Your Return May Be Here

MOUNTING FAST—Mrs. Zora Price, internal revenue clerk in the Detroit office, surveys thousands of income tax returns flooding the Federal Building in Detroit today as deadline for filing expires at midnight tonight.

Last-Minute Rush Jams Income Tax Office Here

Taxpayers seeking help with tax forms lined up 50 deep at the U. S. Internal Revenue Bureau's Pontiac office today with the midnight income tax deadline just hours away.

All income tax returns must be in the mail or at the local tax office, 53½ W. Huron St., by midnight tonight.

Anyone whose return isn't postmarked earlier than midnight faces a fine of five per cent of his total tax.

A. M. Menninger, district director of internal revenue, said the office has helped some 55,000 people make out tax forms since Jan. 1.

He said this is "a little" higher than last year's figure, "because more people seem to have made over $5,000." Anyone whose total income is over $5,000 has to figure his own tax instead of using a standard set of figures.

Menninger said the Pontiac office will be open until 8 tonight. Many taxpayers can get needed help by calling the office, Federal 4-2541 or Federal 4-6642.

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Icy Michigan roads took their toll of at least 14 lives in traffic crashes during the weekend. One of the accidents claimed five lives, including the parents and one child of a Flint family.

The victims died in a three-car collision on U.S. 10 Saturday, three miles south of Grand Blanc. They included Harvel Casey, 32, of Flint; his wife, Genevieve, 30, and a son, Patrick, 4.

Also killed in the same crash were the Rev. Kenneth R. Bowman, 22, of Detroit, and Edgar B. Liles, 20, of Wilberforce, Ohio.

A two-car collision on U.S. 2 near Wakefield in the upper peninsula Sunday claimed two victims. Dead were Mrs. Matt E. Plicka, Jr., 49, of Wakefield, and Mrs. Arvo Heikkila, 36, of Ironwood. Both were riding in cars driven by their husbands.

Two others died of injuries suffered Sunday in a head-on collision on U.S. 10 about three miles west of Sanford. The victims were George W. Stege, 63, of Manistee, and Curtis R. Carter, 43, also of Manistee.

Police said Stege was driving and Curtis was his passenger. They said the Stege car collided with one driven by Gordon Truax, 41, of Lake City.

Knowland Asks Prompt Probe of Schine Case

GOP Leader Orders McCarthy Committee to Sift Army Claims

WASHINGTON (INS)—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland said today Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's investigations subcommittee must "proceed immediately" to "get all the facts" concerning Army charges of pressure by McCarthy and Roy M. Cohn.

Knowland told newsmen the "matter should be proceeded with quickly." Reminded that McCarthy leaves Washington Wednesday for a series of speaking engagements that will keep him away for the rest of the week, he added:

"This is of sufficient importance that all members of the committee should want to give it priority over other engagements."

McCarthy told newsmen earlier that he has tentatively planned a meeting of his subcommittee Tuesday to take up the Army's charges that he and Cohn, subcommittee chief counsel, sought favored treatment for G. David Schine, a former subcommittee aide indicted into the Army.

McCarthy told reporters the closed session will take place at 10:30 a. m. (EST) if members are available.

Meanwhile, Cohn said he would also gladly "step down" from his role as attorney for the subcommittee and appear as a witness. The 27-year-old chief counsel for the group declared on NBC's television "Meet The Press" that he was convinced that one or two persons in the Army "did their very best" to halt the subcommittee probe of possible Red infiltration of the military service.

Cohn also labeled "ridiculous" a Pentagon charge that he had threatened to "wreck the Army" if special favors were not granted to his friend and former subcommittee consultant, Pvt. Schine.

Coast-Oil Ruling Upheld by Court

Supreme Judges Deny Right to States to Upset Congress' Decision

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court today denied Alabama and Rhode Island permission to file suits alleging Congress violated the Constitution when it conceded title to oil-rich lands to coastal states.

The two states, in seeking to challenge validity of a 1953 act, contended it deprived their citizens of equitable interests in oil resources estimated to be worth 50 billion dollars, plus 62 million dollars in royalties and revenues impounded by the United States.

Rejecting the request from Alabama and Rhode Island, the court's majority opinion declared that the power of Congress to do as it wishes with public lands "is without limitation."

The unsigned opinion, known as "per curiam" opinion, cited six previous Supreme Court decisions and gave various quotations from those decisions in support of its holding today.

The court's vote today was 6-2. Justices Black and Douglas wrote separate dissenting opinions. Chief Justice Warren disqualified himself. Warren gave no reason but presumably it was because of his interest, while governor of California, in getting Congress to enact the 1953 submerged lands act.

With Black and Douglas opposed and Warren disqualified, the majority was made up of Justices Reed, Frankfurter, Jackson, Burton, Clark and Minton.

Today's decision may not finally dispose of the issue.

Arkansas has pending in a lower federal court here a suit which challenges the right of coastal states to the submerged oil and the impounded funds.

Pontiac Teacher Dies in Accident

Mrs. Harold Dearing in Skid Mishap at Alpena; 4 Suffer Injuries

Mrs. Harold Dearing, (Maxine), 54, of 2240 Pontiac Dr., Sylvan Lake, a Lincoln Junior High School teacher, was killed Sunday afternoon in a two-car collision about 10 miles south of Alpena on U.S. 23. Mr. Dearing, 58, a Pontiac High School teacher, driver of one of the autos, and Mrs. Henry Loper of 202 Cherokee Rd., a passenger, are reported in good condition at Alpena Hospital.

Occupants of the second car, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Wilsey of Hemlock, were treated for minor injuries.

Hospital authorities said Dearing's and Mrs. Loper's injuries were not known early today, pending X-ray examinations.

The Dearings were returning from a visit with their daughter, Mrs. William Ransom (Doris) of Rogers City, when the accident occurred.

State Police of the Alpena Post quoted passengers in both cars as saying the Dearing car skidded on the snow-packed, two-lane highway.

Wilsey's auto struck the Dearing car broadside, according to state police who termed the accident "unavoidable."

Funeral arrangements for Mrs. Dearing are pending at the Sparks-Griffin Funeral Home.

Besides her husband and daughter, she is survived by two other daughters and two sons. Mrs. Bruce D. Hayward (Dorothy) of Birmingham, Mrs. Thomas Morse (Margaret) of Biloxi, Miss. David at Bowling Green University, Ohio, and James of Pontiac.

Phony Roadblock Gets Police Guard

TORONTO (AP)—Even the cops fell for it.

The two barricades, with lamps and red flags, were across Queen's Park Crescent, a four-lane road which swings south around the parliament buildings. Signs told motorists: "closed to traffic."

Two police happened on the scene and detoured scores of Sunday drivers.

A news photographer snapped a shot and asked questions.

Nobody knew why the barricades were there. But the University of Toronto is nearby.

French Bolster Forces to Check Vietminh Attack

Union Troops Counter Bid to Drive Them From Northwest Indochina

HANOI, Indochina (AP)—The French parachuted reinforcements today into their Dien Bien Phu fortress as the Communist-led Vietminh hurled thousands more troops into the savage battle to drive the French out of northwest Indochina. The rebels bombarded the dust bowl fortress with artillery shells before their new series of attacks.

As the violent battle rounded out its second day, the French high command in Saigon announced that a battalion of French and Vietnamese paratroopers had jumped onto the Dien Bien Phu airstrip.

Other reinforcements were airlifted from Hanoi.

The French high command in Saigon said the French Union forces had the "situation well in hand" and were holding solidly against the "very violent" rebel attack.

A French spokesman predicted the fighting would last several days.

A three-hour cease-fire interrupted the fighting yesterday morning while both rebels and French carried their dead and wounded from the battlefield. The French claimed at least 1,000 rebels killed in the initial assault Saturday night and early yesterday, and admitted their own losses were "appreciable."

The fighting resumed at noon yesterday with a heavy rebel bombardment of the strongly fortified, French-held plain in the heart of the Thai tribal country.

Then, as they had on Saturday, wave on wave of screaming, bugle-blowing rebel troops surged forward against the bristling barbed wire barricades ringing the French positions.

French mobile artillery, tanks, mortars and heavy machine gun and rifle fire cut down the Vietminh by the scores. Fighters and bombers roared overhead, mowing a wide swath in the ranks of the wildly charging rebels.

The legions of Communist leader Ho Chi Minh appeared making an all-out effort to give the French a major setback before the Big Four and Communist China meet in Geneva, Switzerland, April 26 to seek a path to peace in Indochina.

The French for their part hoped to decimate the ranks of the best rebel divisions and perhaps thus break the back of the Vietminh forces.

Boy's Shotgun Blows Up

Police Disarm Runaway, 13, Hiding in Brown City Barn

LAPEER—A 13-year-old boy surrendered to state police this morning after barricading himself in a barn near Brown City and firing a shotgun "at the roof" when a sheriff's officer poked his head through the door.

The youth insisted that he never intended to shoot it out with police and maintained that "I wanted to get picked up by them."

Lapeer Under Sheriff Neil Gass identified the youth as Joseph Pelat, a ward from St. Clair County.

Joe said he holed up in the barn so police would pick him up because he didn't want to remain at the home of the Henry Krieners of 5380 Black Corners Rd., Brown City.

The boy told deputies that he and his four brothers have lived with the Krieners nine years. The Kriener home is about two miles from the barn on the Henry Bigby farm at 4575 Van Dyke Rd.

Joe said he got up at 2 a. m. today and stumbled over snowy fields to the barn.

Four hours later his oldest brother, Anthony, 17, noticed the boy missing and tracked him to the barn.

"He (Anthony) asked me if I wanted him to call the police. I said, 'Yeh. It's O. K. with me,'" Joe said.

Gass said he was summoned by (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Twisters Kill 8, Injure 70 More in Three Areas

Eight Flying Boxcars Destroyed at Air Base by Winds

ATLANTA (AP)—A small army of soldiers, airmen and civilians today formed a cleanup task force in the wake of weekend tornadoes which killed eight persons in central and west Georgia and did more than 23 million dollars damage to property.

Three separate twisters whirled out of the night Saturday and carried their lethal force into Macon, where three died; to a rural area near the central Georgia city, killing three others; and to Lawson Air Force Base, adjoining Ft. Benning, where two more were killed.

Four of the dead were children. Seventy persons were injured and 23 hospitalized.

The tornadoes slammed into the same general areas where similar storms killed 18 and piled up damage exceeding 30 million less than a year ago.

The return visit of the Southland's spring scourge came a few hours after the Weather Bureau lifted a tornado alert.

West Georgia was hit first. What appeared to be the largest of the tornadoes tore a path 600 yards wide across the air base near Columbus. The powerful winds overturned several giant C119 Flying Boxcars. Eight of the 35-ton craft were destroyed and this contributed heavily to the 20-million-dollar damage estimate at Lawson Field and at Ft. Benning, the nation's largest Army base.

Dead at the air base were 6-month-old Linda Joyner, daughter of Sgt. L.C. and Mrs. James T. Joyner, and Airman 3.C. Bobby T. Robinson, 22, of Dublin, Ga. The baby died when several huge cinder blocks tumbled from the roof of her parents' two-story house and crushed her in her bed.

Twin tornadoes took parallel paths through the Macon area three hours later and accounted for most of the dead and injured. Macon hospitals still house 15 persons and 35 others were dismissed after treatment.

The Macon dead were 6-month-old Dorothy Ann Lockhart, Gilbert Robinson, and Austin Hogan. The parallel twister killed Irene Wallace, 11, and Lorena Wallace, 6, when it destroyed a farmhouse in rural Lizella. Sam Emory was killed when another farmhouse collapsed near Centerville.

General Defends Dog House Built at U.S. Expense

FT. DEVENS, Mass. (INS)—Maj. Gen. Roderick R. Allen, commanding general of Ft. Devens, defended today the construction for him, at government expense, of a dog house at Ft. Dix, N. J., when he commanded that station.

The general said a report by a House appropriations subcommittee in Washington that he had a dog house, dog run and fence built at a cost of $1,200.

"I may say that I didn't consider it anything out of the way. I don't believe the fence, run and kennel cost $1,200. In fact, I have built a kennel and dog run here, with the help of my orderly. I used salvaged government material. I think I'm entitled to a dog run and kennel for my dogs. I pay rent for my house."

"I have done nothing wrong. I don't see how the work at Fort Dix could have cost $1,200, not to an ordinary man's way of thinking. I don't know whether GIs or civilians built the kennel and run. It certainly was not an elaborate affair."

Gen. Allen is a former chief of staff for Korean operations in Gen. MacArthur's headquarters in Japan. He is a veteran of both World Wars. In addition to being commanding general at Ft. Devens, he also holds the title of commanding general of the New England Sub-Area of the Army.

Birmingham Commission Again Lists Water Supply, Voting Machines, City Suit

From Our Birmingham Bureau
BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners will discuss water supply for the city at their session tonight.

"Decisions which will be made within the next six months will affect the water supply for the city for the next 25 to 30 years," City Manager Donald C. Egbert said in presenting exhaustive reports on the subject.

"All of the previous studies have been influenced to a greater extent by the cost factor than actually appears to be warranted, the manager added.

"The assurance of a completely adequate supply of water of the best quality attainable would be a reasonable goal," he said.

Also on the agenda is the purchase of five additional voting machines, and a progress report on the city's suit to break subdivision restrictions to permit the construction of a west-side fire station at Chesterfield and Maple, if approved by voters April 5.

Chet Beardsley, manager of the Wolverine Tube Co., will speak at the High Twelve Club dinner at 6:30 tonight at the Community House.

Beardsley, home from a tour of German industrial plants, will discuss "The Recovery of Industry in Germany."

Men who have contemplated joining the Army may for a limited time select a unit of their choice.

Because of the anticipated increase in enlistments due to this policy, the Army and Air Force Recruiting Service in Royal Oak has announced that its office will be open from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily and by appointment after 5.

Fire Damages Novi Inn Sunday

Set Damage at $60,000 to Building at Novi Rd. and Grand River

Fire at the 25-year-old Novi Inn early Sunday resulted in an estimated $60,000 damage to the building, a large stock of liquor and personal belongings of the owner. The flames also consumed $2,000 which the owner of the building, Benedict Tinkham, had in a suit of clothing.

Tinkham, who lived on the upper floor of the building at Grand River and Novi road, was awakened by smoke at 4 a. m. Firemen from the Farmington, Walled Lake, Northville and Novi Township departments fought the blaze for nearly four hours. Four adjoining stores were also damaged by smoke and water. Firemen said the fire apparently started in a basement boiler room.

Dem Club to Hear UM's John Dawson

BIRMINGHAM — University of Michigan law professor John P. Dawson will discuss "The McCarthy Dilemma" at an open meeting of the Birmingham Democratic Club at 8 p. m. tomorrow in the Community House.

During leaves of absence from the university, Dawson has served as director of the Foreign Trade Administration and acting economic counselor for all U. S. consulates and legations in the Middle East. He has also been a Democratic candidate for Congress.

McCarthy Reuses Mundi's Suggestion was drafted while still working on an important report and that the Army agreed to permit him time on weekends to complete it.

He added: "Our desire was to see that he got what was coming to him and that he didn't get kicked around because he was coming from our committee."

An Army report to Senators charged last week that both Cohn and McCarthy intervened at various times to obtain favors for Schine, and especially to get him assigned to the New York City area.

The same report also charged that Cohn threatened "to wreck the Army" and said that Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens was a "through" unless the drafted subcommittee aide received favors.

In reply, the counsel said: "That statement is so ridiculous I can scarcely answer it. That statement is completely untrue. How could I wreck an Army that Hitler and Tojo couldn't?"

He had high praise for Schine who, he said, did an outstanding job, particularly in a probe of operations of the U. S. Information Service.

Earlier, Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), a subcommittee member, proposed that a joint group composed of the Senate Armed Services Committee and the McCarthy group ascertain the facts in the dispute.

McCarthy told newsmen: "The American people are getting sick and tired of this yak-yak about treatment of Communists. I'm getting sick and tired of it, too. The course of our investigation will not change. I will go on to the end."

Latin Countries
Take Offensive

Economic Issues Hold
Spotlight at the Caracas
Conference

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP)—Economic issues rated top billing at the 10th Inter-American Conference today, with the United States on the defensive after carrying the ball against communism last week.

Sixteen of the 19 Latin-American nations at the conference supported the United States in warning international communism to stay clear of the Western Hemisphere. Now they want to talk about their economic problems—and they want the United States to listen carefully.

U. S. Secretary of State Dulles and the rest of his delegation assured Latin Americans last week that the United States wants to cooperate on economic plans that are mutually advantageous. However, the Latin Americans are not likely to be satisfied with anything less than definite commitments that will eventually lead to a solution of their economic problems.

They feel that the United States, as the major market for their raw materials and natural products, must agree to solutions for basic economic problems if any headway is to be made in the battle to better living standards.

Agreeing on an economic policy rather than answers to specific problems seems to be the goal of the Latin-American delegates at this time. The chore of putting the policy into effect will be undertaken at a conference of finance ministers and ministers of economy to be held later this year at either Washington or Rio de Janeiro.

Latin America's principal grievance is that it is not getting enough for its raw materials, in relation to what it has to pay for finished goods imported from the United States.

The southern republics also want more stability in the price situation. They complain also that they lack sufficient credit for financing the economic development of their countries.

The United States is trying to convince her neighbors they should depend largely on their own initiative plus private capital from abroad. The Latins have been told the United States owes its development to private capital, and that U. S. investors would be willing to send cash into Latin America provided the Latin Americans make the venture attractive.

Cowboy to Appear at Graham Crusade

LONDON (INS)—American evangelist Billy Graham announced today that cowboy star Roy Rogers will appear with him in a special outdoor children's meeting this Saturday.

The children's meeting will be held in the arena next to London's Harringay Stadium, where Graham is conducting his evangelistic crusade in Britain before cheering crowds of thousands.

The youthful evangelist said he visited St. Lawrence's Church in Bovingdon, Hertfordshire, at the invitation of a minister friend Sunday.

Graham added: "I spoke to the kiddies in the Sunday school and had a wonderful time browsing around one of the prettiest little churches in England."

Hidden Heroes of U. S.

Undercover Agents for FBI Take 'Dirt' After Spy Work Against Reds Is Known

By DOUGLAS LARSEN

WASHINGTON (NEA) — A few weeks ago an attractive young woman walked through the corridor of the Los Angeles adult school in which she had just enrolled. A classmate stepped quickly to her side and hissed into her ear: "Why don't you get out of here, you damn stool pigeon?"

For an instant the young lady's eyes blazed with anger. Then she relaxed, flashed her verbal attacker a saucy smile and strode on unconcerned.

The woman to whom these vitriolic words were addressed is Mrs. Marlane MacLane Kowall, daughter of movie actor Barton MacLane.

She is a brand new member of one of the most exclusive groups in America—the handful of individuals who are known to have joined the Communist Party as undercover agents for the FBI.

The incident involving Mrs. Kowall is just the start of a bitter, ceaseless hazing she is in for from the Communist Party and fellow travelers.

A survey shows that some of these former undercover agents have suffered broken homes, financial loss, community disfavor and wrecked health to help expose the Communist menace in the U. S.

In some cases the public and community have forgotten the job these people have done for Uncle Sam. The Communist Party will never forget.

William G. Cummings of Toledo, Ohio, rated one of the most effective witnesses against the Communist conspiracy by the Justice Department, says:

"We're No. 1 on the Party's blacklist. If there should be a revolution we'd be the first ones to be shot. But that's why we did what we did, to make sure there will be no revolution in America."

The survey reveals an almost identical pattern of retaliation against these individuals.

There's a never-ending program of mental harassment which includes anonymous threatening letters, telephone calls in the early hours of morning, insults softly spoken on crowded corners, and dead rats thrown on the lawn.

The Communies have put roadblocks in the efforts of these people to make a living. They've struck back at their children in school and college. They've worked hard to blacken their character through clubs, churches and communities.

"The only restraint imposed on the Communists in their retaliation against us is the need to stay just short of making us public martyrs," Cummings explains. "This would harm them more than what they gain inside the Party."

The motive of the Communist Party in this program is given by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover:

"This group represents a vital reservoir of information which we plan to continue to draw from in our fight against Communist subversion in the United States."

Hoover says. By trying to destroy the credibility of the testimony of this group the Party is defending itself. Hoover pinpoints the motive of the Party for pure revenge against this group with the statement:

"Their testimony, along with that of such ex-Communists as Louis Budenz, Elizabeth Bentley and John Lautner, starting with the first Smith Act trial of the top 11 Communists in New York, has enabled the government to break the back of the Party in the U. S."

He reveals that in 11 Smith Act trials in the U. S. and Hawaii, 61 top leaders of the Communist Party in America have been convicted, with sentences ranging from two to five years and fines up to $10,000 each.

Testimony of members of the group before grand juries has led to the indictment of 104 Party leaders, many of whom have trials still pending.

Their evidence has permitted the Subversive Activities Control Board to put an official Communist tag on numerous front organizations.

The revelation of their activity has made scores of top Party workers flee the country, sever all connections with the Party, or commit suicide.

It has forced the Party to take such desperate internal security measures that its subversive activity is seriously hampered.

Full details of how the FBI recruited these "hidden heroes" remain a secret. But generally it was because they had proved themselves firm anti-Communists but were in unique positions, in liberal groups with a chance to infiltrate the Party.

Their number includes housewives, executives, professional people, laborers, clerks and shopkeepers.

Some got small regular salaries. Some got expense money. Money itself apparently was no motive. Today only one of the group, Matt Cvetic, admits a net financial gain from his undercover work, through writing, radio and lecturing. He is running for Congress.

Despite their money problems and heckling from left-wing and Commie groups, most of the individuals have received awards and commendations from community and patriotic groups such as the American Legion and the Freedom Foundation.

Their names are regarded with utmost respect in Congress and in state legislatures. And they have all won great respect and admiration among a wide circle of outstanding citizens and patriots who understand the great contribution and sacrifice they made.

Prince Wants Plane With Bad Record

LOS ANGELES (U) — Prince Bernhard of the Netherlands flies to the flight test center at Edwards Air Force Base today hoping to again fly the plane that quit on him over the Pacific.

The visit will complete a four-day tour of southern California aviation installations by the handsome 42-year-old husband of Queen Juliana.

Saturday, while he was flying in a propeller-driven T28B trainer, the engine sputtered and stopped about six miles out over the Pacific. Lt. Col. A. T. House, U. S. Air Force plant representative at North American Aviation, brought the plane in for a successful dead stick landing.

GOP Praises Nixon Talk; Adlai Says It Echoes Him

WASHINGTON (U) — Vice President Nixon's statement of the Eisenhower administration case has been praised by a Republican as what the party needed to "get down to business," while a top Democrat said it just echoed his criticism.

Between these two poles ranged wide reaction to the talk nationally telecast Saturday night, much of which was obviously aimed at Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

Nixon took occasion also to speak up for the administration's "new look" in defense and diplomatic policies and to affirm that President Eisenhower is the effective leader of the government and party.

But most of the comment centered on such Nixon statements as one that "men who have in the past done effective work exposing communism... have, by reckless talk and questionable methods, made themselves the issue" and thereby helped "those whose primary objective is to defeat the Eisenhower administration."

McCarthy himself declined direct comment, but he said in a speech in Manitowish, Wis., "I don't care how high or how low those are who scream at what we are doing... I don't intend to treat traitors like gentlemen."

Sen. Flanders (R-Vt.), who had said McCarthy intentionally or not is "doing his best to shatter" the GOP, termed the Nixon speech "the kind of a talk that should enable us Republicans to get down to business."

But Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate whose criticism a week earlier was the occasion for Nixon's address, said, "At Miami Beach I said that McCarthyism was injuring the government, dividing the nation and diverting the attention from the real issues. Last night Vice President Nixon... said precisely the same thing."

Republican comment ran along these lines:

Sen. Knowland of California, the Senate GOP leader: "It was a very constructive speech."

Baby-Sitter Shoots Child Accidentally

GRAND RAPIDS (U) — John MacEachron, 14, baby-sitting with his 3-year-old nephew, accidentally shot and killed the child Saturday.

John told police a .16-gauge shotgun belonging to the child's father discharged while he was practicing loading and unloading the weapon.

The charge struck the baby, James Marcinowski, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Marcinowski.

Dr. G. Arthur Mulder, Kent County medical examiner, pronounced the death accidental.

Dulles Wins at Caracas

Overwhelming approval of the U. S. anti-Communist resolution at the Inter-American Conference in Caracas was a significant diplomatic victory for Secretary of State DULLES.

Everything Mr. DULLES did at the conference emphasized his aim of broadening the Rio Treaty to cover subversion as well as aggression.

The resolution he submitted to the conference is clear and to the point. It would consider the domination or control of the political institutions of any American state by world Communism a threat to the sovereignty and political independence of Rio signatories.

Heart of the Rio Treaty is that an attack on any American nation automatically is considered an attack upon all and calls for consultation and collective action.

As one observer put it, Mr. DULLES is proposing to revise the Monroe Doctrine to take care of a threat to this hemisphere undreamed of in 1824. Actually no effort has been made to conceal the fact that our Secretary of State is trying to guard against the kind of coup in Guatemala that resulted in the sovietization of Czechoslovakia.

We have a good reason for concern over the extent to which Communist influence controls the affairs of Guatemala. As a matter of self-preservation this country couldn't tolerate the establishment of a Soviet satellite within such easy striking distance of our Panama Canal.

Mr. DULLES' new doctrine is quite different from the policy of non-intervention so much favored by our Latin neighbors. This in no way alters the fact that his is a sound evaluation of a threat no nation can afford to ignore.

Before the conference there had been some doubt as to the willingness of member Nations to approve the principle of collective responsibility for combatting Communist subversion. When the showdown came only Communist dominated Guatemala voted against the resolution. Argentina and Mexico abstained, but 17 other member Nations united in giving Mr. DULLES one of his outstanding diplomatic victories.

Will Hays, Diplomat

Death of WILL HAYS, Indiana lawyer and politician, is a reminder that his home State has been the birthplace of many outstanding Americans.

The man who helped send WARREN G. HARDING to the White House was anything but the "czar" people believed him to be as a result of his work for the motion picture industry. It would be much more accurate to think of him as a diplomat.

HAYS earned political prominence as chairman of the Republican National Committee. In that post, which he accepted in 1918, he directed the successful Republican campaign of 1920 and later served as President HARDING's postmaster general.

Shortly after, the motion picture industry, threatened by scandals in Hollywood, organized a body to police itself and asked HAYS to head it. As president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors, an office he held until 1945, HAYS did much to keep the industry from bringing down on itself demands for unreasonable censorship.

This was done so diplomatically and effectively that what the Hays office said about a picture usually became law in Hollywood. The result was enduring and uplifting influence on this part of show business.

Pontiac's Symphony

An event of more than ordinary interest occurs tomorrow evening when Pontiac's Symphony Orchestra gives its first concert of 1954.

The idea of a symphony isn't new here. In fact this orchestra gave two concerts last year with noteworthy success. Preparation of Tuesday evening's program at Lincoln Junior High School has been under the direction of Conductor FRANCESCO DiBLASI.

Members of the orchestra as well as moving spirits in the organization promoting it, deserve congratulation for a valuable contribution to community life.

We hope Pontiac gives its orchestra the kind of support such an organization deserves. Besides affording local musicians a chance to develop their talents further, a symphony serves the all important purpose of stimulating appreciation of great music.

In our view the mere fact that Pontiac has a symphony makes it a better than ever place in which to work and live.

Man About Town Baseball Contest Gets Under Way

Clay pipe: One that a smoker doesn't have to pick up when he drops it.

With the opening of the season less than a month away, the annual Man About Town Baseball Contest is announced. The prize is $250 in U. S. Savings Bonds.

It costs nothing to enter, and every member of your family is eligible to compete, but each entry must be on a separate piece of paper. All that is necessary to win the $250 is the nearest correct answer to the following:

What player who has been in at least 25 times will be leading the American League on the night of Saturday, May 1, and what will be his batting average?

Write your answer plainly and get it into the Pontiac Press office by noon on Saturday, April 10. Every entrant agrees to abide by the judges' decision which will be final.

You don't have to buy anything, answer a quiz question, write an essay, or do anything else except write out your prediction, and see that it arrives on time.

Pontiac Press employees and members of their immediate families are barred from competing.

Our male baseball fans are slipping badly in this contest. The $1,500 passed out in this manner since 1945 has all gone to the fair sex with the exception of one year — and that winner's prediction was based on feminine advice.

Last year the $250 prize was won by Miss Betty Whitson of 492 Harper Ave. In 1952 it went to Miss Joyce McQuaid of 129 Osceola Drive. The 1951 winner was Mrs. Loretta Stricklin of 2500 Silver Drive. In 1950 it was Mrs. E. J. Peterman of 38 Murphy Ave. who won it. The 1949 winner was Donald Jo Love of 142 Cadillac Ave., and in 1948 Mrs. Marie Eggert of 437 North Saginaw St. got the $250.

David Lawrence Says:

McCarthy and His Red Probe Looms Up of Great Importance to the Free World

WASHINGTON — Just last Wednesday at his press conference President Eisenhower was saying that he had appealed to everybody he could reach with the sound of his voice to give less attention to subjects that are unworthy of occupying our time from morning to night.

This observation was followed by another comment from the President backing up that part of a speech which Sen. Flanders of Vermont, Republican, had made in the Senate the previous day also deploring the attention which the McCarthy controversies were being given while much more serious situations in the world were being overlooked.

One would have thought that in an executive department subject to the discipline of the President, Eisenhower's advice might be heeded.

But the very next day unbeknownst to the Republican members of the Senate subcommittee on Investigations, the Department of the Army slipped to the Democratic members of the same committee a report containing sensational charges.

These concerned the activities of members of that committee's staff in allegedly seeking favored treatment for a former member of their staff now serving in the Army.

Naturally the document was leaked to the press.

Did anybody in the Eisenhower administration think that all this was going to keep the McCarthy controversy off the front pages and that attention wasn't going to continue to be diverted from other serious matters?

But in the midst of it all most everybody including the President seems to have overlooked a very important section of the speech by Sen. Flanders.

Although they reported fully the attack which Flanders made on the Wisconsin senator, the wire services did not report fully the sensational attack which Flanders also made on some of the Eisenhower administration's foreign policies.

The four paragraphs of the Tuesday address of Flanders — which Eisenhower was not asked about at his Wednesday press conference — are as follows:

"When he (Sen. McCarthy) and we look outward, what do we see? We see defeat in Korea, and the Iron Curtain moved down to the trace line by force of arms, in defiance of the principles and purposes of the United Nations.

"We find the same aggression pursued in Indochina, with our country assigned to play the part of a supporter of colonialism, and persuaded to enter into negotiations which are foredoomed to parallel, to a greater or less extent, the foredoomed conclusion of the Korean truce.

"In Europe we see Italy ready to fall into Communist hands. We find France irresolute, palsied in thought and action, with her Communists well organized and sure of their ground.

"Saddest of all we see Great Britain nibbling at the drugged bait of trade profits, which benumbed her judgments when Japan moved into Manchuria and Mussolini moved into Ethiopia. Then followed, in logical sequence, the fall of the Rhineland, Austria, Czechoslovakia, and Poland in the second world war.

"Let us look to the south. In Latin America, there are sturdy strongholds of freedom. But there are likewise, alas, spreading infections of communism. Whole countries are being taken over. Other countries, not yet captured, are undergoing relentless infiltration.

"There is little need to spotlight the other trouble spots in Asia and in Africa. If this massive advance is not stemmed, our future place in the world is clearly foredoomed. The Iron Curtain, now protecting Communist countries, will be drawn about the United States and Canada, the last remnants of the free world. This will not need to be accomplished by defeating us militarily. It will result from the capture of the rest of the world by infiltration and subversion. We will be left with no place to trade and no place to go except as we are permitted to trade and to go by the Communist masters of the world."

Nobody has better stated the importance of the objectives of the various congressional committees of the last 20 years in their burning desire to expose the "relentless infiltration" of the Alger Hisses, the Harry Dexter Whites and the Klaus Fuchs inside the American government.

Certainly this is the best anti-"red herring" statement that has come from anyone in recent months and in it can be read a veiled warning that maybe the State Department has within its ranks even today some appeasers who want to sell America out to the forth-coming Geneva conference.

By WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.
According to Metchnikoff (Prolongation of Life) a man loses more than an inch and a woman more than 1 1/2 inches in stature between the ages of 50 and 85. In some instances the loss is nearly 3 inches.

There is also loss of weight after 40 in men, after 50 in women. Between the ages of 60 and 80 there is a loss of 13 pounds.

Decalcification of the bones — loss of calcium — explains the loss of stature, and the gradually increasing porosity of the bones explains both the lightness and greater fragility of the bones of elderly persons.

This decalcification of the bones is characteristic of advancing age but these parous times a lot of poor souls in their thirties or forties are decalcifying long before they attain what should be their peak. Thanks to our nifty-pam-baby diet of high calory cheat-food.

Case Records of a Psychologist

More Than Love Needed in Successful Marriage

Teen-agers, suppose you make up the jury to render a verdict in Jerry's case today. Consider the facts that I advance below. And please imagine yourselves in the shoes of Jerry's future children. Should he marry now or wait a few years? What do you say?

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
Case K-349: Jerry K., aged 18, is just out of high school.

"I've been dating a junior in the same high school," he told me eagerly.

"She's a wonderful girl, too, and has promised to marry me next month."

"But she is only 17 and our parents think we should wait. But why should we wait, Dr. Crane? We love each other, so what else matters?"

If you teen-agers marry without first having gone to business college or the university or to a trade school, how do you expect to give your children any breaks in life?

For when you are 35, you will then have children of your own in high school. And those teen-agers will probably grumble because you can't give them normal advantages. You'll always be poor, for you will lack special training.

You will thus be limited to common labor jobs. You'll probably not be making any more money at the age of 40 than at 19, for you will have nothing but a strong back and an untrained brain to offer on the labor market.

So you high schoolers who plan to elope or marry before you are old enough to vote, are really double-crossing your future unborn children.

You are so selfish that you think of nobody but yourself, and that is a poor start in marriage, for true love is supposed to be unselfish.

Use a little "horse sense" with your romancing. For the average life span nowadays is 70.

You still will have about 50 years of marriage ahead of you if you wait till you are 21 to have your wedding.

If you wish to travel by car across the U.S.A., you teen-agers know that it will take more than a can of gasoline.

The gas is a vital part of automobile transportation, but the gasoline is only one element in the complicated modern motor car.

Marriage is a complicated machine, too. Love is its gasoline. And just as you get gasoline from any one of a dozen filling stations, so you can fall in love with any one of a dozen eligible members of the opposite sex.

It is harder to get the motor car than to get the gas to operate it!

By the same token, it is harder to acquire the other qualifications for a successful marriage than to find a lover with whom to share torrid kisses.

Before you ever consent to marry anybody, be certain both of you have the "makings" for a permanently successful marriage.

If you are to be a bride, be sure you first graduate from high school. Then get some business college training. Or acquire other technical skill, as a telephone operator, comptometer worker, a teacher, or at least put in a year or two in a factory or store.

Have you girls been able to run your parents' home for a week or a month on a budget? Do you have an insurance policy? Are you active in a church? For active church people rarely get divorces.

And if you are the prospective groom, have you a trade or profession obtained by extra schooling after high school graduation?

Do you have any money saved? Do you make enough to support a wife and still have enough to maintain a $5,000 family income insurance policy?

Can you speak in public? Have you been a Scout leader or Sunday school teacher? Where can you get $250 to pay for your first baby?

Send for my 200-point "Tests for Successful Husbands and Wives," enclosing a stamped return envelope, plus a dime.

Soviets Announce Results of Election

MOSCOW (U)—The Soviet Union had a new parliament—the Supreme Soviet—today. The government said returns from the national elections yesterday "show that the Soviet people voted unanimously for candidates of the Communist and nonparty bloc."

These were the only candidates on the ballots to fill the 1,331 seats in the two chambers—the Council of Nationalities and the Council of the Union.

Approximately 110 million persons were eligible to vote. Formal results—what percentage of the electorate voted and "endorsed the candidates and the program of the Communist party"—will probably be announced tomorrow.

It was the first Supreme Soviet election in four years.

Premier Georgi Malenkov, Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, party chief Nikita Khrushchev and other leaders all were candidates.

Meter Proves Car Passenger Hogged Liquor

OKLAHOMA CITY (U)—Officers, bowing to an unusual request, tested a passenger in a car for drunkenness after giving the routine drunkometer test to the driver.

The passenger explained he and the driver had shared the cost of the bottle and "I want to see if he's getting more of the whisky than I am."

Found to be twice as drunk as the driver, he returned a dollar of the purchase price, censuring himself for "hogging up all the liquor."

Britons Shun Talks on Chinese Trade

BERLIN (U)—Trade talks slated to open in East Berlin today between a large delegation of British businessmen and the Chinese Communists have fallen through in the face of British government disapproval.

The Peiping trade mission in the Soviet zone reportedly sent word to an expected 40 British delegates not to come. Twenty of the Britons canceled their air passages yesterday.

Only four or five traders had arrived by last night. They said they would see the Chinese on their own.

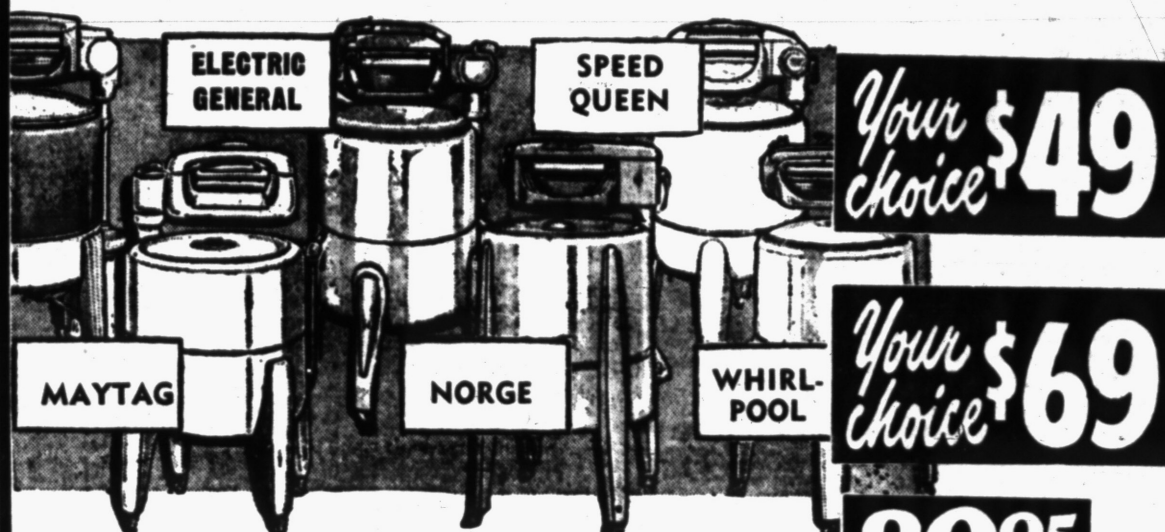

The London Foreign Office advised British industrialists to call off the discussions last Saturday. It warned that the sponsor in Britain, the China Trade Committee, was linked with the Communist-front British Council, which existed for "other purposes" than promoting legitimate trade.

Police Capture Dehoco Escapee

Lansing Officers Arrest Second Member of Trio; One Still Sought

LANSING — State Police Sunday night captured the second of three Detroit House of Correction fugitives who escaped Friday night.

Both captures were made with a minimum of trouble.

The third fugitive, Robert E. Reese, 32, of Lansing, is still at large. Lansing Police said that Reese may have stolen a car from a used car lot to aid in his getaway.

Meanwhile State Police turned over Gordon Burd, 27, of Ypsilanti, to Lansing Police. He was captured at a tavern just outside the city's northern outskirts, barely 24 hours after he and two companions arrived in Lansing by taxi-cab.

Robert Hamilton, 24, a Dearborn cab driver, said that Burd, Reese and Lelton Fowler, 24, of Lansing, had hailed him in the Detroit suburb. They asked to be taken to Lansing, he said.

Burd and Reese, Hamilton said, left the cab in Lansing, just before police, tipped off by an anonymous phone call, stopped the cab to arrest Fowler Saturday night.

Hamilton said he didn't suspect that the trio were escapees, because they acted "nice and friendly" on the trip. He said he thought their prison garb was working clothes.

Lansing Police held Burd and Fowler until Detroit authorities made arrangements to pick them up.

Fowler was serving 5-15 years for armed robbery. Burd was serving concurrent terms of 3 to 4 years for larceny and 1 1/2 to 3 years for car theft.

Reese was serving 1 1/2 to 2 years for passing bad checks.

Basketball Game on Donkeys to Aid Memorial Fund

WALLED LAKE — Donkey-mounted members of the Future Farmers of America and a yet-unknown adult team will play a benefit basketball game in the Wall Lake High School gym Wednesday at 8 p.m.

Half the proceeds of each adult ticket sold will go toward the Dr. O. R. MacKenzie Memorial Clinic fund.

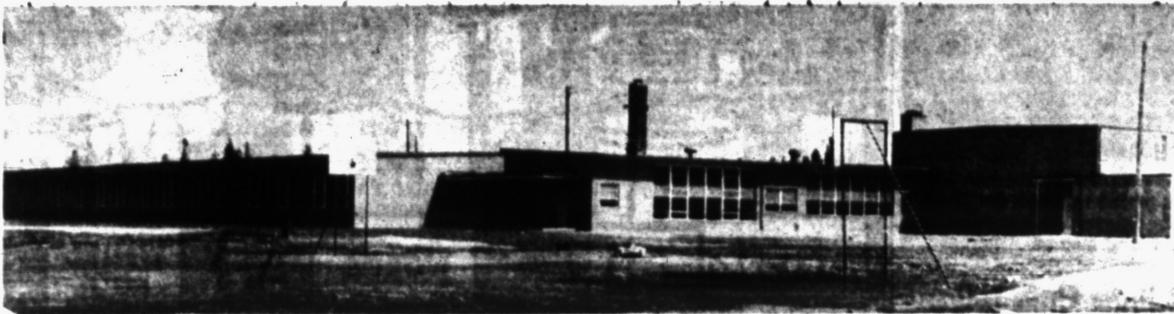

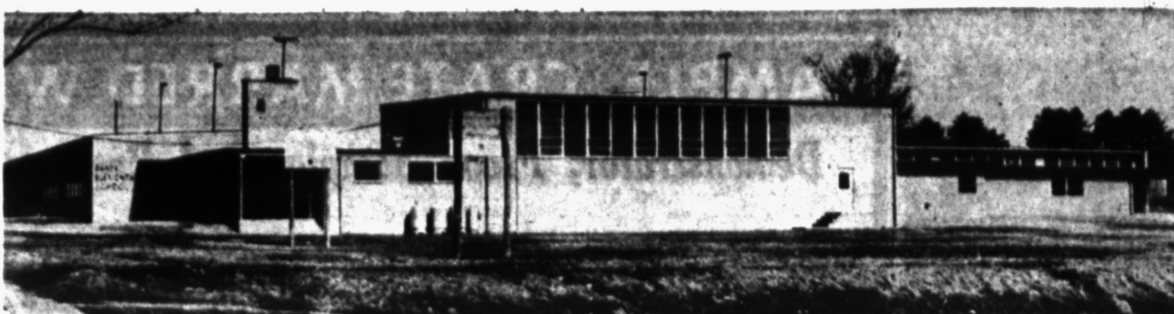

During intermission a girls' group will mount the donkeys for a brief basketball game. A hobby donkey race is also scheduled during half-time.

Tickets will be available at the door as well as from FFA members and a group of women headed by Mrs. Margaret Dennis, according to Waldo Proctor, FFA sponsor a member of the clinic board.

Church to Hold Lenten Potluck on Wednesday

DRAYTON PLAINS — St. Andrew Episcopal Church will hold a Lenten family potluck supper at the church at 6:15 p.m. Wednesday, with each person bringing his own table service, bread and butter, milk, and a hot dish to pass.

The Rev. C. G. Widdifield, rector of All Saints Church, will show a series of colored slides on the life of Christ. A separate illustrated program will be offered for small children.

MILFORD AND HIGHLAND GET NEW SCHOOLS—To be formally dedicated Tuesday night, the new Bertha Baker Elementary school at the top, and the Highland Elementary and junior high school addition in Highland, lower picture, are ready for occupancy. Recently completed, both schools are now U-shaped units. Exterior is of face brick with cinder block interiors. Hallways and corridors feature vitreous cement wainscot and heating systems are radiant supplemented with individual room units. These are thermostatically controlled for each room. Walter T. Anicka and Associates of Ann Arbor drew the plans for the buildings and the builder was Ward Ross of Pontiac.

Mobile X-Ray Units Visit Ferndale, Oxford Today

Michigan Health Department's two mobile X-ray units, checking Oakland County people for tuberculosis, moved into Ferndale and Oxford today.

The "Raymobiles" have taken free chest X-rays of some 6,500 Oakland County residents since they came here March 2.

"We're very encouraged with the number of north Oakland people who've been turning out for X-rays," Miss Evelyn Kid-nigh, the county health department's nursing director, said.

The units will stay until July 2, moving into every nook and cranny of the county in the drive to check 180,000 local people for tuberculosis. The X-rays don't call for any undressing—and take only a couple of minutes.

One unit will stop at Oxford's Detroit Edison office at 27 N. Washington St. today through Wednesday from noon until 8 p.m. The unit will be at Ortonville's South street bank from noon until 8 p.m. Thursday and 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. Friday.

Holly is the next stop, with American Spring Co. and Continental Die Casting Corp. down for visits March 22 and 23. The unit will X-ray other Holly people March 24 and 25 from noon until 8 p.m., and March 26 from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. at Consumers Power Co. offices.

The Ferndale unit visited Jefferson school today. Technicians will take X-rays Tuesday and Wednesday from noon until 8 p.m. at Taft school and Thursday and Friday at Wilson School. Friday hours are 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

Ferndale people can drop in for X-rays at Coolidge School March 22-23 from noon until 8 p.m.; Lincoln High School March 24 and 25 from noon until 8 p.m. and March 26 from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m.

THE TRUTH comes home... to the Family

Now that Spring is "just around the corner" the family whose home has been economically heated with 'Little Joe' Stoker coal has realized the many, many advantages they have enjoyed with Pontiac's most popular stoker coal...

"Little Joe" Stoker Coal

The Cleaner Burning Stoker Coal That Really Adapts Itself to Michigan's Changeable Climate!

Check All These Features:

- ✓ "Little Joe" Is Dust Treated
- ✓ "Little Joe" Is Properly Sized
- ✓ "Little Joe" Is Clean to Handle, Burns Cleanly
- ✓ "Little Joe" Is Low in Ash—High in Heat
- ✓ "Little Joe" Is Economical

To Mother the using of 'Little Joe' Stoker coal during the past Winter means less cleaning this Spring, as there has been no soot or noticeable dirt from this cleaner burning fuel.

To brother it has meant less, much less, work in helping to take care of the furnace and the removal of ashes.

To little sister it has meant a more comfortable home all Winter long, as 'Little Joe' Stoker coal adapts itself to changeable weather holding a low, steady fire on warmer days and nights, yet it responds readily to automatic furnace controls in giving an abundance of heat when needed, thereby maintaining a steady even temperature.

To Dad the burning of 'Little Joe' Stoker coal has meant a big, big saving on the fuel bill as well as little or no work due to the cleaner burning qualities of this better quality stoker coal... no unsightly soot stringers, very little ashes and the extra saving of 25c per ton by ordering in load lots of two ton or more.

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's top intelligence executive said today, "We tell Russia too much."

"We Americans publish a great deal in our scientific and technical journals and in congressional hearings."

Honest Portuguese Gets $4 as Present

NEW YORK (AP) — A Portuguese laborer, who said he was paid $4 too much while helping dig a subway almost 30 years ago, is getting back the money that he tried to repay to his old boss.

Edward G. Johnson, official of an engineering and contracting firm, reported a letter had come from Manuel Vieira Concalo saying he had worked for the firm in 1925 or 1926.

Concalo, who now lives in a village near Oporto, Portugal, continued, "And when I left your employ I received, by error, payment of an extra day at $4 approximately. That is why I am sending to you the equivalent amount in escudos to repay my debt. Please accept it."

Johnson said Concalo enclosed 100 escudos, which the firm sent back, asking that he accept the money "as a present from us with our appreciation of your great honesty."

Claims Chiang Threatens Life

Ex-Formosa Governor Says Kai-shek Plotted to Have Him Killed

EVANSTON, Ill. (AP)—Dr. K. C. Wu claims Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek has resorted to attempted assassination holding his son a hostage in an attempt to stop Wu's bitter criticisms of Chiang's policies in Formosa.

Wu, former governor of Formosa, now the seat of the Chinese Nationalist government, told a news conference yesterday Chiang masterminded an unsuccessful attempt to kill him and his wife in Formosa last year.

Chiang Ching-kuo, Chiang's eldest son, heads a secret police system which controls local governments as well as Nationalist policies, Wu charged.

Chiang Ching-kuo has at least six secret agents in the United States, Wu said, including one in Chicago who is assigned to report on him. His own son, Hsui Huang, is held hostage in Formosa, he said.

Wu and his wife Edith live in a small apartment in Evanston.

The RIGHT Unemployment Compensation Bill Can Still Be Enacted . . . IF YOU ACT NOW

The Michigan Senate has passed an Unemployment Compensation Bill. The Bill is so bad—so full of gimmicks—so inadequate to the needs of Michigan's workers and Michigan's business—that it must be defeated. The $41 maximum benefit held out as bait by the sponsors of this bill would actually be paid to only 1.6% of the unemployed—less than 1 out of 60. The Senate has brushed aside the recommendations of the President of the United States and other State and national leaders.

Governor Williams says: "If this bill passes in anything like its present form, I see no alternative but to take the question of adequate job insurance directly to the people . . . by initiating a constitutional amendment".

The battle now shifts to the House of Representatives. There is still hope that Michigan can have an adequate law . . . if Michigan will speak out!

The SENATE Disregarded THIS Advice: and passed THIS Bill:

ADVICE FROM PRESIDENT EISENHOWER . . . "Unemployment insurance is a valuable first line of defense against economic recession. . . . But even as a first defense, the system needs reinforcement." The President recommended that maximum benefits be raised " . . . so that payments to the great majority of the beneficiaries may equal at least half their regular earnings." The President also recommended that " . . . all of the states raise the potential duration of unemployment benefits to 26 weeks, and that they make the benefits available to all persons who have had a specified amount of covered employment or earnings."

ADVICE FROM THE FEDERAL ADVISORY COUNCIL ON EMPLOYMENT SECURITY . . . which recommended that " . . . as expeditiously as possible the maximum weekly benefit in each state be raised to an amount not less than 3/5 to 2/3 of average weekly earnings in covered employment."

ADVICE FROM THE U.S. DEPARTMENT OF LABOR . . . Secretary of Labor Mitchell urged enactment of the Federal Advisory Council's recommendations as "supporting" the President's program. Assistant Secretary of Labor Siciliano said the Council's recommendations are "in line with" the President's recommendations.

ADVICE FROM THE GOVERNOR . . . Governor G. Mennen Williams sent Secretary Mitchell's letter to the State Legislature in a special message urging enactment of the President's recommendations.

ADVICE FROM THE MESC . . . The Michigan Employment Security Commission, composed of two labor and two management representatives, voted 3 to 0 to support the President's recommendations.

ADVICE FROM THE NATIONAL CONFERENCE ON STATE LABOR LEGISLATION . . . This Conference, convened by the Federal Government and consisting of delegates appointed by both Democratic and Republican governors of 41 states and territories, voted unanimous support of the President's recommendations.

ADVICE FROM MICHIGAN'S COMMUNITIES . . . The governing bodies of the following communities, representing 46% of the State's total population, have already adopted resolutions calling upon the Legislature to enact President Eisenhower's recommendations: Allen Park, Battle Creek, Big Rapids, Center Line, Dearborn, Detroit, East Detroit, Ecorse, Ferndale, Flint, Grand Rapids, Highland Park, Iron Mountain, Jackson, Lincoln Park, Ludington, Muskegon, Pontiac, River Rouge, Roseville, St. Clair Shores, Wyandotte, Ypsilanti, and Warren Township and Macomb County Board of Supervisors.

ADVICE FROM CONGRESS . . . The Joint Congressional Committee on the Economic Report, composed of both Republicans and Democrats from both Houses of Congress, commended the President for his unemployment compensation recommendations.

THE BILL PASSED BY THE SENATE IS CALLED THE "TEAHEN BILL". HERE ARE SOME OF ITS MOST GLARING FAULTS:

- The $41 maximum benefit held out as bait by the sponsors of this bill would actually be paid to only 1.6% of the unemployed—less than 1 out of 60.
- More than half of the unemployed workers would get no increase at all. More than a third of the remainder would get only one or two dollars.
- The increase in duration to 26 weeks would benefit less than half of the workers. There is nothing for those who now exhaust their benefits in less than 20 weeks. In 1953, more than 46% fell into this category. The remainder would not all receive the maximum. Many would get only one, two, or three weeks.
- Injured workers would be forced to abandon their claims for workmen's compensation.
- The Bill would deny or reduce benefits to workers compelled to retire by their employers.
- When the employer shuts down the plant for a "vacation," laid-off workers would be denied benefits even though they get no vacation pay.
- Workers who get back pay, call-in pay or severance pay would be disqualified.
- Low paid workers would be deprived of any benefits at all by increased minimum earning requirements.
- The Bill sets up so many eligibility hurdles that many unemployed will have to go on public relief or private charity.
- The Unemployment Compensation Fund would be raided for millions of dollars mainly for the benefit of a few giant corporations while taxes would be increased on other business.

Will Michigan's House of Representatives Listen to the PRESIDENT...the GOVERNOR ...the CITY GOVERNMENTS...the PEOPLE?

There is no question that the great majority of Michigan's people and Michigan's business and Michigan's agriculture want higher unemployment compensation and increased duration. There is $439,000,000 in the Unemployment Compensation Fund for this purpose. The people of Michigan do not want the taxes on their homes and businesses increased to pay for public welfare, while a few giant corporations get their unemployment compensation taxes reduced. This question is now squarely up to the House of Representatives. Time still remains for you to tell your Representative that you want an up-to-date, adequate, equitable unemployment compensation law.

Turnpike Killer to Fight Verdict

Hopes to Escape Death Penalty Recommended by Jury

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP)—John Wesley Wable, 24, convicted of slaying a sleeping truck driver on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, today began fighting for a new trial to escape the state's electric chair.

A. C. Scales, chief defense attorney, said he will appeal the jury verdict of first-degree murder with recommendation for death on grounds the prosecution erred in presenting testimony.

A jury of seven men and five women deliberated four hours Saturday before convicting the Ohioite, Pa., handyman of shooting to death Harry F. Pitts, 39, of Bowling Green, Va., as he slept in his parked truck.

Wable, closely guarded in his cell, was quoted by his attorney as saying yesterday:

"I don't understand how they could bring in that verdict. I didn't do anything."

Wable is charged with slaying Lester B. Woodward, 39, of Duncannon, Pa., and wounding John K. Sheperd, 34, of West Alexander, Pa.

Heard in a Pontiac Church Sunday No Way to Save the World Except by Blood of Jesus

Today's sermon is from the one given Sunday by the Rev. C. S. Maher, pastor of Baldwin Ave. and Covert Methodist Churches since July 1952.

Baldwin Avenue church was organized a few years before the church on Baldwin avenue was purchased in 1936. The Covert Church was organized in 1931.

Text: If we walk in the light as He is in the light, we have fellowship one with another, and the blood of Jesus Christ... cleanseth us from all sin. I John 1:7

We are told by physicians that three things the human body requires are food, oxygen and something to fight off the germs that continually seek to harm it. There is just one part of our physical make-up that provides all of these and that is the blood.

1. Blood flowing through the intestinal tract carries food to the billions of cells which make up our bodies. A person can get along without food a little longer than he can get along without air and water.

2. Blood flowing through the lungs absorbs the oxygen and then passes it on to the cells as it courses through the body.

3. Not only is blood the life of every individual as it flows through the veins and arteries, but it also contains a marvelous defense mechanism. The white cells of the blood can be called "soldiers," that at a moment's notice go to any part of the body where they are needed.

Not only does the blood do all this for the individual but blood that is given to others is the finest cure for many diseases.

The world is anemic today because it does not have enough life-giving blood to assure its health. The world is ill because the people of the world are sick in mind and soul.

1. There is a need for this life-giving blood in individuals.

Much modern criticism is made of hymns and sermons which mention the blood of Jesus is unscriptural and unrealistic. It is merely rationalistic.

It is out of touch with St. Paul who says in Col. 1:14... "God's dear Son, in whom we have redemption through his blood."

We are told that without the blood is no remission of sin. Just as the human being needs blood for life, so the spiritual being needs blood for life. We read in Eph. 2:1, "You hath He made alive, when you were dead through trespasses and sins." (Revised Standard Version)

2. There is a need for Jesus' blood in His Church universal.

In Eph. 1:22, 23, we are told that the church is the body of Christ. Here, again, we see an anemic condition. At the beginning the Church was pure, composed of dedicated men and women who willingly gave their lives that the name of Jesus Christ might be proclaimed to everyone, regardless of race, creed or color.

All but one of the disciples met violent deaths because of their preaching of Jesus to the ungodly. Not only has sin entered into the Body of Christ, but the Body of Christ is undernourished and gasping for air. Our blood is thin. It needs a transfusion of that life-giving blood of Jesus. We need new vigor and energy to carry on his work.

3. There is another realm in which we are anemic—our public life. This nation is known as a Christian nation. Why? Because we do not worship idols or the sun? Because we do not burn missionaries or go about naked?

Every day we see less of the spirit of Christ in public affairs. We can see public officials working for selfish security rather than for public prosperity.

Billions of dollars are spent each year by men and women who are trying to make themselves look different than they really are. Laws, treaties and gentlemen's agreements are passed in an attempt to change the complexion of the world; yet it is still pale with fear and doubt.

Our primary need is life-giving blood that will wholly transform our hearts and minds. Jesus came that we might have life and redemption through His blood.

There is no other way. We must be saved by the blood of Jesus Christ.

Lives to 101; Moderation Gets Credit

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (UP)—George M. McGuire leaned back in his chair yesterday after blowing out 101 birthday candles.

"Abstemiousness," he said, "abstemiousness both in eating and drinking has been my formula for a long life."

McGuire, oldest living graduate of Cornell University and a New Yorker by birth added:

"Of course, there was a time in Detroit when I celebrated my 28th birthday pretty often, and I never thought of abstemiousness then."

(Webster defines abstemiousness as sparing in diet, food and drink and sparing in indulgences of tastes or passions.)

Family Perishes Inches From Safety

KOKOMO, Ind. (UP)—A family of four perished in a blazing apartment here late last night—inches from a window and safety.

The dead were Paul Imlay, 27, a filling station operator; his wife Betty, 24; and two children, Cindy, 4, and William, about 1.

Imlay apparently awoke and smelled smoke in their second-floor garage apartment. Rushing outside, he called to neighbors for help and raced back inside.

Fire Chief Francis X. Mannion of Kokomo said he apparently succeeded in getting the wife and two children out of bed but collapsed a few feet from the window through which they could have jumped to safety.

Mrs. Imlay was lying across the two children, her outflung arms just inches from the blackened window, Mannion said.

HOW AMERICA IS CHANGING

Americans are in the midst of a great renewal of religious interest

SINCE 1940, membership in religious congregations has increased by 27 million—over twice the rate of our population growth.

During this period, thousands of places of worship have been built. There's been an increase of 40,000 active clergymen.

More Bibles were published between 1940 and 1950 than in the previous 40 years. The vast audiences of religious radio and television programs also reflect our growing spiritual interests.

Although we Americans have made great gains in our material possessions, it is the renewal of spiritual interest that adds meaning and significance to these material gains.

The stability of our families and homes, as well as the progress of the nation, have their roots in moral and spiritual values. We in America have always enjoyed freedom of worship and it is of tremendous importance that we are more actively using this opportunity.

Organization Prides Itself on Status as Oldest Group

Locally, Enrollment Almost Doubles in Year and Continues to Push Upward

It is a convenient fact that sewing is part of the training in creative arts which is stressed by the Camp Fire Girls because this national youth organization is "bursting at the seams" with the advent of its 44th birthday this week.

Camp Fire Girls was organized "to perpetuate the spiritual ideals of the home and to stimulate and aid in the formation of habits making for health and character."

It is the oldest girls' youth organization in America, serving ages between 7 and 18. There are local groups in more than 2,700 communities throughout the United States that have served over 3,000,000 girls.

After institution of the first Boy Scout troop, some little girls came to Dr. Luther Halsey Gulick wanting to join it. Although he told them the present program was for boys solely, he immediately realized the need for a like program for girls, and thereafter organized the Camp Fire Girls, Inc., in 1910.

Now the Camp Fire program covers America and reaches to England, Japan, Iran and the Philippines. Because different age groups need different guidance and independence, the program was divided into three groups: Blue Birds from 7 to 9, Camp Fire Girls 10 to 14, Horizon Club from 15 to 18.

The elevating part of the program is incorporated in the law of the Camp Fire Girls: Worship God, seek Beauty, Give Service, Pursue Knowledge, be Trustworthy, Hold on to Health, Glorify Work and Be Happy.

The instruction portion of the program is based on seven crafts in which the girls earn honors, namely home, outdoors, creative arts, frontiers, business, sports and games, and citizenship.

The watchword of Camp Fire is "We He Lo" which includes excerpts from the words work, health and love.

An enjoyable part of Camp Fire is the outdoor excursions planned to teach self-reliance, and the sewing of beads, which are given as badges of achievement for each honor earned, on ceremonial jackets of navy blue felt. Each girl plans her own arrangement of beads acquired, therefore each design is a display of personality. Nothing can be worn on this jacket which has not been earned by the wearer.

Locally, Camp Fire has almost doubled its enrollment this year, and could easily double it again next year by the response of girls everywhere except for the fact that Camp Fire requires that the girls be adequately led and sponsored by adult members. Each group must have a leader, assistant leader and sponsor as minimum adult supervision.

day celebrations will be held by groups also during the week.

Voice Teacher Believes Business Success Depends on Good Speech

Learn Why You Fear Youngster

Maybe You Think She Will Withdraw Her Affection

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

A reader writes: "You once said that to overcome fear of a child, you had to admit the fear. Well, I admit my fear of our 6-year-old daughter — and get nowhere."

She goes on to say that the child's defiance has increased since the birth of a brother. "Between the baby and Helen's demands for her own way in everything, I am worn out. Every bedtime is a long, bitter battle. I know I should take physical action but am afraid to do so..."

It isn't enough to know we fear a child to overcome it. To do that, we have to know what we fear in him. And if that we fear is unreasonable, find the adventurous courage to refuse to obey that fear.

What is it we fear in Helen that prevents us from picking her up in our arms at bedtime and carrying her upstairs? Is it her power to withdraw affection from us?

In the case of Helen's mother, it is surely an unreasonable fear. For by allowing this little girl to override our convictions on bedtime, we are not retaining her affection, but losing it.

In her mother's own words, we are the child's contestant in a "bitter battle." So our hope of keeping her affection by continued submission is pretty unreasonable.

Why then do we continue to submit?

Probably because we cannot imagine being loved unless we do. So that when our child shows anger and defiance, it seems like the end of the world to us. And we react to our child's wrath with the identical helplessness and awe with which we reacted to adult wrath in our own childhoods.

So let's relinquish our unreasonable and childish hope of insuring others' affection by submission. Instead, let adventurous courage rise up in us so that we can suddenly have a new, free self cry out within us:

"Why, I've had enough of this wallowing for affection! This child should be in bed, whether she loves me or hates me for taking her there. Because in bed is where she belongs at this time of night." Oh, I know that's not the conventional solution of the child guidance books. They'd suggest Helen's mother give her jealous child reassurance of love instead of physical action. I don't go for that counsel for frightened people. For I think that they are in no state to reassure anyone until they can reassure themselves.

Mary Margaret McBride Says:

Transformed Perle Mesta May Forget Party-Giving

It interested me the other day to hear a young writer friend who goes to enough parties to be an authority on the subject refer to a Western hostess as "the Perle Mesta of Hollywood," because she entertains the great who visit filmland.

The reason I was interested is that I'd been wondering if Mrs. Mesta ever again will care about being the hostess with the most as the musical comedy written about her put it. That she has become a household word as party-giver supreme proves how completely the former minister to Luxembourg succeeded in achieving what once must have been a powerful ambition.

I went to a few of those famous Washington parties of hers to which came everybody of consequence including the President.

I'll never forget the great tables piled with hams, turkeys, roast beef, lobsters, pate de foie gras, and the great feeling of lavishness over all. I took note of Mrs. Mesta, too, viewing this with what seemed a rather detached gaze.

The party Madame Minister gave after the coronation in London was evidence that she's lost none of her old magic. World royalty, British earls and dukes, and such of her American friends as were around were there in droves.

Was it enough for her to be hailed once more as the queen of party-givers? Probably not, for she went all by herself straight from London to Russia for a probably painful three-month tour.

"Scared!" she echoed when I asked her about her trip. "Of course, I was scared every minute. I never stopped wondering what would happen to me and if I'd ever get out of there, but somehow I had to do it—had to see all I could, because I wanted to come back and tell America about it. It seemed important."

I have a theory that Perle Mesta's transformation from top party-giver to woman concerned about her world really began when she was sent as minister to Luxembourg. The people of that small country look to her at once, and she to them. She found many needs there that she could help meet.

I talked to her when she came back just before Christmas the first year. The only kind of party she was thinking about was the one she was going to give for Luxembourg orphans, and she was busily shopping for their gifts, every one of which she bought herself.

She hurried from the stores to see Dwight Eisenhower, then president of Columbia University, to urge him to arrange scholarships so that Luxembourg youth could come here to study.

Any time left over on this rather hectic visit she devoted to singing publicly the praises of Luxembourg in order to get tourists to go there, and to telephoning the families of servicemen with whom she had become pals when they visited her in platoons at the American Legation.

OK to Loan Negatives of Snapshots

It Isn't Necessary for Couple to Have Pictures Printed

By Emily Post

Today's first letter tells me: "While on a recent motor trip through the West with another couple, we took many snapshots of places of interest. We used our camera as the other couple had none, and we also bought all the film for the camera."

"These friends expressed a wish to have a set of the pictures. The question is: Would it be considered cheap on our part to send them just the negatives so that they may have their own pictures made up, or must we send them a set of the developed pictures?"

Answer: I think it would be entirely proper to send them the negatives, not only because the cost of many prints would be high for you, but also because they can choose the pictures that they want to keep and not pay for printing the ones they do not care for.

Dear Mrs. Post: (1) What can the small butter knives be used for, besides buttering breads? (2) Is it permissible to set the table with the small bread and butter plates and not provide the small knives? In other words, just let people use their regular knives.

Answer: (1) For nothing but butter, jam and cheese. (2) If you have butter knives, you should use them. But if you have none, then your guests can perfectly well use their table knives.

Dear Mrs. Post: Does an invitation reading "Mr. and Mrs. John Smith, At Home, Saturday, the 30th of March, 5 to 7 o'clock" require a written acceptance? Even if no answer is requested, would a written reply be more courteous?

Answer: Although it is certainly best manners to answer all invitations, comparatively few people answer an invitation as general as this one.

She Terms Her Work a Crusade

By ANNE HEYWOOD

Ever since she can remember, Dorothy Uris has been interested in the way people speak.

"You see so many girls in business," she told me, "who are well-groomed, charmingly dressed, and have good manners, but the minute they open their mouths, the effect is ruined."

"Sloppy diction, nasal sounds, and all kinds of unpleasant speech habits have more to do with a girl's lack of success than people think."

"Many times an employer will decide against an applicant and say that it's her 'personality,' when what he really means is that her voice irritated him."

Mrs. Uris decided to do something about it. For years she has studied voice under expert teachers. Her own voice is, naturally enough, very pleasing.

For some time she has been teaching voice and speech at a well-known school. She gets a big thrill out of seeing how a girl can improve her speech—and with it, her job, her paycheck, her social life and her romantic appeal.

But teaching in one school did not give Mrs. Uris the wide scope she wanted. And so, right in her own apartment, she has started speech classes for business girls at rates they can afford.

Her husband doesn't mind; in fact, he approves thoroughly.

"He knows it's a crusade with me," she said, grinning, "and he figures if I can get it out of my system this way, he won't have to hear about it so much at the dinner table!"

"How does she do it?" people ask—about Mrs. Uris and hundreds of other women who manage a paying occupation in their own homes.

And the answer is always the same: They find something they are excited about; something they believe in almost fanatically.

Having found it, the rest is easy. Their enthusiasm gives them the energy to run both a home and a business, and the persistence to make both enterprises a success.

Without that kind of enthusiasm, no one can ever be successful, either personally or financially. So, if you have been longing to find a way to make money at home, don't copy other women's activities.

Instead, dig deep into your own heart, find something you really care about, and get going! (Copyright, 1954)

Blue Girl Advised to Pour Cold Water on Useless Infatuation for Older Boy

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

"Dear Miss Woodward: I go out with my friends and have good times, but the boy I like isn't in my crowd. If I don't see him for days at a time, I get terribly blue."

"I go to the ice cream parlor almost every night to see if he's there. When I don't see him I always look at his pictures in my wallet."

"He works and I go to high school and I'm not allowed to go on dates yet. But how can I stop getting these awful sick feelings when I don't see him?"

You're sick with daydreaming. Your mad, mad crush isn't making you one bit happier. So you'd better doctor yourself severely and put an end to an infatuation that isn't doing you any good.

First of all, take those pictures out of your wallet. Seal them up in an envelope and give them to your mother to hide. Put the pictures of two movie stars, one baseball player and a TV star in your wallet instead.

Their faces will give you a variety of things to think about. But looking at them will do you so little good that you'll soon get out of the habit.

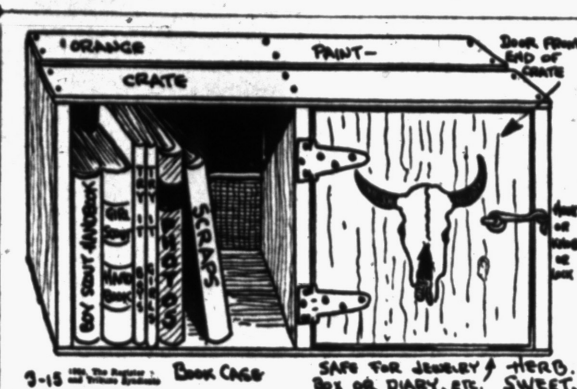

Secondly, rule ice cream off your diet. Don't go near that dispensary. Find 14 other things that are interesting and important to do, so you won't be tempted to drop in for a look around.

Thirdly, equip yourself with a mental ruler. Every time you find yourself daydreaming about this older boy, crack yourself a good one mentally cross the knuckles. Be firm and cruel with yourself.

Just make yourself stop thinking about him. And turn all your energies to concentrating on your work or your studying or your play.

Amazing how quickly you'll snare all those butterflies in your tummy if you use a mind!

"Dear Miss Woodward: My friends all say that Johnny thinks of me as a baby. Does he? Please help me decide. "His cousin and his sister both

Don't Saw Chair Legs Too Hastily

First Make Sure Wobble Isn't Result of Uneven Floor

By HUBBARD COBB

For years and years people have been sawing away at the legs of tables and chairs in the hope that if they saw long enough and hard enough the item in question will stop wobbling.

Well, in most cases it isn't the legs that are uneven but the floor upon which the legs rest, so put away the saw before you get into trouble.

A good way to deal with wobbly furniture is to get someone to hold it perfectly level and then measure from the end of the leg to the floor to see exactly how much has to be added to the leg to make the piece of furniture stand level.

If the distance isn't too great, spread some waxpaper on the floor and put some plastic wood on it. Set the leg into the plastic wood and let it harden.

When the plastic wood is hard, trim it down with a knife and smooth with sandpaper.

If you've got quite a distance to cover, it's best to use a block of hardwood. Try to get some of the same wood as the leg is made with and cut it down to the approximate size of the leg.

You can glue the block into place but we prefer a single wood screw.

If you use glue, you'll never be able to get the block off easily should you move the piece of furniture to some other spot on the floor that might be level. With a screw, however, it's a simple matter to take it out.

Sometimes the leg in question is fitted with a caster, and what you can do here is to push some steel wool into the hole where the caster fits to bring it out just far enough to remove the wobble.

His wife, Rosalind, looks on as sculptor Marshall Fredericks points out the central figure in a grouping of seven statues entitled "Saints and Sinners," part of an exhibit which opens today in Birmingham. The joyous and wistful frailties of the human race are subtly reflected in the green bronze figures, an interesting diversion in an exhibit that points up the scope and magnitude of Fredericks' famous architectural sculptures. Artists, sculptors, architects and collectors brought their wives Sunday to a preview at Peggy de Salle's Little Gallery. The showing, open to the public, will continue through April 12.

Sculptor's Preview Draws Acclaim

Marshall Fredericks Exhibit Opens

By WILMA GREENWAY

"The Sculptor Draws" is the theme of an exhibition of the work of one of America's best loved sculptors, Marshall Fredericks, which opens today at Peggy de Salle's Little Gallery in Birmingham.

Friends of the artist who gathered for the preview showing at the Gallery Sunday expressed the feeling that they had been brought to a fuller realization of the scope and versatility of this important sculptor whose studio is on Woodward avenue just south of Birmingham.

Exhibit after exhibit demonstrated the wide range of Fredericks' creative mind, the integrity of his interpretation and the sureness of his touch.

Some 70 "working drawings" and photographs of his mammoth architectural sculptures were on display, together with smaller figures—many of them in green bronze, a medium which the artist likes and uses frequently.

Although Fredericks' work has been featured in a host of cities and art centers, this is the first time the sculptor has displayed his preliminary sketches and drawings. The preview attracted enthusiastic comment from visitors, many of whose names have become a byword in art, education and architectural circles.

"A sound note in this experimental age," was the way John A. Foster, ceramist, defined Fredericks' sculpture.

"Terrific imagination and genuine integrity," was the comment of architect Malcolm Striton. Striton explained that he and Fredericks collaborated in designing the Veterans Memorial Building in Detroit. From the first penciled ideas to finished plans, architect and sculptor worked and thought together to produce a building which would be architecturally and sculpturally harmonious.

The result was the functional simplicity of the clean-lined memorial building with its seven pylons by Fredericks, representing the wars which involved Detroit and the final symbol of peace. And, on its facade, the soaring idealism of Fredericks' magnificent white eagle—a symbol, for every soldier, of the strength, beauty and aspiration of America.

Much interest centered around drawings and photograph of the "Bear and the Boy"—a mammoth limestone and gilded bronze sculpture which has just been erected at the entrance to the new Northland Center in Oak Park.

The great, lumbering, modernistic animal with its benign smile and air of anxious friendliness carries the feeling of humor and a warm sense of humanity. This feeling is extended in the startling contrast of an excessively skinny boy, gilded to catch the sun, who perches atop the huge beast.

"What child could look at that friendly sculpture and ever again be afraid of a bear?" was the comment of Mrs. Striton.

And from John S. Copping, artist: "He's marvelous! A genuine sense of humor, coupled with all the technical proficiency you could hope for."

Another focal point of the show was a sepi drawing of a crucifixion group. This is a sketch of what, when completed, will be the biggest crucifixion grouping in the world. It is being fashioned for the shrine to the only American saint, Kateri Tekawitha, at Indian River, Mich.

Giant redwoods have been transported from California for the cross. The figures of the Christ, the two Marys and John which will complete the group are one of Fredericks' current projects.

Among those present at the preview, Henry S. Booth, director of Cranbrook Foundation, took particular note of the crucifixion group.

commented on the versatility of the sculptor and his "very interesting way" of working out his ideas.

Others who paid their respects during the time that this reporter was on the scene were Architect and Mrs. Robert Swanson, Mr. and Mrs. Zoltan Sepesay (Cranbrook Art Academy); William Bostick, secretary of Detroit Art Institute; Mrs. Benjamin Brewster of Bloomfield; Gwen Lux, sculptress; Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Meier of Meier Cut Stone Company which carved the stone for the "Bear and the Boy"; Clarence Otter who collects French art; and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Winston whose private art collection is considered to be one of the finest in America.

The showing of Mr. Fredericks' work will continue through April 12. The Little Gallery on East Maple Street is open from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily with the exception of Wednesdays and Sundays. The exhibit is open to the public.

City Adopts National Electric Code

New Standard Starts April 1

Journeymen to Receive Explanation of Details at Three Meetings

The 1953 National Electric Code will be used as the standard for electrical installations in Pontiac beginning April 1, according to John W. Emerson, city electrical superintendent.

"Because there are many significant changes and additions, some explanation is necessary in order to keep up to date," Emerson said.

Meetings open to licensed journeymen will be held to answer questions March 22, 29 and 30 at 7:30 p.m. in the Consumers Power Co. auditorium, at 26 W. Lawrence St., Emerson announced.

Space will limit registrations for the meetings to 100. A $2 fee should be sent to the Electrical Department, at 35 Hill St. and a program and admission card will be returned by mail.

Each meeting will be conducted as a panel discussion. Discussion leaders will be H. B. Love, Detroit's chief electrical inspector, Ray E. Rider, Dearborn chief inspector, and Kent Stiner, former Detroit chief inspector.

Changes applying to general wiring, dwellings, new equipment and specific occupancies will be studied, Emerson said.

Dentist Debunks Toothpaste Ads

No Evidence Available to Support Producers' Anti-Decay Claims

WASHINGTON (AP)—The President of the American Dental Assn. said today an ADA study group has found no acceptable evidence that any toothpaste now on the market has any special value in preventing tooth decay.

Dr. Leslie M. Fitzgerald, of Dubuque, Iowa, the president, also declared the dental profession is increasingly concerned about possible danger to dental health arising out of certain claims he said were made for toothpastes.

"Many of the claims for these products," he said in a talk prepared for the District of Columbia Dental Society, "tend to discourage such proven dental health procedures as proper toothbrushing immediately after eating and the avoidance of excessive consumption of sugar-containing substances."

Navy dental researchers reported at the meeting they are ready to make first human trials of a device which they figure may largely eliminate at least one source of patients' jitters—the noise of the drill.

It's a tooth-cutting device which employs high-speed, back-and-forth vibrations rather than a rotary motion.

And the vibrations, unlike the whirring of the conventional drill, are not audible to the human ear.

Army researchers disclosed progress towards developing a kind of electrical thermometer designed quickly to detect hidden troubles in the mouth, such as tooth abscesses and inflammations of the nerves, without X-raying the entire mouth.

Legislature Has 8-Day Breather

Committees Taking Up Measures Passed by Opposite Branches

LANSING (AP)—Michigan's Legislature expects a kind of seventh-inning stretch this week.

Committees in House and Senate have eight days ahead in which to clear their desks of bills passed in the opposite house. With this deadline not falling until next week, the pressure was off after last week's hectic round of debate and vote on major measures.

The big issue to be debated and decided this week apparently is bingo—the Andrews proposal to amend the Constitution to legalize "charity" bingo.

This is due for debate in the Senate tonight and could reach a vote tomorrow unless sponsors stall it while they hunt for the necessary two-thirds majority needed to pass it. Legislative gossip says the necessary votes are lacking now.

The House plans a vote Wednesday on the first appropriation bill to ride through the legislative process—the $40 million public welfare bill.

That chamber will debate the $116 million school aid appropriation Tuesday, but there is little the chamber can do to that constitutionally-mandated measure.

The capitol is watching four committees closely for sensations this week.

The Senate Judiciary Committee holds the restless McCune bill to censor beer and wine advertising on television, and the Senate Taxation Committee is wrestling hard with the Cloon proposal for a $500 million highway bond issue.

The House State Affairs Committee must make a decision in the next eight days on the new lobbyist control bill which nearly tore the Senate apart at the seams. The House Labor Committee is deep in the Senate-approved Teahen bill to change unemployment compensation law.

When the lawmakers return at 8 p.m. tonight from their week-end recess, the Senate expects to nearly clear its calendar of 20 minor bills already approved by the House.

At the top in importance is a bill to provide for a permanent chief justice of the State Supreme Court.

Entry Attempt Reported

Waterford Township patrolmen this morning discovered an attempted entry at the LaSalle Market at 2544 Pontiac Lake Rd. The owner, Joseph Stodgel, who lives behind the store said he did not believe anyone entered the store although the front door glass had been smashed.

SWITCH—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Landauer of Basehor, Kansas, have returned home after a flight to Quebec, Canada, where they intended to adopt a baby boy at an orphanage there. Instead of a boy, they brought back identical twin girls, Denese, left, and Denene. The girls both weigh 15 pounds and both have cut two teeth. The Landauers say they will adopt a boy soon in order to give the twins a brother.

Boston Irish Tie Up St. Patrick to British

BOSTON (UP)—St. Patrick drove the snakes from Ireland and, to hear the Irish talk, he surely had a hand in driving the British from Boston.

The more ingenious Irish historians trace the celebration of St. Patrick's Day in America back to Capt. Miles Standish of the Massachusetts Bay colony in 1620.

Puritan, behead! Isn't Myles, or Miles, an Irish name and what Irishman fails to mark the day the serpent became extinct on the Emerald Isle?

The saint's day attracted little attention in Boston until the waves of immigration that began with the Irish potato famine of 1847. The tie-up with evacuation day was a long time coming.

It was not until 1901 that the happy coincidence was publicly observed. Then, as now, it was pointed out that many sons of the old sod fought in the Continental Army that drove the British from Boston on March 17, 1776.

The All-Irish South Boston Citizens Assn. promoted the first public celebration of the military victory.

The record is dotted with evidence that the celebration—always a one-day break in the Lenten fast—has not always been orderly.

And now, more than a half a century later, the problem still exists. The armed services at first declined to permit troops to march this year because of "abuse" to marchers in the past.

But U. S. Sen. Leverett Saltonstall, a Yankee Republican, and Rep. John W. McCormack, the House minority leader, prevailed on the high brass to have the ruling withdrawn.

TV May Take Over Forest Fire Spotting

ALEXANDRIA, La. (UP)—The days of the lonely fire tower vigils of forest rangers may be numbered.

Television will do their work better—and also will spot arsonists.

The first demonstration of a TV fire spotter held here showed that one camera, mounted on a swivel that turns it one revolution every two minutes, can do the work of eight human spotters.

The cameras operate on a closed television circuit and one man at a control point simply watches a series of screens for symptoms of a fire.

The new device, called "Detecto-Vision," appears destined to convert fire control towers into silent sentinels on 24-hour duty, constantly scanning the horizons for wisps of white tell-tale smoke that spell trouble for forests and firefighters.

Witnesses to the demonstration here of the system, developed by two Baton Rouge, La. television distributors and a state forestry commission radio engineer, agreed that there are "a few bugs to iron out, but the thing has tremendous possibilities."

Novelist to Address Mental Health Unit

Mary Jane Ward, author of the best selling novel, "The Snake Pit," will be a featured speaker at the Michigan Society of Mental Health conference Thursday and Friday at Hotel Statler, Detroit.

She will address a public session Thursday at 8 p.m. on the topic "The Mentally Ill and Their Fellow Citizens."

"Overcoming Obstacles to Mental Health" is the theme of the conference which will feature speeches by prominent authorities in the field, panel discussions, a play and special meetings.

LEOPARD BOY?—Many citizens of Rome, Italy, were probably startled when they first got a glimpse of this "leopard," but then they remembered it was carnival time in the Eternal City. The youngster's baby face was a dead giveaway to the otherwise authentic-looking costume.

TWIRLING TOT—Maybe it's her smile, or it could be that she's good. At any rate, 4-year-old Linda Kay Bias is weighed down with medals which she won in baton twirling competitions in a little over a year. The Chicago tot has accumulated more than 25 medals and two trophies while competing in five midwest states.

Emmanuel School PTA to Meet Thursday Night

Actor in 'River's End' Part Taught by Country Doctor

By JEAN HERSHOLT
Film and Radio Star

A physician recently wrote me: "I have been impersonating you."

he said. "Badly. I'll admit. But to the best of my ability. Nor do I offer an apology. It had to be done."

One of his patients, a small girl suffering great pain, kept calling for Dr. Christian. The frantic mother begged him to assume the role. "I adopted a Danish accent," the physician wrote, "and tried to dispense solid, cheerful comfort along with prescriptions. The child recovered."

You see, she had faith in Dr. Christian. And so Jean Hersholt have I.

The good doctor who wrote the confession was not, of course, impersonating me. I am still Jean Hersholt. Or am I? Is there a time when the character becomes the man, or the man takes on the substance of the character?

For 16 years now I have been appearing on radio once a week as Dr. Paul Christian of River's End, Minn., and in the minds of millions of listeners, I have merged with the character I portray.

Even Via, my patient wife now for 39 years, once introduced me as "Dr. Christian." She says it was a natural slip, as she often feels like a bigamist.

This double life is interesting, but in many ways embarrassing. There was the time I made a speech in a small town near Ogden, Utah. A warm reception was given me by the town's inhabitants, among them two elderly sisters, one with her neck swathed in bandages, her voice evident only as a hoarse whisper.

"What shall I do about this?" she whispered to Dr. Christian.

"See your local physician," replied Jean Hersholt, hiding behind his warmest country doctor smile. The two sisters did a sharp about-face, and as they marched off, I overheard one say to the other, "He just won't serve for nothing."

It is on such occasions that my favorite fellow lets me down — Dr. Christian simply has not been able to pass his M. D. on to me. But I have found, even without his technical knowledge, that his faith can work wonders.

Every Christmas I get a card from a girl in New York who depended, 10 years ago, on that faith. The original letter, one of hundreds sent each week to Dr. Christian asking for all manner of help and guidance, came from a young polio victim, bedridden for many months, deeply discouraged.

As with all such letters, I answered it personally. I advised her, as the disciple James once advised in another letter written some 2,000 years ago, "Let patience have her perfect work, that ye may be perfect and entire, wanting nothing."

Back came her answer. She would try — but she did so want to see me. Again I wrote: "If you really want to see me, keep that in your mind. When I come to New York in the spring, I am sure you will be well enough to come to my broadcast. I'll send you the tickets myself."

Was I taking a great deal on myself to make that promise? I was standing on the same kind of faith that I have discovered every fine physician knows, for he has seen it work when everything else failed.

Then, too, I knew a good deal about patience; I had her as a companion during the uphill climb in my own profession. Yes, I was willing to stand on faith — and so was the child. She came to the broadcast.

Where did he come from, this country doctor who never was, yet who is such a warm reality to so many people, myself included?

I was born in Copenhagen in 1886, the son of actor parents. In 1913 I came to America, worked across the country, and arrived in Hollywood with $20 in my pocket.

For 20 years it was my duty, in the role of a villain, to make life miserable for such stars as Mary Pickford and Douglas Fairbanks. Only occasionally was I permitted a lovable part, one of these as a doctor in Men in White. This role, seen by director Henry King, was to change my life.

In 1935 I was preparing for a role in which I killed four people, when an urgent call came for me to report to another studio. The part of Dr. Allan Dafoe in The Country Doctor, famous physician and advisor to the Dionne quintuplets, had been left vacant by the tragic death of Will Rogers.

I was called in to test for this by director Henry King. The following night I breathlessly boarded the train for Canada.

When our first daily rushes went to Mr. Zanuck by air his reply sizzled back over the wire. "Quints great. Hersholt terrible. Retake everything." What saved me then was Dr. Dafoe. Once he began helping me, the going was easier.

It was from Dafoe that I learned much of the supreme faith, the confidence in man's goodness, the kindly humor, the understanding and common sense which make the life of a country doctor one of daily miracles. Our films caught his spirit.

Dr. Dafoe has been dead, some eight years. But my personal hope is that a bit of this Canadian doctor's warmth and wisdom, live on more vibrantly in Dr. Christian, his Danish counterpart.

Has Hersholt, personally, brought anything to Dr. Christian's growth? I should like to think it, yet he is a hard fellow to live up to, the kindly doctor, so patient and wise. We have come very close, through the years; we enjoy the same things: old friends, old pipes, oft-told tales.

But I believe Dr. Christian is still leading — still teaching me how to wait humbly upon God for the small miracles which are a never-ending part of our every lives.

Tomorrow — Len Lebound tells the story of the devotional services being held in many business institutions.

New Flag Designed, Offered to President

FALBROOK, Calif. (INS)—Amateur flag designer Philip C. Brown, 68, said today he has offered President Eisenhower a design for arranging 50 stars on old glory if Alaska and Hawaii are admitted to the union.

Brown, a maintenance worker at Camp Pendleton Marine Base near Fairbrook, said his design has been commended by Vice President Richard Nixon and many congressmen and state governors.

In his design, the red and white stripes on the flag remain the same, but 25 of the stars are arranged in a circle with the other 25 arranged in a large star within the circle.

Underpaid Professors Subject to Be Avoided

By BILLY ROSE

Today I would like to applaud the decision of Texas A.M. College that henceforth all members of its faculty will be required to carry enough insurance to pay for their burial, "because it gives the college a bad name when one of its professors dies and can't be buried."

There can be no quarrel with the aesthetic thinking behind this decision. The student in his formative years should obviously not be subjected to the distasteful sight of a campus littered with dead and decomposing professors.

Such a panorama tends to discourage young intellectuals, especially those who are preparing themselves for the teaching profession.

However, the down-to-earth insurance requirements of Texas A.M. are only a pioneering step. Much remains to be done in checking the qualifications of the men we hire to mold the minds of our nation's youth.

For instance, the northern colleges should make certain that every would-be educator has an overcoat, or at least a heavy sweater. A frozen corpse on a campus walk, its feet sticking out of a snow pile, is not only a traffic hazard but tends to depress visiting parents and alumni.

The southern colleges, by the same token, should insist that every faculty member have a needle and thread. Even in the balmy climes, it is an unenvying sight to see an elderly academician lecturing on Plato with big holes in his pants.

Applicants for university posts should also, it seems to me, be required to submit proof that they are the possessors of at least 365 bouillon cubes. Experience has shown that nothing is more disruptive to student morale than a class waiting for a lecture on binomial theorems while the lecturer is fighting for a place in a soup line.

To take it a step further, our college officials should insist that every instructor have the following reading matter on the night table next to his bed:

(1) "Forced Labor in the Soviet Union" by David Dallin. This documented study, especially the chapters dealing with Siberia, will soothe the pedagogic malcontents by proving to them that there are some people in the world worse off than they are.

(2) Philip Wylie's "Generation

Inspectors in Pie Truck Arrest 17 in Dice Game

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—It was one of those "floating" dice games—known to the cops but harder to stop than the income tax collector.

So, yesterday, Police Inspector Frank Ahern and his vice squad borrowed a pie delivery truck. They drove to the vacant lot where the dice were in action and piled out of the pie wagon before the game's lookouts could holler "such crust."

Seventeen men were arrested and $1,100 seized.

Pigeons' Insomnia Blamed on Neighbor

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Her pigeons have insomnia, a housewife complained to police last night.

Officer G. A. Euto said the woman explained it this way: A floodlight burns all night in a neighbor's back yard.

It keeps the pigeons awake. They get so sleepy they often tumble off roosts. Several have been seriously injured.

The woman wanted police to tell the neighbor to turn off the light so her pigeons can get a little shut-eye. Officers were investigating.

Tax Expert Gives Views on Better Social Security

By LAURA E. HOBSON
NEW YORK (INS) — In my desk is a recent article, "Is There Enough Security in Social Security?" Armed with it, I went to see its author, J. K. Lasser, the tax expert.

J. K. Lasser is the author of "Your Income Tax," the pamphlet that first appeared in 1939 and which has sold over 13 million copies since.

"In your article," I said to Lasser, "you say the government has $700,000,000 in Social Security money that nobody wants to collect. That must be a mistake."

"No mistake," he said with that air of inner security all tax experts wear if you challenge their horrible calculations.

"Take a man," he said, "who's been making $300 a month, reaches 65, and applies for Social Security payments. His wife is only 62, so for three years, the most he can get is $85 a month. And because of the 'work clause' in the law, he won't get that $85 in any month where he earns more than $75 on the side. The man says, 'we can't live on that — I'll pass up my Social Security.'"

In this same fix, it appears, are 1,400,000 other people past 65. Which is how that $700 million stays in the government's jeans.

"Take another kind of extreme under the current law — the amazing pay-offs possible. "Let's say a young man dies and leaves a wife and two babies. He had worked only 18 months and paid in only $81 on Social Security. But his young widow and her children stand to collect over $46,000 in payments as the years go by."

Lasser has published several suggestions for revising the present law. The principal ones are to raise Social Security taxes slightly and the benefits greatly and to let retired workers earn as much as they can without losing their payments.

When I left him, about 16 other books written by him caught my eye on a bookshelf I passed. Poor J. K. Lasser, I thought. What a big bite the tax people must take out of him every fiscal year.

Iranian Rebel Held in Prison

Mossadegh's Top Aide Charged With Treason for Role in Revolution

TEHRAN, Iran (AP)—Iran plans to try former Foreign Minister Hossein Fatemi, firebrand chief aide of ex-dictator Mohammed Mossadegh, on treason charges in about two months.

Fatemi, 41, was captured Saturday in a Tehran house where he had been hiding. A fugitive since the August 1953 revolution, he had grown a heavy black beard as a disguise.

Chief Prosecutor Hossein Azemodah said Fatemi would face the same charges as Mossadegh, who is now serving a three-year sentence for attempting to unseat Shah Mohammed Reza Pahlavi. The maximum penalty on the charge is death.

Fatemi, who was knifed by a bystander as he was being transferred to prison yesterday, was reported resting comfortably in the prison hospital. Authorities said he had two wounds in his right side and a slight cut on his right chest.

The ex-foreign minister was alleged to have incited Tehran mobs against the Shah in an effort to overthrow the monarchy. He was generally considered the leader of the anti-royalty faction.

The newspaper Ettelaat reported police were tipped to Fatemi's whereabouts by a servant girl at his hideout who complained that the presence of the "fat bearded man who never leaves his room except at night" made too much work for her.

Chiefs Crush Bathers for Regional Cage Title

HEY, THAT'S MY BALL! — Mt. Clemens' Bob Johnston (11) registers surprise as Pontiac's Bob Johnston (19) bats away the ball during the 4th period of the regional championship game at Birmingham Saturday. Chiefs won the game, 45-32, and will face Highland Park in state quarterfinal action Wednesday.

Record Still Stands

The late Charlie Brickley's 34 field goals out of 37 attempts, while playing for Harvard university three years, is still an unmatched record.

Pontiac Five Now Faces Big Test Against Highland Park

By BILL MARTIN

Pontiac High won its 1st regional basketball championship in five years Saturday night, defeating Mt. Clemens 45-32 in the finals of Birmingham's Class A tournament.

Chiefs meet undefeated Highland Park in state quarter-final action Wednesday night at Birmingham.

Park's extended their streak to 17 games Saturday by dumping Royal Oak 58-39 in the finals at Ferndale. George Lee again paced the Polar Bears with 13 points although he and the other starters played less than three quarters.

Pontiac-Mt. Clemens game was a rather dull affair for a championship contest. Chiefs established an early lead with a 10-point spurt in the opening period, stayed off a Bather rally in the 3rd period and then pulled away gradually to its final margin.

Mt. Clemens drew 1st blood on a fast break bucket by Carl Tyson. Chiefs missed on their first four shots, but then sank four of six tries and added a pair of free throws to move into a 10-2 advantage. Tyson dropped another basket and teammate Mel Bobcan dunked a follow-up to cut the edge to four points. Bob Johnston connected on a long 1-hand to make it 12-6 at the end of the period.

Johnston sank three more set-shots in the following period as Pontiac remained in front 20-15 at halftime.

Bathers made their only real bid midway through the 3rd stanza as they narrowed the gap to 22-20 on field goals by Bobcan and Bob Brice. Dick Blacklaw then popped in a fast-break basket and Johnston hit on another long shot to pull Pontiac out of danger.

Chiefs were never again threatened. Action was slowed to a near standstill in the final as referees Sam Madden and Bill Van Fleet footed a total of 17 personal fouls in the 8-minute session. Pontiac dropped eight of 14 free throws and added four baskets to outscore Mr. Clemens, 16-10.

Bathers' Bobcan copped game honors with 13 points. Blacklaw and Johnston had 11 apiece for Pontiac, while Poe added 10.

Neither team was particularly effective on shots from the floor. Pontiac hit for 238 per cent in 57 shots, while Mt. Clemens sank only 11 of 61 tries.

PROUD CHAMPS—Utica captain Gordon Rogers and coach Barney Swinehart display the Class B regional championship trophy the Chieftains won by eliminating Rochester from the state basketball tournament, 53-36, Saturday night at Pontiac High. Rogers was the game's individual star, scoring 22 points in addition to turning in a great defensive performance. Swinehart now has directed his team into the quarter-finals 3 times in the last 4 years.

Title Won, Red Wings Drop Second Straight to Rangers

NEW YORK (UP) — The pennant-winning Detroit Red Wings met their 2nd straight loss Sunday night in a National Hockey league game against the New York Rangers.

Rangers blanked the Red Wings, 2-0, in a game at Madison Square Garden. Victory kept alive New York's faint hopes of gaining a berth in the Stanley Cup playoffs.

Detroit lost to the Rangers, 5-2, Saturday night. But the Boston Bruins' 2-1 victory over Toronto gave the Wings their 6th straight NHL title.

Rookie Glen Sonmor and veteran Max Bentley sparked the Rangers' victory Sunday night. Sonmor scored in the 2nd period. Bentley tallied in the 3rd period.

Victory left New York three points behind the 4th-place Boston Bruins, Boston tallied a 3-0 shut-out over Toronto Sunday night.

Meanwhile, Montreal moved into 2nd place one point ahead of Toronto by trouncing Chicago, 6-0.

Utica, Marine City Capture Top Honors in B-C Windup

By JACK SAYLOR

Utica's tournament-wise Chieftains and a rangy, poised Marine City quintet primed themselves for Wednesday's state prep basketball quarter-finals after carting off regional championship trophies at Pontiac High Saturday night.

An overflow crowd watched Utica crush Rochester, 53-36, in Class B after Marine City had nicked Grosse Pointe St. Paul, 47-46, in an overtime Class C thriller.

Rochester was a victim of tourney fatigue and the clever work of Utica's 6-4 center, Gordon Rogers. Barney Swinehart had his club keyed to a sky-high pitch, while the Falcons obviously had played themselves out in two previous tense games.

Rogers completely out-played Rochester scoring ace, Arian Stone. He was the dominant rebounder on both boards, bottled up Stone on defense, and popped in 22 points to take scoring honors. Max Powell's 11 were high for Rochester.

Stone was shut out in the 1st half, tapped in his only basket of the game early in the 3rd quarter, then fouled out late in the same quarter in a vain attempt to halt Rogers.

Chieftains picked their shots carefully and hit a sizzling 50 per cent. Set shooting of Dick Duvall and Elmer Balow and the hard-driving of Fred Hosella effectively supplemented the great work of Rogers.

With the score tied at 6-6, Rogers hit on a jumpshot and was fouled in the act by Stone. The Utica star completed the three-point play and the Chieftains never were headed.

Score was 29-17 at the half and 41-26 after three quarters. Rochester never pulled closer than 10 points thereafter. It was an inglorious ending to an otherwise great season for Gene Konley's five.

Despite the loss, which gave the Falcons a 19-2 record, coach Konley labeled this year's team his greatest, even better than his 1950 aggregation that advanced to the semi-finals.

Utica becomes a quarter-finalist for the 3rd time in four years. Thus far, the Chieftains never have been quite able to make the grade to East Lansing.

Fewer prep games are better played than the Class C finale. St. Paul and Marine City never were more than five points apart. Both teams passed, rebounded and shot very well and the game easily could have gone the other way.

Score was tied 8-8 at the quarter and the Grosse Pointe provincials held a 24-22 halftime edge. Dick Smith tallied eight of the Mariner's 10 points in the 3rd quarter as they took a 32-31 lead.

Then husky Dick Chapman took over in the 4th period, hitting 9 points. With two and a half-minutes to play, Jim Ayrault's jumpshot and a drive-in by Ted Monahan put St. Paul up, 43-42, but Chapman's bucket gave Marine City a 44-43 lead with 1:18 to go.

Monahan stole the ball and scored again with 27 seconds left, but Chapman sunk one of two foul shots at the 20-second mark to tie it up. Overtime play was cautious and neither team was able to hit from the floor.

With 36 seconds left, Smith was fouled and made both. St. Paul's Bob Wright missed a shot and Chapman rebounded, but Wright stole the ball and was fouled with only a half-minute remaining.

Chapman and Smith each had 15 points for Marine City, while Dave Holland added 12 and patrolled the backboards in fine style. Ayrault collected 19 points to pace the Flyers.

Tigers Split With NL 9's in Weekend

Palazzi Is Most Valuable as Crusaders Capture NIT

NEW YORK (AP)—Togo Palazzi of Holy Cross, probably the only basketball player in history named for a Japanese admiral, also seems to be the only person who's worried about his ability to make good as a pro.

The crew-cut, stockily built youngster who led Holy Cross to its first National Invitation Tournament championship isn't even sure that he'll go for the pro game.

"I'd like to play all right, but my main purpose in going to Holy Cross was to get a good education," he said today. "I have a chance for a good industrial job when I graduate, and I'd hate to pass it up and then flop as a pro."

Palazzi left little doubts as to his scoring ability with a torrid Western Kentucky in Holy Cross' semifinal upset. Then he showed his appreciative fans that he can play defense too when he restricted Duquesne's great Dick Ricketts to 13 points in the Crusaders' 71-62 upset victory in the finals Saturday night.

With all of that, it came as no great surprise when Togo was named the tournament's most valuable player.

In addition, he headed the all-tournament team selected by The Associated Press. Named with him were his teammate, Tom Heinsohn, who tied him for scoring honors against Duquesne and did a great job of rebounding against the Dukes big men; Ricketts; Tom Marshall of Western of Little St. Francis of Loretta, Pa.

Leaders Topple in PWBA Test

Only Doubles Event's Pace-Setters Remain in Top Spots

Milford's Florence Van Gordon and Beverly Kuschel, pace-setters in the doubles event, were the only leaders to keep their spots as the 21st annual Pontiac Women's Bowling Association tournament reached its halfway mark over the weekend.

Leads in all other divisions changed hands during the weekend action at the Hilltop lanes in Rochester. Thirty-six teams and 86 doubles-singles combinations made their bids.

Howe's Lanes of Clarkston took over the team (handicap) event lead with 2981, while Brower & Streitt of Oxford turned in the tourney's high actual team series of 2366.

Alma Bennett, Pontiac, replaced Rochester's Mildred Howlett in singles with a 668. All-events leadership went to Shirley Pointer, with 1587 actual, and Cecilia Gelen, with 1880 handicap.

Alma Bennett's 243 total was the high tournament actual game to date.

Unusual Bowling Score Occurs in City League

It isn't at all unusual for individual bowlers, or teams, to turn in tie games, but when two teams hit almost identical totals, and compile them in the same set of games, that's different. In a recent match between Frayer's Refrigeration and Clark's Trucking teams here, the score wound up as follows:

FRAYER'S.....708-879-888-2336
CLARK'S.....708-879-888-2337

Pontiac Hi-Y won the City YMCA Intramural Basketball League championship Saturday, defeating Pontiac Vocal, 40-31. Hi-Y pulled away from a 15-14 halftime lead by outscoring the Vocal five, 25-17, in the 2nd half.

Harold Richards led the winners with 16 points, while Dick Goldsworthy had 12 for the losers.

OCSC's Rifle Team Defeats Lincoln Park

Oakland County Sportsmen's Club riflemen defeated Lincoln Park's shooters, 942-882, in a match here Sunday. OCSC also won on a handicap scoring basis, 1023-994.

High man for the OCSC team was G. Dart with 191. K. Danielson was tops in handicap scoring with a 211.

Batters Do Well, but Detroit Pitchers and Fielders Falter

CLEARWATER, Fla. (UP)—It's not hard to see that early spring exhibition baseball is a not too precise animal.

Over the weekend the Detroit Tigers played two ball games against two National League opponents. Saturday they beat Cincinnati 9-5. Sunday they lost to the Philadelphia Phillies 14-11.

Tigers committed 5 errors, two in victory, three in defeat. Their pitchers gave up 39 hits, 6 in victory, 14 in defeat. Tiger batters got 30 hits, 17 in victory, 15 in defeat. They now have a 3-4 spring record.

It looked like at least at the plate the Tigers were more than holding their own. The trouble appeared to be on the pitching mound and in the field.

In Saturday's game which the Tigers won, three pitchers, Ted Gray, Steve Gromek and Frank Lary, held Cincinnati to six hits and five runs.

In Sunday's game which the Tigers lost, three pitchers, Paul Foytack, Milt Jordan and Jim Bunning, gave up 14 hits for 14 runs.

Over the two days, 20 hits off Detroit pitchers brought in 19 runs for the opposition. Difference was not grand slam home runs (there was only one in two days) but instead walks and errors.

Tigers threatened with a rally Sunday that might have brought them a 9th inning victory, but it faded. They scored seven runs in the last two innings before Jim Delsing grounded out to end the game.

When Delsing's out came, he would have been the tying run. There were two men on base. Foytack pitched to eleven batters in the 11th inning, and couldn't make it through. Six runs already had crossed the plate for Cincinnati when Milt Jordan came in to retire the 12th batter for the 3rd out.

Jordan was the only Detroit pitcher who looked impressive over his course. He stayed in until the 7th inning and allowed only one run.

Then Jim Bunning took over for the Tigers. He's a rookie from Little Rock where he had a 5-12 record last year. In the 7th inning he gave up six runs, four of them on Earl Torgeson's grand slam home run. Before the home run he had given up three walks and a single. In the 8th inning he gave up another run.

Oldtimers Figure in Sunday's Exhibitions

By ED CORRIGAN
Associated Press Sports Writer
Almost two decades ago—1936 to be exact—a powerful, fuzzychecked youngster strode into the spring training camp of the Cleveland Indians. Manager Steve O'Neill liked what he saw and that started Bob Feller's career. Today, 240 victories later, Feller, the oldest major leaguer in point of service, is fighting for a starting job. He'll have a job, all right, but at the moment he doesn't figure as one of the Big Four. The best guess is that Manager

Al Lopez will spot Feller whenever he can. If Rapid Robert doesn't want to do bullpen duty he probably won't be forced to.

The cutting he took during his three-inning stint against the New York Giants in Tucson, Ariz., yesterday should not cause Lopez too much concern. The Giants won the ball game 16-6 and slugged Feller for eight hits and a half-dozen runs. But it was Bob's first outing and veterans sometimes are slow to warm up.

Hal Newhouser, another old-timer, is trying to make a comeback with the Indians and he was equally unimpressive. He gave up 10 hits and another six runs. Newhouser is not under contract.

Speaking of ol' folks, Sal Maglie, the Giants' 37-year-old right-hander who has been plagued by assorted ills for the last two seasons, went four innings and was tapped for only two hits. Manager Leo Durocher was enthused over the performance.

The surprising Baltimore Orioles won their ninth victory in 10 starts by downing the San Diego Padres of the Pacific Coast League 10-4. The Orioles backed up their pitchers with four double plays.

Without the services of the injured Bobby Thomson and Eddie Mathews, the Milwaukee Braves collected 17 hits and went on to whip the Cincinnati Redlegs 14-8. The Brooklyn Dodgers won their fifth straight, defeating the Boston Red Sox 9-4. Joe Black, a big disappointment last year, allowed only two hits in 5 1-3 innings on the mound.

Two home runs and three triples enabled the Chicago White Sox to defeat the Yankees 7-5.

The St. Louis Cardinals scored a 4-2 triumph over the Chicago Cubs with only four hits.

The Philadelphia A's, another undefeated grapefruit league outfit, won No. 5—a 13-3 decision over the winless Washington Senators. The Philadelphia Phillies outlasted the Detroit Tigers 13-11, and the Dodgers "B" team whipped the Pittsburgh Pirates 7-5. The Redlegs "B's" turned back the White Sox scrubs 10-8.

Hoosier Runner Steals Thunder of Top Milers

Zellers' Time Better Than Truex; Richards Is Standout

MILWAUKEE (AP) — A Indiana University miler surprised 9,300 track fans Saturday night with a faster time than veteran runners registered in the feature race of the Milwaukee Journal Indoor games.

Hoosier Lowell Zellers won the collegiate mile in four minutes 12 seconds from Sture Landquist of Sweden, wearing the Oklahoma Aggies' colors.

Zellers' time, slow by modern standards, still was more than a second faster than that in which Len Truex, ex-Ohio State star, won the feature mile. Truex hit the tape in 4:13.4.

Top performances of the indoor season were turned in by the Rev. Bob Richards in the pole vault and Pitt's 2-mile relay team. Richards, clearing 15 feet 1/4 inch, was the first man to hit the height this winter although it was the 50th 15-foot clearance in his long career.

Pitt's time of seven minutes 39.7 seconds was the fastest of the year.

An Illinois high jumper, Ron Mitchell, went 6 feet 8 3/4 inches to upset National AAU champion Herman Wyatt of Santa Clara, Calif., and Lt. Ken Wiesner, Navy dentist who holds the world record.

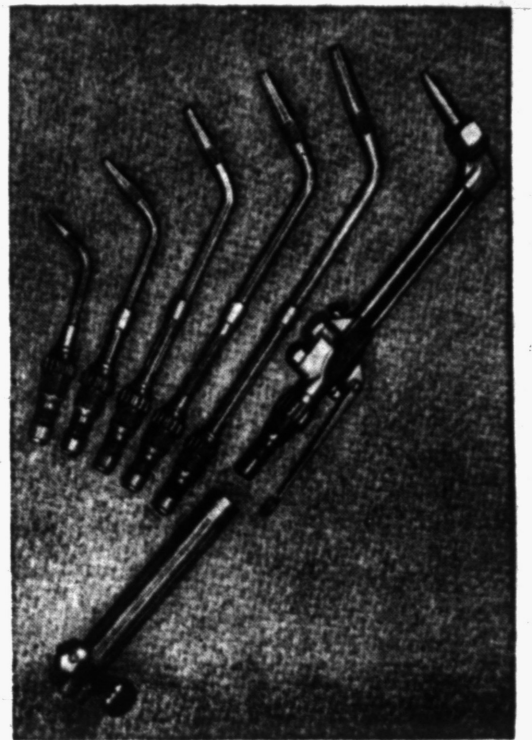

Other individual winners were Rich Ferguson of Iowa in the two-mile; Milt Campbell Indiana freshman, 50-yard high hurdles; Willie Williams, Illinois, 50-yard dash; J. W. Mashburn, Stillwater, Okla., 600-yards, and Eugene Maynard, Illinois, 1,000-yards.

Indiana won the one-mile relay and Chicago Loyola the 8-lap team event.

Upsets Mark Regional Finals in NCAA Test

Irish, Aggies Upset by Penn State, Bradley; LaSalle, USC Win

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Four surprise teams, whose chances of appearing in collegiate basketball's annual climactic show were considered rather slim, will fight it out for the NCAA championship this weekend.

Coming up from regional play-offs last Saturday are the La Salle Explorers of Philadelphia, Penn State's Nittany Lions, Southern California's Trojans and the Bradley University Braves.

Bradley, which upset Oklahoma A&M 71-57 at Stillwater, Okla., and Southern Cal, 66-65 double overtime victor over Santa Clara at Corvallis, will meet in the first semifinal game Friday night.

Penn State and La Salle clash in the second game the same night. Penn State humbled Notre Dame 71-63 at Iowa City. La Salle got to Navy 64-48 at Philadelphia.

The finals are scheduled in Municipal Auditorium Saturday.

Both Penn State and Bradley are at-large entries.

Of the semifinalists, only La Salle was given much of a pre-tournament buildup. The Explorers were ranked 12th nationally in the Associated Press poll. Bradley, Southern Cal and Penn State didn't make the top 20.

Third places in the regionals were won by Indiana, the 1953 national champion, 73-62 over Louisiana State by Iowa City; North Carolina, 65-54 over Cornell at Philadelphia; Rice, 78-55 over Colorado A&M at Corvallis.

Other than the USC-Santa Clara game, there wasn't too much contesting in the regional finals.

Bradley, handspanked and barred from NCAA postseason games last year because of rules infractions, poured it on Oklahoma A&M by 14 points in the Aggies' own gym.

Penn State employed an effective shifting zone defense in snapping Notre Dame's winning string at 18 games.

All America Tom Gola and sophomore teammate Bob Maples got together to put La Salle into the final playoff. Maples hit for only 13 points, but he got 8 of them early in the third period when the chips were down. Gola scored 22.

Giardello-Troy Top Week's TV Boxing Program

By PRESS WIRE SERVICE

No champions are in action, but plenty of top contenders will throw leather in this week's fine national television boxing program.

Probably the top attraction is Friday night's middleweight slugfest between Joey Giardello and Willie Troy at New York's Madison Square Garden. Giardello is the No. 2 contender, while Troy is rated 7th.

NBC will telecast and ABC broadcast the 10 p.m. bout.

Wednesday night's CBS bout matches light-heavyweights Harold Johnson and Paul Andrews from Chicago. Johnson, with 11 straight wins, is ranked the No. 1 contender for Archie Moore's title. Andrews is No. 9.

A pair of lightweights make their first TV appearances Saturday night on ABC at 9 p.m. Cisco Andrade of Los Angeles and Hocaine Khalfi of Algeria meet at Toledo.

Experience to Help Tigers

Hutch Hopes to Better 6th Place Finish, Sees Yanks Having Trouble With Tribe

By JOE REICHLER

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) — Freddie Hutchinson, anchored with a batch of very earnest but very eager ball players, believes his Tigers are improved. The Detroit manager, however, is restricted to hoping his youngsters better their 6th place finish of last year.

"We hope to improve our position of last year," he said, "but it's going to be tough. There are at least three or four good clubs in front of us. One behind us, Baltimore, is pretty good, too."

"We're not kidding ourselves," he added frankly. "We've got a long way to go and it's not going to be smooth sailing. We broke the ball club down and we're going to build it up."

The plain-speaking Tiger manager is of the opinion the Yankees are going to have trouble trying to hang up their 6th straight flag.

"Cleveland could push the Yankees out very easily," he declared. "You just can't lose fellows like Johnny Sain and Vic Raschi and be as strong."

Regarding his own club, Hutch thinks it is better because of the year's experience gained by such youngsters as Harvey Kuenn, Bob Nieman, Billy Hoelt, Ray Herbert and Al Aber.

He thinks Ray Boone will continue the terrific hitting pace he set last year after his acquisition from the Indians and is high on newcomers Frank Bolling, a second baseman, Bill Tuttle, an outfielder and Dick Donovan, a pitcher.

On the negative side, Freddie bemoans the absence of a left-handed power hitter on the club and the lack of sufficient speed.

Kuenn, a husky, blond crew-cut collegian, is ready to exceed his freshman season when he won rookie honors. Neither he nor Hutchinson is concerned with the so-called sophomore jinx.

Boone, the ex-Cleveland govt turned Detroit hero, was the Tigers' best hitter while doing an excellent job at 3rd base. He boosted his average from .243 to .296, batting well over .300 with the Tigers. He slammed 26 home runs and drove in 114 runs. At 30, he is the oldest regular on the club.

Drops is a cinch to retain his 1st base job. Bolling has the inside track at second. Two-thirds of the outfield is set. Nieman will be in left and Jimmy Delsing, a steady but colorless performer, will be in center. Don Lund, Steve Souchock and Tuttle, the 24-year-old fielding whiz from Buffalo, will battle it out for the other job.

Don't Blame 'Hams' for Video Troubles

WEST HARTFORD, Conn. (UP)

— "Ham" radio operators say that folks who "beef" about poor reception on UHF television sets and blame it on the amateurs ought to brush up on TV technicalities.

The American Radio Relay

League, spokesmen for the amateur operators, admits that "ham"

broadcasts many times seep through the loudspeakers of TV sets that have been converted to

UHF, but the fault lies in the set,

not with the radio operators.

The radio league has asked the Federal Communications Commission to help enlighten the public on this point. The "hams," according to the league, are not straying from their own wave bands.

Actors Want Passing Years to Cut Taxes

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (UP)—Chances are, you didn't try to depreciate your legs on your income tax statement which is due today. But stranger things have happened, say the internal revenue boys.

To illustrate unusual requests by taxpayers, the Long Beach (Calif.)

Press-Telegram had model Diana

Hughes ask the local internal revenue office whether she could depreciate her shapely gams on her tax form. The answer was a good-humored: "No depreciation is apparent."

.....

The incident was strictly a gag.

But it points up the perennial contention between the Treasury

Department and taxpayers whose earning power largely depends on their physical appearance. These include models, muscle men and movie stars.

Nobody loves the tax collector, but actors have long complained that they are victimized by tax laws.

"If we're lucky, we might make big money for five years, perhaps

10," a top star told me recently.

"A guy like Gary Cooper might last 20 years, but how many Gary Coopers are there? The rest of us have to move aside for the younger, newer faces that the fickle public demands.

"When we're on top, we have to pay up to 75 or 85 per cent of our salaries in taxes. We are obliged to live like movie stars, and we have no chance to put away any savings. What happens to us when fame passes by?"

.....

Actors have done more than merely complain about this matter. They have made representations to Congress and the Treasury Department. But they have had scant success. It's hard to sympathize with the plight of the movie stars, especially when their six-

widely.

I talked to several internal revenue officials about the matter, and they agreed that the situation cannot be changed under present

laws.

"The model's legs can't be depreciated because they are not capital assets," one of them commented. "It's the same way with actors. They can't measure the decline of their earning power because one can't depreciate oneself. How are you going to measure the depreciation? If such a plan were devised for actors, it would have to be applied to other workers, such as baseball players,

wrestlers, etc."

The average American is eating about 40 per cent more lettuce than before World War II.

Rain Barrel Death Probed

Police to Interrogate Confessed Wife Slayer About 1951 Incident

DECKERVILLE (UP) — State Police expected to question John Brabant again Tuesday about the mysterious circumstances surrounding the deaths of his first and third wives.

Officers said the 77-year-old retired farmer admitted the hatchet slaying of his third wife last Thursday.

They want to find out more about the 1951 death of his first wife, who reportedly drowned in a rain barrel.

State Police Sgt. Murrell Clark said Brabant insisted he knew nothing of the 1951 drowning and told of having a memory lapse and severe headaches at that time.

Brabant, Clark said, showed similar characteristics Thursday when questioned about the hatchet death of his third wife, Flora, 76.

The body of the third Mrs. Brabant was found in the kitchen of their small farm home. Brabant told police he couldn't remember killing Flora but directed them to a pair of murder weapons—a hatchet and an ax.

He stood mute Saturday when arraigned before Sandusky Justice Nole E. Babcock and was returned to the County Jail. Brabant will reappear for examination March 23.

Dem Aspirants to Speak Tuesday

SOUTHFIELD TOWNSHIP—Two candidates seeking Democrat nominations in summer primary elections will speak at Southfield Township Democratic Party's quarterly meeting Tuesday at 8 p.m.

The public is invited to attend the free program at East Southfield School, 28501 Pierce. Refreshments will be served following the meeting.

Speakers invited are Jack Moskowitz, Oak Park attorney and candidate for Michigan's legislature from the newly-formed fourth district, and George Hicks of Pontiac, candidate for Oakland County sheriff. Hicks will discuss law enforcement programs.

Governor Signs Nine Measures Into Law Today

LANSING (UP) — Gov. Williams signed nine legislative bills into law today, including "clarifying" amendments to the 1953 business activities tax.

The tax amendments change the date of the annual return from January to March 31, bring oil and gas pipeline companies under the tax and put rural electrification projects on the same basis as private utilities.

Other bills signed: Provide that the property of a deceased adopted child shall be governed by the same inheritance laws as a natural child.

Make it a misdemeanor to raise a false alarm of fire by telephone.

Permit the service of process on non-residents of Michigan in auto accident cases and permit service of process anywhere in the state if a suit is started in the county where an accident occurs.

Require the service of process in liability suits against county road commissioners to be made on the clerk and chairman of the board.

Permit prosecutions under state law for a second drunk driving offense where a first conviction was obtained under city ordinance.

Permit courts to pay inheritances to the county treasurer for the benefit of a person who can not use or control the property, a bill designed for persons residing in occupied foreign countries.

Allow the secretary of state to promulgate rules for boat license fee collections.

Permit Korean War veterans to enter veterans institutes.

'From Here to Eternity' Labeled Best by Critics

NEW YORK (UP) — A nationwide poll of movie critics picked "From Here to Eternity" as the best picture of the year, the trade publication Film Daily has announced.

"The Robe," made in Cinemascope, was the only film among the top 10 by any of the new processes. It ranked third. The only foreign film was the British-made "The Cruel Sea," ranking 10th.

Others on the list, in order, were: "Shane," "Roman Holiday," "Moulin Rouge," "Lili," "Stalag 17," "The Moon Is Blue" and "Little Boy Lost."

Hal Boyle Says:

Ocean Voyage for Tracy Keeps Ship's Crew Busy

ABOARD THE MAURETANIA—A baby girl is almost as rare on a pleasure cruise as a baby elephant.

When my wife booked passage for three on an 18-day voyage to the West Indies and South America, the Cunard Line agents were perturbed to learn that the third member of the family was our 8-month-old daughter, Tracy.

"We are well set up to care for infants on our transatlantic voyages," they said. "But, frankly, we don't encourage the taking of infants on a long tropical pleasure cruise, and it is rather... um... um... unusual to say the least."

This upset us. My wife, Frances, had looked forward to this cruise for years—as a kind of a late honeymoon to take the place of the one we couldn't afford when we were first married. But Tracy had come as a late surprise in our lives, too, and we would have turned our backs on 18 days in paradise if it meant leaving her behind.

"Why, they forget so quickly at that age," said Frances. "Tracy probably wouldn't know us when we returned, if we went on the cruise without her, and that would break my heart."

When we told the ship line officials we either had to sail as a family trinity or forget my wife's long dream of a cruise, they relented. They said Tracy could come along if she agreed not to eat her baby-sized life preserver or try to enter any gin rummy tournaments in the lounge.

Tracy embarked with the fanfare of a movie queen, minus the dark glasses. There were seven native diaper bearers in her entourage.

Children don't get seasick until the age of 2, so Tracy, who can't walk and refuses to crawl, was one of the first passengers to get her sea legs. She fell asleep on her stomach while friends were telling her "bon voyage."

That night at a gathering to meet the ship officers, the chief steward said:

"Did you notice we were several minutes late in sailing this morning? Do you know why? We were held up waiting for a case of baby food for your daughter to get aboard."

I suppose all proud parents are told this as a joke—that the ship's departure was delayed to get their baby's food aboard—but when I tell Tracy about this some years from now I'm going to treat it as gospel truth.

"When you were 8 months old you kept a 35,000-ton liner and 1,300 people waiting," I'll tell her. "Now don't you think it's about time to learn to be prompt?"

No one has gotten more out of the cruise than Tracy. The crew couldn't have pampered her more if she had been the daughter of the Cunard Line's board chairman. Our room steward, Jack Barnes, a father himself, treats her as if she were his own.

Babies hate a change of routine as much as grownups do. They're really very conservative. But Tracy adjusted to shipboard life within a day. We were afraid to take her ashore at any of the ports, but she didn't mind. She has had a high time in her crib or on deck flirting with Barnes and learning to play patty-cake with the young stewardess, Miss Heather Butler, who has a heart for children.

Tracy, after patty-caking her hands nearly raw, has learned to speak with a British accent. Her first word was "coo," which, as everybody knows, is a Cockney expression of wonder or surprise.

Everything brings a "coo" from her—flapping gulls, a sudden breeze, the foam in the ship's wake, or the passengers who stop to chat with her. They have been wonderful to her, for she is the only baby between her and land. "Doesn't she look exactly like her father?" exclaimed one of two women who passed us on deck. My pride-expanded chest collapsed when, as they strolled on, the wind blew back the remark of the second woman—"But she'll probably outgrow it."

Another woman stopped many times to play with Tracy. Once she turned away suddenly with wet eyes. Later I learned she had lost a daughter of her own, and I felt how often in this world our personal happiness is but a small island washed by the seas of others' sadness.

Tracy will end this unremembered first voyage of her life with at least two distinctions. Capt. A. B. Fasting had her as one of his guests at a party in his cabin, and said she was the only one who showed up barefoot.

As for the other distinction, Tracy sailed with only four teeth but will end the cruise with five.

Drought Pushes Grains Advance

CHICAGO (AP)—Grains moved upward on the board of trade today in quite active dealings in wheat and soybeans again setting the pace on the advance.

Lack of any important moisture in the southwestern drought area over the weekend provided the main stimulus for the bread cereal. Soybeans were bought on reports the government had revised upward its estimate on the amount of beans which will be exported this year.

Wheat near the end of the first hour was 1/4 to 1/2 cents higher. March 23.15, corn unchanged to 1/4 lower, March 13.35, oats 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, March 7.75, rye 1/4 lower to 1/2 higher, March 11.15, soybeans 1/4 to 1/2 higher, March 33.51, and lard 15 to 40 cents a hundred pounds higher, March 17.85.

Family Series on TV Contract

Character Actor Owns Orange Grove Which Is Making Money

NEW YORK — For many years Charlie Ruggles has made a prosperous living as one of Hollywood's most appealing character actors; a fine comedian who radiates subtle charm and sympathy as he goes about his business of winning laughs.

These infectious qualities have been employed to distinct advantage of TV's Kate Smith Hour, where Charlie can be seen once a week portraying the title role in an amusing situation comedy, "The World of Mr. Sweeney."

Ruggles is a native son of Los Angeles, a rarity in the film colony. Directing his steps towards a medical career, Charlie's father, a wholesale druggist, saw to it that he studied chemistry. In spare time, he worked in his father's business.

Intrigued by glowing word pictures of life behind the footlights painted by an acquaintance connected with the theater, Ruggles set out for San Francisco and, surprisingly enough, won a small role in "The Admirable Crichton."

Later Ruggles joined the Oliver Morosco forces and made his first appearance in New York for this producer in "Help Wanted." Although the Broadway venture was not particularly successful, the play had a long run in Chicago.

The following season, Ruggles returned to Broadway in an Edgar Selwyn play, "Rolling Stones," which established him with the New York public.

Other musicals followed; for several years thereafter, Ruggles remained on Broadway.

After many comedies, Ruggles voiced an ambition to play more serious roles. In July 1941, his wish was heeded.

"The Parson of Paniment" definitely placed him in the category of ace character actors. He portrayed the role of a prospector who built a town with his wealth—his first entirely serious delineation on the screen.

In recent years Charlie starred in a network radio show, "Barrel of Fun," and played himself in a family-comedy series on television, "The Ruggles." The latter ran for three years as a network show and now is being syndicated to local TV stations.

Ruggles is married. Dogs and oranges are his most important hobbies. At one time he owned and operated extensive dog kennels which quartered about 100 canines. He has now leased the kennels to someone else. On his ranch in Encino, Calif., Charlie runs a prize orange grove which he has operated "in the black" for several years.

Sailor Thinks Inheritance Gag Ragged Trick

LOS ANGELES — Sailor Bill Cabeca says it's a salty trick to tell a man his rich uncle has left him $100,000.

"All I know is I'm real confused," he said. "I feel pretty low."

William V. Cabeca Jr., 28, a boatman's mate L.C., told reporters last Tuesday he'd received a letter from a brother informing him a rich uncle died and left one eighth interest in an $800,000 hotel. All he had to do to collect was leave the Navy.

Yesterday Cabeca said he had checked with the brother in Nebraska and learned no such letter had been sent. And in Miami, Fla., his father, William V. Sr., said he knew of no rich relatives, nor of any recent deaths.

Sailor Bill now says it looks like "some kind of a gag."

U.S. Finds Hungarians Broadcasting Secretly

WASHINGTON — The State Department says the Communist Hungarian legation operated a secret radio transmitter several months ago but was caught at it and told to quit broadcasting.

Thorsten V. Kaljarvi, deputy assistant secretary of state for economic affairs, said in House Appropriations subcommittee hearings released yesterday that many foreign missions have asked permission to install transmitters of their own so they can talk directly to home. But he said U. S. law bars broadcasting licenses to aliens.

TV Is Short Cut to Fame for Girl Like Phyllis Kirk

By C. E. BUTTERFIELD

NEW YORK — The television camera's insatiable demand for new faces and new talent is casting such people as Phyllis Kirk, a girl of pixie-like beauty, into the limelight.

For the 24-year-old Phyllis, television has provided a short cut to the top.

It has taken this bright lass only nine years to realize her teenage ambition to become an actress.

For the girl with the eff expression, television has it all over stage, movie and modeling, fields in which she has had experience, as an acting medium.

"I get much more satisfaction out of working for a live audience," she said, "instead of doing a bit by bit performance as in making a movie. There is more fulfillment for me in learning a part from beginning to end and then going through it without interruption."

Phyllis, born in Syracuse, N. Y., moved to Elizabeth, N. J., and on graduating from high school at 16, immediately began her quest for an acting career.

First stop was New York and a job as a model. "I didn't particularly like it, but it gave me the money to study acting."

Her first Broadway engagement came in 1948 with the Theater Guild, followed by summer stock and then the movies.

Back in the theater briefly, her attention was directed to television, where she made her debut in 1952 with the TV Play-

Air Force Recruitment Program OK'd by Wilson

WASHINGTON — The Air Force, hit by recent drops in enlistment, has won Secretary of Defense Wilson's permission to launch a recruiting system of its own starting July 1.

The Air Force so far has shared recruiting operations with the Army.

house. In that same Playhouse she starred as a blind girl in "The Inward Horizon."

Miss Kirk mingles TV appearances with movie making, and because of the double jobs, she maintains apartments in both New York and Hollywood.

Kennan Enters Congress Race

Former Ambassador to Russia Seeks Place in House

GETTYSBURG, Pa. — George F. Kennan, former U.S. ambassador to Russia, has jumped into a three-way fight for the Democratic congressional nomination from Pennsylvania's 15th District.

Kennan won the endorsement of the Adams County Democratic organization yesterday but party leaders in the district's other two counties are supporting their own candidates.

The district, comprising the south-central counties of York, Cumberland and Adams, is now represented by first-term Rep. S. Walter Stauffer, a York Republican. Stauffer won by 6,301 votes two years ago over his predecessor, James F. Lind, a Democrat, when the district was reshuffled following the 1950 census.

Kennan, who lives in East Berlin, Adams County—near the Gettysburg farm owned by President Eisenhower, voluntarily retired from the State Department in 1952 after being recalled at the request of the Soviet. He is now an instructor at Princeton's Institute for Advanced Studies.

Other announced candidates for the Democratic nomination at the May 18 primary are Maynard M. Small of New Cumberland, Cumberland County, and Earl D. Warner, of Red Lion, York County.

Body Says 116 Refused to Give Loyalty Answers

WASHINGTON — The Civil Service Commission so far has found names of 116 former government workers who refused, on constitutional grounds, to answer congressional committee questions about their loyalty or possible Communist connections.

The figures were compiled for Chairman Ross (R-Kan.) of the House Post Office Committee, who made them public yesterday.

Most of the 116 left the government in the 1940s, some as early as 1904.

Korean News Eyes Truce Repudiation

SEOUL (AP)—The unofficial South Korean information service said today the armistice has been repeatedly violated by the Communists and "it might even be well to repudiate the whole senseless agreement."

In the government-subsidized newspaper Korean Republic, the information service urged a build-up of defense forces although that would violate the armistice.

"The armistice agreement no longer has the slightest validity," it said.

"It might even be well to repudiate the whole senseless agreement that the Communists never had any intention of keeping and which they have already repeatedly broken."

"Korea's greatest fear, however, is that the Allies are using the truce as a cover for the cold-blooded desertion of this country."

'55 Arms Budget Estimate Cut

Defense Secy. Wilson Lists Military Spending at $37,600,000,000

WASHINGTON (INS) — Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson said today the military's estimated expenditure rate for fiscal 1955 is $37,600,000,000, a cut of almost four billions from the 1954 estimate and more than six billions from the 1953 peak.

The defense chief appeared before the Senate Appropriations Committee and detailed the nation's military "new look" program which calls for an $81,500,000,000 budget for fiscal 1955, which begins July 1.

The budget request would make the following amounts available for expenditures during fiscal 1955 and subsequent years:

Army, $23,400,000,000; Navy, $23,400,000,000; Air Force, $34,500,000,000 and approximately $900,000,000 for inter-service activities.

Wilson declared: "The cost of national security will remain high for many years." This cost, he added in a statement, "must be bearable not only in the sense that the burden can be carried without wrecking our economy, but also be within the limits of what can be supported without retarding the future growth of our economy."

He pointed out that the defense budget calls for a continuing increase in airpower expenditures and said by July 1, 1957, the Air Force will have 137 wings of which 126 will be combat. A wing comprises 75 fighter planes or 30 bombers of the B-36 intercontinental type.

By the end of June, 1955, he

Gunmen Rob Priest, Parishioner of $185

DETROIT (INS) — Two gunmen invaded the Catholic Church of Our Prayer in downtown Detroit early today and robbed the pastor and a parishioner of $185. Another man witnessed the hold-up from the church balcony and telephoned police in time to nab one of the bandits, 27-year-old Ralph C. Turner. The other thug escaped with the loot.

The Rev. Robert Ballinger, 32, told police the robbers entered the side door of the auditorium and confronted him and 50-year-old Charles Seay with .45 caliber automatics. The priest surrendered $178 and Seay lost $7.

Thieves Steal Safe From Supermarket

GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Burglars early Sunday carted away a 300-pound steel safe containing $5,000 in cash and an equal amount in checks after sawing the iron bars on a window to gain entrance to a supermarket.

Police said the thieves apparently changed their mind about taking with them a quantity of wine and cigarettes they had stacked up near a rear door.

They also left undisturbed a bigger safe in which store officials said there was about $500.
