Decomposed Bodies Identified as Two of Missing Rights Trio

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Two of the three badly decomposed bodies discovered near Philadelphia, Miss., were identified today as missing civil rights workers Andy Goodman and Mickey Schwerner.

The third body was believed to be that of James Chaney, the Negro companion of Goodman and Schwerner.

Public Asked for Boat Clues

Information Sought in Swimmer's Death

With no new clues on a boat that killed a young swimmer, Oakland County authorities today appealed to the public for information in finding the hit-and-run craft.

The plea was made in a statement issued jointly by Sheriff Frank W. Irons, Sgt. John Amthor, commander of the Pontiac state police post, numerous local police agencies, and Prosecuting Attorney Richard Condit.

An around-the-clock investigation and vigil at Cass Lake has been conducted since Monday when Alan L. Akerley, 28, of 2154 Park Circle, Keego Harbor, was run over and killed by a power craft.

"Our primary investigation of this incident reveals that the very minimum we are confronted with is a wilful and wanton act that may result in the charge of manslaughter or a more serious charge of murder," the statement read.

It continued: "All decent citizens are shocked by the tragic death of this young boy."

PARTICULARLY DISTURBED

"All law enforcement officers are particularly disturbed by the failure of the responsible parties to render assistance to this dying boy as well as the failure of those parties with personal knowledge to come forward and identify themselves."

Barry Supports President, Flies Back to Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, dramatically supporting President Johnson on Viet Nam, flew back to the nation's capital today.

"We cannot allow the American flag to be shot at anywhere on earth," Goldwater said in backing the President.

It was an unusual end to an unusual vacation.

China Paper Warns U.S. on Attacks

(AP)—The Chinese Communist New Evening Post warned the United States today that Red China "will not wait until the flames of war come too close" before retaliating against what it called provocative U.S. attacks in the Tonkin Gulf area.

"This is a very serious crisis and we cannot predict what may happen," the Hong Kong paper said, "but the United States will have to bear all the consequences."

The paper did not specify what form of retaliatory action Red China would take.

"North Viet Nam and China are as close together as lips and teeth," the paper said. "North Viet Nam has already warned the United States that it will take defensive action. China has also warned the United States it is not going to sit idly by and watch its fraternal partner, North Viet Nam, invaded."

A separate statement by Radio Hanoi on the U.S. announcement of the naval clash yesterday said:

"The U.S. Pentagon has alleged that last night four torpedo boats of the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam attacked two U.S. warships in the international waters. Viet Nam news agency is authorized to declare that this is a sheer fabrication by the U.S. imperialists aimed at covering up their illegal acts which brazenly violated the security of the Democratic Republic of Viet Nam and are aggravating further the situation in Southeast Asia."

"I believe it is the only thing that he can do under the circumstances. We cannot allow the American flag to be shot at anywhere on earth if we are to retain our respect and prestige."

At the airport, before leaving for Washington, Goldwater told a newsman of his talk with the President.

"I told him that I thought all Americans would stand behind his decision," Goldwater said.

U.S. Retaliates to Red Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. aircraft splintered two dozen North Vietnamese PT boats today and made rubble of bases from which they had attacked U.S. naval vessels. The retaliatory strike gave thundering emphasis to a promise from President Johnson:

"No peace by aggression and no immunity from reply."

The President issued his stern warning in an address at Syracuse, N.Y., on the heels of a Pentagon news conference in which Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara reported the outcome of the explosive response to two attacks by Red torpedo boats on American destroyers in international waters of the Gulf of Tonkin.

McNamara's summary:

• Two U.S. aircraft downed by ground fire in 64 sorties from the carriers Ticonderoga and Constellation.

• Twenty-five PT boats destroyed or damaged.

• Four shore bases heavily damaged and an oil depot wrecked.

OTHER HIGHLIGHTS

These were other highlights of developments in the crisis that came suddenly to fever heat late yesterday:

—Johnson gave the word in a somberly phrased address to TOKYO (AP)—North Viet Nam reported today that five U.S. aircraft had been shot down and three others damaged by ground fire. It said one American pilot was taken prisoner.

The nation just before mid-night that the strike was under way.

But he pledged that "we still seek no wider war" and in an apparent bid to the Reds to back away he said the response "for the present, will be limited and fitting."

He had a word of caution for others who "appear to forget the risks of spreading conflict."

LATE SESSION

—McNamara in a late night session with newsmen at the Pentagon reported briefly on the strike then under way and said that as a precaution the United States is moving substantial military reinforcements to Southeast Asia, with replacements going from the United States for the men moved forward from western Pacific bases.

—At Johnson's orders, Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson announced to have the United Nations Security Council called into extraordinary session today to deal with U.S. charges of aggression.

—In advance of his public report, Johnson briefed congressional leaders, and today the Senate Republican and Democratic leaders agreed to seek swift approval of a declaration of support for Johnson's actions.

Coupled with his accounting of the U.S. air action today, McNamara issued this warning:

"Whether this will be all that is necessary is up to the North Vietnamese."

Johnson pursued the same line in his address at ceremonies dedicating a journal building as the first of a $15-million communication center at Syracuse University.

"The attacks have been answered," he said with the broad implication that the one strike is all that will come unless provocation grows.

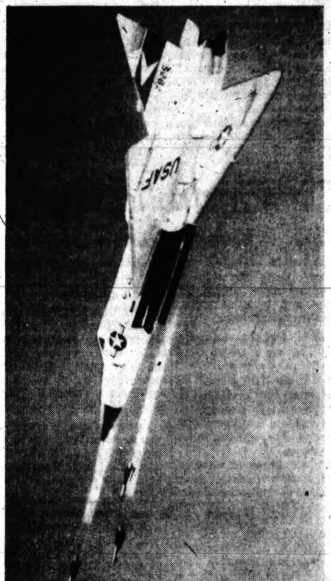

Johnson declared peace "is the only purpose of the course we pursue" and invited the scrutiny of all the world to be focused on the action the United States had taken, for proof of that intent.

But he went on:

"The world is challenged to make its will against war known and known clearly—felt and felt decisively."

FIGHTER ALERT—This is the type of U.S. F102 jet fighter which was rushed to Saigon today and will remain on alert to defend against any Communist North Viet Nam attacks against U.S. or South Viet Nam positions or craft.

Vietnamese Air Force was put on alert, and tanks rumbled into the key northern base of Da Nang.

The swift air and ground military buildup was effected to meet any attacks from Communist North Viet Nam or Red China that might come with the crisis in the Gulf of Tonkin.

American military personnel in the 1st and 2nd corps regions were restricted to their bases in an unofficial "gray alert" status that also enforced a 9 p.m. curfew.

The 1st corps region, with headquarters at Da Nang, is regarded as a logical target for a Communist attack.

American sources reported the situation was tense in the area and that air activity on the Da Nang strip was "fairly heavy."

Some sources said it was possible that planes used to attack North Viet Nam bases last night operated from Da Nang. The base, a major one, can handle modern jet aircraft.

The five Vietnamese army divisions in the 1st and 2nd corps regions were put on alert. The Vietnamese high command in Saigon was reported to have issued top-secret directives.

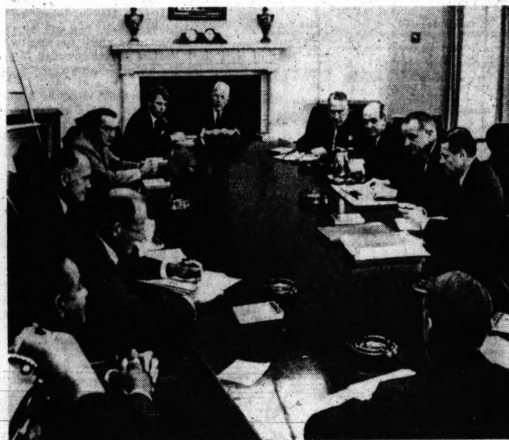

The six Delta Dagger jets from the 16th Fighter Interceptor Squadron based on Okinawa flew to Saigon from Clark Field, in the Philippines. They went on a 24-hour alert.

The flight commander, Lt. Col. Garnett D. Page of Decatur, Ala., said his planes had no "offensive weapons." He said they carried only antiaircraft rockets for the defense of South Viet Nam.

Stevenson interrupted a vacation in Maine and flew to New York for the session.

The Soviet Union may be in an awkward situation in this issue. The Red Chinese have been gawking Moscow to show its Communist colors and stand up to "the imperialist paper tiger."

Upon the Soviet stand at the council meeting might depend the future course of a world Communist quarrel now headed toward a showdown.

Pontiac Employees March Four Hours for More Pay

More than 200 city employees, their wives and children demonstrated for four hours outside City Hall yesterday for an increase in wages.

The demonstrators carried placards protesting that salaries of Pontiac municipal employees are below those of employees in other comparable communities. A sound car was also used in the demonstration.

At 8 p.m., they moved inside to fill the City Commission meeting chambers to overflowing.

Sparking the demonstration was the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA). However, members of all employee groups participated.

The immediate outcome was that a PPOA wage committee will meet with City Manager Joseph A. Warren within five days after Warren receives a Michigan Municipal League survey of city employees' wages.

DUE AUG. 15

The league has promised delivery of the survey—informally ordered by former commissioners last March—on Aug. 15, according to Assistant City Manager John F. Reineck.

Senate Seat Legal?

Challenger for Salinger

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republican leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois challenged in the Senate today the legality of the appointment of Democrat Pierre Salinger to succeed the late Sen. Clair Engle, D-Calif.

With Salinger waiting outside the Senate chamber for the skirmish to end, Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, the Democratic leader, sought to knock down Dirksen's arguments.

The Constitution, Mansfield said, "is crystal clear" that the Senate is the sole judge of the qualification of its members, and has a right to accept Salinger immediately as one of its members.

Mansfield also sought to knock down Dirksen's protest that Salinger isn't even an eligible voter in California, and that thus under California law the state's Democratic Gov. Edmund G. (Pat) Brown had no legal right to appoint him.

About 100 Salinger supporters from California sat in the jammed galleries. In a front row were Salinger's young wife, Nancy, in a sleeveless white dress, his two sons and his mother.

Gov. Brown, hobbling on a cane with his broken foot wrapped in red cloth, was escorted to a seat on the Senate floor.

Republican George Murphy, who will be Salinger's opponent in a November battle for the seat of the late Democratic Sen. Warren Fowler, was telegraphed that Salinger was not qualified for the appointment.

Brown said he had consulted with the state attorney general and "there is absolutely no question that this appointment is proper and valid." California state courts already have upheld Salinger's right to run for the Senate, although he was a resident of Virginia at the time he fled.

NO PROTEST

Sen. Claiborne Pell, D-R.I., chairman of the Senate elections subcommittee, said he had no official protest from Murphy and believed Salinger would be sworn in.

Mansfield said in a separate interview that if the Republicans try to halt the appointment at the door, he will move that he be given the oath "without prejudice" while an investigation is made of any formal complaints that might be lodged.

"This would accomplish what the Democrats want and the Republicans don't want. It would make Salinger an incumbent with full senatorial prerogatives in his general-election race with Murphy."

Since Salinger's addition to the roll would restore the 67-33 margin of the Democrats over Republicans, few had any illusion about the outcome of any challenge based on the technical provisions of California law.

The Senate is the final judge of the qualifications of its members. Once it decides that an individual is worthy of joining its select group, there are no practical means left of challenging the decision.

Seek Bipartisan Support for LBJ Actions

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican and Democratic leaders agreed today to seek swift bipartisan Senate approval of a declaration of support of President Johnson's actions in the Southeast Asian crisis.

Sens. Mike Mansfield, D-Mont., and Everett M. Dirksen, R-Ill., reached the agreement in a conference in the Senate chamber in advance of today's Senate session.

Declaring "speed is of essence," Dirksen said he believed a resolution expressing bipartisan support of the President should receive immediate action, without waiting for the Senate Foreign Relations and Armed Services committees to clear it first.

Mansfield said he agreed. Thus, a vote might come before midnight on a historic resolution throwing the Senate's support behind the President's declaration that the United States is determined "to take all necessary measures" to defend peace and freedom in Southeast Asia.

tempted to support — or to widen — the present aggression, I say this: There is no threat to any peaceful power from the United States of America. But there can be no peace by aggression and no immunity from reply. That is what is at stake by the actions taken yesterday."

Johnson left no doubt last night that retaliation for the attacks at sea would be on a major scale.

The President made his announcement of retaliation last night in somber tones at a session with newsmen after a day-long series of emergency conferences.

AREAS OF ATTACK

The areas of the U.S. attack were given by McNamara as four PT boat bases, the first at Hong Kong near the mouth of the Red River near Haiphong; and Loc Chao, Phuoc Loi and Quang Khe.

In addition the oil storage depot at Vinh near Quang Khe was bombed under attack by the planes from the carrier.

"The oil storage depot containing 14 tanks and representing 10 per cent of the petroleum storage capacity of the country was 90 per cent destroyed," McNamara said, adding "smoke was observed rising to 14,000 feet."

McNamara said there were no civilian villages near the target areas.

REINFORCEMENTS

The secretary said the reinforcing moves in the Pacific area included:

• Transfer of an attack carrier group from the 1st Fleet in the Atlantic to the western Pacific.

• Movement of interceptor and bomber aircraft into South Viet Nam.

• Movement of fighter bombers into Thailand.

• Transfer of interceptor and fighter bomber squadrons from the United States to advanced bases in the Pacific.

• Movement of an amphibious force into the South China Sea.

• Alerting and readying selected Army and Marine forces.

The Army maintains the 25th Division in a high state of combat readiness at Honolulu.

The Marines have their 3rd Division at Okinawa and a brigade at Honolulu.

McNamara told the news conference that reconnaissance flights would be carried out later to determine precisely what destruction had been wrought by the carrier plane assault.

All appeared in relatively good condition when brought to the surface. Authorities said they were recovering rapidly from their ordeal.

Asked if he could give any reason for the unusual North Vietnamese naval activities, McNamara replied "I can't explain them."

No North Vietnamese aircraft attempted to intercept the attack aircraft from the two carriers.

McNamara said he could not give a more precise estimate of damage to the four torpedo boat bases other than to say it was "very substantial."

McNamara said the names of the two downed U.S. pilots would be released as soon as their next of kin had been notified.

President Johnson, in his statement last night, declared it is "a solemn responsibility to have to order even limited military action by forces whose overall strength is as vast and awesome as those of the United States of America."

"But it is my considered conviction, shared throughout your government, that firmness in the right is indispensable today for peace. That firmness will always be measured. Its mission is peace."

U.S. officials said the airstrikes were decided upon unanimously by the Joint Chiefs of Staff after receiving word of the second attack on U.S. destroyers.

Two Bodies Identified

Birmingham News story said: "It's all new to me. The FBI doesn't tell me any more than they tell anybody else."

Rainey said a coroner's jury would be empaneled to consider the case.

PREDAWN HOURS

The announcement that two of the bodies had been identified as Schwerner, 24, and Goodman, 20, both of New York, came in the predawn hours from FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover in Washington.

The FBI, both here and in Washington, declined to say how the identifications were made.

Olen Burrage, 42, a truck-line operator who owns the property where the bodies were found, said the FBI came to him early yesterday with a search warrant. He said the FBI told him they would pay for any damages.

The FBI moved a bulldozer and a dragline into the area later in the day.

'NO IDEA'

"I don't have any idea who would have done something like that," Burrage said. He said he had told FBI agents, "I don't know anything about it and they didn't let us on that they knew who had done it."

The three dropped out of sight June 21 after being freed from jail at Philadelphia.

They had been held in jail for nearly six hours on a speeding charge.

The last person known to have seen them was Neshoba County deputy sheriff Cecil Price, who said he followed them a short distance after their release as they drove south toward Meridian.

Demonstration Held

ers agreed last night that employees' wages were below those paid in comparable cities and, in some cases, smaller communities.

Debate centered largely around two major topics:

• With the largest legal tax rate already being levied in Pontiac, there still isn't enough revenue produced to adequately finance all city operations, including salaries.

• If added revenue is the answer, methods to raise it should be sought by commissioners and backed by employees.

Methods suggested were a millage hike or city income tax. The PFOA was represented by the Waterford Township law firm of Powell, Peres, Carr & Jacques.

Leonard A. Peres said the employees "are not striking or picketing" but are "extending their right of freedom of speech through a peaceful demonstration."

He asked for a definite date to meet with commissioners about the salaries which he called "grossly inadequate."

PFOA members said they had received a total of $179 in pay hikes over the past four years.

Pontiac City Affairs

To Step Up Slum Clearance

City Manager Joseph A. Warren indicated the city would step up construction code enforcement and the removal of substandard dwellings through condemnation at last night's City Commission meeting.

Several commissioners had been concerned with what they term a lack of code enforcement in recent years and requested City Attorney William A. Ewart to draft a new ordinance governing slum clearance in general.

The ordinance was expected to be ready for consideration last night.

Warren, however, said that he and Ewart had met on the matter and decided to delay any new ordinance at this time.

"There is no doubt a good deal of attention is needed to eliminate substandard housing in Pontiac," Warren commented.

FIRST ORGANIZE

"However, I think we should first organize the city administration to attack the problem, using existing means to enforce codes.

"If the job can't be done that way, then we should consider a new ordinance."

Ewart and other administrators have previously stated that the major reason behind inadequate code enforcement and lack of removal of substandard housing is a lack of money in the city budget.

In other business, commissioners accepted city, special assessment and sewer stub costs for the Murphy Park trunk sewer.

TOTAL COST

Total cost is estimated at $16,690.10, with the city's share set at $600,285.05. The charge for sewer stubs will total $1,872 with the remaining $14,533.06 paid through special assessments.

Commissioners ordered the assessment roll prepared for public hearing at a future meeting.

Special assessments are normally levied only to pay part of the cost of lateral sewers (the type in residential sewers, to which customers make direct connections).

In this case, the assessments are being charged only where the trunk runs down existing street right-of-way and users connect directly to it as they would a lateral.

SIDEWALK CONSTRUCTION

Commissioners also okayed payment of $381 to Goodell

Brothers for construction of sidewalks in a portion of an urban renewal area where Goodell is planning to build homes.

The sidewalk work was in front of model homes. Remaining sidewalks in the area will be built under a separate urban renewal site improvement contract.

By a vote of 5 to 1 with one commissioner abstaining, a new SDM license was approved for Tom V. Hruska and George T. Stevenson at 701 Orchard Lake.

The license brought some comment since the police department, following a strict policy, did not approve the license on the grounds that one of the prospective owners—Stevenson—had once been convicted of a felony.

WORTHY CITIZEN

The majority of commissioners said they felt the party in question was completely rehabilitated and "has proven himself a worthy citizen."

Commissioner T. Warren Fowler voted against approval. Wesley J. Wood abstained.

In another matter, Universal Oil Steel Co. withdrew a request for commercial zoning of property for use as a parking lot. The land is bounded by Kennett, Mansfield and Hollywood.

The rezoning has been under consideration for four months, and was contingent on the firm agreeing to certain restrictions including construction of a green belt between parking and abutting residences.

The company was unable to meet green belt requirements and decided to drop the matter, according to Ewart.

Visitor Looked a Fright

COPENHAGEN (AP)—Police are looking for boys who stole a skeleton and scared residents of a suburban Copenhagen apartment house.

The skeleton, nicknamed Jokum, vanished from a neighborhood school's natural history department Monday night.

Yesterday an 8-year-old girl in an apartment house answered a knock on the door of her apartment. On the landing outside was Jokum.

The girl ran screaming back into the apartment.

As her father jumped to the door, the skeleton fell in his arms. The staircase echoed to female screams and male cursing as neighbors hurried out.

One man said he saw at least three boys running out of the house.

Official's Son Shot
Fatally in Mishap

CLARE (AP)—George Strange, 13-year-old son of Clare County Prosecutor Alex Strange, was shot and killed Tuesday in what Sheriff James Darling said was the accidental discharge of a high-powered rifle by a 17-year-old companion.

Darling said young Strange and Ralph Gerald Riedel were shooting blanks in a 30.06 rifle on the Strange farm 10 miles north of Clare when the gun jammed.

While Riedel was trying to clear the chamber, the sheriff said the youth told him, a loaded cartridge fell into the chamber and discharged, hitting the Strange youth in the abdomen.

Go-Kart Racing in Addison Puts Residents in an Uproar

By ROGER SRIGLEY
ADDISON TOWNSHIP — To participants, go-kart racing is fun. To Norman Dupue, owner of Hidden Lake Park, it's part of an income.

But to the Addison Township Board, it's a problem.

"The two-cycle ragers sound like power chain saws," says Dupue.

His neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. James Burns, 600 N. Rochester, say the karts are so loud they can't converse or watch television while the racing is in progress. It depends whether you're

AREA NEWS

THE QUIET ONES—Go-Kart racing at Hidden Lake Park, Addison Township, is one of several activities at the recreation site which is raising the dander of some of the park's neighbors. However, to the riders it's just plain fun. And to Norman Dupue, (left) owner of Hidden Lake, it's an income. Dupue is going to abandon his racing programs but plans to continue with the smaller and quieter concession go-karts, seen above.

Interviews are to be conducted with 50 employers in five geographical areas of the Upper Peninsula and northern Lower Michigan.

Training sessions will be held Aug. 11 in Detroit and Aug. 12 in Lansing for MESCC workers who will conduct similar surveys in southern Michigan.

Lapeer County Youth Fair Starts 5-Day Run Monday

LAPEER—The biggest event for young people in Lapeer County, the Youth Fair, opens Monday for a five-day run.

Taking part will be some 500 youths, most of them 4-H Club members, but also including Scouts and Future Farmers.

They will be exhibiting livestock, handicraft and riding horses and showing the results of homemaking, garden and nature projects.

All events will be at the Center Building.

Every exhibit, except livestock, is to be in by noon Monday. Judging of food and crops begins at 1 p.m.

On Tuesday's program is judging of horses, and electrical, handicraft, knitting and sewing projects starting at 10 a.m.

DAIRY JUDGING
Dairy judging is first on the agenda for Wednesday at 10 a.m. Other exhibits to be rated for awards that day are photography, conservation, tractor and automotive projects.

Thursday, also beginning at 10 a.m., will feature judging of demonstrations, parliamentary procedure and public speaking.

Friday's activities begin at 9 a.m. with the judging of swine and sheep. Beef judging begins at 10.

An added feature this year, the fat stock sale, is slated for 1:30 p.m.

All exhibits will be released at noon Friday.

Keego Program Draws 73 Children

KEEGO HARBOR—The Child Protection and Youth Assistance Committee's first venture into summer recreation attracted 73 youngsters to the Roosevelt Elementary School playground.

The 10-day period of supervised play ended Friday. Activities included various ball games, races, water games, marble relays, a bike rodeo and a field trip to the Detroit Lions football training camp at Cranbrook School, Bloomfield Hills.

Some of the younger children were entertained with stories.

Funds for the project, totaling $284, were donated by the city, local organizations and individuals.

Program director was a William T. Kennedy of White Lake Township.

City Council last night. It bore 20 signatures.

Plat maps show a 150-foot strip separating Hillcroft Street from Wall Lake Drive. However, use during the past 20 years has extended the street.

The city has easements for 15 feet at one end and nine feet at the other end of the strip. Alex Pierce of Detroit owns property between them and has attempted to establish his lot line by posting a stake in the middle of the street.

The stake disappeared. Councilmen authorized City Attorney Howard I. Bond to investigate the matter to determine the city's rights.

In other action, Mrs. Lee Phil was reappointed to the Wall Lake Library Board and V. Douglas Meredith named to fill the unexpired term of Glen Troutwine.

Start Building Bridges Over I-94 Expressway

KALAMAZOO (AP) — Construction has begun on twin bridges which will carry I-94 over the New York Central Railroad tracks here, eliminating one of the five grade level crossings on the cross-state highway.

The bridges, costing $575,000, will be completed by Dec. 1, 1965 according to the State Highway Department schedule.

New Bus Law Defended by 7

LANSING (AP) — Seven persons are seeking to intervene in defense of a new state law for the transporting of private and parochial school children in public school buses.

The new law, passed in the 1963 session of the legislature, is being contested by the American Civil Liberties Union (ACLU). It contends the law violates the U.S. Constitution's requirement for the separation of church and state.

Filing a petition to intervene Tuesday were seven members of the Michigan Federation of Citizens for Educational Freedom.

The seven—who have a total of 19 children attending non-public schools — contended in their petition that if the ACLU prevailed, they would be subjected to an unreasonable and unlawful denial of the equal protection of the laws precisely because of their religious and educational beliefs and practices.

A hearing will be held on the motion Aug. 24 by Circuit Judge Sam Street Hughes.

violation of ordinances." Dupue and his attorney Harry Huber, of Rochester say they aren't.

But the park owner doesn't want to be a nuisance.

WILL DO ANYTHING
"We're willing to do anything we can to satisfy anyone," he said.

Dupue has announced he will discontinue use of the louder two-cycle vehicles after Saturday's race.

"We agree they are a nuisance. We were waiting for the manufacturer to provide an adequate muffler, which he apparently is not going to do."

However Dupue plans to continue with the concession karts. He also plans to continue providing an overnight, weekend, and vacation stopover site for self-contained trailers.

60 SIGNATURES
At Monday's meeting of the township board some 60 signatures were presented requesting enforcement of the zoning ordinances. Approximately 100 residents attended the session.

Signers argue that Dupue is violating the zoning ordinance and nuisance code by providing trailer parking and go-kart racing.

And today Township Supervisor Frank F. Webber and Township Clerk Robert A. McCullum were to draft a letter telling him he is in violation.

"We have been keeping an eye on the regulations and intend to continue fulfilling each requirement," Dupue says.

WORKING CLOSELY
The park owner said he was also working closely with the County Health Department.

Although the controversy was discussed at length at Monday's board meeting, the board did not take any definite action, according to McCullum.

He said the letter would be sent notifying Dupue that he is violating nuisance and zoning ordinances, but that the issue would be discussed again at the next board meeting, Sept. 7.

State Chairman Arthur Elliott Jr. said $1.2 million of the total will be used to help finance the campaigns of state office candidates, with the other $500,000 earmarked for the national campaign.

Others present at the meeting included Arthur Summerfield Jr., regional chairman of fund-raising for GOP presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, and Creighton Holden, who will be Goldwater's Michigan campaign chairman.

Elliott said the meeting dealt with "the need for coordinating our fund-raising activities and the fact that we must meet our state quota."

WITHIN QUOTA
Within the quota, he said, there either will be funds provided for "housekeeping chores" for the Goldwater campaign, or his organization will have to raise some additional funds.

A "Citizens for Goldwater" organization is being set up in Michigan and may serve as the Arizona senator's regular campaign body in the state. Its function, however, apparently will be mainly campaigning and not fund-raising.

Plan Autopsy in Death

JONIA (AP)—An autopsy was planned today in the death of August E. Bernard, 62, of Lansing, who fell out of a boat on Morrison Lake 10 miles southwest of here Tuesday. Police said he collapsed before tumbling into the water.

Exec Retires From County

Ex-Farmer Joined Committee in 1936

Walter R. Cook, 70, has retired after 11 years as office manager of the Oakland County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

The former dairy farmer has been connected with the agency since 1936 when he began field work. From 1940 to 1963, he was chairman of the three-member committee.

Before beginning full-time work in the Pontiac office, Cook operated a 200-acre dairy farm which has since diminished to 30 acres.

His son Clarence E. has built his own home on the property at 3750 Kern, Orion Township, and his daughter, Mrs. Robert Crawford, lives in Royal Oak.

Cook is a member of the Oakland County Farm Bureau, having served as president in 1951-52. He is a life member of 4-H and served on the Bigler Board of Education before the district was incorporated into that of Rochester.

Marshall L. Mohney has been acting manager of the office at 63 Oakland since Cook's retirement Aug. 1.

Hearing Set on School Budget

CLARKSTON—A public hearing on Clarkston Community Schools' proposed 1964-65 budget of $2,182,000 is slated for Monday at 8 p.m. in the administration building. Up $125,000 over 1963-64 spending, the proposed budget is based on an operating levy of 31 mills.

The major portion of the budget increase — or about $85,000 — is earmarked for instruction.

Low-Level Great Lakes Get Superior's Water

SAULT STE. MARIE (AP) — Authorities unleashed tons of water from the plentiful supply of Lake Superior yesterday to help replenish Lakes Michigan and Huron.

With three gates already gushing water down the St. Marys River to the two low-level lakes, the International Lake Superior Board of Control opened two more gates.

An additional 10,000 cubic feet per second poured through the two extra gates, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers said.

The outflow "will lower Lake Superior a bit, but it's got plenty to spare," an Army Engineers spokesman said. "It is the only lake in the Great Lakes that has water to spare."

A week ago, engineers predicted Lakes Huron and Michigan would drop to record low water levels by the end of December. Only Lake Superior was forecast to remain anywhere near the average water level for the last 100 years.

JOINT AGENCY
The Lake Superior Board of Control, a joint agency of the United States and Canadian governments, planned to keep the two extra gates open from Lake Superior for 30 days.

Even at 10,000 cubic feet more water per second, engineers said, Lake Superior would not be brought up to their levels of last year.

The two lakes are a foot below the year-ago water levels.

With five gates pushing water into the St. Marys, the total flow is 90,000 cubic feet per second, engineers said.

It would take 400,000 cubic feet per second over a period of a month to raise Lakes Michigan and Huron one foot, or up to last year's levels, they said.

This is due to expansion of the school system's staff and also to annual increments. Salary schedules remain the same as last year.

The remaining $40,000 in added expenditures proposed in the new budget is earmarked mainly for operation of the new Bailey Lake Elementary School.

UNDER CONSTRUCTION
Bailey Lake has been under construction for several months with occupancy slated for the start of classes in September.

The total proposed millage levy for the 1964-65 fiscal year will be 27.31, 16.31 for operating and 11 mills for debt retirement.

This compares to the previous total of 27.39 which includes 14.39 for operating and 13 mills for debt retirement.

The additional operating millage proposed in the new budget is the remainder of the five voted mills approved at the polls two years ago.

FISCAL YEAR
Revenue for the 1964-65 fiscal year is set at $2,182,000 in the proposed budget, an increase of $145,000.

Additional state aid due to increased enrollment and a change in the state aid formula plus the higher millage levy account for the added income.

Copies of the proposed budget now are available at the administration building.

Our Law Enforcers Rate Public Respect

Back of the rioting in the big cities is at least one deleterious root cause that has little to do directly with racial attitudes.

The old-time policeman, the man on the beat, was in excellent position to nip trouble before it got out of hand. Many times a policeman took a kid by the seat of the pants and dragged him home to his parents, who usually were grateful rather than over-protective.

The man on the beat had a certain glamour for youngsters, who stared enviously at his revolver, cartridge belt, hip-pocket blackjack and billy. The kid who didn't want to be a fireman usually wanted to be a policeman.

To grown-ups, the policeman was both an old friend and the protector of the community.

But attitudes have changed, and not only among the disadvantaged and underprivileged. The Association of Chiefs of Police recently reported that last year 55 policemen were murdered in the course of duty as against 48 in 1962, 37 in 1961 and 26 in 1960. Of every 100 policemen on duty throughout the Nation last year 11 were assaulted.

This is the extreme case, but there is little use pretending that a cleavage between police and the community has not developed in the past few years. The rift is only exaggerated in the slums or among those alien to the culture of the majority.

State Police Commissioner E. Wilson Purdy of Pennsylvania blames the increase in crime in the Keystone State on "public apathy."

Steps are being taken in some cities to restore a measure of liaison between police departments and the communities they protect. The New York Times reports that four large cities have civilian boards to hear complaints against the police. And six other cities, including Detroit, have instituted community relations programs in which police representatives work closely with civil organizations to effect better relations between the two sectors of the community.

It is indisputable that effective law enforcement depends on respect for, not fear of, the agencies responsible for maintaining order.

Uncertainties Cloud Italy's Political Fate

Amid the hottest weather in a decade, Italy again spun her political wheel. It stopped on a new government—the 25th since 1943. Although the government is new—its faces aren't.

Christian Democrat Aldo Moro is Prime Minister again. Socialist Pietro Nenni is Deputy Prime Minister again. In fact, 26 cabinet ministers are back in office, the same four-party center-left coalition still controls the cabinet, the same battles still are being fought among the coalition partners.

Moreover, in the 26 days between cabinets, neither Moro nor Nenni was able to smoothe the internal stress that has weakened their parties.

Nenni, once a dogmatic Marxist and long-time partner of the Communists, in recent years has been nudging his Socialist Party toward the social democracy espoused by Britain's Labor Party—but not without bitter opposition from within.

And Prime Minister Moro, who leads one of the most insignificant factions of the Christian Democrat Party got absolutely nowhere in his battle to control the whole party.

Indeed, the only reason Moro's new government was returned to power was that the intracacies of Italy's nine political parties and the 40 factions boiling within them precluded the formation of any other coalition.

The only alternative, calling new nationwide elections, was dismissed for two reasons: most parties are still broke from last year's campaign, and with both inflation and unemployment rising, the democratic parties are afraid that elections might lead to dangerous Communist gains.

But new elections may be coming anyway. Some economists believe that Italy will be hit by a major crisis around Christmastime unless Moro gets a firm hold on the economy. Such a crisis could well topple the cabinet again, and might force President Scavini to call the elections no one (except possibly the Reds) really wants.

LBJ Drive Due in September

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON—Lyndon B. Johnson dropped the "if" in talking of his own presidential nomination when he dropped Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy and some others as vice presidential possibilities.

It can be accepted now, in case there was any doubt, that come September, President Johnson probably will be out pounding the campaign trail for President Johnson all around the country, by plane, train, helicopter and motorcycle.

Johnson may not acknowledge this, or even know it for sure yet. Some of his lieutenants think he may want to turn over the bulk of the campaigning to his running mate.

They suggest the President might touch base in most of the big cities and the states with big votes, but on political sorties of two or three days.

The spirit of the old political firehorse may prevail, however, once the campaign goes starts clanging.

AT DETROIT RALLY

By tradition, Democrats start the gong going at an appearance of their presidential nominees at a Labor Day rally in Detroit's Cadillac Square. When Johnson was in Detroit in June he said that "if events work out, I'll be there."

The President hasn't ridden a train since he became President. This may change.

California Democrats reportedly want Johnson out there at least twice before election day. It's a big, long state, with a big electoral vote, and one of the classic campaign routes is by special train down the valleys.

In 1960, Johnson got in some effective licks from the back porch of a train tooting through the South. The son of the Confederacy may want to go back again, with his folksy stories about the kinkfolk plus an offer aimed "just as a Southerner to offer appeal—as as an American to Americans"—as he put it four years ago.

HIT HARD IN MIDWEST

The Democrats are going to hit hard in the Midwest. Some areas there, such as "Little Egypt" in southern Illinois, can be worked easily by train and car.

In any event, Johnson may campaign in half the states or more. He says, "I expect to appear in various parts of the country."

It looks as if he won't debate Republican nominee Barry Goldwater on television.

NOT WRITING SUFF OFF

Parts of the South look shaky, but Johnson isn't writing off any region.

He counts on prosperity as the top vote getting issue, an issue that may help offset some of a "white backlash" against racial demonstrations.

He says he will talk about all the issues: "Foreign policy is an appropriate subject."

"Most campaigns are rough campaigns," Johnson says. This one probably will be no exception.

The Japan Weekly Times

Mr. Hayato Ikeda's re-election as president of the Liberal-Democratic party, which practically assures him a third term as Prime Minister, will be received with widespread satisfaction. Mr. Ikeda's record since he came to power has not been perfect, but we are convinced that neither of his chief opponents could have done better.

The fact that Mr. Eisaku Sato and Mr. Aikichiro Fuyama entered into an alliance with others to try to stop Mr. Ikeda's getting the presidency rather than to put forward any new policy for the ruling party and the nation gave a rather unpleasant aspect to the pre-convention proceedings. It was only too obvious that personal feelings and ambitions entered into the contest rather than the political programs they might have in mind.

On the other hand it cannot be exactly healthy for anyone to think he has a right to the presidency without question from other members of the party. What we do not like is the factional bargaining and intrigues which too often mark the deliberations of the Liberal-Democratic Party, although this perhaps does not transcend the maneuvers found in major political parties in other countries. The fact that the party presidency carries a virtual right to the Prime Ministership makes the election a matter of vital concern.

Mr. Ikeda had a fight for his political life and we congratulate him. The rivalry within the party continued right up to the beginning of the convention but, now that the decision has been made, we hope that Mr. Ikeda will have wholehearted support.

Honesty

The News (Cascadia, Idaho)

Wonder who was first to list three reasons for entering a teaching career as June, July and August.

Easy Out

Chicago's American

Magistrate Meyer H. Goldstein of Evanston court granted probation to a Skokie youth who beat a high school boy and threatened two others with death.

The violent youth is Robert Potenza, 17, and his father is Rocco Potenza, syndicate gambling boss of the northwest suburbs. Goldstein says righteously that he tried the boy "on the facts before me, not on his father's connection with the hoodlum outfit."

Taking Goldstein's word for that, we still don't see how he could have put the Potenza boy on probation. The facts before Goldstein should have shown that Potenza's attack on Douglas Todd, 15, of Wilmette was unprovoked (witnesses to the beating have said so) and that Potenza shouted to two other boys who saw the beating, "If you open your mouths about this, you're dead!" Potenza yelled the threat, witnesses said, as police were dragging him away from the scene of Todd's beating.

We wonder what a kid would have to do to persuade Goldstein that he should be punished. We are not impressed by the fact, cited by Goldstein, that Potenza had no police record.

The lack of a police record is regularly used by judges as a reason for giving easy outs to violent youths; but if Potenza beat one boy and threatened two others with killing, he proved that he needed some real punishment (which court supervision isn't) whether or not he had been caught violating the law before. It is time for all judges in the Chicago region to start doing the work for which they are cited, which is protecting the law-abiding, not coddling law-breakers.

Seat of Learning

The Bellows Falls (Vt.) Times

Bob Considine Says:

If Cuba's Loaded for Bear, It's Not Visible to Reporter

HAVANA—Am about to leave here and still haven't seen a missile, a Soviet tank, a submarine or anything which might be able to shoot down a U2.

If Castroland is loaded for bear, the stiff off the path beaten by the visiting correspondents.

We were told that we could see anything we wished to see. But, alas, there weren't any more missile sites left, we were told.

Several reporters asked Raul Castro one day if they could advance to the wire fence of Guantanamo.

The clean-shaven Castro, said certainly they could, provided they wore Cuban uniforms and took their chances with "trigger-happy U.S. Marines on guard."

Everybody said the hell with that.

ASKS DIPLOMAT

I asked a Western diplomat who was attending the July 28 ceremonies at Santiago de Cuba if his country, whose people have the run of the island, has any clear confirmation of Khrushchev's solemn pledge that all strategic missiles have been removed from Cuba.

The diplomat scratched for a time and then said, "All is a pretty big word. We don't know of any missiles of this nature left on the island, but there is really no way of knowing whether all have been removed. Our feeling is that at least enough have been taken out, to make the remainder—if there is a remainder—ineffective."

Saw no Soviet-built fighter planes or bombers at any of the airports where we landed or flew over or any discernible ground-to-air missile emplacements.

Castro is introducing the first compulsory military service in Cuban history. If there are any complaints about this, the bleats have not been audible to foreign ears.

There are about 10,000 Cuban troops who know a good deal about their trade. In the event of an invasion they would be backed up by perhaps 200,000 modestly trained militia and pick and shovel troops.

At every big Castro rally, there's always some reference to the pledge that, come the invasion, every man, woman and child would be prepared to die in defense of the Communist motherland.

It is not a pledge that can be put in writing and notarized, but there is good reason to believe that with the help of the Russians, the Castro government has built up the third strongest force in the hemisphere, behind the U.S. and Canada and far ahead of any force any other Latin American country could muster.

Asked a trusted Cuban friend why his bearded prophet didn't stop brandishing his sword, why he didn't shave, put on a business suit and get down to the hard task of making good on his many promises to his people.

A look of shocked wonder came into the poor man's eyes. "Fidel in a business suit, and shaved?" he asked, dropping his voice so that no man save ourselves would hear the words. "Fidel could never do a thing like that."

We asked him why. After all, we said, President Johnson packs a bigger gun than Fidel and so does Khrushchev, but neither of them wear uniforms.

"Well," said our friend, "if Fidel shaved and dressed in a regular suit, he would look one foot shorter and that would be bad for the revolution."

Voice of the People:

Presidential Candidate Stirs More Comment

The Press' editorial on Goldwater was wonderful and an influencing factor in uniting the Republican party in Oakland County. The party finally has a candidate who is as outspoken as his opponent and the voters for the first time in 30 years will have a choice. Yet there are those liberal Republicans who resent this and who choose to forget that all conservatives have for years closed ranks after a convention, united, and really worked to elect the candidate, whether he was a "me-toer" or not; for the party, to them, was greater than any individual.

The Sour Grapes philosophy of fear as put forth by some sounds like that of a pathetic, hysterical old woman. If you are afraid of the future, seek a Medicare Home under Federal jurisdiction where it'll be nice and safe. It was refreshing and invigorating to read of the changes in Republican leadership and for the party to take a real stand against the welfare-state philosophy.

E. McEVROY
BLOOMFIELD HILLS

Goldwater should clarify his stand on foreign wars. He has given the impression that he stands ready to go to lethal weapons several places in the world. If this isn't true, he will get my vote. Otherwise I shall cast no vote at all for President. We can't stand any more of the profligate spending that the Democrats have thrust upon this nation.

Our grandchildren are in debt already. In times of peace, they can't come close to balancing the budget.

Tells of Brutalities by Greek Soldiers

I am tired of hearing about Turkish brutality and making the others sound innocent. During war my mother's aunt who was eight months pregnant, was attacked by Greek soldiers and stabbed to death. That was one of many reasons Turkish people became mad enough to drown thousands of Greek soldiers. My Uncle Osman was in a small village invaded by Armenians who tied him to a tree and burned his eyes. He lived 40 years without seeing.

We Moslems do not complain about the sound of church bells and respect the people who believe. But the Greek minority complain about the call of Moslem Muezzin waking them. So we have to use alarm clocks to get up to go to Mosque. Cypriots never fought each other when they were Turkish citizens. Now they're fighting because Greek Cypriots like to be a part of Greece instead of being a free Cypriot republic of their own.

Long-Time Waterford Resident Writes

I have been a resident of Waterford Township for 27 years and I don't think its citizens are a so-called "nation of sheep"—although I feel the present administration is treating us as such. If someone differs with them they are accused of being against progress. It is progress to dig yourselves a hole of monumental debt and dissension because a few decide their idea is our idea of progress?

Most of us left metropolitan areas to live in the suburbs. We voted down cityhood and what it entails. Can't the present administration hear? It has no right to assume what is best after we've stated otherwise.

The political philosophy of "the people don't know what they want, let's show them and if anyone dissents he's against the good of everybody" should not prevail in our community but suddenly here it is. Think it over.

ONE WHO HAS

'Can't Understand Romney's Opposition'

I concur with the governor's backing of the civil rights bill, but I can't understand his opposition to right to work laws. He says in effect that I must pay tribute to a union to hold a job, which furnishes the bread for my family. This is compulsion and to me, just the opposite of freedom.

Even the good Lord when he created the first family gave them the freedom of choice.

'Citizen's Poll Has Shocking Results'

A friend was circulating a petition among Pontiac residents and since only registered voters were eligible to sign, the first question was "Are you registered to vote?" The results of this question were something to make every white citizen take note. Approximately four out of every five Negroes were registered while only two out of every five whites were registered.

Perhaps the trouble lies in the fact that the white man is getting so smug with his fine job, comfortable home, "baby-sitter-raised" children, etc., that his vote has become unimportant. I am 43 years old and have never voted simply because I never had real concern about our government going astray, but I will vote this November and if I don't agree with the outcome, at least I'll know my vote counted.

'New Water Costly; Change Foreseen?'

Is this new commission investigating the possibility of dropping the Detroit water contract and going back to our own wells? Water is too expensive. We can hardly afford to sprinkle and wash a summer as dry and hot as this, more lawns are brown than ever before.

If we ultimately get water from Lake Huron, the cost may come down, but Detroit is really "soaking us." Has the level of our old wells risen?

Dr. Wayne G. Brandstadt Says:

Heart Pain Treatment Mostly Prevention

The treatment of angina pectoris is mostly a matter of prevention—avoiding causes and taking drugs that will keep the coronary arteries open.

Surgical measures should be used only as a last resort.

They are often disappointing. The simplest of these is the old-fashioned procedure of drawing off a half pint of blood. This is of value only if it can be shown that the victim's blood is abnormally thick.

In such persons the relief may last for several months.

ANOTHER PROCEDURE

Another procedure that is not limited to persons with thickened blood is to open the sac that encloses the heart and dust sterile talcum powder on the outer surface of the heart.

This sets up a foreign body reaction and stimulates the production of new blood vessels in the wall of the heart.

This operation works better in theory than in practice.

Pursuing this approach even further, Dr. Vineburg of McGill University, Montreal, peels away the outer covering of the heart itself and implants a thin sheet of sponge. He then sews the outer heart membrane together again.

His results have been much better than those following the use of talcum powder.

Q—What causes tinea versicolor and what treatment is recommended?

A—Tinea versicolor, sometimes referred to as liver spots, is a mild skin infection caused by a fungus.

It consists of light brown patches that do not itch and are not raised above the level of the normal skin.

Most persons with this condition ignore it, especially if it is on a part of the body that is normally covered.

If treatment is desired Fragmatan ointment or a lotion containing sulfur and resorcin may be used.

Q—The doctor says my sister has Addison's disease. Is this serious?

A—In Addison's disease the function of the adrenal glands is greatly reduced due to advanced age or destruction of the gland tissue by tuberculosis or a tumor.

The disease is characterized by slowly progressive weakness, loss of appetite, loss of weight, abnormally low blood pressure and a generalized brown pigmentation of the skin.

Until the adrenal cortical hormones became available in recent years the disease was always fatal. But these drugs replace the secretions of the failing gland, thus resembling insulin for diabetics.

They may therefore be considered truly lifesaving.

Woman Shot in New York

Police Backtrack on Early Sniper Theory

NEW YORK (UPI) — A 19-year-old married woman was shot in the chest last night as she sat by an open window sipping coffee in the sixth floor apartment of friends in the Bronx.

Police backtracked on earlier theories that Mary Jane Mooney was shot by a sniper and said there was a "strong possibility" the bullet came from a small caliber weapon "someone was fooling around with."

The woman was reported in fair condition at Jacob Hospital, and a spokesman said there was little danger of paralysis resulting from the wound. Earlier, the hospital had said there was a possibility of paralysis from the waist down.

Police said the shooting occurred in the apartment of Vincent and Mary Manghise, whom Mrs. Mooney and her husband were visiting. They said the Manghises reported hearing a loud noise "like a big balloon breaking" just before Mrs. Mooney toppled over.

"There is no logical place the bullet could have come from if it were the work of a sniper," a police lieutenant said. "A sniper perched in one of the two-story tenements in the area would have had an almost impossible shot," he said.

He said there was little reason to believe the shooting was deliberate. A search continued for the weapon, however.

Johnson's War-on-Poverty Bill Reaches House

WASHINGTON (AP) — The $962.5-million war-on-poverty bill bearing the LBJ brand reaches the House floor today, and anxious administration leaders are still checking on the votes.

Three days of debate and amendment have been scheduled for the omnibus bill, which combines attacks on poverty through a youth job corps, community action projects, work-training programs, loans to rural families and many other aspects.

Speaker John W. McCormack said Tuesday he expects a vote on the measure Friday. The speaker and other Democratic House leaders told President Johnson they have high hopes the bill will win House passage.

Republicans have lined up solidly against the administration bill at every step of the way.

BEYOND REPAIR

Only last week four GOP members of the House Education and Labor Committee said the bill is "beyond repair or redemption through floor amendments."

But the bill's backers plan to offer amendments on the floor which would bring the House measure into line with a $947.5-million bill passed by the Senate.

They believe the Senate changes answer the strongest criticisms that have been raised by the bill's opponents.

Chief among these Senate changes:

Elimination of a provision for grants of up to $1,500 for low-income rural families. Only loans are provided in the Senate bill.

Elimination of a provision by which the director of the program could buy up rural properties, develop the land into family farm units, and sell these to low-income families.

Giving the governors of states veto power over any job corps camp or center in his state.

TRAINING CENTERS

The job-corps section of the bill is designed to set up conservation camps and job-training centers, patterned somewhat on the old Civilian Conservation Corps of the 1930s. It provides $190 million for this purpose.

Other key sections include:

Work training for unemployed youth through state and local public agencies and private non-profit organizations; $150 million.

Work-study programs to stimulate part-time employment of students who need the money to continue their education; $72.5 million.

Incentive for communities to combat poverty through community action programs; $315 million.

Loans to needy rural families, cooperatives or enterprises aimed at supplementing low incomes; $50 million in House bill.

New training for those long unemployed by helping small-business companies to utilize them; $25 million.

Family unity by expanding work and education opportunities for those unable to support or care for their families; $10 million.

For administration and coordination, $10 million would be provided.

Against North Rhodesian Troops

90 More Lumpas Killed in 2 Battles

LUSAKA, Northern Rhodesia (AP) — Another 90 members of the fanatic Lumpa religious sect have been killed in two new battles with government troops, raising the official death toll since the outbreak began 13 days ago to 360.

Howling Lumpa warriors armed only with spears, arrows and "passports to heaven" threw themselves against government riflemen Tuesday in bush country northeast of the capital of Lusaka.

Seventy-five Lumpas fell in the barrage of army fire at Chipoma village, in the Lundazi area 400 miles northeast of Lusaka. The Lumpas had massacred 150 persons — mostly African villagers — around Lundazi on Monday.

The soldiers engaged the Lumpas in an effort to get the release of some hostages taken during the massacre.

TWO AMBUSHES

Troops beat off two Lumpa ambushes at a village south of Chinsala, another trouble spot 500 miles northeast of Lusaka. The area was the scene of savage fighting last week.

The soldiers killed 15 Lumpas and took 15 prisoners, reports said. Six soldiers were wounded.

The renewed warfare showed that the Lumpas, under the leadership of their prophetess Alice Lenshina, had no intention of bowing before the threats of Prime Minister Kenneth Kaunda.

Kaunda has temporarily outlawed the sect in an effort to bring peace to the central African country before it receives its independence from Britain in 13 weeks. He also has ordered his forces to take Alice dead or alive. Some reports said she had fled to Southern Rhodesia.

An average of 270,000 babies are born every day throughout the world and about 142,000 die daily, providing a net daily population gain of 128,000.

Youth Jumps to Death From Chicago Building

CHICAGO (AP) — A 17-year-old boy plunged eight floors to his death from a department store building yesterday. Witnesses said he calmly watched firemen rushing to place a safety net below him, then jumped when they were 50 feet away.

The youth had climbed up a fire escape on the rear of the downtown Goldblatt Store. The victim carried cards identifying him as Gary Naus of the suburb of Berwyn.

INTO THICK OF IT — Attack planes from the aircraft carriers Constellation (top) and Ticonderoga helped beat off marauding Communist torpedo boats attacking the destroyers Maddox and C. Turner Joy off North Viet Nam yesterday.

U.S. Military Array Stationed in Pacific

WASHINGTON (AP) — The military strength of the United States in the Pacific includes nearly a quarter of a million men, thousands of planes and about 125 Navy ships in the 7th Fleet alone, with other ships ready elsewhere.

Part of the "substantial military reinforcements to Southeast Asia" which Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara announced were being moved up, apparently come from units already located in the central and northwest Pacific regions.

First indications of the nature of the buildup came from Saigon today with an announcement by a U.S. spokesman that U.S. Air Force F102 jet fighters were being rushed to South Viet Nam. Some reportedly arrived there from Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines. Others are stationed on Okinawa and in Japan.

As the reinforcements head for the Southeast Asian zone, the Defense Department will draw on planes, ships and men now in the continental United States. These will take up stations from which the beefed-up Southeast Asia force has been taken.

Here is how the U.S. military is arrayed in the Pacific:

Manpower — A total of about 229,000, including 69,000 Army, 30,000 Marines, 70,000 Air Force, 60,000 Navy in the 7th Fleet deployed along the Asian coastline.

Ships — The 125 ships of the 7th Fleet include three attack carriers, the Ticonderoga, Constellation and Bon Homme Richard, plus an antisubmarine warfare carrier, the Kearsarge.

Air Force — The Pacific Air Force, with headquarters in Hawaii, operates 40 tactical squadrons of aircraft. They are strike, support and air defense types and include many super-sonic jet fighters.

The Navy estimates the total plane strength for the 7th Fleet, including aircraft operating from carriers and from land bases, at about 650.

The Marine Corps, in addition to the approximately 29,000 ground force personnel based in Okinawa, has a Marine air wing of about 10,000 men and 300 to 400 planes in the western Pacific.

U.S. Awaits China Reaction

By SPENCER DAVIS
WASHINGTON (AP) — American authorities believe the next few days will be of critical importance as Communist China tries to decide what to do about limited U.S. military action against neighboring North Viet Nam.

U.S. officials and congressmen hope that Peking is aware now that the United States means business in pledging it will defend the security of Southeast Asia as well as American ships on the high seas.

But they acknowledge it is difficult to estimate what Communist China's leaders may or may not do.

Peking has let it be known to the West that Southeast Asia is not a narrow peninsula like Korea and that she could deploy one million men if necessary in a sweep over Thailand, Viet Nam and Laos.

News Analysis

SUSTAINED DRIVE

American sources doubt that China's military machine, vast as it is in manpower, would be able to mount any sustained campaign.

Shortages of food and gasoline supplies have plagued the Peking regime, particularly since relations have cooled with Moscow.

Also it is assumed here that North Viet Nam would not necessarily welcome massive Chinese Communist troop movements. There has been hostility between Viet Nam and China because of Viet Nam's centuries-old fear of its giant neighbor to the north.

Close attention will be paid to the relations between Moscow and Peking for any sign that the split between the two is being narrowed by the mounting Southeast Asian crisis. Expert opinion here holds that the Soviet Union and Communist China have drifted too far apart to snap back to their old military comradeship.

BITTER ATTACKS

Communist China can be counted upon to bitterly denounce the American retaliatory raids. The North Vietnamese denied making the attacks.

In taking the case to the United Nations, the United States expected to make clear to the world that the action was not initiated by this country but came in retaliation for unprovoked attacks upon American ships in international waters.

President Johnson's move in calling for a resolution by the Congress to show the united support of the country follows similar actions taken by other presidents to meet earlier tests by the Communists in Cuba, Berlin, the Taiwan Straits and Lebanon.

In meeting the gravest international challenge of his young administration, Johnson was acting on the principle that firm action would serve as a deterrent to war.

FIRMNESS IN RIGHT

"He concluded his address to the American people Tuesday night with the admonition: 'Firmness in the right is indispensable today for peace. Firmness will always be measured. Its mission is peace.'"

The largest stand of virgin cypress in the United States and the largest nesting colony of wood storks are to be found in Corkscrew Swamp, near Immokalee, Fla.

DETROIT (AP) — Assorted jewelry valued at about $50,000 was reported stolen Tuesday night from a room at the Statler-Hilton Hotel.

Allen Frackman of New York City, a salesman for two New York firms, told police he left the gems in his room while he went to buy a newspaper.

Frackman said they were gone when he returned 15 minutes later. He said the loss was not insured. Police said there were no signs of forcible entry into the room.

Viet Nam, China Wary About Gulf

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Although the Gulf of Tonkin is a sizable international body of water 150 miles wide and 300 miles long, North Viet Nam and Red China seem to regard it as their private lake.

They are wary of any shipping in the gulf other than their own.

A northwest arm of the South China Sea, the crescent-shaped gulf is bounded by North Viet Nam on the west, China's Hainan Island on the east and the Chinese mainland on the east and north.

It has been patrolled regularly by the U.S. 7th Fleet.

GULF COASTLINE

The entire North Vietnamese coastline is on the gulf, including Benhuy and Halphong, the two principal ports. It is thus the only route for Russian and Communist Chinese ships bringing arms to North Viet Nam.

And any sea invasion of North Viet Nam would have to come by way of the gulf.

A month ago the Chinese issued new warnings to foreign shipping within the 15-mile Hainan Strait between China's Hainan Island and Luichow Peninsula on the Chinese mainland. The strait is the western entrance to the Gulf of Tonkin.

Over the signature of Premier Chou En-lai, the regulations forbade ships to use radar or photographic equipment, restricted them to the middle of the strait and said they must obey any challenge.

The Luichow Peninsula, at the tip of Kwangtung Province, occupies an important place in Peking's strategic thinking for Southeast Asia.

A 60-mile military highway from Canton cuts into the province and over to North Viet Nam, connecting with the Tonkin coastal road. The road was an important supply route in the Vietnamese war against the French and probably remains so now in the Communist effort to take over South Viet Nam.

Tonkin Bay Attack Ignited Tensions

Only Top Officials Knew in First Hours

By JOE F. KANE
WASHINGTON (AP) — It was a night of crisis, and crowds gathered at the White House gates under a starless sky.

A flash from Tonkin Bay had ignited Tuesday's tensions. North Vietnamese PT boats were attacking two American destroyers.

In its initial hours, only those in the top echelons of government were aware that a new showdown was brewing.

Across the Potomac at the Pentagon, Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara was informed by phone as soon as the first flash was received from the fleet.

With his top civilian and military strategists and advisers, he hurried into the national command post. That's the heavily guarded, locked-door secret room called "the tank."

There, McNamara remained through much of the day, studying a flow of reports, talking tersely with aides.

On Capitol Hill, it was business as usual.

When rumors began circulating of a new naval engagement, many congressmen expressed disbelief and shock. Apparently only four members of the House received prompt official notification.

Down at the State Department, Secretary of State Dean Rusk and top officials concerned with Southeast Asian affairs were in deep conference.

There was an urgent, secretive air about them that comes when something big is in the works.

Official word of the attack came from the Pentagon shortly after 6 p.m. as 16 Republican and Democratic congressional leaders were being called in for a White House meeting with the President.

At dusk, crowds began gathering on Pennsylvania avenue at the gates of the executive mansion. Many of them were tourists.

The makeup of the crowd at the White House was much like that which had gathered there on an October night in 1962 as President Kennedy reported to the nation on the Cuban missile showdown.

But Tuesday night it was a new crisis and a new president.

She's an Active Democrat

By MADELEINE DOEREN
When you shake hands with attractive brunette Burnette Staebler, you feel that you have known her all your life.

Here this week under the auspices of the Oakland County Democratic Women, is the wife of Michigan's candidate for governor who is also Congresswoman-at-large.

"The volunteer staff here in Pontiac has been simply wonderful. They provide a volunteer driver and schedule about eight meetings a day, four days a week. Monday is my day off," she added.

In their 29 years of marriage, Mrs. Staebler has grown used to the hectic pace of a public figure's wife, whether it means cooking dinner for 40 or making speeches throughout the state.

MEETS HUSBAND

She met her husband while studying for her bachelor's degree in music at the University of Michigan. They were known as busy that they had difficulty in getting together for dates. She sang with a church choir on Sunday, the only night he was not studying.

While rearing two children,

Liz, now 23, who is majoring in sociology at Eastern Michigan University and Michael, 21, Mrs. Staebler continued her musical career.

During World War II while in Washington, Mrs. Staebler joined the "voteless" District of Columbia League while her husband was with the office of price stabilization and in the Navy.

In the League as in the Democratic party, her favorite activity is fostering clear-headed discussion of public issues.

CURRENT CONCERNS

Of current concerns are tax burdens of the aged, teachers' retirement, overcrowded schools, educational needs of the state and the Massachusetts ballot.

Mrs. Staebler was the first president and co-founder of the Ann Arbor Symphony Orchestra and with her husband, launched the Ann Arbor Dramatic Arts Center. They also sparked the nonpartisan Ann Arbor Citizens' Council.

On the political scene, Mrs. Staebler has been "Girl Friday" for the Democrats. On a house-to-house survey, she has recorded party preferences and collected funds.

Besides serving as precinct and ward chairman, she has managed campaign headquarters, trained discussion leaders, and been state convention delegate.

HITS THE TRAIL

Mrs. Staebler hit the campaign trail in 1962 when her husband decided to run for his first office after years as state Democratic chairman.

During the present campaign, the Staeblers are based at Ann Arbor.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Sage of Clarkston, recently entertained Miss Hermann and her fiancé Edwin Clayton Sage III, son of the Junior Sages of Motorway Drive.

Alpha Xi Delta sorority sisters of the bride-elect came from Trenton, Detroit, Royal Oak and Ann Arbor to a recent party in the Ulca home of Mrs. Charles Miller. Mary Jane Stewart and Judy Hermann were cohostesses.

SERVES ON BOARDS

She has served on the board of the Foreign Students Service Council and on the Women's National Democratic club board.

Commencing between Washington and Michigan for week-ends of meetings, especially since her husband became a candidate for governor, is a way of life for the Staeblers.

Mrs. Staebler says "We like to speak to mixed groups and by asking questions we find what's bothering the people."

Cascading roses accented her controlled skirt with back drape. She carried cabbage roses, with trailing rosebuds and ivy.

Mrs. John R. Harrell, of Royal Oak, attended her sister as honor matron. Bridesmaids were Martha Steding, Patricia Mann, Jane Fitch of Galesburg, Ill. and Patricia Becker of Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

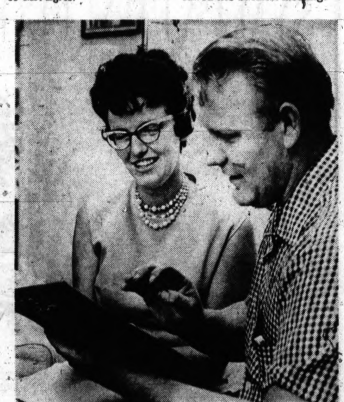

The couple left the club for a honeymoon on Mackinac Island. He is an alumnus of Hillsdale College where his bride is a senior.

But, Writer Nerveless

Neighbor's Too Nervy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN
DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who is the nerviest person I've ever known, but I hate to hurt her.

She walks into my house without knocking and has scared me out of my wits so many times it's not even funny.

She opens my refrigerator to see what's there. She lifts the lids of my pots. She finds out what I am cooking.

She even adds water if she thinks it needs it. If a letter happens to be lying around, she'll read it.

She has even picked up my husband's check stubs and studied them. I could go on and on.

Don't tell me to keep my doors locked. With children it's hard. I have never taken such liberties in her house. Is there some nice way I can put a stop to this? I wouldn't hurt her feelings for the world.

DEVOTED READER

DEAR READER: There is no "nice" way to tell a snoop that she's a snop. Keep all personal mail and check stubs out of sight.

And when she adds water to your soup count to 10.

But don't complain of HER nerve if YOU haven't the nerve to tell her SHE'S nervy!

DEAR ABBY: How does a 20-year-old girl who has just announced her engagement with intentions to get married next summer tell her parents that she has to get married as soon as possible?

THE GIRL

DEAR GIRL: In plain English. And fast.

DEAR ABBY: Where we live, the houses are very close together. Late last I have seen a boy, who can't be more than 9 years old, hanging out of the bathroom window, smoking.

I see him almost every day. He is obviously smoking on the

Mr. and Mrs. Fred L. Ross (Kay Reeves) of Dwight Avenue announce the July 24 birth of their son Edward Lee at Pontiac General Hospital.

Grandparents of the new child are the Raymond H. Reeves' of Monroe Street and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace D. Ross of East Ypsilanti Avenue.

DEAR ABBY: I appreciate your column on how much satisfaction some of our readers get from giving away the clothing of their loved ones after they had passed away.

When my mother died, I couldn't bear to give her clothes away, so I wrapped them in paper and packed them in boxes.

Thirty years later, upon opening the boxes, everything was moth-eaten and yellowed with age.

How much better it would have been for her lovely clothes to have been worn out by some friend?

Drop Hint to Friends on Clothing

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I have two daughters, ages 3 and 4. On special occasions, they receive presents from a few friends and relatives.

Two of the persons from whom they receive gifts almost always give them dresses. These dresses are either too fancy or too old and not at all to my liking and I rarely put them on the girls.

I am very fussy about my children's clothes and like to select them myself.

Will you please tell me how I can graciously, without hurting their feelings, let them know how I feel?

A: You can't probably tell them that you don't like their choice of dresses or that you would rather select your daughters' clothes yourself.

The only thing you can do is, when you are talking to them sometime, casually mention that Mary and Sue have more dresses than they can possibly wear and hope that they will take the hint and buy something else to do so.

Q: A man whom I date occasionally sent me a dozen very beautiful roses on my birthday.

He has a birthday coming up soon and I would like to know if it would be proper to send him a present in return?

A: There is no obligation to send him a present in return for his roses, but if you would like to give a little something on his birthday, it would be quite all right to do so.

Details concerning the remarriage of a widow and divorce are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Second Marriage." To obtain a copy, send 10 cents in coin and a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Emily Post Institute, in care of The Pontiac Press.

Pair Visit Montreal After Rites

Visiting Montreal on their honeymoon are the Fred Liestmans (Susan Rae Guenther) who exchanged vows and rings recently in the Lake Orion Methodist Church.

Parents of the couple are the Ramon Guenther of South-Lapeer Road, Orion Township and the Cecil Liestmans of Leoniard.

Crystals and pearls accented the bride's gown of white tulle with a train. A Swedish tiara of lace topped her illusion veil.

Her bouquet of gardenias and golden ivy formed a Hogarthian curve.

FROM LAKE ORION

From Lake Orion, were honored by the bride's groom, Fred Liestman, and his bride, Susan Rae Guenther, who were married at the Lake Orion Methodist Church, Sunday, July 26.

With Thomas McGuire, best man, were Jerry Chappel and Dallas Acker, all of Oxford, who ushered along with George Jones of Southfield.

Phillip Liestman was ring-bearer at the ceremony performed by Dr. Robert Hudgins preceding a reception in the Knights of Pythias Hall, Oxford.

Flocking for New Designs

Are you familiar with flocking now featured in apparel and home fashions? It is a decorative surface design achieved by applying a short fiber ends to a cloth or plastic base.

This may be done either by pressing the fibers into a resin substance pre-printed on the fabric, or by applying the fibers to the adhesive by electrolysis - which produces a velvet effect.

Since these raised decorations are permanent on quality items, flocked garments or furnishings can safely be laundered "as usual" in soap or detergent suds.

Interest Rises in Condominium Housing

By MARY FEELEY
Consultant in Money Management

Dear Miss Feeley:

"At the end of this year my husband will be retired, aged 65. Our plans are to go to Florida, and we are interested in buying a condominium apartment in the price range of $18,000. We will also have to furnish it."

Now the question in our minds is, are we going to be investing too much money in this apartment?

Our total assets in cash, bonds etc., will be about $70,000, our social security plus pension $240 a month.

I will not come under social security until 1970. My husband will have a $10,000 paid-up life insurance policy, hospitalization, and medical insurance for both of us at $10 a month, the balance paid by his company.

The taxes, maintenance and upkeep for the condominium apartment, would be approximately $65 per month. Would you advise paying cash or taking a mortgage? Thank you for any help you may be able to give us.

E. H., Chicago

You're in a position to pay cash for the apartment, so why not save mortgage interest? Your dependable income of $240 a month would be adequate for the two of you, on a modest scale of living. For instance:

Apartment maintenance, $65; household operating costs, $15; food, $80; clothing, $20; personal allowances, $15; medical costs other than covered by your insurance, $25; recreation and vacation, $10; miscellaneous contributions, etc., $30. Total, $240.

On the basis of cash payment, you would have to use some of your reserve funds for furniture, as your regular monthly budget wouldn't allow for this. However, you'd still have a substantial amount left out of the $70,000.

Of course, the amount you have in investments will continue to draw interest. I assume. If you plan to add those savings to your basic income your monthly spending plan could be more comfortable. I set up this basic budget so you could have something to build on.

MORE INTEREST

There's increasing interest in condominiums, which are now available in more than 40 states. For those readers who have recently asked about cooperatives versus condominiums, here are a few facts:

According to the Director of the Cooperative Housing Division of the Federal Housing Administration: "In condominium ownership, a person owns separately one or more single dwelling units in a multiple-unit apartment building and has an undivided interest with the owners of the other apartments in common areas and facilities serving the building."

The buyer of a condominium takes title to the unit, just as he would to a house, while in a cooperative set-up the individual has a stock ownership in the apartment building and the right of occupancy to a specific unit.

In a condominium, the individual owner votes on the proportionate basis, according to the size of his apartment. In co-ops each individual owner has one vote regardless of the size of his unit.

SEPARATE TAX

The condominium owner is taxed separately on his particular unit. In co-ops, individual owners pay their share of taxes on the entire project, in monthly carrying charges.

In condominiums, individuals are responsible only for mortgage indebtedness and taxes on their specific units. They have no tax or mortgage liability for the rest of the property. In contrast, the co-op owner is dependent upon the solvency of the entire project.

The cost of operation of either of these apartment - ownership arrangements depends on the type of management.

A major difference between condominium and co-op procedure is that the condominium

Cheese Souffle Stands Overnight to Chill

By JANET ODELL
Pontiac Press Food Editor

Today's recipe we took down on one of the hottest days in July. We met Mrs. John Mahony at a luncheon and got to talking about food. She gave us her fool-proof recipe for cheese souffle.

Mrs. Mahony is president of the St. Joseph Hospital Auxiliary and active in the Janet Stuart group at the Convent of the Sacred Heart.

FOOLPROOF SOUFFLE

By Mrs. John Mahony

8 slices firm white bread. Butter. Green onions, shredded. 6 eggs. 3 cups milk. Salt and pepper. 1 pound medium sharp cheese.

Trim crusts from bread and butter both sides. Cut into small cubes. Butter 9-inch baking dish and sprinkle in cubes of bread. Cover with shredded green onion.

Stir up eggs, milk and seasonings. Grate cheese over bread and pour egg mixture over all. Sprinkle with paprika.

Let stand in refrigerator overnight. Remove and let stand at room temperature for 30 minutes before baking. Bake 1 hour at 350 degrees.

This may be frozen before baking.

You may add crabmeat, lobster or shrimp before grating cheese over the bread.

Why Grow Old?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

This week is a kickoff for fall - to help you kick off any extra pounds you may have before trying on your fall and winter clothes.

As you may have noticed, I am conducting a "National Josephine Lowman Group Therapy" week during which some exciting letters from a few thousands of readers who have reduced successfully with my eight week Beauty Improvement Plan will reinforce YOUR willpower.

There is not time now for procrastination, but there is time to lose unwanted weight before shopping fall clothes and getting those you already have out of the mothballs.

Here's a woman who writes about how it feels to lose 19 pounds:

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"My decision to join your BIP (Beauty Improvement Plan) was one of the wisest moves I ever made.

"In 1963 I had an operation and gave up smoking. From that time on I gained weight. Then I decided to join BIP.

"I am 44 years old and have big bones. Therefore I did not look as heavy as I was, but I felt terrible. I got to the point where I did not want to go anywhere but to church.

CHANGED PERSON

"Now I am a changed person. I have lost 19 pounds, 2 inches in the bust, 3 from the waist, 3 1/2 from my abdominal measurement, 1 from the hips and 2 from my thighs. I kept strict count of my calories each day and never went over 1,200 daily. I also did the exercises for my waistline, abdomen and hips.

"I know I still have more to lose but I look good and feel wonderful. Thanks for making a new woman of me."

Overweight does not affect all women like this. It was making a recluse out of her. I think it affects many women in this way and most women in less drastic ways. They may become self-conscious or give up swimming or dancing which they enjoy.

Many women (and men) gain weight when they stop smoking. This is due in part to the fact that smoking is a mechanical habit, something to do with the hands. Instead of reaching for a cigarette you may reach for a piece of candy or snack on salted nuts or raid the refrigerator.

owner may sell, rent, exchange or mortgage his dwelling unit without consulting his neighbors. This is not generally possible in cooperatives.

NEW WORD

While the very word "condominium" is fairly new in the average vocabulary, this concept of ownership is not new. It has been in effect for decades in South America, and has been most successful in Puerto Rico where land is scarce and prices high.

It's more economical to build up rather than out. Statistics in the United States indicate that the condominium plan is proving most popular in apartments selling at from $12,500 to $15,000 for three rooms.

Retired couples, especially, are attracted by the fact that no individual maintenance of this type of home is necessary, as the monthly charges pay for maintenance by the management of the project. Community facilities also have an appeal for all age groups.

Time will tell whether the home in the sky wins out. But very likely there'll be "takers" for both.

(You can write to Mary Feeley in care of The Pontiac Press. She will answer questions of widest interest in her column.)

November vows are planned by Mary Kay Ermel, daughter of the Robert A. Ernests of Dick Avenue, and William F. Devereaux, son of Mr. and Mrs. John F. Devereaux of Auburn Heights. She is a Western Michigan University senior.

Golf League Has Picnic

The Edwin Lilly's opened their Balmoral Terrace home Tuesday for the annual picnic of the Women's Silver Lake Golf League.

Some 40 members and two guests participated in swimming in the pool and planned games. Mrs. Fred Frederickson was in charge of the refreshments.

Guests included former member and group president, Mrs. Fred Stimpert, who now resides in St. Petersburg, Fla. and Mrs. Don White, sister of the hostess.

Mrs. Lloyd Hoyt conducted the program.

Loosen Tight Belt

By POLLY CRAMER

DEAR POLLY — Most of us find that our belts occasionally seem too tight. After buying a new dress, I always open the buckle end of the belt and insert a piece of elastic one inch long and about the width of the belt.

This will not show after the belt is fastened and it always fits well. Of course, use white elastic on pastel colors and, black on darker colors.

Puncture a hole in the elastic, slip the buckle through as though the elastic were the belt material and sew one end to the belt. —KATHRYN

DEAR POLLY — Both the credit and the Polly Dollar for my hint must be passed on to my neighbor.

To avoid getting holes in plaster walls when hanging tie-back curtains, cut a large cork in half and glue a half of it on each side of the window at the desired height.

The thumbtacks or pins can be easily pushed into the corks. My neighbor's corks have been intact for seven years, have been painted the color of the walls and are not noticeable. —MRS. R. R. Y.

DEAR POLLY — Do any readers know what to do about yellow spots on a refrigerator? Ours is only two years old and has turned yellow in places.

Vinegar, Salt,
Lemon Juice—
Cleaning Agents

Vinegar, lemon juice, cream of tartar and salt are important ingredients in many food recipes. They are also key ingredients in other kinds of "recipes" as well as recipes for removing stains.

Take vinegar, for instance. If a washable fabric has discolored because of a perspiration stain, it can be restored by applying ammonia if the stain is a fresh one. But if the stain is an old one, vinegar is the best bet.

Lemon juice, cream of tartar and salt play an important part in stain removal "recipes," too. To remove a rust stain from a washable fabric, for example, boil the stained article in a solution containing four teaspoons of cream of tartar to each pint of water, then rinse thoroughly.

Then spread the stained portion over a pan of boiling water and squeeze lemon juice on it or sprinkle salt on the stain. Squeeze lemon juice on it again, spread in the sun to dry and rinse well.

Shipwreck Party
Is a New Idea

For a different party for the teen-age crowd, entertain them with a "shipwreck party."

All decorations should

There are about 47 million families in the United States.

Entertain Children

It's a clever idea to paste riddles on the corners of napkins used at a child's party.

Children will entertain themselves while the hostess is finishing serving the refreshments.

Prejudice Reports Ruled Out

Al Dark Won't Be Back in '65 as Giants' Manager

NEW YORK (AP) — Al Dark, whose San Francisco Giants are locked in a battle with the Philadelphia Phillies for the National League pennant, will not be back as manager next year, The Associated Press was told today by a club official.

Dark's dismissal may be imminent. According to the source, it would not be too great a surprise if Dark were fired before the end of the season — perhaps even before the end of the month.

Dark has been managing the Giants since 1961. He led the club to a pennant after a playoff with the Los Angeles Dodgers in 1962 but the "Giants" lost the World Series in seven games to the New York Yankees. The Giants finished third last year.

The Giants currently are in second place, 1½ games behind the Phillies. The Giants picked up one-half game on the Philadelphia Phillies Tuesday night with a 4-3 triumph over the New York Mets in 14 innings.

Reports of statements of prejudice against Dark by Negro players — charges which he has denied — have nothing to do with Dark's untenable position, according to the source.

HONEST JOB

Dark, at a hastily called press conference Tuesday night, did what a Giant spokesman said was a "thorough and honest job of scotching these malicious accusations."

Strained relations have existed between Dark and club owner Horace Stoneham since the start of the season. A sentimental man, proud of his close relationship with his employees, Stoneham reportedly was hurt last spring by Dark's failure to inform him of a managerial offer made to him by the Houston club for 1965.

The breach has widened in recent weeks to a point where Stoneham reportedly has decided a change in managers was necessary.

Informed of The AP's story, Dark obviously was shaken. At first he refused comment, but then said:

"I think we will be inclined to open up more this season," said Dark. "The addition of Rich Kreitling and Gary Barnes gives us added strength on the left side. Of course, the club still is shaken by the tragic loss of

"I signed a two-year contract in September of 1962 and haven't discussed my future with the club since. As a matter of fact, that's against club policy."

Dark's latest difficulty stems from a narrative written by columnist Stan Isaacs of Newsday, a Long Island daily, which quotes him as saying Negro players are physically superior but mentally inferior to white players.

Dark, at the press conference held prior to Tuesday night's game, denied this as well as other statements attributed to him by Isaacs, who also quoted Dark as having said:

"We (the Giants) have trouble because we have so many Negro and Spanish speaking players on this team. They are just not able to perform up to white ball players when it comes to mental alertness."

"Isaacs visited with me in San Francisco two weeks ago and we discussed what was wrong with the club," said Dark. "There was nothing racial involved. The story in the papers implied that it was."

"I was definitely misquoted on some of the things I said and other statements were deformed. I don't think Isaacs meant to do me any harm. I think it was a misunderstanding. A case of misinterpretation. He came to me after the story had appeared and apologized. He said he had not intended to come out the way it did."

Earlier, Dark conferred with Commissioner Ford Frick with whom he had requested a meeting to explain his views.

"I was gratified by the commissioner's words to me," Dark said. "He told me I had nothing to worry about as far as baseball was concerned. He knew my record and was convinced I could not possibly make these statements."

Isaacs, who arrived at the tail end of the press conference, held in the visiting manager's office at Shea Stadium, remained quiet throughout. Questioned by reporters after Dark had left, Isaacs said he apologized to Dark for the trouble he had caused Dark personally. He insisted the quotes were accurate.

Bears Offense Clicking

CHICAGO (AP) — There's bad news for the College All-Stars. George Halas thinks his Chicago Bears' offense finally is beginning to click for Friday night's game at Soldier Field.

"For the first time in 18 days I am encouraged by a showing of cohesion and proper execution by our offense," Halas said Tuesday at the Bears' camp in Rensselaer, Ind.

"Our defense came around after the sixth day of camp and has been improving every day," said the 69-year-old owner-coach. "Now our defense is beginning to perk up."

The Bears' offense never did kindle any burst of enthusiasm last year, when the team drove to the National Football League championship behind a solid ball-hungry defense.

WILL OPEN UP

"I think we will be inclined to open up more this season," said Halas. "The addition of Rich Kreitling and Gary Barnes gives us added strength on the left side. Of course, the club still is shaken by the tragic loss of John Farrington and Willie Galimore."

The Bears' first offensive unit to open against the All-Stars will have Bill Wade at quarterback, Ron Bull at left halfback, Morris at right halfback and Joe Maroon at fullback. Kreitling, former Cleveland Brown, is the No. 1 split end. Of course, Mike Ditka is the tight end.

A future Bear, Mike Reilly of Iowa, was one of the two co-captains named Tuesday by the All-Stars. Reilly, a linebacker, was the Bears' No. 4 draft. He is rated a good bet to make the ball club when he joins the pros after Friday's game.

George Mira, the fabulous quarterback from Miami, was picked as the other co-captain. Although Mira has been hampered by a pulled muscle in the arm-pit of his right arm; he is expected to carry the main burden of the attack. Mira, who joins the San Francisco 49ers after the game, was the star of the East's win in the All-Star game at Buffalo in June. The other quarterbacks are Pete Beathard of Southern California (Kansas City) and Jack Connelley of Boston College (Philadelphia).

More than 1,700 football fans greeted the All-Stars Tuesday at a luncheon in a downtown hotel at which Otto Graham, making his seventh appearance as head coach, introduced the players.

Among the All-Stars are three players who will join the Bears. They are Carl Evey, a tackle from Tennessee who was the Bears' No. 1 draft, split end Chuck Logan of Northwestern and Reilly.

PBI Chops Talbott 13-0; Playoffs to Begin Sunday

Pontiac Business Institute turned up its baseball machine for the Class A playoffs with a 13-0 triumph over Talbott Lumber in the season finale for both squads.

The winners of the first two tilts will meet Wednesday, Aug. 16, while the losers are slated to tangle Sunday, Aug. 16.

PBI (10-6) closed the league race in third place behind Huron-Airway (15-3) and the Clippers (11-7). Talbott (6-12) finished sixth.

Tigers' Wickersham Over Jinx

Beats Chicago to Claim His 13th Victory

Close 4-3 Bengal Win on Demeter's Homer Comes After 5 Tries

CHICAGO (AP)—Those black cats have stopped running in front of Detroit Tiger pitcher Dave Wickersham. He finally has his 13th victory.

Wickersham had been anything but lucky in five previous attempts to notch No. 13. But Tuesday night he broke the jinx as the Tigers edged the Chicago White Sox, 4-3.

For the first seven innings, however, it appeared that the Wickersham whammy was still working. The Tigers had managed only one hit — a bunt single by Jerry Lumpe in the third — off Gary Peters.

Detroit solved Peters' slants in the eighth, getting four runs, three of them on Don Demeter's homer.

This snapped Chicago's five-game winning streak and Peters' string of five successive victories — over two seasons — against the Orioles with the Tigers.

Chicago took a two-run lead in the second when Al Kaline lost Gene Stephens' fly in the lights and it fell in for a double. Ron Hansen followed with another two-bagger when the ball bounced into the left field corner and was caught by a fan.

J. C. Martin singled off Demeter's glove, and Hansen scored as the ball rolled down the first base line.

The White Sox picked up another run in the seventh on another double — this time by Moose Skowron. It scored Mike Herabberger who had walked and advanced on two sacrifices.

ROBBERY

The Tigers were robbed of two hits earlier by shortstop Hansen, who made an over-the-shoulder catch of Gates Brown's pop fly in the second and another sensational grab to throw out Demeter in the fourth.

The field will be trimmed to the low 90 players plus defending champion Jim Smith. Late-point after the qualifying round.

Smith will join the low 31 scorers in the championship flight. The remaining 64 will be divided into four additional flights.

The championship flight will move into match play competition with two rounds Friday over the 7,500-yard course, two on Saturday and close the tourney with semifinal and final matches Sunday.

The other flights will play one match on Friday, one of Saturday and two on Sunday.

Among the entries are Bud Stevens of Western Golf and Country Club, winner in 1958 and 1962. Tom Draper (1956 and 1960) of Red Run, Glen Johnson (1955) of Grosse Ile and Gene Woodward of Lochmoor.

All Lose on GooFs

Three AL Leaders Play 'Give Away'

Doesn't anyone here want that pennant?

That was the big question in the American League today after the three top contenders played kick-the-game-away Tuesday night.

Here's the way it went:

The first-place New York Yankees held a 1-0 lead on Mickey Mantle's homer and were cruising behind ace left-hander Whitey Ford when fouled Tony Kubek suddenly committed two errors in two innings and helped Kansas City to a 5-1 victory.

The second-place Baltimore Orioles were locked in a scoreless battle with Los Angeles until the fourth inning when Norm Siebern dropped a two-out foul pop and the Angels rushed across five runs and went on to a 5-0 triumph.

CHISOX FOLD

The third-place Chicago White Sox were leading Detroit 3-0 and left-hander Gary Peters had allowed only a bunt single through seven innings when he came apart, was slammed for four runs and a 4-3 defeat by the Tigers.

The frantic fumbling left the Yankees one percentage point ahead of the Orioles with the White Sox a full game back.

Elsewhere, Harmon Killebrew stroked three singles and his 37th homer, leading a five-homer barrage that carried Minnesota to a 12-4 walloping of Boston and Steve Ridzik preserved Washington's 4-2 victory over Cleveland with 7-13 innings of two-hit relief pitching.

Ford, who had missed two turns on the mound because of a hip injury, got himself into a jam in the sixth when he issued walks to Ed Charles and Jim Gentile. Kubek helped him stay in it.

WILD THROW

When Doc Edwards doubled, scoring Charles, Kubek let Tom Tresh's throw from the outfield get by him and Gentile also scored, bringing in the lead run. In the seventh, Kubek let Wayne Causey get to second base by throwing wild on his grounder and Charles doubled Causey home.

DISPOSED OF STOCK

Clay recently signed his defense against Lison, the man he de-throned in February. At the time of the announcement it was reported Lison had disposed of his IPI stock.

Davidson said the proposed fight was part of the original prize exacted by Intercontinental, "in which the syndicate agreed that if Clay won he would make his next defense for IPI.

IPI had the right to name the opponent, date and site, he said. "This was eventually and reluctantly agreed to," Davidson said, adding that it was perfectly proper and legal.

"As far as Clay is concerned," he said, "he is ready, willing and able to fight any of the Clay contenders. He does not want to be a do-nothing champion. He wants to fight this fall."

Yank Riders Win in Irish Horse Show

DUBLIN (AP) — American equestrians Kathy Kusner and Frank Chapot each won a section of the Pembroke Stakes Tuesday on the opening of the Irish International Horse Show at Balbriggan Ground.

Miss Kusner of Arlington, Va., took Section 2 with a faultless ride in 74.9 seconds on Untouchable for the 715-yard course with 13 obstacles. Chapot of Wallpack Center, N.J., captured Section 1 with a faultless ride in 72.5 seconds on Manon.

John Edwards' run-producing single broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning of the nightcap helping the Reds wrap up the sweep.

In other National League action, San Francisco struggled 14 innings before edging New York 4-3, Chicago blanked St. Louis 4-0 and Los Angeles swept a two-night doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 5-1 and 10-7.

Hutchinson, who had been hospitalized for a week, returned to the club but left the bench midway through the first game which was delayed three times by rain. He watched the remainder of the two-night doubleheader from Reds' President Bill DeWitt's box.

The Reds couldn't have put on a better show if they had rehearsed it. The first game was delayed 45 minutes right at the start but when the Reds finally came to bat, Deron Johnson clouded a three-run homer for a quick 3-0 Cincinnati lead.

PLAY BENCH

Left was held up for 27 minutes in the third inning and again for 42 minutes in the seventh. It was during the third delay that Hutchinson left the bench and joined DeWitt in his box.

In between rain delays, the Braves had trimmed Cincinnati's lead to 3-2. But Leo Cardeenas' two-run triple in the seventh clinched it.

John Edwards' run-producing single broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning of the nightcap helping the Reds wrap up the sweep.

In other National League action, San Francisco struggled 14 innings before edging New York 4-3, Chicago blanked St. Louis 4-0 and Los Angeles swept a two-night doubleheader from Pittsburgh, 5-1 and 10-7.

Despite Grandstand Grumbles

Most Colleges Kept Coaches

NEW YORK (UPI) — The grandstand wolves howled last winter but fewer football-playing colleges than usual were listening.

Only 75 schools that file records with the National Collegiate Athletic Association changed head football coaches last winter—19 fewer than in the big shakeup a year ago.

The howling wolves direct most changes in the college ranks, although the usual number of vacancies occurred because of retirements or switches to better jobs.

The major changes came at Notre Dame, Northwestern, Oklahoma, California, Tennessee, Georgia, Miami, Wake Forest and William and Mary, but the little guys from Adams State in Colorado to William Penn College in Iowa also were in the act.

The Notre Dame - Northwestern, California - William and Mary shifts had direct connections.

Ara Parseghian, who spent eight years getting Northwestern back on the football map, moved down to Notre Dame to try to get the Irish untracked.

He replaced "interim coach" Hughie Devore, who left Northwestern in the capable hands of Alex Agase, his line coach for eight years.

Marv Levy stepped out at California which hired Ray Wilsey, whose last previous stop was as defensive backfield coach for the Washington Redskins. Levy was William and Mary which had a 4-6 record last year under Milt Drew.

When Bud Wilkinson stepped down after a fabulous 17-year record at Oklahoma, former assistant Gomer Jones inherited the job — and excellent team prospect — after a long search by Oklahoma officials.

Charley Tate moved up at Miami when Andy Gustafson retired to devote full-time to his post as Athletic Director.

Vince Dooley came in to replace Johnny G. of fifth of Georgia, who originally has succeeded Wally Butts.

Tennessee went all out for T-type football by bringing in Doug Dickey, one-time Arkansas assistant, in place of Jim McDonald. Jim took over last spring after the departure of Bowden Wyatt.

SUCCEEDS HILDEBRAND
Bill Tate succeeded Bill Hildebrand of Wake Forest who had won only one game in the last two seasons, none in 1963.

Ex-'Shoe Champion Ousted in Tourney

GREENVILLE, Ohio (AP) — Paul Focht of Dayton, Ohio, the 1962 world horseshoe pitching tournament champion, has been eliminated from this year's world championship flight.

Focht had been tied for the 36th spot with Roger Vogel of Normal, Ill., with qualifying scores of 504 out of a possible 600.

But Wellington Taylor of Grand Rivers, Iowa, slipped in ahead of Focht and Vogel Tuesday with a 511.

Only the top 36 qualifiers make up the world championship flight.

Harold Reno of Sabine, Ohio, scored a 555 for the highest score in Tuesday's qualifying action.

Of the 15 university division schools that hired new tutors, 13 went for new boys who never had been head coaches before.

Only Notre Dame (Parseghian) and William and Mary (Levy) picked up an experienced coach.

The college division group followed a similar pattern with 41 of the 60 changes bringing in men on their first head coaching assignments.

Sam Reeves, Orchard Lanes Both Victors

Elks Over Local 593 in Class C Play; Bob & Larry in Finals

Two teams were forced to the sidelines in Pontiac softball playoff action last night.

Sam Reeves ousted Bob-Ken, 25-6, to take the Class D division in the American League, and Orchard Lanes knocked G & M out of action in the National League's two-game knockout series, 7-1.

Elks No. 810 edged Local No. 594, 3-1, to even its two-of-three series at one apiece in both the Class C division berth in the American League.

In the second National contest, Bob & Larry advanced to the finals of the playoffs with an 11-3 triumph over Berry Door. Bob & Larry will meet the winner of tonight's Orchard Lanes-Berry Door game for the upper bracket title tomorrow night at Northside.

300 Bowl and Arroy Realty, the one-two teams in the American race, are not in the playoffs but will represent Pontiac in the Michigan Softball Association Class A and B playoffs.

Morie Stack clubbed a three-run home run in the opening inning to give the Elks all the runs they needed. The blow was the third of his last loser Henry Hughes.

The two clubs meet again tonight with the winner advancing to the state Class C playoffs.

Reeves qualified for the state Class D playoffs with the win over Bob-Ken.

The winners scored nine times in the third and nine times in the fifth to put the game away. Orchard Lanes used some timely hitting to take advantage of five G & M errors to oust the construction squad.

Orchard tallied three in the second, on two hits and two errors and posted four in the fourth on two hits and a pair of miscues. Marlin Summer led the attack with a single and triple.

Bill LaRose banged out a home run and a pair of singles to lead Bob & Larry to victory. The winners took a 3-0 lead in the first two frames and broke the game open with three in the fourth and three in the fifth.

WATERFORD PLAY
Steve Ryerson's double in the seventh inning sent Kenny Morrow scooting across the plate with the lone tally in Spencer Floor's 1-0 triumph over Howe's Lanes in the first game of a two-of-three series.

Jerry Thomas tossed a three-hitter to pick up the victory.

Taig Tree Service fell from the Class C playoffs with a forfeit loss to Huron Bowl.

Has Fast Filly3 Stokes in a Row;
Led Delaware 'Cap'

Miss Cavandish of Bloomfield Hills isn't running in any beauty contests. Her goal is speed and when she runs she keeps up with the best in her class.

The 3-year-old filly, owned by Harry Nichols, of Bloomfield Hills, had a winning streak going in three classic races for fillies in the American Oaks, Monmouth Oaks and Delaware Oaks.

Last Saturday however she took a crack at Delaware Handicap, a race for some of the "older girls" and after leading for the first 3-10ths of a mile, she lost by a length.

Bill Shoemaker was astride the filly last Saturday and commended her for her performance against the older horses.

Thus far she has been in nine races this year, with in the money all but once and has won $230,000.

A week from Saturday, Miss Cavandish will run in the Alabama Stakes at Saratoga with Howard Grant in saddle. Grant was astride each time she has raced except last week when he had another commitment.

Roger Laurin is Miss Cavandish's trainer, and the word is that the filly will receive the honors as horse racing's "filly of the year."

CLOSE CALL—Ralph Flowers, a professional bear hunter from Aberdeen, Wash., is shown at home after being treated at a hospital for injuries received in a mauling by a wounded black bear. Flowers wounded the bear and followed it into dense cover where he was lying as if dead. When the hunter approached the bear charged. Flower's rifle mis-fired and he stuck his hand in the bear's mouth to protect himself. He finally managed to get free by kicking the animal in the stomach and was taken to a hospital. He received 28 stitches to close the wounds.

Elk Drawing
Set Aug. 26

LANSING (AP)—The drawing for licenses to participate in Michigan's first elk hunting season will be held here Aug. 26, with a computer doing all the work.

The names of 300 persons will be selected at random by machines in the Department of Revenue's Data Processing Center. Gov. George W. Romney will press the button.

Some 40,000 applications for the 300 licenses were in the hands of the Conservation Department Monday, with the Aug. 30 deadline a week away.

The elk season, first ever held in any state east of the Mississippi, is scheduled for Dec. 5-13. The plan calls for a kill of about 200, well below the annual increase rate of the herd, which now numbers 3,500.

News From Around the World

Argentine Chief Puts Top on Food Prices

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President Arturo Illia's government has put price ceilings on 12 basic foods in a move to halt the sharp rise in living costs.

The decrees set wholesale and retail ceilings on the price of cheese, flour, spaghetti, butter, milk and other staples. Anyone exceeding the set price will face fines of up to $3,500.

Merchants expressed fear the edict would result in shortages and a black market.

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — Angry Polish tourists have learned that money talks louder at the Communist Riviera on Bulgaria's Black Sea coast when it is hard Western currency.

TOURIST AGENCY

Orbis, the Polish tourist agency, reported in a statement today that its Bulgarian counterpart, Balkan Tourist, "has for the first time in many years let us down." It charged that more than 200 Poles who paid for first-class accommodations were given "third-class or worse."

Bulgaria's "Golden Sands" coast for years has been the preferred playground of East European vacationers. Recently, seeking hard currency, Bulgaria has been advertising vigorously in the West, and West Europeans are flocking there.

ROVIGO, Italy (AP) — Farmer Martino Ferrari looked out of the tavern window and discovered to his dismay that he had hanged his own goat.

Ferrari bought the goat Tuesday. He was leading it home with a rope around its neck when he came to a railway grade crossing with the bar down. He tied the rope around the bar and went into a nearby tavern to wait for the train to pass.

Next time he looked out the window, the train had passed, the bar had lifted, and the goat was hanged.

The Vatican Museum contains one of the world's smallest books, barely larger than the head of a match. The square book contains the Lord's Prayer in seven languages.

Cypriot Hero
Back in Greece

ATHENS, Greece (AP) — Gen. George Grivas, former underground leader in Cyprus, returned to Athens today for talks with the Greek government about the situation on the troubled island.

The 66-year-old guerrilla war hero went to Cyprus last month announcing he would work with his old Greek rival, President Makarios, to try to stop the strife between Greek and Turkish Cypriot factions.

When he returned after a five-year self-imposed exile in Athens, Grivas was widely touted as the new commander of Greek Cypriot armed forces. But informed sources in Nicosia said his sudden departure indicated that he would not return to Cyprus.

Girl Wants Future?

In the secretarial field there are more job openings than there are unemployed, but the jobs call for skill and training. Businessmen are demanding much more in a secretary than a woman skilled in shorthand, typing, and business English. The executive wants a woman with poise, one who dresses well, who modulates her voice properly, who is a public relations specialist on the telephone, and who ably performs many other functions as the executive's Girl Friday. PBI offers unique personalized training in charm, conversation, beauty, grooming plus complete secretarial skills.

Dairy Products Top List

Pontiac Press Food Editor
 Even hot weather doesn't stop the flow of new food products. The latest item to come to our desk is canned milk shakes. Vanilla, chocolate and strawberry are the flavors of this new drink in a can. Just chill, shake and pour out.

MICHIGAN ICE CREAM
 From the viewpoint of our own state, the new Michigan Cherry Ice Cream is something special. Developed to help use some of this year's bumper red tart cherry crop, the ice cream is made and sold only in Michigan.

Another interesting feature about it is that all manufacturers making it are using the same formula and the same packaging.

They are foregoing the use of their brand name on the package for this experiment. Instead, the package shows a dish of the pretty pink ice cream, dotted with pieces of red tart cherries. Scenes from Michigan decorate the sides of the container.

Use this new ice cream for sundae, parfaits, cool drinks or Cherry Ice Cream Pie.

Just prepare a graham cracker pie shell and fill with the new Michigan Cherry Ice Cream. Place in the freezer until you are ready to serve.

To dress it up, drizzle your favorite chocolate or hot fudge sauce over the top and you have a Cherry Sundae Pie. For variety, you may prefer a chocolate cookie crumb or coconut pie shell.

NEW DRINK MIXES

New in the beverage field are pre-sweetened soft drink mixes with a special appeal for the youngsters. The very names are guaranteed to intrigue the small fry: Freckle Face Strawberry or Goofy Grape are only two of the list that will bring a chuckle.

The sweetening is the non-caloric kind.

COFFEE CREAMER

Another non-dairy coffee "creamer" comes to market. This time in a unique pitcher-package of white unbreakable plastic. The screwtop lid is wide enough to admit a spoon.

The Better Half tried this and for once, he didn't turn up his nose at a cream substitute. You have a choice of three sizes.

The manufacturers sent us a release about canned potato pancakes, but we haven't seen any yet. All you have to do is open the can and slice the contents for cooking.

FLOUR SHAKER

If you like instantized flour, you'll be happy to hear that one brand now comes in a shaker container with plastic top. It has both a pouring spout and shaking device.

If you have been unhappy with results when using this new type of flour, here are a few special tips:

• If your dough seems too dry—and this is apt to be the case with instantized flour —work in extra liquid, a teaspoonful at a time. Add water for pastry, milk or cream for cookies.

• Be sure to dissolve the flour in cold liquid before adding to hot mixtures. This prevents lumping.

• Do not substitute for cake flour.

Peach Eggnog Begins With Nonfat Dry Milk

Here is a peach of a drink... a delicate foam of palest golden pink that is, of all things, a peach eggnog. It couldn't be easier to put together... with everyday instant nonfat dry milk crystals (relied upon according to package directions) with 1½ cups (12 ounce can) chilled peach nectar, 2 beaten eggs and 1 teaspoon vanilla. Chill thoroughly. Shake or blend before serving.

Mint Magic

Sprinkle a few pastel-colored after-dinner mints on top of warm chocolate pudding. The mints will melt and create a pretty marble effect, as well as adding flavor. This can be used with other similar desserts.

Beet Relish

Some canned beets left over? You can make a small amount of relish from them that will taste good with beef. Chop the beets fine and mix with a little drained bottled horseradish, lemon juice and sugar. Serve in an attractive small container or in a small lettuce cup.

New York City's famed Metropolitan Museum of Art was founded on April 13, 1870.

Carry Chilled Cranberry Punch to Quench Thirst on Auto Trips

Planning a motor trip this summer? Best way to keep the youngsters (olders, too) happy and content is to fill a vacuum bottle with frosty cranberry punch and tuck it into a corner of the back seat. Be sure to have plenty of paper cups and napkins on hand.

Chilled cranberry juice cocktail really does quench one's thirst. Pour it plain over ice cubes in the vacuum bottle or mix it with other fruit juices. These colorful cranberry punches will make the youngsters think they're sipping a pink lemonade stand as they roll across the country to vacationland. They're refreshing and nourishing... just the kind children love.

Shake these cranberry drinks right in a quart vacuum bottle. Be sure all ingredients are well chilled before mixing.

Cranberry Shake
 1 pint cranberry juice cocktail
 ½ cup orange juice
 2 tablespoons lemon juice
 ¼ cup sugar
 2 eggs
 Cracked ice
 Put ingredients in shaker or vacuum bottle. Shake well.

Cranberry Frappe
 1 pint cranberry juice cocktail
 2 tablespoons instant powdered cream
 4 heaping tablespoons of orange, lemon or pineapple sherbet Shake or beat. Makes 4-6 oz. servings.

Cranberry Nog
 1 pint cranberry juice cocktail

½ cup apricot nectar or prune juice
 2 eggs, beaten
 Combine well chilled ingredients in vacuum bottle. Shake well before serving. Makes 3 to 4 servings.

Cranberry Spice Punch
 1 quart cranberry juice cocktail
 2 cups orange juice
 1 large bottle (28 oz.) gingerale
 ¼ teaspoon salt
 ¼ teaspoon nutmeg
 ¼ teaspoon cinnamon
 ¼ teaspoon allspice
 ¼ teaspoon cloves
 Mix fruit juices and add spices. Beat with rotary beater until spices are well blended. Pour over ice cubes in vacuum jug. Makes about 2½ quarts.

Cake Baking Needs
 New cooks who intend to do cake-baking should provide themselves with a flour sifter, a nest of graduated measuring cups (for dry ingredients), a glass measuring cup (for liquids), a set of graduated measuring spoons, a spatula and a rubber scraper. Mixing bowls and spoons, a rubber scraper, cake pans and a couple of wire racks are also necessary.

Whip Undiluted
 Diluted evaporated milk won't whip, as many a spanking-new cook has found out. To whip, use the milk as it comes from the can and chill it until fine crystals begin to form before you start the beating.

Use Frozen Onions in Sauce for Meat

Weep no more — frozen onions are here! That's the word from the National Association of Frozen Food Packers who foresee nothing but continued growth for the already popular frozen onion products.

Frozen French fried onion rings have been widely available for some time but the newer items are welcome news.

Most popular of all are the frozen chopped or diced onions packed in the free-flowing resealable polybags. Here, the worst chore of all — dicing into uniform bits — has been done by the processor. Frozen chopped onions are all peeled, trimmed, diced and ready to use.

Just measure the amount needed and return the rest of the bag to the freezer. Since onions have a relatively high moisture content, they should be kept frozen or the small pieces are apt to stick together and make measuring difficult.

As a general rule, you can figure that a 12-oz. polybag of frozen chopped onion is equal to a pound of fresh onions or about 5 medium onions. The cost, too, is approximately the same during most seasons of the year. "So, if you've never used onions as much as you'd like simply because the peeling and chopping of a large volume was too hard on your hands and your tear ducts, now's your chance.

Start out by trying this creamy, tasty Frozen Onion Sauce any day this summer. It will make an ordinary platter of cold meats, eggs, cheese or vegetables a gastronomic delight. Served cold, the sauce makes a delightful dip with crackers or potato chips.

Frozen Onion Sauce

1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 12-oz. polybag frozen chopped onions
3 tablespoons flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup milk
1 cup dairy sour cream
2 tablespoons prepared horseradish (if desired)

In saucepan, melt butter or margarine. Add frozen onions and saute over low heat until onions are just tender but not brown. Stir in flour and salt, and blend well. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly, and cook over low heat until sauce is smooth and thickened (about 5 mins.). Add sour cream and mix well.

If used as warm sauce, re-heat but do not boil. Add horseradish, if desired, for a sharper sauce. Yield: 2 cups sauce.

Quick lunch dish: add canned shrimp to a cheese sauce and serve over toast.

Chuck Wagon Combination

Minimize the messiness of outdoor cooking.

Chuck Wagon Asparagus-Burgers

4 1/2 pounds ground chuck
1 1/2 teaspoons salt
12 sweet onion slices
6 tomato slices
24 green pepper strips
10-24 cooked asparagus spears
Salt and pepper to taste

Salt ground meat and shape into 6 patties. Place each patty in center of 10-inch square of aluminum foil. Add 2 onion slices, a tomato slice, 4 green pepper strips and 3 or 4 asparagus spears. Sprinkle lightly with salt and pepper and seal into a package.

Grill over medium coals about 30 minutes, turning once or broil in 400 degree oven 15 minutes. Start with asparagus side down and turn over once. Serve in the foil. Yield: 6 portions.

Italian Appetizer

Wedges of pared cantaloupe served with water-thin slices of the Italian ham called prosciutto has become popular as an appetizer. If you try this combination, accompany it with a pepper mill so diners can add a little freshly-ground pepper.

Caramel Corn Can Be Made at Home in Jig Time

Crunchy popcorn crackles with its memory of prizes in packages and happy days at the circus can now be made at home in a jiffy.

While the candy coating cooks, the pop corn pops in its own foil frypan. Mix the cooked syrup with the popped corn and then just let it harden before breaking into pieces. It is delicious and a real favorite snack with all ages.

Jiffy Crackle

1 foil package ready-to-pop corn
1/2 cup light molasses
3/4 cup light corn syrup
1 1/4 cups sugar
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Pop the corn according to package directions. Put popped corn into large bowl.

Mix molasses, corn syrup, sugar, butter together in saucepan. Bring to boil and continue to cook to hard crack stage (285-290 degrees). Remove from heat immediately and pour over popped corn. Mix well.

Grease piece of waxed paper. Spread mixture into layer on paper. Cool until mixture hardens. Then break into pieces.

Sherbet and Milk for a Smoothie

For chocolate-loving children this is an all-occasion double chocolate drink . . . made with instant nonfat dry milk crystals to back up its super flavor with solid nourishment.

Keep a batch handy for meal-time beverages, between-meal and before-bed snacks. But watch out for dad. He may not be able to resist the luscious stuff himself!

To make 6 servings: Combine 1 quart instant nonfat dry milk crystals (reliquefied according to package directions) with 6 tablespoons malted milk powder, 1/2 cup chocolate syrup and 1 pint chocolate ice cream. Blend or shake before serving.

Fruit Barbecued Fish

PINEAPPLE BARBECUE FISH: Combine bottled barbecue sauce with generous amount of canned pineapple chunks and a little syrup. Pour over whole dressed fish or fish steaks in buttered baking dish. Bake at 350 degrees 45 to 60 minutes, or until fish flakes easily. Try it for stuffed fish, too.

Pink Lemonade Has Extra Zest

What is summer without the tart-sweet splendor of pink lemonade . . . its pastel pinkness sparked by the traditional maraschino cherry . . . long stemmed, scarlet and succulent!

This pink lemonade, made with instant nonfat dry milk crystals, has fine, smooth consistency: a light, but lingering flavor; and . . . aside to mamas and papas . . . all the proteins, B-vitamins, phosphorous and calcium of whole milk!

To make 6 servings: Stir 1 1/4 cups instant nonfat dry milk crystals into 2 cups ice water. Add 1/2 cup red maraschino cherry juice and 1 tablespoon lemon juice and 1 pint lemon sherbet. Beat or blend until foamy. Garnish with whole stemmed red maraschino cherries.

Marinate Chicken and Bake

Go all out for fresh-air meals with Citrus-Honey Barbecued Chicken! Marinated and basted with a spunky seasoned sauce of fresh orange, lemon and honey, the golden baked chicken quarters are juicy and fork tender.

Just right for eating outdoors, this recipe is perfect for entertaining the crowd... it serves sixteen fresh-air appetites. Plan and cook inside, carry out to serve.

Fresh California orange cartwheels, sweet green pepper and onion rings added to crisp greens in a salad favorite to accompany this barbecued chicken feast.

Citrus-Honey Barbecued Chicken

- 4 ready-to-cook broiler fryers, quartered
- 2 tablespoons grated orange peel
- 1 tablespoon grated lemon peel
- 2 cups fresh orange juice
- 1 cup fresh lemon juice
- 1 cup salad oil

- 1/4 cup honey
- 1 clove garlic, pureed
- 2 tablespoons Worcestershire
- 2 teaspoons salt
- 1 teaspoon chili powder

Place chicken pieces in 1 or 2 shallow baking pans. Combine remaining ingredients in saucepan, mixing well; bring to boil. Reduce heat; simmer 15 to 20 minutes, until ingredients are blended.

Pour sauce over chicken; marinate for several hours or overnight in refrigerator. Drain well reserving marinade for basting.

Bake chicken uncovered at 375 degrees for 30 minutes; turn pieces and bake another 30 minutes.

Baste chicken well with orange-honey marinade; increase heat to 400 degrees; bake for 20 to 30 minutes.

Turn and baste other side, baking for 20 to 30 minutes longer or until well glazed. Serve hot or cold. Makes 16 servings.

Batter Fried Onions

Most recipes for french-fried onions suggest dipping the onion rings in milk and then in flour before frying. However, if you are making up some batter for frying chicken, use it for the onion rings as well as the chicken.

Bit of Cheese

Season cooked mashed rutabagas to taste with salt, pepper and butter. For especially good flavor, add 1 tablespoon grated Parmesan cheese or 1 teaspoon whole caraway seeds to 1 1/2 pounds of rutabagas.

Vegetable Course

So colorful and delicious looking that a hostess will enjoy serving this Cantonese dish in a chafing dish or electric skillet right at the table. The red of the tomatoes and yellow tidbits of pineapple set the theme for a buffet or party. But it is an easy and economical dish to make any day of the week.

"Western Cantonese Casserole" uses celery, onion and tomatoes from the produce section of the market. These flavorful fresh vegetables add their characteristic flavors to the strips of pork and pineapple.

There are no exotic ingredients used in this casserole, but the eye-appeal and flavor make it a spring special.

Western Cantonese Casserole

- 1 lb. lean pork shoulder, cut in strips
- 1 teaspoon seasoned salt
- 1 cup thinly sliced celery
- 1 cup thinly sliced onions
- 2 medium - sized tomatoes
- 1 cup pineapple tidbits
- 1 tablespoon cornstarch
- 1/4 cup pineapple juice
- 2 teaspoons soy sauce

Cut pork into bite size strips and sprinkle with seasoned salt; cover and brown in skillet on medium heat for half hour. Add celery and onions and cook for 10-15 minutes. Drain pineapple; add tidbits to mixture. Cut tomatoes into 1" chunks and add to mixture.

Mix cornstarch and soy sauce with pineapple juice. Add to mixture. Stir until sauce thickens. Over-all cooking time about one hour. Makes 4-6 servings.

At last, an easy-to-use cooking thermometer, incorporated in a stainless steel serving spoon. Thermometer element is enclosed in phenolic handle with easy-to-read dial at the tip.

Soup Mix for Filling

For a sandwich to delight the oldsters and youngsters alike, reach for that can of onion dry soup mix. First, blend an 8-ounce package cream cheese (softened), 1/2 cup peanut butter, and 1/4 can (1/2 cup) soup mix; gradually stir in 1/4 cup milk. Use as spread for 6 sandwiches. Top with lettuce. Makes about 1 1/2 cups filling.

Sugar All Dissolved

Note to new bakers: In cake-making, "creamed" shortening and sugar should look as fluffy as beaten cream cheese.

Wine Makes Pork Tender

A new way to barbecue pork contains a couple of surprises. One is the use of peanut butter in the marinade and basting sauce; the other is wine. Inspiration for the combination comes from Java where pork is often broiled in rather highly seasoned strips or cubes.

Because the meat cooks very quickly either over charcoal or under a conventional broiler, there isn't much time for basting. In order to season the pork well, it should be allowed to marinate in the wine mixture for several hours.

Barbecued Pork, Java Style

- 1/4 pound boneless lean pork, cut into 1/4-inch cubes
- 2 tablespoons creamy peanut butter
- 1/4 cup grated onion
- 1/4 cup California Rose
- 1/4 teaspoon garlic salt
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1/4 cup soy sauce

Trim any fat from meat. Combine all ingredients, except pork, and blend well. Add pork cubes and toss to coat. Cover and refrigerate 2 hours. Thread pork on 6 skewers, allowing about 5 cubes per skewer. Adjust grill 5 inches from hot coals. Place foil drip pan under meat to catch drippings. Grill pork, basting several times with remaining marinade, and turning to brown all sides about 20 minutes in all, or until pork is no longer pink inside. Makes 3-4 servings.

Lemon and Grape Are Wonderful Together

Would you like a cold drink today that is just a little different? You probably have the makings of a new, nourishing and refreshing drink in your kitchen right now.

Just set out the instant nonfat dry milk crystals, some lemon sherbet and a can of grape juice and you are in the Lemon and Lavender business! To make 6 servings: Stir 1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk crystals into 3 cups ice water. Add 1 can (6 ounces) frozen grape juice concentrate, thawed.

Beat or blend until foamy. Pour into glasses; top with scoops of lemon sherbet (using 1 quart) and mint sprigs.

Stop scrubbing with old-fashioned cleansers!

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo
 The Congolese Army has driven invading Communist-backed rebels out of Stanleyville after fighting Tuesday in the streets of the northern Congo's most important city.

Radio messages from Stanley-ville said the city had a quiet night after battles in the city's streets.

center and around the American consulate.

However, other messages said the army still had not dislodged a rebel band from Camp Ketele, an army barracks the band captured Tuesday. Rain all night halted the fighting, the messages said.

Pilots returning from Stanley-ville said the counterattack against the rebels had been carried out by troops who had been flown to Stanleyville a few days ago to reinforce the garrison.

300 SOLDIERS

Maj. Frederick Burke of Lowell, Mass., U.S. Air Force pilot of the last military plane to leave Stanleyville Tuesday night, said the city's airport was occupied by about 300 Congolese soldiers.

Some of these men were believed to be former Katanga gendarmes who served Premier Moise Tshombe when he headed the secessionist government in Katanga. Tshombe had called them back to fight and 300 are being airlifted from Elisabeth-ville to Stanleyville.

Burke said all persons who reached the airport yesterday were evacuated.

Co. Verne Bivin, U.S. air attache in the neighboring Congo (Brazzaville) Republic, said he had pleaded in vain by telephone with U.S. Consul Michael
 D. Hoyt of Chicago to leave Stanleyville.

$ IN CONSULATE
 All Americans known to be in the Stanleyville region have been evacuated except five con-sulate members, Bivin said.

Officials ordered the evacuation as fears mounted that Stanleyville would fall before rebel onslaught, aided by a leftist fifth column expected to strike inside the city.

Stanleyville is the prime target of the bush fighters who have seized much of the Eastern Congo in a campaign of conquest supported by Communist China.

In a series of terse messages
 Tuesday night, Hoyt reported that the rebellion spilled over onto the front lawn of the con-sulate as the 600-man Stanleyville garrison fought off the insurgent. He reported:

6:15 p.m. "Congolese National Army advancing across front lawn of consulate. Seem to be pushing rebels back."

6:23 p.m. Congolese Army advancing rapidly and in numbers beyond consulate and in toward Wanje Rukula (a garrison town 30 miles southeast of Stanley-ville). If advance maintained, may not abandon consulate due to psychological effect."

6:30 p.m. "Pole shot and rope cut by gunfire, but consulate flag still flying."

Hoyt said he, Vice Consul David Grinswis and a radio technician were the only Americans staying in Stanleyville. There had been 45 Americans, mostly Protestant missionaries, among the 700 whites in the city of about 300,000.

The United Nations, which pulled the last of its peace-keeping troops out of the Congo June 30, flew 37 civilian staff members and dependents out. About a dozen remained, but the United Nations said they would be withdrawn.

BAND OF REBELS

The battle of Stanleyville began Tuesday when Congolese troops engaged a band of rebels nine miles south of the city. Later
 Maj. Gen. Joseph Mobutu, commander in chief of the Congolese army, said rebels had seized a vacated army camp inside Stanleyville and troops had been sent to rout them.

Most of the rebels carried spears, but they are skilled bush fighters. In many encounters the army troops have fled before the howling tribesmen who believe they are protected from bullets by witchcraft.

The fall of Stanleyville would cut the entire northeastern Congo off from control by Leopold-ville and further hamstring Premier Moise Tshombe's efforts to pacify and unite the turbulent country. Rebel leader Gaston Emile Soumialot probably would claim the city as capital of the "Popular Republic of the Congo," he recently proclaimed.

Voter Registration in Mississippi

Negro Drive Scarcely Touching Surface

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI)—The "Mississippi Project," a summer drive aimed at getting Negroes registered to vote, has sparked violence and destruction in the nation's most segregated state.

It has scarcely made a dent in the number of Negroes registered to vote.

Nor is it likely to, Dr. Martin Luther King's organization conceded indirectly yesterday.

A spokesman for King's Southern Christian Leadership Conference (SCLC) said at the present rate that Negroes are being registered to vote "it would take 135 years to register half of those eligible" in Mississippi.

The SCLC statement, made in Atlanta, apparently meant no criticism of the efforts of the Council of Federated Organizations, a collection of civil rights organizations that recruited some 400 college students from campuses all over the United States to help run the drive in Mississippi.

FACTS OF LIFE

It was merely dealing with the facts of life.

And the facts are that segregation has existed as a way of life in Mississippi for more than 100 years and is not likely to undergo a dramatic change overnight.

Fear is the main factor. There have been beatings, missing civil rights workers, church burnings and bombings since the project began.

LONG HOT SUMMER

Donna Howell, a 20-year-old University of New Mexico psychology major from Albuquerque and one of the volunteers in the project, has learned why the summer is long and hot in Mississippi.

Miss Howell, a blonde, works out of Drew, Miss.

She faces the hostility of whites, who regard her as an alien "invader" in a state where segregation is espoused from church pulpits, and the suspicions of Negroes who know they will still be here after she has returned to her native "land of enchantment."

"The Negroes are scared to death, scared of beatings and losing their jobs," Miss Howell said. "They keep looking out the windows at whites and police."

The Rev. Andrew Young, executive director of the SCLC, said yesterday the answer may be in a long-range Negro voter registration drive in all the South.

"We are trying to see if we can develop a movement around the right to vote just as we did around public accommodation," Young said. "This will be long-range planning and probably will not show much results before next spring."

The latest figures on Negro voter registration released by the Southern regional council showed that only 6.7 per cent of eligible Negroes were registered in Mississippi.

The figure compared with 67.2 per cent in Tennessee.

New Approach to Third Reich

German Borough Lays Facts on Line About Nazism

BERLIN (AP) — The bus stopped in front of a crumbling half-ruined building, standing in a wasteland created by wartime bombing. A group of 16-year-old boys and girls formed a ring around a guide. It was a hot day, and the girls wore gay summer prints.

"Here," said the guide,

But this was their first direct encounter with a relic of the criminal past. They were not born when the Third Reich crumbled in defeat in 1945.

This was part of a new approach to a problem that has plagued many of Germany's educators and parents since the war: how to deal with the Nazi past. Some have ducked it, possibly because of their own feelings of guilt and shame. Now, in the West Berlin borough of Wedding, the facts were being laid on the line.

The students' guide, a 30-year-old municipal official, told them:

"The Nazis regarded Germans as a master race. In their eyes the Jews were of the most inferior value. They were gassed, shot and hanged. Eichmann's office was the headquarters of systematic mass murder."

As the bus rolled for three hours through the city the guide repeatedly switched on a tape recorder. It played the voices of Adolf Hitler, his propaganda minister Josef Goebbels, of Nazi judges condemning opponents of the regime and of Jewish survivors of death camps.

The Reichstag, the parliament building that mysteriously burned in 1933, giving Hitler the excuse to seize total power, is now being slowly restored for possible use by the West German Parliament.

WEAK DEMOCRACY

With this historic backdrop, close up against the wall dividing the city, the guide told of the weakness of German democracy between the two world wars: "Hitler's policy was war. When he advocated peace and self-determination he did not mean it."

He traced the course of Nazi conquests, noting that open resistance to Hitler emerged only after he suffered defeats.

Stands Mute to 2nd Degree Murder Charge

Charles W. Randolph, 51, of Pontiac Monday stood mute to second degree murder charges stemming from a street shooting July 18.

Randolph was released on $1,000 bond following arraignment before Circuit Court Judge Philip Pratt. No trial date was set.

He is accused of the fatal shooting of Raymond C. Draper, 23, of 184 Hughes. It followed an exchange of words when Randolph drove past Draper who was walking near his home with his wife and sister-in-law.

Randolph, of 303 E. Wilson, told police he fired in self-defense when Draper forced his way into his car.

The last stop of the tour was the Ploetzensee Prison, now a memorial shrine to the anti-Nazi plotters of July 20, 1944.

The youngsters gazed solemnly at the butcher's hooks on which Hitler had his opponents hanged.

Then came the questions: "Why were so few people against Hitler?"

"Why did they leave it so late?"

"Didn't people read what Hitler said about his aims in his own book 'Mein Kampf'?"

One earnest boy remarked resignedly: "What could people do? It was the parallel to the situation in East Germany today. There is no real resistance to the Communists. The people are frightened."

Georgia Unionist Gets Detroit NAACP Post

DETROIT (AP) — A Georgia labor union executive and veteran civil rights worker is the new executive secretary of the Detroit branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. He is Robert R. Tindal, 34, assistant administrator of the International Longshoremen Association Welfare Fund at Savannah, Ga. He succeeds Arthur L. Johnson, who resigned.

News Analysis

"Adolf Eichmann issued his orders that meant death for millions of Jews."

The youngsters looked solemn. They had read reports of the trial and execution of Eichmann in Jerusalem. They had been following recent trials of Nazi criminals in West Germany.

In Otto Preminger Film

Paula Prentiss a Pearl Harbor Casualty

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer

HOLLYWOOD—The first casualties have returned from Otto Preminger's replay of Pearl Harbor and its aftermath, "In Harm's Way."

One returnee from the Hawaiian location is Hugh O'Brian, who promptly entered a hospital for a four-week treatment of the ankle swollen like a coconut, then sought treatment.

"For eight days I had to keep my foot elevated so the swelling it that way. It was good for me, too, by the time I did the scenes I had a good steam of emotion up."

Her accident occurred on her last day of shooting. She and John Wayne were supposed to be running through the cane fields during the Japanese bombing. The cane had been chopped down to photographable height, but the runners had little vision of where they were stepping. Paula stepped into a three-foot pothole. Crunch!

"You'd think MGM could find an occasional film for its contract list, which consists of me and Yvette Mimieux," she said. "But no. The last thing we did was a guest-star spot in a Connie Francis movie."

"That was all right with me, because I got paid my back salary for doing it. I had three words 'What's it?' that came to $5,000 a word, which is not bad at all."

SAID GOODBYE
"When I said goodbye to Yvette, I told her: 'See you in the next Connie Francis movie.'"

Paula's contract has now been adjusted to one film a year. That leaves her free to do movies and plays for her own personal profit.

And whatever happened to the costarring team of herself and Jim Hutton, which was hailed as a new Myrna Loy-William Powell combo?

"It would have been great with us — if we had been given good material," Paula said. "By the time we did our fourth picture together, 'The Horizontal Lieutenant,' we were pushing buttons for standard reactions in an attempt to get laughs. We told each other if that was all the studio could come up with, we might as well cool it."

Mrs. Robert Kennedy
Expecting 9th Child

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy is expecting her ninth child in December.

Mrs. Kennedy, 36, and her husband, the attorney general, have five boys and three girls. The youngest, Christopher George, was born July 4, 1963, in Boston.

BEMOANS BROKEN LEG—Actress Paula Prentiss describes how she broke her leg while running through a cane field in Hawaii with John Wayne during the filming of the Pearl Harbor bombing for a movie, "Harm's Way." The accident came on the last day of shooting, and she had to finish her work with a badly swollen ankle.

The first vice president to die in office was George Clinton who served with President Madison, and died on April 20, 1812.

Polaris submarine crews are served four meals daily, including a "soupdown" at mid-afternoon.

Future Depends on It

Check Child's Attitude Before Fall Term

By LESLIE J. NASON, Ed. D.

Schools will soon open. How does your child feel about it? Is he confident—ready to do his best? Does he consider school important? If so, he probably will end up in that half of our children who receive proper training at home and learn enough in school to move through our educational system successfully.

He will graduate from high school and probably from college. If not, better take action now! The record of our schools is the best it has ever been in percentage of high school and college graduates. But this record is still not good enough.

Programs for "disadvantaged youths" and educational provisions of the "war on poverty," show our concern.

Not included in present or proposed programs is a sizable number of young people who cannot be grouped easily.

They are too scattered throughout our society. They come from low, middle and high income groups. Their parents live in all parts of the country and work at all kinds of jobs. Many are doctors, lawyers and businessmen.

These children do have one thing in common. Their attitudes and behavior in school lead to failure. They are neither happy in school nor are they working up to capacity. The prognosis for their future success is poor.

Parents of faltering students often rest on the hope that their children will suddenly grow up, see the fallacy of their ways, settle down and become successful in school.

They sometimes delude themselves by citing the examples of Edison, Pasteur, Einstein, Bismarck, and others who were rebels and problem children in school and, in some cases, considered dull, but who later became famous for their contributions to civilization.

But such cases are rare indeed! In general, underachievers go right on being underachievers for the rest of their lives.

Parents should not sit back and wait. They should move as soon as possible to help their children improve their chances for success.

The vast, solid bulwark of our well-educated, well-adjusted citizens grew up in homes and schools receiving the kind of training that made them the men and women they now are.

Better than take the long chance that the undisciplined child will become a success, parents must use wisely the few years during which they have an opportunity to train their children.

Education is the major avenue through which the children of our society move into responsible adulthood. Both parents and children should approach the task with a serious purpose.

(You can get Prof. Nason's helpful booklet for parents, "Help Your Child Succeed in School," by sending $1 to Help Your Child, Box 1277, General Post Office, New York, N. Y.)

By OSWALD JACOBY

One of the most interesting hands in Fred Karpin's "Winning Play in Contract Bridge" involves an astonishing false-card.

You may not agree with South's six diamond bid. I'm not sure that I agree with it myself, but South felt that JACOBY would make six diamonds against a spade lead.

West opened the four of spades and dummy noticed four spades in dummy including the three spot.

South's own low spade was the deuce, so that South was not only pretty sure that West had opened a singleton spade, but South also was sure that if he followed with his deuce, East would know the situation and lead a second spade to give his partner a ruff.

South did all this thinking quickly and instead of playing the deuce, he false-carded with the king. He did it right away. There is no point in making an elaborate ceremony about this type of play.

East's next play wasn't nearly as quick. He thought and thought, but finally led the king of hearts, whereupon South discarded his deuce of spades and spread his hand.

East really should not have fallen for the false-card. South had bid six diamonds by himself. Still it is far easier to play when you see all the cards as we do.

Q—The bidding has been:
North East South West
♥ 10 8 5 4 3 2
♦ 10 8 5 4 3 2
♣ 10 8 5 4 3 2
A—Bid four no-trump. You are heading for six or seven.

FOOTNOTES
Your partner bids five hearts to show two hearts. He wants to show two hearts as we do.

In 11th District Race

Solon Eying Withdrawal

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. John B. Bennett, R-Mich., said today he may withdraw as a candidate for re-election because of ill health.

Bennett, 60, is serving his 20th year in the House. Because Michigan was redistricted this year, he would have to run from the newly constituted 11th District. Bennett said he underwent surgery several weeks ago at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn. As a result, he said, doctors have told him it will not be possible for him to campaign for several weeks.

"This means that I will be unable to actively campaign before the Sept. 1 primary," Bennett said in a statement. Bennett is recuperating at the Mayo Clinic, cannot withdraw from the Republican primary because the deadline is past. The lawmaker from Ontonagon gave no indication in his statement as to how he will finally decide.

His primary opponent is Rep. Victor A. Knox, R-Mich., whose old district was joined in part to Bennett's former district. The new district takes in the Upper Peninsula and the northern part of the Lower Peninsula.

If Bennett should defeat Knox in the primary election, he would then have to decide whether to participate in the Nov. 3 general election.

Aides of Bennett said the surgery he underwent was to arrest a bladder infection. They gave no other details but said the operation was successful and that Bennett will return to Washington within a few days to recuperate further.

Laos Guards Against Plot

VIENTIANE, Laos (AP)—The Laotian government took precautions today following rumors of a plot to overturn the established order.

Armed troops moved constantly through the otherwise quiet city during the night.

The Interior Ministry, in a statement to the public, said the commandant of the army anti-national police had to take "security measures to assure order and security of the town and to be prepared for all eventualities following rumors of a plot organized to overturn the established order."

RIGHTISTS CLASH
A clash of interests had been rumored between the rightist Deputy Premier Gen. Phoumi Nosavan, and rightist Gen. Kouprasith Abhay, one of the leaders of the April 19 coup.

The statement appealed to the public "to keep calm and abstain from actions that will provoke the situation which may be profitable to the enemies of the country."

Negotiations in Detroit's Paper Strike

DETROIT (AP)—Negotiations for a settlement in Detroit's 22-day-old newspaper strike resumed today.

Federal and state mediators met with representatives of the striking craft unions and the Detroit Newspaper Publishers Association.

The association represents the morning Detroit Free Press and the afternoon Detroit News in contract negotiations with newspaper craft unions.

Local 13 of the International Printing Pressmen and Assistants Union and Local 10 of the Plate and Paper Handlers Union struck both the News and Free Press July 13 in a dispute over premium pay and work force personnel.

FIRST SESSION

Today's meeting (10 a.m., EST) was the first negotiation session since July 20.

Representatives of both unions were scheduled to meet with the association today. Previous meetings involved only one union at a session.

Publisher and union spokesmen had no comment on the outlook for an immediate settlement of the strike.

Slapstick Movie to Air 50 Years of Air Progress

By EARL WILSON

LONDON—Do you remember your first plane flight? From N.Y. to San Francisco, 18 hours? Miami to N.Y. 10 hours—with a tailwind? . . . When it got dark, they landed for the night?

The memories came flooding back here when I saw those old 1910 "crates" that Darryl Zanuck and 20th Century-Fox are using in a slapstick film, "The Magnificent Men in Their Flying Machines."

I can still see my dad looking up at the sky in Ohio—home of the Wright Brothers yet!—saying those contraptions' never last.

Red Skelton's being flown here . . . by jet . . . to help show man's efforts to fly. He'll be hilarious, I suspect, shown as a Neanderthal man, then a Greek in a toga, then an Elizabethan . . . each flapping his arms and leaping off into space.

And then: "BOING!" Right in the river or valley or cornfield or cowpasture . . . after a few feet.

Even the successful flying machines flew only a couple of hundred feet at a blood-chilling 40 m.p.h. before nose-diving. Red's script calls for him to show in his last scene that even today the loudspeaker at London Airport often orders the Jet Set back to hotels due to bad weather.

"BOING!" again!
One old plane duplicate used here, "the Demoiselle," Brazilian-built in 1910, wouldn't get off the ground with a male pilot . . . he was a bit heavy! 140 pounds.

"We got a girl pilot, Joan Hughes, who weighs 8 stone . . . 112 pounds . . . and the plane flew beautifully," co-author Jack Davies told me. "What a problem excess luggage must have been in 1910!"

THE MIDNIGHT EARL . . . William Holden and his wife, who've been separated, have been around town together. They just returned from Peru, after searching for his brother Richard, missing in an airplane. "We're together in this tragedy," Holden said. "We've joined forces to take care of my brother's widow, evidently. We have to assume he is lost—the possibility of his being alive is almost ruled out." Ardis (Mrs. Holden) joined me in Peru, coming from Switzerland.

Spyros Skouras, ex-20th Century-Fox prez, told Richard Burton in his dressing room, "You're my favorite actor." Burton said, "Then why the h— are you suing me for $50 million?" (The Burtons have been at Michael's Pub four nights in a row.)

EARL'S PEARLS: The well-adjusted man is he who can play bridge and golf as if they were merely games. Two Polys Bergers girls were filmed in topos bath suits with the girls in a minute, and Tom Poston cracked, "That'll be the first time a trip to the refrigerator was timed to the second." That's earl, brother.

Pontiac Continues Record Sales Pace

Retail sales of Pontiacs and Tempests during the month of July totaled 55,066 cars. It was the ninth monthly sales record at Pontiac since the introduction of the 1964 models.

E. M. Estes, a General Motors vice president and Pontiac general manager, announced today that the July total surpassed by 8 per cent the 50,741 units sold during that month last year.

Estes also pointed out that retail deliveries by Pontiac dealers in the final 10 days of July were 20,722. This topped last year's July sales of 16,876 by 22 per cent.

Bias by Barbers Could Result in License Loss

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—New Jersey's barbers were told today that refusal to cut the hair of Negroes could result in license suspension.

In a letter to all barbers, the New Jersey Board of Barber Examiners said, "a statement by any licensed barber given as a reason for denying service to nonwhite persons that he did not know how to cut or shave their hair would be untrue."

Frank Marchese, secretary of the board, said the state attorney general's office had reminded the board it "is obliged by statute either to refuse to issue or renew or to suspend or revoke any license . . . for gross malpractice, gross incompetence or unprofessional conduct."

The State Division on Civil Rights has been investigating complaints that barbers have refused to cut the hair of Negroes.

Hospital Fugitive Captured in Ionia

IONIA (AP)—A patient who escaped Ionia State Hospital for the Criminally Insane on July 22 was captured Tuesday in Ionia after he was seen alighting from a freight train near James Lee St., offered no resistance when surrounded by police.

Lee had been the object of several searches in the Saranac area of Ionia County, where he had been reported seen. Authorities expressed fear he might have become dangerous as the effects of hospital-administered sedatives wore off.

U.S. Legislator to Get High Korea Honor

SEOUL, South Korea (R)—Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the U.S. House Armed Services Committee, is to receive South Korea's Order of Distinguished Service, first class. The South Korean Cabinet resolved last night to honor him for his contribution during the Korean conflict.

British Engineer Dies

MIDHURST, England (R)—Capt. Herbert Farquhar Atkins, engineer who figured in a row over British policy for nuclear shipping, died yesterday at the age of 58. Eighteen months ago, Atkins was dismissed from a major post with the Vickers Nuclear Engineering Co. after contending that designs accepted by the government for nuclear ships were unseaworthy.

Peacock: Sorry, Dog

SOHAM, England (R)—Bert Peacock, 67, made a public apology to a dog today.

Peacock had complained to police that Tina, Ruth Harvey's 2-year-old Alsatian, bit his son. The police found another dog was the culprit.

The Soham Advertiser carried this advertisement today:

"Mr. B. Peacock wishes to apologize for a false accusation against Mrs. R. Harvey's dog."

"I thought the record should be set straight with a public announcement," Harvey said.

Publishing Exec Dies

WEST LONG BEACH, N.J. — Mrs. Kathryn G. Messner, president and editor-in-chief of the New York publishing firm of Julian Messner, Inc. died yesterday at the age of 61. A native of Chicago, she published such best sellers as "The Un-Invited," "Peyton Place," "Dinner at Antoine's" and Peter Freuchen's "Book of the Seven Seas."

OK Amendment Dealing With President Succession

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate Judiciary Committee has approved a proposed constitutional amendment to deal with presidential disability and a vacancy in the vice presidency.

Under the amendment, the office of vice president would be filled by nomination by a president and confirmation by a majority of both houses of Congress.

The amendment was developed by a judiciary subcommittee headed by Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind.

The amendment states that the vice president "shall become president" in case of the death, resignation or removal of a president from office.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress passed and sent to President Johnson Tuesday a compromise defense appropriations bill of $46,732,051,000 — about

$1.5 billion less than last year. The bill provides $718.9 million less than President Johnson requested. The final figure is $22 million less than the Senate approved originally and about $7 million under the original House figure.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Only House consideration of amendments stands in the way of final congressional approval of the administration's interest equalization tax bill.

The measure, designed to slow foreign borrowing in the U.S. market and thus cut this country's balance of payments deficit, was passed by the Senate Tuesday night 45 to 28.

The tax would be retroactive to July 18, 1963, on purchase of foreign securities by Americans.

east Asian country would not be affected.

The Special Force strength in South Viet Nam, now 600, is being increased to about 1,000.

Detroit Kidnapers Sues Judge, Prosecution

DETROIT (AP) — A 66-year-old man who spent 22 years in jail for the sensational ransom kidnapping of a 5-year-old boy filed a $94,000 damage suit Tuesday against the men who sent him to prison.

The suit was filed in U.S. District Court by Charles Minchella, 66, of St. Clair Shores, one of three convicted in the 1929 Detroit kidnapping of Jackie Thompson, who was released for a $25,000 ransom after being held 24 days.

Minchella's suit charges the late Recorder's Court Judge W. McKay Skillman "conspired" with the late Harry S. Toy, Frank G. Shemanske and W. Gomer Kreise to send him to jail. Toy was Wayne County prosecutor and Shemanske, now a Recorder's judge, and Kreise were his assistants.

Minchella asserted he was "deprived of my liberties" by the action of the four men and that the judge "abdicated his duties" in Minchella's 10-day trial.

PAPERS SERVED

Papers were served on Shemanske and Skillman's widow. Shemanske denied any conspiracy and said "I know the man got a fair trial."

Jackie pointed out Minchella in a police lineup and at the trial as one of his kidnapers. After Jackie's father, real estate operator Henry S. Thompson, paid the $25,000 ransom, the boy was handed over to Harry Bennett, in those days a right-hand-man-to-maker Henry Ford and boss of Ford's security forces.

Minchella, who is acting as his own attorney, denied Judge Shemanske's assertion that a seven-year statute of limitations made his suit meaningless. He said no such statute applied in his case.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Beginning in October, Army Special Forces personnel in South Viet Nam will begin one-year tours of duty in the war zones instead of the present six months.

In announcing the change Tuesday, the Army said Special Forces units now in the south-

Identify Two Bodies as Missing Men in Civil Rights Trio

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Two of the three bodies found buried in a recently constructed earthen dam near Philadelphia, Miss., were identified early today as missing civil rights workers Andy Goodman and Mickey Schwerner.

All three bodies were undergoing pathological tests at the University of Mississippi Medical Center where they were brought after being found near Philadelphia late yesterday.

Examination of the third body was continuing.

Announcement of the identification of the bodies of Goodman

NEW YORK (AP)—James Farmer, national director of the Congress of Racial Equality, said the FBI told him today that the three bodies found in Mississippi graves "were beaten and shot."

and Schwerner was made in Washington by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover.

Schwerner, 24, and Goodman, 20, both white were from New York. Missing with them was their Negro companion, James Chaney, 22, of Meridian.

THIRD BODY
The Greenwood, Miss., office of the Student Non-Violent Coordinating Committee, said it had been told by the Jackson FBI office, headed by agent Roy K. Moore, that the third body had been identified as that of Chaney.

The three vanished June 21 after being freed from jail at Philadelphia where they had been arrested on a speeding charge.

They had been held in jail at Philadelphia nearly six hours.

The last person known to have seen them was Nesbota County deputy sheriff Cecil Price, who said he followed them a short distance after their release as (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

ATTACK LOCATION — A map of the Gulf of Tonkin area shows the China mainland to the north and Communist North Viet Nam to the west of the area where two U.S. destroyers were attacked.

Still Hunting Hit-Run Boat

Sheriff's officers, state and local police continue their search today for a hit and run boat that killed a young swimmer in Cass Lake late Monday night.

While the investigation remains centered in and around the West Bloomfield Township lake, detectives are checking information from tipsters about boats throughout the county.

Killed after he disregarded his own safety to save a girl companion was Alan L. Akerley, 20, of 2184 Park Circle, Keego Harbor.

Sheila Brennen, 17, of 125 Chewton, Bloomfield Township, told sheriff's deputies that she and Brennen were swimming in the marked-off area at Dodge Park No. 4 when the boat bore down on them after making "several passes."

The boat has been described by Miss Brennen and several other swimmers as being an in-board with a varnished brown hull. A spotlight was mounted (Continued on Page 2, Col. 7)

Hits Back Hard After Attacks

WASHINGTON (AP)—U.S. Navy aircraft made a devastating strike at North Vietnamese PT boats and their shore bases today in retaliation for the two attacks on American craft in the Tonkin Gulf this week.

Then the Washington government apparently set back to let the lesson soak in—if it will soak in—with this stern word from Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara: "Whether this will be all that is necessary is up to the North Vietnamese."

The account of the explosive U.S. reaction, and the warning, were given by McNamara at a morning news conference, with in hours of a somber announcement by President Johnson of the decision to hit back hard in reply to the attacks.

In a premidnight address to the nation, Johnson said: "That reply is being given as I speak to you."

"Air action is now in execution against gunboats and certain supporting facilities in North Viet Nam which have been used in these hostile operations."

REDOUBLED EFFORT
"The determination of all Americans to carry out our full commitment to the government" and people of South Viet Nam will be redoubled by this outrage."

See Stories, Pages A-10, A-11, B-6

In summary, McNamara reported four North Vietnamese torpedo boat bases heavily damaged and an oil depot wrecked in 48 earlier by planes from the aircraft carriers Ticonderoga and Constellation, with 25 PT boats destroyed or damaged.

He gave the U.S. cost as two aircraft downed by ground fire and two damaged.

The action, McNamara said, took place between noon and 4 p.m. local time yesterday.

AFTER REPORT
With Vietnamese time 13 hours ahead of Washington, that means the bombs and rockets were falling within an hour after Johnson's report of his decision. Planes doubtless were going aloft as he spoke.

Johnson referred to the U.S. reaction as a "positive reply" to the aggression by North Vietnamese PT boats against American naval vessels in international waters.

But he stressed the United States' long-range peaceful intentions.

"Yet our response, for the present, will be limited and fitting," he said.

NO WIDENING
"We Americans know — although others appear to forget — the risk of spreading conflict — we still seek no wider war."

In effect, McNamara was echoing that when he said that what happens now is for the Reds to decide.

Even before the strikes began, McNamara disclosed "substantial military forces" were being moved into Southeast Asia as a precaution against a Red counterthrust from North Viet Nam or Red China.

He gave some details on that buildup at today's meeting with newsmen.

U.S. RETALIATION
The attack was in retaliation for an assault by three Red PT boats last Sunday against the destroyer Maddox in which one of the boats was sunk and two others damaged; and another, fiercer engagement involving two U.S. craft yesterday.

The second attack was aimed at the Maddox and the destroyer (Continued on Page 2, Col. 4)

Stevenson Takes Case to U.N.

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. Security Council was called into urgent session today to hear a U.S. report on North Vietnamese torpedo attacks on American warships that brought retaliatory American air strikes.

The call for a meeting of the 11-nation council was signed by U.S. Chief Delegate Adlai E. Stevenson, who broke off a vacation in Maine and flew back to New York to present the U.S. case.

"I have instructed Ambassador Stevenson to raise this matter immediately and urgently before the Security Council of the United Nations," Johnson said in a television address to the American people last night.

The request was delivered to the council president for August, Sivert A. Nielsen of Norway, at about the time Johnson was announcing the U.S. air attacks on gunboats and "supporting facilities" of Communist North Viet Nam.

At the request of the Soviet Union, the session was postponed until 2 p.m. (Pontiac time) today. It had been set originally for 11 a.m.

UNDECEDED ON COURSE
A spokesman for the U.S. delegation, Francis W. Carpenter, said last night the United States had not decided whether to ask the council to take any such steps at once to the Security Council.

He said the United States was getting the council members together "so we can tell them what is going on."

Under the U.N. Charter, any member of the world forum has the right to defend itself against armed attack but must report to ask the council to take any such steps at once to the Security Council.

Barry Supports President, Flies Back to Washington

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater, dramatically supporting President Johnson on Viet Nam, flew back to the nation's capital today.

"We cannot allow the American flag to be shot at anywhere on earth," Goldwater said in backing the President.

It was an unusual end to an unusual vacation.

For Goldwater not only supported Johnson's stand; he issued a statement saying so more than an hour before the public knew what that stand was.

Here's the way it happened: The Republican presidential candidate was on the Sandance, an 83-foot borrowed yacht, cruising off California's Catalina Island in perfect lolling leisure.

But if the waters were calm there, they weren't off Viet Nam, where U.S. destroyers were being attacked.

THREE TIMES
Three times Johnson tried to reach Goldwater at sea. Three times he failed because of what a Goldwater news aide called "lousy reception."

When Goldwater finally reached shore, he called the President at 7:17 p.m., California time, listened to what Johnson planned to say, and promptly gave this statement: "I am sure that every American will subscribe to the actions outlined in the President's statement."

At the airport before leaving for Washington, Goldwater told a newsmen of his talk with the President.

"I told him that I thought all Americans would stand behind his decision," Goldwater said.

Sounds Heard in French Mine

Drilling Is Continued Toward Area of Noise

CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP) — Muffled sounds were detected today in a drill hole on Mt. Rivel where two limestone miners may be entombed, May or Andre Socie reported.

A sensitive electronic listening device picked up the noises about 100 yards from where nine other miners were hauled to safety yesterday after eight days imprisonment in the collapsed galleries.

Socie said the sounds could not be identified and cautioned against unwarranted optimism. It was the first report of sounds since Sunday.

Rescue workers hope that at least two of the five miners still missing in the 270-foot deep mine are alive. A giant drill was sited into the mountainside toward the area where the men may be.

The nine rescued Tuesday from the mine in eastern France's Jura Mountains got up early today and watched the sunrise from the balcony of the hospital where they spent the night.

All appeared in relatively good condition when brought to the surface. Authorities said they were recovering rapidly from their ordeal.

Demonstrate for Four Hours on City Worker Wage Hike

More than 200 city employees, their wives and children demonstrated for four hours outside City Hall yesterday for an increase in wages.

The demonstrators carried placards protesting that salaries of Pontiac municipal employees are below those of employees in other comparable communities. A sound car was also used in the demonstration.

At 8 p.m., they moved inside to fill the City Commission meeting chambers to overflowing.

Sparking the demonstration was the Pontiac Police Officers Association (PPOA). However, members of all employee groups participated.

The immediate outcome was that a PPOA wage committee will meet with City Manager Joseph A. Warren within five days after Warren receives a Michigan Municipal League survey of city employees' wages.

DUE AUG. 15
The league has promised delivery of the survey — informally ordered by former commissioners last March — on Aug. 15, according to City Manager Joseph A. Warren.

All seven city commissioners agreed last night that employees' wages were below those paid in comparable cities and, in some cases, smaller communities.

Debate centered largely around two major topics:

• With the largest legal tax rate already being levied in Pontiac, there still isn't enough revenue produced to adequately finance all city operations, including salaries.

• If added revenue is the answer, methods to raise it should be sought by commissioners and backed by employees.

Methods suggested were a millage hike or city income tax. The PPOA was represented by the Waterford Township law firm of Powell, Peres, Carr & Jacques.

Leonard A. Peres said the employees "are not striking or picketing" but are "extending their right of freedom of speech through a peaceful demonstration."

PPOA members said they had received a total of $179 in pay hikes over the past four years (Continued on Page 2, Col. 1)

Cooler Weather Seen for Weekend

Up and up they go again. The weatherman says temperatures will climb into the high 80s for the next five days but he promises a little relief over the weekend with Saturday and Sunday a little cooler.

Tonight's low will be in the 60s.

About one-tenth of an inch of precipitation in scattered thundershowers is forecast for Friday or Saturday.

Today's low thermometer reading prior to 8 a.m. in downtown Pontiac was 64. By 1 p.m. the recording was 80.

FIGHTER ALERT — This is the type of U.S. F-4 fighter which was rushed to Saigon today and will remain on alert to defend against any Communist North Viet Nam attacks against U.S. or South Viet Nam positions or craft.

She's an Active Democrat

By MADELEINE DOEREN
When you shake hands with attractive brunette Burnette Staebler, you feel that you have known her all your life.

Here this week under the auspices of the Oakland County Democratic Women, is the wife of Michigan's candidate for governor who is also Congresswoman-at-large.

"The volunteer staff here in Pontiac has been simply wonderful. They provide a volunteer driver and schedule about eight meetings a day, four days a week. Monday is my day off," she added.

In their 29 years of marriage, Mrs. Staebler has grown used to the hectic pace of a public figure's wife, whether it means cooking dinner for 40 or making speeches throughout the state.

MEETS HUSBAND

She met her husband while studying for her bachelor's degree in music at the University of Michigan. They were both so busy that they had difficulty in getting together for dates. She sang with a church choir on Sunday, the only night he was not studying.

While rearing two children,

Liz, now 23, who is majoring in sociology at Eastern Michigan University and Michael, 21, Mrs. Staebler continued her musical career.

During World War II while in Washington, Mrs. Staebler joined the "Voteless" District of Columbia League while her husband was with the office of price stabilization and in the Navy.

In the League as in the Democratic party, her favorite activity is fostering clear-headed discussion of public issues.

CURRENT CONCERNS

Of current concern are tax burdens of the aged, teachers' retirement, overcrowded schools, educational needs of the state and the Massachusetts ballot.

Mrs. Staebler was the first president and co-founder of the Ann Arbor Symphony Orchestra and with her husband, launched the Ann Arbor Dramatic Arts Center. They also sparked the nonpartisan Ann Arbor Citizens' Council.

On the political scene, Mrs. Staebler has been "Girl Friday" for the Democrats. On a house-to-house survey, she has recorded party preferences and collected funds.

Besides serving as precinct and ward chairman, she has managed campaign headquarters, trained discussion leaders and been state convention delegate.

HPS THE TRAIL

Mrs. Staebler hit the campaign trail in 1962 when her husband decided to run for his first office after years as state Democratic chairman.

During the present campaign, the Staeblers are based at Ann Arbor.

Son Michael who attended Harvard University, spent six months this year at the University of Washington, Germany, and plans to re-enter Harvard. He is presently assisting his father with campaign duties.

As a congresswoman's wife, Mrs. Staebler finds Washington stimulating and fascinating and the schedule consequently accelerated. Because there's no other time to join her husband for a tennis match in the summer, they go to the courts at 7:30 in the morning.

SERVES ON BOARDS
She has served on the board of the Foreign Students Service Council and on the Women's National Democratic club board.

Communiting between Washington and Michigan for week-ends of meetings, especially since her husband became a candidate for governor, is a way of life for the Staeblers.

Mrs. Staebler says "We like to speak to mixed groups and

Drop Hint to Friends on Clothing

By The Emily Post Institute
Q: I have two daughters, ages 3 and 4. On special occasions, they receive presents from a few friends and relatives.

Two of the persons from whom they receive gifts are mothers. These dresses are either too fancy or too old and not at all to my liking and I rarely put them on the girls.

I am very fussy about my children's clothes, and like to select them myself.

Will you please tell me how I can graciously, without hurting their feelings, let them know how I feel?

A: You can't possibly tell them that you don't like their choice of dresses or that you would rather select your daughters' clothes yourself.

The only thing you can do is, when you are talking to them sometime, casually mention that Mary and Sue have more dresses than they can possibly wear and hope that they will take the hint and buy something else.

Q: A man whom I date occasionally sent me a dozen very beautiful roses on my birthday.

He has a birthday coming up soon and I would like to know if it would be proper to send him a present in return?

A: There is no obligation to send him a present in return for his roses, but if you would like to give a little something on his birthday, it would be quite all right to do so.

Details concerning the remarriage of a widow and divorcee are described in the Emily Post Institute booklet entitled, "Second Marriage."

Neighbor's Too Nervy

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I have a neighbor who is the nerviest person I've ever known, but I hate to hurt her.

She walks into my house without knocking and has scared me out of my wits so many times it's not even funny.

She opens my refrigerator to see what's there. She lifts the lids of my pots to find out what I am cooking.

She even adds water if she thinks it needs it. If a letter happens to be lying around, she'll read it.

She has even picked up my husband's check stubs and studied them. I could go on and on.

Don't tell me to keep my doors locked. With children it's hard. I have never taken such liberties in her house.

Is there some nice way I can put a stop to this? I wouldn't hurt her feelings for the world.

DEVOTED READER

DEAR READER: There is no "nice" way to tell a snop that she's a snop. Keep all personal mail and check stubs out of sight.

And when she adds water to your soup count to 10.

But don't complain of HER nerve to tell her SHE'S NERVY!

DEAR ABBY: How does a 20-year-old girl who has just announced her engagement with intentions to get married next summer tell her parents that she has to get married as soon as possible?

THE GIRL

DEAR GIRL: In plain English. And fast.

DEAR ABBY: Where we live, the houses are very close together. Iately I have seen a boy, who can't be more than 9 years old, hanging out of the bathroom window, smoking.

I see him almost every day. He is obviously smoking on the

When my mother died, I couldn't bear to give her clothes away, so I wrapped them in paper and packed them in boxes.

Thirty years later, upon opening the boxes, everything was moth-eaten and yellowed with age.

How much better it would have been for her lovely clothes to have been worn out by some frien!
