Auto Leaves Road

FARMINGTON — A 21-year-old Farmington man was killed instantly when his car crashed into a one-room frame school house near Monroe at dawn today.

Henry Carter of 21876 Colgate St. died of a fractured neck and crushed chest. His passenger, Nels T. Larson, 24, of Livonia suffered shock and minor injuries.

Monroe County Deputy Sheriff Vernon Van Buskirk said the car left a country road at a curve and plunged into the front of the school, 174 feet from the road. Half of the car went through the front, knocking over desks. Damage was estimated at $500.

The crash occurred a few hours before pupils were to assemble for classes in one of the state's few remaining one-room schools. Known as McGowan School, it is located eight miles northwest of Monroe in Exeter Township.

It will be closed until repairs can be made. Carter was a recently discharged paratrooper.

Lockout Turns Out to Be Really Lock In

DETROIT (AP)—Two men from the City Treasurer's office padlocked the coin and stamp store of Joseph F. Drake yesterday, intending to lock him out for non-payment of a tax claim.

But Drake, 49, wasn't locked out. He was locked in.

He told police, who responded to a man-locked-in-building alarm, that he must have been sleeping when the tax men came.

Geneva Talks as West
Rejects Request

GENEVA (AP)—The Soviet Union today proposed immediate admission of Communist Poland and Czechoslovakia at the foreign ministers conference.

The West refused and the formal session ended with the dispute still unsettled.

The argument over the two East European countries might tie up the conference in a long procedural wrangle which could delay work on Berlin and German problems.

But one Western delegate said he did not believe the Soviets would insist too long on expanding the conference.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko spoke for the two Soviet satellites, saying they should be brought in to work on the German problems because they had suffered more than other countries in World War II.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter, Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and Foreign Secretary Maurice Couve de Murville of France spoke out in succession against adding other nations at this time.

They urged Gromyko to shelve the proposal for the time being, an American spokesman said, and to let the Big Four get on with a discussion of German problems.

U.S. Asst. Secretary of State Andrew Berding said "the meeting ended with the matter still up in the air."

Gromyko first proposed the admittance of Poland and Czechoslovakia before the opening of the conference's session.

Gromyko was the conference chairman for the day. The session originally had been scheduled to hear opening statements of policy from the four ministers.

However, the Soviet diplomat won the right for the East and West German delegations to address the conference directly.

In demanding seats for Poland and Czechoslovakia, Gromyko wants to establish the principle of numerical parity between the West and the Communists in international meetings. The West has always rejected this.

Vote to Hold
Centennial
Here in 1961

Pontiac's Centennial Advisory Committee last night voted unanimously in favor of staging a centennial here in 1961 and eyed formation of a corporate body to guide planning in two weeks.

At its first meeting, the citizens group decided a centennial celebration should be an area-wide undertaking and was told by an expert that a civic observance would have lasting benefits.

"Not only is a centennial a milestone that deserves to be celebrated for its own sake," said Wallace D. Lafferty, a professional centennial planner, "but such an observance creates favorable publicity for a community within its own boundaries, in its trading area and throughout its state."

"It fosters a spirit of goodwill and enthusiasm for a city, the same kind of spirit that sport fans feel for their hometown team."

The meeting was called by Mayor Philip E. Rowston, who announced the names of six more members of the committee, including Mrs. Dexter Kennedy, Jackie Rae Voorhees, Charles H. Allen, Thomas Horwitz, W. E. Huthwaite and R. C. Cummings.

Their appointments bring committee strength up to 36 members and there'll be more appointments soon, said Rowston.

The committee asked Rowston to have City Attorney William A. Ewart prepare articles of incorporation for its next meeting, May 25.

The Greater Pontiac Centennial Commission was the name chosen for the corporate body, which would have legal and financial responsibility for the centennial.

Rowston said that he expected members and officers of the corporation would be chosen from the ranks of the committee, but added that the advisory group would continue to have an important function after incorporation.

Lafferty urged incorporation as one of the important initial steps in centennial planning.

Hinders Music Group

By MAX E. SIMON

The Board of Education last night used a special meeting with administrators and interested community leaders as a sounding board to answer charges that its policies were sabotaging the excellence of the Pontiac Central High School Band.

The Board has promised a reply Thursday to demands of the Band Parents and Alumni Committee that the high school band be allowed two of six school periods daily for practice and that junior high students be allowed in the senior organization.

Both practices were discontinued in September of 1958.

Defending restriction of band practice to one period daily, Dr. Russell W. Curtis, coordinator of secondary education, said an additional period would interfere with other activities and subjects.

"Since certain subjects are limited to a few sections per day," Curtis said at the meeting held in McCarroll School, "a two-period band assignment will make it impossible for students to take these subjects."

Curtis also said many school officials feel that extensive drill required by the instrumental music department faculty tires students to the point that they no longer "operate efficiently during the school day."

Noting the decision to reduce band time came after long period of staff discussions, Curtis said:

"It is becoming increasingly difficult to be properly prepared for post-high school education and work without having the full educational program of the school. The student who must spend one-third of his day in band is handicapped by having only four hours, instead of five, available for his general education."

"Devoting one-third of the school day to band does not seem reasonable. This discouraged students from instrumental music participation, and this constitutes a denial of their opportunity to have this educational experience."

Dr. Dale C. Harris, instrumental music department head and band director, said that much of the band practice time was taken up by marching to the drill field more than a mile away from the school.

"The marching and playing efficiency of the band will suffer (Continued on Page 2, Col. 3)

Funds Available for Quick Cash

LANSING (UPI)—Here are the funds that could be tapped for quick cash under the Senate-approved Smeekens bill up for passage in the House today, in millions of dollars, as of May 8:

Game & fish protection fund	0.8
State aeronautics (state share)	0.9
Veterans trust fund (benefit revolving fund)	0.1
Waterways fund	0.6
Revolving funds (except Mackinac Bridge)	5.2
Receipts clearing (game and fish share)	1.6
Escheats fund (half)	1.2
Others	0.2
Total	10.6

Only half of the Escheats fund was calculated because the other half is money against which claims are anticipated in the near future.

End Prison Riot
After 14 HoursHostage Guards Freed as Tennessee Convicts Surrender

FORT PILLOW, Tenn. (UPI)—A 14-hour prison riot ended without bloodshed shortly after noon today. Two hostage guards were not harmed.

The convicts staged a noisy, window-smashing demonstration to back up their demands for "justice." They charged that white prisoners were discriminated against, and that the food at the prison was no good.

State Corrections Commissioner Keith Hampton said he would not press charges against the rioters but would transfer the ringleaders to a maximum security prison in Nashville.

"I do not consider what they did here a riot," Hampton said.

He led 11 manacled convicts downstairs to the prison office.

But throughout the night the rioting men screamed down to newsmen that they would kill the guards if their demands were not met. At one point they held a guard to a window with a knife at his back. This morning they dangled a noose out of a window.

The rioters were led in the "surrender" procession by ringleaders Leonard Thompson, 20, Minneapolis, Minn., and Johnny Roddy, 20, Jackson, Tenn.

The prisoners were seated in a waiting room downstairs in the building while newsmen and photographers grouped around to ask questions and snap pictures.

The prisoners did not talk. They ignored all questions asked.

To Hear About
Grand Rapids
Downtown Plan

What businessmen are doing to help redevelop downtown Grand Rapids will be detailed to Pontiac business Wednesday.

The Downtown Pontiac Merchants Assn. and other interested businessmen have been invited to hear a talk on the Grand Rapids movement at a luncheon sponsored in Stevens Hall by The Pontiac Press.

Speaking will be Bert Martens, one of the founders of the Downtown Council of Grand Rapids, formed last year to develop a multiple program aimed at revitalizing downtown through co-operative efforts of business and property owners.

Martens, presidential assistant in a large Grand Rapids department store, will tell of progress of the council's program.

Martens is a former instructor in business administration at Northwestern University. He holds a business degree from Northwestern and a law degree from Loyola University.

GOP MeasureWould Authorize Dip Into Funds Earmarked for Other Uses

LANSING (AP)—Gov. Williams said today he is trying to take advantage of a "one-shot proposition" in a proposal to belatedly meet last Thursday's $5,100,000 state payroll.

He told newsmen that the so-called Smeekens bill awaiting a showdown in the House "is no guarantee that subsequent payrolls could be met" for 26,000 state employees.

Many House Democrats and some Republicans rebelled last night against the governor's call for prompt passage of the bill, which would "unfreeze" certain state treasury funds now restricted to specified uses.

The measure will be debated again today.

To a reporter's question, the governor said "it doesn't appear on the surface" that the bill would authorize the state treasurer to dip into the 50 million dollar veterans trust fund.

"I don't know whether it would or not," the governor said. "We have viewed the bill only as a vehicle for meeting the last due payroll. It's hard to imagine that Sen. Smeekens wanted to get at the trust fund."

Republican leaders saw in the governor's surprise move a turnabout they said was a sign of "weakness" in the position he has held in the drawn-out stalemate over the cash emergency and a tax program.

Williams announced late yesterday the checks would be distributed if the Smeekens bill passed.

The lawmakers were groping in every direction for a compromise on taxes today, with linking a use (sales) tax increase and a corporation profits levy finding as much informal favor as any plan.

A half dozen income tax proposals circulated, including a new 700-million-dollar-a-year gross income tax patterned after Indiana's coupled with repeal of 478 millions in existing taxes. None seemed to be catching on.

There were as many or more tax packages, bringing almost every conceivable levy into one combination or another.

As Michigan's cash crisis moved into a new phase after a four months impasse, these were some of the broad ranging developments:

1. Top House Republicans turned thumbs down on a plan by Rep. Rollo G. Conlin (R-Tipton) for a "balanced" 140-million-dollar tax package keyed to a two per cent flat rate income tax. Speaker Don R. Pears (R-Buchanan) and Rep. Allison Green of Kingston, GOP floor leader, said they were against it.

2. Rep. Joseph J. Kowalski of Detroit, Democratic floor leader, worked with aides of the governor in trying to develop a program reportedly something like Conlin's.

3. Three other House Democrats led by Rep. Walter H. Nill of Muskegon capped day-long confabs by an hour's conference with the governor, and refused to be pinned down on what they were trying to do.

4. Aud. Gen. Frank S. Szymanski mailed 28 million dollars in school aid money to 2,350 local school districts. Many of them had pressed to meet May 15 payrolls and debt obligations. He said he hoped to distribute nearly 18 millions more in primary school interest fund monies, one half the amount due, within another week.

5. Williams, in a surprise move, conditionally advocated prompt payment of $3,200,000 in state payrolls skipped April 30 and last Thursday only to have House Democrats balk on the condition—passage of a Senate-approved bill to "unfreeze" certain restricted funds in the state treasury.

6. Sen. Charles O. McManis (D-Houghton) threw out the two per cent gross income tax on wages, salaries and retail and wholesale businesses, without any exemptions, as a means of raising 223 million dollars a year more (Continued on Page 2, Col. 5)

Only Wixom Is Protesting County's '59 Tax Valuation

Wixom was the only Oakland County community protesting its 1959 tax equalized valuation as the state recommended that the county's overall price tag for tax purposes be $1,822,915,000.

With the exception of rounding off the last three figures, the recommendation of the State Tax Commission coincides exactly with the value of $1,822,915,328 approved a week ago by the Board of Supervisors.

With eight other supervisors voting against the Equalization Committee's recommended total May 4, the possibility of other communities appealing existed then. However, when the five-day deadline for appeals had passed, Wixom was the only city which had carried out its intention of appealing.

Wixom claims its valuation of $18,982,952 is too high, "inequitable" and that appraisers failed to inspect the Ford Motor Co.'s Lincoln-Mercury plant in the city.

Retired Professor Killed by Car at MSU

EAST LANSING (AP) — A retired Michigan State University professor was killed in a traffic accident while he was visiting his former campus today.

The victim was Paul M. Harmer, 71, now of Jefferson, Wis., who is staying at the Kellogg Center while visiting friends on the faculty.

State Police said Harmer was struck by a car while attempting to walk across Michigan Ave. near the center, and was dead on arrival at a hospital from multiple fractures and internal injuries. The driver of the car was not held.

Police said the driver was Paul H. Barbage III, 18, an MSU freshman from Westfield, N.J.

Harmer retired in 1953 as an extension specialist in the department of soil science after 32 years on the MSU staff.

High Humidity Hangs Over Eastern U.S.

By The Associated Press

Warm and humid weather, with rain in some areas, hung over areas in the eastern quarter of the country today.

Storms which raked sections of the mid-continent over the weekend and Monday diminished and clear skies and dry weather prevailed in most regions in the western half of the nation.

The major precipitation belt during the night was near a cold front which trailed southwestward from New York state across the Ohio Valley and into the lower Mississippi Valley.

Heavy rain hit many areas as the storms broke out Monday across the Southland. More than three inches soaked McComb, Miss., and a 20-minute downpour at Columbia, S.C., measured one inch.

Showers also spread across New England from New York and Pennsylvania while scattered showers sprinkled areas in Florida in a belt of severe thunderstorms into Louisiana.

Earlier Monday destructive windstorms hammered sections of Michigan and Illinois. A fallen power line electrocuted a woman at Ann Arbor.

The warm and humid belt stretched from the Gulf States northeastward into the north Atlantic region with night temperatures in the 60s in New England.

REV. W. B. PEDERSEN

Birmingham Minister Dies

Rev. W. B. Pedersen, 53, Was Unitarian Church Pastor Since 1958

BIRMINGHAM—Memorial service for Rev. Walter B. Pedersen, minister of the Birmingham Unitarian Church, will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday at the Church of Our Father (Unitarian Universalist), Detroit.

The Rev. Mr. Pedersen died in his sleep at his home Sunday night of a heart attack. Funeral arrangements are being made by the Spiller Funeral Home in Royal Oak.

A private service was held at 2 p.m. today at White Chapel Cemetery in Troy which was followed by cremation.

He received a bachelor of arts degree from New York University in 1930 and was graduated from Harvard Divinity School in 1933, the same year he was ordained a minister.

After serving as a minister of several Unitarian churches in the East from 1933 to 1945, he became field director of the American Red Cross in Japan for 18 months. He then was employed by the U.S. government as an educational officer there to teach the principles of democracy to Japanese educators and leaders from 1946 to 1951.

From 1952-53, he was leader of the Westchester Ethical Society in New York and from 1954-58 was leader of the Cleveland Ethical Society.

Surviving are his wife, Rebecca, who is a teacher at Kingswood School; and a daughter, Carol, at home; a brother and a sister.

The family requests donations be made to the Birmingham Unitarian Church Memorial Fund.

The usual Sunday services of the congregation will not be conducted May 17.

boss at MGM, Liz' home studio, Eddie Cantor, who discovered Fisher, also has been involved.

There has been much public reaction locally against the quick divorce and marriage plans, since it has focused international attention on Nevada's quickie divorce law.

Fisher, who closed Monday night at the Tropicana Hotel here, fulfilled his six-week legal residence while singing at the hotel.

One local newspaper ran an editorial two days running, suggesting it might be a good thing for Nevada if the divorce were denied.

Fisher bought a $68,000 home from the Desert Inn Country Club as a wedding present for Miss Taylor. He said a New York decorator will work on the house while they are gone.

The couple cannot legally make California their permanent home until Miss Reynolds' decree becomes final next February.

Miss Taylor's first husband was hotelier Nicky Hilton, whom she later divorced to marry British actor Michael Wilding. They too were divorced and Miss Taylor married the late showman Mike Todd, killed a year ago last March in an air crash.

Fisher is 31. Miss Taylor and Miss Reynolds are both 27.

Didn't Scent Trouble

LONDON (UPI)—Charles Williams saw a strange striped animal ambling down his garden path and quickly threw his coat over it. Police said if the polecat is somebody's pet, will the owner please come quick. Williams was believed willing to throw in the coat, too.

"Since the people of Berkeley 'loaned' Frank to the Sheriff's Department, he has built teamwork. All Michigan is watching him and following his current lead in water safety," Lodge said.

Then he presented a gold plaque to Irons, honoring him on his "35th anniversary of faithful and conscientious law enforcement service."

600 Attend Banquet to Fete Sheriff Irons

Oakland County Sheriff Frank W. Irons was the center of attention last night as 600 friends gathered to celebrate his 35th anniversary as a law officer in Oakland County.

The occasion was a dinner honoring Irons at the Northwood Inn in Berkley, the city where he began his police career.

Gathered around the spacious head table with their wives were many Oakland County Circuit Court judges, past and present, five newly-elected circuit judges, Berkley's mayor and councilmen, former Oakland County Congressman George Dondero, and State Sen. L. Harvey Lodge (R-Oakland County).

Irons was hired as a patrolman with the Berkley Police Department on May 10, 1924.

Featured speaker at the banquet was Edward Piggins, former Detroit police commissioner and now a Wayne County Circuit Court judge.

He praised Irons as an outstanding example of devotion to law enforcement and public work.

Detroit television newscaster Paul Williams, who was master of ceremonies, said Irons "has never been a politician, odd as it may seem. He is interested only in getting the job done, which these days seems to have become an old fashioned principle."

Sen. Lodge commended the sheriff for "building a respect for law enforcement in Oakland County."

"An organization without a past has no enemies," he told the committee. "Everyone will approve it, at least initially."

Lafferty advised Pontiac to plan various types of centennial activities, stressing that communitywide participation was the goal.

"He suggested that the centennial be celebrated throughout the year, with a peak period of activity during warm weather when outdoor events are possible.

For this reason, Lafferty believed that not too much emphasis should be placed on March 15, 1961, the actual date of Pontiac's 100th anniversary as a city.

He suggested that the climax of the centennial be a giant, outdoor stage spectacular, based on historical themes and utilizing local citizens in the cast.

This is the type of show that the Rogers company usually produces during commemorative programs, Lafferty said, with the size of the cast sometimes running as high as 1,000 to 1,500.

Lafferty proposed a complex organization of private citizens working under the centennial commission, with as many as 500 volunteers working on various phases of the centennial.

"A centennial is too big of a job for any one man, it is a community effort," he stated.

Lafferty saw many civic advantages to a centennial celebration.

"A centennial brings out latent local leadership, it focuses attention on community responsibility, creating constructive forces within a community.

"It has a high educational and cultural value, and properly planned should cause surrounding areas to look to the accomplishments of your city."

Also speaking was John W. Hirlinger, manager of the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, who spoke of the chamber's interest in the centennial.

"But the centennial should not be a Chamber of Commerce event," Hirlinger believed. "It is a program for the entire community that should be carried out by the citizens themselves."

Hirlinger urged that a professional firm be hired to help plan the centennial "to avoid costly mistakes."

Board Sounds Opinion on School Band Issue

If you persist in your plans," Harris warned the Board.

"It has been said many times that my department is trying to be a law unto itself. That's absurd. And we're not losing any interest whatsoever in our work. But when the quality of the band goes down, we want it understood that we are not responsible," Harris said.

Why junior high students are no longer in the band was explained by Kenneth Nagley, principal of Washington Junior High School.

"It makes too long of a day," he contended, "and junior high students in the band were missing out on clubs, homeroom and assembly activities. Our attendance procedures were complicated by not knowing whether our students actually were at band rehearsal."

The principal said junior high musicians missed out on activities at their own schools and created a serious transportation problem, especially in winter.

Nagley also argued it was undesirable to mix junior high and high school students because of their different outlooks.

"By letting a few junior high students into the band, you're giving the impression that they're a privileged few," Nagley said. "This can't be denied."

"It's not fair to let youngsters into one high school activity and not another. Why make an exception for the band?"

Harris said the junior high students entered the band voluntarily and that the activity had "no harmful effects" on the youngsters.

"The reaction of parents to this program was favorable and students were honored to receive invitations to join the band," said

Awaiting Trial in Girl's Assault

Martin Stands Mute on Charges of Kidnaping, Raping Girl, 17

A 20-year-old ex-convict from Pontiac was returned to the Oakland County Jail yesterday after he appeared with his attorney before Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams to stand mute to charges of kidnaping and raping a 17-year-old girl.

Judge Adams entered a plea of innocent for Harold F. Martin of 739 E. Madison Ave., and set his case down for trial. Unable to furnish a $10,000 bond, Martin was returned to jail to await his trial.

Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor said this case might possibly come up during the current Circuit Court jury term. If not, it will be handled in September, Taylor said.

After he had waived the reading of the information against Martin, Paul L. Mandel, Martin's attorney and former assistant prosecutor, requested Judge Adams to order the prosecutor's office to turn over to him a statement Martin had given to the office.

Judge Adams told Taylor the statement should be given Mandel now if the trial is scheduled for this term and, if not, at least 30 days prior to when it will be heard.

Martin is charged with stealing a car from the Pontiac Motor Division parking lot April 14 and then abducting JoAnne Visure and raping her in a lonely section of Bloomfield Township.

He is awaiting a pre-trial examination on the auto theft charge in Pontiac Municipal Court. This is set for June 10.

Final Meet Set for Pontiac Lake PTA Thursday

Pontiac Lake School will hold its final Parent Teachers Association meeting of the year Thursday, in the school gym at 8 p.m. Thomas Belton, Waterford Township director of recreation, will be the featured speaker.

The Waterford Township Boys Chorus, under the direction of Francis J. Mansfield, will open the meeting. Following the business meeting newly-elected PTA officers will be installed.

They are Donald Smith, president; Mrs. Richard Morgan, vice president; Mrs. and Mrs. Eugene McCarrick, mother and father vice president; Mrs. Geraldine Bonneson, teacher vice president; Mrs. Donald Birch, secretary; Mrs. James Bishop, treasurer, and Mrs. John Shelden, historian.

Refreshments will be served by the kindergarten room mothers.

PTA members have been asked to bring to the meeting either a dish towel or dish cloth to replenish the kitchen supply in a PTA "towel shower."

"Boss" W. M. Tweed, Tammany political leader in New York City, was convicted of fraud and sentenced to 12 years in prison in 1874.

Committee Votes to Stage Centennial

John B. Rogers Producing Co., Fostoria, Ohio, Lafferty gave his advice freely last night but promised to appear before the committee early next month in a bid for a contract to aid in centennial planning.

The Rogers company is behind many of the nation's civic observances, producing 147 commemorative programs this year, including the Lansing Centennial.

Incorporation, Lafferty said, would relieve individuals and private groups of liability and permit the waiver of 10 per cent federal amusement tax on the admission price to centennial events.

Just as important, he added, a corporation could begin centennial planning with single-mindedness of purpose and a fresh start.

The Day in Birmingham Will Reactivate Old Plans for Widening of Eton Road

BIRMINGHAM — City Commissioners last night moved to reactivate plans to widen Eton road from 18 to 41 feet from Yosemite street south to Lincoln avenue. A hearing of necessity is set for June 8.

City Manager L. R. Gare said plans prepared three years ago are still suitable for the project. He estimated the direct assessment against property owners will be $46,200.

The Oak Construction Co. of Royal Oak, approved by state and county road commissions, was low bidder for the W. Maple avenue widening and for paving the eastern extremity of Holland avenue.

The firm's bid of $78,984 is approximately 27 per cent under the city engineer's estimate, said Gare.

In the seal coat hearing of necessity, Forest street and Henley drive, between Abbey and Oxford roads, were deleted.

Other streets in this project, along with those specified for the light oil and oil mat-seal coat treatment were approved. The roll will be confirmed next Monday.

The city manager and his assistant, Robert S. Kenning, were named to represent the city on the Southeastern Oakland County Water Authority at the South Oakland County Garbage and Rubbish Authority.

On Gare's recommendation, city commissioners chose Carl B. Marr, a Birmingham architect, to prepare plans for the new clubhouse at Springdale Park.

The original clubhouse was destroyed by fire several years ago.

Mrs. Ray Renter of 22405 13-Mile Rd., is taking reservations for the annual Mother and Daughter Banquet of Birmingham Chapter 220 OES.

The banquet will be held May 20 at 6:30 p.m. in the Masonic Temple.

Mrs. Viola Minks is in charge of the program with Mrs. Elsie Reuter and Mrs. Dorothy Bain in charge of the dinner and decorations.

Men of the chapter will present a program in honor of mothers.

The Women's Fellowship of the Congregational Church of Birmingham will hold a spring rummage sale at the church on Thursday. The doors will open at 7:45 a.m.

A musical program and pot-luck luncheon will be held at 1 p.m.

Williams Backs Bill to Release Funds than currently yielded by the sales, intangibles, business activities, use, corporation (franchise and liquor excise taxes plus the fourth and fifth cents of the state cigarette tax.

7. Rep. Arthur J. Law (D-Pontiac) got ready to submit a proposed state income tax bill similar to one already in the Senate for a five per cent levy based on federal income tax liability.

8. Mysteriously, the governor called in Sen. Frank D. Beadle of St. Clair, Republican majority leader, to sound him out on rebuilding the veterans trust fund at the rate of 2 1/4 millions a month through June 30, 1961.

As part of their use tax increase plan, GOP senators want four millions a month in receipts set aside for this purpose, assuming trust fund bonds soon are sold to funnel 43 million dollars into the state treasury.

The West's argument is that the Soviet Union, the United States, Britain and France are primarily responsible for settling the problems of Germany, but other countries may be included when the talks get to issues of direct interest to them.

In exchange for bringing in Poland and Czechoslovakia, the Western three would insist on adding Italy and perhaps one or two other allies.

Western delegation members said that on the basis of the showing so far, the present meeting is not likely to solve any outstanding problems.

Twining to Undergo Chest Operation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Army doctors will perform an exploratory chest operation on Air Force Gen. Nathan F. Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Twining, 61, has been at Walter Reed Army Medical Center since May 3, after a routine physical checkup produced suspicious chest X rays.

The Defense Department said Monday the operation would be performed "in an effort to determine the cause of the changes found in his X rays."

All tests so far have been negative, the announcement said.

City Will Display Itself to Benton Harbor's Mayor

Pontiac's industrial might and civic progress will be displayed Monday to the mayor of Benton Harbor during the annual mayor-exchange day that kicks off Michigan Week.

While Benton Harbor's Mayor Wilbert F. Smith and his wife are visiting here, Mayor Philip E. Rowston will tour the Lake Michigan city.

Mayor and Mrs. Smith's tour has been scheduled by the Pontiac Area Chamber of Commerce, with Leslie R. Ware in charge of arrangements.

The Benton Harbor couple will visit City Hall and the new Public Safety Building in the early morning and hear a description of Pontiac's urban renewal plans.

An hour's tour of the GMC Truck & Coach plant will precede lunch in the company's executive dining room with Philip J. Monaghan, General Motors vice president and GMC general manager, and other guests.

At the luncheon will be Mrs. Ware, Mrs. Walter K. Willman, wife of the city manager, who will accompany Mrs. Smith on an afternoon tour of the Pontiac area, including visits to MSUO and Cranbrook.

After lunch, Smith's party will tour Pontiac Motor Division plant.

A reception for mayor and Mrs. Smith will be held at 5 p.m. at the Pontiac City Club, with representative civic, industrial and business leaders attending. Dinner will follow at the Waldron Hotel.

Originally, Pontiac was scheduled to exchange governmental heads with the small village of Hubbardston, northwest of Lansing. But Hubbardston decided not to participate in exchange day and the Benton Harbor exchange was scheduled instead.

7 Still Hospitalized After Auto Collision

Seven of nine persons injured in a head-on collision which killed a Pontiac woman on Adams road Sunday remained hospitalized in St. Joseph Mercy Hospital today.

The injured are Raymond J. Boone, 30, of 46 N. Francis St., a son, James, 12; Dr. Albert P. Ulbrich, 47, of 5670 Sussex Rd., Birmingham and his son, Carl, 10; Joseph Sticher, 55, of Detroit, and his wife, Elsie, 60; and Sam Lieberman, 63, of Detroit.

All are listed in fair condition today except Mrs. Sticher, who is described in "poor" condition. Killed in the smashup was Boone's wife, Marilyn, 29.

Dr. Ulbrich, the Stichers, and Lieberman were all on the critical list.

No Trouble at All!

NEENAH, Wis. (UPI) — Mr. and Mrs. Mose Bellanger said a strong wind ripped a storm window from an attic window of their home. The window sailed around a corner of the house and came to rest in the garage, they said, on top of a pile of storm windows.

Looks to U.S. to Avert War

Belgian King Speaks to Congress of Faith in This Nation

WASHINGTON (AP)—King Baudouin of Belgium told Congress today the free world looks to the United States for leadership in averting war.

"Where better can the free peoples of the free world look for the averting of war and death, than to your nation, so vibrant with the love of life?" he asked.

"It is unthinkable that those who spend so much to save life would ever think to destroy it!"

In an 800-word address to a joint session of the Senate and House, he said he had come to this country "to register the solidarity" between the people of Belgium and the United States.

The King said his country is determined to permit the people of the Congo, Belgium's rich African colony, to choose their future destiny.

"As soon as they mature, as soon as they have received the loving care in education that we can give them, we shall launch them forth on their own enterprise and independent existence," Baudouin declared.

The monarch began his address thus:

"I, who am a young man, come from a country old enough to have been spoken of proudly by Julius Caesar."

Belgium, he said in conclusion, is confident the United States will succeed in maintaining peace.

"What is written on your coins, I have read in the hearts of the American people: 'In God We Trust,'" he said.

Civilians Plan to Give Bus to City Boys Club

The Pontiac Civitan Club, at its regular noon luncheon meeting tomorrow at the Elks Temple, will present a bus to the Boys Club of Pontiac.

Joseph Davis, president, announced today that formal presentation ceremonies will be held in the Temple's parking lot at 1:15 after the luncheon.

Davis will then hand over the keys to the bus to Harvey Johns, senior member of the Boy's Club Board. The Civitans brought the 31-passenger bus several weeks ago with funds raised for the purpose.

The vehicle will seat 31. "It will be a great help to us in future events," says Cressy Larson, Boy's Club president.

"The bus is sorely needed for transportation to camps, ball games, on mystery trips, and many other events for boys that we have had to limit in the past due to transportation problems," he said.

Kellogg Stock Placed on New York Exchange

NEW YORK (AP)—Common stock of Kellogg Co., cereal manufacturer of Battle Creek, Mich., was admitted to trading today on the New York stock exchange.

A total of 9,000,000 shares was listed. Traded under the ticker symbol "K," the stock opened on 200 shares at $41.75 a share, up $1.75 from its last bid price of $40 in the over the counter market where it was traded previously.

Lyle C. Roll, president of the company, and G. Keith Funston, president of the Exchange, attended the opening ceremonies.

Three Civic Projects on Agenda Tonight

Three big civic improvements will occupy the attention of the City Commission tonight.

First will be an hour-long preview of preliminary plans for the $600,000 new main library, to be under construction this summer in the civic center.

Plans, sketches and drawings, as well as a talk by O'Dell, Hewlett & Luckenbach, the architects, will be presented at a special session beginning at 7 p.m. at City Hall.

Commissioners will be asked to approve preliminary plans, if they like them, so that working drawings can be prepared.

At the regular 8 p.m. meeting, commissioners are scheduled to review bids concerning two Pontiac General Hospital projects.

One is the proposed sale of $175,000 in revenue bonds to finance construction of a 214-stall parking lot south of the hospital next month.

The other is for sale of $316,000 in tax anticipation notes to provide funds for equipment and furnishings for the hospital. The $316,000 represents the last of the $950,000 which the city promised to lend the hospital to complete its expansion program.

This last installment would be paid back out of 1960 taxes that otherwise would have been earmarked for public improvements.

Community National Bank purchased the first two installments of $317,000 each last year, at low interest rates.

There are 10 public hearings scheduled. Five are on intention to proceed with projects involving recapping and new curbs, including Cass avenue, Pike to Orchard Lake; East Huron street, Saginaw to Parke; Sanderson street, Oakland to Cass; Prall street, Huron to Washington; and Kaeburn street, Pad-dock to Sanford.

Five hearings are on special assessments rolls drawn up for black-topping of Kinney road, Oakland to Stanley; a sanitary sewer on Court drive, from Mt. Clemens north a block; and curbs and gutters on Court, Mt. Clemens to Grandview; Dellwood avenue, Earlmoore to Homeland; and Myra avenue, Voorhees to Sylvan.

Again scheduled for airing is a proposal to rezone 26 lots on both sides of Second avenue, Highwood to Laurel, from residential to commercial for an auto-transport company storage lot. The plan received strong opposition last week, even though its official introduction to the commission was postponed.

City Manager Walter K. Willman will ask for formal approval of a new contract with Sylvan Lake for sewage treatment service. The contract, which places charges on a metered basis and prohibits increased use of the service without Pontiac approval, was tentatively okayed two weeks ago.

Colorado's 4th Congressional District is the loftiest in the United States. There are about 50 mountain peaks within the area.

PTAs to Study Programming

Waterford Groups Plan All-Day Get-Together on Wednesday

"Building More Vital PTA Programs for Waterford," is the theme of the annual workshop to be held Wednesday at Christ Lutheran Church on Williams Lake road at Airport road.

Beginning at 9:30 a.m., an outstanding program has been planned, with the aim of helping all PTA members project and participate in better programs for their associations next year, according to general chairman Mrs. Richard Morgan of Pontiac Lake School.

Mrs. Ralph Bergemann of Isaac Crary Junior High School is program chairman.

The morning session will include a discussion of objectives in PTA program planning under direction of Michigan Congress of Parents and Teachers program chairman Mrs. William Wright.

A skit, written and presented by a committee from Waterford Center PTA, will depict a program chairman's presentation of the year's schedule to a PTA executive board for approval.

Following a "sack-luncheon" from 11:45 a.m. to 1:15 p.m., mental health chairmen from all the PTAs will meet in a separate group, while others attending the session will view and discuss a brief film strip, "Teachers in Print."

The afternoon will continue with the division into program interest groups, wherein each group will plan one or more programs concerning their part of the program area. Such phases as Father's Night, Emergency Programs, Founders' Day, Safety and others will be considered.

The evening session will open at 7:45 p.m. with registration, and a discussion, "Pitfalls in Programming," to be led by Covert School Principal George Tramontin.

Delay Action on Dillon as Opposition Develops

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Foreign Relations Committee today put off until next Tuesday action on the nominations of C. Douglas Dillon to be No. 2 man at the State Department, and Ogden Reid to be ambassador to Israel.

The action came after unexpected opposition developed to the nomination of Dillon to be under-secretary of state succeeding Christian A. Herter who became secretary following the illness of John Foster Dulles.

Opposition to Reid had been expected, but the assault on Dillon by Democratic members of the committee came as a surprise.

MSU Club Set for Scholarship Award Banquet

Selling House Twice Results in Jail Sentence

A Keego Harbor housewife was sentenced to 2 to 10 years in the Detroit House of Correction and her husband was placed on probation for two years after being found guilty of selling their former Pontiac home to two different persons.

Oakland County Circuit Judge William J. Beer yesterday imposed the sentences on Mrs. Roxanne M. Crane, 24, of 2968 Hensman St., and Lother Crane, 55 of the same address. Crane was also assessed $600 court costs.

Judge Beer found the pair guilty April 21 of trying to dispose of their home at 255 S. Edith St. a second time after already completing a sale for it with another party.

Edward H. Shingley, assistant prosecutor who handled the case, said Mrs. Crane testified that when she signed the first transaction papers she believed it was merely a mortgage on the family furniture.

The Cranes were convicted of larceny under false pretenses after receiving some $400 in the first transaction. Shingley said, and a month later getting $1,656 for the house.

$10 Bill Is Elusive

BLAINE, Ky. (AP) — Weekend burglars, frustrated after what obviously had been considerable effort to break open the vault in the Bank of Blaine, took only a box of the cashier's cigars and some cigarettes. They overlooked a $10 bill which an absent-minded customer had left on a counter and which forgetful bank officials had failed to put in the vault.

Reds Exploit Position of West Berlin

By JOSEPH FLEMING
BERLIN (UPI)—Soviet border guards bar a 10-truck U.S. Army convoy from leaving West Berlin on a run to West Germany.

A west-bound British military train is forced to travel 110 miles back to West Berlin when Soviet guards say travelers' documents are not in order.

Two U.S. Army officers are detained for three hours by East Berlin police because their U.S. Army sedan has a radio telephone.

A GI convoy is held at the East-West border for 54 hours.

Two Soviet MIG jets buzz a British airliner flying to Berlin from the West German city of Munich. They also buzz U.S. planes flying high over the air corridor to West Berlin.

These incidents point up the vulnerability of isolated West Berlin to Communist pressure.

They show how Western Allied road, rail and air traffic through the Soviet zone is at the mercy of the Soviets or East German Communists.

But the incidents cited are not new. They have happened before and since the latest Berlin crisis exploded last November with the Soviet demand that West Berlin be made a so-called free, demilitarized city.

And crisis talks or no crisis talks, similar incidents probably will continue to take place.

Western diplomats consider it necessary to stress this point in order to emphasize that there is no such thing as normality in Berlin or on the routes to the city.

And there hasn't been since July 4, 1945, when Western Allied troops moved into Berlin to take over their occupation sectors.

Diplomats say that if the Soviets were to withdraw their Berlin ultimatum tomorrow, the future of the city still would be uncertain and supply routes subject to Eastern whim.

This is so because the geographical position of West Berlin exposes it to all the breezes and winds of the cold war.

It is so because the Western Allies have one conception of what the Western right of free access to the city means and the Soviets have another.

This difference of opinion can arise because the four-power agreements on Western traffic to West Berlin are not spelled out in such detail that they leave the Soviets no room for harassment.

On the contrary, many of them are vague and general, Allied officials admit.

They go back to the wartime Western-Soviet alliance when Soviet good will was taken for granted.

Because of West Berlin's geographical position, the East can exert pressure on West Berlin any time it pleases.

West Berlin is a land island surrounded by the Soviet zone of Germany. It is 110 miles from West Germany.

All supplies brought to the city both for 2,300,000 West Berliners and the 10,000 U.S., British and French troops must be shipped through Communist territory.

On an average day supplies are brought into the city for West Berliners by 470 trucks, 20 barges and 13 freight trains. They carry coal, milk, meat, construction material and all the other things it takes to feed and keep a giant city going.

Three Western airlines make an average of 30 flights a day to West Berlin.

Under the four-power agreement, only one airline each from the U.S., Britain and France may fly into the city. They are Pan-American, British European Airways and Air France.

These commercial aircraft, as well as Western Allied military aircraft, may fly only in three 20-mile wide corridors above East Germany.

The Soviets now assert the aircraft must fly under 10,000 feet. The Western Allies insist no such limitation exists and have ignored it despite nuisance tactics by Communist planes.

The air routes saved West Berlin from starvation in the 1948-1949 land blockade and they might be called upon to do it again.

A wireless telephone system developed in France lets as many as 125 people receive messages quietly no matter where they are in a building.

Studies Whale of a Heart

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—A 250-pound whale heart is being studied by Dr. Raymond Truex, professor of anatomy at Hahnemann Medical College. He hopes to learn how the heart works, why whales are anemic and whether ambergris, the inflammable substance found in a whale's alimentary canal and valued for perfume, is actually a form of whale cancer.

An average human adult has 32 permanent teeth.

Air Force Spending Needs Firm Control

The new multimillion dollar Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Col. will graduate its first class in June. This magnificent institution, planned and supervised by top Air Force men, is a show place—and it should be.

Although nothing now can be done to check unauthorized spending on the project, at least the facts can be brought to light. Under Congressional prodding, Comptroller General Campbell said that the Air Force apparently hasn't exceeded the sums authorized. But it has charged some $2.5 million to wrong accounts and has not used some funds for the purposes Congress intended.

For example, Congress approved $7.7 million for staff housing but the Air Force spent $6 million of it for other construction. The housing later was built under a Federal housing program. Another irregularity came to light when the Air Force requested funds to build a cemetery. Congress refused and then discovered that the service already had built one at a cost of $135,000. Money also has been spent to plan additional facilities, one a building for band practice, before Congress approved.

Three years ago the Air Force said that a golf course would be built with nonappropriated funds. However, a $118,000 irrigation system for it came from appropriated money and access roads to the course will cost another $121,000 from the same source, says the Milwaukee Journal.

The Academy is built on a site bigger than Manhattan Island and has a campus with 22 garden pools, a gymnasium with 18 basketball courts, a $5 million social center with two ballrooms, an 18 hole golf course and a $53,000 visitors' comfort station.

Isn't it about time the Air Force brass realized that this money doesn't come from outer space but the pockets of taxpayers?

U.S. Control of Canal Resented by Panama

Demand is growing in Panama that the United States turn over the Canal and its Zone to the Panamanian government.

At a time when this country is depending more and more on international agreements, our position in the Canal Zone may prove embarrassing. The truth is that changes in strategic defense, development of transcontinental pipelines and land and air transportation and our two ocean navy have diminished the importance of the Canal. Its main usefulness now is for peacetime shipping of bulk cargoes.

Particularly resented is the clause in the U. S.-Panama agreement whereby this country is given authority "in perpetuity" over the Canal and a 10-mile wide zone on either side. At a 1957 University of Panama conference angry speakers protested this clause as an insult to the sovereignty of the nation.

Writing in Foreign Affairs on recent developments in Panama, newsman MARTIN B. TRAVIS and JAMES T. WATKINS stress that the conflict can not be resolved on a national basis. Control of the Canal by the U.S., although perfectly legal, will not be able to withstand the pressures of modern nationalism. Latin Americans resent it as an affront to their national pride and dignity.

As long ago as 1945 President Truman proposed that the Canal and other waterways vital to commerce be placed under the United Nations. This, however, may not be a wise course but the U. S. would gain stature all over the world by reaching an understanding with Panama before resentment breaks out into open hostilities and involve all Latin America.

The centennial of a certain war soon to be observed will precipitate considerable friction between those who refer to that war as "The Civil War" and "The War Between the States."

Even in Utopia things are not going so well. Former Pontiac resident, Freeman Preswell, now living in Utopia, Ill., just outside of Chicago, writes me that taxes are so high that residents of a good portion of the village have been granted a petition to secede.

A real quirk of nature is reported by Elmer Abbottsford of Birmingham. Some potatoes left in the ground in his garden went through the hard winter in such top shape that they've started to grow a new crop.

A pair of squirrels who wintered in a hollow tree near the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Plews at Williams Lake, exhausted their supply of nuts and acorns several weeks ago and have been fed by the family. When the folks were away over the weekend they chewed a hole in the kitchen door and helped themselves.

David Lawrence Says:

Geneva to Be Quibble and Quibble

GENEVA—If the people of East Germany wished to send representatives to the big conference going on here to settle the fate of Berlin and if some way were devised to make sure that they were chosen through the processes of a free government, there wouldn't be the slightest difficulty here about accepting such envoys.

But the realistic truth is that the East German people have nothing to say about it and that most of the so-called "advisers" from East Germany are actually Soviet citizens or handpicked by the Moscow government.

This really ought to be an overriding issue here. Instead, it has been dealt with as a "procedural" question. Yet it presents an opportunity to tell the whole world about the fundamental cause of the present conflict which every now and then emerges as a threat to peace.

Representative government that rests on the consent of the governed is a tradition which has motivated peoples everywhere. So, when a dictatorship not only enslaves its own citizens but extends its tyrannical hand to keep other nations in captivity, it is surprising that there is any inclination to "negotiate" with such an autocratic government as the Soviet regime is today.

But it was no insignificant question to the Moscow strategists. They wanted to show the other "captive" states in Eastern Europe that the Moscow government is not only accepted as an equal at Geneva but is acting here as the champion of the interests of East Germany and neighboring states now under the control of the Soviets.

The Western foreign ministers had thought that the exchange of notes a few weeks ago with the Moscow government had cleared up the question but, with their customary insincerity, the Soviets declared here that the note they sent didn't mean this at all. That's really why this conference is going to be a long one. It's to be just one quibble after another.

Also, Foreign Minister Gromyko, who was taught by Molotov the art of saying "no" to everything and introducing a lot of extraneous topics to confuse the issue, has been instructed to make the going as hard as possible. For presumably that's the Soviet way of proving that a "summit" conference is necessary and that only one man—Nikita Khrushchev—is capable of negotiating for two hundred million people and of determining the fate of tens of millions held captive in the smaller countries that border on the Soviet Union.

Already there is speculation as to what "crumb" is to be thrown by Moscow to the Western foreign ministers. Actually, it may take the form of a declaration by the Soviets agreeing to what is being called an "interim solution" for Berlin.

This means that, in effect, the ultimatum will be withdrawn for a while, and with some slight changes, the Western Allies will be able to exercise the same rights and privileges as heretofore. This device is known as a "modus vivendi"—a method of getting along temporarily on the same basis as before. But this very concession implies that at a moment's notice the threat to Berlin can be renewed.

In the center of the whole dilemma here is the question of how to deal with the East German puppet regime. Moscow insists that it will soon sign a "peace treaty" with the so-called government of East Germany and that the Western governments will have to deal with that government.

This is called "de facto" recognition as distinguished from "de jure" or legal recognition—a differentiation developed in international law.

Theoretically there is a difference but actually the conduct of business or diplomatic relations with East Germany would be hailed behind the iron curtain as a sign that the Western Allies had capitulated. It would discourage the people of "captive" states like Hungary who have been hoping that the Western countries would stand firm against every scheme that would imply an affirmation of the Soviet role as master and conqueror.

Dr. William Brady Says:

Ulcer Patients With Teeth Needn't Worry About Diet

In the latest edition of Little Lesson III, titled So You Have Indigestion? (35c and stamped, self-addressed envelope) I say, regarding the diet of the victim of peptic (that is, gastric or stomach, or duodenal) ulcer . . . almost anything within reason is permissible in the diet, provided the patient is dentally equipped to masticate food properly.

All right—all right—keep your shirt on—we won't harp on the importance of keeping teeth and/or dentures functionally efficient.

I say also that one with peptic ulcer or hyperchlorhydria (hyperacidity of stomach), whether ulcer is positively diagnosed or not, to take five or six small meals instead of two or three larger meals daily, and this should include a snack at 8 or 9 p. m. and another at bedtime if bedtime is after 11 p. m. or else in the course of the night if one awakens and feels uncomfortable in the wee sma' hours.

In the free pamphlet Yankee Stomach, available on written request if you provide stamped, self-addressed envelope, I recommend what I believe to be the most effective and least objectionable anticid diet other than lime water: a palatable combination of calcium carbonate and magnesium trisilicate which one can conveniently carry in pocket or purse to dissolve in mouth whenever acidity causes discomfort.

The discs are quite palatable, almost tasteless, and remarkably effective when used as suggested.

USE LIME WATER
For a century or more, lime water has been a popular remedy for the relief of sour stomach, acid indigestion, heartburn, water-brash, acidity and nausea.

It sounds like strong medicine, but in fact it is very mild—so mild that it was formerly used in the formula for the baby's bottle to prevent formation of large curds.

Prepare lime water when you need it, by putting a lump of live (unslaked) lime the size of a walnut in a quart or two of boiled water. Stir well and let it stand for a few hours in crock or jar. Then pour off the clear upper liquid without disturbing the sediment. The clear liquid is lime water.

"Don't you think these auto cripples would deter speedsters and drinkers more than the blunt death rates cited over holiday week-ends?"

POLIO VS. MEASLES
This psychologist is probably correct. One reason why polio is so widely discussed is the fact that crippled children with braces on their withered legs, are depicted in polio advertising.

Actually, measles deserves more attention than polio, but it doesn't rate the dramatic headlines because it hasn't had the superb press-agency that polio receives.

Our splendid National Safety Council cautions us through the newspapers and radio against the hazards of week end holiday traffic.

"The death rate is predicted to reach 450," such announcements may warn us.

But people are somewhat calloused to auto deaths, for they are sudden and final.

Crippled and injured persons may linger, like Betty, for a full lifetime. So emphasis on the maimed may deter speed demons more than death figures.

Remember, the cripples or injured via auto accidents run about 50 times the death rate!

Thus, if 450 are predicted to die over a 3-day holiday week-end, then that means about 22,500 will be injured in auto accidents during those same 3 days!

Voice of the People

How Can Parents Protect Children From Molesters?

I would like to have my say about some of the things I have been reading in the paper. After reading the article about the 18-month-old baby being raped I could just yell. As I have a daughter the same age I have nothing but sympathy and sorrow in my heart for her mother. As for the man who committed this terrible act — too bad there isn't capital punishment here in Michigan. This man will no doubt get away with a fine then be out free to take advantage of some other young girl.

Just what can be done to correct or get rid of men like this? Yes, I know they can be put in corrective institutions — but why should the state of Michigan have to pay for their keep while in these institutions?

I agree with Mr. Samuel in his letter that some of these 14 and 15 year old girls who are molested are really the guilty party and are out for a good time and for all they can get and they are the first to yell rape. It seems that the more progressive we get in this world the more we hear of children under 10 years of age being molested. What can parents of such young girls do to keep this from happening to their girls?

Mother of Three Children

How Can Mothers Collect Alimony?

This letter is in regards to Mrs. Lockett who sent her two children to the Friend of the Court with a note stating she could not care for them because of financial difficulties and also because her ex-husband is back $1,039 in alimony. Can anyone blame her?

This is what all of the mothers should do that are finding it rough sledding because of the ex-husband's non-payment. Maybe if a few mothers would band together and flood the children's home with a few hundred more little mouths to feed, we might get some results.

In other words, what is wrong with our Judicial Dept.? Who do you have to know to get the money that was ordered by the court in the first place from the ex-husband?

Case Records of a Psychologist:

Wreck Destroys Young Girl's Mind

Please scrapbook Betty's case and re-read it at the dinner table before you start on a holiday auto trip. Polio has stolen the limelight from measles because of its pictures of crippled youngsters. Lifelong injuries such as Betty represents, may be a greater deterrent to reckless driving than the blunt death rates.

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
CASE B-432: Betty Z., aged 19, is a college coed.

"Dr. Crane, she got in a terrible auto wreck," a psychology professor informed me.

"During a recent holiday, she and two boys were driving down the highway in a car. The boys had been drinking a little beer, so they were feeling happy.

"And I guess they must have been speeding too fast, for the car missed the turn and rolled over several times, finally striking a tree.

"One of the boys was killed outright. The other finally recovered. Betty lay in a coma in the hospital for a week or so.

"And when she finally regained consciousness, she had the mind of a 3-year-old child.

"Despite the fact she was a brilliant coed and a beautiful young woman, she now rates the I.Q. of an imbecile. And her parents will be forced to help her dress and provide for constant supervision for Betty as long as they live.

"Then they'll probably have to make some sort of provision for her to live in a mental institution after they are gone.

"Don't you think these auto cripples would deter speedsters and drinkers more than the blunt death rates cited over holiday week-ends?"

Actually, measles deserves more attention than polio, but it doesn't rate the dramatic headlines because it hasn't had the superb press-agency that polio receives.

Most of the injured recover without too many facial scars or other permanent ill effects.

But thousands bear unsightly wounds, or have noses and ears torn off, eyes gouged out, legs or hands amputated and scores of other permanent injuries.

Just one 3-day week end may thus far outweigh the total annual crippling effects of polio!

So it may be wiser for us to depict the lifelong crippling effects instead of the death rates from auto accidents.

And we need to continue employing novel ways to make drivers stop, look and listen.

Last Labor Day week end the radio stations were playing "White Christmas" and popular Christmas carols, dedicating them to the 450 who would be dead before Tuesday morning, September 2nd, and thus unable to hear them at the normal Christmas season.

So let's depict the injured and not stress death rates so excessively.

Always write to Dr. George W. Crane in care of The Pontiac Press, Pontiac, Michigan, enclosing a long or stamped, self-addressed envelope and 20c to cover typing and printing costs when you send for his psychological charts and pamphlets.

U.S. Says Prostitutes Shouldn't Go to Jail

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP) — The United States said yesterday it is generally sympathetic to proposals that prostitutes be turned over to social workers for rehabilitation rather than placed in jail as criminals.

But Dr. Althea K. Hottel, dean of women at the University of Pennsylvania, told the U. N. Social Commission the United States cannot enter into an international treaty for fighting prostitution. She said the U. S. Constitution won't permit it, and the chief task of fighting prostitution is a matter for individual states.

The U. N. approved a treaty for suppression of prostitution in 1949. Thus far 25 nations have ratified or acceded to it.

The Social Commission is debating a report prepared under the direction of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjöld advancing a broad program for combatting prostitution and persons who make money from traffic in prostitutes. The report holds that prostitution is primarily a social and not a criminal problem.

World Waits to See . . . and Hopes

How Will Big Four Greenhorns Do?

GENEVA (AP) — The titans of the postwar diplomatic duels — Molotov, Dulles, Acheson, Eden and Bidault—are in political obscurity or retirement.

The world is waiting to see how their successors will measure up in dealing with some of the crucial problems facing the world.

Christian A. Herter of the United States, Andrei Gromyko of the Soviet Union, Selwyn Lloyd of Britain and Maurice Couve de Murville of France — all are experienced diplomats but none has led his country's delegation at a Big Four parley before.

Herter, 64, is the dean of the group in age but the least experienced in international negotiations. Gromyko at 49 is the youngest, but the veteran of the most conference tables. Lloyd is 54 and Couve de Murville 52.

Iron-visaged Gromyko was once called the boy wonder of the diplomatic world. Dark, heavy-set and square-shouldered, he is a veteran of Kremlin politics under Stalin, Malenkov and Khrushchev. Much of his career has been spent in the United States, at the Soviet Embassy in Washington and at U.N. headquarters. He has been Soviet foreign minister since 1957.

BIG SHOES TO FILL

A man of impassive Slavic calm, Gromyko has big shoes to fill at this Geneva conference. Former Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was considered by many Western statesmen to be the most skillful professional diplomat of this century.

America's Herter has had only a few scant weeks to move out from under the towering shadow of John Foster Dulles into the limelight as the west's ranking diplomat.

At the Paris conference with Lloyd and Couve de Murville last month—his first diplomatic mission abroad after succeeding Dulles — Herter displayed calm and competence in helping to bridge allied differences.

TEST FOR HERTER

The lofty summit of responsibility here will test all the acumen Herter has built up since he was a fledgling diplomat in Berlin during World War I. Since then he has served in the Massachusetts Legislature, the U.S. House of Representatives, two terms as governor of Massachusetts and as Dulles' chief aide for two years.

Tall, lanky, Couve de Murville has served France in top diplomatic posts since World War II but has just begun to make big international headlines. He has turned in a topflight job of assignments ranging from secretary of the Free French "war commission" to trouble shooter for then Foreign Minister Georges Bidault and ambassador to Washington and Bonn.

Selwyn Lloyd succeeded one of the outstanding foreign secretaries Britain has produced this century — Sir Anthony Eden.

Lloyd thinks and dressed like Eden. He was appointed minister of state at the Foreign Office when Sir Winston Churchill's Conservatives swept into power in 1951. Sent to Paris as a delegate to the U.N. Assembly, he quickly tangled with the Soviet Union's acid-tongued Andrei Vishinsky.

Vishinsky once told a colleague: "That young Englishman — he's tough."

Attorneys Seek Delay in Rape Trials of Four

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — Postponement of the rape trials of four white men will be sought by two defense attorneys on grounds of "high public excitement."

The attorneys, S. Gunter Toney and Harry Michaels, said they also needed more time to shape their defenses.

Trials of the four on charges of raping a 19-year-old Negro college girl are scheduled to begin May 27 before Leon County Circuit Judge W. May Walker.

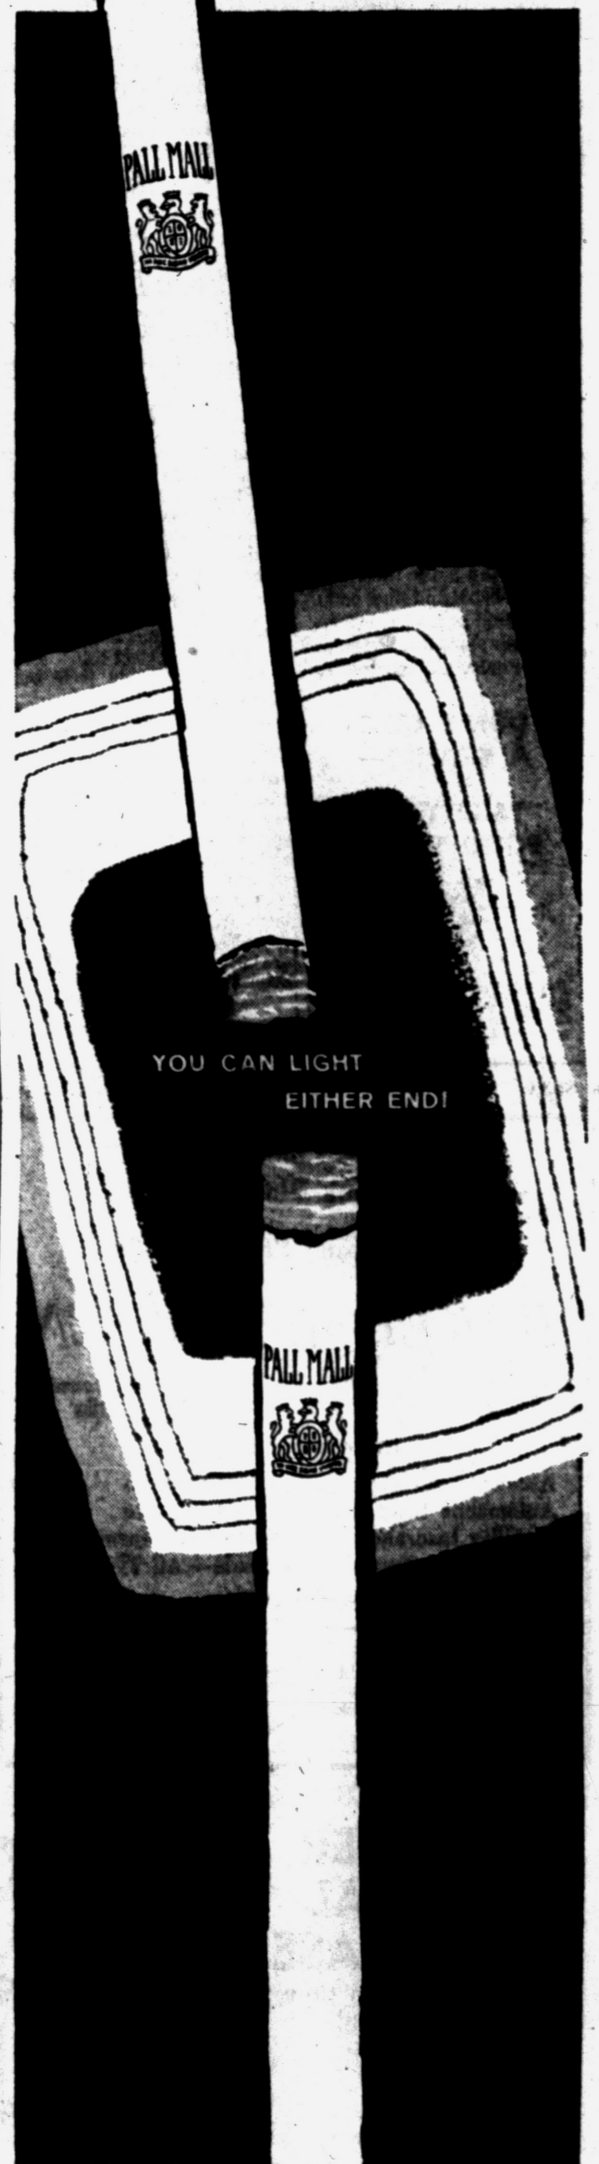

Toney and Michaels said they might seek a change of venue because of public feeling in Tallahassee.

Toney and Michaels said they Williston T. Collinsworth, a telephone lineman who is married and has two children. Michaels was appointed by the court to defend Patrick Scarborough, an Air Force man.

Schools Collecting Now

City Holds Clothing Drive

The third citywide clothing drive by and for Pontiac residents is now under way through the help of the city schools. A goal of 19,000 pounds of clothing or a pound for every child in school, has been set.

Friday is the deadline for the drive, which is sponsored by the Pontiac Administrators and Supervisors Assn.

Residents who want to donate clothing for infants, children and adults may contact the administrator of the school nearest their home. All of the clothing will be collected with the aid of the school children or parent-teacher association members who will pick up bundles at homes.

Summer as well as winter clothing is needed, according to Richard C. Fell, association president.

Pontiac families in need of clothing also may contact the nearest school for aid.

Three agencies will repair and distribute the clothing to local families upon requisition from principals. They include the Salvation Army, the St. Vincent de Paul Society and the Dorcas Society. Seventh Day Adventist Church, according to Paul C. Allison, director of the Pontiac schools Child Accounting Department and general chairman of the drive.

In the drive last October, 9,060 pounds of clothing were collected and 307 orders were issued by the schools and processed by the three agencies, he added.

Families or persons having clothing and bedding to contribute who do not have children in school may call the nearest school and PTA members will collect the contribution at the donor's home.

Brothers Deny Taking Money, Guns From Store

Two Detroit brothers, charged with stealing money and an arsenal of weapons to be used in another holdup from a Southfield store last month, pleaded innocent to armed robbery when arraigned yesterday before Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Returned to the county jail unable to furnish $10,000 bonds each were James E. Bailey, 28, of 8545 Dumbarton St., and Carl E. Bailey, 30, of 19488 Fielding St.

Judge Adams set their case down as ready for trial.

The Baileys, both prison parolers, are charged with brandishing a .38 revolver at eight employees and customers of the Epps Store, 27661 Northwestern Highway, and taking $536 and three revolvers, a shotgun and rifle, rifle telescope, and shells for the revolvers and shotgun.

They were nabbed about a week later. At that time they admitted the robbery, according to Lt. Howard A. Whaley, of the Redford State Police Post.

Under the federal homestead act signed by President Lincoln, about 276 million acres of land have been deeded away to settlers.

BATTLE CREEK — They call it the "Cereal City" for Battle Creek's breakfast table stretches around the world.

Products from the city's internationally known cereal food industry each morning fill cereal bowls in every one of the 50 states and on every continent.

Some 6,000 Battle Creek area men and women, employees of the city's six cereal plants, help to "set" the world's breakfast tables.

Out of this cereal cornucopia pours an annual payroll of $34,000,000 for cereal industry workers. It buys furniture made in Grand Rapids, paper and drugs from Kalamazoo, cars made in Detroit, red flannels from Cedar Springs.

The cereal and health food industry has helped make Battle Creek the best known city of its size in the United States. It has made Battle Creek synonymous with the words "Health City" and "Cereal City."

But while the city's claim to fame was built on a foundation of hundreds of thousands of tons of cereal, hundreds of other individuals, businesses and industries and civic groups are working toward making a bigger and better Battle Creek.

Underway is the most ambitious program on city-improvement in the history of Battle Creek, which last February marked its 100th year as an incorporated city.

A $35,000,000 program includes a flood control project that will protect the city's industries and homes from the whims of nature which 10 years ago caused thousands of dollars in damages when the Battle Creek and Kalamazoo rivers, which flow through the city, went over their banks.

Another phase of the program is a railroad consolidation project which will eliminate railroad grade crossings in the downtown sector and in some outlying areas.

Battle Creek is pleased and privileged to have the freight and passenger services of two great railroads: the Grand Trunk Western and the New York Central. The city is headquarters for the Chicago division of the Grand Trunk which last winter opened a new $1,500,000 electronically controlled freight yard on the north-eastern edge of Battle Creek.

Still another phase of the multi-million dollar face-lifting program is the city's slum clearance project which will make a large area available as industrial sites.

This phase of the program is of great interest and promise to the city's four-year-old Area Development Corp. The attraction of new industry to the city is the young organization's No. 1 aim.

F. Joseph Buckley, director of the ADC, has predicted that by 1967 Battle Creek will more than double its population of 55,896. While new industries are expected to bring more residents to the city, Buckley and other far-sighted men in the area look for consolidation with adjoining areas to form a Greater Battle Creek to everyone's mutual advantage.

At the time in 1957 that Buckley made his population prediction, he also foresaw a Battle Creek Community College with 5,000 students. That prediction today is on its

The association has given special recognition to Mrs. C. J. Shindorf and Mrs. Eldon Shown, Pontiac, and others for special volunteer work in connection with TB work.

The gross receipts of the 1958 seal sale were $64,785, of which $54,420 was retained for work with passenger services of two great railroads: the Grand Trunk Western and the New York Central. The city is headquarters for the Chicago division of the Grand Trunk which last winter opened a new $1,500,000 electronically controlled freight yard on the north-eastern edge of Battle Creek.

Pair Plead Innocent to Robbery of $6

A Waterford Township man and his Pontiac companion yesterday pleaded innocent to the unarmed robbery of $6 from a 56-year-old city resident April 23.

Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams marked ready for trial Nathan F. Coleman, 37, of 4700 Hillcrest Dr., Waterford Township, and Everett Epley, 45, of 45½ Wayne St.

They are charged with beating and robbing Alex Corbin of 471 N. Kenilworth Ave. Both were returned to the county jail unable to post $500 bonds.

Says Teamsters Will Shed Hoffa

Sec. Mitchell Claims if Union Finance Bills Pass, Jimmy Is Out

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell predicts Teamsters Union members themselves ultimately will get rid of Teamsters President James R. Hoffa.

"If new laws are passed to force disclosure of union finances," Mitchell told the Dade County American Red Cross chapter Monday night, "the Teamsters themselves with help from the AFL-CIO will succeed in getting rid of Hoffa and his immediate obnoxious associates."

Mitchell replied to an unsigned question from the floor, "How can we get rid of Jimmy Hoffa?" "The government has tried unsuccessfully three times, to convict Hoffa for one thing and another and has been unsuccessful," thus far, Mitchell said. "Ultimately the initiative must come from the Teamsters' Union members themselves."

Mitchell said it is highly unlikely President Eisenhower will use his powers under the Taft-Hartley law to delay a steel strike this summer.

"The President's injunction powers to delay a strike are exercised only when there is a threat to the national health and safety," he said in an interview, "and I don't believe these factors would be involved in a steel strike."

Violence Flares in Textile Strike

HENDERSON, N.C. (AP) — Rocks and bullets greeted workers leaving the struck Harriet-Henderson Cotton Mills Monday night. Local officials asked National Guardsmen sent here to maintain order.

No injuries were reported. Sheriff E. A. Cottrell said nearly every car leaving the company's North Henderson plant was hit by at least one rock, and he himself was stoned as he was checking cars. He said bullet holes were found in some of the automobiles.

In Raleigh, Gov. Luther Hodges said he would study the situation today before deciding whether to send National Guard aid.

School Census Due in Pontiac

Annual Count of Area Children to Be Taken Before June 1

Between now and June 1 a census taker will knock at your door to find out if your family has increased during the past year.

Forty-five workers will be taking the annual Pontiac School District census, which is required by the Michigan Department of Public Instruction, according to Paul C. Allison, director of the Pontiac Schools Child Accounting Department.

Each of the census takers will carry identification cards. They will want to know dates on all present and past school-age children through age 19 years in the district.

The name of the child, day, month and year of birth, sex, name of mother and father of child as well as the present school he or she is attending will be asked.

Persons under 20 who are married, in the service, going to college and/or employed will also be included in the information requested.

People who are physically or mentally handicapped, partially blind or blind, have defective hearing or are deaf will also be included in the census. This information is used to place handicapped children in the correct educational facilities.

The annual house-to-house census also enables administrators to predict future enrollments and needed buildings as well as individual school loads.

Last year, the census revealed a total of 35,502 persons through age 19 lived in the district. This includes 11,661 from birth to five years old and 23,841 from five through 19, according to Allison.

Hospital Picket Goes Inside for Treatment

NEW YORK (AP) — Thomas Vindal faced a choice. As one of the workers striking six hospitals, he was carrying a sign in a picket line. But he had an itch.

He put down the sign and went into Mount Sinai Hospital. There he was treated for a fungus infection of the face. He picked up medicine to take home, and left.

He has a clinic appointment Wednesday. If the strike is still on then, he'll have another decision to make.

Hal Boyle Says:

Rod Steiger Praises Aid of Psychoanalysis

NEW YORK (AP)—Rod Steiger has joined the public chorus of those praising the benefits of psychoanalysis.

The actor has spent between $5,000 and $7,000 over the last five years on visits to the understanding coach—and feels it is the best investment of his life, he says. "I took my college education lying down," joked Steiger, who left high school at 16 to join the Navy.

"Some people seem to feel that undergoing analysis will hurt their creativity. But I feel it enhanced my creativity a hundredfold."

"It also gave me the freedom to look out at other people instead of being involved only with myself." Rod has reached a new peak in a career of self-expression that began when, as a lonely boy of 11, he tried to write poetry.

He is starring on Broadway. His latest film is breaking boxoffice records. Since he owns 10 per cent of the picture, he may wind up comfortably well off.

Freedom is a key word in Steiger's life.

"I want to be free to do nothing if I want to—and everything if I choose," he said. "I want the freedom to make my own mistakes, to be hurt and to hurt—freedom to apologize, freedom to love."

Rod has been pretty much on his own since the age of 12. He worked as a leathercutter, an ice truck driver, a pin boy in a bowling alley, and a New Jersey boardwalk barker before joining the Navy.

"I had to lie about my age to get in," he recalled. "I went into the Navy because I was looking for some place to be."

After the war, while working with the Veterans Administration in Newark, he joined a theater group.

"At that time I had no real thought of becoming an actor," he said. "It was just a good way to meet girls."

"One of the worst mistakes an actor can make is to stay completely within a theatrical environment. An actor who lives more completely in his roles on the stage than in the role nature meant him to play is a frightened and unhappy person," he said.

"You can't make your job your whole life. It has to be only a part of it. This holds true for a man in Wall Street as well as for an actor."

He is a complicated man of considerable reserve who still tends to resent the brash familiarities of what he calls "the four-minute friends who try to move in on your life and rob you of your time, the one thing you can't get back."

His philosophy today? "Happiness has to be helped," he said slowly. "But if a man creates more beauty than he destroys, you must classify him as good."

"If he destroys more beauty than he creates, he is evil."

"What I want most is a happy home of my own—and the maturity to sustain it. I think I'm getting closer."

Julie Andrews, Mate on Honeymoon Trip

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Musical comedy star Julie Andrews is in town on a honeymoon-business trip which she hopes will permit her to see her new husband "at least occasionally."

The star of "My Fair Lady" and her husband, stage-designer Tony Walton, arrived at Los Angeles airport Monday. They were greeted by Jack Benny, who will appear with Miss Andrews on a special television show May 23.

Walton and Miss Andrews were married in England Sunday. It was the first marriage for both, culminating a childhood romance.

Mickey Rooney Agrees on Settlement in Divorce

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mickey Rooney has agreed to a $300,000 property settlement with his fourth wife and she will seek an uncontested divorce next week, her attorney said yesterday.

Max Gilford said the former Elaine Mahnen, 29, gets the family home and furnishings plus $121 monthly payments of $1,750. Rooney agrees to take out $200,000 in life insurance with his wife as beneficiary.

Rooney, 38, formerly was wed to Ava Gardner, Betty Jane Rase and Martha Stewart.

Wayne State to Bestow Degree on Bruce Catton

Catton will be honored when he speaks at the eleventh annual Lewis-Cass lecture of the Detroit Historical Society on "Michigan's past and the nation's future." He will receive an honorary doctor of humanities degree.

Motorists Beat Archers in Deer-Killing Contest

MADISON, Wis. (AP)—Motorists killed more deer in Wisconsin last year than were killed by bow and arrow hunters, the State Conservation Department reports.

Cars struck and killed 3,172 deer in 1958—a new high. Archers bagged 1,879.

Should 'Ugly American' Be Shown to the World?

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie—TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Should Hollywood show the face of "The Ugly American" to the world?

There have been indications some government officials do not want the Eugene Burdick-William Lederer best seller to be filmed. They argue that the novel, which attacks handling of American policy in Southeast Asia, would put this country in a bad light overseas.

But Universal-International has purchased rights to "The Ugly American" and assigned George Englund to produce. A handsome, articulate young man, Englund feels strongly about the story. He speaks from experience. He was associated with Marlon Brando when the actor proposed making a film about United Nations activities around the world. Englund and writer Stewart Stern took a lengthy trip to research the project.

"I spent three months in Southeast Asia," the producer remarked. "I was absolutely appalled at bungling by our officials over there."

"I came back convinced that we weren't engaged in a cold war with the Communists in that area. We're not even putting up a fight."

Englund said that the issue of "The Ugly American" boils down to this: that we are not sending our best people as representatives to remote lands. That was what the authors had in mind, he said, not an attack on the principle of foreign aid.

"The book has been used by isolationists to attack foreign aid," he remarked. "But when I was in Washington recently, many of the internationalist senators told me they thought the book was excellent and should be filmed. They feel, as I do, that it will help to awaken the American people to the need for better personnel abroad."

But what will foreigners think of a movie that puts America in such a bad light?

"This is the only place left on this planet where you can make a movie that is critical of the country," Englund said. "I think it will impress foreign audiences that we can point out our faults."

Bob Hope Slows Down Reluctantly: Regrets Not Doing Benefit Shows

"Have Tax, Will Travel" is the way Bob Hope summed up a few years ago his fantastic globe trotting to entertain American servicemen all over the world.

Old loved him and his government honored him for his untiring efforts to bring laughter to Americans wherever they were—in the frozen north, in Europe, Africa, or the jungles of the Pacific.

But the pace has caught up with Bob Hope, now an ailing, worried man. What does the future hold for him? Will he have to quit?

By VERNON SCOTT
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—For the first time in his life Bob Hope is turning a deaf ear to most requests for charity and benefit performances, and with each refusal the comedian says he dies a little.

Only last year he said, "As long as there are sick and injured people and kids who need help, I'll play benefits."

"From now on I'll be playing a long-term Bob Hope benefit," he gagged.

Hope's quips are few and not given with his old eye-rolling rascality. He's quieter now. Less brash. His off-screen personality has changed. For most of his career he kept up a running patter both in front of the cameras and among his friends when he wasn't working.

All that has changed. He is thoughtfully resentful of not being able to dash around the country for benefits.

"I guess that bothers me more than anything else," he said seriously.

"I've always enjoyed performing, but most of all when I knew it was for a good cause."

TAKES TIME OUT

"Right now I'm reserving judgment on my activities for the next year or two. During the next few months I'm taking time out to see how I feel. Lord knows, I don't have to work. The only fun I get out of life is the way I gear myself. This readjustment isn't as bad as I thought it might be."

Pleased with the critical reception of his new movie, "Alias Jesse James," it may be a long time before Bob makes another picture.

He refuses to start a project unless he knows he can jump in with all cylinders perking. He had planned to film "Somedays It's Feathers" this summer, but the comedy has been postponed indefinitely.

The comedian propped his feet up on a chair during a rehearsal break for his last TV show of the season. At every opportunity he stretches out to conserve his strength.

"This year I put together eight television shows, and guested on quite a few others," he said. "Next season I'll only do six."

SAW IT COMING

"I guess I knew this health thing was coming on for quite some time. So did some of my friends."

"When Y. Frank Freeman (production chief at Paramount Studios) said I was thinning myself out, I told him, 'I have a lot left. Don't worry about me. I'm fine. I should have known better.'"

"But it's important that people know I'm not dramatizing my illness. I'm going to get well, and I hope to get back into the swing of things. Not at the old pace. That's gone forever."

Would Bob consider a less frenetic facet of show biz—producing, for instance?

"I've never given it a thought."

Open Monday and Friday Evenings Until 9 P.M.

Phillip Steinhaus directs the orchestra and chorus at rehearsal Monday evening at All Saints Episcopal Church. The combined adult choirs with orchestra, soloists and organ will perform the "Mass in B Minor" by Johann Sebastian Bach on Sunday.

Musical Event at All Saints Church Sunday

'Mass in B Minor' to Be Presented

The combined adult choirs of All Saints Church Pontiac, will be joined by orchestra, soloists and organ on Sunday at 5 p.m. to perform the great "Mass in B Minor" by Johann Sebastian Bach.

The Mass, composed between 1733 and 1738, stands today as one of the most sublime and profoundly religious works in all art. It combines singular perfection of design with deep and varied emotions. It was originally conceived not as a vehicle for the liturgy, but rather as an independent setting of the text in oratorio style.

MANY PARTS

The Mass contains fifteen choruses, nine of them for five-voice parts; four for four voices; the "Sanctus" for six voices and the "Osanna" for double choir. In addition, there are six arias and three duets.

an intermission at about 6:30 p.m., during which a light supper will be served in Stevens Hall. The performance will resume at 7:30 p.m. No reservations are necessary for the performance or supper, and the public is cordially invited to attend.

Card Party Attracts Big Crowd

Fifty-five tables were in play at a style show and card party given Monday evening at Pontiac Federal Savings and Loan Building by the Junior Pontiac Women's Club.

Summer fashions were presented by the DeCor Shop, with narration by Mrs. Frank Anderson.

Models were Mrs. Donald McCandless, Mrs. Claire Hinkley, Mrs. Phillip Long, Mrs. Max G. Morey, Mrs. Kenneth White and Mrs. Barbara Harmon.

Mrs. Rose Porritt was chairman of the social committee. She was assisted by Mrs. Harry Richards, Mrs. Clarence A. Pudney, Mrs. Russell French, Mrs. Carroll Porritt, Mrs. Frank Anderson, Mrs. Harry J. Rice and Mrs. E. Milton Evans.

Hears Report on Girls' Ranch

Mrs. Charles Chandler reported on Camp Oakland Girls Ranch at the meeting of Auxiliary to Chief Pontiac Post 377, American Legion held Saturday evening at the post home.

Delegates chosen to attend the annual 18th district meeting are Mrs. Charles S. Chandler, unit president; Mrs. Donald Richman, treasurer; Mrs. E. V. Meyers, child welfare; and Mrs. Joseph Phillips, Americanism.

Guests at the meeting were Mrs. Oscar Deaton. Hostesses were Mrs. James VanScoyoc, Mrs. P. A. O'Neal and Mrs. Lewis Tate.

A donation was sent to Otter Lake Billet for children. Poppy Day will be May 21-23, it was announced.

Dear Abby

Be a Little More Liberal, Mom and Ease Up a Bit on the Punch

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is being married soon and we have made plans for the wedding and reception. Now here is my gripe: We are having a buffet supper with beer and punch. The boy's parents insist we serve hard liquor because they say their friends do not drink beer or punch. They are willing to pay for it. We are not throwing a social party. We are entertaining guests who come to wish the happy couple well. Don't you think we are within our rights to do it our way?

BRIDE'S MOTHER
DEAR MOTHER: It is your party, and technically you may do as you please. The bridegroom's parents have no right to INSIST on hard liquor (even if they pay for it), but if you want to start off with the best possible relationship between the two families—an ounce of prevention is worth a gallon of punch.

DEAR ABBY: How can I make my mother understand that she doesn't have to live with my father for my sake? She has told me so many times that the only reason she is staying with my father is because of me and the minute I get married she will leave him. I am not a baby, Abby, I am 15 years old. I can never remember my mother and father speaking nice to each other. They yell and fight and call each other names all the time. Don't you think they would be better off separated? I hate to think that my mother is sacrificing her life for me. Am I wrong to feel this way?

FIFTEEN

DEAR FIFTEEN: If your mother is keeping her marriage together for YOUR sake, she could be just a little more noble and refrain from reminding you of it. Don't feel guilty. There are probably other reasons.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "FIVE FEET TWO": A girl who wants to eat her cake and have it too, usually winds up with a "crumb."

For your copy of What Every Teenager Wants to Know, send 25 cents and a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Abby, care of The Pontiac Press.

Pilgrim group of First Congregational Church met Friday for luncheon at the home of Mrs. Robert Reynolds of North Johnson street. Cohostesses were Mrs. Frank Arnold and Mrs. C. B. Taylor.

Mrs. George Gaches reported on the history of birthstones.

Answer: Your letter points out one of the most important reasons why people should make every effort to be on time for their appointments, and I can only add that being late for any appointment without a valid excuse is very rude.

"Dear Mrs. Post: My son is going to give his sister in marriage and we would like to know if he is to sit at the bridal table, and if so whether his wife should be asked to sit there too?"

Answer: When her father or older relatives gives the bride away he is rarely asked to sit at the bride's table, but as her brother is more nearly her age, and probably a friend of the others at the table he should be asked to sit there and his wife ought to be invited to sit with him.

Don't Be Careless

Learn Proper Lip Make-up

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

The expression of the mouth makes such a difference in the way we appear to others. If it droops at the corners, it betrays a happy disposition, while straight-line, tense lips tell of inner stress or irritation.

Yet women often give such impressions because of the way they apply their lipstick. I have seen women with sneers or pouts or dreariness painted on their lips. I am sure that this was not their intention.

Because the mouth is such an extremely expressive feature I want to devote today's column to the art of lip makeup. It HAS become an art! When makeup is applied carelessly, it makes a caricature of the face and spoils its charm. When lipstick is smeared, it makes us appear poorly groomed.

FOLLOW NATURAL LINE

Since the shape of the mouth is so highly individual, it is best to follow the natural line of your lips. Who wants a mouth just like everyone else?

First be sure that your lips are clean (rid of old lipstick) and dry. For a truly good job you should learn to use a lip brush. This may seem awkward at first but you soon will wonder how you ever applied lip rouge in any other way. It may help you to brace your little finger on your chin in order to keep the brush steady.

Some experts advise you to begin at the outer corners of the mouth and draw the line in toward the center. However, the majority think it best to begin at the center and draw toward the corners. After you have outlined your lips, fill in with lipstick. Smooth with your finger and blot with tissue.

If your mouth isn't all you would like it to be, just a little change can work magic but this must be done subtly and not extravagantly. If your mouth is too wide, do not take the color all the way to the corners. Stop just a fraction before that. If it is too short, take color all the way to the corners. Then remove any which went a bit past the corners. If one lip is fuller than the other, either pull the line in on the fuller lip or fill out the thinner lip, whichever is more becoming.

Today the consistency of lipstick is so superior to what it was in the past. Do not settle for one which cakes or is too oily or too drying. The same stick is not good for every woman. It depends somewhat on her skin.

City OES Meets

Pontiac Chapter No. 228, OES, met at Masonic Temple Monday night. Mrs. Theodore Marshbanks, worthy matron, announced Villa Day will be held May 24 at Adrian.

MRS. R. N. WOODRUFF JR.

Woodruff-Dawson Vows Spoken at Christ Church

Frances Ann Dawson and Robert Norman Woodruff Jr., were married Saturday afternoon at Christ Church Cranbrook, Bloomfield Hills. The Rev. Robert DeWitt officiated at the ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Dawson of Birmingham and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Norman Woodruff of Birmingham.

The new Mrs. Woodruff wore a gown of white silk taffeta, fashioned with a rounded neckline and long sleeves. Garlands of hand-corded Alencon lace were applied on the fitted bodice and dome-shaped floor-length skirt that formed a chapel train. She wore a mantilla of heirloom Brussels lace and carried a bouquet of white butterfly roses and ivy.

ATTEND BRIDE

Virginia Lee Dawson was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Dorothy Lynn Dawson, another of the bride's sisters; Mrs. Robert H. Scott, Marcia Anne Kelley, Shelia McGinnis, all of Birmingham; Mrs. John B. Dixon of Huntington Woods, Marilyn Martin of Detroit and Mrs. Albert Theis III of Webster Groves, Mo., the bridegroom's sister.

All the attendants were dressed in gowns of imported white organdy over white taffeta with square necklines, short sleeves and Empire bodices of Swiss embroidered organdy. The waltz-length skirts were topped with moss green grosgrain cummerbunds.

The flower girl, Catherine Anne Theis wore a white eyelet organdy dress and carried de-mure roses and violets.

William B. Saunders was his brother's best man. Ushers were George D. Miller Jr., of Birmingham, Albert Theis III of Webster Groves, Ala., Bruce H. Smith, Donald E. Runkel, Russell B. Dawson, the bride's brother, all of Birmingham; Ralph E. Major and Dick A. Hopkins both of Cleveland.

CLUB RECEPTION
The reception was held at Detroit Golf Club. Before leaving for a honeymoon to Bermuda, the bride changed to a beige Italian silk costume suit. The couple will live in Dayton, Ohio.

The bride is a graduate of Northwestern University where she was a member of Gamma Phi Beta Sorority. The bridegroom is a graduate of University of Michigan and was affiliated with Sigma Chi fraternity.

Married Saturday afternoon at Christ Church Cranbrook were Frances Ann Dawson and Robert Norman Woodruff Jr. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Russell B. Dawson and Mr. and Mrs. Robert N. Woodruff.

Reds Urge Coup in Shaky Sudan

Anti-Nasser Man Gets Soviet Support; Efforts Not Off Ground Yet

CAIRO (AP) — Communists in Sudan are trying to line up support for a coup to put in power an anti-Nasser strongman on the order of Iraqi Premier Abdel Karim Kassem.

So far the Reds have met with little success in their efforts to build up a popular front which would join in the opposition to President Gamal Abdel Nasser's brand of Arab nationalism.

But Sudan is so wobbly politically and economically that Communist activities are not taken lightly by observers.

The man the Reds are grooming to be their Sudanese Kassem is Brig. Abdel Rahim Shanan, who looks like the strongest man in the military junta now governing the country.

Shanan himself is no Communist. Like other senior Sudanese officers, he got his military training under the British. Basically he is a conservative and a genuine Sudanese nationalist. But he is ambitious enough to be vulnerable to leftist wooing and he is anti-Egyptian.

Shanan was not a member of the original junta headed by army commander Ibrahim Abboud which took over the Sudanese government last November. Shanan forced his way into the junta by marching his regiment into Khartoum last March.

The compromise junta that resulted disappointed a powerful clique of junior officers who had backed Shanan in the hope he would set up a completely new regime.

There is a wide gap between generals and captains in Sudan's 12,000-man army.

The senior officers came up under British tutelage and tend to be pro-Western and anti-Egyptian. The junior officers mostly got quick commissions after Sudan became independent and tend to be Arab nationalists in the Nasser tradition, or leftists.

The junior officers have not produced a leader capable of engineering a coup, however, and several who were active politically were dismissed from the army or arrested.

The Communists in the Sudan are not strong numerically but they dominate the trade unions and the Anti-Imperialist Front.

Scouts Send Up Smoke Signals for Rescuers

FRANCONIA, N.H. (AP) — Two Boy Scouts, lost on Cannon Mountain for 45 hours, used their scoutcraft Monday to attract rescuers. Warren Keene, 12, and David Suddath, 13, both of Wellesley, Mass., sent up a smoke signal when they saw two search planes fly near the top of the 4,060-foot mountain.

A helicopter carried the boys to the mountain base where they were greeted by their parents. Gov. Wesley Powell also was there to meet them.

The boys had walked four miles from the spot where they disappeared last Saturday.

"We were a little frightened at night," the boys said, "but we were never really scared."

When they heard the planes they built a fire which sent up a plume of smoke.

"The boys were waving and jumping up and down," reported Capt. David Huggin of Concord, pilot of a DC3 plane.

Young Keene, who has only one arm, was injured last Saturday while he and other Boy Scouts from Wellesley were mountain hiking. Young Suddath stayed with him while the others went for help.

The boys were found in the same general vicinity where two prominent Hanover doctors perished last February while waiting to be rescued from their crashed plane.

The bodies of Dr. Ralph E. Miller, 60, and Dr. Robert Quinn, 32, were found last Tuesday.

Mamie to Visit Mother for 81st Birthday Fete

DENVER (AP) — Mamie Eisenhower is due here Wednesday to help her mother, Elvira Doud, celebrate her 81st birthday. Mrs. Doud has been ailing.

Brown Palace Hotel officials said they have reserved the eighth floor presidential suite for Mrs. Eisenhower.

Drinking Challenge Puts Date Back on Milk

BALTIMORE (AP) — Some ingenious women thought dairies in this city should continue to be required to date the containers of milk they sell.

The Women's Civic League passed out undated milk containers to the City Council on which they had passed this warning:

"This milk is undated. Will you take a chance and drink it?"

The council voted unanimously to uphold the women.

Tax Stamp Lawbreakers Can Stop 'Worrying' Now

WASHINGTON, (AP) — If you smoke cigarettes, you're probably a law breaker without even knowing it.

The law you break is one that is never enforced. However, if you're worried, it will become null and void on June 24—the day the government scraps liquor and tobacco tax stamps.

Examine a cigarette pack and you'll probably find it says something like this: "Law forbids the re-use of the federal stamps hereon and requires the person who empties this package to destroy such stamps when the package is emptied."

Clearly, you violate the law if you toss away an empty pack without carefully destroying the blue stamp.

Internal Revenue Service officials reported today that no smoker ever was prosecuted for failing to destroy a stamp. They said it is the kind of law that cannot be enforced.

Starting June 24, the service announced Monday tax stamps no longer will be pasted on cigarette packs and barrels of distilled spirits. Instead, the Treasury will collect excise taxes by requiring tobacco manufacturers and distillers to file semi-monthly tax returns.

Stamps still will appear on whisky bottles, but they aren't tax stamps. They only give assurance the tax on the whisky has been paid.

Congress authorized an end to liquor and tobacco tax stamps five years ago. It gave the Treasury plenty of time to make the change. The tax stamps first were issued in 1868, with Thomas Jefferson pictured on the first tobacco stamp. Jefferson was supplanted in 1879 by DeWitt Clinton, a governor of New York and a one-time presidential candidate.

Nearly 500 billion of the Clinton stamps have been printed in 80 years.

Incidentally, the change in the tax system will, for the first time, legalize the collection of tobacco tax stamps as a hobby. It is now illegal to collect them because of the law's requirement that they be destroyed after use.

One Treasury source said the government may take advantage of this situation and sell its stock of unused stamps to collectors after June 24.

Sallade Works to Form Rockefeller Boosters

LANSING (UPI) — A Michigan lawmaker yesterday told of formation of an Iowa group to boost New York Governor Nelson Rockefeller for President.

Rep. George W. Sallade (R-Ann Arbor) said the Iowa group was one of "several" he was organizing and it was "well on its way to having a representative group in every congressional district in the state."

The textile and apparel industries use more than eight million tons of coal in one normal year.

Officer Killed Halting Robbery

Thief, Bystander Also Shot in Battle After Supermarket Holdup

MINNEAPOLIS (AP) — A policeman was killed, one of two gunmen critically wounded and a bystander shot in a gunfight during the holdup of a Minneapolis supermarket Monday night.

Felled in front of the store was Sgt. William Herkal, 35. He died with three bullet wounds in his chest.

Seconds later, Jerry Gowdy, 22, of Greybull, Wyo., identified as one of the bandits, crumpled under the blast of a riot gun fired by Patrolman Jake Lindgren.

Taken into custody inside the market was a man identified as John Brewer, also 22 and from Greybull.

A silent alarm had summoned police as Gowdy and Brewer demanded that Ralph Scheffer, the store manager, open the safe. Detective Wayne Leonard and Patrolman Durwood Witt were waiting when the pair rushed out of the office, Gowdy's fist crammed with currency.

Witt subdued Brewer, but Gowdy drew a .38 pistol and fired at Leonard. As the detective returned fire, Gowdy ran for the front door. Gowdy fell wounded but quickly regained his feet.

He ran outside to meet and shoot Herkal, without warning, police said, and was then felled by Lindgren.

Charles Wetherille, detective inspector, said about $500 was recovered from the two men.

Wounded in the side as Gowdy came out was Walter Zabel, 66, who was waiting for his wife and daughter. He was in fair condition.

Pier Angeli Ordered to Answer Contempt

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Italian actress Pier Angeli is under orders to appear May 29 to answer why she shouldn't be cited for contempt of court.

Her former husband, singer Vic Damone, sought the contempt citation in court Monday. Miss Angeli flew to Europe April 14 with the couple's 3-year-old son, Perry, a few hours after Damone obtained a court order prohibiting her from taking the child out of the country.

She got a divorce last December, charging Damone was insanely jealous.

Broadway Ticket Agency Offers Cut-Rate Prices

NEW YORK (AP) — Theatergoers can once again go show shopping.

A new ticket agency, the Ticket Corner opened Monday offering tickets for certain shows at reduced prices. The agency buys blocks of tickets wholesale for shows that are not selling out. It retails them cut-rate.

Charles Bloomfield, operator of the agency, says he would like to restore the show shopping habit that prevailed on Broadway years ago.

New Lens Fluid Pink and Sterile

SUNNYVALE, Calif. (AP) — Barnes-Hind Laboratories, Inc., which recently recalled all its wetting solutions for contact lenses, says it has distributed a new one which will be pink, instead of green, and sterile.

The Food and Drug Administration two weeks ago warned against use of one lot of the old solutions, saying it contained a potentially dangerous form of bacteria.

Harry W. Hind, president of the drug firm, said no blindness or infection had resulted from use of the old solution.

Hind said the old product had been registered with the Department of Agriculture "on the previous advice of the FDA," which he said had never required sterility in the solution. There is no other difference from the old product, Hind said.

Plea to Top Man Fails; No School Term Change

FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Bobby Lee Jasper of Russell Springs sent his penciled plea right to the top—but it didn't work.

The youngster asked Gov. A. B. Chandler to reduce school terms to three months a year. "If you think this could be done," he said, "write me a letter."

Chandler replied that when he was Bobby's age he "had the same idea," but later realized "the more education I could get, the better off I would be."

Legion Scholarships Go to 11 Vets' Daughters

DETROIT (AP) — Eleven $300 memorial scholarships have been awarded to daughters of war veterans by the American Legion Auxiliary of Michigan.

Winners were Constance Cummings, Menominee; Judith M. Putnam, Detroit; Patricia Ellen Mosher, Capac; Deloris Kay Suddarth, Lowell; Mary Theresa Lenhard, Lansing; Ruby Ann Vahguilder, Millersburg; Barbara Anne Laberge, Alpena; Shirley Louise McKinney, River Rouge; Martha Dorothy Gies, Hastings; Albina Joyce Macris, Monroe, and Ruby Kay Wendt, Onekama.

Westbrook Pegler Weds

NEW YORK (AP) — Newspaper columnist Westbrook Pegler was married Monday to Pearl W. Doane. He is 63, she is 47. It was her third marriage. Pegler's first wife died in 1955.

8 Appointments Made;
Building, Heating Codes
Are Adopted

PONTIAC TOWNSHIP — Last night's regular meeting of the Township Board was punctuated with questions from the floor which occasionally turned into quite heated arguments as members acted upon appointments, adopted building and heating codes and handled other matters on the lengthy agenda.

Carl Schingek was named Fire Custodian for two years at an annual salary of $5,300, an increase of five per cent.

Clayton O. Lovelace was appointed building and electrical inspector for a two-year term at a salary of $6,000 plus car expense.

The Board decided not to rehire Irene Bates as extra clerical help — a job she had held for over three years.

Bernard Feldhauser was appointed to the Township Zoning Board to succeed Monte Bodman who recently was elected to the Township Board.

Other appointments are: Richard Avery to the Board of Appeals, Donald R. Schell to the Electrical Board, Bodman and George Lyle to the Building and Grounds Committee and Mrs. Peter Garland to the Avon-Pontiac Township Regional Planning Commission.

OTHER ACTIONS
In other action the board decided to publish its intent to proceed under provisions of Michigan Public Acts No. 185, as amended, adopting a long-awaited building code.

The new heating code, to be posted in five different locations in the township, will go into effect 30 days after posting.

Almost an hour of the four-hour-long meeting was devoted to the request for rezoning of two lots on Squirrel road south of Auburn road. A representative of the Auburn Lumber Co. wanted the lots rezoned from residential to commercial to permit construction of an office building on the site.

Climax of the discussion was reached when the company official agreed to sell the property in question to the objector, the man who lived next door to it.

Another matter which drew varied comment from members of the audience of over 60 persons was the question of rezoning a piece of property on Churchill road from residential to commercial to allow for construction of a dental clinic.

The request for "spot rezoning" — as it was dubbed — was turned down by the Board.

Seaway Ships Hit
Unexpected Snags

CHICAGO (AP)—Large ocean ships, venturing into the Great Lakes for the first time with opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway, have run into some stormy operating and financial weather.

By far the most agonizing thing for shippers has been the traffic jams caused by late lingering ice in the St. Lawrence River. Lost operating days cost money.

One line's operations chief was asked to estimate losses represented by the pileup of ships in southwestern Lake Ontario at the Welland Canal.

"I've been biting my nails for three weeks," he said. "I'd be tearing my hair if I dared face it. Millions and millions of dollars; that's as close as I can come."

There have been other troubles, especially in finding berths for ships, and in handling of cargo.

But nobody is throwing up his hands in despair—yet.

Many of the kinks can be ironed out in time—some problems are being attacked with determination. As for the jam which has had as many as 50 ships backed up at the Welland Canal, many shippers are hopeful that it won't happen again. The jam of 50 ships Sunday was the greatest recorded at the canal.

"If the river channel had been opened 10 days earlier, it wouldn't have happened," one shipper said. "One thing should be said right now: the lock operators have been doing an admirable job."

The Great Lakes ports have presented a variety of situations for seaway ships. At Cleveland which has plenty of deep water berths, there have been few complaints.

Chicago, which prides itself on its new Lake Calumet port, has been handling its arrivals with fair dispatch. But there have been snags.

A number of Great Lakes ports are closed to deep draft ships for lack of facilities. Some ports aren't equipped for the traffic. At Detroit, the harbor terminal couldn't accommodate the rush of ships. Four were at berths Monday and four others lay in the Detroit River awaiting space.

At Buffalo, problems include shallow harbor inadequate dock facilities and inexperienced dock crews. One ship captain who had allotted four days for unloading steel had to revise his schedule to 10 days.

There have been mishaps. Ships have scraped dock walls and missed channels.

Authorities are moving to correct defects. Canada has taken firm steps to ban ships lacking canal handling gear from the Welland Canal.

Meanwhile it isn't all smooth sailing in the Great Lakes.

City Judge to Speak at Rochester

ROCHESTER — Probate Judge Arthur E. Moore of Pontiac will be the principal speaker at tonight's public meeting sponsored by the Rochester Area Youth Guidance Committee.

Judge Moore will explain the newly-adopted Rochester Youth Ordinance during the session scheduled to start at 8 p.m. at Rochester Community High School.

In addition to the noted Pontiac jurist, members of the Case Workers Committee will be on hand to further outline the program designed to prevent serious youth problems in the Rochester Community School District.

Eugene Rounds, Youth Guidance Chairman, has urged all parents and others interested in the new program to attend tonight's meeting.

School Bands Play Tonight
at Romeo High

ROMEO — Over 280 young musicians will participate in the annual Spring Music Festival of Bands tonight at 7:30 in the Romeo Community High School gymnasium.

The beginning band of fifth graders from the three elementary schools will make its initial appearance during the concert. A group of sixth, seventh and eighth graders also will perform in individual groups according to grade.

The finale will feature the Cadet Band composed of students from the seventh, eighth and ninth grades.

The junior high bands are led by L. P. Morse, and E. C. Ojala is the director of the fifth and sixth grade musicians.

No admission will be charged, but donations will be accepted for use by the Instrumental Music Department.

Rochester Ups
Budget $6,625

But Tax Levy Will Stay Same While Valuations Also Show Rise

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Village Council last night adopted its 1959-60 budget which provides for expenditures and reserves amounting to $338,915.

This figure is up from last year's budget which was $332,290.

The tax levy required to balance the proposed General Fund budget this year remains the same at 17 mills on the assessed valuation.

The total assessed valuation, set by the Village Board of Review, is $7,307,800 this year. Of this amount $6,029,000 is real estate and $1,278,800 is personal property.

The total figure represents an increased assessed valuation of $231,800 over 1958.

The new village budget combines the General Fund and Highway Fund which will result in many advantages, according to Village Manager Paul York.

This arrangement meets all the legal requirements and will simplify auditing and reporting of Department of Public Works and Highway Department activities.

All accounts formerly in the Highway Fund now will become part of the Department of Public Works and will result in a clearer picture of the DPW operations, York said.

Another change from previous procedures is the establishment of a Revolving Equipment Fund.

All major equipment will be purchased, maintained and serviced from the Revolving Equipment Fund. All other departments will rent this equipment at a fixed rental which, in turn, will pay for the operating costs of the new department, the manager explained.

This system will provide better control of the costs of operating each department, he added.

In other action Council members approved a swimming pool ordinance for the village. It provides that all pools in town be enclosed by a fence four feet in height and six feet from the edge of the pool. The fences also must have a self-closing, latch-type gate.

If the fence is to be farther away from the pool, property owners must contact the building inspector for approval.

Owners of swimming pools already constructed must comply with the new ordinance within 60 days after passage the Council ruled.

Three Run for Area School Board Post

WEST BLOOMFIELD TOWNSHIP—Registered voters of the West Bloomfield School District will be asked to elect one of three candidates who filed petitions for a three-year position on the Board of Education.

Mrs. Frances M. Leaf, the incumbent, Mrs. Virginia Vogelsburg and Frank Jones have filed.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m. June 8 at Roosevelt Elementary School on Cass Lake road, Scotch Elementary School at 5810 Commerce Rd., and at the township hall.

Group Forms to Aid Library in Clarkston

CLARKSTON — A "Friends of the Library" group is being organized to better acquaint people of the township with the operation and benefits derived from a community library.

Newly-appointed chairman Merle Bennett has been asked to choose a five-member committee from names submitted to him from the Library Board.

Registered voters turned down a resolution for an additional one-mill increase for a township library, at the last election, and backers of the project plan on projecting an educational campaign to interest more people.

A dinner-meeting is planned for early fall to launch a subscription membership drive and to get the group fully organized, according to Bennett.

Clarkston Eastern Star to Bestow Degrees on 2

CLARKSTON — The Joseph C. Bird Order of the Eastern Stars will exemplify degrees at 8 p.m. Monday at the Masonic Temple on Main street.

Shirley Carter, honored queen, and Mrs. Laura Ruggles Bailey, post-honored queen of Clarkston Bethel 25, will receive the degrees. Refreshments will be served after the ceremonies.

Whose Idea? George Washington's

Seaway Proposed in 1784

"Open the road (between the Great Lakes and the sea) . . . and see what an influx of articles will pour in—how amazingly our exports will be increased—and how simply we shall be compensated for any trouble and expense we may encounter to effect it."

The quotation above is not from some modern advocate of a seaway connection between the Atlantic Ocean and the Great Lakes.

It is from a message George Washington wrote to a member of the Continental Congress in 1784. His prophetic vision of the benefits has now become reality with the opening of the St. Lawrence Seaway.

Through the Seaway, a previously landlocked area covering more than a million square miles can be served by 90 per cent of the world's merchant vessels.

The Seaway project, to be officially dedicated by Queen Elizabeth, Prince Philip and President Eisenhower in Montreal on June 26, will speed transportation—at lower cost—of iron ore from the Lake Superior region and the new Labrador and Quebec fields to the great Cleveland-Youngstown-Pittsburgh complex of steel mills and fabricating plants. For the first time, it will be profitable for shipping companies to haul bulk cargoes of many products such as grain, animal feed, fertilizer, linseed meal and so forth.

The new locks and deepened channels will, for instance, cut the round trip time between Montreal and Chicago by an estimated three days.

Much work still needs to be done. But when the Seaway is fully completed, about June, 1962, vessels from the Atlantic Ocean will be able to enter the St. Lawrence River and steam 2,350 miles to its western terminus at Duluth.

The Seaway project consists of seven new locks (see map) 800 feet long and 80 feet wide, with new channels dredged to accommodate vessels of 27-foot draft.

Remaining to be done is the deepening of five major channels connecting the Great Lakes—a major waterways program in itself.

Report Made on Junior High

Rochester Study Group
Presents Its Findings to School Board

ROCHESTER — The Rochester Junior High School Study Group recently completed a 61-page report of its findings and yesterday presented it to members of the Board of Education at a joint meeting in the school library.

The comprehensive report was prepared by a 17-man committee composed of six junior high school faculty members, six citizens, junior high school principal Frank Richardson, Supervisor of Instruction Douglas Lund and Board of Education representative Dr. Sarah Van Housen Jones.

The group conducted a thorough survey of enrollment, plant and curriculum at the junior high, covering each phase in specific detail. Along with descriptions of its findings were recommendations to the Board.

Included in the summary was the recommendation that a permanent group consisting of administrators, faculty and citizens be formed to continue study of the junior high curriculum.

Henry Purdy, Board president, and Superintendent of Schools Donald C. Baldwin commended committee members for the time and effort they had put into the study. Purdy then told them the Board would take it under advisement.

Avondale Schools PTA

Theft of Auto
Used in Robbery

A 19-year-old Hazel Park youth, whose arrest for driving a stolen car led to apprehension of five other youths accused of an $8,000 safe robbery in Birmingham, will be sentenced May 25 for car theft.

Larry McFarland, 19, of 1220 E. Myers St., pleaded guilty when arraigned yesterday before Oakland County Circuit Judge Clark J. Adams.

Over the objection of Arthur P. McKenna, chief probation officer for Oakland County, Chief Assistant Prosecutor George F. Taylor prevailed upon Judge Adams to lower the bond from $1,000 to $500.

However, McFarland failed to

With colleges around the country closing out spring football drills at this time, many pro clubs including the Detroit Lions are frowning on the use of their contracted players in old-timer or alumni games.

The Lions can hardly be blamed for stopping a player like Earl Morrall from playing in the Michigan State old-timer game this Saturday.

"We told Morrall not to play in the game," said Lions' coach George Wilson, "not because we want to feud with the college but because he or any other player is taking a big risk on injury."

Of course Wilson was referring to the case of Steve Junker last year. Junker had a great year as a rookie in 1957.

He played in the old-timer game at Xavier University in the spring of 1958 and injured his leg. He later aggravated it in training camp and he was out for the entire 1958 campaign.

"We haven't made it a law stopping players from participating in these alumni games, but we try to talk them out of it for their own good," Wilson added.

MUNSON DECIDES ON U. OF D.
University of Detroit's athletic recruiting carries an "assurance clause" which is gaining favor with many prospective athletes.

Harrison Munson, Pontiac Central's ace basketball player and top student, changed his mind about going to Yale and in a letter to Titan freshman basketball coach Brendan McNamara he has indicated he was going to enter U. of D.

Munson will be getting a "full ride," which is the term used for a room-board-books and tuition student.

The "assurance clause," which is put into writing, stipulates that in event of athletic injury the athlete will be completely covered medically, and in event the injury should prevent him from continuing athletic competition, his scholarship will remain intact.

"We are one of a few schools who protect a student's scholarship in event of athletic injury and the only school to put it in writing," commented McNamara in revealing his pleasure at getting Munson.

Harrison, who leaves PCH in June with an all-A average, indicated he would enter the college of engineering.

How does Munson feel about it? "He's all excited," said PCH coach Art Van Ryzin, "he's already working on the outdoor basketball court to stay in shape."

DITTO FROM THE PRESS BOX

Speaking of local athletes, Holly's George McDaniel, who like Munson was on The Press All-County team, has also tendered a letter of intent to U. of D. for basketball.

McDaniel was named the Most Valuable Player in the state tournament the past season and it should be noted that U. of D. also got the MVP of 1957 — Dave Debuschere, now a freshman there.

Palmer Will Vacation After Oklahoma Victory

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—A flock of professional golfers headed for Arkansas today, quite happy that one of their group was taking a brief vacation.

And that player, Arnold Palmer of Ligonier, Pa., could well afford one even if he extended it for the rest of the year. He picked up $3,500 yesterday for winning the $25,000 Oklahoma City Open with a 15-under-par score of 273 over the Twin Hills Country Club course.

Palmer said he would be unable to play in the $15,000 Hot Springs Open starting Thursday and would miss the Memphis and Louisville tournaments because of other business and the fact that he needed a rest from the tournament grind.

His next appearance will be in Washington, D.C., June 1, where he will try to qualify for the National Open Championship at Winged Foot at Mamaroneck, N.Y., June 11-13.

Palmer is a player that the nation's golf writers have selected to win the Open and the Professional Golfers Assn. championship this year.

Palmer's victory here boosted his bankroll to $15,490 for the year but it must be remembered that he pocketed $45,000 as the top money winner last year.

The 29-year-old par smasher finished with only two strokes to spare over a promising newcomer, Bob Goalby of Belleville, Ill., now playing out of Crystal River, Fla. Goalby was in the thick of the battle in the final round, shooting a 67 for second place money of $2,300 and this increased his year's earnings to $7,379.

Beats Howe Easily; Sawchuk 4th

Bathgate Most Valuable

MONTREAL (AP)—The most valuable player in the National Hockey League during the past season was a man whose team didn't even make the post-season playoffs.

He was Andy Bathgate of the New York Rangers, who scored 40 goals for his team although he skated with two damaged knees. He receives the Hart Trophy, symbol of the honor, and $1,000 in cash.

Bathgate was the one-sided choice of the sports writers and broadcasters in the league who vote on the award. On the basis of five points for a first-place vote, three for second and one for third, he drew 133 points.

TOPS IN NHL — Andy Bathgate (above), brilliant wingman for the New York Rangers, is the winner of the Hart Trophy as the National Hockey League's Most Valuable Player during the 1958-59 season.

Ex-Birmingham Star Sets Western Record

KALAMAZOO (UPI)—Miami (Ohio) University's track team forfeited the mile relay in a dual track meet with the Western Michigan University squad yesterday when it saw that it could not defeat the Broncos even by winning the relay.

The forfeit gave the Broncos a 74-61 victory over Miami.

Charles Warre of Miami was the only double winner in the meet, taking firsts in both the shot put and the discus throw.

Douglas Wuggazer of Western set a new varsity record in winning the half mile in 1:52.8. Wuggazer hails from Birmingham.

Texas, Mexican Nines Collide Inter-Loop Experiment Will Be Tried Tonight

AUSTIN (AP)—A unique game will be played here Tuesday night with the baseball world wondering if the experiment holds the key to larger turnouts.

The Pan American Assn. makes its official debut when teams of two leagues play each other for the first time with the results counting in league standings.

It may well trigger inter-league play elsewhere, including the major leagues.

On hand to see first-hand how things go are Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick; Warren Giles, National League president; George Trautman, head of the minor leagues, and presidents of the American Assn., Texas and Mexican Leagues.

Neither Austin of the Texas League nor Nuevo Laredo of the Mexican League has any familiarity with each other's style at either end of the diamond.

Other games matching clubs in both leagues also are scheduled tonight but Austin-Nuevo Laredo is the official inaugural.

Austin President Allen Russell has been instrumental in bringing to reality a dream envisioned by men close to Mexican baseball for 20 years.

Several years ago Russell and others sought to transfer Texas League franchises into Mexico but the program backfired when the Mexican League was officially granted Class A status.

The Mexican League was organized in the late 1920's with the late Ban Johnson, then American League president, as one of its top supporters.

The Austin Senators had no advance warning which of the talented Nuevo Laredo pitchers would get the call for the opener. Julio Moreno, former Washington Senator, is the club's leading pitcher. The team won the league championship last year.

Three of the Texas League clubs will be playing in Mexico with Amarillo at Poza Rica, Tulsa at Vera Cruz and San Antonio at Mexico City, meeting the Reds.

In addition to Austin's inaugural with Nuevo Laredo, Corpus Christi will host the Mexico City Tigers and Victoria will entertain Monterrey.

Tigers Start Long Road Trip Tonight

Grid Dollars Help Baseball Landlords

Lions Good as Tiger Tenants

By BRUNO L. KEARNS
Sports Editor, Pontiac Press
DETROIT—The Fall tenants of Briggs Stadium, the Detroit Lions, are looking forward to another profitable season with the blessings of the landlords, the Detroit Tigers, who are fighting a problem of decreasing attendance.

Actually, bigger crowds for the Lions means bigger rental receipts for the Tigers and in the past three years the Baseball Company has realized some tidy figures which may have kept baseball profits above water.

At a press luncheon yesterday, the Lions announced that 37,799 season tickets have been sold to date and this is 376 more than were sold at the same time last year when the National Football League record total of 42,154 were purchased in advance.

"Many people thought our season sales would take a big tumble because of the 4-7-1 record of the Lions last year," said ticket chairman Ted Little, "but even though baseball has finally come to pass at Briggs Stadium the past week, pro football continues to grow with Detroit sports fans."

The Lions last year paid the Tigers $200,000 in rental fees and another estimated $100,000 was picked up in concessions by the baseball club.

The arrangement between the two organizations calls for the Lions to pay the Tigers 15 per cent of the gate per game. Last season the football club drew 321,000 fans for six home games, going well over 50,000 each Sunday at Briggs Stadium.

Coach George Wilson said he "looks for the Lions to be back in contention in 1959."

"I don't think all the injuries we had last year can happen two years in a row, at least I hope not," said Wilson.

The Lions aren't wasting any time getting into shape. The old office on Michigan Avenue now houses training room equipment and most of the players residing in the Detroit area work with weights and bicycle equipment twice weekly.

"We had a rash of leg operations last year, with Gil Mains, Gene Gedman, Steve Junker and Jerry Reichow having surgery," said

Wilson, "so now they are getting their legs in shape early."

There were other players such as John Henry Johnson, Charlie Ane, Tobin Rote, Jim Doran who suffered leg and knee injuries and "that hurt us seriously," Wilson added.

Wilson expects three or four rookies to earn regular positions this year. Nick Pietrosante of Notre Dame, guard Mike Rabold of Indiana and linebacker Ron Koes of North Carolina are among the top rated.

In the drafts, the Lions made a big bid for linemen and Wilson expects help from Ron Luciano of Syracuse (6-3,230), Dick Guesman of West Virginia (6-4,245), Jim Linden of Oregon (6-4,230) and Dave Holden of Los Angeles State (6-7,250).

Positions to fill are those of re-tired veterans Lou Creekmur, offensive tackle; Roger Zatkoff, defensive tackle; and Jack Christiansen, defensive back.

The Lion rookies open camp at Cranbrook July 23rd with the veterans reporting July 30th. The first exhibition game this year is August 8th against the LA Rams in Boulder, Colo. It is a benefit game for the Air Force at request of the U.S. government.

"We can't argue with city hall," jested Wilson.

In defending the Lions' schedule of seven pre-season games this year Wilson said, "We want to give all our rookies a chance to show what they can do, and they have as much chance to get hurt in a three hour scrimmage as they can in an actual game, which seems to be the big objective."

Three of the pre-season games will be played at Briggs Stadium against New York, Aug. 28; Cleveland Sept. 13 and Washington Sept. 19 or 20.

JOHNNY GETS HIS MAN — Milwaukee Braves second baseman Johnny O'Brien takes a spill while fielding a grounder hit by Tony Taylor of the Chicago Cubs in the 7th inning of Monday's game at Chicago, but manages to flip the ball to second base in time to force pinch runner Don Eaddy. That's Johnny Logan, Milwaukee shortstop, making a bare-handed catch and umpire Tom Gorman calling the play. The Braves defeated the Cubs, 8-1.

3 Greeks Lead Orioles to 7-3 Win

By United Press International

Paul Richards knows a little Greek, like Phi Beta Kappa, but he also knows that Baltimore's Greek fraternity may supply the key for the club's highest finish in history.

The three Greek players who are keeping the Orioles up around the top of the American League are Milt Pappas, Gus Triandos and Billy Loes.

All of them had a hand in Monday night's 7-3 victory over Washington which moved Baltimore back into a virtual second-place tie with Chicago, only a game-and-a-half behind first-place Cleveland.

Pappas celebrated his 20th birthday by posting his fourth straight victory without a defeat. Triandos contributed his seventh home run of the season and Loes came in the seventh inning and succeeded in "saving" his fourth game for the Orioles in the space of eight days.

Between them, Pappas and Loes held the Senators to five hits. Pappas yielded four of them, including Bob Allison's sixth homer in the first inning. Gene Woodling and Bob Nieman also homered for the Orioles, who dealt Pedro Ramos his fourth defeat.

It was the only game scheduled in the American League.

In the National League, Los Angeles outlasted Philadelphia, 11-10; San Francisco smothered Pittsburgh, 14-4, and first-place Milwaukee beat Chicago, 8-1. Cincinnati and St. Louis were not scheduled.

Norm Larker's squeeze bunt with the bases loaded in the ninth inning scored Don Demeter with the winning run for the Dodgers after the Phillies had led 9-3 at one point.

Ed Bouchee's two-run homer highlighted a six-run rally in the fifth inning that gave Philadelphia its six-run bulge. The Dodgers tied the score in the sixth and went ahead in the seventh but Gene Freese tied the score again at 10-10 with his third pinch homer of the season in the eighth. Art Fowler was the winner and Jim Hearn the loser.

Backed by a 20-hit attack, Jack Sanford coasted to his fifth victory of the season in the Giants' one-sided triumph over the Pirates.

Bob Schmidt, Willie Kirkland, Jackie Brandt and Sanford each collected three hits, Schmidt driving in four runs with two doubles and a single. Sanford gave up 10 hits, two of which were homers by Bob Skinner and Dick Stuart. Bennie Daniels started for Pittsburgh and was routed in the fourth when the Giants rallied for four runs.

Johnny Logan's second homer of the campaign and Eddie Mathews' 12th helped the Braves to their victory over the Cubs.

Leading 3-1, the Braves broke the game open in the eighth when they sent 10 men to the plate and scored five runs. Del Crandall doubled two of the runs home and Mickey Vernon's pinch single drove in two more.

Bob Buhl pitched seven innings for Milwaukee to gain his first triumph. He gave up Chicago's lone run in the seventh on Bobby Thomson's double and Dale Long's pinch single. Moe Drabowsky suffered his third defeat.

Whehrer placed Wehmeier on the waiver list and all clubs had until today to waive on him.

Wehmeier, 32, who came to the Tigers from the Cardinals last year in a purchase deal, has been suffering from a bad arm. He underwent an operation for the removal of bone chips from his elbow last winter, but his arm failed to respond properly. He has not been used in any games this year.

Wehmeier talked with general manager Rick Ferrell yesterday, and then left for his home in Cincinnati.

Lary Will Pitch Series Opener at Washington

Tour to Include 17 Games in All Rival Cities of AL

DETROIT (AP)—Jimmie Dykes and his Detroit Tigers shoved off today on a big testing job—a long road trip that will prove the merit of the team's sensational comeback.

The rejuvenated Tigers, winners of seven of their last eight games under their new boss, flew to Washington for a game tonight that opens a 17-game swing through all the rival cities of the American League.

By the time the team comes home at the end of the month its fans will know for sure whether the recent spurt has been a flash in the pan or the real stuff.

Considering all the evidence, the Tigers are primed to show the latter is true.

The Tigers play three games at Washington, all night contests. From there they go to Baltimore then Boston and New York to complete a tour of the east.

On their return to the west, they'll play at Cleveland, Kansas City and Chicago in finishing off their longest road assignment so far in the 1959 season.

Righthander Frank Lary, the Tigers' top emergency man this year, will pitch tonight's opener against the Senators. His rival will be former Tiger Bill Fischer. Fischer has been ill with a virus. He hasn't pitched since he beat Detroit April 30. Lary will be after his fourth victory against two defeats. Fischer is 2-0.

The start of the road test finds the Tigers still in the league basement but not quite as deep down as a week ago. They are 9-16, two games behind seventh place Kansas City.

The Tigers left town with the league's leading hitter — Harvey Kuenn with his .405 average — and with two others in the top ten. Al Kaline at .359 and Rocky Bridges at .326.

Detroit is hooked to play four successive night games. After the three under the lights at Washington the Tigers play their opener with Baltimore Friday, also at night.

Detroit Places Herm Wehmeier on Waiver List

DETROIT (UPI)—The Detroit Tigers expected to know today whether they could give pitcher Herman Wehmeier his outright release.

The Tigers placed Wehmeier on the waiver list and all clubs had until today to waive on him.

Wehmeier, 32, who came to the Tigers from the Cardinals last year in a purchase deal, has been suffering from a bad arm. He underwent an operation for the removal of bone chips from his elbow last winter, but his arm failed to respond properly. He has not been used in any games this year.

Wehmeier talked with general manager Rick Ferrell yesterday, and then left for his home in Cincinnati.

Doctoring Your Golf

By DR. CARY MIDDLECOFF

PATIENT'S COMPLAINT: "I don't know why, but my performance is inconsistent."

DIAGNOSIS: Departure from fundamentals.

TREATMENT: There are a number of things to be considered in acquiring a sound golf swing and keeping it generally in the groove. It is not possible to keep all the important points in mind while actually hitting a golf shot. They should be taken up separately and worked out on the practice tee.

One such important point is that the right elbow should be pointing straight down at the top of the backswing. This keeps it in close to the body where it should be. If the right elbow gets out and away from the body, the swing is bound to go wrong.

The drawing, illustrating this, also shows the very important point that the left hand should be firmly in control of the club at the top of the swing. Many players tend to loosen the grip with the left hand at this stage of the stroke. To do so will always spoil the swing.

WELCOME BACK — San Francisco pitcher Johnny Antonelli (right) had a warm welcome for Dusty Rhodes, former pinch hitter par excellence with the Giants when the team played in New York. Rhodes joined the club yesterday, coming up from Phoenix in the Pacific Coast League. Manager Bill Rigney hopes his bat will take up the slack in the pinch hitting department, a big weakness on the team so far this year.

City Horseshoe Contab Tonight

The City Horseshoe League, sponsored by the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department, will be organized for the 1959 season tonight at a 7:30 meeting at Oakland Park.

All horseshoe pitchers interested in participating in singles and doubles competition during the summer months should attend this meeting.

General rules, trophy fees, registration information and league scheduling will be discussed. More detailed information about the league's operation will be available after May 18.

Those players unable to attend tonight's session can obtain additional information by calling the Parks and Recreation Department, FE 3-7131.

Orbit Moves Up for Preakness

Cornell Entry Captures Prep by Half Length

Rated 3rd Choice, With Dancer, First Landing Named One-Two

BALTIMORE (AP)—The early odds makers figure trainer Reggie Cornell has already made good on his 1958 vow to come back to the Preakness "some day with a better horse."

Cornell, who made the promise after his much publicized Silky Sullivan ran a ludicrous eighth in last year's big Pimlico race, is back for Saturday's edition with Royal Orbit.

Off his come-from-behind victory in the Preakness Prep yesterday, following up his first finishing fourth in the Kentucky Derby on May 2, Royal Orbit was tabbed the probable third choice at 4-1 in the first line released by the track for the $150,000-added Preakness.

As expected, Brookmeade's Sword Dancer, second by a nose to now-absent Tommy Lee in Kentucky, was figured as the likely 2-1 choice, with Christopher T. Chinery's First Landing, the third Derby finisher, next at 3-1.

Then came Royal Orbit, followed by Emil Dolme's Manassa Mauler, 6-1; Clairborne Farm's Duncie, 8-1; Elkanah Stable's Open View, 10-1; King Ranch's Black Hills, 15-1; Miss Patricia Jacobs' Our Dad, 20-1; Lester G. Robinson's Marauder, 20-1; Anthony Imbesi's Rico Tesio, 20-1; Robert S. Lytle's Fischbach II, 20-1; and Cecil B. Sundbach's Festival King, 30-1.

Cornell good naturedly absorbed the barbs tossed his way after Silky's collapse in last year's Preakness and his 12th-place finish in the Derby a couple of weeks earlier.

"But I'll be back some day with a better horse for this race," he said.

In yesterday's $5,000 Preakness Prep, Royal Orbit showed a remarkable similarity to Silky Sullivan with his tendency to dawdle until the race was about half over. Then he also showed a notable difference by roaring ahead in the stretch for a half length victory over Manassa Mauler and four other Preakness eligibles.

Black Hills was third, two lengths back with the pace-setting Marauder dropping to fourth. Ben Hatskin's Master Palynch and the second part of the King Ranch entry, Call The Witness, brought up the rear and dropped out as possible Preakness starters.

Besides ripping off the distance in a sharp 1:44 4-5, Royal Orbit convinced Cornell he still likes "to run all day."

Avon Church League Starts in High Gear

The spotlight was on scoring last night as 47 runs crossed the plate in three opening games. Elmwood Methodist blasted Avondale Baptist 16-3 in the only one-sided affair. Pontiac RLDS scored four in the 4th to trip United Presbyterian 9-5 and Nike put together four doubles in the 6th to down Church of God 8-6 despite a two-run homer by Don Strassburg. Free Methodist won a forfeit over St. Paul Lutheran.

Lake Orion RLDS and Stone Baptist clash tonight.

Mauti Named Clarkston Athletic Director

Falcons Finally Lose

Farmington's high-riding track team finally met its match yesterday despite another good day for Warren Cawley.

The Falcons dropped their 1st dual in seven outings by a 59-50 count to Redford Union.

Pontiac Central's Jayvees walloped the Lake Orion varsity 74 1/2-34 1/2 in another Monday track meet.

Bloomfield Hills whipped Brighton on 192-213 while Clarkston and Northville tied at 186 in prep golf action.

In a move made last night, Don Mauti was named athletic director at Clarkston succeeding Ed Hintz.

Cawley won the high hurdles and 220-yard dash as the outstanding individual in the Farmington loss. Redford turned the tide with sweeps in the pole vault, 440 and 880.

Leon Prentiss took both hurdles and anchored the 880 relay victory to spark the PCH juniors. Bob Smaglinski won the 100 and 220 and was the 880 relay starter. Ed Drayton took the broad jump and tied teammate Ken Byrd for high jump honors.

Outclassed Lake Orion won out in the mile and 440.

Joe Pullian fired a 41 and Mike O'Grady finished with 45 to spark the Bloomfield golfers at Burroughs Golf Course near Brighton.

Besides the team deadlock, there was also a tie for medalist in the Clarkston-Northville match at Meadowbrook. Jack Weaver of the Wolves and Mike Slattery each totaled 44.

The Cranbrook baseball and tennis teams are back from a week-end trip to Western Reserve. The baseballers dropped an 8-7 verdict while the netters were winning 4-1.

Clarkston's selection of Mauti as athletic boss was expected. He has compiled an outstanding record as head basketball coach in seven years at the school.

He will continue as hoop boss and also remain assistant football coach. Hintz will leave the CHS system at the close of school.

Rochester Ace Wins His 3rd AHL Award

NEW YORK (AP)—Billy Hicke, the young right winger of the Rochester Americans, has scored a "triple" in the American Hockey League.

He was named today the league's "rookie of the year" in a poll of sports writers and broadcasters. Previously he had been named on the league All-Star Team and had won the individual scoring championship.

Other rookies who drew votes were Art Stratton of the Cleveland, Colin Kilburn of Springfield, Orland Kurtenbach of Buffalo, Cecil Hoekstra of Rochester and Mike Labadie of Cleveland, in that order.

Flier Assists in Tam Victory

'Blackie' Nygren Ideal Partner for Talking in Pro-Am Tourney

With timely assistance from a commercial airplane pilot, Tom Talkington went flying over the rest of the field in yesterday's second PGA-sponsored pro-amateur golf tournament of the season.

Talkington, the youthful head pro at Washtenaw Country Club, and Earl (Blackie) Nygren, the flier who made front-page headlines recently with his masterful emergency landing at Willow Run, combined for a seven-under-par 64 at Tam O'Shanter Country Club to sweep best-ball honors.

An erratic player who shot around 90 yesterday, Nygren nevertheless gave Talkington some valuable aid. A Washtenaw member, Nygren came through with a clutch birdie and contributed four pars in the stretch to be an ideal partner.

Talkington fired a 70 on his own, despite three-putting four greens on the back side. The Talkington-Nygren scorecard read 33-33. Former Washtenaw pro Larry Pentik had the best individual score of the day with a 69.

A total of 52 pros and 145 amateurs competed in the 18-hole tourney on a wet, windy and uncomfortable golfing day.

New Softball League Under Way at W. Lake

First contest for the new JC Men's Softball League at Walled Lake was a loosely-played 8-7 win for Lou's Service over Fitzgerald Hardware.

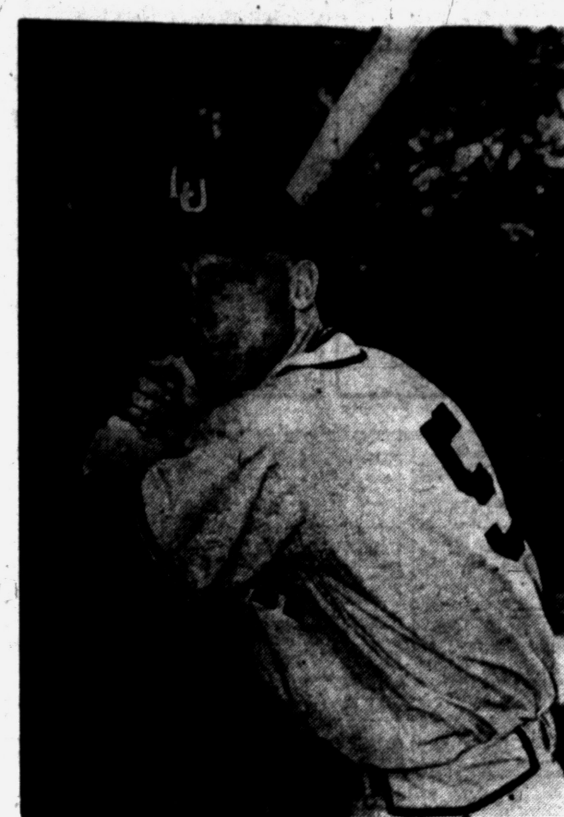

League is sponsored by W. L. Junior Chamber of Commerce has four teams, including the jointly sponsored W. L. Electric-Glen-garry Barbers and Shuman Ford. Games are played each Monday and Wednesday at 6 p.m. at Walled Lake Amusement Park.

Shuman and Barbers meet in Wednesday's game.

Final Women's Softball Meeting Slated Tonight

Women's City League softball, scheduled to get under way on Tuesday, May 19, will complete plans for the 1959 season tonight at a final manager's meeting at 7:30 in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department office in City Hall.

Only four teams have registered so far and more can be accommodated. Items to be discussed include rules, regulations, schedules and playoff procedures. All managers or representatives of women's softball teams desiring entry in the City League should attend this final meeting.

SIGNED BY CARDINALS — Tom Schwaner (above), 20-year-old infielder at Loyola University in New Orleans, La., was signed by the St. Louis Cardinals yesterday in a salary-bonus arrangement reportedly worth $50,000. Softball No-Hitter, 3 Shutouts

Hurlers Shine in Openers

Pitchers stole the show in a big way Monday night on the four-game card under the lights at Beaudette and Northside parks to officially open the 1959 City League softball campaign.

Three shutouts, one a dazzling no-hitter by Blue Star's Lloyd Harper and another an extraordinary struggle, made it a bad evening for the boys with the war-clubs.

Lopsided Games at Drayton Park

Nonne's, Lakeland Easy Winners in Waterford Softball Openers

It was strictly "no contest" last night as the 1959 Waterford Township League softball season got under way with a pair of games at the Drayton Plains ball park.

Nonne's Grill pounded out a nine-hit attack to trounce Sno-Bol, 8-2, in the American League opener. In the National loop, nightcap, Lakeland Pharmacy ran wild despite only six hits for a 13-4 rout of Lotus Lake.

Dean Parmenter collected two triples and three RBIs and Merlin Jones added a couple of singles in two official times up to pace Nonne's assault. Bob Thatcher made two safe blows, one a three-bagger, to lead Lakeland's runaway victory.

Two more games are scheduled tonight on the Drayton Plains diamond. Drayton Drug meets Spencer Floor Covering in American League action at 8:30 while Dobski's Bar and the Arrows clash in a National division scrap at 7 o'clock.

Final Women's Softball Meeting Slated Tonight

Women's City League softball, scheduled to get under way on Tuesday, May 19, will complete plans for the 1959 season tonight at a final manager's meeting at 7:30 in the Pontiac Parks and Recreation Department office in City Hall.

Only four teams have registered so far and more can be accommodated. Items to be discussed include rules, regulations, schedules and playoff procedures. All managers or representatives of women's softball teams desiring entry in the City League should attend this final meeting.

The Board of Control has already indicated it will support renewal of the Rose Bowl agreement.

To Reds Diplomacy Is Game of Inches

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Soviets act like people who think eternity—all the time in the world—is on their side. It showed up again at the foreign ministers meeting in Geneva.

Since they believe that in the end communism will eventually own the earth, they can afford to take their time, moving forward an inch today, backward a foot tomorrow if they have to, waiting to jump 14 inches ahead the next time.

This has been their pattern since World War II: try this, try that. If it fails, try something else later. No hurry.

A good example of the let's-take-our-time philosophy was Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko's performance over the weekend. The United States, Britain, France and the Soviet Union had agreed beforehand that the foreign ministers of West Germany and Communist East Germany could sit in on the Big Four conference, not as participants but as consultants.

It was natural enough to have the Germans in the same room. The meeting was called to find some solution to Premier Nikita Khrushchev's demand that the Big Three Western powers get their troops out of West Berlin.

WANTS RECOGNITION

Khrushchev also wanted the Westerners to recognize the Red regime in East Germany as its lawful government.

This the West wouldn't do. It's the last thing its ally West Germany wanted. The West Germans hope that someday, through a unified Germany, the East Germans will be pulled out from under the Communist wing.

No doubt the West would have been glad for West Germany to be a full participant in the Big Four foreign ministers' meeting. But, if it had called for that, the U.S.S.R. would have demanded full participation for East Germany.

So the meeting was ready to start Monday, with the two Germans on the sidelines and with no chance to speak unless spoken to.

The Western ministers, grim and not optimistic about the outcome anyway, wanted to get down to business and get it over with. Gromyko arrived with the announcement he, too, meant business.

IN NO HURRY

But he wasn't in a hurry, as it turned out. On Sunday he upset the whole agreed-on program by suddenly demanding the two Germans sit in on the conference as full participants. It threw the Westerners upside down.

They let it be known they would break off the conference before they would agree to East Germany as a full participant, since this could be interpreted as recognition of East Germany.

Gromyko yielded a bit and the conference began Monday after it was agreed the two Germans could sit in — still not as full participants — but with each permitted to ask to be heard when it wanted to say something.

This gave both Germans more voice than the original plan which would have required them to stay quiet unless asked a question. Who won in this deal: Gromyko or the Western ministers?

It seems clear enough Gromyko won. He wound up with a bit more than he started out with and the West wound up with a little less. Besides, his move made good propaganda for the Soviet Union.

Gromyko created the image of the U.S.S.R. as a kind of champion of the two Germans, anxious for them to have an equal voice in the conference, while picturing the West as stifling both Germans.

If it is argued Gromyko didn't get all he asked, there's an answer to that. He probably never expected to win 100 per cent. In these conferences it's unrealistic for either side to expect complete victory.

An inch forward here, another inch there, is quite a victory.

Truman's Papers
Open to Researchers

INDEPENDENCE, Mo. (AP) — Scholars are digging into the personal papers of former President Harry S. Truman for the first time.

Made available at the Truman Library for qualified and approved researchers Monday were 1½ million pages of material covering Truman's early career. Papers on his White House years will become available later.

Gene F. Schmidlein of Springfield, Mo., a graduate student in History at the University of Missouri, was the first to begin studying the papers. He is writing a thesis on Truman's Senatorial career for a doctor's degree.

Proposes More Power
Against Mail Obscenity

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Rep. Charles E. Chamberlain (R-Mich.) introduced a bill Monday which would give the Post Office Department more power to block delivery of obscene mail.

Under existing law the department can refuse to deliver anything it considers obscene. Obscenity is not defined. Chamberlain's measure would ban articles if they were obscene "in the opinion of the normal, reasonable and prudent individual."

The congressman said his proposal would force courts to judge obscenity "from the viewpoint of the average citizen instead of from the loftiest heights of so-called sophistication."

Steel Pact Talks Continue Today

Expect Union to Push for 38-Hour Week, but McDonald Not Saying

NEW YORK (AP) — Contract talks aimed at preventing a nationwide steel strike continue today, with the Steelworkers Union expected to press a demand for a 38-hour week.

David J. McDonald, Steelworkers president, has said only that shorter hours, higher wages and contract improvements will be sought.

It was understood, however, that the union favors a plan of three five-day weeks followed by a single four-day week—all at eight hours a day—which averages 38 hours a week.

Industry spokesmen, representing 12 major steel companies, gave no sign of wavering in their insistence that a one-year freeze on wages and fringe benefits is the best way to check both inflation and unemployment.

Contracts covering a half million Steelworkers in plants producing 90 per cent of the nation's steel expire June 30. The present average wage is $3.03 an hour, and the price of steel is $150 a ton.

The cost of the 38-hour week has been estimated at 15 cents an hour.

McDonald gave no indication the union will press for his proposal to give workers a three-month paid vacation every five years.

Three years ago Steelworkers struck for five weeks, gaining a 62-cent hourly wage increase. Steel prices went up $24.50 a ton in the same period.

Troy Man Injured as Car Runs Amuck

TROY — A Troy man suffered severe internal injuries this morning when he lost control of his car while driving south on Crooks road.

John L. Worthington, 23, of 1054 Woodlee Dr., told Troy Police he was traveling about 50 m.p.h. when the accident occurred at 12:57 a.m. He said he swerved to avoid what appeared to be an object lying in the road.

The car rolled 204 feet and landed on its wheels heading north, just south of Square Lake road.

Officials at St. Joseph Mercy Hospital, Pontiac, described Worthington's condition as "satisfactory" this morning.

Grain Futures Bounce Around

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market became a moderately bouncy affair today with prices on the Board of Trade moving up and down rapidly over a limited range during the first several minutes of trading.

Wheat, under pressure during the first few minutes, ran into a fairly good demand on the decline and most contracts jumped over to the plus side of previous closes. On the setback, however, May wheat was at another new low for the crop season with a loss of one-half cent.

There appeared to be some fast spreading in soybeans with dealers selling May and buying new crop months.

Actor Accused of Shoving Help

Raymond Massey Held After Gardener Claims He Was Pushed Around

WILTON, Conn. (AP) — Raymond Massey's gardener charges that the veteran actor "pushed and shoved" him.

Massey, booked by police on a charge of breach of the peace and released in $25 bond, has been ordered to appear in Wilton justice court next Monday.

Massey was taken to the state police barracks in Ridgefield Monday shortly before he was due on stage in New York to appear in the 1959 Pulitzer Prize play "J.B."

State police Sgt. Jack Croce said Michael Hoshko, 50, the gardener, accused the actor of pushing and shoving him after an argument.

Mrs. Dorothy Massey, the actor's wife, said Hoshko and his wife, Helen, were employed by the Masseys about two weeks ago. They were paid $450 a month and given the use of a five-room apartment. Hoshko was to care for the garden and his wife was to serve as Mrs. Massey's chambermaid.

Late Monday afternoon Hoshko told Mrs. Massey he and his wife had another job and were leaving. Mrs. Massey asked Hoshko to repeat his explanations to her husband, who was upstairs taking a nap.

When the actor came downstairs Hoshko and Mrs. Massey were standing in the kitchen. Mrs. Massey asked Hoshko to sit down. She said he became indignant and said he "wouldn't be spoken to that way."

Massey, 62, then ordered him from his home. Mrs. Massey said Hoshko refused to leave and made a threatening gesture. She said her husband finally "pushed Hoshko out the door."

Massey reported to the theater on time and spent the night in his New York apartment.

Former Labor Leaders Convicted of Extortion

DETROIT (AP)—Two former leaders of United Auto Workers local union 280 were placed on three years probation yesterday after being convicted of extortion.

Recorder's Judge John P. O'Hara, who ordered probation, also ordered the men to pay $150 each in court costs.

The two are Edward Wrzwicki of Roseville, former president of the local and Stanley F. Baker of Fair Haven, a former business agent.

Harry D. Burkett accused the two of demanding $200 to permit him to place vending machines in the Gear Grinding & Machine Co. plant in suburban Hamtramck, where local 280 represents the employees. Burkett finally paid $100 as police secretly tape-recorded their conversations.

Research Finds Caffeine, Cancer Somehow Linked

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—A possible connection between caffeine and cancer was pointed out in a paper presented today to the 59th meeting of the Society of American Bacteriologists.

Mrs. Pat Lingle, a graduate student working in the Southern Illinois University research laboratory, Carbondale, said experiments showed caffeine can "stunt the growth" of living cells.

The experiments, conducted by Mrs. Lingle and Mrs. Carl C. Lindgren, wife of the laboratory director, were made with yeast cultures.

They reported that some cultures are more resistant than others, but the cells of all the cultures underwent some mutations at a caffeine dosage of two-tenths per cent.

Dr. Lindgren said that these resemble cancer cells in being unable to "breathe."

"These experiments may have some bearing on the nature of cancer although they do not necessarily mean that coffee and tea can cause cancer," Dr. Lindgren said.

In some of the tests conducted by the two women, 99 per cent of the cells exposed to caffeine suffered irreparable damage.

The bacteriologists, whose meeting started yesterday, will convene through Thursday.

Former Head Usher at White House Dies

WASHINGTON (AP)—Howell G. Crim, 60, former head usher at the White House, died yesterday.

Crim worked at the White House under President Eisenhower and his three predecessors for 27 years. Death occurred at the Naval Medical Center at Bethesda, Md.

The cause of death was not announced. Crim retired two years ago because of a heart condition.
