Assembly Votes 64-5 to Back Dulles Proposal

Israel Told to Pull Out Army; Britain, France Disapprove

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—The U. N. General Assembly in an unprecedented emergency session voted overwhelmingly early today for an immediate cease-fire in Egypt.

The 76-nation Assembly, adopting a resolution introduced by Secretary of State Dulles, also urged that Israel pull her forces out of Egypt and that Britain and France not move theirs in.

Weary from an all-night meeting, delegates expressed doubt privately that the three nations would comply, since all had argued that their military operations must be carried through to their objectives.

Should they fail to do so, the expectation was that a further proposal would be introduced for stronger action.

Dulles' resolution provides for the Assembly to remain in emergency session pending compliance but no time was set for the next meeting.

The vote was 64-5 with 6 abstentions. Britain, France, Israel, Australia and New Zealand voted against the resolution. Canada, South Africa, Belgium, Laos, the Netherlands and Portugal abstained. Luxembourg was absent.

Among those voting with the United States for its proposal were the seven-nation Soviet bloc, the 20 Latin-American nations, the 23-country Asian-African group and Scandinavia.

The decision, shortly before 2:30 a.m., got 27 seconds' ap-

Candidates Hammer Away

We're on Right Path — Ike, Erred at Geneva — Adlai

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said last night his administration has chosen "a path of honor" in the Middle East crisis by refusing to "condone armed aggression."

And he told an overflow crowd in Philadelphia's 16,000-seat Convention Hall that because he is convinced he picked the right path he is "undisturbed by the strident voices of those few who seem to be seeking to turn world events to political profit."

Speaking also to a nationwide television - radio audience, that was as close as Eisenhower came to replying to sharp criticism which Adlai E. Stevenson has been hurling at him regarding the Middle East situation.

It was Eisenhower's last major speech of the campaign and he did fire back at Stevenson once again on two other issues, without naming his Democratic rival. He said his opponent is advocating "a design for disaster" in these times in calling for steps toward ending hydrogen bomb testing and proposing that thought be given to terminating the military draft.

"NO, NO"

The crowd in Convention Hall shouted "No, no," when Eisenhower put this question against the background of the current international tension:

"Would we today feel safe or secure as a nation if we—some time in the past—had already ceased perfecting our military weapons and even abandoned our military draft?"

Then he went on to say to a round of applause:

"That is no formula for peace. It is a design for disaster."

Eisenhower aides had predicted in advance of his speech that he would devote a good part of the address to a "reply to Stevenson's

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson sought the defeat of President Eisenhower today on the claim he should have averted the war in Egypt.

The Democratic nominee laid down this argument in addresses in Buffalo last night and promised to develop it today in Cleveland and tonight in Detroit.

In a nationwide television and radio talk — billed as a reply to Eisenhower's speech over similar facilities Wednesday — Stevenson declared:

"As late as the summer of 1955 at the Geneva conference, if the President had taken an insistent stand against the shipment of Communist arms to Egypt, I am

Pot-O-Gold Still Begging for Winner

After another week of frantically looking for a winner among 5,952 Pot-O-Gold puzzle entries, the judges tell us that their search was to no avail. Several times they were hopeful as they found entries with just one or two small errors, but no completely correct puzzles were mailed in . . .at least not among these which qualified.

Besides the qualifying puzzles, there were 67 late entries and 11 sent in envelopes. Who knows?

One may have been a winning answer.

So now if you want to win $400, turn to page 27 and get to work on Puzzle No. 22. You still have until Tuesday to turn it in. Read through the solution explanations on page 37 for Puzzle No. 21; it may give you a clue to solving this week's puzzle.

$309,797 Total; Industrial Unit Reports $93,000

Big Figure for Today Is $21,000 by Pontiac Motor Employes

Further returns of industrial employe donations have put the 1956 Pontiac Area United Fund drive over the halfway mark, campaign chairman Walter K. Willman announced today.

Volunteer workers now have collected $309,797 of the $612,202 goal sought to keep 54 community service agencies operating next year, he said.

Wome door-to-door soticitors and Torchlighters collecting business employe pledges have reached over 50 per cent of their quotas, he said.

The big figure announced today was $21,000, the first report of employe donations at Pontiac Motor Division of General Motors Corporation.

HALFWAY MARK

Added to the $72,000 from area industrial employes already announced, this brings Industrial Division's employe donations up to $93,000 of their $188,717 goal.

Division chairman Earl Maxwell continued to urge 100 per cent participation in the three-week campaign by workers in Pontiac, Waterford Township and Pontiac Township plants.

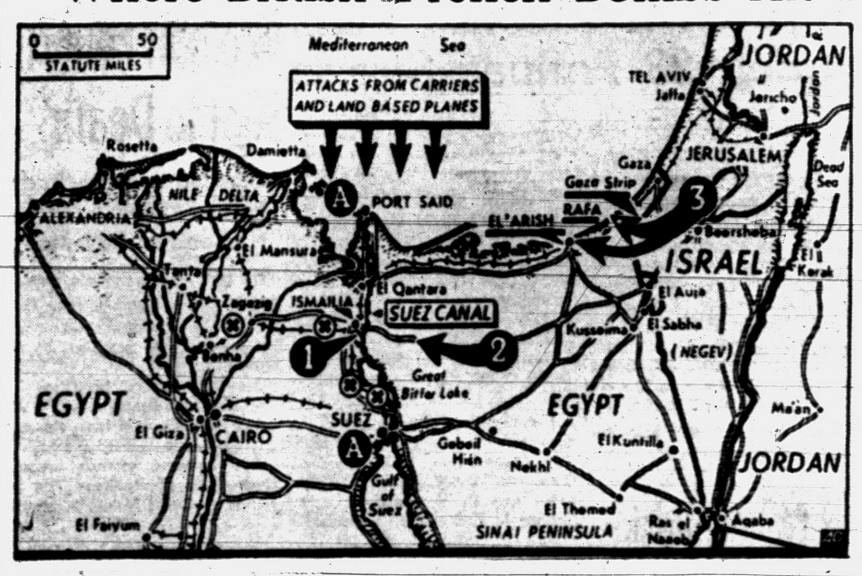

At the halfway mark, women of the Geographic Division are still leading the way. Chairman Mrs. Ralph G. Bump announced $12,887, or 67 per cent of the division's $19,116 quota.

Today's report also included a total of $86,020 from the Commercial Division, or 54 per cent of the division's $158,086 goal, according to chairman James F. Nye.

Willman said in his report to workers, "Two weeks remain for us all to prove we care for the good of our community and the thousands of people who benefit from United Fund services."

The drive is slated to end with a victory luncheon Nov. 16. A special meeting of Commercial Division leaders was called for next Friday.

Hungary in Grip of New Tension

Asks U.N. Protection as 2 Soviet Troop Groups Move In From Russia

BUDAPEST (AP) — Tension gripped Budapest today in the wake of fresh Soviet troop movements into Hungary, but Premier Imre Nagy's government sought to minimize the gravity of the situation.

A government spokesman said no new Russian troops had entered Hungary after an estimated two Soviet divisions poured across the border from Russia yesterday.

The spokesman said the situation which was "extremely grave" last night had "relaxed" today. But the Budapest population waited anxiously to see if the Russians would move again.

The Soviet troop move came in the wake of Nagy's announcement that Hungary was pulling out of the Kremlin - dominated Warsaw Pact and claiming neutral freedom from any power blow.

ASKS U.N. PROTECTION

Nagy quickly informed the United Nations of the Soviet military movements and placed Hungary under U. N. protection as a neutral country.

Soviet Embassy representatives assured the Premier the troop movements were only a regrouping and not aggressive.

Want to Fight in Mideast

ANN ARBOR (INS) — The Egyptian Embassy in Washington today was considering a request from more than half of the Arabic and Egyptian students from the University of Michigan who asked for transportation to the Middle East to take part in the war.

Nine Known Dead in Blast

Little Hope Held for 114 Nova Scotia Coalminers

SPRINGHILL, N. S. (AP)—Only faint hope was held today for 114 men trapped more than 3,000 feet below ground in a gas-choked coal mine shattered by a blast that already has claimed nine lives.

Rescue workers found four bodies during the night at the 3,400-foot level. They said they saw no sign of life in the deep workings where the remaining 114 were known to be trapped.

Six other miners were fatally injured when the explosion roared through the Cumberland Railway and Coal Co. mine slope last night, leveling buildings and reducing surface workings to rubble. Gas fumes killed one rescue worker. Nine men were hospitalized.

The fumes hampered volunteer efforts to get to the men entombed in gas-filled shafts. If efforts fail, it will be Canada's worst mine disaster in 40 years.

"There is still hope—though it may only be a faint hope—that the men are still alive," said mine manager George Calder.

Hundreds of relatives, many of them sobbing, stood around the blackened ruins of mine buildings.

Truckloads of soldiers, first aid supplies and ambulances were rushed to the scene.

The explosion was believed caused by coal dust.

Almost every family in Springhill, a town of 7,000 near the New Brunswick border, was represented.

British Keep Pounding at Nasser's Air Bases, Admit No Losses

AT THE GAZA BORDER (AP)—The streets of Gaza, a city of 1,00,000 population, city of 100,000 population, Israeli forces entered today to take Egyptians there prisoner. Gaza was Egyptian headquarters for the entire Gaza Strip.

Damage appeared slight and soldiers who went into the city said the number of casualties was small.

Leaflets scattered last night warned residents to remain in their houses and it was obvious they had obeyed.

There was some fire from mortars and howitzers and some small arms fire from rooftops, but it soon ceased.

Gaza fell after Israeli armored and infantry units assaulted from three sides. Its fall left the entire Gaza Strip—25 miles long by 8 wide—in Israeli hands, except for a few pockets.

Gaza, one of the great trade centers of Biblical Palestine, surrendered after systematic air and artillery bombardment of surrounding military installations.

Gaza is only a few miles from Falujah, where in the 1948 Arab-Israeli war, the then Maj. Gamal Abdel Nasser surrendered with his Egyptian task force after a

Are They Resigning?

DAYTON, Ohio (INS) — Sen. George H. Bender says he has heard "from responsible sources" Secretary of State John Foster Dulles is going to resign.

VIENNA (INS)—Vienna Radio reported that the government of Hungarian Premier Imre Nagy will resign officially during the day and be replaced by a new government under Nagy as minister-president.

ROME (AP) — A Middle East diplomatic source reported today that President Nasser of Egypt has resigned, but several hours of checking brought no support of the rumor.

First on the List for Santa

Halloween was still days away, and summery breezes tickled Briggs Street in Waterford Township, but Jimmy and Bradley McBroom were not fooled.

Christmas is pretty darn close, they figured, as they sat down and penned what is probably the first letter to Santa Claus for this coming Christmas.

"They wanted to make sure Santa got it," their father, James McBroom Jr. of 2175 Briggs St. said. Mother Barbara helped Jimmy 4, and Bradley, nearly 2, spell out their wishes.

Perhaps their earliness is buck fever. This is the first year they've written their requests, and they're both quite anxious that the jolly little man with the white whiskers gets their list.

HELPED MAMA

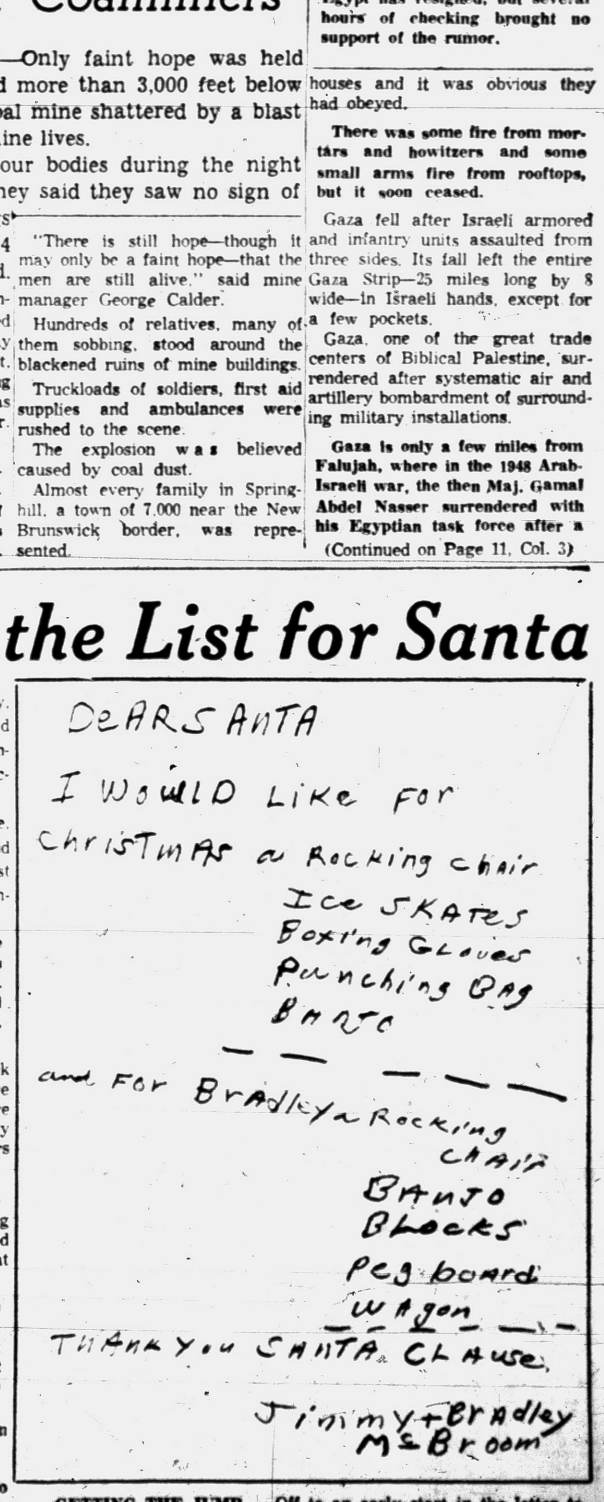

"They have both been helping their mother with odd jobs, and I'm pretty sure they'll get what they wanted," McBroom said.

Questioned about the double request for a banjo, McBroom, a yard engineer for Grand Trunk and Western Railroad, said it was just an urge for any type of musical instrument.

"They're a lot quieter than drums," he chuckled.

The letter was turned over to the Pontiac Chamber of Commerce, to be forwarded to Santa's headquarters at the North Pole.

GETTING THE JUMP — Off to an early start in the letter to Santa Claus business are Jimmy and Bradley McBroom, of Waterford Township. They wrote early, they said, "to make sure Santa gets it." The letter was forwarded to the Chamber of Commerce, and will be mailed on to the North Pole.

Egypt asked the Assembly to condemn the "aggression" of Britain, France and Israel against Egypt. Empty seats are probably due to the quickness with which the session was called.

CIVIL DEFENSE HUDDLE—The importance of preparedness in case of enemy air attack or natural disaster was the main topic of conversation last night as members of Pontiac school PTA "Father Groups" gathered at Wever School. Arthur Heaton, (second from right) supervisor for the Pontiac Ground Observer Corps post, outlined the operations of the post to the group. Pictured also are, left to right: Carl Vallad, president of Father's PTA at Hawthorne School; Ronald Carr, president of Father's PTA at Wever School; Heaton and Wyatt Barnes, member of the Wayne County Civil Defense office.

Urge Civil Defense Plan, Widen 23 Pontiac Streets

An aroused group of Pontiac fathers last night called for stepped-up civil defense preparations and complete evacuations of Pontiac on a trial basis to test the city's readiness for atomic attack.

In a meeting at Wever School last night, 75 fathers—representing Parent-Teacher Associations from all Pontiac schools—passed a resolution asking the City Commission to begin widening and improving 23 arterial streets in the city to handle evacuation traffic.

The resolution further asks development of underpasses at all grade crossings on the 23 streets, and Congrssional aid for Pontiac or any other city with a similar and Congressional aid for Pon-

Pontiac residents should be informed of evacuation routes from their homes through school programs, the resolution says, and "mandatory trial runs" should be held to determine how well the program works.

This would mean complete evacuation of the city, the fathers noted.

A committee was appointed to discuss the proposal with Pontiac's City Commission, and copies of the resolution were sent to Michigan's two U. S. Senators, Rep. George A. Dondero, City Manager Walter K. Willman and all city commissioners.

Mix Favorite Drink: Water and Fluoride

WASHINGTON — Some 30 million persons are now taking America's favorite drink mixed.

The drink: Water.

The mixer: Fluoride.

The object: To help protect children's teeth against decay.

The mixed drinkers live in 1400 cities and towns, Public Health Service of the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare reports.

They include six million who started drinking fluoridated water for the first time during the first nine months of this year.

Latest PHS tabulation shows it's now being furnished to one fourth of the people using public water supplies.

Among larger cities adopting this method of preventing tooth decay are Chicago, Philadelphia, Baltimore, Washington, Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Milwaukee, San Francisco, St. Louis and Buffalo.

The 13 million persons now drinking fluoridated water compares to only 328,000 in 12 communities in 1946, and 1½ million in 94 cities in 1950, PHS reports.

A pair of men's trousers and $140 was reported stolen Wednesday night from a home at 510 S. Paddock St., Pontiac Police said.

Wiley Barnes of that address said entry apparently was gained through an open bathroom window. The trousers, later found discarded in a nearby vacant lot, were looted from the bedroom, Barnes said.

Woman Found Shot to Death

Revolver Near Body; Police Seek Missing Husband of One Month

The body of a 37-year-old woman, shot to death three or four days ago Pontiac police say, was found last night in her home at 475 Arthur St.

The victim was identified as Mrs. Elizabeth Montgomery, a domestic servant, last seen Sunday, Det. Sgt. John Williams said.

Her husband of one month, Herbert B. Montgomery, 50, is sought for questioning, Williams said.

Police investigated the home at 6 p.m. on complaint of a neighbor who stated she had not seen the Montgomerys for four days.

The woman's body was found on the bedroom floor with a bullet wound in her chest. Next to her, police found a .32 caliber revolver with one shell missing. An empty shell casing of the same caliber also was found near the body.

Police so far have discovered no trace of Montgomery. He and the dead woman were married Sept. 26, according to their marriage license which lists the husband as a day laborer.

The license and articles of men's clothing were found in a suitcase in a vacant lot across from 464 Arthur.

Police plan a further search of the home today, Williams said, for evidence which might lead to Montgomery's whereabouts.

Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem ordered the body held at Pontiac General Hospital for autopsy. A preliminary examination by Deputy Coroner Dr. Isaac C. Prevette indicated the woman died Sunday or Monday.

Her Birmingham employer stated the woman had been at work Sunday, Williams added.

Says Present Method Draws 'Repeaters'

Oakland Attorneys Call for Public Vote on Improved System of Picking Juries

At a recent meeting of the Oakland County Bar Association, attorneys who attended voted unanimously to request a new system for selecting juries in Oakland County.

The new system would be a "jury commission," similar to the operation in Wayne and some other Michigan counties.

According to Mitchell L. Bacow, chairman of the association's Jury Committee, the new jury commission would be appointed by Gov. G. Mennen Williams on the recommendation of the county's four circuit judges.

Names would be picked at random from the tax rolls, Bacow said, and checked against a card index to be sure they had not served on juries within the previous year.

Bacow said the present system—under which township supervisors and city clerks forward lists of names to the County Clerk for final selection—results in a high percentage of "repeater" jurors.

ONE THIRD "REPEATERS"

"Twenty-three of the 75 jurors on the present jury panel," he said, "have served on juries before. We are coming dangerously close to having professional juries."

With the population of the county at 550,000, Bacow said, the statistical chances of drawing this percentage at random are "extremely remote."

In addition, he said, several jurors are over 70 years of age. Under Michigan law, persons over 70 may be excused from jury duty.

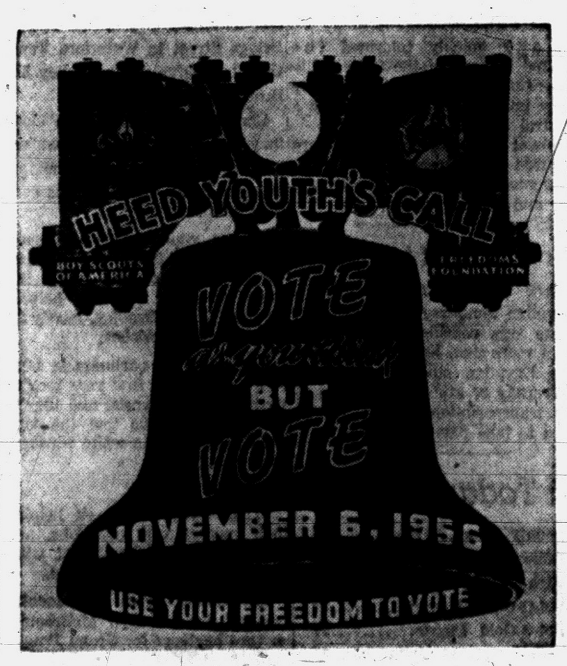

FORBIDDEN BY LAW

The law specifically forbids selection of jurors who have asked for jury duty, or who have been recommended by friends.

In the resolution, the County Bar Association asks the Board of Supervisors to place the proposal on the ballot "at the earliest possible time."

If supervisors fail to act, the resolution said the association will start petitions throughout the county.

Local legal officials, reluctant to be quoted on the issue, privately concede they are not altogether happy over the present system. Some, however, feel any problems could be solved by stricter enforcement of the present law.

ON YOUR DOOR KNOB — Before voting time next Tuesday the 8,000 Boy Scouts, Explorers and Cubs in the Clinton Valley Council will join their four million other scouts in the nation in hanging the above pictured "Get Out the Vote" hanger on door knobs. They already have been distributed to the 120 troops, packs and posts in the council, and the boys are ready to get under way.

C. of C. Asks for New Bank as Store Survey Starts

BIRMINGHAM — "We should have another bank here," the Chamber of Commerce President, Arthur S. Blakeslee, said this morning, as his organization readied to survey merchants on how much business is going to other communities.

"There are an awful lot of people doing banking elsewhere because of the present hours of the three banks here, that have been merged with the Detroit Bank and Trust Co.," he said.

"No Friday night nor Saturday hours is the biggest gripe of the merchants and people," he explains.

The two months since Saturday hours were discontinued at the three banks, formerly Wabeek Bank, Birmingham National and its branch have shown a drop-off of shopping in the area, the Chamber contends.

The banks, none of which had Friday hours, had been open until noon Saturdays.

"Men like to come to town, casually, maybe in shorts, on Saturday, do a little banking and a little shopping," says Blakeslee. "Many don't do it without the banking to draw them."

Outside shopping centers are going to take away a lot of business, his group feels. The new bank in Bloomfield Hills has Saturday hours, and other banks are new or under construction in other nearby areas.

A survey starts next week to find statistics on what percentage of business has dropped off, and what the merchants would recommend, the Chamber official says.

Cassam Wilson of the firm of Wilson, Ingraham, and Kavanaugh, is leading in an effort to form a new bank.

Members of his five-man committee are meeting today with the owner of a piece of property that they believe would suit their purposes. Others are conferring with possible personnel for the bank.

The committee will meet Monday night, and then a general meeting will be called later for all interested persons. The committee was named by the group of local merchants and citizens.

On it are Richard Wilson of Wilson Drug Co., Carson Bingham, an insurance man, Roland Weber, a manufacturer's agent, and Donald Cummings, also at Wilson Drug Co. and in charge of the Chamber's traffic study committee.

The branches of the Detroit are keeping open until 6 p.m. on Friday nights, as they did before the merger.

Birmingham Federal Savings & Loan Assn., which is opening its new offices on the corner of Maple and Pierce on Monday, is operating with Friday hours, but no Saturday hours, as it has for five years.

According to Pres. Walter L. Moreland, questionnaires showed almost 100 per cent approval of the dropping of Saturday hours and adding of Friday night hours five years ago. "But we have no commercial accounts such as merchants," Moreland says.

The loan firm's new home is tripling its space. As soon as the company moves this weekend, Lake's Jewelers will move into the Woodward and Maple corner, and the Lake space will go for the loan firm's bookkeeping department and directors room.

Open house will be conducted next Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, after the Tuesday holiday.

Cast Vote Early on Election Day

Before-Work Balloting Urged Tuesday; Polls Open 7 A.M. to 8 P.M.

County Clerk Lynn D. Allen today repeated his request that county voters "vote early on election day."

"Some people have no choice but to vote after dinner," Allen pointed out. "If everyone will vote as early as he can, perhaps before going to work in the morning, we can avoid long lines waiting at the polls."

Polls open Tuesday at 7 a.m., Allen said, and close at 8 p.m.

"Sometimes a man will stop by the polls on his way home from work," Allen said, "and see long lines of people waiting to vote.

"He gets discouraged and decides he'll come back after dinner, but by then it's even worse. Some people don't cast their ballots at all because of this."

At closing time, he said, an officer is stationed at the end of the line to turn away latecomers. All those standing in line at 8 p.m. will be allowed to vote, he emphasized.

Absentee Voters Must Pick Up Ballots Tomorrow

Absentee Pontiac voters have until tomorrow at 2 p.m. to secure their ballots for the Nov. 6 election at the city clerk's office in the City Hall.

Absentee ballots are for voters who will not be able to go to the polls Tuesday.

City Clerk Ada R. Evans said her office has recorded 707 absentee votes to date.

Goblins Unite to Make Adlai's Halloween Miserable

By ARTHUR EDSON

PITTSBURGH (AP) — There have been some wild and crazy days in presidential campaigning—and there doubtless will be many more.

But they will have to go some to match the one put in by Adlai Stevenson Wednesday.

It was Halloween, appropriately, and the goblins were out in full force.

Things started going wrong in New York.

The Democratic presidential candidate had planned an outdoor rally at 37th Street and 7th Avenue. His followers were talking happily in terms of a crowd numbering 250,000—maybe half a million.

This pleasant dream was washed away in a torrential downpour.

It poured all day. All the speeches had to be moved indoors.

But his problems were just beginning.

Stevenson raced to the airport and there worked on a telegram he wanted to send to Eisenhower on the Middle East situation. He finished composing it around 6:50 p.m., only 10 minutes before the President was to go on the air.

The text of his telegram was given out to the three press associations, and Stevenson hurried to his plane to hear for himself what the President had to say.

And still the rain came down.

Stevenson had a speech scheduled to start at 9:30 p.m. in Pittsburgh on a Pennsylvania television network.

Planes were stacked up over LaGuardia field in New York, and he finally took off at 8:10 p.m., two hours and 15 minutes late. And Pittsburgh 350 miles away.

The press plane that follows the candidate was waiting to take off. No one on the plane knew Stevenson had sent the President a wire.

They took off shortly after Stevenson, but there was this difference: the airlines tell the Democrats they are short of planes. The press plane was a two-engine job; Stevenson had four engines.

Stevenson landed at 9:35 p.m., and by the time he had come down the ramp, and whizzed through Pittsburgh at 50 miles an hour, his television time had gone by. It was 10:20 p.m.

Well, Stevenson made his pitch to a roaring crowd that had waited patiently for him. But except for three press association representatives who had ridden with him, all the newsmen were tagging along on a slow plane through Pennsylvania.

They finally arrived at 11 p.m., after Stevenson had finished his talk.

Well, the reporters were sore because they missed the talk; the Stevenson supporters were sore because everything had gone wrong, and the goblins were collecting all the votes in Pittsburgh that night.

The correspondents formally, and loudly, called for a larger, faster plane for the remainder of the campaign.

$22,668 a Day Needed to Reach UF Goal

Pontiac's 1956 United Fund campaign is moving along fairly well.

Receipts so far total $272,178, or 45 per cent of the $612,202 objective. This leaves hard figures to tell the story of the urgent need for $340,024 more to put the campaign over the top by providing the money needed to finance 54 health, welfare and family service agencies.

It means that an average of $22,668 will have to flow into United Fund coffers on each of the 15 remaining days before the deadline.

Campaign leaders now are concentrating in an effort to get 100 per cent participation by the City's industrial employes. As Campaign Chairman Walter K. Willman has emphasized, if the goal is to be reached, it is equally important that everyone participate in the drive.

Previous campaigns have proved the people's belief that the United Fund method is the best way of meeting the community's social service obligations.

This is everybody's job!

Pontiac must not fail now!

Our Sensible Halloween

The fact that the Pontiac area's 1956 celebration of Halloween was as safe and sane as similar observances in recent years didn't just happen.

A group of civic minded persons and organizations devoted a lot of care and effort in arranging a diversionary program that appealed to youthful celebrants. Collaborating in this effort were the Junior Chamber of Commerce, Board of Education and the City's Department of Parks and Recreation.

The Board of Education turned over to Recreation the use of seven grade schools, a junior high and Lakeside Homes where the department arranged for parties after the 6 to 7 p. m. "trick or treat" hour.

The Jaycees provided 67 prizes ranging from bicycles to silver dollars for the Mystery Treat Contest designed to lure children off the streets by 9, 10:30 or 11 p. m., according to grades. The inducement for the children was the requirement that they had to answer the phone in person if their names were drawn for prizes in the contest.

The community owes a debt of gratitude to the Board of Education, the Jaycees and Department of Parks and Recreation for their splendid collaboration. We think the excellent Halloween program they arranged was extremely worthwhile and was much appreciated by parents as well as children.

Tyranny in Retreat?

While it still is too early to assay the revolution in Hungary, it is a fact that the people there already have won a measure of liberation.

As a result of their heroic and bloody fight against their Communist masters, all outward appearances indicate that they have gotten several concessions. For example, the revolution lifted the Hungarian Titoist, Imre Nagy, into the premiership.

But it seems obvious that measure is insufficient to satisfy the rebels. The Nagy government has wavered between threats and promises while Soviet tanks shot down freedom loving Hungarians in the streets.

Regardless of other considerations, the stark fact remains that by the use of force, the USSR, self proclaimed foe of "colonialism," has put itself on the spot. It has been carrying on a savage war against the people of Hungary without justification in international law and morality.

Certainly the heroic Hungarians have done more and won more in the cause of freedom from Russian tyranny than the free world ever might have hoped they could accomplish alone.

At this stage, however, it is possible to point to two clear tests of the uprising's success. One of these is the free elections which the Hungarians have demanded. The other is withdrawal of Russian forces for which Nagy has been negotiating with the USSR.

If the Hungarians are allowed to hold free elections and if all Russian troops are withdrawn, this would be prima facie evidence that Hungarian resistance had thrown into retreat the tyrannical forces of Soviet satellite control.

The Man About Town

How We Felt Then

Candidates Who Were in Favor Last Time We Voted

Tuesday: When, if you don't do your duty, you're a slacker.

With this political race coming down to the wire, many inquiries are received as to what we did last time. In 1952 Eisenhower carried Oakland County with a plurality of 41,632 over Stevenson.

In 1954 Leonard carried the county with a plurality of 585 over Williams, for governor. At the same time Pontiac City gave Williams a plurality of 5,448 over Leonard. For Congressman in the same election Dondero had a plurality of 11,640 over Sutton in the county.

Several readers have confided in me that they have a fear of attempting to split their ticket on a voting machine. My oldest political dopester writes me over the name of with the claim that this will favor all the nominees of a party whose leader is the most popular. Think it over.

The time between the national conventions and the election was shortened this year, by holding the conventions later than usual. And, according to of Rochester, that interval still is too long. In a letter to this column he suggests that the conventions be held seven days before the election, "as we could suffer enough in one week."

The family dog at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Burridge Holcomb of Pontiac Lake found a dead pheasant and brought it home. He was praised and rewarded with an extra feeding—and a little later appeared with a dead skunk.

I have it directly from

that Northeast Oakland's biggest get together event of the year, the Rotary-Farmer banquet, will be held at Oxford on election evening. I am assured that the program will be over before the returns get hot.

A pair of wild geese that have been sojourning on Cass Lake near the home of

are quite hesitant to resume their southern migration since the weather is so good and the Flansworth menu so excellent.

"The weather man surely is screwy," phones

Tom Belforde

of Pontiac Township, who asserts that a heavy rain broke the drought on some of his friends' farms Thursday morning, while he got nothing, "and I go to church and they don't."

He Wanted the Right to Vote

David Lawrence Says:

Poll Makes Ike a Sure Winner

WASHINGTON—This is the 11th presidential election in which I have forecast the result. The score thus far has been eight correct and two misses.

The same formula has been used again and again. In the case of the two predictions that didn't pan out, the mistake was not in the formula but in the information gathered in 1940 and 1948 which led to an overestimate in certain states of the amount of voter discontent due to economic conditions. The party in power in both those election years was better off on the economic side than was generally realized at the time.

For basically, when 50 to 60 millions of persons vote, only the overriding issues—things that can be called the common denominator of the thinking of masses of people—are decisive.

The formula I use in forecasting a presidential election is to examine the economic situation state by state and determine to what extent economic contentment or discontent prevails. A satisfactory economic condition is reflected in the data of production, sales, profits and employment. This is called "prosperity" in the vocabulary of politics. It helps the party in power.

STRESS PEACE

In the present campaign "peace" and "prosperity" have been emphasized by the Republicans and questioned by the Democrats. But President Eisenhower's speech Wednesday night—pledging to keep the United States out of the war in the Middle East—benefited the Republican administration.

As for economic conditions, the nation is prosperous in almost all states. In the agricultural areas the situation is somewhat adverse for the Republicans because of the drop-off in incomes for farmers. But many farm families will be influenced, because of the peace issue, to support the President.

Also the farm states are heavily Republican anyhow, and many of them can show a substantially reduced majority and still cast their electoral votes for Ike.

Looking at the list of "certain" and "doubtful" states, here is a forecast which endeavors not to estimate the final tally but to establish a basic minimum—how the winning candidate is sure to get the 266 electoral votes needed to elect a President.

Here is the irreducible minimum which makes it certain President Eisenhower will be re-elected:

Arizona	4
California	32
Colorado	6
Connecticut	8
Delaware	3
Idaho	4
Illinois	27
Indiana	13
Iowa	10
Kansas	8
Maine	5
Maryland	9
Nebraska	6
New Hampshire	4
New Jersey	16
New York	45
North Dakota	4
Ohio	25
Oregon	6
South Dakota	4
Utah	4
Vermont	3
Washington	9
Wisconsin	12
Wyoming	3
	* 270

It should be noted that the foregoing table elects Ike without Pennsylvania, Michigan, Rhode Island, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Montana, Nevada, New Mexico, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kentucky, Virginia, Tennessee, Florida and Texas.

MORE TO COME

Ike won't lose all those states—in fact, quite a number of them will go Republican. For the pattern of prosperity applies to several of them, and the peace issue applies to them all. Also, "good times" prevail in the populous states with the exception of Michigan and Pennsylvania, where unemployment may have left a large residue of discontented voters.

Since the total number of "prosperous" districts exceeds the number of districts in the thinly populated states, the Republicans have a good chance also of winning both houses of Congress.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Tonsils Cover Many Sins for Unethical Physician

Some readers may wonder what's biting the crabbed cuss who conducts this column.

Well, I can't tell you, not half, but this may give you an idea of the provocation I have to endure:

Under the "Tonsils" index in my file are no less than 34 newspaper stories with pictures of the victims of wholesale tonsillectomies "performed" on from four to eight children in each of the 34 instances.

Just listen to this:

Dear Sir:

I have a child age three years who cannot hear. Doctors agree there is nothing wrong with the structure of the ear. They suggested removing the tonsils and adenoids might help. This was done and still no improvement in the hearing. Will you please send me a monograph on deafness and instructions for taking vitamin B complex.

Yours truly,
(Mrs. — —)

It would seem that some of the trick specialists and "clinic" racketeers that infest the medical profession today fall back on removal of the tonsils and adenoids when they can't find out or explain what ails the patient.

SOMETIMES REPEAT

Sometimes they decide it is necessary to remove those bad tonsils even if some other operator has already removed them.

If the customer evinces astonishment at the suggestion of a second tonsillectomy, the resourceful charlatan need not be embarrassed.

As a rule more or less tonsil tissue remains in the throat after tonsillectomy, no matter who does the dissection. The charlatan can ascribe any symptoms at present manifest to these remaining bits of tonsil.

Yes, indeed, I do become somewhat irked at times. I believe I could cope with most of these vexations if I could deal with them in my own way.

But the censors, editors, etc., restrain me, each in his own way, according to his personal knowledge of and experience with the businessmen I call trick specialists or "clinic" racketeers.

And so I have to settle for what amounts to little more than frustration, if I want to continue trying to teach people the ways of health. And every night when I lay me down to sleep I say: "Thank Thee, O Lord, that I have lived another day. And thank Thee for the bowling green."

Signed letters not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Response From Readers Brought by Varied Issues

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

As home owners living a few hundred yards away from the proposed site of the railroad switchyard, we feel we are more directly affected and concerned with the issue than either Mr. Blackwood or the few members of the Chamber of Commerce who recently discussed the issue with the City Commission.

We are all in agreement that the yard is badly needed but the site is another matter. Railroad officials have stated that it is an impossibility to build a yard on any other site. Evidently, they are not only in need of a yard but they are also badly in need of some new engineers.

We think the City Commission is to be commended for the fight they are putting up particularly in view of the so called "influential" opposition. The North Side residents are very grateful for their efforts.

West Princeton Street Residents

This is to inform all readers that the article on lax parents in Wednesday's paper was not written by Mr. and Mrs. Leo Linsenman. The person or persons that wrote it must be crack-pots or ashamed of their own names and addresses or someone who doesn't like children.

We are too busy bringing up our own two children to criticize hard-working parents who are doing their best.

Leo H. Linsenman
24 W. Longfellow.

Mr. Stevenson's remarks on stopping the H-bomb tests sound to me about as logical as the bill that some senator wanted to pass to close the patent office after they invented the locomotive because everything had been invented.

If Mr. Stevenson could name a couple of bureaucratic offices that have been closed in Washington after it has been started, I believe he might convince someone he could stop the Atomic Energy Commission and its work, not only involving millions, but billions, of dollars since it began.

He tries to make it sound as though he could slap the wrist of the other great powers and tell them to desist, at his pleasure. Also, maybe he could talk Egypt into line so he could stop the draft so my boys can stay at home from the Army, as he infers in his talks to Democratic youths, so they can earn the high wages he is going to get for them by getting more money for the farmer who will be able to buy the high priced cars and farm machinery.

The boys will build, like the man that was going in the fur business by raising cats and mice. He could kill the cats and feed the carcasses to the mice so he could raise enough mice to feed the cats.

Sounds like Barney Google's horsefeathers, does it not?

H. A. B.

To all car and truck drivers. Drive carefully. The life you save may vote Republican.

J. M. Kilner

Just want to say a few things on the eve of a great election. We are not engaging in a war but our votes will state the future. Do we want a man to head our good United States who was a one-time governor of Illinois, or do we want to continue under the leadership of a man who knows what wars can do to a nation, a home and to those whose sons and daughters will never return? A man who believes in God and the welfare of everyone?

It is your vote, Mr. Citizen, that will tell the world next Wednesday. Also, should a man who has had no political experience go to the head of the class and expect to do as good a job as a man with eight years experience in our own Michigan government?

Oh Mr. Voter, sit down and think hard next Monday night and over your cup of coffee Tuesday morning before you mark that X.

Remember, no one but God and you know how to vote. Our jail and county government is clean now. Let us keep it that way.

A Born American Citizen

Fearfully we watch for the blight and destruction of a neighborhood. Seven City Commissioners are our only defense.

Grand Trunk Railroad wishes to place a switch yard smack in the middle of 1,000 brand new homes and near four schools; less than half a mile from this proposed site is a switch yard that is hardly used and never crowded.

Building a switch on Sheffield would be better for handling railroad traffic to the factories; a dump on Saginaw would be handy too, but not practical.

Trains are immune from three City ordinances, excessive noise, excessive smoke and blocking traffic, ordinances that normally help make a city a better place to live.

Imagine our kids crossing railroad tracks going to and from school, and at night listening to the screech, grinds, whistles and groans of trains, soot falling constantly.

Yes, Mr. Commissioners, the North End has more than money or selfish interests at stake, our homes are on the bargaining table, we are sure you will not forget nor neglect your duty to the people you represent.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Offers Marital Problem Solution

Helen probably saved her husband's life. But her own failure to understand marital relations almost ruined her marriage. A husband can become platonic over night just by a defeatism complex. But when your mate starts growing sarcastic and caustic, or starts drinking to excess and gambling, you wives past 40 better send for the booklet below and do so quickly!

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case T-311: Gordon R., aged 29, has been married almost a year.

"Dr. Crane, I need to see you urgently," his wife pleaded over the telephone.

"It is really a matter of life or death, so please let me come down before 3 p. m., for I must get home ahead of Gordon, or I am sure he will commit suicide."

PSYCHIC IMPOTENCE

So I saw Helen, which was the name of Gordon's wife. She gave me a common story which marriage counsellors often encounter.

After a hectic round of parties and late hours prior to the wedding, she and Gordon had finally driven away from her home about midnight.

A couple of hours later, they checked in at a hotel, tired though happy.

"Dr. Crane, it probably was our exhaustion but we never fully consummated our marriage," Helen confessed.

"That made no difference to me, but it must have weighed heavily on Gordon's mind, for he developed a severe inferiority complex. And we have had a platonic marriage ever since.

"But because he felt so bitter and kept belittling himself and urging me to get a divorce so I could marry a real man, I finally suggested that he consult a medical specialist.

"So he did, and this doctor told him he needed shots three times per week. Well that bouyed up Gordon's morale, but after three months he was no better than before.

"So last week he refused to go back to the doctor. And I just found out that he has made a will and has purchased a revolver, which I discovered hidden under the shirts in his dresser. Oh, Dr. Crane, I have been very happy during my marriage but I want to make Gordon happy, too. Is there no hope?

MENTAL MEDICINE

Often the mind is even more powerful than testosterone shots, so I had a session with Helen and Gordon.

Therein I reminded him that as high as 5 per cent of bridegrooms are afflicted to some degree with his problem.

It is often because they have idealized their bride to such a point that they regard her as almost angelic. This reverential awe precludes physical ardor and thus may predispose them to failure on their wedding night.

One failure then places them on the defensive. They immediately grow worried and fearful. They can't "emote" and "cerebrate" simultaneously, so as they worry (mental process) their emotions wane even further.

And soon they are afflicted with psychic impotence. In fact, most impotence at all ages is psychic, unless you are in the terminal stages of tuberculosis or afflicted with metallic poisons, ect.

So I gave Helen the booklet named below and warned her that she was at fault in this case, for it is the wife's responsibility to excite her husband.

An impotent husband is thus a demerit for the wife, so Helen really should have developed the inferiority complex, instead of Gordon.

Alas, most husbands make the mistake of thinking it is a reflection on their own vigor. It isn't!

Helen changed her husband's outlook and banished the platonic nature of their marriage that same night. So send for the booklet "How to Prevent Impotence," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

When husbands past 40 grow unduly sarcastic, or gamble recklessly or take to drink, you wives better use the strategy in that booklet and do so quickly, for those are classical symptoms of an embittered man who fears he is becoming platonic.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Bob Considine Says:

German Prince Plotting Invasion of Texas

NEW YORK (INS) — Among the passengers departing today from Idlewild for Germany, via Lufthansa, will be a droll, hard-working, courageous gentleman who may get a curtsy from the stewardess when, being asked his name, he responds as follows: "Louis Ferdinand von Hohenzollern."

Prince Louis, now 49, would have become emperor of Germany July 20, 1951, the date of his father's death, if his grandfather, Kaiser Wilhelm II, had not lost World War I and been exiled to Doorn, where he died June 4, 1941.

Prince Louis has been in the U. S. for two months. He spent most of his time in Amarillo, Tex., visiting Mrs. Cecilia Harris, his sister, who is married to a Texas architect and interior decorator.

"He's a fine architect and interior decorator, too," Prince Louis said warmly, unconcerned by the fact that our call on him at the Metropolitan Club had interrupted a tub he was about to take.

"Unfortunately," he laughed, "he's not in oil. However, we have many oily friends in Texas. An incredible state! Impossible to overstate!"

ENEMY OF HITLER

Prince Louis was among those who bravely tried to do away with Adolf Hitler on July 20, 1944. He was banished to Ebbing and all of his royal relatives thrown out of such positions as they held in the armed forces and elsewhere.

Later he worked for Henry Ford in this country — and he has written with zest and intelligence of all these adventures in "Rebel Prince," published by Henry Regnery and Co.

"I'm no longer with Ford," the prince reported. "I'm in the pretender business. My friend Gov. Soapy Williams once asked me 'Is it a paying business?' I wish I had a good answer.

"I am going home now to take care of my family. We have seven children, ranging from 17 down to 6. Four boys, three girls.

"We have a place near Bremen and now an apartment in Berlin. And a few shares. The Russians have what's left," laconically announced the man whose family has been prominent or in power in Germany and before that Prussia since the 11th Century.

"Next year, if all goes well, I'm bringing the whole family over to Texas," he said. "The German invasion of Texas! The biggest since Santa Anna, I presume. Cecelia is in charge of the billeting committee — an undertaking of some scope."

RUSSIAN WIFE

The prince is married to the former Grand Duchess Kira of Russia.

"My wife's brother would be emperor of Russia now," he said without rancor. "Cousin Otto would be king of Hungary and, I suppose, emperor of Austria. I would be emperor of Germany. What a combination! Would it be another Holy Alliance?"

If the prince has any personal hope of one day ruling over a united Germany he masks his ambition very well. He knows the countless obstacles that lie between him and that fermimal including the 22 Red army divisions yet to assist, if those in East in East Germany.

"I join all those who pray for the reunification of Germany," the prince told us seriously. "Reunification and freedom both. But I'm afraid it might be a blood bath if the East Germans tried now to follow the suit of the Hungarians.

"The Russian forces are so much stronger in East Germany. And West Germany hasn't the forces as Germany did arise. I wouldn't like to see my countrymen find another terrible disappointment as they did in 1953.

"Only with stones you cannot make a revolution," Prince Louis said solemnly.

The prince, keenly pro-American, had one mild criticism of our approach to the cold war. "I think that whenever you speak of the captive peoples behind the Iron Curtain you should also include the Russian people," he mused. "Those people have been captives since 1917."

Driver Unhurt as Truck Rips 11 Posts, Overturns

A Clawson trucker, Harold D. Furman, 38, of 137 Tacoma Blvd. was uninjured when his truck ripped through 11 highway posts and turned over this morning on M59 east of Crescent Lake road, Waterford Township police said.

Furman told police his right front wheel brake evidently locked as he slowed for another driver. His two-ton truck was pulled to the side of the road into the posts before he could regain control, he explained.

Furman is self-employed.

A Japanese car resembling the Volkswagen will be marketed in about two years.

A frost on the 9th served as a warning to motorists that cars would need antifreeze. More frost was reported the 10th, when the mercury dropped to 32, the lowest of the month.

The highest temperature was 82, reached the 14th, 16th and 17th. On the 23rd skies were foggy for the second straight morning, which delayed work-bound traffic throughout the country.

Lauds Handling of Crisis by Ike

Nixon Alters Schedule to Stay Close to Capital If Needed

EN ROUTE WITH NIXON (AP)—Vice President Richard M. Nixon carried the ball for the Republicans in a whistle-stop tour of Pennsylvania today after lauding President Eisenhower for "his handling of the Middle East crisis."

The vice president, in a sudden switch of campaign plans announced at Pittsburgh last night, canceled an appearance at an election eve rally in Boston. And he said he'll cast an absentee ballot instead of flying home to vote at Whittier, Calif., Tuesday.

Nixon, after talking with the White House, rearranged his schedule so he can be in Washington during the weekend because of the tense international situation. President Eisenhower earlier said he was doing the same thing and canceled a trip to Boston Monday.

The vice president will climax his Pennsylvania tour with a major speech at Hershey tonight. Time: 9:30 p.m., EST.

The speech, to be delivered over a nationwide CBS hookup is expected to deal with the international crisis.

In an all-out effort to capture Pennsylvani's 32 electoral votes, Nixon was joined on his tour today by Sen. James H. Duff. The senator is waging a bitter battle for re-election with the Democratic candidate, former Mayor Joseph S. Clark of Philadelphia. Nixon's special train listed stops at Greensburg, Johnstown, Altoona, Huntingdon and Lewistown.

Nixon will make six appearances in Ohio tomorrow. After that his special train will go to Washington, arriving Sunday morning.

Supermarket Blaze Slows Expressway

DETROIT (AP)—Fire destroyed a supermarket on Detroit's west side last night.

Dense clouds of smoke pouring from the 80-by100 foot building slowed traffic on the Edsel Ford Expressway for a half hour.

Battalion Chief Thomas Walsh said the blaze evidently started in a pile of boxes and crates in a rear room. Frank Jaszcz, the owner, estimated damage at $20,000.

Ike Missed Chance to Avert War—Adlai

convinced that the Communists would not have risked arming Egypt as they have.

"Had the Eisenhower administration taken a firm stand in the Middle East, had it aided Israel with arms and territorial guarantees, we might, I believe, have been able to prevent the present outbreak of hostilities. And if this government had not alternately appeased and provoked Egypt, I do think we would command more confidence there and in the Arab world."

"MUST MOVE BOLDLY"

Then, in a subsequent address to a police-estimated crowd of from 12,000 to 14,000 persons, which gave him an ear-splitting ovation in the Memorial Auditorium, Stevenson called this "a period of grave decision."

"America," he said, "must now move boldly to end the war, to restore the Western alliance and to seek a new basis for our future relations with the Soviet Union."

He suggested that the Republicans are shifting campaign strategy in the closing days of the campaign.

"Having told us to re-elect President Eisenhower because there is peace," he declared, "the Republicans will be telling you to re-elect him because there is war."

"It reminds me of the retort of the old guy out my way who said, 'Don't tell me not to change horses in the middle of the stream — if it hadn't been for that horse we wouldn't be in this stream.'"

From Cleveland, Stevenson will fly to Detroit for a major address at 9 p.m. before going on to Chicago. He hopes to hold his biggest rally of the campaign Saturday night in the Chicago Stadium.

Stevenson spoke for 15 minutes over the major TV radio networks on free time provided for a reply to Eisenhower on the Middle East crisis.

"The condition which confronts us is stark and simple," Stevenson said. "Our Mideastern policy is at absolute dead end."

"We have alienated our chief European allies," he said. "We have alienated Israel. We have alienated Egypt and the Arab countries. And in the U.N. our main associate in Middle Eastern matters now appears to be Communist Russia — in the very week when the Red army has been shooting down the brave people of Hungary and Poland."

In his strongest language, he added:

"I doubt if ever before in our diplomatic history has any policy been such an abysmal, such a complete and such a catastrophic failure."

To the audience in the auditorium, he said:

"The President has said that America will not be invoved in these hostilities. But, of course, the sun never sets any longer on our commitment and on our interest."

That reminded him of "what we told ourselves when the Austro-Serbian conflict erupted in 1914 and again when Hitler invaded Poland in 1939," he said.

He contended there has been "an intensified Republican effort to sweep the grave worldwide situation under the rug behind a barrage of misleading speeches and political broadcasts."

"The total bankruptcy of the administration's foreign policy, which I have been charging for years, is now demonstrated for the most skeptical," he said.

He predicted most leaders of the Republican party will advocate retirement into "isolationism" in the coming days.

GOP Follows Path of Honor, Ike Says

criticism of the administration's Middle East policy.

The same aides said in Philadelphia last night that the President changed his mind in part because he decided he wanted to discuss it as a matter which should be, as they put it, above politics.

* * *

Speaking against a huge facsimile of the Declaration of Independence as a backdrop, Eisenhower talked of developments in Poland and Hungary — and of the Soviet Union's role there — before turning to the Middle East and the moves against Egypt by Israel, Great Britain and France.

Referring to efforts in the satellites to shake off Moscow domination, he said:

"The peoples of Poland and Hungary, brave as ever through all their history, have offered their lives to live in liberty. And as the people have risen, so have new governments — and so has new hope.

"In all this the true intent of the Soviet Union seems not yet clear. We are — only today — troubled by news of new Soviet efforts to suppress the people of Hungary by force. If this be true, this is a black day of sorrow."

Eisenhower was alluding to reports from Budapest that reinforced Soviet troops had seized all Hungarian airfields in what the Budapest radio called a fresh Russian invasion.

Eisenhower was introduced by Republican Sen. James H. Duff of Pennsylvania, and the President plugged him for re-election.

Before he started his speech, he got a noisy and prolonged ovation from the crowd waving hundreds of "We like Ike" banners.

Planes Out of Action

PARIS (INS) — A French military spokesman announced today "The Egyptian air arm is practically out of action."

Ohio's annual honey production runs well over 20 million pounds.

Israeli Troops Grab All of Gaza Strip

major battle and prolonged resistance.

The French Defense Ministry said Egypt's air force had been "completely put out of fighting condition" by repeated poundings from British-French air forces.

There still was no word of a ground invasion by British or French forces. But a French spokesman in Paris said the combined force on Cyprus was increasing steadily.

The Gaza territory has long been a center of Israeli-Egyptian border troubles.

Martial law was declared throughout Egypt.

The British Air Ministry in London said Royal Air Force heavy and medium bombers were keeping up their nonstop strikes against the Egyptian air bases today.

"None of our aircraft has been reported missing," a British spokesman said.

Army spokesman said some commando units entered Israel last night, blowing up a number of vehicles and irrigation pipes. Six Israelis were killed by the explosion of a mine near the Gaza border, they said. Four commandos were reported killed and one wounded.

In another incident, 20 commandos were said to have attacked a small settlement in the Negeb Desert.

Israeli police said they assumed the commando bands were trying to fight their way across the Negeb to escape to Jordan. They said retreat to the Gaza Strip now was virtually impossible because of the advances of Israeli troops.

Elimination of the commando bases was one of the announced objectives of Israel's thrust into the Sinai Peninsula Monday.

A first eyewitness report came back from the front describing a paratroop attack 40 miles from Suez that launched the Israeli assault on the Sinai Peninsula on Monday.

A soldier correspondent who jumped with the troopers reported the operation came off without Egyptian opposition just at dusk. At the same time armored columns drove across the Egyptian border in a two-pronged attack 10 and 40 miles north of the Gulf of Aqaba.

The correspondent wrote that the paratroops landed over a wide area east of Mitla, on the main road into Suez. By midnight, he said, the troops had concentrated and collected full equipment, including jeeps, all without sighting any Egyptians.

An official Israeli government spokesman said a general collapse of Egyptian forces was in progress throughout the peninsula and that Egypt's losses were heavy.

Israel reportedly had captured 100 tanks, mostly of Soviet and Czech manufacture.

The Sinai Peninsula is 150 miles wide at its Mediterranean end and 230 miles long. It is bounded on the east by the state of Israel and the Gulf of Aqaba, a Red Sea Jordan.

Israeli forces invaded the peninsula Monday, asserting their objective was to knock out Egyptian command bases.

Britain and France quickly demanded that their troops be admitted to the canal zone to protect the waterway and end the fighting between Isarel and Egypt.

General Assembly Demands Cease-Fire

plause from the floor and gallery in the high-domed Assembly hall.

The Assembly met to deal with Israel's strike into Egypt last Monday and Britain's and France's air and naval actions since Wednesday aimed at occupation of the Suez Canal zone.

EMERGENCY SESSION

The emergency special session was called by the Security Council after British and French vetoes had killed U.S. and Soviet resolutions calling for withdrawal of the Israeli forces.

It was the first ever held under the "uniting for peace" resolution, which the United States got adopted in the 1950 General Assembly to bypass the Soviet veto.

That system allows charges of breach of the peace or aggression to be taken to the Assembly within 24 hours when the veto has frustrated the council.

The resolution adopted by the Assembly noted:

1. That Israeli armed forces "have penetrated deeply into Egyptian territory" in violation of the 1948 Egypt-Israel armistice agreement;
2. That French and British forces "are conducting military operations against Egyptian territory," and
3. That "traffic through the Suez Canal is now interrupted to the serious prejudice of many nations."

The Assembly expressed grave concern and:

1. Urged that "all parties now involved in hostilities in the area agree to an immediate cease-fire and . . . halt the movement of mlitary forces and arms into the area;"
2. Urged parties to Arab-Israeli armistice agreements promptly to withdraw all forces behind the armistice lines and stop raids across those lines;
3. Recommended that all U.N. members "refrain from introducing military goods in the area of hostilities" and avoid any acts that would hamper implementation of the resolution;
4. Urged that after the cease-fire, effective steps be taken to reopen the canal "and restore secure freedom of navigation;"
5. Asked Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold to report to the Council and the Assembly on compliance with the resolution "for such further action as they may deem appropriate;"
6. "Decided to remain in emergency session pending compliance with this resolution."

The special session was called to order at 5:33 p.m. The Assembly agreed to take up the Middle East fighting over British and French opposition.

Omar Loutfi of Egypt rose first to say that his country had been subjected to "bloody aggression" he charged had been agreed on in advance by Israel, Britain and France. He said Egypt would defend herself. But he pleaded with the Assembly: "Condemn the aggressors, gentlemen! Put an end to aggression."

Sir Pierson Dixon of Britain said the British-French operation was not aggression but a "temporary police action." He declared it aimed to separate Israel and Egyptian forces, restore peace in the Middle East and safeguard freedom of navigation in the Suez Canal.

Three Physicists Get Nobel Prize

Transistor Development Brings $38,633 Award to Trio of Americans

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP) — The 1956 Nobel Prize in physics was awarded to three U. S. scientists today for their development of the tiny transistor.

The winners, who did their work in the laboratories of the Bell Telephone Co., are William Shockley of Pasadena, Calif.; Jay Bardeen of Urbana, Ill.; and Walter H. Brattain of Murray Hill, N. J.

The $38,633 physics award—to be split three ways among the winners—recognized the swift advance of science and technology into the vast new field of physics of the solid states.

It was known that the transistor team had been figuring high among the Nobel physics prize candidates for several years. They had long ago been declared prizeworthy by Nobel committee experts.

The microamplifies known as transistors perform virtually every function of vacuum tubes in electronics and communications but need only a fraction of the current and space. They can be made of various semiconductor solids. Transistors work by directing the flow of electric current through "holes" in the crystals.

Shockley, a 46-year-old native of London, England, was graduated from California Institute of Technology and obtained his Ph. D. from Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Born in Amoy, China, in 1902, Brattain joined the Bell Laboratories when he was 27 and has been there since. He is a graduate of Whitman College, obtained his Master's degree at the University of Oregon and his Ph.D. at the University of Minnesota.

Bardeen, 48, is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin. He obtained his Ph.D. in physics and mathematics at Princeton.

Hal Boyle Says:

Glorification of Wives Comes Into Fashion

NEW YORK (AP)—What are you doing to glorify you wife?

European men often say American men foolishly spoil their ladies, and that husbands here virtually practice wife worship.

This talk infuriates American wives. Not because it's true—they only wish it were—but because it isn't. They feel that if any husbands are practicing wife worship in this country it must be a secret vice. They see no public signs of it.

The truth is the complaint the average wife makes most often about her husband is, "He's too inattentive. He takes me for granted, just as he does the furniture. Nobody in America really appreciates what it means to be a housewife—except another housewife."

"The trouble with a husband is that he thinks the courtship ends with the honeymoon," a veteran wife lamented. "After that your day is supposed to be made if he recognizes you and calls you by your first name at breakfast.

"Romance? A husband's idea of being romantic is to send his wife a get-well card on Valentine's Day."

Well, ladies, that may have been true before. But now husbands are getting more thoughtful. They're not only praising their haustraus in public. They're doing it in print—and paying for the privilege!

Last month in Miami, Harry Jobson surprised his wife on their anniversary with a 12-by-25-foot billboard poster. It showed him kneeling in humble adoration "To a wonderful wife who has borne with me for 20 years."

Recently Mrs. Carl W. Trantham of Springfield, Mo., while scanning the classified ads of her newspaper, was startled to find there a public announcement, paid for by her husband, telling what a great gal she was.

The ad, quoting the Biblical proverb, "Whoso findeth a wife findeth a good thing," said:

"I am responsible for all debts and obligations of my wife, Mildred, both present and future, and am more than happy to be the provider for such a wife who married me 25 years ago today, who has borne me four happy children, all of whom are Christians, and she has manifested continuously such love, patience, understanding, helpfulness, that these have been the happiest years of my life."

In praising a wife, does it pay to advertise? Trantham, a railroad employe, found it sure paid off in his case.

Mrs. Trantham was more pleased by her husband's public proclamation than she was with the silver anniversary gifts he gave her—a silver bracelet and earrings, silver pen, and a chrome silver food mixer. Even strangers called up to congratulate her.

"I received many compliments myself," Trantham reported later. "Also a few bawlings out from husbands whose wives had read the ad and asked why didn't they ever think of doing something like that."

As a matter of fact, other husbands across the country are putting similar ads in their newspapers. When I reported this trend to my wife, Frances, she said:

"Some women have all the luck."

"Don't worry, I've got even bigger plans for you," I told her. "On our golden anniversary I am going to rent an airplane and have it skywrite in letters a mile high over Manhattan: 'To Frances, a golden girl.'"

"If I live that long—and if you remember the date," said Frances, unimpressed.

"Silly," I told her. "That's one date I could never forget."

A little later Frances looked up from the sock she was darning and asked casually:

"Are we doing anything next Tuesday night?"

"Yeah, watching the election returns."

"But you don't have anything special planned?"

"No, why?"

* * *

"Oh, I sort of thought I'd like to celebrate," said Frances. "It happens to be my 19th wedding anniversary. When's yours?"

Even with two people in it a room sometimes can get awfully quiet, can't it?

Free Gas Scheduled for Beginning Voters

In a get-out-the-vote campaign, 40 Pure Oil Co. stations in the county will dish out free gallons of gasoline to first-time voters Nov. 6.

Richard S. Clark,, branch manager of the firm, said it was part of the company's policy to encourage everybody to vote in all elections.

Dispute Effect of War on Vote

Both Parties Claiming Mideast Crisis to Help Their Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican and Democratic strategists disagreed today about the probable impact of the flaming Middle Eastern crisis on next Tuesday's presidential election.

Democrats contended the fighting in Egypt had tarnished the "peace" issue on which the Republicans have leaned heavily.

They said events had added weight to Adlai E. Stevenson's contentions that President Eisenhower's Middle Eastern policies have led to "catastrophic failure."

Republicans countered that the gravity of the situation will turn previously undecided voters to Eisenhower as a man equipped by his military and White House experience to deal with the crisis.

They pointed to Eisenhower's promise that "there will be no United States involvement in these present hostilities" as shoring up their claim that Eisenhower represents the best hope for peace.

Nevertheless, there was some evident uneasiness within the GOP camp as to the effect on the Jewish vote of the Eisenhower administration's resolution in the United Nations Security Council.

An intensive telephone poll by the Republican National Committee was said to have indicated Eisenhower generally has maintained or picked up strength.

At the same time, however, there were reports of some loss of strength for the Republican ticket — at least for some senatorial candidates — among Jewish voters in the larger cities.

Thirteen Candidates Seeking Seven County Offices

(Editor's Note: This is the third of three articles reviewing area candidates for local, state and national offices in the election Tuesday. Previous installments have discussed candidates for Congress, the State Senate and the State House of Representatives.)

Twelve candidates for six county offices face each other Tuesday in the general election.

Ralph A. Main, retiring Republican drain commissioner, is unopposed as candidate for county surveyor.

Other candidates are:

PROSECUTOR

David E. Utley

The Democratic nominee, David E. Utley, 48, of 51 Henry Clay Ave., has been a Pontiac attorney since 1934.

A graduate of Detroit College of Law, Utley is married and has four children.

His statement:

"It is my contention that it is the duty of the Prosecuting Attorney to protect the rights of the people against all law violators as well as to act in an advisory capacity to all of the communities of the county.

DAVID E. UTLEY

"The duty of prosecuting criminals is the effect, and I believe more should be done in correcting the cause of crime. Preventive measures are direly needed.

"There is no such thing as juvenile delinquency, but there is a great deal of adult delinquency.

"We have to learn how to be good parents and good community leaders. It is my intention to follow that direction, and I solicit the voters' aid in following the path."

Frederick C. Ziem

Incumbent Republican Frederick C. Ziem, now seeking his third term as Oakland County Prosecutor, served as assistant and chief assistant prosecutor before his election in 1952.

A graduate of the University of Michigan law school, Ziem has also served as special prosecutor for the 23-man grand jury in 1951 and a one-man grand jury in 1953. He is a World War II veteran.

His statement:

"I pledge vigorous and impartial prosecution of criminals, never, however losing sight of protection of the rights of innocent persons.

"I pledge complete cooperation with various other law enforcement agencies, without interference in the operation of other departments.

"I will owe allegiance solely to the people of Oakland County, with no obligation to any persons, special groups, or factions."

SHERIFF

George D. Hicks

Challenging the incumbent, Democrat George D. Hicks, 50, of 16 N. Johnson Ave., was a Pontiac policeman for 22 years and has been a plant protection officer. He is now employed by a local trucking firm.

A graduate of Pontiac High School, Hicks is married and has three children.

His statement:

"I pledge to make the Sheriff's Department one of the most efficient and outstanding in the State of Michigan by providing:

"1. Honest, efficient and capable staff.

"2. Increased road patrols to outlying districts, with resident special deputy protection.

"3. Close, harmonious cooperation with the prosecutor's office and all law enforcing units of the state.

"4. Rigid enforcement of juvenile liquor laws.

GEORGE D. HICKS

"5. Trained personnel to handle juvenile cases.

"6. Expanded driver license service in townships.

"7. Establishment of a trial board to protect Sheriff's officers from politics.

"8. Increased use of the Sheriff's posse.

"9. Organization of a junior deputy group, with athletic and scholastic activities, to aid in curbing juvenile delinquency."

Frank W. Irons

Republican incumbent Frank W. Irons, 56, was elected in 1954 after serving as Berkley police chief since 1926.

A county resident for 32 years, Irons is a past president of the Southeastern Michigan Police Association. Married, he has two children.

His statement:

"I will continue to maintain the same cooperation with the township, village and state police that is now existing and give the people of our county the kind of law enforcement they are entitled to and can be proud of.

FRANK W. IRONS

"I will continue the high standard of supervision and sanitation of the County Jail which I initiated and which has been highly commended by both State and federal inspectors of jails.

"The rapid growth of Oakland County necessitates additional personnel in the drivers' license division and road patrol to better serve the public. I shall bring this about as soon as possible."

CLERK

Lynn D. Allen

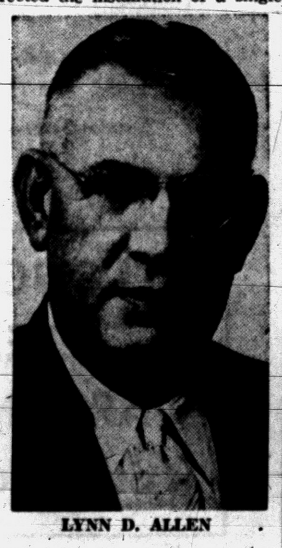

County Clerk for 24 years, Republican Lynn D. Allen, seeking his 13th term, is a lifelong county resident.

A graduate of Detroit Central High School, Allen attended the University of Detroit and is a World War I Navy veteran.

Married, he has two children.

His statement:

"In cooperation with the fact-finding committee employed by the Board of Supervisors, I have directed the installation of a single card index system for assumed names, copartnerships and corporations. By streamlining these records, approximately $1,800 has been saved in equipment each year.

LYNN D. ALLEN

"With the aid of the Legislature and acts of the Board of Supervisors, this office has increased its revenue over $37,500.

"I have initiated microfilming of our records.

"I have been able to keep pace with the ever-growing population of Oakland County by the use of an educational program which pays dividends in service to the legal profession and citizens of the county and spells economy to the taxpayers."

Odin H. Johnson

The Democratic nominee for county clerk, Odin H. Johnson, 51, of 486 W. Iroquois Rd., has been an attorney in Pontiac for 24 years.

A graduate of Detroit College of Law, Johnson worked in Fisher Body Division plants for nine years while attending college. Married, he has two children.

His statement:

"I feel that the office of County Clerk should be filled by a qualified practicing attorney, and that my 24 years as such, together with my years as administrator for a large corporation (General Motors Department of Safety) will result in more effective operation of the office.

ODIN H. JOHNSON

"I might also add that the use of new and modern office equipment can result in faster, better service to the public."

Charles A. Sparks

Republican incumbent Charles A. Sparks also seeks his 13th term in office this year.

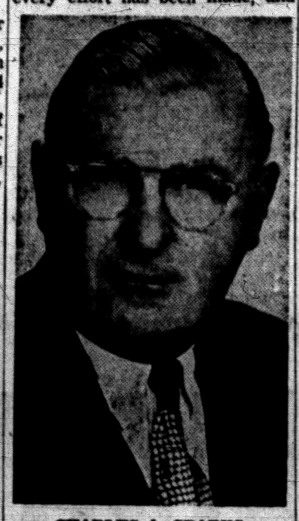

Sparks, 64, was educated in public schools in Knoxville, Tenn., and was a real estate and insurance agent before his election as treasurer in 1933. He now is chairman of the County Tax Allocation Board.

His statement:

"The tremendous increase in population in Oakland County has multiplied the work in the treasurer's office many times over. Keeping up with the additional and numerous tasks, I have installed and adopted improvements and short cuts in our office routine.

"The treasurer's office will collect and distribute over $50 million in 1956. This gigantic amount will call for the same experience as in the past, and is the reason I feel more than qualified for office.

"The Oakland County treasurer's office has been operated on a basis of impartiality to everyone, and every effort has been made, and will continue to be made, to make it the most competent public office possible."

* * *

Robert W. Stevens

Robert W. Stevens, 42, a Madison Heights wholesale milk dealer, is the Democratic nominee for treasurer.

Stevens, a graduate of Madison High School, studied law at the

ROBERT W. STEVENS

University of Detroit. He is married and has three children.

Stevens did not submit a statement of policy to the Pontiac Press.

REGISTER OF DEEDS

B. Jack Habel

The Democratic nominee, B. Jack Habel, 38, of 22 Miami Rd., has been a Pontiac resident nearly all his life.

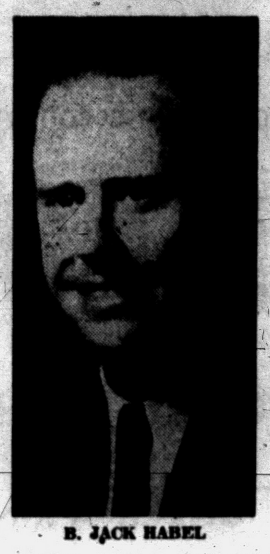

A graduate of the University of Michigan, Habel attended classes in accounting and commercial law in the School of Business Administration there.

An Air Force veteran and former auto dealer in Pontiac, Habel now is a real estate salesman. Married, he has two sons.

His statement:

"The principal challenge to the Register of Deeds office will be that of meeting the needs of tomorrow.

"Oakland County seems destined for continuous population and economic growth, with a resultant increase in real estate transactions and requests for information, which must be processed by the Register of Deeds.

"If elected, I will devote full time to keeping the Register of Deeds office ahead of the needs of the people. Office personnel will be fully trained to meet anticipated requirements. Methods and equipment which have proven their merit in other offices and in private business will be installed where economically feasible.

"The goal of the Register of Deeds office will be a concise, accurate and accessible recording system."

Daniel T. Murphy Jr.

The Republican incumbent, Daniel T. Murphy Jr., 32, of 1023 Berwick Blvd., was appointed to the office on the death in May of the late Orrin McQuaid.

Murphy, a former deputy county clerk, also has been customer relations executive and salesman for a local contracting firm. A veteran, he is married and has four children.

His statement:

"By January 1, I will have completed seven months as Register of Deeds. Experience and training are valuable. The citizens of Oakland County have an investment in my knowledge of this office.

"Since my appointment, I have been cooperative with the various branches of government. I respect the business interests and personal problems of individuals, and insist on courteous service.

"My office is a progressive model of efficiency and has gained wide recognition. I will always be cognizant of new mechanical and administrative innovations that will keep pace with our growing population."

DRAIN COMMISSIONER

Daniel W. Barry

A lifelong county resident, Daniel W. Barry, 33, of Waterford Township, is Republican nominee for Drain Commissioner.

A graduate of Michigan State University, Barry is a World War II veteran.

His statement:

"Two vital administrative changes are needed in the Drain

DANIEL W. BARRY

Office. We must expedite the procedure of residential petitions for new drain work. The time can be reduced to one half of the present two years needed for action.

"We also need a liaison department to coordinate the problems of local municipalities with the drain office. This would reduce the number of present distress areas, since local officials could check with the liaison staff to determine whether adequate drainage exists to serve a supervisor's plat up for approval."

Wallace E. Rice

The Democratic nominee, Wallace E. Rice, 49, of Birmingham, has been an excavating contractor since 1944.

Rice, who has lived in Birmingham for 40 years, attended Henry Ford Trade School in Highland Park and Lawrence Institute of Technology.

Married, he has two children.

His statement:

"I have been active in excavating and drainage work for 15 years. I would tackle the problem of drainage in Oakland County first through land developers, compelling them to provide for drain control. I would then progressively install and extend drains, similar to water services, to meet the needs as development progresses.

WALLACE E. RICE

"We need cooperation between supervisors, engineers, local governments and the Drain Commissioner's office. I would work to achieve this.

"My position deserves the concern and consideration of Democrats and Republicans alike. Flood waters are non-partisan."

COUNTY SURVEYOR

RALPH A. MAIN

Unopposed in the election, Ralph A. Main, 52, of Birmingham, is a registered civil engineer, land surveyor and land planner.

His statement:

Inasmuch as there is no work for the county surveyor to do, the only platform that I can offer is to meet everybody on the level and try to keep all politicians in line."

Columnist Finds Comic Still Dedicated to Youth

Joe E. Brown's Praise Gratefully Recalled

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS) — When a girl is 16, agog with life and a-bustin' to get going on it, about the best thing that could happen to her is to meet up with a great comedian named Joe E. Brown.

* * *

When it comes to kids, Joe would lay down his time, his money, his life, if necessary, to make them happy and forward-looking.

It happened to me. I was a sophomore in high school in 1938 when the man with the most expansive mouth and heart in show business came to Dayton, Ohio, for a theater date.

After interviewing him for the school scandal sheet, I sent a copy on to his studio in Hollywood, thinking—with that naive self-confidence that only youngsters untouched by life can know—he might want this exclusive story for his scrapbook. Or possibly, for framing.

By return mail, a letter came back. The comedian assured me that this, among his souvenirs, would be a feature forever cherished; and he advised me to keep on with the writing profession for "obviously" my "future was assured."

A GREAT HEART

Well, there was nothing obvious at all—except that Mr. Brown had a heart as great as his salary in those days and was willing to share it with whoever could use a dose of inspiration.

Nobody had ever said anything so encouraging to me about my future before (come to think of it, no one has been that encouraging since, either), so I spent the next 18 years plugging along on Brown flattery.

In dark moments, like when an editor would lop a story in half, I'd drum up that "assured future" assurance from the subconscious and put it to work on my morale.

This week I saw Joe E. again, and the same wonderful bolstering process set in. He sat nattily, amiably, reflectively in his suite above Central Park and explained why it is that he's always loved teenagers and their small-fry relatives . . .

"Kids need two kinds of food—stuff for their stomachs and nourishment for their dreams," Joe said. "Not enough of them get it. I get sick when I hear that word 'delinquency.' Children aren't delinquent—they're merely aping the people closest to them.

PAWNS OF ADULTS

"So consider kids as pawns that adults are moving around, not physically necessarily, but just by their personal influence on them.

"You've got to be what you want the child who's idolizing you to be like. You've got to be as thorough and as thoughtful and as 'right' as you can."

Joe recalls that when "I was a little guy I had idols who were responsible for this whole philosophy. I was lucky. Some little guys aren't."

In his new autobiography titled "Laughter Is a Wonderful Thing," the comic, who has won world praise for his benefactions to youth, describes his own childhood. It was rough from the standpoint of food, warmth and material possessions.

"But," he says gently, "I always had one kind person in my life to try to live up to. I call it 'invisible guidance'—those good characteristics a kid can pick up, not by having them hammered into him in school, but by watching and copying an admirable person."

Whomever Joe E. Brown mimicked, I am one who is immensely grateful.

Ex-Candymaker Cobo Staking Record of No Election Losses Against Williams

LANSING (AP) — A 62-year-old ex-candymaker carries Republican hopes of breaking an eight-year Democratic grip on the Michigan governor's chair.

He is Albert E. Cobo, three times elected Detroit mayor and seven times city treasurer.

Cobo never has been defeated for public office.

Tuesday, his name will appear in the Republican column on the ballot a first time.

Always before he has run as a non-partisan.

LOVES WORK

Work is his recreation as well as his job, he says. He smokes and drinks infrequently, and has no regular diversions — likes golf or cards.

His pride and joy — seemingly the focal interest in his life except for his wife and family —are the public improvements in Detroit completed or started during his tenure as mayor, and his part in them.

He is proud that for most of the period of their construction the city property tax rate was lower than when he took office.

A well-to-do man today with important real estate holdings in Arizona, Cobo had to work for what he has.

He was born at 25th and Woodward on Detroit's West Side of German-French ancestry. His mother, Elizabeth Byrn, was born in Germany. The French influence on his father's side dates further back.

Cobo attended neighborhood schools, and while in high school got a part time job as an office boy. This marked the start of a lengthy business career and preceded his entry into government.

LEARNS CANDYMAKING

He moved on after leaving school to become a billing clerk, and spent his nights learning candy-making.

He got a job for a while as a candymaker, then went into business for himself and soon had a factory and two stores.

As World War I drew to a close, Cobo sold out. He was drafted in 1918 but the armistice was signed before he got into uniform.

The next business venture for Cobo, then in his middle 20's, was as a salesman. He finally joined the Burroughs Adding Machine Co.

It was from Burroughs that Cobo came into government in 1933 at the depth of the great depression.

He was "loaned" to the city government for six months to help straighten out a financial muddle.

NEVER WENT BACK

He has worked for the city ever since, as deputy treasurer in 1933-34, the next 15 years as treasurer and finally as mayor since 1949.

Finance was his forte, and Cobo made a good record in the treasurer's office.

As Cobo tells it, he became increasingly dismayed over the years at wrangling between the city executive, council members and the newspapers.

"It got to the place where it was a question of moving up or out," he says in explaining his decision to run for mayor in 1949.

Critics argue a good deal of flexibility has been taken out of Detroit financing, and Cobo's successor as mayor will be somewhat hamstrung, with important amounts of future revenues tied up by mortgage arrangements.

Cobo defends vigorously what he has done. He has repeatedly told outstate audiences a taste of his medicine will cure ills of the entire state as he maintains many of the ills of Detroit have been cured.

"Dear Great Mayor" is the way Japanese children writing to ask for pen friends address the Mayor of Great Yarmouth, England.

Cancer Expert Has Suggestion

Says Less Educated, Lower Income Groups Need Facts of Disease

NEW YORK (INS)—Dr. Clarence R. Decker urged today that the American Cancer Society switch emphasis in its education program with the aim of saving as many lives as possible from the dread disease.

As chief consultant of a committee set up to review the program, Dr. Decker said more lives could be saved if the educational message was carried to "the less educated and lower income groups."

Dr. Decker, Vice President of Fairleigh Dickinson University, maintained the least educated public has the least knowledge of cancer and the modern methods of protection against death from the disease.

He said his committee proposed "more direct planning with business, industrial and labor groups concerning practical programs that should be systematically developed."

The physician also suggested cancer education be developed in neighborhood activities "especially in minority areas," and in consultation with class room teachers.

Dr. Decker said "the problem is one for the whole nation to face", and that "imaginative leadership is clearly indicated," in its solution which could save 75,000 lives more each year.

William Henry Perkin, 100 years old, set out to create synthetic quinine, instead he achieved mauve, the first man-made dye.

UF Helps Fight Medical Battles

Most people know their Pontiac Area United Fund contribution goes to help the American Cancer Society and the Michigan Heart Association.

The medical battle against these two killers has been well publicized in recent years.

However, your UF dollar also supports a number of other agencies aimed at education, research and medical treatment of other serious health problems.

Several of these are grouped under the Michigan United Fund, to which most area UF's contribute a fair share.

For instance, the Michigan UF supports the United Cerebral Palsy Association, which pays off as far as Pontiac is concerned.

It is estimated that there are 270 victims of cerebral palsy here. Ten of them are school children who received special speech therapy.

About $3,825 was paid by the association towards the therapists annual salary.

Again, there were 65 county residents last year who made visits to the University of Michigan athritis Clinic in Ann Arbor. The UF figures it paid 16 per cent of their treatment cost.

In Pontiac, it is figured that 5,446 people suffer from some form of arthritis, 539 of them permanently disabled.

Your UF dollar helps provide home visits by nurses, sponsored by the National Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation.

Treatment at the Multiple Sclerosis Clinic in Detroit last year was provided 26 county residents. The Pontiac Area United Fund paid 16 per cent of the average $173.92 cost per patient.

There are about 162 multiple sclerosis victims in Pontiac who can be helped by UF contributions.

The hard-of-hearing and the deaf are not ignored by your UF. It allocated funds to the Hearing Association which conducts better hearing classes.

The classes are free to those who need them.

Epilepsy is another affliction your contribution fights.

Health officials say there are over 800 persons in Pontiac with epilepsy. UF funds helped pay for medical studies of seven patients and casework consultations for six more.

Sixteen per cent of the cost was borne by the Pontiac Area United Fund.

These are only a handfull of the 54 community service agencies which the UF seeks to support next year.

UF officials point out, though, that only community effort can raise funds enough for the expensive research necessary to make individual treatment effective in these diseases.

FLAMING DEATH — A speeding car with a leaking gas tank crashed into an abutment on a New York City arterial highway and burst into flames, killing four and injuring one of the five passengers. A passing motorist pulled the dead and injured from the flaming wreckage. The accident occurred on the West Side Highway which runs along the Hudson River, on Manhattan's west side.

'Unmentionables' Wave From Campus Flagpole

RICHMOND, Ky. (AP) — Several hundred hooting Eastern Kentucky State College men "raided" a girl's dormitory, then hoisted unmentionables up a campus flagpole.

City and state police were called in after threats of a panty raid were shouted following a pep rally and snake dance in preparations for the school's homecoming program.

Police said no arrests were made, and a college official ordered the items removed from the flagpole. The students dispersed quietly.

Track Check Forgers

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Police sought a middle-aged couple with two small children Wednesday as passers of at least 13 worthless payroll checks—each for $89.95—in the Grand Rapids area. The checks, which have appeared since last Friday, are drawn on the account of a metal products firm.

'Ike Never Said' Kill Bomb Tests

Hagerty Gives Denial That President Asked Experiments Cease

WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House says it isn't so that President Eisenhower once backed the idea of ending tests of big hydrogen weapons. Four Democratic senators had asked.

Eisenhower "has never changed from the judgment," press secretary James C. Hagerty said yesterday, that along with any agreement to end use of testing of nuclear weapons "there must be proper safeguards."

He was replying to a telegram from Senators Anderson (D-NM), Monroney (D-Okla), Fulbright (D-Ark) and Mansfield (D-Mont). And indirectly he was replying to Adlai E. Stevenson, who a week ago in Albuquerque, N. M., referred to newspaper reports which he said related that Eisenhower administration officials had favored halting bomb tests until Stevenson made a similar proposal.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, has urged repeatedly that this country take the lead in seeking agreement to halt major H-bomb tests. Eisenhower has said this isn't safe without some system of inspection to insure compliance with such an agreement.

The four senators, in their telegram, asked Eisenhower whether some White House advisers had not recommended steps to halt testing of the big weapons, and whether Eisenhower hadn't agreed with the idea and ordered studies to follow it up.

Hagerty, who earlier had said the senators had "wrong information," said Eisenhower has "urgently sought" an international agreement to end the manufacture, use and testing of atomic weapons but "has never changed" his stand that safeguards are necessary.

Democrat Errs, Pledges Vote for Eisenhower

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The New York State Democratic chairman, by a slip of the tongue, made a pitch for Republican President Eisenhower yesterday. And in front of Gov. Averell Harriman too.

Michael H. Prendergast, speaking at a Democratic luncheon-rally, told listeners: "We are going to carry New York state for Stevenson, Eisenhower and (Robert F.) Wagner."

Wagner, mayor of New York City, is the Democratic candidate for U.S. senator.

The audience snickered. Gov. Harriman tugged at Prendergast's sleeve and whispered to him.

"That goes to show you what can happen when you get overtired near the end of the campaign," Prendergast said.

"That's probably the worst thing that ever happened to a state chairman. Let me start again. We're going to carry the state for Stevenson, Kefauver and Wagner."

Ask Relaxed Housing Credit for Savings, Loan Firms

WASHINGTON (INS) — Savings and loan associations observed their 24th anniversary by laying plans to channel more money into the tight home mortgage market.

The nation's 6,000 savings and loan associations serve more than 19 million savers and finance about 40 per cent of all homes built or sold every year.

Expansion of savings and relaxation of selective credit controls on housing were advanced by two trade groups as ways in which the financial institutions can help boost home construction.

Walter H. Dreier, president of the U. S. Savings and Loan League, pointed out a direct link between savings and economic growth.

He explained: "Without savings, we would have no new factories or machines to turn out new automobiles, new washing machines, new television sets—in fact, there would be no new houses, or new schools or new highways."

As an example, Dreier said that the savings of about seven persons are required to finance the purchase of one home.

Personal savings this year will come to 22 billion dollars, the highest dollar-wise since World War II—but still under a recent average of eight per cent of disposable income.

The Board of Governors of the National Savings and Loan League urged the government to relax housing credit restrictions by changing regulations of the Federal Home Loan Bank Board, which is the governing board of the savings and loan institutions.

For one thing, they want to get bigger loan advances from the bank board for financing new home construction.

More important to small urban or rural areas where mortgage money is particularly hard to come by right now, the savings and loan associations want to remove the restriction which limits their operations within a 50-mile radius of their offices.

The Home Loan Bank Board claims a good share of credit for the rise in savings and in the proportion of home owners in the country since the system was set up by law in 1932.

Evidence of the growth is the fact that savings and loan associations now make more home loans in a single year than they had in their entire portfolio a decade ago.

The 6,000 institutions, which are serviced by the board's district banks, have assets of 40 billion dollars. Of this total, 91 per cent is covered by federal insurance on accounts up to $10,000 each.

U.S. Buys Research Into Dread Diseases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service has announced the start of a research program into the causes of cerebral palsy, mental retardation, blindness and deafness.

Surgeon General Leroy E. Burney said awards totaling more than $700,000 for a four-year investigation into the causes of cerebral palsy and mental retardation have been made to the Yale University School of Medicine and to Brown University to start the large coordinated research program.

He said a dozen or more institutions are expected to join in the research, in a program to last 10 to 20 years.

Yale's grant for the first year was $107,799. Brown received $97,633.

Burney said the program is planned to be of such scope that more than 6,000 persons will be studied annually. These will include mothers, infants and children who will be studied over a period of several years.

Tax for Detroit Zoo for Court to Decide

Is a zoo a governmental function?

If it isn't—and a court ruling is expected within the next few days—the Detroit Zoological Park will be forced to pay taxes in Huntington Woods, Royal Oak and Oakland County.

Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty will rule on the case, and Huntington Woods City Attorney James S. Thorburn says if he finds the zoo, its parking lot, and Rackham Golf Course are proprietary instead of governmental, Detroit will have to pay taxes on the three institutions.

Thorburn predicts the case will go to the State Supreme Court no matter what ruling Judge Doty hands down.

Heavy Fog Blamed for Auto Accident

A Clarkston woman blamed a thick fog for an accident in which she went off the road and struck a tree on Bridge Lake road in Independence Township early this morning.

Mrs. Callie Johnson, of 9267 Villa Crest Dr., was treated and released at Pontiac General Hospital for minor cuts and bruises.

She told investigating Oakland County deputies her car went off the road when she did not see a curve due to the fog.

Agreement Ends 1951 Libel Suit

Four Corners Press, Southfield Ex-Official Settle Out of Court

A 1951 libel suit against the weekly Four Corners Press was settled yesterday with a published retraction and reported payment of an undisclosed sum of money after five years of litigation.

Former Southfield Township Supervisor Dudley P. Frame brought the suit against the paper in 1951, after it published an election eve "open letter to voters" from Township Clerk Fannie Adams.

Frame said the letter "gravely, severely and permanently" injured his reputation and caused him public and private humiliation. He lost the election.

At the first Oakland County trial of Frame's $200,000 damage action, Judge Frank L. Doty declared a mistrial after he found evidence of tampering with the jury.

FRAME APPEALS

The second county trial, held in the Supervisors Room of the County Office Building to accommodate spectators, was won by the Four Corners Press. But Frame appealed to the State Supreme Court, saying he was not allowed to introduce testimony establishing his good character.

Rob Master 'Bread'room

GRAND RAPIDS (UP) — Sheriff's deputies Thursday investigated the reported theft of about $2,100 in jewelry from the suburban home of Menno Ditmar, owner of a Grand Rapids bakery (Polly Anna Pastry Kitchen) chain. Most of the jewelry was stolen from a box in the master bedroom.

Halloween Is 'Fine' for 4 at Walled Lake

A halloween prank staged in Walled Lake cost four youths from that area $50 each at a Justice Court arraignment held last night.

Robert L. Ruah, 19, of 1428 Pontiac Trail, Walled Lake, Dennis P. Green, 17, of 1436 Wren Rd., Wixom, Charles R. Troxtell, 18, 2266 Mentone St., Walled Lake, and Ray G. Schneuringer, 17, of 2235 Darnell Ave., Walled Lake, paid $40 fines and $10 court costs after pleading guilty to a disorderly charge before Justice Herman Roth of Walled Lake.

According to Walled Lake police chief Fred Decker, the boys stole several bales of hay from a barn and dumped them at three major city intersections where they set them on fire early Thursday. He said the fire department had to be called out to extinguish two of the blazes and that traffic was held up.

Adlai Wins Student Poll

BAGHDAD (INS) — Iraqi Foreign Minister Burhanuddin Bashayan asked the American ambassador to convey to the U. S. government "Iraq's great satisfaction with the U. S. policy toward Egypt."

Liquor Is Up

Patrons Feeling Low Down as Bar Prices Go Higher

NEW YORK (UP) — Whisky and gin drinking became more expensive in some states yesterday. Prices will go up in other states a month from now and in still more states Jan. 1.

The boosts are only on some of the brands of certain distillers and on certain categories of whisky, a survey of leading distillers showed. But sources in the industry say other firms are almost sure to follow the lead of such giants as Joseph Seagram & Sons, Schenley Industries Inc., and Publicker Industries Inc. in hiking prices.

How much more will a bottle cost at the consumer level?

Distillers say the ultimate consumer increase will differ from state to state. Most estimates are that a "fifth" will cost 25 to 35 cents more than previously, although the jump may be anywhere from a nickel to 40 cents.

Seagram suggested in its announcement, made Sept. 28 in order to comply with the varied posting regulations of the states, that taverns and bars could pass along the increase at the rate of a nickel a drink.

It's all part of the first across-the-board increase by the distillers—except those due to excise taxes—since Prohibition was repealed in 1933. To a man, those who are increasing prices say it's necessary because of steadily rising costs in every part of the industry.

Drinkers who prefer Scotch whisky will get away without a price increase this time. Importers say no hike is expected before March, if then.

In addition, blended types of whisky are expected to increase faster than straights and bottled-in-bond brands.

Increasing costs cited by the various distillers included payroll, advertising, bottles, cartons, grain, railroad rates, boxes, caps and even decanters.

The last item bears on the Christmas trade in the states where boosts are effective by Dec. 1. One industry source said, however, that Christmas gift-giving is not likely to be affected too much since most people tend to give the most expensive brand they can afford.

Detroit Youth 'Can't Resist' Stealing $500

DETROIT (UP)—A 16-year-old boy was accused today of sticking a wad of chewing gum on th end of a stick and fliching 10 $50 bills from a bank drawer through the barred window of the teller's cage.

Raymond L. Siebert of Detroit, stood mute when arraigned before Federal Judge Ralph M. Freeman yesterday on a charge of violating the Federal Juvenile Act.

George E. Woods, chief assistant U.S. attorney, quoted the youth as saying, "I just can't resist it when I see money laying around."

Woods said Seibert tricked the woman teller into leaving the cage by asking her to check on a 50-cent service charge levied against his account.

The teller remembered the boy's unexplained disappearance when she discovered the shortage at the end of the day.

An FBI agent said the loot was found at the boy's home.

4 Cases of Vandalism Reported to Sheriff

Four cases of malicious destruction to buildings in recent days were reported to the sheriff's department today.

Most severely hit was a house and barn at 1365 Gage Rd., Holly Township, where 17 windows were broken between Sunday and Thursday. Owner Lawrence Hemboldt, who doesn't live at the farm, told investigators he suspects children.

Two houses under construction at the Judson Park Subdivision in Avon Township were damaged. One at 130 Tallahassee Dr. had two windows broken by stones and a stove pipe bent. Another had a smashed window and a broken door sash.

The other destruction was at the Kingsbury Market, 2330 Clarkston Rd., Avon Township, where three front windows were broken by stones last night.

Predicts Big Supplies of Food Again in '57

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicted today food supplies next year will continue to be large, though probably a little below this year's plentiful level.

It said food prices in the early months of 1957 are expected to continue above the levels for the same months of 1956. Prices now are somewhat higher than those in the fall of 1955.

In a report entitled "The National Food Situation," the department also forecast a continued strong consumer demand for food through the coming year.

Declines in consumption rates from last fall were forecast for lard, sweet potatoes, dried beans, apples and grapes.

But increases were said to be in prospect for eggs, chicken and turkey, processed fishery products, fresh citrus fruits, frozen orange juice, fresh and processed vegetables and potatoes.

Uruguay is the smallest in area and also the most densely populated of South American republics, according to recent census estimates.

Sees Gum Trouble Instead

Dentist Expects Decay to Drop Sharply by '66

CHICAGO (UP) — An official of the American Dental Assn. predicts a sharp drop in the rate of tooth decay within 10 years.

* * *

Dr. Rudolph H. Friedrich of Chicago, secretary of the ADA Council on Dental Health, forecast that much of the trouble in the next decades will be from serious gum conditions rather than from tooth decay.

He told a panel discussion at the 45th annual meeting of the Manufacturers Section of the American Dental Trade Assn.:

"It is safe to say that the next 10 years will bring about a distinct change in the concept of dental disease."

TEETH WEAK

He said as persons become older their teeth tend to wear down, bringing about problems of "bite" which in turn can lead to such gum diseases as pyorrhea.

"As teeth are maintained in the mouth to an older age," he said, "the problems of occlusion, malocclusion and periodontal disease will be brought into sharper focus."

He predicted there will be a big drop in the need for complete sets of false teeth and that emphasis will be on partial restoration of teeth.

Dr. George C. Paffenbarger of Washington, chief of the ADA research staff of the National Bureau of Standards, said there is good evidence tooth enamel is severely attacked before the cavity appears, and that such decay can be prevented. He said in a prepared address:

"The routine treatment of the teeth of young patients with remineralization agents or synthetic impregnating or coating materials may easily become a routine procedure within the next few years."

Estes Predicts Adlai's Election

Says Ike Does Nothing for Farmers, Jobless; Cites Bank Influence

SHARON, Pa. (AP) — Sen. Estes Kefauver said today Adlai Stevenson's election is assured because "nothing has been done by President Eisenhower for distressed unemployment areas, or for the farmers."

The Democratic vice-presidential nominee, pressing his party's windup attack on Republican "peace and prosperity" claims, switched from international to domestic affairs.

He chose Pennsylvania, plagued with spotty unemployment, as the place to make a charge that the Eisenhower administration followed a blueprint by New York bankers who Kefauver said regard "hard money" as paramount and "ignored the general's economic commitments to the mass of people."

His talk was prepared for delivery here.

All day yesterday as he followed a grinding schedule of 11 speeches and numerous informal appearances in Massachusetts and Rhode Island, Kefauver pounded on the theme that administration foreign policy was a failure and helped precipitate the Middle East conflict and alienated Britain and France.

Today Kefauver said the White House and the Republican party fought Democratic-sponsored legislation designed to help distressed areas.

"In spite of its words, slogans and cliches," he said, "The Eisenhower administration has ignored the general's economic commitments to the mass of people in the United States and slavishly followed the blueprint the Wall Street bankers gave to them."

And, he added, "the same of course is true in regard to agriculture."

Hells canyon in the Snake river between Idaho and Oregon is deeper than the Grand canyon of the Colorado, chiefly in Arizona, and is also much narrower between the top rims.

WE LIKEE IKEE — Giving an Oriental twist to the political scene, this trio of Chinese lasses stands before a banner reading "I Like Ike," in Chinese characters. The girls were among 70 guests of Chinese ancestry honored at a recent reception in New York City by the state's Citizens for Eisenhower-Nixon. All voting for the first time, the girls are: Lucy Ting, Mrs. Henry H. Lee, and June Yung.

Foreign Travel by Air Expensive

CAB Vice Chairman Hits at Foreign Lines for Prohibitive Fares

WASHINGTON (AP) — Joseph P. Adams, Vice Chairman of the Civil Aeronautics Board (CAB), suggested that other governments adopt the American plan of low cost air travel for everybody.

By agreeing to further cuts in trans-Atlantic air fares, Adams said in a speech prepared for the National Defense Transportation Assn., foreign governments might reduce their airline subsidy loads.

Adams also proposed that in the United States, the local service airlines be given a greater share of the proceeds from passengers who use both local and trunk air services on their travels.

He said the local or "feeder" airlines should be freed of some of their uneconomic route operating restrictions, and be allowed to serve some of the large cities on their systems on a one-stop or non-stop basis. Such actions "could do wonders for them," he added.

Adams noted that U. S. airline operations across the North Atlantic have rid themselves of government subsidies, largely due to low-fare, high-revenue tourist or coach class service.

Listed Wrong Address for Missing Trustie

The Pontiac Press Wednesday incorrectly listed the address of Joseph Leahy, 36, one of two trustees who walked away from Oakland County Jail while serving time on drunk and disorderly offenses.

Leahy's correct address is 269 S. Jessie St. The other man was Boyd Ferguson, 42, of 108 Gladstone Place. Authorities had not located either man today.

Bloody Revolt in Hungary Helps Poland's Gomulka

By JOHN H. MARTIN
INS Foreign Director

Hungary's bloody anti-Soviet revolution is strengthening the hand of Wladyslaw Gomulka, the Polish Communist leader who defied Moscow without causing a bloodbath.

The 50-year-old Gomulka, now back at the top in Warsaw's Red hierarchy, avoided revolution only because he swiftly promised far-reaching political and economic reforms.

These included promises to Poles that they will be allowed an independent course in socialism with eventual withdrawal of Russian troops.

Gomulka is a dedicated Communist and one who can be ruthless. But he at least temporarily became a hero in Poland when he stood up to Soviet Party leader Nikita Khrushchev in refusing to keep Soviet Marshal K. K. Rokossovsky on the Politburo.

Rokossovsky now is "on leave" in Russia and the new Polish regime has released Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski, the Roman Catholic primate.

THE SIMPLE LIFE

Gomulka is still living in a small barely furnished two-room apartment in the Saska Kempa district on the right bank of the Vistula.

His wife, who also has been jailed by the "comrades," is with him, and they live next door to their married son, who is an architect.

The man who now is purging the ranks of Polish Communists himself spent years in prison for his defiance of the late Soviet dictator, Stalin.

Gomulka has been a Communist since he was 16 years old, and today his face is deeply lined as a result of physical and mental sufferings.

In the late 1920s the Polish secret police hunted him, finally catching up with him in 1932, when he was 26 years old. He was shot in the leg, arrested and sentenced to four years imprisonment.

HEALTH SUFFERED

He developed a lame leg and lung ailment and was released from prison in 1935 for health reasons. A year later he was nabbed again and sentenced to seven years.

When the Nazis invaded Poland, his jailers fled. So did the prisoners. Eventually he walked to the Soviet frontier.

But he did not remain in Russia. He returned for underground work against the Nazis and also helped found the Communist Polish Workers' Party, of which he became party secretary in 1943.

He was a big star in the Polish Red ranks until 1948, when Yugoslav Marshal Tito broke with Stalin. Gomulka, who had been known as Poland's "Little Stalin," then became known as Poland's "Tito."

He was expelled from the party and arrested as a Titoist deviationist in 1951. Both he and his wife suffered much in prison, but the Reds released both of them in 1954, after the death of Stalin.

We're For YOU, Paul Sutton!

We're not advertising men. We don't know how a political ad should be written. We're not politicians. We don't know how to twist a legislative "record" to make it sound like the "voice of experience."

We're just plain citizens of Oakland County, and we've got to get this off our chests or burst.

WE'RE GETTING PLENTY FED UP!

We're getting fed up to the eye teeth with appeals to special groups by a candidate whose record shows he did nothing for those groups.

We're getting fed up with a candidate who's trying to slide into Washington on Eisenhower's coattails.

We're sick and tired of hearing a candidate identify himself as having "served in the Air Corps in World War II" when he served only 51 days and is not even qualified as a veteran under the GI Bill of Rights.

We're appalled at a man who admits, in debate, that he "knows nothing about foreign relations" and yet who dares to consider himself qualified to deal with world affairs in our national congress.

To put it bluntly . . . WE THINK OAKLAND COUNTY NEEDS A MAN WITH GOOD SOUND COMMON SENSE TO REPRESENT US IN CONGRESS.

WE THINK PAUL SUTTON IS THAT MAN.

Tuesday, November 6 is our big chance . . . our last chance for two more years . . . to send to Washington a mature man of proven stability who will get us the help we need in solving our problems of flood control, proper drainage, street paving, sewers and adequate schools.

We're growing so fast that we're bursting at the seams. We can't meet our problems without Federal help and counsel. We can't afford to send a man to Congress whose legislative record shows that he's voted against the kind of things we need help on in Oakland County.

It's up to folks like us. Forget the politicians and Eisenhower's coattails and all the other fancy business, and remember the phony legislative record of Paul Sutton's opponent. We're the folks who have to live in Oakland County. We're the folks who know what kind of Congressman we need.

It makes no difference what your party affiliations normally are. If you go along with us in feeling that what is best for Oakland County is a strong Congressman who'll really get in there and fight for us in Washington, say it with your vote. Vote for Paul Sutton, Tuesday, November 6th.

DAR Fetes Miss Avery

Pontiac Press Photos

Circuit Judge Clark Adams (above) was speaker at the Thursday evening gathering of the DAR which honored Blanche Avery (center). A program honoring Miss Blanche Avery was held last night in the Civic Room of the Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building.

Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams, speaker for the event, pointed to the outstanding work carried out by Miss Avery as a teacher in the Pontiac High School.

Education, he said, is an essential ingredient of good government, and he noted that Miss Avery had made that contribution.

Education should be made enjoyable to youth — it is a real challenge, the speaker declared, and he said that Miss Avery had met this challenge. Many of her former students were there last night to attest to this.

Also paying tribute to Miss Avery, who now resides in Ann Arbor, were John Thors Jr. and Mrs. William F. Todd.

PRESENTS AWARD

Miss Adah Shelly presented the Award of Merit to Miss Avery, and the Rev. Waldo R. Hunt told of Miss Avery's work in the church.

Entertainment consisted of accordion solos by Joyce Meyer and selections by the Boys' Senior Ensemble of Pontiac High School.

Larry Dean announced the numbers, and singing with him were Bill Cooper, Bill Taylor, Jack Hutchings, Phil Viands, Jim Crawford, Ed Kent and George Mekres.

Beta Chapter Has Thursday Meeting at Sinclair Home

Mrs. John Sinclair of Rutherford road opened her home to members of Beta Chapter of Beta Theta Phi sorority Thursday evening. Members decided to furnish a Thanksgiving basket for an elderly couple.

The group also made plans to start preparing treats for the family being "adopted" by the chapter for Christmas. Articles were donated for the Needlework Guild, and Mrs. John Allen and Mrs. Kenneth Madsen were asked to represent the chapter at the Thursday Ingathering.

Mrs. Allen appointed Mrs. Ward Cummings, Mrs. Walter Terry and Mrs. George Zannoth to assist her on the coming charity projects.

Resort Fashions Are Feminine This Season

NEW YORK (NEA)—A rounded and feminine line that retains the ladylike look is the line that emerges in the current resort and cruise collections.

These harbingers of the fashions we'll be wearing next summer show a continuance of the slender silhouette.

But it's slenderness with a difference. Skirts have pegged tops that taper in at the hemline. The pleated skirt, in many variations has a new importance. Double box pleats are sometimes shaped with darts for grace in motion.

As for the much discussed longer length, it's pretty much confined to afternoon, dinner and evening dresses. These may be ankle length or 10 inches from the floor. Daytime dresses may be an inch longer but not more.

Many crushed girdles, floaty scarves and cape collars place emphasis above the waistline. Sleeves are kept rounded to complete the rounded, feminine feeling of the silhouette.

Print dresses favor the gentle colors: Pink lilac and soft blue. This soft look carries on into evening dresses in pastel chiffon, delicate shades of mauve, beige and pale blue.

The crushed girdle is used for these evening dresses, too, and with this wrapped-waist look goes a skirt that floats.

Cure of Acne Requires Doctor

By all means, consult your physician if acne is troubling your adolescent. He'll tell you that cleansing the skin thoroughly, with soap and water, is a great aid in battling this skin condition.

Then it's up to parents to make sure that the right diet and the proper cleansing care routine are followed.

Once a youngster is convinced that face washing is helping his complexion, he'll be eager to do it often.

New for fashion conscious women is the leather sweater with a low, bloused look. It is shown here with its shape defined by drawstrings, teamed with a rib-knit wool skirt. Sleeves are wool knit, and the leather is washable capeskin.

Vegetable Rinse May Lighten Hair

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "I used to have pretty blonde hair but it has become several shades darker. At present it is dull and has a dirty appearance. Is there anything I could use at home to lighten my hair and bring it back to its original color?"

A. All hair turns darker with the years. Why not experiment with vegetable rinses. Be sure that it is a real vegetable rinse and not a light dye. Vegetable rinses wash off, so if you do not like the first shade you try you can use another.

Q. "I am 27 years old, 5 feet 8 inches tall and weigh 126 pounds. My bust measures 35, waist 26, and hips 37 inches. I get tired of wearing full skirts but my girl friends tell me that straight lines aren't for me. Please tell me what you think."

A. You certainly are not overweight. If anything you are a little underweight. Your measurements are also allowable for a good figure. You might take hip-slimming exercises to lose an inch or so there. I should think you could wear straight skirts now, and you certainly could after trimming the hips a bit.

Q. "About a year ago I lost some weight and now my friends tell me that I am too thin, but I don't think so. I am 16 years old, 5 feet 3 inches tall and weigh 105 pounds. My measurements are bust 32, waist 23, hips 34 inches. What about my measurements and do you think I should gain some weight?"

A. Everybody's friends seem to be kibitzing today. I imagine that you should gain from 6 to 10 pounds. Even if you have a slight build you probably should gain 5. Your measurements are lovely.

Q. "I am 22 years old, 5 feet 3 inches tall and weigh 94 pounds. My bust measures 32, waist 23 and hips 33 inches. I am always very conscious of having large and expanding hips."

A. Whew! How can you think that your hips are large and expanding when they measure 33 inches, I cannot imagine. You have practically perfect measurements but you are a lot underweight. Starting out with such nice proportions I feel sure that you will gain proportionately. Your figure will be nicer and you will be healthier if you gain about 20 pounds.

Q. "I am 14 years old and very self-conscious about the dark hair on my arms. I have tried bleaching the hair on my arms with peroxide and household ammonia but the hairs are still noticeable. Could I use a platinum hair dye on them?"

A. No. Buy one of the many fine depilatories now on the market and use that.

My leaflet No. 52 "Stars in Your Crown (Care of Hair)" can be had by sending a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Why not experiment with vegetable rinses?

Use Turkey for Mounded Salad Treat

Mrs. Perry Frosts Poultry Mixture, Sprinkles With Nuts

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Turkey and chicken are such reasonable foods this fall that you should consider them when you are entertaining. Mrs. George A. Perry of Clarkston served this poultry salad the last time she entertained Home Demonstration women.

Mrs. Perry is president of the county Home Demonstration Council. She has been in the organization for over thirty years.

This year she also holds the office of chaplain in the Eastern Star. Whenever possible she takes an active part in her church circle.

MOUNDED TURKEY SALAD
By Mrs. George A. Perry

10 pounds turkey or chicken, cut into serving pieces
2 large bunches pascal celery, cut in pieces
2 pounds white grapes
1 can ground almonds
1 small onion, grated
½ cup sour cream
Mayonnaise
Parsley
Lemon juice
Salt and pepper

Cook poultry the day before. Sprinkle with lemon juice after cutting into pieces. Let stand overnight in the refrigerator.

In the morning mix turkey, celery, grapes, and onion with just enough dressing to make the mixture stick together. Season to taste. Form into a large mound on a platter.

Mix sour cream with enough mayonnaise to "frost" the salad. Cover mound of salad completely. Sprinkle with nuts. Garnish with parsley. Serves 20-25.

Clean Closets of Old Shoes

A closet full of old shoes can make the place seem like the black hole of Calcutta.

Throw out or give away the ones you aren't using; wash the linings of the other shoes with a sudsy cloth and give them all a good polish.

Repeat the lining-washing often and you'll never have a closet full of old shoes again. The sudsing prevents perspiration damage and odor.

Easy for Traveler

"Self-drive cars" are engaged with the purchase of railway tickets on British railway, and motorists on arriving at their destination are escorted to their cars, eliminating long distance driving.

Start Youngsters on Beauty Routin

A little girl can't get started too young on this good grooming business! One way to make young sister grooming-conscious is to provide an inexpensive dressing table of her very own—such as a plastic-topped wrought iron vanity table and chair, junior size.

With her own child-size mirror and stool, she'll be encouraged to scrub her face and hands, to brush her hair regularly, and to keep herself neat and clean.

If your "little lady make-believe" leaves sticky fingerprints, or inadvertently spills something on her vanity table or chair, a sponge dipped in soap or detergent suds will whisk it clean in no time.

Costume jewelry comes in a burst of glittering color this fall, the ideal foil for a simple black, navy or neutral dress.

Opera Cape Style News at the Met

NEW YORK (INS) — Opera capes used to be a male fashion, but this year it's the women who wear them.

Flowing capes in every length from shoulder to floor stole the style show at this week's gala opening of the Metropolitan Opera.

For the long capes, red was the preferred color. Not fire engine red, however, but peony reds, hot pinks, and deep crimsons.

Another favored cape fabric was satin, especially white satin used over white satin gowns. This type of cape, matched to the dress underneath, was mostly short and sometimes banded in lush fur like white fox.

The younger debs at the Met, wearing traditional bouffant dance-length skirts, liked capes that just covered shoulders. The smaller capes were mostly velvet, and looked particularly demure in black or dull blue.

One of the most striking capes was a creation by Fontana of Rome that combined the best features of long and short. In ruby red satin, it swept to the floor at back. In front, however, the cape barely covered the bosom, tying in a massive ascot embroidered in jewels.

New elegance in fashion calls for a lighter, more feminine makeup. This feminine look is dependent on the right choice of powder foundation, powder and lipstick. This Miss is using a tinted makeup base that color-controls the complexion, toning down a too pink skin, brightening a darker one and bestowing an evenness of color.

Check the Closets

Now's the time to check your wardrobe against what's at the cleaners or in storage. That winter coat will be of mighty little comfort if it's unavailable on that first bitter-cold day which is bound to show up in the near future.

Many Roads Terminate in Wisdom

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There are many roads to wisdom, and they are traveled by many kinds of people.

* * *

Anybody who works hard at his job, whatever it is, does it cheerfully and conscientiously, comes into a kind of wisdom which he might not recognize as such, but which is worthy of Plato.

For example, there's a woman I know who runs a beauty shop.

For years she was a hardworking operator. But she saved her money and eventually opened her own place.

She still works hard, doing all purchasing, management, appointment-making, hiring, but her shop has a serene, pleasant atmosphere.

NO TANTRUMS

I commented on this once and mentioned that, in all the years I had been going there, I had never heard her customers complain or blow their tops — as they do in other shops.

"I always wanted my own shop to be different," she explained.

"I decided that, while I have no control whatever over the kind of women who come in, I have perfect control over how they are received.

"I treat them all as if they were perfect ladies, incapable of criticism or temper tantrums. And so help me, they've always played the part. Even though," she added with a twinkle in her eye, "I understand some of them were such hellions that they were kicked out of all the other shops."

We have no control over what comes into our shops or our lives, but every control over the reception we give it.

Many saints and mystics have learned that, in monasteries or on mountain tops, but my friend learned it in a beauty shop.

OTHER WOMEN

Then there are two other women, readers of mine over a period of several years.

Both suffered broken legs. One of them used the six-month period in bed to become a permanently embittered woman. The other used the same period to learn to draw.

The first one is up and around, grumbling and miserable. The second one, fascinated with her new hobby, is starting a drawing class for boys and girls.

The same thing happened to both women, the difference is in the way they received it.

If you would like to increase your wisdom, begin now to find work you love.

For help in finding it, send me a stamped, self-addressed envelope in care of The Pontiac Press, and I'll send you my pamphlet, "Pointers on Finding Your Basic Interest."

Add Sparkle to Precious Diamonds

Millions of women own diamonds—and most of those who don't live in hope. But how many diamond owners know how to take care of them so as to enjoy to the utmost their unique beauty?

Their brilliance can be dulled by grease, soap, dust and perspiration. So, to keep them beautiful, it's essential to keep them clean.

Once or twice a year, take your diamonds to your jeweler for a professional, expert cleaning. While he cleans them, he can also check them for loose prongs.

He'll repair safety catches, if need be, and generally make sure that your diamonds don't work loose from the setting.

HOME CARE

But between trips to the jewelers, you can keep your diamonds sparkling. Pour three parts of hot water and one part ammonia into a small glass bowl. (A solution of soap or detergent in hot water will also work.)

Let the diamonds soak in this for a few minutes. Put the bowl out of reach if you've a baby around.

After the soaking, brush the diamonds with a small, soft, clean brush. Clean the back of the stone, too.

Rinse off by holding them under running warm water and place them on tissue paper to dry.

Correct Care for Fruit Stains

A pundit once said that the best way to minimize fresh fruit stains on table linens was to avoid staining them in the first place . . . but stains do occur.

Most of them, you'll be happy to know, can be removed from white cottons and linens by pouring boiling water from a height of three to four feet — through the stain. (If stains persist, a chlorine bleach can be used.)

Removal then becomes complete when linens are machine - laundered in "all" (the product's potent new whitener is "custom-tailored" for such cases). But be sure to remove the stains before laundering, as the alkaline element in soaps and detergents may "set" fruit stains. . .

Fabric Mixing Is Popular Now

NEW YORK (NEA) — The business of mixing fabrics has turned into an exact science. It takes real genius, these days, to tell at a touch what a fabric is.

When you're out shopping, therefore, the best way to judge a fashion for performance is to consult a tag.

This will tell you what the fabric is, if it can be laundered or should be drycleaned and if it's been treated for water resistance.

'Pleasure Cult' Results in Anxiety

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

When Andy was late to school twice too often, his mother had to explain his tardiness. The boy, she told his third grade teacher, liked watching TV.

Because he enjoyed it so much, he enjoyed staying up long past bedtime. Inevitably, this pleasure in late bedtime had developed pleasure in late rising which was making Andy late for school.

Listening to this excuse, Andy's teacher felt passionate resentment of his mother's reverence for his pleasure.

Yet this summer, she herself spent many weeks studying the latest method for making reading lessons pleasurable to James.

Indeed, she is continually seeking new ways to wheedle learning effort from him just as anxiously as his mother seeks new ways to wheedle proper bedtime from him.

ALL TERRIFIED

How foolish are parents and teachers to resent each other! Today, we're all terrified of displeasing children. The trouble is, we only see the universal fear's effect on the other fellow.

* * *

Parents see only that teachers want to spare children the lonely work of learning to think, to read and do sums.

Teachers see only that we're afraid of imposing lonely lessons in promptness, order, perseverance.

If we could all begin to see how fear of imposing any unpleasant effort on children is our common problem, we could begin to work it out in mutual sympathy instead of mutual distrust.

This cult of pleasure is comparatively recent in America. Otherwise, we'd have no America. The shivering soldiers of General Washington's Continental Army would simply have walked away from the unpleasantness at Valley Forge.

Before venturing West, our pioneers would have required that all roads be paved, all Indians guaranteed friendly. Instead, they accepted the unpleasurable—and produced a nation.

LURE OF GOLD

Their example kept us straight for some time. Then something went wrong. I think it happened when people starting seeking America, not to secure their dignity and freedom, but to share in that gold of her gold-paved streets.

Of our pleasure-worship's effect on education, psychoanalyst Erich Fromm told me recently: "The school problem is not method but the child's attitude toward the book. With a book, he is left alone to find nourishment in it for himself.

"But today, he is not trained to find nourishment for himself. He is accustomed to being coaxed to eat food for his brain as well as food for his body."

The result is anxiety—the inevitable tensions that build up in us when undemanding treatment denies us release of energy.

The first international Postal Congress was held in Switzerland in 1874.

Photographer Finds Men More Vain Than Women

By RUTH MILLETT

"Men are much more vain than women," a photographer who specializes in taking men's pictures recently confided to me.

"And," she continued, "the most difficult men to photograph are middle-aged men.

"That is because they want the impossible. They want to look as young and handsome as they looked in their 20s. But they also want to have 'character' in their faces.

"Take out the lines that make them look middle-aged and you also take out the lines that give character and distinction to their faces. It's impossible to give them all they ask for.

"Women aren't such a problem. Make a woman look a little prettier than she sees herself in a mirror, or make her look a little younger than she is and she is happy. "She'll settle for that—and never mind whether her face has 'character.'"

MORE REALISTIC

Maybe the reason women are easier than men to photograph is simply because women are more realistic about their looks.

Early in life women accept their faults and do everything in their power to play them down and to play up their good features. Their hair styles, their makeup and their clothes are all chosen with their face and figure faults in mind.

They spend a lot of time before their mirrors, so they know full well what changes the years have made. No woman, for instance, grows gray suddenly. She knows when she gets her first gray hairs.

But a man will often be startled to discover that he is quite gray—as though the change had come on overnight.

That is probably why it is much more of a shock for a man to see a photograph of himself than for a woman to see how she looks to the eye of a camera.

Football, Exams Rank First at MSU This Weekend

Rally Will Whip Up Spirit for Game With Wisconsin

Students Await Grade Results After Taking Their Midterm Tests

By VICKY MICU

EAST LANSING — Football and midterm exams rank as top news from Michigan State University this week. Still smarting from the upset at the hands of Illinois last Saturday, the Spartans of MSU will seek sweet revenge tomorrow at Macklin Stadium where they will take on the University of Wisconsin.

The student body, hoping to help boost the team, will hold a pep rally tonight at the band shell. Following the rally, an all-campus dance, stag and drag, will be held in the auditorium.

Last week and this students and faculty have been concerned with midterm exams for this fall term. Midterm grades will be compiled in the various departments Tuesday, and soon after the news will be sent to anxious parents.

The big event after the game Saturday will be the Varsity Club Dance, an informal affair to be held in the Union from 9 p.m. to midnight.

Thirty thousand buttons urging "Let's All Vote" have been distributed this week to MSU students. Wednesday was designated as "Voting Emphasis Day" by East Lansing Mayor Max R. Stroher. Members of the Circle K Club and the East Lansing Kiwanis Club sponsored the affair designed to stress the importance of voting.

OPERAS SLATED

Monday and Tuesday the New York Opera Company will be on the campus of MSU performing the operas, "Die Fledermas" and "Susannah," in the MSU lecture-concert series.

The 1956-57 Campus Chest drive will have an early kickoff tonight with "Penny Night." State coeds will be able to extend their dates to 1 a.m., one hour past the regular weekend closing hours.

The only provision is that the coeds must pay one penny for each minute they stay out past 1 a.m. The money from "Penny Night" will be given to the Campus Chest, which will begin its official campaign Wednesday.

Thirteen per cent of the profits from the Campus Chest will go toward muscular dystrophy and cancer societies. The rest goes toward other charitable organizations.

Senior Verne N. Vackaro of St. Clair street was among the 165 all-A students from spring and summer terms recently lauded by MSU President John A. Hannah for their outstanding scholastic achievements. Faith H. Hotchkin, sophomore from Pontiac, was also honored.

Kitchen Harmony

Plain colors are often used in a kitchen, explain the specialists, because they look clean and go well with white and light-colored equipment and appliances. The whole kitchen may be papered if the wall spaces are large, but when wall spaces are small, it is wise to keep them plain to prevent a spotty appearance.

White nylon lingerie should always be washed with white things only.

A subtle hint is what is being thrown to Michigan State University sophomore Wayne Pyke of State avenue from coeds Barbara Wilkinson (left) and Bernice McLean. The occasion is the Varsity Club dance which will be held Saturday evening as a topper to the MSU-Wisconsin football game festivities. Barbara, who is a sophomore, lives on Glendale avenue, and Bernice, a freshman, resides on Elizabeth Lake avenue.

Should Pair Repay Boss for Drinks?

Lift Your Glasses and Nod to Display Appreciation

By EMILY POST

"The other night my fiance and I were at a supper club. While we were there, my employer came in with his wife and sat at a table not far from ours. During the course of the evening my employer ordered two drinks sent over to our table.

"I would like to know if my fiance (or I) should have gone over to thank him, or just how should we have showed our appreciation. Also, would it have been proper for my fiance to order drinks sent to their table in return? I would appreciate hearing from you on this matter."

Answer: You both should have lifted your glasses and nodded when he was glancing your way so that he could see your appreciation, and that's all. The next day you would thank him at the office.

"Dear Mrs. Post: You have always said that, correctly, a widow should be addressed by her husband's name. However, in the case of a widow who calls herself Mrs. Mary Smith, is it still correct to address her as Mrs. John Smith even though she herself does not use this name?"

Answer: Although she is incorrect, you would be very impolite should you call her by a name other than the one she uses.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My fiance and I intend to take a motor trip shortly. My aunt, who is a widow, is going to accompany us and act as chaperon. I would like to know if it is up to me to assume her expenses, or does she pay her own way?"

Answer: You should assume her expenses if you possibly can.

Kitchen Tile Installation Colorful and Economical

NEW YORK (INS) — You can keep up with the trend toward color in the kitchen by installing small tiles instead of large appliances.

You may not want to invest in a yellow refrigerator or a turquoise stove, but for $30 you can buy ceramic tile and design your own kitchen color scheme.

"Contrary to popular opinion," said Anthony Donato, vice president of a tile supply firm, "tiling actually is comparatively cheap.

"For as little as $30 the appearance of a kitchen can be enhanced with a panel above a sink and drain or for about $300 a whole kitchenette can be built with the most colorful and best tile in any one of scores of colors, combinations and designs. Aside from the initial low cost, it lasts forever."

As proof of the durability of tile Donato pointed to excavations in Egypt, notably in the Steppe Pyramids, where tile used in 3,000 B.C. is as good today as when it was installed.

Tile is still primarily used in the bathroom and kitchen these days, but it also can be found in a number of rooms in the most modern homes—as mantels, panels, walling for patios, halls, play rooms and basements.

Nylon lingerie with delicate lace can be protected during machine washing by being put in a pillow case or net bag.

Folding Table Aids in Work of Housewives

A useful item is a drop leaf metal table which folds up to bridge table size for easy storage, and has a side handle for carrying about the house.

It's ideal in the laundry room for sorting and folding clothes, will give additional counter space in the kitchen, serves as a handy buffet table, and has a million other uses in the nursery, sickroom and sewing room.

This type of table is practical, too, because it's built to withstand lots of hard wear and tear.

The marble-patterned top resists acid and alcohol spills, is impervious to burns, and can be washed with hot soap or detergent suds.

Use Astringent on Oily Skin

Frequent cleansing is an oily skin "must." When sebaceous oil is allowed to dry on the face it attracts dirt and grime, plugs the pore openings. Ugly blackheads and eruptions are a sure result.

Don't rely on a two-a-day sudsing or creaming.

Rather, give the entire face a frequent going over with a cleansing pad or plain wash cloth soaked in good quality witch hazel. In addition to removing the accumulated oil and dirt, there's a gentle astringent action.

Under this fall's furry hats, hair should be lustrous. This means getting out the hairbrush and applying it to the hair with vigor, for at least one hundred strokes a day.

THE BLONDE DIED DANCING

by KELLEY ROOS

SYNOPSIS

Connie Barton's suspicions were aroused by her husband's clumsy excuses for his regular Wednesday night absences. She trailed Steve to a private dance studio and then realized he was taking dancing lessons as a pleasant surprise for her. Keeping herself unnoticed, Connie watched the door of the studio till Steve left, and went in for a private word with his teacher. She found the instructor, Anita Farrell, sprawled on the floor—shot dead. In the corpse's hand was a silhouette of herself. Confused, Connie's first thought was to cover up for Steve. She grabbed the silhouette and the appointment book at the unattended reception desk outside and went home to confront Steve. She had to believe his assertions of his innocence.

Police promptly got the names of all Miss Farrell's pupils and began checking to identify the 7 p.m. Wednesday waltzer. When Lieut. Bolling asked Steve his lesson time, Steve said 3 o'clock Saturday. From the stolen appointment book Steve took the lesson time of a Ralph Tolley whom Bolling hasn't contacted—yet.

With a plan in mind to save Steve, Connie is about to be interviewed by Oliver Bell, the proprietor of the dance school.

Chapter 7

Oliver Bell rose from behind the half acre of shining mahogany that was his desk and regarded me with somber brown eyes that almost matched his tie, suit and socks. He was a handsome man in his middle forties. His hair was dark and thick. The wave in it was carefully nurtured. His clothing, everything within reaching distance of him, was pin neat.

Even his charm was tidy. There was just the right amount of it at the right time. Here was a man whom elderly ladies probably doted upon, matrons admired and ingenues adored. I could see why the Crescent School of Dancing was such a tremendous success.

He smiled at me. "You wish to join our faculty?"

"Yes, Mr. Bell."

"And your name is . . ."

I didn't bother him with the detail that I was Connie Barton, the Waltzer's wife. I had a big, black lie all ready for him.

I said, "My name is Hester Frost."

"Hester." He sounded relieved, as though he had been afraid that all of my type blondes would be named Bubbles St. Claire. "Are you married, Hester?"

I lowered my eyes. "Not yet, sir."

"How old are you, Hester?"

I raised my eyes defiantly. "Twenty-three."

He seemed to believe me; I began to like him. He said, "Have you had any experience in teaching dancing?"

"Well," I said, "to be perfectly honest, very little." I smiled modestly. "But I have four brothers and I taught them all to dance and they're all wonderful dancers. At least, everybody raves about their dancing, to be perfectly honest."

"That's a good recommendation." He shot me two ounces of his sedate charm. "Many of our students are brothers," he said, twinkling.

I laughed. But gently, to show him that, although I had enough sense of humor to appreciate his, I was also very well bred.

He said, "You know, Hester, I like to think of us as a family institution . . . all brothers and sisters, fathers and mothers, aunts and uncles, all learning to dance for our pleasure and health."

He stepped to a panel on the wall and turned a knob over the words FOX TROT. Music seeped into the room. He came to me.

"Shall we dance?" he said.

"Why, I'd love to, Mr. Bell."

This was hardly true. This was one dance that I would have given ten years of my life to sit out. But I rose and did my best to float into his arms.

We danced. We fox-trotted. Mr. Bell switched the music dial and we waltzed. Then, after another flick of the dial, Mr. Bell was leading me through a rhumba. By the time were writhing into a samba, I had regained enough poise to realize that I was indeed dancing with a dancing master.

"Mr. Bell," I said, "you dance divinely!"

"Thank you," he said. His voice took on an inspirational tone. "And you know, I had to learn! Many people ask me if I were born dancing. No, I had to learn . . . and I didn't learn until I was an adult."

"One is never too old," I said bitterly, "to learn to dance."

"Exactly. And when my wife saw the pleasure dancing afforded me, she insisted our three sons learn. But we couldn't afford that." Mr. Bell chuckled. "Mrs. Bell said it would be cheaper to start a school of our own and so we did."

"Seriously?"

"No, not seriously. But it was Mrs. Bell who inspired this school."

"She must be a wonderful woman."

"Yes, she was."

"Oh, I'm sorry."

"It was a long time ago. How proud she'd be of our three boys. They're all grown up and in college now."

"All three in college! Where?"

"Harvard," Mr. Bell said, "Yale and Princeton."

"Well! And where did you go to school, Mr. Bell?"

"Arthur Murray's," Mr. Bell said.

Now we were waltzing again, and I began to feel that I had surely made the grade and the job was mine. Mr. Bell seemed to be enjoying dancing with me. Then I noticed that he seemed to be enjoying himself too much. He didn't have to hold me this tight. This cheek-to-cheek business, for instance . . . and then, really, after all!

I put one foot behind his heels and gave him a push. He was surprised indeed. But before I could speak the words of a woman outraged, he was smiling at me and he and his sedate charm were back once more on their feet.

"Hester," he said, "you have passed both tests. Not only the dancing test, but the character test. I am sure that you will keep any overly amorous pupil in his place. I'm sure that you would never encourage this sort of thing."

"No, sir, not during business hours," I said, and added quickly, "nor after business hours. Emphatically, Mr. Bell."

"Fine. This is one of our most important rules here. We never, no matter how much we are urged, make dates with our students. We never see them except in the studio. That applies also to the faculty members of the opposite sex. We remember that this is a place of business, not a social club for boys to meet girls. Romance is a beautiful thing, Hester, and I approve of it heartily. But it can undermine and demoralize a business institution such as this one."

"I promise," I said, "not to fall in love with any pupil or teacher."

"Fine." Then his charm evaporated and he was a troubled man. "You undoubtedly know," he said, "about our tragedy of last evening."

"I read about it," I admitted.

"A terrible thing. My school in all its eighteen years has never been touched by even the breath of scandal. I have guarded its reputation with all my strength. And that, Hester, has been the key to my success."

"Yes, sir."

"I am fortunate in having an uncanny ability to judge character. I know, for instance, that you are exactly the sort of person we want on our faculty."

"I'm sorry I proved it to you so violently. Did I hurt you?"

"Not at all, and please don't apologize. It was gratifying to me that you have so much strength of conviction. I have never before been knocked completely off my feet. Now . . . where was I?"

"You have an uncanny ability to judge character."

"Yes, I do. I interview every single person who wishes to enroll with us as a student and my only slip in all these years was when I accepted the monster who was Miss Farrell's pupil last evening at seven o'clock."

"The monster?"

"Miss Farrell's murderer. I failed to detect in him the depravity which he displayed here at seven o'clock."

"Oh. You mean it was . . . an act of passion?"

"What else?"

"My goodness!"

"And I failed to detect that in my interview with him."

"Oh." I tried to keep my voice steady. "You remember interviewing him, then? You . . . remember who he is?"

Tomorrow, in the arms of a dancing partner, Connie spots a promising clue. Don't miss the next installment.

Don Craig, nationally known conductor, will appear in Pontiac Monday, with the Pontiac High School Vocal Department. Craig will direct the 750 vocalists in their annual fall music festival.

Mrs. Doreen Voltmann and Ed Banghart are assisting George Putnam in preparations for this year's production.

The concert is the first of a series which are dedicated to the Golden Anniversary Celebration of the Music Educators National Conference. The concert will continue to keep the informal character as displayed in the past.

Selections which the combined Glee Clubs and choir will sing reach into all types of great choral literature, and include oratorio selections, spirituals, anthems and popular songs.

In addition to the nine massed numbers which the combined groups will sing under Craig's baton, the program has additional selections by large organizations.

The combined girls' glee clubs, which will be conducted by Mrs. Voltmann, will sing "Sanctus," and "Wonderful Copenhagen." The four boys' glee clubs will join their voices in "Pale in the Amber West," and "It's a Whale of a Tale," with Banghart directing.

The A Capella Choir has selected, "O, Sing Your Songs," "In Silent Night," and "Send Forth Thy Spirit."

The popular song "Autumn Leaves," and "In the Still of the Night," will be offered by the Senior Girls Ensemble.

Other groups appearing will be the Junior Girls Ensemble and the Senior Boys Ensemble.

In the Future Nurses Club meeting this week a report on the annual Future Nurses State Rally was given. The rally was held last month in Grand Rapids.

Election of officers for the coming year was held, also. Two executive officers out of three for the state association were from Pontiac.

Elected were: Barbara Fletcher, president (Cooley High, Detroit) Delores Gustavson, vice president (Pontiac); Jovita Benevides, Secretary-treasurer (Pontiac).

There were five members of the PHS Future Nurses Club at the state rally, three candidates for offices and two delegates.

Plans for the Mothers' Tea, Nov. 14, were discussed and the program was announced.

Club officers were recently elected and committees were appointed this week. Frances Kamachos is president; Carolyn Leacher, vice president; Delores Gustavson, secretary; Edwina Palmer, corresponing secretary. Mrs. Agnes Buckley is the adviser.

At the Art Club meeting yesterday, plans for some money making projects were discussed. It was decided that efforts will be spent on advertising posters.

The club has been working on silver jewelry lately.

Jean Lucas advises the club of over twenty members. President of the Art Club is Sue Elwell, assisted by Sharon Grahm, vice president; Sharon Coon, secretary; Jean Gordon, treasurer.

Student Council will sponsor another dance tonight after our last home football game of the season. The boys gym will be decorated for the occasion. The theme for the decorations will be a fall setting.

Area Students to Attend College Night

Annual College Night at Walled Lake High School for area high school representatives is on this week's agenda for county high schoolers.

AT WALLED LAKE

Plans have been completed for the annual College Night to be held at the Walled Lake Senior High School on Thursday.

Representatives of more than 24 colleges mostly located in Michigan, the faculty chairman of the area high schools, and the student assistants will meet for dinner at 5:30 p.m.

Provisions have been made for browsing periods during which students and their parents may visit various rooms, note the displays, and pick up pertinent literature concerning the schools. One of these periods precedes the first of the two closed sessions from 6:45 to 7:30 and the other follows at 9:05.

At 7:30 and again at 8:20 they will have an opportunity to hear a brief lecture by the representative of the college of the student's choice, receive information, and have questions answered.

AT LAKE ORION

Tonight's game of the week is at home. After four games away the students are looking forward to an evening of football topped off by a stop at the youth center.

Y Teens who had their initiation recently had their first meeting of all the members yesterday. They are preparing to act as hostesses in all the rooms on Nov. 13, which is open house.

The Future Homemakers are busy checking comparative costs of making refreshments for the PTA open house, or purchasing them. Student Council members will act as guides.

A delegation from the Future Teachers Club, which is one of the oldest in the state, is attending the conference at Ypsilanti this Saturday. Jennie McGuffy is the sponsor, and will accompany them.

Seniors still have a few pins to sell to help finance their school trip in May; and the O Club have pennants to sell to help finance their athletic program.

AT AVONDALE

Big topic of discussion at Avondale this week is the senior play which will be presented Wednesday, at 8 p.m. in the high school gym.

Jackie Pyle is featured in the lead role of "Books and Crooks," a three act comedy by Newt Mitzman and William Dalzell. Jackie plays a double role of a high school principal and his look-alike, a bank robber.

The bank robber hides out in the school after a job and takes the principals place. A state of confusion reigns over the school as the crook throws his money around, allows the students to run wild, and charms the principal's secretary.

Linda Burt is cast in the role of the secretary with Bob Snyder playing the part of the crook's dumb henchman.

Others in the play include Marcia Pease, Ken Sheehy, Janice Lane, and Tom Galloway. Don Davis, Bob Smith, Joanne Frandowski, and Betty Newby round out the cast of eleven.

The annual Halloween celebration and Lion's Club flare night took place Wednesday night. The dance and talent show which was held at the American Legion Hall was a sparkling success.

St. Fred Group Elects

By MARGARET DRAKE

St. Frederick High School Sodality met on Tuesday with the entire student body in attendance.

Election of officers was held with Michael Moloney being named Prefect. Others elected were: Vice Prefect, Marie Lewandowski; secretary, Pat Foster; recording secretary, Donald Landry.

Donald Pulver, junior classman, leaves early tomorrow morning to make his home in California. Don has been especially active in Junior Achievement and the St. Frederick Choral group.

Choral members began rehearsal for the Christmas Concert by electing officers for the 1956-1957 season. Those elected were: president, Bill Price; vice president, Marie Lewandowski; secretary, Pat Smith; treasurer, Mike Moloney.

Several students of the high school attended Sodality Day on Saturday at the University of Detroit.

Senior class was given a lecture by Dr. Maurice Thome as a part of the vocational guidance series being conducted for them this year.

Mock Elections Today

Pontiac High School students held a mock election today. The polls were open all day for students to cast their ballots. Approximately 70 per cent of the students registered to vote in the election.

Eskimo Cookery Lists Rare (Ugh) Dishes

Is your taste for conventional foods becoming jaded?

Then perhaps you'd like a snack of soured seal liver? Or how about some ptarmigan small intestines? Or bear feet?

Of course you'd relish a heaping helping of cooked blubber. And how about topping the meal off with some Eskimo ice cream that contains grated reindeer tallow?

These authentic dishes come from recipes which Eskimo children of Shishmaref Day School of Shishmaref, Alaska, have assembled, says Northwest Orient Airlines. The youngsters, for the most part, got their recipes from their mothers; and these recipes have been gathered together in a little booklet—price 60 cents postpaid—which is being marketed by the Alaska Crippled Children's Association of Anchorage.

Now for that soured seal liver for which you have been drooling. Here's the recipe a little girl discloses:

"Soured seal liver is made in the summer time. Place liver in enamel pot or dish and cover with blubber. Put in warm place for a few days until sour."

Then she adds: Most of the boys and girls don't like it, except the grownups and old people. I don't like it either."

Bear feet are considered quite a delicacy by those who—well, by those who hanker for bear feet.

"Most of the people like the bear feet better than the meat," confides another little girl. "We cook them, add salt. Four feet would take about one teaspoon salt. Take them out of the pot and let them cool. Eat them with seal oil."

ICE CREAM RECIPE

The Eskimo ice cream goes like this:

"Grate reindeer tallow into small pieces. Add seal oil slowly while beating with hand. After some seal oil has been used, then add a little water while whipping. Continue adding seal oil and water until white and fluffy. Any berries can be added to it.

One of the purposes of the cookbook, say its sponsors, is to dispel the idea that the only dish an Eskimo serves is blubber. That's wrong. There are lots of other items on the menu. Like:

"Buegfakuk—we find them by mountain side. It's hard to find them, but we find them by the grass. They are fine to eat. They're little different than salmon berries. They are red. We pick them up and eat them."

"Sue'wok, or dried salmon eggs and berries. When the salmon eggs have dried, put in a dish and mash them. Mix with cold water and seal oil until smooth. Add black berries when you are ready to serve."

"Pickniek, or mouse food. Some people dig pickniek. They are a plant. They wash them first. We eat them with seal oil. They are good. They taste like sugar. They are very good with seal oil. Maybe the white men don't like them."

"Owl. Take feathers off owl. Clean owl and put in cooking pot. Have lots of water in pot. Salt to taste."

There also are recipes for cooking ducks, loon, rabbits, ptarmigan, squirrel and other game.

Now and then reference is made to a "poke." The seal poke is obtained in this way: "The inside of the seal, together with the head and all is cut and taken out through the head part of the seal. The skin is then turned, cleaned and blown up for drying. This is then used to put the meats, berries, leaves and other foods in for storing in winter."

Yes, Eskimo cookery is quite extensive.

And don't expect to eat in an igloo.

Eskimos, it is explained, don't live in igloos, but in permanent houses built of driftwood and sod. The igloos are only made when they "camp out."

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR: JUNIOR EDITORS

PETER'S PUMPKIN HOUSE

In a castle near Peter's bakery lived a wizard who knew the secret of growing gigantic pumpkins. Sometimes the king's horses and the king's men would drag one down for Peter to use.

One day they brought down a particularly fine one. After scraping out the pulp for pies, Peter cut a door opening and two small windows in the front. He built a chimney on one side, painted the walls inside and planted flowers in the garden. When it was finished it was the neatest, prettiest little house in the land.

When you color this picture with your crayons remember that it is to fit on to yesterday's scene, so match the wall, sky and sidewalk. Paste it down on cardboard, and then cut it out carefully. Cut out the window openings and the top of the door.

Paste the left edge over the right edge of yesterday's picture at the dot and dash line. Now the pumpkin house and Peter will stand up at right angles to each other. Save these for tomorrow and we'll add Peter's wife.

(Junior Editors $10 award goes to Viola Miller, Muncie, Ind. for sending in this suggestion first. If you have an idea send it in care of this newspaper. Violet Moore Higgins; AP Newsfeatures.)

Dies of Crash Injuries

OTSEGO (AP)—Ray C. Livingston, 62, of Otsego died Wednesday night at Bronson Hospital of injuries suffered in a truck crash. Police said he was injured Saturday night when his truck apparently went out of control and overturned on a rural road just northwest of Otsego.

Dutch railway stations now are equipped with umbrellas for passengers to rent if caught in the rain—for about 15 cents a day—The Hague reports.

Pot-O-Gold Fun May Bring You Check for $400

If you consider $400 satisfactory compensation for a few minutes spent having a good time, you have now found a suitable pastime. The Pot-O-Gold contestant who submits the correct entry will receive that amount, and more if he's a subscriber. (It's worth at least $100, even if a winner is found for last week's puzzle.) Rules and clues listed below should help you in finding the right answers and assuring a qualified entry. Your time is wasted if a breach of rules disqualifies you.

The puzzle consists of (1) a number of circles which contain a few scrambled letters, and (2) a corresponding list of clues to these words printed below. The object is to arrange each group of circled letters into a word that best fits its clue. The word which you select for Circle No. 1, then would be the one which you would print in the space to the right of (1) below.

You'll notice that some circles contain $ signs in pots of gold. You may use such a symbol as any letter you wish. However, it and all letters in that circle must be used. The $ sign, of course, can represent ANY letter in the word.

Do the same in all the other circles. Study the clues carefully and arrange all the letters into words that you believe best conforms to these clues. Use your $ signs to help you spell out the right words.

OFFICIAL CONTEST RULES

1. Anyone is eligible to enter the POT-O-GOLD contest with the exception of Pontiac Press employes or their immediate families.

2. A contestant may submit as many entries as he or she wishes but they must be on official entry blanks printed in this newspaper.

3. To submit an entry the contestant must print his answer words in the proper spaces, cut out the area enclosed by dotted lines and attach it securely to a 2-cent postcard. No entries will be accepted if they are in envelopes. Entries for Puzzle No. 22 must bear a Tuesday, Nov. 6, postmark (or before). No entries received after that time, whether mailed or delivered by hand, will be declared eligible. The Press is not responsible for entries lost or delayed in the mail.

4. Sorry, telephone calls or mail concerning details of the contest cannot be answered or acknowledged.

5. The Pontiac Press will award a cash prize of $100 a week to the winner of each weekly POT-O-GOLD contest. If more than one winning answer is received the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If any week or weeks should pass without any winners, the prize will be added weekly until a winning solution is submitted.

6. Winners will be awarded an extra cash bonus of $25 each if they are Pontiac Press subscribers of record on the day winners are announced. Only one such bonus can be awarded to each prize-winner, no matter how many weekly prizes may accumulate.

7. Each week's puzzle will be published Monday, Wednesday and Friday until the contest's end. Either or all will be considered as official entry blanks.

8. Winners and correct solutions will be announced each Friday of the week following individual contests. Official keeper of answers will be Frederick C. Ziem, prosecutor for Oakland County. Only the General Features Corp., originators of the puzzles, will know the solutions until after each contest is over. Answers will be delivered to the Press judges by Mr. Ziem after the final deadline.

9. There is only one correct solution to the POT-O-GOLD puzzle, and only that correct answer can win. The decision of the judges is final and all contestants agree to abide by the judges' decision. All entries become the property of The Pontiac Press and none can be returned.

10. Completed puzzles must be addressed to POT-O-GOLD POST OFFICE BOX 58, Pontiac, Michigan. Winners will be notified either by telephone or in the mails.

Scared North Viet Nam 'Liberalizes' Its Rule

HONG KONG — North Viet Nam's Communist rulers, apparently fearful of repercussions from the anti-Red revolts in Eastern Europe, today promised a sweeping liberalization of their regime. The program looked good on paper.

A communique broadcast by Hanoi radio said the Communist North's first elections will be held in 1957, "enabling the people further to participate in management of the state and control of the administration."

The broadcast said an extraordinary meeting of the Council of Ministers presided over by President Ho Chi Minh also decided:

1. "To readjust and develop the democratic organs of the people."

2. To give new powers to the present puppet National Assembly appointed 10 years ago.

3. "To ensure the people's democratic rights and strengthen the basis of democratic legality."

4. To pass new laws guarenteeing greater freedom of movement and speech.

5. To improve living conditions of workers through "a more reasonable wage system."

The government which rules some 12½ million people in the northern half of war-divided Viet Nam admited "grave mistakes and present difficulties."

North Viet Nam was the first Asian Communist nation to act since the rebellion against communism in Hungary and against Soviet control in Poland.

Since Viet Nam was divided into a Communist North and free South in 1954, the north has often been reported in economic difficulties.

The Reds admitted their much-publicized agrarian reform program was on the rocks and blamed two of its leaders, Ho Viet Thamg and Le Van Luong. Both were fired.

Eden in Trouble for Suez Attack

Laborites Stir Up Fuss, Press to Find Way Out of Situation

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden came under increasing pressure today to find a face-saving way out of the hostilities against Egypt.

Britain's organized labor movement launched a nationwide "stop the war" campaign with the announcement of a massive rally Sunday in London's Trafalgar Square. Protest meetings in a score of other major cities will follow.

Individual union members talked openly of staging protest strikes which could seriously hamper the campaign to seize the Suez Canal zone. The rumblings persisted despite a statement by Sir Thomas Williamson, chairman of the giant Trades Union Congress, that the TUC "will not countenance unofficial industrial action."

After bitter debate in the House of Commons, Eden won four votes of confidence on the government's action in the Middle East. But the voting — ranging from 324-255 to 320-253 — was on strict party lines, and London newspapers estimated that at least 30 of the prime minister's own Conservative followers in the House felt he made a mistake in acting outside the United Nations.

Auto Victim's Father Appeals for Safe Driving

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Speeders and drunken drivers got this advice yesterday from a bereaved father:

"Please think and drive carefully. May God bless you and save our children.

"If you speed or drink while driving, I think your license should be revoked forever . . ."

The letter in the Fort Lauderdale Daily News was from M. V. Chaney. Chaney's 14-year-old son Roger and another boy were killed Aug. 25 by an automobile that overran their motor scooter.

JACKSON (AP)—Two University of Michigan engineering professors have made preliminary reports to Consumers Power Co. on their probe of the company's building collapse Oct. 3. The chairman of a six-man investigating team appointed by Gov. Williams, Dean George G. Brown of the UM Engineering college, said it may take six months to study all reports on the 10-death disaster for possible legislative recommendations.

Wayne Heads for Rome and Belated Honeymoon

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — When I called my friend John Wayne to check up on Warner Brothers having bought the Luke Short novel, "The Cliff," for him, I discovered him leaving for New York Saturday night.

He's headed for Rome and a belated honeymoon with Pilar, then to Tripoli where he'll meet Henry Fonda and start "Timbuctoo."

Duke, who has just finished "Wings of the Eagle" for MGM, told me that before he even thinks about "The Cliff" he'll have to wind up "Timbuctoo," then do one of his three promised films for 20th Century-Fox, plus another he's promised United Artists.

"Guess I'll have to give up my paper route," John laughed.

I suspect there's more than meets my eye in Mark Robson and F. Hugh Herbert, who co-produced "The Little Hut," putting Walter Chiari under personal contract.

Walter is the tall, dark and athletic Italian who makes his debut in that production, and I know that on the continent he stars in his own musical reviews and is called a "Young Chevalier."

Just the same, I'll wager that Mark and Hugh bringing Chiari over here next spring is a charmingly baited trap to bring Ava Gardner here, too. Ava found him very, very attractive during this MGM picture's shooting, and the screen results, I hear, are hot and hilarious.

RANCH HOLIDAY

Richard Conte will be eating his Thanksgiving turkey on an Imperial Valley ranch—and with good appetite. That's because the day before he starts his best role in a long time in "The Brothers Rico" on location up there.

Even if the part is another racketeer, of which Dick has had more than his share, he's pleased that he won it because of a high comedy performance opposite Judy Holliday in "Full of Life."

Now Columbia says the search is on to find a "sexy girl who can act" to portray his wife. One "fuller of life," maybe?

Everybody's getting into the act of being an independent producer. Newest is Tom Ewell who, smack from under the noses of his bosses at 20th Century-Fox, bought the rights to "Facts of Love" on which they were bidding.

This is a just-published novel by Stanley Baron, concerning a meek little man simultaneously in love with a worldly Parisian girl and a simple English lass.

Tom put over his coup by promising Baron he'd have a play made out of the book first, then a movie. Philip Langner, Lawrence Langner's son, will produce it on Broadway.

What slays 20th, where Tommy is winding up "A Girl Can't Help It" with Jayne Mansfield, is that he's using the wages they paid him to finance the deal!

MacDonald Carey, now on tour in the South before civic groups for his TV show, "Dr. Christian," stops off in New York before returning home to discuss the film version of "Anniversary Waltz," in which he starred on Broadway.

Rory Calhoun replaced Bob Crosby on TV's spectacular "Shower of Stars," and warbled "Mutual Admiration Society" with Mary Costa. This is the first time I ever knew he could so much as carry a tune.

Buying dinner for pretty Paula Raymond at Art Williams' Eldorado was publisher Mike McCausland.

Earl Borrows Jewels Like TV, Movie Stars

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Donning a diamond gardenia and my favorite European accent, I went to the Metropolitan Opera opening recently to prove that men can traipse around nowadays in borrowed jewelry just as much as women TV stars do.

Glistening in a $10,000 "Windsor Rose" for my lapel, borrowed from Otto Grun, I also lit up my shirt front spectacularly with $1,000 worth of star-shaped studs and links borrowed from Ostier. Why not? Today when a woman celebrity doesn't borrow something to wear, she ain't gonna wear anything.

"You're wearing falsies!" was the salutation of Hope Hampton, Meyer Davis, Mr. John and other alleged friends when they beheld me and the diamond gardenia blazing from my lapel.

"Fake!" they cried, deeming that I had on phonies.

"Very pretty!" exclaimed Marlene Dietrich, Lily Pons, Mrs. Ben Grauer and others of exquisite taste who knew better. We were sitting now in the luxurious expanse of the Louis Sherry restaurant which for many years has always been referred to as the Louis Sherry bar. There is probably some good reason for this restaurant being called a bar and I plan to "reasearch" it.

It was strange that when I met Hopalong Cassidy and showed off my diamond gardenia at El Morocco later, he looked at all the ice and said, "Are you-all from Texas?"

I honestly believe that Diamond Jim Wilson with all his borrowed jewelry did not borrow any more than the average woman does today when she goes out socially. Why shouldn't guys do it too, if they can find the sucker?

Some of you may wish to know about the opera. You may be asking the wrong person. It's not that I have a tin ear, but I've always thought George Jessel could sing real good.

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Mary Martin's mother's maiden name was Presley and she wonders if she and Elvis might be kissin' cousins . . . Photographers are complaining that the Duchess of Windsor took all the pictures back to England they submitted to McCall's, holding that any picture taken of her belonged to her. They say this is a new, revolutionary theory they can't accept, and they're angry.

Janet Leigh's deal with a dress house here expired and wasn't renewed . . . Mary Hallat, who plays the handicapper in "Separate Tables," is 73—and made her last B'way appearance 53 years ago with Edna Wallace Hopper in "The Silver Slipper." That was 1903 and she wonders, "What happened to all the horses in New York—did they go to the race track?"

JANET

Joan Blondell's writing her memoirs—which should be interesting! . . Agent Mickey Shore's claiming a kayo over Comedian Bud Mack . . . Seaman Jacobs had an auto sticker made up which reads: "UNDECIDED."

Earl's Pearls . . .

When Anita Ekberg, meeting the Queen, was advised to show some discretion, she snapped, "Oh no! I'll show anything but that!"

WISH I'D SAID THAT: Taffy Tuttle knows of a guy who's double-jointed. He owns two night clubs.

TODAY'S BEST LAUGH: Sign in a Memphis gas station: "Elvis Slapped Here."

On Jack Barry's "21" quiz, Jack asked a contestant, "How can we phone you? Isn't there a candy store nearby?" The contestant answered, "It's a poor neighborhood. The candy store doesn't have a phone, either . . ." That's earl brother.

Signs of the Times: Political Painting

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—A "rocky" political feud of who's for whom led to the arrest of an insurance salesman on a breach of peace charge.

Deputy sheriff Steve Bacon gave this account after arresting Frank Dalby:

Democrat farmer Alex Miller found the slogan "Ike '56" painted on two stones on his farm in mid-October. Miller then fixed up two other rocks with a slogan reading "Hoover '28-'32."

Miller's Hoover signs were soon covered with paint, Miller said he got the license number of a car parked near the rocks, and police said the number turned out to be Dalby's.

The Democrat said Dalby promised to replace the Hoover signs but later refused. Meanwhile, the Ike signs were covered with paint, too.

The cost of electricity delivered by Norwegian State-owned power plants to municipal distribution plants went up 30 per cent recently.

DEATH'S CHALLENGE — If the usually heavy monthly traffic accident toll happens this December, the United States faces a new all-time traffic death record. The death toll (black line on Newschart) would skyrocket to more than 41,000 for the first time in history. Accident curves on Newsmap are projected at present rates for 10 years, to 1966. By then deaths will have reached 54,000, despite the fact that the death rate, in relation to mileage, is likely to remain unchanged. Data are from National Safety Council, which is launching a traffic safety drive — "Back the Attack on Traffic Accidents" — in an effort to soften the grim picture.

Donald O'Connor Writes Symphony

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Actor Donald O'Connor plans to conduct a full symphony orchestra Jan. 12 through part of a 2½-hour classical composition which he wrote.

The actor-dancer-comedian said about a year ago he attended a performance of the Los Angeles Doctors' Symphony Orchestra, composed entirely of M.D.s and workers in allied fields.

"I was impressed and I asked my own doctor, Irving Lasky, if I could be of any help to the group," O'Connor said. "When I offered to write something they took me up on it."

From the Press Box

For the first time in history, the torch for the 16th Olympiad will have journeyed around the globe.

The flame that will touch off the greatest sports spectacle in the world will be flown from Greece to the coast of Australia and then carried by runners that last 1,750 miles to Melbourne.

Many people have a misunderstanding of the Olympics. In most minds, the games are a battle for athletic supremacy by competing nations.

This is an erring concept, although not entirely presumptuous.

Olympic competition, mythically founded by the Hero Hercules in ancient Greece, has always been considered a test of strength and skill of the individual rather than the team.

Even in the days of ancient Rome and Greece, Olympic winners were heroes whose names were held in awe, with the greatest of them all being the athlete who won the "pentathlon," a five-part event which included running, jumping, wrestling, javelin and discus.

Through the ages even wars stopped to truce to take time out for the Games, but they soon degenerated into professional circuses under the proud Romans.

The modern Olympiad was revived in 1896 with 396 of the world's best athletes competing in Greece.

Even a small group of Americans crossed the Atlantic by tramp steamer and hitchhiked across Europe to Athens, and in fact the first gold medal won by an American was by a Harvard student in the hop-step-and-jump event.

When the Winter Games were held in Italy this year, one could easily feel the atmosphere of nationalism rather than the intended individual competition.

Americans seemed to take the winning of a gold medal by one competitor with a discerning attitude.

WHY WORRY ABOUT RUSSIA?

A question in most American minds was "are Russians better than Americans?" It was that concept of team work, which athletes learn from the midget leagues to pro ranks, that was pierced.

Everyone looked at the total points won and saw the Soviets had the greater total. Thus that American pride of winning as a team was hurt.

In three weeks, November 22nd, the greatest of Olympiads will get underway with 6,000 athletes and officials participating. The United States will have the opportunity to regain its team pride in the pentathlon, which is now a team event of the five sports of fencing, shooting, swimming, running and riding.

American stars in track and field, wrestling, boxing, basketball, gymnastics, weight lifting, rowing, horsemanship, will be doing their utmost for gaining the greatest reward in athletics—the gold medal.

So, whether we score more total points than the Russians makes no difference. Just so our athletes give their best in the true American way of competition.

O'Brien Again Shatters World Shot Put Mark

ANOTHER MARK—World shot put king Parry O'Brien continued to shatter his own marks by heaving the iron ball 63 feet 2 inches in Olympic workouts at Los Angeles yesterday.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Two new world records were pointed toward official recognition today, and the selections committee of Uncle Sam's powerful Olympic Games track and field team breathed easier after solving a few problems in athletic personnel.

Head Coach Jim Kelly was happy after watching his athletes in their final tuneup on home soil before heading for the games in Australia next week.

The outstanding performances yesterday:

A shot put, 63 feet, 2 inches, by the world king of the event, Parry O'Brien.

A mile relay raced by Charley Jenkins, Lon Spurrier, Tom Courtney and Lou Jones that cracked the existing world mark, and the time of the second-place team which also eclipsed the record.

The winning time was 3:07.3. The second team of Arnie Sowell, Josh Culbreath, Glenn Davis and Eddie Southern did it in 3:01.1. The existing record is 3:08.8, set in 1952 in London by Gene Cole, J. W. Mashburn, Reggie Pearman and Mal Whitfield.

Jim Graham, Oklahoma A&M pole vaulter, relieved the selection committee of a ticklish problem when he voluntarily withdrew from the team, to be replaced by Bob Gutowski of Occidental, the alternate. Graham has been troubled by an ankle injury. Kelly called his action "one of the finest demonstrations of sportsmanship" in his memory.

Kelly announced the javelin lineup will remain unchanged with Cy Young, 1952 Olympic champion, Phil Oncley and Ben Garcia the entries.

This means that the Rev. Franklin (Bud) Held, the world record-holder who has been out-throwing all others this fall, but who failed to make the grade in the final trials last June, is out in the cold. Kelly termed this regrettable but unavoidable.

In the team's final workout, one American record was eclipsed, too by Bill Dellinger of Oregon in the 5,000-meter run. He ran it in 14:16.2, beating Max Truex, who did it in 14:16.7. Both bettered the official domestic record of 14:26.8 set in 1950 by Fred Wilt, and the pending mark of 14:22.8 set at Ontario, Calif., by Truex last month.

Charles Dumas three times cleared the high jump bar set at 7 feet ¾ inch but it was an exhibition and can't be proposed as a record. Dumas, first man to break 7 feet—7 feet, ½ inch set in the June trials and now up for recognition—made the jumps after settling for 6-6 in competition.

O'Brien fractured his official shot put record of 60-10 and broke a pending mark of 62-6¼ achieved at Eugene, Ore., last Labor Day. Official action will be taken to have the new mark, as well as the relay, recognized.

His series yesterday: 62-½, 62-2½, 62-8, 62-5¾, 63-2, 62-1.

Helds' javelin effort was 263 feet, 1 inch. Behind were Young, 244-6½; Conley, 233-½, and Garcia, 206-5½.

Graham did 14-4 in the pole vault. Gutowski and George Mattos hit 14-8.

The status of sprinter Leamon King remains unchanged. He is a member of the team and it will be decided later whether he will race in the sprints or as a relay team member. King has been winning over Bobby Morrow, Ira Murchison and Thane Baker in the 100-meter dash in the past four tune-up meets. Yesterday, however, Morrow looked good in winning the 200 in 20.8.

Olympic Coach Lauds Vaulter Who Bowed Out

LOS ANGELES (AP)—"Jim Graham's action was the finest sportsmanlike gesture I have ever seen," says Coach Jim Kelly of the U. S. Olympic track team.

The Oklahoma A. & M. pole vaulter, hampered by an ankle injury, voluntarily bowed out yesterday in favor of Bob Gutowski of Occidental College.

"Graham dropped out because he felt our team's performance would be better with Gutowski competing at Melbourne," Kelly said.

In recent trials, Graham has failed to clear the 14 foot 8½ inch mark he set in last spring's trials. Gutowski vaulted 15-5 last Saturday in nearby Santa Ana.

GOOD WORK MERITS CONGRATULATIONS — Husky Parry O'Brien, former University of Southern California star, gets a handshake from head coach James Kelly of the U. S. Olympic team after pushing the shot put 63 feet 2 inches yesterday. His world recognized record is 60 feet 10 inches, although he has been throwing well over 62 feet in workouts.

Lion Prexy Disagrees With 49ers About Bell

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Owner Edwin J. Anderson of the Detroit Lions says he's on opposite sides of the field from San Francisco 49er boss Tony Morabito when it comes to National Football League commissioner Bert Bell.

Morabito has announced that he will try to get Bell fired when the league meets in January. He has called the commissioner an "incompetent dictator," and also sharply criticized officiating of the pro games.

Anderson asked newsmen to a hotel suite yesterday and said:

"I have no personal feud with Tony. He has the right to speak his piece. For the record, we of the Detroit Lions feel Bert Bell has done a very fine job as Commissioner . . . pro football is clean, there has been no gambling and no scandals. The sport has been kept on a high plane."

In the matter of officiating, the Detroit owner declared:

* * *

"The National Football League is getting better officiating year after year. Naturally, when a team is losing they are prone to blame officiating. However, we feel the officiating is much better than it has been. We have no complaints."

Expense Limit Still Unchanged

LOS ANGELES (INS) — The Amateur Athletic Union winds up its annual convention today without action on proposed changes in the expense limit for athletes.

The convention also passed up all action on any rules changes. A spokesman said nothing would be done until the AAU's next legislative session.

The case of Wes Santee, mile runner who was barred for accepting too much expense money, did not come up at the convention.

Cleveland was selected as the 1958 convention city. Washington, D.C., had previously been chosen as the site of next year's convention.

41 Schools in Harrier Test

YPSILANTI—Three hundred and fifty athletes representing 41 schools will converge on Ypsilanti Saturday, for the running of the 34th annual state high school cross country run. The state meet has been held at Ypsilanti since 1922.

Under the direction of track coach George Marshall, the meet will get under way at 10:30 at Washtenaw Golf Course. In all, 18 class A schools, 16 class B schools and seven class C and D schools will take part.

All three champions from last year's meet will be favored to repeat, but a host of strong teams will be on hand to give the defenders plenty of competition.

Lansing Eastern, last season's Class A winner, will bring a strong, well balanced team which is paced by speedster Arthur Vaillencourt. Vaillencourt covered the two-mile distance in 10:29 at the regionals while his teammates were close behind with times of 10:31, 10:37, and 10:38.

Last year Lansing Eastern ended a long reign of Pontiac High by beating the 2nd place Chiefs, 121-145.

Battling with Vaillencourt for individual honors will be Richard Fisher of Arthur Hill, and Rodge Simpson of Wyandotte.

Chiefs will be led this year by Roger Coats, 2nd in the recent Thurston regional, behind Fred Chappell of Berkley (10:43.7). Other Chiefs will include Pete Cox, John Jefferson, Tom Sampey, Russ Renfrow, Bob Evans and Columbus White.

Birmingham (regional winner) has Tom Fontaine, Bob Benson, Rich Riley, Tom Thorson, Lynn Benn, Dick Boyd and Bill Landis.

Walled Lake, winner of Thurston "B" regional, will run Charles Wilson, Bill Hosley, Bob Schoenberger, Jim Wilson, Mike Kerrigan, Mike Anderson and Steve Johnson. Larry Harris of OL St. Mary's will run in the "B" race.

Class A schools include: Lansing Eastern, Saginaw Arthur Hill, Flint Northern, Jackson, Birmingham, Pontiac, Royal Oak, Mt. Clemens, Hazel Park, Wyandotte, Plymouth, Allen Park, Dearborn, Edsel Ford, Grand Rapids Union, Grand Rapids Creston, Grand Rapids Central and Grand Rapids Catholic Central.

River Rouge is considered strong enough to retain its Class B championship. Last year they beat 2nd place Walled Lake, 86-123.

Class B schools are: Portage, Otsego, Lowell, South Haven, River Rouge, Romulus, Trenton, Grand Ledge, Coldwater, Howell, Charlotte, Mt. Pleasant, Walled Lake, Redford Union, Clarenceville and Farmington.

Iowa Awaits U. of M.

IOWA CITY, Ia. (AP)—Michigan's bruised Wolverines will clash with unbeaten Iowa here tomorrow before a guaranteed capacity crowd of hopeful Hawkeye homecoming partisans.

Grimly determined to win its first Big Ten title since 1922, Forest Evashevski's seventh - ranked Iowa eleven has been practicing in secret sessions, fully cognizant that a victory over Michigan would be a big step toward the Rose Bowl.

Iowa Stadium, which has been enlarged this season, has been sold out since Sept. 10 for the game. The new capacity of the stadium is 58,400.

Though the Wolverines rank 10 positions behind Iowa in the Associated Press weekly poll, they've been installed as a slim, three-point favorite.

Michigan, upset victim last week of Minnesota, enters its first away-from-home venture confronted with a tremendous task. The Wolverines took a severe physical beating at the hands of the Gophers and Bennie Oosterbaan's crew can only hope that several key players will shake the effects of injuries by game time.

The 18th renewal of the Michigan-Iowa series may see the first appearance of Ron Kramer as a back. The giant end has been practicing all week as a replacement for injured right halfback Terry Barr, but won't be used to fill in unless Oosterbaan deems the situation an "emergency."

Barr, who missed an entire week get his sprained ankle in condition bet his sprained ankle in condition so he can make at least a limited appearance.

He practiced yesterday, running for the first time since he limped off the field after scoring against Minnesota. He said he could run fairly well on a straight-of-way, but his leg troubled him when he attempted to cut.

* * *

Second string right halfback Eddie Shannon probably will be installed in the opening lineup in Barr's place.

Ortonville Eyes Win Over Barons in Season Windup

Ortonville, stung with a 46-0 lacing by Imlay City last week, hopes to bounce back against visiting Bloomfield Hills tonight in its final game of the 1956 football season.

Bloomfield Hills, which winds up its season a week hence against St. Clair Shores Lakeview, is also on the comeback trail after dropping last Friday's Southeast Suburban title battle to Fraser, 14-7.

Bloomfield coach Don Hoff is worried about his team's ability to stop the passing of quarterback Ed Hungerford and the receiving of 6-1 end Chuck Graves. Ortonville also has a dangerous ball carrier in halfback John Uloth.

The Barons will counter with some explosive runners of their own, headed by powerful Jim Kearney, one of Oakland County's leading high school scorers.

Two Blackhawk mainstays will be missing from the lineup with injuries. Center Charley Brandt hurt his eye in a hunting accident and halfback Al Dickson has a bad leg.

Ortonville's record stands at 5-2. The Barons have a 4-2 mark.

Gopher-Iowa Game Likely TV Setup

CHICAGO (AP) — Either the Minnesota-Iowa or Michigan State-Purdue football games Nov. 10 will be the Big Ten's nationally televised game.

Big Ten headquarters announced the decision yesterday and indicated the Minnesota-Iowa game likely would be the one assigned to NBC for television. The Gopher - Hawkeye encounter could determine the Big Ten's representative in the Rose Bowl.

Both Iowa and Minnesota are unbeaten, although Minnesota has been tied.

The Michigan State-Notre Dame game was televised regionally. The Illinois-Purdue game is scheduled for the same treatment Saturday.

Middies and Irish Given Even Ratings

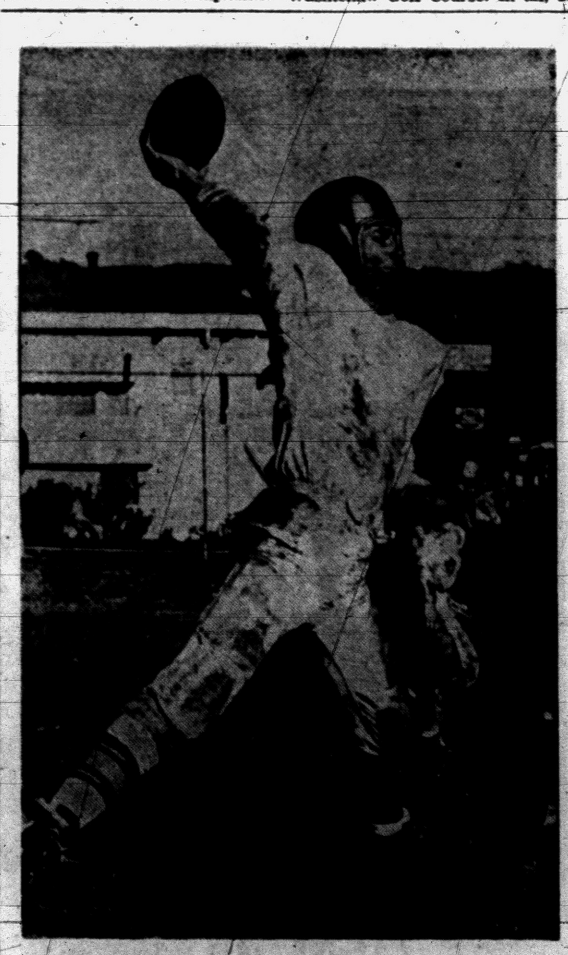

BALTIMORE (AP)—Take a football team which has won once in five games, another which has lost once in five, put them together and which would you pick?

Most probably, the one with the better record. But surprisingly, Notre Dame and Navy are rated just about a toss-up for their game tomorrow in Memorial Stadium.

The Irish have for them the unusual record of four defeats. They haven't had that many since 1933.

But the widest pre-game margin sighted for Navy is three points.

And this despite Navy being at its best physical strength of the season and Notre Dame still hurting at spots, a chronic misfortune this season.

ONE LEG TO BREAK — From spread eagle jump stance, Earle Norwood fires a pass at Oakland (California) Junior College for which he is first string quarterback. Norwood's right leg is artificial, having lost the limb in Korean fighting. He says he is safer than most players because he has "only one leg which can be broken."

McMahon Is Star Aerialist

SEGUIN, Tex. (AP)—Texas Lutheran has won only three games out of six — which, however, is a vast improvement over last year when it didn't win any — but Charlie McMahon puts on a show for the fans every time.

McMahon, a durable lad who came to Lutheran because a baseball scout recommended him, is making a name for himself with his arms but he's using a pigskin to do it.

The Beeville, Tex., sophomore quarterback, has completed 60 passes out of 112 throws for 815 yards, quite a record for six games.

His biggest night was last week when he threw 28 passes and connected on 16 for 249 yards and five touchdowns as Texas Lutheran beat Sul Ross 46-10.

* * *

No college was interested in McMahon when he finished at Beeville High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball.

Chiefs' Home Windup

End Wisner Season Today

There was a promise of good weather—an unusual circumstance—for tonight's PHS windup football game for 1956 at Wisner Stadium. For many years late season collisions between Saginaw High's Trojans and the Chiefs have been played in either rain, snow, or some other unpleasant conditions. But there appeared a very good chance that the next-to-final encounter of the year for both clubs would be under pleasant circumstances.

* * *

After tonight, Chiefs will have to face the current Valley, and state "hotshots," the Flint Northern Vikings on their own field.

So, if there's a league victory in the books for Coach Ed Graybiel's Chiefs this season, tonight is the time it will have to be won. Same goes for Herb Kort's Trojans. Each club has lost three Valley games. Chiefs bowed to Bay City's hot Wolves, Flint Central and Arthur Hill, in that order. Trojans took lickings at the hands of Flint Northern, Bay City and Central's Indians.

Over a 10-year period, Trojans have won seven times, six straight from 1946 through 1951. Chiefs won the next three, but Saginaw broke in again last fall at Saginaw, to win a 33-7 decision on a slippery field.

Basis for the prediction that tonight's battle will be a tossup is seen in the comparison of the two team records. Chiefs have won two, seek their 3rd victory and 1st in the league this season. Trojans won only from Bay City Handy, tied Grand Rapids. Pontiac defeated Wyandotte and Lansing Sexton, tied with Ferndale.

Game time is 8 o'clock.

All Valley elevens will be in action tonight. Flint Northern tangles with Arthur Hill at Saginaw; Bay City Central is at Midland and Flint Central entertains Traverse City at Atwood Stadium.

Canada Leader for Low Score

Dominion Riders Set Up 16 Total in Garden Trophy Event

NEW YORK (AP)—Canada has a stranglehold on the Low Score Competition Challenge Trophy and Ireland has come up with its first victory in the National Horse Show.

That leaves Chile as the only country without a triumph in the international jumping competition at Madison Square Garden.

Going into today's finals of the low score competition, Canada has a low total of 16 faults. Chile is second with 28, Ireland third, 32, the United States fourth, 48, and Mexico last, 107½.

Douglas Cudney kept the Dominion in front yesterday when his two mounts, Flash Gordon and Second Army, had a combined low aggregate of eight faults over the 10-jump course.

The first Irish victory was scored by Lieut. Patrick J. Kiernan when he won the President of Mexico trophy with Glencree and Shannon Grove. They were charged with only seven faults to edge Hugh Wiley of the United States team and Capt. Leopoldo Rojas of Chile.

Culmone Wins Four

CAMDEN, N.J. (AP)—Sidney Culmone rode four winners at Garden State Park yesterday. He scored with Fish Story, $10.60, Fauroyal, $8.20, I Offbeat, $17.80,

Race in Three Jackson Events

Pontiac race horses will appear in three events on tonight's harness card at Jackson Raceway.

They include the veteran campaigner Marcella Spencer, now a converted pacer. Marcella for many years raced as a good trotter, but this year became a "side-wheeler." She has done all right, too, says her trainer, Pat Bellows.

Marcella will go tonight in the 6th (C-pace) race. Her best time with the hobbles is 2:07.4. She won 6, placed 2nd 4 times and was 3rd once. She is 8 years old.

Calvin Mack goes in the 3rd race, a "C" trot, and Golden Gleam will go in the 5th, another "C" pace. She won her last time out.

All three will be driven by Bellows. They are from the J. C. Palmer Jaceldon Farms, Middlebelt, near Pontiac.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 2 (AP)—Mickey Owen, former catcher for the St. Louis Cardinals, has been signed as a scout for the club in the Puerto Rican area for the winter.

General Manager Frank Lane said last night that Owen, presently managing the Mayaguez club in the Puerto Rican league, will assist in coaching Redbird players in the loop and will send scouting reports to St. Louis.

Wings Suffer 1st Loss of Season, 4-3

MONTREAL (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings aren't invincible.

They finally have been beaten, although they escaped defeat for the first seven games of the season.

The Montreal Canadiens, at full strength for the first time since the start, did it 4-3 last night with the Red Wings folding like an accordion in a third-period Montreal squeeze.

The loss to the 5th place Canadiens, who had won only two previous games, left the Red Wings tied for the National Hockey League lead with the Toronto Maple Leafs whom they meet Saturday.

The Red Wings now have won five, lost one and tied two. Toronto is 4-1-4. Montreal is 3-5-1.

Detroit let 2-0 and 3-1 leads slip away last night as Montreal whammed in three third-period goals to the delight of 14,519 Canadien rooters.

Big Jean Beliveau, who scored two goals and assisted on another was the night's star. Montreal's other goals came off the sticks of Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion and Henri (Pocket Rocket) Richard, who had been on the Canadien injured list since the opening game.

Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay and Rookie Billy McNeill scored for Detroit.

With goalie Glenn Hall making brilliant saves for Detroit, the Red Wings looked like sure winners going into the final period with a 3-1 margin. But the Canadiens skating at break-neck speed, reminiscent of Detroit-Montreal Stanley Cup encounters, took charge thereafter.

Howe got Detroit off to a 1-0 lead by flicking in a bouncing pass from Marty Pavelich at 3:42 of the opening period. Lindsay made it 2-0 at 12:01 on a perfect pass from Howe while Montreal was shorthanded because of a penalty.

Beliveau got one marker back for the Canadiens at 16:40 on a partly screened backhander.

McNeil got the only goal of the second period at 3:48.

Geoffrion, with Detroit shorthanded, scored for Montreal at 4:37 of the third period. Then Henri Richard counted at 5:46 and Beliveau rammed the winner past Hall at 11:22, the big center firing his own rebound.

Detroit jerked Hall from the net for the final 50 seconds, but still couldn't score with an extra man on the attack.

While the puck sailed by him four times, Hall stopped 36 other shots. Jacques Plante blocked 27 Red Wing shots.

Athletes at Olympics Shun Political Talk

MELBOURNE (AP)—There seemed to be an unspoken agreement on all sides to avoid discussing politics or world affairs as the athletes today moved into the homelike atmosphere of Olympic Village.

More than 300 athletes are now living in the village and more are arriving daily, but seldom is a word heard regarding the Middle East and Eastern Europe situation.

On Wednesday night the first Dutch contingent arrived. Three Poles moved into the village yesterday and a contingent of 11 Swedes is due today.

The first Soviets are expected today and the Americans Nov. 8.

There is a special dining room for the Americans.

Told that Americans like steak, the manager said, "we could give them six steaks three times a day if they like. We're here to give them anything they want. We've had our best cattle especially set aside to provide the meat to feed the athletes at these games and we have a great supply of 14-ounce steaks."

Another feature of Olympic Village is the outdoor refreshment stands where all athletes can get free cups of coffee, cocoa and valtine at any time during the day.

In the dining room for Oriental teams, there is complete Oriental cuisine including ricebowls, small teacups without handles and chopsticks. The entire operation is being handled by Chiney Poon a Chinese businessman who came to Australia 30 years ago. Poon owns an import-export house and a Chinese restaurant.

He has prepared to celebrate the birthdays of Oriental team members with an appropriate traditional dish from the native land of the competitor. For example, a Chinese will get a red snapper on his birthday and a Korean fried chicken.

Nationalist China and Peoples Communist China will have tables in different rooms. The same kitchen serves two large rooms.

Milford Target for Irate Waterford

Irate Waterford may take out its spite on underwog Milford tonight when the two schools collide under the lights at Milford.

Dave Freeman's Skippers were riding the crest of a six-game undefeated-untied streak a week ago. Then they ran afoul of another perfect record club, Walled Lake.

The Vikings dumped the Skippers, 12-7, and in so doing walked off with the Inter-Lakes Conference title. Such an occurrence did not likely put Waterford in a very humorous mood.

Despite the loss of halfback Ed Clark, Waterford's manpower is far superior and on paper the Redskins don't have a chance.

Clark injured his knee in the Walled Lake game and will be out for the balance of the season. He will be replaced by fleet-footed Stan Jones.

Milford's best offensive threats are a pair of speedy halfbacks, Bob Kauppi and Del Munson. But the Skippers overbalance the Redskins with Lyndie Salathiel, Terry Kaines and passer Warren Miksch.

The Redskins of Dick Yeager have won three, lost two and tied two.

Other prep games of county area interest tonight are Saginaw at Pontiac, Ferndale at Royal Oak, Almont at Memphis, Armada at Dryden, Romeo at North Branch, Fraser at Rochester and Flint St. Michael at Lapeer.

Mickey Mantle was the first switch-hitter in 1956 ever to win a major league batting championship.

The 1956 American League attendance was 7,888,175, a decrease of 1,054,796 under the total for 1955.

Dawson Wins 3rd Time in North-South Test

Pontiac's hottest veteran golfer, Bob Dawson, is back in town after a pleasant—and profitable — sojourn at Pinehurst, N. C. where he won his 3rd straight North-South Seniors Invitational title.

"We had a rare time down there," Bob reported yesterday. "I won my 3rd event, with an 83 on the last day (including one birdie). G. Graves of Myrtle Beach, S. C., lost by one point."

A beautiful pair of silver candelabra was the Pontiac man's prize. They were the 2nd pair he won at Pinehurst.

"I had a hard time getting in this tourney three years ago. There was a big waiting list. Right now there are more than 500 on it," says Dawson. He added that 293 took part in this year's week-long test.

"I saw Chick Evans (U. S. Open and Amateur champion of three years ago). He was playing with a steel brace on his left arm, as a result of an auto accident. He did all right, too. Fred Riggin of Port Huron was there too, along with story-writing Ike Handy of Texas."

During his trip Dawson played President Eisenhower's "home course" at Burning Tree Club. "That was a thrill," Bob said, "and I had an 84, with a 7 on the last hole, to boot. It's one of the greatest courses I've ever played."

Dawson will be 77 next July 7.

Lions Show Interest in Ron Knox

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — General manager Nick Kerbawy of the Detroit Lions says his club would be very interested in drafting quarterback Ronnie Knox and adds that other National Football League clubs probably feel the same way.

One of the most controversial figures in Pacific Coast football, Knox is playing professionally for Calgary in the Canadian League. He went North after Pacific Coast rulings in the series of illegal aid to athlete cases limited him and other seniors to only five games this fall.

Kerbawy is impressed by young Knox.

"He's big and he can throw," says Nick. "He very definitely is a very fine football player and could go in this league. Personally, I don't think we're the only ones interested in him."

Comes Nov. 26 and the preliminary football draft meeting and the name of Knox probably will come up, the clubs each can choose four draftees at that time. Prior to that Ronnie couldn't be drafted under the NFL rule that players can't be taken until their class concludes collegiate eligibility.

"We'll have to find out if he's signed an option that automatically puts him under Canadian contract for 1957," Kerbawy said. "And I'm not saying he'll be our No. 1 draft choice or anything like that. But we are interested in him."

Commissioner Bert Bell of the NFL has ruled that Canadian contracts must be observed. If the Knox contract doesn't have the option, he could sign with a pro team in this country for next year.

Cuts Tie, Gets Mustangs in Right Mood for Irish

DALLAS (AP)—There's an old saying that "if the players are as ready as the coach, they'll tear their opponents apart."

It must have been that way the night Southern Methodist beat Notre Dame 19-13.

Henry Stram was the coach. He's backfield tutor of SMU. He came here from Purdue where he helped beat Notre Dame twice.

SMU wasn't supposed to give Notre Dame much opposition. It was a very green Southern Methodist team that went out to battle the highly ranked Fighting Irish.

But shortly before the SMU team was to leave its dressing room stram walked up to Dick Peters, the defensive coach, and said: "Let me borrow your knife please."

"He had borroqed my knife before, to sharpen pencils and one thing or another," said Peters, "so I thought nothing about it. But pretty soon, he crowded right up beside me. Then he reached up and got a hand on my tie. But I still didn't expect anything. All of a sudden that knife blade flashed right under my chin and I thought he was cutting my troat. Man, did I let out a yell.

Marion in Line 2 Ways

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Marty Marion has been out of a job only eight days and already there's talk about him managing two other major league ball clubs.

The 38-year-old Marion was dropped as manager of the Chicago White Sox after piloting them to a third-place finish in the American League last season.

Talk started almost immediately.

One rumor had it Marion and Al Lopez, manager of the second-place Cleveland Indians, were to swap jobs. Lopez was named manager of the White Sox.

Leo Durocher's name popped into the Cleveland picture but he turned it down. Marion was back in front again.

The Globe-Democrat said today it learned from a reliable source Marion might come back to the St. Louis Cardinals, with Manager Fred Hutchinson moving over to Cleveland.

Marion, one-time "Mr. Shortstop" of the Redbirds, said on a television show last night: "I don't know anything about it."

The Globe quoted its source as saying the Marion - Hutchinson move was being discussed by the two clubs.

It pointed to the fact that General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians and Hutchinson were teammates at Detroit while Marion and Cardinal General Manager Frank Lane were associated with the White Sox.

Greenberg has indicated he'd talk with Marion about the Cleveland job.

* * *

"I really believe Marty did an outstanding job with the White Sox this year," Grenberg said on a stopover in Chicago yesterday. "And I'm far from alone in that opinion. "I don't see how the White Sox could let him go."

Bell Sets Nov. 26 as Date for Draft, Bonus Picks

PHILADELPHIA (AP)— The first four rounds of the annual National Football League player draft and bonus selection will be held in Philadelphia Nov. 26.

NFL Commissioner Bert Bell said yesterday a fifth round will be held if the member clubs vote unanimously for it. The balance of the draft, usually making a total of 30 rounds, will be held at the annual meeting of the league in mid-January.

Also to be discussed at the Nov. 26 meeting are arrangements for playoffs in case of ties in the league's two conferences and plans for the championship game on Dec. 30 in the home park of the Eastern champion.

The bonus pick is an out-of-the-hat drawing with the winner getting the chance to pick any graduating college player in the country. Once a tea mwins the bonus pick it is ineligible until all 12 teams have had a chance to win. Only Green Bay and the Chicago Cardinals will take parts in the bonus pick this year.

The Nov. 26 meeting was set up in order to give NFL teams an equal chance against the Canadian League in bidding for new college talent. The Canadian season ends in November and the Canadian clubs make an early start in hunting for new players for the coming seasons.

Even $70,000 Tough to Receive Response

LAUREL, Md. (AP)—Suppose you were offered a chance to win $70,000 with all expenses paid for about a week to attend the drawing at a place perhaps far away.

You'd think the response would be overwhelming, wouldn't you?

But Laurel Race Track is doing that for a horse race and having as much trouble as getting a $2 bettor to use his own money at Monte Carlo.

It has offered the only free global grab bag and the biggest lack of takers is within the United States.

The Laurel International is Nov. 12 is the only stakes race in the world in which owners have to pay absolutely nothing to nominate, enter or start their horses. In the bargain, Laurel pays expenses to bring the horse and his entourage to the track and pay the way back.

There are four prizes, $70,000 for first, $15,000 for second, $10,000 for third and $5,000 for fourth.

The best horses from the United States that Laurel would have liked to induce this year are Nashua and Swaps. The owners of Nashua decided to retire him before the race. Swaps got hurt.

Next contact was E. Gay Drake, owner of Swoon's Son. Drake said the mile and half distance is too far.

Spartans Riddled but Favored

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Michigan State's power-sapped Spartans, the myth of their invincibility shattered, will attempt to bounce back Saturday at Macklin Field in a Big Ten football battle with Wisconsin's sputtering Badgers.

The Spartans, with several key players out of the lineup, still are three-touchdown favorites to hand Coach Milt Bruhn's charges their fourth defeat.

But Michigan State Coach Duffy Daugherty, who said before the season began that six key players would "carry" the Spartans in 1956, goes into the contest with only one of the six men at peak strength.

"Everyone talked about our depth," said Duffy, "but depth alone doesn't win ball games. Your leaders, your key men, win the big ones. Now our key men have just about disappeared."

He listed the key players as backs Clarence Peaks and Walt Kowalczyk, end Dave Kaiser and linemen Dan Currie, Pat Burke and John Matsko.

Of the six, only Matsko figures to be in the starting lineup Saturday. Peaks and Burke have undergone operations and are lost for the season, Kaiser has missed three games because of injuries and definitely cannot go at full speed. Currie has suffered assorted bumps and bruises but may start the Wisconsin game. Kowalczyk, after suffering a severe ankle sprain, has never regained the efficiency that made him one of the Big Ten's top backs last season.

* * *

Coaches also learned that Joel Jones, standout 220-pound junior tackle, won't be available.

Jones, who has had a wobbly ankle for some time, now has picked up a skin infection on his feet.

Kowalczyk has been demoted to the third team in drills this week after accounting for just 71 yards in 20 carries for a 3.5 average.

The Spartans will start sophomore Art Johnson at Kowalczyk's right halfback spot, with Dennis (The Menace) Mendyk at the other halfback.

Spartan coaches are hoping to get MSU back on the victory trial after last week's 20-13 upset loss at the hands of Illinois.

Dayton Given Four National AAU Title Tests

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Four national championship events in the field of sports will be held here next year, if was disclosed yesterday.

The schedule: the National AAU track-field championships, June 28-29; the National PGA golf championship, July 17-21; the Grand American Trapshoot, Aug. 16-24, and the women's International Bowling Congress, beginning April 11 and running for about two months.

BATTERY MATES — Gary Glick, who was selected as the top choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers in the drafts last season, has been the team's kicking specialist this year. He has 23 points in field goals and conversions. Holding the ball is former U. of Detroit quarterback Teddy Marchibroda.

Trouble Ahead for Oxford

It only seems a question of how high the score will go when punchless Oxford squares off against powerful Clawson tonight at Oxford.

Clawson tucked away the Oakland B League championship last Friday with an amazing 37-6 drubbing of Avondale in one of the most impressive performances by an Oakland County high school team this season.

The lone factor working against the Trojans is the possibility of a letdown after the tremendous showing of a week ago. But the Wildcats seem unequipped to cope with the invaders even under those conditions.

Oxford's defense does not appear adequate enough to halt Clawson's devastating ground attack, which rolled up 284 yards against Avondale.

Quarterback Tom Kollin, a deadly passer, is one of the finest field generals in the area and Clawson's big, aggressive line is probably exceeded by none around the county.

The Wildcats can only hope that Clawson will be merciful and hold down the score. Oxford's season record is 3-3-1 while the Trojans have a 5-1-1 mark.

Avondale entertains lowly Fitzgerald, Troy visits Madison and Lake Orion plays host to Roseville in tonight's Oakland B League program.

Clarkston Guns for Holly

With a good break or two along the way, Clarkston's unpredictable football team could spell trouble for Holly's favored forces tonight in a Wayne - Oakland Conference game at Clarkston.

One thing is for sure: at this point in the season the Wolves of Ed Hintz have nothing to lose by shooting the works, especially in view of their 1-5-1 record.

If speedy halfback George Lang can operate at full efficiency, Clarkston will always have a scoring threat. Hintz calls Lang a key figure in his plans and says that the little scatback's absence handicaps the squad considerably.

Holly was apparently on the upgrade until blasted by Northville a week ago, 32-0. The Broncos had a good chance for league honors when the Mustangs "lowered the boom."

Coach Reese Protz reports that his team was extremely flat and added "Northville was ready for us." Holly, owning a 3-3 record, has a handful of strong running backs with Amos Bradsher the most consistent performer.

In other Wayne-Oakland games tonight, Northville seeks to take another championship stride at the expense of visiting Brighton and West Bloomfield invades Clarenceville.

Lost Dog Goes 75 Miles

LANSING — A wandering bird dog recently was returned to its Northville home after some lengthy and puzzling travels.

The dog, a pointer, was found running loose at Gratiot-Saginaw state game area by three hunters from Ohio. The hunters notified two conservation department game men who picked up the dog and transported it to Rose Lake wildlife experiment station near East Lansing.

There, game workers fed and cared for the frightened animal while they tried to locate the owner through the Northville license the dog was wearing.

When notified of the dog's whereabouts, the grateful owner claimed him at Rose Lake and told how the dog has been lost three weeks earlier during the opening day of the grouse season near St. Helen — more than 75 miles north of the Gratiot-Saginaw area where it was recovered.

Ducks Starting Trip Southward

Heavy Concentrations of Waterfowl Reported Leaving Northlands

DETROIT (INS) — Up to seven inches of snow and below-freezing temperatures, which hit sections of Canada last week, are now moving south pushing down "record numbers of waterfowl."

Conservation department officials predict that Michigan duck and geese hunters "are in for one of the best years in waterfowl hunting in history."

Bert Cartwright, chief naturalist for Ducks Unlimited, said ducks are piling up on the Canadian prairies and are ready to move south in pronounced flights at the drop of a hat.

Southern Michigan hunters, weary from driving hundreds of miles for hunting, should be enjoying these regular migration flights by the weekend.

Local ducks in the St. Clair Flats, Saginaw Bay, the Detroit River, Lake Erie, Houghton Lake and some of the other favorite areas are just about shot out. However, early flights of northerns have been building up in the last week.

Titans Battle at Cincinnati

Both Teams Hard Hit With Injuries; Renew Old Rivalry

CINCINNATI — Two injury-riddled teams, Detroit and Cincinnati will renew their rivalry Saturday afternoon at Cincinnati's Nippert Stadium.

The Titans, who snapped their three game losing streak by dumping favored Boston College in Detroit last week, will have only one senior in the starting lineup.

That will be captain-end Bob Chendes, also recovering from a back injury.

Cincinnati last week mauled Marquette, 33-13, a team which U. of D. beat 20-7. Despite all the sophomores, Detroit's defensive line has been the big factor in holding the foes to an average of less than 10 points per game, the total margin which the Titans have lost their three contests.

Detroit has caused the opposition to fumble 29 times and has covered 21 of them.

Pankey's Grill Increases Lead in Tennis Loop

Pankey's Hangar Grill increased its lead in the Pontiac Table Tennie League Thursday night with a 6-0 victory over Moote's Electric. Pontiac Varnish retained 2nd place by trimming General Conveyor, 5-1.

Last night's best match was in the men's division. David Barnhart of General Conveyor upset Carl Knaach of Ponitac Varnish, 21-18, 19-21, 21-14.

Mystery Hangs Over Position of Soviet Ship

Olympic Officials Are Puzzled at Silence of Athlete Carrier

MELBOURNE (AP)—The question here today is "Where is the Gruzia?"

The Soviet ship due to dock here today with the first Russian Olympic Games contingent has vanished for the moment.

The ship is not answering radio signals and nobody knows its exact position. Everyone is in the dark, Olympic officials, harbor officials and pilots waiting in Melbourne to bring the ship into port.

Officials in the harbor master's office said: "We can't raise her. It looks as if they're bringing the Iron Curtain with them."

The Russian ship is carrying 91 Russians for the games and 17 Hungarians plus two Czechoslovakian officials of the International Olympic Committee.

Dodgers Hit Eight Homers to Win, 14-0

OSAKA, Japan (AP)—The Brooklyn Dodgers blasted eight home runs today and slaughtered a Japanese baseball team 14-0 the day after a Japanese manager said "the Dodgers are not as strong as expected."

Rookie outfielder Jim Gentile poled two home runs to run his total to seven in 11 games.

The Dodgers hit four homers in the second inning, including Duke Snider's fifth of the tour.

A crowd of 40,000 watched Roger Craig and Ralph Branca combine to pitch a nine-hit shutout.

The Dodgers now have an 8-2 record against Japan's best professional teams, with one tie game.

Tiger Ticket Director Has 40 Years Service

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers announced today that Robert A. McClymont, director of ticket sales and a member of the Detroit Baseball Co. since 1918, is retiring.

Linemen Abundant for AA Honors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Guards, the unsung workers who lead blocking convoys and wreck enemy offenses, offer an abundance of candidates for the All America football team among the 1956 linemen.

Jim Parker of Ohio State, Allen Ecker of Georgia Tech, Sam Valentine of Penn State, Stan Slater of Army and Bill Krisher of Oklahoma are just a few of the standouts at the position.

The Associated Press regional All America boards, composed of representatives of member newspapers and radio and television outlets, have made their first reports through October.

In the Midwest, the board is unstinting in its praise of Parker, a mobile giant who tears gaping holes through which the Buckeye backs drive in the team's strong running attack. On defense he is quick and sure.

Ecker gets the nod from the Southeast as the best guard in that area though teammate Jimmy Johnson also gets mention.

Bill Glass of Baylor is rated the leading lineman in the lone star corral with Krisher ahead of the field in the Midlands.

Among the other guards rating strong consideration are Jack Davis of Maryland, Esker Harris of UCLA, Galen Laack of College of the Pacific, Ed Bailey of Syracuse, Mike Flynn of Villanova, Lou Lovely of Boston University, Jim Martin of Missouri, Ed Brown of Arizona, Wayne Colbe of Oklahoma A.&M., Jim Heriocker of Wichita and Lloyd Day of Tulsa.

Stanford's Paul Wiggin, a 1955 All America hoping to repeat, leads another solid crop of tackles which includes such luminaries as Kentucky's Lou Michaels, Iowa's Alex Karras, Texas Christian's Norman Hamilton and Minnesota's Bob Hobert.

Wiggin's tireless efforts are an inspiration to his teammates. Against Ohio State, for instance, Wiggin wasn't relieved until the final minute of play. He's the indispensable cog in the forward wall of one of the nation's top teams.

Michaels, an expert kicker on top of his other talents, and Karras are a pair of junior sensations with a love for contact and the skill to utilize it.

Other tackles the regional boards are pushing include John Witte of Oregon State, Dick Day of Washington, John Nisby of College of the Pacific, Joel Jones of Michigan State, Charles Krueger of Texas A&M and Dalva Allen of Houston.

Americans Bid for Semifinals

Five of Eight Seek Sweep of Positions in Mexican Tourney

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Americans will bid for a clean sweep of semifinal berths in the Mexican National Amateur Golf tournament today and it'll be an upset if they fail to make it.

Five of the eight survivors are Americans and included are Bill Campbell, Huntington, W. Va., Joe Conrad, San Antonio, Tex., and Rex Baxter, Amarillo, Tex., three of the leading amateurs in the United States. The two others, Robert Davies of Pasadena, Calif. and Herbert Durham, Dallas, were matched against each other with one, of course, assured of a spot in the semis.

Campbell, captain of the last U.S. Walker Cup team, was favored over George Knudson of Canada, Conrad over Joe LeBlanc of Canada, and Baxter over the lone Mexican survivor, Juan Antonio Estrada.

Sooners Get Cooled by Colorado Snows

BOULDER, Colo. (AP)—Snow and cold weather accompanied Oklahoma, the nation's No. 1 football team, to Colorado but improved weather is expected tomorrow when the Sooners play unranked Colorado before a sellout crowd of 47,000.

The Oklahomans worked out in snow and freezing weather yesterday at Denver, 28 miles southeast of here. Coach Bud Wilkinson planned a light drill today. The team will go by bus tomorrow morning to Boulder.

Wilkinson and the 35 players had a rough flight from Norman, Okla., to Denver. The plane flew through the storm front that sifted two inches of snow on the Denver-Boulder area.

Macklin field at Michigan State is named for John F. Macklin who served as head football coach for the Spartans from 1911 through 1915.

NBA Has Full Card

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

After a sparse opening week schedule of seven games, the National Basketball Assn. swings into full-time operation with a complete slate of games tomorrow.

The Syracuse Nationals, Eastern Division leaders with a 2-0 record, will be in Buffalo to meet the St. Louis Hawks, top club in the West with a 1-0 mark.

L. C. Morgan, Meridian, Miss., lightweight, won 10 of his first 17 bouts by knockouts.

Southfield Election May Clear Twelve Town Snags

JUST A FEW OF THE FIVE HUNDRED — For over 40 years Holly children have visited the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Haas on Halloween. The number has grown until over 500 masqueraders received gifts there Wednesday evening, including several of the grandchildren of those who first came there. Above are shown some of the guests and their hosts.

Dates Pile Up in December

Court Cases to Follow Southfield's Decision on City Status

Financing its share of the Twelve Town drain might be easier if Southfield becomes a city after its Dec. 3 meeting, but Supervisor Eugene Swem says Southfield could finance it even in its present township state.

Southfield's case against the Twelve Town's assessment goes into Circuit Court on Dec. 4—the day after the election.

But it is two days before the Dec. 6 date when the township would become a city and the newly elected officers would take over. This might require a hold-over on the case, Swem says, but says it's a legal technicality that would bear investigation.

One observer conjectures that this "up in the air" status might be the reason that the Troy case against the Twelve Towners, also protesting assessment, has been set over until Dec. 6.

Troy's city attorney had been seeking a postponement, hoping to find some eventuality by which to withdraw from the assessment for draining some 900 acres of its land.

Then, early this week, the Twelve Town attorney asked postponement in Judge H. Russel Holland's court.

Supervisor Swem has led the Southfield battle against its assessment for the $35 million drain project.

"It would take over half a mill of our 15 mills," Swem says.

"We could pay it, but it's not fair to the residents, especially those not in the 325-acre area served by the drain, to have assessment over the entire Southfield area.

"It would mean giving up rubbish pickup, much work on roads, and possibly our city planner and commission," he added.

"We only had one mill this year, and they tried to reduce that. Other mills of the 15 go for county roads and schools," Swem explains.

As a city, Southfield would be able to vote higher millage, being freed from the state constitutional restriction to 15 mills for statute or charter government.

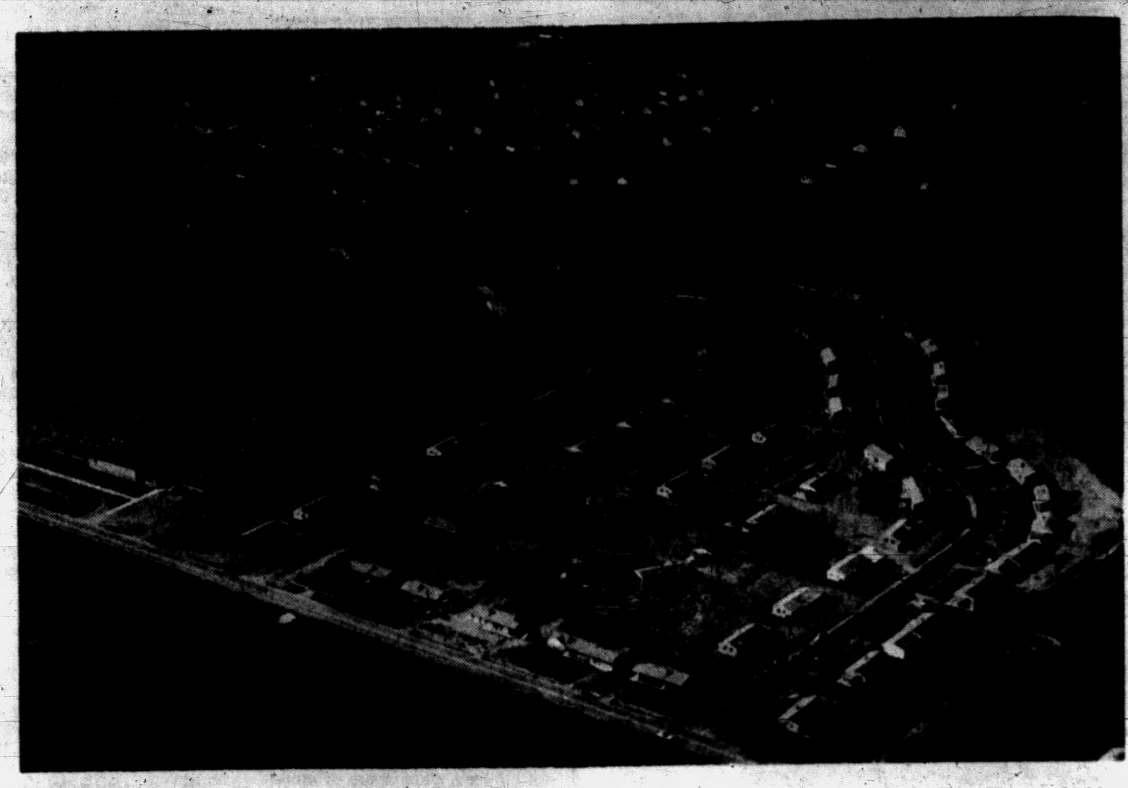

But Swem, running for mayor of the city that may be approved Dec. 3, does not feel that residents should have to pay on an area-wide basis for draining of only a half-mile in size.

If Don Swanson or Howard Coleman, or any other candidate who joins the contest before the petition deadline, becomes mayor, he may or may not agree with Swem's Inkster-Nine-Mile area view.

Swanson, a board trustee, is a governor's appointee in his post as Michigan State Fair manager.

Coleman is well known in the township for leading in the drive sometime ago to incorporate Southfield Park in the Greenfield-Inkster-Nine-Mile area.

Both are Democrats and Swem is a Republican.

Plans already have been approved for a seven room addition to be opened next September.

Romeo High Plans Revised

Board Orders Cutback for Second Time; Sets Deadline in Week

ROMEO — Architects and engineers working on plans for a new $600,000 high school were given a week to complete revisions of original specifications by the Romeo Board of Education meeting in special session last night.

Bids totaling some $840,000 — or more than $240,000 over the district building budget or about $17.50 per square foot — were rejected Sept. 27.

The architect, who had been given four weeks to revise his plans had last week given a new figure of $14.50. The engineers had cut costs on the original specifications — not as revised by the architect — to $16.

Last night's ultimatum came after the board learned that no calls to check on changes had been made between the engineer and architect.

Both agreed they would probably have to reduce the building size by about 6,000 square feet to cut costs. Their plans will be submitted at next Thursday's board meeting.

Milk of Human Kindness

MMPA Hits Harmony

EAST LANSING (AP)—The milk of human kindness overflowed at an unusual meeting of the Michigan Milk Producers Assn. yesterday.

During the past several years, meetings of the some 400 delegates or the 60,500 farmer members have been rocked by bitter factional fights.

Last year, delegates nearly came to blows in a floor fight between conservative association members and a group that wanted to back the "Fair Share" milk strike for higher prices.

But there was only harmony Thursday at the 40th annual meeting at Michigan State University.

Howard F. Simmons of Detroit, association secretary - manager, said satisfaction with the new price of $5.35 per hundredweight for raw milk is the basic cause of the harmony.

Simmons also said an all-time high in milk sales was reached by the association during the year. Raw milk sales of 2,095,852,888 pounds produced 89 million dollars, he said, seven million dollars more than was paid for 2,019,676,637 pounds of raw milk the previous year.

He worked for the Pere Marquette railroad and Henry M. Wallace Co. of Detroit before joining the Free Press as an advertising clerk in 1915.

Oldtimers Recall Stage Coaches, Indian Tales

Walled Lake Boasts Churches, Ample Amusement

Editor's Note: This is the fifth in a series of articles describing Walled Lake's swift development.

Churches as well as factories and schools are participating in Walled Lake's rapid growth.

Last April the beautiful new St. William Catholic Church was completed. It has a seating capacity for some 850 worshippers and is of contemporary architecture.

The Walled Lake Presbyterian Church has just purchased a site for a new church on Welch Road, where building operations are expected to begin soon.

Expansion in the entertainment field is exemplified in the fact that two outdoor theaters, the Walake on West Maple Road, and the Commerce Drive-in on Haggerty Road, have been built during the current year. These are in addition to the indoor Lake Theater in downtown Walled Lake.

Biggest institution in the amusement field in the whole area is the Walled Lake Park Co. This company operates a huge amusement park on East Walled Lake Drive. It operates a roller coaster, slides, bathing beach, boat rentals, eating establishment, dance hall and other amusement facilities.

One of Walled Lake's older residents, to whom its current growth is of especial interest, is Alex Kay. He has lived on East Walled Lake Drive in recent years and formerly owned a home on West Main Street.

Kay first came to Walled Lake in August of 1888, when he drove over from Wixom with a horse and buggy.

Kay was superintendent of the Boydell White Lead and Color Co. in Detroit for many years, but came out to Walled Lake during the summer months, renting a cottage on the lake.

"We used to pay $7 a week at first," he recalls. "Then it went up to $15, then $20. I had rented the same cottage for many years and when its owner told me the rent would be $25 a week, I told him 'not for me'.

Kay recalls that when he first came to Walled Lake one could buy frontage for $10 a front foot. Practically the whole shore line was farm land. There were only two large frame houses on the east shore, then down toward the southern end were two farm houses.

The Post Office in those early days was where Gilliams store now stands. There were two big orchards on Novi Road, and only two farm houses stood between Walled Lake and Novi. Grand River Road then was a gravel road used by the stage coaches that ran between Detroit and Lansing.

Walled Lake's growth is not surprising to Kay. "Detroit is growing this way", he says. "We have good schools and the people want to get out where they can have more room for their children. We are bound to keep on growing".

Jacob Tayler is another old resident who is watching Walled Lake's current development with interest. He is in his thirtieth year in the automobile business, having held the Chevrolet and Olds dealership for many years.

His grandparents came to Walled Lake in 1831 and he recalls hearing his grandmother tell of encountering a group of Indians at the spot downtown where the Standard Oil station now stands. She was riding with her family in an oxcart, and the Indians fled after a brief scuffle.

"Detroit is expanding mostly to the north and west", he says. "We have the lakes and we will get our share of the people."

Lights to Shine in Troy

Sirens to Start Drive Tonight for Goodfellows

TROY—Troy Goodfellows will start, when sirens at both fire stations blow at 7 p.m. tonight to canvas the city to boost their funds, depleted by emergency aids. They expect to complete their drive by 9 p.m.

They ask that residents turn on their porch lights to welcome solicitors.

Another event slated for funds is a Theater party at the Troy Drive-In Theater on East Maple road and Stevenson Highway next Wednesday evening. Solicitors will be selling tickets tonight.

Funds are down, says LeRoy Weaver, president, because fund-raising last year was hampered by the Metropolitan newspaper strikes at that time. In other years, Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners have been arranged by the group, stockings have been stuffed for Yule gifts, and aid has been furnished families who could not wait for federal aid, especially burned-out residents.

Tickets may be procured for the event from firemen or policemen, at the police station or city hall.

Pot-O-Gold Answers Are Explained

The following are explanations for the correct answers to Pot-O-Gold Puzzle No. 21 which appeared in last week's Press.

1. FAN is right. A Fad is a popular craze so that it is superfluous to mention its popularity. A FAN, a person or a thing, would have to be popular to be welcomed everywhere.

2. ORE is better. Mistreatment of shad Roe would be awkward phrasing. Mistreatment of a roe (kind of deer) would be a sign of cruelty rather than ignorance. Mistreatment of ORE (mineral matter to be converted into metal) would result in a very poor product, or no product at all. This could be assigned very well to ignorance.

3. WING is right. Flightless birds are much rarer than songless ones, so it is logical to assume that most birds fly rather than that most birds sing. With this in mind, choose WING (fly). Birds must develop past the fledgling stage in order to WING properly, and thus leave the nest. The greatest development, as in adult birds, cannot make a songless bird Sing.

4. FROG suits better. A FROG (full-grown adult, no longer a tadpole) is a finished form, and is subject only to minor changes, as of size. A Form is so comprehensive a term, and subject to such an infinite variety of changes in nature, that it can't be the choice. All forms must change to achieve maturity, even though the mature state is rather stable.

5. GRIP is the choice. Reference to a specific "kind" is the clue, because a Grip can be a special one, as the grip of a lodge or secret order. This appraises the handshaker of a common fellowship and helps pave the way to a better acquaintanceship. A GRIN is a very subjective thing, and as such, is interpreted differently by different people.

6. CHAIN is right. The urgency of the words "utterly dependable" favors an answer that is of greater importance than the safety of a single person. Granted a Chair should be dependable, and usually is. A CHAIN is an important part of many machines, and its strength must be utterly dependable. Many lives can conceivably hings on the strength of a CHAIN, as in an elevator, ship, etc.

7. TUN is right. Use of the word "liquid" in the clue makes TUN the choice. A TUN is a wine or liquor cask of varying capacity, but any given one has a specific (an exactly determined) capacity. Any Tub used for liquids also have such a capacity. But many TUBS are not used for liquids (butter tubs, coal tubs, etc.), and this eliminates tub.

8. CURT is right. There is no doubt of a tendency to curb speech (restrain free utterance and criticism) in dictatorships. To avoid such a serious understatement, choose CURT (brief, laconic) speech. CURT speech would be the tendency among secret critics of a regime greatly afraid of reprisal.

9. EARL is right. King Lear, the Shakespearean character, actually belongs to the world at large, a part of the literary heritage all people may enjoy, even though the king was distinctly British. EARL is more apt because it suits the word "noble" a good deal better. It is an understatement to call a king a "noble." And EARL is a noble exclusively English, found in no other country.

10. TIME is more apt. The implication is that a person would mind somewhat, if not too much, in surrendering something to a worthy cause. A mite (very small contribution) would be minded a good deal less than TIME. Most people are reluctant to surrender TIME even for a worthy cause.

11. THIEF is right. Faith is practically synonymous with "utmost confidence" in this case. It would be a redundant choice. A THIEF would require the utmost confidence to dare a dangerous project.

12. RUSTLE is better. The satin may be petticoats, out of sight, so its luster, however noticeable when exposed, would not usually be in evidence. RUSTLE is a sound, and when satin is in motion, as when someone is walking or dancing, the RUSTLE is especially noticeable.

13. TEACH is right. Fagin, a villain in "Oliver Twist," taught youngsters to steal. The word "usually" in the clue implies an exception, and of course, young Oliver's character was the exception. If Fagin tried to cheat the youngsters, this was not so ruinous to character as what he tried to TEACH them.

14. COUP is better. A poultry farmer may be satisfied with an especially good coop for his fowl, but the word "delighted" is more applicable to COUP. An especially good COUP (stroke of business) would delight him.

15. CHAFE is right. The main interest in a refugee's life must be escape and attainment of a new, safe home. If pursuit is dogged, it will CHAFE (vex and irritate) him more than anything. Chase can be eliminated because it is equivalent to pursuit, and thus repetitious.

16. COUNTY is right. Bounty as generosity, or as a payment for the destruction of animal pests, would be unsuitable to the word "often" in the clue. People seek the latter kind of BOUNTY to help them only occasionally, as it means that a person must be a hunter, there must be pests, and a BOUNTY is being offered. The mention of "rural areas" points to the need of rural folk who must often depend on the COUNTY for all kinds of help, as to roads, local law enforcement, etc.

Traffic Deaths Increase to New All-Time High

CHICAGO (AP)—Traffic deaths in the United States are climbing at Record-smashing speed.

The National Safety Council so announced last night. And the council president, Ned H. Dearborn, stated: "This is the darkest year in the history of traffic accident prevention."

The council reported that:

More Americans were killed in motor vehicle accidents in September than in any previous month of this year.

The September toll was 3,690—a rise of 7 per cent from the corresponding month of last year.

It was the 19th consecutive month to show an increase over the same month of the previous year.

The toll for the first nine months of this year is 29,030, an increase of 8 per cent over a similar period last year.

The 9-month tally is a new high for that span of time. The former record, set in 1937, was 28,138.

With figures for the final three months still to be tallied, fatalities are zooming toward the full-year record of 39,969 set in 1941.

Dearborn said the council will put all its resources to work in a special campaign called "back the attack" in an effort to halt the sharp rise in deaths on the streets and highways. The campaign starts in December.

The council stated that the toll seems to be rising faster than the increase in travel.

Mileage statistics are available only for the first seven months of this year. But in that period the rate was calculated at 6 deaths per 100 million miles of motoring. In the corresponding period last year the rate was 5.8.

Voting Machine Test Favors Ike, Williams

LANSING (AP)—All offices except that of governor were cinched by Republicans, returns from a practice machine at the Lansing City Hall showed today.

The machine was set up to give voters practice on pulling the levers. Results of the vote were compiled at the end of three days.

President Eisenhower led candidates of both tickets, receiving 346 against 264 for Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic candidate.

Gov. Williams, the only Democratic candidate to survive in predominantly Republican Lansing, won by a seven-vote margin over Detroit Mayor Albert E. Cobo, 308-301.

Convict Held in Girl's Death

Victim, 18, Killed in Bed as Family Friend Plays Russian Roulette

DETROIT (AP) — An 18-year-old girl was shot to death in her bed in Nankin Township last night. An ex-convict friend of the family, who police said intruded into the girl's bedroom after a drinking party with her parents, was held for investigation.

Wayne County Detective Richard Novak said Aaron Dimett, 34, of Ypsilanti, told him he started to described the game of Russian roulette to the girl, Mary Jane Turner, but she ordered him from the room.

"Dimett said he pulled the trigger twice with the gun against his own head, but it didn't go off," Novak said. The third time he put the gun over her right eye, fired and the gun went off, killing the girl instantly.

Novak described Dimett as a former inmate of the Indiana State penitentiary where he served time for armed robbery.

Novak said Dimett and Miss Turner's stepfather, Louis Sellier, and her mother, Margaret, had several drinks from a bottle Dimett brought to their home. Miss Turner did not join in the party.

Heart Attack Fatal to Italy Hero Badoglio

GRAZZANO BADOGLIO, Italy (AP)—Thousands of Italian war veterans assembled in this north Italian village to pay homage to Marshal Pietro Badoglio, 85, their wartime leader, who died early today.

The late marshal's relatives have come here from Rome and Milan to decide on arrangements for the funeral, which is to be carried out at state expense and with military honors.

The old soldier, who rode in triumph into Addis Ababa in 1936 and who was chosen by the late King Vittorio Emmanuele III to replace the dictator Mussolini in 1943, had long been retired from public life.

Badoglio died of an asthmatic heart attack.

First geology course in the U. S. was taught in Yale in 1809.

Grains Decline as War Wanes

CHICAGO (AP) — Grains turned downward in fairly active dealings on the Board of Trade today.

A feeling that the fighting in the Middle East will be localized appeared to be the main factor behind the selling. Losses ran to a couple of cents in soybeans at the extreme. That was the weakest commodity.

Wheat also was under considerable pressure as western sections of the Great Plains received moisteur in the form of snow. Oats resisted selling better than anything else.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to 1⅝ lower, December $2.35¾, corn ¼ to ⅞ lower, December $1.38¼; oats ⅛ to ⅝ lower, December 79⅞; rye unchanged to ¼ lower, December $1.58½; soybeans ¾ to 1½ lower, November $2.47, and lard 20 to 22 cents a hundred pounds lower, November $11.52.

Angry Caller Rips Out Phone, Fires Shotgun

A Clawson man, John Brokelmeyer, 53, has 89 days left in Oakland County Jail to cool his anger at the telephone.

Brokelmeyer was sentenced to 90 days yesterday by Clawson Justice Harry R. McQuinn. He pleaded guilty to illegal use of firearms.

Police say Brokelmeyer, angered at a long-distance operator, wrenched out the wallphone in his home at 634 E. 11 Mile Rd. Wednesday, then fired a shotgun at telephone wires leading to his house.

He explained the operator could not understand his directions, police said.

Brokelmeyer also was fined $10 and assessed $25 costs.

Heavy Snows Hit Northern States; Blizzard on Way

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Weather Bureau today issued a special blizzard warning for extreme northwest Kansas, western Nebraska and western South Dakota.

It said a large and intense storm centered at 5 a.m. (CST) over western Kansas and moving eastward would blow snow across the area on winds ranging from 30 to 60 miles an hour and produce hazardous conditions.

The storm already had raged for several hours in eastern Colorado, with six inches of snow and drifts up to 25 inches deep around Akron, Colo.

Winds reached 55 miles an hour at Akron and Sidney, Neb., and the blowing snow reduced visibility to an eighth of a mile. Sidney had an inch of snow, with drifts to 10 inches, by 5 a.m.

Winter's lash of snow and cold hit Colorado and Wyoming yesterday and the Weather Bureau in Denver saw little prospect of a letup before Friday night or Saturday morning.

A Canadian cold front collided with a southern warm air mass yesterday and touched off the storm.

Temperatures dropped below freezing. The lowest early today was one below zero at Big Piney, in western Wyoming.

The storm shouldered into southeastern Wyoming and central and eastern Colorado from the West late yesterday and early today.

Drought-stricken areas in eastern Colorado received some relief. Limon, in that sector, had 3 inches of snow on the ground shortly after midnight. Denver also measured 3 inches.

More than a foot of snow piled up in some mountain passes.

Nasser Rumor Spurs Market

NEW YORK (AP)—Continued upward progress was made by the Stock market today in fairly active early trading.

Key issues went ahead from fractions to around a point but oils rose two points or more.

A rumor President Nasser of Egypt had resigned swept Wall Street and stimulated oil buying. Although the rumor could not be confirmed immediately, it was reported "smart buyers" in Switzerland and Amsterdam were heavy buyers of oil shares.

Royal Dutch advanced more than two points and Gulf Oil about two, both stocks being deeply involved in Middle East oil sources. Amerada, a big domestic producer, rose around two in sympathy while Texaco picked up a fraction.

But steels, after early firmness, showed a settling tendency as U. S. Steel and Bethlehem took small losses. Jones & Laughlin, however, was ahead around a point while Republic and Youngstown stood firm.

In other major divisions the rise was fairly general except for rails where there was some spottiness among the leaders. New York Central gained while Southern Railway lagged a bit.

Motors were steady. Gains of about a point were scored by Alcoa, Allied Chemical, American Tobacco and Douglas Aircraft.

Among opening blocks were Curtiss-Wright up ¼ at 41 on 2,500 shares, General Motors up ⅛ at 46⅝ on 1,500 and Gulf Oil up 1⅝ to 112 on 2,000.

Clifford Freeman, 38, 21384 Majestic St., Ferndale, was bound over to the Oakland County Circuit Court after an examination Thursday on an assault with intent to murder charges.

He was remanded to the Oakland County Jail under $10,000 bond following the hearing before Royal Oak Township Justice Delbert W. Hunt.

Freeman was arrested last Oct. 11 on the charge that he allegedly shot and wounded a man and woman inside a Ferndale home.

Ostrander was formerly vice president over the three divisions and will report directly to the company president and chairman of the board.

Cassidy was formerly general manager of the Steel Division.

Cassidy announced that W. J. Reilly, general manufacturing manager of the Steel Division, has been moved up to division general manager to succeed him.

Record Albums to Be Available at City Library

The Pontiac Library will offer a new 74-album record collection for circulation beginning Monday, Miss Phyllis Pope, city librarian, announced today.

Miss Pope added that a new book circulation policy of four weeks with no renewal, instead of two weeks, would become effective Nov. 5 also.

The long-playing record collection will be available at the Main Library, 47 Williams St. The records are classical, semi-classical and semi-popular. They may be borrowed at two cents per record per day.

Miss Pope said she hoped to expand this service to the branches as well as increase the size of the new collection.

The majority of the books at the library can be borrowed for four weeks with no renewal in an effort to "simplify library use for the borrower and to streamline circulation procedures," the librarian said.

Magazines, new fiction, pamphlets, and circulated copies of reference books will remain on a seven-day basis.

Sen. Brown, a Democrat who is endorsing Eisenhower, will speak at 5 p.m. in Community Baptist Church at 123 Wesson St.

She will be accompanied by Dr. Austin Curtis, formerly assistant to Booker T. Washington and now director of the Curtis Laboratories in Detroit.

Sen. Brown will be introduced by Robert C. Miller, Republican candidate for state representative from Pontiac.

ROCHESTER — Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has announced plans for a grade separation to carry M150 over the Grand Trunk Western Railroad just south of Rochester.

The existing bridge, 810 feet long, will be reconstructed and widened, Ziegler said. He added the project will be completed Nov. 30, 1957.

Faulty Brake Mishap Injures Royal Oak Man

One driver was hurt and the other ticketed for driving with defective brakes as the result of a two-car accident in Troy last night.

Eunice Shellnut, 27, of 2061 Garry St., Royal Oak, was treated and released by St. Joseph Mercy Hospital for a minor back injury. Ticketed by Troy police was Robert K. Weaver, of 1891 Milverton Rd., Royal Oak.

Weaver told investigators he could not stop and rammed into the rear of the Shellnut car at the intersection of John R. road and Virginia street.

Michigan Apples Keep 1½ Billion Doctors Away

LANSING (AP)—If just the cores from Michigan's 1956 apple crop were laid end to end, they would stretch six times around the world or halfway to the moon.

That's one way of saying the State had a bumper apple harvest—more than 10½ million bushels, according to Hollard F. Patterson, executive secretary of the Michigan Apple Commission.

Patterson said growers harvested some 1½ billion apples. The yield is the second largest on record and valued at around 20 million dollars.

Michigan's crop is the third largest in the nation, only behind Washington and New York, Patterson said.

40 VARIETIES

Of the 40 some varieties marketed by an estimated 2,300 growers, Jonathan, McIntosh, Northern Spy, Red Delicious and Wealthy are most popular, Patterson said.

Michigan is the top producer in the nation of Northern Spies.

"This year's apple crop is superior in quality, flavor and color and Michigan growers are in a good marketing situation because nationwide production is down," Patterson said.

96-Year-Oldster Returns to City to Vote for Ike

Pontiac recorded a vote yesterday from 96-year-old A. F. Marsh—believed to be the city's oldest voter.

Marsh, a city commissioner back in 1917, returned to Pontiac again to cast his absentee ballot in another presidential election. He votes absentee as he spends the winters in Florida, according to his son, Howard C., 28 Mohawk Rd.

Marsh came to Pontiac in 1887 as a carpenter and later operated a grocery store across from the courthouse.

He served on the three-man City Commission from 1917 to 1919 when it convened in the original city hall, razed a year ago at Pike and Mill streets.

Asked if he'd disclose who he voted for, Marsh said: "Why, I've always been a Republican and I hope Ike can get back in office again."

City clerk records reveal that Marsh has regularly cast his vote in presidential elections with the exception of 1944.

Decision Due Today on Who Controls S-P

DETROIT (AP) — Stockholders of Studebaker-Packard Corp. expect to learn today whether they have agreed to let Curtiss-Wright Corp. take over management of the auto firm.

A stockholders meeting recessed from Wednesday was recessed anew yesterday. Spokesmen for election inspectors said they had not then completed a tally of voting on three proposals to give Curtiss-Wright control.

Studebaker - Packard executives have forecast overwhelming approval.

Votes representing 5,100,000 of Studebaker-Packard's 6,440,000 outstanding shares were voted by the 500 stockholders who attended Wednesday's meeting or by proxy.

Fairy Tale Turns Into TV Musical

Celeste Holm Portrays Witch in November 12 Extravaganza

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Sometimes the cast of a television program is swept by an enthusiasm in rehearsal that almost invariably promises a good show.

This is the case with the cast of "Jack and the Beanstalk" which comes on the home screen via NBC-TV Nov. 12—8 to 9:30 p.m., EST—as this season's third offering of "Producers' Showcase."

"Jack and the Beanstalk" is a musical extravaganza written for television and is based, of course, on the nursery tale which has been traced as far back as 1790—and possibly beyond.

This information was furnished by Celeste Holm, the beautiful and talented singer and actress who has happily accepted the role of Mad Meggie, the witch.

"The story of 'Jack and the Beanstalk' has even been traced to India," said the bewitching and most un-witchlike Miss Holm the other day as she interrupted rehearsals with Cyril Ritchard and the large cast of the musical.

"It's a wonderful story, with wonderful music, and as Helen Deutsch has written it, there is something in it for everyone. What used to bother me about the story as a child was the 'why' of it. Why did Jack do what he did and why did—well, there are so many 'whys' that they are finally going to be answered."

Miss Holm, who has been seen most recently on the nation's movie screens in "The Tender Trap" and "High Society," accepted the role for the same and only reason she will take any television role—because she likes it.

Speaking of children's tales, "The Wizard of Oz" will be presented this Saturday evening by "MAD MEGGIE" — Celeste Holm plays the whimsical "Mad Meggie," who emerges into a beautiful woman, in "Jack and the Beanstalk." The musical production based on the famous fairy tale will be colorcast on NBC-TV's "Producers' Showcase" Nov. 12.

"Ford Star Jubilee" from 9 to 11 p.m., EST, Judy Garland will star in a cast that includes Frank Morgan, Ray Bolger, Bert Lahr, Jack Haley, Margaret Hamilton, Charley Grapewin and Billie Burke.

Girl, 7, Leads Children From Blazing House

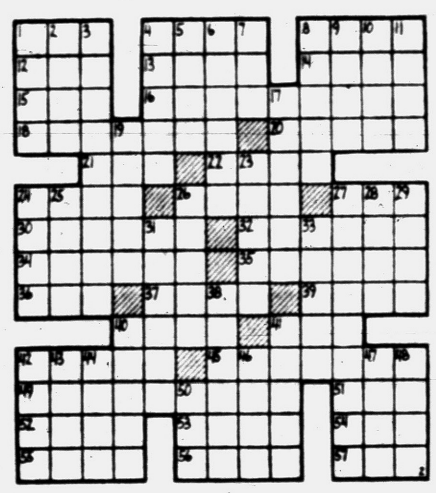

MOUNT STERLING, Ky. (AP)—When Cathy Ann Carpenter, 7, was told by her parents to take care of her younger sisters and brother, she did just that.

As flames ate through their three-room home, Cathy led Linda Lou, 5, Coleman, 4, and Peggy Ann, 18 months, to safety.

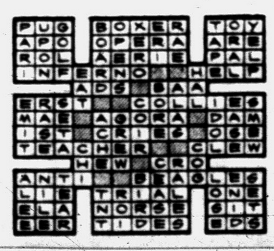

Fire chief Edgar Stone said a defective flue probably started the blaze.

Rail Unions Win Raises, Benefits

Sign Long-Term Pact Geared to Living Costs for 700,000

CHICAGO (AP)—The National Railway Mediation Board announced today that the nation's railroads and 11 nonoperating unions, representing some 700,000 workers, have reached agreement on a long-term wage contract.

The board said the new pact calls for a first-year wage increase of 10 cents an hour effective yesterday, 7 cents an hour Nov. 7, 1957, and another 7 cents an hour Nov. 1, 1958.

Th railroads agreed to apply an additional 2½-cent wage increase, or $4.25 a month per employe, toward the cost of an employe dependents hospital, medical and surgical plan.

Negotiators said a cost-of-living escalator clause is provided. Pay rates will increase or decrease a cent an hour for each half-point change in the government's cost-of-living index. Adjustments will be made beginning May 1, 1957, and each six months thereafter.

Railroad representatives placed the first year cost of the agreement at 330 million dollars when extended to cover both nonoperating and operating employes. The two subsequent 7 cent increases will each add 185 million, the representatives said.

Still in mediation are disputes affecting some 200,000 operating railmen—the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Switchmen's Union of North America.

English seaside towns have the jitters about unexploded mines from wartime. The Bomb Disposal Unit has a waiting list of resorts wanting beaches checked.

Ohio Mayor Plans Noisy Get-Out-the-Vote Drive

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—Mayor Frank X. Kryzan, a Democrat, has announced a noisy plan for getting out the vote next Tuesday.

In a proclamation he asked that between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m. —

Fire trucks and police cruisers sound their sirens.

Churches ring bells.

Places with air raid sirens, let 'em blast.

One-half of all U. S. high school students have summer jobs.

WARREN, Conn. (AP) — As long as anyone can remember, there's been no good reason not to call the big yellow cat at Rob's Ridge Farm "Davy Crockett." That is, until recently when "Davy" gave birth to a litter of nine kittens.
