Dulles' Aid Plan for Near East Lauded by Many

But Israel and League Neighbors See Border Problems Unsolved

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS)—Proposals by Secretary of State John Foster Dulles aimed at insuring lasting peace between Israel and her Arab neighbors were warmly welcomed today by Britain and the United Nations.

But reaction from the Near East was mixed toward the three-part program outlined last night.

The key point in the plan called for an international guarantee sponsored by the U.N. of permanent borders for Israel and her Arab neighbors.

A British foreign office statement said Dulles' speech was "an important contribution in the most critical and oustanding problem in the Middle East."

The offer of U. S. assistance won quick praise from U. N. Secretary General Dag Hammerskjold who termed it "generous and constructive."

Speaking in New York with the authorization of President Eisenhower, Dullees disclosed the U. S. was willing to give formal treaty assurances that each side would be safe from attack by the other.

But the secretary said U. S. participation "in such a security guarantee" was conditional on solution of two other deep-rooted and bitter problems. They were:

1. The plight of 900,000 displaced Arabs.

2. The drawing of permanent borders between Israel and her Arab neighbors, Lebanon, Syria, Jordan and Egypt.

AMBASSADOR COMMENTS

"It is premature to comment on the pact offer before knowing how these related problems mentioned are to be solved."

An Israeli source said that Dulles had, in effect, postponed any move by the U. S. to conclude a bilateral treaty with the Jewish nation guaranteeing her borders.

The informant pointed out that Israel was the only state in the area with which the U. S. does not have a security treaty. He also stressed the conditional nature of Dulles' offer.

In his major policy address before the Council on Foreign Relations, Dulles offered U. S. help in solving both the border and refugee problems.

He offered U. S. participation in negotiating the new boundary lines, and suggested an international loan, with a substantial U. S. contribution to aid in the resettlement or repatriation of the Arab refugees.

Tides High in Gulf of Mexico

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Hurricane Edith, tabbed a "weak sister" by storm forecasters, dallied in the Atlantic today with no indication when, where or if she will strike the mainland.

The fifth tropical storm of the year and third this month was moving very slowly toward the north northwest with winds of bare hurricane force 75 m.p.h. in squalls near the center.

Gales extended outward 150 miles to the north and east and 75 miles to the southwest.

The storm continued to move slowly toward the north-northwest at about seven m.p.h. and its course was expected to remain in that general direction throughout most of today. There was a possibility of some intensification.

There was no significant intensification yesterday and Gordon Dunn, chief storm forecaster at Miami, said "that means she is a pretty weak sister."

Dunn said circulation is good but the cloud and squall pattern around it is not well defined. "She is a pretty disorganized storm," he added.

Edith was born Wednesday about 700 miles east-northeast of Puerto Rico and 1,600 miles east of Miami. She moved west-northwestward for two days, then slowed to a walk and weakened.

Over in the Gulf of Mexico, a small tropical low pressure system has swelled tides three to four feet above normal from Pensacola, Fla. to New Orleans.

'Call Your Wife' if Late Coming Home, Says Prof

EAST LANSING (AP)—Want to get along better with your wife—or your boss?

The best way is to improve your communications, Prof. Russell L. Jenkins of Michigan State University said at the annual conference of the National Society for the Study of Communications.

Educators, armed services officers and business executives are attending the communications conference.

Jenkins said that better communications are needed on all levels of society, from the basic family group to the armed services and giant corporations.

"Divorces, broken homes and even industrial strife result from lack of effective communications," Jenkins said. "A good family example is when the husband is working late and doesn't call his wife."

"Ill will is bound to be spread by poor communications," Jenkins said. "There's a right and wrong way to give orders, ask questions and even carry on simple conversations."

There's Always One in Each Community

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—Because a woman refused to get off her party line yesterday, Fire Chief John W. Gallagher reported, a fire caused $6,900 damage before it was brought under control.

Chief Gallagher said a neighbor tried for five minutes to get the woman off the telephone line, but the woman refused. Finally the neighbor sent a youngster to the corner to pull the fire alarm box.

One home in Huntington's west end was destroyed, and two others were heavily damaged. The fire chief reported that the blaze left 19 persons homeless.

"If the department had been called five minutes earlier," he said, "much more could have been saved."

Fenton Attorney Held in Shooting

Wounds Tenant Farmer During Quarrel, Police Report

A 27-year-old Fenton tenant farmer was shot and seriously wounded last night by a Fenton village attorney whose farm he operated, according to State Police.

In fair condition this morning at Hurley Hospital in Flint with abdomen wounds was William C. Clark. Clark's wife, Lois, 26, told police her husband was in the barn last night doing some chores, when a quarrel began between him and Clifford Dye, 53.

Dye pulled out a .25 caliber automatic pistol, according to Mrs. Clark, and shot her husband in the stomach. After the shooting, Dye attempted to prevent the injured man and his wife from leaving the scene by brandishing an iron bar, she told police.

Dye was held in Oakland County Jail for investigation in the shooting, according to Gerard A. Poehlman, assistant Oakland County prosecuting attorney. Issuance of a warrant depends upon the condition of Clark, Poehlman said.

Police said the two men had been quarreling for several months. An injunction by Dye is on file in Oakland County Circuit Court seeking to break Clark's lease to operate three farms owned by Dye's sister, Viola Dye of Louisville, Ky.

Arabs Demand French Return Deposed Sultan

Morocco Independence Party Gives Ultimatum to Faure Minister

AIX LES BAINS, France (AP)—A new hitch developed in the French-Moroccan political talks today when the Istiqlal Independence party demanded the return to France of deposed Sultan Mohammed Ben Youssef before it would join a proposed coalition government.

Pierre July, French minister for Tunisian and Moroccan affairs, told reporters this could not be accepted.

The French position, July said, is that the government should be formed before Ben Youssef is allowed to return from his two-year Madagascar exile.

This development upset the conference timetable. French Premier Edgar Fauer originally planned to fly back to Paris tonight with an agreement in his pocket for Cabinet approval tomorrow. Faure will remain here for "supplementary" conferences.

A formal Istiqlal statement referring to news stories about its participation in a broadly based Moroccan government described the reports as premature. The statement said:

"The constitution of a Moroccan government can only be carried out usefully when the Moroccan legality has been restored, that is, after the solution of the problem of the throne. On this subject, we do not know if the French government, which seems to be holding to the principle of conciliation, will decide to adopt the procedure and the forms likely to be accepted by Moroccan opinion."

An Istiqlal spokesman reiterated the party's stand that it wants Ben Youssef to come to France before a new Moroccan government is formed.

Today's extended meetings were reported aimed at an accord which would set up a Moroccan government of national union and perhaps bring in Ben Sliamne as Premier. Ben Slimane is an independent moderate Nationalist.

Faure and July conferred this morning with the 108-year-old grand vizier, El Mokri. He now is the equivalent of Prime Minister in Morocco and any new government probably would mean his replacement.

They scheduled meetings later today with the leaders of the Istiqlal; the Democratic Independence Party (DPI) and with Ben Slimane.

Visit Russian Farms Via Press Monday

What's the REAL story about Russian farming?

* * *

Russian farm problems are considered one big reason for the Kremlin's current peace offensive. Huge new areas are being opened up for planting in desperate attempts to boost food production. Thousands of city-dwellers have been sent to the Siberian wastelands to create a new Russian "breadbasket."

Dr. W. V. Lambert, dean and director of the University of Nebraska College of Agriculture and a world-renowned authority on farm methods, was chairman of the 12-man U.S. delegation that has just completed a five-week, 10,000-mile tour of Russian farmlands.

Now he reports to you, in a series that gives you the unvarnished facts in easy-to-read, non-technical language; provides important and fascinating new insight into Russia today and shows how the Russian farmer—and the farm wife—live and work.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION — Billowing smoke forms a huge funeral pall over the Standard Oil refinery at Whiting, Ind., where two men are reported dead. The gigantic fire followed an explosion early this morning which rocked the area for 20 miles. The Whiting refinery, one of the nation's largest, is seen from about a three-mile distance.

Syndicate Seeks Franchise

DETROIT (AP)—The Detroit Free Press says Walter O. (Spike) Briggs, president of the Detroit Tigers, is organizing a syndicate to purchase the franchise—Briggs Stadium and all.

Briggs, the Free Press said, will make his bid to other members of the Detroit Baseball Co. board by Sept. 15.

The Free Press added that several of Briggs' backers are associated with him on the board of the Detroit Lions. One of them, the paper said, is Oscar L. (Ozzie) Olson, a Lions director and head of a prominent Detroit industry.

Additionally, it has been rumored in Detroit for several years that Edwin J. Anderson, president of both the Lions and a large Detroit Brewery, is seeking to buy into the Tigers.

The Free Press says Briggs' offer will be made at a board meeting to be held in advance of the final dissolution of the Briggs Commercial and Development Co.

"It is known that if the franchise is not sold by mid-October, when final dissolution process is to take place, it will be split up into a series of trust funds set up by the late W. O. Briggs, Sr.

Despite these reports, Briggs said the Tigers are not for sale.

He said: "These reports seem to come up every year about this time. The only things for sale are hot dogs and soda pop at the ball park."

H. G. Salsinger, veteran sports editor of the Detroit News, wrote that "future ownership of the Detroit Baseball Club depends upon the U.S. Treasury Department's appraisal of the Walter O. Briggs estate for the purposes of inheritance taxes."

Salsinger said "the size of the federal levy will have one of two results," and listed them thus:

"Walter O. (Spike) Briggs will purchase the club in partnership with a few other men or it will be sold to a local group.

"If Spike participates in the purchase, he would attempt to retain controlling interest. Thus the actual control of the baseball club would remain with a member of the Briggs family."

"I would not be surprised if there was some change in the set-up of ownership before too long.

2 Airmen Dead in Bus Accident

14 Others Injured When Blowout Causes Crash Into Creekbed

NACOGDOCHES, Tex. (AP) — A tire blowout threw an Air Force bus into a deep dry creek yesterday, killing two and injuring 14 of the 16 airmen aboard.

An undetermined number of the 14 injured were reported critically hurt. All the airmen were from Bryan Texas Air Force Base and 14 were members of the base's baseball team, en route to Barksdale AFB, Shreveport, La., to take part in a tournament.

Trapped in the wreckage and killed were A.1C. Lloyd D. Buresh, son of Mrs. Genevieve Audry Buresh, Bolivar, Mo., and the bus driver, A.1C. James Clyde Kirkpatrick, son of Mrs. Mary A. Kirkpatrick, Bluff City, Tenn.

The right front tire blew out as the bus approached a bridge over a dry creek. The bus crashed through the bridge rail and landed crossways in the creekbed, its front and rear solidly jammed into opposite banks of the creek. The injured had to crawl out windows or be helped out by rescuers.

Campaign On to Get Tourists

State Council Plans to Meet Soon Over Funds for Advertising

LANSING (AP)—The State Tourist Council said today it plans to step up its campaign to lure tourists to Michigan.

The council has scheduled an Aug. 30-31 meeting at Mackinac Island to draw up a budget request to finance the campaign.

The council said it expects to ask for increased appropriations to retain its advertising purchasing power.

The campaign will be built around newspaper and radio advertisements in metropolitan areas. In addition, the council plans to send out personal postcards to tourists who want to know when fall colors will be at their peak.

Following the meeting, council members will join representatives of Ontario, Wisconsin and Minnesota for the 10th anniversary meeting of the Northern Great Lakes Area Council.

Whiting Winces as Blast Impact Shatters Area

2 Dead, Many Injured in First Report From Disaster Scene

WHITING, Ind. (AP) — A terrific blast at the Standard Oil Co. plant, one of the nation's biggest refineries, shook this northern Indiana town today.

At least two deaths resulted from the blast and fire which followed. An undetermined number of persons were reported injured but details were lacking.

A company spokesman said the explosion occurred at 6:15 a.m. in a fluid hydroformer, where gasoline goes through in an improving process.

Windows were shattered throughout Whiting, a city of 10,000 on the southern tip of Lake Michigan about 16 miles southeast of downtown Chicago.

Estimates as to the number of persons working in and around the hydroformer when it blew up varied from seven to 19.

One of the dead was Walter Rhea, 63, a foreman at the plant, who reportedly died of a heart attack following the blast.

A boy, Richard Plewniak, was reported killed by flying debris that struck him near his home in adjacent East Chicago. His brother, whose first name was not determined immediately, was reported injured.

FIRE RUNS WILD

A company spokesman said the fire was still out of control at 9 a.m., nearly three hours after the blast.

A Gary, Ind., radio newsman reported from the scene that the fire was "threatening hundreds of drums of oil stockpiled nearby" the hydroformer.

Charles Knoblock, Associated Press photographer who flew over the scene, reported that he could see a towering column of smoke when he took off from Meigs Airport near Chicago's Loop.

LIKE A ATOMIC BLAST

"It looked like the plume of an atomic blast about 25,000 feet in the air," Knoblock said.

"As we approached the refinery, thick oily clouds were boiling up from the plant. There was one huge blaze, surrounded by numerous smaller fires. There were so many, it was difficult to try to count them.

"You could see the streams of water being played on the fire and

Scattered Showers Seen This Weekend

Scattered showers with temperatures in the 80s were expected throughout the county this weekend, Weather Bureau forecasters said today.

Although the mercury was expected to range between 82 and 86 degrees today, it registered only 76 by 1 p.m.

Last night, .05 of an inch of rain fell in Pontiac with the mercury registering a 69-degree low between 4 and 7 a.m. Highest temperature recorded here yesterday was 78.

Forecasters said the area will see considerable cloudiness tonight and tomorow with a low of 70 expected tonight.

Hometown Inspection Team Returns From Observing Reservists in Action

By AL LOWMAN
Pontiac Press Staff Writer

FT. KNOX, Ky. — An 18-man hometown inspection team was back home today after a 3-day tour of this huge Army post, convinced that Pontiac's 703rd Reserve Tank Battalion is ready for whatever the future might hold.

The visitors, including George M. Watson, personnel director at Pontiac Motor Division, and Chamber of Commerce President Ralph T. Norvell, spent Wednesday, Thursday and Friday observing training techniques of the units operation of M48 medium tanks.

Under the command of Lt. Col. Lloyd A. Gabler, the 703rd is made up mostly of Pontiac-area men. Two attached units are from Detroit and one from Grand Rapids.

Col. Gabler, a Detroit Edison sales representative from Royal Oak, praised facilities at this 107,000-acre installation located 32 miles from Louisville. "We're being offered far better training facilities here than previous camps have offered," he stated.

VARIED TRAINING

During their 2-week tour, the unit will fire the 90mm gun that packs the armored forces knockout punch, practice maintenance of their vehicles, observe tank operation under combat conditions, practice communications and staff work and driving.

The inspection party included mayors William Kreger, of Wyandotte; William W. Vosine, of Ecorse; George A. Barber, of Lincoln Park; Orville L. Hubbard, of Dearborn; and George Veldman, of Grand Rapids.

They returned home Friday afternoon via Air Force transport.

During their stay here, the group was taken on tours of the camp, viewing training facilities and operations by Regular Army troops as well as by the 703rd.

They were shown how the Army's latest tanks operate and were given a first-hand demonstration from driving to firing the heavy guns.

Gen. Patton, who led tank units through Europe in World War II was fatally injured in an auto crash.

Firebrand Wife Ends Union Row

CHICAGO (AP)—Militant Esther Quigley, who ran afoul of the law fighting a strike called by her union-official husband, is resting her case.

* * *

The 35-year-old housewife said today she plans no further effort to end the walkout of Local 1214, CIO United Auto Workers, against the Harrison Sheet Metal Co.

"I've done all I can do," she said in an interview. "I'm through. My husband, who is partially to blame for more than 400 men being out of work, is locked out of the house now. And, if those men aren't back on the job Monday, he'll stay out for good."

By this, she said, she means she'll institute d i v o r c e action against Andrew Quigley, 33, a steward in the union.

Mrs. Quigley's lockout against Andrew began Tuesday because, she explained, "he and a bunch of other smart union officials went around and called the men off the job while they still had a contract and while negotiations for a new contract were going on.

* * *

"It's not a question of getting my husband back to work. He's out of a job. He was fired for calling the men out prematurely. But he can let the others go back.

"My husband is young and strong and he can get another job. But some of the other men are older and might not be able to get other jobs. A lot of them would go back to work if my husband and those other o f f i c i a l s would let them. Their families need the paychecks."

Mrs. Quigley and the wife of another striker went to the picketed plant yesterday to plead that the men return to work.

While there she tangled with Nicholas Prete, president of the union local. Police separated them and both were charged with disorderly conduct. They were released under $10 bond pending a Sept. 1 court appearance.

Mrs. Quigley, mother of four children, had said the workers should end the strike because their children need milk.

* * *

Prete walked up to Mrs. Quigley and her companion with a carton of milk and offered it to them. Mrs. Quigley shoved the milk back at Prete and they grappled.

Prete said she tore off his shirt and scratched his shoulder.

"It took two cops to pull me off him," said the 126-pound Mrs. Quigley. "It's a good thing they did or, so help me, I would have scratched his eyes out."

"It seems possible that I have been unfaithful.

Young Republicans Eye Hannah for Governor

ANN ARBOR (AP)—A group of "Young Turks"—young Republican members of the House of Representatives—has scheduled a meeting here Sunday to discuss possible Republican candidates for governor.

Rep. Willard I. Bowerman Jr. of Lansing said he and Rep. John J. McCune of East Lansing will present as a possibility the name of Michigan State University President John A. Hannah.

"I think he's one man who could cause concern to Gov. Williams or whoever he's going to run against," Bowerman said. "Dr. Hannah hasn't said 'no' either."

Sightseeing Public Banned

Machinery, Food, Money Come to Aid of Flood Areas

NEW YORK (INS)—All sightseeing motorists will be banned from traveling through hard-hit flood areas in the Northeast this weekend to prevent interference with "Operation Cleanup."

Officials of four states announced yesterday that only residents and official outsiders will be permitted to travel through the regions devastated by some of the worst flash floods in U. S. history.

As "Operation Cleanup" moved into its second week, the Red Cross still was sheltering some 7,500 homeless persons.

In Boston, the federal government, brushing aside red tape as never before, today launched an all out drive to revive flood-ravished Connecticut, Massachusetts and Rhode Island and get 50,000 idle workers back in industry.

Machinery and food and money were the weapons that federal agencies were sending New Englandward.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks ordered 500,000 pieces of machinery "of every conceivable type" sent into the three states to get the cleanup job done. The machinery was from a huge secret stockpile which had been maintained in the event of an atom bomb attack.

"We want to get manufacturing plants back in operation and get men back to work as soon as possible," Weeks said after his inspection visit in this area.

Washington also has slashed all red tape for federal Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson, who disclosed that Connecticut will be a huge testing ground for what can be accomplished in disaster relief.

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Benson also was playing a big part in the program. Benson announced the release of big stores of butter, cheese, powdered milk, dry beans, rice and shortening and designated relief agencies for distribution to flood victims.

Syndicate Seeks Tiger Franchise

However, I doubt very seriously if Briggs Stadium (home of the Tigers) will be sold.

"There is no need to sell the ball club to meet estate tax levies as has been hinted, Mr. Briggs made ample provision for that."

In connection with Salsinger's story that future ownership depends on an appraisal for inheritance taxes, the News said the last appaisal of the worth of the Detroit Baseball Club and stadium was $2,100,000 and was made for probae court in December 1952 sohrtly after the senior Briggs' death.

The 1954 report of the Detroit Baseball Co. to the Michigan Corporation and Securities Commission listed surplus and undivided profits of $1,668,247 and debts of $606,438.

The 1954 accounting of the entire Briggs estate showed its total worth to be $5,054,895, compared with 511,610,594 in January 1952 It showed the shrinkage primarily due to prepayment of state inheritance taxes.

a crowd of spectators. Oil trucks were on the move, apparently getting out of the danger zone."

Whiting police reported the damage zone within the plant grounds covered an area of more than two acres. Windows were reported shattered in Crown Point, Ind., about 20 miles south of the scene.

* * *

The Standard Oil Co., which maintains its own police and fire departmtnts, was fighting the blaze with the help of firemen from Whiting, Hammond and East Chicago.

* * *

Newsmen were barred from entering the plant grounds.

Whiting police said they understood the hydroformer, a new facility, had been in operation from 30 to 60 days and was still under test when it exploded.

The blast sent up huge columns of smoke that could be seen more than 20 miles away. Flames soared more than 200 feet, police said.

The force of the blast hurled a sheet of steel estimated at two inches thick and about 75 feet long onto Indianapolis Blvd. (U.S. Highway 41), Whiting's principal thoroughfare. A second sheet of about the same dimension flattened a parked automobile a block and a half from the plant.

Gary Post-Tribune newsmen, reporting to their office via two-way radio, said Standard workers built dams and dikes to stop the flow of oil and gasoline. They also reported:

* * *

Homes three blocks west and south of the plant were being evacuated by some 700 to 800 persons.

Firemen strove to keep flames away from a tank of natural gas in the fire area.

Homes about a block north of the plant, were damaged. One house was hit hard and a piece of flying steel dug a crater ten feet wide and six or eight feet deep in the back yard. The garage in the rear was demolished and an automobile was bounced onto the roof section, where it landed upside down.

Caracas Planning Mass

CARACAS, Venezuela—A $3,500,000 shopping center is planned for Caracas, to be ready for business within two years.

Mobile Blood to Be Available for Donors Here

With the need for whole blood crucial during the accident-riddled Labor Day week, the Oakland County chapter of the Red Cross is making a mobile blood unit available for donors next week.

The unit will be stationed at the Elks Temple Monday from 2 to 8 p.m., said Mrs. Mildred Bennett, chapter director.

As the life span of a pint of whole blood is only 21 days, donor programs for Labor Day and other holiday weekends must be scheduled to render blood useful during those weekends, she explained.

In July, the chapter collected 301 pints of blood, but used 502, Mrs. Bennett pointed out. When this happens, the chapter must then depend on surrounding counties to replenish the supply.

She estimated that a minumum number of 125 pints must be available for emergency use over the Labor Day weekend.

The blood bank now operates entirely on a civilian program, and blood will not be broken down into plasma and blood fractions unnecessarily. Collections must be high to insure a wide variety of types, she warned.

County Personnel Director Carl G. Johnson officially ended his term of office here Friday, announced Charles Y. Moore, chairman of the Board of Auditors.

Johnson has accepted an appointment to serve as administrative officer for Washtenaw County, and will leave for Ann Arbor next week to assume his new duties there.

Moore said the new personnel director will be announced sometime next week. Washtenaw supervisors confirmed Johnson's appointment July 12. He said the job will involve setting up budgetary plans, along with handling administrative details related to the supervisors' offices.

"A personnel classification plan, such as we have here in Oakland County, will be activated in Washtenaw," Johnson explained.

He served as county personnel director since February, 1953, and lives with his wife and two children at 19908 Heyden, Detroit.

Prior to his appointment here he worked four years in the personnel office at the Wayne County Civil Service Commission.

Report Detroit 'Farms' for Sale

But Ruel Says There's 'No Plans' for Buffalo and Jamestown Clubs

DETROIT (AP)—To published reports that Detroit Tiger farm clubs in Buffalo and Jamestown, N.Y., are "on the auction block," general manager Herold Ruel said today: "At this point, we have no plans."

"We have discussed the minor league situation, as we do every year, but not to the point of making a decision," he explained.

Sports editor Frank Hyde wrote in the Jamestown Post-Journal yesterday that the Jamestown and Buffalo clubs were "on the auction block" because the Tigers are "weary of mounting costs and shrinking gates" in the two farm cities.

Hyde said Harry Beisgeier, long active in Jamestown baseball circles, was among those interested in buying the Buffalo franchise.

Three Detroit newspapers agreed in stories yesterday that the American League Tigers, themselves, may be sold shortly.

H. G. Salsinger, veteran sports editor of the Detroit News, said future ownership depended upon the government's appraisal of the estate of the late owner Walter O. Briggs for inheritance tax purposes.

Walter O. (Spike) Briggs Jr. denied the Tigers currently were for sale.

Don't Underestimate Power of a Woman

PETOSKEY (AP) — A wife may have more to do with the location of an industry than her industrialist husband may think.

That is the conclusion reached by five industrial development experts who discussed acquiring and holding industries at a workshop sponsored by the Michigan Economic Development Department.

After a thorough check of transportation, tax rates and utilities, the husband remarked: "Well, I guess we'll locate the plant here."

"'You will not,'" Coates said the wife retorted. "'I don't like the people.'"

The plant went elsewhere.

George Petrie, of the Detroit office of the Commerce Department, cited one case where a town lost its largest plant because of a wife's wounded ego. It turned out, the town's women's club had slighted her.

Evidence Melts, but Thief Still Is Jailed

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — Bernard Huggins, 49, is in the cooler today even though the heat destroyed the evidence against him.

He drew a six-months jail term on a petit larceny charge—stealing a block of ice from the front of a business building.

'Modern Woman' Poses a Problem of Neurosis

CHICAGO — (INS) The divorced wife of Adlai Stevenson showed today that she can make with the "quips" as well as the 1952 Democratic presidential candidate.

Mrs. Eleen Borden Stevenson, in the September issue of the magazine Chicago, offers a verse play which laments the problems of today's women.

Entitled "Modern Woman," the play concludes that the combined wisdom of Plato Saint Thomas Aquinas, Sir Francis Bacon, Voltaire and Freud is of no help in solving problems for the 20th century woman.

The play opens showing a round - table discussion between the four philosophers and Freud at which the "guest of honor" is the "modern woman."

At the outset, she states her plight:

"They say I'm distracted and lost.
I think I'm paced and bossed.
When I was a kid,
They ruined my id:
So now I raise Cain when I'm crossed.
I emote with a speed supersonic.
My dissatisfaction is chronic.
I envy the peace.
Of the ancients of Greece.
Oh, Plato, please make me platonic!"

As the verse play unfolds, the four philosophers and psychonalyst Freud are heard from, each according to his philosophical lights.

At the end, Modern Woman finds she is no better off than before. She laments:

"I fear you have only increased my psychosis
By missing the seat of my neurosis.
You have fallen flat on your diagnoses."

The Day in Birmingham

Northminster Beginning $1,00,000 Church Project

BIRMINGHAM—Plans for what will ultimately become a $1,000,000 building project have been approved by the congregation of Northminster Presbyterian Church and the Rev. MacKay Taylor expects ground to be broken for the first unit by October.

* * *

The $65,000 portion of the church, to be built first, will eventually become the youth chapel but for the present will serve as the sanctuary, seating 110 persons.

Overall architectural plans contemplate structures of contemporary design, all on one level and featuring a white circular sanctuary with triangular windows. "There will be no back seats in our final sanctuary," said the Rev. Mr. Taylor, since the pulpit will be centered in the building.

A six-acre site for the modern building, to be located one-quarter mile east of Adams Road on the south side of Big Beaver Road was given by the Detroit Presbytery, which is also donating $20,000 toward the project.

CHURCH DONATES

The Rev. Mr. Taylor said the First Presbyterian Church here plans to donate $5,000, which will help pay for the four Sunday School rooms, sanctuary, cloak room and small kitchenette to be incorporated into this first unit. Architect for the project is Linn Smith, AIA, of Birmingham.

The pastor estimated that the first unit would accomodate a congregation for approximately two years, by holding two Sunday services.

First Northminster services were held Oct. 31, 1954. They are now being conducted in Poppleton School, Troy Township, at 10:30 a.m. each Sunday.

* * *

Two new projects were added to their growing list of activities when officers and board members of the Newcomers Club met recently to discuss fall plans. Committees were set up to make further provisions for a monthly newsletter for members and a dance for members and husbands.

The club's fall calendar will open with the regular monthly luncheon on Sept. 15. Bruce Bradford of the J. L. Hudson Co. Speaker's Bureau will address the group on interior decorating. As in the past, meetings will be held on the third Thursday of each month at 12:30 p.m. at the Community House.

First - Thursday - of - the - month bridge parties will resume there in September, with evening bridge parties for couples to take place at 8 p.m. every second Friday of the month.

Also to be continued are two other activities, golf in season and bowling each Tuesday at 9:30 a.m. Newcomers to the area are invited to any of the functions and should contact Mrs. William D. Wyatt.

* * *

Harvey I. Lowen, 19, of Detroit, waived examination and was bound over to Oakland County Circuit Court when he appeared yesterday before Justice John J. Gafill. He was charged with attempted breaking and entering in the nighttime, and was to be released on $500 bond.

Politicians Show Value During Flood Crises

TORRINGTON, Conn. (AP) — The flood disasters have dealt a blow to any idea that politicians have little to do except smoke big cigars and lead lives of ease.

* * *

They really have been putting out since the floods struck the Northeast a week ago. Many have slept scarcely a wink since then.

Ordinarily you scarcely give a thought to your water commissioner. The water usually runs all right, so what has he got to do?

But, came the disaster. Then the people of the stricken communities learned that the local water and sewer commissioners actually were acquainted with the whole piping system, where the breaks were and how to get them fixed. The health officials were right on the job.

* * *

President Eisenhower symbolized concern of public officials when he broke off his Colorado vacation to fly into the flood areas for conferences with governors of the flooded states.

* * *

In Connecticut, Gov. Abraham Ribicoff has visited virtually every stricken scene, called a special session of the Legislature, blocked the moving of pre-fab houses out of the state, and taken time to blast any effort to woo industry out of the area.

Secretary of Commerce Sinclair Weeks arrived in Hartford yesterday and immediately released half a million pieces of machinery held in reserve in case of an atom bomb attack.

He said the machinery, of "every kind imaginable," was available to Connecticut on a need basis for cleanup or other work.

"We want to get the plants back in operation and we'll worry about leases later," said Weeks.

Weeks also said the Commerce Department will act as a clearing house to help businessmen obtain all sorts of federal aid to rebuild.

In the smallest communities, unsung local officials were on the job to get services back to normal. Often they didn't look like officials. They wore khaki slacks and blue denim shirts as they climbed over rubble to locate sources of trouble.

* * *

It is no time for pomp. Carroll, a former lieutenant governor, works at his desk in his shirtsleeves. His desk is so covered with reports on the flood and rebuilding situation that he keeps his telephone on the floor. It rings incessantly.

He answers pleasantly, no matter how tired he is or how unimportant the call.

* * *

Carroll hasn't estimated the damage to his city. His first job, he says, is to care for the people and to get services restored.

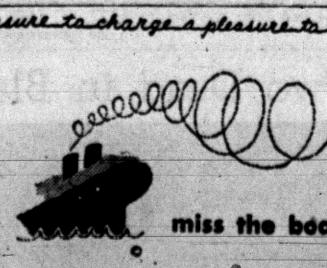

"We got the electric lights on again," he said. "It was such a relief we all just went out and stood looking at them."

With that, the 9 p.m. curfew was removed.

"We are watching it closely," he says.

Skarritt - Hartland Nuptials Are Solemnized at Milford

MILFORD — Three hundred guests were present at the Saturday evening wedding of Maxine Eleanor Hartland and Frank Laverne Skarritt Jr., in the Milford Methodist Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Hartland of Milford and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Skarritt Sr., also of Milford.

Frances Phillips of Pontiac, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and Helen King and Patsy Skarritt, both of Milford, were bridesmaids.

Attending the bridegroom was Lewis Richman of Milford as best man. Charles Graves Jr. of Pontiac, Forrest Skarritt, Bud Kimball and Ralph Ruggles, all of Milford, served as ushers.

Attorneys Eye 6-Area Formula

4 Townships, 2 Cities Seeking to Build Joint $2,500,000 Interceptor

WATERFORD TOWNSHIP — A formula for sharing costs on a $2,500,000 interceptor sewer to service four townships and two cities will be submitted to bonding attorneys Monday for a legal opinion on its feasibility.

If the report is favorable, the apportionment proposal will be formally submitted to the governing bodies of Waterford, West Bloomfield, Southfield and Farmington Townships and the cities of Keego Harbor and Farmington, the areas to be served.

The formula was submitted to officials of the six areas by Oakland County drain commissioner Ralph Main, at a special meeting Wednesday in the Waterford Township Hall.

Officials of all the communities appeared satisfied with the cost arrangement, and the consensus of opinion was that it was a fair apportionment, according to Lloyd L. Anderson, Waterford Township supervisor.

The proposed interceptor would connect with a Waterford Township sanitary sewage system at the southern end of the township and run south into the Detroit system at Eight Mile road.

If built, it is expected to end pollution of lakes and streams in the rapidly growing area, and reduce need for septic tanks.

Holly Water Tank Gets Overhauling

HOLLY—The village water tank has been repaired and painted at a cost of $2,300. Most of this amount was for the welding of small leaks.

The tank, erected 40 years ago on a high steel tower, is the reserve supply for the village's water which is pumped from deep wells.

This is the largest overhaul that it ever has received.

Expect to Attract National Riders to Horse Show

METAMORA—Horsemen in the Metamora-Oxford area are preparing for the three-day Hunter-Breeder Horse Show and Olympic equestrian team preliminary trials to be held Sept. 3-5 at the Metamora Hunt Club.

Some 7,500 are expected to turn out for the double event. About 25 horses and riders will compete for entrance in the 1956 Olympic team finals. Tests will be for speed, endurance, cross country riding, jumping and dressage.

The event is being held for the first time in the Midwest, and is expected to attract top national riders and their mounts as well as professionals and amateurs from the area. Prize money for the show totals $1,500.

St. Mary's Church Scene of Susalla-Hagerty Rites

ROYAL OAK—In a setting of white galdioli and snapdragons, Jeanne Frances Hagerty and David Edward Susalla repeated their nuptial vows this morning at the altar of St. Mary Catholic Church here.

The bride, who is the daughetr of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard D. Hagerty of 140 DeVillen, Royal Oak, chose for her wedding a floor-length gown with three-tiered organdy skirt and a short train. The bodice was of embroidered organdy with scooped neckline and short sleeves.

A small wreath of orange blossoms and softened by a twist of illusion puffing held the full circular veil of imported illusion. Jeanne's flowers were white roses.

She was attended by Ellen Conlon as her maid of honor, and Beverly Ianelli, Kathleen Lyons and Carroll Dumas, as bridesmaids.

The bridegroom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David T. Susalla of 2760 Norton Lawn, Rochester, chose for his best man, Donald Schinker. John Farley, John McDonald and William Soloy served as ushers.

A wedding breakfast was held this morning at Botsford Inn, with an afternoon garden reception being held at the Inn this afternoon, from 3:30 to 5:30.

The couple will leave afterward on a motor trip to Florida. They plan to be at home at 17004 Log Cabin, Highland Park, after Sept. 12.

Farmers to Hold Annual Event

Sportsmen's Day Slated Sunday at Lapeer to Aid Rural-Urban Ties

LAPEER — The second annual Farmer-Sportsmen's Day is slated to be held at the Center Building here on Sunday. Purpose is to promote better relations between farmers and sportmen, or create better rural-urban understanding.

Guest speaker will be Dan Reed of the Michigan Farm Bureau.

Charles Floyd, producer of the television program "Michigan Conservation," will direct production of a film to be made of the event and telecast later over 12 Michigan, Ohio, Wisconsin and Ontario stations.

Tom Osmer, district supervisor of the game division of the Michigan Conservation Staff, Lapeer, will explain development of a wildlife habitat in Oregon Township.

Rites at Allenton Unite Almont Girl and Berville Man

Kathleen in the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Avender of Almont and Donald is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Vanderberghe of Berville.

The bride wore a princess style floor-length gown of white lace and net. Her fingertip veil was held in place by a headpiece set with rhinestones. Jewelry consisted of an heirloom gold cross necklace from her grandmother, Mrs. Eva Phillippi. She carried a white orchid and stephanotis arrangement on a white pearl prayer book.

Mrs. Mary Farley was matron of honor for her sister and Andre Vanderberghe served his brother as best man.

Marlette to Take Bids on Street Resurfacing

MARLETTE — The village council asked bids on resurfacing of several Marlette streets and the engineer was authorized to negotiate contracts for the work when the group met this week.

Larry Chappel was given a contract for the disposal of garbage and trash, subject to submission and approval of rates.

HOW OLD IS OLD?

J. L. VOORHEES

Grandma Moses became famous after she was 60. Many able judges and lawyers have long since passed the three score mark. Doctors bring children into the world, see them marry and bring their babies into the world. Just how old is old?

Ronald Sommers Settle in Maceday Lake Home

WEST ACRES— Settling their new home at Maceday Lake are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sommer marriage was solemnized at Orchard Lake Community Presbyterian church recently.

The Rev. Barney Roepcke performed the 7:30 p.m. ceremony uniting Louise Anita Sanderson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sanderson of Westacres, and Ronald Sommer, son of the Gerald L. Evans of Macedy Lake.

Mrs. Richard Sanderson of Crescent Lake was her sister-in-law's only attendent and Samuel Sommer was best man for his brother.

The couple motored to Ludington for their honeymoon. The Kenneth Sandersons plan an open house at their Westacres home for the newlyweds, from 2 to 9 p.m. Sunday.

Atom Parley at Geneva a History Making Event

It may be several years before the previously secret knowledge revealed at the 72 nation atomic conference in Geneva can be digested by scientists.

But already there have been efforts to make a tentative evaluation of this history making event. Without exception those commenting on the conference agree that it was a great success.

For one thing the sessions created a noticeable lessening of fear of the atom. They also gave rise to new hope that man eventually can become master of this tremendous new force and not its slave.

In the words of one science editor, the U. S. delegation covered itself with glory. Its members disclosed the most scientific information. Ours were the most impressive exhibits, including the working reactor sold for a nominal price to neutral Switzerland.

As a result one delegate said on the closing day that skepticism as to U. S. willingness to share atomic knowhow for the good of mankind had vanished.

Happily, it is in such a climate that plans were initiated for a second conference at which the gains achieved at Geneva could be extended. With such a hope-inspiring foundation, there should be no reason why work couldn't start now on implementing President Eisenhower's suggestion for an international atomic energy agency.

Unrest in the Saar

There has been ill feeling and tension and, in consequence, some violence over the territory's forthcoming referendum, October 23. On that date Saarlanders will decide their homeland's immediate future.

But there is growing opposition to the proposal which would place political control in the hands of a European commissioner. This in no way would upset the ethnically German Saar's close economic ties with France.

West Germany's Chancellor Adenauer already has shown his faith in the Europeanization plan by signing the referendum agreement. Despite attacks upon it, that plan is obviously superior to the idea advanced by the pro-German parties.

These parties have been campaigning for an immediate return of the Saar to Germany and restoration of the status which had existed since 1935. In that year the people of the Saar voted overwhelmingly to incorporate themselves into Hitler's Reich.

Unfortunately, the pro-Germans aren't conducting a high type campaign. Their tactics would be far more in harmony with the political ideals of the Nazis. In sharp contrast Dr. Adenauer has watched proceedings from Bonn without weakening the case for Europeanization by loose statements.

Back to the Hammock

The dignified New York Times has come forth with a strong demand for a renaissance of the old fashioned hammock.

Until that commonsense plea we couldn't put a finger on what was lacking in our defense against the recent record heat wave. Now it is clear. That missing ingredient was a hammock, a nice, strong, open weave type in which one could enjoy every vagrant summer breeze.

★ ★ ★

Nothing herein should be taken as scorn for the latest examples of lawn and porch furniture with their many virtues. But it's a safe guess that more than one reader can look back nostalgically to the hammock of his childhood. From it, while swaying gently to and fro, one could languidly survey the passing scene.

In those days of front porches the passing scene was largely pedestrian. Occasionally, of course, a two horse Victoria, a shining hack or a cyclist would pass by.

There also were the horse drawn wagons of the hucksters. Like their drivers, the horses wore straw hats firmly held in place by equine ears protruding through holes provided for them. These hats, bobbing up and down as the horses ambled along, provided an eye catching bit of animation.

Most fun of all was the opportunity afforded by the hammock, and a list of license numbers supplied by an enterprising advertiser, to know who was who in Detroit's automobile set of that day. When one of the city's few hundred pioneer cars chugged past, its license could be checked against the list and its owner's identity and address discovered.

Yes, there's a lot to be said for hammocks.

Walks Tight Rope

Director of Prisons Has Many Rough Problems

By GEORGE L. WALKER
(Subbing for Vacationing Jack Green)

• • •

The rings, giant prisons at Jackson, Marquette and Ionia, are centers of unrest capable of bursting into violence at the drop of a guard's vigilance.

Now that prison riots have become fashionable, the director's sense of balance must be especially acute. Preferably, he should be ubiquitous.

Compared with most top-level public servants, 37-year-old Gus Harrison has had relatively little time to acquire these skills.

But as "boy director" of a prison empire that stretches from head to foot of Michigan, that counts among its cities the world's largest walled institution, young Harrison's trip across the tightrope is remarkably steady.

DOESN'T BELIEVE IN 'EM

That feat is particularly unusual because Gus Harrison, by his own admission, is a man who doesn't believe in prisons.

"Look," he says. "There are a lot of ugly things about prison life that just can't be obliterated: The association with undesirables, the monotony, sex problems, the destruction of initiative and independence.

• • •

"People send us a man and say 'We want you to make him a better citizen.' But a prison has certain inherent restrictions that make that extremely difficult."

"For instance, you tell the man when to get up, when to eat and when to go to bed. You try to mold him into a pattern completely different from the pattern of prison life—the pattern of normal living he will have to fit into when he is released."

What can take the place of prisons? To a large extent, increased use of probation and parole, Harrison says.

"It costs $1,100 a year to keep a man at Jackson. It only costs $80 a year to keep him on probation or parole."

• • •

Aside from the financial benefits, there are other obvious advantages to probation and parole. The offender doesn't rub elbows with other criminals; he can lead a near-normal life, hold a job, live with his family.

CAN'T CLOSE PRISONS

Harrison doesn't propose for a minute that prisons can be abolished in this generation or the next.

"Some people—and this is regrettable—must be returned to prison," he says.

• • •

But while prisons remain as a fading vestige of the Medieval ages, they can absorb some of the humanitarian principles of the 20th Century.

Glaring physical defects can be, and are being, corrected. At the Marquette Branch Prison, for instance, plumbing is gradually taking the place of buckets.

Besides physical improvement, corrections officials are pressing for more segregation—of young prisoners from old, of first offenders from repeaters, of the sane from the insane.

• • •

Most pressing of all, though, is the problem of overcrowding. A new seven million dollar medium security prison is planned for young offenders at Ionia. New prison camps have been ordered.

Protestants and Catholics Mark Festival of Christ the King in August, October

By DR. HOWARD V. HARPER

Both Protestant and Roman Catholic churches have a Festival of Christ the King. The Catholics hold theirs in October. Protestants since 1937 have held theirs the last Sunday in August.

Twenty years ago the Federal Council of Churches appointed a committee to work out a calendar that would be acceptable to all its member denominations. Included in the proposed calendar was a new season, Kingdomtide, to begin on the last Sunday in August and continue until Advent (four Sundays before Christmas).

The emphasis, both for today and for the entire season, is upon Christ as King in the affairs of this world—political, economic, and social. Services of worship throughout this season are to be built around the hope of the coming of the Kingdom of Heaven on earth.

NEVER WIDELY OBSERVED

The committee's recommended calendar was officially accepted by the National Council of Churches when it replaced the older organization. It was soon obvious, however, that the makers of the new calendar had overlooked one unfortunate fact in planning an important festival for the end of August: church attendance at this time of year reaches its lowest point.

For this reason the Festival of Christ the King has not achieved the prominence it deserves in Protestant life. National Council authorities, facing the fact of unrealistic timing, are now studying the possibility of revising their calendar.

CONVERSION OF AUGUSTINE

One day in the year 372, when he was 31 years old, a dissipated young rake by the name of Augustine, lying under a fig tree, heard a voice saying, "Take and read, take and read." He looked all around, but there was no one there—so Augustine thought he had better obey the voice.

He went at once to his library, which was a large one, and opened the first scroll he picked up. And the first words he read were the 13th verse of the 13th chapter of St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans: "Let us walk honestly, as in the day; not in rioting and drunkenness, not in chambering and wantonness."

This was enough for Augustine. The passage applied to him perfectly. He became a Christian.

He tells the story in this famous autobiography, "Confessions," which scholars say is the first completely honest book of self-analysis in the history of literature.

The former playboy turned out to be the greatest of that select group known as the Fathers of the Church. As Bishop of Hippo (in North Africa) he became one of the giants of Christian history. No one else, not even Thomas Aquinas, ever exerted so profound an influence on the development of Christian doctrine.

St. Augustine is the patron saint of the theologians.

Perhaps it wasn't Salome.

The beheading of John the Baptist, commemorated Monday, August 29, has been the basis of stories, drama, and even opera. Everyone has read the grim account of how the queen's daughter (by a former marriage) so greatly pleased her stepfather, King Herod, with her dancing at his birthday party that he offered to give her whatever she asked, even half his kingdom, and how the girl, at her mother's urging, asked for the head of John the Baptist on a platter.

It has come to be taken for granted that this dancer's name was Salome, but this name is not mentioned in the Bible. She is called only "the damsel." The Jewish historian Josephus says that the queen did have a daughter named Salome, but there is nothing definite to indicate that it was she who danced.

Nevertheless, writers like Oscar Wilde and composers like Richard Strauss have clung to Salome, and Salome it is and probably always will be in the popular mind.

Shave Tot's Head to Stop Pulling, Chewing of Hair

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.
Questions & Answers

Little boy pulls out hair and chews it . . . (Mrs. F. C.).

Answer—Some normal children have that habit. Occasionally the hair lodges in stomach or intestine, forms a hair ball and causes obstruction. Perhaps tight clipping or shaving the head would get the boy out of the habit—provided he is given plenty of things to do with his hands.

How grateful I am for your advice on arthritis . . . after taking calcium for about 2 months I get wonderful relief . . . now I can get down and scrub floors without any trouble . . . (Mrs. W. C. A.)

Answer—I never recommended it for arthritis. I do recommend an optimal daily ration of calcium and vitamin D to prevent rheumatiz. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet Calcium and Rheumatiz.

Wife in change of life. Almost impossible to live with her at times . . . (M. F. R.)

Answer—Often hormone tablets prove beneficial—such as premarin or progesterone. Send stamped, self-addressed envelope and ask for pamphlet "The Menopause." Correspondents should remember that an unsigned request brings no reply.

Mother is unable to sleep nights because of father's snoring. They sleep in double bed. If she awakens him to make him stop snoring he gets cross . . . (Mrs. B. V.)

Answer—I wouldn't say strangling is justified, except for a snorer in a Pullman waiting on a siding. Both partners will get better rest in separage beds. The snorer should avoid more nightclothes or bed covers than are necessary for comfort—the lighter he covers the better. Snoring less likely to occur if he sleeps on one side than when he sleeps on his back. Mother might wear ear plugs of a pliable waxy material, such as swimmers use, to exclude father's nocturne.

I'll always feel grateful to you for breaking me of the physic habit. I wish I could have read your booklet many years ago. When I have consulted doctors they have dismissed me with some of their physic pills and the explanation that constipation was responsible for my nervousness or whatever I complained of. (D. J.)

Answer — Deprive some successful practitioners of the constipation and "autointoxication" hokum and the "cold" delusion and they'd scarcely know how to strong along their "chronics." For copy of the booklet "Constipation Habit and Colon Hygiene" send ten cents and stamped envelope bearing your address.

Niece thinks her children get the necessary benefit from skimmed milk, and I think they need whole milk, on account of the butter fat and vitamin A. Would appreciate your advice. (J. J. K.)

Answer—the children derive considerable benefit from skim milk (milk from which cream has been removed), but you are right the cream (butter fat) contains most of the vitamin A, all of the D in milk.

Signed letters, not more than one page or 100 words long, pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. William Brady if a stamped, self-addressed envelope is sent to the Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Mich.

Memphis Man Praises Paper, Criticizes Noise

Letters will be condensed when necessary because of lack of space. Full the writer must accompany letters but these will not be published if the writer name, address and telephone number of its nature.

Being a retired newspaper printer and proofreader for 51 years and a first time visitor to your city, I am moved to write you a few lines after reading many of your papers and seing quite a bit of your city.

First, I shall say you have a dandy, newsy newspaper and above the average for a city the size of Pontiac.

Second, I find it the noisiest city I ever was in, and I have driven in several large cities. The horn blowing, nerve-wracking motorists here should come to Memphis, Tenn., and enjoy a nice quiet drive and be shown how to treat a stranger in traffic. The rudest I have ever seen are here in Pontiac. Horn-blowing in Memphis is against the law. Our police and citizens extend special considerations to motorists from other states.

The sidewalks, streets and yards in Pontiac clearly show a lack of civic pride and municipal extravagance on many streets, but I have seen some beautiful buildings and homes.

If you want to enjoy southern hospitality and drive in a beautiful and clean city that is the quietest in the nation, come to Memphis. We will be glad to see you and treat you right.

'Grandmother of Dozen' Praises Theater's Choice

Recently a local theater put on two movies that were excellent for children and they deserve a vote of thanks for having shows that are not crime, but further the idea of being helpful to people and animals. The theater was packed with kiddies and adults.

Let's bring back the good stories like Freckles, Girl of the Limberlost, The Garden Gate, Huckleberry Finn, the Keeper of the Bees and even the Alger stories where children did work to receive their allowances and earned their way to success.

The drive-in theaters could try this, too. A big percentage of children are their patrons. There's a lot of good things in this world and the best things in life are free.

Also, my thanks to the groups of parents who are starting teenage recreation centers, and creators of some of the better television programs. I'm a grandmother of over a dozen.

Says Nation Could Profit From More 'Old Men'

In spite of the explosively vitriol tongue used by some politicians nowadays, it is comforting to know that our President considers his exalted office much too dignified to use vituperation of his political opponents. Long may he live!

If we could have more of the "old men" who possess, in a high degree, love of country, good common sense and sound judgment, how much this nation could profit.

Moscow Should Concede to Prove 'Friendship'

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower and Vice President Nixon teamed up this week like a pair of diplomatic chefs: they fried a lot of fish with their speeches before the American Bar Assn.

They left the Russians with no doubt — because the main theme of both speeches was identical — that this was a deliberate strategy agreed upon beforehand by the Eisenhower administration.

• • •

This was the main theme: In the upcoming negotiations between the United States and Russia, Moscow must prove its current friendliness by making concessions in the very fields where the Russians have declined to make them.

Eisenhower and Nixon called upon Russia to let Germany be unified, free the satellites, and end subversion in the non-Communist countries.

But the speeches served other purposes besides trying to put the Russians on the defensive before world opinion.

• • •

West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer goes to Moscow Sept. 9 and will ask the Russians to let East Germany be unified with the Western part. The Eisenhower-Nixon speeches give him moral support even though by themselves they can't get him what he wants.

At the same time they prepare people in this country against a disillusioning letdown if the negotiations with Russia make no progress and the only result is to leave East and West where they are now: talking peace, yielding nothing.

Case Records of a Psychologist

It's Not Easy to Compliment Enemies, but It Can Be Done If You Really Try

Dorrice has such a splendid idea that I am passing it on. If you unselfish folks wish to do a high type of "home missionary" work wherever you live, then hook your energy to the Compliment Club and you'll soon see actual miracles take pince that rival the transformation in Scrooge.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE

And I mean that literally, for she has already ordered 500 copies of the Compliment Club booklet.

"Dr. Crane, I am having more fun starting Compliment Clubs in Gadsden," she began, enthusiastically.

85 IN CLASS

"Then I have begun on my Sunday school class in the First Baptist Church. It has 85 members.

• • •

"I am giving every member 6 copies apiece and urging them to mail them to 6 friends in distant cities who are really active in the PTA organizations of their communities.

"Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's booklets and his 'Thought Conditioners' stress the same positive psychology which you express every day, so I have resolved to do something about making the world happier.

"Next term, I am planning to help start Compliment Clubs among all the children who enter first grade at school, for isn't that the best way to make them enjoy education?"

MISSIONARY WORK

Mrs. Donegan brings out an idea that millions of other unselfish women can readily imitate.

If you try to make your neighbors happy by buoying up their dejected spirits with an honest compliment, what more charitable act could you perform?

"Man does not live by bread alone," stated Jesus.

The human spirit or soul likewise needs to be nourished. Nothing does this more quickly than to employ the Golden Rule via the Compliment Club plan.

TRY FOR 30 DAYS

Then pay at least one honest compliment to each of three different people every day.

• • •

If you can keep up that fine record for 30 consecutive days, without a break, then I'll gladly sign your formal diploma for membership.

"But, Dr. Crane, I don't like some of my neighbors, so wouldn't it be insincere for me to compliment them?" you might ask.

Not at all! You can compliment an enemy just as sincerely as a friend. But not as easily, for you must force the praise across when you compliment a foe.

But a compliment is an honest statement of praise for some merit or virtue that the other person possesses. And enemies are not totally devoid of merit.

LOOK FOR GOOD

So if we resolutely look for good, even in our foes, we can find something nice about them, if it is only the fabric in their clothes or their pretty teeth.

• • •

Then pay them a compliment. Soon they will think you have good judgment and ultimately offer you a bit of praise in return.

For you cannot think ill of anybody who has shown that he thinks well of you.

So if you will "break the ice" first by offering the first compliment, you can thaw out your enemy and soon there'll be no more "ice" to break.

This is the only way by which you can fulfill Christ's admonition to "love your enemies." For you cannot control emotions by direct effort of your will.

But you can control your vocal cords and other muscles, so phrase compliments and, as Lincoln urged, "You can then destroy your enemies by making them your friends."

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long 3c stamped, self-addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.

Versatile Collie Catches Paper by 'Train Mail'

LOCUST VALLEY, N.Y. (AP) — Like many a dog, Rusty, a Collie, fetches her master's evening paper. She does it by sticking her head out a second-floor window.

The paper, neatly rolled and tied with a string, is tossed up to Rusty by a trainman of a passing Long Island Railroad train. She never misses.

Rusty's master Henry S. Whitney is a block signal operator.

"One time," he said, "a mean trainman threw an entire Sunday paper up. Rusty caught it and wouldn't let go. I grabbed her hind paws just as she was tumbling out the window."

Schmidt Tells of Red POW Horrors

DELAKE, Ore. (AP) — Airman Danny Schmidt, whose marital affairs have attracted widespread attention, has recounted from his honeymoon cottage here some of the rigors he underwent as a prisoner of the Chinese Communists.

A B29 gunner, he was taken prisoner in the Korean War Jan. 13, 1952, and was held captive 32 months.

* * *

While he was prisoner, his young wife Una, said she had married another man believing that Schmidt was dead.

Danny was reunited with his wife earlier this week and Gerry Pratt, a reporter for the Portland Oregonian traced them to a cottage at Delake, where the Schmidts went for a "second honeymoon."

Schmidt in a story by Pratt which was copyrighted by the Oregonian, told how he parachuted out of the plane after it was hit by a shell.

* * *

"I can't say what I did through the next 11 hours except that I followed survival instructions as they had been briefed to me earlier . . .

"The rest happened quickly. North Koreans picked me up in a field at 11 in the morning. They were a little rough before tieing me up and leading me off to a farm house . . .

"I was in three prisons—all just about the same. They were full of Chinese criminals. I didn't get to see a prisoner of war camp all the time I was in their hands.

"Chinese torture is mostly mental—but believe me it is effective. I guess things were a bit tougher on me than they needed to be because I did a lot of things in prison I wasn't supposed to. I spent three real long stretches in solitary confinement—but that wasn't much worse than my usual cell.

"I also did some time in another type of cell—one with very uncomfortable walls—but I don't think I can tell you about that," he said seriously. "The Air Force hasn't released that stuff yet and there are still a lot of Americans in those places. . . .

"In December '54 we got a few rumors that things were looking up for us. That's when we were let out for those volleyball pictures the Reds sent over. My hopes went up then—I had never quit hoping. In a place like that where you can't read or talk, all you can do is think. All I thought of was getting out. . . .

* * *

"We walked out of the prison together. It was 11 in the morning and they had given us most of our things back. . . . They (the guards) had been acting like it was a big joke the last couple of months. I guess they had to be friendly then.

"You know the rest," said Danny.

"I would like to get an education now. I had planned on going to university in Missoula, Mont., and studying wildlife. Tippy (Una) and I like the idea of going to live in the woods. I like to hunt and be outdoors."

Explosion Rocks Pittsburgh Plant

Static Electricity Sparks Blast in Chemical Drum Causing $350,000 Loss

PITTSBURGH (AP)—A large section of the Cargill Corp. chemical and oil plant near suburban Carnegie was destroyed last night by fire which folowed a series of violent explosions.

So intense was the heat and so dangerous were exploding drums of chemicals that firemen battled until early today before extinguishing the fire.

* * *

Flames and smoke shot high into the sky for more than three hours before the fire was pronounced under control.

Fire department officials estimated the loss at $350,000.

There were no casualties.

The first blast let loose in a 1,500 gallon resin thinning tank in the thinning department of the sprawling plant. Flames ignited three other big tanks. These contained about 5,000 gallons of naptha and resin.

Although firemen from 20 suburban departments kept the flames from spreading to the main plant they stood by helplessly as 55-gallon drums of various inflammables exploded. Thousands of spectators watched the blaze. The plant is about 10 miles southwest of midtown Pittsburgh.

* * *

Albert Bleakley, plant superintendent, said static electricity was believed to have set off the first explosion.

The area of the Sahara Desert of North Africa is estimated at 3½ million square miles—or about the area of Europe minus Scandinavia.

Ho, Speculator! – Here's a Risk

Czarist Bonds Mature in 1956; Communists May Redeem Sometime

LONDON (AP)—A drab little batch of old Czarist bonds is floating around the London Stock Exchange these days buoyed up by the slight de-icing of the cold war.

* * *

Speculators who rummage in these Russian issues of the old royal regime apparently work on the theory the Soviet government of Nikolai Bulganin and Nikita Khrushchev may some day pay off these bonds.

"They have nothing to lose but their bonds—and a little money," said one stockbroker.

* * *

The bonds were isued in 1906 simultaneously in St. Petersburg, now Leningrad, Amsterdam, Paris, Vienna and Budapest. The original prospectus of this 5 per cent issue said:

"The loan matures, at the latest, in May, 1956."

Back in 1952 there was a sale of the bonds at five shillings (70 cents) for each 500 pounds ($1,400) worth of the gilt edged, nicely designed paper. But last April when relations between East and West brightened, the price soared to 117 shillings sixpence ($16.34).

* * *

Then something happened. The bonds sagged. Today they can be bought for 80 shillings ($11.20)—very mobile, however, for a bond using only hope power.

State bonds are not the only Rusian long shots. In the mining section there are shares listed for Russian-Asiatic Consolidated, whose chief asset is reported to be a claim for 56 million pounds ($156,800,000) against the Soviet government. These shares can be bought for less than two pennies in American money.

Retires With Record

DETROIT (AP) — Detective Olen Beck reportedly never was tardy, absent or sick in 25 years with the Detroit police department. He retired yesterday and expects to keep up his good record in a new job with the security police of General Motors Corp. He was a track star for Michigan State Normal College before he graduated in 1930.

Holland Adopts Town

HOLLAND (AP)—The city of Holland has "adopted" floodswept Riverton, Conn., a village of about 600 persons, to receive emergency relief items collected Friday and Saturday. Mayor Robert Visscher, in an official proclamation, urged "citizens of Holland to donate articles of clothing, food and bedding to relieve suffering."

There's Always One Who Doesn't Hear the 'Scoop'

BERLIN (AP)—Somebody ought to tell the East German Communists about the new East-West friendship.

* * *

Peace is bustin' out all over since the Geneva summit conference and everything is smooth between the Russians and the Americans in sensitive Berlin.

But the German Communists don't seem to realize it. They chose this time to put on display one of the most harshly anti-American exhibits yet seen in the Soviet sector. It purports to show how the American Counterintelligence Corps sends "agents" into East Germany to commit acts of sabotage and espionage.

People's policemen guide visitors through the exhibit. Pamphlets assailing the CIC, the American radio RIAS and various anti-Communist organizations in West Berlin are on sale at 5 cents each.

Radios are exhibited with notices they were seized from "agents." Pictures of East Germans sentenced to death for acts against the state abound, including three men blamed for an explosion that took 48 lives in the Zwickau mine in 1952.

It is all supposed to be a huge propaganda puff for the efficiency of the East German security police.

Dynamite Blast Hurts Jokesters

Youths Badly Injured When Practical Prank Boomerangs

GALESBURG, Ill. (AP)—Two young men who set off dynamite as a prank to disrupt a girl's slumber party remained in critical condition today from injuries suffered in the blast.

* * *

John Roger Everly, 20, lost an arm and was temporarily, and possibly permanently, blinded. His companion, Gene Cooper, 18, lost part of his left hand and suffered leg and chest injuries.

The youths set off the dynamite Thursday night at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Tucker near Prairie City, 25 miles south of Galesburg. The elder Tuckers were not at home and their daughter, Marilyn had invited a group of girl friends to a party and to stay overnight as a farewell to her before she departed for her senior year at the University of Illinois.

* * *

The explosion, heard a half mile away, did no damage to the Tucker farmhouse but state policeman Hugh Erwin said it "turned the roots of a tree in the yard into jelly."

Downed Airman Is Hospitalized

TOKYO (AP)—Lt. Guy H. Bumpass was flown here from Seoul today with a severe compound skull fracture, suffered when he was shot down by Red Korean gunners near the demilitarized zone Aug. 17.

Today's announcement was the first official U.S. confirmation of the Communist claim that Bumpass had a fractured skull. Since his return from the Reds last Tuesday, U.S. Army doctors and Air Force information officers have said only that he had "head cuts." Bumpass has been isolated in a military hospital.

Col. W. S. Evans, information officer for Far East Air Forces headquarters in Tokyo, said he thought Bumpass would be sufficiently recovered to hold a news conference Tuesday.

* * *

The Air Force also announced today the flier had completely denied comments broadcast in his name over the Communist radio at Pyongyang, North Korea.

The comments were in high-flown, Communist-style language, with references to "American propaganda" and "burgeois publications."

Bumpass, whose home is in Jackson, Miss., was taken to the hospital of the Far East Air Material Command near Tachikawa. The Air Force, which has been unusually reticent about the flier and his condition, would not confirm he had left Seoul until nearly three hours after he landed in Japan.

* * *

Bumpass was flying a T6 trainer and spotting plane when he was shot down. His observer, Army Capt. Charles W. Brown, West Louisville, Ky., was killed. Brown's body is now in Yokohama, en route home. It was turned over to U.S. authorities the same time Bumpass was released.

Gotham Police Capture Washington Span 'Bird'

NEW YORK (AP) — It took four policemen an hour last night to induce 30-year-old Chester Daniels to come down off his perch 400 feet up in the superstructure of the George Washington Bridge.

Daniels, of Justell, Ky., said he left his wife to come to New York three weeks ago to seek work. Then, he said, he ran out of money.

After he was brought down in a bridge elevator, and taken to a hospital for observation, Daniels said he climbed the bridge "so I could talk to God."

A cooperative nursery for 3 and 4-year-olds is being set up at Temple Beth Jacob. Among those registering for the opening day on Sept. 15 are Johanna Becker, 4, who came with her mother, Dr. Anne W. Becker of the State Hospital grounds. Registering them is Mrs. Melvin Eller of James K boulevard. She is assisted by her 3-year-old son, Andrew. Mrs. Eller is director of the nursery which is sponsored by the young married people of the temple. The nursery will be known as Temple Beth Jacob Nursery School, Inc., and spokesmen say there are still openings.

Shirley Anne Kramer Becomes Bride

An ivory waltz-length gown of whisper taffeta was worn by Shirley Anne Kramer when she became the bride of Robert E. Alessi this morning in a double-ring ceremony.

* * *

The Rev. Michael J. O'Reilly married the couple before 100 guests at an 11 a.m. High Mass in St. Michael Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. N. Kramer of Jordon road and Robert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Alessi of East Pike street.

A scalloped shell-shaped headpiece of French illusion outlined in seed pearls secured the imported French silk illusion fingertip-length veil.

GOWNED IN PINK

Lois Kramer, sister of the bride, wore a waltz-length gown of rosy pink crystallette for her duties as maid of honor. Her petaled bodice fell into a bouffant skirt with a bustle bow.

* * *

The other attendants, Goldie Stamas and Mrs. Reginald Johnston, wore Nile green gowns identical to the maid of honor's. They carried old-fashioned nosegays of white daisy chrysanthemums and yellow roses with streamers.

The maid of honor's bouquet was of white chrysanthemums, pink roses and streamers. They wore scalloped headpieces of the same material as their dresses.

* * *

BREAKFAST AT INN

A wedding breakfast was served immediately following the ceremony at Rotunda Inn. For the afternoon garden reception at the home of the bride's parents, her mother wore a gown of blue lace over taffeta with navy blue accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations and yellow roses.

* * *

The bride changed to a navy blue rayon poplin suit with navy and white accessories for a honeymoon trip to Quebec and a tour of Ontario.

On their return the newlyweds will reside on East Pike street.

Shirley Anne Kramer exchanged nuptial vows with Robert E. Alessi this morning before an altar banked with white gladioli. She is the daughter of the L. N. Kramers of Jordon road, and the Joseph Alessis of East Pike street are his parents.

Extra Guest May Impose on Hostess

Requirement for Visiting Friends Is Good Taste

By EMILY POST

A man writes: "I was invited to a large cocktail party and buffet supper at the house of a business friend. As I am unmarried I assumed it was all right for me to bring a date, so I asked the young woman with whom I have been going for the past three months, to accompany me. When I arrived the host and hostess greeted me rather coldly and later the host took me aside and said that he had not counted on my bringing a friend.

"I have given many large parties and have had unmarried men and women friends bring along a date without asking permission and I never thought anything of it. Of course, if it had been a dinner I certainly would not have done this but a general type of party I did not think one guest more or less would make such a terrible difference. Will you please tell me if I was wrong?"

Answer: I am sorry but you were wrong unless your hosts had told you they would be glad to have you bring a friend—which, by the way—would have been very unusual.

"Dear Mrs. Post: One of the girls in our office is going to be married soon and it is customary to take up an office collection and buy the bride-to-be a present. The girl who is taking up the collection is very friendly with the bride-to-be and has suggested that we buy her a negligee, which she admired in one of the stores, for the wedding present.

"I think such a present is much too personal to give from an office group consisting of both men and women and that something for her future house would be in far better taste. We are awaiting your decision on this matter."

Answer: "I definitely agree with you.

He is photographed with one of his teachers, Mrs. Charles Zamek of Joangay avenue. Three-year-olds will be cared for on Tuesday and Thursday mornings, and the 4-year-olds will attend the school on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

Shared Love for Art Will Give Joy

By ANNE HEYWOOD

There is a new trend nowadays for parents and children to do things together, particularly in the line of arts and crafts. It seems to me that this is a healthy sign. Moreover, it is giving opportunities to some gifted women who might not otherwise have them.

* * *

Take, for example, Mrs. G., who is a painter and quite a good one. She studied for years at art school before her marriage and now, with two small children, she still continues her painting.

A LONELY BUSINESS

But it was a lonely and not very lucrative business, until recently. Almost nobody bought her paintings and she was too busy with her household duties to go to the city and get an agent or a gallery to represent her.

Actually, she didn't have enough canvases really finished to make it worthwhile to have someone handle her work.

Last year when Mrs. G.'s two children decided they would like to learn to paint with finger paints, she bought a set and started teaching them.

One of them did quite well and the other, though not particularly talented, had a whale of a good time.

One day, one of her friends asked Mrs. G if she would teach her son and insisted on paying a small fee. The son did so well that the mother soon asked if she could study, too — only she wanted regular sketching and charcoal lessons.

The word got around and, before long, Mrs. G. was swamped with children and their mothers — and an occasional father — who wanted to explore the fascinating world of painting. Mrs. G. and her husband turned the big basement of their house into an art class.

Then they put a small advertisement in a local paper, offering art lessons for parents and children.

REGULAR BUSINESS

She now has a regular home business, with classes three days a week and a good deal of private instruction.

She charges a very modest fee, but it does add up. Her home is a busy and happy headquarters and she is sharing her love and enthusiasm for art with many, many people. What used to be a lonely and somewhat wistful hobby is now an exciting and lucrative home business.

If you are looking for something to do at home, see if you haven't some skill which you could teach to children and their parents together.

Calkins Chapter of WCTU Holds Church Meeting

* * *

Mrs. Sadie Patten, state citizenship director, led the salute to the Christian and American flags and devotions were led by Mrs. L. H. Rubey.

September Set for Recruitment of Volunteers

Plans for Volunteer Recruitment Month were outlined when nine members of the advisory board of the Central Volunteer Bureau met yesterday morning at the YWCA.

* * *

Little more than a year old, the bureau now has requests for a number of volunteers to fill many types of positions.

With the United Fund drive coming in October, the bureau yesterday set September as Volunteer Recruitment Month.

There is an immediate need for six part-time typists for the United Fund drive. Requests from 14 other social and public services are being met as rapidly as possible but the bureau has only 63 registered volunteers.

* * *

Requests for speakers to tell of the bureau's function are being filled by members of the advisory board.

Mrs. Kellogg Wins Weekly Trophy

Mrs. Richard Kellogg won the weekly trophy at the Fashion Your Figure Club meeting last night.

Mrs. Joseph McLeod was appointed chairman of the style show the group will sponsor on Sept. 22.

Mary Pamela Scolaro Speaks Vows

At a 12 o'clock ceremony today in St. Hugo of the Hills Church, Mary Pamela Scolaro became the bride of Michael Allan Ryan.

* * *

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Scolaro Jr. of Walled Lake and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard J. Ryan of Westacres.

Her ballerina-length gown was fashioned with a Rose Pointe lace bodice, a V-neckline in back and front, and short scalloped sleeves. The torso waistline was accented by a silk taffeta sash and the skirt was of minutely pleated nylon tulle.

Her Juliet cap was trimmed with tiny seed pearls and she carried an arrangement of lilies-of-the-valley, ivy and stephanotis centered with a white orchid.

* * *

WEAR GREEN

Barbara Dill of Walled Lake and Mrs. Charles Schroeder of Detroit, the bride's other attendants, wore neptune green gowns and hats identical to the honor maid's. Their bouquets were gold chrysanthemums.

* * *

Patrick Ryan served as best man, and seating the guests were Joseph Scolaro, brother of the bride, and John Sills of Detroit.

A cocoa lace dress with a tiny matching pillbox hat was worn by the bride's mother. Her corsage of American beauty roses was fastened to her matching lace purse.

Mary Pamela Scolaro and Michael A. Ryan were married at noon today in St. Hugo of the Hills. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Scolaro Jr. of Walled Lake and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willard J. Ryan of Westacres.

MRS. MICHAEL ALLAN RYAN

Don't Build Hopes on Two Dates

By ELIZABETH WOODWARD

I got awfully mad at him one day, tore his ring off my finger and threw it in the lake. Never did find it again. And, goodness knows, I dove.

Then I took all his letters, tore them to shreds, and burned them with great ceremony in the back yard. (And spent all afternoon trying to piece together the charred remnants).

The minute both ring and letters were gone, I wanted them back. Like a child who howls when his balloon bursts.

But what's gone is gone. Particularly a boy friend. Yet how you wail that you want him back! You stubbornly refuse to realize that it's not likely or probable that he'll ever date you again. You think wanting him is enough to restore the old status quo. But you don't see things from his angle. And his angle can be quite interesting. As in this case:

"Dear Miss Woodward: I went steady with him for about three weeks, then I saw one of my ex-boy friends and decided I liked him better, so quit going with him. That was two weeks ago, and I know now that I made a big mistake. I really like the boy I went steady with. But he told my girl friend that once a girl quit him he never went back to her! I see him once in a while and we talk, but he never asks me for a date. How could I win him back?"

Answer: There you have a stubborn male, with a very rigid pride. He doesn't like having gates slammed in his face. He doesn't like being tossed out on his ear. And he's certainly not going to eat humble pie when it's dished out by a girl. He's too ruggedly masculine for that!

What did you do to him, after all? You belittled him, insulted him, trampled on his sensitive feelings, and wounded his vanity. Could he possibly be interested again in a girl who's capable of hurting him like that? Not likely.

You made a mistake. But there's no point in torturing yourself with constant reminders of same. You gave him up. So consider him gone!

How can you start the old pot boiling when your boy friend is too busy to think about you? It wasn't always like that. But these days he pays no attention. He might as well be gone forever. Like this boy.

"Dear Miss Woodward: Recently Bill became interested in me. He took me to a dance, the next week to a movie, and I spent a weekend with his family at their summer cottage. When I left he said he would be seeing me soon, but that was a month ago and I haven't heard from him since. I'm crazy about him. How can I get him back?"

Answer: You had a couple of dates with Bill and they were fun. You spent a wonderful summer weekend at his family's place. And it was fun. You want that fun to keep on coming regularly and often. You're looking for it to turn into something permanent. That's what you'd like.

But, obviously, Bill has other things on his mind. The summer has kept him busy. His life at the cottage is immediate, tangible, and more important than a girl who came and went. He's preoccupied and up to his ears. He may have time for you when he gets home and he sees you around.

You'd better bide your time, drag out your patience, and consider him temporarily out of the picture. Not necessarily gone forever, if you make the right impression on him when he gets home.

When it's convenient and easy, a boy can be nice to a girl. But when it becomes an effort, it's different. His indifference then can be colossal, even if he only lives up the block. As this boy does.

"Dear Miss Woodward: My boy friend was our paper boy and I always saw him when he delivered and collected. I had just three dates with him and my parents took us each time. He's never been romantic, yet everybody says he likes me. He told them so; and he gave me his ring, so we're supposed to be going steady.

"Since he quit the route I haven't seen or heard from him—and he only lives three blocks away! He could call, but he hasn't. Friends say they see him every day with time on his hands. Yet, he hasn't even thought of me. I guess it was I who was pursuing him. I'm giving him two more weeks—then if nothing happens, I'm going to return his ring by mail. Do you think I'm right?"

Answer: If you send his ring back, you're going to wish you hadn't. You'll then try every trick in the book to get it back for yourself.

Instead, try to imagine what's going on in his mind. It was easy and convenient and inevitable that you should see him every day for a while. But that reason no longer exists. The three dates you had with him were all initiated by you. Chase him? Maybe. But the girls have to do the asking when the boys aren't quite ready for real dates.

So, keep that ring on your finger, call him and ask him over. He doesn't come of his own accord because he's socially lazy. He's never come before of his own accord. Give him an excuse. Then he won't stay up the block forever.

Gladys Joyce Sznaider became the bride of Thomas J. McHugh this morning. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony T. Sznaider of Royal Oak, and he is the son of the Earl E. McHughs of Lakeland avenue.

MRS. THOMAS J. McHUGH

Couple Exchange Vows in Royal Oak Ceremony

Gladys Joyce Sznaider and Thomas J. McHugh were married this morning at a Nuptial High Mass in Shrine of the Little Flower. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony T. Sznaider of Royal Oak and he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl E. McHugh of Lakeland avenue.

* * *

The bride's gown of Chantilly lace with tulle over nylon net featured nylon appliques on the bouffant skirt and a chapel-length train. Tiny seed pearls adorned the bodice of the gown and the long lace sleeves were pointed at the wrists.

A fingertip veil fell from a Juliet cap covered with seed pearls. A pearl choker and pearl earrings were chosen by the bride as her jewelry. She carried a white orchid and lilies-of-the-valley on a white prayer-book with white satin streamers.

* * *

WHITE BOUQUETS

The bride's attendants all carried white colonial bouquets of chrysanthemums and carnations surrounding one large white chrysanthemum. The flower girl carried a silver basket filled with rose petals.

* * *

Richard E. McHugh served as his brother's best man. Richard Pfeffer and William C. Perkins were ushers and Donald Raymond, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

Three hundred guests will attend the reception being held this evening at the Royal Oak Elks Lodge. Mrs. Sznaider will receive the guests wearing an azure blue lace dress with a peach satin inset in the skirt, and white accessories.

Mrs. McHugh will wear a pink antique satin dress with matching jacket and accessories. Both mothers will wear corsages of white glamellias.

* * *

For a honeymoon trip to Nassau, the bride will change to a navy and white silk sheath dress trimmed in navy velvet. The newlyweds will make their home at Crescent Lake on their return.

John Cooper Adams of New York claimed Carlye Anne Scott as his bride this morning. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. Carleton Scott of Bloomfield Hills and Dr. and Mrs. Earl Hay Adams of Montreal.

MRS. JOHN COOPER ADAMS

Carlye A. Scott's Gown Features Heirloom Lace

BLOOMFIELD HILLS — At 11 o'clock this morning in St. James Church Garlye Ann Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. Carleton Scvott, was married to John Cooper Adams of New York.

He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Earl Hay Adams of Montreal and a grandson of Col. and Mrs. James Cooper of Westmount, Que.

* * *

Narrow bands of white linen accented the bodice and formed the cap which held her illusion veil. She carried white fleur d'amour and stephanotis.

Mr. and Mrs. Warren Hatch Maxfield of Providence, R.I., were the only attendants. Mrs. Maxfield wore aquamarine shantung with white glamellias in her hair and bouquet.

* * *

For her wedding trip to Canada and New England the bride wore a dark gray silk suit and black hat. They will live in New York City.

MR. AND MRS. DONALD G. HALLENBECK

An open house Sunday from 3 until 7 o'clock will honor Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Hallenbeck who are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary on that date. Arranging the affair that will be held at the Hallenbeck home on Ellwood avenue are their sons and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest MacManus, Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hallenbeck and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hallenbeck.

Straight Line Offers Chic, Simple Look

Designer Combines Smart Practicality in Creation

The 1955 Neiman Marcus fashion award winner, Tom Brigance, is one of America's foremost designers. He combines the practical and the chic that give a thoroughly American look to clothes.

Here is a street or business dress that typifies his styling. It's in the current new fashion mood for fall with the straight line skirt and the square neckline. The double breasted buttoned front can be worn open — if desired. The belt is buttoned at the center back. The original model was made in wool crepe — but it's also excellent in linen — novelty cottons — shantung — faille or silk.

* * *

Making arrangements for the party were Bob Graham, Mr. and Mrs. William Hard, John Radenbaugh Jr. and Mrs. Paul Colton.

Among those honored were Nila Tompkins, John Boaz, Janet McColl, Bob Graham, Gene Thompson, John Radenbaugh Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown, Bob Dunn, Doug McColl and Carole Lewis.

* * *

Mrs. John Heitsch Heads Golf Group

Mrs. John Heitsch was elected president of the Fairway Club at a meeting Thursday at Pontiac Country Club.

Others elected to office for next year were Mrs. Oscar Lawson, vice president; Mrs. Lee Lysinger, secretary, and Mrs. Ray Hoover, treasurer.

Completed plans for the club's annual award party were announced by Mrs. Heitsch, party chairman. The affair, which is slated for Sept. 8, will be held at the Sylvan Glen Golf Coub.

Water Skiers Will Sponsor Dance Tonight

Their first annual Ski Show Dance is being given by the Sylvan Water Ski Club of the Oakland County Boat Club this evening at 9 o'clock.

* * *

A well-known band will furnish the music for the affair being held at the boat club. Decorations will include water skis, saucers and nautical equipment furnished by the skiers.

The club has extended a special invitation to all skiers, and the public is welcome. Admission is free.

On Sunday at 1 p.m. all ski club members will participate in a four-hour water ski show on Sylvan Lake.

* * *

According to cochairmen Jack Gilson and Jerry Brace, the show will include slalom skiing, saucer riding, mixed doubles, tricks and jumping.

Patricia Layland Wed at Cranbrook

BIRMIGHAM — Patricia Mae Layland, daughter of Mrs. Russell W. Layland of Glenhurst drive and the late Mr. Layland, was married this afternoon at Christ Church Cranbrook to Donald Earle McLean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter A. McLean of Crown Point, Ind.

* * *

Patty's gown was a summery creation of white organdy with an off-shoulder neckline, outlined in lace, and tiny sleeves. The full skirt ended in a sweep train, and a small cap of seed pearls held a fingertip veil. Her bouquet was of white carnations and stephanotis.

Marlene Lindsey of Washington, Ind., was maid of honor wearing a white organdy gown dotted in green with a green ribbon girdle and ribbon hat. She carried yellow glamellias and ivy.

Bridesmaids included Nancy June Seigfried of Glasgow, Ky., Phyllis Peterson of Chesterton, Ind., Bonnie McLean of Crown Point, Ind., and Sandra Fischer. They were gowned like the honor maid.

* * *

CHOOSE LINEN

Mrs. Layland wore a beige linen gown and small hat. Her flowers were a spray of green cymbidium orchids. Mrs. McLean wore blue linen with matching accessories.

A reception was given at Orchard Lake Country Club.

They will live in Blumington, Ind., where Mr. McLean will complete his senior year at Indiana University.

MRS. DONALD E. McLEAN

Patricia Mae Layland, daughter of Mrs. Russell W. Layland of Birmingham and the late Mr. Layland, became the bride of Donald Earle McLean this afternoon. He is the son of the Walter A. McLeans of Crown Point, Ind.

National Magazine Views Work of Billy Graham

Though Billy Graham has drawn larger crowds and recorded more "decisions for Christ" than any other preacher of modern times, many have wondered whether the Graham crusades have a lasting effect.

What has happened to the crusades' converts? What remains of the zeal which was stirred among so many preachers and churches? Was the net result "mostly just another show," as novelist J. B. Priestley opined?

Writing in the September Reader's Digest, Stanley High reports on a trip to England taken expressly to check on th continuing effect of Graham's preaching, a year after his three-months crusade at London's Harringay Arena.

"A surprisingly large number of converts are carrying on," he writes. "The dedication and zeal aroused at Harringay, far from waning after a year, are on the increase." The influential British Weekly, notably neutral on Graham, polled a cross-section of British clergy on "What's Left of Harringay?" It found that, among non-church members converted at Harringay, 64 per cent are still attending church and taking part in church life regularly.

The Digest author talked to converts as well as to the clergy. A buyer in a London store, an ex-Communist factory worker, a labor-union official, a food manufacturer and a doctor—among others—all of whom had been skeptical before hearing Graham, were convinced of the validity of his message and have retained their convictions.

Returning to London last May, Graham spoke to Wembly Stadium for seven nights. Notwithstanding that on five nights of the week a cold rain swept his audience, more than 400,000 people came to hear him.

Youth Work Director Will Address Bethany Baptist Congregation

Giving the message Sunday morning in Bethany Baptist Church will be Miss Reita Smith, director of Christian education.

Miss Smith who had been a public school teacher holds degrees in education and the Science of Christian education.

During the summer months she has directed one of the junior high camps at Green Lake, Wis., and served as director of Michigan Baptist Camp at Lake Louise. She also was teacher of camp leaders at the Detroit Baptist Camp at Lapeer.

Church Property Value in U.S. Is Increasing

NEW YORK (RNS) — The value of church property in the United States has increased by more than $2,600,000,000 in the past five years to a total of $7,846,000,000, it was estimated here.

The report was made in the current bulletin of the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel Inc. which placed the 1950 value as $5,235,000,000. The gain over the five-year period was 49.66 per. cent.

Predicting that the outlay for new church buildings would continue at about the same rate for at least the next ten years, the association estimated that the value of such property in 1965 would be $13,000,000,000.

A fleet of 15 private railway cars, staffed by clergymen, once served as rolling churches in the then thinly populated west.

Huguenots Study Here

NEW YORK (RNS)—Two French Huguenot high school students arrived here for a year of study in the United States made possible by the sale of hundreds of tiny crosses by young people of 11 Protestant churches in New Rochelle, N. Y. They are Denise Beauvois, 18, and Michel Renut, 13, of La Rochelle, France.

Confident Living

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

A couple of years ago I addressed a meeting in a certain city, after which a man came up to me and introduced himself as the mayor of a neighboring town.

* * *

"I'd always wanted to be in politics and I finally got a chance to run for mayor of our small city," he said. "I didn't think I'd be elected, frankly. But somehow I got in. And now that I am mayor, I realize that I'm not fitted for the job. I just don't know enough. I guess everything my opponent said about me in the campaign is true—and even more. How can I get some confidence in myself?" was his honestly troubled question.

DR. PEALE

So I asked him, "How do you know you aren't fitted to be mayor of your city? Maybe God called you to be mayor."

He looked surprised. "Does the Lord call people to be mayors?"

"Every occupation in life should be thought of as God's calling," I replied. "In the case of a public servant, the voice of the people is the voice of God. He selected you out of all the people in your city to be mayor, and He will see you through if you seek to do His will and trust Him."

"I'm not a religious man," he told me, "and it is difficult to feel that I could be singled out to implement the Divine purposes. But I will try to feel that, as mayor, I am called to serve God in that capacity."

As it happened, just before I had gone to this meeting, I had picked up the Gideon Bible in my hotel room. Opening the book at random, I saw the Twenty-second Chapter of the Book of Job. And my eye lit upon part of one verse. This is what it said, "If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up." As I talked to this troubled mayor, those words seemed a message for him. They mean, of course, that if you return to God, He will lift you above your inadequacies and build you up to whatever strength and insight are necessary in meeting your responsibilities adequately.

I told this to the mayor. He looked at me with obvious interest and I could see that the Scripture passage had gripped him. "That's tremendous," he said, "I get the idea."

GOD'S MESSAGE

Later he wrote to me: "That was certainly a message from God. And by letting that faith work within me, I finally gained the self-confidence I needed. That doesn't mean I did not have to work and study awfully hard. God helps them who help themselves."

If you, too, need to achieve self-confidence, take a pencil and paper now and write those words down: "If thou return to the Almighty, thou shalt be built up." And, more important, inscribe them on your mind. Commit them to memory. They have power in them. Use these words from the Bible to remind you of the great creative truth that, through faith, you can be built up to all the strength and wisdom that you require.

* * *

One of the greatest personal problems of our time is the feeling of inadequacy so many have. It is at the root of much mental illness and unless overcome, can result in your becoming that one who in each ten persons, as Dr. Karl Menninger of the Menninger Clinic points out, suffers some form of mental trouble.

Just as the great vaccine developed by Dr. Jonas Salk offers hope for freedom from the dread disease of infantile paralysis, there is also a "spiritual vaccine" which often prevents that mental distress which causes breakdowns. This is an "injection" of creative faith into the mind.

How easy it would be if a doctor could treat the inferiority complex by giving the patient an injection of faith. Well, nothing is easy in this life, and getting the quality of faith that counteracts inadequacy feelings requires time, patience, prayer and much trying. But, by persistence in the practice of faith attitudes, substituting positive for negative thoughts, you can ultimately recondition your mind and gain self-confidence.

"If thou return to the Almighty," the Bible tells us, is the secret of making yourself adequate to meet life successfully. People who humbly and sincerely live by faith attain that self-confidence which gives victory over life's difficulties.

Oakland County Group Will Hold Monthly Rally at Mandon Lake

The Oakland County Youth Fellowship will hold its monthly rally at the Mandon Lake Community Church tonight at 7:30.

The church is located just north of Cooley Lake Rd. on Round Lake Rd., about 10 miles west of Pontiac.

Featured at the rally will be talent from area churches, including Ron Carpenter, trumpeter; Harry Herriman, trombonist; of Mandon Lake. Others will be Ruth Ann Smith, soloist, Stone Baptist Church and Peggy Proctor, flute soloist from First Baptist Church in Pontiac.

The film, "Born to Live", a production of the nationally known Word of Life Hour, will be shown.

Bob Gavette of Marimont Baptist Church will lead the rally and the Rev. Dorr Fockler is host pastor. Refreshments will follow the rally to which young people of the area are invited.

Dial-a-Prayer Phone Service Proves Popular

NEW YORK (RNS) — Dial-a-prayer inspirational services have proved so popular they are being operated in an increasing number of cities by churches and YMCA's.

The latest groups to launch such a telephone service are Central Church of Christ in Nashville, Tenn., and First Presbyterian church at Orlando, Fla.

* * *

The Orlando church heard about a similar installation at Hitchcock Memorial (Presbyterian) church in Scarsdale, N. Y. The Nashville congregation undertook the service as a result of the success of a similar one at Central Church of Christ in Houston, Tex.

Churches or YMCA's also are furnishing the recorded messages in Chicago, Baltimore, Los Angeles, New York and Paterson, N.J.

Students Help Indian Children

NETT LAKE, Minn. (RNS) — Twenty-one college students spent eight weeks helping children at America's most isolated Indian reservation here—in the north woods 35 miles from the Canadian border.

They took part in a "work camp" sponsored by the American Friends Service Committee and the Minnesota Council of Churches.

The campers paid to help others —$135 each for the eight weeks at the camp. They lived at the school on the reservation.

In the group were young people from Sweden, Germany, Denmark and Spain. The American students, members of about a dozen denominations, came from 15 colleges and universities over the country.

As a result of the camp, many of the Indian children have known continuing love, affection and interest in them for the first time in their lives, according to Garnet Guild, Des Moines, director of the project for the American Friends Service Committee.

Many children at Nett Lake, she explained, have grown up in homes where the father is a chronic alcoholic. Discipline has been nonexistent. Some have not known what cleanliness is. Most of them never owned a toothbrush—until the campers came.

Twelve Clerics Do Work in Mental Hospital

WILLMAR, Minn. (RNS) — Nine Lutheran ministers and three seminary students are getting a good idea of what it's like to be a patient in a mental hospital.

Before they did anything else after their arrival, each of them became a "patient" for a day at and seminarians were scattered around the hospital — in the receiving unit, in the disturbed wards and with the seniles.

They ate what the patients ate; sat when they sat and followed their routine and actions as closely as possible.

Details for Merger Are Being Mulled

DETROIT (AP) — A resolution recommending appointment of a commission to work out details for a proposed merger of the Univesalist and Unitarian denominations was scheduled for presentation today before the biennial convention of the Council of Liberal Churches.

The resolution will urge merger details be worked out before the next biennial convention.

The proposed merger has been under study for years. Some departments of the two denominations already have been joined.

Dr. Malcolm S. Knowles, an adult education leader, told convention delegates yesterday that liberal churches "have a real opportunity to serve as laboratories of self-confidence, in which are produced for socity the self-confident citizens it so urgently needs."

School May Become Bible Research Center

The International Greek New Testament Project has moved to the campus from the University of Chicago.

Dr. Ernest Colwell, a director of the project and dean of faculties at Emory, said the work of the Bible center will eventually result in additional New Testament translations.

A major project of the center, which has the most complete collection of original New Testament manuscripts in the world, will be the compilation and publication of these manuscripts.

French archeologist Jean Perrot has discovered at Beersheba in southern Israel the remains of what is believed to be an idolatrous shrine denounced by the prophet Amos. (Amos 5:5).

Trinity Baptists to Have State Convention Here

The Wolverine Baptist State Convention will hold its annual session next week in Trinity Baptist Church. The Rev. Richard H. Dixon is host pastor.

This convention covering over 300 Baptist churches in Michigan is headed by Dr. E. L. Todd with Dr. C. H. Hicks as secretary.

About 1,600 delegates are expected at sessions starting Monday for young people and followed by adult groups.

Tuesday at 8 p.m. the choirs of Trinity under the direction of Levi Eubanks, will present a public concert. Mrs. Eugene Rush, Mrs. Pecola Burns, pianists and Mrs. Sarah Lawrence, organist, will accompany the group. Guest soloists will include Mrs. Laura Crawford Price and Mrs. Edna Horace.

Remarks will be given by the mayor, William Donaldson; Chief of Police Herbert Straley; the Rev. Carl W. Nelson, Pontiac Pastors' Association; and the Rev. J. Allen Parker, Oakland County Ministerial Fellowship.

Friday at 11 a.m. Dr. Milton H. Bank of Central Methodist Church will speak and at 8 p. m. Dr. E. Franklin Fisher of Atlanta, Ga., dean of the National Sunday School and BTU Congress will address the group.

REV. PETER VAN LIEROP

Oakland Ave. U.P. Hears Missionaries

At the 7:30 p. m. service Sunday in Oakland Avenue United Presbyterian Church, the Rev. and Mrs. Peter Van Lierop will show pictures and tell of their work in Korea.

Mrs. Van Lierop is the former Eleanor Creswell and with her husband and family they are returning to Korea after a furlough here.

Ike Helps Italian Nuns to Become U.S. Citizens

WASHINGTON, D.C. (RNS) — President Eisenhower signed a bill permitting three Italian Roman Catholic nuns who operate a day nursery for the children of working mothers in Paterson, N.J., to remain in the United States and become citizens.

They are Sisters Luigia Pellegrino, Sister Angela Nicastro, and Sister Luigina Di Martino, members of the Daughters of Charity of the Most Precious Blood.

A bill on their behalf was sponsored by Rep. Gordon Canfield (R-NJ) who said that the St. Michael Junior Day Nursery "situated in a low wage area is most essential to the community."

"These families could never afford to send their children to private institutions or hire maids to tend to their children," he told the House. "The sisters are doing a very necessary work of charity, a work that is essential to the city of Paterson."

Baha'i Assemblies to Prepare Protests

According to a release from Baha'i Press Service, 112 Linden Ave., Wilmette, Ill. atrocities inflicted upon Baha'is in Iran are being documented. This is in preparation for an appeal to the United Nations by the Baha'i International Community. The statement was made by Horace Holley, secretary of the National Baha'i Assembly there.

Twelve national assemblies throughout the world are represented in this documentation.

This action, Mr. Holley charges, has been made necessary by daily, widespread acts of brutal repression occurring throughout the Iranian provinces.

Seminary Will Start Second Year Sept. 12 at Emmanuel Baptist

The Midwestern Baptist Seminary will begin its second year in Pontiac Sept. 12. The seminary is presently under the direction of the executive committee and the board of trustees. Dr. Tom Malone is president and founder.

The seminary is located in the south wing of Emmanuel Baptist Church and School on South Telegraph road.

A fellowship of fundamental Baptist bodies it is a corporation not for profit, a work of faith, a center of evangelism and fundamental orthodox Bible teaching with premillenial emphasis, according to the president.

Enrollment in the Christian day school has reached its capacity, but there is still room for new students at the seminary.

REV. R. H. DIXON

Recently returned from a European trip, the Rev. Richard H. Dixon will occupy his pulpit in Trinity Baptist Church Sunday for the 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. services.

But . . . Would CHRIST Call You A Christian?

There is an amazing difference of opinion today as to what constitutes a real Christian.

One man regards himself as a good Christian because he applies the Golden Rule to everyday living. Another professes to be a follower of Christ even though he believes only part of the Savior's teaching. And some who call themselves Christian even go so far as to reject his divinity.

Too many people, unfortunately, are setting up their own standards of Christian character and Christian living . . . forgetting that Christ Himself set these standards for us.

The result is that many sincere people are confused . . . and are deceiving themselves with a minimum, or "so-so" kind of Christian living.

The Catholic Church teaches that the mere belief in Christ is not enough. For if it were, why did Christ take the trouble to show us by precept and example how we should live? Nor can we regard His teachings as just a social doctrine . . . subject to our individual amendments . . . when He made it so plain that our very salvation depends on living as He prescribes, not as we choose.

If you want to find out how good a Christian you really are, read—and read again and again—Christ's Sermon on the Mount. And if you read only the introduction . . . including the Beatitudes . . . you should realize how far short of Christ's standards are the standards which men set for themselves.

Perhaps you may feel that the ideals voiced by the Savior nearly 2,000 years ago cannot be applied in our modern times. And possibly you will not understand the practical meaning of Christ's references to "the meek," or "the poor in spirit," or "they who hunger and thirst for justice." In that case, we are happy to help you—without cost or obligation.

Free

We shall be glad to send you free on your request, an interesting pamphlet explaining the meaning of the words Christ used in the beginning of the Sermon on the Mount . . . and how you can apply them to achieve a fuller, richer Christian life. Write today for your free copy. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-29.

'Blackboard Jungle' Taken From Trials

VENICE, Italy (AP)—The "Blackboard Jungle," a realistic American movie portraying young hoodlums in revolt against high school authority, has ben withdrawn from the Venice International Film Festival.

* * *

The action was taken last night by the American festival delegation and immediately kicked up a protest in Hollywood.

The U.S. delegation said it would substitute "Interrupted Melody" for "Blackboard Jungle" in the film competition. No official reason was given, but one member of the delegation said the action was taken because the movie gave an "unflattering and unrealistic view of American school life."

* * *

Crackdown to Employ Unmarked Police Cars

MUSKEGON (AP)—Muskegon County law enforcement agencies say they will use unmarked police cars and police in plain clothes in a crackdown on traffic violators.

The crackdown is scheduled to get under way immediately after Labor Day—Sept. 5.

State Police and the sheriff's department have agreed to cooperate in the drive with the police departments of Muskegon, Muskegon Heights, Muskegon Township, Whitehall, Fruitport, Montague, Roosevelt Park and Delton Township.

Allen Park Police Chief Approves Lie Tests

DETROIT (AP)—Police Chief Marvin Driver of Allen Park says his 40-man police force will volunteer for lie detector tests, if necessary, in the investigation of a $2,421 shortage in traffic fine money.

Driver made the statement yesterday after the Village Council recommended the Village Safety Commission authorize the tests.

The shortage was made public a month ago.

Korean Housewives Join Anti-Red Protest March

SEOUL (AP)—Some 3,000 Korean housewives and schoolgirls today marched past the American Embassy as part of continuing demonstrations against Communist truce inspectors.

They shouted "Communist spies get out of Korea" and carried banners bearing the same slogan.

New Consumers Building

LUDINGTON (AP) — Consumers Power Co., has started work on a service center building which will occupy part of a 25-acre tract of land at the city limits. The project includes a service building with about 7,500 square feet of floor area, a pole yard with rail spur track and storage facilities for heavy equipment used by the firm.

Iron Horse Bolts Going Out to Pasture

PITTSBURGH, Aug. 26 (AP)—The Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad told today about a steam locomotive that wouldn't go to the scrap heap without a final protest.

The old iron horse was part of a 69-car train being towed to the scrap yard at nearby Glassport yesterday. The engine jumped the track and pulled off five cars before the train was stopped.

That tied up traffic for several hours but repair crews got the locomotive into the scrap yard.

UM Center Will Offer Peace Atom Courses

BATTLE CREEK (AP)—The University of Michigan Extension Center will offer for the first time this fall an 8-week lecture course on the uses of atomic energy for industrial purposes.

The course, scheduled to start Sept. 28, is designed to acquaint practicing engineers with the latest development and potential uses of nuclear energy.

Hollywood Headlines

Tarzan Will Make Leap Into Television This Fall

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Texas may have its oil wells and Utah its uranium but Hollywood's greatest money producer is still Tarzan.

The fabulous ape man hits the television screens this fall in what could be the most lucrative field yet for Tarzan. It was just 43 years ago that the late Edgar Rice Burroughs, who had failed at a score of other enterprises, wrote a tale of the African jungle, the mechanics of which were simple.

* * *

Into the jungle Burroughs sent an English nobleman and his wife. He killed them off as soon as he had blessed them with a baby boy. An ape reared the boy and made Burroughs a multi-millionaire.

Gordon Scott, the 11th movie Tarzan, will also do the TV films. Scott, unlike Burroughs and the great majority of his predecessors, has been to Africa.

* * *

Scott, a muscular ex-life guard who wears a size 51 jacket, just returned from film making with 14 different tribes in Kenya (heart of the Mau Mau uprisings), Tanganyiki, Uganda and the Belgian Congo.

Most of the tribesmen had never heard of the movies and are among a minority of the world's people who had never heard of Tarzan. The Tarzan stories have been translated into 56 languages but Burroughs used to like to tell that he had bank accounts everywhere in the world except in deepest Africa.

* * *

Scott, a native of Portland, Ore., was in Africa to shoot scenes for "Tarzan and the Lost Safari," the 31st Tarzan movie and the first to be shot in big screen and color. He also filmed several of the television shows there.

The Tarzan movies are the biggest moneymakers abroad. Some of the ones Johnny Weissmuller made 10 years ago are still running in theaters there. Scott said he was thrilled to find thousands of people waiting outside his hotel in European capitals.

"In Beverly Hills," he laughs, "the people think I'm just another actor who needs a haircut."

Fire Festival Fixed

GRAND RAPIDS (AP) — The city fire department plans a fire-fighting "Circus" Oct. 15 that is expected to be the largest demonstration of its kind in Grand Rapids history. The event is planned in conjunction with National Fire Prevention Week, Oct. 9-15.

Fire Chief Frank H. Burns says the "circus" will include specially clad firemen walking through flame, aerial equipment demonstrations, free rides for youngsters on a 1917 fire engine and other entertainment.

Open Separate Schools

ALLENDALE (AP) — Allendale Township school district will operate seven separate schools of one grade each until the new consolidated school building is completed in December. The 1-grade schools are planned to avoid having pupils change teachers when the switch to the new building is made.

Actor Hayden Sheds 'Hen Pecking' Wife

LOS ANGELES (AP) — He-man actor Sterling Hayden has divorced his wife — who is exactly 12 inches shorter than he — with the explanation that she henpecked him.

"She tried to dominate me completely," Hayden, 39, told Superior Court yesterday. He said that his wife of eight years, Betty, 33, a former Pasadena, Calif., society figure, tried to "dictate who should be my friends and order my social and business conduct."

She did not contest his suit, which charged mental cruelty. Hayden retains custody of their three young children, and Mrs. Hayden for the next four years will get 30 per cent of the actor's income, estimated at $100,000 a year.

Fatal Freak Accident

LINARES, Chile (AP) — A truck roled over a precipice and dropped onto a house near here yesterday, killing the two truck occupants and crushing to death three persons in the residence.

Gotham Officials Prove Sympathy by Relaxing Rule

NEW YORK (AP)—Cemetery and health officials waived the rules yesterday to alow a grief-stricken soldier to get a last look at his dead father.

Nicholas Prestigiacomo, A. 2.C stationed in Korea, was granted a 30-day leave Tuesday to return home when he learned his father, Joseph, 54, was critically ill.

Services were over when he reached the cemetery but the grave had not yet been covered. Nicholas begged that the coffin be opened for a final glimpse of his father's face.

* * *

After the wish was granted, the young man sobed in his mother's arms. She told her son:

Children of Soldiers to Get Salk Vaccine

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP) — The U.S. Army announced today it would offer Salk antipolio vaccinations to servicemen's children from five to nine years old in the European Command beginning Sept. 6.

The vaccine, provided by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, will be administered on a voluntary, no-fee basis. Parents must signify their consent in writing and be present at the time of inoculation.

Michigan Fights Patent Decision

State Filing Argument Against Reflector Firm to Save Royalty Levy

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh said today the state will intervene in a patent suit in an attempt to save taxpayers $25,000 a year.

Kavanagh said he had applied for leave to file a brief in behalf of the state in an appeal filed in the United States Court of Appeals in Richmond, Va.

The appeal stems from a finding by the U. S. District Court at Baltimore that the Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing Co. has a valid patent on mixing transparent glass beads with reflected paint.

The State Highway Department says it has used the mixture for years for pavement markings.

Kavanagh said a State Highway Department employe testified at the district court trial that Michigan used the formula years before the patent was granted.

The state uses about 100,000 gallons of the mixture a year, paying a royalty of 25 cents per gallon.

Adolph Hitler's Car on Exhibit Here Next Week

Adolph Hitler's famed armored Mercedes-Benz automobile will be exhibited for three days next week in front of the Court House.

The public is invited to see the historical car Monday through Wednesday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. Proceeds will go to Cook-Nelson Post 20 of the American Legion, sponsor of the exhibit.

The car was brought to this country in 1948 by a Chicago man who settled for the vehicle in lieu of money in a business transaction. Until 1953, the car was shown at Rockefeller Center in New York.

Since then, the car has been in more than 500 cities from Maine to Florida and west to Colorado, according to A. J. Barry, business manager of Exhibits, Inc.

Hitler personally supervised the construction of the car which has doors weighing 400 pounds each and one-and-one-quarter inch bullet-proof windows.

Louisiana is the wettest of all the states. The average annual rainfall amounts to 55.11 inches, according to the U.S. Weather Bureau.

Integrated Schools Advocate Yells 'Foul'

BIG SPRING, Tex. (AP)—A prompt appeal of a district court decision which would allow nonsegregated public schools to collect Texas State school funds was promised today.

Ross Carlton, Dallas attorney and counsel for the Texas Citizens Council which brought the suit, said the case would be appealed all the way to the U. S. Supreme Court if necessary.

Judge Charles Sullivan yesterday refused a council request to stop the Big Spring Independent School District from integrating its white and Negro classes and block use of state school money in the nonsegregated school districts.

The ruling was the first test of the complicated Gilmer-Aikin Texas Public School laws which call for state aid on a separated, segregated Negro-white basis.

State Fair Job Puts Official in the Pink

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Hal L. Royce of Austin, Ind., arrived to take over as head of the State Fair cattle department and immediately broke out in a rash.

He's allergic to cattle, he explained.

Tribe Seeking Tie

Sends Score Against NY in Final of 3-Tilt Set

CLEVELAND (AP)—Pressing for a first place tie in the American League pennant race, Cleveland's Indians take on the New York Yankees today in the finale of a three-game set.

* * *

That also would gain the Indians the distinction of being the first team to wrest a season series from the Yankees in Casey Stengel's 7-year term as manager.

* * *

Last night's 5-2 triumph was the Indians' 11th victory in 19 meetings this season with New Yorkers, who won the opener Friday by the same score. After today, the two squads square off for their final encounter, a doubleheader in Yankee Stadium Sept. 11.

Picked to mount the Cleveland mound today was Herb Score, who flaunts a strikeout total of 194, and needs only six more to become the first major league pitcher to fan 200 since 1946, when another Indian, Bob Feller, wiffed 348.

* * *

In last night's contest, the Tribe clipped 12 hits off loser Tommy Byrne. Three of them were by Ferris Fain, who drove in two runs.

* * *

Bob Lemon allowed nine hits, including the Yankees' only runs, a fifth-inning homer by Phil Rizzuto and a home run in the ninth by Gil McDougald. Registering his 14th victory against eight defeats, Lemon was helped in the ninth by Ray Narleski, who was in for the last two putouts.

Hoeft Switches Pitches, Fans Ted for Key Out

DETROIT (AP)— The wheel of chance swung in favor of the Detroit Tigers yesterday in their scrambling 5-4 victory over the Boston Red Sox.

With the Tigers holding a precarious one-run lead in the 9th, the picture of a game-tying home run flashed through everyone's mind when Williams stepped to the plate. But Hoeft fired six straight curve balls to get the big slugger on an infrequent 3rd strike.

"It was the 1st time I had ever struck him out," beamed Hoeft. "That goes for this season or any season. Spring training, too."

Let House explain it:

"Before the game, we decided to pitch him nothing but fast balls on the outside. We know you can't fool him all the time but if the ball is on the outside, there's less of a chance that he'll pull it.

"But in the 9th we took a chance and switched. I called for six straight curve balls. I guess we fooled him."

It is recalled that only last Wednesday Steve Gromek also took a chance, and wound up losing a heartbreaking 3-2 decision to the New York Yankees.

Hoeft scrambled all afternoon against the Red Sox, but he got the big out when it was needed.

Boston outhit the Tigers, 11 to 10, but the Red Sox left 11 runners stranded. Hoeft was in trouble in every inning except the 6th, but kept wiggling free.

Sammy White and Jimmy Piersall bruised the slender southpaw for home runs, but both came with the bases empty. Tigers streaked into a 5-2 lead in the 5th inning, and Hoeft nursed it the rest of the way.

Bill Tuttle led the Tigers with his 12th home run and a pair of doubles, knocking in two runs and scoring two.

Boston used five pitchers, with Bill Henry, the 2nd, getting the loss.

The Tigers broke a 2-2 tie with a pair of runs in the 4th on Tuttle's double and a single by Earl Torgeson. A trio of singles by Jim Delsing, Hoeft and Harvey Kuenn made it 5-2 in the 5th. Then Hoeft held on for his 13th victory.

Tribe Slides Past Sox

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

If the Cleveland Indians can win when they're crippled, how's anybody going to beat 'em when they get healthy?

Manager Al Lopez, who's marveled all year at how his Tribe has managed to stay up close in the American League pennant race, was without three of his big guys again last night, yet the Indians smacked the New York Yankees 5-2 and climbed back into second place.

The victory upped the Tribe to within one game of the first place Yanks carrying them past Chicago who tripped to third with a 10-0 pasting by Washington. The White Sox, only 1½ games back despite three straight defeats were held to just two hits by Pedro Ramos, a 20-year-old righthander.

Cleveland was without Larry Doby (pulled thigh muscle), Gene Woodling (bruised ribs) and Vic Wertz (polio), yet battered Tommy Byrne, usually a tough gent for the Tribe to handle, for 12 hits in seven innings.

Ferris Fain, a castoff with a bum knee, subbed for Wertz and had three hits good for two RBIs. Hoot Evers, just off the hospital list himself, replaced Doby and had two hits, scoring once.

Bob Lemon, another ex-casualty, scattered nine Yankee hits in the meantime and took his 14th victory, although Ray Narleski had to get the last two outs. Phil Rizzuto and Gil McDougald homered for the Yank runs.

The White Sox, tired from three doubleheaders in four days, managed only a fourth-inning double by Minnie Minoso, who ran his hitting streak to 19 games and a single by Jim Rivera in the ninth off Ramos. The 6-foot Cuban, only 4-8 for the season, walked only two and struck out three.

In the other AL games, Detroit knocked fourth place Boston farther into the background 5-4 while Kansas City edged Baltimore 3-2 on Enos Slaughter's eighth-inning home run.

The National League race smacked Brooklyn 4-2, cutting the Dodgers' lead to 10 games—the shortest spread since their 9½-game edge June 10—over Milwaukee's Braves, who whipped New York 7-1.

St. Louis kept Philadelphia from replacing the Giants in third place 4-1 and Chicago snapped a seven-game losing streak 6-3 at Pittsburgh.

Pierce Ready Despite Only Three-Day Rest

CHICAGO (AP)—Billy Pierce, Chicago's stylish southpaw, said today he's ready to pitch against the New York Yankees in a "do or die" series despite only three days rest.

The White Sox lefthander laughed when asked about rumors earlier this season that he couldn't win without five days of rest.

"Malarky," said Pierce. "Why shouldn't I be able to win. I'm young, strong and ready to go whenever asked. I'll admit, I was worried when I thought they'd make a one-day-a-week pitcher out of me but that's all over now."

Pierce, who leads the majors with a 1.78 earned run average and who has won four straight pitching with four days rest, admitted it might be tough going out there with three days rest.

"If it's going to help us win the pennant," said Pierce, "then I'm all for it."

Billy will be going up against the Yankees in the second game of a crucial doubleheader Sunday. Victim of four 1-0 losses, one of them to the Yankees, Pierce has fashioned an 11-8 record and has completed 13 of his 20 starts. He also has lost to the Yankees, 3-2, in a 10-inning game.

Manager Marty Marion of the Sox said he doesn't like to start Pierce with only three days rest but "what else can I do?"

The Sox have lost three straight, including last night's 10-0 defeat to Washington, and have dropped four of their last six games to Washington and Baltimore. They are in third place, 1½ games behind the Yanks and a ½-game behind Cleveland.

Pierce appears to have the formula for pitching with limited rest.

"When you're working with five days rest and then have to pitch with less, you're liable to get knocked out," said Pierce. "But knowing I'm to pitch with three days rest, I've changed my program of working out.

Women's Amateur Test Reaches Finals Stage Today at Charlotte

The first round was scheduled for 9:30 a.m. (EST), with the afternoon round slated for 2 o'clock.

Pat, who returns to Seattle University next month to start her senior year, has had her eye on the championship ever since she played in her first National in 1950. This is her sixth and the closest she's been to the title she so desperately wants to win. Her best previous effort was as a 19-year-old three years ago when she went to the semifinals before losing to Mrs. Jackie Pung, the eventual winner, who now is a professional.

The last two years Pat was beaten by long-hitting Margaret (Wiffi) Smith of St. Clair, Mich., in the 1953 quarterfinals and in the fifth round last year.

With Wiffi eliminated Thursday in the quarterfinals by Polly Riley, 29-year-old advertising specialist from Fort Worth, Tex., Pat's personal jinx was removed. The Seattle girl blasted out Miss Riley, 6 and 5, with a three under par display yesterday. It was the second successive three under par effort for the tall, tanned collegian. Pat smothered Mrs. H. S. Covington of Orangeburg, S.C., with much the same brand of shooting in the quarterfinas.

On the other hand, 27-year-old Miss Nelson, who believes in getting some fun out of golf, had a struggle on her hands to reach the finals. The happy Hoosier, who matched Pat's three under job in her 5 and 3 quarter-final rout of Barbara McIntire of Toledo, Ohio, was four over as she took an exhausting 2-up semifinal duel from Southern champion Mrs. Scott Probasco of Chattanooga, Tenn.

Pihos Sets Pace for Eagles' Win

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—End Pete Pihos picked up 134 yards on aerials, two of them good for touchdowns, to lead the Philadelphia Eagles to a 27-20 victory last night over the Chicago Bears in the annual Inquirer charity game.

It was the Eagles third exhibition win this season in the National Football League. They are undefeated.

Record Ace at OL?

As far as pro-shop workers can find, the hole-in-one made Thursday evening at Orchard Lake CC's par 3, third hole, is the first for women players at the club. Mrs. W. G. Lerchen, playing with her husband, banged a 4-wood shot to the 170-yard green and was surprised to see it hole out. It was her 1st ace and she had a 49 for the 9-hole round.

Puerto Rican NSSA Squad Here, Minus Star, Col. Roig

By H. GUY MOATS

National Skeet Shooting Association's 1955 championships at Oakland County Sportsmen's Club, Waterford, will miss some of the color of the 1954 event. That was evident last night when the 6-man Puerto Rican squad arrived at Willow Run airport from New York.

The highlighted island sharpshooters last year lent a bright touch to an already smart event. That they will do so again next week is expected because all but one of the current squad figured in many victories in the 1954 event, the nation's top skeet competition.

However, under the leadership of the island's inspector-general of police, Julio Vigoreaux, the Puerto Ricans again expect to cut quite a swath at the firing stations at OCSC. Ins. Gen. Vigoreaux takes the place of cool, brilliant Col. Salvador T. Roig, head of Puerto Roco's police system, who is on official business with the island's governor, in Europe.

Chief of Police Herbert S. Straley and Detective Oliver (Red) Lemaux met the squad at the airport and brought them to hotel quarters here. Today, bright and early, they headed for OCSC and some practice rounds on the NSSA ranges.

The Puerto Rican squad includes, besides Vigoreaux, chief of detectives Alberto Guerrero, Rosario Loyola, superintendent of uniform division, and son Jaimie Luis, and the likeable detectives William Fernandez and Angel Gonzales.

The big shotgun extravaganza gets under way, officially, Monday morning with the preliminary day guns' handicap, for which The Pontiac Press will present a silver trophy to the high gun.

National sub-small gauge championship open is set for Tuesday, along with other events for women seniors, junior, industry and two-man teams.

On Wednesday the national open small-gauge championships, with several other events, and the champion of champions title test, are scheduled.

Other events rest of the week include the 20-gauge championship, national all-gauge event, the big finale that runs over the last three days.

Wertz Struck Down by Polio

CLEVELAND (AP)—Polio-stricken Vic Wertz was in "good" condition in an isolation ward today, and the Cleveland Indians' physician reassured the other players about possible contagion.

Dr. Don Kelly told the Tribe in the clubhouse before last night's game with the Yankees that exposure does not necessarily mean other players will get the disease.

"Don't worry about carrying it home to your children," he said. "It is extremely unlikely."

Wertz' illness was diagnosed yesterday, but as yet there has been no sign of paralysis.

Silver Cup Regatta Under Way Today

DETROIT (AP)—Miss Thriftway of Seattle was favored today to win the annual Silver Cup Regatta on the Detroit River.

The West Coast craft carried a slight edge over 12 entries, including 10 from Detroit and one from Canada.

The race will be run in five heats of 15 miles each over a three-mile course. The first heat was scheduled to start at 12:30 p.m. (EST).

Duke Feels Better — Bangs Out Three Hits

The Duke, who had connected with only five hits in 34 times at bat before Friday night's splurge, had labelled Brooklyn fans the worse in baseball and said they didn't deserve the pennant. His accusations came Thursday night after he had been booed by the fans.

They will compete against each other in several events, including the Col. John W. Wofford Memorial Challenge Trophy. Col. Wofford was their father. He was a former Army Olympic team member (1932-35), headed the American FEI and coached and captained the Olympic team. Jeb rode with the Olympic team in 1952 and the Pan-Am team this summer.

U. S. Cup Team in Tough Spot After 2 Losses

Trabert, Seixas Bow Friday, Face Hartwig, Hoad in Doubles

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP) — To say that the position of the U.S. defending Davis Cup team is untenable today would be putting it mildly.

Tony Trabert and Vic Seixas have two strikes on them. One more and they're out and the coveted trophy returns to Australia.

Trabert and Seixas will try to keep their faint hopes alive today on the polished turf of the West Side Tennis Club when they engage Lewis Hoad and Rex Hartwig in the doubles match of the best-of-five event.

Even if Trabert and Seixas win the doubles, they'll still have to win the final two singles tomorrow when Tony is paired with Ken Rosewall and Seixas meets Hoad.

Furthermore, the statistics are discouraging for the Yanks. Only once in Davis Cup history has a team gone down to defeat in the opening singles and managed to win the cup. That was in 1939 when Australia's Adrian Quist and Jack Bromwich dropped the first two matches to America's Bobby Riggs and Frank Parker and came back to win the next three.

Both Trabert and Seixas were unimpressive in defeat yesterday. The near-capacity throng of 13,500 half-expected Rosewall to lick Seixas. That he did, 6-3, 10-8, 4-6, 6-2. It was Rosewall's 10th victory in 12 meetings with the 32-year-old Seixas.

But there probably wasn't a soul sitting in the sun-baked stands who thought Hoad, a big, blond youngster who blows hot and cold, could humble Trabert, the king of the world's amateurs. He not only humbled Trabert, but gave Tony a good tennis lesson to boot, 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 8-6.

"We're in a tough spot," said U.S. Cup Captain Bill Talbert. "There's no denying that. But we still can win. Both Tony and Vic are in good shape."

Michigan Title at Stake Sunday

Michigan's pro-amateur golf title goes on the block Sunday at Tam O'Shanter Country Club, with veteran Al Watrous and Tommy Sheehan making their 4th defense of the crown.

Watrous and Sheehan won last year's event at Battle Creek.

Sunday's tourney will mark the 1st event over the recently revamped layout on Farmington road. Because of the construction of a new swimming pool, the 18th green has been moved away from the front of the clubhouse, and the hole is now some 75 yards shorter. The hole was a par 5, now is a par 4, at 412 yards. The change also cut par for the 18 holes to 71. The back nine formerly was 37, now is 36, with 35 on the front nine. It will play longer, too, because of relocation of some of the tees.

Solunar Tables

Specially prepared solunar tables, set up by John Alden Knight, show the best times for fishing in the Pontiac area, Sunday and Monday.

They are:

MONDAY A.M. Minor	A.M. Major	P.M. Minor	P.M. Major

Fine Fight Against Bobo Gives Giambra Title Shot

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—G.I. Joey Giambra was in line today for a shot at the middleweight boxing championship on the strength of last night's masterful performance against titlist Carl (Bobo) Olson.

The young Army private, who dropped a unanimous decision to Olson in the champion's "home" Cow Palace ring, was given assurance he'd get a title date by Truman Gibson, secretary of the International Boxing Club, who watched the nationally televised bout from ringside.

"He can have a title fight in February," said Gibson.

"We'll box him for the title right here after Bobo gets through with (Sugar Ray) Robinson in November," Flaherty said. "Maybe we can set it up for February. We'll take on Bobby Dykes at Miami on Sept. 21 before the Robinson fight."

Olson was apparently as surprised as the 5,102 fans, who booed lustily when the unanimous decision was announced. He acknowledged that Giambra "gave me a hard fight."

2 Women Riders Among Entries in '3-Day Event'

Among the current entries for the national Olympic equestrian team preliminaries at Metamora Hunt Club next week are two women.

One is Mrs. Margaret Bean of Malvern, Pa. The other is Mrs. George Jacobsen of Hudson Heights, Quebec.

Up to today the list included more than a dozen riders.

They are:

Warren and Jeb Wofford of Junction City, Kas.

W. L. Rochester of Warrenton, Va.

L. J. McGuinness of Mimico, Ontario (member of the Canadian Olympic team).

H. Stewart Treviranus (Canadian Olympic team member).

William D. Haggard of Nashville, Tenn.

C. A. Smith Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pa.

Walter Staley, of Mexico, Mo.

Children's Program Slated at Gay Day

Children's "back-to-school" program will be featured Sunday night at Gay Day Speedway as part of the track's regular nine-event race card, manager Don Pike has announced. At 5:15 p.m. all youngsters from 5 through 14 years of age will be given a ride around the track in a race car and free race track hats will also be given to them.

Sunday's races will be climaxed by a 25-lap feature. A four-car trophy dash will open the program.

DETROIT —Dom Fucci, Detroit Lions halfback from Kentucky, earned All-American honors in college . . . as a catcher on the baseball team.

Snead Leader at Montreal

MONTREAL (AP)— Sam Snead, the slammin' man from White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., went into the third round of $26,800 Montreal Open Golf Tournament today with a one-stroke lead over Doug Ford and Canada's Stan Leonard, who only recently took off on the game's money trail.

Snead carded a 69 yesterday, which with his five-under-par 65 first round, gave him a 134 total at the halfway mark of the 72-hole competition over the Summerlea Club course.

Rhythmic Song Wins Wolverine Feature

Wins Southpaw Title

Cliff Rugg of Oakland Hills posted a 79 to win the annual Detroit District lefthanders' championship Friday at Essex Golf Club in Windsor. Rugg gained the title by one stroke over Al Dykhouse of Western and Dan Nancarrow of Birmingham CC. Veteran pro Horton Smith, tourney guest, swung from the port side and shot 92 over the par 72 layout.

'Big' Championships Wind Up Grand American Today

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—The biggest Grand American trapshoot in history winds up today as the nation's crack shots decide the national doubles, over-all and all-around championships.

Today's events come as an anti-climax to yesterday's Grand American Handicap in which Logan Bennett, 39-year-old salesman and father of six from Hodgenville, Ky., triumphed over 2,023 other competitors with 99 of 100 from the 19-yard line.

Bennett, appearing in his first Grand American after taking up trapshooting only two years ago and never having won a registered shoot of any kind, figured to pick up in the neighborhood of $8,000 for his triumph. The exact figure will not be known for a couple of days.

The estimate was reached, however, on the basis of the payoff to F. B. Rees of Heyworth, Ill., and Wedon Hopman of Buckley, Ill., who tied for the less expensive preliminary handicap Thursday.

Rees, although the winner of the event in a 25 target shootoff, wound up with $2,475, while Hopman, the shootoff loser, garnered $4,585. The difference came when Hopman almost swept the optionals by breaking his first 75, while Rees had a long run of only 50.

Other championships yesterday:

Dick & Wes, Lions Record Wins in Waterford League

Dick & Wes Sporting Goods eliminated Richardson Dairy and Waterford Lions moved into the finals in the Waterford Township League softball playoffs Friday night at Drayton Plains.

Chuck Cooper was Richardson's nemesis in D & W's 4-3 victory in nine innings. With the Sportsmen trailing in the 7th, 3-2, Cooper led off with a double and tallied the tying run on pitcher Bruce Dryer's error. Then, in the 9th, Cooper again doubled, took 3rd on a wild pitch, and scored the winning run on Ferre's sacrifice fly.

Harold Horn led at bat for Dick & Wes, however, with a triple, double and single in three trips. Wayne Janks tossed a two-hitter for Dick & Wes while Dryer yielded five hits.

Harlan (Fat) Keith hurled his 6th one-hit masterpiece of the season as champion Lions blanked Drayton Drug, 5-0. Jerry Hesse's lead-off single in the 2nd was Drug's lone hit.

Drug nine will clash with Dick & Wes in the double-elimination tourney Monday night at 8 p. m., with the winner meeting the Lions on Tuesday for the playoff crown. League trophies will be awarded Tuesday night.

Summon Keego Athletes

Physical examinations and issuance of equipment for both football and cross country candidates will be held Monday, Aug. 29, at West Bloomfield High School in Keego Harbor. All boys interested in the two fall sports should report to coach Charles Guinnip and athletic director Donald Bradford at the high school at 9:30 a.m. A meeting will be held at that time to set up a practice schedule.

Detroit in Semifinal

Hardtops, Midgets Run at M59 Track

Race time is 8:30 p.m. both tonight and Sunday at the Pontiac Speedway with hardtops and midget autos lined up for the 2-night program.

Land O'Lakes Racing Association hardtops are involved in the 50-lap club championship tonight, while the midgets take over the M59 oval Sunday night. Time trials precede the races each night at 7 p.m.

WALNUT LAKE HOME — A study in brown and white contrasts, this two-story contemporary home was designed for the Noel Buckners by Robert Snyder, Cranbrook architect. The exterior, in the upper section, is board and batten fir creosoted for color and preservative. For the lower story, white cement blocks are used. The upper photo shows the home from the lakeside and the lower picture is taken from the roadway showing the three place carport and the patio which leads to the first story of the home.

TWO-STORY ENTRANCEWAY—This unit unites the two wings of the Noel Buckner home on Walnut Lake. Entrance on the ground floor leads to the recreation room, laundry and furnace rooms and maid's quarters on one side and to the family library and the master bedroom suite on the other. Note the spiral stairway. This ties the two floors together. The second story has an entrance door from the upper ground level.

LIVING ROOM—Noel Buckner, Jr., and sister, Elizabeth, enjoy a few quiet moments on their family living room rug which was made in Morocco. The unusual fireplace unit divides the combination living and dining room. Wide slabs of white marble frame the upper portion of this facility. Natural brick is the material used for the base which serves as a seating area.

Your Neighbor's House

Buckner Contemporary on Walnut Lake

By HAZEL A. TRUMBLE

Robert H. Snyder, head of the school of architecture at the Cranbrook Academy of Art, is due the plaudits of such professionals as Frank Lloyd Wright, Michigan's Alden Dow and undoubtedly that faraway, but true cosmopolitan contemporary architect, the European Dudock.

Fellow practitioners of the organic type of architectural design, they relate with absolute integrity a structure to its natural surroundings.

Architect Snyder achieved a magnificent example of this art in the new Walnut Lake home of Mr. and Mrs. Noel Buckner. Not only the setting is relative, but the people who live in the house and their way of life have been considered in the design.

"In fact, Mr. Snyder made a complete dossier on our family activities before he came up with the final drawings which took about one year," said the attractive young Mrs. Buckner who explained that the construction consumed another year's time.

TWO-STORY HOME

A two-story home, it appears to have naturally grown into its surroundings—a sloped lake site abundantly wooded with Carya ovata (shagbark hickory), straight trunked oaks and mature maples.

Actually two separate houses, the Buckner home is united by a two-story entranceway which results in a balcony effect for the upper ground entry. A spiral stairway connects the two floors with its parallel walls of windows.

A study in brown and white, the exterior is board and batten fir, creosoted for permanent coloring and for wood preservation. The lower section of the house is white painted cement block and occasional colored panels in red, blue and yellow provide hue accents.

Copper flashing edges the upper roof of the contemporary house in the absence of an overhang.

"We did not want to spoil the clean, simple lines by adding wide overhangs," she said.

One wing includes the living room and dining room, kitchen, pantry and abundant storage areas on the upper floor; the lower floor of this section has a recreation room, laundry and furnace room and maids' quarters as well as bathhouse facilities.

The opposite wing of the house on the upper floor is reserved for the three Buckner children, Noel Jr., Elizabeth and Marcy. Here surrounded by three bedrooms is the playroom with its built-in bookshelves and TV and radio cabinets. Divans, too, are built-ins. These are covered with foam rubber upholstering covered in denim and linen. Colored doors in the cabinets highlight the room's color scheme in tones of gold, blue, charcoal and orange.

Bedrooms also have the built-in beds and dressers. Slightly angled drawer fronts dispense with the need for hardware on these walnut units.

A pair of gray and brown bathrooms are located in the children's wing and a separate entrance to this unit leads from the upper ground area. Each of these baths sport swinging barroom type shutter doors, one in tangerine to contrast the gray and brown and the other in natural walnut tones.

THIRD BURMEISTER BRANCH—Recently opened at 7940 Cooley Lake Rd. is the third lumber yard to be built in five years by the Burmeister's Northern Lumber Co. Dealers in everything for the builder from small hardware to finished lumber, this company is owned by Pauline and Clarence Burmeister. Other lumber yards of the Burmeisters are located at 8197 Cooley Lake Rd., and also at Nine Mile and Telegraph.

Buckner Home on Walnut Lake

living and dining room is centered by a fireplace unit which is four-sided in huge white marble slabs. The base of this is natural brick and is placed at a convenient seating height.

Wallace Mitchell, Cranbrook registrar and artist, designed the unusual Moroccoan rug used on the floor of the living room section of this unit. Four related shades of yellow form a checkered pattern for this floor covering and the same colors are picked up in the Siamese raw silk pillows used on the long divan in beige upholstering. Pillows in complementing colors are placed on the brick seating area of the fireplace.

DESIGN OF BEAUTY, EFFICIENCY

The kitchen of the Buckner home is a treat for the eye of culinary artist. Again the same white walls are used with the long sections of oiled walnut cupboards giving a stark contrast. Starting at the entrance to this U-shaped facility, a large stainless steel sink, with its own disposal system, is convenient for vegetable preparation. Down a long expanse of white Formica countertop is located the six-burner countertop stove and next the double-oven (these, too, in stainless steel). Another double-sink is placed in the peninsular counter with its overhead cupboards opening two ways for convenience of serving and utensil placement.

An extra-sized maple chopping block in the center of this house in its lower section long drawers and slots for storage.

The frosting for this piece de resistance is the built-in brick grill in one wall of the kitchen.

LOWER FLOOR

The lower floor of the home has a special suite of rooms for Mr. and Mrs. Buckner. Here is the family library, a large combination bath and shower room, the master bedroom and the recreation area.

Interesting feature of the lovely bathrooms in the Buckner home is the Carrara marble counter tops. These give a soft reflection for the gray tile and brown accessories.

One wall of the Buckner bedroom has built-in chests in walnut which number 22 in drawer count. These, too, have no hardware due to the angle of the drawer fronts.

The headboard effect of the king-sized bed is achieved by papering one wall in a strip of brown and gold striped grass cloth. The top of this is edged in fine walnut molding.

Carpet for this floor was made in Morocco with white background and design in khaki and brown. One gold homespun contour chair highlights this room.

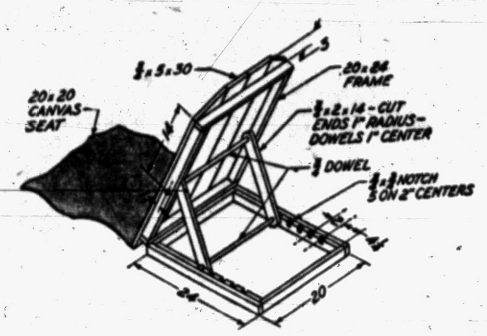

An inter-communication system is installed in all of the Buckner home rooms. It also has lakefront connections when the family is enjoying water activities.

POT HOOK—This should be used when working from a ladder. The Institute for Safer Living attributes many painful accidents to falling paint buckets.

In a modern coke oven, one ton of coal yields eight gallons of tar, 20 pounds of ammonium sulfate, 10,000 cubic feet of surplus gas and about three gallons of light oils.

Beach-Lawn Backrest Adds Comfort to Leisure Hours

First make two frames: one for the backrest itself and one for the base. Both frames are 20 by 24 inches, outside measurements, and are made of lumber 2 inches wide. The long sides of the base frame are double thickness, the inner boards being provided with 5 notches each in which the prop is adjusted. Assemble the frames, using waterproof glue and 6-penny finishing nails at all joints.

An adjustable backrest for lounging at the beach or on the lawn, is made of lumber ¾-inch thick. It may be folded for easy carrying or for convenient packing in the trunk of the automobile.

Add the four backboards to the backrest frame. These are 30 inches long, extending 3 inches above and below the frame, with the corners cut from the outer two boards.

Next make the prop which consists of two ¾ by 2 by 14-inch pieces with each corner rounded on a 1-inch radius. Bore 1-inch dowel holes in each piece, 1 inch from each end. In the lower pair of holes insert a 1-inch dowel, 18½ inches long, allow ¾ inch of dowel to extend beyond the two prop members, and pin the dowel in place with 4-penny finishing nails.

Bore a pair of dowel holes in the backrest frame, 14 inches from the top of the frame. Insert a 20-inch length of 1-inch dowel through the holes in the backrest and the upper holes in the prop. Pin the dowel in place with 4-penny finishing nails in the frame, but allow the prop to swing freely on the upper dowel.

Fasten the backrest to the base frame with two 1½ by 2-inch butt hinges mounted 2 inches from the edges of the frame assembly.

Round all rough edges by sanding and finish with paint or varnish. Use a 20 by 20-inch sheet of medium-weight canvas for the seat. Sew a rolled hem along the edges of the canvas, and fasten one end of the canvas to the lower edge of the backboards, using large-headed brass upholstery nails spaced about 1 inch apart.

MSU Library Goal Slated for January 6

EAST LANSING (AP) — Michigan State University has set a goal of Jan. 6 for completion of its new four million dollar library building.

College officials hope the building, the nation's fifth largest university library in floor space, will be ready for full use by the time winter classes open.

Before that time, more than 765,000 books, periodicals and documents will have to be transferred across the campus from the old library building, which will be used as a museum.

Librarian Jackson E. Towne was particularly anxious that the library be completed in time to met the demands of the booming freshman enrollment, expected to top 4,000 this fall.

"In recent years," Towne said, "It's been like a subway jam when freshmen came in to do their research."

Furniture Recushioning Possible With Foam Rubber

Once upon a time, recushioning of furniture was left pretty much to the experts. Not so since the development of foam rubber padding, a frothy solid made from liquid latex molded in a great variety of shapes and sizes.

New home recushioning projects are commonplace, simply because foam rubber is such a breeze to work with—a do-it-yourself product rolled and folded into most any shape to fit, for example, oddpar excellence. It can be cut, bent, shaped chair arms and seats.

With a special adhesive, it can be cemented to wood, metal, plastic and fabrics. It can also be bonded to itself, a factor that reduces waste because large pieces can be made from several scraps.

One company, Goodyear, to be exact, makes three types of foam rubber for home projects—molded cushions, solid slabs and cored slabs.

The molded cushions come in sizes to fit many styles if chair and sofa seat-cushion covers. They have rounded edges and are reversible—that is, smooth on both sides.

* * *

Solid slabs are smooth-two sides, square-edged pads used chiefly over springs or such solid materials as wood and metal.

Cored slabs are similar, except that they have rounded edges and uniform, open cores molded into the undersides. Long lengths are suitable for installing deep cushioning on chaise longues and continuous-seat sofas.

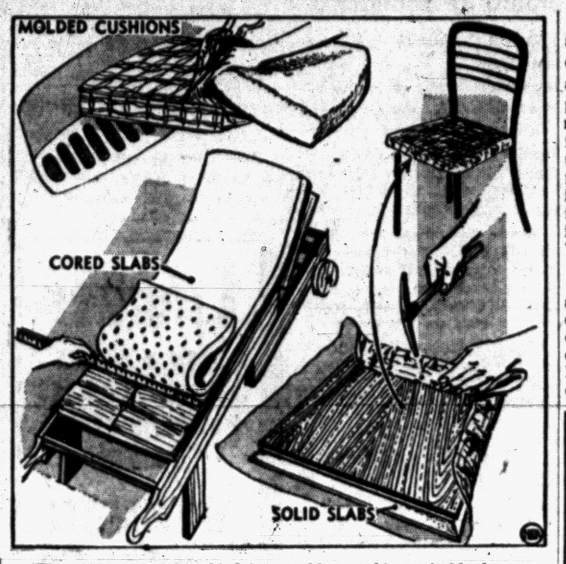

COUNTLESS USES

There are countless home uses for three types of foam rubber. Several suggested by Goodyear are:

Chair Seat Cushions—Use molded reversible type padding in thicknesses of 5½, 5¾ or 6½ inches. Foam rubber padding should be ¾ to one inch longer and wider than cushion cover measurements. Open cover at rear by cutting stitches at the cord line. Pull out old padding, insert rubber and restitch.

Bathinette Pad—Cut a sheet of one-inch thick slab stock to size of bathinette top. Cover with waterproof material. The same material can also be used for playpen pads. a crib pad of three-inch-thick cored stock will further add to baby's comfort.

Ottoman and Stools—Use one or 1½-inch slab stock, allowing approximately quarter-inch oversize. Cement rubber to top and cover with plastic or fabric upholstering material, pulled tight and tacked to underside. Cored stock recommended on large sizes.

Outdoor Furniture — Use cored stock in thicknesses of 2 9-16, 2⅝ or three inches for chaise longue and similar furniture. Insert in present cushion cover, or make new cover. Padding should be ¾ inch oversize to fit cushion covers up to 24 inches in length; 1¼ inches on lengths from 25 to 36 inches; 1¾ inches from 37 to 54 inches; 2¼ inches from 55 to 72 inches, and 2¾ inches oversize for 72-inch lengths and over.

* * *

You can use ordinary household scissors to cut foam rubber to any desired size. Cutting is easier, however, if you lubricate scissors by dipping them in water frequently. Foam rubber can also be cut easily on a band saw.

Special Packing Plan Ends Corrosion Risk

Many industrial products must be shipped long distances and stored for indefinite periods before they are used. This creates a special packaging problem to make sure that corrosion will not render them useless. Such articles as machine tool parts, gears, motors an dsurgical instruments are highly susceptible to rust and ordinary methods of packaging will not insure their preservation.

The answer has been found in the development of protective coatings which are applied in liquid form by dipping the various items in heated solutions. In this manner, a skin-tight "cocoon" is formed. The coating is air-tight, moisture proof and easily peeled off when the time comes for the article to be used.

Wood Panel Beauty Secret Hidden in Finish Detail

The real secret in getting the most in beauty and attractiveness out of your wood paneled walls is in the finish, advises H. O. Stroberger, wood finishing expert.

Attention to detail at time of finishing coupled with proper materials, Stroberger says, can make even a dub look like a master craftsman. The trouble is, he said, too many people don't like to put in the extra elbow grease to get a really first class job and sometimes settle for a cheap job that will always look cheap.

* * *

The softwoods available today at most retail lumber yards in the country, Stroberger says, take every conceivable kind of finish. The final appearance of walls, built-ins and other installations of fir, west coast hemlock or western red cedar are limited only by the tastes and desires of the homemaker, he said.

MANY VARIATIONS

These popular softwoods, he said, can be finished to retain their natural grain, texture and colorings by varnish, rez, lacquer or wax finishes. They can be stained, painted, enameled, or antiqued. There are dozens of variations to each one of these individual finishes.

For instance, where it is desired to retain the texture and grain of the wood but to change the tone in some manner to fit with color schemes or other decor, an almost endless variety of stain, paint and rez may be painted on and then wiped off immediately, leaving tints or color shadings.

* * *

Stroberger lays down certain dogmatic rules when finishing fir, hemlock or cedar or any of the other softwoods. All wood surfaces must be sanded with 4-0 sandpaper or buffed smooth as a starting point.

Next step is to stain, rez or paint on color—if this is desired—then wipe off. A coat of lacquer sealer is next suggested and when thoroughly dry it should be sanded with No 300 sandpaper. Subsequent coats of shellac, varnish, rez or lacquer may be applied depending on how much depth and patina is desired, and each must be allowed to dry thoroughly and each coat must be sanded smooth before another is added.

Final coat can be sanded down with No. 500 wet or dry paper plus paraffin oil thinned with mineral thinner, then wiped clean and rubbed with No. 4-0 steel wool.

Try on Cement Porch

For cement porch floors, an alkali-resistant primer is sometimes recommended. Also suitable for concrete floors are the rubber-base and similar coatings. Before these are applied, hard and glossy concrete should be roughened with a weak solution of muriatic acid. When you are obtaining your materials, it's wise to discuss the condition of your porch with your paint dealer. He can advise you regarding methods of preparation and application.

Harmonize With Blue

If your roof is blue, the body of your house will look well painted white, gray, cream-yellow or a lighter tint of harmonizing blue.

Light Fixtures Replaced Easily

Correct Location Gives Increased Illumination Where Needed

For the past 25 years Mr. J. C. McK. has been coming to work with a patch of whiskers on his left cheek. Last Monday he arrived at work without this patch and when questioned about it replied that over the weekend he had installed a new light fixture in the bathroom so that now, for the first time in 26 years, his left cheek wasn't in a shadow when he shaved. Maybe you have a problem in your home that a new light fixture might solve.

* * *

There isn't much complicated about replacing a light fixture. First, you need a new fixture and then pull main electric switch and remove the fuse from the circuit you are working on. This will prevent some helpful person throwing on the main switch while you are still at work.

Loosen the screws or nuts that hold the old fixture in place so it can be dropped and then cut the wires that connect the fixture to the main house wires. Cut these wires an inch or so below the splice where they join the house wires.

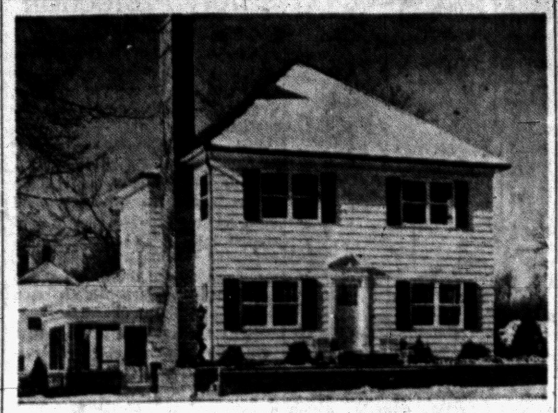

Your next fixture will come with two wires attached. One is black and that's the hot wire and the other is white and that's neutral. The black wire must be attached to the same house wire as the black wire on the old fixture and the white wire goes to the white house wire. As you left an inch or so of the old fixture wire attached to the main house wire you won't have any trouble knowing which wire goes where.

Remove the tape or covering from the splice, untwist the wires so that the short length of the old fixture wire can be removed. Scrape the exposed wire so that the metal is clean, twist the wires together to make a good strong splice and then cover with tape.

The splice should be covered with enough tape to equal the insulation on the other portions of the wire. Now fasten the fixture up into place and you're set.

The Army has only 345 officers and enlisted men in its worldwide military attache system.

Victorian House Changes Into New Colonial Home

It looked like a pagoda with a porch, but it was only a Victorian left-over whose heydey was long past. So, the owners of the pre-World War I house in the "Before" picture right remodeled. Their efforts paid off in the stately Colonial home above.

Remodeling was extensive inside and out, but cost plus the original price of the house totaled only half of what the house is worth in today's market.

The first step was to remove the oversized porch which had shut out sun light from the living room. Next the rounded, half-octagon corner on the left was squared off. Four useless dormers were removed to simplify the roof line.

The house now has fewer windows, but they're larger, and provide more air and light. All stock units of ponderosa pine, the new windows are more uniform in size and shape, as called for by the architectural simplicity of the house. All sash are removable for easy cleaning of the outside of the glass. The paneled front door and imposing frame are authentic Colonial.

Inside, the house was changed from a one-family to a duplex, with a private entrance on the left for the upstairs apartment. A kitchen had to be installed upstairs, and a new bathroom on each floor. The old first-floor kitchen was remodeled to include a dining nook, and appliances and new wood cabinets were arranged in an L-shape to make best use of space.

* * *

The basement was rebuilt to serve both families. One-half is a recreation room, a quarter is a heating and utility area, and the remaining quarter is a laundry. The laundry room contains a kitchenette to be used for "rec-room" parties.

To keep down heating bills, the large house was fully insulated with mineral wool. A new heating system was installed, with modern baseboard radiation.

3 Types of Roofs Preserve, Beautify

There are, in the main, three types of roofs on which special coatings are used for preservation and beautification.

* * *

For wood shingle roofs, there are special preservative stains. New shingles should be dipped in such a preservative before they are attached.

For flat roofs, built up of layers of felt and asphalt, protective fibered or unfibered roof coatings — or roof cements — or asphalt emulsion should be used.

* * *

Tin roofs are safeguarded with the types of roof paints formulated for metal surfaces. Special metal primers must first be applied.

Good Bathroom Surface

In upgrading the value of your bathroom, remember there's only one sure way of doing it. New arrangements, fancy appliances and fixtures, and pretty decorative touches here and there will be of no avail if the one essential is forgotten: A bathroom surfacing that's waterproof and practical, yet lastingly handsome. Durable, colorful ceramic tile is chosen for this role about three times as often as any other surfacing material for bathroom wainscoting.

The Rio Grande river, which forms the international boundary between the United States and Mexico, is approximately 2,200 miles long.

QUICKIE CURTAIN IDEAS — A single window—in a kitchen, a bathroom, a hall — curtains quickly and colorfully with big cotton handkerchiefs. Lively and quite different patterns are so easy to find, and because they are already trimly hemmed, there's no sewing at all to do if decorative clips are used to hang them. Clips like this detach from the fabric entirely when the curtains are washed, thus eliminating the usual risk in the laundry to curtain rings.

Bright printed kitchen towels can be used in the same way, and the proud owner of a new pink kitchen adds another possibility. Because sheets and pillowcases come in beautiful percale in the exact shade of pink she wanted, she used pillowcases for curtains. She ripped side seams and turned back narrow hems for a finish, leaving the neat wide hems already in the cases for the bottom hems of the curtains. All of these ideas make sure that curtains couldn't be easier to keep fresh. They take endless washings perfectly, and iron flat.

More Homeowners Now

The pattern of home ownership tends to vary in different types of communities, according to the United States Savings and Loan League. The league says 69 per cent of families living in small towns and rural areas are home owners, whereas only 46 per cent of families in larger metropolitan centers enjoy home ownership.

* * *

The trend in the past five years has been toward single-family homes. In 1954 close to 90 per cent or 1,078,000 private houses started were one-family structures, a big increase over 1949 when 75 per cent of total construction was for single-family units, and almost 20 per cent for multi-family dwellings.

During the first three months of 1954, the median selling price for one-family houses was $12,300 throughout the United States. The median selling prices, however, varied in different sections of the country, ranging from $10,800 in the South to $13,800 in the Northeast.

* * *

A number of factors have given rise to the steady increase in the postwar mortgage debt. These factors are: Substantial backlog of demand for housing; favorable financial condition of the public; a pronounced desire on the part of Americans to own homes and improve their standard of living; and ample funds for home financing in financial institutions.

Bathroom Tile Trend

Outstanding design trend in modern bathrooms is the extension of the tile wainscoating several inches higher, especially around the shower-tub installation, or all the way to the ceiling. There are two main reasons for this. The first is that tile is steamproof as well as waterproof. Condensation from showers and baths, even from shaving, can cause paint and other materials to deteriorate over the years.

Check Quality in Home

A home of your own is the best investment you could make for your family's security and welfare. But make sure it's a quality home. Check for important details that indicate whether the builder cared for value. The three most important are: 1. Ceramic tile in bathroom and kitchen. 2. Plenty of built-in storage all over the house. 3. At least three bedrooms and one and one-half bathrooms.

Small First Aid Kit Offers Quick Safety Protection

A compact and inexpensive first aid kit that's small enough to fit into a car glove compartment or corner of a desk drawer is newly available in drug stores and super markets.

Instead of the customary vial of antiseptic liquid, the kit contains a small fold-up metal tube of combination antiseptic and burn ointment. This form was chosen by the manufacturer because of the dual properties of the ointment and the fact that the metal tube cannot break and ruin the other items in the kit.

Other basic first aid essentials in the package are absorbent cotton, 12 waterproof adhesive bandages, two sterilized gauze pads, a five-yard roll of one-half inch adhesive tape and a six-yard roll of two-inch gauze bandage.

Asphalt Coating Hint

Inland waterways of the U. S. carry about 15 per cent of the transportation load.

BIRD CAGE — This handsome cage is 24 inches long; 17 wide and stands 23 inches high. The outside surfaces of the gables, ridgepole and frame are painted red and black to contrast with the natural wood of the bars which are made from 3-16-inch dowels.

The construction is all very simple and it will be quick too if you have a small power drill to speed the drilling of the holes for the bars.

Pattern gives directions with sketches for making accessories such as drinking fountains and floor litter pan but standard items available at shops selling pets and supplies may be used with this cage. Price of pattern 433 is 25c.

List Complaints of Heating Unit, Then Get Busy

By HUBBARD COBB

"Dear Editor:

I was going to write a piece about heating today when I remembered the last one I did on this same subject about this time last year. That was the day when the temperature in the office was around ninety-six and you said anyone who felt so cool that they could even write about heating must not be bothered much by the heat.

* * *

Right after you had my desk moved down to the boiler room where I'd have more space and quiet. Now it's not that I'm not bothered by the heat so much as the fact that if any of our readers had trouble with their heating system last year, now is the time to do something about it if the trouble hasn't been corrected as yet.

In just a few more weeks, heating servicemen are going to be so busy getting systems ready for the winter that they won't be able to take on additional work.

As I mentioned to you last year when I was carrying my desk down to the boiler room, there are precious few heating systems that are in such bad shape that the entire system must be replaced.

* * *

Often all that is necessary to improve the operation of the system considerably are adjustments or the addition of special valves, fittings, etc. Most furnaces and boilers are adequate in size to heat the house—it's just a matter of distribution and this can often be corrected without a major undertaking.

The important thing for our readers to do is to sit down and write a list of complaints they had with their heating systems. Then they can call in a serviceman, have him check over the list and the system to see what can be done to eliminate some of these headaches.

Naturally, unless he is told what's wrong with the system as far as comfort goes, he can't very well do much about it. But if our readers want to do something about the home heating system—they had better get busy.

The largest island in the world is Greenland. It covers an area estimated to be 827,300 square miles or, 15 times the size of Michigan.

Home Demand Potential High

People Still Will Build Despite the Construction Since World War II

WASHINGTON (INS)—The potential demand for housing in this country is still tremendous despite record home building since the end of World War II.

This conclusion emerges from a federal Reserve Board survey—conducted earlier this year — on the home buying plans of American families.

The report tends to support advance predictions from economists that the U.S. probably will produce around 1,200,000 new homes next year—about 100,000 less than current output — to meet consumer demand for housing.

Briefly, the survey indicates that about 9,195,000 home owners and renters are dissatisified with their preset quarters, mainly because of insufficient space.

If all of these people purchased new homes, the National Association of Home Builders points out, production would nearly match the 10 million dwellings produced since 1945.

Actually, the Reserve Board cautions that the findings should be taken "as a broad view of consumer attitudes toward housing rather than as a measure of future action."

The survey did not disclose whether dissatisfied renters might purchase a home nor did it indicate whether a dissatisfied home owner would buy another house or rent.

However, the board reported that the plans of American consumers to buy or build homes this year or in 1956 were at the highest level in the past four years.

The Board said: "Dissatisfaction with current housing arrangements was expressed by 15 per cent of the home-owning families and by twice as large a proportion of renters."

Many reasons were given, the Board commented, but the most frequently mentioned were insufficent space, finances, unfavorable location, operating expenses and job changes.

* * *

Regarding recent housing developments, the Board said that home ownership in the U.S. jumped one-third since 1948.

It said this stemmed not only from "changes in family composition and in income status, but also from the continuing availability of mortgage financing on generally favorable terms."

Moreover, the Board said that the postwar housing shortage as well as financial considerations persuaded Americans to increase their home purchases rather than rent.

Workshop Patterns

by Ruth Wyeth Spears

STEP TABLE STYLE — The piece sketched above was created for use in a small living room where there was a great deal of everyday living. The family's needs required space for a few books as well as those little things of daily usage. The best wood that could be afforded was ¾-inch plywood. This job was strictly utility. Yet the design could be in the heirloom class if made carefully from solid stock in one of the fine grained cabinet quality woods. The curves and all irregular shapes are traced from the pattern to the wood ready for sawing. Copy of pattern 439 will be mailed for 25c.

SUNKEN LIVING ROOM — This style, one step down from the entrance foyer and dining room, adds the impressiveness of a higher ceiling in this house. Two bathrooms, one with a stall shower and a larger one with square tub, are among other features. An outside basement entrance woudl supplement the stairs off the central hall. The house covers 1,521 square feet. This is plan 102AP by Samuel Paul, architect, 89-51 164th St., Jamaica 32, N. Y.

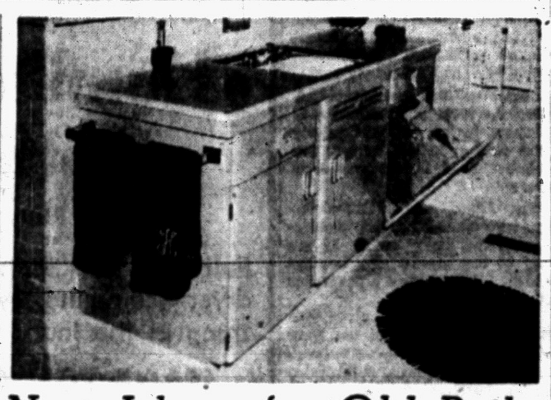

Make Roof Leakproof

A leaky roof on your home provides the most obvious outside entrance for destructive moisture. The roof structure must be watertight and as durable as possible, if the home-owner is to be spared the trouble and expense of both inside and outside repairs. It's a good time now to have your roof checked by an expert.

New Ideas for Old Baths

One-third of the 44,500,000 bathrooms in the United States are over 40 years old, Practical Builder magazine estimates.

While plumbing fixtures will last this long, they become out-of-date in styling and convenience. Obsolete plumbing dates a house and this, the magazine says, makes the bathroom a prime target for remodeling. Even old houses of modest size are getting bathrooms agleam with ceramic tile, glass and chrome.

Storage space is a major innovation in modern bathroom planning. Wood kitchen cabinets are being adapted to functional and decorative use in bathrooms. Flanking a white or colored sink and topped by a counter of ceramic tile or other suitable material, ponderosa pine cabinets offer plenty of shelf and hamper area for clean and soiled towels, linens, and laundry in space previously wasted.

Since warm, attractive color is one of the first considerations in today's bathrooms, wood cabinets fit in well. They can be decorated in any color to suit the other fixtures, walls and floor, and can be redecorated at will.

"The Legend of Christian Hills"

A few months ago we announced the opening of beautiful Christian Hills. The response to this lovely, rolling, wooded hills subdivision was tremendous. We were more than gratified, though not surprised, when the hundreds of visitors we had expected mounted into thousands. Many people were so enthralled by the wonderful, picturesque lot sites that early sales promise rapid development of this enchanting new community. Plenty of beautiful lot sites are still available for those who desire serene, suburban living in a luxury ranch-styled home priced lower than you could possibly imagine.

Since the announcement, many people chose to make Christian Hills their future home. They found their dream home from 24 attractive models and floor plans available.

You can find your future home in Christian Hills by taking immediate action. Drive out today! See the tremendous progress made in home building on this lovely site.

Many, many people have asked us, "Where did you get the name, Christian Hills?" "Was it the home of early Christians?" "Was it a place where the Indians were converted to Christianity?" "Did you name it yourselves?" "Just where did the name 'Christian Hills' come from?"

Well, we actually didn't know at first but through the kind co-operation of Joe Haas, historical writer for the Pontiac Press, this is the story of whence came the name, Christian Hills:

'Way back in the year 1822 Reverend Smith Weeks took up residence in Section 20 of Avon Township. This is where Christian Hills is now located. The Reverend Weeks was said to be the first Methodist minister in Oakland County and an ardent exponent of the gospel. It is believed that the early settlers dubbed his property "Christian Hills" in view of his dynamic personality, and that the name has persisted down through the years. The Reverend Weeks came from Rhode Island where he entered the ministry at the age of 18. He became a probate judge of Oakland County and was the first chaplain of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Michigan. It is said he walked all the way to Detroit to attend the first meeting in 1826. He died in 1829 at the age of 69.

Small wonder Reverend Weeks fell in love with this beautiful rustic area. Christian Hills is a dream in green . . . a community for those who prefer the best. You will be proud to say, "I live in Christian Hills."

Device for Cutting Out Mitered Corners Essential for Well-Equipped Workshop

Indispensable to the home woodcrafter is some means of making 45-degree angle cuts in wood, accurately and quickly, without having to take a number of measurements. Such a tool is the miter board—another is the miter box.

Without them or an equivalent tool to guide your saw blade, it's difficult to cut wood for snug-fitting mitered joints. These are the joints you see at the corner of picture frames and door and window trim. The mitered joint is frequently used in furniture because it is neat and stronger than the ordinary butt joint.

Large, flat lumber is generally cut on the miter board, while the box is reserved for the cutting of smaller stock, such as moldings. Either can be made out of wood, but its accuracy will depend on the guide slots being exactly vertical and at exact 45-degree angles from its long sides.

Cut a piece of 1x8-inch lumber to a length of 18 inches. To this fasten a 1x3—flush with one edge of the base board—using 1¼-inch wood screws, countersunk. Since the 1x3 will be cut through after it is attached, place the screws so that three screws will hold each of the segments in place.

LAY OUT LINES

Now, with the 45-degree side of a combination square, lay out the two lines on which the 1x3 is to be cut. Using a backsaw, cut through to, but not into, the base board. This will form two guide slots for future 45-degree angle cuts. One slot should point to the left, the other to the right.

Lacking a square, you can fix the angle of the guide slots by this method: Draw a line from a point four inches from one end of the 1x3, starting at its outer edge. This method will be accurate so long as the 1x3 is exactly three inches in width.

ALWAYS AN ANGLE — To improve one phase of your woodcraft, build yourself an accurate miter box or miter board out of wood.

To the underside of the miter board fasten a 1x2 board which serves as a brace or stop against the workbench. In using the miter board, place the wood to be angled on the baseboard and hold it firmly against the 1x3. It's often desirable to clamp the wood in place for sawing.

ONE-INCH STOCK

The miter box is also constructed of one-inch material. Sides of the box measure about four by 18 inches, while the bottom should be about 4½ inches in width. Fasten sides to bottom with 1½-inch screws, countersunk.

If the guide-slot angles are to be drawn from measurements, the box must be exactly six inches across with sides in place. To form the angle, draw a line from a point three inches in on the top of one side to a point nine inches in on the other side.

However, because of certain variables, it is difficult to make these measurements exact. It's best to use a combination square to determine the angles. Since the slot lines, cut down through the sides of the box, must be exactly perpendicular to the base, use of a square is recommended here, as well.

In a miter box, there should be three pairs of guide slots. Two are 45-degree slots, pointed in opposite directions; one is a 90-degree (right angle) slot in the center of the box.

Gas Expansion Plans Readied

Natural Gas Deliveries Will Service 76 Cities at Project Completion

NEW YORK (AP)—Expansion projects blueprinted by the nation's natural gas industry at the start of 1955 will bring new or additional natural gas service to 76 major cities, the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Assn. said yesterday.

Reporting on a study of expansion projects either authorized by the Federal Power Commission as of Jan. 1 or awaiting FPC approval, the GAMA came up with these results:

Projects authorized or pending as of the first of the year will involve the expenditure of 920 million dollars and will push the industry's total postwar expansion close to the five billion dollar mark.

Projects approved by the FPC during 1954 will add approximately 1¾ billion cubic feet of natural gas to the daily delivery capacity of existing facilities at a cost of 451 million dollars. More than a million tons of line pipe will be required for transportation and gathering lines which will bring either new or additional natural gas service to 76 cities of 50,000 or more population as well as hundreds of smaller communities.

In addition to this authorized construction, GAMA said, projects pending FPC approval Jan. 1 included 5,251 miles of pipeline requiring 1,223,000 tons of line pipe and a total expenditure of 469 million dollars.

AT-T Offers Reward for Trunk Cable Thief

DETROIT (AP) — American Telephone and Telegraph Co. has offered a $300 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the theft of 500 feet of trunk line cable near Flat Rock.

Thieves cut and sole the cable Wednesday night.

Escapes Serious Hurt

MUSKEGON (AP) — Gilbert Dias, 40, escaped with minor injuries when he was thrown from his automobile in a two-car collision in Muskegon yesterday.

But his car went on to: jump a curb; drive over a lawn, break two lawn chairs, smash an eight-foot section fence, plow through a garage wall and pushed a parked car through the opposite side of the garage.

Air-Conditioner Failure Caused by Dirty Filters

Word has seeped down to us that a lot of window air conditioners that were keeping rooms nice and cool a few years back aren't doing the job that they used to do. Trouble seems to be that when the original service contract ran out after the unit had been installed for a year or so, no one bothered much about the machine and now it's beginning to show.

* * *

One of the first things you want to check on your unit is the filter—if the filter is dirty—and it will get dirty after a time—the fan just won't be able to blow air through it. Some types of filters can be cleaned—others must be replaced. They aren't expensive and can be purchased from a dealer handling your particular brand of conditioner.

* * *

While you are at it, check the tension on the belt between motor and compressor. If it is worn or loose it may be slipping and this will mean that only a portion of the power developed by the motor is reaching the compressor.

FOLDING SAW HORSE, designed for safety, can be used for scaffolding, picnic table support, or in the workshop.

Building Tools Now Glamorous

Homeowner's Resolution Not to Buy Broken at Sight of Items

Something new is always appearing on the market to break a home owner's perennial resolution, such as "This is the last thing I'm going to do around this house." When you say that, you aren't looking in a hardware store window or chatting with Fred over at the building supply house.

* * *

So much glamour is being put into many of the new products that it is difficult to resist them. Consider the new hammers.

You probably have a perfectly good hammer with a hickory handle, but you'll probably wind up with two or more hammers when you examine the newest tools.

For instance there's a downright beautiful hammer with a bright red fiberglas handle. Now you wouldn't think that glass could be used in any fashion for the violent use demanded of a hammer handle.

But fiberglas reinforcing of plastic makes this handle stronger than steel, shock-proof to your hand and wrist, as well as permanently sealed into the hammer head.

The shock-absorbing handle idea to end "handle back talk," or impact vibration, is geting to be popular. Another new hammer now on the market, features indestructibility with a chrome-plated tubular alloy steel handle equipped with a perforated rubber fiber grip.

This grip is nonslip even when wet, or when you use it while wearing gloves. The hammer head can't fly off because the shaft is wedged into the head and permanently locked with a steel pin.

As for glamour, you no longer have to dream that you dwell in marble halls; you can have 'em. The Vermont marble quarries are now producing percision cut marble tile for walls and floors.

These thin slabs of genuine marble in various natural colors are a half-inch thick and available in three sizes: 8"x8", 8"x12", and 12"x12".

By cutting the marble thin, the weight is lightened so that its addition in a house would seldom create a structural problem. The tile weights 7½ pounds per square foot packed for shipment.

TILE SETTERS

Designed to be set by tile setters, the material can be applied with adhesive, according to the quarriers, over painted plaster, plywood or concrete.

Complete costs installed are estimated around $3 per square foot. Colors range from white through grays, greens, buff, reds to black.

* * *

The number of accidents among do-it-yourself home repair fans has sparked the invention of a folding saw horse. This can be used as a base for scaffolding, a support for a picnic table, or just as a sturdy saw horse in the home workshop.

John O. Nilan, vice president of the American Mutual Liability Insurance Co. of Boston, got so concerned with the rising rate of accidents among some handymen—there were 650,000 last year—that he decided to design something to end sawing on a ricketty orange crate. The folding saw horse is the result.

A knobless door latch also is being shown in hardware stores. This comprises a fingerhold plate, recessed in the stile of a door to keep a flush surface.

Instead of turning a knob to open the door, you insert a finger and pull a flat lever. You can use it with or without a locking mechanism.

Plucky Wren Misnamed Stupid Returns to Owner

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—More than a year ago a tiny wren fell on a freighter's deck 200 miles at sea.

* * *

He put it in a cage. But soon he allowed it freedom of the ship as the vessel called at Adak, Okinawa, Japan and San Francisco.

* * *

In Seattle Clausen took the wren 25 miles inland and turned it loose. Next morning the bird was pecking at Clausen's cabin door for his morning ration.

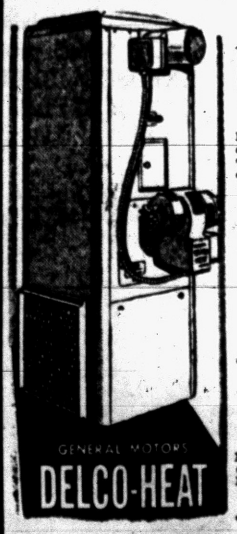

The bird can keep going to sea with Clausen as long as it wants.

Foliage Aids Cooling

Air conditioning experts say that trees near your house will help keep your house cool. Vines growing on the walls, shrubbery planted near the house and green lawns also cut the effect of the summer sun.

Between the highest and the lowest points in Colorado there is a difference of more than 11,000 feet in altitude.

Try Sandpaper to Keep Pine Paneling Light

Time was—and it wasn't so very long ago that—when the standard treatment for pine paneling was three or more coats of linseed oil and that was that.

As far as a finish goes, there was nothing wrong with the linseed oil except that it was sort of dark to begin with and became darker and darker as time went on. It also gave a lot of people the idea that this was the only type of finish to use on pine. Well, it isn't.

The modern trend in finishing off woodwork inside the house is to keep it on the light side. Now all woods, regardless of the finish will darken with age and when you finish off an entire wall with a certain finish it will appear darker than the same finish applied to a small scrap of wood sample.

The first step in finishing off pine paneling is to sand it with No. 00 sandpaper to get it nice and smooth. Now if you want to give it a stain, apply it now and wipe off almost immediately. If it comes out too light, you can apply another coat of stain but the chances are that the first application will do the trick.

Now as far as stains go you can use such colors as light walnut, maple, driftwood, etc. If you wish, you can use colors—green, blue, beige, etc. These are applied in the same manner as the wood stains—brushed on and then wiped off. After the stain is dry, apply two or more coats of shellac.

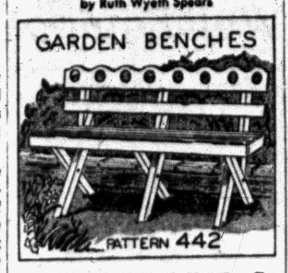

There is nothing in the book that says that pine paneling can't be painted either. Use a good grade interior wall paint and you'll end up with a very effective looking wall.

Use Common Sense

Sound common sense is the chief criterion in modern building. That's why so many new homes have their "front" looking over the rear yard. Almost invariably the view is better: Sloping lawns, pleasant wooded areas. What pleasure is there in a street, essentially a service artery, and the vacant stare of another house across the way? Porches, too, have evolved into quarry terraces in the rear of the house. It just makes better sense.

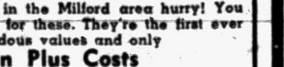

Workshop Patterns

OUTDOOR FURNITURE—Besides being a most practical piece of outdoor furniture this bench should add interest and simple charm to any yard or garden. The pattern gives cutting diagrams for three different styles that may be used for the back. All three are made from stock sizes of inexpensive lumber. This pattern 42 will be mailed for 25c. Available in packets of five standard size patterns at $1, each packet, are: Lawn & Garden Figures, packets No. 1 and 2; Home Improvements, packets 1 and 2; Lawn & Garden Furniture, packets 1 and 2. Any of these packets may be returned for refund if any single pattern in a packet is not useful.

USE RULER—Circles of almost any size are easy to draw by using a ruler for a compass. By drilling a small hole at the end you can use a thumb tack for a pivot. Other holes at measurement points admit the lead of a pencil for various radii.

Humidity Is Costly

If home humidity were not controlled — through dehumidification in summer (and humidification in winter)—it would cost an average of $40 damage per house among the nation's 50 million homes, heating engineers estimate.

Check Power Tools

Most power tools, especially the portable types, come with a special grounding wire that can be fastened to the frame of the outlet box. But before you put much faith in this connection, check or have your electrician check to be sure that the outlet box is actually grounded. Some are but many, because of faulty electrical connections, are not.

Apply Muriatic Acid to Remove Powder

Q — What can be done to remove the whitish powder that has formed on the surface of our basement floor?—P.D.

A — If it will not wash off apply a dilute solution of muriatic acid (one part acid to five to 10 parts of water) with a fiber brush. Mix the solution only in glass, porcelain or earthenware containers and pour the acid into the water, not the reverse. Wear rubber gloves and protect other exposed parts of the body while mixing and applying the solution. First thoroughly wet the floor, then apply the solution to small areas at a time. Flush each area with water immediately after treatment.

Red Makes Comeback

Red is a big comeback color in modern home decorating. It's used today because a new trend is toward brilliants, gay and lively. Splashs of warm red in the home do the same thing to our visual senses as proper piquant seasoning does to our palates. A tile entranceway, for instance, gives a bright cheery welcome in fresh red to all callers.

Township Clerk Vote Canvass Permitted

LANSING (AP)—Atty. Gen. Thomas M. Kavanagh held today that township clerks may appoint deputies to go from door to door registering voters.

Answering a question from Rep. Raymond D. Dzendzel (D-Detroit), the Attorney General said the law permits a township clerk to register voters wherever he may be.

"The Legislature has specifically recognized and authorized the practice by local clerks of making a house-to-house canvas for the purpose of checking election registration records," Kavanagh said.

In another opinion, the Attorney General held that a group of Upper Peninsula credit unions could not join together to form a central or "regional" credit union.

Man Walks Into Car, Hurt, Then Arrested

POCATELLO, Idaho (AP)—Some days a pedestrian doesn't have a chance. Take Lewis Hootchew, 59, for example.

Police said he walked into the side of a moving car driven by Janice Payne, 19, Pocatello. They said he received slight injuries.

As if that wasn't enough, police then arrested him on a charge of failing to yield the right of way.

Newest Miniature Radio Will Aid Fallen Fliers

BALTIMORE (AP)—The Air Force has announced an improved miniature emergency radio with which a downed airman could help direct his own rescue.

The 20 cubic inch set weighs only 15 ounces. It will transmit from 50 to 100 miles under normal conditions, the Air Research and Development Command said.

Brazil to Arbitrate India-Portugal Row

NEW DELHI, India (AP)—Authoritative sources said today Prime Minister Nehru's government has approved Lisbon's request that Brazil handle estranged Portugal's interests with this country.

Electric Stoves Rise

OTTAWA — A recent survey shows that 1,456,000 of the estimated 3,734,000 households in Canada cook on electric stoves, 1,243,000 on wood or coal ranges, 798,000 on gas stoves, and 196,000 on kerosene or oil stoves.

Hardtops Take Public's Fancy

Auto Manufacturers Say Most Makes Will Present New Stylization

By DAVID J. WILKIE

They will be offered in both the two and four door types. They will be offered by those car makers still building six cylinder cars.

* * *

No styling change of the last couple of decades has been as widely accepted as the new body design that gives all the comforts and facility for open air driving excepting the lowered top. And even a folding top is being considered by the body engineers and stylists.

The four-door hardtop has been in the market less than a year. Already it is accounting for an increasing percentage of the output of the companies producing it. Its design presented construction problems in providing means for hanging both front and rear doors and at the same time eliminating the conventional center pillars.

Pillars for the four-door models extend only as high as what is known as the belt line. Even these pillars some day may disappear entirely. Just how provision will be made for hinges or latches has not been suggested. It has been said in some quarters, however, that plastic tops eventually will appear on many hardtops. This would greatly ease the stress on corner uprights.

* * *

Advocates of the two and four door hardtop body styling are emphatic in saying these designs eventualy will replace the conventional two and four door sedan bodies. They agree this may take several years.

PRICE WILL DROP

Hardtop models presently are priced at about $150 more than the regulation sedan models. This price differential probably would disappear if the traditional sedan bodies were withdrawn from production.

Several car makers already producing hardtops have dropped the conventional two-door sedan. Others undoubtedly will dispense with the conventional unit with the introduction of their initial hardtops in the 1956 lineup.

From the stylists viewpoint the hardtop has offered opportunity to improve eye-appeal. These specialists say that holds true both in the two and the four-door models.

MAJOR DEVELOPMENT

Besides the production of a greatly increased number of hardtops the 1956 model year will mark the virtually complete adaptation of the wrap around windshield by the car makers.

The swing to hardtop styling and its quick public acceptance have been among the auto industry's major postwar developments. Curved body shells and doors probably will be the next major change on body styling. In some instances the 1957 model year will see car doors extending well into the car roof.

The experts say this departure from traditional body styling will not interfere with further development of the hardtop concept. However, with door tops curved to match the contour of the car roof in some instances, there is considerable speculation as to just where the glass goes when it is lowered.

* * *

Styling authorities say the door top will be curved but the glass in it, while also curved, will not extend above the normal edge of the car roof; the door below the belt line will be so contoured as to accommodate the lesser curve of the door glass.

Business Briefs

Effective Monday, all Morley Brothers Detroit branch operations will be transferred to their new office-warehouse at 3000 W. 14 Mile Road, Royal Oak.

The million dollar building which was specially designed for Morley Brothers is said to be the largest and most efficient plant for the distribution of appliances, floor covering and hardware in this area.

President Walter E. Otto announced the promotion of R. I. Elmers to the post of vice president, general sales manager of Michigan Mutual Liability Company, effective Aug. 25.

Elmers has been with the Company since 1926, when he joined the Underwriting Department.

ICC Authorizes Issue of Ludington Rail Stock

WASHINGTON (AP) —The Interstate Commerce Commission has authorized the Ludington & Northern Railway of Ludington, to issue 4,200 additional shares of $25 par value common stock as a stock dividend.

Distribution will be on a basis of seven additional shares for each share now held.

'Have a Go at It' So He Swims the English Channel

CALAIS, France (AP)—"Get in the water and have a go — or come home and face the music."

So he did.

This morning—14 hours and 6 minutes later—he walked out of the water on the French side.

Big Bill, a 32-year-old, 252-pounder, said he was making the swim "simply to satisfy the people of Bloxwich." His hometown raised a thousand dollars for his expenses.

He had been waiting around Dover four weeks for favorable weather. Yesterday a deputation from Bloxwich told him to get going or get home.

Truman Opening His Speaking Tour Tonight

FRENCH LICK, Ind. (AP)—Indiana Democrats came to French Lick DAY FOR THE OPE OF Harry S. today for the opening of Harry S. Truman's speaking tour at the 75th anniversary banquet of the Indiana Democratic Editorial Assn., tonight.

The speech is the first of five the former president has scheduled the next several weeks. He is expected to lambast the Republicans in the style of his successful 1948 campaign.

From here Truman will go to Mackinac Island to speak to the Michigan Democratic Conference Monday.

LT. and MRS. CURTIS PEARSALL

Keego Newlyweds to Live Near AF Base in Texas

KEEGO HARBOR—Lt. and Mrs. Curtis Pearsall left on a wedding trip to Northern Michigan following the Saturday evening candlelight ceremony at Lutheran Church of the Ascension, Pontiac, which united them in marriage.

The bride, Patricia Graves, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Graves of Keego Harbor. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Pearsall, also of Keego.

Mrs. Joy Dues was her sister's matron of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Nancy Bradburn and Shirley Ferris. Margo Graves, another sister of the bride, acted as flower girl.

Best man for the occasion was Robert Bradburn of Keego Harbor. Ushers were Carl Chissus of Waterford and Maynard Pearsall of Keego Harbor.

Thhe couple will return to live in Sherman, Texas, near Perrin Air Force Base, where Curtis is to be stationed.

MR. AND MRS. L. ROUDABUSH

Lloyd Roundabush Takes Pearl C. Morse as Bride

OXFORD—A four o'clock wedding at the home of Judge Fred F. Stevens of Oxford, Saturday, united in marriage Pearl Carmen Morse and Lloyd W. Roudabush.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Morse of Oxford. Lloyd is the son fo John Roudabush, also of Oxford.

The bride was dressed in a white lace and nylon tulle gown, with matching veil cascading from her cap-type headpiece. Her flowers were red and white roses.

Carrie V. Claycomb of Oxford was the bride's only attendant and Edmund W. Bonestul of Lapeer acted as best man for the bridegroom.

Brucker Promises New Weapon Study

WASHINGTON (AP) — Wilber M. Brucker, new Secretary of the Army, promises research on new weapons will be given "the highest possible priority" because the Army "must be foremost" in this field.

To this end, Brucker yesterday created the post of Director of Research and Development. He announced the job would be filled by William H. Martin, a former vice president of Bell Telephone Laboratories. Martin has been a Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense.

The Hoover Commission on government reorganization said earlier this year that military research has not been "sufficiently daring and imaginative."

New Pastor Arrives at Church in Romeo

ROMEO — New pastor of the Free Methodist Church here is the Rev. Vernon Boshart, former minister of the Free Methodist Church in Perry. He replaces the Rev. C. A. Van Horn, who moved to Fenton with his family last week.

The new minister is married and the father of three children; Dan, 15, Judy, 12, and Sheryl, 9.

Michigan Heir Would Have Been Really 'Burned'

Sid Nicholson, who handled the elder Kingston's estate, searched off and on for three years for the cash. He finally gave up and yesterday started to burn odds and ends that were left.

Just as he was about to toss a battered suitcase on the bonfire in his backyard he noticed it had a false bottom. In the false bottom he found the money in $100 bills.

Detroit TB Society Hits Howell Move

Detroit's Tuberculosis and Health Society yesterday criticized proposals to convert the Howell State Tuberculosis Sanatorium to care for mental defectives.

The society, in a letter to the Legislature, warned that transferring patients to other hospitals farther from their homes would increase walkouts and an ensuing danger of spreading tuberculosis.

U-M Museum Accepts Gift of 17 Live Snakes

ANN ARBOR (AP)—The University of Michigan Museum plans an exhibit of 17 live rattlesnakes presented by Keith Campbell of Ann Arbor.

Unknown Woman Killed on the Willow Run Xway

DETROIT (AP) —An unidentified woman about 45 was killed last night when struck by a truck on the Willow Run expressway in suburban Dearborn.

The truck driver, Harod Reggenbach, of Van Wert, Ohio, told police the woman was walking in the middle of the expressway and that he did not see her until too late to avoid striking her. He was not held.

Father of Electronics Industry Honored at 82

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Dr. Lee De Forest, whose three-element radio vacuum tube fathered the electronics industry, marked his 82nd birthday amid international honors yesterday.

Congratulations and awards added to De Forest's laurels included medals from the veteran Wireless Telegraphers Assn. and the Radio Aficionados of Spain.

Mother Killed in Crash

GM Car Sales Record Broken

August Period Purchase Exceeds All-Time High in Company History

Retail sales of new General Motors passenger cars in the United States during the second 10 days of August reached an all-time high for that period, GM President Harlow H. Curtice announced today.

The record sales for the period brought new General Motors car sales for the first 20 days of August to 215,218, or 145 per cent of the corresponding 1954 period, and for the year through August 20 to 2,474,585, or 138.9 per cent of the total for the same period last year. Both figures represent all-time highs for those periods.

New car sales by General Motors dealers during the August 11-20 period totaled 108,366, higher than in any previous second 10 days in August and 135.4 per cent of the figure for the corresponding period in 1954, Mr. Curtice said.

Used car sales by GM dealers for the second 10 days in August were 140,745, or 126.5 per cent of the same period last year.

Chrysler Boyhood Home Dedicated as Memorial

ELLIS, Kan. (AP) — The boyhood home of Walter P. Chrysler, founder of the Chrysler Corp., was dedicated today as a memorial to this community's most famous son.

The company purchased the home to present it to Ellis as a memorial.

K. T. Keller, Chrysler board chairman, presented the deed to the home to Weldon Johnson, mayor of Ellis, in a ceremony in front of the late industrialist's small white frame house.

Secretary of Labor Talks With Ike Today

DENVER (AP)—President Eisenhower booked a conference with Secretary of Labor Mitchell today for what the Cabinet officer called a "discussion of labor department problems."

Mitchell declined to elaborate on arrival in town last night for the meeting at the summer White House. James C. Hagerty, presidential press secretary, told newsmen he had "no idea" why the conference was arranged.

Placed on Probation

California Official Slain on Eve of Wedding Day

* * *

Police Chief August G. Kettman said robbery apparently was the murder motive, for Graham sometimes carried large sums of money and was known to have been on a round of night clubs Thursday night, probably in celebration of his impending mariage.

Graham, 60, a widower, was known as a friendly, convival man. His fiance, Mrs. Marie Everett, 47, Pittsburgh, Pa., divorcee, arrived at Los Angeles International Airport last night, expecting to be met by Graham.

Instead, she was met by Policeman Nick Mas and Miss Lyn Waite, Graham's secretary, who told her what happened. She collapsed. Then she sobbed:

"He wrote me every day. He didn't have an enemy in the world."

* * *

She said she had been in Germany visiting a son. She and Graham had planned to be married next week, she said, and go to Yellowstone National Park on their honeymoon.

Graham's body was found yesterday in the blood-spattered kitchen of his home where he lived alone. A sheet, twisted around his neck, also was knotted around his hands behind his back.

Police found a mixed cocktail in the kitchen, an unopened ber can in the living room. They theorized that Graham might have been slain while mixing a drink for someone he met Thursday night. An empty money clip was on the sink.

* * *

Later Graham's empty wallet and automobile were found 20 miles away on a road in Banning.

Detroit Policeman Saves Speedster From Burning Car

DETROIT (AP)—The pursuer rescued the pursued last night when a policeman pulled a man from the flaming wreckage of his car after chasing him for speeding through a stop sign at 60 miles an hour.

Patrolman Earl Bohde and a bystander pulled Arhold J. Dotzon, 30, of Highland Park, from his car after it collided with another, caught fire and rolled over.

Dotzon is a police prisoner at Receiving Hospital where he is recovering from burns on both arms. He was charged with reckless driving.

Harold Warmuskerken, driver of the other car, and his two sons, Kenneth, 11, and George, 7, were treated at St. Joseph Hospital and released.

Police Hunt for Stolen Out-Sized Dollar Bills

DETROIT (AP) — Police today searched for some $3,000 in old outsize dollar bills stolen from a trunk in the home of George Kugath, 49.

Kugath said the bills belonged to his parents.

Eagles Plan Annual Picnic for Tomorrow

Fraternal Order of Eagles Aerie No. 1230 will hold its annual picnic starting at noon tomorrow, Pontiac Eagles, their wives and friends will attend the affair.

Free ice cream, bubble gum, suckers, and balloons will be available for the youngsters. Polkas, modern and old-time dancing starts at 4 p.m.

Prizes will go to the largest family, the oldest couple and the youngest married couple present. Foot races begin at 1:30 p.m., and refreshments will be available.

The picnic grounds at Kerr Farm Park may be reached by driving out Auburn Avenue to Crooks road, north across the railroad tracks, then turning east on Hamlin Road to the park.

Odder Than Odd: Airplane Landing on Moving Truck

"I thought he was going to take us all the way to Kamiah," a town 20 miles down the road, said startled pilot Merel Bowler, 45, after his high-wing light plane had used the 50-foot truck-trailer top as a mobile landing field.

* * *

An equally amazed truck driver, Lloyd Coons, 27, wasn't aware anything unusual had happened and continued down the highway for 200 yards after the novel landing.

"I couldn't see anything in my rear view mirror," Coons said, "then a wing tipped and I saw a shadow. I stopped."

The driver's only indication of the incident had been a slight jar and a noise.

"The speeds of the truck and the plane were so close to identical that I hardly felt anything," he said. "I thought at first I had hit a chuck hole or a bump."

* * *

Bowler, with the plane's owner Rex Yates as passenger, was letting down for a landing at the runway which runs parallel to the highway. Trees obscured his vision of the road.

Deputy Sheriff Chris Fredricksen had perhaps the best word picture of the incident.

Color Television Sets Costs to Drop Next Year

LOS ANGELES (INS) — Vice President Henry Argento of Raytheon Manufacturing Co. predicts that color TV sets will be in full mass production by fall and prices soon will become lower.

The Chicago manufacturer told newsmen in Los Angeles that all major television producers will be turning out color sets within weeks and the increased output inevitably will cut the cost.

Argento forecast that 7,300,000 TV sets will be sold in 1955, making it by far the industry's biggest year.

Actress Arlene Dahl —an Anemia Victim!

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK—Arlene Dahl, take the stand!

Q—(Long distance, NY to LA)—"What are you doing in that hospital . . . having a baby?"

A—"I hoped my first hospital trip would be to have a baby—but I'm just anemic.

A—Thank you, but the doctor says I must rest a month."

While Arlene was answering all these questions for me, Dave Preston, charged up and good-humoredly informed Arlene that "War and Peace" is "guaranteed to be a flop."

"With Audrey Hepburn, and Mel Ferrer, and Henry Fonda in it!" Arlene exclaimed.

I thought Miss Dahl had been mighty nice about the whole thing and we let her go with our good wishes.

As I walked through the lobby, a stranger asked me, "Who is that girl?"

"No, no!" his wife rebuked him. "Don't you know . . . she's the one who's married to Fernando Landis!"

Two days later Arlene was in the hospital.

City Uses Fireworks to Scare Starlings

EAST LANSING (AP)—East Lansing is using a Rube Goldberg apparatus that produces a big bang to try to frighten away its starlings. Police Chief Charles F. Pegg came up with the weapon in the local war against the noisy birds.

Washtubs or pails full of firecrackers are hoisted into the treetops. The explosives are set off with a long dynamite fuse—the washtub acting as a sounding board to magnify the explosion.

Pegg said starlings frightened away by the racket haven't yet flocked back into the neighborhood.

Mutiny Message Sent From Swede Freighter

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—The 1,870-ton Swedish freighter Dorotea flashed a distress call from mid-Atlantic today that she had "crew trouble" aboard and the captain was being kept prisoner in his cabin.

The brief apeal from the radio operator of the Dorotea — en route from Brazil to South Africa — was picked up by a Capetown Coastal radio station. An unidentified vessel near the Dorotea also intercepted the call and relayed it to the Goteborg radio station on Sweden's west coast.

MARCH OF TIME

Sweeney played the emcee and March a contestant — the same Hal March who now is emcee of "The $64,000 Question." In kidding the show, Sweeney & March used what they thought then was a "preposterous figure"—$64,000 . . .

Jap Babies Die of Poison Milk

39 Dead, 4,448 Sick From Arsenic - Loaded Powdered Food

TOKYO (AP) — Many Japanese babies went without milk today as the national toll of poisoned powdered milk victims rose to 39 dead and 4,448 sick.

Alarmed families were reported feeding their children thin rice gruel instead of suspected dry milk in the numerous areas where fresh milk is unavailable. Newspapers and radio broadcasts alerted parents to the danger.

* * *

"A considerable amount of arsenic" in one brand of powdered milk was blamed for the poisoning in a preliminary report of the national hygienic laboratory.

The Osaka University medical department said it had detected radioactivity in the same brand.

Health authorities reported the arsenic definitely did not come from enriching calcium which was produced in a lime plant near an arsenic mine.

Teen TV Speller Attending Family Prayer Meeting

BALTIMORE (INS)—A 12-year-old Baltimore school girl, who is spelling her way to a small fortune on the TV quiz show, "The 64,000 Question," is looking forward to tomorrow as one of the most fateful days in her life.

On that day, Gloria Lockerman will meet in Gap Mills, W. Va., with 200 relatives and close friends who will try and help her decide whether to keep the $16,000 she has already won or try for $32,000.

* * *

Gloria's grandfather, the Rev. Vivian T. Key, pastor of the Orchard Street Methodist Church in Baltimore, called for the conference and prayer meeting to help the young girl make her decision.

The youthful spelling whiz has lived with her grandparents since she was a baby when her parents were divorced.

Gloria's father, James Lockerman, a Philadelphia Navy Yard worker, is now studying for a master's degree at Temple University. Her mother, Mrs. Vivian Singleton, is a widow with three children by her second husband.

If Gloria should decide to try for the $32,000 question and fail, she will be assured of $4,000 in a trust fund for her education.

But win or lose, the pert miss from Baltimore has made a lasting impression on eleviewers and spellers throughout the natioin.

Air Force Plane Crashes at Missouri Air Drome

The copilot, Lt. Joseph A. Sheppard of Overland Park, Kan., suffered a laceration on the head. No one else was hurt.

The plane from the Grandview, Mo., AFB, undershot the runway, ripped off its landing gear in a ditch and skidded to a stop on its belly about 200 yards along the highway. Firemen doused the flames.

Francis Vaccine Report Ended Long Wait

(The following questions and answers—last of a series—dealing with the Salk anti-polio vaccine is printed by the Pontiac Press as a public service. The information was compiled by the National Association for Infantile Paralysis, Inc., and distributed through its Oakland County Chapter.)

Q. When did the National Foundation learn the results of the evaluation?

A. — At 8:30 on the morning of April 12, 1955, just before the detailed report was presented to a scientific meeting at the University of Michigan in Ann Arbor.

In conformance with scientific practice, Dr. Francis declined to make any of his report public until it had been presented to his professional colleagues.

Q. Why was there so much publicity about the Francis Report?

A. — The public had been waiting for it for more than nine months. Millions of people had been raising money and working for a preventive against polio for more than 17 years. The field trials involved the participation of 1,830,000 youngsters and 314,000 lay and professional volunteers.

There was naturally a tremendous desire to find out whether the vaccine worked and, if so, how well. The answers to these questions were bound to be front-page news. News media naturally "play up" news they know the public wants.

Q. Why were there delays in the 1955 school vaccination program?

Some delay was inevitable. No new pharmaceutical product can ever be produced in sufficient supply to meet the earliest demands. The National Foundation had ordered $9,000,000 worth of vaccine before the evaluation results were known, but large-scale production for general use had to await the Francis Report.

In addition, after the vaccine was licensed, new and more stringent testing regulations were established by the Public Health Service, which necessitated retesting of some already-manufactured vaccine and new procedures for the manufacture and testing of subsequent vaccine.

These standards were devised for the protection of the public and were considered essential to justify public confidence, despite necessary delays.

Q. Is gamma globulin the same as polio vaccine?

A. — No, it is an entirely different product, derived from human blood which contains polio-fighting antibodies "borrowed" from other people. It is a temporary preventive only, its effect lasting from six to eight weeks. If given before natural exposure to the virus, there is considerable evidence that GG is effective in preventing paralytic polio.

If given shortly after exposure (within a very few days) it may act to reduce the severity of any paralysis that occurs. GG, which in 1953 and 1954 was controlled by the Federal Government, now is decontrolled and may be purchased by physicians.

The National Foundation also has a considerable supply, purchased with March of Dimes funds, available upon request of state or local health officers for use in combatting epidemics.

Q. — What research still is needed in the vaccine field?

A. — Research is continuing, financed by the March of Dimes, to improve the Salk vaccine, to ascertain how long its effects last, to determine the best time intervals and size of doses for long-lasting protection and to find out if occasional booster shots of the vaccine are needed over the years.

Also, experiments are under way to discover more readily available cells in which virus for vaccine may be grown, and eliminate the need for expensive monkeys whose kidneys now are used to grow the virus. Other types of vaccine are also being sought.

Q. — What is a live virus vaccine for polio?

A. —It is another type of vaccine, still in the experimental stage. Such a vaccine would consist of live strains of polio virus which have been trained or bred to lose their ability to cause disease, but would retain the ability to stimulate antibody production.

The smallpox vaccine, commonly used, is such a preparation. No live virus polio vaccine now exists for practical use, but work toward its development continues.

Q. — Can a live virus vaccine and a "dead" virus be used together?

A. — Theoretically, yes. It has been suggested that the final answer to polio prevention might come from an injection of a vaccine like Dr. Salk's, followed by an injection of a live virus vaccine.

This procedure will be studied, but obviously must wait for the development of a suitable live virus preparation.

Q. — How much did it cost to develop a polio vaccine?

A. — Records at the National Foundation indicate that $25,500,000 was used to support all virus research and the field trial up to the Francis Report. This includes research done by many scientists over many years.

The 1954 field trial alone was supported by $7,500,000 in March of Dimes funds. Dr. Salk's work has been supported by nearly $2,000,000 and he is receiving continued support for his present research on improvement of the vaccine.

Q. — When will adequate supplies of vaccine be available?

A. — This is impossible to predict. Manufacturers are continuing to produce it and as lots are cleared by the Public Health Service, supplies will go to the states under the governmental plan for voluntary control. The National Foundation has concluded its summer program but will supply vaccine in the the fall for second shots for children who have not received them when school reopens.

Q. — Is polio conquered yet?

A. — No. But we are at the beginning of the end. When vaccine supplies allow vaccination of all those in the most susceptible groups, we should see a diminishing rate of paralytic polio. But it is expected that large numbers of cases will occur in 1955 and perhaps in 1956.

The National Foundation will continue its research and professional education programs, and must continue to provide care for the many patients for whom any vaccine comes too late.

AT THE FARM—6
The Water Pump

Barnyard animals need fresh, clean water. If you visit a farm during the summer you will see many of them at watering places. Often there is a pump to supply the water.

You can have a pump for your barnyard. Paste this picture on thin cardboard. Use crayons or paints to color it as brightly as you like. Make the pump red so that it can be seen from far away.

Cut out the parts carefully and attach the pump handle with a brass fastener or a bent pin, so that it will go up and down.

Fold the ground panel forward and the end panel back. Then the pump will stand up.

If you have saved and cut out all the animals in this week's series you and your friends can visit your farm all year round.

Chileans Use Troops to Avert Strike Riots

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP) — Troops were dispatched to key points in Chile today as the government clamped a state of emergency on two provinces to avert trouble in the crippling strike of 50,000 government workers.

* * *

Gen. Horacio Gamboa, chief of the capital's garrison, posted 15,000 soldiers in Santiago and sent armed units into the interior as the provinces of Santiago and Concepcion were placed on an emergency alert.

The strikers are demanding wage boosts of 60 to 100 per cent to meet soaring living costs. They have rejected the government's offer of a 35 per cent increase.

The walkout affects public health services, the social security system, the treasury department, income tax department, customs houses, port services and pension payment operations.

Leather Notable Dead

HOLLAND (AP)—Charles B. Eldridge, former secretary-treasurer of Armour Leather Co. in Chicago, died Wednesday at the Pine Rest Sanatarium in nearby Cutlerville. He was 76. Eldridge retired from the leather firm in 1942 and moved to Ottawa County a year later.

'Security Risks' Inquiry Ready

Senate Group Schedules Probe of Administration 'Handling' of Suspects

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Eisenhower administration's handling of "security risks" — a prospective 1956 campaign issue — is ticketed for a public inquiry next week by a special Senate subcommittee.

Chairman Johnston (D-SC) announced without elaboration yesterday the Monday-through-Thursday hearings would cover 11 cases, including the controversial treatment of Wolf Ladejinsky and Abraham Chasanow.

Ladejinsky is the Russian-born land reform specialist fired by Secretary of Agriculture Benson as a security risk last December and hired with full security clearance by the Foreign Operations Administration in January. He now holds a top U.S. foreign aid post in Indochina, advising on land reform. He works for the International Cooperation Administration, FOA's successor.

* * *

Benson has since ordered his department's records changed so Ladejinsky would no longer be listed as a security risk.

Johnston said two Agriculture Department officials on whose advice Benson fired Ladejinsky will be called to testify.

Benson Advocates Food Sales to Reds

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Agriculture Benson said today he is "inclined to favor" sales of surplus perishable foodstuffs to Iron Curtain countries.

"I should be inclined to favor such sales if it fitted in with our foreign policies, as I believe it would," Benson said.

In a news conference in Moscow yesterday, Sen. Ellender (D-La) said Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan told him Russia does not need any U.S. agricultural products now.

Granville Liles, chief park ranger, said today Mrs. Augusta Thegley of Modoc, Ill., was bitten on the forehead while in her parked car on U. S. 441.

"Someone in the car, not Mrs. Thegley, threw out some potato chips, which the bear ate," Liles said. "Then it came back to the car, reached in and bit Mrs. Thegley."

British Labor Post Battle in Showdown

LONDON (AP)—A showdown fight that could determine who will lead Britain's ailing Labor party, shaped up today as leftwing Aneurin Bevan sought to unseat moderate Hugh Gaitskell for the post of party treasurer.

* * *

The two political rivals were both nominated for the post now held by Gaitskell—leaving the final choice up to the party's annual conference at Margate Oct. 10-14.

Gaitskell who trounced Bevan for the post last year, was a heavy favorite again this time. Delegates of the larger trade unions control the party conference and most of these unions are believed behind Gaitskell.

* * *

The treasurership carries with it a seat on the party's National Executive Committee. Through it both men hope to win the big plum—leadership of the Socialist party now held by aged, ailing Clement Attlee.

West Michigan Fair

LUDINGTON (AP) — Races, contests, agricultural activities and stage entertainments are announced as features of the annual West Michigan Free Fair at Ludington, Aug. 31-Sept. 3.
