350 degrees.

Sour Cream Frosting

1 cup sugar
1 cup sour cream
1½ tablespoons flour
1 cup chopped nuts
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cook sugar, cream and flour until thick. Add nuts and vanilla. Spread on cooled cake.

Two Dems May Write Tax Cut Legislation

By INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE
Rep. Wilbur Mills (D Ark.) and Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D Va.) will be asked shortly to write legislation to cut taxes several billion dollars — a task most lawmakers would jump at with great political pleasure but one which these two men will take up with great reluctance.

Mills is chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, where all tax laws must start, and Byrd is head of the Senate Finance Committee, which handles revenue legislation in that body. Not that Mills or Byrd favor high taxes. They don't. But both, for somewhat different reasons, are against cutting them at this particular time. Mills has made it clear that he would prefer to wait until later in the spring before taking such a drastic step — as he believed a tax cut to be — in bringing an end to the recession.

By that time, other steps will have had a chance to work, and a better picture will be available of what federal income and spending will be. The 70-year-old Byrd, who has fought for balanced budgets throughout his 45 years of public service, will find nothing more distasteful than having a part in a tax cut that would add several billion dollars to the deficit already facing Uncle Sam.

Byrd, born in Martinsburg, W. Va., on June 10, 1887, and a millionaire apple grower and newspaper publisher, has led every economy drive conducted in the Senate in the past decade or so. Some were successful, but more often, they were not. VOICE RAISED His soft, high-pitched voice has been raised time and time again in the interests of economy during his 24 years in the Senate. But, while always listened to with great respect, his counsel has not been followed. His independence of northern Democratic party influences once prompted former President Harry S. Truman to crack that there were "too many Byrds" in the Senate for him. Twice his native state of Virginia voted for President Eisenhower over Adlai Stevenson after Byrd simply did not endorse the Democratic candidate — an indication of his influence in state politics.

Mills, a 20-year veteran in the house although only 48 (he was born at Kensett, Ark., May 24, 1909), is a Harvard-educated student of tax law and theory. His conservatism, not as deep-rooted as Byrd's, stems more from his study of tax law than anything else. And it is tempered politically with relatively close ties with organized labor for a southern Democrat. His post as head of the Ways and Means Committee and his moderate position politically in the Democratic Party has made him a top candidate for speaker of the house when Speaker Sam Rayburn decides to end his service.

Ten Boat Captains Fined for Shrimping

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP) — Ten boat captains each were fined $300 yesterday for shrimping in a restricted area of the Dry Tortugas. It was the first large-scale crackdown on shrimpers since the area was officially marked off by buoys Feb. 2 for conservation purposes.

"The penalties may be a bit drastic," said Criminal Judge Thomas S. Caro, "but we must do everything possible to save the 10 million dollar a year industry." Four of the captains were on boats from Florida points.

Others fined included Louis Lasne, Folly Beach, S.C.; Charles Morris, Oriental, N.C.; Benjamin Washington, Charleston, S.C.; and Lewis R. Smith, Joseph White and Elijah Weston, all of Southport, N.C.

Burglar Leaves Card, Police Call on Him

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A burglar ransacked a suburban St. Louis Park home stealing $31,444, most of it in government bonds. Police had little trouble identifying the culprit. He dropped a slip of paper bearing his name. The man was picked up in a bar and the loot was recovered.

But Mr. Hsu Had Better Come Back

'You Just Said Not Guilty, Judge --- I'm Through'

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP) — Edward Hsu, 37, San Francisco, found U. S. legal procedure, well, inscrutable.

Hsu appeared on a traffic charge, driving without due caution and following too closely.

"I come myself to state the nature of the matter," he told Municipal Judge Harold Haley yesterday. "It is a small matter and I ask the judge to pronounce me not guilty."

"Mr. Hsu," said Judge Haley, "you will have to follow the directions of the court. Now, how do you plead, guilty or not guilty?"

"I don't have to," said Hsu. "You," he suggested, "pronounce me not guilty."

Judge Haley demurred; Hsu insisted. Finally the judge told him: "I am directing the clerk to enter a plea of not guilty. You will be here one week from today and we will set the time for your trial."

"I don't come back here," Hsu informed him. "You just said I'm not guilty. I'm all through."

"And a bench warrant will be waiting if you fail to appear," said the judge.

Hsu left, saying he was not coming back. "The judge said I'm not guilty," he said. "Anyway, it was just a small matter."

Normally, the "small matter" would be a fine of perhaps $11 for following too closely.

Bonanza Finally Arrives

Yankees Pouring Into Florida

By JOE HAAS
MIAMI, Fla. — Having climbed over both Jacksonville and Tampa as Florida's largest city, Miami now wonders if it will be able to hold that position.

The big freeze blasted the argument that brought that growth about. With around 275,000 permanent residents, it has been passing the half million mark in the winter. As most of those 275,000 make their living off the visitors, they're now wondering what will happen if their principal source of income is greatly curtailed. Miami could go back to third place in population, as neither of its rivals is so largely dependent on the tourists.

But since the mercury climbed to normal here there has been an influx of northerners that breaks all records. They seem to have been waiting until this southern winter had its fling.

On a recent single day more people arrived by air than were handled by all three New York City airports on that day. The Miami papers put it at 21,000, and claim this is the largest number of arrivals at any airport in the world in one day in all aviation history.

Many of these of course went to Miami Beach, that city across Biscayne Bay, which was hit vastly harder than Miami by the cold. Its frostbitten season borders on the pitiful.

Miamians find that the damage to surrounding garden crops was quite small. They supply 75 per cent of the tomatoes and other vegetables consumed in winter in northern markets, including Pontiac's.

The tomato crop is now bound northward at the rate of 75 carloads per day, only about ten per cent less than last year. Other garden crops show about the same percentage.

These crops were saved in a quite unique manner. During every night that frost threatened, airplanes were kept flying over the fields at a very low altitude. This agitation of the air kept the frost away.

The cold weather damage to the orange and other fruit crops is not felt to any extent in Miami. Very little citrus fruit is raised in this area. That belt crosses the state much further north.

Tennessee Welfare Feeds 600 Families

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn. (AP) — Surplus foods were on hand for distribution today to about 250 Hamilton County families certified by the County Welfare Department.

About 350 families in the city were issued a month's supply of foods yesterday in the second distribution of surplus commodities this winter by the City Relief Bureau.

Mrs. Sue Lee, bureau director, said the food came from the Tennessee Department of Agriculture and included meal, flour, cheese, rice and powdered milk.

A month ago, 176 families received surplus food.

Ashby Black Jr., district manager of the Tennessee Department of Employment Security, said 10,400 persons, or 8.8 per cent of the total labor force, were unemployed in the Greater Chattanooga area as of Feb. 15. The district includes Hamilton County, Tenn., and Walker County, Ga.

Chiefs Seeking Crown Tonight

Pontiac Meets
Bentley in 'A'
Regional GamePCH Eyes Quarter-Final
Spot in Showdown Tilt
at Livonia

By BILL CORNWELL

With their knees still a little shaky after Wednesday's narrow escape, the Pontiac Central Chiefs return to the Livonia Bentley gymnasium tonight in quest of a Class A regional basketball title.

Host Bentley will be their opponent as the two schools struggle for a berth in next week's state quarter-finals. Game time is 8:30 p.m.

Pontiac was scared stiff by Waterford's fighting Skippers in semi-final action on the Bentley court.

Top-heavy favorites in view of their lopsided 71-41 victory over Waterford during the regular season, the Chiefs were forced to go all out for a 48-42 triumph.

It was a rude awakening for the Chiefs, who hadn't even perspired heavily while mopping up Southfield and Farmington in last week's district play.

Pontiac eventually defeated the Skippers because of greater reserve strength and better scoring balance. PCH will not be able to dispose of Bentley on those qualities.

There is every indication that Bentley can match the Chiefs in firepower and the Bulldogs also boast skilled replacements on the bench. In addition, they have the height to give Pontiac rough competition under the backboards.

Scoring stars Ron Gable and George King, along with Jim Carmichael, stand 4-foot-2 or higher. All three are tough around the boards as Catholic Central will testify after being eliminated by Bentley in Tuesday's regional opener.

Bentley's strength does not stop there, however. Guards Tom Eveland and Don Phillips are standout backcourt performers, Eveland furnishing the scoring punch and Phillips excelling as a playmaker.

Another big problem confronting the Chiefs this evening is the home floor advantage. PCH has to argue with the Bulldogs in their own backyard.

Pontiac will have to call upon all the depths of its talent if a spot in the quarter-finals is to be realized. From the quarter-final lies three giant steps to the state Class A championship.

Erratic play such as the Chiefs displayed during the close shave with Waterford will surely be fatal against a solid quintet like Bentley.

Given Slim Edge in 'B' Games at PCH Tonight

Troy, Keego Favored

By CHUCK ABRAH

Its post-time for the remaining entries in the local Class B regional basketball tournament at the Pontiac Central gym tonight as a big doubleheader determines Saturday's finalists.

The opener of the program would likely draw an overflow crowd along with highly-ranked Troy taking on a strong Rochester five at 7 but an all-Wayne-Oakland 2nd game matching West Bloomfield and Brighton is almost certain to force tourney officials to put up the SRO sign early.

Survivors of the rugged twin-bill will return to PCH tomorrow for an 8 p.m. clash and a berth in the state quarter-finals next week.

Going on past records, unbeaten Troy (18-0) and West Bloomfield (10-8) have to be rated the favorites to keep rolling.

Troy, with one of the best, balanced teams in the area, dominated the Oakland B loop and knocked over teams from other leagues along the way as well as some independents. One of those independents was Rochester by an impressive 47-32 score.

West Bloomfield not only has a better record than Brighton's

8-9 but more important whipped the Bulldogs twice during the regular season. The Keego gang romped 63-43 early and added a 63-58 verdict last month.

But past records are of little importance at tournament time.

Rochester has been going strong all year despite five losses and hit peak form in the district here last week. So a Falcon victory would be no great surprise.

Brighton's record is deceiving since the Bulldogs lost several close ones. Coach Harry Fosdick has proven he can get his boys "way up" on occasion looking back at those aspects of Clarkson and Northville and tourney triumphs over Milford, Howell and Marysville.

It should be mighty interesting regardless of how things work out. Outstanding individuals Dick Booth and Wayne Figley (Troy), John Lucadam and Jim Hollister (Keego), Carl Montross and Gene Lothery (Rochester) and big Brian Watson of Brighton are expected to keep the scorekeepers busy throughout the evening.

The tourney champion will be the only one "B" team remaining in the race for state honors. Warren was eliminated last night by 1957 runnerup Harper Woods, 64-57.

Ferndale, Parkers Collide

Ferndale and Highland Park, season-long basketball powers in Class A ranks, collide in the Birmingham High School gym tonight for a regional crown and a trip to next week's state quarter-finals.

The two teams will tip off at 8 o'clock in a game which matches a couple of Michigan's brightest prep stars—"Jumping" Gene Lawson of Highland Park and Ferndale's Earl McNeal.

Ferndale reached the regional final with an easy conquest of outclassed Royal Oak Dendlers. The Parkers found the road to the title found a little more rugged as they eked out a four-point victory over strong Berkeley.

Another Class A regional championship will be decided tonight at East Detroit where another pair of state powerhouses—Detroit Austin Catholic and Grosse Pointe—play for keeps in an 8 o'clock duel. Austin is Michigan's only unbeaten Class A team.

Regional Slate

Tonight's high school regional tournament basketball games in the Oakland County area are listed below.

AT LIVONIA BENTLEY
CLASS A—Pontiac Central vs. Livonia Bentley (Championship Final), 8:30.
AT BIRMINGHAM
CLASS A—Ferndale vs. Highland Park (Championship Final), 8.
AT EAST DETROIT
CLASS A—Grosse Pointe vs. Detroit Austin (Championship Final), 8.
AT PONTIAC CENTRAL
CLASS B—Rochester vs. Troy, 7; West Bloomfield vs. Brighton, 8:30.

Women's Tourney Resumes

Pin Champs Begin Defense

Defending champions in all divisions will be in action Saturday and Sunday at Huron Bowl high-lighting the middle weekend of the three-week city bowling tournament for women.

Featuring the Saturday night program will be the appearance of the Ward's Furniture team on the 9 p.m. squad. Gerry Hintz and Shirley Pointer, doubles winners last year, and singles king Eleanor Baxter will compete Sunday afternoon at 4.

Both Saturday squads will be at night for teams. Sunday action begins at 10 p.m. and continues through 6:30 p.m. for singles, doubles and team play.

Huron Bowl No. 3 took the team lead last weekend with 3048. A Pontiac duo of Gerry Weber-Phyllis Shaul paced doubles entries with 1286 and Mary Steward of Rochester topped the board in singles with 685.

The 25th annual tourney, sponsored by the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association, comes to a close March 23.
