Herman Kierdorf Surrenders in Nephew's Torch Death Probe

Victim's Missing Uncle Gives Self Up

Refuses Answers to Questions on Flint Blaze

Surrenders Last Night to Chief Assistant Prosecutor Taylor

Herman Kierdorf suddenly popped back into sight last night after 13 days of hiding, but kept his lips sealed when questioned this morning about his whereabouts and the "human torch" death of his nephew, Frank.

Michigan Attorney General Paul L. Adams said Kierdorf repeatedly answered, "I have on advice of my counsel no comment to make at this time" to many questions.

Adams said Kierdorf, who surrendered at 10 p.m. last night, would be questioned again this afternoon after he confers with his attorney, William F. Dohany.

Kierdorf this morning gave his stock "no comment" answer to questions on:

1. Possession of an illegal gun silencer.

2. His whereabouts on Aug. 3 when a dry cleaning establishment outside Flint was set afire by arsonists.

3. Sale of a 1956 Teamster-owned Cadillac.

4. His disappearance and where he had been for 13 days, and

5. His sudden retirement from the Teamsters Union before he testified before a Senate committee last month.

However, Adams said "it would appear though that there is some connection with Herman's activities and what went on at Flint."

"What that connection is, however, we have not been able to ascertain," he said.

Kierdorf for awhile last night was more responsive to reporters' questions than he was today with Adams. He gave answers to many and refused to answer others.

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem said Kierdorf would not be arraigned today on a charge of having the silencer, the warrant on which he was jailed last night. "But this charge will be pressed," Adams said.

Adams said also that he planned to go ahead with a meeting in Detroit tomorrow with Ziem, Wayne County Prosecutor Samuel Olsen and Genesee County Prosecutor Jerome O'Rourke.

The purpose of this meeting, Adams said, is to determine "whether or not there are links between the Flint arson and other similar crimes in the three-county area."

Although he dodged questions, Kierdorf said he has "nothing to hide . . . I want this thing cleared up . . . I want to cooperate."

He said he hoped he would be released in order that he "could scrounge around and maybe find out something."

Although Kierdorf last night and today refused to tell where he has

Blaze New Path in Engineering at MSU Oakland

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

A utopia of engineering curriculums for Michigan State University Oakland was envisioned Saturday by some of the top engineering educators in the country.

The educators came to Meadowbrook Hall on the Alfred G. Wilson estate, site of the new university, with years of engineering know-how behind them.

They came faced with a big question which requires an equally big solution.

That question was: What have been the inherent weaknesses of engineering curriculums in the nation's colleges and universities, and how best can we create a future encompassing "new look" curriculum for MSUO which will avoid these errors?

Taking part in the engineering seminar were: Dr. Eric A. Walker, president, Pennsylvania State University; Dr. C. Richard Soderberg, dean of engineering, Massachusetts Institute of Technology; Dr. Lee A. DuBridge, president, California Institute of Technology; Dr. Newman Hall, professor and chairman of mechanical engineering, Yale University; Dr. Frederick E. Terman, dean of engineering, Stanford University; and Dr. John D. Ryder, dean of engineering, Michigan State University.

Moderator for the panel was James C. Zeder, vice president of Chrysler Corp. and of the MSUO Foundation.

The two-day conference of these men was a prelude to the opening of the university branch next fall.

Following the engineering leaders will be top educators in the field of teacher training, business administration and liberal arts.

Workshops on these subjects, as well as the one on engineering, are designed to aid MSUO planners in drafting modern and ideal college courses for the brach.

The leaders in engineering education suggested a top flight engineering school which would have as its goal engineering science, as opposed to today's "narrow educational concept" in this field.

"But we don't want to give the impression that this will be an exclusive institution," said Dr. Durward B. Varner, vice president of Michigan State University.

"Rather it will be for those students who are able and willing to work."

This proposed nuclear-age aggregate of engineering courses would be for the top five per cent of engineering students.

The program would require an "early identification of the degree of talent of potential students," according to Dr. Thomas M. Hamilton, university vice president in charge of academic affairs. Dr. Hamilton summarized remarks of those on the engineering panel at a press conference Saturday.

It was agreed by the panelists that:

1. The complexity of our society has changed so since present engineering curriculums were established years ago that studies must be altered to meet the changing times.

2. Engineering today requires innovators (the so-called top five per cent of students), designers and technicians.

3. Engineering students have

House Facing Social Security Hike Decision

Vote May Up Maximum Benefit to $116 From $108.50 Per Month

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House faces a decision on what to do about a bill that would boost payments to some 12 million persons now drawing Social Security benefits.

The question before the House is whether to accept amendments adopted by the Senate in a move to avert a possible veto by President Eisenhower.

If acceptance is voted without sending the bill to a Senate-House conference, the measure will go to the White House.

The House on July 31 passed a bill to grant a 7 per cent increase in benefits. The vote was 375-2.

The Senate last Saturday approved a similar 7 per cent benefit boost in passing a Social Security bill by a 79-0 vote. However, the Senate pared increased federal grants to the states for four public assistance programs to 197 million dollars.

As approved by the House, these grants would total 288 millions. The programs are for the needy, the aged, blind, and disabled and dependent children.

Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla), sponsor of amendments cutting the public assistance grants, said he was certain their adoption would prevent a veto.

The Eisenhower administration

Congress Gets Stack of Bills

Several Issues Could Hold Off Adjournment Set for Weekend

WASHINGTON (AP) — A stack of bills, some of which could provoke floor battles, today confronted a Congress anxious to go home and campaign for the fall elections.

Leaders were shooting for adjournment by the end of this week, but there were several issues that could prevent them from hitting that target.

The House undertook a man-sized job by listing 35 bills for possible consideration today under procedure requiring two-thirds vote for passage.

In this group was a controversial labor control bill which has passed the Senate. This measure was given slight chance.

Another bill up for action on a take-it-or-leave-it basis was a watered-down housing bill which has passed the Senate in a different form. It's fate was uncertain.

The Senate, meanwhile, was due to tackle legislation aimed at overcoming the effects of certain Supreme Court decisions in the civil liberties and antisubversive fields.

This potentially explosive debate could tie up the Senate for some time and possibly delay adjournment.

One major bill awaiting Senate action is a $3,518,000,000 foreign aid money bill. The House has passed an aid bill totaling $3,078,000,000.

One big stride toward ending the nearly eight-month congressional session was taken by the Senate Saturday night when it passed a bill to raise Social Security benefits and taxes to pay for them.

Many Here Observe Sputnik III Rocket

Many Pontiac area residents reported sighting the rocket of Russia's Sputnik III as it passed over this section of the state Saturday and Sunday nights.

It was believed to be some 650 miles above the earth and could be seen in the manner of a blinking light, apparently reflecting sun's light as it tumbled over and over.

The carrier is expected to be visible again today over Michigan about 8:50 and 10:32 p.m., and Tuesday night around 8:37 and 10:18, according to the Smithsonian Astrophysical Observatory. The carrier was moving from northwest to southeast when observed here.

Reap Prize Jackpot on Vacation

Oakland Youths Hit Bridge Million Mark

ST. IGNACE (AP) — Because they made the one millionth crossing of the Straits of Mackinac Bridge, three Waterford youths took a new look at their vacation camping plans today.

With their small, black 1955 Volkswagen heaped with $800 in prizes, almost crowding out the sleeping bags, the trio had good reason.

They don't necessarily have to camp out. Their prizes included certificates for motel accommodations.

The new bit of bridge history was made at 1:35 p. m. Sunday by 19-year-old Gary Upcott, of 3764 Oakview Rd., Drayton Plains, and two companions Paul Miceli, 22 of 4175 Rural St., Waterford and his brother Frank Miceli, 16.

To the great surprise of all three, Upcott's car was checked in as No. 1,000,000 and prize winner at the south toll gate in Mackinaw City.

"I'm amazed," said Upcott, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Upcott. "We didn't even know they were planning this."

"How," he added, "will we get all those prizes home?"

The prizes were the gifts of Straits area merchants. In addition, Upcott is to get a citation

Rocket to Moon Fails in Flight

Air Force to Follow Up With Further Attempts Starting Sept. 14

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —The nation's first moon rocket shattered into bits 77 seconds after launching yesterday.

Even before this initial strike at the moon a second attempt had been ordered. The follow-up Air Force lunar probe attempts are expected during a three-day period starting Sept. 14.

There was a distinct possibility that the Soviets might attempt to beat the new U.S. deadline by one day.

Plans for another moon rocket try were disclosed as the Air Force began fishing the explosion-torn debris of its first lunar vehicle out of the Atlantic.

Divers descended into 60 feet of water some 10 miles northeast of the cape and came up with sections of the metal skin of the Thor 1,500-mile-range mis-

Mercury Drops to 48 Degrees Here Early Today

The mercury plunged to an unseasonable low of 48 degrees here early this morning, between 5 and 6 a.m., but had returned to a more comfortable 70 by 2 p.m. The 48 is believed to be a record low for this date.

Pontiac area residents will have fair and cool weather tonight the U.S. Weather Bureau reports, with the low 50 to 54 degrees.

Tomorrow's outlook is mostly fair and a little warmer with a high near 80. Tomorrow night will be partly cloudy and not so cool with a low of 55 to 59.

The forecast for Wednesday is fair to partly cloudy and cooler again.

The weather bureau's five day forecast reports temperatures will average near or slightly below the normal high of 79 and normal low of 59.

It will warm slowly Thursday through Saturday and scattered showers are expected Friday and Saturday.

But the Dream Will Live On

Our Beautiful Moon Rocket Dies

By BOB CONSIDINE

CAPE CANAVERAL — It's like losing a friend, to see a great rocket die.

The beautiful, slender missile which the Air Force shot at the moon committed some form of space-age hara-kiri after 77 seconds of superb flight.

But not even the old hands on the press platform, two miles from the blast-off, knew that the bird was mortally wounded. Sure, the even white plume with which it was dusting the blue dome of heaven suddenly bulged out at one point, and there was a subtle change in the manly roar of the 165,000 pounds of engine thrust.

But 50,000 feet below this apparition, where little men thinly cried encouraging words to the big, flame-tipped needle, there was general agreement that it overcame whatever problem it had in its innards and was back in the groove.

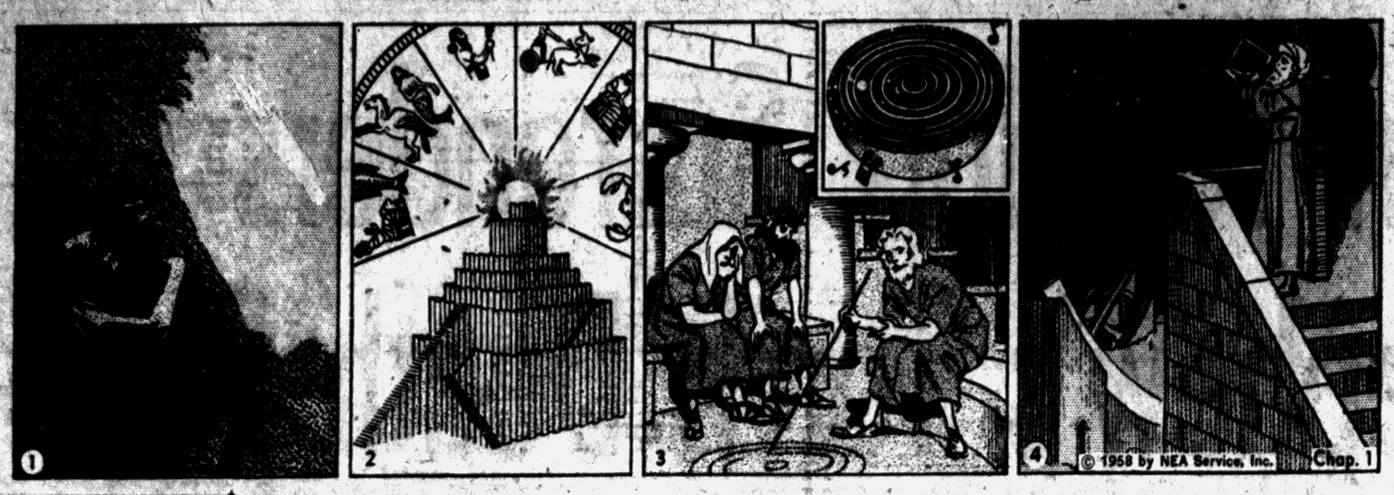

The engine seemed to roar with

OUTWARD TO THE STARS

(1)—Ancient Man

By Don Oakley and Ralph Lane

(1) To ancient man the stars must have seemed very close.

As agriculture was learned, the stars played an important part in his life. He recognized their regular movements with the seasons.

Later, man began to make gods of the stars. Then he transferred his earthly gods to the heavens. It was only natural.

(2) The Babylonians, from their temples, were first-rate observers. (The Tower of Babel was an observatory as well as a temple.) They saw that the planets seemed to move "through" the constellations. From this they devised the zodiac and the pseudo science of astrology. For centuries, the superstitious man believed heavenly bodies guided his destiny.

(3) The Greeks early realized that the earth must be a sphere (Anaximander, about 600 B.C.)

Pythagoras developed the idea further. He conceived the universe to be made up of layers, like an onion. Pythagoras had discovered the mathematics of music. He thought that as the Moon sphere, Sun sphere, planet spheres, ets., revolved about the earth and each other they produced harmonies—the "music of the spheres."

Other Greeks, particularly Hipparchus (c. 150 B.C.), noted irregular movements of the planets. They questioned whether they did indeed revolve about the Earth.

It remained for the great Ptolemy of Egypt, by an extremely complicated system, to put Earth back at the center of the universe and restore the harmony of the earlier Greeks.

(4) During the Dark Ages, the Arabs preserved and added to Ptolemy's science. Later they tranmitted it to Europe. The Ptolemaic, earth-centered concept held sway over men's minds until the Renaissance. It then died a lingering death.

to be segregated sometimes on degrees of their ability.

4. That the basic concepts of education today can be left to the universities. MSUO will augment this education.

5. It would be best to eliminate separate engineering curriculums of mechanical, electrical, and chemical engineering, and substitute courses divided into categories as they relate to materials, energy, and man.

One of the unique points of MSUO, Dr. Hannah pointed out, is that "we're starting out here without any built-in inhibitions; we're starting from scratch."

A freshman class of about 500 will be the nucleus, according to estimates. There will be no on-campus living facilities at the four-year institution to begin with, Dr. Hannah said.

In laying the groundwork for engineering at MSUO, they agreed that studies in this immense field must be proceeded by: one, a general, liberal education "designed to get man to understand his cultural heritage," and, two, those subjects on which engineering must be built, namely mathematics, physics and chemistry.

"Finally comes the engineering itself here at MSUO," declared Dr. Hamilton.

"We cannot forget that we have to start out as a teaching institution which from the beginning must have resources for research," he added.

It is planned that the branch will have a high degree of administration autonomy, university officials said, with an independence of the East Lansing campus similar to the one existing between the University of California and the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA).

Hutcheson, 12 Others Cited for Contempt

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate today voted contempt citations against Maurice A. Hutcheson, international president of the Carpenters Union, and 12 other balky or fugitive witnesses in its Rackets Investigating Committee's hearings.

The action sends the cases to the Justice Department for handling.

The issue will be presented to a grand jury. If indictments are returned, the defendants will be entitled to a jury tiral.

Conviction of contempt of Congress is punishably by up to a year's imprisonment and $1,000 fine.

The 13 contempt citations were approved in a single 87-0 roll call vote.

The others cited included Tony Accardo an alleged Chicago gangsters, and Pete Licavoli, Detroit and Tucson, Ariz., racketeer.

Weekend Toll: 24 in Michigan

Traffic Mishaps Kill 14; Seven Drownings Swell State Fatalities

By United Press International

A cool summer weekend was credited today with keeping many motorists off the highways and holding the Michigan traffic death toll to 14.

Seven persons drowned and a mother and baby daughter burned to death in the Upper Peninsula giving the state a weekend accident toll of 24. The 1957 weekend comparable to this one saw 23 persons killed on the highways, while 20 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents last weekend.

An 11-year-old Newaygo County boy was killed last night in a tractor accident. Police said John Fairbrother of Cedar Springs died when the tractor he was backing across the road rolled over into a ditch and crushed him.

Dennis Umphrey, 15, Mikado, and Louis Smith, 42, Saginaw, were killed in separate pedestrian accidents last night.

A home fire Saturday morning killed Joy Nesberg, 19, and her two-month-old daughter, Cheryl Lynn, in Newberry.

Among the drowning victims yesterday was Clarence Clawson, 30, Hudsonville. Clawson drowned when he fell off a pier at Grand Haven last night.

William T. Clapp, 48, Chicago, also drowned in Lake Michigan. He died while trying to swim from a raft to shore.

Leona Marie Harshman, 19, rural Coleman, drowned in Houghton Lake. She fell off an innertube.

Donna Mae Hopkins, 9, Flint, drowned in Buell Lake, Northeast of Flint when she slipped through an innertube.

Clare Pate, 49, Owosso, drowned in Lake Huron near East Tawas when he dived off a motorboat.

Roy B. Alger, 67, Jackson, drowned in Fink Lake, Jackson County, Friday night when his boat overturned.

Fred Anderson, 43, drowned in Goshorn Lake, Allegan County, when he dived into the water Friday night.

Other victims included:

Wade Ashby, 42, Adrian — died Sunday morning when his car ran off US226 and hit a tree in Lenawee County.

William Montray, 57, Belleville — killed in western Wayne County Saturday night in a two-car accident.

Donna Abernatny, 11, Bay City — died late Saturday night in a fiery two-car crash on M15 in which nine others were hurt, four seriously.

Lee R. Thornington, 33, Greenville, and Lloyd Beaver, 34, Manistee Lake — fatally injured Saturday in a three-car accident in Crawford County.

Harry L. Kloeffler, 77, Detroit — killed in a two-car accident Saturday in Macomb County.

Arlington F. Hart, 45, Owosso — died in a truck-train accident northwest of Owosso Saturday.

Donald E. Kern, 19, Bay Port — fatally injured in a three-car accident on M25 near Unionville Friday night.

Donna Fullerton, 18, Luther — killed Saturday when her car skidded on a curve and hit a tree.

John O'Keefe, 18, Dowagiac and Chester Gerrard, 52, Clifton, Mo., killed Friday night when their car rolled over on US 31.

fresh determination. The white plums became symmetrical again. And then it was gone.

After a minute or two, as we scanned the empty sky, a mutter like distant thunder reached us. Heads nodded sagely. "She's really going, out there," somebody said.

But a girl reporter put her head on the shoulders of a Douglas publicity man and said, "I don't know why, but I've got to cry."

The winds in the stratosphere were doing odd thinks with what had been the white plums above. They twisted it this way and that, and then formed it for a startling minute or two into a perfect question mark.

Those old winds knew something we didn't. They had looked down on our rocket as it plunged into the Atlantic hardly ten mile off shore.

What followed was a wake. The Air Force major who read us the announcement at the press site spoke in the voice of a man breaking news of the death of a loved one. The silence that followed was shattered by a reporter who said, "What did I tell you?" It was obscene to boast at a moment so curiously filled with heartbreak.

The officer who had all the bright sayings and the briefings yesterday tried to cut the gloom of our little platform. He said, "well, back to that old drawing board." But he didn't have the delivery today.

We all walked silently to the big Air Force busses that had brought us to the site. It was a long ride home.

It was such a handsome and arresting thing, this rocket that is now being dredged from the ocean like an angel killed in a Philip Wylie fantasy.

It posed itself so supefbly on its pad, the bright early sun bouncing off a hide that shone like white marble and polished silver. It was proud-looking. Most of all it was ready.

Ten thousand questions had been asked of it, electronically, and the answers were all affirmative.

It stood serenely through a four-minute delay caused by some "ham" whose radio signal barged in on the wave bands that would prevail through the flight. A radio military police plane ordered him off the air. The count-down resumed.

And then ever so wonderfully and with incredible dignity fit to command awe in the human breast, the missle rose on its fiery tail. It was off on the most ambitious voyage ever dreamed by man and documented in a vessel built by wizards.

The graceful vessel's life lasted 77 seconds. But the dream didn't die with it, nor will our memory of a strangely poignant morning.

House Due to Vote on Social Security

had been urging that the federal government reduce, not increase, its share of the assistance programs.

Despite the slash in the House-approved allocations, some senators predicted the House would accept the reduction without seeking a conference committee meeting to work out differences.

Benefit increases for retired persons and recipients of survivor and disability benefits would start in checks received next February.

However, the 75 million persons now contributing in payroll taxes to the Social Security system would have their rates increased next Jan. 1. The maximum boost would be $25.50 a year each for employe and employer.

Social Security insurance beneficiaries now on the rolls would have their checks increased by an average of about $4.75 a month.

The monthly range of benefits, now $30—$108.50 for an individual, would go up to $33—$116. After several years the maximum individual benefit would rise to $127.

Survivors' family benefits would go from a maximum of $200 a month to an eventual top of $254.

Before passing the bill, the Senate rejected a series of moves to broaden benefits.

The new tax would be 2½ per cent for both employer and employe against the present 2¼ per cent. In addition, the cutoff stage—the point beyond which the individual pays no further Social Security tax for the year—would rise from $4,200 in income to $4,800. The self-employed tax rate would rise from 3⅜ per cent to 3¾ per cent.

Payroll taxes would be raised by $1,100,000,000 next year against the 700 million dollars that would go out in increased benefits. The extra sum is designed in part to insure the long-range soundness of the Social Security program.

Shopping Center Opens Aug. 20 at Drayton

A new shopping center in the Pontiac area will have a grand opening on Wednesday. It is the Drayton Plains Center, located on the east side of the Dixie Highway at Walton Boulevard, in Drayton Plains.

Six major stores are in the new area and a seventh will be ready for business within a short time.

A special section of advertisements from units of the new center will appear in Tuesday's Press.

Six major stores in the center are the Federal Department Store, Cunningham's, Drug Store, Kresge's, Sherman-Williams, Neel's Shoes and Wrigley's Supermarket. The Linda Lee Shop is nearing completion and will be opened soon. Federal's downtown store will be closed Tuesday to rearrange stock for opening of the Drayton store the following day.

Schools to Open Sept. 2; Registering Pupils Now

BIRMINGHAM — Schools will open for the 1958-59 term on Sept. 2, according to the announcement made today by Dr. Dwight B. Ireland, superintendent.

Since school attendance hours will vary, Dr. Ireland listed schedules as 8 a.m. to 3:06 p.m., for Birmingham Senior High; 8:10 a.m.-3 p.m., Derby Junior High; 8:30 a.m.-3:20 p.m., Barnum Junior High, and 9 a.m.-3:30 p.m., for all elementary schools. All will close at noon the opening day.

There will be 28 days during the year without classes, the first being Oct. 13, when schools close for the Michigan Education Assn. convention. Thanksgiving recess will be Nov. 27-28; Christmas, Dec. 20-Jan. 4, 1959, and Easter, March 27-April 6.

Commencement will be held June 18, with the official closing of schools the following day.

All school offices are now open for registration. Parents should go to the school their child will attend, if registration has not already been made, between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. All offices are closed during the noon hour.

New students in grades 7 through 9, attending either Barnum or Derby Junior High Schools, should report at the proper school at 9 a.m., Aug. 27, for testing.

Two zoning request hearings will highlight tonight's city commission meeting.

Plan board members have recommended the change from multiple family to non-retail business for the property at 212 Daines St. A denial is suggested for the change from single to multiple family for that property located between Grant, Smith, Edgewood and Southlawn streets.

Commissioners have received several letters from property owners in both areas, objecting to the changes.

LEROY W. J. TROTT

Service for Leroy W. J. Trott, 55, of 6681 Dartmore Dr., Birmingham, will be held at 11 a.m. Wednesday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Mr. Trott died Saturday in William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, following a short illness.

For the past 35 years, he had been an accountant for Fisher Body Division of General Motors Corporation.

Surviving are his wife, Clara, a brother and a sister.

MISS MARION BRUCE

Service for Marion Bruce, 77, of 15845 Orchard Trail, will be held at 11 a.m. Tuesday at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial will be in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

Miss Bruce died Saturday at her home following a long illness. She was a retired medical and surgical assistant.

BABY BRADLEY L. P. SCRIPPS

Service for Bradley L. P. Scripps two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Scripps, 692 Bennington Dr., Bloomfield Hills, was held this afternoon at the Bell Chapel of the William R. Hamilton Co. Burial was in Woodlawn Cemetery, Detroit.

The child died Friday at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Surviving are his parents; a brother, David and two sisters, Melissa and Pamela, all at home and his paternal grandmother Mrs. William E. Scripps.

Two Topics on Agenda for Waterford Tonight

A request for street lighting and the pproval of a proposed plat will be the two main items discussed at tonight's Waterford Township board meeting which begins at 7:30 p.m. in the township hall.

Clerk James Seeterlin reports residents on Baybrook Drive in Watkins Hills Subdivision No. 2 have requested the lighting from Terness to Watkins Lake Road. The board is expected to set a public hearing date for the request.

The engineers are also scheduled to seek the board's approval on a proposed plat on Elizabeth Lake road near Pleasant Lake.

Report Kadar Getting Treatment in Russia

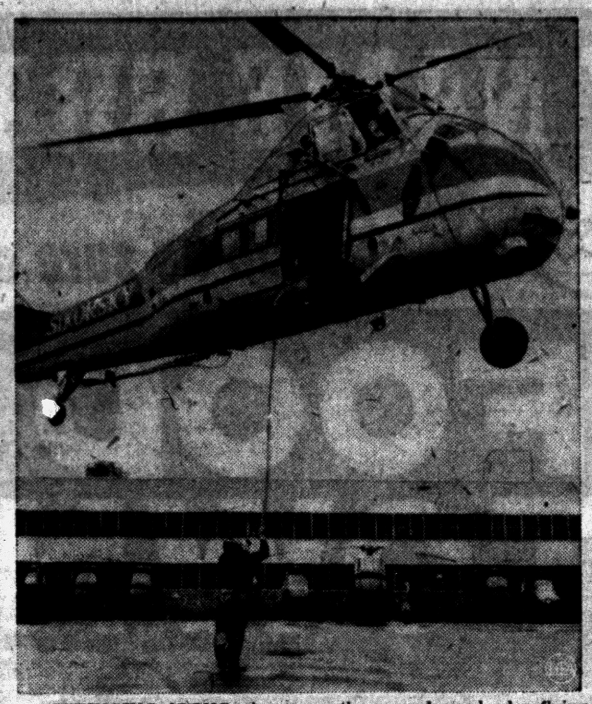

VIENNA (AP)—Travelers arriving from Budapest reported today that Hungary's Communist chief, Janos Kadar, has gone to the Soviet Union to be treated for a nervious condition.

Budapest radio announced yesterday that Kadar is on a summer vacation.

According to the travelers, Kadar's nervous condition came on folloiwng the recent executions of Imre Nagy and Gen. Pal Maleter.

Nab Hospital Escapee

IONIA (UPI)—Ralph Wiess, 41, was caught last night four hours after walking away from Ionia State Hospital. Weiss, sentenced fromLenawee County, was seized by State Troopers in a field near here.

Governor Denounces Proposed Guard Cuts

GRAYLING (AP)—Gov. Williams, with Michigan's National Guard as his audience, denounced a federal proposal for cuts in the guard yesterday.

Williams, speaking to 8,000 men of Michigan's 46th Infantry Division at Camp Grayling memorial service, said actions of Soviet Russia have raised a danger that makes guard reduction unwise.

"We must and do oppose reduction of the guard. We hope future state and federal conferences will do away with this proposal," he said.

The Governor's speech was a reiteration of his previous stand against cuts in the guard. He credited a conference of governors recently with having won at least a delay in the defense department's plan to reduce the guard from 400,000 to 360,000 men.

Michigan's guardsmen resumed their camp activities today after a rest on Sunday. This is the final week of the two weeks of summer training.

Vauxhall Denies GM to Make Victors in U.S.

LUTON, England (UPI)—Vauxhall Motors, British subsidiary of General Motors Corp., denied that GM planned to produce Vauxhall Victors at Detroit for sale in North America.

Vauxhall exports about 3,000 of the small cars a month to the United States and Canada.

Rumors that G M would start producing the cars in the United States became widespread after Vauxhall announced last week that it would fire 60 0production workers.

Nudists Shiver in Gray Britain

No Sun to Greet Baring of 150 Cultists at Open of Annual Convention

WOBURN, England (AP) — The world's greatest optimists—international nudists hoping to find sunshine in Britain — shivered in 64-degree temperature today.

Of course there was no sun.

But a few of the 150 delegates already in the annual convention camp shed their shirts, pants and shorts, or panties, dresses and bras, as the sex might be.

"I thought I would be embarrassed," said a 26-year-old married woman who identified herself only as Angella, "but I'm not.

"I like the freedom of no clothes. There is a much larger degree of friendship here than in other types of clubs."

Explaining why the few females who stripped wore not the slightest semblance of clothes, Dr. Douglas Gibson, the camp's press officer said: "We definitely bar flimsies of all kind."

A reporter pointed to a delegate wearing only a pair of socks and sandals.

"Socks," said Gibson, "are not flimsies. I'm speaking of those lacy, pantie things."

The nudist, or naturist, camp was formally opened over the weekend. It will end with the 6th World Naturist Congress Aug. 27-31.

The convention is being held on the 12-mile-square estate of the Duke of Bedford, known as Britain's best dressed peer. The duke set aside 50 screened acres for the nudists. He also promised to open the congress—in his clothes.

Yesterday the naturists played volley ball, badminton and tennis, and 24 attended a church service in the nude. The preacher, the Rev. B. H. Yates-Claxton, a free-church practicing nudist, was clothed. After the services, though, he whipped off his garments and helped two nude volunteer ladies prepare the day's lunch.

To insure privacy, the sunbathers had a night watchman. He's Percy Willford, 81.

"I'll mount guard," he volunteered, "I don't sleep very well anyhow." So, clothed, he set up his midnight vigil.

One of the items on the agenda of the coming congress is: "deciding on an explicit definition of naturism."

Nudism apparently won't do. Neither will sunbathing.

Industry Faces Uncertain Future

'59 Car Models Go Into Production Today

DETROIT (AP)—The auto industry started production today on its new 1959 model cars in an atmosphere of uncertainty.

With contracts still to be settled with the United Auto Workers, the industry's Big Three faced the possibility of a strike in the fall.

The union has said nothing specific. But labor trouble is held to be likely if there is no settlement with Ford, Chrysler or General Motors. Negotiations are continuing.

Chrysler called back several thousand men after months of layoff. They were the first of 42,000 workers coming back to turn out Dodge, DeSoto, Chrysler and Imperial cars. Chrysler's full work force is about 90,000.

By mid-November the worker recall is expected to number into the scores of thousands in the industry. The future will tell how the 1959 model year is to compare with the recession-cut 1958 year.

Ultimate peak employment will depend on the car market and the extent of production.

Recently General Motors had employed fewer than 200,000 men.

On the basis of present forecasts the figure will be 325,000 by mid-November. That would be about 60,000 less than the peak in the first quarter of last year.

Ford, which employed 143,000 in the first quarter last year, has indicated it should be up to 102,500 at the height of '59 model production.

Union-company negotiations resumed without the presence in Detroit of UAW President Walter Reuther. Reuther is in Forest Park, Pa., for the meeting of the AFL-CIO Executive Council.

Two labor disputes were settled yesterday. An unauthorized walkout of 26 UAW lift truck drivers at Chrysler's stamping plant at Twinsburg, Ohio, ended, but terms of the agreement were not announced.

The strike, caused by personal grievances, has idled 1,400 production workers for a week.

A dispute over an outside contract at the Wixom, Mich., Lincoln-Thunderbird plant, where 2,500 workers are employed, was settled when UAW members voted to return to work under terms of a settlement worked out by company and union negotiators.

Traffic Kills 26 in Pennsylvania

High Weekend Mishaps Include 3 Crashes With 5 Dead in Each

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Death stalked Pennsylvania highways over the weekend.

In all, 26 persons were killed since Friday afternoon in a rash of traffic accidents unsurpassed in recent years in western Pennsylvania.

Death was unmerciful, claiming 15 persons in three accidents alone, five in each.

It took the lives of young and old, of service station operator and business executive, of Marine and airman, of a newlywed.

Death wiped out four members of one family.

Two autos collided headon yesterday on Route 21 near Masontown, Pa., killing five persons, including three young girls—13, 14 and 15. Two of the girls were sisters. All of the victims were from Masontown, which is about 60 miles southeast of Pittsburgh.

At Pittsburgh man and his wife and two of their children en route to a Canadian vacation were killed Saturday in a two-car collision on Route 8 near Butler, about 40 miles north of Pittsburgh. The driver of the other car also was killed.

Four Apollo girls — ranging in age from 18 to 20—and a young serviceman returning from Washington, D. C., were fatally injured Friday night in a truck-auto collision near Breezewood, some 110 miles east of Pittsburgh. One of the girls was a newlywed.

A weekend of fine weather brought out heavy road traffic. Authorities said they were at a loss to account for so shocking a death toll.

In Eastern Pennsylvania only three traffic deaths were reported. Two of these involved pedestrians.

Only last week, six members of a Pittsburgh family spanning four generations were killed in an auto crash near Meadville, in the northwestern part of the state.

Air Strength of U.S. Seriously Hampered

WASHINGTON (AP) — House probers say a serious shortage of rocket launchers for U. S. warplanes has been caused by poor military buying practices.

The result will be a serious reduction in the over-all firepower of the planes if they are needed in a military emergency. A House Military Operations subcommittee said in a report.

The subcommittee added, however, that if all goes well with production from now on American planes by the end of 1959 will have sufficient launchers to make full use of their rockets.

Seven years of launcher development has been marked by "persistently poor procurement planning" by both Navy and Air Force agencies, the subcommittee said.

LAPEER — Requiem Mass for Mrs. Joseph (Alma E.) Verbecke, 61, of 1563 Clark Rd., will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at the Church of the Immaculate Conception and burial will be in Mt. Loretto Cemetery. The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Baird Funeral Home.

Mrs. Verbecke died Sunday in a Pontiac hospital.

Surviving are her husband, Joseph; two sons, Joseph Jr. and Clarence, both of Lapeer; a sister, Mrs. Norma Worden of Holly and five grandchildren.

Probers May Recall Kierdorf for Quizzing

WASHINGTON (AP) — Spokesmen for the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee said today a decision is expected soon on whether to recall Herman Kierdorf doe questioning about racketeering in Michigan.

Kierdorf, sought for two weeks after the torch death of his nephew, surrendered to police in Pontiac, Mich., last night.

Committee counsil Robert F. Kennedy has indicated previously he saw little hope of getting any answers from Kierdorf, who invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions as a witness earlier this year. Kierdorf declined then to talk about his alleged ties to the underworld of to James R. Hoffa, international president of the Teamsters Union.

Old-Timers Day Sept. 4 at Fair

DETROIT (UPI) — Old-Timers Day at the Michigan State Fair will be held Sept. 4, General Manager Donald L. Swanson said today.

Oldsters more than 60 will be admitted to the fair grounds free of charge on Old-Timers Day.

Contests will be held to find the oldest man, oldest woman, longest married couple, prettiest hat, longest mustache and baldest head. There will be five prizes in each category from $5 for first place to $1 for fifth place.

Men over 60 may also compete in a brieklaying contest sponsored by the Masonry Institute of the Detroit Mason Contractors Assn.

Burglar Gets $6,000

DETROIT (UPI) — A burglar ransacked the home of bar owner Louis Joseph, 50, of about $6,000 last night, police said today. Joseph told authorities the thief took $800 from a dresser drawer and broke open a suitcase in a closet and got between $4,000 and $5,000 in cash and 250 silver dollars.

Whoosh: Breaking Four Minute Mile Old Stuff

What is the limit of human endurance?

Back in 1954 Britain's Roger Bannister cracked the mile record by completing the distance in 3 minutes and 59.4 seconds. He was the first human being to run the mile in less than four minutes.

In his book, "The Four Minute Mile" he said: "Men will go on breaking records as long as they run." Obviously Mr. Bannister knows what he is talking about.

Breaking the four minute mile in the last four years has become almost as unspectacular as breaking the sound barrier. The records show that to date forty-five humans have run the mile in under four minutes.

For many years this was the ultimate goal of all track men competing in the mile event. But now look what happens: Just last week in Dublin two more records were set. For the first time, five milers in the same race whizzed around the track in less than four minutes, and one —Herb Elliott of Australia, did it in three minutes 54.4 seconds, 3 seconds faster than anyone had ever done it before.

Already Elliott is talking of breaking 3:50.

This would seem to indicate that human nature is never completely satisfied. Perhaps this is sound strategy, if we were to admit perfection in any one endeavor we would kill off any enthusiasm for self improvement.

Bullock Power Boosts India's Food Supplies

Amid so many grandiose and costly plans to improve the lot of the world's hungry, it is refreshing to learn of a scheme geared to the needs of small communities.

Developed by an American, LEIGH S. STEVENS of Yemasse, S.C. who visited India four years ago as a member of an international study team, it promises to revolutionize the life of rural India. Mr. STEVENS saw that the great needs were for irrigation, good drinking water and electricity. For centuries the villagers' only motive power has been the bullock.

By experimenting, the South Carolinian found that he could use a pump powered by bullocks walking around in a circle, as in our old time threshers, and connected to a generator. A single unit can furnish power for a village and provide water for irrigating 100 acres of land and for drinking purposes. A pilot unit has a power equipped carpentry and blacksmith shop.

Most of India's population lives in 700,000 villages and food is the great problem. While the nation is building up its heavy industry for the future, the immediate need is to grow more food for its rapidly increasing population. It is the peasants in their villages who produce it.

Therefore every new idea to increase the food supply at the village level is important. We should be pleased that one American's ingenuity has contributed to India's economy and at the grass roots level.

Larger Wheat Yield Now Coming Back

The first big fortunes in the Pontiac area were founded on timber.

But they were confined to the lumber barons and not to the original land owners.

Most of the first white settlers were glad to dispose of their timber to clear the land and get it into cultivation.

They netted little from the primeval forest.

Often the entire trees were burned on the spot to make room for their money crop.

And that crop was wheat.

We became a great wheat producing section. The 1870 census shows our Troy township to be the largest producer of wheat in the entire state.

Houses and barns were built and other improvements made from the sale of wheat. It was the outstanding mortgage lifter.

But the yields decreased as the land was sapped with hardly any fertilization, and the farmers switched to other crops.

Now wheat is returning, with yields that vie with those of the virgin soil. Fertilization, proper crop rotation and other features of modern farming is bringing it back.

Although in our area corn has become king, it may have a partner in Queen Wheat.

Handwriting on wall: What you cannot read when your back is to it.

Acting on a suggestion in this column, representatives of the Michigan Department of Conservation have visited the majestic cottonwood tree, just off the Dixie Highway in Groveland Township. It is now on their list to receive treatment for its wounds, caused by lightning, and which threaten its death. It is the ambition of

David Lawrence Says:

Segregationists Winning South

WASHINGTON — The people of Tennessee — like the people of Arkansas — have just expressed themselves against "integration" of the races in public schools.

Contrary to the erroneous impression derived from first news reports of the four-cornered contests for governor of Tennessee, an analysis of the final figures shows that 61.5 per cent of the votes in the Democratic party primary were cast for the so-called "segregationist" candidates. There was no candidate for governor in the Republican primary, so the Democratic primary result is equivalent to election.

LAWRENCE

The two leading candidates in the Democratic gubernatorial contest were outspoken against "integration." The other two were called "moderates" but actually they declared in the campaign that they did not favor racial mixing.

The winner of the primary — Buford Ellington — polled 213,189 votes. The runner-up — Judge Andrew Taylor — received 204,367. This means a total of 417,556 for the "segregationists" as against the 260,907 polled by the other two candidates combined.

Thus Tennessee voted about 61.5 per cent in favor of the out-and-out "segregationist" candidates as compared with Arkansas' 70 per cent for the same classification.

Buford Ellington, the next governor — who had the backing of retiring Governor Frank Clement — has promised to close any public school where there is a serious controversy over court-ordered integration.

He campaigned as "an old-fashioned segregationist and a states' righter." He has said that he will, if necessary, strengthen Tennessee's laws which are aimed at getting around the Supreme Court rulings of 1954. Mr. Ellington in his campaign said he was "no fence straddler" and is definitely "opposed to integration."

Judge Taylor, who was the runner-up in the race, based his campaign on the proposal that the governor "should have the power and authority to close a school in the event Federal troops marched into Tennessee to enforce the integration decree."

He also declared that the governor should have power to keep the schools closed "as long as troops remain in the state to enforce such a decree."

What the Tennessee and Arkansas elections show is that a majority of the people in each state do not accept the idea that the Supreme Court has said the last word. New state laws with different methods of dealing with the school problem are yet to be tested in the courts.

The voters, to be sure, do not read a lot of legalistic documents before they cast their ballots, but they do listen to the speakers who repeatedly quote the words of the Tenth Amendment in the Bill of Rights which specifically declares that all powers not delegated to the Federal government by the Constitution are reserved to the states or to the people.

Nowhere in the Constitution is the word "education" mentioned as a power delegated to the Federal government. The people of Tennessee and Arkansas, therefore, feel that the obligation of each state is to give every child an "equal" education irrespective of race or color.

They do not accept the psychological doctrines of the Supreme Court that no Negro child can get an equal education unless he or she sits alongside of a white child in a classroom.

The southerner regards the schools as a social institution subject to local customs. He is against the mixing of the races in the schools or in marriage. Incidentally the laws of the southern states forbidding intermarriage of certain races have never been declared unconstitutional by the Supreme Court of the United States.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Tonsil-Snatching 'Picnic' Rough on the Kids, Dad

An editor who retired a month ago says his paper now features stories of family picnics, with pictures of all the kids and sometimes the father, taken the day before the tonsillectomy.

DR. BRADY

So far no fatality; but in an industrial area with a recession, a lot of these parents will be paying the bills for months to come — plus more doctor bills when the kids without tonsils come down with sore throats, etc. as usual.

The editor doesn't say whether the doctors who whip up family interest in these picnics manage to get their pictures in the paper along with the victims of the atrocities.

It is more difficult than ever before to compile statistics on the results of tonsillectomy. The ever-ready operators, the trick specialists, the "clinic" racketeers, the merchants of medicine are unanimous in condemning any one who tells the truth about tonsillectomy — either the number of fatalities from the blind dissection of the throat or the failure to stop the frequent attacks of sore throat which the whipper-upper persuaded the foolish parents to expect.

Although the book was published 26 years ago, Children's Tonsils In and Out, by Albert D. Kaiser, M. D. (Lippincott Company, Philadelphia), now available only in the public library, gives the most dependable statistics on the "end results of tonsillectomy" one can find today.

I'll quote one conclusion drawn by Dr. Kaiser, on p. 87, referring to "colds:"

After 10 years of age the incidence of colds declined in the children whose tonsils and adenoids were not removed with even greater rapidity than in children of similar ages whose tonsils and adenoids had been removed.

Dr. Kaiser studied Rochester, N. Y., school children over a period of 10 years, constantly comparing the condition of children who had undergone tonsillectomy with that of children in the same age group for whom the operation had perhaps been advised but not done.

His studies were reported in standard medical journals from time to time, but the doctor gave his conclusions in such diffident terms that the ever-ready operators and their whipper-uppers kept hacking away at the throats of unfortunate children without noticeable abatement — until a certain repugnant character began telling the truth about the atrocity in the public prints.

Aside from the "family picnics" still popular in communities where the truth doesn't percolate freely, wholesale tonsil snatching in recent years has diminished almost to the vanishing point.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Voice of the People

Brings Unsuitable Living Conditions to Attention

You hear so much about keeping your property clean and painted and to keep your neighborhood clean for children and grownups.

Why is a prominent citizen allowed to rent a house to people with six or seven children, who run around the street half naked? The sewage, of which the neighbors are complaining, has been blocked up for a week. Why don't they take a man like that to court and punish him?

I have lived on the street for 16 years during which time he has never put a brush of paint on the house, inside or out.

It is indeed no wonder that we have so many new cases of polio in Michigan when we people stand by and let conditions like that exist in our neighborhood. If a man like that has no respect for himself then I think he should have some respect for little children and the city code.

A Taxpayer

Member Points Out Differences

Frank Kierdorf case has nothing to do with Walter Reuther and the millions of U.A.W. members.

The U.A.W. is a democratic union. It is run by the rank and file members, not by a dictator, business agent, or gangster! The rank and file of the U.A.W. has always denounced the scourge of unions, that are controlled by gangsters. The only payoffs in the U.A.W. is a fair day's pay for a fair day's work.

I hope people will wake up in the November election, and realize the Republican Party has had us in a recession long enough. It's time to prosper with the Democratic Party.

The freedom of the U.A.W. member is not gone. More freedom is provided in the contract between management and union. The U.A.W. doesn't represent Communism, or filth, but it is a symbol of freedom from tyranny of big business.

Walter Reuther says the U.A.W.-C.I.O. members are in favor of a strike. This is true. The members feel that as a last resort, to achieve a contract with human problems solved, a strike is justified. Strike votes are counted by an election committee of the members.

Members of the U.A.W.-C.I.O. are not brow beaten. They tell Walter Reuther what problems are most important and he conveys this message to management.

When people like "A Voter" compare Reuther and the U.A.W. to Hoffas and Becks, they only show their ignorance.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Steady Dating Bad in Many Ways

Laura wants to know whether she should be the steady date of a certain high schooler. Or should she play the field? It takes more courage to play the field, but it usually leads to happier marriage later on, so don't be stampeded by cowardice or the convenience of a regular boy friend.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Y-391: Laura G., aged 16, is an attractive high schooler.

"Dr. Crane, I've been going with a high school senior," she began.

DR. CRANE

"He is a very nice boy, but he wants us to go steady. And I admit that would be very convenient.

"For then I wouldn't worry about whether or not I would have an escort to a school party or athletic event.

"But there are several other nice boys I'd like to date, too, and if I went with one as a steady escort, the others would never ask me for a date.

"So is it wise to go steady in high school?"

DATING PROBLEMS

You young people can evolve the answers yourselves by realizing that one of the main purposes of dating is to give you a better understanding of the opposite sex.

If you are the "steady" girl friend of only one boy, you fail to learn the various masculine personality traits which 5 or 10 other boys would teach you.

So your experience is obviously limited. And you tend to become stodgy or complacent, like a married couple.

That tends to produce more likelihood of illicit sexual affairs, for steady dating creates the illusion of being "already almost married."

Furthermore, when such young couples do marry, without having dated several members of the opposite sex, a hazard often appears at about the age of 29.

When a girl's next birthday is the 30th, she feels somtwhat fearful that life has passed her by and that she is on the shelf.

So she vaguely wonders if she hasn't missed some of the romance and thrills that other women have known.

And that feeling is increased if she has gone steady during high school, for she now may decide she made a mistake and would like to meet different men to see how stimulating they might be.

If you don't have a well-rounded date life before marriage, you are more likely to yearn for some clandestine affairs afterwards.

So play the field while you are young. Try to have dates with several—maybe 8 or 10—attractive members of the opposite sex before you settle down to a steady diet of just one.

And don't get panicky about being and "old maid" or "on the shelf" during the teens.

The average high school graduate now has a life expectancy that will run close to 75 years.

You have plenty of time to marry and still celebrate your golden wedding anniversary, even if your wedding doesn't occur till you are 25.

BE GOOD SHOPPERS

Youth is a time when we should pile up a lot of helpful experiences that will make our later life safer and happier.

You should be shrewd shoppers on the matrimonial market which means you must figuratively see the goods in more than one store.

Applied to social affairs, you need to get acquainted with many members of the opposite sex in order to be sure you have the most suitable one when you finally marry.

It takes courage to play the field, for then there is always the gamble that you might be left without an escort on a given night.

But happy marriages cannot be founded on cowardice! Chicken-hearted girls who give in, are not likely to make the best wives.

So play the field and send for my "Tests for Sweethearts," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents (non-profit).

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 4c stamped self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Newsman Admires Gromyko's 'Act' at U.N.

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

UNITED NATIONS—"He seems like a nice guy, when you get him out of this place. Not a real nice guy maybe—but plenty charming enough to impress your wife."

The speaker, a newsman, was staring down from a press box window into the U. N. General Assembly Hall.

"Met him last week. He had dimples, already. But get him in here and he never cracks. A great actor."

You follow the newsman's gaze and spot the man in question. From the press roost, he is a clump of black hair and a plump, tapping index finger. Then he turns a trifle to the right, and he is a pair of thick bristling eyebrows on a round, overindulged face. He is sitting on the aisle, leaning over and in dark contrast to a pale green desk.

The desk is labeled "U.S.S.R." and the man needs no insignia. Andrei Gromyko.

"Wait'll he looks up," the newsman said. "Maybe you'll see what I mean. He looks like he could laugh."

LOOKS AT SPEECH

But Gromyko wasn't an obliging guy either. He thumbed through the text of the speech he was soon to deliver, denouncing the West.

Presently, a mimeographed copy of the speech President Eisenhower was to deliver was put into his stubby hand. He read it slowly, and made what appeared to be check marks beside a couple of lines. Then he turned back to his own printed address and drew a box around a couple of paragraphs.

"Sneaky Pete," muttered a newsman.

A few minutes later, the 3,000 persons in the General Assembly Hall stood up and began to applaud enthusiastically. Ike had entered a rear door and was on his way to the platform.

A few seconds late, Gromyko arose and turned, like a disinterested guest at a bourgeois wedding, to watch the President's progress down the aisle. He thrust out his left hand, and breezed his right toward it.

"This guy's a genius," remarked somebody. "He can applaud without making a sound."

SETTLES BACK

Gromyko sat down, put on his tortoise-rimmed glasses, picked up the copy of Eisenhower's speech and settled back. From the time the President began to speak, until 34 minutes later when he concluded, he rarely looked up.

Occasionally, the President's tongue tangled on a phrase, and sometimes this would bring a momentary raising of the Soviet's eyes to the lectern. They quickly returned to the solemn concentration of a printed sheet.

He made wavy lines under certain of the President's phrases. At the words, "Ever since its birth the United States has gladly shared its wealth with others," Gromyko laid down the text, as if bored, took off his spectacles and folded his hands over his ample stomach.

Five minutes later, Eisenhower concluded. The Assembly applauded, some from enthusiasm and others from protocol.

Gromyko, this time, didn't bother. He only sat and waited and, gradually, the ovation blew over.

"He isn't the same guy at all," said the newsman. "Stick around till after the session, and watch him in the hall. You'll see what I tell you. He's got dimples."

We couldn't wait. Had a date to interview a movie actor. Probably not as adroit an actor as Gromyko. But believable, as the drama critics say.

Glacier National Park Going Up in Flames

GLACIER PARK, Mont. (AP)—A stiff breeze hampered efforts today to control a fire that has destroyed 1,300 acres in a primitive area of Glacier National Park.

Hundreds of gallons of a chemical mixture were dumped on the fire yesterday. Planes made seven passes over treetops, dumping 200 tanks of borate at a time. An 18 m.p.h. wind developed.

Gordon Bender, chief park ranger, said the blaze may not be controlled for a day or two.

A fire-fighting crew of 450 was on the job, including 100 Zuni Indians flown from Albuquerque, N. M., and 100 Blackfeet Indians.

The fire is the largest in this northwest Montana playground area since 1936. It blew up last Tuesday in an area that contains no tourist routes and no inhabitants.

Ike's Atoms for Peace Proposal Slowly Taking Shape

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Slowly but surely, President Eisenhower's Atoms for Peace plan is taking shape today.

The expense and international red tape have been a drag, but American corporations have set up nuclear reactors abroad, ar building more and have contracted for still more. At least 20 can be tallied.

The President launched the plan nearly five years ago in his last previous appearance at the United Nations before he presented there last week the Middle East Development Plan. In this he hinted that nuclear power might help the Arabs solve one problem, that of making fresh water out of salt water.

Talk of atomic powered submarines to carry oil and other cargo under the North Pole also is stirring imaginations.

But some actual projects are in place on dry land. The progress will be checked next month in Geneva at the U.N.'s International Conference on Peaceful Use of Atomic Energy. An American built mobile radio-isotope laboratory is on the way there. Later it will tour Europe to give training courses to students.

American Machine & Foundry and its AMF Atomics division have stepped out fast. They report 16 nuclear research reactors either completed or under way in the United States, Canada and overseas.

Among them are reactors completed for the Ministry of Education in the Netherlands and for a laboratory at Munich, Germany. Other AMF reactors are under construction or in various drawing board stages for Canada, Austria, Greece, Portugal, Italy, Iran, Israel, Japan and Puerto Rico.

Westinghouse Electric International has licensed manufacturers in Belgium, Italy and West Germany to build and sell pressurized water reactors. A Belgian thermal reactor is expected to be operating by the end of 1959. Edisonvolta, S.P.A., large Italian utility, reports it will get one.

GE's atomic division reports one of its 3,000 thermal kilowatt reactors will be in operation next month near Madrid, Spain.

Under construction are GE reactor plants in Venezuela and Formosa. A West German utility announces it has contracted for a GE reactor to go into operation near Frankfurt by the end of 1960. GE's reactors are built by its Atomic Power Equipment Department at San Jose, Calif.

Peaceful atoms are being harnessed here and in England to produce commercial power, but much of the nuclear reactor work here and abroad so far has been for research and training. The U.S. has bilateral agreements with 24 nations to set up such programs and has appropriated five million dollars toward paying half of the reactors' costs.

AMF says its reactors will be used to activate materials for engineering tests, such as food processing and sterilization, biological reaction by radiation, and determination of wear in machinery.

The President's Atoms for Peace plan has led to setting up the International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna. And the U.S. Congressional Joint Atomic Energy Committee last week approved legislation to give American aid to Euratom. This is an atomic pool being set up by France, Italy, West Germany, The Netherlands, Belgium and Luxemburg to put atoms to peaceful labors.

Urges U.S. to Abandon 'Idealistic Imperialism'

Don't Try to Fix World, Expert Says

NEW YORK (UPI)—Dr. Henry Wriston, educator and foreign policy expert, called on the United States today to abandon "idealistic impearialism" and let the Middle Eastern countries use their oil millions to try to develop their own cure for their centuries old chronic problems.

Wriston, former president of Brown University, president of the Council of Foreign Relations and a consultant to Secretary of State John Foster Dulles on reorganization of the Foreign Service, called for an end to pessimism over the world's problems.

He said the Middle East has been a "boiling pot" for a thousand years and is going to boil over for a long time to come.

"I regard these as chronic diseases, that the Middle East has been in a chronic state of disease for a long, long time," Wriston said. "It's like arthritis or rheumatism. You have to live with it. It's painful. You do what you can to ease the pain, but there is no solution.

"If there was any magic solution, why hasn't some bright man thought it up a hundred years ago or fifty years ago, ten years ago?"

Wriston discussed foreign affairs while being interviewed by Mike Wallace on the "Survival and Freedom" filmed and recorded television series produced by the American Broadcasting Company in association with the Ford-financed Fund For the Republic.

He said he would like to see a Middle East development plan, but that there is plenty of money in the Arab countries for them to conduct a program without outside contributions.

"Kuwait has enormous sums of money and is doing, I may say, a pretty good job of spending some of it for improvement," Wriston said. "Saudi Arabia has a tremendous income. Iraq has a large oil income and is setting aside a good sum of that for development.

"Now, does this mean that papa —Uncle Sam—must take everybody by the hand and lead them? Why can't the Middle East get together? We'll cooperate, but I don't see that it's up to Uncle Sam to tell the Middle East how to manage their own economic interests."

Wriston said that President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic is trying to bring the Middle East together, but he has not done much for the common man.

"He has made some steps but he's been more interested in imperialism than he has been in social reform or economic development," Wriston said.

He said that he strongly favored a plan to stabilize the social and economic situations in the Middle East, but under the supervision of the United Nations, not the United States.

"For us to undertake as a nation to tell the Middle East how to do and how to spend their resources is, I think, outside of our own power," Wriston said. "This is what I call idealistic imperialism. People think that we ought to fix the world, and I think that's a very large order, indeed."

Wriston said the Foreign Service —"the nation's front line of defense"—is spread too thin as a result of 20 years of neglect and the refusal of Congress to spend enough money to put professional diplomats instead of millionaires in ambassadorial posts in London, Paris and Rome. It would cost five million dollars more a year to make the Foreign Service strong enough, he said, adding:

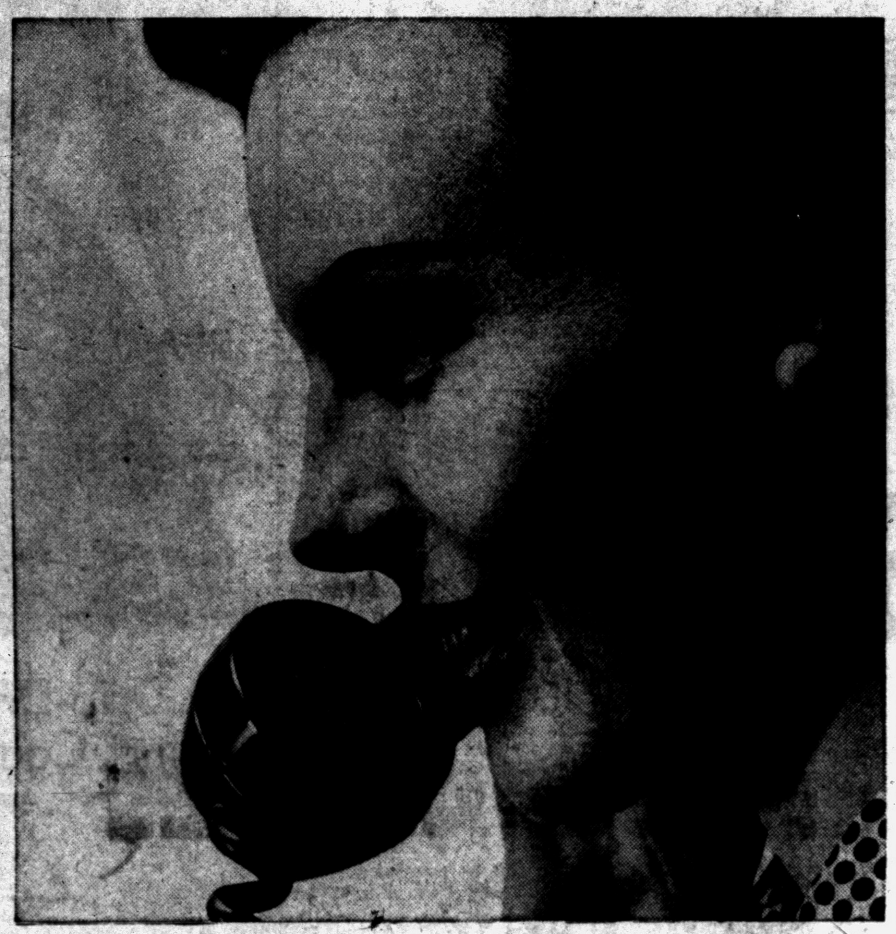

"We have shot off at Cape Canaveral in the last two months more than it would cost us."

Takes Registrations for Dance Classes

The Parks and Recreation Department today announced it is accepting registrations for fall classes in social, novelty and square dancing.

Enrollment is limited and on a first-come-first-served basis, said John A. Streit, assistant director. There are registration fees of $2 per Pontiac couple and $4 for non-city couples, he said.

Announcement of the time and places of the classes will be made later, Streit said.

The calls you get...

the calls you make...

do so much yet cost so little

Every minute of the day your telephone is ready to carry tidings of friendship and information both to and from your house.

You've just started baking when you find you've lost that new recipe so you phone Mary for it. Your sister calls to ask you all over for Sunday dinner. Your husband phones his place of work. Junior's friend phones to invite him to the movies.

If you could add up the value of every phone call your family makes and receives, we think you'd agree that your telephone is worth much more than it costs.

Doctors Tell Mothers Warts Should Be Removed

New Compound Removes Common Warts Without Cutting or Burning

New York, N. Y. (Special) . . . Doctors know that picking and scratching at warts may cause bleeding and infection. But today, medical science has developed a new compound, that removes common warts quickly and safely, without painful surgery or electrolysis.

Developed by a famous medical laboratory, this remarkable new formula penetrates warts . . . destroys their cells . . . actually causes warts to dissolve away.

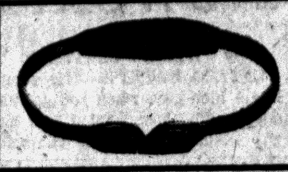

Tested by a leading New York skin clinic under careful medical supervision, this remarkable formula proved so effective, only one application a day was needed . . . proved so safe, it is now used for both children and adults. This new compound contains no mineral acids . . . leaves no ugly scars.

Today, this new compound is being widely recommended for quick removal of unsightly, troublesome warts. Known as Compound W®, it is now available for the first time without a prescription, at all drug counters for just 98¢. Compound W is guaranteed to remove warts . . . or money refunded.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by doctors' observations.

Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where doctors' observations were continued over a period of many months!

In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H.® Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H suppositories or Preparation H ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters. Satisfaction guaranteed or money refunded.

MRS. JULIAN COOK

Librarian Named for City Bookmobile

Pontiac has a new bookmobile librarian, Miss Phyllis Pope, city librarian, announced today.

Mrs. Julian Cook has been named to fill the vacancy left by Miss Robert Quello, who has left Pontiac to accept a library post with Garden City, N. Y., schools.

Mrs. Cook is a graduate of Howard University and holds a master's degree in library science from Columbia University.

Before coming to Pontiac, she was a reader's advisor in the District of Columbia Library.

Miss Pope also announced that the bookmobile will begin its rounds on Sept. 8. A detailed schedule will be announced next month, she said.

Builder Forgets Stairs in 2-Story House Plan

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A widely-known Milwaukee builder designed a new 2-story home and sent the plans to the Federal Housing Authority to be approved for loan purposes. But the plans came back marked "disapproved."

Seems he had forgotten to put a stairway between the first and second floors.

Remodeled Boat Club Scene of Open House

Sampling goodies from the buffet table—which are better than ever at the newly decorated clubhouse — are (left to right) Mrs. Andrew Lindsey, H. C. Shingledecker and Mrs. Monya Bregand.

Making plans for future activities to be held in the new rooms of the clubhouse are John Benson and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Penny of Royal Oak. Now that the club has been remodeled, members are hoping that more people than ever will take advantage of the new facilities.

Tell Husband to Get Hep—Abby

She's Out of This World

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: I feel so bad and want to know if I am entitled to complain about this.

My husband and I have been married six years and we have three darling children and I am expecting a fourth. In fact, I am writing this between pains. When I am pregnant my husband refuses to take me out in public. I make my own clothes and have made such pretty maternity clothes that people stop me on the street and ask me where I got them.

ABBY

"But he is old-fashioned. He said he thinks a woman should not go out in public in that condition. He is good to me and I know he cares for me, but he is funny that way. How can I change his mind?"

EXPECTING

DEAR EXPECTING: Your husband is more than old-fashioned—he is mid-Victorian. There is no reason for an expectant mother to hide during her pregnancy. How does he think HE got here?

"DEAR ABBY: I am 34 years old and yesterday I bought a bicycle for $42. When my husband laid his eyes on the bike he threw a fit and RAN, not walked, back with the bike for a refund. Traffic isn't too heavy where we live and I have always wanted a bike. My husband says I am too old to ride a bike, but I don't think I am. It would come in handy for marketing and the exercise would be good for me. Am I wrong to want a bike or is he being unreasonable?"

BIKE LOVER

DEAR BIKE: Frankly, I see no reason why you shouldn't have the bike. At 34 you are in your prime. Soft peddle it for a while and start hinting around Christmas time.

"DEAR ABBY: I am going with an executive in his late forties. He is married and we have to be careful about being seen togther because of his position and reputation. He says his wife is a mental case. I have talked to people who know his wife and they say that his wife is fine. HE is the mental case. He is a big spender and good company. I don't know who to believe. Can you give me some helpful advice?"

BUNNY

DEAR BUNNY: It doesn't really matter which one is the mental case. The man is married. Drum up a romance with a nice single man about whose mental state there is no doubt.

There Is No Time Limit

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: Some months ago I invited four ladies to a very nice lunch party. I really outdid myself to have everything just perfect. They were profuse in their thanks when they left but only one of them has invited me to anything since. Isn't there a time limit when it comes to returning invitations?"

Answer: Such an obligation of courtesy depends upon circumstances. If these guests have given a number of parties since your luncheon, you might have reason to feel slighted at not having been asked.

If they are not in the habit of entertaining, they might properly make a return in whatever way they find possible, such as sending you a few flowers, or doing you whatever kindnesses they can think of. Acceptance of hospitality does not require payment in kind.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Our oldest son has been going "steady" with a girl for about six months. They are not engaged. This is our problem: We are having a Bar Mitzvah for our 14-year-old son and want to invite this girl.

Shall we seat her at the family table or at another table with people she knows? Would not our son be committing himself if she sat at our table?"

Answer: As she is not yet engaged to your son it will be better to seat her at a table with people she knows, rather than at your family table.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Does an elderly lady ever have to rise to shake hands with anyone? That is, would she be considered rude not to do so?"

Answer: Every lady in her own house rises to shake hands with all of her guests—unless she is infirm. In the house of another, an elderly lady is expected to rise only when a personage of distinction is presented to her.

Dolores Cook Becomes Bride of Gary C. Wyllie

St. Michael Church was the scene of the wedding this morning of Dolores Jean Cook and Gary Clare Wyllie. The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly officiated at the ceremony before 200 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Cook of North Perry street and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Wyllie of Lowell street.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of lace and pleated tulle featuring a Sabrina neckline and a chapel-length train. Her fingertip veil fell from a crown of lace, tulle and pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses on a prayerbook.

Mrs. Carl Olson, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. She wore a ballerina-length gown of orchid nylon chiffon trimmed in white and she carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and ivy.

Bridesmaids were Kathleen Cook, another of the bride's sisters; Sandra Wyllie, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Samuel Piaseczny of Detroit. Their dresses and flowers were similar to the matron of honor's.

ATTENDS BRIDEGROOM

Charles Steinhelper was best man. Serving as ushers were Carl Olson, Herbert Stone and Samuel Piaseczny of Detroit.

Following the ceremony a breakfast was held at Devon Gables for the wedding party and families. In the afternoon a reception was held at the bride's home.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Cook wore a navy blue sheath dress trimmed in light blue with light blue and navy accessories and a corsage of white roses. Mrs. Wyllie wore a beige lace sheath dress with beige and white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

When the couple left for a tour of Upper Michigan and Mackinaw Island, the bride was wearing a brown and white checked cotton suit with brown and white accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet.

The couple will live on Salmer street.

The bridegroom is attending General Motors Institute of Technology.

Appearance Matters

Marathon 'Winners' Report on Victories

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Each January I run my 8-Week Self-Improvement Marathon. Tens of thousands of women join to see how much they can improve their appearance in that length of time.

Each August I print a few letters from Marathon winners. I do this because these human interest success stories are stimulating and may stiffen the determination of other readers who have meant to lose weight but have kept putting it off.

Physical improvement is the first step toward banishing depression and boredom, toward adding new zest to life. No matter where you are or how much money you have or do not have, the essential routines for better looks and better health are available to you.

Here is one of the letters from a Marathon winner:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: I have just finished my eight-week routine and have lost 23 pounds. Eight weeks ago I weighed 138 pounds. Today I weigh 115 pounds. My bust measured 36 inches, now it measures 34 inches; waist was 31 inches, but is now 24 inches, hips were 40 inches but now measure 35 inches.

"I never felt better in my life. I have more energy and pep. I do my housework in just about half the time it used to take, and best of all, my husband says that my disposition is even better.

"I had put this weight on during the last four years after my baby was born. Thanks for your help."

Pounds have a way of sneaking up on us unless we watch them. So often the first baby starts the ball rolling or rather the bulges bulging. Unless a woman begins reconditioning soon after her child arrives, she is apt to continue her weight gain.

Listen to this letter if you doubt that appearance has a strong effect on personality and even on happiness.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman: Let it suffice to say that I had been in a state of deep depression for more than a year. I will not go into the details but I had one hard experience after another. I had severe financial reverses, critical illness, and worst of all, lost the one I loved best in the world. I barely recovered from one blow when another fell. I really think I was close to a nervous breakdown.

"I had always been a happy person with no personality problems. However, I found myself absolutely unable to pull myself out of the bog of depression which finally hit me. I realized that I was deteriorating in personality and that I was allowing myself to become unattractive physically. My friends kept begging me to snap out of it. Somehow nothing seemed worth the effort.

"Then last January I read about your Marathon in "Why Grow Old?" After reading the first column I took a real good honest look at myself in the mirror. What I saw horrified me. I was plain fat. I weighed and found that I had gained 20 pounds in one year. Instead of being well-groomed my hair was stringy. I needed a permanent badly and had not been to a beauty parlor for months. I looked years older in the face. Everything about me drooped, even my posture.

"The second day I read your column about Marathon and looked at myself in the mirror again. The third day I sent for your booklet. You mentioned the fact that when one is depressed, physical self-improvement is the first step to take. I thought 'I can do that for just eight weeks.'

"I lost my 20 pounds and many inches and have begun to take an interest again in the way I look. I still have a long way to go but life begins to seem possible again. I have taken the step which I believe will enable me to salvage myself. Need I tell you how grateful I am?"

You can imagine how soul satisfying this letter is to me. It is a well-known psychological fact that in illness or disturbed personalities when the patient starts taking an interest in her appearance, that is a sure sign of beginning recovery.

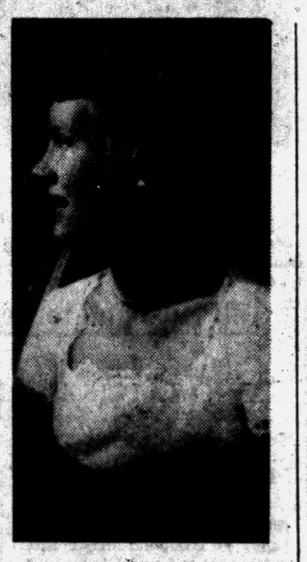

Even though you have not had bad times and are not depressed, a loss of unwanted pounds, improvement in measurements and complexion and hair can give your life a pickup and make you feel and look younger. It also will affect your personality and your outlook.

If you missed Marathon in January and would like to have the 8-week Self-Improvement Marathon booklet, send 10 cents and a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for this booklet. Address Josephine Lowman in care of The Pontiac Press.

Tomorrow: "After Finishing Marathon She was Able to Get Job."

Mary Susan Hathaway Marries Kenneth Kelley

MRS. KENNETH W. KELLEY

Mary Susan Hathaway and Kenneth Wesley Kelley were married Saturday afternoon at Calvin United Presbyterian Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hathaway of Harper Woods, and Mrs. Raymond Kelley of Collingwood street.

IN EYELET ORGANDY

The bride wore a waltz-length gown of white eyelet organdy over taffeta and she carried a handmade lace handkerchief belonging to her great aunt, Mrs. Edward Hornung of Grand Rapids. Her bouquet was of Amazon lilies and stephanotis.

Mrs. John Wirth of Ann Arbor, the bride's sister, was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Noelle Decker of Cambridge, Ohio, and Carol Fuhrman. They wore Nile green organdy dresses with sashes of contrasting taffeta and carried bouquets of yellow and white daisies with ivy.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

William Buck was best man and ushers were James Hathaway, the bride's twin brother; John Wirth of Ann Arbor, Edward Winchester and James Honchell.

To receive guests at a reception held in the church parlors immediately following the ceremony, the bride's mother wore a white linen sheath with green accessories and a corsage of rubrum lilies. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray crepe dress with wine accessories and a corsage of rubrum lilies.

Following a honeymoon to northern Michigan, the couple will live in Detroit.

Both are graduates of Eastern Michigan College, where the bride was affiliated with Sigma Nu Phi Sorority and the bridegroom with Kappa Phi Alpha Fraternity.

Mr. Kelley is now attending Wayne State University.

Encourage Tot to Take Bath 'on His Own'

Even a two-year-old can take his own bath, without mother's butting in. Child experts advise mothers to encourage independence, even at this early age.

Turn on the bath water, make sure that it's the right temperature, and lay a non-skid mat on the bottom of the tub. Put soap, a washcloth, and a clean bath towel within easy reach.

Lend a helping hand as your toddler climbs into the tub. Then GO OUT OF THE BATHROOM and let junior enjoy his own bath.

Be sure, of course, to stay nearby and to peek frequently. Just let him feel that he's lathering up by himself. He'll enjoy it more—and this psychology goes for sister, too.

TIME FOR A CHANGE

Even though you may feel that your present appearance does right by your features, figure and personality, a change now and then is necessary. It will show that you are neither static nor self-satisfied enough to exclude the artifices of fashion, hair and makeup to vary your looks. Investigate the new. A change is stimulating and refreshing only when it contributes something noteworthy to you as a person or a type

Let us arrange your hair in such a way as to contribute to your individual personality. This is most important. A good permanent is the best way to begin. MRS. BRUCE C. SANFT

Married Saturday evening at All Saints Episcopal Church were Virginia MacLean and Bruce Charles Sanft. Parents of the couple are Mrs. Stewart MacLean and the late Mr. MacLean and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sanft.

Sanft-MacLean Nuptials Said in All Saints Church

Virginia MacLean and Bruce Charles Sanft were married Saturday evening at All Saints Episcopal Church. The Rev. George Widdifield officiated at the double-ring ceremony before 250 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Stewart MacLean of Bloomfield Hills and the late Mr. MacLean, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Sanft of Lafay drive.

Wearing a full-length white silk organdy gown, the bride was given in marriage by her grandfather, Alva Richardson. Her gown featured a chapel train, basque waistline and a scooped neckline accented with re-embroidered lace.

Her illusion veil fell from a Juliet cap of silk organdy trimmed with lace appliques and pearls. On a prayer book she carried a white orchid with stephanotis.

Mrs. Frank Mulholland of Royal Oak was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Barbara Mason of Waterford, Karen Sink of Flint, Mrs. Charles MacArthur, and the bridegroom's sister, Martha Sanft. All attendants wore powder blue re-embroidered lace sheath dresses with matching blue silk organdy overskirts. Their headpieces were flat bows of silk organdy and they carried colonial nosegay bouquets of white carnations and miniature pink tea roses.

Edward Vallier was best man, and ushers were Stephen Saunders of Bloomfield Hills, Richard Shave of Royal Oak, Frank Mulholland of Royal Oak and Richard Singleton.

To receive guests at a reception held in the church parlors, the bride's mother wore a Dior blue silk chiffon dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white album lilies. The bridegroom's mother wore a coral colored satin dress with maching accessories and a corsage of white roses.

When the couple left for a honeymoon to Clearwater and Miami Beach, Fla., the new Mrs. Sanft was wearing a willow green silk chiffon dress with white accessories and a white orchid.

The bride is attending Henry Ford Hospital School of Nursing and the bridegroom attends Wayne State University.

Honored at Bridal Shower

Honored at a bridal shower Saturday evening was Gail Barber, bride-elect of Lee Hathaway. Hostess was Beth Tenny at her home on Cherokee road. Sharon Hubbell was cohostess.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Barber of Cherokee road and Dr. and Mrs. F. Milton Hathaway of East Iroquois road.

Those attending the couple will be Mrs. Kurt Bemman Jr. as her sister's matron of honor; Sue Ann Hathaway, maid of honor, and Mary Orr of Detroit, Patricia Campbell of Onaway and Miss Tenny, bridesmaids.

Guests at the shower were Mrs. Louis Wint, Mrs. Harold Euler, Mrs. John Devine, Mrs. Donald Johns, Mrs. Horace Young, Carol Young, Mrs. Ross Tenny, Joann Uligian, Joan Wagley, Sue Braid, Mrs. Ronald Kasher, Martha Varney and Barbara Magnus.

Completing the list were Roberta Cassidy of Hancock and Mrs. Arnold Barnes of Detroit.

Suzanne Lilliquist Weds William James Lembke

Baskets of white and pink gladioli banked the altar of Oakland Avenue Presbyterian Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Suzanne Lilliquist and William James Lembke. The Rev. Theodore R. Allebach officiated before 250 guests at the candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John H. Lilliquist of Newport street and Mr. and Mrs. George W. Lembke of Stanley street.

The bride wore a gown of pure silk bombazine featuring short sleeves and a Sabrina neckline trimmed with petaled Venice lace. Lace medallions were scattered on the front of the bouffant skirt which ended in a full chapel sweep train.

Her fingertip veil fell from a half-cloche headpiece with a center pearl drop and a standing half-bow trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and feathered carnations centered with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Sandra Lilliquist, with Judith Lambke, the bridegroom's sister, and Mrs. Lowell Satterlee as bridesmaids.

All the attendants wore waltz-length gowns of embroidered nylon over aqua taffeta featuring draped bodices and full skirts worn over hoops. Matching headbands secured their nose veils and they carried baskets of white daisies and red roses.

Robert Lembke, the bridegroom's brother, was best man, and ushers were Lowell Satterlee and Terry Tollefson.

Following a reception in the church parlors, the couple left for a honeymoon to northern Michigan. They will live on Dwight street.

The new Mrs. Lembke wore a white tucked linen sheath with black accessories and the corsage from her bridal bouquet for her going-away costume.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lilliquist wore a beige eyelet sheath dress with pink accessories and a corsage of pink rosebuds. Mrs. Lembke wore a Wedgewood blue lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of red rosebuds.

The bridegroom attends Western Michigan University where he is affiliated with Tau Kappa Epsilon Fraternity.

Fete Newlywed Mr., Mrs. Akers

Two hundred guests attended a reception honoring newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. Charles Akers Sunday. The affair was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Seymour Schack on Mapleleaf drive.

A post-nuptial shower honoring Mrs. Akers, the former Lenora Schack, was given Wednesday by Mrs. Youel Baker, Mrs. Floyd Coppinger and Mrs. Elmer Williamson.

Witch Hazel Fine to Set Hair Fast

When setting your hair, take this good cue from the experts. Never try to set soaked hair. Damp is just right.

An excellent, quick drying hair-set is good quality witch hazel. Make the first row curl toward the face, the second row away from the face.

Chill candles in the refrigerator for 24 hours before using. They will burn evenly and will not drip.

Small, fringed terry cloth hand towels make good place mats at the children's lunch table.

GOP Backs Millionaire of New York Governor as Hall Tags Behind

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — With Leonard W. Hall out, Nelson A. Rockefeller appeared certain today to be the Republican candidate for governor of New York. Some GOP leaders moved to persuade Hall to run for the Senate.

However, one close associate expressed doubt that he would.

Hall, describing himself as a "political realist," quit the gubernatorial race yesterday. A short time later, the 106-member Brooklyn delegation to the GOP State Convention endorsed Rockefeller for the nomination.

Their votes pushed Rockefeller's pledged total to 485. It was uncertain where Hall's 163 pledged votes would go, but Rockefeller appeared likely to get some. He needs 586 to be nominated on the first ballot.

Two important Republicans urged Hall to make the Senate try.

Hall has said he does not want to return to Washington. He is a former GOP national chairman and also served seven terms in Congress.

TELLING AMERICA ABOUT OUTSTATE MICHIGAN

The advertisement below is another in a series through which Consumers Power Company is telling America about the industrial advantages of OUTSTATE MICHIGAN. It is appearing in U. S. News & World Report, Wall Street Journal and other publications.

Consumers Power Company has had to invest $629 million in ten years to keep ahead of Outstate Michigan

The Outstate Michigan area served by Consumers Power Company

In the ten years 1948-57 Consumers Power Company has had to spend $629 million to expand and improve its electric and natural gas facilities. The steady growth and development of Outstate Michigan made this necessary.

Set apart by the Great Lakes, "the greatest fresh water supply in the world," Outstate Michigan is not only the home of thousands of thriving industries . . . not only an important farming state . . . it is also an exceptionally fine place for year 'round living or vacationing.

So Outstate Michigan has grown much faster than most states, and Consumers Power Company has grown along with it. Last year our customers used more than twice as much electricity as they did ten years ago . . . and four times as much natural gas.

Our Area Development Department will gladly supply confidential information to industrialists about sites in Outstate Michigan.

Oakland Firemen Burn Down Six Condemned Houses

"OPERATION FIRE" — This flaming building in the foreground was the first of six houses which were destroyed by flames started by area firemen yesterday. The houses in Commerce Township, which were condemned homes, were burned during a practice fire extinguishing demonstration.

Pontiac Press Photo

COMMERCE TOWNSHIP—"Operation Fire," a unique project which called for the total destruction of six condemned houses in Commerce Township yesterday, was a success, according to Chief Ray Price of the township fire department.

The program enabled firemen from Commerce Township, Walled Lakes, West Bloomfield Township, Waterford Township and Milford to join forces in a cooperative project.

At 1 p.m. the six buildings, formerly government project houses, stood side by side and unoccupied on Woodbury avenue, a short distance from Glengary avenue. A 6 p.m., only smoldering ashes remained.

Fireman from the six Oakland County fire departments had a chance to test fire fighting equipment as well as experience in working together.

Waterford Township firemen tested an experimental 1½-inch nozzle which produces a fan effect to keep fire from spreading to nearby structures.

Chief Price, instrumental in planning the project, obtained legal permission to destroy the buildings which were condemned as residences.

In reviewing the project, Chief Price said, "I think all departments benefitted from the project, both from a standpoint of education and of closer public relations between neighboring fire departments."

A constant supply of water was pumped from the Huron River by a Commerce Township fire truck and was fed through 2,150 feet of 2½-inch hose to the scene of the fire.

Whether Congress Adjourns or Not

Politicians Set to Leave for Overseas This Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — Whether or not Congress adjourns this week, some of its members are all set to leave for distant places. Some have gone overseas already.

The exodus won't be as heavy as last year, however.

The main reason: Many Congress members will be out campaigning. Elections are coming up in November, affecting all 435 House seats and 34 of the 96 Senate seats.

Last year, between a third and a half of the Congress members found official reason to visit foreign lands.

One Senate-House group took a pre-adjournment trip late last month. This was a delegation of seven House members and four senators attending the two-week annual conference of the Interparliamentary Union in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil.

Here are a few examples of pending congressional trips:

1. Two members of the newly formed House Space Committee expect to read papers at the International Astronautical Federation meeting in Amsterdam starting next Monday.

2. About half a dozen representatives and senators from the Joint Atomic Energy Committee are due to start for Geneva about the same time to attend the International Convention on Atomic Energy.

3. Starting early next month, some Senate-House Economic Committee members plan to check on economic matters in Europe that might have a bearing on U. S. policy.

Sometimes dollar expenditures for such trips, if any, come out of congressional funds. Sometimes they are chagred off by executive departments.

The biggest money source is counterpart funds—U. S.-owned foreign currencies acquired under American aid programs.

Georgiana Ender Marries Roy Herald

SOUTH LYON — Georgiana Cain Enders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Enders, 101 Lafayette St., became the wife of Roy Allen Herald Saturday.

The afternoon ceremony was performed by the Rev. James Roberts of St. Claire at the First Methodist Church. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Herald of 238 Lake St.

Miss Enders chose a gown of imported Italian silk with Alencon lace and an intermission-length skirt with a chapel train. A round portrait neckline and elbow-length gantlets completed the bridal gown. A fingertip veil fell from a Queen Anne cap.

Mrs. Neil R. Braun of Milford was the matron of honor and bridesmaids were Neely Ann Swett of South Lyon and Roberta Doering of Detroit.

Audra Lyon Herald, niece of the groom, of South Lyon, served as flower girl.

Gordon Lambie of Dearborn was the best man and Neil R. Braun, Ronald Avis and Dewey Lyke, all of South Lyon, and Clayton D. Lewis of Wixom seated the guests.

A reception for 200 guests was held immediately following the ceremony in the dining room of the church.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Herald will honeymoon in Canada and the New England states and then return to make their home at 921 W. Cross St., Ypsilanti.

The bride was graduated from Mercy School of Nursing in Detroit and the bridegroom is attending Eastern Michigan College in Ypsilanti, and is affiliated with the Alpha Gamma Upsilon Fraternity.

Burglars Active Over Weekend

Seven Places, Mostly Business Firms, Have Losses to Thieves

Seven burglaries and larcenies were reported to Pontiac police over the weekend with the thieves concentrating on business places.

Ritz Bar, 9 N. Saginaw St., lost $117 to burglars who entered through the front door with a key and forced the office door.

Ducky's Bar, 800 Woodward Ave., was looted of a case of whisky and $60 in change, it was reported Saturday to police.

Andy's Super Service, 701 S. Saginaw St., reported $30 taken from a cash register plus change from two coin machines.

Pontiac Auto Body Shop, 245 E. South Blvd., was ransacked but nothing reported missing.

Burglars also entered the home of Butler Harris, 638 Lennox St., who is vacationing. It is not known what was taken.

Thefts reported Sunday included Johnnie's Restaurant, 4 N. Cass Ave., where $6.50 was taken from the cash register and change from a coin record machine.

The A and W Root Beer Stand, 991 Baldwin Ave., reported its cigarette machine was stolen Sunday.

Moyes to Stop Hoffa Alliance

Kennedy Sees Joining of Transport Unions as Threat to Nation

NEW YORK (AP)—Robert F. Kennedy says James R. Hoffa's alliance of transportation unions "cannot be allowed" because it would mean a catastrophe for America.

Kennedy, chief counsel of the Senate Rackets Committee, says in Look Magazine that the proposed unions organization would constitute a subversive force of unequaled power.

"This alliance, dominated by corruption, cannot be allowed to form and function," Kennedy writes.

Calling it "Hoffa's unholy alliance," Kennedy urges rank and file Teamster Union members to get rid of corrupt leaders. He proposes a national referendum "to give honest Teamsters an opportunity to secure responsible leadership."

Hoffa has proposed an alliance of his Teamsters Union with the International Longshoremen's Assn. and the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and other transport unions.

Both Longshoremen's unions, along with the Teamsters, have been expelled from the AFL-CIO.

Kennedy said the proposed alliance could dominate the U. S. by stopping trucks from east to west, tying up ships on all three coasts, and halting plane and train shipments.

Tot Drives Car Over Her Sister, Three and a Half

A 3½-year-old Commerce Township girl is in Pontiac General Hospital today after being run over yesterday by a car evidently driven by her younger sister.

Oakland County Sheriff's Deputies reported that Terry Gay McAtee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McAtee, of 3023 W. Maple Rd., was injured in the freak mishap at her home Sunday afternoon.

The girl's father said he noticed his car with the motor running at the end of the driveway in the backyard, according to deputies.

He ran out of the house and found his younger daughter Jacqueline, 2½, sitting in the front seat. She had evidentaly started the auto accidentally while playing in it.

Terry was lying on the porch in pain. There were tire tracks on her dress. She was rushed to the hospital where she is reported in fair condition today with internal injuries.

Resume Search for Lost Boy, 10

Missing From Camp in Colorado Mountains Since Friday Night

ESTES PARK, Colo. (UPI) — A search party of more than 100 persons resumed its hunt in the rugged wooded sections of Mount Meeker near here early today for a 10-year-old deaf Denver boy missing since Friday night.

Searchers abandoned their efforts at nightfall Sunday after having no success in finding Bobby Bizup, son of M/Sgt. and Mrs. Joseph Bizup.

He was wearing only a sport shirt, light blue summer jacket, blue jeans and sneakers.

He was last seen by one of his counselors at the St. Malo camp, 12 miles south of here, at 6 p. m. Friday. The counselor said Bobby was fishing along the bank of a muddy creek and was told to prepare for supper.

The search started a half-hour later when he was discovered missing.

Yesterday, a helicopter, light plane, and tracking dogs were pressed into duty.

Safe Robbers Steal $2,000 at Nursery

SOUTHFIELD—Troopers of the Redford post and the Southfield police are investigating a safe robbery in a nursery company in which more than $2,000 was stolen.

According to Southfield police, the break-in occurred at the Ilgenfritz Nursery Co., 22951 Northweatern Highway, sometime Saturday night after thieves forced open a rear door.

They moved the heavy safe 55 feet to the yard of the nursery after detecting a tear gas bomb while attempting to pry open the safe inside the building.

The robbery of the cash and checks was reported to police by an employe, Jim Bueti, 59, of 20316 Moenert St., Detroit, after he opened the store Sunday morning and discovered the break-in.

It was at the Ilgenfitz Nursery that a night watchman was slain recently.

Knowland Braces for Stiff California Election Bid

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Bill Knowland, Republican leader of the Senate, is quitting soon to face a clouded political future in California, and most of the Senate will be sorry to see him go.

Many senators found it easy to disagree with Knowland but few of them ever had much doubt about where he stood. They developed a liking for him even though they found it hard to get to know him.

Like most effective Congressional floor leaders, Knowland has had a foot in each of the two camps of his party. His biggest headlines came, however, when he spoke as a conservative critic of the Eisenhower administration.

More recently he has squared off against labor leaders and pressed for a federal law to guarantee Democracy in unions and a state right-to-work law in California. Whether this tack was politically wise will not be known until November when Knowland will win or lose the race for the governorship of California. He is now the underdog.

Regardless of the political consequences, it could be taken for granted that once Knowland had chosen his road he would stick to it whether it led to Sacramento or political oblivion.

It has been five years since the late Sen. Robert A. Taft handpicked Knowland, then 45, as his successor to lead the Republican side of the senate. Knowland also inherited Taft's role as chief spokesman for the conservative wing of the GOP, although he had been something of a Young Turk in his earlier years.

Both Taft and Knowland were less conservative than some of their warmest admirers. They had other qualities in common, too. Both were tireless workers and strong partisans, willing to do their homework and unwilling to disguise their no-nonsense feelings with diplomatic niceties.

Knowland at first lacked the sensitivity needed to calculate what the Senate could or could not be persuaded to do. But he learned fast, even if he never acquired the finesse of his Democratic counterpart, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

On at least two occasions, Knowland has shown that he knew when it would pay to be downright bullheaded. Although the majority leader is supposed to guide the Senate program, minority leader Knowland forced showdowns in the Senate last year on civil rights legislation and this year on a labor reform bill.

Perhaps the Senate would have acted on both measures anyway, but Knowland did force the issue. Once that was done, however, he was outplayed by Johnson in the prolonged struggles over the substance of the bills.

If there were political insurance policies, Knowland would now rate as a poor risk despite his easy victories in two Senate elections.

He made a poor showing in the June primary in California and his insistence on running for governor helped to divide his party. Yet less than three years ago he was preparing to seek the presidential nomination if President Eisenhower decided against a second term.

Few senators have ever made it to the White House. When he announced he was running for governor instead of the Senate, it was assumed he wanted to run for president from a governor's chair. However, he has done about everything except use Gen. Sherman classic words to declare himself out of the race in 1960, when his fellow Californian, vice president Richard M. Nixon, is expected to be the GOP nominee.

Still only 50, Knowland could be a commanding figure as governor of California in later election years. If defeated, he would be virtually dead as a national political force.

Seeking to Tighten Teamster Quarantine

UNITY HOUSE, Pa. (AP) — AFL-CIO leaders meet today to spread tighter organized labor's quarantine against the Teamsters Union.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president said in advance that all AFL-CIO unions must end their mutual aid pacts with the giant truckers union, ousted from the federation eight months ago on corruption charges.

Walter Reuther, head of the United Auto Workers, told newsmen he aws confident the AFL-CIO Executive Council would vote to require member unions to sever all ties with the Teamsters.

Youngest Pair of Heavyweights Battle for Title Tonight

Patterson 6-1 Favorite Over Texas Fighter

Harris Puts Unbeaten String of 22 Victories on Line Against Champ

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Champion Floyd Patterson and challenger Roy Harris, of Cut and Shoot, Tex., two brawny young athletes with remarkable records, fight tonight for the world heavyweight championship — the ring's golden crown.

Shortly after sundown, they will square off in Wrigley Field for their scheduled 15-rounder, in which Patterson — who knocked out 14 of the last 15 men to face him — will try to blast backwoodsman Harris' perfect record of 22 straight professional victories.

They are not only the youngest pair to fight for the coveted diadem, but they apparently boast the most enviable records of any duo in the division's title history. The 23-year-old champion has lost but one of his 34 starts, and that on a very questionable decision. Harris, 25, is unbeaten.

Because of their records, each should be extremely victory-conscious when he starts tossing the eight-ounce gloves before a crowd that will include Texas oil, cattle and rice millionaires and stars of the entertainment world.

The main event is slated for 8 p.m. (PDT) — 11 p.m. (EDT.).

Because of his punch, the champion from Mt. Vernon, N.Y. is favored at 6-1 to tag Harris with his first defeat, and at 3-1 to win on a knockout. Betting has been very light.

Likewise, the ticket sale for Wrigley Field — from $5 to $30 a seat — has been disappointingly light. Promoter Bill Rosensohn, staging his first fight, originally dreamed of a $500,000 gate; but now he will be lucky to beat the California state record of $228,500, set by Sugar Ray Robinson and Bobo Olson at the same field, May 18, 1956. The paid attendance is expected to approximate 13,000.

Despite an all-out publicity campaign to acquaint the world with Texas Roy's colorful background — of Lil'l Abner boyhood on the edge of the "big thicket," college education, lieutenancy in the field artillery reserves and service as a country-school teacher — the citizens of Los Angeles did not rush to box offices.

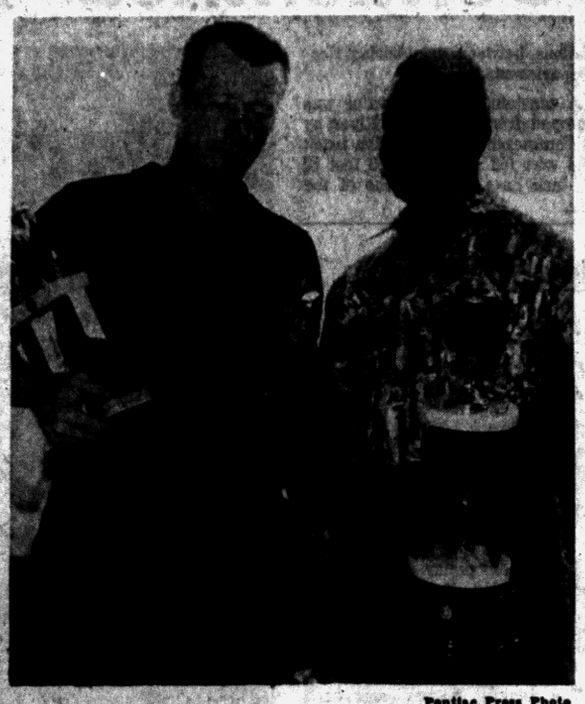

Apparently they could not forget last month's Los Angeles fiasco between heavyweight Zora Folley and Pete Rademacher. Moreover, neither champion nor challenger did much to excite the populace during lacklustre sparring sessions at their California training camps — Patterson at Oceanside and Harris at Arrowhead Springs.

Heroics in training were needed because Patterson hadn't fought in practically a year. His last title defense was on Aug. 22, 1957, against amateurish Rademacher, who had Patterson on the floor before being knocked out.

Harris hasn't fought since last Oct. 29 — about 10 months — when he outpointed Willi Besmanoff of Germany. A six-month hitch in the army curtailed his fistic activities.

Regardless of tonight's gate and theatre-TV receipts, challenger Harris will receive a flat guaranteed $100,000. He is the first heavy challenger to get a flat assurance. He got it to make certain he wouldn't stage a possible runout under urging from the rival International Boxing Club.

Patterson gets a $210,000 guarantee, with the possibility of receiving more through various percentages of the net gate and TV-theatre receipts.

Putter Red Hot in Medal Tourney

Cooper City Champ

The putter of Butler Cooper was red hot over the weekend and as a result he shot a blazing 67-68—135 to win the City Medal Golf Championship.

This was two strokes ahead of Dick DeWitt who turned in rounds of 67-70.

Cooper had only four bogey holes for the 36 holes and he used his putter only 58 times.

He and DeWitt each finished 18 holes with identical 35-32—67 totals, but in the second round Cooper fired 34-34 while DeWitt fell to a 37 on the front and a 33 on the back nine.

Defending champion Paul Bada and the man he defeated in a playoff to win the 1957 crown, Mike Andonian, each finished with 140 for a third place tie.

Glenn Vallance was one stroke behind in the 5th place at 141. The par-3 holes were Cooper's birdie points. He birdied the 219-yard 11th hole twice and he birdied the 127-yard 13th twice.

FINAL RESULTS

Butler Cooper	67-68—135

Orioles Sign Shortstop

BALTIMORE (AP) — The Baltimore Orioles announced Sunday they had given Peter Ward, a 19-year-old shortstop from Portland, Ore., slightly in excess of $4,000 to sign a baseball contract.

Ward, who attended Lewis and Clark University, will report to Vancouver of the Pacific Coast League.

Business Nine in 'B' Finals

Pontiac Business Institute gained the right to meet the Pontiac Boys' Club nine for the city's Class B playoff crown by handing Talbott Lumber a 2nd straight playoff setback 7-6 yesterday. The Boys' Club was loop champion.

The Business students were blanked with one hit for four innings by loser Dick Deschaine and trailed 2-0 before they caught fire. All seven runs tallied in the 5th and 6th offsetting a four-run 6th for Talbott.

Greg Meadows was the winner despite allowing nine hits, one a bases-empty homer by Don Talbott. The big blow for PBI was a three-run circuit clout by Les Smith, who had singled in the big 5th. Deschaine allowed only three other safeties while fanning 10. Marv Holler had a triple and two singles for the losers.

Willie Goggin Shades Sarazen

SPOKANE, Wash. (AP)—Willie Goggin, the cool and capable shotmaker from San Jose, Calif., won the National Open Senior Golf Championship Sunday with a 72-hole score of 270. He took $2,000 in prize money.

Goggin's 10 under par total shaded Gene Sarazen's efforts by a stroke.

Fort Worth's Dick Metz finished with a sizzling 66 for 274 and a third place tie with Paul Runyan of La Jolla, Calif.

BEST-IN-SHOW — Here's the little champion of a big field of all-breed dogs competing in the annual fall Pontiac Kennel Club show, Sunday. Held in the arms of his handler, is Ch. Christi Dachs Challenge, smooth dachshund that was judged best-in-show. Christy looks approvingly as The Press' H. Guy Moats presents the handsome trophy to handler George Rood of New Carlisle, Ohio. Christy is owned by Mrs. Mary E. Cornet of Washington, D. C. and Sunday's BIS win was his 3rd of the season. More than 550 dogs were listed in the show, at Waterford HS Athletic Field.

All-Star Heroes to Play Friday With Cleveland

Ninowski, Mitchell Get Chance to Encore at Briggs Stadium

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press

The nightmare the Detroit Lions had in Chicago last weekend will linger this week when the Cleveland Browns visit Briggs Stadium for an exhibition game Friday.

Back at work at Cranbrook where coach George Wilson has called for drills in basic fundamentals for tackling, the Lions will not get the opportunity to forget about Jim Ninowski and Bobby Mitchell, the pair who made it miserable for them in leading the All-Stars to a 35-19 rout.

Both Ninowski and Mitchell, who shared the "Most Valuable Player" award for the annual classic, are now in uniforms of the Browns and they will get a chance to encore against the Lions Friday night.

Although Milt Plum guided the Browns to a 10-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers in an exhibition tilt last Saturday night in Akron, Ninowski, the ex-MSU ace, is certain to see some action.

The Lions also learned yesterday that Jerry Reichow would be out of action for a couple of weeks with a knee injury suffered in the All-Star game. The knee has been placed in a cast.

Rookie defensive back Jim Wagstaff is also off the squad. Wagstaff left camp and was placed on the reserve list after he decided to take a high school coaching job in Pocatello, Idaho.

Lion coaches were especialy concerned with poor showing of the vaunted defensive backfield in the All-Star game.

Buster Ramsey, defensive coach said afterward that the defensive backs were "lousy."

He was especially angry over the pass play which went from Ninowski to Mitchell and covered 84 yards. This touchdown put the Stars ahead 10-7 at the time and Wilson termed it as the "turning point," of the game.

Tonight the Lions wil lbe guests at the annual "Meet the Lions" banquet in Detroit. This was the affair which a year ago Buddy Parker dropped the bombshell when he quit as head coach.

Rams, Browns and Eagles Also Win

Bears and Giants Sunday Victors

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Maybe this is the year Billy Wade becomes the kind of quarterback the Los Angeles Rams boasted they were getting when they made him their bonus pick in the 1952 National Football League draft.

The Rams did their part during the off season when they dealt the passing Dutchman, veteran quarterback Norm Van Brocklin, to the Philadelphia Eagles.

That handed Wade the No. 1 job and, after his first showing in the new pro exhibition season, maybe it was just the push the ex-Vanderbilt ace needed.

Free of Van Brocklin's shadow, Wade was quite a man in the Rams' 31-10 victory over the Washington Redskins Saturday night in one of five weekend exhibitions that kicked off the pro campaign.

There were 73,164 looking on as Wade — playing all but one minute on offense — fired two touchdown passes and scored another on a 10-yard run.

In other games Saturday, the Cleveland Browns — still the stingy old Browns — blanked Pittsburgh 10-0 at Akron, Ohio, and the Philadelphia Eagles won a 30-28 thriller from the Baltimore Colts at Hershey, Pa.

Sunday, the New York Giants, led by ball-hawking Cliff Livingston, beat the 49ers 19-10 at San Francisco, and the Chicago Bears, celebrating the return of George Halas as head coach, whipped the Chicago Cardinals, 24-7 at Buffalo, N.Y.

Van Brocklin, the 32-year-old pass master, had a big opening day with the Eagles, firing three touchdown passes in overcoming the Colts. One of Van's payoff tosses was to ex-Oklahoma All-America Tommy McDonald, who also sprinted 83 yards to score on a punt return. The game marked Buck Shaw's debut as Eagles coach.

Buz Guy's recovery of a Pittsburgh fumble on the Steelers' 35 set up Cleveland's touchdown, which Billy Reynolds scored on a 1-yard slant after Milt Plum had completed two passes. Lou (As Usual) Groza kicked a 14-yard field goal and converted once for the other four Cleveland points.

Willie Galimore scored on runs of 22 and 26 yards for the Bears, who got their third touchdown on Ed Brown's 13-yard flip to Jim Dooley. Lamar McHan's 38-yard pass to Max Boydston accounted for the Cards' touchdown.

Livington blocked two punts and stole a pass for the Giants in their victory over the 49ers.

Wins Pontiac Press Award

Dachshund Named PKC Show's Best

By H. GUY MOATS

A real smoothie walked off with top honors in Sunday's Pontiac Kennel Club's annual outdoor fall allbreed show at the pleasant Waterford High School Athletic Field site.

After a full day of judging by a corps of a half dozen leading observers, Joseph Faigel named Ch. Christi Dachs Challenge, a 2½-year-old smooth black-and-tan dachshund best-in-show. Christy won the handsome Pontiac Press best-in-show trophy for his owner, Mrs. Mary E. Cornet of Washington, D. C. George Rood handled Christy in winning both the hound group, and variety honors as well as the big one.

The little champion now has won three best-in-shows this season, getting tops at Macomb and at Marion, O., shows. He has been best-of-breed 40 times this year, was 1st hound 27 times. Christy was a popular winner, yesterday.

Ohio entries took most group honors with three. Michigan dogs were represented among the group winners by Dr. H. M. Vardon, Detroit, with his fine white bulldog, Ch. Vardona Frosty Snowman. Ch. Soham Bobbie, an Irish imjort, was best of toys, and is owned by Mrs. Ethel Ferguson, of Lake Geneva, Wis., only other outstate winner, besides Christy and the Ohioans.

Group winners:

Hound group—Ch. Christi Dachs Challenger (best-in-show).

Sporting group—Ch. Moiphy of Willow Creek, Irish water spaniel, owned by Marge and Floyd Crowe of Grafton, O.

Non-sporting group—Ch. Vardona Frosty Snowman, three-year-old bulldog.

Working group — Ch. Bryjon's Damocles von Kris, a 4-year-old male St. Bernard, owned by Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Breyfogle of Massilon, O.

Toy group—Ch. Soham Bobbie, 3½-year-old Yorkshire terrier, owned by Mrs. Ferguson, in its first show since finishing its championship.

Terrier group — Ch. Handful's Pop Up, 2½-year-old male miniature Schnauzer, owned by Wayne and Twyla Miller, Springfield, O.

Following the show, members of PKC, their judges and a few guests enjoyed a fine dinner at which Haskill Schuffman of New Castle, Ind., who sent the eventual best-in-show dachshund into the final judging as judge of the hound group, said the show was one of the best he has worked this year.

In two additional features at the show, highest scoring dog for the obedience competition was a collie entered by David Dawson of Fenton. Davis' dog received 198 points.

Junior showmanship awards were given Kathleen Swiderski, Rochester (10) with a cocker spaniel (9-12 years); (12-16 years), Paul Lederer, (13) Detroit with a German shepherd; (open) Matt Napier, 1492 Bennaville, Birmingham (15), with miniature poodle.

Napier was judged the best of the junior handlers.

Waterford 'D' Champions

Softball teams from Waterford, Southfield and Mt. Clemens today were preparing for this week's rugged softball regionals after wrapping up district titles over the weekend.

Spencer Floor Covering waltzed to the Class D crown at Waterford yesterday trouncing Howell 13-1 behind Gene Shell's three-hit hurling. John Herrington paced the 11-hit attack two singles and a triple and Al Crawford had two singles.

Howell gained the finals Saturday by nipping Pontiac 2-1 despite a four-hitter by Art Weiss.

Southfield repeated a Saturday shutout of Mt. Clemens to take "C" honors here Sunday. Don Weichert fired a one-hitter in a 10-0 route and slammed a two-run homer. Chuck Horvath had spun a 1-0 three-hit job Saturday.

Mt. Clemens reached the finals by whipping Howell 6-4 Saturday and 8-4 yesterday. Howell cut down Waterford and the Pontiac Police in Saturday eliminations.

Howell came from behind once and later broke a tie to down Waterford 10-4. Art Ruelle had three hits for Waterford. The latter team had dropped Highland Park out of the running earlier in the day winning 5-3 paced by Norm Jennings' pitching and the bat of Earl Lamberto. Jennings lost a 7-1 verdict to Southfield Saturday.

Mt. Clemens won the Class B championship at home Sunday downing Royal Oak 4-2 following Saturday wins over Southfield 7-0 and Royal Oak 3-0. St. Clair Shores eliminated Pontiac Friday and Waterford Saturday.

Only Story on Outcome Allowed

Ban Home TV, Radio at Title Fight Tonight

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Irving B. Kahn, President of Teleprompter Corp., told United Press International yesterday that under no circumstances will radio stations be permitted to broadcast any reports of the Floyd Patterson-Roy Harris heavyweight title fight until it is over.

"Re-creation of the fight or round by round summaries are absolutely out and we are prepared to take action against any radio station that does so," Kahn said. "The only radio broadcasting we are permitting is for stations to use as a part of their newscasts a story on the outcome of the fight. Not even a re-creation or round by round summary after the fight is over will be permitted."

Kahn added that "there is no chance that our policy in this regard will change."

He said if teleprompter, which purchased exclusive radio, television and motion picture rights to the fight, is not granted the injunction it seeks in New York County Supreme Court against radio station WOR in New York City "we are prepared to appeal it to higher courts.

"There is no limit to the amount of money we will spend to prohibit radio from broadcasting the fight and to prosecuting them if they do so," he declared.

Teleprompter filed for an injunction against WOR after that station had announced that it was going to broadcast the fight from press association reports.

There will be no home television of the bout. The bout will be televised on a closed circuit network into 151 theaters around the country.

Packer Lineman Escapes Injury

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — Nate Borden, defensive end and tackle for the Green Bay Packers, escaped injury early Sunday when the car he was driving went out of control in the downtown area and crashed into the window of a furniture store.

Officers said Borden, driving a car owned by end Max McGee of the Packers, hit a curb, veered across the street and smashed into the store. Police estimated there was $4,000 damage to the store and $2,000 to the 1958 auto.

Foytack's Homer Pitch Newest Tiger Jinx

Pair in Seventh Results in 4-1 Victory for A's

Paul Has Now Allowed 20 Circuits; Detroit Heads East in 4th

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—Paul Foytack's home run pitch is taking current top billing as a Detroit Tiger jinx.

The Tigers, here for an exhibition game today with their Charleston farm team of the American Assn., stumbled out of Kansas City after three defeats in a row—the third and last yesterday as a result of Foytack's groove ball.

After doing a gilt-edged job for six innings in a duel with Bob Grim, the Tiger righthander tossed up two homer pitches in the seventh for all of Kansas City's runs in a 4-1 triumph for the Athletics.

The loss, during which Detroit got only four hits off the former New York Yankee twirler, dropped the Tigers into fourth place a full three games out of third.

Until the roof fell in on him in the seventh, Foytack had a two-hit game going yesterday while working on a 1-0 lead. Harvey Kuenn's double and Frank Bolling's single had scored for Detroit in the third.

Over the first six frames Foytack had faced only 19 batters. But in the seventh he gave up his 19th and 20th homers, which was all Kansas City needed.

With one out, Hector Lopez smashed the ball over the left field fence to tie the score at 1-1.

Harry Chiti then duplicated the blow after Foytack walked Harry Simpson and permitted a single by Hal Smith.

Manager Bill Norman's in and out team is now heading into an Eastern invasion, starting at Washington tomorrow night, which could send the Tigers into the second division unless conditions reverse themselves.

Lead 'Cut' to 11½, Braves 8 Ahead

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

By United Press International

Funny game, this baseball.

The Braves are leading by eight games and feel like shoo-ins; the Yankees lead by 11½ and feel like sad-sacks—but they'll have to go out and practice today whether they like it or not.

Everything is fine with the breezing Braves, who ran their winning streak to seven games yesterday by sweeping a pair from the Phillies, 5-1 and 4-1.

On the other hand, everything is all fouled up with the Yankees, who dropped a 6-5 decision to the Red Sox and now have lost eight of their last 11 starts. Since Aug. 2, their lead has shrunk from 17 games.

The schedule says the Yanks have today off. Casey Stengel says differently. He called a practice session for 10 o'clock in the morning.

"I don't know what's-a-matter," he grumbled, "but I'm gonna find out in a hurry."

Anyway, the second-place White Sox, still entertaining notions of catching the Yankees, won their fifth straight by beating the Indians, 3-2. Baltimore nipped Washington, 2-1.

San Francisco took over second place in the National League with an 8-6 triumph over Chicago. Cincinnati swept a doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 4-3 and 7-5, while Los Angeles earned a split by taking the nightcap, 9-3, after St. Louis won the opener, 12-7.

Juan Pizarro's four-hit pitching and Frank Torre's grand-slam homer off Don Cardwell gave the Braves their opening game victory, and in the nightcap, Lew Burdette hurled a five-hitter for his 13th triumph. Wes Covington hit his 22nd homer and also scored the decisive run on Johnny Logan's perfect squeeze bunt in the fourth inning.

Six home runs were hit in the Red Sox-Yankee game but perhaps even more significant were the three singles and a double by Ted Williams that sent his average up to .316. Dick Gernert, Sammy White and Don Buddin each connected for Boston. Mickey Mantle socked his 35th homer and Andy Carey and pinch-hitter Don Larsen also connected. With runners on second and third in the ninth, Leo Kiely had to be called in to save Ike Delock's 11th win.

Earl Battey's eighth inning homer off Jim Grant broke a 2-2 tie between the White Sox and Indians. Lefty Billy Pierce gave up nine hits in posting his 13th victory. Grant was tagged with his 10th loss.

A total of seven home runs were hit in the Giants-Cubs game but it was Willie Mays' 21st homer with two on in the fourth that proved the payoff blow. The wallop gave San Francisco an 8-4 lead after which Ernie Banks clouted his 38th homer with one on in the sixth. Bobby Thomson slammed two homers while Dale Long, Daryl Spencer and Leon Wagner had one each.

Jerry Lynch of the Redlegs, a one-time Pirate, was the man who hurt Pittsburgh most. His third hit in the opener was a ninth-inning single that drove in the winning run and he collected two more hits in the finale, including a two-run homer. Joe Nuxhall picked up his 10th victory in the nightcap even though he gave up two homers to Dick Stuart and one to Roman Mejias. Tom Acker was the winner in the opener.

Exact fit for all cars!

6 great fuels from Sunoco's amazing new Custom-Blending pump can fit today's octane needs more exactly than 2 or 3 grades possibly can!

6 different prices, too-scaled down, grade by grade-to save you up to 4¢ a gallon!

Note buried tanks. From these, pump draws (a) premium quality Blue Sunoco '200', and (b) Sunoco Octane Concentrate (specially refined motor fuel). These are blended by pump to the exact blend number ordered. Approved by various governmental authorities.

The big reason for you to try Custom-Blended Blue Sunoco is to see how much power, pep and mileage you can get . . . without wasting money on octane your car can't use.

Now your Sunoco Dealer offers 2 or 3 times the octane selection you can get from anybody else (from premium quality Blue Sunoco '200' at "regular" price to Blend '260', the highest octane sold anywhere at any price!) These and the blends in between give you the finest performance qualities possible today.

First, fill your tank with the blend number recommended for your particular make, model and year. But next time you refuel, try dropping down to the next lower blend — at the next lower price. Chances are, you'll get performance just as hot. So it goes with Custom-Blended Blue Sunoco . . . and so you save!

More! For "Regular" Buyers, too!

You can get higher octane at "regular" price with Blend '200' . . . it's proved higher octane for most "regular" users. It's higher in quality . . . highest in value!

The only thrifty way to buy premiums today!

2 Children Die in Fire

WHITTIER, Calif. (AP)—"Because it had more room, we thought it would be an ideal place to raise the kids," said Gillian Roberts, explaining why he'd moved his family into a new home a week before fire gutted it, killing two of the children. Firemen blamed a short-circuit in a clothes dryer for starting the blaze.

Upset Mother Drowns Tots

Didn't Want Husband to Have Three Sons, She Tells Police

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP)—A distraught mother drowned her three sons, she said yesterday, because "I din't want my husband to have them."

"I have just drowned my three children," Mrs. Rosa Pena calmly told a police sergeant.

"I only wish I had," the 24-year-old woman answered when the sergeant asked if she made up the story.

Patrolmen dispatched to the home in a poorer section of the city found the three boys—David, 6, Alvina, 4, and Richard, 2, dead. A medical examiner said they apparently had been drownd.

Police had not been able to locate the father. They said Alfonso Pena worked at Kelly Air Force Base here. His wife said they had been married nine years.

Mrs. Pena said she admitted the boys to a bathroom for their baths and rowned them there. Then, she said, she drank what she thought was poison from a bottle. It had no apparent effect.

She told police she waited about an hour before coming to them.

She was booked at city jail for murder and placed in a hospital for treatment of shock.

She told police that she and her husband had had domestic difficulties. She quoted Pena as saying that if she left him he would take the children with him.

"If I can't have them," she told police, "no one can."

Britain Set to Test N-Arms in Pacific

LONDON (AP) — Britain will soon hold her third series of nuclear weapons tests at Christmas Island in the central Pacific, the Defense Ministry said last night.

The first British H-bomb was set off near Christmas Island May 15, 1957, and four more have been reported since then, the most recent one last April 28. There was no indication of the extent of the coming test series.

With pressure for suspension of nuclear tests mounting at home and abroad, the British government has been reported under pressure from scientific and military advisers to hurry up tests to beat any ban.

Future Soviet Premier? He Wins Lenin Medal

MOSCOW (AP)—Frol R. Kozlov, one of the fastest rising members of the Kremlin hierarchy, has been awarded the Order of Lenin on his 50th birthday.

A Communist party official since 1939, Kozlov was appointed to the party's ruling Presidium in the shakeup of June 1957. In December he was made premier of the Russian Republic, the Soviet Union's biggest division. He was named one of the Soviet Union's two first deputy premiers last March.

Middle Class America Discovering Art

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeature Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Average Americans have discovered Art. Typically, they are wrapping it up and taking it home.

Undoubtedly, collecting Old Masters and works of important contemporaries is more than ever the preoccupation of the very rich. But for the first time in the nation's history men and women in more modest circumstances have become interested in oils, watercolors, prints and sculpture.

A GROWING INTEREST

In increasing numbers, they are buying original works to place over their fireplaces, to decorate their own walls, for their own enjoyment.

The interest has been growing since the early war years. In 1940, about one million people visited the Metropolitan Museum of Art and its Cloisters.

By 1950 the attendance figure was up to two million. Next year, it will probably reach three million.

In the last 15 years, some 300 new museums have opened all over the country.

Recently $9,600 worth of paintings, original prints and antique furniture was sold during a two-day PTA benefit sale in a suburban elementary school. The objects d'art were taken on a consignment basis — an increasingly popular fund-raising device.

One of the city's famed auction houses had a small but choice collection of Impressionist and post-Impressionist painters to go on the block last month. So many people turned up for an advance look that the auctioneers issued admission tickets for the sale so important buyers — as opposed to art bargain hunters — could be sure of seats.

ROOTED IN SUBURBIA

In the writer's own suburban neighborhood — an area of under $30,000 homes — three couples hire sitters one night a week to attend an art appreciation course; four housewives spend an afternoon a week visiting New York's art galleries and museums; one family renovated its living room around an oil landscape; the prize possession of a young telephone executive and his private secretary-wife is print No. 6 of a signed Matisse lithograph.

The experts have theories why America has become a little art-mad and, of course, they don't always agree. One logical explanation is that never before have Americans had so much leisure in which to pursue noncommercial interests.

Another undisputed reason is good times. Americans have more money to spend and have been developing a taste for life's luxuries.

Still another expert gives interior decorators credit. "There is no disputing that they have done a lot to bring art into average homes," he said. "They've written about art and they've preached art."

Women still come into the gallery and ask for a painting of a certain size and in certain colors, he said.

A HUGE MARKET

Pictures are popping up in hospitals, industrial plants and business offices. Housewives haunt the auction houses. Local art shows do a brisk business. Many persons buy a favorite picture on the installment plan — $5 or more a week.

The combination of all these forces, including a growing feeling that it is smart to be arty, has made it impossible to estimate the size of today's art market.

The big auction houses of New York, Paris and London do an annual business of more than 50 million dollars. Add to this the total business of literally thousands of small and large galleries (200 in New York alone) and direct dealings between painter and client, and it is evident a huge amount of money is changing hands.

A great portion of this business is in art priced at $1,000 or less. It is in this area that the average American is likely to invest. It is art at these prices, too, which is bringing business to American artists, for the experts — directors and curators of museums — feel they are the best buys.

SATISFYING A GROWING APPETITE—This could be a street scene in any of a hundred or more American cities where sidewalk art shows cater to and whet the increasing appetite for original art. This one is in New York.

Hollywood Headlines

Wayne, Holden to Head Cast of Civil War Movie

By DOROTHY MANNERS
(For Louella O. Parsons)

HOLLYWOOD—With John Wayne set for "The Horse Soldiers," the John Lee Mahin-Marty Rackin Civil War drama gets off to a hot start in more ways than one. William Holden is reported taking on the male co-star role with Wayne —this despite the battle he's having with Paramount.

When last heard from, Paramount proclaimed that Bill was not working for anyone if he didn't work out his contract with them. But Bill's saying he's going to do this one with Wayne with John Ford directing, come what may.

Appropriately, "The Horse Soldiers" has a war background—a famed raid of Union troops into Louisiana during the War Between the States. It's a joint Mirisch and Batjac venture.

Robert Wagner has removed himself from "The Sound and the Fury" because this is one tired boy. Jerry Wald didn't give up without a struggle.

Bob has promised producer Wald he'll make personals with both "The Hunters" and "In Love and War"—and this is what gets him off the new Wald picture.

Bob and Natalie Wood now head via their own boat to 10 days of fishing off Ensenada. Natalie should be as worn out as he is. Not a single day did she miss a 'sittin' on the set while her bridegroom toiled through "In Love and War."

If Irene Dunne really means she likes the Mother Superior role in "Girls Town," the part is hers and producer Al Zugsmith will put down the red carpet for her at MGM.

Irene and Dr. Francis Griffin, her husband, are good friends of Robert Hardy Andrews, who scripted the drama about a rehabilitation home for teenage girls.

Bob sent his screenplay to Irene just to get her reaction. She was so enthusiastic about the part of the Mother Superior who sets the girls on the right road in life she indicated she might come out of retirement to play it. It would be wonderful to have her back.

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS:

Burt Lancaster and Kirk Douglas, working with Sir Laurence Olivier in "The Devil's Disciple" always address Sr. Laurence as "Mr. Olivier" on the set.

Rita Hayworth remains on at the Savoy in London although Jim Hill had to fly back to Hollywood on a brief business trip. Every time Rita steps outside the hotel, she's pursued by photogs, but few fans recognize her.

Hedy Lamarr at Jack's At the Beach with a gentleman who looked strikingly like the Texas husband she just divorced.

Keith Andes left today for London to give a drama lecture at his alma mater, Oxford University.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Illness Halts Flight of Actor Robinson

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Sudden illness of actor Edward G. Robinson caused an American Air Lines plane, flying nonstop from New York to Los Angeles, to make an emergency landing at McCarran Field here yesterday.

Robinson was taken by ambulance to Southern Nevada Memorial Hospital. After treatment for a bladder condition, the 64-year-old actor was released.

Mrs. Robinson said she and her husband would continue their trip to Los Angeles as soon as they could book another flight. The couple had been in the East to attend a funeral, Mrs. Robinson said.

Toast of Gay Nineties Dies a Marchioness

LONDON (AP) — The 80-year-old dowager Marchioness of Headfort, star of the Naughty 90s and one of the greatest of the Gaiety Girls, died at her London home last night.

Once all theaterland knew her as Rosie Boote, a beauty from Tipperary who captured the heart of Edwardian London and the hand of a handsome marquess.

Her voice and her figure won her fame overnight in the storied world of hansom cabs and stage door Johnnies who drank champagne from her silken slipper.

Rosie's big success came with a lilting song, "Maisie Was a Darling, Maisie Was a Dear," in a show called "The Messenger Boy" at London's famed old Gaiety Theater.

A year later, at the height of her fame in 1901, she retired from the stage to marry a young Life Guards officer, the fourth Marquess of Headfort. His family was shocked, but Rosie's charm finally won them over.

After their marriage, the couple settled on his family estates in County Cavan and County Meath.

They had two sons and a daughter. Lord Headfort died in 1943.

Seen as Likely Democratic Choice

Sen. Johnson for President in '60?

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington fortune-tellers usually wait for Congress to quit, when the dull days begin, before guessing who'll be runni ng for president in 1960.

But why wait?

There's no need to guess much about Vice President Nixon for the time being, since right now he seems to have the inside track for the Republican nomination. But it's a free-for-all among Democrats and will continue so.

A dozen Democrats — with the presidential conventions still two years away — already are being mentioned as maybe having a chance for their party's nomination. That's about par for the course. Right now the Democrats don't have one outstanding possibility.

Strangely, not much mention has been given recently to Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas as the Democratic candidate. Perhaps that's because this leader of the Senate Democrats has repeatedly said he has no presidential amibtions.

Maybe he hasn't. But he'd be extraordinary if he didn't. It's this writer's guess he's a man to watch. Saying right now he has no presidential ambitions — and yielding later to pressure, internal or external — are different things.

Pressure in 1960 would force him into a decision because his current Senate terms ends that year.

Johnson couldn't run for both the Senate and the presidency. He looks like a cinch to be re-elected if he runs for the Senate again. But if he ran for the presidency and lost, he'd be out of the Senate.

The Democratic party in 1960 may be torn apart in a split between Northerners wanting a strong civil rights plank and Southerners burning over the public school integration issue.

It's possible in such a situation Johnson might be used as a compromise candidate to pull the party together. For, while he's a Southerner, it was through his Senate leadership that Congress last year passed the first civil rights bill in this century.

It was a compromise bill, to be sure. It wasn't as much as the Northerners wanted. It was more than the Southerners wanted. Nevertheless, Johnson steered it through.

He's run up a remarkable record for getting things done in a Congress where the Democrats outnumber Republicans and run the show, although Republicans control the executive branch of the government.

How does he get things done? Thorugh a combination of things: he's a compromiser, plays friendly, avoids personal attacks, keeps windbagging to a imnimum, and does favors for his fellow senators who thus become his debtors.

Cleo the Hurricane Sweeps Northward

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Cleo swept northward in the open Atlantic today with slowly decreasing winds near the center but an increase in size.

The season's first hurricane had winds up to 105 miles an hour near the center today as it howled along 500 miles east northeast of Bermuda. It was moving at 20 miles an hour.

A turn toward the north-northeast is indicated.

Some increase in size is expected as the hurricane loses its force. Hurricane force winds extend out 75 miles around the center, with gale force winds reaching 225 miles to the north and east and 150 miles to the southwest.

Ships in the path of the storm were advised to use extreme caution, but there was no threat to the U. S. mainland.

Latin Countries Agree to Leave Island to Birds

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—Argentina and Chile have agreed to quit feuding over ableak little island near the tip of South America and leave it to the birds.

Both nations have held unsettled claims to Snipe Island since 1881. Chile recently began building a lighthouse there. Argentine Marines destroyed it Aug. 9 and stationed a detachment there. Chile angrily withdrew her ambassador from Buenos Aires.

A communique issued in both nations' capitals last night said they had agreed to leave the island unoccupied and without lighthouses or buoys. Argentine Charge d'Affaires Ernesto Nogues said the Marines will leave immediately.

De Gaulle, Cabinet Meet to Draft Constitution

PARIS (UPI) — Premier Charles De Gaulle called a cabinet meeting today to prepare a final draft of the new French constitution on which the nation will vote Sept. 28.

Minor changes suggeste dby the constitutional consultative committee, which studied De Gaulle's draft of the constitution for three weeks, will be worked into the final draft by the ministers.

They will leave unchanged, however, the basic principle giving future Fench presidents greater powers, and reducing the power of the national assembly to topple governments.

River 'Victim' Calls Wife

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP) — James Blake started to swim the Catawba River Saturday night and never came out, said his friends. Police and 60 life saving crew members searched all night and all day Sunday.

Sunday night, Blake called his wife to come and get him at the river. Sure, he felt fine. He'd just fallen asleep in a boathouse, he said.

Grain Futures Trading Lags

CHICAGO (AP)—Activity was almost at a standstill in the first half-hour after the opening of the Board of Trade today and prices were steady to easier.

Dealers said the weekend accumulation of orders was among the smallest they had seen in months and that there appeared to be little or no desire by speculators to do business.

There was some pickup in cash corn receipts with more than 400 cars arriving for commercial dealers. It created some pressure from hedge selling.

Near the end of the first hour wheat was ½ to ¼ cent a bushel lower, September $1.83⅜; corn ¼ to ½ lower, September $1.26⅝; oats unchanged to ⅜ lower, September 61⅝; rye ¾ to 1½ lower, September $1.22½; soybeans ¼ higher to ⅜ lower, September $2.24⅝; lard 7 cents a hundred pounds higher to 7 cents lower, Seutember $12.87.

Bright Lights Cause Motorist to Hit Tree

Charles J. Prochaska, 41, of 3362 Union Lake Rd., Commerce Township, was reported in satisfactory condition today at Pontiac General Hospital, after being injured in a traffic accident early Sunday.

Prochaska told sheriff's deputies he was forced off Haggerty Rd. just north of Crumb Rd., West Bloomfield Township, by an oncoming auto with bright lights. His car struck a tree.

Deputies said Prochaska suffered fractures of an arm and both ankles.

NOTICE OF HEARING

On establishing normal level of waters in Oakland and Woodhull Lakes, in Waterford Township and Independence Township, Oakland County, Michigan.

To whom it may concern, and particularly All owners of property fronting on, abutting on, or having access to or rights in Oakland Lake or Woodhull Lake or who are interested in having fixed and maintained the normal level of said lakes pursuant to the provisions of Act 194 Public Acts of 1939 as amended:

You are hereby notified that the Oakland County Board of Supervisors caused to be filed in this Court a petition praying for the establishment by this Court of the normal level of Oakland Lake and Woodhull Lake, said lakes being located in Sections 34 and 35 of Independence Township, and Sections 2, 3 and 11 of Waterford Township, Oakland County, Michigan;

You are further notified that the hearing on the petition will be held in the Circuit Court for the County of Oakland on Friday, the 12th day of September, A.D. 1958, at the opening of Court on that day at 9:30 a.m., or as soon thereafter as Counsel may be heard;

You are further notified that upon said date the petitioner intends to ask this Court to establish the high level of said lakes at 957.50 feet above sea level, and if you desire to oppose this establishment of the level of 957.50 feet above sea level you should then and there appear and show cause if any you have.

A. Why the normal height and level of said lakes should not be established; and

B. Why 957.50 feet above sea level should not be the level fixed as the normal height and level of said lakes.

Eternal Triangle Problem Solved by Londoner

LONDON (UPI)—Bill Healey, 34, has found the solution to his own eternal triangle problems. He and his present wife live in one room. His ex-wife and his five children have the run of the rest of the house.

The strange domestic setup came to light when both Mrs. Healeys were charged with shoplifting while out shopping together. They stood side by side in court and were each fined $1.28. Then they left court together to go home to Healey.

Healey said they all lived harmoniously in their house in Notting Hill, a section of London. There are Healey, his present wife, Nancy, 26; his ex-wife, Marie, 31, and the five children, Linda, 10, Graham 9, Susan 8, June 6 and Marie "mum" and Nancy "Nancy."

"I love the children as though they were my own," the present Mrs. Healey said. "They never ask awkward questions."

When the former Mrs. Healey goes out on dates, the present Mrs. Healey babysits for her.

Healey said he decided on this solution to his problem two years ago when his first wife told him she was getting a divorce. He decided he couldn't live without the children and asked if she would stay on in the house. Both women agreed.

The first Mrs. Healey was waiting to welcome the Healeys when they returned from their honeymoon.

"It's worked for years now and the children have had a proper home life," Healey said.

Ladies at the Bar

JANESVILLE, Wis. (UPI) — Tavern keepers here have leaped to the defense of the fair sex with an equal rights for ladies campaign. Ladies are not allowed to sit at the bar in taverns and the owners are trying to have repealed an old city ordinance that says they must stay at the tables.

Coppers Down in Early Trading

NEW YORK (AP) — Coppers took losses as the stock market resumed its decline in active early trading today.

Leading issues fell from fractions to around 2 points.

Kennecott, which reduced its dividend on Friday, led the retreat of the coppers, dropping 1⅞ to 90⅝ on an opening block of 1,600 shares.

Anaconda was off close to a point and Phelps Dodge a sizable fraction.

Other metals also were soft as Wall Street talk was to the effect that the mineral ssupport bill would meet stiff opposition in Congress. Reynolds Metals dropped a point or more.

A casualty among chemicals was Allied Chemical, down 2 to 86 on an opener of 1,200 shares. American Cyanamid and Union Carbide also dropped around a point apiece.

Most pivotal stocks backed away. Small gains were made by Minute Maid, Southern Railway, Goodyear and United Aircraft.

Many steels, motors, utilities, aircrafts and rails were on the minus side.

Losers in the vicinity of a point were Jones & Laughlin, Baltimore & Ohio, Commonwealth Edison and Consolidated Edison.

Smaller losses were taken by Ford, General Motors, Republic Steel, U.S. Rubber, Boeing, Douglas Aircraft, General Electric, American Telephone, Royal Dutch and Lorillad.

U.S. Steel was about unchanged after rising ¼ to 70⅝ on an initial block of 3,000 shares. Other opening blocks included Sperry Rand off ⅛ at 20⅛ on 2,000 shares; Studebaker-Packard up ⅛ at 6¼ on 3,000 shares; American Motors up ¼ at 16¾ on 3,000; and Getty Oil off ½ at 26¼ on 2,500.

Reds 'Inspire' Robeson

MOSCOW (UPI) — American singer Paul Robeson received a big ovation from the audience at a Sunday concert in Lenin Stadium, Radio Moscow reported. The broadcast quoted Robeson as having told the Russians, "You have been inspiring me with strength."

Herman Kierdorf Gives Up In Probe of Torch Death

been in hiding, police have determined that he came to his redenzvous spot from Royal Oak in a taxi.

SURRENDERED TO TAYLOR

Kierdorf surrendered himself to George F. Taylor, chief assistant prosecutor for Oakland County, at 10 o'clock last night.

He had called his son Richard, a Saginaw Teamsters business agent, earlier in the day from his hideout of 13 days and told him to tell Taylor he was ready to give himself up.

Asked by newsmen what prompted him to do this now, Kierdorf replied:

"I had been informed by radio and newspapers that police had been investigating me and found out that I had in no way, shape or form been connected with the job."

That "job" Kierdorf had reference too was the burning of the Flint dry cleaning establishment Aug. 3. Investigators at first believed that Kierdorf, as well as his nephew, were in on this bungled arson job.

Atty. Gen. Paul Adams later said he didn't believe the uncle was a party to the crime, but that Frank did receive his fatal burns from the fire.

Richard Kierdorf told Taylor that his father was surrendering voluntarily and to Taylor only.

Herman Kierdorf later said he made this arrangement because he felt "it only just" to surrender to the man who was responsible for him leaving in the first place.

Taylor had allowed the uncle to return to his Madison Heights home after visiting his nephew at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital with the understanding he would show up at Willow Run Airport to meet his wife and Frank's that night. He never did and had been missing until last night.

"I wanted to get away until this thing quieted down," he said. "Besides, I couldn't have faced Frank's wife after seeing him."

When Richard Kierdorf met Taylor in front of the prosecutor's office on West Huron around 9 p. m., they both decided to visit a downtown restaurant and have coffee.

This was because he and his father had worked out such a detailed time schedule for the surrender, Taylor said, that they found "they had time to burn."

It was in the restaurant that Taylor persuaded Richard Kierdorf that Ziem go along to where the elder Kierdorf was to be. Richard at first was reluctant to go along with this suggestion because of his father's specific plans, Taylor said, but later consented.

Questioned where they were going, Kierdorf would only say "it's 10 minutes away."

Ziem, Taylor and Kierdorf left the prosecutor's office at 9:40 in Taylor's own car with Kierdorf driving. This was another stipulation in the pre-arranged plan.

Ziem admitted to reporters that he was "apprehensive" for some time about the deal.

For this reason, State Police Detective Charles A. Leaf was assigned to tail Taylor's car when it left the prosecutor's office. Neither Ziem or Taylor were armed.

Kierdorf headed the car in the direction of Woodward avenue. They were headed south on U.S. 10 when they passed Ted's Restaurant & Drive-In at the corner of Woodward and Square Lake roads in Bloomfield Township.

All the while, Taylor said, Kierdorf was silent.

SUITCASE WITH 'H.K.'

He turned the car around and turned into the restaurant where they parked the car. As they were walking toward the front of the building, Ziem said he spotted a brown suitcase with the initials "H.K." sitting on the sidewalk along the front of the restaurant.

Ziem inquired of Kierdorf whether the case belonged to his father. "Before he could answer," Ziem said, "we saw Herman coming toward us."

Herman and his son embraced. "Hello, son," Taylor quoted Herman as saying.

For awhile Herman did not even greet Ziem or Taylor. Afterwards Herman asked if they couldn't go inside the restaurant and have coffee.

Herman was dressed in the same greyish-blue suit that he wore when he visited the hospital. Added to his wardrobe Sunday night was a black and white checkered cap which he later admitted was part of a disguise.

He was also wearing a grey sport shirt, gray socks and black loafers. He smoked cigar after cigar.

Kierdorf continually refused to say where he had been hiding. Asked whether he had been in the Lower or Upper Peninsula of Michigan, he replied "yes." He did admit however that he remained the entire 13 days in the state.

A taxi took him to Ted's Restaurant, he added.

It was in the restaurant the Kierdorf first began speaking to Ziem and Taylor. "I'm sorry this all happened," Taylor quoted Kierdorf as saying.

Adams was informed by Ziem of Kierdorf's surrender minutes before he was to go on a Detroit television program to tell about the Kierdorf case.

Reporters questioned the uncle for about an hour in Ziem's office last night before he complained of not feeling well. Bothered by a heart condition, the balding, white-haired ex-convict tossed a nitroglycerin pill in his mouth. His suitcase sat beside him.

He was emphatic in saying he believed his nephew had nothing to do with the firing of the Latrielle Cleaners pick-up station outside Flint.

"Why would he do it," Herman answered. "The man was one of the best organizers in the business and was about to retire. He had a home already in Florida where he planned to go. I can't for the life of me see any connection with him and the fire."

Frank Kierdorf died Aug. 7 without ever telling police how he was burned.

He had earlier told a story which police later discounted, that he was abducted by two men who called at his home, taken to a field near Pontiac, doused with an inflammable liquid and set afire like a human torch.

Investigators from Oakland, Genesee and Wayne Counties questioned this as they probed the fire at the cleaners, where bits of burned human flesh were found. A witness told of seeing two men run from the building and hearing the screams of a third inside.

Adams and his staff believe that while Frank Kierdorf was splashing gasoline or some other liquid inside the building, a pilot light in a space heater ignited the fluid prematurely catching Kierdorf in the flames.

Investigators are still baffled about the motive.

Following Kierdorf's surrender, Taylor said he believed that the one-time aide of Teamsters president James R. Hoffa was at home Sunday when the shop was set afire, as several neighbors said.

Leaf took Kierdorf to the Oakland County jail shortly before midnight to be booked on a charge of having a gun with a silencer.

It, along with several telephones from his home at 29078 Spoon St., were turned over to a 15-year-old neighbor girl when he learned of his nephew's burning from a newspaper reporter.

Conviction on this charge carries a maximum term of five years in prison. Kierdorf said he didn't think "police can make that charge stick."

Kierdorf walked to the jail without being handcuffed to Leaf. Being behind bars is nothing new for him. He served six years and four months in the Ohio Penitentiary in 1941 for armed robbery.

Sheriff's Deputy Thurman Sauvage booked Kierdorf. He said he was "retired" when asked his occupation.

He had on him $358.74, including three $100 bills and one $50 bill. He was allowed to keep the customary $2 for prisoners and given a receipt for the rest of the money and a zircon ring that he had worn on the small finger of his left hand.

Also returned to him were ten cigars.

Dr. Isaac C. Prevette, deputy county coroner, was called to the jail when Kierdorf complained of feeling ill. Several times he had nearly fallen asleep in Ziem's office.

"Did you see Frank?" he asked a reporter who questioned why he had difficulty sleeping during his 13-day hiding.

Dr. Prevette administered a sedative to help him sleep before he was ushered to one of four two-men cells on the second floor of the jail at 12:30 a.m. The doctor also ordered the turnkey not to allow Kierdorf, if he asked for them, to have his nitroglycerin pills oftener than every three hours.

Kierdorf, when he was an official of Teamsters Joint Council 43 in Detroit, was questioned by Sen. McClellan's Senate Rackets Committee during its present investigation of gangster influence in the giant union.

"I guess I'll be going back," Kierdorf remarked last night. He took the Fifth Amendment to most questions last time, as did his nephew who was before the comimttee last November.

"Were you and are you afraid?" a reporter asked him as he puffed on one of his cigars.

"Well, I'll tell you, I don't frighten very easily, but when you see all the other turmoil going on, you never can tell," he answered.

The "turmoil" he was referring to, he said, was the exposures by the Senate committee.

As he fled from Frank's police guarded room Aug. 4, Kierdorf swore vengeance on the men who turned his nephew into a human torch. Last night he wouldn't talk about whether he had found those responsible.

However, he did disclose how Frank had told him, as police did also, to leave the investigation of the crime to them.

Reporters got repeated "no comment" answers on why he had a when quizzed on why he had a silencer and why he hurriedly moved two telephones out of his home.

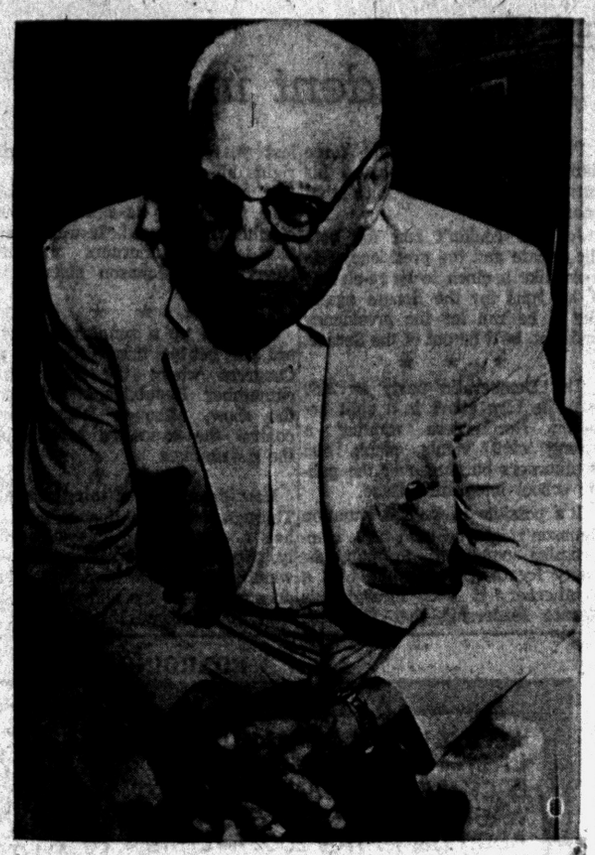

He also refused to comment on whether he had asked the State Parole Board to parole a Jackson Prison convict so that he could take a job with Detroit Teamsters Local 299.

The money he had on him when arrested is believed to be part of $1,700 he received when he sold his retirement present from the union — a 1956 Cadillac. He admitted he needed the money for "his vacation."

He said it was customary for the union to give most business agents the car they had been using for Union affairs, when they retired.

Richard, who had been questioned just last Wednesday along with his mother on the whereabout of Herman, had left Pontiac for Saginaw when newsmen arrived at Ziem's office.

The gray-haired 58-year-old Mrs. Kierdorf told investigators last week that "I probably wouldn't tell you if I knew where he was."

LOTS TO THINK ABOUT — Object of a 13-day manhunt, Herman Kierdorf, ex-Teamster official wanted for questioning in the torch death of his nephew, Frank, ponders over a question put to him by reporters today in the office of Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem.

Says Odds Favoring Auto Strike in Fall

CLEVELAND (AP)— Steel Magazine says the odds favor a strike in the auto industry this year. Steel says that if it happens it could block general business recovery.

The magazine says the United Auto Workers Union has gone so long without contracts that it would lose face if it were to settle on company terms. It also said that General Motors, one of the industry's big three, would dislike to give the UAW something better than it already has given other unions.

Steel said neither the union nor the companies want a strike but that chances for a settlement are less hopeful than before. It said that if there is a strike it will come in late September or early October.

Skate to Visit Norway

OSLO (AP) — American atomic submarine Skate, second to pass under the pole, will arrive in Norway Saturday for a five-day visit. Coming from polar waters, the Skate will dock first at Bergen, on the west coast, and will arrive in Oslo next Monday.

Moon Rocket Fails, Sept. 14 2nd Date

sile that was the first stage of the moon rocket.

The two upper stages—both borrowed from the Navy Vanguard program — continued onward an undetermined distance after the explosion. It was not expected that that part of the wreckage would be recovered.

Preliminary analysis indicated that the explosion occurred in the engine compartment of the first of the three rocket stages.

Maj. Gen. Bernard Schriever, chief of the Air Force Ballistic Missile Division, told a news conference that while it might take a week to pinpoint the trouble definitely, a quick look at the data indicated a random failure.

A leak in or rupture of one of the liquod oxygen or fuel lines might have touched off the explosion, he said.

Schriever and Roy W. Johnson, head of the Defense Department's space program, told newsmen two hours after the blowup that they were disappointed but not discouraged by the failure.

Johnson, director of the Advanced Research Projects Agency, said the malfunctioning of any of 300,000 parts could make the missile do what this one did.

Asked if the falure would harm U. S. prestige as did the Dec. 6 launch-pad explosion of the Vanguard test vehicle, Johnson replied, "I think the people know this time that we had long odds against us on the first try.

"We'll keep trying and the odds will get better as we go along."

This was the first of five lunar probe attempts ordered for this year, three by the Air Force and two by the Army. The rocket contained equipment to transmit pictures of the moon back to earth.

The relative positions of earth and moon are most favorable for moon rocket launching from any site only three or four consecutive days each month. Because of the 2½ days required to travel the 250,000 miles from earth to moon, the rocket must be aimed at a theoretical point far ahead of the moon.

Oakland Youths' Car Millionth on Bridge

from Gov. Williams and a plaque from the Mackinac Bridge Authority.

The plaque will include a framed picture of the great bridge and details of Upcott's crossing.

The crossing marked the first time in history that a million vehicles had crossed the Straits within a year's time.

In their last year of operation before the bridge was built the state-owned ferryboats carried 950,000 cars and trucks over the four miles of water.

Yesterday was the 290th day of the bridge's operation since its opening last Nov. 1.

Bridge officials, headed by Authority Chairman Prentiss M. Brown, took precautions to make sure they would tab the exact one millionth car.

With toll gate counters having registered just 197 cars short of the million figure, the cars were passed one at a time on an alternate north and south basis starting at 1:05 p.m.

The result was that cars were lined up for a mile at each end of the five-mile span when Upcott's tiny Volswagen made the bridge trip.

His crossing came about three hours ahead of the predicted time. A heavy traffic load of 15,450 cars and trucks Saturday pushed up the time.

"Maybe we won't have to use the sleeping bags," Upcott said as the trio set out for a week's tour of the Upper Peninsula.

News in Brief

Eugene W. McCreay, 30, of 4050 Blackwod St., Orchard Lake, was sentenced to serve 20 days in th Oakland County Jail when he failed to pay a fine and costs totaling $100 after pleading guilty to drunk driving Saturday before Keego Harbor Justice James Southart.

Printess J. DeHart, 28, of 1071 Durant St., pleaded guilty to a drunk driving charge before Municipal Court Judge Maurice E. Finnegan, Saturday, and paid a fine of $100.

Card of Thanks 1

press our thanks to the friends, WE SINCERELY WISH TO EXrelatives and neighbors for their loving kindness, cards and floral offerings during our recent loss of our beloved husband and father Murl Sutherland. A special thanks to the pallbearers, Consumers Power Co employes, Rev. O. P. Eastman and Donelson-Johns Funeral Home Mrs. Murl Sutherland and family.

In Memoriam 2

IN MEMORY OF OUR SON, Junior Depappa, who passed away 8 years ago today.
There's a beautiful home, far over the sea;
There are mansions of light for you and for me.
Its glittering towers, the sun does outshine;
That heavenly home holds all that was mine.
Sadly missed by Mother, Stepdad, Brothers and Sisters.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF OUR beloved Husband & Father Henry Burch, who passed away 4 years ago, Aug. 18.
A light is from our household gone,
A voice we loved is stilled,
A place is vacant in our home
Which never can be filled.
Some may think you are forgotten
Though on earth you are no more;
But in memory you are with us
As you always were before.
Sadly missed by Wife, Norine & Children.

IN LOVING MEMORY OF Blanche S. Terry, who passed away one year ago, Sat., Aug. 16th.
Gone is the face we loved so dear,
And silent the voice we loved to hear;
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.
Sweet to remember her who once was here,
And who, though absent, is just as dear.
Sadly missed by Children and Grandchildren.

DYNAMIC DINAH — Versatile Dinah Shore sings, dances, performs comedy routines and presents top-name guests on her popular Sunday night TV show, which resumes in the fall. She complains that it is extremely difficult to find tunes that tell a tale because of the senseless lyrics of many of today's songs.

Better Songs Hard to Find

Dinah Shore Complains of Senseless Lyrics, Muddy Arrangements

By DINAH SHORE

NEW YORK (AP) — One of the more interesting problems of singing on television is in trying to turn up tunes that tell a tale.

For a singer must interpret lyrics and lyrics must tell a story to hold an audience. At year's end, in reviewing the songs of the preceding 12 months, it wasn't easy to find enough representation of which to be proud.

Now, I'm not knocking rhythm and blues. I'm not knocking anything I can sing. But I can't stand muddy arrangements or senseless lyrics, and there have been many.

Listen to the lyrics of "Fascination" or "Around the World in 80 Days." The meaningful words written to those haunting melodies give you the material from which to fashion many splendid things.

There is no medium like television to tell the world you're bored. This is why we fondle a good song, one with which we can wail or have fun, prance, dance, or just stand still and let the mood envelop us.

Can you imagine doing that with some of the tunes now on the air?

For the song writer, television is a showcase to display his merchandise in the best possible manner before as many as 50 or 60 million people in one evening.

Is there any wonder that hits have been made overnight? "Let Me Go, Lover," and so many other songs had a hearing one night and were on their way to hitdom the next morning.

The television singer has yet another problem.

Not how does she sing: how does it look?

As the new generation would never accept the most glorious voice of the opera company's heaviest soprano singing "Juliet," so would they turn the dial away from a baby-face singing bawdy blues.

Whatever she does with her voice, the TV singer must be sure to place the proper face behind it.

It would seem, then, a never-ending problem. It isn't really. When the prospects seem dim, the horizon out of reach and the wave of un-singable songs boundless, I find solace in two admonitions, truths to which I cling. I tell myself: "To thine own self be true."

And if that doesn't work, I say, "Don't worry."

Works every time.

Sophia Sits in Hot Seat by Not Trying on Hats

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Hi, you-all . . . Now you never heard me say women are temperamental.

Sometimes women are inclined to act kind of feminine.

WILSON

Everybody was a little bugged at the Millinery Institute-sponsored premier of "The Matchmaker" at the Little Carnegie the other night—because Sophia Loren wouldn't wear a hat. The Millinery Institute's sort of partial to hats.

Somebody alibied that lovely Sophia couldn't because of her present film, but she wouldn't lie.

"A hat is a very personal thing," Sophia explained, putting a very personal arm around my shoulders and chest.

"Explain it in greater detail," I said, putting my arm . . . well, anyway.

"You just don't wear a hat that somebody brings you. You select the right one," she added. "A theater's hardly the place to try on hats."

Hat was hat—and now for another doll, Kathryn Grayson, who admits she walked out on the ABC "Telephone Hour" TV show set for October. They wanted a Victor Herbert program. She thinks that's for "smaller voices."

"How'd you like to hear me sing 'Ah, Sweet Mystery of Life' or 'Indian Love Call'?" she asked me from the Manor Hotel, Wildwood, N.J., where she's appearing.

"Love to hear you sing anything, sugar plum," I whispered.

SOPHIA LOREN

"I'm actually, a big-voiced coloratura with a 4-octave range and that's for light lyric sopranos. I think 20 years from now Victor Herbert'll be back in style," Kathryn said — adding that she's got to go to Europe so the deal's off until they get something heavy for her.

In both cases the losers of the arguments were of the so-called stronger sex.

TV Quiz Winner $500 From Top With $242,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Teddy Nadler today was $500 from the top amount ever won by an individual on television quiz show proram.s.

The St. Louis former U. S. Civil Service clerk added $10,000 to his winnings last night on CBS-TV The $64,000 Challenge.

He reached $242,000 by defeating Miss Urana Clarke on an $8,000 question and John Most at the $2,000 level.

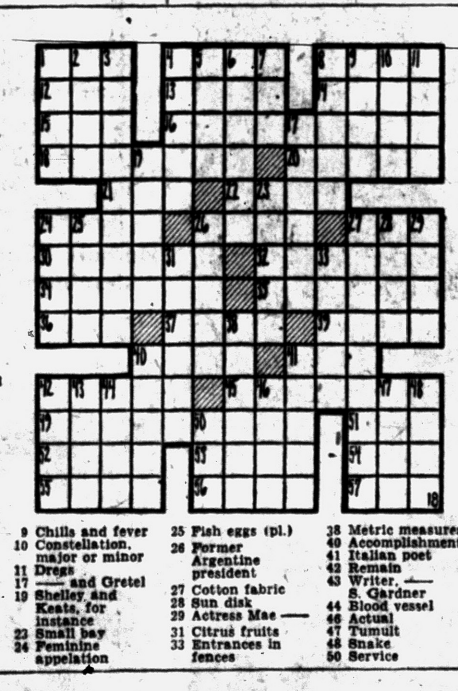

Miss Clarke is a musician and writer from Westport, Conn. Most is a sports announkr from Brookline Mass. Miss Clarke failed to answer a question on classical music and Most failed on a baseball question.

Nadler tied Mrs. Dolores Brown a New York City housewife, at $4,000 in their ancient history category. Their match will resume next Sunday night.

Robert Strom, an 11-year-old science whiz from the Bronx, is the top money winner of TV quiz shows with $242,500.

Even the most complicated machinery is based upon only six fundamental parts—the lever, screw, inclined plane, wheel and axle, and wedge.

Missile Equipment Blocked by Japan

YOKOHAMA, Japan (AP)—Japanese opposition to nuclear weapons again today blocked the unloading of Swiss guided-missile equipment which defense officials say cannot take atomic warheads.

The Japan Longshoremen's Union, backed by the opposition Socialist party and a host of leftist groups, refused to touch the missile cargo that arrived yesterday. It called the shipment a step toward arming Japan with atomic weapons.

Communist China's Peiping radio chimed in, charging that the equipment "can launch atomic atomic and hydrogen warheads." However, the Japanese Defense Department, which placed the million-dollar order for the Oerlikon launcher, electronic equipment and 10 training missiles, said they cannot be equipped with atomic warheads?

Japan's defense agency started negotiations four years ago with the Contraves-Oerlikon Co. of Zurich to import the missiles and get them into local production for Japanese defense.

Sees More Women Turning to Law Today

LOS ANGELES (AP) — More and more women are turning to law, says the president of the International Federation of Women Lawyers.

"The result," says Dr. Luisa A. Perez Peroza, of Caracas, Venevuela, "is a more humanitarian approach to the law.

"Women bring in the important element of justice—because they know what injustice was when they did not have equal rights."

The federation opened its 10th conference yesterday.

An automobile oil filter will remove a pound or more of dirt and sludge from the car's oil in the period of 5,000 miles of average driving.

Pontiac Jaycees Planning 'Get-Out-the-Vote' Drive

Plans are being formulated for a "get-out-the-vote" campaign preceding the November state election, Clyle R. Haskill, chairman of the Pontiac Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, announced today.

Haskill said that it is the Jaycee's aim to pledge every Pontiac voter to register and vote this fall.

Stressing that the organization's drive is "strictly nonpartisian," Haskill announced plans to provide baby-sitters and transportation to the polls on election day for voters who need them.

Named as chairman of the "get-out-the-vote" committee is W. B. Neal. Committee members are Dr. Donald McCandliss, Robert Oliver, William Treanor, William Powell, William Coulacos, William Belaney and Norman O'Brien.

Exciting Life Chauffeuring King Hussein

By REINHOLD ENSZ

AMMAN, Jordan (AP) — How does it feel to pilot a king across the scorching deserts of Jordan in a bullet-proof limousine?

"I like my work very much," says 40-year-old Maurice Rayner. "I think it's a grand experience."

Rayner has been chief driver for Jordan's King Hussein for five years. They got to know each other while Hussein was attending Harrow School in England. Rayner managed a garage which Hussein, a sports car enthusiast, used to frequent.

"One day he asked me to come to Jordan and I came," Rayner explains.

There is constant fear that somebody may try to assassinate Hussein. The fear was heightened by the killing of his cousin King Faisal of Iraq on July 14.

Before that Hussein generally traveled with a samll armed escort. Now he appears with 60 fierce, heavily armed Arab Legion troopers riding on open patrol cars and motorcycles.

In the middle of the column is Hussein's black 1956 air-conditioned Cadillac, its springs sagging under the weight of armor plating. The thick bulletproof windows are always rolled up and Hussein can hardly be seen in the back seat.

Up front, sitting stiffly, is Rayner, wearing his tan chauffer's uniform and British military ribbons. Doesn't he worry about getting shot?

"I must confess I used to think about things like that. But after a while you stop worrying and decide you must live life as it comes."

Raynor is in charge of the royal garage, which holds a variety of limousines, all of them American-made. A good Englishman, Rayner could be expected to favor British cars and he does.

"I would prefer Rolls-Royces," he said. "But people in this part of the world seem to like chrome and flashy lines. I guess price is another factor. You can buy two Cadillacs for the price of a Rolls-Royce."

Killed by Fan Blade

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A fan blade flew off an automobile engine and killed James B. Freeman. He was standing beside his 8-year-old car while a friend, Aaron Cowan, leaned under the hood totune the engine. The six-inch blade buried itself halfway in Freeman's forehead.

In Reported Pact With Russia

Red China to Get A-Arms

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Times said today the Soviet Union reportedly has decided to supply atomic weapons and ballistic missiles to Communist China plus more economic development aid.

A Times dispatch from Warsaw said reports reaching the Polish capital indicated the Soviets also have decided to help Red China launch an earth satillite and to build four more nuclear reactors there. China claims one reactor now.

The reports were said to come from sources that had first reported a recent military and political agreement between Moscow and Peiping.

The reported agreements came out of a meeting in Peiping three weeks ago between Soviet Premier Khrushchev and Chinese Communist boss Mao Tze-tung, the dispatch said. Reports on them apparently are being allowed to circulate with at least tacit Soviet approval.

Screen Surrounds People in New Spherical Theater

HAMBURG, Germany (UPI) — A ball-shaped movie theater in which people sit on swivel chairs surrounded by the screen has been developed by a German motion picture producer.

He claims his spherical "Cinetarium" will revolutionize motion pictures.

Adalbert Baltes, a Hamburg motion picture producer, said his globe-shaped movie theater will project the picture on a 360-degree screen. An airplane screened over his system will roar over the spectators' heads and disappear in the rear just as it would in reality.

People may crane their necks to see it go or swivel around in their chairs built into the center of a huge spherical theater.

The 42-year-old producer believes he can give an audience the impression of being in say, Hawaii, in a film shown in his Cinetarium.

"You will see Hawaii's mountains in front of you, a blue sky above and the beach in the rear," he said. "I can even turn on the heat to give you more reality. A score of loudspeakers built around the audience will complete the impression."

"It will revolutionize the movies because this is something we have never had," he said. "Something had to be done to get people back from television. This is it."

The secret behind his invention is a spherical mirror hanging from the ceiling of the envisaged globe-shaped theater. It reflects the picture on the 360-degree screen.

A similar special mirror is required to shoot the pictures for his system which, he said has been patented in Germany. Standard motion picture equipment can be used for filming and projection of Cinetarium movies, according to the inventor.

Baltes said negotiations are under way to build a first spherical motion picture theater in Hamburg. He hopes similar theaters may be sold to the United States and elsewhere.

He said his project in Hamburg is estimated at 1,000,000 marks ($250,000).

Truman's Grandnephew Enters Jesuit Seminary

ST. LOUIS (UPI) — John Ross Truman, a grand nephew of former President Harry S. Truman, entered St. Stanislaus Roman Catholic Seminary at Florissant, Mo., to come a Jesuit priet.

He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Truman, Independence, Mo., and the grandson of J. Vivian Truman, a brother of the ex-president. Young Truman's mother is a Roman Catholic.

False Alarm to Police Precedes Heart Attack

EDINBURG, Ind. (AP) — Police and a doctor rushed to the home of Dean Byrd after receiving a telephone call that Byrd had suffered a heart attack.

Byrd told them he felt fine and knew nothing about the call. A few hours later, Byrd was rushed to the hospital after a heart attack.

Predict Peak Enrollment

DETROIT (AP) — Officials expect a record enrollment of some 374,500 students in Detroit's public and parochial schools this fall. Superintendent Samuel M. Brownell predicts 287,000 will attend public schools alone.

Ike Back on Job After Weekend of Golf, Rest

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Eisenhower returned to his desk at the White House today after a weekend of golf and relaxation at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm.

The President was scheduled to confer early in the day with Attorney General William P. Rogers, Arhtur Burns, former chairman of his Council of Economic Advisers, and Gordon Gray, special assistant for national security affairs.

Eisenhower returned from Gettysburg with his wife, Mamie, in an air conditioned limousine late yesterday. He looked fit and rested following a leisurely weekend during which he played two 18-hole rounds of golf and took it easy with his family and friends at the farm.

Yesterday, the Chief Executive attended services at Gettysburg Presbyterian Church, accompanied by his nine-year-old granddaughter, Barbara Anne, and Clifford Roberts, New York investment banker who was a guest at the farm.

Cramps Put Crimp in Sailor's Wager

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP)—A sailor bet a shipmate $10 he could siwm out to his ship anchored a mile and a half off shore.

He lost.

Lifeguards last night fished Gerom e Johnson out of the ocean a good mile from the transport USS Merrick. Johnson, 19, suffering fro mleg cramps, was turned over to the shore patrol.
