Call for Cool Comfort

No-Tie-Short-Sleeve Fans Greet Return of Summer

Hold everything.
The heat wave returns.
That's what the man says.
The weather bureau man we mean. Therefore, the businessmen pioneers who recognize these occasions by leaving their neckties home and wearing sport shirts are alerted.

The forecast for tomorrow is again ninety plus, which means the businessmen fashion plates of Pontiac will appear in light sport shirts and no ties. The stuffed shirts, the die-hards and the recalcitrant element will appear as usual. Furthermore, they will perspire as usual, wilt as usual and look it — every inch. They go forward on some such motto as: "Theirs but to do and die."

★ ★ ★ ★

After our early pronouncements on this subject, your open collared Herodotus bumped into Roger Kyes. "I favor your Pontiac movement," said the Great Man. "You're conferring a boon and favor on all mankind. But I should like to issue one warning. Countess Mara will be on your trail. Don't say I didn't tip you off." The G.M. was en route to the first tee at the Bloomfield Hills Country Club. Roger is only an occasional golfer, but he occasionally smites about as far a golf ball as one can be smote.

★ ★ ★ ★

Countless men from other cities have approved of the "Pontiac Plan." If the thing had been started early enough it probably would have swept the nation. As it is, it has swept neatness and collar comfort into Pontiac business circles. Nothing looks worse than a bedraggled, sour faced, uncomfortable, perspiring, drippy male bowing meekly before the fashion edicts of a day gone by.

★ ★ ★ ★

As Don Nicholie asked plaintively at the City Club: "Who are they trying to impress?"
And with that cogent logic and philosophy, we rest our case. Fellow members, it's a sports shirt day for the progressive male.

Mercury Cracks Record for This Date in Pontiac

6 a. m. 71	9 a. m. 83	Noon 95
7 a. m. 72	10 a. m. 94	1 p. m. 97
8 a. m. 77	11 a. m. 94	2 p. m. 98

That heat wave which was supposed to have been cracked earlier this month is staging an amazing comeback.
The mercury today shot past the 95-degree mark, previously the highest temperature for this date in 83 years. The last time the thermometer recorded 95 for the date was in 1947.
Downtown Pontiac's reading jumped from 77 at 8 a.m. to 94 at 11 o'clock and then nudged past the record figure shortly after noon. At 2 p.m. it tied the year's high of 98, registered on July 4.
Today's heat follows three days of 90-plus temperatures, and more scorching weather is seen for the weekend.
And the Weather Bureau offers little hope beyond the weekend. The 5-day forecast calls for temperatures averaging 10 degrees above normal, indicating the heat will continue through Wednesday.
No rain of any consequence is foreseen.

"There is no cool air coming in and the sun just continues to beat down day after day on the warm air from the southwest," said Fred Moser, meteorologist at the Detroit office of the U.S. Weather Bureau.

"There is some cooler air up in Canada that may get down to the Canadian border but it's doubtful that it will get this far south," Moser added.

Gallagher Guilty in POW Deaths

Sergeant Faces Life in Prison for Murdering, Mistreating GIs

NEW YORK (AP)—A court-martial today found Sgt. James C. Gallagher guilty of four charges involving unpremeditated murders, mistreating and informing on fellow Korean War prisoners and collaborating with the Chinese Reds.
Gallagher, 23, of Brooklyn, was accused of throwing three Americans from a prison camp hut into frigid outside temperatures and leaving them to die.

The eight-man court announced its verdict at 12:15 p.m. after almost five hours of deliberation.

Gallagher was not sentenced immediately.

The court returned verdicts of innocent on two specifications.

It found him innocent in the death of one of the three soldiers, an American prisoner of war, in 1951 in Korea.

* * *

It also found him innocent of an allegation that he had told his Chinese Red captors, in connection with Sgt. Lloyd V. Pate of Augusta, Ga., "If I was in your place, I'd shoot h[illegible]."

Bank Announces Expansion Plans in Pontiac Area

Bloomfield Hills Unit Planned by Community National Directors

Construction of a branch unit of Community National Bank on West Long Lake road near Woodward in Bloomfield Hills was announced today.
Costing "in the neighborhood of $300,000," the branch is part of an $800,000 expansion program under development by the bank's board of directors for three years, said Robert R. Eldred, executive vice president.
"The branch will be modern in every respect, giving full service, including drive-in windows," Eldred said. It will be of contemporary design and will have a 150-foot frontage.
Community National may erect a temporary structure on the site, which Eldred declined to locate specifically. If such a building should be erected, banking service will be offered there within six months, he said.

Eldred also announced the bank will double the capacity of its Walled Lake branch at a cost of $100,000. Architects are now working on plans for both the Bloomfield Hills and Walled Lake projects.

Another development in the bank's expansion program revealed today is the conversion of the fourth floor of the Community National Bank Building to bank use at a cost of $100,000. Tenants have been given notice to move, Eldred said.

INCREASED FACILITIES

The floor will be used for a lunchroom and locker room for the main office's 250 employes. The move will provide more room for accounting facilities on the third floor.
Previously announced by the bank were construction of a $150,000 branch at Union Lake and expansion of the West Huron street office, already under way, at a cost of $150,000.

Eldred cited records showing the bank's resources have increased from $58,500,000 in June, 1951, to $85,306,000 at present. The bank currently services 68,500 accounts.

Besides the West Huron and Walled Lake Branches, Community National has units on North Perry street and in Keego Harbor.

Williams Sees Possibility of Calling Solons Back

LANSING (AP)—There is a "distinct" possibility of a legislative session this fall to consider problems of highway safety and mental health, Gov. Williams said.
The governor had hinted earlier in the week a special session might be called to work out an emergency program for housing some 1,100 mentally retarded children now on a waiting list.
His statements on highway safety needs, however, heightened expectations that legislators will return to Lansing sometime this fall. Their regular session opens in January.
Last weekend's highway death toll of 31 for the state was a "disaster" that points up the need for a "general attack on all fronts" on the highway safety problem, Williams said.

* * *

A final decision on a special session will not be made until Charles F. Wagg, director of the State Mental Health Department, completes a survey of hospital facilities.

"I would say a special session is a very distinct possibility because I am determined that we find suitable care for mentally retarded children at the earliest," Williams said.

"Also," he added, "I have viewed with considerable alarm the mounting death toll on highways. I think public recognition of both these problems is mounting to the point where we can hope to get the things done that ought to be done."

State Disaster Plan Discussed

Pontiac City Manager Attends Civil Defense Meeting in Lansing

City Manager Walter K. Willman yesterday attended the first meeting of a civil defense advisory committee which will draft a model disaster plan and ordinance for state-wide use.
Willman was one of five members of the committee which met with C. F. Van Blankenstyne, state civil defense director, in Lansing.

The model ordinance and plan to be drawn up will coordinate all levels of government—city, county and state—in a program to handle emergencies brought about by natural or war-borne disasters, Willman said.

"No ordinance can meet the needs of both rural cities and counties and metropolitan cities and coupties, but there can be a definite pattern set up," said Willman, who is also Pontiac's civil defense chief.
The plan and ordinance outlined by the 5-man group will be presented to a larger advisory committee to be completely developed, he said.
Others on the committee are the mayor of Kalamazoo, the Grand Rapids city manager, a Mt. Pleasant councilman and an official of the Michigan Municipal League.

Ferry Service on Detroit River to End Sept. 25

DETROIT (AP) — Passenger ferry service across the Detroit River will cease Sept. 25, after 101 years.
Canadian National Railways announced today that on Sept. 25 chartered buses operating through the Detroit-Windsor tunnel will replace coaches and sleeping cars now ferried across the water.

The ancient ferries Huron and Landsowne will continue, however, in freight service between the CNR terminal in Windsor and the Grand Trunk Western station in Detroit.

Since Michigan Central Railroad built its railway tunnel under the river early in this century, passenger cars have been carried on ferries only by the CNR. It interchanges equipment with Grand Trunk Western, also Canadian controlled.

Nab Cop Killer in Chicago Raid

Ex-Convict Pleads for Mercy When Tear Gas Forces Surrender

CHICAGO (AP) — Chicago's greatest manhunt since the days of gangster John Dillinger ended last night with a 26-year-old cop killer begging:
"Don't shoot. Don't shoot."
Despite the plea, ex-convict Richard Carpenter fought his captors to the end, though unarmed. He wrestled with policemen who dragged him out of a tear-gas-filled third-floor apartment.
"No doubt about it. He was driven out by tear gas. The apartment was just loaded with it," said Detective Elwood Zuley, 40,

Rescue Action Saves Hundreds From Drowning

Swollen Rivers Isolate Towns as Waters Rise in Hurricane Wake

NEW YORK (INS) — Rain-swollen flood waters swept over sections of a six-state northeast area today, spilling over dams, flooding towns and driving thousands from their homes.
Roaring streams and rivers in parts of Massachusetts, Connecticut, New York, New Jersey, Pennsylvania, the District of Columbia and Virginia caused approximately ten deaths.
Eight inches of rain, a parting shot of Hurricane Diane, fell in torrents to swell rivers such as the Delaware, Lackawanna, the French and the Schuylkill.
In Massachusetts, flood waters deluged parts of the central and western sections. The waters threatened to break through the French River dam and out of the Otis reservoir.

State police said only a break in the weather could prevent disaster. The weather bureau has predicted rain for western Massachusetts.

Homes in the town of Russell, Mass., completely isolated, were being washed away. State police evacuated residents with help from the Westover Air Force Base and Civil Defense agencies.

CONNECTICUT

In Connecticut, Governor Abraham A. Ribicoff took personal control of floor efforts from an emergency headquarters at Hartford. He sent National Guard troops to Torrington.

Canaan was placed on an alert for immedite evacuation if the Otis, Mass., reservoir burst.

A weather bureau spokesman said 7.4 inches of rain had fallen on Hartford before stopping this morning.

NEW YORK

Port Jervis was cut off. The Erie Railroad had only one line open to Jersey City. Up to ten feet of water had backed through the town, swollen from its normal 10,000 population to 80,000 to 90,000 by summer vacationers.

Before the rain stopped at 6 a.m. — more than eight inches

East Oakland County Group Adopts Road Plan

Would Facilitate Flow of Traffic

Scheme Looks Toward Highway Pattern With No Bottlenecks

The Avon - Rochester - Oakland Area Planning Commission has adopted a highways and thoroughfares plan for its area as part of a general development scheme being formulated, according to Robert A. Slone, secretary.

The plan was prepared by Geer Associates Planning Consultants of Bloomfield Hills.

The report contains recommendations for widening or construction of several traffic arteries through the region studied designed to facilitate traffic flow through the whole east-Oakland County area.

It attempts "to gain the fullest advantage of the automobile with the least conflict with other phases of our daily lives," the firm states.

NO BOTTLENECKS

The plan looks toward a traffic pattern with no bottlenecks which will serve industrial and commercial areas while disrupting residential developments the least.

"Our problem is to plan for the . . . expansion of the highway system . . . to allow through traffic to slip through our area with a minimum of conflict with local interests," the planners explain.

"Rochester Road is overdue for widening," the report states. It is the "principal carrier of local traffic to destinations between Rochester and Detroit" plus "carrying an ever-increasing volume of through traffic which continues on M-150 beyond Rochester.

With the planned connection of the Detroit Expressway System with Stephenson Highway, Rochester Road is destined to increase in importance . . ."

In addition to widening Rochester Road from two to four lanes from the village limits south to Stephenson Highway, a bypass around the Rochester business district should be built at the same time, the report asserts.

BYPASS ROUTE

The bypass would leave Rochester Road just north of Avon Road, cross the Clinton River west of the sewage treatment plant, cross Tienken west of Sheldon Road, pass the National Twist Drill plant to the north and connect with Orion Road.

If Rochester Road is widened and no bypass constructed at the same time, the village's business district would be threatened with a substantial increase of traffic, the report states.

"We believe construction of the bypass would eliminate necessity of widening the . . . (Clinton River Bridge in Rochester) . . . and funds spent for bridge widening would delay bypass construction."

Another proposal is for a "high-standard, high-speed connection between the Mound Road-Van Dyke area and M-24 at Lake Orion. This would filter traffic north from East Detroit without disrupting local traffic, the planners believe.

Other proposals include:

Widening of at least part of Walton Boulevard to four lanes.

As the rest of the general development plan is completed it may be necessary to change the highway proposals somewhat, the group says.

Ferndale Man Is Jailed on Assault Count Here

A 28-year-old Ferndale man was held under $7,500 bond at Oakland County Jail today after he demanded examination on an assault with intent to rape charge yesterday before Royal Oak Township Justice Maurice E. Tripp.

The accused man is M. C. Jackson, arrested Tuesday by Township Police who state that he assaulted a 6-year-old girl July 9.

New Committee Chairmen Revealed by Supervisors

Chairman of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors Floyd Andrews today announced new committee arrangements for the board made necessary by a state law which cut the group's size from 91 to 68.

Only city supervisor strength was reduced. The board Aug. 2 passed resolutions decreasing committees with nine members to seven and those with seven to five.

All committee slates were dissolved and Andrews directed to refill them under the new provisions.

Committee chairmen under the new setup include:

Howard J. Reid, agriculture; Zigmund J. Niparko, auditor general; William A. Ewart, boundaries of cities and villages; Harry W. Horton, buildings and grounds; Theodore F. Hughes, by-laws and R. C. Cummings, county coordinating zoning and planning.

Others are Hiland M. Thatcher, drain; Alger Zapf, equalization; Genevieve C. Schock, flowers; Elmer W. Haack, health; Helen P. Roberts, juvenile; Harold K. Schone, legislative; Roy F. Goodspeed, local taxes; Frazer W. Staman, markets; Winson S. Moberly, miscellaneous; Don R. MacDonald, roads and Willis M. Brewer, salaries.

Also included are Elmer Kephart, tuberculosis sanatorium; Don R. MacDonald, veterans; Fred W. Smith, ways and means; Hope F. Lewis, welfare; Charles Cardon, civil defense; E. H. Waterhouse, cost-study; David Levinson, intercounty; Harold K. Schone, special county building; Howard K. Kelley, special water committee and Don R. MacDonald, dutch elm disease.

Cop Killer Nabbed in Chicago Manhunt

Zuley said the fugitive, who within a 72-hour period killed one policeman, critically wounded another and terrorized a family for 23 hours, made an apparent gesture of surrender by sticking both hands out through an open door.

The detective said he grabbed one outstretched hand. Patrolman John Kennedy, 54, grabbed the other. Together they yanked Carpenter into a narrow hallway.

WRESTLE ON FLOOR

The two policemen, aided by several other officers, wrestled Carpenter to the floor to escape a steady stream of gunfire and tear gas shells pouring into the apartment. No gun of Carpenter's was found in the apartment.

Kennedy said the slightly built gunman, described by his mother as harboring a passionate hatred for policemen, battled fiercely when handcuffed. Carpenter was not wounded by police bullets.

But, said Zuley, Carpenter kept pleading: "Don't shoot. Don't shoot."

"Of course," Zuley added, "no one shot."

Carpenter was quickly hustled into a squad car under heavy guard and taken to the nearby North Avenue police station. Milling crowds shouted "Kill him" as he was taken to the lockup.

* * *

He was captured just a block north of the Biltmore Theater where, on Wednesday night, he had critically wounded policeman Clarence Kerr, 26, in a gun duel. Kerr suffered a lung wound while Carpenter suffered a bullet wound in his right thigh.

Kerr had tried to arrest him for the slaying, some 50 hours earlier, of Detective William Murphy, 34, in a subway station. Police said Carpenter admitted slaying Murphy, who had arrested him on a subway train. The young gunman was wanted in connection with a series of robberies.

* * *

After shooting Kerr, Carpenter fled the theater safely and ran a block to 2040 Potomac Ave. There, he forced himself into the second-floor apartment of Leonard Powell, 31, a truck driver. Powell's wife Stella, 30, and their children, Robert, 7, and Diane, 3, were present.

Powell quoted the intruder as saying: "I'm Carpenter. I just shot a policeman in the Biltmore Theater. "You've got to hide me."

Man Seeks to Change Classification of Lot

A suit has been filed in Oakland County Circuit Court attempting to change the classification of a lot on the south side of Maple Road 552 feet east of Telegraph Road in Bloomfield Township.

The land's owner, Harold D. Colwell, asserts his holding is improperly zoned for residential development and should be changed to commercial. He hopes to build a contracting and building office on the site. No hearing date has been set.

Seven Killed in Crash With Trailer Truck

GREENVILLE, Ala. (AP) — Four men and three women were killed near Greenville early today when their car shot through a highway intersection and rammed into a heavy trailer truck, the highway patrol said.

The driver of the car was tentatively identified as John Scott of Pensacola, Fla., but the other six were unidentified.

* * *

Highway Patrolman C. G. Smith said the force of the impact drove the automobile under the huge truck and the larger vehicle dragged the wreckage 300 feet before the driver could bring it to a stop.

A wrecker literally had to pull the crushed auto apart to get the bodies out, the officer said. All are Negroes.

* * *

Smith said a witness told officers the driver of the car went around him at high speed as he approached the intersection of Alabama Highway 10 and U.S. 31 a mile east of Greenville.

The patrolman said the car apparently crashed into the truck before the driver could put on brakes. The rear wheels of the truck bounced on top of the car.

Detroit Woman, Son Injured in Accident

A Detroit mother and her son were injured yesterday when their car collided with a truck on Opdyke Road near Mt. Clemens street, Oakland County Sheriff's deputies said.

Mrs. Eileen Mae Palmer, 27, and her son David, age unknown, were treated at Highland Park General Hospital.

According to truck driver Edward Fabian, 25, of Wyandotte, Mrs. Palmer attempted to pass his southbound truck when her car went out of control and struck his truck. He was not injured.

Driver Is Convicted

Roger T. Patterson, 34, of 3112 Kenrick, Keego Harbor, has been convicted of drunk driving and will be sentenced in Oakland County Circuit Court Sept. 12. He appealed the case from justice court.

The annual death rate in France fell from 13.5 per 1,000 to 11.9 between 1946 and 1954, and was 15 per thousand before World War II.

Business Was Good in Spite of Nature

NEW YORK (AP)—U. S. merchants enjoyed another boom week although floods, storms and hurricanes cut into sales in some eastern cities, Dun & Bradstreet said today.

Total volume of retail trade for the week ended Wednesday ranged from 2 to 6 per cent higher than in the same week last year. Shoppers responded favorably to merchandise; best sellers included women's suits and knit dresses and children's wear. Furniture sales spurted in response to the usual August promotions with a noticeable rise in demand for upholstered chairs and dining room sets. Men's walking shorts continued to sell briskly at suburban centers and vacation resorts.

Powerama Excursion Slated for Employes

Pontiac Motor Division employes and their families here will have the opportunity to make a three day excursion to Chicago over the Labor Day weekend, Sept. 3-5, to visit the GM Powerama.

All arrangements can be made through the plant's Personnel Department.

The excursion includes a train trip in air conditioned coaches to Chicago, meals while en route, transportation to and from the train to the hotel, and room for two nights at the famous Conrad Hilton Hotel.

Sept. 4 will be GM Employes Day at the Powerama, with about 5,000 GM employes expected from throughout the country on excursion.

Chief Urges Bike Owners to Get Licenses by Sept. 6

BIRMINGHAM—With the opening of schools less than three weeks away, Police Chief Ralph W. Moxley urged all children with unlicensed bicycles to get them tagged before the opening of school Sept. 6.

"There have been 66 bikes stolen so far this year and only about one-third of these were licensed," Moxley said.

Tracing stolen unlicensed bicycles is very difficult, according to the chief, "I also urge the kids to keep a record of the bike's serial number at home which aids us also when a bike is reported stolen," he said.

Moxley also added that at least 75 per cent of bicycles are stolen from public places like schools and theaters so he requested children to lock unattended bicycles at all times.

"With a little precaution kids will have their bicycles with them when they need them," the chief said.

Birmingham taxpayers have until Sept. 1 to pay their city taxes before an accrued rate of three-fourths of one per cent is tacked onto their bill the first of each month until payment, according to City Treasurer Russell Berger.

Of the $1,049,014.08 levy due the city, $701,643.57 has been collected as of Aug. 15, Berger said. Taxpayers have July and August to pay as billed and beginning with Sept. 1 the interest is charged at the first of each month until the following March when the bill is turned over to the Oakland County Treasurer as being delinquent.

Mrs. Helen Bock

Mrs. Helen Bock, 62, a resident of Birmingham since 1929, died Wednesday after a prolonged illness at St. Mary's Hospital, Rochester, Minn. She was a member of Holy Name Church of Birmingham and Women's City Club, Detroit.

She leaves her husband, Carl J.; one daughter, Mrs. George Sweet of College Park, Md.; her mother, Mrs. Thomas Harvey of Washington, D.C.; two sisters, Mrs. V. D. Callanan of Orlando, Fla. and Marita Harvey, and a brother, Herbert Harvey, both of Washington, D.C.

Rosary service will be tonight at 8:30 p.m. at William R. Hamilton Co. Requiem Mass will be read at 10 a.m. Saturday at Holy Name Church. Burial arrangements are incomplete.

Reynolds Fires 152, 16 Back of Leaders

Pontiac's Jack Reynolds, playing in the National Junior Chamber of Commerce golf championships at Columbus, Ga., started today's round with a 152 total. Jack carded a 79 on his 1st round and then came back to clip six strokes off that total for a fine 73.

Reynolds was 16 strokes back of the leader, Don Rodgers of San Diego, Calif., who had 66-70—136.

Floods Ravage East; Thousands Homeless

of rain had fallen. Other towns damaged by swollen creeks and rivers in the area included Ellenville and Wurtsboro. The waters swept away bridges throughout Ulster and Sullivan counties.

NEW JERSEY

In New Jersey, eight feet of water had flooded above the tri-state bridge that links New York with New Jersey and Pennsylvania. The bridge is on Route 6, a main east-west highway.

State police evacuated bungalow residents along the Deleware in Warren County, N. J.

Streets were flooded in Oakland, Waldick and Ridgefield. The Raritan River overflowed in Hunterdon County.

PENNSYLVANIA

In Pennsylvania, at least three persons were reported lost, and six other deaths attributed to the storm. The floods spread throughout the eastern section of the state damaging millions of dollars worth of property.

Thousands of families in low sections of the Philadelphia area were evacuated, residents of southern Pottstown fled, and floodwaters in Scranton reached a depth of 14 feet. The waters also flooded Tamaqua.

The Johnsville Naval Air Development Center launched full scale rescue operations. One Woman was reported lost in the Neshaminy area. Two men were swept away into the Conygham creek at Hazleton.

Two Lackawanna trains were halted by washouts, leaving hundreds stranded in the Pocono Mountains.

VIRGINIA AND D.C.

In Virginia and the District of Columbia, the rain-swollen Potomac ran over its banks to threaten riverside points. The tidal basin overflowed. Water churned through cherry trees toward the capital's Jefferson Memorial.

Apprenticeship Cut by Printers' Union

BOSTON (AP) — The International Typographical Union (AFL) has approved a change in its by-laws under which an apprentice could become a journeyman printer in four years instead of six.

However, under the change approved, the apprentice would have to be deemed proficient by a joint committee of union and employer representatives.

Another change approved would permit apprentices to be transferred from one shop to another during training. The purpose of this would be to help the apprentices "keep abreast of technological improvements."

Several Dead in Train Wreck

Coaches Jump Rails in Arkansas; Report High Injury Toll

MARKED TREE, Ark. (AP) —The Kansas City-Florida Special, fast Frisco Railroad passenger train, was wrecked near here today. Several persons were reported dead and a number injured.

"They are still pulling people out of the wreckage," W. G. Key, superintendent of Marked Tree schools, said. "Several persons were badly hurt and I have been told there are some dead."

Key said the diesel - powered train, carrying 13 cars, remained partly on the rails.

* * *

"The last two or three cars are the ones in bad shape. One coach is about 50 per cent demolished, and the last part of the dining car has been destroyed, crushed right in."

The train left the rails on a 20-foot embankment southeast of the Marked Tree depot.

Ambulances and doctors were sped from Memphis, Tenn., 50 miles to the southeast. Other ambulances reached the scene from nearby Arkansas cities.

At Memphis, the railroad said that four cars were involved—two sleepers, the diner and one coach. It said the last four cars remained on the rails.

The wreck occurred at 9:30 a.m. The train had left Kansas City at 11:25 last night and was due in Memphis at 10 a.m.

ROK Economist Home

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea's economic coordinator, Paik Too Chin, returned today after talks in Washington on U.S. military and economic aid for the fiscal year ending next June 30. Park said U.S. aid would be "about the same as last year." That was 700 million dollars.

1,948 Treated at Polio Makeup Shots Clinics

A small number of first and second graders showed up Wednesday and Thursday at the two anti-polio makeup shot clinics in the county.

Oakland County Health Director Dr. John D. Monroe said 55 youngsters were inoculated Wednesday, while 52 were treated yesterday at the Pontiac clinic.

With 180 youngsters processed in both clinics, the total of boys and girls inoculated since the inception of the makeup program is 1,948.

As both clinics are closed tomorrow, vaccine injections will resume Monday at 9 a.m. Vaccine will be given daily through Friday, from 9 to 11:30 a.m. and from 1 to 4 p.m. A termination date for the two clinics will be announced later, Dr. Monroe said.

Charge Refugee Pair With Child Cruelty

DETROIT (AP)—A refugee couple from Lithuania was accused by police today of chaining their 9-year-old son in a bedroom and beating him to stop him from playing with neighborhood companions.

Policewoman Marjorie Fleming said she would seek a warrant charging Anthony Meskoutis, 56, and his wife, Stella, 45, with cruelty to children.

The boy, George, was treated at Detroit Receiving Hospital. Doctors said his condition was not serious.

Police took the boy from his home when they learned he had been beaten Wednesday and left tied all day with a rope. They said the boy's mother pressed a pillow over his face so his screams could not be heard as his father whipped him with an 18-inch switch.

Answer to Bonanzagram No. 23

'Wise Guy' Ducky's 'Date' Is in His Room

The vacationing Mallards received the "Wise-Guy" answer three days after they sent their telegram to their "too busy" son in prep school.

When the letter arrived, "Pop" Mallard was nursing a hang-over; had just lost thirty bucks in a poker game the night before; the car had a flat and rain was pelting the hotel ending his afternoon golf plans.

"Mom" Mallard was "feeling peeked"; the tailor had "just simply ruined" her new suit; she "just couldn't stand" the women at the hotel and the anti-acid pills were all gone.

"Wise Guy" Ducky got no answer—and no advance dough for that "heavy date." But, "Pop" finally, between Bromos, solved the "not too funny" message.

He saw the message this way:

DEAR ROVING PARENTS:—ROVING covers both their traveling and the move from one house to another, and so is more inclusive than MOVING. And more of a quip than LOVING would be.

SORRY IF LETUP OF MAIL SADDENED YOU: — LETUP, meaning "slackening," is obviously a better fit than GETUP or SETUP. SADDENED agrees with the clues, for there was no indication that the parents were MADDENED.

AM ON TEAM AND ENJOY DIVING VERY MUCH: — The youth's athletic interests were mentioned, and a "large boarding school in the East" would undoubtedly have a pool and swimming team. This is more specific information than AM ON THE BEAM AND ENJOY LIVING. In the latter case, the phrasing would probably have been ENJOY LIFE.

AM BUMPING ALONG AT A FAST TROT: — The figure of speech here is from horseback riding, probably another of the boy's interests since he comes from the West. This phrasing hangs together better than BUMMING ALONG AT A FAST TOOT.

PLAY HOOKEY OFTEN:—This is part of the joke. It's not HOCKEY for that game is usually played in the winter, rather than in the spring.

AND AM HERO ON ALL COUNTS: — Since HOCKEY is ruled out, the reference to tennis COURTS is unlikely here. The exaggerated claim HERO fits the scene better than HERE.

DON'T FIND READING THE HARDEST OF MY LABORS:— If this meant DON'T MIND REAPING THE HARVEST OF MY LABORS, more explanation would be needed of what the LABORS were. The reference to READING is underlined by the next sentence, HAVE SOME NEW GLASSES. It is unlikely that the boy would have NEW CLASSES in the middle of the term.

WORKING HARD, IN TRIM FOR SPRING TERM:—IN TRIM may refer to other athletic pursuits, always important in SPRING TERM. If it were TRIG, i. e. trigonometry, the phrasing would probably have been ON TRIG.

HOPE YOU DIDN'T CART AWAY MY OLD TOGS:—This is the reference to the move into the new house, and CART AWAY (although the parents wouldn't do the actual carting themselves) is more probable than the poetic-sounding CAST AWAY. As for TOGS, every boy has old clothing that he hates to part with. OLD TOYS or even TOPS would be beneath the notice of a boarding-school boy.

OR THE MIXED-UP TRICKS:—The April Fool spoof makes TRICKS more apt than TRACKS or TRUCKS, and magic TRICKS that have been played with are definitely MIXED-UP rather than FIXED-UP.

OR MY BOOTS:—These could well be his riding BOOTS and even if old and too small, would be treasured. The parents would not apt to dispose of his BOOKS without consulting him. OR THE CHESS SET is a better choice than THE CHEST, with SEE beginning a new sentence. A boy as smart as this would undoubtedly be interested in games such as CHESS.

IF THEY'RE STILL AROUND, PLEASE SEND RIGHT NOW:—RIGHT NOW has more point than MIGHT NOW or MIGHT NOT or any other combination here, for the letter goes on WANT TO HAVE THEM ALL. HAVE, not SAVE, fits the idea of sending them to him. If he wanted to SAVE them, they could well be in the new home.

AND UKE TOO:—He adds this another treasure as an afterthought. It has more validity than AND USE TOO.

KIDS KEEP BUSTING IN: — He probably means BUSTING into his room. This is more apropos than BUTTING IN, that is, interfering or meddling.

MY ALIBI FOR THIS MANGLED LETTER: — MANGLED, meaning "spoiled in the making" or "garbled," is a better description of this letter than either JANGLED or TANGLED. And it's not LATE TOO, but DATE TOO—a definite reference to April Fool's Day.

The boy's nickname may well be DICKY. But with a last name like MALLARD, the implication is that his friends at school have jumped at the chance to christen him DUCKY.

CAA Probes Saline Air Crash Deaths

Rudolph Schumaier, 44, of Saline, and William Beardsley, 49, of Clinton, were killed Wednesday when their single engine training plane crashed after a takeoff near Saline, 10 miles from Ann Arbor.

Witnesses said the plane appeared unable to gain altitude.

The investigation was opened yesterday after it was learned the hangar housing the plane at Schumaier's airport had been pierced last Friday by four .22 caliber bullets.

Schumaier was giving Beardsley a flying lesson when the crash occurred.

From 1860 to 1890 the Pennsylvania oil fields were the chief source of petroleum in the United States.

So Murgatroyd Gasped:

Well, We'll Know All About It on Sunday

By ED CREAGH

WASHINGTON (AP) — "Well," said Mrs. Murgatroyd, over the morning coffee, "we should know Sunday."

Her husband allowed himself a critical analysis of the White Sox box score before inquiring who should know what Sunday.

"About Margaret, of course," Mrs. Murgatroyd said.

"Margaret Fleming: Oh, no, I doubt if she'll have that baby for another week or 10 days. I was talking to Pete on the train yesterday —"

* * *

"That's nice," Murgatroyd said. "Should we send a present?"

"Honestly," said Mrs. Murgatroyd. "Men! Do you mean to tell me you don't know what's going to happen Sunday? Don't you read anything in the paper except the baseball news?"

"I read the obituaries," Murgatroyd said, "and the funnies. If anything, the obituaries are a little more cheerful than the funnies these days."

"You are trying," said Mrs. Murgatroyd, who could see through him as if he were plate glass, "to change the subject. Princess Margaret wants to marry this Capt. Townsend. Her family, or Parliament, or somebody won't let her. But once she's 25 she can do as she pleases."

"Nobody," Murgatroyd said, "can ever do as he pleases. But let's not go into that now. Why won't the powers that be let Margaret marry her captain? Do they think he can't support her on a captain's pay?"

"It's the matter of the divorce," said Mrs. Murgatroyd patiently. "He's divorced, and the Church of England frowns on divorce. If you ask me, the whole thing is ridiculous."

* * *

Mrs. Murgatroyd was in danger of violatng her pledge never to lose her temper at breakfast. "I mean it's ridiculous that the poor girl shouldn't be allowed to marry the man of her choice!"

"You seem," Murgatroyd observed, "to have changed your views about divorce. I remember when the Hawkinses split up you were fit to be — "

"That was entirely different," said Mrs. Murgatroyd. "Capt. Townsend was divorced years ago."

"Of course," he said conciliatingly, "Capt. Townsend was the innocent party in the divorce. I mean, no misconduct was charged to him."

Mrs. Murgatroyd's eyes narrowed ominously. "So, you never heard of this romance, did you?"

"I may have seen some passing reference to it in the press," said Murgatroyd airily.

* * *

"I'll tell you what we'll do!" Mrs. Murgatroyd was radiant, suddenly, and feeling rather like a bride-to-be herself. "We'll get up early Sunday and listen to the news. It's five hours later over there. Or is it five hours earlier? Oh, dear, I do hope everything works out all right for everybody!"

Equal Airlines Fare Reached

Both Nonscheduled and Scheduled Companies Even Up Coach Rates

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nonscheduled airlines boasted today that the scheduled airlines have been forced to meet their fare level for transcontinental coach service.

* * *

"The proposed fare cuts of three trunk airlines are dramatic proof of what the independent airlines can mean to the public," said Hamlin B. Johnston, president of the Air Coach Transport Assn.

"But the independent Air Coach Service is still a better deal," he added in a statement.

Trans World Airlines last Friday filed a proposal with the Civil Aeronautics board to slash air coach coast-to-coast round trip excursion fares 20 per cent, to $160, for trips up to 30 days.

This compares with a one-way fare, first class, of $158.15. There is an additional 10 per cent for Federal Tax in both cases.

On Wednesday the two other scheduled airlines operating transcontinentally, American and United, announced plans for similar coach excursion fare cuts.

* * *

The special fares, planned to take effect in mid-September, would be available Mondays through Thursdays. On the other three days of the week the regular transcontinental round trip coach fares of $198, or $212 in the case of Boston, would prevail.

The nonscheduled airlines made no move so far to cut their fares below the $160 round trip figure at which they have been operating.

Johnston said the low-rate service offered by barely half a dozen independent planes flown by the North American and Safeway nonscheduled groups was sufficient to bring down the charges of the three trunk airlines with their scores of airplanes available for coast-to-coast service.

U. S. Farmers Wind Up Swing Through Russia

MOSCOW (AP) — Twelve American farmers returned wearily to Moscow today after a 32-day swing deep into the Soviet Union. They said a drought threatened dust bowls, but that the vast cultivation schemes appeared to promise huge future grain crops.

The party, in Russia since July 15 on a Soviet-U.S. exchange arrangement, appeared tired and anxious to get home, but they were impressed with their inspection of virgin lands being brought under cultivation in northern Siberia and southern Kazakhstan.

* * *

The Americans said severe droughts had caused considerable damage to the current Soviet crop, but that the ground work was being laid for a huge agricultural output.

Reviewing what the group had seen, Charles Hearst, Cedar Falls, Iowa, said the Americans were amazed at the projects that have been carried out under the prodding of Communist Party Secretary Nikita S. Khrushchev.

"But," Hearst added, "there are some questions. The most important of course, is moisture. You have got to have it to grow wheat, and because of the lack of it, the crop is declining from last year."

The American party is scheduled for two more busy days in Moscow before flying home Sunday.

House Ends Hearings on Commies in Theater

NEW YORK (INS)—The House Un-American Activities sub-committee ended its New York hearings on Communist infiltration in the entertainment world yesterday.

Six witnesses appeared on the fourth day of the inquiry, but all balked at answering key questions regarding their association with communism.

Teenage Auto Thieves Steal With Eye on Girls

RICHMOND, Va., (AP)—Two teen aged boys picked up on auto theft charges here yesterday admitted having taken some 100 cars, chiefly bright-colored convertibles.

The boys, 15 and 16, said the "sharp looking" cars made it easy "to pick up pretty girls."

Has Cancer

Rivera Slates Surgery, Draws Up Will, Weds

MEKICO CITY (AP)—Preparing for a trip to Russia to undergo serious cancer surgery, painter Diego Rivera has drawn up a new will and taken a new bride.

The 69-year-old Mexican artist announced last week he is suffering form accner, saying "I am not dying yet, but I may be in two or three weeks."

Rivera told a news conference yesterday he had married Emma Hurtado, 39-year-old dancer and model, but declined to say where or when the marriage took place. Earlier this week she denied they had been married.

* * *

Under the terms of his will, Rivera's extensive art collection and a house he built as a museum for it will go to the Mexican government on his death. The collection includes about 1,000 paintings and drawings and one of the finest groups of pre-Spanish Indian sculptures in the world.

Rivera also told newsmen he wanted his ashes mixed with those of his first wife, painter Frida Kahlo. She died last year of cancer.

* * *

Rivera was readmitted to membership in the Communist party 11 months ago after an in-and-out party career. He said he would leave for Russia next week. The nature of his cancer has not been disclosed.

Flash Flood Death Toll Rising in Japan

SAPPORO, Japan (AP)—More torrential rains fell throughout central Hokkaido today and the toll from flash floods mounted to nine killed and three missing.

Thousands of houses have been flooded, destroyed or washed away and thousands of acres inundated on Hokkaido, Japan's northernmost island.

Roads have been cut, railway embankments eroded and dozens of bridges washed away, paralyzing all rail traffic.

Fall Causes Girl's Death, Post Mortem Is Slated

DETROIT (AP)—Ten-year-old Zelinda Nardone died en route to a hospital last night. A post mortem was scheduled today to determine whether a fall down basement stairs caused her death.

The girl's father told police she fell down the stairs Wednesday morning and was treated by a physician. She complained of feeling ill yesterday but her condition did not appear serious until last night.

BADEN BADEN, Germany (AP)—Baden Baden's gambling casino announced today it will use gold chips at its roulette tables on special occasions.

The gold in the chips is worth less than the amount a player will get for cashing them in.

Hamtramck Reaffirms Ouster of School Man

DETROIT (AP)—Suburban Hamtramck's board of education reaffirmed by a 5-to-1 vote last night its dismissal of Elden C. Geyer as superintendent of schools.

Geyer announced plans to sue for reinstatement of $21,000 he claims due under a three-year contract that ha dtwo years to run when he was fired last month on charges of negligence and political meddling.

He's Not Quite Bankrupt

DENVER, (AP) — Benjamin C. Hilliard Jr., U.S. referee in bankruptcy, has ordered a bankrupt Denver man to turn in five shares of uranium stock he owns for division among his creditors. An official said the five shares are worth a total of 30 cents.

Russian Disarmament Almost Meaningless

If the West fails to take seriously Russia's announcement that it will reduce its armed forces by 640,000 men, the Kremlin has only itself to blame.

While this news has been welcomed in this country as an indication of improvements in Russia's attitude toward the world, it has little or no real meaning. This is so because a cut of 640,000 men would be less than the reductions we have made in our armed forces since 1952.

There is a further sign of the unimportance of this move, outside its propaganda value to the Kremlin. It lies in the fact that even without these 640,000 men, Russia would have an army almost as large as the combined forces of all the Western nations.

Last January at NATO headquarters it was estimated that Russia and its satellites had more than 6,000,000 men under arms and in a high state of preparedness. In ground forces alone the Communist strength in Europe was said to be 4,500,000. At that time the Soviet Union claimed that it could triple that number 30 days after mobilization.

It seems wise to examine Russian motives in evaluating this arms cut announcement. The Kremlin may feel an acute need for 640,000 additional men in its labor force. It also is possible that some relief is sought from the heavy financial burden born of the arms race.

Whatever the case and whether or not Russia makes good on its announcement, the cut would have little effect on the world power picture. Russia still would have far more armed strength than necessary for its defense.

Refugee Act Working Now

Arrival in New York of the Liner Langfitt with its second full contingent of immigrants is encouraging proof that at long last the Refugee Act of 1953 is working.

On its first voyage the Langfitt brought 1,243 and on its second, 1,205 refugees from both Nazi and Communist tyranny. According to New York reports all these new citizens-to-be were happy to reach the haven of free America and eager to start establishing themselves and their families here.

★ ★ ★

These two voyages of the refugee ship and the several to come naturally mean a great deal to those who have been enslaved by the Hitlerite or Communist dictatorship or both. It also means much to those many Americans who have labored long and earnestly to make the law work. Under it 209,000 refugees are supposed to be admitted by the end of 1956.

★ ★ ★

At first administrative difficulties born of the act and others never satisfactorily explained, seemed to prevent all but a trickle of refugees from entering the country. Now, however, the act appears to have become operative. The result is that the refugees who arrived on the Langfitt's first two trips will be followed by many thousands more before the act expires.

★ ★ ★

These men, women and children obviously are fully aware of the difference between American freedom and oppression in Europe. We believe they will do everything they can to make themselves welcome additions to our population.

Farm Mechanization Fair

An outstanding event of Michigan State University's centennial year is this week's display on the East Lansing campus of farm machinery and farm home equipment.

This event is interesting and important because it pictures the advance in number and efficiency of labor saving farm machines. Individual exhibits also show clearly the progress made in easing the burden and raising the standards of farm home life.

Additional interest attaches to the exhibits because among the first of the thousands of visitors expected before Saturday were the Russian farm experts now on tour in this country. Probably no one was more aware than they of the beneficial influence our great farm machinery industry has exerted on rural life in America. Certainly most city dwellers would be surprised by one outstanding fact.

A century ago 85 per cent of our people was needed to grow our food, and only 15 per cent was left to contribute other things to the general economic welfare. Modern farm machinery has reversed those figures. Today less than 15 per cent of our people live on farms and that percentage is shrinking steadily.

With the aid of the latest machines and fertilizers, however, this relatively small army of farmers does much more than feed and help clothe our 165,000,000 people. It produces ever larger surpluses of agricultural products for export.

Other states are shipping their insipid stuff into Michigan, and we buy it because it is polished up; well displayed and glamourized. But did you ever bite into anything with a more all enveloping lusciousness than an Oakland County grown Northern Spy, Snow, Delicious, Jonathan, Wealthy, MacIntosh, Grimes, Winesap, Baldwin, Steel's Red, Greening, Russett or several others of our varieties? And of course there's the glamour girl of our Apple family, the Ben Davis which, like a Hollywood star, has the greatest eye appeal but isn't so agreeable to the taste. Let's eat and talk more Michigan apples.

David Lawrence Says:

World Needs a New Code of Conduct for Nations That Forget Their Soldiers

WASHINGTON—It's strange to be reading a solemn pronouncement from a committee of eminent soldiers and civilians prescribing a code of conduct for Americans who may be captured hereafter as prisoners of war.

What war? Only a few days ago—after Geneva—the world was being told there isn't going to be any more war and that it is too horrible even to mention the subject in an age of nuclear weapons.

The document which tells future "prisoners" to be courageous also says that "the fight continues after the battle." This implies that the folks back home continue the battle, too.

It doesn't look that way now. Thousands of American boys—and some British, too, and the soldiers of other allies—were captured and many of them were tortured. But all during the time they were suffering, the "fight" in their behalf consisted to a large extent of exploring ways and means of appeasing the Communists.

* * *

Today, even as the prisoners come back and tell of the frightful torture they encountered, there are prominent men in governments allied with us who want to reward the Red China government with a seat in the United Nations. Red China was declared an aggressor by the United Nations and is responsible for the cruelties and atrocities inflicted on soldiers who fought in behalf of the United Nations.

GIS FORGOTTEN

What's needed is a new code of conduct for governments that send boys off to war and forget them within a few months after the battle is over. Dispatches from prominent writers and from many capitals of the world all indicate that the next move is to appease Red China and give her a seat in the Security Council of the United Nations. This is called "relaxing tension."

After the last world war, the war criminals of militaristic Japan and Nazi Germany were punished. After the Korean War, the war criminals have been permitted to go scot-free and may yet be rewarded with a seat in the United Nations.

How can future soldiers be inspired to fight for ideals if the members of the United Nations in whose great cause 30,000 American boys were sacrificed are to disregard ideals?

REDS SOFT-PEDALED

There is a deliberate attempt to pooh-pooh Communist infiltration in the United States. Scarcely a day passes that some blow isn't struck at those who are fighting Communist subversion.

* * *

Thus, in the last few days a document has been published of a study financed by the Ford Foundation. It selects pieces of testimony and tries to make the security proceedings of the United States look capricious and ludicrous. Nowhere is the full transcript of any hearing given so that both sides of the cross-examination and the reasons for it can be understood.

When Sen. McCarthy stood up in the Senate and gave selected items about individuals suspected of Communist associations, he was pilloried for giving only one side. But when the Ford Foundation study gives only piecemeal items without all the background, no criticism is voiced from "left wing" quarters.

Recently there has been a hue and cry about anonymous informants, but the Ford Foundation study now being publicized is anonymous so far as giving the facts, or the story of both sides or the sources of the study.

BLACKMAIL PRESSURE

Nor is any information being given to the public as to why some of the questions asked in hearings could be pertinent to a security investigation. If a boy's father, for instance, is in any way tied up with the Communists or if he has relatives behind the Iron Curtain, this in itself doesn't mean the officer is suspected of communistic beliefs. It means merely that he could be subject to blackmail pressures. This has happened again and again.

* * *

Representative Walter of Pennsylvania, Democrat, is having a hard time with witnesses who refuse to testify. They are trying to lampoon his committee. Many of them are pleading the Fifth Amendment and are refusing to help uncover the Communist conspiracy in the United States, while some sections of the press are upholding the obvious misuse of constitutional provisions. It isn't the kind of atmosphere which tends to assure future prisoners of war that they will not be forgotten.

Authority Believes Smog Blocks Off Supply of Iodine

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

At the Los Angeles meeting of the American Osteophatic Association last month Dr. Alexander Levitt of Brooklyn stated that iodine is wind-borne from the sea, the original source of all iodine, falls to the ground in rain, dew, snow, enters the soil, and plants take it from the soil and man and animals eating plants thus get the iodine which is essential for good health—or should get it in water and food.

* * *

Pollution of the air of areas of heavy industry, in Dr. Levitt's opinion, blocks out enough of the iodine supply coming inland in the air from the sea to impair the health of people residing in smog-plagued cities.

One of the most frequent effects of iodine deficiency, as Dr. Levitt observed in a study of thousands of cases is "chronic fatigue."

Dr. Levitt, a trustee of the American Osteopathic Association, is probably outside the pale in the opinion of the general run of medical practitioners, particularly the rank and file of the AMA, who still take the dog-in-the-manger attitude toward osteopaths, although osteopaths have to pass the same examination as medical candidates do to get a license to practice.

ATTITUDE PREVAILS

This is precisely the way the old timers behaved toward homeopaths in the 19th century, and they'll maintain the same policy toward osteopaths as long as the public can be hoodwinked.

* * *

Speaking of chronic fatigue, which, come to think of it, I was when I said twenty years ago:

Just as many youngsters, more girls than boys, begin to mope in their teens for want of iodine, so do many mature adults have no pep or ambition, a tendency to drop off in a doze anytime, anywhere, though they sleep long hours every night; put on more and more slacker flesh, have dry, sallow skin, lustreless dry, falling, prematurely graying hair and in some instances develop a melancholic outlook which is so different from their former cheerful disposition. These are common manifestations of iodine deficiency.

Now, for Pete's sake if mention of these manifestations "hits your case" or even scores a near miss, don't give it another thought, another serious thought, especially not another morbid thought until you hear from me.

STILL BOUND BY OATH

Let me remind you I'm still bound by the Hippocratic oath, to do good if I can but anyway to do no harm.

* * *

I'm taking a chance telling only the half of it here (enough space for the whole story not available) only because I hope you will neither think nor do anything about it until you have read the pamphlet The Iodin Ration. Ask for it in writing, signed, and inclose stamped, self-addressed envelope.

What I tell you in the pamphlet may do no good but even so I'm sure it can do no harm.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

'Believer' Urges People to Get 'Bomb-Proofing'

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer its nature.

To a saved Christian it's really amusing when you pick up a magazine and read of these H-bomb shelters with walls three-feet thick and they're getting quite a sale for them at fancy prices. Well, here is a case where a poor man can be better off than a rich man, although a rich man can do the same as a poor man.

A poor man who is a saved Christian is more bomb-proof than the rich man with a bomb shelter even if he has walls 20 feet thick.

Myself, I'm a saved Christian and I don't care if a Hydrogen bomb lands right on my noggin. I'd just be in Paradise that much quicker, and I'd have my new heavenly body. And I could stand a new body.

It doesn't cost anybody a red cent to get bomb-proofed. You don't have to run and hide every time an enemy plane comes over. And if you get caught in a raid away from your bomb shelter, no matter how far, you're still okay.

And the best part of it is you are not only bomb-proofed, you're taken care of for any emergency. If some drunk driver runs into you and you're killed, don't worry. Your bomb-proofing will wind you up in Paradise forever.

Don't forget to get your loved ones bomb-proofed, and the family circle will never be broken.

I can't understand where all the bargain hunters are. Here's the greatest bargain ever offered, not for wholesale, but free. There's nothing in this world its equal or even this world itself.

People just don't understand or they'd be lining up to find out about this at our churches. Don't be a fool. I came close to waking up too late myself.

Industry Plays Court to Research Technician

By MERRYLE S. RUKEYSER
INS Economic Commentator

This cycle of rolling prosperity in the United States is marked by increasing respect in industry for the technician and researcher.

* * *

A generation ago the lawyer-production-man type of corporate chief executive was inclined to take a somewhat different view of the engineer-scientist in industry. Thirty years ago it was fashionable in top management groups to feel that you could always hire technical brains.

Nowadays, however, there has been intense competition for this type of talent. Frequently there is talk of a shortage of engineers and other technician.

Sometimes true causes for sustained big volume in industry are misunderstood.

Politically-minded persons ascribe benefits to so-called built-in stability from laws dealing with guarantees of bank deposits, Social Security, and the impact on volume of heavy Federal spending. While these developments may be depression cushions, they hardly account for the tremendous growth in demand for goods and services. The impetus comes from creative ideas in laboratories and drawing boards, fruits of applied and new-product research.

Accordingly, sales volume of companies and national economy as a whole has been expanded by new and improved products unknown in the past.

PROMOTES DEMAND

Research promotes customer demand to replace old products. The automobile industry, with frequent model changes, sets a pattern of making the public aware of obsolescence.

In the struggle of individual enterprises for survival there has been a tendency to heighten stability of total sales through diversification of items produced. General Motors Corporation makes automobiles, diesel locomotives, refrigerators, air conditioners, and a great variety of products.

To an increasing extent, the corporation is becoming a management consortium seeking to exploit know-how in a variety of fields. The aim is to achieve diversification.

In addition to this trend among regular companies, there are speculative financiers who are in the market for new inventions and ideas.

WHAT AMOUNT

The tying of industry to science has been tremendously speeded up.

One of the major calculated risks of management is the amount to outlay, on research and product exploration. Sums spent go into the cost sheet, and benefits are long-term rather than immediate, conjectural rather than certain.

If an executive wanted to milk a company in order to make a short-term showing, he could drastically reduce or eliminate research. But the ultimate effect would be to deprive the company of the ultimate benefits of profitable new items and new ideas. Such a standpat company would in the long run be at a disadvantage in the battle to survive the ravages of obsolescence. Irrespective of this, when and if management faces troubled waters, it can always relieve the pressure of immediate expenses by slashing research, however penny-wise, pound-foolish the maneuver might prove to be.

Smiles

Case Records of a Psychologist

Teenage Girl Gets Fellow Passengers to Refuse Liquor Served Aboard Plane

Joan and Judy are the types of girls which men admire most, for they are custodians of moral idealism. But boys who try to browbeat courageous souls, are double cowards. Most people think right but haven't the courage to take a stand, so here's a salute to spunky Joan. May her tribe increase!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case P-317: Joan Rice, aged 19, is a very attractive girl from South Carolina who recently visited us.

Mrs. Crane and I drove her out to the Chicago Airport to take the plane that was carrying her homeward.

* * *

A few days later we received a letter from Joan, which included these paragraphs:

"We were ten minutes out of Chicago when the stewardess started passing out green cards to all passengers," Joan stated.

"These cards listed whisky at $1.00 a drink and Martinis and Manhattans at 75c.

"Well, you can imagine my reaction . . . little 108 pounds of southern indignation spoke up as boldly as a 200-pound man would, and I said in a blunt voice:

* * *

"'No thanks, I don't approve of drinking and especially in a plane; and I don't like the idea of making the stewardess a common barmaid.'

"His wife, after my outburst, said she thoroughly agreed with me, so all three of us took hot chocolate."

FEMININE SPUNK

If Joan had timidly remained silent, she and the man's wife might have been stampeded into taking alcoholic drinks which neither apparently approved.

Maybe the man himself wasn't so fond of whisky, but was only trying to be gallant.

But Joan didn't let herself be intimidated. Instead, she fulfilled John Wesley's wise admonition when he advised:

"Always look a mob in the face."

Mob coercion is usually emotional and wrong, anyway. But it requires courage, plus previous anticipation of specific situations, to do the right thing readily.

JUDY'S COURAGE

In a previous Case Record I recounted our daughter Judy's triple dating at Evanston. When the escorts of the other two girls asked them what they'd have to drink, one meekly chose beer and so did the other.

"I'll have a coke, please," Judy added.

"Come on, Judy Crane, why be a killjoy! Take a beer, too! Don't be so old fashioned!" one of the boys vigorously tried to intimidate her.

"Thanks, I'll still take a coke," said Judy.

Later, in the powder room, one of the other girls expressed admiration for Judy, saying, "I hate liquor. But I don't know what to say when the boys pick on me. I blush and get so embarrassed that I just order a beer as the line of least resistance."

The second girl made a similar statement. But when they all stopped for midnight supper after the show, the first girl took a root beer, and the other joined Judy in a coke, and so did Judy's escort.

So four of those six people on that triple date were actually non-alcoholics! Yet they could all have been stampeded by the minority of just two smart aleck boys, if Judy had not looked the mob in the face.

Millions of Americans are social cowards, which is why they drink, for the bulk of intelligent people abhor liquor as unwise and demoralizing.

But if you are cowardly yourself, at least admire courage when a spunky person like Joan or Judy does have the nerve to look the mob in the face. And support that lone evidence of bravery.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

FUR'S COMPETITOR — The look and the feel of fur (but not a fur price) in a great coat of Borgana is the choice of Patricia Carline of Fourth Avenue, Pontiac. A student at Pontiac senior high school, Patricia likes the full back, the deep cuffs and the warmth without weight derived from the milium lining.

GMC Planning Giant Powerama Program

CHICAGO (AP)—A lake front parking lot is being transformed into a vast exposition grounds for the General Motors Corp. Powerama, a giant display of motive power at work.

GM is staging the show to "portray the dramatic contributions of diesel and aircraft power to America's industrial economy" and to celebrate the production this year of its 100 millionth unit of diesel horsepower.

The free exposition will open Aug. 31 and continue daily through Sept. 25.

Margaret's 'Beau' Won't Stay at Home

LONDON (INS) — The British Air Ministry states that RAF Group Capt. Peter Townsend, reputed suitor of Princess Margaret, will visit England early next month but will return to his post as embassy air attache in Brussels.

The statement was a formal denial of a Brussels report that the divorced commoner would not return to Brussels.

The ministry said Townsend on his September trip "merely will be visiting England with other British air attaches for the Farnborough Air Show and attending a conference of British air attaches Sept. 12."

"Afterwards," the statement added, "he will return to his post."

26,642 Post Offices in 'Trainless' Cities

WASHINGTON — At the latest count there were 26,642 Post Offices in the United States in cities with no railroad service.

Of the 39,002 Post Offices—not including branches or stations—only 12,360, or 31.7 per cent, are in cities with rail service, and between 5 and 6 per cent of these have nonstop rail pickup and delivery of mail.

Today there are 5,000 mail-carrying passenger trains available compared with 19,400 available 30 years ago.

Kilgore to Probe Business Abroad

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Kilgore (D-W.Va) plans hearings in London, Paris and Rome this fall on problems of U.S. business firms operating abroad.

Kilgore, chairman of the Senate Judiciary subcommittee on anti-trust and monopoly matters, will be accompanied by the group's chief counsel, Joseph W. Burns.

A spokesman said today the inquiry will explore, among other things, whether U.S. firms are hurt by discriminatory practices abroad, and whether American laws place them at a disadvantage in competing with foreign firms.

U. S. and India Relations Better

Officials Seem to Agree Each Country Showing Clearer Insight

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Relations between the United States and India, as seen from New Delhi, are starting to improve.

Diplomats—American, European and Asian—and Indian officials say each country is showing a clearer understanding of the other's foreign policy.

* * *

* * *

The first envoy Nehru asked to see on his return from Russia was American Ambassador John Sherman Cooper. Normally Nehru, after a trip, gives his initial appointments to diplomats from Commonwealth and Asian countries. Since that time Cooper has spent more time with Nehru than any other foreign diplomat in New Delhi.

Nehru and Eisenhower had a lengthy exchange of messages. Much of it dealt with Formosa; but there are those here who believe Nehru let the correspondence be prolonged as a sign of new warmth.

* * *

In a meeting highly publicized by the government's information office Nehru accepted a cowboy scarf from an Indian student studying in Texas. He told the student: "We want friendly and cordial relations between India and America."

Britain's Attlee Well After Stroke Attack

LONDON (AP) — Former Prime Minister Clement Attlee is convalescing from a cerebral thrombosis he suffered after returning from a vacation trip to Yugoslavia 10 days ago.

Attlee's wife said last night the veteran 72-year-old Labor Party chief is recovering from the brain clot, but that he is also suffering from a skin ailment.

"He is not keeping any engagements," she said. "We shall be going away next week for a holiday in Pembrokeshire."

*YELLOW PAGES
(PASSWORD TO PROFIT)

Abbreviated, upside down or backwards. YELLOW PAGES spells increased profits, Yes, more and more businessmen are finding that these two terms—"Yellow Pages" and "Profit"—are just natural go-togethers. Like ham with eggs, Smith with Dale and Liberace with candelabra. A pretty bold statement, but...

Look at this, Mr. Businessman!

A recent survey of 369 Pontiac residents shows that— — —

98.1 out of every 100 people in Pontiac use the Yellow Pages as their buying guide. You couldn't ask for a bigger audience for your sales message.

These people used the Yellow Pages when they were ready to buy. They spent $59,753 on 298 purchases or approximately $200 per purchase! Proof that the Yellow Pages direct prospects to your door, dollars to your cash register.

Telephone directory representatives are now in Pontiac to call on local businessmen. One of these representatives, who will be contacting you soon, will help you plan a Yellow Pages advertising program that will best serve you and your profit motive. He is not "just another salesman". He is a sort of partner-for-a-day, specially trained to help you get the most out of what the Yellow Pages has to offer.

How is your business listed? Is your name and message where people will find it when they're ready to buy? In other words, are you taking full advantage of the Yellow Pages, Password to Profit? Our Yellow Pages specialists will show you how.

Edison Deciding A-Plant Site

Harbor Beach, Monroe Contenders for Honor; Selection Due Soon

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Edison Co. said today it hopes to announce within a few weeks whether its first nuclear power plant will be built in the Monroe or Harbor Beach area.

An Edison spokesman said his company is still discussing some phases of the project with the 16 other electrical utilities and six manufacturing firms which will share the cost of the experimental plant.

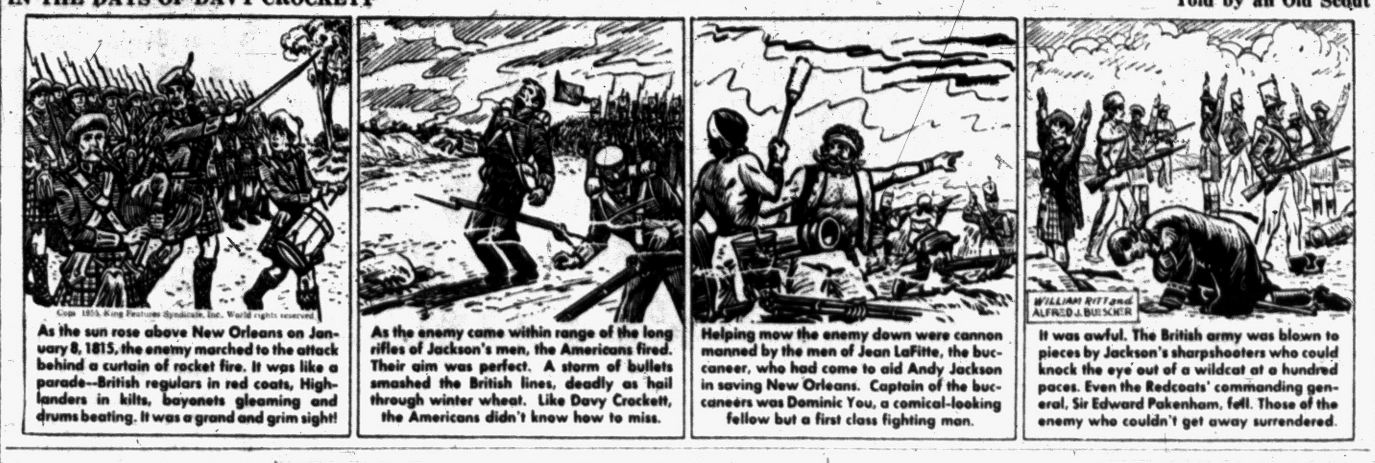

The Detroit official said that recent approval by the Atomic Energy Commission meant the companies involved can now speed up their plans for the multimillion dollar work.

He said Detroit Edison owns some 1,200 acres in the Monroe area and a large site in the Harbor Beach area and that both are being given final studies before a decision is made on the plant location.

IN THE DAYS OF DAVY CROCKETT

Told by an Old Scout

Copr. 1955, King Features Syndicate, Inc., World rights reserved.

As the sun rose above New Orleans on January 8, 1815, the enemy marched to the attack behind a curtain of rocket fire. It was like a parade--British regulars in red coats, Highlanders in kilts, bayonets gleaming and drums beating. It was a grand and grim sight!

As the enemy came within range of the long rifles of Jackson's men, the Americans fired. Their aim was perfect. A storm of bullets smashed the British lines, deadly as hail through winter wheat. Like Davy Crockett, the Americans didn't know how to miss.

Helping mow the enemy down were cannon manned by the men of Jean LaFitte, the buccaneer, who had come to aid Andy Jackson in saving New Orleans. Captain of the buccaneers was Dominic You, a comical-looking fellow but a first class fighting man.

It was awful. The British army was blown to pieces by Jackson's sharpshooters who could knock the eye out of a wildcat at a hundred paces. Even the Redcoats' commanding general, Sir Edward Pakenham, fell. Those of the enemy who couldn't get away surrendered.

One-Room Schoolhouses Now Staging a Comeback

One-room schoolhouses have been staging temporary comebacks in many areas where the home-building boom has caught school districts unprepared for sudden population increases.

New houses, finished except for interior partitions, are being used for schools until bond issues can be floated and new permanent school structures completed — processes which take much more time than the construction of a thousand or more homes.

In other places, prefabricated school buildings are rushed in by trucks and put together in a hurry to meet the children's educational needs.

I vealed novel expedients being used to solve classroom shortage problems in Colorado, Connecticut, Florida, Indiana, Kansas, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Tennessee and Texas.

PROJECT STARTED

A community of 1,500 low cost homes was started on an extensive rural tract. The homes sold so fast and so many families moved in that existing school facilities became hopelessly inadequate.

Local finance problems made it impossible even to start the construction of new schools promptly. Bernard Krinsky, builder of the homes, offered a solution.

He finished 10 houses with only bathrooms partitioned off, leased them to the board of education, which turned them into one-room schools for 400 new pupils.

When a new permanent school is completed, expectedly in 1957, the houses will revert to the builder, who will finish them off as private homes and place them on the market.

Firehouses, churches and even vacant stores have been put to use as schools in various places.

One of the largest manufacturers of prefabricated houses has developed a factory-made school building designed to be put under roof in one day, finished in a month or two at the most and figured to cost about $15,000 per classroom.

About one-sixth of Indiana's residents live on farms.

By JACK LOTTO

MANHASSET, N. Y. (INS) — Elder Statesman Bernard M. Baruch urged today on the eve of his 85th birthday the establishment of a global agency to control atomic and hydrogen test explosions everywhere in the world.

Only by controlling these tests, the white-haired adviser to seven Presidents emphasized, can all the facts be learned "about this great giant (atomic energy) that can destroy us or lift great burdens."

* * *

The tall, distinguished financier-statesman made these other points:

1. President Eisenhower's proposal to Russia for an exchange of military blueprints and mutual aerial photography reconnaissance "is not enough" to insure atomic safety, but just a first step.

2. The free world must not be lulled into letting down guard because of the current "friendship" campaign of the Soviets.

3. The longer Russia waits before agreeing to disarmament proposals, the more the danger of war increases.

4. Any atomic control pact must be accompanied by veto-proofed safeguards backed up by "swift, sure and condign" punishment for violators.

5. "One of the greatest wastes of our time" is the practice of forced retirement of "young" people when they reach a certain age. "I think it's an outrage to retire people."

Age has not slowed down the remarkably agile mind of the financier who started out as a messenger boy, earned his first million before the age of 31 and then served as adviser to seven Presidents.

A pile of letters was handed to him by his secretary, and the nearby phone rang constantly. He shuffled through the papers. Birthday greetings kept piling up from presidents, kings, prime ministers, business tycoons and just plain people Baruch has befriended.

Repeatedly Baruch insisted "I'm not a public character and don't want to tell people what to do," when asked for his philosophy of life.

BALL PLAYER

Baruch then began talking about his student days when he was known as "Home Run Charlie" at the City College of New York. During one baseball game, he reminisced, he was hit over the left side of his head with a bat. The blow brought deafness to his left ear but Baruch didn't discover it until he was examined at West Point where he applied after his graduation.

When it was suggested he might have been "another Eisenhower" except for that blow, Baruch shook his head.

"They don't make them often like that," he replied, referring to the President.

Is his goal now to reach 100?"

"No, sir," Baruch replied emphatically. "I don't want to live any longer than I can be useful."

Baruch "confessed" that he's had one problem: to keep the weight on his six foot, three inch frame below 200 pounds. He's 197 now and hopes to keep it that way by careful dieting, although he described himself as a "pretty good feeder."

* * *

As for his birthday, Baruch poo-poohed the whole thing. "We make too great an observance of them," he declared. "I just want to stay quietly with my family and not tell other people what to do."

In a recent survey, homemakers all over the country were asked what features they would like in a mattress . . . then this wonder was built to their order!

AMERICA'S IDEAL by SPRING AIR®

JUST $39.95

What better way could there have been to find out what you homemakers wanted in a mattress than to ask directly? That's just what Spring Air did. They surveyed hundreds of women all over America. Then, they built the mattress. It's America's Ideal Mattress . . . incorporating everything that was asked for . . . and more. Come in today, and see this mattress . . . it's ideally suited to you.

HERE ARE THE FEATURES HOMEMAKERS WANT IN A MATTRESS . . . AND THEY GET THEM IN AMERICA'S IDEAL BY SPRING AIR!

- Extra firm for extra healthful sleeping.
- Finest quality coil construction . . . for durability and comfort.
- Handsomely patterned covering . . . in blue . . . America's favorite color.
- Special tufting for sumptuous comfort.
- Pre-built borders to prevent sagging.
- Eight side vents for air circulation.
- Eight side handles for easy turning.

*PLUS SPRING AIR'S "LEVELIZER" CONSTRUCTION . . . this special feature comes to you at no extra cost in "America's Ideal" mattress. Prevents "hammocking."

Festival of Americas Spotlights U. S. Music

The Festival of the Americas, a weeklong program of music of North and South America, is getting around to United States Night. That's where jazz, Dixieland to progressive, comes in.

It will be the first time in the history of the bowl, traditional home of symphonies under the stars, that an entire program of jazz has been presented during the regular season.

Georgia had a homicide rate of 14.6 per 100,000 people in 1952, about 30 times the rate in Vermont.

Vaccine Should Not Be Used at Certain Times

(The Pontiac Press is publishing the following questions and answers concerning the Salk anti-polio vaccine as a public service. The information was compiled by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., and released through its Oakland County Chapter.)

Q. Are there times when the vaccine should not be used?

A. Yes. It should not be given to anyone who is ill at the time, especially if there is fever, sore throat or a gastro-intestinal upset.

The vaccine also should not be given to individuals in a household where a case of polio has just been diagnosed, because other members of the family usually carry the virus at this time even though they are not ill. The decision as to using the vaccine rests, of course, with the family physician.

Q. How long does protection given by the vaccine last?

A. There hasn't been enough time since the vaccine was developed to answer this question fully. Youngsters who received the first experimental vaccine in Dr. Salk's research program about 2½ years ago still have protective levels of polio antibodies.

The decline in amount of antibodies following the third or booster shot of vaccine, however, is so slow that the vaccine's effectiveness is expected to last for many years. Only time and further investigation can give the complete answer.

Q. If the second shot is delayed, will it be effective later on?

A. According to Dr. Salk, the effect of the first shot is not lost even if the second shot cannot be given for many months afterward.

Q. Does the first injection itself protect against paralytic polio?

A. It gives some protection, but reliable information does not exist as to the effectiveness of only one shot. One injection sets the machinery in motion for antibody production, reduces a child's chances of developing paralytic polio.

Two shots are needed for more adequate protection during the current polio season—and three for long-term protection.

Q. Should people who have had polio be vaccinated?

A. Yes. There are three types of polio virus and a person who has recovered from infection by one type is not necessarily immune to the other two.

Q. Does the vaccine prevent non-paralytic polio?

A. No. But non-paralytic polio does not give an individual a permanent handicap and so is not important as a health problem. Many cases of non-paralytic polio are never diagnosed or reported, being so mild as to be passed off as a cold or the grippe.

Q. Will children in priority age groups be given vaccine after the NFIP program is finished?

A. Various proposals have been made by federal, state, county and city health departments to purchase vaccine for administration to those in the age groups most susceptible to paralytic polio.

If funds are provided by government agencies, such vaccine will be made available to children whose families cannot afford to purchase it, perhaps to all those in vulnerable age groups. The situation will vary in different states and communities.

Q. Is a dangerous virus used in preparation of the Salk vaccine?

A. All vaccines and nearly all drugs are made from material that is potentially dangerous, but these materials are refined or treated until they are not dangerous when given in recommended dosages.

The Mahoney strain of polio virus, used in the polio vaccine, is—before treatment with formaldehyde—an extremely virulent strain. When properly inactivated for use in the vaccine, however, it will not cause any illness.

Q. Is there more than one way (intramuscular) to administer the Salk vaccine?

A. The intramuscular injection was used in Dr. Salk's early investigations and in the 1954 field trials, with good results. Some experimental use has been made of the interdermal method, notably in Denmark, but studies as to its effectiveness have not yet been completed.

Interdermal injection means introducing the needle between layers of the skin, a difficulut and time-consuming procedure.

Q. Is the National Foundation in charge of manufacturing and testing the vaccine?

A. No. Once the vaccine was licensed by the federal government its manufacture and testing became the responsibility of the U.S. Public Health Service's National Institutes of Health.

As is true of other vaccines and biologicals, standards for manufacturing and testing are established by this federal agency.

SMART TOGS — Whether its for recreation or relaxation or for the classroom or office, Georgia Owen of 1464 Avondale, Sylvan Lake, and Fran Gliskey, 13 Palmer, Pontiac, are wearing the answer. Georgia shows jerkin and slacks in a combination of wool and orlon. The jerkin has the new squared neckline and the slacks are tapered at the bottom for the new slim look. The classic jersey blouse has three-quarter sleeves. Fran models a twin-sweater set in wool by Exmoor and her skirt is a 12-gore wool style with a high waist. A wide leather belt and a metal colored medallion complete the costume look.

Navy Deck Swab Will Officially Become Mop

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — The deck swab, which millions o sailors have pushed millions of miles, after Oct. 1, will become a mop by name and number, naval spokesmen reported today.

The sailors who push it will continue to call it a swab, no doubt.

The Norfolk Naval Supply Center announced the change is being made in the interest of armed forces unification. Specifically, it comes under a new federal stock number classification system.

Once all government agencies use the single descriptions and stock numbers, the Navy said, purchasing, inspection, issue and redistribution of surpluses will be simplified.

Services Plan 'Thing' Output

Army, Marines Report Production of Formerly Discarded Vehicle

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Marine Corps today ordered production of a hit-and-run armed vehicle that the Army originally developed but discarded.

* * *

The two services jointly announced award of an 11-million-dollar contract to the Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. of Milwaukee, Wis., for an undisclosed number of "Ontos," which is a green word meaning "The Thing."

Production will start at the company's plant in La Porte, Ind., in August 1956, and be completed about one year later.

* * *

Ontos carries six 106mm recoiless rifles on a chassis mounted on full tracks like a tank. Unlike a conventional tank, The Thing depends on the speed with which its rifles can be trained on a target and its high maneuverability rather than upon protective armor.

Ontos is equipped with four .50 caliber spotting rifles. When the vehicle comes within range of a target, the Ontos gunner fires this light rifle until its tracer bullets flash on the target.

* * *

The gunner may then start firing his big, recoiless rifles automatically, knowing that they are geared to the little spotting gun. The big rifles can be fired singly, in pairs, or in a salvo.

Although the Army, working with Allis-Chalmers, developed this vehicle, it bought only a few pilot models before deciding that such hit-and-run weapons were of little use. The Marine Corps, however, after testing one of the early models, took the view that "the thing" will fit into Marine tactics.

FBI Tells How Children May Avoid Kidnaper

Thank heaven, it doesn't happen very often, but every now and then a child is kidnapped or assaulted on the way to or from school.

Specifically, children should be instructed to:

1. Travel in groups or pairs.
2. Walk along heavily-traveled streets and avoid isolated areas where possible.
3. Refuse automobile rides from strangers and refuse to accompany strangers anywhere on foot.
4. Use city-approved play areas where recreational activities are supervised by responsible adults and where police protection is readily available.
5. Immediately report any one who molests or annoys them to the nearest person of authority.
6. Never leave home without telling their parents where they will be and who will accompany them.
7. Loudly cry for help if a stranger attempts forcibly to detain them.

Scout Camp Site Leased

TRAVERSE CITY (AP)—Rotary Camps, Inc., a holding company of the city's Rotary Club, has announced leasing Camp Greilick at nearby Bass Lake to the Scenic Trails Boy Scout Council for 99 years. The lease was signed for $1. The camp has been the scene of Boy Scout activities for 25 years.

Tank Lights Improved

BONN, Germany (AP) — Soviet tanks in East Germany are being equipped with newly developed infrared turret sights which allow faultless target shooting at night or in fog, Bonn security officials reported today.

New Mailboxes to Be Red, White, and Blue

WASHINGTON—The Post Office Department has ordered 19,000 new red, white, and blue collection boxes for patrons' use in mailing letters and small packages.

Eventually all the existing olive-drab mail-collection boxes will be painted in the bright colors, which have been found to last longer.

Police Warning-Light Hides Till It's Needed

CHICAGO—A Chicago radio company executive has invented a revolving flasher warning light for police cars designed to hide from suspects the fact that a police car is nearby.

The flasher, installed on a hydraulically controlled stem, pops out of the car's trunk and warns suspects to stop when the police are near enough to insure an arrest.

There are five times more men alcoholics than women alcoholics.

Male Frogs Do Calling

MEMPHIS, Tenn. — Most frog calls or "songs" are made by males. Each species of frog or toad can be recognized by its call. These calls vary in volume, tone, vibration, rate, and pitch.

One West Tennessee treefrog, named the bird-voiced treefrog, has a whistling call similar to a woodpecker's. The green treefrog is called the banjo frog because its calls resemble sounds made by that instrument.

Luxury Gadgets Push Prices Up

NEW YORK, (AP)—The cost of living well is under renewed assault today. Prices are going up again on the materials from which tomorrow's gadgets are made.

So far, the price boosts are putting a squeeze on the manufacturers of the goods which America's rising standards have elevated from luxuries to necessities.

But some of these price hikes are being passed along. And now more merchants are complaining of their profit squeeze. The retailer is caught between higher factory list prices and the consumer's increasing insistence on striking a hard bargain.

If material prices continue to rise, the consumer may find that even the price of bargains has gone up. The rate at which he has been buying of late has left few merchants with distress inventories to be moved by cutting prices.

Copper has just climbed to 40 cents a pound, the highest list price since 1872, and a one-third increase since the start of the year.

Tin plate prices have just gone up, too—meaning that the can you buy in the store is going to cost the food packer more.

Soaring prices for natural rubber have already brought hikes in the price of tires. And steel prices hikes could show up in higher tags on next year's cars and a multitude of other goods.

The long depressed textile market has been stirring of late and several types of cotton cloth and yarn have edged up in price this week.

Fuel oil prices have moved up at wholesale — and this could mean higher costs of heating your home next winter.

So far the consumer has felt very little of this stirring of inflation at the producer and manufacturing levels. But the National Industrial Conference Board reports today a slight rise in consumer price averages in July. All of the components of its index save transportation and housing rose. Food took the biggest advance, with apparel up a little. The board says the purchasing value of the consumer dollar has lost one-tenth of a cent since June.

Russian Denies 6,000,000 Men in Armed Forces

LONDON (AP)—A Soviet spokesman today denounced as false a British estimate that Russia and her satellites have six million men under arms — but he didn't say what the correct figure is.

An article by M. Mikhailov in the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia, quoted by Moscow radio, commented on the reaction of the British Foreign Office to last week's announcement that the Soviet Union is cutting its armed forces by 640,000 men.

* * *

The Foreign Office said it was difficult to judge what such a reduction would mean since the Soviet Union had never disclosed its total armed strength. The British statement added that Red forces "are estimated at some 4,750,000 with a further 1,250,000 in the satellite forces."

Mikhailov asserted such a pronouncement could be "characterized as a new outbreak in the cold war" and added:

Draft Ike to Run Again, Says Politico

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., (AP)—President Eisenhower should be drafted by acclamation unanimously "to be our candidate again next year," says Gov. William G. Stratton.

The Illinois Republican governor said Eisenhower has brought peace and prosperity and that his leadership at the recent Geneva conference has broken the "bitterness and tension which was leading the world to destruction in an atomic war." He lauded the President's "personal magnetism, utter sincerity and conviction."

TODAY'S ASSIGNMENT FOR:

JUNIOR EDITORS

AT THE BEACH—5
A Pennant and Passengers

Let's call our boat "Junior Editors" and make ready to sail it for the first time.

First, fill the bathtub or a large shallow pan with water. Then cut out a piece of wax paper larger than the bottom of the boat. Lay the paper gently on top of the water and set the boat on the paper.

Here is a pennant for the top of your mainmast, a floating buoy used as a signpost for sailors, and two sailors.

The sailors, naturally, are wearing their sailor suits. The blouses are white with red sleeve patches. The girl's skirt and the boy's trousers are blue.

Cut out of the pieces carefully and slit the bottom of the buoy up to the dotted line. Fold half of the bottom forward and half backward, so that the buoy will stand up on another piece of wax paper and float on the water.

Fold the tab of the boy back and set him in the boat with his hand over the side. Fold the tab of the girl back and stand her beside the sail, leaning against it.

And away we go.

M'Lord Doffs Wig to British Heat Wave's Presence

WASHINGTON — Traditionally garbed judges and barristers of London have finally doffed their wigs in the face of a sweltering heat wave.

• • •

Other countries and other professional groups — doctors, military men and clergymen — long ago abandoned the custom. The British wig-wearing fraternity however, not only carries on; it adds followers. Newly independent Ceylon has taken over wigs along with British parliamentary procedure. The Speaker of the Ceylonese House presides in full-bottom, permanently waved periwig. Clerks wear prescribed tight-curl tiebacks.

Years ago some of England's dandies, backed at first by Charles II, tried to hold out, but to no avail. Soon the King himself succumbed to a black, dashingly curled periwig that reached below his shoulders. Gossips said the transformation resulted from His Majesty's fast-graying hair.

The "wig mania" spread to the American colonies. Men of distinction — preachers as well as governors and judges — reached for the latest styles, while unbewigged Puritans railed against the ungodly practice.

• • •

The decline of the wig era coincided with the revolutionary period of the late 1700's, when such adornments were out of keeping with the spirit and problems of the times. From then on the frankly flamboyant peruke gave way to the unobtrusive toupee, or hairpiece as it is now known.

Preparing baby for a bath is just one of the many duties performed by a visiting nurse. How much more fun it is for baby Kathy Varion, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Varion of South Paddock street, when grandmother, Mrs. Joseph Varion, is the nurse.

Their little eyes start popping when to grandmother's they go shopping. Mrs. John Pump is showing her grandchildren Jan Appel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Appel of South Avery road, and Margo Schiefler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Schiefler of Vinewood avenue, some of the lovely items she has in her gift shoppe.

Friends Fete New Bride at Shower

Picnic Also Honors Mrs. C. W. Wixom of Ann Arbor

A picnic luncheon and miscellaneous shower was given Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Frank Copp and Mrs. Alfred Hyde at the former's Motorway drive home.

* * *

The party was given in honor of Mrs. Charles W. Wixom of Ann Arbor. The former Suzanne Stolpe, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Stolpe of Starr avenue. Mr. Wixom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Wixom of Lakeland avenue, Sylvan Lake.

Others were Janice Vanderveldt, Mrs. Howard Wixom, Mrs. Bruce Wixom, Beth Methrell of Ypsilanti, Mrs. Arthur Truesdell of Wayne, Mrs. S. L. Dibble of Birmingham and Mrs. Roberto Rodriguez and Mary Ann Hennig, both of Ann Arbor.

Keeping in balance is one of the responsibilities of bank teller Mrs. William Bickford, of Garland avenue. Working each day, she must also balance her schedule to permit time for relaxation with her grandchild.

Couple Planning to Fete Pair at Rehearsal Dinner

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lendler of James K boulevard are entertaining at the rehearsal dinner this evening for Gail Lee Putnam and Robert Allen Squire.

* * *

Gail, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Putnam of Glassland, and Robert, son of Mrs. Blanche Coggins of Voorheis road, will exchange nuptial vows Saturday evening at Orchard Lake Presbyterian Church.

Guests will include Mr. and Mrs. Putnam, Ruth Ann Putnam, Carl Putnam Jr., Ruth Render, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Render and Marlene West.

Harriet Vackaro Is Honored at Bridal Shower

An epergne of pink and white tapers and pink and white flowers decorated the dining table at a miscellaneous shower given Thursday evening at the Perry street home of Mrs. John Vackaro honoring Harriet Vackaro. Mrs. Edward Forsyth of St. Joseph street acted as co-hostess.

Invited guests were Mrs. Reaume, Mrs. Harry Pauley, Mrs. John Brewer, Mrs. Archie Tryon, Mrs. Mike Vackaro, Mrs. Frank Doll, Mrs. Pat Borer, Katie Williams, Marilyn Carlson, Mrs. Joseph Orosey Jr. and Mrs. Frank Harper.

No job is too great for today's grandmothers. Mrs. Mark J. Seiler, Ora to her many friends, operates a drill press in the extrusion department of sheet metal division of a local plant. Her two grandchildren receive most of her time when she's off the job.

"Information," the pleasant voice of Mrs. Merle Merriam, replies as she answers some of the ten thousand calls during her working day. Nellie, as she is known to her co-workers, is also a valuable source of information to her grandchildren as she replies to their many "whats" and "whys."

Fur Facts for Fashion Fascination

NEW YORK (NEA) — The fur cape, the little jacket for daytime and evening, the new fur colors, the predominance of small furs everywhere are the fur facts that tell a whole fall fashion story.

* * *

Good for all dresses with lean lines and equally fine for the new tunic suits and suits with long jackets.

Little jackets, for both daytime and evening, mean more to every woman this year. Not every woman can afford a little jacket in mink but she can afford a little jacket in some fur for daytime or evening wear or for both.

Styling of these jackets is imaginativeand they, too, are designed for slim clothes though many look equally well with full skirts.

The little furs are not only good for many occasions, they're season-spanners, too. Most will travel readily. Waist-length and 26-inch jackets are replacing stoles this year.

JUDITH J. LINDSEY

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Chapman of Royal Oak announce the betrothal of Mrs. Chapman's daughter, Judith J. Lindsey, to Private Leaun W. Harrelson Jr. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leaun W. Harrelson of Delaware drive. Leaun is stationed at Camp Pendleton, Calif., with the United States Marine Corps.

Choir Is Entertained

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Nelson entertained the senior choir of Joslyn Avenue United Presbyterian Church with a buffet supper at their West Brooklyn street home Thursday evening.

Be Individualistic

Even if "everybody" is wearing a certain color, or posies on the handbag, or longer hair, don't do it if it's not for you. Acquiring fashion chic is knowing what to accept and what to reject.

Overambition Defeats Its Purpose

By ANNE HEYWOOD

It is natural for a mother to be ambitious for her children. But too many times, her ambition is wrongly directed. For example, take this letter from Mrs. K.:

* * *

"My daughter Joan is very talented at writing. She was writing poems when she was five, she was on her high school paper and now she is majoring in journalism at our local University. During the summer, she stays home and just writes.

"Her father says I'm spoiling her and that she ought to take a summer job and help us pay for her college.

"But I don't think we should deprive her of this chance to commune with her muse and just write to her heart's content. I don't think any sacrifice we may make is too great. After all, not every child has so great a talent.

"What do you think?"

Well! Can't you imagine how Joan is going to turn out? I can, and it isn't good.

Her mother has probably given her an all-to-exaggerated idea of her importance and the magnitude of her talent. And the world, I'm afraid, will let her down fast.

NO OBLIGATIONS

Probably Joan has never made a bed in her life, nor pitched in with the dishes, nor pushed a feather duster around.

Her "talent" has gotten her out of all obligations and she has learned no sense of responsibility. She probably takes it for granted that she should loaf all summer and devote herself to her "art," while less talented people, like her father, pay all the bills.

It seems to me that Mrs. K. had better take herself in hand, and fast, if there's to be any hope for her daughter. I think Joan should reinforce her writing "talent" with some down-to-earth skill, like shorthand and typing and get a summer job.

I think she should be given certain specific household chores, for which she is responsible.

In the first place, writing is an uncertain way of making a living at best. And in the second place, success in writing, as in all other phases of life, requires maturity, conscientiousness and the ability to cooperate in shouldering responsibility.

State Heads Conduct MOMS Installation

Mrs. A. T. Kirkwood, state president, assisted by Mrs. Hugh Godwin and Mrs. Frank Polasek, state board members, were the installing officers at the installation held Tuesday by MOMS of America Inc. Unit Two.

The meeting was held at the Bemis-Olsen Post hal.

Mrs. Emory Clark presented a retiring president's pin and gift to Mrs. Edgar Thomas in recognition of her work for the past two years.

Revival of Plaid Is Fashion News

The unusual plaids, perhaps the hunting or everyday version of the better-known dress plaids, have been chosen for the plaid revival this fall.

Where the background colors of the most popular plaids are of medium to dark values, many of these have white backgrounds. The old favorite, the green and navy Black Watch plaid, will probably continue to be the big favorite.

It's Dangerous to Hide Your Anger

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

It happened when the patient was a small child.

The wall around a fuse box had been patched with new, wet plaster. By touching it, the patient had displeased her adored mother. She was reproved, told not to touch it again. She obeyed; but her older sister didn't.

* * *

While their mother was out of the room, the sister made holes in the wet, soft plaster. Returning, their mother discovered them — and assumed the guilt of her younger daughter. She flew at her in fury. And beat her. Severely. Too severely.

Not long after, a myth developed in the patient's family that she had never been spanked.

She did the only thing possible with the truth experienced by her own senses. She "forgot" it. She became a "perfect" child, helplessly dependent on her mother's senses. Unable to trust anything she felt, saw or heard with her own senses, and just stopped responding to anything that happened to her.

As her psychoanalyst, Izette de Forest, describes her in her fine book, "The Leaven of Love," she became a "ghost" in life, deadened by the spell of self-distrust cast over her by her parent's lie.

It is costly to be the child of someone who is so ashamed of his angry action that he pretends that he hasn't taken it.

USE PATIENCE

A child can be provoking. As patience is a supreme moral development, our reserves of it are limited. Our rage at Johnny's too-persistent fooling with the garden hose we've turned on is no credit to us — but it's human. It's acceptable.

So long as we know it's our motive for striking him, the child will know where he is. And he will make the adjustments necessary to survive as the offspring of a parent whose anger can dominate his patience.

But when we start lying about our motive for hitting him, things can get confused. Johnny doesn't know where he is. The lie that our hurtful anger was tender concern for him forces him to accept it as something he should trust. And we can infect him with such suspicion of what his own senses tell him that he becomes emotionally sick.

If you're a mother bear who loses patience with her cub, you cuff him. Then you leave him alone. You have the decency to let him draw his own conclusions about what happened to him.

Animal parents, by the large, are quite self-respecting creatures. When they are mad, they never pretend that they aren't. They do not say, "You had this blow coming to you." They do not say, "It hurt me worse than it hurt you." They do not say, "This will teach you not to cross the street again, sass your father, play with matches."

If they take irritable or educational action toward their young, they let the action talk for itself. They do not send their children into nervous collapse by telling them that cuffs were love pats. Unlike us, they are not ashamed of what they feel and want.

IF newest jewelry—

The "Golden Touch" for both brown and black, for casual as well as dressy occasions, conveys the 1-color jewelry look.

The "Golden era" will brighten and become an extension of the many brown costumes this fall. Tweeds and knitted costumes will have golden touches. For now bracelets and earrings with less emphasis on ropes is part of the cool look.

Manly Patterns Are Refreshing

Those who have forgotten how spirit-lifting these manly, traditional patterns are will have a fine chance to refresh their memory this fall.

A regiment of Scottish pipers is slated to tour a score of cities to perform marches and Scottish dances, both to the blood-quickening skirl of massed bagptpes.

* * *

A Scotsman of the clan may have several tartans by which his family is known—a dress tartan, a hunting tartan and perhaps a third for everyday wear, that originated from the wool of home-grown sheep, prepared, dyed, spun and woven by hand. The performance can't fail to be bright.

Club Attends Picnic

The Erie drive home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Hahnefeld was the scene of a picnic held recently for members of the EOWN club and their husbands. The birthday of Mrs. Hahnefeld was also observed.

Date Sauce Tops Slices of Date Cake

Mrs. J. E. Graybiel Bakes Moist Torte for Rich Dessert

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Date torte is a versatile sort of dessert. Cut it in narrow strips and you have a pleasant form of cookie. Cut it in larger pieces, serve with whipped cream or some kind of sauce, and it's a cake. Mrs. Ed Graybiel gives us her recipe for Date Torte.

Mrs. Graybiel has made a place for herself in the social life of Pontiac. Her pleasing personality makes her welcome everywhere. She is a member of the Newcomers Club, also of a Bridge club. Her family of three active children keeps her busy.

DATE TORTE
By Mrs. J. E. Graybiel

½ pound dates, cut fine
1 teaspoon soda
1 cup boiling water
2 tablespoons shortening
1 egg
1 cup sugar
1¼ cups sifted flour
Pinch of salt

Pour water on soda, then on dates and stir well. Set aside to cool. Add the rest of the ingredients. Pour into a greased pan. Bake 40 minutes in a slow oven, about 300 degrees.

'Stretchy' T-Shirts Help Beat the Heat

You can take the "heat" off your summer laundry chores by outfitting your youngsters in the new stretchable T-shirts in carefree nylon or Darcon.

Besides stretching to fit several size ranges, these stretchables require just a quick sudsing and rinsing—and they dry in a flash, fit for another day of duty.

The fur handbag is a good-looking fall accessory. You can have one in pony, rabbit, raccoon or even leopard.

Shadow stripe by Helen Whiting is in blue with muted stripe in royal blue. Back is shirred from a pretty yoke. The transitional cotton fills a big wardrobe gap and is styled with three-quarter or elbow length sleeves.

Collecting Calls for Care

Collect all you want, but be sure you want all you collect. This is a good maxim for every memento-minded motorist about to take that long-awaited summer vacation.

* * *

It's a natural tendency to bring home souvenirs of memorable vacation spots, so you must withstand the temptation to collect useless items from famous places.

When you see some knick-knack typical of a locale, just ask yourself, "Where am I going to put that when I get home?" The question should keep you clear of junk and help you build a collection of useful and decorative items to dress up your home.

A friend of mine has a collection of demitasse cups she's picked up around the country. Another collects antique spoons; another, American milk glass; another authentic trivets.

PRINT COLLECTION

An artistic friend has a collection of prints and original water colors of places she's visited. Another has decorated her southwestern ranch home with Indian art objects.

The paper weight on my own desk is a beautifully colored rock I found in the Rockies and polished myself.

I keep my pencils in an early American celery dish purchased in New England and use Florida sea shells for ash trays. All these items are useful and attractive reminders of my travels.

The children in one family I know collect postcards from places they visit, later filing them in a shoe box.

On the wall in their room is a map of the United States, with colored pins marking the spots where they've traveled. The children in another family collect match books, the covers of which they tack on a framed pegboard in the family recreation room.

* * *

Your travel souvenirs don't have to be a clutter destined for the attic or basement. They can constitute a useful and decorative collection which you are proud to display in your home.

Don't Brag About Popularity to Other Girls

"Dear Miss Woodward: I'm 15 and I have most of the boys my age after me. Almost all the girls my age despise me because of it.

"I try to be as good and fair as anyone possible could. How can I get the girls to realize that I can't help it if the boys all chase me?"

Answer: The girls aren't going to adore you when they realize that you can't help having all the boys chase you. But if you could convince them that you don't want to keep all those boys for yourself you might win their affection.

The boys must trip over each other beating a path to your front door. If they arrive in droves—what better idea than to share the wealth? "Come on over and wade in" might be your attitude.

Call up some of the girls and ask them to join you. Such gatherings can turn into informal parties. And do a lot of character building for you in the eyes of the other girls. After all, when you're busy being hostess you can't be too busy flirting madly with all the boys too. The other girls would have their chance.

In many groups of girls there's one who acts as magnet to attract the boys. Not because the others aren't attractive in their own right. But just because she has a certain something that draws them.

And, of course, many groups of boys are awfully good at following the leader. Good news travels fast, and the crowd lines up at the corner. Which is a good thing for the rest of the girls in the group if the "magnet" is also generous.

The girls can't blame her for having that something special. But they'd hate her if she was stuck-up about it, self-satisfied, and stingy.

"Dear Miss Woodward: About two weeks ago a boy I know came over and brought a friend of his with him. I liked the friend right off the bat. Last night they came over again and we watched TV and I got better acquainted with the friend.

"He acted really friendly toward me and I'd dearly love to go with him.

"Should I tell the boy who introduced us that " I want to go with his friend, and have him find out what he thinks about me? I don't want to appear to be running after him, yet I'd like to go with him and I want him to know it."

Answer: Alert one of your most-attractive girl friends to be ready to dash to the rescue the next time those two boys come over. If you have no warning, figure out some sort of code message that will start her on her way to your house.

Then let her take one boy off your hands while you get even better acquainted with the boy you like. If the combination works well together, you can repeat the first-aid treatment the next time they drop in. Pretty soon it will seem like the normal thing for you to be paired off with your pet. And isn't that just what you want?

Wed Couple Rarely Asked as Attendant

Bridal Party Need Not Include Both Husband, Wife

By EMILY POST

A wife writes: "One of the bridesmaids at my own wedding asked me to be a bridesmaid at her wedding but has said nothing about including my husband in the wedding party.

"If her fiance didn't know my husband that would be an excuse for leaving him out but we have all been friends for several years and I think this is a slight to him. Do you think it proper to ask me alone, and if not, should I back out?"

Answer: Your friend showed no discourtesy to your husband in leaving him out of the bridal party. In fact, it is unusual to have a husband and wife both serve. He should, of course, be invited not only to the wedding and reception but included in any parties especially given for the bridal party.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I received a personal note of invitation from a business friend and his wife inviting me to spend a weekend at their summer cottage.

"I would like to write a note accepting this invitation but am stumped as to how to begin it. I know the husband quite well and call him by first name, but his wife I know only slightly and have always called her Mrs. Jones. I can't begin the note 'Dear John and Mrs. Jones,' can I? Will you please help me?"

Answer: Write your letter to Mrs. Jones alone.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When writing thank-you notes for money gifts, should the amounts be stated in the notes?"

Answer: The wording of your thank-you would be for a "generous check." You might add that you are eager to show them the lovely present you bought with it.

PATRICIA ANN RENDER

Mr. and Mrs. Ray J. Render of Thirteen Mile road are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to John Allen Shaw. Mr. Shaw is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw of Walled Lake. He attended Michigan State University.

Tricot – Laundering Whiz

The speed and ease of laundering acetate-and-nylon blend tricot contour sheets is perhaps the most attractive feature for the busy homemaker. Acetate - and - nylon blend fabrics do not soil or stain readily due to inherent properties of the yarns.

* * *

They do not, therefore, require maximum washing action. The new sheets can be laundred by hand or by machine. In the latter, only 2 or 3 minutes washing time is needed. Extensive laboratory tests have shown that after repeated machine washings in standard wash tests, the sheets do not show signs of wear or tear.

It is not necessary to use automatic dryers of any kind to dry the sheets. Simply hang them over a clothes dryer, indoors or out, as you would a pair of nylon stockings or nylon lingerie.

A simple bathroom dryer is adequate, and in certain warm-air, low-humidity conditions, the sheets will dry in as little as 40 minutes.

Because clean bedclothes can be made ready quickly and easily, the unexpected arrival of overnight guests need not disturb the fastidious hostess. These sheets are especially useful for camp-bound youngsters and summer homes, too. Only one is needed for each bed.

Fashionettes Attend Cake Demonstration

The Fashionettes, sponsored by Pontiac Parks and Recreation Dept. met at Adah Shelly Library recently. Mrs. Edna Mertz won the trophy for losing the most weight for the week.

Members of the group attended a demonstration on cake decoration. They plan to meet again Tuesday evening at 6:30 at Adah Shelly Library. The meeting will be followed with a cooperative picnic at Oakland Park.

Fete Local Woman With Dinner, Gift

On Wednesday evening, Mrs. Edward Lundgren, Mrs. Clifford Hook, Mrs. Grace Steeves and Mrs. Louis Upcott met with Mrs. Edward Thompson for dinner at Rotunda Inn.

Remove Tar Stains With Liquid Wax

You can safely remove black spots of road tars from your car by means of the solvents in a liquid car wax.

After you have washed your car with hot soapy water, saturate a cloth with liquid car wax, rub the tarred area lightly, turning the cloth frequently to prevent smearing.

Every room in your home or apartment needs an airing every day to keep it fresh.

NINFA PARAMO

Ninfa Paramo, daughter of Mrs. James Paramo of Franklin road will enter Mercy School of Nursing in Detroit on Sept. 6. An annual project of the St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Alumnae Association is to award a scholarship to a girl who qualifies. Funds for the scholarship are raised through benefit affairs held during the year. Ninfa met the scholastic requirements and was awarded the scholarship this year.

Coming Events

The Emor L. Calkins WCTU will meet at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday at the Central Methodist Church.

There will be a meeting of the Drayton Plains Kings and Queens bowling league Friday at 8 p.m. at Dixie Recreation in Drayton Plains.

School Opening Dates Listed in County Area

School days are nearing in the Oakland County area, and school officials have set dates for general faculty and orientation meetings, registration, parent-teacher conferences and school opening.

Opening dates announced by school authorities, some as early as Aug. 31 and others as late as Sept. 12, are listed below:

Huron Valley

School here starts the morning of Sept. 2 for all grades except kindergarten, which opens Sept. 8.

New pupils are being enrolled in the principal's offices before opening date and teachers of kindergarten youngsters are devoting Sept. 1, 2, 6 and 7 to conferences with parents regarding these tots and their school programs.

Imlay City

Classes in Imlay City Schools will start Sept. 8. Faculty will meet Sept. 6 and 7 for preschool conferences and the school will be open from Aug. 30 to Sept. 2 for students to get books and supplies. New students, kindergarten through seventh grade, should register Aug. 31 in the sixth grade room, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Lake Orion

Sept. 8 is the date set for Lake Orion youngsters to report. A general teachers meeting is slated for 9 a.m. Sept. 6, and departmental meetings and room organization will be held Sept. 7.

The new Special Education department located at Blanche Sims school in this city will be ready for use about Dec. 1.

Marlette

Marlette Community School officials have filled all vacancies on the teaching staff except the commercial position.

There are seven new teachers listed for the high school staff and eight new teachers for the new Bea McDonald Elementary School opening this term, which is to be dedicated sometime in September. Marlette's opening date is Aug. 31.

North Branch

North Branch Rural Agricultural School will be open at 8:45 a.m. Aug. 29, for principal and superintendents meetings, and a general faculty meeting. High school and grade meetings are set for 1 p.m.

Kindergarten through sixth grades will report for school Aug. 31, while tenth through twelfth graders report to the gymnasium for final registration on the same day.

Registration for seventh through ninth grades will be Thursday, Sept. 1. Regular sessions will start Sept. 2 for all grades.

South Oakland County

An expected 63,000 children will enroll in classrooms of 11 South Oakland districts. Opening date, listed for Southfield, Clawson and Royal Oak Schools is Sept. 7.

Children attending Troy, Carver, Ferndale, Hazel Park, Lamphere, Berkley, Madison and parochial schools in this area will report on Sept. 8. Oak Park has slated Sept. 12 for starting day.

Waterford Township

In Waterford Township, school bells will ring on Sept. 7, both for Isaac Crary Junior and Waterford Township High School pupils. Registration for junior high students, grades seven through nine, will begin Aug. 22.

Pre - enrollment for Waterford High School students will begin Aug. 23. Grades 11 and 12 should register Aug. 23-25, from 8:30 a.m. to 2 p.m., with the high school office open on the evening of Aug. 24 from 7 to 9 p.m. for students unable to go during the day.

Tenth graders should register Aug. 30 Sept. 1, or 7 to 9 p. m. Aug. 31, if unable to register during daytime.

Holly

Considerably enlarged will be the vocational education program offered in Holly Area schools when they open next month. Local business firms are being asked to cooperate in the work.

Advisor for the expanded program is William Froberg. Offered to high school students of 16 years or over will be a course with a four-way objective — to be of benefit to the students, the school, employers and community.

Such students would divide their time about equally between the regular school curriculum and the outside activities. Parents now are being solicited to enter their children in the new plan.

New Strong Reserve Plan Being Put Into Effect

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army today put into effect one phase of the new reserve training program and announced it will be ready soon with others, including the enlistment of men 17-18½ years old for six months training.

The over-all program, which Congress cut down from President Eisenhower's requests, envisions creation of a strong and active ready reserve to supplement reduced regular forces. Reserves are to be built up over a period of years to 2,900,000 men from the present 800,000.

The Army said it will accept immediate six-year enlistments directly into the reserve by men who have not yet been ordered to report for induction under the draft.

Each man accepted must serve two years on active duty, take part in the ready reserve for three years and serve one year in the standby reserve — the same time as if he were drafted — but will have a choice of when he will serve his two years of active duty.

The Army said that it will be ready to start accepting enlistments for the short-term reserve training program in the "immediate future," which officials have said will probably mean Oct. 1.

President Eisenhower last week authorized an Army quota of 90,000 such enlistments and the Marine Corps 5,500 during the 10 months ending next June 30.

The six months of active training must be followed up by 7½ years more in the active reserve.

Volunteers will be deferred from the draft throughout the full eight years if they take an active and satisfactory part in the reserve training. Otherwise they are subject to a two-year draft.

These short-term trainees will be paid $50 a month for the six months. High school students who volunteer may be deferred from the initial active duty training until they complete their high school courses or reach the age of 20, whichever is earlier.

Enlistments will be handled by the nearest organized reserve unit rather than regular recruiting centers, although recruiters will give information about the program.

The Army said it is also ready to carry out another provision of the new law which applies to men now on active duty who complete their tours before July 1, 1957. If they join a ready reserve unit when they get out and serve in it satisfactorily for one year, they will be transferred then to the standby reserve, where regular training is not required.

Chief of staff Maxwell D. Taylor declared that the new law is being utilized to effect "the speediest possible build-up of the Army's reserve strength towards its mobilization goal."

He added that the Army will continue "at the same time, to exhaust every effort to recruit and retain in our army reserve apd national guard units volunteers with prior service." These men, he said, will "form the backbone and leadership necessary for a truly ready reserve."

Check Scout's Accosting Story

Evanston Boy Claims Man Ordered Him in Car Near Muskegon

MUSKEGON (AP) — Police today sought to check out the report of a 12-year-old Evanston, Ill., Boy Scout who said he was accosted by a strange man in a car near Camp Wabanngo several days after Peter Gorham vanished from the camp.

The Scout, Terry Henderson, said he hurried from the spot after the man ordered him to "get in the car."

The incident, he said, occurred several days after the July 5 disappearance of the Gorham boy, also 12 and also from Evanston.

Peter's body was found last Sunday five miles from hte camp. He had been shot through the head with a .30 caliber bullet.

SEARCH CONTINUES

State Police Capt. Leroy Hunt said the search still is on for a 31-year-old Chicago man who came to Muskegon July 3 with the announced intention of visiting a Boy Scout nephew.

The man, who Hunt said had a record of morals offenses, left without paying his car rental bill and apparently did not visit any of the camps in the Muskegon area.

Police also said a woman who lived near the camp reported having seen a man whose description matched an artist's conception of a man sought for questioning in the case.

* * *

The woman, who refused to permit use of her name, said she saw the man three days after Peter's disappearance.

The drawing of the man sought in the case was made on information furnished by Mrs. Elsie Ferrill, who said she saw "a boy like Peter" talking to a motorist the day the Boy Scout vanished.

Two Walled Lake Youths Will Face Rape Charges

Two Walled Lake youths were bound over for Circuit Court arraignment on statutory rape charges yesterday after examination before Springfield Township Justice Emmett J. Leib.

The pair, Frank Hinchman and Elma McIntosh are charged with assaulting a 15-year-old girl. Hinchman was released on $2,000 bond and McIntosh was held on a similar bond at Oakland County Jail pending arraignment Monday.

Edward Yalaian Takes Thelma Boyle as Bride

ROYAL OAK — A double-ring ceremony Tuesday noon at Guardian Angel Catholic Church, Clawson, united in marriage Thelma Vivian Boyle and Edward Yaylaian.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Boyle of 975 Rankin, Royal Oak, and the bridegroom, of 2756 Carson, Detroit, is the son of Mrs. Gloria Yaylaian, Havana, Cuba.

Thelma wore a white lace, waltz-length bridal gown with lace bolero, and her fingertip veil fell from a tiara of seed pearls and rhinestones. She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of her sister, Mrs. Dorothy Bucsko.

The bridal bouquet was centered by a single white orchid, from which cascaded an arrangement of stephanotis.

Mrs. Bucsko, of Drayton Plains, was her sister's only attendant. Eugene Bucsko, brother-in-law, served as best man and John groom, ushered.

Pontiac Boy Struck by Automobile Here

Nine-year-old Paul Kitchen, of 469 Montcalm St., struck by a car while playing yesterday on Nelson St., was reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital.

Pontiac Police said the boy ran into the path of a car driven by Leslie R. Meyer, of 2780 Walton Blvd.

Playmates said Paul ran into the street while being chased by another boy. He suffered a fractured skull.

Meyer said he was going about 20 or 25 miles an hour and skidded on the hot pavement when he applied his brakes. He was not held.

Man Pleads Innocent

Henry McDonald, 35, of 288 Carlmoor St., charged with being drunk and disorderly, pleaded innocent when he was arraigned yesterday in Pontiac Municipal Court. He was released on a $50 bond set by Judge Cecil McCallum pending examination.

Built-in Radar Stops Car in Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Detroit safety engineer has designed a radar-equipped automobile which Rep. Rabaut (D-Mich) predicts will "save thousands of lives and millions of dollars in property damage."

The car, Rabaut said, stops automatically when something gets in its way.

The radar mechanism was devised by Carl Rashid. Rabaut described it yesterday for the Congressional Record.

He said the car has a radar screen directly below the grillwork, several inches high and extending the width of the automobile. This projects an impulse, Rabaut said, "that is guaranteed to halt the car should anyone or anything get in its path."

PAYS FOR SELF

The congressman said he had been informed the radar device will cost no more than power-steering and will pay for itself in about three years, "if the insurance companies reduce their rates, as is anticipated, on cars containing radar."

"The natural tendency of a person viewing this invention for the first time is to expect to be hurled through the windshield; however, this is not the case. The faster the car is moving the farther the radar beam is projected.

"If you are approaching an object at a high speed, the radar is reducing car speed before you, the driver, are actually aware of impending danger. The car will then, if not manually halted, stop before striking the object."

TESTED IN STATE

Rabaut said tests were conducted in Michigan where two such radar-equipped cars tried unsuccessfully at 50 miles an hour to crash head-on. Both stopped with ease many yards apart, he said.

* * *

Rabaut also said that a car changing lanes and "cutting you off in traffic will bring your radar into immediate action, thereby eliminating the possibility of a collision."

Rabaut said he got a ride in the radar equipped car when it was brought to the capitol by Rashid. The congressman said the radar does not work at less than 10 miles an hour, "therefore it does not hinder parking or entering a garage."

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Wilson today ordered the new code of military honor "posted prominently" by every American unit, ship and post throughout the world.

* * *

At the same time, he told the three services that it is "vitally important" to develop plans and start "without delay" training American military men how to avoid capture and how to withstand captivity.

The code of conduct, proclaimed by President Eisenhower Wednesday, is designed to inspire American fighting men in combat and to strengthen them against mental and physical tortures of the type used by the Communists in Korea.

Wilson's orders to make it effective were contained in three strongly worded memoranda, to the secretaries of the Army, Navy and Air Forces; the Joint Chiefs of Staff; and Asst. Secretary of Defense Carter L. Burgess, manpower chief and chairman of the committee which drafted the code.

Each service was directed to draw up its own plans for educating and indoctrinating its men. No time limit was fixed, but Wilson directed that even before it starts, each man be "thoroughly grounded in the salient features" of the code.

* * *

He called for support not only from the military but from civilian groups and other government agencies to aid in "dispelling the clouds of mystery and dread of the unknown which has surrounded Communist strategy and ideology."

* * *

He told Burgess to seek such help from labor, industrial and agricultural groups and the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

* * *

Religious and civilian organizations can also help in preparing servicemen for the ordeals of combat or captivity, Wilson said, because moral character and a firm belief in the American way of life are largely formed before a man puts on a uniform.

* * *

Wilson declared that this moral training must be emphasized both before and after a man enters military service because there was much "disturbing evidence" that American prisoners in Korea lacked ability to combat and withstand Communist distortions.

* * *

On the military side, he directed that preliminary instruction be given all servicemen about the international conditions which "make necessary this restatement and reaffirmation" of historic American principles.

* * *

Although Wilson left it to the services to work out the basic forms of their education and training programs, he spelled out certain goals that the programs must achieve.

* * *

He said every man must be specifically trained "to cope with enemy efforts against him." A "very important" part of this is implanting "basic truths and advantages of our democratic institutions and the fallacies of communism."

* * *

Strong, effective leadership and loyalty to group and unit "must be fostered by every means," he said, and every American in uniform must be instructed about his conduct and proper courses of action when "faced with captivity and as a prisoner."

* * *

Individuals and units, he said, must be trained in what to do when they are isolated, surrounded or cut off, and how to "resist and avoid enemy interrogation and indoctrination."

Divers Find Hulks of Ancient Fleet

SIRACUSA, Sicily (AP) — Divers have found water-logged hulks experts believe are those of a Greek war fleet lost 2,368 years ago in one of the greatest naval defeats of ancient history.

* * *

The first skeletal wreckage was sighted this week by men who have been working for almost a month in the silt at the bottom of the broad Bay of Siracusa, on the southeast coast of Sicily.

They described the gaunt ribs and sharp prow of what appeared to be an ancient trireme, a galley with three banks of oars. The wooden wreckage crumbled at their touch.

"There can be no doubt," said Prof. Luigi Barnard Brea, director of the Siracusa Historical Museum, "that the wreckage is from the Athenian fleet that beseiged ancient Siracusa.

* * *

The search for the sunken fleet was started by the Italian navy and the Sicilian Department of Antiquities on clues furnished by Arthur Baker, British consul in Siracusa and an ardent student of Sicilian history.

Last summer Baker figured out from ancient records where the 119 Athenian ships probably were sunk in 413 B. C. He fished around the bottom of the bay 100 yards off the Ortigia Islands and brought back pieces of ancient pottery which spurred Italian authorities to send down divers.

* * *

The war fleet was sent by Athens against Corinthian-held Siracusa, once Greece's greatest colony, in the days of Alcibiades.

The Siracusians defended themselves well in their fortress-guarded bay and the Athenian commanders decided to withdraw. Because of superstition, however, they waited until after the eclipse of the moon on Aug. 27, 413 B. C.

By then it was too late. The Siracusians trapped them by blockading the mouth of the harbor with the hulks of old ships. All but 15 of the Greek ships were sunk.

* * *

The Athenian shore force of 6,000 men was decimated and its survivors were sold into slavery.

Many historians have called the defeat the beginning of the end of the power of Athens.

Airman Schmidt to Divorce Wife and Fight for Son

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Airman Daniel Schmidt's lawyer says Schmidt will file "not later than Monday" for a divorce from the wife who married again while he was a prisoner of the Communist Chinese.

Atty. Howard P. Welch said he plans to start divorce proceedings for Schmidt "perhaps this weekend . . . Not later than Monday."

* * *

Daniel, 23, was one of 11 American fliers released recently by the Communists. He returned home last week to learn his 20-year-old wife Una had married logging worker Alford Fine, in the belief, she said, that Schmidt had died in Korea.

Welch said the petition for divorce will include a request that the court give Schmidt the custody of 2½-year-old Danny Jr., the son that was born while he was in a Communist prison.

At the same time, Welch confirmed Daniel's plans to drive to Portland this weekend to see his mother Mrs. Nellie Peters.

* * *

Mrs. Peters told reporters she had received a telephone call from her son telling her to expect him in Portland Sunday.

She said Schmidt told her over the phone he didn't intend to go back to Una.

"We are through. I don't even want to see her again," he said.

Mrs. Peters had said only Wednesday she was sure Danny and Una would patch it up again.

Alford Fine, the third party to the triangle, has left Una for a job in another town, said her attorney.

Foreign Bikes Tariff Hiked

Ike Sets 50 Per Cent Import Raise to Help U. S. Industry

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower today ordered an immediate 50 per cent tariff hike on all imported bicycles to protect American producers from "serious injury."

* * *

In announcing the action, the President's vacation headquarters here indicated it might raise the wholesale cost of imported models in the United States by from $1 to $3 if foreign manufacturers add the duty increase to their selling price.

There were no figures available here on the effect at retail, but there appeared to be a good chance that any increase at wholesale probably would be passed on to bike riders.

* * *

In ordering the duty hike, Eisenhower concurred with findings by the Tariff Commission that the American bicycle industry has "suffered serious injury or the threat of serious injury from increased imports resulting in part from tariff concessions."

Eisenhower approved an increase of from the present 7½ per cent to 11¼ per cent in the duty on the value of the popular imported large wheel lightweight models. Those are bikes with a wheel diameter of more than 25 inches, weighing less than 36 pounds.

* * *

The Tariff Commission had recommended an increase to 22½ per cent of the value on such models.

The President went along with the commission on its call for a hike from the present 15 per cent to 22½ per cent of the value on all other imported bikes.

The White House said most bicycles come from Great Britain, West Germany, Austria, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

UAW Official Talks With Chrysler Workers

EVANSVILLE, Ind. (AP)—Emil Mazey, secretary-treasurer of the CIO United Auto Workers, was to address Chrysler Corp. employes here today in connection with their current strike authorization vote.

Last week, the UAW rejected Chrysler's latest contract offer, charging the company with "hedging on some of the gains won by the union in June at the Ford Motor Co. and General Motors Corp.

Eisenhower Invites Newsmen to Visit His Secluded Vacation Retreat Site

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH

FRASER, Colo. (AP)—President Eisenhower lowers the privacy bars a bit at his Rocky Mountain vacation ranch here today to provide a look at a relaxed kind of presidential life.

He invited newsmen, accompanying him from Washington and the Denver Summer White House, to visit the ranch for a glimpse of how he and his 7-year-old grandson David have been spending their time there.

Up until today the press has been barred from the President's secluded retreat. The President has not left the ranch since he arrived Tuesday afternoon from Denver, and newsmen have had to depend almost entirely on White House Press Secretary James C. Hagerty for reports.

Those reports have been on a variety of activities—trout fishing, golf practice, pistol target shooting, work on an oil painting, cooking—and the official government business which always must be handled where a president is.

Yesterday for the second day in a row Eisenhower was up early—at 6 a.m. — and prepared breakfast for David and the other members of his small party. The menu was orange juice, scrambled eggs and bacon, toast and coffee.

While that went on, Eisenhower was at work in the living room of his cottage on an oil painting of a spectacular mountain view.

David turned later from golf to softball, then to horseback riding, in the company of 12-year-old Jack Tkach, son of the assistant White House physician, Maj. Walter Tkach.

After spending more than two hours at his easel, the President donned waders, a khaki jacket and a Western-style hat and went off aboard a jeep for some trout fishing in St. Louis Creek, which wanders through the ranch. With him was his host, old friend Aksel Nielsen, of Denver.

* * *

The presidential luck was not anywhere near as good as it was Wednesday when he caught several trout, including a 17-inch two-pounder. Yesterday he landed only one, So did Nielsen.

Before dinner last night Eisenhower got out a .22-caliber pistol and did a bit of target shooting.

U. S.-Red Housewife Exchange Proposed

LANSING (AP)—"Mrs. America of 1955" has asked President Eisenhower and Premier Bulganin of Russia to arrange an exchange of housewives between the two countries.

Mrs. Carl Deitemeyer of Lincoln, Nebr., a mother of five, made the suggestion at the Michigan State University "Centennial of Farm Mechanization."

Such an exchange, she said, would promote better understanding and peace, which "must be cradled in the homes of all people."

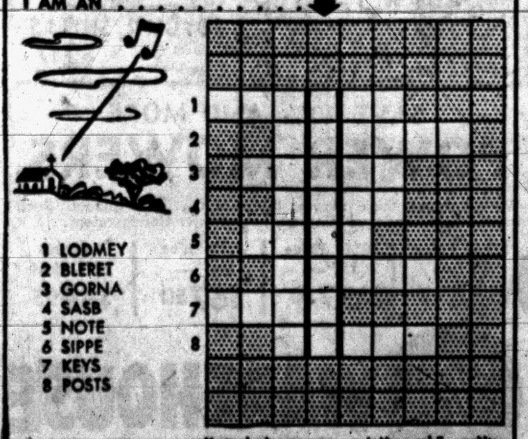

Mrs. Deitemeyer's husband is managing editor of the Nebraska Farmer. The family attended a meeting of the American Agricultural Editors' Association.

Sow Some Seeds Now, Winter Under Glass

Perennial and biennial seed may be sown now in cold frames to be wintered under glass and transplanted in spring.

Such seeds started in seed beds earlier can be moved to their permanent positions provided the weather isn't too warm for good results.

Tomatoes Grow to Jungle Size

Seedlings in Waste Plot Shoot Up to Height of 7 Feet 10 Inches

By WILMA GREENWAY

If you haven't any place to plant a garden but the spot where you burn your rubbish, don't decide growing vegetables is not for you. That few feet of neglected ground may surprise you.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace LaFave of 22 Cooper St. picked just such a plot to plant tomatoes this spring. Now they're using clothes poles and bamboo fishing rods for stakes to hold up their giant plants.

"One of the plants is 7 feet 10 tall, measuring up and down," Mrs. LaFave said, "but if you use a tape measure and count the curves, it measures 10 feet. I'm wondering if it isn't the tallest one in the county!"

Mrs. LaFave emphasized that these were "regular tomato plants," not the special type that grows as a vine. The plants are growing big tomatoes, too, Mrs. LaFave said—"one we just picked couldn't be spanned by my two hands."

THE HUNT'S ON

The LaFaves moved into their home last December. When spring came, they looked around for a place to make a garden but could find none suitable, except a down-at-heels 12 x 20 foot area behind the garage.

* * *

Ignoring the fact that the plot had been used as a place to burn rubbish, Mrs. LaFave went to work with a will.

She tore out a wormy grapevine, cleared off an assortment of burned tin cans, old papers and debris, and started to rake her "garden."

She had one clue that her venture might prove successful. A neighbor, seeing what she was about, remarked:

"I wouldn't be surprised if you've picked a good location for your garden. The people who lived here before put fertilizer over the lawn, and they raked a good deal of it back there."

CHILDREN HELPED

The LaFaves planted two dozen tomato seedlings in the plot, aided by their five children—Ann Marie, 12; Rosemary, 10; Shirley, 8; Mary Ellen, 3; and even little 2-year-old Johnny.

"After that," Mrs. LaFave said, "outside of covering the seedlings with fruit jars a few nights during the late frosts, we pretty well let nature take its course."

Nature did. The plants grew normally for awhile, but then suddenly started to shoot for the sky.

The lower leaves grew so thick that it became impossible to get into the dense growth to pick the tomatoes, and Mrs. LaFave and the children had to start clipping the bottom leaves to make "jungle paths" to get at their fruit.

"It must have been that fertilizer that did it," Mrs. LaFave said, looking up to where the tomatoes grow, like apples, high above her head.

"We don't spray and I've only hoed it once. I can't think of anything else that would make the stuff grow like that."

Fly Swatter Fisherette Clouts Whopping Trout

NEWBERRY, Mich., (AP)—With the help of her two sons, Mrs. John Johnson caught a 4-pound, 24-inch trout with a fly swatter. Seven-year-old Steve spied the fish yesterday near the shore of Round Lake. He called his mother. She dashed out of the house with a fly swatter and took a cut at the trout. It jumped—right onto shore and between the legs of 12-year-old Johnny.

LONG WAY UP — That's what Johnny LaFave, 2, and his sister, Mary Ellen, 3, of Pontiac, seem to think as they crane their necks to spot tomatoes on their parents' giant tomato plant. The plant measures 7 feet 10 inches in height. It is one of 24 seedlings Mr. and Mrs. Wallace LaFave planted this spring in a neglected corner back of their garage in their yard at 22 Cooper St.

200 Gardeners Prepare for Show in Waterford

Nearly 200 enthusiastc gardeners are stepping up activities for their flower show to be held Aug. 27-28 in the CAI Building, Waterford Township.

Members of the Dirt Gardeners and Better Home and Garden Club of Pontiac, the Sylvan Garden Club, and the Waterford Branch of the National Farm and Garden Clubs are pampering the plants, flowers and vegetables they plan to enter as horticulture specimens or use in arrangements.

The show will be open from 2-10 p.m. each day but all entries must be in by 11 a.m. Aug. 27.

Most sections are open to the public for entries.

Those with the artistic touch will find Section 1—artistic arrangements—to their liking. Section 3 is for those with specialties, containers to be furnished by the committee. The smallest and the largest flowers, house plants, and vegetables also will have their place.

Junior green-thumbers interested in entering their specimens may contact Mrs. C. A. Beemer, chairman for this division.

Club presidents to contact for further information are Mrs. Arthur Arnold, Waterford Branch of the National Farm and Garden Associations; Mrs. Fred Bohlman, Better Home and Garden Club; Mrs. Arthur Compton, Dirt Gardeners; and Mrs. S. G. Warwick.

Almost one-half the residents of Paris were born and reared within that city.

Flower, Garden Show Planned by Oxford Club

OXFORD—The Oxford Garden Club will hold its 21st Flower and Vegetable Show next week.

The colorful exhibit will be open from 3-10 p. m. Saturday, Aug. 27, and from noon to 9 p. m. Sunday, Aug. 28.

Deadline for entries is 11 a. m. Aug. 27. No entry charge is made, and anyone having flowers, fruit, vegetables or anything unusual in the horticultural line is invited to exhibit, club officials said.

In other years, hundreds of visitors from Oakland County and surrounding areas have visited the show. There is no admission charge for the two-day affair.

It's Lawn Building Time!

The best time of year to build a new lawn or repair an old one is late August through September. Fall seeding is best because the delicate new seedlings are less likely to be affected by extremes of hot and dry weather. Fall temperatures are ideal—warm days, cool nights. Fall rains are gentle, and there are usually heavy dews. Soil conditions are perfect for root penetration, and Fall is also a time when weeds are inactive.

High-Speed 'Memory' Now Used by Computer

CHICAGO—One of the new electronic computers has a high-speed magnetic-core memory which, its manufacturer says, can hold up to 120,000 characters of information and makes possible the execution of instructions at the rate of 8,000 a second.

The memory device is made up of thousands of tiny magnetic "beads," or cores, that store the instructions and information used by the computer.

UM Scientist Tells of A-Work at Geneva

GENEVA (AP) — Atomic scientists were told today that the University of Michigan is devising new methods of obtaining information about the sub-microscopic world of nature through radioactive tracers.

Prof. Henry J. Gomberg, assistant director of the university's Memorial Phoenix Project, told the international conference on the peaceful uses of atomic energy that University scientists are working on ways of pinpointing tracers after they have been incorporated into living or inorganic systems.

Professor Gomberg said fairly good methods of tracer measurement exist now, but, at least theoretically, there is room for 10,000-fold improvement.

Tracers are radioactive atoms of an element that temporarily behave in exactly the same manner as ordinary atoms. But when a tracer emits radiation and changes its internal structure, it can be detected.

A single tracer has the diameter of about one ten-thousandth of a micron, which is about 40 millionths of an inch.

'Bonanzagram'

Have Fun! Win $100!

"Bonanzagram" is an exciting new puzzle in which the Pontiac Press offers both fun and a $100 cash prize. BUT before you try your hand at "Bonanzagram" be sure and read the rules at the bottom of this page. Solution will appear in the Press Aug. 26.

CLAIM CHECK

Below is a duplicate of the "Bonanzagram" entry you send in to contest headquarters. It is ESSENTIAL that you fill it in and save it until the correct solution to "Bonanzagram" No. 24 is published Friday, Aug. 26. Unless you do so, you will be unable to collect the prize if you should send in a winning solution. Check the rules below for further details.

Bonanzagram No. 24

Story Clues

John C. and his bride of a year, nicknamed Ellie, decided on a motor trip for their first vacation. Their plans included a visit to Ellie's parents in Virginia. She was very excited about this, as she had not seen her family or friends since the wedding. So she and John set out in their battered, old convertible. The plan was that, after the visit, John's parents, who were also motoring, would join them for the home stretch. They were to meet on Thursday, the tenth, at the Cascades Motor Court, some miles from Ellie's old home. When the elder C's arrived, they found the meeting had been postponed for a day, because of some unexpected festivities. Ellie had stopped at the motel earlier in the week and left a characteristically hasty and chatty note to explain the situation. The motel proprietor was most apologetic; the note had blown off the desk and his spaniel puppy had chewed it, gouging out a number of the letters. Can you figure out, as the C's did, what the note says?

How to Play 'Bonanzagram'

Solve the "Bonanzagram" by filling in all the missing letters, as indicated by the underscores, in the message. Insert only one letter above each underscore. Many clues to the missing letters are hidden in the story, or anecdote, accompanying the message itself, and, in a few cases, the contestant's general knowledge should provide the correct letter. The contestant will note that the message is unpunctuated. Punctuation will help solve the message but is not necessary to win.

All missing letters must be correctly inserted to win a Bonzagram prize. Punctuation will not be considered in judging a correct answer.

When properly filled in, the "Bonanzagram" will spell out a clear message that will conform in every way with the clues. In many cases it will seem that more than one word would be the correct one. That's part of the fun! You should weigh the clues and select the BEST possible word in each case.

How to Submit

1. After solution is completed, "Bonanzagram" should be clipped and pasted to a two-cent postcard with your name and address.

2. Entries will be received at the Pontiac Press office, 48 W. Huron St., until 5 p.m. Tuesday, Aug. 23. Mail entries must be postmarked before midnight Tuesday, Aug. 23, for Bonanzagram No. 24. Address "Bonanzagram, %, Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

3. Entries may be mailed in envelope but contestant's full name and number of puzzle must be printed in upper left corner of address side of envelope.

4. Copies of the Press need not be purchased to enter. Facsimiles made by hand and corresponding as closely as possible to the original "Bonanzagram" printed in the Press will be accepted but are limited one to a family. Mimeograph, duplicator or other unofficial mechanical reproduction is forbidden.

How to Collect the Prize

The entrant must work out and keep duplicate solution as a claim check. When the solution is published in the Press, he should compare his "claim check" with the published solution, and if his claim check is identical, he should call in person with his claim check at the Press office, 48 W. Huron St., before 5 p.m. on the Monday following publication of the solution.

If a winner cannot call at the Press office in person he should mail his solution to "Bonanzagram Editor." This letter must reach the Press not later than 5 p.m. the Monday after publication of the answer. Correct answers are void unless the contestant reports his claim by the deadlines listed here.

About Eligibility, Information, Etc.

1. Anyone is eligible for the "Bonanzagram" contest except employes of the Press and members of their immediate families. (Immediate family means all those living in an employe's household.)

2. No question as to winners will be answered by phone.

3. The Press will award a prize of $100 to the winner of each weekly Bonanzagram. If more than one winning answer is received, the prize will be divided equally among the winners. If no correct solution is received, the $100 will be added to the next week's prize. If the winner is a subscriber of record to the Press a $20 bonus will be added to the $100.

4. Only one winning entry from a family will be eligible for the prize, but there is no limit on number of entries.

5. The Press retains the right to correct typographical errors.

6. Judges' decision will be final and contestant's submission of entries indicates acceptance of these rules.

7. No liability is accepted for entries that fail to reach us.

8. The Press reserves the right to alter rules and/or discontinue the contest at its discretion.

Here's What's on Tap for Meg's Birthday

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—Sunday is the day Princess Margaret will reach the merrie olde age of 25 and everybody is wondering whether—now that she 'as 'er 'ead—she will make an honest husband of Capt. Townsend.

The real romantics (you know how romantic newspaper publishers are) hope that she will, as Britain could use a bit of pick-up after this sticky summer.

The cynics, however, are saying it's unlikely, because it's a well known "skeptique" that love by long distance tends to shrivel considerably. Unless Shakespeare conceived it, of course. And in the case of Margaret and Peter, nobody except the romantic newspapers ever conceded it was love in the first place.

At the very least, there will be a lot of re-acquainting to be done between the couple before the Privy Council and both houses of Parliament are called upon to put in their two-shillings worth, and any dramatic announcement is made.

PREDICTIONS

It is my prediction, therefore, that on this anticipated "day of decision," the following events will take place:

(1) Approximately 90 per cent of the fathers of new baby British subjects (girls) will look at their wives and remark, "I say, let's call the little one 'Margaret Rose,' what?"

* * *

(2) Baby pictures of the princess will be ruthlessly reprinted.

(3) Also that shot of Meg sitting on a hillside with Townsend framed against the sky behind her.

(4) The Portland, Ore., rose growers will hold their regular meeting. Regardless.

(5) There will be no official announcement from Buckingham Palace except that it is Margaret's birthday. Within the royal family everybody will presumably wish the princess a happy birthday, except Princess Anne. She will possibly wish her a happy burfday.

CIGARS FOR WINNIE

(6) Winston Churchill will smoke cigars and drink brandy.

(7) Many American fathers will remark, "She won't get married to that guy. She's too young."

(8) Many American mothers will snap, "Nonsense!"

(9) Millions of unmarried women will wish they were 25 again.

(10) Teenagers will think the princess is a romantic figure, though quite old.

* * *

(11) It will probably be foggy in London.

(12) Cecil B. DeMille, Elia Kazan and Billy Rose will wish they have Margaret under contract while she's "hot." Somebody in Hollywood will dream of making a cinemascope of her "love story" with Townsend, starring Grace Kelly and Clark Gable, who else?

(13) Some people whose birthdays fall on Aug. 21 will mutter that they never had the breaks.

(14) U.S. disc jockeys will render "Margaret" and "Rose" songs. Like "I wandered Today Through the Hills, Maggie" and "Rose of Washington Square." British platter-plumpers will play "Britannia Rules the Waves" and other appropriate selections.

* * *

(15) Margaret's present and ex-suitors will stop what they're doing—be it reading, playing polo, inheriting money—and salute.

(16) Danny Kaye, Bob Hope and Eddie Fisher will tell friends, again, what a sweet girl the princess is. Elsa Maxwell will kick herself for not getting Margaret on her Greek glamor cruise.

Cabazon 'Santa Claus,' Mike Swan, Is Dead

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP)—The Santa Claus of Cabazon died yesterday at the age of 102, give or take a little.

No one knows for sure when Mike Swan was born, but friends think it was in January 1853 in Texas. He came to the desert town of Cabazon in 1939, soon became the community's holiday season Santa Claus, and began celebrating his birthday in December.

He had no survivors.

A new radio telescope in England is capable of tracking a pea sized meteor 600 miles away and measuring its position to a precision of one yard.

Italians Kept Busy With Snow Mining

* * *

It piles up on the shady side of black lava dikes above the 7,000-foot level of the 10,000-foot volcano, and lasts all summer.

* * *

In ancient Roman times straw-packed snow from Etna was shipped as far as parched Egypt, where it brought fabulous prices.

Now the Etna snow miners average seven 120-pound burlap bags of snow in a day's cartload, covered with fern leaves. They figure to lose 20 pounds per bag by melting on the tortuous way down. The snow sells for 10 lire (1½ cents) a pound.

* * *

But centuries ago the sun-soaked Sicilians ate it. Catania claims to be the birthplace of ice cream, which Sicilian emigrants carried to the rest of the world.

* * *

China Students Remain in U. S.

40 Chou Sympathizers Free to Return at Will at Any Time

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. officials said today there probably are about 40 Chinese former students still in this country who want to return to Communist China.

* * *

But they emphasized that, unlike the 41 Americans held in Red China, the students here are free to leave at any time they wish.

The student issue has been raised by Red China in ambassadorial negotiations at Geneva, where the United States is seeking freedom for Chinese-held Americans.

Officials said they have no exact records even on the number of students still here, much less on their reasons for not leaving. Although some of them once were under restrictions, all have been free to leave since April 8.

* * *

Officials say that past experience with the student groups suggests a number of explanations for their remaining: some may not be able to afford a passage back (a law which permitted U.S. payment of their fares expired June 30); some may still be working under contracts which still have some time to run; there may be health considerations in some cases.

* * *

The students are not under surveillance and are free to make their own living and departure arrangements. They, like other resident aliens, must check in periodically with the immigration service, but no central file is kept on their activities.

Bathtub Fall Injures Actress Lana Turner

Extent of the injury was not discovered until yesterday when Miss Turner was examined by Dr. Cameron B. Hall after complaining of pains in her back.

Miss Turner was scheduled to start work on a new film today but Dr. Hall ordered her to bed for at least two weeks.

The chemical warfare service was made a branch of the army in 1920.

Here's the Real Meaning of Child's I.Q.

Have those often-quoted but mysterious letters — IQ — got you confused?

* * *

In many schools today, parents aren't told their children's IQ, or intelligence quotient, because it often is misinterpreted or misunderstood. But if the IQ is not reported, it still is a subject of much parental discussion.

Intelligence — and even psychologists do not agree on a definition of this—is measured by a variety of specially constructed tests.

Great care is given to the selection of the questions and problems on the test. Then the items are given to a large number of children representative of the general population.

The average performance for a group of these children, say the eight-year-olds, then sets the norm for all 8-year-olds on the test.

Therefore, if an 8-year-old gets a score on a test equal to that of the average ten-year-old, he is said to have a mental age (MA) of 10. The IQ is then derived by using this mathematical formula: 10 (mental age) ——— times 100 equals IQ or 125 8 (chronological age)

The tests are constructed and the computations planned so that the average person has an IQ of 100—or a mental age equal to his chronological age. About two-thirds of the population falls between 85 and 115.

PERCENTIL SYSTEM

Another, and perhaps more satisfactory way, of expressing a person's IQ would be in percentiles. For example, using the Revised Stanford-Binet scale, the 8-year-old child described above equals or exceeds 94 per cent of the population in intelligence as measured on this particular test.

* * *

Generally there will be little variation in a person's performance or score on intelligence tests. If a child is given a test in the third grade and then retested in the sixth grade, he can be expected to come within five or six points of his first score.

But psychologists point out that there can be even greater differences—some as high as 16 points.

In one test, for example, a child may be emotionally disturbed or shy, or poor in reading. By the time the second test is given these obstacles may have been removed and the test scores will be higher.

Another reason for a disparity in scores is that two different types of tests may be given. On the Stanford-Binet test, a child needs an IQ of 102 to be in the 50 percentile.

But on the Terman group test, a score of 94 will put him in this group. Therefore, if test scores are reported, the name and type of test also should be made known.

The tests certainly are not foolproof, says Wallace Gobetz, director of the Testing and Advisement Center at New York University. But they generally do give a fairly stable indication of a person's capacity.

INFANT TESTS

"The parent has a right to know about his child's IQ," Gobetz says, "provided he can accept it, whatever it is. An overemphasis on the IQ may make the test a contest, which it should not be.

"Results should be presented by a trained psychiogist or counselor. And the results should be given only in relation to the entire background of the child."

As far as pre-school tests and infant tests are concerned, Gobetz says the parent should not place too much stock in them "Studies indicate that tests given when a child is two, three or even four have very little relation to future performance."

Reporter Will Go to Any Extreme to Get a Story

Take Air Force Sgt. William J. (Sandy) Colton, reporter for the Pacific Stars and Stripes.

Colton, 29, of Johnstown, N.Y., strode into a Tokyo barber shop. He waved a newspaper and demanded, "Who wants to beat this guy's record?"

Suzuki questioned the accuracy of the watch used to time Bochett. "I just don't think it is possible to shave a man in 17 seconds," he said.

"Whether it is or not," Colton said, passing a perspiring palm over his uncut but stinging face, "no one is using this pan ever again for a record try."

Turncoat Says Army Lacks Jurisdiction

SAN FRANCISCO, (AP)—A writ of habeaus corpus will be filed for Otho G. Bell, 27, one of three turncoats who changed their minds and returned from Communist China, Bell's attorney said yesterday.

Atty. Robert E. Hannon said he will contend that the Army lacks jurisdiction over Bell, who was dishonorably discharged when he refused to be repatriated from a North Korean prison camp. Hannon will argue that the case should be tried in a civil court.

* * *

Bell is charged by the army with misconduct as a prisoner of war, aiding the enemy, conspiring to solicit a desertion and soliciting a desertion. He is held at Ft. Baker along with his two codefendants, William C. Cowart, 22, Monticello, Ark., and Lewis W. Griggs, 22, Jacksonville, Tex.

Cobo Won't Show Hand in Gubernatorial Race

KALAMAZOO (AP)—Detroit's Mayor Albert E. Cobo still is keeping mum about any aspirations he may have to be governor.

Cobo spoke at a Kiwanis Club meeting here Wednesday and political observers had thought he might tip his political hand on the out-of-town visit.

British Farmers Can't Remember a Better Harvest

LONDON (AP)—British farmers have begun reaping one of the best harvests in living memory.

Secondly, myxomtosis, a pest disease, has killed off tens of thousands of rabbits which in past years have destroyed and damaged thousands of dollars worth of crops.

* * *

And then there's the increased efficiency of the formerly tradition-bound British farmer. During and after World War II, he opened his arms and farms to mechanization.

Harvesting has started in earnest in the northern counties and is rapidly spreading southward.

Hose Slip After Brief Lead, Yanks Stay on Top

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

No matter who wins the pennant, it begins to look like the American League champion is going to be a reluctant ruler of the roost. The four contenders stay within reach of first place, but they always manage to blow a chance to take command.

Boston started it, dropping the final game of a three-game set at New York after splitting the first two. Then Cleveland dissipated a two-game lead of last weekend by losing three in a row.

Next, the Yankees, who looked like they were rolling, misfired after winning seven straight and, though still on top, settled for a slim one-game edge.

Chicago choked up yesterday, dropping the second game of a doubleheader with sixth-place Kansas City 5-3 after slipping ahead of the Yanks, who were rained out at Boston, with a 6-2 victory in the first game.

Cleveland, meanwhile, climbed back to within a game of first place, and within three percentage points of the White Sox, by ending its slump with a 5-3 decision over Detroit.

The White Sox got two unearned runs for an early lead in the nightcap, but still couldn't get home safe. Vic Power smashed a two-run homer in the sixth off loser Harry Byrd to tie it. And after Sherm Lollar homered the Sox back into the lead, 3-2, in the bottom half of the frame, Byrd collapsed in the seventh.

* * *

Bill Renna doubled, Joe DeMaestri tripled and Wilbur Shantz singled for two runs and the A's had it. Arnie Portocarrero checked the Sox on six hits, but walked four, leaving 10 runners stranded.

Virgil Trucks won the opener, his 12th, although forced out when hit by a line drive in the sixth. The Sox picked it up as the winning run scored on three singles in the fifth and Minnie Minoso smacked a two-run double in the seventh.

Cleveland waltzed in as two Tiger errors led the way to a five-run eighth. That broke up a 1-1 duel between rookies Frank Lary and Herb Score, the Indians' southpaw smash who fanned 13.

In the National League, Brooklyn broke out of its "slump" to score three runs on five hits while pasting Jim Hearn in the first inning and rumbled on to an 8-5 decision over the New York Giants. Jim Bessent won in relief as the Giants ousted Karl Spooner with two in the third and two in the fourth.

* * *

Cincinnati moved back into fifth place, displacing Chicago with a 2-1 victory over the Cubs. Four singles after two were out in the sixth scored the Redleg runs off loser Paul Minner. Art Fowler gave six hits for the triumph.

Home runs by Bill Bruton and Chuck Tanner gave Milwaukee a 5-3 victory over St. Louis in the only night game. Warren Spahn notched his second victory in four nights and the 40th of his career over the Cards. Larry Jackson was charged with his 11th defeat.

INDIAN SAFE—Al Smith, Indians' 3rd baseman, is safe at 1st base in the 5th inning of yesterday's game on a pickoff attempt by Tiger 1st baseman Jack Phillips. Play was started when Bobby Avila, Indians' infielder, let one go by and catcher Red Wilson whipped the ball down to Phillips for a close play.

American Legion's 18th District Baseball League season has concluded with the 2nd half crown awarded to Huron Valley Boys Club.

Boys Club won the title in a somewhat unusual way with the weather playing a prominent role. Boys Club walked off with the pennant by virtue of a 2-2 tie with Birmingham, leaving the latter a half game shy of 1st place.

Because of vacation conflicts, district chairman Al Voss ruled that no postponed games would be played after the last date of the regular schedule. Several contests were washed out and not one of the league's six teams managed to complete the 19-game card.

Winning Boys Club nine played just six games as did Berkley. Runner-up Birmingham and Waterford completed seven tilts, while Rochester and Clawson fared the best with eight.

Rain, therefore, actually aided the youngsters out Milford way in their quest for the 2nd half flag. Waterford, 1st round champion and the league's representative in the state tournament at Flint, finished 3rd, a full game behind Birmingham. Berkley wound up in 4th place with Rochester and Clawson sharing the basement.

Roseville Wins Close Ones for District Title

Dumps Drugs 2 Times in Softball Playoffs at Beaudette

Roseville racked up a pair of one-run victories over Drayton Drug, 6-5 in eight innings and 5-4, to win the men's Class C District 6 softball tournament Thursday night at Beaudette Park.

Roseville clearly demonstrated that it was a "clutch" team. The Drug nine had shut out the new champion, 3-0, in the double-elimination tourney Wednesday, making last night a "must" for Roseville. And the winner proved equal to the occasion.

Both losses were heartbreakers for the Drayton team. The Druggists overcame 3-0 and 5-3 deficits in the opener to force the tilt into extra innings. Then, in the top of the 8th, Gary Boe fell victim to a triple and single that enabled Roseville to survive another round. That was the only break Roseville needed.

Druggists blew a 4-1 lead in the nightcap to lose, 5-4. Gary Boe was again the victim of Roseville's fireworks, this time a four-run outburst in the 5th providing the margin of victory. A hit batsman, walk, and three singles, plus an outfield error, gave Roseville the district title.

Gingellville upset Avondale, 19-16, in a wild, nine-inning slugfest at North Side to reach the finals of the girls' Class C playoffs. Louise Dalzo and Shirley Grusnick hit home runs for Avondale in a losing cause. Avondale outhit the winners, 15 to 9, and both teams committed nine errors.

Gingellville, girls' league tailender, faces General Motors tonight at North Side in the "C" finals. Game time is 8:30 p.m.

Waterford Lions, GM Bow in 'B' Games at Drayton

Roseville defeated the Waterford Lions, 3-1, in a 12-inning pitchers' battle between Citrone and the Lions' Harlan (Fat) Keith. Three straight singles in the top of the 12th produced two runs and handed Roseville its margin of victory. "Peanuts" Long stole home for the Lions' lone run in the 1st frame and Roseville tied the score in the 3rd. Both pitchers allowed six hits.

Pontiac's entry in the "B" tourney, General Motors, ran into a snag against Mt. Clemens and wound up on the short end of a 7-4 score. Mt. Clemens bunched three runs in the 3rd and four in the 5th to wrap it up. Strong blasted a two-run homer in the 5th for the winners. Doug Hall and Lynus Grant hurled for GMC, Grant taking the loss.

Highland Park faces Roseville and Southfield meets Mt. Clemens as the "B" tourney continues at Drayton ball park tonight. First game starts at 7:30 p.m.

Phil Rodgers Takes 3 Stroke Lead in Play of National Test

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP) — Sixteen-year-old Phil Rodgers of San Diego, Calif., held a three-stroke lead today as International Jaycee Junior Golf play moved past the midway mark.

* * *

Rodgers had a 34-36—70 yesterday over the par-72 Columbus Country Club course. His first round score was 66.

Sam Carmichael of Martinsville, Ind., first-round leader with a 65, carded a 40-34—74 in dropping to second place.

Jack Rule of Waterloo, Iowa, was in the third spot with 70-71—141. In a three-way tie for fourth were Frank Eldridge of Valdosta, Ga., medalist Dick Foote of Santa Ana, Calif., and Deane Beman of Bethesda, Md. all had 142.

* * *

Walker Makes Final Home Appearance in Lions' Exhibition

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Some 50,000 fans will turn out tonight to see Doak Walker in his football swan song and also to watch a couple of good professional teams rip up the sod of the Cotton Bowl.

* * *

Walker, in his final appearance before the home folks in the stadium where he has drawn more than 1,000,000 in 19 appearances, will spearhead the Detroit Lions against the Philadelphia Eagles in what should be a touchdown flood.

A duel on the ground between Walker and another former Southern Methodist University grid star, Jerry Norton, will highlight the occasion. Two other ex-Southwest Conference greats, Bobby Layne of Texas and Adrian Burk of Baylor, quarterbacks of the Lions and Eagles respectively, may overshadow the Walker-Norton struggle with a whirlwind passing duel.

* * *

Walker, only Southwest conference player ever to make All-America three times, has announced that this is his final season in football. That means his appearance in tonight's exhibition will be the last in the Southwest. He will play with Detroit in the National Football League but all his other games will be in the East.

Layne has a sore arm but said he would be able to go the route.

Pontiac 9's Bow in State Finals

Griff's Grill and Boys Club scored first in the Michigan Recreation Association's state junior baseball tournament finals here Thursday. But their opponents, Port Huron and Livonia, scored most.

Griff's club, boasting an undefeated record, collapsed defensively behind pitcher Jim Jones at Columbia-Joslyn's south diamond yesterday and the fielding lapses handed Port Huron the Class D state championship. The score was 3-1.

Griff's tallied its lone run in the 1st inning, then succumbed to Dick Turner's three-hit hurling. Turner recorded 10 strikeouts.

Jones, who also pitched a three-hitter, breezed along until the 5th when Port Huron crossed the plate three times on only one hit, two walks, a wild pitch, and three fatal errors. It was Griff's only loss of the season—but it was the "big one."

Boys Club likewise scored its lone run in the 1st inning at C-J's north field. Then Livonia reached Jerry Orr for two runs in the 2nd, one in the 3rd, and another in the 5th for a 4-1 decision. Victory gave Livonia the Class E state title.

Chisox Excursion to AL Top Lasts Little Under 3 Hours

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago White Sox and the New York Yankees bounced around on the American League baseball peak for a spell yesterday but today the Bronx Bombers are on top by five percentage points.

A 6-2 triumph over Kansas City in the first game at Comiskey Park put the White Sox in first place by .0002 of a point, which is cutting it about as thin as you can. The Yanks' game at Boston was rained out.

Two hours and 47 minutes after the Sox took over first place they succumbed to the Athletics in the nightcap, 5-3, and slipped back into second place.

* * *

Manager Martin Marion has chosen lefty Billy Pierce (9-8) to oppose Steve Gromek (11-7). The Sox have beaten Detroit 9 of 16 games, but only 3 at Comiskey Park.

Marion got good news yesterday when Dick Donovan, after pitching batting practice for the second time since his appendectomy, told Marion he's ready to take the mound.

* * *

"This really is good news," said Marion with a grin. "Keegan (Bob) comes back to us tomorrow. He'll pitch tomorrow against Detroit. We're all hoping Dick and Bob will pitch like they have in the past."

Counting yesterday's two games with the Athletics, the White Sox' 7-day schedule called for 10 games. Asked if the heavy program worried him, Marion replied:

"Four of those games come in two days against Baltimore. They'll have to dig up four pitchers, too, won't they?"

Of the remaining 39 Sox games, only 14 are against first division rivals. Four each remain with New York and Boston and six with Cleveland. Fourteen of the 20 games left on the Chicago home schedule are against second division opponents.

Dennison, Talbot Named in Suit

Race Body Claims Pair Diverted Funds to Own Use, Seeks $68,710

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—An Ohio harness race association filed a suit in federal court here yesterday in which it charged two of its stockholders with diverting $68,000 of the track's money to their own use.

The suit was filed by the Columbus Trotting Assn., of Hilliards, Ohio.

It named as defendants Russell G. Talbot of the Talbot Co., investment broker; the Talbot Co., and Harold B. Dennison of Yacht Harbor, Ont., and Miami, Fla.

"I deny them all, categorically and individually," Talbot said.

Dennison, a former director of the association, issued an "emphatic denial" of the allegations. He identified himself as a co-partner in the Northville, Mich., harness track near Detroit.

The suit said Dennison and Talbot and other unidentified persons promoted the association before its incorporation Sept. 16, 1949.

The complaint alleged that Dennison, Talbot and other promoters represented to the corporation that assets of the track partnership had a value of $93,000.

The association seeks $68,710.26 from the defendants.

More Records Fall During Skish Tourney

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Competition in five skish events begins today, the third day of the annual National Fly Casting Tournament, with Jon Tarantino of San Francisco putting his championship of the past two years on the line.

Tarantino also is defending champion in the regular casting contests. He set one of three new records yesterday but has failed to gain a first place since his opening day victory in the trout fly distance event.

* * *

Richard Ward of Washington set the other two marks with a single long cast of 386 feet and an average of 368 feet in the ⅜-ounce event. Ward took first place in that event.

Tarantino's record was for a long cast in the ⅜-ounce event, 453 feet, but his other two casts were far short, giving him a 416⅓ foot average and third place. Bill Lovely of St. Louis won the event with a 427 2-3 average.

Pontiac Team Wins 1st District Test

Stadium Inn passed its 1st round test Thursday night in the Class A district softball tourney at Highland Park with a 10-3 victory over Roseville. Stadium meets Highland Park tonight at 9 o'clock.

Pontiac team clinched last night's triumph with five runs in the 1st inning on four hits, including a home run by Glenn Wilson. Stadium garnered 15 hits in all off Roseville's Witken. Ed Miller hurled 5-hit ball for the winners.

Directors of KC School Satisfied With Results

Upwards of 160 boys, ages 16-23, came from far and near to find out if their diamond abilities were "big league" in potential. If the pattern runs true to form, nearly all are doomed to disappointment.

Wednesday's session was the most unproductive of the three days, because many hopefuls were cut from the squad while numerous others failed to return. Candidates numbered 110 Monday with the figure swelling to 135 the following day. But only 25 prospects were present Wednesday, a few for the 1st time.

Joe O'Rourke, Kansas City scout in charge of the camp, broke up the final workouts early, dismissing the boys at 1 p.m. An intra-squad game, designed to give every boy a chance for action, dominated activity, but the presence of just three pitchers made extended play impossible.

Both O'Rourke and aide Herb Strunk of Berkley, A's area scout, expressed satisfaction with the camp's results, but hinted that the Athletics may discontinue them due to honest doubts concerning their player productivity.

As examples, O'Rourke pointed out that Kansas City has held 32 trial camps this summer, attracting approximately 3,500 boys. Only nine boys have been signed. O'Rourke said, Pontiac camp was the A's 3rd largest of the year, according to Strunk.

Kansas City was the 2nd major league club to hold a camp here this summer. The A's were preceded by the Baltimore Orioles' trials at Wisner July 6-7.

1st Inning Blast Puts Nicholie 9 Out of Series

Barkeley Drives in 3 With Home Run to Pace Opening Barrage

General Motors advanced to the championship finals in the Class A City Baseball League playoffs with an easy 8-3 victory over Don Nicholie Real Estate Thursday night at Wisner Field.

GMC, once-beaten in the post-season, double-elimination tournament, faces the Anderson Jets at Wisner tonight in a "do or die" effort. A GMC win will prolong the results until Monday. Game time tonight is 5:30 p.m.

Coachers, rebounding after Wednesday's setback at the hands of the Jets, assaulted starter Dick Lewis with a four-run, four-hit barrage in the 1st inning to assure the Realty club's elimination from the tourney.

Bob Fell and Les Stone opened the meaty inning with singles. Fell romped home on Terry Thomas' double, but Stone was thrown out at 3rd. Wes Roberts walked and chased Thomas across the plate as Al Barkeley slammed a home run.

Coachers tallied twice in the 3rd stanza, sending Lewis to the showers and bringing Albie Roman on the scene. Roman departed after five frames in favor of Dick Womack, who was promptly tagged for a pair of runs in the 6th. The Coachers collected a dozen hits all told, Thomas leading the way with three. Fell, Stone, Barkeley, and Ernie Zubalik notched two apiece.

Dick Goldsworthy worked the distance for the Coach Club and limited Don Nicholie to three safeties, all singles. The GMC right-hander struck out six batters while walking four. One enemy run was unearned.

Western Youngsters Meet for U. S. Title

Each registered a 2 and 1 victory in yesterday's semifinals. Carole Jo, whose awkward-appearing swing belies the strength of her game, eliminated Betsy Cullen of Tulsa, Okla., and Joanne prevailed over Anne Quast of Everett, Wash.

Record Seeker

Palmer, New Pro Recruit, Takes Lead in Canadian Open, With Hot 131 Card

TORONTO (AP) — Arnold Palmer, a recruit to golf's money ranks, is heading towards an all-time low score in the Canadian Open championship. Right now, he's making a mess of par figures.

* * *

Palmer, 1954 U.S. Amateur champion from Latrobe, Pa., headed 102 golfers into the second half of the 72-hole tournament today with a 13-under-par 131 built on rounds of 64 and 67. At the rate he's going the 268 mark set by South Africa's Bobby Locke in 1947 is well within his reach.

Palmer's rounds were good enough to send him into a two-stroke lead over Jackie Burke Jr., of Kiamesha Lake, N.Y., who put together a 67 and a 66 for a 133. Charlie Stifford, the first-day leader with a record-equalling 63 for any one round in the 46-year history of the open, blew sky high to a 74 over the 6,428-yard par-72 Weston Club course.

* * *

The Philadelphia Negro was two under par after three holes but the pressure was too much for him. He fluffed easy putts, scrambled to hit even-par figures in the first nine and went two over coming home.

Thursday's best score was a 65 by Dave Douglas of Newark, Del., who won the open two years ago. Edmonton's Henry Martell and Bo Wininger of Oklahoma City, Okla., each posted 66s. Martell now has 137 after his first-round 71 and Wininger, who shot an opening round 73, has 139.

* * *

Stan Leonard of Vancouver who started the second round in third place with a 66, made a fine recovery after a disastrous tee shot on the first hole for a 69. This gave him a 135, just one stroke behind Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn., and Jerry Barber of Los Angeles, Calif.

Leonard now is tied with Douglas, one stroke up on Mike Fetchick, Lake Mahopac, N.Y.; Mike Souchak, Grossinger, N.Y., and Art Wall Jr., Pocono Manor, Pa.

Dodgers' Future May Hinge on Today's Confab Between O'Malley and Brooklyn's Mayor Wagner

NEW YORK (AP)—President Walter O'Malley of the Brooklyn Dodgers and Mayor Robert Wagner went into a high level conference today and on the results could hinge the future fate of the Brooks.

The Dodgers are going to play seven home games in Jersey City next season and that announcement whipped city officials into action. They know O'Malley means business in his efforts to have a new field built for the Dodgers that has adequate parking facilities.

Before entering the mayor's chambers, O'Malley stoked more fuel on the fire by revealing that Ebbets Field would be sold at the end of the 1957 season.

* * *

"That means," he said, "we'll play 77 home games somewhere in Brooklyn if things move fast enough."

O'Malley vetoed the idea that the city float a municipal bond issue to build a new stadium as has been done in Cleveland, Baltimore and Kansas City.

"That's out," he said emphatically. "I wouldn't want to have baseball tied up with politics in any way. All I ask of the city fathers is their help in condemning city property."

* * *

O'Malley has the site of the proposed new park all picked out. It is in downtown Brooklyn on the site of the present Long Island railroad station. The Brooklyn official family thinks it can be done. Others aren't so sure.

"The city cannot condemn property for the Dodgers. The courts have decided time and again that professional baseball is not in the public interest."

* * *

Meanwhile, both Jersey City, across the Hudson River, and the neighboring borough of Queens, invited the Brooks to resettle.

"If Brooklyn gets a new stadium, we should, too," said Giants' President Horace Stoneham. "We could certainly use one. But instead of helping us, everything the civic fathers have done in recent years has hurt us."

Columbia Plans Film Career for Moore

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Columbia Studios has announced that Archie Moore has agreed to a film career regardless of the outcome of the heavyweight championship fight with Rocky Marciano.

The studio said producer Philip Yordan contacted Moore after reading of his hopes for a show business career and that Moore wired he was interested.

The studio said Moore will most likely make his debut in the Humphrey Bogart movie, "The Harder They Fall," a screen adaptation of Budd Shulberg's boxing expose.

Tribe Trips Tigers, Kaline Gets Lesson

CHICAGO (AP)— Al Kaline undoubtedly is a much wiser young man as the Detroit Tigers invade Comiskey Park tonight to open a four-game series against the lead-seeking Chicago White Sox.

It is a "must" series for the Sox, who are taking aim at their first American League pennant since 1919.

For the Tigers — whose pennant hopes have long since faded — it is another chance to play havoc with the standings.

Steve Gromek (11-7) will go against Chicago's Billy Pierce (9-8).

But getting back to Kaline, the brilliant 20-year-old flychaser was taught a lesson in how to hustle by Cleveland's Larry Doby, who embarrassed him in the Indian's 5-3 victory over the Tigers.

The situation was this:

The teams went into the 8th inning, locked in a 1-1 tie. An error by pitcher Frank Lary permitted Vic Wertz to go safe at 1st. When Kaline bobbled Doby's single for an error, pinch-runner Jim Hegan buzzed to 3rd.

But Kaline's bobble was mechanical; what he did next was not. And it hurt the Tigers.

Kaline, seemingly mad at himself for putting the tie-breaking run on 3rd with his error, loafed on Fain's fly, taking his time in returning the ball to the infield.

Doby, seizing the opportunity, stormed into 2nd after the catch, and set up another run at Kaline's expense. Minutes later Doby came in on Hal Naragon's single to center, and Kaline hung his head in right field.

Detroit threatened in the 9th, scoring twice on a pair of walks, Frank House's double and an infield out. But the damage was done in the 8th inning.

Manager Bucky Harris tried to foil Cleveland by using nine right-handed batters against Score. But the Indians' rookie southpaw fanned 13 batters, getting three of Bucky's replacements seven times.

Heavy Firing Begins

5,000 Marksmen Toe Lines for Try at Grand American, NRA Top Titles

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Five thousand marksmen blast off at clay and canvas targets today with shotguns, rifles and pistols in two of the biggest national gun meets held.

One, the Grand American Trapshoot at Vandalia, will attract about 2,000 shotgun enthusiasts from every state, Canada, Mexico, Cuba, the Canal Zone and elsewhere. The National Rifle matches at Camp Perry will have a field of about 3,000 from every state and every foreign station where U.S. military forces serve. Each branch of service will be represented.

* * *

The trapshoot runs through Aug. 27. More than 1½ million targets and an equal number of 12-guage shot shells will be used. The first three days are for practice with championship events starting Monday.

Trapshoot winners will share in about a half-million dollars in prizes, with the amateurs getting the cash and the professionals receiving trophies, a turnabout from usual procedure.

Trapshooters face entry fees of $820 if they go the route of regular and optional firing. Then, too, there's ammunition and traveling expenses.

At the National Rifle matches, however, there are no entry fees or cash awards. Ammunition, even for practice rounds, is free if the contestant uses an Army-issue rifle.

The camp Perry affair, which runs through Sept. 10, is sponsored by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice. The armed forces and National Rifle Assn. will provide marksmanship instruction.

There'll be ball-and-patch weapons and some flintlocks used in ancient arms events, including stake-cutting and balloon-bursting matches.

Marksmen from the South and North, reminiscent of Civil War days, will fire for score to see which side shoots the fastest and straightest.

All-Day Activities Planned for PKC's Annual Show

Annual all-breed dog show and obedience trial, sponsored by the Pontiac Kennel Club and licensed by the AKC, will be held Sunday at Wisner Stadium. This year's show, boasting a record entry of 559 dogs, starts at 9 a. m.

Climax of the unbenched show will be the presentation of the event's top award, the Pontiac Press "best-in-show" trophy.

Outstanding breeds will be present from all over the United States. Particular interest has been shown in poodle, Dane, Pinscher and boxer classes as well as sporting dogs, according to E. A. Kraft, member of the show committee.

Standard poodles will be judged at 12 noon, miniature poodles at 2 p. m. Great Danes, always popular, will be judged at 11 a. m., while boxers, show favorites for many, are scheduled for 9 a. m. Doberman Pinschers will be viewed at 11:30 a. m. Another favorite, the German Shepherd, is slated for adjudication at 11 a. m.

In the sporting dog class, one of the largest in the show, bloodhounds and pointers are scheduled at 9 a. m. Gordon setters will be viewed at 11 a. m and Irish setters at 1 p. m., along with Brittany Spaniels. Beagles, a popular class, will be judged at 12 noon.

Obedience trials, highlight of the show to some, will run throughout the day.

Junior showmanship competition for boys and girls from 8 to 16 years of age will begin at 2 p. m. Variety groups, such as toys and terriers, will be seen at 3:30 p. m.

CHAMPIONS—A pair of champions pose with the tools of their sport. Leonard Skaggs (left) 38 North Jessie, and Walter Cook, Keego Harbor, Wednesday night won the city doubles horseshoe title. First of the week Cook won the singles crown. They have held the doubles title for several years. Trophies were presented by the Recreation Department, sponsor for the annual event.

Cook, Skaggs Win City 'Shoe' Titles

Walter Cook, 2373 Hester Ct., Keego Harbor, is Pontiac's new horseshoe pitching champion. Cook defeated L. Bartley in the finals of the city horseshoe tournament at Oakland Park.

Cook had to go three games to subdue his opponent. He dropped the 1st match, 22-26, then took two straight, 28-8 and 26-17. Cook's victory entitled him to represent Pontiac in the state "shoe" tourney at Michigan State Fair in September.

In the doubles tournament Cook teamed up with Leonard Skaggs to carry off the honors. The Cook-Skaggs team came from behind to down the Bartley twins, 22-25, 27-12, 25-10. They have held the title for four years.

Crocker Heads Field in White Mountain Test

BETHLEHEM, N.H., (AP) — National Women's Open champion Faye Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay heads a field of top PGA performers today as the first annual $5,000 White Mountain Women's Open gets underway.

The White Mountain event runs three days as a 54-hole medal play affair to be played in 18-hole segments at three different courses in the area.

In putting come up to the ball from the back and line up your putt with the hole. Then concentrate on making your ball travel the first six inches along that line. Be sure that your putter blade is flat on the grass and at the right angle to the line of roll. Hit the

I like to have both toes even on a line parallel with that which I want the ball to travel. Hold your hands in close to your body and putt the ball almost off the left foot keeping the putter blade low to the ground.

Have the blade stay squarely across the line as long as you comfortably can in your backswing. In the putt I use less wrist than formerly and favor a more general arm movement. The body is held motionless and the knees are relaxed but without looseness. There is no one style of putting. Many fine putters employ other methods.

Old-Timers Oppose Canadians Saturday

Manager Bud Leslie of the Pontiac Old-Timers baseball club today said his team will engage the Stratford, Ont., club on Saturday. Game is set for Stratford, at 5:45 p.m. Old-Timers are asked to meet at the VFW hall, Saginaw street, promptly at 12 o'clock noon to make the trip.

Miceli Is Loser to Don Jordan

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Don Jordan, Los Angeles, 143½, scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Joe Miceli, New York, 147½, in the non-televised bout at the Olympic Auditorium Thursday night.

Referee Tommy Hart scored it 57½-52½, Judge Lee Grossman 56½-53½ and Judge Reggie Gillmore had it 58½-51½.

There were no knockdowns. The fight was marred somewhat by Miceli's clinching. Jordan landed the hardest punch of the night in round six when a sharp right cross made Miceli's knees buckle.

In the televised 10-rounder, Woody Winslow of Oakland, 151, scored a sharp upset by stopping Ramon Tiscareno, Los Angeles, 146½, in the third round.

When California travels to Pitt on Sept. 17 it will mark the 1st meeting of these football teams.

'Final Exams' Near at Hand for State's 'Educated' Fish

The fish—70,000 brook and rainbow trout—were planted in trout lakes and streams last fall. Fingerlings then, they had just completed a course in how to live to a scaly old age.

Their instructors, three psychologists hired by the conservation department, have high hopes for them. If they do well in their tests, it means a better life for future generations of fish and men.

Toward the end of the summer, these learned trout will be large enough to have an interest in man-made flies. But if the experiment proves successful, they will scorn such dangerous bait in favor of natural food.

Does the idea of educating fish sound fantastic? Well, these fish have actually been "uneducated," which in a sense makes them more educated than ever.

"These fish have been called educated. That's true if you look at it one way. More accurately, they have been "uneducated" or untrained.

"Fish reared in hatcheries develop conditioned reflexes. When a hatchery worker dumps food into the water, the fish sees his shadow and swims for it. Whenever something hits the surface of the water, they jump at it.

"We've tried to cure them of these habits with our experiments. This has been done by electrically shocking the fish when they jump for surface food or for shadows. They learned to feed instead from the bottom of the pools where food occurs in natural waters."

Home Free Victor in M & M Contest

DETROIT (AP) — Home Free, stablemate of Hambletonian winner Scott Frost, staged a desperate comeback last night to win the $15,000 added Merchants and Manufacturers Trot at Wolverine Raceway.

The race, richest in Michigan standardbred racing history, was forced into four heats—unprecedented in this state—when different horses won each of the first three dashes.

Lord Victory and Mr. Shelt won the first two dashes, each in 2:05. Home Free captured the third by a nose in the same time.

Openings for Bowlers

Openings for bowlers are available with the Ins-and-Outers, a mixed league. The league will bowl at Motor Inn every Saturday at 8 p.m. It will hold a meeting in the near future to establish a starting date. Keglers interested in joining the Ins-and-Outers should call either FEderal 2-3620 or FEderal 5-1536.

Nashua is the fourth horse in recent years to win both Hialeah's Flamingo and the Preakness.

'Crazylegs' Anxious to Return to Rams

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Elroy "Crazylegs" Hirsch, who is sorely needed by the Los Angeles Rams, says he wants to return to the pro football team for his 7th season.

Pioneers Meet Monday

New bowlers seeking spots in the league are invited to attend. Plans for the coming season will be discussed.

Balanced
Everything it takes to be "TOPS"

STANDARD GASOLINES
. . . balanced for top power, economy, and all 'round performance . . . and raised to the Highest Octane levels in our history
Most modern motor cars call for higher octane gasolines, and Standard Gasolines, raised to the highest octane ratings in our sixty-six year history, have ample octane to meet the most exacting requirements of modern high compression engines—and older engines too. But octane alone . . . important as it is for anti-knock performance . . . is not enough. Good gasolines must be balanced too—and both STANDARD WHITE CROWN and RED CROWN Gasolines are balanced to give you controlled volatility—the right gasoline for the right season; prevent vapor lock in hot summer weather; and give you all 'round smooth, efficient, economical performance.
Stop at Standard today and drive away convinced that you have found the right gasoline for your car.

Are all gasolines pretty much the same?
NO, THEY'RE NOT. Standard's research brings you the best in gasolines. And we guard their quality from refinery to your car through exclusive terminals, lake tankers, river barges, pipelines, tank cars and trucks. No gasolines arrive at or go out of our terminals but Standard Gasolines. That's why they are distinctly different!

Under Water Scale for Deep Sea Diets

CHICAGO — A device called a "densitometer" is used in medical studies to weigh persons under water to determine the proportion of body fat to total weight.

Fat tissue is lighter than water; bone and muscle are heavier. The person being weighed gets oxygen so that the original air in his lungs can be weighed after being expelled into a special container.

He sits in a seat suspended from a scale, somewhat like those used by carnival weight guessers, that is lowered into the water.

Corn, Soybeans Spiral Upward

CHICAGO (AP)—A strong buying movement based on hot, dry weather in the midwest sent corn and soybean prices spiraling upward on the Board of Trade today. Other cereals followed the two leaders, although not making as large gains.

Buying orders were present in large numbers in soybeans and corn at the opening gong. In active dealings corn jumped for gains extending to more than two cents and soybeans for gains extending to more than three cents. Best gains were not held but both cereals continued strong.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ½ to ⅞ higher, September $1.92¼; corn 1¾ to 2 cents higher, September $1.26⅞; oats ⅜ to ½ higher, September 57; rye ¾ to 1 cent higher, September 95½; soybeans 1¾ to 2½ higher, September $2.22½, and lard 3 to 10 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $10.97.

Telephone Employe Marks 40th Year

Mrs. Eva Dyer will celebrate her 40th anniversary as a telephone company employe at a two-hour open house at the Pontiac office of the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. Monday afternoon.

More than 300 persons, including Mrs. Dyer's former departmental bosses and top Bell officials, are expected to attend the affair from 2 to 4 p.m. in the traffic department lounge.

Mrs. Dyer, currently a district traffic assistant, first joined the Bell organization in Canada and came to the Pontiac office in 1921. She was chief operator from 1929 through 1943, when she transferred to the district staff.

Paper Sets Output of Vehicles 168,804

DETROIT (AP)—The trade paper Automotive News said today that motor vehicle output this week will come to 145,694 cars and 23,110 trucks.

* * *

Last week 149,199 cars and 23,437 trucks were built.

The paper added: "With Lincoln returning to production after an eight week layoff due to changeovers to 1956 models and Ford and General Motors moving along at near-record levels, the industry is expected to produce in the neighborhood of 640,000 cars during August.

"If schedules are attained, August output would be the second highest on record for that month."

* * *

New National Food Chain Is Planned

DETROIT (AP) — Plans for the formation of a nationwide 180-million-dollar food merchandising combine were announced today by Wrigley Stores, Inc., which operates 60 supermarkets in the Detroit area.

Wrigley recently merged with ACF-Brill Motors, Inc., which bought half interest in the supermarket chain. ACF-Brill manufactured buses until 1954 and since has engaged chiefly in government defense work.

John E. Lurie, Wrigley president, said the merged firm will be known as ACF-Wrigley's, Inc. as soon as securities and exchange commission approval can be secured.

Man Waives Examination

Charged with a third offense of drunk and disorderly, Julian McCoy, 39, of 136 N. Johnson Ave., waived examination when he was arraigned in Municipal Court here yesterday.

He was being held under $500 bond pending arraignment in Oakland County Circuit Court. McCoy appeared before Judge Cecil McCallum.

Stock Market Mostly Higher

Gains weren't extensive, although they outnumbered losers two-to-one. Prices ranged a point higher to a point lower.

Trading started briskly, and then it simmered down to a slow pace. That has been the experience in recent sessions.

Trading in the new telephone rights to buy the new 3⅞ per cent debentures traded heavily today at 3 and 3 1-32. The opening trade was a block of 100,000 rights at 3.

Among higher stocks were Douglas Aircraft, RCA, Kennecott Copper, Monsanto Chemical (opening on 4,100 shares up ⅜ at 44), Westinghouse Electric, Pennsylvania Railroad, and Lion Oil (which opened on 1,100 shares up ⅛ at 64).

Auto Industry Is Spending $40 Million for Promotion

DETROIT (AP)—Ward's Automotive Reports says in its current issue that the auto industry is spending "a record 40 million dolars plus, in special sales promotion expense."

It adds "The price tag, which runs as high as 10 million at a single car make, is the result of a compilation of final billing figures and original budget appropriations covering cost of factory-sponsored incentive sales contests and bonus stimulators; excluded are bonus provisions written into the franchise agreements of many car makes.

"While the survey showed the various campaigns to be wholly successful, with dealer sales in some cases eating up original budget appropriations for prize points, and with regional or zone sales at producers like Packard and Desoto topping 100 per cent of quota, it also revealed:

"1. A general feeling that such contests will increase in intensity in 1956 and in the competitive years ahead;

"2. That use of bonus stimulators will become more widespread in their function as a factory aid to the dealer.

"In effect, the car makers say, the bonus provisions represent a move by the factory to share in the discount losses encountered by the dealer at model cleanup time. WIDE RANGE

"Whatever the trend, the various sales promotions are reaching some astronomical figures ranging from 10 million dollars for a model cleanup bonus plan at one volume producer to $150,000 for a sales contest at a lower-volume seller.

"At Chrysler Division, an original appropriation of $500,000 for prize points as 'almost sure to be used up' while the 'Buick Sky Raider' contest now in progress involves some two million dollars for salesmen prizes alone."

Without naming the sponsors, Ward's said original contest budget appropriations by other makes included figures of $850,000; $750,000; $250,000 and $336,400. Cost of a bonus plan at one medium-priced make, it added, was put at five million and at another higher priced line at 1½ million.

Business Briefs

WASHINGTON (INS) — The Federal Reserve Board reported today that nationwide department store sales in the week ended Aug. 13 were three per cent higher than the same week last year. In the preceding week, sales were five per cent above the 1954 level. The best showing last week was turned in by the Atlanta district with a rise of 12 per cent over a year ago, and Dallas with an increase of eight per cent. At the other extreme, New York City sales were down five per cent and Boston down three per cent.

Summerfield Sees Ike Candidate in '56 Race

The postmaster general, who directed President Eisenhower's campaign in 1952, told reporters:

"It is my opinion that President Eisenhower will acquiesce in the wishes of the people and the needs of the country and the world. It is now certainly apparent that he enjoys the confidence of the people, not only in this country but everywhere."

Rail Freight Loadings Up 1.3 Per Cent in Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Association of American Railroads today reported last week's freight loadings at 775,397 cars, a rise of 9,945 cars or 1.3 per cent from the previous week.

This volume, for the week ended Aug. 13, was 90,125 cars or 13.2 per cent above the same week, but 32,225 cars or 4 per cent below the corresponding week in 1953.

State Food Inspector Cites Two City Markets

Louis Spadafore, owner of Spadafore's Market at 197 Oakland Ave., was cited yesterday for selling hamburger containing an illegal chemical preservative.

The citation was issued by James McCollum, state food inspector, who also said that he has secured a warrant against the manager of another market for selling hamburger containing excessive fat. The warrant names Ardell Kilmer, manager of Peoples Food O Mat at 465 E. Pike St.

Calumet-Hecla Buys Goodman Lumber Co.

CHICAGO (AP)—Calumet & Hecla, Inc. acquired the Goodman Lumber Co. of Goodman, Wis., through an exchange of stock.

* * *

E. R. Lovell, C & H president, said his company took over virtually all stock of Goodman in the transaction.

Goodman, which has operated in northern Wisconsin since 1907, will become a subsidiary of Calumet & Hecla, with Lovell its new president. It owns a sawmill, a veneer mill, a wood conversion plant and 70,000 acres of timberlands.

Lovell did not disclose details of the transaction, but it was completed after Goodman stockholders voted today on a C & H offer made last May 14 to exchange 114,000 shares of C & H stock for the Goodman Co. stock.

Lovell said the Goodman Co.'s business will be integrated with the wood utilization program C & H is carrying out on approximately 200,000 acres of timberland it already owns in northern Michigan.

In Memoriam 2

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Beatrice Walter, who passed away August 12, 1955, after a two month's illness. To those who knew her, shall never forget her kindness. Sadly and deeply she will be missed always by her little godchild, Janina Dean and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dean, 735 Alberta St.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF DUKE C. Greenway, who passed away Aug. 19 1950
Only those who lose can tell.
The part we take is distance.
For the one we love so well.
Someday, sometime, I shall see.
The face we keep in memory.
Sadly missed by Mother and Dad.
Brothers and Sisters.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF LINDA (Susie, Wilson), who passed away Aug. 19, 1953.
You will always be loved and remembered by your Grandpa and Grandma Tessman.

Civil Service Eases Job Rules for Aged

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Civil Service Commission today announced a change in its regulations to permit persons over 70 to take regular federal jobs.

Under the old regulations such persons could receive only temporary renewable appoints of up to one year.

The commission said the change was made to conform to congressional action lifting maximum age restrictions on federal appointments for this fiscal year, which ends June 30, 1956.

A commission spokesman said the change does not affect the requirement for mandatory retirement at age 70 of any federal employe who has served at least 15 years, unless he is continued in service by a civil service or presidential order.

Household utilities, such as fuel and lighting supplies, water, gas, electricity for lighting and power, comprise more than one-fourth of housing costs.

Mutual Network Seeks Sponsors

If Gala Award Program Succeeds Gino Would Be Ill-Paid Pioneer

By JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — The Mutual Network seeks eight spendthrift sponsors for a radio show to out-spend the $64,000 question — this one would fling $250,000 into the network air — five days a week . . . Gino Prato therefore turns out to have been a possibly ill-paid pioneer . . . Bing Crosby heads the syndicate aiming to buy another TV station at St. Joseph, Mo. . . . Janis Dillon on this week's "Talent Scouts" had plenty of talent . . .

Frank Sinatra is working out a deal with Capitol Records through which he may become part owner of the corporation . . . His NBC-TV deal is far from certain.

As might have been expected, Arturo Toscanini may have been the single most excited fan of the 64-G query; it was the maestro himself who sent his daughter, Mrs. Vladimir Horowitz, to see Gino with his personal regards . . . We'd love to be there when Gino and Tosci meet, which will be any moment . . . Incidentally, Toscannini was very ill over the July 4 weekend but his Spartan constitution pulled him through neatly.

The brass at NBC had first crack at the $64,000 question; owner Lou Cowan went to CBS only after NBC snooted the new TV champ show, and even CBS was close to refusal a few times . . .

Philco Playhouse will be some other "Playhouse" after Oct. 2 when Philco drops it . . . "Late Love" on R. Montgomery was the play Arlene Francis starred in last season on Broadway. August Dabney had Arlene's role in the nice but snoozy opus

CBS has a new color developkent ready to announce . . . Monitor wants to spread out all week but stations across the country act as if they're the Merrimac.

Big backstage TV rumor: Paramount Pictures Corp. (not Paramount Theaters, which owns the ABC network) will buy the two Dumont TV Stations at Washington and here . . . Paramount Pix also owns Telemeter, one of the biggest subscription TV firms.

Backstage TV technicians, now split into AFL and CIO entities, probably will merge into one union which will be a blessing for broadcasters who have separate rules for handling the same TV equipment . . . One union won't let TV directors push buttons, but must have an extra man to tell the button-pushers when to push; the other lets the directors push . . . ABC Network owns 35 per cent of Disneyland Park, which grossed $1,000,000 in three weeks.

Court Is Asked to Void Troy Zoning Ordinance

James Sutermeister is asking Oakland County Circuit Court to declare the Troy Township zoning ordinance void as it applies to a 20-acre site he owns on Rochester road.

The land is now zoned agricultural, he claims, stopping him from building a manufacturing plant. The area is better suited for light industry, Sutermeister claims, and asks a court order preventing Troy from enforcing the present zoning. No hearing date has been set.

VFW Summer Rally Slated This Sunday

Delegates from 35 Veterans of Foreign Wars Posts in Oakland and Macomb Counties will assemble Sunday for the summer rally of the Fifth District at Post 1794 in Mt. Clemens.

Fifth District Commander George Dempsey, of Farmington, will preside at the business session which convenes at 2 p.m. Department Inspector Jim Tribbey will conduct a school of instruction for Post officers at 10:30 a.m.

Delegates from Ladies Auxiliary units in the Fifth District will attend a school conducted by Oakland County Service Officer Fred Gallaway on Dependency Claims.

Olamae Gottschalk, Fifth District President, will be in charge of the business meeting at 2 p.m. Augusta White, Dept. of Mich. secretary-treasurer, will be the speaker.

Red Cross Aids 400 Families in Wake of Storms

WILMINGTON, N.C. (INS) — American Red Cross officials estimated they will have to help approximately 400 families in the Carolina area as a result of damage done by Hurricanes Connie and Diane.

The two hurricanes struck much of the same area within one week of each other.

Officials said 25 case workers and building advisers and 68 disaster specialists from the Red Cross are staying in the coastal area of the Carolinas to head rehabilitation operations. They will make their headquarters in New Bern and Wilmington.

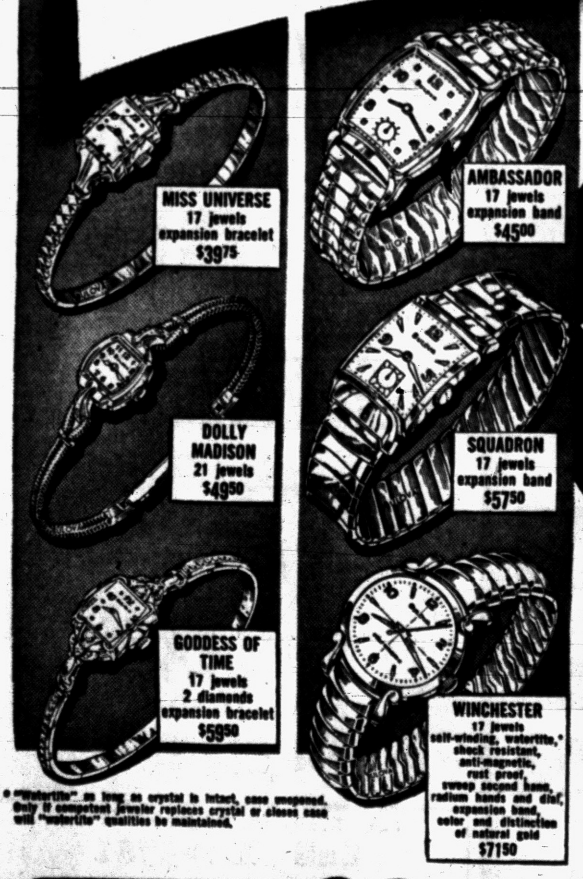

Funds will be granted largely for home repairs and replacement of water-logged furnishings. Preliminary reports show more damage from high water than from wind.

During the emergency, Red Cross shelters and canteens cared for more than 13,000 refugees from Diane and 24,000 exacuees from areas threatened by Connie in the coastal and cape sections from Savannah, Go., to the Virginia coast.
