LBJ Unveils New School Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sent Congress a record $1.66-billion tots-through-teens education program today, with an open invitation to private and parochial schools to take part.

★ ★ ★

The proposed program, with heavy emphasis on the children of low-income families, is the heaviest presidential artillery yet in what Johnson calls his war against poverty.

The provisions for nonpublic schools to share in the benefits seem certain to trigger a bitter fight on Capitol Hill.

Even before the details were laid before Congress, it was learned, the group known as "Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State," made known its opposition.

However, it also was learned that the Roman Catholic hierarchy generally approves, and so do some officials of the National Education Association, which traditionally opposes use of public funds for nonpublic schools.

An administration source was confident: "This is a good bill, and one we believe we can get through the Congress."

The comprehensive program would provide assistance to preschool youngsters in the slums, elementary and secondary school pupils in the nation's pockets of poverty, and college scholarships and other help for worthy and needy high school graduates.

Johnson said the one-year cost in excess of $1.5 billion "is a small price to pay for developing our nation's most priceless resource."

★ ★ ★

"Poverty has many roots," the President said, "but the tap root is ignorance."

WOULD PROVIDE

The presidential program would provide for fiscal 1966:

● Public schools: $1 billion for elementary and secondary schools serving children from families with less than $2,000 annual income.

There are an estimated 5 million such children and 85-90 per cent of the nation's school districts will qualify for assistance.

Public and private schools would be urged to cooperate in shared-time programs and other joint use of new facilities.

● Higher education: $260 million to provide 140,000 scholarships, partial payment of interest on guaranteed private loans to college students — perhaps 2 per cent of the usual 6 per cent, assistance to small colleges,

'Burch to Announce He's Yielding to Bliss'

DEAN BURCH

RAY C. BLISS

Report Change to Be Gradual

Shift OK'd by Barry, Party Source Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch will announce today he is stepping down — after a transition period — to make way for Ohio GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss, a party source said.

The shift, with former Sen. Barry Goldwater's approval, will be announced later today in Phoenix, Ariz.

Burch, Goldwater, Bliss and former Rep. William E. Miller, the party's vice presidential nominee, gathered there for a joint news conference.

Word of the shift — designed to avert a showdown vote by the national committee on Burch's leadership — came after days of behind the scene negotiations.

★ ★ ★

"It boils down to this," the party source said, "Burch is out and Bliss is in."

But the GOP official who told of the plan added the change was not coming at once, that there would be a transitional period before Bliss takes over.

The source said the actual change at the Republican National Committee helm probably would come early in the spring.

In Phoenix, it was announced the four top Republican leaders were gathered here at Goldwater's home and were scheduled to make statements later today.

★ ★ ★

Goldwater's office announced that those with Goldwater were Burch, Miller and Bliss.

Goldwater's office did not say what the statements would cover.

By County Supervisors

Sale of Sanatorium to College Okayed

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors today approved sale of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium to the Oakland Community College for the appraisal price of $927,000.

The county facility will become one of three community college campuses in Oakland.

Prior to final approval this morning, the sale had been recommended by the buildings and grounds and ways and means committees.

College officials have asked the sanatorium board of trustees to vacate the main hospital and other buildings by the first of April so remodeling can get under way.

Plans are to start holding classes there in September.

Oakland County Health Director Bernard D. Berman, M.D., who has advocated sale of the facility for some time, has assured the trustees and all committees concerned that finding beds for the sanatorium's 115 patients will be no problem.

He was unable to give any definite answer, however, when asked where the beds would be.

★ ★ ★

Few if any beds are available in other area hospitals, according to Dr. William F. Fidler, medical director of the sanatorium, who also favored sale of the facility.

TO BE AVOIDED

And placing the patients in hospitals a great distance outside Oakland County is to be avoided if at all possible, Dr. Fidler pointed out.

Dr. Berman estimated that at least 25 could be cared for as outpatients, although they would benefit from hospital care.

Some beds are available in private nursing homes in the area, Dr. Berman said, but he did not indicate that enough could be found for all the patients.

★ ★ ★

Both doctors are confident, however, that there will be no interruption in care for the patients and that the present high quality of care will be maintained, regardless of the final solution to the problem.

ILA Seeks OK of Dock Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—Top officials of the Longshoremen's Union began a program of persuasion today aimed at changing the rank-and-file membership's rejection of a new contract and ending a costly dock strike.

The rejection by New York dock workers triggered a strike by 60,000 members of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association in ports from Maine to Texas under a one-strike, all-strike policy.

The embattled ILA president met with delegations from all of the union's local here, setting in motion the campaign to prepare the members for another vote on the contract.

An estimated 200 ships are tied up in ports. More are expected to arrive today.

Estimates of losses to the national economy, including effects on related industries, range from $20 million to $25 million a day.

Union leaders and Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds say the contract was rejected here last Friday because the rank-and-file misunderstood the contract.

A campaign to sell the contract to the men was decided on at an ILA executive council meeting yesterday, first day of the strike.

WENT TO LOCALS

Union officials went to ILA locals here to find out the reasons for rejection, to explain the advantages of the contract and to get a new vote among the 24,000 longshoremen.

ILA President Thomas W. Gleason said he had heard reports of "agitators telling lies to the men." He said he did not know who the agitators were.

Gleason spoke of "fear of automation" among the union members. This was a reference to a clause in the proposed contract for gradual reduction of the size of work gangs from 20 to 17 men over a four-year contract term.

Japan 'Bridge to Red China'

More Trade Would Aid Asia Peace—Sato

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato said today Japan considers itself a "bridge," through trade, for understanding between Red China and the West.

★ ★ ★

"While our trade with the mainland (of China) accounts for a mere 2 per cent of our entire trade," he said, "it is our view that if improvements can be effected, through such contacts, in the welfare and livelihood of the Chinese on the mainland, as with the rest of Asia, this would lead the way in the long run to peace and stability in Asia."

The Japanese leader made the statement in a speech prepared for delivery before the National Press Club.

He opened his two-day official visit to Washington earlier in the day with formal welcoming ceremonies at the White House and a conference with President Johnson. He planned to meet with Johnson again tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Sato made it clear that Japan, the only nation ever to suffer an atomic bombing, was deeply disturbed by Communist China's Oct. 16 nuclear test.

TORCH LIGHTED

He said the test "has unfortunately set fire to a torch which may light the way toward nuclear proliferation."

The prime minister said the test led Japan to "rediscover and reaffirm" the once-controversial U.S.-Japan Security Treaty.

Under that pact, the United States is committed to defend Japan in the event of attack.

West to Get 1st Look at Top Red Official

MOSCOW (UPI) — The West will get a close-up look at Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin this spring for the first time since he succeeded Nikita S. Khrushchev.

An announcement of Kosygin's visit and a return trip by Prime Minister Harold Wilson was made simultaneously last night both here and in London. The exact dates will be announced later.

Hope to Break Deadlock in U.N. Dues Squabble

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General U Thant launched a final effort today to break the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over U.N. peacekeeping dues before the General Assembly returns to work Monday.

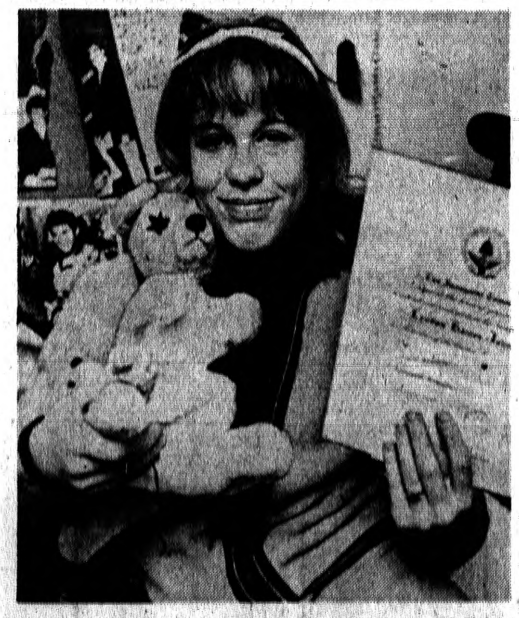

Delegates saw little chance of avoiding a showdown which could result in loss of assembly voting rights for the Soviet Union, France and 16 other nations. They are more than two years behind on their U.N. assessments as a result of their refusal to pay peace-keeping costs.

A U.N. spokesman said Thant has turned over to "interested parties" in the dispute a plan the 59-nation Asian-African group has submitted as a basis for solving the financial crisis which has brought the United Nations close to bankruptcy.

The plan calls for voluntary contributions to pay off the peace-keeping deficit of nearly $86 million and suspends Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. The article says any member who is two years behind in its payments shall lose its vote in the assembly.

The Soviet Union has said it would go along with such a plan provided its contribution would not be earmarked for peacekeeping and Moscow would not be required to state in advance how much it was contributing or when.

The United States was reported still determined to invoke the voting penalty unless the Russians gave more than a vague assurance that they would pay some undisclosed amount. The American delegation was reported surprised that Thant was still trying to keep the Asian-African plan alive.

ASKS THE RIGHT MAN — Melissa Lee Baron, 13, of Lakewood, Calif., who wanted to attend next week's inauguration in Washington and began her campaign by writing to President Johnson, holds the formal invitation she received — and the teddy bear she'll take along to Washington. Solons to Get Down to Work

New Session Cloaked in Aura of Mystery

LANSING (AP) — The gavels bang down tomorrow for a Michigan Legislature session full of change, question marks and almost certain action.

★ ★ ★

Democrats will be in control for the first time in three decades when senators and representatives convene in their redecorated chambers.

★ ★ ★

Only 66 of the 148 legislators are incumbents, adding an aura of mystery at least to the early phases of the session as viewpoints of the newcomers are sought.

Actually, the two houses won't get down to much business before Jan. 25.

As the constitution requires, this 73rd Legislature will begin at 12 noon on the second Wednesday in January. Oath-taking, allocation of desks, pictures, formal election of officers and other procedural tasks will occupy most of the first day.

★ ★ ★

Gov. George Romney will take the spotlight Thursday with his state of the state speech — the traditional report on how the state stands and what it needs.

BOTH ADJOURN

Then the two chambers will adjourn, probably until Jan. 25.

The House will supervise a recount between Rep. Carroll Newton, R-Delton, and Democrat Claude Barton, who trailed by six votes in the November tally.

The House also may have a committee investigate Rep. Daniel West, D-Detroit, who is under indictment on voter registration and income tax irregularities.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, designated by Democrats as House speaker, has said he'll propose a resolution that West be denied his seat pending a House committee report.

Wild Shooting Spree Leaves 30 Injured

GARDENA, Calif (AP)—A berserk 70-year-old gunman blasted three poker parlors with an arsenal of weapons early today, leaving more than 30 persons injured in his angry wake, police said.

Less than half an hour later, officers said Louis Koullapis came at them, a revolver blazing in each hand. He was disarmed, arrested and booked on suspicion of attempted murder.

Of the 28 victims who received hospital treatment—many injured by flying glass did not seek medical attention—four were in serious condition and one was termed extremely critical. He was Arthur Archibald, 73, of Los Angeles, who was shot in the kidneys.

Police said Koullapis was babbling incoherently as he walked toward them with guns firing, but that he later offered no explanation for the massive shooting spree.

But Dudley Gray, an attorney for the hard-hit Rainbow Club, said Koullapis, a sometime gambler and frequent diner at the club for several years, was quoted two days ago by an employe as saying: "This year I am going to die and before I do I am going to take 20 or 30 people with me."

★ ★ ★

The havoc began at the Rainbow Club shortly after 1 a.m., officers said, when Koullapis drove up beside a large plate-glass window and fired at least 16 shots from various weapons into the crowded poker parlor.

SEVEN GUNS

Koullapis had at least seven guns on the front seat, police said, including a double-barreled shotgun, three automatic revolvers and some pistols. He apparently switched guns several times during the rapid volley, officers said.

About 250 patrons—mostly men but a few women—sat in shocked disbelief as the gunfire began, then dived for cover under the large poker tables.

"I thought it was light bulbs popping at first," said Howard Elgort, 30, of Burbank. "Then I realized it was shots and I hit the deck. When I got up later, somebody said, 'Hey, you got blood on you.' I was hit five times by shotgun pellets."

Ford Wants Frelinghuysen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the new House Republican leader, today tapped Rep. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen as his personal choice for the job of Republican whip, or second in command.

But Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, who has served as whip for the past 21 years, stood firm on his decision to make a fight for the job. The election will be by secret ballot Thursday, and members expect the result to be very close.

Earlier Story, Page 28

Frelinghuysen, from New Jersey, would give Eastern representation to the House GOP leadership, which in the past has been heavily Midwestern. He also is a member of the Wednesday Club, a group of 20 House Republican liberals.

Asked if this had anything to do with his choice, Ford said "the decision was made by me without any arrangement with any individual or element of the Republican party."

Japan Premier Begins Talks With Johnson, Rusk Tomorrow

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Japanese Premier Eisaku Sato is to begin talks in Washington Tuesday on Japan's relations with Communst China and the U.S. tax on investments overseas.

The 63-year-old premier arrived in San Francisco Sunday.

★ ★ ★

He was due in Washington at 5:45 p.m. EST today and will confer Tuesday and Wednesday with President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

On Thursday he is scheduled to meet with U.N. Secretary General U Thant in New York.

NO CONFLICT

At a news conference in San Francisco, Sato said he saw no conflict between Japan's conducting trade with Communist China and the U.S. policy barring trade.

Sato termed the U.S. position "a rigid one" and told newsmen Japan and Red China conduct trade only because they were close neighbors.

★ ★ ★

The premier, who took over the post when ailing Hayato Ikeda resigned last November, said he would not be able to decide whether to change Japan's trade policy with Peking until after his discussions with Johnson.

He has been pressured at home by political foes and denounced by Communist China and businessmen who want to increase trade with the mainland.

ACHIEVED NOTHING

Sato said Japan has achieved nothing in its drive to end the U.S. equalization tax on foreign investments. The tax, initiated to curb the outflow of U.S. dollars, has made it difficult for Japan to attract U.S. investment capital.

"But as I understand it, the treaty is to be enforced for the remainder of the year," Sato said, "and so it would be my intention to ask the United States not to have such a law again or to repeat it."

Sato said he did not expect full agreement on all questions in his talks with Johnson and Rusk, "but the important thing is that through such contact we deepen mutual understanding."

He said he intends to clarify Japan's position with regard to Southeast Asia and expects "to get some understanding of the American side of the situation."

On the Indonesian-Malaysian dispute, Sato said he wants to obtain the opinions of other U.N. members.

"I intend to work in my own way and to continue my efforts to help Indonesia remain in the United Nations," he said.

People in the News

Field Marshal Lord Montgomery acclaimed Gen. Douglas MacArthur yesterday as the greatest American soldier of World War II.

But the British wartime commander said President Harry S. Truman was right to fire MacArthur in Korea.

Montgomery was reviewing MacArthur's autobiography, published in London under the title "Reminiscences," for the Sunday Times. He said:

MacARTHUR

"I always considered him the greatest soldier produced by the United States in the Second World War, and I am confirmed in that impression after reading this book.

Montgomery's only criticism of MacArthur was of his actions in Korea, where the general publicly disagreed with Washington's refusal to let him attack Communist China.

"President Truman relieved him of all his commands in the Far East—and in my opinion he had no option.

"The simple lesson remains for all service chiefs: The higher direction of war must remain in political hands."

End Viet War, Signers Ask

Lord Bertrand Russell, the British philosopher who has taken a leading role in campaigns against nuclear weapons, signed a petition in London today urging Prime Minister Wilson to use his good offices to stop the fighting in South Viet Nam.

Other signers included composer Benjamin Britten, actress Dame Sybil Thorndike and historian A. J. P. Taylor.

"We believe that this war only continues because the United States government is improperly interferring in the affairs of Viet Nam," the petition said.

Col. Grissom to You, Suh

Astronaut Virgil L. (Gus) Grissom, a major in the U.S. Air Force, soon will get a commission in the Confederate Air Force, and a colonel's at that.

Col. L. P. Nolen, deputy commander of the Confederate Air Force, said yesterday that Grissom will visit Mercedes, Tex., to pick up his commission in the CAF, now limited to 200 officers and a seven-man staff.

Grissom, who piloted the Mercury Liberty Bell 7 on its orbit of the earth in 1961, will be the only astronaut in the Confederate force, a fly-for-fun club.

If all goes according to schedule, Grissom is to be aboard the two-man Gemini capsule on a three-orbit flight this year.

Sihanouk to Enter Hospital

Prince Norodom Sihanouk, Cambodia's chief of state, will enter a hospital at Phnom Penh tomorrow for a general examination.

A government statement said today that the prince was suffering from overwork.

King Raps 'Myth of Time'

Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., says the argument that time will solve the civil rights problem is a myth.

"One of the myths that we must dispel if we are to reach racial equality is that if we wait 100 or 200 years everything will solve itself," King said last night in a speech sponsored by the Harvard-Radcliffe Young Democrats club at Cambridge, Mass.

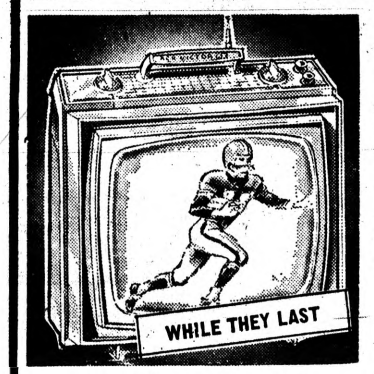

"Time is neutral," said King, winner of the 1964 Nobel Peace Prize. "Human progress never rolls in on the wave inevitability. We must get out and work and help get rid of this myth of time."

LBJ Unveils New School Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sent Congress a record $1.66-billion tots-through-teens education program today, with an open invitation to private and parochial schools to take part.

★ ★ ★

The proposed program, with heavy emphasis on the children of low-income families, is the heaviest presidential artillery yet in what Johnson calls his war against poverty.

The provisions for nonpublic schools to share in the benefits seem certain to trigger a bitter fight on Capitol Hill.

Even before the details were laid before Congress, it was learned, the group known as "Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State," made known its opposition.

However, it also was learned that the Roman Catholic hierarchy generally approves, and so do some officials of the National Education Association, which traditionally opposes use of public funds for nonpublic schools.

An administration source was confident: "This is a good bill, and one we believe we can get through the Congress."

The comprehensive program would provide assistance to preschool youngsters in the slums, elementary and secondary school pupils in the nation's pockets of poverty, and college scholarships and other help for worthy and needy high school graduates.

Johnson said the one-year cost in excess of $1.5 billion "is a small price to pay for developing our nation's most priceless resource."

★ ★ ★

"Poverty has many roots," the President said, "but the tap root is ignorance."

WOULD PROVIDE

The presidential program would provide for fiscal 1966:

● Public schools: $1 billion for elementary and secondary schools serving children from families with less than $2,000 annual income.

There are an estimated 5 million such children and 85-90 per cent of the nation's school districts will qualify for assistance.

Public and private schools would be urged to cooperate in shared-time programs and other joint use of new facilities.

● Higher education: $260 million to provide 140,000 scholarships, partial payment of interest on guaranteed private loans to college students — perhaps 2 per cent of the usual 6 per cent, assistance to small colleges,

'Burch to Announce He's Yielding to Bliss'

Report Change to Be Gradual

Shift OK'd by Barry, Party Source Says

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican National Chairman Dean Burch will announce today he is stepping down — after a transition period — to make way for Ohio GOP Chairman Ray C. Bliss, a party source said.

The shift, with former Sen. Barry Goldwater's approval, will be announced later today in Phoenix, Ariz.

Burch, Goldwater, Bliss and former Rep. William E. Miller, the party's vice presidential nominee, gathered there for a joint news conference.

Word of the shift — designed to avert a showdown vote by the national committee on Burch's leadership — came after days of behind the scene negotiations.

★ ★ ★

"It boils down to this," the party source said, "Burch is out and Bliss is in."

But the GOP official who told of the plan added the change was not coming at once, that there would be a transitional period before Bliss takes over.

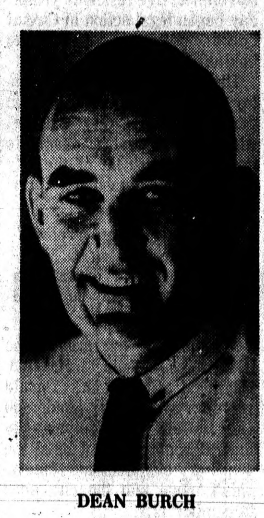

The source said the actual change at the Republican National Committee helm probably would come early in the spring.

In Phoenix, it was announced the four top Republican leaders were gathered here at Goldwater's home and were scheduled to make statements later today.

★ ★ ★

Goldwater's office announced that those with Goldwater were Burch, Miller and Bliss.

Goldwater's office did not say what the statements would cover.

Sale of Sanatorium to College Okayed

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors today approved sale of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium to the Oakland Community College for the appraisal price of $927,000.

The county facility will become one of three community college campuses in Oakland.

Prior to final approval this morning, the sale had been recommended by the buildings and grounds and ways and means committees.

College officials have asked the sanatorium board of trustees to vacate the main hospital and other buildings by the first of April so remodeling can get under way.

Plans are to start holding classes there in September.

Oakland County Health Director Bernard D. Berman, M.D., who has advocated sale of the facility for some time, has assured the trustees and all committees concerned that finding beds for the sanatorium's 115 patients will be no problem.

He was unable to give any definite answer, however, when asked where the beds would be.

★ ★ ★

Few if any beds are available in other area hospitals, according to Dr. William F. Fidler, medical director of the sanatorium, who also favored sale of the facility.

TO BE AVOIDED

And placing the patients in hospitals a great distance outside Oakland County is to be avoided if at all possible, Dr. Fidler pointed out.

Dr. Berman estimated that at least 25 could be cared for as outpatients, although they would benefit from hospital care.

Some beds are available in private nursing homes in the area, Dr. Berman said, but he did not indicate that enough could be found for all the patients.

★ ★ ★

Both doctors are confident, however, that there will be no interruption in care for the patients and that the present high quality of care will be maintained, regardless of the final solution to the problem.

ILA Seeks OK of Dock Pact

NEW YORK (AP)—Top officials of the Longshoremen's Union began a program of persuasion today aimed at changing the rank-and-file membership's rejection of a new contract and ending a costly dock strike.

The rejection by New York dock workers triggered a strike by 60,000 members of the AFL-CIO International Longshoremen's Association in ports from Maine to Texas under a one-strike, all-strike policy.

The embattled ILA president met with delegations from all of the union's local here, setting in motion the campaign to prepare the members for another vote on the contract.

An estimated 200 ships are tied up in ports. More are expected to arrive today.

Estimates of losses to the national economy, including effects on related industries, range from $20 million to $25 million a day.

Union leaders and Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds say the contract was rejected here last Friday because the rank-and-file misunderstood the contract.

A campaign to sell the contract to the men was decided on at an ILA executive council meeting yesterday, first day of the strike.

WENT TO LOCALS

Union officials went to ILA locals here to find out the reasons for rejection, to explain the advantages of the contract and to get a new vote among the 24,000 longshoremen.

ILA President Thomas W. Gleason said he had heard reports of "agitators telling lies to the men." He said he did not know who the agitators were.

Gleason spoke of "fear of automation" among the union members. This was a reference to a clause in the proposed contract for gradual reduction of the size of work gangs from 20 to 17 men over a four-year contract term.

Japan 'Bridge to Red China'

More Trade Would Aid Asia Peace—Sato

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Japanese Prime Minister Eisaku Sato said today Japan considers itself a "bridge," through trade, for understanding between Red China and the West.

★ ★ ★

"While our trade with the mainland (of China) accounts for a mere 2 per cent of our entire trade," he said, "it is our view that if improvements can be effected, through such contacts, in the welfare and livelihood of the Chinese on the mainland, as with the rest of Asia, this would lead the way in the long run to peace and stability in Asia."

The Japanese leader made the statement in a speech prepared for delivery before the National Press Club.

He opened his two-day official visit to Washington earlier in the day with formal welcoming ceremonies at the White House and a conference with President Johnson. He planned to meet with Johnson again tomorrow.

★ ★ ★

Sato made it clear that Japan, the only nation ever to suffer an atomic bombing, was deeply disturbed by Communist China's Oct. 16 nuclear test.

TORCH LIGHTED

He said the test "has unfortunately set fire to a torch which may light the way toward nuclear proliferation."

The prime minister said the test led Japan to "rediscover and reaffirm" the once-controversial U.S.-Japan Security Treaty.

Under that pact, the United States is committed to defend Japan in the event of attack.

West to Get 1st Look at Top Red Official

MOSCOW (UPI) — The West will get a close-up look at Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin this spring for the first time since he succeeded Nikita S. Khrushchev.

An announcement of Kosygin's visit and a return trip by Prime Minister Harold Wilson was made simultaneously last night both here and in London. The exact dates will be announced later.

Hope to Break Deadlock in U.N. Dues Squabble

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General U Thant launched a final effort today to break the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over U.N. peacekeeping dues before the General Assembly returns to work Monday.

Delegates saw little chance of avoiding a showdown which could result in loss of assembly voting rights for the Soviet Union, France and 16 other nations. They are more than two years behind on their U.N. assessments as a result of their refusal to pay peace-keeping costs.

A U.N. spokesman said Thant has turned over to "interested parties" in the dispute a plan the 59-nation Asian-African group has submitted as a basis for solving the financial crisis which has brought the United Nations close to bankruptcy.

The plan calls for voluntary contributions to pay off the peace-keeping deficit of nearly $86 million and suspends Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. The article says any member who is two years behind in its payments shall lose its vote in the assembly.

The Soviet Union has said it would go along with such a plan provided its contribution would not be earmarked for peacekeeping and Moscow would not be required to state in advance how much it was contributing or when.

The United States was reported still determined to invoke the voting penalty unless the Russians gave more than a vague assurance that they would pay some undisclosed amount. The American delegation was reported surprised that Thant was still trying to keep the Asian-African plan alive.

Solons to Get Down to Work

New Session Cloaked in Aura of Mystery

LANSING (AP) — The gavels bang down tomorrow for a Michigan Legislature session full of change, question marks and almost certain action.

★ ★ ★

Democrats will be in control for the first time in three decades when senators and representatives convene in their redecorated chambers.

★ ★ ★

Only 66 of the 148 legislators are incumbents, adding an aura of mystery at least to the early phases of the session as viewpoints of the newcomers are sought.

Actually, the two houses won't get down to much business before Jan. 25.

As the constitution requires, this 73rd Legislature will begin at 12 noon on the second Wednesday in January. Oath-taking, allocation of desks, pictures, formal election of officers and other procedural tasks will occupy most of the first day.

★ ★ ★

Gov. George Romney will take the spotlight Thursday with his state of the state speech — the traditional report on how the state stands and what it needs.

BOTH ADJOURN

Then the two chambers will adjourn, probably until Jan. 25.

The House will supervise a recount between Rep. Carroll Newton, R-Delton, and Democrat Claude Burton, who trailed by six votes in the November tally.

The House also may have a committee investigate Rep. Daniel West, D-Detroit, who is under indictment on voter registration and income tax irregularities.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, designated by Democrats as House speaker, has said he'll propose a resolution that West be denied his seat pending a House committee report.

Wild Shooting Spree Leaves 30 Injured

GARDENA, Calif (AP)—A berserk 70-year-old gunman blasted three poker parlors with an arsenal of weapons early today, leaving more than 30 persons injured in his angry wake, police said.

Less than half an hour later, officers said Louis Koullapis came at them, a revolver blazing in each hand. He was disarmed, arrested and booked on suspicion of attempted murder.

Of the 28 victims who received hospital treatment—many injured by flying glass did not seek medical attention—four were in serious condition and one was termed extremely critical. He was Arthur Archibald, 73, of Los Angeles, who was shot in the kidneys.

Police said Koullapis was babbling incoherently as he walked toward them with guns firing, but that he later offered no explanation for the massive shooting spree.

But Dudley Gray, an attorney for the hard-hit Rainbow Club, said Koullapis, a sometime gambler and frequent diner at the club for several years, was quoted two days ago by an employe as saying: "This year I am going to die and before I do I am going to take 20 or 30 people with me."

★ ★ ★

The havoc began at the Rainbow Club shortly after 1 a.m., officers said, when Koullapis drove up beside a large plate-glass window and fired at least 16 shots from various weapons into the crowded poker parlor.

SEVEN GUNS

Koullapis had at least seven guns on the front seat, police said, including a double-barreled shotgun, three automatic revolvers and some pistols. He apparently switched guns several times during the rapid volley, officers said.

About 250 patrons—mostly men but a few women—sat in shocked disbelief as the gunfire began, then dived for cover under the large poker tables.

"I thought it was light bulbs popping at first," said Howard Elgort, 30, of Burbank. "Then I realized it was shots and I hit the deck. When I got up later, somebody said, 'Hey, you got blood on you.' I was hit five times by shotgun pellets."

Ford Wants Frelinghuysen

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Gerald R. Ford, the new House Republican leader, today tapped Rep. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen as his personal choice for the job of Republican whip, or second in command.

But Rep. Leslie C. Arends of Illinois, who has served as whip for the past 21 years, stood firm on his decision to make a fight for the job. The election will be by secret ballot Thursday, and members expect the result to be very close.

Frelinghuysen, from New Jersey, would give Eastern representation to the House GOP leadership, which in the past has been heavily Midwestern. He also is a member of the Wednesday Club, a group of 20 House Republican liberals.

Asked if this had anything to do with his choice, Ford said "the decision was made by me without any arrangement with any individual or element of the Republican party."

Antigovernment Mobs Roar Through Vietnamese Cities

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Noisy antigovernment mobs roared through the central Vietnamese city of Hue again today, parading with banners in front of the U.S. consulate.

Antigovernment demonstrations also began in Da Nang, South Viet Nam's second largest city.

Reports from Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon, said some of the marchers carried banners demanding neutralization of the war-torn country.

Hue city was also in the grip of a general strike for the third day. Businesses and transportation facilities were halted. A general strike also continued at Quang Tri, farther to the north.

BUDDHISTS AND STUDENTS

The demonstrations and strikes were organized by a group calling itself the "Buddhists and Students Protective Association." The agitation has centered around Hue University.

U.S. sources said about 1,500 marchers demonstrated in Hue. Neither the American consulate nor the U.S. Information Service closed their doors. In another part of the city 3,000 gathered to hear antigovernment speeches.

In Saigon, Premier Tran Van Huong denied that the United States had tried to dictate a settlement of South Viet Nam's recent government crisis.

"The government and the armed forces of the Republic of Viet Nam," Huong told a news conference, "regard as their obligation the responsibility for resolving the internal affairs of their country, and reaffirm that there has been no demand made by the United States to follow any particular formula for the resolution of the past crisis."

Board to Take Policy Action

To Decide on Plan for Teachers' Groups

The Pontiac Board of Education is scheduled to take action tomorrow night on a proposed policy between the board and local teacher associations.

The policy was presented at the Dec. 9 meeting, but action on the proposal was deferred until tomorrow night's meeting.

The question of the relationship between the school board and the Pontiac Education Association (PEA) and Pontiac Federation of Teachers (PFT) first came up last February.

At that time the PEA presented to the board a professional negotiation plan. In the past the salary negotiations have been conducted by a committee of representatives of both groups.

★ ★ ★

In an effort to avoid separate negotiations with each group, the school board requested Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer to draw up a statement outlining future negotiating policies.

LARGEST MEMBERSHIP

If the proposed policy is accepted, the board will only recognize the organization with the largest membership.

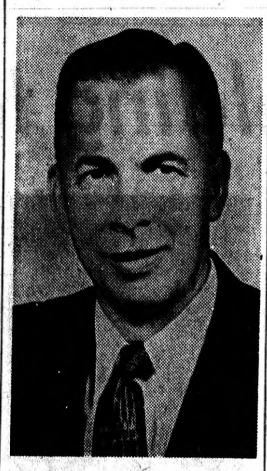

In other action slated for tomorrow's meeting, the board will hear a report on the use of educational television in Pontiac schools.

The school district has experimented with the use of television since 1962.

★ ★ ★

The board will also hear a progress report on the new central office building, which is nearing completion on its site at Auburn and Wide Track.

Plans for additions to Alcott and Frost schools will also be discussed by the board with architects.

EDWARD N. COLE

GM Executive Award Winner

Edward N. Cole, 1371 Kirkway, Bloomfield Township, has been awarded Automotive Industries Magazine's Outstanding Achievement Award, by Hartley W. Barclay, editor and publisher.

Cole, group vice president of General Motors in charge of the car and truck divisions, received a silver bowl symbolizing the award at a luncheon yesterday.

Cole was chosen by the award consultants, Barclay said, because "his achievements exemplify the open road to advancement which exists generally for those who choose an automotive career.

★ ★ ★

"His career history might well be an example of great inspiration to young men throughout the automotive industry today," Barclay said.

Cole is a veteran of 34 years with General Motors.

Suit Is Filed to Oust Official

Hearing for Sylvan Lake Councilman Set

Claiming that Sylvan Lake Councilman John D. McKinlay did not meet residency requirements when he was elected in November, five residents yesterday began legal action in Circuit Court challenging his right to hold office.

The suit charges that McKinlay, 32, of 2709 Littletell was in violation of the City Charter, which states that a candidate must be a resident of the city for two years immediately prior to his election.

McKinlay, by order of Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero, must show cause at a hearing Jan. 18 why he should remain in his post.

Members of the group who filed the suit—John C. Houston, Raymond E. Heyse, Donald Johnson, William J. Sanderson and Howard E. Wideman—say that McKinlay did not have the necessary qualifications since he didn't move into the city until December 1962.

★ ★ ★

To meet the requirements, they say it was necessary that he had become a resident on or before Nov. 3, 1962.

BERKLEY HOME

Upon learning of the suit, McKinlay said that he rented his home in Sylvan Lake on Nov. 1, 1962 but did not immediately move in.

He said he continued to occupy his home in Berkley until the family in his present home relocated.

McKinlay said he did not know of the residency requirement until after the election. He was subsequently appointed the city's representative on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, succeeding Willis M. Brewer.

McKinlay is a Republican and Brewer a Democrat.

Until the recent election, Democrats were in the majority on the Council. Republicans now hold a 3-2 edge.

improved teacher training programs, and university-community extension programs, similar to the traditional agricultural extension programs.

● Preschool: $150 million to eradicate the handicaps with which slum children start first grade, when many educational experts say they already are two or three years behind.

The projects probably would be patterned after the experimental programs now under way in Detroit, Baltimore and New York City.

This would be part of the President's budget for the Economic Opportunity Act, not his educational program.

● Book purchases: $100 million in grants to states for the purchase of textbooks and library books. This would be for all schools, public and private, and whether or not they were in the pockets of poverty.

All books purchased would be those used by the public schools; the purchase of religiously oriented books would be barred.

● Education centers: $100 million for supplementary education centers and services, providing public and private school pupils alike with tutors, programs in remedial reading, science and language laboratories, summer schools, programs and teachers for handicapped children, and accelerated programs for the gifted.

2 Area Lives Saved

A 16-year-old Waterford Township boy yesterday pulled an ice boat driver to safety after the boat had crashed through the ice over 90 feet of water in Cass Lake's Loon Bay.

★ ★ ★

Risking a hazardous skate over thin ice to make the rescue was Charles Thomas of 1481 Rivona.

Charles, a junior at Our Lady of the Lakes High School, was playing hockey with other neighborhood boys at 5:10 p.m. near shore when they heard the ice boater calling for help out in the bay.

After getting a ski rope at a vacant cottage nearby, Charles skated out toward the boat over cracking ice.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, his brother, Tommy, 7, a first grader at Lambert School, ran to seek help from neighbors.

TOSSED ROPE

Charles tossed the rope to Chester King, 25, of 7060 Highland, Waterford Township, who was clinging to the partially submerged craft.

Martin Felt, of 1407 Rivona, who had just come home from work, ran out on the bay and helped Charles pull King to safety.

A Walled Lake man, only semiconscious, was dragged from his burning home this morning by a local fireman.

Clements Philipski apparently was sleeping when the fire broke out in his home at 252 S. Pontiac Trail.

Police Chief James A. Decker saw smoke coming from the building while he was on patrol about 8:45 a.m. He also noted Philipski's cars were still in the driveway.

Firemen summoned to the scene included Basil Stoddard, who found Philipski in bed and carried him out of the smoke-filled house.

Decker said the fire left the entire interior of the house charred. He said he suspected Philipski had fallen asleep with a cigarette burning.

IN HOSPITAL

Philipski was taken to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, where he was reported to be in good condition but was admitted for observation.

Connor Tells Views on Trade

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Commerce Committee unanimously approved today President Johnson's nomination of John T. Connor, New Jersey drug manufacturer, to be Secretary of Commerce.

WASHINGTON (AP) — John T. Connor, President Johnson's nominee to be secretary of commerce, told senators today that he regards himself as neither a protectionist nor a free trader.

He also testified that he has an open mind on the question of trade with the Soviet Union and other nations in the Communist bloc.

Members of the Senate nor primarily about his views on foreign trade at the start of a public hearing on his nomination to succeed Luther H. Hodges in the cabinet post.

Not gone into immediately was a financial statement submitted by Connor showing he owns 30,182 shares of Merck & Co., a leading drug manufacturing firm of which he has been president since 1955.

★ ★ ★

Connor's Merck stock, valued at about $1.6 million, includes about $600,000 worth that he bought under company stock options last month after the White House announced his selection to be secretary of commerce.

The statement Connor submitted reported that he had borrowed $140,000 from his brother-in-law, John W. O'Boyle, to buy 13,032 shares of Merck stock under options granted to him in 1955 and 1957.

City Job Study on Commission Agenda Tonight

A job classification study is expected to be proposed at tonight's City Commission meeting at 8.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren will propose the $5,100 study to be conducted by the Michigan Municipal League (MML).

Object of the study will be to evaluate each job or classification on the city's payroll, assessing its duties, salary and title.

Warren said it would take the MML five months to complete the classification study.

★ ★ ★

In other business tonight, the commission will hold a public hearing on the 1965 budget.

BUDGET DEADLINE

The City Commission must adopt the budget before Feb. 1.

Insurance Unit Installs Officers

New officers of the Pontiac Association of Insurance Agents were installed at the group's annual meeting at Bedell's restaurant last night.

Robert R. Lazelle, 2194 Ostrum, Waterford Township, is the association's newly elected president.

Other new officers are Frank A. Anderson, 35 Oneida, vice president, and James R. Wilkinson, 431 Gateway, Waterford Township, secretary-treasurer.

James W. Huttenlocher, 6201 Middle Lake, Independence Township, became a member of the board of directors.

Jacob L. Van Wagoner, 6545 Andersonville, Independence Township, retiring as chairman of the board of the Van Wagoner Agency, 18 E. Lawrence, was honored for long, faithful, and outstanding service.

Van Wagoner helped create the Pontiac association and was treasurer of the state association.

John G. Molhoek of Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents praised Van Wagoner's 54 years of service to the community and to the insurance business throughout the state.

Former Supervisor Waterford Planner

Former Waterford Township Supervisor Carlos Richardson last night was named to fill the unexpired term of Robert Lawyer on the township's planning commission.

★ ★ ★

Operator of a chain of dairy stores, Richardson also was a former member of the township's zoning board.

His appointment by the Township Board is effective immediately. The term expires May 29.

Lawyer, director of the township's community schools program and recreation department, submitted his resignation last week to the board.

City Tentatively Okays Plan to Control Parking

BIRMINGHAM — In a move to control parking, the City Commission last night gave tentative approval to the construction of access drives along Woodward.

In determining the project a necessity, following public hearing, the commission, without benefit of plans or cost estimates, divided the program into three areas.

Receiving priority was the southbound stretch of Woodward from Lincoln to Bird. This part of the program will be undertaken in conjunction with the State Highway Department plan to resurface southbound Woodward from Lincoln to 14 Mile Road.

When the highway department announced its intention to repave the stretch, it noted that after Sept. 1, 1965, parking would be prohibited on the U.S. 10 right-of-way except where access drives were provided.

The second section approved by the commission is on the east side of Woodward from Ruffner to Taunton, while the third portion of the program includes the west side from Oakland to Bowers and the east side from Ridgedale south to an existing access drive.

TO CONTACT STATE

The commission authorized the city manager's office to contact the State Highway Department to find out if it will participate in the two latter programs since they were not included in the original paving proposal.

According to the City Manager Robert Kenning, 42 per cent of the frontage on Woodward is without adequate parking control.

Kenning said that the design of the access drives will be completed by the city engineering department within three months. At that time the plans will be returned to the City Commission for its approval. A hearing on assessments would follow.

★ ★ ★

Kenning noted that the administration feels that controlled parking is "very important in this area where speeds of up to 50 miles an hour are permitted and backing out into this high speed traffic is a dangerous practice."

The access drives would require a motorist to enter at one end and exit at the other.

The cost of the project would be financed entirely by the benefitted property owners.

Court Delays City, Scrap Yard Hearing

A show cause hearing in Oakland County Circuit Court was adjourned one week yesterday in hopes that the City of Pontiac and Sam Allen & Son, Inc., can reach some agreement over the possible curtailment of the scrap yard's night operations.

Judge Frederick C. Ziem ordered that attorneys for both parties return next Monday after he had expressed an opinion that the night operation might be relocated.

Legal action was brought against the Allen company by the city and 15 residents last month in an attempt to halt the operation of a metal crushing machine.

They claim it disturbs the surrounding neighborhood. The scrap yard is at 22 Congress.

★ ★ ★

Ziem's immediate concern, however, involves the movement of scrap from Pontiac Motor Division in and out of the yard during the early morning hours; not the operation of the machine.

TENTATIVELY FEB. 24

According to City Attorney William Ewart, the operation of the machine will be argued at the trial, tentatively scheduled by Ziem yesterday for Feb. 24.

A pretrial hearing on the matter will be held Feb. 2.

Muskegon Hit by Raging Fire

MUSKEGON (AP)—Whipped by strong north winds and marked by a series of minor explosions, a raging fire early today destroyed the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway freight warehouse and damaged three other waterfront buildings here.

A main electric power transformer blew up in the heat and left much of the downtown area and scattered residential districts without power for a short time.

★ ★ ★

Two firemen and Chief Dennis Ward suffered minor injuries at the scene about one block east of the L. C. Walker Arena but did not require hospitalization.

Fire and railway officials were unable to estimate a loss figure immediately, pending examination of the structure's contents. Also sought was a cause of the blaze.

★ ★ ★

Damaged in the fire which lit up the waterfront with a red glow visible throughout the city were the Daniels Co. Office Supplies warehouse, the Elston-Richards storage building and the National Guard Armory.

The alarm brought all equipment from Muskegon's five fire stations along with 83 firemen.

Panama Guard Rejects Bid

Deny Student Request to Remove Soldiers

PANAMA (AP) — Panama's National Guard Monday night rejected a demand by anti-American students that Panamanian soldiers be removed from the Canal Zone boundary. The students also burned a homemade American flag.

The National Guard so far has prevented student demonstrators from entering the Canal Zone during observance of the first anniversary of the bloody anti-American rioting along the border.

★ ★ ★

Today is the last day of four days of observances commemorating the 21 Panamanians — mostly students — who died in last year's rioting. Most of the activity has been peaceful, but on Saturday guardsmen used tear gas to turn back students marching toward the U.S. zone.

Labor and student organizations said the final commemorative event would be a mass meeting tonight in Santa Ana Plaza near the Canal Zone.

STUDENT LEADERS

Student leaders made anti-American speeches Monday from a terrace of the National Institute, Panama City's largest high school across the street from the Canal Zone.

They displayed a homemade paper American flag, set it afire and hurled it into the schoolyard. About 500 of the school's 2,000 students then marched to the Presidential Palace and demanded that President Marco A. Robles withdraw National Guardsmen posted at each of the 15 intersections leading into the U.S. area.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the Guard said the soldiers would remain.

11-Year Veteran at Prosecutor's Office to Resign

William E. Lang, an Oakland County assistant prosecutor for 11 years, will resign his post Friday to join the Sylvan Lake law firm of Bond and Dillon.

For the past nine years, Lang, 40, has headed the staff in the Royal Oak office of the prosecuting attorney.

Last Friday, Lang, 236 DeVillen, Royal Oak, was one of two assistants named by Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson to handle the gambling case involving the Steren Assembly Club in Madison Heights.

Lang and James Roberts were replacing Robert L. Templin, who resigned at the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

Templin had been in charge of prosecuting the case since the club was raided Oct. 11, 1963. The case is awaiting trial.

Bronson said today he has not decided who will be working with Roberts on the case.

THE 'SNOG' WAS A BIT THICK — Electronic student Malcolm Pickard and Shirley Austin, both 16, of Trowbridge, England, were testing Pickard's newest invention, the "snogometer," when in walked the vicar of St. Thomas Church, who was immediately shocked. The pair belongs to the church youth club, and the "snogometer" tests the intensity of a kiss. A "snog" is a kiss in the latest British slang.

In Embezzlement Case

Waive Court Exam

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Widowed Mrs. Florence Hollingshead, 47, waived Municpal Court examination Monday on charges of embezzlement which authorities say amounted to some $14,983 from Mutual of Omaha since 1956.

Judge John T. Letts ordered her held for Circuit Court under $5,000 bond on the specific charge that she embezzled $306 last Dec. 4.

Employed 26 years by the firm, the $325-per-month cashier-receptionist reportedly signed last Friday a statement in which Cpl. Leon Smith said she admitted taking the money and outlined a breakdown of its use.

Agency Manager Ralph Roloff said she had made the same statement to him earlier. He said she admitted taking the money in amounts of $50 to $250 per month from premium payments in a revolving operation in which she used some to pay delinquent premiums of policyholders affected.

★ ★ ★

Police quoted Mrs. Hollingshead saying she had used the funds to meet personal obligations, including $9,000 as repayment to her father who made restitution for her in 1954 of funds she had taken from the firm.

Snow Blanket Hits Northeast

By the Associated Press

Travel was impaired, schools and roads were closed and some northeastern cities lay under a foot of snow in the wake of a snow storm which struck a dozen states.

New York City was hit by 5 to 9 inches of snow and the suburbs had deeper accumulations. Most roads in the area have been cleared. Rail travel was heavy Monday as some commuters were forced to leave their autos at home.

Schools in five Maryland counties were closed from the storm which blanketed the state with up to 12 inches of snow.

A snow plan was in effect for 19 of the 23 counties and in Baltimore. Some rural roads were closed, but main highways were open.

RACES HELD

The horse races at Bowie, Md., were held despite six inches of snow. Frozen turf at Waterford Park in Chester, W. Va., caused the day's racing program to be canceled.

About 10 inches of new snow fell in the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia and lesser amounts elsewhere in the state. Schools in two counties were closed because of snow.

★ ★ ★

Snow also struck the Northwest and a new invasion of arctic air swept across the Plains states.

Two inches of snow hampered travel in the Salt Lake City, Utah, area. One inch whitened Craig, Colo. Fraser — in the mountains outside Denver — had 6 inches of snow in a 6-hour period.

SNOW IN LAKES

Light snow added to the existing accumulation across the upper Great Lakes. Amounts were generally less than 1 inch, but Petoskey, a northern Michigan sports resort, got 12 inches over an 18-hour period.

Temperatures remained below zero all day Monday across the snow-covered Dakotas and the upper Mississippi Valley.

Temperatures sank below zero before nightfall as far south as the Carolinas.

Hearing to Resume on State Rail Lines

LANSING (AP) — Interstate Commission hearings on proposed abandonment of three railroads' facilities in Northern Michigan will resume March 16 in Washington D.C., Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said Monday.

The Pennsylvania, New York Central and Soo Line railroads propose to abandon the Straits of Mackinac rail car ferry and 300 miles of track between Grand Rapids, Gaylord, and Mackinaw City.

At the coming phase of hearings, the rail lines will try to rebut the state's contention that the facilities in question are profitable to the companies and that abandonment will hurt Northern Michigan's economy.

2 Peace Corps Volunteers Now Recruiting in Pontiac

Ever wonder what becomes of Peace Corps volunteers after they complete their two-year assignment in a foreign country?

★ ★ ★

Well, many of them become enthusiastic recruiters for the organization, as did Diane Ostrowsky of Binghamton, N.Y., and George Fredenburg of Somerset, Mass.

Both are in Pontiac now through Friday with headquarters in the Waldron Hotel to interview persons interested in joining the assistance program.

Primarily they are looking for applicants with mechanical ability, such as machinists, welders and electricians, as well as teachers and nurses.

★ ★ ★

"Those ready to retire from a job are ideal because of their experience," said Fredenburg. "They could retire right into the Peace Corps."

QUALIFICATIONS

To quality as a volunteer it is required that a person be a U.S. citizen, over 18 years of age, have no dependents under 18, and have a skill. It is not necessary to have studied a foreign language.

Fredenburg, 27, and Ostrowsky, 23, both finished their assignments in July and began recruiting in October.

An English teacher, Fredenburg taught sixth through twelfth graders in a government secondary school south of Addis Ababa, the capital city of Ethiopia, Africa.

★ ★ ★

He was one of the first 1,200 volunteers selected by the Peace Corps after it was established by Congress on Sept. 22, 1961. There are now about 10,500 volunteers.

AFTER 2 YEAR COURSE

Miss Ostrowsky joined the Peace Corps upon her completion of a two-year course in Dental Hygiene at Broome Technical Community College in Binghamton.

She was assigned to work with a dentist in Ambato, Ecuador, South America and later became a community development worker in Latacunga.

Their training included instructions in the language of the countries where they were sent.

★ ★ ★

"Peace Corps volunteers in Ecuador and other countries, are well received because we are working with the people and not the heads of government," said Miss Ostrowsky.

WORK WITH UAW, GM

In recent months recruiting teams such as Fredenburg and Miss Ostrowsky have been working with representatives of labor and management, locally the UAW and General Motors, to find solutions for problems which previously made it difficult for many industrial workers to join the Peace Corps.

Contracts have been amended to include special leave of absence clauses which guarantee reemployment, seniority and pension rights.

Funds banked in the U.S. for the volunteer during his overseas service now can be applied against outstanding debts.

Normally these funds, which total some $1,800 before taxes, are given to the volunteer when he or she returns to the U.S.

Teen Alive After Fall off Bridge

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A stocky, blond 16-year-old high school student has survived a 236-foot fall from the Golden Gate Bridge into San Francisco Bay.

The boy, identified as Tom Tawzer of nearby Livermore, Calif., was reported recovering today at Letterman General Hospital in San Francisco from a broken collarbone and three or four broken ribs.

The Coast Guard said Tawzer was treading water when they pulled alongside him to make the rescue yesterday. Doctors said they were amazed at the boy's good condition, but they have adopted a "wait and see" attitude about his eventual recovery.

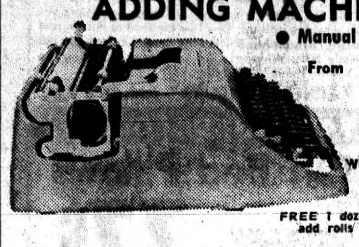

He is only the second person known to survive a fall from the span. Bridge authorities list 278 known deaths from suicide leaps. The bridge is open both to motor vehicles and pedestrians who stroll its sidewalk.

Highway patrolmen, stationed at a permanent office on the toll plaza, reached the railing just as the boy bobbed to the surface of the cold, choppy waters.

Witnesses told patrolmen Tawzer climbed to the top of a bridge rail and went feet first into the bay.

The boy talked coherently, the doctor said, and was visited by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Tawzer of Livermore, a community of 16,000 about 30 miles east of San Francisco.

"I was walking on the bridge," the boy was quoted. "The next thing I remember I was in the water."

Record Year Rolled Up by GMC Truck & Coach

The past year was a record-breaker for the automotive industry generally and General Motors particularly.

WERNER

Joining the Corporation's sales-topping elite was the local Truck and Coach Division.

It's 1964 delivery figure of 105,198 units exceeded that of any peacetime total in the 63-year history of the division.

The year ran ahead of 1963 by 14 per cent and topped it off by jumping last month's sales 1,372 units over December 1963.

General Manager CALVIN J. WERNER credits the division's superb achievement to the wide and enthusiastic acceptance of its full line of trucks and buses, and points out that last year's sales gain was 5 per cent higher than the industrywide increase.

★ ★ ★

This report is inspiring news for the Pontiac area and its citizens, and we warmly congratulate Mr. WERNER, his able staff and loyal work force on their joint accomplishment.

Is U. S. High Court Bent on Power Grab?

The U.S. Supreme Court, built into our Constitution by the Founding Fathers as protection against excessive arrogation of power by the legislative or executive branch of the national government, has itself become the greatest offender in that respect.

Not content to fulfill its intended role of a passive arbiter of the constitutionality of legislative and judicial matters coming within its purview, the Court, led by Chief Justice EARL WARREN, has actively thrust its power into social and legislative areas never before subjected to such encroachment.

★ ★ ★

Although many decisions handed down by the High Court have left the country in bewilderment or exasperation, its piece de resistance was the edict of last spring that led to the restructuring of most state legislatures.

The ruling deprived states of the inherent right to decide each for itself the form of its legislative bodies.

This form pretty generally followed the pattern prescribed by the Constitution for the two Houses of the Congress, by which the lower house is made up of representatives keyed to populations of the states and the upper—the Senate—of two senators from each state regardless of population.

(Purpose of the latter provision was the protection of the numerically smaller states against the weight of numbers of the more populous ones.)

★ ★ ★

With the Supreme Court's weird decree on state reapportionment establishing population as the basis of representation for both legislative houses, the precedent has been set for actions that could throw the country's legislative and governing apparatus into chaos.

For the U.S. Senate itself might well be the next to feel the Court's coercion toward revision of representation formula. Not only that, but governing bodies of counties, municipalities and townships could likewise be affected by the principle thus established.

Let the WARREN Court's reapportionment decision stand, and we'll invite dictatorship by judges in this country.

To nullify it, Congress could submit a constitutional amendment to the states' legislatures. Should it fail to do so, a constitutional convention can be initiated by demand of the legislatures of two-thirds of the states to accomplish the same result.

★ ★ ★

But regardless of how it's done, no time should be lost in instituting measures to curtail the inordinate power that the Supreme Court has seized and is wielding to the detriment of the country.

IT is safe to assume that none of the white people in the Congo have recently sung the song, "Bongo, Bongo, Bongo; I Don't Want to Leave the Congo."

WHY doesn't the U.N. ask a live-wire collection agency to collect the past-due account owed it by Russia?

What Qualities Set LBJ Apart?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON — "A president," the man said, "does not shape a new and personal vision of America. He collects from the scattered hopes of the American past."

MARLOW

Since the man saying this was President Johnson in his State of the Union message, it gives insight into his pulling together about 50 proposals with varied but broad appeal.

But while a president may not always shape a new and personal vision of America, he never fails to shape a new and personal vision of himself for the public. He can't help it.

After his 13 months in the White House, what makes Johnson peculiarly Johnson is still a little veiled. He has played his cards close.

By events, or the lack of them, he has had to reveal little of himself. Critical foreign decisions have not been necessary, while at home he has been passionately bent on peace if possible.

★ ★ ★

Yet, he is unlike any of his four immediate predecessors: Presidents John F. Kennedy, Dwight D. Eisenhower, Harry S. Truman or Franklin D. Roosevelt.

SOMEWHAT LIKE ROOSEVELT

If he can be said to have patterned himself even a little after any of them it would be Roosevelt. For example, in the effort to build up an image of himself as a doer and a man of concern and compassion.

But Johnson, an awkward speaker with little apparent sense of tone or drama in the English language, lacks Roosevelt's charm, his warmth and his eloquence.

Truman was such a far-seeing and decisive man in foreign affairs that his actions there place him high among the presidents. But at home his cocky aggressiveness was often self-defeating.

★ ★ ★

Johnson has had no problems like Truman's yet.

OPPOSITE OF EISENHOWER

He is the complete opposite of Eisenhower with this one exception: in the presidency, Eisenhower made a career of trying not to offend anyone. It helped maintain his popularity but his presidency might have been more effective if he had.

Johnson does not have Kennedy's style —at times he has been corny — but he seems infinitely a better fighter, and a far more quiet one in going about getting what he wants.

Because he is a one-man show, insisting he pass upon every detail, it is plain he has determined to put his own stamp on the presidency. The question is what kind.

If he could continue four years as he has been going — piling one success on another without inflicting visible bruises — he would probably be remembered as the first truly professional manager in the White House.

'. . . And I Suppose You Should Learn How To Say Howdy!'

David Lawrence Says:

'Great Morality' Must Come First

WASHINGTON — The Great Society is a utopian objective, but the realistic truth is that it never will be achieved until something is done to introduce a "great morality," particularly in the environment of the government itself.

LAWRENCE

The evidence piles up that seats in Congress are bought, that private interests buy their way to the attainment of special favors in Congress, and that there are more efforts to get around than to obey the Federal Corrupt Practices Act, which governs elections.

★ ★ ★

Despite all the talk of a "great Society," the slogan isn't likely to be widely accepted as long as the government itself condones wrongdoing.

The existing law limits individual contributions in a campaign to $3,000 to each "entity" of political organizations.

NEARLY $200,000

Richard L. Ottinger, successful Democratic nominee for Congress from a district near New York City, is reported to have spent nearly $200,000 to win his seat.

Approximately 90 per cent of this sum was contributed by his relatives through the device of setting up 34 separate committees, in 22 of which the only contributors were immediate members of the candidate's family.

It boils down to the fact that, if you are a rich man, you can easily finance a campaign to win a seat in Congress.

★ ★ ★

If you are a poor man, you have to depend on contributions from others, and often the contributors exact their pound of flesh in one way or another by demanding special favors.

Campaign financing is only one of the factors which have helped to produce the impression that Washington has a corrupt environment.

The lobbyists in the national capital spend huge sums annually to entertain and to cultivate "good relations" with members of Congress. It isn't clear just why such expenditures are thought necessary in a nation which boasts about freedom of speech and the "right of petition."

Union labor contributed vast sums to help elect the Johnson-Humphrey ticket and has proudly boasted that it aided a majority of the members of Congress to get elected.

★ ★ ★

As long as organizations which have a special interest in legislation are permitted to contribute to the campaigns of individual members and virtually assure their election, there will remain a "conflict of interest" of major proportions which will continue to be labelled as the "great unmorality."

Until this is dealt with effectively, it is not likely that the Great Society will ever be achieved.

Bob Considine Says:

Father Got Out of Ghetto; Son Is Forced Back In

NEW YORK — Tecumseh J. Jackson was born in the poorest part of a poor section in Harlem.

Even as a child he sensed that the neighborhood school to which he was assigned, P. S. 1339, was bad.

CONSIDINE

It was as old and creaky as its teachers were indifferent.

Someday, he'd say to himself as he did his homework in the noisy and ugly tenement room where he and five other Jacksons lived, he'd break his chains. Somehow he'd get out of the ghetto and live in a nice clean place.

WORKED HARD

Nobody who ever went to P.S. 1339 worked harder to get away from its shadow.

Tecumseh read everything he could read that he felt would improve his mind, fit him for the day of emancipation.

Even when they took him in the Army and sent him off to Korea, Tecumseh kept getting himself ready for the day when he'd make a life for himself that was as far away from P.S. 1339 as he could reach.

When Tecumseh was mustered out, he grasped the GI Bill like a starving man reaching for food. Now, by God and Uncle Sam, he'd get a real education, build a new life, break these chains into so many pieces they'd never find a single link.

MORE THAN HIMSELF

He had more than just himself to think about now, more than just himself to fit into the pattern of his dream of a better life. There was Pearl and the baby, Tecumseh J. Jackson Jr.

One of these days Pearl would have all the things she deserved. And as for Junior, well, Junior would go to the best school in town, even if it meant that Tecumseh and Pearl would have to work their fingers to the bone.

And that's what they did. Pearl worked like a slave for a family on Central Park South whose children had never had to do anything more exhausting in life than tie their own shoestrings, and Pearl often took care of that, too.

Tecumseh? He studied and studied until his eyes were like hot little cannonballs embedded in his head. And he made it, glory be.

The Jacksons made the grandest move of their life, all the way to a nice new apartment house right next door to Button Gwinnett School, the finest public school in the city.

Junior fit into the new school with easy skill and in no time at all was rated by his fine teachers as the brightest lad in his class.

"It was worth the struggle, dear, if only to make it possible for Junior to go to Button Gwinnett," Tecumseh was saying to Pearl the other night at the apartment, as he scanned his mail.

But then suddenly he looked stricken and after a bit he wordlessly handed Pearl the letter he had been reading.

It was from the board of education. It read:

"To the parents or guardian of Tecumseh J. Jackson Jr. Beginning Jan. 15 Tecumseh J. Jackson Jr. has been removed from Button Gwinnett School and will be bussed each day to his new school, P. S. 1339, Harlem."

GOP Accent on Positive Solutions

By BRUCE BIOSSAT

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The short but intensive effort which elevated Rep. Gerald Ford of Michigan to House Republican leadership is linked in a very fundamental way with the drive to oust Dean Burch as GOP national chairman.

BIOSSAT

When the engineers of Ford's victory say there is no link, they mean there was no common planning and strategy aimed at this double objective.

Yet the same basic theme underlay the two campaigns from the start:

- To find a fresh footing for the Republican party to enable it to build back toward a majority position in the nation.
- The pro-Ford strategists and the anti-Burch GOP leaders agree that accomplishment of this purpose requires, at the outset, the encouragement of broadly diverse philosophic views and a new positivism in outlook.

One Republican lawmaker who helped Ford mightily says: "After the Nov. 3 defeat, I couldn't see gathering in Washington in January simply to rubber-stamp the same old negative stuff we'd been going with for years."

The Ford people believe, then, that a winning appeal cannot be rooted in anything else than a rich diversity coupled with proposed solutions to problems that look just as practical and as compassionate as any the Democratic opposition may offer.

Talk to the "Burch must go" Republicans and you will hear words with just about the same ring.

★ ★ ★

Even men who labored in prominent roles for Sen. Barry Goldwater have been recorded privately urging "positive solutions" and "broader base." One says:

★ ★ ★

"This party has got to convince the American people that it is compassionate, that it cares about them. Hell, I'm compassionate. We've got to show it."

The big mark against Burch, in the view of his adversaries, is the notion he stands in for a man, Goldwater, who is considered to represent the very opposite of diversity and positivism.

Burch's opponents contend, while he persistently denies, that he is hopelessly tarred with "narrow negativism." They insist this is what American voters rejected in crushing terms Nov. 3.

In the House, the deposed GOP leader, Charles Halleck of Indiana, was not combated as a Goldwater man. His ideological differences with the winning Ford are minuscule. What lumps him with Burch is the label the party is trying to shake: Negative.

Until some energetic House Republicans decided that label was indelibly imprinted on Halleck's forehead, he still had a chance to keep his leader's role.

Perhaps some earnest inquiry will yet disclose that some kind of hot-telephone-wire strategy did in fact bind the efforts to produce new House leadership and change the national chairmanship.

★ ★ ★

But such evidence really is not needed. The men who put Ford over and the men who are chopping away at Burch are blood brothers in this crucial matter.

They want the Republican party to have not only a major facelifting but a bigger structure and a dynamic organism to make it go.

S. Dakota Gets First Bachelor Governor

(EDITOR'S NOTE — The United States regretfully lifts a bamboo curtain in Georgia, a bachelor governor out of the kitchen, a complaint of scrambled fish eggs, and Seattle's complaint against the weather and facets of the American scene this week.)

PIERRE, S.D. (AP) — This prairie state has its first bachelor governor. At the moment, the only companion of 51-year-old Nils A. Boe in the box-like, two-story governor's mansion is his pet beagle.

Boe is a Republican. The dog, Beagle Boe, was presented to him after a term as House speaker in 1955, long before the breed attained Democratic distinction in the White House.

★ ★ ★

Boe, a Sioux Falls attorney, looks forward to the state's "first family" chores without concern. He's getting a housekeeper to do his cooking, make the beds, and keep the governor's mansion tidy. And on state occasions which call for a First Lady, the husky Norwegian governor has three sisters on whom he can call.

Boe, a 6-footer with thinning blond hair, did much of his own cooking and grocery shopping in private life. Friends speak highly of his pancakes and of Boe's own favorite recipe, a beef-vegetable soup-stew. The chief executive comments: "I haven't starved."

LESS TIME

But the housekeeper is coming. Boe figures he'll have less time in the kitchen as governor than he did in his private law practice.

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — The federal government is going out of the bamboo business. For more than 45 years, the government has grown bamboo on an unusual farm near Savannah.

While many would like to know how to rid their property of bamboo, the government has been trying to find the best way to grow it.

★ ★ ★

Under ideal conditions, they grow it at the rate of a foot a day.

The U.S. Plant Introduction Station, as the farm is named officially, is being phased out as an economy measure.

"We were on the verge of a major breakthrough in fertilization and harvesting from the cultural standpoint," said Walter O. Hawley, director of the farm.

UNTOUCHED SOURCE

"We believe that bamboo is an untouched source of pulp for the manufacture of paper, but now look at what has happened."

In the 45 years the farm has operated, Hawley estimates that about 117 different species of bamboo have been harvested.

It has been tested as a source for building material. The press box at the stadium at Clemson College was built with concrete over bamboo. Georgia Tech in Atlanta has done considerable research in this area.

Although bamboo was the major project, the experiment station also dealt with other crops.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The odds were about 1,700 to 1, but it happened. The defendant actually was summoned for jury duty in his own trial.

Charles F. Cole, clerk of U.S. District Court here, said it was the first time he had heard of such coincidence.

★ ★ ★

Cole had to summon a jury panel of 25 from six Arkansas counties to hear a damage case in which Nealon Quick, a grocer from eastern Arkansas, was being sued.

The clerk's office drew 25 names from the list of those eligible and sent the list to attorneys for both sides.

NAME ON LIST

Quick's name was on the list. "The lawyer for the defendant was laughing about it," said Cole, "but he sure wanted to get it fixed."

The six counties involved have 43,725 registered voters and a total population of 149,133.

CORNWALL, N.Y. (AP) — For many months, a high-voltage controversy has crackled around the proposal by New York's Consolidated Edison Co. to build a $162-million hydro-electric project near this Hudson River community.

Opponents say the dam would mar the natural beauty of the river scene, 40 miles north of New York City. Proponents minimize this and cite economic benefits.

★ ★ ★

Now fishermen, represented by several Long Island groups, have waded into the fray, petitioning the Federal Power Commission to reconsider its preliminary approval of the undertaking and reopen public hearings.

They argue the project would threaten the supply of striped bass and other fish, sports and commercial, in waters from Cape May, N.J., to Cape Cod, Mass.

'DILATORY'

Con Edison claims the fishermen were "dilatory" in their petition and were basing it on "extravagant and largely irrelevant" claims.

Said a spokesman for the petitioners: "The new plant will produce not only electricity, but a whale of a lot of scrambled fish eggs."

SEATTLE, Wash. (AP) — Although Seattle is farther north than Minneapolis, on a level with the Maine woods, Seattle's winters are usually wet and mild because of the warming effect of Pacific Ocean currents.

But this year the weather has declined to follow the script, and the Pacific Northwest and British Columbia across the Canadian border have drawn much of the weather from the Canadian arctic.

★ ★ ★

As a result, in Seattle, where snow is a rarity, a record 7.8 inches fell in December. The temperature dropped to 10 above, another record for the month, on Dec. 16, and stayed below the freezing point for three days.

★ ★ ★

Annoyed Seattleites also found: 5,000 people turned away from an ice show matinee because the skaters' train was blocked by a snowslide, frozen pipes forcing the shutdown of the fountain in front of the public library, a shutdown of the restaurant atop the 600-foot space needle at the 1962 World's Fair grounds when a burst pipe coated emergency exit steps with ice.

CHRISTMAS WEEK

And during Christmas week, the weather added 9,049 to the state's unemployment rolls. On New Year's Eve the Boeing Co., the state's largest employer, canceled a shift because of the storm.

★ ★ ★

This winter has been different in Seattle.

Tax Structure Change May Go on Troy Ballot in Spring

TROY — A solution to Troy's operating budget troubles may be proposed to the voters in the spring general election, as a result of City Commission action last night.

★ ★ ★

A proposal made by Commissioner and Mayor Pro Tem Wallace B. Hudson will be put in the form of a resolution to place the proposition on the ballot.

The idea is merely to give the commission more leeway in expenditure of its tax income by eliminating specific limitations on the amount that can be used for either capital improvement or operating.

At present, five - mill limits exist for both categories creating a situation in which the city is badly in need of operating funds despite having unused tax powers for capital improvement.

The charter does not allow the commission to use the extra capital improvement tax power to boost the operating portion of the budget.

SAME TOTAL

If the voters approved such a proposal, it would keep the total tax limitation at 10 mills, but would allow the commission to split the income between capital improvement and operating expenses as it saw fit.

Such an arrangement is normal for a city of Troy's size, and it is almost unique in being held to specific limits as it is now, officials said.

City Attorney Stanley Burke will draft a resolution to put the proposal on the ballot for commission study at its Monday meeting.

★ ★ ★

Another charter revision proposal will definitely be on the ballot this spring.

RAISE LIMIT

It would raise the amount of purchases which can be made without asking for bids from $500 to $1,000 and provide for emergency purchases by the finance department without prior commission approval.

Some opposition to the idea of a general limitation came from commissioner Clifford Sutermeister, who feels that the present limit is enough for either capital improvement or operating.

"You have the money, granted to you in the charter," he said. "Stay within the limit."

While further study is being made on the issue, the commission has tabled proposed millage requests for the library and the parks and recreation department.

DUE UP AGAIN

Both will come up again next week, as any tax for either is tied in with the outcome of Hudson's proposed solution to operating budget funds.

Another consideration is a rapidly growing capital improvement budget requirement.

A report which combines the estimated needs of the city for the next five years indicates that the present five mills allowed for capital improvement will likely have to be strained to the limit very soon in order to keep pace with the building "boom" in Troy.

Rochester Building Boom Pointed Up by 3 Projects

By LEE OLSON
Area News Editor

ROCHESTER — The building boom continues in Rochester as evidenced by the projects presented to the Village Council last night.

Development of three vacant areas in town, two on contiguous parcels, was proposed for three separate uses — an apartment complex, a new Elks lodge and a commercial and multiple housing project.

The first request was for rezoning of 3½ acres at the north end of Ludlow from office use to multifamily residential for construction of 35-40 apartment units.

This is the same acreage rezoned for the Elks lodge last July — plans for which were later dropped by the fraternal organization because of their controversial nature.

Ludlow residents had even threatened court action citing as their main objections to the building that it would alter the residential character of the street and increase the traffic to dangerous proportions.

LIQUOR LICENSE

They also had opposed the issuance of a liquor license to the lodge in view of the number of children on Ludlow and others who use Avon Township Park just across the street from the parcel which had been rezoned.

Residents who live within 300 feet of the property now have signed a petition offering no objections to the latest proposed usage.

Developers are Conard Aemisegger and Charles Sibert who say the multihousing units would act as a buffer between the light industrial area at the north and the single residences on the south. It also would add substantially to the village tax base, they said.

★ ★ ★

With one special proviso, the council set a public hearing on the rezoning request for Feb. 8 — with recommendations from the village planning consultants and Rochester - Avon - Pontiac Township Regional Planning Commission due by that time.

GET SIGNATURES

The proviso is that the developers get signatures from most of the rest of the Ludlow Street residents to assure their approval of the proposed apartment complex.

Also the council instructed the village manager and engineer to see that the sewers on Ludlow would be adequate to handle the apartments before the public hearing.

A second public hearing Feb. 8 will be on the Elks' request for rezoning of a new 7-acre site for their lodge hall.

Presently zoned residential, it is the former Higbie Manufacturing Co. property south of the Mill Pond area which the club wants changed to general business classification.

TENTATIVE PLANS

According to tentative plans submitted by project architect Robert C. Smitha, the Elks plan to erect a lodge hall which will contain a club room 10,000 square feet in size that would be expandable to 20,000 square feet.

Also included would be parking, recreation and picnic areas on the property.

This proposal also was ordered referred to the planning commission which should have a recommendation ready before the hearing.

★ ★ ★

The property proposed for the Elks lodge is beyond East University that ends at the New York Central Railroad tracks which also are involved in the planned development of Mill Pond property for a multiple housing and commercial usage.

"The initial project is to get the area open so that it can be put to use," said Smitha, who is a codeveloper of this 20-acre parcel with Ted Obal of Southfield.

"We have numerous ideas in the works—part for commercial and a portion for multiple housing, but we will make no commitments until we have a contract," he said.

★ ★ ★

He was referring to an agreement they hope to make with the village to provide for construction of a railroad crossing to cost about $16,000 and erection of a bridge over Paint Creek to cost about $50,000.

EASEMENT RIGHTS

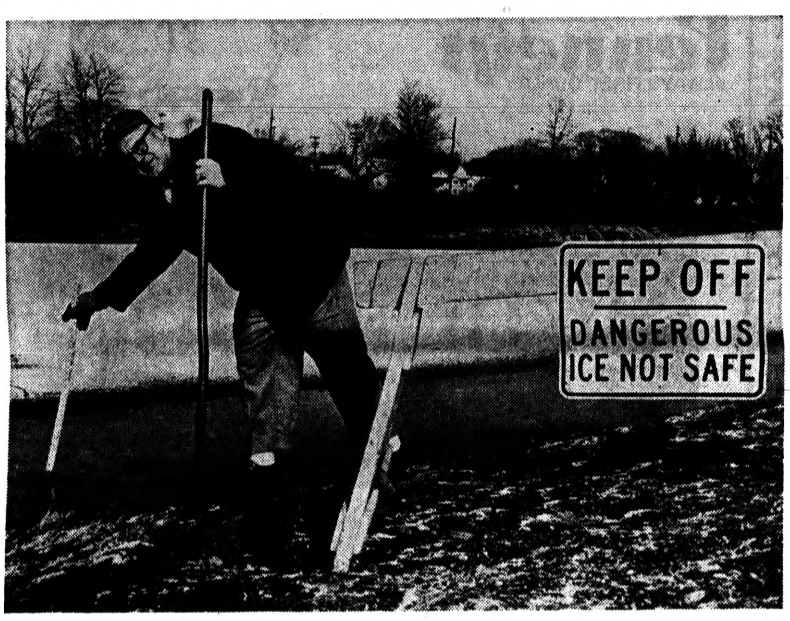

The snag right now is whether the railroad will grant an easement for the 93-foot right-of-way needed adjacent to the tracks, so the proposed extension of East University would be straight.

The developers plan to construct a 48-foot-wide roadway and sidewalk the entire length of the project—about 1,200 feet.

They would agree to underwrite seven per cent of the engineering to allow the project to get under way with the village to finance the crossing and bridge with state weight and measures taxes.

A special meeting on this one project is set for next Monday in hopes that some word will be received from NYC railroad about the proposed easement.

NOT THICK ENOUGH — The opening of the Municipal Skating Rink in Rochester is far behind schedule because of recent unseasonably warm weather. Here George Hartwig, park maintenance superintendent, shows that the ice is only ¼ inch thick near the edge. He said it would take about a full week of near zero temperatures to freeze the whole pond so the ice would be thick enough for safe use. Last year skating began Dec. 21 and the rink was used a total of 34 days.

U.S. Hikes Interest on Crop Loans

The interest rate on certificates of interest to lending institutions participating in 1964 crop price support loans has been hiked from 3.875 to 4.1 per cent per annum.

The increase, recently announced by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, was effective Dec. 27.

It is in line with recent changes in the money market and is being made to encourage continued participation by private lenders in the financing of Commodity Credit Corp. loan programs, USDA officials said.

★ ★ ★

This increase will not be retroactive.

Therefore, lending institutions which have invested funds in 1964 crop price support loans will earn interest on their investments at 3.70 per cent per annum from the date of investment through Nov. 14, 1964.

WILL BE RAISED

It will be raised to 3.875 per cent per annum from Nov. 15, 1964, through Dec. 26, 1964 and 4.1 per cent thereafter.

Notice of this increase will be published in the Federal Register.

★ ★ ★

Reprints of the Federal Register notice on certificates of interest for grain and related commodities will be distributed to financing institutions by County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASCS) offices.

New State Court Starts Work Today

LANSING (AP) — Following a formal robing ceremony today, Michigan's nine judges of the new Court of Appeals were to start work immediately with a judicial conference and their first hearings.

★ ★ ★

The State Supreme Court chambers were selected as the site for the formal donning of their robes of office by the justices.

Speakers were to be Chief Justice Thomas M. Kavanagh of the State Supreme Court, Chief Court of Appeals Judge T. John Lesinski and Christian Matthews, president of the Michigan State Bar.

Farmington Holds Up on New Code

FARMINGTON — The City Council discussed Farmington's proposed zoning ordinance with a large group of residents and planning commissioners last night and decided to withhold a final decision on the code.

Some 120 persons crowded into the council chambers for the public hearing.

The majority of those who spoke indicated they are not entirely satisfied with provisions of the ordinance — particularly that which would establish the new education-research-office zone.

The area designated for this classification is a 22-acre parcel on the northwest corner of Farmington Road and Freedom Drive.

★ ★ ★

Now located there are the Huron River Hunting and Fishing Club, the Glen Aquatic Swim Club and two or three houses. The city also owns a 5½-acre parcel in the area.

SINGLE-FAMILY ESTATES

The property now is zoned for single-family estates of not less than one acre.

Several of the neighboring property owners complained that they had not seen the proposed ordinance, which has been available in the city manager's office.

They were urged to study both the code and the accompanying map.

★ ★ ★

Indications were that last night's four-hour session probably will be followed by other public gatherings before action is taken on the ordinance.

CLASSIFICATION AIM

The education - research - office classification is aimed at encouraging the development of campus-type laboratories and office buildings, planners said.

A development there would require 2,000 square feet of land area, 40 per cent of which could be utilized.

Front and side setbacks would be restricted to a minimum of 40 feet and the rear setback to 50 feet.

★ ★ ★

The council was urged to wait until a developer presents a specific plan before rezoning the property.

PLANNED PROJECT

However, it was noted that the new code provides that any development in the area be a "planned project" — one approved by the planning commission and the zoning board of appeals.

As part of the site plan approval, owners of property within 300 feet of the proposed development would be notified and could express their opinions on the project.

Planners noted that the Federal Housing Administration has indicated a planned project should have no detrimental effect on adjacent property values, although some members of the audience disagreed.

★ ★ ★

Another objection was to the possibility that a parking lot could be installed within the space alloted for the rear setback, and thus nearly to the property line.

MORE RESTRICTIVE

It was suggested, with City Manager John Dinan agreeing, that the setbacks be made more restrictive.

★ ★ ★

The zoning ordinance, prepared by Geer Associates Planning Consultants, Inc., of Bloomfield Hills and the Development Planning Co. of Waterford Township, is designed to facilitate the city's master plan. It would replace one written in 1956.

Teachers, Board Air Procedures

Representatives of two rival teachers' organizations and the Avondale School Board last night discussed procedures for the bringing of policy questions and problems to the board.

★ ★ ★

Separate meetings were held with three representatives each of the Avondale Federation of Teachers (AFT) and the Avondale Education Association (AEA).

Both groups had submitted proposals to the board which would establish procedures which teacher's organizations would follow in discussing policy questions.

The AEA proposal, which is still under wraps, embodies the principle of "professional negotiations," which could be employed as a means of discussing such matters as salary requests.

★ ★ ★

Schools Supt. George Shackelford said that the AEA proposal also stated the group's desire to represent the teachers.

BETTER POSITION

This group has a much larger membership than does the relatively new AFT, and would be in more of a position to ask for recognition as sole bargaining agent for the teachers.

Shackelford said he had no indication from the board that it was ready to consider recognition of either group as the sole bargaining agent.

AFT President Harold Strayer said this morning that his organization's "main point was that we don't want anything railroaded in."

★ ★ ★

Shackelford said board members would now study both posals and that he supposed "the board will at some time in the near future, take some action on these proposals."

★ ★ ★

No further meeting has been scheduled with either organization.

Under Way in Farmington

Pilot Plan in Sex Education

FARMINGTON — Methods of improving the sex education of young people may soon be developed here through a pioneering project.

The idea, which the board of education agreed to in principle last night, is that adults should coordinate and organize their efforts in this sensitive field.

Educators here say this probably is the first time such a program has been undertaken in the area.

Information on the sex education of youngsters will be received by parents and teachers in adult education courses.

★ ★ ★

Merrill - Palmer Institute of Detroit will cooperate with the Farmington Public Schools to provide the in-service training of the instructors.

YEAR-LONG STUDY

The program is the result of a year-long study by a group known as the Growing Up Committee. It has considered the role the school should play in providing leadership and training for parents in the whole area of sex education.

Membership of the committee has included elementary principals, Oakland County public health nurse Helen Clark and Mrs. Albert M. Voltmer, former 12th grade home and family living teacher.

For two months last fall, they met in a series of workshops with Dr. Armin Grams and Laurence H. Lang of Merrill-Palmer Institute.

★ ★ ★

The committee concluded that sex education in general is not being handled adequately in most school systems—including Farmington.

FEEL INADEQUATE

While sex education should be handled primarily at home, the committee said, it found that neither parents nor teachers felt adequate to handle the subject.

The district's sex education program in the past has been informal and only rarely did it touch on the problems of maturing boys.

The Growing Up Committee saw the public school as the logical agency to provide leadership for improved sex education and recommended a sound but sensitive program for parents and teachers as the logical place to start.

★ ★ ★

Through Schools Supt. G. V. Harrison, the committee asked the board of education to allocate funds from its regular budget for the in-service training of instructors.

VOLUNTEERS

These would be volunteers from the community screened for their background and interest in the field. Their qualifications could be in the fields of medicine, teaching or social service.

The committee also urged the establishment of a Farmington Schools' staff group to work with Dr. Grams in the development of a class outline and other materials.

Two or three pilot courses then would be set up on a self-supporting basis and would be open to parents and teachers of parochial as well as public school students.

★ ★ ★

The program would be operated on a continuing basis if the pilot classes prove successful.

U.S. Gold Supply Is in the News Again

NEW YORK (AP) — Gold is glittering in the news again as its price ranges near a two-year high. As usual in its 3,800-year recorded history, gold is trouble.

The trouble for the United States is that its vast stockpile of gold is shrinking. Thus, though the nation's economy is booming and the standard of living is higher than any the world has ever known, the country is nagged by the problem of gold.

★ ★ ★

Here are some questions and answers which explore the past, present and future of gold and its relationship to the United States citizen:

Q: What is gold?

A: Gold is a malleable yellow metallic element nearly as heavy as lead and more than 3½ times heavier than iron. In daily life in the United States it is used mainly for jewelry and filling teeth. Except for those uses, and a few limited industrial applications, it is illegal for anybody but the government to own gold.

★ ★ ★

Q: Why is it important, then?

A: Internationally, gold is money. It is the one always acceptable medium for settlement of international debts.

Q: Why is that?

A: The answer is historical. Briefly, the history is this:

Gold, because it was rare, was used as money as early as the time of the biblical Abraham — about 1900 B.C. For 3500 years gold was the principal medium of exchange, though other metals — silver, copper, bronze — also were used.

In the 1600s people who owned gold used to deposit it with local goldsmiths for safekeeping. The goldsmith would give them a paper receipt.

In time the receipts were used in payment of debts, but always represented a fixed amount of gold. In the following centuries this system evolved into the issuance of national receipts — paper currency — representing gold in the national treasury. This was the so-called "gold standard" used by many nations until the 1930s.

Because of the limited world supply of gold, most nations abandoned the gold standard in the 1930s, the United States in 1934. However, our nation kept its money system partially linked to gold.

★ ★ ★

Q: What function does gold serve in the U.S. money system?

A: Gold acts as a ceiling on the money supply. The three main types of money are coins, paper bills and commercial bank deposits. By law the Federal Reserve Bank may not create paper money and bank reserves in excess of four times the value of its gold. As of last Wednesday, the Federal Reserve had about $15.4 billion in gold, which was 27.6 per cent of the total currency and reserve deposits. The gold level is about $125 million less than a year ago.

Q: What is a reserve deposit?

A: The Federal Reserve requires commercial banks to set aside either in their own vaults, or as deposits at the Federal Reserve banks, certain percentages of their deposits. That is both a safeguard for the public and a means whereby the Federal Reserve can control the amount of money relative to gold.

Q: Why is the United States gold supply dwindling?

A: Gold leaves the nation because foreigners — particularly France — have acquired more dollars than they want to keep. The U.S. Treasury guarantees to sell gold to foreign governments and central banks at $35 an ounce for money purposes. The foreign governments have accumulated dollars because for the past eight years the United States has paid out annually more than it has received in international money transactions.

Q: Because of the legal one-to-four requirement, wouldn't the loss of gold reduce the amount of money available to Americans at home?

A: Ultimately, yes. Because of our huge supply of gold — most of it accumulated during World War II — the one-to-four ratio did not become acute until recently. The problem was underlined last week when France announced its intention to cash in $150 million for gold.

★ ★ ★

Q: What will happen when the one-for-four legal limit is reached?

A: There are several possibilities. First, the limit could be observed, thus putting an absolute ceiling on the money supply. That is unlikely in our expanding economy. Second, the Federal Reserve Board has power to suspend the one-for-four requirement indefinitely in an emergency. Third, Congress could change the one-for-four requirement. President Johnson's administration already has indicated it will seek a change.

★ ★ ★

Q: Would a change in the limit shake confidence in the U.S. dollar?

A: The strength of a nation's currency is as great as its economy. The U.S. economy by all yardsticks is unparalleled in strength. For example, the U.S. dollar is more potent internationally in 1965 than it was in 1933 when it was backed 100 per cent by gold, but the nation was in a depression.

★ ★ ★

Q: What has the Johnson administration proposed?

A: It has suggested that the one-for-four requirement be removed from reserve deposits. That would free for international use some $5 billion in gold now frozen to back deposits. The administration would retain the requirement for one-for-four backing for currency. Thus a paper dollar would have at least 25 cents in gold behind it, but a dollar of deposits would not have any gold backing.

★ ★ ★

Q: Is Congress likely to approve such a plan?

A: Recent samplings of congressional opinion indicate the lawmakers favor the idea.

Spiders are great killers of insects. There is one case on record of a female black widow spider who destroyed 250 houseflies, two crickets and one other spider during her lifetime.

Someone Should Be Told About Girl's Problem

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am a girl of 14. My father died before I was born. About six years ago my mother took in a man who was looking for a room to rent, only we didn't have an extra room so she let him sleep in her room.

ABBY

All my friends know about it because they keep asking me who the man is and, when I say he rents a room from us, they ask how many bedrooms we have.

My biggest problem is that he is always trying to get me alone and touch me.

My mother works from 3 p.m. until midnight and I walk the streets so I won't have to stay alone in the house with him.

I know I shouldn't be walking the streets alone at night, but I don't want to hurt my mother's feelings by telling her why I'm afraid to stay at home. What should I do?

CAN'T SIGN MY NAME

★ ★ ★

DEAR CAN'T: Tell your mother ALL about the man's behavior immediately!

And if she doesn't get rid of him at once, call the POLICE DEPARTMENT and tell them exactly what you have told me.

I urge you to follow this advice now.

DEAR ABBY: Your advice to widows who wonder what to do about their wedding and engagement rings was a revelation to me.

You said, "Widows who would like to start dating again and eventually to remarry should leave their wedding rings at home and wear their engagement rings on their right hands."

My husband died two years ago and recently I started dating.

But I felt guilty every time I went out with another man.

After reading that piece in your column, I put my wedding ring in the drawer and placed my lovely diamond engagement ring on my right hand.

I broke into tears, but I realized for the FIRST TIME that I am no longer a married woman, and should not feel guilty. Thank you, Abby.

L. S.

DEAR ABBY: I disagree with you, Abby. I think a woman who has lost her husband and who has children should wear her wedding ring at all times.

My father died four years ago (I was 12) and a year later my mother took off her rings.

When I saw her bare fingers I asked her please to put her rings back on and to keep them on.

I pointed out that although she no longer had a husband, she had a son, and I didn't want people to think I was illegitimate.

A WIDOW'S SON

★ ★ ★

DEAR SON: No reasonable person would assume that because a woman wears no wedding ring, her children are illegitimate.

Nor would I worry about the oddball who might think so.

WOMEN'S SECTION

Federation Hears Talk

Mrs. Priscilla Jackson, assistant director of the new Mott program and former director of conferences at Oakland University, outlined the problems which beset today's woman for the Pontiac Federation of Women's Clubs.

At the Monday meeting, Mrs. Jackson spoke on "The Seven Stages of the Adult Woman's Life."

★ ★ ★

She pointed out the growing restlessness which modern woman encounters and the need for identity and purpose in the latter stages of her life.

NEW INTERESTS

There are a number of causes for this unrest and the best relief is an outside interest. She urged the women at the meeting to be honest with their own emotions.

During the business meeting, plans for a membership drive to start soon and culminate with a social affair after Easter was presented.

The usual spring fund raising activity will be delayed until late fall, at which time the Federation hopes to undertake a larger project with an international flavor.

Meeting with her and the planning committee on Monday was Mrs. James B. Boaz, Edgevale Street, a member of chapter AW, Pontiac. The luncheon will be held in the Birmingham Community House.

Learn About Concert

George Fetter, head of the music department at Waterford Kettering High School, gave a comprehensive analysis on Monday of the Pontiac Symphony Orchestra concert scheduled for Feb. 2.

Speaking to members of the symphony women's association, Fetter discussed "Roman Carnival Overture" by Berlioz; "The New World Symphony" by Dvorak and "Piano Concerto in E flat major" by Franz Liszt.

On the hospitality committee for the day were Mrs. Nelson Hunter, Mrs. D. L. Harrison, Mrs. Howard O. Powers and Mrs. Horace Hall.

Mrs. Richard Poole opened her Orchard Lake home for the meeting.

Diamonds Are Subject of Talk at Luncheon

The Christian Women's club will sponsor a luncheon at 12:30 p.m. Wednesday, in Devon Gables.

Featured on the "Winter Magic" program, will be a discussion of diamonds by Robert Fox of Connolly's Jewelry Store, Birmingham.

Contralto, Mrs. William Gibson, will perform.

Dr. Donald R. Brown, D.D.S. will be guest speaker.

Reservations should be called in to Mrs. Fred Hartkopf.

Heritage Club Has Talk on Tinware

Members of the Heritage society met recently at the home of Mrs. John Napley, Kellen Lane.

Mrs. C. W. Salton presented a paper on Tinware to the group.

The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. F. I. McDowell, Delaware Drive, on Feb. 4.

Area PEO Groups Set Founders' Day

Ninety-six years ago on an Iowa college campus, the PEO Sisterhood was organized.

On Jan. 27 in the Birmingham Community House, 15 area PEO chapters will honor their seven founders.

Mrs. Elinor Rose of Royal Oak whose poetry appears in both books and newspapers will be the principal speaker.

Others on the program will be Mrs. T. W. Kirkman, also of Royal Oak, and Mrs. Harold Dyer, Birmingham, who will present a musical program.

SEVEN FOUNDERS

The seven girls at Iowa Wesleyan College who formed a sorority with the aim of self-culture were unusual. All colleges were not open to women.

For a while, PEO flourished as a college sorority, then became a town organization and has continued in that form to this day. Membership is by invitation.

The PEO program is both educational and philanthropic. From a scholarship fund that exceeds one million dollars, grants are given to approximately 100 students a year from all over the world.

OWNS JUNIOR COLLEGE

PEO owns and operates a junior college for women in Nevada, Mo. President of Cottey College is Dr. Blanche H. Dow who is also national president of the American Association of University Women.

Chairman of the Founders Day luncheon is Mrs. A. T. Laurie of Royal Oak. Working with her are Mrs. Daniel Burlingame and Mrs. Robert Brinkman and Mrs. Everett Peterson, Pontiac.

Reservations may be made with Mrs. John Roberson of Birmingham before Jan. 18.

Legion Unit Gets Reports

Reports of committees were made at the recent meeting of Chief Pontiac unit 377, American Legion Auxiliary.

Guests were present and hostesses were Mrs. Daniel Boone and Mrs. James Cheyne.

The meeting was held at the Legion home on Oakland Lake.

Sandals, Slings

Open Style Shoes In for Spring

Along with the new daytime and evening fashions for spring '65 comes the newest look in footwear.

★ ★ ★

Breezy, is the word for the daytime sandals that are right for the city. Wear them with the fuller, more swinging skirts so much in evidence this season.

This light shoe carries most of the fashion weight, making open footwear the best investment this fashion year.

Evening finds these pared-down sandals with scooped out sides and barely enough material left for a sling.

Mules will travel to town in nighttime expressions of silk, embroidered satin or pastel kid.

When toes are not open, they are usually tapered, frequently rounded, and sometimes harem shaped.

★ ★ ★

Heels are almost invariably in the medium to low range on these closed shoes, keeping the balance between the broadened toe and set-back heel.

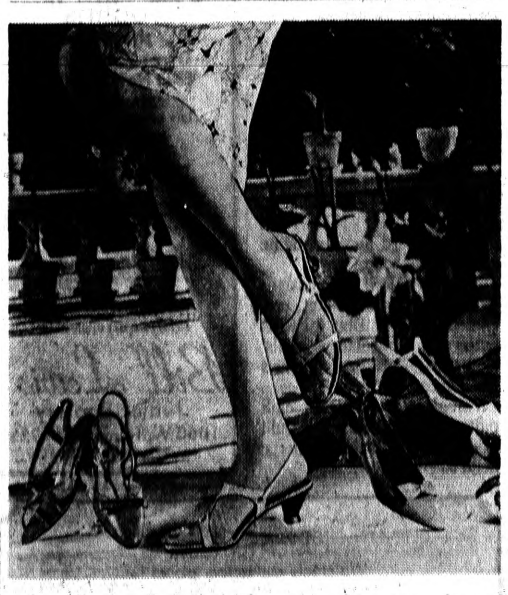

One of the great looks this season will be the spirited casuals. It is the face of lightness, and youth and relays a feeling of motion.

Textures have never had more scope or dimension. They run from lacquery patents and cloisonne calf to caviar lizards, silky snake, and deeply grained alligator.

Reptile, real or fake, is a favorite of little striplings for evenings on the patio.

Colors rocket across the fashion picture and range in scope from vivid to palest pastels.

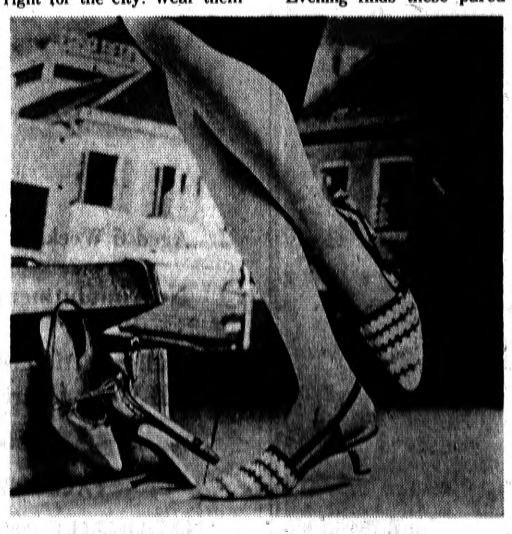

The devastating change this year is definitely the open and free wheeling look found in the sandals and slings.

Coolers for a summer afternoon. All of calf in cotton-candy colors. Left, a Flamingo pink stripping sandal on a mid-high shaped heel by Customcraft $24.00. Next Erica bares all but the toe of a skinny sling sandal $30.00. Standing, pearl blue T strap strapling on underslung Louis heel, by Town and Country $12.95. Next Rinaldi's round toe sling with a pretty bow $24.00. Finishing with Chanel inspired sling with coral lizard tip by Pappagallo $18.00.

Dramatic entrance into evening . . . the silvered macassar snake sandal ablaze with rhinestones. By Herbert Levine.

The sling story for summer told three ways! Left to right: The ghillie in poison green calf. About $27.00. Red pump banded in navy. About $27.00, both by Palizzio. The espadrille take-off in white linen circled in color and outlined in black patent, by Herbert Levine. $40.00.

Consider Cost Before Eating

Figure the cost per serving when buying meat, the U. S. Department of Agriculture advises.

★ ★ ★

Meat with lots of bone or fat allows one to two servings per pound; moderate bone or fat, two to three servings per pound; no bone and little fat, four servings per pound.

To Win Friend

Try Bolstering His Ego

By GEORGE W. CRANE, Ph.D.

CASE U270: Harry Z., aged 28, is a friendless fellow.

"Dr Crane," he began glumly, "I have hardly a friend except for my parents.

"Yet I am not any worse looking than average, wouldn't you admit?

"But I seem to have the knack of saying the wrong things. From indirect sources, I have thus been told that I am very tactless.

"So how can I change and become popular, or is that too much to hope for?

"I want to make any new resolutions that will help me win friends."

NEW RESOLUTIONS

Millions of people are tactless and not intentionally so. They simply lack empathy.

Empathy requires an extroverted outlook so you begin to focus on the wishes and desires of the OTHER person more than yourself.

The Golden Rule is a superb definition of empathy, for it says:

"Do unto others as you'd have them do unto you."

But far too many timid, tongue-tied introverts are so wrapped up in themselves that they pay little attention to their human companions.

KEY SENTENCE

"I want to feel important," is the key sentence for winning friends and popularity with both sexes.

But you must curb your first reaction, which is to toot your own horn and show off your own importance.

★ ★ ★

Subdue this natural impulse and turn your attention to your companion, whose chest also carries this universal tattoo:

"I Want to Feel Important." his companion.

Remember, both of you bear that same tattoo.

But the popular person checks the very natural impulse to flaunt his importance and helps bolster the pride of his companion.

So he smiles, which is a nonverbal or "sign language" compliment that almost invariably generates a smile in return.

Popular people thus break the ice first!

SNOBS ARE LONELY

Two snobs on a park bench are each dying of loneliness. But neither will break the ice, so they remain snooty, aloof, and unhappy.

Force yourself to take the iniative and smile first. Then go the second mile, which means phrase a spoken compliment to reinforce your smile.

★ ★ ★

If you are excessively shy, then sit down tonight and figure out the people tomorrow whom you will meet and with whom you'd like to be on friendly terms.

Write their names on a slip of paper.

Next, analyze them in your imagination for virtues or merits on which you can pay them sincere compliments.

May Keep Prize at Public Party

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: My church held a card party to raise funds for a new school. I bought four tickets, (a whole table), and invited three friends as my guests.

A table prize was put on each table. I won the prize at our table. I kept it.

As these women were my guests, should I have given the prize to the one with the next highest score?

A: As these women were not guests in your house and the prize given for highest score not bought by you, you were quite right to keep it.

★ ★ ★

Q: At what time is it proper for an engaged girl and man to start to call each other's parents "Mom" and "Dad" instead of "Mr." and "Mrs."?

A: Unless it is the wish of the parents that the young couple call them Mom and Dad, they do not, as a rule, do so until after they are married.

★ ★ ★

Q: Have I been wrong in not returning my engagement ring to the family of the man to whom I was engaged? He was killed in an automobile accident.

Something my fiance's mother said to me the other day set me to wondering whether I was right in keeping it.

A: A girl is expected to return the ring only if the engagement is broken. In the situation you describe, you may quite properly keep the ring.

Be Open With Child Who Lies to You

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

DEAR MRS. LAWRENCE: I baby-sit for my two grandchildren when my son and his wife go out.

The boy seldom gives me trouble but the girl lies. She puts out her light at 10 o'clock as her parents want me to tell her to do, but as soon as she thinks I am back downstairs she switches it on again to read.

Though I have caught her several times with the light showing under her door, she turns it off when she hears me coming and denies that she's had it on.

ANSWER: Wasn't it hard enough to raise your own children without taking on the moral education of your son's?

If you really believe that this child is a serious liar, don't you think you should tell her parents—and let them worry about it?

If you don't believe this, how about treating her lie to a little more openness of your own instead of tip-toeing up and downstairs and generally lurking about?

How about opening her door and saying:

"What are we going to do about this reading after bedtime? Are you going to force me to ask your parents to remove the bulb from your lamp when they go out at night—or are you going to keep it turned out the way they expect you to do?"

As it is you've joined her in her little game of deceit by sneaking about to catch her indisobedience without her knowledge just as she tries to sneak in post-bedtime reading without your knowledge.

What she needs is your open and unruffled declaration that her lie hasn't fooled you.

Unless we deliver this unruffled openness to a child who has lied to us, we can't expect him to be open with us.

Children lie to us for the same reason we lie to ourselves or to others.

FEARFUL

A girl presents us with the image of a good, obedient child who wouldn't dream of reading when she's supposed to be asleep because she thinks we can't stand the real, deficient child she actually is.

We do the same thing when we lie.

We present to ourselves or others an image of ourselves as people who never forget telephone messages, whose kindness is always disinterested and who possess no deficiencies.

If we understand that fear of our real selves is what compels us to lie, we can recognize the same fear in the lying child.

We make it unnecessary to lie to us by our open and unruffled acceptance of the deficiency the child is afraid to confess.

Needlework Kit

Hang Gay Bird Pair

Here's a pair of birds to do your playroom, sun porch or vacation home proud.

★ ★ ★

These all felt hangings are big—13 by 27 inches—so they will cover a lot of wall area with gaiety and subtle humor (just not the expressions).

★ ★ ★

The improbable but appealing rooster is in several shades of blue, from light to dark, with saucy red and lavender comb and tail feathers. The brilliant colors are silhouetted on a black background.

★ ★ ★

The quizzical peacock is gay and amusing also, and in the same coloring as his rooster companion.

STAMPED OUTLINE

An outline of the birds is stamped on the black background and the colored sections are stamped on colored felt.

★ ★ ★

You cut out the felt appliques, then glue or sew them in place, following directions in kit.

Either way they work up very quickly for there are no raw edges to turn under (felt never ravels).

★ ★ ★

These would make excellent housewarming gifts.

The rooster wall hanging is Kit 38A and the peacock is Kit 39A.

Ex-White House Chef Remembers a Friendly JFK

NEW YORK (NEA)—When the world thinks of John F. Kennedy, it is against the background of great decisions.

Julius Spessot thinks of him as a tired President taking time out from the cold war to scramble eggs in the top of a double boiler late at night in the White House kitchen, or surreptitiously telephoning from the executive office to ask the chef to fix fettuccine for the family dinner.

This was a facet of the late President the public never saw, a warm and human side only a few could know.

One tends to forget that world figures have their little foibles, their idiosyncrasies and their secret needs, just as the least of us do.

★ ★ ★

For the first time since he left the White House to serve as head chef at a New York restaurant (the Brasserie), Julius Spessot told me his story of a chef's eye view of the Kennedys—a story of great dignity, but one of love, understanding and devotion.

FAMILY CHEF

Spessot was the President's "family" chef. When JFK donned formal clothes to dine at state affairs, Rene Verdon did most of the cooking. Verdon was hired by Mrs. Kennedy, a devotee of French haute cuisine.

But when it was dinner for the family alone, or with a few intimate guests, Spessot, who was hired by the President himself, prepared the simpler meals.

Often in the late afternoon, Spessot's phone would ring and the President would say, "I'm working late today. Please fix something, put it on the warming table and go home. There's no need for you to stay."

★ ★ ★

The chef would prepare a ragout or beef Bourguignon and have an evening at home with his wife and small son.

BATTLE OF BULGE

The President, like many another man of his age, had to fight a continuing battle of the bulge. When he went on a diet, as he did frequently, Spessot served lean steaks, lamb chops and Spartan desserts, but the chief executive was never too happy.

One night Spessot fixed a chocolate souffle for dessert, knowing of his boss' love for chocolate. The President took a second helping and then stole out of the family dining room into the kitchen.

"Don't have any more of that for a few days," he whispered to the chef. "I'm going to be on television on Monday."

★ ★ ★

One day at Newport, R.I., the President asked Julius to fix spaghetti, saying there would be eight guests. Spessot bought some fresh lobsters and made a sauce with them.

DETOURED TO KITCHEN

JFK detoured into the kitchen to see how things were progressing and looked into the steaming pots.

"You didn't make meatballs?" he asked in surprise.

"No, Mr. President," said the cook, "but taste this sauce."

★ ★ ★

JFK took a healthy sample, savored the taste and went out without saying a word. But he turned at the door and winked.

BOULA-BOULA SOUP

"Boula-boula soup was one of his favorites," recalled the White House sous-chef. "One day I prepared it and the butler took it in, serving the President first as is always done. It was rich soup, with turtle and madeira wine among the ingredients.

"I put no whipped cream on his bowl, but did on all the others. When he saw the other dishes he called the butler and sent him out to get cream for his dish.

"The butler told me the President whispered to him, 'I just couldn't stand it'."

★ ★ ★

Which dishes did the late President prefer to all others?

FETTUCCINE FIRST

"Fettuccine would be in first place, that I know," said the chef. "Then would come, perhaps not in exact order, lobster, mousse of sole or perch, chocolate mousse, quail and all types of cream soup.

"One day I fixed zuppa inglese (an Italian cake) for a change and Mrs. Kennedy sort of curled her nose at the idea. I watched through the little diamond-shaped window and saw that each person took only a very small serving.

The butler brought it out, barely touched, and I was brokenhearted. He took it in again after a while, as we always offer a dish twice, and the second time it disappeared."

COOK FOR CHILDREN

It was Spessot's task to cook also for Caroline and John. Mostly they ate things like hamburger, lamb chops, soup, vegetables, creme caramel and gelatin dessert.

Because they were served without fancy trimmings, it was an easy part of the job.

Kindness, and an innate unwillingness to hurt anyone, marked the President's everyday dealings with his staff, said Spessot. And Jackie was equally tenderhearted.

One summer when the President went to Rhode Island Jackie suggested to Spessot that he have his wife and 2-year-old son George spend a month with him.

GOT ALONG

"It must have looked funny to a lot of the guests to see Caroline playing with George, she speaking English and the boy using bad Italian and a few words of Englisch," laughed Spessot. "But they got along wonderfully.

"I remember one afternoon seeing the President and Mrs. Kennedy go out on the lawn where the children were playing. He tried to talk to my son with Mrs. Kennedy acting as interpreter.

"There he was, with all those terrible burdens on his mind, chatting with a 2-year-old who couldn't talk much of anything but least of all English."

★ ★ ★

When JFK and Jackie turned to leave he called the chef over. Spessot was apologetic about his son's English.

"He'll learn it soon enough," said the President, "but will he learn to make fettuchine like yours?"

Will Staebler Get Old Job?

Brown Being Eyed for Committeeman Post

LANSING (AP)— Former Democratic national committeeman Neil Staebler, unsuccessful candidate for governor last year, may find it virtually impossible to get his old job back, party sources say.

He may find State Treasurer Sanford Brown on the inside by the time he knocks on the door.

Staebler resigned the post in favor of a term as congressman-at-large. He was succeeded by former Gov. John Swainson who filed petitions last month as a candidate for Wayne County Circuit Court.

The nonpartisan nature of the judicial post will require that Swainson step down from his party position.

MUST WAIT

Staebler and several other potential committeemen have said protocol demands that they not announce candidacy until the post is vacated. Staebler has said privately, and Brown publicly, that each is interested in the job when it becomes available.

One party source said that "included in the thinking going on" is the naming of Brown as an alternate to Swainson while he is still in the committeeman post. This would make him a logical successor to Swainson.

★ ★ ★

"There could come a time when John Swainson could be in need of someone to assist him, but I don't know of any serious thinking along this line," said Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency.

Asked whether such a move was possible, Swainson said "it has been considered, and there is a precedent for it."

COULD STAY

He could stay in his present post until the special election April 5, Swainson said, "although I haven't thought beyond the inauguration of President Johnson, Jan. 20."

Swainson declined to pick any front runners in the race for the difficult committeeman's post. "We are fortunate in having many good, qualified candidates," he said.

A party leader, asked if the alternate could be considered a shoo-in as successor to Swainson, answered, "that has been the precedent."

National committeewoman Mildred Jeffrey once served as an alternate.

Neither Brown nor Staebler is willing to start a party fight for the post.

"If the party wants me," Brown said, "I'll take the job. If they want someone else, it's okay with me."

Staebler said he plans "to talk about it a little later — when indications get a little more definite from Swainson, and possibly not until after the February state convention."

Politicing for the job is impossible now, said Ferency.

PAIR DEFENDS PIPES ON SUB — Edmund T. Scarponi (left), chief pipe fitter at the Portsmouth Naval Shipyard, and Thomas Plumpton, master pipe fitter, both say they would have been willing to sail aboard the Thresher, which sank in 1963. They denied improper pipe fittings were the cause of the tragedy.

Sub Safety Moves Made by U.S. Navy

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy says it has acted on 20 safety recommendations aimed at protecting the lives of its men who cruise the ocean depths in submarines.

★ ★ ★

The recommendations stemmed from an inquiry into the loss of the atomic submarine Thresher, which carried 129 men to their deaths in the spring of 1963.

★ ★ ★

In a statement released Monday, Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze also declared:

"No expense of (sic) effort has been or will be spared in the correction of any areas of operating procedures, materials or ship construction that are deficient."

AFTER OVERHAUL

The Thresher was lost shortly after undergoing a final overhaul at the Portsmouth, N.H. shipyard.

The Navy statement came after the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee had said "practices, conditions and standards existing at the time were short of those required to insure safe operation of the Thresher."

★ ★ ★

The 20 recommendations, most of them highly technical, were made by a Navy court of inquiry. They had been kept secret since the investigation ended in June 1963, two months after the Thresher went down.

★ ★ ★

The congressional committee called for a "drastic change in the present military technical management concepts," and urged that Navy officers be assigned to technical responsibility as long as necessary to do a thorough job without hampering promotion opportunities.

NO COMMENT

The Navy statement made no comment on this.

Several of the 20 recommendations dealt with ways to strengthen the piping systems of submarines.

★ ★ ★

The Navy court had suggested that the Thresher might have gone down because of the failure of piping in a salt water cooling system, thus admitting the ocean into her hull.

★ ★ ★

It said 14 per cent of the 155 joints checked on the vessel failed to meet the standards of the then experimental ultrasonic inspection program. Such testing now is mandatory.

REGULAR STANDARDS

The shipyard found the Thresher fit by regular inspection standards.

★ ★ ★

The Navy also said that all critical pipe joints in future submarines will be welded, rather than sealed through a system called silver brazing.

★ ★ ★

As for existing submarines and others already under construction, ultrasonic testing will be used on all silver-brazed joints a half-inch and larger in what are called hazardous piping systems.

Leaders Meet With Romney

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney discussed areas of legislative need with Republican leaders Monday, completing his rounds of prelegislative items" but wouldn't say what had been discussed.

He declared that no specifics had been brought up or commitments made, the same comment offered after a previous talk with the GOP and after two talks with Democrats.

★ ★ ★

The Associated Press learned that the two-hour talk centered around such areas as workmen's compensation, mental health, education and traffic safety.

On hand for the Republican legislative minority were Senate minority leader Emil Lockwood; Senate floor leader Garry Brown; Rep. Robert Waldron, expected to be named House minority leader at a GOP caucus today, and Rep. Arnell Engstrom.

JOINT MEETING

Republicans agreed next time they'll meet jointly with Romney and the Democratic legislative leadership rather than separately as during the December-January meetings.

Romney continued to express optimism for bipartisanship that he voiced after meetings with Democrats.

Carrier Joins Far East Array

Defense Preparations Being Rushed Ashore

SINGAPORE, Malaysia (AP) — Britain's biggest fleet was protecting Malaysia from Indonesian attack today.

The aircraft carrier Eagle, Britain's most formidable warship, arrived yesterday to join the Far East fleet of more than 70 ships. It includes the carrier Victorious, the commando ship Bulwark, guided missile destroyers and frigates.

Defense preparations were being rushed ashore. The current goal was about 9,000 troops in North Borneo, where Indonesia shares a 900 - mile jungle border with Malaysia. They include 500 hard-fighting Nepalese Gurkhas being flown from Hong Kong, beginning tomorrow.

Helicopters were to shuttle half the Gurkha battalion to the border as soon as it arrives in Borneo. The rest were to move up by truck and on foot.

The main Indonesian thrust was expected on Borneo, where intelligence sources reported a heavy buildup along the border.

SAFEGUARD

The fleet served as a safeguard against a major invasion of Singapore or the Malaysian mainland.

"If they come across the water in any force, they'll be sitting ducks," said a Malaysian official.

But he pointed out that small guerrilla groups can, and do, slip across the Strait of Malacca.

★ ★ ★

British Army Minister Fred Mulley toured the defense lines in Borneo and assured Malaysian officials of Britain's full support.

WEEK'S TOUR

Gen. Sir James Cassels, scheduled to take over shortly as Britain's chief of the general staff, was arriving today for a week's tour.

British Commonwealth Secretary Arthur Bottomley said in London: "It would be fatal to peace in the Far East if we permitted small nations to be crushed at will by big nations."

Indonesia's President Sukarno has vowed to crush Malaysia, contending that the federation is a British scheme to keep a colonialist hold on the area.

Stayed With Craft Too Long

Navy Pilot Dies Trying to Avoid Homes

FREMONT, Calif. (AP) — Courage and luck were on the side of Navy Cmdr. Henry T. Stanley when his T33 jet trainer developed mechanical trouble Monday above a Fremont residential area. But fate was against him.

Cmdr. Stanley passed the courage test. He stayed with his plane past the safety margin — trying to avoid hitting homes. And he died.

★ ★ ★

But luck placed the crashing jet in a vacant lot, directly in the heart of a bustling neighborhood crowded with hundreds of school children headed home.

The plane exploded, scattering debris. Lou Ann Endicott, 7, was so close she was spattered with mud.

TOOK A LOT

"It took a hell of a lot of guts and a hell of a lot of luck," a Navy spokesman said.

Stanley, 39, had only seconds to make a decision when it was evident the plane would crash.

He ordered his copilot, Lt. Cmdr. Harford Field, 35, of Mobile, Ala., to bail out at 2,500 feet. Field saw Stanley aim the aircraft toward Mission Peak, a mountainside with no homes, and then eject himself. Stanley's chute never opened.

★ ★ ★

"Cmdr. Stanley deliberately stayed with his plane until the last minute," the Navy spokesman quoted Field as saying.

HEARD BLAST

Down below, Lyle Nevels, 22, a hatchery worker, looked up when he heard an explosion. He apparently heard the pilot eject himself.

★ ★ ★

"I saw something that looked like a bird, and it disappeared," Nevels said. "Three of us went to look. We saw something that looked like a tractor part. There was a body in it."

Stanley's body was still inside the ejection unit. Nevels estimated the flier was at about 2,000 feet when he ejected.

★ ★ ★

The jet's canopy was found on a rooftop, half a mile from the crash scene.

SMALL LOT

The lot where the aircraft crashed was a little larger than a football field.

Fremont policeman William Ehlen watched the plane skim over rooftops, narrowly miss Mission San Jose High School, then nose downward when it lost its speed.

★ ★ ★

"The plane just seemed to stop in the air, tip nose-down and then crash," Ehlen said.

Stanley, commissioned a Navy flier in 1945, is survived by his wife, Mary, and their three children, Henry T. III, 12, William J., 10, and Barbara 6. They live in Alameda.

Detroit Hotels Back to Normal, Except for One

DETROIT (AP) — Detroit's hotel services returned to near normalcy today with settlement of most of a five-day-old combined strike and lockout dispute.

★ ★ ★

Only the Statler-Hilton, of the nine hotels involved, declined to accept an agreement reached Monday between 2,500 union employes and the Detroit Hotel Association, spokesman for managements.

★ ★ ★

The Statler-Hilton, whose maids, porters and other unionized employes remained on strike, sought further independent negotiations.

The settlement arrived in time to assure the bulk of 10,000 convention delegates of the American Society of Automotive Engineers of most of the large and small favors a hotel guest expects.

Quadruplets Born to Family in Trailer

KENOSHA, Wis. (AP)— Quadruplets were born in nine minutes last night to a young couple whose family—living in a house trailer — already consisted of twins not quite a year old and a 3-year-old son.

★ ★ ★

The quadruplets, two boys and two girls, and the mother, Mrs. Joyce Graf, 23, were reported in good condition at Kenosha Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Graf is the wife of Robin F. Graf, 24, a machine operator employed by a Waukegan, Ill., roofing firm.

She entered the hospital for an upset stomach four days before the birth of the quads which had been expected.

★ ★ ★

The first baby, a boy, was born at 7:34 p.m., and the fourth arrived at 7:43 p.m. They weighed: 4 pounds, 2½ ounces; 3 pounds, 8 ounces; 4 pounds, 5 ounces, and 3 pounds, 12½ ounces.

★ ★ ★

The first two were boys, the next two girls. All were placed in incubators.

2 Shot Helping to Nab Pair

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Three persons were hospitalized—two with gunshot wounds — as victims of an armed robbery Monday night in which bystanders took an active part helping police capture two men.

Under treatment at St. Mary's Hospital were William L. Kliger, 64, his wife Ethel, 50, and John Williams, 38. All are from Grand Rapids.

★ ★ ★

Held in lieu of $50,000 bond each after demanding examination in a special arraignment before Police Court Judge Roman J. Snow were two Kansas City Mo., men, David E. Barney, 25, and Robert F. Freeman, 41.

Police said both men declined statements except to demand counsel.

PSYCHIATRIST

Inspector Walter Gilbert quoted Freeman, however, as saying he was a practicing psychiatrist with degrees from Michigan State University and Cornell University.

Kliger and his wife operate a second hand store at a near-southeast side intersection. They were there with Williams, a customer, shortly after 7 p.m., they told police, when a gunman entered.

They said the man announced a stickup and that when they showed disbelief he fired one shot into a wall and another into the ceiling.

They said he herded them into a back room where Kliger was shot in the right leg and pistol-whipped along with his wife. All three were bound by the intruder, they told police.

KICKED GUN

At this time, another customer entered and engaged in a struggle with the bandit. Kliger kicked the bandit's gun from his hand. They said the man regained his weapon and Williams was shot through the throat and left thigh. Mrs. Kliger, meanwhile, broke free and race outside as the second patron, Billy Smith, 27, also fled calling for help.

Two patrons of an adjoining hamburger stand ran into the store and met the gunman coming out. All three went down in a tangle of fists and feet.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, three men from a used car lot across the street dashed over. Dominic Feole, 47, of Grand Rapids launched himself at the gunman who knocked Feole down and fled to a waiting car.

A police ambulance was the first vehicle to answer a call for help.

PULLING AWAY

It arrived on the scene and its occupants were directed to the getaway car which was pulling away down an alley. The ambulance chased the car for about three blocks before overtaking it.

Patrolman Robert Delano, the ambulance driver, said the driver of the car surrendered without resistance but the other man, identified as Barney, came out with pistol leveled.

★ ★ ★

"We had the drop on each other," said Delano. "But I told him to lower his gun. He did."

Captains Hold All-Time Series Edge

Waterford's Defense vs. Kettering's Offense Tonight

Waterford's Skippers will be faced with a rugged defensive assignment when they move onto Kettering's court for a basketball duel tonight.

The reserve game starts at 6:30. The varsity contest will get under way at 8.

The defensive challenge which the Skippers have to meet in Jim Nyberg, Kettering's 6-foot jumpingjack forward who leads the team in scoring.

This is Nyberg's third year on the varsity and he's making the most of it.

★ ★ ★

The past two seasons he was overshadowed by teammates Bob Bogert, Earl Hook and Rick Pankey. Those three have departed via graduation and Nyberg is now claiming a share of the spotlight.

WON THREE

Kettering owns a modest 3-2 record. The team has won its last two outings, and in each of those games, Nyberg has tossed in more than 20 points.

Against Clarkston back in December, the senior sharpshooter scored 23 markers. And last week against Oxford, he hit his stride.

The Captains trimmed Oxford, 89-48, setting a team scoring record, and Nyberg ripped the nets for 40 points to establish a new individual scoring mark.

Nyberg's record, coming on close - in and outside shots, erased the mark of 31 set by Bogert in the last game of the season in 1962-63.

The big point production boosted his season total to 99 for a 19.8 scoring average in five outings.

SKIPPERS TRAIL

Waterford has racked up a 2-3 record this season and will be trying to close the gap in the victory column against Kettering. The Captains have won four of six meetings.

★ ★ ★

The Skippers also have a good marksman, who, if left unattended, could wreck the Captains.

He's Rick Ziem, a 6-foot junior forward, who sports a scoring average of 21.4 points a game.

Ziem is in his second year as a starter on the Skipper varsity, and if he isn't hitting, the Skippers aren't winning.

The Skippers two victories this season came when Ziem had his two best nights, scoring 24 in one game and 30 in the other.

OTHER GAMES

There are a couple of other important tilts on tonight's clate.

Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows visits Orchard Lake St. Mary and a victory for the OLSM (6-0) crew could almost sew up the Northwest Catholic League championship.

FOLS (6-1) is the biggest stumbling block in the Eaglet's bid for the title.

Another game has Warren Cousino visiting Clawson, and the Cousino quintet could move into a tie with Troy and Rochester for the Oakland A League lead with a victory.

★ ★ ★

Elsewhere on the schedule, the Southern Thumb League will see action with Anchor Bay at Almont, Brown City at Armada, Capac at New Haven and Memphis at Dryden.

Among other games, Troy has a date at Hazel Park, Flint Northwestern invades Bay City Handy, Oak Park plays host to Lutheran East, Ortonville visits Bryon, Port Huron is at Ferndale, Utica at Southlake and L'Anse Creuse visits Madison Lamphere.

IT WENT IN — Paul Harney had this reaction when he dropped a 30-foot putt on the 13th green for a birdie four yesterday on his way to victory in the $70,000 Los Angeles Open. The Sacramento, Calif., veteran finished the 72-hole grind with a 276 totak

Coast Pro Cards 276

Harney Retains LA Open Golf Title

LOS ANGELES (AP) — There is this golfer, Paul Harney, who has a singular habit. He comes down here from the hills around Sacramento, extracts $12,000 from the local Junior Chamber of Commerce and disappears back in the hills of Sacramento.

★ ★ ★

The fellow has done it two years running now and hopes to keep the custom going indefinitely.

Harney's secret? All you have to do is beat guys like Arnold Palmer, Ken Venturi, Bobby Nichols, Tony Lema—and yes, indeed, a man named Dan Sikes—and win the Los Angeles Open Golf Tournament.

★ ★ ★

Harney did just that Mondau. He shot a final round 69, two under par, for a 72-hole score of 276, which is eight under par and four better than he used in winning a year ago.

EXCLUSIVE CLUB

The likeable Harney joined a pretty exclusive club with his back-to-back win. Only two other guys belong. Ben Hogan won twice in a row in 1947-48, and back in 1928-29 the late MacDonald Smith did it.

Arnold Palmer got in his best round, a 69 for 284 — $1,975 if the absent Jack Nicklaus is checking Arnie's bank account — but lost a decision to an unidentified but dedicated employee of the Rancho Municipal course.

★ ★ ★

Palmer, and other long hitters, were unhappy because they found the tee markers had not been moved back for the final 18. It developed that the PGA tournament supervisor, Jack Tuthill, had indeed carefully put the markers back.

But this innocent, dedicated worker figured something was amiss and had dutifully trailed Tuthill and moved the markers up. Undoubtedly he has a compassion for the golfing hacks who frequent Rancho for the 51 other weeks of the year.

National Open champion Ken Venturi had a 75 for 292, two shots out of the money.

Yanks Act Like Jets, Fatten Mantle's Salary

By the Associated Press

NEW YORK (AP) — If the New York Jets of the American Football League can pay rookie Joe Namath $400,000 for three years, what do you offer baseball super-star Mickey Mantle?

It may be $115,000 for 1965. That may sound like chicken feed compared to what the Alabama quarterback is supposed to be getting.

★ ★ ★

But it would make the 33-year-old slugger the highest paid baseball player of the year and the highest earner ever for the perennial American League champions.

The Yankees aren't saying what figure they plan to put on Mantle's contract when the papers are sent out next week but general manager Ralph Houk said:

"Mantle will be very happy with his contract."

BIG PAYROLL

Houk said the player payroll would be the biggest in Yankee history, about $800,000.

Per custom, Houk didn't mention individual salaries at the press conference which was called Monday to announce new radio-television sponsors.

There were idications, however, that the Yanks will come up with the $115,000 — a $15,000 raise over Mantle's 1964 salary — in an effort to keep Mickey happy and to get some of the publicity play away from the Jets and the baseball Mets.

★ ★ ★

After the 1963 season, when he played in only 65 games because of illness and injuries, Mantle was signed for the third straight year at the 100 grand salary. Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants collected $105,000.

Despite aching legs, Mantle had one of his better seasons in 1964. He played in 143 games, batted .303, belted 35 homers and drove in 111 runs.

Mantle switched from center to right field midway through the 1964 season. He'll probably go all the way in right to save wear and tear on his legs.

Tigers Sign 4 More

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Tigers announced the signing of four more players, Monday, bringing to 31 the number under contract for the 1965 season. Latest to sign contracts were catcher John Sullivan, pitchers Jack Hamilton and John Seale and outfielder Purnal Goldy.

Browns Reveal Retirement Pact

NEW YORK (UPI) — Owner Art Modell of the Cleveland Browns revealed his "retirement agreement" with Jimmy Brown today along with his feelings about "million dollar baby" Frank Ryan and the sudden trend toward payment of outlandish bonuses.

Modell, speaking over the telephone from Cleveland, admitted he is counting on Brown to play football for the Browns only two more years.

"It's true that we have a 'gentleman's agreement,'" said the youthful Cleveland owner.

"I'm counting on Jimmy to play for us two more years. After all, he can't go on forever.

"That will give him 10 years and that's quite a beating for anyone to take. He's made one movie already and I understand he may wish to go into that business. It's entirely up to him. He has done a tremendous job for us and he can stay as long as he likes. But we do have a mutual agreement for two more years."

ACTING CAREER

The 28-year-old Brown, holder of numerous National Football League records, has gained more than 10,000 yards rushing since entering the professional ranks from Syracuse University eight years ago.

He has appeared in the movie "Rio Conchos" already and has indicated he would like to pursue his new career as an actor.

After discussing Brown's future, the conversation shifted to Ryan's future. Ryan is the Browns' bright, prematurely greying, 28-year-old quarterback who led Cleveland to its recent world championship triumph over the Baltimore Colts.

He also is one of those who was astonished to learn Joe Namath was signed for $400,000 by owner Sonny Werblin of the New York Jets.

"If he's worth $400,000," Ryan said, "then I'm worth $1,000,000. I'll have to ask for a $980,000 raise.

Commenting on Ryan's remarks, Modell said first off that "It's absolutely ridiculous to think we're paying him only $20,000."

Modell was in Los Angeles on business last Tuesday night and Ryan made a special point of seeking him out, the Cleveland owner said.

"Frank told me he was embarrassed for me, for himself and for everyone involved," Modell explained. "He made his position clear and I'm perfectly satisfied. He said the story was blown far out of its true proportion."

Wings' Goalie Thawing Out

Crozier Heads South for Sunshine, Rest

DETROIT (AP) — Rookie goalie Roger Crozier, who has taken a beating in the nets for the Detroit Red Wings hockey team recently, was sent South Monday for a few days rest in the sunshine.

★ ★ ★

The Red Wings packed the 22-year-old Canadian off to Miami Beach, Fla., with instructions not to return until Friday night. He'll play in the Red Wings' next game at Toronto Saturday, thus not missing any action.

THREE STRAIGHT

Crozier, brilliant in the forepart of the season as a possible candidate for the National Hockey League's "goalie of the year" award, has had a rough time in the Red Wings' current losing streak.

Detroit, in a fall to fourth place in the NHL, has lost its last three games, including Chicago's sweep of the weekend series by which the Black Hawks rose to first place.

Loser in Rose Bowl Now Coach at UCLA

CHICAGO (AP) — Tommy Prothro, seeking professional opportunity, is leaving Oregon State to take the head football coaching job at UCLA.

"Financially there's no advantage to the move," said the 44-year-old Prothro, who had assisted the late Red Sanders at UCLA before going to Oregon State for a successful 10-year tenure.

★ ★ ★

"But I feel there is professional opportunity at UCLA," he said Monday night.

Prothro, attending the NCAA convention in Chicago, indicated he would like to move his assistants to UCLA where they would probably receive bigger paychecks.

"I'm not sure about my staff at this time but I hope most of my assistants will go with me," he said. "At UCLA we'll have a chance to be closer to the boys because of the population force. I know that entrance requirements will be a limiting factor but that only means we'll get the best boys to choose from for football."

BLOCKING BACK

Prothro, a native of Memphis, Tenn., was a star blocking back at Duke University from 1939-1941. Regarded a brilliant football strategist, his Oregon State teams compiled a 63-37-2 record.

"They've been the happiest 10 years of my life," said Prothro, whose Beavers suffered a 34-7 loss to Michigan in this year's Rose Bowl game.

★ ★ ★

Disregarding rumors that the one-sided loss in the Rose Bowl would cost him a chance to take over at UCLA, replacing Bill Barnes, Prothro said he was not officially contacted for the UCLA job until after his team was swamped by Michigan.

Pro Leagues Use Aides to Tab Players

Policy Group Checks Premature Signing of College Gridders

CHICAGO (AP) — The moonlighting of assistant football coaches who allegedly are being paid on the side by the National and American Football Leagues for keeping tabs on outstanding collegiate players is expected to be an explosive item in a report scheduled for today before the policy-making council of the NCAA.

The report is to be presented by Jim Corbett, LSU athletic director and chairman of the Professional-Relations Committee of the NCAA.

★ ★ ★

It was touched off by premature signings of players which terminated their collegiate eligibility and brought the banning of several from participating in bowl games.

Corbett's review is said to put all the cards on the table "for safeguarding the integrity of college athletics."

PART-TIME SCOUT

This would be to the extent of admitting that possibly a large number of assistant coaches are being paid by the pros for specific scouting reports on outstanding prospects.

The pay varies, but rises accordingly for a few who are convincing enough to steer outstanding stars into pro camps.

It is not known if the report immediately will be made public. Any official action by the NCAA convention as a whole will come Wednesday.

★ ★ ★

Corbett last week met with Pete Rozelle, NFL commissioner. At the NCAA convention site he has talked with Joe Foss, AFL commissioner.

"I can't say anything about the report yet," said Foss. "Corbett's committee will make its recommendations and then I will be happy to comment."

★ ★ ★

Foss said he does not look with favor on a proposal by some college men that his conference and the NFL hold off their annual drafts until January from now on.

"I think this would be just too tempting for too many people," he said. "The longer you delay the draft, the more opportunity this is for cheating."

Indiana Among Ranked Winning Quintets

By The Associated Press

Indiana, which slipped three spots in this week's Associated Press college basketball poll to No. 5 after losing to unranked Illinois a week ago, made sure that lightning wouldn't strike twice.

The Hoosiers, leading Iowa by four points with three minutes to go Monday night, held the Hawkeyes to two points the rest of the way and won going away 85-76. A string of six points in the last 90 seconds wrapped it up for Indiana, now 11-1.

★ ★ ★

Three other members of this week's top ten played Monday night and all won. St. John's of New York, ranked No. 7, whipped visiting Creighton 72-66, third-ranked Wichita whacked Southern Illinois 94-81 and No. 8 Davidson trounced The Citadel 100-81.

★ ★ ★

UCLA, idle Monday night, continues to lead the poll. The defending national champions drew 33 first place ballots and 394 points in the voting by a regional panel of 42 sports writers and broadcasters.

U-M SQUAD

Michigan climbed back into the runner-up spot which was vacated by Indiana. The Wolverines, who beat Illinois in their only start last week, drew 336 points.

Dave Stallworth, Wichita's All-America, hit all seven of his field goal attempts and teammate Dave Leach connected on nine of 14, pacing the third-ranked Wheatshockers to their home-court victory over Southern Illinois.

Stallworth finished with 20 points, Leach with 19 as Wichita fired a torrid 59 per cent from the floor in winning its 11th in 13 starts.

★ ★ ★

Steve Redenbaugh fired 22 points, Dick Van Arsdale and John McGlocklin, 20 each, for the fifth-ranked Hoosiers, now 2-the fifth-ranked Hoosiers, now 2-1 in the conference and 11-1 1 in the conference.

Wisconsin surprised Purdue 76-66 in the only other Big 10 action.

Bob McIntyre's 10-for-13 sniping carried St. John's to its triumph over Creighton at New York. The Redmen, 10-2 and No. 7 in the land, held Bluejay star Fritz Pointer to a single field goal. McIntyre, a 6-foot-6 junior, totaled 26 points and grabbed a dozen rebounds.

The Top Ten, with first place votes in parentheses, won - lost records through games of Monday, Jan. 11 and points on a 10-9-8-7-6-5-4-3-2-1 basis: (Votes based on games through Sat., Jan 9.)

AFL Now Hurries to Reset Game

HOUSTON (UPI) — The American Football League, both the players and staff, struggled today to set up the AFL's discrimination-transplanted All-Star game with only four days to prepare.

Players on the East and West All-Star squads planned their first workout today in Houston, picked as the site of the game Monday after a group of 20 Negroes refused to play in New Orleans, the original game city.

★ ★ ★

The Negro players said they were refused service in New Orleans nightclubs and taxi cabs would not stop to pick them up "as members of the AFL family" and ordered the game moved to Houston.

648 Bowl in All-Star Tournament

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — A record-size field of 648 bowlers will attempt to unseat Bob Strampe of Detroit and Mrs. Laverne Carter of St. Louis as king and queen of bowling during the $100,000 All-Star Bowling Tournament which opens here tonight.

The 13-day event begins with a pro-am competition in which 72 all-stars are competing with Philadelphia area amateurs and junior bowlers. Men's qualifying rounds begin Wednesday and the women go into qualifying rounds Saturday.

★ ★ ★

The championship matches on Jan. 24 will be nationally televised.

Thirty-six lanes and automatic pinsetters have been installed in Convention Hall, with a 100-man crew of carpenters completing the project in less than 12 days.

LUCRATIVE YEAR

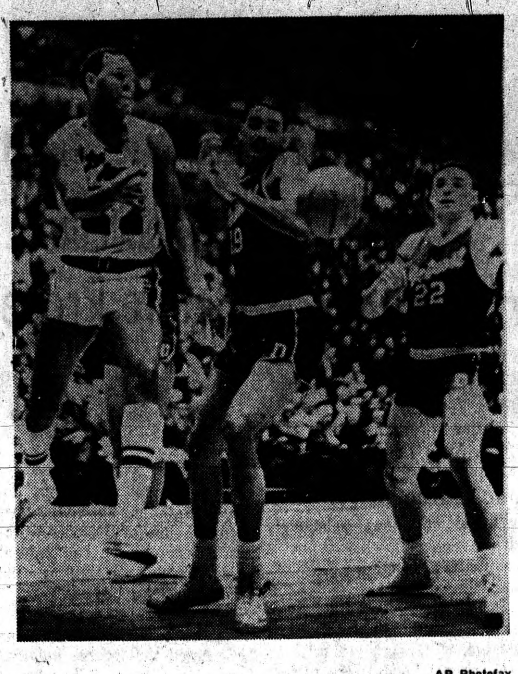

Defending the men's title in the All-Star, Strampe, 33, was a relatively obscure pro until he won the $15,000 title last year in Dallas. His All-Star triumph launched him on the most lucrative year of his career.

He won the Professional Bowlers Associational national championship, shared the American Bowling Congress doubles title with Hal Jolley of Detroit and finished second in the World's Invitational Championships.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Carter is the wife of four-time champion Don Carter. Mrs. Carter won the $5,000 women's title last year, her first title in the event.

Two of bowling's leading women stars are missing from the 216-member women's field. Marion Ladewig, eight-time champion from Grand Rapids, Mich., announced her retirement from major match game tournaments last month. Judy Audsley Cook of Kansas City, Mo., was forced to withdraw after fracturing her arm.

PASSING LAKER — Los Angeles Lakers' Elgin Baylor flips a pass to a teammate during first period action of game with Detroit's Pistons at Pittsburgh's Civic Arena last night. Watching the ball sail by are Pistons' Reggie Harding (19) and Dave DeBusschere (22). Harding collected 29 points as Detroit won, 128-127.

Scott's Jump Shot Decides Contest

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Ray Scott's 12-foot jump shot with 17 seconds to play gave the Detroit Pistons a 128-127 victory over the league leading Los Angeles Lakers in the Western Division at Pittsburgh Monday night.

Scott scored his clutch basket after the Lakers Jerry West had broken the game's 11th tie with a free throw.

The contest was tied three times early in the fourth quarter before West's two baskets gave the Lakers a four-point margin with five minutes to play.

Two baskets and a free throw by the Pistons as opposed to West's free throw deadlocked the game at 124-all with 1:47 remaining.

Terry Dischinger offset a West basket to tie the game for the last time at 126 all. Then West gave the Lakers the lead on his foul shot only to see Scott's heroics snatch the victory away from the first place Lakers.

West led all scorers with 41 points. Reggie Harding topped the Pistons' with 29 followed closely by Scott's 28.

BOWLING

Teen-ager Rick McCotter of Rochester is aging fast in the bowling world.

The 17-year-old moved into the North Hill Lanes' Classic League this year after outgrowing the establishment's junior program. Practicing over the weekend he bowled his first 300.

Still in the North Hill junior circuit, 14-year-old Mike Bayliss also was open bowling over the weekend and he hit 299, leaving only a four-pin on the 12th delivery.

He teamed with Shelly Robbins during the vacation to lead the Youth Bowling Association Holiday Doubles action's Mixed Junior Doubles there with 1200.

Other leaders — all of which have been submitted to the National YBA competition — were Rod Cook and Bob Mills (1204 in the Boys Major Doubles), Karen Kubik and Sandy Armstrong (1215 in Girls Major class), Pam and Chuck McIntyre (1177 in Mixed Majors), Bud and Mike Bellairs (1196 in Boys Juniors), and Craig Handyside and Otto Buchhol (618 in Boys Prep class).

Near perfection was also the fate of Al Swanberg. He had 298 Thursday in the Nor-West Lanes Masters League. Swanberg's 671 series was topped by Tim White's 242-231—685. Paul Horie hit 257.

Ed Avadenka had a closing 287 last week to post a 712, his first "700" to highlight West Side Lanes Classic activity. In team action, Colonial Lounge won the first half title.

It rolled 3250 spurred on by Avadenka to hold off 300 Bowl which finished with 3166 and only two points off the pace.

The best scoring in the Huron Bowl Wednesday Night "A" loop last week was Bob Hudson's 219-244—676 and Ron Slack's 266-207—674.

Sylvan Lanes bowling saw Ray Lowry score 254-216—672 for the Superior Merchants and Chuck Morris 222-241—665. The Thursday Nite Bowlers were led by Corrine Manning's 246—544.

Joe Foster hit 236, Ray Brancheau 209-223—632 and Lucille Myers 200—577 for the high marks Saturday in the 300 Bowl's Ins & Outers Mixed circuit.

Buckner Five Posts Victory at Waterford

Buckner Finance staved off a second half rally by Howe's Lanes last night to post a 58-56 victory in Waterford National League recreation basketball.

Jerry Paul and Al Tunney each scored 18 for the winners who held a 32-18 halftime lead. Jim Devine notched 27 for Howe's.

Al Rubic poured in 26 points to lead High and Dry to a 75-26 rout of Dunston Floral in the other NL game.

Dave Walters (19), Rick Russ (18) and Paul Moran (15) led Zilka Heating to a 67-61 decision over Five Rs in the American League. Dave Madill scored 22 for the losers.

Despite Some Sharp Losses

Stock Mart Irregularly Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market moved irregularly higher early this afternoon despite sharp losses among aerospace stocks and some of the gold mining issues. Trading was fairly active.

The aerospace issues reacted sharply to a forecast that Defense Department budgeting for aerospace will sink about 30 per cent in the next five years.

Some gold mining stocks continued to retreat as the price for gold in London eased further and the British pound sterling became firmer.

A generally higher trend prevailed among steels, airlines, building materials, oils, rails, utilities and farm implements.

CIGARETTES FIRM

The cigarette stocks were mostly unchanged following their late rally of yesterday. Lorillard added a fraction.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .5 at 328.0 with industrials up .4, rails up .5 and utilities up .5.

Jones & Laughlin, ahead more than a point, was the best gainer among the major steels. Bethlehem and U.S. Steel added fractions.

Airlines resumed their uptrend, American rising nearly a point, others fractions.

DRUGS STRONG

Drugs continued selectively strong. Schering, up well over a point, made a new high. Merck rose nearly a point.

Prices were generally higher on the American Stock Exchange.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. Government bonds showed scant change.

Residents Seeking Blacktop of Road

Residents on a private road in Waterford Township will seek to make it public in order to proceed with a special assessment blacktopping district with the aid of the township.

A delegation from Maycrest Street appeared before the Township Board last night to discuss their plight and seek guidance.

After getting the required 65 per cent signatures for the special assessment district, they were advised that the township could not contribute its usual 10 per cent of the cost because their street was partially private.

Two alternatives were cited last night by Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin.

★ ★ ★

The residents could either obtain 100 per cent agreement from those living on the private section of the street or seek condemnation proceedings. He recommended the former action.

NINE WILLING

Nine of the 14 home owners on the section of the street declared private in early platting were present. All were willing to deed over their claims to the street to the township.

Their task now is to sell the remaining residents of the private area on following suit.

In other action last night the board authorized the clerk to take bids on a new car for the fire department. Bids will be opened Jan. 25.

★ ★ ★

Seeterlin suggested that any board members who could should attend the annual meeting of the Michigan Townships Association beginning tomorrow in Lansing.

HOME RULE

Discussion of home rule and assessment procedures were slated, according to Seeterlin.

★ ★ ★

A letter from Supt. of Schools Don O. Tatroe was read advising the board that its suggestion that the school board give its Loon Lake property to either the recreation department or community schools program was denied.

Withdraw Censure of Area Court

A statement which censured Oakland County Circuit Court last week has been withdrawn by the Michigan State Supreme Court.

Yesterday, the Circuit Court received an amended opinion which deleted the paragraph blaming it for a number of cases that had ended up in the high court.

★ ★ ★

Removed from the opinion, which reversed a decision for the Railroad Improvement Association against a Helen Thomas of Bloomfield Township, was the sentence which read:

"Nearly all of the partially tried cases identified at the beginning of this opinion come here on appeal from the Oakland Circuit (Court)."

Remaining, however, was the sentence which stated that the observations contained in the opinion were "helpfully purposed rather than critically aimed."

Justice Eugene Black wrote the original opinion after a series of reversals on decisions made by lower courts throughout the state.

New Library Pact Approved

Expenditures Okayed by Waterford Board

A new contract between the North Oakland Library Cooperative System and the Waterford Township Library was approved last night by the Waterford Township Board.

Basically the same as the original contract signed a year ago, the new one specifies a township expenditure of $9,421 for NOLCS services.

Signing of contract was recommended by the township's Library Advisory Board after an extensive review of its provisions.

Along with its recommendations, the advisory board submitted several points to be considered in future contracts and said that it would continue to work toward improvements in future pacts with the NOLCS.

★ ★ ★

In other library-related action last night, the Township Board approved the library's revised bylaws as recommended by the advisory board and accepted minor changes in the library's book selection policy.

OTHER ACTION

Township Board members also reappointed Librarian Mrs. Richard Lee for another year, approved the reappointmen of Mrs. William Shunck to a three-year term on the advisory board and named Trustee Loren Anderson to fill an unexpired two-year term on the advisory board.

Anderson will replace John S. Coleman as the Township Board's representative on the advisory board.

Coleman resigned from both boards last fall when he moved out of the state.

Broadway Playwright Dies in New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lorraine Hansberry, prize winning Broadway playwright, died today at University Hospital after a long bout with cancer. She was 34.

Its Broadway run in 1959 won her the New York Critics' Circle Award for "Best Play of the Year," making her the youngest native American dramatist to win this distinction. The filmed version won the Cannes Film Festival's special award in 1961.

1st DC9 Rolls off Line Today

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) —The first DC9, an airliner designed to bring pure jet service to 98 per cent of the nation's civil airports, rolls of the assembly line at the Douglas Aircraft Co. today.

The $3 million twin-jet has been ordered by seven United States and foreign airlines — Delta, Trans World, Bonanza, Air Canada, Swissair, KLM and Hawaiian. Specific orders total 58 with options for another 60.

Douglas officials said the 118 orders and options fall short of the break-even point needed to make the plane profitable.

But they hope to recover all development costs at about the 200 mark and President Donald W. Douglas Jr. told a news conference that the worldwide market for short-haul jets like the DC9 may reach 1,000 aircraft.

The rollout today marked the completion of the first DC9. Flight tests will begin in March or sooner and airlines operating the new jet expect to start passenger service early in 1966.

Con Game Nets Pair $5,000 From Widow

A bizarre confidence game, played yesterday on the streets and in the stores of downtown Pontiac, cost a 75-year-old widow $5,000.

Mrs. Edna Chester, 75, of 37 Norton told police she had given two strangers $5,000 yesterday afternoon, with the promise of getting her original sum plus $1,200 in return.

Mrs. Chester said she was approached by the pair, at separate times, while shopping downtown.

Police said in the short span of 2½ hours the pair gained the elderly woman's confidence and accompanied her while she withdrew the $5,000 from the bank.

The two thieves were women, one in her early 20s, the other between 40 and 50 years old, Mrs. Chester said.

'Team in Law, Not in Politics'

FARMINGTON (AP)—"Partners in business but not in politics" — that could describe two Farmington Township attorneys who share the same (law) office and are running for the same (political) office.

★ ★ ★

Allen C. Ingle is a Republican and a justice of the peace. And his law partner, John H. Burke, is a Democrat once associated with the same Detroit law firm as former Democratic Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski.

★ ★ ★

The job they're after is the 14th District State Senate seat, vacated by the death of Paul Chandler, a Livonia Republican.

Ingle, involved in a six-man GOP primary fight, said his entrance was spurred by endorsement of former State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts by top Oakland County Republican leaders. "Party headquarters should stay out of it until after the primary," Ingle said.

★ ★ ★

Burke, who joined Ingle last September, said he's running because he feels qualified. He has primary opposition, too.

U.S. Astronauts Inspect Moonlike Area in Hawaii

VOLCANO, Hawaii (AP) — Eight U.S. astronauts tramped Monday through lava flows formed as recently as 1960 on this island 200 miles southeast of Honolulu.

Dr. Howard Powers, scientist-in-charge of the volcano observatory on Hawaii Island, said he was "tremendously impressed by the astronauts' interest" at the end of the first day of the American spacemen's five-day trip on this "moonlike landscape."

Astronaut David Scott said it was his group's first experience with the clinker-type lava on Hawaii Island's volcanic flows. On previous field trips on the American mainland, they had seen older flows mainly of the high quartz rhyolite lava, he said.

★ ★ ★

Today the astronauts will hike through to the crater floor of Kilauea-Iki, the 300-foot-deep lava lake deposited in a 1959 eruption, and on to the rim of Halemaumau fire pit.

★ ★ ★

They will also drive down the Chain of Craters road where they will be shown a series of pit craters.

May Change High School ROTC Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon planners may propose remodeling the high school ROTC program to provide more than 100,000 teen-age youths with training in specialties that could lead to careers as military technicians or in civilian trades.

President Johnson some time ago ordered the Defense Department to study the Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps program and find a way to make it "responsive to the needs of our national defense."

★ ★ ★

The President acted after Congress required that the Junior ROTC program be expanded from the present 254 schools to 1,200.

Defense officials said that the Junior ROTC, as now set up, fills no military requirements, produces no officers and does not lead directly to enlistments in the Army.

The objective is to give that ROTC program a military purpose, officials said.

The present curriculum, based on three hours of training a week and a three-year course, centers around such subjects as military courtesies and conduct, close order drill, military organization, weapons and marksmanship, map reading and the like.

Mao Urges Liberation Wars Stepped Up

By K. C. THALER

LONDON (UPI)—Red China's Mao Tze-tung recently issued a new battle cry for intensified wars of liberation everywhere. Directed to the peoples of the whole world, it said:

"Dare to fight, defy difficulties and advance wave upon wave . . . against the U.S. aggressors and all their running dogs."

Mao's call to arms was made in a pledge of support to the Congolese rebels. It has since been taken up again by Red Chinese Premier Chou En-Lai before the National Peoples Congress in Peking.

Thus, Red China apparently has signalled its entry into a more aggressive phase of Mao's concept of wars of liberation.

★ ★ ★

Signs of a stepped-up Red Chinese push for all out "wars of liberation" have come from a wide front of Peking's international activity.

ACTIVE HAND

They range from Viet Nam, where Peking is seen to have an active hand in the latest stepped up Communist campaign, to the Congo where it has been supporting the rebels in their continuing fight against the central government of Moise Tshombe.

Latest moves now also affect Indonesia where Red China has come out in full support of President Sukarno's aggressive policies, all but egging him on to his war of "liberation" of Malaysia.

Diplomatic dispatches have reported that Red China has played a key role in Idonesia's latest enacing confrontation strategy of "crush Malaysia in 1965."

★ ★ ★

Red China's Deputy Premier and Foreign Minister Marshal Chen Yi and President Sukarno recently formally decided to "raise the level of the struggle against imperialism, colonialism and neocolonialism.

MILITARY ACTION

This is taken to mean that Red China is pushing for all-out intervention, possibly including military action. Mao Tze-tung's concept apparently envisages step-by-step advance from guerrilla fighting to wider armed action.

★ ★ ★

The geographic proximity of Viet Nam has made Peking-controlled North Viet Nam apparently the first major theater for testing Mao's concept.

Among adults the consumption of milk is significantly less than the two glasses or more daily recommended by nutritionists.

If you spend some time watching a really good player in action, you will probably notice that he seems to have fewer problems than someone less skillful. This is not fact. Chances are that he has many more problems but that he sees them coming and works out the solution well in advance of the moment of decision.

JACOBY

West was an expert and made the normal lead of the jack of spades against South's seven no-trump. As soon as the dummy hit the table, West added his three high-card points to dummy's 22. This gave a total of 25 and left only 15 for declarer and East between them. Since declarer had opened one no-trump it was apparent that East could not hold one face card.

South also counted a minimum of 12 top tricks for declarer: Three each in spades and hearts, four in diamonds and two in clubs. If declarer held four hearts, he had 13 tricks. If he held four spades, it was up to West to hang on to all but one of his spades. This meant that West might have to discard a club somewhere along the way.

Sure enough, South cashed four diamonds and three hearts. West let a heart and spade go on the diamonds, but was forced to throw a black card on the third heart.

All this had been anticipated so that his three of clubs was discarded painlessly. Then declarer cashed two more spades. East had to jettison a club on the last spade and South knew that East had started with four clubs to his partner's three.

All else being equal, a finesse against East appeared proper. South finessed that way and West made both his queen of clubs and the last spade. Of course, South could have tried the club finesse earlier and saved the two-trick set, but when a grand slam is in the balance you don't worry about whether you go down one or two.

A—Bid three spades only. You don't want to hang your partner in case he has made a weak takeout double. If he has a fair double he will continue to game.

Instead of bidding two spades, your partner has bid two diamonds over your two clubs. What do you do now?

'Humble' Texan Proud of LBJ

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Large numbers of Texans are beginning to pour into the capital to supervise next week's presidential inauguration. Among them is my father.

WEST

My father, however, is not a typical Texan. He doesn't brag very much. In fact, he claims that he is "the world's most humble Texan." But he may be bragging about that.

Anyway, my father wanted to be certain that he didn't miss the inauguration, so he arrived early. He has been here since last November.

"Having a native son in the White House is a big honor for Texas, isn't it, little daddy?" I said to my father.

"Indeed it is," my father said. "When Texas was an independent republic, you know, it had its own president. Being president of the United States is the next best thing."

★ ★ ★

While waiting around for the inauguration, my father has been taking in some of the preliminary events. One day he attended the dedication of a statue of the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, a Democrat from you-know-where.

JUST MAKING SURE

Next he witnessed the traditional joint session of Congress that went through the formality of counting the electoral votes. This was a rather boring affair, but my father stayed until the last ballot was tabulated.

★ ★ ★

"I wanted to make sure that Lyndon got a fair shake," he said.

But what my father liked best was the State of the Union message. In particular he liked the part where the President talked about the land where he was born.

"It was once barren land," the president said. "The angular hills were covered with scrub cedar and a few live oaks. Little would grow in the harsh caliche soil. And each spring the Pedernales River would flood the valley.

★ ★ ★

"But man came and worked and endured and built.

ABUNDANT LAND

"Today that country is abundant with fruit, cattle, goats and sheep. There are pleasant homes and lakes, and the floods are gone."

My father thought this was a beautiful passage. He said it reminded him of the part of Texas, a couple of hundred miles north of the Pedernales, where he made his home.

★ ★ ★

"It, too, was barren land," my father said. "The angular hills were covered with scrub cedar, mesquitoes and tumbleweeds. It was hard to make things grow.

"But man came and worked and endured. And today that country is still pretty darned barren."

Junior Editors Quiz on INDIANS

QUESTION: Why did Indian women tie their children on boards?

ANSWER: It sounds cruel to think of strapping a tiny baby on a flat board; but the old-time Indian mother did not think of it that way.

Indians were extremely fond of their children, and the average Indian mother did all for her children she possibly could.

We must remember that an Indian woman did most of the work around the teepee or camp while the men were off hunting. Women built huts, raised the teepee, made baskets, tanned hides, did all the cooking and many other things as well.

Since she needed two hands for many of her tasks, the baby had to be kept warm and safe from animals. She had to be able to carry her child without damaging his tender body.

So she would take a flat board or wickerwork frame and cover it with soft bark or grass, then arrange some kind of protection on top for the baby's head and eyes.

Fastened in this cradle, the baby was safe. The mother could lean the board against a tree and keep an eye on junior and work at the same time.

If a move had to be made to new hunting grounds, the mother would hoist the cradleboard on to her back and off they'd go.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the picture with all the bright Indian-type colors you can think of.

Brando, Brynner Costar

'Morituri' Is Finally Completed

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Notes and comment on the Hollywood scene—

"Morituri" has finally finished, to the relief of 20th Century-Fox. The shipboard adventure went far over schedule due to the plodding pace of German director Bernhard Wicki. Although the slow going rankled Marlon Brando, he vetoed the studio's proposal to replace Wicki with a speedier director.

THOMAS

★ ★ ★

Replacement of Carol Reed by Lewis Milestone on "Mutiny on the Bounty" was blamed on Brando, who claimed to have had nothing to do with it.

So "Morituri" crawled to a finish under Wicki's direction. Both Brando and costar Yul Brynner are reported to have been immensely pleased with a rough cut of the film. All's well that ends.

John Wayne is hard at work on "The Sons of Katy Elder" near Durango, Mex., and he says he'll do his own action stuff despite his recent illness. "If I didn't," he reasons, "then people would say I was really sick."

The picture is scheduled to shoot five weeks on location, then return to Hollywood. However, if a strike of the craft unions develops, the production will shift to Mexico City. The few other films scheduled to start in January also have alternate plans to shoot in foreign countries if the strike comes.

Leap Year has come and gone with scant toll on Hollywood's most eligible bachelors. Early last year I had Angie Dickinson, one of the most popular girls about town, list the most prominent Leap Year catches. Of the 10, only Alain Delon succumbed to matrimony.

Warren Beatty, Richard Chamberlain, Vincent Edwards, Albert Finney, Cary Grant, Rock Hudson, Elvis Presley, Frank Sinatra and Efrem Zimbalist Jr. remain at large. For that matter, so does Angie Dickinson.

Of the remaining nine, Grant seems the closest to taking the leap. He sprang a surprise birthday party on his steady, Dyan Cannon.

Grant continues to keep close tabs on receipts of "Father Goose." He was on a brief holiday trip to see his mother in England when he received news that the film had broken the all-time Radio City Music Hall record by $10,000 — a fantastic $242,000 in one week. Which shows there is patronage to clean entertainment.

★ ★ ★

From Rome comes news that "The Bible" is nearing a finish. The final sequence has begun; it is Noah and the flood. And who will shepherd the animals two-by-two into the ark? John Huston himself.

★ ★ ★

The news from Britain is that the Beatles start next month on their second, as yet untitled film — the title song hasn't been written yet. It's a chase to be shot in England, the Bahamas and Switzerland. Bad guys pursue the mop-tops in search of a priceless ring. Guess who wears it.

'Lady in Red' Had a Fortune

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Miss Rose Williams, 82, spent her life dusting and sweeping other women's homes so, her friends believed, she could indulge a solitary passion for wearing red — red dresses, red hats, red shoes, red nightclothes.

★ ★ ★

County officials have discovered that the tiny spinster made a few other investments — in securities.

★ ★ ★

Miss Williams died Dec. 30.

The Public Administrator's office reported Monday that $130,000 in securities was found in her safety deposit box.

"And there may be a lot more in other banks," said an official.

The chances of a quick rescue for downed airmen, even if they are injured or unconscious, is increased considerably by a new vest pocket two-way radio.

Frost Works Basis for Play

ANN ARBOR (AP) — "An Evening's Frost," a dramatized portrait of the late poet Robert Frost, will be the 1965 new play project of the University of Michigan's professional theater.

★ ★ ★

Author of the dramatization is Donald Hall, a University of Michigan faculty member who also is a poetry editor. It will be presented Feb. 10-14 at Lydia Mendelssohn Theater in Ann Arbor.

★ ★ ★

Robert C. Schnitzer, executive director, said it is based on verse, letters and conversations of Frost and will have a New York cast including Jackueline Brooks, star of the 1964 American Shakespeare Festival; Staats Cotsworthy, Donald Davis, and Will Geer.

More men than women commit suicide and it is generally more common in hot weather than in cold.

The German railways are testing a low-slung, 125 miles per hour train. Its doors open at platform level to speed entry and exit of the 448 passengers it carries in three cars.

Opera Singer Dies

MONTREAL (AP) — Paul-Emile Corbeil, 56, a French-Canadian opera singer who began his career with the New York Metropolitan Opera in 1930, died Sunday. In recent years he had performed in French-language radio and television.

10 Outstanding Young Men Are Selected by U.S. Jaycees

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — John Artichoker Jr. is an Indian who likes to help other Indians. John Cowles Jr. is an editor who works to help his community. Drs. Daniel E. Fountain, Herbert E. Kaufman and William F. McColl are physicians dedicated to helping all humanity.

For their common desire to improve the lot of their fellowman, they were chosen Monday for inclusion among the U.S. Junior Chamber of Commerce's 27th annual list of 10 outstanding young men.

They were joined on the select list by a space pilot, two scientists, a student-explorer, and the head of a federal regulatory agency.

Artichoker, 34, of Lame Deer, Mont., is descended from the Winnebago and Sioux Indians. After graduation from college, he was named director of Indian education for South Dakota. His work in the integration of Indian and non-Indian student affairs helped win him appointment as the first Indian superintendent of the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reservation.

PERSUASIVE FORCE

Cowless, 33-year-old editor and vice president of the Minneapolis Star and Tribune, was cited for having "exerted a singularly persuasive influence upon his community, region and state." He lives in Wayzata, Minn.

Fountain, a medical missionary from Homer, N.Y., is a doctor-teacher for 265,000 persons in Kwilu Province in the Congo. Now on home leave, he plans to return soon to his complex of four hospitals, where he is the only doctor. His practice covers a 7,500-mile area.

★ ★ ★

Kaufman, 33, chief of ophthalmology at the University of Florida, was cited for his work with IDU, a drug being considered for possible use against cancer. His work led to the discovery of a cure for herpes simplex, a virus disease of the cornea leading to blindness. Unlike other virus treatments which are preventative only or short-lived, IDU actually attacks the life of a virus.

McColl, 34, is a former end for the Chicago Bears who gave up football for a career in medicine and Christianity. He spent two years in a Presbyterian mission hospital in Taegu, Korea, as an orthopedic surgeon and missionary. He now has a practice in Los Angeles.

OTHERS ON LIST

Joining them on the 1964 list are:

Charles Jackson Wheeler, 21, of Beverly Hills, Calif., a graduate student at UCLA who, between high school and college classes has climbed the Matterhorn, lived with Ecuadorian headhunters and captured two Viet Cong guerrillas in South Viet Nam.

Capt. Joe H. Engle, 32, Edwards, Calif., the youngest pilot for the X15 rocket-powered aircraft. He is scheduled to take the aircraft to a height in excess of 50 miles later this year.

E. William Henry, 35, the youngest man ever appointed chairman of the Federal Communications Commission.

Dr. James E. Mercereau, 34, Dearborn, Mich., a research scientist who scored a breakthrough in low-temperature physics with his "giant quantum system," which deals with the loss of electrical resistance in some metals when exposed to extremely low temperatures.

Dr. Frank J. Rauscher Jr., 33, Rockville, Md., a National Cancer Institute research microbiologist who accelerated developments in several branches of cancer research with his discovery of leukemia-producing virus.

Court Clears Vic Damone

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — A judge says singer Vic Damone was "hasty, impulsive and hot-headed" in removing his son from New York, but was not in contempt of court.

Damone, 35, and his ex-wife, actress Pier Angeli, 32, are engaged in a court battle over Damone's suit to modify custody of their son, Perry, 9.

★ ★ ★

In turning down Miss Angeli's request for a contempt citation, Superior Court Judge Laurence Rittenband said that Miss Angeli earlier had deprived Damone of his visitation rights by removing the boy from the United States.

★ ★ ★

Damone brought the boy to California from New York last Sept. 30 while Miss Angeli was at her home in Rome. Miss Angeli contended that constituted contempt of a 1960 court order granting her custody and Damone the right to weekend visiting rights with the boy.

Fashion Tsars Knee-dled on Eye Line of Hemline

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — We men are being gypped by the nation's female fashion editors who have privately decided, during a convention here, that they'll probably oppose the new "above-the-knees hemline" which would let us chaps see a pretty knee now and then.

I object! I appeal to American men to rise up and speak out for freedom of the knees.

"The ugliest part of a woman is her knees," these woman fashion editors are saying. "Men don't like to see a knee."

Is that so? I happen to adore knees. I'll bet that Kim Novak's knees . . . and the knees of Shirley MacLaine, Lee Remick, Eva Marie Saint, Elke Sommer and Ann-Margret would not prove so ugly as to make me wince and turn away. Could Sophia Loren's knees really be disgusting.?

WILSON

"You fashion editors," I told one of them, "are thinking of older women's knees . . . but I'm sure that even Joan Crawford and Marlene Dietrich have real darling knees."

The fashion editors probably will come out for just-below-the-knees hemline. So get in there and fight, men, if you want the see-level above the knee-level.

★ ★ ★

Joey Heatherton, the 20-year-old blondshell just signed by Jack Warner for 5 years, is also being wooed by NBC for a long TV deal. "Hullabaloo" choreographer David Winter says, "In 5 years she'll be playing the Marilyn Monroe Story."

Henry Fonda, at a La Fonda del Sol party, posed with French dancer Jocelyn, 13. He kidded us columnists saying, "You're going to say 'There's Fonda with one of his older friends' " . . . He's right, I, personally, wronged him a couple of items that way.

★ ★ ★

I LOVED Dick Shawn and Joan Hackett in the two-character "Peterpat." Such laughs. Director Joe Layton laughingly said in Sardi's, "But I think it's easier directing 75 people, than 2!"

★ ★ ★

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

The city will fight the ticket "ice" problem by making brokers give itemized receipts. (It'll also try to end parking lot pilfering by having attendants fingerprinted, And—for the first time—they'll have to have drivers' licenses).

Ava Gardner asked Billy Eckstine to sing "Sophisticated Lady" at the Royal Box. (Billy introduced his conductor, Bobby Tucker: "You've been with me 18 years—so where were you Sunday when I needed you?") . . . Frank Sinatra Jr., just turned 21, was given a surprise party at the Las Vegas Flamingo.

★ ★ ★

WISH I'D SAID THAT: An expense account is what permits some men to live on the allowances they get from their wives.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "One trouble with the publishing business is that too many people with half a mind to write a book, do it."—Anon.

EARL'S PEARLS: Divorces have become so commonplace in Hollywood that some girls can hardly wait for the wrong man to come along.

It's Bob Hope's story about Jack Benny: "During the war Jack was a dollar-a-year man" . . . "You mean that's all he got?" . . . "Oh no—that's all he spent." . . . That's earl, brother.

Akron Firm Sues Striking Bus Drivers

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — The city's transportation company has filed a $400,000 lawsuit against bus drivers who went on strike yesterday, leaving some 30,000 riders without service.

The Akron Transportation Co. (ATC) filed the suit yesterday against 155 members of Transportation Workers Union Local 1.

About 50 mechanics walked out in sympathy with the drivers. There was no picketing.

In its suit, the company asked $250,000 compensatory and $150,000 punitive damages. Robert Buchanan, ATC president and general manager, said the strike was costing the company about $7,000 a day.

The drivers struck yesterday in a dispute over a company decision to remove the late-night and early morning "owl" service, used to pick up and return the drivers to their homes.

New Sheriff Expires in N. Y.

GREENVALE, N. Y. (AP) — Nassau County Sheriff Thomas M. Dugan, 38, in office only 10 days, died last night in his home.

Dugan, a Democrat, apparently suffered a heart attack or a cerebral hemorrhage. He had resigned in April as inspector general of the Peace Corps and was elected county sheriff in November.

His primary campaign promise was to abolish the $19,775-a-year sheriff's post and place the staff under a county correction department.

"This would put an end to the spoils system under which appointments have been made as political payoffs," he said during the campaign.

★ ★ ★

He had announced Wednesday he was moving to implement that promise. Legislation was being drawn up by the county attorney and would be submitted to the state legislature, he said.

Newlyweds Got a Chilly Reception

BARROW, Alaska (AP) — The pink, flowered garment which bride Barbara McLean wore was a snowshirt with a wolverine ruff. On her feet were caribou mukluks.

Bridegroom Glen Keck was dressed in a wolf parka and also wore fur mukluks.

★ ★ ★

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Garrison, who attended the couple in the recent ceremony, were also dressed in Eskimo apparel to keep out the 45-degree-below-zero cold.

The Kecks have set up housekeeping in Anchorage where he is a technician with the Bureau of Indian Affairs, and she is a teacher employed by the bureau.

State Chairman Arthur Elliott Jr. will ask approval of a $311,000 budget.

★ ★ ★

People in the News

House GOP Leader Gerald R. Ford favors Rep. Peter H. B. Frelinghuysen of New Jersey for Republican whip, reliable Washington sources reported yesterday.

FRELINGHUYSEN

If Ford goes through with his reported plan to tap Frelinghuysen today for the party's No. 2 House leadership spot, it probably will set off the second bitter intraparty battle of the session.

The incumbent GOP whip, Rep. Leslie Arends of Illinois, has indicated he will not give up the post he has held for 21 years without a fight.

Girl Goes Topless at Waikiki

Shapely nightclub dancer Patricia Parsons created a stir on Waikiki Beach in Hawaii, yesterday, when she swam, sunned and sauntered in a topless bathing suit.

Toplessness is banned on Waikiki, but apparently no one thought about that until a beach boy happened to mentions Miss Parsons' lack of beachwear to passing policeman.

★ ★ ★

The officer moved in to do his duty, but when he arrived, the dancer had donned a sweater. End of case.

Castro May Visit New York

Reliable sources in Havana report Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro is considering a visit to New York to attend the United Nations General Assembly, but has not made up his mind definitely.

He last attended an assembly session in 1960.

Missing Jewels Returned

A little bit of luck was riding with Mrs. Carlotta Busch Flanigan, daughter of August A. Busch Jr., president of Anheuser-Busch brewery and owner of the St. Louis Cardinals.

She lost jewelry worth about $11,920 at a parking lot at the St. Louis Airport. It was returned yesterday by a man who found a leather case containing the jewels.

Sarah Churchill Rumor Unconfirmed

Actress Sarah Churchill, 50, daughter of former British Prime Minister Winston Churchill, refused yesterday in Rome to confirm a report that she soon will marry an American artist and entertainer, Lobo Nocho, 44.

The two have been frequent companions around Rome since last summer. Nocho, originally from Philadelphia, has lived in Europe for many years, working as a painter and singer. He describes himself as a mulatto.

★ ★ ★

An Italian weekly magazine recently published a story quoting Nocho as saying the two would soon wed.

"You'll have to ask Mr. Nocho about that," Miss Churchill told newsmen.

NEW YORK (UPI) — Bethlehem Steel Corp. was fined $40,000 in U.S. District Court yesterday on charges of price fixing and bid rigging in wrought steel railway wheels in violation of the antitrust laws.

★ ★ ★

Bethlehem was indicted on the charge in 1963 along with U.S. Steel Corp. and other companies and originally pleaded innocent. Yesterday, chief district Judge Sylvester J. Ryan permitted Bethlehem to change its plea to no contest and imposed the fine.

★ ★ ★

At the same time, Ryan reserved decision on an application by Midvale Heppenstall Corp., of Bethlehem, Pa., to change its plea of innocent to no contest on an antitrust indictment involving price fixing in open die forgings.

LBJ Unveils School Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson sent Congress a record $1.66-billion tots-through-teens education program today, with an open invitation to private and parochial schools to take part.

★ ★ ★

The proposed program, with heavy emphasis on the children of low-income families, is the heaviest presidential artillery yet in what Johnson calls his war against poverty.

The provisions for nonpublic schools to share in the benefits seem certain to trigger a bitter fight on Capitol Hill.

Even before the details were laid before Congress, it was learned, the group known as "Protestants and Other Americans United for Separation of Church and State," made known its opposition.

However, it also was learned that the Roman Catholic hierarchy generally approves, and so do some officials of the National Education Association, which traditionally opposes use of public funds for nonpublic schools.

An administration source was confident: "This is a good bill, and one we believe we can get through the Congress."

The comprehensive program would provide assistance to preschool youngsters in the slums, elementary and secondary school pupils in the nation's pockets of poverty, and college scholarships and other help for worthy and needy high school graduates.

Johnson said the one-year cost in excess of $1.5 billion "is a small price to pay for developing our nation's most priceless resource."

★ ★ ★

"Poverty has many roots," the President said, "but the tap root is ignorance."

WOULD PROVIDE

The presidential program would provide for fiscal 1966:

● Public schools: $1 billion for elementary and secondary schools serving children from families with less than $2,000 annual income.

There are an estimated 5 million such children and 85-90 per cent of the nation's school districts will qualify for assistance.

Public and private schools would be urged to cooperate in shared-time programs and other joint use of new facilities.

★ ★ ★

● Higher education: $260 million to provide 140,000 scholarships, partial payment of interest on guaranteed private loans to college students — perhaps 2 per cent of the usual 6 per cent, assistance to small colleges,

County Unit Eyes Future of TB Patients

Discuss Anticipated Problems Stemming From Facility Sale

The Oakland County Board of Supervisors today approved sale of the Tuberculosis Sanatorium to the Oakland Community College for the appraisal price of $927,000.

What do you do with 115 tuberculosis patients when the hospital where they're being cared for is sold out from under them?

The TB Sanatorium committee of the Oakland County Board of Supervisors kicked this question around for an hour-and-a-half yesterday without arriving at a satisfactory answer.

The committee met to discuss the problem in anticipation of sale of the TB facility to the Oakland Community College.

A recommendation by the buildings and grounds and ways and means committees to sell the sanatorium for the appraisal price of $927,000 was scheduled for action this morning by the board of supervisors.

College officials have asked the sanatorium board of trustees to vacate the main hospital and other buildings by the first of April so remodeling can get under way.

SEPTEMBER START

Plans are to start holding classes there in September.

Oakland County Health Director Bernard D. Berman, M.D., who has advocated sale of the facility for some time, has assured the trustees and all committees concerned that finding beds for the patients will be no problem.

He was unable to give any

Bliss Will Take GOP Post—if

Says Barry Must Ask Him, Give Backing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ray Bliss of Ohio has declared he would accept the GOP party chairmanship only if Barry Goldwater asked him to and gave him full support.

Bliss' statement came as party leaders maneuvered over a tentative plan that would have Chairman Dean Burch resign — probably early this spring — to make way for the Ohio state GOP chairman.

Goldwater, the party's defeated presidential nominee, was in Phoenix and wasn't commenting. He picked Burch for the job last summer and has given him solid backing.

Burch wasn't talking, either.

★ ★ ★

But his official spokesmen said the 37-year-old chairman still vows that he will have the post after the National Committee meets in Chicago Jan. 22 and 23.

TERMS OF SETTLEMENT

Terms of a settlement reportedly drafted by Midwestern Republicans who want Burch replaced would let him do just that — with an agreement to step down later. It was unclear whether that formula would have him announce the resignation before the Chicago meeting.

TAKEN INTO CUSTODY — Louis Koullapis (left), 70, is shown as he is being taken into custody this morning after a Gardena, Calif., shooting where three poker palaces were fired upon, wounding at least 31 persons. Police said they found a small arsenal in Koullapis' car.

Gunman Wounds 31 in Card Parlor Spree

GARDENA, Calif. (AP)—Repeated fire by a berserk gunman this morning wounded at least 31 persons in one poker parlor, and possibly several more at two other establishments nearby, police reported.

Within an hour after the shootings, officers had booked on suspicion of attempted murder a 70-year-old man who they said came at them with two revolvers blazing.

They said they captured Louis Koullapis by startling him with a shot fired into the ground, then rushing him.

Police said his car matched the description of the one which drove by the Rainbow Club at the time a flurry of shotgun and pistol fire began toppling patrons from their seats at poker tables.

Police said three of the persons were critically wounded.

★ ★ ★

Officers said the wounded were taken to hospitals in the neighborhood — a Los Angeles suburb and the only suburb in which the playing of draw poker is legalized.

16 BULLET HOLES

Police counted at least 16 bullet holes in the floor-to-ceiling window which faces the street and provides a full view of the play inside.

Witnesses said the gunman apparently pulled up to the curb outside the club, then loosed a volley of shots through the window, switching weapons from time to time.

One special officer at the club said the patrons — as many as 350 of them — were so astounded when the shooting started that they didn't move.

★ ★ ★

Dave Whitmore, 29, a special officer, ran out to the sidewalk during the gunfire and was wounded, police said.

ONE SHOT

Witnesses said the gunman then drove on along the street, firing one shot into the Monterey Club next door and one at the Horseshoe Club several blocks away.

Seek Strike End at U.S. Docks

NEW YORK (AP)—Top officials of the longshoremen's union, seeking a quick end to the Atlantic and Gulf Coast dock strike, have launched a campaign to get members in the Port of New York to vote again and approve a contract they rejected by a slim margin.

The rejection triggered the strike by 60,000 members of the ALF-CIO International Longshoremen's Association in ports from Maine to Texas.

An estimated 200 ships are tied up in ports. More are expected to arrive today.

Estimates of losses to the national economy, including effects on related industries, range from $20 million to $25 million a day.

Union leaders and Asst. Secretary of Labor James J. Reynolds say the contract was rejected here last Friday because the rank-and-file misunderstood the contract.

★ ★ ★

WENT TO LOCALS

Union officials went to ILA locals here to find out the reasons for rejection, to explain the advantages of the contract and to get a new vote among the 24,000 longshoremen.

ILA President Thomas W. Gleason said he had heard reports of "agitators telling lies to the men." He said he did not know who the agitators were.

Gleason spoke of "fear of automation" among the union members. This was a reference to a clause in the proposed contract for gradual reduction of the size of work gangs from 20 to 17 men over a four-year contract term.

★ ★ ★

Employers have sought for years to get a gang size cut in view of automation of much of the loading and unloading work. The men were guaranteed an annual minimum wage and other benefits in the pact they spurned.

WIDE DIFFERENCE

Longshoremen differ widely on the reasons for the rejection.

Gleason said that if the men understood the contract, they would know that the big issue is the job security provided.

The ILA educational campaign is expected to take several days. There were indications that union officials believed a week without pay would have a bearing on the new membership vote.

Head of Japan, LBJ to Talk

U. S. Policies Are Up for Discussion

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson and Japan's Premier Eisaku Sato open strategy talks on U.S. policies in the Far East and Communist China's efforts to cut American influence in Asia.

Because of cold weather, the President arranged a late morning ceremonial welcome for the 63-year-old Japanese leader in the White House East Room.

This was to be followed by a 90-minute conference in the President's office with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Foreign Minister Etsusaburo Shiina also attending.

Both nations attached high importance to the meeting. Rusk called it an opportunity "to do a lot of wood chopping."

On his arrival from San Francisco Monday night, Sato said, "I feel that it is especially fitting now that this direct personal exchange take place between your president who embarks on a new term of office within a very few days, and myself, so recently come to the helm of a new administration in Japan."

Sato took over from ailing Hayato Ikeda two months ago.

A second Johnson-Sato meeting Wednesday will be followed by a joint communique.

★ ★ ★

With the Viet Nam situation and Communist China's explosion of a nuclear device last October in mind, Sato said that in the past few months "we have witnessed significant changes and critical developments in areas vitally affecting the conduct of world affairs."

He was expected to elaborate on this in a speech before the National Press Club following the first White House meeting.

Sato then was to meet with Rusk before attending a black tie dinner given by the President and Mrs. Johnson in his honor at the White House.

Hope to Break U.N. Deadlock

Showdown Near on Peace-Keeping Dues

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Secretary General U Thant launched a final effort today to break the U.S.-Soviet deadlock over U.N. peacekeeping dues before the General Assembly returns to work Monday.

Delegates saw little chance of avoiding a showdown which could result in loss of assembly voting rights for the Soviet Union, France and 16 other nations. They are more than two years behind on their U.N. assessments as a result of their refusal to pay peace-keeping costs.

A U.N. spokesman said Thant has turned over to "interested parties" in the dispute a plan the 59-nation Asian-African group has submitted as a basis for solving the financial crisis which has brought the United Nations close to bankruptcy.

The plan calls for voluntary contributions to pay off the peace-keeping deficit of nearly $86 million and suspends Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. The article says any member who is two years behind in its payments shall lose its vote in the assembly.

★ ★ ★

The Soviet Union has said it would go along with such a plan provided its contribution would not be earmarked for peace-keeping and Moscow would not be required to state in advance how much it was contributing or when.

Question Marks to Greet State Legislative Session

LANSING (AP) — The gavels bang down tomorrow for a Michigan Legislature session full of change, question marks and almost certain action.

Democrats will be in control for the first time in three decades when senators and representatives convene in their redecorated chambers.

Only 66 of the 148 legislators are incumbents, adding an aura of mystery at least to the early phases of the session as viewpoints of the newcomers are sought.

Actually, the two houses won't get down to much business before Jan. 25.

As the constitution requires, this 73rd Legislature will begin at 12 noon on the second Wednesday in January. Oathtaking, allocation of desks, pictures, formal election of officers and other procedural tasks will occupy most of the first day.

★ ★ ★

Gov. George Romney will take the spotlight Thursday with his state of the state speech —the traditional report on how the state stands and what it needs.

BOTH ADJOURN

Then the two chambers will adjourn, probably until Jan. 25.

The House will supervise a recount between Rep. Carroll Newton, R-Delton, and Democrat Claude Burton, who trailed by six votes in the November tally.

The House also may have a committee investigate Rep. Daniel West, D-Detroit, who is under indictment on voter registration and income tax irregularities.

★ ★ ★

Rep. Joseph Kowalski, D-Detroit, designated by democrats as House speaker, has said he'll propose a resolution that West be denied his seat pending a House committee report.

TWO VACANCIES

The legislature has two vacancies, each from a post-election death. Open are seats of the late Sen.-elect Paul Chandler, R-Livonia, and Rep. Walter Hyse, D-Hamtramck. Spring special elections are set for each.

The House includes 52 incumbents, 53 newcomers and four former members. The Senate has 14 incumbents, 19 newcomers and four members who moved from the House.

Counting West, Democrats control the house 71-38 and the Senate 23-14. Though their margins are heavy, Democrats could not on a party line vote overturn a veto of Republican Governor Romney, since a two-thirds vote in each chamber would be required.

★ ★ ★

Four presession leadership meetings, involving Romney with Republicans and Democrats, have brought declarations that bipartisanship may be in evidence and that differences will concern issues, not personalities.

BETTER TREATMENT

Democrats say they'll treat the minority Republicans better, they assert, than majority Republicans treated Democrats in years past.

★ ★ ★

More than 400 bill requests have been filed with the Legislative Service Bureau. Some bills probably will be introduced before the recess.

Rights Ace Is Handling U.S. Case

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) — The federal government's top civil rights trouble shooter today guides the second day of testimony before a grand jury probing the slayings of three civil rights workers.

John Doar, head of the Justice Department's Civil Rights Division, resumes the government's presentation this morning.

The two top law officers of Neshoba County, Sheriff Lawrence Rainey and Chief Deputy Cecil Price, were among 21 men arrested in the case. They were freed on their bonds returned after charges were dropped at a preliminary hearing.

Doar, joined by U.S. Attys. Robert Owen and Robert Hauberg, remained tight-lipped on what witnesses went before the jury Monday.

★ ★ ★

Newsmen were barred from the wing of the federal building where the jury met. Efforts to check the witness list were unsuccessful. Newsmen were told the list was not public record.

Doar had a "no comment" when asked when the government expected to wind up. However, U.S. Dist. Judge Harold Cox told the panel of 21 men and two women he felt they would be home by Friday night. The jury includes a Negro.

Before the jurors began hearing testimony Cox told them not to be swayed by inside or outside pressures.

The jury is weighing evidence for a second time in the June slaying of Andrew Goodman, 20, and Michael Schwerner, 24, both of New York, and James Chaney, 21, Meridian Negro.

Antigovernment Mobs Roar Through Vietnamese Cities

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — Noisy antigovernment mobs roared through the central Vietnamese city of Hue again today, parading with banners in front of the U.S. consulate.

Antigovernment demonstrations also began in Da Nang, South Viet Nam's second largest city.

Reports from Hue, 400 miles north of Saigon, said some of the marchers carried banners demanding neutralization of the war-torn country.

Hue city was also in the grip of a general strike for the third day. Businesses and transportation facilities were halted. A general strike also continued at Quang Tri, farther to the north.

BUDDHISTS AND STUDENTS

The demonstrations and strikes were organized by a group calling itself the "Buddhists and Students Protective Association." The agitation has centered around Hue University.

U.S. sources said about 1,500 marchers demonstrated in Hue. Neither the American consulate nor the U.S. Information Service closed their doors. In another part of the city 3,000 gathered to hear antigovernment speeches.

In Saigon, Premier Tran Van Huong denied that the United States had tried to dictate a settlement of South Viet Nam's recent government crisis.

"The government and the armed forces of the Republic of Viet Nam," Huong told a news conference, "regard as their obligation the responsibility for resolving the internal affairs of their country, and reaffirm that there has been no demand made by the United States to follow any particular formula for the resolution of the past crisis."

Board to Take Policy Action

To Decide on Plan for Teachers' Groups

The Pontiac Board of Education is scheduled to take action tomorrow night on a proposed policy between the board and local teacher associations.

The policy was presented at the Dec. 9 meeting, but action on the proposal was deferred until tomorrow night's meeting.

The question of the relationship between the school board and the Pontiac Education Association (PEA) and Pontiac Federation of Teachers (PFT) first came up last February.

At that time the PEA presented to the board a professional negotiation plan. In the past the salary negotiations have been conducted by a committee of representatives of both groups.

★ ★ ★

In an effort to avoid separate negotiations with each group, the school board requested Superintendent of Schools Dr. Dana P. Whitmer to draw up a statement outlining future negotiating policies.

LARGEST MEMBERSHIP

If the proposed policy is accepted, the board will only recognize the organization with the largest membership.

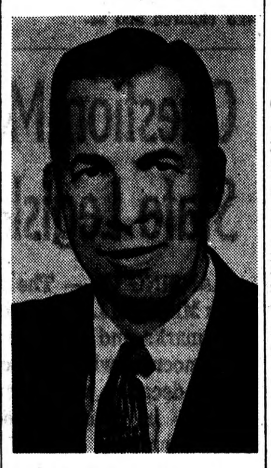

In other action slated for tomorrow's meeting, the board will hear a report on the use of educational television in Pontiac schools.

The school district has experimented with the use of television since 1962.

★ ★ ★

The board will also hear a progress report on the new central office building, which is nearing completion on its site at Auburn and Wide Track.

Plans for additions to Alcott and Frost schools will also be discussed by the board with architects.

EDWARD N. COLE

GM Executive Award Winner

Edward N. Cole, 1371 Kirkway, Bloomfield Township, has been awarded Automotive Industries Magazine's Outstanding Achievement Award, by Hartley W. Barclay, editor and publisher.

Cole, group vice president of General Motors in charge of the car and truck divisions, received a silver bowl symbolizing the award at a luncheon yesterday.

Cole was chosen by the award consultants, Barclay said, because "his achievements exemplify the open road to advancement which exists generally for those who choose an automotive career.

★ ★ ★

"His career history might well be an example of great inspiration to young men throughout the automotive industry today," Barclay said.

Cole is a veteran of 34 years with General Motors.

Suit Is Filed to Oust Official

Hearing for Sylvan Lake Councilman Set

Claiming that Sylvan Lake Councilman John D. McKinlay did not meet residency requirements when he was elected in November, five residents yesterday began legal action in Circuit Court challenging his right to hold office.

The suit charges that McKinlay, 32, of 2709 Littletell was in violation of the City Charter, which states that a candidate must be a resident of the city for two years immediately prior to his election.

McKinlay, by order of Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero, must show cause at a hearing Jan. 18 why he should remain in his post.

Members of the group who filed the suit—John C. Houston, Raymond E. Heyse, Donald Johnson, William J. Sanderson and Howard E. Wideman—say that McKinlay did not have the necessary qualifications since he didn't move into the city until December 1962.

★ ★ ★

To meet the requirements, they say it was necessary that he had become a resident on or before Nov. 3, 1962.

BERKLEY HOME

Upon learning of the suit, McKinlay said that he rented his home in Sylvan Lake on Nov. 1, 1962 but did not immediately move in.

He said he continued to occupy his home in Berkley until the family in his present home relocated.

McKinlay said he did not know of the residency requirement until after the election. He was subsequently appointed the city's representative on the Oakland County Board of Supervisors, succeeding Willis M. Brewer.

McKinlay is a Republican and Brewer a Democrat.

Until the recent election, Democrats were in the majority on the Council. Republicans now hold a 3-2 edge.

improved teacher training programs, and university-community extension programs, similar to the traditional agricultural extension programs.

- Preschool: $150 million to eradicate the handicaps with which slum children start first grade, when many educational experts say they already are two or three years behind.

The projects probably would be patterned after the experimental programs now under way in Detroit, Baltimore and New York City.

This would be part of the President's budget for the Economic Opportunity Act, not his educational program.

- Book purchases: $100 million in grants to states for the purchase of textbooks and library books. This would be for all schools, public and private, and whether or not they were in the pockets of poverty.

All books purchased would be those used by the public schools; the purchase of religiously oriented books would be barred.

- Education centers: $100 million for supplementary education centers and services, providing public and private school pupils alike with tutors, programs in remedial reading, science and language laboratories, summer schools, programs and teachers for handicapped children, and accelerated programs for the gifted.

1 in Water, 1 in Fire

2 Area Lives Saved

A 16-year-old Waterford Township boy yesterday pulled an ice boat driver to safety after the boat had crashed through the ice over 90 feet of water in Cass Lake's Loon Bay.

★ ★ ★

Risking a hazardous skate over thin ice to make the rescue was Charles Thomas of 1481 Rivona.

Charles, a junior at Our Lady of the Lakes High School, was playing hockey with other neighborhood boys at 5:10 p.m. near shore when they heard the ice boater calling for help out in the bay.

After getting a ski rope at a vacant cottage nearby, Charles skated out toward the boat over cracking ice.

★ ★ ★

Meanwhile, his brother, Tommy, 7, a first grader at Lambert School, ran to seek help from neighbors.

TOSSED ROPE

Charles tossed the rope to Chester King, 25, of 7060 Highland, Waterford Township, who was clinging to the partially submerged craft.

Martin Felt, of 1407 Rivona, who had just come home from work, ran out on the bay and helped Charles pull King to safety.

A Walled Lake man, only semiconscious, was dragged from his burning home this morning by a local fireman.

Clements Philipski apparently was sleeping when the fire broke out in his home at 252 S. Pontiac Trail.

Police Chief James A. Decker saw smoke coming from the building while he was on patrol about 8:45 a.m. He also noted Philipski's cars were still in the driveway.

Firemen summoned to the scene included Basil Stoddard, who found Philipski in bed and carried him out of the smoke-filled house.

Decker said the fire left the entire interior of the house charred. He said he suspected Philipski had fallen asleep with a cigarette burning.

IN HOSPITAL

Philipski was taken to Pontiac Osteopathic Hospital, where he was reported to be in good condition but was admitted for observation.

Muskegon Hit by Raging Fire

Destroys Warehouse, Damages 3 Buildings

MUSKEGON (AP)—Whipped by strong north winds and marked by a series of minor explosions, a raging fire early today destroyed the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway freight warehouse and damaged three other waterfront buildings here.

A main electric power transformer blew up in the heat and left much of the downtown area and scattered residential districts without power for a short time.

★ ★ ★

Two firemen and Chief Dennis Ward suffered minor injuries at the scene about one block east of the L. C. Walker Arena but did not require hospitalization.

Fire and railway officials were unable to estimate a loss figure immediately, pending examination of the structure's contents. Also sought was a cause of the blaze.

RED GLOW

Damaged in the fire which lit up the waterfront with a red glow visible throughout the city were the Daniels Co. Office Supplies warehouse, the Elston-Richards storage building and the National Guard Armory.

The alarm brought all equipment from Muskegon's five fire stations along with 83 firemen. A Norton Township crew also aided in the battle while Muskegon Heights equipment maintained a standby watch in Muskegon.

The power failure cut off traffic signals on Muskegon's main business street. Power was restored after about 20 minutes.

Insurance Unit Installs Officers

New officers of the Pontiac Association of Insurance Agents were installed at the group's annual meeting at Bedell's restaurant last night.

Robert R. Lazelle, 2194 Ostrum, Waterford Township, is the association's newly elected president.

Other new officers are Frank A. Anderson, 35 Oneida, vice president, and James R. Wilkinson, 431 Gateway, Waterford Township, secretary-treasurer.

James W. Huttenlocher, 6201 Middle Lake, Independence Township, became a member of the board of directors.

Jacob L. Van Wagoner, 6545 Andersonville, Independence Township, retiring as chairman of the board of the Van Wagoner Agency, 18 E. Lawrence, was honored for long, faithful, and outstanding service.

Van Wagoner helped create the Pontiac association and was treasurer of the state association.

John G. Molhoek of Grand Rapids, president of the Michigan Association of Insurance Agents praised Van Wagoner's 54 years of service to the community and to the insurance business throughout the state.

City Job Study on Commission Agenda Tonight

A job classification study is expected to be proposed at tonight's City Commission meeting at 8.

City Manager Joseph A. Warren will propose the $5,100 study to be conducted by the Michigan Municipal League (MML).

Object of the study will be to evaluate each job or classification on the city's payroll, assessing its duties, salary and title.

Warren said it would take the MML five months to complete the classification study.

★ ★ ★

In other business tonight, the commission will hold a public hearing on the 1965 budget.

BUDGET DEADLINE

The City Commission must adopt the budget before Feb. 1.

Former Supervisor Waterford Planner

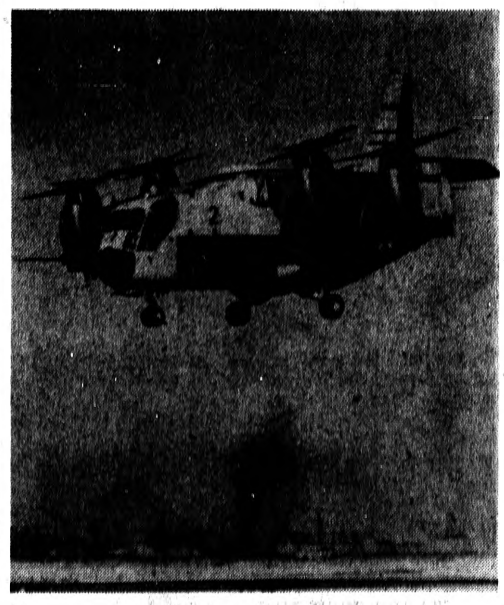

Former Waterford Township Supervisor Carlos Richardson last night was named to fill the unexpired term of Robert Lawyer on the township's planning commission.

★ ★ ★

Operator of a chain of dairy stores, Richardson also was a former member of the township's zoning board.

His appointment by the Township Board is effective immediately. The term expires May 29.

Lawyer, director of the township's community schools program and recreation department, submitted his resignation last week to the board.

City Tentatively Okays Plan to Control Parking

BIRMINGHAM — In a move to control parking, the City Commissionn last night gave tentative approval to the construction of access drives along Woodward.

In determining the project a necessity, the commission, without benefit of plans or cost estimates, divided the program into three areas.

Receiving priority was the southbound stretch of Woodward from Lincoln to Bird. This part of the program will be undertaken in conjunction with the State Highway Department plan to resurface southbound Woodward from Lincoln to 14 Mile Road.

When the highway department announced its intention to repave the stretch, it noted that after Sept. 1, 1965, parking would be prohibited on the U.S. 10 right-of-way except where access drives were provided.

★ ★ ★

The second section approved by the commission is on the east side of Woodward from Ruffner to Taunton, while the third portion of the program includes the west side from Oakland to Bowers and the east side from Ridgedale south to the existing access drive.

TO CONTAACT STATE

The commission authorized the city manager's office to contact the State Highway Department to find out if it will participate in the two latter programs since they were not included in the original paving proposal.

According to the City Manager Robert Kenning, 42 per cent of the frontage on Woodward is without adequate parking control.

Kenning said that the design of the access drives will be completed by the city engineering department within three months. At that time the plans will be returned to the City Commission for its approval. A hearing on assessments would follow.

★ ★ ★

Kenning noted that the administration feels that controlled parking is "very important in this area where speeds of up to 50 miles an hour are permitted and backing out into this high speed traffic is a dangerous practice."

The access drives would require a motorist to enter at one end and exit at the other.

The cost of the project would be financed entirely by the benefitted property owners.

Court Delays City, Scrap Yard Hearing

A show cause hearing in Oakland County Circuit Court was adjourned one week yesterday in hopes that the City of Pontiac and Sam Allen & Son, Inc., can reach some agreement over the possible curtailment of the scrap yard's night operations.

Judge Frederick C. Ziem ordered that attorneys for both parties return next Monday after he had expressed an opinion that the night operation might be relocated.

Legal action was brought against the Allen company by the city and 15 residents last month in an attempt to halt the operation of a metal crushing machine.

They claim it disturbs the surrounding neighborhood. The scrap yard is at 22 Congress.

★ ★ ★

Ziem's immediate concern, however, involves the movement of scrap from Pontiac Motor Division in and out of the yard during the early morning hours; not the operation of the machine.

TENTATIVELY FEB. 24

According to City Attorney William Ewart, the operation of the machine will be argued at the trial, tentatively scheduled by Ziem yesterday for Feb. 24.

A pretrial hearing on the matter will be held Feb. 2.

County Eyes Sale of Facility

definite answer yesterday, however, when asked where the beds would be.

★ ★ ★

Few if any beds are available in other area hospitals, according to Dr. William F. Fidler, medical director of the sanatorium, who also favors sale of the facility.

TO BE AVOIDED

And placing the patients in hospitals a great distance outside Oakland County is to be avoided if at all possible, Dr. Fidler pointed out.

Dr. Berman estimated that at least 25 could be cared for as outpatients, although they would benefit from hospital care.

Some beds are available in private nursing homes in the area, Dr. Berman said, but he did not indicate that enough could be found for all the patients.

★ ★ ★

Both doctors are confident, however, that there will be no interruption in care for the patients and that the present high quality of care will be maintained, regardless of the final solution to the problem.

Panama Guard Rejects Bid

Deny Student Request to Remove Soldiers

PANAMA (AP) — Panama's National Guard Monday night rejected a demand by anti-American students that Panamanian soldiers be removed from the Canal Zone boundary. The students also burned a homemade American flag.

The National Guard so far has prevented student demonstrators from entering the Canal Zone during observance of the first anniversary of the bloody anti-American rioting along the border.

★ ★ ★

Today is the last day of four days of observances commemorating the 21 Panamanians — mostly students — who died in last year's rioting. Most of the activity has been peaceful, but on Saturday guardsmen used tear gas to turn back students marching toward the U.S. zone.

Labor and student organizations said the final commemorative event would be a mass meeting tonight in Santa Ana Plaza near the Canal Zone.

STUDENT LEADERS

Student leaders made anti-American speeches Monday from a terrace of the National Institute, Panama City's largest high school across the street from the Canal Zone.

They displayed a homemade paper American flag, set it afire and hurled it into the schoolyard. About 500 of the school's 2,000 students then marched to the Presidential Palace and demanded that President Marco A. Robles withdraw National Guardsmen posted at each of the 15 intersections leading into the U.S. area.

★ ★ ★

A spokesman for the Guard said the soldiers would remain.

A quiet day of remembrance Saturday in the Canal Zone was the only American observance in honor of the four U.S. soldiers killed in last year's rioting.

11-Year Veteran at Prosecutor's Office to Resign

William E. Lang, an Oakland County assistant prosecutor for 11 years, will resign his post Friday to join the Sylvan Lake law firm of Bond and Dillon.

For the past nine years, Lang, 40, has headed the staff in the Royal Oak office of the prosecuting attorney.

Last Friday, Lang, 236 DeVillen, Royal Oak, was one of two assistants named by Prosecutor S. Jerome Bronson to handle the gambling case involving the Steren Assembly Club in Madison Heights.

Lang and James Roberts were replacing Robert L. Templin, who resigned at the end of the year.

★ ★ ★

Templin had been in charge of prosecuting the case since the club was raided Oct. 11, 1963. The case is awaiting trial.

Bronson said today he has not decided who will be working with Roberts on the case.

THE 'SNOG' WAS A BIT THICK — Electronic student Malcolm Pickard and Shirley Austin, both 16, of Trowbridge, England, were testing Pickard's newest invention, the "snogometer," when in walked the vicar of St. Thomas Church, who was immediately shocked. The pair belongs to the church youth club, and the "snogometer" tests the intensity of a kiss. A "snog" is a kiss in the latest British slang.

Snow Blanket Hits Northeast

By the Associated Press

Travel was impaired, schools and roads were closed and some northeastern cities lay under a foot of snow in the wake of a snow storm which struck a dozen states.

New York City was hit by 5 to 9 inches of snow and the suburbs had deeper accumulations. Most roads in the area have been cleared. Rail travel was heavy Monday as some commuters were forced to leave their autos at home.

Schools in five Maryland counties were closed from the storm which blanketed the state with up to 12 inches of snow.

A snow plan was in effect for 19 of the 23 counties and in Baltimore. Some rural roads were closed, but main highways were open.

RACES HELD

The horse races at Bowie, Md., were held despite six inches of snow. Frozen turf at Waterford Park in Chester, W. Va., caused the day's racing program to be canceled.

About 10 inches of new snow fell in the Eastern Panhandle of West Virginia and lesser amounts elsewhere in the state. Schools in two counties were closed because of snow.

★ ★ ★

Snow also struck the Northwest and a new invasion of arctic air swept across the Plains states.

Two inches of snow hampered travel in the Salt Lake City, Utah, area. One inch whitened Craig, Colo. Fraser — in the mountains outside Denver — had 6 inches of snow in a 6-hour period.

SNOW IN LAKES

Light snow added to the existing accumulation across the upper Great Lakes. Amounts were generally less than 1 inch, but Petoskey, a northern Michigan sports resort, got 12 inches over an 18-hour period.

Temperatures remained below zero all day Monday across the snow-covered Dakotas and the upper Mississippi Valley.

Temperatures sank below zero before nightfall as far south as the Carolinas.

Hearing to Resume on State Rail Lines

LANSING (AP) — Interstate Commission hearings on proposed abandonment of three railroads' facilities in Northern Michigan will resume March 16 in Washington D.C., Atty. Gen. Frank Kelley said Monday.

The Pennsylvania, New York Central and Soo Line railroads propose to abandon the Straits of Mackinac rail car ferry and 300 miles of track between Grand Rapids, Gaylord, and Mackinaw City.

At the coming phase of hearings, the rail lines will try to rebut the state's contention that the facilities in question are profitable to the companies and that abandonment will hurt Northern Michigan's economy.

Iceland Envoy Expires

In Embezzlement Case

Waive Court Exam

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Widowed Mrs. Florence Hollingshead, 47, waived Municipal Court examination Monday on charges of embezzlement which authorities say amounted to some $14,983 from Mutual of Omaha since 1956.

Judge John T. Letts ordered her held for Circuit Court under $5,000 bond on the specific charge that she embezzled $306 last Dec. 4.

★ ★ ★

Employed 26 years by the firm, the $325-per-month cashier-receptionist reportedly signed last Friday a statement in which Cpl. Leon Smith said she admitted taking the money and outlined a breakdown of its use.

Agency Manager Ralph Roloff said she had made the same statement to him earlier. He said she admitted taking the money in amounts of $50 to $250 per month from premium payments in a revolving operation in which she used some to pay delinquent premiums of policyholders affected.

★ ★ ★

Police quoted Mrs. Hollingshead saying she had used the funds to meet personal obligations, including $9,000 as repayment to her father who made restitution for her in 1954 of funds she had taken from the firm.

Residents Seeking Blacktop of Road

Residents on a private road in Waterford Township will seek to make it public in order to proceed with a special assessment blacktopping district with the aid of the township.

A delegation from Maycrest Street appeared before the Township Board last night to discuss their plight and seek guidance.

After getting the required 65 per cent signatures for the special assessment district, they were advised that the township could not contribute its usual 10 per cent of the cost because their street was partially private.

Two alternatives were cited last night by Township Supervisor James E. Seeterlin.

★ ★ ★

The residents could either obtain 100 per cent agreement from those living on the private section of the street or seek condemnation proceedings. He recommended the former action.

NINE WILLING

Nine of the 14 home owners on the section of the street declared private in early platting were present. All were willing to deed over their claims to the street to the township.

Their task now is to sell the remaining residents of the private area on following suit.

In other action last night the board authorized the clerk to take bids on a new car for the fire department. Bids will be opened Jan. 25.

★ ★ ★

Seeterlin suggested that any board members who could should attend the annual meeting of the Michigan Townships Association beginning tomorrow in Lansing.

HOME RULE

Discussion of home rule and assessment procedures were slated, according to Seeterlin.

★ ★ ★

A letter from Supt. of Schools Don O. Tatroe was read advising the board that its suggestion that the school board give its Loon Lake property to either the recreation department or community schools program was denied.

New Library Pact Approved

Expenditures Okayed by Waterford Board

A new contract between the North Oakland Library Cooperative System and the Waterford Township Library was approved last night by the Waterford Township Board.

Basically the same as the original contract signed a year ago, the new one specifies a township expenditure of $9,421 for NOLCS services.

Signing of contract was recommended by the township's Library Advisory Board after an extensive review of its provisions.

Along with its recommendations, the advisory board submitted several points to be considered in future contracts and said that it would continue to work toward improvements in future pacts with the NOLCS.

★ ★ ★

In other library-related action last night, the Township Board approved the library's revised bylaws as recommended by the advisory board and accepted minor changes in the library's book selection policy.

OTHER ACTION

Township Board members also reappointed Librarian Mrs. Richard Lee for another year, approved the reappointmen of Mrs. William Shunck to a three-year term on the advisory board and named Trustee Loren Anderson to fill an unexpired two-year term on the advisory board.

Anderson will replace John S. Coleman as the Township Board's representative on the advisory board.

Coleman resigned from both boards last fall when he moved out of the state.

Withdraw Censure of Area Court

A statement which censured Oakland County Circuit Court last week has been withdrawn by the Michigan State Supreme Court.

Yesterday, the Circuit Court received an amended opinion which deleted the paragraph blaming it for a number of cases that had ended up in the high court.

★ ★ ★

Removed from the opinion, which reversed a decision for the Railroad Improvement Association against a Helen Thomas of Bloomfield Township, was the sentence which read:

"Nearly all of the partially tried cases identified at the beginning of this opinion come here on appeal from the Oakland Circuit (Court)."

Remaining, however, was the sentence which stated that the observations contained in the opinion were "helpfully purposed rather than critically aimed."

Justice Eugene Black wrote the original opinion after a series of reversals on decisions made by lower courts throughout the state.

The President issued the order yesterday at his first Cabinet meeting of the year. A White House spokesman said Johnson placed heavy emphasis on the importance of cutting government costs.

Broadway Playwright Dies in New York

NEW YORK (UPI) — Lorraine Hansberry, prize winning Broadway playwright, died today at University Hospital after a long bout with cancer. She was 34.

Miss Hansberry was best known for her play "A Raisin in the Sun" which was later filmed. Its Broadway run in 1959 won her the New York Critics' Circle Award for "Best Play of the Year," making her the youngest native American dramatist to win this distinction. The filmed version won the Cannes Film Festival's special award in 1961.

LUNAR LANDSCAPE — Astronaut Edwin Aldrin Jr. inspects a lava cone formation in Hawaii on a field trip. Scientists believe the island's lava formations resemble the type of terrain astronauts will encounter on a moon visit.

U.S. Astronauts Inspect Moonlike Area in Hawaii

VOLCANO, Hawaii (AP) — Eight U.S. astronauts tramped Monday through lava flows formed as recently as 1960 on this island 200 miles southeast of Honolulu.

Dr. Howard Powers, scientist-in-charge of the volcano observatory on Hawaii Island, said he was "tremendously impressed by the astronauts' interest" at the end of the first day of the American spacemen's five-day trip on this "moonlike landscape."

Astronaut David Scott said it was his group's first experience with the clinker-type lava on Hawaii Island's volcanic flows. On previous field trips on the American mainland, they had seen older flows mainly of the high quartz rhyolite lava, he said.

★ ★ ★

Today the astronauts will hike through to the crater floor of Kilauea-Iki, the 300-foot-deep lava lake deposited in a 1959 eruption, and on to the rim of Halemaumau fire pit.

★ ★ ★

They will also drive down the Chain of Craters road where they will be shown a series of pit craters.

May Change High School ROTC Plan

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pentagon planners may propose remodeling the high school ROTC program to provide more than 100,000 teen-age youths with training in specialties that could lead to careers as military technicians or in civilian trades.

President Johnson some time ago ordered the Defense Department to study the Junior Reserve Officers Training Corps program and find a way to make it "responsive to the needs of our national defense."

★ ★ ★

The President acted after Congress required that the Junior ROTC program be expanded from the present 254 schools to 1,200.

Defense officials said that the Junior ROTC, as now set up, fills no military requirements, produces no officers and does not lead directly to enlistments in the Army.

The objective is to give that ROTC program a military purpose, officials said.

The present curriculum, based on three hours of training a week and a three-year course, centers around such subjects as military courtesies and conduct, close order drill, military organization, weapons and marksmanship, map reading and the like.

1st DC9 Rolls off Line Today

LONG BEACH, Calif. (UPI) —The first DC9, an airliner designed to bring pure jet service to 98 per cent of the nation's civil airports, rolls of the assembly line at the Douglas Aircraft Co. today.

The $3 million twin-jet has been ordered by seven United States and foreign airlines — Delta, Trans World, Bonanza, Air Canada, Swissair, KLM and Hawaiian. Specific orders total 58 with options for another 60.

Douglas officials said the 118 orders and options fall short of the break-even point needed to make the plane profitable.

But they hope to recover all development costs at about the 200 mark and President Donald W. Douglas Jr. told a news conference that the worldwide market for short-haul jets like the DC9 may reach 1,000 aircraft.

The rollout today marked the completion of the first DC9. Flight tests will begin in March or sooner and airlines operating the new jet expect to start passenger service early in 1966.

Con Game Nets Pair $5,000 From Widow

A bizarre confidence game, played yesterday on the streets and in the stores of downtown Pontiac, cost a 75-year-old widow $5,000.

Mrs. Edna Chester, 75, of 37 Norton told police she had given two strangers $5,000 yesterday afternoon, with the promise of getting her original sum plus $1,200 in return.

Mrs. Chester said she was approached by the pair, at separate times, while shopping downtown.

Police said in the short span of 2½ hours the pair gained the elderly woman's confidence and accompanied her while she withdrew the $5,000 from the bank.

The two thieves were women, one in her early 20s, the other between 40 and 50 years old, Mrs. Chester said.

Fire Kills Oak Parker

OAK PARK (AP) — Mrs. Grace Hogston, 87, died at her Oak Park home Monday when her clothes apparently caught fire as she tried to put out a grease fire on a stove with water, police said.

'Team in Law, Not in Politics'

FARMINGTON (AP)—"Partners in business but not in politics" — that could describe two Farmington Township attorneys who share the same (law) office and are running for the same (political) office.

★ ★ ★

Allen C. Ingle is a Republican and a justice of the peace. And his law partner, John H. Burke, is a Democrat once associated with the same Detroit law firm as former Democratic Lt. Gov. T. John Lesinski.

★ ★ ★

The job they're after is the 14th District State Senate seat, vacated by the death of Paul Chandler, a Livonia Republican.

Ingle, involved in a six-man GOP primary fight, said his entrance was spurred by endorsement of former State Sen. Farrell E. Roberts by top Oakland County Republican leaders. "Party headquarters should stay out of it until after the primary," Ingle said.

★ ★ ★

Burke, who joined Ingle last September, said he's running because he feels qualified. He has primary opposition, too.

He's a Rare Bird

'Humble' Texan Proud of LBJ

By DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Large numbers of Texans are beginning to pour into the capital to supervise next week's presidential inauguration. Among them is my father.

WEST

My father, however, is not a typical Texan. He doesn't brag very much. In fact, he claims that he is "the world's most humble Texan." But he may be bragging about that.

Anyway, my father wanted to be certain that he didn't miss the inauguration, so he arrived early. He has been here since last November.

"Having a native son in the White House is a big honor for Texas, isn't it, little daddy?" I said to my father.

"Indeed it is," my father said. "When Texas was an independent republic, you know, it had its own president. Being president of the United States is the next best thing."

★ ★ ★

While waiting around for the inauguration, my father has been taking in some of the preliminary events. One day he attended the dedication of a statue of the late Speaker Sam Rayburn, a Democrat from you-know-where.

JUST MAKING SURE

Next he witnessed the traditional joint session of Congress that went through the formality of counting the electoral votes. This was a rather boring affair, but my father stayed until the last ballot was tabulated.

★ ★ ★

"I wanted to make sure that Lyndon got a fair shake," he said.

But what my father liked best was the State of the Union message. In particular he liked the part where the President talked about the land where he was born.

"It was once barren land," the president said. "The angular hills were covered with scrub cedar and a few live oaks. Little would grow in the harsh caliche soil. And each spring the Pedernales River would flood the valley.

★ ★ ★

"But man came and worked and endured and built.

ABUNDANT LAND

"Today that country is abundant with fruit, cattle, goats and sheep. There are pleasant homes and lakes, and the floods are gone."

My father thought this was a beautiful passage. He said it reminded him of the part of Texas, a couple of hundred miles north of the Pedernales, where he made his home.

★ ★ ★

"It, too, was barren land," my father said. "The angular hills were covered with scrub cedar, mesquitoes and tumbleweeds. It was hard to make things grow.

"But man came and worked and endured. And today that country is still pretty darned barren."

Junior Editors Quiz on INDIANS

QUESTION: Why did Indian women tie their children on boards?

ANSWER: It sounds cruel to think of strapping a tiny baby on a flat board; but the old-time Indian mother did not think of it that way.

Indians were extremely fond of their children, and the average Indian mother did all for her children she possibly could.

We must remember that an Indian woman did most of the work around the teepee or camp while the men were off hunting. Women built huts, raised the teepee, made baskets, tanned hides, did all the cooking and many other things as well.

Since she needed two hands for many of her tasks, the baby had to be kept warm and safe from animals. She had to be able to carry her child without damaging his tender body.

So she would take a flat board or wickerwork frame and cover it with soft bark or grass, then arrange some kind of protection on top for the baby's head and eyes.

Fastened in this cradle, the baby was safe. The mother could lean the board against a tree and keep an eye on junior and work at the same time.

If a move had to be made to new hunting grounds, the mother would hoist the cradleboard on to her back and off they'd go.

FOR YOU TO DO: Color the picture with all the bright Indian-type colors you can think of.
