

Biggest N-Blast in History Planned by Soviets

K C Cancels Deadline on German Treaty

MOSCOW (AP)—Premier Khrushchev announced today the most awesome blast ever set off by man, a nuclear bomb equal to 50 million tons of TNT, will be exploded by the Soviet Union Oct. 31.

The Soviet premier made the disclosure in a speech opening the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress. He declared the Soviet Union no longer will insist on signing a German peace treaty by the end of this year—as he has been threatening.

The speech was reported by the Soviet news agency Tass. Western reporters were barred from hearing him.

The 50-million-ton bomb is half the size of the one that Khrushchev previously said the Soviet Union was planning.

He said the Soviet Union has a 100-million-ton bomb "but we do not intend to explode it."

"If we happen to explode it in the wrong place, we might break our own windows," he explained. "May God grant that we never have to explode such a bomb."

LAST IN SERIES
The 30-million-ton blast, he added, will be the last in the current series of Soviet nuclear tests, which started Sept. 1.

Twenty test bombs have been exploded in the present series, according to reports by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

The 50-megaton blast set for Oct. 31 is the first of the series to be announced by the Soviet Union and the only one ever announced in advance.

Such an explosion would be 2-500 times bigger than the U.S. atomic bomb which hit Hiroshima in 1945. It would be perhaps five times larger than the biggest device so far exploded in the Soviet series. Japan's Central Meteorological Agency estimated the biggest so far was a 16-megaton bomb tested Oct. 6.

The biggest bomb in the U.S. arsenal is believed to be of about the equivalent of 20 million tons (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8)

WASHINGTON (AP)—A 50-megaton bomb such as Soviet Premier Khrushchev says the Soviet Union will explode Oct. 31 would dig a hole 400 feet deep and a mile and a half wide and kill almost all persons within seven miles unless they were in well-constructed underground shelters.

That was the estimate given by Dr. Ralph Lapp, a nuclear scientist when questioned by a reporter after Khrushchev told the opening session of the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress of plans for firing a bomb with the equivalent of 50 million tons of TNT.

Lapp used Washington for an example and the White House as an impact point in giving his estimate of damage. His figures would mean that most of the vast complex of federal government buildings would be within the area he said would be instantly converted into a gigantic crater.

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. authorities greeted with restraint today Soviet Premier Khrushchev's removal of his deadline for pushing the Berlin crisis to a head.

Khrushchev told the Communist party congress the Soviet Union will not insist on signing an East German peace treaty by the end of this year, as he had been threatening.

But U.S. officials noted that Khrushchev coupled this with an announcement that the Soviets will set off on Oct. 31 the biggest explosion in the history of mankind—a 50-megaton nuclear bomb which many U.S. strategists feel goes beyond any military use.

Such a bomb would have a force equivalent to 50 million tons of TNT, or 2,500 times the power of the atomic bomb this country exploded in Hiroshima, Japan in World War II.

NO COMMENT
The White House said President Kennedy "will have absolutely no comment" today on Khrushchev's speech.

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said he thought there would be no comment by any other government official, either.

The State Department declined immediate comment.

Much of the Berlin argument has revolved around a difference between Khrushchev and the West over the meaning of words.

President Upset Over Publicity on Allied 'Split'

Cancellation of Meeting by France Causing Lots of Wrong Rumors

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Kennedy today was reported "seriously concerned" that Allied differences on Berlin strategy have been blown out of true proportion.

Aides said Kennedy felt the recent cancellation of Allied strategy talks in London was a trumpet in a teapot, that undue dire significance has been read into it and that all this dangerously damages the Allied cause.

The proposed meeting of Allied foreign office experts was vetoed by France. Widely differing interpretations of the incident quickly began floating around Washington and world capitals.

—French President Charles de Gaulle feared that the United States and Britain would make concessions to Russia on Berlin against the interests of Western Europe—a kind of "sell-out."

—France and ourselves couldn't be closer together in Germany," insisted a ranking U.S. diplomat.

From qualified American and Allied officials here it appeared the actual situation was between these extremes and added up to neither total agreement nor total disorganization among the Allies.

The basic split between the United States and France, officials said, is on whether there should now be any Allied appearance of willingness to negotiate with Russia.

PRESSED THEME
Early in the Berlin crisis Secretary of State Dean Rusk publicly was pressing the theme that there would be negotiations.

De Gaulle is strongly of the view that Berlin is a crisis of Russia's making and that the West should wait until the Soviet Union yields on major points before showing any desire to negotiate. A premature Western negotiating overture, he feels, would show dangerous weakness.

Orange Lights Bring Hope for Jet Crew

NEW YORK (AP)—Two orange flashes of light in lonely North Atlantic darkness brought renewed hope today that the eight man crew of an Air Force jet bomber might be found alive. The B52G disappeared Saturday during Sky Shield II.

A Coast Guard cutter probing the trackless wastes 1,000 miles off New York reported seeing two orange flares.

The first radioed report of the cutter, Abasco of Norfolk, Va., sent a fleet of 21 search planes speeding from the mainland to aid in the search. Two other Coast Guard cutters already were in the area.

A bobbing, yellow object was spotted Monday by a search plane, but it turned out to be a Navy oceanographic device.

Thousands of men and women volunteers, from all walks of life in the Pontiac area, will be getting out all stops day and night to raise the 1961 quota to help the needy who benefit from 54 local, state and national U.F. agencies.

"We're off," declared Wiethorn this morning at the traditional kickoff breakfast attended by 50 campaign leaders at the City Club.

"I feel confident that in the home stretch you will not let up," Wiethorn, manager of the Pontiac plant of Fisher Body Division, EXPORT BRINGS SMILES

The smiles on the faces of the different division chairmen and their many lieutenants were as bright as the sun outside this morning at a meeting at union headquarters.

Thomas E. Wilson, industrial division chairman, told campaign leaders that to date $22,882 had been raised — "so the picture appears very favorable."

In the absence of John P. Nigaman, chairman of the advance gifts section, Wiethorn happily reported this section had contributed to date "at least $32,000 of its quota."

"This is at least on par with last year and maybe a nudge ahead," Wiethorn said.

It is hoped, Wiethorn said, that the women's division, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Nottfänger, "can go zooming over its $27,000 quota."

Reuther first briefed rank-and-file members on bargaining strategy in a meeting at union headquarters. Their plans were kept secret.

The Chrysler bargaining team, led by John D. Leary, vice president for personnel, hasn't seen Reuther since opening day of negotiations 3½ months ago.

Indications were today's session would be limited to preliminary maneuvering, with each team sizing up the other's goals.

Meantime, Reuther has reached agreements with the biggest of the Big Three—General Motors Corp. and Ford Motor Co.—and also with American Motors Corp., the nation's fourth largest auto maker.

Reuther was expected to ask Chrysler to match the settlement made with General Motors last month but not necessarily the lifting put on the GM cake by Ford.

FORD SETTLED
Reuther's decision to put immediate pressure on Chrysler came as the UAW virtually completed settlement of a strike that shut down Ford for 13 days. Ford resumed production at half of its 15 assembly plants with the recall of 35,000 workers.

Ford said four more assembly plants got back into production today and estimated 30,000 hourly employees were on the job. The company planned to have almost all of its 130,000 production workers back Wednesday.

Ford and the UAW virtually have cleaned up all the trouble spots left over from the strike. Local 300 pressed its case daily plant reached an agreement with management today on working conditions.

It was one of two local unions authorized by the union's executive board Sunday to stay on strike.

The only holdout is Local 420 at the Walton Hills stamping plant near Cleveland, Ohio. An extended shutdown of this key plant could seriously cripple Ford's production.

McGuiffey's Readers Stay, Says Board
TWIN LAKES, Wis. (UPI)—The century-old McGuiffey's readers, whether "museum pieces" or "wholesome Americana's," still stay in school here, the Twin Lakes School board decided Monday night.

The board thus reiterated its decision in August to reintroduce the McGuiffey's, which brought cries of outrage from some educators, an ultimatum of cancellation of state school aid and threats of lawsuits.

The books have divided this peaceful resort community of 400 persons into rival groups, one threatening court action to expel McGuiffey from school, the other defending its use.

One educator called the books a "return to the dark ages." Another described them as "far better than today's 'jargon' textbooks."

The versions purchased by the school board were the edition of the McGuiffey's, revised in 1970, not the amended "Golden Rule Series" issued three years ago.

Larry Richter, a seventh grader, said he thought his McGuiffey was "okay," but "one thing I don't like is that some of the words are too hard. We came across the word 'shilling' and we had to look it up and find out how much it means in our money."

Attorney Edwin Zelenka called the introduction of the McGuiffey's "an attempt by a small force of people to invade a public school system and force on the people a political philosophy."

UF Board of Trustees; Mrs. Walter Nottfänger, chairman of the Women's Division; Wiethorn; and Harry Woodman, commercial division chairman. The drive for $672,500 starts today and ends Nov. 10.

UAW Gets Signals on Chrysler

DETROIT (AP)—Walter P. Reuther went into a signal-calling huddle with his United Auto Workers bargaining team today before tackling Chrysler Corp. in the final round of the Big Three auto labor contract negotiations.

Chrysler agreed to meet the UAW president and his team this afternoon for intensified negotiations.

Reuther first briefed rank-and-file members on bargaining strategy in a meeting at union headquarters. Their plans were kept secret.

Three Railroads Under Integration in South

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has announced that three major railroads have ordered racial desegregation of all their facilities in the South. Two of the railroads said later they hadn't been practicing segregation.

Kennedy issued the statement after Dr. Martin Luther King told a news conference that the Justice Department had told him of the desegregation orders put out by the railroads—the Illinois Central, Southern and the Louisville & Nashville.

King, Negro integration leader from Atlanta, conferred Monday with both President Kennedy and his brother, the attorney general.

King said he had been advised the railroads had "issued orders to go into effect immediately, that all facilities, all terminals be desegregated immediately."

DETAILS PLAN

As King was making his announcement, Justice Department officials were preparing a statement detailing the plan.

They said the statement was to have been issued today after confirmation that the order had gone into effect in 10 Southern states—Louisiana, Tennessee, Kentucky, Virginia, Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia, Florida, North Carolina and South Carolina.

Atty. Gen. Kennedy said Justice Department officials had held several meetings with the railroad operators to work out the voluntary desegregation program.

Kennedy said of the railroads: "Their operators represented more than voluntary compliance with the law. It also represents acceptance of a great responsibility to the nation."

In Chicago, Illinois Central President Wayne Johnston said the line had done nothing but comply completely with a 1958 Interstate Commerce Commission ruling banning segregation in interstate transportation.

"All we need," he added, "is to see it enforced. We want to be law-abiding citizens and do the job we're supposed to do."

Warren A. McNeill, director of public relations for the Louisville & Nashville, said the railroad had maintained no segregation in its stations or passenger cars for the past year and a half.

There was no comment from Southern.

Detroit Democrats Call King's Attempt to Sow Ballots 'Shocking' Act

Detroit (UPI)—Rev. Martin Luther King, prominent Negro integration leader, touched off a controversy here today by urging Negro voters to unite and elect one of four Negroes seeking the Democratic nomination in a special Congressional primary election.

King, who is not from Michigan, wrote a pamphlet distributed in the 1st Congressional District, which he said that "if I were a resident" of the district he would vote for Russell S. Brown in today's primary.

Lucien N. Nedzi, chairman of the 1st District Democratic Organization and one of the five white candidates for the party nomination, said of King's statement, "It's a mistake for anyone to appeal for votes on the basis of anything other than qualifications."

Gov. T. John Leavelle, said of the white candidates, and he was "shocked" at King's action and that "it's hard to understand how an individual trying to help his people could do this. He is setting the Negro back many years by this action."

U. S. Rep. Charles C. Diggs Jr., D-Detroit, also urged Negroes in the 1st district to unite behind Brown.

Today's primary is being held to nominate candidates to succeed former Rep. T. M. MacDew, D-Detroit, who has been appointed to a federal judgeship.

Gets 3 to 12 Years in Fatal Shooting

Earl C. White, who shot his stepfather outside a New Hudson home in January, today was sentenced to 3 to 12 years in Jackson Prison by Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

White, 22, of 1910 East Drive, North, pleaded guilty Oct. 3 to second-degree murder just as he was ready to be tried for first-degree murder in the Jan. 21 shooting slaying of William H. Thompson, 29, of the same address.

White, a gas station attendant, shot Thompson, police said, following continued quarreling between his mother and stepfather, an unemployed factory worker. White said Thompson beat his mother.

Also up for public hearing will be a special assessment roll for sidewalk construction on West Princeton near Baldwin Avenue.

Rolls will be confirmed for new curbs and gutters on Stanley Avenue, Kinney to Montclair, and Elm Street, Paddock to Jessie.

He should be a certified public accountant. The auditor shall conduct post-audits as prescribed by law and shall be confirmed by the legislature and to the governor.

"He shall also make such additional reports, conduct such other investigations, and have such powers and duties as may be directed and established by the legislature."

Justices of the peace elected or appointed after July 1962 would have to be under 70 years of age and licensed to practice law in the state, under a proposal submitted by Edward L. Douglas, D-Detroit.

Adoption of a single chamber system for Michigan's legislature—replacing the present Senate and House—was urged today in a resolution filed with the constitutional convention.

The proposal was submitted by Harold North, D-Detroit, professor of constitutional law at the Detroit College of Law, as the convention opened its third week of sessions.

Under the Norris proposal, the single chamber would consist of not less than 100 and not more than 125 representatives. Each would be elected from a single district. The present legislature has 110 members in the House and 34 in the Senate.

Area Teacher Arrested on Morals Charge

A sixth grade teacher in the Waterford Township school system yesterday pleaded guilty to attempting an immoral act with a 17-year-old boy.

Gustave C. Zanolli, 32, of 3129 W. Huron St. will be sentenced Nov. 8 by Circuit Judge William J. Beer. The crime with which he is charged carries a maximum prison sentence of five years or a $2,500 fine.

According to Asst. Prosecutor J. Robert Sterling, Zanolli, a teacher at the Four Towns School, 627 Cooley Lake Road, called the boy, but instead of the boy answering the phone, it was his father, who alerted township police.

Sterling said Zanolli, a bachelor, admitted having homosexual proclivities since he was 15 years old.

Instead of the boy going to Zanolli's residence, a township patrolman arrested Zanolli Oct. 7. Zanolli is in jail under a $300 bond.

When Waterford Township police notified School of Schools William A. Shunk of Zanolli's arrest. Shunk suspended the man "on the spot," he said.

But this in no way implies that we will seek to achieve its triumph by interfering in the internal affairs of other countries. The Day in Birmingham Hills Rotarians to Hear Their District Governor

BIRMINGHAM—Forty-six members of the Birmingham Hills Rotary Club will play host tomorrow noon to Edward S. Tripp, governor of the 68th District of Rotary International.

Tripp, a Yaleist attorney and past president of that city's Rotary Club, will meet first with club directors and then address the club's luncheon meeting at the Fox & Hounds Inn.

The district governor is making a special official visit to each of the 48 Rotary clubs in Southeastern Michigan and Northwestern Ontario.

Reports on community, international, club and vocational service will be presented to Tripp, according to Paul S. Probst, club president.

Tripp is one of 269 district governors supervising the activities of more than 11,000 Rotary clubs which have a membership of 500,000 members and groups in 123 countries throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary clubs are located, they conduct their activities in similar to those of the Birmingham Hills Club because they are based on the same general objectives—developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men.

Other objectives stressed are promoting community better understanding, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of understanding, good will and peace among all the peoples of the world.

The United States Census Bureau said today that questions will be asked in the October Current Population Survey to determine how many children are enrolled in area schools, level of schooling and similar facts.

ABOUT PEASANTS

Of the peasants, he said: "They are the most hospitable people. I had great sympathy with them and found them to be the most sympathetic. I became very attached to some. They are wonderful people and very, very happy with few exceptions."

of TNT. American experts say they are not interested in building a bigger one because present bombs are powerful enough to obliterate any target. They have no doubt Communist Russia has a 100-megaton bomb so not difficult.

Khrushchev said he was dropping his year-end deadline for a German treaty only "if the West agrees to make similar concessions to the German problem."

WILL BE SIGNED

But he said the German peace treaty must be and will be signed, with the Western powers or without them, and he added that the treaty must be signed and admitted to the United Nations.

He also demanded "genuinely equal rights in all U.N. agencies for the three groups of states that have come into being in the world—Socialist, neutralist and imperialist." And he once more demanded that Red China get its "legitimate rights" in the United Nations.

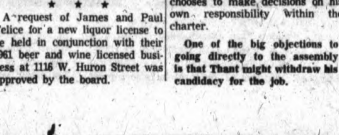

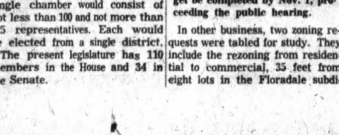

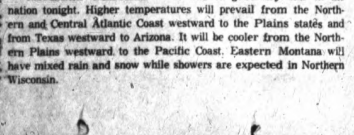

On the question of a German peace treaty, Khrushchev said: "The Soviet government has before now insisted on the speedy conclusion of the German problem, it is against putting it off to infinity."

"If the Western powers display readiness to settle the German problem, the Soviet government will limit for the signing of a German peace treaty will not be so material; we shall not insist that the peace treaty be signed on a means before Dec. 31, 1961."

Khrushchev said that judging from Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko's recent talks with President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, "we had the impression that the Western powers were displaying a certain understanding of the situation and that they were inclined to seek a solution for the German problem and for the West Berlin issue on a mutually acceptable basis."

Michigan Hospitals in 10 Top Employers

EAST LANSING (AP) — Hospitals are among Michigan's 10 largest employers, a Michigan State University researcher says. Michigan hospitals employ some 76,000 persons full or part-time, said Dr. Daniel H. Kruger, associate director of the MSU Labor and Industrial Relations Center.

The figure excludes private doctors, private duty nurses and construction workers who derive income from hospitals, he said.

In a report in the October issue of the Michigan Economic Record, published by the MSU Bureau of Business and Economic Research, Kruger said the total operating expense per patient day in 1960 was $17.46 — compared to a national average of $16.48.

About a third of the hospitals are government-controlled. About three-fifths are voluntary, nonprofit institutions and, of these, one-fourth are church operated, he said.

Federal Reserve Board Blames Auto Strikes and Carla for Decline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Industrial output dropped slightly last month for the first time since February.

The Federal Reserve Board, in announcing the September figures Monday said production had fallen a point to 112 per cent of the 1957 average.

"The decline was caused mostly by automobile strikes and hurricane Carla," the board said.

"Industrial production was curtailed slightly in September, mainly because of work stoppages and unfavorable weather," it said. "Employment in nonfarm establishments changed little, and the unemployment rate remained at the high level prevailing since December."

"Retail sales were unchanged. Bank credit and the seasonally adjusted money supply increased. From mid-September to mid-October, bond yields declined somewhat."

Man Who Led Synagogue Rebuilding Drive Dies

NEW YORK (UPI) — Isidor Kiefer, 90, a leader in the successful effort to rebuild Europe's oldest synagogue, died Monday.

Kiefer was a machine tool manufacturer in Worms, Germany, until he fled here in 1933. The Nazis destroyed the Worms Synagogue in 1938. Kiefer directed an American fund-raising campaign and some of the original ancient stones, saved by a gentile, were used in the reconstruction.

Delegates Ask Many Questions

Discuss Con-Con Issues at Monday's Meeting, Showing Thought

LANSING (AP) — Professor James I. Pollock of the University of Michigan political science department found out Monday night that his newest "class" had done its homework well.

The "students" were Prof. Pollock's 143 fellow delegates to Michigan's constitutional convention.

Last week, Prof. Pollock, one of the nation's most renowned authorities in the field of constitutional law, gave a brief talk on what convention aims should be.

Stephen S. Nisbet, convention president, suggested the delegates give some thought over the weekend to Pollock's remarks and urged that they come back Monday night with questions to develop Dr. Pollock's theme.

The questions and discussion came thick and fast. They ranged from whether Michigan should have a strong governor or a strong legislature, a short constitution or a long one.

Former State Senator Edward Hutchinson, R-Fennville, said Michigan's "present constitution restricts legislative power too much and the restrictions should be reduced."

He urged the new constitution spell out in detail any restrictions that were to be imposed on the legislature and leave the legislature with power to act in other areas.

"Our problem is to weigh the present restrictions on legislative powers and decide what changes to make," said Hutchinson.

Petroleum Man, Age 76, Dies of Heart Attack

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — William B. Way, 76, general manager of the International Petroleum Exposition from 1929 to 1959, died Monday, apparently of a heart attack. Way also was vice president and general manager of Radio Station KVOO for 34 years until he retired in 1956.

Judge Okays Bond for Mickey Cohen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Federal Judge Leon R. Yankwich approved a $100,000 bond Monday for the release of former gambler Mickey Cohen from Alcatraz Prison pending an appeal.

Cohen is appealing from a federal conviction of income tax evasion. An order for his release on bond was made last Thursday by U.S. Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas.

It was not determined when Cohen would be released.

Founder of Noted Grotto Succumbs in Alabama

CULLMAN, Ala. (UPI)—Brother Joseph Michael Zostell, 83, the Benedictine monk who established the internationally known Ave Maria Grotto, died Monday.

The grotto, often called "Little Jerusalem," contains miniature models of holyland buildings and shrines built of stones, bits of glass and bottle tops.

Physicists believe the particles thrown off by the sun are hydrogen protons and electrons. Besides creating the aurora borealis, the particles are responsible for magnetic storms which disrupt radio communication.

$6.75 Billion in Red, Says Dillon

Expect Bigger Deficit in Budget

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon today broke the news of a further expected increase in the federal deficit. This year's budget, he said, will be "somewhat more than $6.75 billion" out of balance.

Dillon said that record harvests—requiring huge farm price support outlays—and the growing postal deficit have caused the red ink to run deeper than expected. But Dillon, in an address for the annual meeting of the American Bankers Association, discounted the possibility that the excess of federal spending over receipts would in itself cause inflation. He also renewed the Kennedy administration's promise of a balanced budget for fiscal 1963, starting next July 1.

"This is exactly what the President intends to submit to the Congress in January," Dillon told the bankers.

Dillon said President Kennedy has intensified his pressure on federal agencies for stricter economy and the postponement of spending and already has produced what he called substantial savings.

The fiscal 1962 budget sent to Congress in January by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower showed a $1.5-billion surplus. Democrats criticized the budget as "political" and "unrealistic." The new administration revised it to show a $2 billion deficit.

In July the Berlin crisis prompted Kennedy's request, quickly granted by Congress, for stepped-up military outlays which increased the prospective deficit to $5.3 billion.

Last month Dillon indicated the deficit might exceed $6 billion. The latest revision, he told the bankers, will come in the Budget Bureau's midyear budget review, compiled each year after Congress has finished its work. Due in two or three weeks, it "will not make happy reading," Dillon said.

Eisenhower Denies Telling JFK of Jets

NEWARK, N. J. (UPI)—Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower categorically denied today that he had told President Kennedy of plans to sell obsolete jet planes to Yugoslavia.

"I did not brief President Kennedy on the sale of the planes, Eisenhower told a news conference here during his day-long tour of campaigning in New Jersey on behalf of former Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell, the Republican candidate for governor.

The sale of the aircraft to Communist Yugoslavia has recently been under fire in Washington. Eisenhower said that the matter of selling surplus jets to Yugoslavia first arose in 1958. The question was how to dispose of obsolete aircraft, he said.

JFK's Program a Loser, Insists Dirksen After Tour

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois said today a cross-country tour has convinced him President Kennedy's legislative program "isn't clicking with the people."

Dirksen suggested in an interview that this is why Kennedy has arranged a series of conferences next month in all sections of the country at which Cabinet members and assistants will try to stir up interest in the New Frontiers program.

"From what people have told me in the Middle West, the Far West and the South," Dirksen said, "the Kennedy program just isn't clicking with the people."

There is real fear of excessive spending which will continue to unbalance the budget.

"This could lead to recreating inflationary pressures, with all of the trouble that spells for the economy."

"DESIRE" TO BALANCE

Kennedy told his news conference last week that he retains a "strong desire" to balance the budget for the year beginning next July 1. But he said he could not predict what military demands would arise which might make this impossible.

The President said a decision will be made later "as to how much we can cut from nondefense expenditures." But Dirksen said he doesn't have much hope that any major reductions will be proposed by the White House in that field.

In addition, the Republican leader said he is certain that what he called built-in increases in outlays will add materially to the difficulties of balancing the budget. He noted that several programs, begun this year with modest expenditures, will draw much more heavily on the treasury next year.

Adenauer Still Favored in Vote

Chancellor's Term Ends Today but Most Believe He Will Be Re-Elected

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Konrad Adenauer's term automatically ends today when Parliament opens, but the 85-year-old chancellor was an odds-on favorite to be re-elected to his fourth term.

West Germany's fourth postwar parliament has been scheduled to open in West Berlin, as in 1953 and 1957, to demonstrate the nation's solidarity with the isolated city.

But the plans were abandoned because of the Berlin crisis and the danger of increasing East-West tensions.

Heading the agenda for the 321 Bundestag (lower house) members elected Sept. 17 was the formation of a new government. President Heinrich Lübke already has asked Adenauer to continue on a caretaker basis until the new chancellor and government are elected.

But observers predicted the new Bundestag would fill the governmental vacuum by re-electing Adenauer to head a coalition government.

Newspapers Guard Free Choice

EDITOR'S NOTE: I, Edward Murray, am managing editor of The Pontiac Press and President of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association.

By J. EDWARD MURRAY
For National Newspaper Week let me re-tell one of the great news stories which probably didn't get much coverage as it happened.

I refer to the birth of freedom.

We don't know why, but we do know how man first began to use free choice. He began to sculpt, to make images of gods, to draw and to paint.

Freedom had been born. Evolution had forked. The old animal branch leveled off. Progress, henceforth, would be along the new fork, along the rough road of free choice which was to lead to the dignity of man.

Conscience appeared, and with it man's moral, ethical, religious and spiritual quality.

Language appeared, aiding the development of aesthetic and intellectual powers.

Tradition appeared, embodying the best of what had been learned. This could now be passed from one generation to the next by speech and writing, thus incredibly speeding evolution.

But there was one difficult rule for progress along the new road.

Each man had to choose by and for himself to climb the new incline.

The choice was always painful, because it meant that the individual had to renounce the instinctual-physical-sensual habits of millions of years, his old animal habits from the other fork.

Besides, there was also the suffering resulting from bad choices, for man did not always choose peace, tolerance, temperance, respect for his fellows.

So freedom was any easier in the beginning than it is now. But it was and is the key to all that is human in man's nature.

National Newspaper Week emphasizes once again the importance of the newspaper's basic purpose in a democratic society. That purpose is to serve as one of the guardians of freedom.

First and foremost, the newspaper provides all the important news, that is, the information necessary for intelligent free choices by free men.

The news must be fair and impartial. This requires basic honesty.

The news must be complete. This requires expensive coverage and newsprint. Advertisers not only help pay the high costs, but in their own way, they provide news important to intelligent buying decisions in a free market.

The news must also reflect a free people to themselves—their religion, education, art, science, sport, and much else—so they can guide by their own reflection. This requires taste and judgment.

Sometimes it also calls for resistance to the temptation to give the readers as much crime, sex andphony glamour as they want.

Secondly, a newspaper guards freedom by commenting forcefully on the news, giving wise guidance on the one hand, and on the other, the salutary example of that independent, informed and vigorous advocacy which the citizen himself must exhibit to be a good citizen. This requires character.

These are the newspaper's prime services to freedom: news and comment. Because they are so important, anything less than complete integrity in their performance in a free society seems a despicable thing, a perversion of one of freedom's foundations.

There are other ways of judging a newspaper's service to freedom.

How, does it treat tradition, that great ally of freedom on the new fork of evolutionary progress? Does the newspaper help preserve and transmit the best that man has learned?

How does the newspaper portray freedom's goals on the new spiritual incline: the moral, the aesthetic, the intellectual?

Ideally, again, the good newspaper serves both tradition and these spiritual goals.

Finally, how does the newspaper treat freedom's great enemies?

Ideally, the good newspaper—exposes the lawbreaker;—defends the people's right to know all public business;—seeks out and publicizes the dishonest official;—opposes the first sign of the dictatorial control of the press;—fights communism as the main enemy of freedom.

It is easy to see why communism is both the symbol and essence of non-freedom, and hence of non-value.

It glorifies the physical, material and sensual; denies God; fosters dictatorial government which sharply limits individual participation; perverts and falsifies both history and tradition; and deliberately uses immoral means to gain its ends—all actions antithetical to freedom and its new spiritual goals for man.

Even in fighting freedom's great enemies, newspapers do not always perform ideally.

But readers expect them to. And such expectation is high tribute. It underlines the importance of newspapers to freedom.

Potato Champ

Appears to Be Oxford Man When Size Is the Measure

Pumpkin: Where a great old poem says the frost is now on. Shock: Where the same poem says the fodder is. Modern poet: Most of which shock and frost are.

Potatoes that weigh up to three pounds or more are being dug by Charles Leach of Oxford. They are of the "Sebago" variety.

When it is remembered that it requires less than 20 of such tubers to make a bushel, it can be seen that Mr. Leach exhibits championship stuff. We hereby declare him the Oakland County champion, and challenge any other potato raiser in the United States to match his record. This variety boils or bakes into the best of a fluffy meal, but is lousy in calories. It is the nemesis of any diet addict. These potatoes surely go to waist—and that's the way to sell it.

The autumn foliage display in the Pontiac area is now at its best and promises to remain good for the rest of this week, depending largely on the rainfall.

According to the observations of Barney Fernald of Cass Lake, who has watched it several years, the southern migration of wild geese is now at its height. Many large "V" formations are visible every day, and their honking can be plainly heard by day or night, many flocks not stopping for the darkness.

Going in for numbers in sunflowers, Joseph A. Buddenburgh of Walpole Lake reports that he has some with over 30 blossoms.

Freedom's Flame

David Lawrence Says:

FCC Can't Make a Horse Drink

WASHINGTON—Here is a lesson for those members of the Federal Communications Commission who would like to repeal the laws of human nature and cause people to listen and watch television programs they don't like or care about.

The so-called "ratings" that survey the listening habits of viewers of television are made every day. It so happens that a few nights ago former President Eisenhower was on a noncommercial program—the expense of which was borne entirely by the Columbia Broadcasting Co. as a public service.

A survey showed that it was watched by about 7 per cent of the people and that around 30 per cent preferred a singing show at that hour and another 20 per cent concentrated on a drama involving crime.

The remainder of the night's audience watched a variety of other programs.

Yet the presentation of an interview with former President Eisenhower by Walter Cronkite of the CBS network was one of the most remarkable television programs of all times. Not only did Eisenhower make a simple, natural and highly interesting revelation of the care and duties of a president of the United States, but he furnished an example of candor and objectivity which has no parallel in recent programs on public affairs.

A RARE INDIVIDUAL
Eisenhower is one of those rare individuals in public life who doesn't equivocate or fortify himself with balanced phrases that show a constant awareness of political pitfalls.

He expressed his thoughts bluntly and honestly. It was a fascinating example of what can be done in a television interview.

But out of the television audience nightly of about 30 million people, only about 7.5 million heard and watched the Eisenhower talk. Many of those who preferred the singing show given at the same hour on another network might have gladly watched the Eisenhower interview if it had been at another hour.

But they liked the songs of the chorus—old tunes and excellent voices. It was a show built up over the weeks in the past, so regular listeners weren't in the mood perhaps to think about public affairs.

Spokesmen of the Federal Communications Commission have been decrying the current types of programs of the national networks. The broadcasting companies have responded by trying to put on more "public affairs" programs. They have made a noble effort. But it's one thing to offer up good books to read and it is something else to get everybody to read them.

The Country Parson

That a man's too old to do some of the foolish things our kids are doing doesn't mean he's any better."

The "great debates" in the last presidential campaign were watched by a big audience, but they were well-advertised in advance and were in the nature of contests.

Viewers like contests—including prize fights and quiz shows. But this doesn't mean they'll always forego an evening of entertainment just to look at a "public affairs" program, though it might truly be of interest and helpful to them, too, if they did watch it.

MAYBE: MAYBE!

Maybe if the Eisenhower interview is repeated some evening and is built up in advance it will get a larger audience the second time than it received the other night. But experts in the customs of television broadcasting say that, while this might increase the audience somewhat, the chances are against such a result, based on previous experiences.

The public will in due time tire of certain kinds of shows that at the moment are popular and may even increase the "ratings" on "public affairs" programs—a result devoutly to be wished—but the people will do so in their own way and when they get in the mood.

The laws of human nature cannot be revised by the FCC or any other governmental body.

Dr. William Brady Says:

The Injection Treatment for Piles Not Dangerous

By Dr. WILLIAM BRADY

The other day a reader wrote me that when he sought ambulatory (injection) treatment for "piles" the doctor "flew off the handle."

Exciting himself, he criticized himself, then he criticized the unpleasant interview with the terrible, to me, per doctor, the reader, who cheerfully gave him the injection program on public affairs.

The reader lost no time from frustration, suffered no particular discomfort at the time of the injections or between times, and got lasting relief from his hemorrhoids. He has had no further trouble in the six years since he received the treatment. He says the cost was reasonable.

My pamphlet, "You Need Not Have Piles," is available on request if you provide a stamped, self-addressed envelope. It contains press releases for the fact that the office, ambulatory injection for piles is painless, does not detain the patient more than a few minutes at each visit, does not require hospitalization or general anesthesia, and is at least as effective as the atrociously called hemorrhoidectomy.

NOT FOR EXTERNAL
A good many doctors sincerely believe, as I did and said in the column many years ago, that injection treatment for internal hemorrhoids (it is NOT applicable to external piles) is ineffective and perhaps dangerous.

I learned later, from several doctors whose skill and courage I admired, that the injection method is not only safe and far less painful than radical surgery, but fully as effective as hospitalization and hemorrhoidectomy can be.

Doctors who tell you the injection method is dangerous, painful, or less successful than the major operation, are back where I was so many years ago.

My pamphlet on piles is available to any reader who asks for it and provides stamped, self-addressed envelope, but I am not prepared to tell you which physicians in your community give such treatment.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

You spoke of a book by a lady named Davis, in which the use of yeast as an aid to the alcoholic... (Mrs. C.E.W.)

Ans.—The book is "Let's Eat Right to Stay Thin," by Adele Davis, published by Harcourt, Brace and Co., New York. An Ontario reader says her brother, an alcoholic, began taking a tablespoonful of brewer's yeast daily three months ago (two or three heaping tablespoons daily would be better), and his only craving for alcohol during that period was when his yeast supply ran out. I'd say three tablespoons daily would be better—much large amounts are given for pellagra in the South. It is best taken in ice cold milk or in a super milk shake—as described in the leaflet, after which you will send a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not diseases, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan. (Copyright, 1961)

CASE K-426: Dolly R., aged 29, is a very efficient housewife.

Dr. Crane, I have a wonderful husband and two children that we both adore."

"I'm sure people must talk about me behind my back because of it. And although I have pulled out the hairs, they always come back."

"So I suppose I ought to be entirely happy. I'm not, for I keep worrying about this profuse growth of hair on my chin."

CRIPPLE COMPLEX
We psychologists often talk about the "cripple complex," which refers to the tendency to overly magnify any ailment or minor facial blemish which you may suffer.

It develops because the victim sees their defect every time they look in the mirror, so they keep paying more and more attention to it.

Soon it seems mountainous, though it is usually of only molehill size to the general public.

Thus, I hadn't noticed hairs on the chin of Dolly as she sat across from me at my office desk. It wasn't till she mentioned the "protrusion" that I had thought to analyze her chin.

But millions of girls and married women grow unduly self-conscious about hairs on their lip or face, or on their legs or even their breasts.

Voice of the People:

Believes United Nations Is Only Hope for Peace

In reply to the letter signed "Patriot," I would have thought that a real patriot would be proud to be known by his name.

The statement that the United Nations is a "Communist type" organization is ridiculous on the face of it. For one reason (among many others) if this were so, then why are the Russians trying so hard to discredit and destroy it?

The Security Council is not the only body (in the U.N.) that can take effective action. Anyone who has closely followed the actions of the U.N. knows that the General Assembly can and has taken very effective action in many troubled spots, and incidentally, solved those troubles.

Whatever its weakness, the U.N. is our chief hope and we must not desert it.

"Patriot" must admit that if we "get out" the U.N. will be absolutely ineffective, in that case what would be substituted?

Two world wars have proved that war will not settle anything, so we must talk, negotiate again and again looking that somewhere, somehow, a solution will be found. Meantime we will at least be alive to act out such a solution.

Stephen Garsard

'Let's Restore Hotel, Clinton River'

The suggestion in "Man About Town" for restoring the old Hodges House and making it again into an attractive tourist restaurant and hotel is wonderful.

With a cornerstone of 1838, it is one of the oldest buildings in Pontiac. The old picture of the Hodges House, with its shutters and pillars in front in the Centennial issue of The Press shows what a nice building it used to be.

The preservation of a few old buildings of different periods gives a city character, individuality and background and gives a pleasing variation to the modern buildings.

Another asset could be our neglected Clinton River. It could be cleaned up and kept clean with small parks along it in the downtown area. Just because we are a smaller city with a smaller river is no reason why we should not make the most of it as larger cities are doing.

Let's transform the Hodges House and the Clinton River into the big drawing attractions of the new urban development which they are capable of being.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Don't Overemphasize Blemish

If the hairs on the face cause chronic unhappiness, you can have them removed by the electric needle.

But physicians seldom recommend such treatment, for they realize that the usual woman is making much ado about nothing.

Dolly, for example, is not only extremely sensitive but also was a devoted husband and has two lovely children.

So what more could she have, even without hairs on her chin? Why should she complain?

"He who grumbles has too much," runs the old adage, quite apropos here.

Beware Involution
Her chief problem is simply the fact that her surplus mental energy isn't completely used up in external activity.

So she has enough surplus time and attention to start scrutinizing herself. And when you do this, sooner or later you become a victim of some complex.

Either you develop imaginary hair trouble or grow alarmed about cancer, or start wondering if your mate is faithful to you, etc.

To avoid this dangerous "involution" of personality, as we psychologists describe it, arbitrarily turn your attention outward upon people.

Join the "Compliment Club" and pay an honest compliment each day to three different people.

For you must observe your companions in order to pick out a virtue on which to give them a bit of praise.

Faces Many Obstacles

Nixon Starts Work on California Campaign

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (UPI)—Richard M. Nixon is back in politics trailed by the shadow of a long-dead general and some very much alive Republicans and Democrats.

The 49-year-old Republican, who lost the presidency last November by a handful of votes, is a candidate for governor of his home state of California, a state which by midsummer of 1963 will be the most populous in the nation.

From the very start, Nixon has insisted he should be counted out of the presidential race in 1964 if he is elected governor.

In his first news conference after his gubernatorial announcement, reporters planned him down on his statement that, "I shall not be a candidate for president in 1964."

"Would you amplify that to mean you would not be the nominee in 1964, because there are many candidates and only one nominee?"

"Well, I will not be the candidate or the nominee," was Nixon's reply. "That is correct. You can't be nominated without being a candidate."

FALLS SHORT

Despite the seeming finality of that statement, many Democrats and some high-ranking Republicans as well say that it falls short of the classic statement of Gen. William Tecumseh Sherman back in 1864 that "If nominated, I will not accept and will not serve if elected."

Even the national chairman of Nixon's own party, Rep. William E. Miller, said he feels Nixon would "have to succumb to a draft" in 1964 if the GOP convention delegates want him and polls showed he could win.

Democratic Gov. Edmund G. Brown, who is expected to be his party's standard-bearer in the state elections again in 1962, already is dusting off the same phrase he used so effectively in beating Sen. William F. Knowland for the governorship in 1958.

"Nixon wants to use the statehouse as a stepping stone to the White House," Brown insists.

"There is no question that Nixon will succumb to a Republican draft for president in 1964. And I think he will go further and generate a draft of his own."

Nixon faces a number of other obstacles next year in his climb back up the political ladder not the least of which is strong opposition from within his own party for the GOP gubernatorial nomination in the June 1962 primary.

Already in the race is 64-year-old former Gov. Goodwin J. Knight, a seasoned campaigner and a man who feels Nixon and Knowland bumped him out of the governor's office in 1958 and forced him into an unsuccessful bid for a U. S. Senate seat.

Knight served notice that he intends to wage an all-out campaign against Nixon when he charged earlier this month that Nixon sent an emissary to Knight offering him "any job you want" if Knight would get out of the race.

DEMY CHARGE

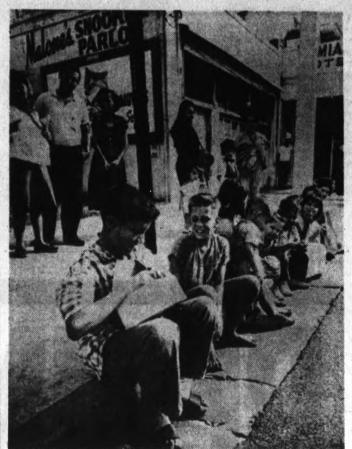

The alleged emissary, Los Angeles financier J. Howard Edger-ton, and Nixon both denied the charge and Nixon's former campaign manager, Robert Finch, came back with the statement that Knight himself tried to keep Nixon out of the gubernatorial race by offering to deliver the state GOP presidential convention delegation to Nixon in 1964.

Thus far, with 12 months yet to go before the winner is decided by the state's 4.3 million

Democrats and 3 million Republicans, Nixon and Knight have been too busy hanging away at each other to take on Brown.

Nixon has said he intends to "clean up the mess in Sacramento" but has indicated he will not amplify that charge until he starts his all-out campaign next February. Nixon describes Democrat Brown as an "amiable but bungling man."

"He has made his decisions according to the light of his own conscience," Knight remarked recently about Brown. "But the light has been mighty dim."

Wagner Proclaims Freedom Rider Week

NEW YORK (AP)—Mayor Robert F. Wagner has proclaimed this week as "Freedom Riders Week" in the city.

In a brief ceremony Monday at City Hall, the mayor gave the proclamation to James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, originator of the Freedom Riders.

Wagner said the proclamation was issued to "impress with marked effect upon the public that all forms of segregation are wrong and that there is no place for it in our society."

Protest Group Seeks Support

Organization Opposing Training of Red Pilots in U.S. Starts Drive

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI)—A citizens group protesting the U.S. Air Force training of Communist pilots in Texas kicked off a nationwide campaign for support Monday night.

Frank McGeehee, originator of the newly organized "National Indignation Convention," said plans to telephone President Kennedy and Vice President Lyndon Johnson and let them talk to the crowd over loudspeakers had been canceled.

He said it would be better to start by contacting Texas Congressmen.

"We have decided that to get this thing rolling, we'll have to start on a smaller scale so that the movement won't be stopped in the higher levels of Washington," McGeehee, a Dallas garage owner, said.

A wildly cheering crowd of more than 2,500 persons met and dumped $3,500 into buckets carried through the audience by pretty young girls.

McGeehee said the money would be used to pay for renting the auditorium and for newspaper advertisements across the nation to enlist personal and financial support for a "grassroots" protest from the nation.

How to invest wisely in stocks and bonds

It's getting hard to find anyone these days who hasn't heard about the advantages of owning stocks and bonds. What's not so widely known is how to go about investing wisely. Here are four suggestions.

FIRST: Make use of a broker whose full-time job is helping people choose securities sensibly. You'll find him in a Member Firm of the New York Stock Exchange. Every Registered Representative there has met the Exchange's requirements for investment knowledge. From the variety of securities available he can help you select the kind he thinks best fits your needs and today's conditions.

SECOND: An important rule of wise investors is to get facts about a company—never invest on tips or rumors. They know that many a telephone is ringing with calls from high-pressure salesmen urging unwary people to buy risky or worthless stock. They know that prices of both stocks and bonds vary almost every day, some companies may fail to make a profit, may not pay dividends or interest. So the wise investor begins with money not needed for living expenses or emergencies.

THIRD: Which is most important to you—income, growth or safety of principal? Some companies pay relatively high dividends. Some may reinvest a large part of their earnings in the business and pay smaller dividends or none at all, but may have better prospects for growth. Bonds, on the other hand, usually offer greater stability of income and safety of principal.

FOURTH: A good way to start is to read our useful guide to common stock investing, "DIVIDENDS OVER THE YEARS." This valuable booklet gives you the records of some 470 stocks that have paid a cash dividend every year for 25 years or more. It also describes the Monthly Investment Plan, through which you can acquire stock in famous companies with as little as $40 every three months, or as much as $1,000 a month. MOSCOW GREETING — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev (right) greets Red Chinese Premier Chou En-lai on his arrival in Moscow.

The 22nd Communist Party Congress is convening today in Moscow with leading Communists from other countries attending.

In Sharp Contrast to Old Kremlin

Red Delegates Using New Building

MOSCOW (UPI)—Delegates to the 22nd Congress of the Communist party today will march into an ultra-modern glass-and-marble building that has brought indignant frowns from some conservative Muscovites.

The 100-million-ruble Grand Kremlin Theater is the only building to be erected in the former Moscow, Kremlin during the 20th century except the smaller Kremlin theater of the thirties.

The other Kremlin buildings are the czarist palaces and churches, built from the 15 to 19th centuries, and surrounded by a medieval crenelated wall.

Among the yellow-and-white palaces looms the new Grand Kremlin Theater, severe, simple and modern. The golden domes of the 1475 Uspensky Cathedral and the graceful 16th century bell-tower of Ivan the Great are reflected in the theater's gleaming glass walls.

SHARP CONTRAST

This sharp contrast has stirred up complaints such as those which have been leveled at modern American embassies built in London, Stockholm and other cities.

Soviet architects, led by Mikhail Posokhin, sank the new theater into the ground so it would not tower above the older buildings. Even so it forms part of the Kremlin skyline.

The Soviet press insists the 800-room theater does not jar the Kremlin look because "the Kremlin is a collection of monuments of different epochs."

Since this new theater is a project of Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev, it is considered a monument to his epoch. No criticism against it has appeared in the Soviet press.

Some anxious Russians voiced approval after they saw the final result. The theater is one of the handful of modern buildings in Moscow, and Russians appear starved for an up-to-date touch.

Foreign correspondents have not been allowed to see the theater inside, or even get a close-look outside. But according to the Moscow newspapers the theater has the latest equipment including air-conditioning, "stereophonic and diaphonic" sound from 7,000 loudspeakers and sound-absorbing material on the walls and seats. At each seat are loudspeakers for translations into 29 languages.

STAGE MODERN

The stage can be lowered, revolved, raised or broken into parts. The metal curtain carries this familiar design of a red banner flying in the rays of the sun and a bas relief of Lenin.

Two crossways connect the theater with the neighboring Grand Kremlin Palace for the 4,000-odd party delegates to pass back and forth.

Escalators will take the party

Children Set Fire to Car, Killing Two

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP)—Mrs. Joe E. Thompson of Albuquerque left her three small children in the car while she went to the doctor. Also in the car, owned by a family friend, was a can of gasoline used to prime the car-buretor.

Joey Thompson, 5, told firemen his 2-year-old brother, Chuck, spilled the gasoline. Then, he said Valerie, 4, struck a match.

The younger children died in the burning car. A passerby, Frank Lindsey, was able to open the driver's door and pull Joey out by the head.

Gov. Rockefeller Finds Integrity in Politics High

NEW YORK (AP)—Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says those who feel politics is a dirty business should "get in and clean it up."

The governor says he has found the level of integrity in politics to be as high as that in any other field of endeavor.

Rockefeller spoke Monday at ceremonies opening the new Dartmouth Club in the Hotel Commodore.

The governor, a member of the Dartmouth Class of '30, accepted the Alumni Council's award — a silver bowl — and a citation describing him as an "outstanding leader in culture, commerce, international affairs and as governor of New York State."

You're to Blame, Abby Says

Wife Is Upset, Hasn't Had Kiss From Mate Since 1945

ABBY

DEAR ABBY: I have been married for 22 years, and my husband hasn't kissed me since 1945. He never calls me "Darling" or "Honey," like most husbands call their wives. He doesn't care if he pleases me or not. He is a good, faithful man, and we get along fine—like father and daughter. He has no hobbies or interests outside his work. He never wants to go any place. I feel so alone for a married woman. I am 45 and he is 61. How do I get out of this fix?
SO ALONE

DEAR ALONE: If you have been sitting around for 16 years waiting for your husband to kiss you, you are as much to blame for his indifference as he.

You are both still young enough to enjoy life. Take the initiative. Hummer him, pumper him, entertain him and try to put a little zing into your marriage.

DEAR ABBY: The woman who signed herself "Willing to Wait" (for a married man) brought back memories.

Thirty years ago my husband had an affair which lasted two years. They couldn't wait for "something to happen" to the wife who didn't understand him. Well, Abby, I found out about the affair and had every reason to divorce him, but "something happened" to my husband instead.

Now, thirty years later, the wife who didn't understand him is the one who wheels him around in his wheelchair. I wonder if the girl friend would want him now?

WITHHOLD MY NAME

DEAR ABBY: We moved into this lovely new home only a few weeks ago. While the moving van was unloading, the lady across the street came over and invited me to her house for coffee. I thought she was extremely generous.

She gave me all the dirt on all the neighbors so fast I couldn't get the stories straight with the people because I knew no one. She has been coming over here daily, offering to help me get settled, but I notice she has nothing to do with any of the other neighbors.

My problem is that none of my neighbors has made a move toward me. My husband said my friend across the street is probably the neighborhood troublemaker and, if I have anything to do with her, I am dead.

Participants will include Rolfe L. Jones, social studies; Darryl Lee, science; William Nunn, mathematics; Mrs. Lynette Payne, language

How can I get rid of her and meet some nice neighbors?

JUST MOVED IN
DEAR JUST: Tell your "friendly" neighbor that you appreciate her offer to help, but there are certain things you must do yourself. Then discourage her visits and don't visit her. When the other neighbors see that you are no longer chummy with her, they'll come around.

With Trick and Treat Diet

Get Off Weight Seesaw

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Every once in a while I write myself a letter, or pin one of my columns up on my bedroom door to remind myself that since I believe what I write, I had better do something about my weight.

Unfortunately, I gain weight very quickly. Fortunately, I can lose it as fast as I gain it. Since I do not let the situation get out of control, and can lose so easily, I am apt to go up and down like a seesaw — a few pounds this way and a few pounds that way. Very bad! Even 5 or 6 pounds make a big difference in the way I feel and the way my clothes fit.

Perhaps you have had the same experience. If you have that 5 or 6 pounds I am talking about, you may want to follow my Trick and Treat Diet, which is running in the column this week. It gives you treats while it tricks the pounds — and brings you a loss of about five pounds in seven days!

Here are the menus for tomorrow.

MENUS FOR WEDNESDAY

Breakfast
One-half grapefruit
One-half cup whole wheat flakes
Two teaspoons sugar
One glass skim milk
Black coffee

Luncheon
One cup consommé
Two scrambled eggs with one teaspoon of butter, and a dash of skim milk. (Cook in double boiler)
One piece toast
Tea with lemon or coffee black

Dinner
Four ounces calves' liver, broiled with onions
One-half cup of string beans with a few pieces of canned mushrooms and two tablespoons skim milk, salt, and sprinkle with parmesan cheese
One-half cup brown rice
A medium fruit cup (fresh fruit or water packed canned). Just a teaspoonful of wine or liquor will give it zing.

If you would like to have the complete diet in small booklet form, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for The Trick and Treat Diet booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Refreshments were served by the Levely Group. The Frank Kolmurs of Columbus, Ohio, were guests.

In this handy little booklet are the attractive menus for the Trick and Treat Diet. If you would like to have the booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Bringing Up Baby.

It's easy enough to fall into the belief that the more food you stuff into baby, the better off he'll be. But pressure only serves to fix unpleasantness and distaste for a food in baby's mind. Most weanlings know their needs and eat enough to meet those needs. And if you provide nutritionally balanced meals there's nothing to worry about.

One good way to keep baby interested in his food, provide adequate nutrition too, is to vary menus with different kinds of food. It's easy with over 100 Gerber Strained and Junior Foods.

All Gerber Baby Foods are specially processed to preserve the utmost in flavor and precious food values. All are designed with your baby's eating pleasure and nourishment in mind. The above foods are available in both strained and junior varieties.

Sock-a-roo story. To keep baby's socks from getting lost in the wash, try putting them in an old nylon stocking before you toss them into the machine. Socks are washed through easily, and sorting is a cinch later.

Sweet scent-iments. After washing baby's rubber sheet, sprinkle liberally with baby's powder. It's good for the rubber, surrounds your darling with sweetness.

New convenience for you, in the shape of two cereal surprises for baby: Gerber Strained Oatmeal or Mixed Cereal, both with Apple-sauce and B vitamins. No mixing necessary! Each cereal is cooked with fruit and ready to serve. Delicious in flavor, they have a wonderfully smooth, moist texture. As for nutrition, they're both enriched with iron and important B vitamins. NASA Delays Flight of Saturn Superbooster

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The National Aeronautics and Space Administration today postponed indefinitely the first flight test of the Saturn superbooster in order to make refinements in the control system. The launch had been scheduled later this week.

The decision was made as the result of data obtained from the down firing tests of another Saturn booster at the Marshall Space Flight Center, Huntsville, Ala.

A NASA announcement said: "Project officials have determined that refinements in the control system of the first Saturn flight test vehicle could result in a significant improvement in booster performance and resulting test data. As a result, the first Saturn research and development test has been delayed."

No new launch date was set. Officials said this must await computer analysis and interpretation of the new data. The maiden flight was to test the first stage only, with two up stages filled with water to stimulate actual weight of the operational vehicle. The eight first stage engines generate 1.3 million pounds of thrust, making Saturn three times more powerful than any previous United States rocket.

6 Men Plead Innocent to Charges of Fraud

Eighteen pleas of innocent were entered yesterday in Oakland County Circuit Court for six men charged with three counts each stemming from the alleged fraud on a Fernalde loan company last year.

Standing mute on the advice of their three attorneys were: Ivan Batten, 45, 2340 Fall River Road, Southfield; Frank Bezons, 12255 Wales St., Huntington Woods; Peter Lazarus, 27, 2410 Dalesford Road, Troy; Robert Levine, 27, Detroit; Gino Ronchetto, 33, of Garden City; and William Tees, 39, of Detroit.

They are charged with obtaining money under false pretenses, conspiracy to obtain money under false pretenses, and conspiracy to avoid paying the state sales tax.

At the same time, State Police detectives said they had nabbed a seventh man — Anton Postle, 39, who gave the same address as Lazarus — wanted in the alleged consumer fraud scheme. Postle was picked up in an Auburn Heights market, where he was working as a butcher.

He appeared before West

Bloomfield Township Justice of the Peace Elmer C. Dieterle who set examination for Oct. 24 and held Postle in the county jail in lieu of a $10,000 bond.

All seven men, along with an eighth named only as a co-conspirator, are alleged to have worked together from April last year until the first of this year forging names to credit statements, selling low cost household goods to bad credit risks and putting the loans through the Fernalde branch of the General Public Loan Co., 2248 Woodward Ave.

$100,000 SCHEME
The scheme, according to the prosecutor's office, amounted to more than $100,000.

Ronchetto was the former manager of the office. Levine, also a former branch employee, with Ronchetto were approving the credit applications for a kickback, the prosecutors office said, and concealing the deals from the home office in St. Louis, Mo.

Eventually the home office learned of the deals, after more than $100,000 in unsellable "bad papers" had piled up, according to Senior Asst. Prosecutor Jerome K. Barry Jr.

Barry said the merchandise, including television sets, home freezers and furniture, was retailed through three now defunct companies in Fernalde, Royal Oak and Madison Heights.

Batten, Lazarus, Levine, Ronchetto and Tees were released on $10,000 bonds each and Bezons on a $5,000 bond.

All six stood mute to all three charges when arraigned before Circuit Judge William J. Beer.

Trial won't be until the November jury term of court because of the time needed to type the transcript from the 11 days of preliminary examination before Justice Dieterle.

Proposed FCC Order Hit as Unfair to Press

WASHINGTON (AP) — The American Newspaper Publishers Association protested today a proposed order by the Federal Communications Commission on the ground it would increase substantially press costs for news wires leased from the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. and Western Union.

In a brief filed with the FCC, the ANPA said the proposed order would require AT&T and Western Union to impose large increases in charges to the press while greatly reducing costs to the government and many commercial users of the same facilities.

"Newspapers and news wire services make extensive use of these facilities to collect and disseminate news for the public," ANPA said.

"In today's filing with the commission, ANPA included representations on behalf of The Associated Press whose costs would be boosted in amounts ranging from 12 per cent for picture service to 21 per cent for news service. "ANPA submitted data showing that for six typical users of these facilities—Salt Lake City Tribune, New York Herald Tribune, Scripps-Howard Newspapers, New York Times, Fairchild Publications and the Wall Street Journal—the government-proposed prices would result in boosting the costs of these publishers in amounts ranging from 18 per cent to 154 per cent.

"ANPA charged that these proposed increases were unjust and unreasonable and prejudicial to the public interest in the widest possible dissemination of news; that present rates yield to carriers a 6 per cent return and this has not been shown to be unreasonable, but the reasoning of the commission that this return must nevertheless be up to 6.4 per cent for Western Union and 7.3 per cent for AT&T, largely at the expense of the press, is 'puzzling'; and that the various costs shown upon which the commission rested its proposed decision were obsolete and inaccurate.

'IGNORES PROVISION'
"Tracing the history and purpose of a provision in the Communications Act that specifically permits special rates for the press, ANPA asserted that the commission ignores this statutory provision and stated that 'the folly of ignoring it is demonstrated by the facts derived from the proposed decision.'"

The proposed decision of the FCC was attacked Monday by the Bell Telephone System, which said the decision on telephone and teletype rates is based on old statistics and ignores company experience.

Yugoslavs Fear Relations With U.S. May Change

Turkey Pushing for 4-Party Rule

Election So Close No
One Group Can Form
Strong Assembly

ANKARA, Turkey (U) — The ruling military junta launched a drive today for a national front government composed of all four parties contesting the closest general election in Turkey's history. Mounting tensions showed no party had gained enough strength in Parliament to form a government on its own.

Front runners in unofficial results of Sunday's election were the moderate Republican party, led by 78-year-old ex-President Ismet Inönü, and the new Rightist justice party.

An unofficial tally by the Interior Ministry with 65 per cent of the vote counted showed this estimate for the 450-seat National Assembly: Republican party, 199; Rightist Justice party, 135; Peasant National party, 44; New Turkey party, 54.

The Senate figures for 130 seats: Justice party, 73; Republican party, 49; New Turkey party, 17; Peasant National party, 11. The Republicans believe their final assembly strength would be less than the Interior Ministry expected.

Laotian Prince Likes Reds in Their Place

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—Prince Souvanna Phouma, premier-designate of a proposed coalition to unify and neutralize Laos, said today, "I am a good friend to Communists abroad, but I do not like them at home."

The France-educated neutralist, 49, has had Communist-bloc backing since a rightist revolution ousted him from the premiership last December and his followers fought alongside the pro-Communist Pathet Lao in months of civil war.

Prince Souvanna told Western newsmen, "There certainly is a hard core of Communists among Laotians," but their number is unimportant. He declared, "The difference between Laotians themselves has never been of great importance and is now virtually settled."

The question of a permanent settlement, he said, rests entirely in the hands of the big powers.

MICHIGAN IS CULTURE

Culture is at the crossroads in Michigan, at all the crossroads. This is one more reason Michigan is a great place to locate an industry.

Culture is a part of pleasant living. In itself, it is enjoyment. It is a means of surcease from the busy world of industry. It provides the opportunity for workers and management to come together in a spirit of mutual appreciation of the arts. Culture is essential to the full life.

Michigan, with its libraries; world renowned museums and art galleries; its symphony orchestras, full and little; its theatre, professional and amateur; its concert stages; offers the ultimate in culture.

In Michigan there is an abundance of opportunity to enjoy the arts or to participate in them. This has a direct relationship in selecting location for a new industry or for industrial expansion. Cultural activity is important—and in Michigan it is almost everywhere.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together we can assure a greater future for all of us.

THANKS FOR THE HELP — Linda Marie Grandberry says thanks, United Fund contributors, because you've made it possible for her treatment at the Sister Elizabeth Kenny Polio Foundation clinic opened a year ago at Pontiac

General Hospital. An average of 40 patients a day now look to the clinic for physical therapy such as Linda is receiving. The contributions keep it going. Helping her here is Miss June Keil, chief physical therapist.

'It Takes Unity to Keep Our Community Strong'

By Thomas F. Wiethorn
General Chairman

As human beings we all have a desire to help others who have suffered disaster. When we are on the highway and witness an accident, our first impulse is to assist those who may be in dire need of our help. If help is already at the scene, our next normal reaction is to drive more carefully to prevent injury both to ourselves and our fellow humans.

But there are many other forms of disaster happening about us every day that we don't see. These involve mental disorders, broken homes, needy individuals who can't afford medical treatment, delinquency, public health problems—just to name a few. If it were possible for us to witness each of these individual cases in our community, our reaction would be as humane as in those we experience firsthand.

The Pontiac Area United Fund Campaign has been organized to remind us of the needs of the homeless, the aged, the afflicted. Its purpose is to provide members of this community an opportunity to support the 54 local, state and national service agencies that are constantly at work to keep our community strong by giving help when it is needed.

United giving has proved to be the most efficient method for helping us to help each other. It keeps administrative costs to a minimum so that more of our contributions can be used for vital agency services.

TIRELESS EFFORTS

Since last April, many generous people of the Pontiac area have volunteered their time and energy to handle the thousands of details that are required for a successful campaign.

Their tireless effort has rewarded them with a great deal of personal satisfaction, but now the time has come for the actual raising of $672,500 to meet the 1961 United Fund goal.

UNITED HANDS — When you give those dollars to this year's Pontiac Area United Fund you help Girl Scouts like Alana Harrison (left) and Sue Crile carry out their help to the blind, one of 500 community service projects. Your dollars offer quality programs for character building and education for 8,000 Girl Scouts of the Northern Oakland County Council through their help in the community.

It Would Hurt Many—Maybe You

What If You Don't Contribute?

It's easy to say "no" to the Pontiac Area United Fund. But think a minute of the consequences if you do.

The elderly lady, confined at home with crippling arthritis, must go without the nurse provided by the Visiting Nurses Association.

A young emotionally disturbed boy, who wants so much to be like the other fellows down the block, is turned away from the Oakland Child Guidance Clinic. They just didn't have the funds that hire that additional psychiatrist.

An excitement-hungry group of ten-year-old boys "get into a little trouble with law because the YMCA couldn't afford to keep its door open for healthful recreation."

Mary and John Smith, married happily with four children until all of a sudden things seem to be headed toward the rocks, visit the Family Service of Oakland County. They need help. But Mary and John walk back down the steps without any help. They, too, were given an apologetic "no, we're very sorry."

The 54 agencies served by the United Fund hate to say "no" to anybody in sincere need of help. And they won't have to if you don't say "no."

Agency workers are busy 11 months out of the year trying to fill the gaps left by the difficulties in life that just happen.

There are those that say, "Why should I help? What's in it for me?" Well, maybe nothing directly. But put this dubious person at the bottom link of a chain. If he snaps himself off of the chain of help what becomes of the other links? They're weakened, sometimes destroyed entirely.

Some might say it's an over exaggeration, but in the long run everybody suffers.

United giving this year through your UF is a giant step to keep the chain together and strong.

The elderly blind man doesn't want charity. He just wants an opportunity to carry his own weight — he wants to get back on that chain to keep the community great.

UAW Codirector Pledges Union Support to Drive

The Pontiac Area United Fund deserves and will receive the support of thousands of auto industry workers in Oakland County.

This was the guarantee made today by Ken Morris, codirector of Region 1 of the United Auto Workers.

"Workers have never failed to respond in a crisis. The labor movement looks upon the Pontiac Area United Fund drive in 1961 as a crisis."

"When a major disaster strikes a whole community, Americans are quick to respond. The unheralded, unpublicized disaster within the family unit, in most cases, can only be given aid through an organization such as the Pontiac Area United Fund."

"As part of the community, the labor movement has consistently supported and advocated support of the principles which gave birth to the United Fund approach to community giving. The UF deserves our help."

"Again the UAW, along with its fellow members in the labor movement, gives wholehearted support to the Pontiac Area United Fund drive in 1961."

"Let it be known that the organized-labor movement, through its individual members, will not hesitate to make the kind of contribution to the Pontiac Area United Fund drive in 1961 that clearly establishes the fact that working people are the backbone of any community and never hesitate to do their share."

Okay to Select Agency to Receive Your Money

Solicitors for the United Fund are often asked whether a contributor can designate a particular agency or she wishes his money to be used for.

"You sure can," said Thomas F. Wiethorn, general chairman of the 1961 campaign. "Some do, some don't."

United Fund Necessary, Leader Says

Harry J. Woodman, chairman of the Commercial Division of the 1961 Pontiac Area United Fund, said:

"The United Fund, as we know it today, has been in existence in Pontiac for 13 years. In fact, Detroit and Pontiac were the first cities in the country to adopt our present united approach which has been copied by every major city in the nation."

"All of us who can remember the situation that existed before the United Fund — with scores of agencies conducting dozens of drives throughout the year — realize that our present method of giving once and for all is infinitely better and more businesslike than the system of multiple appeals."

"We all want the United Fund services and we all want to support them on the United Fund basis but in order to raise our fair share in the Commercial Division the chief responsibility rests with the employer."

"He is the key link in our division. He is the only person who can create the proper atmosphere and attitude among his employees so they will give willingly and give enough."

"There is no question that our community must have the services which are offered by United Fund agencies. If we did not have the United Fund we would either have to resort to the old program of multiple solicitations or we would have to support these agencies through a tax supported program under government control."

"Either way would be much less efficient and much less satisfactory than our present United Fund."

A Gage for Giving

No one can tell you what to give. But so many people honestly want to know what their "fair share" might be that we print the following guide, based on actual giving records.

$672,500 a Big Goal, but...

$672,500. A lot of money? Yes it is, but not quite as much when you remember what it represents.

The figure is what is hoped to be raised in the Pontiac Area United Fund campaign which runs from today through Nov. 18.

The 54 agencies which look to ward the UF for assistance submitted budget requests totaling $912,000.

Then volunteer budget committees composed of business people, homemakers and professional people huddled during the entire month of June studying the individual agency's needs for the coming year.

What it takes to keep an agency ticking — heat, light, food, salaries, directors and other trained personnel — were analyzed.

Robert S. Nelson, president of the UF Board of Trustees, said in announcing the goal it was the "absolute minimum" for the agencies to operate in 1962.

The trustees sliced the total requests by $239,500.

The goal is the same as set for the last year's campaign.

Most of UF Collections Go Into Local Services

Nowadays you can't be blamed for wanting to know where your dollars go. Your United Fund dollars are no exception.

Many of the men and women volunteers who will call on you are asked this very justified question. Their answer is:

"Eighty-five per cent of the monies collected are applied directly to local service. Fifteen per cent are used for service and research by national organizations. These funds have aided immeasurably in medical research directed at discovering cures for many of our crippling diseases."

"Only a few of the 54 agencies receive 100 per cent of their budget from the United Fund. In many cases only 20 to 50 per cent of their operating budget comes from the Pontiac Area United Fund."

"Out of the 54 agencies provided for, the monies for the 22 local agencies are used to pay operating expenses and salaries of 118 fulltime employees. Many of these have received specialized training in such areas as psychiatric case work, nursing care, family counseling, child guidance and other specialized fields. Their training insures that those seeking counsel from the United Fund agencies will receive the finest assistance available."

"These full time employees are aided by thousands of volunteers from our community, many of whom may be friends or members of your own family. These volunteers and professionals served over 26,000 individuals last year involving hundreds of thousands of work hours."

"The services provided by the United Fund are entirely separate from those provided by city, county or state welfare agencies. They give assistance in many areas not covered by these organizations."

"While some of their service concerns individual cases, much of it is with groups of people and is on a continuing basis... week to week, month to month and year to year."

"You can readily see your dollars are stretched a long way to provide the greatest number of people in our Pontiac area with the best possible service."

LAST ONE IN IS A SISSEY — It's a race to the lockers, stripping off the school clothes, into the trunks for a refreshing swim at the United Fund-supported YMCA, 131 Mt. Clemens St. The 3,000 young boys and girls are building 'healthful' minds and bodies through the numerous recreational and educational facilities provided for by your giving to the 1961 Pontiac Area United Fund.

To Accept Gifts From Housewives

Women to Start Calling at Homes

Mrs. Walter Noffsinger, Women's Division chairman of the United Fund, noted that about 2,800 volunteer women will begin to call on their neighboring housewives today in a giant effort to raise funds for the needs of the Pontiac area community.

"As workers for the Women's Division of the Pontiac Area United Fund," she said, "the volunteers will expend their effort and time in an attempt to raise $27,000 between Oct. 17 and 27. This is their quota of the $672,500 goal set by the 1961 United Fund campaign which extends to Nov. 10."

She continued: "Solicitations will begin immediately so that the goal may be reached in time to celebrate success at a Victory luncheon planned for Oct. 31."

"To accomplish this goal, a house-to-house canvass will be made to ask housewives to give a small amount of their household monies, in addition to the amount their husbands contribute at work, as a personal expression of support."

"We feel that housewives and mothers are keenly aware of the needs of the community and want to be involved in its well-being. We are asking them to share in the support of the 54 United Fund agencies that benefit their families as well as the entire community."

Mrs. Noffsinger stated that the trained women volunteers are prepared to explain and answer any questions regarding the services of these agencies.

"A campaign of this size involving the personal solicitation of every house in the community requires many hours of planning and effort. As chairman of the 1961 Women's Division Campaign, I am personally grateful for the wholehearted response of our workers. Our community can be proud of their leadership in assuming responsibility for the success of this important drive. I am confident that housewives will respond as in the past so our goal may be met."

The money contributed to the United Fund does not provide all the income needed by all agencies.

In certain agencies, people prefer to pay what they can for services received. These collections are always considered in United Fund Agency Budgets.

Lowering or abolishing them would mean increasing the amount provided by the United Fund.

Since some agencies partially support themselves, more money is made available to other agencies.

Too, those who use the services of a particular agency—and who are able to pay for them—earn their rightful share without burdening the community.

Strengthens Community by Helping Individuals

Our whole Community is only as strong as its individual parts . . . its people.

The United Fund seeks to keep our people strong by giving help when it is needed.

When you help the United Fund, you help many people.

Give nothing short of your best effort for this year's drive. We know your own heart will tell you how much it means.

'Installment Plan'

You don't have to dig into your finances now if you pledge a contribution that is paid in convenient installments. You like to plan your spending—so why not plan your giving? It's the easy way to be generous without shorting yourself. A small amount given regularly will add up to a truly worthwhile contribution to our community needs.

Supports 54 Agencies

Your United Fund supports 54 local, state and national community service agencies through its annual drive. The money you and other volunteers are able to raise is the life blood of the United Fund's existence.

How Much for UF?...

More than once a volunteer for the Pontiac Area United Fund is asked, "How much should I give?" No solicitor is going to come right out and say $5, $10 or $100. Some can give the lesser amount, others the $100 — and others, fortunately, even more.

So officials of the UF have settled each year for a yardstick gauge to determine each contributor's fair share of giving.

You don't have to follow this. It is only offered as a guide. It's up to the individual — let his conscience be his guide, too.

Campaign leaders assume that the average person wants to do the right thing in contributing to this most worthy cause.

COMMUNITY ATMOSPHERE

The wholesome atmosphere of a community is influenced by the health, happiness and well-being of everyone in it. Needy individuals who can't afford medical treatment are public health problems. Broken homes, contributing to delinquency, imperil everyone in the community.

Illness, family problems, mental disorders know no geographic or economic boundaries.

This year the UF drive has the same goal as last year's — $672,500.

The average person resents being told what he or she should give. They want, at the same time, some idea of what is expected of them. To provide some sort of campaign yardstick, the campaign organization has studied drive results of 10 cities and developed the guide to fair share giving which is shown on this page.

SLIDING SCALE

For hourly-paid employees sliding scale has been worked out, beginning with a $.15 weekly pledge for the $1.50-per-hour worker; $.20 cents weekly for the $2-per-hour worker and so on.

Contributors must, of course, relate their contributions to their personal circumstances.

Your fair share will help.

Mayor-Council Veto Feud Will Go Before Bench

SOUTHFIELD—Mayor S. James Clarkson will be taken to court by the City Council to determine and clarify his veto powers under the city charter.

The action, agreed upon by the council last night, is the direct result of a long battle between mayor and council over the firing and hiring of Gerald Eastlick.

Eastlick, 42, was fired by Clarkson in June as city assessor, a position he held since the city incorporated, and was appointed GETS EAGLE BADGE — At the fall court of honor for Troop 126, Clarkson, last night boy scout Royce M. Hyatt, 13, received his Eagle badge from Troop Committee Chairman Richard L. Funk. Son of Mr. and Mrs. Royce E. Hyatt of 6512 Church St., young Royce is the troop's fourth scout to receive the award in the past two years. The ceremonies were held at the First Methodist Church.

Rochester Planning U.N. Day Observance

ROCHESTER — Plans for the observance of United Nations Day in the Rochester area Oct. 24 are in their final stages. Mrs. Richard Burke, U.N. Day chairman, announced today.

The evening program, jointly sponsored by the village council and the League of Women Voters, will feature a talk entitled "The U.N. at Not-So-Sweet Sixteen" by Dr. Sheldon Appleton.

Public Safety Post Planned

Trustee W. H. Weinman Will Be Recommended to White Lake Twp.

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—Appointment of Township Trustee Walter H. Weinman as public safety director will be recommended to the township board tonight by Supervisor Edward Cheyz.

Weinman of 9152 Cripple Creek Road had been a sergeant on the township police department until last April when he resigned following his election to the township board.

If the appointment is confirmed it will be the first time the township has had a public safety director.

Cheyz said the public safety director will act as a liaison man between members of the police and fire departments and the township board.

"Weinman is the logical choice for the job because he is familiar with the work of both departments and knows their problems," the supervisor explained.

It would be the job of the safety director to attend all the meetings of the two departments and report back to the township board any pertinent proposals that must be decided by the governing body, according to Cheyz.

Weinman would continue in his post as township trustee if the appointment is approved.

Await Further Data on Urban Study

WALLED LAKE — The City Council tonight will receive additional information it requested on the first phase of the proposed 701 Urban Planning Study.

The council asked for further data on the federal government-sponsored program from the Fendale planning firm of Parkins, Rogers and Associates in hopes of obtaining more tangible results during the first year of the study.

Two weeks ago the council rejected the work schedule of the planning firm until more information could be obtained.

The total cost of the proposed 2-year study would be $18,100, of which the city would pay 25 per cent. The federal government would pay the remaining share.

consider discussing the problem at a later date. The mayor said he was "willing to discuss the matter anytime."

DEMAND ACTION
Councilman John J. Hollywood and Thomas Rowley demanded immediate action, however.

"As far as I'm concerned Eastlick will not miss another check," said Hollywood.

"The matter should be taken to court for clarification as to the veto powers of the mayor," he added.

"The time has come for the council to find out if any and all appointments made by the council are subject to the caprice of the mayor."

When City Attorney James G. Allen was asked his opinion, he said, "It is necessary the mayor sign any contract for it to be valid."

The mayor contends that the action taken by Council President C. Hugh Dohany in signing Eastlick's contract as assessing consultant was illegal.

SIGNED CONTRACT
Dohany, acting as mayor pro while Clarkson was on vacation. Since then the mayor has refused to approve Eastlick's paycheck. Councilman Rowley accused the mayor of being "apologetic."

The council then appointed attorney Harold Goodman, 1728 W. 10 Mile Road, as special consultant and directed him to prepare the necessary court papers.

Clarkson said he "felt sorry" that the council was going to take such action because "it will hurt the city and its citizens."

Sale of Flares Slated by Club

House-to-House Drive, Backed by Brooklands Unit, to Start Friday

BROOKLANDS — The sixth annual house-to-house sale of Hallows flares, sponsored by the Brooklands Exchange Club, will begin here Friday.

The residential solicitation will cover the section between Rochester Road and Shelly Village, which the club has assumed as a service area for 14 years.

Local scouts now are delivering 2,000 handbills to remind residents of the objects of the drive.

Proceeds from the flare sales enable the club to carry out its numerous community projects. These include a Michigan State University Oakland scholarship, emergency assistance to area families and school children and placement of Freedom Shrines in local schools.

OTHER PROJECTS

The funds also provide holiday cider, doughnuts and Christmas candy for the more than 1,800 students in Brooklands, Avon, Auburnshire and West Uica elementary schools.

Other projects assisted by the sales are Wolverine Boys' State, scout troop and model aviation sponsorships.

All residents are asked to light their flares at 7 p.m. Oct. 31 at the signal from the Brooklands Fire Department.

The flare lighting will serve as a demonstration of the united community effort and will kick off "trick or treating" by the children, according to Jack Fetterly, project chairman.

Advance solicitation from area business and professional people has already begun, Edward Hanlon, club president, said.

Officers in charge of the project besides Fetterly are Patrick Krieger and Jeno Poli, team captains.

Special solicitations are assigned Harold Weaver, Raymond Kemler, Michael Monicatti Sr. and Alfred Natho.

Go Back to Work at R. C. Mahon Co.

DETROIT (AP) — Members of the United Steelworkers, calling off a strike, returned to work today at the R. C. Mahon Co.

About 700 employees went on strike in a working conditions dispute Friday. USW Local 1279 said it will meet with management. The company said it would not discuss the dispute until production was resumed.

The number of men to be assigned to a steel loading crew was the issue.

To Open Freeway Link

LANSING (AP) — A convocation through Swartz Creek, Durand, Bancroft, Morrice and Perry will open the last link of a four-lane, divided highway between Lansing and Flint, the State Highway Department says. The 12.5-mile, $6-million stretch will be open in time to accommodate traffic heading toward the Notre Dame-Michigan State University football game, the department said.

Intend to Retain Legal Control Over Any Plans

Troy Reviews Spot for Airport Under Zoning

TROY — The Troy City Commission reviewed a recommendation last night that would put any plans for an airport under city zoning regulations.

Under the present zoning ordinance there is no provision made for airports.

In early September there was some concern over the possibility of construction of a major metropolitan airport in this area.

While no one has proposed one, the commission intends to include airport facilities in the "industrial" zoning classification, thereby retaining legal control over any proposed plans.

David E. Firestone, city manager, pointed out that the new or amended ordinance would be only a precaution since there are no pieces of intact property in the city large enough to accommodate a commercial airport.

OK TO ADVERTISE
In other business, the commission authorized the city manager to advertise for bids for two new police cars and for a 4-inch construction pump to keep city excavations dry.

Also authorized were bids for bond financing and construction of the Dequindre water main.

50th Anniversary for Commerce Couple

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP — Mr. and Mrs. Earl W. Burt of 3498 Newton Road are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary today with a family reunion at the home of their son Robert in Waterford Township.

To be present are two of the Burt's three daughters; Mrs. Burt's mother, Mrs. John Squier; nine grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

U.N. Day, failed to include mention of a Supreme Being.

A motion was made to amend the proclamation to include recognition that the U.N. operates under a higher authority in the cause of world peace.

Romeo Voting Today on School Bond Issue

ROMEO—Officials in the Romeo Community School District remind the district electorate that this is the day to vote on a $50,000 bond issue for school expansion. The polls are open until 8 p.m.

Also on the ballot is a request for permission to levy three mills Mayor Robert J. Huber pointed for 20 years to finance the proposed construction of some 20 rooms in the district.

IT'S THE UNITED WAY EVERYONE WORKING TOGETHER!

United Press International has named Whitey Ford of the Yankees the American League's pitcher of the year. He was picked by 22 of 36 experts voting. Detroit's Frank Lary was next with eight and Yank relief ace Luis Arroyo had the other six.

Fred Cleveland manager Jimmie Dykes called his former outfielder Jim Fernald "very exclusive, very unpredictable and rather explosive but a great player" at a Milwaukee banquet last night.

Pratt Junior College of Kansas will have to forfeit six straight football victories. The school learned Monday it has been using a player not eligible under a transfer rule. He played in only three games.

National Football League headquarters will examine film taken by both clubs to determine if defensive halfbacks of the Giants snatched a 13-year-old record at Dallas Sunday when he snatched the length of the field with an interception. The record is 103 yards by Bob Smith of Detroit in 1948.

There is discussion in the ranks of the British Rugby Cup and team following its annual loss to the U.S. Main gripe was that Dai Rees was captain for the fourth time which is worth money.

Joe Williams of Iowa and South Haven's Bill Swingle of Northwestern share the Big Ten all-games football point lead with 30 points each. George Saines of MSU and Bob Ferguson of Ohio State follow with 24.

Report Hornung Called to Duty Browns Lose Mitchell Also to Armed Forces; Chargers Hit

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Green Bay halfback Pat Hornung, the National Football League's leading scorer, has been ordered to report for active military duty on Oct. 30, sportscaster Tony Flynn said Monday night.

So has ace halfback Bobby Mitchell of the Cleveland Browns.

Hornung could not be reached for comment on the report, which also said that Packer linemen Larry Brown and Mike Pritchard were called to duty at Ft. Lewis, Wash., Nov. 3.

"Ever since the opening game in Detroit when Gene Hackman broke a leg, our boys have had nothing but bad luck."

That was the reaction from Coach Paul E. Brown when he learned Monday that the Army is taking Mitchell.

"It's a blow to us," said Brown. Army reservists in uniform here Monday for active duty included Ron Mix, who returned Sunday night with the American Football League's San Diego Chargers from a victorious road trip to Buffalo, Boston and New York.

The Chargers' ace quarterback, Jack Kemp, has been ordered to report for Army physical examination as a reservist of the same transportation company.

Coach to Move Up COLUMBUS, Mo. (AP) — Wilbur (Sparky) Staley, began his 18th season as head basketball coach at Missouri Monday with an announcement that he would move up to assistant director of athletics at the end of the 1961-1962 season.

Machen Favored Over Britisher in Heavy Bout

LONDON (AP) — American heavyweight Eddie Machen goes into a European ring for the second time tonight hoping to do to Britain's Brian London what Ingemar Johansson did to him three years ago.

Machen, still hoping for a fight title could see his dreams crash around him if he loses tonight. But he is rated 3-1 favorite to beat London, a Welshman, champion who has not fought for more than a year. The two men clash at Wembley Indoor Stadium.

London, a slugger who sometimes lands a punch that would stop anyone, has everything to gain and nothing to lose. He has been in the shadows since the British Boxing Board of Control suspended him for his part in a ring fracas at Portcawl, Wales, 13 months ago.

Favored in Gardena CAMDEN, N.J. (AP) — Meadow Farm's Cicada horse was established an early 3-5 favorite for the 118,888 Garden State, the world's richest race for 3-year-old fillies, at Garden State Park Saturday.

Ranch's Tamara was quoted as second choice at 5-1 for the one and one-half mile race, Calumet Farm's Fair Summer and Lovely Charger were listed 8-1.

Dr. Perry said the attack would end the 13-year professional career of the defenseman.

PNI TERROR — A terror for enemy backs all this fall has been little Pontiac Northern defenseman ace Mike Marone. A 2nd team halfback on offense he goes against Waterloo next Friday night.

Michigan State Voted No. 1 in Nation

Slips in Front of Mississippi by Two Points

Wolverines Drop Out of Top 10 on Setback to Spartans, 28-0

By The Associated Press
Michigan State nudged Mississippi out of the No. 1 college football team in the country today in the weekly Associated Press poll. The margin was by a slim two points. Of 1961, collected more first place votes than the Spartans. Mississippi had 21 first places to 16 for Michigan State, which went to the top by virtue of its impressive 28-0 victory over Michigan last Saturday in the national television game of the week.

Michigan State finished with 411 points to 429 for Mississippi. The nationwide panel of 48 sports writers and sportscasters had in order, Texas, Iowa, Alabama, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Georgia Tech, Colorado, Arkansas and Louisiana State tied for tenth.

The points were figured on a basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second and so on down the line. Mississippi showed a 4-4 record, following its easy 47-7 triumph over Houston last week. Michigan State has won all three of its games.

Michigan, No. 6, Baylor, No. 9, and Maryland, No. 10 a week ago all tumbled out of the top 10, as a result of being beaten.

Georgia Tech, Colorado, Arkansas and Louisiana State all jumped into the select circle.

Actually, only Ohio State held the same spot as a week ago. Mississippi, Iowa and Alabama all dropped at least one notch, while Michigan State, Texas and Notre Dame all advanced.

The top list started on a 19-0-2, etc. basis, with first place votes and season record.

Lane Seeking Future Bout With Champ

PARIS (AP) — Veteran lightweight Kenny Lane of Muskogean, Mich., said today he'll continue to fight in Europe if he can line up a bout with either Dailio Lodi of Italy or Dave Charney of Great Britain.

Lane, who outpointed Alissa Hasas of Paris in a dull 10-rounder at the Sports Palace Monday night, indicated he wants Lodi if possible.

"If I get a good offer to fight him, I'll certainly stay," he said. "Otherwise, I'll probably take up an offer to fight Bandit Medina in Fresno, Calif."

Young Lakers Perfect The Our Lady of the Lakes junior footballers extended their victory streak to four and made their point record 68 to 0 by beating St. Williams of Walla Walla 15-0 yesterday. Mike Comp tallied seven points and Tim Mullen six.

Middies Warned About Cross, Shorter

'Forget Michigan' -- Duffy

EAST LANSING (AP) — No. 1 football team in the nation—and Michigan State has started working like fury to stay up there.

"Forget about Michigan," ordered coach Duffy Daugherty almost immediately after the 28-0 defeat of the traditional rival Saturday. "Start thinking about Notre Dame."

This is a non-conference game, but a major prestige one for Michigan State. Once again the Spartans will be meeting the sixth-ranked team in the country.

Last week Michigan had the spot, but the Wolverines now have slid out of sight. This week comes Notre Dame, a proud Irish team making a bid to regain some of the football glory that once always was associated with the school under the golden dome. It's been a long, long time since the Irish have beaten the Spartans. Michigan State has taken eight of nine since 1950 and the last five in a row. The last Notre Dame win of the series was by a squeaky 20-19 margin in 1954.

Once again MSU faces an underdog.

Some injuries complicate the picture this week.

Ed "Rocky" Ryan, team captain and defensive signal-caller, is out with a dislocated shoulder and may be missing as late as a month. Ryan, who first enrolled at Notre Dame and then transferred to MSU, particularly whiffed out Dallas Sunday when he snatched the length of the field with an interception.

Defensive specialist Wayne Fontes, who recovered a fumble that led to the first Spartan score against Michigan, will sub for Ryan.

Other minor injuries showed up over the weekend but all the ailing are expected back in time for the kickoff here Saturday.

Only a few Spartan stadium tickets are left and the game is expected to be a 70,000-plus sell-out.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Michigan's football team started preparing for Saturday's game against Purdue yesterday, but the memory of last weekend's 28-0 drubbing at the hands of Michigan State was revived.

Cock Bump Elliott and his charges viewed films of the MSU game in an effort to correct flaws in the Wolverines attack. Earlier the first team worked on defensive formations to be used against the hotshirts.

Aside from right halfback Dave Rainey's light shoulder injury and a neck injury received by sophomore line guard Ed Smith, the Wolverines were in good physical condition.

ANNAPOLIS, Md. (AP) — Navy will have to stop the passing and running of quarterback Jerry Gross to beat Detroit Friday night, according to the Midweek's scoring report.

Chief scout Steve Belichick told the Navy football squad last night that Gross is "an outstanding leg quarterback who combines fine passing with excellent running." He has averaged 24 yards a game offensively in leading the Titans to three victories without a loss.

"Gross throws well either standing still or on the run—and he'll run anywhere," Belichick said. "He has a good arm and he can lead Detroit ends Steve Stonebreaker and Larry Yargo, both already drafted by the pros, are fine receivers."

The academy scout also warned the Midshipmen about left half Jim Shorter, "a very good passer who can run the game in 1961." He has averaged 37 yards per carry.

Broncos Setting Hot Pace in IBL George, Pointer Gain Keg Finals

Two Pontiac keepers gained the finals and several others made good showings over the past weekend during the qualifying and semifinal rounds of the state elimination for the National All-Star. Paul George and Shirley Pointer both finished 1st at Ann Arbor. They will continue in competition the next two weekends hoping to gain a berth in the big event to be held at Miami, Fla., next January. It will be sponsored by the Bowling Proprietor's Association of America.

George finished first among the men contestants in the Eastern part of the state with 7,847 for a 204.3 average. Four Lansing men completed the list of five to make the finals with Mike Domitrz at 7,599 for 208.3. Carl Behrick of Lakewood Lakes gained an East alternate berth with missing 5th place by 21 pins with 6,962 featuring a strong finish. Paul Horie, manager of Wonderland Lanes in Commerce, hit 6,796 for 14th and Joe Bonfiglio 18th at 6,763. Bill Leigh was 23rd and Frank Spadafora 32nd in a 50 man field.

Four members of the Huron team in a Detroit loop put up gallant bids to make it among the big city boys but fell apart in the final bowl. Jim Walker totaled 7,238, Mike Samardzja 7,156, Les Rothbarth 7,149 and Joe Foster was around the 7,000 mark.

Rolls First 300 at '300'

Games of 300 and 297, two 705 series and team scores totaling 3078 and 3036 were turned in at two Waterford Township bowling establishments over the weekend.

The big singles were turned in at the new "300" Bowl while the others featured another big night in the Huron Bowl Classic.

He will likely get awards from AMF and the "house" but would have won a compact car if it had been in league play.

The 297 there was turned in by Don Taylor. The Michigan state-Oakland student also was open bowling.

Calbi Music hit a season high of 3078 and 1st place Westside Mobil 3006. P. L. of P., ranking 2nd, rolled the best game of the year with 1106 in 2007.

Ron Rothbarth fired 669 topped by a 244. Ken Willhite had 638 and Jim Walker 604 to lead Calbi. Bill Smith had 544-303-258-705 to pace Westside. Bob Leroy rolled 222-236-347-705 and Paul George 265-628 to head P. L. of P.

Manroe Moore at '300 Bowl, an early leader last week at Detroit before suffering a back injury, was also eliminated.

Shirley, a Huron instructor, easily took Eastern women's honors with 6,536 for a 131 average. Two Ann Arbor women were far behind. Connie Powers led in Detroit at 6,888.

Texans Leading East Division of New League

Detroit's Ed Lubanski Ties for Top Scoring Honors With 10

The Dallas Broncos set a 20-point-per-match pace last week in getting the National Bowling League on its way and the result was the top spot in the Eastern Division.

The hot-shooting Texans lost only one match in five and that was in a Sunday double-header with San Antonio.

Dallas took the lead because it played more matches than everybody else except New York with whom the Broncos opened the league campaign Thursday night.

Two cities have not yet played but they're going tonight, with Fort Worth making its start against Minneapolis-St. Paul and Kansas City visiting New York.

Frome leads the Western Division with a 31 record. The Bombers rolled up 33 points to six for Los Angeles Sunday, with Ed Beaudette rolling a 778 game and Bill Hardwick 268.

The high game of the first five nights of play was the 778 by Frome. He was registered Friday night in leading his team to a 2-9 triumph over Los Angeles. He had nine strikes in a 70.

The biggest point-makers were Ed Lubanski of Detroit and Bob Brayman of Minneapolis-St. Paul. Lubanski piled up 10 against New York Friday night and Brayman came through with 10 against Omaha Sunday night.

Heavyweight Bout Set for Toronto

TORONTO (AP)—After a one-month postponement and switching the site from one country to another, the world heavyweight championship bout between titleholder Floyd Patterson and challenger Tom McNeely was all set today.

Patterson and the undefeated McNeely signed contracts Monday to meet here on Dec. 4 in the Maple Leaf Gardens. If McNeely upsets the champion, a return bout must be held within 120 days, according to the contracts.

"We'll select a training camp somewhere near here in the next few days," said Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato. "We'll start work there in the first week of November."

Thirty teams will participate. The boys will play two games at once on 50-yard fields. The four-hour program is the conclusion of the midget football season.

The youngsters have been practicing for six weeks. The emphasis has been on fundamentals.

Bathgate Tops Early Scorers

MONTREAL (AP)—Andy Bathgate, veteran New York right winger who has been up and down the National Hockey League point leaders during the last six seasons, scored three goals and picked up five assists in four games for the league-leading Rangers.

Litzenberger, acquired from Chicago in the off-season, has three goals and two assists in three games while McKenney has two goals and three assists.

Last year's scoring champion—Bernie "Boom Boom" Geoffrion of Montreal—has two points on one goal and one assist. Geoffrion has played two games.

Tell Senate Unit Measure Needed

Justices Make Pitch for Appeals Court

LANSING.—An intermediate court to intercept appeals before they go to the State Supreme Court may be in the offing for Michigan.

Justices George Edwards and Thomas M. Kavanagh made strong pitch for a new appeals court Monday. They told the Senate Judiciary Committee that an intermediate court would lessen the supreme court's workload and enable the justices to improve the quality of judicial decisions.

"We turn out a fairly high quality of opinions now," said Edwards, "but it should be the highest; our job could be done better."

Lower court judges generally gave the proposal qualified endorsement.

However, Circuit Judge Thomas Murphy of Detroit, said less than half of 14 Wayne County circuit judges taking part in an informal poll approved the idea.

"We are unanimously in favor of the legislature providing an adequate number of trial judges before providing for an intermediate court," Murphy said.

SAYS CASE DOUBLED

Since 1929, he said, Wayne County's population has doubled and the number of cases tried in circuit court have more than doubled but the number of circuit judges has remained constant at 15. Because of the heavy workload, he said, cases will take nearly two years to come to trial before long.

Oakland, Macomb, Washtenaw, Allegan and Kent counties all need at least one additional circuit judge, he said, and Wayne County should have seven to nine more.

If an intermediate court is set up, Murphy said, Wayne County judges agree that separate districts should be set up, with two circuit judges and one supreme court justice sitting as the appellate court in each district and on a rotating basis.

Kavanagh, backing the plan for district appellate courts, said the state might be divided into eight districts, assigning a supreme court justice to each one.

Kavanagh said the proposed court could thus operate in the same framework as the present system and with little additional cost to state and county governments.

It would dispose of lesser cases that now take up too much time in the high court and enable the supreme court to give better direction to the state's judicial system, he said.

URGES 'SAFEGUARDS'

Recorder's (Criminal Court)

Judge W. McKay Skillman of Wayne County warned against "an avalanche of cases" in the new court unless enabling legislation set "safeguards" allowing only certain kinds of appeals.

Litigants, he said, should have to "set forth clearly the nature of the error in the lower court so the appellate court could determine whether an appeal should be allowed."

Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, chairman of the interim committee, said 13 of the state's most populous states already have intermediate courts.

There is "considerable sentiment" among the judiciary, he said, for three appellate court districts, one in Wayne County and one each in Eastern and Western Michigan.

Morris said he is aware the constitutional convention, now in session, will consider revision of the judicial system. However, he said, the legislature still will be in a position to shape the court system within the limits set by the constitution.

Morris said his committee would conduct another hearing Oct. 30, with members of the Michigan bar and "other interested citizens" invited to testify.

Sam Rayburn Has 'Good Day'

Speaker Is Serious; Must Improve to Get Treatments With Drug

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Sam Rayburn had a "relatively good day" Monday but the House speaker, stricken with cancer, remains in serious condition.

Medical bulletins released by Baylor Hospital, where Rayburn, 78, has been a patient since Oct. 2, described him as alert and resting comfortably. The bulletins stressed there had been no major change in his condition.

NEEDS TO GET BETTER

Dr. Anthony R. Current, head of the Cancer Research Hospital at the University of Wisconsin, said at Houston that Rayburn's general condition must improve before he can receive any more treatments with the experimental drug 5-fluorouracil or its derivative, FUDR. The drug acts by prolonging life, Dr. Current said Rayburn Sunday.

The veteran Texas Democrat returned to his home at Bonham last August, saying he was suffering from lumbago. When his condition failed to improve, he entered the hospital where doctors showed he is suffering from inoperable cancer.

Ecuador Arrests 16 Charged in Anti-Ibarra Plot

QUITO, Ecuador (AP)—Ecuador's government announced Monday night the arrest of 16 persons charged with a widespread plot to topple the regime of President Jose Maria Velasco Ibarra.

Security Director Gonzalo Jacome claimed Lt. Col. Cesar Paredes, chairman of the Municipal Council at Quito, in Los Rios Province, headed a nationwide network that planned to start a revolt today.

He said government agents seized a shipment of arms from Communist countries and Communist literature including Cuban economic chief Ernesto Guevara's book "Guerrilla Warfare."

The announcement did not state whether Paredes was captured.

State Industry Uses Water but Returns It

LANSING.—Michigan industry used 811 billion gallons of water in 1959 but returned 96.7 percent of it for reuse, the state Economic Development Department reports.

U.S. Census Bureau figures showed Michigan's loss of water used for manufacturing was the lowest in the nation, said Dr. Paul A. Herbert, chief of the department's research division.

Michigan is fourth in the nation in water intake for all purposes he said, trailing Pennsylvania, Texas and Ohio. Michigan's intake increased by 15 percent from 1954 to 1959, Herbert added, while Pennsylvania and Ohio fell off.

"Michigan has the greatest additional quantity of fresh water available for future expansion and demand," he said. Industry's high rate of return is partially responsible for the abundance, he added.

Three of the destroyers—Jonas Ingram, Noy and Strake—will leave from Mayport, Fla. The other three—Warhig, Robinson and Miller—are from Newport, R.I.

Fond du Lac Clock Facing Toll of Death

FOND DU LAC, Wis. (UPI)—The tolling of the bell on the Fond Du Lac County courthouse tower soon may stop for good.

The vibrations caused by the bell striking have resulted in the loosening of mortar between bricks in the tower, County board members must decide whether to restore the tower, or raise it for an addition to the courthouse. If they decide the latter, they may install a new type of clock with chiming.

In 'Adventures in Paradise'

Gardner McKay Fools 'Em All'

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — They laughed when Gardner McKay made his debut in "Adventures in Paradise" in 1959.

"They rubbed their eyes in disbelief last year when the TV series was renewed.

"They were poised to jump off buildings this month when Gardner began a third year of sailing the South Seas saving maidens in distress.

"They are the critics and who guys who predicted the show would die a quiet death after the first season. If, indeed, it would last that long. They derided McKay's acting particularly.

"I'm probably the only guy who isn't surprised that we're still on the air," McKay said like a man winning a reprieve from the gas chamber. "We had some bad reviews, but every series has a few shows that aren't right up to par."

From the beginning Gardner has had confidence in his acting, despite the fact he often sounded as if he were reciting the telephone book from memory.

ENOGLAS AT UCLA

This is indicated by the actor's enrollment at UCLA.

"I've taken some courses out there to learn how to read and write," he said. This could be considered a backhand slap at Cornell where Gardner studied as an undergraduate.

"That didn't sound exactly as I meant it," McKay added.

"I'm learning how to read plots and stories faster through a speed reading class. And I'm taking another class in television script writing."

Gardner feels, with some reason, that many of the scripts on the ABC-TV adventure series leave something to be desired in the realm of art, or even in the realm of credibility.

As for speed reading, he can always use that to skim past the horrendous reviews.

"Heck, I'm not the kind of guy who worries about things," he went on. "I spent three weeks filming backgrounds — and fore-grounds — in Tahiti this summer, and I plan to go back there as soon as I can. It's an easy-going life, and the women are beautiful."

"I plan to get back to Tahiti next May. I'll be all washed up, by then and ready for a rest."

Done Gardner forswore a fourth year for his durable series.

"Don't know," he said. "But I like to look like a good bet. It's okay with me."

"Like I said, I don't worry much about things."

Bob Kennedy Reports New Antirace Laws Help Fight Gambling

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department said today that several major gambling information services have gone out of business since President Kennedy signed tough antirace laws five weeks ago.

On Sept. 8, Kennedy signed into law three bills aimed at illegal gambling. One of them made it a federal crime to transmit gambling information between states.

Since then, the Department said, a race wire once operated out of New Orleans has closed down. Several other wires and bookmaking operations have shut down at Little Rock, Chicago and Minneapolis. Others have curtailed operations.

Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy returned to office Monday after two weeks of meeting with federal agents on the West Coast and in Kansas City, Chicago and Minneapolis.

"At most of these cities," Kennedy told newsmen, "we discussed individuals in whom we are interested and situations we are investigating." He identified the individuals as "kingspins of organized crime."

ON-THESpot TALKS
His on-the-spot conference with local officials of federal investigative agencies was but the greater cooperation was needed on higher levels of the government.

The new laws prohibit transmission of gambling information across state lines via telephone and telegraph, travel in furtherance of illegal gambling and interstate shipment of gambling paraphernalia other than parimutuel and licensed betting equipment.

The Justice Department has several investigations under way as a result of the new antirace laws. Weapons, but no indictments have resulted from them to date.

Ex-convict William J. Klein will be sentenced Nov. 8 after he pleaded guilty yesterday before Circuit Judge William J. Bear to a charge of trying to cash a worthless $50 check at a downtown Pontiac bank Oct. 7.

An alert teller, Mrs. Donald Sweet, recognized Klein's name as one that had been on several bogus checks. Police believe he was responsible for cashing $1,000 in bad checks in Oakland and Macomb counties.

What is a

CRYSTALLON?

A crystallon is a crystal fragment used as a catalyst in the making of synthetic quartz crystals which are important in the field of electronics.

The study of synthetic crystals is just one way chemistry is helping our country's technological progress.

To continue our advance, we will need many more chemists in the years to come. Yet many potential chemists may never go on to higher education because there may not be room for them in college. Many colleges are overcrowded and in 10 years applications will double. We will need more and better college laboratories and thousands more of the highest quality professors.

Stops Constipation Due to "Aging Colon"
New laxative discovery re-creates 3 essentials for normal regularity
As you grow older, the internal muscles of your colon wall also age, lose the strength that propels waste from the body. Stagnant bowel contents become so dry and shrunken that they fail to stimulate the urge to purge. Relief, doctors say, lies in a new laxative principle. Old-style bulks and moisteners may create gas, take 3 or 4 days for relief. Old-style salts and drugs cramp and gripe the entire system. Of all laxatives, only new Colosaid gives you its special 3-way relief that works only on the lower colon (ages of constipation).

(1) Colosaid prevents the formation of dry, hardened waste for easy passage without pain or strain. (2) Colosaid's unequalled rebulking action helps restore flabby colon muscles. (3) And Colosaid acts gently, on the nerve reflexes that stimulate the vital "mass movement" of your lower colon. Colosaid relieves even chronic constipation overnight; it so gently it was hospital proved safe even for expectant mothers. And Colosaid won't interfere with absorption of vitamins or other food nutrients. Get Colosaid today! INTRODUCTORY SIZE 43¢

Makes Greatest Progress
Okinawa Is U.S. Success

NAHA, Okinawa (UPI) — Okinawa is the success story of the Orient.

Nowhere in history — not even in Japan — have a people progressed from the primal to the modern in such a short space of time. And nowhere else in the world have American dollars done more to accomplish the transition.

The Ryukyus, of which Okinawa is the largest island, were the poorest prefecture of the pre-war Japanese Empire and the 800,000 inhabitants of the 64 islands had a social status of a Georgia cracker and the prospect of an early death after a monotonous diet of rice and sweet potatoes.

Any Okinawan who made more than $2 a month either had rich relatives overseas or was suspected of illicit dealings.

When the Americans finished the battle of Okinawa on June 21, 1945, even the rice and sweet potatoes were gone and the $2 a month income was a pleasant memory.

The 82-day battle ravaged the land and killed tens of thousands of Okinawans and destroyed nine out of every 10 buildings on the island.

One of the sore points still ranking the Okinawans is that the Japanese failed to evacuate the civilians and allowed them to be caught as innocent pawns in the terrible fight.

Economically, the Okinawans hadn't lost much in the war, for there were only about 100 vehicles in the Ryukyus to begin with, only a few hundred feet of paved road, no rural electrification, only primitive water system, and no industry except a few black sugar mills.

World events never bothered the pre-war Ryukyus because only about a score out of every thousand read a newspaper.

There was no problem of sending the kids to college because there were no colleges on Okinawa to begin with, nor much of an opportunity at home for a college graduate as the Japanese held nearly all the important administrative positions. And all this was less than 20 years ago.

Percentage-wise, Okinawa has had the greatest traffic increase in the world. Today there are nearly 32,000 vehicles on the roads, some 40 per cent of them civilian-owned.

The Okinawan enthusiasm for the American way of life is best exemplified in the increasingly high percentage of traffic accidents.

Despite the danger of death or injury on the highways the Okinawan today lives 20 years longer than his pre-war brethren due to improved diet, living conditions, health and medical facilities.

His average income is about eight times as great as it was 15 years ago and it's increasing each year. Illiteracy has just about been eliminated, and 10 times as many Ryukyuns read newspapers today as did before the war.

The islanders have their own legislative and municipal governments, and thousands of Ryukyuns administer the largely autonomous self-governing setup.

Unravels Mystery of Nylon Vandals
NEW HOPE, Pa. (UPI) — The orioles here seem to think that feminine underthings are for the birds.

It all started when Mrs. Alexander Griffin discovered her nylon underthings, hung on the line to dry, were becoming unraveled.

The mystery was solved when Mrs. Griffin discovered one of the unraveled threads leading to a sassafras tree — and more specifically, to a nest being built in the tree by an oriole.

Mrs. Griffin watched from a hiding place and discovered the oriole family busily pecking her nylon apart and hauling the threads to their nests. She dries her things indoors now.

Stop Stalling... fire up with the new gasolines that stop carburetor icing

PURE Firebird GASOLINES

If you've ever stalled in traffic, you know how annoying it can be. What's more, stalls waste gasoline and are a safety hazard. Many motorists blame stalling on the plugs, points, or ignition system. Fact is, carburetor icing is usually the villain.

Carburetor icing can occur even when the temperature is as high as 55°. When gasoline vaporizes in the carburetor, it has a refrigerating effect. Ice forms, blocks the air flow, your engine stalls.

The two powerful new PURE Firebird Gasolines contain a special additive that coats the carburetor throttle plate and walls. This coating prevents ice from building up to block the air flow and stall your car. This same additive cleans out dirt and other carburetor deposits. You enjoy a smoother-running, more powerful engine, and better gasoline mileage.

Enjoy a car that starts faster, runs better, farther, with greater economy. Fire up with Firebird at your Pure Oil dealer's. New PURE Firebird Super with Tri-tane or new PURE Firebird Regular. No extra cost.

Delegate Urges Single Chamber for Legislature

Sub for Senate, House in Proposal Offered at Michigan Convention

LANSING (AP) — Adoption of a single chamber system for Michigan's legislature — replacing the present Senate and House — was urged today in a resolution filed with the constitutional convention.

The proposal was submitted by Harold Norris, D-Detroit, professor of constitutional law at the Detroit College of Law, as the convention opened its third week of sessions.

Under the Norris proposal, the single chamber would consist of not less than 100 and not more than 125 representatives. Each would be elected from a single district. The present legislature has 110 members in the House and 34 in the Senate.

Norris suggested that the new single-body legislature be patterned after one proposed in the model state constitution, drawn up by the National Municipal League. At present, Nebraska is the only state with a unicameral legislative system.

Michigan's legislature should be authorized to grant all areas, rural and urban, effective representation, the Norris proposal said, and the governor should have the power of disbursement—subject to judicial review.

In his proposal, Norris also declared:

"All districts shall be so nearly equal in population that the district with the greatest population shall not exceed the district with the least population by more than three per cent."

DISTRICTS DISPROPORTIONATE

Some senators in the present legislature represent districts that have several times the population in other districts.

Norris proposed that after each decennial census, the governor would name 15 qualified voters to a board charged with the task of coming up with recommendations on redistricting within 30 days.

The proposal, one of several filed with the convention Monday was referred to the committee on legislative organization, headed by John A. Hannah, Michigan State University professor.

Other proposals would:

- Lower the legal voting age for Michigan residents from 21 years of age to 18.

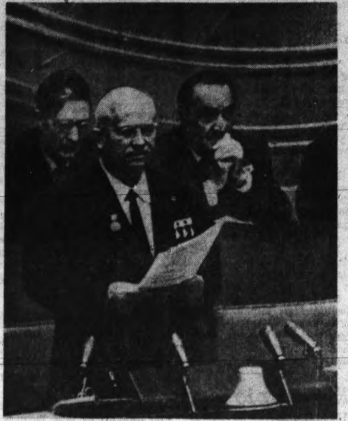

—Extend the governor's term in office to four years instead of the present two years, and allow the governor to appoint all administrative board members except the lieutenant governor.

Delegates spent most of their time in Monday night's plenary session asking questions of Dr. James Pollock, political science professor at the University of Michigan and a widely-known authority on constitutional law.

Preliminary committee work will occupy the attention of most of the 144 convention delegates this week.

K Plans Biggest Blast Yet; Cancels Treaty Deadline

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev announced today the 31st anniversary of the Soviet Union's 50th birthday, a nuclear bomb equal to 50 million tons of TNT, will be exploded.

The Soviet premier made the disclosure in a speech opening the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress. He declared the Soviet Union no longer will insist on signing a German peace treaty by the end of this year—as he has been threatening.

The speech was reported by the Soviet news agency Tass. Western reporters were barred from hearing him.

The 50-million-ton bomb is half the size of the one that Khrushchev previously said the Soviet Union was planning.

He said the Soviet Union has a 100-million-ton bomb "but we do not intend to explode it."

"If we happen to explode it in the wrong place, we might break our own windows," he explained.

"May God grant that we never have to explode such a bomb."

LAST IN SERIES

The 50-million-ton blast, he added, will be the last in the current series of Soviet nuclear tests, which started Sept. 1.

Twenty test bombs have been exploded in the present series, according to reports by the U.S. Atomic Energy Commission.

The 50-megaton blast set for Oct. 31 is the first of the series to be announced by the Soviet Union and the only one ever announced in advance.

Such an explosion would be 2,500 times bigger than the U.S. atomic bomb which hit Hiroshima in 1945. It would be perhaps five times larger than the biggest device so far exploded in the Soviet series. Japan's Central Meteorological Agency estimated the biggest so far was a 10-megaton bomb tested Oct. 6.

The biggest bomb in the U.S. arsenal is believed to be of about the equivalent of 20 million tons of TNT. American experts say they are not interested in building a bigger one because present bombs are powerful enough to shatter any target. They have described the construction of a (Continued on Page 2, Col. 8.)

JFK Upset as Differences on Berlin Are Published

WASHINGTON (UPI) — President Kennedy today was reported "seriously concerned" that Allied differences on Berlin strategy have been blown out of true proportion.

Aides said Kennedy felt the recent cancellation of Allied strategy talks in London was a tempest in a teapot, that undue dire significance has been read into it and that all this dangerously damages the Allied cause.

The proposed meeting of Allied foreign office experts was vetoed by France.

Widely differing interpretations of the incident quickly began floating around Washington and world capitals.

—French President Charles de Gaulle feared that the United States and Britain would make concessions to Russia on Berlin against the interests of Western Europe — a kind of "sell-out."

—France and ourselves couldn't do closer together on Germany," insisted a ranking U.S. diplomat.

From qualified American and Allied officials here it appeared the actual situation was between these extremes and added up to neither total agreement nor total disagreement among the Allies.

The basic split between the United States and France, officials said, is on whether there should now be any Allied appearance of willingness to negotiate with Russia.

Early in the Berlin crisis Secretary of State Dean Rusk publicly was pressing the theme that there would be negotiations.

De Gaulle is strongly of the view that Berlin is a crisis of Russia's making and that the West should wait until the Soviet Union yields on major points before showing any desire to negotiate. A premature Western negotiating overture, he feels, would show dangerous weakness.

BERLIN (AP) — Three East German planes in a truck crashed through a road barrier into West Berlin today, at a Communist checkpoint on the northwest city limits in the British sector.

West German police said at least six shots were fired at the truck by East German police. Three bullet holes were found in the vehicle when the three men pulled up at a police station and reported as refugees.

The three had prepared for the breakout by covering the windshield of the 4½-ton truck with narrow sight slits for the driver. Police did not identify them except to say one was between 18 and 21 and the others older.

25-Day Drive Aimed at Goal of $672,500

Thomas F. Wiethorn Presses Button of Torch to Signal Start

Pontiac Area United Fund leaders were hopeful results of their 25-day drive for $672,500 would be as bright as the sun which greeted today's kickoff.

Towering Thomas F. Wiethorn, general campaign chairman, stood beneath the 26-foot red and white symbolic torch at the junction of Oakland Avenue and Saginaw Street and pressed a little black button to light the torch.

The action doesn't mean as much as what will follow it.

Thousands of men and women volunteers, from all walks of life in the Pontiac area, will be pulling out all stops day and night to raise the $672,500 to help the needy who benefit from 34 local, state and national U.F. agencies.

"We're off," declared Wiethorn this morning at the traditional kickoff breakfast attended by 50 campaign leaders at the City Club.

"I feel confident that in the home stretch you will not let up," Wiethorn, manager of the Pontiac plant of Fisher Body Division, said.

REPORT BRINGS SMILES

The smiles on the faces of the different division chairmen and their many lieutenants were as bright as the sun outside this morning with Wiethorn's report that contributions were coming in.

Thomas E. Wilson, industrial division chairman, told campaign leaders that to date $52,582 had been raised — "so the picture appears very favorable."

In the absence of John P. Nigman, chairman of the advance gifts section, Wiethorn happily reported this section had contributed to date "at least $32,000 of its quota."

"This is at least on par with last year and maybe a nudge ahead," Wiethorn said.

It is hoped, Wiethorn said, that the women's division, under the direction of Mrs. Walter Noffsinger, "can go zooming over its $27,000 goal — shall we say to $30,000."

"We'll give it the good old college try and make a flaring hole out of that flickering light," Mrs. Noffsinger flattered in her report to the gathering.

GOAL IDENTICAL

This year's total goal is identical with that of the 1960 campaign.

Dean G. Beler, Pontiac attorney, came in for some special praise from Wiethorn for his work under the commercial division. Wiethorn said "this fresh new approach" used by Beler included talks before 40 organizations and many service clubs in the area.

Paul Snover, chairman of the general manufacturing group in the industrial division, said his scheduled later this week.

CAFÉ CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The National Space Agency today postponed indefinitely the first flight test of the Saturn super-bomber in order to make refinements in the control system. The launch had been scheduled later this week.

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The aircraft carrier Randolph and the Liberian tanker Atlantic Viscount collided Monday night 325 miles east of Charleston, S.C., the Navy reported today. No one on either ship was injured seriously, a naval spokesman said. The carrier sustained a 30-foot long gash in her left side 125 feet from her bow and 25 feet above her waterline. There was no word here on the tanker's damage.

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The National Space Agency today postponed indefinitely the first flight test of the Saturn super-bomber in order to make refinements in the control system. The launch had been scheduled later this week.

Paul Snover, chairman of the general manufacturing group in the industrial division, said his scheduled later this week.

The board thus reiterated its decision in August to reintroduce the McGuffey, which brought cries of outrage from some educators, an ultimatum of cancellation of state school aid and threats of lawsuits.

The books have divided this powerful reform coalition of 630 persons into rival groups, one threatening court action to expel McGuffey from school, the other defending its use.

One educator called the books a "return to the dark ages." Another described them as far better than today's "jargon" textbooks.

The versions purchased by the school board were the edition of the McGuffey, revised in 1879, not the amended "Golden Rule Series" issued three years ago.

Larry Richter, a seventh grader, said he thought his McGuffey was "okay," but "one thing I don't like is that some of the words are too hard. We came across the word 'shilling' and we had to look it up and find out how much it means in our money."

Attorney Edward Zahn called the introduction of the McGuffey an attempt by a small force of people to invade a public school system and force on the people a political philosophy.

Reuther Goes to Chrysler Today

DETROIT (AP) — Walter P. Reuther came as the UAW virtually complete settlement of a strike that had shut down Ford for 13 days. Ford resumed production Monday at half of its 16 assembly plants with the recall of 55,000 workers.

The company expects to have almost all its 130,000 hourly workers back on the job Wednesday. The union's bargaining strategy at Chrysler was mapped Monday afternoon by Reuther in a meeting at his suburban home with UAW Vice President Norman Matthews, director of the union's Chrysler Department, and their aides.

Earlier in the negotiations Reuther said the union would not grant Chrysler any special concessions because of its lack of profits so far this year. The company's third quarter report also is expected to show a loss.

Reuther has blamed Chrysler's failure to show a profit on management and declared the union would not subsidize what he called management's "incompetence in depth."

Chrysler now has a new top management team headed by Board Chairman George Love and President Lynn Townsend. So far the company has not offered to match the pattern set at GM and Ford.

The UAW represents 33,000 production workers and 7,000 salaried workers at Chrysler.

Just as at GM and Ford, lack of settlements on working conditions at the local level may precipitate a strike at Chrysler. The UAW has 46 Chrysler locals, made up of 102 bargaining units, and so far there have been no local settlements.

In negotiations three years ago, Chrysler was crippled by a series of strikes — both authorized and wildcat — over working rules and production standards.

Orange Lights Bring Hope for Jet Crew

NEW YORK (AP) — Two orange flashes of light in January North Atlantic darkness brought a man crew of an Air Force jet bomber might be found alive. The B-52D, disappeared Saturday during a search.

A Coast Guard cutter probing the trackless wastes 1,000 miles off New York reported seeing two orange flashes.

The first radiobea signal of the cutter, Abasco of Norfolk, Va., sent a fleet of 21 search planes speeding from the mainland to aid in the search. Two other Coast Guard cutters already were in the area.

A hovering yellow object was spotted Monday by a search plane, but it turned out to be a Navy oceanographic device.

The bomber, attached to the Strategic Wing at Seymour Johnson Air Force Base, N.C., was the only one of 2,250 U.S. Candidian and British aircraft that failed to return from the nationwide air defense exercise.

Tree Railroads in South Order Quick Intergration

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fifty-five railroad executives announced that three major railroads have ordered rapid desegregation of all their facilities in the South. But two of the railroads said later they hadn't been practicing segregation.

Kennedy issued the statement after Dr. Martin Luther King had a news conference that the Justice Department had told him of the desegregation orders put out by the railroads—the Illinois Central, Southern and the Louisville & Nashville.

King, Negro integration leader from Atlanta, conferred Monday with both President Kennedy and his brother, the attorney general. King said he had been advised the railroads had "issued orders to act to effect immediately, that all facilities, all terminals be desegregated immediately."

Nominees Upset by Negro Leader

DETROIT (UPI)—Rev. Martin Luther King, prominent Negro integration leader, touched off a controversy here today by urging Negro voters to unite behind one of four Negroes seeking the Democratic nomination in a special Congressional primary election.

King, who is not from Michigan, wrote a pamphlet distributed in the 1st Congressional District in which he said that "if I were a resident" of the district he would vote for Russell S. Brown in today's primary.

Lucien N. Nedel, chairman of the 1st District Democratic Organization and one of the five white candidates for the party nomination, said of King's statement, "It's a mistake for anyone to appeal for votes on the basis of anything other than qualification."

U. S. Rep. Charles C. Diggs, D-Detroit, also urged Negroes in the 1st district to unite behind Brown.

Most of Nation Enjoys Pleasant Autumn Weather

By The Associated Press
More pleasant fall weather was reported across the major part of the country today, although it was cool during the morning in sections of the Northeast and the Rockies.

Sides were generally clear and temperatures mostly above normal levels in broad sections. The unseasonable warm weather in the far southwest appeared ended after a day of near 100-degree readings in California. Thereafter, weather reported from the brief autumn heat wave.

Showers and snow flurries, with gusty northwest to west winds, were reported in the extreme northern Rockies. Snow flurries also flickered areas in northern Maine, but only a trace of snow remained on the ground. Up to six inches of snow fell in some areas Sunday.

Teacher Pleads Guilty and Is Arrested

A sixth grade teacher in the Waterford Township school system yesterday pleaded guilty to attempting an immoral act with a 17-year-old boy.

Gustave C. Zannoni, 42, of 3139 W. Huron St. will be sentenced Nov. 8 by Circuit Judge William J. Beer. The crime with which he is charged carries a maximum prison sentence of five years or a $2,500 fine.

According to Asst. Prosecutor J. Robert Sterling, Zannoni, a teacher at the Fox Town School, 8278 Cooley Lake Road, called the boy, but instead of the boy answering the phone, it was his father, who alerted township police.

Sterling said Zannoni, a bachelor, admitted having homosexual problems since he was 15 years old. Instead of the boy going to Zannoni's residence, a township patrolman arrested Zannoni Oct. 7.

Zannoni is in jail under a $300 bond.

When Waterford Township police notified Supt. of Schools William A. Shuck of Zannoni's arrest, Shuck suspended the man "on the spot," he said.

Named to Bankers Post

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Ralph L. Siddle, executive manager of the Michigan Bankers Association of Lansing, Monday was elected president of the state association section of the American Bankers Association.

The latest revision, he told the bankers, will come in the Budget Bureau's midyear budget review, completed this year after Congress has finished its work. In two or three weeks, it "will not make happy reading," Dillon said.

Last month Dillon indicated the deficit might exceed $6 billion.

Expect Bigger Deficit in Budget

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Secretary of the Treasury Douglas Dillon today broke the news of a further expected increase in the federal deficit. This year's budget, he said, will be "somewhat more than $6.5 billion" out of balance.

Dillon said that record harvests—requiring huge farm price support outlays—and the growing postal deficit have caused the red ink to run deeper than expected. But Dillon, in an address for the annual meeting of the American Bankers Association, discounted the possibility that the excess of federal spending over receipts would in itself cause inflation. He also renewed the Kennedy administration's promise of a balanced budget for fiscal 1963, starting next July 1.

This is exactly what the President intends to submit to the Congress in January," Dillon told.

Dillon said President Kennedy has intensified his pressure on federal agencies for "strictest economy and the postponement of spending and outlays which are not absolutely necessary."

The fiscal 1962 budget set for Congress in January by former President Dwight D. Eisenhower showed a $1.5-billion surplus. Democrats criticized the budget as "political" and "unrealistic."

The new administration revised it to show a $2-billion deficit. In July the Berlin crisis prompted.

The Day in Birmingham Hills Rotarians to Hear Their District Governor

BIRMINGHAM—Forty-six members of the Birmingham Hills Rotary Club will play host tomorrow noon to Edward S. Tripp, governor of the 638th District of Rotary International.

Tripp, a Ypsilanti attorney and past president of that city's Rotary Club, will meet with club members and then address the club's entire membership at its weekly luncheon meeting at the Fox & Hounds Inn.

The district governor is making his annual official visit to each of the 48 Rotary clubs in Southeastern Michigan and Northwestern Ontario.

Reports on community, international, club and vocational services will be presented by the club's president, Paul S. Prociak, club president.

Tripp is one of 289 district governors supervising the activities of more than 11,000 Rotary clubs which have a membership of 500,000 business and professional executives in 123 countries throughout the world.

Wherever Rotary clubs are located, Prociak said, the activities are similar to those of the Birmingham Hills Club because they are based on the same general objectives — developing better understanding and fellowship among business and professional men.

Other objectives stressed are promoting community and vocational service, raising the standards of business and professions, and fostering the advancement of understanding, good will and peace among all the peoples of the world.

The United States Census Bureau said today that questions will be asked in the October Census Population Survey to determine how many children are enrolled in area schools, level of schooling and similar facts.

In this area, information will be collected by Mrs. Raymond H. Heck of 3045 Birchwood Drive, Franklin.

The survey will be conducted here and in 333 other sample areas of the country during this week.

A number of families will be asked special questions on consumer plans to purchase automobiles and household furnishings.

Harold T. Hagen of the Hagen Insurance Agency has been named president of the Birmingham Optimist Club.

Other officers are Robert A. Bliven and Robert G. Johnson, vice-presidents; Keith C. Conway, secretary-treasurer.

Directors of the organization are Thomas G. Kavanagh, Philip N. Skillman, Alfred H. Nylen and E. Joseph Perron.

U.S. May Push for U.N. Chief

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI) — The United States today was reported considering bypassing the Security Council for direct General Assembly action on choosing an acting United Nations secretary general unless Russia comes to terms.

Official Washington sources said the United States would give the Soviet Union about one more week.

Informed sources say increasing difficulties with the Soviet answer to Russia's demands would be to drop its insistence upon a Western European to be included among the deputies to aid Burma's U Thant, the man all sides are agreed upon for the top spot.

Russia has agreed to inclusion of a Latin American among Thant's advisers, but has insisted that a man from Communist East Europe be included if a Western European is added. The United States rejected this.

Sticking points in the Soviet-American negotiations on the secretary generalship are these: —Russia insists the appointee make a policy statement and name the United Nations secretary general's principal assistants before the Security Council acts.

The United States insists that such a statement before election would be unacceptable political strings to the job.

Russia has demanded that the acting secretary general and his aides take decisions "on the basis of agreement" although without direct exercise of the veto by the assistants.

The United States insists that the interim chief, who would serve out the unexpired term of the late Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld, be free to consult anyone he chooses to make decisions on his own responsibility within the charter.

One of the big objections to going directly to the assembly is that Thant might withdraw his candidacy for the job.

Priest Praises Russ People

Back From Red Post, He Says Peasants Are Quite Happy

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest has returned from the Soviet capital with praise for the Russian people.

"If they like you," said the Rev. Louis F. Dion, "they will give you their last slice of bread. They are not materialistic, and they don't worry too much about tomorrow."

The priest was back at Assumption Church today to resume his duties as registrar, which were interrupted in 1959 when he was named chaplain of the American colony in Moscow.

Rev. George L. Blonstone, who was expelled by the Soviet government. Under a 1933 treaty an Assumptionist always occupies the post.

Father Dion said he found it easier to mingle with the peasants in rural areas than with city dwellers.

ABOUT PEASANTS
Of the peasants, he said: "They are the most hospitable people. I had great sympathy with them and found in general they are sympathetic. I became very attached to some. They are wonderful people and very, very happy, with few exceptions."

"There's a much better chance to meet people in the countryside outside Moscow. They are more willing to talk to tourists than to American Embassy personnel because they know that the tourists will only be there a few days."

Father Dion said there is freedom of worship in the Soviet Union but it is countered by "freedom of atheistic propaganda."

He said church facilities are extremely limited, explaining 45 Russian Orthodox churches serve Moscow's five million residents. He conducted services for Catholics from the American and other embassies in his own apartment.

Father Dion has been succeeded in Moscow by the Rev. Frederic J. Richard, also of Assumption College.

K Plans Big Blast; Treaty Deadline Off

100-megaton bomb as not difficult.

Khrushchev said he was dropping the Soviet demand for a German treaty only if the Western powers display readiness to settle the German problem.

WILL BE SIGNED
But he said the "German peace treaty must be signed and will be signed, with the Western powers or without them," and he added that the treaty must end Western occupation of West Berlin and convert it to a "free demilitarized city."

He also demanded "genuinely equal rights in all U.N. agencies for the three groups of states that have come into being in the world — socialist (Communist), neutralist and imperialist." And he once more demanded that the U.N. get its "legitimate rights" in the United Nations.

On the question of a German peace treaty, Khrushchev said: "The Soviet government as before insists on the speediest solution of the German problem. It is against putting it off to infinity."

"If the Western powers display readiness to settle the German problem, the question of the time limit for the signing of a German peace treaty is a purely technical matter; we shall not insist that the peace treaty be signed by all means before Dec. 31, 1961."

Khrushchev said that "judging from Soviet foreign minister Andrei A. Gromyko's recent talks with President Kennedy and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan, the Western powers were displaying a certain understanding of the situation and they were inclined to seek a solution for the German problem and for the West Berlin issue on a mutually acceptable basis."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Both money and a realistic approach to the task of slum-area schools are needed to head off an impending explosion, Dr. James B. Conant says.

Conant, former president of the view in a new book, "Slums and Suburbs," published Monday by McGraw-Hill. It is an expansion of an earlier study he made of junior high school education in the public schools.

EXPLAINABLE

"The building up of a mass of unemployed and frustrated Negro youth in congested areas of a city is a social phenomenon that may be compared to the piling up of inflammable material in an empty building in a city block," he said.

"Potentialities for trouble" — increased possibilities of disaster — are surely there.

The main problem in city slum schools, he said, is to offer courses that have some relation to the students. He stressed vocational education.

"Foreign languages in grade seven or algebra in grade eight ... have little place in a school in which half the pupils in that grade read at the fourth grade level or below," Conant declared.

YABOO WRONG

Conant also criticized those who "have placed a taboo on the use of the word 'Negro.' I think this has proved to be a great mistake. How can we improve a situation if we are deprived by terminology from knowing what the situation really is?"

He said some cities have pressured Negroes to attend "essentially white schools," adding: "Those which have not done so, like Chicago, are more likely to make progress in improving Negro education. It is my belief that satisfactory education can be provided in an all-Negro school through the expenditure of more money for needed staff and facilities."

But Conant said, he does not approve gerrymandering school district lines which "amounts to separating pupils solely on the basis of race."

An allied problem, Conant said, is opportunity. Once the aspirations and technical training for slum youth have been upgraded, there must be jobs for them.

He noted: "It is far more difficult to find many communities to obtain admission to an apprenticeship program which involves union approval than to get into the most selective medical school in the nation."

Jury Listens to Thriller Tape

Accused of Spy Work, Scarbeck's Confession Finally Rerun

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A federal court jury listened today to the long-playing, low fidelity recording of a real-life cloak and dagger thriller.

The jury of 11 men and one woman is hearing evidence in the trial of former U.S. diplomat Irvin C. Scarbeck.

The 41-year-old former second secretary of the U.S. embassy in Warsaw is accused of passing secrets to Polish agents after they caught him with his Polish mistress and took compromising photographs.

The government already has introduced a four-page statement signed by Scarbeck admitting the delivery of three classified documents to the Communists. The defense vainly fought introduction of the statement on grounds that it was extracted by mental coercion.

Samuel Klein, Scarbeck's attorney, called for the playback of an entire 10-hour tape recording of the interview which resulted in the alleged confession. Kenneth Knauft, a State Department security officer, arranged for the recording to be made secretly while he was questioning Scarbeck last June in Frankfurt, Germany.

Court attendants tried for more than an hour Monday to set up the tape machine in the courtroom, but the acoustics were too poor for anyone to understand the words. The machine finally was set up in a 15 by 20-foot jury room. The 12 jurors, four alternate jurors, the judge, lawyers, witnesses, Scarbeck and newsmen crowded in to listen.

The quality was still somewhat poor but Judge Leonard Walsh said he would try to get an electronics expert to work on it.

Among other problems, street noises, including automobile horns and the shouts of children, often drowned out the voices of Scarbeck and Knauft.

DISCOVER TREASURE — Marvin Sussman, 14, (left) and David Heimowitz, 15, check "treasure trove" they discovered on lower East River Drive and Grand Street while strolling along their way to Yeshiva University. The treasure, loaded into their school bags after their unbelieving eyes were forced to believe it was true, consisted of dimes. The dimes, a total of $785.30, were dropped from a Brink's armored car. The boys may receive a reward. Even if they don't, the thrill of discovery will suffice.

Italian Actor Just Loves California... Even Smog

By BOB THOMAS
 AP Movie-TV Writer
HOLLYWOOD — "Smog" love it," said Romano Brazzi, breathing deeply. "It cleans out my lungs."

Greater love I have reached the point in life where I say what I want. "I love California because well, first of all, because my wife loves it. But I also like the life here—it is like country living in the city. If you want to be alone, you can. If you want to play tennis, it is easy."

BACK AND FORTH

Fortunately, Brazzi doesn't have to make the choice between Beverly Hills and the Via Veneto. He continues to bounce back and forth between his $50,000 apartment overlooking the Villa Borghese and his Canino Drive manse here, except that it is rented and he had to rent another house. He's at Warners finishing up "Lovers Must Learn," which began in Rome.

Brazzi indicated that Rome is fast becoming an American colony. He sometimes asks visiting friends, "Have you visited the Italian sector?"

He commented: "Even the menus in Rome are in English now, so I never know what I'm ordering there or here." He added that the Romans have gone all-out for another American institution: Traffic.

"I said once that Rome would have to do away with the motor scooters, which were clogging the streets," he said. "When I went back 18 months later, the scooters were gone. Their drivers were all driving cars. They are absolutely mad. I wouldn't think of driving in Rome now."

Why do Americans fall in love with Rome? "Because Italians are, basically, happy people," Brazzi said.

"He added a word of caution: Don't expect the libertine life as portrayed in 'La Dolce Vita.' That is a fantasy," he said.

This is the time of year when the days are getting shorter — unless, of course, you're on a diet, and the days seem to be getting longer. Automation is man's effort to make work easier — so that women can do it all. — Earl Wilson.

Wants Con-Con for Schools Furniture

LANSING (AP) — Who owns the furniture in Constitution Hall — the Kelllogg Foundation, the governor's preparatory commission, the City of Lansing or the State of Michigan?

An answer to that question was requested by Rep. Joseph A. Gillis, D-Detroit, who would like to see the desks, speakers, platform and other material from the constitutional convention used for a permanent classroom in one of the state's four law schools.

Gillis asked Atty. Gen. Paul L. Adams for an opinion on the final disposition of the furniture after the convention adjourns.

"Would the legislature have authority to dispose of the fixtures and furnishings, observing the usual constitutional limitations, to a public or private educational institution within the state?" he asked.

Gillis said that if the legislature does have the power to dispose of the furniture, he will introduce the necessary legislation to give it to an educational institution. He added:

"I do not think the furniture should end up in a second-hand store, but should be retained and used in a Michigan educational institution."

Atlas Launching Site on Operational Basis

TOPEKA, Kan. (AP) — Another key launching site for Atlas missiles has been placed on an operational basis.

The ring of Atlas ICBM bases around Forbes Air Force Base and at Holton, Kan., was turned over to the Strategic Air Command Monday. A similar launching site for nuclear attack was put on an operational basis at Fairchild AFB near Spokane, Wash., about two weeks ago.

Atlas installations at Vandenberg AFB, Calif., Warren AFB, Wyo., and Offutt AFB, Neb., are on a standby basis.

The Atlas missile has a maximum range of 9,000 miles. Its normal range is 6,325 miles with an accuracy of less than two miles deviation.

About 90 per cent of Britain's worsted industry and the greater proportion of its woolen industry are located in West Riding, Yorkshire.

MICHIGAN IS CULTURE

Culture is at the crossroads in Michigan, at all the crossroads. This is one more reason Michigan is a great place to locate an industry.

Culture is a part of pleasant living. In itself, it is enjoyment. It is a means of surcease from the busy world of industry. It provides the opportunity for workers and management to come together in a spirit of mutual appreciation of the arts. Culture is essential to the full life.

Michigan, with its libraries; world renowned museums and art galleries; its symphony orchestras, full and little; its theatre, professional and amateur; its concert stages; offers the ultimate in culture.

In Michigan there is an abundance of opportunity to enjoy the arts or to participate in them. This has a direct relationship in selecting location for a new industry or for industrial expansion. Cultural activity is important — and in Michigan it is almost everywhere.

Help carry Michigan's message to the nation. Clip this ad and mail it to someone in another state with your comment. Let's talk up Michigan and its advantages for industry. Together we can assure a greater future for all of us.

STATE FARM MUTUAL
Home Office: Bloomington, Illinois

Two Pontiac bowlers gained the finals and several others made good showings over the past weekend during the qualifying and semifinal rounds of the state elimination for the National All-Star. Paul George and Shirley Pointer both finished 1st at Ann Arbor. They will continue in competition the next two weekends hoping to gain a berth in the big event to be held at Miami, Fla., next January. It will be sponsored by the Bowling Proprietor's Association of America. George finished first among the men contestants in the Eastern part of the state with 7,347 for a 304.3 average. Four Lansing men completed the 1st of five to make the finals with Mike Demetrioff 2nd at 7,309 for 304.9. Carl Beckrich of Lakewood Lanes gained an East alternate berth with missing 5th place by 21 pins with 6,982 featuring a strong finish. Paul Horie, manager of Wonderland Lanes in Commerce, hit 6,796 for 14th and Joe Bonfiglio 18th at 6,783. Bill Leigh was 23rd and Frank Spadafora 32nd in a 50 man field.

Two 705s in Huron Classic

Rolls First 300-at '300'

Games of 300 and 297, two 705 series and team scores totaling 3078 and 3036 were turned in at two Waterford Township bowling establishments over the weekend. The big singles were turned in at the new '300' Bowl while the others featured another big night in the Huron Bowl Classic.

Larry G. Hall got the perfect game. The Union Lake man was open bowling with his father and friends.

It was the first 300 at the new keg site and the 3rd already here with the season still a young one. Pat Sweeney had a sanctioned one and Joe Foster did the trick in open action at Huron. He will likely get awards from AMF and the "house" but would have won a compact car if it had been in league play.

The 297 there was turned in by Don Taylor. The Michigan State-Oakland student also was open bowling.

Cabli Music hit a season high of 3070 and 1st place Westside Mobil 3036. P. L. of P., ranking 2nd, rolled the best game of the year with 1106 in 297.

Ron Rothbarth fired 669 topped by a 244. Ken Willits had 638 and Jim Walker 604 to lead Cabli. Bill Smith had 244-203-258-705 to pace Westside. Bob Lowry rolled 222-236-247-705 and Paul George 265-628 to head P. L. of P.

Other top performances were Les Rothbarth 626, Ron Damico 625, Stan Kurzman and Walt Remack 613, Tom Shara 616, George Miller and Frank Spadafora 614, Jim Walker 604 and Mark Bowers 600.

Texans Leading East Division of New League

Detroit Ed Lubanski Ties for Top Scoring Honors With 10

By The Associated Press
The Dallas Broncos set a 20-points-per-match pace last week in getting the National Bowling League on its way and the result was the top spot in the Eastern Division.

The hot-shooting Texans lost only one match in five and that was in a Sunday double-header with San Antonio.

Dallas took the lead because it played more matches than everybody else except New York with whom the Broncos opened the league campaign Thursday night.

Two cities have not yet played but they get going tonight, with Fort Worth making its start against Minneapolis-St. Paul and Kansas City visiting New York.

Fresno leads the Western Division with a 2-1 record. The Bombers rolled up 33 points to six for Los Angeles Sunday, with Ed Bourdard rolling a 278 game and Bill Russell 268.

The high game of the first five nights of play was the 279 from Downington of Fresno registered Friday night in leading his team to a 2-23 triumph over Los Angeles. He had nine strikes in a row.

The biggest pot-pankers were Ed Lubanski of Detroit and Bob Brayman of Minneapolis-St. Paul. Lubanski piled up 10 against New York Friday night and Brayman came through with 10 against Omaha Sunday night.

Heavyweight Bout Set for Toronto

TORONTO (AP)—After a one-month postponement and switching the site from one country to another, the world heavyweight championship bout between titleholder Floyd Patterson and challenger Tom McEneeley was all set today.

Patterson and the undefeated McEneeley signed contracts Monday to meet here on Dec. 4 in the Maple Leaf Gardens. If McEneeley upsets the champion, a return bout must be held within 120 days, according to the contracts.

"We'll select a training camp somewhere near here in the next few days," said Patterson's manager, Gus D'Amato. "We'll start work there in the first week of November."

Sanders Plans Golf After Hospital Stay

DALLAS (AP)—Golf pro Doug Sanders leaves the hospital Tuesday and heads for the West Coast where he will find out if he can play once more.

Sanders has been in the hospital for six days for treatment on his neck that was injured last December in an auto accident. He has had it in traction after complaining of increased pain since early last month.

Goose Goslin, Detroit Tiger outfielder, grounded into four straight double plays in 1934.

Midget Grid Game Slated Wednesday

The youngsters take the field Wednesday at Warner Stadium for the annual All-Star Football Night.

Sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department and the Pontiac Junior Chamber of Commerce, the action will feature boys 10 through 12 years old. Kickoff time for the first two games is 6 p. m.

Thirty teams will participate. The boys will play two games at once on 50-yard fields. The four-hour program is the conclusion of the midget football season.

The youngsters have been practicing for six weeks. The emphasis has been on fundamentals. Admission for the games has been set at 50 cents for adults and 25 cents for students. Proceeds will be used by the Jaycees in their youth programs.

Should poor weather force postponement of Wednesday's schedule, the games will be played Thursday night.

Bathgate Tops Early Scorers

MONTREAL (AP)—Andy Bathgate, veteran New York right winger who has been up among the National Hockey League point leaders during the last six seasons but never has won a scoring championship, leads this year's race after one week of play.

Official NHL statistics released today show Bathgate has scored three goals and picked up five assists in four games for the league-leading Rangers.

The eight points are three more than the totals accumulated by Eddie Litzenberger of the Detroit Red Wings and Don McKenney of the Boston Bruins, tied for second.

Litzenberger, acquired from Chicago in the off-season, has three goals and two assists in three games while McKenney has two goals and three assists.

Last year's scoring champion, Bernie (Boom Boom) Geoffrion of Montreal—has two points on one goal and one assist. Geoffrion has played two games.

Goalie Glenn Hall of Chicago has allowed the fewest goals—five in two games for a 2.50 average.

Selected Issues Show Strength

Stock Market Generally Lower

NEW YORK (AP)—Strength in selected issues featured a generally lower stock market early today. Trading was moderate.

Losers outnumbered gainers but most losses were fractional. Even the overall list declined, however, flashes of strength here and there enticed traders.

Ford appeared to have reached support in its recent decline and started well over a point in active dealings.

Baxter Laboratories ran up about 3 points in response to plans for a 2-for-1 stock split. Plymouth Oil, Tobacco, Merck, Baltimore, Ohio, Texaco, Kennecott, Boeing, Radio Corp., and Douglas Aircraft.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock exchange. Insurance Co. of North America rose more than a point. Hawke Chemical and Lorain Electronics were other gainers. Losses were shown by Anken Chemical, O'Keeffe Copper and Polaroid Electronics.

Fractional losses were shown by Union Carbide, DuPont, American Tobacco, Merck, Baltimore, Ohio, Texaco, Kennecott, Boeing, Radio Corp., and Douglas Aircraft.

U.S. Bonds Tilt Upside

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. government bond prices showed upward at the start of trading today. Corporates traded on the New York Stock exchange were mixed in light dealings.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities quoted long issues up 2/32 with intermediates trading from Monday's close.

The market has been firm the last two sessions.

Industrial bonds tilted upward and utilities appeared slightly lower in early corporate transactions. Rails opened mixed.

There were hardly any movements amounting to a full point. An exception was Pennsylvania Railroad 4 1/2s of 1958 up 1/4 to 70.

Adenauer Still Favored in Vote

CHANCELLOR'S TERM ENDS TODAY BUT MOST BELIEVE HE WILL BE RE-ELECTED

BONN, Germany (UPI)—Konrad Adenauer's term automatically ends today when Parliament opens, but the 85-year-old chancellor was an odds-on favorite to be re-elected to his fourth term.

West Germany's fourth postwar parliament has been scheduled to open in West Berlin, as in 1953 and 1957, to demonstrate the nation's solidarity with the isolated city.

But the plans were abandoned because of the Berlin crisis and the danger of increasing East-West tensions.

Heading the agenda for the 321-member Bundestag were the election of a new government. President Heinrich Lübke already has asked Adenauer to continue on a caretaker basis until the new chancellor and government are elected.

But observers predicted the new Bundestag would fill the governmental vacuum by re-electing Adenauer to head a coalition government.

Auto Production Falls Far Behind Schedules

DETROIT (AP)—The present production pace indicates the auto industry may fall almost 130,000 units short of its original schedule this month.

With Ford's production last week dropped to 100,028 cars, 16,332 trucks. In the previous week the totals were 102,240 cars and 18,046 trucks.

Advance planning had called for about 637,000 passenger cars to be built in October. This goal went down the drain in the opening days of the month when a nationwide strike hit Ford Oct. 3. Through last Friday Ford alone had lost some 73,000 units from its scheduled output.

Additional supply problems loomed over from a two week strike in September plagued General Motors. The corporation had hoped to build 325,000 cars but may have lost this mark by 35,000 to 40,000 units.

Ford had scheduled 180,000 assemblies but built only 8,877 before the strike hit. The month's total depends entirely on how soon full production can be resumed, but indications now are that 88,000 would be the maximum.

Chrysler and American Motors, while free of strikes, also are running slightly behind planned volume of 87,000 and 44,000 respectively. Studebaker-Packard is a few days short of the pace necessary to reach its goal of 11,400.

Last year the industry built 617,972 cars in October. Had advance planning been the first month in which 1961 output exceeded the year-ago figure.

Still to be determined is how close the manufacturers can come to their entire fourth quarter.

Harvester Signs 3-Year Contract, Averting Strike

CHICAGO (AP)—A three-year contract with International Harvester Co. has been approved by the United Auto Workers' company-wide policy group.

Ratification by UAW local union was recommended by the policy group. UAW Vice President Duane (Pat) Greathouse and Harvester President Frank W. Jenks signed the pact Monday. Voting by the locals was expected to be completed by Sunday.

The liquidation deal—best for weeks by a federal antitrust suit and tax-ruling uncertainties—is scheduled to be completed in contracting ceremonies at Wilmington, Del.

Deciding to sell the producing and reserve properties and negotiating the liquidation deal with Tidewater Oil Co. and American Oil Co., a Standard Oil subsidiary, proved far simpler than the UAW's management and stockholders than winding up the deal.
