Sanity Hearing for Gary Taylor

Judge Names 3 Doctors to Conduct Examination —to Be Held in March

Oakland County Prosecutor Frederick C. Ziem today announced his petition for a sanity hearing in the case of Gary A. Taylor, confessed "phantom sniper," has been filed in Circuit Court. Judge Frank Doty scheduled the hearing for March 22.

The court appointed Dr. Ivan LaCore, Dr. Clinton J. Mumby and Dr. A. Tauber to examine Taylor and to be present at the hearing.

Ziem said the petition was based on the findings of a mental examination given Taylor at the request of his attorney. Dr. LaCore, appointed by Ziem, examined Taylor in the Oakland County Jail Saturday. LaCore said:

"Taylor is dangerously mentally ill and should be hospitalized."

The Southfield Township factory worker has confessed to sniping at more than a dozen women in the county since Dec. 1956. Three of his targets were struck by bullets from his .22 caliber rifle. Taylor was apprehended by Royal Oak police Feb. 7 after a three hour shooting spree through four communities.

Taylor, 20, of 16192 Marguerite St., faces a charge of assault with intent to murder in the shooting of Shirley Eland, 19, of 200 Hickory Grove Rd., Bloomfield Hills. He told investigators:

"I get this urge to shoot women and nothing but being locked up can stop me. I'm glad I was caught so I can't hurt anyone anymore. I need treatment.

Says U.S. Ship Would Be First in Neutral Gulf

Silent on Nation's Stand for Sanctions if Israel Refuses to Budge

WASHINGTON (INS) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles refused to say today whether the U.S. will support United Nations sanctions against Israel if she persists in declining to withdraw her troops from Egyptian territory.

Dulles told a news conference, however, that if Israeli forces were withdrawn Egypt would have no right to prevent passage of Israeli's ships into the gulf of Aqaba.

He added that the U.S. believes that Israel should have the right to use the Suez Canal when it is reopened.

The secretary again expressed his hope that Israel will agree to pull her troops out of the Gaza Strip and the Aqaba Gulf coast area.

He said that once Israeli troops pull back, the U.S. is ready to send an American ship into the Gulf of Aqaba to establish the principle of it being an international waterway.

Dulles added that the U.S. government has no reason to assume that Egypt would contest it.

GULF INTERNATIONAL

He said the U.S. has received no specific assurances from Egypt on this question but said it is a matter of course since by definition the Gulf of Aqaba, which is rimmed by four countries, is international.

President Eisenhower, flew home to Washington today to take personal command of U.S. strategy in the strained Middle East situation. He was due in Washington about 2:30 p.m.

He was to meet with Dulles immediately after his return to the White House this afternoon.

In New York, the U.N. Assembly deferred to a U.S. request today and postponed until Thursday its scheduled "sanctions" session on the Israel withdrawal deadlock.

The 80-nation forum, under heavy Arab pressure for punitive measures unless Israeli troops evacuate unconditionally, the Gulf of Aqaba and Gaza Strip, is waiting for a bold initiative from the U.S. calculated to end the sanctions crisis.

The 48-hour postponement was decided upon after Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge conferred with Egyptian Foreign Minister Mah-

45,000 Workers Await Call to Jobs

Local Disputes in Norfolk, Baltimore Keep Piers Idle

NEW YORK (AP) — Forty-five thousand striking dockworkers from Maine to Virginia remained idle today as disputes over contracts in Baltimore and Norfolk prevented a general back-to-work movement.

Union spokesmen were unable to predict an end to the costly pier tieup, now in its seventh day. The port-to-port situation was confused.

ALL OR NONE

William V. Bradley, president of the International Longshoremen's Assn., appeared determined to withhold any general work resumption until contract agreements were reached in all ports from Portland, Maine, to Hampton Roads, Va.

Last night Bradley made a return to work today conditional on settlement of local contracts in Philadelphia, Baltimore and Norfolk by last midnight.

Agreements were not reached in either Baltimore or Norfolk, although a contract covering 6,000 longshoremen was hammered out early today in Philadelphia. Federal mediator John R. Murray said he expected the dockworkers back on the docks either tomorrow or Thursday. He said complete agreement had been reached on "all major local and national issues."

A trade association spokesman said yesterday Baltimore employers would not increase their offer of welfare payments, permit an escalator clause on wages, accept a fifth paid holiday or go along with coastwise bargaining.

The New York agreement had been expected to set the pattern for all contracts in ports on the Northeast Coast and end the walkout. The agreement provided a basic coastwide settlement on wages and fringe benefits, leaving local ports to settle strictly local issues.

At Norfolk, employers and union representatives still were negotiating over local issues on a contract for 4,500 longshoremen. They were not expected to return to work until Friday at the earliest.

Homes for Pontiac Aged Topic of Local Meeting

Initial moves to study the possibility of providing homes for the aged in the Pontiac public housing Lakeside Homes project, were aired yesterday noon at a meeting at the Waldron Hotel.

Roy B. MacAfee, executive director of the Public Housing Commission, was chosen coordinator of a "nucleus" committee. William H. P. Graham, of the Catholic Social Services, Robert Langer, of the United Fund, and Miss Stella Martin, director of Family Service for Oakland County, will be members of the committee.

Eighteen persons attending yesterday's meeting gave support of various social agencies in providing services in the proposed program.

Rabbi Sanford E. Saperstein, commission member, pointed out that under a new Public Housing Administration policy, elderly, single persons, 65 and over, may be permitted in the 400-unit Lakeside Homes project.

At present, the commission has a policy forbidding occupancy of single persons.

Rabbi Saperstein said there were 84 one-bedroom units which might be rented out to two-person families or to an elderly person "on an equal basis giving consideration to housing need or any predetermined pro ration of dwelling units."

Gilbert G. Gallivan, assistant district manager of the Pontiac Social Security office, said there were some 2,500 retired persons in Pontiac which might seek such housing facilities.

MacAfee said a second meeting would be called "in the next two weeks" to study the proposal further.

Seeks to Repeal Grand Jury Act

Law Permits One Man Too Much Power, Say Sponsors of Bill

LANSING (AP) — A bill to repeal the one-man grand jury law was readied for filing today in the legislature.

It proposed to wipe off the books one of the most controversial statutes on the Michigan law books, one that has brought criticism on the state from the U. S. Supreme Court.

The Grand Jury Act was repealed once before — in 1949 — but was restored in a modified version about a year ago.

Again calling for its doom, Sen. Frank Andrews (R-Hillman) said the law is a "travesty on the American and English judicial systems."

"I don't like the idea of one man sitting and taking evidence and testimony and then sitting in judgment of an accused through the power of returning an indictment against him," Andrews said.

He said Sen. George C. Steeh (D-Mt. Clemens) would co-sponsor the legislation.

Williams' Men Win Nomination

4 December Appointees in Top 5 Selected for Wayne Circuit Bench

DETROIT (INS)—Gov. G. Mennen Williams' four December appointees to the Wayne County circuit bench easily won nomination yesterday in the primary election.

At the same time, Democratic county Auditor Charles F. Edgecomb decisively outcounted Bert F. Donlin, who has won backing of certain party factions. Donlin will oppose Edgecomb in the spring election.

Circuit Judges Joseph G. Rashid, Victor J. Baum and Charles E. Bowles, three of Williams' appointees, finished one-two-three in the balloting. The other man named to the bench by the governor, Judge Horace W. Gilmore, finished fifth behind Ira G. Kaufman, 47, a political unknown.

The other three men nominated out of the 11-man field are Detroit Councilman James M. Lincoln, Traffic Court Referee John M. Wise and former Prosecutor James N. McNally.

A surprise feature of the auditor race was the fact that 50,820 votes were cast for Thomas D. Ledbetter, who was unopposed for the Republican nomination. He is no relation to Detroit city clerk Thomas D. Leadbetter.

Common Pleas Judge Elvin Davenport, another December choice of Williams, far outdistanced his closest rival, Charles Kaufman, who will oppose him in the April balloting.

Designer Claims Present Knowledge Sufficient

Says Mars Rocket Could Be Built

By VERN HAUGLAND
AP Aviation Writer

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — A designer of the Redstone and Jupiter ballistic missiles said today that an ionic rocket could be built, with our present knowledge, that could reach Mars in 400 days and return in about 320.

The designer, German-born Dr. Ernst Stuhlinger, said such a rocket would travel at speeds up to 86,400 miles an hour.

Stuhlinger told an astronautics symposium that an even faster space device, a photon rocket powered by light, has been proposed but at the moment is nothing more than a mathematical exercise.

MEANS UNKNOWN

"None of us can conceive a means of building it," he said.

The symposium on problems of space flight, sponsored jointly by the Air Force Office of Scientific Research and the Convair Division of General Dynamics Corp., is being attended by more than 300 military and industry missile experts.

Stuhlinger is chief of the Guidance Control Research Section of the Guided Missile Development Group at the Army's Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville, Ala.

He explained at a news conference that in an ionic rocket the power source must produce energy with which to expel ions — atoms or molecules from which an electron has been stripped—in a stream to produce a thrust.

He said the ion rocket project currently under study would use a nuclear reactor as a power source, and would involve the heating to 160 degrees of two alkaline metals, rubidium and cesium, to produce a flow of vapor directed across a platinum surface.

A part of the power output would be converted into electrical energy with which to accelerate and expel the ionized particles that resulted.

Stuhlinger said a 600-ton ion rocket with a 150-ton "pay load" — equipment, cargo or passengers — could go to Mars and back.

Trespass Suits Are Postponed

Builders' Action Against Independence Township Delayed 2 Weeks

Trespass suits by two Detroit building companies against Independence Township yesterday were postponed two weeks by Circuit Judge Frank L. Doty.

The firms, High Haven Builders and Jared Builders, are each asking $250,000 damages, charging township interference in private business. Illness of a company attorney caused the delay.

The suits center around certificates of occupancy that are granted under a township ordinance after a final inspection when construction is completed.

The township has held up certificates for homes that it claims are improperly built. Complaints include faulty plumbing, contaminated water supply and poor construction.

Doctors Avert Hospital Suit

Six Threatened Action to Win Permission to Practice Surgery

A threatened law suit against Miss Lauretta Paul, director of Pontiac General Hospital, reportedly was averted last night when six protesting doctors agreed "to take other steps to solve questions of surgical privileges."

"They (the doctors) decided they would proceed back through the structure of the by-laws and constitution instead of taking other steps," Edward P. Barrett, a trustee of the hospital, said.

The doctors had threatened legal action against Miss Paul in an attempt to stop her from "enforcing local rules . . . which (the complaint read) impede, interfere, hinder, prevent and prohibit plaintiffs' from the full and unrestricted use of their licenses . . . to practice medicine and surgery."

Last night's meeting, which was closed to The Press, was called to discuss the questions of surgical privileges," according to William P. Babcock, chairman of the Board of Trustees. The six doctors were in attendance.

William John Beer, attorney for the doctors, said this morning: "My instructions are to withhold filing of the contemplated suit."

Listed as plaintiffs in the suit were Drs. Leonard Blackwell, Robert W. Albrecht, Douglass A. Haddock, Maolin Han, Rodman C. Jacobi and Roy V. Cooley, also a city commissioner.

Dr. Albrecht, the only doctor that could be reached for comment said it was his "understanding that the suit was to be held back, and that parties were attempting to resolve differences."

The rules in question, Harold B. Euler, trustee said, "are necessary and are found in other tax-supported area hospitals."

The threatened suit charged that the "sole regulatory authority concerning rights of physicians and surgeons to practice in public hospitals is vested in the Michigan State Board of Registration in Med pitals is vested in the Michigan State Board of Registration in Medicine."

Euler emphasized that the Board of Trustees did not pass on the qualifications and experience of doctors. "This is vested with the Credentials Committee composed of three doctors," he said.

The suit was to ask for an injunction prohibiting Miss Paul from enforcing the rules.

Kavanagh Candidacy Now Made Formal

LANSING (AP) — Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh formally announced last night as a candidate for the state Supreme Court seat being vacated by Justice Edward M. Sharp of Bay City.

Sharpe, a Democrat, is retiring Dec. 31, and speculation long has centered on Kavanagh as a logical Democratic nominee to succeed him.

The party's candidate will be chosen at next Saturday's state convention in Grand Rapids, along with nominees for a number of other statewide offices.

Justice Talbot Smith, whose present term also expires Dec. 31, is expected to be renominated for the other long term Supreme Court spot on the non partisan judicial ballot in the April 1 election.

For these two eight year terms, Republicans in their Feb. 9 state convention chose Michael D. O'Hara, Menominee attorney, and Robert Childs of Detroit, Wayne University law professor.

News Flashes

LANSING (AP) — A new formula for splitting up state gasoline tax revenues that would reduce the share for state road construction by $12,000,000 a year was proposed today with powerful support in the Legislature.

The committee recommended that distribution of road revenues hereafter be placed on a formula alloting 44 per cent to the state, 37 per cent to counties and 19 per cent to cities.

The formula would apply to the entire six-cent gasoline tax, which now is distributed under two separate formulas that provide approximately 50 per cent of total highway-user revenues for the state, 33 per cent for counties and 17 per cent for cities.

Curtice Favors Tax Board Idea

Group Would Examine Present System, Make Change Suggestions

WASHINGTON (AP)—Initial reaction from industrial leaders is strong for a proposal by Sen. Wiley (R-Wis) for creation of a federal tax commission, his office reported today. The commission would study the entire federal tax structure and make recommendations.

Wiley's office reported the general theme of early replies to letters sent to heads of 1,400 firms listed on the major board of the New York Stock Exchange is that taxes are too high and in many cases inequitably applied.

The Wiley measure, co-sponsored by more than a dozen other senators, would establish a 12-man commission on federal taxation. Wiley sent copies of his bill to corporation heads, tax foundations and others for their comment.

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors, wrote Wiley that his proposal has "great merit."

Curtice said that since 1939 Congress has been faced with one emergency after another requiring additional funds with the main consideration being taxes that would yield the revenue "without regard to the long run effect of the tax structure being created."

Curtice said federal taxes had zoomed in the past 20 years and "we now have a grossly unfair tax structure which in the long run is bound to handicap the rate of increase in our economic productivity."

Yanks, A's Complete Trade of 13 Players

KANSAS CITY (AP)—The Kansas City Athletics sent pitchers Bobby Shantz and Art Ditmar to the New York Yankees today in a 13 player deal.

Along with the two top hurlers, the A's traded infielders Cletis Boyer and Wayne Belardi, pitcher Jack MaMahan and a player to be named later.

In return Kansas City obtained pitchers Tom Morgan, Mickey McDermott and Rip Coleman, infielders Billy Hunter and Milt Graff; and outfielder Irv Noren, plus a younger player to be agreed upon by the two clubs.

The Day in Birmingham

Malender Secures Stay in Island View Issue

BIRMINGHAM — Citing a little known and seldom used statute from the Michigan Public Acts of 1927, Milton Malender, representing property owners on Brookside drive won another delay in the proposed drive last night. Malender credited his son and business associate, Fred Malender with locating the decree which prohibits the closing of any thoroughfare bordering a stream or lake. "The city," Malender said, "will have to get approval from the Oakland County Circuit Court before it can make an official and legal decision on this closing."

"Frankly gentlemen, I had never heard of the statute, but my son had. It seems to me that it stops the whole process until you have been able to comply with its ruling."

Commissioners gave a four-week postponement while its legal representative Richard Adams and the petitioners have time for additional research on this particular ruling as well as title questions.

Quiz Dulles Today on 'Sanctions' Issue

moud Fawzi and Jordanian Ambassador Abdul Monem Rifai, chairman of the Afro-Asian group.

Lodge urged them to hold in in abeyance their proposed sanctions resolution to give Eisenhower time to seek new progress in his negotiations with Israel.

All efforts thus far to win an Israeli withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba have resulted in failure, Premier David Ben-Gurion and the government of Israel demand firm guarantees against possible Egyptian harassment.

Meanwhile there were these developments:

1. Israel has submitted a new approach to the current negotiations through American Ambassador Edward Lawson.

2. Israeli Ambassador Abba Eban leaves by plane from New York today for consultations with his government on ways to avert any split with the United States.

Confronting Eisenhower as he returns to the White House is one of the toughest diplomatic-political assignments he has faced in his four years in the White House.

TOUGH DECISION

Unless Israel does a sudden about-face, he must decide between now and Thursday whether the U. S. will back United Nations sanctions to pressure Israeli forces into withdrawing from the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba area.

If he chooses in favor of sanctions, he will stir up a storm on Capitol Hill that could deal a mortal blow to his whole Middle East program and split the GOP into two warring factions.

In an effort to quell the congressional tempest before it blows up, Eisenhower has invited leaders of both parties to meet with him at the White House Wednesday morning.

Included in the group will be Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland, who is wielding the biggest monkey wrench on the sanctions issue.

OTHERS OPPOSED

A number of other congressional leaders, including Sen. Lyndon Johnson of Texas, Knowland's Democratic counterpart in the Upper Chamber, are also opposed to sanctions.

Eisenhower, a staunch advocate of bi-partisan support in foreign policy, never has flown in the face of such formidable opposition on a major international issue.

Yet, if the United Nations votes sanctions, the unhappy alternative to a battle on Capitol Hill is a serious blow to American prestige, the certain result if the U. S. fails to go along with the U. N. majority.

Quizman Van Doren Finds Match in Woman Lawyer

NEW YORK (AP) — Charles Van Doren boosted his television quiz show winnings last night to $143,000 but met his match in a woman attorney from Manhattan.

The 30-year-old woman lawyer, Mrs. Vivienne Nearing, matched Van Doren point for point by answering two difficult multipoint questions. It prevented Van Doren from increasing his winnings further.

Van Doren, a Columbia University instructor, picked up another $5,000 on NBC's Twenty-One show by earlier defeating a veteran magazine editor, Kenneth Gould of Scarsdale, N.Y. Van Doren entered the night's competition with winnings of $138,000.

Mrs. Nearing and Van Doren return next week to continue their battle with the usual $500-a-point winning total upped to $1,000.

Mrs. Nearing correctly answered her first-round question by listing Penelope, Medea, Clytemnestra and Andromache respectively as the wives of Ulysses, Jason, Agamemnon and Hector.

Van Doren matched her by naming Helen, Jocasta and Hecuba as the wives of Menelaus, Oedipus and Priam.

In the second round, Mrs. Nearing correctly named Albert Fall, secretary of interior, and Harry Daugherty, attorney general, as the government officials involved in the Teapot Dome scandals of the 1920s. Van Doren equaled this by naming Austin Chamberlain, England; Aristide Briand, France; Benito Mussolini, Italy; and Dr. Edouard Benes, Czechoslovakia, as signers of the 1925 Locarno Pact.

Van Doren defeated Gould on a question relating to an English naval battle involving Lord Nelson. Both Gould and Van Doren correctly named Nelson as the naval officer who said "England expects that every man will do his duty" and Victory as the name of his flagship. However, Van Doren supplied the correct year of the battle, 1805, while Gould placed it in 1804.

The game is styled after the card game "21" with each contestant shooting for the 21 points or any point advantage over his opponent.

Van Doren, son of Pulitzer Prize-winning poet Mark Van Doren, as yet has not collected any of his winnings. Tax experts say federal taxes would take about $100,000 if he elected payment in a lump sum. The show's producers said they are trying to work out payment over a five-year period, thus enabling Van Doren to retain a larger share of his earnings.

Soviet Policy Remains Same'

Khrushchev Says Big Job Switch Won't Bring Change

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita S. Khrushchev went out of his way last night to emphasize that last week's change of foreign ministers does not mean a change in Soviet foreign policy.

Seizing a microphone at a Russian-Bulgarian party, the Soviet Communist party boss launched into a speech apparently aimed at observers abroad.

"Our foreign policy does not depend on any one individual," he said.

He went on to expound the continuity of Soviet policy.

Andrei Gromyko had replaced Dmitri Shepilov as foreign minister Friday, three days after Shepilov outlined the government's foreign policy outlook to the Supreme Soviet (Parliament).

Although Moscow radio later announced that Shepilov's address still stood, observers here had come to the view that career diplomat Gromyko was being counted on for a tougher era of international negotiations.

They felt Shepilov, former editor of Pravda, had proved himself inept in the tough arena of international politics during his eight months as foreign minister.

Still Considers Herself Married to Rex Harrison

LONDON (INS) — Lilli Palmer still regards herself as married to Rex Harrison until July, despite the recent Mexican divorce she obtained after 14 years of marriage to him.

The actress, who arrived in London from Munich and is staying with relatives in Chelsea, said the Mexican divorce on grounds of incompatibility may not be recognized in Britain.

Lilli explained that she and Harrison "want everything to be in order and so decided that the divorce must be proved before the New York courts."

"That will take another five months," she said, "and is why I still regard myself married until July."

Lilli, accompanied by Argentine actor Carlos Thompson, was asked whether she would marry him, and she said:

"I have no plans beyond July, but we are very good friends."

The actress said she and Harrison were keeping a house at Portofino, Italy and added: "We shall use it alternatively. Ours has been a very friendly parting."

City workers' families in Japan now have an average monthly income of $73.60.

Trail Riding Is Tough Business

Costumes, Spirits Fade as Greenhorns See Mud

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A lunch of greenhorns are learning the hard way what any old-time cowpuncher could have told them: trail riding's tough business.

Some 1,900 riders, mounted on sleek horses and outfitted with $50 hats, shiny boots and colorful neckerchiefs, left Brenham early Sunday on the annual 100-mile Salt Grass Trail Ride. The ride follows an old cattle-driving trail.

After a couple of days of mud, misery and biting cold wind, several hundred fell out and went home. The hats got dirty, the colorful clothes a little bedraggled, and the outfit started to look like a genuine Salt Grass Trail bunch.

Only 71 wagons pulled into the Paddock Ranch in northwest Harris County yesterday, compared with 86 which started.

Other authentic Old West type incidents included:

Douglas Marshal, a vice president of the Houston Fat Stock Show, was kicked by a horse. He wasn't hurt seriously, however.

J. D. Startwelle, vice president of the Port City Stockyards and assistant trail boss of the ride, was hospitalized at Hempstead after his horse fell on him.

The riders are scheduled to reach Houston tonight. Tomorrow they'll take part in a parade opening the 25th annual Fat Stock show.

Actress Asks Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Sara Shane says that she and her husband, William Hollingsworth jr., millionaire Los Angeles real estate man and social figure, have separated after 7½ years of marriage. "There's not much I can say about it at this time," the blonde actress said. "I just told Bill that I wanted a divorce." She and Hollingsworth have a son, Jamie, 5.

Sherman Products Plan Plant Increase

The addition by Sherman Products, Inc. of 30 per cent more floor space to its plant and offices on Fourteen Mile road has been announced for March by President W.A. Romain.

Most of the additional space will be used for production of Sherman power diggers, Romain said. The firm also manufactures and distributes earth moving and materials handling equipment for tractors.

The new space will also be used for the production of auxiliary transmissions and tractor power steering units, and for expanded service facilities.

The plant and office will occupy over 66,000 square feet of space when the addition is completed.

Bipartisan Stand Urged in Senate

Strong Support Aids Impact Abroad; Hope to End Debate This Month

By ERNEST B. VACCARO

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. H. Alexander Smith (R-NJ) urged the Senate today to abandon "partisanship" in its Middle East debate and give President Eisenhower "full and unconditional support" for action in that area.

"Obstructionism and irresponsible division are effective only in destroying the impact abroad of an all-American foreign policy and in befuddling and obscuring the issues for the people there at home," he declared.

Smith, a member of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, spoke out in an address made available prior to its delivery in the Senate. When he might get the floor remained a question, however. Chairman Green (D-RI) of the same committee had to put off delivery of the opening speech until today when the Senate got tangled up in debate yesterday on a deficiency appropriation bill.

Senate Democratic Leader Johnson of Texas still expressed the hope, however, that all talk might be concluded by the end of next week, or by March 3 at the latest.

Urging Senate approval of the military-economic program Eisenhower proposed for the Middle East, Smith said the nations of that area are in need of "immediate assistance" in an effort to bolster their ability to "resist communism at this critical moment."

He said the "continued existence" of the threat of Russia and Red China to send volunteers into the area "is a powerful factor in promoting instability and weakness in the Middle East."

The Middle East resolution, as revised by two Senate committees, announces that the United States is "prepared to use armed forces" to assist nations requesting protection from aggression from "any country controlled by international communism." And it would allow the President to spend up to 200 million dollars in foreign aid funds in the next few months to help strengthen Middle East defenses and shore up the economies of those nations.

Rear reflectors "on all vehicles using roads" will soon be compulsory in South Africa.

State Schools Need Outlay for Repairs

LANSING (AP) — A survey of the state's public grade and high school facilities shows that expenditures of up to $600 million in the next few years would be required to put them in first class condition.

Of 66 county superintendents who responded, 48 reported that had either obsolete or unsafe buildings in their jurisdictions. Fifteen said portions of their school plant were unsafe.

Wilfred F. Clapp, assistant superintendent of public instruction for school organization and plans, said it would take spending of at least $322 million to correct the deficiencies.

"It may well be that total expenditures needed by 1960 will reach 600 millions," Clapp said.

If the legislature accepts pending recommendations of Gov. Williams, it will provide for state inspection of school buildings for safety and sanitation, and deny state aid to those districts which fail to meet acceptable standards.

Add This to $40 Billion for Shelters

$700 Million Estimate for Warning — H-Bomb Might Reach All Parts of Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—To the estimated 40 billion dollars which would be needed for a national program of building H-bomb shelters, add another 700 million dollars for establishing a reliable warning system to tell all the people to take cover.

A study made for the National Academy of Sciences' Advisory Committee on Civil Defense makes that cost estimate for the warning system.

The report was prepared last year by Willard Bascom, an engineer and scientist, but comes to attention now in light of a White House announcement last week that it has an H-bomb shelter program under active consideration. That announcement said the cost of such a project might run between 20 billion and 40 billion dollars.

Rep. Albert Thomas (D-Tex) said Saturday a shelter program to provide "minimum protection" against hydrogen bomb attack would cost from 35 to 40 billion dollars based on civil defense estimates.

The study prepared for the academy is based on two premises:

1. "The old concept of warning only those who live near the centers of potential target areas is not acceptable. Initial weapons effects can reach out 50 miles and fall-out can go many times farther; bombs in aircraft which are brought down by our defenses may explode and missiles from submarines or other continents may go wild and miss their targets by many miles."

2. Probably by 1960, when transoceanic missiles are ready for use, warning time will drop to "a matter of minutes."

The academy study says that "a reasonable goal" to aim for is the ability to warn 95 per cent of the United States population within five minutes.

A nationwide, effective warning system would include both interior and exterior systems such as radio and telephone devices, sirens and specialized equipment for sounding warnings in factories and other places where the normal noise level might drown out a siren sound.

He's Oldest to Serve Senate

Sen. Green, 89, Steering Debate on Mideast Policy

By International News Service

A spry octogenarian who wants to become the nation's first 100-year-old congressman plays the lead role this week as the Senate debates President Eisenhower's historic Middle East doctrine.

Steering the resolution on the floor is Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-RI), chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, whose physical and mental vigor has become a landmark of Washington social and political life.

His capacity for new ideas, interests and meeting new people is a constant source of amazement to fellow senators, diplomats and Washington hostesses.

Green, at 89, is the oldest man ever to serve in the Senate. He usually walks a mile and a half every day to the Capitol. His social calendar includes between one and six functions every afternoon and evening.

GAVE UP CLIMBING

In the past few years, the Rhode Island senator explains, he has had more time for walks and social functions since his doctors advised him to give up mountain climbing, wrestling and high diving.

The senator, nevertheless, still works out several times a week in the Senate gymnasium or takes a swim at the YMCA.

As a wealthy, debonair bachelor, Green has been in great demand socially since he first came to Washington in 1937. As chairman of the Foreign Relations Committee, these social invitations have increased further and the senator never misses one of them, if he can help it.

He is an inveterate traveler and is keenly interested in the art, music, politics and archeology of almost every country in the world.

SPEAKS 5 LANGUAGES

He speaks five languages and is a personal friend of Britain's Sir Winston Churchill, Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, the Emperor of Ethiopia and others.

Genial and at times peppery, the ruddy-faced senator served on the Foreign Relations Committee during the rough years of World War II, the cold war and the Korean conflict.

Asked once by a reporter if he would have preferred to have been in the key post during peaceful times, Green replied:

"No, trouble is stimulating and challenging. It gives you a chance to try to find corrective measures."

Practically Sat on Cache He Couldn't Even Sell

BRISBANE, Australia (AP) — Machinist Colin Evans tried to sell his 1947 automobile for $75. Nobody would pay that much.

Three days later he dusted off the back seat. A patch on the upholstery tore loose and out popped two mildewed canvas bags. Inside was $40,000 in U.S. and Australian banknotes.

Evans turned the money over to the police, who said he might get it if they didn't find the owner.

President Heuss in Bed

BONN, Germany (AP)—West German President Ehdoro Heuss was in bed with a cold today. His staff said the 73-year-old President was expected to recover in time to leave March 6 for his planned state visit to the United States.

Automobiles were first sold on the installment plan in 1905.

Ex-Senator McKellar in Serious Condition

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—K. D. McKellar, 88, one-time dean of the U.S. Senate, was in "serious" condition at Methodist Hospital today after surgery to remove duodenal ulcers.

The operation was performed yesterday when the former senator went into shock from loss of blood through internal hemorrhaging. He was reported to have withstood two hours of surgery "remarkably well."

McKellar, beaten in a bid for an unprecedented seventh six-year term in the 1952 Tennessee Democratic primary, was admitted to the hospital Friday after fainting in his hotel suite.

Beautiful Stage, Screen Actress Played in Films in U.S. and Europe

STOCKHOLM (AP)—Marta Toren, 31, beautiful Swedish stage and screen actress, died today of a rare brain disease which sent her to the hospital less than 48 hours ago.

The actress had been unconscious since she was brought to the hospital Sunday night after performing in a stage play at the Alle Theater.

Her doctor said she was suffering from subarachnoil hemorrhage a disease he said "can strike persons of all ages without warning."

Miss Toren was the wife of an Italian director and film writer, Leonardo Bercovici. They have a 4-year-old daughter.

The actress went to the United States in 1947 with a seven-year contract. After playing 11 films, she returned to Europe to make films in Spain and Italy. Mostly she lived in Rome, where she was one of Ingrid Bergman's closest friends.

Ticket Pilot for Parking in Airport Driveway

DETROIT (AP)—James C. Rader was ticketed for parking his airplane in a service drive at Detroit City Airport. The plane was parked in such a way that it prevented other planes from using a taxiway.

Col. C. V. Burnett, airport manager, said all runways are considered as city streets under city ordinances—hence the $5 traffic ticket.

Bob Considine Says:

Gentle Chim Said It With Pictures

NEW YORK (INS) — Pretty soon now, at the Memorial Press Center of the Overseas Press Club here, a polished wooden slab marked by the name of David Seymour will be added to the growing list of reporters and cameramen killed in the course of gathering war news.

Chim, as the gentle little cameraman was known, probably couldn't care less. In a sense, however it will be a sort of homecoming for at least his name.

A lot of old friends from the days of war and pestilence are on that wall at the club, including Bob Capa, who punted a landmine in Indochina, and Ernie Pyle, who looked up out of a hole on Iwo Jima just long enough for a Japanese sniper to steady him in the sights.

Chim was riddled to bits in the Gaza Strip, along with a fine French photographer named Cartier-Bresson. The obits were flattering enough to have mortal effect on one so shy and so bereft of vanity. But they failed to suffice in the opinion of many of his friends.

One of these, Patricia Murray, writes:

"Chim carried his camera with the manner of a guy quietly willing to give up his life for truth. Like all good ones, he was one great unspoken 'why?' In Chim's case, the question became antiquated before he found out.

THINGS TO DIE FOR

"Chim believed that everyone should have a thing to die for, something like peace . . . better freedom. Strange that he should have died in a jeep riddled by more than 500 rounds.

"Chim was a Hemingway. In that heartbreaking series he did bout the children under UNESCO's care, he attacked something beyond the poverty that had struck these children and their lands.

"Childless Chim, fighting for children yet unborn and for those who had been born but who had not learned to live without fear, was fighting just that — fear. He hated fear, and that hate could make him quietly thumb his nose at death . . . Egypt is richer for his blood.

"Chim did a strange thing before his death. True to his profession, he was notoriously remiss when it came to business acumen and sense. But now he defied the legend. He settled his affairs.

"To anyone who knew him, the thought of Chim sitting down with a notary public would have caused epidemic belly laughs. He knew.

"Chim never made any great thing of the buff arguments on photography versus art. 'We're only trying to tell a story,' he'd say. 'Let the 17th Century painters worry about the effects. We've got to tell it now, let the news in, show the hungry face, the broken land, anything, so that those who are comfortable may be moved a little.'

THEY WERE THERE

"Chim's dead. So are Capa and Cartier-Bresson, the three who founded the first cooperative organization for photographers. But it can always be said of Chim and of the other two: One day they were there, and this is exactly what it looked like.

"I'll bet Chim's films were intact when they picked him up."

Elizabeth II's reunion with Philip in Portugal recalls the world's oldest pact, the Anglo-Portuguese announcement in 1373 which begins:

"Edward III and Ferdinand and Eleanor. We shall, henceforth, reciprocally, be friends to friend and enemies to enemies, and shall assist, maintain and uphold each other mutually, by sea and by land against all men that may live or die."

Lot of people are of the opinion that the royal rift reports will end, for keeps, sometime around November. Or early December.

It's a pity that Mr. Truman couldn't make the trip to Athens and Istanbul on the occasion of the 10th anniversary of the Truman Doctrine which saved both those countries from failing behind the Iron Curtain. That decision will be honored by historians a thousand years after his letter to Paul Hume is dust.

Death of Stuart H. Perry

One of Pontiac's most distinguished sons slipped quietly into the Great Beyond when death claimed Stuart H. Perry of Adrian.

A Pontiac boy, Mr. Perry originally entered the practice of law with his father here in Pontiac. But printer's ink was in his veins and a few years later he became editor of The Pontiac Press, a profession that claimed him for more than a half century.

Later he bought The Adrian Telegram and lived there steadily until the past few years when he and Mrs. Perry traveled extensively. During his more active years, Mr. Perry was a director of the Associated Press and served as Second Vice President.

He was essentially a gentleman in every circumstance and an especially delightful companion. Quiet, unassuming, Stuart Perry possessed an unusually keen sense of humor which was woven indelibly into his active life and was part of the charm that made the man the distinctive individual he was. While he was inherently a scholar, his unusual erudition was never on parade. Always thoughtful and solicitous of others, he made friends easily and held them without conscious effort and seemed happily oblivious to the splendid impression he created.

Underneath a relatively calm exterior and an unusual serenity of spirit there existed a warm appreciation of others and a perceptive interest in all the happenings about him.

Mr. Perry was an authority on meteors and has made personal contributions of unusual specimens to Oakland County's Cranbrook Academy of Science.

Right, decency and honor were the inflexible code of his existence and he set an example for good by his pen and in his personal life. In fact, his sphere of influence for the betterment of his profession and mankind in general extended far afield. A blithe spirit is stilled and a man of whom Pontiac can be proud steps aside and passes on a noble heritage to his successors.

Nixon to Visit Ghana as Envoy From U.S.

Some time next month Vice President Nixon will travel to the Gold Coast of West Africa to attend ceremonies marking that colony's achievement of independence from Britain.

After the June 1954 election, a new self-governing state was formed composed of the Gold Coast, Ashanti, Northern Territories and Togoland. Total area is 92,000 square miles with a population of 4,125,000 and the capital is Accra.

Pending dominion status the area has complete home rule. Prime Minister Kwame Nkrumah, whose Conservative People's Party won 71 of the assembly's 104 seats in 1954, was educated in Britain and also studied in this country.

The new nation will assume the ancient African name of Ghana. It has become a model for many parts of Africa now preparing for self-government under European guidance.

The coastal area is advanced but the interior still is ruled by tribal chieftains, primitive traditions and superstition. Dr. Nkrumah faces a very difficult problem and progress will be slow. He should have the moral support of all freedom loving nations.

The urgent need is for economic development. At present the principal exports are cocoa and rubber. But there is great mineral wealth in Ashanti and tremendous forests in the Northern Territories. Foreign capital would be most welcome.

Vice President Nixon's presence at the independence ceremonies should have a profound and significant effect on all African nations.

One More Wildlife Feeder Writes of Its Big Values

Hungry: When we long to eat.
But most of us eat too long.

Under a Drayton Plains date line comes a letter from which states that she maintains two feeding stations, and has been communing with our native wildlife for nearly 30 years.

"Lover of Nature and Wildlife,"

She says she never found a lazy bird or squirrel. They never appear for food if it is possible to forage for themselves or have a supply in storage. Besides her squirrels, she has plenty of cardinals, robins and other birds.

In addition to her regular feeding boards, she gets a lot of enjoyment out of her customers' antics with the suet smeared with peanut butter which she fastens to trees. If her patrons are able to find their natural feed they do not molest what she puts out, but merely call around to sing or chatter what sounds like a thank you.

She writes, "In this hobby there is plenty of enjoyment and recompense; your garbage can being cheated out of most of the material you need. And one gets so much closer to God and the real things."

The study of geology and allied sciences by

who was on The Pontiac Press editorial staff when both were young, was a hobby inherited by him. His father, the late for many years a prominent Pontiac attorney, knew more about what's under this area than any other man. For many years he secured drillings from all deep water wells sunk in Oakland County and from them established the strata that lie beneath us. Stuart, who died last week at the age of 82, had written a number of books on the subject.

Here's an example of the "Better Use a Bigger One Before I Do"

David Lawrence Says:

U.S.-Israel Deadlock Doesn't Exist

WASHINGTON — There is more than meets the eye in the statements issued by the President and the State Department on Sunday, which, on the surface, indicate a deadlock between Israel and the United States.

Actually, there is no real stalemate but a means, well known in the art of diplomacy, of emphasizing publicly and with considerable explicitness the commitments which are being undertaken by both the United States and Israel. For when the Israeli troops are withdrawn, as inevitably they will be, the record of "assurances" has to be clear and precise.

LAWRENCE

The quick trip to Israel of Ambassador Eban to talk things over with his own government — after lengthy conferences with Secretary Dulles—is part of the program by which the United States hopes to convince the doubting parliament in Israel that the record of promises now made favors rather than blocks a solution of Israel's problems in both the Gaza Strip and the Gulf of Aqaba.

Indeed, one can see in the text of the memorandum issued by the State Department a case being built up for assuring ready access of Israeli ships to the Suez Canal as well.

President Eisenhower in his own statement drew Israel's attention to the provisions of the U.N. charter that require the settlement of international disputes by peaceful means, and then said:

PRECLUDE FORCE

"These undertakings seem to preclude using the forcible seizure and occupation of other lands as bargaining power in the settlement of international disputes."

But within a few hours a dispatch was coming over the wires of the United Press from the Suez Canal zone as follows:

"U.N. salvage work on the Suez Canal was at a virtual standstill today . . . informed sources said the U.N. salvage team which is costing the U.N. $20,000 a day will be unable to meet its March 10 deadline unless full-scale work resumes immediately. It has not been mentioned openly here, but the whole operation appeared to hinge on the question of Israeli withdrawal from the Gaza Strip and the coast of the Gulf of Aqaba.

"Authoritative sources say Egyptian officials have made it clear to Lt. Gen. Raymond E. Wheeler, head of the U.N. salvage work, that there is no chance of getting salvage work into full stride until the question of Israeli withdrawal is settled."

EGYPT'S PLEDGE

The State Department's memorandum, dated Feb. 11 but just now made public, pointedly reminds Egypt of the pledge she made in 1950 to the United States that the Gulf of Aqaba "will remain free as in the past, in conformity with international practice and recognized principles of international law."

Then the United States goes on to make the following pledge of her own:

"In the absence of some overriding decision to the contrary, as by the international court of justice, the United States, on behalf of vessels of United States registry, is prepared to exercise the right of free and innocent passage and to join with others to secure general recognition of this right."

This notifies the world that the United States is prepared to join with other nations to see that Israeli ships are not prevented from using the Gulf of Aqaba. It is a promise not only of unilateral but of multilateral action. Israel now has the opportunity to use that pledge as the basis for her withdrawal of troops.

Thereupon, the task of enforcing freedom of passage in the Gulf of Aqaba, and eventually in the Suez, for Israeli ships becomes a responsibility of the United States. That's what the historic exchange of views in the last few days really means, and undoubtedly Ambassador Eban will so inform his own parliament and thus pave the way for an early settlement.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Victim Must Make Choice When Gland's Out of Hand

"I am 81. My wife was 80. She passed away a month ago. We always got so much comfort in reading your articles in the paper.

"I have to get up from two to four times every night to urinate. Can you supply me with a pamphlet or booklet in regard to this?

BRADY

"For breakfast I drink two cups of coffee; for lunch two cups; and for dinner one cup." (F. P.)

You are welcome to the pamphlet on "Prostatic Obstruction," the usual cause of such trouble in men past 60. Ask for it and inclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

The caffeine you get in a cup of good coffee stimulates the cerebrum, the heart, and the kidneys.

In your place I'd take coffee only at breakfast — one or two cups. For lunch make it milk — whole milk, skim milk, separator milk, buttermilk, or acidophilus milk, whichever you prefer.

Tomato juice, vegetable juice, or fruit juice is as good for you as it is for a youngster who wets the bed. Coffee, tea, chocolate or cocoa are all bad for such youngsters because such beverages stimulate the kidneys. In moderation they are healthful beverages for mature adults.

ONE-THIRD OVER 60

At least one-third of all men have some enlargement of the prostate when they reach 60, but aside from having to get up more than once at night, most of them develop no other symptoms.

The prostate consists of a lobe on either side, connected by a bar of tissue which crosses over the urethra (bladder outlet). It is insignificant until puberty when it begins to grow rapidly and reaches adult dimensions at about thirty, when it is perhaps an inch or 1¼ inches in diameter. Physiologists are at variance on the function of the prostate gland.

Its secretion is delivered to the urethral canal along with the semen, and it may nourish or activate the spermatozoa (sperm cells), although it is not essential, for neither sterility nor sexual impotence necessarily occurs after prostatectomy (surgical removal of prostate gland).

UNRELATED TO SEX

The cause or causes of prostatic enlargement, hypertrophy, obstruction are not clearly determined but there is no reason to associate the trouble with good, bad, or indifferent sex life.

Rules for the man with enlarged prostate:

2. Wear woolen socks to keep your feet dry at all times.

2. If you must go on a long drive in cold weather take along a foot warmer.

3. Beer or liquor generally makes one with prostatic hypertrophy "bladdery."

4. There are but two alternatives for a gentleman who cannot hold his water more than an hour or two: Either undergo prostatectomy and remain a gentleman, or accept the unpleasant concomitants of catheter life.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Wants Papers to Be Fair About Campaign Donations

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full name, address and telephone number of the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer so requests unless the letter is critical in its nature.

Why do you newspapers spend so much time telling what big sums certain individuals have given to the Republican party? Why don't you be fair and tell the whole story?

Last fall 17 unions and labor groups tossed $2,100,000 into national politics directly and 99 per cent of it went to the Democrats. In addition to that, state and local labor organizations kicked in with more than $800,000 to the Democratic party.

Who's trying to buy what? And the money they're using belongs to the members. I vote a straight Republican ticket and I resent having my dues used to elect Democrats. Union leaders don't care how the members feel and they use our money to suit themselves.

'Can't County Use Smokeless Fuel?'

As a downtown worker, I'm ashamed of the smoke the jail pours into our community every day. It's the worst offender in all Pontiac. There used to be several rivals, but the late Donald S. (Smokeless) Patterson took up the cudgel in behalf of the citizens and brought about a tremendous improvement.

He was a ruthless and relentless foe of all smoke nuisances and he chastised friend and foe alike.

Pontiac used to possess a smoke filled downtown. It's clean and bright today. We're never deluged with smoke and soot and the late Mr. Patterson deserves a lot of the credit.

The No. One offender now is the jail. Can't the county fire the boiler more scientifically or put in gas or oil?

'Pipeline to Texas to Get Ike's Aid?'

This morning I heard a news report about Texas and its water shortage. Seems some Texan has gone to Washington with a proposal to build a pipeline from our Great Lakes, diverting lake water to Texas.

Even if they planned to do it at their own expense, it would be mighty presumptious, I think, but they are hoping to get government help for the project.

I believe Ike refused a Chicago plea for more lake water diversion for its drainage canal, and I sincerely hope he does the same for Texas.

'Is There News on Artificial Rink?'

What's the latest news regarding an artificial ice rink for Pontiac? Isn't there enough money and interested souls in Pontiac to invest in children? Maybe if a few of you investors who are looking for six per cent or more return on your money could see children looking for ice after a couple of days of 45 degree weather, your hearts would melt a little, too.

And have you seen how after a thaw when most of the water runs into the ground and before the city can reflood the rink, the children are still trying to skate on patches of ice amidst bigger patches of dirt?

Could we hear from others interested?

One Who Has Seen

Opinions Different on Royal Divorce

Great Britain is hearing widespread discussion on whether divorce should be so great a deterrent in advancement in official circles. It is absolutely taboo for members of the royal household and it should be. It stopped Margaret's marriage and that was the correct decision. It caused the resignation of the Duke's private secretary and I believe in that.

Let's face it. Divorce is not in accordance with God's law, and religion must be brought more sharply into everyday life and examples like these are wholesome. They drive home basic lessons, for marriage isn't a trial proposition.

Catholic

It's time Britain threw away that ancient divorce taboo and got up to date. Look at the world in general. Divorce isn't a crime and isn't so regarded around the rest of the globe. England clings to the traditions and the customs of the past beyond all common sense. Canada is always more modern than the mother country.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Walrus Waddle Brings No Whistle

David's challenge shows the benefits of competition even as regards dieting. Wives, men seldom offer wolf whistles if you waddle like a walrus. And a slender wife after the age of 40 can greatly zoom her prosaic husband's ardor. Indeed, a sylph-like woman beats hormone shots as a means of rejuvenating a platonic husband.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case U-308: David, aged 20, is our youngest child.

During the summer, he kept nagging Mrs. Crane and me to go on a diet, for we were both overweight.

"O. K.," I finally accepted his challenge. "I'll make a deal with you."

"Every day that you put in a full eight hours of work here on the farm, I'll limit myself to 1,000 calories total food intake the following day."

And David agreed.

This worked out very successfully all around, for Mrs. Crane and I wanted Daniel and David to fence the entire farm, as well as cut wood for our fireplace in the winter, and also prune trees, since we are reforesting most of our hilly land.

Although I pay the boys standard wages, they don't labor as diligently for their parents as they do for strangers, which is usually true of youth.

So they would sleep late and work maybe five or six hours per day. This new deal I made with David thus proved mutually advantageous.

"Americans dig their graves with their teeth," runs an old adage that is especially true in this bountiful land of ours.

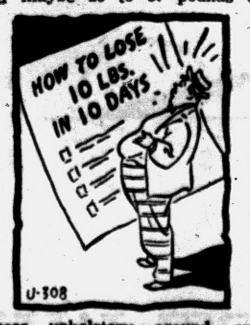

And you housewives often add surplus poundage, too, especially after the age of 30.

For you are commendably frugal as regards good food. If a youngster leaves half his cake or meat and other viands, you hesitate to throw such good food away.

As a result, you tend to nibble it yourself.

"I don't want it to go to waste," you defend yourself, but then it really goes to waist!

We contented husbands likewise add maybe 25 to 50 pounds of excess upholstery around our waistline by the age of 40, thus zooming our blood pressure.

Every five pounds of extra fat cause three extra miles of tiny blood vessels to sprout. And the heart must then maintain its blood pressure in those extra miles of "pipes" at every beat.

Even without hardening of the arteries, your blood pressure may rise 25 points or more when you put on extra weight.

Wives, you will find that husbands perk up considerably in their ardor if you can get down to within 10 pounds of the weight you enjoyed on your wedding day.

For Cupid seems to prefer slenderness. Fat, waddling wives, whose rolls of blubber jiggle like jelly when they proceed down the street, certainly don't evoke many wolf whistles!

A heavy torso suggests a good motherly old soul. But mothers are not linked with erotic allure and heart throb behavior!

So if your husbands are past 40 and showing a tendency to grow platonic, just streamline your feminine chassis and you'll notice an immediate perking up in your husband's affection.

Remember, you can't feel like a sports roadster with the chassis of a truck.

So shed your excess poundage, starting now. Don't wait till tomorrow.

And it is easier to diet if you have company, so if you can get your Women's Club members to join you, or enlist your husband's aid, if he is also too heavy, well and good.

Send for my booklet "How to Lose 10 Lbs. in 10 Days," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus 20 cents.

Don't wait till divorce threatens you, before you try to regain a sylph-like figure.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

Rise in Living Costs, Education, Mental Care, Roads Blamed

State Budgets Hit All-Time Highs in Many Sections

By DAVID C. BEEDER
THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

It's costing record sums of money to oil the wheels of state government and lawmakers are casting around for new tax sources.

Record budgets are nothing new. They've been increasing steadily since the end of World War II.

Increased government activity is one reason, but inflation is the main factor. With state governments trying to do more things for more people, the biggest problem facing lawmakers is where to send the tax bill.

An Associated Press survey shows higher salaries for teachers and state employes, highway programs and welfare projects are the major reasons behind increased state spending. In all of these cases, the mounting cost of living is in the background.

Highest state budgets are those proposed in heavily populated Illinois, New York and California.

Illinois is expected to pass a budget calling for spending of two billion dollars for 1957-59.

Two years ago, the Illinois Legislature appropriated a record $1,736,000,000. The increases are due to expected higher appropriations for schools, mental institutions and salary boosts for state employes.

Increases in Illinois and other states also result from the massive federal highway program. States must match part of the federal funds.

Like many states, the hard facts on the Illinois budget are as yet unavailable. Republican Gov. William G. Stratton won't have it ready for presentation until April. A sales tax increase is expected.

In New York, Gov. Averell Harriman already has sent a record $1,617,400,000 budget to the Legislature for the fiscal year beginning April 1, 1957. Schools, inflation and expanded state programs were cited by Harriman as reasons for the increase from last year's ~~$1,441,800,000~~ budget.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight attributes a record-high $1,947,964,933 California budget proposal to the "inexorable demands of growth." Knight's budget request exceeds the state's previous budget by more than 119 million dollars.

Seventy millions of the increase, to be used for additional school aid, would come from a cigarette and beer tax increase recommended by Knight.

In New Hampshire, Gov. Lane Dwinell handed lawmakers a record 155-million-dollar budget request. Dwinell has asked for re-enactment of a $5 "head tax" on all residents betewen the ages of 21 and 70 to help foot. the bill. New Hampshire is one of the few states without either a sales tax or an income tax.

Some big boosts in state budgets have been proposed in fast-growing Western states.

Washington state officials say increases in the record $1,106,769,111 budget request are needed to meet higher pay demands of state employes and teachers and the requirements of a rapidly growing population. The proposed budget is up almost 39 million dollars.

The cost of government would go up more than 120 million dollars in Oregon if a record state budget of $741,654,533 is approved.

Record high budgets also have been advanced by governors in Idaho, Wyoming, Colorado, Oklahoma, Utah, Montana, Nevada and North and South Dakota.

Wisconsin's proposed 343-million dollar budget needs 47 million dollars in new revenue before it will balance. Indiana's financial outlook has been described by some observers as a "crisis."

Indiana Gov. Harold W. Handley, GOP factional foe of outgoing Gov. George N. Craig, has called "fantastic" Craig's proposed 790-million-dollar request.

Both Indiana and Wisconsin are expected to enact increases in state income tax.

In most states the budget story is the same: all-time high expenditures are planned to meet steadily increasing needs of government.

Outlook for future state budgets: more record breakers.

Sorting Firm to Move From Grand Rapids Site

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Electric Sorting Machine Co., which last year occupied new facilities valued at about $400,000, is moving to Houston, Texas, about April 1.

S. B. Parker, vice president and treasuruer of Mandrel Industries, Inc., said the move is an outgrowth of a merger through which ESM became a division of the newly formed Mandrel last August.

Electric Sorting Machine, founded about 25 years ago, plans to retain a sales, installation and service office in Grand Rapids.

JACKSON (AP)—Russell Pahl, of Textile Workers Union Local 318, has been elected president of the Jackson County CIO Council, defeating incumbent Vincent Brannick.

Pilot Ejection Seat Built for High Speed

LOS ANGELES (INS)—Lockheed Aircraft Corp. has announced the development of an aircraft ejection seat that "flies like an airplane."

The new "flying seat" is designed to allow a pilot to eject himself safely in an emergency while flying at 1,500 miles an hour.

Full-scale models of the seat are being tested by Lockheed engineers and the air research and Development Command of the Air Force at Hurricane Mesa, Utah.

The seat features verticle fins which extend along each side of the seat in the rear, stubby wings, and a wind deflector mounted on a four-foot-long boom in front of the pilot.

Asks $1,500 to Destroy Pigeons at Ohio Capitol

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—State Sen. Robert R. Shaw, Columbus Republican, is sick and tired of the pigeons in the state capitol yard.

He and his friends, Shaw told newsmen, are disturbed at the endless prospect of being "target for tonight"—every night.

He asked the Ohio legislature for a $1,500 appropriation to trap and destroy every pigeon indiscreet enough to set foot in the statehouse yard.

"The only opposition I have run into so far," Shaw quipped, "is from the dry cleaners."

Cafeterias were established in New York City in 1885. At first they served only men; no women were allowed to enter.

17 Townships Name Candidates in Primary Voting

Floyd Andrews Takes Top Independence Vote

In primaries in 17 townships of Oakland County yesterday, about half the townships reported heavy voting while the others reported extremely light turnouts.

Several of the township areas used voting machines for the first time. Springfield Township residents named their first Democratic slate in 30 years.

All but the following townships held primary elections: Brandon, Oxford, Oakland, Lyon, Rose, Holly and White Lake.

Addison Township

A primary system of voting was used for the first time here in yesterday's election. Other firsts were the two new voting machines purchased by the township, and women serving on the election board. Other than one man, who was the chairman, the board consisted of all women.

Republican ticket: Supervisor, Frank F. Weber, 208; clerk, Robert A. McCallum, 213; treasurer, Donald Hickmott, 206; trustees, Ransford Bromley 164, A. M. Fox 2, Gerald Dunn 2, John Dunn 196; justice of the peace, Edward Gillam 36, Robert Inwood 173, Ralph Stearns 1, Raymond R. Snyder 145, Donald G. The total vote from six precincts here was 1,020. Biggest contest of the election was for the township clerk. Frances O. Covert, incumbent, won with a total vote of 668. Douglas T. Fowler, opposing, received 185 votes.

Only special issue brought up at the election was to levy 2½ mill or ($2.50 per $1,000) of assessed valuation upon the property in districts 23, 24, 25, 26, 35 and 36 for the purpose of maintaining a fire department. There were 105 yes and 39 no votes.

State Park Fee Plan Supported

Half Senate Lined Up to Back Bill for Blanket $2 Admission Charge

LANSING (AP) — About half the Senate apparently had lined up today behind a plan to help maintain and expand Michigan's state park system with a $2 annual admission fee.

Sen. Elmer R. Porter (R-Blissfield) said his bill proposing a park admission charge had the support of "at least 16" co-sponsors, and would be introduced before the end of the week.

Under the measure, Conservation Department employers or licensed agents would sell stickers to car owners for $2, allowing the auto and its occupants access to all state parks for one year. For 50 cents, motorists could purchase car admissions good for one day only.

Upon application, church and school groups would be admitted free.

The State Conservation Department has recommended a similar sticker plan, saying state parks, now open to the public without charge, are badly in need of new revenue.

INCOME ESTIMATED

Porter estimated the plan would bring in between 1½ milliion and 2 million dollars annually.

"I think there's enough support behind it to pass it this year," Porter said. "Conservation clubs and nearly everybody else has been working for it."

Gov. Williams, in his proposed budget for the 1957-58 fiscal year, recommended a 3½ million dollar appropriation for land acquisition and development of state parks.

He recommended the money be granted in addition to any that might come from park admission fees or other revenue-producing programs passed by the legislature.

Police Fire Kills Prison Parolee

Robinson Threatens Woman, Tots, in Home; Tries to 'Shoot It Out'

DETROIT (AP) — A prison parolee was killed in a gun battle with police a block north of Briggs Stadium on Detroit's near West side today.

He was William A. Robinson, 32, released from Southern Michigan Prison only last Dec. 5 after serving 10 years of a 20-to-40-year sentence for armed robbery.

None of four policemen involved in the fight was wounded.

The battled erupted, police said, after Robinson attempted to force his way into the home of a woman acquaintance whose husband is serving a non-support sentence in the Detroit House of Correction. She is Mrs. June Conley, 27, mother of four small children.

Robinson was hit in the chest, left shoulder and both thighs by police bullets. He fired four shots with an automatic pistol without hitting anyone.

The shooting on Trumbull Avenue broke out at 12:10 a.m., when police answered a call from Thomas Lia, 27, who told them Robinson was trying to break in Mrs. Conley's door and had a gun.

Lia said he had been drinking earlier with Robinson, who had been threatening Mrs. Conley because she had rebuffed his efforts to date her. Lia said he went to the woman's home to warn her and that Robinson arrived while he was there and began kicking on the front door.

Patrolmen Arthur Lavinge and Donald Parrish arrived quickly in their scout car. When they ordered Robinson to take his hands out of his overcoat pockets, he drew a gun.

Lavinge said Robinson yelled: "Put up your hands or I'll start shooting."

Parrish dropped to the ground and Lavinge jumped from under the wheel as Robinson fired four times from only six feet away at the prone Parrish.

Lavinge fired twice and Robinson staggered and reeled into the street as patrolmen Charles Prater and Robert Cramer careened up. Prater said he leaned out an open scout car window and fired three times as Robinson raised his gun. Cramer fired one through the scout car windshield and Robinson fell fatally wounded.

Parke, Davis Has U. S. License No. 1; Dow the Real Giant

Michigan One of Nation's Top Chemical Makers

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan has become one of the nation's top producers of chemicals and drugs —and the industry still is mushrooming over the state.

The Michigan Department of Economic Development reports that its latest count shows 404 such concerns in the state. One of them, Parke, Davis and Co. of Detroit, holds U.S. license No. 1 for making biological products.

Among new developments in Michigan expansion of the industry have been these announcements:

Calgon Co., new plant at Rockwood; Shawinigan Resins Co., subsidiary of Monsanto, new plant at Trenton; Parke-Davis, new $10 million research center at Ann Arbor; Cowles Chemical Co. of Cleveland, purchase of 20 acres near Monroe for new plant, and E. I. Du Pont de Nemours, Inc., new sulfuric acid plant at Ecorse.

John P. Kavanagh, assistant industrial chief of the State Economic Development Department, says Michigan ranks fifth in production of plastics, fourth in pharmaceuticals (drugs), fifth in inorganic chemicals, sixth in paint and varnish and seventh in printing ink.

NATURAL RESOURCES AID

Natural resources that give Michigan an advantage are the country's richest salt mines, under Detroit and elsewhere nearby; huge limestone deposits, and an unlimited water supply.

These, with coal and petroleum, are the principal raw materials of chemical manufacture.

Other areas have cheaper coal because they're closer to mines, and electric power because much of it is made from coal. Pipelines have chopped considerably the price of fuel oil at away-from-the-well spots.

Kavanagh says the industry is becoming "more market oriented and less materials oriented," and that this gives Michigan an advantage "because the markets are here or near."

The automobile industry is a big user of chemical products. Other big users include the food, glass, paper, drug, paint and soap industries and agriculture.

The Michigan chemical industry is engaged chiefly in making basic products which then go to manufacture of consumer goods.

Some of a chemical company's best customers are other chemical companies. And this "over-the-fence" selling is an important factor in locating new plants.

CHAIN REACTION

For instance, Wyandotte Chemicals developed in its Detroit downriver location because of the salt deposits there, then Monsanto Chemical Co. built a plant nearby to use the soda ash produced by Wyandotte.

The Hooker Electrochemical Co. built a $15 million plant in 1954 at Montague, north of Muskegon, and started an "over-the-fence" series that is expected to reach $100 million in construction.

DuPont built a $15 million plant which uses products purchased from Hooker for making synthetic rubber. Union Carbide and Carbon Co. built a new plant in the same area to make acetylene, and the Ott Chemical Co. has announced plans for a plant there.

The state's chemical operators include such Michigan giants as Wyandotte's Chemicals and Parke-Davis of Detroit, Dow Chemical Co. of Midland, and the Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo.

Other big operators include Allied Chemical & Dye Corp., DuPont, Monsanto, Ethyl Corp., Union Carbide, Pennsylvania Salt Manufacturing Co. and Reichold Chemicals Co.

Dow's Midland plants are believed by Kavanagh to constitute the world's largest chemical facility, and from them come plastics, ammonia, calcium chloride, hydrochloric acid, fungicides, weed killers, chloroform and aspirin.

The Michigan Chemical Co. at St. Louis is known for production of insecticides, solvents and bromine compounds.

Parke-Davis has been a leader in developing the use of chemicals as medicines. One of its research products is chloromycetin, the only synthetic antibiotic. Others include dilantin, for treating grand mal epilepsy; benadryl, the first antihistaminic drug, and camoquin, a single-dose malaria treatment.

Parke-Davis also played a major part in development and manufacture of Salk polio vaccine. It made the first batches.

Four years ago Upjohn research scientists created a low cost, high volume method of producing cortisone. It now is conducting clinical tests for orinase, a pill-a-day diabetes remedy that may permit abandonment of daily insulin injections.

Wyandotte scientists recently developed polyether foam, a long-lasting, low-cost product to compete with foam rubber in upholstery and several older materials used in heat insulation.

Suggests Tax Deduction for Employers of Aged

DETROIT (AP) — A University of Michigan economist has suggested that employers giving work to persons over 65 years of age be granted a $500 tax deduction for each such employe.

Dr. William Haber said it would be one way to attack the problem of the aging. Economics, he believes, is most important of the three factors involved, including housing and health.

The government's loss in revenue through the tax exemptions, he said, would bemore than balanced because fewer persons would be drawing pensions.

GOOD DEED, WELL DONE — When a Washington column reported that the wife of Rep. Al Ullman (D-Ore) lost her prized cookbooks in the mail, with typical naval gallantry, Capt. Billy Johnson, USN, came to the rescue. He's director of the Navy's food serving. Above, Captain Johnson has dropped in on Mrs. Ullman to present her with the Navy's official cookbook. Each recipe is figured for 100 servings, but Mrs. Ullman doesn't care. She entertains lots of company and knows how to divide.

Guard Pushes Bid to Postpone Training

WASHINGTON (AP)—The National Guard appeared today to have made some progress toward postpoining the requirement of six months active duty for Guard recruits.

As Guard generals lined up to give their arguments to a House Armed Services subcommittee, Chairman Overton Brooks (D-La) confirmed that one recommendation the subcommittee is considering is a one-year postponement of the requirement ordered by the Army.

If the Army order stands, six months active duty training will be required of inexperienced recruits who join the Guard ground forces on or after April 1.

The Guard wants instead ot confine the six months requirement to recruits over 18½, requiring the younger enlistees to take only 11 weeks training, but encouraging them to take more if they wish.

Louisiana Senator Plots Washington Mardi Gras

Russell Long Brings Carnival Spirit to Staid Capital for Saturday Ball

WASHINGTON (INS)—Youthful Sen. Russell Long is about to realize an ambition that his late father, Huey Long, for all of his dictatorial ways, was never able to achieve. And take it from Russell, it's a dilly.

The 38-year-old lawmaker from Louisiana is lining up Washington officialdom for a wing-ding, honest-to-goodness Mardi Gras ball in the nation's capital Saturday that should set our staid dowagers pirouetting like ballerinas.

Twenty-seven luscious beauty queens from the Pelican State will curtsy before Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and pretty Second Lady Pat will join the "call out" section to await a dance bid from the masked "Krewe" (crew).

Seventy merry-making "Krewe" members, carefully disguised to conceal the actual identities of such handsome lawmakers as Sens. Barry Goldwater, Hubert Humphrey, George Smathers, Warren Magnuson and Frank Church will cavort about the Mayflower ballroom.

These ordinarily serious-minded legislators, at the bidding of Long, will garb themselves in baggy gold pants bloused at the ankles, sequin-bedecked purple-and-gold clown hats, orange gold caps, white gloves and eerie masks which grin or leer.

"Even their wives won't recognize my Krewe," Russell promises, "unless it's by a familiar bruise on their shoes."

BAGS OF FAVORS

The jolly Krewe men, for good measure, will carry a shoulder bag crammed with compacts and jewelry to bestow on the lucky ladies with whom they condescend to dance.

Since 500 femmes will be wistfully awaiting a beckon from only 70 Krewe men, Washington society should set a new record for wallflowers.

The king for a night—Parish Fuller—is being imported from Louisiana along with the "Famous Door Five," celebrated Dixieland band which holds forth on New Orleans' Bourbon street.

Russell confides that he has been pining to introduce a "real Mardi Gras" ball to Washington ever since his father tried, and failed.

In selling his Senate colleagues on joining the Krewe, Russell had to contend with Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota, who was "holdin' out for Marilyn Monroe in the call-out section."

ALL THOSE FELLOWS

"Ol' Hubert just didn't realize how he'd be outnumbered in that ol' Krewe, among all those masked fellows," Long shrugged. "After all, I'll be in there, too."

Russell has laid down only one dictum to his frolicking Krewe members. At least some of them have to stay "cold sober."

"That's so as when your wife complains about how you were carryin' on with the other women, you can look indignant and claim you were the sober one," Russell explains, and adds quickly that he's "just kiddin', of course."

The Louisiana State Society originally warned Russell not to anticipate more than 500 guests, but they just didn't know Huey's son! His Mardi Gras has been sold out for a week. And he's turning down hopefuls at the rate of 100 a day.

'Putting Up' With Spouse Makes Marriage Endure

Too Many Men, Women Are Unwilling to Accept Each Other's Faults

By RUTH MILLETT

"I don't see why he puts up with her," or "I don't see why she puts up with him," marriage kibitzers are fond of saying.

But the main trouble with modern marriage, the reason why it so often ends in divorce, is simply becauuse today's husbands and wives aren't willing to "put up with" the other's failing and shortcomings.

Most men and women go into marriage with idealized pictures of the mates they chose to spend their lives with and most assume that their own marriages are going to be perfect.

But men aren't perfect and women aren't perfect and their marriages aren't perfect, either.

He has plenty of faults and she has plenty of faults. The marriage isn't a romantic idyl, but an adventure in living—with the misunderstandings, hardship, frustration, the grind of work done over and over, responsibility, disappointments and disillusion.

BETTER OR WORSE

Making a marriage last means meeting hardships with courage and disappointments with a smile. It means forgiving big faults, overlooking small ones, and never forgetting that the marriage vow was for better or for worse.

Independence is a fine thing—but a marriage won't stand too much independence from either husband or wife.

The moment one starts saying, "I won't put up with this" or "either you do such-and-such or I'm through," the foundations of the marriage start to crumble.

Marrying for better or for worse means that if you keep your bargain you may have to put up with a lot of things that don't exactly suit you.

So it is foolish to say you won't put up with this or with that or wonder out loud why someone else puts up with a far more perfect mate.

The answer in both cases is, "In marriage it is often put up with or break up. And certainly the first is usually the more mature solution."

Couple Lets Sister Sit by Herself

Man Should Have Taken Single Seat at Theater

By EMILY POST

A letter tells me: "One evening while my sister was visiting us I mentioned that my husband was going to get tickets for a certain play for the following week. She asked if he would get an extra ticket for her while he was going to the box office as she wanted to see that play.

"The only seats available for that particular evening were a double and a single seat three rows in front. When we arrived at the theater my husband and I took the double seat and my sister sat in the single one. Should my husband have offered to take the single seat and let her sit beside me? Was it rude to let her sit alone?"

Answer: Yes, I do think that your husband should have been the one to sit alone rather than a woman.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Will you please tell me what kind of flowers would be proper for a boy to send a 15-year-old girl who has invited him to go with her to her school dance? He wants to send her gardenias but I do not think they are appropriate for a young girl. Will you please give me your opinion?"

Answer: Gardenias are sophisticated and not suitable for a very young girl who has not yet made her debut. Sweet peas or rosebuds would be perfect for a young girl.

"Dear Mrs. Post: Is it impolite for a woman to remain seated to shake hands? The other afternoon at a large cocktail party I was seated when a woman friend whom I had not seen for some time came over to greet me and held out her hand. I, of course, took it but remained seated. I was criticized for not rising. Was I wrong?"

Answer: You were not wrong—unless the one who came over to you was an elderly person and you a young one.

Lifts Morale, Banishes Fatigue

Music Will Soothe Homemakers

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Yesterday I told you something about the tremendous way in which music is being used in all walks of life and in all sorts of work and disability situations in order to relieve monotony, cut down fatigue and increase morale and efficiency.

I also told you something of the tremendous amount of research which has been done since 1936 by one of the leading companies whose programmed functional background music is heard every working day by more than 50 million people. The music is chosen from the 7,000 musical selections in its library.

I think some of the following facts will be interesting to you and even can be applied to your home. In the first place, employes spend one-third of their waking hours in offices during their busiest, most active years. Therefore, it is most important that working conditions are attractive.

As I mentioned yesterday, color, air-conditioning, lighting and background music now are used to make these conditions pleasant. Why should we not apply to our homes as many of these same advantages as possible?

It has been found that the physical environment has immediate, psychological value. Programming has been made such an art by the best known producer of "piped in" music that it has three kinds of music — one kind for offices, one for factories and another for public places like restaurants and hotels.

FATIGUE PERIODS

It has been found that the fatigue periods in a work day usually occur about 10:30 in the morning and 3:30 in the afternoon. Therefore, these are the most important times to have background music because it gives one a lift. At these times the most stimulating pieces are played.

Another interesting thing which has been discovered is that constant music has little value. It either tires or irritates or people become so accustomed to it that it gives them no lift because they are not even conscious of it.

Music may be serviced to restaurants, banks, supermarkets and so forth for 12½ minutes with intervals of 2½ minutes of silence; for offices and factories the music may be on for 15 minutes and off for 15 minutes.

It seems to me that women in the home would profit by doing their work to music part of each day. If you decide to put on a record or two at your slump times, you should choose one with 4/4 rhythm and a 62-beat-a-minute tempo, according to the leading producer of the "piped in" music.

Wears Daring Costumes for Helen Morgan Role

Goody-Goody Ann Blyth Turns Torrid

By LEE BELSER

HOLLYWOOD (INS) — Sweet little Ann Blyth, for years the movies' goody-goody girl, is gassing Hollywood with smoke rings, B-girl dance routines and a bare midriff hula hula.

This is a triple switcheroo for the dainty actress who never has done anything more shocking then warble a few songs and trip delicately through the moonlight.

But the "bad girl" routine is all for the sake of art and the title role in "The Helen Morgan Story," a torridly revealing yarn about the famed torch singer of the roaring 20s.

"I wear a chorus girl outfit that has a split skirt half way up my leg," Ann said blushingly, "and a hula costume with a bare midriff."

The slender, brown-haired actress also dances for the first time in her career. And she worked with dance pro Leroy Prinz five weeks before the film started to perfect a honky-tonk B-girl routine and a "corny" hula.

A GOOD REASON

Ann, who is as averse to peek-a-boo gowns in real life as she is on the screen, consented to the grass skirt and skyward hemline only because there was a "reason" for them.

"They're a part of the role I'm playing," she said, "and have nothing in common with the skimpy costumes that seem to be the rage in nightclubs now.

"Some people," she added, "seem to think of no clothes as being an act. I admit it draws a crowd, but how long do they stay?

"I think audiences still like to see good shows and like to hear people sing and watch them dance — fully dressed!"

Ann has 51 costume changes in the Morgan film including the old flapper - type fringed knee - length gown, a cutaway leotard and Fitch coat (belonging to former actress Alice Terry), turban headdresses, rhinestones and peacock feathers.

VERY CONSERVATIVE

"But some of the gowns are high-necked and long-sleeved," she added, "and very conservative."

The actress, who also had to learn to smoke, dons the high-necked numbers when she sits on the piano in the Helen Morgan manner to moan out such numbers as "The Man I Love," "My Bill" and "Why Was I Born" — all with the voice of singer Gogi Grant.

"My figure was all right for the slit skirts," Ann laughed, "But my voice wasn't torchy enough for the songs."

Deep cut back treatments are seen in sportswear and evening elegance. For the too-thin back, partial coverup in the way of crossed straps and a deep V or oblong back is just enough to hide bony shoulder blades.

Panel on Tensions Given for Teachers

GI Interest Rate Remains Same

House Vet Committee Denies Administration Boost on Mortgages

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Veterans Committee looked to government sources today for GI home mortgage funds after refusing to raise the interest rate on veterans' loans to 5 per cent.

Overriding requests by the administration for the higher interest rate, the committee voted yesterday to continue the present 4½ per cent rate and find other ways to provide GI home financing.

As one alternative, committee members turned to a study of proposals to authorize use of up to a billion dollars of National Service Life Insurance reserves held in trust for GI wartime policy holders. The NSLI trust fund now approximates six billion dollars.

Yesterday's action on the GI interest rate came as the committee approved a bill authorizing an additional 150 million dollars for direct home loans to veterans in rural and small-town areas where financing is not readily available. This bill also would provide for advance commitments to builders for government financing.

President Eisenhower last month asked Congress to hike the GI interest rate to make the loans more attractive to lenders, and thus prime the dwindling flow of available financing.

Chairman Teague (D-Tex) of the Veterans Committee said the 5 per cent rate was turned down because it offered "no assurance it will provide mortgage money for the veterans."

"Veterans already are paying the equivalent of 5 per cent or more through discounts," he declared.

It is expected that amendments will be offered in the House to make 5 per cent FHA mortgages available to all veterans, but containing the lower down payment and longer maturity benefits now available under GI financing.

Grownups Turn to Kids for Diversion

Teenagers Can't Win in Adult World

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK (INS)—It long has seemed apparent that American teenagers—if lain end to end—would be in no more helpless or ridiculous state than they are standing vertically.

They can't win any way. As a class, nothing they do ever is considered quite normal.

Depending on the conditions of the times, teenagers are clumped together by full-fledged adults and considered funny, delinquent, shiftless, over-precocious, too wild or too tame.

During the last war, for example, kids from 13 to 17 suddenly became funnier'n all get out. Adults made them the national comedians of the era, and their antics were the chief relief from tension and worry.

Columns sprang up in every paper which were allegedly for teenagers, but actually were about them, and designed to make their elders feel good.

OUT OF VOGUE

After the war, they gradually went out of vogue, Who needed 'em? The men were coming home and the spotlight was on babies.

The columns dropped off one by one, the magazines established for teens lost circulation and died, and the kids began a dull period during which—in public interest—they ranked only slightly higher than old folks, and way behind infants, young marrieds and television.

But their reprieve from the spotlight—this lull during which they were able to go about their business comparatively undisturbed—was shortlived.

The postwar babies were getting to the awkward age by the early '50s and adults began casting their eyes around to see what was happening to their old scapegoat, the teenager.

And what did they find? Well, a few isolated kids in some of the bigger cities had been up to a bit of mischief while the old folks were ignoring them to pursue the more heady postwar pursuits.

There probably had been just as much teenage delinquent action during the war but that's when kids were overall funny, so no one paid so much attention to the naughty ones.

DEAD SERIOUS

Now, however, all was dead serious, The set who had been clumped into the comedian category a decade before were now just as indiscriminately, looked upon as acting or potential culprits.

As each year of the 1950s progressed, it got worst; juvenile delinquency was almost as popular as psychiatry and George Gobel, if you could believe anything you heard or read.

The poor kids were having a rough time of it, deciding whether to try to live up to their fabulous reputation or talk their detractors out of it.

Finally, in properly indignant disgust, they took up a new form of music called "rock 'n' roll" and the artists who went with it, and made it their battle hymn.

With some teenagers it was subconscious, with others conscious: They would defend this beat, let off steam with it, protect it to the death—to the death of the idea that today's teens are suspicious, vicious and in need of watching.

ON THE WANE

Today, thank heaven, the climactic stage appears to have passed and both delinquency discussion and rock 'n' roll are on the wane. It was a tough fight, ma, but the kids have won the right to another vacation.

It is recommended, however, that youths now approaching their 13th year begin to brush up on their gags and their defenses. Whether they like it or not, by about 1960 we adults will have gotten weary of worrying about lesser things, and will be turning back to teenagers for diversion.

WASHINGTON'S GREAT DECISIONS

2. To Accept Dangerous Responsibilities

When George Washington was 21 years old he was commissioned a major in the Virginia Colonial Militia and was asked to carry a message to a French army post warning the French to leave the Ohio Valley.

Washington accepted the dangerous responsibility even though the colonists were on the brink of war with France and the French post was 600 miles away through uncharted wilderness.

With only a frontiersman as a companion, Washington plunged into the wilderness in the dead of winter. They were almost killed by a treacherous Indian guide. Their raft capsized in the flooded Allegheny River.

But they accomplished their mission and Washington returned to Virginia to make a modest and straightforward report to Gov. Dinwiddie. For this, he was made a lieutenant colonel.

Later, he led a band of militia that defeated a French and Indian army at Great Meadows, Pa., but the French returned with a larger army and Washington's little force had to retreat.

By the time he was 23, Washington was a full colonel. The Virginia House of Burgesses had given him a vote of thanks and regarded him as a promising young military officer.

Japan to Punish Officers for Deaths

TOKYO (AP) — Japan's Defense Board today promised punishment for officers responsible for a forced training march in which two soldiers died of heart attacks.

The two soldiers of Japan's new army died during a recent competition in which three battalions of men marched 50 miles carrying 66-pound packs.

Members charged in the Diet (Parliament) that the harsh training of the prewar Imperial Army was being revived.

The Defense Board admitted that the march was "somewhat excessive."

Michigan was the first state to permit women to serve as jurors. The legislation was enacted in 1915, The legislatures of Maine and Utah followed the example shortly thereafter.

Sculptor Rates Film Beauties Behind Venus

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Sculptor Joseph Dubronyi declines to be pinned down to a comparison of the figures of shapely Anita Ekberg, Jayne Mansfield and Ava Gardner, whose curves he has built into statues.

"I don't think any of them has a perfect body — they're not like Venus," the Hungarian-born Cuban said in an interview.

His 37-inch, gold nude statue of Miss Ekberg figured in a night club fight Thursday with the Swedish beauty's husband Anthony Steel. Little damage resulted.

"Steel criticized the nude statue of Miss Ekberg that I had made," Dubronyi said. "He thought it was a bad piece of art work and asked me not to exhibit it."

Assembly Lines ON WHEELS!

NOWADAYS, manufacturing plants don't have to put up with the expense and inefficiency of keeping large inventories of materials and parts on hand.

Trucks and truck-trailers, by providing swift, direct, door-to-door transportation service, have made such costly procedure a thing of the past.

The modern assembly line extends, in effect, beyond the manufacturing plant itself to the commercial motor vehicles which continuously supply industry with 'round-the-clock shipments of materials and parts.

Yes, trucks and truck-trailers are indeed assembly lines on wheels, serving industry in a way that brings an ever-improving standard of living to all the people.

Men Still Probe Fire Debris

43 Bodies Taken From Rubble of Sunday Disaster

Police Search Cause; State to Tighten Control Over Nursing Homes

WARRENTON, Mo. (AP)—Searchers dug into debris again today for more bodies of the 71 aged and infirm who perished Sunday in a swift and still puzzling fire.

Before darkness halted them yesterday, search crews extracted 43 charred bodies from the rubble of the Katie Jane Memorial Home.

The National Fire Protection Assn. said it was the worst nursing home fire in the country's history, surpassing 33 deaths in a fire near Largo, Fla., March 29, 1953.

Capt. C. R. Oliver of the state highway patrol listed three possible causes: a mechanical difficulty — possibly defective wiring or a gas line break, a careless smoker, or arson.

Oliver expressed belief the double-pine flooring of the home, treated for years with oil and covered more recently with tarpaper and asphalt, fed the spreading flames.

Gov. James T. Blair, in a dramatic personal appeal before the Senate Public Health and Welfare Committee, asked the Legislature to act speedily on a bill to tighten Missouri's nursing home laws.

The committee approved a measure giving the State Health Division more power to inspect and regulate nursing homes.

Two inspectors of the State Department of Health and Welfare checked the Katie Jane home Thursday and recommended an electrician have a look at its wiring.

The home's state license was withheld pending compliance with the suggestions. Dr. James R. Amos, director of the State Health Department, said he thought it could have complied with license requirements otherwise.

FIDELITY — Even recent rampaging flood waters near Aberdeen, Miss., weren't enough to keep this faithful pooch from standing guard over the deserted home of his master. Although the owners have since returned, nothing could budge the dog's howling vigil on the banks of the temporary "lake." Only when its owner and family came back with their possessions did he get up and go home.

GM Asks Court to Dismiss Suit

Truck, Coach Division Met Same Charge in 1955 Civil Action

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors Corp. has asked for a dismissal of Federal anti-trust charges against its Truck and Coach Division, claiming the same charges had been brought before in civil suit and dismissed.

Walter D. Murphy, Department of Justice attorney, opposed the GM request before Federal Judge Arthur F. Lederle yesterday, when both sides offered opening arguments.

The Department of Justice charged in the suit, filed last summer, that General Motors was conspiring to monopolize the nation's motor bus industry.

Bruce Bromley, GM attorney, said the same charges were filed against GM in 1955. That civil action, Bromley said, was dismissed and "since then, there have been no new practices or methods used by GM in the conduct of its business."

He added, "There must be an end to litigation at some time."

Murphy countered that the basic matter of the two suits "is entirely different."

In the 1955 suit, he said, GM was only one of four defendants. He identified the others as Mack Trailer and Truck Manufacturing Co., Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. and Standard Oil Co.

Murphy said GM acquired other firms, entered into restrictive contracts with buyers and suppliers, charged discriminatory prices and refused to sell to any operator who competed with a firm that used GM buses.

Offer Waterford Property for Recreational Purposes

Waterford Township residents may soon have a new outdoor recreation area, right where its needed most, according to supervisor Lloyd Anderson.

The State Conservation Department has offered to deed a strip of land west of Crescent Lake Road, between Pontiac and Elizabeth Lake Rds., if the land will be developed for decreational purposes.

Tom Belton, recreation director has drawn up plans and specifications for a township park for area residents. The plans have been sent to Lansing, according to township clerk, Louis Barry.

The proposed recreation area is one-half mile log and only 225 feet wide. It was deeded to the state by the Dodge family, to be used as another park. However, due to the narrow width of the land, the state has not developed the site.

The area was used by the U. S. government as a C.C.C. camp, 20 years ago and many of the building foundations and sidewalks are still in existence on the property.

There is a heavy secondary growth that would have to be cleared, and some bull-dozing and filling operations would be necessary for public use.

WOULD KEEP TREES

Many large trees would be left as they are, to lend beauty to the picnic and children's play area, Belton said.

The outdoor recreation program would include junior soft ball fields, trails for hikers and horse back riders, children's play equipment area, shuffle board, horse shoe courts and possibly a community building.

According to the proposed agreement, the state would maintain the present public boat landing dock, and property, 600 feet back from the Crescent Lake water's edge.

Queen Begins Second Round in Portugal Visit

LISBON (INS) — Queen Elizabeth set about the second day of her triumphant state visit to Portugal today with a smile that belied the rigors of a schedule that will keep her before an adoring public nearly every hour till past midnight.

The youthful British sovereign's day began at ancient Queluz palace, where she received the diplomatic corps.

Then, in fast succession, she was to be taken to see Lisbon's new housing estate, Jeronimos Monastery and the Coach Museum.

Her handsome husband, the Duke of Edinburgh, was just as busy. After receiving well wishes from the diplomats, he was to visit the frigate Dom Fernando and the Portuguese Naval training ship, Sagres.

Elizabeth's and Philip's paths join again at the city hall, where Lisbon officials fete them for lunch.

Later, the Queen was to receive 1,500 of her Commonwealth subjects who are living in Portugal.

Asks Legalized 'Day'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Margaret Chase Smith (R-Maine), the only woman senator, asked Congress today to legalize Father's Day. She said failure to do so is "the most grievous insult imaginable" to the nation's fathers.

Congress legalized Mother's Day in 1917.

One 'Had Saber at Ribs'

Ohio Cadets Flee Military Institute

CINCINNATI (AP)—Eight cadets fled the Ohio Military Institute in civilian clothes yesterday, but school officials said six are expected back today.

Lt. Col. Donald D. Davis, school superintendent, said the father of one boy called from Cleveland last night saying his son and five other boys are in Loudenville, south of Cleveland, and will be returned today or Wednesday.

The cadets thumbed a ride away from the school with a woman driving a station wagon. She said they told her they were leaving because they feared other students.

The exodus followed an early morning fire last Saturday in a dormitory. Police said a 15-year-old cadet from Detroit admitted setting the $300 blaze, but later denied it.

Mrs. Thomas R. Gormley said the youths told her the boy who confessed to arson did not commit it. They said the Detroit cadet "had a saber at his ribs when he promised to confess."

Col. Davis, superintendent of the private school, said he knew of no reason for defection of the cadets, or of any bullying by students.

ONE FOR 10 CADETS

"There is close enough supervision that we would know if such a thing were happening," he said. "There is one instructor to each 10 cadets."

Mrs. Gormley said she picked up two groups of four boys each hitchhiking, and said they planned to go to their homes.

She said the boys told her about the fire confession and said, "it happened once; it can happen again."

She said she tried unsuccessfully to persuade the boys to return to school, or to telephone their parents from her home, but they refused.

Col. Davis said that one each of the boys is from Cincinnati, Dayton, Xenia, Troy and Detroit, and three were from Cleveland.

He said, "I can't tell what the difficulty is until we locate the boys. If they have a grievance, we'll try to get to the bottom of it. The immediate problem, of course, is locating them."

Wife Gets Divorce, Custody of Children

DETROIT (AP) — A divorce and $52,500 cash settlement were granted yesterday to Mrs. Edward P. Hammond Jr., who charged cruelty and accused her socially prominent husband of staying away from home.

Mrs. Hammond, the former Peggy Chalmers, also won the home in fashionable Grosse Pointe. Her husband is an engineer for the Gemmer Manufacturing Co., owned by his family.

She was granted custody of the four children, Edward III, 19; David, 17; Michael, 16, and Margaret, 8.

Hammond must pay $600 a month until David is 18, then $400 a month until Michael reaches 18, and finally $300 a month until Margaret is 18.

Coffee for Water Is Fair Exchange to Two Texans

HARLINGEN, Tex. (AP) — Finis Easterling and Gayle Van Tyne, automobile dealers, ordered up free coffee for everyone in downtown Harlingen between 8 and 11 a.m. yesterday to celebrate the two and more inches of rain which fell in the thirsty Rio Grande Valley over the weekend.

"We feel pretty good about that rain," Easterling said.

Easterling reported the first bills from restaurants indicated the cost would run about $200.

"I didn't realize people drank that much coffee," he said.

Branch Office Head Named for St. Clair

LANSING (AP) — Re-opening of a branch office in St. Clair Shores, former home of missing branch manager Mrs. Anne Thorpe, has been announced by Secretary of State James M. Hare.

Named to manage the office was Miss Concetta Pampinella. Hare said she will operate the office from her cleaning shop.

St. Clair Shores, a Detroit suburb, has been without a secretary of state branch since March 2 when Mrs. Thorpe disappeared with her husband and small daughter, allegedly taking with her $75,000 in state funds.

She has since eluded arrest although she reportedly was seen in Mexico City soon after her disappearance.

Hare also appointed Wadsworth W. Rogers Jr. to manage a reopened branch office at East Jordan.

Like most other prep basketball coaches, Art Van Ryzin isn't taking anything for granted for the upcoming tournament games.

The goal which Van Ryzin wanted most has been achieved—that of winning the Saginaw Valley Conference for the first time in 24 years.

Now the Pontiac High coach is aiming for goal number two. He would like to grab the three remaining games and have this season go down in the record books as his best since taking the helm in 1946.

The best campaign for Van Ryzin was the 1950-51 combination led by Guy Sparrow, Esmo Woods and Alan Barkeley which won 12 of 15 and finished 2nd in the SVC with a 9-3 mark.

Then comes the point of frustration, tournament play, the 3rd goal which Van Ryzin would love to crack.

"Every time we come up with a good team we flop in the tournaments, said Van Ryzin. This is shown by the fact that three of the four PHS quintets which have gone as far as the quarterfinals were teams below .500 for the regular season.

The 1953-54 team had a 5-10 record and lost to Highland Park in the quarters; the 1948-49 squad was 7-8 and it went into the quarterfinals before losing to Ferndale, 40-29; and the 1946-47 team had a 4-11 mark and it lost 43-25 to Flint Northern in the quarters.

The best team in 1950-51 was knocked out in the first game of the regional and last year's team again ran into the quarterfinal jinx.

So, one can see why Van Ryzin has his fears. He would like nothing more than to meet Highland Park again, but this could only be possible if both teams were to get to the semifinals.

Pontiac will play in the Flint Regional, the winner of which will meet the Birmingham regional winner. The Parkers will play in the Ferndale regional and meet the Livonia regional champ in the quarterfinals.

THIS COULD BE YEAR FOR COUNTY SCHOOL

This could be the year, at least we're hoping, for an Oakland County school to go to East Lansing. There are some pretty good Class "B" quintets, but the only trouble is they may eliminate themselves.

A dream clash would be between Rochester and Walled Lake, another with Clarkston and Troy.

The districts take place March 5th through the 9th; the regionals from the 12th to the 16th; the quarterfinals March 20th and the semifinal and finals March 22-23.

See you there?

Ted Kroll Heads List Including New '57 Champs

More Than 100 Play in Preliminary Round of Houston Tourney

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Stars of the winter golf tour competed in a preliminary $5,000 pro-amateur event today as non-exempt players sought to qualify for the $36,000 Houston Open on a rain-soaked Memorial Park course.

While the exempt stars were touring the new Houston golf club across town, the longest course on the winter tour was testing about 100 players seeking 50 positions in Thursday's opening round of the 72-hole tournament.

Most of the newcomers and youngsters were getting their first 1957 look at the 7,200-yard, par 72 Memorial course. Three days of rain closed the course to practice play yesterday and Sunday rounds were limited.

Scattered showers were forecast today.

All the new champions of 1957, seven of the eight former Houston champions, and several foreign titlists making their first U.S. appearance of the year were on hand to try for the $7,500 offering in top prize money.

Ted Kroll, defending champion, won only $6,000 a year ago but the sponsoring Houston Golf Assn. since then has boosted the prize money from $30,000 to $36,000.

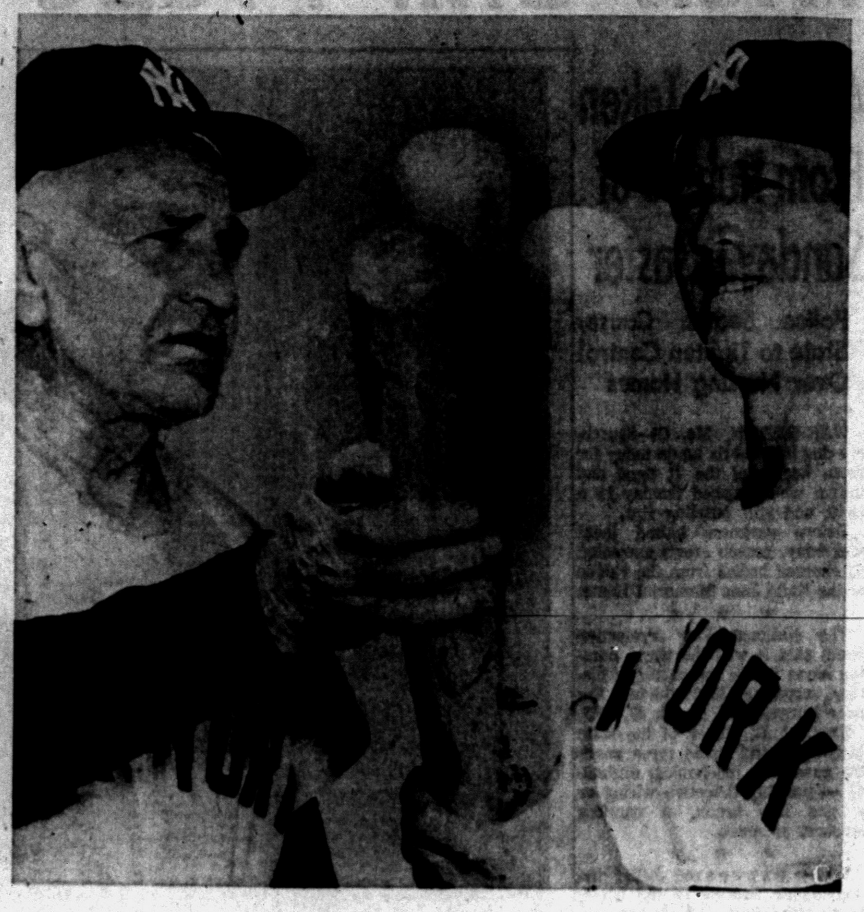

Kroll was among the 106 pros competing with 214 amateurs today in the $5,000 tournament preliminary of the 6,289-yard, par 71 Houston Golf club course. The amateurs were selected from among 650 sponsors who have guaranteed that the 72-hole tournament will be a financial success regardless of weather conditions. Each sponsor paid $100 for 20 tournament tickets. Gross receipts already approximate $75,000 compared to $56,000 budgetted for expenditures.

Peter Thomson, British Open champion, and Bruce Crampton, 21-year-old Australia Open titlist, were on the course yesterday but the rain confined them to practice tees. Canadians on hand included Stan Leonard and Gery Kesselring.

Dan Finsterwald, playoff winner of the Tucson Open two weeks ago, managed to get in 18 holes of practice Sunday, despite the rain, posting a two-under 70.

Both Finsterwld and Jay Hebert, who won his first PGA-sponsored tournament at San Antonio, said the rain will leave the course in excellent condition if it stops by tomorrow night.

EXTRA POWER — New York Yankee manager Casey Stengel feels bats held by highly-touted, hard-hitting rookie first baseman Marv Throneberry after his arrival at instructional camp of Yanks at St. Petersburg, Fla. Throneberry, on Yankee roster, batted .315 and hit 42 homers at Denver (American Association) in 1956. He's from Fisherville, Tenn.

Howe Hustles to Front

MONTREAL (AP) — A three-game scoring spree has hustled Detroit's veteran Gordie Howe past defending champion Jean Beliveau of Montreal into the individual point lead in the National Hockey League.

Four goals and three assists, a total of seven points, boosted Howe's season total to 71. Beliveau, picking up only one goal during last week's games, tumbled to third with 67 points as Ted Lindsay, the other half of Detroit's scoring punch, followed on Howe's shirttail to take second with 69.

Howe's 36 goals, also tops in the NHL, put him within range of the one-season record set by Montreal's Maurice Richard with 50 in 1944-5. He also could come close to his own record of 95 points set in 1952-53.

Lindsay, tied with Howe for second place a week ago, could wind up close to the one-season record for assists at his present rate. He leads the league with 44. The record is 56 by Montreal's Bert Olmstead last season. Lindsay also could pass the point record for left wingers, set at 82 by Herbie Cain of Boston in 1943-44.

Glenn Hall of Detroit still is the top-ranked goalie, with opponents averaging only 2.12 goals a game.

Jets Defeat Hawks in Biddy Playoffs

New scoring ace Buddy Stott garnered the clutch points as the Jets pulled out a 47-45 verdict over the Hawks in a semifinal of the Biddy Basketball championship playoffs yesterday at Boys' Club.

The victors will begin a three-game series for the loop title Wednesday against the Trojans.

Rick Fisher and Dick Henry were other steady scorers for the Jets while Bill Blower hooped 18 for the losers who put on a fine last half rally after trailing by eight.

Handful of Games on Quiet Prep Front

The Oakland County high school basketball front is relatively quiet tonight, with just a handful of games scattered throughout the area.

Milford's invasion of Waterford, the Walled Lake-Cranbrook duel at Cranbrook and West Bloomfield's visit to Bloomfield Hills are the leading attractions of a skimpy schedule.

Almont's Southern Thumb League showdown with New Haven on the latter's court is the No. 1 game in the county's outlying area.

Milford, burdened with a dismal 2-10 record, meets Waterford (5-7) for the 2nd time. The Skippers, who hit their peak against Walled Lake Friday, beat the Redskins previously and should do so again.

Walled Lake, scared almost to death by the Skippers before winning in overtime, takes on easier prey. The Vikings have won 12 decisions in 13 outings while Cranbrook's 2-11 mark is nearly the opposite.

The West Bloomfield-Bloomfield Hills tussle unites a pair of drab records. The Lakers have triumphed only once in 13 starts while the Hills are saddled with a somewhat better mark of four wins and nine losses.

Utica, boasting an overall 9-2 record, faces South Lake in a Bi-County League scrap at Utica. The Chieftains' 6-1 league mark trails pace-setting Warren by half a game.

Almont (9-1) and New Haven (9-1) collide headon, with the Southern Thumb title at stake. Other league clashes are Dryden at Brown City and Capac at Memphis.

Gallatin Rolls at Record Pace

Knicks' Iron Man to Play 654th Straight NBA Game Tonight

NEW YORK (AP)—The fortunes of the New York Knickerbockers rise and fall like the stock market. But 6-foot-6 Harry Gallatin, iron man of the National Basketball Assn., rolls along at a steady, record-breaking pace.

The tow-headed, muscular New York star will play his 654th consecutive NBA game tonight when the Knicks, battling to win an Eastern Division playoff slot, meet the Boston Celtics, runaway division leaders, in Madison Square Garden.

Iron Harry, 29, never has missed a game in nine years with New York. His consecutive game streak includes 56 games in eight playoff series.

Gallatin, a square-jawed, 212-pounder from Wood River, Ill., is leading Knicks' scorer, averaging 15 points a game.

Stilt 'Cold' but Kansas Wins 17th

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Kansas wasn't beaten, but something just as startling happened in college basketball last night, Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, fouling out for the first time in his career, scored only 11 points.

Kansas had no need for the big guy's usual scoring punch in breezing past Oklahoma 76-56, but the fifth personal foul against Wilt —with nine minutes to play — not only junked his chance to jump into the nation's scoring lead, but also dropped the 7 ft. sophomore from second to fifth in the race.

The Sooners, last in the Big Seven, had no particular defense for Chamberlain. Wilt beat himself while Kansas, again No. 2 behind unbeaten North Carolina in today's Associated Press poll, padded its record to 17-1.

Always overly cautious when charged with fouls, Chamberlain appeared upset after the first two and scored only four points in the first half. He sank only three of his 12 shots from the field for the night while winding up with a 29.00 average and the lowest point total of his young college career.

Grady Wallace of South Carolina still holds the scoring lead with a 30.57 average, while Chet Forte of Columbia now has moved up from third to second with 29.56.

North Carolina (20-0), idle last night, meets North Carolina State tonight with a chance to clinch first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference.

The victory gave Kansas a 7-1 record atop the Big Seven race, but Kansas State, a newcomer to the national rankings at No. 17, stayed a close runner-up with an 81-56 victory over Nebraska for a 6-2 mark. The two leaders meet at K-State March 6.

None of the other conference races changed much, although third-ranked Kentucky opened up some breathing space in pursuit of an unprecedented 17th Southeastern title by holding off Vanderbilt 80-78. Vandy, moving back into the AP top 10 at No. 10, trailed by 17 at the half. The loss dropped Vandy out of the runner-up spot, which was snared by Auburn in a 78-54 decision over Tulane.

Indiana retained its one-game edge in the Big Ten by blasting defending champ Iowa 90-76 with Archie Dees, the conference scoring leader, hitting for 37 points, his high for the season. Michigan State joined idle Ohio State in second place by whipping Illinois 89-83. Purdue dulled Michigan's hopes 66-63. Minnesota retained an outside chance by crushing Wisconsin 85-53.

Falcons Finish Unbeaten in 'Y' Basketball Loop

A big last quarter enabled the champion Falcons to break up a close contest and pull away to a 42-28 triumph over YMCA as the Men's Intramural "Y" loop ended play last night.

Falcons, who had one of their biggest scares of the season, finished unbeaten in 10 games sparked by Gordon Montross with 13 points.

In other games, Bruce Ross rung up 24 points as the Gators clinched a tie with Seminary for 2nd place by dumping that quintet, 50-30, in a mild upset, and GM Tech was awarded a 2-0 forfeit over Seaman's.

A special meeting of managers and players will be held Wednesday at 7:30 p.m. at the YMCA to determine drawings for the playoffs involving the 1st four teams in the standing. A single elimination tournament will be held in the near future following a game to decide 4th place between GM Tech and YMCA.

Pettit's NBA Bid Threatened

NEW YORK (AP)—With Bob Pettit's left arm in a cast, a National Basketball Assn. scoring record seems out of the question, and Philadelphia's Paul Arizin and Neil Johnston appear ready to cut off a bid for a second straight title by the St. Louis scoring whiz.

Pettit, the 6-9 former All-American who looked to be in a position to topple George Mikan's one-season record of 1,932 points, suffered a fracture against Boston last Friday, seriously reducing his scoring potential. He still leads with 1,627 points.

Wings Wallop IHL All-Stars

FORT WAYNE, Ind. (AP) — The Detroit Red Wings walloped the International Hockey League All-Stars last night, 11-3, with Dutch Reibel scoring three goals and Billie Dea and Gordie Howe adding two apiece.

Goals for the IHL picked team were scored by Fort Wayne players, Edgar Blondin, Bill Leblanc and Eddie Long.

Len Ramsey of Cincinnati was outstanding of three goalies used by the All-Stars. Although Detroit got the puck past him three times in the first period, he made 15 saves.

Tar Heels Retain Place

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Undefeated North Carolina held fast to its lead in the Associated Press weekly college basketball poll today. But once-beaten Kansas is making a closer race of it.

Impressed by the Tar Heels' 20-0 record, 55 of the 89 sports writers and sportscasters who participated in the poll put UNC on top. North Carolina drew 806 points on the usual basis of 10 for first place, 9 for second, etc. Kansas collected 17 "firsts" and 756 points.

The Tar Heels fattened their victory total last week against Virginia 68-59 and Wake Forest 72-69.

The Jayhawks who trailed North Carolina by 90 points in last week's poll, boosted their mark to 17-1 with a 76-56 triumph over Oklahoma last night.

The next four places remained the same.

Philgas Regains Lead in Waterford League

Philgas moved back into 1st place in the see-saw Waterford League basketball race with a 63-50 victory over Boyle-Stone Front of Milford last night at Isaac Crary Junior High.

TEST YOUR BASEBALL KNOW-HOW

YOU'RE THE MANAGER

By BEN OLAN

For the past eight seasons, Gus Zernial of the Kansas City A's has been one of the American League's leading sluggers. He has hit 198 homers and batted in 658 runs.

In 1956, however, Zernial played in only 109 games — several as a pinch-hitter — and had only 16 homers and 44 runs batted in.

Here's a situation in which Big Gus was the central figure. Manager Lou Boudreau used some excellent strategy. Put yourself in Boudreau's place and decide what you would have done.

(Key: (R) righthanded; (L) lefthanded.)

GUS ZERNIAL

Would you:
a. Order Zerlian to sacrifice?
b. Put in a pinch-hitter for Zernial and order him to sacrifice?
c. Let Zernial swing away?
d. Let Slaughter try a steal of third?

Result: A—Zernial bunts and catches the Yankee infield napping. He reaches first base safely while Slaughter gets to third. Runs score on Simpson's sacrifice fly. Kansas City wins 8-7 (May 3).

State Legislator Requests UM to Drop Georgia Game

LANSING (AP)—Georgia-born Rep. George H. Edwards (D-Detroit) said today he would ask the legislature, if necessary, to call upon the University of Michigan to cancel its scheduled football game with the University of Georgia next fall.

Edwards, with Sen. John B. Swainson (D-Detroit) and Rep. Basil W. Brown (D-Detroit), requested Michigan's board in control of intercollegiate athletics last Friday to cancel the Oct. 2 contest at Ann Arbor because of Georgia's racial discrimination policy.

The board, headed by athletic director H. O. (Fritz) Cisler, voted later in the day to retain the Georgia club on the Wolverine calendar.

Edwards, a native of Brunswick, Ga., and a graduate of Morehouse College in Atlanta, said he would appeal to the U. of M. board of Regents to cancel the Georgia game. If that failed, he said, he would offer a resoultion asking the legislature to back his plea.

The three legislators protested against a Georgia ruling prohibiting Bulldog sports teams from competing on home grounds against teams having Negro members. The ruling does not apply when teams travel to other states.

"WILD BILL" — One of the nation's leading scorers, "Wild Bill" Ebben, kept up his scorching pace by pouring through 41 points last night as the University of Detroit whipped Tulsa, 87-69, in a Missouri Valley game. Ebben hit 18 field goals in his total, breaking the school record previously held by Guy Sparrow, former Pontiac High cager.

MSU Rolls; 'M' Beaten; Ebben Hits 41

FROM OUR WIRE SERVICES

Another heavy night of action on the state college basketball front saw Michigan State's surging Spartans roll to their 7th straight Big Ten victory by an 86-83 margin over Illinois, while Michigan was falling to Purdue, 66-63, also in conference action last night.

For individual honors, Detroit's 6-foot-4 forward sensation, Bill Ebben poured through 41 points as the Titans swept past Missouri Valley foe Tulsa, 87-69.

The defeat for Illinois was the first home court loss in 21 games, and it enabled the Spartans to move into a 2nd place tie with Ohio State in the Big Ten with a 7-3 record.

Indiana, which defeated Iowa 90-76 last night stayed one game ahead with an 8-2 mark.

With Jack Quiggle hitting for 26 points, MSU led 46-44 at the half. The Illini fell behind 54-46 and narrowed the margin to two points three times in the second half, but could never take the lead.

Don Ohl led the Illinois attack with 28 points, with Hiles Stout picking up 26. Five MSU players hit in double figures.

Michigan fell from a 4th place tie to 6th place in the Big Ten by its defeat to the Boilermakers who avenged an earlier season loss in Ann Arbor.

Purdue led 36-34 at the half, and it was a basket-matching second half when the lead changed hands five times, but two quick fielders in the last 45 seconds made it 64-61 for the home team.

M. C. Burton made it 64-63 on two free throws, but hit in the last second to clinch it.

Ron Kramer had 18 and guard Jim Shearon hit 17 for the Wolverines, while Charley Kehrt and Lamar Lundy had 19 and 17 for Purdue.

Purdue hit 35 per cent of its shots, but made only 8 of 18 free throw attempts. Michigan hit 38.9 per cent of its shots and converted 17 of 26 free throws.

In Detroit, the Titans swept the series against the Iba brothers, having beaten Oklahoma A & M on Saturday, as "Wild Bill" Ebben ripped the cords for 18 field goals, a new school record, and five free throws.

The old record at U. of D. was 16 field goals held by Guy Sparrow, former Pontiac High cager.

Ebben, one of the top scorers in the country, now needs only 10 points with four games remaining to crack the school record of 600 in one season also held by Sparrow.

He will get his chance Thursday at Notre Dame and next Monday in Detroit against Wichita.

Tulsa took an early lead in the game, but Detroit led at halftime 34-31. In the second half Ebben's shooting eye got red hot as he hit five straight field goals. He added 29 to his 12 of the first half.

The ironical part of the thing was that his total came against Jerry Harrington, considered the best defensive player in the conference, who tried in vain to stop the deadly jump shot.

Wilt Held to 11, Drops to Fifth

Wilt Chamberlain scored 11 points before fouling out against Oklahoma Monday night skidded from second to fifth in major college basketball's individual scoring race. Mississippi's Joe Gibbon, with 34 against Florida, replaced the 7-foot Wilt among the top three scorers.

The Kansas's giant's average slumped to 29 as Kansas defeated Oklahoma 75-56. He dropped behind leader Grady Wallace of South Carolina who has a 30.57 points per game average and Chet Forte of Columbia, second with 29.56. Both were idle Monday.

Gibbon scored 34 as Mississippi lost to Florida 92-81 and took third with a 29.38 average pace. Also ahead of the Kansas sophomore is Seattle's Elgin Baylor, who hit 40 points in a 99-87 victory over Gonzaga. Baylor's average is 29.13.

As a preview of things to come, members of The Pontiac Press and radio station WPON will band together against a team of Pontiac business and professional men in a preliminary attraction.

Tickets for the show may be purchased from any Lions Club member or at the Calbi Music Co., 119 N. Saginaw St. The program gets under way at 7:30 p.m.

Tuttle plans early drills in effort to improve on last year's performance when he batted .265. Boone had a .308 average in 1956 with 25 homers and 81 runs batted in. Both will work out with Tiger rookies and farmhands at camp opening in a few days.

Fullmer Gains Easy Triumph

Champ Downs Durando in Non-Title Fight at Denver

DENVER (INS) — Middleweight champion Gene Fullmer won his second non-title bout in two weeks last night by pounding out a unanimous 10-round decision over Ernie Durando in Denver.

The West Jordan, Utah, battler won every round on scorecards of both judges and the referee.

Fullmer, who has another bout nine days from today against Charley Cotton, disappointed a record Denver fight crowd by failing to knock out the game Durando.

Fullmer was bleeding from a cut over his eye and from the nose practically throughout the fight. The only mark on Durando was a small cut over the left eye and bruises about the body from Fullmers flailing fists.

Denver promoter Joe Dupler announced he has decided to make next Wednesday's nationally-televised bout from Denver a doubleheader. Besides the Fullmer-Cotton fight, Dupler has signed heavyweights Ernie Weiss and Charles Norkus to a 10-round bout.

Celtic Prexy Claims Pros Can't Afford Wilt

BOSTON (AP) — Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, fabulous Kansas University sophomore, already is the center of a controversy about his professional basketball future.

Walter Brown, president of the Boston Celtics, said yesterday that no National Basketball Assn. team could pay Chamberlain "what he gets to go to college" and said "he shouldn't be allowed to play in the NBA."

"He has proselytized himself to stay in college and no NBA team could possibly pay him what he gets to go to college," Brown added. "The colleges don't have the guts to disqualify him.

"It's a travesty on college ball and the sanctimonious NCAA should be shamefaced for permitting the boy to play at Kansas.

"I have no definite proof what might be the figure, but it is a matter of fact no one in the NBA can afford to pay Chamberlain what he gets at Kansas."

Chamberlain, the 7-foot center who is fifth among the nation's leading scorers with a 29 point average, was awarded to the Philadelphia Warriors by a 7-1 vote of the NBA board of directors upon his graduation from Overbrook High School in Philadelphia. The dissenting vote did not belong to Boston but to New York.

As for NBA salary, Boston's Bob Cousy is the highest paid at an estimated $22,000 per year.

"The NBA should take steps immediately to bar him (Chamberlain) from playing," was Brown's conclusion.

From Philadelphia, Warrior owner Eddie Gotlieb replied:

"It's not even worth commenting on. We're pros, we're not concerned with how Chamberlain got into college."

Meanwhile, halfway across the country in Lawrence, Kan., Chamberlain was having more immediate troubles. Last night he scored a mere 11 points on a poor shooting performance as Kansas walloped Oklahoma 76-56. The contest marked his lowest collegiate point total and the first time he had fouled out at Kansas.

Sullivan Has 2,172 Points

Cager Sets 4-Year Mark

EMMITTSBURG, Md. (AP) — For a guy who has trouble outscoring his sister on the basketball court, Jack Sullivan is doing a mighty fine job making points against college men.

The 6-foot, 4-inch Mt. St. Mary's senior poured in 44 points in a 96-81 victory over St. Francis, Pa. last night to increase his 4-year total to 2,172, a record in Maryland and the Mason Dixon Conference. The old mark of 2,154 was held by Jim Lacy of Baltimore Loyola, a 1949 graduate.

Sullivan has five regular season games and three conference playoff contests left. In addition, the Mounts appeared likely to represent the conference in the NCAA small conference tournament next month.

Sullivan's coach for the past three years has been Jim Phelan, the former LaSalle star who played for the professional Philadelphia Warriors in 1953.

Sully has had little trouble scoring since high school days at St. Anthony's in Washington, D. C. His own family provides the toughest competition.

Brother Joe, 20, also plays for Mt. St. Mary's, Sister Ellen, 16, is on the Ursuline Academy team in Washington, Sister Rosemary, 18, stars for Georgetown Visitation High School in Washington.

Prep Swimmers Nearing End of Formal Slates

Saginaw Valley Conference natators and Eastern Michigan league swimmers this week engage in their next-to-last and final formal competition for the 1956-57 season. The Valley has two more rounds of duals (including those of Friday), while the EML nears the end of its regular schedule and holds prelims leading to next week's championships at Birmingham.

Bob Boyce's Chief tankers, improving all the time, oppose Flint Northern here, Friday night. After this one, comes Saginaw High on March 1, to end the loop year. Conference championship takes place at Arthur Hill.

Other SVC-involved meets this week include Bay City Handy at Flint Central (Wednesday), Bay City Central at Arthur Hill (night) and Saginaw High at Flint Central (Wednesday), Bay City Central at Arthur Hill (night) and Saginaw High at Flint Central (afternoon), on Friday.

Ferndale of the Eastern Michigan circuit is at Dearborn today in its regular season finale.

EML prelims are set for the Ferndale pool, Thursday night.

Jay Myers' Birmingham Maples are unbeaten in the EML and last Friday won the loop title for dual meets. They have won five in a row.

Arthur Hill's talent-loaded club is just about unbeatable in SVC, and undoubtedly will again swim off with the crown.

Big Ten Will Try New Code

CHICAGO (INS) — Indiana's decision to vote for the Big Ten's proposed new rules governing recruiting and financial aid to athletes has assured adoption of the code at the conference faculty representatives meeting in Chicago Friday.

The Hoosiers' faculty-alumni athletics committee, which had voiced opposition to the plan last December, decided at a meeting in Bloomington, Ind., yesterday to favor passage of the measure.

Michigan State, Michigan, Wisconsin, Illinois and Purdue previously had declared their support of the plan which would permit a Big Ten school to give an athlete financial aid, based on actual need, for educational expenses.

Nine Americans Advance

LONDON (AP) — Nine Americans advanced to the second round of the British women's amateur squash rackets championship today at the Lansdowne Club.

Five of the 14-woman squad were eliminated in opening-round matches yesterday.

No Financial Woes for Ed, Says His Son

CHESHIRE, Conn. (AP) — Former Chicago White Sox pitcher big Ed Walsh, seriously ill with arthritis at 74, says he can't afford the postage to answer autograph requests, but his son says his father is not in financial distress.

Walsh, a former Pennsylvania coal miner whose fast ball swept him to baseball glory 50 years ago, reluctantly confessed his plight to newsmen who visited him last week.

But young Walsh said his father certainly didn't mean to imply he needed help.

High shooters last week were Bill Giles in the men's division with 235 points and Joan Lawson in the women's class with 17.

Disney Always Hurrying --- Slowly

By CHARLES DENTON

HOLLYWOOD (INS)—Walt Disney might be called a relaxed dynamo.

He works 14 or more hours a day, seems to be everywhere at once in his factory of filmed fantasy and rarely takes a vacation.

During an ordinary working day, he moves quickly from conference to sound stage, effortlessly readjusting his mind to handle each of an apparently endless series of problems as they arise.

He sails along without an entourage of secretaries and sidemen, without giving the impression that he is running and without forgetting to stop for brief chats with his employes.

When he leaves the studio at night, he takes mountains of film, scripts and important papers with him for perusal at his attractive but unpretentious homes.

In addition to the traditional Hollywood executive's swimming pool, his home is equipped with a complete projection room in which he and his wife, Lillian, spend many of their evenings watching movies while Walt edits thousands of feet of film.

His chief bogey-man, he says, is money. But he says it with a twinkle in his eyes and a grin that express better than words his almost disrespectful attitude toward the currency of the realm.

Money—or, rather, the lack of it to carry out his ideas—may worry him, but it does not excite him. Ideas excite him.

MIXED EMOTIONS

"You go through stages with an idea," he says dreamily. "First you're uncertain. Then you get excited, and then worried. When you start making commitments, you get panicky.

"Here you'll have people hired and ready to start a thing, and you won't know whether you'll be ready to start it on time. It's very exciting."

The phenomenal growth of Disney's celluloid kingdom since World War II has brought some changes in his way of life, it is true. But Disney is a man long accustomed to combining hard work and devotion to duty with his personal life.

In most ways, Disney has changed little under the strain of a demanding business. His graying hair still is casually combed, and he still has a liking for nonchalant, colorful clothing.

He talks easily and laughs just as easily, especially at recollections out of his past and at his narrow brushes with financial disaster. And he still is fascinated by gimmicks and gadgets to make movie manufacturing better or easier.

Alaska Wants Us to Know More About 'Great Land'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Did you know that Alaska is not only twice the size of Texas but also has an ice cube larger than Rhode Island?

The hunk of ice is the Malaspina Glacier near Cordova.

Alaskans are making a mighty pitch this year to get their territory admitted as the 49th member of the United States.

Here are a few things they think you should know about what they feel is "The land America has forgotten".

That Alaska, whose population increased from 72,524 in 1940 to more than 209,000 today, is growing faster than any state in the Union—percentagewise.

OUTNUMBERS NATIVES

That white settlers from the 48 states outnumber the Eskimos and other native tribes by eight to one.

That Alaska, purchased from Russia for $7,200,00 in 1867, has produced since then more than $600,000,000 in gold alone.

That although dubbed by early critics by such names as "Seward's Folly," "Icebergia," "Polaria," and "Walrussia," the Eskimo meaning of Alaska is "The Great Land."

That Alaska's land area is 90 times that of Hawaii and one fifth that of the continental United States.

That air-minded Alaska has a private plane for every 165 persons, a higher ratio than in any state.

That military expenditures in this northern barrier against Russia have exceeded a billion dollars since 1940.

HIGHEST TAX RATE

That Alaskan citizens claim they pay the highest per capita federal tax under the American flag, but can't vote in U. S. presidential elections—nor do they have voting representation in Congress.

That the climate of Ketchikan in southern Alaska is much like that of Seattle.... Temperatures in Anchorage go over 85 degrees in summer and are not much colder in winter than parts of the Rcoky Mountain States.

That the rich earth and 24-hour summer sunlight in Matanuska Valley, near Anchorage, grow 60-pound cabbages and strawberries as big as your fist.

That the blubber of a large whale may be as much as 14 inches thick.... Eskimo children call this blubber "muktuk" and go for it like U.S. kids go for candy.

LARGEST ANIMALS

That the world's largest carnivorous animals, the Kodiak brown bear and giant polar bear, are found there. They weigh up to a ton, measure 12 feet from snout to stubble-tail.

That jaywalking moose evading wolves and deep snow are a problem on the Alaska railroad. Although electric shockers have been installed on the engines, 35 moose were run down on one trip from Fairbanks to Seward. The moose who die pedestrian deaths are contributed to hospitals.

That a heavy sleeper who really wants to get away from liquor can't do better than to move to Kotzebue, an Eskimo village on the Bering Sea, where the nights are six months long. There are four churches and the nearest bar is 100 miles away.

That the 1867 treaty with Russia provided Alaska's inhabitants would be "admitted to the enjoyment of all the rights, advantages and immunities of citizens of the United States." But 90 years later Alaskans are still fighting to obtain many of those promised rights.

BOMBARDING IKE

That hundreds of Alaskan school children are bombarding President Eisenhower and Congress with postcard pictures of the territorial flower—the forget-me-not—to remind them that Alaska, "The Great Land," doesn't want them to forget that both major political parties last year adopted platform planks favoring giving Alaska its long-sought equality as a state in the Union.

Postpone Rash Trial on Charge of Murder

Rescheduling of Circuit Court cases has resulted in the postponement, Chief Assistant Prosecutor Goeorge F. Taylor said today, of the first-degree murder trial of L. J. Rash, 52, of 313 Woodward Ave., Rochester.

Accused of the shotgun slaying of his wife, Rash has been tentatively scheduled for jury trial Feb. 26, Taylor said. Mrs. Nina Rush, 48, was shot as she returned home early Nov. 26.

Nationalists' Pay Low

TAIPEI (AP) — A legislator told Parliament today the pay of officers in Nationalist China's armed forces is so low that some of their wives had to work as housemaids. A captain receives a base pay equivalent to about $9 a month plus free food and lodging.

Lana Turner Parts From Lex Baxter

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Lana Turner and her husband Lex Barker have separated after 3½ years of marriage.

Miss Turner said Barker moved into a hotel last night at her request. She added that she plans to consult an attorney, but she did not say when.

Barker, the screen's 10th Tarzan was married to the blonde actress in Turin, Italy, in September 1953.

Miss Turner, 37, was formerly wed to Artie Shaw, twice to stock broker Stephen Crane and to sportsman Henry J. (Bob) Topping. Barker, 38, was previously married to actresses Constance Thurlowe and Arlene Dahl.

Wants Daughter Found so Files Theft Charge

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—A San Anselmo mother says she filed a grand theft charge against her 14-year-old daughter only because she hopes police will find the girl sooner.

Mrs. Vernie Lyons, of 33 Hillcrest ct., San Anselmo, filed the charge with the Marin County district attorney. She said the girl, Janet, disappeared Feb. 6 and that $250 was missing.

Janet vanished with two other teenagers.

Japanese May Pass Winter on Icecap

TOKYO (AP)—The 2,400-ton Japanese icebreaker Soya Maru is trapped in antarctic ice and may have to spend the winter off the South Polar continent. The ship has 119 crewmen and scientists aboard — and a year's provisions.

The Soya Maru landed 11 scientists to spend the winter on Ongul Island, off Antarctica's Prince Harald Coast, as part of the International Geophysical Year program.

Capt. Manji Matsumoto radioed Tokyo that if currently freezing weather in the area did not ease, his ship would not be able to break free of the hardening South Polar icecap.

Cyclone Hits Australia

SYDNEY, Australia (AP)—Cyclone Clara battered the east coast of Australia today, closing all ports on the coast of New South Wales except Sydney Harbor. Dozens of small pleasure boats were wrecked but only minor injuries to persons were reported.

Academy Award Hopefuls Led by Bergman, Dean

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Ingrid Bergman, Hollywood's most famous exile, and James Dean, only person ever nominated twice in death, were rated today as the actress and actor to beat in the movie's annual race for Oscars.

And the movie "Giant" took a favored spot in the best film category as the smoke cleared from last night's announcement of the 29th annual Academy Award nominations.

Miss Bergman, absent eight years from the town where she gained her greatest fame, will have stiff competition in the top actress division from the following:

Carroll Baker of the controversial "Baby Doll"; Katherine Hepburn for "The Rainmaker"; Nancy Kelly for "The Bad Seed"; and Deborah Kerr for "The King and I"

Miss Bergman was nominated for her sensitive portrayal of the Russian princess in "Anastasia."

Dean, nominated last year for the brooding adolescent of "East of Eden," got it this year for his first role as an adult—that of the millionaire oil wildcatter in "Giant."

He likewise will have exceptionally stiff opposition in Yul Brynner ("King and I"); Kirk Douglas ("Lust for Life"); Rock Hudson ("Giant") and Sir Laurence Olivier ("Richard III").

Dean's role in "Giant" was completed only days before his tragic death in an auto crash.

Others in the best movie category—where an Oscar win means millions more at the box office—were "Around the World in 80 Days"; "Friendly Persuasion"; "The King and I"; and Cecil B. De Mille's "The Ten Commandments."

The nominations contained few surprises, save perhaps for the Moses of "The Ten commandments."

The nomination of Nancy Kelly was seen as a moral victory of sorts for the noted Broadway actress. She had not made a movie in 10 years until "The Bad Seed." Once a contract player here, her talents had been wasted in a long succession of B movies.

Nominated for best supporting actor were Don Murray ("Bus Stop"); Anthony Quinn ("Lust for Life"); Anthony Perkins ("Friendly Persuasion"); Mickey Rooney ("The Bold and the Brave"); and Robert Stack ("Written on the wind").

Best supporting actress nominees were Mildred Dunnock ("Baby Doll"); Eileen Heckart ("The Bad Seed"); Mercedes McCambridge ("Giant"); Dorothy Malone ("Written on the Wind") and child actress Patty McCormack ("The Bad Seed").

The best directors nominated were Michael Anderson ("Around the World in 80 Days"); William Wyler ("Friendly Persuasion"); George Stevens ("Giant"); Walter Lang ("The King and I"); and King Vidor ("War and Peace").

The winners will be announced March 27 in a nationwide telecast.

Commerce OES Set

Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Judge Releases Man; 16 Months Jail for Alimony

NEW YORK (AP)—A judge says it's "cruel and inhuman" to keep a man in jail for 16 months for failure to make back alimony payments to his ex-wife.

This brought freedom yesterday to 52-year-old William Singer, who was jailed Oct. 25, 1955, on the complaint of his former wife Anna. She obtained a contempt of court citation against him for $1,400 in alimony arrears.

In ordering Singer freed, State Supreme Court Justice Owen McGivern said it was pointless to keep a man in jail so long in such a case. "Prolonged imprisonment for other than criminal acts has long been abhorrent to our society," the judge declared.

The judge told Singer he must start paying the original court-ordered payments of $12 weekly to his ex-wife. A nominal $4 payment, the judge ruled, will take care of the arrears because Singer already has paid the price in jail time.

CONSTIPATED?
New laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks
without gag, bloat or gripe
Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.
To regain normal regularity, the dry, shrunken, constipating contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be remoistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it to action; to a normal urge to purge.
And, of all laxatives, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity, plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk. So effective it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has proved safe even for women in critical stages of pregnancy.

Betsy Drake Finally Tells About Doria Experience

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Today for the first time, actress Betsy Drake disclosed her experiences in escaping from the Andrea Doria in last year's ship disaster.

The wife of Cary Grant, Miss Drake has shunned the spotlight in recent years. Although one of the famous survivors of the Andrea Doria, she was not interviewed after the sinking.

"I was too busy taking care of a friend who had been injured," she explained. The friend was Mrs. Camille Cianfarra, wife of the New York Times man who lost his life in the collision with the Stockholm. Their daughter was transferred to the Stockholm in the crash, Miraculously alive.

Miss Drake detailed her experiences as she visited the set of her husband's picture, "An Affair to Remember." She was returning alone from Grant's film location in Spain. On the night before the New York arrival, she was laying out her clothes for the next day. The Grants often tour on freighters and make it a practice to have their clothes in readiness at night.

"Suddenly I felt the impact of the collision, which was on the other side of the ship," she related. "I was in my nightgown, and I decided I had better get dressed.

"It was an eerie feeling to have the ship strike something and then stop. Then the ship lurched to the side with a great noise. People were screaming and there I was standing there with nothing on.

"I might just as easily have run out that way. But I managed to get dressed. How, I don't know. I just did."

She went into the passageway and stopped a crewman who helped her don a lifejacket.

Miss Drake said she was told the tourist passengers would be taken off first. "For two hours, I clung to the post on the high side of the ship."

She was told to report to the low side of the ship for evacuation. She climbed down a ladder into a lifeboat which took her to the Ile de France. "I ended up on the Ile de France barefoot and with only a dress," she said. But very grateful.

Area Woman Gets 4-H Honor as State 'Leader'

Mrs. John Lessiter, 501 Baldwin Rd., Lake Orion, is Michigan's "4-H Leader of the Month." The mother of two was picked by the 4-H Club Dept. of Michigan State University for her work with the East Orion Club, largest in Oakland County.

Mrs. Lessiter's interest in 4-H work began five years ago as a result of her husband's leadership of dairy and electrical groups and her children's participation in the organization.

In 1954, she took over the parliamentary procedure group in the East Orion Club and guided it to the Oakland County championship that year and a second place in district competition. The second year her group took the district title and this year they are state champions.

She was recently elected secretary of the advisory council to the Michigan State University Extension Service.

As Leader of the Month, Mrs. Lessiter was honored at a dinner in Lansing.

Spreads Puzzle Queen While Entering Lisbon

LISBON, Portugal (AP)—Britain's Queen Elizabeth was reported vastly puzzled, on her entry into Lisbon, by thousands of bedspreads hung from windows along every residential street through which she rode.

"Does everyone wash their counterpanes on Monday," she asked.

"The hanging out of bedspreads is a sign of high respect in our country," a Portuguese official told her.

Wheat Declines; Rye Also Down

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat had an easier undertone in routine dealings on the Board of Trade today. Losses ran to about a cent at one time.

Other grains opened firm. Best gains never exceeded a cent. In subsequent dealings most of this advance was given up. Rye dropped under the previous close.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was ⅝ to ¾ lower, March $2.30¾, corn ¼ lower to ⅛ higher, March $1.29⅜, oats unchanged to ¼ lower, March 75½, rye unchanged to ½ lower, March $1.32 soybeans unchanged to ¾ higher, March $2.39¼, and lard unchanged to 3 cents a hundred pounds higher March $14.87.

Two influences were behind the early decline in wheat. One was the fact the dock strike still was not completely settled, which was something of a surprise. Another was additional moisture overnight in Texas and Oklahoma.

Steel Office Hopeful May Go to Court

DETROIT (INS) — Don C. Rarick, candidate for the presidency of the United Steel Workers of America, was in Detroit today, threatening to protest to the courts the results of the recent election in local 1299, representing employes at Great Lakes Steel Corp.

Thomas W. Shane, regional USW director, promptly accepted Rarik's threat and said:

"I challenge him to go to court. He's an oaf with no qualifications at all for president."

Although the results of the nationwide election will not be known officially until May 1, Rarick reportedly is far behind USW President David J. McDonald.

Key Issues Lose in Early Trade

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market was lower in quiet early trading today.

Key issues took losses of from fractions to a point. There was a scattering of small gainers.

The market was only moderately active at the start and the lower trend was apparent amid the irregular price pattern. More losses appeared in later dealings to tip the scales to the downside.

Brokers saw the action as a continuation of yesterday's minor moves on light volume in a kind of readjustment from the extremely sharp falls and rises of last week. The latest copper price cut and individual coroprate news was more depressing than otherwise.

Republican Aviation skidded 3 points at 25¼ on a block of 3,200 shares following its announcement that 4,000 workers are being dropped.

The first issue traded today was Montecatini Mining & Chemical Co., Italy's largest company in that field, which made its exchange debut with the admission to trading of 20 million American shares. It opened at 22 on 1,200 shares.

Steels, motors, chemicals as well as most leding rails, aircrafts, oils and miscellaneous manufacturing stocks were down.

Julie's Career Zooms Upward

Tennessee Ernie Due to Appear With Allen in Late March

BY JACK O'BRIAN

NEW YORK (INS) — CBS' next important spectacular after Rodgers and Hammerstein's "Cinderella" will be "Alladin," probably to be written by S. J. Perelman, who dashed off "Around the World in 80 Days."

Julie London's career is booming: After a Playhouse 90 she'll star in a Zane Grey Episode, then start in March to film her own TV series — plus several movie roles awaiting her talented whim.

Tennessee Ernie will be one of Steve Allen's guests during two West Coast originations late in March . . .

The Trendex Top 25 for February are: Sullivan, Lucy, Wyatt Earp, Lineup, Como, GE Theater, December Bride, Red Skelton, Disneyland, $64,000 Question, People Are Funny, Person to Person, Lassie, I've Got a Secret, Hitchcock, Playhouse 90, Groucho, $64,000 Challenge Playhouse of Stars, Hit Parade, What's My Line, Lawrence Welk (Saturday), The Millionaire, Climax and Dragnet . . .

Big startler: The slip of the $64,000 shows, Groucho, What's My Line, Dragnet — and, of course, Gleason . . .

SOUGHT FOR MOVIE

Tommy Sands made such a hit with his Presley impression in "The Singing Idol" on Kraft Theater, 20th Century-Fox has started negotiations to star him in a movie version of same this summer . . .

Only two of the original TV cast of "12 Angry Men" wind up in the Henry Fonda movie version: Joseph Sweeney and George Voskovec . . .

"America After Dark" certainly suggests it's not easy for the rich and celebrated to hang out in some of those hysterical celebrity traps.

Johnnie Ray is hot as a tamale on Cuban commercial TV. Booked him back again this week . . .

Carlton Morse, creator of "One Man's Family," is ailing.

NEWSCASTER NEWS

ABC newscaster Martin Argonsky and NBC agreed to a seven-year contract. Starts at NBC in March or April . . . John Cameron Swayze probably will become ABC-TV's late-evening newscaster. He's a good one . . .

Chemical Age magazine printed E. R. Murrow's 1955 salary: $6,000 a week.

Something's wrong with our ears: We understood every word of Elvis Presley's new record, "Love Me." . . .

If "The $64,000 Challenge" is looking for a silent-movie authority to match memories with Jackie Coogan, we're told John Springer of 20th Century-Fox's New York office is the expert of all time . . .

Growth is expensive. Californa's state government expenditures increased from 300 million to $1,800,000,000 since 1941.

Glenn Ford Suggests Snack of Live Shrimp

BY EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I was having lunch with Glenn Ford and, as usual at that hour, I wasn't hungry and dawdled over the menu.

"Say something about exotic foods that'll stir up my appetite," I suggested to Ford, who's been to Japan to make "Teahouse of the August Moon," and goes to the South Seas soon to make another picture.

"Well," Ford ventured, with a half-grin, "the Japanese eat live shrimp. They're baby shrimps, really, and you stir them up in a glass, get about 10 or 12 on a spoon . . . they're quite delicious."

"But they're live?" I asked, just to make sure.

"Oh yes, they're nice and wriggly," he nodded. "And after that you eat the basket they came in."

"Is that live, too?" I inquired.

"No, that's made of some kind of grass, and it's fried . . . French-fried grass. You put salt on it, and with beer, it's good. Fried grasshoppers in Japan are also very good with beer."

"Anything's good with beer or with catsup," I maintained. "But this business of eating things 'live'!"

Then I decided I must order something to eat and I wanted to be sure that whatever it was, it was not live. Scrambled eggs and sausage seemed a proper choice, but when the dish arrived I only had a few tastes. I'm sure our little discussion of exotic foods had nothing to do with it, but my appetite had decreased instead of increasing.

New TV Drama to Start in Fall

Robert Montgomery to Give Way to Mystery Program by Hitchcock

NEW YORK, (AP)— The long-established network television program, "Robert Montgomery Presents," will be replaced next fall on the Monday night schedule with a 90-minute mystery drama series, the National Broadcasting Co. said today.

A decision is expected later today, a network spokesman said, on whether the one-hour Montgomery show will be given a new time or dropped.

For the new program film director Alfred Hitchcock has been signed to produce 10 shows and to set up a company that will produce 10 others—all on film. Another group of 20 mystery shows are to be staged live by independent producers.

Hitchcock currently supervises a half-hour mystery melodrama series on the CBS network Sunday night schedule. The NBC arrangement will not affect the present program. Hitchcock will not appear on the NBC program in person.

The Montgomery show on Feb. 4 began its eighth year in the 9:30 to 10:30 p.m. EST time slot.

There had been recent trade reports that Montgomery, a technical adviser on telecasts by President Eisenhower, might enter full-time government work, but a business associate of the producer, said today he knew of no plan to accept such an appointment.

Montgomery leaves shortly for a vacation in Switzerland.

Security For You

Too Many Confuse SS With Charity

Social Security payments aren't charity.

They're payments owed to you because of Social Security credit earned by you or a close relative in a job covered by the Social Security system. Generally, the credit is earned through the payment of Social Security tax on a job.

Yet, the Social Security administration often has trouble trying to convince some of today's old people that the payments aren't charity. Some are never convinced and flatly refuse to accept them.

Take the case of a 102-year-old Rockford, Ill., man. He refused Social Security payments as long as he was working and he worked until he was 102. He'd firmly convinced himself that the payments were charity. Furthermore, he said, his wages were sufficient and he had no need for the money.

Even after he quit working, it took an official of his old company and the manager of the Rockford Social Security office several weeks to persuade him to accept the payments.

The old man had worked for the company for more than 50 years. His last job at the company plant was gatekeeper, a job which clearly was covered by Social Security and on which the old man had been paying Social Security tax since 1937.

The Social Security people have found that aged widows, as a group are the toughest to argue with as to whether the payments are charity. Many widows who haven't worked and paid into the Social Security system can't understand why they're eligible for payments. They feel there are some strings connected to collecting payments based on the Social Security record of their deceased husbands.

The long and short of the story is that there are no strings.

One reason, perhaps, for the suspicion of aged widows stems from the ease with which they've been able to qualify for payments in recent years due to their deceased husband's work under Social Security.

THREE GENERAL RULES

Most aged widows have been able to qualify for retirement payments if their husbands worked only a year and a half under Social Security. But, there are three general rules as to how long a husband must have worked so that his widow is eligible for payments:

1. If her husband died between Dec. 31, 1939, and July 1, 1954, and had worked under Social Security for at least 1½ years, OR

2. If the date of his death is after June 30, 1954, and he worked under Social Security for a certain length of time between Jan. 1, 1937, and the time of his death. The length of time must be equal to at least half of the time between Jan. 1, 1951, and the date of his death. But, in all cases, it must be at least 1½ years, OR

3. If the date of his death is after March 31, 1956, and he worked under Social Security for a certain length of time between Jan. 1, 1955, and the time of his death. He must have worked all but one year during the entire period. But, in no case, can the period of time be less than 1½ years.

The Social Security people don't expect the idea of charity to enter the picture in a few years. The reason it does now is a hangover from pre-Social Security days when most payments to the aged were charity and to accept them was considered a loss of dignity.

(You may write Ray Henry in care of this newspaper about your own Social Security or retirement problem. Please enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope and 25 cents in coin.)

Suggested Cut to Test House

Action on Budget Will Show Body's Intentions on Spending Curb

WASHINGTON (AP)—House members today faced a major test of their professed determination to curb federal spending.

They had to decide whether to approve a recommendation of the House Appropriations Committee that 58 million dollars be cut from the amount President Eisenhower asked to run the Post Office Department for the year starting July 1.

The postal appropriation is part of a $3,884,927,000 money measure financing the Treasury and Post Office departments for the fiscal year. It is the first of the regular annual money bills on which federal spending next year will be based. All the bills together embody requests for more than 73 billion dollars in new money.

The Appropriations Committee cut the Post Office budget by 58 millions and the Treasury by $22,364,000.

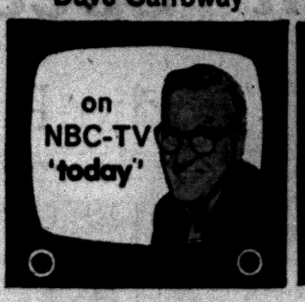

While there were no audible complaints against the reduction in Treasury funds, the postal cut drew criticism from the department and from at least five committee members who opposed it.

Unless the money is put back, the department said, it would have to cut some services. Possible effects, it said, would be to fire about 10,000 employes, close some post offices on Saturdays and stop Saturday mail deliveries, as well as abandon plans to establish about 5,000 new city carrier routes.

An average scrapped automobile yields 1,500 pounds of iron, and steel, 20 poinds of aluminim and about 60 pounds of copper, brass and some other kinds of usable metals.
