Pulls Policy Switch on Congo

Britain to Give U.N. Bombs

U.S. Resumes Supply Flights Against Katanga

Situation Called Good; Rebel Soldiers Holding Only 2 Strongpoints

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — Big U.S. transports resumed the airlift of men and supplies today to U.N. troops battling stubbornly resisting Katangan forces.

A U.N. spokesman in New York said the situation in Elisabethville is "good" and that Katanga forces now hold only two main strongpoints in the Katanga capital.

The spokesman said that the two main points held are the palace of Katanga President Moise Tshombe and the Lido Hotel.

In response to queries, he added that he knew of no plans by the U.N. force to launch any immediate attack on those two points.

Fourth day, President Tshombe charged that "cowardly and decadent" Americans had bombed schools, a church and hospital and residential areas, killing women and children.

Tshombe, back in Elisabethville to direct his forces, declared Americans "send to the Congo their dollars, their planes and their diplomats—everything except their soldiers."

No U.S. planes have been engaged in combat duties in Katanga, but Tshombe previously has attributed attacks by Swedish and Indian jet fighters on Katangan airfields to American planes.

In the fighting, the Leopold Hospital for Africans was hit by 50 mortar shells during a night-long barrage, but none of the 700 patients was seriously injured.

Nurses and doctors said the shells came from a Swedish U.N. troop camp.

U.N. officials said the U.N. mortar fire was aimed at Camp Tshombe — a Katangan installation — only 800 yards from the hospital.

One of the nurses said an African woman was giving birth when the firing started. She jumped up from the operating table and ran away. The nurses have not seen her since.

In Leopoldville, an angry mob of Congolese students assaulted the British, French and Portuguese embassies with bricks and jeers, but saluted the American embassy with shouts of "Vive Kennedy."

Jury, It's Cold Outside

AIN'T MISBEHAVIN'—Black Satin appears on her best behavior for a Pontiac Press photographer while shivering in below-freezing weather for nearly three hours yesterday outside the courthouse. Inside sat a jury whose job was to decide whether the horse's owners Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Brown of 7571 Walnut Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township, should pay $15,000 for the horse's alleged biting of an Oak Park woman.

Has to Prance to Keep Warm

Black Satin a Good Nag Today

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Black Satin had to be on good behavior today, although she may have felt like taking a big chunk out of a pestering, patting juror.

Defendant's exhibit No. 1 was forced to stand shivering in below-freezing weather for nearly three hours yesterday outside the courthouse, while inside a warm comfortable courtroom sat seven men and five women.

Their job: Decide whether the horse's owners, Leroy Brown, 52, and his wife Hazel, 50, of 7571 Walnut Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township, should pay $15,000 for the horse allegedly biting a feminine rider's left thigh in 1959.

Owners of Roy's Ranch, the Browns had to car the subject of their trouble back to the courthouse today so their attorney, William S. Munger, could show the creature was as gentle as a milk wagon horse.

★ ★ ★

'COULDN'T DRESS'

Besides, Miss Cohen, 21, of 23750 Coyle St. told the jurors, she was humiliated. She couldn't dress properly for a date or work because of the resulting wound.

Outside, Black Satin — called Black Satan by Miss Cohen's attorney, Conrad Cole — was exposed to the cold.

Maintenance men refused her entry into the new courthouse building, although Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero renewed the Navy saying, "Sweepers, man your brooms."

★ ★ ★

Cole claims the Browns were negligent in selecting Black Satin for another rider in Miss Cohen's inexperienced riding party of four. The attorney said the girls specifically asked for mounts of docile disposition.

Foreign Office Limits Use to 'Pirate' Forces

Decision Is Answer to Request for Aid From U Thant

From Our News Wires

LONDON — Great Britain today made a dilemma-producing U-turn in its Congo policy by agreeing to supply bombs to the United Nations for use against military targets in the war-torn country.

The Foreign Office said, however, the British bombs could be used only against "pirate aircraft and airstrips from which they are operating."

The decision came after a meeting between Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Lord Home. The request for British aid came from U.N. Acting Secretary General U Thant.

The request forced the British government into a dilemma. A decision to supply the bombs was sure to anger Britons opposed to the U.N. operations in the Congo, observers said.

Officially, Britain is opposed to a political settlement by force in the Congo.

But to refuse the request would mean widening the breach between Britain and the United States over U.N. actions to end the secession of President Moise Tshombe's mineral-rich province.

DEPLORE ACTION

A few hours later, six members of Macmillan's Conservative party submitted a motion in Commons deploring the decision. They said it "may well provoke further violence on the part of the Katangese and more immediate and wholesale destruction of life and property."

★ ★ ★

Thant appealed for British bombs to arm U.N. Indian Canberra jets in the Katanga fighting. The British-made fighter-bombers are not fitted to use United States-made munitions.

Informed sources said the British offer will consist of 24 1,000-pound bombs, enough to equip three aircraft.

REDS RILED

The offer came as the Soviet Union pressed for U.N. action to halt "open sabotage" by Britain and France in Katanga and accused the two powers of torpedoing attempts to end secession of the turbulent Congo province.

In a blistering 2,000-word statement circulated at U.N. headquarters, the Soviet delegation hinted it might ask for a Security Council meeting to look into "new data" on colonial interference with the U.N. command in Katanga.

Rusk Supports U.N. in Congo

Says Katanga Must Be Peacefully Integrated or Open to Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk voiced strong support today for the United Nations Congo operation and declared the Congo faces anarchy and Communist penetration if Katanga is not peacefully integrated.

At the same time, Rusk denied that the U.N. is trying to "conquer" secessionist Katanga or that the United States has a blueprint for a government there.

He said U.N. policy, which the United States backs, is to create a stable situation under which the Congolese leaders themselves can work out a political solution of their own.

★ ★ ★

Rusk spoke at a news conference at which the troubled Congo was a major topic.

"If Katanga is not peacefully integrated, the Congo will face civil war in anarchy, and be open to Communist penetration," he said.

"We hope that the leaders of Katanga will recognize that their present path leads nowhere."

Ignore Reds' Veiled Threats

More GIs Move to Berlin

From Our News Wires

BERLIN — U.S. troop detachments moved down the Communist-controlled Berlin autobahn in both directions today without interference despite a new assertion by the East German regime that such movements were "illegal and provocative."

Another company of the 19th Infantry's 1st Battle Group motored eastward to isolated West Berlin from the West German border while lead units of the 18th Infantry's 1st Battle Group rolled west along the 110-mile four-lane highway.

The incoming company, commanded by Maj. Joe E. Amberger, 36, of Belgique, Mo., included about 175 men and 24 vehicles.

It was the second company of the 1,500-man 19th Infantry group to enter Communist territory for Berlin duty. The first unit traveled across the autobahn to West Berlin Thursday without hindrance.

The East Germans tightened their grip on the East-West border traffic by ordering the installation of movable barriers at the seven remaining border crossing points.

THEY MUST STOP

The move would make it impossible for Western allied military vehicles to pass through the Friedrichstrasse crossing—the only point still left open to non-Germans—without coming to a complete halt.

The East German news agency ADN said the new order was "in the interest of orderly border traffic."

The new order was another move

Urges More Aid to S. Viet Nam

U.S. Calls on Allies to Help Asian Nation Militarily, Economically

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States called on other allied and non-Communist nations today to help in reinforcing South Viet Nam economically and militarily against increasing Communist assault.

★ ★ ★

Two developments dramatized a situation over which the Kennedy administration showed signs of mounting concern:

1. The State Department published a white paper warning allies and neutrals alike there is a "clear and present danger" of Communist conquest in South Viet Nam and there is a threat that the balance of power in Asia would be "tipped perilously" against the non-Communist countries if Southeast Asia falls.

2. Secretary of State Dean Rusk told a news conference it is the hope of the U.S. government that other nations will join in providing help to Viet Nam. In this, he gave point to the formal report which said that, in view of the growing Communist effort backed by the Soviet Union and Red China, Viet Nam will need more assistance.

★ ★ ★

The United States, Rusk said, is already taking steps to bolster the government of President Ngo-Dinh Diem. Furthermore, he said this country is consulting with other nations, which he would not name, on aid they can provide.

Rusk indicated the United States and South Viet Nam have broken their long deadlock over adoption of a political, economic, and military reform program by Diem. This has been a major U.S. requirement, on the grounds that Diem needs to build greater popular will to fight the Reds.

Elegant Gift Shows a Fastidious Taste

By JANET ODELL

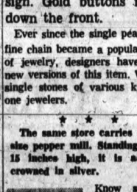

Give a gift of elegance this Christmas. Webster says elegance expresses fastidious taste. It can often mean some item an individual will not buy for himself.

For the girl or woman who likes to curl up in front of the fireplace in black velveteen slacks, we suggest a pink satin shirt or a beige bulky sweater that has gold thread knit into the design. Gold buttons march down the front.

Ever since the single pearl on a fine chain became a popular piece of jewelry, designers have made new versions of this item. We saw single stones of various kinds at one jewelers.

★ ★ ★

The same store carries a king size pepper mill. Standing some 15 inches high, it is actually crowned in silver.

JANET

Know someone who enjoys entertaining? Gift her with a set of non-tarnishable gilded party forks for hors d'oeuvres.

The couple who have gone overboard with Early American furnishings will thank you for the perfect gift if it is the new Trade Winds pattern put out by Spode. Each hand decorated piece has an early American sailing vessel on it — all taken from old prints. Historical notes are on the back of every item.

★ ★ ★

Americans are more artistically inclined than ever before. Some man on your list may appreciate an original oil painting or a fine reproduction of a piece of sculpture.

Tie tacks which have replaced the old stick pins come in handsome designs. If the gentleman in question likes them, he will enjoy having a collection to suit any occasion.

Newspaper Survey Report to Be Given Businessmen

Findings of the most comprehensive study ever made of the daily newspaper's readers will be shown in a dramatic presentation before 500 leaders of industry and advertising in the Detroit area next Tuesday.

The presentation will be made by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, under whose supervision the research project was carried out. The Detroit chapter of the American Association of Newspaper Representatives will be co-host at the meeting.

The study covers three major areas of information:

1. It measures accurately the dimensions of the newspaper medium: size of the audience and characteristics of the readers.

2. It tells how the daily newspaper is read and reports the actual pattern of reading behavior.

3. It shows how people feel about newspapers and newspaper advertising, and describes the role that newspapers play in their lives.

Included among the reader characteristics related to newspaper reading and attitudes are facts about auto ownership and buying plans, and home ownership.

Narrators of the presentation will be Charles T. Lipscomb Jr., president, and Dr. Leo Bogart, vice president of marketing planning and research, of the Bureau of Advertising.

The study was conducted in consultation with the Advertising Research Foundation by the Audits & Surveys Company. It was also reviewed by an advisory council of leading newspaper research men.

Financing of the study was provided by six major Canadian newsprint manufacturers, comprising the Newsprint Information Committee. The companies are: Abitibi Power & Paper Co., Ltd.; Anglo-Canadian Pulp & Paper Mills, Ltd.; Anglo-Newfoundland Development Co., Ltd.; Donnacona Paper Co.; MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River, Ltd.; and St. Lawrence Corp., Ltd.

Balaguer Booed for Vetoing Plan

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP) — Large crowds gathered in downtown Santo Domingo today booing President Joaquin Balaguer for his rejection of an opposition plan for solving the long drawn out crisis.

★ ★ ★

Political leaders resumed talks with the government, but the National Civic Union, largest of the opposition groups, said it would withdraw from the negotiations if no agreement is reached today.

DEMAND RESIGNATION

Opposition sources said the talks are still based on the formula rejected Thursday night by the government. This calls for the resignation of Balaguer, a carryover from the Trujillo era, before Dec. 31.

★ ★ ★

Shops were shut on the 11th day of a nationwide general strike aimed at forcing Balaguer's ouster. But they would be closed anyway in observance of the Feast of the Immaculate Conception, a national holiday.

OPPOSITION PROPOSAL

The opposition proposal also called for constituent assembly elections Aug. 16, election of a Congress Dec. 1, 1962, and installation of a new government Jan. 26, 1963.

★ ★ ★

Informants said the opposition also demanded replacement of Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria, named armed forces chief by Balaguer last month after the general helped crush an attempted Trujillo coup.

CONSIDER TALKS ENDED

Balaguer said that negotiations would continue, but Civic Union officials said they considered that the talks had been terminated.

Lakes Area Gets Faceful of Snow, Cold Shoulder

By The Associated Press

Snow squalls whipped by cold, westerly winds dumped as much as a foot of snow in an area along Lakes Erie and Ontario Thursday night and early today, belting much of the region with the first major snowfall of the season.

★ ★ ★

Heaviest accumulation was in western New York state, where some schools were closed, and in northwest Pennsylvania. Most roads were open but many were treacherous and blowing snow cut visibility.

★ ★ ★

Highway crews worked throughout the night in northeast Ohio where roads were slicked by two to four inches of snow.

★ ★ ★

The Weather Bureau said cold air rushing across the warmer lake waters produced the squalls, reported in a belt stretching from Lower Michigan to the northern Appalachians.

Says Pay Hikes Must Be Earned

Sec. Goldberg Adds Inequities Should Be Considered Also

MIAMI BEACH (UPI — Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg told the AFL-CIO convention today wage increases as a rule should be earned by greater productivity.

But Goldberg said in a speech prepared for delivery that variation between companies in the same industry and inequities between groups of workers must be considered in applying his yardstick.

The cabinet officer said there was no room for an "upward price movement that would have a serious effect upon our balance of payments and our ability to underwrite freedom with a sound and vigorous economy."

★ ★ ★

He said the Kennedy administration would not propose wage or price controls but depend instead on voluntary "responsible" bargaining to prevent inflation.

★ ★ ★

"By that, we mean bargaining that represents the fair distribution of wealth that is earned and does not have an adverse effect upon wages, prices, our competitive posture, and our balance of payments," he explained.

★ ★ ★

Goldberg said there never could be a single wage policy for the United States because employers varied in profit-making ability and their existing pay inequities.

★ ★ ★

"We do not propose in any way to restrict the ability of collective bargaining to remove or solve these inequities," he said. " . . . we encourage and support it."

in the Communists' campaign to regulate traffic and limit Western access rights in the divided city.

Until now, Allied Military vehicles simply sped across the border through the Friedrichstrasse crossing—the only opening the allies may use along the 25-mile city border.

But the erection of barriers gives the East Germans, whom the Western Allies do not recognize, the power to regulate the flow of U.S., British and French official traffic and even try to bar it if they wished.

On the diplomatic front, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, in a letter to President Kennedy, has promised to give French President Charles de Gaulle a full explanation of the U.S. desire to resume Berlin talks with Russia.

Adenauer and De Gaulle are scheduled to meet Saturday in Paris. Kennedy hopes the chancellor will be able to persuade the reluctant French leader to endorse another Allied effort to get the Soviet Union to the conference table on an "honorable basis."

Fallout Survey Takes In City

County Also in First U.S. Project for Shelter Planning

Pontiac and all of Oakland County today were named among the first areas in the nation to be surveyed under President Kennedy's fallout shelter survey and marking program.

★ ★ ★

The contract for a fallout shelter survey of Oakland, Macomb and Wayne counties was awarded yesterday to the Detroit architectural and engineering firm of Giffels and Rossetti by the Detroit District of the U.S. Army Engineers.

The preliminary plotting of possible shelters on maps is expected to be completed within seven weeks. Information from the survey will be given to state and local civil defense officials as the study progresses.

The contract was announced today in a telegram from Detroit District Army Engineer Col. R. C. Pfeil to Rep. William S. Broomfield (R-Royal Oak).

★ ★ ★

The survey will examine maps, charts and contracts of buildings in local building engineers' offices, develop aerial reconnaissance maps to locate possible shelters, and make estimates of day and night population concentrations to determine where shelters will be needed.

★ ★ ★

A physical examination of the buildings is not intended at this time, an army engineers spokesman said.

★ ★ ★

The contract is the first awarded by the North-Central Army Engineers Division whose area includes Michigan, Illinois, Iowa and Ohio.

The Day in Birmingham

Ex-Major Named Pastor of Congregational Church

BIRMINGHAM — A former U.S. Army major and later businessman has been named minister of the Pilgrim Congregational Church here.

★ ★ ★

Rev. Howard E. Bull will assume his duties at the Pilgrim church Jan. 7, coming from the Saranac Community Church.

The announcement was made by James Isham, church moderator, who said that the minister and his family will take up residence in the parsonage at 500 Henrietta St. at the first of the year.

Rev. Bull, 43, was ordained a Congregational minister at Saranac after having previously served the Methodist Church at Marne.

FORMER SALESMAN

Before entering the ministry, he was for 10 years a supervisor with Key System Transit Lines in Oakland, Calif., and a salesman for Kaule Steel Corp. at Grand Rapids.

Prior to that he spent 10 years in the army, specializing in military government and military police work.

Active in national and statewide Congregational affairs, Rev. Bull this year was scribe of the annual convention of the National Association of Congregational Christian Churches and was host pastor at the organizational meeting of the Michigan State Association of Congregational Christian Churches.

★ ★ ★

Rev. and Mrs. Bull have two sons, both attending college, and two daughters, at home.

The Pilgrim Church first began services last January and since then has acquired four acres of land at Adams and Big Beaver Road for a future church site.

Currently, Sunday worship services are held at 11 a. m. in the Birmingham Community House.

Red Party Plea Is Not Guilty

Charged With Failure to Register in U.S. as Agent of U.S.S.R.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An attorney for the Communist party pleaded not guilty today to a charge that the party failed to register with the government as an agent of the Soviet Union.

The party was arraigned on the charge before Chief Judge Matthew F. McGuire of the federal district court in the District of Columbia. McGuire set the trial for Feb. 1.

Communist party leader Gus Hall, who came from New York, took no part in the proceeding.

★ ★ ★

The not guilty plea was made by Washington attorney Joseph Forer. The government was represented by Justice Department attorney F. Kirk Maddrix of the Internal Security Division.

After the hearing, Hall told reporters he had nothing to say about the present status of the party but handed them a two-page mimeographed statement.

The statement said the indictment was "the first time in American history that a political party has been summoned into a criminal court."

★ ★ ★

It said that "for years the slander that the Communist party is an agent of a foreign power has been peddled by political bigots. At no time were they able to prove this charge in open court.

'NEVER PROVED'

The indictment said the Communist party had failed to register with the Justice Department by the Nov. 20 deadline in compliance with the Internal Security Act of 1950. The party faces possible fines of $10,000 a day for each day it fails to register.

Necessity, Not Luxury

NEW YORK (UPI) — This city's hotels have spent $50 million in the last two years on air conditioning and most building owners now say un-airconditioned offices are almost "un-rentable," according to the Air-Conditioning and Refrigeration Institute.

Government officials say the Communist Party in the United States has well under 10,000 members compared with an estimated 74,000 in 1947.

Worker Injured in Cave-In at Drainage Ditch

A 35-year-old construction worker was injured yesterday during a cave-in at Camp Dearborn in Milford Township.

★ ★ ★

Edward Grabowski of Dearborn was reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital. He suffered a fractured collarbone when hit by a large chunk of falling clay.

Grabowski and another laborer, Max Bialczk also of Dearborn, were working in a drainage ditch when dirt piled alongside the edge of the excavation began to slide.

Other workers above shouted a warning and the two men in the hole managed to jump clear of the main slide. Both crawled free.

Bialczk was unhurt.

O'Hara prohibited Intertown from violating an Oct. 18 order from the State Public Service Commission (PSC) directing the firm to resume operations after settlement of its labor dispute with its drivers and mechanics.

Political Dynasties Squaring Off Again

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Politics is getting to be like sin. The actions of the father are visited on the sons unto the third and fourth generations.

Venerable, aristocratic Henry Cabot Lodge made the mistake early in the century of besting a scrappy South Boston Irishman named John Fitzgerald for a seat in the U.S. Senate.

One of Lodge's descendants has been paying for that victory with annoying frequency in recent years.

* * *

Now a still younger generation is about to take on the family feud. Handsome 34-year-old George Cabot Lodge, great-grandson of the original Sen. Lodge, has announced his candidacy for the Massachusetts Senate seat formerly held not only by his great-granddad, but also by his father, Henry Cabot Lodge Jr.

* * *

George is smart, personable and experienced, having served seven years in the Department of Labor, much of it in an international role.

He would seem aptly fitted for the "family" seat, except for the fact that old John (Honey Fitz) Fitzgerald's youngest grandson wants it, and he also has a family claim.

* * *

Back in 1952 Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., with a brilliant war record and two previous Senate elections to his credit, ran for re-election. Opposing him was John Fitzgerald Kennedy, boyish-looking grandson namesake of Honey Fitz.

CALL TO CRULLERS

JFK won, but not without calling out the family reserves: His mother, Rose; three sisters, Eunice, Jean and Pat; and two younger brothers, Bobby and Teddy.

When the votes were counted, Rose Fitzgerald Kennedy said of her son's victory: "At last the Fitzgeralds have evened the score with those Lodges."

JFK won re-election handily six years later, and in 1960 moved one up on the Lodges by again defeating Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., who ran on the Nixon-Lodge presidential ticket against the Kennedy-Johnson slate.

* * *

The Lodges may have a chance to tie the score next year. Teddy Kennedy, the President's 29-year-old brother, wants to run for the seat which JFK vacated to take the presidency.

TWO CLAIM 'THRONE'

As dynasties go, he has as much right to it as Lodge, because his big brother obligingly appointed an amiable one-time Harvard classmate, Ben Smith, to keep the seat warm until a Kennedy could run for it.

* * *

Smith will gladly step aside if Teddy wants it, which he does; but Teddy must first clear a thornier hurdle. Eddie McCormack, the favorite nephew of Acting Speaker John W. McCormack, wants the Democratic senatorial nomination in the worst way, and that's the way Uncle John wants it for him, too.

Should Eddie, the state's attorney general, and Teddy, the President's handsome kid brother, slug it out in the primaries, the resultant bad blood would probably help the blue-blooded Lodge candidacy.

Teddy has not yet held a paying job, but he's a worker, and his brothers and sisters say of him: "Teddy is the greatest natural-born politician in the family."

Fresh out of law school, he plunged eagerly into his brother's primary and election campaigns. His chief assignment was the Rocky Mountain states, which despite his charm ended up in the Nixon corner.

The Kennedys still love Teddy, however, and want to see him in the White House when brother Jack can no longer offer him a guest suite there.

* * *

Meanwhile, Teddy is drawing a dollar a year as an assistant attorney general in Suffolk County, and mapping his strategy for round four between the Lodges and Kennedys. May the best scion win!

FAMOUS THE WORLD OVER

Include Medical Care for Aged, Federal Aid to Schools

Kennedy's Pet Programs Lying in Wait for Congress

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—In about a month Congress returns, and President Kennedy already is laying down some programs he wants approved in the 1962 election year which will mean a lot to him.

* * *

He has passed the word to his legislative leaders that he will fight for—among others—medical care for the aged, federal aid to education, and a lowering of tariffs on foreign imports.

* * *

All three are in the angry area: Where opponents with strong feelings will do all they can to stop him.

He came into office with a conservative Congress, even though his own Democrats were in a majority. In the 1962 congressional elections next November all house seats and one-third of the Senate seats are at stake.

GOP COULD HURT

Victory for the Republicans, giving them control of Congress, could take some of the snap out of his leadership which, on the whole, has been pretty conservative, too.

* * *

His own record in the presidency could be affected and, therefore, his chances for re-election in 1964.

* * *

So in 1962 he'll have extra reason to fight for what he proposes since the record he and his Democrats make next year will be a major point in the elections.

In the 1960 presidential race he promised quick action on civil rights if he defeated Vice President Richard M. Nixon. But when he won he didn't make good. He offered no civil rights program at all.

STEPS SUGGESTED

He can hardly fail to do something in this field next year if only because his own Civil Rights Commission this year, in five studied volumes, called for a number of steps to be taken.

* * *

In addition, some Democrats and Republicans will want action. But the test of his determination to get what he asks for will in this, as in his other programs, show up in the kind of fight he makes.

* * *

He's far from being an all-out fighter for everything he suggests to Congress, as he showed on medical care for the aged and federal aid to education.

Both these hot subjects, affecting a lot of people on both sides of them, will be back in his lap in 1962 as unfinished business.

GOING TO BERMUDA

Before Congress returns in January he's going to Latin America and to Bermuda—in the latter place to see British Prime Minister Macmillan.

This won't give him much time for outlining many more items he'll offer Congress next month.

Copyright 1961 By LUCREDE BEALE (AP)

SYNOPSIS: King Tuthmed, of Egypt, and his minister, have followed the footprints of the flying shoes across the meadow to the cave of the sand. But the terrifying monster really frowned?

Chapter 5

When the King returned to the palace he announced that the danger was past and ordered all his subjects to come out from under their beds.

Then, as it was quite late, he retired to his room to read in bed before going to sleep. He was reading an old mystery that he had already read several times but still it was better than no mystery at all.

★ ★ ★

He was just beginning to doze off when a remarkable thing happened. The bed sheet began to move!

The King tugged the sheet back under his chin. But no sooner was he settled comfortably than the sheet began to slip again. Slowly, slowly, it drifted toward the foot of the bed.

The King watched in astonishment as the edge of the sheet traveled from his chin, across his chest and stomach and over his bent knees. Just as it was about to slide over his toes, the King threw himself forward and peered under the bed.

SCARCELY BREATHING

There was nothing to be seen.

The King fell back and yanked the sheet all the way over his head. He lay there, scarcely breathing, clinging to the edge of the sheet.

He waited and waited. Presently he felt a slight tug at the far end of the sheet. He clung to his end. The tug became stronger. The King tightened his grip. Then there was a mighty tug at the end.

The King, not to be outdone, gave such a vigorous tug at his end that suddenly the whole sheet flew up from the bottom and right over the King's head!

★ ★ ★

The King started to cry out for help but he was so tangled in the sheet he couldn't open his mouth. When he was finally untangled he got up and walked round the bed twice and peered underneath it a dozen times.

The King rushed into the hall shouting, 'Help! Help!

There was nothing there. The King decided that the whole thing had been a nightmare.

★ ★ ★

"I've really been reading too many detective stories," he scolded himself. "And then there was all that commotion about the Ipswitch. My nerves are on edge. I'll feel better when I've had some sleep."

TURNED OUT THE LIGHT

He remade the bed, tucking the sheet in on all sides and tucking in three blankets with hospital corners. Then he turned out the light and crawled under the cover.

He had scarcely shut his eyes when there was a long, low s-q-u-e-e-e-e-k from the far side of the room. The King's eyes flew open. He knew the squeek was caused by the hinge on his door. It needed oiling and the door always squeeked when it was opened.

The King lay there holding his breath. Someone had opened the door and was in the room with him.

"I'll not be murdered in my bed!" thought the King bravely and he leaped out of the covers and turned on the light.

★ ★ ★

The room was empty. The door was closed.

But the King's nerve was gone. He rushed into the hall and shouted, "Help! Help!"

★ ★ ★

Ministers from all over the palace came stumbling through the corridors. When they arrived in the King's room he told them what had happened. They turned the room upside down and even took the bed apart but there was nothing to be found.

★ ★ ★

The ministers looked at the King. They were wondering if perhaps he wasn't simple-minded after all when suddenly there was an awful crash, the whole palace trembled and King and ministers were flung from their feet.

The Ipswitch had come again!

Sees New 'War' Over Industries

Griffin Urges Approval of Local Bonds to Aid in Luring Firms

LANSING (AP)—Congressman Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said Thursday that a "full-fledged second war among the states" has resulted from the current trend to use low-cost municipal financing to lure industry.

Griffin urged that Michigan "fight fire with fire" by amending its constitution to make it possible for municipalities to issue tax-exempt revenue bonds for industrial development purposes.

The congressman made his suggestion before a meeting of the finance and taxation committee of the constitutional convention.

Pointing out that tax-exempt bonds are now legal in 15 states — most of them in the South — Griffin said the seriousness of the situation confronting Michigan was emphasized recently when the Borg-Warner Corp. moved its Norge Division operation at Muskegon to a new plant in Arkansas.

Griffin has introduced legislation in Congress to eliminate the use of such tax-exempt bonds.

"But until Congress acts," he said, "we are left with little choice except to arm ourselves with the same weapons and fight back."

Natural Gas Output to Set New Record

LANSING (AP) — Natural gas production will set a record in Michigan this year, the State Conservation Department reported Thursday.

Production will reach an estimated 34.5 billion cubic feet, the highest since gas wells made their first yields in the state in 1929, the department said.

Gas output, up about 21 per cent from last year, is valued at an estimated $5 million.

Oil output is expected to reach 19 million barrels, the most since 1943 and the fifth highest output in Michigan's 37-year history of oil production.

Give Annual Inspection to Electric Decorations

There is a temptation each year to pull down the box of Christmas lights and decorations, change a few bulbs, and put them up. Incomplete preventive maintenance can cause short circuits which may lead to serious blazes and injuries or death.

★ ★ ★

Most people have learned to shut off their tree lights before they retire each night. But there are many strings of lights which are used each year without checking them for wear and tear.

★ ★ ★

With the old-style tree lights in which the whole string went out when one bulb failed, there was the time-consuming chore of checking each bulb. Tedious as this was, it did lead to more close examination of the string of lights and its wiring.

★ ★ ★

But now we have the newer version which continues to shine, when one fails. It's easy to spot and replace the bulb, and never pay any attention to the condition of the apparatus itself.

★ ★ ★

Fire officials also warn that to prevent Christmas trees from drying out too rapidly, keeping water around the base helps delay the falling needle problem.

Kennedy Is Fearful of Fulbright's Defeat

Senator James W. Fulbright comes up for election next fall and President Kennedy is apprehensive over the fact the extreme left-winger may be thumbed down by an irked and irritated electorate.

★ ★ ★

The White House is unofficially "leaking" a warning message to top bosses in Arkansas. In effect, it's the original American version of the Chinese proverb from Honorable Confucius: "No tickee—no laundry."

★ ★ ★

The head men in the area are warned that unless they elect Fulbright, their Federal patronage will dry up. This would be a tragic circumstance to them and so JFK guarantees an all-out effort.

And that may not be enough.

Collegiates' Latest Folly Is Part of Campus Life

A certain amount of nonsense is an integral part of collegiate life. If we can go forward with agreement on this premise, it makes some of the campus antics more understandable.

★ ★ ★

As modern-day equivalents of goldfish swallowing, we have had panty raids, bed pushing marathons, telephone booth stuffing, and now the talkathons.

★ ★ ★

There may be some consolation to disturbed parents who can't understand what gets into their offspring when they leave home to slouch against the halls of ivy. The serious students are still hard at work. Their heads are not turned by such sophomoric endeavors.

They're all playing bridge.

Americans Still Wonder How Attack Happened

When we get over the annual memories of Pearl Harbor and what happened that Sunday morning, the mind turns to how it happened. Are we still as vulnerable as we were that day 20 years ago?

★ ★ ★

America did learn a lesson from Pearl Harbor, we feel. A good deal of the red tape involved in reporting attacks has been cleared away, and there are a number of points around the Nation that are on a 24-hour a day war footing.

★ ★ ★

Since the end of the shooting in 1945, we've been watching for the signs that an attack has been launched. The war-watch was intensified as the international situation grew worse in periods of tension, but it has never been abandoned in "peaceful" periods — if there have been any "peaceful" periods since 1945.

★ ★ ★

Whether we have developed the means to successfully repel such attacks is open. Whether we have enough forces ready to defend us is also subject to debate. The reserve forces idea started after World War II has proved an economical way of maintaining training status of experienced veterans.

But when it comes to watching, there is no question. We have learned this much from Pearl Harbor.

The Man About Town

Christmas Trees

Traffic Now at Its Top; Getting an Early Start

Courtesy: What can also be seriously lacking in the customer.

The Christmas tree traffic through Oakland County is following the general holiday merchandising, and reaches its peak somewhat earlier than usual. On the Dixie Highway the trucks are averaging about one every five minutes, and each truck has from 100 to 1,000 trees.

This is the supply for private homes, being hauled from the northwoods to the local markets in Pontiac, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland and other cities.

The trees are on sale, usually at gas stations, at prices about the same as last year, an average tree now bringing around $2.50.

The home grown variety, raised from planted seedlings, is taking a good share of the local business, and usually commands a better price than the northerners.

The locally grown trees are quite symmetrical, and in much better form than those from upstate which usually are one-sided "thinners," removed to give other trees a better chance to grow.

A tree will not "molt" and lose its needles for a few weeks if you stand it in water, and a teacup of calcium chloride dumped into the water will make the tree practically fireproof.

Right at this season the word "poinsettia" frequently appears in print — and it's often misspelled, that second "i" being left out.

U.S. Ignores Business Principles

LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — While many members of the National Association of Manufacturers may not have agreed with all that President Kennedy said in his speech to them in New York on Wednesday, they would have to agree that he stated clearly and comprehensively the essentials of his new program for international trade.

Frankness and forthrightness of statement were never more necessary, and it is to be hoped that this will encourage equal candor and cogency of expression by businessmen.

★ ★ ★

For, if America is to prosper, if world trade is to increase, and if the Western countries are to succeed in their attempts to improve progressively the position of both labor and industry, then it is important to recognize elementary principles.

These are the things that make the wheels go around, the things that make a profit or loss, and the things that bring in revenues to help the federal government balance its budget.

Kennedy uttered a basic truth in a few sentences that told more of what the problem really is than was revealed in all the rest of the 6,500 words of his speech, when he said:

"To put it on its most narrow basis, we are, in the national government and I know, a rather unpopular partner in every one of your businesses. Our revenues come from you.

"When you are making profits, then we are able to meet our bills. When you fail, then we fail."

Truer words were never spoken in public affairs, but at the same time no principle has been more consistently ignored or violated in the last half-century by Democratic administrations and, to some extent now and then, by Republican administrations. The position of the government as told again and again to the taxpayer is something like this:

IT'S UNJUST

"We know it's unjust, we know it's inequitable, we know it's unfair to apply this rule in taxation, but we need the money."

This has been repeated so often that it has become commonplace. Indeed, President Kennedy in his speech on Wednesday twice fell victim to the same sort of advice from his own staff.

He was talking about his request that Congress remove what he calls an "artificial tax preference for American investment in highly developed countries with no capital shortage and the unjustifiable tax avoidance loopholes available to those Americans investing in so-called 'tax-haven' nations."

Now, nobody but a small number of beneficiaries objects to legislation that will remove the "tax-haven" devices which are merely get-rich-quick schemes for individuals.

But there is a decided objection to the government's telling businessmen they must stop competing inside France, for instance, and instead must turn their attention to investments in the Congo.

If American companies are to derive benefits from the development of big sales inside the European "Common Market" area for the goods they produce overseas, they must not be subject to tax handicaps as against their European competitors.

Many American companies operating abroad are sending back to this country today large sums in dividends to be taxed.

They are also spending in America money for materials or parts to be processed in their factories abroad.

All together, the total often exceeds the amount of capital actually sent abroad. Why stop such a trend and make matters worse?

A sensible tax policy on depreciation allowances would wipe out deficits and bring surpluses to the U.S. Treasury.

That's why businessmen have come to feel that politically minded administrations fail really to understand what makes the wheels go around, what makes the profits that in turn pile up the revenues to balance the budget.

Dr. Harold Hyman Says:

Stomach Back-Up Causes Discomforts of Heartburn

Q—What is the cause of heartburn? I've had it most of my life. (I'm almost 50 now). I've had all sorts of examinations, including Xrays. I'm told I have no ulcer or growth.

I've had all sorts of diets and all sorts of medicines. But I always end up having to take an alkaline pill or powder at whatever odd times the heartburn decides to turn up. I even get it in the morning, before I've eaten, when I bend over to lace my shoes.

A—I don't wonder at your confusion since, only recently, has light been thrown on the mechanism that causes this annoying and persistent distress.

As you know, food passes down your gullet (esophagus) to enter your stomach. Ordinarily the entrance to the stomach is equipped to prevent the contents of the stomach from backing up into the esophagus.

★ ★ ★

Now, for reasons not quite clear, the shutoff mechanism doesn't operate efficiently in some of us. As a result, stomach contents leak or squirt back at odd times. Like when you increase pressure by bending over to lace your shoes. Or when you wear a tight belt.

If the material that leaks back is quite acid, as it's almost sure to be when your stomach is empty and the content is pure gastric juice (that's normally acid), you are going to register the sensation that is misnamed "heartburn." And you'll register that sensation without respect to diet, drugs or the presence or absence of stomach disease.

The fact that you've had it so long is consoling in that it indicates that no new element (like a recent ulcer or cancer) has been introduced.

★ ★ ★

And that, of course, you can't be sure of unless you've had the examinations that you wisely took and may have to repeat if there's any change in the character or intensity of your distress.

Q—Is there anything that can be done to make children grow tall? I am less than 5 feet in height and I have suffered embarrassment all my life because of my size. Even with elevator shoes I am almost a head shorter than my wife, who is no taller than the average woman.

We've just had our first baby (a son) and I don't want him to grow up to be a "runt" like me. Have you any suggestions? I mean suggestions to increase his height without harming him in any way.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Readers Should Always Be Jury

BY DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

CASE K-471: Mary M., aged 38, is interested in sea salt.

"Dr. Crane," she began, "I recently ordered some of the sea salt.

CRANE

"For I read your article all the time in our Houston Press.

"But lately I have seen some stories by federal bureaucrats that say sea salt is a hoax and a swindle.

"They even state that there is NOTHING in ocean water or sea salt of ANY medical value whatsoever! So what should I do?"

BE THE JURY

You readers must stop asking outsiders to decide matters for you!

That is your own job. Consult various sources and then weigh all the evidence. But come to your own conclusions!

Do you think newspapers or bureaucrats are more likely to tell you the truth?

As a medical scientist, I have explained in this column that we have many ailments not linked with any known germ or virus.

We call them "deficiency ailments," meaning they are apparently due to a lack of some chemical.

Of about 106 chemical elementas on this planet Earth, there are 44 dissolved in the oceans.

Our blood is essentially water, so it can use ONLY those things that are water-soluble, meaning those 44 in the oceans.

Already, we medics know that iodine has been proved very effective in banishing simple goiter, for it has been added to ordinary table salt since 1924.

Dental research has recently shown that the fluorine in the sea has reduced tooth decay about 65 per cent in the children of some 4,000 cities now using fluoridated water.

And we medics place some 10 of the ocean's water-soluble chemical elements in the vitamin capsules you employ.

Iron is also in the sea and it is a standard remedy for anemia.

"Dr. Crane," Mary protested, "then why do the bureaucrats make such an absurd statement as to say 'There is nothing of ANY medical value in ocean water!' Isn't that stupid of them?"

Well, Mary, why ask me? You are the Jury!

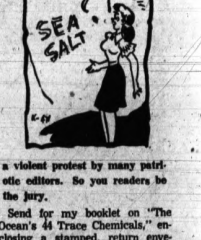

You Intelligent Americans who can read and understand this editorial type of column, should be able to think for yourselves.

Why do the bureaucrats stoop to such communistic tactics as to try to scare Americans by saying sea salt or ocean water is a "hoax" and a "swindle," etc.?

Why did they also throw their weight around two years ago trying to scare us about cranberries, and then "crawfished" a little later by admitting we could eat a carload of those same cranberries without any significant ill effects?

In Columbus, Ohio, they even seized newspapers and my scientific booklet offered below, just because retail merchants had them in the same store with a reputable brand of sea salt!

This wanton invasion of free speech and our free press not only is suggestive of Hitler's gestapo methods, but has caused a violent protest by many patriotic editors. So you readers be the jury.

Send for my booklet on "The Ocean's 44 Trace Chemicals," enclosing a stamped, return envelope, plus 20 cents.

See what you think about that "chemical smorgasbord" idea vs. the rantings of the bureaucrats.

Americans Still Investing in U.S. Savings Bonds

As the United States Savings Bonds Program approaches the end of its 20th anniversary year it still is vital and steadily growing.

★ ★ ★

Since 1941, the people of the United States have invested more than $122 billion in Savings Bonds. The proceeds have provided $79 billion worth of good things, such as new homes, higher education, travel, carefree retirement. And they still hold a record high $44¼ billion in series E and H bonds.

COTE

★ ★ ★

Purchases of series H and larger denomination series E bonds in Michigan in 1961 have exceeded those for several years past. But Payroll Savings Plan bond buying has been at a disappointingly low level due to unemployment and reduced working hours in many industries. The Treasury is deeply grateful for the support but Michigan will not achieve its 1961 sales goal.

The consensus among forecasters seems to be that business will improve in the months ahead. With your support we feel confident Michigan will be able to surpass this year's record.

Ask Inmates Aid Science

LANSING (AP) — Two programs to advance science, using prisoners as volunteer guinea pigs, are under consideration by the State Corrections Commission.

One would allow a drug company to set up headquarters in the State Prison of Southern Michigan. The other would send 10 prison inmates to the Lafayette Clinic in Detroit, comparing their mental and physical reactions with those of mental patients.

"Both proposed programs could do a great deal for humanity," said Corrections Director Gus Harrison. "The prisoners involved would be volunteers and it would also help them regain their self-respect and feel they were doing something really worthwhile."

★ ★ ★

Both proposals currently are under study by the commission. A blue ribbon panel of medical men and other authorities will review the suggestion from the Upjohn Co. of Kalamazoo.

The commission specified, however, that other Michigan drug firms should be allowed to offer to similar work in the prison. The commission also specified that it must be agreed that any work done or any buildings constructed would be at no cost to the state.

The Upjohn Co. now is working with volunteer prisoners testing various drugs.

While we're not suggesting that the '62 Buick Special could seriously compete with a beautiful girl for a college man's attention, it's a mighty strong runner-up. And no wonder! Those smooth Special lines have caused more than one head to turn. New sweethearts of the Special fraternity this year are the convertibles—available in both Special and Special Deluxe. Not too late to get outfitted with one for fall.

Rep. Ford Rips Contract Award

Says Navy Makes Big Mistake in Snubbing Lear Experience

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Rep. Gerald R. Ford Jr., R-Mich., opened fire in Washington Thursday on a Navy decision to award a $10-million contract to a Texas firm while bypassing Lear, Inc.

In a story carried from Washington by the Grand Rapids Press, Ford claimed Navy officials were making "a serious mistake" in contracting for a combat plane bombing system through Texas Instruments, Inc., which has never produced the device.

He predicted that giving the work to the Texas firm would cost more in the long run although its initial bid was approximately 5 per cent below that of Lear.

Lear, said Ford, developed the bombing system, produced and delivered it on time in the past.

Ford is a member of the House Defense Appropriations subcommittee.

"The Texas company, I am confident, will not in the final analysis be able to produce the units at the lowest over-all cost to the Navy," said Ford.

"The submitted bid price by the Texas company is an attempt to get the contract by what appears to be a lower price and then sandbag the Navy by change orders during production to increase the real unit cost."

Pocket Watch May Be Fading on U.S. Railways

MISSOULA, Mont. (AP) — The railroad pocket watch may be headed for the same fate as the steam locomotive.

The Northern Pacific Railroad has changed its rules and hereafter will allow its empoyes to use wrist watches.

Previous the pocket timepiece was rigidly prescribed. It had to be of certain size, adjustable to five positions and temperature, and have a standard railroad watch" dial.

Situation Hard to Handle for Latin States

Castro's Red Stand Obvious Before but Now Open

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst

The fact that Fidel Castro finally had openly declared himself a Marxist-Leninist "until I die" made no difference.

It was disappointingly obvious that among the 21 members of the Organization of American States (OAS) there still could be no hope of unanimous opinion either on the best means of dealing with him or even whether to declare him a menace to hemispheric peace and solidarity.

This week, Colombia, strongly supported by the United States, asked the member nations of the OAS to stand up and be counted in their attitude toward Cuba and its alliance with communism.

The result was 14 to 2. Mexico voted with Cuba in opposition to the Colombian resolution which called for a meeting of American foreign ministers to "consider the threats to peace and the political independence of the American states" emanating from Cuba.

Abstaining in the vote were Argentina, Bolivia, Brazil, Chile and Ecuador.

It was coincidental that Castro had chosen last weekend to destroy any lingering convictions there might be that his was a democratic state.

The fact that he had enrolled Cuba firmly in the Communist bloc had become obvious months before.

Nor is it likely that any change in the vote occurred from his admission that he had taken from the Communist handbook his tactics of terror and deceit.

Rather the vote demonstrated what long had been known — that so far as Cuba is concerned and for varying reasons, there is a major split within the OAS.

The three most influential Latin American nations are Mexico, Brazil and Argentina.

Mexico, with no special love for Castro, has been consistent in its stand against intervention.

Brazil a year ago began making known its belief that this was peculiarly a U.S.-Cuban quarrel in which it could maintain neutrality.

Argentina once offered to mediate and only last week made clear its opposition to any action specifically condemning Cuba.

JANUARY MEETING

The majority vote obtained for the Colombian resolution, despite opposition and abstentions, seems to assure that a foreign ministers' meeting will be called in January.

But so far as its purpose is concerned, it already seems doomed to failure.

Last April, in an address before American newspaper editors, President Kennedy emphatically stated the U.S. would not abandon Cuba to Communism. He added that the United States would not hesitate to act alone if a policy of non-interference simply became an excuse to do nothing.

Military action, at least for the moment, has been abandoned. An economic blockade must be ineffective so long as American goods can flow into Cuba through Mexico and Brazil.

Nonetheless, the moment which President Kennedy foresaw last April seems fast approaching.

Oppenheimer to Give Lecture at U. of M.

ANN ARBOR (AP) — Renowned physicist Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, director of the institute for advanced study at Princeton University, has been selected to deliver the second annual Dewey F. Fagerburg Memorial Lecture at the University of Michigan.

Dr. Oppenheimer, who headed the Los Alamos scientific laboratory at Los Alamos, N.M., during World War II, will deliver the lecture here Jan. 22.

The first lecture last year was given by Dr. Donald Glaser, former U. of M. physicist who won the Nobel Prize for his development of the "bubble chamber" for measuring high-velocity radioactive particles.

RUNAWAY LOVERS—Richard C. Donelson, 33-year-old Salt Lake City music teacher, and Karen Ellen Edwards, 14-year-old pupil of Donelson's, are booked in a midtown New York police headquarters Thursday after their arrest in a Manhattan hotel. Police found two passports—one for him and one for the girl—in Donelson's possession. The couple said they left Kansas City Dec. 1. They said they loved each other and wanted to marry.

Christmas Turned on at Rockefeller Center

NEW YORK (AP)—The Christmas season has been officially turned "on" at Rockefeller Center in the heart of mid-Manhattan. The 3,750 multicolored lights that decorate the 85-foot Norway spruce above the skating rink were lighted Thursday night. The tree also boasts 250 little snowmen.

Collins Defends Party Politics

Dem Chairman Says 'Independent' Generally Refers to a Nonvoter

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Democratic State Chairman John J. (Joe) Collins of Michigan defended partisan politics today as "a proper fountainhead for progressive development of the practices of good government."

★ ★ ★

Political parties, he said are "the tools by which free men in a free country govern themselves in the way they choose," Collins said in an address prepared for the national convention of Young Democrats.

★ ★ ★

The 36-year-old Michigan party chief cited a University of Michigan study as saying, "The term 'independent' when applied to a voter most often refers to a nonvoter."

Collins listed four kinds of independent voters—the uninformed and uninterested; the interested and "independent partisans"—Republicans or Democrats who sometimes vote the other party.

★ ★ ★

It is the duty of partisans to win over "that sizable body of Americans genuinely concerned with meeting the problems of modern America and the modern world."

★ ★ ★

"It is our duty to convince such people that 'politics' is an abused term—not a dirty word," he added.

Kennedy Takes Day to Unwind

Relaxes in Palm Beach; May Go to Church, See to Yule Accommodations

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — President Kennedy claimed a day off for himself today.

The chief executive relaxed in comfort with a growing number of early season arrivals at this Florida Coast resort where the bathing beach long ago gave way to lavish estates.

He may put aside reports and papers for two excursions into town—to attend Feast of the Immaculate Conception Services at St. Edward's Church, and possibly to look over the house where he and his family will spend the Christmas holidays.

NO SCHEDULE

Andrew T. Hatcher, acting press secretary, said Kennedy had no schedule, official or social, for the day. He announced no appointments, and Hatcher listed his only guest as David F. Powers, a political supporter from Kennedy's first congressional campaign and now White House receptionist.

★ ★ ★

Whether Kennedy would return to Washington late today or Saturday was uncertain. The President is understood to have some work he wants to do on the budget he must propose to Congress next month.

Brash Little Giant Realizes Dream

Rooney Bubbling Over About His Showbiz School

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE

NEW YORK—A small, plug-ugly visitor strode up to our apartment door this week, rang the bell, slid easily through the slightly opened door. Behind his cauliflower ear, the doorman — ordinarily fearless — was quivering. Under his gashed eye and his gnarled nose, his mouth opened . . . slowly . . . .

"Well," he said amiably, "I have grown up at last."

★ ★ ★

This was Mickey Rooney, cosmetized into homely maturity for his role as a fight trainer in "Requiem for a Heavyweight."

He had just rushed over during lunch-hour from the "set" — a cold New York street corner. Gone was the Andy Hardy hairdo, in favor of a bald spot; off with the freckles, on with the wrinkles.

"It's a very poignant role," said Mickey, glancing in the foyer mirror, "but maybe they overdid it?"

Once settled over a scotch and soda to warm up the innards which were draped in moth-eaten poignancy, the graduate juvenile announced that "Twenty years ago I had a dream. I wanted to start a school for kids who could learn acting.

★ ★ ★

"Remember, 20 years ago I was 19. I'd already been in show business 14 years — started at the age of 5. So this wasn't a crazy dream of a kid who wanted to make a fast buck. It was a — a real solid idea.

32 SCHOOLS

"Well, at last I'm doing it, after all those years of thinking and talking about it. I'm starting a bunch of schools. There'll be 32 of them all around the country, and kids of all ages from five to 30-ish can learn the craft of show business.

"I don't mean just acting. They can learn music and writing and all the arts that are tied up with movies and television.

"Great idea, don't you think. Like a finishing school for talents."

★ ★ ★

Rooney was restless. He took quick gulps of the drink, and short pulls on the cigarette, as he tried to find words to describe his new education system — to be called the "Mickey Rooney Schools of Entertainment."

"Look, there's a Kirk Douglas in Poughkeepsie, I'm sure of that. There's a Judy Garland in Springfield, Ill. But where is the entree? How can they develop their talent and show it off? They've got to go to New York or Hollywood, that's what they've got to do, and probably go broke.

★ ★ ★

"My idea is to give kids a chance right in their own home towns. And then if they're good — well, I'm not promising any stardom, or screen tests, or even any jobs — but if they're good, they'll have a chance."

In the MRSE curriculum, he added, there will be personal instruction in all forms of the arts by professional teachers and actors, supervised by psychologists. "That psychologist business is to make sure that no child is pushed into something he doesn't want by ambitious parents. And, o'boy, are there some ambitious parents in this world!"

★ ★ ★

Mickey threw us his most intensely sincere Andy Hardy look: "If little Jackie doesn't want to be another Gene Kelly, I promise you that little Jackie's mother will be given her money back. And fast."

We asked if Mickey would want his children to go into show business. He has five youngsters, three boys and two girls, and his wife is expecting another baby in March.

"Of course I would, if they want to. I think whatever anybody wants to do, they should be able to do. My sons are all in the business. Mickey Jr., he's 16, is a serious guitarist, the Segovia bit. And he's 6 feet tall, would you believe it? I'm having his clothes cut down for me. The other boys are 14 and 11, and they're both in TV.

★ ★ ★

"The girls are still babies, so who knows? But I wouldn't be surprised if — well gosh, it's the greatest business in the world, if you can stand a little knocking around. So why wouldn't they want to go into it?"

New Director Named at Barry County Clinic

HASTINGS (AP) — The 140-bed Barry County Medical Care facility Thursday had a new medical director and assistant director to succeed Dr. W. R. Birk who resigned to devote more time to his private practice.

Former assistant, Dr. Herbert S. Wedel, 65, was elevated to the top post, according to announcement by Barry County Welfare Director Margery Dryer. The appointment was made by the County Welfare Commission.

Mrs. Dryer also said Dr. Charles Morrill, 28, who arrived at Hastings last August after serving one year at a clinic in Grant, takes Dr. Wedel's former post as assistant.

Countess' Ad Ends Christmas Card Troubles

LONDON (AP) — "Christmas cards nearly drove me mad last year," said 80-year-old dowager Countess Fitzwilliam, "so I've decided to do something about them."

★ ★ ★

She explained that she has put an advertisement in a London newspaper saying she will be unable to send Christmas cards this year because she will be away.

★ ★ ★

In the ad she said nevertheless she wanted to send best wishes to her friends and relatives. Asked where she planned to go on Christmas, she replied:

"Between you and me, I'm not going anywhere."

Reduce Charges to 'Assault'

Four Accused Attackers of Roger Swoverland to Get Hearing Monday

Four accused attackers of a Commerce Township man allegedly forced to run down the road near his home nude the night of Nov. 27, waived examination in justice court yesterday when charges were reduced.

Bound over to Circuit Court on aggravated assault charges were Thomas P. Teddy, 18, 28515 Beck Road; Parley C. Trusty, 21, 1576 Ladd Road; and William E. Smith, 20, 208 Endwell St., all of Commerce Township; and Donald R. Rose, 18, 49150 Pontiac Trail, Wixom.

They originally were charged with unarmed robbery and attempted extortion after sheriff's deputies found them in a car with naked and bleeding Roger E. Swoverland, 21, of 3123 Fisher Road.

Swoverland told deputies the foursome had dragged him from his home, beat him and forced him to run nude down the road in an effort to extort money from him. They also stole his clothes and 68 cents from his pants pocket, he said.

Asst. County Prosecutor Robert Stirling said the charge was reduced yesterday to facilitate prosecution on a lesser felony charge. "There definitely was aggravated assault involved," he said.

Township Justice of the Peace John C. Weick reduced bond on each of the four from $2,000 to $750 and scheduled a hearing in Circuit Court for Monday at 1:30 p.m.

Three Stay in Hospital After 2 Auto Crashes

Three traffic injury victims, including a 3-year-old boy, were admitted to St. Joseph Mercy Hospital yesterday.

Mrs. David Sexton, 22, of 3322 Harrison St., Avon Township, and her son Lawrence suffered facial injuries while passengers in a car that was rammed by another car on their street at the Marlowe Street intersection late yesterday afternoon.

Six other children in the same car and the driver, Mrs. Lavern Utley, 24, of 2131 Auburn Ave., were treated for minor injuries and released at the hospital.

Mrs. Sexton was listed in fair condition today at the hospital. Her son was reported as satisfactory. Three of her children were among those treated and released. The others were the Utley children ranging from 3 years to 11 months.

'FAILS TO YIELD'

Sheriff's deputies who investigated the accident said the driver of the other car, headed west on Marlowe Street, failed to yield the right of way. The driver, Mrs. Edna F. Hatcher, 58, of 3318 Longview St., Avon Township, also was treated at the hospital for minor injuries and released.

Mrs. Utley told officers she did not see Mrs. Hatcher's car pull out from the stop street until too late to avoid the crash.

A 14-year-old Rochester girl was listed in fair condition today at the hospital with injuries received when a car smashed into a tree alongside Brewster Road in Avon Township last night.

Annemarie Williams, 122 Alice St., suffered head cuts while a passenger in the car driven by Richard P. Sheppard, 16, of 322 Linwood St., Rochester.

* * *

He told sheriff's deputies that he took his eyes off the road momentarily and did not see the tree until after the car rammed into it. Sheppard was treated at the hospital for minor injuries and released.

Red Military Chiefs Say Plenty to Nikita About Budget

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press News Analyst

Soviet budget figures for 1962 tend to strengthen widespread suspicion that Nikita Khrushchev's military chiefs have an influential, if not decisive, role in shaping the U.S.S.R's policies.

The military seems to have won an argument.

As a result Khrushchev's pet program for an economic build-up to overtake and surpass U.S. per capita production in all fields by 1970 probably has experienced a severe jolt.

Only a year ago, presenting the 1961 budget, Finance Minister Vasily Garbuzov boasted that the U.S.S.R. was "unilaterally carrying out considerable reductions in its armed forces, and in this connection reduces expenditures for their maintenance." He announced that in 1961 the "expenditures for defense have again been reduced."

This, said Garbuzov, was in contrast with "the armaments race that is being carried on by the imperialist states." But the 1961 budget, he added, was sufficient to keep "the country's defense preparedness at the proper level."

The curtailment in defense expenditures was advertised last year as a move in the interest of developing the internal economy, a matter close to the heart of a large section of the Soviet citizenry.

In the 1962 budget just announced, military expenditures are hiked by 50 per cent above the 1961 level, an enormous increase.

* * *

And the figure of 13.4 billion rubles does not give the whole military spending picture, since many expenditures are hidden in budgets like those for science and the national economy.

The U.S.S.R., Garbuzov told the Supreme Soviet, was "compelled to suspend reduction of armed forces for the time being and to effect other measures to strengthen the defenses of the armed forces." He blamed a Western "armaments race."

* * *

However, by his own account, the West was carrying out an armaments race last year, too. That apparently did not stop Khrushchev from envisioning a partial demobilization and investment of the savings in the national economy.

Build-ups on both sides of the Cold War are the results of crisis atmospheres, and the crisis have been created by Moscow. The central crisis in Berlin would not be there had the U.S.S.R. not created it.

Khrushchev's economic build-up and his appeal to popular opinion by the promise of abundance in years to come were part of a program which had been the apple of his eye.

But his new investment in arms and stepped up investment in economic aid competition among underdeveloped nations are bound to slow down his internal program.

LOST ARGUMENT

Khrushchev's loss of the argument, according to some of the best informed sources in Europe to whom I talked recently, goes back to May 1960 and the U2 spy-plane incident.

The Soviet leader had rammed through measures calling for demobilization of close to 2 million men and 250,000 officers from his top-heavy conventional forces and turning the manpower loose in the economy.

The officers didn't like it, but they apparently had to swallow it.

It had been known to Soviet authorities for some time that highflying U.S. intelligence planes were scouting Soviet territory.

* * *

When one U2 plane was brought down over the Sverdlovsk area, deep inside Russia, the military apparently seized its opportunity. The U.S.S.R. had been painfully embarrassed.

RUG PULLED OUT

Five months earlier, when Khrushchev returned from his visit to the United States, he made several little-publicized speeches in Siberia, in which he expressed conviction that President Eisenhower was a man of peace, and while Eisenhower was in control in Washington, there would be no nuclear war.

* * *

Even immediately after the U2 was brought down, Khrushchev repeated this conviction. But a few days later, President Eisenhower himself took the blame for the U2 incident.

That pulled the rug from under Khrushchev's arguments, and his reaction at the abortive summit conference in Paris in May 1960, was violent.

It was then that the demobilization orders were reversed and the Soviet build-up was planned all over again. The generals had won.

* * *

Thereafter, the Berlin crisis was revived, in advance of the 22nd Soviet Communist party congress, and created a conveniently tense atmosphere which could excuse the new heavy investment in arms and even the renewal of Soviet nuclear testing in violation of a moratorium.

Out of all this one gets the impression that Khrushchev remains the boss in Moscow mostly at the tolerance of the military chiefs who support him. An their support has its price.

Walled Lake Hails Debate

By JEANNIE SPENGEMAN

Walled Lake High School was host to the Inter-Lakes Debate League Monday afternoon to launch the league's debate season activities.

Seven rounds of Varsity competition took place, involving affirmative and negative teams from each of the schools represented.

During the course of the afternoon, two schools, Southfield and Cranbrook, emerged with top honors. Splitting the victories and losses were Waterford Kettering, Waterford, and Farmington. Losing both rounds were Pontiac Northern and Walled Lake.

Judges for the event from Wayne University were secured through Dr. James McMonagle, also one of the judges.

In addition to Varsity competition, schools contributed 26 two-man teams to the Junior Varsity debating. All were unable to participate because of lack of competition.

Patty Looman, director of debating at Kettering, plans to schedule those who didn't have opportunity to debate at league's next meet at Cranbrook on Tuesday.

REPRESENT SCHOOL

Representing Walled Lake for the first time were Irene Doucette and Bettie Lott, affirmative, and Chris Hill and Sandy Kaiser, negative.

Sophomores attempting J. V. competition for Walled Lake were Tom Tucker and Paul McVey, who won their match; and Sue Rourke and Barbara Prattinger, who failed to convince the judges.

Mrs. William Duckwitz, director of debate at Walled Lake, was not discouraged, as for many of the participants it was not only their first competition, but the first debate they had ever heard.

★ ★ ★

Because all of the Walled Lake debate squad was either listening to or participating in the debates, members of the Walled Lake Future Teachers' Association served refreshments between rounds to judges, coaches, and the 104 debaters.

Central's Debaters Vying for Second in Tournament

By WADE WILKISON

Pontiac Central High School debaters moved up to one point out of second place in the Saginaw Valley Debate Conference by placing second in the debate tournament held Nov. 30 at Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Pontiac Central won ten debates and lost two, finishing second among the eight other conference schools, with Flint Central coming in first.

At the half way mark with two tournaments to go PCHS has 22 points for third place with Flint Northern ahead with 23 and Flint Central in the lead with 26; the other five conference schools are strung out behind.

PLACE HIGHER

The Pontiac Central debate team moved up from the fifth place berth they occupied in the first tournament, passing Flint Southwestern and Saginaw in total points.

The next tournament will be held at Bay City Handy Thursday and will be a cross-question type of debate.

First varsity team debaters that have won all four debates are Bill Graves, Steve Wyman, Andrea Tynan, and Carol Chappell.

Second team debaters that won three of four debates are Nancy Bain, Judy Pickett, Carol Jo Goodshian, and Brian Bojesen. The PCH third team members that have won three of four debates are Kenneth Wilson, Dick Taylor, Albert Munson, Jo Anne Quince, and Dick Levine.

An advanced math course covering many of the sections that college courses cover is being offered to those students whose math background has included enough basics. Many different courses in history are being offered and possibly one added that will enable the students to gain greater insight of the world.

Dramatics and music department has decided on the musical for this year, "Li' Abner," based on the famous cartoon character of Al Capp.

Tryouts will be held the week before Christmas vacation for the casting of characters such as Li' Abner, Daisy Mae, Mammy and Pappy Yokum, Marryin' Sam, Stupefyin' Jones, Apassionata Von Climax, General Bullmoose, and the chorus parts.

Brandon Cheerleaders Sponsor Tonight's Hop

By BETTY ASHBY

Brandon High School varsity cheerleaders are sponsoring a dance tonight after the Brandon-Goodrich basketball game.

Preparing for the dance are Linda Phipps, captain; Linda Sauvage, Dianne Grovesteen, Lyn Shaver, Carol Spencer, Betty Ashby, and Faye Ann Schmidt.

Lasting until midnight, dance admission will be 35 cents per student.

RAISES FUNDS

This is one of the various fund raising projects cheerleaders sponsor to raise money for their uniforms. During the '61-'62 basketball season the varsity cheerleaders' uniforms will be blue and white twill skirts, topped with white long sleeved sweaters and blue collars that match the skirts.

To start the season rolling with interest, the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders built this afternoon's pep assembly around the theme "Cheerleading throughout the ages."

Beginning with the stone age and advancing to the space age, the cheerleaders will be wearing outfits that go with the particular era in which they are cheering.

Another project of the cheerleaders is selling pompons at the games, purchased for 30 cents each at the bookroom across from the entrance to the gym.

Junior varsity cheerleaders are making posters for the dance. Cheering on the J. V. squad are Hazel Solley, captain; Peggy Whipple, Beverly Austin, Carmen Miller, Connie Kassuba, Linda Becker and Linda Whipple.

Serenity Reigns at Retreat Time in St. Frederick

By SUE POLMEAR

An unusual air of serenity and quiet prevailed at St. Frederick's this week due to the annual retreat.

★ ★ ★

A retreat is a time for quiet thinking about the past and the future. This year's retreat under the direction of Rev. Bernard Dominick, formerly of St. Benedict's, consisted of conferences, spiritual reading, meditations and counseling. In our busy world of today it was a welcome "retreat."

All activity didn't cease however, as the senior girls took the Betty Crocker Scholarship Test Tuesday. This test given on a nationwide basis tests homemaking techniques and knowledge of decorating, food planning and other related areas.

★ ★ ★

Several members of the Drama Club will attend a production of Henry IV at the University of Michigan tomorrow. The all-day affair will include discussion and critique of the play.

A recent assembly featured the U. of M. debaters who gave a sample debate. Their topic was Resolved: The labor unions should be put under antitrust legislation.

★ ★ ★

Debaters explained debating techniques and answered questions on the topic following the debate.

Education in Motion?

The power of motion pictures as a teaching-learning tool may explode upon the education world in the near future with the rapid technological improvement of 8mm sound film. In fact, audio-visual circles are beginning to term the miniature film "the paperback of the film market."

The Waterford Township Civic Dance Band will provide the music. Small pizzas and punch will be served to guests in the east cafeteria.

Acting as general chairman of "Snow Mist" is Rick Biggers. Other students responsible for planning the dance are Barbara Bassett, decorations; Howard Bertram, refreshments; Sharon Martin, publicity; Rick Rosegart, entertainment; Sandy Runyan, tickets; and Francis Young, in charge of the senior court.

Tuesday, Waterford Kettering debators visited Walled Lake High School to participate in the first Inter-Lakes debate.

DEBATE SUBJECT

Subject of the debate was Resolved: That the federal government should equalize educational opportunity by means of grants to the states for public, elementary and secondary education.

Varsity debaters for the negative were Cynthia Kruchko and Jean Wohlgehagen who defeated Farmington. Affirmative varsity debaters, Jerry Johns and Dave Regner, lost to Cranbrook.

Six junior varsity debate teams participated with hopes of again this year capturing the Junior Varsity Inter-Lakes Debate Trophy which they won last year.

St. Mike Girls Request Silence for FHA Test

By SHARON RODDEN

Senior girls at St. Michael High School were demanding "silence please" as they shut their classroom doors to the hustle-bustle of busy school life and settled down to thinking about their future with their Betty Crocker Homemaking tests Tuesday.

Betty Crocker is searching for a qualified senior girl to represent the "Future Homemaker of America."

The girl who ranks the highest score and writes the best essay on the subject of the "compromise" will be named "Future Homemaker of America" after being judged and chosen from a number of finalists.

JOIN PRACTICE

In contrast with their plea for silence the same girls along with freshmen, sophomores and vigorous juniors gathered in the gymnasium for the first practice of the girls' basketball team. Sixty girls under the coaching of Carolyn Kraus will participate in basketball activities this year. There are three teams: varsity, junior varsity, and a practice team.

Senior class joined in a special ceremony Wednesday afternoon as the Reverend Father James Hayes blessed the class rings.

Class president Stu Rindfusz; Jim Hurren, vice president; Nancy Rick, secretary; and Bill Heitzen, treasurer, led the procession into the Church where the blessing took place.

The ceremony, one which adds a special spiritual meaning to graduation, was introduced by last year's senior class.

Among the important things that seniors do to prepare for their commencement is that of selecting invitations for which purpose a class meeting was held Friday.

They were given three choices and finally chose one with a design and a gold emblem of St. Michael's in the upper left corner.

They are to select their name cards soon.

Bloomfield Hills Awaits Play Cast Again Saturday

By CLAIRE PERLMAN

The senior class of Bloomfield Hills High School presented the play "You Can't Take It With You" last night and will present it again tomorrow night at 8:15 p.m. The play is enacted on the stage of Bloomfield Hills High School.

★ ★ ★

The play itself is a three-act comedy written by Moss Hart and George S. Kaufman.

Also Feels Everyone in Hollywood Terrified of Something

Suave Michael Rennie Great Believer in Hunches

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The man was tall, ruggedly handsome, and at the age of 26 he had decided he was the world's worst automobile salesman.

BOYLE

Acting on a hunch, he went into a London film company's office and said: "I want to act."

Instead of being thrown out on his ear, the young man was given a job as an extra. Then he became a stand-in.

Now, after acting some 400 roles in movies and on stage and television, Michael Rennie is a top star in all three fields.

Rennie, an ex-Royal Air Force pilot, is a master of suavity as an actor. In person he is cheerfully blunt and forceful, and not at all averse to expressing his opinions.

REASON INTERFERES

For example, he believes implicitly in trusting in one's hunches.

"Although we've intellectualized ourselves a long way," he said, "we are still animals—and animals have guiding instincts, or hunches.

"Unfortunately, we don't follow them enough. We reason too much and waver. We have lost the ability to trust in our hunches and act on them.

★ ★ ★

"I believe in first impressions. They are rarely wrong. Whenever I failed to follow a hunch in my life, usually I regretted it later."

Rennie is convinced he's comparatively late start as an actor was a help rather than a handicap.

"I don't see how people much younger than 26 can portray emotions they have never experienced or characters they have never encountered," he said. "The older you are the more life has prepared you to become an actor."

He believes maturity also is likely to endow a performer with solid standards of his own "to withstand those of Hollywood—and they have some very odd standards in that neck of the woods."

Rennie's view of the American film capital, where he spent seven years, is somewhat less than flattering.

"Everybody in Hollywood—from the top on down—is terrified of something. Fear is an even more prevalent emotion there than sex.

"They are the most insecure people in the world, mostly because they lacked security before they came there.

"Most of them have forgotten how to give an honest answer. Before giving you a truthful opinion they glance over both shoulders to see if anyone else is watching or listening.

"Yet, yes-men have no real future. They are used, but not respected.

"There is an almost childlike quality about the insecurity of major figures in Hollywood. Tell them they can't have something, and they want it even more. They must have it—no matter what the price."

Here is Rennie's own idea of personal security:

"To be secure you have to be contented as a person, and by that I don't mean you should become a cabbage.

"The discontent of most people is a result of trying to keep up with the Joneses. As long as you set your standards by someone else, you're bound to be discontented—because you'll pick someone who has something you don't have.

"You have to pick your own standards and live by them. You have to be what you think you are—not dependent on what others say or think of you."

'WE Can Bury YOU, Mr. K'

Italy's N-Defense Against Reds Terrific but on the QT

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Add the names "Honest John," "Corporal" and "Jupiter IRBM" to your lexicon of nuclear weapons-and, thank you. From a base in Italy, Bob Considine sends this first article of a series on America's nuclear might.)

By BOB CONSIDINE

SOUTHERN EUROPEAN TASK FORCE HQ, VERONA, Italy—Italy's substantial contribution to the nuclear defense of the West has not been properly spelled out.

There is a new Italian fighting man in the world, and he has profited from the excessive boasts, ranting claims and abysmal end of Mussolini and the Fascists of another generation.

He is quieter, more composed, possessed of arms indescribably more powerful than those of Il Duce, and he is aligned with sober and industrious NATO.

The Italian government feels it is best not to permit too much publicity to appear about its nuclear strength and close association with the U.S. Army and U.S. Air Force.

LARGEST IN EUROPE

Italy's Communist party of 1.7 million is the largest in Europe, a perpetual anti-American sounding board and—in the event of war—a serious sabotage threat.

Several U.S. congressional groups, inspecting Western European military might have been surprised lately to be turned down when they requested permission to look in on what the Italians are providing.

Their requests have been bucked all the way up to Gen. Lauris Norstad, Supreme Allied Commander, Europe, and to the highest echelons of the Fanfani government, to no avail.

★ ★ ★

This can be recorded, however:

—Italy now has two well-trained Jupiter IRBM squadrons equipped with thermonuclear warheads. There are 30 of these 1,720-mile-range missiles in place on well-guarded pads south of Naples. Their targets behind the Iron Curtain are pinpointed.

In the event of a Soviet attack on the West, Italy could—and would—launch a tremendous retaliatory punch in 15 minutes or less.

—The country has a streamlined, hard-hitting air force whose fighters, some of them Supersonic F104s, would join in well-rehearsed counterattacks with American-supplied tactical A-bombs.

—The Italian army is the first foreign force trained and tested with the Honest John rocket by U.S. Army personnel.

I was at Cape Canaveral, Fla., last April when Italy's first Jupiter team fired its first shot down the Atlantic range. It was an unqualified success.

The 10-man team from the 36th Aerobrigade Jupiter Missile Group, commanded by Brig. Gen. Giulio Cesare Granziani, is a portion of the Italian armed forces committed to NATO.

It had undergone exhaustive training at 7230th Technical Training Group Headquarters, USAFE, Wiesbaden, Germany, and at language and missile training at Lackland AFB, Texas, and Huntsville, Ala.

The April launch, which hit the target area more than 1,500 miles down range, was witnessed by Maj. Gen. Mario Bucchi, vice chief of staff, Italian Air Force. The launch control officer of this test—which got little attention because Cmdr. Alan Shepard was about to be launched into suborbit—was Maj. Enrico Dallari.

COLONEL TYPICAL

Lt. Col. Italo Larese, training chief of the 36th Aerobrigade, typifies the background and skills of the Italian of the missile age.

He is a jet pilot, speaks Spanish, French and English in addition to Italian, is a graduate of the University of Triest, and saw action against the Allies until Italy was knocked out of World War II.

★ ★ ★

He is responsible for the language and technical training of all Jupiter crews, rides herd on Italian officers and noncoms delving into the mysteries of guidance and control systems, propulsion, fueling, electronics and the 1,001 other aspects of the 150,000-pound missile —largest weapon ever developed by the U.S. Army.

★ ★ ★

The pact that links the United States and Italy in the operation of the Jupiters is similar to that involved in the Anglo-American Thor bases in Britain and, soon to be, the Turkish-American Jupiter program.

A small detachment of USAF officers and men lives on the Italian missile sites. U.S. "authentication" officers hold the keys—which would send the Jupiters roaring off toward their targets in the event of war.

★ ★ ★

Italian officers, and they alone, hold the keys that enable the Jupiters to be prepared for the take-off. Thus it is a joint operation, with neither side in complete control of the weapon—and both sides subservient to a series of checks and balances ranging down from the White House through the Joint Chiefs of Staff, the British prime minister, NATO and the Italian government.

GO IN A HURRY

No Jupiter could conceivably be shot off by a trigger-happy patriot. But they would go in a hurry, if ordered, and tear out the soft underbelly of the U.S.S.R.

★ ★ ★

Maj. Gen. Eugene F. Cardwell, one of the U.S. Army's foremost authorities on missiles, heads up the unique SETAF, which was born six years ago in the wake of our withdrawal of troops from Austria.

There are 12 Italian officers at his headquarters here in this gentle, fabled town of Romeo and Juliet. Eleven of them saw service against Allied forces in World War II.

"You can't find better relationships anywhere in the military than right here," Gen. Cardwell told us emphatically in his office—in the presence of an Italian colonel who had been captured with the Afrika Korps and stockaded at Temple, Tex., and later Little Rock, Ark.

WORK TOGETHER

"Our forces work together, engage in exercises together, and we have a joint communications system. We get along well socially. We have a lower rate of disciplinary action than anywhere else.

"The Italian people like us, and one of the reasons they do is that we, the Americans, don't overrun any place. We're spread over three towns, here, Vicenza and Leghorn.

"The children of our officers and men take Italian in schools. We live in the cities among the people, and on the economy to a great degree. The people understand why we are here. We are here to help them defend Northern Italy in the event of war."

The general stood up and walked across the room to a map.

★ ★ ★

"If the Red army came across Yugoslavia and broke through here," he said, pointing to the border, "NATO would be cut in half. The lines that extend from Norway around to Turkey would be broken. If SETAF 'gave' and broke, well, they would have the richest part of Italy, and good flat country in which to press forward.

"We are here to see that that won't happen."

Any such frontal attack would be met by two of the most dependable weapons in the West's arsenal of missiles capable of carrying nuclear warheads—the Honest John and the Corporal.

The Honest John, as unguided but remarkably accurate rocket with ranges up to 20 miles, was turned over to Italian forces in 1959. The III Missile Brigade, commanded by Brig. Gen. Giovanni de Gennaro, has two crack American-trained battalions, and itself is training a third.

Gen. De Gennaro commanded Italy's 20th armored corps during the war, then joined the Italian Liberation Corps (resistance force against the Nazis) and later commanded the "Legnano" Combat Battalion that fought alongside Allied troops from Cassino to Brescia.

★ ★ ★

He won two Bronze Medals. In preparing for his present post, he attended the Advanced Officer Transportation Course, U.S. Army Transportation School, Fort Eustis, Va.

★ ★ ★

SETAF, in short, is a prime example of the coordination of the free world in its militant stand against any Communist aggression.

It is probable that some of its men once faced each other in battle. Today, brothers in arms, they stand ready to fight an enemy who would enslave both.

'Er . . . Merry Christmas'

Call to JFK Goes Through

HOUSTON, Tex. (UPI) — It started in a heated bull session at the University of Houston and spread to the White House with President Kennedy sitting in.

And if you wonder why Michael Schipper, 19, of New York is so quiet today, it is because he lost his point in a most dramatic way . . . at the expense of the federal government.

Schipper, a psychology major at the University of Houston, made a statement in the bull session that a freshman disputed.

"The government is such an unwieldy bureaucracy, the President is out of touch with the people, completely inaccessible," Schipper said.

"That's not true," the freshman objected.

"I'll prove my point," Schipper announced.

A MAN OF ACTION

He grabbed the telephone and dialed long distance. He told the operator to get him the President of the United States . . . collect.

The call went through to first one White House secretary, and then another. Schipper heard the second secretary ask:

"Mr. President, will you accept a collect call from a Mr. Michael Schipper in Houston, Tex.?"

★ ★ ★

There was a pause, and then a voice with an unmistakable Boston accent said:

"This is President Kennedy, Mr. Schipper. What can I do for you?"

"Well . . . yessir . . . Mr. President. I ah . . . I am a student at the University of Houston . . . and I ah . . . just called . . . ah . . . to wish you a Merry Christmas . . ."

★ ★ ★

"Oh. Well, I wish the same to you. Kind of you to call."

"Mr. President," Schipper said with the freshman tugging at his arm, "there's a friend here . . ."

"Very well . . . put him on."

"Merry Christmas, sir," the freshman said.

"Thank you. And now I have to hang up, I'm very busy."

"Yes sir, goodby."

"Goodby," the President said.

★ ★ ★

Any wonder that Mike Schipper has been kind of quiet ever since?

Corrections Director Getting Complaints

LANSING (AP)—The State Corrections Department has received complaints that John A. MacLellan, member of the state parole board, is lobbying for the Michigan Hospital Association, state corrections director Gus Harrison said today.

The State Corrections Commission was expected to issue a statement Monday advising MacLellan to avoid all lobbying activities or give up his $12,500 job on the parole board.

MacLellan, of Detroit, formerly was an attorney and legislative agent for the association. He gave up the lobbying job when he was named to the parole board last year, advising the commission that he planed to continue as a legal counsel.

The commission agreed to the plan, Harrison said.

Economy Egg Nog Starts With Evaporated Milk

Snowy Peak Eggnog is based on evaporated milk rather than cream. Beat 4 egg yolks with ¼ cup sugar until thick, stir in ¾ cup Cognac and 3 large cans evaporated milk. Mix well, chill, and pour into punch bowl.

★ ★ ★

Beat 4 egg whites until stiff but not dry, gradually beat in ¼ cup sugar. Fold ⅔ meringue mixture into eggnog; drop remainder in mounds. Dust with nutmeg. Makes twenty ½-cup servings.

Hold the Sugar

Most recipes for hot spiced cider call for the addition of sugar, but your family may find this beverage sweet enough as is and you can omit the sugar. A cinnamon stick and a few whole cloves are usually added for the spicing.

ELECTRIC HEAT

HARD-TO-HEAT ROOMS? A hard-to-heat room or porch can be so uncomfortable in cold weather its usefulness is lost. It also puts a strain on your present heating system. Eliminate these problems with any one of the several built-in electric heat systems.

BUYING OR BUILDING A NEW HOME? You can be sure your new home is really new if you specify built-in electric heat. It will cost you more to operate than an older style heating system—but it more than makes up for it in greater comfort and cleanliness. Electric heat has several more benefits not found in other heating systems. For example, it lets you dial the temperature for each room separately, without overheating or cooling other rooms. Compact, simple and safe, electric heat is the new kind of heat engineered for today's new kind of home.

ADDING NEW SPACE? New living space in a home usually means an added burden on your present heating system. Here's an ideal opportunity to take full advantage of built-in electric heat. Installing it requires no major cutting through floors, partitions or walls. A new room can have its own heating system, with pinpoint temperature control . . . something never before possible in standard heating systems.

MODERNIZING? Fixing up the old recreation room? Tearing out a partition to enlarge the living room? Installing larger windows? Home improvements very often alter the heating requirements within a home so drastically as to make the old heating system entirely unsatisfactory. When they do, electric heat can solve the problem fast. And you'll get living comfort never before imagined, too!

All these benefits—yours with flameless electric heat!

CLEANLINESS . . . The cleanest heating method ever devised, electric heating means walls, draperies, carpets and furniture stay cleaner longer. With electric heat, there's no soot or other products of combustion circulating in the air.

CUSTOM COMFORT . . . Keep one room at 72, another at 65. The temperature can be up in one room, down in another, or heat can be completely off.

EFFICIENCY . . . Electric heat lets you raise the temperature in one room without firing up the entire heating plant. And with electric heat, all of the heat created is usable heat—none is wasted up a flue.

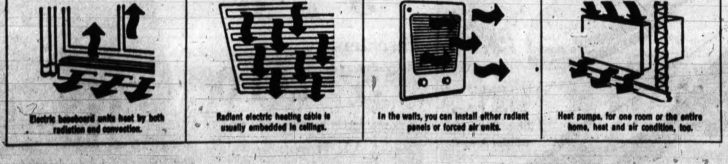

FLEXIBILITY . . . Electric heat can replace regular baseboards—can be built into the walls or ceiling. Whether it be one room or the entire home, there is a system to give better heating—electrically.

CARES FOR ITSELF . . . Set a dial, then forget it. There are no moving parts at all in radiant systems. Forced air electric heating systems are long-lived, too; they use low-velocity fans. In either type, there's little to wear out, need adjustment or replacement.

SAFETY . . . No combustion process. No worries. Concentrations of superheated air are eliminated. Electric heating systems distribute heat safely, gently.

REDUCED RATE . . . In addition to the money saved on cleaning and decorating, residential customers can now take advantage of a new, lower rate. Just 2¢ per kilowatt-hour when monthly electrical use is over 750 kilowatt-hours. Though other living costs have been rising steadily during the past several years, electricity remains one of your biggest bargains—now more than ever, with this new and lower rate step.

Choose from several types of electric heat

Electric baseboard units heat by both radiation and convection.

Radiant electric heating cable is usually embedded in ceilings.

In the walls, you can install either radiant panels or forced air units.

Heat pumps, for one room or the entire home, heat and air condition, too.

Look for this symbol when you buy. It assures you of safe, dependable installation. For complete information about electric heating, stop in at the Edison office near your home or send in coupon at right for free booklet about electric heating.

Saginaw Senior Named Governor of 'Legislature'

LANSING (AP) — Nick J. Hall, a Sunday School teacher and star athlete who hopes some day to be a U.S. senator from Michigan, is the governor of the annual youth legislature.

★ ★ ★

Hall, an 18-year-old senior at Saginaw High School, was the choice of some 260 delegates to the teen-age exercise in legislative government sponsored by the YMCA. He is the third Negro to win the office.

Earlier this year, he was named governor of Michigan Boys' State, an American Legion event.

Mike A. Reed, 17, of St. Joseph, was elected lieutenant governor of the legislature, drawn from Hi-Y clubs throughout the state.

★ ★ ★

Bettay Belle Stowe, 16, of Cadillac was chosen speaker of the house, the first girl to ever to achieve the honor.

Experiment Records OK After Fire Kills Poultry

SOUTH SALEM, N.Y. (AP)—Records dealing with 15 years of experimental chicken breeding by Henry A. Wallace were saved Thursday from a fire that destroyed a poultry barn on the former vice president's farm.

★ ★ ★

Wallace, who became interested in chicken breeding while U.S. secretary of agriculture, said about 1,000 chickens were lost, including many that were undergoing tests in efforts to develop chickens that will lay more eggs on less food.

Prime Minister Faces Tough Task

Tanganyika to Assume Independence With a Prayer

AP Photofax

TO BE INDEPENDENT — Map locates Tanganyika, a U.N. trust territory on Africa's east coast, which will be granted independence Saturday. The area is currently administered by Great Britain.

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—Tanganyika, a colonial outpost on the Indian Ocean for 75 years, will take its future into its own hands at midnight with a hope, a prayer and Julius Nyerere.

The new nation, colonized first by the Germans, later by the British, will need all three—and particularly Nyerere—to make its way safely through the perils which face newly independent countries in Africa today.

FACES TOUGH TASK

Nyerere, prime minister of the new state, will face the task before him with a shaky economy, largely agricultural, and a populace of some 9 million already demanding the expected improvements of independence. To back him up, he has a reputation for moderation, democratic idealism and hard work.

As the Duke of Edinburgh and official guests from 65 nations celebrate independence in a specially built, $500,000 stadium nobody will be more aware than Nyerere that the stadium money could have been used for more pressing needs.

'WORK ONLY ANSWER'

Ghana, a much smaller country with little more than half the population of Tanganyika, had some $750 million in reserves when it became independent in 1957. Tanganyika steps into the free world with about $11 million in the till.

Nyerere says his nation faces a budget deficit of more than a million dollars in its first year of existence and the only answer to the problem is work.

A former teacher, Nyerere heads the Tanganyika African National Union, the only real political organization in the country. He created it and his hope is that it will be the vehicle for bringing real democracy to the nation rather than the all-encompassing, dictatorial political body which President Kwame Nkrumah has made of his Convention People's party in Ghana.

WILL NEED AID

Tanganyika will need foreign economic assistance to survive. Nyerere definitely prefers that this help come from the West although he probably will align Tanganyika among the world's neutrals.

The nation will become an independent state within the British Commonwealth. Sir Richard Turnbull, governor of the British territory, will become the first governor general.

The country's main product is sisal, a plant whose fibrous stems produce rope and twine. Tanganyika also exports cotton and coffee. The government has a half interest in the old Williamson diamond mine and about $12 million worth of diamonds are exported annually.

Woman Sues Firms in Husband's Death

DETROIT (AP) — Suits totaling $2,250,000 were filed against three firms Thursday by the widow of a man who was killed in a yacht explosion.

The suits were filed in Wayne County Circuit Court by Mrs. Louisa Maskeny of Taylor Township.

Her husband, Thomas, was burned fatally in June 1960 when a yacht exploded on the Detroit River.

Sued for $750,000 each were Leonard's Plumbing and Heating Co. of Melvindale, owner of the boat; Chris-Craft Corp. of Holland, the boat manufacturer, and Cooper Chris-Craft Sales, Inc., of St. Clair Shores, sellers of the boat.

Mrs. Maskeny contended in her suits the boat was "unsafe" and "negligently designed" by Chris-Craft. She said the blast came when gas fumes enveloped hot engines.

SOMETHING NEW ADDED—Ballet star Renee (Zizi) Jeanmaire, wearing a costume highlighted by egret and bird of paradise feathers, rehearses a song and dance routine in Paris. It's a part of a number she will present shortly in a Paris theater. She is better known to foreign audiences as a ballerina, but in France she has added singing and musical comedy to other talents.

November Crime Rate at Low Level for City

The crime rate in Pontiac dropped to its lowest level of the year in November after reaching its highest peak of 1961 the previous month.

This was revealed today in the month-end crime report of the Pontiac Police Department.

According to figures released by the department, 228 major offenses were reported to police in the city last month as compared with the year's high total of 230 crimes recorded in October.

Statistics also showed that the amount of crime during the first 11 months of 1961 had decreased from the total for a corresponding period last year.

3,077 OFFENSES

Police have handled 3,077 offenses in the seven major crime categories, ranging from murder to automobile theft, from Jan. 1 through Nov. 30 this year. There were 3,098 major crimes reported during the same time last year.

In November, 30 per cent of the cases reported to police resulted in arrest or clearance, an improvement of one per cent over the amount of cases removed from the books in October.

Crimes last month included 15 robberies, six aggravated assaults, 59 burglaries, 138 larcenies and 10 auto thefts.

In October there were 11 robberies, 17 aggravated assaults, 67 burglaries, 12 larcenies and 23 auto thefts.

There were no cases of murder or rape reported to police in either October or November.

Park Service Denies Tampering

Hold Dunes Report Unbiased Study

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The National Park Service insisted today its economic report on the proposed Sleeping Bear Dunes national recreation area . . . was based on "an independent, unbiased study."

It denied a charge by the Citizens' Council of Glen Arbor that the NPS added "its own conclusions (to the report) — without identifying them as such."

But — NPS officials acknowledged that they revised the basic study by Michigan State University's Institute for community development and services "by editing of a minor nature."

"The findings are those of the institute," E. W. Perkins, assistant chief of the division of recreation and resource surveys. "There was no change in the factual data.

* * *

Authorship of the Dunes economic report became an issue after the MSU institute was referred to as authority for arguments in favor of the controversial park proposal.

REPORT LIMITED

Institute Director Charles R. Adrian told the Traverse City Record-Eagle the institute's report was limited to: (1) the area's current land-use pattern; (2) its economic base, and (3) the likely future economic trend.

"That's right," Perkins said. "That is exactly what they did."

The dispute, therefore, would appear to center on the degree of editing.

The Citizens' Council, which is spearheading opposition to the proposal, said the final report was "misleading, to say the least."

Perkins claimed editing was needed to put the report "in the words and languages generally associated with parks.

* * *

He said MSU was picked to do the survey because "if we did it ourselves, it would be immediately picked up as a biased report."

The park service is backing the proposal, and in fact, was responsible for the legislation now before Congress which would create the park, or "national seashore" as the NPS calls it.

* * *

William Bowen, chief of the division of National Parks Service and National Recreation Area planning, said "we very definitely went out and got what we would say is an unbiased study. The only possible 'collusion" was that we paid for it. But that is standard."

Set Weekend Open House at Lapeer County Jail

LAPEER—The welcome mat will be out tomorrow and Sunday at the new Lapeer County Jail.

After that, admission will be by invitation only.

The 36-prisoner jail, constructed at a cost exceeding $420,000, is to replace the 100-year-old, two-story lockup which was condemned by the state in 1954.

The open house hours on tomorrow are 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. On Sunday, 1 to 5 p.m.

The sheriff's office is expected to be moved into the new quarters next week. The main phone number will remain the same: MO 4-8565.

Ground-breaking ceremonies were held in March of this year on the 12-acre site across from the Lapeer National Guard Armory on M21. The building is one-story concrete block structure.

A one-mill tax, levied for five years to pay for construction of the jail and a new county office, is due to expire next year.

Designed by the architectural firm of Cuthbert and Cuthbert of Dearborn, the new jail includes four maximum security cells and eight dormitory cells. Each of the dormitory cells has a capacity of four prisoners.

SEPARATION EASY

Separation of male and female prisoners, and of juveniles from adults, can be accomplished by closing doors in the 4-foot aisle which surrounds the cell-block.

Each cell is complete with four bunks, table and picnic-type benches. Showers and toilet are also provided.

The jail also will contain the sheriff's office, sheriff's squad room, and operator license bureau.

Behind the offices is a six-car garage, a receiving stall for prisoners, a storage room for confiscated property and a "drunk tank."

★ ★ ★

The entire jail operation can be controlled from a bulletproof booth in the front lobby. In it are radio and intercom facilities and controls for the jail's electrically operated doors.

Also included in the structure is a kitchen adjoining the cell-block. The 50-by-80-foot basement area might later be used to hold a laundry, through none is installed now. Laundry currently is to be handled by a commercial firm.

There is a sheriff's apartment with living room and dining alcove, three bedrooms and bath. It has a private entrance on the west end of the building.

Between the sheriff's apartment and the lobby is a bedroom with bath, which may be locked. This is for use by material witnesses, persons requiring protective custody or for visiting law officers.

Governor Urges State Harmony

Swainson Tells Farmers Michigan Schools Need More Revenue

MIDLAND (UP) — Gov. Swainson called for a cooperative effort from farmers, workers, business and industry to promote the common good of the people of Michigan.

★ ★ ★

Swainson told the Michigan Farmers Union convention last night that "we must make certain that our schools keep pace with the ever increasing load of students and rising costs of operation and we must provide the many services that an expanding population requires.

"We must face up to the need for more public revenue. However, you know even better than I that taxes on farm land already exceed reasonable levels in many areas.

"Yet, to meet our local school needs, they must rise even higher unless more state aid to local schools is available."

★ ★ ★

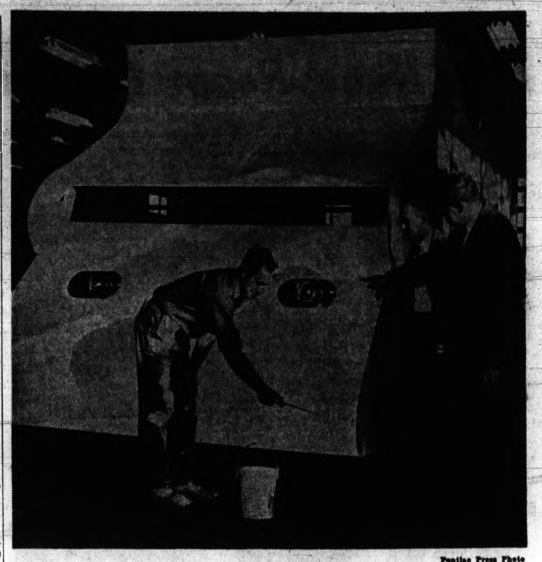

The governor said he sees a bright future for agriculture in Michigan, an expanding market for Michigan farm products and higher net farm income.

He called for more spending for agricultural research.

The group passed a resolution favoring a uniform code of milk inspection throughout the state under the jurisdiction of the department of agriculture.

Ernest Sawyer of Homer was re-elected president. Albert Wernette of Remus was named first vice president and Wallas Jones of Norway second vice president.

Two Teens Hurt Pushing Auto

One Detroit Youth Loses Leg, Other Also Still in Critical Condition

Two Detroit teen-agers remain in critical condition at Redford Receiving Hospital after being rammed from behind by a car as they tried to push another stalled auto off the road in Southfield.

As a result of the Wednesday night accident, it was necessary to amputate the right leg of Bradley Bandt, 13. His companion William Rose, 15, suffered fractures of both legs.

Another youth pushing the car, Roger Burkholder, 15, also of Detroit, is in serious condition at William Beaumont Hospital, Royal Oak, with a broken leg.

Southfield Police said the three youths were attempting to push the car to the shoulder on West Eight Mile road near Berg Road when the other car, driven by Edward Miller, 47, of 23715 Kirby Road, Farmington, struck them from behind.

★ ★ ★

Miller, uninjured, told police that he did not see the car until it was too late to stop. He was not held.

Larry Tinsley, 20, of Detroit, the driver of the stalled car, also escaped injury.

U.S. to Buy Potatoes to Help With Surplus

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department will buy potatoes from the 1961 fall crop to help ease problems brought on by surplus production, Secretary Orville L. Freeman said Thursday.

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., said he asked Freeman earlier this fall to undertake such a program to help deal with Michigan's sizable crop.

The state agriculture stabilization and conservative committee at Lansing will handle details of the programs to purchase potatoes for school lunches and welfare institutions in the state, Hart said.

Lyon School District

Citizens Committee to Eye Construction

SOUTH LYON—A citizens study committee on future building and curriculum needs in the Lyon School district will be organized Tuesday at an 8 p.m. public meeting in the South Lyon High School.

Dr. William J. Emerson, superintendent of Oakland County schools, will be the featured speaker. He will be introduced by Lyon Board of Education President Donald Smith.

Also addressing the group will be Henry Haberkorn of H. E. Boyster & Associates, the school district's engineering and architectural consulting firm. He will discuss procedures in establishing a citizens study group.

Following the talks, those in the audience who are interested in the study will be asked to select one of four subcommittees on which they would like to serve.

Each of the four groups will elect a chairman after they have discussed privately the goals and work procedures of their respective subcommittees.

A general chairman of the study committee will be elected by all the members of the organization.

The four subcommittees will establish projected enrollment figures in the district for the next 10 years, review the present curriculum program to determine if any changes should be made, and survey existing school buildings.

They also will recommend a building program and review the current financial structure of the school district in order to recommend appropriate measures for financing new construction.

When the study is complete the information will be correlated and submitted to the school board for consideration.

★ ★ ★

The play, "In 25 Words or Death," will be presented at 8 p.m. Dec. 14 and 16.

Director of the play is Mrs. James Egan, school drama director.

★ ★ ★

The cast includes Gloria Mills as Olive Bunker Hill, Marie Vinande as Miss Pruce, Carol Jean Brown as Mrs. Van Pelt, James Clarke as J. J. Hooth, Margaret Krainer as Hally Hampton, Sandra Perrin as Barbara Discoll, Roy Dougherty as Kelton Garwood, Roger Martin as Nicholas, Carol Bonesteel as Magda, Ronald Welch as Carl.

Pastors of neighboring Lutheran churches will assist in the special 4 p.m. service at the church, 9255 Southeastern Road.

At Romeo Board Meeting

OK School Building Plans

ROMEO — Preliminary plans for construction of some 22 new classrooms in the Romeo Community School District were approved by the board of education last night.

★ ★ ★

The expansion program provides for additions to the junior and senior high schools and Croswell School plus an addition and remodeling at the Washington School and remodeling at the North Grade School.

★ ★ ★

The $650,000 bond issue to finance the building projects was passed by the district electorate Oct. 17. The vote was 510 to 399.

An accompanying tax hike of three mills for 20 years also won approval by a 558-to-421 vote in the same special election.

PLAN 2-LEVEL WING

A new two-level wing will be added on the north side of the high school. It will be attached to the west side of the music room and will contain an audio-visual room, guidance counseling service area and boys' and girls' lavatories.

The first tier will have four classrooms, two on each side of a central corridor, and on the second tier there will be a large arts and crafts room on the north side and a similar size room on the south side for drafting and blueprint classes.

The estimated cost of building, equipping and furnishing the addition is $157,670. This amount does not cover a special education room to be added which will be paid for by the county.

★ ★ ★

A square, two-story building will be built on the south side of the junior high school property. It will contain a boiler room at the rear, four classrooms and lavatories on the ground level and a large science room and three classrooms on the floor above.

Estimated cost of this building plus furnishings and equipment is $173,500. Again, this does not include a special education room to be added here and paid for by the county.

In a new wing at the west end of the Croswell School will be a large special education classroom and two other classrooms. Cost is estimated at $38,760, not including the special education room.

TO CONVERT KITCHEN

The kitchen area at the Washington School will be converted into a health clinic and the hot-lunch area will be turned into an elementary library and speech room.

The new addition there will contain a multipurpose room, storage and kitchen facilities and a new boiler room with equipment to heat the whole unit.

Also in the new wing will be four regular classrooms plus a large kindergarten room. Total estimated cost of the entire project is $203,000, exclusive of a special education room also to be added there.

The remodeling project at the North Grade School will include the conversion of the principal's office into a faculty room, and of the special education room into an elementary library and storage room.

★ ★ ★

The principal's office will be built in the stairwell on the first floor. Cost of this school's remodeling project is estimated at $21,000.

★ ★ ★

Architect is Eberle M. Smith Associates, Inc., Detroit.

★ ★ ★

The smaller projects are due for completion during the course of the 1962-63 school year and the rest by the opening of school in September 1963.

NEWS OF THE AREA

Dunes Only Part of Plan for U.S. Park System

EAST LANSING (UPI) — The proposal to turn Sleeping Bear Dunes into a national recreation area was pictured today as "only a chapter in the total program" to assist in building and preserving Michigan's tourist and recreation resources.

★ ★ ★

Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., told the conference of the Michigan Parks Association that "changing times bring different values to different objects."

"In our nation's brief history, we have witnessed a rush for gold, a rush for water for navigation, a rush for water for power and a rush for uranium," Hart said, as he defended his proposal to make the Northwest Michigan scenic spot a part of a federal recreation area.

He added, "What some people fail to see — though the handwriting is large on the wall — is that we are on the brink of a great rush for water for recreation, and fortunate will be the state that has the foresight to ready for it."

MORE SHORELINE

Hart said that Michigan had more shoreline than any state in the union, except Alaska. Other states, he said, are forced to create water recreation facilities and Michigan has the task of preserving them.

★ ★ ★

The problem in the outdoor recreation field, he said, is growing demand and diminishing supply. "Everyone knows what happens in that kind of a situation: There is a scramble for what is available, sometimes a nasty scramble; the price rises sharply; and unless there is a set-aside in the public interest, the supply is exhausted," he said.

★ ★ ★

"That," Hart said, "is essentially what the battle is about."

Hart said that a 1959 meeting of the National Park System saw recommendation of three areas. Hart quoted then Secretary of Interior Seaton as saying, "Three outstanding areas — the Sleeping Bear Dunes, Huron Mountains and Pictured Rocks —were recommended for consideration as units of the national park system."

Hart said, "As with all shoreline studies, the Great Lakes survey found that the pressures of development were advancing with a resulting closing off of the public access to beaches and an increase in land value of the remaining stretches."

★ ★ ★

Hart said that his bill was often thought to have a companion bill, the Dingell bill.

★ ★ ★

He added that some people seem to prefer the Dingell bill because of the "much smaller acreage proposed for the Sleeping Bear Dunes, an area which reflects the initial reconnaissance survey by the park service, rather than the larger area recommended after the detailed study and incorporated in S. 2153 (the Hart-McNamara bill)."

Champion Steer Sells for $985 at Detroit Show

DETROIT (UP) — A Dearborn restaurant owner paid $1 a pound for the 985-pound Aberdeen Angus grand champion steer of the junior livestock show.

★ ★ ★

Herb Applegate also purchased the show's reserve grand champion, a 1,005-pound Hereford steer. Applegate paid 40 cents a pound for the reserve champion.

The grand champion was shown by Cathy Dawson of Litchfield, the reserve grand champion by Duane Kaatz of Mount Clemens.

The show's grand champion hog, a 230-pound Poland China shown by Eugene Girbach of Saline, was sold at 65 cents a pound.

★ ★ ★

The grand champion lamb, a 105-pound Hampshire shown by Philip Schmiege of Chesaning, was sold at $1.60 a pound.

'Nikita's Prediction May Come True'

NAM Warned of Creeping Socialism

NEW YORK (UPI) — The outgoing president of the National Association of Manufacturers warned today that if the "unconscious" drift toward centralized control of the economy continues Khrushchev's prediction that our grandchildren will live under socialism could come true.

★ ★ ★

John W. McGovern told the wind-up session of the NAM's 66th annual congress of American industry that neither the American people nor Congress nor the administration desires socialism any more than did the previous Republican administration.

But, he said, "the drift toward centralized government has continued steadily under both our political parties, despite the earnest efforts of individual leaders in each to halt and reverse the trend."

Persons who press for more and more government intervention in the lives of individuals for the most part do not want socialism either, McGovern said. "They are basically planners who are convinced that they know what is best for the people."

A PAPER WORLD

"The trouble is that their world is a paper world, dreamed up by themselves and often bearing little resemblance to reality," the NAM head said.

"People do not react the way the planners think they should react. They persist in acting like people and in responding to the incentives people everywhere have always responded to."

However, McGovern said, he was encouraged to think that the tide toward an all-powerful government may be turning.

"One of the most encouraging signs that it is beginning to turn," he said, "is the resurgence of individualism and faith in America" on American campuses.

William S. P. Cotter, national organization, took exception to McGovern's view that there is a marked revival in conservative thinking on the campuses.

Cotter said the resurgence of conservatism among college students is not a true revival but "merely the phenomenon of the last remnants of conservative students becoming more vocal and articulate."

Things Are Looking Up for State, Says Hatcher

ANN ARBOR (UPI) — Dr. Harlan Hatcher says a proposed $100 million capital improvements fund for state schools and plans to build an aircraft assembly plant near Willow Run Airport are signs that Michigan's "period of self-deprecation" is ended.

★ ★ ★

The University of Michigan president made the comment in an address before the 23rd annual bank study conference, attended by some 300 members of the Michigan Bankers Association here Thursday.

Hatcher drummed again on the university's oft-repeated theme that financial support for education and research is one of the greatest needs in the future of Michigan and the Midwest.

He said the east and west coasts have benefitted most from the "modern marriage of industry and research."

★ ★ ★

"It is necessary to limit this movement and build up the Midwest," said Hatcher, adding that an increase in education and research facilities would draw industry back to Michigan and other Midwestern states.

Although U. of M. is one of the nation's leading research institutions its value in drawing new industries here has been limited by obsolete facilities, Hatcher said.

"We have just gone through four years of stagnation in improvements. In certain areas of engineering, for instance, we are working with equipment which puts us in the position of a Pearl Harbor-vintage B17 operating in the jet age.

★ ★ ★

Hatcher said the state has just passed through a period of self-deprecation "which has been ruinous to our reputation in the eyes of the world," but named the college building fund proposal and the aircraft assembly plant as "signs this period is over."

Sen. Carleton H. Morris, R., Kalamazoo, has proposed a $100 million fund for capital construction at the state's nine tax-supported universities and colleges.

★

The jet plane assembly plant is the idea of William B. Lear, Grand Rapids industrialist whose firm now builds small commercial jet aircraft in Europe.

★ ★ ★

Other new members of the Founders Society are Mrs. Walter B. Ford II, 248 Provencil Road, Grosse Pointe Farms, and Joseph L. Hudson Jr., president of the J. L. Hudson Co.

Red Minister Claims TV Sets Failing to Last

MOSCOW (UPI)—Nikolai Psurtsev, Soviet communications minister, complained Thursday that 60 per cent of the TV sets sold in the Soviet Union this year failed to work longer than six months.

Psurtsev, reporting to the Supreme Soviet, also complained of the quality of Soviet telephones and the lack of them.

Although the Soviet Union has an estimated population of 216 million, Psurtsev said there are only six million television sets in operation.

Suggest Rocket for 2 Astronauts

Could Join Program of Orbital Flights to Plans for Moon Shot

HOUSTON (UPI) — America's newly announced "rendezvous rocket" for two astronauts may bridge the gap between the current man-in-orbit program and the projected design to send a man to the moon.

The announcement came last night from the National Aeronautics and Space Administration's new space craft center now under construction at Houston. It said the cost of the two man rocket would be about $500 million.

The idea of the rendezvous rocket is this:

One rocket carrying a power supply for a shot to the moon would be sent up into orbit around the earth. Then a second rocket carrying a crew for the moon flight would be launched.

The second rocket would join the first in orbit, then the astronauts would use the power supply aboard the first rocket to blast off for the moon.

Some space scientists feel that this "rendezvous in orbit" technique not only will be much less costly than the ballyhooed "nova" moonrocket project, but may make a moon flight possible much earlier.

To Confer With Swainson

LANSING (UPI) — Gov. Swainson said Thursday that Detroit's Mayor-elect, Jerome P. Cavanagh, would come to Lansing "in the very near future to discuss our mutual problems." Swainson said he conferred with Cavanagh in Detroit last week.

Truman Blasts 'Superpatriots'

Ex-President Labels Extremists 'the Sick Among Us'

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman says "superpatriots" are promoters of hate and "the sick among us." "But don't let them worry you much. They are so volatile they blow themselves out."

Addressing a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner Thursday night for U.S. Sen. Wayne Morse, D-Ore., Truman praised Morse as a dissenter.

'IMPORTANT ROLE'

Then he added: "The voice of dissent has played an important role in the voice of the nation. Throughout our history, the constructive voices of dissent have had a profound influence on the improvement of the lot of our people and of our institutions.

"By the voice of dissent, I do not mean the voice of a bully, the coward, the rabble rousers, the bigots and the superpatriots.

"They are not typically American. They are the remnants of the foreign ideologies and are actually the voices of doom — or probably the damned.

'THEY ARE SICK'

"These are the voices we tolerate, but also we ignore them. They belong to a vocal minority who crave headlines and foster hate. In my opinion, these are the sick among us."

Truman also referred to Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro as "a whiskered little squirt" and criticized the Eisenhower for, as Truman put it, allowing Castro to set up a Communist regime "right at the front door of Florida."

November Saw $1 Million Slip in City Construction

New construction in Pontiac dropped by more than $1 million in November, according to Carl F. Alt, city building inspector.

The decline, normal for this time of year, compared with high construction activity in the months preceding November.

In each of the preceding four months, building permits had totaled more than a million dollars. The October amount was $1,580,263 for 118 permits.

In November there were 69 permits issued for a total of $191,200. Most of the total came from 15 permits for new homes totaling $97,690.

Permits were issued for 31 residential alterations and repairs totaling $47,205. Other permits included 11 residential garages, $10,130; 3 commercial alterations and repairs, $14,500; and one warehouse, $14,000.

Permits for new homes were only five below the 20 issued in October for $144,690.

Moonlighting Is Outlawed for Police, Firemen

LANSING (AP)—There will be no more moonlighting — taking outside jobs — by Lansing police and firemen — the city police and fire board ruled Thursday night.

The ruling, to be put into effect Jan. 1, is an effort to help the local unemployment situation, the board said.

Tea Honors High School Seniors

DAR Pins Good Citizens

Forty-four members of the Gen. Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution gathered at the Williams Lake home of Mrs. L. G. Rowley Thursday to honor "Good Citizens" chosen for this year by area high schools.

The girls and their mothers were introduced, and the chapter presented each honoree her "Good Citizen" pin.

★ ★ ★

Others were Paula Parker, Clarkston High, daughter of the William O. Parkers, Clarkston; Susan Sutton, Rochester High, daughter of the Verne E. Suttons, Rochester; Sandra Huerth, Lake Orion Community High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Huerth, Lake Orion; Jean Wohlgehagen, Waterford Kettering High, daughter of the John W. Wohlgehagens, Longworth Street; and Judi Ely, West Bloomfield High, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Winston T. Ely, Orchard Lake.

CHARACTER BUILDING

The appreciation of character building as a basis of good citizenship among young people is the goal of the DAR good citizens committee, Mrs. W. H. O'Laughlin is General Richardson Chapter's committee chairman.

The National Society, DAR, conducts the nationwide contest for senior girls who possess to an outstanding degree the qualities of dependability, leadership, service and patriotism. They are selected by their fellow seniors and faculty.

Each candidate in Michigan will fill out a questionnaire and compose an essay as a basis for the selection of the state winner who will be named in March 1962 at the state conference in Detroit. Michigan "Good Citizens" will be guests of the Michigan DAR at the conference for a luncheon meeting. The state winner will receive a $100 U.S. Savings Bond; and each girl will be presented a certificate.

The "Good Citizen" pin has 13 stars identifying it with the DAR. Four books in the center represent the qualifications for citizenship, and beneath is the torch of understanding, encircled by the wreath of honor.

NEGRO SPIRITUALS

Following the ceremony Mrs. Donald Hogue presented a program on American music. The Negro spirituals "Deep River" and "Little Boy Blue" were presented as solos. Mrs. Hogue spoke of the origins of many of our folk songs, and the group joined in singing some of them. Emphasis was given to songs of Thanksgiving from America's early days.

Assisting the hostess were Jessie Brewer, Mrs. Keith Deyo, Mrs. Harvey Bidstrup, Mrs. Harry F. Going, Mrs. Everett M. Peterson, Mrs. Orrin Huntoon and Mrs. Frank E. Allen.

Others were Mrs. Allan Monroe, Mrs. Harry Chapman, Mrs. W.E.C. Huthwaite, Mrs. Pingree Hazen and Mrs. Harry B. Yoh.

Mrs. W. H. O'Laughlin (left), DAR "Good Citizens" committee chairman, and the hostess Mrs. L. G. Rowley enjoyed a friendly chat with one of the eight high school seniors honored at Thursday's tea: Jean Wohlgehagen of Waterford Kettering High School. "Good Citizens" are selected for dependability, leadership, service and patriotism.

General Richardson Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, honored its "Good Citizens," selected by area high schools, at a tea Thursday in the Williams Lake home of Mrs. L. G. Rowley. Paula Parker, Clarkston High School (left) and Judi Ely, West Bloomfield High, were congratulated by Mrs. Frank Allen, chapter regent, as refreshments were served.

South American Gals Like Politics

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Women's interest in politics grows steadily in Latin American countries, says a group of women from Latin America who have just completed a visit to the United States.

"Once, we women didn't pay too much interest to politics," was the way Mrs. Sofly P. de Zuloaga of Colombia put it during an interview. "Now, we are interested, as a result of the work of many citizens . . ."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. de Zuloaga is one of nine women leaders who have been in the United States since early October, criss-crossing the country to talk to U.S. women about politics and ways of improving South American women's participation in it.

★ ★ ★

Their visit is under auspices of the U.S. State Department and the overseas education fund of the nonpartisan League of Women Voters. Mrs. de Zuloaga acted as spokesman for the group at a reception. Their host was David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank.

CITES THE WORK

"We women in Latin America had not realized how active your women are in local, state and national politics," she said. "Nor had we realized how much you want to help us. Now, we know."

★ ★ ★

She cited the work the Colombian Union of Women Citizens is doing to educate women to their responsibility in government. The group, patterned after the league, actively studies the workings of local governments, hears lectures from economists and educators, and just generally keeps tabs on the political scene, she said.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. de Zuloaga is president of the Manizales branch of the women's group, is a trained psychologist, and is active in the Red Cross and the anti-tuberculosis league.

ACTIVE WITH CAREERS

The eight other visitors proved to be extremely active women both in careers and in community projects also. Mrs. Marinette Boucas of Rio de Janeiro, director-general of the magazine "O Observador Economica e Flanceiro," also director of the Rio Soroptimista, a service organization, and vice president of the Pan American Round Table of Brazil, visited Formosa on official invitation of that government. She has received a special award for outstanding services in the field of Pan Americanism.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Betty Borges-Fortes of Porto Alegre, Brazil, is president of the city's Soroptimists, and is an author and critic.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Avelina Salles Haynes of Sao Paulo, Brazil, is a member of the board of directors of the Association of Political and Social Development for Women of that city, and has been active in social work with juveniles, and also is owner of a magazine for women.

Mrs. Celina A. de Martinez of Buenos Aires is chairman of the city's Women's Center of Civic Culture, has been on the commission for women, department of labor, and president of the United Nations liaison committee for nongovernment organizations.

★ ★ ★

Another Colombian, Miss Alicia Avendano is a math teacher, is active in the Union of Women Citizens, and is a member of the Public Welfare Association of Cucuta, Venezuela.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Maria Cristina Beltranena de Von Feldt is Guatemala's representative to the executive committee of the Inter-American Commission of Women. She is an economist, currently residing in a Washington, D.C., suburb.

★ ★ ★

From Peru came Dr. Isabel de Calderon, a professor of education at the Catholic University in Lima. Frequently she is a representative from her country at international cultural conferences.

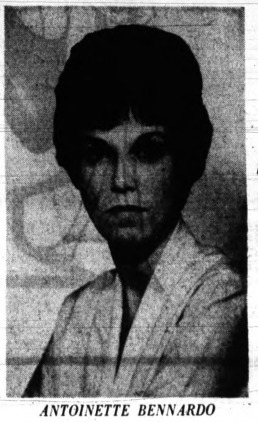

Dr. Rita Castro Ramos, professor of education at San Marcos University, Lima, is the author of several textbooks in education.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller told the women that the "hope of survival of society and of Western ideals depends on how well we can establish the ideals of democracy . . ."

★ ★ ★

He praised the league for its help in teaching "the man in the street his role in government," and welcomed the women from Latin America who "are doing the same thing there as the league is doing in the U.S.A."

Lady of Lakes Chorus

Plan Yule Songfest

Our Lady of the Lakes Chorus will present its second "Christmas Festival of Song" at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Our Lady of the Lakes high school auditorium, Waterford.

Composed of some 35 men and women from Pontiac, Ferndale, Clarkston and Waterford, the group is under the direction of Don Zielinski.

★ ★ ★

The chorus had its beginning in the summer of 1960 when Mr. Zielinski organized it for folks who enjoy music and singing. Since that time, the chorus has rehearsed every week.

Numbers selected for the program will include "Mary Had a Baby," "The Christmas Song," "Michigan Morn," "The Sound of Music," "This Is My Country" and "O Brother Man."

Sharing the spotlight with the chorus will be the 15-voice Men's Vested Choir who perform for the liturgical functions at the church. They specialize in polyphonic music and the Gregorian Chant. They will present "Ave Maria," by Father Witt, "Sing We Noel" and a special Polish Kolendy, "Lulajze Jesuniu."

★ ★ ★

Students from grades 9 through 12 comprise the 50-voice High School Glee Club at Our Lady of the Lakes. They will be heard in "The Drummer Boy Song," "The Bells of St. Mary's," and "The Green Cathedral."

Lynn Thompson Nichols and Mary Slowik will play a two-piano number "Gurlitt Rondo in E Minor" and a Barber Shop Quartette will sing.

Proceeds from the concert will help purchase stage equipment for the high school. Tickets will be on sale at the door or may be purchased now from any member of the chorus or choir.

"The Little Drummer Boy," popular Christmas selection will be on the program when Our Lady of the Lakes Chorus presents its second "Christmas Festival of Song" Sunday evening in Our Lady of the Lakes High School. Looking over the carol are (from left) Charles Johnson and Alice Adam, both of Waterford, and Dick Miller of Drayton Plains, the group's president.

New 'Twist' in Dancing Can't Sway Teens

Rock 'n' Roll Still Popular Among Young

By EUGENE GILBERT
President, Gilbert Youth Research Co.

There may be a new twist in teen-age dancing these days, but rock 'n' roll music appears to be as popular as ever.

That's the opinion of 72 per cent of the 994 teen-agers we questioned in a nationwide cross-section survey. Only a small minority felt rock 'n' roll was on the way out, and most of them said they personally were getting tired of it.

"Six years of the same pattern gets tiring for anyone," commented Roc Multhaup, 16, of Westport, Conn.

Is rock 'n' roll music getting worse? Twenty-nine per cent of the boys who detected a decline in rock 'n' roll popularity said it was, but only 9 per cent of the girls in the same group agreed.

★ ★ ★

By and large, however, 63 per cent of the teen-agers (69 per cent boys and 58 per cent girls) said they liked rock 'n' roll as much or more than ever.

SEEK SOMETHING NEW

Charles McCart, 18, of Cape Girardeau, Mo., said he now is "able to understand the real meaning behind rock 'n' roll; 'but more teen-agers liked the music for the reason expressed by Paul Polster, 16, of South Euclid, Ohio: "I enjoy dancing to it."

Not all agreed.

"The lyrics are worse and so are the melodies," said Toby Wart, 15, of Isle of Palms, S. C. Alan Faas, 18, of West New York, N. J., said "I'm beginning to like music, not just sounds." And Rita Friedman, 17, of Los Angeles said, "If you've heard one, you've heard 'em all."

Other than rock 'n' roll, most teen-agers expressed a preference for modern jazz, classical music and show music, but once again the musical tastes of the boys were different from the girls'.

The boys liked modern jazz first (38 per cent) and classical music next (28 per cent) with only an insignificant number selecting other types — Dixieland, old favorites, show music, ballads, etc.

But the girls picked show music first (28 per cent), with modern jazz their next preference (27 per cent) and classical music next (19 per cent).

While 40 per cent of the boys and 42 per cent of the girls said they detected a new trend in teen-age music, they couldn't agree on what it was.

Most of the boys (17 per cent) said the old favorites were coming back; but most girls (21 per cent) said the trend was to slower music and new dances. Whatever the trend is, 88 per cent of the girls and 80 per cent of the boys said they were in favor of it.

WHERE'S ELVIS?

There doesn't appear to be a particular favorite rock 'n' roll singer among today's teen-agers.

The girls seemed to go for Bobby Rydell in a lukewarm sort of way (12 per cent); and Bobby Darin polled 9 per cent of the girls' votes. Darin got a nod from only 7 per cent of the boys, but it was more than could agree on anyone else. Most simply said there were many good singers.

Also, 69 per cent of the boys and 55 per cent of the girls said they no longer liked Elvis Presley as much as they once did. Most of this group (82 per cent) said they never liked him in the first place.

"He thinks he's 'it' and he thinks he's hot stuff," said Danny Allen, 15, of Tullahoma, Tenn. "He wiggles too much," said Anne Bowers, 15, of St. Louis. "A big flop," said Sharon Rouleau, 16, of Westville, N. H.

But Colette Auzier, 14, of Palo Alto, Calif., said in her book Elvis always would be king of rock 'n' roll.

"He was the one who started the whole thing," she reasoned.

May vows are planned by Carol Ann Liles, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Claude E. Liles of Waterford Township to John P. Courtemanche, son of the Edward D. Courtemanches of Peacock Avenue.

Parents' Pride Can Harm Children

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Dear Mrs. Lawrence:

Our 10-year-old girl is a very talented pianist and recently was asked to perform on our local radio station. The day before the performance she had such a severe stomach upset that we had to cancel it. I am worried that this stage fright could ruin her musical career.

Though she's had upsets previously before playing in recitals and school entertainments, she has always been able to appear . . .

ANSWER: It is a very young talent to be used for others' entertainment.

I don't wonder that your daughter gets upset before public performances. Just as a child will lose interest in a doll house whose furniture we are arranging for her, a child will lose interest in his musical talent if he is asked to share it with others too soon.

★ ★ ★

The original interest he took in producing delightful sounds for himself changes as he's required to produce them for others, turning from joy in himself into obligation to consider us and our pleasure.

That's when confusion begins. Fear of disappointing us, of failing to impress his audience begins to haunt him. At this point, our young musician can start resenting his talent and will express his resistance to the obligation to please us in stomach upsets and other symptoms of "stage fright" that make it impossible for us to demand what he doesn't want to give.

NEEDS MORE TIME

Your daughter's joy in her own gift needs time to grow sure and solid before she is asked to share it with public audiences.

It is, in my opinion, a perilous business to make a big fuss over any child's achievement, whether it's a school "A," a tasty salad dressing or a well-played musical composition.

What blinds us to the danger is the child's apparent craving for our approval. We think he is seeking our flattery when, the fact is, he is seeking support for his own still uncertain confidence in his achievement.

That is why, if our flattery becomes too enthusiastic, he will suddenly start looking anxious and upset. Instead of receiving support for his wobbly self-confidence, he senses that we are committing him to bigger and better achievements.

★ ★ ★

He knows that we have forgotten him to revel in our own pride. Then, like the youngster who walks away from the doll house we've taken over, he loses interest in his accomplishment. His feeling is "O.K. You play with my achievement. I don't want it any more."

★ ★ ★

There is a careful line to be drawn between appreciating a child's success and using it for our own gratification.

Certainly, Go Call on Friend

By The Emily Post Institute

Q: A good friend of mine, a widower, was married a little over a month ago. He had a very quiet wedding and I was not invited to it.

I would like to know if I should go over to see him and his wife and bring them a present or should I wait for an invitation from him before going to see them. I have never met his wife.

A: Certainly you may go and visit your friend and his new wife without waiting for a special invitation. There is no obligation to send them a wedding present unless you wish to do so.

★ ★ ★

Q: A year ago last summer my daughter had a child out of wedlock. She gave the child up for adoption and returned to school. She will graduate this spring. The question has arisen as to whether or not it would be proper for her to wear a white graduation dress. My understanding is that only a white wedding dress and veil are improper. Will you please give your opinion on this matter.

A: Your understanding is right. She must not wear a white wedding dress and veil, but there is nothing to prevent her from wearing a white graduation dress.

★ ★ ★

Q: My daughter is marrying a man from another city. His family will come here for the wedding. As the bridegroom's mother will be a stranger to most of the guests, should I introduce her to all the guests as they go down the receiving line? If so, how is she properly introduced?

A: She stands beside you at the entrance to the room as you receive the guests, and you introduce her as "Mrs. Jones," (slight pause) and then add, "John's mother."

★ ★ ★

Make sure your bowling ball goes no higher than the right shoulder at the end of the backswing, but be certain it gets just that high.

For Fun and Figure

Bowling's a Real Ball

By SHARON KAY RITCHIE
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

Many women are afraid of the backswing.

They take it for granted a great deal of strength is needed to get the ball shoulder high.

This isn't true — If you swing properly in the pendulum arc. If you do it right, the ball will come back at shoulder height naturally, and with little effort.

As a matter of fact, many women are plagued by a too-high backswing. As George Howard, an All-American bowling team selection, points out, this is not because the women are overly strong.

The trouble is that they lunge out on the first step, the pushaway, which gets the ball too violently into the pendulum arc.

Once the ball begins going back after this bad start, it keeps going past the shoulder height. When it comes forward from that position, it is bound to be erratic.

So, in getting the ball in motion with the pushaway, don't lunge or push the ball violently from you.

Keep the right arm straight and close to the body during the swing. Make sure the ball goes no higher than the right shoulder at the end of the backswing, but be certain it gets just that high.

Don't pause on this third step of the four-step delivery.

The entire approach should be one continuous, smooth and natural movement.

NEXT: Fourth step.

(Miss Ritchie, a former Miss America, is Director of Women's Activities for American Machine & Foundry Co.)

Forget Him, Abby Advises

Dad's Got Man Zeroed In

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am not a silly kid. I am 22 and work in an insurance office. I've been dating an Air Force officer for three months and I fell for him right off the bat.

He says he loves me and wants to marry me "some day" but I shouldn't talk marriage to him because he may die. In the meantime he sees nothing wrong with two adults living for today.

My father told me not to take the guy seriously because HE used the same line when HE was in the service and it worked every time. Should I believe my father or this fellow?

UP A CREEK

★ ★ ★

DEAR UP: Believe your father. Old Air Force Romeos never die — they just lose their heads in the clouds.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: My 24-year-old fiance and I (21) have been engaged for five months. We planned a Christmas wedding in 1961.

ABBY

My sister, who is 23, became engaged shortly afterward and SHE wanted a Christmas wedding in 1961. Because my father can't afford two weddings the same month, and she is older, I agreed to postpone MY wedding until May of 1962.

★ ★ ★

Now my sister has become "disengaged" to the first man and plans to marry someone else in April of 1962. That means that I can't be married in May. Do you think this is fair?

WITS' END

DEAR WITS: Be careful — your fiance may remind you that he's more interested in a marriage certificate than a calendar! Marry him now and let sister work out her own timetable.

DEAR ABBY: My wife has an overindulgent mother who insists on writing to us almost every day. In every letter she encloses newspaper clippings, magazine articles, church programs, recipes and other unsolicited reading matter of little or no interest to us. The problem is, she never puts more than one 7-cent airmail stamp on the envelope. It is both expensive and irritating to pay the postage due when her letters come. If we refuse to pay for it on this end, it will be returned to her and she'll know we refused it. How can we either discourage such frequent letters or get her to use more stamps?

HARRY

DEAR HARRY: Buy the lady a home postage scale for Christmas. (That's one weigh!)

★ ★ ★

DEAR ABBY: I wish you would have told that reader who thought the muu muu was out of place at breakfast that she is mistaken.

The muu muu is a DRESS and may be worn with confidence anywhere. Only the mainland designers have made nightgowns and housecoats out of them. I would rather see women dressed in muu muus than in some of those shorts and halters, or skin tight pants I have seen lately.

The Question Box

Sweater Shields Help

An antiperspirant may come to the rescue of your personality and your clothes.

Q. "I have three sweaters which I wore last year. One is yellow, one aqua and one brown. They are all in good condition except that the aqua and yellow ones have brown perspiration stains under the arms and the brown one has white perspiration stains. Is there any way I can get these stains out, and how can I prevent such stains?"

A. I do not know of any way to get rid of the stains, but I can give you some help in preventing future stains. Perhaps you did not use an antiperspirant often enough.

Also, you can use lightweight shields in a sweater or, if you prefer, one of the harness-like models which are not attached to your clothes but provide you with shields. These are valuable, too, when you wear a dress with the sleeves cut in such a way that it is impossible to put shields in the dress.

BUST IS 39

Q. "I am 17 years old, 5 feet, 5 inches tall and weigh 123 pounds. my measurements are: bust 39 inches, waist 24 and hips 36. How do I reduce my bustline?"

A. Your weight is correct. I think that you are making a problem out of what many women would consider a blessing. Your bust measurement is a little larger than usual for your other measurements, it is true. Be glad that it is this way and not in reverse — bust 36 and hips 39 inches.

Q. "I am 15 years old and have a medium frame. I am 5 feet, 3 inches tall. Please tell me how I can get the figure I want — bust 36 inches, waist 20 and hips 35. What should my correct weight be?"

A. You should weigh about 115 pounds. What are you trying to do — a disappearing waist act? Few builds, if any, would allow such measurements as the ones you suggest. Be satisfied with a waist which measures 24 to 25 inches.

★ ★ ★

Q. "Why is there so much difference in weight and height charts?"

A. Some charts are only average weight charts for the age indicated. The ideal weight for life is that which was ideal for you at the age of 25. Also, some weight charts do not take bone structure into consideration. This can make a big difference.

What Is Meant by Incarnation?

Many Oversimplify the Significance of Christmas

By LOUIS CASSELS
United Press International

There is always a good deal of talk at this time of year about "keeping Christ in Christmas."

★ ★ ★

Some people seem to feel that this can be done by growing excessively sentimental over stars, creches and other traditional symbols of the nativity story.

But the religious significance of Christmas actually rests on a great and baffling doctrine which is widely misunderstood, and rarely pondered even at this season.

It is called the Incarnation. The name is derived from the Latin words "in" and "carnis," meaning in flesh.

MANY OVERSIMPLIFY

Throughout its history, the church has had to struggle against a tendency among pious people to oversimplify this most basic of its doctrines.

Even today, there are many church members who believe they are giving a highly orthodox answer when they define the incarnation solely in terms of the divinity of Christ. But this is really heresy, and was so branded by the early church.

What the incarnation affirms is that the man Jesus of Nazareth, who was known to his disciples as a fully and completely human person, sharing the limitations and temptations of ordinary men, was also in a unique sense the self-expression of God.

★ ★ ★

One of the earliest attempts to put this belief into words is found in the first chapter of the Gospel according to St. John:

"In the beginning was the word, and the word was with God, and the word was God . . . and the word became flesh and dwelt among us, full of grace and truth."

This passage may be more confusing than enlightening to modern readers. But it was full of meaning for the age in which it was written.

CONCEPTS DIFFER

Every educated man then was familiar with the concept of "logos," a term coined by Greek philosophers to connote the creative, out-going, self-expressive activity of God.

"Word" is the nearest English equivalent of the Greek "logos" but it doesn't come close to conveying what the author of the fourth Gospel meant when he wrote, in Greek, that the "logos" had appeared among men "in the flesh" of a human being.

St. Paul said the same thing in language that 20th century man may find easier to comprehend:

★ ★ ★

"God was in Christ, reconciling the world unto himself."

Many other efforts have been made through the ages, and are still being made by contemporary theologians, to compress into a was truly man, and at the same comprehensible verbal formula the time truly God.

Christian conviction that Jesus time truly God.

Two Children Roam Chicago for Three Days

CHICAGO (AP) — An 11-year-old boy and his younger sister wandered around Chicago unnoticed for three days and nights earlier this week while police hunted them and newspapers circulated their pictures.

Lance Michael Geary and his sister, Shirley, 10, said they rode buses and elevated trains and sat in movie theaters, financing their venture by selling empty pop bottles found in alleys. They said they slept in basements. The youngsters were found Wednesday.

"It's amazing to think they could ride around like that and no one asked why they were out past curfew," a family court officer said. "These days, everybody seems to look the other way."

The children, who disappeared from their Chicago home Sunday, remained in court custody today pending an investigation.

Con-Con Promises Ike, HST Equal Time

LANSING (AP)—Former Presidents Dwight D. Eisenhower and Harry S. Truman will come under the constitutional convention spotlight on an "equal time" bipartisan basis.

Agreement on the equal treatment approach for the ex-Presidents was reached Thursday at a meeting of a special convention committee appointed to handle arrangements.

Eisenhower has rearranged a full schedule to appear at the convention next Wednesday, said George Romney, R-Bloomfield Hills, committee chairman. Truman is scheduled tentatively to appear next month. Both have been asked to speak on constitutional government and federal-state relationships.

While Democratic leaders agreed that similar convention arrangements should be made for the two former Presidents, they indicated that Truman might be asked to take part in a separate political rally during his stay here.

Romney said Eisenhower told him:

"I haven't time for a polished performance, but I have some views I want to present and then throw the session open to questions."

Eisenhower also requested that his appearance be scheduled for Constitution Hall, which has seats for 181 spectators, rather than in the adjoining main auditorium of the Civic Center, which can accommodate some 6,000.

Because of the limited space, convention officials are struggling with the protocol problem of who should be invited to hear the distinguished speaker. The general public will be excluded from the building with extra police on hand to handle the expected crowds at the airport and outside Constitution Hall.

SPECIAL GUESTS

Spectator space in the gallery will be occupied by guests of delegates and the convention staff. Members of the Supreme Court, the State Administrative Board, the Democratic and Republican state chairmen, Sens. McNamara and Hart, local legislators and congressmen will be invited to attend.

A pool arrangement on television coverage is planned, while seating in the press gallery will be closely screened. Eisenhower is scheduled to arrive at the Capitol City Airport at 9:40 a.m. (Pontiac Time), with his convention appearance slated for 10:15 a.m. He is expected to leave about an hour later for a late luncheon engagement at Toledo.

Democratic leaders hinted that Truman might not be on such a tight schedule during his visit to Lansing next month.

★ ★ ★

Convention Vice-President Tom Downs, D-Detroit, said that the former president likes people. He added:

"When I think of all the school children who might like to see a former president, I think maybe they should."

Adelaide Hart, D-Detroit, agreed saying that any former president belongs to the people. She observed that it might be difficult to confine Truman's visit to a single appearance in a small room.

SIMILAR ARRANGEMENTS

Romney said he wanted to be sure there was an understanding that convention arrangements for the two ex-Presidents would be similar.

"What they do after their appearances here is their own business," he said.

It's a 'Supernatural' Affair

Poston Filming New Comedy

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD — Attention Kitty Carlisle, Johnny Carson, Betty White and others of "To Tell the Truth": I've got news for you about your panel-mate, Tom Poston.

He's out here making this movie, see. What kind of a movie? I watched one scene, and this may give you a clue.

Tom goes to shut the window in a rainstorm. Standing right outside is Julia Meade, nude.

★ ★ ★

That's right—the same Julia Meade who gets all dressed up to sell those things on Ed Sullivan's show. Only now she wasn't dressed up. Not at all.

NOT REALLY NUDE

To tell the truth, the whole thing was more innocent than it seemed, I think. Miss Meade was actually covered in a flesh-colored bathing suit. "I'd rather have the fans see me in the nude than in this dreadful outfit," she said with curious logic.

★

The movie was not part of Hollywood's nude wave, but a new comedy called "Zotz."

What's "Zotz"?

"Zotz is the magic word which gives me special power when I hold the sacred coin," Poston explained. Misuse of that power had just caused a lightning storm that removed Miss Meade's clothing in the scene I witnessed. That's why she was out in the rain with her clothes off.

SUPERNATURAL COMEDY

The film is a project of William Castle, the man who gave the movie world electrified theater seats, floating skeletons and other movies. The agile Castle now is delving into supernatural comedy.

Miss Meade, her red hair dripping with studio-made rain, headed for a warm towel, and Poston paused to discuss his new career.

'NOT FIRST'

"This is not my first movie in the strict sense of the word," he commented. "I did a movie in Chicago some years ago. It was called 'The City That Never Sleeps' (Republic, 1953), but I don't suppose that anybody saw it."

★ ★ ★

The sleepy-eyed comic is an alumnus of the old Steve Allen Show, and he admits that it did the most to make him famous.

★ ★ ★

"More movies? I'd like to. But first I've got to do a pilot for a TV series by S. J. Perelman. It sounds promising." Poston and Perelman—it sure does.

Asks U.S. Help With Pollution

Swainson Says Sewage From Canada, Michigan Ruining Detroit River

LANSING (AP) — Gov. Swainson said Thursday he has asked for federal help in identifying and correcting sources of pollution in the Detroit River and Lake Erie.

"Critical pollution problems make demands that are above and beyond the normal pollution control activities" of state agencies, the governor said in a letter to Abraham A. Ribicoff, secretary of health, education and welfare.

Swainson said pollution in the river and the lake reportedly is caused by discharges of untreated sewage into the Detroit River at Windsor and Sarnia, Ont., as well as in Michigan.

"If this, indeed, is a contributing factor, this added problem would have international implications that would better lend themselves to federal assistance to bring about necessary pollution abatement," he said.

Waterford Twp. Schedules New Adult Courses

The Waterford Township recreation department has announced new winter adult recreation courses will begin Jan. 15.

★ ★ ★

Advanced courses in cake decorating, an intermediate course in bridge instruction and the usual dog obedience program will be offered. The beginning cake decorating course also will be offered.

Chess players interested in finding opponents have been asked to contact the recreation office. A list of chess players in this area is available.

Final date for registration for the boys' basketball program is Saturday. The two sites will be the Pierce Junior High school for grades five through eight, and the Waterford Township High School for grades nine through 12.

The annual Indoor Archery League is scheduled to begin Jan. 4.

Men, women and children over 12 have been encouraged to form 5-member teams and register immediately. A handicap system allows beginners to compete with the advanced archer.

'Poor' Drivers Prove Costly

Insurance Firms Lose $1.7 Million in State on Bad-Record Motorists

CHICAGO (AP)—Insurance companies said Thursday they lost almost $1.7 million in five years writing auto insurance in Michigan for drivers with poor records.

The Insurance Information Institute said a study of the policy years from 1955 through 1959 showed drivers under Michigan's assigned risk plan paid $8,300,385 in premiums for bodily injury and property damage liability insurance.

Claims and other expenses against these drivers amounted to $9,982,497, the institute said.

★ ★ ★

The assigned risk plan is a method by which insurance companies share the financial drain of undesirable risks.

If a motorist can't get insurance in the open market, the assigned risk plan is available to him.

All insurance companies which write auto insurance in the state participate in the plan.

The companies said their loss in Michigan runs $10.30 for every $100 in premiums. The national average under assigned risks plans showed a loss of $41 for every $100 in premiums.

Missionaries, Trapped by Katangese Shells, Pray to God

By NEIL SMITH

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (the Congo) (UPI) — The missionaries and their families sang hymns and prayed to God to the rhythm of whining bullets and shells which reduced their mission to rubble.

This correspondent crouched in a barricaded corridor Thursday with a group of Seventh Day Adventists — 10 missionaries, 11 women and 8 children ranging in age from 2 to 15.

The group had been trapped by fierce crossfire from United Nations forces and Katanga troops since the battle of Elisabethville began some 48 hours earlier.

★ ★ ★

Chester Torrey, the Adventists' American world secretary general, was wounded slightly.

★ ★ ★

Others, such as Dr. Marlowe Schaffner of Cottage Grove, Ore., and his 15-year-old son, Ronald, who was vacationing from Heidelberg College in Somerset, West Africa, were covered with plaster and dust when recoilless rifle shells slammed into the mission.

The mission house sat in a no-man's land between U.N. headquarters and Katangese lines which straddled a fashionable residential area.

At least 13 mortar shells — some fired by U.N. Indian Gurkhas, others by Katangese — landed directly on the building.

HIT SIX TIMES

While I was with the group, the building was hit six times. The women and children, lying under mattresses and pillows, tried to remain brave.

Three - year - old Marc Quiekunst's father tried to comfort him as the boy whimpered, "I don't want the noise. I don't want the guns."

Another mortar shell struck, sending clouds of choking dust through the corridor. A woman began singing a hymn in a quavering voice. One by one, the others joined in until the building was filled with song.

★ ★ ★

"The United Nations must think this building is full of snipers," said one of the men. Turning to me, he added earnestly, "Friend, you can see we are alone here. Not a single shot has been fired from this building."

But the gunfire continued from both sides.

Schaffner said, "The good Lord looks after us."

CRAWLED TO TELEPHONE

I crawled along the dust-coated corridor to the telephone and called U.N. headquarters.

★ ★ ★

"We thought everyone had been evacuated from the mission," a spokesman told me. "I'll issue immediate instructions to hold our fire."

An hour later, a U.N. spokesman told me that "The shells falling on the mission are not ours. They are all Katangese."

★ ★ ★

I inched back to report this to the missionaries, then crawled again to the telephone to contact the U.S. consulate.

They were trying desperately to arrange for ambulances to take out the entire group. But the ambulances couldn't get through the wall of fire.

★ ★ ★

The shooting died down for a moment. Leonard Robinson of Riverside, Calif., crept back to his house a few yards away where his wife and two small sons were crouching under a table. Also hiding in the house was East Londoner J. M. Stephenson, his wife, and 2-year-old daughter, Cheryl.

LIGHT FADED FAST

Outside, the light faded rapidly. UPI photographer Jim Howard said to the missionaries: "If you are going at all you must leave now. You'll be pinned down here for the night as soon as it gets dark."

The group held a strategy session. "What do you think, brother?" one asked. "Should we risk it or stay the night?"

"We must go," urged one. "We must. We must." Everyone nodded in agreement.

★ ★ ★

The group knelt in prayer: "Lord you know the perilous journey we must take. We place our lives in your hands."

The group had been under heavy fire for 48 hours.

Silently, with the women and children first, we filed through the house to a back window. One woman hesitated on the window's ledge. "I can't go," she sobbed, "I've lost all my courage."

'YOU MUST GO'

Robert Pierson, head of the mission's South African division, urged softly, "You must go."

The woman jumped the short distance to the ground.

Luckily, a convoy of cars had driven up behind the mission and 22 of the group rode safely away. The rest later were escorted out by U.N. troops. All were reunited in a safer part of the city.

Would Re-Enact Tax on Smokes, Phones

LANSING (AP) — Sen. Carlton H. Morris, R-Kalamazoo, today proposed re-enactment of special taxes on cigarettes and telephone bills to finance a $150-million construction program at state colleges and universities.

★ ★ ★

The two taxes were part of a $50-million package of nuisance taxes which expired June 30.

Morris, chairman of a Senate interim committee studying building needs at state schools, said he is drafting bills for both a bonding and a pay-as-you-go construction program.

He said he supports the latter plan and believes the legislature does, too.

Morris met Thursday with representatives of Michigan's nine state colleges and universities and said they indicated they would support a pay-as-you-go plan.

★ ★ ★

Earlier this week, the Michigan Council of State College Presidents proposed a long-term bonding program to be administered by a special agency to be established by the legislature.

★ ★ ★

Morris estimated the one-cent increase in the cigarette tax and the four per cent tax on telephone and telegraph bills would yield $25 million a year. They would be earmarked for construction at colleges.

Imprisoned Goldfine Has 'Small Strike'

DANBURY, Conn. (AP) — Bernard Goldfine suffered an apparent small stroke" last night in the federal correctional institution, where he is serving time for income tax evasion.

Warden Frank Kenton said the 71-year-old manufacturer is much improved and that his condition today is satisfactory.

Kenton issued this statement: "At 7:30 p.m. last night Bernard Goldfine suffered an apparent small stroke with transient symptoms. Today he is much improved, with no paralysis. He remains hospitalized under extensive care at the prison hospital."

Congressmen Snub Hearing on 19th District

LANSING (AP) — A Senate committee met today for a hearing on proposals to provide for Michigan's 19th Congressional District, but not a single congressman showed up.

★ ★ ★ ★

"I think the congressmen should be heard," said Sen. Carlton H. Morris, "but they don't seem to want to be heard."

Sen. Paul H. Younger, R-Lansing, chairman of the special committee, said he sent letters to every congressman inviting them to testify.

Nine of the 17—excluding the late Rep. Louis C. Rabaut, D—14th District—sent regrets by letter, telephone or telegram, he said. They are Reps. August E. Johansen, Clare E. Hoffman, John B. Pennett, Victor Knox and Gerald Ford, and James Harvey, all Republicans; and John Lesinski, John Dingell and Martha Griffiths, Democrats.

Whopping Budget Okayed by Soviet

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Parliament today unanimously approved a record 1962 budget of more than 81 billion rubles with only one minor change. It gave Premier Khrushchev more money than he asked to run the country.

★ ★ ★

A whopping 13.4 billion rubles was allocated for defense—an all-time high for military appropriations in peacetime and just over one billion more rubles than was allocated for 1961.

★ ★ ★

At the official rate of exchange one ruble equals $1.11.

Launch Rocket Carrying Flares for Experiment

POINT ARGUELO, Calif. (AP) — A rocket designed to set off flares in space for an earth-measuring experiment shot skyward today.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force said the flares, not visible to the naked eye, would be photographed by special cameras on Ian dand at sea.

★ ★ ★

About 15 minutes after the 32-foot solid-fuel Astrobee rocket was launched from Point Arguello, it had streaked to a point 900 miles away and 1,361 miles above the Pacific. The Air Force termed the launching a success. The rocket carried a 95-pound payload.

SET ON SCHEDULE

Plans called for the flares, each with 62 million candlepower, to be set off at altitudes of 920 miles, 1,400 miles and again at 900 miles on the way down.

★ ★ ★

The experiment, called Project Cambridge after the Air Force Research Laboratory at Cambridge, Mass., was designed to help scientists measure more precisely the distance between points on the earth's surface.

Says Attacker Claimed Rape Part of Initiation

HAMMOND, Ind. (AP)—A teenager thwarted in an attempt to rape a woman in her car early Thursday told his intended victim it was a club initiation assignment, the woman told police.

The woman said the youth burst into tears and fled after she beat him off with a piece of steel. Her name was withheld.

Scotland Yard Raids Quarters of Bomb Banners

LONDON (AP)—Scotland Yard today raided the headquarters of an antinuclear organization that plans a runway sitdown Saturday to immobilize three U.S. air bases in England.

★ ★ ★

Four officials of Earl Bertrand Russell's Committee of 100 were reported to have been arrested on charges of "incitement and conspiracy" under the official secrets law.

★ ★ ★

Thousands of police and troops have been ordered out to repel any attempts by the demonstrators to invade the bases and sit down around patrol planes so they cannot take off.

Sue Philco Finance Over Incentive Plan

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Appliance Associates, Inc., of Pittsburgh has filed suit against Philco Finance Corp. in a dispute over a consumer incentive appliance purchasing plan.

The action was brought Thursday in U.S. District Court and alleged Philco Finance had violated antitrust laws and conspired to fix prices.

Appliance Associates asked the court to include as additional defendants Philco Corp. of Philadelphia, which it said was the parent firm of Philco Finance, the Ford Motor Co. and Thorofare Markets.

The Pittsburgh firm also asked triple damages of $1.5 million and an injunction to halt a proposad merger of Philco Corp. and Ford Motor Co.

Lineman Electrocuted

WARREN (AP) — Donald Christy, 35, of Mount Clemens was killed Thursday when he accidentally touched a 4,800-volt line. Christy was a Detroit Edison Co. lineman.

No Plans to Get Reserves Out

Military Is Preparing for Mass Release, but Nothing Definite Yet

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Pentagon said today it does not yet have a firm plan for releasing the 156,000 National Guardsmen and reservists mustered into active duty this fall.

Arthur Sylvester, assistant secretary of defense for public affairs, reminded reporters that President Kennedy has said the citizen soldiers "are not going to be kept in service longer than a year and that they are going to be released as quickly as possible."

Sylvester said "planning toward this end has been and is being carried out by the military departments but no firm plan for specific dates of release has been presented to or approved by the secretary of defense as of this time."

He said that when any such plans are firm, they will be announced so Reservists may know.

Sylvester made the announcement in response to published reports that anywhere from 26,000 to all the Reservists would be released by the end of June.

GM Out Ahead Among Motors

Selective Blue Chips Boost Mart

NEW YORK (AP) — Selective gains by blue chips helped boost the stock market in moderately active trading early this afternoon.

Most advances were small and a good many leading issues were unchanged.

Renewed investment buying was drawn into the oils, possibly because of a widely-circulated comment that the next market advance may be headed by such cyclical issues which are not yet "over-priced."

★ ★ ★

At the same time, however, tobaccos posted a string of moderate gains as they recovered from some sharp profit taking of recent sessions. Steels did virtually nothing. Motors, chemicals, rails and electrical equipments were generally higher.

★ ★ ★

Wall Street sentiment remained optimistic and was bolstered by a sharp drop in the unemployment rate.

Standard Oil (New Jersey) changed hands on a 10,000-share block at the start and gained a substantial fraction, enough to put it at a new high. Royal Dutch was up about a point and Texaco a fraction.

Amerada recovered nearly 3 points, thus erasing yesterday's loss which followed another company denial that a sale of assets was being discussed. Wall Streeters showed a disposition not to believe the denial, as similar denials by other companies have proved false in the past.

General Motors, ahead nearly a point, stood out among the motors.

Bonds Steady at Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices were steady at the opening of the week's final session today.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities posted a few plus 2/32 signs for intermediate issues but other bonds were unchanged from Thursday's close. The market was quiet.

Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange displayed an irregular pattern at the start. Rails trailed off while industrials edged upward. Utilities were mixed.

There were few changes amounting to a full point. They included: Hudson & Manhattan Railroad income 5s up 1 at 13¼, Great Northern Railway 5s off 1 at 103 and Pacific Gas & Electric 4¾s off 1 at 102.

Line Averages 238 Pounds

MSU's Behrman on AP All-America

NEW YORK (AP) — The 1961 Associated Press All America football team, led by Ohio State fullback Bob Ferguson, has the biggest line in history featuring honor students Alex Kroll and Merlin Olsen.

Kroll, the Phi Beta Kappa candidate center who spurred Rutgers to its first unbeaten season, and Utah State's Olsen, top business administration scholar, are in a forward wall which averages an incredible 238 pounds.

Lone repeater from last year, Ferguson is joined in the backfield by Ernie Davis of Syracuse—first Negro to win the Heisman Trophy—spectacular Jimmy Saxton of Texas and versatile quarterback Sandy Stephens of Minnesota.

★ ★ ★

Rugged Jerry Hillebrand of Colorado and Bill Miller of Miami, Fla., man the ends. Billy Neighbors, best man on Alabama's national championship eleven, is at tackle opposite the 265 pound Olsen. Roy Winston of Louisiana State and Dave Behrman, Michigan State, are the guards.

Nicknamed "the quiet man," Ferguson set two goals for himself in 1961—lead the Buckeyes to the Big Ten title and repeat as All America. Missions accomplished. En route he rushed for 938 yards and 68 points.

Ferguson was called by coach Woody Hayes practically indestructible. "He's the best fullback I ever coached and he's got to be the best in the game today," Hayes adds.

★ ★ ★

Davis, the Syracuse wonder boy who was the first player picked in the National Football League draft, led the Orange to a Liberty Bowl berth as the team's top ground gainer, pass receiver, kick hauler and scorer. He was among the nation's leaders in rushing (823 yards, 5.5 average) and points (94).

The driving force behind Texas' Southwest Conference co-championship, Saxton is master of the big play and dubbed by coach Darrell Royal "the quickest athlete I've ever known."

Jimmy covered 846 yards in 107 carries, scored 56 points, was a fine pass catcher, completed the only pass he threw for a 46-yard score and sent the only punt he tried for 54 yards.

Inconsistent his first two seasons and a sub-par passer at the outset this fall, Stephens made such tremendous improvement coach Murray Warmath labeled him "the best two-way quarterback in the country."

★ ★ ★

Dangerous on either end of a punt and a superb safetyman, Stephens accounted for 1,281 yards in total offense.

Pro scouts tabbed Olsen, tri-captain of the unbeaten Aggies, the finest lineman this year. Despite his size and 15½ shoes, Olsen has great agility and pursuit and is the main reason behind Utah state's outstanding rushing records.

Bespectacled Kroll, owning better than a 92 per cent average in his advanced english studies, is a $500 Earl Blaik scholar-athlete award winner as is Olsen. The rawboned 228 pounder was responsible for Rutgers' unusually long gaining quarterback sneaks, was the team captain, called defensive signals and was an exceptional tackler.

Hillebrand is a great defender, top pass receiver and the all-important kicker for once-beaten Colorado.

★ ★ ★

Against Miami — and Miller — Hillebrand recovered a fumble setting up his own winning field goal, was knocked out catching a third down pass, got up to boot the 37 yard winner, recovered a short onside kickoff, then led a goal line stand.

Miller, who built himself into the fastest man on the squad with his own program of weights and wind sprints, "is great because he won't settle for less," according to Coach Andy Gustafson, who ranks Bill as one of the three greats he's seen. The other two are Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis.

★ ★ ★

LSU's Winston, a five-star defender from the day he arrived at Baton Rouge, improved 100 per cent as a blocker this year, according to his coaches. Roy plays left guard on offense, right tackle on defense and havoc with the opposition.

Behrman, lone junior on the team, is the biggest starting lineman in Spartan history and one of the most versatile as a guard, tackle and center.

He sparked a goal line stand against Michigan and, when top centers were hurt, "Big Bear" faced Notre Dame as pivot.

The All America first team, picked on recommendations of eight regional boards composed of sportswriters and broadcasters, takes into account all games through Dec. 2.

Wolverines Set to See Action in Blue-Gray

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (UPI) — Three Michigan Wolverines, including 230-pound fullback Bill Tunnicliff, yesterday were added to the North roster bringing the total of Yankee players to nine for the annual Blue-Gray football classic.

★ ★ ★

It was announced earlier that coach Ben Schwartzwalder will bring four of his boys from Syracuse when he makes his first appearance here Dec. 30, as North head coach, succeeding Purdue's Jack Mollenkopf.

★ ★ ★

The Big Orange players are quarterback Dave Sarette, halfback Dick Easterly, tackle Dick Feidler and center Robert Stem.

Tunnicliff will be joined by teammates Ken Tureaud, halfback, and end Scott Maentz.

Flint Driver Injured During Bahamas Event

NASSAU, Bahamas (AP)—A Lotus-Buick racing car was destroyed Thursday by fire in a spectacular spill that also inflicted serious burns on its American driver.

Princess Hospital listed the injured man as William Waddill, 33, of Flint, Mich. Spokesmen said Waddill suffered second degree burns of the arms, legs, chest and neck. He was listed in good condition but will be hospitalized for some time, they said.

Delvecchio's Goal Ties Rangers

Wings Salvage 3-3 Draw

DETROIT (AP) — Practice makes perfect? Not for the Detroit Red Wings.

Alex Delvecchio's long screen shot less than five minutes from the end salvaged a 3-3 tie for Detroit with the New York Rangers last night. It was a game the Wings thoroughly dominated, They missed countless opportunities to fill the nets with goals, outshooting the Rangers 37 to 21.

"We'd been practicing keeping our shots low," said coach Sid Abel. "So what happens? This time we should have shot high and we'd have had a couple more goals."

★ ★ ★

It looked like the Wings wouldn't even get a tie as they applied steady pressure on Gump Worsley in the New York goal in the final period. Worsley kicked out 17 shots in Detroit's hectic 20-minute barrage while New York could muster only four shots.

Delvecchio assisted on the other two Wing markers, scored by Vic Stasiuk and Marcel Pronovost. Pronovost's goal was his first of the National Hockey League season, now 24 games old.

Stasiuk's goal late in the first period matched one earlier by New York's Camille Henry. Pronovost sent Detroit to its only lead at 10:16 of the second period. But goals 88 seconds apart by Henry and Jean Ratelle put the Rangers in front 3-2 and it took more than a period for the Wings to get even again.

The tie cost the Wings another point in their battle with Chicago for fourth place. The Black Hawks beat Boston 5-2 and went two points ahead of Detroit. Ab McDonald, Bronco Horvath, Red Hay, Jerry Melnyk and Ron Murphy scored for the Hawks. Charlie Burns got both Bruin goals.

In the battle for first place in the NHL, Montreal went four points up on Toronto by whipping the Maple Leafs 4-1. The Canadiens, who are unbeaten in their last 10 games, had two goals by Ralph Backstrom and one by Don Marshall and Gilles Tremblay. Bob Pulford scored for Toronto.

SLIDING SAVE — New York goalie Gump Worsley goes spreadeagle on ice in front of net to make save against Red Wing rush at Olympia last night. Detroiters are Howie Glover (15) and Norm Ullman (7). The Wings rallied for a 3-3 tie.

Big Ten Eyes New Rose Bowl Agreement

Gophers Invited Last Two Years by Coast Loop

Need Factor Eliminated From Aid to Athletes; Flunk Rule Deleted

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Big Ten's policymakers today were expected to approve the start of negotiations with the West Coast's Big Five for participation in an annual Rose Bowl football game.

An earlier agreement expired with the death of the Pacific Coast Conference although Minnesota appeared in the Rose Bowl last January and will again this January on an invitational basis.

The Rose Bowl question was the only major item remaining on the Big Ten's agenda in its annual winter meeting.

The league's faculty representatives Thursday eased football coaches' worries by eliminating need as a factor in granting school aid to athletes. But the officials also voted to set higher scholastic standards as a requirement for admission to a member school.

The faculty representatives voted yes on a proposal making it possible to offer board, room, tuition, books and fees to a prospective high school athlete whose high school rank and performance indicates he can maintain a 1.7 average, considering a 2.0 as "C" during his freshman year in college.

The athlete then can continue to receive full aid so long as he maintains a 1.9 average after his sophomore year and 1.9 after his junior year.

The standards were established for athletic eligibility and a student receiving aid must meet the same requirements.

★ ★ ★

The faculty men, however, deleted the old flunk rule from eligibility requirements. Previously, a flunk rule in one course would rule out an athlete even though he were an "A" student in other courses.

The athletic directors recommended that the faculty limit a progressive rule governing football schedules to require that each team play seven or more conference games, with three home games guaranteed to each team.

The directors acted on a rule previously approved under which the teams would have required to play eight league games in 1967-68 and a round robin of nine games annually thereafter.

Rahn Bentley and Charles Migyanka of Michigan State and Ken Mike of Michigan were among 10 athletes granted an extra year of eligibility yesterday by the Big Ten.

The football players were prevented by injury from participating in more than one game of the regular season.

The additional eligibility in cases of injury suffered this year also stipulated the players must remain out of spring practice next spring in order to gain the windfall.

Thursday's Fights

PHILADELPHIA — Orrie Paschall, 186, Philadelphia, stopped Tom Nelson, 185, Philadelphia, 1.

TOKYO — Sheemasa Kawakami, 146, Japan, outpointed Terry Flores, 145½, Philippines, 10.

Six Bowl Games Carded Saturday

By The Associated Press

The post-season bowls, strictly year-end trimming only a few years ago, get underway Saturday with six games on the schedule, led by New York's first Gotham Bowl.

★ ★ ★

Four titles will be decided under the guise of the "bowl" title, namely the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics (NAIA) in the Camellia Bowl, the Armed Forces title in the Missile Bowl and the mythical National Negro college title in the Orange Blossom Bowl and the junior college title in the Junior Rose Bowl.

The other bowl, Dayton, Ohio's Aviation Bowl, pits New Mexico (6-4) of the Skyline Conference against Western Michigan (5-3-1).

The Skyline's co-champ, Utah State pits its 9-0-1 record against Baylor in the Gotham's first outing. A crowd of about 20,000 is expected at the Polo Grounds where the game also will be televised nationally (ABC-TV, 1:15 p.m. EST).

Baylor's Bears finished 5-5 after a tough Southwest Conference campaign. Their three Rons—Bull, Stanley and Goodwin — were plagued by injuries most of the year, but all are in good shape to face the Aggies rugged defensive contingent, led by All-America tackle Merlin Olson.

★ ★ ★

Utah State, whose defense was ranked second nationally, has a high-powered offense of its own, paced by halfback Tom Larscheid and quarterback Mel Montalbo.

The NAIA title game at Sacramento, Calif., pits Pittsburg, Kan., the No. 1 small college team in the final AP poll, against Linfield, Ore., College No. 7. Both have 10-0 records, having finished 9-0 in regular season play and won the playoff games that put them in the title affair.

The Missile Bowl, at Orlando, Fla., will be a replay of a disputed 9-7 victory by the Quantico Marines over Ft. Eustis Va., earlier this season.

★ ★ ★

Unbeaten Florida A&M (9-0), plays Jackson, Miss., State, which lost only once in 10 games, in Miami's Orange Blossom Classic.

New Mexico's Lobos will pit their ground attack, led by halfbacks Bob Santiago and Bob Morgan against the precision-passing of quarterback Ed Chlebech, who led the Mid-American Conference in passing.

Cameron Junior College of Oklahoma, unbeaten in 10 games meets Bakersfield, Calif, unbeaten in nine, in the Junior Rose Bowl.

Tigers Play Basketball in PCH Gym Tonight

The Detroit Tigers, hardwood addicts these days instead of baseball performers, play basketball tonight at Pontiac Central for the benefit of the Pontiac YMCA.

The Tigers, sparked by sharpshooting Phil Regan, clash with a city all-star quintet in the PCH gymnasium at 8 p. m.

Proceeds from the exhibition contest will go to the new building fund in the local YMCA's expansion program. The program is being held as a part of "Youth Day, U. S. A."

Regan has been averaging 18 points per game on the exhibition tour and the Bengals have compiled a 5-3 record. They are coached by Neal (Doc) Fenkell of the club's publicity staff.

Other members of the Tiger roster include Charlie (Paw Paw) Maxwell, Paul Foytack, Terry Fox, Reno Bertoia, ex-Bengal Billy Hoeft and 6-foot-4 Hank Aguirre, the club's top rebounder.

★ ★ ★

Performing for the all-stars tonight are several well-known local cagers, some of whom formerly starred for coach Art Van Ryzin at PCH.

Included are Booker Hurner, John Bandy, Amos Bailey, Larry Douglas, Bradell Pritchett, Roosevelt Wells, Paul Harris, Bill Davis, Art Larson, Bob Davidson and Leon Prentice.

Coaching the all-stars will be Jim Templeton, physical director at the city YMCA.

★ ★ ★

The Tigers were scheduled to make assembly appearances this afternoon as preliminaries to the game. Maxwell was scheduled to visit Webster Elementary, Aguirre PNH and Foytack PCH for school assembly programs.

Otto Chanko of the Detroit Judo Club, former 150-pound national champion, will join the Pontiac "Y" Judo Club for a halftime demonstration of the art of Judo. Chanko holds Judo's Third Degree Black Belt.

Another halftime attraction will be the giving away of autographed baseballs to boys and girls in the audience.

This evening's show is sponsored by the city "Y" in conjunction with a group of prominent local citizens. Tickets are being sold on a general admission basis at a cost of $1 per person.

★ ★ ★

Ducats are on sale at Welden Sporting Goods, Norvell Insurance Agency, Osmun's, Griff's Grill, Riker Fountain and Rogers Sporting Goods. For more information, call the YMCA at FE 5-6116.

Army Coach Under Fire

NEW YORK (AP)—Dale Hall's future as head football coach at Army might be decided before the week is out.

It was learned Thursday that West Point's athletic board has had several meetings since Army suffered its third straight loss to Navy last Saturday. Hall's status has reportedly been a subject of discussion. The 5-man board formulates recommendations on all athletic matters and submits them to the superintendent, Maj. Gen. W. C. Westmoreland, who makes the final decisions.

West Point officials would make no comment on the meetings.

Hall's contract still has one year to run. Hall has had a winning record at Army (16-11-2) but his teams have lost all three to Navy.

Notre Dame Tackle Signs Pro Contract

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP)—Joe Carollo, Notre Dame tackle from Wyandotte, Mich., said Thursday he has signed with the Los Angeles Rams of the National Football League.

He was a second round draft choice of the Rams and Thursday received honorable mention in The Associated Press All America selections.

Steers Impressive in New Cage Loop

By The Associated Press

The Kansas City Steers, coached by Jack McMahon, look more and more like the team to beat in the American Basketball League.

★ ★ ★

The Steers, with Nick Mantis scoring 25 points, whipped San Francisco 90-87 Thursday night for their fourth straight victory, their 12th in the last 15 games, and their 13th against 5 losses overall.

That spurt has been enough to push the Steers into a 3½ game lead over second place Los Angeles in the ABL's Western Division. At 13-5 they have the best record in the league.

★ ★ ★

Closest to them are the Cleveland Pipers, top team last year in the National Industrial League, who led the East with a 12-8 mark after snapping a brief slump and beating the Chicago Majors 107-88 Thursday. In the only other game, Pittsburgh snapped a five-game losing streak, 107-93 over Los Angeles.

Lake Oakland Continues Unbeaten in Volleyball

Lake Oakland Heights, fourth place team in the first-half season, rolled along unbeaten and in first place after two weeks of the second-half schedule in the Waterford Township Recreation Department men's volleyball league.

★ ★ ★

The pacesetters shut out the Comets, 15-9, 15-12, 15-13. First-half champion Lotus Lake stayed one game behind with a 15-5, 16-14, 15-6 sweep over Wilson Street.

In other results, Williams Lake blanked Boomers, 15-13, 15-8, 15-2; Highland Estates whitewashed Scott Lake, 15-9, 15-11, 15-6; and Pontiac Lake took two of three from Stumble Bums, 15-12, 15-8, 10-15.

Another Lion draft selection and a gridder Detroit was interested in have signed by AFL teams. Houston U. centerlinebacker Frank Birdwell, 5th choice of the Lions, inked a pact with Oakland Thursday as did teammate Jim Norris, who had been picked by the Rams. Detroit and others were looking at Frank Annweiler but Houston signed him.

Titans Defeat Tulsa, 76-53

Debusschere Scores 18 as U-D Gains 3rd Win Without Setback

DETROIT (UPI) — Dave Debusschere is off to a roaring start in his bid to become a basketball All-America, and the result is a 3-0 record for the University of Detroit.

The 6-foot-5 captain of the Titans scored 18 points and bagged 20 rebounds to lead his team to a 76-53 victory over Tulsa last night. He tallied 34 points against Christian Brothers Monday night.

The game was a see-saw affair until the final minutes of the first half when Detroit pulled away to make the score, 37-27, at halftime.

Led by DeBusschere, the Titans posted a .461 shooting percentage, while Tulsa was a flimsy .273.

Tulsa's Jim King salvaged one honor for the Hurricanes by dropping in 30 points on the night's high. His team is now 1-2.

Detroit now moves on to Lafayette, Ind., to play Purdue Saturday. Tulsa will take on Michigan State at East Lansing the same night.

★ ★ ★

In some other major games, Kansas State gave strong evidence of being a Big Eight power again with a 71-60 win over St. Louis. All-America Chet Walker of Benton Harbor poured in 31 points as Bradley blasted Northern Michigan, 100-76. Jim Rayl swished 34 pacing Indiana past New Mexico State, 74-68. Sophomore Miles Aiken led St. Bonaventure to an 82-59 rout of Billa Madonna.

MONTREAL (AP) — George Hayes, veteran National Hockey League linesman, will have plenty of time to catch up on his sleep while sitting out a suspension for at least two weeks.

★ ★ ★

Hayes was suspended Thursday by league president Clarence Campbell in a dispute over travel expenses. Campbell said Hayes had been riding day coaches and pocketing the difference in cost.

The league insists that game officials travel first class so they can get a good night's rest before a game.

★ ★ ★

In Ingersoll, Ont., Hayes differed with the league president, disclosing it wasn't the money but it was the matter of sleep involved.

"It's not a matter of money," said Hayes. "I just can't sleep in a sleeper, but I can sleep in a day coach."

Seaholm Tankers Win; PNH, PCH Swim Tonight

Birmingham Seaholm defeated defending state champion Plymouth in a swim meet yesterday by taking six firsts. Don Spencer's winning time in the 100 butterfly was 57.5 and the Seaholm junior looks like a good choice in the state meet in this event.

Plymouth had double winners in Dick Micheals in the 400 freestyle and 200 individual medley along with Dick Gould in the 50 and 100 freestyle events.

In another meet yesterday, Birmingham Groves won seven of 11 events to defeat Redford Union, 58-43.

Bill Truesdale, Redford's state breaststroking champion, set a pool record and defeated Groves' All-American Lee Driver in a time of 1:05.7.

Rusty Kline of Groves won the 400 freestyle and 200 individual medley. Dan Wickham went 2:12.5 in the 200 freestyle; Terry Unsworth 24.9 in the 50 freestyle. The freestyle relay team set a Groves record of 1:37.5. It was made up of Bob Sutton, Lee Driver, Dave Mead and Terry Unsworth.

Swimming action continues tonight with Pontiac Central playing host to Flint Central at 7:00 p.m. and Pontiac Northern traveling to Flint Southwestern.

PCH is 0-2 for the season while PNH has won its lone start against the Chiefs. Madison is at Hazel Park and Royal Oak Dondero is at Highland Park tonight.

The YMCA Church Basketball Senior Division opens league play tonight with all eight teams in action.

The first game will get under way at 6:00 p.m. with All Saints Episcopal facing Central Methodist. At 7:00 p.m. First Baptist meets Trinity Baptist; at 8:00 p.m. First Christian faces St. Paul Methodist and at 9:00 p.m. First Congregational plays Macedonia Baptist.

Dies During Game on Furman Court

GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—Jimmy Carmignani, 17, Furman University freshman football player from Clarendon Hills, Ill., collapsed during an intramural basketball game Thursday and died before he reached a hospital.

★ ★ ★

The young athlete was a brother of Tony Carmignani, senior star on the Furman football squad. The older brother was on the sidelines in the gymnasium when Jimmy "fell down on a seat and rolled over backwards."

Dr. J. I. Converse, Greenville County medical examiner, said that Carmignani's death apparently was due to natural causes.

★ ★ ★

He said that in his examination he could find no external bruise of such a nature as to cause death and that his conclusion was that the young athlete suffered some sort of attack and fell over on the floor. "However," he said, "the final analysis has not been made."

Exhibition Cage Victors

The Wallace Cutters nosed out the Pontiac Police, 52-51, in a National League City exhibition basketball game Thursday night at Madison Junior High. Bud Hayward paced the winners with 16 points and Walt Patton tallied 14 in defeat.

In another NL exhibition, Town & Country scored a 56-44 victory over First Church of the Nazarene behind Roger Reynold's 20-point effort. Bob Sutton and Harold Rose each made 19 in a losing cause.

Bills Are Going All Out to Sign Heisman Winner

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Buffalo Bills' big drive to sign Heisman Trophy winner Ernie Davis to an American Football League contract will start next week, Bills' General Manager Dick Gallagher said Thursday.

★ ★ ★

"It may be weeks or months before we can sign Davis," said Gallagher, "but we can't afford to lose him. Davis means too much to football and to the entire upstate area."

★ ★ ★

Davis, the Bills' first choice in the AFL draft, also was picked first by the Washington Redskins of the National League.

★ ★ ★

"Whatever the Redskins offer, the Bills will match or surpass," said Gallagher. "We didn't outbid Washington for Richie Lucas (of Penn State). We met the other league's offer, arranged for a job for him with an accounting firm and that settled it."

Prep Front

By DON VOGEL

The Northwest Suburban Christmas tournament Dec. 26-29 will be shared by two schools.

Farmington and Southfield will be the sites for early games. The finals are scheduled for the Farmington court. Four Oakland County schools and four outside the area are entered. All are Class A.

A total of 12 games are carded. Two of the contests will be at Southfield.

County teams entered are Farmington, Walled Lake, Royal Oak Kimball and Southfield. Allen Park, Highland Park, Redford Union and Livonia Bentley will be the outsiders.

★ ★ ★

Clintondale of the Suburban Central League probably will join the Class A ranks next September. The fast-growing Mt. Clemens school plays several area teams in basketball this season.

Reports indicate that the Dragons are about two years away on the courts. The talk is more of Clintondale's smooth working junior varsity than of the varsity unit.

Bay City Handy has received the Glenn MacDonald Memorial Trophy, emblematic of its Associated Press Class A state football championship.

★ ★ ★

The trophy, donated by two longtime friends of the late editor of the Bay City Times, will be presented annually to the Class A kings as determined in the AP poll.

For many years MacDonald served as sports editor of the Times. He was later elevated to the editor's post, a position he still held when he died in 1959.

UNBEATEN HONORED

Twelve members of the first Albion College undefeated football team of 1928 were on hand recently when the city of Albion sponsored an appreciation banquet for the 1961 unbeaten Briton eleven.

L. W. Wiseman of Milford and Frank Cobb of Royal Oak were on the '28 squad and attended the dinner.

The most valuable gridders at Michigan and Michigan State were coached in high school by mentors now at Oakland County schools.

George Saimes, the Michigan State fullback, played his prep ball at Canton, Ohio, when Paul Dellerba, now at Pontiac Central, was coaching there.

★ ★ ★

Dave Smith coached Michigan MVP John Walker at Walled Lake.

Walker, an all stater in 1956, finally overcame the injury jinx to gain the Wolverines most valuable honor. He survived two knee operations to keep playing.

He was a center and linebacker this fall.

ONE MAN SHOW

St. Rita's Alger Butavicius put on a one man show in a losing cause against St. Benedict last week. The 6-2 forward scored 29 of his team's points in a 45-37 Suburban Catholic League setback.

Duane Soines is now playing for Northern Michigan College, but Roseville still appears strong. Don Gledhill, a regular last season, scored 17 points as Roseville upset Mt. Clemens, 53-46.

★ ★ ★

Kettering will host Roseville tonight.

Southwest Conference Sets Attendance Mark

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—The Southwest Conference set an all-time football attendance record this season with 42 home games drawing 1,446,500.

The highest previous attendance was in 1957 when 1,427,391 turned out for 44 games.

The average this year was 34,310. That also was a record. The highest previous average was 33,635 set in 1958 in 41 games.

Procedure Set for Possible AFL Deadlock

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Boston won the coin-flip Thursday and will draw a bye in the event of a three-way tie in the American Football League's Eastern Division among Houston, Boston and New York.

★ ★ ★

Commissioner Joe Foss listed three possibilities for a divisional playoff, and coin flips determined the sites of each possibility plus the bye for the three-way tie.

If there is a three way tie among Houston, Boston and New York, Boston will draw the bye, Houston and New York will play Dec. 24 and the winner will play Boston Dec. 31. It will be at Houston if Houston wins, at a site to be determined by another coin flip if New York wins. The final title game would be at San Diego Jan. 7. San Diego is winner of the Western Division.

★ ★ ★

If there is a two-way tie between Houston and New York the playoff will be at Houston Dec. 24 with the title game Dec. 31 at San Diego.

There is no mathematical chance of New York and Boston finishing in a two-way tie.

Class A All-State Honors for Two Oakland Gridders

By JERRY GREEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Speed as reflected in the lightning legs of spring champ Doris Reid and jolting force as provided by the blocking and tackling of Ken Wright are the hallmarks of the 1961 Michigan Class A All-State football team.

The 11 best players from the state's larger schools were welded in a mythical unit today as the Associated Press announced its 21st annual Class A team. More than 400 coaches and sports writers participated in the selection of the All-Staters who reached the apex of high school sports honors.

Reid ran away with the voting with the same flashiness he showed in running away from tacklers at Ferndale.

Wright, Bay City Central's outstanding tackle and the only repeat choice on the Class A team, led the voting among the linemen.

★ ★ ★

With Reid in the backfield are quarterback Lonnie Wells of Flint Central, Dick Allen of unbeaten Lansing Sexton and George Knapp of state champion Bay City Handy. The line consists of ends Bob Nowak of Midland and Hamp Morris of Flint Southwestern; tackles Wright and Dick Allingham of Escanaba; guards Dick Ries of Royal Oak Kimball and Nick Hall of Saginaw; and center Travis Jack of Port Huron. This hard-charging array averages 196 pounds from end to end.

Allingham, the first Upper Peninsula player to be chosen as a Class A All-Stater, is the largest lineman at 225 pounds.

He and Knapp are the only juniors on the team. The rest are seniors.

The backfield has the winning blend of speed, power and passing.

Reid, state champion in the 100-yard and 220-yard dashes, provides the outside running. He scored 15 touchdowns for Ferndale this season and was a constant threat to go all the way once past the line of scrimmage. Reid was the lightest man on the squad at 155 and the shortest at 5-8.

Allen and Knapp are power runners who have plenty of speed for big backs.

Knapp, a 195-pounder, was the key player on Handy's first state championship team. Allen, who weighs 190, led Sexton to its unbeaten season and a near-miss state championship.

Wells, a mite at 5-9 and 160 pounds, provides the passing punch.

Central Journeys to Flint

PNH Makes Cage Debut Tonight

Pontiac Northern's cage fortunes this season should be better known after the Huskies home court contest tonight against non-league Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

The St. Michael-St. Benedict clash originally slated for tonight will be played Saturday instead. The contest will be in the PNH gym.

One other change from the previously announced slate has Avondale traveling to Oak Park.

Coach Dick Hall will send a PNH squad on the court containing three letterwinners. Dave Shields, occasional starter last season, will be at center.

★ ★ ★

Rick Fisher and Ed Wassik, who spent parts of last season on the junior varsity, are expected to be the starting guards. Both are good playmakers and Wassik has a good shot.

The forward posts will go to members of the 1960-61 JVs. The Hayward twins, Larry and Gary, appear to have the edge.

Orion will bring an inexperienced team to Pontiac. The Dragons dropped their opener to Avondale by four points, but looked very aggressive and displayed good hustle.

Northern plays again Saturday night, traveling to Rochester. The Falcons also have a Friday night engagement. Coach Ralph Vanzo's highly rated quintet opens Tri-County play at Romeo.

★ ★ ★

PCH will be making its second straight road appearance. The Chiefs are expected to top Flint Central, but could have plenty of trouble.

The game will be played in Ballenger Field House on the Flint Community College campus.

Avondale's game at Oak Park will be a meeting of last season's Oakland A co-champions. Both teams were riddled by graduation and this contest, like the thriller last winter at Oak Park, is rated a tossup.

Waterford will be in action this afternoon at Cranbrook. The Cranes have lost two straight and this is the opener for the Skippers.

Kettering, victor over Oxford in its debut, is the underdog for its contest with Roseville tonight. The game will be at Kettering.

Ferndale's defending Eastern Michigan League champions open the campaign at Southfield. Farmington and Walled Lake also step out of Inter-Lakes play.

Farmington entertains Livonia Bentley and Plymouth is at Walled Lake.

There is a full slate of games in the Wayne-Oakland League. Clarenceville plays at Bloomfield Hills, West Bloomfield goes to Brighton, Clarkston is host to strong Northville and Milford plays at Holly.

★ ★ ★

Orchard Lake St. Mary will be looking for its second SCL win at St. Clement while St. James is playing at St. Rita.

Pontiac Emmanuel Christian, loser of two straight, is at home for the first time this season against Whitmore Lake.

Orion Loses, Young Huskies Win Easily

Berkley defeated Lake Orion 27-19 and Pontiac Northern's reserves walloped Kettering 48-8 in prep wrestling action last night.

Orion finished strong but could not overcome a big Bear lead. Rog Warden of the Dragons and Berkley Dick Kentro posted pins.

Kettering was blanked until Bill Haviland won a decision with the score 43-0. Tom Campbell later added a pin. PNH won nine of ten matches by falls.

The winners at Orion were: 95—Wes Scharr (L), forfeit; 103—Steve Ellis (B), decision; 112—Mike Gleason (B), forfeit; 120—Ron Chmielnich (B), decision; 133—Jon Watson (B), decision; 138—Floyd Upthegrove (B), decision; 145—Warden; 154—Mike Allen (B), decision; 165 — Dick Kentro; 180—Mike LaMagna (L), decision; Heavy—Fred Lauer (L), decision.

Enters Curling Tourney

TORONTO (AP) — Sweden agreed Wednesday to join Canada, Scotland and the United States in play for the World Curling Championship next March in Scotland. The 1962 matches will open at Falkirk, Scotland, March 15-16 and then shift to Edinburgh for play March 19-20.

Triumph in Doubles

MELBOURNE (AP) — Australia's top women's doubles pair, Margaret Smith and Robyn Ebbern, won the Victorian title today by beating Darlene Hard of Montebello Calif. and Yolande Ramirez of Mexico, 6-3, 7-5.

Teacher Can Help You Raise Your Grades

By LESLIE J. NASON, ED.D.
Professor of Education, University of Southern California

Have you talked to your teacher about your low grade?

How many times have you heard this from father, from mother, and from counselor?

You may say, "I've tried that before. It does no good." You may really mean that you would rather not face the teacher under the circumstances.

DR. NASON

But if you want to raise your standing in the course, the teacher is the key person. The teacher decides on your final grade.

★ ★ ★

What is this teacher like? What kind of person is he?

If he is like the vast majority of teachers, he wants to help you.

★ ★ ★

He has chosen teaching as a profession because he wanted to teach. He went to college for several years to prepare himself for his work. He must enjoy it or he wouldn't stay in it. The fact that you have not grasped a subject thoroughly from his teaching is frustrating to him.

BE PREPARED

Now, how do you approach this person? You want this meeting with him to produce the best possible results.

You must be aware of how you look in his eyes. Maybe he thinks you haven't cared. Maybe he thinks you haven't tried. Maybe you have given him the wrong impression of yourself.

Your interview with the teacher will be pleasant and productive to the extent you follow a constructive plan of approach.

You must ask the teacher to do only those things which he can do.

★ ★ ★

Don't be like Joe who walked into my office empty handed, sat down without being invited to do so, and said, "I don't understand your course."

How could he expect me to accomplish in 10 minutes, what I apparently had failed to accomplish in 10 weeks? I didn't even know where to start.

★ ★ ★

Try this approach for better results:

Prepare for the interview. Be ready to ask specific questions about the subject matter.

Bring in some written work. If you are having trouble solving problems, work out a series of problems as far as you are able to carry the solutions. Leave some blank spaces following incomplete solutions.

As you ask the teacher for his help, turn to the points of difficulty. The teacher can discern your immediate problem and give you the help quickly and easily.

Outline a chapter as you see it. The teacher can then readily see where you need help in your thinking.

Bring in a theme or a test paper to be discussed.

Have something of your own work in your hand as a basis for starting the conference.

SUGGESTIONS

You will find that he is delighted you want to learn.

It is now your cue to make an opening for the teacher to contribute his advice for your future action and his help in formulating your plans for the continued attack on the problem of raising your grade in the course.

The teachers in our experience, when the interview has reached this stage, have almost to a person entered into the game on the side of the student.

They have made helpful suggestions as to the proper approach to the oncoming work in the course. They have arranged special procedures whereby the student could make up to some extent for his past low grades.

Now, you and the teacher are united against the problem.

Check Linens for Festivities

Bright Dye May Give Them New Sparkle — Job's Not Hard

The gayest holiday season of the year is just around the corner. And before you find yourself in the delightful whirl of Christmas baking, decorating, shopping and parties, carefully check the holiday table linens.

A quick touch-up with the iron, rewashing and perhaps a bright dye may be needed to perk them up. And even dyeing is a simple process when you use your washer.

Select the desired shade in one of the dyes for use in the washer and follow the simple instructions. In approximately the same time it takes to wash a load of laundry, you can have a brilliant green or red tablecloth with matching napkins, ideal for this festive season.

Restoring linens to their sparkling preholiday condition is equally important — and equally easy. Even the hard-to-remove candle wax stains pop out with the proper handling.

Scrape away as much wax as possible. Place stain between two clean white blotters and press with warm iron. Sponge with nonflammable household spot remover. This method is recommended for any washable material.

Cranberries — a must for the holiday menu — have no appeal when found on your white tablecloth. No need to panic, however, for it is relatively easy to remove most fruit stains.

On cotton or linen, stretch the cloth over a bowl and pour boiling water on the stain. For more stubborn stains, use lemon juice or a bleach.

Peach, pear, cherry or plum stains are handled differently. Sponge well in cool water, working glycerin into the stain. Do not use detergent. Let stand several hours, then add a few drops of white vinegar and rinse thoroughly.

It takes so little but means so much to keep your linens in tip-top shape for Christmas.

Elect Farmer Who Was Fined Group Official

ELMIRA, N.Y. (AP) — The group which last summer fined Cadillac-owning farmer Bill Smith for allegedly overplanting wheat has him as a local official, at least for the moment.

Smith was elected vice chairman of the Chemung County organization of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee Thursday, but he indicated he probably would resign from the position.

"I don't know what good I can do," he said.

Smith, who bought his Cadillac with funds received for not planting corn on his big flats farm under the federal feed program, never had to pay the wheat fine. Federal officials ruled he received insufficient notice that the fine was pending.

Smith had a wheat production quota under the federal feed program.

Lowell OKs Balloting on Electric Line Bid

LOWELL (AP) — A consumers Power Co. bid of $53,000 for Lowell's north rural electric lines in five surrounding townships has been approved by the Lowell City Council for placement on a Jan. 23 ballot.

A three-fifths majority is required for the transaction to be completed. The deal excludes a city-owned hydroelectric plant in Keene Township.

Joseph Kennedy Bought Terrier for Secretary

CHESHIRE, Mass. (AP)—A 10-week-old Welsh terrier believed to have been purchased for President Kennedy's 4-year-old daughter, Caroline, was, in fact, bought for a relative, Miss Ann Gargan.

The dog was purchased from a Cheshire kennel through a New York department store by Joseph P. Kennedy, father of the President and former ambassador to Great Britain.

★ ★ ★

The kennel owner thought the dog was purchased for Caroline, but the White House later disclosed that she already has two dogs.

It said the terrier was for Miss Gargan, who serves the former ambassador as one of his secretaries. The dog is now at Hyannis Port, Mass.

Baker Sends Fruit Cake to JFK for Christmas

GENEVA, N.Y. (AP) — President Kennedy soon will receive his first Christmas fruit cake from a blind, 62-year-old baker who has been sending them to the White House for 17 years.

Edna Gelder, blind for 43 years, put this year's eight-pound presidential Christmas cake in the mail Thursday. It was made at her small home-and-bake shop in nearby Stanley.

To Arraign Escapee From Milan Prison

DETROIT (AP)—An escapee from the federal correctional institution at Milan who was captured in a Detroit railroad station by FBI agents was to be arraigned in U.S. District Court here today.

★ ★ ★

Raymond C. Ellis, 38, escaped from Milan Wednesday night. He was captured Thursday night.

★ ★ ★

FBI men said Ellis told them he escaped through an office window at the prison and then stole a truck in Milan which he drove to Detroit and abandoned.

Dann Says Negligence Cost Chrysler Billion

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP) — Detroit attorney Sol A. Dann said Thursday that Chrysler Corp. suffered losses approximating $1 billion as a result of alleged negligent actions by its executive officers.

Dann made the charge in a 109-page consolidate complaint which amended his suit against the auto firm.

Part of a complaint previously amended three times at the direction of Chancellor Collins J. Seitz were included in the new legal action.

The case has been before Chancery court about 14 months. Dann had sought to oust Chrysler management and have a receiver appointed to run the corporation until replacements could be made for directors he and six other stockholders accuse of being negligent.

The complaint is directed against 97 defendants, including present and past Chrysler directors, officials and employes; firms supplying goods and services to Chrysler, and persons connected with those firms.

NEW CHARGES

Among the new allegations in the complaint are:

Chrysler lost $2,409,325 through a credit agreement with Central Hanover Bank & Trust Co., the president of which, R. E. McNeill Jr., also was a Chrysler director.

Chrysler's incentive plan awarded excess compensation for inferior performances and caused the corporation since 1956 to lose ground in the industry as well as in the ranks of large American corporations.

W. Alton Jones, Chrysler director and principal stockholder of Surface Combustion Corp., Toledo, Ohio, allegedly benefited to the extent of $20 million through an agreement between Chrysler and Surface Combustion under which Chrysler purchased all of its industrial furnaces and Surface at a price fixed by Jones and Surface. Loss of money by Chrysler through alleged kickbacks to George H. Love, a Chrysler director and chairman of the board of Consolidation Coal Co., from whom Chrysler allegedly purchased 15 per cent of coal required at excess prices.

No date was set for a hearing on the consolidated complaint.

Professional 'Dresser' Assists in Changes

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — Wouldn't it be delightful to have somebody dress you — so expertly and completely that you just gave them your body and thought no more about it?

WILSON

I haven't had it like that since I was a baby. That's practically what's happening now to Barbara Rush, the pretty actress. She's required to change clothes 12 times — every four minutes — when she recreates the Ingrid Bergman role in "Notorious" on NBC TV Sunday.

Several gentlemen besides myself have volunteered to help her. But she's chosen to use what Show Business calls "a dresser" — a woman who dresses people for a living: in this case, Miss Elfie Chatham, a member of the Theatrical Wardrobe Attendants' Union, Local 764.

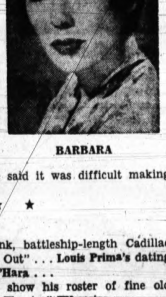

"You see, I'm what they call 'underdressed'—not to be confused with 'undressed.'" Barbara just told me.

"It's a live show from Brooklyn, it's done fast. I have a negligee on in one scene—under that I have a dress—under that I have another dress.

"They tell me not even to think about my clothes. This skilled woman will be peeling clothes off me and putting others on as I'm walking around. If I bothered to think about it, I might blow a line."

Everything zippers all the way down the back — which helps—though Joseph Cotten, whom she marries (in the script) told her that one of his leading ladies once got a zipper stuck and had to play an entire love scene in the wings.

"She couldn't get the zipper fixed and yelled the lines from offstage," Miss Rush said. "Joe said it was difficult making love like that."

Jackie to Spend Long Weekend at Glen Ora, Va.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Mrs. John F. Kennedy is spending another long weekend in the near-by Virginia hunt country.

The White House said she left by helicopter in mid-afternoon on Thursday for the Kennedy's leased country estate, Glen Ora, in Middleburg, Va.

Changing plans at the last minute, the First Lady left behind her two children, Caroline, 4, and 1-year-old John Jr. The youngsters probably will be driven to Middleburg today to join her, a spokesman said.

Servicemen Weren't 'Sentry's' Weak Point

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UPI) — What happens when NBC-TV travels overseas to American military bases and leaves Bob Hope at home?

Well, as demonstrated on "Sentry Abroad," the news special which Thursday night dared to do that unusual deed, the message comes out the same, even if the sounds of laughter are replaced by the sounds of jets and target practice. The message: Our defenders are alert; our guard is up.

PEARL HARBOR VISIT

The full-hour report appropriately began its accounting with a visit to Pearl Harbor, where the story really began 20 years ago. Narrator Frank McGee indicated that, in a sense, "Sentry Abroad" is a sequel to Dec. 7, 1941.

Producer Chet Hagan also sent director Fred Rheinstein and cameraman Dexter Alley on to bases in Korea, Japan, Okinawa, Laos, Europe, England, the Mediterranean areas and the Middle East to define, as they say in the Pentagon, our defense posture.

Since each base is worth a show of its own, McGee could only tick off the essential facts and declassified figures about each stopover. He, and the men who were interviewed, assured us that our servicemen are ready on the firing line.

The format sported a G.I.-tailored cut. No frills. Much soldierly understanding of mission, situation and terrain. Plenty of rugged-looking hardware on display — including the eloquent button panel for a missile. The button bore two words: "War" and "Peace."

Only occasionally did the format take the time to relate the men and bases to their surroundings. When it did, the program imparted additional coloring to an otherwise one-dimensional production level.

Despite the script's raised seams and predictable evaluations, McGee expressed his lines with pride and solemnity, as warranted by the occasion. It was a solid and enterprising presentation, but I felt it could have packed additional and allowable impact by tying itself more forcefully to that "Day of Infamy."

"The Great Challenge" series resumed on CBS-TV with a surprisingly lively discussion that carried the formidable title, "The Third Giant: Alternatives Ahead for Western Europe."

One year ago today the definitive production of "Peter Pan" on NBC-TV charmed the nation. What ever happened to last year's talk of making the show an annual thing?

Landon Urges Western Action

Ex-GOP Chief Wants Free World to Mobilize Military, Economy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Alf M. Landon urged the Free World today to mobilize its military, economic and political forces and pool them in "the most powerful bloc the world has ever known."

★ ★ ★

The man who was governor of Kansas and the Republican presidential candidate a quarter of a century ago took a critical look at the imperiled world of today and said: "The alternative to nuclear war or supine surrender is solidifying the Free World into a massive power bloc to meet the threats of imperial communism."

ADDRESSES PRESS CLUB

Landon had two major proposals in an address prepared for a National Press Club luncheon.

He said Free World military forces must be merged and put under a unified command. Military mobilization must be accompanied by economic mobilization, and the United States and other nations must join an expanded common market.

SAYS U.N. WEAK

President Kennedy has been saying that the United States must cooperate and work with Europe's Common Market but that it should not and will not become a member.

Landon, 74, said the United Nations is weak, meek and ineffective and non-Communist peoples are timid and insecure in the face of Communist tactics that combine "political and economic action—and monumental trickery and butchery."

★ ★ ★

The Kansan pointed to Communist beachheads in Southeast Asia, Cuba and East Germany which he said were consolidated in 1961.

Britain Offers Bombs

U.S. Transports Resume Airlift to U.N. in Congo

Tshombe Back Home to Direct Fighting as He Rails at Americans

ELISABETHVILLE, Katanga (AP) — Big U.S. transports resumed the airlift of men and supplies today to U.N. troops battling stubbornly resisting Katangan forces.

As the fighting went into its fourth day, Katanga President Moise Tshombe charged that "cowardly and decadent" Americans had bombed schools, a church and hospital and residential areas, killing women and children.

Tshombe, back in Elisabethville to direct his forces, declared Americans "send to the Congo their dollars, their planes and their diplomats—everything except their soldiers."

No U.S. planes have been engaged in combat duties in Katanga, but Tshombe previously has attributed attacks by Swedish and Indian jet fighters on Katangan airfields to American planes.

HOSPITAL HIT

In the fighting, the Leopold Hospital for Africans was hit by 50 mortar shells during a night-long barrage, but none of the 700 patients was seriously injured.

Nurses and doctors said the shells came from a Swedish U.N. troop camp.

U.N. officials said the U.N. mortar fire was aimed at Camp Tshombe — a Katangan installation — only 800 yards from the hospital.

One of the nurses said an African woman was giving birth when the firing started. She jumped up from the operating table and ran away. The nurses have not seen her since.

THROW BRICKS

In Leopoldville, an angry mob of Congolese students assaulted the British, French and Portuguese embassies with bricks and jeers, but saluted the American embassy with shouts of "Vive Kennedy."

Nearly 200 university students, shouting and waving banners saying, "Down With the Imperialists," marched to the official residence of Premier Cyrille Adoula after shattering windows and beating up an diplomatic automobiles.

Adoula appeared on his doorstep and told the students to go back to their university, saying "This is a democratic country."

★ ★ ★

The swirling mob hurled bricks at windows and diplomats' cars parked in front of the three embassy buildings, puncturing tires and tearing off embassy insignia.

DESTROY ESCAPE ROUTE — East German police use picks and shovels to tear up railroad tracks used by engineer Harry Deterling to throttle a hijacked train to West Berlin with 24 friends and relatives aboard. The tracks are part of the system used regularly by trains running from Hamburg to West Berlin.

Second Group of GIs Rolls On Into Berlin

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES

BERLIN — U.S. troop detachments moved down the Communist-controlled Berlin autobahn in both directions today without interference despite a new assertion by the East German regime that such movements were "illegal and provocative."

Another company of the 19th Infantry's 1st Battle Group motored eastward to isolated West Berlin from the West German border while lead units of the 18th Infantry's 1st Battle Group rolled west along the 110-mile four-lane highway.

The incoming company, commanded by Maj. Joe E. Amberger, 36, of Belgique, Mo., included about 175 men and 24 vehicles.

It was the second company of the 1,500-man 19th Infantry group to enter Communist territory for Berlin duty. The first unit traveled across the autobahn to West Berlin Thursday without hindrance.

The East Germans tightened their grip on the East-West border traffic by ordering the installation of movable barriers at the seven remaining border crossing points.

THEY MUST STOP

The move would make it impossible for Western allied military vehicles to pass through the Friedrichstrasse crossing—the only point still left open to non-Germans—without coming to a complete halt.

The East German news agency ADN said the new order was "in the interest of orderly border traffic."

★ ★ ★

The new order was another move in the Communists' campaign to regulate traffic and limit Western access rights in the divided city.

★ ★ ★

Until now, Allied Military vehicles simply sped across the border through the Friedrichstrasse crossing—the only opening the

Warns Viet Nam in Grave Danger

U.S. Cautions Allies if Nation Falls Reds Will Have Edge in Asia

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States warned its Asian allies in an official report published today that war-torn South Viet Nam is threatened by "clear and present danger" of Communist conquest.

The State Department "White Paper" also warned that if South Viet Nam and neighboring countries fall to the Reds the power balance in Asia will be "tipped perilously" against the non-Communist countries.

The paper, a 53-page booklet with 102 pages of supporting documents, mostly captured from Communist soldiers, constituted a rallying cry by the United States for Allies and neutral nations alike to face up to the danger of an expanding Red military effort in Southeast Asia and to get ready to help resist it as may be necessary.

The United States through the report also clearly intends to bring pressure on the International Control Commission, originally set up to supervise the 1954 peace agreement in Southeast Asia, to take action on a huge file of charges by the South Viet Nam government against the Reds.

These charges cover assassination, kidnaping, infiltration of armed forces from Communist North Viet Nam and various other forms of what the White Paper calls "covert aggression."

OK Longer Draft Term

BONN (UPI) — The West German Cabinet today approved and sent to Parliament a bill to extend basic military service from 12 to 18 months.

Specifies They Be Used Against 'Pirate' Forces

Decision Comes After Macmillan, Home Meet on U Thant Request

From Our Wire Services

LONDON — Great Britain today made a dilemma-producing U-turn in its Congo policy by agreeing to supply bombs to the United Nations for use against military targets in the war-torn country.

The Foreign Office said, however, the British bombs could be used only against "pirate aircraft and airstrips from which they are operating."

The decision came after a meeting between Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Lord Home. The request for British aid came from U.N. Acting Secretary General U Thant.

The request forced the British government into a dilemma. A decision to supply the bombs was sure to anger Britons opposed to the U.N. operations in the Congo, observers said.

Officially, Britain is opposed to a political settlement by force in the Congo.

But to refuse the request would mean widening the breach between Britain and the United States over U.N. actions to end the secession of President Moise Tshombe's mineral-rich province.

★ ★ ★

Thant appealed for British bombs to arm U.N. Indian Canberra jets in the Katanga fighting. The British-made fighter-bombers are not fitted to use United States-made munitions.

Informed sources said the British offer will consist of 24 1,000-pound bombs, enough to equip three aircraft.

REDS RILED

The offer came as the Soviet Union pressed for U.N. action to halt "open sabotage" by Britain and France in Katanga and accused the two powers of torpedoing attempts to end secession of the turbulent Congo province.

In a blistering 2,000-word statement circulated at U.N. headquarters, the Soviet delegation hinted it might ask for a Security Council meeting to look into "new data" on colonial interference with the U.N. command in Katanga.

Seizing on charges against the two major Western powers by Conor Cruise O'Brien, former U.N. chief in Katanga, the statement cited his accusation that they worked behind the scenes to obstruct the council's decisions seeking an end to Katanga's secession.

Hopes Reserves Will Go by June

Army Tentatively Plans to Start Releasing Men Early in '62

WASHINGTON (UPI)—All Army reservists called to active duty in the Berlin crisis probably will be back in civilian life by next June 30, it was learned today.

★ ★ ★

The Army tentatively plans to start releasing the 119,500 members of the National Guard and organized reserve early in 1962 as trained draftees become available to take their places.

First releases may come next month, with momentum picking up until all are out by June 30.

The Navy and Air Force, however, presently plan to hold their mustered reservists on active duty for a full one-year tour which will expire in most cases next Oct. 1.

OTHERS CALLED UP

The Navy has called up 8,357 reservists and the Air Force has summoned 28,000 Air National Guard and Air Force reserve members.

In approving President Kennedy's Berlin buildup plans, Congress authorized a one-year callup of as many as 250,000 reservists of all services. The actual

AIN'T MISBEHAVIN'—Black Satin appears on her best behavior for a Pontiac Press photographer while shivering in below-freezing weather for nearly three hours yesterday outside the courthouse. Inside sat a jury whose job was to decide whether the horse's owners Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Brown of 7571 Walnut Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township, should pay $15,000 for the horse's alleged biting of an Oak Park woman.

'Stop Horsin' Around'

'I Hate to Nag, Folks, but--'

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Black Satin had to be on good behavior today, although she may have felt like taking a big chunk out of a pestering, patting juror.

Defendant's exhibit No. 1 was forced to stand shivering in below freezing weather for nearly three hours yesterday outside the courthouse, while inside a warm comfortable courtroom sat seven men and five women.

Their job: Decide whether the horse's owners, Leroy Brown, 52, and his wife Hazel, 50, of 7571 Walnut Lake Road, West Bloomfield Township, should pay $15,000 for a hunk the horse allegedly took out of a feminine rider's left thigh in 1959.

Owners of Roy's Ranch, the Browns had to cart the subject of their trouble back to the courthouse today so their attorney William S. Munger could show the creature was as gentle as a milk wagon horse.

★ ★ ★

'COULDN'T DRESS'

Besides, Miss Cohen, 21, of 23750 Coyle St., told the jurors, she was humiliated. She couldn't dress up for a date or work because of the resulting wound.

Outside, Black Satin — called Black Satan by Miss Cohen's attorney, Conrad Cole — was exposed to the cold.

Maintenance men refused her entry into the new courthouse building, although Circuit Judge Stanton G. Dondero renewed the Navy saying, "Sweepers, man your brooms."

★ ★ ★

Cole claims the Browns were negligent in selecting Black Satin for another rider in Miss Cohen's inexperienced riding party of four. The attorney said the girls specifically asked for mounts of docile disposition.

Area Goodfellows Will Sell The Press

An opportunity to assure families in need that they will have a Merry Christmas is being afforded today and tomorrow by Goodfellows in three Oakland County areas.

★ ★ ★

Goodfellow editions of The Pontiac Press are being sold both today and tomorrow in Novi and Lake Orion while in West Bloomfield Township the newspaper will be on sale tomorrow only.

In Novi, Goodfellows are hoping to raise $1,000 for underprivileged families in the area. In Lake Orion, the Lion's Club anticipates a total sale of $800. The goals are about $100 more than collected last year through the sale of papers.

Ray Kehr heads the drive in Novi and James Sheldon is chairman of the newspaper sale in Lake Orion.

★ ★ ★

Tomorrow, West Bloomfield Township police and firemen and members of the Kiwanis Club will try to raise $2,500 from the sale of newspapers, according to Fire Chief Herbert Morgan, Goodfellow chairman.

★ ★ ★

The West Bloomfield drive will include Keego Harbor, Orchard Lake and Union Lake.

Elegant Gift Shows a Fastidious Taste

By JANET ODELL

Give a gift of elegance this Christmas. Webster says elegance expresses fastidious taste. It can often mean some item an individual will not buy for himself.

For the girl or woman who likes to curl up in front of the fireplace in black velveteen slacks, we suggest a pink satin shirt or a beige bulky sweater that has gold thread knit into the design. Gold buttons march down the front.

Ever since the single pearl on a fine chain became a popular piece of jewelry, designers have made new versions of this item. We saw single stones of various kinds at one jewelers.

★ ★ ★

The same store carries a king size pepper mill. Standing some 15 inches high, it is actually crowned in silver.

JANET

Know someone who enjoys entertaining? Gift her with a set of non-tarnishable gilded party forks for hors d'oeuvres.

The couple who have gone overboard with Early American furnishings will thank you for the perfect gift if it is the new Trade Winds pattern put out by Spode. Each hand decorated piece has an early American sailing vessel on it — all taken from old prints. Historical notes are on the back of every item.

★ ★ ★

Americans are more artistically inclined than ever before. Some man on your list may appreciate an original oil painting or a fine reproduction of a piece of sculpture.

Tie tacks which have replaced the old stick pins come in handsome designs. If the gentleman in question likes them, he will enjoy having a collection to suit any occasion.

DANBURY, Conn. (UPI) — Industrialist Bernard Goldfine, 71, suffered an "apparent small stroke," it was reported today by doctors at the federal prison where he has served seven months of a one-year-term for tax evasion.

18, Seasonal Low Recorded in Area

Thursday's strong winds blowing in colder temperatures sent the mercury skidding to 18 degrees, a new low for the season.

★ ★ ★

Pontiac area residents better be prepared for colder weather. The forecast for the next five days is 6 degrees below the normal high of 36 and normal low of 24. It will be cold through Monday, moderating slowly Tuesday and Wednesday.

Precipitation will total about .5 of an inch in snow or rain about Sunday and Tuesday.

★ ★ ★

There's a chance of a few flurries Saturday evening. Morning westerly winds at 10 miles per hour will become 12 to 20 m.p.h. light and variable tonight.

The thermometer reading at 1 p.m. was 29.

Before Business Leaders

Will Unveil Reader Study

Findings of the most comprehensive study ever made of the daily newspaper's readers will be shown in a dramatic presentation before 500 leaders of industry and advertising in the Detroit area next Tuesday.

The presentation will be made by the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Association, under whose supervision the research project was carried out. The Detroit chapter of the American Association of Newspaper Representatives will be cohost at the meeting.

The study covers three major areas of information:

1. It measures accurately the dimensions of the newspaper medium: size of the audience and characteristics of the readers.

2. It tells how the daily newspaper is read and reports the actual pattern of reading behavior.

3. It shows how people feel about newspapers and newspaper advertising, and describes the role that newspapers play in their lives.

Included among the reader characteristics related to newspaper reading and attitudes are facts about auto ownership and buying plans, and home ownership.

Narrators of the presentation will be Charles T. Lipscomb Jr., president, and Dr. Leo Bogart, vice president of marketing planning and research, of the Bureau of Advertising.

The study was conducted in consultation with the Advertising Research Foundation by the Audits & Surveys Company. It was also reviewed by an advisory council of leading newspaper research men.

Financing of the study was provided by six major Canadian newsprint manufacturers, comprising the Newsprint Information Committee. The companies are: Abitibi Power & Paper Co., Ltd.; Anglo-Canadian Pulp & Paper Mills, Ltd.; Anglo-Newfoundland Development Co., Ltd.; Donnacona Paper Co.; MacMillan, Bloedel & Powell River, Ltd.; and St. Lawrence Corp., Ltd.

Balaguer Rejects Opposition Offer

SANTO DOMINGO, D. R. (AP) — Large crowds gathered in downtown Santo Domingo today booing President Joaquin Balaguer for his rejection of an opposition plan for solving the long-drawn-out crisis.

SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Expectations of political peace in the Dominican Republic suffered a jolt Thursday night as the government rejected a new opposition plan for a ruling junta to replace President Joaquin Balaguer.

★ ★ ★

Crowds hopeful of a break in the weeks-old crisis surged through downtown streets a few hours earlier as reports circulated that Balaguer had agreed to step down in favor of a provisional ruling council proposed by the National Civic Union, the leading opposition group.

OFFER NEW PLAN

★ ★ ★

Informed sources said the rejected Civic Union plan provided for Balaguer's resignation before Dec. 31 and for a provisional seven-man council to take over the government and try to install democracy in this nation ruled by the late Dictator Rafael Trujillo for 31 years.

OPPOSITION PROPOSAL

The opposition proposal also called for constituent assembly elections Aug. 16, election of a Congress Dec. 1, 1962, and installation of a new government Jan. 26, 1963.

★ ★ ★

Informants said the opposition also demanded replacement of Gen. Pedro Rodriguez Echavarria, named armed forces chief by Balaguer last month after the general helped crush an attempted Trujillo coup.

CONSIDER TALKS ENDED

Balaguer said that negotiations would continue, but Civic Union officials said they considered that the talks had been terminated.

A general strike which has shut down virtually all shops and businesses throughout the nation continued Thursday for the 10th day.

Lakes Area Gets Faceful of Snow, Cold Shoulder

By The Associated Press

Snow squalls whipped by cold, westerly winds dumped as much as a foot of snow in an area along Lakes Erie and Ontario Thursday night and early today, belting much of the region with the first major snowfall of the season.

Heaviest accumulation was in western New York state, where some schools were closed, and in northwest Pennsylvania. Most roads were open but many were treacherous and blowing snow cut visibility.

★ ★ ★

Highway crews worked throughout the night in northeast Ohio where roads were slicked by two to four inches of snow.

The Weather Bureau said cold air rushing across the warmer lake waters produced the squalls, reported in a belt stretching from Lower Michigan to the northern Appalachians.

Library Loans Art Work Prints

Collection Just Doubled With Acquisition of 20 New Pictures

A small and often overlooked part of the Pontiac Main Public Library is its collection of prints of famous art works.

★ ★ ★

Recently, the collection was doubled with the addition of 20 new pictures.

The library's 40 prints are wired for hanging and all are framed. The collection ranges from rare Peruvian prints to famed Rembrandts.

USE LIBRARY CARD

They may be borrowed on registered borrowers' library cards with a charge of $1.50 for four weeks.

★ ★ ★

The new color prints now ready for circulation are as follows:

★ ★ ★

Breughel, Fall of Icarus; Cezanne, Bathers; Cezanne, Vase of Flowers; Constable, The Hay Wane; Gauguin, The Market; Gould, Gould Birds - Humming Bird Series No. 1; Gould, Gould Birds - Humming Bird Series No. 2; Hicks, Peaceable Kingdom; Jean Puy, Market at Sanary; Lopez, Scene; Matisse, Harmony in Blue; Mondrian, Painting No. 1, Dutch 1872-1944; Monet, The Red Hood; Peruvian Print, Woodblock From Peru; Peruvian print, Woodblock From Peru — Caballe de Pucara; Rembrandt, Young Girl; Robert, The Terrace; Taylor, The Letter; Van Gogh, Still Life With Onions; Vermeer, Lacemaker.

Whopping Budget Okayed by Soviet

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Parliament today unanimously approved a record 1962 budget of more than 81 billion rubles with only one minor change. It gave Premier Khrushchev more money than he asked to run the country.

★ ★ ★

A whopping 13.4 billion rubles was allocated for defense—an all-time high for military appropriations in peacetime and just over one billion more rubles than was allocated for 1961.

★ ★ ★

At the official rate of exchange one ruble equals $1.11.

Launch Rocket Carrying Flares for Experiment

POINT ARGUELO, Calif. (AP) — A rocket designed to set off flares in space for an earth-measuring experiment shot skyward today.

★ ★ ★

The Air Force said the flares, not visible to the naked eye, would be photographed by special cameras on land and at sea.

★ ★ ★

About 15 minutes after the 32-foot solid-fuel Astrobee rocket was launched from Point Arguello, it had streaked to a point 900 miles away and 3,361 miles above the Pacific. The Air Force termed the launching a success. The rocket carried a 90-pound payload.

SET ON SCHEDULE

Plans called for the flares, each with 62 million candlepower, to be set off at altitudes of 920 miles, 1,400 miles and again at 900 miles on the way down.

★ ★ ★

The experiment, called Project Cambridge after the Air Force Research Laboratory at Cambridge, Mass., was designed to help scientists measure more precisely the distance between points on the earth's surface.

Says Pay Hikes Must Be Earned

Sec. Goldberg Adds Inequities Should Be Considered Also

MIMAI BEACH (UPI) — Labor Secretary Arthur J. Goldberg told the AFL-CIO convention today wage increases as a rule should be earned by greater productivity.

But Goldberg said in a speech prepared for delivery that variation between companies in the same industry and inequities between groups of workers must be considered in applying his yardstick.

The cabinet officer said there was no room for an "upward price movement that would have a serious effect upon our balance of payments and our ability to underwrite freedom with a sound and vigorous economy."

★ ★ ★

He said the Kennedy administration would not propose wage or price controls but depend instead on voluntary "responsible" bargaining to prevent inflation.

"By that, we mean bargaining that represents the fair distribution of wealth that is earned and does not have an adverse effect upon wages, prices, our competitive posture, and our balance of payments," he explained.

Goldberg said there never could be a single wage policy for the United States because employers varied in profit-making ability and their existing pay inequities.

★ ★ ★

"We do not propose in any way to restrict the ability of collective bargaining to remove or solve these inequities," he said. "... we encourage and support it."

allies may use along the 25-mile city border.

But the erection of barriers gives the East Germans, whom the Western Allies do not recognize, the power to regulate the flow of U.S., British and French official traffic and even try to bar it if they wished.

On the diplomatic front, West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer, in a letter to President Kennedy, has promised to give French President Charles de Gaulle a full explanation of the U.S. desire to resume Berlin talks with Russia.

★ ★ ★

Adenauer and De Gaulle are scheduled to meet Saturday in Paris. Kennedy hopes the chancellor will be able to persuade the reluctant French leader to endorse another Allied effort to get the Soviet Union to the conference table on an "honorable basis."

TV Executives Strike Back at Newton Minow

By The Associated Press

Governmental criticism of television has drawn sharp rebukes from two industry leaders.

Robert W. Sarnoff, chairman of the National Broadcasting Co. attacked such criticism as a "dangerous, mistaken, illiberal doctrine."

Dr. Frank Stanton, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System said Newton N. Minow, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, was guilty of a critical "aberration" in describing television as a "vast wasteland."

★ ★ ★

Sarnoff, speaking at Beverly Hills, Calif., Thursday, did not mention the FCC or Minow, but it was obvious he was replying to Minow.

Man in Fair Shape Following Stabbing

A 21-year-old Pontiac man was reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital after being stabbed in the face last night.

James Williams of 385 Whittemore St., stabbed once in the right cheek, was unable to tell police what had happened.

Officers found him alone in a house at 186 Reaburn St. when they answered an anonymous telephone call. They said the stabbing had obviously occurred only minutes before they arrived. Williams was still bleeding profusely.

Tells Intertown Bus to Restore Service

DETROIT (AP) — Wayne County Circuit Judge Chester P. O'Hara ordered Intertown Suburban Bus Lines, Inc., Thursday to restore bus service immediately to 14 Detroit suburbs.

O'Hara prohibited Intertown from violating an Oct. 18 order from the State Public Service Commission (PSC) directing the firm to resume operations after settlement of its labor dispute with its drivers and mechanics.

The Day in Birmingham

Ex-Major Named Pastor of Congregational Church

BIRMINGHAM — A former U.S. Army major and later businessman has been named minister of the Pilgrim Congregational Church here.

★ ★

Rev. Howard E. Bull will assume his duties at the Pilgrim church Jan. 7, coming from the Saranac Community Church.

The announcement was made by James Isham, church moderator, who said that the minister and his family will take up residence in the parsonage at 560 Henrietta St. at the first of the year.

Rev. Bull, 45, was ordained a Congregational minister at Saranac after having previously served the Methodist Church at Marne.

FORMER SALESMAN

Before entering the ministry, he was for 10 years a supervisor with Key System Transit Lines in Oakland, Calif., and a salesman for Kasle Steel Corp. at Grand Rapids.

Prior to that he spent 10 years in the army, specializing in military government and military police work.

Active in national and statewide Congregational affairs, Rev. Bull this year was scribe of the annual convention of the National Association of Congregational Christian Churches and was host pastor at the organizational meeting of the Michigan State Association of Congregational Christian Churches.

★ ★ ★

Rev. and Mrs. Bull have two sons, both attending college, and two daughters, at home.

The Pilgrim Church first began services last January and since then has acquired four acres of land at Adams and Big Beaver Road for a future church site.

Currently, Sunday worship services are held at 11 a. m. in the Birmingham Community House.

The Christmas portion of Handel's "Messiah" will be presented Sunday by the Chancel Choir of the First Presbyterian Church at 8 p.m. The church is at 1669 W. Maple Road.

It is the seventh consecutive year that the 110-voice choir has presented the public concert.

Conducting the group will be L. Robert Slusser, minister of music at the church.

Guest soloists will include Natalie McKaig, soprano; Alice Engram, contralto; Daniel Pressley, tenor; and Amasa Tiffany, bass.

Kent McDonald will be guest pianist and Mildred G. Ritter, guest organist.

Other accompanists include Harold Jones and Bruce Warnock, trumpeters; Irwin Poston, timpanist; and Marilyn Jones, flutist.

Red Party Plea Is Not Guilty

Charged With Failure to Register in U.S. as Agent of U.S.S.R.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — An attorney for the Communist party pleaded not guilty today to a charge that the party failed to register with the government as an agent of the Soviet Union.

The party was arraigned on the charge before Chief Judge Matthew F. McGuire of the federal district court in the District of Columbia, McGuire set the trial for Feb. 1.

Communist party leader Gus Hall, who came from New York, took no part in the proceeding.

★ ★ ★

The not guilty plea was made by Washington attorney Joseph Forer. The government was represented by Justice Department attorney F. Kirk Maddrix of the Internal Security Division.

After the hearing, Hall told reporters he had nothing to say about the present status of the party but handed them a two-page mimeographed statement.

The statement said the indictment was "the first time in American history that a political party has been summoned into a criminal court."

★ ★ ★

It said that "for years the slander that the Communist party is an agent of a foreign power has been peddled by political bigots. At no time were they able to prove this charge in open court.

'NEVER PROVED'

The indictment said the Communist party had failed to register with the Justice Department by the Nov. 20 deadline in compliance with the Internal Security Act of 1950. The party faces possible fines of $10,000 a day for each day it fails to register.

Army Hopes to Get Reserves Out Early

mobilization stopped just short of 156,000.

Army plans for early releases are in the formative stages and must have administration approval.

But Kennedy told a news conference last week that "it is our hope" to demobilize reservists ahead of the 12-month limitation fixed by Congress.

The controversy over the mustering of National Guardsmen and reservists has centered on the Army and few gripes have been heard from the smaller ranks of Navy and Air Force men recalled to active duty.

Moonlighting Is Outlawed for Police, Firemen

LANSING (AP)—There will be no more moonlighting — taking outside jobs — by Lansing police and firemen — the city police and fire board ruled Thursday night.

The ruling, to be put into effect Jan. 1, is an effort to help the local unemployment situation, the board said.

Worker Injured in Cave-In at Drainage Ditch

A 36-year-old construction worker was injured yesterday during a cave-in at Camp Dearborn in Milford Township.

★ ★ ★

Edward Grabowski of Dearborn was reported in fair condition today at Pontiac General Hospital. He suffered a fractured collarbone when hit by a large chunk of falling clay.

Grabowski and another laborer, Max Bialczk also of Dearborn, were working in a drainage ditch when dirt piled alongside the edge of the excavation began to slide.

Other workers above shouted a warning and the two men in the hole managed to jump clear of the main slide. Both crawled free.

Bialczk was unhurt.

To Dedicate Houses for MSUO Students

Two new student houses valued at a total of $600,000, on the north side of the Michigan State University Oakland campus will be dedicated Dec. 17.

★ ★ ★

The two-story houses, each accommodating 96 students in double rooms, are designed in two wings set at a right angle with common lounges and faculty advisers' apartments.

Students have been living in the Southwest house since Oct. 30.

Government officials say the Communist Party in the United States has well under 10,000 members compared with an estimated 74,000 in 1947.

Also Feels Everyone in Hollywood Terrified of Something

Suave Michael Rennie Great Believer in Hunches

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — The man was tall, ruggedly handsome, and at the age of 25 he had decided he was the world's worst automobile salesman.

Acting on a hunch, he went into a London film company's office and said: "I want to act!"

BOYLE

Instead of being thrown out on his ear, the young man was given a job as an extra. Then he became a stand-in.

Now, after acting some 400 roles in movies and on stage and television, Michael Rennie is a top star in all three fields.

Rennie, an ex-Royal Air Force pilot, is a master of suavity as an actor. In person he is cheerfully blunt and forceful, and not at all averse to expressing his opinions.

REASON INTERFERES

For example, he believes implicitly in trusting in one's hunches.

"Although we've intellectualized ourselves a long way," he said, "we are still animals—and animals have guiding instincts, or hunches.

"Unfortunately, we don't follow them enough. We reason too much and waver. We have lost the ability to trust in our hunches and act on them.

★ ★ ★

"I believe in first impressions. They are rarely wrong. Whenever I failed to follow a hunch in my life, usually I regretted it later."

Rennie is convinced he's comparatively late start as an actor was a help rather than a handicap.

"I don't see how people much younger than 26 can portray emotions they have never experienced or characters they have never encountered," he said. "The older you are the more life has prepared you to become an actor."

He believes maturity also is likely to endow a performer with solid standards of his own "to withstand those of Hollywood—and they have some very odd standards in that neck of the woods."

Rennie's view of the American film capital, where he spent seven years, is somewhat less than flattering.

"Everybody in Hollywood—from the top on down—is terrified of something. Fear is an even more prevalent emotion there than sex.

"They are the most insecure people in the world, mostly because they lacked security before they came there.

"Most of them have forgotten how to give an honest answer. Before giving you a truthful opinion they glance over both shoulders to see if anyone else is watching or listening.

"Yet, yes-men have no real future. They are used, but not respected.

"There is an almost childlike quality about the insecurity of major figures in Hollywood. Tell them they can't have something, and they want it even more. They must have it—no matter what the price."

Here is Rennie's own idea of personal security:

"To be secure you have to be contented as a person, and by that I don't mean you should become a cabbage.

"The discontent of most people is a result of trying to keep up with the Joneses. As long as you set your standards by someone else, you're bound to be discontented—because you'll pick someone who has something you don't have.

"You have to pick your own standards and live by them. You have to be what you think you are—not dependent on what others say or think of you."

Prime Minister Faces Tough Task

Tanganyika to Assume Independence With a Prayer

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP)—Tanganyika, a colonial outpost on the Indian Ocean for 75 years, will take its future into its own hands at midnight with a hope, a prayer and Julius Nyerere.

The new nation, colonized first by the Germans, later by the British, will need all three—and particularly Nyerere—to make its way safely through the perils which face newly independent countries in Africa today.

AP Photofax

TO BE INDEPENDENT — Map locates Tanganyika, a U.N. trust territory on Africa's east coast, which will be granted independence Saturday. The area is currently administered by Great Britain.

FACES TOUGH TASK

Nyerere, prime minister of the new state, will face the task before him with a shaky economy, largely agricultural, and a populace of some 9 million already demanding the expected improvements of independence. To back him up, he has a reputation for moderation, democratic idealism and hard work.

* * *

As the Duke of Edinburgh and official guests from 65 nations celebrate independence in a specially built, $500,000 stadium nobody will be more aware than Nyerere that the stadium money could have been used for more pressing needs.

'WORK ONLY ANSWER'

Ghana, a much smaller country with little more than half the population of Tanganyika, had some $750 million in reserves when it became independent in 1957. Tanganyika steps into the free world with about $11 million in the till.

Nyerere says his nation faces a budget deficit of more than a million dollars in its first year of existence and the only answer to the problem is work.

* * *

A former teacher, Nyerere heads the Tanganyika African National Union, the only real political organization in the country. He created it and his hope is that it will be the vehicle for bringing real democracy to the nation rather than the all-encompassing, dictatorial political body which President Kwame Nkrumah has made of his Convention People's party in Ghana.

WILL NEED AID

Tanganyika will need foreign economic assistance to survive. Nyerere definitely prefers that this help come from the West although he probably will align Tanganyika among the world's neutrals.

* * *

The nation will become an independent state within the British Commonwealth. Sir Richard Turnbull, governor of the British Trust territory, will become the first governor general.

The country's main product is sisal, a plant whose fibrous stems produce rope and twine. Tanganyika also exports cotton and coffee. The government has a half interest in the old Williamson diamond mine and about $12 million worth of diamonds are exported annually.

Lineman Electrocuted

WARREN (AP) — Donald Christy, 35, of Mount Clemens was killed Thursday when he accidentally touched a 4,800-volt line. Christy was a Detroit Edison Co. lineman.

Woman Sues Firms in Husband's Death

DETROIT (AP) — Suits totaling $2,250,000 were filed against three firms Thursday by the widow of a man who was killed in a yacht explosion.

The suits were filed in Wayne County Circuit Court by Mrs. Louisa Maskeny of Taylor Township.

Her husband, Thomas, was burned fatally in June 1960 when a yacht exploded on the Detroit River.

Sued for $750,000 each were Leonard's Plumbing and Heating Co. of Melvindale, owner of the boat; Chris-Craft Corp. of Holland, the boat manufacturer, and Cooper Chris-Craft Sales, Inc., of St. Clair Shores, sellers of the boat.

Mrs. Maskeny contended in her suits the boat was "unsafe" and "negligently designed" by Chris-Craft. She said the blast came when gas fumes enveloped hot engines.

November Crime Rate at Low Level for City

The crime rate in Pontiac dropped to its lowest level of the year in November after reaching its highest peak of 1961 the previous month.

This was revealed today in the month-end crime report of the Pontiac Police Department.

According to figures released by the department, 228 major offenses were reported to police in the city last month as compared with the year's high total of 330 crimes recorded in October.

Statistics also showed that the amount of crime during the first 11 months of 1961 had decreased from the total for a corresponding period last year.

3,077 OFFENSES

Police have handled 3,077 offenses in the seven major crime categories, ranging from murder to automobile theft, from Jan. 1 through Nov. 30 this year. There were 3,098 major crimes reported during the same time last year.

In November, 30 per cent of the cases reported to police resulted in arrest or clearance, an improvement of one per cent over the amount of cases removed from the books in October.

Crimes last month included 15 robberies, six aggravated assaults, 59 burglaries, 138 larcenies and 10 auto thefts.

In October there were 11 robberies, 17 aggravated assaults, 67 burglaries, 12 larcenies and 23 auto thefts.

There were no cases of murder or rape reported to police in either October or November.

Conservatives Establish Club in Michigan

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — Manufactures representative Earl Knutson Jr., held office Thursday as president of the Michigan Conservative Club following its organizational meeting in Grand Rapids.

Knutson said the new organization supports no party or candidate, but acknowledges Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., its national spokesman.

The club president told members at their organizational meeting that each "must always be ready to explain our primary purpose—to promote and encourage the intelligent, constructive, conservative philosophy of government of maintaining the basic inherent rights of the individual." He said it was a "vigorous, progressive program."

Others elected to office in the club were: James Allen, first vice president; William Van Osterhout, second vice president; Mrs. June Hennie, treasurer and Mrs. Katherine Woodruff, secretary.

Would Give U. of M. Supervision of EMU

LANSING (AP) — The regents of the University of Michigan would have general supervision of Eastern Michigan University under a proposal filed with the constitutional convention.

The proposal, sponsored by delegate Jack Faxon, D-Detroit, declared:

★ ★ ★

"The board of regents shall have the general supervision of the university, of Eastern Michigan University and the direction and control of all expenditures from the university funds and from the Eastern Michigan University funds."

★ ★ ★

The proposal was referred to the committee on education, headed by Alvin Bentley, R-Owosso.

CHARACTER BUILDING

The appreciation of character building as a basis of good citizenship among young people is the goal of the DAR good citizens committee, Mrs. W. H. O'Laughlin is General Richardson Chapter's committee chairman.

The National Society, DAR, conducts the nationwide contest for senior girls who possess to an outstanding degree the qualities of dependability, leadership, service and patriotism. They are selected by their fellow seniors and faculty.

★ ★ ★

Each candidate in Michigan will fill out a questionnaire and compose an essay as a basis for the selection of the state winner who will be named in March 1962 at the state conference in Detroit. Michigan "Good Citizens" will be guests of the Michigan DAR at the conference for a luncheon meeting. The state winner will receive a $100 U.S. Savings Bond, and each girl will be presented a certificate.

The "Good Citizen" pin has 13 stars identifying it with the DAR. Four books in the center represent the qualifications for citizenship, and beneath is the torch of understanding, encircled by the wreath of honor.

NEGRO SPIRITUALS

Following the ceremony Mrs. Donald Hogue presented a program on American music. The Negro spirituals "Deep River" and "Little Boy Blue" were presented as solos. Mrs. Hogue spoke of the origins of many of our folk songs, and the group joined in singing some of them. Emphasis was given to songs of Thanksgiving from America's early days.

South American Gals Like Politics

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI) — Women's interest in politics grows steadily in Latin American countries, says a group of women from Latin America who have just completed a visit to the United States.

"Once, we women didn't pay too much interest to politics," was the way Mrs. Sofly P. de Zuloaga of Colombia put it during an interview. "Now, we are interested, as a result of the work of many citizens . . ."

★ ★ ★

Mrs. de Zuloaga is one of nine women leaders who have been in the United States since early October, criss-crossing the country to talk to U.S. women about politics and ways of improving South American women's participation in it.

★ ★ ★

Their visit is under auspices of the U.S. State Department and the overseas education fund of the nonpartisan League of Women Voters. Mrs. de Zuloaga acted as spokesman for the group at a reception. Their host was David Rockefeller, president of the Chase Manhattan Bank.

CITES THE WORK

"We women in Latin America had not realized how active your women are in local, state and national politics," she said, "Nor had we realized how much you want to help us. Now, we know."

★ ★ ★

She cited the work the Colombian Union of Women Citizens is doing to educate women to their responsibility in government. The group, patterned after the league, actively studies the workings of local governments, hears lectures from economists and educators, and just generally keeps tabs on the political scene, she said.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. de Zuloaga is president of the Manizales branch of the women's group, is a trained psychologist, and is active in the Red Cross and the anti-tuberculosis league.

ACTIVE WITH CAREERS

The eight other visitors proved to be extremely active women both in careers and in community projects also. Mrs. Marinette Boucas of Rio de Janeiro, director-general of the magazine "O Observador Economica e Financeiro," also director of the Rio Soroptimista, a service organization, and vice president of the Pan American Round Table of Brazil, visited Formosa on official invitation of that government. She has received a special award for outstanding services in the field of Pan Americanism.

★ ★ ★

Dr. Betty Borges-Fortes of Porto Alegre, Brazil, is president of the city's Soroptimists, and is an author and critic.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Avelina Salles Haynes of Sao Paulo, Brazil, is a member of the board of directors of the Association of Political and Social Development for Women of that city, and has been active in social work with juveniles, and also is owner of a magazine for women.

Mrs. Celina A. de Martinez of Buenos Aires is chairman of the city's Women's Center of Civic Culture, has been on the commission for women, department of labor, and president of the United Nations liaison committee for nongovernment organizations.

★ ★ ★

Another Colombian, Miss Alicia Avendano is a math teacher, is active in the Union of Women Citizens, and is a member of the Public Welfare Association of Cucuta, Venezuela.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Maria Cristina Beltranena de Von Feldt is Guatemala's representative to the executive committee of the Inter-American Commission of Women. She is an economist, currently residing in a Washington, D.C., suburb.

★ ★ ★

From Peru came Dr. Isabel de Calderon, a professor of education at the Catholic University in Lima. Frequently she is a representative from her country at international culturual conferences.

Dr. Rita Castro Ramos, professor of education at San Marcos University, Lima, is the author of several textbooks in education.

★ ★ ★

Rockefeller told the women that the "hope of survival of society and of Western ideals depends on how well we can establish the ideals of democracy . . ."

★ ★ ★

He praised the league for its help in teaching "the man in the street his role in government," and welcomed the women from Latin America who "are doing the same thing there as the league is doing in the U.S.A."

Winter vows are planned by Antoinette Bennardo, daughter of Mrs. Michele Bennardo, and James L. Howlett, son of Mrs. Harold E. Howlett of East Iroquois Road and the late Mr. Howlett.

ANTOINETTE BENNARDO

Miss Bennardo to Wed

Antoinette Bennardo has set a January date for her marriage to James L. Howlett, son of Mrs. Harold E. Howlett of East Iroquois Road and the late Mr. Howlett.

★ ★ ★

She is the daughter of Mrs. Michele Bennardo of Jackson Heights, N.Y. and the late Mr. Bennardo, and is a graduate of New York University.

Mr. Howlett holds degrees in law from the University of Michigan and New York University.

Melodies of Spain Studied

A study of Spanish music by Mrs. Paul Kern highlighted Matinee Musicale Club's meeting in the Navajo Drive home of Curt Allen.

Mrs. Kern related the history of Spain, played recordings of authentic Spanish music and showed color slides of fiesta time, taken on her trip abroad last summer. Instruments, photographs and maps were displayed.

The Sunday program also featured piano selections by Kathy Brown, Laurie Blakeney, Patricia Proud, Patricia Dell, Mary Stewart, Kristin Lindquist, Gwen Murphy, Alice Cheal and Tom Putnam. William and Lee Cheal played a baritone and cornet duet.

Hostesses were Mrs. Thurley Allen, Mrs. Victor Lindquist and Mrs. Arnold Simson.

Laura Strait, Ann Marie Fell, Jordie Rosenthal and Robert Ralston Jr. are new members.

Women Voters' League Board Meets

The executive board of the League of Women Voters of Pontiac met in the Drayton Plains home of Mrs. John Borsvold. Committee chairmen reported on study projects, finance, calendars and publicity.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Frank Holecheck was named chairman of the nominating committee to fill a vacancy at the Tuesday meeting. Board members Amy Krueger and Helen Wordleman were appointed to complete the committee.

★ ★ ★

A budget committee with Mrs. Harry Killian, chairman, was appointed. It includes Mrs. Donovan Gillmore, Mrs. G. A. Flessland, Mrs. George Widdifield, Mrs. Cora Scott, Mrs. Roy B. MacAfee and Lillian Davidson. Both committees will meet early in January.

★ ★ ★

Laura Belz announced that nine subscriptions to the Con-Con Report, a publication of the LWV of Michigan, have been ordered by area libraries and schools in response to a Pontiac league letter.

APPORTIONMENT PACKAGE

An apportionment package consisting of several plans for Senate reapportionment was discussed and consensus taken. The Pontiac report will be combined with reports of all 33 state leagues to arrive at the state league platform on reapportionment. The league position will then be given at the constitutional convention by one of the state testifying teams.

★ ★ ★

The board will meet again on Jan. 2. Mrs. Borsvold, foreign policy chairman, has planned a program on "Foreign Trade and Aid" for the next membership meeting 7:30 a.m., Jan. 24, in the Community Services Building.

★ ★ ★

Mrs. Edwin L. Perlmutter of Huntington Woods, a state board director, was a guest.

Lady of Lakes Chorus

Plan Yule Songfest

Our Lady of the Lakes Chorus will present its second "Christmas Festival of Song" at 7:30 p.m. Sunday in Our Lady of the Lakes high school auditorium, Waterford.

Composed of some 35 men and women from Pontiac, Ferndale, Clarkston and Waterford, the group is under the direction of Don Zielinski.

★ ★ ★

The chorus had its beginning in the summer of 1960 when Mr. Zielinski organized it for folks who enjoy music and singing. Since that time, the chorus has rehearsed every week.

Numbers selected for the program will include "Mary Had a Baby," "The Christmas Song," "Michigan Morn," "The Sound of Music," "This Is My Country" and "O Brother Man."

Sharing the spotlight with the chorus will be the 15-voice Men's Vested Choir who perform for the liturgical functions at the church. They specialize in polyphonic music and the Gregorian Chant. They will present "Ave Maria," by Father Witt, "Sing We Noel" and a special Polish Kolendy, "Lulajze Jesuniu."

★ ★ ★

Students from grades 9 through 12 comprise the 50-voice High School Glee Club at Our Lady of the Lakes. They will be heard in "The Drummer Boy Song," "The Bells of St. Mary's," and "The Green Cathedral."

Lynn Thompson Nichols and Mary Slowik will play a two-piano number "Gurlitt Rondo in E Minor" and a Barber Shop Quartette will sing.

Proceeds from the concert will help purchase stage equipment for the high school. Tickets will be on sale at the door or may be purchased now from any member of the chorus or choir.

Pontiac Press Photo

"The Little Drummer Boy," popular Christmas selection will be on the program when Our Lady of the Lakes Chorus presents its second "Christmas Festival of Song" Sunday evening in Our Lady of the Lakes High School. Looking over the carol are (from left) Charles Johnson and Alice Adam, both of Waterford, and Dick Miller of Drayton Plains, the group's president.

Cambodia Non-Communist Despite Acceptance of Aid

Editor's note—For 10 years Robert L. Balzer, a free lance writer, has been intimately acquainted with the people and problems of Southeast Asia. In the following dispatch he completes a report on Cambodia.

By ROBERT L. BALZER
Written For UPI

PHNOM PENH, Cambodia — American aid to Cambodia has contributed schools, irrigation systems, roads, agricultural training programs, military assistance, and more.

Red Chinese aid has built textile, paper, plywood, and cement factories.

★ ★ ★

Soviet aid has built a 500-bed hospital, but no means of supporting it.

Much has been made in the Western press of Premier Prince Norodom Sihanouk's policy of accepting aid from both sides of the Iron and Bamboo curtains.

"American aid is the only aid which continues," Sihanouk told me.

"But you can see for yourself how it has been spent. It is not going into the pockets of officials as it is elsewhere."

UNACCEPTABLE TO REDS

The strongly non-Communist Sihanouk has created a political economy that not only is flourishing, but which would be totally unacceptable to any Communist administrative take-over because of its capitalistic basis of operation.

Perfect example is the development of Franco-Khmer rubber plantations in Cambodia, utilizing French technical experience, Cambodian labor, and shared capital investment, which must be at least 51 per cent Cambodian.

"Every country which has nationalized its industries," Sihanouk told me in Siemreap, "has retarded its progress. Our method augments production, increases employment, develops new factories, new industries, and trains Cambodian technicians. It is truly creative cooperation. But under communism, this system, and the French would have to go."

STRONGEST NATION

With Prince Sihanouk, I traveled through the provinces, visiting rice paddies, rubber plantations, textile plants, and provincial expositions detailing progress and products.

We also visited the new Cambodian-built law school and medical college. That Cambodia is internally morally and economically the strongest nation in Southeast Asia is indisputable.

The capital city, Phnom Penh, has become a shining gem, its streets clean, its buildings bright with fresh paint, its gardens and boulevards trim and neat.

★ ★ ★

While some of the progress is due and acknowledged to be from foreign aid, the greatest achievements of Cambodia's five-year-plan are dependent solely upon the work and sacrifices of the Cambodian people themselves.

In the French-style cafes of this "Little Paris," French and Americans laugh and drink with willowy Vietnamese girls, dance in the cabarets of Cholon.

In neighboring South Viet Nam, great strides have been made in housing under the regime of President Ngo Dinh Diem.

Saigon is a beautiful city.

But the feeling among the people is one of fear and apathy. Beyond the borders of Saigon, Viet Nam is in the control of Viet Cong guerrillas.

NEEDS GUARDS

The Diem government can claim only Saigon and a 25-mile perimeter. Beyond this, it is not safe to travel, and even within the city, the President has need for constant armed guards.

Simultaneously, out in the rice paddies and jungle areas, beyond the broad city boulevards, dedicated revolutionaries composed of rebellious Vitnamese nationals, Communists and fervent anti-Diem patriots are unmistakably taking over South Viet Nam.

"There is nothing wrong with Diem himself," a Saigon French-woman who has lived in the area for more than 20 years, told me. "But it is his relatives who surround him. He is like a man with blinders on his eyes."

Sihanouk and Prime Minister Pema Nouth branded as a hoax trumped up by the South Vietnamese regime reports that Communist Viet Cong guerrillas were operating from Cambodian bases.

They pinned a similar label on reports of Cambodian attacks along the Thai border and the possibility of imminent war.

Not in the manner of airing old feuds but in one of grief, Sihanouk spoke to me of his fears for the fall of the Diem regime as it would affect Cambodia and Cambodians.

HAS LITTLE SUPPORT

"Only a small minority support Diem," he said, "The rest detest him. Naturally, we do not want the government of South Viet Nam to fall to the Communists of the Vietminh. Diem cannot hold it. There is no one else. It is too late.

Touching upon the plight of 600,000 Cambodians living in South Viet Nam Sihanouk demanded:

"How do you think we feel to know that these 600,000 Cambodians will be living in a Communist 'prison' when Diem falls?"

In South Viet Nam, Sihanouk charged that the United States had placed its hopes and millions of dollars in the government of a "detested, foolish man."

★ ★ ★

In Thailand, for all the millions of dollars in U.S. aid poured into Sarit Thanarat's regime, the country shows little advance since I last saw it in 1957, in comparison to Cambodia.

Sihanouk says positively that Thailand has nothing to fear from Cambodia.

Rather, he claims that Thailand's uneasiness springs from seven million Laotians inside Thailand's border. Mostly, he says, their loyalties are to Prince Souphanouvong, the Communist Pathet-Lao leader.

Other fears in Thailand spring from the presence of 10 million Chinese.

Comparative Quotes

Highlights of JFK's Speeches to Labor, Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy addressed a businessman's organization in New York—the National Association of Manufacturers—and a labor group—the AFL-CIO — in Miami Beach this week.

Here are comparative quotes on the topical highlights of the two speeches:

TRADE—

In Miami Beach: "We must expand our job opportunities at home by expanding our trade with the world."

In New York: "If we're going to meet our commitments we've got to export. And we have to increase our exports. . ."

COMPETITIVE PRICES

In Miami Beach: "Wherever our goods are offered in competition with the goods of other nations—whether at home or overseas—our goods must be offered at competitive prices.

"This means that management must intensify its efforts to increase efficiency and thus stabilize or reduce unit costs and prices. This means that labor must demonstrate its responsibility in helping to keep over-all wage movements in line with increases in productivity. And this means that the federal government must launch a new effort to scale down the barriers to our selling abroad."

In New York: (On keeping American prices competitive) "This requires, if we are to avoid the inflation that will price our goods out of the world market, price and wage restraint by both industry and labor, and responsible budget policies by the government.

"It requires . . . a higher rate of investment in new equipment . . ."

RECIPROCAL TRADE ACT

In Miami Beach: "When the act expires next June it must be replaced by a wholly new and bold approach . . ."

In New York: "It must not simply be renewed, it must be replaced. If the West is to take the initiative in the economic arena, if the United States is to keep pace with the revolutionary changes which are taking place throughout the world, if our exports are to retain and expand their position in the world market, then we need a new and bold instrument of American trade policy."

PLANTS ABROAD—

In Miami Beach: ". . . If we cannot secure easy access to the Common Market for our exports, some portions of American industry may choose instead to build plants abroad rather than at home, with an added loss of jobs for American workers . . . We have asked the Congress to remove needless tax concessions to investment in industrialized countries which encourage American companies to build their plants abroad and then compete with our own goods both in our own markets and all over the world."

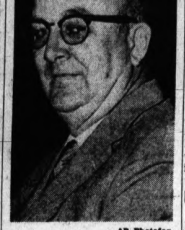

In New York: ". . . We have asked the Congress to remove the artificial tax preference for American investment in highly developed countries with no capital shortage and the unjustifiable tax avoidance loopholes available to those Americans investing in so-called 'tax-haven' nations."

AMERICA'S ROLE—

In Miami Beach: "And we are committed to providing the great bulwark of freedom's defenses, here and around the world.

"At the same time, we are required to show by example that freedom and economic growth go hand in hand, to show by comparison that our way is the way of the future, and to show by our achievements . . . that this nation is a leader, a teacher and a doer of unsurpassable deeds."

In New York: "Now the world will see whether we mean it or not — whether America will remain the foremost economic power in the world—or whether we will evacuate the field of power before a shot is fired, or go forth to meet new risks and tests of our ability."

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of State Dean Rusk will visit Madrid and meet briefly with Generalissimo Franco and his foreign minister on Dec. 16.

The visit was announced Thursday by the State Department, which said that, at the invitation of Spanish Foreign Minister Fernando Maria Castiella y Maiz, Rusk will stop in Madrid on his way home from the Paris meeting of Western foreign ministers.

November Saw $1 Million Slip in City Construction

New construction in Pontiac dropped by more than $1 million in November, according to Carl F. Alt, city building inspector.

The decline, normal for this time of year, compared with high construction activity in the months preceding November.

In each of the preceding four months, building permits had totaled more than a million dollars. The October amount was $1,880,383 for 118 permits.

In November there were 69 permits issued for a total of $191,200. Most of the total came from 15 permits for new homes totaling $97,690.

★ ★ ★

Permits were issued for 31 residential alterations and repairs totaling $47,205. Other permits included 11 residential garages, $10,130; 3 commercial alterations and repairs, $14,500; and one warehouse, $14,000.

Permits for new homes were only five below the 20 issued in October for $144,690.

Seeks Divorce After Spending Week in Shelter

NEW ALBANY, Ind. (AP) — "This will give us a chance to know each other better," Edgar J. Bachman told his wife and four children when they started experimental living in a fallout shelter Oct. 18.

Mrs. Bachman blamed an allergy when she left the shelter a week later with the youngest child.

But she told a different story in the divorce suit she filed Wednesday—cruel and inhuman treatment by her husband, an unemployed state worker.

Trading Moderately Active

Stocks Move Slightly Higher

NEW YORK (AP) — Some investment buying in oils and a selective recovery throughout the rest of the list produced a slightly higher stock market early today.

Trading was moderately active.

Gains of most key stocks were small, around a point at best. Losses ran in about the same range.

Standard Oil (New Jersey), Thursday's most active stock, continued in demand, gaining another fraction, as some of the prominent oil issues benefitted from investment demand.

★ ★ ★

Royal Dutch also gained a fraction. Standard of Indiana was steady. Amerada recovered from its drop of Thursday and posted a 2-point gain.

Although Ford eased, most other auto stocks were firm, General Motors and American Motors advancing slightly. The leading steelmakers drifted off.

International Business Machines shucked off a couple of points in a routine move. DuPont recovered with a gain of nearly a point.

Sears, Roebuck and Eastman Kodak gained about a point each. Airline shares edged ahead. Drugs were off slightly. Utilities were unchanged to a bit lower. Aircrafts showed a few plus signs.

Trading was quite active at the start, then slackened.

Prices were mixed on the American Stock Exchange. Sherwin-Williams was off about a point.

General Development, New Jersey Zinc and Occidental Petroleum also lost ground. Gainers included Aerojet-General, New England Telephone and Vornado.

Bonds Steady at Opening

NEW YORK (AP) — Bond prices were steady at the opening of the week's final session today.

Over the counter dealers in U.S. government securities posted a few plus 2/32 signs for intermediate issues but other bonds were unchanged from Thursday's close. The market was quiet.

Corporates traded on the New York Stock Exchange displayed an irregular pattern at the start. Rails trailed off while industrials edged upward. Utilities were mixed.

There were few changes amounting to a full point. They included: Hudson & Manhattan Railroad income 5s up 1 at 13¼, Great Northern Railway 5s off 1 at 103 and Pacific Gas & Electric 4¼s off 1 at 102.
