Ad Company Sees City Becoming Cog in Large Metropolis

By GEORGE T. TRUMBULL JR.

Take several large cities—such as Pontiac, Detroit, Flint and Lansing—scramble them together with superhighways, shopping centers and suburbs, and you come up with "Interurbia — The Changing Face of America."

The yearning of Mr. and Mrs. America to "move to the country" must be sprinkled into this new dish of living trends.

Some 200 members of Pontiac area service clubs learned yesterday they are slowly becoming a part of 14 Interurbia regions in the country.

This was made known to them by representatives of the Detroit advertising company of J. Walter Thompson. The company presented its hour - long colored film strip presentation of "Interurbia — The Changing Face of America."

The showing and luncheon was sponsored by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce.

Just what is Interurbia? "It can be likened to a bunch of eggs being scrambled in a frying pan, with the yolks representing the large core city and the white being the suburbs," the men and women at the Elks Temple were told.

It was forecast by the company that one such Interurbia will consist of Pontiac, Detroit, Lansing, Flint, Toledo, and someday, Cleveland.

To show the tremendous size and importance of Interurbias, company narrators said one-half the population of the United States, according to the 1950 census, lives in these Interurbias.

The residents there provide for one-half the retail sales also.

Looking to the future, in the year 1975, 60 per cent of the country's population and 75 per cent of retail sales will be centered in Interurbias, it was estimated.

"And the present 14 Interurbias," said Irving H. MacKenzie, company vice president and Bloomfield Hills resident, "cover only 46 per cent of the country's land area."

The vast majority of these combination large city-small city networks exist in the East and Midwest today.

The company presents the film on a 16-foot screen to interested groups. "It provides a challenge for the economist, sociologist and marketer," exclaimed MacKenzie.

"This growing explosion of central cities out into their suburbs was never realized when it should have been because of poor forecasters of America's fabulous growth," he added.

They failed to predict the growing population, auto boom, building and suburb development.

"One developer suggested a court of apartments where families would live by cycles. "One for children, a second for newlyweds, a third for growing families, and a fourth for old folks so they can live out their lives as baby sitters for the cycles they passed."

The development of Interurbias will definitely spur on the automobile industry, it was predicted. Cars and more cars will be needed to transport families to and from these growing areas.

"With this new way of life will come problems," said MacKenzie, "but more important there will come opportunities."

France Delays Reform Vote

Assembly May Deny Drastic Power Asked by Pflimlin

From Our Wires

PARIS—The Steering Committee of the French National Assembly decided today to put off until Tuesday a crucial assembly vote on Premier Pierre Pflimlin's call for drastic constitutional reforms.

The delay, observers said, could be fatal for Pflimlin and perhaps for civil government in the shaky Fourth Republic. Authorities feared that right-wing extremists, using the magic name of Gen. Charles de Gaulle, would incite mob action in Paris which might bring the premier down.

Pflimlin was given less than an even chance of getting the powers he asked in order to strengthen the executive. They are about the same powers demanded by De Gaulle and implicitly refused by Parliament.

The premier was expected to spend the weekend in trying to win support for his plan on Tuesday.

Meanwhile, what amounts to a revolutionary government for Algeria was set up today in defiance of Paris. It was established by a civilian-military junta set up here last week.

There seems little doubt that a full-scale government is blooming here. Officials proclaim they intend to run their own show despite any attempted interference "from those idots in Paris." They demand Gen. De Gaulle.

Nike Base Blast That Killed Ten Investigated

Eight Fully Armed Rockets Exploded in New Jersey—Why?

MIDDLETOWN, N.J. (AP)—Investigators searched a Nike base near here today in an effort to learn what caused eight fully armed missiles to blow up in a furious mushroom of fire and death.

The explosion yesterday killed 10 persons and scattered explosive warheads across a wide area of the countryside.

The disaster, described by a general as an accident that could not happen but did, was set off by a single missile that exploded.

A split-second chain reaction turned the entire area into a flaming pit of destruction that one eye-witness called horrible beyond belief.

Mangled bodies and fragments lay strewn about where a moment before men had stood. The disintegration of the victims made it difficult to establish identities of all.

Three others were injured, one seriously.

The dead included six soldiers and four civilians.

None of the victims was from Michigan.

Two servicemen in a 20-foot-deep pit under a missile's launching pad miraculously survived the holocaust.

STEPS OUT UNHURT

Staff Sgt. Joseph W. McKenzie, 33, a launcher section chief from Framingham, Mass., stepped from the pit unhurt. His partner, Pfc. Joseph Abott, 24, Grindstone, Pa., was treated for shock and hysteria.

The missiles, known as the Ajax type, exploded at about 1:20 p.m. while a team of experts was working on them. They were to be replaced next year by Hercules missiles capable of carrying atomic warheads.

Each of the Ajax missiles carried three conventional warheads

3 County Batteries Using Ajax Nikes

Oakland County has three Nike batteries, all part of the 18th AAA Missile Battalion of the 28th AAA Group. The three, equipped with the Ajax missile which carries the conventional warhead, are located in Auburn Heights, Commerce Township and Southfield.

The first one to locate in the county was the one in Auburn Heights. The site was completed in 1955.

Nike Base Chief Narrates Havoc

'. . . I Saw Everything Blowing Up . . . Nothing We Could Do . . .'

(Here is an eyewitness account of the Middletown Nike Base explosion which killed ten men, injured three and left one unaccounted for. It is told by the commander of the base.)

By FIRST LT. ROBERT F. DALY of Flint, Michigan

MIDDLETOWN, N. J. (INS) — I was in the missile assembly building 200 feet away from the launching pads when I heard the explosion.

At the same time, the windows were sucked out of the building and debris began flying in all directions.

Warrant Officer Gilbert Sieger, who was standing next to me, was hit with flying debris. As I ran out of the building toward the launcher I saw everything in the area blowing up or burning.

Missiles and equipment were exploding. I notified the fire and emergency squad and we got in as close to the explosion as we could. I yelled for some of the men in the area and we began to loiter missiles in two other launching pads to get them back underground before they went up.

My men succeeded in getting five other missiles, which had 15 warheads, back into the storage revetments.

I then ordered all the personnel in the area to clear out. There was nothing we could do for the casualties because we had no big fire fighting equipment on the base.

County Board Sets Tentative Tax Rate

A tentative county tax rate of $5.75 per $1.000 of assessed valuation today was set by the Oakland County Tax Allocation Board. It represents a 75-cent hike over the 1958 rate.

William J. Emerson, chairman of the board, said members were still in session in settling upon rates for 20 townships and 31 school districts. He said he expected this to be completed this afternoon.

Another rate — $9.25 — was set this morning, along with the tentative county rate, for city school districts not having township territory, such as Royal Oak and Ferndale.

The establishment of the $5.75 county rate means that tax allocations for 1958-59 for townships and school districts having township territory must be divided between the remaining $9.25 under the 15-mill limitation set by law.

Stockholders Get Optimistic Report

Curtice Rates GM High in Competition for Sales

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—General Motors President Harlow H. Curtice told GM stockholders today the company is "enjoying the best competitive position in our history" despite a sales and earning slump.

Curtice, addressing some 2,000 shareholders at GM's 50th annual stockholders meeting, said a comparison of GM's earnings with those of other companies was extremely favorable.

"Public preference for our automotive products at the retail level is the highest ever," Curtice said.

On the basis of current production schedules, Curtice said GM's factory sales for the first six months ending June 30 "will be slightly better than 80 per cent of unit sales for the first six months of 1957."

He said the current slump in new car sales was a normal result of the general economic decline and was not due to the auto industry's products or prices.

On the increased sales of imported cars, Curtice said "the demand for foreign cars has received magnified attention because the rise in their sales has happened to coincide with the recession-induced drop in sales of the American product."

SEES RISE IN SALES

He said it "is much too early to assess the market for all of our products for the last half of 1958" but an improvement in passenger car sales in the fourth quarter can

Troops Ruling Panama City

General Strike Called by Rebellious Students; 8 Persons Killed

PANAMA (AP) — Tough National Guard troops ruled Panama City today as President Ernesto de la Guardia Jr. grappled with a general strike called by rebellious students.

A large student group was holed up inside the National University after a day of rioting in which gunfire killed eight persons, three of them teenage students. Another 61 persons were wounded.

The three National Guard chiefs the students want kicked out ran the country under a state of siege — modified martial law.

But this did not prevent the strike from getting under way. The first to walk out at midnight were printers at three morning newspapers, El Dia, the Star-Herald and its Spanish edition La Estrella.

The riots grew out of student complaints over school conditions and resentment over the killing of a student in an earlier demonstration.

Student bands armed with iron clubs, sticks and rocks roamed the city yesterday and the guardsmen went into action with tear gas.

Traffic in Panama city was tied up by a bus strike.

Except for some disturbance in Colon, the port on the Caribbean side, the rest of this Central American country also was reported quiet yesterday.

Warmer Tonight; High Tomorrow 72

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicts fair tonight but not quite so cool with the low about 45. The thermometer registered 39 degrees at 5 a.m. Yesterday's high was 69.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and warmer. The high will reach around 72.

For the next five days temperatures will average about three or four degrees below the normal high of 72 and the normal low of 51. Saturday's forecast is warmer.

A little cooler is the prediction for Sunday and Monday and warmer Tuesday and Wednesday. Precipitation will total around one fourth inch in showers Saturday night and again about Tuesday or Wednesday.

The lowest temperature in downtown Pontiac preceding 8 a.m. was 39 degrees. The reading was 62 at 2 p.m.

UAW Refuses to Extend Pacts for Two Years

Union Chief Declares He'll Continue to Battle for Profit Sharing

From Our Wires

DETROIT — United Auto Workers President Walter P. Reuther today flatly refused to extend UAW contracts with the big three of the auto industry for another two years and said his union's original demands still are on the bargaining table.

Reuther also told a special conference of 600 union delegates at Detroit that "we are not dropping the profit sharing plan."

The conference was closed to newsmen but Reuther disclosed his views to reporters after the session.

Reuther said definite strategy decisions on what workers will do if there are no settlements next week are to be made later today at separate sessions of General Motors, Ford and Chrysler union councils.

"I am certain," he said, "they are not going to accept the present contracts."

Reuther accused the companies of failing to bargain on the union demands. He said there are problems that cannot be deferred for two years. He said they include unemployment among auto workers, improved pensions for retirees, and special benefits for workers displaced by shifting of plants.

"We are determined," he said, "to find the answers to these problems at the bargaining table."

Asked if he thought the companies had an obligation to keep plants open if no settlements are

Agencies Move Fast on Control of Air Lanes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Federal agencies moved today to put into quick operation emergency rules aimed at preventing any more collisions between swift military jets and civilian aircraft.

President Eisenhower yesterday ordered a five-point program, pending a long-range air safety plan expected to be ready in about three months. Some emergency rules will become effective within a few days.

Eisenhower's orders went to Lt. Gen. Elwood R. (Pete) Quesda, a retired Air Force officer who heads the President's Air Coordinating Committee.

Eisenhower's emergency orders were issued after he had conferred with members of a House Appropriations subcommittee.

REFINERY ABLAZE — Explosions and a fire at a Hancock Oil Co. refinery on Signal Hill in Long Beach, Calif., send clouds of smoke billowing into the air. The scene is about three miles northeast of downtown Long Beach, near the Municipal Airport.

2 Die So Far; Fight to Save California Town

Oil Fire Running Wild!

SIGNAL HILL, Calif. (INS) — Weary firemen, faced with the twin threat of diminishing water pressure and new explosions, today gave up hope of extinguishing the Signal Hill oil conflagration.

The multi-million-dollar blaze at the Hancock Oil Company refinery has claimed at least two lives and has turned the oil-rich refinery into a fiery volcano of erupting storage tanks.

Firemen concentrated their attention on an 80,000-barrel tank which threatens to collapse loosing a river of flame into Signal Hill's Temple street.

County battalion fire chief Noel Manchester said:

"We are not trying to put out the fire. We can't!

"All we can hope to do is keep it contained within the refinery bounds and let it burn itself out."

Police radios broadcast a warning to all units that falling water pressure in the hose lines had reached "dangerous levels."

The blazing oil engulfed some 50 cars. Two men were known to be dead.

Those killed were identified as James W. Edwards, 66, a pump superintendent who was only a week away from retirement, and Woody Langford of Los Alamitos.

Co-workers said Edwards died because he stayed at his post, shut-

Pioneer Marks 100 Years of Living

Today graciously rounding out the century mark is Miss Ella M. Green, who for over 70 years has lived at 217 North Saginaw St.

She comes from the most substantial Oakland County pioneer stock. She was born in Farmington on May 23, 1858, where her father, Jarvis J. Green, also was born. Her mother was the former Elizabeth Harger, scion of prominent Waterford pioneers.

A Farmington merchant at the time of her birth, her father moved his family to Pontiac in 1867, and for 27 years was a well known mercantile figure here. Most of that time his store was in the Millis Block at 38 North Saginaw St.

For over three-quarters of a century Miss Green has been prominently affiliated with the civic and social life of Pontiac.

She was a charter member of the Ladies' Library Association, which built the City Library, and has had a hand in much of the work that has made Pontiac a better city.

She still maintains her interest in public affairs, and is a keen observer of events of the day.

Pair Seek Nomination for State Legislature in Aug. 5 Vote

Two lawyers today announced their candidacy on the Democratic ticket for Oakland County Districts 1 and 4 in the State Legislature in the Aug. 5 primary election.

James Clarkson, 33, of 23525 Valley View Rd., Southfield, filed nominating petitions for the District 4 post now held by Rep. Theodore F. Hughes, Berkley Republican.

Clarkson, a Detroit lawyer, was an unsuccessful candidate for the same state representative seat in 1956.

Announcing he would seek his first elective position in District 1 was Wallace D. McLay, 35, of 2066 Watkins Lake Rd., Waterford Township.

McLay, a former Democratic precinct delegate from Birmingham, will be vying for the representative post now occupied by incumbent Lloyd L. Anderson.

Anderson has announced he will seek another two-year term, but Hughes has not disclosed his plans.

District 1 comprises 14 northern county townships while District 4 is made up of Lyon, Novi, Farmington, Southfield Townships, and Berkley and Oak Park.

be expected "as a result of the stimulus of new models."

Curtice said GM would liquidate its 1958 cars and avoid a carryover into the 1959 model year "even if passenger car sales at retail continue at a level no higher than the current annual rate."

"Looking ahead, we have nothing but optimism for our own future and for the future of our country," he said.

Curtice said GM has received letters from many employes endorsing the company's proposal to extend its current contract with the United Auto Workers Union for two years.

"We are hopeful that the union leadership will have the statesmanship to recognize that acceptance of our offer will bring about two more years of industrial peace and contribute importantly to economic recovery," he said.

Albert Bradley, GM board chairman, said the number of GM shareholders has grown from 355 when the firm was organized in 1908 to more than 739,000 this year.

reached on contract termination, Reuther said he thought they did. He added, "We prefer to sign a new contract by the normal terminal date."

Reuther said that in the absence of a settlement the union favored extending the contract on a day-to-day basis. He said temporary working possibilities would be considered by the separate councils.

Asked what union strategy would be, Reuther said, "There are many ways to skin a cat."

Reuther was asked how much the companies would have to sweeten their offers to satisfy the union. He replied, "Enough."

In Washington, Sen. Irving Ives (R-NY) predicted today the Senate Labor Committee will draft "stronger" union reforms than have been advocated by AFL-CIO President George Meany and other leaders of organized labor.

Ives emphasized, however, that the legislation, expected to be written in subcommittee next week, will be "moderate."

300 at Dinner-Meeting of Area Scouts Council

By JOE HAAS

The annual meeting and dinner of Clinton Valley Council of the Boy Scouts of America at Farmington high school Thursday evening was attended by 300.

The council includes most of the area of Oakland and Macomb Counties, with 13,139 boys as members the past year, and 4,056 commissioned adults also engaged in the work.

John W. Hunt of Farmington was re-elected president for the coming year. Other officers chosen were: Vice Presidents, D.B. Eames of Pontiac, Frank Chapman of Rochester, Ray D. Baker of Green Lake, and William Miller of Mt. Clemens; Treasurer, Stanley J. Filkins of Sylvan Lake, and Commissioner, Kenneth Sanderson of Westacres.

JOHN W. HUNT

Recipients of the Silver Beaver, the highest award that can be made by a local council were: A. J. Stilwell of Cass Lake, Harvey L. Beach of Lake Orion, and Lee Fultz of Center Line.

The annual report of Executive Secretary Edward H. Leland showed that during the past year 28 boys in the council achieved the top Eagle rank, and 2,038 merit badges were earned.

The new Northwoods Camp on the AuSable River was acquired, 90 boys from the council attended the National Jamboree at Valley Forge, 35 new packs, troops and explorers were chartered, and the four districts within the council each held shows. Camp Agawam's privileges were enjoyed for a week or more by over 1,000 scouts.

At the dinner Willard H. Wells presented a resume of accomplishments in the council's 40 years. There was singing by the 36 "Automobelles" of the Sweet Adeline Society of Detroit.

Miss Patricia Sullivan of Walkerville, Ont., talked on the recent World Jamboree, and President Hunt explained some current projects in the council which was awarded a citation at the recent National Council meeting.

Mrs. Herbert Watson, widow of the former local scout executive secretary, was presented with a testimonial award, and Thomas and David Bell, Orchard Lake scouts, were given life saving awards.

of explosives and shrapnel. Most of the explosive devices were accounted for, but some had still not been located today.

Ordinance experts found that all of the eight missiles had left the launching area, flying various distances.

One spent itself harmlessly in open terrain after an unguided flight for two miles over populated areas.

A 12-foot section of one missile landed in a backyard three-quarters of a mile away.

HORRIBLE SCENE

Patrolman Daniel Murdoch, one of the first at the scene, told of "the horror of seeing men, their bodies still afire, and the head of at least one of the men blown away by the force of the explosion."

The Army flew in three inspectors from the office of the chief of ordnance in Washington to investigate the explosion. What set it off may never be known.

Residents of this area had protested in vain against erection of the installation 18 months ago. The Army had told the public no such accident was possible and that the missiles would only be fired in case of war.

Windows were shattered and doors blown in a mile or more from the explosion scene. One woman was blown out of a chair in the living room of her home.

The Ajax, about 32 feet long and a foot in diameter, weighs about a ton and is designed to bring down enemy aircraft at altitudes of up to 60,000 feet. It has a range of 15 miles.

The base here is one of a number that ring the New York metropolitan area from New Jersey on the west to Long Island on the east.

The Army assured residents of Nike-protected cities throughout the U. S. today that there is practically no chance of another blast such as this one.

He has a year's eligibility at Kansas.

ting off valves, until it was impossible for him to escape.

Apparently only one man was injured. He was treated for a burned leg.

The blaze, which started yesterday, was given new fuel on which to feed last night when a 80,000-barrel tank and two 10,000-barrels caught fire.

Flames soared 600 feet into the air and lit up the night with daylight-like brilliance.

So far the flames have spread to 18 of the 60 tanks making up the refinery's tank farm. Firemen said the others appear to be safe unless there are more explosions like the thunderous blasts that occurred when the fire began, rocking the entire area.

Long Beach Fire Chief William R. Mendehall said:

"The fire probably will burn all day and perhaps longer, until all the oil is done."

Only after the fire has been put out will it be possible to determine how many were killed.

A co-worker who escaped on his motorcycle "not more than two feet" in front of the blazing oil told of how Langford met death.

He said:

"I saw Woody get to his car and he had his hand on the door when the car's gas tank blew up — probably from the heat.

"The explosion tore the door off and it hit him, knocking him down into the burning oil. He got up and ran but he fell again."

EVACUATE HOSPITAL

The Long Beach General Hospital, half a mile away, was evacuated due to the fire danger and because it became enshrouded in gas and smoke. The more than 400 patients were transferred to hospitals in Los Angeles, San Pedro, and other portions of Long Beach.

Men working in a pipe yard across the street from the refinery saw the start of the fire.

They said they saw steam rising from the top of an 80,000-barrel tank. Then the tank began to bulge and cracked on top.

Ray Churchill said:

"Hot oil started pouring out in a flood and must have run for 10 minutes with no fire. Then there was a terrific explosion and fire began pouring out of the tank as the top blew off."

Flames shot 500 feet into the air as flames fed on the oil. Smoke billowed some 5000 feet into the air and could be seen more than 40 miles away, in Chatsworth to the northwest.

The flames sucked up some of the oil with them and it fell as a fine mist for blocks around the refinery. Some of the droplets fell 12 miles away in Norwalk, to the north.

Some of the oil was ablaze as it drifted back to earth and it threatened surrounding structures, including the hospital which was evacuated.

The Day in Birmingham

Kids 'n' Pets Will Take Limelight Tomorrow

BIRMINGHAM — Dogs, cats, parakeets, canaries and possibly a few gold fish and turtles will step into the limelight tomorrow in Birmingham's annual pet parade.

The event, sponsored by St. James Episcopal Church, transforms the Chester-Merrill street area into a zoo and carnival.

Children and their pets will gather at Chester street and Maple avenue to prepare to march at 11 a.m. Following the parade, the youngsters will have rides, refreshments stands, games and Loui's Hungry Five, a German band, to amuse them until the affair closes at 3 p.m.

A 2½-year-old Birmingham girl is in fair condition at William Beaumont Hospital after having been struck by a car yesterday afternoon on Grant street near Bird.

She is Elaine Wilson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Wilson of 608 Davis St. The girl suffered a possible brain concussion and a fractured leg.

Driver of the car, Mrs. E. E. LeMessurier, 72, of 17977 Buckingham, Southfield Township, told Birmingham Police she was unaware of the accident until she felt a bump against the side of the car.

She said she was driving slowly, looking for an address on the street.

Birmingham Police are investigating the theft yesterday of a 1958 Chevrolet, license EN-8887, from the North Chevrolet Co.

Papa Quails Proving Overzealous Parents

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (INS) — Talk about the paternal instinct. Officials of the Arkansas Game and Fish Commission say that a father quail is so overzealous he will lure away small quail from other broods to enlarge his own.

In fact, a quail survey shows that the male bird is a better parent than his mate. While the papa bird cares for his brood, mother quail is indifferent about the whole thing.

STAMP, Ark. (INS) — Army Young of Stamp, has a tall fish tale but it has a lot of meat in it.

School Building Contract Let

Construction Expected to Commence in June at Watkins Lake Site

Low bids totaling $238,418 from general contractor Ward W. Ross were accepted by the Waterford Township Board of Education last night for construction of a new elementary school on the north side of Watkins Lake.

Ross' Pontiac firm submitted a low bid of $218,472 for most of the work plus low alternate bids for such extras as two additional classrooms (making a total of 12); a ten-inch deep, extra-heavy gravel driveway with curbing, and radiant heat in the kindergarten. Electrical and plumbing work are included in his total price.

Of fourteen base bids submitted, the next lowest was $220,114 from Salvaggio & Son, another contracting firm.

Construction should get under way early next month on an eight-acre site already purchased by the school board, said James Denherder, assistant school superintendent. To be named the Thomas Cooley School, it should be ready for use early next year, he said.

The school is being financed out of a $3,500,000 bond issue approved by voters two years ago for new schools and sites.

Scientists at MSU Find New Way to Clean Eggs

EAST LANSING (INS) — Michigan State University scientists report they have developed an emulsion for washing, sanitizing and preserving eggs—all in one operation.

The process, said the scientists, will allow dealers to provide cleaner, higher quality eggs to homemakers.

Thought Wiretap Legal, Hoffa Witness Declares

NEW YORK (AP) — A government witness in the retrial of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa's wiretap conspiracy case says he was told it was legal to install wiretap equipment in Hoffa's Detroit offices.

Rudolph L. Doelicke, former New York state trooper and now a California actor, repeating previous testimony, said yesterday he was hired by Bernard Spindel, a professional wiretapper.

Spindel and Owen Bernard Brennan, president of Teamsters Local 337 in Detroit, are co-defendants with Hoffa in the Federal District Court trial.

DeGaulle Influence Ebbing

For the time being France's new Premier, PIERRE PFLIMLIN has a vote of confidence in the National Assembly. The issue was continued emergency powers to deal with Algeria. Only extreme Right wing Gaullists and the Poujadists voted against the bill.

Informed sources feel that Gen. CHARLES DE GAULLE, who has been waiting in the wings for years, missed his cue to take over the government and is all through as a political power. De Gaullist military leaders in command in Algeria had called on the General to take over the French government by force, if necessary, but he has added to his stature as a statesman and patriot by preferring to do it legally, if at all.

Ironically enough, De Gaulle is believed to favor a negotiated settlement with Algeria which would give the Nationalists a considerable measure of autonomy. His supporters there are fighting against such a compromise.

If the General was waiting for a ground swell of public opinion demanding that he take over the government of France, it didn't materialize. In his unprecedented press conference DE GAULLE made it plain that his return to power was contingent on the will of the people. However, while he is admired and respected, he is not popular.

Should De Gaulle come to power in France, which now seems altogether unlikely, he would call for a new government with strong executive powers and no interference from the National Assembly.

In any case it would be refreshing to see some constructive action in France.

Did Previous Nuclear Ventures Form Sun?

Someone in England comes up with a novel query.

After atomic fission, scientists discovered that nuclear fusion created greater energy.

Therefore, this question arises:

Is it possible some distant inhabitants of our sun could have produced nuclear energy millions of years ago by nuclear fusion; and could they have produced a very large amount that got out of control and resulted in the gigantic conflagration which we accept so calmly today as the sun?

Nuclear fusion requires heat beyond ten million degrees centigrade and that's what the sun is.

Was the British scientist suggesting that the boys on this planet double check themselves so they won't produce a heat wave sufficient to set our whole planet in flame? Thus we might become a sun for another group of planets.

That would end all integration problems, everything pertaining to new automotive contracts and all matters relating to the City Hospital and police affairs.

Government Directive Clamps Lid on News

On the heels of House passage by an overwhelming vote of the Moss bill to eliminate a 1789 law authorizing department heads to withhold Government records from the public at their own discretion, comes a new form of censorshop.

State Department orders now prohibit individual contacts between its intelligence officers and newsmen. Other officials are required to file reports on their conversations with the press. JOHN W. REAP, State Department press officer, contends that the directive is "a logical and not a restrictive procedure." But it will discourage all officials from talking with reporters.

The order likewise will tend to cut off the State Department from sources of intelligence, for the flow of information is not a one way street. A certain stiffness and formality will develop and will result in cut and dried handouts to the press.

In other words, the State Department is censoring the public's right to know about its own business. This conflicts with our basic doctrine that the Government belongs to the people and not to a few top officials.

We hope the order will be withdrawn.

Local Woman Takes Active Part in Historical Work

Bar: What if you go into too many of, you'll be singing a few —and may land behind some.

Again elected president of the Michigan Historical Commission is who has been a member of that body for 17 years. Twice before she has been its president for a year. She is the youngest person ever to hold such a state position.

Betty is doing her best (and it's a mighty good best), to maintain a local historical interest in this area, as us older citizens pass out or no longer are able to keep that flame alive. She's among my top ten women in Oakland County.

Back from a western trip,

Dave Utley

tells of a rather unique traffic sign: "Are you a weather driver? Go like lightning; crash like thunder."

Among the few surviving men who worked on both horse drawn and gas driven vehicles is of 12 Gingell Court, now 77. Previous to working 30 years in Pontiac auto plants, he made buggies in Flint under the guidance of the late and his predecessors. He says a buggy wasn't finished until it had 12 coats of paint. His pay ranged from $6 a week up.

William C. Durant

Local army draft boards are asked to send 38 men as their June quota. The Pontiac city board sends 10 and the out-county board sends 28. The induction date for both is June 5.

Back from a vacation trip,

Edward Spicer,

the new president of the Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, tells me that this area will loom large on the international map July 27 to Aug. 2. Then the world skeet championships will again be shot out here. Ed's tour included a visit to of Dallas, Texas, president of the national association, who told him that marksmen (and markswomen) will be here from nearly every state in the nation, as well as from many foreign countries.

Only surviving local member of the Michigan 31st Regiment in the Spanish American War of 1898 is of 5970 Pontiac Trail. They were known as the "Red Necks," on account of their bandanas.

Harry J. Pattison

"You Should See It NOW in This Strong Light"

David Lawrence Says:

Lengthy Tax Debate Hazardous

WASHINGTON — The big tug-of-war on the new tax bill is shaping up. Unless a new tax law is passed before June 30, many rates automatically go down or are repealed.

Thus, if Congress didn't act, many excise taxes would be reduced. Also, corporate - tax rates would go down from 52 per cent to 47 per cent of net income.

LAWRENCE

This means that each group in Congress will have a certain leverage in the contest. A tax bill that favors low-income groups altogether would run into stiff opposition of a non-radical coalition of both Republicans and Democrats which would insist that something be done to give incentives to business.

Naturally the administration has been deferring the announcement of its own tax plan. This is because, if the debate on new rates were started now, it would perhaps cause a blow-up in buying.

When it is considered that autos and many consumer items could be affected by lower excise taxes, the hazard of a lengthy debate in Congress becomes obvious.

There will be pressure, too, for lower rates on both passenger and freight transportation as well as lower rates on telephone calls and other items.

The treasury, of course, is worried about the effect of all these changes on the Federal deficit. For the current fiscal year, which ends June 30, the deficit will be about 3 billion dollars.

For next year, it looks now like somewhere between 8 and 10 billion dollars in the red. Much of this is due to the severe decline in corporate profits.

How then to stimulate corporate earnings? It will not come by merely giving $2 a week for a year to every taxpayer. It has to come from factors that will lead to job creation.

The treasury is likely, for tactical reasons, to resist at the outset any changes in the corporate rates. But a substantial sentiment is building in favor of at least a two-and-a-half point reduction, which would mean the halfway mark between 52 and 47 per cent.

Businessmen would like to feel that the Government is not a majority, but a minority partner in profits.

If businesses which are climbing back out of the recession can see a chance to build up their surpluses, they can plan to invest in plants and equipment — something that is vitally needed if unemployment in the hard-goods industries is to be materially reduced. And that's where the recession has hit hardest.

There are indications that the administration would like to see Congress do something about present depreciation policies. A hint of this comes in the statement just made to the Senate Banking and Currency Committee by Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks. He said:

"Let us keep in mind that in more than 4,000,000 private business enterprises, businessmen right now are engaged in decision-making as to production, sales, prices, rehiring, research, plant expansion and other activities . . .

"Confidence — the dynamic foundation of spending — is on the rise. Government must encourage that revival."

The Country Parson

"I don't mind our church members sitting in the back pews — or in the front pews, either."

Dr. William Brady Says:

Doctor Should Be Frank if Uncertain of Diagnosis

There is no doubt in my mind that some doctors who label an acute illness or indisposition "cold" or "indigestion" in the early hours or days of the illness really believe it is so. But usually they know that the "cold" or "indigestion" enables them to hedge on the diagnosis until the nature of the illness becomes obvious —by that time the patient's family or friends or the general public will have forgotten the earlier equivocation.

DR. BRADY

Even the well educated layman's knowledge of pathology is elementary and hence he sees nothing odd about yesterday's "cold" turning into diphtheria, meningitis or infantile paralysis over night, or last evening's "indigestion" leading to an operation for appendicitis, cholecystitis or ileitis next morning.

Instead of resorting to the shabby "cold" hokum to string patients along today, the doctor ought to tell patients the truth without fear that they'll change doctors.

He ought to have the courage to say: "We'll call it cri—I can't tell yet which of the common respiratory infections it is." Or "Indigestion? Failure of one food or another to digest would not account for such discomfort. We'll keep you under observation until we can find out just what ails you."

The main objection to the practice of calling an acute illness or indisposition a "cold" in the early hours is that it takes the curse off doctor and patient for failing to do what they should do to prevent spread of the infection, that is, practice reasonable isolation.

One serious objection to the practice of calling an acute illness or indisposition "indigestion" in the early hours is that it takes the curse off the administration of salts, castor oil or other unnatural interference which may stir things up enough to spread any inflammation and aggravate the illness. By "unnatural interference" I mean any laxative, physic, liver regulator, intestinal lubricant, enema, bowel wash, internal bath, or other means of inciting violence.

If you are not unteachable you may get a dollar's worth of benefit from studying either of the following booklets: No. 3 — So You Have Indigestion?—35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope. No. 5 — Call it CRI — 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope. No. 25—Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene — 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

"Mother and I have colitis. A registered nurse told us it will lead to cancer, eventually if we do not watch our diet. . . ." (Mrs. D. H. F.)

Answer — In most instances, I believe, "colitis" is actually just colon derangement. Instead of watching your diet and your bowel as the registered nurse suggests, you should study Little Lesson 25, The Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene, for which send 35 cents and stamped, self-addressed envelope. Much ill health is due to unnatural interference with the autonomic control of the alimentary function.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not disease, diagnosis, or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady, if a stamped self-addressed envelope is sent to The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan.

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Let Doctors, Dentists Enhance Life

Paul's problem is matched thousands of times in our grade schools. So scrapbook this case. Also, look upon physicians and dentists as God's helpers. They assist in giving us the more abundant life we should all enjoy. Remember, too, that use (function) produces keener vision and hearing, so wear your glasses and hearing aids!

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

Case Y-317: Paul R., aged 12, is a brilliant boy but he has a common problem.

"Dr. Crane, Paul needs eye glasses," his worried mother exclaimed. "The teacher told me she thought Paul couldn't see well, and advised us to have his eyes tested.

DR. CRANE

"We did, and the doctor says Paul has myopia. He also says he has only 75 per cent vision in one eye and barely 10 per cent in the other.

"Why should Paul need glasses when my husband and I never had to wear them? Nor do our other five children require them.

"And how can Paul get over his myopia? What is it and what causes it?"

EYE TESTS FOR KIDS

Myopia is nearsightedness. It is often present at birth, though it may not be recognized till later, as in Paul's case.

Some children have large eyeballs which, in the case of girls, often makes them more beautiful.

But these eyeballs may be slightly longer in their diameter, so the lens focuses the image just in front of the retina of the eye.

It thus requires a glass lens (spectacles) to offset this condition and throw the image directly on the retina so the child can see clearly.

There is no successful remedy for myopia except properly fitted eye glasses, so don't gamble with quack schemes or otherwise waste your child's chance at a richer knowledge of this world's beauty by letting him go through school only half seeing!

"But my child has normal vision in one eye," many a parent may protest, "so why should he wear glasses just because his other eye has only 10 per cent or maybe 25 per cent vision?"

That's a logical question, so I shall give you the logical medical reply.

EXERCISE IMPROVES VISION

Exercise of organs, as well as glands and muscles, seems to improve their vigor, strength or sensitivity.

On the contrary, if you fail to use one arm but tie it to your side, the muscles will actually shrink in size and atrophy from disuse. They will grow weaker, almost to the point of extinction.

The same thing is true of the sensitive retina at the back of each eyeball.

Unless the eyes are balanced, the child tends to favor the good eye and ignore the weaker one.

Thus, if a boy has 100 per cent vision in one eye and 50 per cent in the other, he becomes one-eyed, unless he employs properly fitted eyeglasses.

That 100 per cent eye gets used exclusively. It still remains at 100 per cent. But what happens to the 50 per cent eye?

Well, disuse causes the blood vessels in the retina thereof to shrink. The retina then gets less nourishment, so it grows progressively blinder.

Soon the vision will drop from 50 per cent to 40 per cent and then to 30 per cent, etc., until it finally becomes almost totally blind, just from disuse.

So an eye doctor prescribes glasses which will balance the eyes. He brings that 50 per cent eye back up to 100 per cent by means of spectacles.

Then the child will rely on both eyes. And this constant use will actually improve the vision in the poor eye, so it may require weaker glasses on future eye tests.

Hearing, too, grows poorer if older folks fail to wear hearing aids and thus nurture their 50 per cent or 75 per cent of residual hearing by constant use.

It doesn't pay, therefore, to do without eye glasses or hearing aids!

God expects physicians and dentists to help us enjoy the more abundant life. So don't let your children or your grandparents stumble along in 50 per cent darkness or with only 40 per cent hearing when modern aids can bring them back up to the 100 per cent point.

You are failing to team up with God Almighty when you don't help Him give your child better vision, better hearing and better health.

Voice of the People

Readers Discuss Situation of City Police Department

I've been a member of the Pontiac Police Department for 12 years and my father recently retired as captain after 33 years of honorable service. I wonder what type of vindictive person Bystander could be that he so lightly treads upon the reputation of fine men. He must have strong personal motive or suffer from maladjustment to make such a vicious attack without submitting proof, if any, to proper authorities.

I've been intimately acquainted with the department for over 25 years and have never seen any indication of corruption among the ranks. I also had the privilege of knowing Samuel Chapman of the Public Administration Service during his stay here, and he is one of the most capable, intelligent and unbiased experts in police administration and Pontiac was fortunate to obtain his services.

Bystander wouldn't approve the results of any investigation unless it coincides with his personal feelings. If people of Pontiac desire good police service, they should demand the recommendations of the P. A. S. report be placed into effect as soon as possible.

William Hanger, Lieut.

In the past year there has been much criticism of civil service for policemen. Most of this criticism has originated at the administrative level of City government. I can't ever recall management in private industry voicing approval of labor unions. It appears that the situation is similar and since there are more working men than bosses, I predict unions and civil service are both here to stay.

Contented

(Editor's Note: In addition to the above, The Press is in receipt of eight or ten letters from citizens who want to discuss the police situation. Most of them are eager and anxious to take a roundhouse wallop at Chief Herbert Straley, or the present civil service system or the men under the Chief. All three are the subjects of a withering fire that would drop a charging buffalo in his tracks.

They are variously signed:
A Thinker
One Who Knows
Bystander Investigator
Bystander Two
Waterford Resident
Believer in Justice
Looking for Work
Understanding

In view of the extreme language and violent and libelous charges, The Press holds that these critical comments should be signed. If you wish to take a running hop, step and jump squarely into one individual's mid-section, you should sign your name. You clearly identify the victim of your attack. Why shouldn't you be identified yourself?

Normal discussions of methods can be anonymous but when you haul off and sock someone personally with a broadside you shouldn't run and hide in the bushes.)

'Why No Alarm in Waterford?'

I was really surprised to find Waterford has no tornado alarm. Other towns have it; why not Waterford? What if a tornado came our way and we didn't have radio or TV on? I'd hate to think what would happen to children out playing. With an alert they could run for shelter. One long continuous blast on the sirens would be enough to send people in to turn on the radio or TV to learn how near the tornado was. I'd rather be warned beforehand than be broken-hearted afterwards.

Alarmed

Opinions Differ on Going Steady

Anonymous has old fashioned parents. If you don't go steady today in some groups, it just means you're left out half the time. Dates and events are planned by couples and the odd girl or boy just doesn't make it. Parents must keep up with the times the same as we have to do.

Fifteen-Year-Old

If Anonymous will be patient, she will learn there's plenty of time for everything. Her parents are doing her a great favor and when she's a few years older she will thank them. Young people are too free and easy these days, anyway.

Friend

Anonymous might better know one boy well than no boys at all. How about it, Anonymous' parents?

Steve

Why do parents raise such a fuss about kids going steady in high school? Except in rare cases, it lasts only a week or two anyway, and then someone new comes along, not counting the times they "break up" and date others anyway. All it usually amounts to is dating one boy for a while and then another for a while, instead of dating them both in the same week. Unless it gets more serious than most high school romances, it's certainly nothing to worry about.

Old Timer

'Going to Church Isn't Necessary'

Church going is not necessary if you just want to be a good citizen. I work in a shop and people are about the same. You can't tell those that go from those that don't by the way they act. Churches are more or less just civic centers. Until you find a church that can produce a Christian, you are as well off at home. You must be Christian in deed, not word.

Cheryl's Father Asks Dismissal of Suit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The father of Lana Turner's 14-year-old daughter has joined the actress in asking Superior Court to dismiss a $750,000 damage suit in connection with the death of Johnny Stompanato.

Stompanato, onetime gambler's bodyguard and Miss Turner's boy friend, was fatally stabbed by the daughter Cheryl April 4 when he threatened her mother.

Restaurant owner Steve Crane, whose marriage to Miss Turner ended in divorce in 1945, stated in his petition filed yesterday that the damage suit could not apply to him. He said he was not involved in the slaying.

The suit was brought by television producer Jack Harris, a guardian of Stompanato's 10-year-old son John III.

Impulsive Swim Ends in Tragedy for Student

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Forty-three St. Louis University medical students had just completed three days of meditations at a Catholic retreat house. Three of them decided impulsively to swim across the Mississippi River and back.

Charles K. Cervenka, 26, New Prague, Minn., drowned in the effort yesterday just 13 days before he would have received his medical degree.

James B. Kilway, Akron, Ohio, tried to save his companion, who was apparently stricken with cramps.

Albert M. Kraus, Kenmore, N.Y., swam the double crossing, unaware of the tragedy.

Chemise Wearer Wins

DENVER (AP) — Mrs. Doris Lukman went home in tears after her supervisor — also female — at the U.S. Air Force Accounting and Finance Center made some barbed remarks about her new chemise. The supervisor's superior called Mrs. Lukman and asked her to return to work. The supervisor was transferred to another department.

Japan Voters Retain Kishi

Record Turnout Nixes Plea to Loosen Ties With Western World

TOKYO (AP) — Prime Minister Nobusuke Kishi's Liberal-Democratic party returned to power today with a parliamentary election mandate to continue its strong ties with the West.

A record turnout of voters yesterday rebuffed the Socialist opposition's pleas for Japan to move closer to the Communist world.

"Our policy of realism has been understood," Kishi said jubilantly.

With only 2 of the 467 seats in the House of Representatives undecided, Kishi's conservative party had won 285, the Socialists 166, Independents 12, Communists 1 and another minor party 1. At least 10 of the independents are expected to vote with the Liberal-Democrats.

Many observers had expected the Socialists to trim about 20 seats off the 290 places Kishi's followers held in the old chamber. The Socialists previously had 158 seats, Independents 2 and Communists, 2 with 15 vacancies.

Despite a bitter election battle over foreign policy, Japanese voters showed little interest during the 21-day campaign. But a record 76.9 per cent of them balloted.

The Socialists demanded abolition of the U.S.-Japan joint security pact, recognition of Communist China and a ban on nuclear weapons in Japan.

Kishi pledged to continue to orient Japan's policies toward the United Nations and the United States while strengthening ties in Asia. He angrily attacked what he termed Communist efforts to influence voters against him.

Cardinal Stritch Still Improving, Doctors Report

ROME (AP) — Samuel Cardinal Stritch continued to show slight improvement today after another restful night.

His doctors' brief morning bulletin said the cardinal's condition "is tending toward slight improvement."

The 70-year-old Archbishop of Chicago suffered a stroke Monday that partially paralyzed him. He was recovering from the amputation of his right arm, caused by a blood clot.

Dr. Ralph Bergen of Chicago, his personal physician, and other doctors visited the cardinal today and said he had no fever and there were no complications.

Reading Level Big Factor

Kentucky School District Promotes by Book Titles

HOPKINSVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Christian County elementary pupils will get report cards this week carrying such announcements as "Promoted to 'Down the River Road'" instead of promoted to another grade.

Promotion by book titles is part of a new plan. It abolishes the usual elementary grades one through six.

From now on youngsters will advance according to their reading level.

Their report cards will announce promotion to new readers through the equivalent of the first six grades.

"It will let youngsters advance at their own rate. And it helps prevent youngsters who don't mature early mentally from being pushed too fast, or failed," Mrs. Elizabeth Wade, county supervisor of instruction, said.

Teachers in the school system are enthusiastic about the plan. It's been tried in other schools across the nation and works well, Mrs. Wade said.

Christian County has experimented on the idea with a few classes of first and second graders for the past two years.

Starting next fall, 1,800 youngsters in all but one of the county's 18 elementary schools will be in reading levels instead of grades.

The reading level setup divides youngsters into primary and intermediate blocks — each one taking about three years to complete. Between the two blocks will be a special transition room where children who need extra help can spend a year if necessary.

Subjects taught will be about the same as under the grade system, Mrs. Wade said.

"Bright children can have supplementary readers. They won't be moved along faster than their social group in the class unless they are definitely superior."

Patrolman in Stew

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Patrolman Richard Tisell, searching a vacant building, climbed through an opening to the roof and jumped from a slanted portion of the roof to a lower section. Then he could not get back, nor did he find the suspicious loiterer he was looking for. He was rescued by firemen.

Sunlight Turns to Gloom for Solar Home Owners

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz. (AP) — Some days the sun doesn't shine and some days you can't make a dime.

Sadly aware of this, the Association for Applied Solar Energy plans to sell its famed, but short-lived, solar house for $49,500.

The association has been beset by protests about commercial operations in a fashionable residential section and hemmed in by zoning ordinances.

The house went on display last month, billed as the nation's first solar-heated house and cooled home. It created a flurry of interest from scientists, architects and homebuilders.

But someone forgot to read the county zoning regulations.

A county adjustment board recently ordered the association to:

Stop charging 85 cents admission.

Tear down all advertising signs.

Stop operating an adjacent parking lot for sightseers.

End public tours of the house.

The order came after residents complained that the association was turning the neighborhood into a "Coney Island" with advertising signs and pennants.

The association said it had to charge admission and operate the parking lot to break even on expenses.

But residents countered that dust from the parking lot, noisy visitors and children overrunning adjacent lawns was making life miserable.

Beauty Queen Married

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Marilyn Buford, Miss America of 1946, yesterday married Hans Orton, a local restaurant owner, in a civil ceremony. She has a 6-year-old son by her previous marriage to Francesco Barbaro, Italian agent.

Conduct 'Static' Test of AF Atlas ICBM

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (INS) —A "static" firing of the Air Force's mighty Atlas intercontinental ballistic missile was conducted at the Cape Canaveral test center yesterday.

The 90-foot missile, designed to deliver a hydrogen bomb up to 5,000 miles, was tied down to its launching pad and it motors permitted to roar full force.

An actual launching of the missile was expected to be attempted later this month.

An Atlas was last fired aloft April 5, and although the huge rocket only traveled several hundred miles, the Air Force described the shot as successful.

It is the furthest advanced of any American ICBM.

Plane Resembles Toy

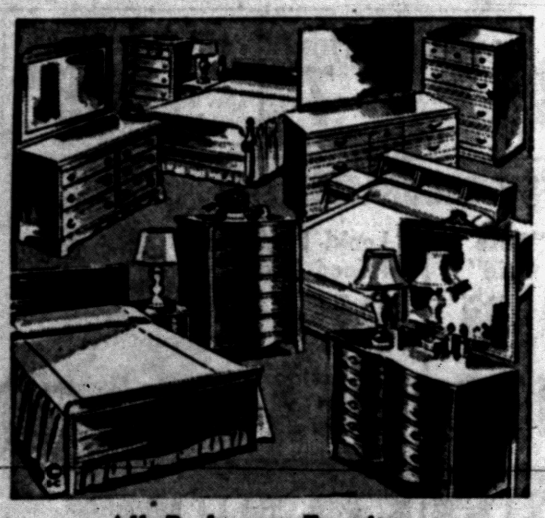

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — An airplane that resembles a large toy is the first homemade two-wing craft to be certified by the Civil Aeronautics Authority in Kentucky. The biplane, built by Joseph K. Wesley, 32, is 12 feet long and its wings span 16 and 13 feet. It cost less than $500 to build.

8 Lakes Pilots Skip to Canada

Member of U.S. Group Says 8 Nonunion Men Also Working There

KINGSTON, Ont. (AP)—A member of the Great Lakes Pilot Assn. said eight of the 42 pilots in the association have gone back to work for the Shipping Federation of Canada, representing foreign vessels.

The lakes pilots and the federation have been deadlocked for five weeks in a dispute over the use of pilots on the Great Lakes.

Capt. R. A. Stevenson said foreign ships are using the eight pilots on a day-to-day basis and are also employing eight nonunion pilots.

He said these 16 men are making it possible to move foreign shipping to and from lake ports, though with some delays.

The dispute centers on the federation's refusal to use lake pilots on all Great Lake's travel. The foreign shippers say pilots are only necessary on the narrow waterways between Port Weller on Lake Ontario and Sarnia on Lake Huron.

The pilots claim this would endanger navigation on the lakes.

River pilots who guide foreign ships up the St. Lawrence River to the lakes are not involved in the dispute. The foreign shippers say they recognize the need for river pilots.

Bob Considine Says:

'Clean' Nuclear Bombs Would Save Lives

NEW YORK (INS)—My friend Shelby Thompson of the Atomic Energy Commission sets me straight on the question of the "clean" bomb, the subject of a recent flippant piece in this space.

"From your column entitled 'Doesn't Dig Clean Bomb' in the Journal-American I judge you may have not yet seen the enclosed remarks by Chairman Strauss and Dr. Libby on the need for defensive nuclear weapons with reduced fallout," he chides.

"Your argument that 'cleanliness' makes little difference to a direct hit victim is certainly not debatable, but the U. S. and friendly populations which in wartime would not suffer fallout injury because of our self-interest reduction of the fallout potential of defensive weapons would be most grateful for the degree of 'cleanliness' we would have accomplished at the time.

"It seems to me it makes as much sense to try to protect ourselves and our friends from the potential fallout effects of our defensive nuclear weapons as it does to try to hold down the effect on nearby healthy tissue of radiation treatment of a tumor. Best, etc."

Chairman Lewis Strauss (before the Senate Subcommittee on Disarmament) — "Both as a citizen and as a government official, I am aware that scientific advances in weaponry have increased, and are increasing, the ability of an aggressor nation to launch an attack which could be extremely damaging to the United States.

"Because we are a democracy, we are cast in the role of defenders and cede to totalitarian governments the role of aggressors. There is an enormous distinction in this statement of simple fact. The targets of the attacker are large (I.E., our cities). The targets of the defenders are small (I.E., enemy planes and missiles).

"The weapons of the defender therefore need to be much more sophisticated in design than those of the aggressor.

"They must be both more accurate and more numerous than the weapons of the aggressor and, since many would be used over our own or friendly territory, they must be designed to perform their function and to produce the absolute minimum of radioactive debris."

Dr. Willard F. Libby, AEC commissioner (at Amherst last month)—

"A further very important reason for continued testing (of nuclear weapons) is that we are in process of learning how to reduce the fallout from our weapons so their use in war would not necessarily bring the awful scourge of local fallout.

"There is absolutely no doubt that local radioactive fallout from surface-fired nuclear weapons which receive an appreciable part of their energy from the fission reaction is one of the two great threats of atomic war.

"It is estimated that an attack on this country could well cause millions of deaths in this way unless we had an adequate civilian defense plan for local fallout, which at the present we do not have. Were we forced to defend against an attack on NATO, the availability of tactical nuclear weapons of limited radioactive fallout would make possible a defense which did not endanger noncombatants and friendly countries by local radioactive fallout from weapons fired in defense."

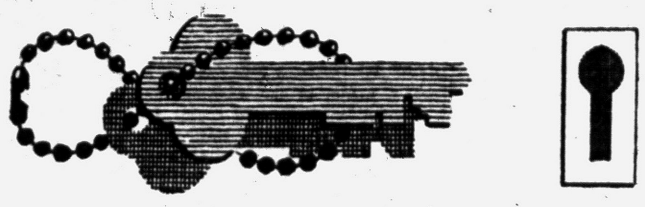

Haiti's current population is estimated at three million.

Plan Meeting at Crossroads

Charter Members Will Attend at Presbyterian Church in Walled Lake

WALLED LAKE — The Crossroads Presbyterian Church will hold its organizational meeting Sunday at the 11 a.m. worship service. Seventy-one charter members will be present.

The Rev. Robert S. Graham, assistant minister of the First Presbyterian Church of Birmingham, will deliver the sermon. Herbert Hunter, an elder of the Birmingham Church and chairman of the Crossroads' steering committee, will assist in the ordination of elders.

Other members of the Presbytery of Detroit taking part in the charter service will be Dr. Harold F. Fredsell, director of the Board of Church extension for the Presbytery; the Rev. George P. Jerome, chaplain of the Northville State Hospital; Mrs. William Potter, elder of the First Presbyterian Church, Milford, and the Rev. William L. Rieker, minister of the Crossroads Church.

The Crossroads Presbyterian Church is one of three mission churches sponsored by the Birmingham church. It held its first worship service on Oct. 21, 1956 in a renovated dog kennel located on a 20-acre site purchased through the assistance of the Birmingham Church.

Since that day, the congregation has grown from 30 to 100 regular worshippers, with 115 children enrolled in the Sunday School.

It sponsors a senior high school Westminster Fellowship and has an active Women's Association.

Your PTA Is Planning

Install Officers in Avon

AVON TOWNSHIP—New officers were installed last night by the Avondale High School Parent-Teacher-Student Assn.

There were Mrs. Wilbert Lewis, president; Mrs. John Fruytier, mother vice president; Michael Laughlin, student vice president; Robert Walton, teacher vice president, and Elanger Stuart, father vice president.

The recording and corresponding secretary offices will be filled by Wanda Welch and Miss Viola Krueger, respectively. Miss Margaret Rose will be the treasurer, and Janice Ambrose, historian.

The board members are William Saville, teacher; Bill Lewis, student and Mrs. Ben Ambrose, parent.

Walled Lake

The Walled Lake Junior-Senior High PTA will close its school year activities with a social gathering from 8:30 to 11:30 this evening.

Following a short installation of officers ceremony, there will be dancing to the music of Wayne Francisco's band. Refreshments will be served.

Seeking to Extend Classified District

INDEPENDENCE TOWNSHIP—The Independence Township Board will request the Michigan Fire Inspection Bureau to extend the present classified area to include Pelton Heights and Goodrich Farms Subdivisions.

Both now have township-operated water systems and are within the three-mile limit from the fire station, the board said. Being in the classified area would reduce insurance rates in the area.

It also has been asked that Sunshine Acres be included. Although not in the township water system, the subdivision is within the three-mile limit.

All township offices will be open Monday through Friday beginning May 26, from 9 a.m. to noon and from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. They will be closed all day Saturday.

Walled Lake Church Sets Special Meeting

WALLED LAKE — A special congregational meeting has been called for 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Walled Lake Methodist Church for the purpose of considering and approving tentative plans for the new church.

Chairman Robert Philip of the building committee, the Rev. John Mulder and committee members have been working with Charles D. Hannan, architect, to prepare plans which they feel are acceptable.

All members have been asked to be present at Tuesday's meeting so that work may progress on the proposed sanctuary.

Coed to Keep Busy

All of the other eight Koreans at the school are men.

School Addition to Be Dedicated

New Million Dollar Auditorium, Swim Pool at Utica High Ready

UTICA — Dedication of Utica's new million dollar high school auditorium and swimming pool will take place at 2 p.m. Sunday.

Housed in circular and rectangular buildings, connected by a corridor, the new addition is located a few feet from the high school. It was opened for use during the current semester.

A model of the addition, designed by Smith and Smith Architects, of Royal Oak, was placed on exhibit in Geneva, Switzerland, as an outstanding example of school construction in the United States.

Dr. Samuel M. Brownell, Detroit superintendent of schools, will deliver the main address at the dedication. Supt. of Schools Fred Atkinson will welcome the assemblage and the invocation will be given by the Rev. G. MacDonald Jones, pastor of the Utica Methodist Church.

The program also will feature several selections by the high school chorus. Introduction of special guests will be made by Assistant Supt. Floyd Ebeling.

Architect Neal B. Smith will present the cornerstone trowel to High School Principal Allan E. Hinsdale. School Board President Jack Harvey will introduce board members before the main address.

Avondale Band Boosters Hold 2-Day Bake Sale

AVON TOWNSHIP — The Avondale Band Boosters Club is holding a bake sale today and tomorrow at the Pontiac State Bank Branch and the Keego Hardware, both in Auburn Heights, and at Owen's Gas Station, 2500 Auburn Rd.

Proceeds will go into the group's scholarship fund. Donations for the sale are being accepted.

Whenever fire, flood or disaster strike, Salvation Army Mobile canteens respond, serving coffee and food to disaster workers. Other emergency disaster aid is also given by The Salvation Army.

Recovery Signs Cheer Industries

Demand for Steel Up; but Wage Hike Might Boost Prices Again

NEW YORK (AP)—First glimpses of recovery are reported this week in a number of industries. Even with all the caution due such scattered and inconclusive signs, they are heartening — especially since most of the statistics still are on the gloomy side.

Better times — or at least an end of the long decline — are sighted by executives in the steel, copper, electronics, building material, synthetic textile and even the railroad industries.

Businessmen and stock traders probably will pay more attention to the reports of these industrial leaders than they will to the reassuring words out of Washington.

Steel leaders at the annual meeting here of the American Iron and Steel Institute sound almost cheerful.

Roger M. Blough, chairman of U.S. Steel, says demand for steel is rising, if only a bit, and April may have been the low point.

Arthur B. Homer, president of the Bethlehem Steel, reports orders coming in better.

Charles M. White, chairman of Republic Steel, says May is better than April and June should be still better.

All the steel executives are worried, however, about the wage hike July 1 which many feel will mean a price hike too — which could chill the tender boomlet before it gets well sprouted.

Ice Cream Peddler Testing Ordinance

Four-year-old Rickey Mork, of 495 Valencia St. did Pontiac a big favor the other day without knowing it.

He bought an ice cream bar from a street vendor.

As Rickey wandered home unconcernedly eating ice cream, a city policeman stepped forward and, according to a pre-arranged plan, arrested the vendor for violation of the city's controversial ice cream peddling ordinance.

The salesman, Sam Wineman, 59, of 3835 Duane St. had deliberately sold the boy ice cream without having a helper standing by his truck.

The controversial portion of the ordinance says peddlers must have a helper on hand to protect children from traffic.

Wineman, who has volunteered as guinea-pig in the city's latest attempt to get a court ruling upholding the ordinance, was taken in tow by Officer William Davis and immediately arraigned before Pontiac Municipal Judge Maurice E. Finnegan.

Still according to plan, Wineman pleaded innocent but was found guilty by Judge Finnegan and fined $30 or three days in jail. Wineman immediately appealed the decision and an hour later was before Circuit Judge H. Russel Holland, who accepted his innocent plea and ordered trial in the near future.

The city is pinning its hopes on Judge Holland upholding the municipal court decision.

"A circuit court ruling in our favor would put teeth in the ordinance," explained City Attorney William A. Ewart. "Without such a ruling, it's still debatable whether the ordinance is constitutional or not. We think it is, of course."

But Wineman and many of his fellow vendors apparently disagree with Ewart. They say it not only is unconstitutional, but also interferes with their rights under the Veterans Preference Act.

The city has been trying to get through a circuit court test case for more than a year, Ewart said.

Renew Negotiations With Carpenters

Federal and State mediators called both sides together in Detroit today for renewed negotiations to end the 16-day carpenters walkout that has slowed home construction in Oakland, Wayne and Macomb counties.

About 500 to 600 Oakland County carpenters are affected by the strike, called by the Detroit Carpenters Council. Of the total 18,000 carpenters the council represents in the three-county area, about 6,000 are involved in the walkout.

All the strikers were employed on homes being built by members of the Builders Assn. of Metropolitan Detroit. Industrial, commercial and civic projects have not been affected.

The builders association said union demands would amount to 45 cents an hour over a two-year period, including fringe benefits. The union said the association is trying to take advantage of present economic conditions to keep wages down. Carpenters now average $3.25 to $3.50 hourly.

Believe Pontiac Burglary Solved

Downstate Arrest Turns Up Guns Stolen From Hardware; 4 Arrested

Clinton Post State troopers may have cleared up a Pontiac burglary with the arrest of four persons last night.

The troopers stopped a car going west on U.S. 112 in Cambridge Township, Lenawee County, driving 55 in a 45-mile-an-hour zone.

A routine search of the car turned up a dozen rifles, and shotguns and a revolver wrapped in a blanket in the trunk.

Pontiac detectives have checked several of the serial numbers and found they correspond with guns stolen from the Travis Hardware, 456 Orchard Lake Ave., on May 7, they said.

In the Travis burglary five shotguns and three rifles were stolen.

Held on a charge of carrying concealed weapons are: Laurence J. Thompson, 52, Mae B. Thompson, 46, Thomas Postell, 20, and Jonnie Miller, 47. All gave the troopers the same address, 24 Walnut St.

Falls Asleep at Wheel, Car Crashes Into Tree

A Drayton Plains woman, Doris Grant, 49, was treated for minor injuries at Pontiac General Hospital and released early this morning after being involved in an auto accident, according to state troopers at the Pontiac Post.

Mrs. Grant, of 6177 Rowley Dr., told police she had fallen asleep at the wheel. Her car smashed into a tree on Williams Lake Rd. about a half-mile west of U.S. 10, the troopers reported.

Madam, Is Your Gray Hair Now Black? Well . . .

SCHENECTADY, N.Y. (AP)—"I've had gray hair for 30 years," the woman on the telephone said. "I washed it yesterday and now my hair is black. How come?"

Water Supt. John J. Meehan said the complaint was one of several hundred he received yesterday as a private company worked to clean the city's water system.

Heretofore the water often has been rust colored, to the annoyance of residents.

Cleaning the water mains, Meehan said, stirs up murky deposits and, among other things, dyes ladies' hair and gives clothes a tattle-tale black appearance.

The condition will be prevalent in the city all of next week, he explained.

But even though the water has color—it is safe and healthful for home use, he said.

Here's Why Farmers Shoo Off Picnickers

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Ever wonder why you aren't welcome to picnic on private timber land?

The American Forest Products Industries, Inc., told a California recreation conference why yesterday. Timber producers who did permit vacationers to use their lands complained of these flagrant abuses:

Fire, 207; garbage litter, 196; shooting holes in signs, 192; broken gates and locks, 182; road damage, 158; thievery, 137; trespassing, 134; vandalism, 132; endangering employes, 98; slowing operations, 91; getting lost, 84. And just plain ingratitude, 132.

Boys in Hospital After Fighting

Detroit Police Seeking 7 Juveniles Following Critical Stabbing

DETROIT (INS) — Twelve juveniles and an 18-year-old boy were held by Detroit Police and three boys were in hospitals today as the result of juvenile gang fighting on Detroit streets.

Seven other juveniles were being sought today in the critical stabbing of a boy Wednesday night.

Six of the juveniles and the 18-year-old were held by the Police Youth Bureau on charges they beat into unconsciousness a 13-year-old Post Intermediate student.

The victim, Ronald Young, son of patrolman Paul Young of Palmer Park Station, was treated at New Grace Hospital after suffering from shock, cuts and bruises.

Police said Howard Small, 18, and five of the juveniles admit the beating.

Small is held for investigation of felonious assault and the others were to be turned over to juvenile authorities.

Police said the beating resulted from an argument between Young and one of the boys accused in the assault.

Meanwhile, two boys were being held by the Youth Bureau and seven hunted in the stabbing of Jesse Abner, 15, Wednesday night.

Abner was in serious condition in Receiving Hospital with a stab wound in the upper left leg. He said he was stabbed when he went to the aid of another youth being threatened by a gang of about 15.

Abner said he would recognize the boy that stabbed him.

Air Reserve Group Here Wins Trophy

The "Operation Manhunt" trophy was presented to Pontiac's 9613th Air Reserve Squadron last night, to be permanently retained for having led five other state squadrons in recruiting efforts during this year.

Presentation was made by Colonel Lynn Erratt, Commander of the 9124th Air Reserve Group (Flint) which is the administrative authority over these squadrons.

Accepting the award was Major Herc Renda, squadron recruiting officer who indicated that much of the credit for the success was due to the work done by his assistants, Captains Robert Webb and Warren Little.

Air Force veterans in this area who wish to join the 9613th Squadron can still be enrolled in the Specialized Training Program which offers subjects applicable to civilian as well as military occupations, Renda said.

Practically all airmen can be assured of qualifying for pay status while attending these courses, he added. Further information can be obtained at the squadron's headquarters, 67 Oakland Ave., which is open Monday through Friday 9 to 4:30 as well as Thursday evenings until 10.

Dear Abby . . .

Warning: Spare Rod and Raise Delinquent

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

"DEAR ABBY: You sure got my goat when you told the mother of a lazy teenage daughter to just close the door when her daughter kept it looking like a pigpen. I had trouble like that with my teenaged daughter, but I blistered her back porch so she couldn't sit down for a week, and after that she kept her room spic and span. I say, 'Spare the rod and raise a delinquent.'"

ABBY

"DEAR ABBY: We are not rich, but we are respectable people. Our son went to school in Maine and fell in love with a girl up there. We didn't know her folks and they didn't even send us an invitation to our own son's wedding, so naturally we didn't go.

"We go to Maine every year on vacation but so far we haven't called her people. It has been 10 years and we have four grandchildren, but we are not going to make the first move because we were told that it was THEIR place to invite us to the wedding. Please advise us as life is getting too short."

GROWING OLD

DEAR GROWING: If you WAITED for an invitation to your own son's wedding and then didn't go because you didn't get it, you certainly don't deserve much sympathy. For goodness sakes, let bygones be bygones and call her people.

"DEAR ABBY: One evening my husband walks in with his father and tells me that his father is moving in with us. I said, 'Oh, no, he isn't!' So my husband packs and moves out with his Dad. Do you think this was a put-up job so my husband would have a good excuse to leave, or was I to blame?"

IN DOUBT

DEAR IN: This is the first time I've ever heard of a husband and his father in a package deal. Take Papa—or live alone and like it!

"DEAR ABBY: I have a next-door neighbor who sits in her window and knows everything that goes on in our house. Every time we have company she tells me who was there and what time they left. She tells me every day what time my husband leaves for work and when he gets home at night. This bothers me very much. I don't want to get on the outs with her but I wish I could put a stop to it. Have you any suggestions?"

LOUISE

DEAR LOUISE: There is nothing you can do to stop your neighbor from making a career out of watching your house. People who behave like this need sympathy—not criticism. They must lead very lonely and empty lives.

"DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for two years. When we got engaged I paid for the rings. He asked if he could "borrow" the money. So far he hasn't paid it back yet or even mentioned it. He is a wonderful husband so I wouldn't want to start a big fuss over it, but do you think he has really forgotten?"

MRS. N.

DEAR MRS. N.: I don't know whether he has "forgotten"—but if I were YOU, I'd forget it.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "THE WINNER:" If he flipped a coin over a decision as important as marriage, he must have first flipped his lid. P.S. If you said "yes" you likewise have flipped yours.

If She's Wrong--- So What!

By EMILY POST

"Dear Mrs. Post: The other evening I was at a friend's house along with several other people. During the course of the conversation the hostess said something which I knew not to be correct. I said, "Oh, Mary, I think you are wrong about that" and proceeded to give the correct information.

"My husband said later that he thought I was very rude to contradict her in the presence of others. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?"

Answer: It is usually more polite to say nothing unless there is some reason why it is really important that the statement made be contradicted. In other words, if what Mary said was harmful gossip you were quite right to contradict her — in fact it was your duty to do so.

"Dear Mrs. Post: When a young woman rents two rooms — a bedroom and sitting room — in a private house, shouldn't she leave the door of the sitting room ajar when she entertains a man friend alone? I would very much appreciate your opinion on this matter."

Answer: In a hotel she would of course close the door, and in a private house, unless her parents have put her under the chaperonage of her landlady, she need not leave the door ajar.

"Dear Mrs. Post: I'm having some paper marked for personal use. Should it be marked Mrs. John Smith or Jane Smith? I was wondering whether Jane Smith was appropriate for a middle-aged married woman?"

Answer: Jane Smith is suitable only for a very young girl or a professional person well known simply as "Jane Smith." Paper to be used for all general purposes should be marked with your full name (Mrs. John Smith) and address; social paper should be marked with your initials or an address or very possibly, both.

Miss Bader Announces Attendants

Norma Bader, whose marriage to Michael J. Wells will be an event of June 7, announces attendants for her wedding.

Matron of honor will be Mrs. Donald McLane and bridesmaids will be Jean Zimmerman and Wanda Wallis of Kalamazoo. Janet Sue Wells is to be flower maid.

The prospective bridegroom has asked Richard Weaver to act as best man, while James Duren and Edward Wells of Arlington, Va. will be ushers. Senior ushers are to be Robert Wells and James Bader.

Announcement of attendants was made at a shower given in the Newberry street home of Mrs. Robert Wells. The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bader of Whittemore street, and her fiance is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Wells of Pingree avenue.

Help Can Be Had

'Falsies' Have Therapeutic Value

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN
(The Friday Question Box)

Q. "Would you write an article for the many women, especially career women, who have had a breast removed? How can they overcome self-consciousness?"

A. I am sure that this must be a very difficult experience. It seems to me that the two thoughts which would be helpful would be—(1) life is too wonderful to let the loss of a breast spoil it for you, (2) a feeling of thankfulness that the cancer was gotten in time.

A couple of years ago I wrote about some of the wonderful things they do now about brassieres for this condition. If you would like to have some information about this send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for it to me in care of this newspaper.

Q. "I recently plucked my eyebrows and now they are thin and straggly and uneven. Is there any cream or salve I could get to make them grow in normal again?"

A. They will grow in again. You might massage them gently with a bit of olive oil or one of the lash creams. The stimulation might speed the process.

Q. "If wives were happier with less, men wouldn't have to drive themselves so hard to meet the bills. How can a man avoid nervous tension? I know many men who work very hard and their wives are in Florida.

"How can a man work and come home to an empty house and no dinner? Or does he come home? That's the 64 thousand dollar question."

A. I recently have written some columns on this subject, namely, that women have an important role in letting their husbands know that it is the man and not his earning power which is most valued. I do think the desires of a family often work a man to death.

People differ in their ideas about separate vacations. I think it is pretty hard on a man and unwise procedure for a wife unless there is a question of health involved. Your 64 thousand dollar question is no doubt a timely one in many instances.

Q. "My right breast is much larger than my left. This is most embarrassing to me. I know that all women have some difference but mine is really very noticeable. What can I do?"

A. Well you can wear a falsie or use a little padding in the bra on the small side. You also can use the arm on the small side only in many bust increasing exercises.

If you or any of my readers would like to have this leaflet send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 7. Address Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

Cheating Is Light Matter to Many Teeners

By EUGENE GILBERT
Gilbert Research Co.

In interviews with 682 high school youngsters, 42 per cent of the boys and 31 per cent of the girls admitted they sometimes cheat on examinations.

Many of them felt no qualms. Forty-four per cent of the boys and 35 per cent of the girls maintained cheating is justified on occasion. About the same number said they sometimes use crib sheets.

A 17-year-old Chicago girl said, "I don't really feel I've done anything wrong. Everybody has let his eye flick over another's paper at one time or another."

"If you can get away with it, you're smart," said a 17-year-old Dallas girl. "If you get caught, you're stupid."

Would this attitude be as casual, I wonder, if these same students were asked whether they lie, steal or swindle? Somehow, teenagers do not seem to equate cheating with these more serious-sounding offenses. And they report that students are hardly ever caught at it.

'ONLY WAY TO PASS'

"Sometimes just four or five points can make a difference between passing or failing an entire term's work," a 17-year-old New Yorker told the interviewer. "When so much hangs u. the balance for a few lousy points, it seems like the only thing for some kids to do."

In the same vein, a 16-year-old Miami youngster said, "All we have are tests, tests and more tests. It's a regular scoreboard, and we're supposed to chalk up good marks. Well if that's all they want, I'll get it."

It is evident, then, that the problem of cheating dredges up the more basic issues of what the student is really working for, where the schools are placing their emphasis, and the codes of conduct practiced by the parents.

"If there wasn't as much emphasis on grades," said an 18-year-old boy from New Brunswick, N.J., "there wouldn't be as much cheating."

LITTLE FUSS MADE

A 16-year-old girl in Fort Worth, Texas, said: "I think it would stop if the teachers made a greater fuss, but all they do is just take a couple of points off your mark. Some of them give you a zero for the exam."

A 17-year-old New York boy said, "Sometimes I'll ask my dad for some help with my economics course, because some of those theories are beyond me. He's a tax consultant. But he's too busy. He's always worried about money, or else he's always figuring out how to drag new clients into his office."

Cook Paints Flowers on Rolled Sugar Cookie

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Home Editor

Some of the most attractive cookies we have ever seen were left on our desk this week. They were small round sugar cookies with all manner of flowers painted on them with food coloring. They looked too good to eat; but they disappeared with great rapidity.

Mrs. Henry DeLooff is the artist. She enclosed some candied violets for which we had supplied the recipe recently. Mrs. DeLooff is an artist in the kitchen. We know she is also a career gal. Our thanks for the cookies.

ROLLED SUGAR COOKIES
By Mrs. Henry DeLooff

1 cup butter or margarine
1½ cups sugar
2 eggs
1 teaspoon cream of tarter
½ teaspoon soda
3 cups sifted flour
Vanilla and lemon extract

Cream shortening with sugar. Add eggs and beat well. Add flavoring as desired. Sift dry ingredients and add. Roll out on floured board to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut with round floured cutter.

Place on greased cookie sheets. Using small water color brushes and pure food coloring paint flower designs on each cookie. Mrs. DeLooff says they make "a perfect canvas if you happen to be a frustrated Grandma Moses."

Bake at 375 degrees.

Freedom to Change Mind Matures Child

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

After lunch Ken's mother opened a new jar of lollipops and offered him his choice. He picked a red one. Then, as his mother recapped the jar, he changed his mind and demanded another choice.

His mother did not say, "No. You chose the red lollipop and must learn to take the consequences of your decisions."

Instead she reopened the jar, handed it to her 5-year-old and said, "Choose again, Ken. You don't have to keep a lollipop you don't want."

It took less than a minute for Ken to make a final and satisfied decision on the original red lollipop.

He trusted his decision the second time because he'd lost fear of restriction by its consequences. With the freedom to change his mind, he was able to make it up. Permitted to alter his decision, he was released from fear of making the wrong one — and could move on his real, original wish for the cherry-flavored candy.

If we want children who can learn to trust their own decisions, it is unwise to require them to stick to the decisions too soon.

To be able to make decisions without anxiety, we must trust our power to stnd up to the results of bad ones instead of suffering helplessly under them. It takes much time to accumulate this self-trust.

If we make premature demands that Ken accept the disappointments involved in decisions he wishes he hadn't made, he may learn to avoid disappointments by resisting any decision at all.

Some parents think that giving younger children freedom to change their minds makes them capricious and unreliable.

Such parents may be people who take great pride in enduring suffering imposed by their own bad decisions. Having made an uncomfortable bed for themselves in an unhappy marriage or ill-fitting work, they just lie in it never thinking, "How can I improve this bad consequence?"

Unlike Jesus who said, "Thy sins are forgiven thee," they demand the utmost penalty from themselves for some mistaken judgment. And insist on the same stoic endurance from children.

At some point we all have to make up our minds, even over lollipops. At later points, if we are growing people, we should also feel free to change them.

Lebanon Urges U.N. Meeting

Wants Security Council to Study 'Interference' by Nasser's Republic

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Lebanon has asked an urgent meeting of the U.N. Security Council to take up her complaint that President Nasser's United Arab Republic is interfering in her two-week-old civil strife.

Council President Charles S. A. Ritchie of Canada planned to consult today with the other 10 members on a meeting date.

In Cairo, the Arab League also considered a meeting time and place on a similar Lebanese complaint. The U.A.R. has denied the accusation.

A dispatch from Beirut said U.S. Ambassador Robert McClintock reportedly promised American support in the Security Council. But some diplomats in the Lebanese capital were said to doubt that the republic could present strong enough evidence to win backing from neutral nations.

Lebanon is informally allied to the United States by acceptance of the Eisenhower Doctrine. The Soviet Union, as a U.A.R. supporter, could use a veto to throw the complaint out of the United Nations.

Neither Lebanon nor the U.A.R. is a member of the Council. Iran is the only Arab member.

Lebanon charges that the U.A.R. is at least partially responsible for rioting since May 10. More than 200 persons have been killed in sporadic street and mountain warfare by the political opposition seeking to oust pro-Western President Camille Chamoun. The government now is in control.

Lebanese U.N. Delegate Karim Askoul said the complaint cited instances of U.A.R. citizens infiltrating into Lebanon to participate in the fighting. The letter also charged the U.A.R. with supplying arms to the rebels and making violent radio broadcasts from Cairo and Damascus calling for the overthrow of the Lebanese government.

Disc Data and Chatter

Music in the Round

by Dick Saunders

FIVE ACES: Tops around the Pontiac area in their order of sales are: "All I Have To Do Is Dream" by the Everly Brothers; "Do You Want To Dance" by Bobby Freeman, and "Big Man" by The Four Preps.

"Witch Doctor" by David Seville (dropping fast) and "Purple People Eaters" by Sheb Wooley (coming up fast) are tied for fourth. "Return To Me" by Dean Martin is fifth.

Honorable mentions go to "Secretly" by Jimmy Rodgers, not as hot as last week; "Endless Sleep" by Jody Reynolds, close but not quite there; "Woodchoppers Ball" by Hutch Davies, doing well, and "Jennie Lee" by Jan and Arnie, dropping after a spurt in sales last week.

Capitol Record folks are busy going in two directions at once—toward top notch new albums, and some junk.

Look at their latest releases. They have Pee Wee Hunt grinding out "Cole Porter Ala Dixie" (Cap. T-948) and have exploited Red Nichols with the LP "In Love With Red" (Cap. T-999).

Hunt has been the epitome of commercialized "watered down" dixie for years. Good jazz has never sold his discs—he's always needed a gimmick.

Nichols, on the other hand, is being "used." He's always been a fine jazz cornetist. Now he's forced to play "sweet" stuff with strings because someone figures this is the "trend."

Then, at the same time, Capitol issues some excellent stuff. "Back To Balboa" (T-995) by Stan Kenton, "Las Vegas Prima Style" (T-1010) by Louis Prima and Keely Smith, "Jump For Joy" (T-979) by Peggy Lee, and "In The Night" (T-1003) by George Shearing and Dakota Staton are all worthy of any collection.

Why? Because they capture Kenton with swinging new arrangements in his old stamping grounds. They give you Mr. and Mrs. Prima in an after-midnight atmosphere where they can be themselves.

You get Peggy Lee swinging like only she can with Nelson Riddle providing a fine setting. Shearing is the Shearing all jazz lovers know, while adapting to the Staton style. There's nothing phony here.

Describes 5 Rose Diseases, Methods to Combat Them

By WAYNE B. SIEFERT
County Horticultural Agent

It no longer is possible to be a successful rose owner without occasional spraying or dusting. But making a choice of rose dusts or sprays at your local garden supply store is nearly as tough as the problem on the rose plants.

Let's consider the most common problems and then buy a combination which will work on them all.

Aphids: There is hardly a plant that isn't attacked by these sucking pests. They are green, soft bodied, lethargis animals, the size of a pin head.

They are usually present on the buds and new shoots. They often kill the buds and may weaken the entire plant. Malathion or Lindane are extremely effective chemicals when used on a regular schedule.

Rose Chafers or Rose Beetles: These tan colored flying beetles are extremely serious in some neighborhoods. They are good flyers and seem to eat most anything in sight. They commonly appear in late May and usually prefer the blossoms of roses, peonies, and grapes. They are often accused of being Japanese beetles.

When Methoxychlor or DDT are used, thousands of these beetles are destroyed. Good coverage is necessary. Because new blossoms open every day, it may be necessary to make a daily application to those plant parts.

PESTS SUCK

Red Spiders: This is a common name for a number of species of mites, including clover mites. This is another sucking pest, so small the damage is easier to see than the pest. They are minute, dark colored animals which create a webby appearance on the underside of the leaves. Their sap sucking activities creates an anemic or ash gray appearance. At this stage, severe, if not fatal damage has already been done.

A common method of detection is to place a white piece of paper beneath a branch, then severely shake the branch. The mites drop on the paper and can easily be seen crawling about. Malathion, Aramite or Ovotran as repeated applications are very effective.

Black Spot Disease: This fungus disease causes black circular spots to develop on the leaves. This in itself might not be so serious, but these leaves promptly drop off. It is this leaf drop which weakens the plants so that they frequently are killed.

This disease spreads during rains and over winters in dead leaves on the ground. So if you have this problem, do not water the foliage. Captan is one of the best fungicides for control of this disease.

Powdery Mildew of Roses: This fungus disease produces a white powdery effect on young leaves and shoots. Quite commonly on blossom buds, too. It causes the leaves to curl and be uneven. It rarely kills, but is unsightly and does weaken the plant. Sulphur is still one of our best control materials.

An ideal rose dust or spray should control all of these common problems. Here is what it might contain: Malathion for Aphids and Mites; DDT for Rose Chafers and a variety of other occasional pests; Sulfur for milder control and Captan for black spot control.

A Lindane, Methoxychlor, Aramite, Captan and Sulphur combination is equally as effective. In buying any rose dust or spray, look at the label to be sure it has most of these materials. If not, you will have most of the problems instead.

This combination works very well on most garden flowers also. Those who make a 7-10 day schedule of spraying or dusting have by far the greatest success. Be sure to cover both sides of the leaf.

DUST OR SPRAY

Each manufacturer, rose grower and writer has a different opinion about dusts versus sprays. Here are some of the common arguments.

Some like sprays because it is sure to stick on. Sprays are easier to put on the underside of the leaves. Less material is used to do the same job. More chemical can be put on the plant.

Those favoring dusts say it is faster. It doesn't leave the residue spots on the foliage. Equipment isn't so heavy.

Actually, both are very effective. Dusting is faster. The foliage does not have to be wet because it has an electrical charge which holds the dust. The same chemicals can be used with either program.

With spraying, the quantity applied is usually greater, giving a longer effect. Windy days are no obstacle as with dusting.

Don't Hang Woolens Near Spirea Bloom

There's an old wives' tale that goes, "Don't hang out your woolens when the spirea is in bloom!" It seems that the black carpet beetle lives, thrives, and breeds on spirea.

Since many women hang their woolens out to air in the spring when the spirea is in bloom, it has been assumed that the black beetle would leave their habitat long enough to deposit their eggs on the woolens hanging on the clothes line.

During the summer months while the woolens are stored away, the eggs hatch and the larvae eat holes in the woolens.

The National Institute of Drycleaning, Silver Spring, Maryland cannot vouch for the truthfulness of this old wives' tale. It has been estimated, though, that 60 per cent of the so-called moth damage to clothes is actually caused by the black beetle and not the clothes moth.

Bird Curator at Zoo Happy Over Hoopoes

ST. LOUIS (AP) — The bird curator at the St. Louis Zoo is happy over hoopoes.

Two European hoopoes have been hatched at the zoo and the parents, cinnamon-colored birds about the size of a large thrush, are expecting three or four more.

"I've searched the bird books," curator Henry Sanders exclaimed happily. "There is nothing on hoopoes being hatched in captivity. Not even the period of incubation has been known. Now we can tell them — it is 16 days."

See Japanese Variety

Peony Is Rewarding Summer Flower

The new peonies must be seen to be believed. This is especially true if you have only known the sprawling, heavy-headed, often magenta-hued flowers of decades past.

According to an article in the June issue of House Beautiful magazine, modern peony varieties are things apart. Encompassing all the clear, lively colors of a sunset, and just as awesome and indescribable, they inspire a host of dramatic new effects in the May-June garden.

But there are also startling differences in flower forms. Where varieties once were double to the point of bursting, now there are beautiful singles and semi-doubles, sometimes with flowers of spectacular size, but often with many smaller blossoms to a stem, making possible the cutting of an entire bouquet with just one branch.

NEW FRAGRANCES

Now, as never before, there is an interest in Japanese peonies, single or nearly single flowers, widespread with a central mound of contrasting narrow petals and with no pollen to be shed untidily. New are the fragrances: Sweet, rose-like, or spicy-all especially enjoyable indoors or on a warm June evening when they pervade the entire garden.

Peonies improve each year, bearing increased quantities of flowers and foliage. This is a good point to remember when you shop for them, for the roots of some varieties may seem expensive until you realize that you are making an investment which will yield more and more dividends throughout the years.

NEW YORK (AP) — The Catholic population in the United States, Alaska and the Hawaiian Islands has reached an all-time high of 36,623,977.

The director also reported that 140,414 persons were converted to Catholicism during 1957.

WARM SPRINGS, Ga. (AP) — The millionth visitor to the Little White House, vacation cottage of the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt, inspected the shrine yesterday. He is Robert Holcombe, 12, one of 36 seventh-grade pupils from Milledgeville who made a class trip to Warm Springs.

RIBBON OF SEEDS—This ribbon of seeds, now available in Pontiac, gives each plant enough room for good growth, simplifies plantings and assures results with both flowers and vegetables that are better than bare seeds. One can make straight lines or fancy patterns.

Tape Dissolves in Water

Plant Vegetables, Flowers With Ribbon of Seeds

Flowers and vegetables in several thousand back yards this spring will be planted by merely laying a ribbon of seeds in a prepared seed bed — to eliminate thinning and transplanting.

The ribbon of seeds, with the seeds spaced evenly to give each plant enough room for good growth, is being introduced in 25 cities this spring, including Pontiac.

Five flowers and three vegetables are available on seed ribbon—dahlia flowered zinnias, lilliput zinnias, dwarf French spry marigolds, crackerjack marigolds, unwins dahlias, Danvers red core carrots, white long-bunching onions, and early scarlet globe radishes — all tested for germination and purity to meet state requirements.

The ribbon that contains the seeds is a special plastic that dissolves in water, completely disappearing after being planted. It has been used successfully in several thousand tests in the past three years in various parts of the country.

The seed ribbon is laid on a normally prepared seed bed and covered with a quarter-inch to half-inch of soil. Seeds are 1½ to four inches apart on the ribbon, depending on the type of seed and the growing room that is best for it.

PLANT FANCY

Planting with the ribbon makes straight lines and fancy patterns easier, makes garden planning easier (since both the row and the ribbon are measured by the foot, instead of by ounces), and provides more assurance of successful planting by giving each seedling enough room for fast sturdy growth and maximum root development.

The seed ribbon is expected to be made available nationally during the next several seasons as the necessary production equipment is added, it was announced.

Gardens Require Bookkeeping

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Newsfeatures Writer

With planting time in full swing through most of the country, we gardeners are so busy with trowels and watering cans that we have little time or energy to concern ourselves with other, less interesting phases of our hobby.

It's all right to talk about studying a book, drawing a plan or sticking on labels when there isn't much else one can do, but right now it does seem that keeping a garden diary is just another chore for tired hands and that it is silly to write a label to mark that bed of Shirley poppies—of course you'll remember what's there.

I've been a weekend gardener for years and have developed simple bookkeeping to help a faulty memory. Did I prune the mock orange last spring or was it the year before? What was the name of that little shrub I stuck in the west border? Did I lime the lawn in 1956 or 1955?

These and a thousand other questions can be answered by referring to my diary and my rude maps of the garden beds, the former kept indoors and the latter held on a clipboard on a nail in the garage.

READ INSTRUCTIONS

One of the best ways to learn good gardening fast is the simple process of reading cultural instructions for each plant immediately before planting, putting in seedlings or tackling special maintenance work. It is easy to forget that peonies loathe direct contact with fertilizer, that lilacs appreciate lime or that roses resent competition from other plants.

Plant labels are inexpensive and a great help for beginner gardeners—and for veterans trying something new, as veterans always are. And the labels make a tour of the garden much more interesting to visitors.

Recently some new people moved into our neighborhood after the owners had departed. With few exceptions—daffodil shoots and the emergence of the red tips of the peonies—the family had no idea what was going to emerge from the established flower beds.

I did a garden tour with the new neighbors and succeeded in finding bleeding heart, day lilies, iris and identifying a few of the shrubs and trees — mostly from memory. But it occurred to me at the time that it would have been a nice thing if there had been some labels around, so the new owners would know what to look forward to.

There is quite a bit of maintenance work to be done at this time as well as planting. Most of the spring - flowering shrubs, which bloom on last year's growth, should be pruned immediately after the flowers fade if a good show is to be expected next year. Prune with the idea of maintaining the natural shape of the shrub.

As soon as danger of frost is over, take the houseplants — except the African violets — outside for the season. Most of them enjoy a shady spot, and take on a new lease if their pots are sunk into the ground to the top of the pot rims.

Here's what happens when you PULL weeds
You don't get the whole weed—because you don't get all the roots! You may hope you do, but tiny roots always remain to grow again. So you've got the job to do over—and sooner than you think. Yanking weeds is just not effective . . . not thorough . . . not lasting.

Tiny roots remain—to grow again
Here's the result when you KILL weeds with WEEDONE
THE MIRACLE WEED KILLER
You kill not just the surface plant and main roots. You kill every hidden root. For Weedone's action is deep—its killing power penetrates to every tiny root; so there's nothing left to regrow. Yet remember—

While the Yankees have six players around or above the .300 mark—it's a long drop to the other players. Going into the Tiger series, right fielder Hank Bauer was batting .233, left fielder Norm Siebern .229, first baseman Marv Throneberry .212, third baseman Andy Carey .210, catcher Yogi Berra .205 and second baseman Bobby Richardson .203.

"Yeah," said one of the Tiger coaches, "I feel sorry for 'em."

THE HERO SLIDES — Yankee first baseman, Marv Throneberry, slides safely into home plate in the 7th inning of yesterday's game. Throneberry scored again in the 9th inning with a homer which defeated the Tigers, 5-4. The umpire is Hank Soar and the catcher is Jim Hegan. Throneberry was the first man up in the 9th and his homer came off Paul Foytack.

Assistant Coach at U. of M. Says Chiefs to Repeat

According to the calculations of Elmer Swanson, assistant track coach at the University of Michigan, who is in charge of the class A state meet in Ann Arbor tomorrow, Pontiac is expected to pick up 43½ points to win its 4th straight state title.

Swanson makes his forecasts on the basis of regional meets last weekend. He sees Flint Northern taking second with about 22 points, Flint Central third with 21; Lansing Eastern 17, Lansing Sexton, 16, Kalamazoo Central 15, Farmington 12, and Muskegon 11. Others are picked to follow.

Swanson sees the possibility of a state record in the mile by Pontiac's Larry Beamer, another record possibly in the 880 by Roger Coates and a third by Bob Manning in the century.

Farmington's Warren Cawley is figured for a possible record in the hurdles.

IN STATE MEET—Three Chiefs, and an Eaglet (from St. Mary's Orchard Lake), above, will take part in the state's biggest day of prep track action, Saturday. The PCH trio are members of a relay team, and Sowell and Keller are also broad jumpers (Sowell in hurdles). The Eaglet is Joe Waluk, shot-putter, who will head the St. Mary's team in Class C, at Central Michigan College.

Class 'A' Teams Visit Ann Arbor for Annual Meet

Pontiac Central Squad Totals 17; 'B' Squads at East Lansing

By H. GUY MOATS

Seventeen determined young athletes today completed preparations for the biggest test of the spring, as Pontiac Central High's defending state track champions looked ahead to Saturday's big title battle on Ferry Field at the University of Michigan.

The 17 were the qualifiers at last Saturday's record-breaking regional meet at Ypsilanti where coach Dean Wilson's and Ray Lowry's squad won the 6th straight title for Pontiac. Chiefs broke four records, several of long standing.

Chiefs shoot for their 4th straight state "A" title in the Ann Arbor meet.

Waterford, Birmingham, Farmington, Walled Lake, Berkley are other area "A" schools with competitors of worth. Cranbrook, Lake Orion, Rochester, Bloomfield Hills, Avondale, Troy, Clawson and other "B" schools will take part in the East Lansing meet.

St. Mary (OL), with seven and Pontiac St. Michael, with four qualifiers, compete in the "C" meet at Mt. Pleasant.

St. Joseph was Class B champion last year, with Inkster and Walled Lake 2nd and 3rd, respectively (last two are now Cass A schools). The Class C title was taken by Boyne City, and Class D by Covert.

A general assault on the record books is anticipated. In nearly all events, and in all four classes, most standing marks have been bettered or equalled in regionals or other tests. Chiefs have three stars, all of whom appear fairly certain of hanging up new marks.

Bob Manning has equalled Detroit's George Hester's (1925), Eddie Tolans (1927) and Alpena's Sebert Dant's (1955) 9.8 for the hundred, and he has bettered Hester's (1925) and 'Lonzo Harris of Pontiac (1953) 220 time of 21.7. He has done 21.4.

Rog Coats goes after the half-mile mark of 1:58.9 which he equalled at the regional. Bob Lake of Kalamazoo set it in 1956.

The mile mark of 4:28.8, set in 1953 by Gerald Zitny of Dearborn, is Larry Beamer's target. The Chiefs' co-captain was just a fraction of a second off that figure in the regional. Maples' Bill Alcorn is a threat in the pole vault (Forest Naveaux set the record at 12-7½ in 1942).

Only five members of last year's state meet champions appear again Saturday. They are Beamer and Coats (880 and mile champs), Fred Brooks (high jump), Dickie (Jim) Keller and Jim Hawkins.

Chiefs won their 3rd state title at East Lansing last year with 33 points. Flint Northern, again a top threat, was 2nd with 22, Kalamazoo Central had 21, Berkley 19 and Jackson High 18½.

The 1956 title was taken at Ann Arbor with 53 points, Vikings again 2nd, with 26. Maples were 3rd with 23. Chiefs won six firsts, scored in 10 of 13 events.

Errors Costly Against Yanks in 5-4 Defeat

Zernial Blasts Eighth Career Pinch Homer to Set AL Record

DETROIT (AP) — According to the customary standards, one mistake against the New York Yankees generally is enough.

But the Detroit Tigers had to make three of them yesterday before the American League leaders came out with a 5-4 triumph at Briggs Stadium.

Three Tiger errors and three unearned Yankee runs — and the Tigers' losing streak went to eight games. The defeat dropped the Bengals into the basement, 12 games behind the Yankees and 15 games off the pace in the vital loss column.

Left fielder Johnny Groth committed a two-run error and first baseman Gail Harris fumbled a ground ball that allowed another unearned run to cross. Third baseman Reno Bertoia also made an error but starting pitcher Paul Foytack who deserved a much better fate, managed to work out of that jam without any scoring damage.

Gus Zernial came out of a 0-for-13 batting slump with a pinch-hit home run in the eighth inning to tie the score at 4-4.

Zernial's blast into the lower left field seats established an American League record for lifetime pinch hit home runs. Big Gus now has eight of them. Previously he was tied with Boston's Ted Williams at seven apiece.

Also on the credit side for the Tigers, they knocked out their old nemesis, Bobby Shantz. The tiny southpaw was raked for nine hits before he departed with two out in the sixth.

Shantz, who has 12 straight victories dating back to 1950 over the Tigers — and a lifetime 13-4 mark — gave up three runs. Bob Grim pitched him out of the sixth and rookie Ronold Duren got the victory for pitching the last three innings.

Foytack lasted until two out in the ninth and was charged with his fourth defeat. He got a 1-0 lead in the fourth when Groth blooped a double to center, took third on Billy Martin's single and scored on a force out.

Foytack himself doubled home a run in the Tiger half of the sixth and scored moments later on Frank Bolling's hit to left that finished Shantz.

The Yankees planned to send undefeated Bob Turley after his seventh triumph tonight in the middle game of the three-game series. Manager Jack Tighe will counter with southpaw Bill Hoeft (3-3). Turley has finished all six of his starts and has a 0.83 earned run average.

Answering Critics; Three 2nd in AL

Ted Wallops Grand Slam

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Ted Williams has answered the critics again . . . the way he knows best . . . with a swish of his bat.

On Wednesday, after Williams had gone 0 for 5 the question was raised whether the 39-year-old Boston Red Sox slugger finally was showing his age. His batting average had dwindled to .225.

Ted gave them the answer last night. Boston was trailing Kansas City 3-1 in the fourth inning. Jackie Jensen doubled and scored on Jimmy Piersall's single. A walk and Pete Runnels' scratch single loaded the bases. Williams quickly unloaded them with a home run. The Red Sox went on to win 8-5.

The grand slammer was the 16th of Williams' career and broke a tie with Jimmy Foxx for third place. Lou Gehrig holds the major league record with 23. Babe Ruth is second with 17. The National League record of 13 is held by Gil Hodges of Los Angeles.

Kansas City's defeat forced a three-way tie with Cleveland and Baltimore for second place. The Indians defeated Washington 3-1 to reach the .500 mark, along with the Athletics and the Orioles. The Chicago White Sox climbed out of the cellar with a 5-1 triumph over Baltimore.

Mike Fornieles was credited with the Boston victory which closed the Red Sox to within a half game of the deadlocked second place teams. He relieved starter Tom Brewer in the fifth, quelled a Kansas City uprising and pitched shutout ball the rest of the way for his second triumph. Jack Urban was the loser.

Williams' homer was his fifth of the season and 461st of his career.

Eighth inning doubles by Bobby Avila and Mickey Vernon and a single by Preston Ward produced two Cleveland runs and broke a 1-1 tie with the Senators. Jim "Mudcat" Grant pitched a six-hitter to win his fourth against two defeats. Truman Clevenger was the loser.

Jim Wilson snapped a four-game Chicago losing streak, pitching a nine-hitter over Baltimore. The White Sox, who had been in last place since April 26, collected nine of their 10 hits off loser Arnie Portocarrero. Luis Aparacio got two doubles and Nellie Fox two singles for the winners who played to a home crowd of only 632 in 46-degree temperature. It was the smallest Chicago turnout since 513 customers gathered on May 7, 1943.

Floyd Trevis Puts Pole Car in Shape

BACK IN BUSINESS — Floyd Trevis, Indianapolis Speedway veteran mechanic, is back in business for his 10th season at the famous classic. Trevis is the mechanic for McNamara Special which recently took the pole post with Dick Rathmann at the wheel setting a new record of 145.974. The car is owned by Lee Elkins of Kalamazoo.

Things moved fast for mechanic Floyd Trevis, a veteran of nine years at the Indianapolis Speedway.

It seemed that the recession had even caught up with the outstanding mechanic of racing cars.

For many years, Trevis was employed by Lee Elkins of Kalamazoo who is the owner of the McNamara Special which recently won the pole position for the "500" Memorial Day.

The car was driven by Dick Rathmann at an average of 145.974 miles per hour.

Last December Elkins decided to quit the racing business and as result Trevis of Youngstown, Ohio, was laid off.

The mechanic then went to work on another car but in a practice run early this month the car wrecked and Trevis looked as if he would be empty handed for the classic. He was a mechanic without a car.

Elkins suddenly had a change of heart and just two weeks ago bought a new chassis and he hired Trevis to do the mechanics.

They put a five year old engine in the new body and brought Rathmann over from another car to do the driving.

After two warmup runs of 17 laps, Rathmann then drove the McNamara Special at the record pace.

Trevis is guarding "his baby" and is happy to be ready for his 10th year in the annual classic.

Final '500' Qualifing Set for This Weekend

INDIANAPOLIS (AP)—Almost half the 500-mile Memorial Day auto race field remains to be filled in final qualifications tomorrow and Sunday and Cliff Bergere, Indianapolis Motor Speedway mileage champion, figures the winner can come from either end of the ultimate 33-car lineup.

Bergere, who survived 16 Memorial Day races and 6.545½ miles of competitive driving on the big track, looked over the entries today on his annual return as a spectator and opined:

"Jimmy Bryan is about due to win, especially since he has Sam Hanks' 1957 winning car."

And then he hurriedly added, as a loyal Miami, Fla., resident: "So is Jim Rathmann."

Bryan, the national big car champion from Phoenix, qualified the horizontal engine Belond Special last weekend at 144.185 miles an hour for a good starting spot in the third row.

Rathmann, whose brother Dick set a qualifying record of 145.974 for the No. 1 starting spot, is driving the car owned by fellow Miamian Lindsey Hopkins in which Jim finished a close second to Hanks last year. It has been cranky this year and Jim didn't qualify last weekend.

Jim also was a late qualifier last year. He started next-to-last in the field but was leading at 275 miles at a record speed of 136.242 miles an hour. Hanks was back in front at 350 miles and held off the younger Rathmann the rest of the way for the $103,844 top prize.

Bergere, former Hollywood stunt man, retired from racing after the 1947 Indianapolis event because he thought the speeds were getting too high. Mauri Rose won that year at 128.691 miles an hour. Hanks' 1957 record average was 135.601.

Speedway veterans who still have to qualify this weekend include Bill Cheesbourg of Phoenix, Ariz., in one of the Novi Specials; Johnnie Thomson, Boyertown, Pa.; Eddie Sachs, Center Valley, Pa.; Shorty Templeman of Seattle, the national midget car champion; Eddie Johnson, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio; Jimmy Daywalt, Indianapolis; Troy Ruttman, La Mirada, Calif., the 1952 winner; and Freddie Agabashian, Alamo, Calif.

Sooners Want McClellan

DALLAS (AP)—Coach Bud Wilkinson of Oklahoma said last night Mike McClellan, about whom Baylor raised such a ruckus when he left that school to go to Oklahoma, would be welcomed there now.

McClellan is the Stamford, Tex., athlete, who left Baylor after participating in freshman football, and enrolled at Oklahoma but was denied an athletic scholarship when Baylor claimed he had been enticed away.

Answering questions at a press conference following a speech before Dallas and Fort Worth Alumni of Oklahoma, Wilkinson said: "If we had given McClellan a scholarship then Baylor might have had reason to say we enticed him away, claiming that he wouldn't have left if he hadn't had promise of a scholarship.

"However, he dropped out of Baylor, which proves he didn't want to stay there. Now he can go wherever he wants, and we hope he will come to Oklahoma. By then it will have been almost nine months since he left Baylor."

Packers Sign Howton

GREEN BAY, Wis. (AP) — End Bill Howton signed today with the Green Bay Packers for another National Football League season. Howton caught 38 passes for 727 yards and 5 touchdowns last season when he was named on the league's All-Pro team.

AP Wirephoto

FIREMAN — The big fireman in the Yankee bullpen is Ronold Duren who got credit for his first Major League victory yesterday as the Yanks defeated the Tigers, 5-4. Duren has saved six games this season. He was involved in the Kansas City-Yankee trade last year, which sent Billy Martin to the Athletics.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

Patient's Complaint: Misses Short Iron Shots. Diagnoisis: Arms and Hands Blocked.

Treatment: Open the stance by pulling the left foot back two to three inches behind the right.

The open stance is advised for full shots with the seven, eight and nine irons and the pitching wedge for a definite reason. These clubs have relatively short shafts, so the swing you use with them is relatively short. With a shorter swing, the body turn on the backswing is shortened. So the open stance, which restricts the body turn on the backswing, is all right here.

It's on the downswing that the open stance is really helpful on short iron shots, because one of the problems created by the shortened swing is getting the left hip out of the way so the arms and hands will have plenty of room to pass on through. The open stance, you see, moves the left hip partially out of the way to begin with.

Don't exaggerate the point. If the stance is too open, the backswing will be cramped. Here again we're looking for one of golf's happy mediums.

Burdette Defeats Giants

Cubs Win on Break

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The next batter who lifts a foul fly against Philadelphia pitching in the vicinity of home plate better be prepared to duck. It is more than likely that Stan Lopata, the Phillies' anguished catcher, will whop him on the head with his mask.

Poor Lope. Twice in a little over two weeks he muffed a routine pop foul. Each time the opposition took advantage of the "life" to score the winning runs.

Chicago had two on and two out in the second inning last night when Ernie Banks raised what appeared to be an inning ending foul to the right of home plate. Lopata camped nonchalantly under it — and dropped it. Banks then walloped a three-run homer into the upper left field stands to account for the Cubs' winning margin in their 7-4 victory.

On May 5 in Los Angeles, Philadelphia and the Dodgers were locked in a 5-5 deadlock in the 14th inning. Los Angeles had two out, Charlie Neal popped a pitch up behind home plate. Lopata waited for the ball then dropped it.

Neal then walked and scored the winning run on a long single by Carl Furillo.

In the only other National League game, Milwaukee trimmed San Francisco's first place lead to a game and a half, defeating the Giants 9-3. The loss ended the Giants' five-game winning streak. Two other scheduled night games —Los Angeles at Cincinnati and St. Louis at Pittsburgh — were postponed because of rain.

Banks drove in four runs as the Cubs displaced the Phillies in fourth place. The slugging shortstop banged a single and double besides his eighth home run of the campaign.

Moe Drabowsky needed some help in the eighth before registering his second mound triumph against four losses. Jack Sanford, last year's rookie of the year, bowed for the fourth time. He has won three. Willie Jones and Chuck Essegian homered for the losers.

World Series hero Lew Burdette quieted all rumors of a possible bullpen demotion with a strong pitching effort. The Braves' fidgety righthander spaced eight hits for his fourth victory against three defeats. His only troublesome batter was Orlando Cepeda who drove in two Giant runs with his 12th home run. The rookie first baseman also doubled and singled.

Milwaukee made short work of Ruben Gomez, scoring six runs in the first two innings. Frank Torre drove in three runs with his first home run of the year and Wes Covington knocked in two with a pair of singles.

Rain, 10-Run Rule Cut Softball Short

Only half of last night's scheduled four-game City League softball program went off as planned and those two contests were cut short by lopsided scores.

The two scheduled International League games at Beaudette Park were postponed on account of wet grounds and the league's 10-run rule made quick work of the activity at North Side Park.

Both were International League games and both lasted only four innings. Borden's routed State Hospital, 13-3, and the Lakeside Royals handed Dostal Foundry a 12-1 shellacking.

No-Hitter at Wichita

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Carlton Willey pitched a no-hitter last night as Wichita defeated Louisville 6 to 0 in the American Assn.

The Milwaukee farmhand allowed only two men to get on base, both on walks. One was doubled up trying to steal.

Officials Hold Spring Confab Today, Saturday

Bowl Puzzle, Athletic Code to Be Discussed by Policy Makers

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP) — The Big Ten Conference holds its spring business meeting Friday and Saturday with a Rose Bowl puzzle and more work scheduled on its athletic code.

The policy-making faculty representatives and athletic directors can't do much about the Rose Bowl problem which confronts the Pacific Coast Conference because of the planned withdrawal of UCLA, Southern California and California in 1959.

However, the Big Ten officials may discuss, informally, what course they may take if the PCC and Tournament of Roses Committee should become embroiled over what West Coast representatives should face the Big Ten bowl delegate in the 1960 Pasadena classic, and thereafter.

As for its own athletic code, the Big Ten will:

Consider relaxing its recruiting policy to permit off-campus interviews by coaches of prep stars, if invited, and allowing one expense-paid campus visit by a prospective athlete.

Study a proposal to tighten admission standards for financed athletes, requiring them to be in the upper two-thirds of their high school graduating classes to become eligible for aid on basis of need.

And finally act on a tentatively-approved cutback from 100 to 75 aid tenders per school with a possible amendment that would provide for a dollar limitation rather than a maximum number of tenders.

Champ Offered $100,000 to Fight John Summerlin

DETROIT (AP) — Heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson has been offered $100,000 to defend his title against Detroit's Johnny Summerlin.

Promoter C. W. Smith made the offer yesterday. Summerlin, of course, must defeat Nino Valdes in their non-televised bout here Saturday night to solidify the offer.

READY TO RETIRE — Venerable Ray Fisher can still put them across the plate at 71 years of age. Tomorrow, Fisher will retire after making baseball his life for 60 years. He will have completed 38 seasons at Michigan, having 15 Big Ten champions and an NCAA champion among his records.

After 38 Years at Michigan

Fisher Retires Tomorrow

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Baseball has been Ray Fisher's life for 60 years. Tomorrow he'll leave the game he loves.

Fisher has run a cycle from the farm fields of Vermont where he started, through both major leagues to the college dugout. Now after six decades as player and coach, Fisher retires, five months short of his 71st birthday.

The venerable Michigan coach, who still has a twinkle in his eye, and a New England twang in his voice, will conclude his 38th and final season by pitching to his collegians in batting practice.

"I still can throw and hit fungoes to the boys," said Fisher, who has reached the University's compulsory retirement age.

"I have a little trouble reaching over for ground balls. But I can get those hit right at me."

Fisher began playing baseball as a boy on his father's farm at Middlebury, Vt.

"There were no sandlots in those days," he said. "I used to bat a hard rubber ball off of the barn and catch the carom.

"When I was 18, I went up to Valleyfield, Que., to play summer ball with a bunch of French-Canadians. I got $1.35 a week working in a factory, my room and board and $15 for every game I pitched. I thought I was living on top of the world."

By 1910, Fisher had worked his way to the New York Highlanders, forerunners of today's Yankees. He pitched eight seasons for the Highlanders and two more for the Cincinnati Reds. His best season was 1915 when he posted an 18-11 record for the second division Highlanders.

Fisher played for the Reds when they won the scandal-ridden 1919 World Series with the Chicago Black Sox. He worked the third game of the series and lost 3-0 to Dickie Kerr.

One of his memorable experiences was a game with the New York Giants while with the Reds.

"It went 18 innings," he said. "Larry Doyle beat me with a hit. I almost walked him to get at Fred Merkle, but changed my mind."

Fisher came to Michigan in 1921 after Branch Rickey recommended him for the coaching job.

He turned out 15 Big Ten champions and one NCAA champion in the next 38 seasons. A flock of Michigan players became major leaguers after Fisher's training.

Olympic Group Settles Squaw Valley Dispute

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The California Olympic Commission has made its peace with Wayne Poulsen, an arline pilot who owns the largest chunk of Squaw Valley, site of the 1960 Winter Games. The dispute threatened to seriously impair construction.

Samuel C. Shenk, Poulsen's attorney, said the pact "will not restrict the games and will at the same time give Mr. Poulsen a reasonable amount for lands that have been taken." He declined to give any figure.

Indiana Defends Crown in 58th League Meet

Preliminaries and Discus Finals on Tap Today; 214 Athletes Compete

LAFAYETTE, Ind. (AP)—Three of the oldest records in the Big Ten book may topple in the 58th conference outdoor track meet which opens at Purdue University today with 214 athletes on hand.

At the same time, Big Ten faculty representatives and athletic directors hold their annual spring business meetings with revision of recruiting policy and the aid-to-athletes plan quite possible.

Indiana's Hoosiers defend their team crown in the two-day track carnival which starts today with mainly preliminaries, plus the discus finals.

In the process of their defense in an expected hot showdown with indoor champion Illinois and Ohio State, the Hoosiers may menace two of the league's most venerable records.

Olympic champion Greg Bell will be gunning for the 23-year-old world broad jump mark of 26-8¼ set by Jesse Owens in the 1935 Big Ten meet. Bell several weeks ago leaped 26-3.

Another Hoosier star, hurdler Willie May, who defends in both the 120 highs and 220 lows, already has matched the 21-year-old high hurdles mark, :14.0, set by Michigan's Bob Osgood in 1937.

Bloomfield Hills Golf Champion

Bloomfield Hills, Class B regional runnerup at Brighton a week ago, added more laurels by winning the Wayne-Oakland League championship at Meadowbrook yesterday.

The Barons compiled a 356 total as Bud Badger took medalist honors with a 78. Northville ranked 2nd at 363, Brighton had 367, Milford 380, West Bloomfield 382, Holly 387, Clarkston 402 and Clarenceville 463.

Fred Schwarze of Northville defeated Jim Thompson of Bloomfield Hills in a playoff for 2nd medalist after both finished with 80s.

Mike Pritchard of Milford took 4th with an 87. Terry Barnes led Holly with 95.

6 Former State Champs Playing at Indianwood

Six former state amateur golf champions were in the starting field today when the 4th annual Detroit Medal Play Championship got under way at Indianwood Country Club.

Ex-champs going to the firing line this afternoon were six-time winner Chuck Kocsis, three-time ruler Glenn Johnson, Bob Babbish, Tom Draper, Ben Smith and Lou Wendrow.

Chick Hendrickson of Ferndale was a late entry to hoist the field to 39 players for the three-day 72-hole invitational tournament.

Eighteen holes were scheduled today, 36 more Saturday and the final 18-hole round Sunday. Babbish is defending champion.

LONDON, Ont. (AP)—The Senior Ontario Rugby Football Union accepted a Dearborn, Mich. team as a full-time member last night.

The Dearborn club made up of players from Detroit and backed by the National Football League Detroit Lions, was originally taken into the league on an exhibition basis only.

Milford Finishes Unbeaten

Wayne-Oakland League champion Milford finished what is believed to be the 1st undefeated baseball season in the school's history and Clarkston clinched 2nd place on the final day of loop play yesterday.

Pontiac finished in the Saginaw Valley League cellar by bowing to Flint Northern 5-2, Bloomfield Hills matched its previous combined total of victories by nipping West Bloomfield 11-10 for its sixth triumph and Millington gained a tie for 2nd with Oxford in the South Central Conference by downing the Wildcats 6-4 in other games.

Terry Anderson flipped a one-hitter and fanned 14 in Milford's 10-0 romp over Brighton. Terry Hoy had three hits and Jim Scheibner homered in the 13th straight win.

A passed ball on a strikeout decided the Clarkston-Holly contest. Freshman Roger Paulson got the life, was sacrificed to 2nd scored the only run of the battle when Larry Stelmach singled. Bob Porritt outpitched George McDaniel allowing two hits to three.

Bloomfield Hills won by coming up with two in the 7th aided by a wild pitch by loser John Lucadam. Jim Gerhardt was the winner.

Flint Northern had enough runs in the 1st two innings to hand Pontiac its 9th season loss in 15 starts. The Chiefs wound up 3-7 in the league. Sacrifice flies by Bob Robaja and Jim Skinner scored the PCH runs.

Oxford dropped its last two league games after being a contender for SCC honors all season.

The Wildcats opened with four in the 1st but were blanked the rest of the way while Millington came back to tie the count in the 4th and go ahead to stay in the 6th. Wally Liley was the loser.

Pitching Dominates Church League Play

Pitching dommated the action as First Baptist, Trinity Baptist, St Luke's Methodist and Columbia Avenue Baptist posted Church League softball victories last night.

Floyd Hicks' one-hit shutout was his 2nd blanking of the week as First Baptist whipped First General Baptist 9-0. He also homered. A three-run home run by Nelson Taylor gave Trinity a 6-5 triumph over First Presbyterian.

Russ Poole allowed only three hits as St. Luke's downed Christian Missionary Alliance 2-1. Columbia avenue downed Bethany Baptist 5-3 aided by Jerry Wheatley's solo homer. Other scores were Church of the Brethren 9, Salvation Army 2, Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian 11, Central Christian 6.

Maples Victors in Undergrads' Three-Way Meet

Birmingham's undergrad track team, bolstered by several seniors, yesterday afternoon, on Wisner field, outscored PCH's non-qualifiers in the state meet (all were sophomores and juniors) in a triangular test, with Waterford's Skippers a distant third. Maples collected 67 and ¾ points to 63¼ for Pontiac, while Skippers had six.

Chiefs' coach Dean Wilson, was pleased with the efforts of his undergrads, including Allen Howze, who won the high hurdles (17.0) and lows (23.2); Bill Ratcliff, winner of the 100 (10.8) and 220 (23.35); Willie Robinson, Bill Lee and Charley Kimbrough, 4-way tie in the high jump at 5-8, won by Maples' Chappell; Don Ledsinger, broad jump (19-9½); the medley relay team (Turner, Van LaCore, Brown, Ratcliff), 1:39.5, and Brown's 3rd in the shot (45 feet, 4 inches), won by Maples' Palmer (46 feet, 9 and ¾ inches.)

Cold Weather Keeps Fishermen Off Lakes

LANSING (AP) — Fishermen showed up in scanty numbers for the opening of the muskie and walleyed and northern pike seasons on lakes Michigan and Superior yesterday, the State Conservation Department reported today.

Cold weather was the main reason.

Conservation field men said fishing pressure was considerably under normal on big and little bays De Noc in the Upper Peninsula, one of the state's top walleye areas.

Pitching Steals Show at Drayton

Pitching stole the spotlight in the Waterford Softball League last night at Drayton Plains with victories going to Sno-Bol and the Arrows.

Sno-Bol's Harlan (Fat) Keith and Ed Miller of Lakeland Pharmacy hooked up in a brilliant 15-inning mound duel with Keith finally winning, 1-0.

Ken Orr's single, a sacrifice and Monte Tipton's bloop hit to right pinned Miller with the loss. Keith allowed only four hits and fanned 20 batters.

In the opener of the double bill, Almer Cervoss pitched a nifty one-hitter as the Arrows shut out Wall's Service, 3-0.

Teeing Off

Grandma tries to win her own golf tournament for the 10th time today in an 18-hole medal play event at the Brainerd Municipal course in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Who's Grandma? She's Mrs. Regina Hahn, a living example of the oft-quoted saying, "You're only as old as you feel."

Mrs. Hahn, who turned 71 years of age last Tuesday, has been playing golf since 1910 and still smacks the ball with authority.

She has collected 55 silver trophies and more than 200 awards during her illustrious career, including a city championship and a berth in the semifinals of the women's Southern tourney.

MRS. HAHN

But she has failed to win her own event in nine previous attempts.

Regina's Birthday Tournament, the official handle for the affair instituted in her honor, had its inception in 1949 at the urging of city commissioner George McInturff and golfing friends of Mrs. Hahn.

The tourney is held at the Brainerd Municipal course each year and an entry list of 35 is about average.

Mrs. Hahn — "Just call me Grandma"—classifies herself as a 100-shooter. "But I'll be down to around 92 before the summer ends," she says.

Hats off to Grandma, 71 years young and still going strong. We hope she can win her own tournament before she decides to put away the clubs. Maybe today's the day.

SHORT PUTTS

Sam Snead, one of the nation's greatest drawing cards, has given next week's Western Open its final touch of magic by filing his entry. The Slammer had been the only "name" player outside the fold until yesterday when his entry was received by Red Run officials.

Just prior to Snead's entrance, Dick Mayer had registered. Mayer, relatively inactive on the winter tour, was last year's National Open champion, "World" champ and leading money winner. For those achievements, he was voted "professsional golfer of the year."

Plum Hollow had its first hole-in-one of the season yesterday when Earl Tracy of Royal Oak aced the 165-yard 14th with his 5-iron. Tracy shot 88 for the round.

Grill 9 Beats Jewelers, 3-1

A two-run uprising in the top of the 9th brought Griff's Grill a 3-1 extra-inning victory over Shaw's Jewelers Thursday in Class A City League baseball action at Wisner Field.

Fireballing Jim Jones, who had relieved starting pitcher Herman Bishop in the 8th inning, was the victim of Griff's winning rally.

Southpaw Les Stone shackled the Jewelers, his former teammates, on just three hits. Griff's made nine safeties against the combined offerings of Bishop and Jones.

Griff's tagged Jones with the defeat in the 9th on a walk and singles by DeWayne Sheffer, Bob Uhan and Jim Berg.

Shaw's took a 1-0 lead in the 2nd when two walks and a wild pitch moved Bishop around to 3rd from where he scored on an infield out. Griff's tied the count in the 6th as Berg raced home on Ted Wharry's sacrifice fly.

Near $1 Billion Sent to Allies

Ike Reveals Figure for Last 6 Months of '57 to Congress

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reported today that nearly a billion dollars in weapons and military equipment were shipped to overseas allies during the last six months of 1957.

Reporting to Congress on the government's foreign aid program, he said that the new deliveries boosted to 17 billion the amount of military aid given friendly countries since 1950.

About 45 per cent of the latest shipments went to the Far East. European countries got 30 per cent and other areas the remainder.

Weapons included tanks, artillery, armored vehicles, ammunition, communications equipment, ships and jet aircraft. But Eisenhower said weapons alone will not provide adequate security for free nations.

"It is not enough," he said, "for the nations of the free world to be strong in their defenses. Strength, security and justice are needed on other areas: In business and economic affairs, in political and social institutions, in opportunities for education, and in the growth of individuals in mind and spirit.

"Above all there must exist, in every country, a conviction held by the overwhelming majority of its citizens that hopes and desires for a decent life can be realized and fulfilled."

Eisenhower submitted a 32-page report, along with a covering letter, which stressed the economic development programs the United States was sponsoring to help build a solid financial footing for Allied countries.

Elizabeth Taylor Will Star in Own Company's Film

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD INS) — Elizabeth Taylor WILL star in the first picture she and Mike Todd Jr. are making for their own company.

It has an August starting date and will be made on location in the U.S.

I can't tell you the title, because according to Bill Doll, long associated with the late Mike Todd, "It's based on an actual occurrence taken from a newspaper story and we have to get clearance. Mike was working on it before he decided to make 'Don Quixote.'"

Bill went on to tell me that under the management of Mike Jr., the Todd company is operating full blast.

Currently, "Around the World in 80 Days" has opened in only 140 theatres, "but we expect to have it in 900 theaters by summer. Mike Jr.'s due here any minute."

In addition, a music publishing company has been formed to reactivate all the tunes used in early Todd stage hits.

Still another iron in the fire is reviving the Todd produced "Hot Mikado" and "Star and Garter" as Las Vegas revues, the latter with Gypsy Rose Lee and Bobby Clarke.

A modern western to make the old cowhands blanch, "Worthless Young Man," all about a Texas ranch where there are as many imported cars as cactus plants, has been bought by MGM for Glenn Ford.

Printed originally as a novelette by James Atlee Phillips in a national magazine, the story has been turned over to Phillip Barry Jr., to produce.

When Marilyn Monroe gets here June 1 for her picture, "Some Like It Hot," she starts ukulele lessons. This is the instrument she plays as a musician in an all-girl band.

Matty Melneck is lining up professional girl instrumentalists and will also engage Cliff Edwards, the original ukulele Ike, to teach Marilyn.

Tony Curtis and Jack Lemmon, who are in the film with Marilyn, do many scenes dresed as women.

All About Men . . . Chapter Eleven

Don't Tell 'em to 'Go To' Yet

AS YOU SUCCEED in life, remember to look behind you.

By JOSEPH H. PECK, M.D.

The span from 35 to 55 includes the most productive years of your life, although you have yet to reach the peak of your earning ability.

If, by the end of this period, you have accumulated a fortune, you'll be ahead of my record. Had I squirreled away that kind of hay, the weak moral fibre which binds my good resolutions would long since have been broken.

My fourth or fifth wife would be shedding me, my children would be tramps and at least one of my grandchildren would have been kidnaped and held for ransom.

The first lesson you learn on the way up the mountain is that no matter what kind of work you choose, you will have to call someone "Mister" and say, "Yes, sir."

Your wife will have to butter up your boss, unless you want to be leap-frogged, and there never will be a time in your life when you won't have bosses riding your neck.

If you remain content and don't waste time envying others, you will have more time and energy to prepare yourself for advancement.

Of course, this will mean more bosses, heavier burdens and more persons dedicated to the task of giving you the business; for the higher you climb, the more you show your behind, and there is an awful temptation to kick it.

TRIBAL CUSTOMS

Sometimes men find that their religion or race is a drawback in their company. If you do, move before you accumulate too many responsibilities.

You can't reform society, and kicking and creating discontent among others will do no good. Teach yourself, however, to get along with anyone, regardless of racial, political or religious beliefs.

It is, of course, unfortunate that to advance in the business world a man must conform to certain tribal customs. It helps if you are the same color as your colleagues, attend the same church as your boss and vote for the same candidates. Much of the same type of conformity improves your chances in the community life. Your car must be of recent vintage, if your neighbors' are.

Maybe you know more about running the business than your boss, but keep it a secret unless he asks you for help. As a blueprint for success, the formulas corporation executives so generously bequeath to graduating classes on commencement day don't work as well as Albert Einstein's: "If A is success in life, the formula is: A equals X plus Y plus Z, X being work and Y being play." When he asked what Z was, he said: "Z is keeping your mouth shut."

There is plenty of room at the top, so don't get discouraged if progress seems slow. Your day may not come until you're 65, but even that is something to look forward to—the time when you can tell them all to kiss your elbow.

A couple of years after we moved to our California farm, I went into a record shop to find the lady behind the counter grinning at me.

"My husband and I were watching you walk up the street a while ago," she said, "and he remarked that you were the first man he ever saw who could strut with a hole in the seat of his pants.

BE THOU CONTENT

I told her that for 40 years I had been waiting for the time when I could do as I pleased, and that the shirttail sticking through my trouser seat was a flag of independence.

"God grant that we will see the day when my husband and I can do likewise," she said.

I cannot prescribe a better formula for the solution to your problems than the one found in St. Paul's letter to the Philippians: "For I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content."

I am sure I have cured more ulcers with that little quotation than with any drug.

Beware Sack Dresses, He Warns Bankers

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP) — Don't allow female bank employes to wear the sack dress, bankers were advised yesterday.

"A half day's deposits could be carried off in one of those maternity bags and the larger sizes might even conceal a wheelbarrow," New York management consultant Millard C. Faught told the 55th annual meeting of the New Jersey Bankers Assn.

The not-so-serious Mr. Faught said he believed that's what the sack dresses were made for.

Tobaccos Firm, Trade Moderate

NEW YORK (AP) — Tobaccos steadied as the stock market moved slightly higher in moderately active trading early today.

Most pivotal stocks were fractionally higher. There was a scattering of losers and a number of key issues were unchanged. Moves either way were limited to about a point.

Tobaccos either showed little change or a slight improvement after their sharp break of yesterday on a prediction by a tobacco marketing official that a new study linking lung cancer and smoking was coming soon. The statement was denied today by a government scientist.

Motors showed scant change, but a big 10,000-share block of Ford was traded at 38¾, off ¼.

American Tobacco recouped a fraction of its 3⅛ loss yesterday. Lorillard was firm, Philip Morris about unchanged and Ligget & Myers eased.

Slay the Giants, Billy Graham Urges in Frisco

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Evangelist Billy Graham urged listeners at the Cow Palace last night to slay their giants, just as David killed Goliath.

The giants, he declared, are "communism, the H-bomb, racial discrimination, moral deterioration and the deterioration of our foreign policy."

Graham gave a sermon dedicated to youth before an overflow audience of 17,000.

Graham was again critical of President Eisenhower's foreign policy and noted former President Truman's warning "that even today we stand on the precipice of one of the greatest disasters our nation has ever seen."

The giants that youth face, the evangelist said, are "jealousy, disobedience, carelessness, sex and the temptation of conformity." To slay the giants, he said, youth can use five "stones—faith, respect, devotional life, humility and preparedness."

Set Summer Hours at Oakland Market

The Oakland County Market, 2350 Pontiac Lake road, Waterford Township, has announced summer hours.

The market is now open Tuesday and Saturday mornings from 7 a.m. to 1:30 p.m., and Thursdays from 2-8 p.m.

Construction work has also begun on repairing the leaky roof.

Engineer at Chrysler Electroplaters' Head

CINCINNATI (AP) — Herberth E. Head of Chrysler Corp. Detroit, has been elected president of the American Electroplaters' Society.

He succeeds Francis T. Eddy, president of the Technicraft Laboratories Inc., Thomaston, Conn.

Head was elected at the annual meeting of the governing council of the AES. A native of Owensboro, Ky., he is an engineer and has been associated with the automotive industry for nearly 40 years.

Cheered by 2,500 Dems at Chicago

Truman, Stevenson Blast 'Mess' at Home, Abroad

CHICAGO (AP) — Harry S. Truman and Adlai Stevenson told cheering Democrats last night that the Eisenhower administration is making a mess of things at home and abroad.

"When I think about the mess that's being made in Washington, I almost explode," the former President said. "We must do something before it is too late."

Stevenson, twice defeated Democratic presidential nominee, speaking of the "mess" in Washington, said: "Well, we've really got one now, and they've made it worldwide; it's our best export commodity."

The party's top leaders, speaking at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner sponsored by the Cook County, Chicago, Democrats, were cheered by more than 2,500 persons.

Truman criticized Republican handling of both foreign and domestic affairs, saying: "There were riots and outbreaks in South America, Africa, the Middle East and Europe, which displayed for all to see, that we have lost friends and friendship with our allies . . .

"We may be on the brink of one of the greatest foreign policy disasters in our history."

Truman listed a series of "adversities" he said the GOP brought down on the country.

They are, he said, reduced farm income, the rising cost of living, increased unemployment, a boost in business failures, a climbing budget deficit, permitting "disaster to threaten us from abroad" and slowing the economy to a point where shrinkage is setting in.

The former President told the Democratic gathering that the present administration is an accident.

Firm to Discontinue New Movies on TV

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (AP) — Promoters of an experiment linking movies and television—considered by many as a form of pay TV—have conceded defeat.

Video Independent Theaters, Inc., of Oklahoma City will discontinue its telemovies in Bartlesville June 6.

Video President Henry Griffing said he still has faith in the idea of piping first-run movies into homes and showing them over closed circuit TV.

"We just happened to be premature," he said.

Video, a chain theater firm, has sustained heavy financial losses in the operation, he said.

Telemovies were started in the northeast Oklahoma town of 20,000 last September amid a big ballyhoo and predictions by video they would spread across the Southwest.

Attracted by the new movies, some 300 Bartlesville residents subscribed. But the surge of customers stopped and cancellations more than offset new customers after the first of the year.

Officials Refrain From Eating Rice

CALCUTTA — In view of the Indian rice shortage, ministers of the West Bengal government recently decided to refrain from eating rice on three days of each week. Some of them will not eat rice at all until the supply situation improves.

Their decision was made known to emphasize the urgency of restricting the consumption of the grain. It is probable that western style hotels and restaurants in and around Calcutta will be advised not to serve rice.

Answer to Previous Puzzle

TOAST OF RUSSIA—Van Cliburn, 23-year-old American pianist who made world news headlines in Moscow by winning the Soviet Union's International Tchaikovsky Piano Competition in Russia, will be a guest on the NBC-TV network's "Steve Allen Show" at 8 p.m. Sunday. This week the young Texan performed in Carnegie Hall, where he received a standing ovation.

'Tonight' Show Engaged Artist

Van Cliburn to Appear on Steve Allen Hour to Repay Old Debt

NEW YORK — "I suppose I should have had a clue about how really great this kid was, when Steve flipped over his talent," Skitch Henderson says reflectively when he discusses Van Cliburn.

The 23-year-old Texas pianist, in his first TV appearance since winning the Soviet Union's International Tchaikovsky Piano Competition in Moscow last month, will perform on "The Steve Allen Show" at 8 p.m. Sunday over the NBC-TV network.

AMAZED AT FAME

Henderson, musical director of the show, is directly responsible for Cliburn's loyalty to the Allen group, but even he had no idea that the lean and lanky pianist would win such international renown.

It all started several winters ago when Henderson was studying theory and harmony at Juilliard School of Music. ("You know how it is, you're ALWAYS studying, if you're a musician.")

He met many of the students and, as so often happens in a school like Juilliard, word got around concerning which students had exceptional talent — and Cliburn's name came up repeatedly as being one of the "big ones."

Because he felt that it was tremendously important to give youngsters just out of school a boost, Henderson auditioned Cliburn and signed him for two "Tonight" appearances.

PIANIST EATS

"The attention gained by those two 'Tonight' guest shots kept that kid eating for a year," says Skitch. "He played concerts in dozens of small cities, in front of women's clubs, and that sort of thing. But that was good! You see, in this country it's the first year after graduation when most of these kids hit the dust and decide they don't want to starve."

"If a designer spends 10 years of apprenticeship nobody thinks a thing of it. An artist isn't allowed that long to season. He has to make it, and make it fast, or they label him a has-been. If he hangs on the fence, giving one or two concerts around New York and eking out a living by teaching, they think he's no good. What a waste!"

"Sure, I knew the boy was good, but I honestly don't think I knew just HOW good. Now that I look back on it (Cliburn's first appearance on 'Tonight' was on Jan. 15, 1955) I remember the way Steve acted. He was always so reserved with our 'longhair guests,' never said a word to them, even acted kind of shy when they were a around. But not with this kid. He really fractured Steve.

"That big, skinny boy getting all that wonderful music out of a piano! I should have known he was more than just another good musician, that he was really as special as the kids at Juilliard had told me he was. Kids get so enthusiastic that you tend to put a few grains of salt on what they tell you — but this is one time they were really right."

Johnny Mathis Revives Music You Recognize

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — I'd like you to meet a sterling young gentleman named Johnny Mathis who is credited by some with bringing back music from wherever it's been.

WILSON

A lean, laughing, articulate, 23-year-old Negro from San Francisco who wanted to sing opera but settled for "pop," Johnny soon to star in Hollywood, in "The Johnny Mathis Story."

So let's join him at a restaurant.

The Italian food's stacked high. Johnny's just made five record "sides" and is cuttin' out in a second for the Copacabana where he's jammíng 'em.

"How do you account for your appeal to adults?"

"They dig the familiar songs. Cole Porter and Harold Arlen are my favorite writers. Cole Porter didn't appeal to the kids. But the parents always dug him and now the kids do, and they think Johnny Mathis made him famous." He laughed at the idea.

"How did the Johnny Mathis story start?"

MATHIS

"I was going to San Francisco State College and wanted to teach English and coach track. (He'd high-jumped 6-5½). My private teacher told me I didn't have the voice to sing opera so I fiddled around with pop tunes."

One day at a jazz session he made a big hit, and acquired a woman manager, Helen Noga, who got him a record contract.

"We pulled a lot of strings to get on Ed Sullivan's show and it came off bad," he remembered glumly. "We were supposed to do two songs and wound up doing a chorus of one. It was hard to get on shows after that.

"It wasn't Ed's fault. But some poor little son-of-a-gun gets the butt of everything when's he's starting. But that's Show Biz. We had it rough."

He did better with Perry Como, Eddie Fisher and George Gobel—his records, "Wonderful, Wonderful," "It's Not for Me to Say," and "Chances Are," got big—and now he's turning down TV.

"They don't think I should be exposed too much on TV while I'm doing the Hollywood Starsville bit," Johnny said.

Johnny takes on credit for picking the songs. "If it were left to me, I wouldn't sell two records. I always pick the wrong side."

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . .

Ernest Borgnine arrives soon to work on "The Vikings" premiere and forget his bustup . . . Johnnie Ray's option was picked up by 20th Century-Fox . . . Diosa Costello set up a talent scholarship at the Puerto Rico orphanage where she was raised . . . Brigitte Bardot's film, "Mam'zelle Pigalle," has only one scene in which she's fully clothed.

Predicts Nuclear Vessels to Revolutionize Shipping

By JOSEPH HANSON

PHILADELPHIA (INS) — U.S. Maritime Administrator Clarence G. Morse says atomic cargo ships, such as the N. S. Savannah whose keel was laid yesterday at Camden, N. J., offer "even greater possibilities for change than steam once presented to sail."

Morse outlined his views on nuclear shipping in an interview with INS. The interview follows:

Q. Advantages of greater range afforded by nuclear engines seem obvious for naval vessels. But why should a merchant ship need so much greater range?

A. "The new 'Savannah' is an advanced round-the-world ship. Defense dictates that, if necessary, the United States should possess around-the-world shipping capable of operation, say if the Panama or Suez Canals should be shut. This ship will be capable of operating alone, at top speed over long distances for three years on one fuel loading. Bunkering problems are eliminated as are problems of trim and draft occasioned by usage of conventional fuel during a voyage."

Q. Will A-ships eventually become more economical to run than conventional ships?

A. "Conventional fuel costs are rising and are expected to continue to rise. Nuclear fuel costs are coming down. Technology is finding better and more efficient ways of utilizing nuclear energy. As we develop mass production techniques and get away from the laboratory stage, bring in private American industry to develop nuclear power uses in an unfettered way, the costs will undoubtedly level off."

Q. Will A-power mean vessels need less time in port, and be able to make longer voyages in shorter time than present fast freighters?

A. "A 20-knot freighter is a fast ship, and the Savannah is expected to have a speed of 20¼-knots. A modern nuclear ship would also have advanced cargo handling gear. She could therefore handle more cargo faster than most existing cargo ships. Nuclear energy permits sustained high speed operation at sea. A nuclear ship, therefore, with her better cargo handling methods would spend less time in port and be able to make more trips.

"The two major advantages of nuclear fuel are an eventual reduction in fuel cost and savings in size and weight of the propulsion machinery, as compared with size and weight of conventional steam plant plus its oil bunkers' requirements, with consequent greater cargo-carrying capacity."

Q. Will nuclear shipping provide actual benefits to consumers?

A. "When nuclear ships bring lower ton-mile shipping costs it can be expected that the American importing and exporting industry will pass such savings on to the consumer. Savings resulting from more efficient operation are passed on to the American public in many ways — reductions in freight rates, dividends, higher wages and new projects."

Q. Will the change to atomic power mean anything to seamen aboard the vessels?

A. "Nuclear ships should offer opportunities requiring a greater degree of education and training. The opportunities should be a challenge that could attract young technical-minded men to the American Merchant Marine. Better ships mean more desirable career opportunities. Ships are excellent for training nuclear technicians and provide an ideal vehicle for bringing knowledge of peaceful nuclear power to more people."

Buried Ship Found

NEW YORK (AP)—Workmen digging the foundation of a new office building in lower Manhattan have uncovered skeleton bits of a wooden ship dating back to pre-Revolutionary days. Apparently the ship was abandoned and covered over during the city's program of building more land along the waterfront.

Fluoride Treatments Set for State's Youth

LANSING (AP) — A record 36,000 Michigan youngsters will get their teeth painted with flouride solution in the 11th annual summer program sponsored by the State Health Dept.

Applications will be given at 195 centers in 46 counties by dental students hygienists from the University of Michigan and the University of Detroit. Parents pay the cost of the application.

Painting flouride on children's teeth reduces tooth decay by 40 per cent, the department said. The solution is applied at four sittings.

Chrysler Awarded 2 Missile Contracts

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chrysler Corp. has been awarded two Army contracts totaling $1,782,002 for work at the Michigan missile plant at Sterling Township in Macomb County, near Detroit, Rep. Robert J. McIntosh (R-Mich) said yesterday.

One, for $751,000, is for continuing work on simulators for Jupiter missile ground support equipment and will provide continued employment for one year for 75 people.

The other, for $1,031,002, is for continued work at the same plant on Redstone missile ground equipment. This will provide continued work for one year for 100 people, McIntosh said.

Executive Pay Leveling Off

Upward Trend Slows to Crawl in 1957 for Industries' Top Brass

NEW YORK (AP) — The upward trend in executive pay slowed to a crawl in 1957, a survey by Business Week magazine showed today.

"Raises for the top brass were not so substantial as in past years and there were fewer of them" the publication said. "Some executives took cuts."

Leading the corporate pay parade was Arthur B. Homer, president of Bethlehem Steel Corp., who was paid $623,336 in salary and bonuses before taxes.

By contrast, the magazine noted no fewer than three executives received $700,000 or more in 1955 and one—Eugene Grace—got $809,000 in 1956. Grace retired last year as Bethlehem Steel's board chairman.

Grace's pay last year—he became honorary board chairman following his retirement as chief executive officer—was cut to $619,036. This made him the second highest paid executive in the nation?

Harlow H. Curtice, president of General Motors Corp. and third highest on the list, also took a hefty cut—from $695,100 in salary and bonus in 1956 to $558,875 last year.

All told, Business Week said, 33 executives were paid $300,000 or more during 1957. Twenty-one of these work for two corporations—Bethlehem Steel and General Motors.

Biggest increase went to L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler Corp. A $238,000 incentive bonus hiked his 1957 pay to $488,900 and moved him up to fifth place among the year's top money earners. He got no bonus in 1956.

Fourth on the list was Stewart J. Cort, vice president of Bethlehem Steel, with $497,082.

A knot is a speed of one nautical mile or 6,080 feet an hour. The conventional mile is 5,280 feet long.
