Boxer's Death Prompts
Dem's Reintroduction of Once-Refused Bill

From Our News Wires
WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D-Tenn., said today that because of the death of former featherweight champion Davey Moore he will introduce his bill for federal regulation of boxing.

"Davey Moore's death is another tragic milestone in the boxing industry's history of mishandled human beings," Kefauver said. "It underlines the crying need for a national boxing commission with the authority to require thorough physical examinations."

Kefauver's bill, which died in committee during the last session, calls for establishment of a federal boxing commission as a part of the Justice Department, with broad authority to regulate boxing.

FATAL INJURIES

Moore, a colorful ring champion for nearly four years, died today of injuries received in the fight last Thursday that cost him his world featherweight title.

Moore lapsed into a coma shortly after his bout with Sugar Ramos and never regained consciousness.

Moore's wife, Geraldine, 28, has maintained a bedside vigil in the hospital much of the time. She had become exhausted and was resting in a nearby room when death came at 2:20 a.m.

A hospital bulletin said only doctors and nurses were present when the fighter succumbed because of brain damage.

Ironically, Moore, 29, gave up his title — and his life — in the city of his greatest triumph. It was here that he won the featherweight crown from Hogan (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria in 1959.

Ramos, the new champion, sobbed in an apologetic meeting with Mrs. Moore Sunday.

The Cuban-born boxer, a Mexico City resident, told Mrs. Moore how sorry he was and said that he was "praying every night" for the recovery of his opponent in the tragic bout.

VATICAN DENIAL

In Vatican City, high Vatican sources said today there is no foundation for reports that Pope John XXIII condemned "barbarism" in sports yesterday with apparent reference to the prize fight in which former featherweight champion Davey Moore was fatally hurt.

The sources said the reporter, for the Italian news agency Ansa, who quoted the Pontiff to that effect apparently misunderstood the Pope's remarks, made them in a letter written to a suburban church.

Romney Challenge on ADC-U Repeated

DETROIT (AP)—Gov. George Romney said today the issue involved in Michigan's attempt to obtain federal funds under the ADC-U program is whether a federal department can flout the will of Congress.

In a speech prepared for delivery to the Detroit Economic Club, Romney challenged the authority of Anthony Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare to "dictate to Michigan how Michigan can define unemployment."

Romney flew to Washington last week for a conference with Celebrezze after the cabinet official said a bill passed by the legislature fails to meet the standards set to qualify a state for federal funds under Aid to the Dependent Children of the Unemployed.

The measure, which Romney has not yet signed into law, provides that to be eligible a parent must have been drawn or been eligible for unemployment compensation.

Romney said Celebrezze failed to cite adequate federal authority for declaring the bill inadequate and promised to prepare a legal brief by Tuesday citing his right to "override a state's right to define unemployment."

"He could not point to any such authority during our visit," Romney declared, "and unless his lawyers can dig up such specific authority and prove to me that he possesses that authority despite the stated and restated intent of Congress and the specific ordering of the ADC-U act, I shall sign Michigan's ADC-U bill into law."

Romney said the issue is whether a federal department can flout the will and the intention of Congress "to bring a state to heel in order to receive a federal handout."

He added: "The issue is whether our elected representatives in the Congress can specify how a law is to be administered or whether an appointed official can tell Congress to go jump in the lake because they want the law administered in some other way."

"The issue is whether this country is a nation of laws or of men."

Romney said if Celebrezze can find legal backing for "his dictation to Michigan in face of the specific safeguards to state independence . . . then the issue will be whether Michigan will agree to turn over the policy and practices of its welfare program entirely to the whim of the federal government."

The governor declared he is not prepared at this time to state his final position on what he said would be "a surrender of the state's responsibilities to get a multi-million-dollar handout."

Romney said that if Celebrezze denies funds to the 10,000 who would qualify for assistance under the Michigan proposal, "I will follow through on this case in every possible way, including to the ultimate authority."

Printers Ratify NY Pact, but Engravers Stall

Blackout in 108th Day as Last of Striking Unions Holds Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Striking printers have ratified a new contract with New York's eight closed daily newspapers. But the last of four striking unions, the photoengravers, continued to hold out today for a better work pact, delaying an immediate resumption of publication.

Photoengravers were to meet again with publishers to try to come to terms on an agreement that would remove the last stumbling block in the way of publication.

Even if photoengraver union negotiators reached accord today, indications were that the eight major dailies couldn't get back on the streets until time to print Tuesday editions, or more likely Wednesday's.

The other nine newspaper unions continued to refuse to cross the photoengravers' picket lines at four struck dailies. The other five major papers closed voluntarily when the printers began the strike against the four dailies last Dec. 8.

The New York Post, one of the five that shut down, was in print for the 15th day since it resumed publication March 4.

Striking printers have ratified by a 779-vote majority the same settlement they rejected by 64 votes a week earlier. Their new contract gives them a $12.63 package over two years—a $6.51 increase in wages and fringe benefits the first year, and a $6.12 increase the second.

The striking mailers union—like the printers, an affiliate of the International Typographical Union—also has ratified a new work pact with terms similar to those accepted by printers. The mailers thus ended the strike which they began Jan. 9.

Meeting Prior to '64 Talks Asked

Auto Men Study UAW Proposal

From Our News Wires
DETROIT (AP)—A United Auto Workers Union proposal calling for joint labor-management study committees to meet one year prior to the 1964 auto negotiations was under consideration today by the auto industry.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther made the proposal in letters Saturday to heads of the auto and agricultural equipment companies.

Reuther proposed that the auto companies and the union set up preparatory committees by July 1 this year. He suggested that committees prepare to talk with the farm equipment firms by Aug. 1.

The proposal went to presidents of General Motors, Ford Chrysler, American Motors, International Harvester, Allis-Chalmers and John Deere.

GM's vice president for personnel, Louis G. Seaton, said, "We're studying it."

There was no immediate comment from the other firms.

Reuther said, "We believe the time has come when management and labor . . . can no longer afford to defer consideration of the many complex problems that confront them until actual bargaining begins." He added that "joint solutions are not easily worked out during the 60 days normally devoted to collective bargaining."

Reuther said the union was willing to include in the make-up of the committees outside experts if the managements so desired.

If outside experts were to join in, the committees would resemble the one that worked for three years to develop a profit-sharing agreement at the Fontana, Calif., plant of Kaiser Steel Corp.

That committee represented labor, management and the public. Last year after the work of the Kaiser committee was announced, Reuther told United Press International: "I think bargaining begins."

the committee setup is a very significant development. That concept ought to be expanded and applied. It holds great possibilities for improving labor-management relationships."

Of his latest proposal Reuther said, "the proposed joint study committee would not be authorized to bargain. It would be confined to assembling relevant data and to exploring and studying objectively and in good faith the problems that we will face when bargaining begins."

Expect De Gaulle to Urge Limited U.S. Investment

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
BADEN BADEN, Germany—President Charles de Gaulle's government was expected to urge its five allies in the Common Market today to limit U.S. investment in their countries. The French were expected to get little support.

Finance ministers of the six members of the European Economic Community—France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg—are meeting for two days at this south German spa.

De Gaulle fears that American capital is buying too heavily into French industry. U.S. money is 1.5 per cent of the capital invested every year in France. But de Gaulle fears it is being concentrated in a few industries, such as automobiles.

The other five countries tend to welcome investment from America or anywhere else as a contribution toward keeping business prosperous and employment high.

Meanwhile, the Common Market assembly meets in Strasbourg, France, today and informed sources predicted pro-British members would push for Britain's entry into the group.

At its first meeting following the Jan. 29 French veto of British membership, many delegates were openly opposed to de Gaulle's rejection of his island neighbor.

The assembly, acting in a purely advisory capacity, is comprised of legislators from the six market nations—France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg.

Britain has said that it would not try to reopen the negotiations for its entry and that any such new proposal for talks must come from the market members.

JFK Probers Claim
Program Tries 'Too Much for Too Many'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Presented with a presidential committee recommendation to tighten up the foreign aid program, Congress appears likely to respond to the extent of about $1 billion.

The signs on Capitol Hill indicate the program will be the main target of efforts to trim President Kennedy's $98.8-billion budget.

Kennedy has asked for $4.9 billion in foreign aid for the year beginning July 1—$1 billion more than this year, Kennedy, however, is expected to send a message to Congress this week, cutting back his aid request by $200 million or more.

But one high official remarked that the administration will be lucky to escape with a reduction of no more than $1 billion.

In a hard-hitting report, the presidential committee—made up of 10 private citizens headed by Gen. Lucius Clay—told Kennedy the program was too big—trying to do "too much for too many."

OVERWEIGHT PLAN

The report, made public Saturday evening, found that this year's $3.9-billion foreign aid program was overweight by half a billion dollars when weighed on the scales of the tougher new standards it was recommending.

This led to some interpretations that since the new foreign aid request is $1.1 billion higher than this year's program, the Clay committee was recommending it be chopped by $1.5 billion.

But William T. Dentzer, executive director of the Clay committee, said Sunday night this was not so.

The committee, he said, was speaking of only this year's program, ending June 30, and not next year's. Also, he said, the report listed several new projects which it thought should be added.

NO PROSPECT CUTS

The committee did not propose any immediate specific cuts. It urged, though, graduated future reductions, tightening of assistance criteria and reassessment of administration procedures and personnel.

These steps, it contended, were necessary to strengthen the program which the committee felt was essential to security of the United States and the non-Communist world.

The only committee member to dissent was AFL-CIO President George Meany. He said aid funds should be substantially increased. He complained the report might (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Lost Model Is Located in Madrid

MADRID (U) — "What have I done wrong?" asked beautiful model Christine Keeler, center of a British political storm. "They can't arrest me for nothing."

Fear Boy Met With Foul Play

Police have assumed that 12-year-old Robert Grimmer met with foul play after disappearing from his Bloomfield Township home Friday morning.

"We are working on the theory that the boy was picked up and abducted," Norman A. Dehne, Bloomfield Township police chief, said today.

"All the ground from Long Lake to 14-Mile Road and Telegraph to Middlebelt has been covered on foot. There's nothing there."

Law enforcement officers abandoned their search for the mentally retarded boy Sunday.

LAND-AIR SEARCH

Policemen and volunteers covered the area on foot and horseback. They checked sewers and drains and dragged lakes.

They also made use of two helicopters and five light airplanes, Dehne said.

"There's nothing else to do here on the ground," he said. "We can just hope someone might have seen him getting into a car or walking away with someone. We have yet to uncover one substantial clue in the case."

A four-state message on the boy's disappearance was put out Saturday and rebroadcast to every major U.S. city that night according to Dehne. Police said telephone tips poured into Detroit and its suburbs and Mount Clemens, Lapeer, Flint, Saginaw and Bay City.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Grimmer, 5515 Peabesbury Road.

Asked why she went to the police, one British source said, "Apparently she was trying to discourage the attentions of a horde of newsmen and photographers."

The British embassy said it knew of no request by Britain for Christine's apprehension or detention by Spanish authorities.

She was first discovered in Madrid last night in the apartment of an American realtor, Ben Zeidman. Then she vanished again.

to be disastrously used by critics of foreign aid.

Without reference to proposed reductions, Kennedy said in a statement that the report was very heartening because of the committee's "expression of support for properly administered mutual defense and development programs."

ECONOMY AMMUNITION

But the committee's statement that "we are indeed attempting too much for too many" was the kind of ammunition that fit the guns of such economy advocates as Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La.

As chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee, Passman wants to cut the program by $2.5 billion. Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said he will vote as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee for equally deep reductions.

Clay's offer to testify seemed likely to be snapped up by congressional committees anxious to get at the how, when and where behind his remark at a news conference that "I feel that a lot of money has been wasted" in the program.

These committees would want to know also how he and his colleagues propose that administration be tightened up.

Broomfield Praises Plan to Cut Budget

Oakland County's Republican Congressman, William S. Broomfield, today said "amen" to a recommendation by a special presidential committee that foreign aid be cut by $1.5 billion dollars.

"The emphasis the report placed on the need for sound planning, based upon facts rather than economic theory, is excellent," Broomfield said.

Economic theory is often out of touch with reality, he added.

Broomfield also praised the recommendation that greater emphasis be placed on technical assistance rather than "sprinkling dollars like fertilizer throughout the world" in attempts to spur economic growth in underdeveloped nations.

Broomfield is fifth ranking Republican on the 32-member House Foreign Affairs Committee and ranking GOP member of that body's Far East subcommittee.

"I agree wholeheartedly with the commission's recommendation that aid to Indonesia be denied until that nation starts putting its economic house in order and stops threatening its neighbors," Broomfield said.

Birthday Party Ends in Death as Shotgun Blast Kills Guest

A birthday party Saturday night ended in death for one of the guests. He was killed by a shotgun blast.

Tommy L. Holston, 32, of 30 Iowa St., was dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital.

The shooting occurred shortly after 9 p.m. in front of 28 Iowa St., the home of Elmore Williams, 33, who was celebrating his birthday.

Being held in the Oakland County jail for investigation of the fatal shooting is Hardy Harris Jr., 21, a boarder at the Holston home.

Harris, who was arrested at the scene, told police he took the sawed-off shotgun out of his car to protect himself against Williams.

Harris said that Williams had chased his friend, Eddie L. Hair, 78 Iowa St., out of the house with a razor after he asked for some chitterlings (fried or boiled hog intestines).

Harris said he wanted to find out why Hair was not given any food, according to police.

CONFRONTED ON STEPS

As he started up the walk, Harris told police, he was confronted at the steps by Williams and Holston. Harris said his gun was cocked but the muzzle was pointing toward the ground.

Williams was carrying a razor, according to Harris. When he saw it he began to back up, Harris said, and tripped over a pipe in the ground.

Harris said when he stumbled he fell backwards and the shotgun discharged, hitting Holston who was standing next to Williams.

Williams told police that he followed Hair outside after ordering him from the house and that someone fired twice at him.

Williams and Holston went out and met Harris a short time later, Williams added.

Mrs. Mozell Simmons, 35, of 21 Maine St., sister-in-law of Holston, told police she heard Harris say: "I'm going to kill him. She said she thought he meant Williams."

Pontiac police said Harris was to make a formal statement to the prosecutor today.

Cites Communications for Rubbish Complaints

BIRMINGHAM — Lack of communication and knowledge about residential rubbish pickup has been cited as cause of recent complaints, according to a report to be presented at tonight's City Commission meeting.

Many residents are either unfamiliar with the rubbish regulations or fail to comply for some other reason, stated

Thomas C. Brien, superintendent of the Department of Public Works (DPW) and author of the report.

In the document, Brien noted that the increase in complaints is due to stricter enforcement of regulations concerning the type of containers to be set out by property owners.

Queries about rubbish service are handled by the DPW, Brien said. Most are then referred to the rubbish contractor. "By the time we have contacted the contractor or his employees, there is considerable delay before any action is taken to correct the problem or inform the resident of what he is doing wrong," according to Brien.

Romney Feuds With Mackie

Democrat Denies He Polled Bond Houses

DETROIT (AP) — Gov. George Romney says State Highway Commissioner John C. Mackie has polled a number of bond houses on whether the proposed state constitution would result in higher interest rates on bonds.

The governor made the statement Saturday night in a speech to Hamtramck Romney volunteers.

The Democratic commissioner, who is campaigning against the document, responded with a blistering on the Republican governor.

"It's a lie," declared Mackie. "It's typical of his misrepresentations he took one paragraph out of context. I resent the implication that I was 'polling' the bond houses. I asked three bond houses what effect, if any, the proposed constitution might have."

"The very letter he quotes from supported my conviction that one provision of the constitution, which waters down the earmarking and gas-and-weight revenues for highway purposes, would have an adverse effect on the rates."

"Another bond house said it was too speculative a question to comment on. The third bond house hasn't answered."

In criticizing Mackie's attack on the proposed constitution, Romney said:

"Just last week, one of the regular drivers in the constitutional wrecking team climbed on his bulldozer and reaved up the engine for another pass at the document."

"This driver, who heads up the state's road building department when he is not attacking the constitution, dashed off a letter to several bonding houses asking them to help the hard-pressed wreckers."

Romney said the reply of at least one bond house "must have come as a shock" to Mackie.

The governor said, "Nor are we likely to hear what the results of the poll are if the other answers resemble the one that came into our hands through private sources."

The superintendent suggests that a DPW inspector could serve as a "policeman on the beat," educating the public through personal contact. However, he notes this would increase the collection costs by about $6,000 a year.

Brien's report was requested two weeks ago by Commissioner William Roberts who said he had received several complaints from property owners.

Commissioners tonight will also consider a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance which would increase the number of off-street parking spaces for multiple-residence buildings.

The current ratio of one space for each dwelling unit would be changed to one and three-quarters.

City Manager L. R. Gae has recommended that a hearing on the proposed amendment, if approved by the commission, be set for April 22.

Famed American sculptor Marshall Fredericks of Birmingham has been made a Knight of the Order of Danebrog by King Frederick the Ninth of Denmark.

The honor was presented to Fredericks in recognition of his efforts to boost Danish prestige in the United States, according to George P. Everson, Danish consul for Michigan.

The noted sculptor's most recent contribution was the gift of a fountain to the Danish Old People's Home near Rochester in honor of Danish immigration to the area.

Fredericks' grandfather immigrated from Denmark to America in the late 1800s and established himself as a ship builder in Rock Island, Ill.

Fredericks lives at 440 Lake Park Drive and has his studio at 1113 N. Woodward Ave., Royal Oak.

Other dentists from Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Elyria, Dearborn and Tecumseh and 15 Ohio cities also will speak at the affair, which attracts 400 dentists, dental assistants, hygienists and suppliers of dental equipment and aids services.

Clinic Day is for exchange of ideas and back-to-school sessions on new advances in the field. It is the final event in a two-day meeting held at the Commodore Perry Hotel.

Township Meetings Set Saturday

18 of 27 Area Units Plan Annual Sessions

Residents of 18 out of 27 area townships will have the opportunity to enact legislation of their choosing at annual township meetings Saturday.

Although any topic can be introduced, the two significant items on most agendas will be consideration of a budget for the coming year and setting of salaries of township officials.

A simple majority of those present can execute any changes desired concerning affairs of the townships.

In past meetings, a majority vote has brought about action ranging from a citation of commendation for the retiring clerk to allocation of $1,000 for fire-fighting equipment.

All the sessions are conducted in township halls.

Those communities which have in recent years voted to abolish the meeting are Bloomfield, Brandon, Farmington, Holly, Orion, Oxford, Novi, Waterford and West Bloomfield townships.

Scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. are gatherings in Avon, Bruce, Groveland, Highland, Independence, Metamora, Pontiac, Royal Oak, Shelby, Springfield, Washington and White Lake townships.

Lyon and Oakland townships have their meetings slated to commence at 1:30 p.m. Addison, Dryden and Milford township sessions will start at 2.

Residents of Rose Township will meet at 2:30 p.m.

The annual township meeting dates back to 1848 and is an outgrowth of the old New England town meeting.

DETROIT WATER COMING—Construction of the Detroit Water Board service building in Troy is well on its way toward completion today. Located at the southwest corner of South Boulevard and Dequindre Road, the facility will be used to pump Detroit water to Pontiac and other northern Oakland County communities. The structure must be half-completed by November, according to stipulations of the federal grant with which it is being partially financed.

Police Seek Warrant in Officer's Slaying

DETROIT (AP)—Police sought a murder warrant today against George E. Colby Jr., 22, who they said admitted shooting to death a police sergeant who stopped him on the Ford Expressway for reckless driving.

Sgt. Selwyn Adams, 46, was slain with his own revolver Saturday night.

Adams spotted Colby's car speeding on the expressway and pursued him in a marked police car. Colby left the freeway at Russell, and Adams cut him off at the top of the ramp.

Witnesses gave this account of the shooting:

Sgt. Adams removed the keys from Colby's car at gunpoint and told him to get out of the car. The officer then holstered his gun.

Colby left the car, threw Adams off balance and grabbed his gun. Then he fired one shot into Adams' abdomen.

The officer slumped to a sitting position and pleaded for his life. Colby fired two more shots. One punctured the heart.

TOOK NUMBER
Colby surrendered at the apartment of a friend two hours later. A witness had taken his license number.

Colby told police he had argued with his wife, Wilhelmina, 30, drank some rum and then went for a ride to "cool off." He took with him his 1-year-old son, Parish.

Surrendering, Colby came out saying: "I took a ride on the Ford freeway and when I pulled off at the Russell exit, this police car cut me off. The officer got out and pulled his gun and told me to get up against the side of my car."

"I was mad and slow in getting my hands up. The officer put his gun back in the holster and pushed me up against my car. I grabbed him and pulled out his gun."

"I jumped back away from him and he started toward me. I shot him. The officer began going down so I shot him twice again."

"Then I jumped in my car and drove home. I put the car in the garage and sort of hung around in the back of the house for a while. Then I took the baby and went into a friend's apartment and told my wife I'd shot a policeman."

Romney Plan Hit by Ferency

Writes to Celebrezze on Aid to Hospitals

LANSING (AP)—Democratic State Chairman Zoltan Ferency has protested a plan by Gov. George Romney seeking to qualify two competing hospitals in Monroe for federal aid.

Ferency made the protest in a letter to Anthony Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare.

Romney has proposed a change in State Health Department policy in an attempt to qualify the two hospitals for some $1 million in funds.

Ferency said that the health department's policy regarding federal funds has been to build only a single adequate-sized hospital in smaller communities, "to avoid the waste of public funds inherent in unnecessary duplication of expensive facilities and overbuilding."

The Monroe hospitals involved are the Mercy Hospital, a Roman Catholic project, and the Monroe Memorial Hospital, a private community facility. They engaged in a fund-raising race several years ago and are now approximately half completed.

Ferency said the Michigan Health Department has indicated that only one 2,000-bed hospital can receive federal assistance in Monroe.

Dies as Car Overturns

DETROIT (AP)—William Hale, 57, of New Boston, was killed today in a one-car accident in Huron Township. Police said Hale's car failed to negotiate a curve, ran off the road and over a utility pole.

To Discontinue 2 Programs for Lack of Pupil Demand

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—The Dublin Board of Education has voted to discontinue programs in industrial arts and homemaking effective the end of the 1962-63 school year.

The board cited five reasons for the decision:

• Only a small number of students benefit from the programs.

• Equipment stands idle three hours per day.

• Size of classes is small when compared to academic subjects.

• Adequate facilities are lacking.

• More efficient and beneficial utilization of space can be found.

Church Plans Lent Worship and Supper

TROY—Guest speaker at the Big Beaver Methodist Church's Lenten devotional meeting Wednesday will be Rev. Roger Arnett, minister to the handicapped of the Ann Arbor District.

The 7 p.m. worship hour, at which Rev. Arnett will speak, will be preceded by a fellowship supper at 6:15 p.m.

Rev. Arnett was ordained in 1957. Although confined to a wheelchair for 25 years, he has devoted much time to aiding other handicapped persons. Presently, his work takes him to many nursing homes and residents of senior citizens.

Anyone interested in hearing Rev. Arnett is welcome to attend.

Art Tour Plans to Be Made

ROCHESTER—Plans for a spring art tour will be discussed at Wednesday's 8 p.m. meeting of the Rochester Branch of the American Association of University Women.

Those attending the session, to be conducted in the home economics room of the high school, will also begin preparation of a May luncheon.

New members will have a chance to get acquainted at the social hour which is part of the meeting.

500 Music Students to Present Song Fete

ROCHESTER—Some 500 music students from Rochester Community Schools will participate in the "Festival of Song" tomorrow night. The event is sponsored by the vocal music department.

Included in the program will be "The Green Cathedral" sung by the Central Junior High School chorus and selections from "The Sound of Music" sung by students from North Hill and McGregor schools.

The presentation will be concluded with all 500 students joining in Ralph Williams' "American Panorama."

Time for the song festival is 8 p.m. at Rochester High School.

SUZANNE D. AIRY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Airy, 26402 Stuart St., Southfield, announce the engagement of their daughter Suzanne Dorothy to Billy Edward Howard Jr. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy E. Howard Sr., 19200 Mill Road, Commerce Township.

College Groups to Sing, Play Sacred Music

ROCHESTER—The First Congregational Church here will present the Olivet College Choral Ensemble and Chamber Orchestra in a concert of sacred music at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

To be staged in the church sanctuary, the program will feature the choral ensemble in four selections, including the difficult "Hosanna Pomiul," by Lovasky.

Five presentations by the orchestra will be highlighted by the melodious "Folk Song Suite" by Ralph Vaughan Williams.

The combined groups will perform renditions of Brahms' "How Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place," and the "Gloria Patri" by Haydn.

Weekend Traffic Toll

7 Die on Michigan Roads

By The Associated Press
State police report at least seven persons died during the weekend in traffic accidents on Michigan highways—including a Dundee couple found dead in the wreckage of their car in a ditch in Monroe County.

The Associated Press weekend death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Traffic victims: Mrs. Mabel Watkins, 61, of rural Easton Rapids, was killed Sunday when a car driven by her husband, Glenn, 62, hit a light pole on I-96 in Walker Township, a few miles northwest of Grand Rapids.

Daniel Burnham, 32, of Novi, was killed Sunday when his car hit a utility pole in Novi Township.

Henry Gutowski, 40, of Dearborn, was fatally injured Saturday night when his car hit an abutment on the John Lodge Expressway in Detroit.

Arthur Segura, 17, of Ann Arbor, died Saturday of injuries suffered Friday night when his car crashed into a wooden bridge and drove a wooden board into his chest.

Albert J. Liguia, 75, of Negaunee, was killed Saturday when struck by a hit-and-run driver in the Upper Peninsula town.

Charles T. Detloff, 21, and Mary Blackstone, 15, both of Dundee, were found dead Saturday in the wreckage of their car in a ditch in Dundee Township of Monroe County.

Novi Man Is Killed as Car Hits Pole

NOVI—A 32-year-old Novi man was killed early Sunday when his car skidded off Grand River Avenue and hit a utility pole.

Daniel Burnham, 32, of Novi, was killed Saturday night when his car hit a utility pole near the corner of Grand River and Taft shortly after 3 a.m.

Burnham was dead on arrival at St. Mary's hospital, Livonia. Police are continuing their investigation of the accident.

State Leaders in Agriculture to Tour Europe

LANSING (AP)—Michigan agriculture leaders will leave Lansing June 10 for a 19-day tour of Europe that will include stops in eight cities and adjacent agricultural points of interest in six countries, with three days in Moscow.

Reservations are being made now by the State Agriculture Department for the all-expense-paid tour, to cost $1,497.

Only farmers or those with their livelihood directly related to agriculture are eligible.

Science Shrinks Piles
New Way Without Surgery
Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain—without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another, "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinking) took place.

And most amazing of all—this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months! In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing.

All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suspensory or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suspensories or Preparation H Ointment with special applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

Police Probe Mystery Murder

PHOENIX, Ariz. — Sheriff's wife left for Arizona Wednesday investigators hope an autopsy report today will shed more light on the slaying of Jane Langdon, 21-year-old daughter of a Texas judge.

The body of the Texas Christian University senior from Fort Worth was found Saturday by target shooters in a prospectors' cave north of Phoenix. She had been shot to death.

Although fully clad in outer garments, her underclothing was missing. Officers think she may have been attacked sexually.

Here's what officers have pieced together:

JANE LANGDON

was to join them Thursday at a Phoenix hotel.

Wednesday night, Miss Langdon was taken to the Dallas airport by Willis Murphy, a dental student at Baylor and her steady boyfriend.

She arrived in Phoenix at 2:52 a.m. and took a car to Los Olivos Lodge, where she made two phone calls in the lobby. One was to the cab company. Officers don't know who the second call went to.

Another cab took her to the Cadillac Apartments where her mother had rented an apartment up to the time the operation was scheduled. The taxi left her and her luggage there about 4 a.m.

LAST TIME SEEN

That was the last seen of her until two young men and a boy found her body. The luggage still is missing.

Capt. Ralph Edmundson said it appeared Miss Langdon had been shot once in the head and twice in the stomach.

Officers said indications were she had been forced to walk to the tunnel where she was slain. Her purse, empty except for her driver's license, was found nearby. Her bracelet and ring were not disturbed.

Judge Langdon told officers his daughter possibly went to the hotel and the apartment because she forgot the name of the hotel where she had reservations and knew the other two locations from previous trips to Phoenix.

Langdon and his wife were awaiting their daughter at the downtown hotel, but never received a call.

The father said he "never felt so helpless" in his life.

"I can't think of any motive other than sex or sadism," he said.

Langdon said his wife, who is recovering from the operation, was told yesterday of her daughter's death.

"So far as I know, she's doing as well as can be expected," he added.

Langdon is a judge of the Second Civil Court of Appeals in Texas. His daughter was a debutante in Fort Worth in '61.

MARSHALL, Ok.—An 8-year-old boy, Ronald Steven Gordon, died yesterday in a fire which destroyed his one-story brick home on the northern outskirts of Marshall. Flames and smoke turned back would-be rescuers.

Ronald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gordon, and a brother, Gerald, escaped, along with 16-year-old Bruce Grable, a neighbor who was spending the night with Ronald.

Bruce was overcome and also suffered first degree burns, but was reported in good condition at a hospital. He was snatched from the burning home by a Marshall policeman who broke a picture window and reached through for him.

Election to Determine Part of County Board

Although they don't appear on the ballot as candidates for the County Board of Supervisors, many members of the board ARE up for election, April 1.

Numerous Oakland County residents have raised the question in recent years, "How is the board of supervisors responsible to the people — How do we make our feelings known?"

In the township elections of April 1, the person elected township supervisor also will be the township's member on the board.

In city balloting, the commission or council members elected appoint persons to the board of supervisors. Current make-up of the board is one supervisor from each of the 24 townships and 61 supervisors appointed from the 22 cities.

The board is "big business." It has a current budget of $15.4 million.

Its role is growing in importance each year as more and more problems arise which are too much for individual cities or townships to handle.

Multimillion-dollar sewer and drain projects are good examples, with the County acting as the coordinating agency, apportioning the costs and pushing the whole job along toward completion.

Actions of the board of supervisors have rarely, if ever, been brought into the campaign of township or city candidates.

Most township office seekers have concentrated on the problems of the township, and being on the board of supervisors was just part of the job.

There is even less likelihood of supervisors' actions playing a role in city elections, since the City's representatives on the board are appointed. Many municipalities have the same representatives for years, despite changes in the city commission or council.

However, voters should know that more than one-fourth of the supervisors are directly elected in township balloting, and the rest are appointed by persons elected to city positions.

Midwest Universities Pool Their Resources

What is aptly described as an "Academic Common Market" has just been activated by the "Big Eleven" universities of the Midwest.

The purpose of the alliance, which grants about 30 per cent of the Nation's doctoral degrees, is to cut the rising cost of research rivalry.

If one campus has a particle accelerator, for example, it makes no sense for another to duplicate it. Michigan is strong in Far Eastern languages; Illinois in Russian. Why should they try to match one another?

By sharing the other school's strong points, each of the eleven will be able to strengthen its own for the benefit of all.

Already under way is joint research in bioclimatology (weather's effects on living organisms), a new field too costly and complex for any one college to excel in. The universities involved have even pledged to quit raiding other faculties for top professors during a May-to-September "closed season."

This cooperative plan, first promulgated in 1957 under the designation "Committee on Institutional Cooperation," (CIC) would permit the 43,000 graduate students of the academic federation to transfer freely among the eleven campuses. The "CIC Traveling Scholars" would have the right to use whatever facilities they need at any school, without having to register or pay additional fees there.

This seems like a most praiseworthy concept in higher education, the effect of which will be watched with great interest by educators and laity across the land.

SOME people have been blaming the severe winter weather on nuclear explosions, but most of us blame it on strong and prolonged winds from the north.

LBJ Bides Time for 1968 Bid

By RUTH MONTGOMERY

WASHINGTON — Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, one of the most savvy politicians of our times, is playing his cards close to his chest.

To capture the Democratic presidential nomination in 1968, he must first be renominated vice president next year.

Since the president customarily makes the sole decision as to his running mate, LBJ has taken infinite pains to avoid stealing any presidential limelight or upsetting any Kennedy appeasement.

To avert any suspicion of presidential build-up for the White House at this early date, the rangy Texan has turned down a score of friendly book authors who would like to write a semi-official biography of the vice president.

He has also discouraged similar requests for glowing magazine articles about himself.

The timing is not yet right. Until next year's election is safely past, LBJ is wise to leave the spotlight to the gregarious Kennedy clan, quietly performing all presidential assignments which come his way.

This by no means suggests, however, that Lyndon and his vivacious Lady Bird have gone into social eclipse. Quite the contrary is true. For the first time in living memory, the second lady has become Washington's undisputed "top hostess," after the First Lady herself.

There are two reasons for this phenomena: The Johnsons are not only charmingly gregarious, but also the wealthiest vice presidential family in many decades. If some of their parties just happen to keep political fences mended, who can gainsay a vice president's right to look to the future?

DAILY CHORES By day, LBJ is busily occupied with more official duties than any of his predecessors, since President Kennedy named him chairman of the Equal Rights, Peace Corps, and Space Advisory councils.

With the dusk, however, the welcome mat seems perennially out at the Elms, the beautiful French chateau which the Johnsons purchased two years ago from the former hostess — with the moans, Perle Mesta.

Within the past week, the Johnsons hosted three elaborate parties: there a reception for the nationally prominent members of the Peace Corps Advisory Council and key members of Congress; an after-the-concert late party honoring Boston Symphony conductor E. Levenson; and a gala dinner-dance for Lady Bogg, vivacious wife of House Democratic whip Hale Boggs.

An old friend, Lady Bogg was served by Lyndon's "advance woman" during his '60 campaign tour of the South.

Next month, the second lady will play hostess to wives of top news executives here for the annual meeting of the American Society of Newspaper Editors — a gracious gesture that can do her husband no political harm.

Many of the Johnson parties have had the old maestro's sure touch. For the first time in history, the vice president and his lady entertained all new members of Congress, splitting the party into two gala evenings, with cabinet officers, heads of agencies and the leadership of both houses of Congress in attendance to assure impressive glitter.

After the recent $1000-a-plate Democratic dinner, the Johnsons gave a bang-up party for the illustrious stage and screen stars who donated their talents, and even the President and Mrs. Kennedy came to the midnight soiree at The Elms.

Riding High—Again!

David Lawrence Says:

Welfare Theories Apply Today

WASHINGTON — Lord Beveridge, famous crusader for the "welfare state" concept, died a few days ago in Oxford, England. But his ideas at the age of 84, didn't die with him.

The most significant passages in the Beveridge report read as if they were written this very year.

Lawrence and they could be applied to the New York and Cleveland newspaper strikes. He wrote as follows: "The right of wage-earners to combine for the purpose of negotiating wages, hours, and conditions of work is generally regarded as an essential British liberty. The tradition that they should bargain sectionally, each craft and trade for itself, is old and strong."

"Making the labor market generally a seller's market rather than a buyer's market will increase permanently and markedly the bargaining strength of labor. In so far as this leads to labor, as a whole, gaining a larger share of the total product of industry, it leads to a desirable result."

"But, given the sectional structure of trade unionism, that is not the only possible result. Particular wage demands which exceed what employers are able to pay with their existing prices and which force a raising of prices, may bring gains to the workers of the industry concerned, but they will do so at the expense of all other workers, whose real wages fall owing to the rise in prices."

"The other workers will naturally try to restore the position, by putting forward demands of their own. There is a real danger that sectional wage bargaining, pursued without regard to its effects upon prices, may lead to a vicious spiral of inflation, with money wages chasing prices and without any gain in real wages for the working class as a whole."

"If prices are kept stable, rising productivity will make possible a continuous, if not spectacular, rise of money wages, even if the share of the total product that goes to the wage-carrier remains no higher than at present."

"In that there can be increased wages may rise still more; such a development is desirable from the economic as well as from the moral point of view."

"In the new conditions of full employment, wages ought to be determined by reason, in the light of all the facts and with some regard to general equities and not simply by the bargaining power of particular groups of men."

"This suggests, not that there should be continuance in peace of the compulsory arbitration which has been accepted in war, but that collective bargaining in each industry should in general include a clause for arbitration by an agreed arbitrator, in default of agreement between the parties."

"The employers' association and the union would thus be pledged in advance to accept the arbitration and to give no support of any kind to lockouts or strikes in defiance of arbitration."

Whatever one may think of the soundness of Lord Beveridge's financial and budgetary proposals, the fact remains he insisted that the program should be regarded as a whole and not as a set of separate recommendations.

This is the factor being ignored today by both the President and Congress.

Bob Considine Says:

We'd Better Get Moving on Latin American Effort

NEW YORK — The President described his meeting in Central America as "fruitful," the least stable word in 20th century diplomacy. He saw "impressive evidence" in San Jose, Costa Rica, that we've got a lot of friends down that way.

It is on the move all right, but ostensibly it isn't moving in the direction the President indicates. Or, if it is, it is doing a pretty good job of camouflaging the direction in which it is headed.

Our tremendous commitment of $20 billion to the Alliance for Progress cannot at this early stage be considered doomed for want of more apparent results. Nevertheless, it is disheartening to see so little progress, so few changes in the deterioration of a part of the hemisphere where, by the year 2000, will live 500 million human beings.

The Latin American rich get richer, the poor get poorer. It is risky to generalize, generally. But from personal observation it would be difficult to find a dozen very rich Latin Americans from Juarez to Tierra del Fuego — whose attitude toward the despair around them is any different than that once exhibited by Louis XVI.

The enormous job this nation has undertaken is to steer a colossal revolution in a direction which will parallel, as much as possible, our own way of life and kind of reasoning.

It is akin to the task of wading into a gigantic stampede and directing all the explosive energy toward the peace and fruition of a war hole.

It is a race-with-the-clock of history, and it's later than we think.

We must find ways of keeping five or six Latin American nations from permitting its young radicals to attend sabotage and propaganda schools in Cuba.

We must reassure the U.S. business man that he shouldn't have a moment's worry about investing billions in Latin America, even though rich Latin Americans are moving their own money to their numbered bank accounts in Switzerland.

We must encourage trade with a land where there have been many cases of expropriation, pathetic mismanagement, and maddening indifference and sloth.

We must, above all difficult jobs, get through to the people of Latin America. By and large their leaders are hardly their rightful representatives, yet protocol requires us to deal with them alone.

The Marxists don't observe protocol. They have a clear-sighted if long-range vision: a Communist bastion not simply confined to a little island 90 miles off Florida but one that covers and coordinates half of this side of the earth.

Voice of the People:

Proposed Constitution Is Still Being Debated

The five most populous counties of Michigan, having 57.5 per cent of the total state population, could permanently control state government if representation in the house and senate were based solely on population.

The proposed new constitution would put representation in the house on population only and apportion representation for the senate on population and area. This would be accomplished by a fair and just formula weighted 80 per cent for population and 20 per cent for area. All counties, including the 78 with 42.5 per cent of the population would thus have effective representation in the legislature.

A majority vote for the proposed constitution will prevent control of the government of Michigan by one political party, one economic interest or one section of the state. Vote "yes" on April 1. 112 Osceola Drive William F. Kalwitz

Our present constitution is a much stronger bulwark of rights than it appears. It spells out vital citizens' rights such as voting, initiative and referendum. Because it does spell out precisely these critical rights we are guaranteed that all political power is inherent in we, the people, and will remain so. The proposed document erodes many rights basic to self-government. This is recognized readily just in the number of elective offices to be abolished. Americans have fought and died in blood for these same citizens' rights and principles of self-government.

Unless we vote "no" to the proposed constitution we will have sacrificed effective government and the vital rights of our future generations. Stuart B. Whitely

Praises Police for Speedy Arrest

I congratulate those concerned with the capture of Robert Greene's murderers. This speedy arrest shows that the police are really on the ball. Grateful

It is becoming more evident that our laws are inadequate. Capital punishment is not the entire solution. There are many things worse than death. We must look for punishment that will make would-be offenders afraid to break the law.

Write to the state representatives and senators and insist on reforms in our laws regarding punishment. H. B.

Nowadays there is an epidemic of crime. Everywhere you turn someone is taking a life. Our Ten Commandments don't constitute a faithful law because they are constantly abused. We seem to forget that there is a God. I am writing in reference to the murder of Robert A. Greene.

It is a shame that this state doesn't have capital punishment. It saddens my heart to know that young people are not interested in the better things of life.

We all do some wrong, but all are not murderers and I sincerely hope the residents of Pontiac will look at this unfortunate crime individually and not as a mass body. A Hacksonian

Child Aid, Bus Bill Concern Reader

The unemployed deserve aid to their children.

Another concern is this bus transportation issue. When it comes to attending schools, some students have been referred to as non-public, but their parents not only pay public property tax, but also pay the expense of transportation to receive this biased education. Concerned

Greene Family Writes Thanks

The hearts of the Greene family are filled with sorrow, but our minds can now rest at ease through the outstanding performance of the Michigan State Police, Oakland County Sheriff's Department, and the Pontiac and Waterford Township Police Departments.

Over 26 men were constantly at work with over 600 hours completed. Many of these men worked 16 hours or more disregarding food and sleep to solve the recent tragedy of Robert A. Greene. Praise is hardly enough gratitude for these men, but this is all they receive for their hard work. It is a comfort for all to know that we have such men as these to help us in time of need.

We thank the many friends who wanted so desperately to help but could only stand by and pray. It is never known just how wonderful people are, close friends or people from other cities until a tragedy occurs. Our hearts will always be with these wonderful people.

Cut Costs

The Dallas Morning News

Rep. Omar Burleson of Texas, is right in urging that Congress start cost-cutting in its own back yard. As chairman of the House Administration Committee, he has proposed that congressional committees reduce their appropriation requests and "if they need more money later, they can come back and request it for the second session."

This is reasonable — particularly the idea to spend less, then get more if needed rather than spend more and get more whether needed or not.

In the meantime, one committee should never be crippled: The House Committee on Un-American Activities is the public's last resort in combating subversion. Crippling this group is crippling the nation's security.

New Constitution

The Grand Rapids Press

Certain facts and figures concerning the new constitution on which Michigan residents will vote April 1 are in danger of being lost in the shuffle. Many of the more significant facts concerning the constitution and the writing of it are to be found in an article titled "Opportunity in Michigan" in the March issue of National Civic Review.

James K. Pollock, professor of political science at the University of Michigan and a delegate to the Constitutional Convention makes it clear that Michigan will face a tremendous job of constitutional reform if the voters reject the proposed new constitution.

Of the present constitution Dr. Pollock notes, only 16 sections will remain unchanged if the new one is adopted. Forty-four sections have been changed to improve the wording; 55 have been eliminated entirely; 73 are completely new, and are new in substance. The final product is about 3,000 words shorter than the old constitution.

The new constitution was not born of whim or caprice; it is the product of long and detailed study. The impression given by some of its opponents that it reflects a Republican rather than bipartisan viewpoint is given the lie by Dr. Pollock's statement that "there was substantial unanimity on many of the matters before the convention."

But of all the important figures relating to the new constitution none is more significant than those Dr. Pollock cites with reference to apportioning the legislature. Under its terms, it would take 47 per cent of the electorate to elect a majority of house members and 41 per cent to elect a majority in the senate.

These and the other facts in what voters should keep in mind; not the vague blanket denunciations the new constitution's foes have been tossing about with abandon.

Heard from anyone in Congress lately?

Congressional franked (free) mail during the second session cost the taxpayers $3,968,000.

This was a record and exceeded the preceding session's cost for senators and representatives by $1 million. Efforts in Congress to eliminate the expensive practice of members flooding the postal system with mail addressed merely to "boxholders" failed.

Jobless Rate Appalls Wirtz

Calls for Creation of 3 Million New Jobs

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Labor Secretary W. Willard Wirtz today called the 6.1 per cent unemployment rate a "deplorable problem" which can be solved by creating 3 million new jobs. Wirtz said the sluggish economy is providing only half a million new jobs annually. While "the growth rate in jobs has been slowing," the secretary said, "the growth rate in the labor force has been accelerating."

This decline has effected seriously youths between 16 and 21 years old where the unemployment rate is roughly 15 per cent, Wirtz said.

In terms of people, the secretary said this is comparable to a situation if there were "not a single job for a single boy or girl between the ages of 16 and 21 in New York, Chicago, Philadelphia and Los Angeles."

"The increase in these number of workers in the 1960s will be about 15 times greater than in the 1950s," Wirtz said in a copyright interview with "U.S. News & World Report."

Besides the 1 million new jobs needed to provide for the persons entering the work force, Wirtz said occupations must be found for those displaced by automation.

Asks Height in New Homes

LONDON (UPI)—Labor member of parliament Edwin Wainwright said today he will ask the Ministry of Housing to make sure rooms in houses are not built too low for future generations, which he expects will grow taller than the present-day Briton.

"In the years to come it is possible that they will be even taller still; the house should be built so that they are satisfactory for the whole of their useful life," Wainwright said.

Tough Vietnamese Guerrillas Stay Together...Unfortunately

By PETER ARNETT

DUC MY, Viet Nam (AP)—South Viet Nam's elite fighting units prefer safety in numbers even though they are being thoroughly trained in guerrilla warfare.

Large, costly operations involving thousands of troops and massive air and artillery support continue to dominate military thinking here.

Virtually all of them, including the recent Plain of Reeds extravaganza, have been failures in terms of men, planning and intelligence.

Invariably, Communist guerrillas scuttle out of the way as their bamboo telegraph signals the launching of one of these massive government assaults.

Last year, the word was passed down to Viet Nam's top training camps to use guerrilla warfare to execute the exhaustive techniques of stalking guerrillas and cornering them deep in their own territory.

GRUELING TRAINING

Here in the biggest of these camps, Duc My in central Viet Nam, thousands of hours of grueling training are going into producing Ranger troops that measure up with the best in the business. Eighty-nine Ranger companies are operating in Viet Nam. American advisers feel that the specialized talents of these elite units are being dissipated.

"These men get 504 hours of arduous training that builds them into superbings, with endurance, fast reactions and animal cunning," one U.S. officer said.

The ideal operational force for the Viet Nam war is a squad of 12 men, or at the most a platoon of 36 men, these officers believe. But in all the operations launched by Rangers in Viet Nam, the smallest group that ever went out was at company strength, nearly 100 men.

RUINS SURPRISE

"We can't get them to move at less strength than this," an officer said. "This ruins the element of surprise, and nullifies much of what we are teaching about the techniques of survival."

Advisers here have no doubts about the ability of the Rangers they are training.

"I'd be confident to walk the length of Viet Nam with a dozen of these guys behind me," says one adviser.

42 Charged in Raid on Cock Fight Arena

FORT MYERS, Fla. (AP)—Forty-two men arrested in a raid on a cock fight arena have been charged with unlawful assembly.

Sheriff Flinders Thompson said Sunday night: "We know there is no law against cock fighting but we feel that this kind of assembly is detrimental to the county. Where it is continuing on a wholesale basis, we are going to keep it down."

Hopes Rise in News Strike

United Press International Publishers and striking photo-engravers met today for talks it was hoped would finally end the 10-day New York newspaper strike.

The biggest break in the costly strike came yesterday when the striking printers reversed themselves and accepted a compromise settlement proposal.

The printers started the strike Dec. 9 against the New York Times, News, Journal American and World-Telegram and Sun. The other five newspapers in the city also closed down in a united front until the Post resumed publication three weeks ago.

In the nation's other long newspaper strike, only three unions remain without contracts with the Cleveland Press and Plain Dealer — the striking printers and mailers and the non-striking operating engineers.

The nonstriking photoengravers and the publishers reached agreement Saturday night on a two-year contract. Earlier in the day, the striking mailers came to terms.

The executive board of the United Electrical Workers accepted terms in a dispute over job classifications at Westinghouse Electric Co.'s plant in Lester, Pa., for rocket casings for the Titan 3C missile.

The 4,800 production workers were scheduled to return to work today pending a ratification meeting tomorrow. Work was halted for more than a week.

END 5-YEAR DISPUTE

Southern Pacific Railroad and the Brotherhood of Railway Clerks ended their five-year dispute over automation with binding agreement on final issues.

A federal arbitration board said positions abolished during an emergency will be reinstated and filled within 30 days. Job retraining opportunities will be extended without reduction in pay or seniority, and "waiting time" compensation and per diem allowances for out-of-town work will be established.

The industrial strikes spread in Ohio.

The 200-member electrical workers union struck the Rola Division of Mator Co., Cleveland, and filed an unfair labor practices suit with the national labor relations board (NLRB).

The NLRB charged the Gas Appliances Supply Corp., in Cincinnati, with refusing to bargain with the striking steelworkers in Willoughby, negotiators in the United Rubber Workers strike against the Ohio Rubber Co., set a joint session for Cleveland tomorrow. The strike is nine weeks old.

Thinner Blamed for Jail Death

CORONA, Calif. (P) — Shellac thinner smuggled from the prison paint shop had these tragic results after inmates at the California Institution for Women mixed it with coffee and orange juice.

One woman died; 20 other inmates were hospitalized, one in critical condition.

Superintendent Iverne Carter said two women smuggled the shellac thinner to their cottages Friday in jars concealed in their clothing.

"Several women mixed the thinner with coffee and orange juice," Mrs. Carter related. "They drank it Friday night and Saturday."

Kaye Ann Mahoney, 32, of Santa Cruz, Calif., died in the prison hospital early yesterday. She had been committed for marijuana possession last May.

Listed as critically ill was Elaine Soule, 25, who is serving a sentence of five years to life for the 1957 bludgeon-knife slaying of her roommate in San Mateo County.

About 65 million Americans rely on oil heat for comfort, the National Oil Fuel Institute re-

Bargaining will resume Wednesday in the strike of Enamel Products Co., in Cleveland, where the union walked out Dec. 28. The company demanded 65 changes in the contract. The 25-day National Tool strike at Cleveland continued without progress.

MEDIATORS MEET
State mediators met today with the management and representatives of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers in a week-long strike of 85 production workers.

Rare Paintings to Head Home

ATLANTA (AP) — Whistler's Mother and the Penitent St. Mary Magdalene, paintings loaned to Atlanta by the French government, were displayed here for the last time Sunday.

Dr. W. B. Bryan, director of the Atlanta Art Association, said about 118,000 persons viewed the masterpieces during their five-week stay. A curator from the Louvre in Paris is to supervise packing of the paintings for their homeward journey to France early this week.

A tiny generator, powered by a miniature gasoline engine, is particularly useful for camping. It delivers 50 watts of 115-volt current, but weighs only nine pounds.

A meeting was set for tomorrow for arbitration of a dispute between 285 members of the Independent United Plant Guard Workers and their employer, Merchants Police, Inc., Milwaukee, Wis. The union is asking an immediate 18-cent-an-hour wage increase and the company has offered 7½ cents.

In Seattle, Wash., Boeing Co. officials said the firm would continue work in its plants if struck by the Aero-Mechanics Union. An 80-day injunction under the Taft-Hartley Act expires April 15. About 41,000 Boeing employees in Seattle and Wichita, Kan., are members of the union.

Man and Space

U.S. Preparation for Moon Is Epical

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI) — The time is early morning. On a towering platform stand three men, their silvery suits sparkling in the chill glow of brilliant spotlights. Ahead of them is a metal walkway.
"T-minus-240 minutes and counting!" The stark monotone voice from the command box never seems to change, no matter what the day or the occasion. The figures on the platform move.
The walkway is 68 feet long. For the three men now striding across, it becomes that "longest walk" when the mind fills with thoughts of the man-to-the-moon project. There is nothing small about project Apollo.
The monstrous Saturn 5 is the very symbol of the man-to-the-moon project. There is nothing small about project Apollo.
It is the cost — at least $20 billion. About 10 times the cost of the World War II crash program to build the first atomic bomb.
There is the manpower that the Federal Space Agency's Rocket co Petrone, one of the sharpest men in the business, said would involve "the most extensive concentration of the nation's scientific and technical talent ever devoted to a single undertaking."

And there is the gigantic dream itself, now beginning to take on reality amid the swamps and sands and scrub brush on the north and east edges of Cape Canaveral — the launching facilities for the moonflights.
Nearly everything will be figuratively and physically a superlative. Petrone, in one of the most detailed outlines ever presented of the Apollo launch operations plan, describes some of the more immense:
The vertical assembly building, where the Saturn 5 will be put together, will rise 524 feet, far and away the tallest building in Florida if not in the southern United States.
—An umbilical tower, 350 feet tall, for servicing the rocket and Apollo capsule will make earlier towers look like matchsticks.
—A crawler-transporter weighing 5½ million pounds and driven by two diesel generators provided ing 5,000 horsepower will carry the entire rocket from the assembly building to the firing area at a top speed of one mile per hour.

MOST POWERFUL
When the astronauts reach the end of that walkway, they will step aboard the most powerful piece of space machinery ever built. It will be filled with liquid oxygen and hydrogen, high-grade kerosene and nitrogen tetroxide — all explosive.
The Saturn 5 will leave the ground with about 5.4 million pounds of fuel aboard — enough to blow a good-sized hole in Cape Canaveral or anywhere else.
The unused part of America's program to put men on the moon is the part that will stay right here on the ground. The engineering that must go into it puts the Egyptian pyramids, Hoover Dam, and earlier "marvels" in the tin-ker-loy class.
Petrone, in something of an understatement, calls it "an extremely challenging technical program compressed into a specified time limit."

Junior Editors Quiz on VITAMINS

QUESTION: Where do vitamins come from?
ANSWER: Vitamins are compounds and substances important to us because, as our picture suggests, they help to give that feeling of well being which makes us want to jump just for the fun of it. Also shown in the picture are some of the foods which provide these vitamins.
Experts in nutrition speak of two general kinds of vitamins: those which dissolve in fat, and those dissolving in water. "Vitamin A" is an important fat-soluble vitamin, which we get by eating carrots, milk, sweet potatoes, spinach, egg yolk, liver and green and yellow vegetables. It helps in growth because it builds body cells.
About 15 vitamins which dissolve in water are called, as a group, the "Vitamin B Complex." These contain important substances such as thiamine, riboflavin and niacin, all needed in our bodies to keep them working well. Many of the foods we eat give us these and other important vitamins.
Doctors have found out a great many things about vitamins and often prescribe special ones for certain of their patients who may need them.
Manufacturers extract vitamins from various substances and make them into pills or capsules. These may be used, when necessary, to supplement or add to the vitamins people take in when they eat regular food.
FOR YOU TO DO: Jumping is good sport. Try yourself out on the running long jump, standing broad jump and the high jump. Set a record; then try to keep beating it.

Housewife Starts Second Week of Reducing Fast

EDITOR'S NOTE — When admittedly fat Mary Ferguson moved into a hotel room to get away from the temptations of her own cooking, she caught the imagination of millions. Here is her story of her continuing fast, written exclusively for The Associated Press.

By MARY FERGUSON

LONG BEACH, Calif. — Seven days have gone by—170 hours without food—and I'm feeling like a rose blooming on a dewy vine.

Sounds kind of corny, I know—but it's true. I've lost 12 pounds and I am down to 232.

I'm 3½ inches smaller around the hips, 2 smaller around the waist and 4 smaller around the bust.

It's hard to guess just yet how much I'll lose between now and next Sunday, when my self-imposed fast is over. My doctor says I will average about two pounds a day, but I'm hoping for more.

I promised myself and my husband that I would fast for two weeks, locked up here in my hotel room, but everything is going so well I think I'll keep it up even after I go home.

What I really want to do is get down to 128 pounds, which would be just right for my 5-foot-3 height.

My husband calls me at least twice every day, and when I told him my new measurements—55½ hips, 44 waist and 49 bust—he said: "Honey, that's wonderful. Keep it up. I know you can, and I love you."

He's a wonderful man. Slender, not like me, and with white hair at 45 he's very distinguished-looking. I started this fast because I wanted a new dress for Easter.

I want to be down to at least a size 20½. That way I can find something with a little color in it, not those drab blacks that you get in size 24½.

I know I'll get a new dress now—my husband Arthur has already promised it to me.

The doctor told me the first 48 hours would be the hardest, that after that my stomach would shrink and there wouldn't be any hunger pangs.

I've found, however, that it is rough for the first 72 hours.

All I have had is coffee, tea and bouillon. I have coffee at 8 a.m. with no cream or sugar, just a little saccharin. Then iced tea at noon and coffee again at 4 p.m. back.

The closest thing to food I have is bouillon, at 7 p.m.

My worst time of all came with the bouillon, last Tuesday night. The waiter who brought up my tray made a mistake—there was a big plate of crackers on it.

"That's not my tray," I told him. "Get it out of here. Get it out of here."

I guess he must have thought I was about to flip.

"Now, don't get excited lady," he told me. "I'll take the crackers."

The sight of the crackers was evidently too much for me to bear, however, and I was terribly sick for hours afterward. I didn't sleep too well after that. My stomach just seemed to churn all night.

Somewhat, I guess it was association. I had a craving for cheese to go with the crackers I didn't have. I had visions of all kinds of cheeses, American and Swiss, in great big chunks.

On Wednesday I awoke and felt terribly depressed.

For about an hour I felt I couldn't go on any longer. It was the worst feeling I've had since I came here. But I immediately prayed to St. Jude—the patron saint of those who try the impossible—and I said my Rosary. After that I began to feel a little better.

Later in the morning the hunger came back. For a minute I felt like I was leaving this world completely, but I got up and chewed a stick of gum and felt better immediately.

I guess I've crammed my system with so much sweet stuff for years and years now that when it's not getting anything sweet it balks a little bit. I guess the little sugar I chewed out of the gum came to its rescue.

Since then I have found that eating really isn't so terribly necessary. It's really a very bad habit we acquire to compensate for our feelings of inadequacy.

I feel calmer now than I have for months. Fasting seems to bring a wonderful tranquility. I honestly believe I'm having such an easy time of it because God is with me.

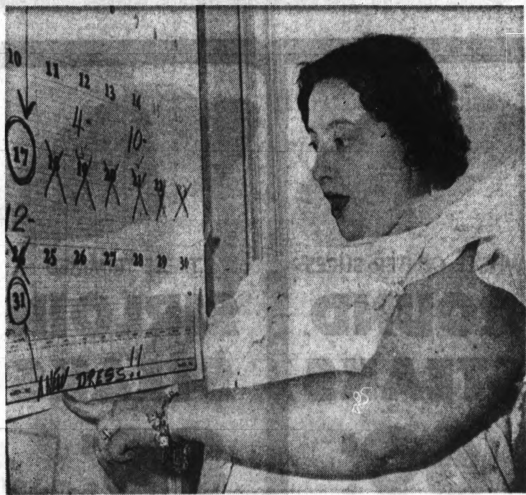

I've offered up any suffering I may go through to the blessed Lord for all my past sins and phony actions. I really believe that because of it He is helping me bear up with this fast very well.

Some of the nicest people have written me—more than 100 letters. I'm going to answer every one of them, too.

I get a lot of phone calls, too, but the nicest one of all came last Thursday.

Imagine, at my age—36—and so heavy I can't buy a pretty dress. I've got a date.

The local chapter of the Society for the Preservation of Barber Shop Quartets is going to send some men over next Tuesday night to serenade me.

POUNDS MELT AWAY — Mrs. Mary Ferguson, Long Beach, Calif., housewife who's determined to go two weeks without food, looks at the calendar chart showing her progress in losing weight. She weighed 232 pounds yesterday, a loss of 12 pounds in the first week of her fast in a hotel room.

U. S. Rejects Red N-Stand

GENEVA (UPI) — The United States said today it would not accept Russia's rigid stand on the requirements for a nuclear test ban treaty.

U.S. Ambassador Charles C. Stelke repeated the American appeal for "give-and-take negotiations" on the significant points at issue.

Stelke appealed to the Russians to abandon their insistence on fixing the number of on-site inspections to be provided for in the treaty before discussing other questions.

He said the United States believes discussion of such details as the number of inspections should be preceded by consideration of:

— How to designate suspicious earth shocks for international inspection.

— The criteria to be followed in locating an earth tremor and identifying it as natural rather than man-made.

— The right of a state to select an earth shock for inspection.

— Definition of the area in which inspection would be carried out.

— How international inspection teams would be composed.

Stelke said Russia has given its views on none of these subjects and added that he "earnestly" hopes the Soviet Union will tell us soon how it feels regarding them.

Spelling out the way the United States would like to see the inspection teams made up, he said they should include neutral scientists plus inspectors from the United States and Britons and Americans in teams operating on Soviet soil.

I urge you to vote YES for CON-CON and my G.O.P. TEAM

City Accountant Gets Fourth Straight Term

A city accountant, James G. Johnson, was installed to his fourth consecutive term as president of the Pontiac Municipal Employees Association (PMEA) Saturday night.

The installation of 1963 officers was a highlight of the association's annual banquet at Pontiac Elks Temple.

Johnson, of 240 Red Mill Drive, Pontiac Township, has been with the city for 10 years.

William Emmeigh, also an accountant, was installed as first vice president. He had been second vice president the past two years.

The new second vice president is Robert Gerds, of the inspection department, John Waldo, deputy city treasurer, was installed to his fourth term as treasurer.

Serving her third term as secretary is Kay Baggett, of the Department of Public Works.

Re-elected to the association's board of trustees were Jean Winters and Rose Selbert. New trustees are Ralph Florio and Percy McConner.

More than 100 members and guests attended the event, Clyde G. Townsend, general manager of the Pontiac Municipal Employees Credit Union and honorary life member of the PMEA, was installing officer.

The PMEA has a membership of more than 150 city employees.

Fighting Fire With Fire

NEW YORK (AP)—New York City plans to use automation to fight the effects of automation.

James J. McFadden, acting city labor commissioner, said Sunday night that automatic teaching machines will be used soon to train workers whose job skills have been eliminated or threatened by increasing industrial automation.

Initially the machines will be used to train 500 workers as electronic technicians, McFadden said on a taped television show.

Suffrage Backer Dead

NEW YORK (AP)—Doris Stevens, 70, who spent her life fighting for equal rights for women, died Friday two weeks after suffering a stroke. She was married twice; first to the late noted attorney Dudley Field Malone and the second time to writer Jonathan Mitchell. She was born in Omaha, Neb.

The North Oakland County Unit is your local representative of the Michigan Cancer Foundation. The Foundation, a voluntary Health Agency, is the only cancer control agency in this area supported by public contributions to the United Fund. Its principal functions are to provide professional and public education toward early detection, diagnosis and treatment of cancer; to furnish material assistance and help, without cost or obligation to cancer patients and their families; to give financial support to cancer research through awarding of grants, fellowships and scholarships.

During the annual Crusade, March 25 through April 6, your Foundation will make a house to house survey to determine attitudes and gain other information that will help FIGHT CANCER WITH KNOWLEDGE.

By Famed Originator

Fashion, Art Combined

By JEANMARIE ELKINS
To Mr. John P. John the world of fine art and the world of custom fashion are indistinguishable. Mr. John is internationally recognized as one of the world's leading fashion originators as well as a famous artist and painter.

His "Beautiful Boucher Collection" for spring and summer 1963 were inspired by works of the 18th century painter Francois Boucher. Boucher, one of the most popular painters of his day, was officially appointed court painter for King Louis XV.

"La Mode" shows milan straw in burnished gold forming a dome crown which is gently tucked into a perk, tightly rolled brim. A silk grosgrain bow of deep cool green underscores this hat

Mr. John features a full line for both men and women including hats, shoes, dresses, sweaters, and even make-up and perfume.

Individualized fashions are the keynote of the fabulous white, gold and crystal royal palace of custom fashion on New York's exclusive 5th Street.

Mr. John's approach is the

truly creative one-of-a-kind custom designs with their main purpose making individual women distinctively attractive in a very personal way.

Within the 1963 spring and summer collection any woman may find an Easter hat, not only to complement her new outfit but her whole personality.

All of the Mr. John hats pictured are available locally or may be ordered.

"Joyeaux" will highlight summer evenings with a crown of French bluets, clear blue minute silk asters and petite bois roses in shades of rich pink, all bowed in clear blue silk and topped with Mr. John's newest veiling.

"Individuelle" features a sleek sombrero silhouette in burnished gold with a slightly tapered crown draped in silk tones of gold, clear blue, spring green and matte white complemented by its matching scarf. In the $22.50 to $39.50 price range.

Mood Set for Murder by Birmingham Players

A "chiller-diller" with two murders, one attempted murder and one attempted suicide in three acts is the choice of The Village Players of Birmingham for the next open show.

"Design for Murder," a whodunit whose director, Mrs. Howard J. Thomsen, jokes that even the cast doesn't know whodunit, opens

Friday at the Chestnut Street Playhouse.

It will be repeated at 9 p.m. Saturday and again the following weekend, April 5 and 6.

Mrs. John A. Gilray Jr. of Avondale Road portrays the role of Celia. It was originally performed by Tallulah Bankhead when George Batson's play opened several years ago on Broadway.

Others in the cast are Ben Benson, William A. Seaback, Mrs. Kenneth Banes, Mrs. Edward S. Reid Jr., Mrs. William H. Spinning, Francis J. Matousek, Mrs. Edward P. Walter, Vivian Ross and Howard Thomsen.

The "Design for Murder" mood is set by the scene, a huge old New York mansion on a cliff overlooking the Hudson River.

Bloomfield Farms Garden Club is sponsoring the opening night performance.

Special refreshments will be served to players Saturday night.

Working backstage are: Mrs. William E. Kegel, Warren Hersey, Marc W. Arthur, Mrs. Ralph Detweiler, Mrs. Frank N. Mosher, Mrs. Jack Gaffill, Paul N. Averill, Gordon F. Jeynes, and Mrs. Robert Henry.

Tickets are available at Grinnell's in Birmingham.

Mizpah Sets Benefit Sale

Members of Mizpah Temple No. 7 Pythian Sisters, completed plans for a March 30 benefit sale Thursday evening in Fellowship Lodge Hall. Mrs. Gene Allman is chairman of the project.

Mrs. William H. Vance suggested projects to be considered by the temple. Mrs. Fred Wheeler summarized plans for the convention of District No. 8, Pythian Sisters of Michigan, April 16 in the Elks Temple, Pontiac.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. H. Delos Nicholise and Mrs. Harry H. Pattison.

Tell Son's Birth

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Curry (Wilma Flaherty) of Jeffwood Drive, are the parents of a son born March 12 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

Gives Dogwood Talk

Mrs. V. P. Spencer gave a talk on dogwood, exhibit flower of the month, before the Better Home and Garden Club Thursday in Adah Shelly Library.

Lytle Abel, director of the Cooperative Extension Service and head of the educational branch of Oakland County, spoke on pruning and care of shrubs.

Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Sherman of Eaton Rapids will speak on wild flowers of Michigan at the April meeting.

Committee members for Thursday's meeting were Mrs. Charles Lloyd, chairman, Mrs. John Lyons and Mrs. Harry Place.

100-Year Asset

His Wife Will Be Tickled

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I grew a beard for the Piedmont, Mo., centennial in 1955. I got the prize for the longest beard in town. I also had a beautiful mustache which measured 7 1/4 inches long.

After the celebration I shaved my face clean. Everyone told me I should have kept the mustache. My wife especially. I am starting to grow one again, but I don't know how to shape it.

Is there a book of pictures showing different styles and shapes of mustaches? I'm pretty good with a straight-edge razor. Does any place still sell mustache wax?

DEAR F. W. M.: Ask the best barber in town to shape your mustache the first time, then follow his line. (He'll know which style suits you best.) Mustache wax can be found in drug stores. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: How does a girl know what to order on a date? For instance, last night, after a school dance (not formal), three of us couples went out to eat.

I don't know how much money my date had and I didn't want to take a chance on embarrassing him, so I said I wasn't very hungry and all I wanted was coffee. My date ordered himself a shrimp cocktail, steak sandwich, French fries and a sundae. The other kids ordered the same. What should I have done?

THE CONSIDERATE ONE
DEAR CONSIDERATE: Before ordering you should have found someone to step in. He needs sympathy and understanding, not criticism. I, for one, wish them all the luck in the world.

VIEW FROM THE HILL

Mark 5th Anniversary

Pine Lake Branch, Women's National Farm and Garden Association, observed its fifth anniversary with a trip to the Belle Isle Conservatory Thursday followed by luncheon at The Roostertail, Detroit.

Mrs. Kimball Keller gave highlights of the club's activities through the year.

Past presidents Mrs. Clarence W. Suhr and Mrs. Russell Kock were present.

A horticulture committee has been organized under the chairmanship of Mrs. Kock, with Mrs. Jim W. Hedges, co-chairman. Spring planning guides, ornamental trees, shrubs, roses, foliage, herbs grasses and wild flowers will be studied at the bimonthly meetings.

Slough of Self-Pity Waste of Valuable Life

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Some years ago I visited a night with some companions, including a famous woman writer noted for her sophisticated wit. It was the night of her 50th birthday.

With her third drink she began to cry. sobbed: "All I ever wanted was a rose-covered cottage, some kids and a man who loved me to come home every night. What did I get? Nothing . . . nothing . . ."

This week I received a letter from a reader who says: "My brother-in-law and I are very worried about my sister. She is 29, and ever since the marriage of her last child has become more and more despondent."

"She's actually said she has nothing to live for. A trip to Bermuda hasn't done her any good and we are wondering what you'd think of trying to interest her in community work . . ."

I think that sightseeing and good works are not the answer to middle-aged women's resentment of their life choices. I think the answer is recognition of their greediness.

Your sister needs to know that there are disadvantages as well as advantages in all the ways we choose to give ourselves to life.

Lonesomeness and childlessness were the costs of the woman writer's choice of career. Narrowing existence and economic helplessness are often the disadvantages of lives that are lived for exclusive interest in husbands and children.

Bored husbands and declining charms are the penalties paid by "companion" wives who have focused all their energies on pleasing their husbands.

Troubled youngsters, resentful husbands and mediocre success may be the costs paid by the woman who has tried to combine marriage, motherhood and career.

No matter what way we choose to give ourselves to life, there are prices to be paid as well as rewards to receive.

To insist that our choices involve no disadvantages is to be a baby crying for the moon. Nor can we be aroused to a grown-up realization of our greediness by summing in Bermuda or involving ourselves in charitable deeds.

These excellent activities can only be appreciated by us when we've stopped demanding heaven on earth and can say to ourselves: "O.K. I can't have everything I want. So I better settle for satisfaction with what I can have."

Only then can we pull out of our depression to recognize the old needs of our lost children in the new needs of the nearby children in our local hospital's ward.

Club Names Nominators

The nominating committee for Pontiac Navy Mothers' Club was announced during Thursday's meeting at the naval training center.

Serving with Mrs. Alma Cowley, chairman, are Mrs. Eva Muriel Welch, Mrs. Gordon Boice and Mrs. Mark W. Kinney. Election of officers will take place at the April 4 meeting.

The joint installation of officers is planned for April 22 at the VFW Hall in Warren. Past Commanders Club will meet April 2 at the Veterans Memorial Building.

Reception Follows Rites

A reception at Devon Gables followed the marriage of Phyllis Marie Suhr and Paul Russell Kock at the Episcopal Church of the Advent, March 9. Rev. John Wigle officiated.

The bride, daughter of the Clarence W. Suhrs of Pineview Drive was attended by Mrs. Raymond Sutton. Douglas Watson was best man.

Parents of the bridegroom are the Russell Kocks of Highland Drive.

Capture Top Score in Bridge Tourney

Donald Stephenson and Dr. Robert Segula won top score in their section on the final day of the Spring National Championships, American Contract Bridge League Saturday.

The local men competed in a field of 808 players in the St. Louis tournament. More than 6,000 tables of play have participated in the nine-day event.

Sew With 'Pro' Look

It is not advisable to use French seams when sewing wash-wear cottons since double stitching may cause the fabric to pucker during laundering. Instead, finish all seams by pinking or over-stitching them for a professional look both inside and out.

Final Koffee Klatch to Focus on 'World'

Consumers Power home economists will hold their final koffee klatch of the spring series Thursday at 9:30 a.m. Mary Jackson and Barbara Zimmerman will demonstrate recipes from "Around the World" in the company auditorium. The meeting is open to the public.

Collect for Needy

Members of the Lotus Lake Extension Club assembled coloring books, paper doll books and Easter decorations for children at Pontiac General Hospital at their Thursday luncheon meeting at the Lotus Drive home of Mrs. Harley Group.

Mrs. Francis Hood will host the next meeting.

Polly's Pointers

Problem Nailed Down

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Recently my husband and I had our first experience installing acoustical tile. Our directions were to glue each tile to the ceiling and secure it there by wedging a pole between the ceiling and the floor.

The pole is supposed to remain in place for 24 hours. My husband thought the method sounded both awkward and time-consuming.

He solved the problem by inserting tiny, headless finishing nails into the holes, one in each of the four corners. When the nails were sunk slightly below the level of the holes, they did not show.

The work was faster (holding each tile securely until the glue dried) and they also gave the tiles more support afterwards.

MRS. M. E. F.

DEAR POLLY — When I tried to darn garments, I never could make them look as nice as grandma's darning until I tried the following trick.

I place a piece of net under the place to be darned and then weave up and down through the net. The result is a neat darn every time.

SARAH

DEAR POLLY — Here is good advice for the girls who live in apartments or housing projects where the clothesline is shared with others.

Dip the ends of your clothespins in red paint.

Then there will be no chance of getting them mixed up with the neighbors'. Also, when they fall in the grass, they are easier to find.

LINDA

DEAR POLLY — I finally solved the skirt-hanging problem. It works for every kind of skirt on an ordinary hanger. Leave the placket unzipped and button the waistband.

Then slip one side of the hanger under the band, extending it through the side opening. The other side of the hanger fits into the skirt. Hangs perfectly straight every time.

Air Force Tells of Need for Women as Officers

The U.S. Air Force has announced that an urgent need exists for young women with college degrees to fill important positions in the Air Force, both here and at some overseas locations.

As a result of this need, an officer training school program has been established by the Air Force. This is designed to give qualified women college graduates, or college women within 210 days of graduation, commissions in the Air Force as second lieutenants.

Usually it takes a civilian one year to earn a commission if entering the Air Force for the first time. Since past needs did not call for many women, it was considered rare for a woman to receive a commission.

Now qualified applicants may earn a commission in three months. Positions of leadership are available in such fields as budget and accounting, science, photography, finance, education and other specialized fields.

Further information may be obtained from T. Sgt. Charles A. Ahnen, 534 W. Huron St., or by calling FE 2-9116.

Visit in Area

Visiting from Shafter, Calif., are Mr. and Mrs. Lewis J. Woodward. They are the guests of Mr. Woodward's sister and brother-in-law, the E. G. Clarks, and his mother, Mrs. I. A. Woodward, all of Silver Lake. The Woodwards will also visit Mrs. Woodward's brother and family Mr. and Mrs. Howard Powers of Cherokee Road.

New pep for tired husbands!

No wonder so many women complain that their husbands come home "too tired out to step out!" The churning tensions millions of men face on their jobs constantly drain them of the energy and vitality they might otherwise have.

That's why many doctors recommend supplementing the daily diet with Kretschmer Wheat Germ, nature's great "bounce-back" food. Made from the germinating heart of the wheat kernel, wheat germ is the most healthful food known, according to official U.S. Department of Agriculture studies of the nutritive values of foods.

Kretschmer Wheat Germ actually provides a total of 30 natural vitamins.

usually balanced nutrients essential to good health, vigor and stamina! In addition, it acts like a spark plug to help the body use other high-energy foods more fully.

• Serve your husband this remarkable natural food every day for breakfast and see for yourself how much more zip and vitality he has!

• Use these delicious, tiny toasted flakes as a cereal, on cereals, or add to pancakes and scrambled eggs.

• Kretschmer Wheat Germ is great for the entire family, so be sure to get some. Look for it in vacuum-sealed glass jars in the cereal section of your food store. Choose either regular or Sugar 'N Honey.

New Constitution Prepared With '59 Fiscal Farce in Mind

EDITOR'S NOTE—This is the seventh in a series of articles on Michigan's proposed constitution.

By GENE SCHROEDER

LANSING (AP)—A not-so-funny gag-line made the rounds of the bars in 1959. Customers began ordering a "Michigan on the rocks."

The gag didn't evoke many laughs.

Most citizens realized the state was in serious financial trouble. It had missed a payroll for state employees, was unable to meet its bills when they came due and had a steadily-growing deficit of some $90 million.

One of the major reasons for the calling of a constitutional convention was for a possible re-vamping of Michigan's basic fiscal structure.

Views on how well the convention succeeded varied widely.

"The new constitution would protect against another payless payday, and improve the ability of the state to pay its bills on time," says Gov. George Romney, who along with most Republicans is urging adoption of the proposed constitution.

"The proposed finance and taxation article makes no progress in providing the flexibility required for state government in the 20th century," insists former Gov. John Swainson, who is leading Democratic opposition to the new document.

LOAN CEILING LIFTED

Romney says one feature that will help Michigan avoid future financial jams is the lifting of the present $500 million ceiling on how much the state can borrow.

The governor explained: "Under the new constitution, the state could, with legislative authorization, borrow up to 15 per cent of its general fund revenue—now about $64 million—to tide state operations over any temporary rough spots such as in 1959 when Michigan received the financial black eye from which we have not yet recovered."

A study of the revised constitution by a committee of 32 professors from Michigan colleges and universities led to the conclusion that there is both good and bad in the new finance and taxation provisions.

The educators on the Inter-University Faculty Committee on Constitutional Revision generally agreed with the conclusions reached, although not everyone necessarily subscribed to the interpretations.

"Some progress" has been made in providing greater flexibility for management of the state's current and long-range obligations through a sounder system of debt management," the committee declared.

Agreeing that the provisions for short-term borrowing provides protection from another "payless payday," says Gov. George Romney, however, that a provision requiring repayment within the same fiscal year is "needlessly restrictive and rigid."

BASIC PROBLEM

"The major drawback of this provision is that the revenues of the state fluctuate rather widely with the business cycle, and will do so to an even greater extent if an income tax replaces the present business activity tax and nuisance taxes," it said.

"Since revenues fluctuate, the state should be able to maintain its needed expenditures by borrowing in years of recession, when tax receipts fall. This is not possible if the loans must be paid back in the same fiscal year..."

The educators had praise for a feature in the revised constitution requiring an annual accounting of all public moneys of state government as well as all local units, along with maintenance of a uniform system of accounts.

"These provisions should be of benefit in providing more adequate information on the financial status of government," they said.

The committee was not pleased, however, with a provision barring a graduated income tax.

Romney has described the feature as one which would protect wage-earners from any possibility that the state might duplicate the steeply graduated income tax pattern imposed by the federal government.

"A flat rate income tax would be clearly permitted, however, to provide flexibility in working out long range tax reform," he says.

HARDER ON POOR

But the faculty committee observed: "A flat rate income tax bears more heavily on low income than on high income families: the richer family may have to give up some luxuries while the poorer one may have to give up necessities even though both are paying the same percentage of their incomes in taxes."

The educators noted that earmarking of funds for highways, local government and school aid is continued.

"Although arguments both for and against earmarking can be made," they said, "the fact remains that such earmarking solves the legislature of the responsibility which is historically theirs—that of appropriation of funds according to the needs of the state."

On the local government level, the proposed constitution provides that property shall be assessed at no more than 50 per cent of true cash value after Jan. 1, 1966, compared with the present 100 per cent of cash value.

It also retains the historic 15-mil property tax limitation, but provides that the voters in any county may approve separate tax limitations up to an aggregate of 18 mills.

The faculty committee study of finance and taxation noted that the two provisions probably will force more municipalities in the state into what it termed premature use of income and nuisance taxes.

In their findings on local government structure, the education group observed that the constitutional convention had the power to adopt completely new stipulations.

But they pointed out that any sweeping change might well have brought resistance from local governments enjoying a constitutional status under the present document.

"The convention chose a pragmatic course of action," the committee reported, "preserving basic traditions but permitting future modifications through permissive county home rule and possible legislation pertaining to metropolitan governments or authorities."

HOME RULE

The committee said that in a large measure, the proposed document continues the constitutional status of cities, villages, counties and townships.

It said that the system of city and village home rule, which is kept intact, has resulted in the past five decades in local adoption of 189 city and 54 village home rule charters—about 48 per cent of the total of 221 cities and 290 villages in Michigan.

On the subject of county home rule, the committee reported that a major change lies in the language permitting the legislature to provide for other systems in metropolitan areas.

"Progress could be made, especially in metropolitan and urban counties, provided the legislature passes a county home rule broad in scope," the committee added.

Another modification cited by the educators was a provision pertaining to metropolitan governments or authorities.

"Since the new constitution retains constitutional status for various local units," they said, "it was necessary to establish beyond doubt the authority of the legislature to provide for other systems in metropolitan areas."

"The intent of the new language is that metropolitan governments or authorities shall be multi-functional."

In conclusion, the committee found that the local government article falls short of a "model" document.

It said the same forces which urged that the convention restrict county home rule to legislative implementation may arise to prevent or blunt any statute which in the future might lead to basic reorganization of county organizational structure.

"Township government not only continues to have constitutional status, but so do certain county officers," the report added.

"All of this, together with the liberal construction doctrine for township powers, means that the convention left the legislature little flexibility in dealing with township government."

"The broad language on metropolitan government and authorities will be meaningless without legislative implementation."

Ferndale, Rouge, New Buffalo, Britton Cage Kings

By The Associated Press

An old familiar name and three brand new ones were added to the list of Michigan high school basketball champions Saturday.

Ferndale copped the Class A title with a 76-58 triumph over Adrian; River Rouge took its third straight Class B crown by downing Hudsonville Unity Christian 59-49; New Buffalo rallied to nip Houghton 59-58 for the Class C title, and Britton-Macon edged Negaunee St. Paul 59-58 in the Class D finale.

Only River Rouge had ever won before, and it could be its last season as a Class B power. The enrollment at the suburban Detroit school is just under the 900 needed for Class A classification, and the Panthers could be playing in the higher class come tournament time next year.

The three-session finals at the Jensen fieldhouse on the Michigan State University campus attracted 37,161 fans. The Class A final was also televised by a seven-station statewide network. EASY TRIUMPH

Ferndale's easy victory in the final game of the day followed three straight one-point decisions by the Eagles. Adrian, meanwhile, had a couple of two-point triumphs, plus a surprising 59-58 semi-final victory over previously unbeaten Saginaw Arthur Hill, in its trip to the championship contest.

Ferndale's rebounding ability and better all-around play decided the Class A contest. Adrian jumped to a 8-2 lead at the start, but Ferndale scored 12 straight points to take a 14-6 lead and was never headed.

It was Ferndale's and Oakland County's first Class A crown. Adrian was making its first appearance in a title game.

Bruce Rodwan topped all scorers with 25 points and also picked off 20 rebounds. Truman McNeal added 14 points to the Ferndale total and Bob Falardeau 13. Balardeau also had 15 rebounds as the Eagles lifted a 65-38 win on the boards.

Steve Rymal netted 15 points for the losers. River Rouge was something less than its usual powerful self in topping Hudsonville Unity. The Panthers played the entire game without substituting—a rare feat for a River Rouge team—and made numerous mistakes.

But Unity, the pride of Western Michigan, failed to take advantage of Rouge's mistakes and to settle for the runner-up trophy.

Unheralded Larry Brown collected 14 rebounds and 15 points to spearhead the River Rouge attack. Bill Dunson had one more point than Brown and copped game scoring honors. Jerry Terpstra collected 15 of the Yanks' points, while Doug Oestendy snatched the most rebounds, 14.

New Buffalo overcame an incredible shooting performance by Houghton in the first half, and took the lead for the first time with 50 seconds to go in the Class C final.

Houghton held a 19-5 first period lead, and moved to a 25-14 advantage early in the second quarter.

Glenn Maikowski-knotted the score a 56-56 with 50 seconds to go and Jerry Kismann's layup after New Buffalo had stolen the ball put the Blons ahead. An insurance free throw with 15 seconds remaining iced the victory.

Kissman finished with 26 points and 20 rebounds, while Maikowski added 16 points. Houghton, which ran into foul trouble in the final period, was paced by Don Stipech's 14 points and Chuck Noetzel's 13. Noetzel also had 14 rebounds in the close contest.

A rangy Britton-Macon team was forced to use every inch of its height advantage to capture the Class D title.

St. Paul held a 30-29 halftime edge and opened its widest lead at 38-31 in the third period. Phil Benedict, Britton's 6-foot-8 scoring leader then started Britton on its comeback with two quick buckets.

Tom Komon's basket with 51 seconds left knotted the score at 54-54. Four seconds later, Fred McCrate tallied the decisive basket on its comeback with two quick buckets.

Benedict, who played the entire second half with four fouls, finished with 26 points and 17 rebounds. Komon and Pepper Grieswahn each added 11 points. Don Guizzetti and Don Jacobson both paced St. Paul with 22 and 20 points, respectively. Britton held a 68-37 rebounding edge. But the sharpshooting emeralds had the better shooting percentage hitting 21 of 48 shots for 44 per cent, to 27 of 80, 34 per cent, for the new Class D Kings.

Britton's championship was the first state title ever won by a Lenawee County team. Adrian is also in Lenawee County.

Ferraris Conquer All in Sebring Endurance

SEBRING, Fla. (AP)—The Ferraris, like Romans thousands of years ago, came, saw, and conquered everything thrown at them in the Sebring 12-hour Endurance automobile race.

A big, blood-red screaming 12-cylinder speedster, driven 209 laps by John Surtees, a 28-year-old English motorcycle racing champion, and Lotario Scatolotti of Italy, led the Ferrari parade over the finish line Saturday.

Six of the 11 Ferrari entries finished in the first six positions. They won the prototype category, the grand touring class and took the first four places in the index of performance classification. Of the 65 cars entered, 20 finished. Only two Ferraris failed to make the full 12 hours around the 5.2 mile airport course. One was retired with a split gas tank and the other with a broken suspension.

UNTIED CAR

Surtees and Lotario were driving a competitively untied car—a 3 liter rear engine experimental model which averaged 90.3 miles per hour.

It proved its worth as did its sister car driven by Willy Mairesse of Belgium and Nino Vaccarella of Italy. They finished second with 208 laps.

The third finishing Ferrari, with 207 laps, was driven by world land and Pedro Rodriguez of Mexico.

Roger Penske of Gladys, Pa., and August Pabst of Milwaukee drove another Ferrari to fourth spot, completing 203 laps.

Fifth position was taken by Juan Bortolotti of Argentina and Carlo Abate of Italy, who completed 196 laps in another Ferrari.

The American-Scottish team of Richie Ginther of Hollywood, Calif., and Innes Ireland of Scotland drove another Ferrari 196 laps to sixth position.

The remaining three Ferraris finished 13, 14 and 18.

A pair of English Jaguars finished in seventh and eighth spots. They were driven, respectively, by Ed Leslie and Frank Merrill, both of Los Angeles, 195 laps, and Walt Hansen of Far Hills, N.J. and Bruce McLaren, New Zealand 194 laps.

Two Porsches completed the top 10. One was driven 183 laps by Robert Holbert of Warrenton, Pa., and Don Wester of Monterey, Calif. The other also completed 183 laps and was driven by Edgar Barth and Herbert Linke, both of Germany.

Tigers Sell Osborne

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Detroit Tigers sold Larry Osborne, 27-year-old utility player, to the Washington Senators Saturday for an undisclosed amount of cash and a minor league player to be named later.

'Invincible' Davey Moore Second Champion to Succumb

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Davey Moore, rated almost invincible in the ring until he fell before the bailing fists of Sugar Ramos in Los Angeles Thursday night, was the second champion in ring history to die from a beating suffered while defending his title.

The other, Benny (Kid) Paret, died less than a year ago.

Oddly, Moore's beating at the hands of Ramos came on a fight card that included Emile Griffiths, the man who beat Paret to death.

Moore's connection with ring deaths extended even further.

The flashy 29-year old featherweight, son of a Springfield, Ohio, minister, was a co-member of the 1952 U.S. Olympic boxing team with another man who met his death in the ring.

Ed Sanders, the heavyweight on the team and Olympic champion, died in 1954 after he had been knocked out in a pro bout in Boston.

Moore, then 18, had won the National AAU 118-pound boxing championship just before he joined the U. S. Olympic team.

TURNUED PRO

After the Olympics, Moore turned pro and muddled around for 27 fights. He lost five of them, and made so little money that he planned to quit boxing in order to better support his wife and growing family.

Veteran boxing manager Willie Ketchum talked him out of that. Moore turned back to the ring with new dedication, and didn't lose a fight again until 1960 when he suffered a broken jaw in a fight in Venezuela with Carlos Hernandez.

It was widely considered a lucky punch, and went into the records as the only knockout ever suffered by Moore.

Otherwise, Moore's career was an unbroken parade of triumph that took him to Europe, Asia and South America.

He won the featherweight championship on a knockout on March 18, 1959, over Hogan (Kind) Bassey of Nigeria. A few months later he knocked out Bassey again, in his first successful title defense.

Moore defended four more times, twice against Kanno Takayama in Tokyo, against Danny Valdez in Los Angeles and Olli Makin in Helsinki.

In addition he fought many non-title bouts and began to collect a reputation as "Invincible"—the reputation of him by George Latka, a former boxer who referred the fatal fight with Ramos.

In all, Moore had a total of 64 pro bouts. He won 54, 23 of them by knockout. He lost only seven, including the last one. He drew once.

WON DECISION

His last bout before the Ramos title defense was a 10-round decision over Fili Nava in San Antonio, Tex.

Moore was born Nov. 1, 1933, in Lexington, Ky. His parents, the Rev. and Mrs. Howard Moore, later moved to Ohio.

He and his wife, Geraldine, had five children, ranging in age from two to 11.

In addition to Moore and Paret, two other men have died as the result of championship fights, in Cleveland on June 24, 1947.

Jimmy Doyle died after a welterweight title fight with the champion, Sugar Ray Robinson, in Cleveland on June 24, 1947.

Back in 1897, Walter Croft died after a fight with Jimmy Barry in London to clear up the disputed possession of the bantamweight title.

There have been many other prominent ring deaths, including Ernie Schaaf and Frankie Campbell. Schaaf died after a 1933 bout with Primo Carnera and Campbell after a fight in 1930 with Max Baer.

Both Carnera and Baer became heavyweight champions.

Moore's was the second ring death recorded this year by Ring magazine. The other was Omar Olive, 18, who died Feb. 7 while training for an amateur fight.

Last year Ring listed 14 deaths of boxers, although not all in direct ring competition.

Since 1945, when Ring began listing the deaths, it has listed a total of 216 fighters.

Paret's death was perhaps the most publicized of all before Moore's, since his beating in the Madison Square Garden ring at the hands of Griffith was witnessed by a national television audience and was replayed in slow motion.

Paret was carried unconscious to the hospital where he lay in a coma until he died April 3. The fight was March 24.

NEW HANDICAP LEADERS

in Women's Keg Meet

BAY CITY (AP)—Two new leaders took over the handicap singles and the actual team event over the weekend as the women's state bowling tournament completed its 11th week.

Moving into the top position in handicap singles was Georgette Shuller of Adrian with 706, including a handicap of 102.

The leader in the actual division team event was John F. Ivory Moving and Storage Co. of Detroit with a score of 2,770.

NCAA Title Recipe Don't Be Ranked 1st

LOUISVILLE (AP)—Memo to the nation's college basketball coaches:

If you want to win the national collegiate championship, as George Ireland and the Loyola Chicago Ramblers did this year, take two preliminary steps.

1. Play well but not quite well enough to earn the No. 1 rating.

2. Coach well but not quite impressively enough to be named Coach of the Year.

Loyola's heart-thumping 60-50 overtime victory over two-year champion Cincinnati Saturday night extended the failure of the nation's top-ranking teams to six straight years.

Not since unbeaten North Carolina survived a triple overtime battle with second-ranked Kansas in the classic finals of 1957 has the No. 1 ranked team wound up with the championship.

RANKED NINTH

Kentucky, ranked ninth, won in 1958 when West Virginia was No. 1; California, No. 7, in 1959 when Kansas State had earned the top rating; third-ranked Ohio State in 1960 when Cincinnati was ranked first, and second-ranked Cincinnati in 1961 and 1962 when Ohio State was dominating the poll.

Now third-ranked Loyola has the crown in a season when Cincinnati was the overwhelming choice from start to finish.

If that doesn't indicate enough of a jinx, then figure this. In both 1961 and 1962, Ohio State's Fred Taylor had already made his thank you speech as Coach of the Year when Cincinnati and Ed Jucker knocked him away from the championship. This time, the while.

Friars Blend Talents

NIT Champions at Best

NEW YORK (AP)—Providence Coach Joe Mullaney described it pretty well.

"This was their best," he said. "They have a great offense and a great defense and in this one they blended everything."

Mullaney was talking about his Friars, who came off a troubled, uncertain start to build the long winning string among the nation's major college basketball teams and capture one of the game's most prized titles—the National Invitation Tournament championship.

Providence nailed it down with an 81-66 victory over Canisius in the title game Saturday, displaying its new racehorse, fast break offense and devastating defense, a combination of man to man and zone.

VERY CONFIDENT

"I was confident we could beat them—any day of the week," said Ray Flynn, a 6-foot jumping guard who was the tournament's Most Valuable Player and leading scorer with 33 points.

The victory was the Friars' 15th straight after they had struggled to an unimpressive 9-4 record early in the season. The diversified talent of the five starters who played almost all the way all season — was slow to meet but devastating when in gear.

The Friars didn't jell until mid-season. A wrist injury hampered the quick-shooting Flynn, Jim Stone, disgusted with the way he was playing, quit the team for a while.

The 6-10 John Thompson was slow converting from a cornerman to center. Bob Kovalski, 6-8, was making the transition from the freshman team to the varsity.

But when they were able to blend their talents with those of the team quarterback and playmaker, 5-8 Vinnie Ernst, the Friars were off and running.

Take the title game. They nursed a slim lead through the early going, put on a burst just before the half and played near-flawless basketball through the last half. Their defense forced Canisius mistakes and the offense hit 52 per cent of its shots.

Flynn had 20 points and Stone 23 and a turnover total of 64.

voters took the hint. Jucker is the Coach of the Year and Ireland of Loyola is the champ.

It has got to the stage where the stock picture in the championship dressing room is a group shot of the various lesser ranked teams pointing to the ceiling yelling, "We're No. 1."

While the kids and the coach who were so ranked uttered something like: "That's basketball."

It was all of that last weekend at Freedom Hall when a tap-in by 6-foot-4 Yic Rouse at time ran out brought the Loyola Ramblers their first national championship in their first NCAA appearance.

While Coach of the Year Jucker digested on the bench and his team of the year stalled on the court, Loyola overcame a 15-point deficit and sent the exciting battle into overtime on a 10-foot jump shot by All-American Jerry Harpness. The Ramblers won it on Rouse's follow to a jumper by Les Hunter with one second remaining in the extra period.

WE'RE NO. 1

In the dressing room, the Ramblers — who had beaten second-ranked Duke 94-75 in the semifinals—lifted Ireland high in the air and yelled "We're No. 1. We're No. 1." Outside, Ireland's pretty daughter Kathy, a Loyola cheerleader, chanted "over and over: We're Loyola. We're No. 1."

Ireland had this observation: "It's a great thing for basketball when peasants like we can win the national championship. It should give the other peasants a lift."

And there was Coach Jucker, turned back in his Bearcats' bid for an unprecedented third straight championship with only the seventh loss in 50 games as head coach at Cincinnati.

"We have no excuses," he said. "Loyola is a fine and well-coached team. I'm proud of the Bearcats. It was still a tremendous season. It sounded just like 'that's basketball'."

Waterford Playoffs Continue Tonight

Waterford Township's recreation basketball playoffs will continue tonight with O'Neill Realty attempting to complete its domination of the Class B competition.

The regulars, regular season champions, need a victory over Tim's Barber Shop to win the double elimination tournament. Tim's has lost once and must take two from O'Neill to claim the playoffs title.

The game tonight will be at 7:30 in the Cray JHS gym.

Carr Breaks Dash Mark for 2nd Time

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP)—Henry Carr of Arizona State University has twice broken the world record for the 220-yard dash around a full turn. Now he wants to better the 100-yard dash mark.

"If my start improves, I feel I can hit 9.2 seconds in the 100 and go .90.3 consistently," he said Sunday while reviewing his record shattering 220 performance. The 100 standard is .90.2.

The fast striding Detroit, Mich., sophomore's coach, Senon (Baldy) Castillo, agrees.

"He has the ability, all he needs to do is improve his start," Castillo said, adding the same applies to the 6-60.3, 200-pound athlete's 220 efforts.

Last Tuesday, long-striding Henry did the 220 in .90.4 against the University of Utah. This was one-third second faster than the previous world best, .90.5 by Stone Johnson of Grambling, La., College; Paul Drayton, Villanova, and Ray Horton, Santa Clara Valley, Calif.; Youth Village.

Then in a triangular meet Saturday with the University of Southern California and the University of Arizona, the amazing speedster did .20.3.

Castillo, contends when Carr improves his start, he'll go even faster.

"I won't say I can or can't," Carr said.

The muscular Negro gets three tries at his mark this week. On tap are dual meets with Oklahoma Tuesday and Brigham Young Friday, and the Santa Barbara, Calif., Relays Saturday.

Castillo believes Carr's top asset, however, is his attitude.

"He's always ready, not only himself, but the team," Castillo said.

Carr usually takes part in five events in each meet, refusing to let a little tenderness in his right knee bother him.

In the triangular, won by USC with 87.5 points, Carr took the 100 in .90.5, was second in the broad jump at 23 feet 9 inches, and ran legs on A-State's wing 440-yard and mile relay teams. The Sun Devils finished with 62 points, Arizona 37.4.

Carr, a reserve halfback for A-State's football team, believes missing spring football has helped him.

"I've been in serious training since January," he said, "and there is no doubt I'm pointing toward the 1964 Olympic Games."

Michigan State Nine Shoots for Third Win

FORT LEE, Va. (UPI)—The Michigan State baseball team will be shooting for its third victory over games on its spring tour today.

The Spartans, who will be playing Ithaca College, dropped their first game on the tour yesterday to Camp Le Jeune, N.C., 5-1.

O'Rourke-Miller Win Doubles

By JERE CRAIG

It pays to be lucky. Norma O'Rourke and Myra Miller had some luck yesterday and today are champions. The Manville Manufacturing team didn't have enough luck Saturday and is a runnerup.

The Pontiac Women's Bowling Association's largest annual city tournament concluded this past weekend at Howe's Lanes with four new champions and many individual awards captured.

"My son gave me this hickory nut for good luck just before I left today, Mrs. O'Rourke said after she had teamed with Mrs. Miller for a 1,306 doubles performance that proved to be best in the tournament.

Seven-year-old Todd Michael O'Rourke's good luck charm and perhaps a little Irish good fortune left over from St. Patrick's day held up for the two as one more squad took to the lanes after their efforts but no duo could muster sufficient pins to unseat them.

NEAR MISS

The team events Saturday saw Manville Manufacturing have a good shot at grabbing first place away from Betty Wallaces First team, but all three pins shy of the leaders.

Manville actually had the pins it needed to win but an unfortunate team member let her foot slip across the foul line on a strike delivery, nullifying her 10 count.

The First Federal team led from the second weekend of the four week tournament in grabbing off the $100 first prize and trophies with a 2,859 count.

Of the more than 175 teams that competed on the four Saturday, Manville bowled the high actual series, a 2,528 performance; and the Master Service Cleaners squad had the best team game, a 1,983 effort. Another champion who waited until the final weekend to make her pins was Marjorie Hopf. She took the all events categories with 1,715 actual pins and a 1,985 handicap score.

Leading from the first weekend of competition was June Paddy in the singles events. She bowled a 715 total that just nipped Maxine Hardings 714 on the third Sunday.

Peg Carter only finished fifth (with Joyce Skotzke) in the doubles play but she pulled in several individual awards. She won the trophies for high tournament game actual (255), high actual series (641), high game with handicap (276); and Mesdames Skotzke and Carter had the high doubles game (401). Jean Harrington rolled the high game, a 269 total.

HOPING — Myra Miller (left) and Norma O'Rourke bowled a 1,306 doubles series yesterday at Howe's Lanes in the Pontiac Women's Bowling Association's 30th annual city tournament and then had to wait while one more squad had a shot at their leading mark. Their luck was good and they won $65 plus trophies for first place.

4 Released Priests Quit Cuba for Spain

HAVANA (AP)—Four Roman Catholic priests, released from Isle of Pines prison last week left for Madrid Sunday.

The four, who spent months as political prisoners, were Ramon Sidalgo, Luis Jojo, Francisco Blazquez and Rainerio Lebrock. All but Lebrock, who is Cuban, are from Spain.

Since their release, they had been staying at the residence of the Vatican charge d'affaires, where each said Mass prior to leaving for the airport.

A few Spanish diplomats and a handful of former parishioners bid the noticeably prison-weary priests farewell as they boarded a Spanish airliner.

Retired N.D. Editor Dies

FARGO, N.D. (AP) — Holger Doran (Happy) Paulson, 75, widely known retired editor of the Fargo Forum, died Sunday. Paulson started his newspaper career at the age of 15 with the old Grand Forks (N.D.) Plain Dealer and joined the Forum in 1916. He served as editor from 1921 until he retired in 1957.

Balinese Beg Gods of Volcano

KLUNGKUNG, Bali (AP) — Pious Balinese flocked to the white beaches here today to cleanse themselves of the sins they fear may have angered the gods of the Agung volcano, which erupted last week, killing almost 1,500 persons.

They carried small house temples and the Hindu trinity to the shore and offered sacrifices. Then they entered the South Pacific to wash away their sins.

The cleansing festival takes place every 100 years. The volcano erupted in the middle of it, increasing the fervor of devotees who believe that natural disasters will occur if they fail to purify themselves.

There were more than 200 injured and 65,000 left homeless in the disaster area. Once lush and green, it now is a vast desert of ash and mud.

DEATH TOLL MAY RISE

The official death toll was 1,478. It is feared this will rise when buried villages are excavated.

This seaside village has become one of the most important rescue centers. Military units, police, Red Cross and government officials face a gigantic task in providing food and shelter.

They begged for air transport to evacuate the injured and homeless and were shocked when two Indonesian air force transports flew in 200 delegates to the 13th annual Pacific Area Travel Association conference for a sightseeing tour. Tours were banned around Mt. Agung.

Communications with Indonesia's capital, Jakarta, are primitive and slow in filtering in. Even in Bali's capital, Denpasar, 20 miles away, most people did not know what happened here.

They did not appear too concerned.

Emergency rice shipments are expected some time this week, but there is no indication when requested helicopters and small coastal vessels for relief work will arrive.

Molten lava and ash, in addition to destroying whole villages and miles of countryside, wiped out roads and bridges. This made evacuation difficult.

Reds Don't Bother Troops on Autobahn

BERLIN (UPI) — U. S. Army convoys rolled both ways along the Communist-controlled superhighway between Berlin and the West today without interference from Soviet control officers.

The convoys were the first in a movement of 3,000 soldiers in 600 trucks and jeeps to and from West Berlin over the 118-mile highway.

One convoy of 105 men in 27 vehicles was cleared by Soviet control officers at the West German end of the Autobahn in 53 minutes, and a second group, with 58 men in 27 trucks and jeeps, was passed in 37 minutes without trouble, an Army spokesman said.

Fire Destroys Mementos of Sea Legend

WOODBRIIDGE, N.J. (AP) — Mementos of Capt. Kurt Carlsen's desperate battle to save his sinking ship a decade ago have been lost in the smoke and ashes of a night club fire here.

The Log Cabin Lounge, a restaurant and night club that housed several of Carlsen's possessions, was destroyed yesterday in a $150,000 fire.

World attention focused on Carlsen in 1952 when he remained alone for 13 days aboard his stricken ship, the Flying Enterprise, in the North Atlantic. The skipper jumped from the vessel only as it began slipping beneath the waves.

Carlsen, whose home is here, allowed the club to display a painting of the Flying Enterprise, two scrolls honoring Carlsen and many photos of the sea episode. Carlsen's wife said the skipper now is in San Francisco with the Flying Enterprise II.

A tobacco seed, within a period of about five months, can produce a plant 20 million times its own weight.

MSU Provost Expires After Heart Attack

EAST LANSING (AP) — Dr. Clifford Erickson, 55, who became provost at Michigan State University 16 months ago after serving as dean of MSU's college of education, died of a heart attack Saturday at his home here.

Erickson, who organized the MSU counseling center, is survived by his widow Mildred; a son W. Bruce and a daughter Marilyn Kay, both of East Lansing; two brothers; and his father.

Government statisticians figure that farms in Arizona, California, Nevada and Iowa have the highest standard of living, and that those in Mississippi, Arkansas, Alabama and West Virginia have the lowest.

Moonshiners Hard Hit

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The latest wrinkle in moonshining is plastic returnable jugs.

The reason is a clampdown by federal alcohol tax agents on the sale of supplies and containers for illicit whisky, glass jars in particular.

Leave Europe's Defense to Europe, Solon Says

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Sen. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., has called for the United States to consider withdrawing from Europe because the defense of that continent "is first and foremost a European responsibility."

McGovern also said yesterday that aid to South America could be speeded by enlisting private groups as partners and recipients.

These Kids Start Early

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — Students at the Southern Baptist Seminary have a growing class of youngsters.

The Bloomin' Bullies!

DARTMOOR, England (UPI) — Wives of Dartmoor prison guards yesterday sent a protest to Home Secretary Henry Brooke about the "feeble" way he deals with inmates who attack their husbands.

Dr. Peyton Thurman, dean of students, said 77 children were born to seminary couples during the 1961-62 academic year and that altogether 630 married-student families have 601 youngsters.

Switch-Hitting Skill

Versatile Lee One of New Breed

By BOB THOMAS
Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD — "I have to be careful around here," says Lee

Remick, "Everybody calls me The Nominee. If I ever miss a line, do I get it? They all say 'How on earth did you get a nomination?'"

Well sir, she got it by hard labor at her craft, which is acting. Lee is up for an Academy Award because of her performance in "Days of Wine and Roses," in which she sinks into the degradation of an alcoholic and never quite gets out.

Her current film, on which she is getting the good-natured ribbing, is "Wheeler Dealers." In contrast, it is gay, if not giddy; a comedy about the customs of a far-out land called Texas.

Lee's skill as a switch-hitter has confused Hollywood, haven of the pigeon-hole. She got her start in films as the cute little baton twirler who wined Andy Griffith and around her finger in "A Face in the Crowd."

HYPERSEXED ROLE
When Lana Turner backed out of "Anatomy of a Murder," Lee walked into the role of the hypersexed rape victim. This led Hollywood to think of her as a sexpot, which she isn't.

The climax of such thinking came with her substitution for Marilyn Monroe in "Something's Got to Give." Dean Martin balked, and the whole project blew up. Lee went off to make a Carol Reed suspense drama, "Running Man," in Spain and Ireland.

It's possible—though not probable—that the Oscar nomination will convince Hollywood that Lee's worth is not in the glamour tradition but as a leader of the new breed of versatile actresses.

When asked if she considered herself a star, she replied: "I guess so, insofar as I play starring roles in pictures. But the glamour aspects of being a star just don't appeal to me. I have a husband (television director Bill Collier) and two children whom I love, and I like being at home."

"If being a star means going to the big, goey Hollywood parties, then I don't want any part of it."

STAR STARES
Yet she confesses to being a fan of stars herself. "Whenever I go to an opening and there are big names there, I just sit and stare. They fascinate me."

Hollywood will have to take Lee as she is, and that isn't bad. Her role in "Days of Wine and Roses" demonstrated she could do just about anything as an actress. She admitted it was the toughest job she attempted.

"At night I would come home a wreck—my hair a mess, white makeup on my face, physically exhausted," she recalled. "My poor husband would look at me and say, 'What happened to you?'"

"Yet it was the most exhilarating experience I ever had. All of us hated to see the day's work finish. We begrudged the weekends and we were broken up when the picture was over. It was that rare happening of a perfect combination of story, director, producer and actors."

Whether or not she wins the Oscar two weeks hence, Lee's future is assured. She is much in demand. Now her ambition is to do a musical, which will confuse Hollywood's type-casters even more.

"I actually got my start singing and dancing," said she.

Governor Proclaims Homemakers Week

LANSING (AP) — Gov. George Romney has proclaimed the week of March 31-April 6 as Michigan Future Homemakers of America Week.

The Future Homemakers of America, Romney said, are young people studying home economics preparing themselves for future responsibilities as citizens.

The governor urged encouragement of the young people "earnestly striving through good citizenship to promote clean and wholesome home life."

Reveal Citrus Losses

LAKELAND, Fla. (UPI) — Florida citrus growers have lost more than $300 million as a result of the December freeze, an industry official disclosed this weekend.

Racing Car Out of Control, Hits Children

DALLAS, Tex. (UPI) — A 1931 jalopy converted into a racing car lost its steering wheel on a high-speed curve at Devil's Bowl track yesterday and smashed through a guard rail where three children were sitting.

The children, all from one family, were injured, two of them seriously. The driver of the racer, Jimmy W. Travis, 25, of Dallas, walked away unharmed from his wrecker car. A few adults at the rail scattered to safety moments before the crash.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde J. Coomer of suburban Garland were with their three children, Jimmy Jr., 11, Jimmy, 9 and Linda, 7. All three children were rushed to Baylor University Medical Center where Clyde had a leg amputated. His condition was listed as satisfactory. Jimmy was in fair condition, Linda was treated and sent home.

Travis said the wheel came off the steering post as he was pulling out of the curve on a trial run to tune up the car for races next Friday.

This Family Is Going to Feel REALLY Clean

DES MOINES, Iowa (AP) — The other day a Des Moines woman bought 30 bars of soap at a downtown store.

Her daughter came home the same day with 30 more of the same brand. And when her husband arrived home he laughed; he had just bought half a dozen bars of toilet soap when he'd picked up the groceries.

'At the Far Turn, It's Cherry Festival by a Nose'

BY DICK WEST

WASHINGTON (AP) — On the staff of the National Park Service are several horticultural experts who do seasonal work as cherry blossom handicappers.

Cherry blossom handicappers operate in much the same way as race horse handicappers, only betting isn't as spirited.

They study the form charts, weather conditions and other factors, and from this make their predictions as to which will come in first, the cherry blossoms or the cherry blossom festival.

Ideally, the blossoms and the festival would finish in a dead heat, but that doesn't happen too often. One is likely to be anywhere from a few days to a fortnight ahead of the other.

This doesn't matter as far as the blossoms are concerned but it means a lot to the festival officials.

They find it rather embarrassing to be staging a cherry blossom festival when there aren't any cherry blossoms, the blossoms having already departed or not yet arrived.

There was, then, a certain amount of tension in the air when the time came this week for the handicappers to deliver their first public prognostication of the year.

Veteran handicappers will tell you that it is impossible to make an accurate prediction on the blooming date of cherry trees earlier than 10 days before the blossoms appear.

Nevertheless, George W. Robey, a handicapper with 31 years' experience, was willing to go out on a limb two weeks in advance of the festival opening.

I don't mean that Robey actually climbed one of the trees. What he did was cut off a few twigs at regular intervals and stick them in a pail of water in his office.

By observing how long it took them to bloom indoors, and adjusting that time according to the weather bureau's long-range forecast, taking into account the moisture content of the soil, he was able to estimate the blooming period outdoors.

Along with a congressman, a festival princess and a various other interested parties, I was present at the Jefferson Memorial on the banks of the tree-ringed tidal basin when Robey revealed his prediction.

Not to keep you in suspense any longer, he predicted that the festival, scheduled for April 27, would come in first. His calculations fixed the peak blossom period as April 6-10.

Before you take any bets, However, I must caution that cherry blossoms are great stretch runners and to me the track looked fast. If you're looking for a sure thing, better put your money on the swallows at Capistrano.

2 Area Youths Hurt at Amusement Park

Two Oakland County youths were among nine injured yesterday when a ride at Edgewater Amusement Park, Detroit, collapsed.

Caroline Robinson, 21, of 969 Emerson St. and William Myers, 18, of 2204 Berg Road, Southfield, were taken to Redford General Hospital after a shaft on a ride known as "the roundup" broke, dropping riders about two feet.

Authorities at the hospital refused to disclose the condition of the youths, but according to Detroit police none of the injuries was serious.

Cancer Volunteers to Ring Doorbells

Volunteers of the Michigan Cancer Foundation will be ringing doorbells in the area starting today through April to determine the public's attitude on the disease.

The foundation is conducting this house-to-house survey to ascertain the extent of personal knowledge of cancer and to evaluate the effectiveness of its program.

Information explaining services rendered by the United Fund agency will be distributed to each homeowner interviewed.

No volunteer will be soliciting funds in behalf of the agency while the survey is being conducted.

Fire Damage in Waterford

Three weekend fires in Waterford Township resulted in an estimated damage of $12,200 to two homes and a business establishment and their contents.

A fire last night at the home of Nick Kirinski, 1018 Myrtle St., caused $5,000 damage to the one-story frame house and another $1,500 to contents. The cause of the blaze is being investigated.

Damage of $2,500 was estimated to the house of Thomas Lemaster, 5769 Winslow, Saturday afternoon and another $200 in contents. Cause of the fire at the one-story frame building, which was vacant, was attributed to children playing with matches.

A fire at 2 a.m. yesterday caused an estimated $1,000 damage to the Brahms Studio of Music, 4713 Dixie Highway, and $2,000 to contents. A defective furnace caused the blaze, firemen said.

In rarified mountain air a climber's blood has little reserve of oxygen, and he must pause every few steps to catch his breath. Bearing 30 pounds at 19,000 feet is as difficult as carrying 200 pounds at sea level.

Fourth Cabbie in Month Robbed at Knife Point

Another cab driver was robbed at knife point by his passengers over the weekend.

The holdup of Herbert White, 32, of 727 Wing St., Saturday night was the fourth such robbery this month.

White, a driver for the Yellow Cab Co., lost $28 in the robbery.

White told police that he picked up two men at Wilson Avenue and Sanford Street about 9:10 p.m. He said he was robbed in front of 179 Prospect St.

The pair fled east on Prospect after ordering White to stretch out on the front seat.

Yellow Cab drivers were robbed March 12 and March 15. An Oakland Cab driver was robbed March 16.

To Consider License for Billiard Center

Waterford Township Board members tonight will consider issuing a license for a family billiard center at 3127 W. Huron St.

Seeking the license is Larry Blavin of Playtime, Inc. The issue was discussed briefly at a previous board meeting but tabled.

The only other item of business slated for tonight's board meeting is a discussion of the township building code which specifies apartment buildings must have two entrances.

Proponents of an apartment building at Josephine Street and Voorhees Road seek permission to construct the unit with just one entrance.

for Closer Partnership

BONN, Germany (AP)—Heinrich von Brentano returned today from a meeting with President Kennedy and said the United States expects Western Europe to work toward a closer Atlantic partnership.

Brentano told reporters at near-by Wahn Airport that he was impressed with the U.S. determination to promote a genuine Atlantic partnership. He said Europe should respond to this determination in the interests of all.

(EDITOR'S NOTE — More than 7,000 men and women work for the members of Congressional committees at an annual cost to taxpayers in excess of $50 million. The ranks of this private, non-elected bureaucracy may swell further.)

WASHINGTON (AP) — In 1914, when Carl Vinson, a 31-year-old Democrat from Georgia, came to Congress for the first time, his entire staff was made up of one secretary, paid $125 a month. The law allowed him and all other congressmen no more.

Today Vinson has four members on his staff. The average representative is allowed to hire up to nine at an over-all cost of $4,000 a month. The average senator usually hires more. And so may the congressional committees.

In a rush to keep pace with the onslaught of modern pressures, Congress has created its own private bureaucracy that now numbers more than 7,000 people and costs more than $50 million a year.

There's a chance it soon will get bigger and costlier.

VOTE INCREASE

This week the House will debate a proposal, approved by its Administration Committee, to increase the office expenses of each congressman by $10,506 a year so he can add still another employee to his payroll.

The huge bureaucracy on Capitol Hill has provoked criticism, particularly from Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., who leads a futile fight each year to wipe out a good number of the Senate's subcommittee staffs.

 "Many of these subcommittees are useless," Ellender said in an interview. "All they do is create jobs, monopolize space, and glorify senators. And like old soldiers, the subcommittees never die."

Senelder pointed out that the Senate Judiciary Committee has 15 regular staff members while its 14 subcommittees have 150 staff members.

"I think every senator on the committee has a subcommittee," Ellender said.

STAFFERS STAFF
Ellender's stand draws support from Sen. Carl T. Curtis, R-Neb. In a Senate speech recently, Curtis said "Pretty soon we shall need more staff to find out what some other staff is doing."

A sturdy defense of big congressional staffs comes from Dr. George B. Galloway, senior specialist in American government for the Library of Congress and former staff director of the senate-House committee that conducted hearings on the reorganization of Congress in 1946.

"The increase in staff is one of the most favorable developments in Congress," Galloway said in an interview. "It is a third force that provides Congress with information and intelligence to counteract the interested opinions that come to Congress from interested parties on the one hand and from the executive department on the other."

In Galloway's view, the cause of most of the mushrooming is quite simple: The problems of Congress today are far different and far more complex than the problems of Congress when Carl Vinson was a freshman.

had 155 committee reports. The 7th Congress, which met in 1961 and 1962, introduced 17,220 bills, enacted 833 public laws, and had

The first Congress had only two committees. In contrast, the Senate Committee on Government Operations reported that in 1955 and 1956 the Senate alone had 17 committees and 129 subcommittees, which, with 13 joint Senate-house committees, met a total of 951 times for a total of 11,677 hours.

In 1907, individual congressmen were allowed $1,500 a year for staff assistance. This rose to $2,000 in 1917, $4,000 in 1924, $5,000

The total cost of congressional staff salaries was $3 million in 1920 and $6.5 million in 1940. The present level of more than $50 million could not have been reached without the liberal staff allowances of the Legislative Reorganization Act of 1946. Congress passed the act after exhaustive Committee hearings on the best way to streamline Congress so it could meet the modern age.

The number of congressional employees now fluctuates from month to month, but it averages 4,000 in the House and 3,000 in the Senate. Of the House total, work in the offices of individual congressmen and 500 work on committees. Of the Senate total, 1,700 work in the offices of individual senators and 600 work committees. The rest, including capitol policemen, telephone operators, and laborers, serve press as a whole.

The size of staffs vary from pressman to congressman. Representatives in districts with more than a half-million constituents are allowed to hire 10 staff bers instead of nine. Senators from the more populous states are allowed bigger staff allowances than senators from the smaller states.

From Our News Wires
DETROIT — A United Auto Workers Union proposal calling for joint labor-management study committees to meet one year prior to the 1964 auto negotiations was under consideration today by the auto industry.

UAW President Walter P. Reuther made the proposal in letters Saturday to heads of the auto and agricultural equipment companies.

Reuther proposed that the auto companies and the union set up preparatory committees by July 1 this year. He suggested that committees prepare to talk with the farm equipment firms by Aug. 1.

The proposal went to presidents of General Motors, Ford Chrysler, American Motors, International Harvester, Allis-Chalmers and John Deere.

GM's vice president for personnel, Louis G. Seaton, said, "We're studying it." "There was no immediate comment from the other firms."

Reuther said, "We believe the time has come when management and labor can no longer afford to defer consideration of the many complex problems that confront them until actual bargaining begins." He added that "joint solutions are not easily worked out during the 60 days normally devoted to collective bargaining."

Reuther said the union was willing to include in the make-up of the committees outside experts if the managements so desired.

If outside experts were to join in, the committees would resemble the one that worked for three years to develop a profit-sharing agreement at the Fontana, Calif., plant of Kaiser Steel Corp.

That committee represented labor, management and the public. Last year after the work of the Kaiser committee was announced, Reuther told United Press International: "I think bargaining begins."

the committee setup is a very significant development. That concept ought to be expanded and applied. It holds great possibilities for improving labor-management relationships."

Of his latest proposal Reuther said, "the proposed joint study committee would not be authorized to bargain. It would be confined to assembling relevant data and to exploring and studying objectively and in good faith the problems that we will face when bargaining begins."

Expect De Gaulle to Urge Limited U.S. Investment

FROM OUR NEWS WIRES
BADEN BADEN, Germany — President Charles de Gaulle's government was expected to urge its five allies in the Common Market today to limit U.S. investment in their countries. The French were expected to get little support.

Finance ministers of the six members of the European Economic Community — France, West Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — are meeting for two days at this common German spa.

De Gaulle fears that American capital is buying too heavily into French industry. U.S. money is valued every year in France. But de Gaulle fears it is being concentrated in a few industries, such as automobiles.

The other five countries tend to welcome investment from America or anywhere else as a contribution toward keeping business prosperous and employment high.

Meanwhile, the Common Market assembly meets in Strasbourg, France, today and informed sources predicted pro-British members would push for Britain's entry into the group.

At its first meeting following the Jan. 29 French veto of British membership, many delegates were openly opposed to de Gaulle's rejection of his island neighbor.

The assembly, acting in a purely advisory capacity, is comprised of legislators from the six market nations — France, Italy, West Germany, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg. Britain has said that it would not try to reopen the negotiations for its entry and that any such new proposal for talks must come from the market members.

With showers ending tonight, cooler temperatures will move into the Pontiac area. A low of 38 is predicted for this evening. Partly cloudy with a high of 50 is expected tomorrow.

The weather picture for Wednesday is fair with little temperature change.

Winds today are south-southwest at 15 to 25 m.p.h. and occasionally gusty. They will shift to the north at 10 to 20 m.p.h. late tonight and Tuesday.

The lowest temperature recorded 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 49. At 1 p.m. the Press thermometer read 64. Yesterday the mercury climbed to a high of 70.

Congress Eyes Budget Foreign Aid Cut Likely

Printers OK Contract; Engravers Hold Out

NEW YORK (AP)—Striking printers have ratified a new contract with New York's eight closed daily newspapers. But the last of four striking unions, the photoengravers, continued to hold out today for a better work pack, delaying an immediate resumption of publication.

As things stood today, the 108th day of the newspaper shutdown:

—Photoengravers were to meet again with publishers to try to come to terms on an agreement that would remove the last stumbling block in the way of publication.

—Even if photoengraver union negotiators reached contract accord today, indications were that the eight major dailies couldn't get back on the streets until time to print Tuesday editions, or more likely Wednesday's.

—The other nine newspaper unions continued to refuse to cross the photoengravers' picket lines at four struck dailies. The other five major papers closed voluntarily when the printers began the strike against the four dailies last Dec. 8.

—The New York Post, one of the five that shut down, was in print for the 15th day since it resumed publication March 4.

RATIFY SAME PACT

—Striking printers have ratified by a 79-vote majority the same settlement they rejected by 61 votes a week earlier. Their new contract gives them a $12.63 package over two years—a $6.51 increase in wages and fringe benefits the first year, and a $6.12 increase the second.

—The striking mailers union—like the printers, an affiliate of the International Typographical Union—also has ratified a new work pact with terms similar to those accepted by printers. The mailers thus ended the strike which they began Jan. 9.

—The stereotypers union, which joined the strike March 5, came to terms earlier and ratified a new contract March 17.

—All but two of the six non-striking newspaper unions have reached firm or tentative settlements. The machinists and electricians unions have announced willingness to return to work while their peace talks continue.

Publishers estimate the total loss to the economy as a result of the newspaper blackout at more than $200 million.

May Tighten Purse Strings by $1 Billion

JFK Probers Claim Program Tries 'Too Much for Too Many'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Presented with a presidential committee recommendation to tighten up the foreign aid program, Congress appears likely to respond to the extent of "about $1 billion."

The signs on Capitol Hill indicate the program "will be the main target of efforts to trim President Kennedy's $38.8-billion budget."

Kennedy has asked for $4.9 billion in foreign aid for the year beginning July 1—$1 billion more than this year. Kennedy, however, is expected to send a message to Congress this week, cutting back his aid request by $200 million or more.

But one official remarked that the administration will be lucky to escape with a reduction of no more than $1 billion.

In a hard-hitting report, the presidential committee—made up of 10 private citizens headed by Gen. Lucius Clay—told Kennedy the program was too big—trying to do "too much for too many."

OVERWEIGHT PLAN

The report, made public Saturday evening, found that this year's $3.9-billion foreign aid program was overweight by half a billion dollars when weighed on the scales of the tougher new standards it was recommending.

This led to some interpretations that since the new foreign aid request is $1 billion higher than this year's program, the Clay committee was recommending it be chopped by $1.5 billion.

But William T. Dentzer, executive director of the Clay committee, said Sunday night this was not so.

The committee, he said, was speaking of only this year's program, ending June 30, and not next year's. Also, he said, the report listed several new projects which it thought should be added.

NO PROSPECT CUTS

The committee did not propose any immediate specific cuts. It urged, though, graduated future reductions, tightening of assistance criteria and reassessment of

Davey Moore Dies From Boxing Injuries

LOS ANGELES—Davey Moore, a colorful ring champion for nearly four years, died today of injuries received in the fight last Thursday that cost him his world featherweight title.

Moore lapsed into a coma shortly after his bout with Sugar Ramos and never regained consciousness.

Moore's wife, Geraldine, 26, had maintained a bedside vigil in the hospital much of the time. She had become exhausted and was resting in a nearby room when death came at 2:30 a.m.

A hospital bulletin said only doctors and nurses were present when the fighter succumbed because of brain damage.

Ironically, Moore, 29, gave up his title — and his life — in the city of his greatest triumph. It was here that he won the featherweight crown from Hagia (Kid) Bassey of Nigeria in 1959.

Ramos, the new champion, sobbed in an apologetic meeting with Mrs. Moore Sunday.

The Cuban-born boxer, a Mexican City resident, told Mrs. Moore how sorry he was and said that he was "praying every night" for the recovery of his opponent in the tragic bout.

MAINTAINED CONFIDENCE

Mrs. Moore expressed confidence that her husband would be all right.

A late evening bulletin from the doctors seemed to give Moore's pulse, temperature and blood pressure a boost.

ANTI-CASTROITE—Dr. Carlos Marquez Sterling said in New York yesterday he is conditionally accepting provisional presidency of an anti-Castro government reportedly formed outside Cuba.

Fear Boy Met With Foul Play

Police have assumed that 12-year-old Robert Grinnan met with foul play after disappearing from his Bloomfield Township home Friday morning.

"We are working on the theory that the boy was picked up and abducted," Norman Dehneke, Bloomfield Township police chief, said today.

"All the ground from Long Lake to 14-Mile Road and Telegraph to Middlebelt has been covered on foot. There's nothing there."

LAND-AREA SEARCH

Policemen and volunteers covered the area on foot and horseback. They checked sewers and drains and dragged lakes.

"They also made use of two helicopters and five light airplanes, Dehneke said.

"There's nothing else to do here on the ground," he said. "We can just hope someone might have seen him getting into a car or walking away with someone. We have yet to uncover one substantial clue in the case."

"A four-state message on the boy's disappearance was put out Saturday and rebroadcast to every major U.S. city that night, according to Dehneke. Police said telephone tips poured into Detroit and its suburbs and Mount Clemens, Lapeer, Flint, Saginaw and Bay City.

The boy is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Grinnan, 5515 Pebblebrook Road.

Lost Model Relocated in Madrid

MADRID (U) — "What have I done wrong?" asked beautiful model Christine Keeler, center of a British political storm. "They can't arrest me for nothing."

The glamorous red-haired girl was tracked down here after a tip to Scotland Yard from a socially prominent osteopath who is one of her many friends. She spent last night voluntarily in Spanish police headquarters, then vanished again this morning.

Asked why she went to the police, one British source said: "Apparently she was trying to discourage the attentions of a horde of newsmen and photographers."

The British embassy said it knew of no request by Britain for Christine's apprehension or detention by Spanish authorities.

A downtown apartment was 21-year-old Miss Keeler's latest way-station in her hide-and-seek chase with the press.

Miss Keeler left Britain two weeks ago shortly before she was to testify in the trial of her former boyfriend, a West Indian.

Last week, War Minister John Profumo, faced with mounting rumors, told the House of Commons he knew Miss Keeler, but had nothing to do with her disappearance.

She was first discovered in Madrid last night in the apartment of an American reporter, Dick Zeidman. Then she vanished again.

Billionaire Not Above Doin' Twist

LONDON (UPI) — Jean Paul Getty has an estimated billion dollars, but he's not above twisting with the small fry.

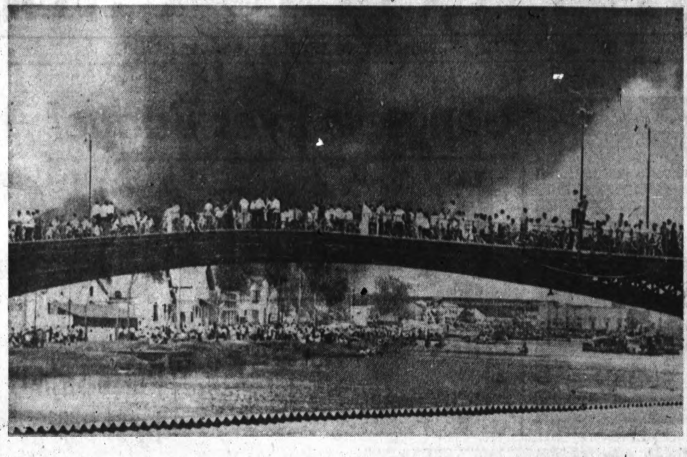

Getty and a London newspaper (the Daily Sketch) gave a party at the billionaire's suburban mansion over the weekend for a husband of children from a Church of England home.

"Can you twist?" asked a little girl with blonde curls.

"Certainly I can," said the 70-year-old oil king. "Soon the man whose vast enterprises earn him $11,200 an hour was knee and hip deep in a rather vigorous demonstration of the dance."

A dozen boys and girls joined in.

Getty didn't even bother to roll up the rugs, which happen to be priceless examples of the ancient art of Persian weavers.

Foreign Aid Cut Appears Likely

These steps, it contended, were necessary to strengthen the program which the committee felt was essential to security of the United States and the non-Communist world.

The only committee member to dissent was Rep. George Meany. He said aid funds should be substantially increased. He complained the report might be disastrously used by critics of foreign aid.

Without reference to proposed reductions, Kennedy said in a statement that the report was very heartening because of the committee's "expression of support for properly administered mutual defense and development programs."

ECONOMY AMMUNITION

But the committee's statement that "we are indeed attempting too much for too many" was the kind of ammunition that fit the guns of such economic advocates as Rep. Otto E. Passman, D-La.

As chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee, Passman wants to cut the program by $2.5 billion. Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said he will vote as a member of the Senate Appropriations Committee for equally deep reductions.

Clay's offer to testify seemed likely to be snapped up by congressional committees anxious to get at the how, when and where behind his remark at a news conference that "I feel that a lot of money has been wasted" in the program.

These committees would want to know also how he and his colleagues propose that administration be tightened up.

Michigan Legislature Facing 2 Key Deadlines This Week

LANSING (UPI) — The State Legislature, with only 25 working days remaining before Gov. George Romney's requested "action-packed" session is slated to end, faced two more key deadlines this week.

Wednesday is the last day for passage of bills, except tax and appropriation measures, in their house of origin and Friday is the cutoff date for passing the fiscal proposals in the chambers where they were born.

Ironically it is a measure that has cleared both the house of representatives and the senate that could do the most to disrupt the plans for speedy action on the more than 225 bills awaiting passage by one chamber or the other.

Senate Democrats will renew their efforts today to recall from Gov. George Romney's desk the bill to put Michigan under a federal program for Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed (ADC-U).

MOVE THWARTED

The maneuver was thwarted by the Republican Senate majority several times last week but Friday provided the Democrats with renewed vigor and more talking points.

Romney, in a face-to-face conference in Washington, failed to get Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare Anthony Celebrezze to accept the bill.

Celebrezze stood by his earlier declaration that the eligibility restrictions in the Republican-sponsored bill do not conform with the federal social security laws and therefore the state cannot participate in the program.

Celebrezze agreed only to provide Romney by tomorrow with a copy of the legal basis for the department's decision.

Because of Romney's insistence last week the Republican senators agreed to block passage of any recall motion. But there were signs after Friday some of the GOP members maybe weakening in their pledge to the governor.

One of the GOP leaders frankly admitted that when Sen. Philip Raho's latest motion for recall comes up on the Senate floor today "there could be some defections."

There has been some talk by other Republicans that we should either accept the bill as the federal government wants it or else reject it. They can't see any reason why we shouldn't either go all the way or not at all.

Weekend Birthday Party Ends in Shotgun Slaying

A birthday party Saturday night ended in death for one of the guests. He was killed by a shotgun blast.

As he started up the walk, Harris told police, he was confronted at the steps by Williams and Holston. Harris said his gun was cocked but the muzzle was pointing toward the ground.

Williams was carrying a razor, according to Harris. When he saw it he began to back up, Harris said, and tripped over a pipe in the ground.

Harris said when he stumbled he fell backwards and the shotgun discharged, hitting Holston who was standing next to Williams.

Williams told police that he followed Harris outside after ordering him from the house and that someone fired twice at him.

Williams and Holston went out, Williams added.

Mrs. Mozell Simmons, 35, of 21 Maine St., sister-in-law of Holston, told police she heard Harris say: "I'm going to kill him."

She said she thought he meant Williams.

Pontiac police said Harris was to make a formal statement to the prosecutor today.

Davey Moore Dies From Ring Injury

But the fighter's condition worsened during the night. The first bulletin of the morning said Moore's pulse was irregular and described his general condition as deteriorating.

Moore was the second boxing champion to lose his life as well as his title as a result of a fight.

Welterweight Benny (Kid) Parrel, who died last April 3, succumbed to injuries he suffered during a ring battle with Emile Griffith.

Cites Communications for Rubbish Complaints

BIRMINGHAM — Lack of communication and knowledge about residential rubbish pickup has been cited as cause of recent complaints, according to a report to be presented at tonight's City Commission meeting.

Many residents are either unfamiliar with the rubbish regulations or fail to comply for some other reason, stated Thomas C. Brien, superintendent of the Department of Public Works (DPW) and author of the report.

In the document, Brien noted that the increase in complaints is due to stricter enforcement of regulations concerning the type of containers to be set out by property owners.

Queries about rubbish service are handled by the DPW, Brien said. Most are then referred to the rubbish contractor. "By the time we have contacted the contractor of his employees, there is considerable delay before any action is taken to correct the problem or inform the resident of what he is doing wrong," according to Brien.

The superintendent suggests that a DPW inspector could serve as a "policeman on the beat," educating the public through personal contact. However, he notes this would increase the collection costs by about $8,000 a year.

Brien's report was requested two weeks ago by Commissioner William Roberts who said he had received several complaints from property owners.

Commissioners tonight will also consider a proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance which would increase the number of off-street parking spaces for multiple-residence buildings.

The current ratio of one space for each dwelling unit would be changed to one and three-quarters.

City Manager L. R. Gare has recommended that a hearing on the proposed amendment, if approved by the commission, be set for April 22.

Famed American sculptor Marshall Fredericks of Birmingham has been made a Knight of the Order of Dannebrog by King Frederick the Ninth of Denmark. The honor was presented to Fredericks in recognition of his efforts to boost Danish prestige in the United States, according to George P. Everson, Danish consul for Michigan.

The noted sculptor's most recent contribution was the gift of a fountain to the Danish Old People's Home near Rochester in honor of Danish immigration to the area.

Fredericks' grandfather immigrated from Denmark to America in the late 1800s and established himself as a ship builder in Rock Island, Ill.

Fredericks lives at 440 Lake Park Drive and has his studio at 4113 N. Woodward Ave., Royal Oak.

Over 50 local dentists will be among nearly 500 dentists to speak at the Toledo Dental Society's 42nd annual Clinic Day Wednesday.

They are Dr. F. G. LeVeque, Dr. George Martin, Dr. Stephen T. Mastly and Dr. Harold J. Holden.

Other dentists from Detroit, Grosse Pointe, Edeise, Dearborn and Tolucah and 15 Ohio cities also will speak at the affair, which attracts 400 dentists, dental assistants, hygienists and suppliers of dental equipment and services.

Clinic Day is for exchange of ideas and back-to-school sessions on new advances in the field. It is the final event in a two-day meeting held at the Commodore Perry Hotel.

Electric Sign Used to Alert Churchgoers

TROY, N. Y. (U) — If worshippers at St. Mary's Catholic Church here seem better versed in what to do — and when to do it — during a service, the credit goes to an electric sign.

The sign, mounted on the pulpit, flashed "stand," "kneel," or "sit" at the appropriate time.

The Shepherd

"Go not forth hastily to strive." Prov. 25:3

The Master never rushed nor hurried... And counselled men not to be worried... When my friend yielded and fumed a lot... "You're in a hurry, but God's not." I tried to tell him he was puffed... The floor and did his motor race... God takes his time to grow a tree... For He has all eternity... Pray Him for patience for you'll find... It will restore your peace of mind.

Township Meetings Set Saturday

18 of 27 Area Units Plan Annual Sessions

Residents of 18 out of 27 area townships will have the opportunity to enact legislation of their choosing at annual township meetings Saturday.

Although any topic can be introduced, the two significant items on most agendas will be consideration of a budget for the coming year and setting of salaries of township officials.

A simple majority of those present can execute any changes desired concerning affairs of the townships.

In past meetings, a majority vote has brought about action ranging from a citation of commendation for the retiring clerk to allocation of $1,000 for fire-fighting equipment.

All the sessions are conducted in township halls.

Those communities which have in recent years voted to abolish the meeting are Bloomfield, Brandon, Farmington, Holly, Orion, Oxford, Novi, Waterford and West Bloomfield townships.

Scheduled to begin at 1 p.m. are gatherings in Avon, Bruce, Groveland, Highland, Independence, Metamora, Pontiac, Royal Oak, Shelby, Springfield, Washington and White Lake townships.

Lyon and Oakland townships have their meetings slated to commence at 1:30 p.m. Addison, Dryden and Milford townships will start at 2 p.m.

Residents of Rose Township will meet at 2:30 p.m.

The annual township meeting dates back to 1840 and is an outgrowth of the old New England town meeting.

Weekend Traffic Toll

7 Die on Michigan Roads

By The Associated Press
State police report at least seven persons died during the weekend in traffic accidents on Michigan highways—including a Dundee couple found dead in the wreckage of their car in a ditch in Monroe County.

The Associated Press weekend death count began at 6 p.m. Friday and ended at midnight Sunday.

Traffic victims: Mrs. Mabel Watkins, 41, of rural Eaton Rapids, was killed Sunday when a car driven by her husband, Glenn, 42, hit a light pole on I-96 in Walker Township, a few miles northwest of Grand Rapids.

Daniel Burnham, 32, of Novi, was killed Sunday when his car hit a utility pole in Novi Township.

Henry Gutowski, 40, of Dearborn, was fatally injured Saturday night when his car hit an abutment on the John Lodge Expressway in Detroit.

Arthur Segura, 17, of Ann Arbor, died Saturday of injuries suffered Friday night when his car crashed into a wooden bridge and drove a wooden board into his chest.

Albert J. Liquia, 75, of Negaunee, was killed Saturday when struck by a hit-run driver in the Upper Peninsula town.

Charles T. Dettloff, 21, and Mary Blackstone, 15, both of Dundee, were found dead Saturday in the wreckage of their car in a ditch in Dundee Township of Monroe County.

Reservations are being made now by the State Agriculture Department for the all-expense-paid tour, to cost $1,497.

Only farmers or those with their livelihood directly related to agriculture are eligible.

Flower Arrangements to Be Demonstrated
The adult chapter of Avondale American Field Service is sponsoring a demonstration of flower arrangements at 8 p.m. tomorrow in Avondale High School multipurpose room.

Mrs. H. C. Brook, of the Pearce Floral Co., Pontiac, will be demonstrator. Proceeds from the event will be used to sponsor a summer trip abroad for an American Field Service student.

The public is cordially invited to attend.

DETROIT WATER COMING—Construction of the Detroit Water Board service building in Troy is well on its way toward completion today. Located at the southwest corner of South Boulevard and Dequindre Road, the facility will be used to pump Detroit water to Pontiac and other northern Oakland County communities. The structure must be half-completed by November, according to stipulations of the federal grant with which it is being partially financed.

Police Seek Warrant in Officer's Slaying

DETROIT — Police sought a murder warrant today against George E. Colby Jr., 22, who they said admitted shooting to death a police sergeant who stopped him on the Ford Expressway for reckless driving.

Sgt. Selwyn Adams, 46, was slain with his own revolver Saturday night.

Adams spotted Colby's car speeding on the expressway and pursued him in a marked police car. Colby left the freeway at Russell, and Adams cut him off at the top of the ramp.

Witnesses gave this account of the shooting:

Sgt. Adams removed the keys from Colby's car at gunpoint.

and told him to get out of the car. The officer then holstered his gun.

Colby left the car, three Adams off balance and grabbed his gun. Then he fired one shot into Adams' abdomen.

The officer slumped to a sitting position and pleaded for his life. Colby fired two more shots. One punctured the heart.

TOOK NUMBER
Colby surrendered at the apartment of a friend two hours later. A witness had taken his license number.

Colby told police he had argued with his wife, Wilhelmina, 26, drank some rum and then went for a ride to "cool off." He took with him his 1-year-old son, Parrish.

Surrendering, Colby came out with his baby son, saying, "Treat me like a gentleman."

Police quoted Colby as saying: "I took a ride on the Ford freeway and when I pulled off at the Russell exit, this police car cut me off. The officer got out and pulled his gun and told me to get up against the side of my car."

"I was mad and slow in getting my hands up. The officer put his gun back in the holster and pushed me up against my car. I grabbed him and pulled out his gun."

"I jumped back away from him and he started toward me. I shot him. The officer began going down so I shot him twice again."

"Then I jumped in my car and drove home. I put the car in the garage and sort of hung around in the back of the house for a while. Then I took the baby and went into a friend's apartment and told my wife I'd shot a policeman."

Romney Plan Hit by Ferency

Writes to Celebrezze on Aid to Hospitals

LANSING — Democratic State Chairman Zolton Ferency has protested a plan by Gov. George Romney seeking to qualify two competing hospitals in Monroe for federal aid.

Ferency made the protest in a letter to Anthony Celebrezze, secretary of health, education and welfare.

Romney has proposed a change in State Health Department policy in an attempt to qualify the two hospitals for some $1 million in funds.

Ferency said that the health department's policy regarding federal funds has been to build only a single adequate-sized hospital in smaller communities, "to avoid the waste of public funds inherent in unnecessary duplication of expensive facilities and overbuilding."

The Monroe hospitals involved are the Mercy Hospital, a Roman Catholic project, and the Monroe Memorial Hospital, a private community facility. They engaged in a fund-raising race several years ago and are now approximately half completed.

Ferency said the Michigan Health Department has indicated that only one 2,000-bed hospital can receive federal assistance in Monroe.

Former Senator Dies
DETROIT — William Hale, 57, of New Boston, was killed today in a one-car accident in Huron Township. Police said Hale's car failed to negotiate a curve, ran off the road and overturned.

To Discontinue 2 Programs for Lack of Pupil Demand

WHITE LAKE TOWNSHIP—students benefit from the programs.

The board announced tentative plans to discontinue two programs in industrial arts and homemaking effective the end of the 1962-63 school year. The board cited five reasons for the decision:

- Only a small number of students benefit from the programs.

- Equipment stands idle three hours per day.
- Size of classes is small when compared to academic subjects.
- Adequate facilities are lacking.
- More efficient and beneficial utilization of space can be found.

Church Plans Lent Worship and Supper

TROY — Guest speaker at the Big Beaver Methodist Church's Lenten devotional meeting Wednesday will be Rev. Roger Arnett, minister to the handicapped of the Ann Arbor District.

The 7 p.m. worship hour, at which Rev. Arnett will speak, will be preceded by a fellowship supper at 6:15 p.m.

Rev. Arnett was ordained in 1957. Although confined to a wheelchair for 25 years, he has devoted much time to aiding other handicapped persons. Presently, his work takes him to many nursing homes and residents of senior citizens.

Anyone interested in hearing Rev. Arnett is welcome to attend.

Art Tour Plans to Be Made

ROCHESTER — Plans for a spring art tour will be discussed at Wednesday's 8 p.m. meeting of the Rochester Branch of American Association of University Women.

Those attending the session, to be conducted in the home economics room of the high school, will also begin preparation of a May luncheon.

500 Music Students to Present Song Fete

ROCHESTER—Some 500 music students from Rochester Community Schools will participate in the "Festival of Song" tomorrow night. The event is sponsored by the vocal music department.

Included in the program will be "The Green Cathedral" sung by the Central Junior High School chorus and selections from "The Sound of Music" sung by students from North Hill and McGregor schools.

The presentation will be concluded with all 500 students joining in Ralph Williams' "American Panorama."

Time for the song festival is 8 p.m. at Rochester High School.

SUZANNE D. AIRY

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Airy, 2942 Stuart St., Southfield, announce the engagement of their daughter Suzanne Dorothy to Billy Edward Howard Jr. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Billy E. Howard Sr., 10290 Mill Road, Commerce Township.

College Groups to Sing, Play Sacred Music

ROCHESTER — The First Congregational Church here will present the Olivet College Choral Ensemble and Chamber Orchestra in a concert of sacred music at 8 p.m. tomorrow.

To be staged in the church sanctuary, the program will feature the choral ensemble in four selections, including the difficult "Hosanna Pomial," by Lovelock.

Five presentations by the orchestra will be highlighted by the melodious "Folk Song Suite" by Ralph Vaughan Williams.

The combined groups will perform renditions of Brahms' "Joy, Lovely is Thy Dwelling Place," and the "Gloria Patri" by Haydn.

Dies as Car Overturns

DETROIT — James A. Burns, a member of the Wayne County Civil Service Commission and former state senator, died yesterday at the age of 44.

AREA NEWS

New Trustees Assume Duties

Rochester Council Sets Regular Session

ROCHESTER — The three new Village Council trustees will participate in their first regular meeting tonight, with election of officers scheduled as main item on the agenda.

Trustees elected in the March 11 balloting were Kenneth C. Van Nocker, 411 Wilcox St.; James McCarthy, 583 Romeo Road; and John O'Donnell, 1218 Sycamore St., plus incumbents John Boberitz and Roy Revold, present village president.

Council members will choose a president and president protem at tonight's meeting. Also expected is reappointment of Village Manager Paul York, Clerk Maxine Ross and Attorney Arthur Cox.

The oath of office was taken by the three new councilmen at a brief special meeting March 14.

Although not on the agenda, the questions of rezoning and urban renewal may be introduced by any of the council members.

Beginning at 7:30 p.m., the council will convene in its chambers in the new Municipal Building.

PTA to Present Skits at Commerce School

COMMERCE — The Commerce Elementary School PTA will present social guide drama skits at tonight's meeting in the school's multipurpose room.

Parents may visit the classrooms and teachers at 7:30 p.m. The program, presented by the Clifford Smart Drama Club at 8 p.m., will consist of two skits, "High IQ, Low Ambition" and "Everybody's Got One," Howard Chenoweth, father vice president will moderate.

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

In one hemorrhoid case after another "very striking improvement" was reported and verified by a doctor's observations. Pain was relieved promptly. And, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction or retraction (shrinkage) took place. And most amazing of all — this improvement was maintained in cases where a doctor's observations were continued over a period of many months. In fact, results were so thorough that sufferers were able to make such astonishing statements as "Piles have ceased to be a problem!" And among these sufferers were a very wide variety of hemorrhoid conditions, some of 10 to 20 years' standing. All this, without the use of narcotics, anesthetics or astringents of any kind. The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne) — the discovery of a world-famous research institution. Already, Bio-Dyne is in wide use for healing injured tissue on all parts of the body.

This new healing substance is offered in suppository or ointment form called Preparation H. Ask for individually sealed convenient Preparation H Suppositories or Preparation H Ointment with Special Applicator. Preparation H is sold at all drug counters.

TCU Coed Shot

Police Probe Mystery Murder

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Sheriff's wife left for Arizona Wednesday investigators hope an autopsy report today will shed more light on the slaying of Jane Langdon, 21-year-old daughter of a Texas judge.

The body of the Texas Christian University senior from Fort Worth was found Saturday by target shooters in a prospectors' cave north of Phoenix. She had been shot to death.

Although fully clad in outer garments, her underclothing was missing. Officers think she may have been attacked sexually.

Here's what officers have pieced together:
Judge Jack Langdon and his

was to join them Thursday at a Phoenix hotel.

Wednesday night, Miss Langdon was taken to the Dallas airport by Willis Murphey, a dental student at Baylor and her steady boy friend.

She arrived in Phoenix at 2:52 a.m. and took a car to Los Olivos Lodge, where she made two phone calls in the lobby. One was to the cab company. Officers don't know who the second call went to.

Another cab took her to the Cadillac Apartments where her mother had rented an apartment up to the time the operation was scheduled. The taxi left her and her luggage there about 4 a.m.

LAST TIME SEEN

That was the last seen of her until two young men and a boy found her body. The luggage still is missing.

Capt. Ralph Edmundson said it appeared Miss Langdon had been shot once in the head and twice in the stomach.

Officers said indications were she had been forced to walk to the tunnel where she was slain. Her purse, empty except for her driver's license, was found nearby. Her bracelet and ring were not disturbed.

Judge Langdon told officers his daughter possibly went to the hotel and the apartment because she forgot the name of the hotel where she had reservations and knew the other two locations from previous trips to Phoenix.

Langdon and his wife were awaiting their daughter at the downtown hotel, but never received a call.

The father said he "never felt so helpless" in his life.

"I can't think of any motive other than sex or sadism," he said.

Langdon said his wife, who is recovering from the operation, was told yesterday of her daughter's death.

"So far as I know, she's doing as well as can be expected," he added.

Langdon is a judge of the Second Civil Court of Appeals in Texas. His daughter was a debutante in Fort Worth in '61.

Boy Dies in Flames, but Family Escapes

MARSHALL, Mo. — An 8-year-old boy, Ronald Steven Gordon, died yesterday in a fire which destroyed his one-story brick home on the northern outskirts of Marshall. Flames and smoke turned back would-be rescuers.

Mrs. Kenneth Gordon, and a brother, Gerald, escaped, along with 10-year-old Bruce Grable, a neighbor who was spending the night with Ronald.

Ronald's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gordon, and also suffered first degree burns, but was reported in good condition at a hospital. He was snatched from the burning home by a Marshall policeman who broke a picture window and reached through for him.

Building Nest? Not He; So She Takes a Flier

TENTERDEN, England (UPI) — Annette Cladd, 18, was scheduled to get married Saturday but backed out at the last minute when she found her fiancé, Jonathan Knobb, had not been saying his penitential prayer.

"Jonathan promised me he had been saving since last July. When I found out it was not true I told him that the wedding was off," she said.

Man and Space

U.S. Preparation for Moon Is Epical

By ALVIN B. WEBB JR.
CAPE CANAVERAL (UPI)—The time is early morning. On a towering platform stand three men, their silvery suits sparkling in the chill glow of brilliant spotlights. Ahead of them is a metal walkway.
"T-minus-240 minutes and counting!" The stark monotone voice from the countdown box never seems to change, no matter what the day or the occasion. The figures on the platform move.
The walkway is 68 feet long. For the three men now striding across, it becomes that "longest walk" when the mind fills with thoughts of titanic and trivial, rolling one upon another.
Simply add the eerie background music, and the entire scene would seem like something out of an awesome science fiction movie. The difference is that this is science fact — it will be, hopefully, in another five years or so.

The three men will be astronauts and their goal will be to land on the moon. This is how that epic flight will start. (There could be minor variations, such as a midday launching. Most people here prefer to think it would take place at night.)
It is easy to predict the scene will be breathtaking. The 8-foot walkway will lead into the top of the Saturn 5 towering more than 300 feet above the ground — a rocket so tall that four Atlas missiles stacked one upon the other could not reach its top.
MOON SYMBOL
The monstrous Saturn 5 is the very symbol of the man-to-the-moon project. There is nothing small about project Apollo.
There is the cost — at least $20 billion. About 10 times the cost of the World War II crash program to build the first atomic bomb.
There is the manpower that the Federal Space Agency's Roc-

co Petrone, one of the sharpest men in the business, said would involve "the most extensive concentration of the nation's scientific and technical talent ever devoted to a single undertaking."
And there is the gigantic dream itself, now beginning to take on reality amid the swamps and sands and scrub brush on the north and east edges of Cape Canaveral — the launching facilities for the moonflights.
Nearly everything will be figuratively and physically a superlative. Petrone, in one of the most detailed outlines ever presented of the Apollo launch operations plan, describes some of the more immense:
The vertical assembly building where the Saturn 5 will be put together, will rise 524 feet, far and away the tallest building in Florida if not in the southern United States.
—An umbilical tower, 350 feet tall, for servicing the rocket and Apollo capsule will make earlier towers look like matchsticks.
—A crawler-transporter weighing 5½ million pounds and driven by two diesel generators providing 5,000 horsepower will carry the entire rocket from the assembly building to the firing area at a top speed of one mile per hour.

MOST POWERFUL
When the astronauts reach the end of that walkway, they will step aboard the most powerful piece of space machinery ever built. It will be filled with liquid oxygen and hydrogen, high-grade kerosene and nitrogen tetroxide — all explosive.
The Saturn 5 will leave the ground with about 5.4 million pounds of fuel aboard — enough to blow a good-sized hole in Cape Canaveral or anywhere else.
The unsung part of America's program to put men on the moon is the part that will stay right here on the ground. The engineering that must go into it puts the Egyptian pyramids, Hoover Dam, and earlier "marvels" in the tinier-toy class.
Petrone, in something of an understatement, calls it "an extremely challenging technical program compressed into a specified time limit."

The time limit is about five years, and if that seems like a long time, just recall how much an impossibility those comparatively simple manned orbital flights of today seemed in 1958 — five years ago. Things change fast.

Junior Editors Quiz on VITAMINS

QUESTION: Where do vitamins come from?

ANSWER: Vitamins are complicated substances important to us because, as our picture suggests, they help to give that feeling of well being which makes us want to jump just for the fun of it. Also shown in the picture are some of the foods which provide these vitamins.

Experts in nutrition speak of two general kinds of vitamins: those which dissolve in fat, and those dissolving in water. "Vitamin A" is an important fat-soluble vitamin, which we get by eating carrots, milk, sweet potatoes, spinach, egg yolk, liver and green and yellow vegetables. It helps in growth because it builds body cells.

About 15 vitamins which dissolve in water are called, as a group, the "Vitamin B Complex." These contain important substances such as thiamine, riboflavin and niacin, all needed in our bodies to keep them working well. Many of the foods we eat give us these and other important vitamins.

Doctors have found out a great many things about vitamins and often prescribe special ones for certain of their patients who may need them.

Manufacturers extract vitamins from various substances and make them into pills or capsules. These may be used, when necessary, to supplement or add to the vitamins people take in when they eat regular food.

FOR YOU TO DO: Jumping is good sport. Try yourself out on the running long jump, standing broad jump and the high jump. Set a record; then try to keep beating it.

By Famed Originator

Fashion, Art Combined

By JEANMARIE ELKINS

To Mr. John P. John the world of fine art and the world of custom fashion are indistinguishable. Mr. John is internationally recognized as one of the world's leading fashion originators as well as a famous artist and painter.

His "Beautiful Boucher Collection" for spring and summer 1963 were inspired by works of the 18th century painter, Francois Boucher. Boucher, one of the most popular painters of his day, was officially appointed court painter for King Louis XV.

"La Mode" shows milan straw in burnished gold forming a dome crown which is gently tucked into a perk, tightly rolled brim. A silk grosgrain bow of deep cool green underscores this hat

Mr. John features a full line for both men and women including hats, shoes, dresses, sweaters, and even make-up and perfume.

Individualized fashions are the keynote of the fabulous white, gold and crystal royal palace of custom fashion on New York's exclusive 57th Street.

Mr. John's approach is the

truly creative one-of-a-kind custom designs 'with their main purpose making individual women distinctively attractive in a very personal way.

Within the 1963 spring and summer collection any woman may find an Easter hat, not only to complement her new outfit but her whole personality.

All of the Mr. John hats pictured are available locally or may be ordered.

"Joyeuse" will highlight summer evenings with a crown of French blue, clear blue minute silk asters and petite blue roses in shades of rich pink, all bowed in clear blue silk and topped with Mr. John's newest veiling.

"Individuelle" features a sleek sombrero silhouette in burnished gold with a slightly tapered crown draped in silk tones of gold, clear blue, spring green and matte white complemented by its matching scarf. In the $22.50 to $39.50 price range.

Mood Set for Murder by Birmingham Players

A "chiller-diller" with two murders, one attempted murder and one attempted suicide in three acts is the choice of The Village Players of Birmingham for the next open show.

"Design for Murder," a whodunit whose director, Mrs. Howard J. Thomsen, jokes that even the cast doesn't know whodunit, opens of Avondale Road portrays the role of Celia. It was originally performed by Tallah Bankhead when George Batson's play opened several years ago on Broadway.

Friday at the Chestnut Street Playhouse. Mrs. John A. Gilray Jr. It will be repeated at 9 p.m. Saturday and again the following weekend, April 5 and 6.

Others in the cast are Ben Benson, William A. Seaback, Mrs. Kenneth Barnes, Mrs. Edward S. Reid Jr., Mrs. William H. Spinning, Francis J. Matousek, Mrs. Edward P. Walter, Vivian Ross and Howard Thomsen.

The "Design for Murder" mood is set by the scene, a huge old New York mansion on a cliff overlooking the Hudson River.

Bloomfield Farms Garden Club is sponsoring the opening night performance.

Special refreshments will be served to players Saturday night.

Working backstage are: Mrs. William E. Kegel, Warren Hersey, Maro W. Arthur, Mrs. Ralph Detweiler, Mrs. Frank N. Mosher, Mrs. Jack Gaffill, Paul N. Averill, Gordon F. Jeaynes, and Mrs. Robert Henry. Tickets are available at Grinnell's in Birmingham.

Mizpah Sets Benefit Sale

Members of Mizpah Temple No. 7 Pythian Sisters, completed plans for a March 30 benefit sale Thursday evening in Fellowship Lodge Hall. Mrs. Gene Allan is chairman of the project.

Mrs. William H. Vance suggested projects to be considered by the temple. Mrs. Fred Wheeler summarized plans for the convention of District No. 8, Pythian Sisters of Michigan, April 16 in the Elks Temple, Pontiac.

Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. H. Delos Nichol and Mrs. Harry H. Pattison.

Tell Son's Birth

Mrs. and Mr. Gerald Curry (Wilma Pfahler) of Jefferson Drive, are the parents of a son born March 12 at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital.

100-Year Asset

His Wife Will Be Tickled

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I grew a beard for the Piedmont, Mo., centennial in 1965. I got the prize for the longest beard in town. I also had a beautiful mustache which measured 7 1/2 inches long. After the celebration I shaved my face clean. Everyone told me I should have kept the mustache. My wife especially. I am starting to grow one again, but I don't know how to shape it.

Is there a book of pictures showing different styles and shapes of mustaches? I'm pretty good with a straight-edge razor. Does any place still sell mustache wax?

DEAR F. W. M.: Ask the best barber in town to shape your mustache the first time, then follow his line. (He'll know which style suits you best.) Mustache wax can be found in drug stores. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: How does a girl know what to order on a date? For instance, last night, after a school dance (not formal), three of us couples went out to eat.

I don't know how much money my date had and I didn't want to take a chance on embarrassing him, so I said I wasn't very hungry and all I wanted was coffee.

My date ordered himself a shrimp cocktail, steak sandwich, French fries and a sundae. The other kids ordered the same. What should I have done?

THE CONSIDERATE ONE
DEAR CONSIDERATE: Before ordering you should have asked your date for a suggestion. Or, "What do YOU feel like? Even after having ordered coffee and everyone else had ordered extravagantly, you could have said: 'I've changed my mind. I'll have the same.'"

have enough luck Saturday and is a runnerup.

The Pontiac Women's Bowling Association's largest annual city tournament concluded this past weekend at Howe's Lanes with four new champions and many individual awards captured.

"My son gave me this hickey nut for good luck just before I left today, Mrs. O'Roark said after she had teamed with Mrs. Miller for the 1,306 doubles performance that proved to be best in the tournament.

Seven-year-old Todd Michael O'Roark's good luck charm and perhaps a little Irish good fortune left over from St. Patrick's day held up for the two as one more squad took to the lanes after their efforts but no duo could muster sufficient pins to unseat them.

NEAR MISS
The team events Saturday saw Manville Manufacturing have a good shot at grabbing first place away from Betty Wallaces First team, but all three pins shy of the leaders.

Manville actually had the pins it needed to win but an unfortunate team member let her foot slip across the foul line on a strike delivery, nullifying her 10 count.

The First Federal team led from the second weekend of the four week tournament in grabbling off the $100 first prize and trophies with a 2,650 count.

Of the more than 175 teams that competed on the four Saturdays, Manville bowled the high actual series, a 2,538 performance; and the Master Service Cleaners squad had the best team game, a 1,063 effort.

HOPING — Myra Miller (left) and Norma O'Roark bowled a 1,306 doubles series yesterday at the 30th annual City tournament and then had to wait while one more squad had a shot at their leading mark. Their luck was good and they won $85 plus trophies for first place.
