

Lynda Bird Weds Marine Today in the White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson walks his daughter, Lynda Bird, down the red-carpeted, marble halls of the White House today into the history books as the 14th White House bride.

The great presidential mansion was aglow with red and white flowers, mistletoe and a Christmas atmosphere for its first wedding of a president's daughter in 53 years.

In the great gold and white East Room, 240 twinkling white candles sparked amid an evergreen backdrop for a simple white altar that waited for Lynda, 23, and her bridegroom, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb 2d, to exchange vows of matrimony.

It was as romantic a setting as any girl could want and hundreds of persons — from cooks to carpenters — had helped make it possible.

The bride-to-be had said she wanted to sleep late this morning, but the White House had a pre-dawn starting schedule for the big wedding day.

Everything about the 4 p.m. (EST) wedding had been rehearsed — even the kisses of the bride couple. But there were scores of last-minute details to be attended to.

The week-long round of prenuptial partying had left Lynda and Chuck a bit exhausted.

The windup wedding-eve dinner dance given by Robb's parents lasted until a bit past midnight.

But it provided the bride couple with a gay, musical version of a wedding and some of the pitfalls of married life.

Broadway stars Carol Lawrence and Gordon MacRae, dressed in bridal attire, sang excerpts from the musical "I Do, I Do" for Lynda's bridal party in the candle-lit atmosphere of a private Georgetown club.

When the stars finished their numbers, including some showing the typical kiss-and-make-up squabbles, Lynda laughingly asked Miss Lawrence: "Is that what it's really like?"

President Johnson, who said he was quite nervous, like any father of the bride, provided a humorous and sentimental champagne toast at the party that brought tears to Lynda's eyes.

He still had to attend to business amid the romantic takeover of the White House and excused himself from the party to get back in time to meet a midnight deadline for a bill awaiting his signature.

It hardly seemed that presidential business could go on amid the wedding atmosphere, with 450 reporters, photographers and technicians gathering like bees around the White House.

The White House was so jammed there was standing room only for the elaborate drama of the wedding itself.

State OKs Bonds for Sewer Setup

A giant step forward has been taken to seek permission to issue $1 million in short-term notes to relieve a cash shortage.

Yesterday the commission received support for the loan from the County Board of Supervisors' Road Committee.

Supervisor David Levinson of Birmingham, chairman of the days and means committee, said he had no reason to believe his committee, which exercises control of county purse strings, would not approve the proposal.

The group met at the road commission offices at the County Center yesterday. Paul Van Roekel, highway engineer, explained that the road commission was having a difficult time meeting current cash obligations.

He blamed inflation and last winter's heavy snowfall for placing demands on road commission finances that were not anticipated in the budget.

REPAYMENT

It was indicated the $500,000 borrowed from the county in October would be repaid from the $1 million.

The money was granted to prevent contractors who were doing road projects from walking off their jobs because of nonpayment of bills.

The loan would be on tax anticipation on a 10-year basis and pledging of full faith and credit by the county would likely be unnecessary, it was explained. However, approval would have to be granted by the County Board of Supervisors and by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

It is expected the money will be available in the spring.

MAJ. ROBERT LAWRENCE

Crash Kills First Negro Astronaut

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Maj. Robert H. Lawrence Jr., America's first Negro astronaut, has been killed in the crash of an F104 Starfighter jet as it landed after a routine training flight.

An Air Force spokesman called him "one of those young bright guys with everything going for him."

Lawrence, 31, was preparing a project for the Defense Department to orbit two men on a space laboratory in 1970.

The Chicago-born Lawrence was the ninth U.S. astronaut to die.

The F104, "a missile with a man in it" which travels twice the speed of sound, smashed onto a runway after the flight yesterday at Edwards Air Force Base and spurted "a little fire," an Air Force spokesman said.

Heart Switch Concern

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — Routine tests on Louis Washkansky have shown "some signs which may be interpreted as rejection" of the heart he received in an historic transplant operation, a doctor at Groote Schuur Hospital said today.

At this stage it is no more than a suspicion and further tests are being carried out, said Dr. T. O'Donovan, a member of the transplant team of doctors led by Prof. Christian Barnard.

Town's Only Doctor Isn't

GROVETON, Tex. (UPI) — Residents of this town of 1,300 have learned that the only doctor it ever had was really no doctor at all. He was a former Louisiana convict, Freddie Brant, who had successfully posed as a psychiatrist at a Texas state hospital, and as Dr. Reed L. Brown here for eight months. He had been granted a medical license by the State of Texas.

Sale of Papers to Aid Needy in Waterford

Waterford Township Goodfellows are holding their annual newspaper sale today to raise funds to buy food and gifts for needy families at Christmas time.

Some 3,000 Goodfellow editions of The Pontiac Press are on sale at nine different locations throughout the township.

Ernest Latimer, president of the Goodfellows, said he hopes the one-day drive will raise at least $2,000.

There is no set donation for the newspapers.

Proceeds will be used to purchase food orders negotiable at area stores and to prepare baskets for needy families.

GIFTS TO BE GIVEN

Gifts, including shoes and boots for children, also will be given to the needy, Latimer said.

Goodfellow newspapers are being sold at the following locations:

Airport and M59, M59 Plaza at Williams Lake Road and M59, Voorhes and Telegraph, M59 and Telegraph, Elizabeth Lake Road and Telegraph, Pontiac Mall, Andersonville and Dixie Highway, Sashaw and Walton and Williams Lake Road and Dixie Highway.

Several other organizations are providing personnel to assist the Goodfellows in their effort to make the campaign a successful one.

Assisting groups are the Eagles, Evening Optimists, Breasted, Waterford Lions Club, Rotary, police department, fire department, police reserves and the volunteer fire fighters association.

The "old newsboys" are working two-hour shifts.

Snow Is Likely Over Weekend

There's a chance of some rain possibly mixed with snow over the weekend. The Official U.S. Weather Bureau day by day report looks like this:

TODAY — Cloudy and cool with a chance of light rain by late afternoon or evening. High 36 to 39. Intermittent rain tonight.

Winds north to northeasterly at 10 to 20 miles per hour, becoming easterly this afternoon and southeasterly tonight.

TOMORROW — Intermittent rain becoming mixed with snow and turning cooler late afternoon or evening.

MONDAY — Cloudy, windy and colder. Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: Today 40, tonight and tomorrow 70. Thirty-one was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury registered 29 at 2 p.m.

2 Young Girls' Bodies Found in Florida Canal

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UPI) — The battered and still-bleeding bodies of two pretty, bathing-suit clad young girls were found in a remote canal today with concrete blocks weighted to their necks.

There was speculation the girls, one clad in a black and white bikini and the other in a black lace one-piece bathing suit, may have been the "talkative" girlfriends of members of South Florida's underworld.

Police said the girls' skulls had been fractured and they had been stabbed several times in the back with a knife. A policeman said, "Robbery was not the motive, nor does it appear they were sexually attacked."

GM Parity OK Seen

TORONTO (AP) — The Toronto Globe and Mail says General Motors Corp. has committed itself in Toronto to giving its Canadian workers equal pay with U.S. employees but insists that the terms be negotiated in Canada.

"This unwritten understanding on parity appears to be acceptable to the union," the newspaper says.

World and National News

HUANUCO, Peru (U) — Searchers pulled bodies today from the jungle on the rim of the Andes Mountains where a Peruvian airliner crashed in flames yesterday, killing everyone aboard. Sixty-seven persons, including four Americans, were believed on the flight. The Faucett Airlines four-engine DC6 hit the side of Cerro Carpiash Mountain near midday, after it took off from Huanuco with a load of holiday passengers bound for the mountain resort of Tingo Maria. There was no explanation for the crash.

U.S. Okays Cong at U.N.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has formally declared its support for the idea of Vietcong representatives coming to the United Nations on invitation and on official business, but it opposes any visit "to mount a propaganda campaign." The statement of administration policy was issued by the state department yesterday to explain U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's handling of inquiries from the Vietcong's political arm, the National Liberation Front, about the possibility of sending emissaries to New York.

Rocky Firm on Not Running

PALM BEACH, Fla. (U) — Confessing he is being pressed harder than ever before, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he still opposes a possible draft for the Republican presidential nomination. Rockefeller laughed off a suggestion by Oregon Gov. Tom McCall at the GOP governors conference here that a national committee be formed to circulate petitions urging the New York governor to get into the race.

Liner's Career Ending

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The Queen Mary, a monarch of ocean-going luxury liners, ends her 30-year career on the high seas today and settles into the sedate life of a floating maritime museum and convention center.

One million spectators were expected to crowd the southern California shore line to witness the end of the final voyage of the 81,237-ton liner.

9 Junior Miss Contestants to Vie Tonight in Waterford

The odds are 8-to-1 against emerging victorious in tonight's Waterford Township Junior Miss Pageant, but the nine contestants entered in the competition will be trying their best to gain the coveted title.

Sponsored by the Waterford Township Jaycees, the pageant will begin at 8 at Mison Junior High School, 3835 W. Walton.

Admission charge is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, according to contest officials.

The new Junior Miss will be crowned by last year's winner, Jennifer Siegart, a graduate of Waterford Kettering High School, now a freshman at Ferris State College in Big Rapids.

The 1968 Junior Miss will be awarded a $250 college scholarship and other prizes and will automatically qualify for the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant Jan. 26-28 at Pontiac Northern High School.

Prizes also will be awarded to the first and second runners-up.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

Representing Waterford Township High School are Karen Van Deusen, Mickey Burns, Sheri Seiser, Denise St. Dennis, Londa Briles and Beth Griffin.

The two entrants from Waterford Kettering High School are Janet Furr and Gail Sander.

Our Lady of the Lakes' lone candidate is Shari Morrow.

INTERVIEWS

A panel of three judges will question each girl this morning preceding a luncheon for the contestants.

The new Junior Miss will be determined on the basis of scholastic achievement, poise and appearance, youth fitness, creative and performing arts, personality, sense of values, clarity of expression, knowledge and perception, mental alertness, personal appearance and human relations.

The judges are Mrs. Margaret Demetrak, assistant editor of the Inter-Lake News and Lakeland Tribune; M. Harrett Vorce, associate superintendent of instruction and personnel for Waterford Township Schools; and Dr. James Appleton, associate dean of students Oakland University.

Chairman of the pageant is Michael G. Patterson. Vice chairmen are Mrs. John Herrington and Mrs. Bruce Sias, members of the Waterford Township Jaycees.

PIANO ACCOMPANIST

Piano accompanist for the pageant will be Mary Phipps, elementary music supervisor for Waterford Township Schools.

Senate Admits Loss as House Reduces Social Security Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Key senators involved with the Social Security bill agree the House won the money battles over the measure, with the result being smaller benefit increases than were sought by President Johnson.

The bill is expected to be passed and put before the President.

dent for signature by the middle of next week.

Nearly every important Senate change made in the bill was either thrown out or greatly watered down in the Senate-House conference which finished its work Thursday night.

"We were told by the House to accept their provisions or that there would be no bill," said one Senate conferee who asked that his name not be used.

He added that during the discussion of what would happen if he didn't survive, "We were told that we could announce to the old people that we had killed a bill which would raise their benefits 13 per cent."

As accepted by both sides, the final version provides a new

BIRMINGHAM — Bargaining teams from the United Auto Workers and General Motors Corp. today continued their negotiations for a new national contract covering 300,000 union workers at GM, although local disputes have idled 20,400 workers.

Walkouts at GM plants near Atlanta, Cincinnati, Los Angeles and St. Louis took 16,800 workers off their jobs yesterday, and 8,800 remained out in a strike that started Thursday.

Green Berets Limited

BANGKOK, Thailand — U.S. special forces troops operating with the Thai army in Communist-infiltrated areas of Thailand have orders to shoot only if fired upon, Gen. Prapas Chudien, commander of the Thai army, said today. He also denied reports from American sources at Eglin Air Force Base in Florida that U.S. planes were bombing terrorist positions in Thailand.

Turks Fine 2 GIs

IZMIR, Turkey — A Turkish criminal court imposed fines on two American servicemen yesterday at the conclusion of their six-month trial on charges of "destroying historical works of art and attempted theft."

Pvt. William Toth, 21, of Dearborn, Mich., was fined $133. Pvt. Richard A. Morse, 22, of Dillsburg, Pa., was fined $233.

Arab Ministers Meet

CAIRO — Arab foreign ministers gathered today to start charting a common course on how to oust Israel from Sinai, the west bank of the Jordan River and the Syrian heights, all captured in the six-day June war.

In their three-day parley, the ministers were to fix the date and agenda for the Arab summit conference later this month at Rabat, Morocco, and possibly start deciding how to deal with U.N. peacekeeper Gunnar Jarner.

Senate OKs Pay Hike

WASHINGTON — A bill boosting by 5.6 per cent the pay of every man in uniform — from the yardbird private to four-star generals and admirals — has been passed by the Senate and is expected to win House approval next week.

Also sharing in the raise will be the Public Health Service and the Coast and Geodetic Survey, which use military pay scales.

The measure was passed by the Senate yesterday on a voice vote.

Open Housing Urged

LANSING — The State Board of Education yesterday urged legislative approval of the proposed statewide open housing law and a $5 million increase in funds to expand state programs for deprived students.

The Legislature is slated to debate the measures when members return to Lansing Tuesday to continue the current special session.

Police Probe Holdups

SAGINAW — Police today pressed an investigation of two robberies in which one policeman was shot to death and two officers were wounded.

Patrolman Gary McCullen, 21, was slain early yesterday at the Annex Bar where police said he had gone with two other officers to check out suspects in a robbery 20 minutes earlier at Chet's Bar.

Police said officers Henry Hobson and Ronald Elmer, both 24, were wounded at Chet's Bar as they intercepted three fleeing holdup men. Both were reported in serious condition in a Saginaw hospital.

BOAC Pilots Strike

LONDON — Nearly 1,000 pilots of the state-run British Overseas Airways Corp. (BOAC) went on a 48-hour strike today but the airline said it hoped to keep some jets in the air.

The strike — aimed at nearly doubling the pay of top pilots — affects 32 flights out of London Airport over the weekend. BOAC estimates the strike will cost $400,000 a day in lost passenger and freight revenue.

School District Is Given MEA Sanction Warning

BIRMINGHAM — The Birmingham School District administrators are being warned that if they don't take certain action, the district may be nationally sanctioned by the Michigan Education Association (MEA).

This news came late this week as a sanction warning from the MEA upon the mid-September and St. Louis took 16,800 workers off their jobs yesterday, and 8,800 remained out in a strike that started Thursday.

S. Viets Gain Biggest Win of Delta War

SAIGON (AP) — South Vietnamese soldiers fighting in the heat and mud of the Mekong Delta badly mauled a Vietcong force of about 1,500 men and won the greatest one-day battle of the delta war, military headquarters said today.

The battle against three Vietcong battalions began Friday morning and cost the enemy 365 dead before the day was out. During the night, the Vietcong slipped from the battlefield in small units but after sunrise to fight turned again to fight close pursuing South Vietnamese rangers.

Only sketchy details, and no casualty figures, were available on today's fighting.

Initial battle reports said 60 government soldiers were killed and 102 wounded Friday before the enemy was encircled by armored columns and pinned down after being flushed from the sanctuary of the U-Minh forest 100 miles south of Saigon.

Three American advisers with the Vietnamese troops were reported wounded. Normally about three Americans accompany a South Vietnamese battalion on field operations.

The U.S. Military Assistance Command in Vietnam (MACV) was exultant over the showing of the frequently criticized South Vietnamese army. Today's MACV communique said, "The ARVN (Army of the Republic of Vietnam) had a smashing victory in the delta yesterday. It was the biggest single day in delta history."

Exam Slated for City Man in Bar Slaying

A Pontiac man arrested shortly after a shotgun slaying in a city bar early yesterday demanded examination—scheduled Wednesday—at his municipal court arraignment.

Remanded with bond to Oakland County Jail by Municipal Judge Cecil B. McCallum was George Reed, also known as George Cumbs, 26, of 283 Irving.

He was arrested while walking on Central near Packard about 1 a.m., less than an hour after Jessie Lee Hatten, 28, of 350 S. Anderson was killed by a shotgun blast in Harry's Bar, 568 S. Sanford.

Police said they made the arrest on information supplied by a witness.

Hatten was pronounced dead on arrival at Pontiac General Hospital with an abdominal wound.

Judge Offers 3 Proposals to Solve Labor Conflicts

Voicing concern over the course labor and management are taking in resolving their differences, Oakland County Circuit Judge Arthur E. Moore has suggested consideration of one of the three possibilities listed below.

- Should government spell out limitations on labor demands and management refusals based on living standards shown necessary on the one hand for the worker and probability of profits on the other?
- Should the responsibility, training and skill of the worker translated into terms of national value be a further settlement factor?
- Should a strike be redefined by entirely new conditions? Suppose we provide that when a strike begins the laborer shall continue to work, but shall forfeit, say 10 per cent of his pay into the government treasury until the strike is ended, and that management shall forfeit a like share of its gross taxable income for the duration of the strike, then both sides must not only bargain in good faith until the settlement but, as a new condition, must continue normal work and production operations.

The request was made because of the "unhealthy educational climate in the district," said Donald Cameron, executive secretary of the BEA.

He cited poor communications as part of the basis for this charge before the Board of Education and the administration with the teachers, and unfavorable implementation of the teachers' master agreement with the board.

A sanction will be issued by the MEA if the district doesn't take the suggested action, said Cameron, who refused to give details until a special report comes out in the middle of next week.

EFFECT OF SANCTION

"The imposition of sanctions would mean a declaration that Birmingham is an undesirable district in which to teach," stated the BEA executive secretary.

Schools Supt. John Blackhall Smith replied that nearly all the action the MEA suggests has already been or is in the process of being completed.

Smith pointed to the establishment of the Problem Review Committee and to the 1967-68 salary package which was presented to and rejected by the teachers.

The superintendent said he is preparing to reply to the sanction warning Monday.

NEGOTIATIONS

Negotiations on the contract between the board and the BEA, temporarily halted for reorganization of the BEA team, are expected to resume next week, said Cameron.

Pontiac Home Is Vandalized

Vandals caused what police described as "extensive destruction" to a newly completed home at 83 Judson, it was reported yesterday.

Pontiac police said the home, built by the Jerome Building Co. of Southfield, was entered by breaking through the front door.

The vandals smashed door and window glass, knocked holes in walls with rocks, tore out all the furnace wiring, broke off numerous light and plumbing fixtures, poured cement in a bath tub and gouged the hardwood flooring.

No estimate of damage has been made, investigators said.

Cost Estimate Is $222,870

The estimated construction cost for the proposed new administrative office building for Waterford Township Schools is $222,870, instead of the $220,000 figure printed in yesterday's editions of The Pontiac Press.

The projected cost would provide for remodeling of an existing building at 1021 Airport — previously known as Waterford Central School — a new 4,700-square-foot addition and site development work.

Road to Street Repairs Is Full of Wrong Turns

A Waterford Township woman has turned to her fifth group of public officials in an effort to get action on the condition of her street, but received only a glimmer of hope.

The problem for Mrs. Lois B. Tutor of 998 Voorhees and other residents along the street is that although they live in Waterford Township, their street is the responsibility of the City of Pontiac, which is on the other side of the street.

Normally in the township roads would be the responsibility of the County Road Commission. Mrs. Tutor has gone to them, the city, the township and the State Highway Commission.

Yesterday she went before the County Board of Supervisors Roads Committee.

They told her what the other agencies did — that Pontiac was responsible and that the city was collecting gas and weight taxes from the state for the one-fourth mile section.

Mrs. Tutor informed the committee that city officials had informed her they "would not touch the street."

It was explained to her by committee members and by road officials that Pontiac would be reluctant to conduct an improvement project on the street because assessment of property owners would be necessary, and the city would have no authority to assess anyone on her side of the street — Waterford Township.

Mrs. Tutor complains that the street is in such poor condition that cars and trucks, which use it as an access to Huron, strike holes and shoulders and cause ear tremors which damage her home.

She said that at night she can hear hubcaps flying "as they are torn loose from cars by road bumps."

Officials offered some hope. They told her a meeting between city and road officials will be held Dec. 18 with the intention of solving problems of streets on city borders.

Nepotism Ban May Pass as Postal Bill Rider

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress is about to pass a delayed-action law prohibiting members from putting relatives on their office payrolls.

The ban against nepotism won't affect the various wives, sons, in-laws and other kin now employed in congressional offices.

But representatives and senators would, under the bill, no longer be able to hire relatives or seek jobs for them elsewhere on the congressional payroll.

An Associated Press survey earlier this year showed more than 50 members of Congress had relatives on their payrolls at the time or had employed them at some period in the previous year.

RIDER TO BILL

The antinepotism ban was attached as a rider to a bill to raise postal rates and salaries of federal employees.

The bill will appear headed for final congressional passage next week, and President Johnson is expected to sign it.

The antinepotism provision applies to the executive and judicial branches of government as well as to Congress.

Officials in any agency with hiring and promoting authority could not put relatives on the agency payroll.

It does not apply to military assignments.

GRASS-ROOTS EFFECT

One grass-roots effect will be a ban on hiring of relatives by postmasters, said to be a frequent practice in smaller communities.

At the top levels of government, it bars, for example, a president from appointing a relative to a Cabinet post.

That happened in 1961 when Robert F. Kennedy, now a senator, was named attorney general by his brother, President John F. Kennedy.

The architects and floor managers of the postal rate-pay bill had no plans for striking at nepotism in the bill.

Congressional leaders have long been cool to such prohibitions.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, commenting on the Associated Press survey, said he did not see that a congressman's putting a relative on his payroll was wrong in itself. The didn't agree. He introduced this a quiet death in committee

Smith took another route. He offered it as a rider to the postal rate bill on a day when some 350 congressmen were absent and it carried. Only 82 House members were on the floor at its opponents to try to delete it.

California High Court Won't Bar Abortion

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The first court challenge to California's new abortion law, which declined to block an abortion law was refused Thursday by the state Supreme Court, which declined to block an abortion law planned by the state of a police sergeant.

In a 5-2 decision, the court refused to issue an order preventing Mrs. Nancy O'Beirne, 26, of Gov. Ronald Reagan.

The woman's estranged husband, Raymond O'Beirne, 33, of San Jose, sought in Superior Court to halt the operation on grounds it would "violate fundamental religious principles."

O'Beirne is a Roman Catholic. He also said the abortion would cause him "great mental and emotional distress and humiliation" and deprive him of the "companionship of the unborn child."

But the Santa Clara County Superior Court refused to halt the operation, as did the State Court of Appeals.

The matter was appealed to the state Supreme Court, which took action Thursday.

Strikes Impair Government Services

Disruption of the Nation's industry by strikes, with resulting loss to communities, has been on the increase for the past decade. The past two years, however, have seen the front of such action significantly broadened.

It embraces the vast number of employees engaged in public service, and poses increasing threat to the solvency of municipalities despite periodic calls on strained taxpayers for more operational funds.

Although in most states it is illegal for public employees to strike, the past year saw a nationwide rash of strikes by policemen, firemen, sanitation personnel, teachers and municipally-operated transit workers. Even professional people, such as nurses, swelled the ranks of strikers.

Many of the work stoppages were not termed "strikes" by those absenting themselves from their jobs. Various subterfuges and euphemisms were employed in lieu of strike declarations—but the effects were the same.

Strikes by government employees seem to be contagious. The yearly number keeps growing. Last year there were three times as many strikes by public workers as the year before. The rate is now more than 1,000 a year.

Contributing to the growing militancy of government employees is the fact that there are so many more of them these days. Prof. Russell A. Smith, former chairman of Michigan's Advisory Committee on Public Unionism, estimates that by 1975 one out of every five American civilians will be employed by either Federal, state or local governments.

Significantly, the fastest growing unions in the AFL-CIO fold are the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, which has leaped from 99,000 to 290,000 in the past 12 years; the American Federation of Government Employees, whose 250,000 members are twice the membership of two years ago; and the American Federation of Teachers with a 140,000 membership.

What this trend portends for the total society is open to speculation. But there can be no doubt that its cumulative effect will confront the Country with a critical problem calling for forceful action if equity in our system of government is to be preserved.

France Again Nixes Britain's Common Market Bid

When Britain devalued its currency on Nov. 18, it hoped French President CHARLES DE GAULLE might soften his opposition to its bid for membership in the European Common Market. But London's hope was mere wishful thinking. Nine days later at the general's semi-annual press conference in Paris, he made his opposition more explicit than ever.

It is in this setting that the Common Market's council of ministers will receive an oral report from its executive commission Monday on the consequences of Britain's devaluation. The report precedes the ministers' next meeting, Dec. 18-19, to discuss Britain's longing for entry into the six-nation trade group, formally the European Economic Community.

The Big Six ministers issued a joint statement in Brussels, Nov. 20, calling devaluation a "courageous" move. But French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville disagreed with his colleagues on a fundamental point. He professed to see no reason why Britain's latest attempt to put its economy in order should enhance its membership request. De Gaulle took the same view.

So regardless of what the Common Market's executive commission reports, Britain still finds the way blocked by France's veto. Prime Minister HAROLD WILSON will continue to pursue his long-stated goal of Common Market membership.

But DE GAULLE's latest rebuff, coming so soon after the wrenching effects of devaluation, is a savage political blow to the Wilson government. Beyond that, observers are saying, the renewed exclusion will reinforce a strong isolationist current in French life.

Detachable Collars Are Around Again

Something told us that the comeback of the beard augured no good. Our suspicions are now confirmed. A New York department store is selling: DETACHABLE collars for men's shirts.

To be sure, they're not the white celluloid chokers grandpa endured but are made of paper and come in different colored patterns.

But...

GOP Ponders What It Can Do Better

By JAMES MARLOW
AP News Analyst

WASHINGTON — "We can do it better."

This is the basic argument of Democrats and Republicans in an in-depth study of possible issues.

MARLOW

Last month at Gettysburg, Pa., former President Dwight D. Eisenhower met with a 15-member Republican task force on national defense policy to discuss GOP campaign tactics for next year.

Would-be Republican presidential candidates, like former Vice President Richard M. Nixon and Michigan's Gov. George Romney, have staffs busy charting strategy, getting ideas together, examining issues.

HANDICAP

You don't have to be a mind reader to know the Republicans are going to try to get as much mileage as they can out of the discontent over the war in Vietnam.

But on this, which may be the biggest issue, they're under a bit of a handicap starting out. Their main point, of course, will be the one contained in the "first paragraph above."

Some insight into this was given Thursday by the two Republican leaders in Congress, Sen. Everett M. Dirksen and Rep. Gerald R. Ford.

They argued a new Republican president would be in a better position than President Johnson to settle the war, with Ford adding that a new administration could deal with Vietnam "with less of the hindrances of the past."

VIET SUPPORT

But Dirksen spoke again of GOP support for the Johnson administration's stand in Vietnam. And right here is where the Republicans' handicap comes in. They are going to be limited in what they can say about the war.

Since they're for the war, they can't complain about that. They can only complain about the details, the way it's being handled.

And they won't even have that for much of an issue if 1968 campaign starts Johnson has been able to force the North Vietnamese into wanting peace.

As for all the other issues they may dream up, it will be a downybrook that can be predicted. If, for instance, they blame the poor congressional performance this year on the Democrats, Johnson will blame the Republicans.

The POWER of FAITH By WOODI ISHMAEL

ONE WHO SERVES ON CHRISTMAS—2

Judith Ann Aguais, a registered nurse in pediatrics, knows the true spirit of giving as so all in her profession. During her eight years of nursing she has worked six Christmas Eves. She does it because her family lives nearby and she can get home quickly after work and because it allows a nurse, whose family lives far away, to be at home for Christmas. Judith explains, "I wouldn't enjoy Christmas if I knew a girl a long way from home was alone in a furnished room because of me."

Christmas isn't depressing in the hospital, Judith reports, although the only patients are the critically ill children and those with no place to go.

"They are cheerful with a positive outlook on life and they cheer us up," she continues. "The wards are decorated and there is a stable and a manger with the Holy family in each hallway as well as a Christmas tree. After the children are asleep, we put big stockings at the foot of the bed with gifts in them. In the morning there is carol singing and a Santa Claus. Everyone pitches in and tries to make things nice for everyone else."

"We get our power of faith from the children."

Confident Living:

Discontent Is Motivating Power

By NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

I want to tell you about a wonderful man. This man has a streak of genius for not only is he contented—he is also discontented. And anyone who is contented without also being constructively discontented is not a truly organized individual.

This man, a taxi driver in New York City, and I met one morning when he took me to Kennedy International Airport. Upon entering the cab I noticed how spotlessly clean it was—immaculate, as was the driver himself.

Driving along we listened to the morning radio news in which was a brief recapitulation of a speech made the night before by the governor of the state.

It was an impassioned declaration that he, the governor, was committed to driving all rats out of New York City.

The driver flipped off the radio saying, "I don't know whether the Governor knows how to get rid of rats. But I do. In fact, I used to live in the ghetto section of Manhattan."

Edward Aaron of 40 Lyford; 90th birthday.

tan he was referring to as rat-infested. But," he declared, "there were never any rats in my house."

"How come?" I asked admiringly.

"Because our house was clean, spotlessly clean. I mean clean. My wife is a terrific housekeeper. She hates dirt and there just wasn't any dirt in our place."

It doesn't make any difference how poor and dirty a neighborhood may be, there is no excuse for your own house not being clean. And," he added, "since I believe cleanliness is next to Godliness we had a clean house."

This surprising dissertation continued, "Rats only come where there is filth. So get rid of filth and that's the end of rats. But there is another way to outsmart rats."

"Wherever there was any kind of opening I just filled it with shattered glass. That makes it so tough for a rat that he gets discouraged and bypasses your place."

Even in a so-called ghetto neighborhood this man asserted he had a plain but beautiful apartment. "I was a contented man," he smiled broadly, "and why not? Lovely wife, good kids and a nice home. What more could you ask? I was a contented man..."

"But..." and then came good, old creative discontent. "I wanted something better: a house out of town with grass and trees and flowers. So I worked hard and saved my money and one of my passengers gave me an idea on how to invest carefully the little I had and what do you know?"

"O.K., what?" I asked fast.

He sent off to the state university service and got some pamphlets on flower and grass culture. And a Sunday newspaper supplement gave him tips on gardening. Eventually he had a lawn and a garden that was the talk of the neighborhood. So much so that all the envious housewives on the street pressured their husbands to get to work gardening. A whole neighborhood was transformed into a place of beauty.

"Wonderful," I said, "positively wonderful! Isn't it something — what a human being can do if he wants to, if he really is motivated by contentment, powered by discontent?" Someone who does not wait for a government housing program but who gets going on his own housing program?

"So now you're really contented, I'm sure."

"Sure am," he replied proudly. "I'm a contented man. Lovely wife, good kids, beautiful home and garden... but..."

He started telling me what was on his drawing board for the future, and it sounded mighty like driving discontent for something better.

But just then we arrived at Kennedy International Airport and I had to dash for my plane. I'll never know where that fascinating, contented-discontented man aims on going next. But that he will get there I haven't the slightest doubt.

Contentment does not mean mere satisfaction. It derives from the Latin word "contineere" meaning "to hold together." So the contented individual is a "held together" person in whom is an organized drive that gets results, makes dreams come true.

Contented discontent is held-together motivation. There's your secret of getting places. (Pittsburgh-Craig Syndicate)

Answers Recent Letter on Area United Fund

A recent letter in the Voice of the People stated reasons for not contributing to the Pontiac Area United Fund. One reason was that "nearly every week someone is collecting money or selling something for some organization supposedly covered by United Fund." With the exception of a very few sanctioned efforts, such as the Camp Fire Girls candy sale, United Fund agencies do not solicit or sell products.

FREY

Sometimes agencies which are not members of the United Fund do carry on sales or collect funds, and the persons being solicited mistakenly think they are United Fund agencies.

Another reason for not giving to the United Fund mentioned in the letter, was that the Pontiac Area Planning Council included a member of the Pontiac Organization of Black Youth. The Pontiac Area Planning Council is not a member agency of the United Fund and is not a part of the United Fund structure in any way.

Comments on Article on Education of Poor

I was appalled when I read the article in The Press regarding the influence of an individual's financial status on his ability to learn. The author couldn't have grown up in the U.S., couldn't have done much reading regarding the lives of our great leaders, or couldn't have been educated in our schools. The only famous man I can recall who was from a wealthy family was George Washington.

I taught school 20 years and never had one gifted or especially bright child from a wealthy family. Without all the gadgets, etc. money can buy, one turns to books. Because a child doesn't have money doesn't mean his mind is impoverished. I grew up in a large, poor family — moneywise — but my parents taught us that poverty is a state of mind.

Discusses Comments on Housing Industry

Recent comments in The Press regarding the housing industry are wrong. If you wish to criticize anyone, put the blame where it belongs — on the various unions in the building industry and the various building codes. Start with Walter Reuther and the auto industry who year after year have raised the cost of manufacturing and set certain standards that other unions have had to follow. The building industry has spent millions in modernizing plants and for modern machinery in the last 20 years.

'Leaders Need to Learn Meaning of Enemy'

When a nation like ours is friendly and aids and abets the Communists in their efforts to supply the ammunition that is killing our boys in Vietnam, their opinion of us cannot be too high. Someone ought to send our leaders a dictionary definition of the word "enemy."

'Voters Should Take Action to Curb Taxes'

I received my property tax statement today and this 50 per cent State Equalization was a smart way for our legislators to increase their take. They now have the future option of increasing to 75 per cent or even 100 per cent.

The current thinking of all elected officials is ways and means of digging deeper into the pockets of the taxpayer. When and where this taxing trend will stop is anyone's guess. If all voters would refuse to vote for any and all incumbents in all political offices, maybe one day all political officials will return to the basic principle of governing the people instead of forcing their own edict of what's good for me has to be good for the people.

Serviceman Has Difficulty Getting Pension

I was wounded in action in September 1966, while serving in Vietnam and was discharged in May 1967, receiving $119 a month for 70 per cent peacetime disability rating. I transferred to a V.A. pension as soon as I could and in August 1967 I was reevaluated at 100 per cent disability after writing Congressman Jack McDonald for assistance. Since August 31, I have heard no word from V.A. about my retroactive pay of $1,442.

I now see why a GI won't fight and a civilian won't go in service.

Suggests Fairer Method for Water Rates

The raise in water rates is unfair to people living alone. I have never used 1,000 cubic feet in the quarter but have been paying for up to 1,500 cubic feet. If the maximum amount had been lowered to 1,200 cubic feet for the same rate we had been paying, it would have accomplished the same result and been more fair for a lot of people.

Question and Answer

What is the law on safe deposit boxes? What determines whether or not they're sealed at the time of a person's death and who is responsible for sealing the box — the government or the bank?

J. W.

REPLY

Michigan State Inheritance Tax Act requires 'the bank, upon actual knowledge of death, to close the safe and allow access to no one until the safe has been opened in the presence of a public officer whose duty it is to execute the provisions of the inheritance tax laws of this state.

'4 Soviet Intellectuals Tried as Subversive Net Leaders'

MOSCOW (AP) — The Soviet Union has brought four young intellectuals to trial on charges of being part of an armed terrorist network trying to undermine or overthrow the Communist state, informed sources said today.

An information blackout made independent confirmation of the report impossible, but the sources said the case was regarded as so serious that the Soviet Communist party's ruling central committee met secretly to discuss its implications.

With the arrest of the four in Leningrad, the scene of the trial, secret police discovered caches of arms that included machine guns and grenades, the sources said. A Soviet military officer is suspected of having supplied the weapons, one source said.

The Leningrad group was linked with similar secret groups in the region of the Soviet Ukraine and in the big industrial city of Sverdlovsk in the Ural Mountains, the sources said.

POSSIBLE PENALTIES

Terrorism against the state carries a possible death penalty in the Soviet Union, but according to the sources' account, the central committee 'apparently decided to recommend the severest penalty short of execution — life imprisonment in a maximum security prison. Two of the defendants reportedly have confessed and the other two have not.

The sources said the trial grew out of the arrest by the secret police last March of 25 intellectuals, professors and students connected with Leningrad University's philosophy department. Of the 25, 11 were reported expelled from the city, locked up in insane asylums or placed under police surveillance.

An anti-Communist emigre group in Paris said last month that the remaining 14 possibly would stand trial by the end of smuggling abroad articles the year. According to sources which a court branded as anti-Soviet.

fore the court are a part of the group of 14.

Among those arrested, said the Paris report in the magazine Gran, were literary critics identified as Vaguine, Kirillov and Vakhtine and a writer for the Soviet magazine Voprosy Literatury (Problems of Literature). It was not known if any of these persons were among the four on trial.

DISSENT TRIAL

The report of the Leningrad trial came as the government prepared to open its case Monday against four young writers and editors in what was described as the biggest crackdown on dissent since the Sinavsky-Daniel trial of 1966.

Sources said they will be charged with anti-Soviet propaganda.

The case is separate from the Leningrad trial.

Satirists Andrei D. Sinavsky and Yuli M. Daniel were sentenced respectively to seven and five years in labor camps for would stand trial by the end of smuggling abroad articles the year. According to sources which a court branded as anti-Soviet.

Returning Greek Troops a Mixed Blessing

By GERALD MILLER
Associated Press Writer
ATHENS—An estimated 12,000 Greek troops heading home from Cyprus today are bringing the benefit of great financial relief to the Greek military regime but also the threat of political trouble.

The benefit: Greece finally is getting rid of the heavy financial burden of paying for its Cyprus forces.

As far back as 1965, when the troops landed on the island republic, the outcry began to hurt Athens' coffers. There was talk even then of the need to cut back on expenses but political attitudes on the Cyprus question made it impossible. The regime especially welcomes the cost-cutting now as it struggles to keep the Greek economy going.

It has never been announced how much it cost to maintain the Cyprus force but estimates range around $40 million a year. The threat: Officers who take served on Cyprus are disaffecteded with the junta's decision to bring home the troops and, ideology aside, service on Cyprus was golden duty. Extra allowances enabled officers to build up their bank accounts or buy new cars when they got back from their tour. It was a good life, and the Greek accord with Turkey had ended it.

On Cyprus during the past week the Greek Cypriot press underscored what it called the humiliation and disgrace suffered by the Greek forces at being withdrawn at Turkey's demand.

News men were barred from the port as the Greek troops boarded ships. A Greek officer told Greek Cypriot photographers: "Don't you realize this is a disgrace for us? How can you ask me to allow you to take photographs of our shame?"

Osman Otek, a Turkish Cypriot leader, called the withdrawal "A step in the right direction" but said full peace could come only when the Greek Cypriot national guard was disbanded and the Turkish Cypriots gained an equal voice in governing Cyprus.

COUNTERCOUP?

President Makarios has steadfastly refused to disband the guard and maintains that the majority should rule on Cyprus. The island holds 480,000 Greek Cypriots and 120,000 Turkish Cypriots.

There was speculation on the island that the Greek officers would return to Greece bitterly disillusioned and that such men could attempt a countercoup aimed at toppling the junta colonels in Athens who bowed to Ankara.

In Athens the government-controlled press has carefully presented the Cyprus accord to the Greek public not as humiliating surrender but as a triumph of good sense.

Thus the attitude in Greece is not really the same as among Greek Cypriots. It is expected that when the soldiers are back they will spread word of the Greek Cypriot feeling of betrayal.

How much trouble this could cause and what the junta intends to do about it are open questions.

There are reports that for a start the regime plans to order a close watch on returning officers and assign them to posts where they will have a minimum of contact with important elements in the armed forces.

Inspired by Dog

According to legend, one of the waltzes in Chopin's Opus 64 acquired the sobriquet of the "Dog Waltz" because it was inspired by the sight of George Sand's dog chasing its own tail.

The maximum annual earnings now subject to the Social Security tax is $6,600. Under the pending bill this would increase to $7,800 next year.

Pair Captured in Bank Holdup

DETROIT (AP) — Two men captured by Detroit police Friday in a gun battle after an attempted $107,000 bank robbery are being held in Wayne County Jail today in lieu of $50,000 bond each.

Police said the two, Daniel Singal, 25, and Preston Nathan Barron, 25, both of Detroit, attempted to rob a Detroit Bank and Trust Co. branch office on the city's Northwest Side.

The two men, both of whom police said had long criminal records, were turned over to the FBI for prosecution on federal bank robbery charges.

Police said they captured the men during a running gunfight at the bank. No one was reportedly injured, but a scout car was damaged by gunshots.

MONEY SCATTERED

As they fled on foot, the robbers left money strewn through an alley behind the bank, police said. Residents in the area assisted officers and bank employees in collecting the bills, police said.

They said that all but about $100 was accounted for in a quick check after the money was gathered up.

LYNNE KLINE

Ninth Grader Teen of Week

Pontiac's Teen of the Week has ambitions to enter the medical field.

She's Lynne Kline, a ninth grader at Washington Junior High School.

"If everyone in the world would try a little harder to understand the people around them, we would live in a better place," she said. "Understanding is the key to peace."

Lynne has an A-1 grade average and participates in many school activities: ninth-grade choir, glee club, Charalaires, school newspaper of which she is treasurer, ninth-grade play, ski club and office assistant.

A current holder of the school's silver "W," she hopes to earn the gold "W" this year.

Out of school, Lynne likes to camp during the summer and has been a junior counselor. She is a girl scout and a member of the Rae-vens drill team.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Kline, 70 Lincoln, she intends to go to college.

Some Teen-Agers Like to 'Talk Big'--- This Doesn't Mean They Lack Morals

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am so upset I hardly know how to start this letter. While straightening up my teen-aged daughter's room, I came across a letter from a friend of hers in another state. I read it, partly out of curiosity, and partly to determine if it was something which could be discarded. I was horrified at the filthy language, and also at the girl's delight in having found a theater which shows only dirty movies!

This letter also describes family possessions and "vacations." But Abby, I know the girl's parents and correspond with them, and this girl was writing lies. What should I do? Now I suspect my daughter must be responding to these letters in equally filthy language, and since this girl is my daughter's best friend, I must assume that my daughter's tastes run toward dirty movies, too.

Don't these kids know that filling their minds and mouths with garbage will do them no good?

Should I write to this girl's mother and tell her to talk with her daughter? Should I talk with my daughter and tell her what I've learned? Or by age 15, are we too late to shape our children's morals?

A FAILURE
DEAR "FAILURE": If you have done your best to shape your daughter's morals, you need not consider yourself a "failure." Some teen-agers feel "big" and grown-up using gutter language, exaggerating and even lying a little for effect, but that doesn't mean they are "no good." If they have been properly brought up (and even the best reared children have gone through this stage) they will outgrow it.

At the appropriate time, subtly warn your daughter that mucking around in the lower registers of speech and entertainment can be habit forming. In the meantime, keep the avenues of communication open between you and your daughter, and don't shake her confidence in you by letting her know that you were snooping. You were, you know.

DEAR ABBY: This isn't my problem, it's my sorority sister's. She really is a swell kid, and she's not dumb or anything like that, but she doesn't come over very strong. She's not bad looking, but this poor kid can't seem to get any dates on her own.

We've fixed her up with several real sharp guys, but they never ask her out again because she's so quiet. They all say it's like pulling teeth to get a word out of her. Any suggestions? A. E. PHIL

DEAR A. E. PHIL: Yes. Get her a date with a dental student.

DEAR ABBY: We have a real problem in our neighborhood. Every morning at three our neighbor woman wakes up the entire neighborhood. She is a nurse and has to be at work at four, so she leaves her house at three. When she backs out of her garage she honks her horn. Then her husband, who is a doctor, waves to her from the window, she honks again, waves back to him and drives off. This is terribly annoying to the neighbors. Abby, but they are such lovely people we hate to mention it. If you print this, perhaps they will take the hint. I know they read your column.

WIDE AWAKE AT 3 A.M.
DEAR WIDE: All right. I've done my part. If you get any more honking from Florence Nightingale, call her husband and ask him to give you something for your nerves.

DEAR ABBY: You were so right when you advised "WORRIED NEIGHBOR" to tell her neighbor what her teen-aged daughters were up to while they were

She's Not "Newcomer" to Organizational Task

By JUNE ELERT

When Marian Kirberg moved into her new home in Sylvan Lake City about a year ago, there was a great deal of bustle and activity for a few days until the movers had gone, the children began attending school and her husband, Ron, went off to work.

TRUTH SETS IN

Then, "Oh," she said, "how quiet it was. And I knew the phone would not ring. Because nobody knew us here."

It was not her first experience of this kind. Ron's job in engineering research for Chrysler Corporation has taken them in the past eight years from Pennsylvania to Ohio, Utah, New Orleans and Sylvan Lake.

In each of the moves, Marian has found a Newcomers' Club which has helped her become acquainted with people and activities.

A call to the YWCA here revealed that a club for Newcomers was "in the works" and Marian ended up with the job of "temporary" chairman.

An experience as organizer of a club in East New Orleans qualified Marian for this job.

Now boasting 15 members, the YWCA's Newcomers' Club has elected officers for 1968, with (you guessed it!) Marian as president; Mrs. Forrest Sledge of Draper Street (a native of North Carolina), vice-president; Mrs. Leon Renner of Cooley Lake Road (from Ohio), secretary; and Mrs. William Perry of Argyle Street (from Marysville), treasurer. Installation will take place in January.

The new club meets regularly on the third Thursday of each month, at the "Y." Due to the holiday season, the meeting this month will be Thursday and features a demonstration of the making of Christmas decorations.

On the day of our interview, Marian had spent the afternoon at the Angel Glow Card Benefit, for which the little group has assumed responsibility for decorations and food and some of the publicity. Proceeds of that event go to the "Y's" World Relief Fund.

HELP WOMEN

Marian says the purpose of a Newcomers' Club is to help women meet people and become acquainted with what the community has to offer.

Pontiac's cultural calendar has helped here. Another of its aims is to work for community philanthropic projects. She feels "everyone should contribute something of themselves to community betterment."

Club plans include daytime and evening activities; cards, sports, arts and crafts, etc.

The group is already publishing a newsletter.

Membership is open to any newcomer (woman) to the area, regardless of race, color or creed. A newcomer is defined as one who has lived here five years or less.

The club will not espouse any political cause nor engage in any political activity.

A registered nurse, Marian has not worked at her profession since her oldest son, David, was born 11 years ago. She has a daughter, Kristin, age 9 and another son, Mark, age 7.

Hobbies are shared with Ron and the children and include star-gazing with a 500 power telescope; rock-polishing; music and books.

Mrs. Warren Eierman, Bloomfield Hills, is a woman who believes in getting ready ahead of time. This week she held the first committee meeting for the May 8 bazaar of St. Joseph Mercy Hospital Women's Auxiliary. Mrs. Eierman is chairman of the arts and crafts booth. This will be the Auxiliary's first bazaar in which everything is handmade. Above are some of the items under consideration.

Karen S. Nelson Repeats Vows in Ceremonies

Christ Lutheran Church was the setting this morning for the wedding of Karen Sue Nelson and James Edward Proudfoot.

Attended by her maid of honor, Shirley Nelson, the bride was gown in an A-line silhouette of taffeta with an overlay of Alencon lace.

A floor length train complemented her gown.

To secure her bouffant illusion veil, the bride chose a star shaped headpiece outlined with pearls. She carried roses and carnations.

Best man honors were performed by the bridegroom's brother, Robert. Their parents are the Harold N. Proudfoots of Silver Sands Drive.

Other members of the wedding party were bridesmaids Mrs. Henry Buero, Karen Smith and Jean Proudfoot with Faith Smades as flower girl.

Timothy and Thomas Krefz and John Spina acted as groomsmen with Henry Buero and Larry Smades ushering. James Tedder was ring bearer.

A reception at Guinn's banquet hall followed the ceremony.

James Proudfoot and his bride, the daughter of the Walter Nelsons of Jerome Street, are honeymooning in upper Michigan.

Local Women's Groups Schedule Near-Future Christmas Parties

Final preparations for a Christmas banquet were discussed at a recent meeting of Iota Nu chapter of Beta Sigma Phi.

The pre holiday affair, chaired by Mrs. Martin Weikel, is scheduled for Dec 16. After the banquet the James Talley will host a party in their Crescent Lake Road home.

Mrs. James Talley and Mrs. Gerald Haney followed the discussion with a report on Monday's City Commission meeting.

To complete the evening, Mrs. Ronald Applegate addressed the group on the "Art of Dress." She was followed with a short program by hostess, Mrs. Robert Lally of Walled Lake.

The auxiliary of the Italian American Club will hold a children's Christmas party Sunday from 4 to 6 p.m. at the club on North Tilden Street.

Group Pledges Three

Members of Phi Gamma Eta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi gathered Thursday evening to witness the pledge ceremony for Susan Neilson, Linda Weston and Mrs. Herbert Harroun.

The three new pledges were introduced by Mrs. Terry Snyder with Mrs. Dennis Louiska administering the ritual. She was assisted by Jean Keefe.

Hostess for the affair was Mrs. Joseph Jurkiewicz of Fusha Court.

Cochairmen are Mrs. Giulio Bernero and Mrs. Kenneth Hastings. Proceeds of a candy sale will be used for the making of Christmas baskets for the needy families, under direction of Mrs. Rudolph Fortino.

The engagement of Barbara Burnside to Spec. 4 Jon Richman, USA is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William D. Burnside of Chalfont, Penn. The prospective bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Richman of Ottawa Drive, is currently serving in the 6th ACR at Ft. Meade, Md.

working evenings. I was in exactly the same situation. I knew that the young girl next door was taking advantage of her parents' working nights, but I kept quiet because I didn't want any hard feelings.

Now I have a guilty conscience over a hasty wedding and two sets of bride-nursed parents. Perhaps if I had told those parents in a friendly way, I could have headed off the trouble that caused the mess.

Trousseau and Floral Arrangements Take Lead in Wedding Costs

NEW YORK (AP) — Lynda Bird Johnson's wedding to Martin Luther King Jr. cost $262,850, Women's Wear Daily said today.

The fashion publication said the two biggest items would be Lynda Bird's trousseau and the outlay for flowers, estimated at $10,000 each. It figured the champagne bill at $5,000.

"It shapes up — for the Robbs and Johnsons — as still a pretty good bargain when contrasted with Luci Johnson's $75,000 'small family style ceremony' 16 months ago at the National Shrine," the newspaper commented.

"Using the White House this time around afforded a chance for daddy to cut a few corners as he confirmed just the other day in a talk to some sympathetic businessmen. They too, know how tough—and costly it can be to marry off a daughter, even if you are President and have plenty slashed away here and back home at the ranch.

"This time, there is no need to hire sleek, black limousines — or virtually to renovate the huge cathedral across town.

Women's Wear Daily broke down the estimated wedding and honeymoon costs this way:

Lady Bird's gown, $500; the bride's gown, $2,000; wedding veil, $400; trousseau, $10,000; flowers, $10,000; bridesmaids' dresses, $2,000; gifts for bridesmaids, $50; heated lawn tent for reception, $5,000; champagne, $5,000; and hotel rooms for bridal party, $750. Wedding night hotel suite, $150; honeymoon, $5,000; food, $5,000; wedding cake, $1,000; orchestra, $3,500; Marine string quartet, $1,000; police patrol, $2,500; salaries for White House press staff, $9,000; minister and wife plane fare and fee, $500.

Lady Bird Chooses Silk Aqua Attire

The First Lady has chosen a long-sleeved, high-necked dress of aquamarine patterned silk highlighted with gold threads, with the neckline and cuffs embroidered with sparkling beads for her daughter's wedding. The slightly fitted dress features a panel in front.

Mrs. Johnson will wear a satin bow in the back of her brown hair and matching aqua set shoes. Her matching satin barrel shaped purse completes the outfit.

Mrs. James Robb of Milwaukee, mother of the groom, has selected a nun to design her clothing for the wedding.

Sister Marie Aloyse, coordinator of the fashion design course at Mount Mary College in Milwaukee, created a gold silk falconer style coat dress with a mandarin collar and a side closing for Mrs. Robb.

The frock to be worn by the slim and stylish Mrs. Robb, who also works in fashion, is accented with four gold buttons set with green stones made by Sister Rosemaria, who also teaches at Mount Mary.

The groom's mother will also wear fern green shoes, a small circle hat of the dress fabric trimmed with a tailored bow of grosgrain in fern green.

Sister Aloyse studied fashion at the Chicago Art Institute and also was graduated from the Drexel Institute of Technology in Philadelphia.

President Johnson, who will give his daughter Lynda in marriage today, arrives at a club in Washington's Georgetown section last evening for a rehearsal dinner. Lynda Bird Johnson will be-

Former Priest, Nun Announce Son's Birth

WAUKESHA, Wis. (UPI) — A former Roman Catholic priest and his wife, a former nun, have become parents of a son, it was disclosed Thursday.

Records at Waukesha County Court House showed the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Jurth was born at Occonomowoc Memorial hospital.

The couple was married last March. He formerly was a Pallotin priest and his bride was released from her vows as a Franciscan nun in 1966.

Kurth, 38, is employed by Goodwill Industries of Wisconsin as a rehabilitation counselor.

Style Is in the Bag With Wood or Crystal Beads

Travel knows no season. This versatile travel handbag created by Hilde Walborg starts its tripping south now, goes straight through into spring and summer vacation wardrobe plans. In crocheted straw so that it is marvelously light in weight, the bag, a commodious carry-all that wears two top handles for easy toting, has the added attraction of a net-like outer pocket in which to stash away reading matter or any last minute necessities. Even non-travelers will relish this handy handbag since it's great for shopping excursions too.

Mini clothes cry for mini bags. So Walborg takes wood beads, unexpectedly combines them with velvet ribbon and comes up with this sassy little swinger, soft and crushy in shape, the better to open up to a surprisingly roomy interior. It's hung on shoulder strapping of the wood beads that via a twist becomes a long double top handle. Ideal resort wardrobe accessory, the bag can carry on into spring with equal fashion éclat.

To sparkle by day, the chunkiest of crystal beads translated by Hilde Walborg into a marvelously commodious carry-all, topped by a pair of squared off bracelet handles. In varied combinations of bright colors or white with bright, this is the handbag to accent a multitude of costumes in resort-bound wardrobes or for any warm weather climes.

Tuesday Musicales Slates Program

The annual Christmas program of Pontiac Tuesday Musicales will be at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday in the Sanctuary of Central Methodist Church.

Cesar Franck's "Prelude for Organ and Piano, Opus 18" will be presented by Mrs. W. A. Schmitz, piano accompanist for the group, and Miss Myers. Mrs. Schmitz is organist at St. Michael's Church.

Mrs. P. C. Gehman will sing "Rise Up, Shepherd, and Follor."

Bizet's "Agnus Dei" will be sung by Mrs. W. R. Mercer.

Mrs. Richard M. Fitzgerald will perform a violin solo accompanied by Sandra Myers, organist at Central Methodist Church.

Mesdames J. B. Forman, R. T. Norvell, W. H. Sink and H. G. Woolcock.

Social chairmen for the day are Mrs. D. E. Redmond and Mrs. William Shunck, assisted by Mesdames: Charles Matson Jr., Otis Briney, James Graybiel, George Zannoth, Harvey Perry and Leo Halpenny.

Mrs. John C. Napley and Mrs. W. L. Belaney are in charge of floral arrangements.

Item Correction on Voted Funds

Members of Xi chapter, Delta Kappa Gamma, voted at their Tuesday meeting in Devon Gables to make contributions to the memorial fund established for Katherine Baker, to give financial support to the United Negro College fund and to the Paperbacks Project of the Peace Corps.

Due to a misunderstanding this was incorrectly reported in Thursday's issue.

It is estimated that there are some 800 million untreated dental cavities in the United States alone.

Encourage Gift Notes

DEAR POLLY — Teaching children to write thank-you notes can be a problem, and with Christmas coming most mothers will be faced with it again. I have found an easier way with my youngest boy.

I bought a name stamp for him. He puts this on a plain sheet of paper which he has folded in half for his very own personal thank-you notes. This makes the job more interesting for this one as my other boys though letter writing was just for girls. — FLORENCE

DEAR POLLY — Children just do not like to write letters. To solve the problem, get pretty picture post cards that show your city or any other nearby places of interest. Rule pencil lines on them and have the child write just two or three sentences as thank-you notes for gifts.

They can be quickly done, before interest lags. Grandparents, other relatives and especially cousins their own age love them. Good habits are more easily established in a pleasant way. — MARY E.

DEAR POLLY — I hope one of the girls can tell me how to prevent mildew. When our house was recently remodeled the small closets were sheet-rocked on the inside and now some of our clothes have mildew on them — LOUISE

DEAR POLLY — My suggestion is for newlyweds who may not have decorations for their first Christmas tree. If the bride has saved the bows from her shower and wedding gifts they can be used as very impressive ornaments.

We used only tree lights and different-colored bows as ornaments. With a needle and thread, run through the bow to make a loop for the hanger. Two small bows could even be tacked together. The variation in types, colors and sizes make lines on them and have the child write just two or three sentences as thank-you notes for gifts.

A NEWLY WED

DEAR POLLY — I am a volunteer worker in a nursing home and in our activities therapy class we help the patients cut nylon stockings for filling small pillows. Cutting them in pieces makes the pillows fluffier and easier to wash. Hope this helps M. R. — PAULINE

BRANDON, Fla. (AP) — "Astrology helps us to know ourselves and others. It shows us our weak points as well as our strong ones and helps to strengthen our weak points," believes Mrs. Teresa Maddux, a native of Dublin, Ireland, who first became interested in the subject while doing graduate work at the University of London.

After studying for a year with the English astrologer who prepared charts on Hitler, Rommel and Montgomery for Winston Churchill during World War II, Mrs. Maddux continued courses for 14 years in this country. She often speaks to clubs and other groups on astrology, which she finds helps in dealing with people.

MEN WANT FACTS

"I'm delighted at the number of professional men who understand astrology and ask intelligent questions," she observed. "Men are very interested and want to know the facts, but women don't want other women to know why they are the way they are."

in Ceremony

Carrying a bouquet of white roses with carnations, Patsy Ann Matlock became the bride of William Kenneth Knight today in St. Joseph's Catholic Church.

For the noon ceremony, the bride chose a traditional ensemble styled with Chantilly lace and tulle.

A petaled headpiece, frosted with sequins and pearls, secured her elbow length veil.

Mary Knight and Paul Basiglow attended the couple. Patricia Knight was bridesmaid and James LeMarble as groomsmen.

Following the wedding, the bride couple and their parents, the William P. Matlocks of Maynard Court and Mr. and Mrs. James Knight of Lake Orion, joined guests at the Knights of Pythias Hall in Oxford for a reception.

William Knight and his bride will make their home in Lake Orion.

GENOA, Ohio (AP) — While other little girls were playing with dolls, Darla Jean Dunn gave her care and attention to insects, snakes and caterpillars, and at the age of 15 she still lavishes her affection on animal, fish, bug and reptile pets.

She rides her bicycle with a 2 1/2-foot fox snake wrapped around her arm and has a number of turtles and frogs, as well as her most recent acquisition — two baby albino garter snakes. She even raises mosquitoes to feed her frogs.

While some visitors may find her menagerie a bit unnerving, Darla's mother takes a tolerant view of her hobby. She majored in Biology in college and it was she who taught her daughter how to mount her butterfly collection.

Lynda's Chuck an All American Type Guy

"Chuck" or "Charlie" — he is called by both nicknames — at one time helped his father run an unsuccessful dude ranch in Arizona, sold newspapers to help pay for his mother's cancer operation, won a college scholarship and joined the Marine Corps through Naval Reserve Officers Training (NROTC).

REGULAR GUY

He is generally respected and liked by everyone with whom he comes in contact. He is considered a "regular guy."

Robb is 6-foot-1 1/4 and weighs 180 pounds. Lynda is 5-foot-9 1/4.

If he has any faults — and Lynda says he doesn't — it is that he has a reputation among his friends of being tight with his money, and he reads few books because it takes too much time.

In describing her feelings about her fiancé, Lynda told reporters: "As a girl, you dream of finding the perfect man and you specify what attributes he should have. Then, when you find the right man you fit him to those specifications."

Robb said he was first attracted to Lynda by her physical beauty and became more enamored because of her keen mind and sense of humor.

The couple became acquainted over the bridge table when they were paired in a game in the course of his duties as a White House military aide. Robb had known Lynda about a year before they fell in love. He began making a pitch for her hand after she broke up with actor George Hamilton last July.

It was considered typical of him that, in discussing his forthcoming Vietnam duty early next year, he said, "I would like naturally to go over there and be treated precisely the same way had I gone over there under any other circumstances."

He views marriage as "a partnership" requiring mutual love, respect and understanding.

Both he and Lynda want children. "But the time or number we may leave up to a little higher authority."

FACTS ABOUT PHARMACY

Tongue of Strife Lashes Language-Cleft Nations

CHRISTIAN LITERATURE SALES
55 Oakland Ave. FE 4-9591

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. — A Canadian proposal to place French on an official par with English in bilingual Canada highlights a language problem that has caused strife and bloodshed in other nations.

Disagreement over choice of an official tongue in nations where two or more languages are spoken has touched off dissent in Ireland, rioting in Belgium and scores of deaths in In-

Linguistics have caused confusion in Switzerland, which has three official tongues—French, German and Italian. Luxembourg made both German and French working languages, but most of its people stick to their native Luxembourg language.

Throughout Central and South America, Spanish is the official

TO AVERT CRISIS

The Canadian government report said equal status for French should avert the great crisis in the history of the 100-year-old Canadian Confederation, a crisis marked by separatist riots and terror bombings in French-speaking Quebec.

The plan received immediate support in Canada's House of Commons, but some Quebec separatists claim it does not go far enough.

The quest for a unifying tongue has been one of India's thorniest problems since independence was won 20 years ago.

The subcontinent's 500 million people speak 13 major languages and countless dialects.

The Indian constitution provides that Hindi—spoken by about 30 per cent of the population—should become the national tongue. But a vocal minority, especially in India's south, has violently opposed any switch to Hindi and threatened two years ago to bring down the government. As a result, English remained the nation's "associate" official language.

RIOT OVER ENGLISH

Only this week rioting broke out over a government bill to give English official status in non-Hindi-speaking areas. About 1,000 students raged through Old Delhi tearing down English signs.

Linguistic strife in southern India has taken at least 60 lives and there has been violence elsewhere over the language question.

Belgium, as host country to the Common Market, has become a symbol of unification of Western Europe. But Belgium itself has long been torn by a "linguistic frontier."

North of this irregular line are the farmlands of Flanders, inhabited by five million Flemings who speak Flemish, a variety of Dutch. South of the border, in Belgium's industrial belt, live four million Walloons who speak French.

The government attempted two years ago to make Dutch the official language of the north and French that of the south, instead of having both tongues official throughout the nation. The move was voted down.

Party leaders have carefully avoided forcing the issue for fear of a recurrence of the language riots that nearly engulfed Belgium in civil war in 1961. In Ireland, where nationalist resentment still burns over decades of British rule which nearly obliterated the ancient Gaelic made to make Gaelic the official language.

Sunnyvale Girls Entertain Guests

Beginning the first week in from the third grade through the special grandmothers, Grace Miller and Helen Streeter of the Pontiac Lake Nursing Home. They attend special programs at Christmas, Thanksgiving, and today are guests at the 1 p.m. luncheon when Pioneer Girls entertain their Pals and Moms. Mrs. Fred Reich of Detroit is principal speaker.

CORSAGE FOR GRANDMA — Denise Carriger of 92 Crescent Lake, Waterford Township pins a corsage on Grace Miller during a luncheon at Sunnyvale Chapel, Waterford Township today. Two older women of Pontiac Nursing Home whom the girls adopted as grandmas are guests at the Pal, Gal and Moms luncheon of Pioneer Girls. The girls remember the two women with gifts and fruit baskets at Christmas, Thanksgiving and Valentine's Day. They will sing carols at the nursing home during Christmas holidays.

MAKE COSTUMES — Karen Thayer of 3674 Meinrad, Waterford Township (left) and Lilian Wooten of 80 Seminole (right) measure the length of material on Denise Acord of 4189 Solvay, Waterford Township, as they proceed to make a costume for the play entitled "Home for Christmas." The play will be presented by Pioneer Girls of Sunnyvale Chapel on the evening of Dec. 17 at the church. This is the junior high age group.

Pioneer Girls is similar to Girl Scouts with special emphasis on religious training. PRACTICE PLAY Currently the Colonists are rehearsing for the play, "Home for Christmas," to be presented Dec. 17. The girls are making their own costumes for the performance scheduled for 7 p.m. The Junior Choir will sing.

When weather permits Pioneer Girls enjoy campouts, hikes and swimming. Cake bakes, memorizing Scripture and just getting together are indoor activities.

Leaders of the groups include Mrs. Elsie-Joyce, Mrs. Yvonne Scheurmann, Mrs. Barbara Williams, Mrs. Pearl Kinter and Mrs. Faye Carriger directors.

Mrs. Carriger is also director of the play. Dick Whittenburg is Junior Choir director and Mrs. Whittenburg, pianist.

All children are welcome to join the Pioneer Girls, the Rev. V. L. Martin said.

PROGRAM FOR BOYS Sunnyvale Chapel's program for boys is held each Thursday. This group, called the Boys' Brigade, is open to boys of the community.

Instead of an exchange of gifts, the Women's Missionary Auxiliary will bring gifts for the missionary bazaar when members gather for the annual Christmas party at 7:30 Friday evening.

Present Plans

The Rev. V. L. Lewis, pastor of St. James Missionary Baptist urges all members to be present at the 11 a.m. service tomorrow when recommendations for 1968 will be presented to the congregation for adoption.

OPEN HOUSE — Little two-year-old Meridith Andrew loves to look at the pictures of Raggedy Ann and Raggedy Andy on the quilt her mother, Mrs. Douglas Andrew, will have on display from 1 to 4 p.m. tomorrow at the Open House in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints. The quilt is one of many made for the relief of needy members of the denomination. The public is invited to the open house when tours of the church are scheduled. Films presenting the belief of the congregation will be shown. The church is located at 425 N. Woodward, Bloomfield Hills.

Church, College Choirs Offer Christmas Music

The Senior Choir of King of Kings Lutheran Church, Lake Orion will present the "Messiah" by Handel at 3 p.m. on Dec. 17.

Included in the performance will be arrangements of the following numbers from the original score as "Comfort Ye," "He Shall Feed His Flock" and "For Unto Us a Child Is Born."

The final number will be the well known "Hallelujah Chorus" from Handel's Messiah.

Soloists include Sue Beckwith, Keith Coble, Francis Spry and Betty Utterback. Eleanor Beaver is organist and Coble, conductor.

CENTRAL METHODIST A Citywide Community Christmas concert will be held at 3:30 p.m. on Dec. 17 in Central Methodist Church. Among groups participating will be the Jackson Chorale, Elks Mile Chorus, Madrigal Singers of Pontiac Northern High School, Vocal Singers Ensemble of Waterford Kettering High School, Waterford Township High School Choir and a Capella Choir of Pontiac Central High School.

FIRST PRESBYTERIAN BIRMINGHAM The six youth choirs of First Presbyterian Church, Birmingham will combine to present of a series of programs being given by the choir in the Detroit Metropolitan area.

The Calvin High School Choir will be hosts to the Alma singers for dinner preceding the concert. The local young people will provide lodging for the group following the concert.

The Alma Choir now in its 36th season with 66 members is under the direction of Dr. Ernest Sullivan.

The Alma concert will feature guest soloist, Mary Beth Peil, a young performer with the Metropolitan Opera National Co. A graduate of Northwestern University, she has received a number of grants for study.

Following the benediction a youth choir seated in the balcony will sing "Silent Night."

CHANCEL CHOIR The 13th annual concert offering the Christmas portion of Handel's Messiah will be presented by the Chancel Choir of 110 voices and orchestra in First Presbyterian Church, 1669 W. Maple at 8 p.m. on Dec. 17.

Soloists include Carolyn Grimes, Barbara Windham, Kenneth Ish, and Amasa Tiffany. John Cataldo will serve as concertmaster with Mildred G. Ritter, organist.

L. Robert Slusser, minister of music, will conduct. A reception for members of the choir and orchestra will follow in Metropolitan Opera National Co. Knox Auditorium. The service is open to the public.

Speak-Up Sessions End with Mass

How to manage the next stage of what is turning out to be the biggest town meeting in history will be worked out by 175 Catholic laymen, nuns, Brothers and priests at a meeting scheduled for today in Sacred Heart Seminary, Detroit.

The occasion is the Second General Convocation of the Roman Catholic Archdiocese of Detroit Synod, which has been in preparation since April 1966. It is expected to continue into the summer of 1968.

Some nine or more speak-up groups meeting in homes of each Catholic parish in the Pontiac area meeting ended sessions with a Mass in the home this week.

Already over 8,500 groups have participated in Synod meetings. Over 1 million Catholics men, women and children are expected to be involved in final plans.

The new-style Synod has to find its own patterns as it goes along.

In the old style Archdiocesan synods the Archbishop sat down with priests and some lay leaders to work out rules to govern the church for the next 10 years.

In the new-style Synod, Archbishop John F. Dearden is refusing to take part in any discussions until the rank and file of the 1.5 million Catholics in his eight-county Archdiocese have their say on the way post council Catholicism should be practiced.

MASS IN HOME — The Rev. David A. Britz, an assistant pastor of St. Michael's Catholic Church, offers Mass to one of the speak-up groups meeting in homes to discuss changes in the Catholic Church. Father Britz is shown with Jovita Benavides of 60 Marquette and Ronald Fleming of 606 Second, host to the gathering Thursday evening.

Ecumenical Service Set for Sunday

An ecumenical Scripture service in support of open housing legislation will be held in St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church, 150 F. Wide Track at 3 p.m. tomorrow.

Speakers include Rabbi Israel Goodman, spiritual leader of Congregation B'nai Israel and president of Pontiac Pastors' Association; and the Rev. Charles A. Colberg, pastor of Gloria Dei Lutheran Church and president of Pontiac Area Council of Churches.

Other speakers will be the Rev. Edward Konopa, pastor of St. Michael's Catholic Church; the Rev. C. George Widdifield, rector of All Saints Episcopal Church; the Rev. A. N. Reid, pastor of Newman AME Church; and the Rev. Edwin Schroeder, pastor of Our Lady of Refuge Catholic Church, Orchard Lake.

All people of the Pontiac area are invited to participate in the Bible readings and prayer for open housing laws to be passed at the city and state levels. The Rev. Arthur Oldani is host pastor.

Services for Deaf at Assembly of God

Special services for the deaf and hard of hearing are conducted in the sign language each Sunday at 11 a.m. in First Assembly of God Church, 210 N. Perry at Widetrack.

A class is taught each Thursday evening for any hearing persons who are interested in learning the sign language.

The public is welcome to attend any of the meetings or services, according to Carol S. Smith, pastor of the First Assembly of God Deaf Church.

Christmas Program
Is Tuesday

The Woman's Mission Society Methodist Church, Rochester for first Baptist Church, Birmingham will hold the annual Christmas program entitled "Christmas High Notes" at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Ella Lull will present evening devotions.

Four area women including Mrs. William Hoymeyer, Mrs. Walter Conrad, Mrs. J. L. Greenleaf and Mrs. Pauline Sampson will compose the string quartet offering Christmas music.

The Business and Profession Mission at Women's Circle with chairman Mrs. Clint Brinsden will be hostesses for refreshments which follow. The event is open to the public.

The world will never have lasting peace so long as men re-confessed often with Mahatma Gandhi and Pandit Nehru was consulted during the preparation of the present constitution.

When famine threatened millions in India in 1950, Bishop Pickett on the request of Prime Minister Nehru appealed to the United States government to make wheat and other food grains available.

Missionary Leader,
Minister to Preach

Guest speaker at St. Luke's Methodist Church, Rochester for tomorrow will be Bishop J. Wessan Pickett of the Methodist Church in India.

He will preach at the 11 a.m. worship service.

During his 46 years in India, Bishop Pickett was for 20 years president of the Council on Medical Work of the Methodist Church in Southern Asia. He was closely associated with educational and missionary institutions in India, Burma and Pakistan.

Organizer of the Christian Mission to Nepal, he helped build up a missionary force of more than 100 which now runs three hospitals and several educational institutions in the Himalayan kingdom.

Bishop Pickett has known the leaders of India during the long struggle for independence. He conferred often with Mahatma Gandhi and Pandit Nehru was consulted during the preparation of the present constitution.

When famine threatened millions in India in 1950, Bishop Pickett on the request of Prime Minister Nehru appealed to the United States government to make wheat and other food grains available.

Pontiac Central Falls; Northern Shatters Scoring Record

Tall Indians Win Over Chiefs, 75-60

DON VOGEL
FLINT — How do you stop a team whose big men hit from the outside as well as near the basket?

Pontiac Central was unable to come up with the answer here last night and dropped a 75-60 decision to Flint Central in the opening Saginaw Valley Conference game for both schools.

This also was the initial outing of the season for Flint Central, a state Class A finalist last spring and well stocked with veterans. The loss evened Pontiac's overall mark at 1-1.

The Chiefs appeared to be out of contention after falling behind, 43-29, in the first half and losing top scoring threat Alton Wilson on fouls with nearly three minutes left in the third quarter. But they fought back gamely and, capitalizing on some Flint ball handling mistakes, cut the margin to five points with 3:40 to play. The Pontiac fans in the near-capacity crowd of 1,800 at Bal-lenger fieldhouse began to smell a possible upset.

But with 1:48 remaining, Dwight Pinnix made a jumper to up the count to 67-60 and the Indians pulled away via free throws as the Chiefs were forced to foul in an attempt to halt a Flint stall.

Frank Russell of Pontiac Central took game scoring honors with 20 points. Teammate Len Cole, who was subbing for 65 Rudy Churchwell, contributed 19. Churchwell missed the game. He suffered cuts on his left hand and arm that required 28 stitches to close after losing a skirmish Thursday with a plate glass window.

STAYED CLOSE

The Chiefs stayed close for most of the first quarter, but the superior rebounding of Flint Central coupled with the outside shooting of 6-6½ Paul Stokes, 6-7 Ken Brady and 6-4 Pinnix began to tell.

The Chiefs didn't help matters by making several bad passes on offense and converting only five of 19 free throws in the first half.

With a lineup that included 6-6 Rick Bower, it is understandable that the Chiefs had trouble under the boards. But Wilson and Walter Causey turned in an outstanding job.

Causey, 6-4, was particularly outstanding as he consistently battled the taller Indians on even turns and repeatedly came up with loose balls.

Pinnix paced the Indians with 19 points followed by Stokes with 15. They led most of the outside damage which thwarted PCH's defense which was geared to close the middle and get as many players near the backboard as possible.

Ron Pruitt, Flint's All-Saginaw Valley quarterback, was the floor leader for the Indians. Like Causey, he was a ball-hawk and several times pounced on wayward balls. He also sparked on defense with several steals.

Flint central used a zone defense that was almost impenetrable. Russell was a consistent outside scorer and Cole picked up most of his points with a yomman job underneath the hoop.

1st Varsity Win for Roeper Team

"Oh, I'll sleep well tonight," said coach Sidney Fox after guiding Roeper School to its first varsity victory last night.

Roeper, a new school, romped past Emmannuel Christian, 74-34. It's the first year for Roeper in the athletic world.

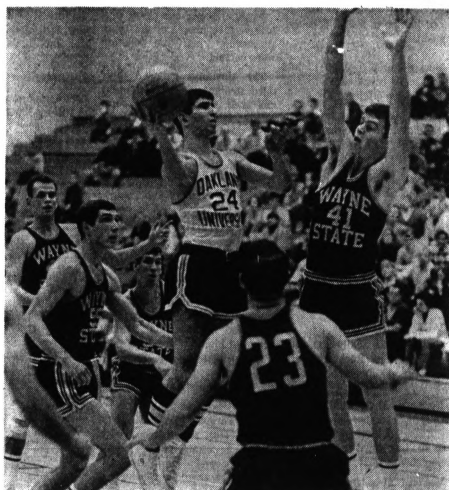

Pacing the victory was Greg Carter with 35 points. Teammate Curtis Blessing added 17.

Manager Back for '68

PITTSFIELD, Mass. (AP) — The Pittsfield Red Sox of the Eastern League announced Friday the re-signing of Manager Billy Gardner for the 1968 baseball season.

TWO POINTS—Jay Shutt (50) of Oakland University flips a shot toward the basket that found its mark in the game against Wayne State last night. Trying to defend Shutt is Wayne's Terence Cupples. Wayne won, 89-79.

IN A CROWD—Oakland University's Gary Lincoln (24) finds himself in a crowd as he gets away a shot against Wayne State University on the OU court last night. Lincoln scored 12 points. Closing in on Lincoln are Martin Goldsmith (23), Michael Czerny (41) and Terence Cupples (55).

Tall Tartars Too Much for Oakland University

The tall Tartars of Wayne State controlled the backboards and the game last night in handing Oakland University's small Pioneers an 89-79 setback.

The loss was the second in a row for the Pioneers, who'll try to get on the winning track this evening as they entertain defending MIAA champion Kalamazoo College. Game time is 8 p.m.

The Tartars gained a 55-26 edge in the rebounding department, and that, coupled with a 50 per cent shooting effort by the visitors, was too much for the Pioneers.

Flyers Return to Top of Western Division

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Philadelphia Flyers are back in first place in the National Hockey League's nip-and-tuck West Division race thanks to goalie Doug Favell's second shutout of the season.

Favell blanked the Los Angeles Kings 3-0 in Friday night's only NHL action, enabling the Flyers to vault over the Kings into first place. Philadelphia has 28 points and Los Angeles 27. Claude LaForte kept the Flyers off in front with a first period goal and then set up Pat Hannigan's second period tally.

WTHS Triumphs; W. Lake Tumbles

In a pair of basketball squeakers, Waterford's Skippers emerged with a three-point victory, while Walled Lake's Vikings were saddled with a defeat by the same margin in action last night.

The Skippers sailed past Lapeer for their second win of the campaign, 81-78, while the Vikings were scuttled by Livonia Stevenson in an Inter-Lakes League contest, 72-69.

Waterford was ready to put a victory in the record books after three periods on the basis of a 65-55 lead, but Lapeer's Panthers caught fire in the fourth frame and almost pulled it out.

Lapeer tied the game at 79-all late in the fourth on a bucket that was wiped out by an offensive foul, and that play took some of the steam from the Panthers' attack. Waterford took advantage of the miscue by scoring a quick basket that put the game out of reach for Lapeer.

The Skippers fell behind in the first period, 16-13, but they stormed back in the second with 22 points to take a 35-33 lead at intermission.

Bill Foley led the Skippers in the third-quarter surge during which they almost broke the game open with 30 points. Foley picked up 10 of his 22 during that frame.

Helping Foley with the scoring chores were Mike Sheldon (13), Gary Pullins (13), Bob Finkle (10) and John Spanburg (10).

Bill DesJardins, who collected 19 rebounds, tossed in 22 markers, a figure matched by teammate John Rice.

A weak second period ruined Walled Lake's bid for its second win of the campaign.

Trailing 18-17 after one period, Walled Lake managed only 12 points in the second while Stevenson poured in 25 to open up a 43-29 lead at halftime.

The Vikings slipped the deficit to three points several times during the second half, but they couldn't put enough together to slow down the Spartans.

Jim Olsen led the winners with 17 points, while teammates Jerry Deter and Bud Daniles contributed 12 apiece.

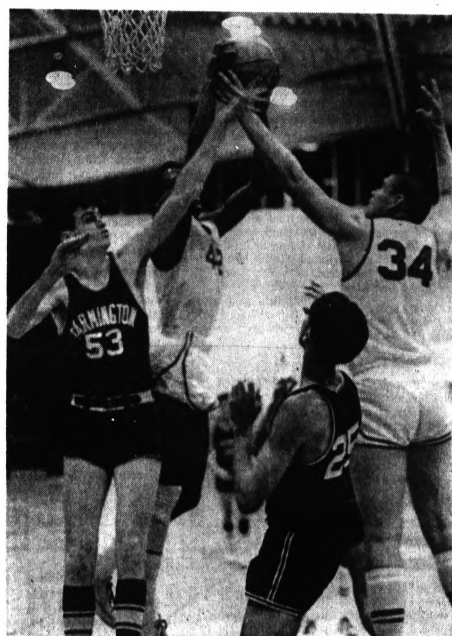

Tim Alderson tossed in 21 to lead Walled Lake and Greg Fogle added 20.

BIGGER REACH FOR HUSKIES—Two-Pontiac Northern players Chuck Moncrief (42) and Gerry McKeever (53) of Farmington for the basketball during the second quarter of their Inter-Lakes League game last night. Doug Hamilton of the Falcons anticipates a possible base ball. The Huskies amassed a 64-48 advantage around the backboards.

LEERY OF LOOSE BALL—Farmington's Mark Lynott (31) and Ron Cleveland seem to be unenthused about grabbing the bouncing ball during the first quarter last night at Northern High School. PNH's Don Hayward is blocked away from the ball.

Howe in Hospital for Treatments of Severe Pains

DETROIT (UPI) — Detroit Red Wings superstar Gordie Howe was hospitalized Friday night with severe stomach cramps and back pain.

Howe, 39, was undergoing treatment for pain, but doctors said they would not diagnose the problem until X-rays and tests were taken today. However, doctors said Howe was responding to initial treatment and appeared much improved.

A Red Wings spokesman said it would not be known whether Howe would play in tonight's game against the New York Rangers until after doctors completed their diagnosis.

Howe, now in his 22nd season, is hockey's all time leading scorer.

PNH's Huskies Rip Farmington in 107-67 Romp

By JERE CRAIG
Pontiac Northern's junior varsity cagers offered the only challenge to the Huskies' varsity Friday night and coach Dick Hall and most of the estimated 1,000 fans thoroughly enjoyed the older crew's response.

The PNH reserves trounced Farmington, 104-35, in the opener to equal the school scoring mark and set a new varsity high; then the Northern varsity shattered the 104 standard with a rollicking 107-67 conquest.

The varsity never trailed. From a 4-0 start the Huskies moved to a 28-10 gap after one period as all the starters quickly had at least one field goal.

With four of them displaying unerring accuracy, PNH shot in front by 20 points early in the second session and Hall began substituting freely.

The reserves contributed 13 points—six by Gerry McKeever — as Northern tallied 32 points in the second quarter for a 60-28 halftime advantage.

The winners hit at a 55 per cent rate in the opening half as Bob Traylor played perhaps the strongest game of his prep career, making 15 of his 19 points and repeatedly soaring high for rebounds.

FUN GAME

The fun continued in the second half. Mike Clancy's nine points (he finished with 19) sparked a 25-point spree.

The reserves, again, took over and after a brief slump as Ron Cleveland, a 6-2 hard-working sophomore, sparked the Falcons (63) on a brief scoring burst, the home team moved at the 104 record.

Lanky Roger Walker's shooting highlighted the bid. He tallied all 12 of his points in the final period. Finally, McKeever's bucket with 55 seconds to play made it 105, and he added one more fielder for 10 points in the game.

For the contest, PNH's substitutes produced 35 of the 107 points. Northern finished with 49 of 92 for 53 per cent from the field. Farmington made only 26 of 81.

Sophomore Chuck Moncrief made an impressive home court debut with 16 points and numerous rebounds. Craig Deaton, the other guard, starting added 14 points and several steals.

The game was marked by 25 turnovers against each team. It was the Inter-Lakes League for both quints.

2 Juniors Sparkle as Hazel Park '5' Tumbles Seaholm

Junior guards Jfin Merchel and Al Petracich of Hazel Park were too much for Birmingham Seaholm Friday night and the Vikings coasted to an 83-67 conquest.

The high-scoring Merchel poured through 35 points in the best scoring outburst this season by an area prep scorer. He continually broke free for fast break baskets off steals by his runningmate Petracich.

Merchel notched 19 of his points in the opening half, and Petracich came through with 11 of his 20 in the final period. The Vikings made 31 of 62 shots for the game.

Tony Metcalfe's 16 points led Seaholm (13). Hazel Park is 3-0. The game was the Southeastern Michigan AA opener for both.

Romeo, Orion Looking Ahead in Cage Race

BREAKING WATER—Oakland University's Mike Campbell heads toward the finish line of the 1,000 yard freestyle in the meet against George Williams College last night in the OU pool. OU won the meet and Campbell won the event in 11:55.1 as the Pioneers set 11 school and pool records.

Dragons Top Rochester; Bulldogs Sting Avondale

By FLETCHER SPEARS
Romeo and Lake Orion have a few pre-Christmas dates on the basketball schedule but both are likely to be looking ahead to a January clash.

With the season just a couple of games old, Romeo and Lake Orion look like the cream of the crop in the Oakland A League.

If all goes well, both will finish this year unbeaten and then start the New Year with a game Jan. 5 on the Romeo court.

that should decide who is going where in the O-A race.

Romeo ran its record to 3-0 in opening the O-A schedule last night with a 70-52 victory over Avondale, while Orion turned in a not-too-impressive 45-41 decision over Rochester.

In the other games, Utica knocked off Clawson, 46-33, and Madison downed Troy, 49-45.

'LOOKED BETTER'

"We've looked better," said Romeo coach Larry Randle, who was a little disappointed with the Bulldogs slow start.

"We'll get better," vowed Avondale coach Nick Niera, adding, "we'll give somebody some trouble."

It was the opener for Avondale and the Yellow Jackets, who looked sharp at the onset, wilted under the defensive pressure and the rebounding strength of the Bulldogs.

Down 10-8 after one quarter, Romeo applied a loose press defense in the second period and it paid off as the Bulldogs took a 27-22 lead at the intermission.

Romeo blew it open in the third with a 23-8 edge, and pushed the lead to 20 points on a couple occasions in the final period.

PACES WINNERS
Donnell Craft, the Bulldogs' 6-5 forward-center, sparked the attack with 24 points and he paced Romeo to a 48-37 rebounding edge.

Mike Sempick pulled up 13 and Fred Castle collected 11 to add to the Romeo offense.

Duane McLaughlin tossed in 20 markers, most of them from close range, and Bob Hurt added 17.

Down 17-14 after a slow first half, the Dragons of Orion tossed in 17 markers in the third stanza to take a 33-29 lead and they held on through the final frame.

Bill Foss paced the Orion attack with 18 points and teammate Rick Totus added 11.

SPARK ROCHESTER
Guards Mike Scally and Gary Sovey sparked Rochester with 13 and 12 points, respectively.

Forward Mike Phillips, who turned in a sharp defensive job on Foss, fouled out with 2:30 left in the third period with Orion ahead, 26-24.

Madison also trailed at halftime, 23-19, but the Eagles poured in 30 markers in the second half to pull out the victory.

Tim Blach paced the winners with 24 points while Dennis Jennings added 10. Gary Griffin tossed in 24 for Troy.

Dennis Meyer (16) and Robin Dilday (14) led Utica past Clawson.

Utica jumped off to a 20-14 lead at halftime and held off the struggling Trojans in the second half. Ralph Wagstaff led Clawson with 12 points.

THE FLOW OF ACTION—Momentum often has been a factor on the basketball court when a game is close. Last night at Northern High School the host Huskies controlled the action practically the entire game. The action literally is flowing to the left as Bob Traylor of PNH comes down with a rebound here. Teammate Don Hayward and an unidentified Farmington player join the flow while still unaffected by the action's "current" are Chuck Moncrief of PNH and the Falcons' Doug Hamilton (right). Northern won, 107-67.

OU Swim Book Changes

The record book on swimming at Oakland University has a lot of new ink today.

The Pioneers of OU cracked nine records and the visiting George Williams College erased a couple more last night and it all added up to an impressive 63-41 victory for OU.

It was the dual-meet debut for the Pioneers, who will entertain Albion College next Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Jim Shirilla, Frank Yedlin, Gary Allard and Ed Engelhart

started the record assault with a 4:00.8 clocking in the 400-yard medley relay for OU.

Allard and Yedlin came back to set marks in other event. Allard turned in a record 2:22.4 in the 200-yard butterfly, while Yedlin lowered the standard in the (2:38.3) 200-yard breaststroke.

Mike Campbell turned in a pair of record performances, winning the 1,000-yard freestyle in 11:55.1 and the 500-yard free in 5:53.9.

Another double-record setter for the Pioneers was Rick Krogstad in the 200-yard backstroke (2:15.9) and the 200-yard individual medley (2:09.2).

Waterford Our Lady Halted by De Sales

Two teams that battled for the Northwest Catholic League title last winter are right back atop the standings this season, and a third unit is making a bid.

Defending champion Orchard Lake St. Mary pulled away from Pontiac Catholic in the third quarter last night for a 77-54 triumph, and coach Farmington Our Lady of Sorrows outdistanced Royal Oak St. Mary, 49-42.

Meanwhile, St. Francis de Sales rallied to nip Waterford Our Lady of Lakes at the buzzer, 66-64, and share the lead at 2-0.

In another thriller, Ferndale St. James withstood Detroit St. Rita's comeback for a 62-61 verdict.

At Orchard Lake, the Eagles' hot shooting finally broke open a close game with a 12-point surge midway in the second half for a 61-44 advantage.

The OLSM background edge and its accurate gunning carried the home team further ahead. The winners finished with a 52 per cent mark after a 55 per cent first half.

Pontiac Catholic's Titans stayed close by scoring at a 50 per cent clip in the opening half. The visitors' Tom Richards scored 14 points to match the effort of Tim Megge for St. Mary.

But the final two periods found the Titans falling off the game as the better balanced home quintet continued its sniping for a final 31-25 field goal advantage.

The absence of scoring and rebounding ace Sam Brady (sidelined with an ailment) handicapped the losers. Catholic meets WOLM Monday night at Madison Junior High.

At St. Francis de Sales, Waterford OLL struggled from a 34-29 halftime disadvantage in to a 63-60 lead with one minute remaining.

However, Gene LaFave tallied a field goal and John Fember matched it for a 64-63 St. Francis lead. Brian Haskins was thrown to tie the score with four seconds to play.

His second shot for WOLM bounced off and the ball went to the Monarchs' Mike Stella out of a scramble. He unleashed a 28-foot jump shot in desperation and it sailed through at the buzzer.

BREATHING — After swimming both the 1,000 and 500 yard freestyle events in which he set school and meet records, Mike Campbell of OU relaxes following a 63-41 victory over George Williams College.

Local College Quintets Post Contrasting Victories

Highland Lakes took an easy enroute to victory last night, while Auburn Hills was pushed into overtime before emerging with its third conference win of the season.

The Nikes handed romped past Mercy College, 76-42, while Auburn Hills worked overtime in taming Delta College, 101-100.

The win raised Auburn Hills record to 4-1 — 3-0 in Michigan Community Junior College Athletic Conference play, and it sets the stage for the Nikes' visit to Port Huron next Wednesday to meet the unbeaten St. Clair County Skippers.

Ron Kirkwood's basket with three seconds left in regulation played enough the Nikes to tie the game at 93-91, and Glenn Lenhoff canced a pair of free throws with time running out in the overtime session to ice the game.

The Nikes trailed, 100-99, when Lenhoff stepped to the free throw line. He swished both and

Rally Keeps Groves' Winning String Intact

Birmingham Groves' winning streak remains intact but the opening night at the new Northwest Suburban Activities Association basketball arena indicates that any team in the circuit could end the Falcons' unbeaten ways.

Groves upped its regular season success count to 36 by overcoming host Franklin, 57-53, at Livonia. The Falcons are home tonight against Royal Oak Kimmels.

North Farmington just squeezed by Detroit Thurston, 75-71; and Oak Park needed one overtime to repel Wayne John Glenn, 76-71.

Groves trailed Franklin for much of their game, finally catching the Patriots at 51-41 midway through the last quarter. Guard Scott Roller broke the final tie at 53 with two free throws, and added two insurance charity tosses in the closing seconds.

He had six of his 11 points in the last period. Jim Cameron led the winners with 25 points and 16 rebounds.

ADVANTAGE
Thurston had a 61-55 third quarter as Verban Rice tallied left in the game. Sparking Sa-11 in his 26 points in the Eagles' line were Fred Franz (11), 28-point period.

The host Raiders, though, fought back and took the lead honors for South Lyon with 67-65. Ron Futur's markers. Sophomore Dave Free tied the score and his field. Brandon tossed in 15 and hauled goal sent the monsters on to the down 20 rebounds.

Northville Halts Milford; Lakers Riddle Holly, 68-47

The Mustangs of Northville continue to kick up their heels in the Wayne-Oakland League basketball race.

Northville was one of the pre-season favorites, and the team is proving that the pollsters were correct.

The Mustangs raced their third straight victory last night and their second in W-O competition by knocking off Milford, 77-40.

In another W-O contest, Brighton came from behind in the fourth quarter to pin a 73-59 setback on Clawsonville.

The triumph kept Northville atop the W-O pack along with the Milford Mustangs. These two meet Jan. 12 in the Mustangs' corral.

NO DOUBT
There was never any doubt in the Milford-Northville scrap.

The Mustangs bolted to a 25-13 first quarter lead and hiked it to 45-27 at intermission.

Leading a well-balanced scoring attack for Northville was Jim Peterson with 22 markers and the 6-3 senior also hauled in 20 rebounds to pace that department.

Trailing 48-45 at the start of the fourth period, Brighton's Bulldogs found the range and tossed in 28 points to pull the game out.

Clarkston Five Whips Andover in Overtime

West Bloomfield's Lakers saw their share of the Wayne-Oakland League basketball lead jump from 25 per cent to 50 per cent Friday night with an impressive 68-47 victory over visiting Holly.

The Lakers benefited when their opening game victim Clarkston dumped Bloomfield Hills Andover, 57-53, in overtime at the nearby Hills' gymnasium.

West Bloomfield upped 11 a mark to 2-0 with another exhibition of good ball handling that fewer baskets on 10 less shots led to percentage shots from the field. It hit 28 of 57 tries for 49 per cent.

Holly, meanwhile, made 13 fewer baskets on 10 less shots for a 32 per cent tempo. Neither team was impressive at the foul line; and the winners had a 37-27 rebounding edge.

The host Lakers opened a 34-21 halftime margin, the pulled away in a 21-point third quarter that saw Gary Hahnfeldt sink three straight shots to break open the contest. The lead grew to 24 points in the period, and was 28 in the final quarter.

Hahnfeldt notched 10 of his 15 points in the third period after teammate Larry Anbing sparked the first half scoring with 10 of 14.

From a 34-26 deficit, Clarkston moved to a 43-36 margin early in the fourth quarter. But Tony May's short hook shot for Andover tied the game at 47 with four seconds to play.

In the overtime, the Barons took a 48-47 lead on May's free throw. Eric Hood's field goal put the visitors ahead, 49-47, but Roger Hershman of Andover hit on a field and a free throw for a 51-49 lead.

Hood then tied it with another field goal and teammate Dick Johnson scored a bucket for a 53-51 advantage. Kurt Marwick of the winners added a free throw but May scored to reduce the margin to 54-53 with less than a minute to play.

The Wolves' Mark Erickson notched a charity toss and after the home quintet lost the basketball without a shot at the tying basket, Hood clinched the game with another close field goal.

Ball Misses Mark, South Lyon Falls

The ball rolled off the rim as the seconds ticked away, and with the missed shot, South Lyon went down to defeat at the hands of Saline, 64-63.

The winners picked up their winning basket with 21 second left in the game. Sparking Saline were Fred Franz (11), 28-point period.

Mann (12) and Bob Kirkpatrick (11).

Scott Bennett took scoring honors for South Lyon with 67-65. Ron Futur's markers. Sophomore Dave Free tied the score and his field. Brandon tossed in 15 and hauled goal sent the monsters on to the down 20 rebounds.

Thumb Fives in Hot Race

Teams in the Southern Thumb League just finished one of the hottest football races in recent years, and early indications are that the basketball race will be as just as heated.

Last night's action left three teams with unbeaten records in league play, but with the balance on hand in the loop, it's unlikely any squad will go through the season unscathed.

Capac (2-0) rolled past Richmond (0-2), 84-66, Anchor Bay (2-0) routed Memphis (0-2), 63-24, New Haven (2-0) nipped Dryden (0-1) in overtime, 58-57, and Almont (1-1), 73-54.

Dryden had what looked like a two-point over New Haven, but the Rockets, who won the league's football championship this fall, tied the game at 56-56 with a basket that came with eight seconds left.

In the overtime, Dryden managed only point but it was enough to keep the Cardinals in the lead until the final 10 seconds when New Haven's Bill Kincaid tossed in a basket to produce the victory.

Kincaid finished with 22 points to take scoring honors, while

Pistons on Road After Home Loss

NEW YORK (AP) — Dave Bing will have to find his shooting eye quickly when the Detroit Pistons take on the New York Knicks tonight in Madison Square Garden.

Bing, the leading National Basketball Association scorer, managed only four points in the first half as the Los Angeles Lakers whipped Detroit 115-103 Friday night in Detroit.

The Knicks, who will have reactivated Bill Bradley with them for tonight's game, were beaten 117-109 by the Philadelphia 76ers Friday. In other NBA games, the Boston Celtics beat the Baltimore Bullets 123-106, the St. Louis Hawks dumped the Cincinnati Royals 101-85, Chicago 137-107 and San Diego thrashed San Francisco 107-107.

In the American Basketball Association, Dallas whipped Anaheim 123-110 and Pittsburgh edged Kentucky 93-89.

Los Angeles jumped to a 10-point halftime lead during Bing's first-half slump. But the slick, 6-foot-3 Detroit guard hit 11 points in the third quarter as the Pistons began a rally which eventually fell 12 points short. Bing ended up with 25 points to top Detroit. Dave DeBusschere and Terry Dischinger each added 16 points.

Aquinas Five Gets Victory in Overtime
GRAND RAPIDS (AP)—Aquinas bled a 55-47 halftime lead but rallied in overtime to knock off Grand Rapids JC 121-117 Friday night in the first round of the Furniture City Classic Basketball Tournament.

In the other first round game, Springfield Arlet led all the way to defeat Grand Valley 97-94.

Grand Rapids battled back to knot the score at 102-all with a rebound shot by Mike Brinks with two seconds to play in regulation time. But Paul Jagels and Denny Patterson of Aquinas combined for nine of their team's 19 overtime points to pull it out.

Patterson led all scorers with 38 points. Jagels added 28. Tom Dykstra of Grand Rapids had 35 points. The loss was a first in seven games. Aquinas now stands 2-2.

Gerald Byrd of Springfield sparked his team to victory over Grand Valley with 26 points. Jim Kerr had 33 for the Grays. Springfield Arlet now has won six of nine games while Grand Valley has lost five in a row.

Spring Arlet met Aquinas this afternoon in the championship round. Grand Valley and Grand Rapids met in a consolation match.

Denver 'Ices' U. of M., 5-2
DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The University of Denver exploded for three goals in the third period Friday night and took a 5-2 Western Collegiate Hockey Association victory over the University of Michigan.

The Pioneers grabbed a 2-1 lead in the first period. Michigan evened the contest in the second period on goals by Bruce Kovack and Doug Glendinning.

The loss was the first of the season for the Wolverines who now are 4-1. Denver evened its record at 4-1.

Special Shoot at Auburn Club
A special turkey shoot is being held today and tomorrow at Auburn Heights Sportsman's Club grounds on Churchill Street.

Larry Castello banked in four goals and assisted on another score in the last minute of play in the 76ers victory over New York. The victory kept Philadelphia one-half game behind Boston in the tight Eastern Division race. Detroit fell to three and one-half games behind.

Wilt Chamberlain topped the 76ers with 26 points and Dick Barnett topped New York with 26, two more than teammate Cazzie Russell.

Tom Saunders sparked a Boston charge which carried the Celtics to 14 straight points and victory over the Bullets. The Celtics, trailing 50-49 and bound 46-30 in the first half, rebounded a hip bruise suffered by Bill Russell, rallied behind Saunders and Sam Jones to win. John Havlicek led Boston with 25 points and Don Ohl topped Baltimore with 26.

2 Rookies Help Dallas Quintet

Chapparrals Triumph in ABA, 123-110

By the Associated Press
The Dallas Chapparrals still have a long way to go, but at least Bob Verga and John Beasley have them moving in the right direction.

The two rookies combined for 58 points, 33 by Verga, to lead the Chapparrals to a 123-110 victory over Anaheim Friday night and move them into a tie for second place in the Western Division of the American Basketball Association.

In the only other game Pittsburgh relied on Charley Vaughn and Art Heyman to sink Kentucky 93-89 in Louisville.

Dallas, playing at home, trailed through most of the first half before Verga and Beasley rallied the Chaps and they outscored the Amigos 35-23 in the third period and 31-27 in the final. Beasley also pulled in 20 rebounds.

Warren Davis had 33 points for Anaheim.

Now tied with Denver at the 500 mark, the victory still left the Chaps 5½ games behind leading New Orleans.

Late Goal Helps MSU Gain 2-2 Tie

EAST LANSING (AP)—Bill Ward planned a goal past goalie Mike Curran with eight seconds to play in regulation play and Michigan State held on to an overtime period to tie North Dakota 2-2 in a Western Collegiate Hockey Association game Friday night.

North Dakota, now 5-1-1 in the league and on the season, had taken a 2-0 lead in the second period when Rod Christensen scored twice within a 39-second span. Wayne Duffett made it 2-1 when he scored for MSU late in the second period.

The Spartans pulled goalie Bob Johnson with eight seconds to play, giving MSU a three-man advantage on the attack, and tied the game, forcing the overtime.

By OSWALD AND JAMES JACOBY

One way to be a really successful fisherman is to learn to think like a fish. The way to be a really successful defensive player is to learn to think like the declarer.

South didn't like to keep re-bidding his five-card heart suit, but the game was a rubber bridge and he had 100 honors. Furthermore, once he got started he never got a real chance to quit.

He won the club lead with his jack and decided his best play would be to take the spade finesse, so he led a spade and finessed dummy's queen at trick two. Then he discarded a diamond on the ace of spades and ruffed a spade with his ten of trumps. West overruled and played ace and eight of diamonds. East was in with the queen and the nine on that second diamond lead. This was an automatic correct false-card. West could hold the seven of diamonds. He couldn't hold the nine because he would have led it.

It was up to East to make the correct play at this point. If West held the missing diamond, East's only hope would be to lead his last spade and hope that it would produce a trump trick for his partner.

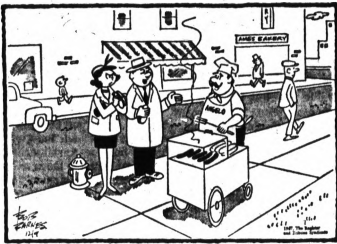

As you can see, the diamond play sets the contract. The spade lead allows South to ruff, draw trumps and get rid of his last diamond on a spade.

How did East figure out that the diamond play was correct? He thought like the declarer. It was rather apparent that South started with nine red cards.

If six were hearts and headed by ace-king, South would simply have played ace-king of trumps once the spade finesse worked and then would have taken a discard of one of his three diamonds. Thus it became apparent that South was trying to handle four little diamonds and had started with only five trumps.

Fire Truck Winner? It's the Police Chief

ROWLEY, Mass. (AP)—The town's volunteer fire department held a raffle to get rid of its 18-year-old fire truck. Tickets were sold for $1 each. Police Chief Robert G. Hardy was the winner Friday, but he said he doesn't want it and will try to sell it. "One department is enough for me," he said.

SANTA and the PIGWIDGEN

By LUCRECIE BEALE

Synopsis: On their way to destroy the Pigwidgen, Claus uses the magic arrow to slay a giant. Later Tweedleknives suits a witch who turns him into a donkey.

CHAPTER NINE THE SNAKE NEST

The donkey gazed at Claus from large brown eyes. He rolled his lips back from his big yellow teeth and swung his heavy head.

"So it's you!" sighed Claus. "You made the witch angry and she bewitched you. Now what are we to do?"

The donkey brayed pitiously. Claus remembered the magic ring the elves had given him. It could be used once to change a creature's shape.

Claus took the ring off his finger and slipped it on the long tail of the donkey. He twisted the ring three times, saying, "Change to your natural shape."

DONKEY VANISHES

The donkey vanished. Patrick Tweedleknives stood there rubbing his ears. "Am I glad to get rid of those donkey ears," he cried. "They itched terribly and I had nothing to scratch with."

"Perhaps I should have left you as you were," said Claus. "It would have kept you out of trouble. Now we have used both the ring and the arrow and still have not met the Pigwidgen."

"Never mind," said Tweedleknives airily. "We have other weapons."

"Yes," said Claus. "But you must be careful and control your temper."

Tweedleknives promised to be very, very good and they continued on their way.

Now it was truly cold. The snow was many feet deep.

As they trudged on with their heads bent against the wind they saw a rabbit shivering in a snow drift.

SCURRIED AWAY

"I will warm him under my coat!" said Tweedleknives. He reached for the little creature. The rabbit took one look at the elf and scurried away.

"What gratitude!" exclaimed the elf.

"Never mind," said Claus. "He doesn't know what's good for him."

"I'll show him," growled Tweedleknives. He ran after the rabbit. The faster he ran the faster the rabbit ran.

RAN AFTER THEM

Claus ran after them both, shouting, "Let him go! What does it matter?"

Suddenly the earth gave way and Tweedleknives plunged headlong into a deep pit while the rabbit went merrily on his way.

Claus crept up and stared over the edge of the pit. "I've fallen in some kind of a trap," puffed Tweedleknives. "Here, help me out."

LEANED DOWN

Claus leaned down but he could not reach the elf. He dragged up a fallen log and dropped one end into the pit.

But Tweedleknives screamed. "It's not a trap! It's a snake nest!"

Claus peered over the side and saw hundreds of snakes wiggling around the elf.

U.S. Aid to Mexican Girl Can't Ease the Bad News

MEXICO CITY (UPI) — Little Ausencia Atciopon doesn't know anything about the United States, except that "some nice people from far away" want to help her.

Ausencia is the 8-year-old Mexican Indian girl whose father complained she had been held hostage in Puebla Civil Hospital because he couldn't afford her surgery bill now totaling about $104. Her right eye was removed because of tumor.

A sadder note was added to Ausencia's story Thursday. Dr. Alfonso Arolo, the assistant superintendent of the Puebla hospital, said doctors have confirmed suspicions that Ausencia has cancer.

"She probably won't recover," Arolo said in a telephone interview.

By Thursday night, offers to pay Ausencia's bill were arriving from the United States in response to a UPI story on her father's plight.

Dr. Arolo said, however, there had been a misunderstanding, because the father speaks an Indian dialect, not Spanish. He said the girl, a pretty dark-haired Otomi Indian, was not being held hostage.

Arolo said that although the father had been asked to try to pay the bill—either in cash or in blood donations—Ausencia was being held in hospital primarily because of her condition.

Puebla Civil Hospital, which is run by the municipality, has no radio therapy department. Arolo said that if donors did not mind, he would use their money to put Ausencia in a private clinic where she could be properly treated in a bid to save her life.

He said the civil hospital's bill would be reduced to $3.20 which he thought the girl's family should be able to pay.

Hospital social worker Aurelia Hernandez told Ausencia of the donors in the United States.

"I told her that some nice people from far away wanted to help and were going to send her money. She just smiled."

Miss Hernandez said, "Ausencia has been very unhappy here. She speaks very little Spanish and the other children laugh at her because she talks in the Otomi dialect. The city children have never heard that and they make fun of her."

Slum Health Woes Termed Survival Crisis

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. Surgeon General William H. Stewart said today health problems in city slums have brought about "a crisis of survival—not just of a system or an establishment but of a society in which all of us have a life investment."

"Until recently," he said, "I believe that most of us have proceeded on the splendid but gentle motivation that it would be more fair, more just, more in keeping with the American ideal for all our people to have access to good health care in a decent living environment."

But, he said, "that motivation hasn't been strong enough. Survival—not for an unfortunate 'them' but for an all-inclusive 'us' is beginning to move us."

He made the statements in a talk prepared for a conference called by the Public Health Service.

quality & economy with Stran-Steel buildings

You get economy with Stran-Steel buildings because economy is literally designed and built into every steel component. It is the natural result of quality planned, mass production techniques that are not only better, but also economical. The savings are passed along to you.

Before you build any building, discover why a Stran-Steel building is a better investment. Find out why Stran-Steel is able to offer written guarantees to back-up the performance of the steel components. Lower heating and cooling bills are the direct result of exclusive insulated wall systems. Faster construction, often 60 to 80 days, will get you in business sooner. Call us for a free estimate or a copy of our brochure "10 Costly Mistakes To Avoid Before You Build". We are able to handle your complete turn-key project. Arrangements can be made for financing.

Carpeting Covers Kitchen And Dining Room

Pontiac Press Photos by Ed Vanderweert

The Ranch Home Of The Joe Comer Family Is Located On Welch Road, Commerce Township

Classic Modern Approach

By JODY HEADLEE

Home Editor, The Pontiac Press
On the staff of Thomas Furniture Co., Waterford Township, Joe Comer selected "classic modern" when furnishing his brick ranch home in Commerce Township. In the formal living room, against white walls and an abstract patterned carpeting, are upholstered pieces in scarlet orlon plush with walnut accents.

Above the sofa is a textured abstract, a collage of color, introducing many shades of the spectrum ranging from pinks to purples, to scarlets and golds and blues and black.

"My husband favored this painting of the New York harbor because of its color range," said Mrs. Comer.

Photographs of the Comers' three children, Marcia 13, Dwight 9, and Ward 7, are displayed on the white fireplace wall.

VELVET SHADES

Black and scarlet velvet shaded lamps provide lighting for the room.

A pair of scarlet chairs are grouped next to an end table under a painting of a scarlet prancing horse on a black background.

In the adjoining dining room, separated by an electrified black wrought iron divider, the Comers selected jade finished pecan for their furniture pieces.

To coordinate the dining and living rooms, they wallpapered the back board of the china cabinet in a scarlet flocked print.

Heirloom china is housed in the glass-doored cabinet. To add a cheery note for the diners, a crackling fire frequently dances in the room's white brick fireplace.

The abstract patterned carpeting that covers the dining and kitchen areas repeats the living room's floor covering.

"This nylon carpeting," said Mrs. Comer, "is ideal and certainly lightens housekeeping burdens. A quick once-over with the vacuum and the kitchen's always ready for company."

Light finished birch cabinets and counters topped by gold-on-white laminated plastic make up the peninsula divider that defines the dining and kitchen portions of the spacious room.

Adjoining the kitchen is the birch-paneled family room draped in a gold-on-white medallion print. The red and black carpeting emphasizes the other rooms' dominant color theme.

Handyman Handy in an Emergency

Minor repairs in your plumbing should be made promptly. A clogged drain, dripping faucet or leaking water closet valve not only grate on the nerves, they also cost you money. Many such problems can be corrected by a handy member of your family.

Other repairs should be made only by a plumbing contractor and his journeymen, to avoid the possibility of cross-connections between your potable water supply and the waste lines.

A booklet titled "plumbing Care and Repair" helps you tell the difference between jobs calling for a professional's services and those you can do yourself. It also contains dozens of tips on how to make simple repairs.

The booklet is available for 25 cents from the Plumbing-Heating-Cooling Information Bureau, 35 E. Wacker Dr., Chicago, Ill. 60601.

Heat Home Hydronically

Sometimes we put up with in-little space. The heat is even, convenient for so long that we forget something far better is available. For example, ask heat are the ease with which it yourself these questions about your home heating system: only as much heat to various areas as is needed there, the ease with which it can be extended to added rooms, a basement, attic or garage, and the fact that the boiler can be fired by oil, gas or electricity, depending upon which is most economical in your area.

• Is there a feeling of draft in one or more rooms?

• Are there cold spots in some rooms, so that family members avoid sitting in a particular chair, for example?

• Do you have to overhear some rooms to make others reasonably comfortable? Are there rooms that remain cold no matter how far up you push the thermometer?

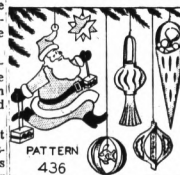

• Are you afraid to let toddlers play on the floor because it's too cold? Do older folks in the family complain about cold feet?

• Do your rooms seem to get dusty awfully fast? Is your system noisy? Do your fuel bills seem high compared to your neighbor's?

Some or all of these problems may be characteristic of an old heating system. Sometimes an overhauling with certain parts cleaned or replaced is all that's necessary. In other cases, the solution is a new system.

Hydronic heat, which uses hot water as the heating medium, has traditionally been synonymous with quality. Water from compact boiler is piped to radiation in the various rooms.

Friends Call Them Crazy

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

There was a time when author Peggy Mann and her husband, Bill Houlton, who had bought a house in a "troubled" neighborhood of New York, thought they should have their heads examined. Their friends agreed. But they made an almost impossible situation work. Their first child became the only non-

Puerto Rican white baby in the Negro-Puerto-Rican area when they bought a four-story brownstone house for $17,000.

It included a garbage dump for a backyard, a tin bathtub, cracked ceilings, with regular episodes of gang warfare and occasional showers of bricks and bottles from neighboring roofs. After a riot, one paper headlined "RIOT ON WORST

BLOCK IN THE CITY.

"It wasn't the worst block in the city, and it certainly wasn't the ideal way to live, but it was a challenge," says Peggy, seven years later.

"I'd recommend it to other young people who want to own a house. Why not buy it in a run-down neighborhood and work to upgrade the area. Two or three couples in such an area can make a terrific impact if they are willing to put up with a couple of years of problems."

URBAN RENEWAL.

Peggy and Bill knew that urban renewal was scheduled for the area, but it arrived later than they thought—some two years after they made the purchase.

For their patience, Peggy, Bill and their two young children now have a house that even with all the expensive remodeling would cost far more in the suburbs (and a comparable one in a better neighborhood of the city would run from $75,000 to $125,000).

The West Side Urban Renewal is a pilot project that is supposed to set an example for the country with its integrated high, middle and low income group housing, Peggy says.

The plan called for retaining the best architecture of the past, rehabilitating brownstones that had become rooming houses and for razing only those dwellings unfit for habitation. It provided for 1,700 luxury apartments, 3,000 middle income units and 2,500 low income units.

It was rough in the beginning for Peggy and Bill Houlton. Urban renewal was expected to provide insured low cost financing for improvements in the rehabilitation of the old buildings. When it was delayed, Bill and Peggy lived on a diet of rice, gelatin and hot dogs, handing their paychecks each week to the men who were putting in new plumbing, a heating system four baths and four fireplaces.

The fireplaces were for Bill who had been accustomed to them in his family home in England.

It is a narrow house with two rooms on each of the four floors and cellar. They made a French cafe of the kitchen area putting up French posters and furnishing it with little marble-topped tables that can be moved outdoors in summer. The kitchen has an enormous fireplace that can be used for cooking. A library has brown glass walls and a fireplace.

HIRED WORK DONE

"We figured out right away that we couldn't do the work ourselves," Peggy says. "But we found a wonderful crew of workmen who would work with us when they had time. If you want something had enough, we've got to work for it."

The first step in making their new home work was in making friends with the people, even though in times of neighborhood stress bullets whizzed by and she was moved to write a delightful book of children's fiction, "The Street of the Flower Boxes," published awhile back. It is the almost-truth story of her experiences with preteens, particularly Carlos, age 6.

That first winter everything was quiet. In spring and summer people came out doors and began to sit on the Houltons' front stoop, a long flight of stairs.

"We had been warned to chase them right off, but when they began sitting there I found myself politely shooing, my way past them to go in and out, and Bill passed out newspapers for them to sit on," says Peggy.

This psychology proved effective. Pretty soon the people sat on their own stoops and waved to the Houltons when they came home from work.

They tried the same psychology on 6-year-old Carlos when he removed new shrubbery from their yard. They invited him to be official waterer of the flower boxes at 25 cents a week.

Next there was Jose—a pre-teen leader addicted to pranks such as stringing rope between car handles on opposite sides of the street or placing cars crosswise in the street or opening water hydrants and shooting beer cans off the force created by the water pressure.

Soon he came to their house for candy and soft drinks, and asked if his group could use their basement as "a place to have fun and not fight."

Bill found a more suitable spot for them, paying the $3 a week for it, merchants supplied ice and soft drinks, and when Bill asked Jose if he, too, could invite some kids, Jose said "sure."

Bill invited 11 Negro pre-teens from the block and the youngsters had their first integrated party. When a race riot exploded in the area that summer, "not one of the children on our block was involved," says Peggy.

Peggy and Bill formed the Little Old New York Citizens

Committee to protect people who lived there when the Urban Renewal project came into being, and to encourage middle-income families to buy brownstones and remodel them.

Seventy of the 250 members have already purchased homes in the 20-block area being alerted by a little newspaper the group publishes with lists of houses and their prices.

They keep track of brownstones, in particular, "so the stoops won't be torn off and the houses turned into rooming houses," says Peggy. They don't approve of absentee landlords.

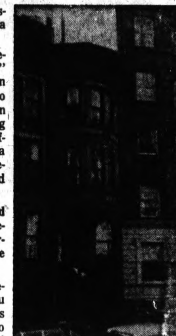

"We put pressure on the city government to loosen up mortgage prices. Seven banks each put up on million dollars for this area," she explains. "The houses start at about $25,000, but where can you buy a four-story or bigger house (in disrepair) for that in the heart of a beautiful city."

Peggy has "tremendous respect for democracy in action," so their committee has been busy in other ways. A plan to narrow sidewalks and widen streets was thwarted by having a committee keep track of traffic patterns, and they kept a large building from going up because it would have screened out sunlight on their street.

Peggy and Bill were two good reasons why the West Side Renewal Plan was finally understood and later accepted by the city.

"It need not be an urban renewal neighborhood to give you such unique experiences," says Peggy. "If you are willing to move to a low-cost neighborhood and can entice some friends to it, you can make the venture more than worthwhile."

Soil Booklet Is Available

"Maintaining the capacity of our soil to produce food is one of the main objectives of a national soil conservation program, according to the newest publication of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service AIB 321, "Our American Land."

Stopping sediment that is filling our streams and reservoirs, planning for an orderly urban expansion and community development, and providing new recreational facilities are other objectives.

"The publication points out that America's farmers are producing food more efficiently than any place in the world and because of this, we have the highest standard of living anywhere.

"But this abundance is not being produced at no cost to the land. Techniques that increase yields do not necessarily control erosion. Much of our high crop production comes at a high cost in tons of soil washed from the fields.

"Soil conservation work on the nation's farm and ranch land is only about a third done. And that which is already in effect needs constant maintenance and flexibility to adapt to changing needs and technology."

Copies of this publication may be obtained from Ellis G. Humphrey, Work Unit Conservativist, SCS, Room 9, Federal Building, 35 East Huron who provides professional and technical help to landowners in the Oakland County Soil Conservation District.

Conservation Opportunities

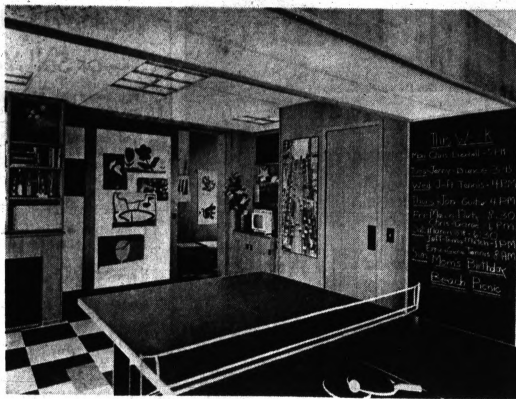

If you are trained in engineering, agronomy, soils, biology, agricultural economics, geology, forestry, and related sciences, you may qualify for a job with the Soil Conservation Service (SCS).

You may work at any one of several thousand locations in the United States and some locations in Hawaii, Alaska, Puerto Rico, and the Virgin Islands. SCS provides excellent opportunities for intensive and specialized training in many fields under competent, experienced personnel, both on the job and in group training centers.

SCS has an organized "promotion from within" policy, that assures opportunity for advancement. Based on your ability and aptitude, you may move into technical administrative jobs.

Advancement is based wholly on merit. You are eligible for such benefits as periodic salary increases, disability compensation, if injured in line of duty, and liberal retirement annuities.

If you have the right qualifications, ask your college placement office, or postmaster, or write to the nearest SCS office for the announcement of the next examination and an application blank. There is a Soil Conservation Service Office in Room 9, Federal Building, 35 East Huron.

SOME FUN. Fissured pattern acoustical insulation board in a suspended ceiling reduces noise created in this active room. The divider is also insulation board and serves as an ideal place to pin-up children's paintings. The ping-pong table shown folds into the wall.

Give Something Special

Make Your Christmas Gifts

With Christmas just around the corner, most of us are making our list and checking it off (twice or many more times!). Trying to decide upon perfect gifts for the seemingly never-ending roll of family and friends. You've probably spent hours on hectic holiday shopping sprees searching for a variety of gifts which are unique, appropriate, and within your budget—and by now you're exhausted from the frustrating feat.

Although it seems impossible, there is a way to solve your "present" dilemma! All it takes is a little imagination, a free hour or two away from the bustle of last minute shoppers, and a few magical cans of aerosol spray paint.

There's a limitless array of original gifts you can create yourself, and of faded objects which can take on new life with just a press of the button. And they'll be even more appreciated because you did it!

Why not surprise the homeowner on your list with a canister set color-customized to her own kitchen? All you'll need is several clean coffee cans of various sizes (the new ones with pop-off plastic tops are ideal) and a can of quality spray paint.

Choose a lively, gay color that will blend with the color scheme of her other kitchen accessories. If you have particular artistic prowess you may wish to use a small brush to add an original design or label the individual canisters. When sprayed up with holly and ribbons, these colorful cans will also make delightful containers for the Christmas candy and cookies you're making for your child's teacher or the neighbor next door—and they'll be useful long after the last crumbs of Christmas has disappeared.

Exciting gifts for teen-agers can be created by spraying everyday objects with the new "mod" colors. Some of your old costume jewelry may suddenly become quite "in" when painted shocking pink or bright green. Pack the jewelry in a special treasure chest—a cigar box sprayed to match! Another idea: teen-agers may be more willing to keep their closets tidy if the clothes hangers have been given a lively coat of color. When used in such unique places, color can sometimes cause unusual results!

Surprise the pint-sized cyclist on your list by rejuvenating his tricycle or bicycle with a racy new coat of color. You'll find that almost any favorite toy can be made to look as if it had just been pulled from Santa's bag, once it's been freshly spray painted.

And, your child will take special pride in his wagon, lunch box, or toy chest after you've used a stencil to paint his name or initials onto them.

Before you start to spray, remember to clean the surface thoroughly—to strategically place your drop cloths for

MODERN SPLIT-LEVEL — Artist's rendering shows how well this split-level looks on flat land, although this type of house originally was created to take advantage of sloping ground. Brick veneer and cedar shingles are attractively combined, with comfortable porch at left side of house.

Pleasant Splitlevel Offers Good Living

For those who prefer a split course, important to a family. Yet, in the early days of this type of residence was principally due to the fact that it fitted so well on sloping land.

It's a pleasing combination of red cedar shingles, brick veneer, vertical V-joint boards, a lowpitched hipped roof and a decorative brick planter at the attractive covered entry.

Owning a house that has a pleasant appearance is, of course, important to a family. Yet, in the early days of this type of residence was principally due to the fact that it fitted so well on sloping land.

Its popularity increased when owners discovered its other advantages — one of which was the elimination of much waste space in basements by utilization of the area for habitable rooms and a garage.

It also separated the living and sleeping sections with only a few steps rather than a long stairway, as in a two-story house.

LESS LAND

And it required less land than a ranch with the same amount of square footage on the inside. As a result, prospective home purchasers began to ask for splitlevels even on flat land.

These days — as in the case of this house — architects are using ingenuity to design attractive, distinctive exteriors for multilevel structures.

Here we have a home that is nice to look at and to live in, with seven rooms, 2½ baths and some bonus features ordinarily found in very high-priced houses.

Yet it's actually a medium-sized house — 1,715 square feet on the living and bedroom levels. Its over-all dimensions are 70' by 34' 6", including the side porch.

All parts of this design by architect William Chirgois radiate from the entrance foyer, which is three steps below the living room, dining room, kitchen level.

An all-brick fireplace with a raised slate hearth is featured in the living room. The adjacent dining room affords convenient access to the sheltered porch and is made very cheerful by the corner windows.

The kitchen can be reached from the dining room, the living room or via the laundry and rear service entry. The kitchen has a full complement of appliances and storage facilities.

BAY WINDOW

An angular bay window, besides allowing plenty of natural light, provides a pleasant view from the eating table to the rear garden.

The bedroom level has three sleeping rooms, with good wall and closet space. Should only two of the bedrooms be needed, the smallest of the three could be used as a den or study room.
The master bedroom has a private bath with a glass-enclosed tiled stall shower and two spacious closets, one of which is a walk-in.
The main bath, within a few steps of the two bedrooms and the living section of the house, is compartmentalized — towel and linen storage closets and a full-wall mirrored vanity in the outer section, and a bathtub and water closet in the other.

The laundry room is located five steps below the two-car garage, lavatory and the recreation room level, which is also five steps below the main foyer.

If there is only enough space for a raised slate hearth is featured in the living room. The adjacent dining room affords convenient access to the sheltered porch and is made very cheerful by the corner windows.

The kitchen can be reached from the dining room, the living room or via the laundry and rear service entry. The kitchen has a full complement of appliances and storage facilities.

The reconstruction includes sides allowing plenty of natural light, provides a pleasant view from the living quarters. Two windows in long recreation room are completely above grade.

Lynda Bird Weds Marine Today in the White House

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson walks his daughter, Lynda Bird, down the red-carpeted, marble halls of the White House today into the history books as the 14th White House bride.

The great presidential mansion was aglow with red and white flowers, mistletoe and a Christmas atmosphere for its first wedding of a president's daughter in 53 years.

In the great gold and white East Room, 246 twinkling white candles sparked amid an evergreen backdrop for a simple white altar that waited for Lynda, 23, and her bridegroom, Marine Capt. Charles S. Robb 28, to exchange vows of matrimony.

It was as romantic a setting as any girl could want and hundreds of persons — from cooks to carpenters — had helped make it possible.

The bride-to-be had said she wanted to sleep late this morning, but the White House had a pre-dawn starting schedule for the big wedding day.

Everything about the 4 p.m. (EST) wedding had been rehearsed — even the kisses of the bridal couple. But there were scores of last-minute details to be attended to.

The week-long round of pre-nuptial partying had left Lynda and Chuck a bit exhausted.

The windup wedding-eve dinner dance given by Robb's parents lasted until a bit past midnight.

But it provided the bridal couple with a gay, musical version of a wedding and some of the pitfalls of married life.

Broadway stars Carol Lawrence and Gordon MacRae, dressed in bridal attire, sang excerpts from the musical "I Do, I Do" for Lynda's bridal party in the candle-lit atmosphere of a private Georgetown club.

When the stars finished their numbers, including some showing the typical kiss-and-make-up squabbles, Lynda laughingly asked Miss Lawrence: "Is that what it's really like?"

Proceeds to Aid Needy Families at Christmas

Waterford Township Goodfellows are holding their annual newspaper sale today to raise funds to buy food and gifts for needy families at Christmas time.

Some 3,000 Goodfellow editions of The Pontiac Press are on sale at nine different locations throughout the township.

Ernest Latimer, president of the Goodfellows, said he hopes the one-day drive will raise at least $2,000.

There is no set donation for the newspapers.

Proceeds will be used to purchase food orders negotiable at area stores and to prepare baskets for needy families.

GIFTS TO BE GIVEN

Gifts, including shoes and boots for children, also will be given to the needy, Latimer said.

Goodfellow newspapers are being sold at the following locations:

Airport and M59, M59 Plaza at Williams Lake Road and M59, Voorheis and Telegraph, M59 and Telegraph, Elizabeth Lake Road and Telegraph, Pontiac Mall, Andersonville and Dixie Highway, Sashabaw and Walton and Williams Lake Road and Dixie Highway.

Several other organizations are providing personnel to assist the Goodfellows in their effort to make the campaign a successful one.

Assisting groups are the Eagles, Evening Optimists, Breakfast Optimists, Waterford Lions Club, Rotary, police department, fire department, police reserves and the volunteer fire fighters association.

The "old newsboys" are working two-hour shifts.

State OKs Bonds for Sewer Setup

A giant step forward has been taken in the mammoth six-township sewer project that is termed the key to development of the county's north-central area.

Issuance of $16.9 million in bonds to finance initial construction of the Clinton-Oakland Interceptor Sewer has been approved by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

R. J. Alexander, director of the county Department of Public Works, explains this means bids for construction can be called for, and possibly opened and awarded, by early May.

The townships involved are Avon, Pontiac, Waterford, Independence, West Bloomfield and Orion.

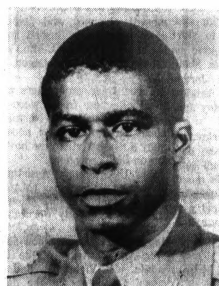

Alexander also reported that a tentative agreement has been reached with the Detroit Water Board — another major step.

DETROIT SYSTEM

The Oakland sewer will empty into the Detroit treatment system joining it in Macomb County near Rochester. This county and Detroit will sign a contract which spells out costs per cubic yard of sewage.

This contract will be up for approval by the Oakland County Board of Supervisors at their Dec. 19 meeting.

"Everything is on schedule, just as we anticipated," Alexander said. Detroit can be expected to begin building their lines, which will also be used by Macomb County municipalities, northward to coincide with Oakland County construction.

MAJ. ROBERT LAWRENCE

Crash Kills First Negro Astronaut

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — Maj. Robert H. Lawrence Jr., America's first Negro astronaut, has been killed in the crash of an F104 Starfighter jet as it landed after a routine training flight.

An Air Force spokesman called him "one of those young bright guys with everything going for him."

Lawrence, 31, was preparing a project for the Defense Department to orbit two men on a space laboratory in 1970.

The Chicago-born Lawrence was the ninth U.S. astronaut to die.

The F104, "a missile with a man in it" which travels twice the speed of sound, smashed onto a runway after the flight yesterday at Edwards Air Force Base and spurted "a little fire," an Air Force spokesman said.

Road Unit Seeks $1-Million Loan

The County Road Commission is going to seek permission to issue $1 million in short-term notes to relieve a cash shortage.

Yesterday the commission received support for the loan from the County Board of Supervisors' Road Committee.

Supervisor David Levinson of Birmingham, chairman of the ways and means committee, said he had no reason to believe his committee, which exercises control of county purse strings, would not approve the proposal.

The group met at the road commission offices at the County Center yesterday. Paul Van Roekel, highway engineer, explained that the road commission was having a difficult time meeting current cash obligations.

He blamed inflation and last winter's heavy snowfall for placing demands on road commission finances that were not anticipated in the budget.

REPAYMENT

It was indicated the $500,000 borrowed from the county in October would be repaid from the $1 million.

The money was granted to prevent contractors who were doing road projects from walking off their jobs because of nonpayment of bills.

The loan would be on tax anticipation on a 10-year basis and pledging of full faith and credit by the county would likely unnecessary, it was explained. However, approval would have to be granted by the County Board of Supervisors and by the State Municipal Finance Commission.

It is expected the money will be available in the spring.

Snow Is Likely Over Weekend

There's a chance of some rain possibly mixed with snow over the weekend. The Official U. S. Weather Bureau day by day report looks like this:

TODAY — Cloudy and cool with a chance of light rain by late afternoon or evening. High 36 to 39. Intermittent rain tonight.

Winds north to northeasterly at 10 to 20 miles per hour, becoming easterly this afternoon and southeasterly tonight.

TOMORROW — Intermittent rain becoming mixed with snow and turning cooler late afternoon or evening.

MONDAY — Cloudy, windy and cold. Precipitation probabilities in per cent are: Today 40, tonight and tomorrow 70.

Thirty-one was the low temperature in downtown Pontiac prior to 8 a.m. The mercury registered 32 at 12:30 p.m.

World and National News

HUANUCO, Peru (U) — Searchers pulled bodies today from the jungle on the rim of the Andes Mountains where a Peruvian airliner crashed in flames yesterday, killing everyone aboard. Sixty-seven persons, including four Americans, were believed on the flight. The Faucett Airlines four-engine DC6 hit the side of Cerro Carapish Mountain near midday, after it took off from Huanuco with a load of holiday passengers bound for the mountain resort of Tingo Maria. There was no explanation for the crash.

U.S. OKs Cong at U.N.

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States has formally declared its support for the idea of Vietnam representatives coming to the United Nations on invitation and on official business, but it opposes any visit "to mount a propaganda campaign." The statement of administration policy was issued by the state department yesterday to explain U.N. Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg's handling of inquiries from the Vietcong's political arm, the National Liberation Front, about the possibility of sending emissaries to New York.

Rocky Firm on Not Running

PALM BEACH, Fla. (U) — Confessing he is being pressed harder than ever before, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller says he still opposes a possible draft for the Republican presidential nomination. Rockefeller laughed off a suggestion by Oregon Gov. Tom McCall at the GOP governors conference here that a national committee be formed to circulate petitions urging the New York governor to get into the race.

9 Junior Miss Contestants to Vie Tonight in Waterford

The odds are 8-to-1 against emerging victorious in tonight's Waterford Township Junior Miss Pageant, but the nine contestants entered in the competition will be trying their best to gain the coveted title.

Sponsored by the Waterford Township Jaycees, the pageant will begin at 8 at Mason Junior High School, 3835 W. Walton.

Admission charge is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, according to contest officials.

The new Junior Miss will be crowned by last year's winner, Jennifer Siegart, a graduate of Waterford Kettering High School, now a freshman at Ferris State College in Big Rapids.

The 1968 Junior Miss will be awarded a $250 college scholarship and other prizes and will automatically qualify for the Michigan Junior Miss Pageant Jan. 26-28 at Pontiac Northern High School.

Prizes also will be awarded to the first and second runners-up.

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS

Representing Waterford Township High School are Karen Van Deusen, Mickey Burns, Sheri Selber, Denise St. Dennis, Linda Bries and Beth Griffin.

The two entrants from Waterford Kettering High School are Janet Furr and Gail Starder.

Our Lady of the Lakes' lone candidate is Shari Morrow.

INTERVIEWS

A panel of three judges will question each girl this morning preceding a luncheon for the contestants.

The new Junior Miss will be determined on the basis of scholastic achievement, poise and appearance, youth fitness, creative and performing arts, personality, sense of values, clarity of expression, knowledge and perception, mental alertness, personal appearance and human relations.

The judges are Mrs. Margaret Demetrak, assistant editor of the Inter-Lake News and Lakeland Tribune; M. Barrett Vorce, associate superintendent of instruction and personnel for Waterford Township Schools; and Dr. James Appleton, associate dean of students Oakland University.

Chairman of the pageant is Michael G. Patterson. Vice chairmen are Mrs. John Herrington and Mrs. Bruce Sias, members of the Waterford Township Jaycees.

PIANO ACCOMPANIST

2 Young Girls' Bodies Found in Florida Canal

HOLLYWOOD, Fla. (UPI) — The battered and still-bleeding bodies of two pretty, bathing-suit clad young girls were found in a remote canal today with concrete blocks weighted to their necks.

There was speculation the girls, one clad in a black and white bikini and the other in a black lace one-piece bathing suit, may have been the "talkative" girlfriends of members of south Florida's underworld.

Police said the girls' skulls had been fractured and they had been stabbed several times in the back with a knife. A policeman said, "Robbery was not the motive, nor does it appear they were sexually attacked."

Nepotism Ban May Pass as Postal Bill Rider

WASHINGTON (AP)—Congress is about to pass a delayed action law prohibiting members from putting relatives on their office payrolls.

The ban against nepotism won't affect the various wives, sons, in-laws and other kin now employed in congressional offices.

But representatives and senators would, under the bill, no longer be able to hire relatives or seek jobs for them elsewhere on the congressional payroll.

An Associated Press survey earlier this year showed more than 50 members of Congress had relatives on their payrolls at the time or had employed them at some period in the previous year.

RIDER TO BILL

The antinepotism ban was attached as a rider to a bill to raise postal rates and salaries of federal employees.

The bill will appear headed for final congressional passage next week, and President Johnson is expected to sign it.

The antinepotism provision applies to the executive and judicial branches of government as well as to Congress.

Officials in any agency with hiring and promoting authority could not put relatives on the agency payroll.

GRASS-ROOTS EFFECT

One grass-roots effect will be a ban on hiring of relatives by postmasters, said to be a frequent practice in smaller communities.

At the top levels of government, it bars, for example, a president from appointing a relative to a Cabinet post.

That happened in 1961 when Robert F. Kennedy, now a senator, was named attorney general by his brother, President John F. Kennedy.

The architects and floor managers of the postal rate-pay bill had no plans for striking at nepotism in the bill.

Congressional leaders have long been cool to such prohibitions.

House Speaker John W. McCormack, commenting on the Associated Press survey, said he did not see that a congressman's putting a relative on his payroll was wrong in itself. The sole question, he said, was whether the person hired was capable and did the job properly.

But Rep. Neal Smith, D-Iowa, didn't agree. He introduced this year, for the fourth consecutive session of Congress, a bill to outlaw nepotism.

Smith took another route. He offered it as a rider to the postal rate bill on a day when some 350 congressmen were absent and it carried. Only 82 House members were on the floor at the time and a majority of them favored the Smith proposal. Once it was in the bill, Congressional sources said, it would have been too embarrassing for its opponents to try to delete it.

MAKE OVER PAYS OFF, Wife Work Housing Miracle

(Continued from Page D-3) teen leader addicted to pranks such as stringing rope between car handles on opposite sides of the street or placing cars crosswise in the street or opening water hydrants and shooting

beer cans off the force created by the water pressure.

Soon he came to their house for candy and soft drinks, and asked if his group could use their basement as "a place to have fun and not fight."

Bill found a more suitable spot for them, paying the $3 a week for it, merchants supplied ice and soft drinks, and when Bill asked Jose if he, too, could invite some kids, Jose said "sure."

Bill invited 11 Negro pre-teens from the block and the youngsters had their first integrated party. When a race riot exploded in the area that summer, "not one of the children on our block was involved," says Peggy.

Peggy and Bill formed the Little Old New York Citizens

Committee to protect people who lived there when the Urban Renewal project came into being, and to encourage middle-income families to buy brownstones and remodel them.

Seventy of the 250 members have already purchased homes in the 20-block area being alerted by a little newspaper the group publishes with lists of houses and their prices.

"They keep track of brownstones, in particular, 'so the stoops won't be torn off and the houses turned into rooming houses,'" says Peggy. They don't approve of absentee landlords.

"We put pressure on the city government to loosen up mortgage prices. Seven banks each put up on million dollars for this area," she explains. "The houses start at about $25,000, but where can you buy a four-story or bigger house (in disrepair) for that in the heart of a beautiful city."

Peggy has a "tremendous respect for democracy in action," so their committee has been busy in other ways. A plan to narrow sidewalks and widen streets was thwarted by having a committee keep track of traffic patterns, and they kept a large building from going up because it would have screened out sunlight on their street.

Peggy and Bill were two good reasons why the West Side Renewal Plan was finally understood and later accepted by the city.

"It need not be an urban renewal neighborhood to give you such unique experiences," says Peggy. "If you are willing to move to a low-cost neighborhood and can entice some friends to it, you can make the venture more than worthwhile."

Soil Booklet Is Available

"Maintaining the capacity of our soil to produce food is one of the main objectives of a national soil conservation program, according to the newest publication of the U.S. Soil Conservation Service AIB 321, "Our American Land."

Stopping sediment that is filling our streams and reservoirs, planning for an orderly urban expansion and community development, and providing new recreational facilities are other objectives.

"The publication points out that America's farmers are producing food more efficiently than any place in the world and because of this, we have the highest standard of living anywhere."

"But this abundance is not being produced at no cost to the land. Techniques that increase yields do not necessarily control erosion. Much of our high crop production comes at a high cost in tons of soil washed from the fields."

"Soil conservation work on the nation's farm and ranch land is only about a third done. And that which is already in effect needs constant maintenance and flexibility to adapt to changing needs and technology."

YOUNG MAN'S 'Sweet Henry' Part in 2-Car Crash

An 18-year-old youth is in fair condition in Pontiac General Hospital as the result of an accident early today in which the car he was driving collided with a city police car.

Hospital authorities said Anthony Pilgrim of 45 Warner suffered a fractured pelvis and facial lacerations.

Police said Pilgrim was traveling east on East Huron when his vehicle struck a police car driven by Patrolman Richard A. Baldes, 25.

Baldes and two passengers in Pilgrim's car escaped serious injury, according to police.

It was not known this morning whether a third passenger in Pilgrim's car, Ronnie Richardson, 18, of 330 Branch, would be admitted to the hospital for further treatment.

Half an Inch Ends Dispute

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The dispute between Jeffrey Neil Mauser, 17, and officials at George Washington High School has been settled by half an inch.

Mauser, who was suspended from school because of his long sideburns, agreed Friday to shorten them one-half inch to meet school requirements.

The district court agreement ended a suit by the American Civil Liberties Union on behalf of the youth. A judge ordered the youth readmitted temporarily to school last week, pending outcome of the controversy.

Robin's 'Sweet Henry' Part a Replay of Sad Childhood

By EARL WILSON

NEW YORK — There's a tender little story to be told about Robin Wilson, a girl from a broken home . . . a well-heeled broken home.

She made it to Broadway and plays a girl from a broken home in "Henry, Sweet Henry," in a part that reminds her every night of her own real tears.

"I was so lonesome at first that I wanted to give it all up and go back to Hawaii—that's the Paradise she fled to after her parents broke up when she was a teen-ager living in San Diego. Every night in the previews, I was reliving the things that happened to me, and I was suffering."

"My father had told me he had better not come to the opening because there might be trouble with my mother who was coming. They had each remarried. I had left them because I couldn't stand being in the jumble. And I loved both of them so much . . ."

So Robin, who had the additional problem of trying to play a 14-year-old although she's in her 20s, phoned Don Ho, the well known Hawaiian cafe star who, she says, had become more a father recently than her own father.

"I wanted to be pulled out of the show. I was crying all the time. I don't say it was all right for me to go back to Hawaii if I had to—but all of a sudden I realized that I had a responsibility to those people in Hawaii who expected so much of me."

"I have so much love for the people of Hawaii. They say hello to you on the street. New York and Philadelphia and Detroit are so big and in such a hurry, they never say hello."

"I was recently playing a Hawaiian record here, and somebody said, 'Turn that off, it's too slow!'"

"Then I realized that it was too slow for New Yorkers—they don't and can't relax."

So Robin, a bouncy little brunette who sang with Don Ho when he appeared at the Americana Royal Box a year ago, stuck it out and opened in the Don Ameche show and satisfied everybody that she could play a 14-year-old.

THE WEEKEND WINDUP . . .
Bobby Darin placed a bid for the recently shuttered Hoboken ferry; he'd make it a discotheque . . . The Salvation Army benefits from the Dec. 11 premiere of "Guess Who's Coming to Dinner;" it's expected the members'll leave the party before the bar opens.

Victor Borge'll headline the Paris UNESCO gala Dec. 15 . . . Comedian Fannie Flagg, who'll do a Gleason TV'er, says, "I'm surprised he asked me—I don't drink or play golf." . . . Former singer Mary Small wrote the act that Grace Lynn is doing, to good reviews, in Miami Beach.

REMEMBERED QUOTE: "The world is getting smaller, but it takes a lot more of our taxes to hold it together."

EARL'S PEARLS: Jim Mulholland writes that his home town is very quiet: "In fact, the neighbors complain if my pajamas are too loud."

Joan Rivers, who's expecting, says at the Downstairs that pregnant women occasionally miss little attentions from their husbands: "Sometimes I turn on the tea kettle, just to hear a whistle." . . . That's Earl, brother.

Sewer Contract Awarding Due

Waterford Board
Action Likely Monday

The Waterford Township Board is expected to award a construction contract for a proposed sewer project at its 7:30 Monday night meeting.

Apparent low base bidder for the planned Voorhees-Elizabeth Lake Road-Marion-Chadwick Colrain sewer project at last Monday's bid opening was D'Angela Construction Co. of Warren with a proposal of $144,666.

In other business, the board will hear a report on bid openings conducted by the Oakland County Department of Public Works for another sewer project for parts of 10 streets in the southeastern corner of the township.

The controversial rezoning of property at Dixie Highway and Midland for apartments and a shopping complex also is on the agenda, but no action is expected, according to Township Supervisor Elmer R. Johnson.

The board tabled action on the rezoning request at its Nov. 27 meeting to give two developers planning separate projects for the area time to resolve a problem.

MAY TABLE CASE
Johnson said the developers haven't given any indication they have solved their differences and, consequently, the case most likely will be tabled again.

In other business, bids for gasoline will be opened for the township's fleet of vehicles.

Also up for consideration is a proposed ordinance regarding inspection and service fees for new land development, a petition from the Oakland County Road Commission concerning the proposed vacating of a portion of Farmridge Street and a requested liquor license transfer.

First notices also will be read on five requests to rezone property on:

• Pontiac Lake Road near Oceana from general business (C2) to extensive business (C3) for a candy processing plant.

• Pontiac Lake Road at Irwindale from single family residential (R1A) to light industrial (M1) and multiple dwelling (R2) for an industrial park apartments.

• Crescent Lake Road at Pontiac Lake Road from R1A and C2 to R2 for apartments.

• Hatchery near Jones from R1A to agricultural (AG1) for soil stripping and an eventual apartment construction.

• Cass Elizabeth at Cass Lake Road from R1A and local business (C1) to R2 and C2 for apartments.

R1A to agricultural (AG1) for soil stripping and an eventual apartment construction.

Cass Elizabeth at Cass Lake Road from R1A and local business (C1) to R2 and C2 for apartments.

Pontiac's building department issued permits for an estimated $857,900 worth of new construction last month.

The major part of the permits are due to permits for new industrial buildings and alterations—$757,000 worth.

GMC Truck and Coach Division received permits for construction of a $152,000 office building on South Boulevard and two additions to existing facilities worth an estimated $155,200.

Pontiac Motor Division took out a building permit for construction of a $200,000 switchgear building.

Another substantial piece of construction is expected to be a $200,000 automobile agency building on South Saginaw at Central.

The building will be occupied by Jerome Cadillac, Inc.

Only four new residential construction permits for an estimated $28,000 were taken out in November.
