

What's 'Improper' for an Official Like Sherman Adams?

By DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — What's "proper" and "improper" in the Washington world — and what's "ethical" and "unethical?"

Judging by the headline publicity given to the Sherman Adams case in the last few days and to the Gen. Vaughan episode during the Truman administration, it is "improper" for any official to do for a friend what he would do for a stranger.

General Vaughan, who was military aide to President Truman, was unjustly maligned for accepting a "deep freeze" and other gifts from old friends who happened to have business relationships with the government.

This correspondent wrote on Aug. 17, 1949, in defense of Gen. Vaughan as follows:

30 Pct. of City Flooded as Creek Waters Surge Past Levee

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP) —

Floodwaters of a Wabash River tributary picked up speed today, after overwhelming an earthen levee protecting the city of West Terre Haute, and spread out to inundate 30 per cent of the community.

The 4,000 residents of this western Indiana town near the Illinois border had been alerted last night to the danger from swollen Sugar Creek. Civil Defense officials reported no casualties among the 1,000 persons forced from their homes.

An Indiana National Guard truck, a jeep and a pickup truck were swept away when the river poured over the levee at 2:30 a. m. about a mile upstream from where the creek empties into the Wabash.

Six men working on the levee were rescued. The water flowed across U.S. 40 five blocks west of the Wabash and closed the heavily traveled highway.

West Terre Haute firemen prepared to shift their equipment to a schoolhouse on higher ground. Engineers inspected the main Wabash bridge on U.S. 40 connecting Terre Haute with its sister city, and decided not to close the structure.

Residents piled themselves and their furniture on trucks. Many persons were taken to a Red Cross emergency center in the Central Grade School. Many had to be forced to leave.

New Clerk Judges Name Mrs. Allen as County Clerk

MRS. FLORENCE J. ALLEN

Plans to Complete Term of Husband; Will Not File for Election

Appointment was made today of Mrs. Florence J. Allen to fill the unexpired term of her late husband as Oakland County clerk.

The announcement was made jointly by Circuit Judges Clark J. Adams, Frank L. Doty, George B. Hartrick and H. Russell Holland.

Mrs. Allen, 61, will serve the remaining 6½ months in the $10,250-a-year job left vacant when her husband, Lynn D. Allen, 59, died of a heart attack May 31.

The appointment was made under the stipulation that Mrs. Allen would not seek the new county office of clerk and register of deeds in the August primary.

The four judges, in making their announcement, said they stipulated this because they believed "it would be manifestly unfair to the candidates who have already filed for the office of County Clerk, and to those who may file for the office of clerk now that the same is combined, to appoint a person who would seek the office with the advantages that might accrue as the designated appointee of the Circuit Bench."

The Board of Supervisors on Friday merged the offices of clerk and register of deeds.

Mrs. Allen, who lives at 402 South Shore Dr., Waterford Township, said she had intended to seek the office of clerk before the merger.

She said she was "extremely pleased and honored" with her new appointment.

"I will try my best to run the office as efficiently and courteously as Lynn did," she said.

Stierer, who is coordinating the renewal plans, said the city will describe in detail what it intends to do in the project and how it will go about making plans.

"The success of the project depends to a large degree on the cooperation of the people directly affected," Stierer said. He hoped that Thursday's meeting would help smooth the way for the detailed planning stage that got under way recently.

The proposed $4,030,372 renewal area is bounded roughly by Pike street on the north, the Grand Trunk railroad on the west, Osmond street on the south and on the east by Paddock, Perkins and Parkhurst streets.

The city estimates there are about 155 acres involved, of which about 35 per cent is to be cleared and 65 per cent to be rehabilitated or conserved. Of the 451 homes on the 117.5 acres of improved land involved, approximately 29 per cent are substandard, according to the 1950 U. S. housing census.

The federal government would pay two-thirds of the total net cost of the project, if it is approved, and Pontiac would pay the rest. About $90,000 in federal money would be needed. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Win Trip to Northern Michigan

HEADING NORTH — Four Pontiac Press carrier boys and their supervisor headed north this morning on a vacation trip which the boys won in a recent circulation contest. They are shown stowing away their luggage in a station wagon just before the start. Shown left to right are Everett J. Stamper and Michael D. Greenlee, both of Walled Lake; Suburban Circulation Manager Ario McCully; Howard Kelly of Keego Harbor and James E. Werthman, of Pontiac. The party will go to the Upper Peninsula, inspecting the Sault locks, Straits bridge, and Tahquamenon Falls. On the return trip they will come through the Tawas area and stop for some fishing before arriving home Thursday night.

City Slates Meeting on Urban Renewal

A public meeting to discuss plans for Pontiac's first urban renewal project will be held by city officials at 8 p.m. Thursday in the City Commission chambers.

"All residents and property owners in the affected area are especially invited to attend, although the meeting is open to all," said assistant city manager Robert A. Stierer, in charge of the project.

Stierer, who is coordinating the renewal plans, said the city will describe in detail what it intends to do in the project and how it will go about making plans.

"The success of the project depends to a large degree on the cooperation of the people directly affected," Stierer said. He hoped that Thursday's meeting would help smooth the way for the detailed planning stage that got under way recently.

Americans Set to Flee Lebanon

4,000 Put on Alert as Civil War Intensifies in Beirut

BEIRUT, Lebanon (UPI) — The 4,000 Americans in Lebanon were alerted today for evacuation should the spreading civil war endanger their lives further. Already an estimated 100 Lebanese have been killed in three days of street fighting.

Officials in Washington said the United States is "ready to do what has to be done to protect American lives," raising the possibility the 1,800 Marines of the U.S. Sixth Fleet might be landed to protect them if Lebanon requests such action.

The Marines were first alerted last May when the anti-government riots began. Britain alerted 2,000 paratroopers on nearby Cyprus today to stand by to protect British lives here if asked.

Heaviest fighting in the struggle by pro-Egyptian-Syrian rebels to topple pro-Western President Camille Chamoun took place in Beirut. Other battles were reported in the port of Tripoli where the uprising started and in the Bakaa Valley and the Shouf Mountains south of Beirut.

The fighting was so intense in Beirut yesterday that Chamoun himself was reported to have seized a submachinegun and turned it on rebels firing on his palace.

New Hotel Bill Discovered Paid by Goldfine

President's Top Aide Avers Giving No Favors to Boston Industrialist

WASHINGTON (AP) — House investigators turned up evidence today that industrialist Bernard Goldfine paid still another hotel bill for Sherman Adams, President Eisenhower's right hand man.

A subcommittee headed by Rep. Oren Harris (D-Ark.) produced records that Goldfine picked up a Waldorf-Astoria tab of $47.50 for Adams on one occasion in 1954.

In February of the same year, subcommittee investigator Francis McLaughlin testified, Goldfine footed a $219.45 bill for Adams and Mrs. Adams at the Waldorf.

Previously the subcommittee had reported frequent stays by Adams at a Boston hotel where Goldfine paid the bills.

Adams has said he was under the impression Goldfine kept permanent hotel rooms there.

However, critics point to records showing Adams' stays there were in different suits at different times.

Harris had promised to "develop all the facts we can" as a major political storm mounted around Adams.

SUMMONS FTC HEADS

He summoned present and former heads of the Federal Trade Commission to determine whether the agency gave special treatment to Goldfine, Boston industrialist and old friend of Adams. Adams has acknowledged that he frequently stayed in an expensive Boston hotel suite for which Goldfine paid. He also has said he made two contacts with FTC officials on Goldfine's behalf.

Weather Trend Still on the Coolish Side

Picnickers, sun bathers, and swimming enthusiasts, already frustrated by this area's chilly temperatures, will not appreciate the weather man's forecast for the next few days.

Fair and cool is the prediction for tonight with the low around 50 degrees.

Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and cool with a high of 70-74. Tomorrow evening will remain cool with the mercury dipping to a low of 50-54.

In an extended outlook the U.S. Weather Bureau has forecast that temperatures will average 6 to 7 degrees below normal 78 high and normal 59 low for the next five days. Showers are expected Wednesday with slightly warmer temperatures and showers due again Friday.

In downtown Pontiac the lowest temperature recorded preceding 8 a.m. was 47. At 1 p.m. the mercury read 70.

Oakland Senator to Battle Waste

Lodge Heads Drive on Cost of Government

By ROGER F. LANE
AP Lansing Correspondent

LANSING — On his second try, Republican Sen. L. Harvey Lodge, Oakland County's representative in the state Senate, has the go-sign from the Senate to bear down for state government economy.

He vows to find an answer to the question whether state government costs are getting way out of bounds — which he suspects they are.

Lodge was named last week as chairman of a special interim committee of the Senate to study ways of promoting governmental efficiency and economy and ferreting out areas of waste and duplicated service.

The Senate voted $5,000 for the effort in which Lodge will be joined by Sens. Edward Hutchinson of Fennville, Paul Younger of Lansing and Arthur Dehmel of Unionville, all Republicans, and Sen. Basil W. Brown (D-Detroit).

The resolution by Lodge setting up the study authorized the committee to call on all state personnel and "any necessary expert assistance" to pursue its ends.

Lodge said in an interview he had no political motivation, and recalled that he urged establishment of such a special study panel last year when no elections were held, but was turned down.

"Demands for funds to finance governmental services are constantly increasing and the current and anticipated revenues of the state are not adequate to meet such increasing demands," he said.

"The time has come to make a careful survey of just how much is really necessary from the taxpayers to provide essential services." He observed that the Conlin legislative committee, and others like it in the past, have pried into the tax structure of the state, with accompanying discussion of raising various levies.

"But nobody's investigating the waste of public money," Lodge said. "I understand that probably we need a better revenue-getting pattern, but do we forever need higher and higher levels of taxation? I don't think so."

Lodge believes the most fruitful fields for inquiry are in areas likely to reveal duplications of services and waste of facilities.

"If we have a special session of the legislature, as the governor indicates we will, I will want to call in the State Police officials and talk to them about this," he said.

"Consider the number of cars the police use, the volume of expenditures for parts, tires, gasoline and lubricants. Maybe we'll find that adoption of tighter practices will save considerable sums in this area."

"And then there's the question of needless patrol driving," he went on. "Is it really necessary, does it really serve a needed purpose to have township police, city police, sheriff's deputies and finally State Police driving up and down the same roads, almost in a parade?"

"It might make sense to cut out some overlapping, some duplication. To the extent that this is going on, and I suspect there may be a good deal of it, it's silly."

Lodge said he wanted to inquire into possible duplication of welfare services, noting that the state and local welfare agencies each hire investigators whose paths appear to cross often.

Sunny Weekend Leaves 11 Dead

Highway Toll 6 Ahead of Michigan Figure at Same Time Last Year

By The Associated Press

Eleven persons died on Michigan highways over the Father's Day weekend.

Cars on family outings crowded roads in sunny, pleasant weather during the last full weekend before the official start of summer.

The weekend deaths brought to 56 the number killed on state highways so far in June, compared with 50 in the same period a year ago.

State Police said it was the first time in the last 11 months that highway deaths were running ahead of the corresponding period of the year before.

The Associated Press' weekend traffic tabulation starts at 6 p.m. Friday and ends at midnight Sunday.

Mrs. Rena Novis, 42, Detroit, was killed Sunday night when the car she was riding in collided with another in Detroit.

Kenneth P. Cicotte, 33, and his mother, Mrs. Nada C. Cicotte, 54, both of Wyandotte, were killed in a two-car collision in Romulus Township Saturday night.

Sidney Hoff, 39, Niles, died Sunday of injuries suffered Saturday night when his car and a freight train collided near St. Joseph.

Sylvester Olson, 38, Plainfield, was injured fatally Friday night when his car veered off a bridge in Ontonagon County.

Walter Zaleski, 45, Center Line, was killed Sunday when his car ran off a road near Au Gres.

Roger Freely, 155, Hazel Park, was killed Saturday night when the motorcycle he was riding was struck from behind by a car.

Clarence Hoover, 71, Lansing, was killed Saturday in a car-truck collision near Lansing.

Mrs. Dorothy Deneen, 35, Marlette, was injured fatally Saturday when her car overturned near Marlette.

Theodore J. Kerr, 24, Coleman, was killed Saturday when his car overturned in Warren Township, Midland County.

Milton P. Rasmussen, 42, Menominee, was killed late Sunday night when he lost control of his car north of Menominee and hit a tree.

See More Rain on Tap Today for Southeast

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

More rain was on tap today for already drenched portions of the Southeast.

Rains which yesterday dumped up to 5 inches of water in interior regions of the Southeast shifted during the night to Gulf Coast areas. Heavy showers swamped Pensacola, Fla., Mobile, Ala., and Baton Rouge, La., with falls ranging from 1.25 to 1.70 inches.

Other storms centered in the north and central Plains and from New Mexico across much of Texas into the Gulf Coastal region.

A tornado was reported near Lubbock and a funnel was sighted near Dallas. However, no damage was reported in either case.

Farm Exports Hit Peak

WASHINGTON — United States agricultural exports during 1952 reached an all-time high of 4½ billion dollars. It is estimated that the equivalent of one acre of American crop land out of every five — 6,000,000 acres in all — is producing for export.

Mail Delivery May Be Stymied on Perry Street

Robert C. Miller, acting postmaster, today announced that it will be necessary, because of present widening operations on Perry Street, to discontinue delivery of mail to those patrons living on the street whose driveways and sidewalks will be inaccessible during the various stages of highway construction.

Delivery will be made whenever the carrier is able to travel unobstructed.

Patrons whose residences will be blocked from time to time may pick up their mail at the general delivery window at the Post Office on East Huron Street.

of the executive offices, is a man of integrity. The President is convinced he is.

The mere fact that Adams may have accepted gifts and hospitality from a long-time friend is not evidence either of corruption or of the exercise of an improper influence by Adams upon any of the independent governmental bodies mentioned in the case.

To insinuate or infer that there was corruption is to libel Adams. Congressional committees are, however, immune from libel prosecutions. Thus reputations can be irreparably damaged by statements made by members of Congressional committees or their staffs in giving "smear" news to the press.

In this instance the information as to what Adams really did was not handled by the House committee in such a way that his answer could be given to the public the same day the charges were made.

The accusations were widely spread before the rebuttal could be presented. The implications of wrongdoing were not supported by any proof of undue influence.

The reason for all this of course, is politics. The Republicans in the 1952 campaign referred often to the charges of corruption which they said had happened under the Truman regime.

Now the Democrats are striking back.

It happens, however, that some of the individuals involved in those charges under the Truman administration were tried by the courts and ordered to serve jail sentences.

This is not at all parallel to what was revealed last week under the Republican administration.

Plainly, if Sherman Adams had thought at the time that there was anything wrong in accepting presents or hospitality from an old friend, he would have avoided any such embarrassment.

Likewise, if he had believed it was improper to phone a governmental agency to make a routine inquiry about a friend's case, Adams would never have done it.

Many members of Congress frequently accept gifts and hospitality from their constituents who have legislation pending in the Senate or the House.

Is this "proper" or "improper?" It certainly is not on its face evidence of corruption but only a striking example of how "guilt by innuendo" can impair the right of every individual to be considered honest until proved dishonest.

Oil Consumption Dips

NEW YORK — The American Petroleum Institute reports that the nation consumed 3,191,000,000 barrels of oil during 1952, a decrease of 14,000,000 barrels from the all-time high of 1956. American production also declined. It totaled 2,905,000,000 barrels, 65,000 below 1955.

Governor, Commission Meet Today

Preparing to Pay Jobless

DETROIT (AP) — Governor Williams and the State Employment Security Commission meet here today to get a start on payment of federal aid to the unemployed.

Williams and the commission called the meeting for the purpose of signing the Supplementary Unemployment Benefits agreement with the U.S. Department of Labor. The signing was a formality necessary to payments.

About 50,000 jobless persons, half of them in the Detroit area, are eligible for the added funds, said Max M. Horton, MESC director.

First checks are to be mailed out the week of June 30 or July 7. However, an aide to Williams said the Governor will try to get this date moved up.

Workers whose unemployment compensation from the state has expired and who still are unemployed are eligible to get half the amount they previously received.

Reds Call Tito Another 'Judas'

Score Yugoslav Head for Accepting U.S. Aid; He Hurls War Charge

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia (AP) — President Tito and the Soviet bloc swapped broadsides yesterday. Tito defended his acceptance of U.S. aid, and Peiping radio compared him with Judas Iscariot for taking the American help.

Tito asked a crowd of 50,000 in the coal mining town of Labin what right Nikita Khrushchev had to attack Yugoslavia for getting U.S. aid when the Soviet Premier was in Washington.

The Yugoslav President said American aid had been set to his country after his break with Stalin in 1949 "because hunger threatened here and in order to help us to protect our independence against Stalin."

Yugoslavia needs American wheat, cotton, fats and other products, and "the American wheat is no worse than the Soviet, which we do not receive," he continued.

Turning to Communist China, Tito accused the Peiping regime of operating on the theory that world communism can be built by war.

Besides Stierer, other officials attending Thursday's meeting will be Henry L. Smith, city planner, and his two aides, Gustav J. Mathes and Ernest Ethier. Two representatives of Geer Associates, the city's planning consultation firm, also will attend. They are Jacob Drinker and Robert Emerson.

"These are the men who will be dealing with the public in the planning stage of the project," Stierer said, "and we consider it advisable for affected residents to attend Thursday's session to meet them."

Two Maritime Unions Strike

11,700 Seamen Refuse to Sail Without Pacts; May Tie Up 700 Ships

NEW YORK (AP)—Two maritime unions struck today, refusing to sail without contracts.

The walkout of 1,700 engineers and 10,000 unlicensed tanker seamen could tie up nearly 700 American-flag ships operating out of East and Gulf Coast ports.

The striking unions, the Marine Engineers Beneficial Assn. and the National Maritime Union, said negotiations would pick up again later in the day. Meanwhile, they said, "no contract, no sailing."

The engineers are employed on 448 dry cargo and passenger ships, the 10,000 seamen on 231 oil tankers.

There is no large passenger ship berthed here now and none is expected to sail before Wednesday. The walkouts do not affect ships at sea.

The Marine Engineers struck after the union rejected a contract offer by the Dry Cargo and Passenger Ship Operators.

The strike by the tanker seamen was unexpected. The NMU had tentatively approved a three-year contract covering about 30,000 unlicensed seamen employed on the dry cargo and passenger ships.

A third union, the American Radio Assn., bargained through the night and into the daytime hours with shipowners on behalf of radio operators.

Trying to Reshape Senate Labor Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators dissatisfied with a bill to curb labor abuses pushed ahead today with last-ditch efforts to reshape it more to their liking.

As a wrangling Senate headed into a fourth day of debate on the measure, Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas said he hoped to finish action on it tonight under an agreement limiting debate.

But a sheaf of amendments remains to be disposed of, many of them highly controversial.

Awaiting action first was an amendment by Sen. Charles E. Potter, R-Mich., to let union members recover any dues money used for political purposes or other non-union activities they oppose.

The Pontiac State Hospital and other mental institutions at Northville, Hawthorn Center and Ypsilanti will receive attention, he said.

"Of course, I don't know what we'll find in these fields—and in education, where there most certainly is duplication on the university level—but I feel the waste will run into the millions of dollars," he said.

Lodge is serving between sessions on several other special study groups, including committees concerned with promoting uniformity in election regulations, handling of juveniles under the probate code, county home rule, sex deviates and township government reorganization.

Gatill Offers to Carry On Clerk's Office Project

BIRMINGHAM — John J. Gatill, who retired recently as Birmingham Municipal Court judge, tonight will offer his service to the City Commission to continue preparation of rules and procedures for the court and city clerk's office.

Gatill said his duties as judge kept him from devoting sufficient time to the project but that the job is about half completed.

The judge pointed out in a letter to the commission that the Violations Bureau was placed under his supervision when it was removed from the Police Department. Being familiar with the work of the bureau, he estimated the procedure formula can be completed within two months.

Cost of legal expenses in the project have been estimated at $500.

Baritone Speaks Mind

Right Attitudes Help Assure Marital Success

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Recently, Walter Cassel, handsome Metropolitan Opera baritone and his beautiful blonde wife, soprano Gail Manners, appeared opposite each other as Petruchio and Katherine in "The Taming of the Shrew." This was one of 10 operas presented by the New York City Opera.

Although Miss Manners and Mr. Cassel have appeared together frequently not only in opera but in summer musicals all over the country, and even though they had played these same roles in the musical comedy version ("Kiss Me Kate") of the Shakespearean romp, this situation caused amusing comments in the New York papers.

These ran something like "Baritone to Tame Own Shrew in Opera" and "Cassel seemed to be enjoying himself immensely." One photograph was headed "Used to it." This showed Mr. Cassel with whip in hand while Miss Manners covered before him with a rather bored expression.

All of this seemed to reflect the belief that wives are often shrews and that a husband bringing his wife to heel on stage, even if it's all in fun, probably gets some kind of release from the off-stage tensions of marriage.

With this in mind I thought it would be interesting to know just how these two successful people feel about such a situation as well as about marriage in general.

Walter Cassel believes that while male-female attraction is an essential for a happy marriage much more is required to make a marriage go. He said, "I call it the person to person relationship."

Its essence is a real interest and an urge to be helpful between two people who have pooled their love and living to make a joint life. I wouldn't want to sell the man-woman angle short, but though it is basic in any marriage, still for day-to-day living it is not all pervasive.

Since June is the traditional month for brides my thoughts naturally turn to them now. This month thousands of young women will embark on the adventure called marriage.

Marriage is an adventure because two people never really know one another until they live together. For this reason it is always a gamble. However, there are certain attitudes and safeguards a young woman can bring to the wedded state which will improve the chances for a real, enriching and permanent relationship.

NO ONE PERFECT

First, do not expect him to be perfect. He will react sometimes with temper, unfairness, depression and irritation when subjected to the usual pressures and disappointments of life just as all humans do. The routines of daily life will rub romance raw at the elbows of living if you allow them to.

Sometimes I think that men are more vulnerable to coldness and criticism than women are. Remember that he will be battling the world for you all day long, every day. Make home a place of peace and fun and happiness.

Do not slip in your standards of good looks and grooming. Keep yourself as attractive for him as you did before you landed him. It is unfair to impose on his love now. He's trapped!

TRUST IMPORTANT

Trust him. There is nothing which breeds faithfulness in a mate like faith in him. Jealousy and possessiveness are not only suffocating but they are unattractive and suggest lack of belief in yourself, and in your husband's love. You will no doubt sometimes feel such twinges but don't let him know it!

Sabourin-Leonard Vows Spoken in Pontiac Rite

White carnations and white snapdragons banked the altar of the sanctuary of First Congregational Church for the Saturday evening wedding of Sondra Kay Leonard and Adrian A. Sabourin Jr. The Rev. Malcolm K. Burton officiated at the 8 p.m. candlelight ceremony, before 250 guests.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Carl D. Leonard Jr. of Sylvan Shores and Adrian A. Sabourin of East Boulevard South.

For her wedding, the bride wore a bouffant gown of Alencon lace and nylon tulle featuring a Sabrina neckline and long pointed sleeves. A seed-pearl crown held the double-tiered fingertip illusion veil. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and pink sweetheart roses.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Mary Ann Leonard. Bridesmaids were Sue Leonard, another sister of the bride, and Kay Sabourin, sister of the bridegroom.

The attendants wore ballerina-length gowns of white embroidered nylon over light blue taffeta, featuring scooped necklines and empire waistlines, with matching blue caps of seed pearls. They carried cascade bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Barbara Jean Absher, cousin of the bride, was flower girl. She wore a floor-length gown styled like those of the other attendants and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

The bridegroom's uncle Kenneth Christopherson of Midland, was best man. Ushers were Gerald Christopherson and William Arthur of Royal Oak. Ringbearer was

MRS. ADRIAN A. SABOURIN JR.

Marcel Sabourin, the bridegroom's brother.

A reception was held in the church rooms following the ceremony. To receive guests, the bride's mother wore a champagne beige sheath dress with toast-colored accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses pinned to her purse. The bridegroom's mother wore a gray chiffon dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

For her going away costume, the bride wore a mint green chemise with white accessories. The couple will live on Center street after their honeymoon through Upper Michigan.

MR. and MRS. ALBERT C. CATT

Observing their 50th wedding anniversary Tuesday are Mr. and Mrs. Albert C. Catt of Riviera street. They were married in Vincennes, Ind., June 17, 1908, and have made their home in Pontiac 29 years. Mr. Catt has been retired from GMC Truck and Coach Division.

The young woman who brings fine health to marriage contributes a wealth of happiness much greater than any dowry could. It is difficult to be a good sport, to be gay, or to be loving and tolerant when your head or back aches or you are dragging with fatigue.

Happy lives to all of you June brides! There is nothing which will keep you so young or pretty or give you such a special glow as the knowledge that the man you love, explain this to your husband love, loves you! so that the two of you can laugh Tomorrow: Don't neglect him at your moods on those certain when the first child arrives.

Barbara Kline Weds Robert B. Johnston

Barbara Ann Kline and Robert Blair Johnston were married Saturday evening at Central Methodist Church, The Rev. Milton H. Bank officiated at the 8 o'clock candlelight ceremony.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick W. Kline of Oneida road and the R. E. Johnstons of Joslyn avenue.

The bride wore a silk Bombazine princess-style gown with a modified Sabrina neckline, accented with sculptured Alencon lace and seed pearls. The bouffant skirt fell into a full chapel train with hand applied medallions of Alencon lace.

Her fingertip veil of silk French illusion was held by a Swedish crown of lace, sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

Elizabeth Rockefeller was maid of honor with Marlene Wilton of Arlington, Va., and Mrs. Paul Hickman as bridesmaids. They wore identical ballerina-length gowns of light blue taffeta featuring empire bodices with cap sleeves and cummerbunds of taffeta. They wore bandeau headpieces of tulle petals and pearls with nose veils and carried nosegay bouquets of carnations and bachelor buttons.

ASSIST BRIDEGROOM

Best man was Donald Bigham. Ushers were Gordon L. Johnston, E. Bruce Johnston and Charles Butler, all of Lansing, and James Garth Johnston.

The bride's mother wore a light blue lace dress with white accessories for the wedding and the bridegroom's mother wore a dress of gray lace over pink taffeta with gray and pink accessories.

Following a reception in the church parlors, the bride changed to a pink dress with white accessories and the newlyweds left for a honeymoon to northern Michigan. They will live on Chamberlain street.

Graham Wants Spirit to Linger

Tells 18,500 at Final Cow Palace Meeting to 'Get Into That Church'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Billy Graham, who has ended his seven-week evangelistic battle with the Devil here, wants the fervor to linger.

"Carry the spirit of revival back to your churches," he told a crowd of 18,500 jammed into the Cow Palace for the final crusade session yesterday.

"Get into that church," Graham pleaded. "If you wait a week or two, Satan will take advantage of you."

He declared to the throng packed into the 18,500-seat arena that "some of you are like Judas. You are greedy and will sell your soul and your future for a few pieces of silver. Some of those who steal from God are those with the most money."

Turning to another matter of money, the North Carolina preacher said: advance contributions and weekday offerings for the free meetings might not have met all expenses of the crusade, which he estimated at $400,000.

As assistants toured the aisles collecting offerings, he asked "that you give generously to make sure all expenses are met." Totals were not immediately available.

Total attendance for the seven weeks rose to 696,525. The 570 going forward in "decisions for Christ" brought that total to 25,575.

"If you live less than your best you are committing a sin. Just enough religion to be respectable is one of the sins that nailed Jesus to the cross," Graham said.

"Christ went a long way for you. You can take a few steps for him."

After visiting Yosemite National Park tomorrow with his 13-year-old daughter Virginia, Graham will rest until Sunday when he will speak at a Seals Stadium rally here. Then he'll tour California.

Slumbering Thief Strolls With $150 After Greeting

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — Chan Wing Gaw, opening the small restaurant he operates, was greeted by a man who apparently had been asleep on the floor behind the counter.

"Good morning, amigo," said the stranger, and walked casually out of the restaurant.

By the time Gaw recovered from the surprise the visitor was out of sight — and so was $150 from the cash register.

Lone Traveler, 7, Disappears From Ohio Bus Depot

COLUMBUS, Ohio (UPI) — Detectives today sought to unravel the mysterious disappearance of a 7-year-old boy from the Greyhound Bus station here yesterday.

The unidentified boy had said he was going from the West Coast to Akron to meet his father, according to two fellow passengers, H. C. Beckwith of Akron and H. M. Brock of Minerva, Ohio.

The two men befriended the boy after he lost all his money "somewhere in Texas," and bought him meals and saw that he was on the proper bus. They were not present, however, when he disappeared.

George Jack of Westerville, Ohio, who was in the bus station, told police a man came into the station and aroused the sleeping boy. Jack said the man offered to take the youngster to his room for the night and the boy left with him.

Akron police said nobody had inquired about a missing youngster either at the police station or the bus station there.

Police said none of the passengers knew the youngster's name or where he first boarded the bus. He was described as being either "Indian or Filipino" and was carrying a small suitcase.

Sleeping Pills Blamed in Death

Wife of High Detroit Police Official 1st Listed as Strangler's Victim

DETROIT (UPI) — The wife of a high Detroit police officer, first thought to have been killed by a burglar, died from an overdose of sleeping pills.

Dr. Edward S. Zawadzki, Wayne County medical examiner, said Mrs. Emma Dodge, 50, could not have died from a silk stocking found wrapped around her neck.

Zawadzki said there were no marks around the neck, such as would have been there if she had been strangled. He said the cause of death was an overdose of barbiturates.

Her husband, Detective Bureau Inspector Glenn Dodge, returned from work early yesterday to find his wife's body in the basement of their home at 2003 Cardou.

The silk stocking was around her neck and a basement screen had been slashed.

Police said later the screen had not been ripped by a prowler. They theorized Mrs. Dodge may have slashed the screen herself and wrapped the stocking around her neck to make it look like murder.

Officers said Mrs. Dodge, who had been taking sleeping pills for a month, had been depressed.

Mrs. C. W. Lucas Dies at Wedding Reception

Mrs. Fern Lucas, widow of C. W. Lucas, press secretary of former Democratic Gov. Murray D. Van Wagoner, died Sunday in Ann Arbor at the wedding of one of her two daughters.

Mrs. Lucas, 53, collapsed at the reception in First Presbyterian Church and was dead on arrival at St. Joseph Hospital.

The daughter, Kathryn Covella Lucas, was married to Romulus Portwood after a campus romance.

Lucas was at one time a member of the Pontiac Press editorial staff, and went to Lansing with Van Wagoner when he first became state highway commissioner.

He died in 1919.

Dad, Son Electrocuted

EDENVILLE (AP) — Verne W. Root, 48, and his son, Verne Jr., 23, of Hope, were electrocuted Saturday when a well digging rig they were using came in contact with a high tension line. The men were working on a farm in Hope Township near here.

It sometimes gets so cold in Alberta, Canada, that a man working in the open air avoids running for fear of frosting his lungs by inhaling too heavily.
