Romney Plan Viewed Wrong

Detroit Erred on Tax Squawk

$2¾ Million Cut From Expected Revenue Loss

LANSING (AP) — Detroit officials made a $2¾ million error in computing how much city income tax revenue they would lose under the tax reform program proposed by Gov. George Romney, it was revealed yesterday.

State Controller Glenn Allen Jr. said an apparent misunderstanding of the Romney proposal caused Detroit officials to estimate they would lose that much in taxes paid by Detroit residents working outside the city — when actually they wouldn't lose a dime from that source.

The error, Allen said, would cut Detroit Mayor Jerome Cavanagh's estimate of the city's potential annual loss from $10 million to $7¼ million.

★ ★ ★

"It was an honest mistake," said Allen. "They made the estimates before actually seeing a copy of the bill.

Of $35 million collected annually by Detroit from its 1 per cent income tax, some $5½ million comes from residents who work outside the city.

NOT TRUE

Detroit officials apparently thought the Romney proposal said tax on these people would be cut to one-half of 1 per cent under Romney's program, but this is not true, Allen said.

The governor's proposal actually specifies city residents, regardless of where they work, could pay a 1 per cent tax to their own city after Jan. 1, 1965.

"The only way Detroit could lose any of this $5½ million would be for cities in which Detroit residents work to enact income taxes of their own," said Allen.

★ ★ ★

"And that can happen under the new constitution, whether the Romney program is approved by the legislature or not."

In such cases, Allen said De-

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic — The military junta is expected to send deposed President Juan Bosch into European exile today. Fearing the deportation might touch off disorders, the military chiefs kept departure plans secret.

"You will be informed when Bosch is gone," Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, junta leader, told newsmen.

Other high government sources said Bosch was being put aboard the navy frigate Mella, probably destined for Spain. They said the frigate would sail as soon as seas calmed in the wake of Hurricane Edith.

Mexico and Bolivia yesterday joined Costa Rica and Venezuela in cutting diplomatic ties with the Dominican Republic because of the military coup which deposed Bosch.

BOLIVIA ACTS

Bolivia formally broke relations with the Dominican Republic.

Eduardo Sanchez Cabral, Dominican ambassador to the Organization of American States (OAS), resigned last night to protest the military takeover.

The three-man civilian provisional government installed by the junta announced the appointment of Dr. Jose Antonio Bonilla Atiles, foreign minister of the interim government after the fall of the Trujillo regime, as ambassador-designate to the United States.

Bonilla, about 40, is said to be acquainted with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. One of the Dominicans who fought Trujillo from exile, he recently worked for the OAS.

★ ★ ★

WOOING U.S.?

The announcements, following a junta vow to fight Castro communism, were seen as further moves to win prompt U. S. recognition and restoration of a $50-million aid program that Dominicans admit is vital to their economy.

40-Hour Week Near End - JFK

Automation to Mean Less Working Time

WHISKEYTOWN, Calif. (UPI) —President Kennedy today forecast reduction in the present 40-hour work week as a result of automation.

He dropped his prediction into a speech dedicating the Whiskeytown Dam and reservoir, the last conservation stop on a 10,000-mile tour.

Kennedy spoke of changing times and how leaders of the conservation movement 50 years ago had much simpler problems than tasks facing those today in the fields of irrigation, reclamation and setting aside lands for recreation.

"The country is changing," he said. To support this statement, he noted how the work week had moved from 58 hours to the present statutory level of 40 hours.

"As machines take more and more jobs from men," he said, "we are going to see the work week reduced."

Speaking to an audience estimated at 10,000 persons beside the blue waters of the northern California reservoir, Kennedy said that with the coming work week reduction, more and more Americans would have an opportunity to use the recreational resources of the nation.

PROTECTION

This, he said, made protection and development of natural resources increasingly important.

Kennedy noted that the federal government from a beginning about 30 years ago had worked with California in putting into operation a comprehensive plan for development of the state's water resources.

Senator Asks Crackdown

'Crime Boss Rules From Cell'

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON — Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., called for a crackdown today on imprisoned rackets czar Vito Genovese, whom mobster Joseph Valachi says has directed Mafia-styled murder operations from his federal jail cell.

Mundt urged federal prison authorities to put Genovese "under special surveillance so that he isn't running the New York City rackets from a federal prison."

Genovese presently is serving a 15-year sentence on a narcotics charge at Leavenworth (Kan.) Federal Penitentiary. He was transferred to Leavenworth from Atlanta about a year ago.

In his first day in the witness chair before the Senate investigations subcommittee, the stocky dope peddler and slayer put the heat on Genovese, "the boss of all bosses" on the crime syndicate's secret commission.

Valachi has promised to drag the 10 or so other members of the commission into the spotlight.

Why was he doing this, asked the chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

"You get nothing but misery. Once you're in you can't get out. They've been—let's say, bad to the soldiers," said the 60-year-old hoodlum who admitted making $150,000 in a good year during World War II.

"What did you do for them?" asked Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y.

RAN SYNDICATE

His testimony Friday that Genovese ran a crime syndicate from a federal prison cell brought a senatorial demand for a tightening up of prison discipline.

Valachi put the finger on Genovese as a Cosa Nostra overlord whose life-and-death power over subordinates went along with him when he was sentenced to prison as a narcotics racketeer.

Valachi swore he received the "kiss of death"—gangland's death warrant — from Genovese when they were cellmates last year at the Atlanta, Ga., penitentiary.

He said he believes Genovese also engineered the assassination of missing mobster Anthony (Tony Bender) Strollo.

Sen. Mundt, senior Republican on the subcommittee, told reporters the testimony should serve as a warning to wardens.

Want to See Romney? He'll Be Here Monday

Anyone with a gripe, comment, question or suggestion for Gov. George Romney will have a chance to deliver it to him in person between 8 and 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Oakland County Courthouse.

That's the time set for the first of Romney's 24 citizen meetings to take his tax reform program first-hand to the people.

The governor wants to explain his proposals to citizens, learn their reactions, and perhaps, in the process, make the program less controversial.

He said last week his tax program based on a state income tax, would "rise or fall on how you feel."

Monday's session, scheduled in the county clerk-register's office for the benefit of Pontiac area residents, will be patterned after the governor's regular Thursday morning citizen interviews.

★ ★ ★

It will be only the second such session outside Lansing, the first occurring in Marquette in June at the special request of Upper Peninsula inhabitants for whom a trip to the capital was impractical.

Each citizen will have five minutes of private talk with Romney. Only others present will be one of his aides and a state trooper.

Although the meetings, to take place in 22 other cities as well, are primarily for the tax issue, other topics may be included, according to the governor's office.

UNEMPLOYMENT

Most frequent topic in regular Lansing sessions has been unemployment brought up by people desperate for a job.

As for other subjects, there have been "all types," divided about 60-40 on public issues and personal problems, an aide says.

Nearly 700 have chatted with Romney since the sessions were inaugurated Jan. 17 shortly after Romney took office.

As many as 65 have interviewed in one session, with the average about 35. Sessions resumed Sept. 19 after a two-month summer recess.

Artist Paints Kennedys 'in the Raw'

NEW YORK (AP)—A 30-year-old Texas painter said today his portrait of President Kennedy in the nude was done in homage. "Nudity is a symbol of purity," he said.

Rex Clawson, a Dallas native, said that working from magazine photographs, he also painted a picture of the entire Kennedy family in the nude—"including the movie star," Peter Lawford.

But he said the New York gallery that exhibited it in early 1962 "called it by a different title and no one guessed who it was."

The latter painting, "Family on a Persian Rug," had as subjects "as many of the family as I could get in," including Mrs. Kennedy, the Kennedy children, Caroline and John Jr., the artist said.

Clawson declined to identify the art gallery where "Family on a Persian Rug" was shown or the person to whom he sold it.

SHOWN AT HOTEL

His "Nude in a Rocking Chair" has been on exhibition since Sept. 25, four blocks from the Hotel Carlyle, where Kennedy often stays.

The artist explained that the

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vandalism and rowdyism by students and other spectators, which caused several cities to ban night high school football games, hit Des Moines, Iowa, and Pleasantville, N.J., last night.

At Des Moines, 10 persons were injured, one seriously, when a tear gas bomb was thrown into the crowd shortly before halftime of a game between Des Moines Roosevelt and Des Moines Tech.

Fighting spread to the streets and it took eight regular policemen and 13 special officers to restore order.

Authorities in Des Moines said the bomb thrown by an unidentified teen-age boy apparently struck 4-year-old Jay Michael Coffey on the head.

BOTH HOSPITALIZED

Both were hospitalized. Jay Michael in serious condition with head injuries and Patricia in good condition.

Police said 100 or more persons may have suffered some ill effects from the fumes, but most did not require hospitalization.

The melee at Pleasantville broke out after the Pleasantville quarterback was tackled behind the line of scrimmage in a desperate pass attempt on the final play of the game.

The quarterback and his tackler were wrestling as the gun sounded and players from both benches and fans from both sides rushed on to the field.

FIGHTING SPREADS

Police said they had calls from all over the town that youngsters were fighting and blocking traffic. Rocks and other objects were thrown into buses carrying visiting fans.

Cool Temperatures Seen Tomorrow

Clouds and sunshine along with cooler temperatures will stop off here tomorrow. A high of 65 is predicted.

The lowest mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 56. At 2 p.m. the thermometer registered 56.

Leaf Pickup Starts Monday

The Pontiac Department of Public Works will begin its fall leaf pick-up program Monday, according to Clyde Christian, DPW superintendent.

"We plan to start picking up leaves in Washington Park Subdivision and work clockwise around the city," he said yesterday.

"Residents may rake leaves into the street from the strip between the sidewalk and curb," he noted. "Other leaves taken from the front and back yards may be put in containers for pickup on regular rubbish pick-up days."

Burning of leaves must be confined to private property. It is against the law to burn on city pavement. Residents may also take leaves to the dump if they prefer.

NEW GOVERNMENT — The three-man junta which has taken over rule of the Dominican Republic following the ouster of President Juan Bosch is shown at official installation ceremonies in Santo Domingo. Diem to Meet Yank

SAIGON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was reported planning today to meet President Ngo Dinh Diem tomorrow and discuss the findings of his tour this week of South Viet Nam.

Diplomatic sources said the two men might meet in the mountain resort of Dalat, north of here.

Asst. Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester, spokesman for McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, said he could not confirm the report. He acknowledged, however, that a field trip the defense secretary was to have taken tomorrow has been postponed until Monday.

Sylvester also denied reports that he has been "managing news" through over-optimistic reports on the progress of the war against communism in South Viet Nam. His reports had been criticized by the U.S. press.

BASED ON INFORMATION

He said he based his view of the war on the information U.S. officers here had given to McNamara and Taylor.

"What I told you is what we heard, that's all," he said.

Taylor and McNamara arrived here three days ago, but so far neither of them has seen Diem or his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, chief of the secret police and reported "power behind the throne."

It was not clear whether McNamara's delay in meeting with the president was meant as a reflection of U.S. doubts about his regime, nor was it certain whether Diem or McNamara arranged the reported talks tomorrow.

VISIT GUERRILLA CAMP

McNamara and Taylor traveled 750 miles by car and helicopter yesterday through South Viet Nam's central highlands.

One place they visited was a training camp for tribal guerrillas which was infiltrated early this year by Communists who later organized an attack in which 40 tribesmen were killed.

At Plaiku, headquarters of South Viet Nam's II Corps, McNamara expressed dissatisfaction with delays in the installation of radio-warning systems in tribal strongholds.

A general election yesterday returned supporters of Diem to a majority of seats in the national assembly, which has had no real authority since Diem began ruling by decree several years ago.

There were no prominent opposition candidates for the assembly.

Five Saginaw Men Held on Drug Charge

Five Saginaw men were being held in the Oakland County jail today for investigation of fraudulently obtaining narcotic drugs from area pharmacies.

State police from the Pontiac post said the five signed fictitious names and addresses when they purchased a cough syrup containing codeine.

When arrested about 9:30 p.m. yesterday on Dixie Highway, 14 bottles of the medicine were discovered in their car, according to police.

★ ★ ★

Under law only one four-ounce bottle can be purchased in a 48-hour period. When obtaining the cough syrup, it is required that the purchaser sign his name and address.

DRUGGISTS ALERTED

Police had alerted druggists to be on the lookout for several men who might purchase the medicine after they had received complaints from a suspicious pharmacist.

Earlier this week, three other Saginaw men were placed on two years' probation for fraudulently obtaining narcotic drugs from a Birmingham drug store.

subject portrayed in "Nude in a Rocking Chair" wasn't divulged as Kennedy until yesterday, when an irate woman complained about it to a New York newspaper.

Clawson said of the painting: "I pictured him in the nude as a homage to him because in past Western culture, in Greek culture especially, they pictured heroes and gods as nude. They were pure and had no reason to cover up their nakedness. Like Adam—before his sin—they had no guilt."

Asked if his portrait intended to show that the President is pure and has no guilt, Clawson said, "that's right."

The legs and arms are shown dissected, in something of an X-ray view.

The leg muscles were shown, Clawson said, to symbolize the President's advocacy of long walks to help physical fitness. The arm muscles were delineated "to signify his signing bills and documents."

Dixie Negro Fined for Carrying Pistol

OXFORD, Miss. (AP) — Cleve McDowell, who was expelled from the University of Mississippi for carrying a pistol in his pocket, was fined $100 Saturday by a justice of the peace.

McDowell, Ole Miss' lone Negro student, pleaded innocent. His attorney filed notice of appeal and said he was also appealing McDowell's expulsion last Tuesday to the Board of Trustees of Institutions of Higher Learning.

The charge—carrying a concealed deadly weapon—carried a maximum penalty of 90 days in jail and $100 fine.

Heat Wave Still Frying S. California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The weatherman canceled today an earlier prediction of a break in Southern California's blistering four-day heat wave and said the mercury would go to 105 degrees.

He said tomorrow would be slightly cooler.

Readings in this melting metropolis the past three days have been, successively, 107, 109 and 106.

Last night was the hottest of the year, with the temperature dropping no lower than 84 degrees at 4 a.m. At midnight it stood at 87.

The previous prediction was for a high today of only 95.

Temperatures began slackening off slightly Friday, but readings were still high enough—well over 100—to cause widespread effects on a wilted population.

Playing It Cool

The highest reported temperature in the United States Friday was in El Toro, Calif., where the mercury hit a sizzling 113 degrees.

A score of schools were closed, hundreds went on short shifts and most reported absenteeism at 30 to 50 per cent.

Most sports activities were lopped off the day's activities. Seven high school football games were postponed.

STUDENTS REBEL

About 300 students at Van Nuys High School rebelled against classes in the 100-plus weather but were persuaded to attend.

City officials sent workers home from offices that weren't air-conditioned, business activity slackened and sidewalks were nearly empty.

Freeways were not, however, autos stalled with radiator woes and fuel-pump vapor-locks, piled up traffic for miles.

Nearly 200,000 persons flocked to beaches and county and city pools. Officials said some pools which normally would be closed will be kept open through the weekend.

De Gaulle Pledges Support for 'Nonindependent' Nations

VILLEFRANCHE-SUR-SAONE, France (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle today pledged French support for countries in Latin America, Asia and Africa "which are seeking to develop their own personalities."

He said France's assertion of her own national independence has been an example to them.

"Our national independence is a duty we must fulfill towards others," he said in a speech on the fourth day of his five-day speaking swing through the Rhone Valley area of France.

★ ★ ★

He scheduled what may be the most important speech of the tour at Lyon this evening.

SERVICE RENDERED

De Gaulle declared that the "independence" France has won for herself "is a service we render to many other peoples."

"We render it," he said, "to the nations behind the Iron Curtain which are subjected to the foreign yoke of the Soviets. These peoples gain a secret hope from France's independence.

"It is a service we render also to the countries of Latin America which are striving at this moment to develop their own personality, to those in Asia and in Africa and to all sorts of new or restored states which see in France, mistress of herself, a source of support whenever they need it. Our national independence is a duty towards others."

REITERATED THEME

De Gaulle reiterated the theme he developed earlier in his tour about France maintaining her national identity between the two great "hegemonies" of the United States and Russia.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle said Russia still seeks world domination but will not achieve it, although the free nations must maintain their "vigilance."

He described the United States as "our friend and ally" but said "We naturally do not want it either as a leader or a protector."

Lone Sextuplet Object of Hunt

Survived Multiple Birth in Missouri

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service is searching for the sole survivor of one of the two sets of sextuplets recorded in U.S. medical history.

Information about the country's sextuplets and other multiple births was dug up by the service following the birth of the Fischer quintuplets of Aberdeen, S.D.

The health service's records contain no reference to the sextuplets, spokesmen said. But a 1953 article refers to birth of sextuplets to a Mrs. Speichinger in Missouri 27 years ago.

Of the six babies only one lived, according to the article published by Dr. John B. Nichols in the Western Journal of Surgery, Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Dr. Anders S. Lunde, chief of birth statistics for the division of vital statistics in the National Center for Health Statistics, located the article.

The health service is searching for information on the surviving sextuplet with the cooperation of the Missouri State Department of Public Health and Welfare.

The other case of sextuplets in U.S. medical literature was in Chicago in 1866.

No Signs Found of Foul Play in Pontiac Death

An autopsy on the body of a young woman found dead in her hotel room yesterday revealed no signs of foul play, according to Pontiac police.

The fully-clothed body of Barbara Joyce Howard, 22, was discovered in her Roosevelt Hotel apartment about 2 p.m. by a cleaning woman.

Suffocation may have been the cause of death, police said, but added they will continue their investigation until they receive a laboratory report.

Miss Howard was a laboratory sterilizer at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. She had worked there about a month, police said.

Hearing Is Set on Air Service

A hearing on proposed cuts in airline service at Pontiac Municipal Airport has been scheduled for Oct. 15 in Lansing, the Michigan Aeronautics Department said today.

Pontiac is one of three Michigan cities confronted by a petition from North Central Airlines to discontinue its service under a "use it or lose it" policy.

North Central sets a quota of five passengers per day emplanement. The average number of passengers originating from Pontiac is 1.14.

Other Michigan cities included in the hearings on discontinuing service are Cadillac-Reed City and Port Huron. A fourth city, Alpena, may be considered at a later date.

Pontiac representatives have requested a separate hearing in opposing the loss of North Central Airlines' Service.

troit and the other city with an income tax would split the revenue 50-50, in the manner that Detroit and Hamtramack now divide revenues from their income taxes.

While Cavanagh estimated Detroit's loss at about $10 million, Citizens' Research Council said it could go as high as $12 million.

ERRED TWICE

Allen said, however, that the council's recommendations also erred on the question of taxes paid by Detroit residents working elsewhere.

Allen said he advised Detroit City Controller Alfred Pelham of the error when Pelham and Cavanagh met with Romney to discuss tax reform Wednesday.

"It was the first they were aware of the miscalculation," said Allen. "Pelham said he was very glad to have it called to his attention."

Cavanagh earlier had blasted the governor's 2-point program on grounds it deprived Detroit of too much revenue now gained from the 1 per cent income tax imposed on corporations, residents and non-residents since July 1961.

Romney's plan would not permit cities to tax corporations. This would result in a $4½ million loss to Detroit.

In addition to the $2¾ million mistake, Allen said an "erroneous impression" has been created that the Romney plan would be responsible for Detroit losing revenues from having its 1 per cent income tax on nonresidents cut to one-half.

COULD HAPPEN

"This could happen, Romney program or no Romney program," he said, "because the new constitution allows cities to levy income taxes automatically supersedes city charters which now prevent it."

The only certain losses to Detroit through enactment of Romney's plan would be the $4½ million from corporate income taxes and an estimated $1 million from taxes paid by residents of unincorporated areas who work in Detroit, he said.

The new constitution does not permit unincorporated areas to levy income taxes, but under Romney's plan they, like other nonresidents, would pay only one-half of 1 per cent to Detroit.

Moonshot Offer Is 'Premature' Says Red Scribe

Stanislav Kondrashov's article, published by the magazine Za Rubezhom, was the first mention of the moonshot proposal that had been published here.

The Soviet press reported Kennedy's U.N. speech, in which the suggestion was made, but edited out all reference to it.

★ ★ ★

"In lavish headlines, American newspapers describe the grandiose character of the project, although it seems it is somewhat premature."

★ ★ ★

The fact that the Soviet press edited out mentions of the moon proposal from its reports on the Kennedy speech had led Western observers to predict a cautious or cool reaction from the Kremlin.

U.S. Leaning to Russian Wheat Sale?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The administration is carefully weighing the pros and cons of selling surplus wheat to Russia, and appears to be finding more pros.

A final decision on the matter probably will be delayed until after President Kennedy returns from his Western tour Monday. Until then, officials are maintaining a watchful silence.

The State Department said it was reviewing its export policy in anticipation of a formal Soviet offer to buy American wheat, but officials stressed that no such offer had been received as yet.

Agriculture Secretary Orville L. Freeman, commenting on the contention from some quarters that selling wheat to the Communists might bolster their shaky economy, noted that it also might help the U.S. economy, especially in the area of the balance of payments deficit.

A group of private U.S. grain traders, who met at Ottawa with a Soviet trade delegation this week, said they were confident the administration would approve the sale of surplus wheat to the Russians at world prices.

PRICE LOWER

The world market price for wheat is about 50 cents lower than the U.S. domestic price, which is supported by federal subsidy.

Burton Joseph, president of L. S. Joseph, Inc., of Minneapolis, and his group left Ottawa yesterday because there was no expectation of a decision on possible wheat sales until President Kennedy's return to Washington.

He would neither confirm nor deny a published report that the Russians were offering $250 million in dollars and gold for 3 million tons of wheat.

★ ★ ★

"We are going to get a decision," Joseph said, adding that the group is "hopeful that our government in Washington will quickly provide our American private grain trade with the necessary authority to offer to sell American agricultural products to the government of the U.S.S.R."

CONFERS WITH AIDES

James Patton, president of the National Farmers Union, conferred with White House aides on the situation yesterday. He was reported to have urged the administration to decide in favor of the proposed sale.

The administration and Congress have traditionally opposed the sale of federally subsidized surplus goods to "unfriendly" Communist bloc nations. Nothing in law specifically prohibits such sales for cash. But it is interpreted as banning extension of long-term credits to nations which have defaulted on earlier obligations.

The Treasury Department said it was watching European financial markets closely after reports from London that the Soviet Union was selling considerable quantities of its gold in return for dollars and sterling. Such gold sales do not affect the U.S. balance of payments deficit, the Treasury said.

FOREIGN RESERVES

Sources in London said Moscow apparently is eager to supplement its foreign currency reserves to pay for increasing purchases of wheat and other goods in the West.

Informed Washington sources said the volume of gold sales does not appear to be unusually large.

One said it was logical to assume that Russia was strapped for foreign currency after its deal to buy more than 6 millions tons of wheat from Canada and Australia. Russia imported only about 45,000 tons of wheat in 1962.

Midwest grain dealers believe the climate in Washington favors such a sale, and that the selling price would be at world market levels.

Senate Unit Drafting Stockpiling Reform

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A stockpile reform bill, sure to touch off a new furore, is being drafted by a Senate committee which investigated the huge inventories of strategic materials.

Informed sources say the bill will include a provision designed to speed disposal of surpluses by empowering the President to sell items, subject only to congressional veto.

Under present law, the President must ask Congress for permission to sell most stockpiled materials, and the House and Senate must authorize it by passing a resolution.

The reform bill, which would permit sales unless Congress specifically vetoes them within 60 days, would place the initiative in the hands of the Executive Department.

Mining interests, fearful of huge government disposals that might depress markets, have opposed such proposals in the past.

An actual draft of the legislation, the result of long hearings by the special Senate Stockpile subcommittee headed by Sen. Stuart Symington, D-Mo., was expected to be made public early next week.

DISPUTED REPORT

A disputed report by the subcommittee charging cabinet-level favoritism and profiteering in the stockpile program during the Eisenhower administration was released Wednesday.

It failed to win approval when the group split on a 3-3 vote. Symington released its contents anyway. One of the reasons was that Sen. Clifford P. Case, R-N.J., who voted against the report, said it should be made public just to prevent further "leaks" to the press.

Canada to Start Shipping Grain

HALIFAX (UPI) — Transport Minister George McIlraith announced yesterday the maritime ports of Halifax, N. S., and Saint John, N. B., would begin handling some 29 million bushels of wheat and 20,500 long tons of flour per month for the Soviet Union early in October.

The shipment represents $66 million of the 228 million bushels of wheat sold to Russia for $500 million.

McIlraith, on an inspection of grain and flour handling facilities, said the movement would be in addition to the normal 10 million bushels of wheat per month ordinarily handled in this East Coast port during the winter months beginning in December when the St. Lawrence Seaway freezes over.

A Top Law Enforcer Ends Service to City

An outstanding public servant and a fine citizen retires from the office through which for 38 years he served Pontiac and its citizenry.

Capt. Oliver "Red" Lemeaux has laid aside his police department badge of office. He will, however, continue in a related field, since he was named court officer for one of the County's new circuit court judges.

LEMEAUX

The retiree's service covers one of the longest periods in police department history, and the place vacated by the conscientious and genial officer will not be easily filled.

★ ★ ★

Capt. Lemeaux's record is filled with noteworthy achievements in law enforcement, with citations continually awarded him in recognition.

On behalf of the community The Press renders an appreciative salute to this accomplished man, with all best wishes for pleasure and fulfillment in his new environment.

Bubbles to Contribute to Seaway's Progress?

Somehow we never thought of bubbles as of any great economic boon to mankind — though a generation ago an alluring dancer bubbled her way to fame and fortune.

But now, engineers think the Great Lakes and St. Lawrence Seaway can be kept open for navigation all winter with — you guessed it — bubbles.

★ ★ ★

The idea is that air bubbles percolating up from the depths would force the warmer water at the bottom to rise to the top, keeping the surface from freezing.

★ ★ ★

United States Army Corps of Engineers has asked the Rivers and Harbors Subcommittee for $50,000 to explore the feasibility of the scheme and its economic justification.

Without bubbling over, we hope that the engineers' premise is not unduly inflated, and that they're not just blowing bubbles.

Political Forum at OU a Significant Event

A well-merited salute goes to the Oakland Citizens League and 25 collaborating groups on the outstanding success of the first Citizens' Political Forum at Oakland University.

Evocative of the Town Hall Meeting once an integral part of the Nation's social and political life, a capacity throng of 500 listened to state and national representatives from both parties air their convictions on many pressing issues of the day. A question and answer period had to be cut short because of the great interest evidenced by those in attendance.

The day-long program reflected democracy at its best. The urgent need today is for all Americans to become informed about governmental and political questions and the elected representatives who resolve them.

The past decade has seen gradual dissolution of hard-and-fast party affiliation, with growing accent on qualifications and capability of the candidates seeking office.

This, of course, does not presage dilution of the two-party system. Politics, like all social structures, must have order and organization — and two strong parties acting to counterbalance each other assure the Country a strong and viable political establishment.

It is the intention of sponsors of the Forum to make it an annual event. The implications of the movement are impressive, the most significant being the development of political acuity and responsibility in the minds and hearts of the American electorate.

Ex-Congressman Gets Runaround

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — The big, balding man fought desperately to maintain his self-control. For many months the victim of a political war - of - nerves, his own nerves are admittedly nearing the breaking point.

RUTH MONTGOMERY

Former Congressman Frank Kowalski stared angrily at the telephone which had just brought word that for the sixth time since January, the Senate Judiciary Committee was "postponing" a hearing on his nomination to the Subversive Activities Control Board.

Kowalski is well aware of the scuttlebutt on Capitol Hill: the committee is not the culprit, but rather the Kennedy administration, which has had "second thoughts" about his appointment, and hopes by this strange procedure to force him to withdraw his own name from consideration.

A West Point graduate and retired Army colonel, he is visibly shaken by his ordeal. He told this correspondent:

"I've served my country all my life—33 years in the Army and four years in Congress —yet I'm being given no chance to face my accusers. I don't know who they are. I don't even know what I'm accused of, if anything.

"This is medieval torture! It's like being hung up by my thumbs. I'm deeply and emotionally disturbed.

HAD TO BE CLEARED

"Whatever they have against me must surely be politically motivated. It couldn't be based on security grounds, because I had to be cleared before President Kennedy could appoint me.

"Why, I was the chief organizer of Japanese defense forces at the time the Korean War broke out. My assignment was so top-secret that I didn't even write letters home for many months.

"No one could have higher security than I have. At the close of World War II, I was in Europe directing the secret school for the disarmament of Germany."

A week ago, the Senate Judiciary Committee scheduled a hearing on Kowalski's nomination for the fifth time. The previous four had been mysteriously cancelled at the last minute.

WENT TO HEARING ROOM

Kowalski hopefully went to the hearing room, as did Chairman John Bailey of the Democratic National Committee and Sen. Abraham Ribicoff, the rival who beat out Kowalski for the Democratic senatorial nomination in Connecticut last year.

Also present were several labor leaders and representatives of veterans organizations, all presumably ready to testify in favor of Kowalski's confirmation.

Only one Republican member of the committee arrived, and shortly thereafter a clerk came in to say that since the Senate was in session, the meeting would be postponed until the following week.

It was the sixth scheduled meeting that had just been cancelled.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

DANIEL

Daniel, the last of the four greater prophets, did not write the book which bears his name. It was written 600 years later during the second century B.C., when Jerusalem was under the persecution of Antiochus Epiphanes. The heroic stories of Daniel's faith in God during his captivity in Babylon gave courage and comfort to the faithful of the later age and all ages since.

The stories are well known to us all; Daniel's success in Nebuchadnezzar's court; his friends being saved from the fiery furnace; the prophecy of Nebuchadnezzar's madness; the hand writing on the wall; and the lion's den. All are stories meant to encourage religious peoples to maintain their faith in time of trial.

Fear of the future was great for the Jews in the time of Antiochus Epiphanes, as it was in Daniel's time and as it is in ours. Daniel proved that God is greater than human rulers, and that through faith and patience, living each day nobly, man can find his purpose in life.

Days of All Faiths:

St. Francis—Everybody's Saint

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

People of our time are extravagant in the things they say about St. Francis of Assisi. Catholics, Protestants, and even non-Christians are attracted to him. They call him "the only true Christian in history." Pope Benedict XV, early in this century, said "he is the most perfect image of Christ that ever was."

If it were only the people of this modern acquisitive age who so greatly admired "Il Poverello" (the little poor man) one might be tempted to look for some deep psychological answer. Perhaps we envy the happy penniless little friar who escaped the trap of ambition in which we are all caught and sang his way through life with a freedom we can only dream about.

But it is not only our competitive age that has felt so about Francis. People flocked around him when he was alive in the thirteenth century. He was canonized only two years after he died in 1226. And the world has loved him ever since.

There was something in the man himself that every heart responds to, and that something was love. Francis not only loved everybody; he loved every animal, and even every inanimate thing in all God's creation. He preached to the birds.

When the physicians were about to cauterize his eyes with red hot implements he spoke to "Brother Fire" asking that the fire be gentle with him. And when his last hour came he even said "Welcome, Sister Death!"

FRANCIS WAS NICKNAME

This strange man's name was really John, not Francis. He got the nickname Francesco, "the Frenchman," only because his father happened to be on a trip to France when he was born in 1118. But there seems to be no record of his ever having been called by his right name.

Wealthy and socially prominent, young Francis Bernardone did not have to do anything he didn't want to do. Aside from being a gay-young-man-about-Assisi, what appealed to him most was a career of knighthood.

He did enlist for military service, but he had gone only a little distance from home when he was stricken with a long and severe illness. While he was sick he had a dream of Christ calling him to serve Him. When he recovered he went home and devoted himself to the care of the poor and the sick.

When another dream came, Francis gave up property and position and started out to preach. He had no idea of starting a religious order; he wanted to be a hermit.

But soon three companions joined him, and then a few more, and in no time at all he had so many followers that he had to divide them into groups and appoint group leaders. By 1219 there were 5,000 Franciscans. Today it is the largest order in the Roman Catholic Church.

RULE OF POVERTY

Always the idea was complete simplicity and complete poverty. There was no organization. There were no monasteries. At first the Rule of Life was a few verses from the New Testament, like Matthew x:9: "Provide neither gold nor silver nor brass in your purses." Franciscans had no gold or silver or brass. They didn't even have purses. (This, incidentally, is the origin of the expression "St. Francis' distemper." To be afflicted with this ailment means to be broke.)

BUILT FIRST CRECHE

It is not often told that St. Francis made three attempts to evangelize the Mohammedans, who at that time occupied Palestine. That is, he made three attempts to get there, succeeding only on the third. But his efforts came to nothing, and the failure was a bitter disappointment to him.

It is said that St. Francis built the first creche. It was exhibited at the Christmas Eve Mass at Assisi in 1223.

Washington Notebook:

The Word Is 'Vigor' With an 'Ah'

By WASHINGTON STAFF

WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Kennedy's "trade czar," the former secretary of state, Massachusetts governor and member of Congress Christian A. Herter, got off a nifty at the expense of his boss at the White House Conference on Export Expansion.

In a luncheon speech before 200 big business executives, Republican Herter declared that "We value highly the initiative and — to use a word which is heard from time to time in Washington — the vigor of American enterprise."

His text read "vigor" but he pronounced it naturally, with the same Bay State accent the President uses.

Secretary of State Dean Rusk got in a reverse-twist plug for the U. S. foreign aid program when he told the businessmen, "Expansion of trade has been one of the main objectives of our policy ever since Benjamin Franklin went abroad as our first ambassador — to get loans from our allies."

And Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, to illustrate the necessity for business and government working together on trade development, told a story about a couple celebrating their golden wedding anniversary with a lot of billing and cooing.

"Tell us," asked a pair of newlyweds who were helping the old couple celebrate, "what is your secret for a happy marriage?"

The old gaffer thought a minute and then replied: "I've always treated ma as though it would take more than a hot water bottle to replace her."

★ ★ ★

Asked what the government wanted private businessmen to do in meeting President Kennedy's new goal for a $2 billion or 10 - percent - a - year increase in American exports, Secretary of Commerce Luther Hodges replied:

"Get out and sell like h—."

Dr. Chalmers W. Sherwin, Defense Department deputy director of research and engineering, speaking to an assemblage of government and private military electronics specialists, recalled the great changes in science and electronics in the last 17 years.

He reminded them of the song "Take Away Your Billion Dollars," written in 1946 by physicist Art Roberts. In the first part of the song, said Sherwin, the physicists at a Washington meeting are being told of a plan to build a 10-billion-volt accelerator "on an ancient Army base." It was to cost $1 billion.

Everyone cheers except for one man who remains aloof, then rises and thunders forth:

★ ★ ★

"With love and string and sealing wax
Was physics kept alive.
So let not the wealth of Midas
Hide the goal for which we strive.
Take away your billion dollars,
Take away your tainted gold,
You can keep your damned
Ten billion volts,
My soul will not be sold."

★ ★ ★

Said Dr. Sherwin, "This was only 17 years ago, but how quaint sentiments like this sound to our ears today. Just imagine any physicist turning down a billion dollars for a super accelerator in 1963."

The frigate Josephus Daniels, DLG 27, due to be launched in late November or early December at the Bath Iron Works in Maine, is named, of course, after the Navy secretary under whom Franklin D. Roosevelt served.

A jokester in the Navy suggests that it would be inappropriate to christen the Daniels with the traditional champagne. He recommends a carafe of coffee instead. For it was Daniels who laid down the rule that no Navy ship could serve liquor aboard.

Don't Let Maps and Graphs Scare You

By THE READING LABORATORY

Written for Newspaper Enterprise Association

* * *

You survey the chapter several times: first, read the summary, the largest bold type, and study the maps, graphs and picture captions to find the main idea; second, read all of the bold type.

Then read the first sentence of each paragraph to find the secondary idea; skim the entire text to get a stronger grasp of the secondary ideas; and, finally, check off the major details that may require memorization.

In this method, the first step is the most inportant. If you get the main idea of the chapter, everything else will make sense. And the most valuable tools you have to find the main ideas are the maps and graphs.

* * *

BATTLELINE MAP

One battleline map of Grant's Wilderness Campaign can tell you more than pages of text can—and it's easier to remember.

* * *

A simple curve in an economics text can define a law in concrete, "guns-and-butter" terms that are much easier to understand than the abstract theorizing of the text.

Yet lots of students seem afraid of maps and graphs. They can look imposing when you don't understand them, but the little time needed to decipher them will pay tremendous dividends.

Battleline maps can be the most confusing. The first thing you should do is study the key.

* * *

For the Wilderness Campaign, for instance, there may be a solid line for Grant's troops and a broken one for Lee's army.

* * *

It'll look complicated, but if you take your time and follow the map line by line, you'll see the whole pattern of the campaign as the lines shift.

PIECE BY PIECE

The same thing holds true for battle maps using arrows instead of lines. Just take it piece by piece, arrow by arrow, and the meaning will come clear.

Multiline graphs scare a lot of students. But the same principle holds. Find in the key the meaning of each line and trace it separately.

Then after you've understood each line, the graph itself will begin to communicate.

* * *

If the entire table is devoted to showing that the real per capita income in the United States rose from X dollars to Y dollars in a certain period of time, be satisfied with knowing that the income rose and about how much it rose.

* * *

* * *

In general, you can get a lot out of maps and graphs if you don't let them scare you. Just go to the key, find out what each line or number means, then find the over all idea behind the map or graph and study it.

School Boards Deny Claim

Tax Demand Is Backed

DETROIT (AP)—Michigan school boards backed their demand for their own 1 per cent income tax yesterday by denying that voters would approve more school property taxes if the state paid a 20 per cent share.

Gov. Romney has proposed to cut school property taxes by 20 per cent and make up the lost revenue from the state treasury. He has said voters could use their resulting savings to pay more school taxes.

Taxpayers would consider any tax reduction "clear evidence that he had been paying taxes which were too high and would vigorously resist any attempt to restore them to former levels," said Roy L. Stephens Jr., vice president of the Detroit Board of Education.

Stephens, speaking for the Michigan Association of School Boards, presented the school income tax plan at a hearing of the House Taxation Committee.

The tax would be added to Romney's proposed income taxes of 2 per cent on individuals, 3½ per cent on corporations and 5½ per cent on banks and other financial institutions.

It would be levied by intermediate school districts — made up of one or more counties — and proceeds would be collected by the state and earmarked for schools.

Stephens said the tax would yield about $120 million statewide.

ALBION (UPI) — An Albion man was stabbed five times in the chest and left in an alley to die last night near a row of taverns where he was believed to have been drinking.

Albion authorities said today several suspects had been questioned in the death of Rex Shaffer, 38, but no one was arrested.

Shaffer's body was discovered around 10:30 p.m. last night in a narrow alley off Austin Street in a West Side business district.

Police said during the scuffle with his assailant, Shaffer suffered several cuts and five knife wounds about the chest.

A few witnesses told police they saw Shaffer drinking in the nearby taverns earlier in the evening and, police said, his death apparently followed an argument.

20-Story Plunge by Workman Ends in Broken Ankle

DETROIT (UPI)—Rope burns, bruises and a broken ankle were all Glenn Roberts had to show today for a 20-story plunge down an open elevator shaft, the last four in a free-fall.

Roberts, no relations to the famous racing car driver, said he was working on the 20th floor of a new apartment building yesterday when he lost his balance and fell.

He twisted his body and grabbed a rope dangling down the shaft and fell 16 stories before the rope gave out and then fell the last four floors, breaking his ankle on impact.

Doctors at Receiving Hospital said Roberts was in good shape and would recover very well. When asked about his experience, Roberts said "I didn't enjoy it. All I saw was boards going by fast."

A fellow worker, on the ground floor, said he heard a thump and when he looked he saw Roberts, conscious and calm.

In Communist Battle

Russia Ahead of China?

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia appeared today to be besting Red China in the struggle to line up support among the world's Communist parties.

Even countries bordering on China — North Viet Nam and North Korea — still maintain economic ties with the Soviet Union.

This was made clear by the disclosure yesterday that both these nations had sent observers to a meeting of Comecon — the Kremlin's "common market" alignment.

★ ★ ★

Reds in Portugal and Britain already have called for a world conference of Communist leaders at which Peking presumably would be formally "excommunicated."

This is likely to occur, diplomatic observers said, in Moscow Nov. 7, during celebrations of the anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Reliable sources said the Nov. 7 celebrations will include a meeting of Communist leaders at which the split between Moscow and Peking probably will be formalized.

★ ★ ★

The Kremlin is trying to make predominant the pro-Moscow wings of Communist parties throughout the world, some of which are split between supporters of Mao Tse-tung and Nikita Khrushchev.

Use of Bases in France Offered Bonn by U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States is reliably reported to have offered West Germany the use of some American military supply bases in France, the New York Times said today.

A London dispatch described the invitation as the latest move in the competition between the United States and France for West German support.

Lake Superior is 21 feet higher than Lakes Huron and Michigan.

Rap of Gavel 'Ages' Girl Three Years

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — In the time it takes to rap a gavel, little Jeanine R. Mills aged three years yesterday and it didn't hurt one bit.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mills, adopted Jeanine four years ago from a Korean orphanage. Officials of the orphanage figured, on the basis of her size and weight, that the little girl was about 2. Her birth records had been destroyed and she had no living relatives.

Mills and his wife, in celebration of the happy occasion, selected Christmas day as the child's birthday. As the years passed, however, Jeanine displayed much more intelligence than the girls who were presumably her own age.

SUSPECTED MISTAKE

Her parents began to suspect the orphanage might have made a mistake in reckoning the child's age.

They enlisted the aid of a battery of dentists, doctors and teachers to see if they could more closely approximate Jeanine's age.

After extensive research the group determined the girl was at least 9 instead of 6.

A petition to change the child's age was made before Circuit Court Judge Raymond W. Starr. After due study, Starr granted the motion.

Jeanine's birthday was changed to March 17th and next year she will be 10. She might well be the only child in the world to have had a 15-month wait between birthdays.

After he rapped his gavel and granted the motion, Judge Starr, with a warm smile on his face, told Jeanine "If you were a few years older, you might be asking me to subtract a few years instead of adding."

Poles to Head Below Ground

Installation Prices on Phone Wires Down

High cost has been the big problem in burying electric power and telephone lines. But new underground installation prices are coming down.

Result: The eyesore and wire that clutter subdivision landscapes may one day disappear.

As examples of reductions in installation costs there are some developments: Arizona public Service Co. now charges about $120 a lot for underground wiring — down 80 per cent from five years ago.

Southern California Edison Co. has cut charges to $150 a lot — about half what they were five years ago. Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in northern California is now charging less than $400 a lot.

Fifteen years ago PG&E's equivalent installations were price-tagged as high as $1,000.

Houston Lighting and Power Co., which has just begun to offer underground installation service, is already charging less than $400 a lot.

Even so, most builders around the country have to pay much more. Underground wiring in St. Louis is a premium $1,000 a lot; in San Antonio and Memphis it runs $500; in Seattle the price is as much as $500.

There are several signs for the future. Less than three years ago, a survey among power companies showed many which refused to do underground wiring at any price.

Today, most offer at least some kind of minimum underground service; those that still do not are giving the subject very serious thought.

Goldwater Will Decide

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) —Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., says he will "'have to decide shortly after the first of the year" whether to run for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

"As of now, I'm not a candidate," Goldwater told newsmen yesterday after making a lunch speech.

R. Kennedy Hit on Disclosures

Commissioner Leo J. Mulachy protested Friday that Kennedy released information on the death of Vincent J. Squillante before notifying Connecticut police.

Premature releases, Mulcahy said, make it more difficult to develop a successful solution to a crime.

Kennedy said Wednesday he had information that Squillante, an underworld figure, was taken to Connecticut by mobsters and killed.

Diabetics Case Solved by DBI

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Often it's difficult to persuade an elderly person to change his or her diet, even when doing so is all that is needed to control diabetes.

In such cases, reports Dr. Georgiana Faludi of Hahnemann Medical College, oral drugs provide the answer. For overweight diabetics and those who tend to gain weight, Dr. Faludi suggests the drug DBI (phenformin) as the medicine of choice. Unlike insulin, DBI does not convert blood sugar to fat.

Teens to Learn at Charm Class

The Montgomery Ward store in Pontiac Mall has been picked for a pilot program of a new customer service—a "Wendy Ward" finishing school for teen-age girls.

The school is an outgrowth of "Charm Time for Teens," a successful fashion program that has been offered for the past two years at Ward stores in the metropolitan area.

The finishing school, a six-week series of lectures and do-it-yourself demonstrations, is the brainchild of two ex-models, Loretta Weller and Barbara Loren.

★ ★ ★

"Our idea is to make finishing school instruction available to the mass of teens who could not otherwise afford it," explained Mrs. Loren.

The course, which opens at the Mall store Oct. 12 is the first of the half-dozen 90-minute-long Saturday classes.

Teen-age girls from 12½ to 18 will learn fundamentals of good grooming, poise and personality adjustment. A kit of materials is included in registration charges.

If the trial proves popular, Wards intends to institute it on a national basis. Similar programs for teen-age boys, adults, and expectant mothers are also being contemplated.

Consulting Firm Is Formed in Oakland County

Formation of a consulting firm specializing in marketing communications has been announced by Jack H. deKruif, 32960 Franklin Road, Franklin, one of the principals.

To be known as deKruif, Pfaff & Davis, Inc., the firm has opened offices at 1891 Woodward, Bloomfield Hills. Other partners are Bill Pfaff, 29498 Sugar Spring, Farmington Township, and Robert C. Davis, 27611 Lahser, Southfield.

Davis formerly was an account executive, and has been associated with CBS Television and Vanguard Advertising. Pfaff was a General Motors art director, and most recently, art director for Vanguard Advertising.

Former assistant director of marketing for Hughes Aircraft Co., deKruif has also served as markting and sales vice president at Warner Electric Brake and Clutch, and Tann Corp.

Summer Business Drop Not Marked in Pontiac

The traditional summer business slowdown was not clearly noticeable in the city of Pontiac during August, as most business indicators were mixed.

Pontiac banks reported that transactions through customer accounts during the month totaled $110,750,385, up $2.7 million over July, and increased an impressive $10 million over the same month a year ago.

Industrial payrolls, however, continued a slight decline for the second straight month, mainly due to temporary layoffs at General Motors plants going through model changeover. Yet August's payroll total was $1 million greater than the same 1962 period.

Continuing to fluctuate, the number of building permits issued in the city dropped to 157, six less than in July. But the amount is still greater than August 1962's 131 permits.

Value of construction, about half for new dwellings, amounted to $454,073. This is about $137,000 less than two months ago and less than half for the same month in 1962.

BUS PATRONS DOWN

Bus patronage declined again, to 53,254, mainly due to lack of student riders for the summer. Yet there were fewer riders than in the comparable period of the month before, or a year ago.

The number of outbound passengers at Pontiac Municipal Airport continued to inch upward, however, as 48 persons departed in August on North Central Airlines planes. This is three more than in July.

Postal receipts were down sharply to $131,785 from July's $149,046, yet are almost the same as August 1962.

Statistics on August business trends were reported by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, city water and inspection departments, Pontiac post office, Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., Pontiac Transit Corp., North Central Airlines and Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Scarlet Ribbons' Red?

Where Have All the Blue Chips Gone?

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An organization called the Fire and Police Research Association of Los Angeles recently demanded a congressional investigation of folk music.

And Sen. Kenneth B. Keating, R - N.Y., is pretty burned up about it.

KEATING

Keating whose constituency embraces some of the major hotbeds of American folk singing, prepared a speech taking issue with the association's charge that "hootenannies" are having a subversive influence on the youth of the country.

* * *

Defending "the right of everyone to sing out as well as speak out whenever the spirit moves him," the senator said that folk music by its nature is "grounded in movements of political, economic and social unrest."

Such music originated among sharecroppers, miners, factory workers, cowboys, hillbillies and the like, he noted.

They could hardly be expected to sing the praises of "such symbols of orthodoxy as the gold standard, the oil depletion allowance, and the standing ruled of the United States Senate," he said.

NEW POTENTIAL

Now I have no desire to get involved in a feud between a senator and a group of fire and police researchers, but it seems to me that Keating has indirectly pointed out a tremendous new potential in the folk singing field.

As soon as I can brush up on my guitar strumming, I plan to go on the road with an act billed as "The Wall Street Folk Singer." Wall Street has a veritable gold mine of folklore that, musically speaking, is virtually untapped.

For example, "The Crash of '29" would make a dandy title for a folk song, being almost as dramatically disastrous as the sinking of the Titanic.

* * *

"Investors and their cousins
"Leaped from windows by the dozens.

"It was sad when the stock market went down."

Boys, Girls Promoted

Mark Sunday School Week

Sunday Schools of Pontiac area churches will join with those throughout the country in observing National Sunday School Week Sunday through Oct. 6.

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, has consistently emphasized that children and young people who are brought up in the Sunday School seldom end up in the judge's chambers.

Pulitzer Prize winning editorial cartoonist Vaughn Shoemaker, a Sunday School teacher himself, says "Sunday School was important in my life, for most of what I learned about living was taught me by the words and deeds of my Sunday School teachers."

* * *

The late Circuit Court Judge H. Russel Holland once said "My initial impression of Heaven was gained as a child from my first Sunday School teacher. Her brief definition has lingered with me and is more understandable and comforting than more orthodox ones."

Children of the Jewish Faith receive training in religious schools and those of the Catholic Faith are taught daily in parochial schools.

GRACE LUTHERAN

Sunday will be Rally Day at Grace Lutheran Church with Rev. Richard Stuckmeyer preaching and conducting a service of consecration of the Sunday School staff and children at both the 9 and 11 a.m. worship hours.

The executive board of the Women's Association will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday. Several women of the group will attend the Presbyterial session at Immanual Presbyterian Church in Detroit Wednesday.

Those who are participating in the newly instituted program of friendship calling will get together at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday before going out to visit residents. All church members are invited to share in the program, Pastor Palmer said.

MARIMONT

Tomorrow is Promotion Day at Marimont Baptist Sunday School. At the close of classes pupils will be introduced to their new teachers.

Those assisting as heads of departments and officers of the Sunday School for the coming year will be Mrs. Cliff Smades, Mrs. Pauline Williams, Mrs. Rose McCellan, Mrs. Donna Gavette, and Mr. and Mrs. Rod Attwater.

Waterford Community Sponsoring 'Mr. Texas'

Redd Harper or Mr. Texas as he is known to thousands because he played that role in the Billy Graham film of the same name, will be in the Waterford Community Church, Airport and Olympic Parkway at 7:30 p.m. both Thursday and Friday.

★ ★ ★

The cowboy preacher relays his message with the help of guitar and singing. Among the songs he has written are "Each Step of the Way," "Lord, Keep Your Hand on Me," "A Quiet Time," and "I Walk the Glory Road."

"Redd led a full life in the entertainment field before he decided to devote and dedicate his life to God. It all came about when he attended some meetings of the Hollywood Christian Group of which Roy Rogers was then president," said Pastor Robert D. Winne.

He went on to say the meetings gave Harper a vision of what his songs, music and writing talents could accomplish in the religious field.

Redd Harper grew up in the Southwest spending most of his early life in the saddle. Instead of being a cowhand he favored the life of the newspaperman and attended the University of Oaklahoma.

★ ★ ★

Pastor Winne said the public is invited and the nursery will be open for small children.

Failure Would Ruin 'Image'

Will GOP Stop Romney Tax?

By JIM DYGERT

Despite their evident dislike for Gov. George Romney's tax reform program, it's hard to believe that conservative Republican legislators will try seriously to scuttle it when the chips are down.

They won't be eager to crimp the rise to national prestige of the brightest Republican star in many a Michigan moon.

★ ★ ★

But he's talking about the possible dire result of his program's succeeding — his getting blamed for a new state income tax.

Any bad effects on Romney's reputation and future, however, would come not from his program's success, but its failure.

In the national perspective, success would mean credit for modernizing Michigan's mystifying tax system against stiff odds rather than blame for imposing a new tax.

IF HE FAILS

But, if he fails, what would happen to his growing stature could make a stock market crash look like a minor slip.

Well aware of this, GOP conservatives will aim more for revisions to soften the impact on Republican pockets than at complete defeat for the controversial program or its most vital plank, a state personal and corporate income tax.

Romney admits that his program, though not designed to up taxes in general, will mean slightly higher taxes for middle and high income groups, an approach that seldom occasions Republican ecstacy.

★ ★ ★

Conservatives are dead set against a state income tax without a popular vote. Some, such as Senate Taxation Committe Chairman Clyde Geerlings, R-Holland, want no such tax at all.

Other Republicans, however, strongly support Romney's proposals, especially the "moderates," including State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, who control the Senate GOP majority. They agree an income tax is unavoidably essential to tax reform.

But no one knows better than the "moderates" that, despite Democratic support, the road ahead is rocky. "We've got to reconcile some differences," Roberts says. "The votes are not there now."

Many GOP lawmakers are of the same mind as State Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Hills, who says, "There will have to be some modifications before I can vote for it."

Mindful of an income tax's unpopularity in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area that contributes most of the power and money to his district as well as the entire state GOP, Hogan is leery about the personal income tax proposal.

"Unlike the federal income tax," he says, "it doesn't take expenses into account."

Even Democrats, whose enthusiasm exceeds the GOP's since they have long favored an income tax, still find plenty of flaws.

Those in Detroit, led by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, are particularly aghast at the program's local option income tax provisions, which they claim will mean a $10-million annual loss for their city.

Despite Geerlings' presence in the Senate, most trouble is anticipated in the House, where conservatives have more strength.

REDUCTION

One of the most likely changes is a reduction in the personal income tax from Romney's 2 per cent to 1 per cent. Local ontion tax provisions also will be revamped, a move to which Romney agreed after talking with Cavanagh and Wayne County officials.

Maneuvers to revise the program into a shape both acceptable and worthwhile, however, could result in a bogging down that might kill fiscal reform, and darken Romney's future. Hogan gives the program a 50-50 chance, but "only if it gets through quickly."

Concerned or not about his political future, Romney will have to keep his men on their toes if he is to end up with significant improvement in the tax structure to correct inequities, stimulate business and provide adequate revenue for state and local governments.

When all the thrashing is over, however, he most likely will get it, thanks to: A coalition of Democrats and moderate Republicans; a constitutional amendment proposal to limit the income tax; reluctance of Republicans to shoot down the Romney meteor; and public support.

This last, which the governor is seeking to generate in a whirlwind schedule of citizen meetings, probably would be based more on backing for Romney personally than on any true understanding of his program or deep-down belief that it's the right one.

Even if Democrats should accuse the governor of lack of leadership in his own party in his need for their support, they will little dim the resultant burst of increasing brightness in Romney's already glistening national image.

At First Congregational

Plays Recital on New Casavant Organ

Charles A. Wilson, minister of music at the First Congregational Church, will present a dedicatory recital on the new Casavant organ at 8:15 p.m. Wednesday. The public is cordially invited to attend.

★ ★ ★

In recognition of Mr. Wilson's 25 years of service as minister of music, members of the church will honor him at the parish dinner preceding the recital.

Mr. Wilson graduated from the University of Kansas where he received his masters of music degree, then attended the Westminster Choir College at Princeton, N.J., where he studied organ with Carl Weinrich.

Later, he studied with the great French organist, Joseph Bonnet. Mr. Wilson is also director of music at Temple Beth Jacob.

Mr. Wilson will play "Noel Sur Les Jeux d'Anches" by Daquin, "Trio Sonata No. 3 in D Minor (Adagio e dolce)" by J. S. Bach and "Prelude and Fugue in D Major" by J. S. Bach.

Other selections will be "Prelude on Brother Janes' Air" by Searle Wright, "Prelude on a Hebrew Melody (Yigdal)" by Carl F. Mueller and "Greensleeves" by R. Vaughan Williams.

★ ★ ★

The recital numbers will also include "Epilogue in a Theme" by Frescobaldi for pedal solo by Jean Langlais and "Suite Breve" with numbers "Grand Jeux," "Cantilene," "Plainte" and "Dialogue on the Mixtures," also by Jean Langlais.

PASTOR TO PRESIDE

Rev. Malcom K. Burton will conduct the dedication service.

CHARLES A. WILSON

The Casavant organ was selected for its tone quality, excellence of materials, and installation. It was custom built for the Congregational Church by Casavant Freres Limitee, of St. Hyacinthe, Quebec.

When the organ was installed, the Great Organ and the Pedal Pipes were cantilevered out directly into the sanctuary, thus increasing the power of the organ and the clarity of tone.

Members and friends wishing to attend the dinner, at 6:30 p.m., may secure tickets from Mrs. Elwood Bigler, or call the church office.

Dr. Alfred Grey, guest pastor, will preach on "Our Finest Hours" Sunday morning. Mrs. Carl Leonard will sing "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Members of the congregation wishing to attend the State Association Meeting of Congregational Churches in Grand Rapids on Oct. 12 should make reservations for the chartered bus at the church office by Oct. 7.

Hosts for Convention

Members of the Apostolic Faith Tabernacle, 93 Parkdale, will be hosts for the Michigan State Convention of the denomination Thursday through Saturday. Elder Ernest Wardell will preside. Ministers from other states will be present to take part in discussions and preach.

Chimney and Roof Repairs

The repair men who just happen to be in your neighborhood and to notice your chimney needs repairs; definitely needs to be fixed before you put your furnace on. Also he observes a few shingles need replacing or the gutters are clogged with leaves and the flashings need a little paint here and there. He even offers to guarantee the work. You get the impression the job is quite simple and the cost not so great—until you come to pay the bill. It may be anywhere from thirty to a hundred dollars and if the job doesn't hold up you can't find the "guarantor."

Cleaning the flues and putting your furnace in good condition for winter goes hand-in-hand with the "roofer" and "chimney expert." Sometimes he takes your furnace apart and discovers how much "repairs" it needs or even a new furnace is required. Why take chances like that? There are a number of local reputable firms dealing in "heating," "roofing," etc. Call a reliable firm and get an estimate.

Let Him Chase Girls

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: A neighbor asked me to write for her as she can't write English.

Here is her problem: Her husband is 76 and retired. She is 62.

Last May they attended a convention. Her husband is such a playboy she had to shift for herself while he ran after girls young enough to be his daughters.

ABBY

Her question is, should she go to another one of these conventions scheduled in October? She doesn't know whether to go and be hurt again, or to stay home and let him go alone and have the good time he doesn't deserve.

A FRIEND

DEAR FRIEND: A 76-year-old playboy is only running for the exercise. Tell your friend to go along. She'd be more miserable at home wondering what the old coot was up to.

DEAR ABBY: I feel like a highlight on the local sightseeing tour. My husband and I have a lovely new home, of which we are very proud, but his mother has gone overboard about it.

She brings all the visiting firemen to go through my house without even calling to tell me they are coming. I have small children and the usual chores to do, but that doesn't bother her.

She appears with the sightseers at all hours. Should I sell tickets, or tell her that appointments must be made in advance, or what?

Please don't print my name, or my HEAD will be on display with the rest of the house.

"HATES SURPRISES"

DEAR "HATES": Tell your mother-in-law that you don't mind being an attraction on her sight-seeing tour, but you don't like surprise visits. Ask her please to give you at least three hours' notice.

DEAR ABBY: You always say that a wife should not convict her husband on circumstantial evidence. Just because she happens to find a hairpin in his pocket, or lipstick on his handkerchief, you say is no reason to lose trust in him.

Well, I sure disagree with you 100%. Where there's smoke, there's fire. My old man swore on his mother's grave that he was true to me. I found out later that he was lying.

TRUST FOOL

DEAR TRUSTING: You win a few, lose a few. I still say, don't let the smoke get in your eyes.

What's on your mind? For a personal reply, send a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Jacoby on Bridge

By OSWALD JACOBY

The transfer bid is not perfect, but it is remarkable to note the steady record of its success. When it does fail to produce a winning result the reason is most likely to be a mistake by its user, not a defect in the bid itself.

However, the Eastern experts have worked out a defense against the bid and I can report on the defense and its results. I have been transfering for 10 years. The defense has come up exactly three times in that period. Twice it made no difference in the final result. The other time it fixed me.

JACOBY

North's double of two hearts showed hearts. If he held hearts, diamonds and clubs he would have bid two spades. After I bid two spades in the East seat Jackie Begin of Montreal who held the South cards bid three hearts. West bid four spades and North saved at five hearts. The game was duplicate and all I could do was to double.

Jackie had a few anxious moments in the play. She had to hold the loss to two tricks and we cashed two spade tricks right off the bat. Then I shifted to the nine of diamonds. Jackie took the diamond finesse and her first hurdle had been passed. A trump lost to my ace and I led a second diamond which was won by South's ace.

This gave her a minus score of 300 points, but most East-West pairs bid and made four spades for a score of 420.

About 2 Million Homes Are Resold Each Year

Resales account for roughly two-thirds of the three million single-family homes sold each year.

Many of these older homes are good values because they can be modernized with easy-to-handle materials such as fiberboard ceiling tiles and gypsum wallboard.

Briton Tells of Near Death by Viet Reds

SAIGON (AP)—Alan Darby, 25, an English school teacher, told a newsman at Nha Trang, Viet Nam, that he barely escaped execution last weekend when he and a Scottish companion were captured by Communist guerrillas who apparently mistook Darby for an American.

Darby's companion, Duncan J. Kinnaird, 28, was wounded by submachine gun fire when the two tried to escape from a guerrilla who had stopped their motorcycle on a beach 40 miles east of Saigon.

SPOKE FRENCH

"By their gestures," he said, "it was obvious they soon decided to execute me." Darby said he started speaking French and convinced them he was not an American.

* * *

When a U.S. helicopter flew over and scared off the guerrillas, Darby went back to the beach where he and Kinnaird were picked up by the copter.

Top Designers Double Function of Every Foot

Today's top designer's handle the creeping cost of living space by doubling the function of every cubic foot: the newest homes use woodgrain finishes, new Formica laminates to "open" the kitchen onto family quarters; sliding doors and overhead skylights to move the outdoors indoors (and double its function and volume). Gone are such space grabbers as the old-fashioned attic.

background for LIVING

Pontiac Press Photos by Edward E. Noble

LAKESIDE VIEW — Typical of Spanish architecture is the curving stairway that leads to the upper level. When there's entertaining going on, the Stollmans turn on the water that plays over the imported marble pool. The arched french doors lead from the living room, dining room and breakfast area. Hand-carved spindled balconies are outside almost all of the bedrooms. There's truly an Old World flavor in this estate in its almost out of Waterford Township.

IN ENTRANCE HALL—With the first step into the big 15-by 15-foot entrance hall of the Stollman mansion, the visitor is attracted to this corner fireplace at the far end. At the other end of the foyer is a deep archway that leads to a wrought-iron circular stair. The hand-hewn beams throughout the entire house have been painted by hand.

HIGH, WIDE AND HANDSOME — That oriental carpet stretches out more than 35 feet from the entrance to the ceiling-high fireplace and is 20 feet wide. There are two more feet of floor space all around the colorful carpet. At the top of the picture is the underside of the open upstairs balcony. This room is down three quarry tiled steps and through a wide arch. Heavy pale green draperies were used in the living room and entrance hall.

CEILING'S HAND-PAINTED—It took workmen months to hand paint each of the many octogons in the ceiling of the big dining hall. Golds, pale blues and greens are blended with soft rose hues. The oversized dining-room chairs are upholstered in pale green velvet and blend with the red tile floor and colorful center piece.

Touch of Spain at Lake Angelus

By REBA HEINTZELMAN
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Ever get the feeling you'd like to wander through a magificent Spanish villa, examine the furnishings and ponder the historical background of the mansion?

With the exception of upstairs bedrooms and the great hall-type living room, dark red quarry tile was used on all of the floors in the 22 high-ceilinged rooms. This includes 12 bedroom suites and eight bathrooms.

Three steps down through a wide arch into the living room, an imported custom-made oriental carpet stretches 35 feet towards the floor - to - ceiling Spanish-type fireplace. Then there are two feet more of satiny wood showing all around the carpet.

Soft olive greens, brilliant reds, blues and yellows recall the flamboyant use of colors so prevalent in homes of Spanish nobility. Heavy, carved doors and furniture pieces could never fit into today's new home decor, but they must have served their purpose during the days of grand-scale parties.

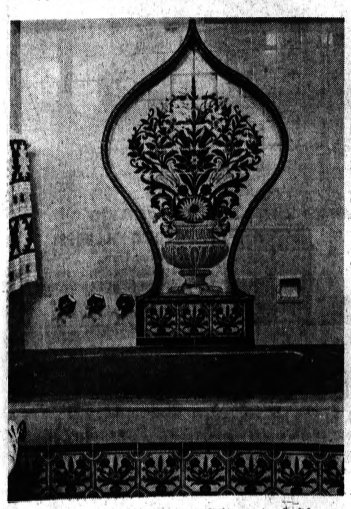

The mansion has innumerable arches, outside balconies, curved stairways and imported marble statues. The stucco-type exterior has nary a crack. The inside tile flooring was extended on out to an elegant patio with a solid marble pool centered by a cherub statue.

SCENE FROM BALCONY—The hand painting in the huge supporting timbers of the Stollmans' living room is almost indescribable. The photographer took this shot from the upstairs balcony at one end of the hall-type living room. Twenty-four lights in two imported custom-made chandeliers are suspended from the two main cross beams. The scene from the balcony is breathtaking, so subtly have the colors and wood been melted together.

UNIQUE SOAP HOLDER—One of the most colorful spots in the Stollmans' mansion is this 4-inch-deep ornamental area above the bathtub. Imported from England, each tile had to be painted individually, then fired and glazed to be assembled in the Stollmans' home.

SPANISH VILLA—The red tiled roof of the Stollmans' 22-room mansion peeks out from behind old trees, and a lovely statue stands in the middle of the huge courtyard. The house is situated on eight well-landscaped acres facing Lake Angelus, and the grounds have been enhanced with terraces, cement and wrought-iron furniture. During the summer months, water splashes down over the cherub statue in a small pool in the center of the courtyard, adding more of the Spanish atmosphere. Huge evergreen trees fold down around the house like giant eyelashes.

It's an Old English Favorite

Golden Mosa is a fine English favorite so named because its sprays of lemon-yellow flowers closely resemble the well-known Mimosa.

Not only are the large plume-like flower sprays most pleasing, its foliage also takes on a soft yellow tint or glow as well, contributing to a fine splash of pleasing soft yellow during August and September.

Never over 3 feet high, don't miss it. This is one of the most popular summer flowering plants in English gardens.

2 More Bombs Explode in Strife-Torn Madrid

MADRID (UPI) — Two more bombs exploded last night in the center of this capital, capping a week of antigovernment terrorist activities.

Ten explosions have been set off since last Saturday. There have been no injuries. Last night's blasts were placed in front of a Spanish news agency office and near the Iberian Bank.

Grandma's Washday Blues

'Good Old Days' Weren't

Fluted washboards, copper boilers and wooden wash tubs may not mean much to you, but to Grandma they are reminiscent of the "good old days"—but were they so good?

In the past 100 years, laundering practices have changed a great deal, and thank goodness!

If you could look back on yesterday's Monday, you would cringe at the sight of Grandma toting wood, building fires, pumping and carrying water, cutting up soap, boiling clothes, scrubbing and hanging clothes to dry out in the backyard. This all-day chore was drudgery.

★ ★ ★

Then, came the revolution.

In 1907, the Maytag company produced its "Pastime" with a wooden dolly that dragged the clothes against the corrugated sides of the tub. But Grandma still had to hand-crank the agitator.

WAYS TO APPLY POWER

During the next three decades, American manufacturers found ways to apply power to every part of the washing process. Power was applied to the dolly to provide flexing action.

The power wringer removed water from the clothes more easily. Then, it was found that water could be extracted from the clothes by spinning the wash basket.

This evolved into the first automatic washer, a tumble type introduced in 1937. With it you were able to wash, rinse and damp dry clothes.

★ ★ ★

Following the Second World War, technological advances made an amazing array of new products possible.

The agitator-type automatic washer was designed.

LAUNDERING RECIPES

They have developed the six proper laundering recipes that cover all of your wash loads: wash-and-wear, woolens, delicate fabrics, white cottons and linens, colored cottons and linens, and bright colored items.

Families that have longed to live in the country can now count on having an automatic home laundry, a dishwasher and a hot water heating system even in the remotest rural areas.

This is made possible by the skill and experience of local water system dealers.

CITY CONVENIENCE

From a drilled well, says the Water Systems Council, the competent water systems dealer (often a plumbing contractor) can provide a home beyond city water mains with all the conveniences of an unrestricted water supply.

A properly designed private water system takes no back seat to a municipal or community water supply. As more and more families choose to live in rural or suburban areas, it will be their private water system that makes their country home healthful and enjoyable.

Because the water system dealer supplies the proper pump for getting water from the well to the house, it's a good idea to discuss all plans for water usage with him.

If you think that you will want a swimming pool, an extremely large garden, or a rambling lawn, these points should be covered in detail in a meeting with the water systems dealer.

It's also important to let him know how many bathrooms you will have as well as the number of water-using appliances.

★ ★ ★

When he has collected all pertinent information, your water systems dealer will provide exactly the right pump for your particular needs.

Wilting Roses? Search for Insects

If there are holes in the stems of your rose plants, the driller probably was the carpenter bee or the curled European sawfly.

These insects bore into the stem and feed on the pith inside. Eventually the stem wilts and dies.

When you spot such borings, cut off affected stems below where the insect has imbedded. If you don't, the pest will dig deeper.

When you prune your roses in the spring, paint the cut end of each cane with a tree wound dressing or sealer or black asphalt paint to close the stem and prevent borers and other insects from entering.

An all-purpose spray containing Malathion or DDT will help reduce stem borer trouble, but you will have to spray regularly (weekly) to make the protection effective.

WEATHER DECIDES

This is the peak time for arguments about whether spring or fall planting of roses is best.

The referee is the weather: fall planting produces better results in moderately cold states; spring planting is best in areas of early and severe winters.

And where the winters are warm or mild, Dr. R.C. Allen, executive secretary of the American Rose Society, recommends planting in the winter when bushes are most dormant.

Among advantages to fall planting:

- Plants are freshly dug at the nursery when they are beginning to rest.
- Soil conditions are good, and the average suburban gardener has more time. Thus, when spring arrives, the plants are ready for natural growth.

★ ★ ★

Garden Lovers' Tour Set

A South Seas tour for garden enthusiasts will leave San Francisco by Qantas jet Nov. 6 for New Zealand, where the group will be honored guests at the annual New Zealand Rose Society Convention Show.

The convention, to be held in Wellington, is expected to attract rose fanciers from all over the world. The meeting's highlight will be the introduction and naming of a new rose by famed hybridizer Sam McGrady of Northern Ireland.

The 27-day tour also will visit Australia and the Fiji Islands. Meetings have been arranged in both Melbourne and Sydney so that the American visitors will be able to compare notes with members of the local rose societies.

★ ★ ★

In all three countries there will be tours of botanical gardens, parks and private gardens in addition to the leading scenic attractions. Margaret E. Coon, managing editor of American Rose Magazine, is the tour leader.

Two extensions to the tour are available, nine days in Tahiti or two weeks in Hong Kong and Japan. Folders are available from Mrs. Coon at American Rose Magazine, 4048 Roselea Place in Columbus, Ohio.

Senate-Approved Amendment

Building Exec Blasts Lumber Marking

WASHINGTON—W. Evans Buchanan, President of the National Association of Home Builders, has protested a Senate - approved amendment which would require all imported lumber to be marked by the country of origin.

* * *

He said the amendment, tacked on to a House-passed bill, "is the first step in a legislative program proposed by the lumber industry to limit the supply of lumber in the United States for all FHA-VA housing." He said this could lead housing and, if possible, for all to a rise in house prices.

The NAHB President said his association opposes "this type of artificially created price rise in construction materials" because "if it can be done for lumber, why not for hardware, nails, tile and other materials that go into a house and from time to time may be imported?"

He urged NAHB members to voice their protests to members of a Senate-House Conference Committee which must decide whether to retain the amendment in the bill.

PROTEST TO JFK

He also invited them to lodge their protests with President Kennedy, who will have to sign or veto the eventual legislation.

Buchanan pointed out that letters of protest probably would not come to Mr. Kennedy's personal attention but would reach his immediate advisers who will be faced with the question of recommending whether the bill be signed or vetoed.

The amendment, aimed at cutting down Canadian lumber imports, was sponsored by Sen. Warren G. Magnuson (D. Wash.) Buchanan said it was approved by a voice vote when relatively few Senators were on the floor.

* * *

He declared that in today's competitive market any increase in the price of softwood lumber, the kind imported from Canada, will cause a rise in the cost of housing.

Buchanan warned, too, that higher costs will encourage builders to make greater use of construction materials such as plastics, aluminum, steel and other lumber-substitutes.

Price of Glass Is Reduced to Stimulate Use

Prices of heavy duty plate glass at the manufacturer's level has been reduced an average of one-third by Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass Company in a move to stimulate even greater usage of large glass areas in building construction.

The price reduction, according to Roy W. Anderson, plate glass sales manager, applies to the company's complete line of heavy duty plate glass in thickness greater than a quarter inch, including the grey and bronze glasses used for reduction of glare and absorption of direct solar heat.

The reduction in heavy duty polished plate glass prices is a reversal of the trend of most building products. Building bricks and concrete ingredients for example, are higher than the 1957-1959 base period, according to the Bureau of Labor Statistics, Department of Labor.

With the price reduction, heavy duty plate glass is at 63 per cent of the base period.

Quarter-inch plate glass is at 83.8 per cent, with building brick at 106.4 and concrete ingredients at 103 per cent. All construction materials average 98.1 per cent.

Utility Man Has Ideas on Pleasing Housewives

If you're modernizing, remodeling or building a home, your kitchen or laundry planning may be helped by consultation with the utility company's engineering services. They will apply the latest ideas and appliances in designing such rooms and they will diagram the most effective work arrangement of cabinets and equipment.

Interior Is Enhanced by Simulated Brick

Simulated brick walls, when they look realistic, can be effective interior decoration. The American Home magazine reports in its October issue on a new line of feather-light bricks for such use that look just like the real thing.

Although the standard size and pattern — 1 foot long and 3 inches wide — the bricks are only three-eighths of an inch thick. They can be applied with adhesive to any reasonably rigid clean surface and no foundation is required.

They are available in both new-brick (Americana) and used brick (Colonial) finishes.

Windows Enhance Value of Building

Leading architects long have recognized the aesthetic value of walls of glass in opening the interior of buildings to the outside world.

Good Project for Dad Is Sportsman Corner

A sportsman's corner, designed by hunting and fishing experts to meet the needs of outdoorsmen and styled by furniture craftsmen to satisfy the requirements of your home, is the perfect project for Dad.

Detailed instructions in an available free plan provide all necessary data. All materials are readily available at local lumber and building materials dealers.

A good-looking sportsman's corner provides a place to work, safe storage for valuable equipment and a rack for magazines. Fishhooks, knives and ammunition can be locked away, out of reach of small children.

Handsome racks effectively display rods and guns. A long work table provides an efficient place for jobs like tying, rod winding, reel oiling and gun cleaning. There's also good lighting.

Both the cabinets and table are covered with durable Marlite paneling, which has a baked plastic finish that is highly resistant to hard wear.

Plastic-surfaced hardboard is washable, and it doesn't require any finishing. In the free plan, woodgrain Marlite is used on the cabinets, with plain white being used for the table top.

★ ★ ★

Handymen may obtain a free copy of the sportsman's corner plan by writing a post card to Home Service Bureau, Marsh Wall Products, Dover, Ohio. Ask for plan No. 102.

French Provincial Popular in America

The current popularity of French Provincial decor in decorating is making news even in the kitchen. According to the October issue of The American Home magazine, a new Provincial built-in oven is on the market now and is available in two finishes: Satin white with white porcelain-enamel handle and a white and gold control panel and control knobs. The same model also comes in coppertone.

Aged Homebuyers Up

During the next ten years the number of people reaching age 65 will rise sharply, say housing authorities at Allied Chemical's Barrett Division. These senior citizens represent a growing share of the prospective homebuyers who desire smaller, easier to maintain homes with fire-safe features, such as gypsum wallboard and asphalt shingles.

MODEST ELEGANCE — A portico with stately columns draws attention to the front entry which in turn visually minimizes the difference in grade levels in this economical bilevel home. The house contains up to four bedrooms and 2½ baths in dimensions of 52 feet wide by 29 feet 5 inches deep.

Hold Clinic for Pilots on Instrument Flying

Pontiac Municipal Airport will be the scene of much activity today during an instrument flying clinic for civilian pilots.

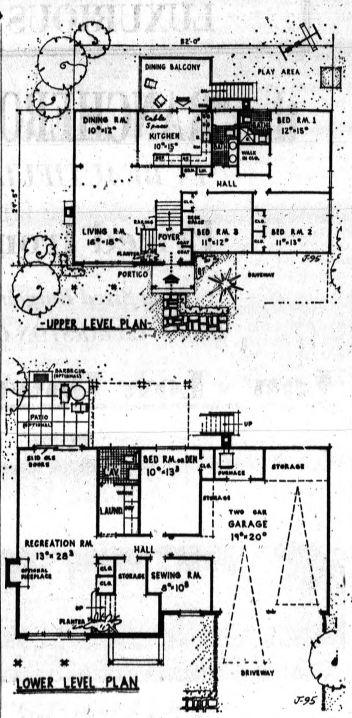

The clinic, which helps pilots to fully understand their instruments in case of possible landings in bad weather conditions, is cosponsored by the Michigan Aeronautics Department and American Owners and Pilots Association.

Eighteen area pilots are enrolled in the clinic.

They Dry It in the Sun

Thirteen million American homemakers who own automatic clothes washers still carry wet laundry to the basement or back yard clothesline to dry.

The Harlem section of New York City is the largest Negro community in the country with a 6.6 square mile area and 336,000 inhabitants.

FLOOR PLANS—The living area on the main level totals 1,396 square feet with a bonus area of 765 square feet (excluding garage and storage) on the lower level. Garage and storage areas total 508 square feet. The architect is Herman H. York.

Sweet-Scented Pink Has Silvery Foliage

Dianthus is a new sweet-scented pink. It has glorious silvery foliage which shows up well during the winter months. It begins to flower in spring and continues during the entire summer and autumn.

Flower stems are stiff and the colors bright. Picking the flowers encourages more bloom. Plants grow compactly.

● Blanche — Pure white and highly fragrant, good stiff stems. Growth is orderly and neat. A fine, fully double, white companion for this group of perpetual-flowering pinks.

● Doris — Delicate salmon-pink with deeper pink eye. The full semidouble flower is large and of a perfect shape as well as extremely fragrant. It has a husky, upright habit and very perpetual flowering.

● Helen — Nicely shaped plants produce deep salmon-shaded flowers on husky stiff stems by the dozens. Not only a lovely color but free flowering and an exceptionally good grower.

● Ian — Deep rich velvety-red. The almost black shading at outer edge of petals makes it most unusual. This deep dark coloring and shading is not seen very often in flowers.

★ ★ ★

● Robin — Bright vermilion with brilliant orange glow, but poorly describes the color of this lovely fully double flower. They sort of "light up" the spot where they are growing. It blooms prolifically. Plants well formed with good stiff flower stems. One of the best.

Near Clarkston

Area Model Homes Open

Two furnished model homes are ready for viewing at a new 63-home development on Waldon, a mile east of the Village of Clarkston, in Independence Township.

The ranch-style houses, priced from $14,390 to $18,190, are being built by Aristocrat Building Co. of Detroit.

Lots are one half acre or larger in the development that once was an apple orchard. The builders intend to retain as many apple trees as possible.

Among the features of the new houses will be a bath and one half, two car attached garage, family room, built-in oven and range in the kitchens and face brick.

SPACIOUS FORMALITY — An open railing provides a glamorous balcony at the main entry foyer in this handsome living room. The dining room is at the rear, and the two rooms combined span the full depth of the house. The door at right leads to the kitchen.

Stately Facade Hides Economical Features

Architect Herman H. York designed the house specifically to provide economical living for a family of six or seven.

He selected bilevel design because of the large amount of living area this type construction provides within limited dimensions.

And in York's view "There's no reason why a modest-size home can't be nice looking and fun to live in as well as economical."

★ ★ ★

The house contains up to four bedrooms, 2½ baths, living room, dining room, kitchen, recreation room, laundry, hobby room, two-car garage and plenty of storage space—all within a tidy perimeter of 52 feet by 29 feet, five inches deep.

J95 Statistics

A bilevel with four bedrooms, 2½ baths, living room, kitchen, recreation room, laundry, hobby room, two-car garage, covered portico, dining porch. Upper level contains 1,396 square feet of living area; lower level 765 square feet; garage and storage areas 508 square feet. Over-all dimensions 52 feet wide by 29 feet 5 inches deep.

MAIN LEVEL

The main level contains 1,396 square feet of living area.

But the basement is raised out of the ground sufficiently so that what normally would be gloomy cellar space becomes bright, airy and livable, providing what amounts to a bonus of 765 additional square feet of living area.

Because the main level is raised, most bilevels fail to provide for outdoor living where it's needed most. The dining deck solves this problem.

The mid-entry foyer of this house also is unusual. The main stair, a full five feet wide, is divided at right angles, with an open railing at the living room.

The closed feeling typical of so many split-entry foyers is eliminated; instead there is a sense of spaciousness.

ADDITIONAL DETAILS

An indoor planter is conspicuously located in the foyer, visible also from the living room balcony above. A double coat closet at the entry serves both upper and lower levels.

The living room measurements are 16 feet by 18 feet, but actually the space at the staircase, 5 feet by 6 feet 6 inches becomes part of the room for decorating purposes.

The dining room adjoins, and the two rooms combined offer a sweeping formal zone the full depth of the house.

With the 14-feet, 6-inch by 9-feet, 6-inch balcony adjoining, the kitchen becomes a large informal family area.

There is plenty of room in the kitchen for a breakfast table well out of the way of the work area.

PLUMBING GROUPED

As an economy measure all the plumbing for bathrooms and kitchen is grouped together.

The main bath is well located to serve both the living area and the family bedrooms.

The master bedroom has its own full bath, together with a spacious walk-in closet.

★ ★ ★

In addition, there is a nice sized room York has designated a sewing room but which could be used as a library, darkroom, you name it.

RECREATION ROOM

An optional fireplace is designated — and if a fireplace is desired in the living room above it can be built using the same flue.

While turning the "basement" of this house into well-ordered living area, York has not overlooked the need for adequate storage space.

On the outside, York suggests red brick for the portico to contrast with the white columns, and wood either in shingles or clapboards above the garage.

Aluminum siding also could be used in place of wood.

An interesting example of York's knack of eliminating unnecessary clutter is the panel between the two bedroom windows.

"A façade shouldn't be punched full of holes by all sorts of windows and door sizes," York says.

"By tying these windows together we have one unit instead of two, and consequently a less busy exterior."

Housecleaning Is Here Again

Fall housecleaning time has rolled around again, and it's time to head off the need for another clean-up campaign later—after a fire.

Statistics show that there are about 800 home fires each day in the U.S.! Make sure that your fall clean-up includes a thorough check for all fire hazards around the house.

In the attic, throw out old magazines and clothes. Check worn cords on bedside lamps or radios. Avoid the use of multiple attachment plugs anywhere in the house.

Keep all flammable liquids in an Underwriter's Approved safety can (15 per cent of all home fire deaths result from flammable liquids igniting or exploding, according to the National Safety Council).

Builders Say Apartments on the Increase

Builders responding to Fortune's magazine's semiannual housing survey believe apartment-building will increase its already strong pace through the rest of this year, reaching an annual rate of 550,000 family units.

They are somewhat less sanguine about 1964, but economists forecast construction of at least 525,000 units during the year. In 1960, the rate was about 250,000.

Builders in the survey are also optimistic about one - family house construction.

They expect a whopping 8 per cent increase for 1964. Fortune itself believes the increase in home building will be closer to 4 per cent.

Wet Water Closet? Here Is a Solution

If a sweating water closet tank is a problem at your house during the summer months, says the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, there is a simple solution.

Any reliable plumbing contractor can install a mixing valve that will warm the water entering the tank so that it will approximate room temperature. This eliminates condensation which occurs when warm air contacts the surface of the tank containing colder water.

BEVERLY ISLAND HOME — One of several model homes is this two-story Cape Cod home on Beverly Island Drive near Cass-Elizabeth Lake Road. It was built by the Oakland Construction Co. and sells for $24,990, including a large waterfront lot. The house boasts four spacious bedrooms, two-and-a-half bathrooms, a walk-out basement, a fireplace and parquet flooring in the large family room. There is an open pass-through to the dining room under custom-made cupboards. The model is completely furnished for public viewing.

More Privacy Needed in Homes

Privacy is becoming obsolete! So says Hubbard H. Cobb, editor of The American Home magazine. Writing in the October issue of the magazine, Cobb declares that we have an abundance of almost everything else but "the more we get of everything else, the less we have of privacy."

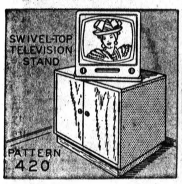

In most homes today, Cobb points out, "the only door that has a lock on it that works is to the bathroom. The individual going into any other room and closing the door just to be alone is considered to be either ill, in a bad mood, or showing signs of antisocial behavior."

He protests against the popular notion that, except for a few hours of sleep, our days must be spent in constant companionship either with members of our own family, with friends, with passing acquaintances, "or even with people we don't particularly care about." And he announces that "we're going to start a campaign to make privacy popular."

* * *

As part of this campaign, Cobb urges more houses designed to give privacy from the outside and "houses with more rooms and more doors."

Most important, he declares, "we'd like to see the need for privacy accepted as perfectly normal by family and friends."

A storage - space base with turntable top makes an ideal television stand. The screen may be viewed from any angle. The base may even be a room divider and the machine used from either side. Pattern 420, which gives material list and illustrated directions for the swivel-top base, is 35 cents. It also is in the Modern Storage Unit Packet No. 46 which is $1.

Little-Used Closet Can Be Converted for More Storage

To provide efficient and safe storage for all out - of - season items, keep them in one storage area. A seldom-used guest closet, for instance, oan be turned into a moth-repellent storage area by covering the old walls with aromatic red cedar closet lining.

Available at local lumber dealers in prepackaged bundles, cedar closet lining can be put up quickly by the home handyman. The cost for lining an ordinary bedroom closet, including the ceiling and floor, is about $50.

Each piece of cedar closet lining is tongue and grooved to simplify fitting. The material is applied horizontally.

* * *

Joints need not occur over studs since the tongue and groove design provide a strong "weld."

School Costs Drop for Heating, Airing

School districts faced with new construction have good news in current figures on heating and ventilation equipment cost.

According to a current report in a national school management magazine, prices for heating and ventilating materials going into schools are actually below 1957-59 levels.

In contrast to a rise of 12 per cent in over-all cost of school construction, the report shows heating and ventilating costs are about 5 per cent below the index years.

* * *

Figures in the survey were based on government price and wage indexes compiled for the country as a whole. Related on-site labor costs for heating and ventilating have also had a favorable trend, rising less than over-all construction costs.

Color Marks Floribunda

LeGrice of England, when he created Amberlight, gave rose lovers something they have long waited for: large flower clusters of semidouble ruffled flowers on erect wiry stems perfect for cutting; and color entirely new, a startling clear amber paling to Egyptian buff, like a string of glowing amber beads.

The fragrance is exceptionally good, and flowers keep surprisingly well when cut. Growth is vigorous. It is a beautiful and distinct rose.

Two annuals that will make your shaded garden colorful and a delight to behold are impatiens (you may call this plant impatience or sultana) and coleus.

Modern Washer Does Everything Automatic

Be Sure to Drain Pipes

Prepare Cottage for Winter

Autumn leaves and temperatures begin falling at about the same time, and your summer house must be shuttered against the rigors of winter.

The first step in protecting a summer place from frostbite is to drain all water from all pipes, plumbing fixtures and tanks.

"Operation Anti-freeze" begins when the main water supply to the house is turned off. This is a simple enough procedure if you know where hte main shut-off valve is located. But eliminating the water already in the plumbing system is a more complicated job.

Just opening faucets and valves will not completely drain supply lines. There are places (where pipes are curved or U-shaped) that will not drain naturally. For this reason water has to be blown out with a force pump.

At this point you should seek the services of an experienced plumbing contractor who has the equipment and know-how to do the job and who will take full responsibility for safely winterizing the plumbing system.

Remember, should you fail to drain the system completely, damage to piping and fixtures would cost far more than having a plumbing contractor do it for you.

The water closet is the most difficult fixture to protect against freezing. After it has been flushed and all visible water in the tank removed, there can still be water in the internal jets and pockets.

* * *

Glycerine, an anti-freeze, should be poured into the bowl. Since it diffuses in water, it will find its way to the concealed pockets.

* * *

Protecting traps under fixtures can be done by siphoning water out of them or by filling them with glycerine which will not evaporate and will not harm the operation of the septic tank.

U.S. and Pakistan Sign $70-Million Loan Pact

KARACHI (AP) — Pakistan and the United States today signed an agreement for a $70.4-million loan to be used for buying U.S. iron, steel and other material under the second five-year plan ending in 1965.

★ ★ ★

This is the first loan agreement signed after the United States suspended a $4.7-million loan for developing Dacca Airport last month.

U.S. Closes Bases

More Troops Pulled

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States is streamlining its military supply lines in Europe, closing down a group of bases in France and shipping home 5,400 U.S. Army troops who man them.

A Pentagon spokesman said the action, announced yesterday, was being taken purely in the interests of economy. He denied that friction with the government of French President Charles de Gaulle had anything to do with the shutdown.

The 6,200 French civilians working at military supply depots will be fired, the Defense Department said.

This move will eliminate nearly one-third of the army's civilian French employes, who totaled 19,000 as of last July 1.

Earlier this week, the Pentagon announced that an entire armored division — 16,000 troops — would be airlifted to West Germany in 240 huge transport planes for a week of maneuvers in "Operation Big Lift." The operation will be the largest overseas airlift ever undertaken.

There was speculation at that time that the massive airlift could point the way to eventual withdrawal of some U.S. combat troops now stationed in Europe, thus aiding in reduction of the nation's balance of payments deficit.

ILLUSTRATION

Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara said "Operation Big Lift" would "provide a dramatic illustration of United States capability for rapid reinforcement of NATO forces." He said it would "project a new magnitude of United States military responsiveness."

The Pentagon said Thursday port and depot facilities would be closed in France because "shorter, more economical routes of supply . . . will permit forward positions of military stocks.

The troops to be returned home were identified as the 4th Logistical Command, headquartered at Verdun. There was no estimate as to when reorganization might be completed, but similar operations have sometimes taken 12 to 18 months.

Troops being brought home presumably are in addition to 40,000 scheduled for redeployment back to the U.S. by the end of this year.

Actor Denies Plans to Wed Princess

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP) — Actor Maximilian Schell angrily denied today Turkish press reports that he and Princess Soraya will marry next month.

"How could they say we're getting married in October when earlier they had reported we already were married?" he said at his hotel here.

Princess Soraya, ex-wife of the Shah of Iran, has visited the 22-year-old Swiss-born actor several times on a movie location here. She left Istanbul last Monday.

The Turkish newspaper Aksam said it learned from a close friend of Schell that he and Soraya would wed in late October or early November.

Police Thwart Murder-Escape Plot in England

BROADMOOR, England (UPI) —Quick action by police frustrated a 20-man murder-and-escape plot at the asylum here which houses Britain's criminally insane, it was reported today.

A shakedown search inspired by an informer's tip uncovered seven hacksaw blades, a 10-inch knife and a detailed sketch of the 18-foot wall around the asylum's kitchen garden.

Three of the saw blades were hidden in the spines of books recently sent to an inmate.

The inmate with the books, whose name was not made public, told questioners he and 19 other men had planned to kill a guard and go over the wall.

Says N-Force Rooted in Fear

ENSTONE, England (AP) — A British defense expert suggested today that Britain's retention of a separate nuclear power is rooted in fear that friendship with the United States may fade some day.

Prof. E. Howard, director of war studies at King's College in London told a conference of political and scientific experts gathered to discuss aspects of the nuclear deterrent, "I believe the British are rather more reluctant than the Americans to consider the existing balance of world forces to be any more permanent and immutable than was, say, the balance of forces in the 19th century Europe."

She demanded examination on the charges and a court date was set for Oct. 11. She was released on $2,000 bond.

Offensive Unit of Vikings Has Lowest Output

Godfrey Punches Over Tally in Final Period to Win, 7-0

Walled Lake's mighty offensive machine had to take a backseat to its defensive abilities last night as the Vikings just managed to get by Berkley, 7-0.

Penalties stopped many Walled Lake drives and nullified several long rungs, but the clear item from the statistical column shows that the Vikings were woefully weak in passing.

* * *

Only one completion in 10 attempts for just 16 yards is the Walled Lake offensive grand total of the night.

Defensively however, Berkley managed only 54 yards rushing, none passing, no completions had and four interceptions to show for its defeat.

In the 4th period Rick Trudeau, replacement for regular quarterback John Thomas, capped a 65 yard drive and sent Pat Godfrey over from the one to score. Godfrey helped this drive with couple long gainers of 15 yards each. Trudeau also ran the point.

Berkley never got through the Walled Lake 30-yard line and also had more to show on defense than on offense.

SOUTHFIELD FALLS

After three scoreless quarters, Farmington finally scored in the final stanza on a three-yard run by Bruce Charles.

The TD capped a 55-yard march.

Brighton Pulls Shock on Barons

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Brighton's Bulldogs turned in the shocker of the week in the Wayne-Oakland League by trimming Bloomfield Hills, 26-7, on the Barons home ground Friday afternoon.

In another mild WO surprise, Northville's Mustangs moved into a tie for first place in the league race with a 33-6 romp over Holly Friday night.

The underdog Brighton squad put together scoring drives of 69, 67, 96 and 61 yards in a surprisingly easy win over the Barons.

The Bulldogs grabbed a 6-0 lead on the third play from scrimmage when quarterback Dennis Hartman teamed up with halfback Mike Fournier on a 69-yard scoring play.

* * *

The Bulldogs pushed over their second score late in the first stanza when Hartman slipped around right for 49 yards and six points.

* * *

The Barons narrowed the gap to 13-7 just before the half ended when halfback Jay Shimmick hit paydirt on a five-yard run to climax a 66-yard march.

LONG DRIVE

Brighton launched its longest drive of the afternoon, 96 yards, early in the third quarter after halting a promising Baron march at the nine-yard line.

* * *

The Bulldogs were slowed momentarily by a five-yard penalty which put the ball on their four-yard line, but Hartman masterminded a steady drive down the field with the payoff coming on a 30-yard run by halfback Buzz Davison.

Hartman moved the club 61 yards in the fourth quarter for the final score. Bob Larabee ended the rout with a three-yard dive through the middle.

Coach G. W. Prieskorn's Bulldogs were expected to be easy prey for the Barons after their poor showing against Milford (45-6) last week.

"We worked harder this week, our morale was up," Prieskorn said. "And we had three kids in the lineup today who were out last week."

* * *

The loss was the second in league play for coach Don Hoff's Barons who earned a share of the league title in 1962.

FULLBACK TROTS

The 5-10, 175-pound speedster scored all of the Mustangs' points in routing the Broncos and he picked up 187 yards rushing in 19 trips with the ball.

Rice went over on a five-yard burst in the first period and came back with eight- and three-yard scoring runs in the second stanza.

He picked up his fourth score on a two-yard plunge to end a 60-yard drive in the third period, and closed a 40-yard fourth-quarter drive with a five-yard sprint.

* * *

The Broncos collected their lone score in the fourth period when Mark Phalen went over on a 15-yard run to close a 50-yard march.

Holly moved to the one-yard line early in the third quarter, but the Mustangs stiffened and took over on downs.

Three Tied in League

By JERE CRAIG

They definitely have a title scent following a 26-12 win last nnght over a good Milford team. The victory boosted Clarkston into a tie with West Bloomfield and Northville for the league lead.

All three have two wins without a loss in the circuit. The Wolves are 3-0 on the season.

The contest at Clarkston was a well played, even battle for three quarters. The bigger line and deeper reserve strength of the home team took its toll on the visiting Redskins, however.

The Wolves took command in the final session, punching across two six-pointers and outcharging the weary Milford team repeatedly.

Ken Miskin caught a pass from Dan Craven for a 25-yard scoring play to put Clarkston ahead to stay. Dan Jenks added the extra first point this season for the winners on a run.

Jenks then ran two yards late in the game for an insurance tally. This time Miskin booted the point-after to close the scoring.

For the first three quarters, Johnny Williams of the Wolves and the visitors Skip Miller waged a scoring battle. Both tallied their team's first two touchdowns, and showed excellent running ability in the process.

Williams went over first on a 22-yard scamper off tackle. Miller came back in the second quarter for a five-yard run on fourth down to knot the score, 6-6, at intermission.

The speedy Williams displayed some first class broken field running after catching a short, third-period pass from Craven that resulted in a 47-yard scoring jaunt.

The Redskin eleven promptly showed its moxie by coming back 71 yards in six plays for the equalizer. Miller carried all but once, gaining 68 yards. He went over from the one, but his run for the extra point failed and that concluded Milford's scoring for the game.

The latter team outrushed Clarkston, 227 yards to 201; but the Wolves connected on four passes for 117 yards and two touchdowns. This was the telling factor as the visitors only completed one aerial for two yards.

Craven was very effective with his ball handling and passing. The Wolves were led on defense by middle linebacker Leonard Bullard who roamed and tackled very well.

Smith Leads 20-7 Victory for Lakers

By DON VOGEL

The Trojans invaded West Bloomfield's gridiron intent on spoiling the Lakers unbeaten record, the tie for first in the Wayne-Oakland League and the third place standing in the state Class B ratings.

But a 145-pound junior named Jim Smith sparked the Lakers to a 20-7 victory. An unexpected play helped, too.

* * *

Clarenceville, now 0-3, had expected Smith to be playing second fiddle to star quarterback Dan Greig. But the 5-8 speedster was a starting end instead of being on the bench.

Smith came through in grand fashion.

He hauled down six of Greig's aerials for 112 yards, including a 41-yarder for a touchdown, partially blocked a punt and made more than his share of tackles.

And the Lakers needed all the extra help they could get to record their third win and stay deadlocked for the W-O lead with Clarkston and Northville.

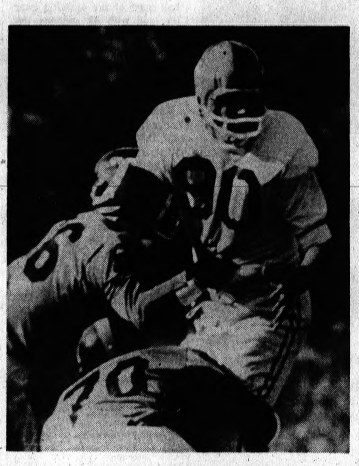

Halfback Tim Ruen's 30-yard end run for a touchdown midway in the second period gave the Lakers their only edge over Clarenceville for three quarters. The action really picked up in the final six minutes with the Lakers getting two TDs and the Trojans one.

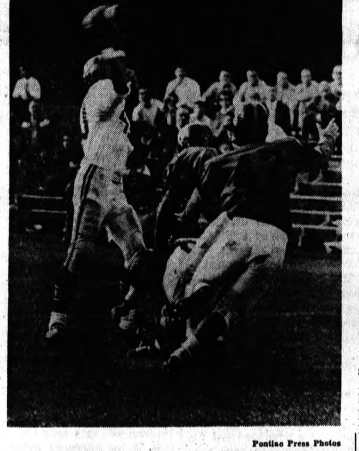

With a fourth down and three situation on their 41 and protecting a 6-0 lead the Lakers gambled. Paddy instructed Greig to pass from punt formation.

LURED INTO TRAP

The Trojans fell into the trap and Greig passed to end Rick Hacht for 18 yards. On the next play, Smith took a pass on the right sideline and sped the final 35 yards to complete a 41-yard play and take some of the pressure off.

BARONS TRAPPED — Yesterday afternoon was the day for the Bulldogs to howl. The Brighton Bulldogs whipped the Bloomfield Hills Barons, 26-7, and as noted in these photos the Hills backs were having their troubles. In the top photo, quarterback Jamie Miller (90) is hit by Brighton tacklers, Dan Kearns and Dick Burris. In the lower photo, halfback Pete Vidor (40) tries to get off a pass as couple Bulldogs converge on him.

Emmanuel Adds Shutout to Grid Success String

The streak at Emmanuel Christian is eight in a row without a loss now, and still growing after a 26-0 blanking of Byron Friday night.

The Lancers wasted no time showing the home team it meant business. Emmanuel took the opening kickoff and marched 62 yards to score all the points necessary for the third straight grid win this year.

Team captain Dick Lawson ran the final six yards and Terry Martin ran over the extra point as the Lancers took a 7-0 lead. After that, Martin gained much of the yardage — 115 yards for the game — and the Wingate family did the scoring.

Ralph Wingate ran 60 yards with a pass interception and he scooted five yards for the winners' second and third six-pointers.

Brother Dan Wingate scooped up a blocked punt in the fourth quarter and hustled 46 yards into paydirt for the final touchdown. Ron Jackson added the extra point on a run.

Skippers Can't Hold Ball in First Loop Game for Each

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

"I really thought we could win," said Waterford coach Stu Thorell after the Skippers were handed a 34-6 spanking by Pontiac Northern in Wisner Stadium last night.

* * *

The score would hardly indicate that the losing team had very much of a chance of winning but as often is noted in football scores can be deceiving.

There's no doubt that Northern was the better team on field last night and an attribute of a good team is the ability to take advantage of the breaks when presented.

PNH wasted no time in this respect. The Huskies punted after the first series of plays and the ball bounced high on the Waterford 25 and off the fingers of Dick Quart.

Les Smith grabbed the ball in mid-air and went into the end zone, but the officials brought the ball back to the 19 and here is where the Huskies started. On the 4th play, quarterback Jim Kimmel went over from then on.

GOOD RUN

Few moments later after a Skipper punt, Don Weyer broke through tackle and went 44 yards to score. Dean Souden made it 14-0 with his second PAT.

Late in the 2nd period, a gamble succeeded but then backfired for Waterford.

On their own 29, the Skippers had a 4th down and one yard to go. They elected to gamble and made it a first down with Lee Keiser on the 34. On the next play, Keiser fumbled and Northern had the ball on the Waterford 36.

On the third play, Kimmel threw short to Souden who crossed laterally to his right and 32 yards for a touchdown. His PAT was blocked and it was 20-0.

* * *

Jim Bland later broke through to block a punt and midway in the third quarter PNH had possession on the Skipper 34.

* * *

Mike Samuilow picked up 14 and then Steve Daniels went the other 20 for the score. Souden made it 27-0.

Starting the 4th quarter, Kimmel completed three short passes and from their own 45, the Huskies marched to the six from where Jim DeFlorio carried over and it was 34-0.

Jackets Fail in Bid for Loop Upset

Fitzgerald Scores 20-0 Win; Clawson Rips Madison

By GARY THORNE

Avondale moved into Oakland-A competition last night and nearly surprised heavily favored Troy. The Colts slipped past the Yellow Jackets 19-12.

At Avondale two long runs saved the contest for Troy.

Avondale opened the scoring in the second quarter with a goal line plunge by fullback Roger Ball. The touchdown was preceded by a 75-yard drive that took up most of the first quarter.

Sparked by a 25-yard pass from quarterback Lynn Thorpe to halfback Dick Reddaway the Avondale drive was mostly on the ground.

Troy wasted no time in evening the score, grabbing six points on the first down after the kickoff. Halfback Ken Holder broke away off tackle and raced 65 yards for the TD. Holder also added the extra point.

IN CONTENTION

Avondale moved back into contention on a half-yard dive play by Ball, who accounted for all of the Yellow Jackets' points.

Quandt's second TD gallop came in the third period and covered 70 yards. Neither team scored in the final quarter, although Avondale's quarterback Thorpe took to the air. He completed 9 of 12 passes in the game, netting 93 yards.

"Those two long runs beat us," coach Frank Crowell commented.

ORION SWAMPED

Meantime, Fitzgerald swamped Lake Orion with Glen Cherrup picking up two PAT's and a touchdown to move up in the area scoring race.

Going into last night's game, Cherrup had scored all of his school's points. He now has 34 for the season.

★ ★ ★

In the third quarter, Chaffin shot nine yards off tackle to garner his second TD. Again, Cherrup got the PAT.

Cherrup set up the final Fitzgerald tally. He picked off a pass from Knack which was good for 35 yards. He then trotted 58 yards for the six points.

★ ★ ★

Bill Kerr tallied three touchdowns for Clawson. He plunged for two scores and took a 30-yard pass for another.

The other TD's were contributed by Leonard Kovach, 27-yard run, and Ernie Scuillo, one-yard dive.

Final Half Touchdowns Doom South Lyon Hopes

A blocked punt and a 50-yard run, both in the second half, spelled defeat No. 3 for South Lyon Friday.

Bob Binert recovered a blocked punt for Dearborn Haston to tally a third period six-pointer, and Frank Presti circled end from midfield to register a last quarter touchdown in a 13-0 win over South Lyon.

Presti also ran the extra point after his long gallop.

Debut in New League Bright for Rochester

By HERB PETERS

But this fact escaped notice as the fleet Falcon scored four touchdowns to lead Rochester's 32-14 opening Oakland-A Conference victory.

Stefanski slanted off his left tackle and raced 75 yards to score the first time the Falcons had the ball. He took a pitch out on the second play of the second period and covered 36 yards on the next scoring gesture.

Then in the third quarter he collaborated with quarterback Roger Thompson on two successive touchdown plays. The first was a 37-yard pass; the second a shorter, six-yard flip.

Before getting together with Stefanski, the cagey Falcon signal caller clicked on a 50-yard TD aerial to halfback Al Boughner late in the second period which gave Rochester a 20-7 halftime bulge.

STRIKE FAST

The home Falcons, making their debut in the Oakland-A, struck swiftly when they had the ball, but still had to cope with a surprising Cousino team that actually led 7-6 after one period.

The Patriots controlled the ball most of the opening quarter, and with 49 seconds left, fullback Jess Moore bolted 65 yards up the middle for a touchdown. Drew Pisha ran the extra point to give Cousino the lead.

Thompson's three straight touchdown passes doomed Cousino to its third loss, but the 11th grade high school came back with a final tally in the fourth quarter on a 19-yard run by Mario Coutrera.

★ ★ ★

With Thompson completing five of nine passes for 124 yards and the ground game good for 282 more, the Falcons had a net gain of 406 yards.

Stefanski rushed for 193 yards in 10 carries and a 19.3 average. The senior left half broke loose on a 45-yard gallop before scoring his third touchdown.

SCUTTLED—It appears end Bob Rowley of Romeo has the best of Kettering defender Dave Currin (28) on this third-quarter pass play last night at Romeo, but the intended receiver came out the loser when he dropped the ball. Currin also played for a loser as the Bulldogs were shutout by their visitors.

Seaholm Surprised by Hazel Park, 7-7

By FLETCHER SPEARS

Heavily - favored Birmingham Seaholm staged a fourth-quarter rally to tie Hazel Park, 7-7, Friday night.

The Eastern Michigan League thriller was played before an estimated 5,000 fans at Seaholm's stadium.

In other EML action, Ferndale downed East Detroit, 20-0, Roseville dumped Port Huron, 20-7, and Royal Oak Kimball shut out Mt. Clemens, 20-0.

The Maples, ranked 12th among Class A teams in the AP poll, fell behind in the third period when halfback Tom Armour rolled over right tackle for three yeers to complete a 69-yard scoring march. Fullback Bob Husband booted the extra point.

The Vikings moved into scoring position behind the passing of quarterback Jim Boreland who completed passes of 33 and 21 yards in the drive.

★ ★ ★

Boreland's second pitch, to halfback Steve Anzur, gave the Vikings a first down on the Maples three-yard marker.

The Maples launched their scoring drive midway in the fourth quarter after co-captain Ken Heft picked off a Boreland pass at the Maples 33-yard line.

Quarterback Dick Swaney directed the team on the 67-yard drive with Heft scoring from the one-yard line. Heft added the extra point to tie the game with a burst through the middle.

COACHES COMMENT

The deadlock came as somewhat of a shock to the Maples. "We just played a lousy game," was the way Coach Carl Lemle summed it up. "They outplayed us the whole game."

Viking Coach Charles Skinner called his squad's performance a real "team effort."

"We've had a good team all year, but this is just the first time we've really jelled."

Both teams had a chance to win the game in the waning moments.

Boreland moved the Vikings to the Maples 24-yard line with a minute to play before surrendering the ball on downs.

With only 35 seconds remaining, Swaney started a last-ditch effort that carried the Maples from their 24-yard line to the Vikings 13 as time ran out.

OTHERS

Roseville, newcomer to the EML, took over the lead in the league race with a 2-0 record with the win over Port Huron.

Nick Nizza started the Wildcats' scoring in the first period when he picked up a Big Red fumble and raced 37 yards. Tom DeMay added the extra point.

The Wildcats increased their lead in the third stanza when Larry Matiyou scampered 27 yards with a fumble with DeMay booting the point.

Roseville closed its scoring in the fourth when Doug Firosz plunged over from one yard out to end a 69-yard drive.

Bob Wedge scored for Port Huron on a three-yard end run. Bill Racely added the extra point.

EASY WIN

Ferndale, ranked seventh among the state's Class A teams, had little trouble turning back East Detroit.

★ ★ ★

RO Kimball evened its league record at 1-1 behind the running of halfbacks John Baumann, Tom Bekemeyer and Dick Sanderson. The trio accounted for 258 yards rushing.

The Knights opened the scoring in the second period when John Gabler bulled his way for two yards to close an 80-yard drive.

2 Miscues Bring Grief to Country Day Squad

Two second half miscues Friday afternoon at Whitmore Lake cost Country Day its first blemish on this season's grid record.

The Birmingham eleven twice fumbled the ball, once losing possession on its own five-yard-line, and the other time at the 20, permitting the home team to move into paydirt twice for a 14-0 triumph.

Lone Touchdown Boosts Groves Atop New Loop

Birmingham Groves scored only one touchdown Friday afternoon at North Farmington; but it was enough to put the Falcons into the top spot of the new Northwest Suburban League.

The six-pointer by Dave Kawecki and Bill Stephenson's ensuing PAT boot gave Groves a 7-0 win over the Raiders. It was the first loop game for both teams.

Livonia Franklin and Detroit Thurston will open their circuit slate in an afternoon contest today with the winner tying Groves for the top spot. Fifth member Oak Park is idle this weekend.

Kawecki's plunge culminated a 60-yard drive early in the second stanza. He had set up the score with a 28-yard run deep into the losers' territroy.

The game was fairly well balanced with the winners having a slight statistical advantage both running and passing. There were 16 penalties in the contest and numerous painful injuries due to the hard hitting by both squads.

★ ★ ★

North Farmington and Groves offered defenses that tightened considerably once the opponent neared the 20-yard line of the defense.

Overall, the records for Groves and the Raiders are both 2-1.

Kettering Recalls 'Old Days'

By BOB BEEDLE

How things can change in just two years!

Back in 1961, Waterford-Kettering, fielding its initial football squad, suffered through a long season. Its worst defeat came at the hands of Romeo, 43-0.

Last night, a Kettering team now thoroughly accustomed to inter-school play romped to a "sweet revenge," 33-0.

"We waited a long time for this win," mused an exuberant Jim Larkin, Kettering coach, glowing after the game. "I would have to say this is the high point of my three years here as coach," the ex-Hillsdale Little All-America added.

Larkin took over the coaching reins at the new school in 1961 at the tender age of 22, but now, two years older and wiser, he's clearly shooting for a crack at the Tri-County League title.

Larkin couldn't find words enough to praise his line, especially the offensive crew. He singled guard Chuck Haviland, tackle Chuck Wallace (both two-way players) and defensive middle guard Bill Laing.

BIG NIGHT

The coach saved the most complimentary words for Jim Haviland, a quick junior halfback. All Haviland did was to score Kettering's first four touchdowns (his first of the season).

The game wasn't but a few minutes old when Kettering got the ball after a Romeo punt and drove 50 yards for the opening score, Mel Patterson tossing a 33-yard pass to Haviland.

Near the end of the opening period, Wallace pounced on a Romeo fumble on the losers' 38. Eight plays later, Kettering had another TD when Haviland plunged from the two.

Midway through the second quarter, Kettering junior Andy Miceli intercepted a Romeo pass by Roy Smiles. This scoring drive took only four plays to cover 69 yards.

Mel Patterson's 20-yard aerial to Haviland put the Captains into Romeo territory. Two plays later, with Haviland completely fooling the defensive secondary by seemingly looking in one direction and throwing in another, he hit Haviland again for a 44-yard scoring play.

Kettering drove 85 yards at the onset of the third period, with Haviland going over from the four, and a 47-yard march late in the contest capped the Kettering scoring.

L'Anse Creuse clearly showed it is the school Kettering will have to beat in the league race when it drubbed Lapeer, 24-0, in another Tri-County opener.

Oxford Gets Revenge on Imlay

Y. W. Pelong, Imlay City athletic director, has reason to apologize to Oxford High School, even though his school took a 39-12 trouncing at the hands of the Wildcats yesterday.

Three years ago when Imlay was one of the powers of Class C, in the South Central League with Oxford, the Spartans humiliated the Wildcats, 72-0.

"They must have never forgotten it, because they've been whipping us good since then," said Pelong.

"I guess all their coach has to say is, remember that 72-0 game, and they come after us with blood in their eyes."

★ ★ ★

Oxford led 26-0 before Imlay could manage a tally. In the first period a drive of 70 yards was climaxed with Dave Houck plunging from the one and Jim Bates kicking the PAT.

BLOCKED PUNT

Jeff Ruff blocked a punt on the eight-yard line and fell on it in the end zone to make it 14-0 with Bates' point in the second quarter.

Houck then passed to Jim Van Vleet six yards to lead 20-0 at half time.

In the third period after Imlay fumbled on the nine, Van Vleet went over from the one.

Sam Gingell then added the final two Oxford scores on six- and 58-yard runs. George Polovick added the PAT.

★ ★ ★

Oxford, no longer a member of the South Central is now part of the Tri-County league. The Wildcats now stand 2-1 for the season and will get into league play at home against Lapeer next weekend.

North Branch of the South Central League took a 27-6 lacing from Port Huron Catholic, scoring its only TD in the first period with Carl Kreps going over from the one.

★ ★ ★

Thumb Gridders See Tie Broken in Half Friday

That four-way tie atop the early season standings in the Southern Thumb League dissolved into a two-horse race after last night's action.

New Haven and Memphis, which don't meet until late October, both came up with win No. 2 to hold onto a share of the first rung, but Anchor Bay and Brown City are now in a four-way third place scuffle.

New Haven squeezed by Brown City, 20-18, on Dwight Lee's extra point making, while Memphis scored in every period to bury Almont, 25-0.

Dryden, the team with the best defensive record in the circuit, found some offense to go with it and pinned a 15-0 loss on Capac, which has yet to score in three games.

Armada surprised Anchor Bay with a third quarter touchdown run by Dick Blake for four yards, 6-0, culminating a 70-yard drive. Blake and defensive tackle Joe Laskowski were spearheads of the winners' stout defense that once stopped the losers at the five-yard-line.

MACK SCORES

John Mack scored two touchdowns on runs of three and 12 yards, and Lee tallied one on a 15-yard pass from Cliff Duncan for New Haven.

Lee also kicked a point-after, and passed to Rich Crawford for another. Brown City never let the winners get very far ahead, scoring three times itself.

Larry Dougherty ran 53 yards with a fumble by Lee for the first score, Bob Llnts plunged one yard and Al Nagy tossed 30 yards to Gary Stagerwall for the third score.

★ ★ ★

Bob Moore ran 10 yards and caught a 39-yard pass from Mike Bartholomew to pace Memphis' win over Almont. The final six-pointer was scored by Don Burns on a pass of 17 yards from Bartholomew, with Moore adding the PAT.

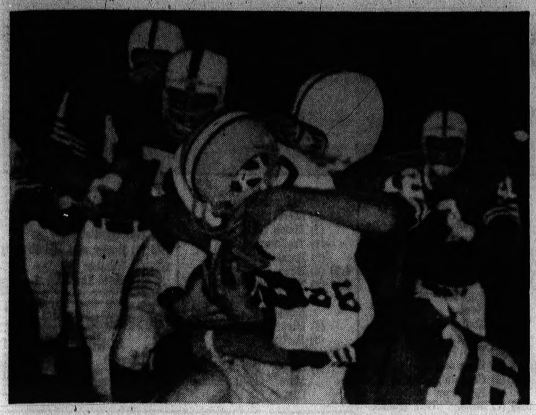

★ ★ ★

Dryden scored its first six-pointer of the year on a one-yard sneak by Tom Sterner in the third period at Capac last night. Dick Powers boosted the lead to 8-0 when he accounted for a safety in the final period.

★ ★ ★

The last score of the game saw Sterner run 38 yards into paydirt, and Dennis Hilliker kicked the PAT. It was the third straight game Dryden's defense has not been scored upon, although it only has a 1-1-1 mark.

Top 4 Teams of West in NFL Meet Sunday

WILDCAT TAMED—Northern Michigan's Dennis Gorsline (25) is dragged down by University of Detroit's Bill Madaya after making a first down. Detroit's Dennis Assenmacher, helps with the tackle. U-D won, 20-7, over the Wildcats.

Zientek's Aerials Win for U-D, 20-7

DETROIT (AP) — Tom Zientek, a stripling with only two games of college experience, already is displaying Jerry Gross' trait of taking one-man command for the University of Detroit.

The 20-year-old quarterback proved a worthy successor to the Titan's finest passer ever Friday night by igniting a Gross-type aerial attack that routed Northern Michigan, 20-7.

★ ★ ★

Zientek, a product of Toledo, passed for two touchdowns on combinations with George Walkosky and set up the third with a 37-yard toss.

He clicked on nine of 19 passes for 165 yards.

It was Zientek who got Detroit started when little Northern, down from the Upper Peninsula with thoughts of an ambush, was puching the lacklustre Titans around.

The Wildcats were stopped on early drives to the Detroit 34 and 28. But they appeared the stronger team until Zientek uncorked his arm and changed the pattern of the game.

Zientek stepped back from Detroit's 43 late in the first period and hit Walkosky at the Northern 35. The Wildcats' Dennis Gorsline gambled and failed to make an interception on the play.

★ ★ ★

Instead, Walkosky was sprung loose as Gorsline slid by him on his stomach. Walkosky rumbled the rest of the way shaking off three tacklers, and ended the 57-yard play in the end zone.

He hit on passes of 20 yards to John Everly and 11 to Dick Johnson and ran for 13 yards himself before connecting with Walkosky on a 12-yard scoring play. Walkosky was flattened on the play and never returned.

Lions Faced With Rugged Assignment

Bears Favored to Hand Detroit Second Defeat of Season

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

Both have "must" games facing them with the odds against them.

The Lions are 3 point underdogs to the Chicago Bears in Tiger Stadium and the Colts are in Green Bay picked to lose by at least seven.

DEFENSE TOUGH

In their first two games, the Bears have been the defensive monsters, while the Lions' vaunted defense was torn to shreds by the inspired Packers last week, 31-10.

Both coaches, George Wilson and his former teacher George Halas call this the "big game." A loss would put the Lions two games down at this early stage and a win would be the biggest boost the Monsters of the Midway could have in their bid for a title.

Every game since 1952 has drawn more than 50,000 into Tiger Stadium making the Bears the most watched team in Detroit. Another capacity crowd is expected Sunday with tickets still on sale at 11:00 a.m.

Other games in the NFL will pit St. Louis at Pittsburgh, San Francisco at Minnesota, Dallas at Washington, Los Angeles at Cleveland, New York at Philadelphia.

'Mr. Touchdowns' Flourish in Area

"They always call him Mr. Touchdown" and the county prep grid scene had enough of them Friday to fill the needs of almost every Betty Coed.

The Press county and area individual scoring races came in for a good shaking up yesterday and more is promised for today and tomorrow as several teams will see action.

Leading the unusually high outburst of scoring by individuals was a 33-point performance for Northville's senior fullback Ron Rice. He took the pigskin across the goal line eight times at Holly last night, five times for touchdowns.

And there were others who did exceptionally well. Rochester's Carl Stefanski jumped well into the race with a four-touchdown effort against Warren Cousino.

This feat was equalled by Jim Haviland of Kettering, who tallied the Captains' first four six-pointers at Romeo.

Randy McConnell took over three scores for L'Anse Creuse and passed for another, Clawson's Bill Kerr tallied three six-pointers, while Bob Moore of Memphis had three touchdowns and an extra point to his credit Friday.

INITIATOR

The first big output this season among county players was Don Wells' four-touchdown outburst for Royal Oak St. Mary last weekend. He'll be in action tomorrow for ROSM against Detroit St. Agatha as the Northwest Parochial League resumes action.

Other games will have Waterford Our Lady of Lakes at Orchard Lake St. Mary, St. Michael at Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows, Birmingham Shrine have dates in Detroit against Catholic League foes, while Ferndale St. James will be playing host to one.

Tonight at Wisner Stadium Pontiac Central will entertain Midland in a Saginaw Valley Conference clash. St. Frederick this afternoon journeys to Grosse Pointe University School, while Royal Oak Dondero is at Grosse Pointe.

Deckerville Plasters 35-0 Beating Upon Foe

Deckerville, the newest member of the South Central League, thumped non-league foe Harbor Beach Friday, 35-0, scoring in every period.

★ ★ ★

Doug Bowerman scored two touchdowns and kicked five extra points in the contest. Jim Schubel also went over twice and Buck Regentin added the final six-pointer.

Casey Goes With Koufax

Dodgers Have 2 Best Hurlers

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second article by Stengel on the world series. He will have daily comments too while the classic is in progress.)

By CASEY STENGEL
Special to The Pontiac Press

The Dodgers have something the Yankees haven't got and that's why I'm trying to tell ya not to sell this National League club short. They have the two best pitchers in baseball right now, and they are Koufax for starting and Perranoski for relieving.

The first game coming up next Wednesday is the biggest event in a World Series I have ever been around because of Koufax, the man who broke Hubbel's record with those 11 shutouts, and Ford, the man with a series record nobody may ever touch. I talked about Ford yesterday.

They are meeting in the first game and I'd pay my way in to see it if I didn't have a free seat in the press box.

Koufax may not need the defense that the Yankees have and rave about, because he's a strikeout pitcher, and that's what he does in a jam he fans 'em half the time. It's shocking how much stuff he's got.

LOOK OUT YANKEES

Alston could put shoemakers out there behind him when Koufax is right. He gets 10 men a game on strikeouts, and do you think the Yankees are gonna enjoy that in front of 72,000 people with their girls wearing their fancy furs?

Koufax used to throw balls over the backstop but he's got control now. He gave my Mets no hits in a game last year and no runs for a year and a half. He's gonna be tough, mighty tough — even if the Yankees play their right-handed line-up.

Maris and Kubek may be the only lefty swingers he'll see, but don't you bet he can't get 'em all out. Don't tell me Ford, Hubbell, Spahn, Lopat and Arroyo couldn't pitch to the right handers.

You'll see excellent ability by three Dodger pitchers — Koufax, Drysdale and Perranoski, who could be the most valuable man in the National League because of all the games he won and saved, and he pitches three days in a row if you need him.

Perranoski comes in and pitches six goose eggs against St. Louis in that big series, and that's against the best hitting team in the league by at least 20 points. Perranoski is one of the unbelievables, if the National League is stronger in hitters, and we say it is.

★ ★ ★

Drysdale has the shingles and he isn't the pitcher he was last year, but don't let his record fool you. He's had bad luck and you can look up his earned run record, which would be even better with a good defensive club. And he's a good batter.

TOUGH IN 1952

The only question is can he get out the left-handed batters? Well, he gave the go-go Chicago's only one run in the 1959 series. And they didn't steal on him because they found even with his big motion which comes from around third base his pitches get to the catcher in a hurry.

★ ★ ★

And that other left-hander they got, Podres, you don't think Alston's gonna let him set on the bench all the series, do you? You saw what he did to the Cardinals. He's a smart little devil. He can go six or seven and he says, "We got the best man in the bullpen bring him in, why should I be the hero?" But he was back in '55 against me.

★ ★ ★

They also got the fella who was their big relief man in 1959, Sherry—whose brother sometimes catches on the Mets — and Bob Miller, while he won only one for me, he's doing much better out there. He's a good nine-inning pitcher. And I see they trusted the young left-hander, Richert, with a start against St. Louis, and he didn't lose, did he?

So they have the pitching and that man in the bullpen.

West Bloomfield Tops Clarenceville

The 1,200 fans hardly had time to take a deep breath before West Bloomfield was in trouble again.

A short kickoff coupled with a 15-yard penalty against the Lakers moved the ball to West Bloomfield's 45. On the first play, with the Lakers expecting a pass, Clarenceville sent halfback Monore Ashley up the middle.

He out-distanced the WB secondary and Jim Bedson ran the point to cut the Lakers' advantage to 13-7 with 3:56 to play.

The Lakers came alive again, took control after an attempted Trojan on-side kick did not go the required 10 yards, and marched 46 yards in five plays to put the game out of reach. John Memyer ran 16 yards to the three and then carried over.

Two passes from Greig to Smith of 27 and 17 yards put WB on the three with one play remaining, but a Greig to Hacht aerial gained only two yards.

Marathon Relay for Olympics Crosses Desert

DAGGETT, Calif. (AP)—The 2,521-mile marathon relay from Los Angeles to Detroit droned through desert heat toward the Grand Canyon of the Colorado Saturday.

★ ★ ★

A crew of 16 runners, in groups of four, was slowly eating up the miles toward the Motor City to point up the desirability of Detroit being host for the 1964 Olympic games.

★ ★ ★

Each runner covers five miles, is picked up by his bus, and a teammate replaces him. After the group of four has completed his 20 miles, another bus comes alongside, and another crew takes over for 20 miles.

Late Rally Saves Wings

ST. THOMAS, Ont. (UPI) — A four-goal flurry in the final period kept the Detroit Red Wings' exhibition slate perfect last night in a 6-2 victory over the Cleveland Barons of the American Hockey League.

Gordie Howe broke a 2-2 tie at the three-minute mark of the last stanza and goals by Floyd Smith, Andre Pronovost and Parker MacDonald followed.

The Wings are now 5-0-2 in pre-season play.

Milford Wins Howell Meet

Milford's cross-country squad turned in an impressive performance in winning the Howell Torch Light invitational held at half-time at the Howell football game Friday night.

★ ★ ★

Ken Coates, of Grand Rapids Wyoming Park, came in first with a time of 10:35. Farmington's Dennis Hunt took second.

The Wyoming Park team finished second with 64 points, followed by Clio, 72, Farmington, 105, Flushing, 131, Holt, 151, Howell, 179, Ecorse, 189 and Eaton Rapids, 236.

Sharing scoring honors for Milford were Bill Nelson, third, Ron Hardy, fourth, Harold Faught, fifth, and John Groomes, sixth.

Regan Hopes to Up Mark Against Baltimore Today

BALTIMORE (UPI) — Phil Regan, the once-forgotten pitcher who has made Charlie Dressen's record as Detroit manager a respectable one, zeroed in on the Baltimore Orioles today in quest of his 16th victory.

Dave McNally was the opposing pitcher who tried to put a stop to Regan's fantastic string of success since Dressen took over in June. The Wayland righthander was only 2-6 under Bob Scheffing but has prospered under Charlie's tutelage to the tune of 13-2.

Likewise, Charlie has prospered under Regan. Detroit was 24-36 when Dressen assumed command but has won 54 games and lost 46 since then.

The Tigers, who finish the 1963 season against Baltimore tomorrow, saw their hopes for a .500 year dashed last night when the Orioles beat them, 5-2. The Tigers entered this three-game series needing a sweep to break even on wins and losses.

Centerline Blanks Visiting Utica 11

Utica never advanced closer than Centerline's 35-yard-stripe Friday night in dropping a 19-0 verdict to the home team.

Centerline had a three-pronged attack that gained 351 yards in the contest. Backs Bruce, Pielat and Punce each scored for the winners.

Entertainer Fared Well on Bananas and Water

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—"When I came here from Sioux Fall, S.D. . . ." Swen Swenson said, "I was broke, and I would eat bananas and fill up on water.

"That blew me up so much I couldn't have eaten any more if I'd had any more."

WILSON

Swen modeled for the Huntington Hartford agency briefly, entered the American School of Ballet, got a schoolarship to the Jacob's Pillow project at Lee, Mass., and kept dancing until Sid Caesar's "Little Me" came along last year, when he blossomed out as a sexy singer, too, doing "I've Got Your Number" and movie offers came along.

Taping the Keefe Brasselle TV show recently, Swen worked so hard—12 hours a day, rush-rush-rush—that afterward, he says, "I almost passed out on Eighth St."

Red China Clears Up Delegation Mystery

TOKYO (AP)—Red China cleared up a minor mystery today about the Chinese-Soviet friendship delegation it sent to Moscow. It said the group would take part in Russian celebration of the Peking regime's 14th anniversary.

The delegation, headed by Lt. Gen. Liu Chih-chien, deputy director of the general political department of the Chinese army, arrived in the Soviet capital yesterday, stirring some speculation that the coldness between Peking and Moscow might have warmed up a bit.

The blue whales of the Antarctic may reach a length of 100 feet and weigh up to 150 tons.

ETERNAL LIFE
At Present Possession

"These things have I written unto you that believe on the name of the Son of God; that YE MAY KNOW (not hope or guess) that YE HAVE ETERNAL LIFE." 1 JOHN 5:13

"Verily, verily, I say unto you, he that heareth MY Word, and believeth on Him that sent ME, HATH everlasting life, and shall not come into condemnation, but is passed from (eternal) death unto (eternal) life" John 5:24

We, the born-again Christians are as positive of our destination in Heaven as if we were already there. All we have to do is believe and trust that God is not a liar when He makes it so plain in His Word, the Bible. The main ingredient in Salvation is believing and trusting from the bottom of your heart.

Most Religions are man made and they let people think they can help save themselves, thru church membership, being a good moral person, good works, giving, etc. In God's sight any of our self-righteousness is like a bunch of "filthy rags." Millions of good people in this world are being led by false religious leaders right into the gates of Hell.

God says in Proverbs 14:12 "There is a way which seemeth right unto a man, but the end thereof are the ways of death." Which certainly fits our religious condition today. If you wind up in the fire, do not say God did not warn you.

Reflections

LAUGHTER

Laughter is good medicine. You doubt it? Watch a person with a frown get one, then observe the unusually successful man - he gives smiles and receives them. A snarling neighbor complains that her neighbors are uncooperative while the person who laughs, is happy, has the finest neighbors on earth. Lincoln won many of his Court trials with a happy quip. Perry Mason never won a case, without a good solid punch of humor.

J. L. VOORHEES

M. E. SIPLE

The Traffic Officer who snaps an order is less popular than the one who brings a smile before the order. A book that is dry, factual, uninteresting is laid aside for one with a laugh. A million people think the humor in Reader's Digest is the magnet to its popularity. The politician who harangues a captive audience seldom builds constituent confidence. One of the cardinal virtues of a waitress is a happy smile. A patient in a hospital welcomes the friend with a smile. Correspondence filled with happy thoughts is saved, read many times and considered a treasure.

Laughter has the ring of universal acceptance. Try laughing between attempts at forcing.

Methodists Sponsor Study of Students From Abroad

The Methodist Church will sponsor the study of 77 students from 20 countries in American colleges and universities during the 1963-64 academic year through its international Crusade Scholarship program.

The program, which enters its 18th consecutive year this month has trained about 1,400 persons from almost 60 countries around the world for top-level leadership in the church, business, the professions, the arts and other fields.

Many of the crusade scholars have returned to become leaders in the church and in secular fields such as journalism, music, medicine, education, government and business.

During the coming academic year, the crusade scholars will study in 33 colleges, universities, seminaries and hospitals in 21 states and Puerto Rico. All of them will study on funds provided by The Methodist Church.

In addition to those studying in the U.S., 20 crusade scholars are studying in other countries, making a total of 97 for the 1963-64 school year. Those studying outside the United States are attending schools in India, France, Britain, Switzerland, Austrailia and Portugal.

* * *

As in the past years, the Crusade Scholarship program is financed from two sources — portion of the receipts from the One Great Hour of Sharing offering taken in all Hethodist churches during Lent; and an appropriation by the Woman's Division of Christian Service of the Methodist Board of Missions.

50 Teen-Agers Attend Camp

Youth for Christ Clubs Fighting Delinquency

Yesterday afternoon 50 teenagers from Oakland County left by bus for Romeo Camp where they are attending the Youth for Christ Leadership Training. They will return tonight.

This is a specialized schooling in the program, organization and total concept for the YFC Bible clubs. Dick Wynn, Oakland County Youth for Christ director, said there will be 18 clubs started next week and a total of 25 by the end of October.

The YFC clubs are an interdenominational group of high school and junior high students banded together to promote high Christian fellowship among the students as a means of fighting juvenile delinquency.

The clubs are open to all students. Membership is not required, Mr. Wynn said.

Match Fabrics to Wallpaper

Pontiac Pastors, Wives to Attend Conference

Nazarene church pastors and their wives from this area are scheduled to take part in the annual Eastern Michigan district Nazarene Preachers' conference to be held at the Central Church of the Nazarene in Flint, Oct. 7-9.

* * *

Nearly all of the 75 Nazarene churches on the Eastern Michigan district will be represented. These churches have a total of 6,900 members.

Guest speaker will be Dr. V.H. Lewis, Kansas City, Mo., a general superintendent in the denomination. E.W. Martin, of Pontiac district superintendent, will be in charge of the conference.

The annual program is planned for inspiration and fellowship, and to bring a challenge to Christian workers, Dr. Martin said.

The Eastern Michigan district is one of 78 districts into which the church has been divided for administrative purposes in the United States, Canada and the British Isles.

* * *

The church of the Nazarene is one of the larger Protestant denominations that stands for scriptural holiness in the Wesleyan tradition. It maintains about 525 full-time missionaries in 43 world areas.

Chief Executive Main Speaker

Methodists Meeting for Regional Convocation

Governor George Romney is scheduled to be a principal speaker participant when Michigan Methodists hold their Second Regional Convocation on Race Oct. 19 at Lansing.

* * *

The state's chief executive will speak from the steps of the State Capitol where delegates from churches throughout Michigan will gather for a "Methodist Witness."

* * *

The "Witness" will emphasize the concern of Michigan Methodists with the critical and agonizing problems demanding solution in our state and nation as a result of racial discrimination.

This "Witness" will be only one part of the all-day conference being held at Central Methodist Church, Lansing.

Each Methodist Church in Michigan is being urged to send delegates to the Lansing convocation. Presiding at the State Capitol program will be Bishop Marshall R. Reed.

* * *

The Convocation is sponsored by the Boards of Christian Social Concerns of the two Methodist Conferences covering all of Michigan, the Women's Societies of Christian Service, and the Methodist Lexington Conference.

Greeks Fussed Feathers Too

NEW YORK (UPI) — In ancient Greek culture, hair styling was considered a fine art. Women spent hours dressing their long hair with the classic Venus de Milo coiffure — hair parted in the middle and caught into a chignon.

* * *

There also were spiral curls, ringlets, braids and waves. Even men used curling irons, said one hair-styling information service here.

Convention of Baptists to Include Five Groups

The convening of the Fundamental Baptist Congress on Monday night at the Temple Baptist Church of Detroit, will mark the first gathering of Baptist Fundamentalists representing five associations and fellowships.

* * *

It will bring together 3,000 Baptist clergymen and thousands of their constituents representing 16,000 churches, totaling a membership of over 6 million people.

Dr. G. B. Vick, chairman of the Congress and pastor of the world's largest Protestant churches, the Temple Baptist Church, host church to the Congress, estimates that 10,000 people will attend the various sessions which will run from 9:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. for the three days of the Congress.

The groups officially represented at the Congress are The General Association of Regular Baptists, The Bible Baptist Pre-Millennial Fellowship and The World Baptist Fellowship.

* * *

Vatican Council to Reconvene

VATICAN CITY (AP) — The Ecumenical Council reassembles Sunday under a new Pope, with new rules to speed its work, but with the spirit of Roman Catholic renewal envisioned by the late Pope John XXIII.

Nine laymen — an American, three French men, three Italians, one Spaniard and a Pole—will sit in the secret sessions for the first time, informed sources said.

Not since kings and princess of Catholic lands attended past sessions have laymen been invited into the deliberations of the prelates of the church.

IDENTIFY YANKS

Informants said the American is James E. Norris, president of the International Committee on Catholic Migration and the European director of the American Catholic Relief Service.

* * *

About 2,450 council fathers were in Rome. By the time Pope Paul mounts his throne to begin the council's second session, most of the remaining 100 prelates expected to attend the council will have arrived.

REORGANIZES RULES

Pope Paul has reorganized the rules of the council to give minority views a full hearing. He appointed four moderators to keep the council from getting stalled on controversial theological matters.

* * *

After the council began last Oct. 11, there was a hectic round of consulting and conferring on who should man the council's 10 commissions.

Pope John allowed changes in voting regulations and the outcome was a balance between prelates considered progressive in thinking and prelates regarded as conservative.

Waterford to Decide on Tuition Requests

Waterford Township Board members are expected to decide Monday whether the township will pay tuition for three employes taking job-related courses at Oakland University.

In other business the board will receive first notice on a requested transfer of a beer and wine license at the A & P store at 4724 Dixie to the company's store under construction at 3400 Floradale.

* * *

A resolution authorizing the clerk to advertise for bids on a fleet vehicle insurance policy also will be considered by the board. The present policy expires Oct. 24.

Romney Plan Viewed Wrong

Detroit Erred on Tax Squawk

$2¾ Million Cut From Expected Revenue Loss

LANSING (AP) — Detroit officials made a $2¾ million error in computing how much city income tax revenue they would lose under the tax reform program proposed by Gov. George Romney, it was revealed yesterday.

State Controller Glenn Allen Jr. said an apparent misunderstanding of the Romney proposal caused Detroit officials to estimate they would lose that much in taxes paid by Detroit residents working outside the city — when actually they wouldn't lose a dime from that source.

★ ★ ★

"It was an honest mistake," said Allen. "They made the estimates before actually seeing a copy of the bill.

NOT TRUE

Detroit officials apparently thought the Romney proposal said tax on these people would be cut to one-half of 1 per cent under Romney's program, but this is not true, Allen said.

The governor's proposal actually specifies city residents, regardless of where they work, could pay a 1 per cent tax to their own city after Jan. 1, 1965.

"The only way Detroit could lose any of this $5½ million would be for cities in which Detroit residents work to enact income taxes of their own," said Allen.

"And that can happen under the new constitution, whether the Romney program is approved by the legislature or not."

In such cases, Allen said De-

From Our Wire Service

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic — The military junta is expected to send deposed President Juan Bosch into European exile today. Fearing the deportation might touch off disorders, the military chiefs kept departure plans secret.

"You will be informed when Bosch is gone," Gen. Antonio Imbert Barrera, junta leader, told newsmen.

Other high government sources said Bosch was being put aboard the Navy frigate Mella, probably destined for Spain. They said the frigate would sail as soon as seas calmed in the wake of Hurricane Edith.

BOLIVIA ACTS

Eduardo Sanchez Cabral, Dominican ambassador to the Organization of American States (OAS), resigned last night to protest the military takeover.

The three-man civilian provisional government installed by the junta announced the appointment of Dr. Jose Antonio Bonilla Atiles, foreign minister of the interim government after the fall of the Trujillo regime, as ambassador-designate to the United States.

Bonilla, about 40, is said to be acquainted with President Kennedy and Secretary of State Dean Rusk. One of the Dominicans who fought Trujillo from exile, he recently worked for the Organization of American States.

★ ★ ★

WOOING U.S.?

The announcements, following a junta vow to fight Castro-Communism, were seen as further moves to win prompt U. S. recognition and restoration of a $50-million aid program that Dominicans admit is vital to their economy.

Kennedy Tour Heats Up GOP

President Fires Latest Salvo in California

WHISKEYTOWN, Calif. (UPI) — President Kennedy today neared the end of his Western tour which was beginning to produce first national reaction from the Republican leadership.

He returned the Republican favor here today in northern California where he dedicated the Whiskeytown reservoir and dam, part of a large complex supplying water for irrigation, production of electric power, and fish, wildlife and recreational facilities in northern California.

In Kennedy's prepared speech, he noted that the federal government from a beginning about 30 years ago, had worked with California in putting into operation a comprehensive plan for development of the state's water resources.

HITS EISENHOWER REGIME

The President noted that under Roosevelt and Truman, the master plan advanced. Then, he pointed out, "progress was interrupted." This was a reference to the power policies prevalent under the Eisenhower administration.

It was remarks of this nature which led Republican National Chairman William Miller to assail the Kennedy trip last night in a special statement, calling it an outright political campaign journey paid for by the taxpayers.

The Kennedy staff, however, was too realistic to insist that the trip was not without its political targets — and, hopefully, political dividends which might be realized in next year's campaign.

AUTUMN FEVER—"I hope you'll excuse me," yawns this Bengal tiger at the Detroit Zoo in Royal Oak, "but it's such a nice day I think I'll take a cat nap. By the way, those human Tigers must feel as sleepy as I do. I hear they lost to some birds from Baltimore, 5-2." The zoo closes its gates Nov. 3. The Detroit Tigers (yawn) play their final American League game of the season at Baltimore tomorrow.

Violence Erupts at Football Games

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vandalism and rowdyism by students and other spectators, which caused several cities to ban night high school football games, hit Des Moines, Iowa, and Pleasantville, N.J., last night.

At Des Moines, 10 persons were injured, one seriously, when a tear gas bomb was thrown into the crowd shortly before halftime of a game between Des Moines Roosevelt and Des Moines Tech.

Fighting spread to the streets and it took eight regular policemen and 13 special officers to restore order.

BOTH HOSPITALIZED

Both were hospitalized. Jay Michael in serious condition with head injuries and Patricia in good condition.

Police said 100 or more persons may have suffered some ill effects from the fumes, but most did not require hospitalization.

The melee at Pleasantville broke out after the Pleasantville quarterback was tackled behind the line of scrimmage in a desperate pass attempt on the final play of the game.

The quarterback and his tackler were wrestling as the gun sounded and players from both benches and fans from both sides rushed on to the field.

FIGHTING SPREADS

Police said they had calls from all over the town that youngsters were fighting and blocking traffic. Rocks and other objects were thrown into buses carrying visiting fans.

Cool Temperatures Seen Tomorrow

Clouds and sunshine along with cooler temperatures will stop off here tomorrow. A high of 65 is predicted.

Variable cloudiness with a low of 46 is tonight's forecast.

The lowest mercury reading in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. was 56. At 1 p.m. the thermometer registered a pleasant 60.

NEW GOVERNMENT — The three-man junta which has taken over rule of the Dominican Republic following the ouster of President Juan Bosch is shown at official installation ceremonies in Santo Domingo. Senator Asks Crackdown

'Crime Boss Rules From Cell'

From Our Wire Services

WASHINGTON — Sen. Karl E. Mundt, R-S.D., called for a crackdown today on imprisoned rackets czar Vito Genovese, whom mobster Joseph Valachi says has directed Mafia-styled murder operations from his federal jail cell.

Mundt urged federal prison authorities to put Genovese "under special surveillance so that he isn't running the New York City rackets from a federal prison."

Genovese presently is serving a 15-year sentence on a narcotics charge at Leavenworth (Kan.) Federal Penitentiary. He was transferred to Leavenworth from Atlanta about a year ago.

In his first day in the witness chair before the Senate investigations subcommittee, the stocky dope peddler and slayer put the heat on Genovese, "the boss of all bosses" on the crime syndicate's secret commission.

Valachi has promised to drag the 10 or so other members of the commission into the spotlight.

Why was he doing this, asked the chairman, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark.

"You get nothing but misery. Once you're in you can't get out. They've been—let's say, bad to the soldiers," said the 60-year-old hoodlum who admitted making $150,000 in a good year during World War II.

"What did you do for them?" asked Sen. Jacob Javits, R-N.Y.

RAN SYNDICATE

His testimony Friday that Genovese ran a crime syndicate from a federal prison cell brought a senatorial demand for a tightening up of prison discipline.

Valachi put the finger on Genovese as a Cosa Nostra overlord whose life-and-death power over subordinates went along with him when he was sentenced to prison as a narcotics racketeer.

Valachi swore he received the "kiss of death"—gangland's death warrant—from Genovese when they were cellmates last year at the Atlanta, Ga., penitentiary.

★ ★ ★

He said he believes Genovese also engineered the assassination of missing mobster Anthony (Tony Bender) Strollo.

Sen. Mundt, senior Republican on the subcommittee, told reporters the testimony should serve as a warning to wardens.

Want to See Romney? He'll Be Here Monday

Anyone with a gripe, comment, question or suggestion for Gov. George Romney will have a chance to deliver it to him in person between 8 and 9:30 a.m. Monday at the Oakland County Courthouse.

That's the time set for the first of Romney's 24 citizen meetings to take his tax reform program first-hand to the people.

The governor wants to explain his proposals to citizens, learn their reactions, and perhaps, in the process, make the program less controversial.

Monday's session, scheduled in the county clerk-register's office for the benefit of Pontiac area residents, will be patterned after the governor's regular Thursday morning citizen interviews.

★ ★ ★

It will be only the second such session outside Lansing, the first occurring in Marquette in June at the special request of Upper Peninsula inhabitants for whom a trip to the capital was impractical.

Each citizen will have five minutes of private talk with Romney. Only others present will be one of his aides and a state trooper.

Although the meetings, to take place in 22 other cities as well, are primarily for the tax issue, other topics may be included, according to the governor's office.

UNEMPLOYMENT

Most frequent topic in regular Lansing sessions has been unemployment brought up by people desperate for a job.

As for other subjects, there have been "all types," divided about 60-40 on public issues and personal problems, an aide says.

Nearly 700 have chatted with Romney since the sessions were inaugurated Jan. 17 shortly after Romney took office.

As many as 65 have interviewed in one session, with the average about 35. Sessions resumed Sept. 19 after a two-month summer recess.

Artist Paints Kennedys 'in the Raw'

NEW YORK (AP)—A 30-year-old Texas painter said today his portrait of President Kennedy in the nude was done in homage. "Nudity is a symbol of purity," he said.

Rex Clawson, a Dallas native, said that working from magazine photographs, he also painted a picture of the entire Kennedy family in the nude—"including the movie star," Peter Lawford.

But he said the New York gallery that exhibited it in early 1962 "called it by a different title and no one guessed who it was."

The latter painting, "Family on a Persian Rug," had as subjects "as many of the family as I could get in," including Mrs. Kennedy, the Kennedy children, Caroline and John Jr., the artist said.

Clawson declined to identify the art gallery where "Family on a Persian Rug" was shown or the person to whom he sold it.

SHOWN AT HOTEL

His "Nude in a Rocking Chair" has been on exhibition since Sept. 25, four blocks from the Hotel Carlyle, where Kennedy often stays,

Leaf Pickup Starts Monday

The Pontiac Department of Public Works will begin its fall leaf pick-up program Monday, according to Clyde Christian, DPW superintendent.

"We plan to start picking up leaves in Washington Park Subdivision and work clockwise around the city," he said yesterday.

"Residents may rake leaves into the street from the strip between the sidewalk and curb," he noted. "Other leaves taken from the front and back yards may be put in containers for pickup on regular rubbish pick-up days."

Burning of leaves must be confined to private property. It is against the law to burn on city pavement. Residents may also take leaves to the dump if they prefer.

Diem to Meet Yank

SAIGON (UPI) — Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara was reported planning today to meet President Ngo Dinh Diem tomorrow and discuss the findings of his tour this week of South Viet Nam.

Diplomatic sources said the two men might meet in the mountain resort of Dalat, north of here.

Asst. Defense Secretary Arthur Sylvester, spokesman for McNamara and Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, said he could not confirm the report. He acknowledged, however, that a field trip the defense secretary was to have taken tomorrow has been postponed until Monday.

Sylvester also denied reports that he has been "managing news" through over-optimistic reports on the progress of the war against communism in South Viet Nam. His reports had been criticized by the U.S. press.

BASED ON INFORMATION

He said he based his view of the war on the information U.S. officers here had given to McNamara and Taylor.

"What I told you is what we heard, that's all," he said.

Taylor and McNamara arrived here three days ago, but so far neither of them has seen Diem or his brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu, chief of the secret police and reported "power behind the throne."

★ ★ ★

It was not clear whether McNamara's delay in meeting with the president was meant as a reflection of U.S. doubts about his regime, nor was it certain whether Diem or McNamara arranged the reported talks tomorrow.

VISIT GUERRILLA CAMP

McNamara and Taylor traveled 750 miles by car and helicopter yesterday through South Viet Nam's central highlands.

One place they visited was a training camp for tribal guerrillas which was infiltrated early this year by Communists who later organized an attack in which 40 tribesmen were killed.

At Plaiku, headquarters of South Viet Nam's II Corps, McNamara expressed dissatisfaction with delays in the installation of radio-warning systems in tribal strongholds.

A general election yesterday returned supporters of Diem to a majority of seats in the national assembly, which has had no real authority since Diem began ruling by decree several years ago.

There were no prominent opposition candidates for the assembly.

Five Saginaw Men Held on Drug Charge

Five Saginaw men were being held in the Oakland County jail today for investigation of fraudulently obtaining narcotic drugs from area pharmacies.

State police from the Pontiac post said the five signed fictitious names and addresses when they purchased a cough syrup containing codeine.

★ ★ ★

Under law only one four-ounce bottle can be purchased in a 48-hour period. When obtaining the cough syrup, it is required that the purchaser sign his name and address.

DRUGGISTS ALERTED

Police had alerted druggists to be on the lookout for several men who might purchase the medicine after they had received complaints from a suspicious pharmacist.

Earlier this week, three other Saginaw men were placed on two years' probation for fraudulently obtaining narcotic drugs from a Birmingham drug store.

Artist's View of Kennedys Is Quite Stark

subject portrayed in "Nude in a Rocking Chair" wasn't divulged as Kennedy until yesterday, when an irate woman complained about it to a New York newspaper.

★ ★ ★

Clawson said of the painting: "I pictured him in the nude as a homage to him because in past Western culture, in Greek culture especially, they pictured heroes and gods as nude. They were pure and had no reason to cover up their nakedness. Like Adam—before his sin—they had no guilt."

Asked if his portrait intended to show that the President is pure and has no guilt, Clawson said, "that's right."

★ ★ ★

The leg muscles were shown, Clawson said, to symbolize the President's advocacy of long walks to help physical fitness. The arm muscles were delineated "to signify his signing bills and documents."

Storm Edith Now a Squall

MIAMI (UPI) —Former Hurricane Edith, which pooped itself out on the mountain peaks of the Dominican Republic, degenerated into a squall today and howled without enthusiasm off the eastern Bahamas.

The Miami Weather Bureau said in a 6 a.m. advisory that Edith was centered near latitude 21 north, longitude 71 west, or about 35 miles south of Turks Island.

"Edith has continued to weaken and highest winds are estimated at 35 to 45 miles per hour in squalls within 35 miles of the center," the weather bureau said.

Sea Breezes Break Heat in California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Ocean breezes broke through the great heat wave of '63 today, bringing relief to millions of Southern Californians.

The weatherman predicted an end to the three-day seige, with an expected high of 95. By Monday, he said, the mercury should be back in the mid-80s.

Temperatures began slackening off slightly Friday, but readings were still high enough—well over 100—to cause widespread effects on a wilted population.

Playing It Cool

The highest reported temperature in the United States Friday was in El Toro, Calif., where the mercury hit a sizzling 113 degrees.

A score of schools were closed, hundreds went on short shifts and most reported absenteeism at 30 to 50 per cent.

Most sports activities were lopped off the day's activities. Seven high school football games were postponed.

STUDENTS REBEL

About 300 students at Van Nuys High School rebelled against classes in the 100-plus weather but were persuaded to attend.

City officials sent workers home from offices that weren't air-conditioned, business activity slackened and sidewalks were nearly empty.

Freeways were not, however, autos stalled with radiator woes and fuel-pump vapor-locks, piled up traffic for miles.

Nearly 200,000 persons flocked to beaches and county and city pools. Officials said some pools which normally would be closed will be kept open through the weekend.

★ ★ ★

Coastal areas were just as hot as the city, while normally torrid desert areas were relatively cool. The heat was borne on winds which got hotter as they neared the coast.

This trend was expected to be reversed with the onset of cooling ocean breezes.

De Gaulle Pledges Support for 'Nonindependent' Nations

VILLEFRANCHE-SUR-SAONE, France (UPI)—President Charles de Gaulle today pledged French support for countries in Latin America, Asia and Africa "which are seeking to develop their own personalities."

He said France's assertion of her own national independence has been an example to them.

"Our national independence is a duty we must fulfill towards others," he said in a speech on the fourth day of his five-day speaking swing through the Rhone Valley area of France.

★ ★ ★

He scheduled what may be the most important speech of the tour at Lyon this evening.

SERVICE RENDERED

De Gaulle declared that the "independence" France has won for herself "is a service we render to many other peoples."

"We render it," he said, "to the nations behind the Iron Curtain which are subjected to the foreign yoke of the Soviets. These peoples gain a secret hope from France's independence.

"It is a service we render also to the countries of Latin America which are striving at this moment to develop their own personality, to those in Asia and in Africa and to all sorts of new or restored states which see in France, mistress of herself, a source of support whenever they need it. Our national independence is a duty towards others."

REITERATED THEME

De Gaulle reiterated the theme he developed earlier in his tour about France maintaining her national identity between the two great "hegemonies" of the United States and Russia.

★ ★ ★

De Gaulle said Russia still seeks world domination but will not achieve it, although the free nations must maintain their "vigilance."

Foul Play Absent in Woman's Death

An autopsy on the body of a young woman found dead in her hotel room yesterday revealed no signs of foul play, according to Pontiac police.

The fully-clothed body of Barbara Joyce Howard, 22, was discovered in her Roosevelt Hotel apartment about 2 p.m. by a cleaning woman.

★ ★ ★

Suffocation may have been the cause of death, police said, but added they will continue their investigation until they receive a laboratory report.

★ ★ ★

Miss Howard was a laboratory sterilizer at Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital. She had worked there about a month, police said.

Lone Sextuplet Object of Hunt

Survived Multiple Birth in Missouri

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Public Health Service is searching for the sole survivor of one of the two sets of sextuplets recorded in U.S. medical history.

Information about the country's sextuplets and other multiple births was dug up by the service following the birth of the Fischer quintuplets of Aberdeen, S.D.

The health service's records contain no reference to the sextuplets, spokesmen said. But a 1953 article refers to birth of sextuplets to a Mrs. Speichinger in Missouri 27 years ago.

Of the six babies only one lived, according to the article published by Dr. John B. Nichols in the Western Journal of Surgery, Obstertrics and Gynecology.

The health service is searching for information on the surviving sextuplet with the cooperation of the Missouri State Department of Public Health and Welfare.

The other case of sextuplets in U.S. medical literature was in Chicago in 1866.

Duck-Napper Grabs Fowl and Flees

Fritz Fuez, 2531 Delemere, Troy, complained to police last night that someone took his mallard duck out of his back yard.

Police said Fuëz told them he saw a car pull away with his duck about 5 p.m. yesterday. He valued the duck at $1.50.

Mission Fair Planned by 3 Lutheran Churches

BIRMINGHAM — A "World's Fair of Missions" will be presented Oct. 9-11 at Redeemer Lutheran Church, 1800 W. Maple.

★ ★ ★

There will be nothing for sale at the fair, but there will be plenty to see.

The congregations of Redeemer, Our Shepherd and Ascension churches, all members of the Missouri Lutheran Synod, have combined resources for the event.

They will demonstrate work being done in various mission fields at home and abroad through the exhibits.

★ ★ ★

Included will be samples of native food and typical costumes worn by the people of the lands represented. There also will be handicrafts and other objects representative of the cultures.

REPLICA OF HUT

A replica of an African bush hut used as a chapel by missionaries will be featured.

The fair, open to the public, is scheduled from 6-9:30 each evening.

There will be a different guest speaker each evening of the fair.

In order of their appearance, they are Rev. Edward Azzam, who just completed three years with a survey team in Beirut, Lebanon; Rev. E. C. Weber, first vice president of the Michigan district; and Rev. David Eberhard of Detroit.

The latter, a young minister at Riverside Church, has worked with the Inner City Missions.

Birmingham Chapter No. 220, Order of the Eastern Star, will hold its annual meeting and election of officers at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday in the Birmingham Masonic Temple.

troit and the other city with an income tax would split the revenue 50-50, in the manner that Detroit and Hamtramack now divide revenues from their income taxes.

While Cavanagh estimated Detroit's loss at about $10 million, Citizens' Research Council said it could go as high as $12 million.

ERRED TWICE

Allen said, however, that the council's recommendations also erred on the question of taxes paid by Detroit residents working elsewhere.

Allen said he advised Detroit City Controller Alfred Pelham of the error when Pelham and Cavanagh met with Romney to discuss tax reform Wednesday.

"It was the first they were aware of the miscalculation," said Allen. "Pelham said he was very glad to have it called to his attention."

★ ★ ★

Cavanagh earlier had blasted the governor's 2-point program on grounds it deprived Detroit of too much revenue now gained from the 1 per cent income tax imposed on corporations, residents and non-residents since July 1961.

Romney's plan would not permit cities to tax corporations. This would result in a $4½ million loss to Detroit.

In addition to the $2¾ million mistake, Allen said an "erroneous impression" has been created that the Romney plan would be responsible for Detroit losing revenues from having its 1 per cent income tax on nonresidents cut to one-half.

COULD HAPPEN

"This could happen, Romney program or no Romney program," he said, "because the new constitution allows cities to levy income taxes automatically supersedes city charters which now prevent it."

The only certain losses to Detroit through enactment of Romney's plan would be the $4½ million from corporate income taxes and an estimated $1 million from taxes paid by residents of unincorporated areas who work in Detroit, he said.

The new constitution does not permit unincorporated areas to levy income taxes, but under Romney's plan they, like other nonresidents, would pay only one-half of 1 per cent to Detroit.

Hearing Is Set on Air Service

A hearing on proposed cuts in airline service at Pontiac Municipal Airport has been scheduled for Oct. 15 in Lansing, the Michigan Aeronautics Department said today.

Pontiac is one of three Michigan cities confronted by a petition from North Central Airlines to discontinue its service under a "use it or lose it" policy.

North Central sets a quota of five passengers per day emplanement. The average number of passengers originating from Pontiac is 1.14.

Other Michigan cities included in the hearings on discontinuing service are Cadillac-Reed City and Port Huron. A fourth city, Alpena, may be considered at a later date.

John Taylor, 253 Crystal, told police that a $400 man's diamond ring was among the items taken in the break-in, which occurred between 6 and 8 p.m.

Soviet Views Moonshot Offer

Stanislav Kondrashov's article, published by the magazine Za Rubezhom, was the first mention of the moonshot proposal that had been published here.

The Soviet press reported Kennedy's U.N. speech, in which the suggestion was made, but edited out all reference to it.

★ ★ ★

"In lavish headlines, American newspapers describe the grandiose character of the project, although it seems it is somewhat premature."

★ ★ ★

The fact that the Soviet press edited out mentions of the moon proposal from its reports on the Kennedy speech had led Western observers to predict a cautious or cool reaction from the Kremlin.

In Communist Battle

Russia Ahead of China?

MOSCOW (UPI) — Russia appeared today to be besting Red China in the struggle to line up support among the world's Communist parties.

Even countries bordering on China — North Viet Nam and North Korea — still maintain economic ties with the Soviet Union.

This was made clear by the disclosure yesterday that both these nations had sent observers to a meeting of Comecon — the Kremlin's "common market" alignment.

★ ★ ★

Reds in Portugal and Britain already have called for a world conference of Communist leaders at which Peking presumably would be formally "excommunicated."

This is likely to occur, diplomatic observers said, in Moscow Nov. 7, during celebrations of the anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution.

Reliable sources said the Nov. 7 celebrations will include a meeting of Communist leaders at which the split between Moscow and Peking probably will be formalized.

★ ★ ★

The Kremlin is trying to make predominant the pro-Moscow wings of Communist parties throughout the world, some of which are split between supporters of Mao Tse-tung and Nikita Khrushchev.

Use of Bases in France Offered Bonn by U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—The United States is reliably reported to have offered West Germany the use of some American military supply bases in France, the New York Times said today.

A London dispatch described the invitation as the latest move in the competition between the United States and France for West German support.

Rap of Gavel 'Ages' Girl Three Years

KALAMAZOO (UPI) — In the time it takes to rap a gavel, little Jeanine R. Mills aged three years yesterday and it didn't hurt one bit.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mills, adopted Jeanine four years ago from a Korean orphanage. Officials of the orphanage figured, on the basis of her size and weight, that the little girl was about 2. Her birth records had been destroyed and she had no living relatives.

Mills and his wife, in celebration of the happy occasion, selected Christmas day as the child's birthday. As the years passed, however, Jeanine displayed much more intelligence than the girls who were presumably her own age.

SUSPECTED MISTAKE

Her parents began to suspect the orphanage might have made a mistake in reckoning the child's age.

They enlisted the aid of a battery of dentists, doctors and teachers to see if they could more closely approximate Jeanine's age.

After extensive research the group determined the girl was at least 9 instead of 6.

A petition to change the child's age was made before Circuit Court Judge Raymond W. Starr. After due study, Starr granted the motion.

Jeanine's birthday was changed to March 17th and next year she will be 10. She might well be the only child in the world to have had a 15-month wait between birthdays.

After he rapped his gavel and granted the motion, Judge Starr, with a warm smile on his face, told Jeanine "If you were a few years older, you might be asking me to subtract a few years instead of adding."

Installation Prices on Phone Wires Down

High cost has been the big problem in burying electric power and telephone lines. But new underground installation prices are coming down.

Result: The eyesore and wire that clutter subdivision landscapes may one day disappear.

As examples of reductions in installation costs there are some developments: Arizona public Service Co. now charges about $120 a lot for underground wiring — down 80 per cent from five years ago.

Southern California Edison Co. has cut charges to $150 a lot — about half what they were five years ago. Pacific Gas and Electric Co. in northern California is now charging less than $400 a lot.

Fifteen years ago PG&E's equivalent installations were price-tagged as high as $1,000.

Houston Lighting and Power Co., which has just begun to offer underground installation service, is already charging less than $400 a lot.

Even so, most builders around the country have to pay much more. Underground wiring in St. Louis is a premium $1,000 a lot; in San Antonio and Memphis it runs $500; in Seattle the price is as much as $500.

There are several signs for the future. Less than three years ago, a survey among power companies showed many which refused to do underground wiring at any price.

Today, most offer at least some kind of minimum underground service; those that still do not are giving the subject very serious thought.

Goldwater Will Decide

BUFFALO, N. Y. (UPI) —Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., says he will "'have to decide shortly after the first of the year" whether to run for the 1964 Republican presidential nomination.

"As of now, I'm not a candidate," Goldwater told newsmen yesterday after making a lunch speech.

Disclosures Bring Blast at R. Kennedy

Commissioner Leo J. Mulachy protested Friday that Kennedy released information on the death of Vincent J. Squillante before notifying Connecticut police.

Premature releases, Mulcahy said, make it more difficult to develop a successful solution to a crime.

Kennedy said Wednesday he had information that Squillante, an underworld figure, was taken to Connecticut by mobsters and killed.

Diebetics Case Solved by DBI

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — Often it's difficult to persuade an elderly person to change his or her diet, even when doing so is all that is needed to control diabetes.

In such cases, reports Dr. Georgiana Faludi of Hahnemann Medical College, oral drugs provide the answer. For overweight diabetics and those who tend to gain weight, Dr. Faludi suggests the drug DBI (phenformin) as the medicine of choice. Unlike insulin, DBI does not convert blood sugar to fat.

Teens to Learn at Charm Class

The Montgomery Ward store in Pontiac Mall has been picked for a pilot program of a new customer service—a "Wendy Ward" finishing school for teen-age girls.

The school is an outgrowth of "Charm Time for Teens," a successful fashion program that has been offered for the past two years at Ward stores in the metropolitan area.

The finishing school, a six-week series of lectures and do-it-yourself demonstrations, is the brainchild of two ex-models, Loretta Weller and Barbara Loren.

"Our idea is to make finishing school instruction available to the mass of teens who could not otherwise afford it," explained Mrs. Loren.

The course, which opens at the Mall store Oct. 12 is the first of the half-dozen 90-minute-long Saturday classes.

Teen-age girls from 12½ to 18 will learn fundamentals of good grooming, poise and personality adjustment. A kit of materials is included in registration charges.

If the trial proves popular, Wards intends to institute it on a national basis. Similar programs for teen-age boys, adults, and expectant mothers are also being contemplated.

Summer Business Drop Not Marked in Pontiac

The traditional summer business slowdown was not clearly noticeable in the city of Pontiac during August, as most business indicators were mixed.

Pontiac banks reported that transactions through customer accounts during the month totaled $110,750,385, up $2.7 million over July, and increased an impressive $10 million over the same month a year ago.

Industrial payrolls, however, continued a slight decline for the second straight month, mainly due to temporary layoffs at General Motors plants going through model changeover. Yet August's payroll total was $1 million greater than the same 1962 period.

Continuing to fluctuate, the number of building permits issued in the city dropped to 157, six less than in July. But the amount is still greater than August 1962's 131 permits.

Value of construction, about half for new dwellings, amounted to $454,073. This is about $137,000 less than two months ago and less than half for the same month in 1962.

BUS PATRONS DOWN

Bus patronage declined again, to 53,254, mainly due to lack of student riders for the summer. Yet there were fewer riders than in the comparable period of the month before, or a year ago.

The number of outbound passengers at Pontiac Municipal Airport continued to inch upward, however, as 48 persons departed in August on North Central Airlines planes. This is three more than in July.

Postal receipts were down sharply to $131,785 from July's $149,046, yet are almost the same as August 1962.

Statistics on August business trends were reported by Community National Bank, Pontiac State Bank, city water and inspection departments, Pontiac post office, Consumers Power Co., Detroit Edison Co., Pontiac Transit Corp., North Central Airlines and Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Failure Would Ruin 'Image'

Will GOP Stop Romney Tax?

By JIM DYGERT

Despite their evident dislike for Gov. George Romney's tax reform program, it's hard to believe that conservative Republican legislators will try seriously to scuttle it when the chips are down.

They won't be eager to crimp the rise to national prestige of the brightest Republican star in many a Michigan moon.

Romney says he's indifferent to any political consequences of his program; he just wants to get Michigan moving again.

* * *

But he's talking about the possible dire result of his program's succeeding — his getting blamed for a new state income tax.

Any bad effects on Romney's reputation and future, however, would come not from his program's success, but its failure.

In the national perspective, success would mean credit for modernizing Michigan's mystifying tax system against stiff odds rather than blame for imposing a new tax.

IF HE FAILS

But, if he fails, what would happen to his growing stature could make a stock market crash look like a minor slip.

Well aware of this, GOP conservatives will aim more for revisions to soften the impact on Republican pockets than at complete defeat for the controversial program or its most vital plank, a state personal and corporate income tax.

Romney admits that his program, though not designed to up taxes in general, will mean slightly higher taxes for middle and high income groups, an approach that seldom occasions Republican ecstacy.

* * *

Conservatives are dead set against a state income tax without a popular vote. Some, such as Senate Taxation Committe Chairman Clyde Geerlings, R-Holland, want no such tax at all.

Other Republicans, however, strongly support Romney's proposals, especially the "moderates," including State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts, R-Oakland County, who control the Senate GOP majority. They agree an income tax is unavoidably essential to tax reform.

But no one knows better than the "moderates" that, despite Democratic support, the road ahead is rocky. "We've got to reconcile some differences," Roberts says. "The votes are not there now."

Many GOP lawmakers are of the same mind as State Rep. Henry M. Hogan Jr., R-Bloomfield Hills, who says, "There will have to be some modifications before I can vote for it."

Mindful of an income tax's unpopularity in the Birmingham-Bloomfield area that contributes most of the power and money to his district as well as the entire state GOP, Hogan is leery about the personal income tax proposal.

"Unlike the federal income tax," he says, "it doesn't take expenses into account."

Even Democrats, whose enthusiasm exceeds the GOP's since they have long favored an income tax, still find plenty of flaws.

Those in Detroit, led by Mayor Jerome Cavanagh, are particularly aghast at the program's local option income tax provisions, which they claim will mean a $10-million annual loss for their city.

Despite Geerlings' presence in the Senate, most trouble is anticipated in the House, where conservatives have more strength.

REDUCTION

One of the most likely changes is a reduction in the personal income tax from Romney's 2 per cent to 1 per cent. Local option tax provisions also will be revamped, a move to which Romney agreed after talking with Cavanagh and Wayne County officials.

Maneuvers to revise the program into a shape both acceptable and worthwhile, however, could result in a bogging down that might kill fiscal reform, and darken Romney's future. Hogan gives the program a 50-50 chance, but "only if it gets through quickly."

Concerned or not about his political future, Romney will have to keep his men on their toes if he is to end up with significant improvement in the tax structure to correct inequities, stimulate business and provide adequate revenue for state and local governments.

* * *

When all the thrashing is over, however, he most likely will get it, thanks to: A coalition of Democrats and moderate Republicans; a constitutional amendment proposal to limit the income tax; reluctance of Republicans to shoot down the Romney meteor; and public support.

This last, which the governor is seeking to generate in a whirlwind schedule of citizen meetings, probably would be based more on backing for Romney personality than on any true understanding of his program or deep-down belief that it's the right one.

Even if Democrats should accuse the governor of lack of leadership in his own party in his need for their support, they will little dim the resultant burst of increasing brightness in Romney's already glistening national image.

Plays Recital on New Casalant Organ

Members and friends wishing to attend the dinner, at 6:30 p.m., may secure tickets from Mrs. Elwood Bigler, or call the church office.

Dr. Alfred Grey, guest pastor, will preach on "Our Finest Hours" Sunday morning. Mrs. Carl Leonard will sing "The Lord's Prayer" by Malotte.

Chimney and Roof Repairs

The repair men who just happen to be in your neighborhood and to notice your chimney needs repairs; definitely needs to be fixed before you put your furnace on. Also he observes a few shingles need replacing or the gutters are clogged with leaves and the flashings need a little paint here and there. He even offers to guarantee the work. You get the impression the job is quite simple and the cost not so great—until you come to pay the bill. It may be anywhere from thirty to a hundred dollars and if the job doesn't hold up you can't find the "guarantor."

Cleaning the flues and putting your furnace in good condition for winter goes hand-in-hand with the "roofer" and "chimney expert." Sometimes he takes your furnace apart and discovers how much "repairs" it needs or even a new furnace is required. Why take chances like that? There are a number of local reputable firms dealing in "heating," "roofing," etc. Call a reliable firm and get an estimate.
