3 Die in Dixie Highway, Holly Crashes

Two Brothers, Avon Township Boy Are Victims

Five Suffer Injuries in Separate Crashes Sunday Night

Three young Oakland County boys, two of them brothers, lost their lives in auto crashes last night.

One of the brothers was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital after his father's car collided head-on with another on the Dixie Highway, about 10 miles north of Pontiac.

His brother died four hours later.

The dead are: Joseph Claude Hancock, 11, of 123 S. Saginaw St., Holly.

Michael F. Hancock, 7, his brother, same address. David Gary, 6, of 3392 Grant St., Avon Township.

The Gary boy suffered a fractured skull when his father's auto missed a curve on North Saginaw street in Holly and crashed into a tree. He died in Pontiac General Hospital 2 1/2 hours later.

David's twin brother, Daniel, was treated for head cuts. Another brother, Kenneth, 10, and their mother, Lorraine, 31, are hospitalized with fractures.

Kenneth suffered a fractured jaw. Mrs. Gary a fractured pelvis. They are in fair condition.

The father, Kenneth, 33, a Detroit auto supply firm employee, was not injured.

State Police theorize the Dixie Highway crash occurred when a northbound car driven by Joseph Hancock, 33, of the Holly address, crossed the center line. Hancock was reported in fair condition at Pontiac General with a possible skull fracture.

A passenger in the southbound auto, Lela Hensley, 17, of Dearborn, is in fair condition at Pontiac General with a fractured jaw and multiple cuts and bruises.

The southbound auto's driver, Joseph Waldeck, 24, of Dearborn was scheduled to make a state-

Nixon in Havana on Official Calls

Vice President Arrives Safely Despite Engine Trouble En Route

HAVANA, Cuba (U-P)—Sugar and communism occupied the chief attention of Vice President Richard M. Nixon today as he began the first round of official calls on his 12-stop Caribbean tour.

Accompanied by his wife and Henry Holland, assistant secretary of state for inter-American affairs, Nixon arrived from Washington last night after one of his plane's four engines went out of commission. His four-week itinerary also includes Mexico, Guatemala, El Salvador, Honduras, Nicaragua, Costa Rica, Panama, the Virgin Islands, Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic and Haiti.

Nixon announced Holland was flying on today to Rio de Janeiro "to continue negotiations on various economic projects which have been pending for some time."

Neither Nixon nor Holland would specify what was to be discussed in Rio, but it was believed several major Brazilian economic projects (Continued on Page 2, Col. 2)

Dulles Seeking Chiang Pact OK

Week's Delay in Senate Would Postpone Ballot Until Feb. 21

WASHINGTON (INS)—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles returns to Capitol Hill today to urge speedy Senate ratification of the Formosa Defense Treaty—which must pass this week or be delayed until Feb. 21.

Senate foreign relations chairman Walter F. George (D-Ga.) said that unless his committee reports the pact by Tuesday it will be "doubtful" whether a Senate vote can be reached until late this month.

He pointed out that both parties have agreed to transact no important business from Friday of this week, Feb. 11, until Feb. 21—the period during which Republicans will be observing Lincoln's birthday and many senators will be absent on speaking tours.

Dulles returned from his week's vacation in the Bahamas yesterday and declined to comment on the Formosa situation. However, he said he had been in constant communication with President Eisenhower during the past week and that "nothing very surprising has happened" on the international scene during his absence.

The secretary goes before the Senate committee this afternoon. Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore.) has served notice that he wants the treaty thoroughly explored, and George said this might mean Morse would "want reservations" attached to the document.

The chairman explained: "There might be some reservations which could be made and which would not be objectionable to our government in themselves, but the trouble is that it would be so difficult to get Nationalist China to go along with anything that seems to deny their sovereignty over territory now in their hands."

This was in reference to the debated issue of whether the U. S. should guarantee defense of Quemoy, Matsu or other Nationalist-held islands close to the China mainland.

Pinay Seeking Second Term in 'Bear Cage'

Former Prime Minister to Try to Organize New French Government

PARIS (U-P)—Antoine Pinay, a conservative who once said he would "never go back into that bear cage," sought support today for his second term as French premier.

The 63-year-old owner of a small-town tannery agreed last night to try to form France's 21st postwar government, succeeding the Cabinet of Pierre Mendes-France.

Pinay told newsmen he hoped to have his list of prospective ministers ready by Thursday.

One of the longer-lived of France's numerous postwar premiers, Pinay headed the government for 9 1/2 months in 1952. He won considerable personal popularity with his conservative "save the franc" fiscal policy, which checked rising prices though it did not solve France's basic economic ills. Facing three confidence votes and considered certain to lose all of them, he resigned Dec. 23, 1952, and vowed never again.

He tried again to form a government, however, during the record 37-day government crisis in the summer of 1953, but failed.

Otherwise, he has been on the sidelines. A prim, almost dour little man, he rarely spoke in the Assembly but was a powerful voice in his Independent Republican party and a stubborn opponent of Mendes-France.

His party and the MRP were the backbone of the last Premier's opposition. When the Communists, a bloc of Mendes-France's own Radical Socialists, and some of the Gaullists joined them in voting against the Premier's North African policy Saturday morning, the Cabinet fell after 7 1/2 months in office.

There is considerable feeling that the next premier will last only a few months, being kept in office chiefly to clear up a number of urgent problems awaiting action.

Chief of these are the Paris treaties to rearm West Germany, which have been approved by the Assembly but await ratification by the Council of the Republic. Parliament's upper house.

Pinay supported the European Defense Community plan, which the Assembly killed last summer with Mendes-France's tacit approval. Pinay abstained in the Assembly vote on the Paris rearmament treaties—which Mendes-France had negotiated—but this was attributed to his deep antagonism toward the Premier rather than outright hostility to German rearmament.

Trio of 13-Year-Olds Takes Over Bank Office

LOS ANGELES (UP)—Three 13-year-old financiers took over the Security-First National Bank branch at East Los Angeles when someone forgot to lock the bank's door. Sheriff's deputies found the three "playing bank." One had his feet on the president's desk, another was at the chief loan officer's desk and the third was on duty as head cashier.

ABOARD 7TH FLEET CARRIER—The U. S. Seventh Fleet is covering evacuation of Chinese Nationalist troops and civilians from Tachen Islands. The Nationalists have maintained a 14,000-man garrison on the island, and there are about 18,000 civilians. "Operation Pullback" is expected to take from 10 to 14 days. Floods Menace Southern States

Torrential Rain Pounds Dixie as New England Braces for Snow

By UNITED PRESS

Flood warning were issued for parts of Alabama and Georgia today as cold rains pounded much of the deep South.

The southland was soaked by rains that measured nine inches deep at Pensacola, Fla., yesterday and sent floodwaters pouring into the city's streets and low-lying areas.

Many southern rivers swirled dangerously towards flood stage today as the rains continued.

Elsewhere in the nation, heavy snow warnings were issued for Vermont, New Hampshire and Maine and the mercury plummeted to 14 below zero at Grantsburg, Wis.

The rains which swept Dixie yesterday posed a threat of tornadoes in Alabama and Georgia for a while and took the form of severe thunderstorms in Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama.

Four inches of rain in just 45 minutes hit New Orleans, La., to (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Denies Knowledge of Red Contribution to Senator

WASHINGTON (U-P)—Sen. McClellan (D-Ark.) says he has asked and received the resignation of investigator Charles Tracy, but knows nothing of a report that Tracy had information linking a Democratic senator with a campaign contribution from a Communist.

Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) said in Milwaukee that a Democratic senator whom he refused to name had knowingly received $300 from a Communist party official on the West Coast.

He said Tracy had "stumbled onto" the information and was being fired as a result.

But McClellan, who succeeded McCarthy as chairman of the Senate Investigations subcommittee for which Tracy works, said "I never heard of it before."

McClellan said he had advised six subcommittee staff members who had worked under McCarthy that "they would not be recommended for confirmation" in their old jobs, because "I didn't want to retain them, period."

Four of them have tendered their resignations, including Tracy. McClellan said, "I don't know what information Tracy may have given Sen. McCarthy. It certainly wasn't made known to me."

McCarthy, in Milwaukee for an address last night, said in an interview he had a photographic copy of a $300 bank draft to the unnamed senator, and added: "There is no question this senator knew from whom the money came or what his business was."

"I'm not going to name this man until he has had the opportunity of testifying under oath as to just why he accepted this money."

McCarthy said the money first was sent to the senator as a personal check, but the senator refused the check and demanded the bank draft.

Russians Asked to Help in China

Eden Reveals Britain Requested Soviet Effort to Halt Civil War

LONDON (U-P)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said today Britain has asked the Soviet government to urge restraint on the Chinese Communists in the delicate situation now existing off the China coast.

Approaches were made Jan. 23 by the British ambassador in Moscow, Sir William Hayter. Eden told the House of Commons. Eden has talked with the Soviet charge d'affaires here.

Eden refused to be drawn into a detailed discussion of the moves, saying:

"Conversations are taking place between a number of governments and diplomacy must be given its chance to do some work about this."

Eden rose in the House as news dispatches said Chinese Communist anti-aircraft guns had fired on American carrier-based jet planes screening the Chinese Nationalist evacuation of the Tachen Islands.

Regarding this evacuation, Eden said:

"The government shares the hope, which has been expressed by the U. S. government, that these steps will contribute to a cessation of Communist attacks and to the restoration of peace and security to the West Pacific."

Eden stressed that the British government was in close consultation with Washington and with other capitals in efforts to bring about a cease-fire. Despite Chinese Communist rejection of the U.N. invitation, Eden held out hope that "other means and methods" might bring about a cease-fire.

7th Fleet Ready to Cover Pullout by Nationalists

Evacuation of Islands Getting Started as U. S. Navy Stands Guard

TAIPEI (INS)—The Chinese Communists were reported assembling a large naval force today 50 miles north of the Tachen Islands where the U. S. 7th Fleet waited to protect Nationalist evacuation ships.

Intelligence reports of a concentration of Communist warships of all sizes in Sanmen Bay sent Nationalist military chiefs into urgent conference and brought warnings of a possible "sneak attack" to commanders directing the Tachen evacuation.

The 7th Fleet, however, reported "no enemy sighted" and military sources conceded Red China could be pulling her ships back to waters north of the Tachens to avoid clashes with the powerful American armada.

Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, 7th Fleet commander, announced that no enemy had been sighted and "everything in the current operation is proceeding according to schedule."

Pride's statement, relayed from his flagship, the cruiser Helena, came as American advance parties went ashore on the Tachens to clear mines from the harbor and set up loading procedures for the evacuation of the Communist-menaced islands.

The first military evacuation ship, carrying 130 of the 15,500 troops being withdrawn from the invasion-menaced Tachens, arrived at Keelung after an "uneventful voyage" through a sea channel lined with American naval might and protected by an umbrella of jet planes.

Nationalist military sources reported a hull all along the 300 mile front of the Communist-Nationalist civil war during the first day of the Tachen evacuation.

American officials were reasonably confident the Reds would not try to oppose the withdrawal, but Nationalists expressed uneasiness at which was termed "super-Communism" might be preparing a "surprise of sneak action."

Radio Peiping hurled menacing words as the evacuation started, charging that the U. S. was "open-

HONOLULU — The new strato clippers are bringing closer together the peoples of all nations. They are the greatest distance eradicators of all time.

Cruising at 300 miles per hour at an elevation of two to five miles between San Francisco and Honolulu, I talked to men in the lounge on the lower deck of the "Flying Cloud" from Tokyo, Manila, Copenhagen and Philadelphia.

All were United States citizens except the Dane — and he speaks better English than myself. He drives a Detroit made car, and his son in Calcutta is taking delivery on a new Pontiac.

The man from Tokyo is with General Motors and has been in Japan for 15 years before and after the war. He says that country now is our best friend among the nations and feels that our financial aid is being forced upon it, and wants to go it alone, but as our ally.

The Manila resident has some connection with the government there, was on his way home from an official call at Washington, was rather close mouthed, but admits a Communist threat.

Both men feel that President Eisenhower is doing the proper thing in the present China crisis. The Philadelphia man has some connection with Texas Panhandle, and was on his way to Hong Kong, where he was due to arrive in less than 24 hours after Honolulu. He has two sons in the University of Michigan.

Among the other 80 passengers, the registration showed almost as many from foreign countries as from the United States. Their conversation showed that most of them have forsaken all ground or water for long distance travel.

With a crew of 18, the "Flying Cloud" strato clipper rides as easily as any automobile, with practically no vibration. You walk its stairway between decks as easily as you move about in your own home.

Its gross weight is 145,000 pounds, its cargo capacity is 17,500 pounds, and it is driven by four 28-cylinder engines, each of 3,500 horse power. It has an operating range of 4,500 miles, wing span of 141 feet, is 110 feet long and 38 feet high.

The Gary boy was a first grade student at Lutheran Day School, Rochester. The family has lived in Avon Township for six years.

The elder Gary said the family was returning from a visit with relatives in Fenton about 9:30 p. m. when the accident took place on an S-curve on North Saginaw street in Holly.

"I made the one curve and then I don't know what happened," he said. "Whether I passed out or not I can't understand yet. My wife said she hollered but I didn't acknowledge it."

"I don't believe I was going over 40 miles an hour. But the way things look I must have been going faster."

The auto was badly damaged.

Funeral services are pending for the Gary boy at the William R. Potere Funeral Home, Rochester. Funeral arrangements for the Hancock boys are pending at the Brace-Smith Funeral Home.

Neighbors said Hancock is employed at the Fenton Industry Tool Co. They said he has been separated from his wife for the past six months.

He reportedly has two other sons, one 14 and one about 7, who live with his wife.

The accident took place about 11 p. m. on U. S. 10, near Davisburg road and the exact cause is still unknown.

In 1896 two Americans—George Harbo and Frank Samuelson—rowed across the Atlantic Ocean in an 18-foot open boat. They used only oars—no sails, no motor. Their 3,200-mile row took them 62 days.

Pinned Worker Loses Left Leg

Detroit Edison Employee in Fair Condition After Car Crashes Truck

A Detroit Edison crewman, pinned beneath a 3½-ton trailer by a car Saturday night near the eastern city limits, is reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital. His left leg, crushed by the impact, was amputated yesterday.

Royce J. King, 29, of 624 Burgess, Milford, father of two young children was struck while working behind the trailer on Auburn avenue near Eastway street by an auto driven by Everett M. Clayton, 47, of 67 Regent St.

Clayton, who was scheduled to make a statement to the prosecutor's office today, told police he didn't see the victim. He is being held for investigation of felonious driving. Police said.

Clayton and his passenger, Curtis Simpson, 37, of 248 Auburn Ave., both were released after treatment for cuts and bruises.

According to the crew foreman, Lester T. Snyder, 61, of 1630 Parkway Dr., Sylvan Lake, the impact hurled three other men working in the trailer and atop the truck to the pavement. None were hurt seriously.

The eight workmen were repairing damages caused when an insulator on a transmission line failed and set afire a utility pole.

"Luckily, I ordered the men to put on their gloves which were in the truck. Before that, they were all at the rear of the trailer," Snyder said.

Patrolman Howard Lenigan said the crew had placed flares a 100 feet back from the trailer and five floodlights lighted up the area.

Police, who gave Clayton a blood test, quoted the driver as saying he had been drinking, "but wasn't drunk."

grams would be gone over. Nixon emphasized that the visit had "no relation whatsoever" to political affairs, which have been turbulent in Brazil since top military leaders there called on the numerous political parties to reduce the number of presidential candidates in order to avoid public agitation.

Holland is expected to rejoin Nixon in Mexico City later this week. Nixon's schedule today included an official call on President Andres Bello, a private visit with president-elect Fulgencio Batista, and a dinner honoring the vice president and his wife at the presidential palace to night.

Sugar, on which Cuban economy largely depends, was the major topic for discussion between Nixon and his hosts. The island republic has a million-ton surplus, but U.S. sugar beet and cane growers are also faced with a surplus and are pressing for increased marketing quotas in the United States which would slice Cuba's share.

Nixon was said to feel there should be no revision in quotas before the end of 1956. He reportedly regards the present U.S. sugar act as an international commitment and to feel that any sudden change would be disastrous for Cuba.

McCarthy made no mention of campaign contributions when he said last week that the Democrats had asked seven staff members to quit. At that time he called it "cheap and petty politics at its lowest and dirtiest ebb."

McClellan said that in addition to Tracy, he has received resignations from three men McCarthy had named as assistant counsel to the subcommittee—Thomas Lavenia, Daniel Buckley and C. George Anastas. All the resignations are effective at the end of the month.

McClellan said most other staff members will continue in their jobs.

More Snow, Clouds Seen for Tuesday

Although weekend temperatures were higher than those recorded on previous days, the predicted tail end of a storm brought over two inches of snow to the Pontiac area.

Only 4 of an inch of snow fell Friday, but Saturday's windy weather was accompanied by a full two inches of wet snow.

Tuesday's forecast is for more snow and cloudy skies with a high near 30. Tonight will be increasingly cloudy, with a low of 14 to 18 degrees expected.

Saturday temperatures ranged from 16 to 34. Sunday was relatively warm with a low of 26 and a high of 36. This morning at 8 o'clock in downtown Pontiac the mercury stood at 20 degrees, rising to 33 by 1 p. m.

There are hot springs on Deception Island, 325 miles southeast of Cape Horn.

Policemen Turn Orators

MOUNT PLEASANT—A pair of Mount Pleasant post state police troopers have found that speech making is a vital part of police work. Trooper Russell Gates recently completed a series of 42 traffic safety speeches at various schools. Trooper George Halverson has delivered 25 lectures and is scheduled for 40 more in Gratiot and Clare counties.

"Old Ironsides," the famed and still preserved USS Constitution, had a sister ship that was launched in 1797 and was christened the USS United States. Notoriously slow and heavy, she was nicknamed "Old Wagon" and after many rebuildings was finally scrapped in 1886.

PANDA HIT AT SONJA'S PARTY—Jack Rau, dressed as a panda, dances with actress Angela Green at Sonja Henie's lavish costume party at Ciro's in Hollywood Saturday night. Rau was one of the big hits at the party, the likes of which Hollywood hasn't seen for a long time.

'Toonerville' Cartoonist Retiring After 40 Years
VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Fontaine T. Fox, who drew "Toonerville Folks" cartoons for newspapers 40 years, is retiring.

He said his last drawing will appear Feb. 12.

The "Toonerville Folks" strip, which features a rickety trolley, was one of the earliest comic strips.

Fox, a native of Louisville, Ky., said he planned to "read a little, fish a little and get a little traveling done."

"I'll be ending 50 years of slavery at the drawing board," he said.

ly participating in a war provocation against Red China, but Communist planes and warships apparently were restricted to bases near the mainland.

The Communist radio said an order to the 7th Fleet to "go into action" if the Reds opposed the evacuation was an act "fraught with the intrigue of starting a major war."

But there was no indication the Communists planned action against the 7th Fleet evacuation escort making up the greatest armada of American carrier strength since World War II.

Meanwhile, Nationalist defense officials reported the evacuation was proceeding smoothly and reaffirmed an order to all outposts and rear installations to remain under "full alert and in combat readiness against any eventuality during the Tachen evacuation."

Nationalist Premier O. K. Yui warned "that the present world situation is moving into a final showdown" and appealed to the free world to halt Red Chinese aggression with "collective strength."

Official confirmation of the Tachen withdrawal brought dejection to Taipei. Newspaper editorials urged that the evacuation must be the "last Dunkirk for free China."

Civilian evacuation of the Tachens got under way simultaneously with "Operation Pullout." Most of the 17,000 civilians will be ferried to Nanchuan Island 120 miles north of Formosa.

They will be taken to Formosa after the military evacuation is completed in approximately two weeks.

The event is sponsored by the Fraternal Order of Eagles.

Broomfield Asks Dutch Elm Study

County Senator Offers Measure to Set Up Unit for Disease Research

A resolution will be introduced tomorrow by Oakland County's State Senator William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak) which would set up a three-member Senate committee to work toward stamping out the Dutch Elm disease in Michigan.

The committee would work with the Department of Agriculture in devising a program to fight the tree-killer, which "is rapidly and dangerously spreading," said Broomfield.

Pontiac had 30 cases in 1954, compared with three in 1953 when the disease was first discovered here.

"Appropriations have been made to the Agricultural Department to fight the disease, but I feel further assistance is urgently needed," the senator asserted.

The committee would survey the current scope of the disease and report back to the Senate in time for a program aimed at wiping it out to be passed during the Legislature's 1955 session," he explained.

U. N. Awaiting Next U. S. Move

Formosa Cease-Fire Talks Suspended Until Lodge Airs Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—New U. N. Security Council moves on the Formosa cease-fire question hinged today on plans brought back from Washington by U. S. Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

Delegations recessed consultations over Sunday while they waited for a clue to U. S. intentions. Lodge announced after a Saturday breakfast with President Eisenhower that the U. S. program would be made known by midweek.

Victor A. Belandier, Peruvian president of the council this month, said the talks today and tomorrow would determine when the next council meeting will be held. He said the week had produced no clear agreement on what the next step should be.

There was some feeling that the British Commonwealth prime ministers' talks in London would begin to be mirrored here in delegation activity early in the week. Reports from London said India's roles in the talks there and Soviet Foreign Office conferences with British and Indian diplomats in Moscow might be related to some kind of unwritten cease-fire agreement.

The New York Times in a dispatch from Washington said the United States would urge the U. N. to send a "peace observation" mission to Formosa and the Pescadores to report on any aggressive action in the area. The Times said the Americans, assuming that the Soviet Union would veto any cease-fire or peace observation resolution in the Security Council, were trying to arrange for the veto-free General Assembly or the interim "Little Assembly" to send the observers.

It was raining east of the Appalachians throughout the area north of Georgia early today and three inches of snow fell on Burlington, Vt.

Temperatures were chilly in the Midwest, but strong southwesterly winds which hit gusts of 65 miles-per-hour warmed up the northern Rockies.

On the Pacific coast, the temperature at Los Angeles, Calif., dropped 40 degrees for the second day in a row.

Morset, 48, is wanted for a daylight robbery of a Chicago finance company on March 20, 1950. After a wild automobile chase, Morset and an accomplice were captured. They obtained bond after being indicted and Morset never showed up for trial.

Farmers Week Opens at MSC

Figy Speaks Today on Dairy Issues; 40,000

EAST LANSING (UP) — Michigan farmers flocked to Michigan State College today for the opening of the school's 40th annual Farmers Week.

College officials expected crowds of at least 40,000, including representatives of business, education, religion, science and agriculture as well as farm families.

Charles Figy, former Michigan Director of Agriculture and now an assistant to United States Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson, spoke to dairymen at an afternoon session today.

Benson, in his second appearance at Michigan State College, will address the afternoon general session of the conference Wednesday.

Figy, who owns a dairy farm at Morenci, said the level of government support is not the entire answer to the dairy price problem.

"The future of the dairy business will be brighter when we run our own business instead of depending on the government to do the job for us," he said.

"Our problem is to bring production in line with demand."

The price of class I milk in Detroit last December was only 19 cents per hundred less than during a similar period a year ago, Figy said. "Government supports were 75 per cent of parity last December and 90 per cent a year ago."

Possible Solution Outlined for Carver School Dispute

A measure to increase the number of persons eligible to seek school posts in the George Washington Carver School district of Royal Oak Township has been advanced to clear up the problems of the strife-torn area.

George F. Taylor, chief assistant Oakland County Prosecutor, said today he is considering recommending state legislation that would allow people with children in schools in a school district with less than 50 property owners and a 2,000 child school enrollment to seek election to the school board.

At present only property owners may serve on boards of education.

Much of the trouble in the Carver board has been laid to the fact that most of the residents in the district are not property owners, leaving only about 40 eligible to seek office.

The school has been the scene of strikes by parents, fights, and threatened violence since its formation in 1945. Currently several recall petitions seeking to oust board members have been filed by different factions of the school board.

Taylor said today that if he does draw up such a plan, he would give it to State Senator William S. Broomfield to present in the legislature.

"This is perhaps the only solution to the problem down there, and it wouldn't interfere with the operation of other school districts," Taylor stated.

ROME—M. Sgt. Donald Rinnas of Michigan's Aircraft Filter Center in Grand Rapids will address members of the Romeo Rotary Club at the regular meeting tomorrow evening.

Sgt. Rinnas described the need for the post, in order to complete the "ring of posts which will encircle the county area."

He also described the hours a volunteer must serve each week, and the need for all-night vigilance at the post.

When speaking to the local service club, he will explain the need for full cooperation by village business-men, housewives, and the youth of the community to make the lookout operation a successful contribution to the country's defense against enemy aircraft.

Get-Well-Quick Remedies Common

Several Cures Are Advanced for Sick Dairy Industry

WASHINGTON (AP)—A number of "get-well-quick" remedies have been advanced during the past year or so for curing the ills of the nation's dairy industry, but no panacea has been found.

Most of them would require action on the part of the government designed to bring speedy increases in prices dairymen receive for their milk. A few have been tried on a small scale, but most have been rejected by the Eisenhower administration largely on the grounds that there is no easy remedy.

The dairy industry is beset by declines in prices, losses in income and accumulation of surpluses. Producer prices of milk have dipped 18 per cent and of butterfat 22 per cent during the past two years. Cash receipts from milk and butterfat have declined 10 per cent.

Naturally this situation has evoked complaints from many dairymen and demands by some farm leaders in and out of congress that more positive steps be taken by the government to bring about improvements.

The problem is twofold: To dispose of 750 million pounds of surplus dairy products accumulated by the Agriculture Department under past efforts to bolster prices; and to prevent the piling up of new surpluses.

Solving one would not necessarily solve the other.

Some of the more spectacular remedies have been suggested to eliminate present surpluses. Most of them have been of the "give-away" variety.

One was that the government's big stocks of butter—which now total nearly 300 million pounds—be sold to domestic consumers at cut-rate prices such as a pound for one cent with every pound purchased at the regular price.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson considered this for some time, but finally dropped it in the belief that it would be a slow and difficult method of reducing surpluses.

There have been demands—particularly by some congressmen—that the government embark upon an energetic program of selling surplus butter abroad. Inasmuch as world market prices are below domestic prices, export sales could be made only at cut-rate prices.

This was tried, but other dairy exporting countries objected on the ground that the U.S. was engaging in export dumping. These complaints, which got a good ear at the State Department, came from friendly nations.

Despite these protests, the government still is attempting to sell limited quantities abroad below cost. But the expert market does not appear to offer an outlet for any sizable quantities of the present surplus or of future production of butter or other dairy products.

Some persons have suggested that the American people would market prices to Iron Curtain countries in exchange for strategic materials. While having the approval of Secretary Benson, these proposals have been rejected by the White House because of belief that the American people would object to Russians getting U.S.

butter at prices below those they pay.

Turning to the problem of preventing new surpluses, proposals have been advanced that the government restrict milk output by means of control measures. But the Eisenhower administration is opposed to farm controls except as a last resort.

Benson contends that the only solution of lasting value is one embracing improved dairy promotion and sales campaigns by the industry itself and adoption by dairymen of more efficient methods of producing milk. He says a larger portion of the milk should be sold as fluid milk and less as butter and cheese.

The secretary feels that if the dairy industry will cut its costs and halt for the time being an increase in dairy cow numbers, the domestic demand for milk will increase sufficiently—aided by an increasing population—to balance with production within a few years. Such balance, he says, would boost dairy prices back to more satisfactory levels.

Your Heart's in Your Hands

Keeping Heart Well Is Full Time Job

By DR. WILLIAM A. BRAMS
(Last of series.)

NEW YORK (NEA) — To the millions of persons with heart disease, there is often a definite question as to which is harder to do: survive the attack itself, or make the adjustments later that will help to prevent a recurrence.

As you some day may find out yourself, learning to live with a heart condition is a job that permits no errors.

Your greatest foe will be fear. Cardiologists find, again and again, that the average patient who remains an invalid after a heart attack has broken off his routine of life not because he is crippled by the damage done to his heart, but because of his own anxiety.

The facts, however, are reassuring. Death is exceptional, during or just after a heart attack. Of every 10 persons who suffer an attack of coronary thrombosis, eight or nine live on.

In anticipating the future, out experience shows there are two possibilities. Hardening of the arteries may continue and increase, so that the condition becomes more hazardous. But it also may come to a stop.

We do not know when or why or how, but we do know that this seems common.

For individual cases, prediction is out of the question. The best we can do is to make some general statements — remembering all the while that your case may be an exception.

The outlook for active life is best, as a rule, for those whose hearts were not very badly damaged. And yet every cardiologist has seen what he thought were extremely grave cases return to normal life.

You are better off if you're young (and that includes 40's to 50's) and have had but a single attack. The records tell us also that women tolerate coronary thrombosis better than men. They are not as subject to it in the first place, and they make more complete recoveries. We do not know why.

One fact, however, is certain: your prospects of pulling through are less if you're overweight. You must win the battle with your appetite to win the war with coronary thrombosis.

The word on what you can eat and drink will have to come from your doctor, who knows your entire condition. As far as your heart itself is concerned, the only food banned is salt.

A glass of beer contains a very small amount of salt and not many calories, hence this amount is permissible for patients with coronary thrombosis. Alcohol, coffee and tea — always in moderation — may actually be of help, as they tend to increase circulation. The coffee plant, in fact, is a close relative of plants from which heart drugs are derived.

The general policy on tobacco is: Habitual smokers may indulge moderately, provided it is denicotinized tobacco. Others should not smoke.

One of your hazards is constipation because of the extra straining which may result. Your doctor can help to relieve this, and always should be consulted.

In general, if recovery appears complete, you may follow in moderation your former habits of social intercourse, sports and travel. If, however, your heart was left impaired, you must make concessions as the price of continued health.

For example, your hours, if you feel fatigued by your day's round, it is good sense to go to bed early. Let your sensations be your guide and always be sure to heed them.

As long as driving a car does not tire or excite you, it may safely be undertaken. But wait for at least three months and never take any long trips unless there is someone to relieve you at the wheel. And if you must travel with luggage or sample cases, always let someone else lift them in and out of the car.

Stick to sports that are not competitive, such as easy horseback riding or walking on the level. Games like tennis and squash are too fast and hard. (Golf, however, is fine, provided you take it easy.)

Most people are under the impression that heart patients do better if they move to a warm climate. But there is no evidence that climate has any effect on hardening of the arteries.

The typical heart patient of today is not an invalid. Fifteen or 20 years ago, you would have been ordered to retire from active life. We know now that this was a tragic loss of years.

Your doctor will guide you in working out a safe mode of life, if only you will cooperate. Unless your case is severe, you can probably go back to work though you may be advised to change your job—and you may have trouble finding employment.

You may find you are given no medicines. Physicians wish it were otherwise, but we simply do not know of any drugs to prescribe for you once your attack is over.

Following a sensible program will bring you, day by day, closer to recovery. Then, as you find yourself easing back into life, put fear behind you. Your plight is no worse—and probably better—than that of thousands of others who are now leading happy, productive lives.

Think of yourself as they do—as master of your fate!

State Firm Sued by French Group in Roquefort Rift

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Cheese may look like Roquefort, taste like Roquefort—even smell like Roquefort—but still not be Roquefort.

Or at least that's what the Societe Anonyme Civile des Producteurs de Fromage de Roquefort—the people who make Roquefort—contend.

The French Roquefort cheese producers have brought suit in federal court here against Bill Stern's Famous Brands, Inc., of Muskegon.

They say that a cheese dressing sold by the Muskegon firm has no more than a negligible amount of Roquefort in it, and is a mixture containing mostly bleu cheese.

Roquefort, on the other hand, they say, is prepared from ewe's milk and ripened in caves in the vicinity of Roquefort, France.

The Roquefort producers are seeking an injunction against the Muskegon company.

Bob Crosby Suffers Pneumonia Attack

HOLLYWOOD (P)—Bob Crosby, brother of Bing, is in St. Vincent's Hospital today, seriously ill with lobar pneumonia.

The television star was stricken Saturday and his temperature soared to 104 degrees, a CBS spokesman said. His temperature was back to about normal yesterday but he will remain in the hospital for another week or 10 days.

Singer Jack Smith will replace Crosby during his illness on the weekday Bob Crosby Show on CBS television.

Webb Lines Up a 14-Karat Cast for 'Pete Kelly'

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS
HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Jack Webb is about to get himself a 14 karat cast for "Pete Kelly's Blues." His first move in that direction is Janet Leigh. Janet has just finished "My Sister Eileen" at Columbia — but who can resist Webb? Besides, I think he's going to have a good picture.

I hope he doesn't say goodbye to Sgt. Friday, however. Too many people throughout the country will be disappointed if anything happens to "Dragnet."

Janet has one picture a year commitment with Columbia, and aside from that she's free to make any deal her little heart desires.

old Universal Co. almost 10 years ago with the stipulation that if this studio didn't make it within 10 years the rights reverted to him.

"Soldier of Fortune" is finished, and Clark Gable leaves this week for Mexico for some hunting. Susan Hayward is making arrangements to go to New York for two weeks vacation.

I asked Jane Russell when I saw her a few days ago if "Tall Men" would be her next picture with Gable. She said as soon as Howard Hughes makes the final arrangements with 20th she is supposed to check in to play opposite Clark.

"But I can't say yet when I am going to do it," said Jane.

I'd heard that Gable wants to make two pictures as quickly as possible, then go roaming again.

There has been a rumor floating around town that Stewart Granger has asked to step out of "Bhowani Junction," the Ava Gardner picture which will be made in India. This, however, MGM denies.

I was told that Edmund Purdom would be sent to India in place of Stewart. That would be one way of getting him away from the charms of Linda Christian.

But in no uncertain terms, everyone connected with "Bhowani Junction" denies that Granger has bowed out. That's all today.

Ike Wants Standard Absent Voter Laws

WASHINGTON (P)—Governors of the 48 states have been asked by President Eisenhower to seek passage before next year's elections of uniform state laws regulating absentee voting by service personnel.

In a letter to the governors, made public last night, Eisenhower asked that state legislatures act this year to enact statutes "tested against the experience of World War II voting."

Administration recommendations for such laws are contained in a proposal to codify federal laws on absentee voting.

Fishing by the Barrel
PORT ELIZABETH, South Africa (INS)—A South African angler cast his line into the ocean hoping to catch one fish and hit the jackpot. He hooked a barrel packed with salted herring.

The first successful reaping machine was patented on Dec. 31, 1833.

Sonja Henie Wins Praise for All-Out Circus Party

HOLLYWOOD (P)—The film town's cafe society today voted Sonja Henie the hostess with the mostess after her circus party that dazzled the Sunset Strip.

Miss Henie commandeered Ciro's Saturday night for an estimated $15,000. Dressed in a scanty trapeze costume of pink and spangles plus her brilliant diamonds, the skating star treated 200 guests to a filet mignon dinner and all the French champagne they could drink.

The filmsters had the time of their lives. James Mason came as a gentle clown with a nose that flashed a red light. Mrs. Mason was a bearded lady, as were Benay Venuta and Lita Baron (Mrs. Rory Calhoun).

Esther Williams won a mugnum of champagne for the best costume; she was a Persian mind reader with a goldfish bowl as a crystal ball. Mrs. Reginald Gardner arrived as "Marilyn the sexy seal," flippers and all. Zsa Zsa Gabor seemed well cast as Vampira, the TV menace. Peggy Lee was realistic tattooed lady in a skin-tight jersey.

No expense was spared for the circus motif. Miss Henie supplied a live hippo, calliope, cotton candy, side show posters, clowns and acrobats. Said one veteran party goer: "It's just like the old days."

June Allyson, Bill Holden Get Gold Medal Awards

The gold medals and certificates, and 46 other awards for outstanding 1954 achievement in every phase of the industry, will be presented to the winners at Photoplay Magazine's annual presentation banquet Feb. 10 in the Crystal Room of the Beverly Hills Hotel, Hollywood.

Grains Sinking in Routine Deals

CHICAGO — Grains headed downward in routine dealings on the Board of Trade today.

News that the evacuation of Chinese Nationalist forces on the Tachen Islands was being carried out so far without any fighting between Chinese Communists and American forces prevented any wild scramble for grains.

With the Formosa situation exerting little or no influence on the market, traders paid more attention to such routine grain items as fairly large receipts of cash grain, reports of a price squeeze on soybean processors, and lack of export business in wheat.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 to 1 1/2 lower, March 2.28 1/2, corn was 1/4 to 1/2 lower, March 1.53, oats were 1/4 to 1/2 lower, March 76 1/2, rye was 1/2 to 1 cent lower, March 1.23 1/2, soybeans were 1/4 to 1/2 lower, March 2.79 1/2 and lard was unchanged, May 12.75.

$15 Million Damages Paid in Train Wreck

WOODBRIDGE, N. J. (AP)—A Pennsylvania Railroad official says the line has paid out about 13 million dollars in death and injury claims stemming from the wreck of a commuter train here four years ago.

The tragedy, which took a toll of 96 lives and brought injuries to 900 persons, will cost the railroad a total of more than 15 million dollars, said Robert B. Champlin, vice president in charge of public relations.

Champlin spoke here Saturday night—the eve of the fourth anniversary of the disaster. He said it cost the Pennsylvania two million dollars for repair and equipment.

The overall cost to the railroad as a result of the crash will be more than that from any accident in the line's 108-year history, Champlin declared.

First Lead Role Sung by Negro

Pleased by Hometown's Interest; Sees Decline of Arts Color Barrier

NEW YORK (AP) — Leontyne Price, who set a precedent and scored an artistic triumph in the recent NBC telecast of the opera Tosca, has another important date coming up.

"It's March 11 when the Junior Chamber of Commerce in my home town of Laurel, Miss., is presenting me in a concert there," says Miss Price, first Negro to sing a lead opera role in TV.

Perhaps even more heart-warming than the laudatory reviews on her performance by critics throughout the country was the response in her home town.

"Practically every television set in Laurel, in both white and Negro homes, was tuned to Tosca and the editor of the newspaper had a wonderful editorial about my perform-ance," she says. "I was so proud."

The attractive singer, a well proportioned 5 feet 5½, says she considers her selection for the title role in Tosca a heartening indication that color barriers in the artistic world are dissolving.

But she also expressed pleasure at an NBC statement that she was chosen for the Tosca role neither because of nor in spite of the fact she was a Negro.

"She was chosen because she was the very best Tosca we could find," a network spokesman said.

Peter Herman Adler, music di-rector of the NBC Opera Theater, selected her more than a year ago for the role of Tosca, one of the network's annual series of opera telecasts.

The precedent set by Miss Price on TV followed by a few days that of Marian Anderson in her debut at the Metropolitan Opera.

It not only was Miss Price's first appearance on TV but also her first operatic performance any-where. Yet she is by no means an unknown.

She was a hit as Bess in George Gershwin's Porgy and Bess on Broadway and on an extended European tour, playing opposite William Warfield, baritone, to whom she has been married two years. She had appeared as solo-ist with the Boston Symphony, Philadelphia Orchestra and other leading orchestras and drew rave reviews with her Town Hall debut last November.

Leontyne attended Central State College in Wilburton, Ohio, and received her vocal training on a scholarship at the Juilliard School here.

Safecrackers Go, Leaving Nitro to Worry Police

CHICAGO (INS) — A gang of yeggs gave Chicago police several hours of nerve wracking tension by walking out in the middle of a job—they left a safe loaded with nitroglycerin.

Jack Schleich, a neighborhood janitor, saw two men enter the Best Food Inc. offices yesterday but thought they were workmen. He went into the basement where he noticed that a lock on a door was broken. He rushed upstairs, but the men had fled.

On the floor they left behind an electric cord and a crowbar. Schleich called the firm's man-ager who notified police.

While investigating, Sgt. William Kinsella peered into a half-inch hole drilled into the top of the safe by the would-be burglars. It was filled with the liquid explo-sive.

Warning everyone "don't even breathe," he called the police bomb squad which removed the ni-tro after five hours of painstaking work.

Later Brink's Co., was called to cart away the safe, it's $2,000 still intact.

All the cars and trucks exported from New York harbor each year, placed end to end, would stretch from Manhattan to Indianapolis, Ind., says the National Geographic Society.

Shelly Offers New Diet: 'Travel by Air Coach'

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — "You're thinner," I told Shelley Winters. "Thinner!" shrieked the siren from St. Louis. "Thank you very much! I found a new way to lose weight—Ride by air coach."

And Shelley—here to do the bathtub scene in "The Women" on TV—unfolded a revolutionary new diet scheme.

"I started out by luxury flight from Los Angeles," recounted the mad one. "I got in my berth and took a sleeping pill, as it was 1 a.m."

"I went right to sleep. A lot later the stewardess shook me awake."

"We're in New York already?" I said. "That was a fast trip. What was our time?"

"One hour," says the stewardess, "but there's one trouble—we're still in L. A. The plane hasn't left the ground yet. Our flight now departs at noon."

Shelley said she tried to shake off the effect of the pill.

"I put my mink on over my pajamas. Joe Iturbi gave me a lift in a taxi. But he was rushing to make another con-nection—so he said I wouldn't mind getting out at Santa Monica Blvd., would I?"

"So at 3 a.m. I was standing doped on a corner in my pajamas and mink, trying to get a taxi. And people were saying things about these brazen women walking around in their pajamas."

"I finally got home and went to sleep."

"About 8 I heard my baby crying. The airline called. The plane was now leaving at 9."

I was starved—but there was no time to eat. I got a cab and the driver knew a faster way to the airport. The freeway.

"I missed the plane by 8 minutes."

Miss Winters was due here to exploit her latest movie, "The Night of the Hunter." She decided to take an air coach, which serves no meals, but lets you get them at stops.

"I phoned my mother in St. Louis that I'd stop there. I thought we'd eat some-thing nice at the airport."

"She called up every living relative. When I got off the plane, I was surrounded by 30 of 'mah kinfolk'."

"I was so hungry I could've eaten an uncle. I wanted to eat something—but imagine taking 30 to dinner. And I didn't want to be rude to 30 relatives."

"Thirty relatives knocking you could put a girl out of business."

"And so I didn't eat for a day or two. So thank you very much for saying I look thinner today. Thanks a lot!"

Nominations for Television Academy Awards Listed

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nominations for TV Academy Awards were announced today, and the favorites shaped up as newcomers George Gobel and Disneyland plus veterans Jackie Gleason and I Love Lucy.

The TV Academy, which is similar to the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences but has no connection, listed 21 categories down to and including best singers and best daytime program.

Unlike the Oscar race, the top contention for the Emmies does not center on two or three races. A half-dozen or more of the classifications are coveted highly in the television industry. Here are nominations for some of them:

Best actor starring in a regular series: Richard Boone, Robert Cummings, Jack Gleason, Danny Thomas, Jack Webb.

Best actress starring in a regular series: Eve Arden, Gracie Allen, Lucille Ball, Ann Sothern, Loretta Young.

Best situation comedy series: Burns and Allen, I Love Lucy, Make Room for Daddy, Mister Peepers, Our Miss Brooks, Private Secretary.

Best variety series: Disneyland, George Gobel Show, Jackie Gleason Show, Toast of the Town, Your Hit Parade, Jack Benny Show.

Outstanding new personality: Richard Boone, Walt Disney, Fess Parker, Tennessee Ernie Ford, Preston Foster, George Gobel, Michael O'Shea.

Best dramatic series: Four Star Playhouse, Medic, Television Playhouse, Studio One, U. S. Steel Hour.

Best individual program: Diamond Jubilee of Light; Operation Undersea, Disneyland; White Is the Color; Medic; A Christmas Carol; Shower of Stars; 12 Angry Men; Studio One.

The winners will be announced March 7, when the academy has its seventh annual awards dinner at the Moulin Rouge in Hollywood. For the first time, the affair will be televised nationally, and the New York winners will be cut in from there. Voting is done by the 750 academy members.

Muskegon Man in MIG 15 Clash

Capt. John Kimball Led Sabres Which Downed 2 Red Planes Off Korea

MUSKEGON (AP)—Air Force Capt. John Q. (Jack) Kimball of Muskegon underestimated the brashness of Communist fliers.

The 30-year-old Kimball has been identified as the leader of the Sabrejet squadron that shot down two Russian-built MIG15 jet planes in an aerial clash off North Korea Saturday.

He wrote his parents recently that MIGs never attack U. S. patrol planes "if they know the Sabres are up."

But the Sabres were flying cover for an RB47 jet reconnaissance plane when the MIGs attacked. The two MIGs were downed in the Yellow Sea. All the 12 Sabrejets returned to base.

Jack's father, Merritt Kimball, told of the recent letter quoting his son about the MIGs' shyness to Sabrejets from the end of the Korean War up to last week.

"It didn't happen that way this time," the elder Kimball said.

"My son was trained to do just what he did Saturday," Kimball said, "and we're no more surprised it him than anyone else."

Kimball said his wife "is a little concerned, but I guess that's natural for any mother. We have a lot of faith in Jack."

John Kimball joined the Army in 1943 after a semester at Michigan Tech at Houghton. He won a commission to West Point during World War II and entered the Air Force after graduating from the military academy in 1946.

Since then he has flown fighter planes in Alaska, Korea and Japan. The clash Saturday was Kimball's first contact with enemy planes.

"I hope it doesn't happen again," Kimball's father said.

John Kimball is married and has two children. His family lives at Yoakum, Tex.

Chinese Girls in Malaya Usher in New Year

SINGAPORE (AP)—The nearly three million Chinese in Singapore and Malaya wound up their New Year celebrations today with thousands of pretty girls crowding into Buddhist temples to pray for "health, prosperity and husbands."

The two-week observance of the start of the "Year of the Ram" was to have cost the Malayan Chinese the equivalent of four million dollars.
